A 'Wildish Man' Troubles Pilate

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following feature is the first of a special series by Ken Woodman which will appear daily during the Lenten Season in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

Confidential Report

To: Tiberius Caesar
From: Pontius Pilate

With your permission, I dispense with the customary greeting and come immediately to the business in hand.

Our confidential agent, Junius, operating in the Jordan district, reports that a wildish sort of man has come out of the wilderness and is preaching to large crowds along the river bank.

This man's name is John. So effective a speaker is he that even publicans and soldiers go to hear him. He performs a ceremony called baptism with the waters of the river.

In his sermons he exhorts the publicans to collect no more taxes than they have been ordered to collect — which is certainly a just idea, although hardly the practice that publicans are accustomed to follow. This John also urges the soldiers not to be cruel and to be content with their wages!

You are probably wondering why I deem this such an urgent matter that I have to send you a confidential report since there is nothing revolutionary in what the man teaches.

The trouble is this: according to their beliefs, many of the people in my province of Judaea are expecting a sort of king or messiah to come and deliver them — from us, I suppose, although it is hard to see how they would live in anything but anarchy were it not for our Roman law and government.

Junius assures me that this John does not consider himself a king or leader. The people have asked him that very question.

John replied that someone mightier than he is to come, someone he would not be worthy to aid as a servant. He says this man will baptize with fire . . .

(I will send you further word of all this by the next galley sailing to Ostia.)

(Signed) PILATE

Violence Erupts in Strip, Halts Troop Pull-Out

Parliament Backs Up Premier's Policies by 81 to 21 Balloting

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

JERUSALEM — Violence in the Gaza Strip today delayed the Israeli evacuation at the same time that Premier David Ben-Gurion was winning a smashing vote of confidence from Parliament for ordering the withdrawal.

The vote of confidence was 81 to 21.

A United Nations officer said that spearheads of the U.N. Emergency Force, presumably Indians, had crossed into the Gaza Strip from the U.N. base at El Arish, 28 miles away.

But the mass pullout of Israelis, which began last night, was said to have been delayed by the sudden outbreak of violence in the 125-square-mile strip.

At least one Israeli soldier was killed and two wounded during the night in an Arab ambush. The Israelis promptly clamped a strict curfew on turbulent Gaza but there were additional reports of incidents today. One report said two Arabs were wounded.

The Gaza Strip was under Egyptian control from 1949 until Israel seized the 26-mile long district last November. Most of the population consists of Palestinean refugees who are fed by the United Nations.

At one point today Israeli officials said they had suspended the withdrawal because Arabs were looting Gaza stores of the U. N. Works and Relief Agency. The complaint against "Egyptian administrators" developed later.

There appeared to be no snarl in the evacuation of Sharm el Sheikh, the Sinai base commanding the month of the Aqaba Gulf. Loading of heavy material was reported progressing there according to plan. The troop movements were to start later.

It is understood that the Israelis had agreed to a 24-hour plan for the changeover at a meeting of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. Emergency

Senate Version Goes to House for Final Vote

Solons Pass Measure by a Margin of 72-19 After 2-Month Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate version of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution was given a "good chance" today of speedy House passage right on to the White House.

This word came from House leadership sources as they examined the measure passed by the Senate last night, 72-19.

The resolution serves notice on the Kremlin that America will fight, if necessary, against Communist attack in the strategic Middle East.

And it would give Eisenhower more freedom in spending up to 200 million dollars in military-economic aid to that area between now and July 1.

The House first passed the resolution 355-61 on Jan. 30 almost exactly as Eisenhower requested.

The Senate put in a number of changes in a lengthy debate which delayed passage for two months after Eisenhower's original urgent request.

"On the final Senate vote, 30 Democrats and 42 Republicans were counted for, while 16 Democrats joined Republicans McCarthy (Wis), Jenner (Ind), and Malone (Nev) in opposing.

Secretary of State Dulles last night gave quick approval to the Senate version, saying "the substance is the same" as in the House bill.

Normally when the House and Senate disagree on major bills they set up a conference committee to iron out differences. Then they pass a compromise measure. House approval of the Senate version would make that process unnecessary.

The House, meeting Eisenhower's request, voted to give him "authority" to use U. S. armed forces if necessary to help a Middle East nation requesting such aid to defend itself against overt Communist aggression.

The Senate voted instead to declare that if the President determines it is necessary, "the United States is prepared to use armed forces" for that purpose.

State Backs Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Potter (R-Mich) and McNamara (D-Mich) voted with the 72-19 majority by which the Senate passed the Middle East resolution last night.

Ask Central Expressway

Consider Artery, Chamber Urges

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce urged the City Commission to give "careful consideration" to the Oakland County Planning Commission's proposed Pontiac Central Artery expressway.

"Because we believe that the proposed arterial route will serve the largest number of people and would be of greatest advantage to the entire city," the Chamber asked commission consideration in a letter presented last night.

The Chamber earlier this week came out as overwhelmingly approving the six-lane interstate highway after a vote of its Board of Directors.

The letter listed two functions why the Chamber favored the proposal. "Heavy traffic will be eliminated from our north-south streets, thereby making traffic conditions favorable for people doing business in Pontiac. Secondly, the artery, as proposed, will provide ready access to the downtown business area."

The Chamber also expressed belief that the route would result in increasing property and personal valuations in the downtown area.

The commission, after limited discussion, instructed a copy of the communication be forwarded to the City Planning Commission.

Mayor William W. Donaldson cautioned "those who are supporting this unhesitantly, that there are other proposals that are going to be taken into consideration."

He added that the commission, as well as the city planning commission, was cognizant of traffic problems.

The county planning group has proposed the 4.5-mile north-south route which would pass through Pontiac and would join the Detroit area to Bay City and points north.

The $20 million project would be divided $18 million federal costs, and $2,000,000 shared by city and state.

City Eyes Vote on Bond Issue

Commissioners to Aim for Special Referendum on Hospital, Sewage

City commissioners will shoot for a May 20 special election for a vote on a $4,350,000 Pontiac General Hospital addition and sewage treatment plant bond issue.

City Manager Walter K. Willman informed commissioners last night that the entire package would probably require a 1½ mil tax increase. This would boost the present rate from $13.70 per thousand of assessed valuation to $15.20.

Commissioners agreed to try for the May vote regardless of a reported conflict with a fund raising campaign for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. "Our election will be of no great assistance to their drive, and vice versa," Willman said.

ADDITIONAL MIL

All voters will be asked to approve an additional mil to the city's tax rate. The half mil will be taken from that which was voted on in 1954 for the hospital, but never levied, the manager reported

The vote on the mil will require a majority for passage, he added.

Only property owners will be asked to cast ballots for authority of the city to issue approximately $4.5 million in general obligation bonds for the equipping of the hospital wing and to partially finance the new treatment plant.

Willman said from $600,000 to $700,000 in revenue bonds would assure the $3,109,000 plant.

The vote by property owners would require 60 per cent majority for passage.

The general obligation bond package is broken down into $1.5 million for equipping the hospital, $2.5 million for the plant, and $350,000 for a 300-unit parking lot at the city hospital.

Light Rain or Snow, 30-34 Low Tonight

Mostly cloudy tonight with occasional light rain or snow beginning by evening is the weather forecast for the Pontiac area. Tonight's low will range from 30 - 34.

Tomorrow will be a little colder with a chance of a few light snow flurries. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a high of 32 - 36 degrees with a low tomorrow night of 22 - 26.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 25 degrees. The thermometer registered 38 at 2 p.m.

Prop Tears Airliner but Captain Saves 41

But Hansard, 43, of Smithfield, Tex., will never want an encore.

The captain had just finished a neat emergency landing of a big four-engine DC7 whose left outboard engine had thrown a slashing propeller across the cabin top.

It occurred yesterday while the DC7, pride of American Airlines, was cruising at 14,000 feet at 335 m.p.h. with 41 passengers aboard.

The heavy four-bladed prop, "like a bolt of lightning," sliced a 6-foot hole in the cabin roof, instantly opening the pressurized luxury liner to the screaming slip-stream.

Most of the passengers already had buckled their seat belts. The plane was about 30 miles east of Memphis and the air was turbulent.

The blasting wind, pouring through the roof, set off a blizzard of insulating material, feathers from ripped pillows, and loose clothing and blankets, all soft material. No one was seriously hurt.

Seven minutes later the plane was on a Memphis airport apron and Hansard, veteran of 17,000 hours in the air, was receiving the ovation.

Two of the passengers elected to remain overnight and catch a plane today. The others, after examination by airline physicians, continued their flight in another plane three hours later.

An investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board is under way.

Eliminate all confusion or unnecessary noise or levity.

Loitering in the Assembly or elsewhere will not be permitted.

Witness Tells Senate Probe of 'Protection' in Portland

WASHINGTON (INS) — A plump, dark-eyed, expensively gowned bawdy house madam known as "Big Helen" testified yesterday she set up in business in a swank suburb of Portland, Ore., with assurances that she would be safe from interference by "the law."

The witness, Helen Hardy, now of Miles City, Mont., said she was operating when she swore that Seattle underworld boss Tom Maloney promised her that Portland District Attorney William M. Langley wouldn't bother her red-light operation.

As Mrs. Hardy, whose curves seemed to be overflowing, toddled from the witness stand on high, spiked heels, Nate Zusman, a Portland night club owner, demanded that she be given a lie detector test.

Zusman denied to Senate rackets investigators today that he was "an expert on prostitution."

Zusman bitterly accused "Big Helen" of lying when she said that his "Desert Room" was a sort of clearing house for information about sex-for-sale in Portland.

The madam, swathed in black, the costly severity of her costume broken only by the glitter of rhinestone clips, denied yesterday that she paid off Langley or Maloney in order to stay in business.

This prediction came yesterday from H. A. Radzikowski, head of the highway development bureau of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Radzikowski said that many electronic devices will be used to aid smooth and safe flow of traffic. There will be electronic traffic signal controls, computers to measure and regulate traffic speed and routes and induction radios to keep drivers informed.

Returns 'No Verdict' in Mother's Plea for Custody

Tot's Fate Stymies Jury

By PETE LOCHBILER

The rights of a mother versus the claims of adoptive parents baffled a verdictless Circuit Court jury this morning.

As a result, the panel of nine women and three men—most of them parents—was dismissed after three days fruitless deliberation involving the fate of a 1½-year-old girl.

Judge H. Russel Holland took under advisement the legal custody of little Lauren Rae Lewis, adopted child of a Berkley couple.

He announced an opinion would be made by Monday at least, "although the case might very well find itself in a higher court some day."

The girl's mother, Mrs. Nona Hill, a British citizen, had appealed a Probate Court decision denying her petition to set aside the adoption and return the child to her.

Mrs. Hill, 33, of New York City, claimed she consented to the adoption under coercion and duress while she was in poor physical and mental condition in a Detroit hospital at the time of the child's birth.

CITES REVERSES

Her husband had died and she was without employment, was her testimony as chief witness during trial before Judge H. Russel Holland Thursday and Friday.

The mother maintained that social workers and hospital personnel persuaded her to consent to the adoption. The child was taken from her at birth.

Awaiting the jury's decision with corresponding anxiety were Lauren's adoptive parents, Alfred J. Lewis Jr., 38, of 4292 Kenmore Rd. and his wife, Jane, 36.

Records in the case show Mrs. Hill consented to put her child up for adoption when it was born, June 10, 1955, in Woman's Hospital.

The Lewises petitioned Probate Court for legal custody of the little girl June 15, 1955, Judge Arthur E. Moore placed Lauren in their home for a one-year trial period.

Pontiac Parking Project Doing OK

City Manager Sees Progress

Plans Not Completed but Work Continuing as Fast as Possible

A year ago today The Pontiac Press carried this headline: "Parking Approved by Large Margin."

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman was asked yesterday the up-to-date status of this once-controversial $600,000 municipal parking project.

★ ★ ★

"It hasn't solved our parking problem," he said, "but it has helped it tremendously."

On March 5th last year, some 10,000 voters approved more municipal metered lots in the city by a margin of 7,398 to 2,548—nearly a 3 to 1 ratio.

★ ★ ★

The vote climaxed three months of controversy and heated meetings, after an anti-municipal parking group headed by Sam L. Stolorow, private parking lot chain owner, circulated petitions forcing the vote.

★ ★ ★

Reviewing the program, which has added three new lots, Willman said the lots are not completely done due to certain property acquisition delays. But he added emphatically, "everyone of these lots is working."

The manager counted some 175 spaces in the lots which are being blocked by lack of property needed. He added that 400 new spaces have been installed since the lots were opened late last year.

The largest of the three lots, planned for 328 spaces, is located in the Lafayette - Wayne - Pine - Jacokes junction. A second is on West Lawrence west of the viaduct (148 stalls), while the third is at the foot of Wayne on West Lawrence (81 spaces).

COMPLETION IN SPRING

"We will be all ready this spring when the weather breaks, to move in and complete the project in a very short time," Willman stated.

★ ★ ★

"We are acquiring all the property we need as rapidly as possible," he explained. "We haven't condemned a parcel but have purchased all through negotiations."

★ ★ ★

In the three-section Lafayette lot, Willman said two smaller sections south of Lafayette are complete. He said three parcels, plus an outlet to Oakland avenue, were needed to complete this lot. This is blocking 80 stalls.

Some 40 more stalls will be added to the 148-stall Lawrence lot when negotiations for a building are complete and an outlet to West Pike is constructed.

Another 55 spaces will complete the smallest of the lots when three buildings are removed and an entrance onto West Pike is constructed.

MILL STREET LOT TOPS

"The large West Lawrence lot is the slowest producer at the present time," Willman said reviewing income from the lots. He emphasized that this lot is no further from downtown than the large Mill street lot . . . which is proving more popular.

Financially, Willman painted a bright picture of the city's entire municipal lot and on-street parking system. He said the yearly income from the system was an estimated $100,000, while expenses averaged around $80,000 . . . "assuming normal bond payments."

He stressed that the operational and maintenance costs of the lots, including bond payments, come from the thousands of nickels poured into meters by motorists. The last project is being financed from the $600,000 revenue bond act approved by voters. The city has 13 years in which to retire these bonds, Willman said.

Completed also last year, but not a part of the bond act, was a 67-space lot on Auburn avenue east of Saginaw street. The lot property is being leased from the state.

When the present project is completed, the city will have around 1,037 municipal parking lot stalls.

As to the outlook for more municipal lots, Willman unhesitantly replied: "Let's finish this project first."

TWO ESCAPED DEATH — A man named Miracle and his companion cheated death last night when their car wrapped around a tree on Cass Lake Road near Brookwood Road in Waterford Township after a police car chased them up to speeds of more than 80-miles-per-hour. Driver of the car, Noah Z. Galloway Jr., 28, of 97 W. Hopkins St., who suffered only a broken left leg, was ticketed for reckless driving. His passenger, Arlus P. Miracle, 24, of 3401 Bald Mountain Rd., walked away without injuries.

Injunction Stops Socony Pickets

Order Forces Strikers to Allow Normal Flow of Fuel to Area

A temporary injunction was issued this morning by Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty restraining Detroit union pickets from blocking deliveries at the Pontiac yard of Socony Mobil Oil Co., 521 S. Telegraph Rd.

The handful of pickets, from Local 389 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' International Union CIO, have been blocking fuel oil and gasoline deliveries since Monday.

A. G. Epker, Pontiac district sales manager for Socony, said normal deliveries of gas and oil resumed at noon today.

DISPUTE WAGES

A Detroit spokesman said the dispute raised by the 200 men is over wages. He said the pickets continued to block operations today.

Several local Mobilgas service stations reported that supplies yesterday had dwindled to nothing.

A second major fuel oil and gasoline distributor in Detroit, the Standard Oil Co., was shut down at 4 a.m. today when pickets, from Local 11-389 also, formed at two Detroit area yards.

He said normal deliveries were continuing but no replenishing supplies were arriving from Detroit.

Pontiac State Bank to Open New Office

Plans for a March 13 grand opening celebration at the Pontiac State Bank's new branch office at 1305 Baldwin Ave. were announced today by President Milo J. Cross.

The branch, the bank's third, will open for business Thursday, March 14. Opening and closing hours will be the same as those at the main office, Cross said.

The open house will last from 2 to 8 p.m., and will be highlighted by a 2 p.m. ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Manager of the office is Harold Keith, a Pontiac State employe for 30 years, who will head a staff of seven.

New Orleans Worships After Mardi Gras Gaiety

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Solemn New Orleans flocked to churches today and overworked street cleaners put the final touches on a mammoth cleanup project.

The 40-day Lenten season was under way after a Mardi Gras celebration that even heavy midafternoon rains left undampened. In the wake of the holiday were three homicides and streets cluttered with debris from hundreds of parade floats, sidewalk lunches and floating beer and cocktail parties.

Most of the city turned out early yesterday for the big event that climaxed two months of revelry. Balls and parties began the Twelfth Night after Christmas; street parades began Feb. 24.

The final fling was uproarious. Thousands upon thousands of visitors and natives turned out masked and costumed to represent almost every person, place and thing imaginable. They milled over several hundred blocks in the heart of the city.

August During, 26-year-old engineering student at Tulane University, was shot fatally by a Negro after the two bumped while walking on a sidewalk. Police said Joseph Oliver Jenkins, 25, admitted the shooting. He was charged with murder.

Israelis Suspend Gaza Withdrawal

Force which is to take over the vacated territories, and Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, te Israeli army chief of staff.

★ ★ ★

Israel sought a phased withdrawal to take several weeks on the ground that this would prevent chaos and Arab outbreaks. In view of the reported looting, it is expected Burns and Dayan will work out a new timetable.

French outbursts against the withdrawal order of Premier David Ben-Gurion marked a new session of the Knesset. The debate, preliminary to a test of the government's strength later in the day, ended at 1:20 p.m.

Truckloads of stores rumbled out of Gaza in a drenching rain. Israeli planes and vessels began moving equipment from Sharm el Sheikh at the mouth of the Aqaba Gulf.

★ ★ ★

It could not be learned immediately when the U. N. Emergency Force would enter the two areas, but plans called for moving them in simultaneously with the Israeli departure.

BORDERS SEALED

A "blitz" transfer was planned for the Gaza Strip, to prevent Arab agitators from igniting anti-Israeli demonstrations. The borders of the strip have been sealed since the weekend and newsmen forbidden entry.

★ ★ ★

At Sharm el Sheikh an Israeli merchant ship completed loading heavy military equipment and made ready to sail for Eilat, the southern Israeli port at the head of the gulf.

Only a relatively small garrison was at the desolate outpost on the tip of the Sinai Peninsula. It could be evacuated in a few hours.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported planning to fly to Cairo and Gaza early next week to set up a U. N. civil administration for Gaza. Plans announced for the deployment of the U. N. troops indicated a lengthy stay was contemplated, even if Egypt objected.

Gen. Burns said Swedish, Danish, Norwegian and Colombian troops would occupy Gaza while Finnish forces would take over the Sharm el Sheikh coastal strip on th Gulf of Aqaba.

TROOPS OMITTED

This left out U. N. troops from India, Indonesia and Yugoslavia, with Egypt in the U. N. and could be expected to pull their troops out if Egyptian President Nasser demanded it.

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir warned that Israel would go to war against the Arabs again it necessary to preserve Israeli security.

Defending his withdrawal decision, Ben-Gurion told the unruly Parliament last night that the aim of the October invasion was deliverance of Israel from Arab attack, not conquest.

Appeals Ruling in School Land

Bloomfield Hills Owner Fights Condemnation of Quarton Acreage

A jury's condemnation of 20 acres on Quarton road in Bloomfield Hills for a new school was appealed yesterday in Circuit Court.

The jury set a $70,000 price on the land Feb. 13. The Bloomfield School Board had asked condemnation of the property for an elementary school to be built this year.

The appeal was filed in behalf of J. W. Jalkins & Sons, a Birmingham firm. The land in question, it contends, is part of a 65-acre parcel and worth $106,000.

The suit claims the owner, Mrs. Mary B. Jalkins of Bloomfield Hills, was not properly notified of the condemnation, which began last Dec. 17.

Suit Challenges Wixom's Status

Wixom's prospective status as a village was placed at issue in Circuit Court yesterday.

Township Attorney Archie G. Leonard, of Pontiac, filed suit on behalf of two residents asking that a recent election for village status be declared void.

Wixom, half in Novi Township and half in Commerce Township, voted for a charter commission Feb. 5. The Commerce vote was 189-102. The Novi vote was 64-64.

The "object behind" the incorporation move was challenged. The suit alleged it principally was to gain lucrative taxes from the new automobile plant, a mile south of the small village business area.

As a result, Leonard contended, a large part of the territory in question "is rural in character, and will receive no benefit from incorporation."

Judge Frank L. Doty ordered the five charter commission members to answer charges within 15 days. They are named as defendants.

Adult Polio Program Decision Due Tonight

What type of adult polio immunization program Oakland County will have will be decided tonight when the County Medical Society meets.

The doctors will hear a report of a recent joint meeting of the society's public health and polio committees which were unable to arrive at any recommendation for a county wide program.

The committee report is expected to outlive various approaches to the mass immunization project and to ask the general membership to decide how it wants to handle it.

It has been estimated that there are 212,000 persons in the 14-40 age group in the county who need polio shots.

CLAIMS 'WHITEWASH'

Before Mrs. Hardy took the stand, Portland gambler James B. (Big Jim) Elkins, testified that the late Gov. Paul Patterson of Oregon knuckled under to the demands of labor and underworld bosses and "whitewashed" a state liquor scandal.

The bordello mistress gave Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, scion of the multi-millionaire Boston family of ex-Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, a few bad moments.

Kennedy, a brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy, blushed tomato-red when he read an affidavit from "Big Helen" which described the fine line of distinction between a call house and a joint open to the general public.

The lady boasted that "unless a person is known, he cannot gain entrance to a call house."

Kennedy was so nonplussed as he stumbled over the affidavit that McClellan (D-Ark), a somewhat older man, asked helpfully: "Do you desire to have the chair read it?"

DRAWS LAUGHTER

The great, marble hearing room reverberated with the laughter of senators and spectators, and the throaty chuckles of "Big Helen."

Kennedy blushingly declined the senator's offer.

Mrs. Hardy was the second member of her profession to testify in the hearings. Another madam, Ann Thompson of Seattle, told the senators last week she spurned an offer to open up in Portland because the protection fee was too high.

Zusman, indignant over Mrs. Hardy's description of his night spot, was a sputtering witness. He began his testimony by denouncing the two committee investigators who questioned him in Portland. They were, he said, "a disgrace to this Senate Committee."

PROTEST LOUDLY

When that was off his chest, Zusman grabbed a microphone and snorted: "Once and for all, I want the people of Portland to know that my place is not infested with prostitutes, hoods, safemen, or anything else."

He cried: "My club is clean. I have the vice squad in there every night. I've been accused of everything."

Ike's Cough Better, Arizona Unlikely

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's cough appeared to be improving today and prospects of a contemplated trip to Arizona diminished.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty reported that Eisenhower was not coughing as much, and that the cough which has bothered the President for several weeks "seems a little better."

The chief executive has been considering going to Arizona or some other warm, dry climate for a week or so but White House aides said that it now looks as if the President will remain in Washington.

Tools, Wire Worth $230 Stolen From Area Man

Sherry told Sheriff's detectives that thieves had stolen a box containing the tools and 1000 feet of plastic electrical wire from the rear of his truck.

The Day in Birmingham

Committee Finishes Plan for George Miller Drive

Injured in an automobile accident in November 1955 while returning from a Michigan Education Assn. meeting, Miller has already spent 460 days in the hospital undergoing treatment and repeated surgery. Most recent surgical measures was the amputation of one leg.

The committee in charge of the drive said that insurance and group hospitalization fell far short of the young mans needs, let alone the care and support of his wife and two children.

CONTACT EVERYONE

The entire community will be contacted through a telephone "grapevine" to solicit contributions. The main source of the contributions will be the March 20 dinner at the Community House with ticket reservations being made by Mrs. Warren Small, House secretary not later than March 18. The second means of contributing will be the "George Miller Day" March 23 when miniature newspapers will be sold throughout the school district.

Direct contributions may be made to the George L. Miller Jr. fund in care of the Woodward-Hamilton office of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. in Birmingham.

"We have a splendid opportunity to partially repay George Miller for the outstanding job he has done with our young people. The best we can do will not compensate him for the physcial suffering he has undergone nor for the hardship he still faces. It will, however, show him that he has the community behind him and its best wishes going with him," the committee spokesman said.

Miller has been associated with the Birmingham school system since 1948. At the time of his accident near Albion, he was civics and international relations teacher at the high school.

★ ★ ★

Embury Methodist Church will hold its family night potluck supper to open the Lenten season at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Following the dinner, Mrs. John K. Ormond will relate her experiences while assisting her husband in the establishment of a medical hospital in India.

Mrs. Daniel T. (Helen) Hendrix

A native of Detroit, Mrs. Hendrix, 55, of 1750 E. Maple Rd. died yesterday in Wm. Beaumont Hospital.

She came to Birmingham eight years ago from Windsor and was a member of Holy Name Church.

Survivors include her husband Daniel T., a daughter Mrs. Joseph D. Bulone and two grandchildren of Birmingham, her mother Mrs. Frank Pratt and a sister Mrs. H. L. McPherson of Windsor.

Rosary services will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the Wm. R. Hamilton Co. with a Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. Friday in Holy Name church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Clinton Collins

Service for Mrs. Clinton (Joyce Marie) Collins, 22, of 244 E. Berkshire Rd. was held at 10 a.m. Tuesday from St. Vincent de Paul Church. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. Collins is survived by her parents, Samuel and Anne Campanaro Dodero; her husband; twin sons; two brothers, Paul of Royal Oak and Rudolph of Pontiac; a sister, Mary Ann Dodero of Pontiac, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campanaro of Royal Oak.

Mrs. Collins died Saturday following the birth of her sons in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Arrangements were by the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home.

Mrs. Herman Haselhuhn

Service for Mrs. Herman M. (Irene Elizabeth) Haselhuhn, 47, of 176 W. Ann Arbor St. will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday from the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church will officiate with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Haselhuhn died Monday in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of several years.

Baby Girl Shier

Prayer service will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery for Baby Girl Shier, infant daughter of Colin J. and Barbara Ray Shier, 44 E. Chicago Ave. The Rev. A. H. Mullins of the Columbia Avenue Baptist Church will officiate.

The baby is survived by her grandparents, Mrs. Loola Herr of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott of Rochester.

Damage to Auto $250 as Fluid Catches Fire

Pontiac firemen report a $250 car fire at Mt. Clemens and Spruce Sts. yesterday afternoon resulted when the transmission fluid caught fire.

Driver Is Sentenced

Farmington Justice Allen C. Ingle sentenced Douglas Smith, 29, of 21096 Whitlock St., Farmington, to two days in jail and charged him $10 in court costs yesterday for driving with a revoked license.

Ashes Cause Fire

Hot ashes inside of a furnace vacuum cleaning bag was the cause of a $150 fire in the garage of the Holland Furnace Company, 82 N. Paddock St., Tuesday night according to Pontiac firemen.

Jury Fails to Decide Child Custody Case

She began proceedings that led to the decision by Judge Moore Nov. 13 that Mrs. Hill had legally consented to the adoption. Judge Moore also ruled against a contention that the little girl was a British citizen, although born in this country.

In appealing to Circuit Court, Mrs. Hill requested a jury to test the facts of the case. However, Judge Holland was to have determined the final custody of the child. In doing this, he need not necessarily have been bound by the jury's decision.

★ ★ ★

The jury was asked to consider the questions of coercion, duress and the mothers' physical and mental condition.

Area Postmasters Names Given Senate

The five are: Marian G. Decker, Auburn Heights; Roland W. Reese, Birmingham; Bert O. Hobolth, Keego Harbor; Arthur H. Weitschat, Lake Orion, and Cole L. Neumann, Rochester.

The nominees have been acting postmasters since Eisenhower's first administration, but their confirmation had been held up by the Democratic majority in the Senate which hoped to capture the White House last fall.

Nixon Joins Prime Minister Nkrumah in Celebration

Ghana Becomes Nation Amid African Color

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—The Negro nation of Ghana came into being today against a background of African pageantry and a call from its Prime Minister for total liberation of colonial Africa.

★ ★ ★

The red, gold and green flag of Ghana was run up in midnight ceremonies, replacing the British Union Jack and signifying formally the establishment of the first Negro nation in the British Commonwealth.

Mighty roars of "Freedom! Freedom!" rose from thousands of throats. Brilliant fireworks exploded against the sky and talking drums carried along the word of independence.

"We are no more slaves," Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah told a throng of 50,000 assembled at Accra's polo grounds. "Move about with your chest out."

