LBJ Asks $135 Billion for Spending in '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today for "a measure of sacrifice" — higher taxes, higher postal rates, higher paycheck deductions — to help finance history's biggest budget.

Along with a $135-billion spending blueprint for fiscal 1968, the year starting next July 1, the President sent a hands-off warning to Congress members who are grumbling loudly at rising deficits.

The spending loomed much larger, and the deficit smaller, in two less-familiar budget yardsticks mentioned by Johnson.

The "cash budget" adds up to $172.4 billion; the "national income accounts" show $167.1 billion with a deficit of only $2.1 billion.

Both include Social Security and other trust fund payments along with the regular budget appropriations on which Congress acts.

DEEP CUTS

Deep budget cuts could cause a recession instead of the expected seventh successive year of record prosperity, Johnson's annual budget message said.

He told Capitol Hill: "The economy, the budget, and the aims of our society would be jeopardized by either a larger tax increase than the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge, or by large slashes in military or civilian programs.

"I have reviewed these programs carefully. Waste and nonessentials have been cut out," he said.

The budget bears what Johnson called "The deep imprint" of Vietnam.

FOR VIETNAM

Acknowledging that the war is beginning to pinch, Johnson asked $19.9 billion for Vietnam alone in this year's expanded $67-billion Defense Department budget and $22.4 billion in the $72.3-billion Defense Department budget for fiscal 1968.

The "sacrifice" asked by Johnson includes the 6 per cent surcharge on corporation and most personal income proposed in his State of the Union address — and widely criticized in Congress — as well as a further speedup in corporation tax payments and more "user taxes" on transportation.

Successive stepups in Social Security taxes in 1968 and 1969 would be required to pay for the benefit increases Johnson proposed to Congress yesterday.

Johnson's revised budget for 1967 shows a $9.7 billion federal deficit, the second biggest since World War II.

It was exceeded in "peacetime" only by President Dwight D. Eisenhower's $12.4 billion of red ink in 1959.

COMPARISON

Comparisons in billions of the revised 1967 budget and the proposed 1968 budget. Spending $126.7 and $135.503; receipts $117 and $126.9; deficit $9.7 and $8.1.

City to Consider Pay, '67 Budget

Administrative salary boosts totaling more than $5,000 and a revised 1967 budget of $9.7 million will be considered tonight by the City Commission.

Incorporating a deficit of $538,205, the revised budget reflects wage adjustments granted last month to municipal employes, an increased bus subsidy and the purchase of 14 new police patrol cars.

The budget also reflects the pending transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to Oakland County, which is to be made retroactive to Jan. 1, the beginning of the city's fiscal year.

Action tonight will be to set a date for a public hearing on the proposed 1967 expenditures.

The commission has already held one public hearing on a proposed budget totaling $9.2 million, but this budget was made obsolete by the airport transfer and the wage hikes.

Most of the proposed increased expenditures come in the new $8,024,539 general fund, which is the fund that pays most of the municipal payroll.

ADOPTED PREVIOUSLY

The revised $9.7-million budget is the first deficit budget in Pontiac in four years, although deficit budgets had been adopted previously when the city had a surplus from prior years.

The more than half-million-dollar deficit proposed for 1967 is to be paid by an existing surplus of a nearly identical amount.

The administrative salary boosts, proposed for those officials appointed by the commission, total $4,926. In addition, the commission is expected to consider wage hikes for Pontiac's two Municipal Court judges.

Probe Legality Before Judges

Contempt of Court Cases Tied to Ruling

Legal arguments regarding the constitutionality of Michigan's one-man grand jury were heard yesterday by three Oakland County Circuit Court judges, but it will be at least two weeks before they rule on the question.

★ ★ ★

The constitutionality of the judicial investigation is being challenged on five points by Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew.

Renfrew is asking that the judges dismiss contempt of court charges brought against four of his clients by Oakland County grand juror Philip Pratt. The cases have been assigned to the three judges.

Those charged for refusing to answer questions by Pratt are Emil Pavlovics, a druggist in Madison Heights, and three former Madison Heights city councilmen, Roman Nowicki, Ross Skinner and Bill S. Huffman, now a state representative from the 66th District.

★ ★ ★

'TOO BROAD'

Renfrew contends, among other things, that the scope of the grand jury is too broad and not specific; that impartiality may be nonexistent since the grand juror is from the same circuit as the judges who will eventually hear the case; that there is no separation of judicial and executive powers; and finally that it violates a U.S. Su-

Viet Outlay Said Outdated

Republican Leader Cites Current Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, charged today that President Johnson's budget for the Vietnam war "is already out of date."

★ ★ ★

"If you take the current spending level in Vietnam and project it for 12 months," he said in a prepared statement, "you will see that the estimate is already out of date."

Johnson proposed in his budget today $21.9 billion for the military in Southeast Asia during fiscal 1968. He said the current year's effort would would cost $19.9 billion — some of which has not yet been appropriated.

Reaction to Johnson's over-all budget was not surprising. Some Republicans called for cuts, some liberal Democrats said domestic spending was too low and some members of spending committees said they'd take hard looks before voting.

★ ★ ★

"We can cut the $135 billion budget by $5 billion without hurting anybody," said Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee. "If we don't," he said, "we're going to have more inflation and more tight money."

'CUT EVERYTHING'

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee said, "When we are in an inflationary period and the budget is in the red, it is especially imperative that we take a critical look at all phases of the budget and cut everything as much as we safely can."

THE BUDGET DOLLAR AT A GLANCE

Antimissile Plans Hinge on Talks

In his message accompanying a $72.3-billion Defense Department budget ballooned $5.4 billion above this year's partly by mounting Vietnam war costs, the President confirmed that he has decided against deploying an antimissile system pending ban talks with the Soviets.

But "if these discussions prove unsuccessful," Johnson said, "our deployment decision will be reconsidered.

"To provide for actions that may be required at that time, approximately $375 million has been included for the production of Nike X for such purposes as defense of our offensive weapon systems."

The administration said late last year the Soviets are deploying a limited antimissile system around Moscow designed to knock out approaching missiles.

INITIAL EFFORT

This is the first time the administration has sought Nike X production funds. Last year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara refused to spend more than $150 million in unrequested money appropriated by Congress to finance Nike X preproduction activities.

Cost estimates for a complete U.S. antimissile system range to $40 billion.

The President unveiled a spending proposal including $21.9 billion to support Southeast Asia operations in fiscal 1968, and said he will send Congress a $12.3 billion request to supplement the current budget.

The supplemental would mean about $9.4 billion in expenditures by next June 30.

NUCLEAR FORCES

Additional billions are provided to strengthen nuclear and conventional forces with such items as new multiple-warhead Poseidon missiles for Polaris submarines; improved, land-based Minuteman missiles equipped with decoy devices designed to fool enemy defenses and the start on a third atomic-powered aircraft carrier.

The budget provides for a uniformed strength of 3.46 million men and women, up 135,000 above the current force.

The President said his program will provide "for the full replenishment of munitions, supplies and materiels consumed in Southeast Asia at currently projected rates even if the conflict extends beyond the end of the fiscal year."

Assault Slated on Rowdyism

Negroes and School Officials Discuss PCH

Negro community leaders and Pontiac school officials last night laid plans for a counter-attack on rowdyism at Pontiac Central High School.

Discipline problems at the school, which came to a head after a Jan. 13 basketball game, were discussed during a two-hour session at the school district administration building.

As a result of the incident following the home game with Flint Northern, tonight's game with Saginaw High School was rescheduled for 3:30 p.m.

This was the first such move in Central's history. No determination yet has been made about the school's two remaining home games.

Police estimated that as many as 300 persons gathered at the corner of Huron and Franklin after the Jan. 13 game and pelted officers with snowballs.

School officials maintain that about 100 persons, several of them nonstudents, actually were involved in the fray.

There is agreement that most involved were Negroes.

Barbara Zimmerman, assisted by Harriet Cannon, presented a two-hour food demonstration. Both women are home economists at Consumers Power Co. in Pontiac.

Before the program and during intermission, Robert Lilleyman played organ music. Ushers were members of the county extension clubs who have given this service for seven years.

Grand prizes awarded last night were a gas incinerator from Consumers Power Co. that went to Judie Green, 2383 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, and a wig from Donnell of the Pontiac Mall, won by Catherine Kelly, 592 Nevada.

Stage crews from Pontiac Central man the backstage area where a complete, but primitive kitchen area is set up.

Mrs. Roy Overbaugh, 2179 Avondale, Sylvan Lake; Mrs. Max Miller, 1 Maynard and Mrs. Erwin Slater, 436 Mt. Clemens are kitchen assistants.

The first afternoon session of the cooking school was held today with another slated for tomorrow and evening sessions tonight, tomorrow and Thursday.

60 Degrees Tops Record for the Area

"It Might as Well Be Spring" could have been the theme song in the Pontiac area yesterday when the temperature hit 60 degrees. This topped by one degree the high for a Jan. 23 set in 1909.

The weatherman says colder weather is on the way with a forecast of mostly cloudy and cooler this afternoon and tonight.

Occasional rain may be expected late today. It will continue through tonight, becoming mixed with or changing to snow or snow flurries tomorrow. Temperatures will fall into the 30s tonight.

In downtown Pontiac the low prior to 8 a.m. was 43. The mercury recorded 42 at 2 p.m.

U.S. Mediators End Nicaragua Uprising

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — U.S. diplomats were credited today with ending a 20-hour uprising against the Nicaraguan government, an uprising that killed 21 and wounded more than 100 Nicaraguans.

Through U.S. Embassy mediation, the rebellion ended Monday night when the rebels freed 117 foreign hostages, including 89 North Americans held in the Gran Hotel, which had been turned into a fortress.

The rebels surrendered their arms and were allowed to go free.

The American role was dramatized when Bill Gaudet, publisher of a New Orleans monthly, the Latin American Report, followed by two American nuns ran out of the hotel waving a bedsheet as a white flag.

State Budgeters Whittling Away

LANSING (UPI) — State budget experts are wrestling with $1.6 billion in money requests from Michigan's 19 state agencies in an effort to arrive at a figure everybody can live with and on.

If current estimates are right, and Gov. Romney does indeed present a general budget of about $1.2 billion to the Legislature Feb. 2, some $400 million in requests will end up on the cutting floor.

The Legislature has the last word and can add and subtract at will.

The upshot is that Michigan is sure to have its first billion-dollar budget for general operating purposes. The state is currently operating on a budget of $974.5 million.

It also means that to pay the bills, the Legislature will be asked to approve the state's first income tax rates — probably 3 per cent on personal income, 5 per cent on corporate income and 8 per cent on financial institution income.

NO SPECIFICS

Though the governor has not specifically said he will call for income taxes, the call is expected, but with the promise of cutting and equalizing present taxes.

State Budget Officer Glenn S. Allen said his staff of 12 plans to have the budget prepared by Feb. 2.

The "general fund, general purpose" budget represents the amount of money Michigan taxpayers pay for the operation of state government and a variety of services: education, welfare, mental and physical health, police and military protection, and recreation and conservation.

★ ★ ★

The budget does not include revenue raised through special assessments for special purposes. For example, every motorist who buys a gallon of gas contributes 7 cents to help pay for the roads he drives on.

LARGEST ITEM

The largest single item in the general fund budget, which is for the 12-month period from July 1, 1967 to July 1, 1968, will be the appropriation for education.

The Department of Education is asking for $689 million for elementary and secondary education, plus $129 million for teacher retirement.

The 11 public colleges and universities are asking for about $305 million, and about $26 million is being sought for aiding community junior colleges.

U.S. Pay Law Will Up Costs in Hospitals

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Lansing hospital administrator estimated Monday that new federal wage and hour requirements going into effect Feb. 1 will add $15,000 to his hospital's overtime bills in 1967.

But John Krismer, associate director of St. Lawrence Hospital, urged Michigan hospitals to go beyond the new requirements in efforts to make hospital jobs more attractive and ease the shortage of health workers.

Krismer told a hospital administrators' conference on the new wage - hour standards that some hospitals expect their overtime costs to jump by as much as $80,000 a year.

He said, though, that good management techniques could cut the amount of overtime needed, improve employe morale and reduce turnover.

ATTITUDES IMPROVE

Krismer said his hospital reorganized schedules in several departments and found attitudes improved and turnover dropped.

Biggest problems in observing the standards, he said, would come from costs, paperwork and interpretation of some of the new rules. But, he indicated, going beyond the requirements would prevent constant policing by the government.

★ ★ ★

Robert Friel of the Detroit office of the U.S. Department of Labor told the 300 administrators at the conference they should have no problem with minimum wage requirements, since Michigan's minimum wage already is $1.25, compared with the federal government's $1.

But he warned them that when computing overtime, they must count not only hours that the employe is required to work, but also hours the employe is permitted to work.

Parties Face Money Trouble

$60 Million Congress Vote May Be Mirage

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Republicans learned today that the $60-million pot of gold Congress voted to pay for future presidential campaigns may be a mirage that could leave both parties financially stranded in 1968.

Fred C. Scribner Jr., its general counsel, predicted in a report prepared for the Republican National Committee's closing session that the income tax checkoff Congress approved will produce far less than the $30 million supposed to be available for each major party's presidential spending. He said it also may act to cut off private contributions.

"Congress had the germ of a good idea," Scribner said in an interview. "But I'm afraid we couldn't collect the money in time to do us much good, since none of it will become available until after income tax payments early in 1968."

Scribner said the GOP would be faced with the necessity of raising about $4 million to get its campaign started, since it gets no money in advance but is reimbursed only for actual campaign expenditures. He noted that these reimbursements do not take effect until after Sept. 1, 1968.

"It's going to be difficult to raise that kind of money because a lot of people who check off a $1 contribution on their income tax return—to be divided by both parties—are going to feel they have made their political contribution."

National Chairman Ray Bliss told a news conference Monday night there are "a lot of flaws in the law that have to cleaned up by Congress." He noted, among other things, that none of the money can be used for national committee headquarters operations, which cost around $1.9 million last year.

Ferency Sticks to Statement

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency wouldn't budge Monday from his position of last week — that he won't seek reelection under "current conditions and circumstances."

★ ★ ★

Ferency declined comment about a flood of reports that, State Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, for example, announced over the weekend he was withdrawing from consideration for the job because it appeared Ferency was still in contention.

★ ★ ★

"Sen. Levin had to make his own decision and so will everyone else," Ferency said Monday. "But I'm sticking with my statement of last week and I don't have any further comment."

★ ★ ★

Ferency said last week that "many party leaders and elected officials" opposed his reelection. He said if he did run successfully for another term as chairman, "I could not be as effective in that office as I would like to be."

EXISTING CONDITIONS

He added: "As long as we have the conditions and circumstances that existed when I made this decision, it is irrevocable."

★ ★ ★

Ferency also said last week he found "very enthusiastic" support among Michigan's rank and file Democrats and added, "I didn't envision too much difficulty in getting reelected."

Reinstatement of Ex-Policeman Denied by Court

Fired in November for refusing to obey an order, a former Waterford Township policeman yesterday was denied his Circuit Court request for immediate reinstatement.

Judge William J. Beer said that the township did show cause for dismissing Ronald Freeman, a patrolman with the department for seven years, and the case will now go to trial, probably in six months.

★ ★ ★

Freeman was fired after disobeying an order to sweep the floor in the police station.

He contends that the procedure followed by township officials in discharging him was improper.

Savings Reap Bonanza at GM

A total of 2,846 salaried employes at General Motors' Pontiac operations, who participated in the corporation's savings-stock purchase program of 1961, today were credited with $4,040,475.

The return of employe's savings amounted to $2.72 for every dollar saved, based on the Jan. 18 closing market price of $75 for GM common stock.

Nationwide, approximately $113.8 million in securities and cash was credited to 69,700 GM employes who participated in the 1961 program.

Locally, a total of 1,416 Pontiac Motor Division employes shared a stock, bond and cash distribution of $2,098,391.

Distribution to 1,248 GMC Truck & Coach Division employes was $1,671,072 and the Pontiac area Fisher Body plant salaried workers shared $271,011.

ELIGIBLE TO PARTICIPATE

Under the savings-stock purchase plan, all salaried employes with one year or more continuous service with the company are eligible to participate on a voluntary basis. They may save up to 10 per cent of their base salary, plus cost-of-living allowance.

Half of the employe savings is invested in U.S. government bonds and half in GM common stock. All dividends are reinvested in GM common stock and all interest received is reinvested in government bonds.

The savings program has two objectives.

First, it encourages employes to put aside a portion of their income in a systematic manner for future contingencies and, secondly, it increases the number of employes owning General Motors stock.

CONTRIBUTION

Under the savings-stock purchase program, General Motors contributes $1 for each $2 of employe savings.

Nationally, 53,000 salaried employes chose to receive their assets from the 1961 class and $78.4 million in common stocks, government bonds and cash was distributed to them today.

An additional 16,700 salaried workers are leaving their assets in trust under the other option of the program. The amount to their credit has a current market value at $35.4-million.

Today's distribution includes 787,000 shares of GM stock with a market value of $59 million, bonds valued at $16.8 million and $2.6 million in cash.

As a result of the distribution, an additional 16,300 employes became GM shareholders.

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE—For every dollar they saved in 1961, 1,416 eligible employes at Pontiac Motor Division today received $2.72. Distribution of the stocks and government bonds was made under terms of the General Motors savings-stock purchase program. Pontiac Divisional Comptroller Enoch Eley (left) and James E. Malchow, manager of the Maple-Cranbrook branch of the National Bank of Detroit, hold a money bag symbolic of the $2,098,391 bonanza distributed today.

'Military Chiefs Vow Help to Regain Power for Mao'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's official news agency said today that the nation's military commanders have vowed to help Mao Tse-tung seize "party, state, financial and other power from the persons in authority who are taking the capitalist road."

It was a rare admission that such broad power had slipped from Mao's hands.

Japanese correspondents in Peking quoted wall posters as saying the army had gone into action over the weekend to crush an uprising in the Peking suburb of Fangshan. Wall posters also reported clashes in Tientsin, 100 miles southeast of Peking, and in Paoting, 80 miles southwest of the capital.

Red Guard wall bulletins said army troops moved into Fangshan and seized control of the Communist party's county headquarters and the Security Bureau. The bulletins said a "handful of counterrevolutionary elements" had "arrested several hundred revolutionaries and subjected them to fascist torture."

PLEDGES REPORTED

Mao's New China News Agency reported pledges of support from "commanders and fighters of the three services of the Chinese People's Liberation Army" in Kunming, Lanchow, Shenyang, Canton, Foochow, Nanking, Wuhan, Peking, Chengtu, Tsinan, Tibet, Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia.

It did not mention Kiangsi, the southeast province where Mao's opponents reportedly have formed an army of workers and peasants.

★ ★ ★

Another NCNA dispatch related a series of seizures by pro-Mao forces and thereby revealed that at one time or another his opponents controlled wide sectors of trade and finance, Peking publishing houses, a Tientsin jute mill, a Shenyang (Mukden) rolling mill, an automobile spare parts plant in Sian, the Shensi provincial department of communications and the Wuhan light industrial dies and molds plant.

Road Compromise Talks Directed by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night directed the administration to begin negotiations with the Michigan State Highway Department on a compromise plan for the use of Hunter Boulevard as the east leg of the ring road.

At the same time, commissioners authorized a study on the extension of Brownell to Park as an alternate for the eastern route of the perimeter road around the central business district.

Though the city's compromise proposal doesn't eliminate as many crossovers on Hunter as the one suggested by the state, the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, according to a spokesman, still opposes any alteration of the major thoroughfare.

Preliminary estimates prepared by the city engineering department for connecting Brownell to Park from Maple to Hamilton indicate that the project would cost between $212,000 and $300,000, depending on what plan would be agreeable to commissioners.

★ ★ ★

The cost includes land acquisition, and the removal of the McCallum and Dean Building which fronts on Maple.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Low bidder on $200,000 in bonds for water main construction at last night's township board meeting was Clark, Dodge and Co.

The bid was for an average interest rate of 3.7388. The money will be used to build the Bloomfield Heights subdivision main at an estimated cost of $170,000 and the Concord Green subdivision main at $33,000.

A petition for construction of a $31,000 sewer for Colonial Estates, Lahser Road, was accepted with a hearing date to be set later.

large-scale meeting conducted by John F. Perdue in his role as school-community and human relations director of the district, was attended by some 10 persons identified as Negro community leaders.

STUDENT INSTIGATORS

Among the 20 others present were Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Police Chief William K. Hanger, members of the Pontiac School District Citizens Committee on Human Relations and school administrators.

While noting that much of the trouble at school activities is caused by nonstudents, school officials said that perhaps 10 or 12 students also are perennial instigators.

Among these are seven who had been suspended from school earlier and whose suspensions will continue for the new semester which begins Monday.

The names of the problem teen-agers and their parents will be submitted to Negro leaders, who are planning a mass community meeting on the problem.

Meanwhile school officials agreed to consider and follow through on suggestions made last night.

They were urged to confront the entire student body directly in a candid discussion of the problem.

Albert Shaw, Jefferson Community School director, said good students have disassociated themselves with the problem.

"If they could be activated, they could be used to create discipline and respect for authority," he said.

Clarence Barnes, Pontiac Area Urban League executive director, said that as long as three years ago some 50 of Central's "top students" petitioned for a human relations group at the school.

The Student Council reportedly has become active in this area.

"Some of us have been very vocal in telling the administration there is an acute problem at Pontiac Central," said Charles M. Tucker Jr., former president of the Oakland County NAACP chapter.

"Making public statements does not erase the gnawing problem," he said.

Asking for the names of the "hard - core troublemakers," Tucker also suggested that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission be asked "to make a thorough, unbiased analysis of the situation at Pontiac Central to submit to the administration."

