Millions Mourn Death of India's Leader

Transit Mediators Explore New Ways to End Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Prodded by a get-tough policy of Mayor John V. Lindsay, mediators explored today possible new methods of settling the city's 11-day bus and subway strike.

The three-man mediation panel met first with union representatives, to be followed by talks with the Transit Authority.

The massive flow of automotive traffic, meantime, eased off from the record volume of 850,000 vehicles which poured into Manhattan yesterday.

Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes described this morning's flow "no worse than a normal Monday or Friday."

In a radio and television broadcast, Lindsay sternly laid down last night three possible routes to resolution of the crippling transportation tieup and declared:

★ ★ ★

"The government of this city will not capitulate before the lawless demands of a single power group. It will not allow the power brokers in our city, or any special interest, to dictate to this city the terms under which it will exist in New York.

PARAMOUNT ISSUE

"The paramount issue confronting us today, the one that threatens the destiny of our government, is whether New York City can be intimidated. I say it cannot and will not, for I sought the office of mayor to give this city leadership, not to betray its spirit in a time of crisis."

Lindsay's proposals were angrily brushed aside by Douglas L. MacMahon, chief negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union.

Here is what the mayor recommended as alternatives to a negotiated settlement:

That the mediators make specific recommendations for a settlement; that a fact-finding commission be appointed to study the dispute and make recommendations; or that new procedures be adopted, such as advisory or binding arbitration.

★ ★ ★

Lindsay coupled the last two alternatives with a recommendation that the strikers return to work pending final settlement.

Warrant Is Ordered in Car Deaths

A manslaughter warrant was ordered today against a 24-year-old Milford woman whose car smashed into a group of schoolchildren and fatally injured two sisters in Commerce Township last week.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said the warrant would be served on Mrs. Kenneth R. Ostin, of 335 Main, at Pontiac General Hospital where she is in fair condition recovering from injuries suffered in the Jan. 3 accident.

At the same time Bronson announced that his office will inititate a new traffic safety program in Oakland County in the next three months.

He said details of the program will be worked out by assistant prosecutor Timothy E. Dinan, who headed the investigation into the fatal accident that took the lives of Mary Ann Wilson, 14, and her sister Lynette, 13.

★ ★ ★

The girls were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wilson, 280 Wise, Commerce Township.

COLLISION

They were struck after Mrs. Ostin's car careened off a school bus, overturning both vehicles.

Bronson said Mrs. Ostin's driving record had a bearing in bringing the charge but would not comment on the past offenses.

Secretary of State records reveal, however, that Mrs. Ostin has been convicted twice of running stop signs and twice for speeding in the last 18 months.

★ ★ ★

She has also received a letter warning her of the possible suspension of her license.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff deputies said the fatal accident at Carroll Lake and Wise occurred when Mrs. Ostin apparently failed to heed a stop sign.

Thai Troops Invade Laos, Says Paper

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported today that "substantial numbers" of Thai troops have invaded Laos, apparently to prevent Communist troops there from making contact with pro-Communist insurgents in Thailand.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said another possible mission of the Thai troops is to block North Vietnamese infiltration of South Viet Nam by way of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

This route runs along the eastern edge of Laos where it parallels Viet Nam.

Richard Dudman, a Washington correspondent for the Post-Dispatch, said U.S. military commanders in Southeast Asia were "fully informed" about the Thai moves.

★ ★ ★

"Observers believe that the Thai action is coordinated and possibly assisted by the United States," Dudman wrote.

U. S. TROOPS

"They relate it to American discussions of plans to use U. S. troops to enter Laos through Thailand and sever the infiltration routes."

The newspaper said the Thai troop operations began several weeks ago.

It said U. S. State Department officials denied any knowledge of the action but that the Pentagon is to be fully informed."

Nations Send Envoys to Rites

Dies After Signing of Pact With Pakistan.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Millions of mourning Indians packed the streets of New Delhi today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was brought home for cremation beside the Sacred Jumna River.

As representatives of governments hurried from around the world to attend the rites tomorrow, the world's leaders poured in tributes to the frail little man who struggled for 19 stormy months after the death of Jahaharlal Nehru to lead this troubled land of 460 million people.

Within hours after Shastri's death from a heart attack, India's new prime minister, Gulzarilal Nanda, promised to carry through his predecessor's final work — the peace pledge he signed with Pakistan a few hours before he died.

Shastri, 61, died early today in the Soviet city of Tashkent. The 5-foot-2, 110-pound prime minister had signed a limited peace pact yesterday with Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan agreeing to pull their forces back from territory seized during the September war between India and Pakistan.

Nanda in a nationwide broadcast said Shastri died "after successfully concluding a mighty effort for peace. We shall honor the agreement he made and implement it faithfully."

A Soviet plane bore the remains of the humble-born little leader across the Hindu Kush Mountains to India's dusty plains.

★ ★ ★

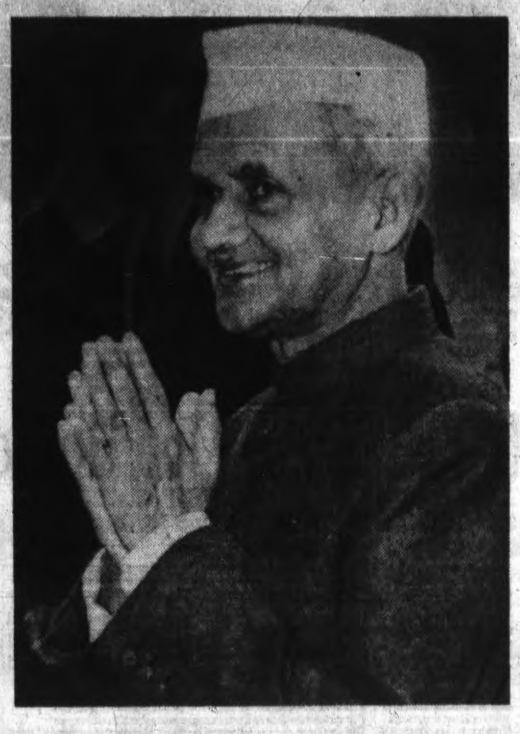

Ayub Khan, whose forces fought Indian troops in a bloody 22-day undeclared war last September, and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who was host to the Tashkent conference, helped carry Shastri's coffin to the plane in the Soviet Asian city.

LEADERS DEPART

Kosygin left shortly after to attend the funeral. Ayub returned to Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital.

Floods Sweep Rio; 36 Reported Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Thirty-six persons were killed and many more were feared buried in the debris of 50 buildings—mostly in the slums — which collapsed last night after a downpour caused extensive flooding.

Gov. Francisco Negrao de Lima declared a state of emergency.

The rain continued into the early morning and more was predicted for tonight.

The Journal do Brasil said as many as 100 persons may have been killed, but a fire department spokesman declined to speculate on the number of dead.

He said six of the known casualties had drowned or died from heart attacks.

HEAVY DAMAGE

A shantytown on the steep hillside behind the fashionable Copacabana district was reported to have suffered heavy damage, and some of its buildings were swept away.

The Maracana River overflowed into a middle- and lower-class neighborhood and flooded dozens of homes.

At some points in low sections of the city water was six and seven feet deep.

★ ★ ★

The rushing waters broke many shop windows and carried away merchandise.

STALLED CARS

Many persons were stranded atop stalled cars. Dozens climbed on top of a platform built around the Gemini 5 space capsule on display here.

Thirty-five children were reported trapped in the second floor of an orphanage.

Several areas of the city were plunged into darkness when the water damaged power lines.

Romney: GOP on Talent Hunt

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney declared today that Republicans are making a more concerted effort to find attractive candidates than he has ever seen before.

★ ★ ★

He disputed a claim by Edward Meany, a South Haven businessman seeking the GOP U.S. Senate nomination, that Republicans have written off the Senate race.

"I'm doing more talking with party leaders and members about candidates and qualifications than I've ever done before," Romney added. "And the finance people are making plans to do everything possible to give adequate financial support to candidates at all levels."

The governor said it is easier than in the past to find strong, young candidates.

★ ★ ★

He said the party is looking both within the ranks of active party supporters and the broad range of persons identified as independents to locate candidates.

★ ★ ★

"Our polls show the public attitude toward the party is up," he said. "Not so much as we'd like, but up."

Ball Will Tell Congressmen of Peace Bid

American Proposal Reportedly Delivered to North Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pinch hitting for Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George W. Ball went to Capitol Hill today to face a barrage of questions about President Johnson's Viet Nam policy —including the newly disclosed direct U.S. contact with Hanoi.

Rusk had been slated to appear at the closed briefing before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

But he had to fly to India to attend the funeral of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri. He flew out shortly after midnight.

CIA Director William F. Raborn was called to appear this afternoon for separate testimony before another congressional group, a joint subcommittee on the Central Intelligence Agency.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers disclosed the U.S.-North Vietnamese contact late yesterday but refused to tell more — including how, when or where it came about.

U.S. MESSAGE

It was learned that a U.S. diplomat met for a few minutes with a Hanoi representative and handed him a message concerning U.S. proposals for peace in Viet Nam.

The two officials were reported to have exchanged routine remarks, but not to have engaged in any substantive negotiations.

Johnson has offered unconditional discussions.

DR. CLARENCE HILBERRY

Former WSU President Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Clarence Hilberry, a Shakespearean scholar who turned Wayne State University from a small city - supported school to a major institution, died Monday, apparently of a heart attack. He was 63.

Hilberry, a former president of WSU, adovocated balanced education and opposed what he considered too much emphasis on athletics. He died in New York, where he had lived with his wife since last fall.

Hilberry retired from the presidency last year and became a consultant on higher education with the Ford Foundation.

Police said Hilberry checked into a hotel Tuesday and was found dead beside the bed in his room some five hours later. A medical examiner listed the death as natural.

Program to Get Poverty Funds

2-Month Allocation; Meeting Set Monday

The Pontiac School District has received word from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) that the city's School Community Action Program (SCAP) has been granted a temporary two-month operating appropriation.

★ ★ ★

In addition, Dr. Lee W. Haslinger, coordinator of federal funds for the district, said a representative from the OEO office in Washington would meet with school officials from throughout the county next Monday.

The temporary fund grant — retroactive to Jan. 1 and effective through Feb. 28 — will permit continued operation of SCAP programs at Jefferson - Franklin, Whittier, and Bagley-Bethune schools.

The program offers varied educational facilities to both school-age children and adults. It had been continuing at Jefferson-Franklin on volunteer efforts by the project's instructors.

★ ★ ★

All 25 teachers at the school had continued working without pay after the OEO office in Chicago notified local school officials last week that funds for the program had been "furloughed."

DELAY EXPLAINED

Haslinger said the delay in refunding of the SCAP program "apparently stems from some question in their (OEO's) evaluation of our proposals."

Monday's 9 a.m. meeting, he said, would probably deal with OEO's "questions" and possible alternatives from county school officials.

Sailors See Ship Sink, Several Drown

NEW YORK (AP)—Surviving crewmen of a Spanish freighter reported today they saw their ship sink and witnessed the drowning of the captain and several crewmen, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard here said it received a report from the American freighter Steel Maker, carrying four survivors from the Spanish vessel, the Monte Palomares.

The survivors said they had seen 18 others alive in a lifeboat and a raft but that they feared that most of the remaining 11 crewmen had drowned with the captain.

The Monte Palomares' crew abandoned ship yesterday when her grain cargo shifted and she developed a 30-degree list in heavy seas. She reported she was 840 miles north-northeast of Bermuda.

Rescue ships searched the area for survivors while a Coast Guard cutter stood by the Greek freighter Lampsis, which was riding out the storm with a cracked deck 240 miles southwest of the Monte Palomares. She had 30 crewmen aboard.

The Pentellina, a French ore carrier, and the Thuro Maersk, a Danish refrigerated cargo ship, also searched the area, battered by 25-foot waves and winds of 28 to 33 knots.

The Coast Guard cutter Escanaba, based in New Bedford, Mass., but on standby patrol off Bermuda, arrived at the scene early today.

Proposed City Budget at Record $9.2 Million

A record city budget of $9.2 million has been proposed for 1966 by city administrators.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is scheduled to formally present the proposed budget at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Incorporating a general operating fund of $7.6 million—$650,767 higher than 1965, the proposed budget is based on as assumed $20 million increase in the city's equalized tax base.

If the tax base goes up as assumed, the proposed budget would not require a tax rate hike to finance.

★ ★ ★

If the tax base falls short of his current estimate, Warren said he would trim the budget rather than consider a tax rate hike.

FEB. 1 DEADLINE

The budget, which is to be adopted before Feb. 1, is subject to revision in June when the city's equalized tax base has been established by the county and approved by the State Tax Commission.

Warren has estimated the city's equalized valuation will rise to $406 million in 1966. The equalized tax base last year was $386 million.

The proposed budget provides pay raises totaling $290,000 for most of the city's 750 employes and also gives some relief to the city's hard-pressed police department.

★ ★ ★

The police department appropriation is hiked $128,315 over 1965.

MAIN REASONS

Ten new patrolmen and added in-service training are the two main reasons for the increase.

In addition, capital outlay expenditures proposed for 1966 include the purchase of 13 new police cars.

Other general fund increases include $250,000 for general government expenses; $71,558 for state trunk lines, major and local streets; $16,238 for library services; $32,670 for parks and recreation; and $77,257 for public service facilities.

★ ★ ★

Increased personnel and pay raises were listed as the main hikes in the total budget. Warren said a total of 11 new employes are provided in the proposed budget.

CITY PENSIONS

City employe pensions will cost an added $60,367 in 1966.

Most city departments maintain the same level of spending as in the 1965 budget, allowing for the increased salaries.

On the revenue side, city officials estimate the city's charter-limited 10-mill operating levy

Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew from Washington for the funeral. They were accompanied by two former U.S. ambassadors to India, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and John Kenneth Galbraith.

Queen Elizabeth II sent Earl Mountbatten, last viceroy and first governor general of India, to represent her.

Tributes to Shastri poured in from many parts of the world.

President Johnson said his death was a "grievous blow to the hopes of mankind for peace and progress." He said Shastri had "proved a fitting successor to Pandit Nehru by holding aloft the highest ideals of Indian democracy."

Kosygin hailed Shastri as "a great humanist of our time."

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, attending the Commonwealth conference on Rhodesia in Nigeria, said the loss of Shastri "will be felt throughout the Commonwealth, and indeed everywhere. His qualities of statesmanship, sincerity and integrity are valued."

Ayub said he was "profoundly shaken and grieved" by Shastri's death and had been "greatly impressed by his sincerity and dedication" during their week of meetings in Tashkent.

FLAG LOWERED

The national flag was half-staffed on all government buildings in Pakistan, and Ayub ordered his commerce minister and defense adviser, Ghulam Faruque, to represent him at the funeral.

Shastri died at 1:32 a.m. — 2:32 p.m. EST Monday — in the villa where he was staying outside Tashkent. Aides said he had dined alone at 10:30 p.m., telephoned his family in New Delhi, and went to bed half an hour later but could not sleep.

At about 1:20 a.m., the prime minister was seized by a coughing spell and staggered into the hall crying, "Doctor, doctor." His staff, packing to leave Tashkent today, put their chief back to bed and summoned his personal physician Dr. R.N. Chugh.

His staff, packing to leave Tashkent today, put their chief back to bed and summoned his personal physician Dr. R. N. Chugh. The doctor said Shastri lost consciousness three minutes later and stopped breathing at 1:32. A team of eight Soviet physicians joined in unsuccessful attempts to revive the Indian leader.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that death was due to a heart attack. Shastri had had serious heart attacks in 1959, before becoming prime minister, and another a month after succeeding Nehru.

Big GI Forces Mop Up Cong Hideouts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large forces of disappointed U.S. troops mopped up today in two big Viet Cong hideouts northwest of Saigon and in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier after the bulk of guerrillas once more had escaped into the jungles.

★ ★ ★

For U.S. officers the operation by more than 8,000 Americans and Australians 35 miles from the capital was particularly annoying.

Although they raised the Viet Cong death toll to 84 and captured 38 in the four days of Operation Crimp, they had hoped for far better results from the biggest American offensive of the war.

Their goal was to snare a Communist regiment on the edge of the Iron Triangle, an old guerrilla redoubt that has been Communist territory since the days of the French Indochina war.

★ ★ ★

But only rear-guard elements put up a fight while the main enemy force vanished.

BRISK FIGHT

Paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade took on one guerrilla band in a brisk fight yesterday and killed 29 Communists, U.S. spokesmen reported. Another 16 bodies were found after an air attack.

Soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division killed six more guerrillas in a 20-minute gun battle when the Reds tried to protect a large tunnel containing 16 bales of cotton and six tons of rice.

While U.S. troops explored a maze of tunnels underneath more than 100 houses in the area, soldiers of the Royal Australian Regiment reported killing three Viet Cong in small actions in the afternoon and finding five more bodies.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. spokesman reported "only light, sporadic contact in the whole battle area."

8-DAY HUNT

Equally frustrating was an eight-day search for guerrillas by the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division in the central highlands on the Cambodian frontier, not far from the Ia Drang Valley where the flying horsemen battled it out with North Vietnamese regulars last November.

This time the Communists hurriedly pulled out, abandoning four rest camps capable of accommodating 3,000 guerrillas. The cavalry men destroyed the camps.

The operation netted eight Communists captured.

★ ★ ★

Some of the captives were identified as members of the 32nd and 66th North Vietnamese regular regiments.

CHINESE GUNS

There also were reports that an antiaircraft battalion with 18 Chinese machine guns had been in the area.

As the Americans crashed into one campsite, they saw a squad of armed men in a patch quilt of khaki and black uniforms flee across the Tongle San River, the border with Cambodia 40 miles west of Pleiku.

A big cooking kettle still simmered. A Viet Cong brigadier general left behind a small satchel with a single star pinned to it and his toothbrush and paste inside.

★ ★ ★

Operation Ripping Mustang brought the 1st Cavalrymen within 100 feet of the Cambodian border, and some of the 1st Cavalry's helicopters swooped down on the river to sink a Communist sampan.

AVOID BORDER

Heretofore, the American troops were under orders to keep at last three miles from the border to avoid charges from Cambodia of territory violation.

In most areas, the border is poorly defined in the thick forests.

As a sergeant stood on the river bank in a clearing, he pointed to caves on the Cambodian side and said: "I'll bet Charlie (the Viet Cong) is watching us from over there."

★ ★ ★

At some spots the river is 50 feet wide.

BOAT SINKS

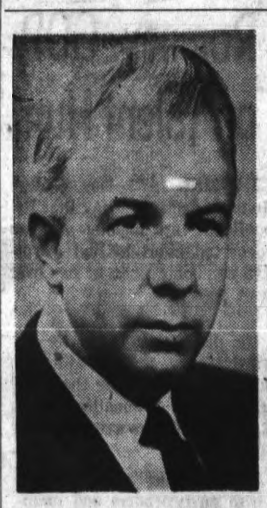

The helicopters fired rockets and machine guns at a sampan comouflaged with vegetation in the river, and Lt. Col. Kenneth Mertel of Eugene, Ore., the battalion commander, said secondary explosions erupted as the boat sank.

Only light contact with the enemy was reported today.

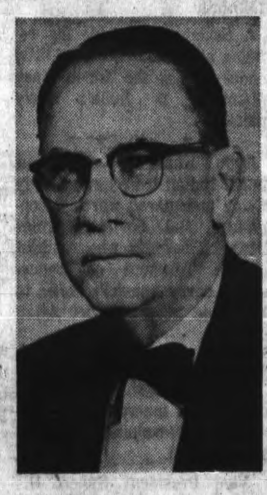

South Vietnamese troops fared little better in hunting the Viet Cong.

★ ★ ★

A battalion dropped by helicopter on an area 10 miles northeast of Hong Ngu, which is four miles from Cambodia, but failed to locate any sizable enemy force. The 3rd battalion of the Vietnamese 15th infantry expected to flush out guerrilla bands in the operation. Instead, it only came upon a squad.

ROBERT R. ELDRED

DONALD B. WHITFIELD

Unit Heads Named in Hospital Drive

Robert R. Eldred, executive vice president of Community National Bank of Pontiac, and Donald B. Whitfield, a Birmingham realtor, will serve as co-chairmen of the public phase of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital building fund campaign, it was announced today by E. M. Estes, chairman of the fund.

The public campaign opens March 16 and will run through March 31. Some 800 volunteers will carry the hospital's story to the thousands of families in the communities served by the hospital.

They will be seeking subscriptions to complete the $3.25-million building fund goal.

★ ★ ★

Eldred will be assisted in the Pontiac area by six division chairmen who will each organize five teams of 10 members.

PONTIAC MAYOR

These include Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., Bruce J. Annett, Edward B. Barker Jr., William J. Dean Sr., Richard C. Fitzpatrick and Glenn H. Griffin.

In the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area, C. Walter Frederick of Bloomfield Hills has been enlisted to help Whitfield put together 10 divisions of five teams each.

