Grim Reception Committee

CROWD GREETS MIKOYAN — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan faced this hostile reception when he landed at Willow Run Airport this morning to begin his visit to Detroit. Many of the pickets were Hungarians who were protesting the treatment of Hungarians who rebelled against the Soviet rule two years ago.

15 Children, Woman Die as Flames Sweep Home

BOSWELL, Okla. (AP) — Fifteen children and an adult died today in a roaring fire in a four-room wooden home.

All the bodies except that of one child were piled on and around a bed in a rear room which had no outside door.

Apparently someone pushed the one child out a window but the child was dead.

The victims were Sara Gardner, 38; her 10 children; three orphaned nieces; and two visiting nephews from Oklahoma City.

Booker Gardner, the father, had been away hunting.

Almost in shock and his face haggard, Gardner, a Negro, walked about aimlessly, apparently unable to comprehend immediately the disaster which struck his family.

He said that when he started home from his hunting trip before dawn this morning, "I felt sorta funny."

He received the news at the farm home of Vernon Love, who drove him to the disaster scene.

Gardner told Tony Price, reporter of the Paris (Tex.) News, that he started on a hunt about 7:30 o'clock last night and hunted all night. Hunting with him was a nephew from Oklahoma City, who was visiting in the home.

Gardner is a day laborer in this southern Oklahoma town of about 1,000 population.

He listed the victims as:

His wife; their 10 children: Juanita, 15; Easter, 13; Isaac, 11; Larry, 9; Louise, 8; Gwen, 7; Ornie, 5; John Anthony 2; and Patricia Ann and Patricia Jan, 6-week-old twins; and three nieces and two nephews.

★ ★ ★

The nieces, children of Mrs. Gardner's sister, May Ruth Haddix were: Bobbie Woolbright, 11; Peggy Sue Ward, 10; and Linda Fay Ward, 4. Mrs. Haddix was killed in an automobile accident last spring.

The two nephews, visiting from Oklahoma City, were: Hershel Frazier, 9, and Freddie Webb, 12.

The volunteer fire department could only use a pumper truck because no hydrant was within usable distance.

Constable J. B. Richburg said the roof had collapsed before firemen arrived.

Gardner said when he left for his hunting trip, two stoves, burning wood, were in use. Richburg said he believed the disaster was caused by the stoves. He said the family apparently panicked when the fire was discovered and ran into one room.

The temperature at the time was about 40 degrees.

The nephew hunting with Boswell was John Stewart, Oklahoma City.

Johnson Ready for Showdown on Filibuster

Dem Leader Confident His Compromise Will Beat Stiffer Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said today he is agreeable to a quick showdown on a move to substitute a stiffer proposal for his own compromise antifilibuster plan.

The Texan's offer indicated he is confident of mustering the votes to beat back a counterattack planned by strategists for a bipartisan bloc of senators advocating a tougher clampdown on filibusters.

Johnson outflanked them Wednesday by advancing his compromise at the opening of the new Senate session before they had a chance to offer their own proposal.

As the Senate plunged into the rules scrap today, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), the assistant majority leader, defended Johnson against charges of highhanded tactics.

Mansfield said there had been "talk of hijacking and blackjacking" because Johnson had jumped the gun on the bipartisan coalition by acting first.

But Mansfield said he wanted to make it clear that Johnson's move would not prevent the Senate from voting on any and all alternate proposals for revising the Senate's antifilibuster rule.

In the background of the filibuster fight is the simmering row over civil rights legislation and the issue of racial segregation. The long-talk device has been employed by minorities against other measures, but Southern senators fighting race law proposals have placed greatest reliance on the strategy of talking until the opposition gave up.

But Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) insisted the anti-filibuster coalition is far from licked.

Year-End Car Sales Set Record

DETROIT (UPI) — New car sales during the last 10 days of December established a new record for 1958 and compared favorably with the best periods of 1957, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

★ ★ ★

The industry's statistical agency said sales from Dec. 21 through Dec. 31 totaled 173,300 units, or 21,660 units per day. The daily rate for the previous days of December was 18,100 and the previous 1958 high was 18,514 daily set in the last 10 days of November.

In the last 10 days of 1957, sales averaged 19,525 units a day, 11 per cent below 1958's last 10 days.

Ward's said the year-end windup gave the industry 490,000 new car sales for December, compared with 473,200 in the same month of 1957, and kept dealer inventories well below the year-end level in 1957.

Waves at Crowd

RED LEADER ARRIVES — Waving as he faces a barrage of newsmen, Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan steps from the plane at Willow Run, after a flight from Cleveland.

President Asks Mikoyan Be Treated With Courtesy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower asked today that Americans receive Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan with "traditional courtesy" on his current U.S. tour.

The President made known his displeasure over hostile receptions given Mikoyan by anti-Soviet demonstrators in Cleveland and Detroit.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had read reports of "rock-throwing, egg-throwing and spitting" in Cleveland and of the assembly of 500 demonstrators at Detroit.

Hagerty said the President asked him to make this statement:

"The President hopes that wherever he goes in this country, Mr. Mikoyan will be met with the courtesy Americans traditionally show visitors from abroad.

"The President wants Mr. Mikoyan to see the real America so that when he returns home, he will be able to convey an accurate picture of our good manners, as well as our strength, our confidence and determination in the cause of freedom and peace."

Asked if it was the President's position that vocal and physical protests against Mikoyan's presence did not accurately represent "the real America," Hagerty said he would not go beyond his statement.

Mikoyan left Washington yesterday on a 12-day cross-country tour that will take him to Los Angeles and San Francisco and back to the nation's capital Jan. 16. On his return, he will confer with Eisenhower and resume talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Party of Soviets Leaves Airport, Protests Behind

1st Stop on Whirlwind Tour of Detroit Made at Ford in Dearborn

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Russian Deputy Anastas Mikoyan out-flanked a group of anti-Soviet pickets on his arrival by plane today and immediately launched into a whirlwind tour of the motor city's automobile plants.

A group of about 50 placard-carrying pickets waiting for Mikoyan at Willow Run Airport were left without even a glimpse of the Soviet deputy premier and his party of Soviet officials.

The pickets paraded in a parking lot adjacent to the administration building at Willow Run, hoping to demonstrate as Mikoyan and his party left the airport by automobile.

But as soon as the Mikoyan plane touched down, it rolled to a giant hangar at the north end of the field, where Mikoyan and his party emerged and went directly into the hangar.

After a brief speech emphasizing "peace" to a gathering of newsmen, the Soviets entered three automobiles inside the hangar, swept out onto the skirt of the airfield, around the hangar and to a road leading to the expressway to Detroit.

First stop for the Mikoyan party in its whirlwind tour of automobile plants in the Detroit area was at the giant Ford complex in Dearborn.

Before going to the huge Rouge assembly plant, they stopped at the new 150 million dollar Ford scientific laboratry, engineering and research building, completed only a few months ago.

They were met and conducted on a tour through it by Dr. Andrew A. Kucher, Ford vice president of engineering and research.

A large force of police patrolled the field and administration building of the airport.

The pickets parading in the parking lot were composed of refugees from the Ukraine, Lithuania, Romania, Latvia and Hungary.

Some carried placards. One read "Whose blood will be next?" Another carried drawings

Mikoyan Brutal, Says Local Man

Former German War Correspondent Says Red Behind Mass Murders

"Brutal" is the way a Birmingham man describes Russia's First Deputy Premier, Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Peter Kalinke, a former German war correspondent who now lives at 977 Purdy St., gave his impressions of the Soviet leader yesterday before the Saginaw Rotary Club.

"Mikoyan is known to millions of people as one of the men who was actually responsible for the forceful migrations of many ethnic groups," said Kalinke.

It is ironic, Kalinke observed, that Mikoyan has been handing out candy to American children in supermarkets during his U.S. visit, because of the part he played in "mass murders" in Budapest, Hungary, during the 1956 revolt.

★ ★ ★

Captured by the advancing Red army in 1945, Kalinke spent three years at a Russian prison camp near the Persian border. Later he went from prison to Stalingrad as a brick layer before he was permitted to return to his native East Germany.

Kalinke eventually fled East Germany and sought refuge in this country.

Ike Will Take Program Directly to the People

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower mapped a campaign today to go over the head the heavily-Democratic Congress to sell his legislative program directly to the American people.

A top White House official disclosed that the chief executive was making arrangements to stump for his proposals through radio and television, press conferences, public speaking appearances and personal letters. No dates have been set.

Eisenhower discussed his campaign at an unannounced White House meeting Monday night with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn, Assistant GOP Chairman Mrs. Clare B. Williams and others.

The President will outline his legislative program formally in a series of messages to the House and Senate. He will deliver the first, his state of the union address, to a joint session of Congress tomorrow.

But the White House official indicated Eisenhower planned to go beyond this usual practice with his appeal-to-the-people. One of the chief themes the President will plug apparently will be his drive to curb government spending in the coming fiscal year with a balanced budget of 77 billion dollars.

When asked about the campaign, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said, "No decisions have been reached but the President naturally wants to get the story of his program out to the American people through all media, not just television."

On Capitol Hill, Republican congressional leaders struck back with cries of "politics" today against Democratic contentions that the Eisenhower administration is lagging behind in the space age.

In the opening round of what appeared likely to become a bristling two-party fight in the new Congress, Sens. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif) assailed the call of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for his party to seize national leadership from the White House.

Johnson told fellow Senate Democrats Wednesday there is a "deficit of vigor" in the Eisenhower administration. They therefore have a mandate to assume constructive leadership "beginning now, not two years hence," he added.

HERBERT STOUTENBURG JR.

Former Detroiter Named MSUO Admissions Head

Appointment of Herbert N. Stoutenburg Jr. as the fourth full-time member of the growing Michigan State University Oakland staff was announced today by D. B. Varner, MSU vice-president.

Besides setting up registration and record systems, Stoutenburg will coordinate scholarships and loan funds and cooperate with high school officials on admissions, said Varner, head of MSU's off-campus education.

Stoutenburg joins Roy Alexander, director of MSUO student affairs; George Karas, director of physical plant; and Dr. Lowell Eklund, head of continuing education.

Formerly an administrative assistant to the registrar at the East Lansing campus, Stoutenburg recently served two years in Vietnam as executive officer of the MSU Advisory Group there. He was president of the school board of the American Community School in Saigon.

An Air Force veteran of World War II, Stoutenburg was graduated from MSU in 1947 and received a master's degree there in 1953.

20 Executed After 'War Crime' Trials

Cuba Begins Purge of Batista Men

From Our News Wires

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia's regime carried out plans today for swift war crimes trials against followers of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista.

At least 20 police and military officers already have been executed by rebel forces following courts martial. Another 20 Batista followers have been reported executed by rebel militiamen without trials.

There are more than 1,300 suspected adherents of Batista presently held in the greater Havana area alone for investigation and possible presentation to "war crimes tribunals."

Those held include 800 police, 400 members of the army, and 100 persons held by militia of the University Students Federation (FEU). The army and police prisoners range in rank from private to major general. The students' prisoners are mostly civilians denounced by their compatriots.

Gunfire flared briefly in Havana again Wednesday night. Machineguns and other automatic weapons fired for about 15 minutes near the American-operated Nacional Hotel as rebel militia reportedly pursued several carloads of men who had been shooting at random in the streets.

The militia still is trying to eliminate diehard Batista supporters, including members of a private army called the Tigers which belonged to former Sen. Rolando Masferrer.

The government banned sales of alcoholic drinks in Havana today in expectation that rebel leader Fidel Castro finally would reach the capital. Officials hoped the ban would prevent heavy drinking that might add to the unstable security situation.

Castro reached Matanzas, 60 miles east of Havana, Wednesday on his slow progress through adoring crowds.

His 20-car column careened into Matanzas at breakneck speed and the rebel leader as usual was beseiged with people who wanted to cheer him and hear him speak.

Both the United States and Britain extended diplomatic recognition to Urrutia's government Wednesday. More than half a dozen Latin American nations had done so earlier.

Retired General Says Reds Plan to Defeat U.S.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A former commanding general of the Strategic Air Command says the Soviet Union "is going to try to take us some day. If Russia thought it could win hands down, they'd pull the trigger on us right now."

That blunt opinion was expressed by George C. Kenney, who retired as a four-star general in 1951.

"They might be able to take us now and we might be able to take them," Kenney told newsmen. "But if they tried it, we could get 300 of their cities and they don't want to risk that."

Service Slated for Dr. Merrill

Rite at Christ Church Set Friday for 24-Year Will-O-Way Resident

Service for Dr. William O. Merrill, 73, of Bloomfield Hills, former chief of staff at Highland Park General Hospital, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church Cranbrook. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

A native of Crystal Valley, Dr. Merrill had resided at Will-O-Way, the family estate at 775 W. Long Lake Rd., for the past 24 years.

He first practiced medicine in Lowell for five years, before becoming the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist at Highland Park General.

Dr. Merrill died Tuesday at Harper Hospital, Detroit. At the time of his death, he was head of an eye, ear, nose and throat clinic.

After graduating from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1909, Dr. Merrill studied at the University of Vienna.

He served with the U. S. Army as a captain in the Medical Corps during World War I.

He was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook and a life member of Birmingham Lodge 44 F&AM; Birmingham Chapter 93, Royal Lodge Masons; Scottish Rite Bodies; Moslem Temple, the Birmingham High Twelve Club and the Michigan Mineralogical Society.

He was a member of the Wayne Medical Assn., the American Medical Assn., and was a former director of the Junior Church of Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

Mrs. Merrill, the former Treesa Way, has been prominent in theatrical circles for many years and was at one time associated with the old Bonstelle Playhouse in Detroit.

The family has owned and operated the Will-O-Way Playhouse and Apprentice Theater in Bloomfield Hills for more than 20 years.

William W. Merrill, a son, is the producer and director at the playhouse, and a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Turner Jr., directs the Apprentice Theater.

Also surviving are two other daughters, Mrs. Edward F. Sikorski and Mrs. Carl H. Rice; a brother, Lowell of Fenton, and 12 grandchildren.

His body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. The family has suggested that memorial contributions be sent to World Medical Relief in care of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Titan Clamped Down, Tested for Readiness

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Engineers studied coded reports today on the captive test of an intercontinental Titan to determine if the fledgling missile is ready for its maiden flight in the next few days.

Flames belched from the base of the 90-foot weapon's bottom, or booster section, in the "hold-down" test last night while the rocket was clamped to its launching stand.

But it appeared the engine was shut off before it had developed full thrust in the preflight test. Clouds of liquid oxygen swirled about the missile, indicating a tank may have ruptured inside the big bird.

Ex-Batista Prisoner Heads for Capital

Edward W. Keehn was planning a trip to Washington, D. C. today, "to set the record straight."

Keehn is the 20-year-old Pontiac ex-GI who escaped from a Cuban prison during rioting New Year's Day. He says he was held by Batista forces five months as a political prisoner.

The State Department, however, said Keehn was held as a common criminal after conviction in a $400 kidnap-robbery last August.

Keehn, 138 Pingree St., denied this, accusing the American Embassy in Havana of virtually deserting him, while he was held unjustly.

He said he had documents in his possession that would "set the record straight," and would seek help from Rep. William S. Broomfield to reach the proper authorities.

For Southfield Scissor Slaying

Call Jury in Murder Trial

Calling of a jury was scheduled this morning as the prosecution prepared to open its first-degree murder case against Raymond L. Alyea, accused of the robbery-slaying of a watchman at a Southfield landscape nursery.

William E. Lang, assistant prosecutor, said he planned to call some 27 witnesses to piece together the Aug. 1 scissor stabbing and beating of 51-year-old Anthony J. Jasinski.

★ ★ ★

The trial of Alyea, 35, an ex-convict from Detroit and once part-time gardener, was to open either before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer or Judge Frank L. Doty.

Alyea, who has been in the county jail since the murder, stood mute to the charge when arraigned.

He has admitted being with Jasinski and cashing a check for him the night of the murder, and returning to the nursery.

Alyea said he only remembered finding the man laying in a pool of blood. A pair of hedge trimmers had been run into his neck and a pair of scissors into his temple.

Motel Raid Nets 3 From Area

Stolen Money Orders Link 2 Men, Woman to Post Office Burglary

Three Pontiac area residents were among four persons arrested last night in a Detroit Police raid at a motel suite at 2211 W. Grand Blvd.

Police officers recovered 2,000 blank postal money orders and 25 United States Treasury checks stolen in a December burglary of the New Haven (Mich.) Post Office.

All four persons found in the room, two men and two women, were arrested for investigation of breaking and entering.

They are Mrs. Dorothea Smith, 23, and Lloyd McKinstry, 48, both of 114 Waterly St., Waterford Township; Charles Short 23, of 36 Franklin Blvd.; and Mrs. Gloria Ryerson, 26, occupant of the suite where the raid occurred.

Detroit Detective Joseph Brown and Postal Inspector M. P. Wood, who led the raid, said the money orders and checks were found in the bathroom.

Each of the money orders could have been cashed for any amount up to $100, they said, while the treasury checks could have been cashed for any amount.

'FOR SAFEKEEPING'

Wood said Mrs. Ryerson told him the checks and money orders were left with her "for safekeeping" by a friend.

★ ★ ★

Brown said the money orders and treasury checks were all packaged and ready for mailing to addresses outside Detroit.

But he declined to say to whom the packages were addressed.

Mrs. Ryerson, Brown said, is currently on court bond pending a trial for passing bad checks in Pontiac.

Bradley was tried on a similar charge in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday but was acquitted by a jury for lack of evidence.

Police also renewed questioning of two men arrested near the scene of a burglary of a St. Clair Shores supermarket after learning that Mrs. Ryerson was a friend of the man, John H. Bradley, 29, of Brighton.

Bradley and Lloyd H. Corey, 29, of 114 Waterly St., Waterford Township, were picked up by police last Sunday after the officers followed their footprints in the snow. Both men are being held in the Macomb County Jail on charges of burglary.

St. Clair Shores police said they went to the supermarket when an acetylene torch the two men were allegedly using to open a safe blew up and set fire to the building.

A bill of sale for the acetylene torch was found in the motel suite.

Ike Takes Program Directly to People

Republican Policy Committee, described this as the opening shot in a political barrage he said he expects the Democrats to fire at President Eisenhower's fiscal and national security proposals.

"I am happy the President is making a dedicated effort to balance the budget," Bridges said. "I know he is deeply concerned that every necessary effort be made to maintain the nation's security, and he can be trusted to do that.

"But that won't keep the Democrats from making political attacks on his proposals."

Coed Has Elevated Ambition

EAST LANSING (UP) — George Greenleaf, director of the course on grain elevator management at Michigan State University, was frankly puzzled.

The applicant for the course listed as interests: Ballet, art, horses.

Moreover, the applicant was a girl.

In 14 years, the MSU short course has graduated hundreds of students, all men. This was the first coed application.

High heels aren't suitable for climbing the high ladders into elevator lofts. Dainty hands weren't meant to heave heavy sacks of grain.

But pretty chestnut-haired Mary Wesley came well recommended. She had spent two years at a finishing school, Stephens College at Columbia, Mo., and was a graduate of the University of Colorado.

Moreover, she had a legitimate interest in grain elevators. At 26, she bought out her father's partner and held a half share in four grain elevators in the Champaign, Ill., area.

Miss Wesley previously had applied at the University of Illinois. They advised her to try Purdue. Purdue sent her to Michigan State.

"She's a woman of many talents," Greenleaf said. "She climbed to the top of the state's highest grain elevator at Ottawa Lake in Lenawee County. She's also the perfect hostess at social gatherings."

Miss Wesley said she is happy about the way the other students accepted her.

After Season's Worst Cold Wave

Normal Weather Returns

By The Associated Press

Near normal weather returned to most of the nation today, marking an end of the season's worst and longest cold wave.

Temperatures generally were around seasonal levels, with higher than normal marks in some areas.

Wet weather dampened the Northwest coastal sections for the fourth straight day and rain, drizzle or snow spread across wide areas in the eastern third of the country.

Another surge of cool air moved through the West Coast Wednesday night, spreading rain into the San Francisco Bay region and across eastern sections of Washington and Oregon. Heaviest falls, mostly more than one inch, were confined to coastal sections.

Light snow fell from Minnesota to New York while warm air flowing northward from the Gulf produced a broad belt of low clouds, rain, fog and drizzle from the central Gulf Coast into the mid Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys.

Heaviest rains were in the lower Mississippi Valley, with falls of about one inch. The wet belt was expected to spread eastward during the day, extending from Georgia into Virginia. A mixture of light snow, freezing drizzle and drizzle was indicated along the Ohio River into interior sections of northern Virginia and southern Pennsylvania.

The biggest warming trend was reported east of the Mississippi River. Cold north winds which hit the Northeast diminished and skies were mostly clear in the Atlantic states.

★ ★ ★

Cooler air that moved into the northern Plains and Rockies was felt as far south as the southwest Desert region and northwest Texas.

In Los Angeles lessons in how to lay sandbags are being given homeowners in fire-ravaged canyons where rain running down denuded slopes threatens floods and landslides.

The County FG-OD Controls District issued sandbags in the Malibu, Topanga and Benedict Canyon areas Wednesday and district engineers went along to demonstrate how they should be laid out to form barriers.

All three canyons were the scene of recent brush fires. Heavy rains earlier this week set damaging mud and rock slides in motion.

★ ★ ★

The sandbags were handed out as forecasts showed more rains are due in southern California Friday.

Workshop for Disabled Moves Step Forward

The outlook for some 14,000 physically handicapped county residents appeared brighter today as a committee of eight began to make plans to provide training and employment for them.

Twenty-five Pontiac area business and professional people met yesterday afternoon at the Waldron Hotel to elect the committee members. They are to investigate the possibilities of establishing a workshop center and a planned training program for the handicapped.

The program will be designed to aid not only the physically handicapped but the mentally retarded and those needing social rehabilitation, it was pointed out at the meeting.

The committee was instructed to contact various agencies throughout the nation, such as the National Goodwill Industries in Washington, the Michigan State Employment Commission and the Detroit League for the Handicapped. It will meet with them to discuss the possibility of becoming an agency for them or for organization of an independent governing body for the county.

TO DRAFT BYLAWS

Committee members also will draw up bylaws and objectives of the proposed non-profit self-supporting corporation.

★ ★ ★

Appointed to serve on the committee were John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce; Larry Payne, WPON newscaster; Norman Dunn, public relations representative of the Pontiac Motor Division and George H. Williams, Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium business manager.

★ ★ ★

Others are Leslie H. Dean, chairman of the 5-year-old Mayor's Committee on Rehabilitation; Mrs. Betty Schlinger, field agent of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation; and Henry Francisco, manager of the Goodwill Industries Retail Store, 77 S. Saginaw St.

Frederick C. Ziem, county prosecuting attorney, told the group yesterday his office would supply the legal advice necessary to forming the organization.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the workshop would be to provide training in specified fields during periods of readjustment of the handicapped, so that they could be returned to the labor market. The jobs would not be designed to be permanent.

A pickup service would be provided and all salvageable materials would be repaired and resold in the county.

In providing work for the handicapped, many could be taken off the welfare rolls, it was pointed out.

Ralph E. Cummins, assistant district supervisor of the Michigan Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, estimated there are 800 employable physically and mentally handicapped residents in the county.

Based on a county population of 700,000, Mrs. Schlinger estimated there are 14,000 potential physically disabled county residents. The employable figure would be those from 16 to 60 years old, Mrs. Schlinger reported.

Francisco said Goodwill Industries took $200,000 worth of pickup loads to Wayne County last year for repairs by handicapped residents there. He concluded this money could be retained in the county, and estimated 100 jobs could be created for the county handicapped if such a service and workshop were organized in the county.

He added that $30,000 was returned to Wayne County last year from the resale of goods in the local Goodwill store, which could also be kept in the county.

56 Animals Perish in Zoo Farm Blaze

NEW YORK (AP)—Fire swept a one-story building at an animal farm today, burning 56 animals to death.

At least 40 monkeys died in the flames on the two-acre Ruhe farm which supplies animals to zoos throughout the world.

Other casualties included five tortoises, three burros, two dogs, four pigeons, a swan and a viper.

Traffic Mishaps Total Skyrockets in December

BIRMINGHAM—Traffic mishaps skyrocketed in December with nearly three times as much property damage as for the previous month, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley announced today.

The 88 accidents last month, which resulted in 19 persons being hurt, totaled $23,825 as compared to eleven personal injuries and 5 accidents costing $8,683 in November.

Moxley said following too closely was again the leading cause of accidents. He stressed the importance, particularly on slippery streets, of leaving at least two car-lengths between moving vehicles.

Now working on the annual report, Moxley said the picture for the year appears to be somewhat better than for 1957. The brightest spot, he said, is the fact that there were no fatalities in 1958, but three during the previous year.

Personal injuries for 1958 were also decreased along with property damages.

A Birmingham girl suffered a broken ankle at 9:22 last night when she was struck by a car at the corner of Oak and Puritan streets.

Linda A. Wessels, 18, of 356 Lake Park Dr., told police she did not see Sharon Hanlon, 17, step from the curb in time to avoid striking her.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanlon of 994 Pilgrim Rd., was in a state of shock and unable to make a statement when taken to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Samuel Fish has "clammed up" on what the program will be when the Senior Men's Club celebrates its second anniversary at the Community House tomorrow.

T. A. Henshaw, secretary, said a guest speaker will launch the group on its third year.

The Stewardship Class of the First Baptist Church will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse, 2840 Bolingbroke Rd.

Richard Hart, engineer with Detroit Edison Co. will speak on "Missions Inside the Block." Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy will have charge of devotions.

2 Classes to Open Here for Expectant Parents

Registration will be held next week for a new series of expectant-parent classes.

The eight-week classes for future mothers and fathers will begin the following week at two locations, the Oakland County Health Center and Pontiac City Hall.

The series, taught by public health nurses, is sponsored by the Oakland County Medical Society, Oakland County Department of Health and various adult education agencies.

First offered four years ago, parent-training programs became so popular that the department of health last fall scheduled 20 of them between September and this coming May, said Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Any prospective parent is welcome to attend, but class sizes will be restricted to 26 persons at the most.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. and ending at 9:30 p.m., the classes will feature films, lectures and discussion periods, plus a conducted hospital tour.

Topics covered include mental health of the family unit, growth and development of the baby before and after birth, labor and delivery, and feeding of the infant.

Registration for Monday night classes at City Hall will be from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Monday in the Department of Health's ground floor offices, 35 S. Parke St. Registration at the health center, 1070 N. Telegraph Rd., will be from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the auditorium.

Classes at the health center will be on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Registrations for other classes at the Health Department's Royal Oak office and Birmingham branch took place earlier this week.

May Eliminate Heredity Flaws

Noted Biologist Says Progress in Genetics Could Provide Answer

EAST LANSING (AP)—A noted biologist says man may one day eliminate hereditary defects by chemical means.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Bentley Glass, Johns Hopkins University biology professor, raised the possibility last night in a talk to Michigan State University's Sigma Xi scientific society.

★ ★ ★

He said recent progress in genetics might make it possible for a father to pass only his normal characteristics to his children.

This would mean, he added, an end to color blindness, hemophilia and other abnormal hereditary traits, including those caused by radiation damage.

Dr. Glass explained the process this way:

Growing sperm cells carrying defective genes apt to cause a hereditary defect would be treated with normal genetic material. This might make defective genes into sound ones. Reproduction would then be started by artificial insemination.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Glass noted that scientists have already succeeded in transferring genetic material from one bacterium to another. Similar transfer, he suggested, may be possible between human cells.

Believed Fishing for Big 4 Parley on Berlin

Mikoyan Offers Nothing New

WASHINGTON (AP) — The standard Moscow line on Germany European allies that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan appears to be fishing for a four-power conference on Germany sometime this spring.

But the State Department has cautioned that Mikoyan has put forward nothing new which promises successful negotiation.

The fast-talking Kremlin No. 2 man, visiting Detroit today, is understood to have rehashed the standard Moscow line on Germany — but with a coating of sweet talk to tempt the West.

Mikoyan may lay something new on President Eisenhower's White House desk when he returns Jan. 19 for a meeting with the President, a Soviet source in Berlin has said. But few administration officials see any hopeful signs in this.

The main points of a summary of Mikoyan's confidential talks with Secretary of State Dulles and Vice President Nixon have been given to ambassadors of Britain, France, Italy, and West Germany. These were:

1. The Soviet plan to turn East Berlin over to the East German Red puppet regime by June should not be viewed as a six-month ultimatum. Mikoyan hinted this could be extended.

2. The Soviet Union could be interested in four-power talks this spring on a German peace treaty as well as the future of Berlin. But this was coupled with a reiteration of the Kremlin view that reunification should be left to the East and West Germans to work out for themselves.

3. Veto power for the Soviets is a firm condition to Kremlin acceptance of an East-West organization that would seek to enforce a ban on atomic-hydrogen weapons tests.

4. The Soviet's much ballyhooed campaign for more American trade has played a minor role in Mikoyan's Washington talks. He may make more of this, however, when he returns from sounding out American industrialists on his flying visit to major American cites.

Authorities familiar with Mikoyan's comments said he sought to picture the Kremlin as in a negotiating mood. But every time Dulles or Nixon sought to pin him down, he answered in vague generalities.

State Department officials said a Big Four foreign ministers meeting on Germany might be held this spring — even though Mikoyan has put forward nothing new at this time. The Kremlin conceivably could be saving some concession for the meeting itself, they said, but they are not optimistic about this.

And Vice Versa, Army Research Indicates

What Makes a Hero? Right Kind of Father

WHAT KIND OF A FIGHTER?—The scientists say the answer can probably be found in what kind of a father he had.

BY RAY CROMLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Fathers at last are coming into their own, for science has found they are of use.

In fact the latest studies seem to indicate fathers may have even more influence then mothers as what kind of men their sons turn out to be.

It all started when the U.S. Army wanted to know what made some men good fighters and some failures. Batteries of scientists gave batteries of tests. These scientists were joined by others who couldn't believe the results.

The research men first came up with some unspectacular findings. They learned the better fighter was—the hero—just a smarter, healthier, more dominent, more masculine, intelectually more efficient man, with a greater sense of social responsibility, more poise and a greater belief in religion than average.

The poor fighter—the coward—was likely to be a man who gets along poorly with others.

