Witching Hours Near

HALLOWE'EN
By Frances Gorman Kisser
The harvest moon so golden
Looks down from midnight skies;
His big round face is smiling,
A twinkle's in his eyes.
For there below in gardens
And fields, both far and near,
What look like little moonlets,
All grinning, upward peer.
"Hello!" the moon calls, beaming,
And all the pumpkins cry,
"Hello, Grandfather Pumpkin,
Away up in the sky!"

Laughing Nikita Tells of Mistake in N-Blast Size

In Washington, Senator Claims Our Weapons Must Not Lag

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration came under renewed pressure today to resume atmospheric tests as the result of the giant Soviet nuclear explosion Monday which Nikita Khrushchev admitted was bigger than expected.

So far as is known there has been no U.S. policy decision to resume atmospheric tests.

But there has been military pressure to test nuclear warheads for new U.S. missiles, including the Titan, Minuteman and Polaris.

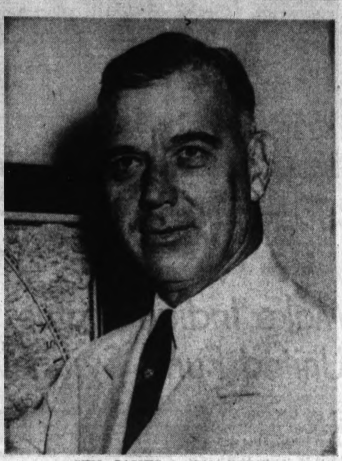

Chairman Henry M. Jackson of the joint congressional committee on atomic weapons said Monday the United States would have to conduct atmospheric tests.

He said "there can be no question that the Soviets are improving the sophistication of their warheads to the point that the long lead we have may be in jeopardy."

Russia's explosion was described Monday by the Atomic Energy Commission as a 50-megaton bomb.

LONDON (U.P.)—Britain will back the United States in testing big atom bombs if this becomes necessary to maintain the balance of power and preserve world freedom, Prime Minister Macmillan said today.

He said Britain has no plans at this time for nuclear testing of her own and would make no test just to retaliate for the giant Soviet explosion.

Fire Adlai for Failure in Cuba, Van Fleet Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Tampa Tribune quotes Gen. James A. Van Fleet as saying Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, should have been fired because of the Cuban invasion which fizzled.

Van Fleet said also that Berlin and Laos are lost and that there is only a 50-50 chance of keeping South Viet Nam out of Communist control, the Tribune said today in its edition.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, was to report to FL. Briggs, N. C., today. He was called out of retirement to supervise the training of Army units in guerrilla warfare.

The Tribune said Van Fleet departed from his post in a talk on Florida's water resources before the Natural Resources and Waterways Committee in nearby Lakeland Monday night.

The newspaper quoted Van Fleet as saying, "I would not like to report tomorrow that which I say tonight."

He was quoted as saying Berlin was lost when "they made the agreement at the end of World War II."

The Tribune account added: The general endorsed President Kennedy's stand to fight for the "principle" of Berlin but explained that the President did not say he would fight for the city.

"The West Germans and the French are the ones who have insisted on a strong stand on the Berlin question, and West Germany is one of the biggest traders."

Britain's Army May Be Doubled

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II announced today in an aged old ceremony government defense plans that could double the size of the British Army to protect her realm in today's threatening times.

In her annual speech opening a new session of Parliament, the smiling queen said in a speech written by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government that several army manpower measures were planned.

About 50,000 national servicemen and 140,000 reservists could be affected. The present size of the British Army is about 165,000 officers and men, war office spokesmen said.

The queen pledged that Britain will do its utmost to achieve world disarmament despite the Soviet Union's "nuclear tests on a massive scale in defiance of world opinion."

She said the government also will continue to negotiate for a Berlin settlement "which will preserve the security and freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Elizabeth said the government would introduce legislation permitting the retention of draftees beyond their normal period of service, and the calling up of reservists if the international situation required such bolstering of the armed forces.

The British build-up appeared similar to the U.S. increase in army manpower recently.

The queen also said in her "gracious" speech the whole army reserve organization would be reviewed.

Time was a factor in the talks. The union has said it will take action tonight tantamount to ordering a strike unless an agreement has been reached by that time.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the proposal to Chrysler took into account "the economics of Chrysler." Chrysler lost $30.5 million in the first nine months of this year.

Reuther disclosed no details. However, he said he felt the offer "lays the basis" for a settlement.

Possible Disaster Is Feared as Hurricane Hits Honduras

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Giant Hurricane Hattie smashed into British Honduras today possibly inflicting a disaster on the capital city of Belize, and spread flash floods through the British crown colony and on deep into Guatemala.

Miami Weather Bureau storm forecasters said Belize, a city of 31,000 population lying at sea level, may have suffered a disaster as a 15-foot tide pushed up by the hurricane blasted the coastline.

Such a tide, said Forecaster Gilbert Clark, might have swept the city.

The hurricane center struck directly at Belize at 7:30 a.m. For hours, the city was pounded by mighty winds and tides.

"The maximum wind experienced, the extent of the damage and the number of casualties will not be known for some time, since communications to British Honduras have been disrupted," the Weather Bureau reported.

At 11 a.m., Hattie was about 30 miles southwest of Belize. It was moving west-southwest at 10 m.p.h.

Clark said Belize took the highest winds and strongest tides the storm could throw.

The capital lies almost at sea level. A storm tide striking the coast would meet no resistance except from a sea wall which forecasters said would be inadequate. The shoreline is barren and swampy.

Residents of Belize fled from their wooden homes to public shelters Monday night. Power failed at 4 a.m. as first gales from the hurricane began to lash the colony. A city official reported: "We look for a severe lashing."

The hurricane, with winds reaching as high as 200 miles an hour in gusts, probably will spread flood waters throughout Guatemala and the Yucatan Peninsula before breaking up against Interior mountain ranges, Clark said.

Chetumal, capital of Quintana Roo on the Yucatan Peninsula, was within the range of hurricane force winds and raging tides.

The Mexican navy closed all ports on the peninsula, from Progreso on the west side around to Chetumal on the east.

Considerable cloudiness with little temperature change, the high reaching for 56, is Wednesday's forecast.

Cloudy with temperatures ranging from the low 40s to the mid-50s is the outlook for Thursday.

Westerly morning winds at 10 miles per hour will diminish at night and become west to southwest at 12 to 20 m.p.h. Wednesday.

Women Workers Over Top for UF

The quota for this year's Pontiac Area United Fund drive swept the half-way mark today as the women celebrated their victory in reaching their $27,000 goal in record time.

"It was a most remarkable achievement," declared Thomas F. Wiethorn, general campaign chairman, at this noon's victory luncheon attended by more than 300 UF women volunteers.

Mrs. Walter Nuffinger, chairman of the women's division, said, when the final reports were tallied up by 10 p.m. Monday, the totals showed that 1,500 women had accounted for $27,045 or 100.2 per cent of their goal.

At the same luncheon, held at the Elks Temple, Wiethorn said that with two weeks of the campaign gone, $38,354 or 31.8 per cent of the 1961 campaign goal of $120,500 had been collected or pledged.

FIRST TO GO OVER TOP
"And you women gave the big push, being the first division to have reached its quota," Wiethorn said.

It marks the fourth year in a row that the women workers have reached their goal within 10 days, he added.

Watch Out for Spooks Tonight

PUMPKIN HEADS ON PROWL — Any other night of the year you'd call police if these popped up on your porch, but tonight residents will open their doors to these startling little visitors. It's Halloween and you'd better watch out for the spooks—especially motorists. The trick-or-treaters will be out in force from 6 p.m. Residents are urged to indicate welcome by putting their porch lights on. Parties will be held for the children at many area schools. Here, Mrs. Robert Greve of 1212 Woodlawn St., Waterford Township, sends her two pumpkin heads, Diane, 2, and Nancy, 8, on their way.

U.S. Removes Flint From Depressed List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Flint, Mich., was one of four major job centers dropped from the Labor Department listing of hard-hit idled areas it was announced Monday.

The other areas were Baltimore, St. Louis and Seattle. The department said the centers have been shifted from 6 per cent or more unemployment category to the 3 to 6 per cent range.

Auto industry recalls were factors in improved employment in Flint; the department said.

2 Waive Examination on Possession Charges

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Two Illinois men waived examination Monday in Spring Lake Justice Court on charges of possessing stolen goods from Western Michigan stores.

Robert W. Middleton, 34, of Zion, and Ray John Lettitt, 46, of Winthrop Harbor, were arrested in Grand Haven Saturday.

State Police officers said their car held approximately $3,000 worth of stolen clothing in the trunk. They were remanded to the Ottawa County jail in lieu of $15,000 bond each.

Lopping of Bomber Funds Called 'Unnecessary Risk'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said today the Kennedy administration is "taking an unnecessary risk" by refusing to spend $780 million Congress provided for manned bombers.

Jackson, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Weapons subcommittee, said in an interview he believes it will be a mistake to cut off production of B52 bombers next summer, as the administration now has decided to do.

"I think we are taking an unnecessary risk in this action," Jackson said. "I, for one, do not have sufficient confidence in the accuracy of missiles to place all of our defense dependence on them. I think we will continue to have need for manned bombers."

DECLINES COMMENT

Jackson declined to comment specifically on recent published reports that U. S. B52s are capable of carrying two 25-megaton bombs. A megaton has the explosive force of one million tons of TNT.

The Washington senator said the long-range bombers can carry several bombs, depending on their size, and are capable of delivering a tremendous amount of nuclear striking power.

The administration decision not to spend the additional $780 million voted by Congress was made by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and approved by President Kennedy. Part of the money was to have been used to enlarge the program of development of the B70 supersonic bomber.

Just about a year ago when he was nearing the end of his campaign for the presidency, Kennedy fired a blast at the Eisenhower administration for impounding funds voted for the B70 program. As a senator he had criticized former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for failure to spend other military funds.

Jackson, who was Kennedy's choice for Democratic national chairman during the campaign, said he does not know what Congress can do to alter the decision to cut off production of the B52s.

Fresh Start!

The cars people remember—the idea-starters, the trend-setters—throw away all the old ideas, start fresh...and make history. Such a car is coming from Ford in a few weeks. You'll recognize the name—but that's all that's the same! It's an all-new kind of Ford...right size...right price...right between Galaxie and Falcon.

We borrowed the name from one of yesterday's famous Fords—the Fairlane 500. And we borrowed nothing else.

The new Ford Fairlane 500 is a completely new size—right between Galaxie and Falcon. For just about everybody it's just the right size...with the room, the ride, the comfort of a big car...the economy and easy handling of a small one.

The new Ford Fairlane 500 has a completely new price—well below previous Fairlanes, under many compacts.

Unique new size—like no other new car you've seen this year

The new Ford Fairlane 500 is a good foot shorter on the outside than the Fairlanes that came before it.

A just-right 197 inches from stem to stern, the new Ford Fairlane 500 is still as big inside as some of the biggest Fords ever built. The explanation is a completely new unitized body which shaves bulk, saves room.

In spite of its shorter-over-all length, the new Ford Fairlane 500 has a full 115.5-inch wheelbase. It rides like a full-size car—because it is a full-size car.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Twice-a-year maintenance is now a fact. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, no more than twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles—without changing engine coolant-antifreeze.

The new Fairlane 500 adjusts its own brakes—saving you those time-wasting little trips to the garage. A special under-body processing protects the body like the car—saves you trouble now and money when it comes time to trade.

New V-8 gem from the world's most dazzling collection

Its name is the Challenger V-8. The world's first economy Eight, this was designed and built specifically for the Fairlane 500. Thirty years of Ford V-8 leadership inspired it; new Ford foundry techniques made it possible.

Raise the hood and take a look. Clean, trim, potent as a pistol, this 221-cubic-inch sparkler's all power and no pretense; every shiny-inch means business.

Drive it. You're in for a powerful surprise; the hand that honed those big Thunderbird V-8's put the final polish on this one. But perhaps the biggest surprise of all is the Challenger V-8's thrust—it's the economy news of the year.

For those who want even greater savings, there is a new Fairlane Six that delivers gasoline mileage many compacts would envy.

Preview America's newest car now. Teams of new Fords are on the move from coast to coast as part of Preview Run U.S.A. See the all-new Fairlane 500 in advance of introduction. Drive it and discover the care, the thoughtful craftsmanship with which it has been put together.

It's the first car so fine ever priced so low. You'll find it at your Ford Dealer's in a few weeks.

Import Tons of Soil to Lay Under New Town

THOMPSON, Manitoba (UPI)—When International Nickel Co. started building its $185 million nickel mine in the sub-Arctic tundra here, a town had to be built out first.

But there was no soil to build a town on, so thousands of tons of soil had to be brought in from frozen sloughs in winter by tractor train.

Suspect Arsonist in Blaze at House

An arsonist is believed responsible for setting off a fire early today at a vacant house in Pontiac's urban renewal area.

It was the second fire in five weeks at the house at 138 Auburn Ave. The house is owned by Floyd Simmons, 209 Kingston Road, Waterford Township.

Asst. Fire Marshal Allen J. Tunny said fuel oil and oil-soaked rugs were found strewn about the inside of the home following the blaze at 1 a.m. today.

The first fire at the house, which occurred Sept. 26, also was ignited with fuel oil, according to Tunny. The Pontiac Fire Department extinguished the blaze today after it did only about $100 damage.

Push U.N. Vote to End N-Tests

Neutral Members Urge Action, but Fear It Will Do Little Good

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Nonaligned members of the United Nations pushed today for action on an appeal to the nuclear powers to call a voluntary halt to all test explosions. There was no sign the Soviet Union or the West would heed it.

Pressure for a vote mounted in the 103-nation Political Committee. The appeal had the backing of the powerful Asian-African group, as well as the Scandinavians and many Latin American states.

DELEGATES GLOOMY

The support appeared enough to put across the appeal, but delegates gloomily predicted it would do little if any good in view of the current Soviet test series and warnings by both Britain and the United States that they might have to resume testing in the atmosphere to keep up.

Both the United States and Britain have come out against any U.N. endorsement of a voluntary moratorium. They contend the Soviet Union's violation of the old moratorium climaxed by its mammoth blast Monday, proves the futility of approving a new one.

Both Western powers have insisted that the only effective step would be a test ban treaty with effective international controls.

French Rock Algiers With 60 Bomb Blasts

ALGERS (AP) — French settlers cheered excitedly Monday night as their underground army exploded a record number of plastic bombs in Algiers. Two Algerians were killed and 16 others injured.

More than 60 plastic bombs went off, and Europeans greeted each blast with cries of joy from their balconies. It was the biggest number ever set off in the Algerian capital in one evening.

The bombs were planted by the Secret Army Organization of right-wing French settlers which is trying to whip up another uprising against President Charles de Gaulle and his plans to give Algeria independence. No arrests were reported.

KILL POLICE HEAD

A few hours earlier machinegun bullets, apparently fired from a moving car, killed Louis Pelissier, a French police commissioner. He was the fourth police officer slain in Algiers in the past six months.

In Oran, kidnappers—apparently French—seized a 21-year-old Algerian and left him in the woods with serious knife wounds.

A Secret Army radio broadcast came on the air in Oran after transmission cables of the French television station were cut by one bomb blast. A message in Arabic over the wavelength of the television voice band called on Muslims to stay off the streets Wednesday, the seventh anniversary of the Algerian rebellion.