City to Weigh Pay, Budget

ter positions have not yet been determined, but will be by the time of tonight's meeting.

COMPARE SALARIES

In announcing the proposed salary adjustments for commission appointees, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said salaries in other cities were considered.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is slated to receive the biggest increase — $1,500 for an annual salary of $23,000.

A $1,186 hike is proposed for the city clerk, giving that position a salary of $10,000. The finance director is to receive a hike of $597 for a salary of $14,000, while the assistant city manager is to receive $1,143 for $12,500.

The city attorney is to be raised $500 for an annual salary of $18,000.

Pontiac Told to Act Now on Bias or Face Violence

Racial discrimination in Pontiac could lead to violence, community leaders were told yesterday, unless they take the opportunity now to do something about it.

The warning came from two officials of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC) speaking at a luncheon to focus attention on the opening of a new regional office in Pontiac.

The office is located at 84 Auburn at Wide Track Drive.

Mrs. Frank W. Wiley, one of eight state civil rights commissioners, said Pontiac can either set a good or bad example in coping with the problems of civil rights.

★ ★ ★

"Civil rights is a serious problem in the state," she said. "We come to Pontiac to offer a hand of assistance."

THREE COUNTIES

The Civil Rights Commission center in Pontiac will serve the three counties of Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair.

Mrs. Wiley said that "potential violence" exists in Pontiac, and emphasized, "It is in the community that the problem arises, and it is in the community that the problem is solved."

Wilma Ray, director of the new regional office, one of 13 in the state, explained the responsiblity of the commission to insure that discrimination and segregation do not exist in the state.

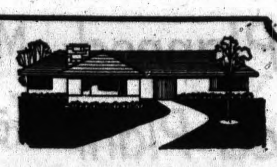

"We are committed to working ourselves out of business by helping to create a climate of equality of opportunity which will negate discrimination and segregation. It is in the latter area that the majority of our efforts will be focused."

Miss Ray said, "It should not be difficult to understand that the closer minority groups come to full equality, the angrier they become at the remaining disparities and inequities."

She explained that the CRC office opened in Pontiac "because fears and prejudices cannot be used as a rationalization by some of the citizens to usurp the rights of others.

"We are here because de facto segregation exists in education and housing, because discrimination is taking place in employment and to a lesser extent in public accommodations," she said.

Air War Escalation Said Near

SAIGON (UPI) — American airmen are awaiting only final approval from the White House to begin bombing Communist MIG fighter bases in North Vietnam for the first time, according to a highly placed source.

The source said yesterday the bombing, described as a "slight" escalation of the air war, would be ordered within the next few weeks, barring any dramatic change in the direction of the war.

There remained some doubt, however, whether pilots would be allowed to attack the MIGs themselves on the ground.

Under one leading proposal, the idea would be to knock out the runways without necessarily attacking the Communist jets themselves.

★ ★ ★

At present, U.S. fighters are allowed to attack the MIGs only after they are airborne — that is, in the words of one pilot, "the instant their wheels leave the runway."

★ ★ ★

"The war could be over in one month if we could hit what we consider the key military targets in North Vietnam," the source added.

These would include at least 75 targets in North Vietnam that military officials want to bomb but are currently off limits.

Among them would be the MIG bases, the port of Haiphong, hydroelectric plants and dams and selected industrial centers producing war goods.

Key concern of the administration is that Communist China might be provoked by such attacks into joining the war.

ALL BUT CONVINCED

It was understood military officials here had all but convinced President Johnson the MIG bases are "safe" targets—one that can be attacked without danger of bringing Peking directly into the conflict.

According to the source here, Johnson was expected to authorize the "selected" bombing of some and possibly all of the four key MIG bases in the North—three of them in the Hanoi area and the fourth near Haiphong.

Rochester Memories Stirred

By JEAN SAILE

Rochester in the old days was no more like it is now "than cheese is like chalk," said 90-year-old Ira B. Hilton, reviewing a lifetime spent in the area.

"We used to go to the grocery store and sit down and swap lies by the hour. Today if you're going downtown to sit down, it's got to be in the barbershop or the beer garden."

Hilton, alert and humorous is among those who have been transplated by Rochester's urban renewal program. He now lives in Oakland Township.

The family home at 403 E. Third in Rochester, built and settled by Hilton's father before the turn of the century, has finally passed out of the hands of the Hilton family.

"I didn't like the idea of moving at all — but they don't give you much argument on it," said Hilton ruefully.

VERY PLEASED

"And now I like it very well — in fact, I like it better," and he smiled as he surveyed the tidy four-room frame home on Cranberry Lake which he and his daughter, Mrs. Vary Hilton Jackman, have purchased.

"I spent a lot of my boyhood just two miles from here, and I used to fish in Cranberry Lake. I'm going to do it again come summer," he promised.

"It was a good old neighborhood on Third Street," he mused "but it's not so good anymore."

Mrs. Jackman interposed that an uncle, Cordie Russell, had at one time lived next door in a 145-year-old home and "Gov. Cass lived there once."

MISSES OLD HOME

She volunteered that she missed the old home more than her father.

"I've been going in and out of there all my life — first when it belonged to my grandfather and then when my parents moved there 34 years ago," she said.

Regarding his state of health, he said, "I'm not one of them fellas that feel so bad — I'm just sort of wearing out slowly."

REMEMBERS PARTIES

Ira B. Hilton---Resettled By Urban Renewal

"That was a good place," he recalled, "and then there was a fellow named Parmer — ran a jewelry store and had a skating rink and dances out in back. Everybody had a good time there."

For today's ski enthusiasts Hilton has news that what they're doing was done on just about the same scale years ago.

HAD SKI JUMP

"Two brothers named Horovitz had a ski jump next to Bloomer State Park. There was a big high hill sloping down to the Clinton River and they built a wooden jump. A wind came along and blew it down once and they rebuilt it 20 feet higher," he said.

The jump was used by motorcycles for an uphill climb, too, he remembered.

Hilton started out in life in the family trade of masonry. After 14 years he changed and went to work as a carder for a Romeo textile mill. He worked there for 39 years before retirement.

★ ★ ★

"My only weakness was fishin' and huntin'," he said.

Huge Search for Airplane Is Called Off

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Civil Air Patrol officials yesterday called off a mammoth search for a missing plane with three aboard which vanished while in a hunt Jan. 14 for another lost plane.

Lt. Col. P. B. Hubbell, head of the CAP branch here, said a ground search by more than 200 persons in western Michigan was fruitless and planes were grounded because of bad weather.

About 150 planes have participated in the search for the plane carrying Maj. William Sells, Madison Heights, and his two CAP observers, Mrs. Eva House, 45, and Rodney Lewis, 19, both of Detroit.

The three were attempting to locate a plane piloted by Edward Dwan, 48, Benton Harbor, lost in flight en route from Sheboygan, Wis., to Benton Harbor, Jan. 11.

Expansion Planned at Ford Utica Plant

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Ford Motor Co. has announced plans to expand its Utica trim plant, Mound and 23 Mile, by almost 20 per cent.

★ ★ ★

A 264,000-square-foot warehouse will be built adjacent to the main building.

Robert Miller, plant manager, said the warehouse will be used to store finished trim products.

The plant employes 3,750 people on the production of vinyl and nylon automotive seat coverings, door trim panels, interior roof coverings, convertible tops and other automotive trim products.

Milliken Says Tax Move Vital

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken said Monday Michigan needs "a thorough, painful and politically courageous overhaul of our state and local tax systems."

★ ★ ★

Milliken told a luncheon meeting of county officers from around the state:

★ ★ ★

"If we fail this year in Michigan to enact an adequate and equitable tax structure, that failure will fall not just on the Republican or Democratic party, not just on the governor or the Legislature, not just on the state or the counties. The failure will fall on all the people of Michigan."

★ ★ ★

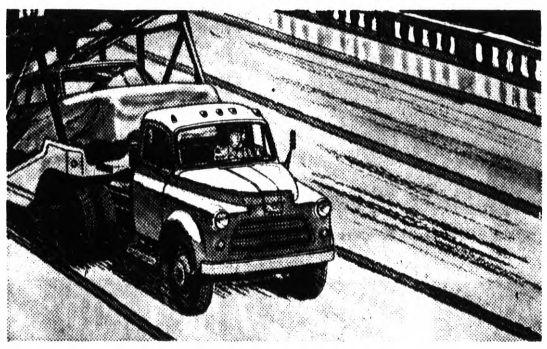

Local and state governments, as well as the federal government, have roles to play, Milliken said. But, he added, the smaller units are being forced deeper into debt as the federal government takes over major tax sources.

A SPECIAL PLEA TO CLARENCE TROUTMAN, WOMELSDORF, PENN..

(PEOPLE DON'T KNOW IT WENT 600,000 MILES BEFORE IT DID.)

New-car Transporter Clarence Troutman drove his 1954 Dodge tractor 600,000 miles before a universal joint let go right across the street from the Dodge truck plant. Then he drove it another 491,000 miles before trading it on a new Dodge D700 tractor. Other than the universal, what did Mr. Troutman replace on his Dodge? "The engine every 200,000 miles. Every 150,000 to 175,000 miles I rebuilt the transmission and rear axle." And that was about it. Except that he did replace one brake drum somewhere along the line. Now he figures he'll put another million miles on the new D700 then both of them will be ready for retirement.

Rochester Vote Today

ROCHESTER—Registered voters have until 8 tonight to cast a ballot in determination of Rochester cityhood.

The vote, actually in approval of a proposed city charter, is the second within five months—electors having chosen to investigate cityhood in a referendum last September.

★ ★ ★

Any registered voter, not necessarily a property owner, may vote, according to Clerk Maxine Ross.

Blank Ballots for Voters in Holly Village Election

HOLLY—Voters will be faced with a blank ballot in the March 13 village election.

The unusual ballot will be a paper one listing the six positions to be filled, but no names will be on it and all votes will be write-ins.

This is caused by an election ruling made last year concerning general law villages not organized under a home rule charter.

The ruling states no other parties — other than those that appear on the ballot in the general election in November — are allowed on nonhome rule village ballots, according to Mabel Childs, deputy county clerk in charge of elections.

★ ★ ★

This rule would also have affected villages of Clarkston, Lake Orion, Leonard and Ortonville, except that due to lack of challengers, no primaries had been scheduled.

FACES CHALLENGE

Holly President Clarence Lester has been challenged by Alexander Russell, 132 Bevins, necessitating a primary, originally scheduled for Feb. 13, but now canceled.

Both had filed petitions under the Union party, which is no longer a legal group as far as the election is concerned.

Lester said the confusion was a result of a misunderstanding of the ruling sent out by the state. He said several villages in other counties were in the same position.

★ ★ ★

All the incumbents, including Lester, are seeking reelection. They are: Betty Oliver, clerk; Hulda Anderson, treasurer; Grant H. Hulet, assessor; and trustees Aaron Ganshaw, James Greig and Richard Riddle.

Contracts Let for Addition to Junior High

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Contracts totaling less than school officials had expected to pay were awarded last night for work on an addition to West Bloomfield Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. Dr. Leif A. Hougen said the construction budget had been estimated at $858,000 but that the bids totaled $811,860.

The general construction contract was awarded to Wallace Construction Co. of Highland Township for $494,543.

Mechanical work will be done by William Adam Co., Detroit for $199,285 and the electrical contract went to Rogers Electric Service, Pontiac for $59,480.

★ ★ ★

A food service equipment contract was awarded to Gold Star Products of Detroit for $7,784 and a science equipment contract went to Imperial Equipment Co., Detroit for $26,816.

Work is expected to begin in about two weeks with completion scheduled for next September.

Money for the addition was included in a $7-million bond issue approved by voters last June.

Phone Rate Cut

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has authorized a $1,545 decrease in rates for customers of the Kaleva Telephone Co. in Manistee County. The rate reduction, effective with February billings, affects customers in Kaleva and Wellston.

Audio-Visual Equipment

Faculties to See Exhibits

A program to acquaint the faculties of three school districts with up-to-date audio-visual equipment has been undertaken by the Avondale Schools administration and the Avondale Education Association (AEA).

★ ★ ★

Exhibits from about 10 different manufacturers will be on display in the Avondale Senior High School from 5 to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Dr. Horace Hartsell of Michigan State University will speak at 8 p.m. on new teaching media.

The faculties of Rochester and Troy school districts have also been invited to attend.

Particular enthusiasm was expressed by Charles Johnson, Avondale assistant superintendent for instruction and personnel, for video tape machines capable of instant replay.

PLANNING ON EQUIPMENT

He said the Avondale district is looking forward to the equipping of its new elementary instructional centers with such equipment.

Permanent Unit From 4 Communities

Group to Study Consolidation

FARMINGTON — A permanent study committee is to be formed to study the possible consolidation of four communities, the city of Farmington, Farmington Township and the villages of Wood Creek and Quakertown.

At a recent meeting, the prestudy committee was dissolved and provision made for a permanent committee to consist of two members from each governmental body, and two each from the League of Women Voters, the Board of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. John Richardson, temporary chairman, said that within the next 10 days facts on population trends, zoning and master plans will be gathered to present to representatives of the Michigan State University Community Develoment and Services Department.

Once the MSU representatives summarize the information, a meeting will be held to select a permanent chairman for the committee.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the study, according to Dr. Richardson, is to study the effects consolidation would have on the communities and to tell residents what unification would mean.

He said the committee is neither endorsing nor opposing consolidation.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Area 'Eats Up' Press Cook Schools

Of the countless "Weeks" that are annually observed throughout the U.S.A., none has more local interest than the yearly Pontiac PRESS Cooking School.

Now in progress is the seventh such event sponsored by the newspaper.

The capacity attendance at these culinary clinics reflects their growing popularity in the area and is proof positive that the art of food preparation is a lively one and has not degenerated, as wags have said, into an unimaginative routine of defrost, heat and serve.

Conducted by Consumers Power Co. home economists, the week's program embraces four evening and two afternoon sessions. A variety of prizes has been donated by local appliance establishments and markets, the drawing of which adds a touch of expectancy to the proceedings.

Incidentally, the cooking schools are by no means exclusively feminine events. Over the years, men in growing numbers have attended the demonstrations to see what's cooking.

★ ★ ★

Those who relish cooking for the art it is will find informative and inspirational the facts of food now being revealed in the auditorium of the Pontiac Central High School.

Weather, Calendar Snafu Warms Our Hearts

What is so rare as a day in June? Well, a June day in January, that's what. Like yesterday.

Weather offers all sorts of record-setting possibilities, but usually they bode discomfort for the populace — such as searing and prolonged temperatures in summer, frigid and ditto in winter.

But when Old Sol smiles a record for warmth in midwinter, that, boys and girls, is something special in the record department.

Yesterday, record watchers saw the mercury nudge 60 degrees at 2:45 p.m., breaking the record of 59 degrees set Jan. 23, 1909—and was it ever nice. Winter coats were as inappropriate as a two-piece bathing suit in a beauty contest, the walking was delightful, kids and dogs were frisky, the gals more enticing than ever, the winter colony of birds trilling, and spring flowers lifted tentative heads.

★ ★ ★

What was that grumpy, off-stage crack we heard?—that we still have two months of winter left and you know what can happen in February?

Okay, Buster, okay. But neither you nor history can ever take yesterday away from us.

Grid Cost Too Heavy Penalty for D.C. School

George Washington University in Washington, D.C., is expected to join the ranks of colleges that have given up intercollegiate football. Fordham, Georgetown and Catholic University, all of which sent teams to major bowl games in the 1930s and 1940s, gave up the sport years ago.

The reason in each case was substantially the same: college football is an expensive and often unprofitable enterprise. George Washington, for example, lost $254,000 on its football program last year.

George Washington has been unable to withstand competition for fans from Maryland, Navy, the Washington Redskins, the Baltimore Colts, and from televised games of these and other college and professional games.

But even when a college football program consistently loses money, dropping the sport is not necessarily a good idea. Affluent alumni, remembering better days on the gridiron, are all too likely to express their displeasure by ignoring fund appeals. The football team is the only link many an old grad has to his alma mater.

★ ★ ★

Students at Fordham, Georgetown and NYU have organized self-supporting football clubs in an effort to fill the autumn sports gap on those campuses. The quality of play is not to be confused with that of Notre Dame or Michigan State, and the crowds, while vociferous, are not exactly crowds. Still, both the spectators and the players — amateurs in the strict sense of the word—seem genuinely to enjoy themselves and to be unconcerned about who's Number One.

★ ★ ★

Republicans Getting Big Head

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Republicans were a pretty quiet bunch in 1965, the year after their election disaster when the Democrats outnumbered them 295 to 140 in the House and 67 to 33 in the Senate.

MARLOW

They were practically speechless and for want of ideas the Republican House leaders went around trying to pick outsiders' brains. They set up task forces to give them a talking point.

Gradually, they regained their speech but not their gusto until the 1966 elections in which they did better, particularly in the House where they picked up an additional 47 seats. They picked up three in the Senate.

They're still the minority party — the Democrats outnumber them 248 to 187 in the House, 64 to 36 in the Senate — but you might not think so to listen to them now.

★ ★ ★

For example, the Republican House and Senate leaders — Rep. Gerald R. Ford and Sen. Everett H. Dirksen — have just tried to match President Johnson's State of the Union message with one of their own.

GOP MAJORITY?

It was a very ambitious message and you might get the impression from listening to it, at least Ford's part of it, that the Republicans were the majority party now and were running Congress.

They might very well be able to if they formed a coalition with the Southern Democrats — or could get the Southerners to form such a coalition — although Ford pooh-poohed the thought of it.

He said: "Cynics may call every Republican victory in this Congress a coalition. Let's meet that issue head on, right now.

"By definition, coalition requires advance consultation and ultimate compromise of conviction to win a legislative victory."

FIRST COALITION

At least that's what he said, although a coalition doesn't have to mean any such thing. And just about two weeks ago the Republicans and Southern Democrats formed their first coalition of the year, whether or not they consulted beforehand.

It was the Republicans and Southern Democrats who, by teaming up on the crucial vote, were able to prevent Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the Harlem preacher and man-about-town, from taking his seat in the House.

Not one Republican voted in Powell's favor.

But, even with a coalition, Ford will have a tough time trying to translate into reality the various ideas he tossed off in his part of the Republican State of the Union message.

'Maybe We Should Sit Down And Chat!'

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Message Patently Political

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, in his budget message to Congress, assumes on behalf of his administration full responsibility for the economic condition of the country.

LAWRENCE

Few presidents have been as pointedly political in claiming credit for a boom, though taking the precaution at the same time to blame inflationary trends and recessions on circumstances beyond their control. The President says:

"The economic performance of the past three years did not just happen. It grew out of the ingenuity, hard work and imagination of all parts of American society. But the one element which provided a catalyst for all the rest was the imaginative and flexible use of federal fiscal policy."

The fact is that the President is justifying as a "catalyst" the artificial stimulant introduced by the government itself. He declares:

"In 1964, and again in 1965, tax reductions were enacted which gave a strong stimulus to the economy. Idle capacity came into operation, new capacity was built, and both the numbers and productivity of the nation's work force rose sharply.

★ ★ ★

"In late 1965 and early 1966, however, as the economy rapidly approached full capacity operation, inflationary pressures began to develop. On two occasions, I proposed, and the Congress promptly enacted, tax changes aimed at dampening those pressures."

EVERY EFFORT

The President argues that he has made every effort to postpone, stretch out or eliminate all but the most essential federal expenditures and that these actions "contributed to a welcome moderation of inflationary pressures in the latter part of 1966.

"The economy, the budget, and the aims of our society would be jeopardized by either a larger tax increase or by large slashes in military or civilian programs."

Mr. Johnson says he welcomes careful scrutiny by Congress of all the spending programs, and then significantly comments:

"But it is my judgment that major cuts cannot be made without serious impairment to vital national objectives — in defense, in education, in health, in the rebuilding of our cities, and in the attack on poverty."

What this amounts to is a statement that the United States can afford guns and butter, too.

It means that the President does not recommend the sacrifice of any domestic programs, and his administration has already committed itself to the spending of unprecedented sums of money.

Bob Considine Says:

Nationalist China Begs, but U.S. Isn't Listening

NEW YORK — The Nationalist Chinese are on bended knee, pleading with Washington to help them throw a punch at reeling Mao Tse-tung. Obviously, we are paying no heed.

CONSIDINE

Taipei's Business and Financial Daily News mourns:

"If the Poznan strikers and the Budapest freedom fighters had been supported by the free world, the Iron Curtain in Europe would have been torn down. Unfortunately, the West missed the opportunity.

"When Russian tanks rumbled to the Budapest radio station, freedom fighters warned the free world that 'you will suffer from your selfishness and shortsightedness.' The free world should bear this lesson in mind while watching the developments on mainland China today."

Seventy three per cent of those who served as guinea pigs in a recent CBS "national current events test" flunked.

Only 28 per cent knew about how many men we have in Vietnam. Less than half knew that we drop more bombs on South Vietnam than on North.

Less than a third knew how many seats the Republicans gained in the House of Representatives in the last election.

A third thought the Constituent Assembly of South Vietnam was set up to draw up terms for a settlement with North Vietnam.

A half thought Medicare pays doctor bills, and a third thought Martin Luther King (not Stokely Carmichael) was the prime proponent of Black Power.

Nearly one in every four identified Sukarno as the top leader in Malaysia and in answer to the question "Who is the leader of the Chinese Communist party" responded "Chiang Kai-shek."

He was the only witness at the Ruby trial who had a good word to say about the murderer of Lee Harvey Oswald.

They had known each other as kids in Chicago, and Ruby became a hanger-on around Ross's camp when Barney made it big in the fight game.