He was an immature, more feminine, impulsive, less flexible, dependent and self-centered man, with a fendency toward backaches, poor health and less interest in girls.

★ ★ ★

The surprises came when the scientists started to check on the backgrounds of these men to learn how they got that way.

DAD'S PART

Then, fathers started to loom large in the picture.

The superior fighter's father usually was alive and well, or had been at least until his son was 18.

Father usually ran the family with an iron hand. Father, not mother, did the punishing. His punishment was consistent, usually moderate. But consistency seemed to be more important than whether punishment was reasonable or not.

Mother was patient and understanding.

Father was a churchgoer, a "joiner," a leader in community activities.

★ ★ ★

Father was very affectionate toward mother, and showed it openly and often. But he didn't let her take the upper hand.

By contrast, the non-fighter usually had lost his father by the time he was nine.

But even when he had one, father was weak, mother did the punishing, and erratically. She was often overbearing or "overprotective."

Father wasn't much interested in religion. He fought with mother, was inactive in the community.

Much to the chagrin of the ladies, these tests indicated that what kind of a man the father was—and whether or not he was around—has a greater effect than the mother's character on the boy.

★ ★ ★

Not that mothers aren't important—and sisters, too. The good fighters usually had an older sister. The poor often had no sisters at all. Having brothers apparently was of little help. None of the scientists could explain this.

There are other major differences in the backgrounds of the. The good man usually had learned good and poor men, of course, to swim before he was eight.

Before he was 18, with father's okay, he had a bank account, had written a check, had gone alone on an overnight trip to a strange city, had bought his own clothes.

The poor soldier often had been allowed to do none of these things by the time he was 18.

There are other differences more dificult to explain.

The good men tend to be more conservative, to have a better sense of humor, to owe more than $1,000, to have played poker, and to regularly forget people's names.

The poor men tend to be extremely liberal, often have cartooning as a hobby, often do not read the newspapers.

Russian Child Is Well Ahead of His Class

LONDON (UPI)—Columnist Peterborough in the Daily Telegraph today tells the story of the bright Russian child who was "a year ahead of the other children in his class."

When asked by the school inspector to name the three biggest traitors in the Soviet Union the boy replied "Stalin, Malenkov and Khrushchev."

"Yes," the inspector told the teacher, "He is a year ahead."

Detroit Veterans Post Gets Valentino's Piano

DETROIT (AP)—A baby grand piano once owned by silent screen star Rudolph Valentino now stands in a Detroit veterans post.

★ ★ ★

The hand-painted piano, described as still in good condition, was given to American-Syrian-Lebanese Alivets Post No. 3 by Mrs. Mary Keshishian. She got it as a gift from a friend who bought the piano for $522.50 in September 1949 at an auction.

Tiny Electric Plant Used to Reinforce Bad Heart

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Research surgeons at Detroit are placing miniature power plants in dogs in an effort to find a replacement for diseased and worn out hearts.

Dr. James Fryfogle, director of a research medical laboratory at Detroit, described the experi- regional assembly of the International College of Surgeons.

He said success in advanced stages of the experiment could provide a technique to reduce sharply the great toll in lives from heart failure.

Fryfogle said the stimulus that makes the heart beat is basically an electric impulse.

"Often a diseased or damaged heart will block this impulse from reaching the pump," he said.

"The problem is to find a way to amplify the strength of the heart beat."

★ ★ ★

He said surgeons are using a tiny pulse-amplifier, consisting of transistors wired to a miniature battery. The amplifier is set in the cavity under the breast bone and on top of the heart.

Through this process the beat is made strong enough to make the heart muscles contract and pump.

In New York, a 76-year-old man with a heart ailment recently had his heartbeat restored a number of times through an electrical impulse.

A yard-long wire, with a shocking tip at the end, was inserted through a vein in the left arm and maneuvered until the tip reached the heart. Whenever the heart ceased to beat for more than five seconds, an electrical impulse set it going again.

The man, Pincus Shapiro, spent 96 days in the hospital and finally was released to go home s great was his improvement. He took with him a portable machine to supply further electrical impulses for his heart if needd.

Tito Visits Burma on 7-Nation Tour

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia sailed in today for a two-day state visit to Burma on his tour to seek closer relations with other neutral nations.

★ ★ ★

President Win Maung and Prime Minister Ne Win greeted Tito and his wife at the dock. The Communist guerrilla leader was to confer later with Ne Win, the former army chief who took over the Burmese government 10 weeks ago with a pledge of reforms and re elections in the spring.

After a quiet visit with few public appearances, Tito planned to sail at dawn Saturday. He came here from Indonesia and will visit Ceylon, India, Ethiopia, Sudan and the United Arab Republic on his way home.

'The Smaller States'

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans, to whom statehood meant the end of references to "going Stateside" on trips to the U.S., got a suggestion for a substitute expression from the Fairbanks Daily News-Miner, which said that in the future it will refer to the other 48 states as "the smaller states."

Naval Carrier Really Equipped

'Independence' Set to Go

NEW YORK (AP)—The big new aircraft carrier Independence has everything — including ladies' powder rooms.

Several of these have been installed about the powerful vessel which is to be commissioned Saturday at the Brooklyn naval shipyard.

★ ★ ★

This doesn't mean that there are going to be any women manning the Big I, but just that the Navy thinks of everything. The powder rooms are for the comfort of the women who visit the ship whenever it is in port.

The men who'll serve aboard the world's biggest and most powerful aircraft carrier are going to have it pretty nice, too.

There are walls of pastel green and pleasing hues of floor coloring in the sleeping quarters, pullman-type bunks and individual fluorescent lamps for each crew member, air conditioning, television, porcelain washstands instead of the standard stainless steel, and foam rubber mattresses.

The 60,000-ton warship, costing 190 million dollars, has been under construction 3½ years.

From top to bottom she is as tall as a 25-story building and a crew of 6,500 is needed to operate her.

The Big I will carry 100 supersonic aircraft capable of delivering atomic bombs.

Speakers Slated for Michigan Press Meeting

EAST LANSING (AP) — Spokesmen for big business and science will join newspaper men and women at the annual Michigan Press Assn. convention Jan. 30-31 at Michigan State University.

The speaker list for the 91st annual gathering of Michigan editors and publishers was announced today.

Sidney R. Bernstein, editorial director of Advertising Age, will be featured at the kickoff luncheon Friday noon. The evening speaker will be Dr. Joseph Kaplan, chairman of the U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year.

The Saturday noon guest will be Frank O. Prior, chairman of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. Speaker for the Saturday night "all Michigan" dinner will be Inez Robb, nationally syndicated columnist.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Earl T. Hudson, whose doctor advised him to stay out of smoky places because of asthma, has been named fire marshal and assistant fire chief of suburban Wellston.

Catnip Charge Dropped

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Municipal Court Judge Elijah Adlow had a good reason for dismissing charges that O'Don McClaine and Kenneth Amado, both 30, possessed marijuana cigarettes. Leon A. La Freniere of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health testified 14 cigarettes taken from the fair actually contained catnip.

Brazilian Government Harassed by Inflation

Half of the people in South America live in Brazil and we buy more from it than from any other country in that hemisphere.

It is alarming to us, therefore, when an outbreak of strikes and riots protesting the rising cost of living is threatening military intervention. According to estimates, the cost of living in 1958 alone rose 30 per cent

★ ★ ★

Equally disquieting is President KUBITCHEK's failure to give support to an anti-inflation program proposed by his Finance Minister LUCAS LOPEZ, who had urged an austerity tax and currency control measures. Brazil's government not only turned down the suggestions but granted a 30 per cent increase in government salaries without providing any taxes to meet the payroll. This means that the 1959 budget deficit of $285 million will be doubled.

★ ★ ★

While taking no measures to deal with economic problems at home, Brazil's foreign ministry released a report suggesting that unless massive aid from Western Powers was forthcoming, the country just might be attracted to a totalitarian solution.

Brazil's chief delegate to an economic conference in Washington, AUGUSTO FREDERICO SCHMIDT, gratuitously predicted that by 1980 the Soviet per capita income would be $5,600 as against $3,811 for the United States.

★ ★ ★

We can afford to overlook the implied threats in these statements and hope that Brazil will show more willingness to attack its own problems and assume more responsibility in economic planning for all of South America.

Steel Plants' Output Shows Steady Rise

The making of iron and steel products and their direct use or further fabrication account for 37 per cent of all manufacturing jobs in this country, says Steel Facts.

In addition, many workers in non-manufacturing industry such as mining, transportation and construction are dependent on the iron and steel industry for all or part of their livelihood. For each blast furnace or steel mill worker more than nine others are employed in plants which use iron and steel products.

★ ★ ★

This year has seen the modernizing of equipment and installation of new facilities in iron and steel plants at a cost of nearly one billion dollars. This money, spent for improvement programs, helped to combat the recession in furnace, mill and mine communities as well as in plants making machinery and other equipment.

Based on the Jan. 1, 1958 capacity rating of 140,742,570 net tons of steel annually, the steel making figures for October showed the industry working at 73 per cent of capacity, an increase of 15 per cent over the average of the first nine months of the year.

As a basic industry steel has a far-reaching effect on our whole economy. The report shows a heartening upswing in production which is being reflected all down the line.

American Education Approved by German

Under the familiar teacher exchange program, CASPER KUHLMANN of Bremen taught German for a year in one of Wisconsin's high schools.

In commenting on his observations in that state's Journal of Education, he praised the school spirit in sports and the fact that American students take responsibility early. He thinks that average pupils get every opportunity but that talented ones do not.

★ ★ ★

Mr. KUHLMANN feels that more importance is attached to how many activities a pupil participates in rather than on how much he gets out of them. He criticizes students' fear of being different and the lack of "that other form of happiness, say of individual adventure, of private reading, walking, dreaming, meditating, of doing things alone which you cannot share with the group."

★ ★ ★

However, as a clue to Mr. Kuhlmann's evaluation of our whole educational system, he says he is "going to send over as soon as possible my own children!"

The Man About Town

Record Is Broken

Fuel Consumption Already Past Some Whole Winters

Mercury: What tries to hide too much this winter.

Several of my good friends who keep tab on their fuel bills tell me this winter is shattering all records. Two who heat with oil and two who heat with gas say they already have used as much as in all of last winter. Three who use coal report substantially the same.

Five of the above have been keeping tab for 20 years or more, and all agree that this is a record breaker. All have found that Jan. 15 is usually the midwinter point in fuel consumption, and that last winter was far below the average in that respect.

From my good friend, now sojourning in Amarillo, Texas, comes an air mail weather report: "You think it is cold in Michigan? Then you ought to come to Texas. Now I know why they call this the Texas panhandle—it's the handle of a frying pan in summer and the handle of a deep freeze in winter. Twenty below zero here today. Was 110 above last summer. It was 10 above zero in Juneau, the capital of our biggest state, Alaska, on the same day it was 10 below here."

Harmon Hoodson,

Yes, I'm sore all over. I told the world that of 2141 Old Lane, Pontiac, telling me that she received a lovely colored photo of the singer, as a Christmas card, accompanied by a hand written note stating that she had received my clipping. Wonder just what an old codger has to do to get on Alice Lon's list?

If you run out of gas on that new, U.S. 23 Expressway, leading north from Fenton for 34 miles, and used by many Pontiac area motorists, you now get a supply to get you to the next station!— free of charge. According to who drives one of them, Genesee County trucks patrol the road, in quest of drivers in trouble. The gas is furnished free because the road commission does not want their drivers to handle money.

Drawn — and Quartered

David Lawrence Says:

Both Parties Need Rededication

WASHINGTON — What the Republicans and Democrats in Congress have needed more than anything else is not a change in their leaders but a change in the attitude of their rank and file—a willingness to dedicate themselves to principle instead of yielding always to expediency.

LAWRENCE

This is asking a lot of the politician who depends for reelection on the ignorance of certain segments of the electorate or their supposed cupidity—favors granted or expected to be derived from other taxpayers' money.

The conflict, for instance, among the Republicans between the so-called "liberals" and the "conservatives," often referred to as the "Old Guard," is not what it appears to be on the surface. It is really a contest for individual prestige and power. One must search hard to find any single principle that motivates any large number in either group.

The ouster of Joe Martin from the Republican leadership in the House was not the result of any differences in ideology. Representative Halleck of Indiana is as much a conservative as former Speaker Martin.

But there has been an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the Republican situation in the House even among conservatives.

They can't put their finger on the cause of it, but undoubtedly it is based on chagrin and disappointment over the severe defeat suffered in the last election. Perhaps it is the belated discovery that a party with no offense and simply a polite defense doesn't get anywhere in the battle ring of politics.

The Democrats as a minority party have been good on the offense. They have not been encumbered with the problems of the party in power in the White House. They have had a free hand to attack without worrying about defense tactics.

They even haven't had to defend the Truman administration which was repudiated at the polls in the election of 1952—in fact, they have managed recently to restore it almost to sainthood due to the way the Republicans muffed the defense of their party's record in connection with the Goldfine-Adams case.

In the last two years, the Democrats have made excellent use of the investigating machinery from a political standpoint. They have attacked the Republicans for influencing the federal agencies but have managed to squelch any reprimand of the Democratic members of Congress who brazenly interfered and used influence with the federal agencies in behalf of their constituents.

Even the code of ethics recently announced by a Democratic-controlled committee exempts congressmen and senators from the same ethical obligations as would be imposed on officials of the federal agencies themselves. Yet the laws of the land say that the person who gives or attempts to give a bribe is as guilty of a crime as the official who receives it.

The Democrats, in the last two years, have done a very effective job of smearing the Eisenhower administration, especially in foreign affairs. Day after day has passed without any Republican defense or counterattack. It is this daily publicity that forms the prejudices of the electorate long before the three months of any election campaign.

Today the Republican Party has a great chance for public service. It cannot win elections by dissension in its ranks. It must unite on basic principles that conservatives and liberals can agree upon, instead of chasing Democratic rainbows.

It is a time for members of Congress to dedicate themselves to principle, with less and less emphasis on personal ambitions.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet: — Isaiah 28:3.

★ ★ ★

Pride requires very costly food—its keeper's happiness. — Charles Colton.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Fishwives Knew Value of Plain Cod Liver Oil

If by any chance you should find a reputable physician who pretends to know what chronic "arthritis" is and is willing to give us in writing his definition of chronic "arthritis," do tell me right away so I won't go on braying about it here.

DR. BRADY

Or, if you and your doctor do not choose to take me into your confidence, tell the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, 10 Columbus Circle, New York for the Foundation does not know either.

★ ★ ★

Until now the Foundation purported to be the repository of our newer knowledge of chronic joint disability, and frankly acknowledges that—

"Neither aspirin nor any of the widely publicized 'miracle drugs' have (sic) any curative effect. Nor does diet. However . . . aspirin and other salicylates are still regarded by the majority of arthritis specialists as producing the most relief. . ."

European fishwives (wives of fishermen, that is) learned long ago how to keep their men from getting laid up with chonic joint disability — rheumatism, they called it. The remedy was plain cod liver oil.

Cod liver oil is all but forgotten in the vain quest for a magic, wonder or miracle medicine for chronic joint disability. Yet if properly used it will do more for victims of RHEUMATIZ—degeneraton of joint tissues—than any high-priced nostrum exploited by the merchants of medicine.

Proper use of cod liver oil for RHEUMATIZ means the individual with lame joints takes two tablespoonfuls (one fluid ounce) every day in the year except perhaps for a few weeks in the warmest summer weather.

It is good for RHEUMATIZ under any other name you or your doctor may apply to chronic joint disability—chronic rheumatism, chronic arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, osteo-arthritis, hypertrophic, atrophic, proliferative, etc. The old-timers like any name except degeneration of joint tissues—which, after all, is what Dr. Osler described as chronic rheumatism, before the merchants of medicine invented the "arthritis" hokum.

Whether one with RHEUMATIZ takes cod liver oil in the proper quantity or not, it can do no harm, in fact it usually does much good, for him of her to get an adequate daily ration of the vitamins and minerals most of us do not get in our ultrarefined diet. These are calcium, phosophorus, iodin, vitamin B complex and vitamin D. I had to mention this in order to sneak up on you with my booklet, Chronic Joint Disability, for which send, care of this paper, 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

The Country Parson

"It would be easier to see the good in others if we weren't looking for the better in us."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Promiscuity Salves Woman's Ego

Sadie's case should be scrapbooked for it brings out the main reasons underlying the supposed hyper-erotic behavior of women. And the chief error in the Kinsey report is described herein, so be sure you understand it. For we doctors do not take a patient's "opinion" as a scientific fact.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-422: Sadie S., aged 28, is the faithless wife mentioned yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Her husband had actually caught her three times having affairs with men in downtown hotels.

DR. CRANE

And Sadie later admitted to me that she had been unfaithful with many more men than her husband ever dreamed of.

"Dr. Crane, I just can't help myself," she said in her own defense.

"For I grow panicky and feel that I am not all there, as a woman. Then I crave an affair with a man just to prove that I still haven't lost every shred of feminine charm.

★ ★ ★

"And for a few weeks afterwards, I may be quite happy at home. But sooner or later I get to brooding over the fact I am a sterile wife.

"Then I go on an erotic binge, just as many men go on a drunk when they are so worried about an unsolved problem they can't find any relief.

"It isn't that I am passionate, for sex doesn't mean much to me, but I do require male attention to satisfy my secret fear."

Please notice that Sadie admits she isn't passionate. Yet her record would be construed by Kinsey investigators as evidence that Sadie is a very erotic woman.

★ ★ ★

And if we used such superficial evidence as the number of affairs a woman has had, then nymphomaniacs as well as prostitutes would all be classified as hypersexed.

Actually, they are not! Women are definitely NOT passionate creatures as measured by the normal masculine standard, even though many of them enter into many clandestine affairs.

But such "affairs" are often employed for cosmetic reasons to bolster the wounded femine ego of wives who suffer from some inferiority complex, either real or usually largely imagined.

In medicine, we do not use a patient's "opinion" as to his medical condition, as an established fact.

Yet the Kinsey Report made that error. It let women tell if they "thought" they were passionate, and then used their mere "opinion" as if it were an accepted fact.

If we medics employed similar fallacious reasoning, then millions of hypochondriacs (worry warts) would be tagged as having cancer just because they "think" they suffer from this ailment, even though they are cancer-free.

INNOCENT ERRORS

Many unsatisfied wives innocently imagine they must be very erotic because they still feel dissatisfied even though their mates are satiated.

But women were created by God Almighty to have less gastric hunger as well as less erotic appetite than men.

Thus, a normal wife may feel content with 2,500 calories of food per day, yet her mate may require 3,500 or even 4,000.

But suppose that wife were given the soup and appetizer at meal time; then deprived of the meat and potatoes, as well as other viands that make up a square meal.

In other words, suppose her hunger were whetted by only 500 calories of foods per day. She would probably state that she was still hungry at the end of the day, wouldn't she? For she would have been cheated out of the 2,000 additional calories her body craves.

But if she then maintained that she had a greater food appetite than her husband, that would not be a fact, for he would still demand 3,500 to her 2,500 calories daily.

In the erotic realm the same situation occurs. Wives are often left erotically unsatisfied because men have not been taught their marital function.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'We Can't Afford College; We Pay to School Others'

I see we may get a year or two added to our high schools. That would be some help. Our government should pay for the first two years in college, or the full course. It has always been and is the same today — it takes a small fortune to go to college. We have millions and billions to give other countries, but none to send our sons and daughters to college.

★ ★ ★

We're the richest country in the world, but if you're a working man, it's a hard job to get your son or daughter through college. In Russia you're paid to go to college if you have any talent. We should do as well as they do.

★ ★ ★

My son finished high school this year and wants to go to college. I'll do what I can and he'll get a job, too. I'm a Pontiac Motor worker. If work is good and my health is o.k. then things will work out right. I could take the income taxes we pay and send him to school, but it has to be paid to send to some other country to help school their sons and daughters.

My letter which appeared Dec. 23 was not sent by me to the Voice of the People column and was published without my authorization. It was meant for the publisher.

Meanings were altered by omissions and I requested that it not be printed over my name without my approval. In one fell swoop the paper dodged all responsibility of pressing for legal and fair city departmental administration, approval by vote of all city taxpayers before commitment is made for large sum expenditures, basing our city budget on our financial needs instead of the maximum amount the law will allow to be collected.

At the same time it put me on the spot by forcing me to assume the burden of proof against considerable. If you have courage to print this letter I will be surprised.

It sounded like a man yelling in the wrong end of a megaphone while he was standing in the middle of a boiler factory. Everyone would prefer to hear the news plainly instead of hearing it all hashed up from the South Seas or the middle of Russia.

Career Has Been Series of 'Almosts'

Halleck's Fortunes Rise

By United Press International

Charles A. Halleck has seen his political fortunes dip and rise in recent years.

Right now they are going up again. He outmaneuvered one of the savviest old pros of all—Joseph W. Martin Jr.—to walk off with the job of House Republican leader.

But Halleck can look back on a series of "almosts" dating from 1948 when he believed he had received the nod as GOP vice presidential candiate. Then, in a period of four years, moves to boom Halleck for House GOP leader collapsed twice.

Short, peppery Charlie Halleck—politician, lawyer, soldier fisherman—was born 58 years ago in Jasper County, Ind. He attended the public grade schools and high school in Rensselaer, Ind., and then he went to war.

Halleck entered the infantry as a private. He became an officer before World War I ended. Flu stopped him from going to France and by the time he recovered the war was over.

Halleck then entered Indiana University, graduated with honors in 1922, and received a law degree two years later. The same year he was elected to the first of five two-year terms as prosecuting attorney of Jasper County Circuit Court.

He married Blanche White of Indianapolis, Ind., in 1927. Their twins — Charles and Patricia — were born two years later.

He now has seven grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

Over the years, Halleck also has acquired a few side interests: a little fishing, a little hunting, a little backyard cookery. But his wife says his reading is mostly devoted to "many newspapers."

Halleck first ran for Congress in 1935 in a special election. At that time he was the only Republican Congressman from Indiana. He has been reelected to every Congress since then.

House Republicans elected him to their leadership in 1947. But the role actually meant playing lieutenant to Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts who reigned over both the Republicans and the House as speaker.

Halleck in 1953 thought the White House was backing him to unseat Martin, but he received no White House support. Again Martin assumed the top House post as speaker with Halleck as his lieutenant in the role of majority leader.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago insurgent Republicans once more approached Halleck, urging him to attempt to unseat Martin. But at the end the support thinned and Martin was reelected to the leadership.

And even this year nearly became another "almost" for Halleck. It took two ballots for him to defeat Martin by only a scant majority.

Afterwards, a photographer asked him to grin. He refused.

"I don't want to look too gloating," he said.

RADAR READS COLD — John Dunphy of Boston, Mass. uses a mallet to break frozen spray from the bridge of the trawler Bonnie at Fish Pier. Skipper James Ackert had to peer through the small hole cut through ice just below the mallet to pilot his vessel in to port. The ice sheathed radar antenna rising from the top of the bridge didn't work.

Revised Auto Plan Supported by Hare

LANSING (AP)—A new push in the 1959 legislature for creation of an "unsatisfied judgments" funds to reimburse victims of uninsured motorists was promised today.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State James M. Hare, who doubles as chairman of the State Safety Commission, said he will take up the cudgels again for a revised version of legislation that failed in 1957 and 1958.

Under the revised plan, Hare said motorists upon applying for auto registration plates annually would be required to show proof of financial responsibility or pay a $10 fee into the proposed fund.

An autoist would be deemed financially responsible if he carried personal liability and property damage insurance.

Hare said he expected insurance men to fight the proposal this year as they have in the past.

He estimated that about 10 per cent of drivers—between 360,000 and 400,000—lack insurance.

Hare was the victim of such a motorist in an accident two years ago. He suffered serious injuries and wound up paying $2,400 in hospital and doctor bills.

"This would plug the greatest hole we have in our security system for the little guy," he said.

He scoffed at the existing motor vehicle operators financial responsibility law as "the one free accident" law because of its lack of application until after an uninsured motorist has gotten into a jam.

Under Hare's proposal, the victim of an uninsured motorist could make a claim against the unsatisfied judgment fund only after exhausting all other possibilities of recovery.

The 1958 bill proposed building up the fund out of 25-cent fees collected with licensing of each car in the state.

★ ★ ★

Hare indicated he will step into the controversial area of motor scooter regulation by calling for revision of the legal definition of a motor vehicle by broadening it to cover vehicles under five horsepower.

"This would require the youngsters who operate these things to take driver education and get a license," he said.

Soviet Whirlybirds Move Vacationers

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's first helicopter passenger service will begin soon between Simferopol and Yalta, according to the newspaper "Soviet Russia."

★ ★ ★

Ten-seater aircraft will carry vacationers from the Crimean city to the Black Sea resort in 25 to 30 minutes — a trip which formerly could be made only by car or bus and took four hours.

Other helicopter lines are scheduled to open later this year or next.

Youngest Deejay Is Michigan Boy

SALINE, Mich. (UPI) — Mike Bixby, a 15-year-old Saline high school sophomore, has stepped forth to claim the title of youngest disk jockey in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Each Saturday morning, Mike presents "The House of Kicks," an hour-long show especially for teenagers. The show is carried on radio station WOIA, Saline.

Mike, whose mother, Mrs. Meredith Bixby, is president of WOIA, has been doing the Saturday show for several months without any previous experience.

★ ★ ★

"The response has been terrific," Mrs. Bixby said. "Mike's predecessor was drafted and we tried out several replacements. But none of them had teenage appeal."

Safety Director Claims:

Expressways Save Lives

DETROIT (AP)—Ernest P. Davis, safety and traffic director for the Automobile Club of Michigan, says expressways save lives by eliminating causes of traffic deaths.

He says the new expressways are "conclusive proof" of this.

Davis, in a talk yesterday to the Detroit Safety and Traffic Commission, urged completion of Michigan's controlled-access expressway system be given priority.

Quoting studies of the State Highway Department, he said, "These show the new expressways save from one life to every 15 miles of new road to nearly one per mile in "extremely high accident areas."

Davis said much needs to be done yet in Michigan's safe driving program if the fatality reduction is to be continued.

He said there are deficiencies in the traffic divisions of local police departments and that smaller communities fail to make use of sound traffic engineering principles.

Mother, 32, Slain by Sex Sadist

Mutilated Body Found in Car After Woman Attended Sorority Party

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Police today sought a sex sadist in the slaying of a young mother whose husband gave her a "night off" to attend a sorority party while he baby sat.

The body of Mrs. Charles E. Montague, 32, was found in the back seat of her car yesterday. The car was parked in front of the home where Mrs. Montague, a former student at Washington University School of Journalism, had attended the party Tuesday night.

Montague, 34, told the authorities he had dozed off while sitting with their two children, Charles, 10, and Linda, 9, and became alarmed when he awoke at 2:15 a.m. yesterday and discovered his wife had not returned from the party.

A search was organized and Mrs. Montague's mutilated corpse was found hours later by her brother, Donald Jones.

Officials from the coroner's office said Mrs. Montague, a social worker, apparently had been strangled either with a chain or rope. Her legs had been slashed and bore puncture wounds, her undergarments had been cut from her body, and she had been molested.

Toy Tycoon Gives Advice on Marketing a Novel Idea

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Joe McVicker, a phenomenal toy industry success at the age of 27, spent his first year in the business learning that's it's not exactly child's play.

Just three years ago, McVicker was helping to run the family wallpaper cleaning compound business in Cincinnati. He knew nothing about the toy industry except that, as the father of a two-year-old girl, it was getting some of his income.

Today, McVicker heads his own toy company, Rainbow Crafts Inc., a firm expected to gross three million dollars this year.

The firm produces a modeling substance, not a clay, that does not stain clothing or furniture and is harmless if swallowed. It's called Play-Doh.

Joe invented it after watching his daughter, Julie, play with samples of dough-like wallpaper cleaner compound. With a little work thought McVicker, the compound could be developed into a modeling substance.

Since he learned the toy business the hard way, McVicker has a number of tips for anyone else who comes up with a hot game or toy idea and wants to put it on the market.

—"Find out who sells what you make and learn how and when they do their buying," said McVicker.

"With Play-Doh, I traveled around for a year trying to sell to schools. It was a lot of wasted time. I didn't think of retail stores.

"After a year, I was referred to 200 Fifth Ave., in New York—that's toy industry headquarters—and affiliated with toy representatives who knew the business."

STUDY PACKAGE

McVicker's product was being offered in unlabelled cans containing two and three pounds of his compound. The toy representatives advised him to put it in smaller, brightly-colored containers.

—"The magic number today is $1," McVicker learned. "That's the price for a toy. For the Christmas trade, you put out a deluxe version for $2.

—"If you have one toy idea, try to spread it around. We have other items on the market today, based on the original Play-Doh."

Other tips from the young executive:

★ ★ ★

—Educate yourself about the toy business and "business" business. Ask questions of everyone you come in contact with—the toy jobbers, store buyers, salesmen, bankers, advertising men, parents. You may even want to take some night courses in business administration.

★ ★ ★

—Watch out for fads. You must know whether your item is a fad or a staple and act accordingly.

Time to Catch Up on Do-It-Yourself Loafing

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—I have not seen or heard much of do-it-yourself lately, and wonder what this indicates.

Does it mean that the store-bought flowerpot is replacing the converted spittoon?

Or does it indicate that driftwood has gone back to sea to confuse some other poor fish?

Whatever the season, it is nice to see a diminishing of the trend, making it possible once again to catch occasional glimpses of the men in the neighborhood. Scarcely anybody complains of tool-tenderized toes anymore, and the hand that holds up the martini is clean and strong.

From the beginning of do-it-yourselfishness—about 1945, I should say, when the war veteran came home with a vengeance and began puttering in the hearth he had dreamed about—it seemed an unnatural craze.

★ ★ ★

Men who once made love to their wives descended to their basements to make passes at power tools.

Wives stopped making lemon meringue pies and began wallpapering their coffee tables, wastebaskets, beer cartons and whatever else they could lay glue to.

NO LAZY SUNDAYS

Instead of lying around on Sundays, as is the national custom, couples laid linoleum. Anybody who had an end-table without a mosaic tile kit wasn't trying, and even kids gave up softball for homemade hi-fi because there was something obligatory about that phrase, "even a child can do it."

