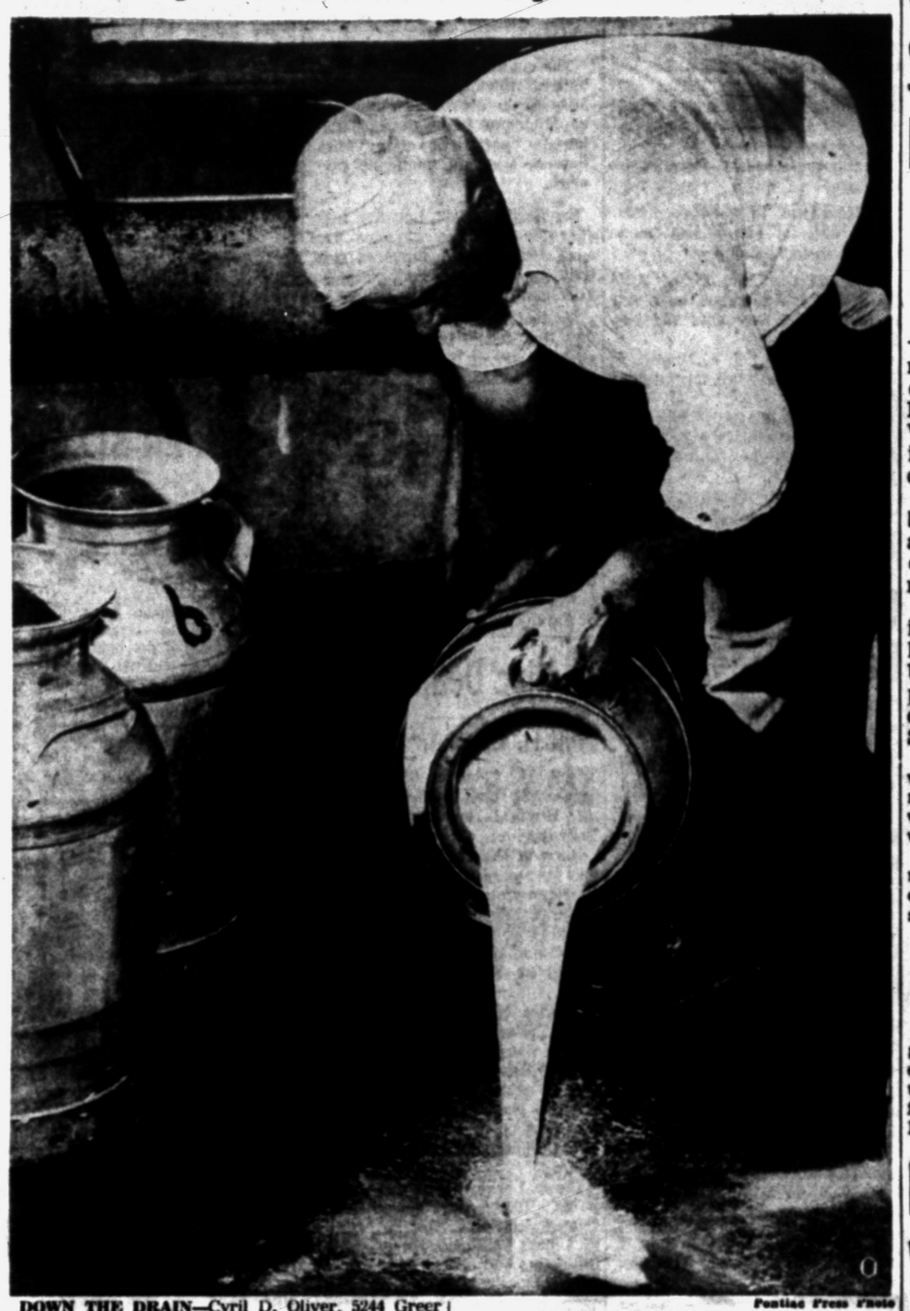
Pickets Block Milk Deliveries by Non-Strikers

Dumps Milk as Surplus Mounts



Pontiac Press Photo

DOWN THE DRAIN—Cyril D. Oliver, 5244 Greer Rd., West Bloomfield Township, dumps from 40 to 50 gallons of milk taken from his dairy herd Thursday morning to make room in his cold storage room for last night's milk. Michigan Milk Producers Assn. is selling some milk to a few small non-union dairies for powdered and condensed milk—but local farmers had to dump 3,000 gallons last night and today as their storage rooms filled up.

Farmers Feel Pinch

Milk Supplies Run Low; 3,000 Gallons Dumped

Oakland County farmers had dumped out 3,000 gallons of raw milk today as Pontiac supplies ran low and pickets plagued a dairy where the owner's family processed milk.

The picket line showed up today at Nye Dairy, 585 Oakland Ave., whose employes are members of the striking Detroit Local 83, CIO United Dairy Workers.

Owner James Nye, his wife, sister and a supervisor processed milk through the plant themselves Thursday for cash-and-carry sale there and planned to continue. The dairy said none of its own workers were in the picket line this morning.

Meanwhile, some 1,400 Oakland County dairy farm families, who have been spending money all year to advertise June as National Dairy Month, face a loss of $13,500 a day if the strike continues.

Edmond W. Aichin, Oakland County Agricultural agent, said farmers' milk storage rooms

China Nationals Seize Red Ship Near Formosa

Vessel, Cargo May Be Confiscated; Russia Says U.S. Captured It

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) —Nationalist China announced tonight that one of its warships seized the Russian tanker Tuapse Wednesday off Formosa and indicated the vessel and its cargo might be confiscated.

The 8,840-ton Danish-built tanker is being held at the South Formosan port of Kaohsiung, the announcement said.

Word that the Tuapse was in Nationalist hands came hours after the Soviet Union, in a stiff note made public in Moscow earlier today, accused the United States of seizing the tanker.

The Soviet note said the Tuapse was seized in waters between Formosa and the Philippines "by a warship of the destroyer type" which threatened to open fire.

The note threatened "appropriate measures for safeguarding the security of Soviet merchant ships sailing in that area."

The U. S. note was expected to go out today in a move to take the edge off whatever propaganda value the Russians sought to gain from their accusation that the U.S. Navy had seized the tanker.

Residents Okay Water System

Sylvan Lake Voters Favor $225,000 Project 313-88

Residents of the City of Sylvan Lake yesterday approved a municipal water system, and to issuing bonds to finance it.

The vote was 313-88 in favor of the $225,000 system. A question of $125,000 in general obligation bonds was approved, 281-80; and $100,000 in bonds to be paid off by special assessment gained approval 237-116.

City Manager Ernest Ethier said the votes would be canvassed Monday night.

The new system will consist of to 12-inch water wells, necessary pumping stations and a network of water mains, Ethier said. Most residents now get their water from individual wells.

In that portion of the city where water mains are already in, and being supplied Pontiac city water, it is not the present plan to include these property owners in the special water assessment.

This assessment will be $2 per front foot. Exempt areas which paid some years ago are on Telegraph, James K. boulevard, and Pioneer and Tilden avenues.

Better fire protection, increased property value, and a constant source of water are the values of the new well system, Manager Ethier says.

Building Permits Hit New Peak

108 Duplexes Costing $12,000 Each Figure in Record Valuation

Building permits for 108 duplex homes costing $12,000 each pushed the city's total permit valuation to $1,333,210 for the week to set a new record for private residential building, according to Building Inspector William Alt.

The previous weekly high for private construction of dwelling units was the erection of the 104-apartment Bloomfield Terraces by George Agree in June, 1950, when building permits totaling $650,000 were issued, according to city records.

The homes, to be built for Green and Sarko, Inc., will be erected in a subdivision bordered

Moody Shows Improvement

Doctors Say Senatorial Candidate Will Recover to Continue Campaign

HANCOCK, Mich. (AP) — Former Senator Blair Moody, stricken with a combination of virus pneumonia and a heart ailment, was reported "dramatically improved" today.

His doctors and Democratic spokesmen said all indications were that he would be able to continue his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate seat he once held for 19 months.

Moody, 52, was rushed to St. Joseph Hospital in this far northern Michigan community early yesterday as he launched a campaign swing through the Upper Peninsula.

His trouble was diagnosed as pneumonia. But a few hours later a heart ailment caused complications and he spent most of the day unconscious and in an oxygen tent.

Early today three doctors—two of them heart specialists flown in by special plane—checked his condition and reported:

"The primary difficulty is pneumonia which produced some heart symptoms. These have now subsided. He has dramatically improved.

"We have every reason to believe he will regain strength rapidly and be able to continue the campaign."

Groveland Man, 27, Drowns Despite Aid

Efforts of two Groveland Township youths to save a swimming companion from drowning last night failed.

Raymond Ingraham, 27, of 5538 Grange Hall Rd., drowned in a small lake on the neighboring farm of William Tell. He and his cousin George Wilson, 18, and Robert Brook, 15, of 4980 Grange Hall Rd., went swimming together after working in the fields all day, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies Ted Gunn and Lyle Walmsley.

Ingraham, shortly after entering the water, began to flounder. One of the youths who went to the stricken man's aid was almost pulled under, according to Gunn.

The body was recovered about two hours after Ingraham sank from sight, in 25 feet of water. Ingraham, a Korean War veteran, was employed by his uncle, Delbert R. Wilson, and is survived by his father, Walter, of Portland.

Hills Riders Sweep Event; Bonham Adds to Victories

While Max Bonham, veteran Open Hunt horseman, added to his rather fabulous string of winners for the current show, the big news from Bloomfield Open Hunt Club's show ring today was the sweep made by Oakland County riders in the elementary dressage event. All of the first four places went to country area youngsters.

This event was a test of early equitation involving the rider's control of his mount.

It was won by Marie Lindquist, 15, of Bloomfield Hills. Others in order were Kitten James, 16, Bloomfield Hills, Art Dowd, 16, Birmingham, and Gretchen Raeder, 15, of Plymouth.

Bonham was on Angela Erickson's Sky Bubble, a brown gelding, when he won the event for three-year-old hunters. He expected to ride 15-20 times today.

The young set also had eyes for Lou Wilson, Birmingham, who took her Tinka over the fences for a victory in 13-18 year old class, and added a second place in the junior handy hunter class.

Results of this morning's competition:

Elementary dressage (riders up to and including 19 years)—Won by Marie Lindquist, 15 of Bloomfield Hills.

Middle, heavyweight green working hunters—Won by Sixth Sense (owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Motch, Keene, Va.) with Stewart Lanham up.

Horsemanship over fences (13-18 years) —Won by Lou Wilson of Birmingham on Tinka.

U.N. Turns Again to Guatemalan Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council turns back to the Guatemalan War today, taking up an urgent charge from the Central American Republic that neighboring Honduras and Nicaragua still are helping the rebels fighting President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-backed government.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the council president, called the 11-nation group to meet this afternoon after the council's Latin-American members, Brazil and Colombia, acceded to the Guatemalan appeal and asked for a session.

Diplomatic sources said they got their request to Lodge just a few minutes before the Soviet Union formally demanded a meeting.

Churchill Arrives in U. S., Meets Ike at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill met with President Eisenhower today to see whether they can wipe out in intimate talks any "misunderstanding," as Churchill put it, between the two major powers of the anti-Communist world.

Portentious decisions, particularly on the Far East, hang in the balance on the weekend conferences between the President and his White House guest.

Churchill appeared to be in buoyant spirits on his arrival by plane, and seemingly sought to deprecate the rift between American and British policies. He spoke of the difficulties as "family matters" and suggested that whatever troubles the United States and Britain may have, those in the Communist world are "even greater."

On the American side, there was an absence of any public expression of confidence and hope about the talks such as, more often than not, is contained in welcoming statements on such occasions.

Diplomats here, in fact, hold a great doubt that anything to improve the situation actually can come out of the talks.

Eisenhower greeted Churchill with a warm handshake at the White House steps. The British leader had been escorted there by Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles who met him and his party at the airport.

There were no public statements from Nixon and Dulles on Churchill's arrival but the British leader spoke to an airport crowd on his aims for the talks.

He put it this way:

"I have had a very comfortable journey from my fatherland to my mother's land." His mother was an American.

"I've come with Anthony Eden to talk over a few family matters and try to make sure that there are no misunderstandings.

"The English-speaking family of brotherhood is rather a large one and not entirely without a few things here and there.

"And if we work together we may get along all right ourselves and do a lot to help our neighbors in the world, some of whom on either side of the Iron Curtain

Householders With Children Feeling Effects

Twin Pines Presents Hospital With Gallons It Can't Deliver

DETROIT (AP) — Roving car loads of striking milkmen prevented many deliveries of milk by non-striking dairies today. Meanwhile the pinch from the milk strike was felt by households with small children.

Seven trucks from the employe-owned Twin Pines Dairy were escorted by United Dairy Workers (CIO) union leaders to the Wayne County General Hospital. Union men had prevented delivery of the milk to suburban customers.

The milk, some 5,000 gallons, was donated to the hospital.

Meanwhile Detroiters telephoned the city's central milk information headquarters at a 200 an hour rate to get information on emergency supplies and what households could do without milk.

And six strikebound daires began to deliver milk for children under two on an emergency basis. Birth certificates, hospital records or baptismal certificates were accepted as proof of age.

The milk was available at distribution centers, which will allow one quart of milk per day per child.

Authorities at the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel and the Ambassador Bridge said that milk imports from Canada have shot upwards. Besides, they said, milk is cheaper there.

The seven Twin Pines trucks were caught by roving patrols of pickets while they attempted to load milk from a creamery truck. The milk was labeled "Valley Lea" and was brought from Carson City.

One of the drivers said:

One car with two men stopped in front of us and another with four men behind. They told us we were not going to deliver any

Milk for Children

Parents of children under two years old can get milk at the "struck" dairies in Pontiac by showing the child's birth certificate. Others who must have milk for health reasons may get it by bringing a doctor's statement. Non-union dairies here are selling milk to everyone.

Milk Flows Free as Truck Mishap Adds to Shortage

An accident contributed to the milk shortage in the Pontiac area yesterday when a milk delivery truck overturned, smashing about 70 bottles of milk.

Levern J. Reifers, 30, of 301 Elizabeth, Plymouth, relief driver for the Guernsey Farm's Dairy in Northville, lost control of his truck when a couple of cases of milk jarred loose and fell against him on Ladd road about ½ mile north of W. Maple road in Commerce Township.

Des Moines Reported Winning Battle as Surging River Hits Highest Mark

DES MOINES, Ia. (UP)— Des Moines was winning its battle against the highest flood crest in the city's history today.

Guardsmen and army engineers still patrolled the five and a half miles of levees protecting this city of 178,000.

But Col. Nelson Le Clair Jr., Army district engineer, said "we're winning."

"It's been a desperate fight," he added.

However, officials warned the danger won't be over until the surging Des Moines River falls almost seven feet to below flood stage. That wasn't expected until midnight Saturday.

A new danger was posed by the flooding Raccoon River, which joins the Des Moines here. It was expected to crest at 7 p.m. EST today at 16½ to 17½ feet, five to six feet above bankfull.

More than 5,000 men, women and children worked frantically at the height of the battle to strengthen the levees against the flood.

At least 3,000 persons were evacuated and 100 homes were flooded, 40 in the threatened Riverview area and 25 to 30 southwest of the Raccoon-Des. Moines juncture.

Then, as the crested river rushed past, it became apparent the levees would probably hold. There were minor breakthroughs in the Riverview area, but Le Clair said early today "we're in good shape."

The river stood at 29.69 feet early today and was falling slowly. Its crest Thursday was slightly more than 30 feet.

Two little sisters, Janice Larson, 5, and Eunice Larson, 8, drowned near Elkader Thursday when they stepped into a nine-foot hole washed out by the floods. Their deaths brought the state's flood toll to four.

Public Hearing Tuesday at Bloomfield Hills School on New Zoning Ordinance

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A proposed city zoning ordinance which would increase minimum lot sizes and reduce by 60 per cent the land zoned for multiple dwellings is scheduled for a public hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school.

More than a year's study and work by the Planning Commission and a planning consultant firm are behind the recommendation to the City Commission.

In studies made of the area, it was found that in most cases, persons building homes purchased more than the minimum restriction of approximately a 0.7 acre site.

Under the proposed ordinance, this minimum for single family residence lots would be increased slightly, in certain areas, to 0.75 acres. Other sections would require either one, one and one-half or two acres for building homes.

No changes are contemplated in the square-foot area requirements of homes.

Under the present zoning, a 400-foot strip of multiple-dwelling zoned land bounds Woodward avenue on each side, from one end of the city to the other. This is limited to not more than three families per acre.

The proposed amendment eliminates much of this zoning, leaving a 3,300-foot portion along the east side of Woodward, south of Long Lake road. The multiple zoning remains on the south side of Long Lake road, from Woodward to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

"Bloomfield Hills is the last area where country living, as opposed to city or suburban living, is available," says Planning Board Chairman John Graham," and we'd like to see it stay that way."

"We have a good, modern plan for the city, developed by planning consultants Skidmore, Owings and Merrill.