Ruby worshipped the champ. He probably felt proud to emulate him even in the nature of his death.

'Change in Tax Collection May Make Voters Think'

I take strong exception to the individual who recommended that all taxes be on a withholding basis. Let's eliminate all withholding and at the end of the year when the taxpayer is separated from his money, after he has becomes attached to it, he will really become interested in those he votes for and how they spend his money.

Says Township Needs Changes in Board

Apparently Mr. Sanford learned the hard way that the West Bloomfield Township board had no use for a forward-thinking supervisor. This may no longer be a rural community but until a couple of rural-minded board members are removed from office it will continue to be run as such.

★ ★ ★

It is to the advantage of these members that the status quo is maintained. If they had their way we would have no police department and the fire department would continue to operate undermanned and lacking up-to-date equipment. Maybe this will be a lesson to the lethargic voters of West Bloomfield.

Question and Answer

Do we still have a board of health? I understood it's against the law to have dogs or cats in stores or places where food is sold, served, packaged, etc. I work in a store with a lunch counter and people scream their heads off when we ask them to take their dogs outside. I won't buy in three supermarkets, because I've seen people wheeling their dogs in the carts, and only tonight I saw a woman with a dog in her arms at a lunch counter. Do we have to carry our lunch to keep from eating after animals and have dog hair in our food?

In Washington:

Dems Ponder How to Hold Power

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some influential Democrats fear their party soon may lose enough important ground to Republicans to endanger their nearly four years of majority ascendancy. Says one:

BIOSSAT

"While people in this party gossip over what William Manchester's book says about Kennedy-Johnson relations, or try to count how many times Bob Kennedy applauded the President's State of the Union message, big voter trends may be working against us."

A respected Democratic leader argues, from close firsthand observation, that today most young Americans at or approaching voting age do not feel any strong identity with the Democrats.

"They are hanging loose," says this man. "They are watching and waiting. Many may turn out to be quite conservative. A good number seem to like Bobby Kennedy, but they aren't all-out for him right now."

★ ★ ★

Some Democrats concede that formal Democratic youth organizations are far less effective as working political entities than are their GOP counterparts. They voice real concern over what they see as enterprising efforts by Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss to woo the young—and bend their groups away from "kookery."

As one party stalwart sees the future, the party also has to consider whether or not its time-tested appeals to minority groups and others at the lower end of the economic scale may yield not victory but defeat at the polls.

The argument is that the sharply rising numbers of people in the U.S. middle class may be slowly forming a new majority whose fundamental interests are quite different from those of the loose coalition of impoverished or half-impoverished minorities which have kept the Democrats on top most of the time since the early 1930s.

Ironically, it is from some of the national minorities, the once-hyphenated Americans, that some of the loudest complaints are heard today about "doing too much too fast" in Great Society and other programs.

Anti-Negro backlash sentiment obviously plays a measurable role in this reaction, but it is far from the whole story. The wider aspect is feared to be the revolt of middle-class taxpayers against bigger and bigger tax burdens imposed to assist Negro and other poor people.

The more recent their ascent to middle-class status, the stronger are the resentments of some of these citizens against taxes and programs which they believe menace their precarious hold on the higher rungs of society.

To some Democrats, the dilemma thus posed threatens to become acute. They cannot see the party abandoning its traditional and thus far successful posture as the political ally of the disadvantaged. But, as one of them observes, "the question hereafter has to be whether—in pursuing this course — the Democrats may not forfeit the support and sympathy of the broad band of middle-class voters."

★ ★ ★

The conviction is deep in some party quarters that the long-range Democratic future hangs on what the party can do to woo the young and the enlarging middle class — and not at all on the latest backstage gossip over Lyndon Johnson and Bobby Kennedy.

5 More Patrolmen to Be Hired; 13 on Force Are Cited

It was policemen's night in Waterford Township last night.

Among those awarded were Sgt. Merrille Finkle, who received a certificate of bravery and two meritorious service citations; Detective Richard Finkbeiner, who was presented a citation for valor, and Detective Jerry St. Souver, who was the recipient of bravery and meritorious service citations.

★ ★ ★

Certificates of mertiorious service also were presented to Sgt. Alton Doud (four), Sgt. Raymond Wilhelm and Detective Sgt. David Putnam (three each), Patrolmen Daniel Coakley and Robert Reynolds (two each) and Lt. Frank Randolph, Detective Sgt. Ernest Mann and Patrolmen Elmer Bauer, Phillip Bowser and Joseph Henson (one each).

Richmond and Treasurer James Schell strongly advocated the need for more policemen to upgrade the department and, subsequently, provide township residents, with better protection.

★ ★ ★

OBLIGATION TO PUBLIC

"I think we have an obligation to the public to protect them," he asserted. "If we have the funds, we should hire them."

Said Schell: "Even five won't come close to staffing the police department adequately in comparison to the national average (one policeman per 1,000 population).

When the new patrolmen are hired, the department will have 27 members serving a population of about 60,000.

★ ★ ★

Stokes estimates it will take about three months to secure the additional personnel because of recruiting and civil service examinations.

UNALLOCATED FUNDS

Last fall during budget hearings, Stokes requested more men. He was told then by the Township Board that his request would be considered when funds were available.

At the end of last year, the township realized $94,849 in unallocated funds. The salary for starting patrolmen is $6,074 per year.

The board also agreed to make the following supplemental appropriations to the 1967 budget: $31,400 in matching funds with the Oakland County Road Commission for road improvements; $13,262 for a new pumper for the fire department; $3,367 for the employes' pension fund; $2,500 for the planning department's third-year "701" program; and $524 for the township youth assistance committee.

In other business last night, the board accepted the high bid of $300 from Robert Taylor Auto Sales for the sale of two 1960 township-owned pickup trucks.

4 OTHER PROPOSALS

In still other business, a proposed property split for lots 82 and 83 in Williams Lake Subdivision was referred to Director of Inspections E. R. Lawson for study and report.

Lawson, Planning Director Vernon Wiggins and Assessor Claude Wagner were directed to prepare a suggested working plan for all land and lot splits.

★ ★ ★

The board selected Trustee E. Frank Richardson to serve as a member of the township's library advisory board. He replaces former Trustee Loren D. Anderson, the new state representative from the 61st District.

Following last night's regular meeting, negotiations resumed between the Township Board and Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters, Local 1335, toward a 1967 contract for firemen.

LANSING (AP) — The AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes said Monday it has completed a bargaining agreement with the State Mental Health Department covering 17 mental institutions. Union members will vote on ratification by Feb. 28. Hospital locals will negotiate supplemental agreements.

Rio Flood Toll 150, May Go Up to 500

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — About 150 bodies have been recovered following disastrous floods around Rio de Janeiro, and one police estimate said as many as 500 may have died.

With hundreds reported missing, rescue workers combed through mud and debris. No exact casualty figures were available.

★ ★ ★

Torrential rains Sunday night fed the raging waters and set off landslides which swept one crowded bus off a highway into the swollen Paraiba River 33 miles west of Rio and buried another under mud and rocks. Fifty bodies were recovered.

A construction camp in the same area was engulfed by a tributary of the Paraiba. At least 300 persons were reported living in the area before the floods hit.

'COVERED BY MUD'

Luiz Eduardo Braga, who escaped through a rear window of a bus before it was buried in a landslide, said: "I tried to convince the others to get out of the bus after I left. It was fruitless. After I ran away from the bus the mud came down and covered it."

A few miles away, Ataide de Oliveira lost his entire family as a hillside collapsed, spewing mud and rocks over his house.

★ ★ ★

"I went out through the roof with my small girl in my arms," he said. "My wife and my brothers-in-law were with me. Soon they disappeared, dragged by the stream coming down the hill. When I saw all that water falling, I threw my girl over a land bank and managed to seize a branch. When I came back she was gone."

The Itaguai region about 30 miles west of Rio de Janeiro was among the hardest hit. An estimated 800 were homeless and 200 were reported missing.

HIGHWAY IMPASSABLE

The Rio-Sao Paulo highway, which runs parallel to the Paraiba River, was impassable for more than 90 miles. Police said a number of persons in private cars may have been swept to their deaths. Witnesses reported at least a dozen cars in the swollen waters.

At least 10 persons died in Rio de Janeiro as a result of the rains, including three who drowned when a bus with 10 passengers fell into a canal. Four persons were known to have died in Sao Paulo.

★ ★ ★

In Volta Redonda, a steel town in Minas Gerais State, a raft ferrying 26 passengers across the Paraiba River flipped over Sunday, killing 13 persons, including 9 children.

Electric power was rationed in Rio following massive generator failures. About 70 per cent of the city's power was knocked out.

Some areas on the city were also on short water rations, and residents were advised to get typhoid shots. Rio's beaches, polluted by backed up sewers, were closed by health authorities.

CARGO OF DEAD—Rescue workers remove the bodies of passengers from a bus 33 miles from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, yesterday, after it was swept off the road by floodwaters and carried along by the swollen waters of the Paraiba River. The floods, caused by torrential rains, have brought disaster conditions to the area. About 150 bodies have been recovered, but one police estimate said as many as 500 may have died.

3,100 Chevy Trucks Are Being Recalled

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet announced Monday it is recalling some 3,100 light-duty trucks for correction of possible defects in brake systems or steering components.

The company said two groups of 1967 model trucks are involved — about 2,400 trucks which may have brake pipes which were incorrectly routed in assembly and another 700 half-ton four-wheel-drive models which may have steering spindles made of an incorrect grade of steel.

★ ★ ★

Chevrolet said there has been no report of actual malfunction or failure in either case, but the vehicles are being recalled for inspection as a precautionary measure.

The firm insisted that the incorrect brake pipe routing does not affect normal brake operation. But malfunction in the rear section of the dual-brake system, it said, "could result in less effective front braking than has been designed for the vehicle."

GRADE OF STEEL

In the four-wheel-drive models, an outside supplier has reported to Chevrolet that some steering spindles may have been built from a grade of steel different from that specified.

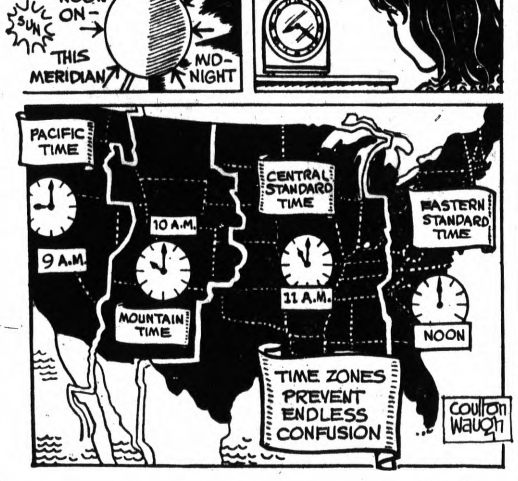

The auto company said:

★ ★ ★

However, it added, tests made by the supplier indicated that less than 1 per cent of the spindles shipped to Chevrolet were of the incorrect grade of steel.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME

QUESTION: Why are there different kinds of time?

ANSWER: Although the earth is actually orbiting around the sun, the sun appears to be taking a path around the earth, rising in the east and sinking in the west. We use this apparent path of the sun to measure time. We call this solar time because apparent means visible. We can actually see the sun moving across the sky. We count our day as ended when we know the sun has crossed under the earth at midnight.

This sounds simple. But the sun, while it keeps exact time from year to year, does not give us exact time day by day: the earth's orbit is not exactly circular, making small variations in the length of the days.

Allowing for this, astronomers take the average length of days over a year and work out average or mean time, which is what our clocks run on. Your particular time is related to your particular north-south line, or meridian. Since it would be very difficult for you to keep resetting your watch as you travel, four areas in the country are arranged as time zones, as you see in the drawing.

Man Granted Grocery Funds

Circuit Court Judge Howard Carroll ordered the release of $40 a week so that Rudolph Rottman and his daughter with whom he has lived for 24 years, Mrs. May Smitz, 50, of Warren, will be able to buy food while the case is in court.

★ ★ ★

A suit filed two weeks ago by three of Rottman's sons tied up his bank account and left him with 15 cents. Friends of Mrs. Smitz gave them money to buy food.

JOINT ACCOUNTS

The suit contends that Mrs. Smitz tricked her father into putting his money into joint accounts and that she has been taking and misusing the money.

A bank employe testified Monday that he had recommended joint accounts to Rottman and that he had full knowledge of what he was doing.

Mrs. Smitz' attorney produced an affidavit from the father asing to be left in peace with his daughter. The attorney then ased for dismissal of the suit.

The Rottman brothers countered by asing Probate Court to declare their father incompetent and to appoint a guardian for him.

The leadership of the church has made it very clear, Moss said, that it believes in civil rights and equal rights for all regardless of race, color or religion.

Burning Permits

LANSING (AP) — The Department of Conservation and township officials may issue burning permits, but a person wishing to burn on forest or grasslands must meet the requirements of both, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Monday. Dr. Ralph MacMullan, director of the department, had asked for a clarification.

Loyalty Plans Face National Eradication

WASHINGTON (AP) — In academic circles the Supreme Court's junking of New York State's teacher loyalty program will be considered a ringing declaration of academic freedom.

Monday's decision undoubtedly will ring bells in liberal circles across the land.

But so complete was the high court's dismembering of the program known as the Feinberg law it is questionable if any loyalty program of similar proportions anywhere in the country can now pass high court muster.

New York State, said Justice William J. Brennan Jr. in the majority opinion, undoubtedly has a legitimate interest in protecting its education system from subversion.

'FUNDAMENTAL LIBERTIES'

But, he said, New York — and by implication all states — cannot carry out that purpose at the expense of fundamental personal liberties "when the end can be more narrowly achieved."

Nowhere did Brennan suggest how states could do this and not violate First Amendment rights of freedom of association and freedom of belief.

Thus states may find it wholly impossible to balance the Constitution with their interests in erecting a loyalty program for state employes. They may never be able, as Justice Tom C. Clark said in dissent, to "put the pieces together again."

Maryland's loyalty oath is still in the high court hopper and some clue may be forthcoming when the justices act later this term.

★ ★ ★

In Maryland applicants for state government jobs and candidates for public office must swear they are not attempting to overthrow the state government "by force or violence."

Prospects for continuance of the Maryland program are now questionable.

Monday's 5-4 decision carries forward the Supreme Court trend of recent years of slapping down state loyalty oaths and state subversive investigations.

Auto Buildup Is Continuing

DETROIT (AP) —A continuing buildup in new car inventories, despite production cutbacks, was reported Monday by the trade publication Automotive News.

It added that U.S. manufacturers, confronted with lagging sales and growing inventories, "may be expected to take another hard look at production programs with an eye to further cutbacks in the near future."

Curtailments already in force have pared output levels to the lowest point in three years.

Last week's production was estimated at 165,082 passenger cars, compared with 165,898 the previous week, and 199,081 in the same week a year ago. Last year was the industry's second best in production and sales.

To last Saturday, 1967 U.S. passenger car production totaled 476,450, compared with 586,044 in the same span of 1966, and inventories rose an estimated 3.3 per cent in the first 15 days of the month.

Automotive News estimated new car inventories at 1,351,100 Jan. 15, compared with 1,308,519 at the start of the month. New cars in dealer hands at mid-month represented a 58-day supply, against a 45-day supply on hand a year ago on Jan. 15.

Negro Strike Plans Go On; Failure Predicted by Some

DETROIT (AP)—Plans for a nationwide general strike by Negroes in support of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell moved along today amid predictions by some Detroit Negro leaders that it would fail.

Supporters expected an appearance by comedian Dick Gregory here tonight to boost plans for the Feb. 13 strike calling for Negroes to stay home from work, skip school and boycott stores.

★ ★ ★

Gregory, a militant civil rights spokesman, has been named honorary chairman of the sponsoring United Strike Committee in Support of Powell.

Powell, a Democrat who represents the Harlem district of New York City, has been refused his seat in the U.S. House of Representatives pending an investigation of his alleged misuse of congressional funds. Congressmen also voted to oust Powell as chairman of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee.

DISAGREEMENT

Powell supporters charge he was so treated because he is a Negro.

Strike supporters predicted that 50 to 70 per cent of Detroit's Negro population — more than 500,000 — would join the boycott. But other Negro leaders disagreed.

★ ★ ★

"Less than 1 per cent will participate," said the Rev. Fulton O. Bradley, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church. "I am opposed to it. We don't yet know everything that's involved in the Powell case.

"Some feel that there are racial undertones to Mr. Powell's removal," he added, "but this is a myth being perpetrated by the Powell sympathizers."

QUESTIONS IDEA

Nelson Jack Edwards, a vice president of the Detroit branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and a member of the United Auto Workers union's executive board, said:

"I question the strike idea. I don't think a citizen strike would have sufficient impact on Congress to make it do what it would not ordinarily do anyway."

★ ★ ★

But the Rev. Albert B. Cleage Jr., a member of the strike steering committee and pastor of Central United Church of Christ, said the response from Negro leaders he has contacted has been encouraging.

"We've found very few who refuse to participate," he said. "We are contacting block clubs, little civic groups by mail and in person. Our committee is growing every day and now measures in the hundreds."

SUPPORT IN SERMONS

The Rev. Mr. Cleage said the day before the proposed strike — Feb. 12 — has been designated "Keep the Faith Sunday." He said ministers would be asked to support the strike in sermons.

He added that civil rights leaders have been asked to take part in the boycott in such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, and Chicago.

Sen. Fulbright Peace Plan Shocks Barry

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater says he was "shocked" by Sen. J. W. Fulbright's plan to end the Vietnam war by negotiations.

Goldwater, referring to the ideas expressed by the Arkansas Democrat in his new book, "Arrogance of Power," termed Fulbright's plan "foolishness" that ought to be halted "before people start taking it seriously."

"I was shocked to see the chairman of our (Senate) Foreign Policy Committee talk about ending the war with negotiations," Goldwater told a meeting of the Air Force Association Monday.

"Anyone who's been there recently knows there's no chance of that. We're not far enough along the military road in that war to be able to bring the enemy to the conference table," he said. Goldwater was making his first speech since returning from Vietnam.

IN AGREEMENT

President Johnson's policy on the war is one that "I think all of us can agree with for the most part, if not entirely," he said.

The Arizona Republican, defeated by Johnson in the 1964 election, said of the President's policy: "He's doing just what I said I would do."

"We must extend and expand our bombing in the North," said Goldwater, specifying that targets in the Hanoi area should be bombed.

"You've got to forget about this civilian stuff," said Goldwater. "Whenever you drop bombs, you're going to hit civilians. It's foolish to pretend you're not."

"I caught hell when I said this the last time," Goldwater continued, "but I still think that the President must allow commanders in the field to make their own judgments of what should be bombed."

Wife Asks Exam in Man's Death

MANISTEE (AP)—Mrs. Billie Day, 29, of Brethren demanded examination Monday at her arraignment on an open charge of murder in the shooting death of her husband, Dorence Day, 52. Mrs. Day, held without bond, was arrested Saturday. Her husband died of a rifle bullet wound, police said.

'66 Building Permits Decline in Waterford

Fewer building permits were granted in Waterford Township in 1966 than in each of the preceding two years, it was disclosed last night.

Some 1,216 building permits were issued last year, according to an annual report submitted to the Township board.

In comparison, 1,377 permits were approved in 1965's record-setting year when the estimated cost of new construction, alterations and additions totaled $15,031,037.

In 1964, a total of 1,227 building permits were issued for construction worth an estimated $9,845,171.

Total valuation last year was estimated at $9,928,827.

329 PERMITS

Of last year's total, 329 permits were for new home construction estimated to cost $5,996,836.

The preceding two years, an identical 366 permits were approved for home building estimated at $5,686,850 in 1964 and $6,540,632 in 1965.

The average new home in the township last year cost an estimated $18,227, compared with $17,871 in 1965 and $15,538 in 1964.

Bargaining to Be Hard, Donner Says

DETROIT (AP) — Frederic G. Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp., yesterday predicted that "hard collective bargaining" would mark this year's contract negotiations between the United Auto Workers Union and the Big Three auto makers.

"Free collective bargaining in our industry has always been hard collective bargaining. I have no illusions that this year's negotiations will be any different," Donner said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Economic Club of Detroit.

"But I am convinced," Donner added, "that agreements forged out of responsible free collective bargaining between the two parties — who must live with and administer these agreements — offer our best hope for sound and enduring labor-management relations."

Current three-year contracts between the Big Three auto makers — GM, Ford and Chrysler — and the United Auto Workers Union run out Sept. 5. New contract bargaining will begin a couple of months ahead

★ ★ ★

"A great source of strength as we prepare to negotiate new agreements this year," Donner said., "is the recognition on both sides of the bargaining table that continued advance in national productivity is essential to industrial progress.

INNOVATIONS

"The pressures of rising costs for labor and many of the basic materials used by our industry are making . . . innovations for improved efficiency and productivity an absolute necessity."

Growing world demand for motor vehicles, Donner said, is expected to boost annual industry sales from a 1966 level of 23 million units to near 32 million by 1975.

This would, he continued, duplicate in the next 10 years all the growth which the industry experienced in its first 65 years.

★ ★ ★

While declaring "our current vehicles are the safest in history," the GM chairman said that "a significant advance in the level of traffic safety in the United States will also require greatly expanded efforts to improve both drivers and their environment."