It was a distressing situation from the beginning. Millions of dollars were spent on equipment, to turn out thousands of dollars worth of knickknacks.

Large groups of destitute college coeds bought do-it-yourself sailboat kits, and later dunned their parents for the $2,680 it took to convey the boats, and themselves, to a body of water.

★ ★ ★

Once the average house had a full load of built-in bookshelves, orange crate dressing tables, mirrored bars, flagstone porches and driftwood tables and chairs and lamps, the family either had to move into larger quarters or take up do-it-yourself loafing.

★ ★ ★

One man I know became so consumed with his tools (he was especially good at making TV lamps out of wallpaper rollers) that he gave up his job as an investment counselor to go into carpentry. His salary dropped $12,000, and in a desperate effort to get it back he now makes jaunty French bread servers out of old baseball bats.

During this hectic period of stellar cellar activity, there was one man who never lifted a finger, except to dial the carpenter or the plumber if something about the house needed doing. It was my beloved husband, who became disillusioned with home handiwork as the result of once having become involved in the business of hanging a picture.

His attitude: Anything that's worth doing is worth spending money to have someone do.

Thus, the only do-it-yourself item in our home is a large hole in the plaster, ill-concealed by a painting. Our flowers are in plain pots, and our floor has wood on it, and our furniture came from stores.

The only thing my spouse ever made was a good husband.

Sweden's butter surplus this year is estimated at 30,000 tons. England is virtually Sweden's only remaining foreign customer.

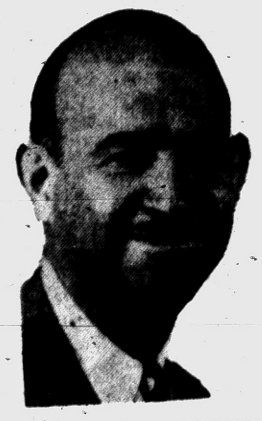

Where Is Safety Found?

GLASTONBURY, Conn. (UPI) — Donald C. Hotchkiss parked his car in front of the police station, returned to find it stolen. He is a member of the Police Commission.

Has Lunch and Hot Discussion With Labor Leaders

Mikoyan Doesn't Give Away Any Secrets

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — American labor leaders and Anastas I. Mikoyan had lunch and a hot discussion.

But the Soviet deputy premier didn't reveal any secrets while he was the guest of the unionists.

They later gave their account of what happened in a memorandum prepared as a record of the conversation.

One notable stay-away was AFL-CIO President George Meany. But James B. Carey, a long-time fighter against Communists in American unions, was there. He said he thought a frank talk with Mikoyan might have done some good, couldn't do harm.

Besides Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, others present included Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America.

Carey, Reuther and Beirne are also vice presidents of the AFL-CIO.

In part, this was the account of what happened:

Carey blamed the Soviets for trying after the war to dominate the World Federation of Trade Unions, when American unionists got fed up and walked out.

Mikoyan admitted the Soviet trade union movement had made a mistake but said the Americans had, too, in that postwar period. And he added: Two neighbors who had made a mistake shouldn't let a mistake dominate their future.

Reuther criticized the Soviet propaganda line that pictures American workers as wage slaves. Carey went into detail on the evolutionary improvements in the American labor movement since Mikoyan was here in the 1930s.

Mikoyan said Reuther was wrong, that the Soviets recognized the wealth and high standard of living of the American workers and constantly used this as an incentive and example to the Soviet workers to improve their production.

The labor leaders not only supported this country's foreign policy but said the average American worker did, too.

Beirne chimed in: He said it was impossible to develop faith and trust in Soviet talk about the self-determination of peoples after what the Soviets did to the workers of Hungary.

And Beirne asked: Would the Soviet Union guarantee absolute freedom of movement to any trade union delegation visiting that country? Would such a delegation be permitted to visit prisons and labor camps and talk to workers on the job at home?

Mikoyan denied there were labor camps; guaranteed that an American trade union delegation visiting the Soviet Union would have complete freedom, including freedom to visit prisons; and refused to discuss Hungary on the ground it would take too long.

★ ★ ★

But when the unionists criticized Soviet policy — particularly they accused the Kremlin of stimulating crises around the world — Mikoyan said the Americans were prejudiced and didn't know the facts of Soviet policy.

The unionists attacked Soviet policy on Berlin, which the Soviets want left defenseless in the middle of Communist East Germany —but Mikoyan responded with this proposal:

★ ★ ★

That Berlin be made a free city —with free access to it from East and West—and its freedom guaranteed by an international commission, with all countries removing their troops. This has been pretty much the Soviet line.

Reuther argued, as the State Department does, that Berlin is part and parcel of Germany and that the two Germanys should be reunited in free elections, which is what the Soviets don't want.

★ ★ ★

So, while no problems were solved, the memorandum said the most important result of the luncheon was to show the unity of American trade unionists on Berlin and a unified Germany.

Kearns Keynotes Meet

Water Supply Blocked by Ice

City in New York State Closes Stores, Schools After Intake Is Blocked

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP) — The 25,000 residents of this city in western New York state boiled their drinking water today after ice sludge in the Niagara River blocked the main water system intake.

Schools were closed and many business establishments curtailed operations when Mayor John F. Kopczynski declared a state of emergency Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Some factories were allowed to open today but their cafeterias remained shut down.

Engineers were attempting to melt the ice sludge and Wednesday night had restored water pressure to about two-thirds of normal. But emergency measures, including the use of pumps to bypass the blocked intake, remained in force.

★ ★ ★

Officials said contimination rom the ground surrounding water mains and from nearby sewer lines could have seeped in while the mains were empty.

British Foundry Offers to Recast Old Liberty Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The bell is defective and the foundry that cast it has ofered to correct the defect—free.

★ ★ ★

The ofer comes a little late from the Maers and Stainback Foundry of London, England. Perhaps if the firms predecessor, the old Whitechapel Foundry, had been as generous early in the last century, the Liberty Bell wouldn't be cracked today.

★ ★ ★

"No thanks," was the reply mailed Wednesday by M. O. Anderson, superintendent of Independence Hall.

State Controller Swamped

Loan Requests Increasing

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Money-short school districts and local governments are applying for more than twice as many loans as they did last year.

State Controller James W. Miller cited the figure to the State Administrative Board Tuesday in reporting the work load of the Municipal Finance Commission "far in excess of its capacity with present staff and facilities."

The commission, overseer of borrowing by local governing bodies, is 10 to 12 weeks behind in processing applications for loan approvals, Miller said. The board approved his request to use the commission's $10,483 fourth-quarter allotment due in April, to hire extra help.

The advance also hinges on approval of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee.

★ ★ ★

The cash crisis is so acute now the Municipal Finance Commission must borrow money to help others borrow money.

★ ★ ★

The State Administrative Board, subject to approval of legislative leaders, has approved a plan to advance about $10,000 to the commission against future appropriations to allow hiring of four more people to process requests for borrowings.

The commission, which has been swamped with requests by schools for authorization to borrow against future state aid payments, said it needs the extra people to process its paperwork.

The state is faced with a 100-million-dollar deficit by July.

About 2,000 applications, mostly from school districts, were submitted to the commission last year, Miller said. In 1957 there were about 800 and in 1956 about 600.

In related business, the board was told the state now is committed to paying 100 per cent of welfare costs in nine counties and two more—Wayne and Keweenaw—are due to join the list soon.

★ ★ ★

The state normally pays 30 per cent of welfare costs and counties the rest, but the state takes over full payments when county costs amount to more than 1.5 mills of assessed valuation in any fiscal year. Counties meeting this requirement are Alger, Gogebic, Houghton, Muskegon, Schoolcraft, Kalkaska, Antrim, Crawford and Luce.

Says Milk Economy Forebodes Epidemic

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Economy has resulted in dangerous curtailment of milk inspection, with milk from nonapproved dairies in New York State and Michigan reaching southeastern Massachusetts, according to a speaker before the Massachusetts Milk Inspectors Assn.

Joseph L. Donovan, Brookline inspector, told the association yesterday a situation similar to that which brought paratyphoid epidemics to Lancaster, Pa., and Montreal could develop. He said several died in those outbreaks.

Donovan blamed "continuing cutting of budgets regarding milk supply and inspection."

DEDICATION SUNDAY — Workmen finish putting up the railings leading from the Rochester Skating Rink to the new Civic Center Building as plans are being completed for the dedication of the building Sunday at 2 p. m. The Rochester Lions Club built the center using volunteer labor in the area and will present it to the village during the special ceremonies Sunday afternoon.

Canine Control to Be Proposed

Townships Holding No Jurisdiction Over Fido at Present—Mrs. Avery

Will stray dogs continue to roam free outside of cities and villages in Oakland and other Michigan counties?

Not if Farmington Township Treasurer Mrs. Elise R. Avery has anything to say about it.

As Oakland County director in the Michigan Township Assn., Mrs. Avery intends to present a dog ordinance proposal when the association holds its sixth annual convention Jan. 13, 14 and 15 in Lansing.

Directors and committees will meet on the 13th in the Olds Hotel at Lansing to decide on resolutions to be presented to the association for consideration on the following two days.

★ ★ ★

Resolutions approved by the association will then be submitted with its recommendations to the State Legislature.

Mrs. Avery's canine ordinance proposal will go first to the association's Resolution Committee of which she is a member.

At the present time, townships in Michigan have no jurisdiction over stray dogs. Legally they can do nothing to contain or for that matter detain the dogs, which often live as wild animals preying on other beasts.

One night last May a band of wild dogs went on a bloody rampage, slaying nine fenced-in deer on the Meadow Brook Farms in Avon Township. The deer were found the next morning clawed and chewed to death.

Mrs. Avery said that in her opinion townships also need a revision of laws on personal property taxes.

"There are inequities in personal property taxes," she said, "but it would require someone well-versed in taxation procedures to come up with a sound resolution. I would like someone to come with such a resolution at this meeting."

On Jan. 14 and 15 the association will hear reports of officers and adopt resolutions and act on such other matters as may be brought before the convention.

Officers for the year will be elected at this time as well. These include a president, three vice presidents, secretary, treasurer and a member of the board of directors from each congressional district in the state.

Three principal speakers at the convention will be Louis M. Nims of the State Tax Commission, Leonard E. Batz who is a guided missile expert and David Reed of the Detroit Edison Co., who will discuss power and street lighting.

Caswells Set to Go Home After Fire

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Floyd Caswell family is planning to move back into their own home on Saturday.

Just one month ago the family of 10 was forced to flee from its frame home at 1885 June St. when the house was gutted by an early morning blaze.

★ ★ ★

The Caswells were given temporary shelter in a vacant house just two doors away while their own home was being renovated and refurnished.

"Our house is almost ready for us," Mrs. Caswell said. "The kitchen just has to be finished, and then we'll move back in."

"The children are all back with us and have returned to school," she added gratefully, "and we couldn't have asked for a better Christmas than we had — everyone was so kind to us."

★ ★ ★

The Caswells' eight children are Patricia Ann, 12; twins Magdalene and Margaret, 11; Judy, 10; Rosemary, 7; Kenneth, 3; Michael, 2; and Kathy, now one-year old.

★ ★ ★

Looking forward to being in her home again, Mrs. Caswell is particularly thrilled with her new refrigerator which will replace the one she lost in the fire. She had had the other one only four weeks before the fire.

Set Record in License Suspensions

LANSING (AP)—A record 34,229 erring drivers were called in for interviews by state examiners last year, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported today.

★ ★ ★

Operator licenses suspensions or revocations were ordered for 20,086 of them, also a record, Hare said.

Total interviews compared with 28,705 in 1957 and 20,817 the year before.

Formerly, poor drivers first were sent warning letters before being summoned for interviews, but this practice was discontinued last June because of fund shortages. Hare said he hoped the Legislature would allocate funds to revive them.

"They were responsible for many drivers improving their habits without being called in for good driver discussions," he said.

Five Cities Join in Study of Shifting Populations

LANSING (AP)—Some 20 representatives of five Michigan cities have decided to make a study of state laws to help cope with municipal problems stemming from rapidly growing metropolitan populations.

The group — representing Flint, Lansing, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids and Muskegon—met here yesterday in an informal conference called by Harding Mott, chairman of the new Flint Planning Commission. On hand were members of citizens groups, civic leaders and chambers of commerce officials.

They decided to study the feasibility of possible amendments to statutes governing annexation, incorporation and consolidation procedures. The group agreed that vagueness of present laws hamper communities which wish to expand present boundaries or to create a new city.

Flint, Battle Creek and Muskegon have come up with similar proposed solutions to the population problem: consolidation of cities and townships into a new city.

However, Flint's plan was stymied by a Supreme Court ruling that votes in individual governmental units involved must be counted separately.

Rep. Harry DeMaso (R-Battle Creek) pointed out that an attempt to amend the Home Rule Act to include cities and townships in a consolidation plan was rejected by the past legislature. He attributed the rejection to opposition from the Michigan Townships Assn.

Harold Street, counsel for Muskegon's new City Committee, expressed the belief his city's plan might void what happened in Flint. He said the plan was considered a consolidation rather than an incorporation.

Street noted that the Supreme Court had ruled in the Flint case made to "de-incorporate" existing corporate municipalities.

Alex MacFadyen, general manager of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce, reported a public opinion survey is under way to determine voters' wishes in his area's five municipalities and six townships.

He said several proposals had already been received, including suggestions for metropolitan agencies and a county planning commission.

Hawaiian Sand 'Barks'

HONOLULU—The sand is said to bark at Mana on the west coast of the Island of Kauai. It is said that an early king of Kauai was killed on this beach and that the sands will groan—or bark—in memory of this when they are rubbed together between the palms of the hands.

Lions to Present Center to Rochester on Sunday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Lions Club will present its recently-completed Civic Center Building to the Village of Rochester in special dedication ceremonies at 2 p.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Sidney Q. Ennis, village president, will accept the keys to the new building from Walter Mickelson, Lions Club president, who will act as master of ceremonies.

★ ★ ★

Other dignitaries invited to be present include Paul York, Rochester village manager and Robert Slone of Grosse Pointe, who formerly held the manager's post in Rochester.

The one-story brick building, valued at close to $16,000 is located at the north end of Oak St. It faces on the Rochester Municipal Skating Rink and has a rustic walk leading to the ice.

The colonial-style structure was built by the Lions Club with donated labor from the Rochester area working under the direction of Clinton Smith, Lions Club building chairman.

Designed for all types of community activities, the building is 47'x28' in size with a main meeting room which features an open-beam ceiling, large fireplace and picture windows looking out onto the pond.

The building has gas heat, rest rooms and a storage room and is equipped with a tape recorder which plays music both inside and out when skating parties are in progress.

★ ★ ★

The new center is expected to have quite constant usage because of its adaptability to many types of community programs such as scout or other organizational meetings and special events planned both for indoors and outside all year 'round, Smith said.

Life Stirs Again in Carolina Port

Peace-Time Commerce Replaces Buccaneers of Early Years

PORT ROYAL, S. C. (UPI) — Port Royal, once the blood-drenched capital of the Spanish Main, is stirring again, but this time with peace-time commerce.

Port Royal, 50 miles south of Charleston, S. C., was officially reborn Oct. 4 with high state and military officials attending dedication of new $1,500,000 dock and warehouse facilities.

The first ocean vessel of the new Port Royal era was the Georg Russ out of Hamburg, Germany. From now on the modern 500-foot pier will berth an increasing number of large freighters.

★ ★ ★

The peaceful plying of world trade in the old port is in sharp contrast to the bloody days 250 years ago when "Blackbeard" Edward Teach and other buccaneers left the shelter of the port for lightning raids up and down the Spanish Main.

But a stubborn and courageous governor at Charleston — Robert Johnson — impressed merchant vessels into service and went out after the black-flagged ships.

Teach was captured in a bitter fight, Bonnet was hanged and the renegade British officer Richard Worley was killed on deck. Aboard Worley's swift ship were found 30 young women being held as hostages. Worley had planned to sell them as indentured servants to unscrupulous planters and townsmen.

By 1740, Port Royal had become a bustling center for the indigo trade and 20 years later the "seed from Madagascar" — rice — was moving from the seaport.

★ ★ ★

The Revolution halted the burgeoning commerce, though the battle of Charleston in 1776 saved Port Royal for four years from British occupation. Then Charleston fell, and with it the thriving little port to the south.

The last deep sea vessel called at Port Royal in 1922, except for some tuna schooners which put in four years ago from fishing grounds off Peru and Chile. But now Port Royal is reborn.

Nature Doctors Reap Harvest

Many Thousands Fall Prey Yearly to Bogus Health Food Claims

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Each year hundreds of thousands of Americans are victimized by pseudo-scientific imposters known as naturopaths.

According to an article in a recent issue of a national magazine, naturopaths, or nature doctors, are reaping a fat harvest from unknowning, unsuspecting victims who through ignorance or desperation come to them for medical treatment.

Considered unqualified healers by the American Medical Association, naturopaths contend that almost anything from tonsillitis to leprosy can be cured through the use of natural remedies — air, light, water, vibrations, heat, electricity, dietitics and massage. This completely excludes the use of already established curative methods which employ the use of drugs, surgery, X-ray or radium.

Correspondence schools run by medical frauds enroll anyone who has the necessary fee—high school diploma not required. And the "graduates" dream up such outrageous devices as steel helmets to prevent baldness, a magic spike to cure tuberculosis and a machine which can fertilize fields, fill teeth or regrow amputated fingers and toes—a three-in-one bargain.

Postmaster General Arthur A. Summerfield, quoted in the magazine feature, is vitally concerned with the activities of naturopaths —"the best paid criminals in America," he calls them. Because of their extensive fraudulent use of the mails, medical quackery hit an all-time high in 1957. The estimated take by quacks through the mails alone was $50,000,000. The income from sales of bogus health food is estimated at a staggering $100,000,000.

★ ★ ★

Almost anyone can fall prey to these medical trickers. The most potential "customers" are the miracle-seekers, the uninformed, those termed "helpless cases" by the medical profession, and those seeking quick, painless cures.

Monroe Reactor Site Has Daily Air Checks

LANSING (AP)—State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heustis has reassured persons who might be worried about radiation dangers from the nuclear reactor being built at Monroe.

The reactor is not expected to start trial operations until 1960. But, Heustis reported his department already has begun an intensive around-the-clock air sampling study in the Monroe area.

The study is being made to determine the level of radiation before and after the reactor begins to run.

Heustis called the study "Part of an extraordinary effort to help assure progress with safety in the use of radiation and radio-active devices and installations."

Area Teacher From England Notes Informality in Schools

By LEE WINBORN

OXFORD — "There is a greater degree of informality in American schools," says 29-year-old John Simpson of Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, England, who is teaching this year in the Oxford Junior High School.

Simpson is one of 100 teachers from England who are currently exchanging positions with American teachers under the International Educational Program. Roy Cloud, the Oxford teacher whose job he has this year, is teaching in Simpson's place in King Edward VII School in Lytham, Lancashire, England.

The young British teacher said he has noted a number of differences in the program of education in America as compared to England — some of them for the better, other he is still undecided about.

Simpson explained that he taught in a boy's school in England with about one-fifth of the students selected to attend because of their ability.

STUDENTS MIXED

"Here I have able and poorer students altogether. We can't go fast this way," he said. "I prefer them graded as to ability."

"Also it's my introduction to co-education as a teacher," Simpson related, "and I haven't made up my mind whether I like boys and girls together in the classroom."

"Sometimes the informality amount to lack of respect — other times it's a friendly approach we don't get in England," the young teacher said in a clipped British accent.

He added, "Students get along faster with sterner discipline, I feel. In England, they follow a course aimed at the big national examinations, and you have to crack the whip, so to speak, to assure their success in this competition."

The International Educational Program is sponsored by the Office of Education in Washington, D.C., and administered by the Department of State in this country. The English-Speaking Union administers the program in England with money from the Ministry of Education.

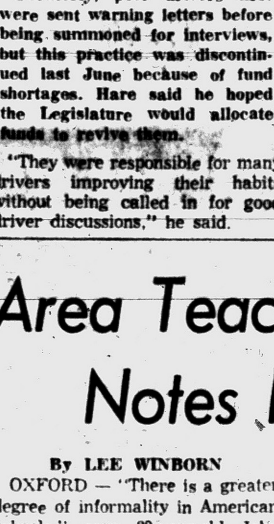

Simpson, who has a bachelor of arts degree in geography from Manchester University in England, sailed for the United States on the Queen Elizabeth with some 100 other teachers from his homeland.

TOUR CAPITAL

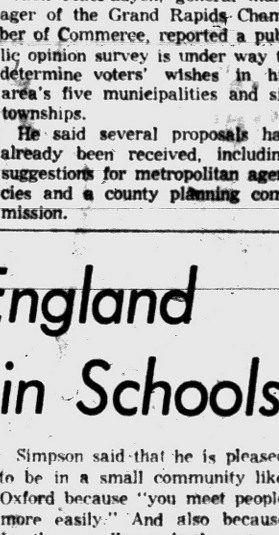

The Office of Education arranged tours for them in New York City and the nation's capital, and they also attended lectures and had discussions about American education, before reporting to their new assignments.

Simpson said that he is pleased to be in a small community like Oxford because "you meet people more easily." And also because in the smaller school systems there is the opportunity to exchange with other teachers, as he will do Friday when he and a high school history teacher trade places. The high school class has just completed a history course on England.

Simpson visited Roy Cloud's parents in southern Indiana during the Christmas holiday which he said he enjoyed very much. He plans to tour through several of the western states before returning to England.

Of course, there's a limit to how far you can go in an elevator—and where.

It's Handy to Keep Records

A good set of farm records is almost like having an extra hired man around the farm these days, according to Jay Poffenberger, Oakland County agricultural extension agent. They'll really work for the farm family that has them available about this time of year when it comes to filling out the income tax return.

They will also be right there on the job when the family files the Social Security return. After these rush jobs are over the extra "hired hand" will be on hand through the rest of the year for the most important job of all — helping the family study their farm business and discover improvements which will mean more money for them.

There are a number of good record books available to Oakland County farmers, Poffenberger said. One that has been well received is the Michigan State University Income Tax Record Book, he added.

Forty thousand farmers in Michigan used it last year and reported it was easy to keep and really filled the bill, Poffenberger noted.

He said that the Michigan State University farm income tax record book can be obtained free at any of the banks in Oakland County.

It is also available for 25 cents at the County Cooperative Extension Service office located at 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac.

Todd Grave Can't Have 9-Ft. Oscar

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has spiked plans to mark showman Mike Todd's Chicago grave with a 9-foot-high Oscar.

★ ★ ★

"The Oscar is protected by copyright," said a spokesman for the academy. "All who receive it sign a receipt they and their heirs will respect this copyright." He said it could not be used to mark a grave.

Todd's brother, David Goldbogen, had said in Chicago he was planning to erect a two-ton marble statue over the grave. Todd won an Academy Award Oscar for his movie "Around the World in 80 Days." He died in a plane crash last March 21.

★ ★ ★

Goldbogen was not available for comment on the academy's statement, but his wife said she did not believe her husband knew of the copyright.

Bandits Pay for Gas

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two youths drove up to a service station in suburban Renton and pulled a pistol on attendant Roy Wendt. "I haven't any money," Wendt said. "Okay," answered one would-be robber. Social Security Tax Deadline

Farm Workers' Return Due

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Most farmers who employed help in 1958 face a Jan. 31 deadline.

That's the date by which they must file a Social Security tax return for their employes.

If you, as a farm employer, employed a worker (1) on 20 or more days during 1958 for cash wages paid on a time basis or (2) paid a worker $150 or more cash wages in 1958 you must file the return.

Simple forms which you may use to file your report are available from the Internal Revenue Service. The return, together with payment of any taxes due, must be filed with district director of the IRS not later than Jan. 31.

★ ★ ★

Employes are considered farm workers, and therefore you must pay Social Security tax for them, if they perform:

—Services in the care of your farm and equipment.

—Services on a farm in the raising or harvesting of agricultural or horticultural commodities.

—Services in handling, processing or packaging an agricultural or horticultural commodity—if you produced over half of the commodity handled, processed or packaged.

—Services in cotton ginning.

—Household service on your farm and the farm is operated for profit.

Only cash wages for farm work are taxable. Cash wages include checks, money orders, etc. Don't count the value of food, lodging and other non-cash items.

In deciding whether the "20 days a year test" is met, you should count only days for which the employe works for cash pay computed on a time basis—that is, by the hour, day or week.

But, if the "20 day a year test" is met you must pay taxes on all cash wages paid the employe during this year—whether on a time, piecework or other basis.

In deciding if the "$150 a year test" is met you should count all cash wages on a time, piecework or other basis.

The following examples show how the tests work:

Suppose you pay Sam Smith $180 in 1958. You must pay taxes on $180 because the "$150 a year test" is met.

Suppose you pay Harry Jones $125 in 1958—$105 for 21 days at $5 a day, and the balance of $20 for three days on a piecework basis. You must pay taxes on $125 because the "20 days a year test" is met (21 days).

★ ★ ★

In addition to filing the tax return with IRS, you're required to furnish statements of wages and taxes deducted to your employes shortly after the first of the year.

The statement should show your name and address, the employe's name and address, total cash wages paid and taxes deducted. Printed forms are available for this at IRS.

Extend Deadline on Waterford Culture Center

A one-year extension has been made by Frank Steere of Watkins Lake on his offer to donate 17 acres of his estate to Waterford Township for a cultural center.

The offer stipulated that the township be required to present satisfactory proof that a sum of $250,000 be assured for construction of a library and for development of the site.

Deadline for proof had been set for January, 1961.

The extension will be beneficial to the plans of the Waterford Library Committee, promoters of the project, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

★ ★ ★

The property is located on Highland and Pontiac Lake Rds.

Registered voters will be asked to approve the first unit of the library at the April 6 election.

Warns Parents About Child's Attitude

Educator Notes Danger Signals

WASHINGTON (NEA) — You might have more cause for alarm than you think if your child is flunking his school work. His bad report card may indicate he's in for an even worse police record when he grows older.

Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, one of the country's top youth crime authorities and head of a new National Education Association study of juvenile delinquency, believes that there's a close relation between how a child gets along in school and his chances of becoming a teenage lawbreaker.

That's why he warns parents to be on the lookout for several delinquency danger signals in their children's attitude toward school. He emphasizes they shouldn't worry if only one or two of these traits occasionally show up. It's when several combine and become a definte part of a youth's personality that trouble usually can be predicted.

First, Dr. Kvaraceus believes parents should be concerned if a child expresses hatred for school. The Boston University sociologist emphasizes he's not referring to the usual complaints kids make when they would rather play than study. "I mean white heat hate for school and for persons connected with it," he explains.

Disinterest in school work is another indication of potential delinquency. Dr. Kvaraceus explains that it's practically impossible to interest the true delinquent in any type of classroom work.

WANTS TO QUIT

A desire to quit school before graduation also may foretell trouble. He says: "The delinquent intends to leave school as soon as the law will allow. Usually he has no educational or vocational plans for the future."

Dr. Kvaraceus believes these last two danger signals are often combined with another one. And that's the pupil's report card which shows nothing but failing marks. "His lack of interest and his intent to leave school early frequently can be traced to his similar lack of success in the academic program of the school," the sociologist says. "As might be expected, he frequently is held back and is over age for his grade."

This in turn may lead to the fifth delinquency symptom which is truancy. Dr. Kvaraceus says: "In view of the negative school picture, the delinquent tries to solve his school problems by running away. Frequently the truancy represents an emotional recess period from the jibes and insults of the classroom."

AVOIDS JOINING IN

Lack of participation in extra-curricular activities may also indicate potential trouble. Dr. Kvaraceus explains that delinquents seldom take part in organized youth recreation programs because of their complete unwillingness to submit to rules and regulations.

The final symptom is extreme aggressiveness. "In coming to grips with his problems of daily living," the sociologist says, "the delinquent always reacts in an overly aggressive manner. He is always taking it out on property and persons."

If your child is starting to develop these traits, Dr. Kvaraceus recommends that you seek expert help immediately. And the best place to start, he believes, is with the child's teacher.

Dr. Kvaraceus hopes that the nine-month study by the education association will help teachers to better understand juvenile delinquency so that they will know how to handle it in their classrooms. One of the main purposes of the research project, he explains, is to determine the best way that schools can cope with delinquents without neglecting their responsibility of providing a top notch education for all students.

Teachers, doctors, psychologists, sociologists and anthropologists will cooperate in the effort.

Dr. Kvaraceus has also written a special pamphlet on delinquency which includes a list of danger signals for teachers to use in spotting potential delinquents.

TRAIT TO WATCH — "In coming to grips with his problems, the delinquent always reacts in an overly aggressive manner."

100,000 Flee Floods in Central Java Area

JAKARTA (AP) — Floods over vas areas of central Java have driven more than 100,000 persons from their homes in the past 10 days.

No casualties have been reported but preliminary estimates put the damage at nearly $200,000.

The Surakarta area, 300 miles southeast of Jakarta, was hardest hit.

Cliburn Sees Dentist

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Van Cliburn and his Tucson dentist have confirmed that dental work has interrupted the Texas pianist's concert tour. The dentist, who declined use of his name, said the treatment was necessary and Cliburn "should be left alone to have it done."

Land Purchases Will Be Doubled

State Highway Board to Spend $24 Millions for Rights-of-Way

DETROIT (AP) — The State Highway Department will more than double its purchase of right-of-way land this year, Commissioner John C. Mackie reported.

Last year, Mackie said the state paid $12,500,000 for 3,150 parcels of right-of-way.

This year, he told the Michigan chapter of the American Right of Way Assn. here last night, the figure will be upped to 24 million dollars in purchases by the state alone.

In addition, Mackie said the Wayne County Road Commission, acting as agent for the state, will purchase some 15 million dollars of such lands for Detroit expressways.

Mackie said the right-of-way division has been reorganized to take care of the new load.

Changes include a general decentralization program, development of written policies and procedures and trainee recruitment and in-service training programs, he said.

Variety Club Has Given 75 Million to Needy

NEW YORK — The passing show . . .

We know a guy in Cuba who is cleaning up selling Castro beards to ex-Batista men. He'll soon be so rich he won't have to run for political office.