★ ★ ★

The new nation — the size of Minnesota with nearly five million Africans — supplies half the world's cocoa and has rich resources of gold, diamonds, bauxite and timber.

The 48-year-old Prime Minister said independence for Ghana would mean nothing if it was not linked with total liberation of other colonial areas on the African continent.

U.S. Vice President Nixon and representatives of countries around the world attended the transfer ceremonies. The Duchess of Kent, Queen Elizabeth's aunt, and Lord Privy Seal Richard A Butler represented Britain.

In Washington, President Eisenhower congratulated the government and people of Ghana and the State Department announced U.S. recognition of the new African state.

The new country takes in the self-governing colony of the Gold Coast and that part of Togoland formerly administered by Britain under U.N. trusteeship. The name Ghana was chosen by Nkrumah after a rich African kingdom that flourished in the area between the 6th and 10th centuries.

In a speech to the Legislative Assembly, Nkrumah said Ghana wanted to stay in the British Commonwealth because its members were "dedicated to seeking a solution of their problems by democratic and peaceful means."

★ ★ ★

"So long as that policy stands," he declared, "our association with the commonwealth is assured."

★ ★ ★

Nkrumah, a bachelor who was educated at schools in England and the United States, describes himself as a Marxist Socialist.

A Fridgeful in Ghana—??

CHICAGO (AP) — In Ghana, the new African member of the British Commonwealth, the gnb want three things:

1. A fridgeful. 2. A jaguar. 3. A binto.

And here, says Barbara Ward, roving staff member of the London Economist, who spoke last night to the National Conference on Higher Education, is what they are:

1. A refrigerator — full of frozen foods. 2. A Jaguar sports car. 3. A man who has "been to" America.

City Backs Use of Surplus Gas

Commission Urges OK on Panhandle Petition for Re-allocation

The City Commission last night went on record as urging federal action to provide for the re-allocation of surplus natural gas supply to aid some 7,000 local Consumers Power Co. applicants.

The Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. has petitioned the Federal Power Commission for the re-allocation. The commission's action endorses the company's request.

The company provides the gas supplies for Consumers.

Commissioners instructed the clerk to forward copies of the resolution to Senators Charles E. Potter and Patrick V. McNamara, Congressman William S. Broomfield, the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Federal Power Commission.

The 7,000 applicants are waiting for gas for house-heating service, which is being blocked by the lack of natural gas for this purpose.

Potter Urges Action by House on Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy action on legislation to give tax reductions to small business is urged by Sen. Potter (R-Mich) in a letter to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Since all tax legislation must originate in the House, Potter requested prompt hearings on a bill substantially the same as one he is sponsoring in the Senate.

The Potter proposal would, among other things, cut by one-third the tax on the first $25,000 of corporate income and speed depreciation deductions when a small business buys used property.

Opposes Indian Bureau Move

Local Chippewa Princess on Warpath for Rights

Pontiac, which has left its mark on Michigan's history in matters of Indian uprisings, may spark another revolt against the white man, if the tribes follow the lead of Silver Star, a local Chippewa princess.

Silver Star, or Ethel Matteson, of 268 Clifford St., as the Post Office insists she be called, is ready to hit the warpath in defense of Indian rights.

HIGH LINE — It's a high climb to the telephone in a Cleveland, Ohio, firehouse, as Fireman Robert Mangan demonstrates. The old floor was ripped out to be replaced, and a 14-foot ladder offers the only access to the pay phone for personal calls.

She is seeking the scalp of the palefaces in the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs, who have drafted a bill to remove Michigan's Indians from federal jurisdiction.

Silver Star sees in the bureau's action an attempt to open up the Indian lands in the state to unscrupulous speculators who smell oil and other valuable mineral rights.

The Indian Bureau claims it is just seeking to terminate the second-class citizen status of Michigan's tribes and give them legal title to their property, to do with as they see fit.

The bureau head, Homer Jenkins, says that the proposed bill has been discussed with the Indians during the past three years and most of them have approved it.

If that is so, Silver Star and the Pontiac bands of Chippewas and Ottawas were not among those consulted.

'FREE' INDIANS?

Like many Indian leaders and their white friends of the American Indian Fund and the Association on American Indian Affairs, Inc., she is convinced that laws which "free" the Indian of federal wardship wind up by freeing him of everything he owns and casting him upon various communities as an object of charity.

The proposed act would give the Michigan Indians two years to transfer the federally owned property on which the Indians live to a corporation or tribal trustees who would then have the power to dispose of the property and distribute the proceeds among the tribe.

Federal restriction on the property would be removed and thereafter individual Indians would not be entitled to any special federal services.

Silver Star sees in this proposed act another possible instance where Michigan Indians have been made promises by the government which were later ignored.

"The Indians have never even been paid for Woodward avenue," she declared. "All we gave the white man was the right to use it for transportation; we never sold the land to anyone."

"Why, those Indians up there don't even speak English. They're still living in Chief Pontiac's days and they're happy that way. They have their original sheepskin charter from President Lincoln."

Like most Indian leaders, Silver Star sees only one solution to the problem of the Indian. She advocates federal programs to teach the Indian skills that will make him self-supporting.

Turning him loose as just another citizen, she feels, will simply destroy his culture and turn him into another bit of human flotsam in the jungles of America's cities.

To Propose U. S. Back Program

Tax Credit for Scholarship?

CHICAGO (AP) — The Association for Higher Education, representing some 16,000 college and university presidents and faculty members, took up today a resolution proposing that the federal government take part in a program of scholarships for able and needy college students.

The controversial resolution called on the association to reaffirm its stand of previous years in favor of a federal income tax credit for payment of tuition and educational fees to tax-exempt accredited colleges. The credit, to be subtracted from the final tax, would be limited to 30 per cent of the tax or a maximum of $450.

Opponents of the credit plan contend that it would not benefit the approximately 40 per cent of family heads whose income is so low that they pay little or no tax anyway. The proposal was hotly contested in the Resolutions Committee, which reported last night, and some Resolutions Committee members were expected to carry their opposition to the floor.

★ ★ ★

Other AHE resolutions included proposals for:

1. A federal program in support of university extension work in general educational subjects.

2. Federal income tax exemptions to teachers for expenses incurred in summer study and other professional improvement activities.

3. More money for the U.S. Office of Education and a greater role for the office in federal educational affairs.

Novel Auto Class Trains Tots 4-11 to Operate Cars

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Children as young as 4 years of age are learning to drive automobiles in a novel school here.

They learn in miniature automobiles, models of standard cars, but which will travel only 2-6 miles an hour.

The youngsters are taught how to operate the cars on the grounds of the driving school. Care also is given to learning the proper hand signals, rules of the road, highway courtesy and observance of traffic signs.

The basic course is for boys and girls aged 4-11. There is a more advanced course for those 11-14.

After 15 lessons of personal instruction from a competent instructor the child receives a school driving license. This allows him to drive one of the minature cars around the school grounds by himself. The privilege is much sought after and appreciated, says the owner-manager of the school, R. L. Drighton.

The school was opened last July and is believed to be the first of its kind in Florida. The program is copyrighted.

Driving Miles Cut by Waterford Police

There were 18 less accidents in the township than last month with comparative figures — 58 for February and 76 for January.

Police answered 590 calls in February and 575 the previous month.

Fastest Fighter Used to Observe Fastest Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world's first known supersonic bomber, the Convair B58, travels so swiftly the fastest Air Force fighter is used as a "chase" airplane for observation.

The B58 hustler, first flown last November, has considerably exceeded the speed of sound—about 760 miles an hour at sea level—in test flights near Fort Worth, Tex.

A Convair official confirmed that the fastest fighter, an F104, has been added to the fleet of planes employed to make observations during B58 flights.

The delta-wing B58 is 95 feet long, 31 feet high and with a 55-foot wing span. It reportedly has a designed top speed of about 1,000 miles an hour.

Supreme Court OKs Mackie

Denies Petition to Take Name Off April Ballot for Highway Post

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court has approved John C. Mackie for listing on the April 1 election ballot as the Democratic nominee for State Highway Commissioner.

The court acted yesterday in denying a petition for an order to compel deletion of his name from the roster or certified candidates.

The Michigan Society of Professional Engineer filed the petition, with Secretary of State James H. Hare as chief defendent, arguing that Mackie lacked the necessary qualifications.

Ruling without comment, the Court merely dismissed the petition, noting only that Justice Eugene Black disagreed with the majority and that Justices John D. Voelker and Talbot Smith took no part.

Apprised of the court's action, Mackie said he was "delighted," and said he was confident of winning at the ballot box.

Plane Crash Burns 2; Injures Nine Others

ZUNI, N.M. (AP)—The pilot and a hitchhiking soldier were seriously burned when a faltering Air Force training plane crash landed and burned in a rain and snow storm near El Moro National Monument yesterday.

Three other men were hospitalized for observation at Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque. The other six aboard were treated for minor burns and injuries.

Crewmates said the pilot, Lt. R. H. Bulware of Foster, Ohio, was seriously burned only because he hung back until all the others were out.

The other man seriously burned was J. D. Jenson of the 9222nd Headquarters Co., Camp Leroy Johnson, New Orleans, who had hitched a ride on the twin-engine T29.

★ ★ ★

The three other men hospitalized were the co-pilot, Lt. R. L. McLeod of Chicago, and Lt. E. R. Farfara and Lt. G. E. Philbrick, both of Sacramento, Calif.

Airman 1. C. F. Dodcock, 257 Dakota, Flint, Mich., was treated for minor injuries.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

More Opponents Hit New Maximum Fine

The proposed City Charter amendment — permitting a $500 maximum fine for violation of city ordinances — received another setback when members of the Oakland County CIO Council adopted a resolution "condemning and opposing" it.

"We feel this proposal is unwarranted and vindictive and would in no manner serve the purpose claimed of it," the resolution read.

The council is composed of delegates from 91 CIO union locals in Oakland County, representing approximately 50,000 workers.

Yesterday members of Fisher Body Local 596 UAW also went on record of opposing the amendment which will be decided by voters on April 1.

URGES CITIZENS

The council, in its resolution, urged citizens to vote against the proposal.

Briefly, it is proposed by the amendment that the City Commission would be granted authority to fix a $500 maximum fine for any new city ordinacnce drafted. It could also amend present laws, increasing the now $100 maximum to $500.

The proposal was recommended by City Attorney William A. Ewart earlier this year. He said he hoped it would be a "deterrent" to the large number of drunk and reckless driving cases in Pontiac.

He added that the additional $400 might help the city defray prosecution costs involved in these cases.

"We feel the results of this proposal would affect the average working man who finds himself in some minor difficulty far more than it would affect people who could automatically retain legal councel to protect their interests," the resolution said.

Blind and Deaf Man to Keep His Garden

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The auctioneer's gavel went down the last time yesterday on a tiny lot being sold for back taxes, and with the sale went the flower garden of David Badger, a 60-year-old blind deaf mute.

★ ★ ★

Or so it seemed for a moment. Then realtor Benjamin Prager Jr. learned of the blind man who six years ago turned the vacant, rubble-strewn lot into a flower garden. Prager handed the lot over to the blind man's friends whom he had just outbid.

Now Badger can look forward to the coming of spring and the scent of growing flowers again.

Army Reveals Plans for Soo Improvements

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — About 103 million dollars worth of improvements at the Soo locks and in neighboring channels is planned for the next seven or eight years.

Cliff Aune, area engineer in charge of the locks, told the Sault Ste. Marie Rotary Club yesterday that work by the Army Corps of Engineers will average about 13 million dollars a year.

Aune said major projects would include deepening of connecting channels from lower Whitefish Bay in Lake Superior to the Straits of Mackinac, a new railroad lift bridge between the United States and Canada at the Soo locks, and a new lock to be called the Poe.

Good Going, Grandma!

STURGEON, Pa. (AP)—Grandma Anna Snatchko's family gave her a birthday present last night. Her 65th birthday really was last Saturday but the family had to wait until last night to celebrate because the hall wasn't available until then. Two of her 15 children couldn't make it. But all 57 of her grandchildren were there, with seven great-grandchildren.

Gasoline Level High in Britain

Supplies Now Entering at 90 Per Cent Normal; Rations Keep Use Low

LONDON (AP) — The Financial Times said today that gasoline supplies in Britain are now so high extra storage tanks had to be found.

The newspaper said its survey showed that gasoline is coming into the country at over 90 per cent of the normal pre-Suez rate but that the tightly rationed supplies are being used up at only 60 to 65 per cent of normal.

The newspaper said that even if everyone used all his ration coupons, the rate of consumption would not exceed 75 per cent, but the government is "unwilling to contemplate derationing until the normal flow of oil is restored."

"But the present rate of accumulation of stocks is nevertheless becoming an embarrassment," the Financial Times said.

Officials of the Organization of European Economic Cooperation said in Paris that 95 per cent of Europe's normal oil needs would be available for the next three months even if the Suez Canal and the pipeline through Syria were not reopened.

Leaders of the OEEC's oil committee credited the United States for the fact that supplies have run to 85 per cent of normal requirements, instead of the 75 per cent they had anticipated.

But Favors Loans Instead of Grants

Ike Group Urges No Cut in Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional calls for foreign aid cuts greeted today a presidential commission's recommendation that the assistance program by continued at its current rate.

The seven-member commission headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless proposed that the program be changed, however, to include more loans and fewer direct grants, to spur more private development, and to permit longer range planning of projects.

★ ★ ★

It expressed hope spending eventually can be cut, but added, "The United States must resolve to stay the course, and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

★ ★ ★

The report was made public at the White House yesterday. President Eisenhower, who named the citizens' advisory group five months ago to make the study, will consider the recommendations in drawing up his own foreign aid message to Congress.

Initial comment from Congress members praised some sections of the report and criticized others.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said he thought the commission "set its sights on the yearly level of aid too high," but expressed satisfaction at the "emphasis on loans, rather than grants."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he was disappointed the group "apparently feels that foreign aid, in sizable amounts, must be continued into the indefinite future." Rep. Robert C. Byrd (D-WVa) agreed.

★ ★ ★

But Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said, "The report shows that when intelligent, practical men who are used to responsibility take time to study our foreign assistance programs, they realize the vital necessity of maintaining our collective security."

Mansfield and Bridges were joined by Senators Sparkman (D-Ala), Carlson (R-Kan) and Houng (R-ND) in expressing hope the spending figures can be cut.

The commission's report proposed:

1. Separation of foreign aid appropriations requests to Congress, so that military projects are presented within the Defense Department's budget and economic projects within the State Department budget.

2. Integration of the International Cooperation Administration, which administers foreign aid, into the State Department "as soon as practicable."

3. Congressional appropriation of foreign aid funds on a two-year basis, spanning the life of a Congress, rather than once a year as at present.

4. Tighter coordination of aid projects within the administration to allow a cutback in personnel and more efficient operation.

The report noted that $4,700,000,000 in grants were handed out last fiscal year, $3,900,000,000 of them in military aid. It recommended that, in the future, grants of all kinds should be made in "only those exceptional cases where it is clearly in the national interest to do so and when the recipient countries are judged to be unable to repay."

★ ★ ★

The report observed that half a billion dollars in loans were made last fiscal year. In the future, it said, there should be more loans but only where repayment will be made in currency easily convertible to dollars.

Priority for foreign aid should go to those countries which join in the collective security system being supported against communism by the United States throughout the world, the Fairless report said. This would affect India and other "neutral" countries.

New Cabinet May Ease Work of Spain's Franco

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Generalissimo Francisco Franco rarely reshuffles his cabinet, but when he does every shift of post is carefully scrutinized to try to see what he has in mind.

★ ★ ★

Thus far, the consensus is that Franco's drastic reconstruction is aimed mainly at getting more technicians in government who might get along better together than the outgoing ministers.

One dark horse in the latest regime, the first to be created in nearly six years, is Pedro Gual Villalbi, a minister without portfolio.

He is charged with saving Spain from the perils of inflation and dwindling foreign reserves. He is a distinguished economist who is heading the National Economic Council, and his is not an enviable job. Much depends on what real authority he is given.

After a harvest failure, the inflationary tide, still more and more demands for wage hikes, the accent is on coping with economic problems in Spain.

NEW MINISTRY

Jose Luis de Arrese, former Falangist party chief and an architect by training, has been given the job of a new ministry, that of housing.

★ ★ ★

Both the new ministers of finance and commerce, Mariano Navarro Rubio and Alberto Ullastres, respectively, are men of great integrity.

Both of these key men also are non-party specialists and presumably will tackle their jobs without trying to get embroiled in the disputes between the Falange Party and the Royalists.

Also, some of the coordinating responsibility which normally falls on Franco as Premier is being handed over to his close associate, Capt. Luis Carrero Blanco, a 54-year-old career naval officer. Credited with Royalist leanings he may be groomed as a potential premier.

NO SIGNS OF QUITTING

As for the 64-year-old Franco, there is no sign that he intends to give up at the moment any of the numerous offices he has held for the last two decades of rule.

Franco long has held out the promise of restoring a monarchy in Spain. The new cabinet, if it takes some of the load off him, may give him more time to brood on just how he is going to arrange a succession—what with the bad blood between the Falange and the Royalists.

Ike Names Missourian to U.S. Supreme Court

To fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court created by the retirement on February 25 of Associate Justice Stanley Reed, President Eisenhower has named Appellate Judge Charles Evans Whittaker, Kansas City Republican.

Because Congress is in session Judge Whittaker can not serve a recess appointment but must await Senate approval of his nomination. Judge William J. Brennan Jr., New Jersey Democrat, who had been serving under a recess appointment has just won unanimous Senate confirmation.

The 56 year old Missouri jurist is the fourth man to be named to the Supreme Court by the President. The others are Chief Justice Warren, Republican, and Associate Justices Harlan, Republican, and Democrat Brennan.

In less than three years Judge Whittaker has received two appointments from Mr. Eisenhower. He was named to the U. S. District Court for Western Missouri in July, 1954, and on June 5, 1956, he was appointed to the U. S. Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit which includes Minnesota, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, Nebraska and North and South Dakota.

When Judge Whittaker's nomination reached the Senate, Senator Symington, Missouri Democrat, gratified with the choice, said that the new appointee is highly regarded by all Missourians, particularly his colleagues.

His long and active service as a trial lawyer, then as a trial judge and his experience as an appellate judge qualify him for the appointment.

1956 Personal Savings Increased to $21 Billion

According to Government reports, the American people in 1956 saved a high proportion of the $19 billion increase over the previous year in personal income.

Even though they spent more and paid more in a bigger tax bill than ever before, $4.2 billion, or 22 per cent, the highest percentage in several years, was added to personal savings. These now total nearly $21 billion.

Of the $19 billion increase, the U. S. Department of Commerce estimates that $12 billion, or 62 per cent, went into consumer spending. This made the total consumer spending for the year just under $266 billion, the highest on record. Direct personal taxes rose more than $3 billion to bring the total for 1956 to a new high of $39 billion.

★ ★ ★

Such high personal savings, says Money-Matters published by the Institute of Life Insurance, represent a twofold contribution to economic stability and sound progress. They help to bridge the gap between savings and the capital and investment needs of the economy and they cannot combat rising inflationary pressures.

Savings increases since the low of $4 billion in 1947 show the thrift and voluntary provision for the future by the American people.

There's No Such Thing as Free Federal Money

Probably few of us realize that a state's share of the tax burden needed to support "aid" programs often exceeds what that state gets as its share of the Federal money. This is especially true of the more prosperous states.

Fourteen of the Nation's states paid more as their share of the Federal tax burden than they received in aid, says Tax Foundation Inc. For example, Delaware in 1956 is estimated to have paid $2.45 in return for every $1 in aid. At the other end of the list Mississippi received its $1 aid for 29 cents. Michigan paid $1.59 for every $1 received from the Federal Government.

A study made by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association revealed that contrary to popular belief, only 23 per cent of the Nation's Federal aid spending represented money transferred from so-called rich to poor states. The other 77 per cent is just money collected in taxes and returned to states for Federally controlled programs.

★ ★ ★

Thus there is no such thing as free Federal aid. It comes from taxes paid by all of us to the Federal Government in the first place.

There are exceptions to the rule that necessity is the mother of invention. Some misguided person has invented a square soup bowl.

"Where's That Memo on How Much This Costs?"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Love' May Not Be Love at All

-Marilyn is just as intoxicated as any alcoholic drunk and she needs help. For she fell in love at first sight with a rotter and is his abject slave right now. He didn't earn her love. No, he simply tapped the fund of love which others legitimately earned, and that is what always happens in love at first sight.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, Marilyn acts as if she were bewitched by Tom," her father protested.

"He is absolutely no good, and this isn't my biased judgment. He is a chronic gambler on the horses and owes money to all his friends.

"He has been married and divorced twice already. He gets drunk frequently and beats up his girl friends.

"Marilyn defends him, even so, though she has come home twice with black eyes.

"He has bled her of all her savings. Her mother found that Marilyn has given him over $2,000 which he has squandered on racing bets.

★ ★ ★

"So why should she be so devoted to Tom?"

FIRST SIGHT

"Dr. Crane, I was attending a dance with a very nice boy," Marilyn later informed me.

"Then I happened to look up and saw Tom. My heart felt as if it turned over and I have known ever since that I could never love anybody else.

"Whatever Tom says, is law. I'll do anything he tells me because I love him so."

But Marilyn does not love Tom and it would be a tragedy for her to marry him. He'd soon divorce her for another.

★ ★ ★

Marilyn's love for Tom is simply a misplaced love. Tom happens to combine a few features that act as magic "trigger" which sets off all the affection she has developed since babyhood for her father and brother.

LOVE SLAVES

For love must be developed, just as our liking for cod liver oil or hot dogs.

"Then how do you explain love at first sight?" Marilyn asked doubtfully.

Well, during childhood, Marilyn was very devoted to her daddy. And she had an older brother of whom she was very fond.

These two males in her home "earned" her affection by their consideration for Marilyn and their gifts and general thoughtfulness.

But subconsciously Marilyn realized she could not seriously consider them as romantic objects. All youngsters soon learn that they must look outside their family for mates.

So Marilyn had a great fund of love that had developed for her father and brother. Then Tom came along and figuratively forged his name to their check, so he immediately drew out Marilyn's love.

In love at first sight, therefore, somebody else has always earned that love which the newcomer suddenly evokes.

Maybe some physical feature like the way Tom smiled or the shape of his nose or his gestures, served as the magical "trigger" by which to cause the sudden explosion of love which Marilyn experienced at the dance when she first set eyes on Tom.

★ ★ ★

Tom didn't love Marilyn. It was definitely not a mutual romance. In fact, he didn't even know the magical power he wielded over her until some time later.

So if you readers are embroiled in an unwise romance like Marilyn's grit your teeth and break it off!

You are simply a slave to a misplaced love. Take courage and fight your way out of the mess.

For you can rebuild love of a permanent and thrilling sort, but such a love must be based on solid character traits, mutual respect and honor.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Two Types of Ear Trouble Need Different Treatment

"My husband's ears itch a great deal and are always moist but there is no running. It is very annoying and we hope you can advise . . ." (Mrs.

BRADY

In most cases such trouble is a fungus infection of the ear—often infection conveyed to the ear from the toes or feet or other skin surface where dermatophytosis (ringworm, athlete's foot, foot itch) has already established a foothold, so to speak.

★ ★ ★

Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet on Foot Itch. In the pamphlet are two recipes.

The recipes are for Whitfield's foot itch remedy in salve and liquid. Drop one drop of the liquid in the ear each night and morning, or insert in the ear, a twist of cotton smeared wth a little salve, once daily.

For chronic running ear—that is, where there has been a discharge from the ear for not less than two months — without itching, use the ear drops as described in another pamphlet, Running Ear. This also is available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you ask for both pamphlets inclose 25 cents in addition.

ALLOW FOR VENTILATION

In any case of chronic running ear (discharge lasting more than two months), it is generally unwise to keep the ear plugged with cotton. It is better to leave the ear open for ventilation. This is especially important if there is a copious discharge.

Instead of plugging the ear use a loosely placed ball of absorbent cotton in the well of the ear, not in the ear canal, and change it as often as it becomes soiled.

★ ★ ★

From an aurist I consulted recently when my one good ear became so deaf I could no longer hear the ticking of my stainless steel self-winding waterproof wrist watch pressed on the ear, I learned that ordinary rubbing alcohol may be used instead of the pure grain alcohol in the recipe for ear drops —ten grains of boric acid in an ounce of alcohol.

USE TWICE DAILY

Two or three drops of this should be dropped in the running ear each night and each morning, from a medicine dropper.

The solution should be comfortably warmed by letting the vial stand for a while in hot water before it is used.

If the trouble has not cleared up by the time the ounce vial is empty probably it will do little good to continue it any longer.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

It sounds as if "Vet's Wife" is looking for sympathy, free lodging, etc., just because her husband is a vet. So what!

My husband is a vet, too, but we don't trade in on it. He was wounded and is receiving his pension checks. All we are thankful for is that he is back and we are not concerned with how much he gave up. We feel the opportunities this country affords us for getting what we want out of life, if we are willing to work, is payment indeed for services rendered. At least we are free, fed and housed.

So, Vet's Wife, I have no tears for you who have none for an oppressed people of the world.

As for having to start over, so what? We are, after ten years of marriage. My husband is going to school, paying for this out of his own pocket, instead of Uncle Sam's. But we blame this slow start on ourselves where the blame belongs, not on the country because my husband had to serve.

So I say, top feeling sorrying for yourself, get out and work for what you want. Be glad you have that second chance and quit griping!

'Is Our Thinking Brainwashed?'

Has American thinking been brainwashed? I read a quotation in The Press of a prominent New York judge who was guest of honor at a Washington birthday dinner:

"I would rather see every Communist go scot free than in any manner diminish the forces and vigor of a single one of our precious freedoms."

Surely George Washington should turn over in his grave. It would make just as much sense to open all the prison doors and let criminals go free. Why send millions of taxpayers' money abroad to fight communism and let them go scot free here to complete their cunning work? I am alarmed, how about you?

Dislikes Attitude at Welfare Office

A friend of mine, out of dire necessity, had to apply for Welfare Aid. I went with her. Now keep in mind, we taxpayers are paying the salaries.

We walked in the office about 10:15 a.m. A woman told us to sit down and wait our turn. 12:00 noon: we were sent home until 1:00 p.m. 1:00 p.m.: we went back and sat until 2:45 p.m. The office closes at 3:00 p.m. My friend was getting just a little disgusted as were other persons around us. She went to the desk again and was asked to be reseated. At last, for about the fourth time, she went up again and was given three sheets of paper to fill out and return another day. Her name was taken, but she was never interviewed.

Some of these people, I know, are probably slackers. But others, due to circumstances beyond their control, can't really help it. I'm just stating her case, but others in there were really ignored. The all-important woman behind the desk was so sharp to everyone there that it was thoroughly disgusting. I don't think there's room for an impatient person like her in our Welfare Aid Department. I could go on about other cases in the office that day, but won't. If you would be so kind as to print this letter, I know it would be a public service to everyone or anyone seeking Welfare Aid.

Man Disapproves of Pay-TV Idea

Regarding the Press editorial on pay-TV, why does The Press take it upon itself to recommend wringing more money from the American people.

In the second place, people have so many things to pay for now; for instance, real estate tax, fuel oil, auto license, income tax, insurance, to name a very, very few, and now you print half a column editorial endorsing a program that would cost the people millions of dollars at the start with no assurance the rate won't skyrocket within a short time. I hope this idea will never get beyond the incubation stage it has reached in Chicago.

The Pontiac Press is a very fine paper, and I realize the editorials are personal opinions, but so is this.

'School Problems Are Not Solved'

Louis Schimmel told a House sub-committee that Michigan had met and solved its school building problem nearly two years ago. Mr. Schimmel credited a 1955 constitutional amendment and supplemental legislation that enabled school districts to avoid "burdensome" terms of payment for new classrooms. To me this means that a mortgage has been placed on my taxes for the next 30 years which will carry through to my grandchildren with a lot of interest to pay.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Schimmel says "when Michigan public schools opened in September, 1956, it was apparent the shortage of classrooms that had been predicted for several years was a reality." Had he traveled just a few miles west of Pontiac and consulted the Waterford Township School Board, he would have learned that a shortage of classrooms had existed for several years and that still today the seventh and eighth grades have just four hours per day with a limited number of subjects.

★ ★ ★

Some of us have to sacrifice for schools. All of us don't have as much income as others. I believe that the taxpayers of Waterford Township and other townships feel our school debt is too high and "burdensome" and would be glad to have aid for more classrooms from the Federal government or any other source that would assure our seventh and eighth grades a full school day and reduce the rest of the classrooms to a reasonable number of pupils.