The upsurge of terrorism added to the worries of officials already jittery over the possibility of a blood bath. The rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) has called for the Muslims to demonstrate in an effort to speed up the resumption of peace and independence negotiations between the French and the FLN.

'Mr. Democrat' to Return Home

Rayburn Is Going Back to Bonham 'to End Days Among Friends'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn returns today to his home in Bonham to end his days among "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

The decision to move the 79-year-old Texas Democrat, incurably ill with cancer, was announced Monday by Baylor Hospital and Rayburn's administrative assistant, John Holton.

NO RESULTS

Both statements said there had been no apparent results yet from the drugs and irradiation therapy which doctors said would not cure Rayburn but might prolong his life.

Rayburn entered the hospital Oct. 2, complaining of a backache which he blamed on lumbago. Holton said he could not disclose, because of a standing request from Rayburn's family, whether the speaker knows the seriousness of his condition.

After his return home, Rayburn will be treated by his personal physician, Dr. Jose Rasser of Bonham.

What's Worrying Pigs? Purdue Wants to Know

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Do hogs, like humans, worry themselves into having stomach ulcers?

Purdue University has been given $45,000 to find out.

The National Institute of Health granted the money for research by Dr. G. D. Goetsch and Dr. T. M. Curtin of the Purdue Veterinary School. It is hoped the project also may result in something to help prevent or treat ulcers in humans.

Dr. Goetsch said he believes increasing swine ulcers are caused by some sort of stress, but he is baffled about what could worry a hog. Maybe their pens are too small, he said.

The Great Plains has suffered often from grasshoppers. The most spectacular invasion occurred in the 1870s. Successive waves of grasshoppers ate grain, vegetables, tree leaves and weeds. When greenery was gone the voracious insects nibbled clothing, harness and pitchfork handles.

What is a

CHROMOSOME?

A chromosome is a microscopic carrier of the genes or units of heredity.

The study of genes and chromosomes may someday lead to the doubling or tripling of our life's span. It is important that we develop scientists to pursue the study of heredity and the other natural sciences.

Unfortunately many potential scientists may never go on to higher learning because there may not be room for them in college. Already many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Dishonest Policemen Represent Minority

Police officers in Owosso have brought home to Michigan again the revolting "Crooked Cops" trophy which makes its rounds of the Nation periodically.

Michigan regains the disgrace title from Denver, a city still recovering from the bad taste a few policemen created there. Chicago has had possession, and New York and Detroit also have been dragged through the mud in recent years.

People sometimes wonder what makes dishonest policemen such big news. There are two major reasons: for the great number of policemen doing a good honest job with a lot of risks, the number of dishonest ones is small. Dishonest policemen are the exception, not the rule. This rareness is newsworthy.

The second reason why such dishonesty is big news when it is uncovered, is that the lawbreakers are men sworn to uphold the law.

Crime is bad enough when it is committed by everyday people, but it's worse when the men paid to stamp it out become involved.

No one forced them to buckle on a gun and walk out to enforce the laws of our society. They chose this job. For this reason, we don't buy the old routine that they joined the criminal ranks because they weren't paid enough. They knew what they were getting into when they signed on.

The harm that these few dishonest officers do to their brother officers is inestimable.

Much Unrest Created by Turkish Elections

The recent elections in Turkey came hard on the heels of the execution of ex-President ADNAN MENDEKES and as a result chaos now exists. The shadow of MENDEKES is still strong in the country and his hanging only added fuel to the fire.

MENDEKES and his henchmen still had a large following, even though they had been exposed as thieves and traitors. We could sense this in talking to the people last May when we visited this delightful country.

The election just completed was so close that the junta held up the results for several days. They had a reason, since the result was somewhat of a rebuff to their government.

In the National Assembly with 450 seats the Army with Gen. GURSEL, barely won out. But in the Senate, with 150 seats at stake they lost by 2 to 1. The Justice party which was supported by many of the MENDEKES followers made the big gains.

Without a decisive victory by any one party the country is probably destined for more trouble. About all GURSEL could do as the head of the junta was to call for a national coalition of the four leading parties and immediately announce his candidacy for president.

The Parliament which was recently elected met Oct. 26 and in a joint session elected GURSEL, sole candidate, for a seven year term as president. For the moment the army boys out, and civilian rule begins.

It is not likely that such a contested election with a coalition government can hold the Turks together. It is too bad for the Turkish people, but it looks like another junta or army takeover before these charming people can expect real peace in their homeland right on the Russian border.

If Red China's So Rosy Why the Mass Break?

Red China's Mao Tse-tung paints a bright picture of life in his country. He claims the farmers love the so-called communes and that everyone is happy. Further he points out the recent difficulty over food supplies are being overcome.

We can't help but wonder.

The reports we read are of famine and near starvation affecting millions of Chinese. Mao says this is distortion.

If everything he says is true why the mass break of 1,000 Chinese? Do you think for one minute they were rushing to tell us how lovely everything is in their home land?

We think not, since only 41 made it, the rest being either shot or chewed alive by Red police dogs?

Tops in Michigan, Which Is Tops in Entire Nation

Tonight: When, if you don't treat, look out for tricks.

Today's Oakland County "first" item comes from Charles M. Leeson, Regional Park Supervisor of the Michigan State Conservation Department. It is to the effect that Michigan played host to more campers in its state parks this year than any other state in the nation. And Oakland has more state parks than any other among Michigan's 83 counties.

Claiming the one-vine championship in pumpkins is George Odney of Waterford. A single vine in his garden has six pumpkins, none of which weighs less than ten pounds.

Getting somewhat facetious is Gregory Budden of Drayton Plains. Phoning me about the workers on the new 75 Freeway driving out the rattlesnakes, he wonders if many of them are not named Patrick.

Word comes to me that the first memorial showing of photographs of the work of the late

Eero Saarinen of our Bloomfield Hills will be made at the Keegan Art Center at Michigan State University Nov. 10 to 28.

Latest bridge over the new 75 Freeway to be opened to traffic is on Baldwin Road in Genesee County. There are several Baldwin. Pontiac has Baldwin Avenue. Oakland County has Baldwin Road, (on which the freeway intersection work is just getting started), and the above Baldwin Road, only one mile over the county line.

By covering his tomato plants with newspapers every cold night, and even "tucking them in,"

Mr. Herman Barcey of Keego Harbor, picked fresh tomatoes on Thanksgiving Day last year. She now asks this column to use its influence with Jack Frost to be as lenient, but has a heavy blanket ready. We contacted Jack, and he recommends two heavy blankets.

David Lawrence Asks:

Who Decides U.S. Defense Policy?

WASHINGTON—It's easy enough to applaud the saving of $780 million in the defense budget as a step in the direction of much needed economizing in government spending.

But the issue isn't as simple as it seems on the surface. Here are the real questions that have yet to be answered:

1. Is the United States taking a chance on her security by putting an arbitrary limit on the number of manned bombers and on the future development of manned-bomber weapons?

2. Was there any other $780 million in the entire $80-billion budget that might have been saved instead and a decision made in favor of national security?

3. What right has a president to refuse to spend money appropriated by law for national defense?

Just 12 years ago—on Oct. 31, 1949—when Harry Truman was president, this correspondent wrote:

QUESTIONS AUTHORITY
"Must a president of the United States obey the mandate of a law of Congress and spend the funds it authorizes for the armed services? Or may a president disregard the instructions given by Congress and withhold expenditures as he sees fit?"

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a 50-group Air Force, he will not spend the extra $648 million it will allow only a 46-group Air Force...."

"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58-instead of a 46-group Air Force, but the law is on the statute books and if the President didn't like it he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes."

Less than nine months after the foregoing was written the Korean War broke out and America was in need of every bit of military strength in the air that it could mobilize.

Looking back now many a military expert in air power would say that the United States cut its budget too much before 1950 and handicapped itself.

TAKE THE RISK
The point is that guessing what will or will not ensure national safety on the military side is a hazardous matter. The moment the budget-cutters come into the picture they put the burden of proof on the military men, who possibly could get along without the extra armaments.

It seems to me that Ballot Orban, M.D., D.D.S., lays it on too thick when he keratinizes the gums. To the best of my recollection the inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha, who never brushed their teeth but had the finest teeth in the civilized world, had healthy gums too and their gums were as soft as gums ought to be. In 1950, that is—by now, no doubt, they are getting more cavities, etc., for they were just beginning to have refined tooth food available and the poor souls were paid of it.

'LITTLE TOO THICK'
"...keratinization of gingival tissues, rendering them more resistant to mechanical and bacterial irritation."

strength but cannot be sure that war isn't coming.

Yet they must take the risk in the planning and in the execution of defense policies, for the Soviets are behind, but of course, they have a use for the cash—to make more bombs.

There are today 600 B-52 heavy bombers in inventory—the real backbone of the U.S. Strategic Air Command. They fly 10,000 miles without refueling, carry bomb loads estimated at 30 megatons to targets in Russia.

Production will reach 744 planes by August next and will be halted, then there's the B70 supersonic bomber program. It is still in the development stage.

Congress has urged an all-out program for a "full weapons system"—in other words, bombers of this type to be built as soon as possible.

But now the executive branch of the government has cut back this project. It involves $780 million.

Was there no other item in the $80-billion budget that could have been shaved so that national security in an advanced field of air power might be assured?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Toothpick Gets 'Debris' Better Than Any Brush

"It is a known and well substantiated fact," says a dentist, in an earnest effort to set the record straight on the prevention of tooth decay, "that the majority of teeth lost after 40 are lost because of periodontal disease."

Periodontal, says Webster, means investing, or surrounding tooth or teeth. Dr. BRADY means the gingiva.

For instance, What? Gingiva or gingival throws you? What's the matter with you? No dictionary? Gingiva is a $180 word for gum or gums.

"Your complete lack of knowledge of the purposes and value of tooth-brushing," continues the dentist pedantically, "makes me doubt that you are an M.D., which I'd be interested in hearing."

Then my young friend (I say young because of his style and his use of plain typewriter paper rather than a professional letterhead) elicits, with too much reverence, the reasons for brushing the teeth, as stated by Ballot Orban, M.D., D.D.S., in "Periodontics," published by Mosby:

1. "To remove microorganisms by the removal of all debris, masticaria alba and plaque from the teeth, especially from the interproximal spaces (spaces between the teeth) and thus eliminate irritation to the gingiva and combat halitosis." (Oh, come, now, let's not involve Madison Avenue.)

2. "To promote circulation of blood."

3. "To promote keratinization of gingival tissues." (Tarnation! Boy, wheel that dictionary around here again. I want to find out what keratinization means. H-m-m, yes, here it is on page 1357—keratinization means to become or to render horny. Keratin is the chemical basis of human hair, nails, bird feathers, animal hooves. Never associated it with the gums.)

'LITTLE TOO THICK'
"...keratinization of gingival tissues, rendering them more resistant to mechanical and bacterial irritation."

It seems to me that Ballot Orban, M.D., D.D.S., lays it on too thick when he keratinizes the gums. CHARETTE FORTUNE TELLING
"The use of cigarettes is really quite an interesting method of analyzing personality."

It is far superior to other fortune telling methods, and you can have a lot of fun employing cigarettes as a yardstick for personality analysis.

For example, if a child has been overly regimented and coerced, will he be more likely to smoke than the child whose parents have treated him more as an equal?

If a child is a victim of a social inferiority complex, is he more likely to accept a cigarette at a party, or less likely?

If a child is small for his age or a physical weakling, will it be more likely to smoke or less likely?

PRODIGAL SON TEST
Remember the Biblical Prodigal Son? He was the second son.

In the typical family, will the oldest son be more likely to smoke than the younger child, or vice versa?

In college, will the freshmen students from country villages be more likely to accept cigarettes at a fraternity "smoker" than the fellows from a large city?

Is a fraternity or sorority member more likely to smoke cigarettes than a non-member?

Is a former newspaper boy or fellow who has always earned his own money, more likely to smoke cigarettes than the fellow who has always lived on an allowance or family "dole"?

Is a girl who smokes more likely to reek of excessively strong perfume than the non-smoker does?

Do men prefer girls who smoke or who do not smoke?

Although smoking slightly dulls our mental alertness, this is not regarded as the main reason why smokers make lower grades than the non-smokers.

Those college students who did not use cigarettes averaged 1.86 on the University of Maryland's 4-point grading scale.

The boys who smoked half a pack per day rated 1.92, while those who used more than a pack per day dropped to a 1.88 grade average.

More of the smokers dropped out of college. And the overly regular kids try to smoke to protest against their childhood domination.

Younger children, like the Prodigal Son, tend to smoke more than older. The "allowance" or "dole" kids smoke more than those who earn their own money.

Fraternity people, being socially more sheep-like, smoke more. And smoking coeds can't smell themselves as well, so overly perfume. Men routinely smoke girls when they ask our Scientific Marriage Foundation for wives.

Voice of the People:

'Intramural Sports Building Is Important to Students'

Michigan State University Oakland is providing us with a quality program in a growing cluster of buildings which represent not one wasted or unnecessarily spent dollar.

In reply to the writer who questioned the soundness of MSU's Intramural Sports and Recreation Building now under construction, I want to point out that since the university opened in 1959 there have been no facilities for students to participate in sports—not to overlook the absence of showers.

Now we are going to have a place where we can take part in a great variety of activities—something people our age need and want to do—as well as devote ourselves to our studies.

And most important, our director of physical education, Holte Lepley, has planned a building completely different from the traditional college sports facility. Ours provides for individual and group sports in which we can all participate—rather than for big team sports which can only watch.

'Why Not Give Aid to Those Over 65?'

I am fed up with foreign aid that goes on and on. How about campaigning for citizens over 65 to enable them to earn whatever they can and still be able to get Social Security checks. I would be a great aid to our economy because people living on small fixed incomes are compelled to live frugally whereas money in our pockets will circulate and speed up our buying power. How about American aid for Americans?

Portraits

I hope it will not frighten you... To know that after dark today... An eerie host of goblins will... be gathering to wait and play... If you should see the shadowed fog... Come creeping silently around... It actually will be instead... A headless ghost on shadowed ground... And if you hear a ghastly creak... That seems to tear the night in two... It probably will be a witch... Intent on coming after you... Moreover, if you do not hold your breath and hope... Upon your doorway or door... You better hold your breath and hope... That there will not be any more... But if you laugh at all of this... And do not heed my words... Tonight... I dare you to look on the moon... And see why it turns white with fright.

Russia Wants Kekkonen to Join Pact Against West Germany

LIRUE, Kauai, Hawaii (AP) — President Urho K. Kekkonen of Finland sent his foreign minister home Monday to handle a Soviet request for a joint defense pact against West Germany.

Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen headed by plane today for Helsinki by way of San Francisco.

The Finnish president stayed behind to complete his visit to Hawaii. He was to leave this afternoon for Los Angeles, last stop on his tour of the United States.

The U.S.S.R. called on Finland to join with it to thwart what the Soviets called a growing West German threat to use the Baltic Sea as a jumping off place for war. The move was seen as an effort to bring independent Finland in line with Warsaw Pact nations.

Kekkonen and his official party would not comment on the proposal.