Working with Graham for the past year on the board have been Henry S. Booth, John S. Bugas, A. C. Girard, Donald B. McClouth; Ormond E. Hunt, and John R. MacManus.

Bloomfield Hills Mayor James A. Beresford praised the "valuable contribution of the planning commission, and its many hours of work."

He added that the proposed ordinance is not the thinking of one or two persons, but the entire planning commission, in an attempt to solve the problems of their community.

Added to the monthly report on communicable diseases for the month of May was one case of cerebral spinal meningitis which took the life of a 4½-year-old Birmingham girl, reports City Health Nurse Anyce Gillette.

Measles cases were still climbing upward, with 165 cases, she said, as compared to 121 in April. Also high on the list were chicken pox victims. There were 79 cases in May, 70 in June. Other reports for May and April, respectively, were: mumps, 35, 26; scarlet fever, 7 6; and German measles, 11, 7.

Mrs. Gillette also noted that 21 dog bites were reported in May.

Regular greens fees at Springdale Park have been cut in half for boys and girls aged 10 to 17. They will be permitted to use the golf course there on Monday and Thursday mornings as part of the Recreation Board's summer program.

The City Commission approved the recommendation of Robert Fauteck, park superintendent, at this week's meeting.

Commissioners also straightened out a complication over who is entitled to use the golfing facilities.

The Recreation Board's program is open to all youngsters in the Birmingham School District but since the city-owned park is restricted to local residents only, it was decided to limit the golfing program to residents only.

One of the highlights of the affair, Campbell said, was "the capture of the 1955 convention for Detroit."

As it was, he fired a mighty respectable 98.8, the highest score ever recorded at the range.

3,000 Gallons Milk Dumped by Farmers

were full today with 3,000 gallons already thrown away.

Michigan Milk Producers Assn. could find only a small market among non-union dairies and producers of powdered and condensed milk.

Alchin said the farmer now gets seven cents a quart for his milk, four cents less than in 1951—"and any added loss because sales are stopped will hurt him badly." He said most dairy farm families depend on milk money for a large part of their income.

Pontiac's "milk drought" won't be affected much by last night's agreement of two Detroit milk companies to grant union demands. Eagle Dairy Products Co. does not deliver milk here. Risdon Dairy supplies two local chain stores.

Most local grocers said milk-hungry Pontiac families, buying four and five quarts each, had "cleaned out" all fresh milk supplies by this morning. Many grocers ran out of milk yesterday afternoon.

One retailer said his milk supply just "went pffft." Another said he limited milk to two quarts a customer, but had sold out by mid-morning today.

Meanwhile, a few small local non-union dairies— Huron, Snyder, Dixie and Richardson Farm —worked overtime to try to keep up with the doubled demand. Huron Dairy processed, bottled and sold three times its usual day's amount of milk Thursday.

City May Get Airport Money

Can Secure $73,000 From State and Federal Governments

Pontiac can get $73,000 from the state and federal governments to improve Pontiac Municipal Airport, if the city puts up another $20,000 itself.

Michigan Aeronautics Commission has set aside $200,000 in state funds for improvements at 12 local airports. Pontiac's share is $20,000 — to be released if the city "matches" the money.

The U. S. Government would then put up another $40,000, matching the total of both; and an extra $13,000 as half of Pontiac's costs in buying the recently-purchased 80 acres to extend the airport runway.

"The city paid $26,000 for the 80 acres," Homer Hoskins, airport manager, explained. "But it hasn't been developed yet. If we build a runway onto it, that develops it—and the federal government will then pay us half the purchase price."

Other communities' shares in the $200,000 allocation were as follows:

Escanaba $5,000, Iron Mountain $5,000, Willow Run $25,000, Detroit - Wayne Major $40,000, Flint $10,000, Muskegon $15,000, Lansing $33,000, Ironwood $5,000, Coldwater $7,000, Alpena $5,000, Manistee $25,000 and Owosso $5,000.

The State Aeronautics Commission also set aside $130,000 from airplane registration fees for improvement of 11 local airports, not including Pontiac. This money was divided as follows:

Marquette $25,000, Escanaba $15,000, Tri-City (Saginaw, Bay City and Midland) $23,000, Iron Mountain $10,000, Muskegon $4,000, Lansing $20,000, St. Ignace $5,000, Port Huron $15,000, Coldwater $5,000, Alpena $3,000 and Three Rivers $5,000.

seem to have even greater problems than ourselves."

When he finished speaking Churchill turned to Secretary of State Dulles whom he has known for a long time and asked in his famous Churchillian growl "was that all right?" Dulles grinned and warmly shook his hand.

les also went undelivered. Nine minutes after he set foot on American soil, Churchill climbed into an open convertible with Nixon and they drove to the White House. Eden and Dulles followed in a second car.

Holding Churchill's left elbow, the President helped the British leader up the stairs where he introduced him to Mrs. Eisenhower. They paused for about three minutes while nearly 100 photographers, newsreel and television cameramen recorded the greeting.

"We've got to stop here at the top for a moment," said Eisenhower, "in order to have your picture taken. That's not exactly a new experience, is it?"

Eisenhower greeted Eden by saying "it's good to see you." The President also shook hands warmly with half a dozen of Churchill's aides.

About 200 government employes, most of them White House staff members, watched the welcoming ceremonies and applauded afterward as Eisenhower escorted Churchill through the White House front door.

Dismissal Request Denied by Justice

A Federal attorney's request that the negligent homicide case again Pvt. Frank Ciaccia, 22, be dismissed was denied yesterday by Royal Oak Township Justice Richard V. Broder.

Ciaccia, who is stationed in Detroit, was the driver of a truck in an Army convoy which crashed into a small truck May 11, killing its driver, James W. Ethridge, 60, of 12377 Ithica, Royal Oak Township.

The dismissal motion was based on the presentation of three affidavits stating that Ciaccia was under orders at the time of the fatal accident.

Eight witnesses appeared.

The examination was adjourned a week to permit the defense and the Oakland County prosecutor's office an opportunity to study the transcript to date.

Korea Drive Planned by Amvet Auxiliary

Members of the Auxiliary of Bemis-Olsen Post 113, Amvets, will conduct a street and door-to-door fund solicitation Saturday for the American-Korean Foundation.

The Foundation, headed by James A. Van Fleet, retired Army general, is a channel through which Americans can ease the sufferings and hardships of the Korean people, and help them demonstrate the democratic way of life in Asia, says auxiliary chairman Mrs. Milton A. Mielke.

Scrolls on which contributors sign their names will be forwarded with the funds to President Syngman Rhee of Korea. Money collected will aid the more than 100,000 children who lost both parents in the Korean conflict.

14 Charged With Plotting to Corrupt Tax Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen persons, including three New York lawyers, were named today in an indictment accusing them of plotting to corrupt Internal Revenue Bureau officials and impede tax scandal investigations.

Four persons were named as defendants, the others as co-conspirators.

Those named as co-conspirators included Daniel A. Bolich, former No. 2 man in the old Internal Revenue Bureau, and Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, long a mystery man around Washington.

The eight count indictment named as defendants:

Samuel Schopick and Irving Davis, partners in the New York law firm of Schopick and Davis; Max Halperin, an attorney said to have been associated with the law firm from time to time; and Milton Hoffman, not an attorney but said to have occupied space with the law firm.

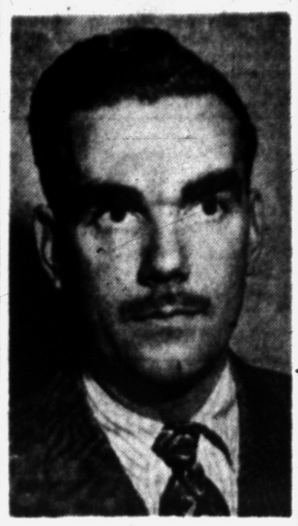
Only the first count of the indictment which alleges conspiracy included the names of the 10 alleged co-conspirators.

In addition to Grunewald and Bolich, the indictment named the following as co-conspirators:

Max Steinberg, former group chief in the office of the internal revenue agent in charge of the Upper New York Division; Morton Marx, James A. Zipfer, Marjorie Zipfer Segal, and Samuel Cohen, share holders in Pattullo Modes, Inc., a dress manufacturing firm; Maurice Smith, an accountant for Pattullo Modes; Louis M. Berman and Philip Berman, partners in the Gotham Beef Co. and stockholders and principals in Gotham Ship Purveyors Inc., all of New York.

The conspiracy count alleges the four defendants and 10 co-conspirators endeavored to influence, intimidate, and impede witnesses before a Brooklyn grand jury and before a House Ways and Means subcommittee which investigated tax scandals.

Brownell said in a statement that both the Treasury and the Justice Departments are continuing the investigations of tax scandals before grand juries in both New York and Washington.



BEN JEROME JR.

Dealer to Head Campaign Here

Pontiac's Ben Jerome Will Direct Leonard-for-Governor Group

Donald S. Leonard, who recently resigned as Detroit police commissioner to seek the Republican nomination for governor, opened his Oakland County campaign in a talk at Hotel Pontiac last night.

He announced that Ben Jerome Jr., Pontiac automobile dealer, will head the Leonard - for - Governor campaign in Oakland County.

About 100 of his supporters pledged Leonard an even greater majority of the Oakland County vote than he received in the 1952 primary. Two years ago Leonard carried Oakland County by almost 5,000 votes against Republican nominee Fred M. Alger Jr.

Leonard, who drew more than a quarter million votes in his abbreviated campaign of 1952, told his backers that his proven ability to garner votes in metropolitan areas like Wayne and Oakland has inspired the confidence and supoprt of outstate Republican voters. He said Michigan Republicans recognize that the battle to defeat the Democrat incumbent will be won or lost in Wayne County and environs.

Due to his lifelong residence in Wayne County and his 30 years of experience in state and local government, Leonard said he generally felt he can reduce Williams' Wayne County margin — or defeat the incumbent in what has up to now been the Democrat's stronghold.

Jerome announced that Leonard-for-Governor committees have been established in each of Oakland County's cities and townships. He named July 2 as the date for an initial tour of the County by the candidate. Jerome stated that a County Campaign Headquarters will be opened next week.

Wrong Address Given by Captured Man

An address given by Lewis G. Norman, 26, one of three men captured in connection with a Flint holdup yesterday was identified as that of a chiropractor, Clayton E. Marsh, who told the Pontiac Press today that Norman has never lived there.

Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post said they have no other address for Norman, captured with George L. Bonilla, 24, of 84 W. Huron St., and a 16-year-old juvenile at a road block on U. S. 10. All three are in custody of Flint Police.

Crippa has been Republican national committeeman from Wyoming for the past eight years. Hunt was a Democrat. The senate now has 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and Sen. Morse, Oregon, elected on a Republican ticket but usually rated as an independent.

6 Teens Hurt in Car Smashup

4 Hospitalized as Auto Runs Out of Control, Crashes

Six teenagers were injured last night when the car in which they were riding went out of control on a curve, knocked down seven guard posts and smashed into a tree.

Frederick Polderdyke, 18, of Detroit told Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post that he was driving north on South Lake drive about a half mile west of Novi in Novi Township when he lost control of his auto. Police said Polderdyke's car traveled about 120 feet along the roadside before hitting the tree.

In Pontiac General Hospital today are:

Blandine Gardner, 18, of 25911 Berg Rd., Birmingham, is in fair condition with face cuts and possible concussion.

Pickets Halt Milk Delivery in Plymouth

milk. Then one of them reached in and dumped a case of milk on the truck floor."

Drivers had pasted "Valley Lea" signs over the Twin Pines signs on the trucks.

Mediators said they were hopeful they could soon end the one-day old strike that has cut off 80 per cent of deliveries to Detroit, Mount Clemens and Pontiac.

"Definite progress was reported at a Thursday night bargaining session in the offices of the State Labor Mediation Board.

The first break in the strike which has hit 23 Detroit area dairies came when Eagle Products Co. agreed to union demands for a shorter work week without a pay loss. The dairy and the union signed a one-year contract.

Risdon Bros., Inc. also said it had yielded to union demands. The company's attorney, Rodney Baxter, said the company did so "to keep the vital milk supply flowing."

Michigan dairy farmers faced an estimated $117,000 daily loss from the strike which began at midnight Wednesday.

State Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) said he has asked Atty. Gen. Frank Millard to determine whether the governor's office has taken every available action possible to prevent the loss of milk revenue to farmers.

Production workers walked off their jobs Wednesday after processing milk for Thursday delivery. The union milkmen walked off the job yesterday as they completed their deliveries.

Twin Pines announced yesterday it had filed petitions with the National Labor Relations Board to oust Local 83 of the dairy workers as bargaining agent for its employes.

John H. Stewart, president of the employe-owned firm, said it was the only move "left for the employes who have repeatedly demonstrated they are not in sympathy with the strike."

The effects of the strike spread to farm districts which supply milk to the 23 creameries.

Seven Detroit area creameries employing AFL workers, were not affected by the strike. However, Detroit Milk Dealer Assn. spokesmen expressed doubt that the seven could meet the demands of the area if the strike is prolonged.

Weekend Wait Foreseen for Outcome of Title Snarl

MUSKEGON (AP) — Michigan probably will have to wait until Monday to find out who its 1954 beauty queen is.

But officials of the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City promised a quick decision in the Wednesday night controversy that saw blonde Deloris Susin of Bloomfield Hills give back the crown she had worn only a few hours.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the state contest, challenged and sent to Atlantic City the ballots of two judges.

The committee charged the ballots, which gave the crown to Miss Susin over Janice Somers of Michigan State College, followed a "pattern of voting." Miss Somers was the audience favorite.

Bradford Frapart, business manager for the Miss America pageant, under whose auspices state contests are conducted, said the Michigan situation was unique.

He told the local committee today that never before in the 21-year history of the event had balloting in a state elimination been challenged. Eight years ago, however, a similar controversy did arise in the Atlantic City finals, he said.

Frapart praised the Muskegon committee for "its courageous action" in suspending the official judges' decision after audience protests. He said the Miss America executive board would act promptly upon receipt of copies of the questioned ballots.

He added that it was policy to throw out ballots which show wide discrepancies from the majority votes.

Committee members claimed that the ballots of two of the six judges Wednesday night were similar and varied widely from the views of the other judges.

In each case, members said, Miss Susin was rated highly by the two unidentified judges and Miss Somers rated uniformly low.

The local committee was undecided yet today what ceremonies might be scheduled should the disputed ballots be thrown out and Miss Somers declared the winner.

Ferguson Meets With Top Brass

State Senator to Miss Republican Gathering Saturday

LANSING (AP) — U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) will not be present when Michigan Republican candidates pledge themselves to harmony — but only because of a more important assignment.

John Feikens, Republican State Chairman, said Ferguson had been requested by President Eisenhower to be present when the President meets Saturday with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain.

Ferguson had been scheduled to speak Saturday afternoon at a Republican gathering here at which all Republican state ticket candidates will be asked to clasp hands and promise harmony, no matter who wins the primary.

The four Republican candidates for Governor: State Treas. D. Hale Brake, Sec. of State Owen J. Cleary, former Lt. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes and Donald S. Leonard, former Detroit and State Police Commissioner, will speak for 10 minutes. Other speakers will be Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid, who is unopposed, and Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), who withdrew from the governorship race.

New Paralytic Viruses Found

Discovered in Study Showing That Gamma Globulin Works

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Discovery of new viruses apparently causing paralytic disease resmelbing polio has been reported by a Pittsburgh research team.

The viruses turned up in a new study which indicates that gamma globulin (G G) can really give fairly good protection against polio viruses or make an attack less severe.

Dr. William Hammon and associates of the University of Pittsburgh made the re-check study on children given either GG or useless gelatin in controlled tests in 1951-52 in Utah, Texas and Iowa.

Some of the children who came down with paralytic disease diagnosed as polio actually did not have any of the three viruses know to cause human polio, the team told the American Medical Association.

Altogether new viruses were isolated from children in the study. Eight of the viruses were not affected at all by GG in lavoratory tests. GG is a blood product which carries antibodies against the polio viruses.

Some of these viruses prrrrrr.. paralytic disease resembling mild polio, since those children d could not be shown to have been made sick by the tru polio virus, Dr. Hammon said.

Whether the Salk vaccine or other vaccines might protect against these or other viruses is something for future checking.

Study of the new viruses is continuing. Of those tested so far, one is coxsackie virus, which is known to cause polio-like illness.

Dr. Hammon said the re-check, which eliminated cases of sickness not really due to polio virus, shows GG appears more effective than previously thought in guarding against polio — if the shot of GG can be given at the right time.

He reported 75.5 per cent of children were protected against paralytic polio if they had the GG shot from a week up to eight weeks before virus invade them.

And if they got the GG a week to five weeks before virus attacked them, 88 per cent were protected. When GG did fail to prevent polio, it often made the attack milder.

Until a polio vaccine is proven effective, GG thus remains as the best available guardian asinst paralytic polio.

Dr. Hammon said there was evidence that when GG was given to children in a family where one child already had come down with polio, the shots could do some good. These would be children who might already be incubating the virus within their bodies.