Cruelty to Pets Angers Citizen

It is too bad there isn't a stiff penalty for people who do things like shooting pets. Some time ago a car hit our puppy and left him for dead. He suffered a lot and we finally had to put him away. Would you kill a person or your own beloved pet and run away? I think anyone who would be so cold-blooded would do anything. And the first one I see do a thing like that again shall find justice done, no matter who he is.

'Mother of Nine' Defends Wyatts

Sometime the people who say so much about the Wyatt family will regret it. Just stop and think what that little lady has gone through to bring 12 children into the world. And both parents must have been wonderful managers to feed and care for that many. If the mother had not been sick and gone to the hospital, they would be together now. Just a little kindness and a little help is great medicine.

It is a big sin to part a family like that. They were doing their best to keep them together and that is something.

Eight Area People Receive Awards for Arts, Crafts

Eight of ten area residents who entered Michigan's 12th Annual Exhibition for Michigan Artist-Craftsmen at the Detroit Institute of Arts were awarded prizes.

The exhibition, which is continuing through March 31, contains 310 examples of metalwork, weaving, textiles, pottery, woodwork and furniture. These displayed objects were selected from 817 pieces entered by 239 artists.

★ ★ ★

Eight of the eleven $50 prizes were awarded last night to local residents. They include: Elizabeth Plant, Bloomfield Hills, the Mrs. Edsel B. Ford prize for her silver bowl; Don Hay and Charles Wallschlaeger, Cranbrook Academy of Art, the W. B. Ford Design Corporation prize for a plastic chair; and Solange Lebeau, Cranbrook Academy of Art, the Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hopkins Jr., prize, for printed textile "branches."

Honorable mentions given to area residents were: John A. Foster, Birmingham, two stoneware vases and Marianne Strengell, Cranbrook Academy of Art, for her wool Flossa rug.

Two Pontiac residents displayed their creations. They were James Morgan, 220 Elm St., stoneware vase and David E. Tompkins, 2302 Overridge, silver pendant.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms ... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge ... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Texas Doctor Splashed by Acid

Witness in Bribe Case Against Cox; Assailant Not Identified

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—An unidentified assailant last night splashed acid in the face of a prominent chiropractor who testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Dr. E. E. McMeans Jr., his left eye patched, said he had no idea who tossed the bottle of acid at him. He said he knew of no direct connection it could have with the Cox case. But Cox said he thought it was connected with the investigation of the bribe charges.

Texas Ranger Johnnie Klevenhagen, assigned to the case, said, "If the acid had hit him in the face full force, he would not have had much face left. He got only the splatter."

McMeans' left eye was practically closed when he lifted the patch for newsmen. The lower eyelid was a bluish color. He said there was a "little pain."

McMeans said he was leaving his clinic when the buzzer on the back door sounded. He said when he opened the door, someone threw a jar of liquid at him.

"... It felt like fire hitting me," he said. "I ran into the flower shop next door. They have a sink with a faucet high in the air. I turned the faucet on full force. I believe that is what saved me from permanent injury."

Cox, 36, resigned as a member of the Texas House of Representatives after being indicted on a charge of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a bill he introduced that would outlaw the practice of naturopathic medicine in Texas. In testimony before the House Investigating Committee, Cox said he introduced the bill after discussing naturopaths with a chiropractor whom he identified as McMeans.

McMeans testified he had once discussed naturopaths with Cox.

Sees Truck Trailers on Lake Freighters

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roy Fruehauf of Detroit, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., says that ships carrying fully loaded truck trailers promise to be "one of the dominant features" of Great Lakes traffic when the St. Lawrence Seaway is opened in 1959.

He told 400 persons attending a traffic club of Cleveland meeting yesterday that fleets of trailerships would boost trade all along the Great Lakes and other coastal American cities.

This method of transportation, called "fishyback," opens up opportunities for boosting internal commerce, he said.

Fruehauf said the big headache of coastal shipping, where trailerships are coming into use, has been the cost of loading and unloading ships.

"By conventional methods, it takes anywhere from four to five days to unload and load a ship," he said. "At $270 an hour, with every slinghold going down the hatch, you can see the money going down a rat hole. Coastwise carriers report 50 to 55 per cent of the shipper's dollar goes for loading and unloading."

SQUEEZE PLAY — With tongue in cheek, Dr. Robert Rose, right, explains that only by coordinating their breathing did he and two companions make "comfortably" the 100-mile trip from Columbus, Ohio, to Cincinnati. The gas tank of the tiny German-made Isetti-300, of Italian design, holds only 2.4 gallons, but that's enough, as the doodlebug gets 60 miles to the gallon. Its six-horsepower motor cruises at 60 miles per hour.

Testifies U.S. Bossed Oil Lift

Senators Quiz Coleman on Antitrust Immunity During Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) —The chairman of a committee of 15 major oil companies which worked out the European emergency oil lift says the program has operated "under the complete direction and control of the government."

Stewart P. Coleman, a vice president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, made this comment in testimony prepared for the Joint Senate Antitrust and Public Lands subcommittees headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).

The Wyoming lawmaker and other members of Congress have been sharply critical of antitrust immunity given to the oil industry group.

In his prepared testimony, Coleman said the oil committee had "done a fine job" in helping "stave off catastrophe" for Western Europe.

He says secret plans were worked out prior to blockade of the Suez Canal and Middle East pipelines last fall, and the program went into operation early in December.

Since then, he said, Western Europe has received about 83 per cent of its normal oil requirements, although the Suez crisis shut off supplies of about two million barrels a day.

Coleman said this country and other Western Hemisphere supplies had provided nearly a million barrels of oil daily for Europe, about a third of its needs.

★ ★ ★

He said the entire operation was set up at the request of top administration officials and that they, not the major oil companies, asked the antitrust immunity to permit pooling of scarce tankers, supplies and other facilities.

De Valera, 74, Symbolizes Eire's Invincible Courage

By International News Service

Although 74 and almost blind, American-born Eamon De Valera has lost none of the stubborn fighting streak that helped lead Ireland to Independence.

He has survived revolution, death sentences, prison and all the in-fighting of politics.

The Manhattan-born, hawk-faced son of a Spanish father and Irish mother has never accepted defeat. In his 74 years, he has won nine general elections, been leader of the Sinn Fein national movement and later its president.

Besides the premiership, he has held such posts as commandant in the army and president of the council of the League of Nations.

HAD MANY TOP POSTS

He has been president of the Republic of Ireland, president of the executive council, minister for external affairs and was founder of the largest Irish organization in the U. S. — the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, which, in its day, had 700,000 members.

In the 1954 elections, DeValera's party, Fianna Fail, won more seats than any other, a total of 65, but refused to join a coalition. John A. Costello's Fine Gael party joined with smaller groups to put together a coalition that ruled until early this year when DeValera introduced a no-confidence motion.

The years of battling have changed DeValera little. He still wears his wide brimmed hat and long black coat, still speaks slowly and hesitantly except when bursting into strong-voiced bits of passion, still works untiringly and still stands six feet tall in the center of the Irish political stage.

His tendency to withdraw — he is a family man, father of four living sons and two daughters — and his hobby, mathematics, learned when he was a schoolteacher, have earned him a reputation for coldness.

But beside the coldness, the Spanish-Irish American ideali aways has had an inexplicable magnetism. For years that magnetism drew the youth of Eire to the cry, "Up, De Valera!"

Ike, Macmillan Talk in Bermuda Starting March 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to arrive in Bermuda the afternoon of March 20 for four days of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan starting the next day.

Macmillan, it is understood, intends to arrive several hours in advance of Eisenhower.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the present schedule is for Eisenhower to return to Washington by plane March 24.

The talks will be held at the exclusive mid-Ocean Club. The president and the Prime Minister also will live there during the conference.

★ ★ ★

Other members of the American and British delegations will be housed about two miles away at the Castle Harbor Hotel.

Secretary to Attend Meeting of SEATO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles leaves today for a foreign ministers' meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, in Canberra, Australia, March 11-13.

SEATO was set up in 1954 to work for continuous self-help and mutual aid for the protection of the Southeast Asia area against Communist subversion and attack.

Christian A. Herter, who was sworn in as undersecretary of state Feb. 21, will be in charge of State Department operations as acting secretary during the 10 days Dulles is away from Washington.

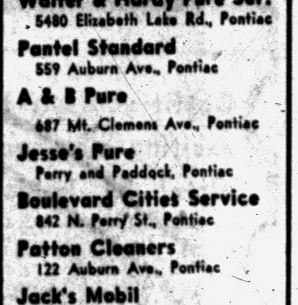

Dulles told a news conference yesterday that he would have to do his homework for the SEATO meeting while he is flying to Australia. He has been concentrating all his time and attention recently on the Middle East crisis.

Broom Swipes Clean

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—When Mrs. Katie Kinzel returned home she heard someone inside. She armed herself with a broom; waited at the back door. When a strange youth walked out, she "hit him a good one on the head." He fled before she could swing again. Later she found her house ransacked and a wristwatch stolen.

Rare Plant Vandalized

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golden Gate Park botanical experts are aghast at the sight of their prize rhododendron almost destroyed by vandals. Chief Nurseryman Jack Spring said the plant — a rare falconeria — would take 5 to 10 years to recover, if it does at all.

NOW— Jet-Froth Cleaning

WOODWORK
CHROME

Changes your whole way of cleaning

You'll hardly believe your eyes—the way this new Jet Bon Ami cleans. Quick as the button you touch, lacy froth sprays on. Dirt wipes right off! Use a fresh, dry cloth for the final polish. No water, no grit. No powder or mess. No tiresome rubbing! Lovely hands stay lovely, don't even get wet. That's the joy of jet-froth cleaning for glass, glossy and painted surfaces.

STINGY LITTLE BIT WORKS BETTER THAN A LOT

This lacy froth spreads as it cleans. A little bit of Jet Bon Ami does 3 times its own area. Dirt wipes right off. A stingy bit of froth means faster, easier cleaning—far less rubbing—and a dry shining surface with no streaks or hazy film.

Executive Totters on Tightrope to Top

CHICAGO (AP)—Pity the executive. Although he lives plushly, he frequently changes jobs—often under pressure—and walks a tight rope between success and failure.

To be a success, he must work more for love than money, says Lon D. Barton, 50, president of a clearing house for executives. His employment agency furnishes executive talent to industry throughout the country.

"If he works for love of his job and the people around him, the money will come and he'll live happier."

Placing young executive talent in key spots at the rate of 5,000 a year, Barton's staff of 60 experts has seen executives come and go, rise and fall.

Today the demand is for industrial executives with experience in the engineering fields—mechanical, electrical and aeronautic.

production or engineering design and rated in the upper half of their college class, it's a good bet that they'll land a job paying $10,000 a year, within 3½ years from the time they graduate.

SALES BEST ROUTE

The man specializing in sales will have a much better chance of entering top management because 80 per cent of the executives arrived by this route.

Barton says an executive does not become a "big shot" until he reaches the $15,000 to $20,000-a-year bracket. But only one in 10 $15,000 per year jobs are worth taking because frequently the company offering it does not possess stature in its industry.

Barton's agency rates the company hiring the executives as well as the employe looking for a job. The firms are rated on their caliber and ability to add to a man's value in the executive field.

The average exeutive changes jobs every four or five years.

"The men who get ahead the fastest, change jobs when a better opportunity presents itself," Barton said.

Changing jobs also can be fatal to a man's career if he doesn't watch his step. As he moves up in the salary bracket, his prestige can diminish because the companies he joins from job to job also slide lower and lower in caliber.

Little Dog Battles Coyote in Romulus

DETROIT (AP) — Penny, a 10-pound Manchester terrier, gave battle yesterday to a 65-pound coyote that had attacked her master, M. W. Jantz, in Romulus Township.

★ ★ ★

Penny was no match for the angry coyote. The beast grabbed her by the neck and was dragging her away when Jantz raced to her rescue with a wooden club.

Jantz stunned the coyote. Then he picked up Penny and fled to the safety of his house.

Deputy Sheriff Nathaniel Butler answered a call for help. The snarling coyote charged at him and he killed it with two revolver shots.

The coyote had escaped from its pen on a nearby farm where it was kept as a pet.

Pigeon Trainer Is All for the Birds

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (INS) — It is difficult for some people to feel anything beyond mild contempt for the pigeon — even if it is the homing type, ever loyal to the wife and kiddies where're they waddle.

★ ★ ★

These are the people who say pigeons are beggars with no knowledge of grooming, and who line their roofs with sticky pastes to prevent the establishment of pigeon squatters' rights.

It is suggested here that they are being heartless. For once, they should stop belting the birds and listen to the voice of Otto Meyer, sentimental head of the Army Signal Corps' recently grounded pigeon group.

Mr. Meyer is a strong man, not given to melodramatics, but there is a hint of a catch in his larynx as he says:

"Our heroes of World War II—there are 15 of them—will soon be placed in public zoos and institutions where they'll be well taken care of. They deserve it.

★ ★ ★

"Take GI Joe. He is probably the greatest . . . The greatest military pigeon in history. He was hatched in 1943, and a great day that was for the armed services."

20 MILES, 20 MINUTES

Joe, heart pounding and wings flapping with super-pigeon speed, carried a message 20 miles in 20 minutes, saving the lives of 1,000 British soldiers who had occupied a town in Italy.

★ ★ ★

His message — calling off a bombing of the town by allied soldiers — was delivered just as fliers were taxiing out to perform the mission which would have destroyed their comrades.

"And there is Caesar," said Meyer, not even trying to control his admiration, "who flew 44 combat messages through North Africa. Once, he flew 300 miles over the Mediterranean. You've got to have heart to do that. Caesar deserves a comfortable perch in a zoo, all right."

Besides the 15 heroes, many of them birds with citations for gallantry in action, there are some 1,000 Signal Corps pigeons which will be disposed of, "but only to loving pigeon people, we trust," sometime next month.

Meyer has no idea what price they'll bring, because these are only potential, not proven, experts at homing. But whoever gets them, one factor is certain.

The new owners will be expected to care for the Army-trained birds well and, in case of wartime emergency, release them back to their old boss Otto Meyer, who's had charge of the pigeon training program since '43.

RESPECTED BIRDS

"Electronics have grounded these pigeons," Meyers says, in the same way that helicopters have replaced mules in Army service. "But the fact that the Signal Corps is alerting civilian pigeon fanciers to stand by — that shows how respected the birds are as courageous guardians of the peace."

★ ★ ★

To those who still feel that pigeons are a public nuisance, Meyer can give only the shrugged shoulder. They've lived in a world of discord and divorce for so long, they don't know how to handle a homing heart when they see one.

New assembly lines in Brazil will produce European and Japanese motor vehicles.

Michigan Pioneers Failed in Early Share-Alike Town

Only a group of rickety shacks remain of the pioneer Hiawatha project which was established north of Manistique, in the Upper Peninsula, around the turn of the century.

Fate of the little community was recalled today in the current Alumnus Quarterly Review of the University of Michigan. It was related by David C. Byers, Kalamazoo businessman who once served as president of the village.

Byers said the idea for the experimental community, called the Hiawatha Village Association, came in the 1890s from Walter T. Mills. He was a noted Michigan temperance preacher who had made a fortune in real estate.

MAIN OBJECT

Main object of the colony, Byers said, "was equalization for everybody. All were to work together and everything was to be divided evenly among the members."

To become a member, it was necessary to pay $100 in cash, land or personal property. However, only those who gave land had much stake in the project.

Every man, woman and child who worked was given time credits. Ten time credits were the same as one dollar and were used to buy goods at the colony store.

STAGE DRIVER

"A stage driver went to Manistique three times a week and brought back whatever had been ordered," Byers said. "In addition, they commonly purchased flour, sugar and other staples which were equally divided among the families according to size."

But the village found difficulty in finding a market for its crops. One season there was a great crop of onions, another a huge yield of potatoes, but neither could be sold for a decent price.

"Outsiders, through jealousy or suspicion or both," Byers said, "stirred up much of the trouble. They were the ones who promoted the rumor that the association was a scheme of Mills to enrich himself. Nothing could be further from the truth."

BREAK-UP BEGAN

Despite its "high hopes and ideals," Byers said, the project began to break up late in 1895. Mills resigned and Byers was elected president.

"But nothing anyone could do could have saved the venture," he said. "Never did a group of people possess more good will, more drive and enthusiasm than this cooperative community.

"Hapiness radiated from every face. There was no juvenile delinquency. Never since the closing have I heard anything but adulation for the years spent in the community. We have no regrets."

★ ★ ★

Why then did it fail? Says Byers: "Human beings are queer animals. They do not want equalization, they want constant struggle to get ahead of the other fellow. They won't do their best if they think the other fellow is going to share some of the harvest."

Kalamazoo to Build Art Center in Fall

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Construction of a million dollar art center for Kalamazoo will be started next fall.

Plans for the building, to be located on a six-acre site, were announced by the Kalamazoo Foundation, Kalamazoo College and the Kalamazoo Institute of Arts.

The foundation, a private organization which accepts gifts and bequests for community projects, is assembling $500,000 in endowments to finance half the cost of the art center. The remainder is to be raised through a subscription campaign.

Eero Saarinen of Bloomfield Hills, internationally noted architect, has been retained to design the building. He chose the hillside site, much of which will be landscaped for use as a public park.

Parents May Pay

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A pending bill that would make parents financially responsible for acts of their children has been endorsed by a Travis County grand jury.

Tide Obviously Turned

DALLAS (AP)—Last month David Rosenaur reported a thief had hauled off his 16-foot boat on his two-wheel boat trailer. In the boat were two outboard motors, four pair of water skiis, a power lawn mower and several life preservers. Yesterday Rosenaur found the boat, trailer, motor and power mower back in his driveway.

"New Tablet Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps . . . Brought Me Greater Relief Than Aspirin!"

"Couldn't sleep, was all on edge, could hardly put up with my 2 babies," adds Mrs. H. Y., Russell, Ky. "But Pinkham's Tablets were a real blessing! Gave soothing relief the first day!"

For millions of women who suffer tortures of cramps and nervous tension every month, a new day has dawned! An amazing new tablet, developed especially to relieve this female discomfort, brings greater relief than aspirin for these miseries!

Relief for 3 out of 4 tested!

Doctors report amazing results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pains and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, backaches, other functional distress. Were less jittery before their period.

This new discovery offers more relief than aspirin because it contains not just 1 or 2 ingredients but a unique combination of medicines. Unlike "general purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has remarkable power to calm uterine contractions; also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," they're at all drugstores without prescription. Try handy Pinkham's Tablets. See if you don't feel worlds better! See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—before and during those "difficult days." (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

WINDOWS need washing?

They usually do . . . and mirrors, too. But until you have tried Little Bo-Peep and water with a dash of vinegar added, you have no idea how easily and how quickly glass surfaces can be cleaned. Works fine in spray bottles. See directions on bottle.

Vanguard Is All-American Project

(This is the last article on the intricate and challenging job involved in building and launching the first man-made earth satellite.)

By EDWIN DIAMOND

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) —Vanguard will be an All-American project.

Every region in the nation will have a hand in placing man's first earth-circling satellite in its hoped-for 300-mile high orbit some time during the International Geophysical Year, July 1, 1957, to Dec. 31, 1958.

Shortly after the White House committed the U. S. on July 29, 1955, to launch at least one satellite some time during IGY, scientists drew up a master plan and time table.

They called for the construction, testing and eventual launching of some 12 satellite-carrying rockets during the 18-month-long "year."

Three objectives had to be achieved: getting the satellite in its orbit, finding and tracking it during its around-the-world-in-90-minutes trip and, most important, using it as our eyes, ears and hands to explore outer space.

The military services, under Navy management, were called in for the first two tasks.

A panel of scientific advisers, representing the U. S. National Committee for IGY, hammered out priorities for scientific experiments to be jammed into the approximately 20 - pound, 20 - inch earth satellite sphere.

The sphere had to be small enough to be carried up by rockets in the present state of development; and it had to be large enough to accommodate vital experimental equipment.

Materials chosen had to be strong enough to withstand the 18,000 MPH satellite speed, zipping meteors, solar radiation and other outer space hazards. Yet they must be light enough to allow for radio batteries and other signaling devices in the instrument-crammed sphere.

A giant 70-foot long, four-foot wide rocket vehicle pattern, similar to the do-it-yourself dress patterns in homemaker magazines, was blueprinted. The Navy, because of its Viking experience, was given management responsibility.

Pieces of the dress pattern were farmed out to organizations best able to execute the thousand and one details each involved.

The Martin Company of Baltimore, Md., was given responsibility for the three-motor rocket vehicle. In turn, Martin commissioned General Electric of Cincinnati to build the rocket engine for the first stage. Aero-Jet General, of Azuza, Calif., was given responsibility for the second stage rocket. Two firms—Grand Central Rocket Company, of Redlands, Calif., and Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Cumberland, Md.—are building competing third stage designs.

A Minnesota firm, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, will provide gyros to keep the rocket straight and true during its ascent.

Vickers, Incorporated, of St. Louis, Mo., is making an auto-pilot control to control the rocket's flight. Detroit's Brooks and Perkins Company is fabricating the magnesium-aluminum and gold-plated satellite "skin."

Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C., developed instruments for the satellite, including an ingenious, pocket-sized 13-ounce transmitter capable of broadcasting signals from the globe-girdling satellite.

The transmiter, called Minitrack, is capable of sending a signal 4,000 miles, according to NRL scientists. There also will be a tiny microphone to pick up the vibrations caused when meteors strike the satellite skin.

The ping of these micro meteors —the largest no bigger than a grain of sand—will be transmitted to radio stations on earth, to become man's first recorded sound from outer space.

The Army will man seven of the 10 radio receiving stations now being built to pick up Minitrack signals, one at Ft. Stewart, Ga., and the others at Havana, Cuba; Quito, Ecuador; Lima, Peru; Antofagasta, Chile, and Santiago, Chile. Plans for a seventh site are yet to be completed.

The Navy will man stations at Blossom Point, Md.; San Diego, Calif., and—togther with the Air Force—at Antigua Island, British West Indies.

Volunteer moonwatchers are needed to help track the satellite as it hurtles through the sky. There is a chance that Minitrack might fizzle at the start; at best, it can only transmit for a few weeks before wearing out.

This means it will be useless at the very moments when important data can be gleaned from the satellite; all the time, money and effort expended to get the satellite orbiting will be wasted unless the moon can be tracked.

That's where "Project Moonwatch" come in. The Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory, Cambridge, Mass., invites citizens with good eyesight and a willingness to get up before dawn—the satellite won't be visible when the sun is above horizon—to become an official part of Vanguard.

Any number can play. If you are interested in becoming a moonwatcher, write: Dr. J. Allen Hynek, IGY Satellite Optical Tracking Program, Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory, Cambridge, Mass.

Foreign Minister Here for Talks

Von Brentano Rates High With Konrad Adenauer

By International News Service

Foreign minister for less than two years, Von Brentano, 52, has long been regarded as the favored protege of the "Old Man," Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 81.

He has been the chancellor's right hand man and chief spokesman at North Atlantic Council meetings, at the Saar negotiations and in the six-nation conference which laid the groundwork for a European common market and atomic energy program.

Von Brentano says he has come to the United States to discuss East-West relations and the German reunification problem with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

These are two of the major issues confronting Adenauer and his Christian Democratic government, particularly since this is a parliamentary election year.

TABBED FOR HIGH OFFICE

Von Brentano was one of the postwar founders of the Christian Democratic party and one of the first men Adenauer tabbed for high office in the government.

Von Brentano—the son of an Italian nobleman who settled in Germany—is a lawyer by training. He is a skilled negotiator and an able defender of government policy in parliament.

The bespectacled foreign minister has a reputation for skilled repartee. But he is far too serious minded to be described as witty.

He has no known hobbies and his favorite relaxation, it is said, is to read classical authors in the original Latin or Greek.

New Fire Truck on Way

CHARLEVOIX (m) — George Ely, civil defense director of Charlevoix County, has arranged for purchase of a 500-gallon pumper truck through the federal civil defense program for better fire protection on Beaver Island. Residents of the island, about 32 miles offshore in Lake Michigan, presently depend on an outdated fire truck, Ely said.

PARIS (INS) — If you dream of being a big-game hunter in Africa but also are fond of your armchair, highball and slippers, then take heart. You can have them, and your safari too.

The French, those lovers of good living, have come up with a "Package Safari" designed to tempt even the most comfort-loving fireside explorer.

All the sport and thrills of tracking big game in the rich preserves of French west and equatorial Africa can be yours without sacrificing one bit of your accustomed pleasures.

All you need is the inclination, three weeks vacation, and about $2,000. Then, drop in at the Office International Des Grandes Chasses in Paris and leave, the rest to them.

In a couple of days you'll be at Fort Archambault in darkest Africa, ready to head into the bush.

In addition to the Paris-Africa-Paris plane fare and the services of a real, live "White Hunter," your dough will get you the following: Tents, metallic beds, mosquito netting, laundry tubs, lamps, chairs, tables with table cloths, one armchair, and one portable shower; complete crew of drivers, servants, trackers, beaters, and plenty good number-one boys mixing much good cocktails; the usual first aid helps—like sutures, splints and plasma.

Two vehicles are furnished, a jeep and a supply truck. The amateur Hemingway need never walk, except from bed to cloth-covered table, past lamps to portable shower to armchair and to bed again.

No guns are provided and there are some hunting fees and "head taxes" which the client must pay himself. Apart from these little incidentals everything is taken care of for two comfortable, effortless weeks in the tangled timber of the Congo.

'Living Buddha' Dies in Formosa

Millions Regarded Him as Reincarnate Spirit of Religion's Founder

PEI, Formosa (AP) — The Di Lowa of Hutukhtu, regarded by millions as the "Living Buddha," died Tuesday at the age of 67. Black-robed monks will begin a search next week for his infant successor.

* * *

Chang Chia Hutukhtu, 19th incarnate of the Hutukhtu Buddha, was the spiritual leader to Buddhists in Inner Mongolia and neighboring areas deep in western China. Violently anti-Communist, he fled from the mainland with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces in 1949.

He died in his sleep. Buddhists believe his spirit entered the body of a baby born at the exact moment of his death.

Just before his death he scribbled clues to guide the search for his successor. They are secreted somewhere in the room where his body sits upright in state, palms joined in prayer and legs crossed. The monks are prevented by tradition from searching for the clues until Chang is cremated next Monday.

The Living Buddha visited the United States and taught Mongolian language and history at Johns Hopkins University. In 1950 he defended Johns Hopkins Professor Owen Lattimore against charges of aiding the Communists in China.

Bob Considine Says:

Hungary Expected to Revolt Again

NEW YORK (INS) — Look for more outbreaks in Hungary, say Leo Cherne and Angier Biddle Duke, chairman of the board and president respectively of the Internation Rescue Committee.

The two leading anti-Communists, both of whom assisted actively in caring for some of the nearly 200,000 Hungarians who streamed into Austria and Yugoslavia in the wake of last wall's rebellion, believe that two impending events will fan the smouldering embers into a fresh blaze.

One is the 109th anniversary of Hungarian patriot Louis Kossuth's rebellion against Russian rule. The other is the coming of spring, and with it the melting of the tell-tale snow which retained the footsteps of escapees and made more difficult their flight to freedom.

The two leaders of a non-profit organization which has raised more than $500,000 to make asylum easier to obtain and more bearable once realized do not confine their predictions to Hungary.

* * *

They believe that Poland and East Germany could easily join in the fight against Soviet oppression. When/if they do, and if Hungary rises again, the IRC and every other humanitarian agency must be ready to move in a hurry.

THEY'LL STRIKE

Cherne says, "Intelligence reports that can be trusted put the strength of organized, armed Hungarian resistance forces at from 12,000 to 14,000. They are well-drilled, coordinated former Hungarian army men, mainly. When ready, they'll strike."

* * *

Frontier police troops and their bloodhounds have cut the tide of escapees into Austria down to 10 or 20 a day, from a high of hundreds, Cherne reports.

A part of this is due to the fewer number of Hungarians willing or able to trudge wintry paths, and a part to the fact that the Hungarian Red government has placed a head premium of 400 forints ($15) on all those apprehended and taken into custody.

Duke, a member of the Knights of Malta, an organization which dates from the Crusades and which performed notably in spiriting hundreds of Hungarians out of the clutches of frontier guards, told us of some of the endless work of the IRC. He has just returned from Vienna.

* * *

The organization runs a children's home in Vienna, vocational schools in several countries, language schools in more countries, is setting up its own refugee high school in Vienna, makes arrangements with foreign and U.S. schools and colleges to accept freedom fighters, and arranged (for example) with the French Ministry of Labor to conduct 10-month vocational courses after which a job in French industry is provided.

And it has put desperately needed spending and travel money in the pockets of thousands of escaped students.