Leading these divisions are David G. Booth, Louis T. Hagopian, A. R. Marzelli, Charles B. Neely and Mrs. Reginald M. Stock, all of Bloomfield Hills; Clarence G. Clohset, Mrs. Asa Drury and William F. Gray of Birmingham; and Robert W. Mason of Royal Oak and Donald W. Sherman of Orchard Lake.

Estes said he was extremely gratified by the willingness of those who have agreed to serve and stressed the importance of the public campaign.

ROLE CITED

"These 800 volunteers we are going to recruit will play a vital role in our efforts to make possible a greater St. Joseph Mercy Hospital," he noted.

In a year-end report to the hospital's lay advisory board, Estes reported that the advance committees would continue to follow-up those assignments that had not been completed, although their work is nearly finished.

He also revealed that the building fund had passed the $2 million mark and that a little more than $1 million was yet to be secured.

Sukarno Ejects U.S. Newsmen

Must Quit Indonesia for Printing of 'Lies'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno today ordered all American correspondents expelled from Indonesia.

Sukarno issued the order in a speech at a ceremony installing the new Indonesian ambassador to Syria H.M. Sudjono.

★ ★ ★

The president said he had decided to expel American correspondents from Indonesia in retaliation for lies being written in the American press about the current Indonesian political crisis.

★ ★ ★

There are now two American correspondents in Indonesia: R. E. Staniard of United Press International and Donald Kirk, representing the New York Times.

"They also say," Sukarno declared, "that (Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris) Nasution has become supreme commander of Koti (the Supreme Operations Command). I am still the supreme commander of Koti.

★ ★ ★

"Go to hell with your lies," he added.

Sukarno then turned to First Deputy Premier Subandrio, who is also foreign minister, and said:

"I order you, Subandrio, to kick out all American correspondents from Indonesia. This is our country. We do not want foreign correspondents writing untrue things about Indonesia."

Budget Listed at $9.2 Million will bring in $4,060,000 or $196,844 more than last year.

★ ★ ★

Revenue from the state in 1966 is expected to top last year by $151,085. This includes $67,000 more return on the state's sales tax and a $99,029 reimbursement from the state under the new tax provisions for tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

OTHER INCREASES

Other projected revenue increases this year include $25,394 in added fees for various city permits and $137,338 in increased return on the miscellaneous sale of city services and commodities.

In the latter category is the sale of street lighting, revenue from food concessions and cemetery services.

Increased income from city permits is projected on new schedules of fees to be presented in the near future for City Commission approval.

★ ★ ★

The total 1966 city tax levy, including general operations, sanitation and waste collection, capital improvements and debts, is to net $5,661,955 or $149,368 over last year.

SANITATION FUND

The total sanitation fund appropriation is down $30,195 from 1965. However, city officials have budgeted $120,600 for new waste collection equipment.

Supported by its own millage, the sanitation fund tax levy is expected to drop slightly in 1966 from 1965 when the city budgeted $227,500 for purchase of a new sanitary landfill site.

Also supported through separate millage (1.5 mills), the capital improvement fund this year is expected to total $609,000 or $31,527 over 1965.

★ ★ ★

This results primarily from the projected increased tax base.

OBLIGATION BONDS

The appropriation to cover 1966 payments on the city's two sets of general obligation bonds is slightly under 1965.

City officials have proposed a total of $390,000.9 for debt service, compared to $408,000 last year.

Supported by their own revenues from service charges, the water and sewage treatment funds are increased in the proposed budget.

The proposed 1966 water department fund of $2.2 million is $278,050 higher than in 1965.

According to Warren, the proposed budget carries a contingency of only $37,014 in the important general operating fund, which totals over $7.6 million.

16 Improvement Projects Get Priority in Program

BIRMINGHAM — A capital improvement program estimated at $950,000 was accepted by the City Commission last night with instructions to proceed immediately in carrying it out.

In adopting the plan, the commission gave priority to 16 projects, the most expensive being the acquisition of property on Oakland and construction of a boulevard from Woodward to Hunter. The cost has been estimated at $400,000.

Included in the program are the paving of Chester from Martin to Brown and widening of Chester from Maple to Willits; widening of Forest from Woodward to Hunter; improvement of the Maple-Adams intersection; improvement of Southfield from Maple south; and the paving of Haynes from Columbio to Eton.

Intersection improvements also are planned for the northwest corner of Lincoln and Woodward, northwest corner of Oak and Woodward; and at Brown and Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Other projects include repair of the Lincoln bridge; repainting of the Hunter and Eton elevated water tanks; construction of the Springdale storm sewer and a police pistol range; acquisition of the Millrace property along Quarton Lake and acquisition of right of way on Southfield on the west side from Merrill to Brown.

CITY ENGINEER

City Engineer William T. Killeen said the program will tax his department, but that it should be started on the premise that the engineering department can handle all phases of the work.

He said that if anytime it appears outside help is needed to complete the program in 1966, he would make a recommendation to the commission.

The awarding of a contract for construction of the city's first parking structure was delayed for a week while architects evaluate bids.

★ ★ ★

The 566-car facility is to be built on the present L-shaped surface parking lot fronting on Woodward and Willits.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing on the closing of Oakland, between Worth and Adams, was adjourned until Feb. 14.

The postponement was recommended by City Manager Robert S. Kenning to allow the administration to negotiate an agreement with the Birmingham School Board for payment of intersection improvements at Adams School.

The commission directed the administration to draft a resolution to be sent to the Oakland County Road Commission regarding safety factors at the Maple-Telegraph intersection.

Though the intersection is outside Birmingham, commissioners said they owed it to city residents who travel the roads to ask that something be done about the hazardous intersection.

'65 Building Up 60 Pct. in Waterford

Last year's building upsurge in Waterford Township, which showed gains of nearly 60 per cent in estimated valuation, was capped by issuance of 53 permits in December for new construction worth $888,183.

Total estimated valuation of new construction for which permits were issued in 1965 was $15,032,037 compared with $9,048,829 in 1964, according to a report presented to Township Board members last night.

December's figures included issuance of 19 housing permits for construction valued at $349,356 and five commercial permits for construction worth $322,800.

Included among the commercial permits were Pontiac State Bank buildings on Dixie Highway ($139,000) and West Huron ($111,000) and an office and storage facility on M59 ($50,000).

★ ★ ★

In addition, a permit for construction valued at $150,000 was issued for the J. L. Hudson Co. addition at Pontiac Mall, Telegraph at Elizabeth Lake Road.

Last month's total exceeded the December 1964 figure by $574,716. There were 50 permits issued in December 1964 for construction valued at $313,476.

Action Slated on Bond Plan

Would Go for School Additions, Changes

Pontiac Board of Education members tomorrow night are scheduled to act on a $1.2-million bond proposal for financing school construction.

Funds from the bond sale will be used to erect and equip additions to school buildings, to remodel existing school buildings and to acquire sites for future building.

The bonds would mature each May 1 from 1967 through 1970.

In other business, the board will consider an administrative recommendation authorizing the school district to enter an agreement with Oakland County Schools for data processing services.

★ ★ ★

Cost of the arrangement to the Pontiac school system for the balance of this year and the 1966-67 year will be $24,710.

HEARINGS SET

Dates of hearings set by the State Mediation Board on various petitions filed by the board of education will be announced.

A hearing petitioned by the school district involving the Pontiac Education Association and Pontiac Federation of Teachers is slated for 10 a.m. Monday.

Scheduled for Feb. 9 at 10 a.m. will be hearings involving the school district, the Detroit Building Trades Council, school cafeteria managers and Metropolitan Council No. 23 AFSE & ME Union, (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

Two issues will be decided at the hearings to be held at 1400 Cadillac Square Bldg., Detroit.

One is the composition of bargaining units and the other is who will represent the bargaining units that have been determined.

Worker Foils Station Break-In

A 29-year-old Springfield Township service station attendant thwarted an attempted break-in last night, and assisted State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies in apprehension of two suspects.

Deputies said Larry Seaton of 9626 Dixie Highway aided in the arrest of two Yale, Mich., youths when he fired a 30.30 rifle at the suspects' car when they attempted to escape.

Held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of attempted breaking and entering are Fred P. Passalacqua, 20, and Charles Lisek, 18.

Robert Clark, owner of Clark Standard Service at 9757 Dixie, Springfield Township, told deputies he was working inside the station around midnight when he heard the rear door to the building being kicked in.

★ ★ ★

Clark phoned Seaton, who lives nearby, and then called police.

ARRIVES FIRST

Seaton arrived at the scene first. He told deputies Passalacqua fled into a field and Lisek ran to a car near the station.

Seaton fired one shot through the car's windshield, then held Lisek until the arrival of deputies and State Police troopers.

Passalacqua returned to the car upon hearing the shot and seeing that Lisek had been caught, Seaton said.

After Lawsuit Filed

MSU Lets Student Return

EAST LANSING (AP) — A former student, who contended Michigan State University barred him last spring merely for exercising his rights of free speech, had MSU's permission today to return immediately.

Paul M. Schiff, 24, of New Rochelle, N.Y., planned to register today or Wednesday for MSU's winter term, already four days old.

★ ★ ★

Schiff, once a leader in the Committee for Student Rights, had been barred for allegedly violating MSU rules concerning distribution of literature and encouraging others to violate the rules.

He filed suit in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids in an effort to regain admission.

TIME TO RETURN

"Denial of readmission is always for an indefinite period. We decided it was time to say that if he wants to return it would be all right," said Eldon Nonnamaker, associate dean of students.

Schiff, a graduate student in history, said he was not completely surprised when he received a letter from Nonnamaker Monday stating he could reenter.

★ ★ ★

"It is typical of a large corporation to settle out of court when it knows it has a losing case," he said.

"It certainly gives me pleasure to be able to return," said Schiff, who noted he has been out of school for nine months. He has been working as a discount store clerk in East Lansing.

CASE PENDING

Schiff's attorney, Kenneth Laing Jr. of Lansing, said it has not yet been decided what action now should be taken in the court, which has Schiff's complaint under consideration.

"We're very pleased he can go back," said Laing. "Certainly that was the main purpose of the lawsuit.

★ ★ ★

"But there still are a couple of problems," he added, such as what Schiff's record at MSU will show.

The American Civil Liberties Union has been supporting Schiff in his court battle.

PROF SUPPORT

In addition, the MSU chapter of the American Association of University Professors had filed a friend of the court brief urging Schiff's readmission.

Hugh Anderson, ACLU vice chairman in Lansing, said he hoped the university's action "means the administration has come to recognize the right of its students to participate in political causes the same as any other persons."

★ ★ ★

Walter Adams, local AAUP president, said:

"We have always believed that, where reason prevails a university is perfectly capable of self-government. We also have believed that once President (John) Hannah personally examined the facts in this case, the solid evidence would inevitably lead him to make the correct decision. We are delighted with the outcome."

★ ★ ★

The AAUP's position has been that MSU has the right and obligation to "make reasonable rules to protect the health, safety and morals of its academic citizens," but "can neither promulgate nor enforce rules which deprive an individual of rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed by the Constitution."

1 Is Killed, 13 Injured in Ski Resort Blast

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (UPI) — A mystery explosion mashed a three-story building into six feet of rubble at a bustling ski area yesterday, killing one and injuring 13.

Scores might have been killed had the blast come one day earlier when 1,500 tourists jammed the resort high in the Colorado Rockies.

Investigators pulled tons of timber from the flattened building today trying to find the cause of the blast. One official said it possibly was a propane gas explosion.

"We have not completed the investigation," Summit County Sheriff C. W. Clark said. "It might have been a small gas leak, but there was no odor of gas. It could have been a lot of things."

The explosion tossed the alpine-style building's roof onto a day nursery, but the four children playing there escaped injury.

The impact split a ski shop mannequin in half. Tons of debris collapsed on the 14 persons and trapped them for up to two hours in the building which housed offices, a clothing store and a ski rental shop.

The frame building, not yet completed, "started shaking and then just blew up and fell in a heap," witnesses said.

One of the 13 injured was listed in critical condition today. Injured were taken from the ski resort area two miles west of Breckenridge, 9,000 feet high in the Rocky Mountains, to hospitals at Leadville and Denver, 86 miles away.

Smokers Shun Health Report; Cigarette Sales at New High

United Press International

On the second anniversary of the surgeon general's report linking smoking and lung cancer, cigarette consumption in America is at an all-time high.

Issued two years ago today, the report's effects on American smoking habits apparently have worn off.

In state after state, cigarette consumption at first declined following the issuance of the report, and has since climbed steadily, a United Press International survey showed.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that Americans smoked 532 billion cigarettes last year — a new record, and the department says the total will be even higher this year.

★ ★ ★

Emerson Foote, the advertising man who quit to head the National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health, said sales will continue to rise until Congress requires health warnings to be included in cigarette advertising.

CARRY WARNING

All cigarettes manufactured since Jan. 1 carry a warning on the pack that smoking may be harmful to your health.

But few of these packs are on the market yet and Foote said he is "hopeful but not really confident" that the warning will cut tobacco consumption.

A California tax official believes the warning will not do much good.

"It's my guess that we won't notice it ever," said John B. Marshall, statistician for the California Board of Equalization.

"There has been a sincere effort to bring home to the public the dangers of smoking, but the public has not been moved by it."

School System Given Grant

Walled Lake Plans to Expand 2 Programs

WALLED LAKE — A $77,000 federal grant has been awarded to the Walled Lake School System for expansion of its junior primary and remedial reading programs.

The grant was made under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The district's junior primary program provides a step between kindergarten and first grade for those youngsters who need extra preparation for formal academic work.

Having introduced its first junior primary class last year, the system will have five in operation by the end of this month.

★ ★ ★

Small classes are a feature of the program, with most having a maximum of 15 pupils.

REMEDIAL PROGRAM

The remedial program will be designed for pupils in second through sixth grade who have reading difficulties.

A reading specialist will work with these children in small groups with instruction based on each child's achievement level, regardless of his actual grade or age.

Funds from the federal grant also will be used to increase the reading staff of the district and to purchase testing materials which will be used to determine the effectiveness of the enlarged program.

The money also will permit the scheduling of in-service workshops for teachers working in the reading and junior primary areas.

Backs Interdistrict Action

Holly School Unit Reports

HOLLY — The local delegation on the Four District Study Committee last night filed its final report with the Holly Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

The 11 citizens recommended inter-district cooperation in the vocational and technical areas, but also urged the Holly Board of Education to hire its own curriculum director and start an in-service vocational training program.

The Holly School District representatives met with those of the neighboring Fenton, Linden and Lake Fenton school districts for 13 months to consider possible areas of cooperation.

The committee as a whole suggested that the four districts jointly hire a curriculum coordinator and a vocational training director.

★ ★ ★

Also suggested was the possible consolidation of two or more of the other three districts, all of which lie within Genesee County.

HOLLY DISTRICT

With about 110 square miles, the Holly district covers more area than the three other districts combined and has a greater growth potential.

Local representatives to the Four District Study Committee revised the group's recommendations in urging the Holly board to hire its own halftime or fulltime curriculum coordinator.

They also suggested that a business education teacher be appointed to set up a cooperative training program for the district.

★ ★ ★

However, they stressed that the Holly board should pursue possible areas of cooperation with the other districts.

PERMANENT ADVISORS

The 11 members of the delegation have been appointed permanent advisers to the school board and now are working on plans for adult education and summer programs.

Schools Supt. Russell D. Haddon said a committee survey indicated 28 of the school system's teachers would be available to teach some 40 classes next fall.

The committee is seeking appointment of a staff member to direct the program, Haddon said.

★ ★ ★

He noted the group also is coordinating plans for a summer recreation program, not offered in 1965 because there was no director.

PROVIDE CONTINUITY

"We're hopeful they'll provide a continuity here that we haven't had," Haddon said.

The school board last night also heard a report from Keith Weiland of Lane, Riebe and Weiland Associates, Ann Arbor architects designing an addition to Davisburg Elementary School.

Final plans for the addition were presented to the board, expected to act on them next Monday.

★ ★ ★

The addition would include a library with adjacent art room and small theater on the upper level, which also would provide for an enlarged teachers' lounge and store room.

On the lower level would be three offices and workrooms.

Utica Petitions Ruled Illegal

UTICA — Incorporation of a part of Shelby Township as a means of increasing the size of the city of Utica was ruled out by the Macomb County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Petitions filed last November by a group led by Utica Councilman Charles W. Stone were turned down on legal grounds by the board of supervisors.

Under a new state law, according to City Clerk Eunice Kopietz, the only way a city can take on additional property is through annexation to give residents of both sections an equal right to vote.

In an incorporation vote the majority decision from either side determines the outcome. Under annexation, the majority of voters from the area to be annexed as well as those from the area doing the annexing must give approval.

★ ★ ★

The board of supervisors took no action on petitions filed by Shelby Township residents which seek an election to form the entire township into a home rule city called Shelbydale.

More than 5 million persons migrated from farms and rural towns to urban areas in the last decade.

Attendance Records Broken at 2 Parks

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park north of Utica both had record-breaking attendance in 1965, according to Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA).

Attendance leader of the authority's four major parks was Kensington, which recorded a total attendance of more than 2.1 million for the year.

The 4,300-acre site, opened in 1958, surpassed its previous record set in 1963 by some 10,000.

The park had 133,000 more visitors last year than it did in 1964, according to Hallenbeck's report.

★ ★ ★

Stony Creek, a 3,500-acre site opened in July 1964, recorded over 904,000 visitors in 1965, its first full year of operation.

1st 6 MONTHS

The park had some 628,000 visitors during its first six months of operation in 1964.

Hallenbeck said never in the history of the authority has a park's usage accelerated at such a rapid rate.

Metropolitan Beach, covering 550 acres along Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens, had more than 1.5 million visitors in 1965, the second highest figure on record.

★ ★ ★

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, 1,000 acres of recreational land along the Huron River near Belleville, had an estimated attendance of over 1.3 million, a decrease of about 100,000 from the previous year and some 300,000 below the record set in 1961.

SURPRISED AT ATTENDANCE

Hallenbeck said he was somewhat surprised at the year's attendance figure for Kensington, noting that the other parks also did very well considering the generally unseasonable weather.

★ ★ ★

"We are especially pleased with the progress of Stony Creek, which is already enjoying the wide public acceptance that our other Huron-Clinton parks enjoy," he said.

HCMA is a regional agency serving the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

News of the Area

Legion Gets Green Light to Erect New Meeting Hall

ROCHESTER — Homer Wing Post No. 172 of the American Legion was given the go-ahead by the Village Council last night to build a new meeting hall.

The council approved a request to rezone .6 acres next to the municipal building from residential to office to allow construction of the building.

Several property owners with land adjacent to the area in question attended the public hearing last night to ask questions regarding the type of facility and the cost for sewer and sidewalk extensions. No strong objections to the rezoning were made.

The American Legion bought the property at the northern end of Pine from the village for $10,000.

★ ★ ★

Post members indicated that they would meet with their architect next week to start drawing up plans for the new building, which is to be a style compatible with the municipal building.

In other action, Village Manager William Sinclair informed the council that he has appointed Frank Kelly, 39, as village assessor replacing George Howell.

Howell resigned his post last July to accept a position as urban renewal director in Marquette.

Kelly, who lives at 2374 Lakena, West Bloomfield Township, was previously with Bateman Realty Co. of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The council also put on first reading a request from the Rochester Community Schools that parking be eliminated for 100 feet on the south side of Ferndale.

FOR SCHOOL BUSES

The schools want the space for school buses to load and unload children with greater safety.

If approved the request will become an amendment to the traffic ordinance.

How to Save on Taxes—8

3 Major Benefits Available to Elderly

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth of a 14-part series, "Cut Your Own Taxes," by tax expert Ray De Crane, designed to help readers save money on their income tax returns.)

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Taxpayers who reached their 65th birthday by Dec. 31, 1965, have three opportunities for major tax savings on their income tax return. They are:

1. Dollar-for-dollar deduction for all medical expenses, including all prescribed drugs, hospital and health insurance, doctor and dentist fees, cost of dentures and hearing aids.

This means that on a joint return — even if only one of the spouses is 65 — medical expenses are fully deductible without reference to the three per cent and one per cent rules which apply to under-65 taxpayers.

2. No tax to be paid when they sell their home for $20,000 or less, regardless of how much profit was made on the sale. There is no requirement that they buy another home.

★ ★ ★

3. A joint retirement income credit which could exempt, in effect, an additional $2,286 in income from tax at a 15 per cent rate if husband and wife are each 65 and they file a joint return or each one can compute separate credits beginning with $1,524.

REQUIREMENT

To get the benefit of the complete medical deduction, the only requirement is that such expenses be paid by the taxpayer or his wife.

The maximum medical deduction is $10,000 on a separate return, $20,000 on a joint return.

The special privilege on the sale of a home carries these requirements:

★ ★ ★

1. The taxpayer must have reached his 65th birthday before the sale.

2. The home being sold must have been owned and used as his principal residence for at least five of the eight years before the sale.

3. To be completely tax-free, the gain must be on a home sold for $20,000 or less.

4. If the selling price was more than $20,000, the part of the gain to be excluded is that part which bears the same ratio to the amount of gain as $20,000 bears to the adjusted sales price.