Roeder passed a Eau Claire fire truck at 75 miles an hour, police said. His "victory" cost him $25 and his driver's license.

Flapping Ears, Bad Habits Aren't Permitted in Subs

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

"Bill's big flapping ears," said my teenage son, "kept him out of the submarine service."

My own ears flapped at this bit of intelligence, and though my son gets honors in a few subjects at school I decided he'd gone daft.

"Cooped up in a submerged sub," he maintained, "and staring at crazy ears like Bill's, you could flip your lid. Lots of other things could get the guys down — the Navy's smart."

It sounded more reasonable, and I put in a journalistic call to the Atlantic submarine force headquarters at New London, Conn.

I couldn't pin anybody down on big ears, but various Navy spokesmen put a depth charge under my skepticism about "things that can get guys down." I was quoted one sentence that's not only printed, but underlined, in the medical manual on a submariner's qualifications:

"Psychiatric conditions," it says, "or personal traits which might militate against adjustment under satisfactory conditions aboard this kind of ship shall disqualify."

Among traits that could "militate," I gathered, are nail-biting, ear-tugging, diving off the deep end in a hassle, not having "power in the teeth" for biting into an escape appliance, being too fat or too skinny and harboring certain hygienic misfortunes even your best friends won't tell you about.

In any submarine of mine, knuckle-crackers would, like Abou Ben Adhem, lead all the rest, but they'd be crowded hard by gum-chewers who snap their gum, and snifflers who keep on sniffling.

Above or below sea level, I'd hate to be cooped up for long with soup - schloopers lip-smackers, tooth-suckers and throat-clearers. As for characters who inundate an innocent hamburger with quarts of ketchup — they'd revolt me so fast, I'd die of malnutrition.

We've all heard of people drawing up lists of the ten books they'd take to a desert island, or the ten movie stars, but never before have I seen or made a list of people I wouldn't want to be cooped up in a sub with.

On the other hand how could anybody who mutinies against soup-schloopers, learn from folks who keep "schnorkel" in the language?

Wife of Anthony Eden in University Hospital

LONDON (INS) — Mrs. Anthony Eden, wife of the British Foreign Secretary and niece of Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill was admitted to University College Hospital in London last night.

The hospital refused to give any details of her illness, but reported today that she was "comfortable."

Mrs. Eden, the former Clarissa Churchill, entered the hospital shortly after seeing her husband and uncle leave for Washington.

Officials to Explain Capitol Molestings

WASHINGTON (INS)—Indignant Congressmen called top District of Columbia officials on the carpet today to explain complaints that police let teen-age hoodlums roam Washington city streets and molest citizens.

Rep. Henry O. Talle (R-Iowa), chairman of a District of Columbia subcommittee, called a meeting at which the officials will discuss Wednesday night's unprovoked attack—only three blocks from the Capitol—in which a gang stoned Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.)

Curtis, who escaped injury, was coming to the rescue of a Toledo, Ohio, visitor Frank Mitchell, who had been cornered by the gang.

When police arrived on the scene, Curtis said they told him nothing could be done and that such attacks were a usual occurrence in the neighborhood.

Thorne Mystery Still Unsolved

Police, Detectives and Private Investigators Are Baffled by Case

CHICAGO (INS) — How did 20-year-old Montgomery Ward Thorne heir to a two-million dollar fortune, die?

Was a woman in his apartment when the "poor little rich boy" drew his last breath?

The answer to these and other puzzling questions continued today to baffle police, coroner's detectives and private investigators who are probing one of the most mysterious deaths in Chicago's history.

Thorne, known to many women acquaintances by the raffish name of "Monty," was the great-grandson of the founder of Montgomery Ward and Co. mail order firm. He was found dead in his apartment on Chicago's Gold Coast last Saturday.

Veteran detectives said that the Thorne investigation reverses the usual trend of probing.

In most cases, they point out, investigation answers what questions are raised and lays to rest theory after theory until the case is closed.

A police official connected with the Thorne case said, however:

"This case is driving us batty. Everything we learn only seems to raise more questions."

Latest angle to the Thorne mystery involves two women who reportedly were seen using the telephone only a few feet away from Thorne's fourth-floor room (at 54 E. Scott St.) about 8 a. m. Saturday, about three hours after the estimated time the youthful heir died.

Oke Boschen, 33, a printer who lives on the fourth floor of the building in which Thorne died, told police he saw the women at the telephone when he returned from work. He said one of them was elderly and the other a young woman.

Boschen said he did not hear what was being said into the telephone and could not describe the women.

PORTRAIT OF A LIBERATOR—Workers rush to complete this mural of Venezuelan national hero Simon Bolivar before the country celebrates its Independence Day, July 5. The gigantic painting, 100 feet high, and 46 feet wide, will be placed in the center of Caracas' main plaza, El Silencio. Uruguayan muralist Teodoro Bource Herrera was commissioner to do the painting, which is in sections measuring four feet by six feet.

Rains Do $4,000,000 Damage to Muck Land

MUNITH (AP)— Damage to muck farm land as a result of heavy rains last week has been estimated by some 150 farmers along the Portage River to total four million dollars. Disaster funds will be asked from the Farmers Home Administration to cover damage in Jackson, Ingham and Livingston counties.

About 55 per cent of American families own their homes.

3 Youths Face Trial

IRON RIVER (AP) — Three 16-year-old youths were ordered held for Circuit Court trial on larceny charges after a preliminary hearing Thursday. The three are accused of taking more than $1,200 in a series of burglaries. Juvenile Court waived jurisdiction over the youths.

Deaf Snake Can 'Hear'

BOSTON (UP) — Don't shout at a snake in an effort to frighten it, the Boston Museum of Science advises, because reptiles are totally deaf. "But don't try to sneak up on him," a spokesman cautioned, "because he can 'hear' you coming from vibrations in the ground."

Guatemala Is Fed Up

Not in many years has a banana republic revolution stirred as much interest around the world as the going fracas in Guatemala. It's billed in top headlines on both sides of the Iron Curtain. On our side we figure it as a battle between pro-western Guatemalans and pro-Communist Guatemalans.

But it isn't quite that simple. Guatemala is a dirt-poor country of peasants torn by political factions. The faction now in power, which it gained by a revolution four years ago, was tempted by Russian gold. Its leaders aren't dedicated Communists. They're simple Latin politicians. But Moscow-trained Guatemalans wormed their way into key spots and had plenty of money, and no Latin politician can resist skilled manipulators who are well-heeled.

It is therefore silly to say that Guatemala's revolution is a battle between Communists and non-Communists. Few Guatemalans know the difference.

It's a battle between the ins, who have held office four years without helping the peasants, and the outs. The outs, if they win, may be just as susceptible to Moscow gold and Moscow-trained Guatemalan manipulators, as the ins.

What is more significant than which side is Red and which side is anti-Red is that the outs are introducing for the first time aerial bombing in a Latin revolution. They have a pint-size air force. If they win, they'll have set a new style for periodic Latin revolts. Such political ventures will become much more costly.

Basically, Guatemala's trouble is not so much a penetration of Reds into its government as a failure of the United States to show Guatemalans how to live off their land. We could do it. Until the Red trouble arose, however, we paid no attention to Guatemala. If the outs win, maybe we can start over in the right direction.

Mrs. Smith in Washington

The old political saw, "As Maine goes, so goes the Nation," has lost most of its teeth. No other State, for example, has followed Maine in sending a woman to the United States Senate.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith has just won renomination on the Republican ticket to her second term in the Senate. Her election in Maine's September 13 balloting is assured.

Mrs. Smith is a political widow. She first ran as a candidate to succeed her late husband as a Representative, and did so well that Maine sent her to the Senate six years ago.

Four years ago Senator Smith wrote and got a number of Senators to sign a "Declaration of Conscience." It was aimed at Congressional investigating committees that smeared unfriendly witnesses without substantial evidence to back the smear.

Mrs. Smith incurred the displeasure of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, who surmised that she included him in the investigators whose methods she did not approve. An odd business followed in which Senator Charles Potter of Michigan fired Robert L. Jones from his staff for giving out a statement which Potter disavowed. Jones turned out to be a protege of Senator McCarthy.

Jones then returned to Maine, where he was not a native, and ran against Mrs. Smith in the Republican primary. By that time the televised hearings had reduced Senator McCarthy to something less than a political asset and Jones soft-pedalled his McCarthy backing. In the final stages of the campaign Mrs. Smith made no bones about the McCarthy issue and won.

All of which seems to confirm Senator Homer Ferguson's decision not to invite Senator McCarthy into Michigan to help him win his November battle against the Democratic nominee.

Long Round?

That question about whether a Russian chess player benefited from a long "round," due to a faulty time clock, leaves the writer of this piece cold.

According to reports, Vassily Smyslov's time clock gave him an extra 35 minutes in his match with Samuel Reshevsky, No. 1 American player.

Now perhaps if you are a chess player, and if the most important thing in your life is who wins that international chess contest, then this time clock business may dwarf the little ruckus in Indochina and other current world events.

But to a lot of us, who move about occasionally during the periods we devote to recreation, another 35 minutes shouldn't mean a thing to a chess player. Thirty-five hours perhaps, or 35 days, but not just 35 minutes. After all, nothing much happens in a chess game in 35 minutes.

It is said that wisdom comes with age, but even if it does, most people grow older much faster than they grow wiser.

Another Six Miles

Daffynition

Lawn mower: What the old fashioned boy came out with when he entered the family garage.

Another six miles of that smooth-as-silk black top covering is being put on the Dixie Highway northwest of Pontiac. According to advices from

Charles M. Zeigler,

State Highway Commissioner, work starts today on a stretch of this length in Oakland County. It extends from the intersection of Tindall Road in Groveland Township to the Genesee County line. This will complete that covering on the Dixie between Pontiac and Flint with the exception of about three miles, between Bridge Lake Road and Tindall Road. It is to be completed within two months and will be done one side at a time, causing no detours.

Besides other damage done, recent heavy rains and winds have destroyed most of the beautiful peonies in the Pontiac area, right when they were at the height of their blooming. Rose bushes and other flowers also suffered.

In the coming Michigan Highway Safety Sunday, is hoping that Oakland County hasn't even one fatality. June 27 is the date.

In spite of all the high pressure propaganda for the so-called "popular music" on radio and television, a survey just completed by a national magazine shows that the singing of the "Lord's Prayer" and "I Believe" are the two most desired songs.

'What Happened to Water Works Crew in Perry Park?' Asks K. P. Dusenbury

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

What happened to Joe Gable and the water works crew? Almost a month ago they were in Perry Park making some connections for those new houses and after working like moles the crew pulled out and left the roads in a shambles.

I tried to contact Joe personally, to no avail, and left my request with his office girl. The holes are still there and Cameron is impassible.

Are the people of Perry Park undeserving? Doesn't their property conform to city standards? Why not give them their share of the city services.

If Joe Gable is too busy to inspect his workers, then I suggest we hire two superintendents or hire one who is more competent.

Americans Too Contented Summarizes an Observer

A lot of folks will disagree about Alger Hiss getting his pension which our country decided he was entitled to. Remember, the people of this country have a right to remove a person from office if they can prove he is unfit to hold office.

The people can do anything if they want to enough. There is a way to do all things but they have to be done by all the people. The administration the people chose knew what was going on but you don't blame a group of politicians.

It is the American people who fail their government by letting such things go on and on because they're contented just the way they are.

Look how the CIO developed and the AF of L, both powerful organizations with the support of millions of followers got what they wanted; well, politics by the people runs the same way.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Getting Along With Others Is Developed by 'Tooting' the Other Fellow's Horn

Aladdin's lamp had nothing on the magical "horn" strategy outlined below. You can stop household feuding almost instantly by using this new psychological technique. You can win friends and sweethearts. Many of my patients have nipped divorce in the bud by using this "horn". And it is a life preserver for star salesmen, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"But, Dr. Crane, they fight like cats and dogs," their worried mother protested unhappily.

"Each seems to think the other gets more favors from their Daddy and me, but that isn't true. We try to treat them alike.

"And they argue incessantly over who should go to the grocery store or who is due to carry out the garbage, etc.

"They also find fault with each other, and actually seem to delight in being caustic or critical of one another.

Alas, the behavior of Lois and Paul is but a preview of many marriages where husband and wife may even be 25 or 30 years old.

Youngsters in the home are excessively eager to feel important. Earlier this week I told you that everybody has a tattoo across his chest that reads: "I want to feel important."

And there are two ways to gain this feeling of importance. The first and instinctive reaction is to beat everybody else down below our own level.

That explains why it is natural to gossip and tell mean things about our neighbors. That's why children spontaneously tattle and point out flaws in each other.

This antagonism or daily family fighting is thus typical of juveniles, even in the best regulated families.

In my public addresses before more than 1,000,000 of you American high schoolers, I have told you that popularity depends on your skill in playing a certain musical instrument.

"Toot the other fellow's horn, instead of your own!" is my advice.

You laugh when I surprise you with that simple axiom of Applied Psychology, but it produces greater miracles than Aladdin's lamp or the "Open sesame" formula.

When you then toot the other fellow's horn with an honest compliment, you make him so happy and delighted, that soon he will awkwardly reach over and toot your horn with a bit of praise.

So you both get your horns tooted under this new and magical strategy. And now you like each other instead of quarreling.

Friendships and later romances will develop from this technique of tooting the other fellow's horn.

I helped start the family on the 30-day "Compliment Club" plan, in which you pay 3 honest compliments per day for 30 days without a break.

And I let Lois and Paul rate themselves on the new "Behavior Test for Teen-agers," which contains 100 items.

Send for this test, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. Use it at Sunday school or high school classes, for it helps show youth how to become emotionally mature.

Aunt Het

The way the crowd turned out for Tom's funeral, I don't care whether anybody comes to mine or not. It wasn't a tribute to anything but the fine weather.

David Lawrence Says:

Anthony Eden in Trouble Here in U. S. Over Policy

WASHINGTON — Anthony Eden, the British foreign secretary, is a very adroit diplomat, but he should have read that book about "How to Win Friends and Influence People" before he made his speech Wednesday night in the House of Commons, on the eve of his conferences with President Eisenhower.

For if a single address ever alienated more persons in a single country — and particularly in a national legislature — than did Eden's address as it was read by most of the members of the Congress of the United States, no one has ever called attention to such a one before.

Probably nobody will be more surprised than Eden to learn of this reaction. For the British leaders, like our own, usually have their eyes fixed on what their own constituency wants to hear and do not always take into account how their words might sound to persons overseas.

The difficulty is not personal—it is a matter of national differences.

The sad truth is that the popular sentiment in Great Britain is against firmness in dealing with the Communists and now leans toward making a deal with Moscow despite the tragic record of violated pledges and non-cooperation which has characterized the Soviet policy since the close of World War II.

It comes as a bit of a shock to the American sense of morality, if not to the principle of consistency in international affairs, to read such glowing tributes rendered by Eden to Chou En-lai, the premier of Red China and Foreign Minister Molotov of Soviet Russia on their work at the Geneva conference.

They note the studied omission of any reference to the U. S. secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who spent a considerable time with the British foreign secretary in the opening days of the conference trying to impress upon him the American viewpoint.

Also, it is depressing to find the foreign secretary brushing off altogether any mention of the terrible crime of the Red China government in committing a flagrant act of aggression in Korea, which was condemned by a formal resolution of the United Nations.

What Eden has forgotten is that an idealistic nation, known as the United States of America, sent its troops more than 5,000 miles to a distant battlefield in Korea, suffered casualties of more than 140,000 and is technically at war today with the Red Chinese aggressor.

But Eden nevertheless berates American diplomats for declining to take the blood-covered hands of the Red China premier in an enthusiastic fraternization at Geneva such as Eden accepted.

Eden is risking a great deal by his carelessness of speech, even though obviously he was trying to persuade a "peace at any price" Parliament in London that he was not coming to America to alter its policy of a deal with Moscow — something which seems to have taken hold of both the Conservative and the Labor party in Britain.

For what Eden is really doing—though he may not realize it — is telling the American people that the principle of collective security cannot be used in Southeast Asia unless the enemy agrees and that Red China, which has supported aggression in Indochina, is more worthy of his sympathetic attention than the viewpoint of the United States government.

This is the quick way to breed isolationism in America and to cut off congressional aid to allied governments, mistaken as both developments would be.

Public opinion, however, in America is influenced by just such things, and the speech of Eden cannot be erased by future statements couched in friendlier terms. In the end Eden did play a much more cordial tune.

"Everybody in this country," he said, "or almost everybody in it, believes that understanding between us, the British Commonwealth and the United States, is the foundation of world peace. It is in that spirit that we are asked to go across the Atlantic.

"I think the committee's message tonight (committee of the whole of the British Parliament) may be described as being 'Do all you can to have the best relations with the United States, but do not forget what the House of Commons wants you to do' — what our American friends might call a tough assignment."