One of the more industrious and certainly pleasant charitable organizations goes under the handle of Variety Clubs International, which has raised and spent $75,000,000 for assorted good causes (including the fostering of foundlings) since being formed in Pittsburgh in 1927.

Presidents Truman and Eisenhower have hailed the work of the group which now numbers 10,000 showmen from all branches of the entertainment industry. The organization's slogan needs no apology. It is "The Heart of Show Business."

It all sprung from an abandoned baby, left in the lobby of Pittsburgh's Sheridan Square Theater on Oct. 14, 1927. A note attached to the child's clothing read, "Please take care of my baby. Her name is Catherine. I can no longer take care of her. I have eight others. My husband is out of work. I have always heard of the goodness of show business and I pray to God that you will look out for her. (Signed) A Heartbroken Mother."

Well, a group of 11 blokes in the entertainment world, including John H. Harris of Ice Capades, took the baby, found a good home for her, named her Catherine Variety Sheridan.

There has been three Catherine Variety Sheridans since then, and many others, including a number of George (abandoned on Washington's birthday in 1936) Variety Barkers.

Circus phraseology is used to tag the facets of Variety. The 46 chapters of the International are called Tents. The whole works is the Circus. The president—George W. Eby of Pittsburgh, currently—is the Chief Barker. A Variety doctor is a Croaker and a retained lawyer a Fixer.

Good crowd. Good works, here in the U.S., in Mexico City, London, Dublin and Toronto. Next week is National Variety Week, if you're looking around for something worthwhile to celebrate.

Man named Alfred R. Globus, president and director of medical research for a chemical corporation in Long Island City, was an ulcer man, one of an estimated 30,000,000 in this country. Had to be rushed twice to a hospital for emergency treatment.

Well, sir, Globus resolved to do something about it. He told his researchers to get to work on a pill whose base might be milk or a reasonable facsimile.

They tried this and that over the ensuing months, then came up with a pill whose chemical base is the proteins of whole milk. They needed a guinea pig—and guess who got the job? Old Alfred Globus himself. Did him so much good the tests have now been expanded to a nationwide sampling.

Naturally, the first 14 men who have volunteered as guinea pigs in the New York area are all in the advertising business—backbone of the ulcer industry in America.

We're the meat-eatingest country in history, and we're getting more so. Meat in 1959 will be better than in '58 and more plentiful, Chicago's American Meat Institute swears on a stack of mimeograph paper. A plentiful feed supply enabled farmers to "finish" out their cattle this past season.

How much meat will we eat this year? Glad you asked that question. Buster—27,000,000,000 pounds. (All that meat and no potatoes.) New Type Cornstarch Not Hard When Cold

WASHINGTON — Federal farm researchers have developed a new and better cornstarch, called cross-linked dicarboxyl, which they say may provide a new industrial outlet for surplus corn.

The new starch is said to yield the usual thick paste when boiled, but, unlike ordinary cornstarch it doesn't harden when it cools. The researchers predict that it will prove valuable as a thickener in foods and cosmetics, and even in oil-well-drilling muds.

Grow 3 Times Faster Than Other Institutions

Junior Colleges Booming

LANSING (UPI) — Community and junior colleges in Michigan are growing three times as fast as other institutions of higher learning, Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, said Wednesday.

Enrollment figures for 1958 showed 16 colleges with increases over 1957 ranging from 3.8 per cent at Northwestern Michigan in Traverse City, to 87 per cent at newly formed Lansing Community College.

* * *

Only one institution: Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn, showed a drop. Most of the gains were between 15 and 40 per cent.

Figures were for fulltime students, taking 12 semester hours of instruction given by the school as representing a full program of study for one person, Bartlett said.

"We would like to see the number of community colleges doubled in the next 10 years," he said.

Seven of Michigan's 17 community and junior colleges were established since 1951. The oldest, Grand Rapids Junior College, was founded in 1914.

* * *

The state growth reflects a national trend which has seen enrollment increase from 196,000 students in 1938 to 892,000 in 1958.

"The advantages of 'commuter colleges' are many, but most important is that they offer high quality training close to home," Bartlett said.

"In these days of 'Lumnjks' and space travel terminal courses in technical subjects are becoming as important in the community colleges as straight academic courses.

"And the need to retrain adults to understand scientific advances is also more vital," he said.

Bartlett said training at the community colleges is on a par with bigger state institutions. A joint association of college governing boards has been formed and includes all members of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents.

"This group is setting up a program to coordinate curricula and eliminate most of the overlapping courses offered," the Michigan school chief said.

"They will also work toward closer cooperation of extension services and off-campus education programs of the large state universities with community colleges," Bartlett said.

In listing advantages of community colleges Bartlett said they:

Encourage those who would not get to college away from home to enroll for more education; provide a chance to find a vocation or profession while staying at home; enhance the value of the community; and have strong appeal for financial aid.

Drivers Take Subway

CHICAGO—A survey shows that the recent opening of a new Chicago subway has reduced downtown auto traffic. The study revealed that one subway rider in 12 on the new line had been driving into the city before the new subway began operation. The subway is the first rapid-transit route in the nation to be built as part of a superhighway system — down the median strip of the Congress Street expressway.

Michigan Prepares to Adopt U.S. Highway Designations

Have you ever dreamed of the time when you could leave New York City by car, get on superhighway Route 12, and stay on the same numbered route all the way to San Francisco?

Such a dream is in the making, says Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

He said a new numbering system for the national network of interstate highways will make its debut in Michigan in early spring. It eventually will permit a motorist to travel coast-to-coast without changing routes, Mackie said.

Destined to come under this more convenient plan are U.S. routes 10 (Woodward avenue) and 24 (Telegraph road) which run through Oakland County.

Portions of these two routes, as well as sections of U.S. 2, 27, 23, and M76, will become part of Interstate 75 which will run from Sault Ste. Marie south to Tampa, Fla.

TOSS OUT MAPS

So once you get on this route you can toss away the road map for your only concern then is to watch for this one number.

This Interstate 75 route will follow the present U.S. 24 north from the Ohio Line to downtown Detroit, there joining the still-to-be-built Walter P. Chrysler Expressway, a section of which is slated to skirt Pontiac on the east.

Mackie said the proposed renumbering ultimately will mean new designations for 1,066 miles of the state's most heavily traveled highways. The renumbering was worked out by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and the American Association of State Highway Officials.

★ ★ ★

Its effect in Michgan also will mean new designations for the present U.S. 12 and 16 (Grand River avenue).

★ ★ ★

U.S. 12 and U.S. 25, between a point at the Indiana line near New Buffalo and Port Huron will become Interstate 94, with a western terminus at San Francisco.

During a transition period of several years, Mackie said, the interstate route signs will constitute a dual route marking.

Starting in a few months on the section of U.S. 16, the shield shape signs will be installed alongside existing route designation standards.

"Only as sections of the interstate system are brought up to federal interstate standards will the new signs be placed," he said.

The new signs, in varying sizes from 24 inches to twice that depth, will have a red horizontal strip at the top of the shield, with the larger low section painted blue.

The shields will be edged in white and the legend "interstate" and route numerals also will be white. The entire sign, background and legend will be reflectorized.

The larger units are designed for erection on overhead structures such as presently are used chiefly for directional guidance, giving route numbers and the name of the next major city ahead.

Mackie said the cost of the new signs, along with general construction on a 90-10 basis on interstate system mileage within Michigan.

Interstate signs already have been erected in many states along new highways.

Dope Addiction Shows Decline

Large Cities Including Detroit Only Exceptions Noted in Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nationwide survey indicates that narcotics addiction in this country is on a downswing—with few exceptions.

Reporting this Wednesday, Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger said the exceptions are a few metropolitan areas, such as New York, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles where "thme problem remains acute."

Writing in the FBI Enforcement Bulletin, Anslinger said the narcotics bureau started a five-year compilation in 1953 of known addicts, based on their contacts with state, local and federal agencies.

At the half-way mark the bureau estimated the survey would turn up a total of 60,000 addicts by the end of 1958.

At the close of the calendar year 1957, Anslinger said, 44,146 addicts had been counted under a system eliminating the possibility of counting any one addict a second time.

In 1956, the report said, 9,296 newly reported addicts were counted but that this dropped to 8,047 in 1957. Although the 1958 tabulation is not complete, the Narcotics Bureau estimates the count may be as low as 7,500.

On this basis, Anslinger wrote, the five-year count will "be considerably less than 60,000 addicts and probably closer to 50,000."

He reported that of those thus far tabulated, about 60 per cent are between the ages of 21 and 30, and 12 per cent under 21.

On a race basis, the report showed 59 per cent of the total addict population to be Negro, with white addicts representing 39 per cent.

Jaycees Hunting 'Man of Year' in Waterford

Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce members are again looking for a "Man of the Year."

Deadline date for applications is Friday, Jan. 16, according to chairman Ernie Ash.

Selection of the township's outstanding young man is made on the basis of job efficiency and other services rendered in the interest of community betterment.

Many community, church and other organization leaders have been asked to present qualified candidates to help a panel of five judges make the final selection.

Application blanks are available at various stores throughout the township, or from any Jaycee member.

Court Order Halts Picketing at Mill

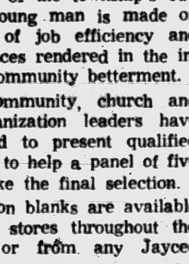

ONTONAGON (AP) — A temporary restraining order was issued yesterday to halt picketing at the Huss-Ontonagon mill here.

Circuit Judge Robert Wright issued the order against the Lake State Timber Workers District Council, an affiliate of the United Carpenters and Joiners of Michigan.

The injunction was requested by 12 independent pulp and forest products producers against 12 pickets and the coupcil's secretary-treasurer Ray W allick of Iron River.

The mill has been picketed for about six weeks in an attempt to stop deliveries from nonunion pulp suppliers.

Father Appeals Neglect Ruling

Seeking Custody of Afflicted Girl Cared For by Couple

CADILLAC (AP)—The father of a four-year-old girl who suffers from an incurable affliction goes to court today to appeal a ruling that he neglected the child by allowing others to care for her.

Martin Klein, a Latvian refugee, is seeking custody of Rose Marke Klein who had lived for two years with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Zelinski of Grand Rapids.

Yesterday, Circuit Judge Leonard D. Verdier dismissed a warrant in Grand Rapids charging the Zelinskis with violating a section of the kidnap statute. They were accused of taking a child under the age of 14 with intent to conceal her from her father.

The judge ruled that no crime was committed when the Zelinskis left their Grand Rapids home June 20 and went to Cadillac, taking the girl with them.

He noted that they had done this previously without objection from the father, who was paying them $60 a month to care for Rose who is suffering from an affliction of connective tissues of the body. The girl's mother died in March 1955.

Last June, Klein had notified the Zelinski couple that he was to be married again and that he would want the child returned in July.

Judge Verdier ruled that there was no proof of any malicious, forcible or fraudulent leading, taking or carrying away of the child when the Zelinskis went to Cadillac.

Train, Air Time Equal

TOKYO — A trunk-line railroad, expected to cost $223,300,000, is to be built between Tokyo and Osaka. Trains traveling 100 miles an hour over the line will offer an over-all time of 3 hours, the same as offered by airline service between the two cities.

Egg Shell Prehistonic

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet scientist reported discovery of the shells of an ostrich egg "about a million years" old. Tass News Agency quoted Prof. V. Bazghanov of the Kazakhistan Zoology Institute as saying the eggshells were found in the central Asian Republic.

Waterford Residents Heed Tax Deadline

Waterford Township residents are responding to a warning that after Jan. 20 there will be a 4 per cent penalty on all unpaid taxes, according to Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson.

So far tax collections total about $756,000, which is $160,000 more than at the same time last year. About 30 per cent of the 40,000 tax statements sent to property owners have been paid, she said.

Township offices now are open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. other weekdays. On Saturday, the offices are open from 9 a.m. to noon.

But He Probably Won't Show the President a Copy

White House Aide Amused by Ike Parody

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House:

When President Eisenhower a few weeks back named David Kendall as his special counsel, members of the President's staff applauded and predicted the personable Michigan lawyer would go places.

While Eisenhower was in Gettysburg over New Year's, Kendall did just that. He went to the New Year's Day party given by Clark Clifford, who was counsel to former President Truman.

★ ★ ★

Clifford, now engaged in a lucrative private law practice, associates with top Republicans as well as his old friends from the Democratic Party.

The highball glasses had hardly been put away at the Cliffords before the society pages blossomed forth with stories about the party.

Clifford, as part of a program of family entertainment for the guests, read an elaborate spoof of Eisenhower's forthcoming State of the Union message. Clifford gravely said he had got ten hold of an advance copy.

Actually, it was rather pointed satire. One of the town's top society columnists, Betty Beale, called the Clifford satire of Eisenhower "a pearl of ambiguity, nonsequitur and high-flown platitudes."

★ ★ ★

Kendall plunged into the spirit of things and expressed quite an appreciation of the spoofing. The society sections reported that Eisenhower's new counsel thought so much of the take-off that he asked Clifford for a copy so he could show it to the President. He seemed confident the boss would get a bang out of it.

★ ★ ★

Came the dawn, in Gettysburg and White House couriers, stayed by neither sleet nor snow, got through with all sorts of official documents — and the Washington papers.

Then these interesting items began to seep out of the otherwise frozen Eisenhower farm:

—Kendall was being referred to, spoofingly of course, as "the former counsel."

—Men who have been around Eisenhower much longer than Kendall were willing to bet a hundred to one that the counsel never shows the Clifford script to the President, or for that matter, even mentions it.

—Kendall does not walk in, or out of the President's office at will. When he wants to see the President, he has to arrange it through higher ranking members of the staff.

As someone close to Eisenhower remarked after reading the account of the party:

"Somehow I just can't picture Dave Kendall or anyone else walking in to the boss and saying, 'Mr. President, Clark Clifford who used to work for Harry Truman had a party the other day and he really kidded the pants off your State of the Union message. I thought you'd like to see it.'"

★ ★ ★

Another White House veteran closed his eyes and mused:

"Can't you just see it: Dave says, 'Yessir, Mr. President, everybody got a terrific kick out of this part where you talk about never dealing in personalities, but how you do want to say a word or two for George Washington.

"'Mr. President, why are you looking at me that way?

"'For heavens sake, Mr. President, you don't have to ring for the secret service. This was just good fun. Attorney General Rogers was there. I wasn't the only one. No sir, I didn't say Rogers laughed.

"'Mr. President, please, I implore you, put down that putter. . . .'"

Consumers Sets Record

JACKSON (AP) — The Consumers Power Co., has set a new record for the amount of natural gas piped to its customers in a 24-hour period. A total of 608 million cubic feet of gas went out Monday. The old record of 575,000,000 was set Feb. 17, 1958.

An estimated 40,000,000 Americans changed their addresses during 1957 compared with slightly more than 30,000,000 in 1953.

INSTALLMENT XXI

Angus went downstairs to the office, to give orders that the police were to be informed of what had taken place. He kept his manner calm, but his mind was heavy with depression.

Four days—four incidents. Somebody had tried the bolts of the garage door, Maurice Tarrant had attempted to enter the garage. Lionel Yule's dispatch case had vanished—and reappeared.

★ ★ ★

And now somebody had stolen Maurice Tarrant's luggage—and while had it seemed likely that he might have had something to do with the disappearance of the dispatch case, it was impossible to imagine him stealing his own luggage.

The incidents, which so far as Angus had tended to regard as merely irritating, now began to assume a more serious aspect.

If his own job, he mused, had been a permanent one, he would almost have suspected that somebody was working very hard to bring about his dismissal.

One mishap would have been regrettable; four were altogether too much.

Nobody, not even Sir Claud, could say that he could be held to blame for any of them, but the incidents, and his own inexperience, would be bracketed and the inevitable conclusion drawn.

FERDY GLUM TOO

He would not have thought, a week ago, that he would have been so depressed at the thought of disappointing Sir Claud.

He went outside, to find Ferdy downcast and obviously bewildered.

He had little to say about the affair, but it was clear that he was thinking that upsets of this kind had never before occurred to mar the smooth progress of a trip.

Passing through the hall on his way upstairs, Angus saw Maurice talking to Mr. Holt. After a moment's hesitation, he walked up to them and addressed Tarrant.

"I don't need to tell you—personally as well as officially—that I'm sorry this has happened."

Maurice waved a hand.

"Not your fault, my dear fellow. No blame attached to you or to the company."

"Their rule," Angus told him, "is to cover passengers' losses on the route, so if you'll give me a list of—"

"We were just talking about that, Holt and I," Maurice broke in. "He's just offered me dollars in return for a sterling check, so that I could get myself some replacements."

"That was kind, and I'm grateful," said Angus, "but the company will take care of it."

"'Tisn't money that's needed, thanks all the same," said Maurice. "It's time I want. I can buy a suit off the peg, I daresay, but I'll need a day to get it altered to fit me."

There was a pause.

'CAN'T ALTER SCHEDULE'

"I'm afraid," said Angus slowly, "that I can only give you money. I can't alter the time schedule of the coach."

"Nobody's asking you to keep the coach here for weeks," said Maurice. "All I need is a day."

"I'm sorry," said Angus.

Maurice stared at him in amazement.

"But. . .but you're not serious?"

"Why isn't he serious?" asked Mr. Holt in his leisurely way. "You may not be traveling on a strict schedule, but some of the other passengers are.

"Me, for one. Lord Lorrimer, for another. He told me he's got to be in Lisbon on the 25th. Well, so've I. So's Mr. Zoller."

"But it's absurd!" Maurice's voice rose. "It's preposterous! Here I am, standing in a pair of pajamas and a borrowed dressing gown and not another stitch to my name, and you expect me to rush out into those hot streets and chase wildly round outfitting myself completely in the space of a few hours!"

★ ★ ★

"I'm sorry," said Angus again. "It's bad luck and I'll do everything I can to help you, but I can't hold the coach."

"You mean you won't," said Maurice.

"I mean that I can't. I'm an employe of a company which has guaranteed to get passengers to Lisbon on the 25th of this month. We—"

"Time tables only operate," said Maurice, "if nothing comes up to cause a holdup. Planes are late, trains are late, buses are late—and so the passengers don't arrive at the exact moment they've told their friends to expect them, and that's all there is to it.

"The passengers can't do anything about it. In the present case, a passenger loses his pants and the coach waits a day to give him a chance to buy a new pair. What's wrong with that?"

Christ Child Returned to Monastery

DETROIT (AP) — A plaster figure of the Christ Child, missing since New Year's weekend from a nativity scene at St. Bonaventure monastery here, was returned Tuesday night.

Attached was a note, which said: "I'm writing you to tell why I borrowed Jesus and his manger, also the sheep, because it was for a special occasion which I cannot tell.

"But it wasn't for anything wrong. I didn't mean any harm or cause anyone any trouble which seems I have done. I am deeply sorry about all that has happened. Please forgive me."

It was signed "A Forsaken Friend."

The Capucian brothers had placed a sign in the creche saying, "Please say a prayer for the person that took the Infant from His Mother.

Thieves Nab $3,500, Overlook $35,000

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Thieves who took at least $3,500 in special assessment funds in a burglary at the Battle Creek Township treasurer's office overlooked some $35,000 in a metal file cabinet they had pried open.

Treasurer Ray Cameron said the intruders forced the door to his office in a converted fire station and pried open the metal cabinet which held the funds, in the Tuesday night burglary. The loot was taken from one cabinet drawer, Cameron said, but another drawer with the larger amount was unopened.

Cameron said a late rush of payments kept his office open past banking hours.

Nixon's Observations May Give Pointers

GOP Could Learn From Britain's Tories

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—America's Republicans can learn a political trick or two from Britain's Conservative Party.

And the man who should be able to tell them about it first-hand is U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon after his last visit here.

He found that Prime Minster Harold Macmillan and his Tory government have staged a remarkable comeback in popularity in recent months after languishing in the public-doghouse for nearly a year.

PRIME MINISTER Macmillan: A year ago, an Edwardian dandy . . .

Although British politics are hardly for export, the American Vice President no doubt will take pointers which can be applied to the Republican Party's waning fortunes.

Less than a year ago Macmillan's Conservative government appeared to be headed for disaster as it applied the brakes to inflation. The credit squeeze, wage restraint, rent decontrol, all the measures that the government took to keep Britian solvent, made it tremendously unpopular.

★ ★ ★

There was widespread grumbling, particularly among the depressed middle classes and those with fixed incomes, who were given no income tax relief.

Also, Britain's crisis was one of lack of confidence in its leaders. "The old trusted leaders are gone," this correspondent wrote in January, 1958, adding that "the new ones have yet to establish themselves."

STRONG LEADER NOW

Now all this has changed. In Harold Macmillan the Conservatives have a leader who can carry them to victory in 1959, in the opinion of most foreign observers here.

The emergence of Macmillan from the "faceless ranks," as the new leaders were called a year ago, and his growing popularity with British voters are two of the most remarkable aspects of the new Conservative revival.

A year ago the popular image of Macmillan was that of an Edwardian dandy who spent his time grouse-shooting with dukes.

Today, this image has been replaced by one of Macmillan as a dynamic leader, a man of action and decision. The change became noticeable lasa summer, when without hesitation Macmillan dispatched British troops to Jordan in response to King Hussein's appeal for help.

When the knotty Cyprus problem required him to take a personal hand, Macmillan did not hesitate to travel to Ankara and Athens in search of a peaceful solution.

Part of Macmillan's increased popularity lies in his mastery of television technique. These days, thanks to expert handling, Macmillan comes across superbly on the TV screen as a warm, appealing personality.

Macmillan's television success has brought Labor Party wrath on his head. The prime minister is being sold to the public like a detergent, his Labor opponents accuse.

CRITICISM BACKFIRES

Macmillan is being given the full Madison Avenue treatment, according to Labor, which claims that the advertising agency of Colman, Prentis and Varley have been hired to handle him along with other name brands (the agency's accounts include Chocolate Penguins, Munchmallows, and Amplex, a deodorant).

It is indicative of the new mood here that most of these criticisms are falling wide of their mark, the Labor name-calling campaign actually serving as a boomerang.

On the wider front, Macmillan's Tory government has benefited greatly from the fact that the business recession has been slow in hitting here, and as yet they have not had to contend with unemployment on the scale the Eisenhower administration has in the States.

Although delayed, the recession is beginning to be felt here, however, and unemployment now stands at over the half million mark, or 2.3 per cent.

The Macmillan government is taking energetic measures to combat unemployment. Most of these are of the pump-priming variety — easing home ownership credits and relaxing installment buying restrictions.

To his own credit, Macmillan can point with pride to the fact that since he took office as prime minister less than two years ago inflation has been banished and the cost of living index stabilized. Not only that, but the pound sterling is now safe and firm abroad, with gold and dollar reserves rising.

Expansion, opportunity, incentives—this is the face the British Conservatives present to the electorate with the general election looming in six months. And this is what Vice President Nixon will probably be expounding to the GOP in months to come.

As Macmillan remarked recently, the Conservatives now make the British Socialists look old-fashioned. "What a musty, period flavor they have now," the premier declared, referring to the Labor Party." They have an air of lavender and old lace, but the arsenic is there, too.

"Our accent is on youth," he continued. "The emphasis in all our discussions has been on the present and the future."

MACMILLIAN TODAY—Dynamic leader, a man of action and decision.

Says Wayne Would Retain Entity

Hilberry Talks to Hare

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, president of Wayne State University, yesterday discussed his Wayne-University of Michigan merger proposal with Secretary of State James M. Hare, a Wayne alumnus.

★ ★ ★

Afterwards, Hare said he was assured that Wayne would "retain its separate entity and character" if the plan went through.

"Hilberry said that appropriation requests would be transmitted by Wayne officials directly to U. of M. regents, and not routed through U. of M. administrators," he said.

Hilberry was accompanied by Arthur Neef, provost and vice president, and Frank Touhey, public relations director. They wanted to see Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, but Bartlett was out of town.

★ ★ ★

Hare said that before he committed himself on the proposal he wanted to talk it over with friends among the Wayne staff and alumni.

The merger, if promptly approved by the legislature, would cancel the necessity — under existing law — of electing a six-member Wayne governing board at the April 6 spring election.

Ancient Castle Is Home of Astronomer Royal

LONDON—Herstmonceux Castle in Sussex, near Bexhill, was built in 1440, is surrounded by a broad moat, and was one of the earlier important medieval buildings in Britain to be constructed of brick.

It now belongs to the Royal Greenwich Observatory and houses its library. One wing forms the official residence of the astronomer royal. Various buildings on the ground house the telescopes and other astronomical equipment, all of which has been removed from Greenwich.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Malcolm Moos, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower and a University of Michigan Alumnus, will speak at the university Jan. 15.

Boss Yells, Clerks Hit the Deck

NEW YORK (AP) — When the boss yells, everybody jumps, stands at attention or, as in this case, lies down.

Augustus C. Froeb, senior trustee of the Marlboro branch of the Lincoln Savings Bank of Brooklyn — 75, but still sprightly — sailed into the bank Wednesday and yelled:

"Everybody lie down on the floor!"

So everybody — all eight employes and four customers — lay down on the floor.

Charles Roppolo, 40, chief clerk, sounded a burglar alarm. He didn't recognize Froeb, who was wearing dark glasses.

Two weeks ago four gunmen had robbed the bank of $72,000 and employes were still jittery.

As the alarm sounded, bank guard Frank Friel whipped out his revolver, three detectives in the bank vicinity dashed in, and cops came swarming into the place.

★ ★ ★

By that time Paul McGuirk, the bank manager, recognized the boss and bellowed, "It's all right. It's Mr. Froeb, the trustee. He's okay."

The gun in Friel's hand wobbled. "My God, it's the boss," he muttered.

The police were stern with Froeb. Det. Sam Botwinick told him: "You're lucky you didn't get hurt."

★ ★ ★

Froeb was apologetic. "I'm sorry," he said, "I did it to see if everyone was alert."

Red Germany Agrees to Control Lifelines

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German government notified Russia officially today it would accept control of all Berlin's lifelines and force the Western Powers to negotiate with it for permission to supply their forces here.

A note handed to Soviet Ambassador G. M. Pervukhin said East Germany would take over control of the land and air routes running to the city through East German territory. The note was in answer to a Soviet note of Nov. 27 proposing West Berlin be made a free, demilitarized city.

The East German reply denounced the Western occupation of the city in the harshest terms and showed no sign that the Communists had backed down on the original Soviet demand that the West quit Berlin.

Garden City Woman Surrenders to Police, Admits Taking $14,000

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Louise Milhorn, accused by her employer of embezzling up to $72,000, was free today on $5,000 bond pending examination in Recorder's Court Jan. 28.

The hefty 32-year-old woman stood mute at her arraignment yesterday before Judge Joseph A. Gillis. Judge Gillis ordered a plea of innocent entered.

Mrs. Milhorn, who weighed about 250 pounds when she vanished Dec. 12, surrendered through an attorney yesterday.

She is charged specifically with the theft of $552 from her employer, F & E. Sales Corp.

However, Fred A. Ettinger, company secretary-treasurer, said an audit showed the actual amount missing was at least $72,000.

Mrs. Milhorn said she took $14,000 and spent part of it on buying a boat for her husband and built part of it in her suburban Garden City home.

Police said she told them her husband, John, 35, knew of the money and that it was stolen.

BRAND NEW, AND BIG, TOO — A huge example of the new 49-star American flag is spread out in a Clifton, N. J., high school gymnasium. Twelve employes of a local flag and banner company completed the flag in 23 hours. It measures 40 by 60 feet and weighs 200 pounds. It was ordered by a New York City department store.

Strike Proves Importance of News Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The yule tide strike shutdown of nine New York City newspapers has given advertisers a "new awareness that newspapers are vital to them," a trade group reports on the basis of a survey.

★ ★ ★

The Newsprint Information Committee, composed of a representative group of Canadian newsprint producers, conducted a canvass on the effects of the newspaper blackout here.

A strike by the Newspaper and Mail Deliveries Union (Ind.) led to a newspaper shutdown for 19 days, which ran three days past Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Some of the results of the canvas, announced Wednesday were:

Executives of a wide variety of stores said that emergency advertising on radio and television and in subways cost them more and generally was less satisfactory than newspaper advertising.

These executives—of department stores, specialty shops, discount houses and others—said they have no intention of increasing their use of radio, TV and subway media next Christmas season.

The canvassing committee estimated a 50-million-dollar loss to the community and industry and labor from the strike.

Traffic Survey to Decide If Sault Bridge Advisable

DETROIT (AP) — A new traffic survey has been ordered to determine financial feasibility of a proposed $18,198,000 international toll bridge between the sister Sault Ste. Maries of Michigan and Ontario.

Michigan and Ontario governments verbally have agreed to underwrite approaches to the main spans at a combined cost of $8,977,000, which would leave only $9,221,000 to finance through revenue bonds to be repaid via tolls.

The new traffic survey, which would bring to date one made in 1956, is to be made by Coverdale and Colpitts, New York engineering consultants. Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said completion was anticipated within 30 days.

A group of six bond underwriting firms then would determine whether and under what conditions bonds could be marketed to finance the bridge.

The financial group, which also participated in financing the 100-million-dollar Straits of Mackinac Bridge, was represented by Duncan C. Gray, vice president of B. J. Van Ingen & Co., Inc., of New York, at a meeting with Michigan and Ontario authorities here yesterday.

While none would discuss details of possible financing, Lawrence (Larry) Rubin, who is secretary of both the International Bridge Authority and the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said he was optimistic.

The overall $18,198,000 cost estimate came from Dr. D. B. Steinman, designer of the Mackinac and other world famous bridges. It is for a two-lane, 11,000-foot-long structure.

The 1956 Coverdale and Colpitts survey indicated that at that time traffic across the St. Marys River at the Soo wasn't sufficient to support issuance of bonds in the then hard, high interest bond market.

The bond market bridge proponents said, has softened some since and 1958 traffic totaled 1,738,054 persons. There were 413,150 vehicles carried by ferries, now the only mode of transportation between the two cities.

James N. Allan, Ontario treasurer and its former minister of highways, estimated the trading area now has 100,000 population, with more than 20,000 in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and some 60,000 in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

He said traffic trends were upward.

Dr. Steinman recommended a bridge rather than a tunnel to connect U.S. Highway 2 and Ontario Highway 17.