★ ★ ★

Here is an example of a sale at $30,000 of a home that had been purchased for $14,000. The couple meets the age and residency requirements:

Selling price	$30,000
Less selling expense	1,950
Amount realized		$28,050
Basis of home sold	$14,000
Improvements	1,400
Adjusted basis of home		15,400
Gain on sale		12,650
Amount realized on sale 28,050
Less Fixing-up Expense	350
Adjusted sales price		27,700
Ratio of $20,000 to $27,700		72.2%
Portion of $12,650 gain to be excluded ($12,650 X 72.2%)		$ 9,133.30
Remaining gain subject to tax		$ 3,516.70

PUBLIC PLAN

To take advantage of the retirement income credit, the taxpayer must have been 65 by Dec. 31, 1965, or be retired under a public retirement plan.

Furthermore, the taxpayer must have had more than $600 of earned income in each of any 10 calendar years before 1965. (They need not be consecutive years).

Earned income includes wages, salaries, professional fees and other pay for personal services.

★ ★

The retirement income subject to a credit is restricted — for those 65 and older — to the taxable portion of income from rent and dividends.

TAXABLE PORTION

Those under 65 may consider only the taxable portion of pensions received from public retirement systems.

Two kinds of credit computations may be used — a combined computation limited to $2,286 retirement income if both spouses are 65 or older and file a joint return, or separate computations by each spouse, limited to $1,524.

In either case, the maximum amount is reduced first by the amounts received under Social Security, Railroad Retirement Acts and certain other exclusions from gross income.

★ ★ ★

For taxpayers under 72 years of age, there is a further reduction in this amount based upon the amount of earned income.

A husband and wife may file a joint return and use the combined limit of $2,286 even though only one of them meets the prior earned income test.

Births in 1965 Lowest Total in 14 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer babies were born in this country during 1965 than in any year since 1951, a Public Health Service spokesman said today.

The spokesman estimated the 1965 total was about 3.8 million. That would compare with a final total for 1964 of 4,027,490 and a 1951 total of about 3,751,000.

★ ★ ★

It became clear months ago that the declining birth rate would result in 1965 being the first year since 1953 in which births would number less than four million.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman made his estimate for the year in a projection of the figures shown in the October 1965 statistics, made public today.

12-MONTH DIP

These showed that during the 12 months ended in October there were an estimated 3,812,000 births, down from 4,046,000 in the preceding 12 months ended with October 1964.

The birth rate for the 12 months ended with October 1965 was 19.7 per 1,000 population, down 7 per cent from the rate of 21.2 in the preceding 12 months.

★ ★ ★

There were an estimated 318,000 live births in October, giving a birth rate of 19.3. This represented a decrease of 29,000 from the 347,000 in October 1964, when the rate was 21.3.

Nonresidents Eyed by Personnel Chief

LANSING (AP)—Because of a manpower shortage in state government, the state personnel director wants the Michigan Civil Service Commission to welcome nonresidents into state jobs.

The state requires that its workers have lived in the state for six months, although the Civil Service Department has been waiving the rule recently for nonresidents who apply for state jobs.

Franklin DeWald, personnel director, says, however, the residency requirement still appears on printed job announcements, discouraging some qualified nonresidents from applying.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Donald J. Cataline, 18, of National City, fell from an overhead beam and was injured fatally Monday while installing a fire extinguisher sprinkler system at Kalamazoo's Fisher Body Plant. He was employed by Grinnel Brothers Construction Co. of Warren, Ohio.

An OEO Commissioner Is an Early 'Dropout'

A well-merited word of praise for CLARENCE BARNES in today's Voice of the People section prompts us to add our own commendation of the character of the man who recently resigned from the county commission of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

BARNES

BARNES, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League, took such action because he felt the Federal program duplicated many of the services already provided by United Fund and State agencies and that the haste with which the County aligned itself with the $1.5 billion-a-year national measure was detrimental to local effectiveness and wasteful of taxpayers' money.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County unit of OEO was established on a Federal grant of $77,000 and later received an allocation of $730,549 for first-year operations.

★ ★ ★

While approving the over-all objectives of the Federal war on poverty, BARNES maintains that the development of Community Action Programs should be from the "bottom up" rather than the "top down."

It was precisely these reservations on our part, now confirmed by first-hand insight, that led to an editorial that appeared here Nov. 24.

★ ★ ★

We are gratified to find such a well-balanced, practical outlook by one engaged in social welfare as is evidenced by the subject of this editorial. Too often, workers in this field lose sight of economic and functional considerations in their dedication to the causes they serve.

Senate T-H Act Action to Show True Colors

During the second session of Congress, an all-out drive will be made to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act—the section which authorizes the states to pass right-to-work laws. These laws say, in effect, that it is up to each individual worker to decide for himself whether he wishes to join a union or not, and that he cannot be compelled to do so on pain of losing his job.

The House voted to repeal 14B during the first session. But headed by Sen. EVERETT DIRKSEN, R-Ill., a determined group of Senators, representing both parties, prevented action in the Senate.

We will soon know whether union political power is sufficient to abrogate a right which would seem absolutely basic in a free society.

Strict laws forbid discrimination against workers on such grounds as race, creed, color and sex. But without right-to-work, the law supports, and to all intents and purposes enforces, discrimination of the most absolute kind against workers who for their own good reasons do not wish to become union members.

A Congress which turns its back on the right-to-work principle has small regard for human freedom. It it not antiunion to support freedom of choice.

No Bunny Girl, She's Lucky as Rabbit Foot

There is a young lady in Spring Lake, N. J., who must live right.

In the last year, 17-year-old MARY ANNE MURRAY won three brand new automobiles on raffle tickets.

In previous raffles, MARY ANNE had won a $200 hand organ and a $100 gift certificate.

★ ★ ★

Mathematicians figure the odds on a grand slam like this are about one in 150 million. And most of us have to believe they are greater than that.

Most of us have, in fact, never won anything.

The case of one man comes to mind. This optimist took chances on everything and drew nothing but blanks.

Eventually, he attended a Christmas luncheon party at which the entertainment committee had put the bite on donors for 202 door prizes. Inasmuch as only 193 persons were attending the event, our friend's chances looked good.

★ ★ ★

Sure enough, he won a prize. A color television set? A new car? His and Her electric blankets? A new set of dishes?

No, no, no, no. He won 25 pounds of dog biscuits.

As you have surmised, he had no dog.

★ ★ ★

Yes, MARY ANNE, you must live right, indeed.

Chinese Reds Mad at Castro

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist world has found itself embroiled in a new and bitter dispute which could have far-reaching repercussions.

The new controversy centers around a charge by Communist China that Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro lied in saying Peking refused to carry out a plan to barter rice for Cuban sugar.

But deeper than a trade dispute is the real cause of the controversy — the Peking-Moscow struggle for leadership of the Communist world and the timing of the current disagreement.

One immediate effect of the Peking-Havana quarrel could be an internal struggle at the three-continent "solidarity" conference now under way in Havana.

★ ★ ★

Some said it might produce a walkout of Red China's delegation which has found the conference heavily weighted in favor of the Soviet line.

HEAVY AID

Moscow bolsters Castro's regime with economic and military aid estimated at $1-million a day.

The timing of the dispute is significant. It was begun by Castro on the eve of the Asia-Africa-Latin American meeting.

He announced that his government and Red China found themselves in disagreement on a plan under which China would send rice to Cuba in exchange for sugar.

★ ★ ★

The Peking government's action has caused a cut from six to three pounds per month in the ration of rice in Cuba, where rice is a major staple of the diet.

BOILING MAD

Now the Peking government has issued a blistering statement about Castro's declaration. Stripped of its diplomatic niceties, Peking says in effect:

1. Castro is a liar.

2. Castro violated the norms of international good manners in speaking out publicly about negotiations then under way, particularly since Cuba has an official mission now in Peking to present his viewpoint.

★ ★ ★

3. Castro's timing in attacking a sister nation on the eve of the Havana conference gives broad reasons to suspect the sincerity of his motives.

CLOSE WATCH

Observers here are watching the new controversy closely. They wonder if North Viet Nam's Hanoi regime will be able to keep on playing it cozy with both Moscow and Peking as Castro tried to do.

A high-level Soviet delegation is now in Hanoi talking things over with government leaders.

Now For The Other Barrel!

David Lawrence Says:

Peace Bid Ignores Red Schism

WASHINGTON — The biggest war in the world today is being fought without bloodshed. It's a cataclysmic struggle between Red China and the Soviet Union for mastery of the Communist parties in Asia, Europe, Africa and Latin America.

LAWRENCE

Viet Nam itself is just one of the pawns over whose control Red China and the Soviet Union are playing a desperate game.

Until one or the other of the two Communist adversaries gets the upper hand in Asia, the conflict in Viet Nam — in which the United States is so heavily engaged — will not be settled.

America's peace offensive is well-intentioned, but it ignores the battle going on between Russia and Red China, each of whom is anxious to assert itself in arranging for the future of Viet Nam.

If the United States is to affect the outcome of the game being played by Red China and the Soviet Union, the case must be taken by President Johnson to the court of world opinion.

For the moment, the attempt of the United States to get negotiations going for peace in Viet Nam is being overshadowed by the tactics of the Soviet Union against Red China.

By sending to North Viet Nam a high-level delegation to promise not only more military aid but financial and economic support, the Soviet Union has aroused the envy of Peking.

The Red Chinese have accused Moscow of working secretly to sell out North Viet Nam in a peace settlement, and they insist that the visit to Hanoi by a leading Soviet Communist was coordinated behind the scenes with President Johnson's peace drive.

It is evident that the Red Chinese have been made uncomfortable by the Soviet moves but at the same time, whether as a smoke screen or as a symbol of its partisanship for the North Vietnamese, the Russians have been issuing statements denouncing the United States as an aggressor.

The North Vietnamese themselves are trying to avoid offending either Red China or the Soviet Union.

In the final analysis, however, it is the Russians who will be able to furnish more actual aid to the North Vietnamese and eventually to obtain political control of North Viet Nam. They can then seek a patched-up peace agreement with South Viet Nam, comparable to that which happened in divided Korea.

The Peking government has been accusing the United States and its allies of trying to take over Asia. There's no doubt that Red China feels the effects of America's military operations in Viet Nam and finds it necessary to exhort Asian peoples to join in bolstering the North Vietnamese. But if the Soviet Union should make a deal with the Hanoi government in North Viet Nam, it will be Moscow which will dictate the course of events.

If the United States begins to bomb North Viet Nam effectively, the big question is whether the Red Chinese would expect the Russians to take on the burden of supplying the military weapons necessary for reprisal.

The more the intricate situation is examined, the more it is apparent that the Viet Nam war is not a simple affair between North and South Viet Nam, but deeply involves Red China and the Soviet Union.

A collateral issue that arises is whether the Moscow government sees the necessity for obtaining control in order to preserve peace, or whether it regards the whole game as a means of finally administering to Red China a humiliating defeat, so that the Soviet Union will emerge as the sole leader of communism in Asia and hence throughout the world.

So the real question now is whether the United States should intensify the war or let it drag on for several years while the Russians and Red Chinese strain themselves to the utmost in trying to get control of Asia — a continent that has in it many millions of people who are not ready to become the tools of any Communist autocracy.

Bob Considine Says:

VP's Philippine Findings Apparently to Stay Secret

NEW YORK — Apparently there will be no public report on what Vice President Humphrey told President Johnson after attending the inauguration of the sixth president of the Philippines, Ferdinand E. Marcos.

CONSIDINE

The people the U. S. liberated from Spain in 1898, who became the generally passive wards of a series of patronizing and politically appointed American overseers, but who stubbornly fought like blazes against the common foe, Japan, and won their independence in 1946, now entertain mixed emotions about us.

To some American officials who still tend to think of the Filipino as the Little Brown Brother, and remember ribald barracks refrains about tailless monkeys, Marcos' successful campaign appeared based on an anti-American platform.

These officials believe the man should be beholdened to the U. S. for awarding him certain medals of valor for his legendary guerrilla war against the Japanese invaders.

★ ★ ★

Marcos is not anti-American, the vice president is believed to have assured LBJ and other interested government leaders. He's just a man with a large headache, the chief occupational malady of presidents of the only Christian country in the Asian world.

HAMMERED AWAY

As opposition leader in the Senate, Marcos hammered away at President Macapagal as an incompetent, a man who permitted friends in government to get away with murder and boodle, and a man who must be replaced as soon as the polls open.

It was effective invective, so now Marcos sits in the lush old presidential palace along the river bank, fanning his brow, and the lower house of Congress is opposition-controlled.

Here's a report from responsible Philippine sources — an educator, banker, lawyer and several newsmen:

● Marcos has a heightened sense of nationalism, is not necessarily antiforeign, but pro-Philippine. ("We must awake the hero inherent in every man," he cried out in his inaugural address.)

★ ★ ★

● He has political depth but seems determined enough to find the best men he can to handle finance, taxes, customs, bureaucratic crime, hoodlumism and smuggling.

★ ★ ★

● He will relax credit, encourage foreign investors, try for broader trade relationships with the world, search for less dependence on U. S. aid and more on self-reliance.

NOT SURE

A bank president writes from Manila, "The great majority of our young people still honor the good side of the American coin. But I am not sure if the great majority of the American masses has yet learned to look at the better side of the Philippine coin.

★ ★ ★

"If the U. S. really believes that the Philippines is important to it militarily and politically, it should be as generous with our aspirations and as broad-minded about minor irritants as it has been with former enemies now fully rehabilitated by the U. S. and consequently keen trade competitors."

I heartily endorse the efforts of Bruno Kearns, sports editor, to enlist community interest for a year-round ice rink in Pontiac. We know for certain through our school physical education programs that there is considerable interest for recreational skating and ice hockey on the part of the young people.

The recreational value of ice skating, along with the physical fitness and competitive values, should add impetus to efforts to develop a suitable facility in Pontiac.

Says Youth Feel Entitled to Dispute Society

Some segments of youth feel they are entitled to show their personalities in disputing the society that wishes to make a few basic requirements. But I am angry that my generation could have incubated these noisy and unkempt malcontents. They have never done any worthwhile productive work. They are living on allotments provided by the old slave-type worker such as you and me. They do not worry about how "society" is going to provide for those who expect to reside only in the realm of thought rather than production.

★ ★ ★

What are the discontents offering? We know they protest. They are against death, strife, conflict, maladjustment and work or productive endeavor. What do they offer to solve our problems?

★ ★ ★

Have we won a war and, through ignorance and apathy, lost the peace? I hope other "old men and old women" will become angry enough to convince their offspring that certain truths of life exist. They have a fight if they preserve a land of liberty and inspire their children to maintain it.

AN ANGRY OLD MAN

Gives Material Reasons for Quitting War

Our interloping role in S.E. Asian civil affairs does us no honor. One criterion established in our Declaration of Independence is "decent respect to the opinion of mankind." Should we brazenly continue the undeclared war, greater balance of payments difficulties, ruinous taxation and/or inflation will result. These material reasons for quitting the war seem more enlightened than those advanced by the administration for continuing it.

Waterford Board OKs '701' Proposal

The proposed third year "701" planning program for Waterford Township, its future riding on federal acceptance and an ensuing grant, was endorsed by Township Board members last night.

★ ★ ★

The consultant firm of Development Planning Co. was retained and authorized to seek Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency approval of the program along with a $16,500 grant.

The action had been recommended by the planning commission and department of planning and zoning.

Present plans call for a township contribution of $8,500 to augment the desired federal funds.

★ ★ ★

The first two years of the program were devoted to preparation of the comprehensive development plan which included zoning ordinance and subdivision regulations, since adopted. The total cost was $47,000.

4 ELEMENTS

The proposed third-year plan is designed to devise methods to put into effect the four remaining unadopted elements of the township comprehensive plan.

These consist of capital improvements, land use, thoroughfares and community facilities.

Implementation of the extensive three-phase program includes publication of 15,000 pamphlets — containing the land use plan map and explanation— for township residents.

★ ★ ★

A highlight of the plan is a proposed study of the "recent decline in appearance and property values" of the Dixie Highway area in the township.

UNCOVER REASONS

The study would attempt to uncover reasons for the "decline" and present subsequent recommendations aimed at reversing the trend.

Planning Director Vern Wiggins called the program an extensive venture and expressed hope that its goals would be accomplished.

"The third-year program is an action-oriented program," said Wiggins. "It's designed to come up with complete and detailed recommendations as well as cost estimates and timetables for the implementation of the comprehensive development plan.

★ ★ ★

"In addition," continued Wiggins, "the third-year program is designed to produce a rather extensive public information program whereby the people of Waterford Township will become acquainted with the comprehensive plan and how it affects them."

BROCHURES, SLIDES

Brochures and slides also would be prepared to familiarize the public with the program.

Another feature of the proposed plan is further exploration of industrial land use and potential.

Tentative plans call for development of two industrial park design layouts which apply to available or planned industrial districts in the township.

The proposal presented to board members last night was a joint effort of the planning commission and planning department. Three consultants were asked to make proposals.

U.S. Official Says Draft Can't Be a Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official said in a letter made public today that the draft laws cannot be used to muffle any "constitutionally protected" expression of views — such as student protests against U.S. actions in Viet Nam.

The letter, from Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., was made public by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who had protested Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's action to reclassify as 1A a number of University of Michigan youths involved in a draft board sit-in.

★ ★ ★

Hershey had told Hart in a letter that he was authorized by a presidential executive order to reclassify men "found to be delinquent under the Selective Service Act."

Hart had asked the Justice Department to comment on that.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Vinson said in his letter that "we know of no executive order or of any pronouncement by this department indicating either concurrence or disagreement with the views expessed in General Hershey's letter or in the action taken by the (Selective Service) System."

Vinson added that "I am satisfied, as a matter of both law and policy, that sanctions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act cannot be used to stifle constitutionally protected expressions of views.

★ ★ ★

"In short, where opinion is expressed, if there is no transgression of law, then the sanctions which attach to it are all that should be applied."

The sit-in students were convicted of trespass under an Ann Arbor, Mich., ordinance. But Hart said in his statement, "No court ever ruled that the Selective Service Act was violated—only Gen. Hershey. And he cites as his authority an executive order that the Justice Department says is nonexistent."

Last month, without referring directly to the Michigan incident, Hershey had said:

MUST DISTINGUISH

"We must always distinguish between young men who engage in a legal demonstration of political views, and those who express those views by willfully violating the Selective Service law . . .

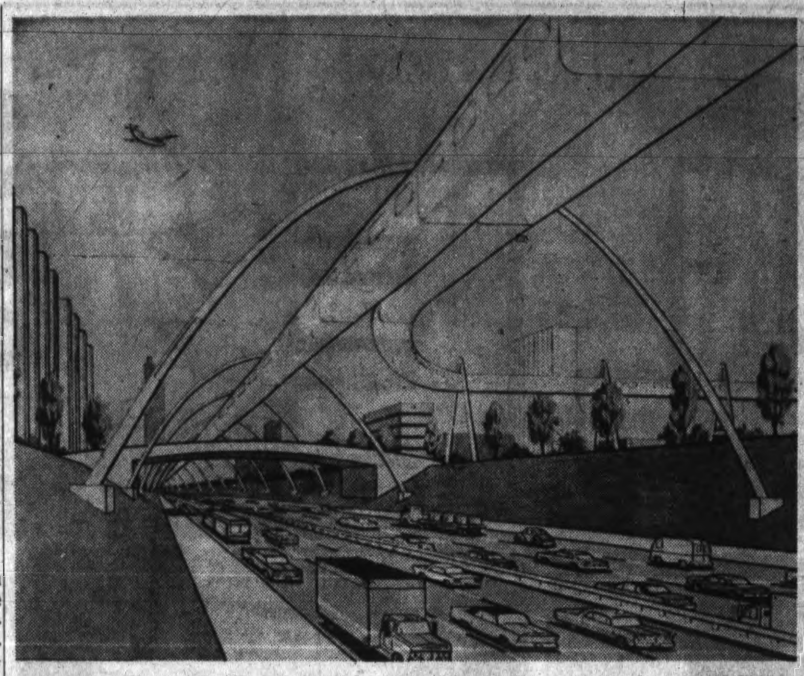

"To my knowledge, registrants have not been declared delinquent, with the resulting accelerated processing, because of participation in legal demonstrations of political views, nor has any such action been proposed by Selective Service officials.

★ ★ ★

"Even in cases of deliberate violation of the Selective Service law, the decision as to whether registrants should be declared delinquent is left to the local board."

Last weekend, the American Veterans Committee asked that Hershey be replaced. In a letter to President Johnson, the committee said he has condoned local draft boards using classifications to punish young men for disagreeing with U.S. policy on Viet Nam.

"Of course, that's a matter of opinion," Hershey said. "I deny it. I don't know anything about Viet Nam policy."

RAPID TRANSIT PLAN — This is an artist's drawing of the Teletrans system for rapid transit in a city. Stainless steel tubes are suspended from spindles over a roadway and one-man cars travel in the tube electrically. The cars carry no crew and the destination of the car is predetermined by a computer card. Detroit's Common Council has agreed to an experimental construction and the project only awaits federal funds.