It is truly a "tough assignment" to try to carry out the "peace at any price" policy of the British Parliament and to ask this country nevertheless to keep on drafting its sons to help protect British colonialism in Southeast Asia when there's trouble or to send American divisions overseas to fight the Communist enemy in Europe.

It will be realistically asked here why, if Eden has any evidence of a change in Moscow's evil purposes and policies of infiltration and deception, he did not reveal it to all the other diplomats who attended the Geneva conference. The fact is he has no such evidence.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

We're offering Bob Young the chance to grab the Long Island Sideswipe and Holstein R. R.

It runs from the information booth in Pennsylvania Station to the complaint department at Montauk Point. The upstate Democrats added the Holstein claiming it is the milk cow for the Pennsy.

Right now it is as bankrupt as a rain-maker in Hades. It is a very peculiar railroad. All sidings and no main line.

It taps the rich golf districts of Mineola, feeds the scrabble fields of the Hempsteads and saves many a weary portage between the swimming poools of Sands Point and Montauk.

Bob, you can run up a score on the Long Island. It travels through some mighty fine bill-boards.

Over 300,000 commuters use the Long Island every day. That's a softer touch than plush lining.

Governor Dewey says you can kick the fare twenty per cent on suspicion, the Interstate Commerce commission recommends twenty-five and the referee in bankruptcy is shilling for thirty-four. There's a bottle-neck with many a happy gurgle in it.

The State Legislature is willing to sweeten the pot with $58,000,000. That should get the fans working in the waiting rooms.

The Nassau County Democrats claim the Pennsy keeps the Long Island in a special pistol pocket. Mayor Wagner says New York City will lose $16,425,000 taxes in the next nine years. Bob, you can keep books like that on picnic plates.

The Long Island is a feeder for Macy's escalators. All it requires are 184 air-conditioned cabooses, 479 self-propelled electric cars and new wheels on the board of directors. The 300,000 passengers go with the plantation.

Bob, you rehabilitated the C and O; put the Norfolk and Western on time and grabbed the New York Central on the first bounce. If you have the itch for re-organizing railroads here's the chance to start from scratch.

Bob, over 300,000 commuters are looking for your nod in the old belfry. One if by land and two if by sea.

Expectant Mothers Need Iodin Ration for Their Own and Babies' Well Being

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The iodin ration has been a great help to my life since I began taking it about 10 years ago when I first discovered your . . . column, (writes a woman from the Great Lakes basin, where soil, food and drinking water are notoriously poor in iodin.

This region has been called the "goitre belt," but simple goitre, enlargement of neck just above breastbone, is not so common in school children today as it was 40 years ago in the Great Lakes area.

Most of the people of the Great Lakes region have somehow learned that every child or adult needs a daily ration of iodin.

Up until then (the correspondent continues) I was like "the tired college girl" you describe (in the pamphlet The Iodin Ration, available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope).

* * *

However, every time I became pregnant I would discontinue it for the duration, and consequently just dragged myself through five pregnancies, because the doctors here would not recommend it.

(The doctors there are not more backward than doctors are in other parts of the country—although I do believe a suitable daily intake of iodin would benefit them as much as it does other folks.)

During those 10 years (continues the correspondent) I ate one tablet a day. I am now two months in my sixth pregnancy and after six weeks without iodin I felt I couldn't go on dragging myself through my work without it.

* * *

(Lest some wag wise crack about the minimum requirement of iodin for good nutrition and the relation of good nutrition to fertility, let me say here a good many women who have been barren 10 or 15 years after marriage have conceived after they began taking a daily ration of iodin. In my opinion this may fairly be credited to improvement in health.)

I began taking the usual one tablet a day and felt no better (continues the correspondent). Now I am taking one with each meal and I feel equal to my problems again. Gratefully, (Mrs. G. R.)

One tablet a day (one tenth of a milligram — approximately 1-650th of a grain) represents the minimum daily requirement of iodin for child or adult. Nutrition authorities believe this is sufficient to prevent goitre.

No one needs iodin more than the expectant mother does, for her own well being and for the well being of her baby.

The doctor who does not "recommend" or permit an expectant mother to get an adequate daily ration of iodin is just—well, I don't believe any reputable physician will openly dispute what I have said here.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Review Church Proposal Again

Two Major Protestant Bodies May Merge Into United Church of Christ

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A worn, battle-scarred proposal for uniting two major Protestant bodies today took on new life by action of delegates of the nation's 6,000 Congregational Christian churches.

Two separate moves, one of them providing for steps toward a long-lacking denominational constitution, figured in brightening chances for eventual merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Although the plan originally had been put in storage for the present congregational convention, Dr. Charles C. Merrill, of Cambridge, Mass., head of a unity committee, said developments had changed the picture.

In a last-minute revised report, his committee yesterday recommended, and won thunderous approval from the delegates, that they reaffirm their "earnest desire" to move forward toward a "united fellowship."

They also renewed bygone instructions to the General Council Executive Committee to proceed with the plan in conferences with the Evangelical and Reformed Church next fall.

Union of the two bodies, bogged down for eight years by a running debate over the Congregationalists' constitutionally-undefined procedure, would form a single two - million - member United Church of Christ.

The spontaneous vote backing steps toward the merger was in sharp contrast to the preceding clash over the constitutional inquiry proposed by the General Council's Executive Committee.

At one point, Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, of Pontiac, Mich., accused the committee of an apparent "breach of faith," since it had said matters pertaining to the merger were domant for this session.

But Rev. Burton, a leader in a group opposing the merger plan, apologized indirectly after Mrs. Albert Buckner Coe, of Boston, said she resented the suggestion that "we are railroading something."

"I think it should be withdrawn," declared Mrs. Coe, wife of the convention's newly elected moderator.

Burton, grinning, clasped a floor microphone and said: "If it's simply a suggestion of railroading, I'm very delighted to withdraw it."

Although the denomination's representative top national body, its general council, has a working constitution, it does not apply directly to the individual churches. There's been no such document for 125 years.

Ex-Chief of Atom Commission:

Says U. S. Should Get In on A-Work Ground Floor

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

ANN ARBOR — Gordon Dean, former chief of the Atomic Energy Commission, believes there will be a rushing business in atomic power reactor construction in foreign countries in the next decade—and the United States ought to try to get in on the building job.

This would be a big help to American industry, he declared, but will be possible only if the United States removes present barriers to supplying information, materials and technical help in building and operating reactors designed for the production of atomic power.

Speaking before the final banquet session of the International Congress on Nuclear Engineering last night, Dean urged an exchange of information on peaceful use of the atom between friendly nations.

"Reactors are going to be built in the next 10 years in some 20 countries, of this I am sure," Dean told the group at the University of Michigan.

"But who is going to build them? I, for one, should like to see the United States building them or at least assisting in building them. If the United States does not play a part in this, others will. We have much knowledge but not a monopoly on that knowledge."

Earlier in the day Rep. Sterling Cole (R-NY) in a prepared speech, urged that the free nations of the world bypass Russia and form an international agency outside the United Nations to develop peacetime use of the atom.

Cole, chairman of the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, was detained in Washington by hearings on amendments to the Atomic Energy Act, and his address was given for him by a staff member, Kenneth Mansfield.

Cole said he was proposing the new International Atomic Energy Agency because of Russia's "eternal 'no' " to President Eisenhower's proposal of last December that a worldwide atomic pool for peaceful purposes be established under UN auspices.

He said the American government should start "immediate negotiations" with other free world nations toward establishing such an organization.

This International Atomic Energy Agency could be "a going concern" within a year, Cole continued.

And within two years, internationally staffed laboratories could be working on new peacetime uses of the atom, he predicted.

"I believe that three years from now," Cole said, "atomic reactors designed for medical therapy can be in existence, combatting cancer, in all the free regions of the world."

The meetings on nuclear engineering, sponsored at the University of Michigan by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, opened last Saturday evening and continued through last night. Some 1,100 physicists, chemists and nuclear engineers, including about 50 from foreign countries were in attendance.

Concurrently with the final day of the congress, the Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project, dedicated to research into peacetime use of the atom, presented a full day's program on its progress Thursday.

Dean Ralph A. Sawyer, director of the Phoenix project said of 90 research projects undertaken thus far, 28 have been brought to successful conclusion.

British Heir Apparent Fond of Fire Engines

SANDRINGHAM, England (INS) —Prince Charles, sturdy young heir to the British throne, is just like any other kid—he's crazy about fire engines.

Almost daily the 5-year-old Charles takes his young sister Princess Anne to the fire station on the Royal estate to play make-believe dashes to four-alarm outbreaks.

Blame Parents for Delinquency

Doctors Say Anti-Social Actions by Children Are Often Sanctioned

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A group of prominent child doctors today called upon all those responsible for the upbringing, education and health of children to join in a war against the growing menace of juvenile delinquency.

Child psychiatrists and pediatricians, holding a symposium in the closing day of the American Medical Associations's San Francisco convention, stressed teamwork among parents, teachers and physicians as essential to victory in the fight.

Some participants in the symposium also urged law enforcement agencies and officials to give more help in concerted efforts against child delinquency by revising some of their practices and procedures.

In probing the causes from which the problem stems, the "like father, like son" theme was sounded. Dr. Adelaide M. Johnson, associate professor of psychiatry at the Mayo Foundation in Rochester, Minn., said parents sometimes foster delinquency.

They do so, she explained, by unconsciously sanctioning anti-social actions of their children to gratify their own forbidden impulses.

"Our evidence," Dr. Johnson declared, "indicates that parents' unwitting sanction or indirect encouragement is a major cause of and the specific stimulus for such anti-social behavior as fire-setting, stealing, truancy and unacceptable sexuality displayed by young delinquents.

"A child's conscience is made, not born. Conscience develops through identifying with and mimicking of parents — especially in the first six or seven years of life. A rigid conscience about anti-social behavior is a great heritage parents can give a child."

THINK TWICE
BEFORE YOU PURCHASE ANY ARTHRITIS MEDICINE
Read these facts by Mrs. June Chapman, 3272 LaRue S.W., Grandville, Michigan, and judge for yourself why O-JIB-WA BITTERS is best for rheumatism and arthritis.

"I would have saved a lot of time, money and suffering if I had known about O-JIB-WA sooner. Nobody knows how terribly I suffered during the past five years. I had neuritis and rheumatism in my hips and legs and was right down in bed. I couldn't step on my feet for six weeks, so of course couldn't move about at all. I had such pains and cramps in my hips that I couldn't even get upstairs to bed, so had to sleep on the studio couch downstairs. Why the arthritis was so bad in my toes that I couldn't even wiggle them."

Mrs. Chapman

"I tried many things without results, even those tablets advertised highly on the radio and in the newspaper, but they brought no results whatsoever. I was discouraged, but had read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in our paper and decided to try it. I took this medicine for six weeks and now am entirely better. It sure did wonders for me, as I can walk and get around good again, and do all my own housework. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has greatly helped my brother-in-law also, so you can see why I think so highly of your medicine. Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I really feel great now and have lots of pep. I certainly recommend that all who suffer from rheumatism, neuritis and arthritis give this famous medicine a fair trial."

Miss Dahl and Actor Lex Barker were divorced nearly two years ago.

West Wrings Its Hands Over Weakened France

Editor's Note—In previous articles this week William L. Ryan has reported the story of the shaky French Empire as he found it in both Indochina and North Africa. In today's concluding article he returns to Paris and explores the explosive political situation in the nation which holds within itself many answers to the problems of Western unity.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

PARIS (AP) — French politics has taken a robust and proud nation and turned it into the weakest link in the West's defenses.

• • •

The troubles of the French Empire have become the woes of the Western world, while French politicians wring their hands and tumble from bad to worse internal dissension.

• • •

A piece of the Empire already has slipped away — many say by default — in Indochina, and Western defense plans must be revised. And as France turns her attention to the rest of her overseas territory, much of it boiling, many a Frenchman openly admits the decline of the great nation's power.

In Indochina, France stacked the cards against herself. She permitted no political organization which would fill the vacuum that might some day be left by French departure. Politically, all Viet Nam stands to be engulfed eventually by the Communists, whether the shooting war ends formally or not. Communism will have gobbled up another piece of real estate, largely by political means.

• • •

In North Africa, the meaning of the battle of Dien Bien Phu and the humiliation of France were not lost upon the Nationalist movements. Many forces were anxious to bring the message home to North Africa.

Tunis is in dangerous condition with an organized rebel force — its leaders' political leanings a matter of mystery — already in action and requiring the French to step up their military forces.

In Morocco, terror increases daily, much of it inspired by opportunists attempting to seize and take over the Nationalist cause.

In Algeria, older in the French framework and more solidly held after a century of occupation, Nationalists openly announce themselves as willing to wait for the time being. They frankly say France still has too much military power in Algeria, that they will not waste their manpower in futile gestures. But with each blow to French prestige, Algerian Nationalists grow more hopeful. And the Communist party is legal in Algeria, though outlawed in Tunis and Morocco, and has a grip on the largest section of the labor movement.

France faces the prospect of being able to remain in Tunis and Morocco only by force. It may take some time to develop, but the pattern of an Indochina could repeat itself.

Is there a way for France to find herself again? Some hope is being expressed here that new leadership will be more attuned to the will of the people, less splintered and less prey to minorify pressure on the extreme Left and Right.

• • •

It seems clear that the Geneva conference went according to Communist schedule so far as France was concerned. It was plain at the outset the Communists hoped to capitalize on French weariness with the Indochina War. They did. It was plain they hoped to cause the fall of the government of Premier Joseph Laniel so that it might be succeeded by one willing to deal with the Indochina Communists. The French government fell. The Communists then dangled some Geneva bait before the French to keep the Indochina phase of the conference alive and raise French hopes that the proper attitude on the part of a new government might bring a settlement.

• • •

As President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill meet in Washington to survey the wrecked hopes of Geneva, they have before them the picture of a problem ally, France, a keystone of Western defenses which conceivably could be pushed out of place by a strong nudge from the East. Already France's governmental paralysis has all but laid low the hopes of unity in a European Defense Community.

It HAD to Be a Lone Star Rattler, Texan Boasts

Highway Patrolman John Osmond cautioned motorists to drive carefully over a stretch of the highway where 100 degree heat had caused the pavement to raise a ridge nearly a foot high.

A Texan asked Osmond what happened.

"H'mm," said the Texan wryly, "must have been a Texas rattler."

Killer Welcomes Death

ATLANTA (UP) — John F. Corbin, found guilty on a murder charge carrying a mandatory death sentence, was asked by Judge Jesse M. Wood if he had anything to say. Corbin arose and announced calmly: "Yes, sir. Just a few minutes ago my mother asked me to pray. I did. And my prayer was answered. I got what I prayed for."

Coal Company Quits Operation

Economic Crisis Faces Hard Coal Region as Lehigh Ends Mining

LANSFORD, Pa. (AP)—The once-booming Panther Creek Valley faces the greatest economic crisis of its history today following an announcement that the Lehigh Coal and Navigatio Co. is suspending its anthracite operations.

Lehigh, third largest anthracite producer in the nation, is the principal source of employment for the some 40,000 residents of this Eastern Pennsylvania hard coal area.

Lehigh's board of managers decided yesterday at an emergency meeting in Philadelphia to liquidate its coal producing subsidiary—Lehigh Navigation Coal Co.—because a plan to step up production had met with opposition from some miners.

"This is the climax of years of heavy losses which we are no longer able to absorb," said Lehigh President C. M. Dodson in a statement announcing the shutdown.

Ironically, tomorrow the 5,000 employes of the subsidiary begin their annual 10-day vacation. Dodson said he hopes the company will be able to meet the $400,000 vacation payroll.

* * *

But as of June 30, Dodson said the serices of all LNC employes—including salaried workers—will be terminated. The parent firm plans to continue its profitable New England Railroad and other interests.

The apparent end of Lehigh Navigation Coal Co.—known only as "the company" to all residents of the valley—is but the latest of a long series of setbacks to the staggering anthracite region. The switch to oil and gas heaters in homes and the trend toward diesel locomotives has brought critical unemployment problems.

Yesterday's announcement didn't come as a complete surprise. Lehigh suspended operations last May 3 when it said it wanted to re-evaluate the firm's "excessively heavy financial losses."

NEW ASSIGNMENT—Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols will take command of the 33rd Air Division of the U.S. air defense command in July. At present, General Nuckols is chief information officer at NATO headquarters in France.

Upper Peninsula Gains Outlined

Economic Development of Past Year Described by Private Survey

HOUGHTON (AP)—A long list of economic gains for the Upper Peninsula during the past year was reported here yesterday to the Michigan Economic Development Commission.

The accomplishments came in the wake of a report by the Ebasco Co., which made a privately-financed study of the peninsula's opportunities.

Among them were listed:

1. Start of actual construction of the Mackinac Straits Bridge.
2. Establishment of programs at Michigan State College and in the copper country of training programs for resort operators and personnel.
3. Beginning of construction of Michigan Tech's ores research center for the benefit of low grade copper and iron ores.
4. Promise of television service by the end of the summer.
5. Improved ferry service between Frankfort and the Upper Peninsula.