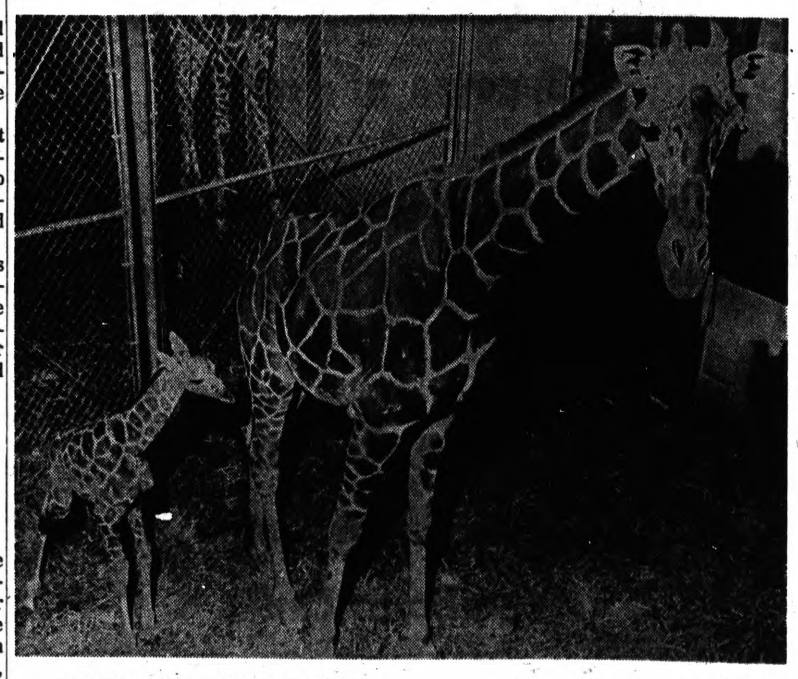

BASIC AGREEME

GM "agrees with the basic objectives of the 23 proposed federal vehicle safety standards proposed for 1968 model cars," Donner said, but added he was confident the government's final list to be announced Jan. 32 "will reflect an understanding of the realities of our industry — in both the engineering and productive areas."

All of the Big Three have said they cannot meet in 1968 models all the proposed safety standards, that additional lead time is needed for design changing and tooling.

Chiefs Entering Youth Salute

Two Age Groups Are Eligible to Compete

By CHRIS BLAKENEY

Pontiac Central students are again sending in their entries to the Salute to Youth Contest sponsored by the Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth.

This year's program will be at Pontiac Northern on April 6 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Two age groups are eligible for competition — 14- to 15-year olds and 16- to 18-year-olds. There are 10 categories: art and handiwork, creative writing, business initiative, leadership, traffic safety, music, scholarship, speech and athletics.

Students may submit entries in two areas but may only be a winner in one.

For each application the student must include the names and address of two people who know of his accomplishments in that field. Entries must be received by Feb. 28.

This year's clothing drive was a huge success. The student body contributed 3,300 pounds of clothing. These clothes are put to use in the Pontiac school system.

The homeroom, turning in the largest amount of clothing was 327. This homeroom, sponsored by vocal music teacher Judith Wade, turned in a total of 1,000 pounds!

Three hundred Central students attended the first of five plays they will see at Meadow Brook Theatre. The students were delighted with "The Caucasian Chalk Circle."

A representative from an area radio station came to Central last Friday to listen to the A Cappella Choir, Senior Boys' Ensemble and Senior Girls' Ensemble.

He has been visiting outstanding musical departments throughout the Detroit area. The A Cappella Choir will perform tomorrow night for the Chamber of Commerce.

Final exams will be over tomorrow and students will enjoy a four-day holiday before returning to school Monday for the beginning of the new semester.

Kettering Girl Cagers Busy

By JUDY FRANCIS

Even though basketball competition is focused mainly on boys, the girls at Waterford Kettering High School are beginning to test their talent on the courts.

Playing on the girls' basketball team for Kettering this year are Patty Atkins, Debbie Baer, Sally Ballard, Sue Barling, Sharon Brill, Sue Collins, Connie Davis, Vonnie Frack and Cathy Frayer.

Games are played Fridays after school, with upcoming games matching Kettering with Lake Orion, Pontiac Central, Rochester and Pontiac Northern.

Games already played have left a record of two wins and two losses for WKHS girls.

Setting a whole new trend at Kettering this year will be the Student Council's, "Basket Ball."

Tomorrow night's activity will be held in the gym from 8 to 11.

All profits from this activity will go toward the School to School Drive.

This activity was created with the idea of honoring the basketball team and to give the students another special dance to remember.

An election was held to choose a girl to reign over the dance as "Miss Basketball."

Voting was done by secret ballot so Miss Basketball's identity will be kept secret until the evening of the dance.

The Waterford Kettering band will present a winter band concert Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the gym.

Featured in the concert will be Tom Reinhart and Dan Johns as cornet soloists. The band will also play light and traditional marches. Directing the concert will be George Fetter.

Recently, problems arising from students' lack of good citizenship, lack of unity, poor attitudes and spirit were discussed.

Discussions were held in council, joint class board meetings, homerooms and finally in an all-school assembly last Tuesday.

A majority of solutions amounted to the fact that self-discipline, such as that used by Kettering students before, is the foundation to solving some of these problems.

Jan. 28 interested students will attend a synchronized swimming program in Lansing.

Utica Planning Junior Prom

Dance Theme Idea Will Win Free Ticket

By SUSAN OWEN

Utica High School's junior class chairmen and officers met with John Eichorn, faculty sponsor, to discuss tentative plans for junior prom activities.

Five prom committees, decorations, band, publicity, food and favors, selected at the meeting, have begun preparations.

As yet the theme hasn't been chosen for the dance. Entries may still be submitted to the officers. The person with the winning entry will be awarded a free prom ticket.

Presently, Feb. 11 is the date set for this year's J-Hop.

Membership in the Ski Club is still open. Dues are accepted in the cafeteria between noon and 12:30 daily.

The club plans to make seven more trips this season including a trip to Boyne Mountain.

The UHS Writers Club consists of 12 members who want to write and read their way to a better understanding of literature.

They plan to take a field trip to the "Poison Apple" on Jefferson, in hope of hearing poetry read.

Utica's debating team earned some victories this season. In the State League, Utica's affirmatives, Doreen Abraham, junior; Cyndy Patterson, junior; and negatives Karyn Shimkus, senior; and Gay Chrostek, senior, were successful in defeating Romulus.

Utica scored better in the Lakeside League with three victories. Mount Clemens was defeated by our negatives, William Martin, junior, and Gail Phillips, senior.

Roseville was also defeated by our negatives Gail Phillips, senior, and Leonard Scensny, senior, and our affirmatives, Doreen Abraham and Cyndy Patterson.

Store Offers Design Prize at Cranbrook

By RICHARD BOSLEY

The current news at Cranbrook School is in the field of art. Saks Fifth Avenue, a prominent Detroit store, has offered a prize of approximately $300 to the student who submits the most acceptable design for a mural in the new Saks Fifth Avenue store in Troy.

The contest is divided into one category for present students, and one for alumni. The mural will be executed by a professional artist.

A recent show at the Cranbrook Institute of Art featured the works of 16 Michigan ceramists, in addition to the continuing show of Near-Eastern and Oriental art.

Perhaps of more interest was the modern art show. This contained a number of canvasses in oil and watercolors, including an "op" painting, a surrealistic oil titled "The Headless Horse Who Wants to Jump" by Yasuo Kuniyoshi, and a colorful work by Luis Guglielmi called: "Elements of a Street."

★ ★ ★

"Project '67" was a special section of this show. It contained works which employed unusual techniques, some involved painted "sculpture" in plaster and wood, and even neon lights.

ARTISTIC FUSION

Partial Text of LBJ's Budget Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a partial text of President Johnson's budget message to Congress today:

This budget for fiscal year 1968 reflects three basic considerations:

—In Vietnam, as throughout the world, we seek peace but will provide all the resources needed to combat aggression.

—In our urgent domestic programs, we will continue to press ahead, at a controlled and reasoned pace.

—In our domestic economy, we seek to achieve a seventh year of uninterrupted growth, adopting the fiscal measures needed to finance our expenditures responsibly, permit lower interest rates, and achieve a more balanced economy.

OBLIGATIONS

In the year ahead, defense expenditures will continue to rise as we carry out our obligations in Vietnam. After a rigorous review of civilian programs and a sharp paring of spending requests, a modest increase in domestic expenditures will be required as we press forward to meet our obligations at home.

Under these circumstances, I am proposing a temporary 6 per cent surcharge on both corporate and individual income taxes. I also ask that individuals in the lower income brackets be exempt from the surcharge. The tax should remain in effect for two years, or for such period as may be warranted by our unusual expenditures in Vietnam. I will not hesitate to recommend an earlier expiration date, however, if the fiscal requirements of our commitments in Vietnam permit such action. In addition, I recommend legislation to provide a further acceleration of certain corporate tax payments.

With these new measures, and the expenditures I am proposing, the federal budget deficit, as measured in the national income accounts, will be $2.1 billion in fiscal year 1968, compared to $3.8 billion in fiscal year 1967.

The national income accounts budget is the measure developed and used for over three decades by economists and fiscal experts to judge the impact of the federal budget on the flow of income and production in the economy.

FEATURES

Unlike the more traditional administrative budget, the national income budget:

—Includes the large expenditures and receipts of the federal government's trust funds, but —Excludes federal loans and receipts from the sale of loans, since these are not recorded as income or expenditures in the accounts of business firms or individuals.

★ ★ ★

I am emphasizing the national income accounts as a measure of federal fiscal activity because the traditional administrative budget is becoming an increasingly less complete and less reliable measure of the government's activities and their economic impact.

For example, trust fund-financed activities not reflected in the administrative budget now approximate one-third of that budget. More specifically, the fiscal year 1968 administrative budget excludes $48.1 billion of trust fund receipts and $44.5 billion of trust fund expenditures.

JEOPARDIZED

The economy, the budget, and the aims of our society would be jeopardized by either a larger tax increase or by large slashes in military or civilian programs. I have reviewed these programs carefully. Waste and nonessentials have been cut out. Reductions or postponements have been made wherever possible. The increases that are proposed have been carefully selected on the basis of urgent national requirements.

The Congress through the appropriations process, will, of course, subject these programs to a searching examination. I welcome that examination. But it is my judgment that major cuts cannot be made without serious impairment to vital national objectives — in defense, in education, in health, in the rebuilding of our cities, and in the attack on poverty.

Federal expenditures, as measured in the national income accounts, will rise from $153.6 billion in fiscal year 1967 to $169.2 billion in 1968. That increase is composed of four major elements:

—$5.8 billion for Vietnam and other national defense outlays;

—$6.2 billion in benefits under the federal government's Social Security and other trust funds, two thirds of which results from the new Social Security legislation I am proposing;

—$1 billion for the cost of military and civilian pay increases, to keep abreast of rising salaries in private industry; and $2.6 billion for all other programs of the federal government.

SEES REFLECTION

Federal revenues will increase more rapidly than expenditures, from $149.8 billion in fiscal year 1967 to $167.1 billion in 1968, reflecting both the growth in the economy and the effect of the tax legislation I am recommending. The federal deficit, as measured in the national income accounts will, therefore, decline between 1967 and 1968 from $3.8 billion to $2.1 billion.

While the national income accounts budget is the most appropriate measure of the overall economic impact of the federal budget, a discussion of individual federal programs is best carried out in terms of the more conventional administrative budget and the various federal trust funds.

Administrative budget expenditures will amount to $126.7 billion in 1967 and $135.0 billion in 1968. In these 2 years, revenues in the administrative budget are estimated to rise from $117.0 billion to $126.9 billion. As a result, the budget deficit will fall from $9.7 billion in the current fiscal year to $8.1 billion in 1968.

Administrative budget expenditures in fiscal year 1967 are $13.9 billion higher than the expenditures I estimated in my budget message a year ago. Nine billion six-hundred million dollars of the increase is accounted for by the enlarged military program. Another $3 billion results from the impact of tight money on the federal budget, and $1.3 billion from expenditure reestimates, as workloads increased in such programs as public assistance, Medicare, and the postal service.

ON REDUCTIONS

Potential further expenditures of $2.6 billion, from congressional additions to my 1967 authorization and appropriation recommendations, were roughly offset by the budget reductions I instituted last fall. Of the $3 billion expenditure reductions, $2.6 billion will occur in administrative budget programs and about $0.4 billion in the trust funds.

In 1968, defense outlays will account for $75.5 billion, or 56 per cent of the total budget. Of the remaining expenditures, some $29.4 billion, or 22 per cent, are spent on programs under which payments are fixed by law or are otherwise uncontrollable — interest on the public debt, veterans compensation and pensions, public assistance, federal general revenue contribution to Medicare, and the like. Another $15.3 billion or 11 per cent will be spent in 1968 to complete contracts or obligations entered into in prior years — the purchase of mortgages under earlier commitments, the completion of construction begun in 1966 or 1967, and so forth.

The remaining $14.9 billion, or 11 per cent of the budget, may be considered as "controllable" expenditures in 1968. And even these include such indispensable programs as law enforcement, the collection of taxes and customs, the upkeep of our national parks, and the operation of the nation's air navigation facilities.

EXPENDITURES

National Defense — Expenditures necessary to support military operations in Southeast Asia will total $21.9 billion in 1968, about three-tenths of budget expenditures for national defense. A year ago, we were in the midst of a rapid buildup of our forces in Vietnam. Rather than submit a budget to the Congress based on highly uncertain estimates, I requested funds sufficient to finance the conflict through fiscal year 1967. At the present time, the situation is different. While unforeseen events can upset the most careful estimate, we are in a much better position to determine our future requirements in Vietnam.

As a consequence, my 1968 budget provides for those requirements on a continuing basis, including the possibility of an extension of combat beyond the end of the fiscal year.

In 1968, we will:

—Continue intensive development of Nike-X but take no action now to deploy an Anti-ballistic Missile defense; initiate discussions with the Soviet Union on the limitation of ABM deployments; in the event these discussions prove unsuccessful, we will reconsider our deployment decision. To provide for actions that may be required at that time, approximately $375 million has been included in the 1968 budget for the production of Nike-X for such purposes as defense of our offensive weapon systems.

—Maintain our decisive strategic superiority by initiating procurement of the advanced Poseidon submarine-launched missile, improving our present strategic missiles, and further safeguarding our capacity to direct our forces in the event of attack...

WORLD AFFAIRS

Based on a thorough review of our economic assistance objectives and programs, I will recommend new legislation and specific actions to:

—Require more effective self-help measures by recipient countries as a condition for U.S. aid;

—Increase the amount of assistance for the key sectors of agriculture, health, and education;

★ ★ ★

—Support regional arrangements and make greater use of multilateral channels through which other nations cooperatively share the costs of economic development;

—Encourage greater participation by private enterprise in the development process; ad concentrate our aid in those countries where successful development is most probable.

SPACE RESEARCH

This budget provides for the initiation of an effective follow on to the manned lunar landing. We will explore the moon. We will learn to live in space for months at a time. Our astronauts will conduct scientific and engineering experiments in space to enhance man's mastery of that environment.

The Surveyor and Orbiter projects, in photographing the moon, have demonstrated dramatically the value of unmanned spacecraft in investigating other objects in the solar system. Accordingly, we are proceeding with the development of the Voyager system for an unmanned landing on Mars in 1973. We will also continue other unmanned investigations nearer the earth.

★ ★ ★

In recent years, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission have jointly undertaken the development of nuclear rocket propulsion technology. We are now considering whether that effort should be expanded to the development of the rocket itself. The overall budget totals allow for the possibility of proceeding if an affirmative decision is reached.

AGRICULTURE

I have directed the Secretary of Agriculture to take the lead in helping rural people achieve a quality of living comparable to other segments of our population. To this end, the Department of Agriculture will work with state and federal agencies and with local groups to help rural communities make the best use of all existing governmental programs. In addition, legislation is needed to encourage establishment of pilot multi-county development districts.

To assure modern and efficient electric and telephone services for rural people, legislation should be enacted promptly to provide new sources of private financing for rural electrification administration borrowers, while minimizing federal outlays.

Action must be taken now to:

—Reduce water pollution in our lakes, rivers, and estuaries.

—Insure an adequate supply of pure water.

—Preserve scenic areas of irreplaceable natural beauty — scenic rivers, the redwoods, north cascades in the state of Washington, and the historic Potomac Valley.

—Forestall the escalation of land prices in the acquisition of federal lands for recreational use.

DESALTING PLANT

I also recommend legislation to enable the Department of the Interior to participate with the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California and the Atomic Energy Commission in developing and constructing a large prototype power and desalting plant.

We are currently considering the construction of a prototype civil supersonic transport. The allowance for contingencies is adequate to cover the possible costs of this effort, should an affirmative decision be made to proceed.

★ ★ ★

Special emphasis will be placed on improved management and acquisition of modern facilities and equipment to increase the efficiency of our postal system, one of the largest business operations in the world. To provide improved services, to cover proposed pay increases for postal workers and largely offset the remaining postal deficit, a postal rate increase is both necessary and desirable. As required by law, I am proposing such an increase. The budget reflects $700 million in postal revenues from this source.

HOUSING-COMMUNITY

The recently enacted program of rent supplements is an essential element in helping the needy obtain adequate housing facilities and increasing their freedom of choice as to where they can live. To carry on this important program, I am requesting the full amount authorized for rent supplements for 1968, and urge the Congress to act favorably on this request.

To be effective, concerted attacks on city problems must be planned by the cities themselves. The new model cities program is now the primary incentive provided by the federal government to accomplish this objective. Special grants will be made to help transform entire blighted areas into attractive and useful neighborhoods. To receive these grants, cities must:

Develop imaginative and comprehensive plans of action; and enlist federal, state, local, and private resources in a concerted effort to bring their plans to fruition.

Many cities are now planning their programs. It is essential that the funds I am requesting for these special grants be available in 1968 when these cities are ready to begin the task.

ENCOURAGEMENT

Under a new program enacted last year, further encouragement will be given to the planned development of entire metropolitan areas. Supplementary federal grants will be made under 10 federal aid programs in those metropolitan areas which demonstrate that they are carrying out, through joint planning efforts, all activities which affect metropolitan development. I urge enactment of the appropriations requested for this program.

Additional measures are needed and will be proposed to:

—Extend Medicare to disabled workers.

—Expand child health services, including dental care.

Reduce the menace of air pollution which is a threat to the health and safety of our citizens.

LABOR—MANPOWER

My budget proposals provide increased opportunity for the disadvantaged to participate in and contribute productively to our expanding economy.

—I am recommending funds for 280,000 trainees under the Manpower Development and Training Act, an increase of 30,000 over the current year.

—Programs under that act and those of the United States Employment Service will continue to emphasize serving the severely disadvantaged.

In addition, under programs financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity, 355,000 jobs and training will be made available for youths in the Neighborhood Youth Corps. An estimated $328 million will be provided for expanded work training programs, primarily for adults, with special emphasis on reaching the hardcore unemployed and underemployed in slum areas.

OEO EFFORTS

Poverty remains an ugly scar on the nation's conscience. The war against it will be long, difficult, and costly. But we are making headway.

The $2.1 billion of new obligational authority included in the 1968 budget for the Office of Economic Opportunity will enable us to expand programs which help people rise out of poverty. The increase of $448 million over the 1967 level will be used largely for community action programs, for training programs, and for new Head Start follow-up efforts.

ON EDUCATION

New obligational authority for education will total $5.2 billion in 1968, $622 million more than in 1967. These funds will be used to:

—Assist the disadvantaged by increasing grants to improve elementary and secondary education for about 8½ million less fortunate children from low-income families and by providing new grants for education of handicapped children;

—Encourage creative change through an increase of almost 80 per cent in grants for supplementary centers and other special projects designed to introduce better teaching and innovation in our educational programs.

—Widen higher educational opportunities by providing more than $1.1 billion in scholarships, loans, and part-time work for students, a 22 per cent increase over 1967; and —Improve teacher training through additional funding and amendments providing for a more flexible use of legislative authority.

LEGISLATION

I will propose legislation to:

—Extend and enlarge the Teachers Corps;

—Initiate experimental projects to improve vocational education, particularly for the disadvantaged and those not planning to attend college;

—Extend and expand federal support for educational television; and —Strengthen education program planning and evaluation by state governments and localities.

Certain gaps currently exist in the benefits available to veterans of service in Vietnam relative to those for veterans of previous active military operations. I will propose legislation to fill these gaps so that fair and equitable treatment is provided for those who bear the brunt of the struggle in Southeast Asia.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

I will propose legislation for a major new program to help strengthen state and local government law enforcement and criminal justice systems.

District of Columbia citizens should have a voice in their own affairs. Our commitment to democracy demands no less. I again urge the Congress to grant home rule to the nation's capital.

PUBLIC DEBT

On the basis of the receipts and expenditures estimated in this budget, the public debt on June 30, 1967, will be $327.3 billion, and will increase to $335.4 billion on June 30, 1968.

The temporary limit of $330 billion on the public debt under present law will expire on June 30, 1967. If no action is taken, the limit will revert on the date to the permanent ceiling of $285 billion.

The increase in the 1967 deficit, coupled with the tightness of the current limit on the outstanding debt, make an immediate increase imperative. Without such an increase, management of debt operations and other fiscal policies will be seriously hampered.

The secretaries of Commerce and Labor have recommended to me, and I strongly agree, that the President, the Congress and the nation will best be served by bringing together these closely related operations into one institution headed by a single responsible official of Cabinet rank. I will, therefore, propose legislation to merge the Departments of Labor and Commerce and the functions of several related agencies into a new Department of Business and Labor.

COOPERATION

At the national level, the federal government has a responsibility to examine and improve the grant-in-aid system, making it more flexible and responsive to state and local fiscal realities. Last year, we began a new partnership in the health program through which numerous separate grant programs are being brought together.

The model cities legislation enacted last year will also help to integrate the wide range of federal aids available to communities.

In the coming year, we will examine other areas of federal aid to determine whether additional categorical grants can be combined to form a more effective tool for intergovernmental cooperation.