Detroit Computer Transit Plan Detailed

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — Imagine a public transit system where the customer walks up to a computer, selects a ticket for his destination and climbs aboard a one-man car to be whisked to a station near his home.

Futuristic? Absolutely not, say its sponsors who insist the system is close to reality.

★ ★ ★

They have obtained a go-ahead from Detroit Common (City) Council to build the nation's first experimental Teletrans system and are awaiting federal government final approval of a $2 million grant to underwrite most of the project.

Details of the streamlined transit system were given Monday to delegates at the Society of Automotive Engineers convention.

BEST METHOD

Marvin Stevens president of Teletrans, Inc., of Detroit, said that while the system could be constructed underground, the preferred method would be to have it elevated some 20 to 60 feet above the roadway.

★ ★ ★

The passenger cars would travel inside a stainless steel tubing held aloft by spindle legs. Stations for the transit system would be only a block or two apart in congested areas so passengers would not have to go far to get a ride.

SELECTS TICKETS

SAE delegates heard Stevens explain that the customer, after dropping his fare in the box and selecting the computer punched ticket, would climb aboard the one-man vehicle and be on his way nonstop to his station.

Stevens said individual cars would be fed automatically from from the various stations into the main flow of traffic in the tube and would proceed at a 45 mile an hour clip along the electrically-powered aluminum-coated tube.

★ ★ ★

"When the car gets to the proper station, it is dropped off to the siding automatically and the customer climbs out after a solo trip," he said.

"We figure the overhead Teletrans system can be built for about $2.1 million a mile, compared with $10 million for a freeway and $20 million for a subway," he told SAE.

He said projected fares would be less than comparable bus lines.

★ ★ ★

Stevens said the individual transit car would be about four feet high and eight feet long and could be operated for about a cent a mile. It would get its power via a metallic feeler which would make contact with electric current in the track inside the tube.

"The current is not as strong as that of a third rail in a regular subway and you could even touch it with wet feet and not get much of a shock," he said.

★ ★ ★

Best estimates were that the Teletrans system could handle about 9,000 cars an hour under ordinary conditions and could surge to 17,000 if needed. That would compare with the 7,000 autos an hour handled on Detroit's John Lodge freeway at peak times.

INTRACITY TRAVEL

While some of the papers at SAE's workshop on public transit problems dealt with intercity runs, the Teletrans project was designed only for intracity travel. It is almost completely automated, with the computerized ticket seller, no motorman and no ticket takers.

Stevens hardly blinked an eyelash when an SAE member asked if he envisoned a time when the private Teletron car would drop a customer off right in his front yard.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, that's at least a hundred years away," he said.

Smog Control Device Eyed

No Problem for Auto Owners---Engineers

DETROIT (AP)—The auto exhaust control device of the near future won't cause the car owner any problems.

A green taillight might be preferable to red for some reasons, but red likely will stay.

★ ★ ★

These were some of the points brought out at automobile and petroleum engineer conferences Monday.

Experts at a smog control seminar in connection with the Society of Automotive Engineers convention agreed that emission controls won't make much difference in car operation or maintenance.

'68 CARS

The controls, expected on all 1968 model cars, may make a difference of 2 to 3 per cent in startup acceleraton. But the fuel loss will be virtually negligible, it was said.

Green and red taillights were discussed by Dr. Ingeborg Schmidt of Indiana University's Division of Optometry and Dr. Paul L. Connolly, General Motors visual consultant. The Automotive Engineering Congress heard from the two.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Schmidt said green might reduce the number of rearend collisions. A driver can judge the distance of green better, she said.

However, she said red should be retained. To everybody, she said, red suggests danger.

FAVORS RED

Dr. Connolly supported red for the same reason. He also said red, among other advantages, penetraies clear atmosphere better.

Dr. Schmidt stressed the importance of quick perceptions in driving.

★ ★ ★

The time it takes for the eye to react to a message from the brain is one-tenth of a second, she said. She said a great deal might happen in a tenth of a second for a fast-moving car.

After 'Ipcress File'

Caine Being Treated Like Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "It's amazing to think that one could put on glasses and an ill-fitting suit and become a star."

THOMAS

Michael Caine is indeed being treated like a star on his first trip to Hollywood. He has been guest of honor at glittering parties given by two studios. He has been squiring some of the town's most noted glamour girls, from Carol Lynley to Natalie Wood. He is costarring with Shirley MacLaine in "Gambit."

All this is entirely gratifying but not overwhelming to the chap whose father was a fish-market porter and whose mother was a London charwoman.

What made the change in his life was a sleeper called "The Ipcress File." Caine played with utter conviction the most reluctant of spies, Harry Palmer. The role was epitomized by his horn-rimmed glasses, which gave Caine a look of owlish innocence.

CLOSELY IDENTIFIED

"The glasses were my idea," said the actor. "I knew if the character caught on, I would be closely identified with it. The glasses would give me a gimmick, a trademark. I could discard them for other roles, and not be so identified.

"I didn't want to fall into the trap that Sean Connery faces with James Bond. He has to escape the Bond identity by wearing a mustache, as he did in 'The Hill.'"

Harry Palmer did indeed catch on, and Caine is assigned to make three more in the series. His producer, Harry Saltzman, who also makes the Bond films, quickly signed Caine to a new five-year contract.

"I didn't particularly want to be tied up," said the actor, "so I established conditions that I considered ridiculous. To my astonishment, they were accepted. Poor Harry Saltzman has more money than he knows what to do with. His own personal share of the Bond pictures should be at least 10 million."

3 FILMS IN YEAR

Within the space of a year, Caine had filmed "Ipcress," as well as "Alfie" for Paramount and "The Wrong Box" for Columbia. Yet he is not dazzled by his success.

"I'm 32," he said by way of explanation. "That's pretty old to make it as an actor in England."

It wasn't because he didn't try. Throughout his twenties, he sought to make a living as an actor, "but it was a rotten living much of the time." Between roles he took any job he could find.

"One of my best jobs was making fruit pies in a bakery," he recalled.

NO PROBLEM

He has no problem about future work. After "Gambit," he films another Harry Palmer, the best-selling "Funeral in Berlin."

Junior Editors Quiz on 20TH CENTURY

QUESTION: Why do we say we live in the 20th century, when it's only 1965?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The picture will help you understand. Remember that a century has 100 years, and that our modern period, or Christian Era, starts with the year 1, the year Christ was born.

This year 1, A.D. (A.D. means "anno Domini", in the year of our Lord) began on Jan. 1, and, to be a full year, ran to Dec. 31.

To be a full century, the 1st century had to have 100 of such years, so it ended on Dec. 31, 100 A.D. In the same way, the 2nd century, also of a hundred years, would end on Dec. 31, 200 A.D.

But notice that the number 2 would not be used to start one of these 2nd century dates until the last year of the 2nd century — the one before that being 199 A.D.

Coming down to our own 20th century in the same way, we find it started on Jan. 1 of 1901. The 20 number will not start any of its dates until the last year of this century, which will be the year 2000.

After that, the year 2001 will start the 21st century, which will run until Dec. 31, 2100 A.D. What will life be like in those times of the future?

It is impossible to say; yet it seems reasonable to suppose that young people will go on asking interesting questions, and we imagine there will be someone to reply to them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: To the lower right, our artist has drawn an imaginative concept of what a space-age costume might look like at the end of this century. Draw your own idea of young peoples' costumes about the year 2000 A.D.

Pick 3 Agents for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today designated three firms to help administer the hospital insurance part of the Medicare program.

The firms, which will receive and pay bills under the program, are the Blue Cross Association of Chicago, Aetna Life and Casualty Co., and Travelers Insurance Co., both of Hartford, Conn. They will serve as agents for the government on a nonprofit basis.

★ ★ ★

The announcement, issued by John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, did not say which hospitals would be represented by each of the intermediary firms.

Gardner said, however, that hospitals not desiring to be represented by one of the three firms may make other nominations or deal directly with the Social Security Administration.

IS REQUIRED

The selection of intermediaries is required by the Medicare legislation. The selections must be based on the nominations of groups or associations of hospitals or individual hospitals, and upon the judgment of the Social Security Administration that the organizations are well-qualified and will assure efficient operation of the medicare program.

"The skills and experience of these three organizations," Gardner said, "represent a valuable asset to the government. Their participation with us in carrying out this program marks the beginning of great promise."

★ ★ ★

Gardner cautioned that the deadline for persons who were 65 by Jan. 1 to enroll for the voluntary medical care program is March 31. He urged those who want this coverage and have not yet applied to do so as quickly as possible.

Actress Nixes GOP Invitation to Be Candidate

DALLAS (UPI) — Actress Greer Garson turned down yesterday an invitation from Texas Republicans to run for Congress.

★ ★ ★

The Dallas County Republicans asked Miss Garson to run against incumbent Rep. Earle Cabell, D-Tex., in the 1966 elections.

Miss Garson, who won an Academy Award for her performance in "Mrs. Miniver," is the wife of Dallas oilman E. E. (Buddy) Fogelson.

★ ★ ★

She wrote the GOP that she had decided to decline the offer after "many hours thinking about the demands of the office, both idealistic and practical, assessing my background, training, experience, public image and total suitability for this new field."

Japanese Designer Makes Debut

AP Photo

Tokyo designer Hisashi Hosono has woven bits and pieces of Japanese culture into his fashions for American women. Shown in New York were (from left) a full-length orange shift with a poem writen down the side and around the hem; a white silk tunic dress printed in black calligraphy; and a royal purple silk evening dress with narrow 'obi tie' just under the bust and printed with white bamboo pattern.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bits and pieces from the exotic culture of Japan — calligraphy, bamboo, the kimono, the obi — have been plucked by Tokyo fashion designer Hisashi Hosono and reworked into clothes to make American women look pretty, mysterious and deceptively docile.

Hosono showed a lot of solid-color dresses, usually black or plum, with one splash of design, usually white.

★ ★ ★

This might be a series of large dots trailing from one shoulder across to opposite hem or a spray of bamboo, growing up the dress, center front.

LOOKED JAPANESE

The dresses generally were designed to look more Japanese than they were.

Many featured a narrow "obi tie" just under the bust; this never turned into a big production of folds in back.

It really is the high-waisted empire, but combined with a Japanese print, it looks very Eastern — and very pretty.

★ ★ ★

Full-length gowns were tight all the way to the hemline.

Daytime dresses were above the knees. Fitted tunics, especially becoming to tall women, were popular.

So was the high, rolled-collar neckline which extended into sashes which loop together once in back and, youthfully, just hang down.

KIMONO DETAILS

The designer also used modifications of kimono jackets and kimono sleeves, chiffon drapes and the oriental figure-hugging dress with high neckline and no sleeves.

He used a fabric which is double-printed, one color on one side, another on the other side.

He combined solid colors in rectangles, squares and broad V's inside of V's.

The fabrics all are from Shimbo of Osaka, Japan, and were about equal representations of cotton, silk and chiffon with some lightweight wool.

The showing of 56 designs was Hosono's first for the American fashion press.

"Ultra-violet" colors in an ultra-modern print ensnares Bob Bugnand, who designs this purple green violet jersette dress for the Sam Friedlander Spring '66 collection.

Coat and dress togetherness is illustrated by a blue and pink wool tweed over pink silk linen sheath. Ben Reig showed this costume to fashion writers in New York at a show arranged by the New York Couture Group.

Promptness Expected on First Visit

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: Is there any rule of etiquette about returning visits? For example, if a friend pays a visit on another friend, it is then up to the latter to pay a return visit on the one who called?

A: People who are old friends pay no attention to how often or how seldom one goes to see the other unless there is an illness, a death, a birth, or a marriage.

Nor do they ever consider whose turn it is to invite whom. But first visits should be returned with considerable punctuality—especially the visit that should be paid after a first invitation to lunch or dine.

THANKING CHILDREN

Q: I teach the third grade in a private school. The day before school closed for the Christmas vacation, I received many lovely presents from my pupils.

Although these gifts were presented to me by the children they were obviously bought by their parents. I, of course, thanked the children for their lovely gifts.

I would like to know if further thanks should be written to their mothers?

A: Your verbal thanks to the children for their presents is all that is necessary.

SECOND MARRIAGE

Q: Will you please tell me if it would be in good taste for a young woman who is marrying a widower with a child to wear bridal clothes and have a large church wedding and reception?

The bride has never been married.

A: The fact that the bridegroom has been married previously has no bearing on the wedding preparations.

As this is the bride's first marriage she may wear a white gown and veil, and the wedding and reception may be as elaborate as she chooses.

Guessing and Goofing Not What His Boss Has in Mind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are all members of the Retail Clerks Association, and are facing a serious problem.

ABBY

The store manager insists that we address all our customers as Miss, Madame, or Sir, whichever the case may be.

Inasmuch as we are on a commission basis, we are not about to insult a customer intentionally, but many young men with the "Beatle" haircuts are now using eye shadow, fingernail polish, hair spray, etc., and it's almost impossible to tell the boys from the girls.

The girls have taken to dressing mannishly, and have the same kind of haircuts as the boys. The only guide to which sex they are would be to try to get a look at their feet.

The boys usually have larger feet, but with both sexes wearing those boots, even that's not certain. Can you help us?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: When in doubt, skip the Miss, Madame, Sir or whichever the case may NOT be. I am sure your boss would prefer that to your guessing and goofing.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that most of my "plain" women friends seem to have the best marriages, while the outstanding beauties are divorced, married again, and divorced, and can't make a success of a marriage.

Even with the advantage of having been born beautiful they can't seem to find happiness. Why is that?

IMOGENE

DEAR IMOGENE: Believe it or not, natural beauty can be something of a handicap. Some beauties are so dependent on their "looks" to get them everything they want, they don't bother to develop other interesting or important qualities.

A girl can "capture" a man with her beauty. Indeed she can capture more than one, if she wishes — but unless she knows how to give him more than the pleasure of just looking at her, she won't keep him long.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOT-BLUSHING BRIDE": Orange blossoms and myrtle are regarded as symbols of purity and are inappropriate for a bride who has been to the altar twice before. I recommend daisies. (They don't tell.)

It's All About Women

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of 15 articles by Josephine Lowman which tells how to lose up to 20 pounds in eight weeks. Today she suggests how to determine the number of pounds you should lose. Save the menus and exercises for continued use during the eight weeks.)

Sometimes I think that OVERWEIGHT should be spelled EVERWEIGHT because overweights often wait forever to lose those extra pounds. Believe me, I am not being unsympathetic. I, myself, must constantly battle the bulge.

★ ★ ★

I know! You had a sick child, unexpected guests arrived, you lead an active social life. All sorts of minor crises occurred and you just couldn't do what you had planned to do about your figure.

Do it now or you will never do it! The tomorrows will be the same if you live an active, busy life.

★ ★ ★

I am currently bringing you my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (B. I. P.) to help. It is easier to stick to a reducing program when you know what you can accomplish in a given length of time. In just eight weeks, you can lose from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your hair and complexion and increase your energy and self-confidence. The weeks fly by. Why not give yourself this break?

TO DIRECT YOU

If you would like to join tens of thousands of other women in this adventure to see how much you can improve your appearance in eight weeks, read "WHY GROW OLD" carefully for the next seven days. I will be here to direct you and after that, I will give one day a week to reinforce your reducing efforts until the eight weeks are up.

First, you must decide what your ideal weight is. How many pounds should you lose? There are several factors which enter into this calculation. There is, of course, your height. Then, there is your frame or bony structure. Is it small, medium or heavy?

This is somewhat difficult for a woman to determine but the following ideas will be helpful. Remember that a woman may be very short and yet have heavy bones while another may be tall and have a light, delicate frame.

If you are athletic and have unusually well-developed muscles, you can weigh a few pounds more without being overweight.

BIRTHDAY SUIT

You can often get a fairly accurate idea of what kind of a frame you have by standing in front of a mirror in your birthday suit. However, this is more difficult when overweight is present because of the padding.

Also observe your shoulders, pelvis, knees, and ankle bones. It is entirely possible for a woman to have small wrists and thick ankles or broad shoulders. However, if your bones seem heavy at all of the places, you probably have a large frame.

Analyze yourself and consult the weight and height chart below. Now, we are really ready to GO! Begin following the menus which I am printing for a starter.

SAMPLE MENUS

BREAKFAST

One-half grapefruit
Three-fourths cup hot cereal
Two teaspoons sugar
One glass skim milk (8 oz.)
Use some on cereal
Coffee or tea, black with artificial sweetener

LUNCH

One 8 oz. glass vegetable or tomato juice
Two scrambled eggs with one teaspoon butter and a dash of milk. (You can scramble in double boiler.)
One slice of whole wheat toast with half teaspoon butter or margarine

DINNER

Five or six ounces of steak or roast. No gravy or juice.
One-half cup of spinach or greens. Season with garlic salt or vinegar.
One-half cup of brown rice.
Medium fruit cup, using only fresh fruit or water packed canned fruit.
One glass skim milk (8 oz.)
TOTAL calories for the day —1170.

If you would like to join my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan for a loss of 15 or 20 pounds pronto, read the columns carefully for directions.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps you would like to have my Beauty Improvement Kit for reference. This includes a height and weight chart, a calorie chart, special figure molding exercises and the unique BIP beauty chart on which you can plot your loss of weight and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops. If you want this, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling and your printed name and address with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Fox and parents of her fiance are the Michael J. Gillises of Bay City. Mrs. Gillis was hostess at a recent family shower.

An Inside Start

In removing a stain from clothing, you'll find that if you work from the center of the stain to the outside, you will less likely leave a ring. Barely dampen the sponging pad and take extra care when sponging around the edges of the stain.

Worth It All

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Teachers at Bear Lake Elementary School went beyond the call of duty for the PTA school improvement fund. They provided a "Douse Your Teacher" concession for the school's annual fall carnival. Teachers sat in chairs in the middle of a tank. For a fee, pupils were allowed to throw balls into the tank in an attempt to douse the teachers.

Highway Safety—2

Statistic Jumble Is Major Weakness

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Despite all the research and all the slogans, not a great deal is known about the causes of traffic accidents. Is speed the top killer? Alcohol? Failure to yield? This dispatch, second of five, looks at some of the answers offered by the experts.)

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Why will approximately 50,000 Americans die in traffic accidents this year?

There are plenty of statistics on the question but many safety experts tend to regard them as all but meaningless.

One of the major weaknesses in the field of highway safety is the lack of a uniform accident reporting system covering all the states.

The lack of such a system has resulted in a hodgepodge of figures and percentages, many of them contradictory.

For example, the National Safety Council says drinking was a contributory factor in nearly 13 per cent of the fatal highway accidents occurring in 1964. But the council's figure is based on reports from only half the states.

★ ★ ★

A California survey shows alcohol was involved in at least half the fatal accidents studied.

CITES FEDERAL STUDY

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., citing a federal study, says the percentage was only 7.4.

An eight-year survey in Dade County, Fla., on the other hand, showed that 47 per cent of all traffic victims tested for alcohol had been drinking — and a whopping 92 per cent of drivers who had been imbibing were found to be clearly at fault.

Most reports list speed as the leading over-all cause of fatal highway accidents, including legal speeds that are too high for prevailing weather or road conditions.

★ ★ ★

The National Safety Council says speed is the major factor in about two of every five fatal accidents. Speed is the chief culprit in one-third of rural accidents and in about one-fourth of urban accidents.

Speed, of course, comes under the general heading of "improper driving" or driver error. This is by far the leading cause, responsible for an estimated 75 per cent of all fatal accidents.

The council's figures for last year show these breakdowns under the improper driving category:

Fatal urban accidents: (1) failure to yield right of way, (2) following too closely, (3) speed.

Fatal rural accidents: (1) speed, (2) driving left of the center line, (3) failure to yield right of way, (4) following too closely.

A major finger of both blame and concern must be pointed at the young driver. Traffic accidents are the leading cause of death among young adults. The younger driver also gets involved far more frequently in accidents caused by speed.

The New York State Department of Motor Vehicles recently reported that drivers under 18 total only 1.3 per cent of the state's licensed drivers. But last year, they were involved in more than 2 per cent of the state's accidents.

The National Safety Council says drivers under 25 have the highest accident involvement. Between the ages of 20-24, more than 100 per 100,000 were involved in fatal accidents last year. The figure for all ages was 60 per 100,000. In the 35-64 age bracket, it was 40 per 100,000 drivers.

An estimated three million teen-agers join the driving population every year — and this group of inexperienced drivers has the highest rate of involvement in all accidents, fatal and nonfatal, and an involvement rate second only to the 20-24 age group in fatals.

The council predicts that if these rates continue, by the time each new batch of three million young drivers reach their 25th birthdays, they will have figured in at least 15,000 fatal accidents, 500,000 serious injury accidents, more than five million property damage accidents — and they will have been responsible for an accident damage bill totaling $2.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

Most states have driver education courses in high school, and the lower insurance rates granted youths who have completed these courses are testimony to their effectiveness.