Also mentioned were plans for construction of a bridge between the American and Canadian Soo's, a new 22,000-kilowatt power plant at Marquette, and tentative approval of a new $8,250,000 REA generating plant for the Gladstone-Escanaba area.

The commission heard from its Upper Peninsula advisory board that the peninsula still is trying to get natural gas and scheduled stop, east-west Canadian Airline service.

Editor Edwin J. Johnson of the Ironwood Globe said that "despite an edict of Congress 100 years ago the Upper Peninsula is not a part of Michigan other than politically."

He said that facetious remakrs often made that the peninsula "Should secede" actually embody a philosophy of the people. He added that economically speaking the Upper Peninsula should consider itself "a separate state."

Bellringers Sound Their Wares in City

NEW YORK (AP) — Any ringing in the ears around here for the next few days may be traced to the ninth annual convention of the American Bell Assn.

The conclave opened yesterday with 175 collectors bringing and ringing bells ranging from a 60-pound Indian job to a tiny pair of earring bells carved from tortoiseshell.

On display are elephant and monkey bells, camel, goat, cow and donkey bells, temple bells, dinner bells — in all shapes and sizes.

Identical Twins Both Get to Speak

CHICAGO (AP) — Lorraine and Elaine Katz, 16-year-old identical twins named valedictorians at Austin High School, each got a chance to give valedictory addresses at commencement exercises.

To enable the families and friends of the school's 511 graduates to be seated in the auditorium, the class was divided and diplomas distributed at two commencement programs. Lorraine gave her valedictory address Wednesday and Elaine spoke at last night's commencement.

NEW AMENDMENTS TO THE MICHIGAN EMPLOYMENT SECURITY LAW (Unemployment Compensation) GO INTO EFFECT JUNE 27, 1954

The interpretations of TWO SECTIONS of the statute are IN DISPUTE:

1. IS UNEMPLOYED WIFE OR HUSBAND A DEPENDENT?

The CIO and UAW-CIO believe the Legislature intended to provide that a dependent of a claimant was any unemployed person solely and principally supported by the claimant, including the claimant's unemployed husband or wife, and should be so considered in determining the amount of the benefit.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission has interpreted this section as excluding a husband or wife as a dependent.

2. ARE YOU ENTITLED TO FURTHER BENEFITS IF YOUR 20 WEEKS IS EXHAUSTED BEFORE JUNE 27?

The new law provides a maximum of 26 weeks of benefits as compared to 20 weeks under the old law.

The CIO and UAW-CIO hold that a person who has credit weeks which entitle him to more than 20 weeks (under the new law) and who has a benefit year which expires after June 27, 1954, is entitled to further benefits, even though he has exhausted the 20 weeks (under the old law) before June 27, 1954.

The attorney general has ruled that such an individual does not qualify for any extension of benefits.

The CIO and UAW-CIO are challenging both of these interpretations in the courts. We believe we can win.

WHAT YOU CAN and SHOULD DO

If either or both of these interpretations affect you, then this is what you should do:

1. If your benefits were exhausted before June 27, 1954, if your benefit year expires after that date, if you qualified for at least 20 weeks of benefits, and if you are still unemployed—

File a claim on your first hit day following June 27, 1954, requesting a determination of your benefit rights under the new law. If the Commission denies you additional weeks of benefits, be sure to file an appeal.*

2. If you are eligible for benefits after June 27, claim all dependents you have, including your unemployed wife or husband. The Commission will withhold the dependency allowance for a spouse and make a determination of this issue when it is finally decided in the courts. (The only money that will be held up is the allowance for the disputed dependent.)

By taking either or both of these steps you PROTECT YOUR RIGHTS and stand to collect additional moneys if the CIO and UAW-CIO interpretations are upheld by the courts.

Justice Department Studies Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell yesterday declined to say when the Justice Department might decide whether a law had been violated in the McCarthy-Army row, but he reported the department's study of the hearing transcript is making progress.

Members of the Senate subcommittee which investigated the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and top Army officials have questioned whether there should be prosecutions for (A) perjury or (B) possible misuse of secret government information.

McCarthy produced a document said to contain material from a secret FBI report, saying he got the paper from an Army Intelligence officer he refused to name.

Brownell told a news conference he has not yet received a report from the Army which is looking into the circumstances under which McCarthy got the document.

Union and Confederate forces counted 205,000 killed in action in the Civil War. During World War I the U. S. battle dead totaled 58,500.

MSC Chemistry Student Injured by Explosion

EAST LANSING (AP) — John F. Regan, an East Lansing graduate student in chemistry, was seriously injured yesterday in an explosion at the Michigan State College chemistry laboratory.

Dr. Laurence Quill, head of the MSC chemistry department, said Regan was working with a standard nitrogen compound when the blast occurred.

Regan suffered burns on the face and chest and cuts from flying glass. He was taken to the campus hospital.

4 Charge Jury Used Dictionary Illegally

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Four Richmonders, convicted in Federal District Court here last week on liquor violation charges, have asked for a new trial—on grounds the jury used a dictionary without authorization.

In separate motions for a new trial yesterday, the four—Paul Inman, Stewart E. Ragland, Junius Garlick and Thomas P. Miles—charged the jury that convicted them was permitted to see a dictionary during its deliberations without permission of the court or defense counsel.

Judge Sterling Hutcheson was told soon after the guilty verdict was rendered that the jurors used the dictionary to learn the definition of "conspiracy."

Car Tools, Luggage May Be Dangerous

SOUTH LEE, N. H. (UP) —Take it from Andrew J. White, director of Motor Vehicle Research, Inc., the tools, the luggage and the assorted items you carry in your automobile may prove more harmful to you in a collision than the crash itself.

White said that objects on the ledge above the back seat, groceries in the back and even loose tools in the luggage compartment are catapulted forward with crushing force when a car crashes at 40 to 50 miles per hour. Such innocent items as toys, cameras, the baby's bottle or books can be as destructive as bullets.

White spends a great deal of time finding these things out by actually crashing cars into objects and he lists such safety hints as: Lock your car doors, get rid of unfastened objects, discard unnecessary gadgets, lock the glove compartment, use a safety belt.

Oil consumption in the U. S. has increased by about 30 times since 1900.

'Group Should Work Anyway'

Mundt, Dworshak Want Committees Freed From Chairmen

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two Republicans on the Senate committee headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy proposed today that members of such groups be freed from domination by their chairmen.

The views were expressed by Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), and Henry C. Dworshak (R-Idaho), who stressed that they were not referring specifically to the Wisconsin Republican but to chairmen in general.

Mundt is second-ranking Republican on McCarthy's Government Operations Committee and replaced McCarthy as head of its investigations subcommittee for the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Dworshak also is on the full committee and took McCarthy's place as a member of the subcommittee during the hearings on the chairman's dispute with Pentagon officials.

Four of the investigations subcommittee's seven members have demanded a staff shakeup as a result of the McCarthy-Army hearings but no meeting can be called until McCarthy returns next week from a vacation.

Also pending is a question raised by the Pentagon's failure to grant security clearances to two members of the subcommittee's staff.

Mundt asked why yesterday and is understood to have received a reply from the Defense Department. However, he told newsmen that the press of other business would bar his special subcommittee from considering it until next week.

Insisting that he was referring to "an overall problem" and not McCarthy's current vacation trip, Mundt told newsmen he wants the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946 amended "to provide for the functioning of a committee in the absence of its chairman."

West Germans Asking Action

Want Ike and Churchill to Demand France Quit Stalling on EDC

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German officials say the Bonn government wants the Eisenhower-Churchill conference to set a time limit for France to act on the stalled European Defense Community treaty.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is said to feel the American and British chiefs should tell the French that failure to ratify the EDC treaty before the annual parliamentary recess starts in July would be considered by Washington and London as a flat rejection of the whole project.

Such action would clear the way for the Big Three powers and the Bonn government to work out some alternative plan for rearming West Germany for European defense if the French National Assembly does not ratify the treaty next month.

It might also lead to early restoration of sovereignty to Germany after nine years of Allied occupation. The Allied-West German peace contract giving Germany sovereignty is now linked to EDC and cannot become effective until that pact is ratified.

* * *

If EDC is scrapped there is no reason, in the official German view, for further withholding of German sovereignty.

* * *

Heinz Krekeler, West German ambassador to Washington, is believed to have told U.S. Secretary of State Dulles this week of Bonn's feeling that Eisenhower and Churchill should demand an early showdown on the EDC project.

Krekeler reportedly called Dulles' attention to recent declarations by Adenauer that West Germans cannot wait indefinitely for sovereignty and that France's failure to ratify EDC should not be allowed to block return of German independence.

American officials in Germany support the German view. Political unrest is increasing among Germans. American diplomats here have informed the State Department that the position of the Western powers here and of Adenauer has deteriorated and will continue to deteriorate at a rapid pace until German sovereignty is restored.

Army Making Tests of Alaska Land for Vehicles

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP) — Studies are being made of soils throughout the territory to determine the type of military vehicles that would be most practical in case of an overland invasion.

The study is called "trafficability of soils," and it is being made in such terrains as tundra, muskeg, permafrost, glacial and volcanic deposits.

The study is being conducted by the Waterways Experiment Station of Vicksburg, Miss., for the Army Engineers. Sterling J. Knight, chief of the station's trafficability of soils section, is in charge of the study.

Tests are being conducted in the areas near Barter Island, Naknek, Galena, Big Delta, and other remote places.

"Instruments and techniques have been developed which permit the measurement of the trafficability of a soil," Knight explained. "From these measurements a military commander may make the proper choice of vehicles for cross-country movement in any given tactical situation.

Navy Finally Pays 76-Year-Old Debt

The Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Accounts here revealed that it has cleared its books of a debt owed to the late John McCray, who did some gardening work at the Pensacola, Fla. Navy Yard between 1878 and 1882.

Details become vague in the intervening years, but McCray did not receive his money, though acts of Congress provided for it first in 1907 and again in 1935.

Finally, his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Priscilla Suarez Harris of Pensacola, with the help of lawyers, presented the bill for McCray's labor again. Another act of Congress was passed last year and now the Navy has paid the $290.14.

Fear Attack by 9,000 Reds

French Fortify Phu Ly in Indochina

AP Wirephoto

REINFORCEMENTS—A truckload of French and Vietnamese troops, en route to reinforce the garrison at Phu Ly, passes a French forces blockhouse outpost on the road south from the Indochina capital of Hanoi. Outposts in this delta area are attacked almost every night by Communist Vietminh forces, who also mine the roads. French officers at Phu Ly have estimated that the Red troops in their immediate vicinity number about 9,000.

REBUILDING—These natives, pressed into service by the French forces, rush the building of new fortifications and the strengthening of old bunkers inside the Phu Ly garrison in the delta area south of Hanoi. Communist Vietminh troops are in the hills across the nearby Day River and may select Phu Ly as the next point of open attack.

REPAIRS—Indochina natives work in the hot sun to fill in holes made by land mines on the Hanoi road near Phu Ly. French vehicles have to pick their way gingerly along these mined delta roads as they work to strengthen garrisons at vital points. In right background, beyond rice fields and the Day River, are the hills sheltering Red troops.

Unemployment Law to Change

Benefits Rise This Sunday

Maximum $42 a Week for 26 Weeks; About 750 Eligible Here

Administrative difficulties for the Michigan Employment Security Commission office here are anticipated when a new law raising unemployment benefits to a maximum of $42 weekly for 26 weeks goes into effect, according to branch manager Luther C. Olson.

The difficulties are expected from applications and individual explanations of the new law, which becomes effective Sunday, Olson said.

About 10,000 claimants are eligible throughout the state for additional benefits, Olson said, and approximately 750 will be eligible in Pontiac.

To handle the expected claims increase, five more persons have been hired to augment the branch office's staff according to Olson.

"Everybody whose claim is in good shape, whose benefit year has not expired, and who has not yet drawn his 20th check, will be able to request the extended benefits."

"Those who have 39 credit weeks (calendar weeks of employment) if they are qualified, in all other respects, may be eligible for an additional six payments," Olson said.

"Benefit rates have been raised from a minimum of $6 to $10 weekly and maximum from $27 to $30 for single men without dependents and from $35 to $42 for family men," according to Olson.

Italian Actress to Be Honored in Italy Sunday

MILAN (AP) — Great persons of the Italian stage will gather Sunday at a little northern Italian town to commemorate a tragedy 30 years ago in Pittsburgh, Pa.

They will honor the memory of Eleanora Duse, the great Italian actress.

She was 64 years old, but still at the height of her career when she went to Pittsburgh in 1924. She hoped her tour of the United States would earn her enough money to establish a new art theater in Italy.

Her death, of pneumonia on April 21, in the Schenley Hotel ended her plans, but her fame has not been forgotten.

A plaque was placed in the hotel. It said: "Eleanora Duse, world tragedian of the Italian Theater, in the glory of her immortal art, answered her last curtain in Pittsburgh, April 21 1924."

She is buried in the village of "Asolo, north of Venice, which "La Duse" chose as her home and called her "isle of silence." In this same village, the theatrical people of Italy will gather Sunday.

They will travel in a special train the route from Naples to Asolo by which the great actress' body arrived.

This will be the year's second commemoration. In the village of Vigevano, in Lombardy, on May 10, the mayor unveiled a bronze plaque in the Hotel of the Golden Cannon.

She was born there — or thereabouts — in 1859, the daughter of traveling actors.

Eleanora made her first stage appearance at 13. By the time she was in her midtwenties she was famous. Her acting for the time, was almost revolutionary; she scorned the arm flinging, melodramatics often seen then on the stage, and acted with restraint but great emotional power.

Some say her greatest role was that of Camille. She became known, near the end of the century, as Bernhardt's only rival. But in Paris, when Bernhardt saw "La Duse" as the Lady of the Camelias she led the applause for the Italian actress.

Two Counterfeiters Throw 'Money' Around

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two printers counterfeited U. S. currency, then lit cigarettes with $5 and $10 bills and tossed the "money" around in a bar. Some bills later showed up in Honolulu.

In placing the men on three years' probation, Federal Judge Michael J. Roche declared the weird gag was the "most nonsensical" thing he ever encountered.

NEW DELIVERY SETUP—Here is the first of the new truck haulaway trailers put into operation by Fleet Carrier Corp. and Truckaway Corp. to improve delivery of GMC Truck and Coach Division trucks to dealers across the nation. The trailers carry light and medium duty trucks. Tiny antennas mounted on the front of the trailers show the driver the height of his load and allow him to check doubtful clearances before proceedings.

Haulaway Truck Delivery Begins

Transportation Method Is Major Improvement Says Woodhouse

First use of haulaway trailers to transport new GMC light and medium duty trucks from the Pontiac factory to dealers was reported today by GMC Truck and Coach Division.

R. C. Woodhouse, GMC general truck sales manager, hailed the beginning of haulaway deliveries of trucks by Fleet Carrier Corps. and Truckaway Corp. as a "major step in improving deliveries to GMC dealers."

"The new service will add efficiency and flexibility to GMC delivery schedules from Pontiac," he explained. Previously this type of service had been in effect only at GMC's Oakland, Calif., assembly plant.

Fleet Carrier Corp., and Truckaway Corp., were granted haulaway authority to carry GMC trucks to practically all 48 states on May 6 by the Interstate Commerce Commission at the conclusion of a year-long hearing. GMC officials testified in support of the application.

The firms have purchased new tractor-trailer combinations for this truck haulaway work. Each specially-designed trailer will accommodate a maximum of four trucks.

STILL MISSING—This is a recent photo of Ernest Lacasse, 16, of 20666 Hollywood, Harper Woods, missing since June 13. He was reported last seen entering Stoney Lake near Oxford in a bathing suit, but land, water and air searches of the area have failed to disclose the whereabouts of the youth. Anyone who has seen this youth since June 13 is reuested to contact the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Pontiac.

Hospital Refutes Union Charge

Pontiac General Denies Intimidation Complaint of Local 100 Members

Members of Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees yesterday individually and collectively denied charges of anti-union tactics leveled by Local 100, Government and Civic Employes Organizing Committee, CIO, and the Oakland County CIO Council.

The unions made the charges in a resolution sent to the Pontiac City Commission after the Board of Trustees refused to meet with the union, and asked them to work with the House Administration Committee of the hospital.

Prior to the resolution, Local 100 Executive Secretary Mrs. Kathleen Henson had directed an 11-page letter to the trustees, citing 53 grievances of employes, settled and unsettled.

Mrs. Henson said yesterday that although most of the grievances had been settled, retaliation is common after an employe files a grievance with the union, and that 90 per cent of the grievances are from active union members.

"We have no responsibility for what one person says to another," Babcock said.

Trustee Board Chairman William Maybury said, "If there were ever a board of trustees less anti-union, I'd like to see them, and when you say your union is fighting for its life at the hospital, you slander the board, regardless of your intention. The board and Hospital Director Miss Lauretta Paul stand accused."

During detailed discussion of several of the 53 cases cited, board of trustees members and union representatives could not agree on whether there were anti - union tactics, intimidation, or mistreatment of employes.