For many years — under many administrations — particular aspects of the overall budget presentation, or the treatment of individual accounts, have been questioned on one ground or another.

BUDGET CONCEPT

In the light of these facts, I believe a thorough and objective review of budgetary concepts is warranted. I therefore intend to seek advice on the subject from a bipartisan group of informed individuals with a background in budgetary matters. It is my hope that this group can undertake a thorough review of the budget and recommend an approach to budgetary presentation which will assist both public and congressional understanding of this vital document.

IN AND OUT — This chart, based on one prepared by the Bureau of the Budget, depicts where our dollars come from, and where they go, to run the United States government for the fiscal year 1968, starting next July 1.

Highlights of Request by Johnson

In the budget for 1968, I am again proposing a fiscal program tailored to meet responsibly the needs of an expanding economy. This program will require a measure of sacrifice as well as continued work and resourcefulness.

In the year ahead, defense expenditures will continue to rise as we carry out our obligations in Vietnam. After a rigorous review of civilian programs and a sharp paring of spending requests, a modest increase in domestic expenditures will be required as we press forward to meet our obligations at home.

In the 1968 budget I have sought to recommend increases only where these are vitally necessary to meet the needs of a growing society. I have given particular, but selective, attention to programs designed to bring into the mainstream of American life those to whom opportunities are now denied.

We cannot permit the defense of freedom abroad to sidetrack the struggle for individual growth and dignity at home.

Trapped in the declining centers of our cities are the poor and the victims of discrimination — who lack the resources to solve their problems without outside help. This budget provides funds to meet these needs.

Poverty remains an ugly scar on the nation's conscience. The war against it will be long, difficult and costly. But we are making headway.

In the past few years, the federal government has undertaken an unprecedented number of forward-looking programs which promise to enrich the quality, the justice and the opportunity of American society to an extent no one would have dared hope only a few short years ago.

Our agenda must give high priority to a stronger and more effective federal system of government in the United States.

Chrysler Buy Is Defended

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Rootes of the now Chrysler Corp. - controlled Rootes auto group says he has "the utmost confidence" about the group's future.

"I believe that a very promising and progressive chapter is now opening in the history of the group," he said.

Earlier this week, the government gave reluctant consent to Chrysler to buy control of the British group.

Apparently replying to Technology Minister Anthony Wedgwood Benn, Rootes said "it is entirely wrong to suggest that the Rootes Group is broke."

★ ★ ★

He agreed it had suffered substantial losses and these were increased by the severe effects of the government's credit squeeze.

He said Rootes still had very large resources but its problem was shortage of working capital arising from heavy investment.

Student Code

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A uniform code of grooming and conduct for high school students, drawn up by the city's five public high school principals will be presented to the board of education Thursday. The code is a product of a Jan. 9 recommendation of a special citizens committee appointed by Dr. Jay Pylman, superintendent of schools, after a controversy over the banning of moustaches at one high school.

Cooking School Attracts Crowd

The auditorium at Pontiac Central High School was filled when the program began.

Mrs. Farres Rosberg, Berkley Avenue, has a free Coke before finding her seat at the first session of The Pontiac Press Cooking School.

Catherine Kelly of Nevada Street won a wig from Donnell at The Pontiac Mall. There are two more wigs to be given away at other sessions this week.

Roger Jones of Euclid Street, a senior at Pontiac Central High School, attended cooking school Monday night when his mother was unable to use her ticket. A former student in PCHS food services class, Roger hopes to go into the restaurant business some day.

Subtract One ---Remainder Is 'The Look'

By LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS — The Paris spring and summer fashion collections opened today with Esterel and Feraud both hiking the hemline three to five inches above the knees.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The costume did double duty. First worn as a hostess outfit, the pants were discarded and the dress was paraded for town wear with small brimmed millinery, gloves and handbag.

★ ★ ★

Rolled brimmed bretons or tiny sailors had raffia straw bangs over brow and raffia bows at the nape of the neck.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

In the sports department, sensational leather or vinyl jerkins and whipcord jodhpurs are set off by matching leather or vinyl riding boots with riding crops tucked into loops at sides.

★ ★ ★

Plaid wool shirts go with these amusing outfits. One was in pearly gray vinyl, another blue and the third orange leather with minute jockey caps completing the look.

Britishers Keep Stiff Upper Lip

LONDON (AP) — Haute Couture, that proud lady, has become the poor Cinderella of the London fashion scene.

She carries on only with a stiff upper lip and the financial props provided by sister boutiques.

English high fashion designers, once the top 12 who thought they could challenge Paris and Italy, this year have shrunk to less than a handful.

Only four spring collections have been shown.

HARTNELL

Foreign buyers were conspicuously absent, and nobody was surprised.

Hardy Amies, with profitable men's tailoring and style consultant tieups in America and Europe, and perhaps with a more flexible acceptance of the fashion revolution, has undoubtedly the healthiest high fashion house in London.

Three other houses, Mattli, Paterson and Michael, expect to show in February.

Even the London fashion press, usually chauvinistic in claims for their designers' influence, last week was ready to say uncle.

"The London couture scene as a whole has never looked gloomier," the Evening Standard reported.

The Daily Express spoke of "the problems that beset what remains of British couture," and the Daily Sketch mourned "that ever-shrinking group of dressmakers."

AP Wirephoto

Jacques Esterel offered, at the opening of the Paris spring-summer showings, sports wear he termed "a little mad." The designer "dresses" bikinis for beach wear with contrasting trousered legs, leaving the frilly, or plain, or bicolor G-string triangles outside to achieve a bizarre effect. The matching triangular hats are of linen.

AP Wirephoto

Issue Covers More Than Apron ---Your Action Was Thoughtless

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law was one of 16 guests at my Thanksgiving dinner. As I sat down at the table I noticed that she was still wearing the apron she put on to help me with a few last minute things in the kitchen.

ABBY

I quietly untied it and removed it from her and hung it in my apron closet. Well, she gave me a dirty look and hasn't spoken to me since!

It was a sit-down dinner and I felt that the apron would have detracted from the atmosphere of my dinner party. Apparently, she thought nothing of it. Which one of us is right?

NOT SPEAKING

DEAR NOT: Your sister-in-law may have absent-mindedly come to the table wearing the apron. In any case, it would have been better had you "reminded her" (in a whisper) to take it off, instead of "quietly" removing the apron from her as you would from a thoughtless child.

The issue here covers more than an apron. Apparently the relationship between you and your sister-in-law wasn't "so hot" to begin with or so trivial an incident would not have touched off a cold war.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In our neighborhood there is a man in his late fifties or early sixties who stands on his front porch and out in front of his house talking to himself and using obscene language to no one in particular.

Last summer two little children were playing on the sidewalk near his home, and he came out and threw a pan of water over them.

I am no stuffed shirt, but this man's language is really obscene. I don't mean just ordinary swear words. I don't think children should be exposed to such language or behavior. My husband and I have been wondering what to do about this if anything. Should this man be committed or ignored?

OFFENDED

DEAR OFFENDED: He should certainly be reported to the local police, and whether he should be committed will be for the legal authorities to determine. The man is obviously disturbed. Far better to report him and find him harmless, than to ignore him and later learn that he was not.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: The letter in your column about those two teen-age girls who went back to school right after their mother died, and were criticized for it, is why I am writing.

I am in show business. One evening after work I went to my apartment and found a telegram waiting for me. It brought the news that my mother had died. I didn't sleep the rest of the night, but I went to work the next day. I not only had to sing and dance, I had lines to speak. No one knew until later.

Just because there is a smile on your face does not mean there isn't an ache in your heart.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can tell me what's wrong with my husband. He sleeps in a room all by himself saying he could never sleep with anyone. Yet he came from a family of 10 kids. They were poor as church mice and you can't tell me HE had a room all to himself.

He says he's not hungry at mealtime so I eat with the kids. Then ten minutes after we finish eating, he eats alone. He gets off work at 1:30 in the morning and stays up until 5 a.m. read-families do things together, why don't we?"

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: Your biggest problem is not what to tell the children, it is to establish communication between your husband and his family. You are not actually living together. You are living parallel lives. Why? He is either sick or selfish. Only his doctor can tell you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: How important do you think clothes are? I am a 33-year-old woman who has been told many times that if I want to get a man I should pay more attention to the way I dress. I am average looking. Not too fat or too thin, but I've never been clothes-crazy.

I've always dressed neatly and inconspicuously but I never did have much style. I think if a man is going to get interested in a woman, what she wears won't make that much difference. I'd appreciate your opinion.

PLAIN JANE

DEAR JANE: In this day of competition, "packaging" is important. To quote my friend, Edith Head, winner of seven academy awards for costume designing, and still reigning queen of the fashion world: "All women look alike in the bathtub.

"The only chance a woman gets to show her individuality is when she puts her clothes on." I vote with Edith.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN TROUBLE IN SPARTANBURG, S. C.: Tell your parents at once, and urge the boy to tell his. I promise you that together they will work out the best solution. Your parents are your best friends in time of trouble. Do this today, Kids. Every day is important.

Loosen to Store

Never be guilty of putting your pressure cooker away with the lid on tight. Instead, when storing after use, put the cover on loosely upside down.

This helps to preserve the rubber ring on the top of the lid and keeps the kettle free of odors of foods previously cooked in it.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate it if you would settle a controversy over a situation that developed recently in a restaurant at which three couples were dining.

The five others at the table had finished their main course, but I had not. The waiter proceeded to remove their plates. This irritated me as it made me feel I was being rushed. I expressed my feelings to the waiter and my wife claims I was wrong in criticizing him.

Dear Al: I'm afraid this won't settle the controversy. You were both wrong. The waiter should not have removed the plates while you were still eating, but neither should you have made an issue of it.

You should have quietly spoken to the headwaiter after the meal if you felt it was worth a complaint.

GIVEN AWAY

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate an answer to this question that has come up with the engagement of my daughter. I had been a widow for 15 years until last year, when I remarried. We had always thought a favorite uncle would give my daughter away when the time came for her to marry, and he knew about it and mentioned it with pride on several occasions.

Now with a stepfather in the family, we have considered having both the favorite uncle and the stepfather give the bride away. Could this be done? Mrs. T.M.

Dear Mrs. T.M.: It would be very peculiar for the bride to walk down the aisle between two men, and they couldn't very well say, "We do," when the minister asks, "Who giveth this woman?"

So the bride must make a decision, and since your marriage is fairly recent, and her uncle has been looking forward to this day for some time, I recommend that he be the one to do the honors.

The Harry M. Yeagers of Beverly Hills announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Dora, to Pvt. Upton Eugene Brannack of Fort Jackson, S.C., son of Mrs. Upton Brannack of Franklin and the late Mr. Brannack.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herzog of Dearborn Street, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deanna Lynne, to Gerald Alan Barham, son of the John Barhams of Royal Oak.

Bringing Up Baby®

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dan Gerber, Mother of Five

EARLY ADVENTURES

Great day when your little adventurer pulls himself up for the first time. But getting up is easier than backing down. At first he'll probably hang on to the playpen, crib-rail or whatever, for dear life. After you come to the rescue a few times, to ease him down gently, he'll get the idea and soon try a plop-down on his own. When he finds the plop really doesn't hurt, he'll practice his "pull-ups" with relish.

Appetite incentives. Gerber Strained or Junior Dinners are just the thing to make your baby's appetite rise to the occasion. These tasty combinations of vegetables, cereal and meat are deftly blended for meal-appeal. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, they're specially prepared to bring out their good flavors and help preserve precious food values.

Toddler tempter. Older baby in the house? He'll go for this grown-up flavor. You may, too!

Cream of Chick 'n' Pea Soup
1 jar Junior Vegetables and Chicken
½ jar Gerber Strained Peas
½ cup whole milk
Salt to taste
Combine ingredients, heat and serve.

Teething tale. Your baby's appetite may wane a bit at troublesome teething times. Favorite foods are in order then. Extra cuddling and comforting help in the soothing division. Frequent sips of cooling Gerber Fruit Juices are most welcome... Gerber Teething Biscuits, extra-hard and waffle-surfaced, will give baby the biting satisfaction he wants and needs. You'll be surprised at how much they help.

Safety patrol. As your baby gets more skillful in standing, make doubly sure that anything possibly harmful is not reachable. Examples: (1) If your inquisitive one does a pull-up via the coffee table, a darting hand could light on a cigarette lighter. (2) In the crib, an overhead mobile should be high enough to be out of harm's way. Gerber® Baby Products, Box 33, Fremont, Michigan.

Pierced Ears Require Care

BOSTON (UPI) — Ears, it seems, are "in" this year — but only if pierced. Doctors at the Children's Hospital Medical Center here feel that if girls want pierced ears, they should have it done by a doctor.

They also feel that parents should not get unduly upset about the craze, which, some estimate, started four years ago and steadily gained in popularity. They said parents who object associate the pierced look with the beat, bare-footed element.

Relive the Night of Your Debut

Remember how lovely you looked as you made your bow. Your dress—your hair—your skin so radiant and without a line. After all, you were only sixteen. Why not recapture that night and keep it. For 2nd Debut can give your face at least, an "ageless look"; a quality more fascinating than youth, beauty—or both. Regular nightly applications of 2nd Debut accomplish the "ageless look" by lifting the tone of the facial skin... giving it the allure of a smoother complexion. And skin dryness is all but gone. Choose 2nd Debut (with CEF 800) if you are under 40, or 2nd Debut (with CEF 1200) if you're over 40. Price is $3 and $5 respectively at good department and drug stores.

Polly's Pointers

Fashion a Trellis

DEAR POLLY — Wire coat hangers make good, attractive trellises. Tightly fasten the over-the-rod wire of one to the bottom of another hanger and continue until the desired length is reached. Make the hangers stationary by running heavy cord, lengthwise, on each side of the hangers, looping the cord around each hanger corner.

Fasten the trellis by the top hanger hook over a hook on the outside of the house or patio. — MRS. F. S. M.

DEAR POLLY—In answer to Bertie's problem concerning shoe polish stain on her tile floor, I want to suggest that she try silver cream on the stains and then wash and wax as usual. I have found that silver cream removes scuff marks left by boys' heavy soles and heels, as well as all other stains on my tile floor. — MRS. L.M.T.

Would certainly be worth a try. If such polish is used on one's fine silver, the tile floor should be able to take it. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — How does one remove adhesive-backed paper from metal kitchen cabinet shelves? I want to replace it with vinyl adhesive. — MRS. H. E. C.

DEAR POLLY — We have a large gate into our driveway. Every time we had to open it, the gate dragged and was hard to manage until my father screwed and bolted a small tricycle wheel onto it. Now we just wheel it open. — MARY

DEAR POLLY — If your tape measure is always on the loose, wrap it around four fingers when you finish sewing and tuck it into one of the little cases that plastic rain bonnets come in.

Keep a small jar handy and drop into it any corks of all sizes. When the lid to the aspirin bottle, alcohol, astringent or whatever, is lost just plug in a cork. This is much better than trying to cover the top with foil — the cork is airtight. —DANA

DEAR POLLY — Our daughter has just started in first grade and, to make sure her face and hands are clean after she finishes eating her lunch, I always pat a wet paper towel, wrapped in aluminum foil, in her lunch box. This proves very successful and is inexpensive.—

Big Demand for the Costs

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Unaccustomed as I am . . ."

That phrase and others similar are sharply increasing, and the end is not in sight.

★ ★ ★

An organization which provides ghost writers for speakers far and wide estimates that 11,000 prepared and extemporaneous speeches are delivered daily in New York alone. Ten years ago, the figure was put at 6,000. Within the next decade, the number could reach 20,000.

★ ★ ★

The look at all those called on for speeches comes from S. J. Michelson, director of his own ghost writers service, after a random sampling of hotel and motel associations, restaurants, convention and speakers' bureaus, and chambers of commerce.

★ ★ ★

Michelson said women's clubs, service clubs, association meetings, conventions, business groups, breakfasts, lunches and dinners require an almost inexhaustible supply of speakers. Add to the torrent of verbiage the increasing number of foundations and fund raising organizations.

Spaceman Son to Take Up Where Flying Dad Left Off

In a few weeks his son, Roger Chaffee, will be orbiting the earth in the first of the Apollo space flights.

"In a way I like to feel that everything Roger has done is like taking up where I left off," the astronaut's father said today.

With astronauts Virgil "Gus" Grissom and Edward White, Chaffee, who will be 32 one week before the scheduled February 21 lift-off, will be part of the United State's first three-man space flight. The mission is scheduled to last 14 days.

NAMED IN '63

Chaffee was named to the astronaut program in October 1963. At that time he was the nation's second youngest astronaut. Apollo I will be his first space flight.

"Actually we heard about his appointment before he had a chance to call us," his mother said. "Naturally we were excited. It's the kind of thing he has always wanted to do and now he has his chance."

"One of the things that really amazes us is the progress we have experienced," the elder Chaffee said.

"In 1927 I was flying a Waco biplane after four hours of instruction. My grandmother, who loaned me the money to buy the plane, took her first airplane ride with me when she was 85 — and she crossed the prairie in a covered wagon with a rifle across her knees!"

"And to think that the Wright brothers flew for the first time only 64 years ago!" he said.

PAINTING DISPLAYED

Chaffee, a real estate broker, and his wife, a bank employe, live in a ones-tory frame house on the outskirts of Grand Rapids.

Prominently displayed on the living room wall is a portrait of their son in his space suit, painted by their daughter, Donna, 34.

The Chaffees' television set in the living room will be joined by two other sets when Appolo I lifts off from Cape Kennedy.

"With one set on each network we'll probably see more than if we went to the Cape or the manned space center in Houston," Chaffee said.

"We'll be pretty nervous at lift-off," Chaffee said. "There is a tremendous risk involved in those first three of four minutes."

Crowd Wants Topless Go-Go Girls to Go

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — A Scripture-quoting crowd of several hundred citizens confronted Roanoke's City Council Monday night demanding that the city's topless go-go girls simply go.

Mayor Benton O. Dillar, who has voiced some defense of the beauties, was called on to resign.

The calls met with shouts of "Amen!".

Likening this southwest Virginia city of 100,000 to Sodom, Gomorrah and ancient Rome, some 40 speakers at the meeting charged that when tops come off, sex crimes and broken homes multiply.

★ ★ ★

Technically, the arguments are academic because the tops in Roanoke don't come all the way off. Half-dollar-sized pasties remain.

Much of the fire was directed against Dillard. Though he says he hasn't seen the show, the mayor commented at a council meeting last week that he had received only a few complaints from "prudish women—usually old women," since the girls started gyrating three weeks ago.

NEW POSTMASTER—T. Gary DeVar, new postmaster at the Waterford Post Office, tallies some figures on an adding machine while at work at the Dixie Highway facility. DeVar, 33, of 4794 Harding, Independence Township, began his new duties Dec. 31. He has had 14 years experience with post offices.

Acting Postmaster Ends Long Tradition

★ ★ ★

T. Gary DeVar broke the spell when he took over the post Dec. 31, replacing Mrs. Robert Amos of 6020 Van Syckle, Waterford Township, who retired after serving 22 years as postmistress.

Mrs. Amos is the daughter of the late August V. Jacober, who reigned as postmaster for 18 years in his combination grocery store-post office.

DeVar, 33, of 4794 Harding, Independence Township, however, still will have a couple of Jacobers working with him at the Waterford Post Office.

★ ★ ★

A son of the former postaster, August H. Jacober, is assistant postmaster, while a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Helman of 4143 Airport, Waterford Township, is a clerk. Jacober lives at 6040 Van Syckle, Waterford Township.

FATHER OF 3

Married and the father of two boys and a girl, DeVar was appointed acting postmaster last month by U.S. Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

The appointment is subject to approval by Congress and President Johnson.

Prior to becoming postmaster, DeVar worked nine years in city delivery at the Waterford Post Office. Before then, he was a rural mail carrier for five years at the Clarkston Post Office.

★ ★ ★

A native of Harrisburg, Ill., DeVar is a graduate of Lake Orion High School. He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Clarkston and a former member of the Waterford Township Jaycees.

9-YEAR-OLD BUILDING

Waterford has had a post office facility since the early part of the century. Its present building is about nine years old.

★ ★ ★

The Waterford Post Office serves approximately 2,500 families, according to DeVar. The area encompassed is about 6½ square miles.

★ ★ ★

Besides DeVar, Jacober and Mrs. Helman, the post office's employment force includes seven full-time and five part-time workers.

Program Ratio of OCC Is Told

Third of Enrollees Are Technical Students

Nearly one-third of Oakland Community College's 3,205 students are enrolled in technical programs, according to S. James Manilla, director of educational services.

Manilla said the college is "extremely pleased" about the ratio.

"There are many students who for various reasons do not intend to pursue a baccalaureate degree, but who can profit tremendously from the one- and two-year technical programs," he said.

"We will continue to make every effort to offer programs at the college which reflect honestly the needs of the community."

Among the larger enrollments in technical programs are professional nursing, 154; law enforcement, 68; executive secretarial, 68; mechanical technology, 66; automotive technology, 54; commercial art, 53; data processing, 48; and accounting, 45.

OTHER PROGRAMS

Others are dental assisting, 38; medical laboratory technology, 26; electronics technology, 25; food service technology, 13; and medical office assisting, 11.

★ ★ ★

There are 2,209 students enrolled in transfer programs which will provide them with the first two years toward baccalaureate and advanced degrees, Manilla said.

Of these, 1,156 are in liberal arts, 550 in business administration, 328 in education and 175 in engineering, math and science.

Police Dance Tickets to Be Sold at Door

Glenn M. Phelps, president of the Waterford Township Police Officers' Association, announced today that tickets for the group's first benefit dance and show Saturday night can be purchased at the door.

The dance will be at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Tickets are $5 per couple, according to Phelps.