20,000 TAKEN IN

The United States has taken in more than 20,000 Hungarians and relocated most of them, through religious and charitable organizations.

* * *

Switzerland, with a population of 4,000,000, has taken 10,000, Canada 18,000, West German 12,000, England 14,000, France 14,000, Belgium 4,000, Denmark a thousand, and so forth.

Tens of thousands still remain in Austria, waiting for a break. The U.S. Congress has before it a motion to admit another 50,000.

The work of the IRC has touched the hearts of people as separated in space and way of life as Vietnamese escapees who reached Saigon from the Red-held north (they raised $70,000 for IRC's Hungarian relief work) and Perle Mesta (who turned over the receipts of a $50-a-head party she threw at Philadelphia's new Sheraton Hotel Monday night.)

IRC operates without federal aid. Its top people, Cherne, Duke, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Eric M. Warburg, Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, Gen. William J. Donovan and others, work hard and well, for no remuneration except the knowledge that they are easing what the gifted Duke calls, "a burden on the conscience of the Western community."

FAIR SAILING — You're not seeing double. It's the 15-year-old Casalone twins, Cammy and Jo Anne, who reigned together as queens of the Sunshine Sailing Regatta on Biscayne, Bay, Fla.

Plan Naval Maneuvers

MANILA (INS) — A major amphibious operation by the Seventh Fleet to start March 17 in the Philippines was announced today by Vice Adm. W. M. Beakley, the fleet commander.

Pot-O-Gold Is Again Starting on Its Way Up

Even though a large scoop was taken from Pot-O-Gold last week, it's already on its way back up. The winner of Puzzle No. 40 will take home $200 plus $25 dollars as a subscriber if no winner is found for last week's puzzle. You have just as good a chance as any of the other winners, so start your entry now.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3 To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be acepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 40 must bear a Tuesday, March 12, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6 Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9 There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10 Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Sets Record as Record Keeper

Jacobi Notes Gas Bill for 40 Years

PORT HURON (AP) — As a motorist, have you ever wondered how much you spend telling gas station men to "fill 'er up"?

Edwin C. Jacobi of Port Huron is one man who can tell down to the last penny what his gas bill is. He's kept records on it for 40 years.

It figures out to a hefty $7,790 since 1917, when Jacobi got his first car, an open "breezer" type Oakland roadster.

His records show he's bought a total of 38,937 gallons. That's the equivalent of more than 3½ railroad tank cars and four times the capacity of a big tanker truck.

In the last 10 years, Jacobi has driven 178,582 miles on 11,449 gallons for an average of some 15.5 miles to the gallon. He figures he's paid an average of 20 cents a gallon over the years.

He got only about 12 miles to the gallon on his first cars — but gasoline was only eight or nine cents a gallon then.

He recalled that car owners used to have four jacks as standard equipment in their garages. Most drivers put their cars up for the winter, Jacobi said, and used the reliable horse and buggy because of the poor roads.

He backs up old timers who say winters aren't what they used to be. Says Jacobi, "seems like there was more snow 40 years ago."

Jacobi said he has kept his gasoline records "for the fun of it" — and that knowing how much it costs hasn't taken any pleasure out of driving.

CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT — The Bell Aircraft Co. supplied this photo of one of its 47J helicopters and said it is the type selected for use by President Eisenhower. James Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said in Washington that two helicopters for Eisenhower's use will be delivered to the Air Force by Bell in about a month. The craft has seats for three persons in addition to the pilot.

Phone 'Tempter' Part of Mail Fraud?

Lures Suckers at $1 Clip

DETROIT (INS) — Postal authorities in Detroit said they are investigating a possible telephone and mail racket "which takes suckers at $1 a clip."

Object of the probe is a seductive woman's voice that comes over a recording machine when a certain Detroit telephone number is dialed.

Authorities said "so alluring is the voice that those who have heard it are flooding the mails with $1 bills to get four lovely, tempting pictures" of the voice's owner.

★ ★ ★

So far, according to James Dillard, assistant U. S. district attory, no one has received a set.

PLENTY OF TAKERS

On the other hand, no one has complained either. Meanwhile, susceptible Detroit males have been overtaxing a post office box with their mailed dollars.

★ ★ ★

Dillard said the telephone pitch, delivered in a woman's rich voice goes like this:

"Hello darling. I'm soooo glad you called. I've been waiting for you.

"I'd love to make your acquaintance with four lovely tempting pictures of myself.

"Just enclose $1 for cost and handling."

Walking 'Driver' Fined for Having No License

WASHINGTON (AP)—His friend's car had a dead battery. So Willis L. Richardson, 26, pushed it, unassisted, to a service station for a battery recharge.

His Good Samaritan act cost him a $50 fine in Municipal Court yesterday for operating the car without a driver's permit, even though the engine wasn't running and Richardson was outside the car.

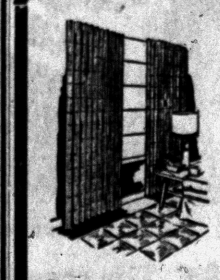

Prosecutor Douglas Moore argued that since Richardson steered the car through the front window, he had enough control to come under the definition of an operator.

Woman 'Stone' Broke

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Anne Mae Alwine told police a man in a tavern admired a $135 diamond ring she was wearing. She handed it to him for closer inspection. She said he pretended to drop it, made believe he was following it across the floor and rolled it right out of the tavern door.

Where's the Fire, Buddy?

DETROIT (INS) — John Kowalczak, 38, of Detroit was under a five-day jail sentence today for using an unorthodox method of getting home a few minutes early. Police said Kowalczak avoided heavy traffic by driving behind a fire engine that was racing along with its siren open.

Ask Germany for Reunification

Dulles, Von Brentano Suggest Such a Move in Reds' Own Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of four nations launched a new effort today to reunify Germany by free elections and to persuade Russia such a step is "in its own interest."

Their effort followed a two-day meeting between Secretary of State Dulles and Heinrich von Brentano, West Germany's foreign minister. The two stressed the move in a 600-word communique summing up their talks last night.

The four - power conference brings together experts of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany for a study which the communique said "should provide a common basis for dealing with any new developments which might have a bearing on these questions."

"Recent developments in Eastern Europe have served to emphasize the urgent necessity for a solution of the problem of German reunification in the absence of which there can be no permanent settlement in Europe or any lasting stability."

The communique said Dulles and Von Brentano "shared the view that the maintenance of the strength of NATO remains as important as ever." They agreed West Germany should build up its military strength to carry its share of Western defense.

Commission Honors Former City Head

The Pontiac City Commission last night adopted a resolution in commemoration of Mrs. Kathleen Henson, former city commissioner and union leader, who died Feb. 28.

Offered by Commissioner John A. Dugan, a copy of the resolution was instructed to be sent to Bert Henson, husband of the deceased.

"Whereas, Mrs. Henson was the first woman to be elected to the City Commission in the history of the city, and served as commissioner from District 5 during 1942-46," the resolution read in part.

It also praised her as one of the pioneers in forming the CIO labor union here, and for her "interest in the problems of citizens of the community."

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Old Kingdom Regains Name on Gold Coast

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP)—Ghana was a rich West African kingdom that crumbled about 1,000 years ago. It flourished between the 6th and 10th Centuries.

The name is being restored to Africa tomorrow. "Ghana" has been adopted to designate the Gold Coast and British Togoland, which are gaining their independence as a British Commonwealth nation.

The name was chosen by Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah and his followers in this territory, opened up in the 15th and 16th Centuries by European traders looking for gold, slaves and ivory.

Pope Asks Lenten Ban on Smut, Sex-Bait

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has called for a Lenten campaign to get sexy posters and signs advertising movies off the streets and walls of Rome. He also criticized "pornographic periodicals exposed at newsstands, the immoral cinema and even television that penetrates into the intimacy of the home frequently with audacious spectacles."

Army Recovers Body of East Lansing Man

SEOUL, Korea (INS) — The Army has announced that the body of Sgt. 1-C Harry E. Witherell, 33, of East Lansing, has been recovered from the wreckage of an Army Globemaster plane which crashed near Seoul.

The Army announcement said 12 of the 16 bodies recovered from the plane so far have been identified.

Of the 159 Americans, mostly Army men, aboard the plane when it crashed Feb. 22, 137 survived and six others are still missing.

Innocent Not Guilty

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—When State Police cited Kenneth Lee Innocent of Lewistown, Mont., on a charge of overweight loading of his truck, he shifted part of the load over the front axel, bringing it within the legal axle weight regulations. Yesterday Justice of the Peace Rulon R. Price ruled Innocent was innocent.

Boy's Great Adventure Just Not Meant to Be

DENVER (AP) — Eleven-year-old Richard Jackson's great adventure ended almost before it began. With 50 cents in his pocket and a knapsack on his back he set out for New York City—by hitchhiking.

His first benefactor was Denver County Jail Warden, Gordon Dolliver, in whose car is a police radio. It was broadcasting descriptions of a runway boy—Richard.

OBSERVE PROGRESS — Visiting officer Bruce Olson, Berkley, California Police Department, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley, Leo J. Heenan, architect and Capt. William A. Crisp (l-r) check the progress and certain specifications for the new $900,000 Public Safety Building under construction on E. Pike St. Straley said he hopes the three story building, containing police headquarters, city prison, municipal court, and court clerk and fire chief offices will be ready by September 1, one month earlier than first anticipated.

Waterford Building Boosted Last Month

Building permits issued in Waterford Township more than doubled in February, compared to the previous month.

There were 29 permits issued for houses, totaling $303,998 for February, and only twelve permits for home construction totaling $120,670 in January.

Two garage permits were issued for each month, and gas station permits remained the same with four issued for January and February.

The four new gas stations will be located on Pontiac Lake road, Dixie Highway, Hatchery at Frembes and one on Elizabeth Lake road.

Total building permits issued, including additions, remodeling and commercial structures, were $491,064 for February as compared to $414,631 for January of this year.

At Waterford's April 1 Election

Predict High Vote Turnout

Waterford Township officials estimate that the number of Township residents voting in the April 1 election will more than double last year's general election total.

Louis Barry, acting township supervisor, said that 8,000 applications for ballot slips have been ordered compared to less than 4,000 for the last general election.

Barry and acting Clerk Ray Harrington arrived at the 8,000 figure due to the jump in the Feb. 18 primary election when some 1,500 residents went to the polls.

Approximately 700 voted in the 1955 primary election, Barry said.

Eight hundred absentee ballots have been ordered and deadline for application has been set for March 30, according to Harrington. Officials figure 10% of the total general election voters will be absentee ballots.

There are just a few less than 20,000 registered voters in Waterford Township, Barry said. Two precincts will be added to the 12 in the township after the April 1 election, Barry concluded.

Gas Pipe Line Company Asks Rate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Detroit, has proposed a $2,788,000 or 4.9 per cent annual wholesale natural gas rate increase, the power commission announced today.

The commission said the increase would be in addition to a $4,075,000 hike which was put into effect last November, subject to refund of any amounts later disallowed by the commission.

Michigan Wisconsin wants to make the boost effective April 15. It said it is necessary because of increases in the cost of gas it buys from Philips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla., an dthe cost of additional facilities necessary to serve newly authorized markets.

Plan Second Annual Festival

Rhubarb Queen to Reign

UTICA — The second annual Hothouse Rhubard Festival has been set for Saturday, March 16 at the American Legion Hall in Utica.

This annual event is sponsored by the Rotary Club here in cooperation with the Wolverine State Growers Assn.

Last year's festival was very well attended and considered a great success. Entries are expected to double the number exhibited last year. There will be five classes for the growers of rhubarb to enter their produce in. Entries of prepared dishes will be placed into nine categories. A junior division has also been added for the younger set.

Donald Klaus, chairman of the Rhubarb Committee, has announced that in addition to place ribbons, a large silver trophy cup, furnished by the National Bank of Detroit here, will be awarded to the grower with the best display.

Walled Lake Board to Get Information on Novi Transfer

WALLED LAKE—At a special meeting of the Walled Lake Board of Education on Monday, notice was received from the Oakland County Board of Education that a special hearing was to be held on March 21 at 4:30 p.m. in response to a petition from the Novi Board of Education requesting that the area south of 13 Mile road presently in the Walled Lake School district be transferred to the Novi district.

★ ★ ★

After some discussion the Board hired Marshall Smith, attorney, to represent them at this hearing and requested Superintendent Clifford H. Smart to work with him in furnishing information vital to testimony at the hearing.

The Board also was urged to be present at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday when the Oakland County Board of Education and the County Superintenednt would be in the district to examine the property named in the petition.

Smart presented the surveyors plat of the Field property near the Commerce school and the Board instructed the attorney to proceed with negotiations to acquire the property at terms previously arranged. A description of the Rozelle property was heard and Joseph Long was asked to take the steps necessary to acquiring this property which is also adjacent to the Commerce property.

A letter signed by Norma Popek, president of the Walled Lake Citizens' League, was read stating that the League would have challengers at the special school election on Monday, March 11.

DETROIT (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice John D. Voelker asked the state bar today to force Joseph A. Moynihan Jr., to use the "Jr." on the April 1 ballot.

Voelker, Democratic nominee in the spring election, acted after Secretary of State James M. Hare said yesterday he had no authority to order the "Jr." listing for Moynihan.

Moynihan, a Republican nominee to the high court, is the son of Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan. Voelker accused him of attempting to trade on his father's name.

Voelker wired John W. Cummiskey of Grand Rapids, president of the state bar, to "prevail upon my opponent to run under the name by which he has long been publicly known" or "take prompt and appropriate disciplinary action."

Hare, a Democrat, had written Voelker that he joined "in condemning this outright deceit" and would informally notify county clerks of his views by sending them copies of his letter to Voelker.

Voelker argued that Moynihan has run for office in the past as "Jr." and that is the name listed for him on the roster of the state bar.

Home Demonstration Agent Newly Added

A temporary home demonstration agent has been added to the staff of the Oakland County Extension Service to replace Mrs. Frieda A. Bennett who recently resigned.

Mrs. Anthony Rapes, 575 Van Dyke, Washington, has taken the post until a permanent replacement is found.

Mrs. Rapes is the wife of the farm superintendent and agriculture instructor at the Wayne State University Farm in Washington. She has a B.S. degree from Michigan State University in Home Economics and taught the subject in Clare, before her marriage.

Her duties with the Extension Service will mainly concern instruction in cotton dressmaking.

Colombia will start offshore oil drilling.

Reservoir Roof Probed in Troy

Owner Told to Repair City Water Hazard by Commissioners

TROY — The question of repairing the roof on a water reservoir in the Leonard Lane subdivision here, has been taken over by Troy's city commissioners. Clifton Trusdale, building inspector, was asked Monday night to check conditions of the allegedly dangerous roof and notify the owner Harry L. Shaberman, 8561 Hendrie, Huntington Woods to make repairs if necessary. The inspector said the roof is badly rotted and constitutes a hazard for the fifty or so children in the area.

Shaberman has been notified to that effect and has been told that if he does not make the necessary repairs, it will be done by the city and charged to him.

Area residents have filed several complaints because of the inadequate pumping system installed some 29 years ago and now frequently failing to provide necessary supply.

Residents also have made it known that they would like to join the city water system but are asking the property owner to stand full cost of the installations. Shaberman who paved the streets in the area without outside assistance, does not feel that it is his duty to do this. He has reported that the water supply is excellent but admits it is not always adequate because of pump failures.

Shaberman has said that he feels he has an obligation to residents in the area but that in the case of something as extensive as supplying water from the city system it is not entirely his problem.

The engagement of Florence Marie Frame to Wayne Schotz is announced. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frame of Dexter, Missouri and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Shotz of Holly. A June wedding is planned.

To reduce overcrowding on railroads, India's lines plan to buy 700 new coaches.

Independence Names Electrician

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—George L. Thomah, licensed electrician of Clarkston, was appointed to fill the vacancy of electrical inspector on a temporary basis last night by the Independence Board. The vacancy was caused by Jack Levitsky's resignation on Feb. 26.

SEEKS TAX BOOST

The board resolved to place on the April 1 ballot, the following resolution.

"The township deems it advisable and necessary to raise the tax limitations of the township of Independence for the year of 1957-58, by 37½ cents per one thousand dollars assessed valuation as equalized in each year for the purpose of purchasing recreational equipment and supporting a recreational program for the said township."

A request by the Community National Bank of Pontiac to define a portion of Independence township was withdrawn. A motion was made by Ira Snader to adopt and make a part of the township records, a request by Robert Jones, representative of the Clarkston State Bank as follows:

"That if and in the event any request be made in the future by any bank to set up an area for defining in the township as a banking area that he or his bank be notified and be given ample time to appear at the board meeting when the matter is discussed." The motion was seconded by Rolph Smith and the resolution passed.

The Clarkston Women's Club requested that the township board pay for the utilities for the library building. The motion was carried.

The motion was made and passed that the water system in Hy-Haven Subdivision be accepted provided they have met with the requirements as set forth by the township and will advise the township in time so that the township attorney can be present to pass on the legality of the document.

A request for rezoning to permit a trailer camp and a gravel pit were referred to the zoning board and the zoning appeal board respectively.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Pose Road Betterment Program in Commerce

Commerce Township

Facts and figures regarding the five-year road improvement proposition which goes on the April 1 ballot were revealed Monday by Ewald E. Schaffer at the regular meeting of the Commerce Elementary School PTA.

Schaffer, who headed a five-man Road Study Committee for Commerce Township, explained the program and what its cost would be to the average taxpayer.

The proposition, in essence, calls for about 12 miles of road paving within the township. Heavily traveled roads such as Carroll Lake, Oakley Park, Glengary and Benstein will constitute the major part of the paving program.

Funds raised from the proposed tax levy will be utilized for paving only; none of the extra millage will go for drainage or any other type of road improvement. Schaffer said.

In citing the amount of the proposed tax increase, he pointed out that the levy has been set at two be at the rate of about $4 per mills on assessed valuation.

About $12 Per Year

If approved, the road improvement project will cost the average Commerce Township taxpayer about $12 per year, based on the assumption that the average township home is assessed at $3,000. Actual cost to the taxpayer will thousand of assessed valuation, if voters approve.

Schaffer, a consulting engineer who was formerly employed by the Michigan State Highway Department, suggested that taxpayers give consideration to the amount of money spent per year on car repair as the result of riding over rough roads in the township. "The average cost of about $12 per year may seem small in comparison," he added.

Other members of the committee who spent many hours on research without township pay are Julius Clauss, James Shaw, Claude Garvey and Charles Ash. Clauss and Ash are also engineers.

Committee representatives are currently speaking before PTA groups in the township. They plan to appear at PTA meetings at Decker Elementary, Glengary Elementary, Union Lake Elementary, Wixom Elementary, Walled Lake Junior High and Walled Lake Senior High Schools.

Avon Township

Stone PTA will meet Thursday at 8:00 p.m. There will be an election of officers for the 1957-1958 term. Refreshments will be served by the third grade room mothers.

New Hudson

The PTA here will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the School Gymnasium for the regular meeting.

Waterford Township

The Donelson School PTA met last Thursday evening at the school. During the business meeting, Mrs. James Mercer read the nominating slate of new officers for the next year. The election will be held at the March meeting. Mrs. Turo's room and Mrs. Lackie's room tied for attendance honors at this meeting.

William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Schools, spoke on "Report Cards vs. Parent's Conferences," and told how the effectiveness of each method was weighed and why report cards are considered the better method of the two in reporting a child's progress.

Mrs. Iva O'Dell, principal, introduced the past presidents of PTA in honor of Founders' Day, and refreshments were served by the teachers.

Avon

Stiles School PTA will meet at the school Thursday at 8 p.m. The regular order of procedure has been reversed so that the youth organization program may be presented first.

The 4H club with their leader Mrs. James Angus will give an account of the past activities and future plans. Mrs. Fred Tuck will introduce her Girl Scouts and the Brownie troop will pe presented by Mrs. Julius Fisher. Floyd Cobb will speak on Cub Scouting and stress the need for such an organization in the Stiles school district.

Following the program the PTA will hold its regular business session and election of officers. Architect's plans for building additional rooms on the school will be displayed and work will begin as so as weather conditions permit.

Four Towns

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board of Four Towns School PTA will convene Monday evening March 11 at the home of Mrs. Malvin Grile of Locklin road at 8 p.m.

Commerce Township

Frank Crawford, president; Mrs. Louis DeYonge, vice president; Mrs. Fred Hering, mother vice president; Harry Cwikiel, father vice president; William Doggett, teacher vice president; Mrs. Robert Conway, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto Lind, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Thompson, treasurer and Mrs. Noel Swindler Jr.

Max Burt, school principal, has reported to the PTA group that the savings stamp program, now in its fourth week, is progressing as expected. He also mentioned that construction would soon begin on seven-room addition to the school.

Plan Addition to Ford Hospital

To Build Floors 5, 6; Benson in Hospital After Mild Heart Attack

DETROIT (INS) — A two-story addition will be built on Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit at an approximate cost of $3.3 million.

Benson Ford, president of the hospital board and a Ford Motor Co. vice president, announced yesterday that fifth and sixth floors will be constructed on the institution's main building.

Ford said construction will start immediately and take about two years.

The addition will provide private and semi-private rooms plus new maternity, delivery and nursery facilities. It will house 250 beds, including 100 which will replace beds in the original facilities opened in 1915.

IN HOSPITAL

A Ford Motor Co. spokesman at Dearborn reported that company Vice President Benson Ford is in Good Samaritan Hospital at Palm Beach, Fla., after suffering a "very mild" heart attack.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said Ford was stricken while vacationing at his Palm Beach home. He will be under observation at the hospital for two or three weeks.

Thief Ransacks Home, Steals 16-Gauge Gun

A 16-gauge shotgun was stolen last night from the home of Hazel Getyan, 3210 Cormick St., Waterford Township police said today.

Entry was gained by breaking glass in a rear porch, they added. The home was ransacked.

He Just Clips 'Em, Now

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—"It's all because of safety and electric razors," barber O. T. Jeter mourned as he put away his straight-edge razors and hung up a "no shave" sign. Jeter said he had been barbering 27 years and remembers when shaves cost 15 cents and made up half his business, xut—"It's just too easy for a man to shave himself these days."

UAW Leaders Meet in Detroit

Suggest Appeals Board With Non-Union Men to Hear Grievances

DETROIT (AP)—An appeals board composed of men "outside the union" is being considered by the United Auto Workers union to give members and locals another arena for their intra-union complaints.

The international executive board of the UAW is meeting in Detroit today to make plans for the Atlantic City convention.

A spokesman for the union said last night there was "general agreement" among the UAW leadership that a plan for such a board "should be recommended" at the international convention in Atlantic City, N.J., in April.

Details for the proposed board have not been worked out, the spokesman said.

Early thinking is aimed at providing an appeals court for the complaints of union members and locals who feel they did not receive justice at the hands of appeal bodies inside the International Union, the spokesman said.

The plan was not prompted by any recent complaints, he said.

Such a board for the UAW, with its $1,385,000 members, would be the first for a major union. The Upholsterers International Union, representing about 60,000 members, has had an outside appeals board about three years.

The spokesman said the board would be appointed by the convention "but outside the union and subject to no pressures in the union.' It would meet only when it had cases to hear, he said.

Appeals going before the board would include such grievances as a member's complaint that a seniority dispute was not handled properly by the union, the spokesman said, or a local's complaint that a member had not lived up to his "union responsibility."

The local now is the first step in an appeal within the union. If it is not settled there it may be taken to the international executive board. From there it may go before the convention. If still unsettled, the complainant may take his grievances to the courts.

It has not been decided where in the present system the proposed outside appeals board would be fitted.

MSU to Grant Degrees to 547 Students Friday

EAST LANSING (AP) — Degrees will be conferred on 547 students at winter term commencement exercises Friday at Michigan State University.

MR. AND MRS. GRANT McDONALD JR.

Leona Abbe Married

Mr. and Mrs. Grant McDonald of Clintonville road, Lake Oakland, announce the marriage of their son Grant Jr. to Leona Abbe of Hillman. The wedding was performed in Rust Brethren in Christ Church in Hillman on Feb. 23 at 2 p.m.

The bride wore a floor length gown of imported lace with a chapel train. The bouquet consisted of baby red roses and a crown headpiece secured her fingertip veil.

The new Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are living with the groom's parents for two weeks after which they will leave for a honeymoon trip to California.

Origin of Oxford Fire Still Under Probe

Cause or exact location of the $200,000 fire which spread from the basement of the Oxford Masonic Temple building through the third floor and threatened the main business block of the small community Monday will not be determined until early next week.

Oxford Fire Chief Ralph Van Wagoner said this morning investigation would continue next week after the wreckage of the building is hauled away.

Twenty members of the Oxford Blue Lodge, local Masonic order, meeting on the third floor of the 45 year old building, escaped safely after they smelled smoke and were warned by the patrons of a tavern located on the ground floor.

Over 200 firemen from 16 surrounding rural communities fought the blaze which began about 9 p.m. Monday and lasted until 8:30 a.m. yesterday.

Pope Begins Lent With Symbolic Ashes

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII today marked his own forehead with ashes as the penintential season of Lent began.

The pontiff marked his forehead while he said mass in his private chapel. Only a few members of his Vatican household attended.

Today, Ash Wednesday, is the day that Roman Catholics have their foreheads marked with ashes as a sign of penance and a reminder of the mortality of man.

The Lenten Season ends with Easter.

A grateful "guest" left a note of thanks after breaking into a cottage at 6810 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, Sheriff's detectives reported today.

John Beszlen, a Detroit owner of the cottage, said he found the place broken into when he came to make repairs yesterday. He told police that all the cupboards and drawers had been ransacked, but nothing was taken.

A canvas folding cot had been placed beside a living room stove in which a fire had recently been built, said Beszlen. A note found on the table read:

"I am very sorry for breaking in because I was cold but I was running away but now I am going back."

Beszlen said he was last at the cottage Feb. 12.

To Hear First-Hand Information

Wixom Residents to Voice Opinions

WIXOM—Regular meeting of the Wixom Civic Association, slated for 8 p.m. Thursday, will afford residents of the Wixom area a chance to voice opinions on all items pertaining to a village charter. The meeting will be held in the Wixom Elementary School gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

Two special guests will be on hand to present first-hand information on problems which arise in the formation of a village and on the methods of managing a municipality. They are Hy Dahlka, president of the village of Gibraltar (near Trenton), and Donald Smith, city manager of Madison Heights.

Wixom electors approved a proposal to incorporate as a village at a special election held on Feb. 5 in Novi and Commerce Townships.

Dahlka will describe the ways and means used by the Charter Commission in Gibraltar to iron out problems now facing the Wixom Charter Commission. Gibraltar serves as an ideal example, according to association officials, inasmuch as it was in the same situation as Wixom.

Novi Attorney Archie Leonard last night asked Oakland County Circuit Court to void the incorporation of Wixom as a village. He contended that the tie vote in Novi Township on the incorporation issue should have turned down the incorporation.

Named as defendants are the five members of the Wixom Charter Commission who have 15 days to answer.

At the special election on Feb. 5, Commerce Township approved the incorporation by a 189-102 vote, whereas the vote in Novi Township was 64-64.

Wixom lies in both Novi and Commerce Townships.

Big business (McLouth Steel) was moving into Gibraltar at the time of its incorporation as a village, according to Gunnar E. Mettala, a member of the association's publicity committee for the Thursday program. Likewise, the Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor Company will soon begin operations in Wixom.

Smith will inform the group on the various features of a village manager-type government. Although he manages a city, Smith will dwell on the features which would apply to a village as well as a city.

In order to attract as many residents as possible, the association will extend invitations to everyone living in the proposed village limits in the form of a letter, Mettala said.

The association will pass out check lists to persons who attend the meeting to find out preferences on many items to be included in the charter.

★ ★ ★

A question and answer period will be held.

Group Ready to Take Legal Steps to Banish Air-Borne Dishonesty

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The federal government has taken to watching television — the commercials, not the programs — as the first step in a move to banish dishonest "air-borne hucksterism."

The Federal Trade Commission, operating under a $100,000 grant from Congress, has been monitoring the networks for four months and now is ready to take legal action against advertisers indulging in unfair, misleading and deceptive claims.

Initial proceedings reportedly will be designed to inject a curative scare into the television industry. If the networks do not restrain wayward advertisers, lengthy and persistent litigation is thought certain to ensue.

Cigarette advertisers were hounded for 12 years before their ads were purged of questionable medical claims and reduced to the enticements of taste, flavor and aroma.

CLEVER ANNOUNCERS

An FTC spokesman said the major onslaught would be directed against clever announcers who deride competitive products by injecting impromptu scripts.

Special emphasis also will be devoted to "give away" and "bait" advertising, but matters of taste are considered beyond the government's purview.