But only a handful of states requires youths under 18 to take an approved driver education course before applying for a license. The President's Committee for Traffic Safety lists this requirement high on its lists of "must do" recommendations.

DEFINITE CORRELATION

Studies have shown a definite correlation between a teen-ager's social attitudes and his driving habits.

A Michigan study of 100 "poor" teen-age drivers reported that four-fifths also were below average in their studies, most had poor relationships with teachers and were considered disciplinary problems. At least half were classed as "aggressive."

The lesson from all the statistics concerning the younger driver is that he is a major factor in the highway traffic problem — with teaching of attitudes as well as driving skill an absolute necessity.

★ ★ ★

The role of vehicle faults in causing accidents is indefinite because of the lack of adequate and uniform reporting systems.

★ ★ ★

From various surveys, an educated guess would be that such items as bad tires, brakes, lights and other mechanical faults are directly responsible for about 5 per cent of fatal accidents and indirectly involved in about 15 per cent.

Heads Civil Service

LANSING (AP) — David Pollack, Detroit property management executive and real estate investor, was named chairman of the Michigan Civil Service Commission Monday. Pollack, 52, succeeds Mrs. Dorothy Judd of Grand Rapids.

Civil Service Proposal Eyed

Oakland County's newly established merit system study committee decided yesterday to seek opinions of county department heads and employes on the feasibility of establishing a civil service system.

A proposed merit system, or civil service program, was presented to the County Board of Supervisors last November but was tabled for further study and revision.

★ ★ ★

Holding its initial meeting yesterday, the seven-member study committee, appointed by Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin, began a review of the tabled document.

It set a second meeting for Jan. 25 to complete the review and also appraise opinions of county personnel gathered in the meantime.

All functions of the Housing and Home Finance Agency will be absorbed by the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Rams Hire Allen, Lemm Quits Cards, Halas Upset

Changes Continue in Pro Football Coaching Ranks

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The latest standings in the pro football coaching sweepstakes show:

★ ★ ★

One resignation—Wally Lemm at St. Louis, by mutual consent.

One hiring—George Allen at Los Angeles, without mutual consent.

Still open—Five jobs, and George Halas' mouth.

The latest shuffling and scuffling occurred Monday when Lemm and the Cardinal owners agreed to a parting and the Rams and Halas agreed to disagree over Allen's decision to leave the Chicago Bears for the head coaching job at Los Angeles.

Halas, infuriated at losing his defensive coach to the Rams, cited the signing of Allen as "a flagrant case of tampering" and said the "Rams' utter disregard and contempt for legal obligations present a serious challenge not only to the Bears but to the entire structure of the National Football League."

HIGH COURT

And he threatened action in a higher court — Commissioner Pete Rozelle's—by saying "the Bears must take whatever steps are needed to protect our best interest."

Halas pointed out that Allen had a full year to go on his contract with the Bears and had been expected to fulfill the terms of his agreement.

★ ★ ★

Dan Reeves, president of the Rams, said Allen had first contacted the club to see if they were interested, then had sought Halas' permission to talk to the Rams.

"Mr. Halas gave him this permission," said Reeves. "Later, George Halas rescinded this permission and his objection was quite strong. Mr. Halas said he didn't want me to take Mr. Allen, or, if you prefer, Mr. Allen to take me."

But, added, Reeves:

"I can't believe George Halas will stand in his way."

HALF YEAR

Lemm, however, did let one thing stand in his way. He wanted to be the Cardinals' head coach on a six-months basis.

"When I hired Wally we wanted a coach who would be with us the year around," said Cardinal President Charles Bidwill. "We knew that Wally wanted to be head coach on a six-months basis and that was fine.

"In the ensuing years, however, we felt more and more strongly that we wanted a head coach that would be with us all the time. When the issue came up again today, there was no compromise available, and by mutual consent, he is leaving the Cardinals."

Lemm leaves a club as disappointing as the one Allen takes over.

Te Cardinals, considered as title contenders before the season got underway, finished with a 5-9 record—the second worst in Lemm's four years as head coach. The Rams were last in the Western Division with a 4-10 record under Harlan Svare.

Four jobs now remain open in the National League and one in the American League.

The NFL openings are at St. Louis; Atlanta, which still has not signed a coach for its new club; Pittsburgh, where Mike Nixon has been fired, and Washington, where Bill McPeak has been fired.

★ ★ ★

With Joel Collier taking over for resigning Lou Saban at Buffalo, one AFL job remains open —at Miami, which still has not signed a coach for its new club.

PCH in 'Uncomfortable' No. 1 Spot

First AP Poll Has Saginaw Ranked Third

Groves in 8th Position in Michigan Class A Cage Ratings

Being coach of the top-ranked Class A high school team in the state isn't necessarily a comfortable position.

So says Fred Zittel of Pontiac Central, whose team gained the No. 1 spot in the first poll of the 1965-66 season conducted by the Associated Press.

"We're not that good. We shouldn't be in the top five," moaned Zittel, who has coached the team to a 6-0 record this season, including a 4-0 mark in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Trailing the Chiefs in the 'A' rankings were East Detroit (No. 2) and Saginaw (No. 3). PCH and Saginaw now share the lead in the SVC and the two meet on the latter's floor Jan. 25.

★ ★ ★

The lofty ranking may have made Zittel a little uncomfortable.

"Being on top can affect a team in a couple of ways. For some, it's an incentive and they re-act that way. For others, it's just the reverse . . . they can't meet the challenge," Zittel said.

GROVES EIGHTH

Another local Class A squad grabbed a spot in the top ten—Birmingham Groves, which has piled up a 7-0 record.

★ ★ ★

River Rouge, as usual, was picked as the top team in Class B, Muskegon Christian in Class C and Covert by a wide margin in Class D.

River Rouge, a one-point loser to Class A Melvindale last Saturday, edged South Haven in a two-team race in Class B. The same two teams battled it out for the state title last March with River Rouge winning.

★ ★ ★

Fenton was a distant third with Saginaw Arthur Hill Tech, Marysville and Grand Rapids South Christian bunched in the next three places.

OUTSIDE LOOKING IN — Outside the ring looking in are four ex-boxers who spent a great deal of time inside during their boxing careers. The four are (left to right) Harold Duggan, local director of Golden Gloves; Chuck Davey, former welterweight and now Michigan Boxing Commissioner; Dick LaForge and Chuck Speiser. They're eying the fist of Fred Moore of Pontiac, who'll be in the heavyweight division of the Golden Gloves tournament Jan. 29 and Feb. 5 in Pontiac. Holding Moore's glove is Roy Gray, who is assisting Duggan in organizing the local Golden Gloves. The former boxers were on hand at Golden Gloves Center, corner Lawrence and Mill streets, recently to watch the workouts.

Tournament Scheduled

Local Boxers Awaiting Debuts

Pontiac's Golden Gloves boxers will make their debut in state regional tournament action Jan. 29 at Pontiac Central High School.

Some 12 to 15 bouts are slated for Jan. 29 with the winners returning to the same ring Feb. 5 to battle for berths in the semi-final action at Grand Rapids. The bouts will get under way at 8 p.m. at PCH.

Organizing the local Golden Gloves effort is former boxer Harold Duggan, 52, supervisor of child care facilities at the Oakland County Children's Center.

"It's difficult to say exactly how many bouts we'll have, but I'm certain we'll have 12 and probably 15 the first night and a similar number the second night," Duggan said.

The local boxers will be paired in classes from flyweight to heavyweight. The Pontiac regional includes all of Oakland County and part of Macomb County.

WORKING OUT

Duggan said that 25 boxers are now working out at the Pontiac Golden Gloves center in the basement of All-Star Lanes at corner of Lawrence and Mill streets.

★ ★ ★

Duggan said he expected more boxers to sign up for the bouts before the Jan. 15 deadline.

"It's much the same story around the rest of the state," Duggan said. "Lansing, Saginaw and Flint will have many of their boys coming out during the next few days."

Persons in the 16-26 age group are eligible to participate in the state Golden Gloves tournament.

The local GG center is open from 6 p.m. until 9:30 daily. Those interested in the GG program may contact Duggan at the GG Center.

In Olympic Bidding

Romney Offers Support

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney pledged his support Monday for Detroit's revitalized bid for the Olympic Games.

In a telegram to Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, Romney said he would do what he could to get state backing for the financing of Detroit's bid for the 1972 games.

★ ★ ★

Frederick Matthaei Jr., chairman of Detroit's Olympic Committee, "has requested similar support for state legislative financing . . . as was made in 1963," Romney told Cavanagh.

"I am ready and willing to do what I did then to secure such support for the Detroit bid. In 1963, our proposal was the result of agreement and understanding between the City of Detroit, the governor and legislative leaders."

LOST BID

Detroit bid to host the 1968 summer Olympics, but lost to Mexico City. Selection of another North American city in 1972 was regarded as unlikely.

The 1963 Legislature passed two bills supporting Detroit. The first created an authority which was to build a $25 million 100,000 seat Olympic stadium.

★ ★ ★

The second measure increased the state's take on parimutuel betting—raising an additional $1.6 million a year. The money was to go into the general fund treasury to back up bonds issue to finance the proposed stadium.

Two-Platoon Football Gets Coaches' Vote

University of Houston Placed on Probation for Rules Infractions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unlimited substitution has scored another victory over one-platoon football, which appears deader than ever, and the University of Houston will have three years to consider the error of its ways.

That summarized the 60th Annual Convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) on the second day of its 3,000-delegate get-together here.

A key committee of the American Football Coaches Association all but ruled out a proposal by New Mexico University that college football should return to limited substitution.

It voted 23-1 that no major changes be made in the regulations for the 1966 season.

Technically, the overwhelming decision of the committee is subject to consideration by a special rules group meeting of the NCAA in New Orleans next month but it's not likely there'll be an reversal.

The coaches committee reported to the NCAA that present rules should be retained "with no substantial change." This boils down to: "Leave the present substitution rule alone."

ACCEPTED BY FANS

Jack Curtice, Santa Barbara, Calif., head of the Rules Committee, told a news conference that he feels that the unlimited player rule has been so well accepted by fans and television viewers that no change is needed for another two or three years.

Houston fell seriously into the bad graces of the NCAA and the Rules Infraction Committee put the school on probation for three years because of persistent infractions of recruiting, financial aid and football practice operations.

This means the Texas school will not be allowed to participate in postseason bowl football games or appear on NCAA-sponsored television over the probationary period.

The highlight of today's convention session was a diamond jubilee lunch at which many government figures, including three cabinet members and letter-winning congressmen, were to be honored.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also was scheduled to attend, but he left early this morning for New Delhi, where he will head the U.S. delegation at the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Donkey basketball will invade the Holly High School gym Wednesday night when the Holly Jaycees challenge the Holly Athletic Boosters.

The Bulldogs, now 1-5, trailed throughout the game. Ferris closed the gap to one point, 62-61, with 10 minutes to play and it stayed nip and tuck until Ransom's winning shot.

Dennis Alexander led Aquinas, now 5-7, with 20 points.

All-Star Game Tonight

2 Tall Woes for NBA Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Deciding whether to start 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain or 6-9 Bill Russell at center for the East squad in the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game tonight is a towering problem for Coach Red Auerbach.

★ ★ ★

So, Auerbach said he will flip a coin before the game to determine which of the superstars will be in the starting line-up against the Western Division All-Stars in the 16th annual classic in Cincinnati Gardens.

★ ★ ★

The East, with the likes of forwards Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and guards Oscar Robertson and Sam Jones to support Russell and Chamberlain, is a 10-point favorite to capture their fourth straight victory over the West.

League rules state that the five players receiving the most votes must start in the classic. Both Russell and Chamberlain were unanimous choices for the pivot position.

With his array of talent, Auerbach admits, "I think we've got the edge."

NOT GIVING UP

But Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, who is guiding the West squad, said he was not giving up until the final buzzer.

"They've got all the firepower, no doubt about it," said Schaus, "but I think we've got much better defense at all positions except maybe at center when Russell is in there."

The West starters will be forward Rick Barry of San Francisco and Bailey Howell of Baltimore, center Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, and guards Jerry West of Los Angeles and Guy Rodgers of San Francisco. Barry is the only rookie on either team.

★ ★ ★

Schaus called West and Thurmond his key players. "We have to get the rebounding and defense from Nate and Jerry has to anchor any offense we've got." Thurmond is 6-11.

Lucas and Robertson are from the Cincinnati Royals and Jones and Havlicek from the Boston Celtics. Auerback is the Celtics' coach. Robertson has been selected to the All-Star team in all his six years in the NBA and has never played on a losing squad.

Three Share First in YMCA League

Three teams share first place after the second week of play in the Pontiac YMCA Men's Basketball League.

Holding down the top spot with 2-0 records are Lake Orion Baptist, Emmanuel Baptist and Hillcrest Nazarene.

In action last night, Don Fugate tossed in 15 points in leading Emmanuel to a 79-21 victory over First Brethren, Hillcrest Nazarene topped Avondale Baptist, 40-38, and Paul Grammer collected 23 points in Lake Orion Baptist's 95-28 win over First Baptist.

Wolverines Trim Indiana at Foul Line

Hoosiers Lose, 88-68, Despite 31 Baskets Against U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Few fans who saw Michigan trim Indiana, 88-68, for its second straight Big Ten basketball victory Monday night realized that the Wolverines won the game at the foul line.

The much smaller Hoosiers proved to be a nuisance, and, with 31 field goals, actually outscored the defending Big Ten champions from the floor.

But it was the Wolverines' height advantage which decided the game—not so much under the boards as at the free throw line.

The Wolverines connected on 28 of 34 free throws while the Hoosiers made good on 6 of 13.

HURT BY FOULS

Indiana coach Lou Watson admitted his team was hurt by the fouls—a total of 22—but added, "you have to expect it when you are up against a bigger team. The tendency is to grab a bit more when the man you are playing against is taller."

Michigan, which moved into a three-way tie for the lead with Illinois and Michigan State, held a slight 48-42 edge in rebounds.

★ ★ ★

Cazzie Russell and Jim Myers shared the scoring spotlight for the winners with 27 and 24 points, respectively. Oliver Darden, apparently coming out of his month-long scoring drought, added 19, hitting 15 free throws.

★ ★ ★

Vernon Payne tried to keep the Hoosiers in the game with a 25-point effort but the Wolverines put it out of reach with a 12-point spurt early in the second half which moved them to a 59-40 lead.

BRIEF LEAD

Indiana led for a brief period in the first half. Neither team went ahead by more than five points until Myers hit with a short hook shot with three seconds remaining to give the Wolverines a 39-32 halftime lead.

★ ★ ★

The Hoosiers closed to within five points minutes before the Wolverines went on the Rampage and started on their way to their eighth triumph in 12 games.

Crucial Overtime Point Big for No. 2 Kentucky

By The Associated Press

Kentucky's unbeaten, second-ranked Wildcats scored only one point in an overtime period. It turned out to be the biggest point of their basketball season.

Tied 60-60 at the end of regulation time, Kentucky and Georgia each converted single foul shots to force the game into a second extra period in which Kentucky outscored the Bulldogs 8-4 for a 69-65 victmry Monday night.

Two other members of The Associated Press' Top Ten saw action and recorded victories — No. 3 Vanderbilt, 106-58 over Mississippi and No. 10 Kansas, 89-68 over Oklahoma.

Big Clyde Lee scored 29 points and snared 28 rebounds in Vanderbilt's easy victory over Mississippi at Nashville, Tenn.

BIG MAN

Another big man, Kansas' Walt Wesley, netted 27 points and blocked seven shots in the Jayhawks' defeat of Oklahoma at Lawrence, Kan.

Iowa, who dropped out of the Top Ten after losing 69-68 to Wisconsin Saturday, got back on the right track with 70-58 triumph over Northwestern.

Northern Routs Wayne State 5, Handily, 116-67

DEARBORN (AP)—Northern Michigan, the nation's highest-scoring small college basketball team, thumped Wayne State 116-67 Monday night.

Northern, averaging 104 points a game going into the contest, rang up an early 38-8 lead on the way to its fourth victory in six starts. Gene Summers scored 33 points for the Wildcats. Northern led 56-31 at the half.

Wayne's defeat was its fourth straight. Dan Garziola and Marty Letzmann scored 16 each for Wayne.

NHL Expansion in News

Rangers' Trade Crosses Up Fans

NEW YORK (AP) — New York hockey fans who thought the Rangers were after Boston's tough Ted Green had their signals crossed. Reg Fleming, another brawny Bruin, was New York's man all along.

The Rangers acquired Fleming, a rugged left wing, Monday in a National Hockey League deal that sent right wing John McKenzie to the Bruins.

The swap was made by the NHL's fifth and sixth place clubs less than 24 hours after an advertised vendetta involving the Rangers and Green, Boston's volatile defenseman, failed to materialize during a 3-1 Bruins victory at Madison Square Garden.

William Jennings, the Rangers president, had declared a "bounty" on Green after the Bruin's penalty spree — which included a spearing incident that put New York's Phil Goyette out of action for a month — in Boston's previous visit to the Garden.

Green totaled 36 penalty minutes in that game — one minute short of the single-game league record.

The record-holder? Fleming, who set the mark in a 1960 game against the Rangers when he was playing for Chicago.

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's next step towards a planned six-team expansion could come in New York at league meetings Feb. 7-9.

The NHL Board of Governors will gather to consider 13 applications including a dozen from American groups for spots in the proposed expanded league.

Present plans call for expansion of the six-team NHL to 12 clubs for the 1967-68 season if possible. Four cities have had their proposed facilities approved by the NHL. However, no franchises have been assigned.

MONTREAL (AP) — It's front and center in the National Hockey League scoring race — mostly center.

Seven pivots are among the NHL's top 11 scorers according to figures released by the league today.

But the only left wing in the top 11 is Chicago's Bobby Hull, who holds a wide lead in the scoring race with 55 points on 32 goals and 23 assists.

By The Associated Press

The streaking Duke Blue Devils held onto first place in the Associated Press basketball poll today and Kansas replaced Iowa in the major-college Top Ten.

Duke's margin over second-place Kentucky was trimmed considerably, though. The Blue Devils, winners of nine in a row for an 11-1 mark, collected 32 first place votes and 405 in the balloting by 44 regional experts.

Kentucky, unbeaten in 10 games, trails by only 40 points, 50 less than a week ago. The Wildcats polled eight votes for the No. 1 position and 365 points in the latest balloting based on games through last Saturday.

Bengals' Freehan Loses Appendix

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers catcher Bill Freehan underwent an appendectomy at a Detroit hospital Monday.

Freehan, who had been attending classes at the University of Michigan's Dearborn Branch, complained of pains in his side Sunday night.

Doctors said the surgery would not prevent Freehan from starting spring training on schedule next month.

Minnesota Payroll Up

Twins Expect 'Squawks'

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Success is going to Calvin Griffith's pocketbook in 1966.

The Minnesota Twins owner mailed new contracts to players on his American League baseball championship team Monday, and he admitted:

"There's going to be a lot of them squawking, but I've heard it before."

★ ★ ★

Griffith is caught in the bind of rewarding his players for winning the 1965 pennant and still holding his player payroll within what he considers reason.

"I would think our payroll would go to $600,000," he said. "That's second in baseball only to the New York Yankees, who I would guess are around $700,000. If we got around two million dollars in radio and television money like the Yankees, we could do that too."

The Twins' payroll has shot up 50 per cent since the old Washington Senators moved here in 1961, from $400,000 to the expected $600,000 this year.

"Our salaries have steadily gone up as the team has improved," Griffith said. "We've easily got a dozen at $20,000 or better now."

★ ★ ★

Griffith is offering raises to most of his players, holding a few at their 1965 level and asking only two to take cuts. He won't identify the two, but speculation centers on pitcher Dick Stigman, second baseman Bernie Allen and, possibly, outfielder Bob Allison.

The biggest contract fights are expected with shortstop Zoilo Versalles, the American League's Most Valuable Player, and pitcher Jim Grant, who won 21 regular season games and also chalked up two of the Twins' three victories in the World Series — lost last October to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

★ ★ ★

Both have announced that they plan to ask for salaries in the $50,000 range. Griffith is adamant that neither will get that much.

Technical Is Winning Point in Rec Game

An illegal time-out cost Howe's Lanes a basketball game in the Waterford Recreation League last night.

With two seconds left, and the score reading 64-64, Howe's called time. It was the 6th time out and brought forth a technical foul for Fredman's Construction.

Bob Peterhann shot the free throw and gave his team a 65-64 triumpth. Dick Smith was high with 27 points.

Negro Denied Seat in Georgia House

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A young Negro civil rights worker from Atlanta has become the first elected Georgia representative in 98 years to be denied a seat in the legislature.

Rep.-elect Julian Bond, 25, who last week endorsed a statement denouncing U.S. policy in Viet Nam and urged American youth to avoid the draft, was barred from his seat Monday night.

★ ★ ★

House members voted 184-12 for a special committee's recommendation that Bond be denied the oath of office because of his stand on a statement issued last Friday by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Bond is publicity director for the civil rights group.