JFK May Give Wagner a Hand

President Said Mulling Move to Help Mayor of NYC Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, who kept hands off in the bitter New York democratic mayoral primary election, may hit the campaign trail Thursday on behalf of Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Administration informants said Monday night that Kennedy is considering such a move despite White House statements last week to the contrary.

Wagner, seeking his third four-year term, meets New York State Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz, the Republican nominee, in next Tuesday's city election.

Kennedy already has announced he will campaign in New Jersey Thursday night on behalf of the Democratic nominee for governor, Judge Richard J. Hughes.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has appeared in New Jersey to boost the campaign of Republican nominee James P. Mitchell, his secretary of labor. Eisenhower also has campaigned for Lefkowitz in New York City.

Few $25 Fines by Water Patrol Slow Up Boatmen

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) — The only kind of cop employed by this city of 1,000 is a water policeman. And Cliff Geiger, who wears the badge, says he rarely gets a speeding boatman any more.

The city hired Geiger about five years ago to slow speed-boaters who caused wakes in narrow Barron River. The wakes caused other moored craft to scrub docks, washed down unprotected banks and weakened seawalls.

A few $25 fines in city court and the word got around," says Geiger, "so that local boatmen are careful now."

Farmers in Great Britain are now able to buy strings of firecrackers which will explode at intervals to frighten birds in grain fields.

Educator Urges 3-Year Colleges

12-Month Universities Predicted in '70s by Penn State Official

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — A prominent Pennsylvania educator believes year-round classes will become commonplace in colleges and universities during the next decade.

"There is no sound reason for limiting college attendance to nine months of the year," said Lawrence E. Dennis, vice president for academic affairs at Penn State University.

World developments and burrowing enrollments virtually dictate the adoption of a year-round calendar.

Penn state has announced it will adopt a calendar of four, 10-week terms, effective June, 1961. Dennis cited the high cost of college-going, the new emphasis on graduate and professional study, earlier marriage and military duty as reasons why year-round operation has become necessary.

The executive said there were inherent savings in Penn State's plan, not only for the student but the university as well, in the "time that can be more profitably used in other pursuits."

Finally Did It Himself

WINOOSKI, Vt. (UPI) — Air Force Sgt. Robert T. Moore, who promoted off-duty education for more than 1,600 fellow servicemen this year, finally received his own degree from St. Michael's College after 13 years of part time study.

TWA Pilots Set Strike Deadline

Will Quit Thursday at Midnight If Contract Fails to Be Settled

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike of some 1,500 Trans World Airlines pilots has been called for 11:30 p.m. local time Thursday.

C. N. Sagen, president of the Air Line Pilots Association, said Monday night the National Mediation Board has been notified of the strike deadline. Appointment of a presidential fact finding board would prevent a walkout for 60 days.

TWA has approximately 1,500 pilots and the air line serves 33 cities in 23 states, plus 18 cities in Europe, Asia and Africa.

A walkout previously scheduled by TWA pilots for Oct. 18 was called off while contract negotiations continued. Sagen said no agreement was reached in seven days of meetings in Kansas City and the talks were recessed Thursday by a federal mediator.

Sagen said most of the issues blocking the way to a new contract involve working hours and conditions on jet flights.

AF Major Uses Unique Service

Marks His Anniversary as Leader of Squad With Chaplain's Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Each year, on the anniversary of his assuming command of the 535th Bomb Squadron, Air Force Maj. Eugene J. Budnik arranges for a special ceremony. It's more religious than military.

The 40-year-old pilot and career officer, who has served in most of the Air Force's major commands since 1940, generally arranges for the base chaplain to talk to his men about divine guidance in military and private life.

"When I was given command," the Montello, Wis., native says, "I wanted my men to know that first of all I am a Christian, and that when it came to decisions that would have an influence on their lives, all the decisions I would make would be tempered by my belief in God."

Budnik, his wife and six children live on Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Of his annual program, Chaplain (Lt.) Martin F. Poutz Jr. says: "I think we find ourselves not so much in a combat of weapons as a combat of ideas. Men like Maj. Budnik will help us win."

Cements Relations With Outdoor Sitter

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Marcia Hudson of Des Moines was engaged the other day as a "sitter." When she arrived at her employer's home, it was explained that the entire family had to be away for a few hours.

She was given a lawn chair and asked to see that neighborhood kids didn't mar the newly poured cement of the back-yard patio.

Lead, zinc and silver comprise the chief products of North Idaho mines.

You Ever Inhale 2-Day Hangover?

By RHODA ACKERSON
EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — Ever had a two-day hangover without drinking a drop? I have,—by snuffing. And all in the line of duty.

Invited on a tour of distilleries by the Scotch Whisky Association, I developed a sudden devotion to undiluted work. But one deep breath over the first sample figger proved the work too strong.

It was 112 proof, pure, unblended, unaged new malt whisky—and the haze around the distilling yats suddenly migrated into my brain.

The process that manufactures this potent fire-water—learned somehow through the enveloping vapor — involves barley, water, yeast, Scottish heather—and cats.

Damp, germinating barley is washed, wilted, boiled and strained with water to release the sugar. It manufactures into a sweet brew, which ferments when yeast is added.

WATER DOES IT
The water is the secret ingredient. Only pure, mountain-fed Scottish streams, the distillers say, can produce that patented drink. And no way has been found, they gloat, to transport the water without changing its taste.

The heater is just convenience—it's the handiest brush around to scour down the vats after the brew goes into the distilling plant.

There the brew is vaporized twice—and out comes that water-clear alcohol responsible for my two days hangover.

Fortunately it is still years—and several shades of mellow golden coloring—away from anything sold the public.

And everyone who pays $6 and up per bottle can be assured the whole process is completely economic. The boiled out barley is cattle feed. The yeast is reused. And not a drop of the fermented brew escapes the distillers—or the government revenue officers.

Only the tax, silted and dutied buyer loses out. And the rats in the grain warehouses. That's what the cats are for.

Adenauer Now Under Thumb of Coalition

By PHIL NEWSOM
LIFE Foreign Analyst
It's an old-fashioned, panel conference room in Bonn in mid-September, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer held one of his comparatively rare news conferences.

It was the end of a bitterly fought national election campaign in which the 85-year-old chancellor had demanded that German voters return him and his Christian Democratic party to office with a clear majority as proof of West German solidarity against the threats of Russia.

He said he wanted no coalition government because such a government always must compromise, always play the role of beggar in carrying out any legislative program.

This week a new German government with Adenauer at its head is expected to take office under exactly the conditions Adenauer himself described.

HOLD BALANCE OF POWER
It will be a coalition of the Christian Democrats and the Free Democrats of handsome, war-hero Erich Mende.

With their 66 seats in the new West German Bundstag, the Free Democrats emerged from the election holding the balance of power able to form a majority government by union either with the Socialists or the CDU.

As his price for permitting

Adenauer to remain in office, Mende drove a hard bargain.

Five out of the 18 ministries in the new cabinet, a "coalition committee" to clear in advance all major domestic or foreign policy decisions, and a promise in writing from Adenauer that he will resign before the end of his normal four-year term.

Such were the conditions that the coalition was in trouble even before it began to function as a government.

DIFFERENCES EXIST
The campaign demonstrated that between Adenauer and Mende's Free Democrats deep differences existed and were not likely to be patched over easily now.

Chief among them was the charge of the Free Democrats that Adenauer's unyielding hard line against the Soviets only had deepened the split between the two Germans and made the Russians more stubborn.

Settlement of the German problem, they maintained, depended upon a more moderate approach free of threats.

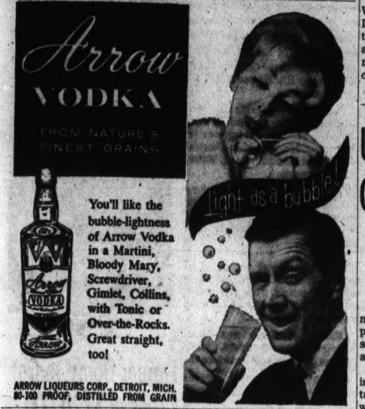

To this end, they would establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union's East European satellites, labor to keep communications lines open to East Germany and seek a settlement with Poland over the disputed territories beyond the Oder-Neisse.

Inferentially, the Free Democrats would place nationalism above the West European unity which has been Adenauer's goal. In each of these was the seed of discord.

But, Adenauer cannot afford altogether to ignore the wishes of his coalition partners who might not await until 1963 to topple him.

Waiting in the wings is Ludwig Erhard, the man already selected and agreed upon as his successor, a man Adenauer regards as not tough enough or enough of a politician for these perilous times.

U.S. Tank Men Camp at Wall

Pitch Tents and Settle Down Near E. Berlin Checkpoint Gate

BERLIN (U.S. tank crews near Berlin's Cold War frontier pitched tents Monday night and settled down for what might be a long stay.

The tank crews had been sleeping inside their Patton medium tanks since the border showdown with Soviet armor Friday night and Saturday.

Now they are bivouacked just off Friedrichstrasse, about 600 yards back of Checkpoint Charlie at the border crossing which leads to Communist East Berlin.

"Your guess is as good as mine how long we'll be here," said tank Commander Maj. Thomas Tyrone of Grosse Pointe, Mich. "They probably know all at the very top and maybe they haven't even decided yet."

The 11 tanks were clustered in an empty lot somewhat nearer the border than Soviet tanks on the other side.

The crews all belong to Company F of the 40th Armored Force. They strung a net between two tanks and played a game of volleyball. Then they got out their gear and had supper of baked ham, corn on the cob, sweet potatoes, salad, black bread, milk, coffee and cookies.

N. Y. Village Confused After Five Mayors

MANLIUS, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor, mayor—who is the mayor? Residents of this Onondaga County village have reason to be confused. They've had five mayors in 15 months.

Bertram Rose resigned in August 1959, to accept a business offer in Texas. Milton Reeves was appointed to succeed him. Then Gerald L. Jones defeated Harold Hopkinson for the post in an election.

Jones was called to active duty with the Air Force earlier this month, and Hopkinson was appointed acting mayor. Hopkinson resigned this week, however, because he said the mayor should be elected.

Jones hadn't resigned, so an election could not be held. The village board appointed Keith Morgan.

Morgan still was mayor today.

A WORD FROM MR. TRUMAN—As usual, Truman does the talking and Mrs. Truman has no comment in Chicago. The former president, talking with newsmen during a short visit to Chicago between trains, wasn't much impressed with the big blasts the Russians have fired recently. "We set off a tremendous one in the Pacific one time," he said—maybe recalling the one which wined out a Pacific atoll.

Sees Russian, Chinese Break

Syracuse Professor Says Sino-Soviet Split Depends on Industry

HAMILTON, N.Y. (UPI)—The day is coming when Communist China will "deviate and thumb her nose at the Soviets," a Syracuse University professor predicts.

Dr. George Cressey, Maxwell professor of geography at Syracuse and an expert on China, addressed a Phi Beta Kappa convocation in the Colgate University Memorial Chapel Monday.

He said the Communist country is not now a satellite of the Soviet Union.

Cressey forecast a Sino-Soviet break when Communist China feels it can go it alone industrially.

At that time, he said, "China may remind its neighbors to the north of the area taken in the past and that China would like to have them back."

He said these were Mongolia, areas north of the Yalu River and around Lake Balkal in Russia.

But the most immediate danger is the threat of Communist expansion into Southeast Asia where raw materials and new markets are available, Cressey added.

Hagerty Blasts TV Viewing Habits of Americans

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Former White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has criticized Americans for turning to "even a mediocre entertainment program" on television to avoid watching special news and documentary programs.

Hagerty, press secretary to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for eight years, lashed out Monday at the viewing habits of the public during a talk before the Iowa Bankers Association convention here.

Hagerty, now vice president in charge of news and commentary for the American Broadcasting Co., said television viewers are more interested in "ancient movies" and mediocre programs than they are in programs that will increase their knowledge of what goes on in the world.

When news and documentary programs come on, he said, "viewers turn away in droves and seek escape, like an ostrich hiding its head in the sand."

Six presidents have died at 20 year intervals in 100 years: Harrison in 1840; Lincoln in 1860; Garfield in 1880; McKinley in 1890; Harding in 1920; Roosevelt in the 1940s.

N-Powered Carrier Passes Major Tests

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise performed perfectly in all respects during major power trials off the Virginia capes Monday, according to her builder.

William E. Blewett Jr., head of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., flew home from the big flat-top with word that her performance was "even better than expectations."

The 85,000-ton, $45-million Enterprise has been undergoing sea trials since Sunday. She'll return to her berth Friday afternoon and be commissioned Nov. 25.

Barometers Show Rise After Red Bomb Fired

DETROIT (U.S. Barometers in Detroit and other areas of the U.S. rose sharply Monday a few hours after Soviet Russia's giant bomb explosion.

W. W. Oak, Detroit U.S. Weather Bureau chief, said the reading on the barograph rose sharply, then fell back down.

Set $2.5 Million Shop Center

Southfield Council in Favor of Structure on 26-Acre Tract

SOUTHFIELD—A new $2.5 million shopping center is to be constructed on Southfield Road, between 12 and 15-mile roads.

At last night's public hearing, the City Council decided in favor of developer Rodney Lockwood's proposed 26-acre tract center covering a 26-acre tract.

The council at the same time turned down the Nelson Realty Co.'s bid for rezoning 9 acres on the southeast corner of 15-mile and Evergreen roads for a smaller shopping area.

All members of the council, with the exception of Clarence Durbin, voted in favor of the larger center in spite of the recommendations of City Planner George Vilcan Jr. Vilcan pointed out that the city could not support a center as large as the Lockwood property and further recommended that any shopping center in Southfield should not be larger than 8 or 9 acres.

THINKS IT UNFAIR

Councilman Durbin said that in view of the recommendations of the city planner he thought it unfair to deny the Nelson request for a smaller shopping center.

As far back as February 1960, the council has been trying to decide between the two proposed shopping centers. At a public hearing then, the council rejected Nelson's proposal and then Mayor Donald L. Swanson vetoed the Lockwood Center.

Lockwood contends that the center would be a "shoppers' paradise" competing with downtown Birmingham and Detroit. It would be air conditioned with a sidewalk cafe and restaurant facing the mall fronting on Southfield Road.

Construction is expected to begin early next year, according to Lockwood.

Enter Innocent Plea on Weapon Charge

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—A plea of innocent was entered yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland for James Johnson, charged with carrying a concealed weapon following the Oct. 21 shooting of a 42-year-old father of four. No trial date was set for Johnson, also 42, of 21415 Wyoming St. Police said Johnson acted in self-defense in the shooting of Victor J. Owens, 42, of 10750 Alcot St., also of the township, following a dice game in which Owens supposedly slashed Johnson with a razor after Owens pulled a thread off Johnson's hat.

Troy to Control Activities

Clamp Down on CD Chief

By ROBERT NESTER

TROY — The Troy City Commission took action last night to bring Clarence F. Long's policy-making activities as civil defense director under the review and control of the newly appointed five-man CD study committee.

Mayor Robert J. Huber and Commissioner Wallace E. Hudson called the special meeting to consider Troy's Civil Defense program.

Hudson explained at the outset that "the civil defense director has taken too much on himself" and that "he has exceeded his authority."

Hudson gave several examples of Long acting without due regard for his delegated powers and without commission approval. According to Hudson, the commission of a series of actions overstepping Long's authority came after last week's commission meeting. At that time, a five-man committee was appointed by the commission to study and recommend the policy and organization of civil defense for the city.