"We are not arbiters of good taste," the spokesman said. "The commission can move only in the public interest to protect people from false and misleading advertising."

DRAW A LINE

Lowell Mason, originator of the program but no longer a commission member, said the greatest problem was to "draw a line between our heritage of vigorous economic initiative and the dishonest 'pitch' of the fast buck boys.

★ ★ ★

"The reputable merchant, the indignant citizen and the TV and radio station confronted with corner-cutting competition are united in wanting protection from air-borne hucksterism."

Though the huckster is a traditional American figure on the boardwalk and at the fair, Mason contended there "ought to be one place in the world — the home — where people can feel they won't be taken advantage of . . ."

Playwright Tennessee Williams, whose prize winning plays and films have been censored by religious authorities, was born in an Episcopal rectory of Columbus, Miss. His grandfather was a minister.

Hal Boyle Says:

Suez Crisis Causes Attack of Gout

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is anything the average American knows less about than sex, it is probably gout, a less widespread but even more troublesome affliction.

Gout partitions mankind into two distinct groups—those who laugh at gout, and those who have had gout.

A five-day siege in bed with my fourth attack of gout in 10 years has taught me who my true, true friends were. They were the visitors to my pallet of pain who listened respectfully to my tale of woe, and refrained from laughter until they had left.

The false friends were those who leered, "Been living too high, eh?", and who then laughed in my face when I replied with dignity, "No, the Suez Canal is chiefly responsible for my gout."

★ ★ ★

Maybe you think it's funny, too, for a man to blame his gout on the Suez Canal? Well, unbutton your ears and listen to few facts you probably never knew about gout:

1. Gout, like baldness, is a highly masculine affliction.

2. Gout is rarely mortal. It gives you an overwhelming feeling of being mortal. The pain is roughly comparable to the sensation you might have if somehow a hibernating porcupine inside your foot suddenly awoke and tried to break out, pushing a thousand needles into your crying flesh.

3. Gout is like wealth. Most of those who have it inherited it, and therefore deserve neither credit nor blame.

4. Gout is as old as mankind, and didn't follow the invention of port wine.

5. Gout is a form of rheumatism or arthritis, and a mouse, a horse or an elephant can get it, as well as an English lord—or you.

6. Gout specifically is an inflammation caused by an excess deposit of uric acid in a joint, resulting from an inborn defect in the metabolism of purines and a deficiency in steroid hormones.

7. Gout is not, as the ignorant assume, confined to the big toe. It can hit you in almost any joint, including a night club. I used to be a ball-of-the-foot gout man. At the moment I'm an ankle gout man.

8. Gout above the neckline is unknown, so far as I can find. Unfortunately for those who would prefer a quieter world, gout does not seem to attack the jawbone.

It can be precipitated by a surgical operation or injury, by undue physical or mental exertion, by a change in the weather, by certain drugs, or by an emotional shock—such as receiving unexpected praise from your wife, an unlooked-for pay hike from your boss, or a summons to explain your 1953 income tax return.

Now about my own gout attack, and why I hold the Suez Canal to blame.

For weeks, purely in the public interest, I had been cudgeling my brains over the Suez Canal crisis, hoping to find a way to help Ben-Gurion and Nasser in their mutual efforts toward peace—and thus give John Foster Dulles a breather between this crisis and the next one.

Well, sir—unaccustomed as I am to public thinking—the mental strain, helped along by two days of rainy weather, caused my purines and steroid hormones to back up—and down I came with the gout.

Now that the clouds are clearing over the Suez crisis, my purines are floating like soap bubbles and my steroid hormones are again humming like larks in all my arterial highways.

Gout, the curse of all us abstemious, high-thinking intellectuals, has fled my foot.

Yvonne Farner Becomes Bride in St. Michael Rite

Yvonne Theresa Farner became the bride of LaRue R. Wagner in a ceremony performed in St. Michael Church Saturday morning. The Rev. Norman Thomas celebrated the 10 o'clock Nuptial High Mass in the presence of 100 guests.

Yvonne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Farner of Elm street, approached the altar wearing a waltz-length gown of slipper satin fashioned with a nylon net flounced hoop skirt. A portrait neckline accented the fitted lace bodice and the long sleeves ended in points over the wrists.

Her fingertip tulle veil was secured by a tiny hat of seed pearls and brilliants. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses and carnations and her jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and pearl earrings that belonged to the bridegroom's mother.

Annette—Farner, Mrs. Ralph Thews and Mrs. Norman Wagner were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identically to the honor attendant's in shades of pink, yellow and orchid, respectively. Each carried a bouquet which matched her gown.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

LaRue, son of Mrs. Rose Wagner of Myra avenue, asked Jack LaCross to serve as best man. Seating the guests were Gene Miller, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Jack and Jerry Kurkowski.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wagner's choice was a navy and pink dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolphus Farner and Mr. and Mrs. William Farner Jr. were hosts at the wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's parents. An evening reception was held for 100 guests.

Symphony to Present 4th Concert

Ballet Company to Dramatize Tale on Tuesday Night

The fourth concert of the current season of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be held Tuesday night at 8:30 in Lincoln Junior High School, where the Lemanis-Tiliak Ballet Company will dramatize in classical dancing the tale of "The Nightingale gale and the Rose" adapted from a story by Oscar Wilde and with music by Dmitri Shostakovitch.

★ ★ ★

Osvalds Lemanis, and wife Mirdza Tillak Lemanis, who are the directors of the ballet, are both premier dancers, with the experience of successes in many great opera houses in Europe and other countries.

His choreography, or the art of arranging ballets, is said to be inspired by the mood, gradations and dynamic effect of the music and shows great skill in appreciation of dramatic values.

IMAGINATIVE QUALITY

The music of Shostakovitch has precipitated critical controversy because of its modern and imaginative quality, but his works have become fixtures in standard concert repertory and also have inspired beautiful ballets, such as the setting of the fanciful story of "The Nightingale and the Rose," the love of a poor student spurned by the distinquished lady, dramatized in dance form by a large group of ballerinas supported by an ensemble.

★ ★ ★

During the first half of this concert directed in its entirety by Francesco DiBlasi, the orchestra will be heard in a concerto in D minor for two violins by Bach. The soloists will be Jack Boesen and James Waring, first chair men in the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

The adagietto from the Fifth Symphony of Gustav Mahler will be the second number. Following intermission, the ballet will complete the program.

Beverly Sanborn Feted at Shower

Beverly Sanborn, bride-elect of Charles Gavette, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given Monday evening by Connie Redman and Vivian Sheffield.

Beverly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Sanborn of Thorpe street, will exchange vows with Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Gavette of Baldwin avenue, in a ceremony to be performed in First Baptist Church on March 23.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants. Miss Sheffield will serve as maid of honor, with Miss Redman, Sue Barks and Ruth Gavette as bridesmaids.

Attending the shower were Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. Gavette, Mrs. Edward Hoban, Mrs. Donald C. Senger, Sue Barks, Ruth Gavette, Conelda Brantley, Marilyn Shocklee, Evelyn Skrine, Marjorie Richards, Mrs. Richard Harrison, Dorene Shelton and Mrs. Bruce Reh.

Mrs. Mihalek Renamed President

City PTA Elects Officers

Mrs. William Mihalek was re-elected president of the Pontiac Council of PTA Tuesday in a meeting held at Whitfield School.

★ ★ ★

Others are Mrs. Fred Weist, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Lake, treasurer; Mrs. Roland Stephison, historian, and Warren Abbott, auditor.

Policies of the teachers' scholarship fund were discussed and the assembly voted for Pontiac Council to sponsor a fourth PTA scholarship for 1957-58. The scholarship amounts to $500 for the first year of college and $250 for the three following years.

★ ★ ★

The scholarship is open to all races, colors and creeds and is made possible through local PTA donations from fund-raising projects or from a designated sum allocated in their budgets or both.

ELECTION RULES

Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett, first vice president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers led a discussion on the proper procedure of local elections.

Mrs. Neldrett pointed out many do's and don't and also stressed the importance of keeping the by-laws of each organization up-to-date. A question and answer period followed the discussion.

Announcement was made of the PTA Problem Clinic which will be held at Brody Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, March 28. Registration will begin at 9 o'clock.

District Seven PTA workshops will be held May 8 at Derby Junior High School, Birmingham.

The Presidents' Breakfast, for incoming and outgoing PTA presidents, will be held April 9 at Hotel Waldron. Mrs. George Gray is general chairman for this event, with Mrs. Robert Lake in charge of reservations.

A PTA leadership training course will be given beginning April 15 at Pontiac High School. Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury.

The annual Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers Convention will be held April 23-24-25 at Traverse City.

April 28 through May 1 will be open house at Pontiac State Hospital and tickets amy be secured for the Mental Health Workshops by calling or writing Director, Social Service Dept., Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac High School PTA is presenting a film entitled "Man on a Tight Rope." Proceeds from this movie will be donated to Pontiac Council PTA Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Richard Stark and Mrs. Richard Scribner served at the refreshment table. Mrs. Alen Monteith and Mrs. Ross Walls were chairmen of the refreshment committee.

Double Duty Spring Outfit Combines Style, Economy

Reversible Coats and Detachable Panels Feature the Practical Travel Wardrobe

PARIS (INS) — The year 1957 will be a "tricky" one, at least as far as women are concerned.

Ladies won't pull rabbits out of hats, but they will change color like Chameleons or appear in a dress one moment and convert it into a coat the next. They will even add or remove panels and change from a low-cut decolletage to a school-girl look in one second flat.

Paris ready-to-wear designers are determined to give women a "double-duty outfit for a single-garment price for Spring. They propose styles—particularly practical for traveling—which limit the wardrobe but increase the possibilities.

Reversible Spring coats are number one on the Paris list of styles to come. Manufacturer Basta, for instance, proposes a two-in-one coat of which the "day-side" is of water-proofed navy-blue gabardine and the "evening-side" of Nile-green taffeta. Designer Madeleine de Rauch is also for trick-coats. Like several other fashion prophets, she believes in the fashion future of polka-dots for Spring.

She shows a white shantung shirt-waist dress cummerbunded in navy-blue. It is worn in town with a navy-blue shantung coat with white polka-dots. The coat reverses to a white shantung side for sea-resorts or Southern countries.

Budget-minded women may plan on one of the new double-purpose garments to see them stylishly through various occasions. One is a silk-nylon shirt-waist dress with a flaring cut from shoulder to hem. Buttoned down the front and with three-quarter sleeves it is considered an elegant classic in Paris. During the day you wear it with a belt as a dress. It is wide enough to be worn over a decollete dress as a cocktail coat after dark.

Chiffon will be just as fashionable in Spring as it was in Winter in Paris. Besides blouses and dresses, chiffon will be used for coats during the warm season. Made of a double-layer of chiffon such a coat can also serve as dress when worn belted and over a hem-length base.

Any home-seamstress can apply the new "decollete trick" when making herself a new Spring or Summer dress. Cut your dress with a low neckline even if you plan on wearing it during the day.

But get enough of the dress material to cut a turtle-neck bib, a hood cut in one with a shoulder-yoke or at least a triangular scarf to drape in the low neckline. This way you will look covered-up during the day and have an extra "decollete dress" for late occasions.

Manufacturer Gattegno had the idea to supply a "bloused back-panel" with slim-styled Spring dresses. It is frilled out of a shoulder yoke and is to be buttoned on to the shoulder-seams of a sleeveless, straight cut jersey tube-dress. The lower edge of the panel is bloused into a belt. This extra trimming gives a more sporty look to a slim-styled tube-dress.

MR. and MRS. JAMES L. DEAN

Signe Carol Blomberg and James L. Dean were married Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. Mr. and Mrs. Olof Blomberg of Grant road are her parents. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Dean of Cottage street.

Signe Blomberg Married

Signe Carol Blomberg became the bride of James L. Dean in a ceremony Saturday at St. Vincent de Paul Church in the presence of their immediate families.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Olof Blomberg of Grant road, and James' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Dean of Cottage street.

For her wedding Signe chose a powder blue suit with a Peter Pan collar of matching fur. Her flowered hat and shoes were in the same shade. Her flowers were a corsage of white glamellias.

Dolores Cook, her only attendant, wore a dove gray suit with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Robert J. Ahnen was best man for the double-ring service.

The newlyweds are touring the Southeastern states on their wedding trip and will make their home on Lorraine court on their return.

Watch Colors; Vary Extras to Give New Look to Basic Suit

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—Women should watch the colors of their accessories, and how they use them with an outfit.

According to clothing specialists, bright colors call attention to size and to any figure fault. So a woman with large hips should keep away from a bright red handkerchief dangling from a pocket or belt near the hip.

However, bright colors in accents help a short woman. Color emphasis at the neck or in a hat will make a short person look taller.

A single spot of a color has a "lonesome look," so it is better to have two articles the same color. A red hat and purse or scarf for a single navy suit, for example.

Women should have three sets of accessories to change the appearance of a basic suit or dress that is neither dressy nor sporty but "in between."

This gives women variety and could be done this way—one light colored set, one dark colored set and one bright-colored set. If one of the sets is dressy and the other sporty, the basic outfit would be ready for most any occasion.

Hassock for Child Has Many Uses

Hassocks come in all sorts of enchanting guises, designed for the youngster's room. Covered in vinyl plastic, they can be kept clean easily with a quick sudsy swabbing.

Beauty Hint

If you wear glasses, don't wear them with an apologetic or resigned look. There are so many smart, glamorous styles and colors in today's eyeglasses, that they can be worn gaily as a bright fashion accessory — dramatic and flattering.

Ungrateful U. S. Women Moan About Meal Fixing

By RUTH MILLETT

The club meeting had broken up and the women were sitting around chatting before driving home.

★ ★ ★

One made an offhand remark about having to stop at the market and how sick she was of trying to think of menus.

The others joined in and pretty soon they had convinced themselves that having to plan and cook two or three meals a day was a dreadful chore.

How ungrateful and unappreciative we American women sometimes sound.

★ ★ ★

In a world where people go hungry, how can any well-dressed, well-clothed and well-housed woman complain that deciding what to serve her family at mealtime is a chore?

EASY ROUTINE

All such a woman has to do to get a meal for her family is drive to a supermarket, pick out what she wants, pay for it, have it carried to her car, drive home and cook it.

If her kitchen is as up-to-date as the clothes she is wearing and the car she is driving, she can cook a meal with a minimum of time and effort.

And even if her kitchen isn't the last word in shining efficiency, with all the canned and frozen foods and packaged mixes available, she can still cook a meal in almost less time than she can complain about it.

With all the foods she has to choose from, if she can't think of anything she must be entirely lacking in imagination. And with cooking as simple as it can be today, if she thinks cooking three meals a day is a dreadful chore, she must be lazier than she cares to admit.

★ ★ ★

It doesn't become the American woman who, by the standards of most of the world, is living in the lap of luxury to grumble over the chore of planning and cooking for her family.

Fashion Hint

If you're planning to wear a certain dress in your wardrobe to a dinner or party, try it on well in advance. Strange things seem to happen to clothes as they hang in closets and you may find yourself, on the evening of the affair, in a dress that fits only here and there.

Parents Out When Boy Visits Girl

Was She Wrong to Ask Lad Over for Study Session?

By EMILY POST

The following question is asked by a young girl: "Was it wrong for me to have a boy I know well come to the house to help me with my homework when my parents were out? It was very early in the evening, but when Mother and Dad came home and found him there they were furious with me and said that it was very improper to have a boy come into the house when they were not home.

"We've been best friends for years and our families have known each other a long time. Will you please tell me if there was any impropriety in this situation?"

Answer: Considering the fact that you know him very well and your families know each other and the hour was early, I see no impropriety in what pou did. If he was someone you knew very slightly and the hour was late that would be another story.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible, and correct, to cut a piece of meat, fork held in left hand, tines down, and place a small amount of vegetables (mashed potatoes and peas) on top of the piece of meat on the back of the fork by means of the knife held in the right hand?"

Answer: No I cannot approve of piling vegetables on the fork. Vegetables are propertly eaten separately with the fork held in the right hand. A very small amount of potato or sauce may be put on the back of the fork with the meat when it is eaten with the left hand.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to Europe soon. There will be friends and relatives to bid us goodbye at the ship and no doubt we shall receive gifts from some of them. Will it be required of us to bring back gifts to them?"

Answer: If you can, and would like to, pick up souvenirs of some kind they would be appreciated, but really not exacted.

Striking Lamp Is Focal Point for Room Decor

Lamp exhibitors at the winter market of the Western Furniture Mart in San Francisco admit it frankly. They point out that women are willing to pay for lamps that are the most striking piece in any room.

It would take a fairly good-sized room to carry off a lamp displayed by one exhibitor. The lamp, basically white, has an accordion-pleated shade 27-inches high, and a base 24 inches high and a foot wide.

Capital Gets Definition of Protocol

Diplomat Advises Partygivers to Put Guests at Ease

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — The importance and scope of protocol, a top concern of the government and bugaboo of local hostesses, was defined for newcomers among congressional wives by one of the Homburg set charged with handling the ticklish business.

Clement Conger, the State Department's assistant chief of protocol, told the Congressional Club the word stems from the Latin "protocullum" meaning "glued in, like a book," but actually, in translation, means the ancient beginnings of the orderly form of conducting international relations, the practice of niceties and formalities, etc.

"Unfortunately," Mr. Conger said, "many Washington hostesses worry too much about things on the international level, and a great many people pay too much attention to precedence (who outranks whom in importance) when all that should concern them is that their guests are properly honored and at ease."

Protocol is big business in our capital, and Conger said it demands a "lot of hard, boring work," by the State Department's protocal staff of 20 women and seven men.

★ ★ ★

Wiley T. Buchanan, former ambassador to Luxembourg, is the new protocol chief. He succeeds the personable John F. Simmons who retired after 40 years service as a career diplomat and foreign service officer.

ACTUALLY 4 CORPS

There are actually four diplomatic corps in the United States, Conger said.

★ ★ ★

In addition to envoys to this government, there are delegates o the Organization of the American States representing 20 countries of the Western Hemisphere; accredited delegates to the United Nations in New York, and NATO representatives.

★ ★ ★

Not all countries send a separate envoy to each body mentioned. In fact, many South American countries assign a single ambassador to represent their governments in both the capital diplomatic corps and the OAS headquartered here at the Pan American Union.

Many other countries also combine the office of ambassador to the United States and the U.N.

As many as 100 diplomats have been accredited to the United States in one day in recent years, with the governments of almost every known country in the world having representation here.

Benno and Sylvia Rabinoff, violin and piano team, will perform at the fourth concert of the current season being sponsored by the Waterford Township Civic Music Association. They will appear March 26 at 8:30 p.m. in Isaac Crary Junior High School.

Violinist, Pianist Star March 26 in Civic Concert

Benno and Sylvia Rabinoff, husband and wife violin and piano team, will be featured artists at the fourth concert sponsored this season by the Waterford Township Civic Music Association.

The celebrated violinist and his distinguished pianist wife will appear March 26 at 8:30 p.m. in Isaac Crary Junior High School auditorium as part of their 12th nationwide tour.

They have recently returned from a tour of the European continent where they played in recital, with orchestra, and on the radio. As a result of this successful tour, they have been invited by the International Exchange Program of ANTA to tour the Near East.

FAMOUS TEACHER

Mr. Rabinoff began his career under the guidance of the famous teacher, Leopold Auer. His first teacher was his uncle. He then studied with Franz Kneisel, with Victor Kuzdo, and then with Auer at the age of 11.

★ ★ ★

He managed to keep his musical activities a secret from his contemporaries for eight years. But the secret was out when he made his brilliant debut at Carnegie Hall at 19. Since then he has become thoroughly established as a leading violin virtuoso, appearing as soloist with leading symphonies in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Mrs. Rabinoff accompanies her husband on the piano entirely from memory. She was a successful solo pianist when she gave up her career to become her husband's accompanist partner.

She is also a composer, with a children's operetta and a suite for chamber orchestra among her works.

GUARNERIUS VIOLIN

The audience at this concert will hear one of America's top virtuosos playing a rare and wonderful old Guarnerius violin. It was made in 1742 and is one of the three "singing sisters" in existence.

The first of these belonged to the great violinist composer, Paganini, and is preserved in a museum in Genoa, his birthplace. Miraculously, the bombs of World War II did not destroy this priceless instrument.

The second of the "sisters" is owned by Jascha Heifetz and is preferred by him to any other instrument. Rabinoff's audiences can testify that the tone of the violin is as superb as is Rabinoff's performance on the famous instrument.

Mr. Rabinoff has given his beloved instrument the nickname of "Tiger" because of the golden blending of the wood grain on its back. The Guarnerius is valued at $40,000 and the violin bow he uses is one of the finest examples of the famous French bow-maker, Tourte, and is insured for $3,000.

The type of programs presented by the Rabinoffs is typical of their private lives. Each is a distinctive and dynamic personality, yet together their personalities are completely complementary.

Their program will consist of violin works accompanied by the piano, a group of piano solos, music in which the violin and piano are of equal importance.

Spirit Matters More Than Chore

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When this school year began, it was with the rule that 11-year-old Joyce make her bed every morning.

★ ★ ★

She resists it. Joyce "makes" her bed by pulling her coverlet up over her rumpled bedclothes, leaving an untidy balance of sheet and blanket drooping from under it.

Her mother, figuring the resistance was due to school-morning haste, tried waking her half an hour earlier. But the extra time has not produced a neatly made bed.

The tension and criticism involved with Joyce's resistance to this rule is making all cooperation between her and her mother increasingly difficult.

REPEAT THE RULE

To reduce it, it may be wise and say to Joyce, "In what other way do you want to contribute to your home?"

★ ★ ★

Sometimes a child will resent a rule we have made so much that it becomes too costly to try and enforce it.

Then, like the Congress that repealed the prohibition law, we do well to withdraw our demand for the specific obedience — and ask for a cooperation the child can more willingly give.

Otherwise, our inflexibility can set up chronic resistance. Just as the law enforcement agencies of the prohibition era became involved in an undending, undeclared, expensive war with the American people, we get caught in such war for the child's submission. In the end, nobody is disiplined.

What makes it hard for us to compromise with a child's resistance to some chore like making his bed or hanging up his coat is our over-evaluation of these actions.

They are not of first value. The first value is the development of his spirit of helpfulness.

Once this is clearly seen, flexibility and confidence return to our treatment of him. We no longer limit Joyce's spirit of helpfulness to the making of her bed, but see that it can express itself through a wide variety of cooperative actions.

So, freed from the belief that we must force bed-making from Joyce, we find it the simplest thing in the world to say, "All right, darling. I'll make your bed for you. In return will you promise to scour my refrigerator thoroughly every Saturday morning?"

A high waist was indicated by means of a half belt in back on coats that are fluid and beautifully cut in soft woolens from the fashion showings abroad. Coats throughout the collections set a softer feminine trend.

SPRING

Popular use of silks and filmy chiffons for Spring Costumes demand high lustre and polish in the hair. This means more hair care . . . professionally if you possibly can.

Perhaps a scalp treatment along with your shampoo will eliminate any trace of drabness or touch of dullness left over from the winter.

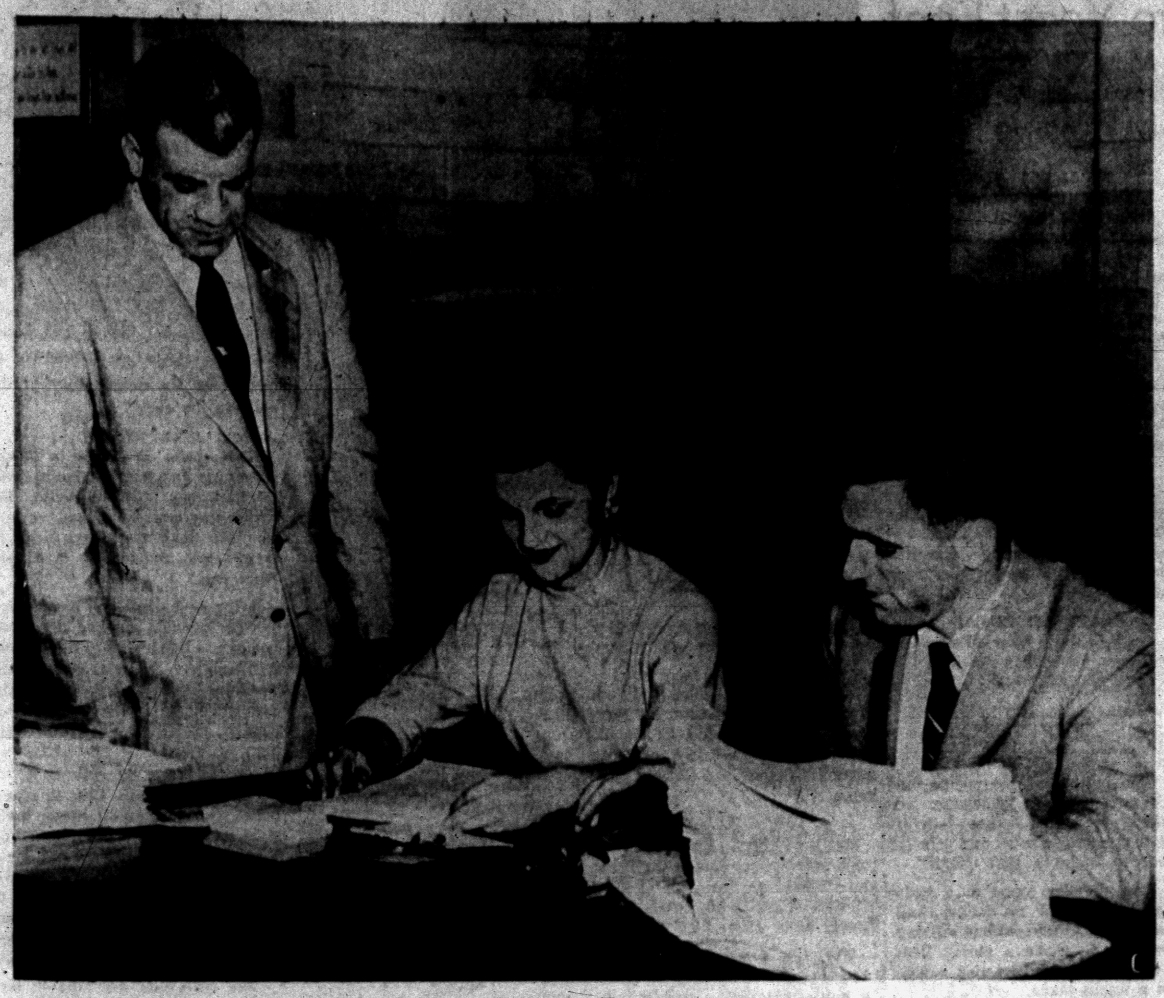

Color too, reflex the feeling of Spring . . . new hues allow you to accent the natural color of your hair or give it a completely new shade.

Again . . . the demand for brilliant and lustrous tones. For tinted hair that is dull and lifeless gives the effect of old fashioned "dye jobs," much whispered about in the old days.

So for Spring . . . by all means emphasize your waves with luster.

Citizens' Committee for State Hospital Has Election

The Oakland County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital elected officers at a meeting held in the hospital Tuesday night. Ted Panaretos (left), psychiatric case work supervisor and consultant to the group, is photographed with Mrs. Leon Glynn of Elizabeth Lake road, a board member, and Don A. Harrower of Holly, president of the group. Plans were made to assist with Mental Health Week April 28 to May 1.

Pants Are Now Lady-Like

NEW YORK (INS)—Women who like to "Wear the Pants" will have to disguse the impulse this summer.

Pants are turning lady-like and are masquerading as skirts.

Culottes are suddenly fashionable once more and so are skirt-like trousers and skirt-length full pajamas.

These types of loose pants should be a great style aid to women, both in comfort and eye-appeal. You don't have to worry about the rear view with loose culottes as you do with skinny pants.

To Observe Health Week

★ ★ ★

Other officers include Mrs. Thomas Yowell of Royal Oak, vice president; Mrs. Jack Alpeters of Holly, secretary and Mrs. Clarence Chapman of Berkley, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were the Rev. John Trece of the Catholic Family Center; the Rev. C. George Widdiefield, All Saints Episcopal Church; Mrs. Leon Glynn, Jack Alpeters and Arthur Heaton.

The citizens' group assists in acquainting the community with the problems of the mentally ill, particularly when patients are returned to their communities, and helps with parties and projects for patients within the hospital.

This group has given several dances and plans future projects, with proceeds going to the hospital's recreational and occupational therapy departments.

Last night the members heard Marguerite M. Parrish describe one of the therapy techniques known as psychodrama. Assisting her were staff members Bernie Hansen, Helen VonWeiler and Ted Panaretos.