Bond, who refused to comment Monday night on the House action, announced earlier he would take the issue into federal court if denied his House seat. An attorney said court action will be sought as "soon as possible."

FURTHER ACTION

A SNCC leader, James Forman, also said demonstrations would result and possibly a boycott of Georgia products.

A group of SNCC workers sat quietly in the gallery when the House took its vote, climaxing a marathon opening-day of the 1966 session.

★ ★ ★

Bond, who won a landslide victory in his predominantly Negro Atlanta district last June, hurried from the Capitol with his lawyers and supporters after the vote.

The House committee which recommended the vote against Bond heard testimony and deliberated for more than four hours before reporting to the House.

COMMITTEE VOTE

The committee voted 23-3. The three votes favoring Bond's seating came from Negro members. They were among seven sworn in as the first Negro House members in 58 years.

Bond told the committee he stood on his endorsement of the SNCC statement. He said he had not advocated violation of any law when voicing admiration for anyone with the courage to burn his draft card.

★ ★ ★

Attorney Denmark Groover of Macon, representing Bond's opponents, said the Georgia Legislature had not refused to seat a member since 1868. He said eight Confederate veterans were barred from the House during Reconstruction.

Rep. George D. Bagby argued for the majority report against seating the boyish-looking Bond and said he thought the situation had been planned.

CLAIMS DEBT

"SNCC is in debt," said Bagby. "We are fixing to give them a martyr and we are giving them a cause. "I know I'm being used."

Rep. J.C. Daugherty warned that the failure to seat Bond would "blacken and besmirch the name of our great state."

Bond, whose father is dean of education at Atlanta University, has received endorsements for his stand from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and from the American Civil Liberties Union in Atlanta.

King, on the West Coast, announced through an aide that he would return to Atlanta today because of the Bond controversy.

★ ★ ★

The 12 legislators voting for Bond, seven white and five Negro, were from the Atlanta area — 10 from Fulton County and two from DeKalb County. Seven House members did not vote on the issue.

Pension Plan Study Okayed

Survey to Be Made for Waterford Twp.

An offer by Walter W. Lagerquist of Wyatt Co., consulting actuaries, to launch a study of a proposed pension plan for township employes at no charge was accepted last night by Waterford Township Board members.

The action followed a request of 34 township employes, urging the hiring of an actuary to compare the new plan, proposed by A. J. Gabriel and Co. of Detroit, with a former plan rejected last year.

The proposed plan was tabled Dec. 27 for a maximum of 30 days to give township employes sufficient time to familiarize themselves with it.

The plan, which would affect all township employes except police and firemen, calls for a 5 per cent deduction of a township employe's wages.

★ ★ ★

The township contribution has been specified as 15.56 per cent of the annual payroll or $40,596 the first year.

AREA RESIDENT

A resident of the township, Lagerquist lives at 4215 Lakewood.

In other business, the board upgraded the employment status of assistant planner Curtis Rossow from probationary to permanent, increasing his annual salary from $6,200 to $6,696.

A request of Trustee Loren Anderson for creation of a public relations board to meet monthly will be given consideration, according to Supervisor Dorothy Olson.

Anderson suggested a three-man board whose purpose would be to relate information to the public.

TELEPHONE CALLS

The veteran Republican board member is concerned over recent telephone calls from township residents requesting information from officials not as closely attached to a particular issue as others.

Officials to Attend Parley

Oakland County will have four representatives at the midwinter conference of the County Officials Association at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids Jan. 17-18.

★ ★ ★

Planning to attend the session are Clerk - Register of Deeds John A. Murphy, Treasurer James E. Seeterlin, Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson and Sheriff Frank Irons.

Among the issues to be discussed are county home rule, revisions in election and health laws and proposed legislation affecting counties.

Murphy said that one item that will receive attention from registers of deeds is a bill that would transfer the filing of chattel mortgages with counties to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing.

Oakland County would lose about $130,000 annually if the bill was adopted, according to Murphy.

By JACOBY AND SON

Ira Rubin and Philip Feldesman, who finished first in the trials for the American team, are the one pair on the team who believe in sound opening bids.

JACOBY

The sound opening bid theory worked out well for them when Rubin passed with the East hand. South opened with one no-trump and when this was passed back to Rubin, he elected to double. South would have been well advised to run out to two clubs but he stood by his guns and Feldesman was delighted to let the double stand.

Phil did not want to lead from strength, and selected the apparently unfortunate opening bid of the nine of clubs.

This lead looked mighty good to South and he proceeded to run off his five club tricks to start proceedings. It was up to Phil and Ira to discard well, and they surely did.

Phil dropped the four and six of diamonds in order, while Ira let go the deuce of diamonds, five of spades and four of hearts in order. Now when declarer led out his king of diamonds, Ira took the trick with his ace and led the deuce of hearts.

Phil cashed his king and queen and led his last heart, whereupon Ira collected two more heart tricks. South had to discard one of his spades on the last heart and Ira's jack of spades lead gave Phil the last three tricks with his ace, queen and nine.

The score of plus 300 for setting one no-trump two tricks was worth five International Match Points to the eventual winners.

Trading Crowds Ticker

Market Bulls to Record High

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market mounted a renewed advance to historic highs in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Orders piled on top of orders to such an extent that the high-speed ticker tape ran as much as five minutes late. Big blocks in speculative as well as investment-grade issues were traded.

★ ★ ★

Wall Street was continuing in its efforts to crowd a full day's trading into an abbreviated four-hour session instead of the usual 5½ hours which have been reduced because of the transit strike in New York.

The sharpest week-to-week gain in steel production in two years was one bullish factor and steels responded to it with a rising trend, but this ran afoul of some mild profit taking as the session wore on.

GAINS POSTED

Airlines, rails, electronics, coppers and chemicals posted gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 365.8 with industrials up .7, rails up 13 and utilities off .5.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.28 at 987.69.

Both indicators were above their latest closing highs on an intra-day basis.

HEAVY TRADING

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex rose 3 and Alloys Unlimited nearly 2.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change.

U.S. Probes Fire Death of Negro Leader

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The death of a Negro civil rights leader from burns suffered when his rural home and store were set afire has touched off an investigation by federal, state and local authorities.

"What happened to us can happen to anybody, white or black," said Vernon Dahmer in a deathbed interview Monday.

★ ★ ★

"The full resources of the Justice Department will be made available until the persons responsible are identified and apprehended," said Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in Washington.

"We hope and urge that people of good will of both races will join together in a mutual effort against lawless minorities which seek to destroy the respect and understanding from which the majority of our citizens are working," said Mayor Paul E. Grady and President Selby C. Bowling of the County Supervisors Board in a joint statement.

TALKED TO NEWSMEN

Dahmer talked to newsmen before he died. He said he had been awakened about 2:30 a.m. by gunshots. He said he grabbed a shotgun and fired several times at a car before fleeing with his family from his burning house.

Dahmer's daughter, Betty, 10 also was burned. She remained in a Hattiesburg hospital today in fair condition. Mrs. Dahmer was treated for burns and released. The couple's two sons, Harold, 26, and Dennis, 12 were not injured.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Woodward said the blaze that destroyed the Dahmer home and store, which were about 200 feet apart, was ignited by some type of fire bomb.

A car, its tires punctured by shotgun pellets, was found abandoned 2½ miles from the Dahmer home. Officers said the owner had reported it had been stolen.

DEEP CONCERN

Katzenbach said President Johnson had expressed to him "his deep concern over the previous tragedy."

The attorney general said many of his department had come personally to know and to respect the 58-year-old civil rights leader. "Mr. Dahmer was engaged in the highest kind of citizenship — helping to secure basic rights for his fellow citizen," said Katzenbach.

In New York, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called Dahmer's death "precisely the kind of outrage which had produced the demand for new federal legislation to correct flagrant abuses in the administration of justice."

Tuskegee Bids to Halt Bias

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Tuskegee's city council meets tonight to consider a proposal to halt "every form of segregation and dscrimination" in public accommodations. Negro students say they plan to continue demonstrations.

A faculty group from Tuskegee Institute read its own version of the proposed law at a special council meeting Monday.

★ ★ ★

The statement, read by Dr. Paul L. Puryear of the institute, listed service stations, bus stations, retail stores and restaurants, motels, private clubs and recreation areas as facilities which should be completely desegregated.

The committee also asked the city to invoke a $100 fine while closing for 90 days any business or facility found to have violated the proposed ordinance.

REGULAR MEETING

Council members agreed to consider the proposal at tonight's regular meeting.

Students attending the meeting said they plan to continue demonstrations regardless of whether the proposed law is adopted.

Earlier, Negro students carrying picket signs staged two demonstrations without incident. The first was held in front of the city hall and the county courthouse which is next door. The same group then held a brief demonstration in front of a store owned by Tuskegee's mayor and the bank where a city council member is president.

Detroit Conventions

DETROIT (AP) — Conventions will spend $25 million or more in Detroit this year for a second time, the Detroit convention bureau predicted yesterday. The bureau said this first happened in 1961.

Hurt Seaman Is Recovering

BOSTON (AP) — Henry Ingram, 63, a fisherman whose injuries were treated through radioed emergency instructoins, was reported in good condition today at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital.

Ingram, of Mattapoisett, suffered a severe head gash Sunday when he smashed into a broken porthole on the trawler Rush in rough seas off Cape Cod.

Dr. John Ratino, surgeon on duty at the Public Health Hospital, set up radio communications with the trawler and gave instructions for emergency treatment.

Ingram was transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet and later was flown by helicopter to Boston.

Strike Making Striders of NY's Subway Riders

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Walking's become fashionable in New York, the city of limousines . . . It's suddenly chic . . . But while you're doing the Subway Strike Stride, you should pull in your stomach until it's scraping your backbone, you should breathe so deeply that you're practically a snorter, and you should take long steps that decrease your waistline.

WILSON

Then when you come home, you should follow my simple Boozepaperman's Diet . . . a straight drink with water or even two . . . and a feast consisting of bacon and sliced tomatoes (or shrimp or hamburger) but without bread or potatoes. When you get on the scales after four days, you will think Mike Quill is a great guy.

"I walked 20 blocks to get to this party" is suddenly the "in" thing to say. Remember, as such walkers as Otto Preminger and Hugh O'Brien tell me, that in walking you should always be erect.

"I electrocycle in ze morning," says Preminger, the Autrain Yul Brynner, "and ven I valk, I always valk upright."

★ ★ ★

"I guess," Taffy Tuttle was saying, "though we never meant it to turn out that way, all of us have become street walkers."

Flash, Flash, Flash! What's this about June Lockhart, pretty star of CBS' "Lost In Space," being married — secretly—to John Lindsay? They won't even say when they got married!

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Tennessee Williams said at Asti's the transit strike had made NY a "more human and interesting town . . . Mayor Lindsay, returning to the Americana, asked for the same suite he'd had; at 9 a.m. the management roused the occupant, an Iowa businessman, who agreed to give it up . . . Stripper Lili St. Cyr said at the Ginza her sixth husband'll be writer Lorenzo Holmes.

Massachusetts Plans Road Safety Program

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Public Works Department has launched a million-dollar program to identify hazardous highway spots to combat accidents.

Commissioner Francis W. Sargent said the work will involve such items as widening narrow traffic lanes and bridges; flattening side slopes and removal of roadside curbs and fixed obstructions; and installation of traffic control and protective devices.

Colombia Hits Smuggler Ring

Says Foreigners Seek to Create Subversion

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia has denounced the existence of "an international Mafia" which it says is smuggling arms and luxury goods into this country, using a fleet of private planes and an extensive network of airports.

The denunciation said the smuggling of arms was done by "foreign organizations that are trying to create in the country a climate of subversion."

★ ★ ★

The government spokesman who made the charges declined to say whether he was talking about Castroist activity.

The spokesman said foreign luxury goods, such as television sets, transistor radios, American cigarettes and whisky, are being brought in through clandestine flights.

NOT ALLOWED

Colombia does not allow the importation of luxury goods, and in the case of cigarettes and whisky it demands payment of stiff duties reaching up to 400 per cent of original value.

★ ★ ★

During December, two DC3s, crashed at night trying to land at private airports. It was discovered that both were carrying smuggled goods. It was also revealed that during 1965 the police had intercepted several small planes carrying arms and goods when they tried to land at isolated airports. Those planes did not have markings.

★ ★ ★

The government acknowledged that it is almost impossible to stop such flights due to the existence of "more than 2,500 private airports" and to the lack of adequate radar systems and patrol planes.

One explanation given for the intensified aerial smuggling is increased patrolling of the Colombian coasts and land borders. At the beginning of 1965, Colombia bought a fleet of fast patrol boats from West Germany, equipped with radar and machine guns.

BIG MARKET

The smuggling of arms is believed to be done with the aim of arming the several Communist-led guerrilla groups now operating in the mountains. Another big market for smuggled weapons is the average Colombian citizen who traditionally likes sidearms, especially in the rural areas. The sale of arms in Colombia is forbidden, including sporting weapons

A bottle of smuggled scotch sells for $3.50 while a legally imported bottle sells for $9. A smuggled television set is $160 while a Colombian-produced set, of inferior quality, brings $400.

★ ★ ★

The planes do not leave the country empty. Most of the time they carry coffee to Aruba and other places where it is shipped to the United States. In this way they do not pay stiff taxes amounting to 50 per cent of the value of the export.

In Contact With Lens

SPRINGVILLE, Utah (AP) — Jean Wightman's crunchy breakfast cost almost $100.

That extra crackle didn't attract much attention until her daughter, Linda Bartholomew, launched a search for her contact lenses. She told her mother she had left them in a bowl in the cupboard.

★ ★ ★

"A couple of bites seemed extra tough," Mrs. Wightman said, "but I just kept right on chewing."

Legislative Leaders Quizzed in Telecast

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan's two top Democratic legislators yesterday told a Detroit television audience they would support former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for a U.S. Senate seat if he had to face a primary fight against Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, made their statement during a live telecast over station WJBK in Detroit.

Kowalski is speaker of the House while Dzendzel is Senate Democratic leader.

Also featured on the program were Republicans Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, House Republican leader, and Emil Lockwood of St. Louis, Senate Republican leader.

★ ★ ★

Both Kowalski and Dzendzel did not elaborate on their position but stated flatly they would support Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, in answer in a viewers question.

Williams served six terms as governor from 1948 to 1960 and has been head of the African affairs department since the late President Kennedy appointed him in 1961.

Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., is reported ready to announce his retirement instead of running for another six-year term in November.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh, who was elected to a second term as mayor last November, has hinted strongly he would like to gain McNamara's seat if Michigan's senior senator retires.

Democrats would like to avoid a battle between Williams, considered the best Democratic vote-getter around, and Cavanagh, a youthful aspirant in the party.

★ ★ ★

Williams, given a vote of confidence by President Johnson for his work in the State Department and well-liked by most African diplomats, also has not openly announced he would run for the Senate. However, there were some indications he would like to return to state politics.

Educators to Meet at OU Jan. 20

High school educators from this area will meet at Oakland University Jan. 20 to see demonstrations of a teaching aid on semiconductors, and a student's unit on crystallography.

The teachers, whose visits will be sponsored by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and General Telephone Co., will represent most north Oakland County schools.

This is the fourth series of science aids for high school students offered by the Bell System in its continuing, comprehensive program of assistance to education.

The basic element in the program's first subject is conductors and semiconductors.

★ ★ ★

Completing the package are a classroom demonstration device, which illustrates various phenomena associated with electrical conduction, and a manual of experiments.

EXPERIMENTAL UNIT

The crystallography portion of the program contains an experimental unit for the advance student and a crystal-growing device for classroom projects.

"Experiments with Crystals and Light," the student unit, contains samples of various crystals the student can observe and experiment with under polarized light, using a simple polarizing microscope assembled from materials provided.

A book containing 35 experiments also is included.

The materials in the "Aids to High School Science" program are designed by Bell Telephone Laboratories to help teachers present important fundamental concepts in the physical sciences.

WIDE GAP

The purpose is to help narrow the wide gap between research laboratory and classroom.

★ ★ ★

The program, now in its fourth year, was granted the National Science Teachers Association Business - Industry Section award in 1964 for "excellence in industrial aid to education."

Ellerhorst Gets 4½ to 5 Years

Appeal Is Planned in Conspiracy Case

DETROIT (UPI) — Former Garden City contractor Lester C. Ellerhorst faced 4½ to 5 years in prison today for conspiring to extort money from Detroit attorney Arthur Bichan and murder him.

★ ★ ★

Ellerhorst, 61, and two hired accomplices were sentenced to similar prison terms yesterday by Recorder's Judge Vincent J. Brennan.

Ellerhorst's attorney said he would appeal the conviction.

Edward Szeles, 34, an ex-convict, and James Clark, 46, an escapee from a Florida prison farm, were convicted last month of joining Ellerhorst in the murder-conspiracy plot after they were arrested May 22 in front of Bichan's home.

★ ★ ★

The trio was convicted of conspiring against Bichan, State Rep. James T. Tierney and Garden City Municipal Judge Russell Swarthout.

IN AND OUT

Ellerhorst, who has been in and out of jails and mental institutions for the past eight years, was convicted of shooting Tierney five times in 1957 over a dispute on the construction of a Garden City police station. Tierney was mayor of the Detroit suburb at the time.

★ ★ ★

The builder was convicted of masterminding the plot last May to recover money he claimed was still owed him for the police station.

Aussies Told U.S. Viet Policy

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told a news conference today he is convinced the number of countries contributing combat forces to the defense of South Viet Nam will increase if President Johnson's peace offensive fails completely and an indefinite struggle has to be faced.

Harriman, who explained Johnson's Vietnamese policy to top Australian officials, said the U.S. peace bid will have an influence on future developments in Viet Nam even if it is not successful in the first round.

★ ★ ★

Although North Viet Nam has shown no inclination to come to the conference table, he continued, the pause in the U.S. bombing associated with the peace offensive is giving the Hanoi government time to think over the situation.

Harriman said all countries he has visited on his current tour, including the Communist countries, support the President's peace offensive. He said they all want to see the fighting stopped, and he felt from his earlier visit to Moscow that this is also the Soviet view.

SHELEPIN DELEGATION

In Moscow, however, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a member of Alexander N. Shelepin's delegation to Hanoi said during a visit to the Hanoi Polytechnical Institute that "the Vietnamese people now have to concentrate all their energy on repulsing the enemy."

The speaker was identified as Dimitry F. Ustinov, an armaments production expert.

★ ★ ★

Red China said the purpose of the American bombing pause was to get a "signal" from North Viet Nam that the Communists would scale down their military activities. The official Peking People's Daily predicted that the Vietnamese Communists would not "fall into the peace-talks trap."

Lindsay Gets Tough in NY Transit Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — New means of settling New York's transit crisis are being explored under a get-tough policy laid down by Mayor John V. Lindsay

The Transit Authority and the striking transit unions were asked to give their reaction today to proposals suggested by Lindsay for ending the tieup.

In a biting statement yesterday, Lindsay had told the city's mediators to take stern measures to end the strike by the bus and subway workers, now in its 11th day.

Lindsay's proposals were angrily brushed aside by Douglas L. MacMahon, chief negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union.

He said it was "time for Mayor Lindsay to face the issues realistically and deal with us fairly. He should stop trying to cheat the people of New York with innuendo."

★ ★ ★

In the early hours of today negotiations again ended without agreement.

RETURN LATER

The mediators told the Transit Authority and the unions to come back later ready to give their ideas about Lindsay's suggestions.

Here is what the mayor recommended as alternatives to a negotiated settlement:

That the mediators make specific recommendations for a settlement; that a fact-finding commission, be appointed to study the dispute and make recommendations; or that new procedures be adopted, such as advisory or binding arbitration.

Lindsay coupled the last two alternatives with a recommendation that the strikers return to work pending final settlement.

Sylvester Garrett, one of the three mediators, said regarding MacMahon's public rejection that he did not believe the union leader's statement "necessarily represented a full exposition of the union's views to the various alternatives."

MacMahon seemed particularly enraged by Lindsay's suggestion that the strikers return to work pending a final settlement.

Order Warrant in Car Deaths

Sisters Were Killed; Charge Manslaughter

A manslaughter warrant was ordered today against a 24-year-old Milford woman whose car smashed into a group of schoolchildren and fatally injured two sisters in Commerce Township last week.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said the warrant would be served on Mrs. Kenneth R. Ostin, of 335 Main, at Pontiac General Hospital where she is in fair condition recovering from injuries suffered in the Jan. 3 accident.

At the same time Bronson announced that his office will initiate a new traffic safety program in Oakland County in the next three months.

He said details of the program will be worked out by assistant prosecutor Timothy E. Dinan, who headed the investigation into the fatal accident that took the lives of Mary Ann Wilson, 14, and her sister Lynette, 13.

★ ★ ★

The girls were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wilson, 280 Wise, Commerce Township.

COLLISION

They were struck after Mrs. Ostin's car careened off a school bus, overturning both vehicles.

Bronson said Mrs. Ostin's driving record had a bearing in bringing the charge but would not comment on the past offenses.