He estimated a tunnel would cost $27,500,000, take 36 months to build and require $475,000 a year for operation and maintenance. On the other hand, he said an $18,198,000 bridge could be built in 18 months and would require but $325,000 a year for operation and maintenance.

Discussion of a tunnel then was dropped.

Shoots Husband Twice in Double Accident

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Grady D. Hendrix was wiping off a .22 automatic pistol she and her husband kept on a table in their trailer home.

It went off and hit Hendrix in the ankle. The shock startled her so much that her hand tightened and the gun went off again. Hendrix was hit in the other ankle.

Lake Diversion Battle Resumes

Bill in Congress Asks Trial of Chicago Plan to Draw Michigan Water

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over Chicago's controversial efforts to divert additional water from Lake Michigan began anew yesterday as the 86th Congress opened.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien (D-Ill) introduced a bill that would permit Chicago to divert an extra 1,000 cubic feet per second from Lake Michigan for one year on a trial basis.

President Eisenhower twice has vetoed similar measures to divert Lake Michigan water to the Illinois waterway. Such a bill was passed last year by the House but died in the Senate.

Chicago's attempts to draw additional water from the lake have been opposed by Canada and several Great Lakes states including Michigan. The opponents contend additional diversion would endanger shipping and hydroelectric projects by lowering water levels in the Lakes.

O'Brien's bill was given the number "H.R. 1," a prized distinction at the opening of each new Congress.

Chaplin Son Believes Dad May Return

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Charlie Chaplin's son said today the self-exiled comedian may be paving the way for his return to the United States with his payment of 425,000$ in back taxes.

"He might be thinking of returning," said Chaplin's actor son, Charlie Jr., 33, who in the past has scoffed at reports that his father was contemplating coming back.

"It's logical to assume that when a man pays 425,00$0 he usually has some reason," added the comedian's closest Hollywood friend, Tim Durant, a retired Beverly Hills, Calif., stock broker.

The Internal Revenue Service announced in Washington last Dec. 29 that Chaplin, now living in Switzerland, had settled out of court a five-year hassle in which he owed $700,000 in taxes.

A Major Problem for '59 Legislature

Huge Welfare Load Burdens State

By DALE ARNOLD

LANSING (UPI) — The growing welfare load of the state will be one of the main matters of concern for the 1959 Legislature, according to a poll of the lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

For the first time, with perhaps one minor exception, the Social Welfare Department took over full welfare aid to 10 Michigan counties in 1958. The state is footing the full welfare bill for Detroit also — meaning about an additional eight million dollars.

The Social Welfare Department is seking a $14,000,000 deficiency appropriation.

"The welfare problem must be licked," said Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), "but it could remedy itself with more employment."

Several of the lawmakers polled urged a 50-50 basis for state aidin place of the present 70 per cent for local and 30 per cent state aid called for in the statutes.

The state takes over full payments when the county exceeds its specified tax money level for welfare. That was the situation in Detroit and the 10 counties. Those counties, being on a calendar basis for finances, went off the 100 per cent support plan at the end of 1958—but Detroit, on a June-to-June money calendar, stays on.

More counties are expected to get the full relief aid during this year.

Rep. Clarence Meggison (R-Charlevoix) said that because valuation counties have proportionately higher welfare rolls, he thought a 50-50 formula should be adopted. Rep. James Warner (R-Ypsilanti) approved the 50-50 split but urged that counties get more control over welfare aid and hospitalization.

Engstrom said the present formula was all right but "no formula would be adequate when the welfare load is as high as it has been lately."

Rep. George F. Montgomery (D-Detroit), a freshman legislator, called for a formula "less unfavorable to industrial counties," while another Detroit Democrat, Rep. E. D. O'Brien said "each county (should) take care of its own needs."

URGES CLOSE SCRUTINY

Rep. Carroll C. Newton (R-Delton) said a closer watch should be kept on requirements for individual welfare payments. He urged revision of the Aid to Dependent Children program "to assure that money is used for the children as intended" but wanted no change in the 70-30 formula.

Rep. Don Pears (R-Buchanan) said there would be an attempt in the session to change the formula, but questioned if there would be enough votes to carry the proposal.

The Battle Creek Enquirer and News recently commented on the welfare situation in Calhoun County.

In an editorial, the newspaper said there was "a surprisingly tolerant attitude" by welfare workers toward aid recipients and pointed out a case of one woman with nine "admittedly illegitimate" children who had been receiving aid for seven years.

Welfare Director W. J. Maxey admitted workers "can make mistakes, but we could have covered up the case. We aren't in the business of covering up mistakes and even asked for prosecution."

"Why blame the agency when this happens," he said. "It's like blaming the police when a robbery is committed. It's largely the fault of the recipient, isn't it?"

★ ★ ★

The editorial cited a 168 per cent hike in welfare costs in the county during the 1950-57 period, while population rose only 14 per cent. "If the cost skyrockets another 168 per cent in the next seven years, it will be too late to ask questions," the paper said.

It's certain some of these questions will be asked during the next several weeks of the Michigan Legislative session.

Invites Fire Inspection of All Waterford Schools

Although Waterford Township schools are checked periodically for possible fire hazards, Supt. William Shunck has asked that the state fire marshall make a complete investigation of all 23 schools in the district.

More than half of the schools have been constructed during the last 10 years, complying with state building specifications.

Only one of the older buildings, Waterford Village School, has a small wooden stairway leading to the second floor. The other four 2-story schools have concrete stairs with ample room for quick exits, Shunck said. These were built approximately 30 years ago.

There are two, 2-room portable wooden buildings in use back of the Drayton Plains School, and one portable at the Covert School. These are of one-floor construction and are heated by the central heating plant of the main buildings.

Shunck explained that one of the greatest dangers of fire would be in the type of engine room that has a central fan system installation. In the event a fire got started there, the fans could shoot the fumes through the ventilation system.

There are no such installations in Waterford schools. Most of the fans are installed on the roofs of the older buildings.

★ ★ ★

The state law requires that each school have 10 fire drills during the year. Most of these are held early in the school year to acquaint the children immediately with their respective exits.

"At the present time, pupils have been thoroughly drilled in procedures in leaving their school building in case of fire or a comparable emergency," Shunck said.

Fire extinguishers, hose and alarm equipment are thoroughly checked once a month by maintenance men, and the possibility of spontaneous combustion has all but been eliminated, Shunck said.

Blind Man Divulges Toothpaste Technique

DES MOINES (AP) — Robert R. Moore, rehabilitation counselor for the Iowa Commission for the Blind, who has been blind all his life, was asked how he manages to squirt toothpaste onto his toothbrush with any accuracy.

The answer: He doesn't. Moore says he squirts the toothpaste onto his tongue, then puts it on the brush.

He says the tip of the tongue is sensitive enough to tell you how much toothpaste you're getting.

Return $4,000 Bracelet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Rupert Loza picked up a piece of what he thought was costume jewelry in the mud near a hotel and gave it to his young daughter, who carelessly tied it to her favorite rag doll — until the bracelet was identified in the lost and found ads as platinum with 21 diamonds, valued at $4,000. The Lozas returned it.

Kids Can Sure Create Havoc in Stores

NEW YORK (UPI) — Toddlers on the loose are prematurely aging supermarket clerks and managers across the land.

To a toddler, there is joy in pulling one orange from the bottom of a neat pyramid. Done right, the whole thing tumbles down.

On the bottled goods department, nothing attracts like the skinny neck of the catsup bottle. It's easy to pick up and has inherent ability to slip — accident - like — out of pint - sized hands that are "Just Lookin' " for smashing success.

Little fingers succumb easily to the temptation of a meat package stowed on the lower shelf of a supermarket cart. Poked properly, the thing squirts juice.

Unwrapping those paper rolls mommy gets for the bathroom produces untold delight. Provided, of course, the young tormentor can make the tissue trail like a kite's tail while he — or she — runs up and down aisles.

Rare pleasure from pushing other people's carts. Pop chases after, but before he can apprehend the bundle of humanity on the loose, many strangers are apt to get bumped.

Imprisoning the youngster in those seats in the carts takes its toll of adult nervous systems, too. There is an occasional scream. When mommies aren't looking, the young things have been seen dropping canned goods on eggs.

At the check-out counter, little fingers push cash register buttons — the money or the clerk isn't looking.

At this point, smacks are futile and the toddlers get a quick trip to the car. But seldom is there crying. In another week, they know, it will be time to shop again.

MANAGER RESIGNED

Acknowledging the wear and tear, one supermarket manager I know told me:

"That's why I have gray hair. But what can we do? Marketing would be less hectic if toddlers were included in legislation that forbids customers to bring dogs into the store.

"But how could we support such legislation. As great American institutions," we endorse togetherness."

His trembling hands held several dozen of the stamp-sized price markers a playful youngster, in one fell swoop, had just liberated from brackets on an aisle-long shelf.

* * *

"It will take one hour to replace these," he added; "But let's be honest. The kids are an occupational hazard in this business."

Bake Appetizers Puffy, Brown

A bide-the-tidbit-time is Deviled Appetizer Puffs, once again a deviled ham combination that has a special holiday flare for fanciful food fare. Try this:

Deviled Appetizer Puffs

Few sprigs parsley
1 family size (4½ oz.) can deviled ham
1 small can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 egg, separated
Heavy cream
Seasoning to taste
Bread or unsalted crackers

Drain mushrooms thoroughly and mince fine with parsley. Mix with deviled ham, egg yolk and 1 or 2 tablespoons heavy cream. Season to taste. Spread mixture on bread fingers or unsalted crackers. Beat egg white until very stiff, then spread over deviled mixture using small spatula.

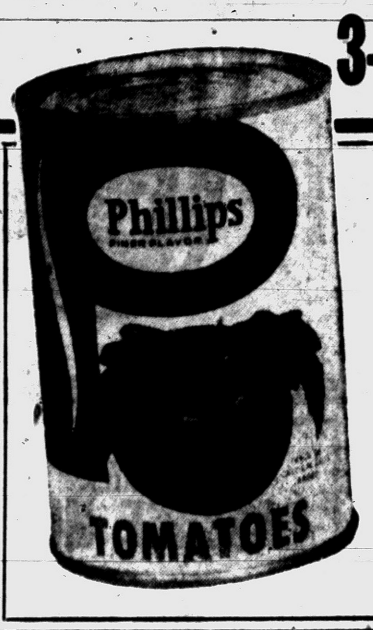

Place bread fingers on lightly greased baking sheet; unsalted crackers on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 10 minutes, or until puffed and golden. Serve at once. Makes about 20 appeitzers.

Delicate Cake a Change From Rich Food

A delightfully tender and flavorous sponge cake.

Lemon Sponge Cake

¾ cup sifted cake flour
2 tablespoons potato flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs (separated)
1 cup finely granulated sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Sift together the cake flour, potato flour and salt three times. In a 2-quart bowl, beat egg whites with rotary beater (hand or electric) until stiff enough to hold straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn; beat in ¾ cup of the sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time.

In a 1-quart bowl, without washing beater, beat egg yolks, lemon juice and water enough to mix. Add remaining ½ cup sugar; beat until thick and lemon colored. Fold in grated lemon rind. Fold egg-yolk mixture into egg-white mixture. Sift and fold in flour, a little at a time.

Turn into ungreased tube pan (9 by 3½ inches deep); bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Invert on wire rack until cool — about 1 hour. Loosen edges of cake from sides of pan and tube with spatula or knife; turn cake out of pan. Sprinkle top with confectioners sugar before serving.

Build Edible Snowman From Three Cream Puffs

Ever dream of "eating a snowman"? You can, you know . . . that is, a Cream Puff Snowman. What fun it is to make little snowmen out of cream puffs — fill them with ice cream and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. They'll delight every member of your family — and all your guests, too!

And they're so easy to make with Cream Puff Mix. Just shape the puffs into the three various sizes according to the directions . . . fill with your favorite flavor ice cream . . . and sprinkle with "snow" (confectioners' sugar).

For the decorations, you can use raisin bits for eyes, candied cherry sliver for mouth, and red cinnamon candies for buttons. Then, serve them just as they are, or with your favorite sundae sauce.

Cream Puff Snowmen

1 stick Cream Puff Mix
1 quart ice cream
Confectioners' sugar
Raisins, candied cherries, red cinnamon candies

Prepare cream puff mix as directed on pkg. Make small cream puffs using a teaspoonful, tablespoonful, and rounded tablespoonful for measures. Make an equal number of each size, about 10. Bake 15 to 25 minutes.

The smallest ones may be removed a little while before the others. Cool. Cut tops from puffs saving the tops from smallest ones. Fill all puffs generously with ice cream. Stack together in three's, placing largest puffs on the bottom and smallest ones on top. Replace tops on smallest puffs.

Sieve confectioners' sugar "snow" over each snowman. Freeze until firm. Decorate using raisin bits for eyes, candied cherry sliver for mouth, and red cinnamon candies for buttons. Fasten decorations on with a paste of confectioners' sugar and water.

Return snowmen to freezer and remove about 10 minutes before serving. Serve with your favorite sundae sauce, if desired. Makes about 10 snowmen.

★ ★ ★

Success Tips: Store each snowman, when formed, in freezer. Remove to decorate and then store again in freezer until serving time.

A refreshing dessert after a big dinner is fresh fruits marinated in lemon-lime carbonated beverage. One 7-ounce bottle is enough for four servings of fruit.

Basic Sweet Dough a Time Saver

Too often, the lively pace of modern living allows little time to sit down and enjoy a leisurely breakfast. In some cases, this important meal is skipped entirely or is too skimpy to give adequate nourishment.

Despite the many activities crowding our busy schedule, it is possible today to prepare an appetizing morning meal if you plan ahead the dishes that you'll serve. For example, here is an easy recipe for a sweet basic dough which can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until needed.

With this prepared dough, you can make several varieties of sweet treats such as Cheese Ring, Sugar Twists and Pecan Rolls, that will turn any ordinary breakfast into an inviting and pleasurable meal.

Basic Sweet Dough

2 cups milk, scalded
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
3 eggs, well beaten
2 envelopes dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
6 cups sifted flour

Pour scalded milk into large bowl. Stir in sugar, salt and butter. Let stand until lukewarm. Blend in eggs. Sprinkle yeast on lukewarm water and stir until yeast is dissolved. Add to milk mixture. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and set in warm place until doubled in bulk.

Turn out on floured board and knead dough until smooth and not sticky. Place in greased bowl and cover. Store in refrigerator until needed.

★ ★ ★

Variation No. 1 Cheese Ring

4 tablespoons butter, melted
¾ cup American cheese, grated
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup raisins

Remove dough from refrigerator and punch down. Divide in thirds. Store two-thirds in refrigerator.

Place one-third portion on floured board and knead lightly. Roll out into rectangle ¼ inch thick. Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle grated cheese, brown sugar and raisins over dough. Roll up lengthwise, cut in half. Form each half into a circle on a buttered baking sheet.

Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375 degrees about 30 minutes. Remove one-third portion of dough from refrigerator and place on floured board. Knead lightly. Roll into a rectangle about 12 inches wide.

Brush rolled out dough with melted butter; sprinkle sugar-nut mixture over surface. Roll lightly, with rolling pin to make filling stick to dough. Fold dough over one-quarter, repeat until a four-layer strip is formed.

Cut off pieces about ¾ inch wide. Twist each piece. Dredge with rest of sugar and place on greased baking sheets. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees for about 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from pans and cool on racks. Yield: 18-20 Sugar Twists.

Variation No. 3, Pecan Rolls

Softened butter
½ cup chopped raisins
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1½ cups brown sugar
½ cup water
Pecan halves

Take one-third portion of refrigerated dough and place on floured board. Roll into rectangle ¼ inch thick. Spread with softened butter, raisins and cinnamon. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut into 2-inch pieces.

★ ★ ★

Combine 1 cup sugar and water; boil to a thick syrup. Grease muffin pans; using remaining sugar, sprinkle about one teaspoon of sugar in muffin well. Then pour about 1 tablespoon syrup in each muffin well. Place a few pecan halves, round side down, over syrup. Place rolls cut-side down in each well on top of pecan halves. Let rise until doubled in bulk.

Bake at 375 degrees for about 15 minutes. Invert pans and turn out rolls immediately. Yield: Approximately 2 dozen rolls.

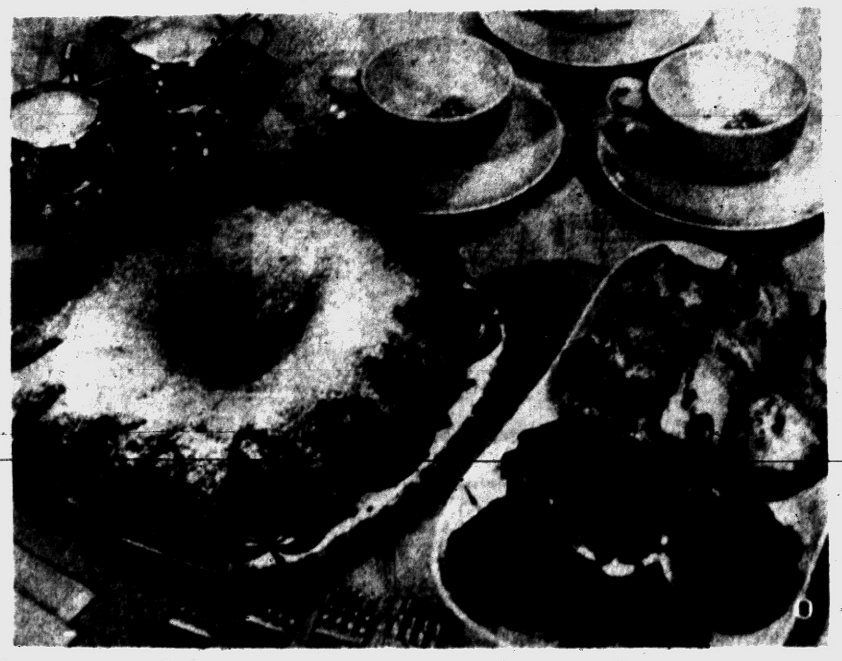

With scissors, cut ¾-inch slices almost through the roll. Turn each slice partly on its side, let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Variation No. 2, Sugar Twists

1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup chopped nutmeats
Melted butter

Mix half of sugar with nutmeats.

BREAKFAST TREATS — Start the day right by serving delicious, home-baked breakfast treats such as Cheese Ring, Pecan Rolls or Sugar Twists — all prepared from the same basic sweet dough.

Ever Fry Apples for Breakfast?

We owe a great deal of thanks to Johnny, this folksey old man from New England, who started a nursery for apple trees on the banks of the Ohio River near Pittsburgh. He gave young trees or apple seeds to the pioneers on their trek westward, so they could start orchards when they reached their new homes. The last fifty years of his life he traveled from farm to farm, giving away seeds and showing the farmers how to plant trees. He asked nothing more than bed and board.

If Johnny, whose real name was Jonathan Chapman, were around today, he'd probably insist that part of that board be in the form of the many tantalizing apple dishes that have been concocted since his day.

For example, he might insist on fried apples and bacon for breakfast. And here's a recipe that would have put him in the right mood for his day's travels:

First fry your favorite brand of bacon, which is one of the more attractively priced pork items right now, until it is crisp. Remove bacon, drain and keep hot. Leave about 4 tablespoons of fat in the skillet.

Fill the skillet with sliced apples, sprinkling with sugar if desired. Cover the skillet and cook the apples slowly until tender. Then remove the cover to let the apples brown. Serve on a hot platter with the bacon.

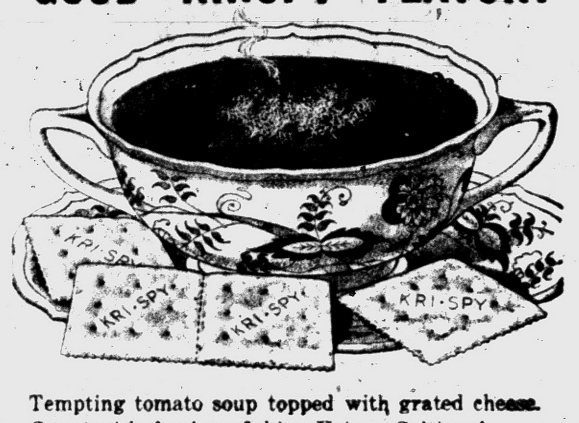

Don't Scrape the Pan

When you make taffy, caramels or nut brittles, this is the way to pour the hot mixture into the pan in which it is to be cooled: hold the saucepan with the candy in it within an inch or so of the cooling pan and pour steadily but do not scrape out the last of the syrup.

AN UNUSUAL PIE — A sparkling pie is the perfect dessert for luncheon or dinner. This one combines a lightly spiced custard with a fruit top and glaze. Canned apricots are the fruit.

Pork and Lamb Prices Encourage Shoppers

It's winter outside, but inside the pit is determined to a great extent by how much there is and how much people like it.

During late fall and early winter, lamb prices are at the lowest of the year. Market checks show that a lamb shoulder roast will cost between 16 to 20 cents per serving this week. This is less than many other red meat cuts.

A lamb shoulder roast to carve at the table and rolled before roasting. If the family does not want a roast, lamb shoulder cuts be ground and used for patties tender enough to cook under the broiler. Shape the patties about three-fourths inch thick and wrap a strip of bacon around the outside edge before broiling.

FRUITS—There is variety plenty in the produce department. Citrus fruits and apples are in good supply.

Navel oranges of the 113 size range from 39 to 49 cents a dozen in many stores. Eight pound bags of oranges and grapefruit are 8 to 10 cents a pound.

Apples range from 10 to 25 cents a pound depending upon the variety and the distance they have been shipped to market. Michigan McIntosh and Jonathan are the thrifty choices.

Tangerine quality is below standard but is expected to improve.

A pair of pears for about 20 cents per pound make good winter eating. Anjou pears are greenish yellow, large and chunky with thick necks and short stems. Bosc pears are a dark yellow brown with long tapering necks.

VEGETABLES — Liberal supplies of potatoes and carrots are penny-savers on fresh vegetable counters. Potatoes are as low as 2½ and 3 cents per pound in 10-pound size bags.

Green beans, tomatoes, cauliflower, sweet corn and cucumbers are scarce. Weather has retarded quantities being marketed.

CANNED AND FROZEN FOODS — It will pay to study special offerings on canned and frozen items again this week.

Sauerkraut, soups, tomatoes, peas, corn, applesauce, peaches and juices are among the canned items featured.

Frozen vegetables, fruit and meat pies are other items to check.

DAIRY AND EGGS — Large size eggs are the best egg value when cost per pound is considered. They are 32½ to 39½ cent per pound while medium sizes now range from 27 to 29 cents.

Do not look for grade when you buy butter. Grade AA grades 93 the highest score. Grade A scores 92. Grade B scores 90. If the score is less than 90, butter must be labeled "undergrade." Grade AA and A are made from sweet cream. Grade B is made from sour cream.

Orange Top Toast

After-school treat. Mix sugar with grated orange rind and moisten with a little orange juice. Spread on hot buttered toast and place in a moderate oven until the sugar melts.

Hole in Bread Holds Egg for Sandwich

Children will love their eggs fixed in this fashion. As a change from the usual late evening refreshments, you might serve these Winkeyes.

Winkeyes

1 slice bread
1 teaspoon butter
1 egg
Salt, pepper

With a 2½-inch cookie cutter, cut out the center from the slice of bread. Melt 1 teaspoon of the butter in a 6-inch iron skillet; add the bread center and toast on both sides; remove, and keep warm.

With skillet off heat (pan will be very hot) add another teaspoon of the butter; when it has melted place over heat again; add the slice of bread with the hole in the center; drop the egg carefully into the center. Fry until egg is set and the bread toasted; sprinkle egg with salt and pepper.

Lift bread and egg from skillet with pancake turner; add remaining teaspoon of butter; flip over bread and egg. Fry again until egg is set and bread toasted. Have heat high enough for rapid cooking but not so high as to scorch bread. Remove to serving plate, top with toasted bread round. Serve at once.

Note: A smoothly cut empty 2¼-ounce can (from deviled ham) makes just the right size cutter for the bread.

Use Cream, Not Milk

Want your baking powder biscuits to be extra delicious? Use light cream instead of milk in the dough. This suggestion applies to biscuits made from a mix as well as to those made from scratch.

Use Marmalade for Glazing Pie

There is nothing quite like a piece of mouth-watering pie to top off a perfect meal. Apricot Buttermilk Pie has an unusual combination of flavors that you'll love. A lightly spiced custard base is made with buttermilk. Canned apricots and orange marmalade are blended into a tart topping and poured over the baked pie to give it a party sparkle. The pie is delicious too, without the topping.

Apricot Glazed Buttermilk Pie

Pastry for one 9-inch pie shell
1 cup sugar
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon mace or nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups buttermilk
3 eggs, beaten slightly
1 No. 303 (1 lb.) can apricot halves
4 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ cup orange marmalade

Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry, making a high fluted edge. Combine and mix sugar, flour, salt and seasonings in heavy saucepan. Stir in buttermilk. Cook in top of double boiler over boiling water until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Beat ½ cup of hot mixture into eggs and then stir it into buttermilk mixture.

Bake the pie shell in center of hot oven, 400 degrees, for 5 minutes. Reduce heat to 300 degrees, and pour buttermilk mixture into shell. Bake until filling is set, about 50 minutes. (Do not overbake.) Remove from oven and cool on rack. When cool cover with glaze.

To make glaze—remove apricots from syrup and drain halves well on paper toweling. Mix ¼ cup apricot syrup and cornstarch together until smooth. Heat remaining syrup (about ¾ cup) to boiling. Add cornstarch mixture all at once, stirring constantly; cook until mixture is clear and thickened. Remove from heat and blend in marmalade. Arrange apricot halves, cavity side down, on top of baked pie and cover with glaze. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Peanuts Can Fit Into Variety of Other Dishes

Remember how you used to think of peanuts as an "extra" food—like candy or something to put in the middle of the party table for your guests? That, of course, was before we knew the many fine food uses for peanuts in their various forms in all kinds of cooked dishes and baked products.

You can, for example, add nourishment and a new tatste to salads with chopped peanuts or a peanut butter salad dressing. Of course, peanut butter sandwiches belong not only in Johnny's lunch box, but dad's as well. And peanuts or peanut butter combine well with any number of other foods for a sandwich spread, too.

Peanut butter also can often be used for part of the fat in baking . . . it's good in frostings, biscuits and cakes. Try this recipe for peanut butter drop cookies to fill your cooky jar for the holidays. The children will love 'em:

You'll need one-half cup of peanut butter, one-half cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-half cup of milk. Mix the peanut butter, sugar and beaten egg.

Sift together the dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet about an inch apart. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

Check Carbohydrates

If you are finding cold weather hard to take, it's time for a diet check of carbohydrate foods. A research report reveals that these foods can be cold weather protectors. Best known are: Fruits, most vegetables, breads, cereals, milk. Be sure bread and cereal are enriched or whole grain.

Make Good Use of New Fashioned Prunes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Great-grandmother never would recognize a package of prunes today. The ones she used were deeply wrinkled and hard. The ones her great-granddaughter buys are plump, soft and moist. Just before they are packaged they are given to a hot water bath and steaming which restores their moisture content up to nearly a a third of the original amount.

★ ★ ★

Special prune plums, sent to California from France in the gold rush days, are the source of these little vitamin laden dried fruits. Three quarters of the world's crop is now grown in California.

Size has nothing to do with the goodness of prunes but a great deal to do with price. Unless you are interested in having large fruit for stuffing or for a special garnihr, save your pennies by purchasing whichever size is cheapest. Just serve more of the little ones.

Follow directions on the package for cooking. If you're not in a hurry, simply cover the prunes with water (cold or boiling) and let them soak for 24 hours. The longer they soak the plumper they get. We like to let them stand in leftover fruit juice.

Prune whip doesn't sound glamorous to most people. We have always liked it, especially the uncooked kind. Here is a recipe that makes a company dessert of prune whip.

Marshmallow Prune Whip

2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 cup sieved cooked prunes
¾ cup drained crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons sugar

Combine all ingredients except the egg whites and sugar. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gradually add the sugar while continuing to beat. Fold the marshmallow mixture into the meringue. Chill and serve.

Prunes go well with most meats. Alternate pitted prunes and cubes of cooked ham on skewers. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and broil. These are fun on the outdoor barbecue too.

Choose an economical cut of beef and simmer it with prunes for a pot roast that is different.

Fruited Spiced Pot Roast

3-5 pound beef pot roast (chuck or rump)
2 tablespoons fat
2 cups water
3 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
1 cup dried prunes

Brown roast in hot fat in a heavy kettle. Add water and spices. Cover tightly and simmer 3 to 3½ hours or until fork tender. During last hour of cooking, add prunes. Serves 6-8.

Cooked prunes make a good salad. Teamed with orange slices, they make an attractive color combination and taste contrast. The peanut butter adds some protein to the filling.

Jack Horner Salad

12 large prunes
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
3 tablespoons peanut butter
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
Dash of salt
12 orange slices
French dressing

Soak the prunes overnight; drain thoroughly. Split from end to end and remove the pits. Blend cream cheese with peanut butter, lemon juice, mayonnaise and salt. Stuff the prunes with this mixture.

For each serving place 3 orange slices on crisp lettuce. Top each with a stuffed prune. Serve with French dressing. Makes 4 salads.

Braising Considered Best Way to Cook Pork Chops

Pork chops with a minimum covering of fat are ready for homemakers. The production of meat-type hogs, which yield a significantly higher proportion of lean cuts, plus the packer trimming of fat from larger hogs provide homemakers with pork that has more lean and less fat per serving.

Pork chop cookery—one of the simplest of all the culinary tasks—is among the first lessons the new bride learns, for pork chops have long been a favorite meat with the American public and especially American men. Though considered elementary cooking, pork chop cookery techniques might well be reviewed by even the long-time homemaker, for pork chops more than any other meat are most often mistreated.

Unlike other chops and steaks, pork chops should not be broiled. The high heat of broiling dries the exterior of the chop before the interior is cooked, toughens the meat, and as a result harms the flavor.

PORK CHOP COOKERY — A thin covering of fat identifies these pork chops as the new 1959 models. Braising is the recommended method of cooking the fine-flavored chops and it is easily accomplished by browning the meat, then adding a small amount of liquid, and cooking slowly until chops are fork-tender.