★ ★ ★

Plans were made for the citizens' group to assist with preparations for Mental Health Week, April 28 to May 1, at Pontiac State Hospital. The meetings of the group are supervised by Panaretos.

VIRGINIA MAE BEEBE

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Beebe of Meadowlawn avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Mae, to Bill Gruber. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gruber of Short street. No wedding date has been set.

When using lip rouge to increase the size of your lips, you will achieve a more natural effect if you use less intense rather than more intense color.

Donald Gilchrist Claims His Bride in Chicago Rite

In a ceremony in the Cathedral of St. James in Chicago on Saturday, Jean Vilma Kirst became the bride of Donald Clark Gilchrist, Jr. The 4 o'clock ceremony was read by the Rev. Howard S. Kennedy, dean of the cathedral.

Jean is the daughter of Mrs. W. H. Kirst of Chicago. Donald's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Gilchrist of Colrain Ave.

As she approached the altar, the bride was wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The full skirt extended into a chapel sweep.

Marily Kreitzburg of Waterloo, Iowa, served as maid of honor. Other attendants were Elsie Drechsler and Mrs. Albert Keenan of Chicago. Christie Kirst of Foster, Ohio, performed the duties of flower girl.

★ ★ ★

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

★ ★ ★

A beige dress with matching accessories was the choice of Mrs. Gilchrist. Her corsage was also of orchids.

Prevention Is Easier Than Cure

Protect Hands Against Dermatitis

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When you do your own housework your hands come in contact with many substances which may be irritating or to which you may be sensitive.

★ ★ ★

Dry, rough or red hands should not be neglected because this condition, as bad as it is, can worsen rapidly. Cracks may develop between the fingers when the skin's defense is weakened. Later bacteria may move in causing infection. The nails and the nail beds also may be affected.

One of New York's most distinguished dermatologists gives the following suggestions for avoiding dermatitis of the hands.

1. Insure protection from excessive exposure to cold. Wear gloves, warm ones, when you are out in severe weather. The chilling hands take plus the low humidity of steam-heated rooms makes it difficult for the horny cells to absorb the essential amount of water. Thus the hands become chapped.

2. The normal skin is kept pliable by the oil or grease which is secreted by the sebaceous glands. When we wash our hands with soap or when they come in contact with detergents some of this natural lubrication is removed. This grease keeps the horny layer of skin from losing too much moisture.

In summer the humidity is high and the weather warm so that the outer layer of skin can retain sufficient water. In winter we must use creams or lotions on our hands. Blondes and older folks usually have more trouble with chapping than brunettes and younger people do.

OUT OF WATER

3. We must protect the hands against the agents which most often cause dermatitis. We should plan to keep our hands out of water as much as possible and use soaps and detergents as mild as feasible for the job they are to do.

★ ★ ★

4. Dry the hands carefully, especially in cold weather.

The foregoing measures will prevent dermatitis for many people. However, there are numerous women who require more protection. The rubber or waterproof glove is the perfect answer.

These gloves are as streamlined as modern cars. Today's household gloves are a far cry from the first ones on the market. They have longer cuffs so that irritants cannot splash over the top. They are skid proof so that you do not drop articles when you have them on.

★ ★ ★

The best ones have absorbent linings so that your hands are not irritated by perspiration. They even come in different colors so that you can carry out the color scheme of your kitchen.

MOST UNPLEASANT

A simple dermatitis of the hands can turn into a severe one which may take months and longer to cure, and which can be most unpleasant. Prevention is the word to remember.

★ ★ ★

If you would like my leaflet "Exercises to Keep the Hands Flexible, Graceful and Young," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 12 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Thinks Girls Should Treat Men as Friends — Not Prizes."

Few Ounces of Prevention Chase Menace to Beauty

Most of us are quick to grab at any straw to restore moisture to our skin and hair when we notice the first signs of dryness.

We're aware that dry hair is brittle and unattractive, and that dry skin can cause wrinkles. So we begin to watch our diets carefully and start on a diligent campaign against the approach of this menace to beauty.

It's true that lubricating creams help immeasurably to restore smoothness and softness to the complexion, and that oil treatments will do a world of good for dry hair. Foods rich in calcium and Vitamin A and B complex are valuable aids in alleviating this condition, too.

But in winter weather, when it's so good to get in out of the cold, how many of us stop to realize that an overheated, stuffy room is an enemy of beauty and one of the primary causes of dry skin and hair.

BEAUTY AID

Have you ever thought of a thermostat, a plant or a pan of water as a beauty aid? Any one of them can be, for each helps to retain the necessary humidity indoors at the time of year when windows, for the most part, must be kept closed.

They should be considered just as essential as cold-weather complexion care as creams and protective lotions.

During the winter, open the windows wide occasionally for a few minutes to refresh the supply of air. It's a good idea, too, to have several leafy green plants or fresh flowers in bows of water, for they will add moisture to the atmosphere.

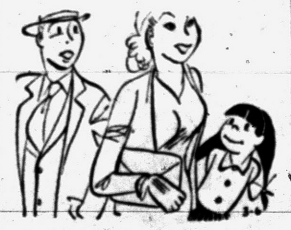

MOISTEN AIR

If you notice suddenly that the room seems close, place a pan of water on the radiator or turn on the shower for a short time, and moisture will be produced quickly.

You might want to invest in a new thermostat that will automatically control the temperature for you—one that turns on the heat in the morning and turns it off at night without any attention from you. And keep it set as low as your comfort will permit.

The old "ounce of prevention" adage still holds true. So along with the protective lotions you normally use during the winter months, be sure not to overheat your home. Keep it warm and cozy, by all means. But for beauty's sake, don't rob it of moisture.

It takes very little to capture a man's imagination—especially if a girl is wearing it.

Look for Aztec Look

MEXICO CITY — Will the next New Look be the Aztec Look?

It will if Mexican designers have anything to say about it. They're going back to Aztec days, 10 centuries ago, for "new" designs in dresses, textiles and colors. A dress fair late this year will feature the Aztec Look.

Decorating Nursery?

When you plan a decorating scheme for the new baby, keep in mind the fact that easy cleaning is of prime importance. Slip-resistant rubber tile is a wise choice for the flooring of baby's room. Stains are easy to remove from rubber and a quick once-over with a damp mop keep colors sparkling and dust-free.

Yellow Herb Adds Flavor to Yeast Loaf

Mrs. West's Bread Is Golden Colored and Raisin Filled

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Although Saffron Bread is often used as a Christmas bread, there is no reasoan why it should not be made throughout the year. It is a pretty color, and the saffron flavor is a little different from ordinary flavors.

Mrs. Enar West is today's cook. She is a well known Pontiac resident and high school teacher. We know the Wests are square dance enthusiasts.

Mrs. West likes to play bridge, belongs to the Parent Guidance Club and helps in Girl Scouting. Much of her free time lately has been spent deciding questions about the new home the Wests are building.

SAFFRON BREAD
By Mrs. Enar West

¼ pound butter or margarine
1 cup milk
1 package saffron
1 egg
4 tablespoons sugar
4 to 4½ cups sifted flour
1 yeast cake or 1 package yeast
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins

Melt butter or margarine and add milk; heat to lukewarm. Add saffron to milk, then slightly beaten eggs, sugar and enough flour to make a thin dough.

Now dissolve yeast in a little sugar and add to dough. Add salt, raisins and continue stirring in flour to make a glossy firm dough. Cover and let rise double in a warm place.

Add enough more flour to make it possible to knead dough on board and keep working it until it no longer sticks to board. Form into ring or buns. Brush tops with slightly beaten egg and sprinkle with almonds. Bake on a greased pan in a 375-degree oven for 45 minutes for the ring. Smaller buns will take 15-20 minutes.

'Work' for Beauty

The famous beauties whom you admire got that way by hard work. Not one of them achieved that flawless look by overeating, slumping and lack of exercise. Keep this in mind when you yearn to be lovely. You can be but it takes hard work, not wishful thinking.

Beauty Hint

A seam down the back of the leg cuts its width. If your legs are heavy, never wear seamless stockings, however fashionable they may be.

Joan Geil and Ronald E. Guyette were married Saturday. Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Geil of Rochester, and Ronald is the son of Mrs. Mildred Guyette of South Astor street.

MR. and MRS. RONALD GUYETTE

Joan Geil Speaks Vows in Rochester Ceremony

Married in St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, Saturday were Joan Geil and Ronald E. Guyett. The 8 o'clock service was performed by the Rev. Walter Gerken.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Geil of Rochester are parents of the bride, and Ronald is the son of Mrs. Mildred Guyett of South Astor street.

For the ceremony witnessed by 150 guests, the bride chose a gown featuring a Schiffli embroidered bodice with a high neckline. The floor-length skirt of tulle was appliqued with Schiffli embroidery.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William Dobberteen of Sturgis served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a blue nylon sheer gown with a boat neckline, short sleeves and floor-length bouffant skirt.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Gwen Rathka was maid of honor. Jean Geil and Kathey Batchelor, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their gowns were similar to the matron of honor's and they carried bouquets of pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

Kenneth Guyett of Rochester was his brother's best man, and ushers were Robert Guyett of Clarkston, brother of the bridegroom, Jim Arnold and Jack Bailey.

The reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Geil wore a navy shantung dress for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were pink and her flowers were pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Guyett chose a light brown crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

When the couple left for their honeymoon, the bride had changed to a black and white cotton knit suit with black accessories and the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside in Pontiac on their return.

Rainy Day Tip

Spring shopping tip: Umbrellas are seasonal now and many smart wardrobes will include one white umbrella for spring and summer wear. Also, umbrellas are getting lighter in weight and shorter in length.

Keep Swabs Handy

Keep a supply of cotton swabs in your playroom or den. They come in handy for pasting jobs of all kinds, as paint daubers, and in making attractive decorations and party favors.

Easter Suit Chief Item for Spring

Many New Styles; Skirts Slim or Full in Varied Fabrics

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

In the spring a woman's fancy invariably turns to thoughts of an Easter suit. She also dreams of hats and shoes, gloves and handbags and crisp new fripperies, of course, but the major objective usually is the suit.

This spring it will be a fussy customer indeed who can't find a flattering suit silhouette, because the new suits are easier to wear than they have been in years, and they come in many varieties.

In the first place you won't have to wear a waist cincher any more to squeeze into a tightly fitted jacket. Lines have been eased, and the loose or semi-fitted jacket is the new thing. Skirts may be slim or pleated, but all have room for walking.

★ ★ ★

Tall women will like the new tiered skirts, seen in many high-style suits, usually accompanied by a semi-fitted hipbone length jacket. For women who don't like the tubular look there are plenty of pleated skirts which look slim when standing still, but allow freedom for climbing in and out of taxis.

The new suits are notable for and soft, feminine details such as neckline bows, piping, tab trimmings and other dressmaking tricks.

The severe man-tailred suit is hard to find this spring—and a good thing, too, because this is the style that looks well on very few women.

You'll be seeing more pale gray suits this spring, after several seasons of charcoal tones. Navy is important also, especially with crisp white lingerie touches and white accessories.

Frilly, feminine pajamas that are so comfortable, sew-easy. The bo-ruffled top can be made with or without puff sleeves; panties need little fabric.

No. 8478 with Patt-O-Rama included is in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 12 (32 bust), 3¼ yards of 35-inch; panties, 1⅛ yards.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Basic Fashion, Spring & Summer '57 will delight you with its wealth of smart, easy-to-sew styles; special features; gift pattern printed inside the book. Send for it now—just 25 cents.

No Capsule Treatment Available

Tip to Girl Longing to Be Popular

If only someone would invent a popularity capsule that eager types could take to insure their social success in a jiffy. But it doesn't work that way. It's hard work that requires stick-to-itiveness to the project at hand.

You just can't dream yourself to popularity, if it doesn't come naturally.

How to go about it?

One way is to be analytical to discover why you are not the little magnet another is in corralling friends. Study the most popular girl you know to discover how she wins friends. (a) Do people gravitate to her naturally or (b) does she make a real effort to win them over.

★ ★ ★

Is her attractiveness due to maternal things? Clothes? A big allowance? Sporty car? Important friends?

STUDY YOURSELF

How do you stack up against her as a type? You may find out you have nothing in common. But you may find the key to your own personality in the process. It is little things that contribute to popularity. Put a number of them together and there you have it. Here are some pointers suggested by other girls who find they really work if you'll just give yourself a chance:

1. Be a cheerful earful. Put on your brightest face in adversity. Avoid a dour countenance, a whiney manner that announces you "haven't a real friend in the world."

2. Consideration helps. Don't be available just when someone asks you to help. Go out of your way to lend a hand to others (a new classmate may be won over at once, merely by offering to assist her.

3. You may scare would-be friends away. Include others around you "in" on small conversation. Whispered chatter frequently makes others suspect that you prefer to be aloof.

4. Play up your best point. Make 'em laugh, entertain at the piano or harp or just be a jolly good audience without putting hero worship into your eyes.

5. Get your own dates. Don't depend on other girls to get you dates and don't get a "boyfriend snatcher" reputation. That will ruin you with other girls.

6. Be a busy type. Avoid that moping appearance that shivers for a kind word. Look interested in life, even if some days seem darker than others.

7. Snob - technique doesn't work in choosing friends. Many a girl has learned to her sorrow the girl she singled out to snub becomes the most popular girl in the crowd.

Despite his relatively minor role in the Yankee scheme, Joe Collins has as much job security as any 34-year-old player has a right to expect. Right now he is probably Casey Stengel's No. 3 first sacker. Moose Skowron is first in line. Marv Throneberry is second. Marv hit 42 homers at Denver last season, but rookies who clout for distance in high altitudes might be a major league risk at sea level. Meanwhile, Collins sits back with a $22,000 contract. He has hauled down a winning share in six World Series and the loser's pot in a seventh. He hit only .225 last year, but usually it was Collins' long ball that produced 43 important runs.

Hot Fight for First, Third Base Spots

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND — Tigertown becomes a hub of activity today as Tiger farmhands from Charleston, Augusta and Durham start moving into the village barracks, while Tiger upperclassmen prepare to engage in this first intra-squad game at Henley Field.

The intra-squad contest should start the battle for positions in preparation for the opening game of the Grapefruit Circuit against the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota, Fla., Saturday.

Heaviest competition will be at third and first base, Ray Boone is all set to take his first starting role at the first corner with Ed Robinson, Earl Torgeson and Jack Phillips also bidding for the job.

At third, Jim Finigan has the edge presently over Reno Bertoia and George Risley.

With the shortage of left side power, and in event Finigan does not come through at third, Tighe might be forced to return Boone to the hot corner and use Robinson and Torgeson around first, unless of course the Tigers make a deal to bring in some lefthanded hitting.

Rookies George Risley, at third, Ken Hadley at 1st, and Ron Samford at second will make the most serious bids in the fourthcoming spring games.

Tuesday's rain again limited drills to a short rookie-intra-squad game which was switched to Tigertown because of the soaked turf at Henley Field.

Saturday's game at Sarasota will be broadcast at 1:30 p.m. direct from the field.

"This run of bad weather is especially tough on a team like Detroit,' said Cach Don Lund. "Here's a club anxious and eager to get out there and do something, and it's pretty disgusting for them when they can't let off that steam."

Tighe and most of the Tiger front office personnel were in Tampa last night for the annual baseball dinner given by the governor of Florida. But even the state's top executive and the Chamber of Commerce couldn't persuade the weatherman to clear the skies.

★ ★ ★

Most of the baseball bigwigs at the Tampa get-together had a few encouraging words about the Detroit club. Frank Lane, the trade-happy general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, remarked jokingly that "these Tigers are so interesting I ought to be back in the American League where I could trade for some of them."

Al Lopez, who switched managerial jobs, going from Cleveland to Chicago, figures the Tigers as "one of the toughest teams in the league."

"It seems like all the Tigers need is a little help here and there. If they get it, then watch out."

BRIGHT OUTLOOK? — At least that's the way it seems to both sports editor Bruno Kearns (left) and general manager Spike Briggs of the Tigers, at Lakeland, Fla. Picture was made the other day when the sun was shining (it rained yesterday). Kearns is writing a daily story for these pages on the Tiger training season.

Jewelers Rebound, Royals Move Into Class A Final

Shaw's Jewelers bounced back into the winning column and the Lakeside Royals advanced to the final round in the Class A City Basketball League playoffs Tuesday night at Pontiac High.

The Jewelers, upended by Lakeside Monday for their 1st loss of the season, rebounded with an 82-54 victory over Walled Lake Super Market. The defeat eliminated Walled Lake from the double-knockout tournament.

Lakeside reached the finals with a 72-56 decision over CIO Local 594. Buster Pembroke paced the Royals with 24 points while the CIO's Mel Taylor took scoring honors with 27. The CIO meets Shaw's tonight in the 'A' semi-final.

Pietz Market qualified to enter the Class D playoffs with a 46-36 win over the Wolverines at Lincoln. The two teams were tied for the remaining berth in the 'D' tourney. The Class D tournament starts tonight.

In other 'D' games last night, the Elks trounced Beedle's Cut-Rate, 44-30, and the Celtics walloped Coca Cola, 42-19.

Hoeft Clowns, Serious Too

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — There are times—especially during an extended losing streak—that baseball around the Detroit Tiger clubhouse would become a pretty drab affair.

But not while Billy Hoeft is on the pitching staff. The big lefthander, veteran of the club at 24, has been the clubhouse comedian for lo these many seasons. And he doesn't intend to stop—or even slow down, for that matter.

Hoeft's flair for fun has had the Tiger front office more than concerned for the past few seasons. And some of the top executives breathed easier when the 20-game winner was married a few weeks ago.

They believe Hoeft needs to mature. Hoeft himself doesn't regard it as a matter of maturity.

"I like to have a little fun," he said in an interview. "It's just not my nature to be solemn and grim-faced all the time. I guess there aren't too many things I take seriously. But if anyone thinks I don't take baseball seriously, he's way off the beam."

Hoeft is cautiously optimistic about his future. He won't predict how many seasons he'll be around, or how many games he'll win. Someone recently drew a comparison between Hoeft and Dizzy Dean.

"They said he was a clown, too," Hoeft reminded, "but he won a few ball games, didn't he?"

So serious is Hoeft about his pitching that he often sat alone in a corner of the clubhouse before an assignment, cold sweat rolling off his body.

Veteran first baseman Earl Torgeson recalls the first time he ever faced Hoeft, back in 1952 when Bill first joined the Tigers.

"I was with the Boston Braves," Torgeson said, "and we faced Ted Gray and Hoeft in an exhibition game. I never saw two lefthanders with more stuff. And Hoeft has become a lot better since then."

Top Pros Tune Up Games for Pensacola Tourney

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Most of the nation's top golfers tuned up their game today for the Pensacola Open, but practice and qualifying scores indicated little need for tuneup jobs.

★ ★ ★

The par of 72 has been treated with disdain by most of the entries in the $15,000 tournament, whose first round is scheduled for tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

In qualifying yesterday, Darrell Hickok of Arlington Heights, Ill., posted a 66. He was followed by Pat Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, a University of Florida student, 67; and Tony Orondrus of Northville, Mich., 69. Golfers had to score 76 or lower to qualify.

David Ragan, Florida PGA champ form Daytona Beach, had a practice 69 over the 6,283-yard course. Lloyd Mangrum and Bo Wininger, 1956 runner-up, shot 70 golf, and Dow Finsterwald and Doug Ford shot 71.

★ ★ ★

The field will be cut to 60 pros and 10 amateurs Friday after 36 holes. Eighteen holes will be played Saturday and the final 18 Sunday.

OCSC Experts Win Rifle Test

Two separate sets of OCSC riflemen shooting out of a company of 24, against the Roseville Sportsmen's Assn., in the latest Oakland County club's match carried off both ends of the contest. Match was shot at OCSC's range. Team scores — OCSC 952-1073, Roseville 926-1019.

OCSC's M. Kempel was actual high gun with 192, while top gun for the event was Roseville's Norm Robertson with 193. Tops for handicap were OCSC's E. Garbutt with 227 and Roseville's Robertson with 202.

Washington, Eastern Win Junior Windups

Washington and Eastern were easy winners Thursday afternoon in the final Pontiac Junior High League basketball games of the 1956-57 season.

Ken Shaw scored 12 points as Washington routed Madison, 37-13, at Madison. Eastern invaded Lincoln and won handily, 30-19. Charles Kimbrell tallied 15 of the loser's points. Champion Jefferson ended an unbeaten season last week.

In Junior varsity action yesterday, Lincoln defeated Eastern, 26-21, and Madison downed Washington, 33-24.

PHS ACE — 120-pounder Dave Payne won a title for Pontiac High in the school's first year in wrestling recently when he posted two victories on the same day to gain the Saginaw Valley crown in his weight class. He finished the season with eight victories, seven on pins. Regionals come up Saturday.

Golfers Enter Match Rounds

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Wanda Sanches, the defending champion, and Grace Demoss, the winner in 1954 and 1955, shot four over par 79s yesterday for medalist honors in the Florida East Coast women's amateur golf tournament.

★ ★ ★

Miss Sanchez, from Baton Rogue, La., drew Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., an 88 qualifier, as her first-round opponent. Miss Demoss, of Corvallis, Ore., met Elizabeth Long of Raleigh, N. C., an 87 qualifier.

★ ★ ★

Game Proceeds Go to Grid Star

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gate receipts at a college basketball game played here last night for the benefit of the Richard Kadis medical fund totaled $1,124.50.

The money will help pay the medical expenses of Kadis, 21, of Cleveland, who suffered a brain injury while playing football for Geneva, Pa. College in a game at Waynesburg last September and still is in a hospital here.

Meeting Set May 17-18 at U. of M. Is Service for Leadership

LANSING — A conference on water safety supervision will be held at the University of Michigan May 17-18, according to the Michigan Inter-Agency Council for Recreation.

The conference, "Conservation of Human Lives — In and On Water," is offered as a free service in leadership training to aid municipal and school officials, recreation leaders and others in the safer use of swimming facilities and small watercraft.

Information on the conference is available from Edward J. Slezak, conference chairman, Waterman Gymnasium, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Chief Matmen Bow in Final

Pontiac High School closed its 1st regular wrestling season on the losing side of the ledger yesterday dropping a 29-17 verdict to Port Huron in a pre-regional outing for both teams. Both compete in the area tourney Saturday.

The absence of two key men, one due to illness, and an injury suffered by another during a match cost the Chiefs valuable points which could have turned the tide for the locals. Two others lost by one point and a third drew.

The summary:

112-pound — Dave Crane (PH) pinned Dick Parker (P) in 5:44.
127-pound — John Zauner (PH) won over Jim Powell (P) 7-4.
165-pound — Herron pinned Russ Sokilosf in 5:15.
Heavyweight — Willie Duncan (P) drew with Joe Chevalier (PH) 1-1.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

Bobby Bragan turned in an outstanding job in his first year as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He promised that his club would not finish in the cellar and they didn't for the first time in five seasons.

In a vital game during the hot National League pennant race, the Pirates beat the Milwaukee Braves. Bragan's strategy had something to do with it.

(Key: (R) highthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

The Pirates lead Milwaukee 1-0 in the top of the ninth at Pittsburgh. Bob Friend (R) is pitching for the home team. Chuck Tanner starts the inning for the Braves with a walk. He is sacrificed to second base by Bill Bruton and moves to third on Frank Torre's infield grounder.

Hank Aaron grounds to shortstop Dick Groat, whose throw to first base is missed by Dale Long. Tanner scores, tying the game 1-1. Aaron takes second and moves to third when Long throws wild in an attempt to head him off. Eddie Mathews (L) is the next batter with Bobby Thomson (R) and Johnny Logan (R) scheduled to follow.

Would you:

a. Bring in a lefthander to pitch to Mathews?
b. Walk Mathews intentionally to get to Thomson?
c. Walk Mathews and Thomson intentionally to get to Logan?
d. Let Friend pitch to Mathews?

Result: B — Friend intentionally walks Mathews, then retires Thomson on an outfield fly. Pirates get a run in the 10th and win 2-1 (Sept. 20).

Indians Hoping Averill Comes Through This Year

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS) — From a dismal failure at the plate to a terror of American League pitchers — that's the success story Cleveland Indians' brass hope catcher Earl Averill Jr., writes during the 1957 season.

But once the play-for-keeps part of the '56 season began, Averill's red-hot bat went into an Arctic freeze and his usefulness to the Tribe was practically nil. He ended the season with a .237 mark while appearing in 43 contests.

In addition, his power vanished as he was able to bang out only three homers and six doubles, good for a total of 14 RBI's.

Averill, who is trying to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious father, a great Cleveland outfielder of the 30's, was the "shuttlecock" of last year's team.

He was twice sent down to Indianapolis, once while Tribe brass were trying to trade Sal "the barber" Maglie.

The 25-year-old youngster again is impressing Tribe officials with his powerful bat and manager Kerby Farrell intends to give him every opportunity to nail down a varsity post, mostly on the strength of his hitting.

County 5's Open District Play

By BILL CORNWELL

A puzzling question and one which may be a whole lot closer to an answer when Saturday night rolls around.

That's the time when the district tourneys come to an end. Strange as it seems, more potential state champs bite the dust then than at any other time.

It's a time when upsets are startling and frequent. Highly-ranked teams are suddenly and unexpectedly eliminated by brash upstarts with only mediocre records.

It's a well-known fact that most coaches are overly cautious about predicting their team's chances. They know that the situation is uncertain and they are reluctant to go overboard into disappointment.

Actually, the odds against any team winning a state championship are heavy. But a handful of Oakland County powerhouses start bucking those odds this week.

A couple of Class B powers lock horns tonight at Pontiac High. Avondale and Lake Orion clash at 9 o'clock with strong Clarkston waiting to meet the winner Friday. Rochester, the tourney favorite, does not go until Thursday when Oxford furnishes the competition.

Troy, another Class B stronghold, swings into action tonight against Romeo at 8:30 on the Troy court. Utica, co-favorite with Troy, awaits the survivor Friday.

Walled Lake, state-rated throughout the season, holds out until Friday when Brighton provides the opposition. Northville meets Milford to complete the four-team district.

Holly faces a rugged assignment in the 'B' district tourney at Grand Blanc. The Broncos drew Grand Blanc, a small but speedy and sharp-shooting quintet which defeated them during the regular season.

St. Michael opens defense of its Class C district title tonight at Pontiac High against South Lyon. St. Fred tackles the winner Thursday. Almont should have little trouble with Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow, but will find Mt. Clemens St. Mary a much rougher obstacle.

Oakland County's No. 1 hopeful, Class A Pontiac, does not play until next week when the regional tournaments begin.

Jackson Seems Set as Dodger Starter at 3rd

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With no "rookie" jitters and no Jackie Robinson to worry about, Randy Jackson figures to be the Brooklyn Dodgers' regular third baseman this season. And Randy thinks it's about time, too.

"It's different, not having to compete with Robinson this time," said the 31-year-old infielder during Monday's workout. "And things are quieter this spring without Jackie, too.

"Last year it was different for me. It always is when you're new with a club," added Jackson, who was dealt to Brooklyn by the Chicago Cubs after the 1955 season for Walt Moryn and Don Hoak.

Decathlon Runner-Up Sidelined by Injury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rafer Johnson's injured knee may keep the world decathlon record holder out of competition for UCLA this season.

Johnson took second to Milt Campbell in the Olympic games decathlon at Melbourne, despite the knee injury, and has had surgery on it since.

Ensmingers Capture Skate Dance Event

Barbara and Robert Ensminger were the eventual champions in Rolladium Roller Rink's senior-senior skate dance contest, which concluded last weekend. The dance was "The Collegiate."

Warren Shelved by Center Line

Center Line rallied to eliminate Warren, 55-52, in the 1st round of the Class B district basketball tournament last night at Center Line. The two teams had met three times during the regular season with Warren winning twice.

Bob Wright of Center Line and Warren's Walt Senkie divided scoring honors with 20 points apiece. Warren led at halftime, 34-23. Center Line and Warren were Bi-County League co-champions this year with Utica.

Capac won its opening Class C test, a 47-32 triumph over Marine City Holy Cross at Port Huron. Capac meets Armada Thursday and undefeated Imlay City faces Marine City, which scored a 54-31 win over Richmond last night.

Ann Arbor Diver Rated a Future World Titlist

★ ★ ★

Now he's drawing the praise of experts.

"I'm convinced he is, at this time, the best diving prospect in the world," says Bruce Harlan, Michigan's diving coach and former national and Olympic champion while at Ohio State.

"He's the best high school diver I've ever worked with or seen," says Dave Markstone, diving coach at Ann Arbor High.