Secretary of State records reveal, however, that Mrs. Ostin has been convicted twice of running stop signs and twice for speeding in the last 18 months.

★ ★ ★

She has also received a letter warning her of the possible suspension of her license.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff deputies said the fatal accident at Carroll Lake and Wise occurred when Mrs. Ostin apparently failed to heed a stop sign.

36 Are Killed as Floods Hit Sections of Rio

Many Others Feared Buried in Debris of Collapsed Buildings

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Thirty-six persons were killed and many more were feared buried in the debris of 50 buildings—mostly in the slums — which collapsed last night after a downpour caused extensive flooding.

Gov. Francisco Negrao de Lima declared a state of emergency.

The rain continued into the early morning and more was predicted for tonight.

The Journal do Brasil said as many as 100 persons may have been killed, but a fire department spokesman declined to speculate on the number of dead.

★ ★ ★

He said six of the known casualties had drowned or died from heart attacks.

HEAVY DAMAGE

A shantytown on the steep hillside behind the fashionable Copacabana district was reported to have suffered heavy damage, and some of its buildings were swept away.

The Maracana River overflowed into a middle- and lower-class neighborhood and flooded dozens of homes.

At some points in low sections of the city water was six and seven feet deep.

★ ★ ★

The rushing waters broke many shop windows and carried away merchandise.

STALLED CARS

Many persons were stranded atop stalled cars. Dozens climbed on top of a platform built around the Gemini 5 space capsule on display here.

Thirty-five children were reported trapped in the second floor of an orphanage.

Several areas of the city were plunged into darkness when the water damaged power lines.

NEW COMMANDANT — Maj. Gen. Donald V. Bennett (right) inspects the corps yesterday in taking over duties as the new commandant of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. With him is Capt. Robert C. Stiepock, military police honor guard commander. The new commandant, a native of Lakeside, Ohio, is the 47th superintendent at West Point.

Former WSU President Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Clarence Hilberry, a Shakespearean scholar who turned Wayne State University from a small city - supported school to a major institution, died Monday, apparently of a heart attack. He was 63.

Hilberry, a former president of WSU, adovocated balanced education and opposed what he considered too much emphasis on athletics. He died in New York, where he had lived with his wife since last fall.

Hilberry retired from the presidency last year and became a consultant on higher education with the Ford Foundation.

Police said Hilberry checked into a hotel Tuesday afternoon and was found dead beside the bed in his room some five hours later. An autopsy was scheduled for today.

Program to Get Poverty Funds

The Pontiac School District has received word from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) that the city's School Community Action Program (SCAP) has been granted a temporary two-month operating appropriation.

In addition, Dr. Lee W. Haslinger, coordinator of federal funds for the district, said a representative from the OEO office in Washington would meet with school officials from throughout the county next Monday.

The temporary fund grant — retroactive to Jan. 1 and effective through Feb. 28 — will permit continued operation of SCAP programs at Jefferson - Franklin, Whittier, and Bagley-Bethune schools.

The program offers varied educational facilities to both school-age children and adults. It had been continuing at Jefferson-Franklin on volunteer efforts by the project's instructors.

★ ★ ★

All 25 teachers at the school had continued working without pay after the OEO office in Chicago notified local school officials last week that funds for the program had been "furloughed."

DELAY EXPLAINED

Haslinger said the delay in refunding of the SCAP program "apparently stems from some question in their (OEO's) evaluation of our proposals."

Monday's 9 a.m. meeting, he said, would probably deal with OEO's "questions" and possible alternatives from county school officials.

CIA Director to Brief Panel on Peace Bid

American Diplomat Reportedly Delivered Message to N. Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional panel plans to question CIA Director William F. Raborn today on the newly announced direct U.S. diplomatic contact with Hanoi.

The Central Intelligence Agency chief was to brief a joint subcommittee on the CIA at midafternoon on the Johnson administration's Viet Nam peace offensive.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had been scheduled to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee this morning on the Viet Nam situation.

But he left for India shortly after midnight as a member of the U.S. delegation to the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers disclosed the U.S.-North Vietnamese contact late yesterday but refused to tell more — including how, when or where it came about.

U.S. MESSAGE

It was learned that a U.S. diplomat met for a few minutes with a Hanoi representative and handed him a message concerning U.S. proposals for peace in Viet Nam.

The two officials were reported to have exchanged routine remarks, but not to have engaged in any substantive negotiations.

Johnson has offered unconditional discussions.

★ ★ ★

To this the Communists have not yet given any significant response through diplomatic channels, it was stated.

VIET AGGRESSOR

Publicly, the Reds are continuing to berate the United States as the aggressor in Viet Nam.

The U.S.-North Vietnamese meeting was said to have occurred some time ago.

Johnson's current peace campaign began Dec. 24 with the halt in air strikes against North Viet Nam targets.

★ ★ ★

Hanoi's receipt of the U.S. communication this time — during last May's bombing pause it refused a U.S. message sent through the British — was not regarded as significant here pending a reply from the North Vietnamese capital.

DIPLOMATS ACCREDITED

At least a dozen Communist and non-Communist countries have both U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats accredited at their capitals.

While Moyers declined to Millions Mourning; Envoys Fly to Rites

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Millions of mourning Indians packed the streets of New Delhi today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was brought home for cremation beside the Sacred Jumna River.

As representatives of governments hurried from around the world to attend the rites tomorrow, the world's leaders poured in tributes to the frail little man who struggled for 19 stormy months after the death of Jawaharlal Nehru to lead this troubled land of 460 million people.

GULZARILAL NANDA

Within hours after Shastri's death from a heart attack, India's new prime minister, Gulzarilal Nanda, promised to carry through his predecessor's final work — the peace pledge he signed with Pakistan a few hours before he died.

Shastri, 61, died early today in the Soviet city of Tashkent. The 5-foot-2, 110-pound prime minister had signed a limited peace pact yesterday with Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan agreeing to pull their forces back from territory seized during the September war between India and Pakistan.

Nanda in a nationwide broadcast said Shastri died "after successfully concluding a mighty effort for peace. We shall honor the agreement he made and implement it faithfully."

A Soviet plane bore the remains of the humble-born little leader across the Hindu Kush Mountains to India's dusty plains.

★ ★ ★

Ayub Khan, whose forces fought Indian troops in a bloody 22-day undeclared war last September, and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who was host to the Tashkent conference, helped carry Shastri's coffin to the plane in the Soviet Asian city.

LEADERS DEPART

Kosygin left shortly after to attend the funeral. Ayub returned to Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew from Washington for the funeral. They were accompanied by two former U.S. ambassadors to India, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and John Kenneth Galbraith.

Queen Elizabeth II sent Earl Mountbatten, last viceroy and first governor general of India, to represent her.

Tributes to Shastri poured in from many parts of the world.

President Johnson said his death was a "grievous blow to the hopes of mankind for peace and progress." He said Shastri had "proved a fitting successor to Pandit Nehru by holding aloft the highest ideals of Indian democracy."

Kosygin hailed Shastri as "a great humanist of our time."

Sailors See Ship Sink, Several Drown

NEW YORK (AP)—Surviving crewmen of a Spanish freighter reported today they saw their ship sink and witnessed the drowning of the captain and several crewmen, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard here said it received a report from the American freighter Steel Maker, carrying four survivors from the Spanish vessel, the Monte Palomares.

The survivors said they had seen 18 others alive in a lifeboat and a raft but that they feared that most of the remaining 11 crewmen had drowned with the captain.

The Monte Palomares' crew abandoned ship yesterday when her grain cargo shifted and she developed a 30-degree list in heavy seas. She reported she was 840 miles north-northeast of Bermuda.

★ ★ ★

Rescue ships searched the area for survivors while a Coast Guard cutter stood by the Greek freighter Lampsis, which was riding out the storm with a cracked deck 240 miles southwest of the Monte Palomares. She had 30 crewmen aboard.

The Pentellina, a French ore carrier, and the Thuro Maersk, a Danish refrigerated cargo ship, also searched the area, battered by 25-foot waves and winds of 28 to 33 knots.

★ ★ ★

A Coast Guard cutter sped toward the scene, but was delayed by the storm.

Proposed City Budget at Record $9.2 Million

A record city budget of $9.2 million, has been proposed for 1966 by city administrators.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is scheduled to formally present the proposed budget at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Incorporating a general operating fund of $7.6 million—$650,767 higher than 1965, the proposed budget is based on as assumed $20 million increase in the city's equalized tax base.

If the tax base goes up as assumed, the proposed budget would not require a tax rate hike to finance.

★ ★ ★

If the tax base falls short of his current estimate, Warren said he would trim the budget rather than consider a tax rate hike.

FEB. 1 DEADLINE

The budget, which is to be adopted before Feb. 1, is subject to revision in June when the city's equalized tax base has been established by the county and approved by the State Tax Commission.

Warren has estimated the city's equalized valuation will rise to $406 million in 1966. The equalized tax base last year was $386 million.

The proposed budget provides pay raises totaling $290,000 for most of the city's 750 employes and also gives some relief to the city's hard-pressed police department.

★ ★ ★

The police department appropriation is hiked $128,315 over 1965.

MAIN REASONS

Ten new patrolmen and added in-service training are the two main reasons for the increase.

In addition, capital outlay expenditures proposed for 1966 include the purchase of 13 new police cars.

Other general fund increases include $250,000 for general government expenses; $71,558 for state trunk lines, major and local streets; $16,238 for library services; $32,670 for parks and recreation; and $77,257 for public service facilities.

★ ★ ★

Increased personnel and pay raises were listed as the main hikes in the total budget. Warren said a total of 11 new employes are provided in the proposed budget.

CITY PENSIONS

City employe pensions will cost an added $60,367 in 1966.

Most city departments maintain the same level of spending as in the 1965 budget, allowing for the increased salaries.

TOM CHAVEZ JR.

Latin Group Elects Officers

Tom Chavez Jr. of 122 W. Fairmount has been reelected president of the Latin Americans United on Political Action (LAUPA).

Elected vice president of the organization of Latin American residents of the Pontiac area was Clemente Flores of 13 Myra.

Chavez is a member of the Mexican-American community and Flores the Puerto Rican community which respectively are the predominant Latin factors in the area.

Other officers reelected were Miss Mary Ramirez, recording secretary; Mrs. Velma Nevarez, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Delphine Hernandez, treasurer.

Still other officers are Mrs. Dolores Chavez and John Mata, sergeants at arms; Lorenzo G. Ramos, parliamentarian; and Jose Villabol and Frank Rosado, executive board members at large.

The White House spokesman said the three — Yale Professor Staughton Lynd and two others — were "incompletely informed" in asserting that there had been no direct U.S. government contact with Hanoi.

Moyers said it was a "safe deduction" that there had been direct contact.

Moyers also said U.S. Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman is going to Saigon, but he didn't know what the response would be if Harriman were invited to Hanoi.

Shastri Dies After Signing Peace Pact

★ ★ ★

Ayub said he was "profoundly shaken and grieved" by Shastri's death and had been "greatly impressed by his sincerity and dedication" during their week of meetings in Tashkent.

FLAG LOWERED

The national flag was half-staffed on all government buildings in Pakistan, and Ayub ordered his commerce minister and defense adviser, Ghulam Faruque, to represent him at the funeral.

Shastri died at 1:32 a.m. — 2:32 p.m. EST Monday — in the villa where he was staying outside Tashkent. Aides said he had dined alone at 10:30 p.m., telephoned his family in New Delhi, and went to bed half an hour later but could not sleep.

At about 1:20 a.m., the prime minister was seized by a coughing spell and staggered into the hall crying, "Doctor, doctor." His staff, packing to leave Tashkent today, put their chief back to bed and summoned his personal physician Dr. R.N. Chugh.

His staff, packing to leave Tashkent today, put their chief back to bed and summoned his personal physician Dr. R. N. Chugh. The doctor said Shastri lost consciousness three minutes later and stopped breathing at 1:32. A team of eight Soviet physicians joined in unsuccessful attempts to revive the Indian leader.

HEART ATTACK

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that death was due to a heart attack. Shastri had had serious heart attacks in 1959, before becoming prime minister, and another a month after succeeding Nehru.

Shastri had seemed in good spirits earlier in the evening when he and Ayub Khan were Kosygin's guests at a reception. He smiled and clapped at a brief program of music and dances.

Indian Defense Minister Y.B. Chavan said the prime minister, during the automobile ride back to the villa, said, "We must fight bravely for peace as we fought in the conflict."

Shastri and Ayub in their "Declaration of Tashkent" agreed to eliminate many of the aftereffects of the conflict between their two nations last fall, but they solved no basic problems. They left unsettled their quarrel over Kashmir, which has provoked two wars in Asia in the past 18 years.

Big GI Forces Mop Up Cong Hideouts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large forces of disappointed U.S. troops mopped up today in two big Viet Cong hideouts northwest of Saigon and in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier after the bulk of guerrillas once more had escaped into the jungles.

★ ★ ★

For U.S. officers the operation by more than 8,000 Americans and Australians 35 miles from the capital was particularly annoying.

Although they raised the Viet Cong death toll to 84 and captured 38 in the four days of Operation Crimp, they had hoped for far better results from the biggest American offensive of the war.

Their goal was to snare a Communist regiment on the edge of the Iron Triangle, an old guerrilla redoubt that has been Communist territory since the days of the French Indochina war.

★ ★ ★

But only rear-guard elements put up a fight while the main enemy force vanished.

BRISK FIGHT

Paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade took on one guerrilla band in a brisk fight yesterday and killed 29 Communists, U.S. spokesmen reported. Another 16 bodies were found after an air attack.

Soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division killed six more guerrillas in a 20-minute gun battle when the Reds tried to protect a large tunnel containing 16 bales of cotton and six tons of rice.

While U.S. troops explored a maze of tunnels underneath more than 100 houses in the area, soldiers of the Royal Australian Regiment reported killing three Viet Cong in small actions in the afternoon and finding five more bodies.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. spokesman reported "only light, sporadic contact in the whole battle area."

8-DAY HUNT

Equally frustrating was an eight-day search for guerrillas by the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division in the central highlands on the Cambodian frontier, not far from the Ia Drang Valley where the flying horsemen battled it out with North Vietnamese regulars last November.

This time the Communists hurriedly pulled out, abandoning four rest camps capable of accommodating 3,000 guerrillas. The cavalry men destroyed the camps.

The operation netted eight Communists captured.

★ ★ ★

Some of the captives were identified as members of the 32nd and 66th North Vietnamese regular regiments.

CHINESE GUNS

There also were reports that an antiaircraft battalion with 18 Chinese machine guns had been in the area.

As the Americans crashed into one campsite, they saw a squad of armed men in a patch quilt of khaki and black uniforms flee across the Tongle San River, the border with Cambodia 40 miles west of Pleiku.

A big cooking kettle still simmered. A Viet Cong brigadier general left behind a small satchel with a single star pinned to it and his toothbrush and paste inside.

★ ★ ★

Operation Ripping Mustang brought the 1st Cavalrymen within 100 feet of the Cambodian border, and some of the 1st Cavalry's helicopters swooped down on the river to sink a Communist sampan.

AVOID BORDER

Heretofore, the American troops were under orders to keep at last three miles from the border to avoid charges from Cambodia of territory violation.

In most areas, the border is poorly defined in the thick forests.

As a sergeant stood on the river bank in a clearing, he pointed to caves on the Cambodian side and said: "I'll bet Charlie (the Viet Cong) is watching us from over there."

★ ★ ★

At some spots the river is 50 feet wide.

BOAT SINKS

The helicopters fired rockets and machine guns at a sampan comouflaged with vegetation in the river, and Lt. Col. Kenneth Mertel of Eugene, Ore., the battalion commander, said secondary explosions erupted as the boat sank.

Only light contact with the enemy was reported today.

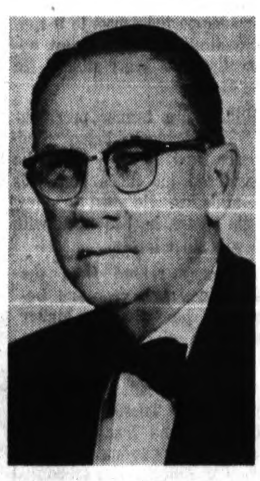

South Vietnamese troops fared little better in hunting the Viet Cong.

★ ★ ★

A battalion dropped by helicopter on an area 10 miles northeast of Hong Ngu, which is four miles from Cambodia, but failed to locate any sizable enemy force. The 3rd battalion of the Vietnamese 15th infantry expeeted to flush out guerrilla bands in the operation. Instead, it only came upon a squad.

ROBERT R. ELDRED

DONALD B. WHITFIELD

Unit Heads Named in Hospital Drive

Robert R. Eldred, executive vice president of Community National Bank of Pontiac, and Donald B. Whitfield, a Birmingham realtor, will serve as co-chairmen of the public phase of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital building fund campaign, it was announced today by E. M. Estes, chairman of the fund.

The public campaign opens March 16 and will run through March 31. Some 800 volunteers will carry the hospital's story to the thousands of families in the communities served by the hospital.

They will be seeking subscriptions to complete the $3.25-million building fund goal.

★ ★ ★

Eldred will be assisted in the Pontiac area by six division chairmen who will each organize five teams of 10 members.

PONTIAC MAYOR

These include Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., Bruce J. Annett, Edward B. Barker Jr., William J. Dean Sr., Richard C. Fitzpatrick and Glenn H. Griffin.

In the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area, C. Walter Frederick of Bloomfield Hills has been enlisted to help Whitfield put together 10 divisions of five teams each.

Leading these divisions are David G. Booth, Louis T. Hagopian, A. R. Marzelli, Charles B. Neely and Mrs. Reginald M. Stock, all of Bloomfield Hills; Clarence G. Clohset, Mrs. Asa Drury and William F. Gray of Birmingham; and Robert W. Mason of Royal Oak and Donald W. Sherman of Orchard Lake.

Estes said he was extremely gratified by the willingness of those who have agreed to serve and stressed the importance of the public campaign.

ROLE CITED

"These 800 volunteers we are going to recruit will play a vital role in our efforts to make possible a greater St. Joseph Mercy Hospital," he noted.

In a year-end report to the hospital's lay advisory board, Estes reported that the advance committees would continue to follow-up those assignments that had not been completed, although their work is nearly finished.

He also revealed that the building fund had passed the $2 million mark and that a little more than $1 million was yet to be secured.

Sukarno Ejects U.S. Newsmen

Must Quit Indonesia for Printing of 'Lies'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno today ordered all American correspondents expelled from Indonesia.

Sukarno issued the order in a speech at a ceremony installing the new Indonesian ambassador to Syria H.M. Sudjono.

★ ★ ★

The president said he had decided to expel American correspondents from Indonesia in retaliation for lies being written in the American press about the current Indonesian political crisis.

★ ★ ★

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Antoine Yared of the Associated Press is a Lebanese.

"They also say," Sukarno declared, "that (Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris) Nasution has become supreme commander of Koti (the Supreme Operations Command). I am still the supreme commander of Koti.

★ ★ ★

"Go to hell with your lies," he added.

Sukarno then turned to First Deputy Premier Subandrio, who is also foreign minister, and said:

"I order you, Subandrio, to kick out all American correspondents from Indonesia. This is our country. We do not want foreign correspondents writing untrue things about Indonesia."

Budget Listed at $9.2 Million

will bring in $4,060,000 or $196,844 more than last year.

★ ★ ★

Revenue from the state in 1966 is expected to top last year by $151,085. This includes $67,000 more return on the state's sales tax and a $99,029 reimbursement from the state under the new tax provisions for tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

OTHER INCREASES

Other projected revenue increases this year include $25,394 in added fees for various city permits and $137,338 in increased return on the miscellaneous sale of city services and commodities.

In the latter category is the sale of street lighting, revenue from food concessions and cemetery services.

Increased income from city permits is projected on new schedules of fees to be presented in the near future for City Commission approval.

★ ★ ★

The total 1966 city tax levy, including general operations, sanitation and waste collection, capital improvements and debts, is to net $5,661,955 or $149,368 over last year.

SANITATION FUND

The total sanitation fund appropriation is down $30,195 from 1965. However, city officials have budgeted $120,600 for new waste collection equipment.

Supported by its own millage, the sanitation fund tax levy is expected to drop slightly in 1966 from 1965 when the city budgeted $227,500 for purchase of a new sanitary landfill site.

Also supported through separate millage (1.5 mills), the capital improvement fund this year is expected to total $609,000 or $31,527 over 1965.

★ ★ ★

This results primarily from the projected increased tax base.

OBLIGATION BONDS

The appropriation to cover 1966 payments on the city's two sets of general obligation bonds is slightly under 1965.

City officials have proposed a total of $390,000 for debt service, compared to $408,000 last year.

Supported by their own revenues from service charges, the water and sewage treatment funds are increased in the proposed budget.

The proposed 1966 water department fund of $2.2 million is $278,050 higher than in 1965.

According to Warren, the proposed budget carries a contingency of only $37,014 in the important general operating fund, which totals over $7.6 million.