Long had proposed a 10-man "policy and advisory board" at that meeting to act under the director and his deputy in determining CD programs.

CALLED MEETING

Later last week, Long sent letters printed under the names of the members of this board inviting them to a meeting to choose a permanent board chairman Hudson said.

Huber stated last night that Long's invitation to his board meeting was "a slap in the face of this commission" since Long's board appeared to duplicate the functions of the five-man study committee.

Furthermore, Huber stated, the mayor's title was used on the letterhead without his knowledge or approval.

As an explanation of his action, Long said that his 10-man board was designed to decide only internal matters of the CD organization such as discipline and clothing regulations.

This policy and advisory board is necessary, Long contended, because the director should not expose himself to members of the CD organization who might be dissatisfied with any of his decisions regarding discipline. In such a case, he said, the board could handle the problem impersonally, without creating personal enmities with the organization.

Commissioner Robert J. Barget questioned whether a board composed of members of the clergy and the board of education, a physician and other prominent citizens would deal with such internal problems of the civil defense organization.

2 RESOLUTIONS

The commission's action was split into two resolutions. The first, to immediately disband Long's board, was passed by a 5 to 2 vote. Commissioners Roy L. Duncan and Clifford Sutermeister Jr. dissented.

The other proposal, to prohibit any citywide releases from Long's office, barring an emergency and unless reviewed and approved by the commission's five-man study committee, was unanimously approved.

This committee includes Huber, Long, Mayor Pro Tem Vincent J. McAvoy, City Manager David E. Firestone, and John P. Diefenbaker, principal of the Baker Junior High School.

The group will meet Thursday with officials of Michigan Civil Defense, including R. S. D'Amelio, acting head of the organization, to clarify questions involving authority and procedure in Troy.

The prizes will be divided into three categories, homemade, funniest and most original, with five cash awards to be given in each division.

This year Lakeville School is cooperating with the firemen by having its parties in the afternoon leaving the evening free for the townshipwide Halloween celebration in the fire hall.

Elmer Powell is chairman of the event.

Refreshments, to be served as the climax of the evening's entertainment, will feature all the cider, hotdogs and doughnuts the youngsters can consume.

Farm Bureau Seeks Members

Volunteers Open Drive to Increase Rosters of 21 Oakland Groups

Volunteer workers this week are launching an all-out visitation campaign to enroll new and renewed members in the 21 Farm Bureau groups in Oakland County.

According to Mrs. Vernon Hutchings of Brandon Township, county roll-all chairman, the workers will be pushing for a new high in family memberships in Michigan's largest farm organization.

Oakland County's share of the more than 79,000 state-wide farm family membership goal is 1,166 new and renewed members in 1962.

There are more than 1,500 Community Farm Bureau groups in the state.

"Farmers have a long list of reasons why they need to be better organized than ever before, including the problem of public opinion," Mrs. Hutchings said.

"IN THE DOUGHNUTS" She indicated that farmers are in the "public opinion doughnuts" with much of the population and that in most cases unworkable government farm programs have placed farmers there.

"For instance, many people do not understand that most farmers oppose increasing government intervention in their business — in their right to farm," Mrs. Hutchings said.

She added that "Farm Bureau stands squarely for the right of every farmer to be the boss of his own farm operation."

In spite of production limits and quotas and with a minimum of land, one American farmer produces enough for himself and about 25 others, according to Mrs. Hutchings.

"In Russia where government is in tight control and where farmers are constantly prodded by their overseers, one farmer produces only enough for himself and three or four others, she said.

"These are some of the things we must tell our nonfarm friends, and we can do a better job of it by all farmers working together," she concluded.

Mrs. Hutchings said three training meetings were held last week at New Hudson, Rose Town Hall and Lake Orion and workers now are contacting new members.

The drive ends in January.

Miss Buck Married

DAVISBURG — White gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms graced the altar of the Gailian Baptist Church at White Lake for the recent wedding of Sandra Sue Buck and Sgt. Robert Charles Hoult. Rev. Wayne Ritchie performed the afternoon rites.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Buck of 3731 Navarra St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoult, 1195 Hampton Road, White Lake Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of satin brocade featuring a bell skirt with two roses encircling the back, and long sleeves.

Her bouffant veil was attached to a headpiece trimmed with crystals and pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Howard Banks of Millard. Mrs. Wesley Tindall was bridesmaid.

Serving as best man for his brother was Donald Hoult, with Louis Seling of Pontiac and Bill Buck, brother of the bride, seating the guests.

Tell Them You Are, Abby Says

It's Easy to Stop Swapping Gifts With Friends of Yore

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you stop swapping Christmas gifts with people whom you hardly ever see?

Our Christmas list includes people we haven't seen in years. It is expensive, and takes a lot of my time. We are remembered with a gift from them, too, but I would rather get off the hook and not have to send them one.

Is there an inflexible way to terminate this type of point-less gift-giving?

SINCERE

DEAR SINCERE: Yes. Write them a note around Thanksgiving time and tell them you are "thankful" for friends with whom you can be perfectly candid.

Explain that you are trimming your Christmas gift list, and are sending them a card instead of a gift this year.

Unless they are very unreasonable people, they will appreciate your good sense, and will reciprocate accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe there is any such thing as a confirmed bachelor?
THE GIRLS AT PRUDENTIAL
DEAR GIRLS: Yes. He's a man who thinks that the only thoroughly justified marriage was the one that produced him.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what to do about my son. He is 23, and was married last June to a fine young woman (a school teacher) after a courtship of three years. Since their marriage he has left her and come home three times.
Each time I sent him back.

He is accustomed to my cooking and housekeeping, and his wife doesn't do things the way I did. He tells me that he is much happier at home with me. (I am a widow, and raised him alone since he was 3.)

I blame myself because he never was as crazy about this girl as she was about him, but I persuaded him to marry her for his own good. What should I do now?

A YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son is not emotionally ready for marriage. And he may never be without professional help.
Urging him to talk to a doctor.
Your 23-year-old "baby" is about to strangle on his mother's umbilical cord.

first your baby and you will never regret it.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Self-expression takes many forms in the toddler. Imagination begins to run rampant. Showing off becomes a recurrent theme. Daredevil tactics dominate the daily scene. While self-assurance grows by leaps and bounds, there are still many, many times when your toddler will slip back to the security of babyhood and need mother's guiding hand to help him over hurdles.

Self-feeding is another form of toddler expression. And self-feeding usually starts with finger-feeding. Tasty, nutritious finger food: Gerber Junior Cookies with added protein. Twice as much protein as most other cookies, plus B-vitamins in the icing. For fun, they come in adorable animal shapes so you can teach your toddler animal names. The flavor? M-mm!

Video views. Certainly TV can be a boon to a busy mother as well as an educational force for a toddler. But TV should not be a substitute for real experiences and educational training from mother. By limiting viewing and selecting suitable programs, you can make TV work to your advantage... and your child's.

Tabletime tactics. Most toddlers go through a stage of saying "No" to everything. If it attracts attention at mealtime, saying "No" can become a habit... almost a game. (Sometimes it's even more fun than eating!) It should be ignored like any other play for attention. Baby will stop sooner if you don't listen.

Refusal of food is usually minimized when you serve Gerber Junior Foods. Because they have the "semi-grow-up" flavors toddlers take to... an evenly minced texture that's just right for tots with a few teeth.

Reminder: baby cereals are still an important part of a toddler's diet because of the iron and other important nutrients they provide. Gerber Cereals are rich in iron, also offer calcium, B-vitamins. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Watch Those Calories

Lunch Can Wreck a Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women in business have instinctively known, or learned the hard way, that their appearance is important. Of course, looking our best is just as important in the home as in the office, although the need to do so is not always so apparent. Since I know that all of you are acutely aware of the value of good grooming and attractive and appropriate dress, I will not spend words on those topics.

Speaking of diet (who, me?), the career woman needs an adequate breakfast, not only for health but because it has been proven over and over again that the successful reducer, or the woman who maintains her ideal weight, does not skip this first meal of the day. The lunch hour is your hazard!

Believe me, you are living dangerously when you are the hostess or the guest at a business luncheon, but never forget that the corner drugstore can ruin you just as surely, though not so delightfully. There are calories in those hills of salad sandwiches and in those chocolate milkshakes. Watch out that your lunch hour does not do you in, or should I say, OUT?

Just a few words about skin care. Let lubricating cream soak into the skin of your face and neck during your bath. Take advantage of the moisturizing creams and lotions, many of which can be used as a make-up base during the day. There are also oils and eye creams which almost disappear into the skin, and which you can apply before going to sleep at night.

Count your calories, and don't forget lunch. A bowl of soup, which seems innocent enough, can zoom your calorie count if it has lots of cream or fat in it. With just one dessert at a lunch counter or a restaurant, you can play havoc with your daily calorie allowance.

Exercise for 20 minutes at home daily and walk whenever possible on weekends. Perhaps you even can walk part of the way to work every morning.

Former President Talks at Texas Rally

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A Soviet spokesman asserted Monday "there is no such thing as a Soviet-Chinese bloc."

M. V. Lavrichenko, a Soviet economic affairs expert in the U. N. Assembly Economic Committee, objected to use of the term by M. W. Errook, British delegate, who in turn was objecting to the statement of a delegate from White Russia about Britain's interest in Iraq oil.

Errook acknowledged "perhaps we should not have made a reference to a Soviet-China bloc, as an probably out of date on this."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the United States and "never extend a welcome never hostile the United States" needs a leadership "which would to such an outcast as Red China."

"I am sure that I voice the determination of all — regardless of party — in saying that we will stand by the President as he devotes his energies to defying the international bullies and protecting American rights and liberties," Eisenhower said in a speech Monday night.

The speech climaxed a series of appearances by Eisenhower in behalf of a Republican congressional candidate.

Among other things, the ex-president (1) defended the sale of F86 jet fighters to Yugoslavia, saying the planes were obsolete; (2) said the United States has no choice except to test atomic weapons; (3) said the "century-old one-party (Democratic) system is a calamity for the South," and (4) criticized big government with its "discriminate federal handouts" and "spendthrift programs."

In his speech to a crowd of 3,000, Eisenhower drew on the loudest of frequent cheers when he called for "the kind of leadership which would never belittle the United States and thus disarm our friends and hearten our enemies, that stands steadfastly in all international councils for principle and right, and never extends a welcome to such an outlaw as Red China is today."

Eisenhower said reports that the earth's atmosphere is being polluted by atomic tests are "greatly exaggerated."

"I decided about three years ago that the United States would not resume testing in the atmosphere," he told a news conference, "but I said that this would go until we found out about the Soviet readiness to reach an agreement."

He said the Soviet attitude leaves the United States "no choice but to test."

Republican leaders were jubilant over Eisenhower's appearance in behalf of John W. Goode, the lone Republican in Saturday's special congressional election.

Goode, 38, and four Democrats seek the seat from which Democrat Paul Kilday resigned last month to become a federal judge.

Goode's chief opponent is State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 45, who has the backing of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

African Nations Want S. Africa Out of U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Nine African nations and Iraq called for U. N. Security General discussion that could lead to expulsion of South Africa from the United Nations because of its white supremacy policies.

A resolution citing South Africa's refusal to alter its apartheid policy as grounds for the action was accompanied with a recommendation that countries of the world cut diplomatic relations, shipping and air links and a trade boycott.

Ghana initiated the move. Other sponsors are the Congo (Lopville), Guinea, Iraq, Libya, Mali, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Sudan and the United Arab Republic.

Students Claim Room-Jamming Mark in Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Men students at Florida State University's Kellum Hall laid claim Monday to a new world record in the newest campus fad — room jamming.

Sunday night 215 students crammed into a room which normally has only two men. The room also had a bed, chest of drawers and desk.

Kent State University in Ohio had claimed the world record of 141, previously.

Thirty minutes were required to fill the room. It took 10 minutes to clear them out.

Hits Handling of Appeal Cases

Bar Assn. Spokesman Says Convicted Men Don't Get Fair Shake

LANSING (AP)—Convicted criminals aren't getting a fair shake in the State Supreme Court, a spokesman for a committee of the State Bar of Michigan said Monday.

The high court should give an explanation when it turns down the petitions of criminals to appeal their convictions, said Perry A. Maynard, an assistant attorney general.

Instead, he said, the word "denied" is the only reply given when petitions are rejected.

"There may be no merit to the petitions in the great majority of cases, but even if only one of 10 men merit, they should get consideration," Maynard told a Senate Interim Committee studying the need for an intermediate court of appeals.

The committee, headed by Sen. Carl H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, conducted its first hearing two weeks ago and drew strong support from Circuit and Supreme Court judges for creation of a court to hear appeals from trial courts.

Maynard, speaking for the State Bar's Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, said criminals should be allowed to appeal convictions as a matter of right, rather than only with leave of the supreme court, "especially those sentenced to life terms."

An intermediate court could handle the appeals and at the same time relieve the heavy burden borne by the supreme court, he said.

Supreme Court Justice Theodore H. Souris joined his colleagues in supporting creation of a new court. He also called for legislation creating new judgeships in Wayne County.

In both courts, he said, the need for lessening the work burden is "desperate."

The high court, he said, should handle only cases dealing with "the grand issues of the law," leaving lesser cases to an inferior court.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

(Yesterday we looked at the strongest argument which Pontiac Central pro-Saginaw Valley supporters give for keeping PCH in the league. The argument based strictly on prestige, is good, but is losing its merit. Today we look at the travel situation. These problems of travel, cost and better local competition are not only Pontiac Central's but are similar to what many schools in Oakland County face. This is why there is a strong and serious need for re-alignment of prep leagues).

Years ago when class A schools in the state were at a premium, it was accepted and recognized to have teams travel long distances to play the best available.

Today, people do not accept this situation. The growth of class A schools within a stone's throw of each other has eliminated the need for travel. It has brought about the desire for more local rivalry and it has brought about more protests of traveling long distances when good local competition is available.

There was a day when Pontiac Central's membership in the SVC was necessary in view of size, good competition and equal facilities. PCH was the biggest school in Oakland County. It had the best facilities.

Today, some people don't realize the growth of schools here in our county. There are at least half a dozen schools which are now bigger than PCH and their facilities and caliber of competition have also reached or surpassed the level at PCH.

Of the 17 class A schools in the county, 10 of the biggest in six cities can be reached within 15 miles of travel. There is a total distance of only 49 miles from point to point among these six communities, compared to 295 miles of the five cities comprising the Saginaw Valley.

Closest SVC competitor is Flint, 35 miles away, with Midland the newest member requiring 100 miles of one-way travel.

Compare travel distances of Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern and the difference in costs and the argument of prestige becomes mighty costly to the taxpayer's pocket.

The PNH travel schedule this year amounts to about 110 miles of round trip for five road games. PCH, for four road games, has an estimated 460 miles of round trip travel.