Podres in Top Form

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Roy Campanella banged his bat in the dust and watched his popup float down behind shortstop. He walked out of the batting cage, shaking his head as he announced:

★ ★ ★

"Man, he's got good motion! Doggone if it don't look like he's throwin' harder than he is."

The pitcher who set off Campy's high-pitched pitch about his change-up was Johnny Podres, the roundish six-foot southpaw hero of Brooklyn's 1955 world championship. He's back after a year with the Navy.

★ ★ ★

Podres finished his turn on the mound during batting practice, stretched into his jacket and started the long stroll back to the dressing room. "It's hot, I really worked up a sweat," he said, brushing his forehead with his arm. Then he began answering questions.

★ ★ ★

It was a slow curve that had Campy jumping. "Maybe you could call that a new pitch for me," said the 24-year-old blond. "I'm working on a change-up off my curve. The rest is the same as before — fast ball, change-up off the fast one and a curve. Maybe my curve is better now than it was."

★ ★ ★

How does it feel, coming back? "I feel fine. My back (a cause of much concern when he went into the Navy, due to an injury at Montreal in 1952) feels good. I don't wear a brace. They're too bulky. I may have a bit of trouble with my control, but I've never been bothered by it before.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know whether my fast ball has stuff. I haven't cut loose yet. But I feel good. I've worked every other day in batting practice. My weight is pretty good too. I'm 187. I weighed 184 in the '55 series."

Wife His Pitcher

Piersall Drilling at Home

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Boston centerfielder Jimmy Piersall and Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin scheduled another contract talk today — with Mary Piersall hoping for an agreement.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Piersall doesn't mind hubby trying to get more money but with five children she has plenty of other things to do instead of playing baseball.

And that's what she has been doing—playing ball.

Piersall can't work out with his teammates until he signs a contract. He practiced at the University of Miami for a week and then moved the family to Sarasota.

He didn't get far in a talk with Cronin yesterday, so grabbed two gloves, a bat and five baseballs.

"What are you going to do with those?" he was asked.

"Do a little hitting," he replied.

"By yourself?"

"Oh, no," said Jim. "Mary will help me. She's pretty good with the glove and ball."

National Trout Festival

Kalkaska Event April 26

Kalkaska County Chamber of Commerce announced today the 21st annual National Trout Festival in Kalkaska will be held on April 26-27, the opening week-end of the trout season. An expanded an revised program aimed to attract more fishermen and their families to the festival is rapidly taking shape in plans by the festival committee.

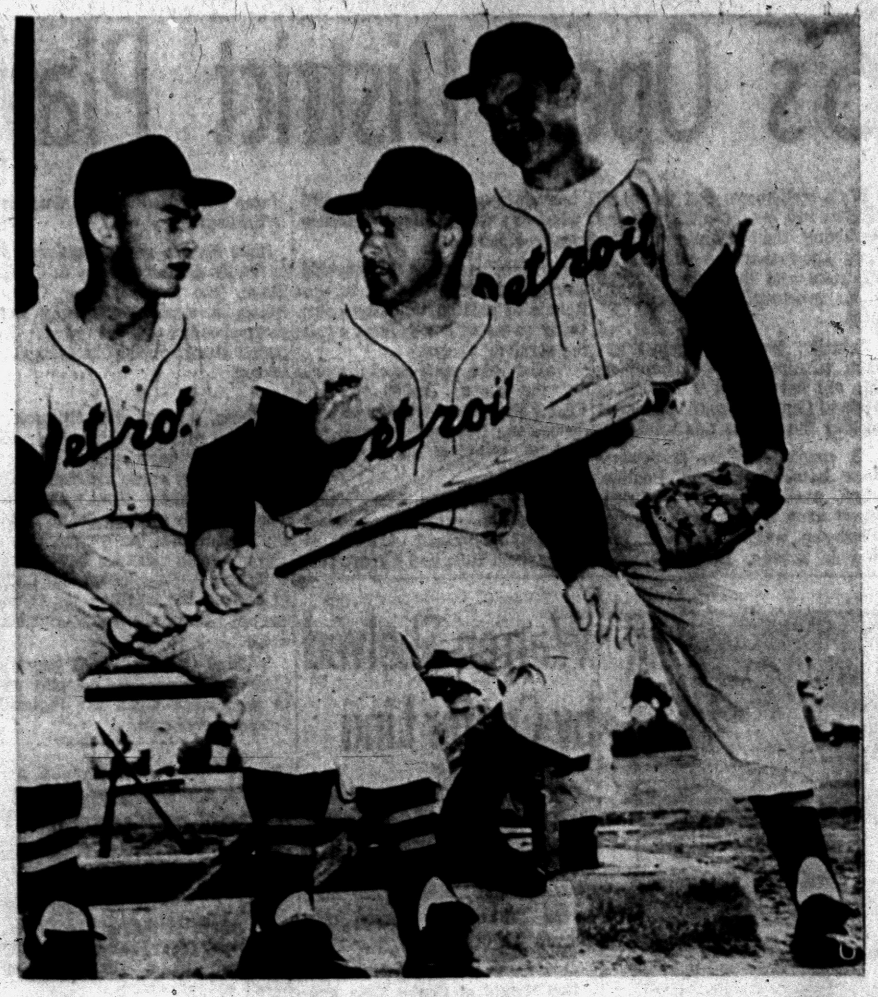

Complete program will be ready soon and the name of the National Trout King for 1957 will be announced. Vic Beresford of Michigan Out-Of-Doors is the present King.

A new queen will be selected Friday night, April 26.

Season Opens April 27

Michigan's 1957 trout fishing seasons open April 27, except on designated Upper Peninsula streams where special rainbow trout seasons open April 13.

Angry Burdette Quits Braves' Camp

When Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and Gil Coan of the Detroit Tigers set a price on their services, man, they mean it.

★ ★ ★

Burdette, a 19-game winner for the Braves last season, has packed up his family, left camp at Bradenton, Fla., and today was vacationing with friends, waiting for the club to make the next move.

Coan was even more emphatic. He has decided to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to place him on the voluntary retired list after failing to reach an agreement with the Tigers after being drafted from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

The Boston Red Sox, too, are having their troubles bringing outfielder Jim Piersall into the fold. But his case isn't quite as serious as the other two. He has reported to the Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla., and is in top shape.

Burdette and Coan both appeared bitter over their treatment.

"They can't starve me out,' snapped Burdette, the last of the Braves' holdouts, "I don't have to worry about living expenses. . . I'm doing all right selling lots here.

★ ★ ★

"I had a good season last year and that's the time to strike — when the iron is hot. I'm not going to budge from the figure I want.'

Starts This Weekend

PWBA Opens 24th Tourney

A cash prize list of more than $3,500 and various trophies will be the goal of several hundred local and out-county women competing in the 24th annual City Bowling Tournament beginning this weekend.

The event will run on successive weekends concluding March 31. All bowling will be at the Dixie Recreation, Dixie Highway.

It is expected to be the largest women's tournament in local PWBA history which also means a record for awards.

Eight-five prizes totaling $1,610 will go to outstanding teams among 173 entered. Championship five-woman group will receive $95 and a trophy, with $95 going to runnerup.

Top 15 doubles team will divide $818. First place will be worth $50 and a trophy and 2nd $50. Another $818 has been set aside for the best singles scores with $35 and a trophy for the champion.

Two winners are expected in the all-events. One will be for bowling just as an all-events contestant and the other for a woman basing her scores on showings in team, doubles and singles play. Both 1st placers will get $20.

High game awards are also provided. These include $18 for team, $15 for doubles and $8 for high singles. All scoring is on handicap basis except all-events.

Some 222 doubles teams, 444 singles and 321 in all-events from more than 23 communities will compete.

Event is sponsored by Pontiac Women's Bowling Association, Inc.

Training Camp Tidbits

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Busby is the talk of the Cleveland Indians' training camp after the first nine inning intra-squad game of the training season here yesterday.

The speedy centerfielder hit a home run, double and two singles in five times at bat. Last season he batted only .235 in 135 games.

★ ★ ★

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"I'm finally starting to find the range," said Bob Cerv after blasting a batting practice homer well beyond the left field fence at Kansas City's training camp.

★ ★ ★

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Tommy Byrne, veteran New York Yankee pitcher, said today he was happy that he was regarded as a good hitter, but added wistfully:

"There have been times when I have had to be taken out of a game because I was hitting too good. I'd get maybe a double and a couple of singles and score a few times, and with all that being on base and running, my pitching would suffer."

★ ★ ★

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Self-control is the answer to baseball players' jibes and insults, said American League Umpire Nestor Chylak, as he adjusted his equipment preparatory to umpiring a Baltimore intra-squad game.

His views were singularly appropriate at the Orioles spring training camp. Baltimore Manager Paul Richards led both leagues last season with 12 ejections by umpires.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Washington's last-place Senators played their first intra-squad game of the season yesterday to a 1-1 tie. Today a home-town newspaper reacted with this unkind headline: "Poor Nats can't even beat each other."

Dons in NCAA Running Again

San Francisco Cagers Have Chance for 3rd Straight Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of San Francisco, NCAA basketball champions for the last two years, had a chance today to try for an unprecedented third straight as the last of the major college tournament contenders were joining the lineup.

San Francisco trimmed St. Mary's 62-41 last night to capture the California Basketball Assn. title, while St. Louis University and Lafayette joined the NCAA tourney field without firing a shot.

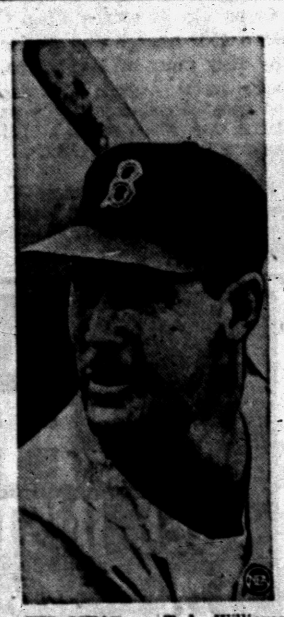

The Kansas Jayhawks also can quality by defeating Kansas State tonight in a Big Seven battle at Manhattan, Kan. Should Kansas State pull an upset, Kansas still could clinch honors by beating Colorado Saturday.

State Has Six All-Americas

Based on their 1956 averages with all four skeet guns (410, 28, 20 and 12 gauges), six Michigan skeet marksmen were named to Sports Afield's 1957 All-America team, selected by the veteran writer Jimmy Robinson. Michigan has three on the men's first team, one on men's 2nd team, one on women's team, two juniors and one subjunior. Three in the 1st 10, eight out of 50 of the nation's top shooters is a high compliment to Michigan skeeters.

★ ★ ★

Milan Kegler Gains Lead in State Meet

SAGINAW (AP)—Carl Patek of Milan rolled 726 to take the lead in the singles handicap of the Michigan State Men's bowling tournament last weekend.

Harold Pelot and Dean McKown of Detroit took over the lead in the doubles actual with 1289.

The leadership in the other divisions did not change. The tournament will continue next weekend.

May Settle Pro Play-Offs Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knickerbockers face elimination from the National Basketball Assn. playoffs tonight as Syracuse and Philadelphia continue their struggle for second place in the Eastern Division.

The Knicks saw their flickering hopes dwindle when they bowed to Syracuse 99-92 in the second game of a doubleheader in New York last night. In the opener Philadelphia overwhelmed Fort Wayne's Western Division leaders 114-80.

In another key game in Boston the St. Louis Hawks edged the Eastern champion Celtics 104-102 to climb within half a game of Fort Wayne.

UM Hockey Team to Be in Tourney

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines won their 10th straight trip to the NCAA hockey tournament last night on Wally Maxwell's goal in sudden death overtime.

Maxwell's clutch goal gave the Wolverines a 3-2 victory over North Dakota and boosted them into sole ownership of second place in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League standings.

Michigan and conference champion Colorado College will go to the NCAA tournament at Colorado Springs this month.

Tryouts for the Ice Capades will be held at 4 p.m. today and after the evening show at 11 p.m. at Olympia Stadium, director of promotions Nick Londes announces.

All skaters between the ages of 16 and 23 are eligible to try out for the show. Those who meet the high standard of the Ice Capades can look forward to skating with the glamorous revue at an early date.

This is especially true of the feminine skaters, for the turnover in the pretty Ice Capets skating line is continuous.

'Pros' Win Matches in Pistol Tourney

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two policemen, a marine and a soldier won matches yesterday in the national mid-winter pistol championships.

Capt. Joseph F. Gregory of Columbus, Ga., and the U.S. Army won a slow fire match for any type of pistol with 200-16x.

Elmer W. Hilden, a policeman from Chula Vista, Calif., had 499-31x to win a trophy for the best combined score for these two matches.

★ ★ ★

Rams Sign Fullback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leroy Hinman, 200-pound fullback from the University of Wichita, signed today to play for the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League.

Hinman, a native of Eunice, N. M., has a good chance to make the Ram varsity since veteran Tank Younger is the only fullback listed on the team roster.

Orioles Have 65 at Camp

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — As far as spring training is concerned, the Baltimore Orioles got there fustest with the mostest.

Paul Richards, the lean and learned Oriole leader, is casting his stern eye on no fewer than 65 athletes who prance over two diamonds in this model "Old West' suburb of Phoenix.

Most of them are youngsters from scratch to an eight-club system nurturing some 250 players.

The team will boil down by April 15 to virtually the same neucleus of old pros who carried the Orioles to a sixth-place finish in the American League last season.

One exception is 26-year-old outfielder Al Pilarcik, acquired in a trade with the Kansas City Athletics after the 1956 season.

In Richards' words, obtaining of Pilarcik was "a calculated risk."

"We know Pilarcik has speed, determination, hustle and defensive ability," Richards explained today. "We'll gamble that he can hit enough to play regularly.'

Courtney Shoots for New 1,000-Yd. Mark

NEW YORK (INS)—Tom Courtney, the Olympic half-mile champion who can't beat Arnie Sowell and the turns in Madison Square Garden, will shatter the 1,000-yard world record Saturday.

"Courtney will go out for a new indoor world record Saturday," said his former coach, Art O'Connor of Fordham, yesterday. "I'm hoping he'll get down to an even 2:08."

In O'Connor's opinion, the reason for Courtney's constant indoor defeats since his Olympic victory are two-fold. One is Sowell, Courtney's master indoors and just another also-ran outdoors. The other is psychological.

Birmingham Brothers Bag Collection of African Animals; One Going Back

By H. GUY MOATS

Two Birmingham brothers, one of whom had never before fired a rifle heavier than .22 caliber, last fall made an unusually successful African game safari. Only recently the stripped heads of more than 30 animals, including the huge-horned East African buffalo, down to the tiny dik-dik, a 10-inch high, beautiful smallest member of the antelope family, arrived here.

★ ★ ★

The collection was particularly fruitful from the antelopes. At least a half dozen or more species of this graceful family were bagged. The broad horned, wicked looking buffalo provided three biggest heads, one from a bull that weighed 2,000 pounds.

For Erwin and Edward Wilson, Birmingham sports goods store and Pontiac-Cadillac Motor dealer, respectively, the safari, covering more than a month, was one of their most thrilling experiences — while on the teeming plains—getting into a fabulous game and animal country for the first time.

There were no particularly dangerous situations, Ed Wilson recalled. "We did little of our shooting from blinds. We had fine guides and capable native helpers."

It was Ed who had never used a big game gun until two weeks before making the trip.

"I've never done much hunting, except for birds," he explained. "But I didn't have any trouble with the heavy weapons. The brothers took along 30-06's and .375 Magnums. All these rifles were used to down the many animals.

Wilson was asked about lions and elephants. "We saw many elephants but had no desire to shoot any of them." Erwin had an experience with the king of beasts that left him somewhat frustrated. He was in a thorn blind, while a large male lion lay down lazily to sleep only 20 feet away. It was late afternoon and his white hunter hoped the tawny one would get up and move away where a not too dangerous shot could be made. But the big male just slept on, his full stomach rumbling, while he yawned and belched. It became dark and the chance for a shot was gone. "You see you didn't dare shoot at them when so close," Ed Wilson explained. "He might jump right into the blind."

Probably the top incident for Ed Wilson was shooting his 160-pound leopard. "I had a personal grudge against leopards," Ed recalled. "I had to sit seven nights in blinds (at several sites), to get this one. We could hear them cough during the nights but you don't shoot at them in the darkness and by daylight they were gone." The one he shot was taken late in an afternoon.

Because Ed wants to try for a lion and the big kudu antelope, to add to his collection, he will return to Africa next February.

They were in Africa from Sept. 2 to about mid-October. Their route by air included London, Rome, Cairo, Khartoum to the base at Nairobi. Three days from the end of their safari, their wives met them near Nairobi, having flown out a few days previously.

The Wilsons' hunting was in semi-desert country, lush open lands where they saw some fine streams, filled with trout (they did no fishing), and in mountainous sections, with elevations from 2,000 to 8,000 feet.

"Natives were interesting, our accommodations and food were excellent. Africa is the most frontier like country we have ever been in. We had complete confidence in our hunters. It was the most delightful experience in my life," Ed Wilson summed it up.

Sports Future Threatened

By JACK PATTERSON

Dwindling wildlife resources and a mushrooming human population combine to present a grave threat to the future of hunting and fishing in America. A graver threat, and one not so easily recognized, is the attitude of today's "sportsman". "Make my hunting and fishing territories easily accessible", he demands. "Let the conservation Department supply me with plenty of fish and game; that's what they're there for, and I'm paying their salaries. Design me a gun that will take the guess-work out of shooting; fishing gear that will take the work out of fishing."

That this fixation with doing things the easy way is probably not our sportsman's fault — he's taught, after all, through his early schooling years to sidestep the tough, the challenging, to look for the pleasant, "fun" way to meet young life's problems — is no valid excuse.

The point is that he wants his hunting and fishing, and anything else to come easy, and in harboring that attitude he is 180 degrees out of phase.

The thing our sportsman overlooks is that now that there are other accepted ways of getting something to eat, hunting and fishing have become a game. The only continuing interest any game has for its players is the challenge to his abilities, native or acquired, that it presents.

As an analogy, golf presents a vivid example. Let's take the work out of golf. We'll use flat, straight, untrapped fairways. To take the guesswork out of driving, we'll use a driving machine. We could groove the green with leading to the cup so that a hole in one on every drive would be a certainty. Or, we could just use level greens, and the quickly - banned mirrored putters of a few years back to add the difficult touch. The result? A perfect round every time. A golfer's dream. Yeah?

But isn't that just about the pianola set-up our present day sportsman is aiming for? Take wing-shooting. Our boy will spend hours and days contemplating gauges, chokes, variable choke devices, barrel lengths, shot sizes and a lot of other things he'd be better off if he'd never heard of.

He'll completely overlook the only important consideration, that it's where you hold that counts, and the rest of the stuff is just material for old men and outdoor writers, to chew over.

Or take fishing. Our lad will spend hours selecting "sure-fire" baits and completely forget that no bait ever caught a fish all by itself.

Let's remember that the challenge is what makes hunting and fishing. Getting game or fish is not hard nor important. How you got it is what should count.

Ex-Holly Editor Named to OCSC Publicity Post

Marshall Johnson Fills Vacancy Due to Shelley Resignation

Oakland County Sportsmen's club has appointed Marshall Johnson, former Holly Herald-Advertiser editor, as editor of the club's magazine and its public relations man. Johnson succeeds veteran writer and photographer Howard Shelley. Shelly has joined the Mort TV's Michigan Outdoors.

Accepting the position Johnson said, "activities of the OCSC are widely-known, not only in Michigan but across the nation. Conservation projects carried out by its members uphold their philosophy of defending the natural resources of this great sportsmen's state. I am proud to become a part of the finest sportsmen's clubs in the U.S."

Johnson is a 1956 graduate of San Diego State College in California. He attended MSU in 1953-54 before completing studies in California. He is a 1949 graduate of Holly High School.

While in service Johnson edited a squadron newspaper, served as sports editor for the navy's Pacific fleet air force and wrote a column for the NAS San Diego North Islander and the Air-Pac Bulletin. He participated in young republican club activities while at San Diego State and MSU.

Farmington Poodle Wins Group Honors

In the last weekend all-breed dog show, held by Detroit Kennel Club at the fairgrounds, one Oakland county dog came through with a group title, when Ch. Rothara the Cavalier, miniture poodle, took the non-sporting group honors. The dog is owned by Henry Balcerzak of Farmington.

Farmington Angler Catches Big Calico

After four or five nights of ice fishing on Pine Lake, but without success, Robert Johnson, 22660 Middlebelt, Farmington landed a 13¾ inch calico bass that made up for the long wait.

★ ★ ★

The fish was 10¼ inches in girth and weighed one-pound-4½-ounces. Robert Jr., his 10-year-old son was with him. He fished from a shanty and used the smallest minnow in his bait bucket.

Wife Wins Divorce From Song Writer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The man who wrote the lyrics for the Broadway hit "The Most Happy Fella" was not always the most joyous of men, his wife testified in winning a divorce.

Songwriter Frank Loesser, 46, was "verbally cruel," Mrs. Mary Alice Loesser, 41, said Monday in Superior Court. Mrs. Loesser, who coproduced the musical, testified that her husband told her after a marriage of 20 years that he wanted to be free.

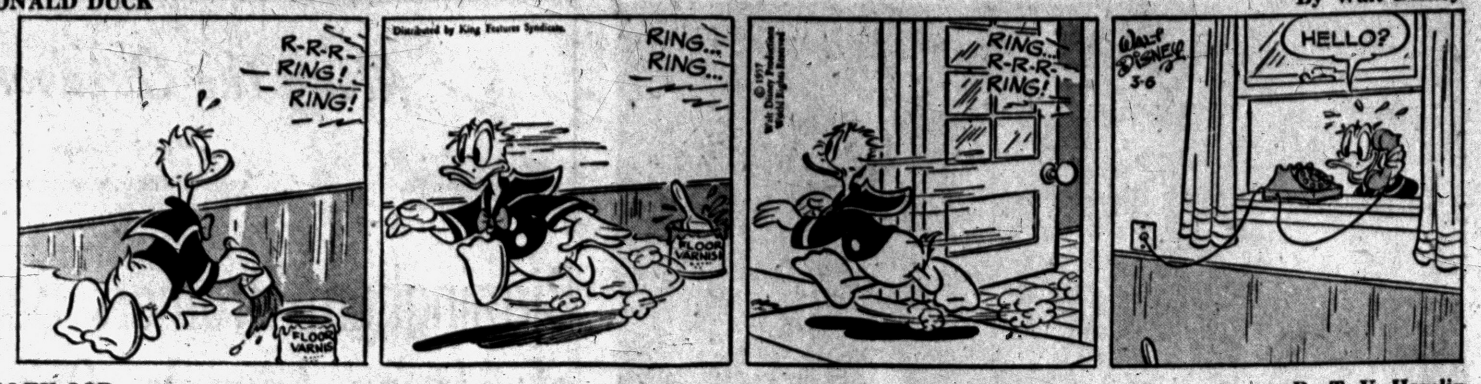

Under terms of a 59-page property agreement, Mrs. Loesser will receive $60,000 a year alimony, a home in Beverly Hills and life insurance policies with a value of $450,000.

Loesser will also pay $600 a month support for the couple's children, Susan, 12, and John, 6, who will remain with their mother.

Foreign Aid Must Continue; Should Be Repayable Loans, Not Grants

WASHINGTON (INS) — A "blue ribbon" presidential commission said last night the U.S. must continue foreign aid "for some years to come" but recommended that funds be given to free world allies as repayable loans rather than given away.

The special commission report submitted to President Eisenhower also advocated that overall U.S. spending on economic and military assistance be limited to the present level of eight billion dollars a year.

The commission, headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, based its conclusions on a global study conducted in Europe, the Far East, Middle East and Latin America.

The report stressed that American taxpayers must accustom themselves to annual foreign aid outlays for years to come because of unending Soviet plans to achieve world domination.

STRUGGLE TO CONTINUE

The group declared: "The U.S. is engaged in an unescapable struggle for its existence. So long as the Soviet Bloc continues to seek the destruction of the free world, we have no choice but to continue to defend ourselves. The Soviet methods and concepts are very long range. We must proceed on the distinct possibility that the struggle will continue for a long time to come.

★ ★ ★

"The U.S. must resolve to stay the course and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

In recommending that recipient nations be required to repay the assistance funds as loans, the committee said:

"Assistance in grant form should be given only those exceptional cases where it is clearly in the national interest to do so and when the recipient countries are judged to be unable to repay."

During the past fiscal year the U.S. provided four billion, 700 million dollars in foreign aid, of which three billion, 900 millions was for military purposes and the remaining one billion, 700 millions for economic assistance. An additional two billion, 300 millions is being spent abroad by U.S. agencies not directly involved in the aid program.

NOTES ALLIES' SHARE

At the same time, the committee was highly critical of U.S. allies who are making reductions in their share of the free world common defense burden.

★ ★ ★

The committee said of such countries, which it studiously refrained from mentioning by name:

"In all cases, the guiding principle governing military grants should be the obligation of each country to bear its fair share of the cost of the common defense. We are not satisfied that all are doing so.

★ ★ ★

"Mutual security rests squarely upon mutuality of obligation . . . unless this be kept constantly in mind and unless we are successful in achieving this, the defense efforts of the U.S. might well end in an expensive and ineffective military coalition that looks well on paper but is deficient owing to the lack of a common purpose and determination."

★ ★ ★

The committee also recommended:

1. That the entire U.S. foreign aid program, now under the International Cooperation Administration, be placed under the State Department "as soon as practicable."

2. That future foreign military and economic aid be authorized by Congress on a two-year basis, instead of from year to year.

MILITARY AID SEPARATE

3. That military and economic aid be made distinct and separate and that all forms of military assistance be submitted to Congress as a separate request within the regular defense budget. Economic assistance and all forms of non-military assistance would be submitted to Congress separately and administered by the State Department.

4. That high priority be given for foreign assistance "to those countries which have joined in the collective security system." Under this recommendation the so-called neutralist nations might receive less from the U.S.

5. That surplus agricultural commodities be used in the foreign aid program to the extent that it "does not damage normal markets."

6. That "greater discretionary power" be granted by Congress to the administrators of foreign military and economic aid to make the program work more effectively.

The committee strongly recommended that the government take steps to encourage U.S. investments in foreign lands in order to bolster the economies of those countries. It said that as private capital invigorates the free nations, they will be able to bear a more equitable portion of defense costs, thus reducing the necessary U.S. foreign aid.

Nixon Asks King to Washington

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP)—U.S. Vice President Nixon has invited the Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery, Ala., Negro pastor, to talk with him in Washington about King's proposal that Nixon visit the South to study race problems.

Nixon extended the informal invitation to King, who directed the Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, when the two met on the campus of the Gold Coast College. Both are attending ceremonies in connection with this colony's becoming an independent member of the British Commonwealth.

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP) — Dr. Ralph Bunche, who turned down a top U.S. government post in 1949 because he objected to segregation in the nation's capital, said today this is no longer a barrier because "things have changed very much."

Dr. Bunche, an assistant secretary general for the United Nations, is attending ceremonies in connection with the Gold Coast becoming an independent member of the British Commonwealth.

"There is no color line now in Washington," he said. "There no longer are segregated schools, theaters and other conditions I did not want to expose my family to in those days."

Bunche was offered the job of assistant secretary of state for the Middle East by President Truman.

He stressed he is happy in his post with the United Nations, a role which has won him a Nobel Prize for his efforts to bring peace to the Middle East.

Better Recovery Seen for Hearts

More Emphasis on Rest Will Add Years to Life, Says Ike's Specialist

CHICAGO (INS) — Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower, predicted today that recoveries from coronary thrombosis will be more complete in the future.

★ ★ ★

White explained that in the past many patients failed to understand that complete rest was vital during early weeks and shortened their lives by resuming full activities.

He based his talk on 200 cases of coronary thrombosis in which he was called as consultant from 1921 to 1930. White said he found that survival for one month longer after an attack — with complete recovery of heart damage — usually meant the patient had a good chance of living 10 years or longer. White said:

★ ★ ★

"In those days the patients were either uncooperative or did not understand the treatment advised. We doctors did not always make it clear that quite complete rest was essential during the first few weeks."

White said that present cooperation shown by heart patients and the ability of doctors to recognize mild attacks accounts for a far better prognosis than in the late 1920s.

Taxes in 1956 Brought U.S. Over $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—That federal excise or sales tax you pay on such things as cigarettes, phonograph records, luggage and whisky brought the government $5,325,393,000 during the last six months of 1956.

★ ★ ★

The Internal Revenue Service gave the figure today in a report covering the first half of the 1957 fiscal year which began last July 1. It said excise collections for the similar period in 1955 were $5,075,016,000.