As easy as reciting the ABCs are the steps in rendering pork chops succulent and favorite food for everybody.

How To Cook Pork Chops

1. Choose chops ½ to 1 inch thick; use thicker chops for stuffing.

2. Brown meat thoroughly over low heat, in a heavy skillet, turning chops to brown both sides. Use a little lard for browning the meat, or trim some of the fat from the chops and fry it out in a skillet for browning.

3. Season with salt and pepper. Add a small amount of water—¼ cup for four chops is sufficient—cover pan tightly and cook slowly on top of range or in a 325 degree F. oven 45 to 60 minutes. Pork chops, like all fresh pork, should be cooked thoroughly until there is no trace of pink. To test doneness of pork chops, use a knife and slit meat at bone.

The flavor variations possible with pork chops are almost endless. Simply by varying the liquid used in braising the chops, the flavor of the cooked meat may be changed. Orange, pineapple and cranberry are some of the fruit juices to be used; canned tomatoes, tomato juice, bouillon, onion soup, and sour cream are other flavoring agents popular for braising pork chops.

By adding a pinch of spice or herbs with the salt and pepper, the flavor may be changed. Chili powder, paprika, curry powder, oregano, sage, crushed coriander and ground anise add interesting flavor to the cooking pork chops.

Nonfat Dry Milk Is Dieter's Best Friend

I RESOLVE . . . I RESOLVE . . . I RESOLVE!!! If your New Year's resolutions include a firm determination to remove a few inches from your waistline, etc., take advantage of every dieter's helpmate you can lay hand to. Nature has very kindly provided you with numerous low calorie foods and a whole raft of flavor boosters that have little or no calories such as spices and herbs. To be sure of a ready supply of herbs for low-calorie cooking, grow your own from seed. A pot of chives or a window box of parsley or thyme provide flavor for cooking and a spot of green to kitchen decor.

Science has done its bit for dieters in recent years, too. There are non-caloric sweeteners, low calorie pudding and gelatin mixes and there's even a substance made from soybeans that enables food to be fried without the addition of calories.

One of the most nutritious low calorie foods available is the crystal form of instant nonfat dry milk. These magic crystals of nonfat milk are the result of teamwork between nature and science . . . all the butterfat and water are removed from pure pasteurized milk thus providing all the essential protein, minerals and B-vitamins of milk but without its high calorie butterfat.

Mixed with water according to package directions instant crystals dissolve instantly to make a delicious, fresh-flavored nonfat milk that's low in calories . . . only 81 per 8-ounce glass, about half that of whole milk. Reliquefied instant crystals can be used for all your cooking and baking, too . . . no special recipes needed.

There's another of the many uses for instant crystals that lends pleasure to the dieter's life . . . mixed with an equal amount of ice water or well-chilled fruit juices, instant crystals whip into a fluffy, delicious dessert topping that's as economical in money as it is in calories. Topping off a compote of fruit or simple dessert, it enhances the appearance as well and the flavor.

A delicious dieters main course combining low-calorie chicken or tuna, vegetables, spices and crystalline instant nonfat dry milk will help keep your weight control resolutions for the new year.

Tomato Cheese Bread Excellent With Soup

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tomato-cheese corn bread makes a delicious addition to luncheons or suppers when a hearty soup is the main dish.

Use your favorite yellow corn bread or corn muffin mix or the recipe on the package of enriched yellow corn meal. Substitute tomato sauce for the amount of milk in the recipe and combine the other ingredients as directed.

Petoskey Trial Ends Abruptly

Paul Achenbach Pleads Guilty of Manslaughter in Mother's Death

PETOSKEY (AP)—Paul Achenbach's murder trial ended suddenly yesterday when he pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of his mother.

Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon accepted the plea, entered by Achenbach's counsel.

The 46-year-old former Petoskey insurance agent was remanded to Emmett County Jail for pre-sentence investigation. The investigation is expected to take two days. Manslaughter is punishable by a maximum of 15 years in prison.

Achenbach had been accused of first degree murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Clara Achenbach, 78.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor Howard Campbell said Mrs. Achenbach was beaten fatally by her son last May. Her body was found covered by a sheet in her apartment in November.

Campbell charged Achenbach forged checks on his mother's bank account before and after her death.

The defense contended that the prosecution had failed to establish that a criminal act was responsible for Mrs. Achenbach's death. Campbell conferred with the defense before yesterday's court session and he withdrew his charges of first and second degree murder when the manslaughter plea was entered.

The trial opened Dec. 29 before an all-male jury.

Seat Segregationist as Member of House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Dale Alford of Little Rock was seated Wednesday as a member of the new House.

★ ★ ★

Alford, seregationist who unseated the veteran Brooks Hays (D-Ark) last November, took the oath of office after members, on a voice vote, had adopted a resolution to give him a seat.

★ ★ ★

An objection to Alford taking the oath had been made by Rep. John Dingell (D-Mich).

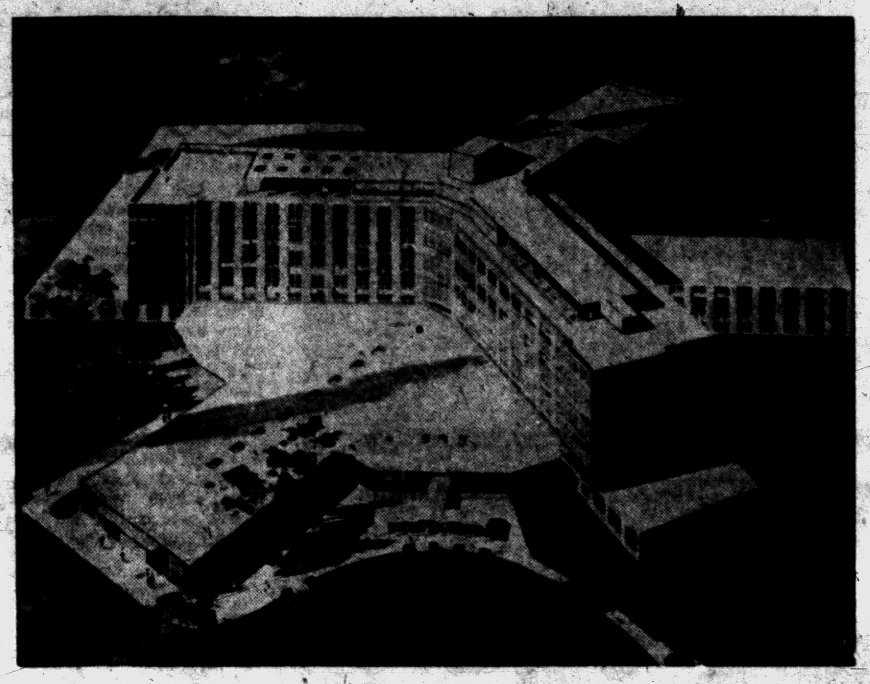

Youth Offers 3 Rules for Protection of Teeth

OMAHA (AP) — Dr. Cecil G. Mueller reports that an eighth grader told to prepare a list of things important in care of teeth replied:

"Brush your teeth after every meal.

"See your dentist twice a year.

"Stay away from fountains where they push."

Source Protection Bill Now in Congress

Marie Torre Gets Mail Support

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Marie Torre, who went to jail rather than reveal the source of an item in her radio-TV column, has received more than 500 letters praising her for her stand.

This was made known Wednesday by the 34-year-old newspaperwoman's husband, TV producer Hal Friedman, who visited her at the Hudson County Jail here. Friedman said his wife had received only one letter critical of her position.

She misses her two infant children, Friedman said, but is otherwise cheerful. Miss Torre shares with other prisoners the candy and fruit sent her by well-wishers.

Friedman was accompanied to the prison by Ogden Reid, former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, and several personal friends of the columnist. Miss Torre writes for the New York Herald Tribune syndicate.

She chose a 10-day jail term rather than reveal the source of an item she wrote about singer Judy Garland, saying she hoped the move "will lead to legislation protecting a newpaperman's sources."

★ ★ ★

Just such legislation was offered the House in Washington Wednesday.

Rep. Francis E. Dorn (R-Ky) introduced a bill exempting newspaper, radio and television reporters from being compelled by federal courts to reveal their sources, except in cases affecting national security.

Dorn said his bill would extend to the federal courts a recognition of newsmen's privilege already provided by law in 12 states.

He said the legislation would facilitate newsgathering and "give further legal recognition to the best journalistic ethics which provide for the protection of confidential news sources."

★ ★ ★

Support for legislation of this type came Wednesday night from the New York County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some 350 VFW members passed a resolution at a special meeting calling for laws to protect newsmen who find themselves in Miss Torre's position.

The resolution specifically named national security matters as an instance in which such exemption should not be granted newsmen.

Hatcher to Head Michigan Week Cultural Board

EAST LANSING (AP) — Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, was named today to head the Cultural Activities Board of the 1959 Michigan Week, to be held May 17-23.

The appointment was announced by Paul Carnahan, general chairman of the annual state celebration.

Hatcher proposed that all the state's cities and villages prepare a history of their communities as a literary project in connection with the celebration.

If such a history is in print, he said, Michigan Week could serve as the annual date on which they are made current.

Other suggestions for cultural activities during the week included art shows and exchanges of civic choruses and community theaters.

Send Her Insurance Money

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: At the time of my engagement last year I received a beautiful cut glass fruit bowl from my fiance's aunt. My engagement was broken a month ago and I returned all the presents to the givers. I received a note from my ex-fiance's sister telling me that the fruit bowl arrived in several pieces.

"I immediately submitted a claim to the post office for the estimated value of the gift for which I had it insured. The exact value of the bowl was unknown to me. Am I under obligation to replace the gift, send her the money for it, or would a note of apology suffice? Please let me hear from you."

Answer: The best thing to do would be to write a note saying how distressed you are about it but fortunately you had it insured and you are enclosing the amount paid you for it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Just recently my husband and I were invited to his niece's wedding in another city. There was a reception after the ceremony. We knew only the immediate family and the rest of the guests were strangers.

"My sister-in-law did not introduce us to any of the guests and we felt uncomfortably out of place. Shouldn't she have introduced us to some of the other guests?"

Answer: If she was free to move around she should certainly have seen that you met other guests. But if she was anchored in the doorway receiving other guests, she could not very well come to your assistance. You might, however, have introduced yourself as an aunt of the bride to anybody standing near you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly. My fiance has a young brother aged eleven whom he would like to include in the wedding party. Will you please tell me what part he can take?"

Answer: He may be a junior usher whose duty it is to run the ribbons in front of the pews after all the guests have been seated.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoisington of Giddings road honored their son and daughter-in-law, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Wilham Hoisington with an open house Sunday.

What Young People Think

Teenage Lingo Far Gone—but Parents Dig It

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Most of the country's cool ones are convinced that only a slow pole amoeba would get a large charge out of pounding the pad over anything as scaggy as brainfood.

★ ★ ★

Bugged by the brown, they yen to cut and send him to the dark side of the moon.

What kind of talk is this? It's teenage talk, a weird, mad language with a vocabulary all its own that keeps parents guessing.

Translated from the original teen-ese, the opening two sentences mean:

Most of the youngsters we contacted in a nationwide survey think only an old fashioned bookworm would find any fun in spending an evening at home with his homework. Angered by anyone so studious, they feel like hauling off and telling him to get lost.

Simple, isn't it?

Of course not, and no teenager talks like that. But that's the way it would sounds if all their zany words and idioms were used together without recourse to regular English. Obscurity, secrecy confounding the adults are all part of the fun in having a language all their own.

IT'S A CULT

"Teenagers," says Brenda Furtman of Duluth, "talk a mixed-up jargon because it makes them feel like important individuals. They like feeling superior over something. When they find that adults cannot understand their language, they have this feeling of superiority."

★ ★ ★

Sixteen-year-old Allen Schneider of Philadelphia makes a similar analysis of why teeners feel a need for other-world dialogue: "it's a new generation and it wants to make its mark as an individual generation."

The fact that teenagers do not want to be totally comprehended by their elders does not mean that they want to be ignored. In fact, quite the opposite.

As 17-year-old Joe Greenberg of Cheshire, Conn., explains it, "they want to be noticed so they invent a language of their own."

There is also an element of youthful rebellion in this occasional hiding behind a language barrier. "Lots of grownups," says 15-year-old Yvonne Cadoret of New York City, "don't make an effort to understand teenagers.

So the teeners rebel with a language of their own and adults don't even have to try to understand them."

For parents who would like to make an effort at learning one of the world's most obscurantist languages, we have compiled a glossary of terms and idioms current in the teen latitudes.

IT'S THE MOST

First, there are the superlatives, words and expressions to convey the biggest of the best of anything. For instance, if a youngster received a fine watch for his birthday or graduation, it would be more than just a fine watch. It would the most, the utmost, terrif and just plain jazzy.

A lesser gift, say a new sweater or cufflinks, would be a beaut, a top dog, s'wonderful, dreamy, gone, real gone or all gone; depending on its quality and the mood of the recipient.

Teenagers seldom leave the house to attend a lively party. They drag off the pad for a real swinging one. Or they may cut out for a cool caper. Or simply ditch the cage for a real ball.

Along the way, they are careful not to bug the fuzz (i.e. antagonize the police) by riding in a hot drag (stolen car).

And, of course, once the party begins no real cool daddy would be caught shuffling with an out to lunch, a blue moon, a dragger, a bird or a dad, which means no red blooded American boy or girl wants to dance with someone who is behind the times.

Naturally they would prefer a cat, a pearl, a neat beat, a real deep or similar synonyms for someone who is relatively alive and up to date.

Those who fail to fit into this category are far out, way out, never-never odd balls who just can't mix with the group. Wall flowers, they used to be called, before teenagers combed the jazz men's idiom for suitable expressions of opprobrium.

In the teen argot, a nice teacher is an Aunt Ruthie, an extra, a real doll, a real peach, slick-slick, while an unpopular teacher is a gramp, a creep, a glom-boy (or girl), a weasel, a whirley bird and sick-sick.

Homework is brainfood, grind, bookie, pencil pounding or just plain "ugh." Those who like it, the bookish ones, are square, harvey, amoeba, a nose, a brown, a brownie, or simply the all purpose "drag," a word that seems to have a variety of connotations.

A drag who drags off in a hot drag on a drag strip would be, of course, a bookworm-type who races a stolen automobile along a prescribed route.

Do parents dig (the meaning here is tolerate) this kind of talk from their offspring?

Most of the teenagers, 71.5 per cent, claim that they do, provided profanity is kept out.

"My parents object only to words that are vulgar and to the excessive use of any one word," says 17-year-old Linda Ritter of New Orleans.

"Mother thinks it sounds very barbaric," admits a 15-year-old St. Louis, Mo., girl, "but Dad thinks it's real cool. He's real cool himself."

D. Mark Citting, 16, of Detroit said his parents object only if his language involves poor manners or poor grammer. How they go about deciphering the grammer of the argot, he did not explain.

In addition to vulgarity and profanity, some parents draw the line at expressions like "old bag," "crud" and "old lady," when applied to teachers and neighbors.

★ ★ ★

Most parents, however, probably have too much trouble with translations to begin worrying about censorship.

Have You Gained?

Blame Yourself for Tight Dress

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most women must watch their weight from middle age on, even though this may not have been a problem during younger years.

I have to watch the pounds with an eagle eye or they slip up on me. Sometimes I feel downright rebellious when I put on a dress I haven't worn for a couple of weeks and have trouble closing the zipper and find the seams under tension!

My first inclination is to blame it on the dry cleaner or the glands I inherited. However, I must admit that in most instances the scales reveal a gain of around five pounds. Even five pounds can make a big difference in the way you feel AND look.

As you know I am now offering you my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon as I do each January. Tens of thousands of women join each year to see how much they can improve themselves in this period of time.

Eight weeks is not long but, these next eight weeks can be the most important ones in your life. At the end of Marathon you can literally look 10 years younger. You can lose bulges, overweight (as much as 20 pounds), and greatly improve your posture, complexion and hair.

I feel sure that we women live up to the picture we have of ourselves. If we are aware of defects in physical attractiveness, this is apt to be reflected in personality. Many times in my classes I have seen the metamorphis from overweight to a slender figure, from fatigue to energy, from self-consciousness to self-confidence. It is conceivable that the changes you can make in yourself during Marathon weeks could affect the whole course of your life.

Why not join the fun with thousands of other women to see how much you can improve yourself in eight weeks? In the weight department — you can lose up to 20 pounds on the Marathon.

There are many factors which lead to increase in poundage as the years pass. In the first place most women are less active physically. They may give up sports and dancing, and fail to indulge in more strenuous exercise.

Also, the glandular system slows down somewhat and from middle age on women often have more leisure time and, therefore, indulge in more social life. This latter is usually fraught with high calorie foods.

Why not join the fun with thousands of other women to see how much you can improve yourself in eight weeks? Every woman owes herself this much attention.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my Marathon booklet, which gives you all necesary information about diet and exercise, tells you how to analyze your figure faults, gives you a weight chart and calorie chart, and a formula which will help improve your personality, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Designer to Blame If Star Is Dowdy?

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Behind the screen: Movie queens have lost their power as an influence on feminine fashions—"but don't blame the Hollywood designers. Blame the movie queens."

★ ★ ★

That's how a veteran Hollywood designer, Orry-Kelly, feels about movie glad rags becoming sad rags. In a brave mood he told me bitterly:

"Something happens to most women when they become important stars. They immediatey feel they know more about everything than anyone else.

They dominate their directors and their husbands and they don't listen to their designers. They orders them about.

★ ★ ★

"The poor designer has to make a living, too, so he may protest a bit but eventually he gives in. The star gets her way and her wardrobe looks like it."

Orry is the fellow who put sequins on angel's cloth for a Marilyn Monroe evening gown in "Some Like It Hot," and then warned her:

"You can wear it, Marilyn, if you don't sneeze. If you sneeze we'll both be locked up."

Bulletin boards take a beating, at home or in an office. Refresh a discolored cork bulletin board with sanding.

Mahogany Has Returned

Mahogany will be big news in furniture this winter. After five years of gradually declining use, it will make a dramatic appearance in 44 new shades.

Mahogany has said goodbye to the "reds." Replacing the old "mercurichrome" tones is an array of browns. They range from cream, through the golden browns to a rich nut hue.

Trend setters among furniture manufacturers introduced new groups of dining, bedroom and living room furniture in the October markets in the South and it is expected that many more will be shown in the even more complete markets.

This resurgence, mainly due to the new colors, can be traced to two other factors: 1 — The workability of mahogany, and — The lower cost of mahogany than of many other woods.

Rated high in strength and durability, mahogany is an easy wood to machine. Its prices are at the lowest level in years.

Although imported, mahogany is less expensive than many other woods because of its greater abundance and the larger dimensions of the trees. In cutting the larger mahogany logs there is less waste — and greater "yield".

Borrow Marbles

Stockings will not get tangled on an outdoor clothline if one or two marbles are dropped in each toe before handing. The marbles will weight down the stockings but will not pull them out of shape.

This softly draped at-home robe is designed by Bonnie Cashin in rose silk taffeta. It features an oversize shaul collar and a full, step-in skirt tied high at the waist for the Empire look.

For the Mature Figure

NEW YORK, N. Y. —Today, fashion dictates the Empire silhouette and the shorter woman with the mature figure-type can give thanks, for now she can give herself the illusion of added height and slenderness by wearing clothes designed with the new raised waistline. By focusing attention above the natural waist, the Empire gives a longer line to the skirt and thereby makes the wearer look taller and slimmer.

★ ★ ★

One New York manufacturer has created a capsule wardrobe for custom-sized women featuring the high-waisted look.

The wardrobe consists of a basic dress whose Empire effect is achieved by stitched tucking flowing from high under the bosom to the hemline in front. A silk print town suit shows newness with its wide self buckle detail under the bosom and its poufed plie back.

★ ★ ★

Next, a cocktail dress in silk print has a scalloped neckline embroidered with sequins and a dramatic side drape caught high under the bosom with a double bow. The elegance and simplicity of silk chiffon is expressed in an understated dinner dress to round out the wardrobe. Self draping is swathed over the bosom to be caught with a jewel and then floats free to pouf under the hem.

★ ★ ★

Besides featuring the capsule wardrobe, the firm stressed color in its collection. Violet, ranging from solids through prints tinged with mauve or green, keynoted the colorings.

★ ★ ★

Bright Blues, Soft Reds and Muted Greens, in that order, also found prominent places in these designs made wholly and solely to flatter the woman under 5'5" with a mature figure. Even those styles in the collection that were not strictly Empire in feeling, were extremely easy to wear and had a new, fresh look. The custom-size woman can really be "in great shape" this season!

Dear Abby . . .

Toes Aren't Pointed---Neither Is Her Head!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: The new dress styles are bad enough, but at least they don't do any physical harm. How about those pointed shoes! I went from shoe store to shoe store trying to buy a pair of shoes but I was told all they had were the new pointed shoes. So I went home and had my old shoes reheeled and resoled and I am going to keep right on having them reheeled and resoled until I can buy some shoes that fit me. My toes do not grow in a point—and neither does my head!" ROUND TOES

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: The man in the shoe store told me to try the new pointed shoes so I tried them. I brought them back and told him they hurt. He said they hurt only in my head. Then he did me a favor and exchanged the same style shoe for another pair a size larger. Now I ask you? I normally wear an '8A' but in the new style shoes I take a '9A'. If they were oxfords I would get them mixed up with my husband's. What do I do now?" ALL FEET

DEAR ALL: Send me a postcard and join Abby's W.W.F.S. Anonymous. This club (Won't Wear Freakish Styles) already has thousands of members (men, too) who protest the new styles and refuse to wear or buy them. Try the suggestion offered by "Round Toes" above.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a member of your W.W.F.S. Anonymous, and I went shopping because I wanted a new dress for my sister's wedding. They told me the sack dresses are out but they had something new which was very feminine, flattering and lovely. I was shown the empire style which is a nightgown tied under the armpits with a string. Is this their idea of something lovely? It's worse than the sack." STILL LOOKING

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What are you trying to do? Ruin the ladies dress business? Your W.W.F.S. Club encourages women to stop buying and that is very bad for the nation's business. I own a ladies dress shop and I have to sell what the manufacturers give me. They have to manufacture what the dress designers give them.

"Women are very susceptible to suggestion and when millions of women get together and quit buying, a major depression could result. Please reconsider and put a stop to this club." RETAILER

DEAR RETAILER: If you saw the thousands of letters I've received from women who say they haven't bought a dress in two years because they couldn't find anything "decent," you'd realize that I am trying to help you—not hurt you. I do know that the sooner you get those beautiful, flattering feminine styles back into your store, they'll sell like hot cakes. I don't know whose idea it was to sabotage us women, but I hope you'll take this to your leader.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I've heard a lot of arguments about who's smarter, men or women. You don't see men falling for every crazy new style that comes along. They tried to give us embroidered shirts and ruffled cuffs, but nobody went for it. In the past 35 years men's styles haven't changed much. Suits are a trifle tighter (or looser) and buttons moved an inch or two and lapels are varied, but men haven't looked ridiculous since they threw away the powdered wigs and satin knee-britches.

"Women have ruined their looks with the flat-look, chemise and trapeze. Their shoes are submarines and their hair-dos look like unmade Army cots. Who's smarter? The answer is obvious."

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FASHION CONSCIOUS": If you want the SECOND LOOK—pass up the NEW LOOK!

Neglect Can Scar Both Face, Personality

Check Acne, Specialist Warns

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Skin specialists at the University of Cincinnati have completed research which may help teenagers control acne, an inflammatory skin condition.

"Acne should not be neglected, except in some of its very mild forms," warns Dr. Leon Goldman, the chairman of the university's dermatology department.

"Unless acne is treated, scars in the personality may be just as deep as those on the skin," Goldman said.

He added that parents with a family history of acne should have their children, at age seven to nine, checked by a doctor for acne prevention.

INFECTIONS DEVELOP

Acne is a disturbance in the oil glands, particularly on the face, with infections later developing. About 90 per cent of teenagers have acne in some form.

Goldman's department, after years of research, noted in a recent report:

—Periods of emotion and fatigue can cause acne to flare up in the teenager.

—At times acne may require years of treatment. Rare cases are impossible to control.

—Mothers should cooperate with family doctors to prevent severe acne in children.

—Research has not yet indicated that chocolate candy causes acne, as is popularly supposed.

—There is a family tendency to acne.

★ ★ ★

Goldman, who recommends that clinics should be developed in large medical centers to offer preventative treatment before acne appears, says, "One who has seen the ravages of severe acne in a family will appreciate the necessity for a prevention program."

The Cincinnati University researchers set up a pre-puberty clinic at Children's Hospital here.

★ ★ ★

Goldman said: "It was once the custom to tell a child that acne is a common condition that would disappear as one got older or got married. Eventually it did go away, but left lifelong, deeply pitted scars.

"In the modern acne program this casual disregard is willful and ignorant neglect."

Need Leg Accessories

All eyes will be on legs this year. Fashionable girls should keep shorter dresses in mind when assembling their wardrobe of leg accessories.

And it will be a wardrobe, judging by the number of leg adornments that have made their appearance. There are dazzling garters of real rubies and diamonds at $1,200 a leg or less spectacular garters of seed pearls and silver bells.

★ ★ ★

Colored hosiery is handsomely decorated with clocks that run half way up the back of the stocking, handpainted bees swarm to the knees and sprays of roses decorate instep or ankle. There are stockings decorated with rhinestones and some with jet beads.

★ ★ ★

Grooming products run the gamut of important accessories for winter legs. Leg lotions and creams in squeeze bottles are designed especially for heels that must be sleek beneath sheer stockings.

★ ★ ★

Electric razors in princess pink or blue hues are attractive enough to exhibit on the vanity table, and leg makeup is back again to be worn under stockings to give legs a mat finish or to smooth legs that are discolored or scarred by prominent veins.

★ ★ ★

Other items that must be kept on the grooming shelf are pumice and stiff brushes for removing callous and bunions. If you'd pretty your knees and the backs of your heels, rouge is said to be the answer.

A variety of gaiters and spats are other ways girls call attention to their legs this season.

These Truths Jump at You if You Look

By RUTH MILLETT

Did you ever notice that—

The most popular household in the neighborhood, so far as the small fry are concerned, is never presided over by the neighborhood's most perfect housekeeper?

The women who talk the most usually have the least to say?

There seems to be little relationship between how beautiful a wife is and how attentive her own husband is?

Spur-of-the-moment parties are often more fun than the most elaborately planned ones?

The women who have the most friends do the least gossiping?

Husbands who try the hardest to please their mates often have the most discontented wives?

The shrewdest of men can be taken in by a woman who couldn't fool even a stupid woman for five minutes?

The size and beauty of a home is no indication that it is necessarily a happy one?

The women that men regard as intelligent conversationalists are actually good listeners?

A girl's popularity with boys depends more on her self-confidence than on her looks?

A woman gets more real admiration from other women for keeping her figure than for any other single accomplishment?

The man who is always the life of the party usually has a bored-looking wife?

The men other women regard as "the nicest men" they know are often married to the most demanding women?

Men in their 40s and 50s often have younger interests than men in their late 20s and 30s?

The hostess who isn't afraid to have one or two good-looking unmarried women at her parties never has to worry about the men sneaking off from the women to be by themselves?

On winter vacation in the tropics, the sleeveless boat-neck pullover and matching high-tide pants look chic in multi-colored Sicilian stripes.

Nurses' Course Set

Dr. Lowell Eklund, associate director for Continuing Education, Michigan State University Oakland has announced that a course in child psychology will be offered to nurses in the winter term. The course will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Mondays beginning Jan. 12.

A questionnaire survey is being undertaken by Michigan State University and the Oakland District, Michigan State Nurses Association to determine further interest of nurses for taking other advanced education courses that will be offered when MSUO comes to the community.

The questionnaires are being distributed through hospitals and agencies in the area. Nurses not employed may get copies of it by writing to Oakland District MSNA, Fulton street.

Assisting with the project are Mrs. Verna Siller, R.N. director of nursing service at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital who printed the questionnaire; Marie Hickey, R.N. director of nursing service at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; public relations chairman and the board of directors of the Oakland District.

10 Steps for Home Planner

NEW YORK (UPI)—A simple way for homemakers to broaden knowledge of home decoration involves 10 steps, says a decorating institute.

Plan early, keep a scrapbook or file of decorating ideas, collect sample swatches and paint chips, visit model rooms and model homes, build a reference library on decorating.

Save informative literature from manufacturers and newspapers or magazines. Attend lectures on home decoration. Enroll in special short courses. (Stores sometimes offer courses on slipcover making).

★ ★ ★

Note good ideas wherever you are—in restaurants, other homes, department stores, while browsing through newspapers or magazines.

And—the keystone—use store advisory bureaus. Many home furnishings departments in department and specialty stores have interior decorating bureaus.

Analyze the room you are working on.

Be ruthless. Don't stay attached to oddments for sentimental reasons. The institute says the desire to keep "everything" in a room for one reason or another will hinder you.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Tigers have become the first professional athletic team in Detroit to recognize the tremendous population of sports fans in Oakland County, the second largest county in Michigan.

As has often been noted in the past, it has been the fallacy of Detroit enterprises to accept this rapidly growing area of Oakland County as just another part of suburban Detroit.

Last year when the Detroit Baseball Company initiated season ticket plans and advance ticket agencies in 10 cities throughout the state, Pontiac was excluded.

This week the Tigers announced that the Pontiac area would be a link to the Baseball Company in two ways.

A ticket agency has been set up at Osmun's for the purpose of giving Tiger fans an opportunity to order their ducats in advance of any game during the season.

★ ★ ★

At the same time Pat Mullin, head of the Tiger scouting system, pointed out that Tony Stiel would be a Detroit sub-scout, or in baseball terminology a "bird dog," for the Pontiac area.

Stiel, a former "bird dog" for the Baltimore Orioles after leaving the St. Louis Browns' farm system, signed Chuck Oertel in 1950 for the Orioles.

"This is the first time since I've been with the Tiger organization that we've assigned someone specially to watch the Pontiac area," said Mullin. "There's a lot of baseball and plenty of high schools which need watching up that way," he added.