Tickets also can be purchased from association members and participating merchants.

OCC Educator to Speak in Dixie

The chairman of Oakland Community College's division of health-related technologies will address a conference sponsored by the Alabama State Junior College Paramedical Education Association Feb. 2.

Thug Nets $6,128

WYOMING (AP) — A lone bandit, armed with a small revolver, stole $6,128 from a gas station Monday. Police said the man, described as a Negro about 25 years old, may be the same man who robbed two other gas stations in this Grand Rapids suburb within the last 18 months.

Industrial Arts Students Prepare Contest Projects

Oakland County secondary students enrolled in industrial arts classes are preparing projects to enter in the Region 7 competition of the 1967 Michigan Industrial Education Exhibit.

The Region 7 conference will be held March 10 and 11 at Waterford Township's Mason Junior High School, 3835 W. Walton.

Winners and runners-up from 21 regional competitions will compete in the state finals April 6-7-8 at Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Students in seventh through 12th grades enrolled in industrial arts, trade or vocational classes are eligible to compete for 15,000 awards to be presented in the regional and state events.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-one classifications are available both on the regional and state levels.

RESTRICTIONS

A student is restricted to one project in each classification, but can enter as many classifications as he chooses.

Projects qualifying for the competition include architectural drawing and models, electrical devices, graphic arts, machine shop work and construction, mechanical drawings, pattern-making and molding, plastic carving and fabricating, woodwork, furniture making and wood turning and wrought metal work.

Being held for the fifth year, the program is designed to encourage fine craftsmanship among industrial students.

★ ★ ★

1967's First Clear-Cut Decline?

Market Slides Sharply Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed sharply lower in active trading early this afternoon in what could turn out to be its first clear-cut decline of 1967.

More stocks have advanced than declined on every trading day this year but on Jan. 16 all the popular averages declined.

★ ★ ★

Although President Johnson's latest tax recommendations were regarded as important background factors, the market action was regarded as chiefly technical.

"A correction is long overdue," said one market analyst at a leading brokerage firm, "and we need a correction. We're glad to see it happen."

Even so, early losses were being trimmed as trading moved into the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Prices declined in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron Devices lost about 3 and Xtra Inc. 2. Down about a point were Syntex, Dennison, Digital Equipment, LTV Aerospace, Maxson Electronics, Microdot, National Video, Rollins Inc. and Simmonds Precision. Allied Controls rose nearly 3 and Bohack more than a point.

What's Going On in Red China—2

Roots of Current Struggle Date Back Decade

(EDITOR'S NOTE—For years many Westerners have pictured Mao Tse-tung as a sort of monolithic monarch who bent China to his will. An AP specialist in Communist affairs traces Mao's story in this second of five articles.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

China is a land of calamity.

For at least 2,000 years, its people have been the victims of disasters, natural and man-made. Today it is undergoing a violent convulsion. Yet another man-made disaster may be just around the corner.

Behind the political troubles lay the ancient economic ones, aggravated now by reckless totalitarian measures which desperately sought cures. An attempt was made a decade ago to turn China's nation of teeming millions into one which a French observer once described as a "nation of blue ants." It failed, miserably, and the fuse of today's great political explosion began sputtering even then.

It is difficult for a Westerner to understand the how and why of what is going on in China today in the wild confusion of a "great proletarian cultural revolution" launched last summer by Mao Tse-tung, chairman of the Chinese Communist party, and his chief ally, Defense Minister Lin Piao. But the "cultural revolution" was just one more stop in the developing upheaval which now has reached a new and critical stage.

BASIS OF TROUBLE

At the basis of China's troubles are backwardness and empty bellies — this despite the fact that Red China has achieved five atomic explosions and produced a nuclear-tipped missile.

China can produce for war. It has difficulty producing for peace.

For at least 2,000 years, feeding China's population has been a major problem. Even as long ago as that, the balance of nature was upset and China ever since has been subject to floods, droughts and famines, tormented by eroded soil and ferocious rivers, condemned to plagues and pests.

China is slightly larger in area than the United States, but much of its land is poorly suited to agriculture. Only a tenth of it can be cultivated, and less than half of that is good farmland. This must feed a population of 750 million, growing at a current annual rate of 15 million. To feed them, a half-billion peasants labor mostly in the ancient ways of their forebears. If there were a similarly large proportion of U.S. farmers, 160 million Americans would be in agriculture.

LOST CHANCE

China may have had a chance with Sun Yat-sen's 1911 revolution against the Manchu dynasty, but the agent for destruction of that revolution was the Kung Chang Tang — Chinese Communist party — created by agents of Moscow's Communist International, including a man named Nguyen Than, later known as Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam.

Mao was at the founding meeting in Changhai in 1921. When he reached a position of authority, he purged Soviet elements from the party and it went over to insurrection which continued on into revolution, with Chu Teh as the organizer of Mao's 4th army. Today Chu, at 80, is pilloried by Mao's "great proletarian cultural revolution" as a traitor to communism.

★ ★ ★

Mao had many clashes with Joseph Stalin's Soviet party and nurtured his revolution out of Moscow's reach. He took advantage of the Japanese occupation of northern Manchuria and then of the Japanese-Chinese war to sabotage Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang forces.

WAR THEORY

The theory of "People's war" was born. Chu Teh, master of guerrilla warfare laid it down. It often is credited to Mao:

"When the enemy advances, we retreat. When the enemy halts and encamps, we harass him. When the enemy seeks to avoid battle, we attack. When the enemy retreats, we pursue."

Today's war in Vietnam is a "people's war" by the Mao definition, patterned on the Chinese Communist revolution, and a test case for the whole theory.

★ ★ ★

Mao's revolution almost lost. He saved it by his famed "long march" to escape Chiang's troops—an arduous forced march of 8,000 miles winding through mountains, deserts, swamps. Often Mao's men lacked food. Many thousands died. But the remnants holed up in 10,000 caves around Yenan in the bleak northwest and Mao established headquarters. The Japanese attack on China, and then World War II gave Mao's Communist forces a new lease on life.

★ ★ ★

Eight unbroken years of war left China prostrate and exhausted. The ultimate result was a Communist victory over the mainland by Oct. 1, 1949.

SEVERAL CONCLUSIONS

Mao and his party went through several convulsions thereafter and China's people continued to suffer hardship. Mao took note of discontent and sought measures to deal with it —in a typically Communist way.

He announced in 1957 that "contradictions among the people" in a state like Communist China were possible. Evidently he had in mind the frightening lesson of Hungary's 1956 revolution. He wanted to know who his opponents were. So he announced a program: "Let a hundred flowers bloom, let a thousand schools of thought contend."

★ ★ ★

The flowers bloomed in a wave of criticism. Mao reversed gears and cracked down on those who permitted the flowers to bloom. They were purged.

But this was only the beginning of Mao's troubles.

The current convulsion in China may trace directly to early 1958. It was then that Mao's Politburo held a meeting at Peitaino communes in agricultural communities." This was Mao's "great leap forward," by which he expected to transform China's backward economy.

OPPOSITION

The leap envisaged not only a new regimentation for agricultural production, but a big advance in steel production by the device of back yard smelters. In 1958, about 60 million men and women in towns and cities were dragooned into this steel production effort.

★ ★ ★

By the end of that year 98 per cent of all farms were on the "people's commune" system, a total of almost 125 million families. Those who objected that this was a desperately reckless attempt to cure China's ills were branded "right-wing opportunists."

The objectors included many who today are judged to be among Mao's chief opponents in the surging upheaval which is called "the great proletarian cultural revolution."

OBJECT OF SCORN

The "great leap" became the object of scorn and ridicule from the Soviet Communist party. Nikita S. Khrushchev was outraged at the presumption of the Chinese leaders and Mao, who assumed that there was a shortcut to communism which had not been laid down by the Soviet prototype.

So the "great leap" itself was one of the contributing factors not only to today's convulsion, but to the deep split in world communism which developed swiftly after 1958.

It proved to be a great leap backward. China was in more economic distress than ever. Mao faced rising discontent and insistent demands to reverse his course.

FUSE FOR TROUBLE—This scene is typical of those in many of Red China's communes where, some observers say, the roots of China's present-day trouble originated. Many of those who oppose Mao Tse-tung and the Red Guards say cure-all ideas, such as the communes, for China's ills are reckless and desperate.

Ancient Grave Is Discovered

VIENNA (UPI) — A Celtic grave, probably dating back to the third or second century B.C., was dug up at Nymburg in Bohemia, the Czechoslovakian news agency CTK reported yesterday.

The grave contained two bronze anklets and parts of a skeleton, the agency added.

Iowa Ends Any 'M' Cage Title Hopes

Coach Strack Terms Loss 'Comedy' Tilt

Wolverines Handed 4th Big Ten Defeat at Iowa City

IOWA CITY (AP)—What Michigan coach Dave Strack termed "a comedy of errors" all but ended the Wolverines' hopes for a fourth straight Big Ten basketball title Monday night.

The Iowa Hawkeyes jumped to an 18-point lead and staggered to a 91-81 victory over the Wolverines.

★ ★ ★

Iowa is 2-2 in Big Ten play.

"Carelessness!" said Strack in the locker room. "It was a comedy of errors at times. Both teams made a lot of mistakes but we made the most and it cost us."

The Wolverines, who upset highly rated Michigan State 81-59 Saturday, fell into a cold shooting streak and a wobbly defense in falling behind 55-43 at the half.

"We didn't play nearly as well as we did against State," said Strack. "We didn't get into the game until the second half."

ZONE PRESS

The Wolverines held Iowa's high-scoring Sam Williams, a native Detroiter, to six points in the first half. But he wound up with 20 points as Michigan switched its defense from a zone to a zone press.

"We used a zone in the first half and it worked well against Williams for awhile," said Strack. "But this Iowa team has as good a chance as anyone to win the Big Ten."

Iowa held a 62-46 lead with 17:15 to play early in the second half but Michigan rallied to cut the margin to 79-75 with 6:57 to go. The Hawkeyes scored five straight points to make it 84-75 but a pair of foul shots by Michigan's Dennis Bankey and a layup by Jim Pitts cut the Iowa margin to 84-79 with 4:21 to play.

Then the Hawkeyes reeled off seven straight points to put the game out of reach.

Iowa coach Ralph Miller said after going over the statistics of his team's first 12 games, he decided to use a half-court pressing defense against Michigan.

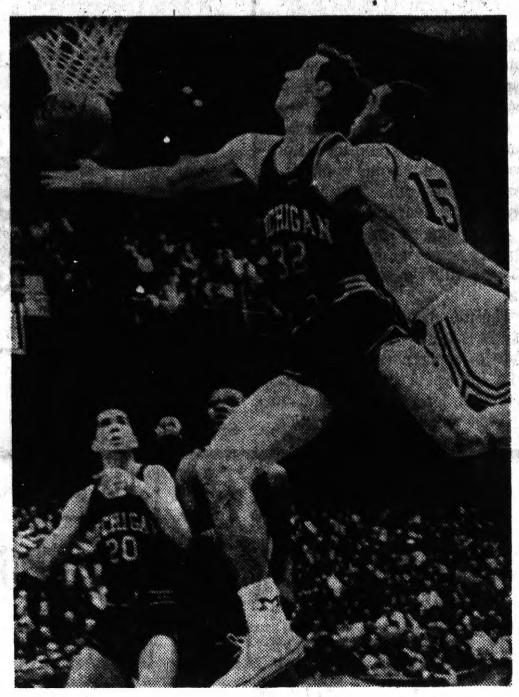

WORKED WELL

"This worked pretty well and I think I'll try it again sometime," he said. "Our defense is still poor but we improved some tonight."

Birdies Sing for Nicklaus

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, flashing home on a string of birdies while Arnold Palmer collapsed, has added the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament championship to his ever growing list of titles.

He now heads for the Los Angeles Open starting Thursday.

With five birdies on the final seven holes despite a cold, biting wind over the tough Pebble Beach course, Nicklaus scored a 31 over the last nine holes. He passed Palmer and Bill Casper and won with a 72- hole score of 284, four under par, on a final round 68.

Head and head all three battled the final day. Three times they were in a three-way tie for the lead and the situation changed on 14 of the 18 holes. Palmer bombed himself out with two shots out of bounds and a 9 on No. 14.

THREE STRAIGHT

First Casper led, then Palmer and finally on the 13th hole, Nicklaus dropped the second of three straight birds to go into a lead he kept to win the $16,000 top prize in the $104,500 tournament. Casper collected $9,600 for 74 — 289 and Palmer $6,000 for 75—291.

"I've started this year shooting better golf earlier because I played more late fall tournaments," Nicklaus explained. He has won four of the last five events he has played — the Sahara, the Canada Cup and the PGA team championships, both paired with Palmer, and now the Crosby.

Casper held a stroke lead at the start. At the end of nine holes he had a 37, Palmer had a 36 to tie him and Nicklaus stood just one stroke back with a 37.

At the 10th hole, Palmer and Nicklaus shot par. Casper went into a trap and Arnie took the lead by a stroke.

Casper pulled even with Palmer at the 11th by dropping a 12-foot birdie putt. Nicklaus remained one stroke back. Then as the winds whipped, his rally started in an unusual manner.

Nicklaus' tee shot on the 205-yard 12th went six feet past the green, and 25 feet from the hole.

TAPPED IT

"I took a putter and just tapped it, and the ball went into the hole," Nicklaus related, still a little amazed at that stroke of fate.

Casper, playing with Jack, hit into the woods and went over par, losing two strokes to Nicklaus.

Griffith May Try Italian

Repeat Ring Result

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Emile Griffith apparently has ended his series with Joey Archer on a second straight close decision and now it may be the turn of Italy's Nino Benvenuti.

After the 28-year-old Griffith had scraped out his narrow but unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Monday night matchmaker Teddy Brenner said that Benvenuti, the European 160-pound champion had agreed to terms for a March 22 title fight at the Garden.

Benvenuti, the former world junior middleweight king and beaten only once in his career, was an interested spectator of the return Griffith-Archer fight.

Griffith received $75,000 and Archer about $25,000 on his 15 per cent of the gross gate of $127,119 paid by 14,838 customers and the television receipts.

SHORT RIGHT

As in the first fight last July 13, there were no knockdowns. Griffith came close to scoring one in the second round when he clipped Archer with a short right to the jaw and the challenger's right knee dipped to the canvas. Referee Art Mercante didn't count, thus ruling it was not a knockdown.

Griffith claimed it was a knockdown but Archer said, "I slipped. I came right back at him if you remember."

It was in that same second round that Archer suffered a deep, purplish bruise under his right eye. Good corner work kept it from breaking open.

Outside of the second, the big round was the eighth, won by Griffith as he kept the pressure on for the full three minutes. The champ opened up with left jabs followed by left hooks to the head and body and solid rights to the head.

"I was not at my best but I thought I won clearly," said Griffith. "The more pressure I put on him the more he ran."

★ ★ ★

"I thought I won it decisively," said Archer, who relied on his snapping left jabs, occasional rights, and dancing feet. "I thought I won at least nine rounds. I don't know what I've got to do to win a decision in the Garden. That's three now, one with Joe Gonzalez and two with Griffith."

Referee Art Mercante and judge Joe Dran each scored it 8-6-1 in rounds for Griffith. Judge Joe Eppy had Griffith ahead, 8-7.

UCLA Continues Torrid Pace on College Front

By the Associated Press

The top-ranked Bruins make their first appearance of the season away from the West Coast this weekend when they meet Illinois Friday and Loyola of Illinois Saturday, both games in Chicago Stadium.

Illinois has won eight games and lost four while Loyola is 7-6. Each figures to provide stronger resistance than the Bruins' opponents of last week, Portland and the University of California at Santa Barbara. UCLA trampled Portland 122-57 and UC at Snta Barbara 119-75.

The Bruins are unanimous choices for first place in The Associated Press' major college poll for the second straight week today. They collected all 39 votes for the top position in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

MOVED UP

North Carolina advanced to second place while Houston held the No. 3 spot and Louisville slipped two notches to fourth. Princeton held fifth place.

North Carolina, Houston and Princeton were not scheduled last week. Louisville dropped its second game of the year, 59-58 to Cincinnati, after scoring its 15th victory, 66-50 over Dayton.

Rec Leaders in Township Defeat Foes

Waterford Township's recreation men's basketball results last night were indicative of the "haves meeting the have nots" in Continental League action.

Defending champion Buckner Finance retained its share of first place with a 77-58 romp past Hillcrest Nazarene despite 30 points by the loser's Curtis Cooper. Jerry Paul hit 22 for Buckner.

Dick DeWeese hit 28 points, Ross Ludwick 20 and two other teammates were in twin figures as Glenn's Auto Sales kept within one game of the leaders by trimming Mattingly Insurance 77-50.

Veterans Get Wings Rolling

Cards Pick Musial General Manager

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial, who is the third general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals in four years, feels the National League club is in good shape for the 1967 baseball campaign.

The 46-year-old Musial, who played 22 years with the Cardinals, became general manager Monday succeeding Robert Howsam, who resigned Sunday to accept a similar post with the Cincinnati Reds.

"We have a good, well balanced ball club," Musial said after his selection was announced. "We plan no major player changes or trades at this time," he added.

Thaw Curtails Skiing

The spring-like thaw has curtailed ski activity at all the resorts in Southeast Michigan. Should cold weather return quickly enough, sufficient base may remain to enable most of the lodges to resume skiing by the weekend.

Kentucky Loses Again

Tide Covers Miss. State

By the Associated Press

Alabama may not be No. 1 but because of the Crimson Tide, neither is Mississippi State.

State and Tennessee were poised to join idle Vanderbilt at the top of the Southeastern Conference basketball race Monday but only the Volunteers made it, and then just barely.

Tennessee needed two overtimes to squeeze past Kentucky 52-50 but Alabama demolished Mississippi State's ambitions with a 91-74 thrashing.

That left Vandy and Tennessee on top with 6-1 records with State now a full game behind at 5-2. Florida, 7-3, kept pace with the leaders by nipping Georgia 63-61.

Alabama got balanced scoring from Tom Jones, Gary Elliot, Mike Nordholz and Guy Turner in its romp over Mississippi State. Jones and Elliot scored 17 each and Nordholz and Turner had 16 apiece for the Tide, which is 9-5 over-all but only 2-4 in the SEC.

HIGH SCORES

State, 11-2 over-all, got 21 points from Dave Williams, who was high man in the game.

Kentucky hung on gamely against Tennessee, forcing the game into two extra periods before finally bowing. Tom Hendriz dropped in two free throws with four seconds left in the second overtime for the victory.

"We're supposed to be the worst defensive team in the country," said Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp. "But I thought we played a fine defensive game. If we'd had shot our average, we would have been all right."

Dave Miller scored Florida's last seven points and the Gators went without a point in the final two minutes, and just hanging on to beat Georgia.

The top shooting performance of the night was turned in by Toledo sophomore Steve Mix, who hit on 15 of 18 field goal attempts, leading the Rockets to a 100-90 victory over Evansville.

5th Cage Wins Posted by Unbeaten Rec Teams

The Perry Drugs and Amigos' Club recreation quintets each posted win No. 5 without a loss last night as the city men's leagues had three hoop twinbills.

The American League leading drugmen pulled away from the pesky Oxford Merchants in the final period to take a 63-51 decision.

The Amigo Celts stayed one game behind by outdistancing Booth Homes in the final half for a 73-54 verdict. The AL contenders will tangle next Monday.

The Amigos' Club combine, meanwhile, upped its National League margin to a full game by humbling Highland Lakes, 78-36, while runner-up Acker Construction was idle. They, also, will collide next Monday.

The Packers' hopes remained alive with a 69-54 victory over McDonald's Drive-In, leaving the winners 1½ games behind the Amigos.

Local 653 dumped Auburn Hills, 81-58, and the Unbeatables gained a gift victory from the All Stars, who couldn't field a team at game time.

BALANCE

Perry Drugs had five players in twin figures to offset the 19-point effort of Oxford's Jerry Wagner. Larry Blackburn tallied 17 for Booth Homes but the Celts had Cy Green and John Hunt matching that.

Emmett Elliott and John Herring scored 19 for the Amigos' Club and three teammates also were double-figure producers while Highland had 16 by Craig Rodgers.

Auburn Hills' Tom Nichols led the pointmaking with 22 and Dan McCoskey hit 18, but Local 653 had five players in double figures led by Ken Karns' 18.

Cecil Jones' 24 markers for The Packers was the night's highest individual total. Tonight there is an International doubleheader at Lincoln JHS.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

If you look at the North-South cards you want to be in a heart or club slam. The club slam is a cinch against a 3-2 break unless the defense can get a quick ruff but the play at hearts is a lot better because that slam can be made if the clubs break four-one.

JACOBY

Eight North-South pairs in the American team trials only got as far as four hearts. Somehow or other the combination of 11 and 12 high card points did not suggest going any further with these cards.

Mike Lawrence and Lew Stansby of San Francisco, the youngest pair in the event, got to the heart slam with the bidding shown in the box.

Lew considered that his jack-small of hearts was pretty good support after Mike bid hearts the fourth time and Mike went on to six on the basis of his solid trumps and queen of the first suit bid by his partner.

Mike ruffed the diamond lead in dummy, cashed dummy's jack of trumps, entered his hand with the queen of clubs and drew the adverse trumps. Then he started on dummy's clubs.

The bad break kept him from claiming all 13 tricks but he did discard his last diamond on the king of clubs. He ruffed a club to set up the last two of this suit for potential spade discards and led a spade toward dummy.

Marshall Miles of San Bernardino, California, sitting West played low. He had nothing else to do but Lawrence knew that he would have made the same play of a low spade even if he held the ace. You don't worry about giving declarer an overtrick at a slam contract. You go all out to beat him if you can.