★ ★ ★

Collections on automobiles and motorcycles declined from $690,193,000 in 1955 to $465,497,000 last year. This was more than offset by an increase in alcohol and tobacco collections and almost all categories of manufacturers', retailers', and miscellaneous excise tax.

Report Eden Recovered From Abdominal Attack

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden has recovered completely from the abdominal inflammation that caused his recent attacks of fever, his doctor said today.

The vacationing former British Prime Minister spent the night at the Green Lane Hospital and was X-rayed. A bulletin issued by Dr. W. E. Henley said the X-ray confirmed the "complete resolution" of the abdominal imflammation.

Hollywood Headlines

Movie of 'The FBI Story' May Star Jimmy Stewart

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Mervyn LeRoy, who has done better than all right for Jack Warner with his many successful pictures, has just signed a new non-exclusive deal for six years, calling for one picture a year.

Mervyn's first will be "The FBI Story," by Don Whitehead, now on the best seller lists. This won't be made until sometime in the summer, but Jimmy Stewart will most likely play the top role. His reviews on "The Spirit of St. Louis" were so good that he'll probably want to make another Warner film.

Jimmy first is booked to co-star in "Amongst the Dead," with Vera Miles, for Alfred Hitchcock.

If Ben Bogeau can cut down his shooting schedule to less than six months, Ray Milland will be starred with Shirley Yamaguchi in "White Shadows of the South Seas," to be filmed in the Marquesas Islands in the Pacific.

The famed adventure novel by Frederick O'Brien will be considerably modernized and Ray will play a self-exiled writer. Shirley plays an exotic island beauty who suffers a tragic and mysterious illness at the height of their romance.

She is now in Japan, but she has expressed her willingness to resume her American film career.

LOVERS' QUARREL?

There was a big rumor going the rounds that Elizabeth Taylor and Mike Todd had had a beeg battle in Palm Springs, so I got on the telephone to ask if the lovebirds were quarreling.

I've never heard anyone laugh as hard as Mike. He said, "Talk about timing—just this minute Liz bawled me out because I wanted to drive my writer, Sidney Foreman, downtown in Palm Springs. It would take an hour and she didn't want me to go."

Well, I told him I hope that all of their fights will be no more serious than this. At the Laurence Olivier-Vivien Leigh party, Mike said he got in a fight with everyone because he and Liz refused to sit apart.

I was curious about Vikki Duggan after the whole town talked about the unattractive, immodest dress she wore to the Golden Globe awards dinner. I've never seen a dress cut so low. So I talked to her.

Surprising to find that she is a very serious, ambitious young actress who studied with Stella Adler. She expects to do "God's Little Acre."

She has a contract with Batjac Productions, and I have a feeling if John Wayne had been here he never would have permitted her to make such a spectable of herself.

A word of advice to Vikki: You can never become a good actress just by having your press agent call you "the back."

LEX LESS TORCHY

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Lex Barker and Linda Brent, pretty TV actress, a twosome at the Bantam Cock. Lex must be feeling less torchy than he did at the time of his separation from Lana.

Georgiana and Ricardo Montalban will be the godparents of Lita and Rory Calhoun's little daughter, Cindy.

Mrs. Jack Yellen, visiting in our town, has a new name for Marlene Dietrich—"glamama."

A pleasant visitor was Tony Custis, who called to say he had taken over the job of honorary press agent for the California Fashion Creators for their March 12 show. Tony plays a press agent in "Sweet Smell of Success."

Britain to Speed Up A-Power Program

LONDON (AP) —Britain plans to triple its atomic power program by building 16 more nuclear stations.

Lord Mills, minister of power, told the House of Lords the government hopes to have 19 stations in operation along the coasts by 1965. He said such a program would provide about one fourth of the electricity the nation needs.

Three nuclear stations were ordered when the atomic energy program was set up by the government in 1955. One already is supplying electricity.

★ ★ ★

The power minister estimated the cost over the nine-year period at about 1,460,000,000 pounds ($4,088,000,000). He said the big increase was decided upon because of the greatly expanding demand for power and the financial burden of buying fuel abroad.

'Pauper' Leaves Fortune

HAMILTON, Ont. (INS) — Arthur Edward Stanning, 69, who was believed penniless and died in a Hamilton sanitarium, was disclosed today to have left an estate of $50,000 which he bequeathed to needy war veterans. He himself was a veteran of World War One.

FAMILY ENTRANCE — Meet the Colemans, first Miami Beach family to enter the nationwide All-American Family contest to be held from May 28 to June 3. The contest is being sponsored by the Boys' Club of America and the Book of Knowledge. Families from each of the 48 states will assemble in Miami Beach for the national grand finals. From top they are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coleman, Mildred, 12, and Charles, seven.

Historic Inn on Skids? Will Be, if Ice Holds

PETOSKEY (AP) — Once a popular stage coach stop between Traverse City and Petoskey, the old Eastport Inn this week is scheduled to be taken for a "sleigh ride" on Torch Lake.

A Central Lake family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morse and their son Gary, plan to have the historic old building hoisted three miles over ice along the east shore to a new location.

★ ★ ★

The Morse group purchased the inn from Lynn Dodge of Petoskey and want to remodel it as a general store. They said plans to move the building hinged upon whether the Torch Lake ice would hold. The ice was reported between 15 and 18 inches thick.

Treasure Hunters Back Empty-Handed

The expedition headed by Jameson G. Campaigne, editorial director of the Indianapolis Star, failed to find the solid gold table and other treasures they sought on a remote cape of the Dominican Republic.

They found the area indicated on an ancient map was covered with dense jungle. Two weeks of hacking and hunting failed to uncover anything more valuable than Tainos Indian relics.

An ancient map had been discovered by Campaigne's son, Jerry, when he was cleaning an old musket purchased a few years ago in a New York second-hand shop.

The Dominican Government loaned the American treasure hunters a boat to reach the area indicated in the map. The point of land was accessible only by water.

Irish Opponents Neck-and-Neck

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—First returns today in the Irish general election indicated a neck and neck race between supporters of Eamon De Valera and John A. Costello.

A West Donegal district sent the same two men back to the Irish Parliament.

P. O'Donnell, minister for local government in the Costello government, collected 6,208 votes. J. Brennan, a follower of the American-born De Valera and a Fianna Fail party stalwart, trailed by 151 votes.

★ ★ ★

The two men held their seats with about the same margin as in the last general election in 1954.

Three years ago the 74-year-old De Valera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail. He needs to pick up seats to again become prime minister.

★ ★ ★

He has turned thumbs down to the idea of forming any coalition with other parties.

About 1,200,000 voters went to the polls yesterday, approximately 70 per cent of the electorate. Counting of ballots was expected to be slow.

Man Pays $25 Deposit on $75 Traffic Tickets

A $25 deposit or one-third of the total $75 fine for five traffic violations was paid by Julius Polk, 22, of 113 Lull St. Tuesday after Officer Forest C. Hatfield apprehended him at his home.

★ ★ ★

Three of the warrants were for driving without an operator's license. The other two charged Polk with speeding 40 in a 25 miles per hour zone and 50 in a 35 miles per hour zone.

He appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and was ordered to pay the complete fine of $75.

Missing Jewelry Stolen in Terminal, Say Police

★ ★ ★

The 186-pound trunk was reported missing Monday by Raymond J. Cannon, a 62-year-old Los Angeles salesman who estimated the wholesale value of his samples at $40,000 or $50,000.

Hen Lays Green Eggs —Maybe Jealous Streak

The pullet, purchased last July by John Hubbuch, has been laying pastel green eggs since the first of January. The insides are like any other egg.

Hubbuch can't explain it. He feeds the hen the same feed he gives his 16 other fowls. But still she comes with green eggs.

Pontiac City Affairs

Urban Consultant Hired

A review of Pontiac's general planning and the possibility of instituting an urban renewal program here, will be the major goals of an urban planning firm when the group begins as planning consultant for the city.

★ ★ ★

These were the major targets set forth in a resolution adopted by the City Commission last night as commissioners approved the hiring of the Birmingham firm of Geer Associates.

City Manager Walter K. Willman recommended the firm, headed by David S. Geer, at a joint meeting last Thursday of the commission and City Planning Commission.

OK PAY RAISE

Approved also was a $5 per day increase for members of the City Board of Tax Review. The hike was recommended by City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom. The board members will now receive $25 daily.

Commissioners accepted an offer of the U. S. Lumber Co. of Detroit of three lots in the Cloverdale Subdivision in exchange for the refund of $230 from 23 unused building permits taken out by the firm.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn expressed confidence in the proposal as he estimated the three lots, located on South Shirley avenue south of Willard, to be worth $100 each.

POSSIBLE PLAYGROUND

Willman pointed out that they might be turned over to the Parks and Recreation Dept. for possible conversion into a playground.

The commission referred the offer to City Attorney William A. Ewart to carry out the proper legal documents.

Upon the request of Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, the city waived a $10 food license fee for the blind operator of the candy counter in the courthouse.

As requested by a citizen last week, the commission consented to adding a sidewalk on the east side of Monroe street from Newberry to the existing sidewalk, as part of the city's 1957 capital improvement program.

Commissioners further authorized Willman to proceed with the proposed sidewalk project on the south side of Newberry street from Monroe to Murphy. There will be no assessments as all property is owned by the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Offered as a public necessity was a third sidewalk job. This is slated for Crescent drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of Pontiac Knolls Subdivision.

SUBMIT ASSESSMENTS ROLL

Commissioners offered in one payment a special assessment roll to pay for some $4,900 in charges owed the city for its weed cutting program of privately owned lots last summer.

Willman will attend a April 1-2 Civil Defense meeting in Chicago, upon the approval of the commission. The meeting, at which the city manager will be one of five Michigan representatives, will study federal legislation pertaining to civil defense.

POSTPONE MEETING.

Because of his absence and the necessary canvassing of the April 1st election returns, the April 2nd meeting will be postponed to April 4th.

Mayor Pro-tem John A. Dugan will attend a March 14-15 urban renewal clinic in Dayton, Ohio. It is being sponsored by the American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods (ACTION).

★ ★ ★

Stocks Irregular in Early Trading

★ ★ ★

The mixture of plus and minus signs followed three sessions of rising prices, chiefly based on the Israeli decision to move out of Egyptian territory and hopes for more stable conditions in the Middle East.

Gains and losses ran from fractions to around a point with little buying or selling pressure in any major division. Individual issues responded to corporate news.

St. Joseph Lead, which was up 3 yesterday when it was one of the most active stocks, added around point today when it confirmed reports of a major iron ore discovery.

Chrysler was up a point following late yesterday's prediction by a company official that it will sell one out of every four new cars sold in the United States this year.

★ ★ ★

Irish Opponents Neck-and-Neck

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—First returns today in the Irish general election indicated a neck and neck race between supporters of Eamon De Valera and John A. Costello.

A West Donegal district sent the same two men back to the Irish Parliament.

P. O'Donnell, minister for local government in the Costello government, collected 6,208 votes. J. Brennan, a follower of the American-born De Valera and a Fianna Fail party stalwart, trailed by 151 votes.

★ ★ ★

The two men held their seats with about the same margin as in the last general election in 1954.

Three years ago the 74-year-old De Valera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail. He needs to pick up seats to again become prime minister.

★ ★ ★

He has turned thumbs down to the idea of forming any coalition with other parties.

About 1,200,000 voters went to the polls yesterday, approximately 70 per cent of the electorate. Counting of ballots was expected to be slow.

Man Pays $25 Deposit on $75 Traffic Tickets

A $25 deposit or one-third of the total $75 fine for five traffic violations was paid by Julius Polk, 22, of 113 Lull St. Tuesday after Officer Forest C. Hatfield apprehended him at his home.

★ ★ ★

Three of the warrants were for driving without an operator's license. The other two charged Polk with speeding 40 in a 25 miles per hour zone and 50 in a 35 miles per hour zone.

He appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and was ordered to pay the complete fine of $75.

Missing Jewelry Stolen in Terminal, Say Police

★ ★ ★

The 186-pound trunk was reported missing Monday by Raymond J. Cannon, a 62-year-old Los Angeles salesman who estimated the wholesale value of his samples at $40,000 or $50,000.

Hen Lays Green Eggs —Maybe Jealous Streak

The pullet, purchased last July by John Hubbuch, has been laying pastel green eggs since the first of January. The insides are like any other egg.

Hubbuch can't explain it. He feeds the hen the same feed he gives his 16 other fowls. But still she comes with green eggs.

Advertising Agency Names 4 to Staff

George Zikakis, formerly with the Kudner Agency, has been assigned to the Pontiac Motor Division creative staff.

★ ★ ★

Randolph W. Heizer, veteran New York and Detroit advertising executive, has been named to the agency's Cadillac Motor Car Division group.

Virgil E. LaMarre, until recently central region sales manager for the Ford Motor Co.'s Continental Division, has been assigned to the Bendix Aviation Corp. as copywriter.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Beech-Nut Life Savers, Inc., reported today 1956 sales of $122,287,855, a 9.7 per cent increase over the combined totals of Life Savers and Beech Nut Packing in 1955 before their merger. Net earnings at $7,998,599, or $2.49 per common share, reflected a 23 per cent improvement.

Pontiac City Affairs

Urban Consultant Hired

A review of Pontiac's general planning and the possibility of instituting an urban renewal program here, will be the major goals of an urban planning firm when the group begins as planning consultant for the city.

★ ★ ★

These were the major targets set forth in a resolution adopted by the City Commission last night as commissioners approved the hiring of the Birmingham firm of Geer Associates.

City Manager Walter K. Willman recommended the firm, headed by David S. Geer, at a joint meeting last Thursday of the commission and City Planning Commission.

Willman listed numerous Oakland County projects being undertaken by the firm, besides many others in the state and outstate.

OK PAY RAISE

Approved also was a $5 per day increase for members of the City Board of Tax Review. The hike was recommended by City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom. The board members will now receive $25 daily.

Commissioners accepted an offer of the U. S. Lumber Co. of Detroit of three lots in the Cloverdale Subdivision in exchange for the refund of $230 from 23 unused building permits taken out by the firm.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn expressed confidence in the proposal as he estimated the three lots, located on South Shirley avenue south of Willard, to be worth $100 each.

POSSIBLE PLAYGROUND

Willman pointed out that they might be turned over to the Parks and Recreation Dept. for possible conversion into a playground.

The commission referred the offer to City Attorney William A. Ewart to carry out the proper legal documents.

Upon the request of Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, the city waived a $10 food license fee for the blind operator of the candy counter in the courthouse.

As requested by a citizen last week, the commission consented to adding a sidewalk on the east side of Monroe street from Newberry to the existing sidewalk, as part of the city's 1957 capital improvement program.

Commissioners further authorized Willman to proceed with the proposed sidewalk project on the south side of Newberry street from Monroe to Murphy. There will be no assessments as all property is owned by the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Offered as a public necessity was a third sidewalk job. This is slated for Crescent drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of Pontiac Knolls Subdivision.

SUBMIT ASSESSMENTS ROLL

Commissioners offered in one payment a special assessment roll to pay for some $4,900 in charges owed the city for its weed cutting program of privately owned lots last summer.

Willman will attend a April 1-2 Civil Defense meeting in Chicago, upon the approval of the commission. The meeting, at which the city manager will be one of five Michigan representatives, will study federal legislation pertaining to civil defense.

POSTPONE MEETING.

Because of his absence and the necessary canvassing of the April 1st election returns, the April 2nd meeting will be postponed to April 4th.

Mayor Pro-tem John A. Dugan will attend a March 14-15 urban renewal clinic in Dayton, Ohio. It is being sponsored by the American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods (ACTION).

★ ★ ★

Stocks Irregular in Early Trading

The mixture of plus and minus signs followed three sessions of rising prices, chiefly based on the Israeli decision to move out of Egyptian territory and hopes for more stable conditions in the Middle East.

Gains and losses ran from fractions to around a point with little buying or selling pressure in any major division. Individual issues responded to corporate news.

St. Joseph Lead, which was up 3 yesterday when it was one of the most active stocks, added around point today when it confirmed reports of a major iron ore discovery.

Chrysler was up a point following late yesterday's prediction by a company official that it will sell one out of every four new cars sold in the United States this year.

Olin Mathieson gained about a point on news of its 33 million dollar air force contract.

★ ★ ★

U.N. Can Use Moral Force to Assure Peace in Mideast

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Once upon a time a former president of the United States, William Howard Taft, Republican, proposed that there be established a league to enforce peace. This was during World War I. Subsequently the League of Nations was created. But it did not "enforce" peace, and World War II followed.

Today the United Nations is struggling with the same problem — how to "enforce" peace.

LAWRENCE

There are three ways of doing it—by military force, by economic force, and by moral force.

A Soviet veto can prevent military force from being ordered by the United Nations Security Council. The U.N. Assembly itself cannot order any military measures to be used to "enforce" peace.

Only the major powers acting collectively can take effective military action, and they can do so on their own, with perhaps a resolution of recommendation from the U.N. Assembly to give it moral backing.

Economic force can be exerted by the U.N. only through the Security Council, and the Soviets have a veto on this, too. Individual nations, however, can join together and impose "sanctions" or punitive measures of an economic nature, but the U.N. Assembly cannot order these steps.

ONLY FORCE

Moral force is the only force which needs no previous approval by the Security Council and which can be utilized by the U.N. Assembly or by the individual member nations in the assembly acting collectively or in groups and blocs.

It is moral force which is winning battles in the world today. It is moral force which is "enforcing" peace in the Middle East, though back of it may be the awareness that military force and war could be the consequence of a failure of moral force to be successful.

Criticism of the failure of the U.N. to exert moral force in the past is necessary and desirable. To attempt, for instance, to squelch expressions by Senator Knowland, Republican, or Senator Humphrey, Democrat, who are members of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations—but who also have a right to speak in their capacity as individual senators on matters of foreign policy—is to discourage the process of constructive criticism which helps so much to build the moral force of the United Nations itself.

BOTH HOUSES

Certainly in the United States, where the Congress is a coordinate branch of the government, it is most helpful to send delegations of the U.N. which comprise members of both houses. If these senators or representatives were to be gagged or to be made to feel that, by becoming a part of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. they must refrain from expressing outside the U.N. sessions their own opinions, it will be difficult in the future to get members of Congress to serve on the U.S. delegation.

Moral force is dependent on public opinion not only in this country but throughout the world. Moral force means free debate of all the issues.

Moral force at the moment makes it incumbent on Egypt to determine whether her government will find any more pretexts to hold up work on the reopening of the Suez Canal and thus risk the condemnation of the United States and the other countries which have just striven so earnestly to persuade British, French and Israeli troops to withdraw from the areas they invaded last October.

The American government is placing its reliance on both Egypt and Israel to keep the peace in the Middle East. But this does not mean that the settlement which President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles successfully persuaded Israel to accept can be regarded now as the final chapter in the controversy. In a sense, the work of "enforcing" peace in the Middle East has only begun. There are economic aids.

Moral force calls for the orderly way—the civilized way. It is the willingness of the President and the Secretary of State here to bear tolerantly the brickbats that came to them from the British and French press last autumn, and yet fearlessly champion moral force, which stands out as a great step forward in the world today.

Moral force is effective when it is applied on the side of not just who is right but what is right. It is a great advance in the long search for a way to "enforce" peace.

Jaycees Donate Fire Equipment

Waterford to Get Light, Speedy Vehicle to Use in Emergencies

A fully equipped truck has been ordered by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be donated to the township fire department, according to chairman of the committee, William Goulet.

The truck will be of the carryall type equipped to answer inhalator calls for heart attack victims, drownings and suffocations.

A siren, beacon and stretcher will be part of the regular equipment on the truck. The Waterford Township Board has authorized a 2-way radio installation, and the truck will be lettered as special township fire station equipment, Goulet said.

It will be housed at station No. 1 and will be available to each of the three township fire stations.

Each time firemen receive a call for a resuscitator, it is necessary for one of the big engines, carrying a full load, to respond, Goulet said the small, lighter truck will provide faster and more economical service to Waterford Township residents.

The new truck is expected to be delivered some time next week, and will be on display at the Jaycees' 3rd annual Sports and Builders show to be held March 22, 23, and 24th at the C.A.I. Building.

Economy Drive Gains Support

House GOP Leaders Ask Substantial Cuts; No Specific Figure Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—New talk of an "economy drive" was aimed today at President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget and at Senate additions to House bills.

The three-pronged drive had the solid backing of the 30-member House GOP Policy Committee, plus the support of influential Democrats and of 57 Republicans acting on their own.

The policy committee adopted a resolution yesterday calling for "substantial" cuts in government spending during the coming fiscal year. Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, chairman of the GOP group, said he would consider a three-billion-dollar cut substantial. But he emphasized that the committee set no specific figure.

The 57-member unofficial Republican group is sponsoring an amendment to the House rules which would limit new appropriations and total spending for the next fiscal year to 65 billion dollars.

There appeared little likelihood that the Rules Committee would recommend the rule change.

2-Hour Tribute Planned for Fall

Irving Himself to Sing 'God Bless America,' His Favorite Song

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Irving Berlin has agreed to let NBC-TV stage a huge two-hour spectacular this fall celebrating Berlin's 50th anniversary in the music business . . .

It's expected to star dozens of past and present stars connected with the great catalogue of Berlin hits, topped off with Irving himself singing the song he's proudest of: "God Bless America" . . .

The spectacular will have available hordes of production numbers from dozens of Berlin shows and movies, such as "Easter Parade" from "As Thousands Cheer," a fair certainty for inclusion . . .

It's the kind of show which could bring Fred Astaire into TV for the first time.

Claudette Colbert's TV demands are luxuriously simple: $25,000 a show and will do but four a year, though she has offers of a dozen . . .

CAESAR'S WOES

NBC now is pretty certain Gisele MacKenzie will alternate shows with Dinah Shore next season . . .

First thing Warner Bros. did after signing Steve Allen's Erin O'Brien was cut her hair (everyone wants to be Perry Como!) . . .

The success of the new Ampex TV tapes means ABC-TV's already announced schedule of showing all of its shows in their normal time periods, despite the mixup of daylight saving time in various time zones, will be accomplished with dependable visual appeal . . .

Tommy Noonan's Como show guesting got him a handsome NBC film offer to co-star with Harpo Marx in a live and cartoon whimsy . . .

STILL GALLOPING

Jack Landau, who designed the TV settings for "21", was a St. John's classmate of big winner Charles Van Doren. Landau's also a director of the American Shakespeare Festival Theater . . .

Darryl F. Zanuck's simple attitude on pay TV: "If it makes money, I'm for it" . . .

Crofoot Cub Scouts Given Badges, Arrows

The new members of the pack are Thomas Phillips, Patrick Sallee and William Cooney.

Wolf badges were awarded to Danny Boster and James Harper. Steven Boster, Alan Harrington and Philip Shapiro received the Bear Badge.

Other cubs who were honored include: Gary Yocum, Bear badge—gold and silver arrows; James Smith, Lion badge; Frank Milmine, Lion badge, one gold and two silver arrows; Wesley Williams and Peter Wells, both silver arrows.

Local Doctor to Attend State Clinical Institute

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, 207 Navajo Dr., will participate in the 11th annual Michigan Clinical Institute March 13-15 in Detroit.

Dr. Furlong will be the chairman of the March 15 meeting at which the latest techniques in obstetrics and gynecology will be discussed.

Boston Teacher Asks Czech Wife

U.S. Olympic Champ Awaiting Prague OK to Wed Top Girl Athlete

VIENNA (AP) — Olga Fikotova, one of Czechoslovakia's top women athletes, hopes to get approval from her Communist government within 24 hours for her marriage to American Olympic champion Harold Connolly.

Connolly, a Boston schoolteacher, said by telephone from Prague that the wedding prospects "naturally all depend on the official yes, but if Olga gets the green light we will do everything to speed things up."

Czech law provides that citizens of the country who want to marry foreigners must have permission from the government.

Harold and his 24-year-old sweetheart met at the Olympic Games in Australia. He is U. S. hammer throw champion and she is Czechoslovakia's leading lady discus thrower. They both returned to their homes after the Olympics, but the history teacher later made the journey to Czechoslovakia with matrimony as his objective.

If the legal snarls are untangled Connolly said, the marriage will take place in Prague with a church wedding following the required civil ceremony.

Groundhog Sees More Winter

Spring Trying to Break Through

Although Mr. Glen Groundhog spotted his shadow last month, indicating six more weeks of winter, spring did tug lightly at Ole Man Winter's coattails during February.

With over one-half—18 to be exact—of the month's daily highs above the freezing point and several days of unseasonably mild temperatures, fancies of Pontiac residents were lightly turned to thoughts of the ensuing fair season.

Feb. 24 through 26 were the fair days, promoting the brief foretaste of spring. Temperatures respectively were 45, 59, and 51 degrees. The 59 degree reading was the warmest day sinc Nov. 15 when the mercury hit 61.

Predictions for snow, drizzle, and invading cold highlighted the month's earliest days. On Feb. 5 the mercury dropped to a low of 16, equaling a record low set 39 years ago on the same date.

Snow flurries prevailed from Feb. 12 through 21. The weatherman's valentine was in the shape of the season's second heaviest snowfall, as a four-inch layer of snow forced morning rush hour traffic to a snail's pace and caused numerous non-injury accidents.

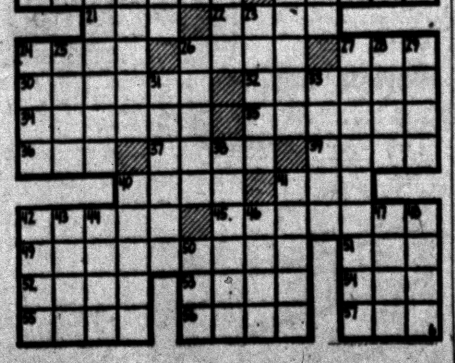

Winterlike cold again invaded the area on Feb. 27, when in one day the mercury dropped from a high of 51 to 29.

The average high for the month was 36.5 degrees. The average low was 21.5. The monthly mean temperature was 29 degrees, while precipitation figures totaled 1.05 inches of rain and 5⅞ inches of snow.

Urban Youths Join Fun of Modern 4-H Program

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The term "4-H Club' once gave a picture of youngsters down on the farm, pitchfork on one hand and prize steer on the other.

But today's 4-H youth is just as likely to drive a souped up car on city streets and confine his "farming" to watering his mother's house plants.

There's a whole organization set up with a primary aim of offering the 4-H benefits of hands-heart-health-head to city as well as rural young people.

It's the 4-H Foundation, Inc., a non-profit group now three years old that has urban club agents in Detroit, Kalamazoo, Flint and Grand Rapids.

URBAN AREAS

It reports that about 25 per cent of the 65,000 youngsters from 10 to 21 in 4-H Club work live in urban areas.

The city kids take up with enthusiasm just about any project except livestock and crops. There are programs like baby sitting skills, gun safety, sewing, cooking, photography and handicraft, nature study in birds and insects.

Don L. Hine, urban agent, said simple projects like sewing an apron or wiring a doorbell can mushroom into major achievement such as making a complete outfit of clothes or building furniture. One Kalamazoo youngster even remodeled his family's home not long ago.

COUNTRY COUSINS

Urban 4-H'ers go to camp along with their country cousins, display their handiwork at achievement days, organize dances and winter sports activity, are eligible for 4-H awards and scholarships.

"The idea that 4-H is a rural organization is a myth that must be dispelled," said Hine. "We'll form a club in any area where interested leadership appears."

This being national 4-H Club week, 4-H officials are promoting recruitment of interested adults to serve as leaders. They don't need special skills. The 4-H organization provides training.

Urban 4-H agents say their aim is to offer clubs in areas that have the greatest number of youngsters and the smallest number of other organizations. That's how 4-H clubs are growing among city youth.

Urban kids stick around to tackle advanced work, their leaders proudly report. Well over half the urban membership comes back the second year and the percentage increases for third and fourth year activities.

FRIENDS OF THE FAMILY

3. The Jumping Kitten

Here's a playful little kitten named "Kitticat." She rolls and tumbles head over heels, chases her tail and acts just as silly as a happy little kitten should. But she's always graceful and sure footed and when she jumps down from a chair she almost always seems to land squarely on her soft padded feet.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color it with crayons. Kitticat is a tiger kitten, light yellow with deeper stripes and she wears a blue bow that makes her fur look even yellower. The bowl is blue with a deep blue edge, and of course, the milk is white.

Cut the parts out carefully. Fold the two sides of the cat along the dotted lines. Paste the bodies and tails together but leave the legs free. Then the legs will spread as shown in the small drawing at the upper right and Kitticat will stand up. Put a penny on the bottom of the base as shown in the small picture and fasten it down with gummed tape. It will act as a balancing weight and then you can make Kitticat jump off a chair or table and most of the time she'll land on her feet.