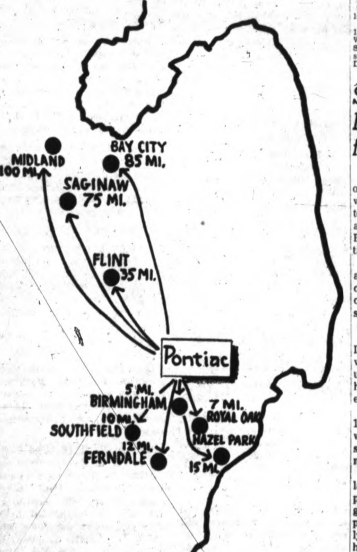

Next year, on the basis of home-and-home games, PCH will have to travel better than 600 miles round-trip for four games. PNH will have 96 miles.

In monetary terms, it requires twice the amount of money for PCH than it does for PNH in traveling, which includes transportation, meals and scouting.

PCH has $713 for travel, PNH has $348. PCH has $580 for meals, PNH has $247. PCH has $135 for scouting, PNH has $80. This amounts to $1,428 for PCH and $875 for PNH, a difference of $553. THIS IS FOR FOOTBALL ALONE.

There are nine varsity sports at both schools. The cost of sending junior varsity teams to Saginaw Valley area, plus golf, tennis, swimming and other sports can bring the overall travel total to a pretty big sum.

And we must also remember, we are asking students and fans to make these long trips. In most cases they won't and as result the athletic department, which should help sustain the athletic program, are very low. We will base our next discussion on rivalry, crowds and gate receipts.

A TRAVELING TEAM — With 17 class A schools in its own backyard, the longest distance of which is 15 miles away, Pontiac Central still holds its membership in a league in which its closest rival is 35 miles away. The four cities in the Saginaw Valley Conference have a total distance of 295 miles from Pontiac. The total distance of the five major class A cities is 49 miles including the farthest point.

Michigan State, Mississippi Hold 1-2 Ratings

Both Powers Face Top Foes This Weekend

High Class A Rating for Knights, Eagles

Saturday Foes Iowa and Ohio State Make Top Ten

By The Associated Press
Michigan State and Mississippi, the nation's top college football powers, tackle tough tests Saturday against upstart opponents who'll be looking to improve their prestige by whipping the top-rated tandem.

The Spartans, ranked first Monday for the third week in succession, place their 5-0 record on the line in a Big Ten conference clash with resurgent Minnesota, last year's national champions who just missed climbing into the top ten in the latest rankings.

The Rebels, winners of six in a row in an undefeated campaign in which they've scored 204 points to 13 for their foes, tangle with sixth-ranked Louisiana State University in a Southeastern Conference matchup Saturday night.

Michigan State, also overpowering all opposition with 131-point while giving up only 10, retained the No. 1 spot in the latest ratings of The Associated Press' committee of sportswriters and statisticians.

The Spartans' 35-0 conquest of Indiana last Saturday, polled 31 first-place votes to eight for the Rebels, who walloped Vanderbilt 47-0 in their latest game. On a point basis, Michigan State received 437 to 407 for Mississippi.

Texas remained No. 3, grabbing six votes for the top spot while Alabama received the other two votes for first place and wound up fourth. Ohio State jumped up to fifth, followed by LSU, Georgia Tech, Colorado, Iowa and Missouri.

In other top 10 team matchups Saturday, Ohio State (4-0-1) bangs heads with Iowa (4-1) in a Big Ten showdown strangle and Colorado (6-0) tangles with Missouri (5-0-1) in a Big Eight Conference battle.

Texas (6-0) meets Southwest Conference foe SMU (2-3) while Alabama (6-0), leading the Southeastern race, plays Mississippi State (4-2). Georgia Tech (5-1) takes on Florida (3-2-1).

The top teams with season records and first place votes in parentheses: Michigan State (3) (5-0) 437, Alabama (4) (6-0) 291, Texas (3) (6-0) 285, Ohio State (5) (4-0-1) 278, LSU (4) (4-0-1) 277, ## Chiefs Hoping Hodge Keeps Up Good Play

By Bill Connwell

"It looks like he's coming into his own," enthused Pontiac Coach Paul DellaBella after watching Jesse Hodge run wild in the Chiefs' 26-3 triumph over Saginaw High last Friday night at Saginaw.

One could hardly blame Pontiac's head coach for rejoicing in Hodge's sparkling performance against the Trojans.

Hodge did everything offensively that could possibly be expected—and then some.

The 163-pound junior halfback came off the bench early in the 2nd quarter to replace the injured Charley Humphrey and enjoyed a banner evening at Saginaw's expense.

He only scored one of Central's four touchdowns, but his sterling ball carrying set up every tally in the Chiefs' best offensive display of the year.

Jesse logged the ball 36 times and gained 265 yards for an average of 7.3 per carry. The fact that PCH ran 64 plays from scrimmage and netted 281 rushing yards clearly shows Hodge's huge contribution to the cause.

Now will Hodge's tremendous effort alter DellaBella's plans for the remainder of the 1961 season?

"It won't change things too much, but Jesse will continue to be a lot of action," DellaBella said. "He'll probably do quite a bit of alternating with Humphrey at left halfback in our last two games."

The 5-foot-8 scabbard never carried the ball until Pontiac's 14 win over Flint Northern in the 5th game of the season and he wasn't even listed on the varsity roster at the start of the campaign. He had earned a junior varsity letter as a sophomore, but had little or no varsity experience.

Hodge certainly will play a vital part in DellaBella's plans for 1962. Veteran halfback Roy Cozier will be lost via graduation in June and Hodge is a good bet to move into a starting backfield spot next September.

Humphrey suffered a slight concussion in the early moments of Friday's game, but he's OK now, according to DellaBella. Humphrey was confined to Saginaw General Hospital overnight for rest and observation before being released Saturday afternoon.

The Chiefs' most frustrated player in the victory at Saginaw was Elbert Hall, defensive halfback. Hall returned a punt 49 yards for a TD in the 4th quarter, only to see his efforts nullified by a clipping penalty.

It marked the 2nd straight year that a PCH player returned a punt for a TD at Saginaw and had it nullified. Dick McCauley ran 80 yards against the Trojans last year and a clip spoiled it. Hall's only consolation was the fact that after the penalty the Chiefs scored anyway.

Elick Shorter, the Chiefs' big senior end, took a brief ting at fullback against Saginaw and DellaBella hints that he may see more action at the same spot against Flint Southwestern and Pontiac Northern. The 200-pound Shorter netted 18 yards in six carries at Saginaw.

Speaking of fullbacks, DellaBella wants a defensive specialist and part-time offensive player, left with his family for California yesterday where Paul's father, a cement mason, has acquired a new job. That leaves fullback duties in the hands of Shorter and Gene Luppino.

The Chiefs now have an extra week to prepare for Southwestern in their final Saginaw Valley game of the season, PCH. The game, has a 2-4-1 record. Southwestern meets the Chiefs Nov. 10 at Wisner Stadium, then comes the big PCH-PNH cross-town finale on Wisner turf Nov. 17. Wins over Southwestern and PNH would give the Chiefs a 50-50 record for the year.

FAMILY FEUD—The only father and son combination in major league bowling is Buzz Fazio, left, and his son Joe Fazio. Joe is bowling for the Detroit Thunderbirds while Buzz is captain of the Omaha Packers in the National Bowling League. Both are Detroiters. Joe helped the Thunderbirds sweep their series last weekend with Omaha.

George Needs Comeback in All Star Eliminations

Paul George of Pontiac will have his work cut out for him when he enters the final two days of eliminations for berths in the National All Star tournament this weekend at Detroit.

Following a big start, the spectacular local star went "cold" to fall from first in the standings all the way to 22nd in a 24-man field over the past weekend at Alpena.

A total of 18 will be eligible to go on to the big meet in Miami, Fla., in January.

George still figures he has a good chance since he is only three Petersen points out of 16th place and only 12 behind No. 2 man Vic Twelvet, who compiled 112.36. Bill Gause leads the state match game battle with 117.14.

Paul divided matches with the two leaders in facing most of the top men in the pack. He won his first six games by averaging 209, fell off a little in the next three and then could not roll a 200 game for the last 15. The average dropped to 190 for the two days.

A large crowd had been watching the pros bowl area stars in the lanes next to Fibber but they shifted their attention as the tension mounted.

The single topped his best previous high of 23 but his 635 series was far short of his best of 694.

Thunderbirds Close 2nd

By The Associated Press

The National Bowling League race, a cakewalk for Dallas the first two weeks, has really tightened up in the West where Fresno, Port Worth at Kansas City, Omaha at Minneapolis-St. Paul and Detroit at New York.

The same schedule prevails Tuesday night.

The league resumes action Tuesday night with Los Angeles at Dallas for a test between the division leaders, San Antonio at Fresno, Port Worth at Kansas City, Omaha at Minneapolis-St. Paul and Detroit at New York.

Changes were made in the Western Division where Port Worth was leading last week. Los Angeles won three matches out of five and pulled into a first-place tie with the Panthers.

Illustrating how close the races are, only 1/4 points separate first and last in the West where Fresno is in the cellar. In the East, there are five points difference between leading Dallas and last-place New York.

Last week saw the hottest shooting of the season with both high game and series being rolled.

Carmen Salvino of Dallas posted a 289 game although his team lost to San Antonio 23-19. It bettered the previous high by 30 pins. Bud Horn of the San Antonio Cavaliers led 283-288 for a 536 series and this was a new high by 33 pins.

There were a couple of other big series — Jimmy Carman of New York rolling 501 and Bob Strampe of Minneapolis-St. Paul posting 512. Strampe won 12 points for the night and was largely instrumental in the Twin Cities blasting Kansas City 32-6.

Grid Career Ended

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—One of the most colorful and popular careers in Memphis collegiate football history has ended. Surgeons planned to remove a cartilage from the left knee of Memphis State quarterback James Earl Wright today.

Following a big start, the

Tricks Instead of Treats

Halloween 'Ain't What It Usta Be'

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Whether it's the old-fashioned Halloween or the newfangled one, this is the night bats fly, witches cackle weirdly as they soar through the sky on jet-lift brooms, and skeletons shamble along in their bones in the streets, pursued by red devils with rubber pitchforks.

BOYLE

The sidewalks will be thronged by little sheet-covered ghosts, each hopelessly trying to frighten each other with waving arms and sudden cries of "Boo!"

TRICK OR TREAT?

Your doorknobs may ring many times. If you open it, you are likely to see a group of small costumed monsters, each holding up a container. "Trick or treat!" they yell in chorus.

"Treat, if you please," you answer, and if you hand them a dime each or some pieces of candy, the mollified monsters go on to the next door, usually followed at an unobtrusive distance by a cautious parent.

But what happens if you reply, "Trick!"

Probably nothing. The tiny monsters look uncertainly at each other, then go away. They are used to getting treats they don't know any tricks to play on a householder to force him into granting their demands.

I don't know when this "trick or treat" ultimatum got started, but a generation ago it wasn't so popular in many parts of the country.

Halloween wasn't an evening of harmless fun but the most dreaded night of the year to grownups. Children were generally more obedient to their elders in those days, but one night of the 30s they threw off the haliters and roamed like wild things.

The kids then didn't seek treats from adults. On Halloween they wanted to play tricks. They were one-night rebels, out to ridicule and humiliate the grownups. They were in full revolt against authority.

In the farm areas robust teenagers took a particular joy in pushing over outhouses. In the cities they spilled garbage pails on front porches. They smashed store windows, cars, home windows. They painted or chalked defiant messages on the steps or sidewalks of "the old crunk" who seemed to dwell in every neighborhood.

It was foolish to open the door on Halloween without looking out the window first. Otherwise you might be doused with water or covered with whitewash, and stand there, dripping and angry, listening to catcalls of derision as the boys fled away in the darkness.

Gangs of delinquents would spend half an hour industriously scraping a hilly stretch of street tracks, hopefully expecting that the next trolley would slide down the slope to disaster.

It never happened. The motorman merely let some sand out of the sandbox, then rode safely down the soapy stretch, sometimes clanging his bell in victory. But he usually got his comeuppance on the trip back to the hill. A waiting boy would leap on back of the car and jerk the trolley off the wire. The frustrated motorman, shaking his fist in the night, had to dismount and get the trolley back before he could continue.

A COSTLY ANNOYANCE

The old-fashioned Halloween was a nuisance and an annoyance to most adults, a time of vandalism and often of expense, as some of the pranks were costly if not downright dangerous.

Halloween 2009—the Fourth of July—has been gentled into a safer and more harmless holiday. The little demons prefer to be bribed rather than play tricks.

There are those who feel this is because grownups over the years have wisely learned to channel the excess of juvenile spirits into less harmful forms of fun. This might be giving grownups credit for more wisdom than they deserved.

Possibly a better explanation: Why should children rebel any longer on Halloween—since the little demons already have the adult world under their thumb the rest of the year anyway?

What About Things Named for Stalin?

BERLIN (AP)—The Stalin legend was destroyed Monday in Moscow, but his bronze statue still stands tall on East Berlin's Stalin-alley.

That broad street, once known as Frankfurterallee, was renamed for the Soviet dictator in 1948. It became the show street of the Soviet sector, with long rows of apartment houses in the Russian style.

NOTHING BEING DONE

Today the tiles are falling off the facades, and a lot of repair work is long overdue. The buildings are impressive, though weather-stained and drab. A check this morning showed that nothing was being done immediately about the street or the statue.

Nothing much was done either, during the previous downgradings of Stalin.

The East German Communists continued to build their iron and steel city, and call it Stalinstadt.

DIFFERENT ELSEWHERE

It was different in some of the other Soviet satellites. At the start of the Hungarian revolt of 1956, angry young people pulled down Stalin's huge statue and cut it to pieces. The nearby avenue named for him was renamed "The Street of Hungarian Youth." That too has been changed, but Stalin's name has not returned. Hungary's steel town, Stalinvaros, still keeps its name but the plant is now called the Danube Iron works.

In Bulgaria, the big seaside town called Stalin beach Varna once again after the first downgrading of the dictator.

But throughout the Soviet bloc there are hundreds of towns, plants, streets, squares and pieces of scenery named after Stalin—beginning with Stalingrad, Stalinabad, Stalin and Stalingorsk in the Soviet Union itself.

President Assures Girl Santa's OK

MARINE CITY (AP)—An 8-year-old Marine City girl had presidential assurance Monday that Santa Claus is not suffering from the effects of atmospheric nuclear tests by the Russians.

Michelle Rochon, a school girl in this southeastern Michigan community, wrote to President Kennedy last week. Michelle expressed concern for the safety of Santa Claus since Russian nuclear tests were close to the North Pole.

Monday, Michelle said she received an answer from President Kennedy.

The President's letter read: "Dear Michelle, I was glad to get your letter about trying to stop the Russians from bombing the North Pole and risking the life of Santa Claus."

I share your concern about the atmospheric testing by the Soviet Union, not only for the North Pole but for countries throughout the world; not only for Santa Claus, but for people throughout the world.

However, you must not worry about Santa Claus. I talked with him yesterday and he is fine. He will be making his rounds this Christmas.

Sincerely, John F. Kennedy.

Michelle told newsmen she was happy to get the President's letter and felt better about Santa Claus.

Mayor Gives Lowdown on Keys to the City

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Kenneth Oka handed out a batch of keys to the city and police courtesy cards—and gave the lowdown on both.

Welcoming the Air Traffic Control Association to its convention Monday the mayor said: "All the time I've been mayor, I've never found a door the key would open—not even the men's wash room."

"And the police courtesy cards—they just mean that while here you should be courteous to our police."