Bob Steinhilper, in charge of Tiger outstate ticket sales, pointed out that the big demand for tickets from this area warranted a convenient location to make them more accessible for the fans around here.

It was pointed out, however, that tickets ordered through the Pontiac agency should be made at least a week or more in advance.

A new combination plan for the big games of the season has been set up by the Tigers.

A total of 39 games in 36 dates, including 21 night games, 13 Sunday games (with two doubleheaders), the opener and the 4th of July twinbill, are being sold for a $72 package until March 1st.

It gives better opportunity for individual purchasers, inasmuch as season ticket prices last year amounted to $222 with the rider that four seats in a box had to be purchased. This amounted to $888 and thus appealed more to commercial buyers.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Talk is that Ed Graybiel, former Pontiac Central grid coach, is being boosted for athletic director's job vacated by Tom Dodson Monday.

Colts, Giants Dominate AP All-Pro Selections

Pint-Sized Nat Happy

Albie Pearson Picked as AL Rookie-of-Year

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's constituents are not the only ones bursting with pride in this Cuban metropolis today.

★ ★ ★

Albie Pearson, a pint-sized ballplayer with a rifle arm, two swift feet and a sharp batting eye, had this to say about winning the 1958 American League Rookie-of-the-Year award:

★ ★ ★

"It's a mighty big thrill. There were some times during the season that I was a bit disappointed about my hitting. But everything worked out fine. I still think there is room for improvement. A .300 season next year would suit me fine."

Pearson, a .275 batter in '58, received 14 of 24 votes in balloting conducted by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

★ ★ ★

Ryne Duren, New York Yankees' relief ace, collected seven and Cleveland right-hander Gary Bell polled the other three. The results of the vote were announced yesterday.

Pearson, currently playing with Havana in the Cuban Winter League, is the first Washington Senators' player to win freshman honors. The 5-6, 160-pound outfielder was acquired from the Boston Red Sox a year ago in a three-man transaction.

The 23-year-old native of West Covina, Calif., has been in organized ball for six years. He led the Texas League in batting with a .371 average with Oklahoma City in 1956.

Duren won six games and lost four for the champion Yankees. More striking was his 2.01 earned-run average and his total of 19 games saved. A bespectacled right-hander, Duren struck out 87 batters in 76 innings.

Bell, brought up from San Diego after six weeks of the American League season had been completed, won 12 games and lost 10 for the Indians.

★ ★ ★

Past winners of the rookie award which was first instituted in 1949 were Roy Sievers with the St. Louis Browns; Gil McDougald, Bob Grim and Tony Kubek of New York; Harry Byrd of the Philadelphia A's; Harvey Kuenn of Detroit; Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox and Herb Score of Cleveland.

Kubek, who won the 1957 rookie award after finishing with a .297 batting mark, slumped to .265 last year.

Baltimore End Gino Marchetti Unanimous Pick

Two Lions, Joe Schmidt and Yale Lary Chosen Among Top 22

By The Associated Press

The champion Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants captured 11 of the 22 positions on the 1958 Associated Press All-Pro team selected today by sports writers covering the National Football League campaign.

Defensive end Gino Marchetti, one of the six Colts on the squad, was the only unanimous choice, getting all 41 votes of the experts.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, who set a record by throwing at least one touchdown pass in 25 consecutive league games, received all but one vote for the quarterback position.

Ray Berry, the offensive end who set a championship game record for passes caught and yards gained in the Colts' 23-17 triumph over the Giants in the NFL title game, collected 39 votes.

Jim Brown, Cleveland's great running back, also collected 39 votes. Other Baltimore stalwarts on the team are Jim Parker, offensive tackle; Lennie Moore, halfback; and Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, defensive tackle.

The Giants' All-Pros are Rosey Brown, offensive tackle; Ray Weitecha, center; Sam Huff, linebacker; Andy Robustelli, defensive end, and Jimmy Patton, safety.

Six other clubs placed men on the two units. Pittsburgh was represented by defensive tackle Ernie Stautner and defensive halfback Jack Butler. Los Angeles also had three-guard Duane Putnam, end Del Shofner and halfback Jon Arnett on the offensive outfit.

Late Goals Kill Wings

Toronto Gains 3-1 Victory on Home Rink

Leafs Tally Twice in Last 2 Minutes; Lunde Detroit Scorer

TORONTO (UPI) — Bobby Pulford's 11th goal of the season with less than two minutes to play gave the Toronto Maple Leafs a 3-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings last night.

The win was Toronto's fourth of the season over Detroit, and was scored with Johnny Bower in his first post-Christmas net appearance.

Ed Chadwick who replaced Bower during that particular Leaf slump, became ill just before the game and was taken to the hospital, believed to be suffering from flu.

It was a dull encounter in which Detroit's Len Lunde fired the visitors into a 1-0 lead in the first period, after five minutes of play.

★ ★ ★

The Leafs gained the equalizer in the second period, on Billy Harris' 15th goal of the season, and fourth in the team's last four games. It remained that way until Pulford's almost surprise tally late in the third period. Dick Duff scored on an empty net at 19.35 to settle the issue.

Lunde, whose goal caught Bower covering the wrong side, was the most workmanlike of the Wings, and came within inches of scoring the tie-breaking goal for Detroit in the third period. Bower was at his best during the 20-minutes and came up with key saves off Delvecchio and Howe as well as Lunde.

Harris was booed lustily by the crowd of more than 13,000 for crashing into Sawchuk in the third period. The Detroit netminder and Harris raced for a loose puck in the Detroit end. Sawchuk got the puck, and was solidly thumped by the usually easy-going Harris.

Suggest Better Helmets to Cut Football Deaths

CINCINNATI (AP)—Better helmets and supervision of sandlot games would help cut down deaths among teenagers in football games.

★ ★ ★

That's the report yesterday by a committee to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting here.

★ ★ ★

The group said 17 players died last fall — 11 in high school and the rest in vacant lot games. None occurred in 1958 college or pro football games.

Field's Team Upset Victim

Glenn's Quintet Posts 44-43 Win in Class B City League

Glenn's Motor, a winner only once in five previous games in the Class B division of the City Basketball League, came up with victory No. 2 last night at Pontiac Central and it was a mighty big one.

★ ★ ★

The Motor quintet toppled previously unbeaten Field's Landscape, 44-43, with a 4th quarter rally after blowing a 21-17 halftime lead in the 3rd period. Jim Jones paced Glenn's winning cause with 16 points while Roger Nosek netted 14 for Field's.

Glenn's upset win enabled Booth Homes to take 1st place in the Class B loop. Booth handed Griff's Grill a 62-50 licking in yesterday's other "B" contest for its 5th triumph in six starts. Field's record is now 4-1. Dean Hess meshed 16 points for Booth and Griff's Leroy Parks scored 15.

★ ★ ★

Boys Club drubbed Northern, 59-28, in a Class D American League game at Lincoln as George Mayes, Gene Gidcumbe and Leonard Shoup each tallied 10 points to spark the BC offense. Northern's Dave Plourde took scoring honors with 12.

The Pledges handed Coca Cola a 79-31 drubbing in Class D National League action behind a 20-point spree by John Hurd.

Burns Is Quiet About Coaching Job at U. of D.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jerry Burns, backfield coach at Iowa university, said today he has not talked with his boss, head coach Forrest Evashevski, about taking a job with the University of Detroit or any other school.

Regarding the job of head coach at Detroit, he said:

"Any talk at this time would be embarrassing. I now have the best assistant coach's job in the country, and I work for the best coach in the country."

Calvin College Coasts

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Calvin picked up a nine-point first half lead and coasted to a 63-47 MIAA basketball victory last night over Kalamazoo.

LION ALL-PRO — Yale Lary, one of the top defensive backs and punters in pro football, was one of two Detroit Lions named to the All-Pro team by the Associated Press. Joe Schmidt, captain and linebacker, also made the defensive unit.

Huskies Meet Thurston Friday in Home Debut

Friday night will soon be here and the long-awaited moment will arrive when new Pontiac Northern High School initiates its even newer basketball court.

The Huskies come out of vacation retirement tomorrow evening to play the 1st game in their spacious gymnasium with Detroit Thurston providing the opposition.

Dick Hall's cagers will lug a 1-3 record against the Eagles on losses to Lake Orion, Rochester and Grosse Pointe and 58-46 victory over West Bloomfield in their last outing.

Hall can only hope that the Huskies will retain some of the scoring balance they displayed in their win over the Lakers at Keego Harbor.

Three players crashed into double figures against West Bloomfield in their finest point-making performance of the season, paced by 14-point showings by Mike Fedynik and Dennis Vincent and a 10-point effort by Bruce Norton.

Northern players and their followers have been waiting patiently for their home opener. Forced to take to the road before the holidays while their gymnasium was being readied for action, the time for the inaugural is now at hand.

★ ★ ★

The big problem for Northern in tomorrow night's home debut will be Len Wozniak, Thurston's string-bean 6-foot-7 center who has been scoring points at better than 20-per-game clip.

Northern has no one of Wozniak's height and the Huskies will have to rely on a strong shooting percentage plus all the scrap in the world if they hope to gain their 2nd triumph of the season.

A junior varsity preliminary game at 6:30 p.m. will start the ball rolling with the main attraction getting under way about 8 o'clock.

LITTLE ROOKIE — Albie Pearson, pint-sized and strong-armed outfielder of the Washington Senators was named as the Rookie-of-the-Year in the American League yesterday. Pearson, playing winter ball in Cuba, won the honor ahead of Irv Duren of the New York Yankees.

MSU Schedules New Hanging This Friday

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State University campus, scene last fall of the hanging in effigy of football coach Duffy Daugherty, has scheduled another hanging this week. But, this will be a more appealing ceremony.

Three giant bells will be hung Friday in the school's carillon and clock in Beaumont Tower.

They were contributed by alumni and friends and cast in bronze by a foundry in Loughborough, England.

The bells, weighing a total of five tons, arrived on campus this week in a freight car.

Golfer Alice Bauer Will Marry Again

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Professional golfer Alice Bauer Hagge will marry Harold Eugene Hovey, 42-year-old Sarasota investor.

The pair filed application for a marriage license at the courthouse yesterday.

9-Goal Splurge Paces 19-1 Win

Don MacLean went on a nine-goal scoring rampage last night at Northside Park as Bulman's Hardware swamped Pontiac Northern A, 19-1, in the first round of the Class B City Junior hockey tournament.

MacLean's feat was the second triple hat trick in the City Junior loop this season. Jon Shaw and Jim Pasche tallied four goals apiece and Dan Carr scored twice to complete the rout. Dale Termaush bagged Northern's only goal.

Jim's Hardware defeated the Mountain View Rangers, 3-1, in yesterday's other Class B tourney opener, also on Northside ice. Gary Tatu, Bob Read and Gary Gasco accounted for Jim's goals while Bill Jacobs bagged the Rangers' lone counter.

The Class A division of the double elimination tournaments begins tonight at Northside with Huron Valley Boys Club meeting the Sylvan Lake Alquettes at 7 o'clock and Standard Fonge-facing Spencer Floor Covering at 8.

Hillsdale Nips Eastern; Western Bows

Albion, Calvin and Alma Cage Victors

By United Press International

Albion won a battle of the cellar-dwellers last night.

The Britons snapped an eight-game losing streak by defeating Olivet, 108-61, to climb out of the MIAA basement. The Comets remain in last place with a 0-4 record.

Albion in winning its first conference game in four starts, was paced by Garth Richey who scored 19 points. Albion showed signs last Monday of emerging from its slump. Eastern Michigan narrowly beat the Britons, 65-63, on a field goal in the last two seconds.

In other games last night, Calvin beat Kalamazoo, 63-47, Bowling Green downed Western Michigan, 86-65, Hillsdale nipped Eastern Michigan, 56-55, and Alma defeated Central Michigan 83-70.

Bowling Green pulled away in the second half to clinch their victory over the Broncos in the mid-America Conference.

★ ★ ★

The hot Falcons set up a 22-8 lead at the start, but the Broncos fought back within two points three times in the first half. Edgar Blair, a forward, tied the score at 39-39 at the half.

★ ★ ★

Jim Barrow, a guard for Bowling Green, began a scoring spree which kept the Ohioans ahead for the remainder of the game once the second half got underway.

Barrow was also high man for Bowling Green with 22 points. The loss left Western Michigan with a 1-7 record and gave Bowling Green a 7-3 mark.

★ ★ ★

The Dales trailed at halftime, 29-23, and did not tie the Hurons until the final 16 seconds of the game.

Hillsdale forward Jim Reynolds put in the winning basket three seconds before the final buzzer.

Alma moved above the .500 mark for a 7-6 record by defeating the Chippewas behind Jim Northrup's 23 points. Central now has a 6-5 mark.

Spartans 'Just Tired'

EAST LANSING (AP)—Forddy Anderson thinks Michigan State still has its chances in Big Ten basketball competition despite the 80-68 defeat by Iowa last time out.

"It's early yet," said Anderson. "No one game will decide the Big Ten race at this stage. It's going to be a dandy—as always."

The Spartans now have a one-one conference record, the win being the 79-77 edging of defending champion Indiana.

On Saturday, Michigan State will travel to Champaign to meet Illinois, a team that has been going red hot early in the conference season.

The Illini have beaten Ohio State and Wisconsin in Big Ten play, the last by a 77-51 score. Other undefeated teams topping the league are Northwestern and Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

State hasn't had a really solid game since knocking of North Carolina in the Dixie Classic to run its win streak to six. After that one, the Spartans were beaten by North Carolina State and Iowa by solid margins and barely sneaked past Indiana.

"Too many hard games," said Anderson. "Five in eight days. I don't blame the boys. They were just tired and had no spring left in their legs."

Anderson said he was going to work on his defense in preparation for the Illinois game.

★ ★ ★

"We're also going to do a lot of resting," he said.

Illinois isn't a tall team by Big Ten standards—John Vessels is top man at 6-7—but has shown well-balanced scoring. State also faces a jinx of sorts: the Spartans have only won one game in their last five invasions of Champaign.

NCAA Slaps 2-Year Probation on USC

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Southern California, which last year scored the first team triple in NCAA championship history, today was left with crack baseball, tennis and track squads that cannot defend their titles.

And the USC swimming team, boasting Australian stars Murray Rose and Jon Henricks, is not eligible to challenge Michigan for the collegiate swimming championship because the NCAA executive council last night placed Southern Cal on two years' probation for violation of the NCAA athletic code.

But in an earlier action on the first day of the 53rd annual convention, the NCAA gave new athletic life to football player Don Fuell, key figure in the Auburn recruiting scandal which culminated in NCAA probation for Auburn and Southern Conference disciplinary action which barred Fuell, an end, from participation in SEC athletics.

In a ruling requested by Mississippi Southern College, the NCAA council said that Fuell would be eligible to compete in athletics at the Hattiesburg, Miss., school if he transferred from Auburn where he is now a third-semester student. This, in effect, gave Fuell a clean bill of health at any NCAA-member school except those in the Southeastern Conference.

★ ★ ★

Within a few hours after the ruling, it was announced at Hattiesburg that Fuell had entered Mississippi Southern. He already had been accepted for the winter term which begins Tuesday.

The Southern California action crept up on the 2,000 delegates like a Trojan horse.

It had been expected that Southern Cal, already serving a two-year probation, would be restored to good graces. The previous two-year probation expired Nov. 13, 1958, and the official announcement that it had done so was expected yesterday by the NCAA. Less than two months ago, the NCAA had said Southern Cal could play in the Rose Bowl if the Trojans won the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

But the probationary period was quietly extended while the committee on infractions continued an investigation into "improper inducements" offered two prospective student-athletes. The names of the athletes, both currently members of the USC football team, were not disclosed because, as the council pointed out in the Fuell ruling, it is interested in penalizing institutions, not individuals.

SETTING SIGHTS—Getting a bead on the basket in hopes of keeping Holly rolling toward a Wayne-Oakland championship is 6-6 center George McDaniels. The Broncos face a big test at home tomorrow night against Northville as George (20.3 average) and 6-9 Jeff Goodrich (19.3) duel. Both teams are 1-1 in loop play.

But the ruling, nevertheless, prevents Rod Dedeaux, 1958 college baseball coach of the year and newly elected president of the Baseball Coaches, Assn., from another shot at the NCAA World Series, and it prohibits USC athletes from defending individual NCAA titles.

Over-all, the university is barred from participating in 15 NCAA championship events and 28 cooperating events for the period of one year; from participation in any NCAA-controlled sports television appearances for two years, and it was stipulated additionally that any violation of NCAA requirements during the two-year period may be considered as cause for expulsion from the NCAA.

This was the 43rd case in which the NCAA established guilt and took disciplinary action. Two other schools, Auburn and the University of Miami, Fla., also had back-to-back probations.

The convention today appeared headed for a quiet interlude before the big business session tomorrow which will climax the week's doings. It is at that time that new legislation is enacted.

The report of the television committee, which differed very little from last year, and a discussion of the feasibility of placing the "letter of intent" on a national basis were the chief topics up for round table discussion today.

★ ★ ★

The "letter of intent," now in use in several conferences, would, if adopted on national basis, bind an athlete to the NCAA-member school to which he agrees on writing to attend.

Proponents claim it will stop pirating on prospective athletes. Opponents said it is a form of professionalization in that it requires a "contract signing."

Dave Creighton Sent to Minors

TORONTO (AP)—Dave Creighton has been waived out of the National Hockey League and demoted by the Toronto Maple Leafs to the Rochester Americans, their American League farm team.

The Leafs said last night no NHL clubs wanted the 28-year-old forward for the $15,000 waiver price. Creighton has seen service with four big-league teams — Toronto, Boston, Chicago and New York during a 10-year NHL career.

Cleveland — Bobby Feller's fast ball, in his prime, once was clocked at a speed of 98.6 miles per hour.

Spirited Game in AHL

Players and Fans Brawl

By The Associated Press

No one was killed, or even injured, in Hershey, Pa. last night when players and spectators fought in the third period of a spirited American Hockey League game.

But it turned out to be sudden death for the Hershey Bears.

A goal by Colin Kilburn after 45 seconds of overtime gave Springfield a 4-3 victory and snuffed out the Bears' chances of gaining ground on the vanquished Buffalo Bisons.

The Bisons, league-leaders by four points over Hershey, were blanked by Providence 2-0.

Don Cherry, Springfield defenseman, touched off the player-spectator melee when he leaped across the boards onto the ice before serving the full two minutes of a penalty. An argument with the timekeeper ensued followed by a free-for-all which was finally halted by Pennsylvania State troopers.

Goalie Harry Lumley of Providence turned back 23 shots to rack up his third shutout. Meanwhile Ray Ross and Larry Leach found the nets past Marcel Paille as the Reds escaped from the AHL cellar.

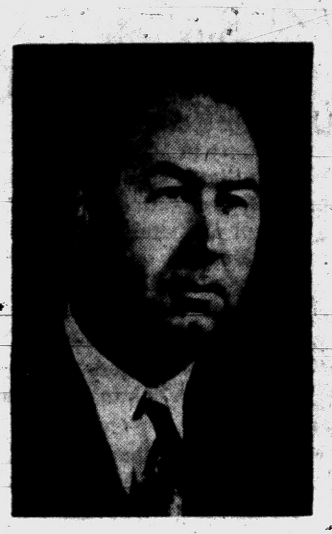

Dauw Surprised by Eley Return

When Pontiac Northern's swimming squad dressed (undressed would be more accurate) for its first meet Tuesday in its own pool, coach Edwin Dauw got a real surprise.

★ ★ ★

Dauw had been informed that Tom Eley, ace freestyler, would have to quit swimming because of a glandular condition. But Eley showed up with his doctor's written approval. "I was surprised, for we had expected to go along without him," Dauw said. "Eley is out of condition, but will get back in shape quickly."

Chiefs Resume Basketball Wars

Pontiac Central Visits Bay City for Valley Game

PCH Risks Undefeated Record, High Ranking Against Big Wolves

By BILL CORNWELL

The vacation is over and it's back to the hardwoods for Pontiac Central's undefeated and highly ranked basketball team.

PCH risks a spotless 4-0 record Friday night when the Chiefs go to Bay City Central for a Saginaw Valley Conference game with the dangerous Wolves.

Coach Art Van Ryzin is worried about the Wolves and not without good reason.

Expected to be a strong contender for the Saginaw Valley title in pre-season crystal ball gazing, Bay City has yet to live up to advance notices.

The rangy Wolves defeated Midland in their non-conference opener, then lost successive Valley decisions to Flint Central and Saginaw High before retiring for the holidays.

Their 1-2 season is anything but impressive, but the potential is still there and in addition they will have the benefit of meeting PCH on their own court.

Those reasons alone are enough to make Van Ryzin fret. But his worries don't end there.

The Wolves are coached by Bill Ullenbruch, who likes to have his teams play rough, aggressive and hustling basketball with an emphasis on ball-hawking defense and a "pick 'em up all over the floor" style.

Ullenbruch had great success with this type of play at St. Clair and Walled Lake prior to going to Bay City. Ullenbruch had hard sledding last season in his first year at Bay City, but nearly all of the 1957-58 squad returned for duty.

Bay City has very little court finesse, but the Wolves are big and tough on the backboards, something which could cause a mountain of trouble for the Chiefs, particularly in enemy territory.

★ ★ ★

Larry Piotrowski and Jim Kaniski, both 6-foot-5, Bob Bishop at 6-4, and J. C. Dunn, Fred Finn and John Young, each 6-2, are all returning regulars with height and experience. Ken Warren, a promising newcomer, also stands 6-2.

Bay City seems certain to find a winning formula before long. Van Ryzin is afraid the Wolves will discover it tomorrow evening.

The Chiefs will invade the upstate city with a rating as the state's 2nd best Class A quintet and a share of 1st place in the Valley. PCH and unbeaten Flint Northern have 2-0 SVC records.

★ ★ ★

Van Ryzin is expected to string along with the same starting lineup which has produced victories over Edsel Ford, Catholic Central, Arthur Hill and Flint Central.

Bill Hayward and John Bandy are scheduled to start at forwards with Phil Rabaja and Charlie Barge in the guard spots and Harrison Munson at center.

Orchard Lake St. Mary and Pontiac St. Frederick basketball clubs Friday night reach an important crossroad in their current campaign for Suburban Catholic League title honors.

While the top-flighters mark time today, St. Michael will be host to the capable Royal Oak St. Mary club. This will be the first game of the season on the Shamrocks' own court at St. Michael hall. North siders hope to get on the black side of the ledger in this one. They are now even at 2-2.

St. Mary has won only one loop game, a 53-38 victory over St. James, but has capable scorers in Dick McGrath, Crawford, and Alsheski. McGrath and Alsheski hit 16 apiece, Crawford 17, against St. James in their last session.

George Drake and Art Robak are current Shamrock scoring hopes. Varsity game time is 8:15 p.m.

Both Rams and Eaglets are unbeaten in league competition.

But there is one difference. The Rams have played, and won, four loop contests, while Eaglets have met, and defeated three fellow-leaguers.

★ ★ ★

St. Mary probably has the most at stake. A victory over the favored Rams would give Rev. John Rakoczy's club the top spot. On the other hand a loss would drop it into a hot scramble to stay in contention with St. Benedict for the next position.

The clubs collide on Pontiac Central's floor, at 8:15 p.m. following a preliminary, set for 7 o'clock.

The Pontiac parochials have compiled 229 points against 195 for opponents. Eaglets scored 206, with 129 for opponents, but for only four games compared with five for the Rams. Orchard Lake wins, generally, were by wider margins, where Gene Wright's squad has run into close battles on the last three outings.

Only common opponents were St. Michael and RO St. Mary. Rams stopped Shamrocks 49-36, Eaglets won 44-30. Rams defeated ROSM 63-56, while St. Mary won, 53-33.

Friday's tilt will be first since before the holidays for the Polish preps, St. Frederick returned to action Tuesday, edging a tough St. James five 49-47.

Eaglets were given intensive workouts Wednesday and today, following return Tuesday night of a number of first-stringers from vacations at home.

★ ★ ★

Starting lineup, as announced today, barring last-minute switches will be little changed from previous games. Wright started Phil Landry against St. James on Tuesday night, and the husky Landry nailed the win with a pair of free tosses in the last 17 seconds to break a 47-47 knot. It was a question whether he or Phil Bieri, a more frequent starter would get the call.

Probable starters:

ST. FREDERICK		ST. MARY (OL)
Derocher	F	Wlodkowski
Landry, Bieri	F	Duszynski
Kennedy	C	Votruba

World Hoop Meet Drawings Completed

SANTIAGO, Chili (AP) — The luck of the draw put Nationalist China and Russia in different brackets today and solved a touchy problem for the World Basketball Championships starting here Jan. 16.

Reports from both Formosa and Moscow had indicated each would not want to meet the other for political reasons.

The draw at Munich yesterday put Nationalist China in Group A with the United States, Argentina and the United Arab Republic. Russia is in Group B with Brazil, Mexico and Canada.

Group C includes the Philippines, Uruguay, Puerto Rico and Bulgaria.

Has Ailing Stomach Muscle

Olmedo Quits Tourney

PERTH (AP) — Alex Olmedo's sensational Australian tennis campaign came to a temporary halt today when the young Peruvian was forced to withdraw from the Western Australian championships.

Playing with United States Davis Cup teammate Barry MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, in the doubles semifinals, Olmedo walked off the court after playing 12 games and said: "I am sorry — I cannot continue." A troublesome stomach muscle had acted up.

★ ★ ★

At that stage the 22-year-old Inca Indian, who almost single-handedly whipped Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round ten days ago, had dropped his third straight service and was in obvious pain. Sweden's Ulf Schmidt and Jan Lundquist had won the first set 6-3 and were leading 2-1 in the second.

★ ★ ★

Although no formal announcement was made immediately it was a virtual certainty that Olmedo also would pull out of the singles semifinals tomorrow, when he is scheduled to play Andres Gimeno of Spain, and rest himself for the Australian Nationals later this month in Adelaide.

St. Louis, Celtics Romp

By The Associated Press

When the St. Louis Hawks can win without much help from Bob Pettit, what's to keep them from further padding their handsome 8½ game lead in the Western division of the National Basketball Assn.?

Last night, Pettit, who had been averaging 28.5 points a game, scored only 11. Yet, the Hawks ran away from the Minneapolis Lakers in the fourth quarter and won 89-78.

★ ★ ★

In other games, the Boston Celtics increased their Eastern division lead over New York to 4½ games by walloping the Knicks 109-78 and the Syracuse Nationals whipped the Philadelphia Warriors 111-99.

Cliff Hagan, with 22 points, was the high man for the Hawks, who put the game away with a 12-point surge early in the final period. Elgin Baylor topped Minneapolis with 21.

★ ★ ★

While the Knicks' attack sputtered, Boston went on a 17-6 third quarter tear to open an 18 point bulge. Early in the fourth period, the Celts increased it to 28. Tom Heinsohn had 23 points and Bill Russell snagged 28 rebounds for the winners. Ken Sears led New York with 16 points.

Johnny Kerr was the Syracuse star, scoring 26 points and pulling down 27 rebounds. The Nationals led throughout. Paul Arizin was the Warriors' leader with 22 points.

The dividend included $2 on preferred stock and $18 on common stock.

Last June, National Exposition sold over-the-counter at $225 a share. The current bid and asked prices are $330 and $370 respectively.

Skippers Face Strong Berkley Tomorrow

Host Waterford Hoping to Spoil Perfect Record

Defending I-L Champs 6-0; Walled Lake at Southfield

By CHUCK ABAIR

Waterford gets a golden opportunity to break up a perfect record and better its position in the rugged inter-Lakes League at the same time tomorrow night when the Skippers take on Berkley at home in the feature of a full slate of area games.

Walled Lake, smarting from its loss Tuesday at West Bloomfield, travels to Southfield while Farmington is at home against Van Dyke in other loop play as the I-L starts 1959 with a bang.

One of Berkley's roughest nights en route to the 1957-58 title was a 44-41 victory over Waterford. Another such struggle could be in the offing Friday.

Berkley has dropped six successive opponents with ease including two league foes to share the top slot with Walled Lake. The Bears have good balance led by rebound specialist Dave Burris and guard Al Krumm, who is, playing his final games before becoming a mid-year grad.

★ ★ ★

Waterford has only won once in four season starts but the locals have been especially impressive in splitting two Inter-Lakes games. They nipped Farmington by one point and lost to pre-season favorite Southfield by the same margin. Berkley walloped Southfield by 23 points.

More steady scoring to back up southpaw center Barry Campbell could keep the Skippers in the running. The forces of Jerry Wallace will be strengthened from here in with Wendy Meyer back in action. The veteran playmaker missed the December games due to a football injury.

Walled Lake had blasted Farmington and Van Dyke and whipped two Class B foes before running into West Bloomfield. The Vikings will likely need combined big nights for Bob Smith and Kirk Evans to give Southfield trouble.

Important W-O Games at Holly and Brighton

A pair of important games are included on a full schedule of Wayne-Oakland League contests starting 1959 tomorrow night.

Holly plays host to Northville and defending champion Clarkston goes to Brighton in the big ones. West Bloomfield plays at Milford and Bloomfield Hills is at home against Clarenceville in the others.

An interesting battle of giant high school centers and a pair of well balanced teams is on tap for fans who attend the Holly battle.

George McDaniels, the 6-6 center, has clicked for 20.3 points per game for seven outings. His opponent will be 6-9 Jeff Goodrich, who has 19.3 in four starts.

★ ★ ★

Holly is anxious to take on all comers after flashing some brilliant offensive antics in winning a holiday tournament. Each has divided two league games.

Clarkston and Brighton will be battling for the lead. Each is 2-0 in the W-O. There is a good possibility of a split for the year since they meet again at Clarkston next month. The Bulldogs rate the edge in the 1st one.

The Wolves have had good play from some young players led by Bill Powell with John Parks and Bob Porritt better than ever. Brighton has failed to play steady ball but has good scoring power and size.

West Bloomfield surprised by tripping Walled Lake Tuesday. That could be a big boost to the Lakers who are 1-1 in the loop.

Birmingham Hosts E. Detroit

Troy Invades Avondale for Friday 'B' Clash

Troy at Avondale and East Detroit at Birmingham are expected to be among the better games on the 1st big hoop schedule following the holidays Friday night.