Lawrence thought awhile, then he thought some more and rose with dummy's king. It was a mighty unfortunate decision because it meant a loss of ten International Match Points instead of an equivalent gain.

What do you do now?

A—Bid four spades. Your jump to two spades was very sound.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three spades your partner has jumped to four spades. What do you do now?

Not Most Read, but Most Stolen

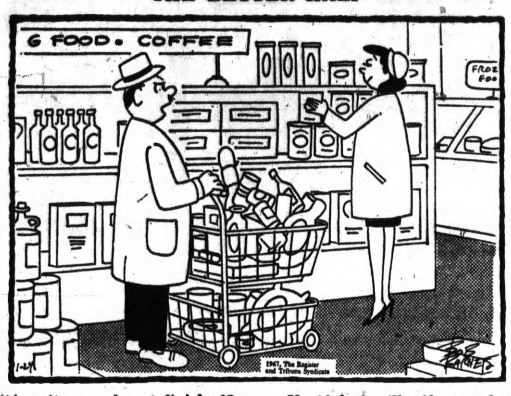

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Thou shalt not steal, says the Bible.

Yet Raleigh bookstores report the Bible is the book most often stolen, year after year.

The longest book in the Bible is the Book of Psalms.

Metro Rapid Transit Could Cost $1 Billion

DETROIT (AP) — A rapid transit system for the Detroit area could cost between $500 million and $1 billion, a study showed today.

A study prepared for the Metropolitan Fund Inc., a nonprofit regional planning agency, said the magnitude of the project would require intergovernmental cooperation.

The report urged further studies to determine routes, service standards, potential patronage, equipment requirements and potential operating revenues and operating costs.

The study was prepared by the New York and San Francisco engineering firm of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Quade and Douglas.

Irving Rubin, director of the related Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS) for the seven-county metropolitan area, agreed with most of the engineering survey.

COMMUTER OUTLOOK

Citing information gathered to date in the local TALUS study, he disagreed with the engineers' conclusion that prospects for improving existing railroad commuter service are dim indeed.

Rubin said that the Grand Trunk Railroad, which operates commuter trains between Detroit and Pontiac, has indicated possible improvement in service.

Rubin also took issue with the conclusion that Detroit's central business district would continue to decline by arguing that growing faith of property owners, a better school system and urban renewal should bolster the area.

A spokesman for the Metropolitan fund stressed that the mass transit study was preliminary and does not represent the views of the fund.

'CONSENSUS NECESSARY'

The study suggested that a consensus of governmental units in the Detroit metropolitan area would be necessary for a successful mass transit project.

★ ★ ★

Agreement would be needed, the study said, on the type of transit system desired, whether it should be publicly or privately owned and operated and whether some type of regional authority should be established to direct the project.

★ ★ ★

The study also suggested that a public vote might be necessary to facilitate financing a transit system.

In view of certain statutory and policy limitations, no award of the Notes will be made at an interest rate per annum which is not less than Four and One-Eighth per centum (4⅛%).

PROPOSALS may be for all or any part of the Notes, and separate proposals will be required for each part of said Notes for which a separate interest rate is bid. The interest rate specified for each part of said Notes shall be a multiple of one-hundredth (1/100) of one per cent (1%). Said Notes will be awarded at the lowest interest rate or rates offered in the proposals, without reference to premium; provided, however, that, as among proposals specifying the same lowest rate, award will be made on the basis of the highest premium per dollar principal amount of Notes specified in such proposals. No bid for less than $50,000 principal amount of said Notes or for less than par and accrued interest (which interest shall be computed on a 360-day basis) will be entertained, and the Local Public Agency reserves the right to award to any bidder all or any part of the Notes which such bidder offers to purchase in his proposal, upon the basis of such proposal; provided, that if less than $50,000 principal amount of Notes is to be awarded to any bidder, such bidder will be relieved of the obligation to purchase such Notes upon written notice to the Local Public Agency within two days after notification of such proposed award. If only a part of the Notes bid for in a proposal are awarded by the Local Public Agency, the premium, if any, offered in such proposal shall be prorated, and said Notes will be issued in denominations in the order of the lowest denominations specified in such proposal; provided that one Note may be issued in a smaller denomination than is otherwise specified. The further right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.

SECTION 102(g) of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1452), provides as follows: "Obligations, including interest thereon, issued by local public agencies for projects assisted pursuant to this title, and income derived by such agencies from such projects, shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States." In the event that prior to the delivery of any of the Notes to the successful bidder therefor the income received by private holders from obligations of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law hereafter enacted, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase said Notes.

Refreshing Busy Doctors

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Today's doctors are usually too busy to attend refresher courses so the University of Vermont College of Medicine is bringing the courses to them.

★ ★ ★

The college has initated a two-pronged program to keep Vermont's 480 physicians up to date on advances in their fields.

★ ★ ★

One part of the program consists of a series of early morning television programs. The second is a combination of seminars and symposiums conducted by a rotating team of two physicians, a nurse and various technicians. They use an airplane in reaching every part of the state.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Welsh said he hopes the Vermont program will lead to a New England-wide effort.

Woman Mute in Knifing Death

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Mae Anderson, 42, stood mute Monday at her arraignment on second degree murder charge in the stabbing death of her rooming house manager during an argument Sunday. Recorder's Judge Robert DeMascio entered a plea of innocent and set examination for Feb. 6. The body of the victim, George Balke, 62, had been stabbed 52 times, police said. Mrs. Anderson is held in Wayne County jail.

Speedy Cure Is Found for Slow Readers

By Science Service

BERKELEY, Calif.—A speedy cure for the mumbles, whispers and swallows of slow readers was announced here by a team of University of California psychologists.

★ ★ ★

The technique is a simple one, consisting of an electrical device placed over throat muscles to pick up and amplify subvocal activity. Mumbles and swallows are then played through earphones. A swallow, for instance becomes a burst of static in the reader's ears.

Apparently, once the reader hears himself, he is able to end the habit of conscious control.

★ ★ ★

This was surprising, they admitted, since long-standing habits are not usually extinguished so quickly and easily. The subvocal habit is particularly pernicious in that it tends to limit reading rates to 150 words per minute — actually the rate for speech.

Green Treasure in Sierra Madre

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Three young men have returned to the University of Iowa from a 9,000-mile prospecting trip to Central Mexico, bringing with them treasure of the Sierra Madre Mountains.

★ ★ ★

But it was plants, not gold, the trio was searching for. Making the extended trip into the mountainous country were Thomos E. Melchert, assistant professor of botany, and two graduate students, Paul D. Sorensen and Daniel J. Crawford.

They found a number of previously undiscovered or undescribed cosmos plants.

Class of '16 Going Strong

ROSLYN, N. Y. (AP) — Not only did about 40 graduates of the Class of 1916 at Jamaica High School show up for the golden anniversary reunion, but two faculty members were also present.

Henry J. Silverman, now 84 years old, was chairman of the school's physical education department from 1910 to 1952, as well as coach of the hockey, track and basketball teams and dean of boys.

The other teacher on hand to chat about the era of 50 years ago was Mrs. W. J. Kibby, who taught English for 38 years.

Illegal Parkers Find NY Is Undiplomatic

NEW YORK (AP) — Mid-Manhattan has become a "never never" parking land, and even Lewis Carroll's Alice, if she had been able to wangle diplomatic plates, would have had to send the White Rabbit to retrieve her towed-away vehicle from some far-off compound.

It was diplomacy no, tow-away yes, as Mayor John V. Lindsay's no-exception program began Monday, with police removing all autos in the area between 34th to 66th streets and the East and Hudson rivers.

★ ★ ★

By midnight Monday night, police announced pickups of 10 DPL — diplomatic — five FC — foreign consul — and three NYP — New York Press — cars in the restricted zone.

Complaints from the United Nations were numerous, but Lindsay stood fast.

TO BE EXTENDED

Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes said the program would be extended today to cars belonging to doctors, dentists, and handicapped persons, who have enjoyed immunity from parking summons.

After protests by the Automobile Club of New York and the Disabled American Veterans, Lindsay announced a two-day trial plan by which a handicapped driver who cannot find a garage or parking lot near his job should drive to the nearest police precinct. A patrolman will park his car, and he will be delivered to work by radio car. At the day's end, the process would be reversed.

Among cars towed away Monday were DPL license plate cars from the Soviet Union, Ecuador, Turkey, Mauretania, Syria, Nigeria, Kuwait, and three still unidentified countries.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mayor Lindsay decided to go by subway Monday from City Hall to midtown. On the crowded subway train, a woman who recognized him, asked: "What's the matter, Mr. Mayor? Did they tow your car away?"

San Juan's Entertainment Scales From Good to Bad

By EARL WILSON

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—In the booming world of show business down here in the Swingin' South, you can get angels and devils all in one fast evening.

Peggy Lee will have to represent the good. Before she does her show, she lines up her musicians behind the curtain, kisses each one on the forehead, and taps each one on both shoulders and the chest in something like a religious gesture.

WILSON

Afterward, Peggy and the musicians hold a nightly ritual with a Buddhist flavor which is much discussed. Outsiders who're let in on it admit they don't quite know what's going on. Peggy sleeps till 3 p.m. daily after this night of fervor.

Then there's Jackie Kannon at the Americana Port-O-Call Lounge is probably the most remarkable cafe show of the Sexy Sixties—so far.

"An evening of social decadence" is Jackie's term for the material he flings out—material that is almost as frank in its content as some of the sex discussions on British TV. A child's voice on a record brings Jackie Kannon to the audience much differently than Peggy Lee comes out.

"Is that your wife with you, sir, or a tax deduction?" he asks a ringsider.

He pays his disrespects to LBJ, Ladybird and George Hamilton equally. He tells us that Hubert H. Humphrey was here . . . "Minnesota Fats," he calls him, and in his own Man of the Year selection, he also chooses the Vice President, saying that he taught us "how a man can retire while he's still on the job."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Milton Berle cashed a $150 check at Danny's—the spending money he's allowed each week by his business manager . . . Jane Morgan had to quit a Montreal cafe stint, fly back to N.Y. —bronchitis . . . A Bobby Kennedy aide attended the dress rehearsal of "MacBird," which satirizes current political figures.

The Bobby Morses, who have three daughters, may adopt a boy . . . Jayne Mansfield's new beau, an att'y, gave her a huge diamond ring and a foreign sports car . . . Actress Anne Heywood, filming "The Fox" in Toronto, flew to N.Y. to have her hair done, flew back the same day.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Vinnie Haggerty described a plain-looking girl: "She couldn't win a beauty contest in Boys Town."

EARL'S PEARLS: Frank Tarloff, adapting his own book, "A Guide for the Married Man," into a movie, said, "I enjoyed collaborating with someone whose work I admire."

Burgess Meredith, directing the Broadway play "Of Love Remembered," has barred the cast from bringing their dogs to rehearsals. "Nobody," he announced, "will bark louder than the director!" That's earl, brother.

JFK's Life Hung in Balance for 5 Seconds—Author

NEW YORK (AP) — "Five terrible seconds" may have spelled the difference between life or death for President John F. Kennedy after he was first wounded, William Manchester suggests in his book, "Death of a President."

★ ★ ★

"They were in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds, they were immobilized."

NOT FATAL

When the first shot cracked, Manchester wrote, "the White House detail was confused." Agents thought the sound came from a firecracker, or a police motorcycle backfire.

Agent Roy Kellerman, in the front seat, thought he heard the President say, "My God, I'm hit," and turned to look at him. Agent William R. Greer, the driver, also glanced backward.

'NEITHER REACTED'

Kennedy was clutching his throat but he was not grimacing. Manchester described his expression as "quizzical." Mrs. Kennedy had often seen that expression. Like the others in the car, she seemed unaware that her husband had been wounded.

Then the second bullet struck him. Manchester wrote —

"Now in a gesture of infinite grace, he raised his right hand as though to brush back his tousled chestnut hair. But the motion faltered. The hand fell back limply. He had been reaching for the top of his head. But it wasn't there any more."

INTO REAR SEAT

The lead cars in the motorcade, accelerating powerfully, then raced toward Parkland Hospital in Dallas, where, Manchester wrote, they were to find confusion compounded.

★ ★ ★

The author thus agrees with the findings of the Warren commission. It says Oswald acted alone.

NUMEROUS BOOKS

Critics of the Warren report, however, have advanced the theory in numerous books — some of them lucrative — that the bullets came from two directions, not just the Texas School Book Depository Building, where Oswald worked.

Manchester pictures Oswald as a "chronic failure," scorned and more or less rejected by his Russian wife, Marina. Witnesses testified before the Warren Commission that she told them Oswald was sexually inadequate.

'SNIPER'S PERCH'

"This was the day the chronic failure was going to demonstrate that he could succeed at something, that he was a man and did not deserve contempt," Manchester wrote of Oswald on the day of the assassination.

Oswald, he wrote, smuggled his rifle into the Book Depository Building, built a "sniper' perch" near a sixth-floor window, and then waited for the presidential motorcade.

A witness, Howard Brennan, told the Warren Commission he saw Oswald, only 88 yards from Kennedy's car, and aiming through a telescopic sight on the rifle, fire at the President. Manchester cites Brennan's testimony.

To refute the "conspiracy school" of writers, Manchester also cites the evidence in the photographs and X rays taken during the autopsy on Kennedy's body. He says he did not see this material but that he interviewed three persons "with special qualifications" who examined it before it was sealed in the national archives.

IDENTICAL ACCOUNTS

"None of them knew the other two, but all three gave identical accounts of what they had seen in the photographs and X rays," Manchester wrote. The evidence is "overwhelming," he says, that the first bullet struck Kennedy in the lower neck, exited from his throat, and then struck Gov. John B. Connally Jr. of Texas, who was riding in the jump seat in front of Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The second installment also reports:

1. Kennedy, perhaps in a flash of prescience, talked about being assassinated on the morning of the day he died. He told Mrs. Kennedy an assassin in the crowd at Fort Worth the previous night easily could have shot him. He pantomimed for her the actions of the imaginary killer. He spoke "casually," Manchester wrote, and Mrs. Kennedy took his remarks in that spirit.

COMPLETE DISAGREEMENT

Johnson recalls that O'Donnell "twice urged" him to take Air Force One, the presidential plane, for the flight to Washington.

Manchester says O'Donnell calls this version "absolutely, totally and unequivocably wrong." He quotes O'Donnell as adding, "The President and I had no conversation regarding Air Force One. If we had known that he was going on Air Force One, we would have taken Air Force Two. One plane was just like another."

3. Kennedy had come to Texas to patch up a political feud involving Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Gov. Connally and Johnson, Manchester wrote. On the previous day, Yarborough had twice refused to ride in Johnson's car.

BECAME ANGRY

Kennedy became angry when he saw headlines in Texas newspapers, "Yarborough snubs LBJ" and "President's Visit Seen Widening State Democratic Split."

★ ★ ★

The President telephoned O'Donnell and Lawrence O'Brien, another special aide, and told them Yarborough must ride with Johnson in the Dallas Motorcade. He grated, "Get him in the car."

★ ★ ★

The morning newspapers on Nov. 22 also published an advertisement, bordered in black. It had been placed, Manchester wrote, by "an organization styling itself as 'The American Fact-Finding Committee' — a local coordinator of the John Birch Society."

★ ★ ★

The advertisement, addressed to Kennedy, "hinted strongly that he had reached a secret agreement with the U.S. Communist party." Manchester said that the President read it and remarked to his wife that they were about to enter "nut country."

Church Benefits

CHICAGO (AP) — The Methodist Church reports a record three million persons received benefits in 1966 from the 28 health and welfare agencies affiliated with the Church. The agencies include 79 hospitals, 151 homes for the aged, 53 agencies for young people and two businesswomen's homes.

Northeast Is Still Dry Despite Rain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the fact that more rain fell in the drought-plagued Northeast last year than in any of the three previous years, the total was still 18 per cent below normal, the Weather Bureau says.

The bureau said there is sufficient water in the area at least through spring but added it is too early to tell if the drought will recur this summer.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 740-D, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.

LBJ Budget a Record $135 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today for "a measure of sacrifice" — higher taxes, higher postal rates, higher paycheck deductions — to help finance history's biggest budget.

Along with a $135-billion spending blueprint for fiscal 1968, the year startin next July 1, the President sent a hands-off warning to Congress members who are grumbling loudly at rising deficits.

The spending loomed much larger, and the deficit smaller, in two less-familiar bud-

The cash budget, "adds up to $172.4 billion; the "national income accounts" show $167.1 billion with a deficit of only $2.1 billion.

Both include Social Security and other trust fund payments along with the regular budget appropriations on which Congress acts.

DEEP CUTS

Deep budget cuts could cause a recession instead of the expected seventh successive year of record prosperity, Johnson's annual budget message said.

He told Capitol Hill: "The economy, the budget, and the aims of our society would be jeopardized by either a larger tax increase than the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge, or by large slashes in military or civiliam programs.

"I have reviewed these programs carefully. Waste and nonessentials have been cut out," he said.

FOR VIETNAM

Acknowledging that the war is beginning to pinch, Johnson asked $19.9 billion for Vietnam alone in this year's expanded $67-billion Defense Department budget and $22.4 billion in the $72.3-billion Defense Department budget for fiscal 1968.

The "sacrifice" asked by Johnson includes the 6 per cent surcharge on corporation and most personal income proposed in his State of the Union address — and widely criticized in Congress — as well as a further speedup in corporation tax payments and more "user taxes" on transportation.

Successive stepups in Social Security taxes in 1968 and 1967 would be required to pay for the benefit increases Johnson proposed to Congress yesterday.

Johnson's revised budget for 1967 shows a $9.7 billion federal deficit, the second biggest since World War II.

COMPARISON

Comparisons in billions of the revised 1967 budget and the proposed 1968 budget. Spending $126.7 and $135.503; receipts $117 and $126.9; deficit $9.7 and $8.1.

City to Consider Pay, '67 Budget

Administrative salary boosts totaling more than $5,000 and a revised 1967 budget of $9.7 million will be considered tonight by the City Commission.

Incorporating a deficit of $538,205, the revised budget reflects wage adjustments granted last month to municipal employes, an increased bus subsidy and the purchase of 14 new police patrol cars.

The budget also reflects the pending transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to Oakland County, which is to be made retroactive to Jan. 1, the beginning of the fiscal year.

Action tonight will be to set a date for a public hearing on the proposed 1967 expenditures.

The commission has already held one public hearing on a proposed budget totaling $9.2 million, but this budget was made obsolete by the airport transfer and the wage hikes.

★ ★ ★

Most of the proposed increased expenditures come in the new $8,024,539 general fund, which is the fund that pays most of the municipal payroll.

Probe Legality Before Judges

Contempt of Court Cases Tied to Ruling

Legal argument regarding the constitutionality of Michigan's one-man grand jury were heard yesterday by three Oakland County Circuit Court judges, but it will be at least two weeks before they rule on the question.

★ ★ ★

The constitutionality of the judicial investigation is being challenged on five points by Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew.

Renfrew is asking that the judges dismiss contempt of court charges brought against four of his clients by Oakland County grand juror Philip Pratt. The case has been assigned to the three judges.

Those charged for refusing to answer questions by Pratt are Emil Pavolovics, a druggist in Madison Heights, and three former Madison Heights city councilmen, Roman Nowicki, Ross Skinner and Bill S. Huffman, now a state representative from the 66th District.

★ ★ ★

'TOO BROAD'

Renfrew contends, among other things, that the scope of the grand jury is too broad and not specific; that impartiality may be nonexistent since the grand juror is from the same circuit as the judges who will eventually hear the case; that there is no separation of judicial and executive powers; and finally that it violates a U.S. Su-

Counterattack on Rowdyism at PCH Slated

As a result of the incident following the home game with Flint Northern, tonight's game with Saginaw High School was rescheduled for 3:30 p.m.

This was the first such move in Central's history. No determiniation yet has been made about the school's two remaining home games.

Police estimated that as many as 300 persons gathered at the corner of Huron and Franklin after the Jan. 13 game and pelted officers with snowballs.

School officials maintain that only 100 persons, several of them nonstudents, actually were involved in the fray.

There is agreement that most involved were Negroes.

The session last night, the first large-scale meeting conducted by John F. Perdue in his role as school-community and human relations director of the district, was attended by some 10 persons identified as Negro community leaders.

STUDENT INSTIGATORS

Among the 20 others present were Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Police Chief William K. Hanger, members of the Pontiac School District Citizens Committee on Human Relations and school administrators.

Antimissile Plans Hinge on Talks

In his message accompanying a $72.3-billion Defense Department budget ballooned $5.4 billion above this year's partly by mounting Vietnam war costs, the President confirmed that he has decided against deploying an antimissile system pending ban talks with the Soviets.

But "if these discussions prove unsuccessful," Johnson said, "our deployment decision will be reconsidered.

"To provide for actions that may be required at that time, approximately $375 million has been included for the production of Nike X for such purposes as defense of our offensive weapon systems."

The administration said late last year the Soviets are deploying a limited antimissile system around Moscow designed to knock out approaching missiles.

INITIAL EFFORT

This is the first time the administration has sought Nike X production funds. Last year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara refused to spend more than $150 million in unrequested money appropriated by Congress to finance Nike X preproduction activities.

The President unveiled a spending proposal including $21.9 billion to support Southeast Asia operations in fiscal 1968, and said he will send Congress a $12.3 billion request to supplement the current budget.

The supplemental would mean about $9.4 billion in expenditures by next June 30.

NUCLEAR FORCES

Additional billions are provided to strengthen nuclear and conventional forces with such items as new multiple-warhead Poseidon missiles for Polaris submarines; improved, land-based Minuteman missiles equipped with decoy devices designed to fool enemy defenses and the start on a third atomic-powered aircraft carrier.