"He looks like a 3-month-old baby," enthused Mrs. Crosby from her hospital bed.

Proud papa Bing was handing out cigars in London, where he is making a movie with Bob Hope.

Favorite Cliches Fail Under Pressure of Scientific Tests

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — When traffic crawls "at a snail's pace," how fast is it going?

Is anything as "quick as a wink" or as "fast as lightning"?

A thick fog is said to be as "thick as pea soup." But how thick is pea soup?

In the interest of science, United Press International decided to investigate. The Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (OMSI) cooperated and these and other metaphorical comparisons were put to the test.

If traffic crawled at "a snail's pace" you might still be on the way home from work last month. A snail's pace is about .001 miles per hour — or two inches per minute. That's one mile in 22 days.

The National Geographic Society put a snail on a treadmill and measured his progress. They had a slowpoke. He only went one-half inch in a minute.

A SNAIL'S PACE VARIES

In Portland, an aquatic gastropod snatched from the depths of a guppy bowl was clocked on a wet table by the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry. He whizzed by at two inches per minute.

The curator of the museum, Mrs. Meta Roar, was the time keeper.

She dropped the snail into the museum's aquarium and went to work on a few other loose colloquialisms.

Is some object "as fast as the eye can see" or only "a stone's throw"?

Nothing on earth is as far as the eye can see. A scientific method of determining eyesight — good or bad — is whether a person can see the Nebula Andromeda in the night sky. With perfect vision you can pick it out. It is 1½ million light years away — or $ trillion miles.

How about a stone's throw? Depends on who is throwing, of course. But a stone in a British measurement equaled 14 pounds. How far can you throw a bowling ball?

WINK IS PRETTY QUICK

What is as "quick as a wink"? Again, it depends on who is winking. Or on who is being winked at. But a Webster's Dictionary defines a wink and a blink as the same. And let's not forget "a twinkling of an eye."

Mrs. Roar says about 1/50 of a second, measured photographically. The casual flutter of an eye at the right time, however, could last as long as necessary to get the message across.

Even in the age of Sputnik, nothing is "as fast as lightning" except lightning. It is given as the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second. And contrary to popular opinion, lightning does strike twice in the same place. After the first strike, it's seldom necessary, but it does happen.

FOG CAN NEVER GET THAT THICK

Fog does get thick at times, but not "as thick as pea soup." Pea soup is 4 thicker than water. Mrs. Roar prepared a can of soup in same way it would be prepared for a meal. It was then weighed against an equal amount of water which has a specific gravity of one. Pea soup, it was found, has a specific gravity of 1.4.

While those metaphors fell apart under investigation, others stood the test.

"Hard as nails"? Pretty hard. The Oregon State Department of Geology says a 16-penny nail can hold up a 2,000 pounds per square inch.

SILK IS SMOOTH

"Smooth as silk" is very smooth. A microscopic X-ray showed silk is so smooth its molecules are arranged in units of 3.5 angstroms and seven angstroms apart. An "angstrom" is only one 10-millionth of a millimeter.

Will a "rotten apple spoil a barrel"?

No, unless the healthy apples have broken skins where bacteria can enter.

"As good as gold" is a saying now out of fashion with military dependents overseas. But it's still pretty good — $35 an ounce.

Some old expressions defy investigation. Presumably there have been cold days in July, somewhere.

And if you wait until the nether regions freeze over, you will need patience. It couldn't happen in "a month of Sundays."

Red Ships Leaving Site of Soviet Tests

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said a convoy of 10 transport ships and ice breakers was leaving today in the Kara Sea to leave arctic waters via the straits of Novaya Zemlya—the island site of the Soviet Union's recent series of nuclear weapon tests.

The broadcast seemed to hint that the series either had ended as expected with the blast recorded Monday, or was about to end.

Gives Population Report

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An official population of 201,487 was announced Monday for Grand Rapids by Richard M. Scammon, director of the Federal Bureau of the Census in Washington.

Total population of the Western Hemisphere is estimated at 339 million.

ANTENNA APPROACH — Sphere on top of hill in Tyngsboro, Mass., is the world's largest radome. It'll house a highly sensitive Air Force antenna to be used in satellite communications. Facility is to be in operation by end of 1962.

Who's B. D. Angry at Now? Certainly Not the Box Office

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Halloo there is perhaps an appropriate time to let another meeting of the Let's Try to Understand Bob by Darin Club.

The secretary is sorry to report a number of withdrawals from the club. It seems they could not find a satisfactory reason why they should try to understand B. D.

Their point is well taken, but the fact is that Darin has already made four starring movies and in all likelihood will make more. He continues strong in the record field and elsewhere. Try as we may, we cannot ignore him.

To further club research, I made another field trip to see Darin. He was parked outside the "State Fair" get in his brand-new $10,000 trailer, complete with refrigerator, stereo, game table with chess set, etc.

Darin was resting on the couch, listening to "Swan Lake" on the earphones. "What are you angry about today?" I asked.

"I'm only angry because you asked me what I was angry about," he replied.

ANGRY AT MAGS

But upon further questioning it was apparent that he was angry at fan magazines, certain article writers and any who inquire or write about his marriage to Sandra Dee.

"The number of reporters I will talk to gets smaller and smaller all the time," he commented.

"When I see some of the personalities in this town—I won't mention names—who disrupt their homes and families for the sake of personal publicity, it makes me physically ill."

I asked Darin about his near suspension when he failed to show up for work one day last week.

WOULD BE FOOLISH!

"The studio would be very foolish to do that, because then I might decide to take the week off," he said. "They know I had a valid excuse for being absent. A box fell on my finger and it was three-quarters amputated."

Well that's it for this meeting. We may hold another one sometime—if we can get a quorum. If not, we may break up into a group discussion of "After Fabian, What."

Study Hopes to Aid Disfigured Persons

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A study under way at the Duke University Medical Center is aimed at helping persons disfigured by injury or disease.

The purpose of the project is to produce better artificial noses, ears and other parts of the face.

Prof. Elton H. Clark, head of the Duke Medical Art Department said, "The replacement of a missing part of the face with a life-like restoration often enables the patient to overcome the feeling that he could never face his friends again or return to his job."

Ordered to Pay $200 for Assault on Man

Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland today ordered Donald D. Martell to pay $200 in fines and costs, or spend 90 days in the county jail, for aggravated assault upon a Waterford Township man March 30.

Martell, 35, of 571 Desota Place, was found guilty Oct. 10 by a Circuit Court jury of biting off part of Grant H. Sutton's left ear during a scuffle outside the Public Safety Building. Both men had been involved in a traffic accident, police said.

Gets 90 Days in Jail on Attack Charge

Ninety days in the Oakland County Jail was the sentence imposed today on James Whitfield Jr., convicted by a jury of attacking a Detroit man in Royal Oak Township following an argument over the repair of a radio.

Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland sentenced Whitfield, 28, of 2834 Parkside St., Royal Oak Township, for his attack on David Johnson, 38, in June. Johnson required 38 stitches in close a neck wound caused by a wine bottle.

May Lose Police Force, Firemen to the Military

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—It has been a policy of Greensboro city fathers to encourage their personnel to engage in military reserve programs. Now, City Manager Hugh Hines learned Monday, Greensboro faces the "serious" problem of having 77 per cent of its police force and 77 per cent of its firemen eligible for military service.

Reports Effort to Bribe Jury

U.S. Judge Tells Panel in 'Freedom Rider' Case of Intimidation Try

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms today told jurors scheduled to hear the "Freedom rider" bus-burning trial of eight men that he had been reliably informed of jury tampering efforts.

He directed U.S. Dist. Atty. Macon Weaver to prepare contempt citations.

He also asked any juror who had been contacted to talk to him during a recess.

CONFIRMS REPORT

The judge did not say specifically that the bus-burning case was involved but a source close to the court confirmed it.

The judge made his statement shortly before the trial of the eight men in the mob burning of a bus—the first outburst of rider violence in Alabama—was scheduled to get under way.

"I've been reliably informed that members of the jury have been systematically contacted about a case before this court," he told the jurors.

"This court will not tolerate any intimidation of jurors."

Airports to Receive New Radar Systems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willow Run and Detroit City airports are going to get additional radar Bright Display Systems. They will provide better presentation of radar information to air traffic controllers.

The Bright Display System is an improvement on the ordinary radar scope. The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is making the system available through expansion of contract for private manufacture.

Firebug Leaves Trail Across San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A firebug, described by one witness as a simply-faced, giggling 6-footer, left a fiery trail through downtown San Francisco Monday night and early today.

Police and fire officials pressed a search for the arsonist who after setting fires in nine leading hotels, moved into another downtown district and set several more fires in trash piles.

Most of the blazes were extinguished before they did any serious damage. Fire Chief William Murray said. But a fire on the 14th floor of the Flamingo Hotel, started in a linen closet, did an estimated $10,000 damage.

The rash of fires, Murray said, were all set by the same person.

Auto Dealers Have Problems

Many Unable to Adjust Inventories to Buying Habits of Consumers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK.—Illness and its prevention—grows more costly. Individuals don't have to be told this. And business is finding it more expensive, too. Both the medical and the insurance industries are aware of the rise in medical and hospital costs in recent years.

More firms are offering employee medical services. This grows both more extensive and more expensive. Companies also are increasingly involved in meeting all or part of their employees' health insurance costs.

Wall Street Chatter

Considered speculative in light of the questionable tax status as well as potential competition from non-equity financing.

John H. Lewis & Co. notes that the intermediate motion of the market has moved into new low ground, reflecting the currently pessimistic background. It says its velocity indicates point to a further extension of the intermediate correction to the 600-650 level in Dow-Jones Industrial.

The Wiesenberg Investment Report says an erratic, speculative market may be seen for a further period, such as the Bull's Special with a V6 engine and the new compact Chevy II.

Manufacturers are reluctant to rush into high volume production with totally new engines or cars, hoping to make certain in advance that all bugs have been removed.

Ford just now is building up speed on its Fairlane which goes on sale Nov. 16. Total production of these cars through last Saturday was only 2,606 units. The Chevy II total now is 22,538, not quite equal to four each for every Chevrolet dealer.

Holdings, however, must be considered as reactions.

At this time, the Hamilton Institute suggests moderate corrections, particularly in defensive issues on reactions.

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis says stocks representative of the savings and loan industry should be considered as attractive commitments for long-term capital gains.

Holdings, however, must be considered as reactions.

Low-Cost 'Brains' Bring Burroughs Flood of Orders

NEW YORK (UPI)—Burroughs Corp. of Detroit says its new series of low-cost computers has received strong initial acceptance.

Ken T. Bennett, managing vice president, said Burroughs has accepted contracts in excess of $20 million for the series, called B200, since its announcement one month ago.

The series, made up of four different systems leasing at a cost of from $3,750 to $13,300 a month, is aimed at the mass market.

Bennett said the first of the B200 computers is being delivered now and that other systems are scheduled for installation at the rate of one every fourth working day through 1962.

Robert A. Lovett, executive committee chairman of Union Pacific Railroad, said his firm would rather use WP remain independent than be under control of Santa Fe. UP is supporting Southern Pacific's efforts to take over WP's parallel and competing lines.

J. R. MacCallum, UP traffic vice president, presented figures on mileage and revenue which he said supported the contention that the Santa Fe would not divert freight from the Utah gateway to its own route through the Arizona Gateway.

R. K. Bradford, traffic vice president of the Denver and Rio Grande Western, said his firm preferred to stay independent of Santa Fe and Pacific but decided to support Southern Pacific because of its "selfish interest."

He said D and RGW does not consider the SP a competitor because the latter is in California and East, but does consider the Santa Fe to be a competitor.

Lovett, who appeared with the other witnesses for cross examination, said that the Santa Fe would divert freight from the Utah gateway to its own route through the Arizona Gateway.

Stock Buyers Are Selective

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective demand produced a spotty stock market advance in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 at 258.30 with industrials up .60, rails up .40 and utilities up .10. Gains of fractions to a point or more were seen in many issues.

The market was held from the start and held its gains fairly well.

Steels continued by the halting of a three-week decline in steel production, demand limited. Tobacco, drugs and most chemicals advanced.

Nonferrous metals drifted off. Oil was mixed. Aircraft-motors moved up on balance. Electronics presented an uneven pattern.

Third quarter earnings reports with a year ago, for the most part, and predictions were that the upturn in profits would continue.

U. S. Steel, which reports on third quarter results after the market close, moved ahead fractionally after some initial hesitation. Fractional gains were made also by Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

Chrysler, up more than a point, seemed buoyed by hopes of a labor settlement. General Motors was off slightly while Ford held firm.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Locke Steel Chain rose about 2 and Associated Text Laboratories more than a point. Losses were taken by Peruvian Oil & Minerals, Webb & Knapp, Colonial Corp. and Russell Fifth Avenue. Gainers included Dome Petroleum, Anacon Lead, Starrett and Nomis. Leading was moderately active.

Bonds Mostly Unchanged

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were mostly unchanged at the start of trading today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities said trading was extremely quiet with no changes from Monday's close.

Bid prices were marked up slightly in line with the lower yields in Monday's weekly auction of new bills by the treasury.

At the same time one large sales finance company which sells its notes directly to investors dropped the rates on most of the shorter maturities by 1/8 of 1 percent.

Commercial paper competes with treasury bills for short term investment funds.

Industrials showed a slight up-side bias in early dealings on the New York Stock Exchange. Rails and utilities were no better than mixed. There were comparatively few changes.

Grain Futures Sales Improving Slightly

CHICAGO (UPI)—Buying support improved slightly today but failed to halt declines in grain futures and prices on the board of trade were mostly easier during the first several minutes.

Setbacks were limited to minimum fractions on many deliveries. Dealers said the demand appeared to include a fair volume of short covering attracted by the rather sharp declines of Monday.

Further spot loss selling occurred for a good deal of the initial pressure.

Export business overnight was understood to have been light or absent for most commodities. However West Germany bought an additional 600,000 bushels of rye.

Says Psychologist Misunderstood

'Moral Laxity Not Freud's Doing'

NEW YORK (UPI) — In a sex education lecture aimed at physicians by a physician-scientist, the point was made that Sigmund Freud is in no way to blame for the "current laxity in sex morals" and the many people who so blame him are doing him "a great injustice."

The fact is, said Prof. Max Levin of the New York Medical College, Freud in his personal life upheld the "old-fashioned" morality. He was an excellent husband, the father of six children and "lived a blameless personal life."

The reason why this "great injustice" is imposed by so many people upon a founder of modern psychiatry and psychology, science, is "almost laughable," confessed Dr. Levin. These many people don't know the difference between repression and suppression.

"When Freud revealed the unfortunate consequences that may follow the repression of sex impulses, many people gleefully jumped to the conclusion that he was referring to the suppression of sex desire."

RECOMMENDS SUPPRESSION
As a neurologist as well as a psychiatrist, he found nothing harmful in suppression of sex desire. Indeed, he recommended it in certain specific circumstances.

One involved a young woman whose sister kept telling her she was not living "in the days of Queen Victoria and today the watchword is 'sex without guilt.'" Furthermore, she was afraid if she maintained her "old-fashioned" morality much longer her college classmates would consider her a square.

"But you ask her one little question that opens her eyes," Dr. Levin said. "The question is this: 'Your boy-friend says he loves you, but what do you think? Does he really love you or himself?'"