3 County Road Stretches Blacktopped Under Plan

Oakland County Road Commission said today contractors have finished blacktopping parts of three county roads in the summer resurfacing program.

Contractors have spread smooth new asphalt over 10 Mile road from U.S.16 to Novi road; Eight Mile road from Pontiac Trail east two miles; and Big Beaver road from Adams road to Woodward avenue.

Workmen are now resurfacing three miles of 10 Mile road from U.S.24 to Southfield road and a mile of 9 Mile road from Greenfield to Northwestern.

The road commission will put new blacktop over 35 miles of roads this summer, the third season of an all-out drive to resurface old pavements before they grow too poor to save.

By the end of this summer the road commission will have spent $3,500,000 since 1952 to resurface some 140 miles of old concrete roads.

Three from Michigan to Take Unique Tour of Europe

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Michigan residents are included in a unique "Little Democracy" tour which will visit Europe starting next week.

They are Miss Loney Clinton, a Grand Rapids bacteriologist, and the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Irving Braden of Flint.

The group will leave New York next Monday — a party of 30 strangers of varying religious beliefs—for an unusual trip to Europe and the Holy Land to find a fuller view of each other—and the world.

They include Roman Catholics, Jews and Protestants. They come from the East, North, South and West. They are men and women, clergymen and laymen, businessmen and educators.

Organized by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, it's the first such interfaith journey of its kind.

"It's a new experiment in intergroup education," said Allyn Robinson, director of the NCCJ's Commission on Religious Organizations, who will be part of the traveling party.

Participants, unacquainted with each other before they gathered here, have many reasons for joining in the trip.

But generally, the purpose is to get a more blended understanding of fellow men.

"I feel it is necessary to enlarge our own horizons in a world grown smaller in distance," said the Rev. George McLeod Bryan, a Baptist, from Macon, Ga.

"Daily association with such a group can be an enriching experience," said the Rev. Wesley Goodson Nicholson, a Congregational Christian, from Eugene, Ore.

"I look forward to visting with religious leaders of various backgrounds and faiths," said Rabbi Albert M. Shulman, of South Bend, Ind.

Besides clergymen, the group includes people of such varied work as Mrs. W. H. Tipton Jr., an Arlington, Va., housewife; Miss Marion Newman, a Shawano, Wis., social worker; Daniel L. Brenner, a Kansas City lawyer, and Louis Blond, a Kansas City businessman.

May Postpone Trade Question

George Says Rejection of Plan Throws Issue Over to '55 Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the tariff-writing Senate Finance Committee and Sen. George (D-Ga;, its senior Democrat, agreed today that Senate rejection of a liberalized reciprocal trade agreements plan throws the whole controversial question of a broadened foreign trade policy over to the 1955 Congress.

The Senate yesterday rejected, 45-32, a Democratic move for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act with new powers to cut tariffs 15 per cent. Then it passed a straight one-year extension of the old law, 71-3.

• • •

On the key vote, six Democrats including George joined with the 39 Republicans present to defeat the Democratic-sponsored substitute. The "aye" votes were all from Democrats.

• • •

However, Millikin and George agreed in separate interviews today that the vote did not represent a true test on the recommendations of the Randall Commission on Foreign Economic Policy for some further reduction of tariff barriers.

President Eisenhower based his original foreign trade recommendations to Congress in March on the findings of the special commission headed by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co. Eisenhower called for the liberalized extension of reciprocal trade which the Democrats sponsored yesterday.

• • •

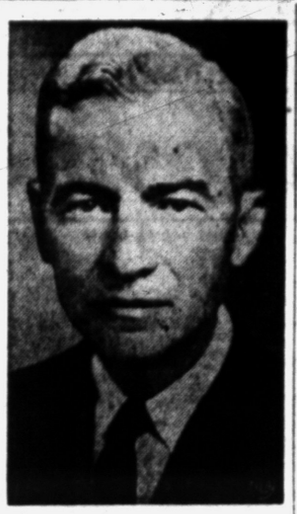
But later, in a letter made public in May, the President said he would go along with the one-year plan for the time being. This came after key House Republicans had balked on the broader proposal. Eisenhower said, however, he was not abandoning his program but was giving Congress an opportunity to study it further.

• • •

Millikin pledged there would be an exhaustive study of the Randall recommendations next year.

George took a similar attitude, saying he would support many of the proposals of the Randall Commission but only after there had been full hearings on the question next session.

The one-year extension bill must go back to the House for consideration of two minor Senate amendments. There was a chance the House would accept them and send the measure directly to the White House.



OFFERS ADVICE — Donald Quarles, assistant secretary of defense in charge of research and production, says Russia would be foolish to start a war. Following a tour of western research installations, he said the U.S. is now working on 8,000 separate weapon-improving projects, and expects to lead the weapons race as long as we do not become complacent.

Colorado Gets Air Academy

15,000 Acres Below Pikes Peak Chosen by Secretary Talbott

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West Point of the Air, training school for the young men who will man America's air armadas of the future, will be built near Colorado Springs, Colo.

Secretary of the Air Force Talbott announced his selection of that site late yesterday, ending years of bidding by rival sites which originally numbered in the hundreds but had been narrowed down to three by a special selection board.

• • •

Thus the Rocky Mountain country of the West gets the Air Force's counterpart of the two old service academies, both situated on the Atlantic seaboard: The Army's West Point, N. Y., and the Navy's Annapolis, Md.

Some 15,000 acres of rolling country which curves up to the wooded foothills of the Rocky Mountain chain dominated by 14,109-foot Pikes Peak will be the locale of the Air Force Academy, on which Congress has authorized the expenditure of 136 million dollars. The eventual cost may be much higher.

• • •

The academy is not expected to be ready for use before mid-1957. A temporary home will be established at Denver. Talbott's announcement did not say precisely where, but presumably it will be at Lowry Field, a big Air Force installation.

Talbott described the Colorado Springs site as "admirable for the establishment and development of the school," which he said is "destined to play an essential part in the future of our country."

Whether President Eisenhower had a choice in the final selection was not known. Talbott had quoted the President as saying some months ago that he had a choice, but would not tell where it was.

Herbert Hoover Says U.N. Okay

Has Contributed Much, but Security Must Be Worked Out Otherwise

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States, says former President Hoover, cannot rely on military alliances or "collective action" for permanent security because shifting interests cause a continuous realignment of forces.

"Our people should realize," Hoover said last night, "that with these alliances, groupings, and shiftings, the whole concept of preservation of peace by collective action through the United Nations has gone by the board, at least for the present."

* * *

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Merchandise Mart hall of fame, Hoover said "we should not conclude that the United Nations should be abolished. . . . It has contributed to the spread of scientific knowledge, to philanthropic and public health measures.

* * *

"These activities form a tenuous road to more unity of free nations and we should cling to any hope they may provide.

"Above all, we cannot abandon the ideal that some day, somehow, unity for peace can be built in the world. Nor can we abandon the hope that some time the free nations who believe in God will mobilize against Red atheism and human slavery.

"If inside or outside of the United Nations the free nations could unite, they have many potent moral, spiritual and even economic weapons at their disposal besides military alliances."

* * *

The former President, speaking to some 500 financiers, merchants and industrialists, said that "our difficulties are not limited to the Communists — they arise also from a lack of unity among the free nations in dealing with these difficulties."

* * *

Election of two famous American merchants to the Merchandise Mart hal lof fame was announced by Joseph P. Kennedy, owner of the Mart. They are the late Edward A. Filene, who was president of William Filene's Sons Co., Boston, and the late Julius Rosenwald, Chicago, who headed Sears Roebuck & Co. as president and board chairman from 1908 until his death in 1932.

Judgment Errors Called Crash Cause

CHICAGO (UP) — The Chicago Motor Club warns that errors in driver judgment, particularly under unfamiliar or adverse highway conditions, are the major factor in traffic accidents.

Charles M. Hayes, club president, said most drivers aren't aware of committing the five most dangerous errors:

1—Driving too fast for conditions, especially at night and in poor visibility.

2—Following too closely.

3—Failure to drive "ahead of oneself" — trying to anticipate emergencies and changing conditions.

4—Overtaking and passing under unfavorable conditions.

5—Failure to signal properly or otherwise committing discourtesy or unsportsmanlike driving.

Above all, Hayes said, a driver should yield the wheel to someone else—or simply not drive—if he is preoccupied, tired, worried, nervous or depressed.

U.S. Finds Itself in Much Hot Water

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—American families keep scrub-brush clean, if the amount of hot water they use is an indication. One study of the hot water consumption shows the average family uses 22,000 gallons in one year.

The study showed that the man of the house needs three and one-half gallons to shave; a hot shower takes about 25 per cent more hot water than a hot bath; and dishwashing by hand takes twice as much hot water as dishwashig by mchine.

These are some of the findings reported by Stephen D. Viers, an engineer, his wife and three children, who volunteered as a "living" laboratory for eight months, in a project sponsored by Ohio State University, two Pittsburgh industrial firms and a household magazine.

Letter Sent on Committemen

Defense Department Tells Why 2 Didn't Get Security Clearance

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department has told Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee why it has not cleared two subcommittee employes to handle secret documents, it was disclosed today.

The Pentagon stated its position in a letter to Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the subcommittee for the Army-McCarthy hearings which ended last week. Mundt said he would make no announcement until the subcommittee considers the letter in a closed meeting next week.

Mundt said he had not read the letter which he received only late Thursday. But he confirmed that two employes had failed to get Defense Department security clearance. He did not identify them.

The South Dakotan also told reporters he would recommend action at next week's meeting on the two employes. But since the subcommittee under Mundt has no jurisdiction over the regular staff it could presumably only suggest the firing or barring from secret files of the two uncleared staff members.

Democrats served notice last week they would press for a house cleaning of the regular staff because of the failure of the two to get security clearance and alleged threats to Democratic senators on the subcommittee.

Strong Japan Called Key to Defense of West Pacific

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

President Eisenhower has pointed up sharply the fact that Japan is the key to the defense of the Western Pacific.

If Japan fell under the domination of the Kremlin, the President said in his speech Tuesday night, the Pacific would become a Communist lake.

But Mr. Eisenhower was speaking only of possibilities — of what might happen if the United States failed to help Japan make a living.

Actually, with American help, there is hope the Japan may become a bastion that will strengthen the position of the free world throughout East Asia.

Japanese rearmament is just starting. Many Japanese oppose it. They do not want to be drawn into another war. But the people as a whole realize that they must rearm, if only in selfprotection.

It seems certain that as Japanese rearmament advances, the threat of Communist aggression in East Asia will start gradually to diminish.

Japan has signed a mutual defense pact with the United States. On July 1, its new national defense law goes into effect. On that day, the two branches of the national police force will be merged. This national defense force, of about 137,000 men, will be the nucleus of a new army. Japan also will have a limited air force and a small navy.

Only one week ago, the National Safety Board appointed chiefs of staff for the army, air force and navy. They will assume their posts on July 1.

It was disclosed earlier this week that the United States High Command is making plans to have Japanese troops take over the defense of the northern island of Hokkaido. The takeover, from troops of the American 1st Cavalry Division and other units, may even be made this summer according to Tokyo reports.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida announced Tuesday that he would ask for American aid in building a 1,000-mile military highway running the length of Japan's main island, Honshu.

The United States is building up Japanese armament industries by giving as many arms orders as possible to Japanese factories.

It is natural that peoples of the Far East who have felt Japanese aggression are somewhat wary of the rearmament.

President Syngman Rhee of South Korea would like to see Japan kept down.

But to most people, the menace of communism is greater than the possible future menace of rearmed Japan. This feeling has spread even to the Chinese Nationalist government, which fought Japan so bitterly for years. O. K. Yui, the new Nationalist premier, told the United Press in Taipeh, Formosa, last weekend that Japan must be included in a Far Eastern Anti-Communist alliance.

"Historically, geographically and strategically, Japan is essential," Yui said.

Man Goes Through Life With Only One Name

ROLLINSFORD, N. H. (UP) — Take it from Tifft, you don't need a first name.

This 75-year-old retired Brooklyn, N. Y., lumber dealer says he's always got along very nicely as just plain Tifft.

"My father abhorred his first name—Alanson—and went through life using his middle name—Herbert," explained Tifft.

"He so thoroughly disliked his first name that he didn't give me any. And I never saw fit to adopt one."

July 6 Is Deadline for Vote Registration

City Clerk Ada R. Evans warned residents today that July 6 is the last day to register for the Aug. 3 primary elections.

The clerk's office will be closed July 5, due to the holiday. Residents who have not voted in the past four years, who have moved to Pontiac, or have changed their address within the city should register or change their addresses, she said.

Six months residence in the state and 30 days in the city, in addition to U. S. citizenship, are the requirements.

New Clocks Make Every Minute Count

It's Time for Decoration

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Clocks like these are large, 18 and 20 inches in diamater, and make every minute count toward their good looks.

They're being introduced this week in the home furnishings fashion previews for fall in Chicago and Grand Rapids, and are the ideas of top interior designer Everett Brown.

The pewter-finished zodiac clock shows wall through its rim margin and has signs of the zodiac in a darker shade of one of several colors against a lighter shade of the same color.

'Please Do Not Disturb' Is Proper

Woman May Use Sign to Discourage Visitors

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Will you please give me your opinion of putting a 'Please do not disturb' sign on my door when I am too busy to receive visitors?

"Several of my neighbors have nothing else to do but spend their afternoons visiting, and on several occasions when I have been particularly busy, these visits have been very disturbing."

Answer: I see nothing rude in putting such a sign on your door because it is not directed to any one person and means that you are too busy to see even those you care most for.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer the following questions: (1) How much should one leave for the maid service when staying in a hotel for a night or two: When staying in a resort hotel for a week or two?

(2) Is it necessary to give it to the maid who is very often not anywhere in sight?

Answer: (1) This is an unanswerable question because the rate is measured entirely by the type of hotel you stay in and the amount of service that has been given you. Ten per cent of your room bill would be normal.

(2) This should be left at the desk in a sealed envelope with "For the chambermaid of Room —" written on it.

Dear Mrs. Post: Many of my friends leave the cellophane covering on a lampshade to keep it from becoming soiled. Will you please tell me if this is in order after the lampshade has been put to use in one's house?

Answer: Unless you live in an unusually sooty locality, there is no excuse for leaving the cellophane covers on.

Dear Mrs. Post: May a so-called evening bag be carried in the evening if one is not in formal evening dress?

Answer: You can carry it with anything that could be called an afternoon or evening dress. Certainly not with a skirt and shirtwaist.

Make Beds Faster

Save steps in the bedroom by making one side of the bed entirely before moving around to do the other side.

It's a courteous gesture to thank one's hostess for an overnight or weekend visit with a gift. One should select a gift that shows thoughtfulness, such as fragrance product which is pretty, practical and personal. This gift set is an attractive and inexpensive way to say "Thank you."

Accept Own Weakness First

Don't 'Forgive' Enemies Unless Feeling Is Genuine

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

This column recently discussed the problem of a working mother who was being treated to deliberate and consistent contempt by a person in her office.

She violently resented it, but pretended she didn't mind it. I suggested that she stop smiling at it and making overtures of false friendliness.

A reader has rebuked this suggestion. She writes me, "Our Lord told us to forgive our enemies. Who are you to tell us to deny them this forgiveness?"

He did indeed ask us to forgive our enemies. However, in my copy of the Lord's Prayer, I find myself asked to establish my own innocence at the same time that I try to acknowledge it in my neighbor.

The sentence reads "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us."

Unless we can reclaim our own goodness from the enemy who has tried to steal it, our "forgiveness" of him is apt to be evasiveness, not forgiveness.

We absolve him, not because his contempt has lost its power to impress us, but because it scares us. By "forgiving" him, we can dismiss from our minds the whole uncomfortable problem of other people's evil opinions of us.

This is the kind of "forgiveness" that has driven the working mother of whom I wrote into a state of anxiety.

In one part of her letter she wrote, "Always when people have hurt me, I've told myself that I forgave them. No, I know that I haven't, but just went on hating them. . . ."

This is the point at which I should postpone the forgiveness of others to take care of my own. Having accumulated so much resentment, I would stop straining for the heights of spiritual power and undertake the humble work of accepting myself as a person who is not quite ready for them.

I should begin the struggle to outgrow my horror of my unspiritual feelings — horror we develop by living with irreverent people. Without any respect for Christlike love, such people often demand it from children who are years away from it.

Angrily or coaxingly, they say, "Tell Sister you forgive her for eating your candy." And when it's been said, they relax, convinced that they've taught a lesson in Christlike love.

The fact is, they've taught one in emotional dishonesty and the abuse of holy words.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

French Mountain Village Would Be Fun to Revisit

A group of us were lounging on the stone terrace watching the mountains change from blue to lavender when somebody suddenly asked: "If you were picking just one place you'd been to go back to, what would it be?"

MISS McBRIDE

One woman replied, "Good Harbor Beach in Gloucester, Mass., where I went with my aunts, uncles and cousins every summer of my life until I was 7 or 8. There were cottages, an old inn and an island we walked out to at low tide.