16 Improvement Projects Get Priority in Program

BIRMINGHAM — A capital improvement program estimated at $950,000 was accepted by the City Commission last night with instructions to proceed immediately in carrying it out.

In adopting the plan, the commission gave priority to 16 projects, the most expensive being the acquisition of property on Oakland and construction of a boulevard from Woodward to Hunter. The cost has been estimated at $400,000.

Included in the program are the paving of Chester from Martin to Brown and widening of Chester from Maple to Willits; widening of Forest from Woodward to Hunter; improvement of the Maple-Adams intersection; improvement of Southfield from Maple south; and the paving of Haynes from Columbia to Eton

Intersection improvements also are planned for the northwest corner of Lincoln and Woodward, northwest corner of Oak and Woodward; and at Brown and Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Other projects include repair of the Lincoln bridge; repainting of the Hunter and Eton elevated water tanks; construction of the Springdale storm sewer and a police pistol range; acquisition of the Millrace property along Quarton Lake and acquisition of right of way on Southfield on the west side from Merrill to Brown.

CITY ENGINEER

City Engineer William T. Killeen said the program will tax his department, but that it should be started on the premise that the engineering department can handle all phases of the work.

He said that if anytime it appears outside help is needed to complete the program in 1966, he would make a recommendation to the commission.

The awarding of a contract for construction of the city's first parking structure was delayed for a week while architects evaluate bids.

★ ★ ★

The 566-car facility is to be built on the present L-shaped surface parking lot fronting on Woodward and Willits.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing on the closing of Oakland, between Worth and Adams, was adjourned until Feb. 14.

The postponement was recommended by City Manager Robert S. Kenning to allow the administration to negotiate an agreement with the Birmingham School Board for payment of intersection improvements at Adams School.

The commission directed the administration to draft a resolution to be sent to the Oakland County Road Commission regarding safety factors at the Maple-Telegraph intersection.

Though the intersection is outside Birmingham, commissioners said they owed it to city residents who travel the roads to ask that something be done about the hazardous intersection.

'65 Building Up 60 Pct. in Waterford

Last year's building upsurge in Waterford Township, which showed gains of nearly 60 per cent in estimated valuation, was capped by issuance of 53 permits in December for new construction worth $888,183.

★ ★ ★

Total estimated valuation of new construction for which permits were issued in 1965 was $15,032,037 compared with $9,048,829 in 1964, according to a report presented to Township Board members last night.

December's figures included issuance of 19 housing permits for construction valued at $349,356 and five commercial permits for construction worth $322,800.

Included among the commercial permits were Pontiac State Bank buildings on Dixie Highway ($139,000) and West Huron ($111,000) and an office and storage facility on M59 ($50,000).

★ ★ ★

In addition, a permit for construction valued at $150,000 was issued for the J. L. Hudson Co. addition at Pontiac Mall, Telegraph at Elizabeth Lake Road.

Last month's total exceeded the December 1964 figure by $574,716. There were 50 permits issued in December 1964 for construction valued at $313,476.

Action Slated on Bond Plan

Would Go for School Additions, Changes

Pontiac Board of Education members tomorrow night are scheduled to act on a $1.2-million bond proposal for financing school construction.

Funds from the bond sale will be used to erect and equip additions to school buildings, to remodel existing school buildings and to acquire sites for future building.

The bonds would mature each May 1 from 1967 through 1970.

In other business, the board will consider an administrative recommendation authorizing the school district to enter an agreement with Oakland County Schools for data processing services.

★ ★ ★

Cost of the arrangement to the Pontiac school system for the balance of this year and the 1966-67 year will be $24,710.

HEARINGS SET

Dates of hearings set by the State Mediation Board on various petitions filed by the board of education will be announced.

A hearing petitioned by the school district involving the Pontiac Education Association and Pontiac Federation of Teachers is slated for 10 a.m. Monday.

Scheduled for Feb. 9 at 10 a.m. will be hearings involving the school district, the Detroit Building Trades Council, school cafeteria managers and Metropolitan Council No. 23 AFSE & ME Union, (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

Two issues will be decided at the hearings to be held at 1400 Cadillac Square Bldg., Detroit.

One is the composition of bargaining units and the other is who will represent the bargaining units that have been determined.

Worker Foils Station Break-In

A 29-year-old Springfield Township service station attendant thwarted an attempted break-in last night, and assisted State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies in apprehension of two suspects.

Deputies said Larry Seaton of 9626 Dixie Highway aided in the arrest of two Yale, Mich., youths when he fired a 30.30 rifle at the suspects' car when they attempted to escape.

Held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of attempted breaking and entering are Fred P. Passalacqua, 20, and Charles Lisek, 18.

Robert Clark, owner of Clark Standard Service at 9757 Dixie, Springfield Township, told deputies he was working inside the station around midnight when he heard the rear door to the building being kicked in.

★ ★ ★

Clark phoned Seaton, who lives nearby, and then called police.

ARRIVES FIRST

Seaton arrived at the scene first. He told deputies Passalacqua fled into a field and Lisek ran to a car near the station.

Seaton fired one shot through the car's windshield, then held Lisek until the arival of deputies and State Police troopers.

★ ★ ★

Passalacqua returned to the car upon hearing the shot and seeing that Lisek had been caught, Seaton said.

U.S. Official Says Draft Can't Be a Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official said in a letter made public today that the draft laws cannot be used to muffle any "constitutionally protected" expression of views — such as student protests against U.S. actions in Viet Nam.

The letter, from Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., was made public by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who had protested Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's action to reclassify as 1A a number of University of Michigan youths involved in a draft board sit-in.

★ ★ ★

Hershey had told Hart in a letter that he was authorized by a presidential executive order to reclassify men "found to be delinquent under the Selective Service Act."

Hart had asked the Justice Department to comment on that.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Vinson said in his letter that "we know of no executive order or of any pronouncement by this department indicating either concurrence or disagreement with the views expessed in General Hershey's letter or in the action taken by the (Selective Service) System."

Vinson added that "I am satisfied, as a matter of both law and policy, that sanctions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act cannot be used to stifle constitutionally protected expressions of views.

★ ★ ★

"In short, where opinion is expressed, if there is no transgression of law, then no sanctions can be imposed. If there is a transgression, then the sanctions which attach to it are all that should be applied."

The sit-in students were convicted of trespass under an Ann Arbor, Mich., ordinance. But Hart said in his statement, "No court ever ruled that the Selective Service Act was violated—only Gen. Hershey. And he cites as his authority an executive order that the Justice Department says is nonexistent."

Last month, without referring directly to the Michigan incident, Hershey had said:

MUST DISTINGUISH

"We must always distinguish between young men who engage in a legal demonstration of political views, and those who express those views by willfully violating the Selective Service law . . .

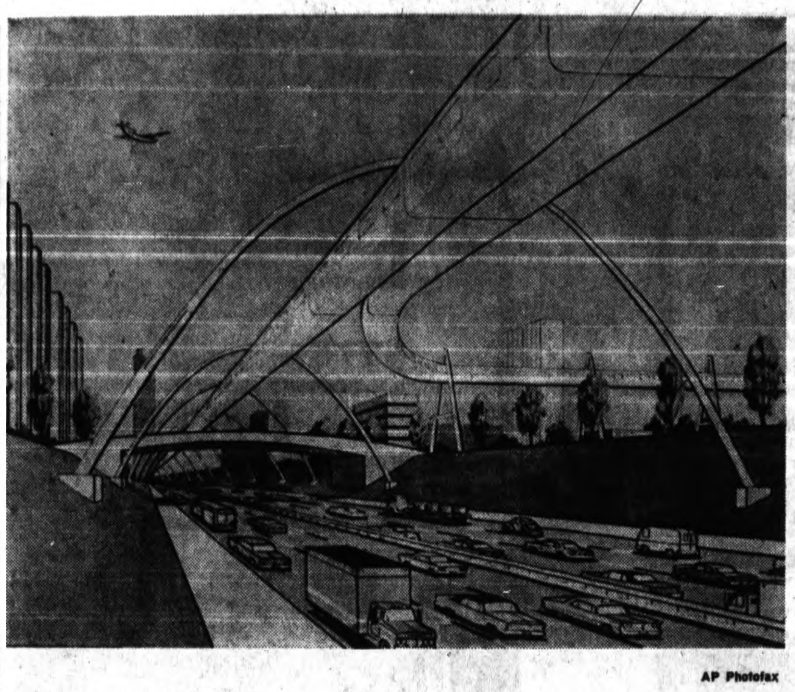

"To my knowledge, registrants have not been declared delinquent, with the resulting accelerated processing, because of participation in legal demonstrations of political views, nor has any such action been proposed by Selective Service officials.

★ ★ ★

"Even in cases of deliberate violation of the Selective Service law, the decision as to whether registrants should be declared delinquent is left to the local board."

Last weekend, the American Veterans Committee asked that Hershey be replaced. In a letter to President Johnson, the committee said he has condoned local draft boards using classifications to punish young men for disagreeing with U.S. policy on Viet Nam.

"Of course, that's a matter of opinion," Hershey said. "I deny it. I don't know anything about Viet Nam policy."

RAPID TRANSIT PLAN — This is an artist's drawing of the Teletron system for rapid transit in a city. Stainless steel tubes are suspended from spindles over a roadway and one-man cars travel in the tube electrically. The cars carry no crew and the destination of the car is predetermined by a computer card. Detroit's Common Council has agreed to an experimental construction and the project only awaits federal funds.

Detroit Computer Transit Plan Detailed

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — Imagine a public transit system where the customer walks up to a computer, selects a ticket for his destination and climbs aboard a one-man car to be whisked to a station near his home.

Futuristic? Absolutely not, say its sponsors who insist the system is close to reality.

★ ★ ★

They have obtained a go-ahead from Detroit Common (City) Council to build the nation's first experimental Teletron system and are awaiting federal government final approval of a $2 million grant to underwrite most of the project.

Details of the streamlined transit system were given Monday to delegates at the Society of Automotive Engineers convention.

BEST METHOD

Marvin Stevens president of Teletrons, Inc., of Detroit, said that while the system could be constructed underground, the preferred method would be to have it elevated some 20 to 60 feet above the roadway.

★ ★ ★

The passenger cars would travel inside a stainless steel tubing held aloft by spindle legs. Stations for the transit system would be only a block or two apart in congested areas so passengers would not have to go far to get a ride.

SELECTS TICKETS

SAE delegates heard Stevens explain that the customer, after dropping his fare in the box and selecting the computer punched ticket, would climb aboard the one-man vehicle and be on his way nonstop to his station.

Stevens said individual cars would be fed automatically from from the various stations into the main flow of traffic in the tube and would proceed at a 45 mile an hour clip along the electrically-powered aluminum-coated tube.

★ ★ ★

"When the car gets to the proper station, it is dropped off to the siding automatically and the customer climbs out after a solo trip," he said.

"We figure the overhead Teletron system can be built for about $2.1 million a mile, compared with $10 million for a freeway and $20 million for a subway," he told SAE.

He said projected fares would be less than comparable bus lines.

★ ★ ★

Stevens said the individual transit car would be about four feet high and eight feet long and could be operated for about a cent a mile. It would get its power via a metallic feeler which would make contact with electric current in the track inside the tube.

"The current is not as strong as that of a third rail in a regular subway and you could even touch it with wet feet and not get much of a shock," he said.

★ ★ ★

Best estimates were that the Teletron system could handle about 9,000 cars an hour under ordinary conditions and could surge to 17,000 if needed. That would compare with the 7,000 autos an hour handled on Detroit's John Lodge freeway at peak times.

INTRACITY TRAVEL

While some of the papers at SAE's workshop on public transit problems dealt with intercity runs, the Teletron project was designed only for intracity travel. It is almost completely automated, with the computerized ticket seller, no motorman and no ticket takers.

Stevens hardly blinked an eyelash when an SAE member asked if he envisoned a time when the private Teletron car would drop a customer off right in his front yard.

"Oh, that's at least a hundred years away," he said.

After 'Ipcress File'

Caine Being Treated Like Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "It's amazing to think that one could put on glasses and an ill-fitting suit and become a star."

THOMAS

Michael Caine is indeed being treated like a star on his first trip to Hollywood. He has been guest of honor at glittering parties given by two studios. He has been squiring some of the town's most noted glamour girls, from Carol Lynley to Natalie Wood. He is costarring with Shirley MacLaine in "Gambit."

All this is entirely gratifying but not overwhelming to the chap whose father was a fish-market porter and whose mother was a London charwoman.

What made the change in his life was a sleeper called "The Ipcress File." Caine played with utter conviction the most reluctant of spies, Harry Palmer. The role was epitomized by his horn-rimmed glasses, which gave Caine a look of owlish innocence.

CLOSELY IDENTIFIED

"The glasses were my idea," said the actor. "I knew if the character caught on, I would be closely identified with it. The glasses would give me a gimmick, a trademark. I could discard them for other roles, and not be so identified.

"I didn't want to fall into the trap that Sean Connery faces with James Bond. He has to escape the Bond identity by wearing a mustache, as he did in 'The Hill.'"

Harry Palmer did indeed catch on, and Caine is assigned to make three more in the series. His producer, Harry Saltzman, who also makes the Bond films, quickly signed Caine to a new five-year contract.

"I didn't particularly want to be tied up," said the actor, "so I established conditions that I considered ridiculous. To my astonishment, they were accepted. Poor Harry Saltzman has more money than he knows what to do with. His own personal share of the Bond pictures should be at least 10 million."

3 FILMS IN YEAR

Within the space of a year, Caine had filmed "Ipcress," as well as "Alfie" for Paramount and "The Wrong Box" for Columbia. Yet he is not dazzled by his success.

"I'm 32," he said by way of explanation. "That's pretty old to make it as an actor in England."

It wasn't because he didn't try. Throughout his twenties, he sought to make a living as an actor, "but it was a rotten living much of the time." Between roles he took any job he could find.

"One of my best jobs was making fruit pies in a bakery," he recalled.

NO PROBLEM

He has no problem about future work. After "Gambit," he films another Harry Palmer, the best-selling "Funeral in Berlin."

Junior Editors Quiz on 20TH CENTURY

QUESTION: Why do we say we live in the 20th century, when it's only 1965?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The picture will help you understand. Remember that a century has 100 years, and that our modern period, or Christian Era, starts with the year 1, the year Christ was born.

This year 1, A.D. (A.D. means "anno Domini", in the year of our Lord) began on Jan. 1, and, to be a full year, ran to Dec. 31.

To be a full century, the 1st century had to have 100 of such years, so it ended on Dec. 31, 100 A.D. In the same way, the 2nd century, also of a hundred years, would end on Dec. 31, 200 A.D.

But notice that the number 2 would not be used to start one of these 2nd century dates until the last year of the 2nd century — the one before that being 199 A.D.

Coming down to our own 20th century in the same way, we find it started on Jan. 1 of 1901. The 20 number will not start any of its dates until the last year of this century, which will be the year 2000.

After that, the year 2001 will start the 21st century, which will run until Dec. 31, 2100 A.D. What will life be like in those times of the future?

It is impossible to say; yet it seems reasonable to suppose that young people will go on asking interesting questions, and we imagine there will be someone to reply to them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: To the lower right, our artist has drawn an imaginative concept of what a space-age costume might look like at the end of this century. Draw your own idea of young peoples' costumes about the year 2000 A.D.

Pick 3 Agents for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today designated three firms to help administer the hospital insurance part of the Medicare program.

The firms, which will receive and pay bills under the program, are the Blue Cross Association of Chicago, Aetna Life and Casualty Co., and Travelers Insurance Co., both of Hartford, Conn. They will serve as agents for the government on a nonprofit basis.

★ ★ ★

The announcement, issued by John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, did not say which hospitals would be represented by each of the intermediary firms.

Gardner said, however, that hospitals not desiring to be represented by one of the three firms may make other nominations or deal directly with the Social Security Administration.

IS REQUIRED

The selection of intermediaries is required by the Medicare legislation. The selections must be based on the nominations of groups or associations of hospitals or individual hospitals, and upon the judgment of the Social Security Administration that the organizations are well-qualified and will assure efficient operation of the medicare program.

"The skills and experience of these three organizations," Gardner said, "represent a valuable asset to the government. Their participation with us in carrying out this program marks the beginning of great promise."

★ ★ ★

Gardner cautioned that the deadline for persons who were 65 by Jan. 1 to enroll for the voluntary medical care program is March 31. He urged those who want this coverage and have not yet applied to do so as quickly as possible.

Smog Control Device Eyed

No Problem for Auto Owners---Engineers

DETROIT (AP)—The auto exhaust control device of the near future won't cause the car owner any problems.

A green taillight might be preferable to red for some reasons, but red likely will stay.

★ ★ ★

These were some of the points brought out at automobile and petroleum engineer conferences Monday.

Experts at a smog control seminar in connection with the Society of Automotive Engineers convention agreed that emission controls won't make much difference in car operation or maintenance.

'68 CARS

The controls, expected on all 1968 model cars, may make a difference of 2 to 3 per cent in startup acceleraton. But the fuel loss will be virtually negligible, it was said.

Green and red taillights were discussed by Dr. Ingeborg Schmidt of Indiana University's Division of Optometry and Dr. Paul L. Connolly, General Motors visual consultant. The Automotive Engineering Congress heard from the two.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Schmidt said green might reduce the number of rearend collisions. A driver can judge the distance of green better, she said.

However, she said red should be retained. To everybody, she said, red suggests danger.

FAVORS RED

Dr. Connolly supported red for the same reason. He also said red, among other advantages, penetrates clear atmosphere better.

Dr. Schmidt stressed the importance of quick perceptions in driving.

★ ★ ★

The time it takes for the eye to react to a message from the brain is one-tenth of a second, she said. She said a great deal might happen in a tenth of a second for a fast-moving car.

Actress Nixes GOP Invitation to Be Candidate

DALLAS (UPI) — Actress Greer Garson turned down yesterday an invitation from Texas Republicans to run for Congress.

★ ★ ★

The Dallas County Republicans asked Miss Garson to run against incumbent Rep. Earle Cabell, D-Tex., in the 1966 elections.

Miss Garson, who won an Academy Award for her performance in "Mrs. Miniver," is the wife of Dallas oilman E. E. (Buddy) Fogelson.

★ ★ ★

She wrote the GOP that she had decided to decline the offer after "many hours thinking about the demands of the office, both idealistic and practical, assessing my background, training, experience, public image and total suitability for this new field."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of 15 articles by Josephine Lowman which tells how to lose up to 20 pounds in eight weeks. Today she suggests how to determine the number of pounds you should lose. Save the menus and exercises for continued use during the eight weeks.)

Sometimes I think that OVERWEIGHT should be spelled EVERWEIGHT because overweights often wait forever to lose those extra pounds. Believe me, I am not being unsympathetic. I, myself, must constantly battle the bulge.

★ ★ ★

I know! You had a sick child, unexpected guests arrived, you lead an active social life. All sorts of minor crises occurred and you just couldn't do what you had planned to do about your figure.

Do it now or you will never do it! The tomorrows will be the same if you live an active, busy life.

★ ★ ★

I am currently bringing you my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (B. I. P.) to help. It is easier to stick to a reducing program when you know what you can accomplish in a given length of time. In just eight weeks, you can lose from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your hair and complexion and increase your energy and self-confidence. The weeks fly by. Why not give yourself this break?

TO DIRECT YOU

If you would like to join tens of thousands of other women in this adventure to see how much you can improve your appearance in eight weeks, read "WHY GROW OLD" carefully for the next seven days. I will be here to direct you and after that, I will give one day a week to reinforce your reducing efforts until the eight weeks are up.

First, you must decide what your ideal weight is. How many pounds should you lose? There are several factors which enter into this calculation. There is, of course, your height. Then, there is your frame or bony structure. Is it small, medium or heavy?

This is somewhat difficult for a woman to determine but the following ideas will be helpful. Remember that a woman may be very short and yet have heavy bones while another may be tall and have a light, delicate frame.

If you are athletic and have unusually well-developed muscles, you can weigh a few pounds more without being overweight.

BIRTHDAY SUIT

You can often get a fairly accurate idea of what kind of a frame you have by standing in front of a mirror in your birthday suit. However, this is more difficult when overweight is present because of the padding.

Also observe your shoulders, pelvis, knees, and ankle bones. It is entirely possible for a woman to have small wrists and thick ankles or broad shoulders. However, if your bones seem heavy at all of the places, you probably have a large frame.

Analyze yourself and consult the weight and height chart below. Now, we are really ready to GO! Begin following the menus which I am printing for a starter.

An Inside Start

In removing a stain from clothing, you'll find that if you work from the center of the stain to the outside, you will less likely leave a ring. Barely dampen the sponging pad and take extra care when sponging around the edges of the stain.

Worth It All

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Teachers at Bear Lake Elementary School went beyond the call of duty for the PTA school improvement fund. They provided a "Douse Your Teacher" concession for the school's annual fall carnival. Teachers sat in chairs in the middle of a tank. For a fee, pupils were allowed to throw balls into the tank in an attempt to douse the teachers.