He was lecturing physicians because they are often called upon to give advice concerning sex and sex morality. He did so in the technical journal, "Current Medical Digest" of which he is the psychiatric adviser.

His theme was that "anyone who thinks it's time to discard the 'old-fashioned' standards" should pause and give the whole complex subject of sex deeper thought. And the person who thinks so has completely misunderstood Freud if he believes Freud "condoned sexual license."

Daughter of Actress
Weds for Second Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Katherine Thalberg, 26, daughter of actress Norma Shearer and the late movie producer Irving C. Thalberg, was married Monday for the second time.

Her second husband is actor Richard N. Anderson, 35. It was also his second marriage: Judge Harman A. Van Der Zee performed the ceremony in city hall. Mrs. Anderson is a television writer. Anderson is the district attorney in the television series, "Bus Stop."

He recalled the furor which the idea of "companionate marriage" caused 40 years ago, and rejected it along with any other variant of a "trial" arrangement before marriage. None of these violations of "old-fashioned" sex is "the answer to the uncertainties of life."

"Marriage is a gamble," he said. "It is inevitable that some marriages will end in disaster. But a young woman's chances are best if she waits for the man who feels and believes his life would be empty and flat without her, and who has enough respect for her and faith in the future to publish his love without evasion before he asks her to become his woman."

Mrs. Benedict, 77,
Was Heart Victim

NEW YORK (AP)—An autopsy has shown that heart disease caused the death of Katherine Godkes Benedict, 77, millionaire grandmother of runaway heiress Gamble Benedict Foramsu.

An assistant medical examiner performed the autopsy Monday. Mrs. Benedict was found dead in her mansion Sunday night.

Her death will not end suits involving her estate estimated up to $50 million. She was the widow of Henry Harper Benedict, former president of the Remington Typewriter Co.

The original Mayflower was only about 100 feet long.

MELBOURNE, Australia, (AP)—Hundreds of counterfeit U. S. $100 bills also have been passed in Melbourne banks recently.

Melbourne and Sydney in the last three months, National Bank officials said Monday. Fake $50 and $100 bills also have been passed in Melbourne banks recently.

The farm population of the U.S. has decreased by about 10 per cent since 1922, but total farm production has increased 45 per cent.

Detroit likes action...and Buick's got it!

Lion with a kitten's appetite . . . Here is one lion that never calls for "seconds"—the Buick Special with Fireball Aluminum V8 engine. It subsists on the daintiest helping of regular gas. (Topped its class in the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run.) But the performance is another story altogether. Call for action and you'll get it—and fast! How can this V8 that's so stingy on gas shoot the works on performance? The answer: lightweight aluminum that cuts down on gas consumption by cutting down on weight—not performance. Why not investigate?

Witching Hours Near

HALLOWE'EN

By Frances Gorman Riser

The harvest moon so golden
Looks down from midnight skies;
His big round face is smiling,
A twinkle in his eyes.

For there below in gardens
And fields, both far and near,
What look like little moonlets,
All grinning, upward peer.

"Hello!" the moon calls, beaming,
And all the pumpkins cry,
"Hello, Grandfather Pumpkin,
Away up in the sky!"

Fear Disaster as Hattie Slams Into British Honduras Capital

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hattie crashed with 150-mile-an-hour fury into Belize today and Miami Weather Bureau forecasters said the capital of British Honduras may be suffering a disaster.

A 15-foot tide running ahead of the huge storm probably swept the city of 65,000 population, the bureau reported.

"There could be a disaster there," said forecaster Gilbert Clark. "This hurricane is big enough to do it."

"Belize probably got the worst tides and the highest winds," The capital lies almost at sea level. A storm tide striking the coast would meet no resistance except from a sea wall which forecasters said would be inadequate. The shoreline is barren and swampy.

Residents of Belize fled from their wooden homes to public shelters Monday night. Power failed at 4 a.m. as first gales hit.

The hurricane, with winds reaching as high as 200 miles an hour in gusts, probably will spread flood waters throughout Guatemala and the Yucatan Peninsula before breaking up against interior mountain ranges, Clark said.

Chetumal, capital of Quintana Roo on the Yucatan Peninsula, was within the range of hurricane-force winds and raging tides.

The Mexican navy closed all ports on the peninsula, from Progreso on the west side around to Chetumal on the east.

The Waterford Township Board last night established a planning department at a cost of $18,700 when the 1962 budget was approved.

A planner-director will be hired at an annual salary of $8,000 and an assistant for $5,000. The balance will be used for clerical help, office supplies and administration.

The 1962 budget, which goes into effect Jan. 1, showed an operating balance of $16,676, with an estimated $301,363 to be received, and $377,774 disbursed.

There was practically no increase over last year's budget, and no provision made for increased salaries or personnel.

The board also approved an interim budget of $115,420 in receipts and $162,659 to be disbursed from Sept. 12 through Dec. 31.

This budget was necessary because of a governmental change from standard to charter township approved by voters Sept. 12. The fiscal year formerly began April 1. It now begins Jan. 1.

Besides public officials there were only six residents present at the public hearing for the budget presentation, and no one objected to the proposed budget.

The new form of government has abolished the century-old annual township meetings which gave residents the right to change the proposed budget if they so desired.

Britain's Army May Be Doubled

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II announced today in an aged old ceremony government defense plans that could double the size of the British Army to protect her realm in today's threatening times.

In her annual speech opening a new session of Parliament, the smiling queen said in a speech written by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government that several army manpower measures were planned.

About 50,000 national servicemen and 140,000 reservists will be affected. The present size of the British Army is about 165,000 officers and men, war office spokesmen said.

The queen pledged that Britain will do its utmost to achieve world disarmament despite the Soviet Union's "menace to the peace of the world."

She said the government also will continue to negotiate for a Berlin settlement "which will preserve the security and freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Elizabeth said the government would introduce legislation permitting the retention of draftees beyond their normal period of service, and the calling up of reservists if the international situation required such bolstering of the armed forces.

The British build-up appeared similar to the U.S. increase in army manpower recently.

The queen also said in her "gracious" speech the whole army reserve organization would be reviewed.

Women Report Victory for UF

Division Goes Over Top in Record Time With $27,045 or 100.2 Pct.

The quota for this year's Pontiac Area United Fund drive swept past the half-way mark today as the women celebrated their victory in reaching their $27,000 goal in record time.

"It was a most remarkable achievement," declared Thomas F. Wiethorn, general campaign chairman, at this noon's victory luncheon attended by more than 300 UF women volunteers.

Mrs. Walter Nofsinger, chairman of the women's division, said, when the final reports were tallied up by 10 p.m. Monday, the totals showed that 1,209 women had accounted for $27,045 or 100.2 per cent of their goal.

At the same luncheon, held at the Elks Temple, Wiethorn said that with two weeks of the campaign gone, $36,354 or 31.8 per cent of the 1961 campaign goal of $114,300 had been collected or pledged.

Next year's license plates will go on sale tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Secretary of State's Branch Office in Pontiac.

The 1962 plates and tags can be purchased weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the office, 96 E. Huron St. Deadline for buying plates is Feb. 28.

It marks the fourth year in a row that the women workers have reached their goal within 10 days, he added.

Mrs. Nofsinger said the Pontiac workers raised $14,869 with a goal of $14,835; the Waterford Township group $9,407 with a goal of $9,395; and the Lake Angelus group met its mark of $2,768.

The drive began Oct. 17 and concludes Nov. 10. Monies raised go to 54 local, state and national agencies.

Sixty-five out of the 95 districts which make up the women's division equaled or surpassed their 1961 goals, Mrs. Nofsinger said.

District chairmen received miniature Indian statuettes for their successful efforts at today's luncheon.

Taking a cue from how hard the women worked toward meeting their goal, the women workers worked toward meeting their goal.

Fire Adlai for Failure in Cuba, Van Fleet Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Tampa Tribune quotes Gen. James A. Van Fleet as saying Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, should have been fired because of the Cuban invasion which fizzled.

The newspaper quoted Van Fleet as saying, "I would not like to read tomorrow that which I say tonight."

He was quoted as saying Berlin was lost when "they made the big mistake."

He was called out of retirement to supervise the training of army units in guerrilla warfare.

The Tribune said Van Fleet departed from his last in a talk on Florida's water resources before the Natural Resources and Waterways Committee in nearby Lakeland Monday night.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, was to report to Ft. Bragg, N. C., today.

Party Congress Cheers, Laughs at Boss' Joke

'Won't Punish Scientists for Exceeding Expected 50 Megatons'

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

MOSCOW — Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today Soviet scientists made a mistake Monday and exploded a nuclear bomb more powerful than 50 megatons.

Informed sources said Khrushchev told a cheering session of the 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress that the scientists had intended to set off only the 50-megaton blast he had predicted in an earlier speech to the Congress.

But Khrushchev said, according to the sources, that the explosion turned out to be bigger than the scientists figured.

Khrushchev joked about the "mistake," according to those who heard him speak in the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses.

"We shall not punish them (the scientists) for it," he said.

The crowd in the auditorium burst into applause and laughter.

The 22nd Soviet Communist Congress ended today by re-electing Khrushchev as first secretary of the party's all-powerful Central Committee and by endorsing his new party program designed to give Russia the world's highest living standard within 20 years.

Along with Khrushchev the congress also elected most of the present leadership to the same posts in a vote of confidence for them to run the country for the next four years.

(Scientists in Western Europe and Japan reported that the big explosion was 100 megatons.)

Cloudy with temperatures ranging from the low 40s to the mid-50s is the outlook for Thursday.

Westerly flowing winds at 10 miles per hour will diminish tonight and become west to southwest at 12 to 20 m.p.h. Wednesday.

Forty-four was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 53 at 1 p.m.

PUMPKIN HEADS ON FROWL — Any other night of the year you'd call police if these popped up on your porch, but tonight residents will open their doors to these startling little visitors. It's Halloween and you'd better watch out for the spooks—especially motorists. The trick-or-treaters will be out in force from 6-7 p.m. Residents are urged to indicate welcome by putting their porch lights on. Parties will be held for the children at many area schools. Here, Mrs. Robert Geve of 1212 Woodrow St., Waterford Township, sends her two pumpkin heads, Diane, 2, and Nancy, 8, on their way.

County Board to Decide on 327-Seat Auditorium

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked to decide whether it should acquire a new meeting place worth an estimated half-million dollars when members gather in Pontiac Nov. 7.

At that time a special committee headed by John B. Osgood, supervisor from Royal Oak, will present preliminary plans for a new auditorium adjacent to the county courthouse, for board approval.

Funding the way for the supervisors was approval of the board's Ways and Means Committee yesterday. This means that financing the structure would be certain.

A 430 square-foot, hexagonal auditorium with a 327 seating capacity is planned. It would be constructed 40 feet south of the new courthouse wing presently under construction.

PLANS PREPARED Preliminary plans have been prepared by the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, and the new auditorium at the County Service Center on Telegraph.

A corridor and a large committee room would connect the two buildings. The auditorium building would house additional, smaller committee rooms, clerical offices, press room, and public lobby.

In appearance the auditorium is designed to complement the $3.5-million courthouse dedicated earlier this year. Marble again will be used but not lavishly, said Osgood.

How far, bids on construction would probably amount to less than the present estimated cost, according to Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

If the Board of Supervisors approves these preliminary plans the architect will be retained to prepare final plans which should be complete about 90 days later.

Actual construction probably would start in the spring.

At present the Board of Supervisors and its committees meet in the former Masonic Temple at Oakland Avenue and Lafayette Street in Pontiac.

The building also houses several county offices. These are slated to move out to the County Service Center where there is ample room for expansion.

In other action yesterday, the Ways and Means Committee decided to seek the Board of Supervisors' approval of spending $10,000 for an architectural survey of the South Oakland County Health Center in Royal Oak.

BEST COURSE The survey, if approved, would determine the best course of action among three possibilities:

1. Add to the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

2. Tear the building down and construct a new, two-story building on the site.

3. Or sell the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

The need for additional facilities is deemed apparent at this time to catch up with an increasing population.

Reports from Elizabethtown, Capital of Katanga, said Katangan planes had gone into action to help a company of troops fighting about 500 central government invaders at Kizamba, a border town in the northern part of the province.

Make Indian Statue To Hear Report of Aid Request

COME, BIG CHIEF PASS 'EM GOAL — This is what Harry J. Woodman (right), chairman of the commercial division of the Pontiac Area United Fund, has on his mind as he admires the new four-foot Indian statue donated for this and future UP drives. It was carved and donated by Russell N. Marshall, of West Bloomfield Township, who is standing behind it. Sharron, labor staff representative for the UP organization, and Mrs. Walter Nofziger, chairman of the women's division.

Marshall, 48, of 4000 Crooks Ave., West Bloomfield Township, spent 18 months with a chisel, hatchet, plane and pocket knife carving the Indian out of a 14-by-12-by-48-inch piece of sugar pine.

"It will be our symbol for campaign this year and in the future," declared Karl W. Bradley, executive director of the UP.

It was copied, Marshall explained, after the little Indian statue of the local factory 10 years and the father of four boys and a baby girl, recognizes the benefit of UP dollars.

He is a neighborhood scout commissioner in the Ottawa District of the Boy Scouts, one of the 54 agencies helped by the annual drive.

A dozen U.S. Forest Service borate-bombing planes were at dawn today against a roaring brush fire which forced 350 homes to be vacated.

Five huge helicopters were to attempt faying about 10 miles of hose into the nearly inaccessible area.

Twenty-five homes were in immediate danger shortly before midnight but none was reported destroyed. Only one small shack was destroyed by the flames. Several homes were singed by flying sparks.

Two fire fighters suffered injuries battling the fire which broke out Monday afternoon from under-terminated causes.

The fire was the second major blaze in the Los Angeles area this year. It was located on rugged terrain, thick with brush.

Rescuers brought evacuees to safety down the winding, narrow old Mt. Wilson toll road.

Firemen have estimated it would take two or three days before the fire was controlled.

Gen. Van Fleet Says Should Oust Adlai

The Tribune account added: The general endorsed President Kennedy's stand to fight for the "principles" of Berlin but explained that the President did not say he would fight for the city.

"The West Germans and the French are the ones who have insisted on a strong stand on Berlin question, and West Germany is one of the biggest traders with the Red bloc nations," Van Fleet declared.

WILL NOT AID "Neither West Germany nor the French will fight with us in Berlin and I don't think we should fight for them."

He said Viet Nam has a strong national pride, "but a white face has no place in that country."

Van Fleet said Stevenson "should have been fired when he said he would not support the armed action by this country against Fidel Castro during the ill-fated Cuban invasion."

The general said this country sponsored the invasion and gave full Navy escort and air cover to the United States established Air Force Base.

O'Hara said the Air Force will take steps within 30 days to acquire 12 additional tractors of land used to go through with plans to give direct support to the landing force.

Vopos Routed With Tear Gas

West Berlin's Police Send East to Cover in Border Feuds

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin police routed Communist police who tried to enter the city's survival plan.

The state CD offices approved the plan earlier this month.

Commissioners also accepted the recommendation of City Manager L. R. Gave that state representatives and county officials be asked to exempt legislation that would grant radiation fallout shelters exempt from taxes.

Letters requesting their aid will be mailed shortly, Gave said.