"I remember one summer H. B. Warner, then a silent picture star, wore a different bathing suit every day and the wife of Boss Croker of Tammany Hall, an Indian princess, took me on her knee and told me stories of Ireland."

Someone else voted for Carmel-by-the-Sea in California with its rugged coastline and strange misshapen trees clinging to the rocks. I thought at once of Gavarnie, a village in the high Pyrenees of France near the Spanish border.

One summer I drove there from Paris with my friend Nicole along tortuously winding mountain roads between rushing mountain streams foaming and frothing. Little houses with thatched roofs hung like Christmas toys on the mountain sides and women were market-bound on donkeys with baskets of butter and squawking chickens attached.

As we went higher and higher, the cows and goats grazing on the mountain sides looked as if at any moment they might lose their footing and go plunging down to the depths. Every now and then a mountain torrent would gush out from the side of the steep gray rocks and soon we saw snow on the peaks.

When the car could go no farther, I boarded Florine, a donkey, for the final trek. Florine was a tease. Her diabolical scheme was to put one foot delicately over a jagged edge in order to hear me scream. Nikki rode a donkey named Pom Pom, who was also a wag and inclined to choose the most hazardous spot on which to pause and gaze at the cloud and snow-covered mountains.

The winding path was thick with mountain forget - me - nots and boutons d'or. Crisp air blew against our cheeks. We got off the donkeys to make snowballs and pelt one another. We laughed a lot, and sang, a little drunk on the clear air.

At the restaurant on top, the plump proprietress built a fire of fragrant moutain wood that crackled as we warmed our hands. Soon the good smells of dinner floated from the big kitchen where crusty French bread was baking in an old brick oven.

We ate a prodigious meal—fish and sausage with the crusty bread, a fine ham omelet seasoned with mountain herbs, a piece of mountain venison, flesh of the lizard, and a wondrous dessert of mountain berries and cake.

Queerly enough, I can't remember Florien playing pranks on the way down. Perhaps she knew that our adventure was over.

Clasp Hook Handy

When baby reaches the stage where he won't stay quiet in his carriage, don't attempt to put packages into the front of the carriage. Instead, when going shopping, fasten a good - size clasp hook to the carriage frame with picture wire. It will hold your shopping bag so baby won't be able to get at its contents.

Strategy Best

If baby balks at cereal and cries at supper time for his bottle, use strategy to get him into the cereal routine. Offer him a spoonful of something he loves, such as fruit, then a spoonful of the cereal. Change to two spoonfuls of cereal and one of fruit after a few feedings. By the end of the week, baby ought to be fully accustomed to the new food.

Fairway Golf League Honors Originator

Dorothy Pritchard Recalls Early Days

"Dorothy Pritchard Day" was observed Thursday by Fairway Golf League when members gathered at Pontiac Country Club for breakfast and golf.

Members explain that Mrs. Pritchard helped originate the league in 1933. She is the only charter member still playing in the league.

Mrs. Pritchard presented a brief outline of the league's history. She enhanced her talk with anecdotes that dealt with the group's early trials and problems. In reminiscing she said that members used to play nine holes of golf for only $.25.

In explaining the club's name, she said that it was thought up by Mrs. Ross DeBolt, a former member who pointed out that it describes the club's policy.

The honoree was presented with a humorous gift representing her original golf shoes "cast in bronze" and then another gift to commemorate the occasion.

Arrangements for Thursday's affair were made by Mrs. John Shoemaker. She was assisted by Mrs. Jack Bender, Mrs. Don Q. Breen, Mrs. Robert Hendry, Mrs. John Plassey and Mrs. Roy Perry.

The guest list included Mrs. Michael Frank, Mrs. William Bull, Mrs. Robert Bradley and Mrs. Robert Taft.

Mrs. Fred Foster has been appointed social chairman for the annual husbands party to be held July 25. Mrs. George Miller is general chairman of this coming event.

But Snack Debt Is Ridiculous

Girl Should Return Presents of Value

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: After going out with this fellow for five months I found out I didn't like him and didn't want to see him any more. He had given me gifts, among them a TV chair.

"Now he wants the money back for everything he gave me, even the food he bought when we went out. I haven't the money to give him, but do you think I should give him back the chair?"

His attitude makes it impossible for you to do anything else but. By all means give him back the chair, together with any and all gifts that have any value.

But his demand that you pay him back for the food he bought you is ridiculous and unreasonable. That debt is offset by the pleasure you gave him by going out on those dates with him.

Make a big-hearted gesture in insisting that he keep any gifts you might have given to him. Tell him you'd have no use for such masculine merchandise and, besides, you bought them and gave them to him with no intention of asking to have them back.

It's unfortunate that your relationship should break up on such an unhappy note. But he does sound miffed, hurt and furious. Were I you, I wouldn't take anything he says in such a mood to seriously.

Return his gifts graciously, add that it's impossible to return anything else, and top it off with a sincere regret that your friendship must end like this.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend's father received an invitation to a wedding. Would it be proper for me to go to the wedding with them if there was no mention of me in the invitation?"

Your girl friend may not be in the habit of going to any sort of social event these days without you but that is no excuse for you to crash any party to which you aren't specially invited.

Unless it's one of those weddings where everybody in town is welcome to come, and such news has been widely circulated, your girl friend had better go with her family and leave you out.

Wedding guest lists are carefully compiled and refreshments are prepared accordingly. It just doesn't do to have strange faces popping up unexpectedly. Even more so if the strange face doesn't know the key figures but is just taken along by a guest.

If the bride and your girl's family are intimate friends, it's imaginable that your girl friend might call up and ask permission to bring you with her.

But a wedding is not an occasion that necessitates a girl's having a date. She could very well go with her father. So just for the sake of making your girl friend feel comfortable, don't make a real social blunder.

Crispy Mix Is Topping for Sundaes

Mrs. Orlando Fink Uses Cereal, Nuts in Intriguing Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When you serve ice cream over the weekend, top it with an interesting Butter Crisp Mixture, as suggested by Mrs. Orlando Fink. We think your family will call for a repeat performance of this specialty.

A homemaker who enjoys sewing, Mrs. Fink looks forward to visits with her five grandchildren who lives in neighboring cities. She also is a member of the Newcomers Club and the Literary Club.

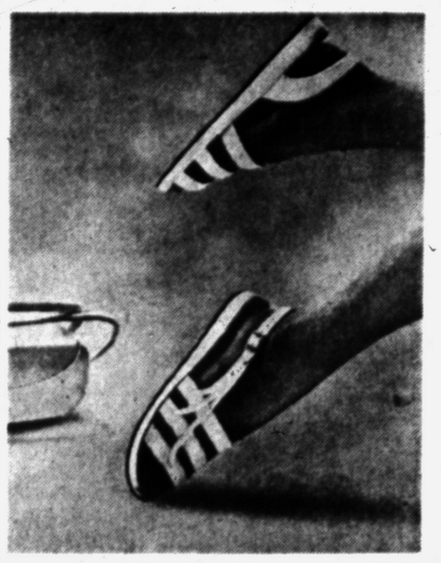
BUTTER CRISP MIXTURE

By Mrs. Orlando Fink

1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
¼ cup finely crushed cornflakes
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup chopped nutmeats

Blend all ingredients together, place in shallow pan. Bake in 375 oven for 10 minutes, stirring several times. Makes enough topping to crumble over 8 sundaes.

Steaks won't curl in broiling if you cut the outer fat at one-inch intervals.



Cool, cool barefoot sandals look just right with lovely crisp cottons. The wonderful foam rubber soles are delightfully refreshing.

Job-Hunting 'Pull' Is Mixed Blessing

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many people who are job-hunting feel that contacts are everything. If you know the right people, everything is a cinch. If you don't, you might just as well give up the ghost.

So they go about their job-hunting campaign half-heartedly, sloppily and lazily, and when they don't get the job, they mutter bitterly: "It isn't what you know, it's who you know."

It is perfectly true that in a handful of cases people do snare the right job through personal contacts, or get hired because Daddy is a friend of the president. But this is frequently a mixed blessing.

In the first place, you won't keep the job just because you know some of the top brass.

Businesses are run for profit and if you, as a worker, do not contribute your salary's worth, you will soon be out of a job again, no matter how illustrious your "contact" was.

In the second place, sometimes you will find that it is the kiss of death to be hired because of "contacts."

The secretary who gets, right out of school, a top secretarial job to an officer of the company, because her father has friends there, is going to have a rough time.

The other girls, who got in by honest means, are going to make it pretty unpleasant for her.

Moreover, having skipped over the lowly jobs, she will have great gaps in her knowledge and may make grave mistakes which will get her fired.

So, even the handful of beginners who get their jobs through "who they know" are not as lucky, in the long run, as they may seem.

Fortunately, the overwhelming number of young people get their jobs on their own. They do it by knowing what kind of job they want, preparing a really neat and good resume, getting a list of potential employers, firms which have the kind of job they want, and going after them seriously and industriously.

Before they have an interview, they do the necessary research so they know something about the company.

And their intelligence and persistence pays off — they get hired, on their own, and start out with the respect of their co-workers.

If you find yourself, after a disappointing job-hunting campaign, muttering, "It isn't what you know, it's who you know," better examine your techniques and find out what you're doing wrong, and correct it.

Because, as the saying goes, you have no one to blame but yourself.

Try It

Make Nature Showcase

I do hope that many of you will have a chance to go to a summer camp this year. It is fun to live with campers your own age and to learn more about the out-of-doors. Here is an idea which you can take to your nature counselor.

You will need a good-looking heavy box for your "showcase." This can be made from scrap wood or perhaps you will be able to find a wooden box which is not being used.

Sand it well, then give it several coats of paint on the inside using white since things show up well against it. Paint the outside some dark color.

This can be hunt on the outside of the camp museum, but a metal sign will be needed for it. Letter the sign with "What Is It?" A cardboard sign will be fine for inside.

Change the display twice a week, putting in unusual things. The campers will have fun learning new nature displays.

You can make a game of this by seeing who is the first person to see and identify each new display. The name of this person might be read to the entire group.

Tact consists in being able to lie about others the way you would like to have them lie about you.

Tips Given on Porch Screening

By HUBBARD COBB

Last year about this time we spent a good many pleasant days sitting in the shade, sipping a cool drink and watching people screen in terraces and breezeways.

This goes under the general heading of "research" and is darn nice work. Anyway, we picked up a lot of valuable tips on this general subject and so we'll pass them on to you.

First, the base of the screen frame that is going to rest on the masonry floor should be well treated with a preservative to prevent it from being damaged by decay or insect.

You should also make some sort of opening in this base to allow water that might get on the floor to drain off. This can be done by drilling or cutting small holes in the base and then covering these holes with little pieces of screening to keep out the insects.

If you plan to have an outside screen door to the screened terrace, try to locate it as close to a wall of the house or garage as possible. If this can't be done, place it as near a corner of the screened wall as you can.

The reason for all this is that if you place a door smack in the middle of a large screened area, the framework for the screening will have to be pretty heavy to stand the strain of the door.

In this day and age of non-corrosive screening, it hardly pays to spend the time and money making frames for the screens that can be removed in the winter.

If the screening is properly installed and is non-corrosive, it should last for 10 years or so even when it's exposed to the weather all year around.

It's a wise idea to have a horizontal strip of wood about chair height running around all screened portions. This will prevent someone backing a chair up and damaging the screening.

Be sure to paint the framework before you apply the screening. After the screening is in place, trying to paint all the framework is very difficult.

Use non-corrosive nails and tacks to apply the screening.

Plastic Covers Keep Away Dust

If you figure it up, your household equipment probably would add up to the biggest investment the family budget is called on to make. So it's common sense to keep it dust-free and in perfect condition.

This is easy to do with plastic covers designed and tailored specifically for individual pieces: for electric blenders, toasters, mixers, roasters, even washing machines.

After all, you wash off your equipment after each use, so why not keep it that clean until the next time you need it? Think of the labor - saving, as well as the longer life, it assures your equipment. Even if you keep various pieces in closed cabinets, dust does seep in.

So an investment in washable dust-covers is sound insurance — new ones made of nylon and coated with plastic are inexpensive and swab clean with a soapy cloth.

IF full figure—

Mrs. F. F.—No woman wants a thick mid-section. Leave gathers to the young, slim figure. By using waistline simplicity, you can have the young hemline flare. Dainty hand-blocked flower print on checked gingham is interesting.

Irene Dunne Finds Flimsy Box Not Enough

Don't You Make Big Packing Blunder

These vacation days practically every girl is thinking about fashion in terms of suitcases. The first question about a dress you buy in June is not "Is it pretty?", but "Will it pack?".

This "first question" is being asked repeatedly in Hollywood by stars on the brink of vacation jaunts. And many of them have sad tales to tell about dresses they were assured last year would pack — and didn't.

So here follows, for your edification, a mournful chronicle of one packing error of a celebrated lady — Irene Dunne. See that you don't do likewise.

Irene says, "I can laugh about it now — but believe me, I couldn't last February. I made a trip to Brazil to represent the United States at the great Motion Picture festival there. Naturally, since I was a kind of ambassador for my profession, I wanted to look as well as possible.

"My first appearance was to be at a great ball, which required a very gala dress. The dress I wanted to wear was an enormous confection of white chiffon and organdy — seemingly very simple, but actually a thing of tremendous yardage. So I decided to take it not in my suitcase, but in the beautifully packed cardboard box in which Don Loper had delivered it to me. Well, that box was never intended as luggage — sturdy as it seemed — and by the time it had gone through three baggage transfers — from train to plane to hotel — it was crushed flat and the dress was unrecognizable.

"And there I was, with furs and my heirloom diamonds — and a tattered rag to put with them. Miraculously, Don Loper managed to fly a replacement down to me in time, and later he restored the original. But when he returned it to me — he sent it in a steamer trunk!"

Morale: don't pack in receptacles not intended for transit unless you have Don Loper waiting in your local airport wth wardrobe replacements.

Men's Separates Crisply Elegant

This year, men's summer separates can be as crisply elegant as summer separates are supposed to be—and easy to keep spotlessly fresh. A new blend of Dacron and fine Irish linen makes this possible.

The linen supplies the well-groomed line, while the Dacron supplies the wrinkle-resistance — making both jacket and trousers completely washable in warm soapsuds and rinses.

If washed by machine, the suit can go through the regular cycle, but should not be spun-dry or put through the wringer. If washed by hand, it should be squeezed gently through suds and rises until clean.

Especially soiled spots, such as collar or cuffs, can be pre-scrubbed gently with a well-soaped soft brush.

After the final rinse, the jacket should be arranged on a padded hanger and the trousers should be hung by their cuffs from a clamp type hanger to drip dr.

Collar, lapels, or trouser cuffs may need a touch-up press job. Otherwise no ironing is needed.

Slender Waistline Top Style Feature

A slender waistline has become more important than a pretty face to the average American woman, Joseph Halpert, well known fashion authority, says designers are pressured by store buyers and the public to make the tiny waistline a feature of every season's clothes, regardless of skirt lengths, sleeves or other aspects of the silhouette.

He added: "But both men and women expect clothes to emphasize slimness above everything else. Most women would far rather be noted for a slender figure than for a cover-girl face."

Ladies Aid Gathers

The Lyle drive home of Mrs. Percy Blynn was the setting for the Thursday meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Peter Niemi assisted the hostess and Mrs. Helene Lamond gave devotions.

Little Gals Will Look Like Mom in New Clothes

Fashion will be a family affair this summer. Little girls' cottons follow the styles worn by the grownups.

Squaw dresses are a typical example. They are expected to prove as important in children's as in women's fashions. There is hardly a summer collection which fails to offer its own version of the Indian-girl look.

Most squaw outfits feature billowing, three-tiered skirts. Some have separate blouses for mixing and matching with other outfits.

Mother-daughter and big-and-little sister combinations also hold the spotlight this season. Wrinkle-resistant cottons are the preferred fabrics in these matching dresses and playclothes.

Cotton knits that look like seersucker, woven terry and mesh are featured for little girls and boys in shirts and playsuits. These versatile knits are easy to wash and require no ironing.

Baby Easily Tired by Hand-Holders

It doesn't take rugged play to tire a child. Having his hand held high when walking with an adult will prove very fatiguing after five minutes.

Yet many people think that the toddler who protests is being willful. The child will feel much better if allowed to run, skip and jump as he walks. A harness can be used to keep him in check.

Post 12 voted on a change in meeting dates to the first and third Wednesdays in each month, to be effective in September.

India, Red China Leaders Confer

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Communist Premier of 500 million Chinese and the Prime Minister of Democratic India's 350 millions opened a weekend of talks in New Delhi today which could change the history of Asia.

Prime Minister Nehru greeted Red China's Chou En-lai with a red carpet reception on his arrival at the capital's Palam Airfield. The Indian Communist party politburo ordered "peace" demonstrations throughout Chou's three-day visit, but a Red-organized cheering section could arouse only feeble enthusiasm from the airport crowd of about 2,500 persons.