Troy is 2-0 in the Oak (2nd B) while Avondale is 1-0 making it an interesting affair. The Colts are 4-1 overall while Avon has won two of three.

Coach Peyton Goodwin will bring his usual smooth-working quintet to go against Dick Bye's unsteady Yellowjackets. Big Rod Harris and little Don Harned give the visitors the kind of scoring punch the Byemen have lacked.

Lake Orion, 1-1, plays at Madison and Fitzgerald and Clawson duel in other loop activity.

Birmingham won its only Eastern Michigan game while posting a 2-1 slate in December. Transfer Merv Gallup has made the Maples a strong threat. East Detroit has played only twice losing to Ferndale in the league.

Port Huron goes to Ferndale and Hazel Park is at Mt. Clemens rounding out the EML schedule.

South Central Conference activity will have Oxford at Millington and North Branch going to Imlay City.

The Tri-County League becomes the final circuit to start when Romeo invades L'Anse Creuse. Lapeer has a final loop tuneup at Flint Tech.

Almont is guest of Dryden. Memphis plays at Armada, Capac is host to Anchor Bay and Brown City is at New Haven on a full Southern Thumb calendar.

★ ★ ★

Other games in this sector will have Royal Oak Dondero at Highland Park, Country Day facing Huron, Lutheran East visiting Madison Lamphere, Pinckney at South Lyon, Mt. Carmel at Shrine, Utica at home against Center Line and little Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow vs. St. Leo.

Salary Slashes Coming in '59 for White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—"It's bad news for Chicago White Sox players. Most of them are going to get salary cuts for 1959, Vice President Chuck Comiskey said Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Comiskey said that contracts are budgeted primarily on home attendance. The Sox dropped off 338,000 from the 1957 home park mark and also were down 365,000 on the road.

★ ★ ★

The first two to sign were Paul Derrington, bonus southpaw from California, and Chuck Lindstrom, catcher from Northwestern. Both were in the minors last season.

Among the regulars, Sherm Lollar, Jim Landis and Luis Aparicio may be the only ones to escape a pay cut.

TUESDAY'S HERO — Barry Johnson emerged as the hero of West Bloomfield's overtime upset of Walled Lake Tuesday night after his basket decided the issue with two seconds left. He and the Lakers will be back in action Friday at Milford.

Ray Robinson beat Willie Pep in 1937 at Norwich, Conn., when both were amateur boxers. They never met as professionals.

Bowling tournament talk is in the air at the busy Pontiac Elks Club as is usually the case about this time of the year.

Right around the corner is the 2nd annual Ladies National Invitational which begins at the Lodge 810 alleys in the afternoon of Jan. 17 and will run four weekends under the direction of Don Long.

Meanwhile the men are looking forward to state and national events once more. The Elks State meet will open the same day the Ladies National starts—one week from Saturday — at Ann Arbor. Toledo, Ohio will host the nationals.

Two teams made up of J. E. "Cap" Holliday's Oldtimers will highlight opening day at Ann Arbor. Every member of the two groups is 60 years of age or older. Pontiac has a record entry of 78 teams which will compete over a three week period following the opening.

Lodge 810 has the weekend of April 4-5 reserved at Toledo. Interested teams must be entered by Jan. 16.

Speaking of tourneys, the state women's keg battles begin Jan. 31 at Grand Rapids. Local ladies should be in top form following the action at the Elks.

The Greater Detroit Bowling Association is going all out to boost its tournament, according to its Pontiac representative Len Biallas. Play starts at two Motor City sites April 4th. Squad prizes in the team event is a new feature.

HERE AND THERE

Sylvan Lanes proprietor Art Rosner mighty proud of big showing young Ed Walczyk made in state play. Walcyak and Bob Stas average 160 in junior league at his new keg house . . . Bill Truxton, captain of a team in the Pontiac Motor Tuesday AM league, and Harold G. Mac-Vittie Jr., secretary of the Cooley Lanes Businessmen's loop, have been suspended indefinitely by the American Bowling Congress Legal Committee. Truxton was charged with failure to pay team prize money while MacVittie was charged with misappropriation of loop funds.

Add top scores: J. Roerink 275 and 717 in M.O.T.M. league; E. Miller and D. Graham 254 games and a 633 series for Miller in the Eagles House at Pontiac Recreation; C. McMonagle 236 and R. Howell 635 in Northside Community at Montcalm . . . Bob Kuklinski, who helps his dad operate Lakewood Lanes, came up with a 279 including 11 strikes there.

489 Dogs Listed for PKC Exhibition

Entries for the 1959 midwinter all-breed dog show by Pontiac Kennel Club were closed yesterday and the final list reached 489. This figure is about 10 per cent off last year's roster, but is said to follow similar trends for other Michigan shows this winter.

* * *

Show takes place at the Pontiac Retail Store Jan. 18 and the field will compete for The Pontiac Press best-in-show award.

Poodles led individual breeds with 39. Working group had 125, sporting 115, hounds 62, toys 59, non-sporting 54, terriers 53.

At the recent election PKC re-elected Volney Cotton, president; Allan Reekie, vice president; Alan Seeler, treasurer, and Mrs. Ed (Winnie) Kraft, secretary (re-elected). Directors are A. Wilson Bow, Frank Grant and Ed A. Kraft.

FIRST LADY — Marion Ladewig, the first lady of bowling, goes after her 7th National Women's match game championship starting Friday in Chicago. She won her 6th crown in the 1956-57 meet.

Aims for 7th Crown

Mrs. Ladewig 'First Lady'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Marion Ladewig, first lady of bowling as far as Grand Rapids is concerned, shoots for her seventh National Women's Match game championship starting Friday in Chicago.

"I'm feeling fine," she says.

"I'm confident I have just as good a chance as ever." The Grand Rapids star bowls 15 to 20 games a day and carries a 197 exhibition average from a tour which started last April.

She is the only original competitor from the field which started the classic in the 1949-50 season when she took the first of her five straight titles.

Mrs. Ladewig won her sixth All-Star crown in the 1956-57 meet and lost last January to Merle Matthews of Long Beach, Calif., in the classic held for the first time in Minneapolis.

Russian Hockey Team Plays in Colorado Next

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The Russian hockey team was smothered in comfort, new cars and cowboy hats last night.

The visitors landed in Denver by plane, then sped here for a three-day stay and two games that may provide the toughest test of their U.S. invasion.

The Russians have won three and tied one at the halfway point on their current tour. They meet Colorado College tomorrow night and Denver University's defending NCAA champions Saturday night. Both collegiate squads are manned entirely by Canadians.

Elliott Coming for Award

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Herb Elliott, Australia's world champion miler, said Thursday he definitely will be able to make the trip to Milwaukee, Wis., to receive an award as The Associated Press' male athlete of 1958.

"I'm delighted I'll be able to go to accept this high honor," Elliott said. The award will be presented Feb. 9.

Jim Ferree Low Pro in Tijuana Tourney

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—Jim Ferree, Winston-Salem, N.C., golf professional, shot a six under par 66 at the Tijuana Country Club Wednesday to capture top money in a $2,500 pro-amateur tourney.

As low professional in the field, the 27-year-old Ferree took down $250 as first prize of the pro-am purse.

Tied for second among the pros were Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., and Wes Ellis Jr., Aldecress, N.J.

Friends Turn to Hate, Fear

Cypress Threat to NATO

LONDON (UPI)—Cyprus rings in the world's ear like a dull, tolling bell. And each time it tolls someone dies.

For three years now, it has been monotonously tolling away the lives of its victims, turning a sun-lit island in the eastern Mediterranean into the setting for a Greek tragedy.

★ ★ ★

How has it all happened? How has an island noted for its golden sands, its scented pine forests, its antiquities and the friendliness of its inhabitants disintegrated into a cauldron of hate and bloodshed?

There are as many answers to these questions as there are Greek-Cypriots inside the ancient walled city of Nicosia.

What is certain is that unless a solution is found—and soon—Cyprus will smash the NATO alliance in the eastern Mediterranean, and set Greeks and Turks at each other's throats in an outburst of violence that will make the massacres of yesteryear seem like a family squabble.

At present, the British government is attempting to make effective its seven-year "partnership" plan for the island, giving both Greeks and Turks autonomy in local affairs while allowing a period or passions to cool.

PLAN REASONABLE

In many ways it is a reasonable plan, but it has aroused intense opposition from the Greek-Cypriots —comprising 80 per cent of the island's 520,000 people—who feel that it is designed to achieve ultimate partition of the island between Greeks and Turks.

On the other hand, Turkish-Cypriots fear that British acceptance of Greek-Cypriot demands would leave them in a state of permanent subjection to Greece.

★ ★ ★

As the death toll rises daily, there would seem to be only two possible solutions:

A negotiated settlement which would give the Greek-Cypriots self-government with iron-clad guarantees of Turkish minority rights, and a firm promise of independence at a specified date.

An all-out campaign to smash Eoka to relieve the island of the burden of fear.

★ ★ ★

This is the real tragedy of Cyprus: That a nation which sacrificed an army in 1941 to aid Greece against Nazi Germany and whose people were known in both Greece and Cyprus until the last few years as the "freedom-lovers" must now order its troops to shoot Cypriots on sight.

Cyprus has not only re-opened the old wounds between Greece and Turkey. It has started the blood flowing between people who used to be friends.

Properly Soaked Beard Is Secret of Good Shave

NEW YORK (UPI) — If a man can brush his teeth, make a cup of coffee, or read a newspaper, there's no reason for him to get a poor shave. The secret, according to shaving authority Elbridge J. Casselman, is to brush teeth, make coffee or read the newspaper while your face is wet.

Casselman says that even though most men spend between 10 and 15 minutes a day shaving, they often skip the most important step in the process.

★ ★ ★

"They don't soften the beard properly," he complained. "It takes three minutes of soaking to soften the beard properly. That way, the blade lasts longer and you get a smoother shave. Men with gray or white hair should soak the beard a little longer because their hair is more resistant to softening."

Casselman is a tall, white-haired gentleman who is the inspirationally clean-shaven manager of research and development for Gem Razors in Staunton, Va.

His shaving masterpiece, entitled, "Factors Involved in Satisfactory Shaving," was published by the American Medical Association in 1937 and still is the authoritative work on the subject.

How does Casselman recommend that men prepare the face for a shave?

★ ★ ★

"First, wash your face with hot water and toilet soap. Then rinse it. This removes the grit and the natural oils. Then wash and rinse the face again.

"I tell men to wash again mainly to kill time. Let those hairs soak. If three minutes aren't consumed yet, they'd better find a way to kill more time.

"Personally, I wash my face twice and go into the kitchen to put up the coffee. I leave my face wet. Some men brush their teeth after that second rinse. Others put on their socks and shoes while the beard soaks. Or take a shower. That can kill 10 minutes and that's the best way.

"But," added Casselman, "the main thing is to kill three minutes before lathering up. It's a management problem."

Couple Past 100 Enjoys Activities of Life on Farm

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ark. (UPI) — Modern conveniences may be dandy for youngsters, but when 102-year-old Jessie James Weeks wants pork on the table, he just chases down his own pig.

Then he gets his 100-year-old wife Mary to serve it up in their farm home, a place that is bare of all the so-called "luxuries" of modern living.

★ ★ ★

The couple offer living proof of the old saying that "you're as young as you feel." Mrs. Weeks still does her own cooking, washing, ironing and other chores. Her only help is from a neighbor girl who carries in the water from the farmhouse well.

Weeks manages his chores around their farm near here without any trouble. He and his wife are exceptionally healthy, although Weeks was "laid up for a spell" recently when he stuck a nail in his foot on one of his hog-chasing forays.

In addition to longevity, the couple boasts a collection of given names that causes despair to court clerks and officials. Weeks' full name is Jessie James Washington William Perry Weeks, and his wife is named Mary Etta Virginia Couch Weeks.

★ ★ ★

The long-lived, long-named couple came to Arkansas from Alabama in 1934. They moved to their farm near here in 1952.

When they are not bustling around working or visiting, both like to look back to the past. Weeks' favorite story is about the time his sister Frances "went modern"— back in 1860.

"She cut her dress off nearly up to the knees, and went out in public," Weeks said. "She was arrested, and my father had to pay her fine."

He remembers how his first auto, a 1910 model, caused such a stir in the community. "People walked for 50 miles to see the critter," he said. "A whole passel of them stood around looking at it."

★ ★ ★

The Weeks are elderly, but they aren't the only ones in the family who can claim to having outlived insurance policies. One of Weeks' sisters claims to be 107. Another has just turned 102 and a third is 100.

The baby in the family, Carrie Weeks, is 96.

"Don't know what caused us to live so long," Weeks said. "Luck, maybe — or else it just runs in the family."

De Gaulle Picks New Premier

Names Michel Debre to Share Duties After Becoming President

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle became today the first president of the Fifth Republic and appointed Michel Debre as premier.

★ ★ ★

In taking the oath of office, De Gaulle declared that during his seven-year term he would, if need be, impose what the public good demands.

Debre is an ardent nationalist and chief architect of the new constitution establishing the Fifth Republic.

Debre, who will be 47 in a week, was justice minister in De Gaulle's interim government. Naming Debre was De Gaulle's first major act after he assumed the presidency shortly after noon.

★ ★ ★

Debre will share executive duties with De Gaulle. The new constitution gives most effective power to the president.

The constitution provides that the president name the premier. There is no provision, as previously, or the National Assembly to confirm him in office.

Shouts o greeting came from thousands lining the broad Champs Elysees as De Gaulle rode along in an open car after taking office. The 68-year-old wartime Free French leader stood stiff and erect despite a brisk wind and nippy 42-degree temperatures.

★ ★ ★

At the Arch of Triumph, De Gaulle and retiring President Rene Coty symbolically rekindled the eternal flame that marks the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

De Gaulle took over as president after ruling France with a firm hand for seven months as premier. He took over as president with more power than any French chief of state since Napoleon III, who was deposed in 1870.

Car Output to Increase This Week

DETROIT (AP)—Motor vehice output in the United States this week will consist of 133,872 cars and 21,854 trucks, Automotive News said last week.

★ ★ ★

Last week, holiday shortened, the factories built 97,641 cars and 13,854 trucks. In the comparable week a year ago, 120,140 cars and 17,895 trucks were produced.

The trade paper said Canadian factories this week will produce 9,265 cars and trucks, compared with 6,361 vehicles last week and 7,957 in the same week last year.

★ ★ ★

Revising its count of 1958 production, Automotive News said U. S. factories built 4,244,021 cars and 869,715 trucks compared with 6,115,454 cars and 1,083,670 trucks in 1957.

Canadian factory output for 1958 is placed at 296,624 cars and 58,679 trucks. The 1957 total included 329,989 cars and 71,263 trucks.

2 Senators Draw Slips for Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 86th Congress became the largest in history Wednesday when Alaska's two senators and one representative took their oaths of office.

The delegation from the 49th state swells Congress to 436 House members and 98 senators.

★ ★ ★

The Alaskan ceremonies featured a custom that has not been seen here for 47 years. Officials took a small wooden box out of the dust of a Senate storeroom and placed it before Sens. Ernest Gruening and E. L. Bartlett, both Democrats.

Gruening, who won a coin toss with his colleague Tuesday put his hand in first to pull out one of three slips. Then Bartlett picked his paper.

★ ★ ★

The slips determined the length of the new senators' terms — six, four or two years. Gruening picked the four-year slip. Bartlett the two-year slip.

The draw was used last in 1912 to seat senators from the new states of Arizona and New Mexico.

★ ★ ★

As compensation for losing the coin toss and picking last, Bartlett was granted the right to be known as the senior senator.

No question of seniority will arise in the House delegation from Alaska. It comprises only Rep. Ralph J. Rivers, also a Democrat.

Hold War Bride in Pistol Slaying

Shot Fatal to Husband as It Misses Daughter in His Arms

BOONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — An attractive German war bride was held today in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband with a German pistol he brought home as a souvenir.

★ ★ ★

Alva Truman Miller, 37, of nearby Lynnville, was wounded fatally late Wednesday while holding his 9-month-old daughter, Karen, in his arms. The bullet narrowly missed the infant and hit Miller in the chest. There were powder burns on the baby's clothing.

Sheriff Robert Shelton said the wife, Helene, 36, told him Miller was shot while scuffling with her for possession of the pistol.

★ ★ ★

The couple was married while Miller was stationed in Germany with the Army. Mrs. Miller is a native of Leipzig, where her father, Paul Richter, still lives.

Shelton quoted neighbors as saying they were a "model couple and well respected in the neighborhood."

Hold Four Men in Blast Attempt

Charged With Trying to Blow Up Detroit Dry Cleaning Building

DETROIT (AP)—Louis Fleisher, former Purple Gangster, and three companions have been bound over for trial on charges connected with an attempt to destroy a building occupied by a dry cleaner.

Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca ordered Fleiser, Joseph Anielak, 40; Chester Tutha, 51, and Stanley Sobo, 40, held after a five-day examination. Fleisher lives in suburban Oak Park. The other defendants live in Detroit.

The four are charged with attempted malicious destruction of property with high explosives; with conspiracy to put explosives in a building to destroy the property of another and with breaking into a building to commit arson.

Fleisher and Anielak were arrested last Oct. 27 by police who said they saw Anielak bore a hole in the roof of the dry cleaning building. Police said Fleisher acted as lookout. Tutha and Sobo were arrested later.

Tool, Die Men Continue Talks, Avert Walkout

DETROIT (AP)—Management and union representatives agreed today to continue bargaining talks past a 9 a.m. strike deadline, averting a walkout of 7,000 Detroit area tool and die makers.

Bargaining was recessed shortly after members of the Automotive Tool & Die Manufacturers Assn. and United Auto Workers Locals 155 and 157 agreed to continue talks. The action came after an all-night bargaining session.

Negotiations were to resume later today.

The union is seeking a wage increase and fringe benefits. Contract talks have been going on since last June.

Since World War I the United States has consumed more metals and mineral fuels than the total used throughout the entire world up to 1918.

Grain Futures at Standstill

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices barely shifted from previous closes in unusually slow early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

The bullishness of the past few sessions appeared to have vanished in disappointment over failure of expected additional export business to develop overnight. However, some traders said there were reports that both India and Pakistan would be in the market soon for additional wheat purchases.

Wheat was ½ cent a bushel lower to ⅛ higher near the end of the first hour with trade virtually at a standstill, March $1.96½; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March old type contract $1.13¾; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 65¾; rye unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 65¾; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, March $1.33¾; soybeans ¼ higher to ¼ lower, January $2.14⅛.

Market Rallies, Trading Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied early today after an initial decline. Trading was heavy.

★ ★ ★

Gains of fractions to a point prevailed among most leading issues. A number of stocks were unchanged or off slightly.

The market fell at the opening. The ticker tape was late for a 4-minute period. Trading continued brisk as the recovery erased most minus signs.

Haveg took off for an initial jump of more than 6 points, then trimmed the rise to about 3.

★ ★ ★

American Motors, which held firm yesterday in the midst of a sharp market decline, advanced more than a point in active dealings. Continued reports of record-breaking sales accompanied the stock's performance.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Steel, steady at the start, added about 2 as did Du Pont. American Telephone canceled a fractional loss and showed a plus sign.

All the leading motor stocks were on the plus side after an uncertain start.

Sears Reports Record Month

Highest Sales Ever Listed for December; Ward's Also Hits Peak

CHICAGO (AP)—Sears, Roebuck and Co. today reported record December sales that almost equaled the company's business for the entire year of 1936.

Sears' December sales totaled $500,789,196, compared with $441,580,750 the same month a year ago. December 1958 included one more shopping day. The sales amounted to 13.4 per cent increase and were the highest for any month in Sears history. Both mail order and retail sales climbed.

For the 11 months, February through December, gross sales of $3,666,424,989 were an increase of 3 per cent over $3,558,966,503 for the first 11 months of 1957.

Montgomery Ward said its sales increased 10.3 per cent for a new December record. December sales totaled $164,588,435 compared with $149,260,414 for December 1957.

For the first 11 months of the Ward fiscal year, sales were $1,040,250,577 compared with $1,014,063,519 for 1957, a rise of 2.6 per cent. Ward's 12-month sales for 1958 were $1,073,799,422.

December Busy at Deeds Office

Totals for Month, Last Before Merger, Show Receipts of $19,568

In the last official month as a separate Oakland County office, the Register of Deeds office last month recorded 12,764 papers which brought in a total revenue to the county of $19,568, according to Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

As of Jan. 1 the Register of Deeds Office became merged with the County Clerk's Office.

Murphy, who assumes the combined job, said December 1958 saw the filing of 2,694 deeds, 1,437 land mortgages, 5,874 chattel mortgages and 9 new land plats.

Comparable figures from December of 1957 show that 2,702 deeds, 1,330 land mortgages, and 4,862 chattel mortgages were filed.

Totals for that month were somewhat lower than last month. There were 12,118 papers recorded for total receipts of $17,968.55.

Two Local Men Held in Cadillac Area Burglary

Two Pontiac area men were arrested at 3 a.m. today by Cadillac State Police Post troopers near a tavern which had just been burglarized.

Held for questioning in the Wexford County Jail were Robert Wardell, 30, of 111 Gladstone Pl. and Howard Wardell, 40, of Milford.

Trooper Jack Brandel and James Post said they found 44 fifths of liquor, 17 cartons of cigarettes, $225 cash, and food and candy in the men's car.

The troopers said they spotted the men as they left the tavern.

The establishment, located on Highway M37 about two miles west of the village of Harrietta, had been entered through the back door, which had been forced open.

Money had been taken from a juke box and bowling game coin boxes, officers said.

Victim of Explosion Is Still Critical

Max Richardson, 40-year-old Waterford Township resident who received burns over 50 per cent of his body Monday night following an explosion and fire in his garage, was still on the critical list at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

A hospital spokesman said today Richardson, who is vice president and manager of the Hillcrest Golf and Country Club near Mount Clemens, was holding his own and was slightly improved.

Richardson, of 2624 Walton Blvd., had turned on an open electric heater to warm his garage when fumes from a pail of gasoline ignited and set of the blast.

Home Owner Wins $14,000 From Oil Firm

DETROIT (AP)—A U.S. district court jury yesterday awarded a suburban Huntington Woods home owner $14,000 for damages suffered last February when his oil tank ran dry.

The jury awarded the damages to Theodore Powers, 42, before Chief Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle. Powers had sought $15,000 from the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Powers contended the oil tanks went dry during chilly weather in a house he had purchased, two doors from his own home. He estimated damages from burst radiators at $15,000 and said he received a $7,500 settlement from his insurance company.

State Police Probe Death of Traverse City Patient

LANSING (AP)—A full-scale State Police probe was under way today to learn the circumstances of the New Year's Day death of a patient at Traverse City State Hospital.

Gov. Williams ordered the inquiry yesterday upon receiving a written complaint from the dead man's brother, James Mason of Cadillac. Mason said he felt there was a delay in ordering a hearing in the death of his brother, Elden, 39, of Lake City, and said unless one is called "we will be forced to bring in outside help."

Mason's complaint said in part:

"We have facts proving the death of Eldon Mason was caused by a double rupture of the bowel, inflicted by a blow of some nature after his acceptance by responsible attendants involved in this case."

The governor, who was in Washington for the inauguration of Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich), said he wanted a report on the investigation when he returns to Lansing tomorrow.

Capt. Harold Moore, commander of the State Police post at Traverse City, said the patient was admitted to the hospital Dec. 18. Moore said Mason was admitted as an emergency case on the request of relatives.

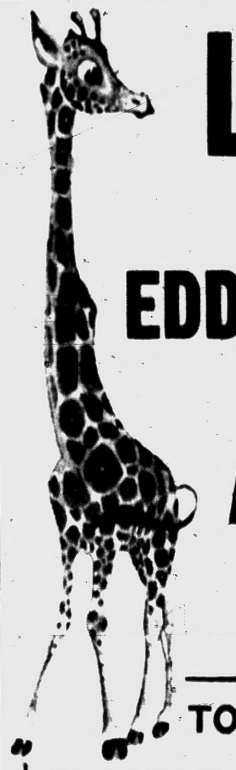

The State Police officers said troopers and Missaukee County sheriff's deputies picked up Mason at his home for transportation to the hospital at Traverse City. Moore said there was a brief scuffle when a doctor tried to give Mason a sedative.

Lawrence Johnson of Tustin and Clifford Seafuse of Milford, Mason's brothers-in-law, rode to the hospital with him.

★ ★ ★

Mason complained of pains when he arrived at the hospital, said Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director. Wagg said the patient underwent surgery performed by Dr. Edward Stoke of Traverse City Dec. 19 and that the doctor reported finding a ruptured duodenum.

Martha Griffiths Asks TV Coverage of House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich) has asked the House of Representatives to permit broadcasting and telecasting of the activities of all House committees and proceedings of the House itself.

The proposed resolution was among a number of measures introduced by the Detroit Congresswoman yesterday. Others would authorize Congress to "make a full investigation and study of the rising cost of living," and make it easier to prosecute and investigate hate-bombing cases.

Report Indicates Wider Learning

Boston University Sees Television as Appetizer for Educational Diet

NEW YORK (UPI)—The overall impact of television on children, who on the average sit with eyes glued to their sets 20 to 30 hours a week, is good, a report from Boston University indicated today.

★ ★ ★

In a 56-page pamphlet entitled "Television For Children," the foundation for character education offered several findings based on the work of its 34 authors, including scientists, educators and spokesmen for child care organizations.

According to the report, television has not damaged the eyesight of children, neither has it adversely affected their school grades.

Contrary to popular belief, television has whetted the intellectual appetites of young viewers with a resultant increase in the circulation of library books to children.

It has broadened the child's world and enhanced his experiences.

The report also found that much of the television fare offered to children is of excellent quality.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand the report found that prolonged exposure to television makes children more stereotyped in moral judgement, tending to see people as all good or all bad.

Violence for its own sake is not likely to attract children. More important to the child is action, suspense and excitement.

"The child to the extent that the danger is controlled, enjoys fearing for the safety of his hero, whether he be a cowboy or Mickey Mouse," the report said.

Family-life dramas that depict satisfying relationships between adults and children also appeal to young viewers.

★ ★ ★

The report also said that the curiosity of children about the physical world around them accounts for the popularity of science and travel programs. Talent programs stimulate a child's desire for achievement.

On the whole, television broadens a child's base of knowledge and gives him new experiences easily and quickly, the report concluded.

Court Returns Union Appeal

Niles Rail Local Gets Setback in Long Fight to Keep Jobs There

CHICAGO (AP) — The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has sent back to U.S. District Court at South Bend, Ind., a job dispute between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and one of its locals.

★ ★ ★

The action stemmed from a shift by the New York Central Railroad of its freight yard operations from Niles, Mich., to Elkhart, Ind. The Niles union local is suing its international to prevent it from instituting new job assignments brought about by the shift.

In denying an order sought by the Elkhart local, Judge F. Ryan Duffy of the Court of Appeals said yesterday the local had failed to show sufficient evidence that it had exhausted all possible legal recourse in the lower courts. The local had sought to keep the dispute within the Indiana State courts.

The local had obtained a temporary restraining order against the job shift from the superior court in Elkhart. At the request of union officials the case was taken to federal court in South Bend.

★ ★ ★

On Nov. 20, Judge Robert Grant denied the local's plea for a temporary injunction and dissolved the Elkhart court order preventing the union and railroad from shifting employes from Niles to Elkhart.

Radiotelescope Slated

WASHINGTON — A new radiotelescope to be built by the Navy will be the biggest in the Western world. Costing $60,000,000, the huge instrument will be capable of picking up radio signals originating from stars. It is expected to help astronomers answer many important questions, such as whether the universe is curved or flat and whether the cosmos is infinite.

Timex Hour Sacrifices Jazz to Create Spectacle

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now that four Timex all-star jazz shows have noised by, the pattern of the CBS-TV series is uncomfortably clear: the emphasis is on show, rather than jazz.

Whatever musical nourishment they might offer — and last night, there were a few cupfuls — is accidental.

The aim is to provide a spectacle, a circus of sound and faces, an unconscious burlesque, if you will, of jazz complete with words like "dig," "man" and "blowing up a storm."

They offer the sort of rustic exhibitions that genuine jazz buffs would hoot off the stage.

Last night, Jackie Gleason, acting in the role of appreciator — and dressed like "Joe" in "The Time Of Your Life" — hawked the virtues of an unmanageable assembly that included the Duke Ellington band, the groups of Dizzy Gillespie, Louis Armstrong and George Shearing, Dakota Staton and Ruth Olay, and Coleman Hawkins, Roy Eldridge, Jo Jones, Gene Krupa and what looked like the entire membership of the Hundred Years War, Birdland and the Grace Kelly wedding.

Visually, the show was the most resourceful of all the all-star jazz shows and there were occasional aural moments, too: Miss Staton thrusting her way through "The Thrill Is Gone" and cutting Miss Olay to shreds while they teamed up on "Body And Soul" . . . . Gillespie, the muted bell of his horn tilt-towered roofward, carving a delicate filigree out of "St. Louis Blues" while a restless rhythm section drove him politely . . . a very brief moment when Gillespie and Armstrong tried gamely, but awkwardly to mesh their styles.

But the bulk of the show was made up by some terribly mediocre wares from the Dukes of Dixieland, Shearing and disappointingly enough, the Ellington band.

There was an extended charivari at the close in which everyone joined and which was billed hopefully, but mistakenly, as a jam session.

And there was Miss Olay, a performer more interested in dramatizing her material than singing it, who should not have been on board a jazz show at all.

But then, maybe I've missed the point. It could be the object wasn't jazz, after all.

I was happy to note last night that NBC-TV's Bat Masterson is now offerng as premiums, genuine Bat Masterson canes for the kiddies to beat the TV sets with. And other kiddies, too, I trust.

An Absentee Optimist Gets Skunk for Week

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Only an optimist would think of it.

Twangy Talking Boy Has Spring in Mouth

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Harris, "twanged" when he talked. Playing with his toys, he caught a coil spring ¾ of an inch long on his tongue and upper jaw. Manfully, he went to bed without telling his parents and ate breakfast the next morning without saying a word.

Teachers at Lagrange School noticed his peculiar diction and sent him to a hospital where the spring was removed.