City Attorney Clark Baggett had reported to the commission that state tax laws do not permit him to exempt this type of construction from taxation.

Commissioners, however, believe that since the shelters are part of the civil defense program, some form of legislation should be adopted that would exempt shelter construction from assessments.

The commission also directed the city manager to investigate the cost of a fallout shelter for municipal employees and submit a report on its feasibility.

The Western policemen threw 10 tear-gas grenades over the wall dividing the railway tunnel and routed the Communist police, according to West Berlin police.

Measlinville, the United States will tell the City Commission to Russia for continued American access to East Berlin.

The U.S. statement was handed by Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov in Moscow Sunday. Its details were not revealed.

However, informed sources said the memorandum repeated the U.S. position that Russia cannot delegate to East Germany the responsibility for maintaining free access to the Soviet sector of Berlin.

Dr. Gadhav, a 1943 graduate of Syracuse University, is on the staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, and St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

He will discuss socialized medicine, proposed legislation for medical care for the aged, new fields of medicine open by atomic energy developments and survival after an atomic blast.

Birmingham Temple 94 of the Pythian Sisters will observe "roll call night" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Birmingham Community House.

Mrs. John H. Zich Service for Mrs. John H. Janet L. Zich, 47, of 6100 Indian Trail, Bloomfield Township, will be 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be Friday in La Porte, Ind.

Mrs. Zich died today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following an illness of six months. An area resident seven years.

Mrs. Zich, a member of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, was president of the United Lutheran Church Women of Michigan and board member of the Social Mission of the Michigan Synod.

Five U.N. Jets Patrol in Congo

Aim to Deter Katanga Planes From Attacking Government Forces

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U.N. Command said today five Swedish jets are patrolling the Katanga frontier to deter Katanga planes from attacking forces of the central Congo government.

The announcement by a U.N. spokesman did not make clear, however, whether U.N. forces would take any action against central government troops which the Katanga government claims have invaded the secessionist province.

Premier Cyrille Adoula announced a virtual declaration of war against Katanga Monday. The premier said Leopoldville government troops had launched a "police action" to liquidate Katanga's secession.

Reports from Elisabethville, Capital of Katanga, said Katangan planes had gone into action to help a company of troops fighting about 500 central government invaders at Kizamba, a border town in the northern part of the province.

1. Add to the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

2. Tear the building down and construct a new, two-story building on the site.

3. Or sell the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

The need for additional facilities is deemed apparent at this time to catch up with an increasing population.

Reports from Elizabethtown, Capital of Katanga, said Katangan planes had gone into action to help a company of troops fighting about 500 central government invaders at Kizamba, a border town in the northern part of the province.

At that time a special committee headed by John B. Osgood, supervisor from Royal Oak, will present preliminary plans for a new auditorium adjacent to the county courthouse, for board approval.

Funding the way for the supervisors was approval of the board's Ways and Means Committee yesterday. This means that financing the structure would be certain.

A 430 square-foot, hexagonal auditorium with a 327 seating capacity is planned. It would be constructed 40 feet south of the new courthouse wing presently under construction.

PLANS PREPARED Preliminary plans have been prepared by the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, and the new auditorium at the County Service Center on Telegraph.

A corridor and a large committee room would connect the two buildings. The auditorium building would house additional, smaller committee rooms, clerical offices, press room, and public lobby.

In appearance the auditorium is designed to complement the $3.5-million courthouse dedicated earlier this year. Marble again will be used but not lavishly, said Osgood.

How far, bids on construction would probably amount to less than the present estimated cost, according to Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

If the Board of Supervisors approves these preliminary plans the architect will be retained to prepare final plans which should be complete about 90 days later.

Actual construction probably would start in the spring.

At present the Board of Supervisors and its committees meet in the former Masonic Temple at Oakland Avenue and Lafayette Street in Pontiac.

The building also houses several county offices. These are slated to move out to the County Service Center where there is ample room for expansion.

In other action yesterday, the Ways and Means Committee decided to seek the Board of Supervisors' approval of spending $10,000 for an architectural survey of the South Oakland County Health Center in Royal Oak.

BEST COURSE The survey, if approved, would determine the best course of action among three possibilities:

1. Add to the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

2. Tear the building down and construct a new, two-story building on the site.

3. Or sell the present building and relocate the center in nearby area where there is more room for even further expansion as the need arises.

Favorite Cliches Fail Under Pressure of Scientific Tests

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — When traffic crawls "at a snail's pace," how fast is it going?

Is anything as "quick as a wink" or as "fast as lightning"?

A thick fog is said to be as "thick as pea soup." But how thick is pea soup?

In the interest of science, United Press International decided to investigate. The Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (OMSI) cooperated and these and other metaphorical comparisons were put to the test.

If traffic crawled at "a snail's pace" you might still be on the way home from work last month. A snail's pace is about .001 miles per hour — or two inches per minute. That's one mile in 22 days.

The National Geographic Society put a snail on a treadmill and measured his progress. They had a slow pace. He only went one-half inch in a minute.

A SNAIL'S PACE VARIES

In Portland, an aquatic gastropod snatched from the depths of a guppy bowl was clocked on a wet table by the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry. He whizzed by at two inches per minute.

The curator of the museum, Mrs. Meta Roar, was the time keeper.

She dropped the snail into the museum's aquarium and went to work on a few other loose colloquialisms.

Is some object "as far as the eye can see" or only "a stone's throw"?

Nothing on earth is as far as the eye can see. A scientific method of determining eyesight — good or bad — is whether a person can see the Nebula Andromeda in the night sky. With perfect vision you can pick it out. It is 1½ million light years away — or 6 trillion miles.

How about a stone's throw? Depends on who is throwing, of course. But a stone in a British measurement equals 14 pounds. How far can you throw a bowling ball?

WINK IS PRETTY QUICK

What is as "quick as a wink? Again, it depends on who is winking. Or on who is being winked at. But Webster's Dictionary defines a wink and a blink as the same. And let's not forget "a twinkling of an eye."

Mrs. Roar says about 1/50 of a second, measured photographically. The casual flutter of an eye at the right time, however, could last as long as necessary to get the message across.

Even in the age of Sputnik, nothing is "as fast as lightning" except lightning. It is, given as the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second. And contrary to popular opinion, lightning does strike twice in the same place. After the first strike, it's seldom necessary, but it does happen.

FOG CAN NEVER GET THAT THICK

Fog does get thick at times, but not "as thick as pea soup." Pea soup is a thicker than water. Mrs. Roar prepared a can of soup in same way it would be prepared for a meal. It was then weighed against an equal amount of water which has a specific gravity of 1.0.

Pea soup, it was found, has a specific gravity of 1.4. While those metaphors fell apart under investigation, others stood the test.

"Hard as nails" is pretty hard. The Oregon State Department of Geology says a 15-penny nail can hold up a 2,000 pounds per square inch.

SILK IS SMOOTH

"Smooth as silk" is very smooth. A microscopic X-ray showed silk is so smooth its molecules are arranged in units of 3.5 angstroms and seven angstroms apart. An "angstrom" is only one 10-millionth of a millimeter.

Will a "rotten apple spoil a barrel?"

No, unless the healthy apples have broken skins where bacteria can enter.

"As good as gold," is a saying now out of fashion with military dependents overseas. But it's still pretty good — $35 an ounce.

Some old expressions defy investigation. Presumably there have been cold days in July, somewhere.

And if you wait until the nether regions freeze over, you will need patience. It couldn't happen in "a month of Sundays."

Jamaica to Get Baseball Team for First Time

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI) — Baseball is something from another world in this land of cricket and soccer, but now Jamaica is going to have a baseball team.

The team will be organized by Herb McKenley, former University of Illinois athlete, so Jamaica will be represented when the island plays host in July and August next year to the Central American Games.

McKenley, who has been Supervisor of Athletics in the Ministry of Housing and Social Welfare for the past seven years, hopes to get most of his talent from Jamaica's cricket players. Many of these, he points out, have acquired batting and fielding skills which are applicable to baseball.

Total population of the Western Hemisphere is estimated at 230 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willow Run and Detroit City airports are going to get additional radar Bright Display Systems. They will provide better presentation of radar information to air traffic controllers.

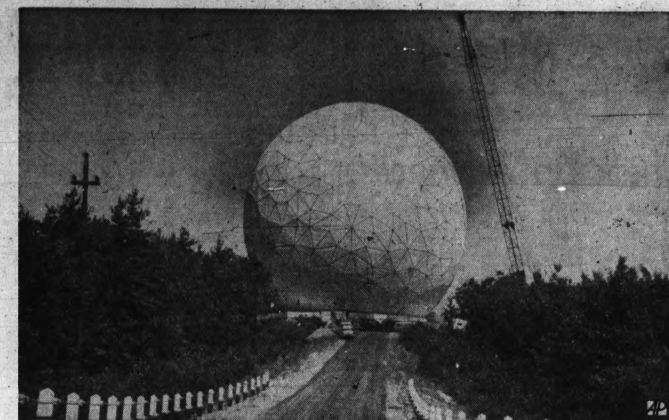

The Bright Display System is an improvement on the ordinary radar scope. The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is making the system available through expansion of a contract for private manufacture.

Who's B. D. Angry at Now? Certainly Not the Box Office to University

BY BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Halo-

ween is perhaps an appropriate time to call another meeting of the Let's Try to Understand Bobby Darin Club.

The secretary is sorry to report a number of withdrawals from the club. It seems they could not find a satisfactory reason why they should try to understand B. D.

Their point is well taken, but the fact is that Darin has already made four starring movies and in all likelihood will make more. He continues strong in the record field and elsewhere. Try as we may, we cannot ignore him.

To further club research, I made another field trip to see Darin. He was parked outside the "State Fair" set in his brand-new $10,000 trailer, complete with refrigerator, stereo, game table with chess set, etc.

Darin was resting on the couch, listening to "Swan Lake" on the carphones. "What are you angry about today?" I asked.

"I'm only angry because you asked me what I was angry about," he replied.

ANGRY AT MACHS

But upon further questioning it was apparent that he was angry at fan magazines, certain actors' friends and any who inquire job."

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A study under way at the Duke University Medical Center is aimed at helping persons disfigured by injury or disease.

The purpose of the project is to produce better artificial noses, ears and other parts of the face.

Prof. Elton H. Clark, head of the Duke Medical Art Department said: "The replacement of a missing part of the face with a like-like restoration often enables the patient to overcome the feeling that he could never face his friends again or return to his job."

Some 17,000 workers went on strike over the weekend at Caterpillar's plants — three in the Peoria area, and one each in Decatur and Aurora, Ill., Davenport, Iowa, and York, Pa. Picket lines were set up. There have been no reports of violence.

A settlement at Peoria usually is the basis of contract agreements at other Caterpillar plants.

May Lose Police Force, Firemen to the Military

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — It has been a policy of Greensboro city fathers to encourage their personnel to engage in military reserve programs. Now, City Manager Hugh Hines learned Monday, Greensboro faces the "serious" problem of having 27 per cent of its police force and 17 per cent of its firemen eligible for military service.

"The number of reporters I will talk to gets smaller and smaller all the time," he commented.

"When I see some of the personalities in this town—I won't mention names—who disrupt their homes and families for the sake of personal publicity, it makes me physically ill."

"I owe nothing to anybody, except the person who plunks down his dough at the box office or pays to see me in a night club. When the time comes that they person isn't pleased with what he bought, then I'm in trouble. But not before."

I asked Darin about his new suspension when he failed to show up for work one day last week.

"WOULD BE FOOLISH"

"The studio would be very foolish to do that, because then I might decide to take the week off," he said.

"They knew I had a valid excuse for being absent. A box full on my finger and it was three-quarters amputated."

Well that's it for this meeting. We may hold another one some time—if we can get a quorum. If not, we may break up into a group discussion of "After Fabian, What?"

Minnesota Removing Vines as Big Cause of Rot in Buildings

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Most of the traditional ivy on buildings of the University of Minnesota here is being removed.

The disappearance of the ivy is not meant as an attack on tradition or beauty itself, according to Joe Leverone, director of Plant Services.

"It's highly detrimental to masonry," he said. "Ivy traps moisture and rots wooden frames around windows."

Leverone explained that campus ivy has long been a problem and that it requires costly upkeep in trimming and replanting. The heavy vines must be replaced when the trunks become three or four inches thick.

Without constant trimming, he said, it would soon cover windows of classrooms and offices, obstructing the sunlight.

The University will keep some ivy on certain buildings and retaining walls for aesthetic reasons. Two windowless walls of a new mines and metallurgy building will get fresh ivy in spite of the drawbacks.

"We'll keep it under close control," Leverone said.

Giant Tree Crusher Clears Land Rapidly

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Naval Aviation Facilities Experimental Center here was faced with quite a problem — how to clear its grounds of trees while keeping the roots for drainage and anti-erosion purposes.

To solve the problem, a huge tree-crushing machine was brought from Texas. It took eight railroad cars to carry the 165-ton machine and six days to assemble it.

As it moves along at 10 miles per hour, its steel teeth maul on 40-ton rollers clear through all sizes of trees, clearing as much as 35 to 40 acres in a day.

And in case the machine gets bogged down in a swamp, a converted Sherman tank stands by to haul it free.

Union Picketing 7 Caterpillar Tractor Plants

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — United Auto Workers Union members continued to picket seven strikebound plants of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. today while union negotiators studied the latest company contract offer.

UAW and Caterpillar negotiators met for nearly five hours Monday, but broke up without agreement on a new contract for some 17,000 workers. Another meeting was scheduled today.

Federal mediator Francis Sheridan said the union still is evaluating a company offer made Sunday.

Details of the proposal were not disclosed.

Some 17,000 workers went on strike over the weekend at Caterpillar's plants — three in the Peoria area, and one each in Decatur and Aurora, Ill., Davenport, Iowa, and York, Pa. Picket lines were set up. There have been no reports of violence.

Mexico Helping Indians to Hike Living Conditions

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — For the first time since the Spanish conquest, more than 100,000 Tzotzil and Tzeltal Indians are being given an opportunity to achieve a measure of economic security.

These families reside in a region close to the Southern Mexican city of San Cristobal Las Casas, in Chiapas State, near the Guatemalan border.

They are to be beneficiaries of the first "ejido" (community-owned land) organized by the federal government for exploitation of forest areas. Recently, the second "ejido forestal" was established in a Durango State timber area.

Although the lands to be worked collectively were granted in 1939, during the presidency of Lazaro Cardenas, lack of money for cutting and processing the timber prevented any use of the rich forest resources.

Now, work actually has started under a coordinated program in which collaborators are the National Indigenous Institute (headed by famed archaeologist-anthropologist Alfonso Caso), the Ministry of Agriculture, and the Agrarian and Colonization Department.

The pilot ejido is known as Yaxthini or Colonia Federal and consists of about 7,000 acres allocated to 178 heads of families.

Experts estimate the group can convert pine into 400 million feet of lumber each year, with a market value of $24,000. Costs would total about $16,000, leaving a profit of $8,000.

On this basis, each family would receive only about $45 a year, but that is nearly three times the current average earnings of each, officials said.

In addition, this income would be supplemented for some by three months' work in the sawmill.

The institute has signed a contract with a lumber mill expert to direct the operation.

The contract calls for reforestation of exploited areas, and for re-investment of earnings to build up an industry owned by the workers themselves.