The budget provides for a uniformed strength of 3.46 million men and women, up 135,000 above the current force.

The President said his program will provide "for the full replenishment of munitions, supplies and materiels consumed in Southeast Asia at currently projected rates even if the conflict extends beyond the end of the fiscal year."

Laird Says Viet Outlay Out-of-Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, charged today that President Johnson's budget for the Vietnam war "is already out of date."

"If you take the current spending level in Vietnam and project it for 12 months," he said in a prepared statement, "you will see that the estimate is already out of date."

Johnson proposed in his budget today $21.9 billion for the military in Southeast Asia during fiscal 1968. He said the current year's effort would would cost $19.9 billion — some of which has not yet been appropriated.

Reaction to Johnson's over-all budget was not surprising. Some Republicans called for cuts, some liberal Democrats said domestic spending was too low and some members of spending committees said they'd take hard looks before voting.

★ ★ ★

"We can cut the $135 billion budget by $5 billion without hurting anybody," said Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee. "If we don't," he said, "we're going to have more inflation and more tight money."

'CUT EVERYTHING'

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee said, "When we are in an inflationary period and the budget is in the red, it is especially imperative that we take a critical look at all phases of the budget and cut everything as much as we safely can."

Full House at Cooking School

Barbara Zimmerman, assisted by Harriet Cannon, presented a two-hour food demonstration. Both women are home economists at Consumers Power Co. in Pontiac.

Before the program and during intermission, Robert Lilleyman played organ music. Ushers were members of the county extension clubs who have given this service for seven years.

Grand prizes awarded last night were a gas incinerator from Consumers Power Co. that went to Judie Green, 2383 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, and a wig from Donnell of the Pontiac Mall, won by Catherine Kelly, 592 Nevada.

Stage crews from Pontiac Central man the backstage area where a complete, but primitive kitchen area is set up.

The first afternoon session of the cooking school was held today with another slated for tomorrow and evening sessions tonight, tomorrow and Thursday.

Uprising Ends in Nicaragua; Hostages Safe

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A 20-hour uprising in which at least 21 Nicaraguans were reported killed and more than 100 wounded ended last night with the freeing of 117 foreign hostages, including 89 North Americans.

The rebels against the Somoza family, which has ruled Nicaragua for more than 30 years, had holed up with their hostages in the Gran Hotel.

★ ★ ★

CHEERED BY CROWD

State Budgeters Whittling Away

LANSING (UPI) — State budget experts are wrestling with $1.6 billion in money requests from Michigan's 19 state agencies in an effort to arrive at a figure everybody can live with and on.

If current estimates are right, and Gov. Romney does indeed present a general budget of about $1.2 billion to the Legislature Feb. 2, some $400 million in requests will end up on the cutting floor.

The Legislature has the last word and can add and subtract at will.

The upshot is that Michigan is sure to have its first billion-dollar budget for general operating purposes. The state is currently operating on a budget of $974.5 million.

It also means that to pay the bills, the Legislature will be asked to approve the state's first income tax rates — probably 3 per cent on personal income, 5 per cent on corporate income and 8 per cent on financial institution income.

NO SPECIFICS

Though the governor has not specifically said he will call for income taxes, the call is expected, but with the promise of cutting and equalizing present taxes.

State Budget Officer Glenn S. Allen said his staff of 12 plans to have the budget prepared by Feb. 2.

The "general fund, general purpose" budget represents the amount of money Michigan taxpayers pay for the operation of state government and a variety of services: education, welfare, mental and physical health, police and military protection, and recreation and conservation.

★ ★ ★

The budget does not include revenue raised through special assessments for special purposes. For example, every motorist who buys a gallon of gas contributes 7 cents to help pay for the roads he drives on.

LARGEST ITEM

The largest single item in the general fund budget, which is for the 12-month period from July 1, 1967 to July 1, 1968, will be the appropriation for education.

The Department of Education is asking for $689 million for elementary and secondary education, plus $129 million for teacher retirement.

The 11 public colleges and universities are asking for about $305 million, and about $26 million is being sought for aiding community junior colleges.

★ ★ ★

Not all the money requested for elementary and secondary schools would have to come from the general fund. About $359 million will be raised through cigarette, liquor and sales taxes.

LARGE CHUNK

★ ★ ★

The Department of Social Welfare has asked for $172 million which includes an admittedly unrealistic $72.2 million for the state's star-crossed "Medicare" program.

★ ★ ★

A Welfare Department official said the "Medicaid" request is "unrealistic" and considerably lower than what Budget Bureau officials estimate the program would cost if implemented as the previous Legislature envisioned.

U.S. Pay Law Will Up Costs in Hospitals

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Lansing hospital administrator estimated Monday that new federal wage and hour requirements going into effect Feb. 1 will add $15,000 to his hospital's overtime bills in 1967.

But John Krismer, associate director of St. Lawrence Hospital, urged Michigan hospitals to go beyond the new requirements in efforts to make hospital jobs more attractive and ease the shortage of health workers.

Krismer told a hospital administrators' conference on the new wage - hour standards that some hospitals expect their overtime costs to jump by as much as $80,000 a year.

He said, though, that good management techniques could cut the amount of overtime needed, improve employe morale and reduce turnover.

ATTITUDES IMPROVE

Krismer said his hospital reorganized schedules in several departments and found attitudes improved and turnover dropped.

Biggest problems in observing the standards, he said, would come from costs, paperwork and interpretation of some of the new rules. But, he indicated, going beyond the requirements would prevent constant policing by the government.

★ ★ ★

Robert Friel of the Detroit office of the U.S. Department of Labor told the 300 administrators at the conference they should have no problem with minimum wage requirements, since Michigan's minimum wage already is $1.25, compared with the federal government's $1.

But he warned them that when computing overtime, they must count not only hours that the employe is required to work, but also hours the employe is permitted to work.

Parties Face Money Trouble

$60 Million Congress Vote May Be Mirage

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Republicans learned today that the $60-million pot of gold Congress voted to pay for future presidential campaigns may be a mirage that could leave both parties financially stranded in 1968.

Fred C. Scribner Jr., its general counsel, predicted in a report prepared for the Republican National Committee's closing session that the income tax checkoff Congress approved will produce far less than the $30 million supposed to be available for each major party's presidential spending. He said it also may act to cut off private contributions.

"Congress had the germ of a good idea," Scribner said in an interview. "But I'm afraid we couldn't collect the money in time to do us much good, since none of it will become available until after income tax payments early in 1968."

Scribner said the GOP would be faced with the necessity of raising about $4 million to get its campaign started, since it gets no money in advance but is reimbursed only for actual campaign expenditures. He noted that these reimbursements do not take effect until after Sept. 1, 1968.

"It's going to be difficult to raise that kind of money because a lot of people who check off a $1 contribution on their income tax return—to be divided by both parties—are going to feel they have made their political contribution."

National Chairman Ray Bliss told a news conference Monday night there are "a lot of flaws in the law that have to cleaned up by Congress." He noted, among other things, that none of the money can be used for national committee headquarters operations, which cost around $1.9 million last year.

Ferency Sticks to Statement

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency wouldn't budge Monday from his position of last week —that he won't seek reelection under "current conditions and circumstances."

★ ★ ★

Ferency declined comment about a flood of reports that, State Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, for example, announced over the weekend he was withdrawing from consideration for the job because it appeared Ferency was still in contention.

★ ★ ★

"Sen. Levin had to make his own decision and so will everyone else," Ferency said Monday. "But I'm sticking with my statement of last week and I don't have any further comment."

★ ★ ★

Ferency said last week that "many party leaders and elected officials" opposed his reelection. He said if he did run successfully for another term as chairman, "I could not be as effective in that office as I would like to be."

EXISTING CONDITIONS

He added: "As long as we have the conditions and circumstances that existed when I made this decision, it is irrevocable."

★ ★ ★

Ferency also said last week he found "very enthusiastic" support among Michigan's rank and file Democrats and added, "I didn't envision too much difficulty in getting reelected."

Savings Reap Bonanza at GM

A total of 2,846 salaried employes at General Motors' Pontiac operations, who participated in the corporation's savings-stock purchase program of 1961, today were credited with $4,040,475.

The return of employe's savings amounted to $2.72 for every dollar saved, based on the Jan. 18 closing market price of $75 for GM common stock.

Nationwide, approximately $113.8 million in securities and cash was credited to 69,700 GM employes who participated in the 1961 program.

Locally, a total of 1,416 Pontiac Motor Division employes shared a stock, bond and cash distribution of $2,098,391.

Distribution to 1,248 GMC Truck & Coach Division employes was $1,671,072 and the Pontiac area Fisher Body plant salaried workers shared $271,011.

ELIGIBLE TO PARTICIPATE

Under the savings-stock purchase plan, all salaried employes with one year or more continuous service with the company are eligible to participate on a voluntary basis. They may save up to 10 per cent of their base salary, plus cost-of-living allowance.

Half of the employe savings is invested in U.S. government bonds and half in GM common stock. All dividends are reinvested in GM common stock and all interest received is reinvested in government bonds.

The savings program has two objectives.

First, it encourages employes to put aside a portion of their income in a systematic manner for future contingencies and, secondary, it increases the number of employes owning General Motors stock.

CONTRIBUTION

Nationally, 53,000 salaried employes chose to receive their assets from the 1961 class and $78.4 million in common stocks, government bonds and cash was distributed to them today.

An additional 16,700 salaried workers are leaving their assets in trust under the other option of the program. The amount to their credit has a current market value at $35.4-million.

Today's distribution includes 787,000 shares of GM stock with a market value of $59 million in bonds valued at $16.8 million and $2.6 million in cash.

As a result of the distribution, an additional 16,300 employes became GM shareholders.

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE—For every dollar they saved in 1961, 1,416 eligible employes at Pontiac Motor Division today received $2.72. Distribution of the stocks and government bonds was made under terms of the General Motors savings-stock purchase program. Pontiac Divisional Comptroller Enoch Eley (left) and James E. Malchow, manager of the Maple-Cranbrook branch of the National Bank of Detroit, hold a money bag symbolic of the $2,098,391 bonanza distributed today.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's official news agency said today that the nation's military commanders have vowed to help Mao Tse-tung seize "party, state, financial and other power from the persons in authority who are taking the capitalist road."

It was a rare admission that such broad power had slipped from Mao's hands.

Japanese correspondents in Peking quoted wall posters as saying the army had gone into action over the weekend to crush an uprising in the Peking suburb of Fangshan. Wall posters also reported clashes in Tientsin, 100 miles southeast of Peking, and in Paoting, 80 miles southwest of the capital.

Red Guard wall bulletins said army troops moved into Fangshan and seized control of the Communist party's county headquarters and the Security Bureau. The bulletins said a "handful of counterrevolutionary elements" had "arrested several hundred revolutionaries and subjected them to fascist torture."

PLEDGES REPORTED

Mao's New China News Agency reported pledges of support from "commanders and fighters of the three services of the Chinese People's Liberation Army" in Kunming, Lanchow, Shenyang, Canton, Foochow, Nanking, Wuhan, Peking, Chengtu, Tsinan, Tibet, Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia.

It did not mention Kiangsi, the southeast province where Mao's opponents reportedly have formed an army of workers and peasants.

Road Compromise Talks Directed by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night directed the administration to begin negotiations with the Michigan State Highway Department on a compromise plan for the use of Hunter Boulevard as the east leg of the ring road.

At the same time, commissioners authorized a study on the extension of Brownell to Park as an alternate for the eastern route of the perimeter road around the central business district.

Though the city's compromise proposal doesn't eliminate as many crossovers on Hunter as the one suggested by the state, the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, according to a spokesman, still opposes any alteration of the major thoroughfare.

Preliminary estimates prepared by the city engineering department for connecting Brownell to Park from Maple to Hamilton indicate that the project would cost between $212,000 and $300,000, depending on what plan would be agreeable to commissioners.

★ ★ ★

The cost includes land acquisition, and the removal of the McCallum and Dean Building which fronts on Maple.

Counterattack on Rowdyism at PCH Slated

the trouble at school activities is caused by nonstudents, school officials said that perhaps 10 or 12 students also are perennial instigators.

Among these are seven who had been suspended from school earlier and whose suspensions will continue for the new semester which begins Monday.

The names of the problem teen-agers and their parents will be submitted to Negro leaders, who are planning a mass community meeting on the problem.

DISCUSSION OF PROBLEM

Meanwhile school officials agreed to consider and follow through on suggestions made last night.

They were urged to confront the entire student body directly in a candid discussion of the problem.

Albert Shaw, Jefferson Community School director, said good students have disassociated themselves with the problem.

"If they could be activated, they could be used to create discipline and respect for authority," he said.

Clarence Barnes, Pontiac Area Urban League executive director, said that as long as three years ago some 50 of Central's "top students" petitioned for a human relations group at the school.

The Student Council reportedly has become active in this area.

"Some of us have been very vocal in telling the administration there is an acute problem at Pontiac Central," said Charles M. Tucker Jr., former president of the Oakland County NAACP chapter.

"Making public statements does not erase the gnawing problem," he said.

Asking for the names of the "hard - core troublemakers," Tucker also suggested that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission be asked "to make a thorough, unbiased analysis of the situation at Pontiac Central to submit to the administration."

City to Weigh Pay, Budget

The more than half-million-dollar deficit proposed for 1967 is to be paid by an existing surplus of nearly identical amount.

The administrative salary boosts, proposed for those officials appointed by the commission, total $4,926. In addition, the commission is expected to consider wage hikes for Pontiac's two Municipal Court judges.

★ ★ ★

Salary increases for these latter positions have not yet been determined, but will be by the time of tonight's meeting.

COMPARE SALARIES

In announcing the proposed salary adjustments for commission appointees, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said salaries in other cities were considered.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is slated to receive the biggest increase — $1,500 for an annual salary of $23,000.

A $1,186 hike is proposed for the city clerk, giving that position a salary of $10,000. The finance director is to receive a hike of $597 for a salary of $14,000, while the assistant city manager is to receive $1,143 for $12,500.

★ ★ ★

The city attorney is to be raised $500 for an annual salary of $18,000.

Pontiac Told to Act Now on Bias or Face Violence

Racial discrimination in Pontiac could lead to violence, community leaders were told yesterday, unless they take the opportunity now to do something about it.

The warning came from two officials of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC) speaking at a luncheon to focus attention on the opening of a new regional office in Pontiac.

Mrs. Frank W. Wiley, one of eight state civil rights commissioners, said Pontiac can either set a good or bad example in coping with the problems of civil rights.

★ ★ ★

"Civil rights is a serious problem in the state," she said. We come to Pontiac to offer a hand of assistance."

THREE COUNTIES

The Civil Rights Commission center in Pontiac will serve the three counties of Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair.

Mrs. Wiley said that "potential violence" exists in Pontiac, and emphasized, "It is in the community that the problem arises, and it is in the community that the problem is solved."

Wilma Ray, director of the new regional office, one of 13 in the state, explained the responsiblity of the commission to insure that discrimination and segregation do not exist in the state.

"We are committed to working ourselves out of business by helping to create a climate of equality of opportunity which will negate discrimination and segregation. $t is in the latter area that the majority of our efforts will be focused."

Miss Ray said, "It should not be difficult to understand that the closer minority groups come to full equality, the angrier they become at the remaining disparities and inequities."

She explained that the CRC office opened in Pontiac "because fears and prejudices cannot be used as a rationalization by some of the citizens to usurp the rights of others.

"We are here because de facto segregation exists in education and housing, because discrimination is taking place in employment and to a lesser extent in public accommodations," she said.

JFK's Life Hung in Balance for 5 Seconds—Author

NEW YORK (AP) — "Five terrible seconds" may have spelled the difference between life or death for President John F. Kennedy after he was first wounded, William Manchester suggests in his book, "Death of a President."

★ ★ ★

This is the estimated elapsed time between the first and second bullets that struck Kennedy.

Referring to the Secret Service agents riding in the front seat of the presidential car in that awful moment, Manchester wrote:

"They were in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds, they were immobilized."

NOT FATAL

The first bullet, piercing Kennedy's neck and throat, was not fatal, the author wrote. But the second inflicted a massive wound on the right side of his skull, sealing his fate.

The second installment of Look magazine's four-part serialization of Manchester's book, due on the newsstands Wednesday, relates the events of the day of the assassination, Nov. 22, 1963.

★ ★ ★

When the first shot cracked, Manchester wrote, "the White House detail was confused." Agents thought the sound came from a firecracker, or a police motorcycle backfire.

Agent Roy Kellerman, in the front seat, thought he heard the President say, "My God, I'm hit," and turned to look at him. Agent William R. Greer, the driver, also glanced backward.

'NEITHER REACTED'

"Neither had yet reacted to the crisis," Manchester wrote.

Kennedy was clutching his throat but he was not grimacing. Manchester described his expression as "quizzical." Mrs. Kennedy had often seen that expression. Like the others in the car, she seemed unaware that her husband had been wounded.

★ ★ ★

Then the second bullet struck him. Manchester wrote —

"Now in a gesture of infinite grace, he raised his right hand as though to brush back his tousled chestnut hair. But the motion faltered. The hand fell back limply. He had been reaching for the top of his head. But it wasn't there any more."

INTO REAR SEAT

At about that same instant, Agent Rufus Youngblood vaulted into the rear seat of Vice President Johnson's car, snapped, "get down," and covered Johnson's body with his own.

The lead cars in the motorcade, accelerating powerfully, then raced toward Parkland Hospital in Dallas, where, Manchester wrote, they were to find confusion compounded.

★ ★ ★

In this section of his book, Manchester leaves no doubt that he believes Lee Harvey Oswald killed Kennedy and had no accomplices in any organized conspiracy.

The author thus agrees with the findings of the Warren commission. It says Oswald acted alone.

NUMEROUS BOOKS

Critics of the Warren report, however, have advanced the theory in numerous books — some of them lucrative — that the bullets came from two directions, not just the Texas School Book Depository Building, where Oswald worked.

Manchester pictures Oswald as a "chronic failure," scorned and more or less rejected by his Russian wife, Marina. Witnesses testified before the Warren Commission that she told them Oswald was sexually inadequate.

'SNIPER'S PERCH'

"This was the day the chronic failure was going to demonstrate that he could succeed at something, that he was a man and did not deserve contempt," Manchester wrote of Oswald on the day of the assassination.

Oswald, he wrote, smuggled his rifle into the Book Depository Building, built a "sniper' perch" near a sixth-floor window, and then waited for the presidential motorcade.

A witness, Howard Brennan, told the Warren Commission he saw Oswald, only 88 yards from Kennedy's car, and aiming through a telescopic sight on the rifle, fire at the President. Manchester cites Brennan's testimony.

To refute the "conspiracy school" of writers, Manchester also cites the evidence in the photographs and X rays taken during the autopsy on Kennedy's body. He says he did not see this material but that he interviewed three persons "with special qualifications" who examined it before it was sealed in the national archives.

IDENTICAL ACCOUNTS

"None of them knew the other two, but all three gave identical accounts of what they had seen in the photographs and X rays," Manchester wrote. The evidence is "overwhelming," he says, that the first bullet struck Kennedy in the lower neck, exited from his throat, and then struck Gov. John B. Connally Jr. of Texas, who was riding in the jump seat in front of Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The second installment also reports:

1. Kennedy, perhaps in a flash of prescience, talked about being assassinated on the morning of the day he died. He told Mrs. Kennedy an assassin in the crowd at Fort Worth the previous night easily could have shot him. He pantomimed for her the actions of the imaginary killer. He spoke "casually," Manchester wrote, and Mrs. Kennedy took his remarks in that spirit.

COMPLETE DISAGREEMENT

2. Kenneth O'Donnell, special aide to Kennedy, disagrees completely with President Johnson in their memories of the circumstances through which Johnson boarded the presidential airplane, instead of the vice presidential aircraft, after the assassination.

Johnson recalls that O'Donnell "twice urged" him to take Air Force One, the presidential plane, for the flight to Washington.

Manchester says O'Donnell calls this version "absolutely, totally and unequivocably wrong." He quotes O'Donnell as adding, "The President and I had no conversation regarding Air Force One. If we had known that he was going on Air Force One, we would have taken Air Force Two. One plane was just like another."

3. Kennedy had come to Texas to patch up a political feud involving Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Gov. Connally and Johnson, Manchester wrote. On the previous day, Yarborough had twice refused to ride in Johnson's car.

BECAME ANGRY

Kennedy became angry when he saw headlines in Texas newspapers, "Yarborough snubs LBJ" and "President's Visit Seen Widening State Democratic Split."

★ ★ ★

The President telephoned O'Donnell and Lawrence O'Brien, another special aide, and told them Yarborough must ride with Johnson in the Dallas Motorcade. He grated, "Get him in the car."

★ ★ ★

The morning newspapers on Nov. 22 also published an advertisement, bordered in black. It had been placed, Manchester wrote, by "an organization styling itself as 'The American Fact-Finding Committee' — a local coordinator of the John Birch Society."

★ ★ ★

The advertisement, addressed to Kennedy, "hinted strongly that he had reached a secret agreement with the U.S. Communist party." Manchester said that the President read it and remarked to his wife that they were about to enter "nut country."

Northeast Is Still Dry Despite Rain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the fact that more rain fell in the drought-plagued Northeast last year than in any of the three previous years, the total was still 18 per cent below normal, the Weather Bureau says.

The bureau said there is sufficient water in the area at least through spring but added it is too early to tell if the drought will recur this summer.

Church Benefits

CHICAGO (AP) — The Methodist Church reports a record three million persons received benefits in 1966 from the 28 health and welfare agencies affiliated with the Church. The agencies include 79 hospitals, 151 homes for the aged, 53 agencies for young people and two businesswomen's homes.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 740-D, 386 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.