The meeting of Asia's two powerful government chiefs came as a climax to months of East-West tension in which India, trying to play a neutral role, appeared drawn closer and closer to her powerful Communist neighbor.

* * *

Chou's dramatic flight from the Geneva conference to meet Nehru appeared a direct challenge to draw world attention from the Washington conference this weekend of Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower.

* * *

Advance announcements said Korea and Indochina would be the main topics discussed here.

Observers predicted Chou would wage a strong campaign to pull Nehru further from neutrality into the "Asia for Asians" circle he called for at Geneva.

"May the friendship between China and India develop with each passing day," said Chou in a statement he read in Chinese on arrival at the airport. "May the unity of the peoples of all Asian countries become daily closer."

There was speculation the talks would get around to the question of a non-aggression pact between the two nations, though Indian Foreign Office sources discounted the possibility of direct action on this.

* * *

Indian officials said Nehru as host would be in a position to direct the trend of the conversations. But the advance handling of the visit at all levels indicated it would be the Chinese leader who would be carrying the ball in the talks.

"This time," said one qualified observer, "Nehru will likely do more listening than talking."

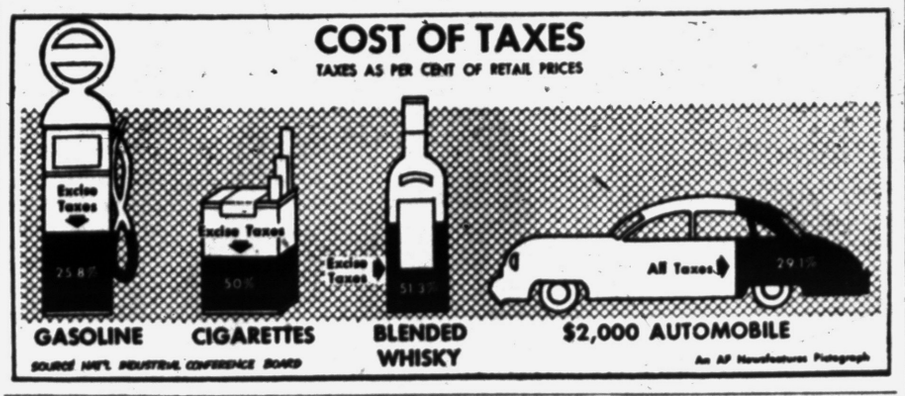
In addition to the Chou-Nehru talks, the visit includes a round of receptions and banquets and a flying visit Sunday by Chou to the Taj Mahal, at Agra, 120 miles from New Delhi. The Chinese party leaves Monday for Peiping.

* * *

U. S. diplomats will be missing from the social functions for the Chinese. Indian protocol experts said invitations were going only to representatives of "those countries not likely to decline."



Committee Extends Jobless Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four million more workers — two million fewer than President Eisenhower asked — would be brought under unemployment compensation under provisions approved by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday.

The congressmen, working behind closed doors on a measure to broaden the unemployment compensation program, voted to extend coverage to firms which employ four or more workers for at least 20 weeks a year.

Eisenhower requested jobless benefits for all concerns with one or more workers, regardless of the length of service. Present law covers companies with eight or more employes working at least 20 weeks.

The committee expects to complete action on the bill late today.

Heat, Penicillin Rash Tormenting Truman

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Temperatures near the 100-degree mark bothered former President Harry S. Truman, recovering from an operation, but he declined to move to a cooler room in the hospital yesterday.

His condition remained satisfactory.

Dr. Wallace Graham said Truman "is feeling pretty good but he's been bothered a little by a penicillin rash. And he won't let us move him to a cooler room."

Mrs. Ila Mae Kampschroeder, a special night nurse at Research Hospital, called Truman a fine patient.

"Unlike a lot of important people, he's very cooperative," she said. "He's very human and withstands pain marvelously."

Eclipse Watchers Warned by AMA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Medical Assn. House of Delegates today urged that persons watching the eclipse of the sun next Wednesday protect their eyes with pieces of heavily-smoked glass.

The eclipse will be visible in the United States from Nebraska northeastward.

The AMA's section on opthalmology said "colored glasses are neither protectors nor of value."

Hoffman Denies Wrong in Letter

Rebuts State Charges With Denials, Ridicule; Calls Self Persecuted

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A surprise after-death defense put ex-Gov. Harold G. Hoffman on record today as denying he did wrong as New Jersey employment security director even though he had embezzled $300,000 from his own bank.

"As far as I know, there has been nothing wrong in my state department," the late Republican governor said in a letter released last night by his daughter, Mrs. Ada Hoffman Leonard.

* * *

Point by point, he hacked away at some of the state's charges, with denials or ridicule, and depicted himself as a politically persecuted man.

He accused Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who suspended him, of participating in a rental-purchasing arrangement for which Hoffman himself had been criticized.

Hoffman's defense came in a series of letters and documents he sent to Mrs. Leonard shortly before his death June 4. She made them public as she began an attack on Meyner and his administration.

* * *

"Dancing on the grave," she termed the continued fanfare about her father, who had admitted in a letter embezzling $300,000 from the South Amboy Trust Co.

Since she disclosed the letter, Mrs. Leonard said, her father had been condemned "for every mistake committed by, and treason committed against, the state of New Jersey for the past 20 years."

Meyner, she exclaimed, was "dragging this out and condemning us in an attempt to climb to the vice presidency or something.

* * *

She said the administration broke its word to treat the case "as decently and quietly as. . . humanly," and so she had come to a decision to make public the papers.

Story of Man Who Has Friends Is Tale of Measurable Success

By BILLY ROSE

E. Ray Goetz, 68, died on the night of June 12 in the Pickwick Arms Hotel, Greenwich, Conn. The obituaries in the New York papers reviewed his career as a songwriter and theatrical producer.

None of them, however, made mention of his greatest attribute—his remarkable talent for living. I'd like to remedy that omission . . .

BILLY ROSE

When I first met Ray Goetz, he was one of the hardest working fellows on Broadway. Between 1914 and 1930 he had written many popular songs including such standouts as For Me and My Gal.

He had also produced a dozen distinguished plays and musicals, among them Fifty Million Frenchmen and The New Yorkers, with words and music by a friend of his from Indiana named Cole Porter.

* * *

A few summers later I learned the answer to that "why." Tired of chasing the fast buck, I went off to Paris to see the sights, and the nicest sight I saw was E. Ray Goetz.

His sense of honor, it seemed, had put on weight, and his ease of manner indicated he had become too interested in the business of living to ever again bother with the silly business of business.

From 1931 until he died, Ray stubbornly refused to let his talents encroach on his way of living. Each year he'd follow the sun to Bairritz, Capri, Palm Beach, Marrakech—anywhere his fancy and the temperature might dictate.

He never again was a "success" in the splashy meaning of the word. As one of his friends put it, Ray couldn't afford to waste time on hard work when there were so many easy chairs to sit in and easy people to talk to.

* * *

Goetz was not a rich man, but he refused to let that grubby fact interfere with his busy life of doing nohing and doing it beautifully.

Actually, he never needed much money. There were people in every country whose doors were always open to this gentle little gentleman who was a connoisseur of everything from Roquefort to Rembrandt.

And why not? When he walked into a room it was as if someone had turned on a big chandelier.

Ray was one of the few men who could kiss a lady's hand without looking like Groucho Marx, and the only man I ever met who could mix a salad without looking plain silly.

He talked well but, even more important, he listened well. This led all sorts of people to dump their troubles in his lap, but never in a quarter of a century did I hear Goetz say a word about his own troubles.

The last time I saw this sophisticated kewpie doll was a couple of summers ago at my place in Mt. Kisco. He showed up one weekend accompanied by half a dozen trunks, and when I asked if he planned to stay the summer, he said he had only brought the barest essentials.

* * *

The barest essentials, it developed, included almost a hundred bottles of Saratoga Springs water, a small apothecary's scale and a collection of herbs and spices.

One of the trunks was filled with old magazines which Ray said he had been meaning to read for years . . .

In short, in a world full of eager beavers, Goetz was as relaxed as a Siamese cat purring to itself in the sun.

And, if having friends and fun is any measure of success, then he was probably the most successful man of his and my generation.

Over my 50-odd and helter-skelter years, I have met many people I would have liked to change places with. In all my life, however, I have only met two men I would have liked to be.

One is Bernard M. Baruch. The other is, or was, E. Ray Goetz.

Boys Five to Nine Most Apt to Drown

LANSING (AP) — Boys five to nine years old are the most apt to drown, the State Health Department suggested today on the basis of last year's experience.

This age group is closely followed by the 10-14 age group in the number of drownings.

The department issued its annual swimming warning, noting that there were 309 deaths by drowning last year.

The summer months of June, July and August accounted for 60 per cent of last year's fatalities.

The department said water accidents can happen anywhere. Last year, eight drownings occurred in the home, two on the farm, 13 in mines and quarries, and seven in parks.

Composition of Color 'Dream' Seed Studied

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—Dr. William Boyd Cook, a Baylor University chemistry professor, is studying the composition of piule seed, which used to produce dreams in full color for the Aztec Indians.

Dr. Cook thinks the tiny seed contains an alkaloid and possibly one that is unknown. The Geschickter Fund of Washington, D. C., has given him a $7,000 grant for the first year to find out.

Piule seeds come from plants grown in Mexico and Central America, and natives as far back as the Aztecs used them in religious rites. They chewed them like snuff.

Evangelist Falls Ill on European Tour

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham became seriously ill today and a German doctor ordered him to a hospital for a complete physical checkup, Graham's secretary said.

"Billy woke up awfully sick this morning," the secretary, Jerry Beavan, told newsmen. "We called a doctor. The doctor looked him over and recommended he be sent to a hospital immediately for a complete checkup."

Beavan said he did not know what ailed Graham.

The 35-year-old evangelist came to Germany Wednesday after a tour of Britain and Scandinavia. He was scheduled to leave here today on a three-day visit to Berlin.

Graham had appeared in excellent health yesterday despite the rigors of his strenuous revival schedule. German newspapers commenting on his appearance in Frankfurt said he looked "fresh, brilliant and as boyish as an English tennis champion."

Researchers Constantly Work to Improve Seeds

By WILMA GREENWAY

Ever wonder how much work, research and experimentation goes into the growing of that smallest of garden purchases—a package of seeds?

The answer is practically in your own back yard. One of the nation's biggest experimental and seed-breeding stations is located just south of Rochester on East Hamlin road.

Ferry-Morse Seed Company's Oakview Seed Breeding Station is the scene of constant scientific research and stepped-up planting. People from all over the world visit it to study the experiments conducted there.

Frost and rain are its deadlines. Highly trained specialists vie with soil, wind weather and disease in a race to produce seed stock that is earlier growing, hardier, more disease-resistant than nature originally provided.

Here pedigreed seed, some of it literally worth its weight in gold, is raised to supply the basic stock from which is grown seed for flower and vegetable gardens all over the world.

On the staff are seven agricultural experts, 14 full-time employes and, in summer, 30-35 part-time workers.

In the absence of Superintendent Harm Drewes who was on vacation, Assistant Suprintendent Gilbert T. Bentley explained the operation of the station and methods of research.

Station buildings consist of offices, four greenhouses, a blacksmith and repair shop, implement sheds, barn and a mouse-proof, weatherproof stock room for storage of precious seed. One laboratory is used in testing plants for reaction to various light intensities and temperature relations.

Samples taken at random from seed grown under contract for Ferry-Morse are sent to the breeding station from Detroit and California warehouses. Seed is then planted and grown in a "purity test"—which is nothing more than outdoor growing under close inspection for trueness to specifications.

Another type of test conducted at the station is the "comparative trial." This consists of plantings of Ferry-Morse seed and seed from other firms, in order to insure maintenance of competitive quality.

Each "trial" or planting is under constant surveillance. Experts check for vigor, uniformity, size, color balance, trueness to type, time of maturity. Records tell the history of the seed from the first planting until the main crop. Any variation is noted.

When a sample planting deviates too far from the specifications, its history is transferred to a special card, printed in bold red, to show the seed is not running true. This card is the danger signal. It starts the wheels rolling that eventually outlaw the seed.

In addition to comparative and purity trials, the station constantly experiments to improve varieties. One experiment now in progress is a bolting celery trial. From it, Bentley hopes to get a hardier seed that will withstand weather shocks.

Whenever sample plantings reach maturity, they are taken up and undergo rigid inspection. Here Bentley's photographic memory stands him in good stead. He is able to examine and tell at a glance the varieties of thousands of plants. Fellow workers claim he knows more garden flower and vegetable varieties by sight than anyone in the world.

After being segregated into three groups—discards, up to specifications, and extra select—the usable plants are transplanted to produce the "stock seed."

But if trouble ever develops after the seed is marketed, the firm has a final opportunity to check. A code number on each package permits Ferry-Morse to look up old records and examine the pedigree and history of any seed marketed by them.

Agent Gives Tips on Weed Killers

'Must Choose Special Control for Particular Crop Being Sprayed'

Oakland County Agricultural Agent Edmond W. Alchin reports that many Pontiac area residents have been inquiring about the use of chemical weed control products in their gardens and around their homes.

Alchin warns that there are several points home owners should consider before resorting to these weed killers.

"First and foremost is the fact that chemical control results are not a good substitute for good cultivation practices," he says.

"Secondly, the person using the materials must be extremely cautious when neighbors' houses are close. Any drift of spray or mist to many ornamental shrubs and can cause considerable damage flowers.

"Some of the chemicals give off vapors that can be picked up by the wind even after application. This is especially true of the ester forms of 2-4-D and 2-4-5-T.

"This might mean that it would be more expensive than beneficial, especially where several different kinds of crops are being grown in a small area and each crop might require a special or different kind of spray.

The fact that spray equipment becomes contaminated is another consideration listed by the agent.

"Extreme care in rinsing, washing thoroughly and re-rinsing must be followed before using spray equipment for another purpose," he says.

Alchin says the county extension office has an excellent bulletin called "Chemical Weed Control," circular bulletin 214, that can be obtained by calling the office or writing a card to 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac.

Soil Conservation Principles Offered

Certain soil conservation principles are emphasized by Dr. R. A. Salter, former Chief of Soil Conservation Service.

1. The soil conservation plan must be a farmer's plan worked out for each farm.

2. The farmer's desire for such a plan must be based upon effective, sound education that keeps him abreast of new techniques and changed conditions.

3. Increasing soil productivity is based on proper combinations of practices rather than on single practices.

4. The proven economic, educational and physical factors which determine what a farmer should do must be understood by him so that he can operate intelligently.

5. Successful soil conservation programs depend upon local responsibility, leadership and cooperation as provided through soil conservation districts.

A Country Drive Will Prove County Is Also Agricultural

By JOE HAAS

Few city people appreciate the important part that agriculture still plays in Oakland County. Most of them look upon it only as an industrial county.

Right now is one of the best times of the year to take a drive into the country which will bring to you a realization that we do something else besides make automobiles and trucks and other manufactured products. Thousands are employed at this "something else."

JOE HAAS

Get out into the rural townships, which still occupy a larger part of the county's area, rather than those which have been industrialized or are largely covered by the homes of people employed in industry. These people usually say little but are doing much.

Get away from the lakes and into the areas where farming still is a major project. Steer clear of the hilly sections and those still covered with forest.

Hunt up the level plains like those in Orion, Oxford, Springfield, Independence, Rose, Holly, Highland, Milford, Lyon, Novi, Farmington, Oakland, Commerce and Addison townships. There is where agriculture has an opportunity to spread itself.

There you'll find thousands of acres producing the grains, dairy products, fruit and other agricultural products that are feeding you. There you'll now find most of them at their lush season. The crops generally have overcome their late spring start.

Take the so-called "back roads."

There you'll generally find farming at its best, still not influenced by the encroachment of industry, still often operated by one man, who, with the assistance of modern machinery, is doing more work than three men formerly performed—and doing it in much shorter hours. The farmer now is a businessman.

Now the fields of wheat are a spectacle that will cause you to stop and admire. Just turning to their golden brown, they have grown a long straw and are now developing a big head, yet in the milk, but ready for harvest the coming month.

No artist ever painted a picture more beautiful than such a field when it is billowed into gentle waves by a summer breeze. You can watch it and admire it for hours.

It is wholesomely restful to reflect on the fact that, in spite of the grave unrest in the world, nature sets before you a comforting spectacle as you realize that in every acre of such wheat are thousands of loaves of bread, a major factor in your living.

You also will find a touch of sadness in the many fields where the recent rains and high winds have caused this wheat to tumble over and lodge in a tangled mass, making its further development and harvesting a serious question for the farmer.

The fields of alfalfa, now about ready for their second cutting, also are a sight you long will remember. The meadows and pastures with their dairy herds munching the grass or leisurely chewing their cuds have long been an artist's conception of what is beautiful in nature. They're producing the milk that is almost a life necessity.

The oats, corn, potato and other fields, and the fruit trees all beckon you. Yes, a drive in the country will make you thihk more of your county—and yourself.

Twenty-six states have "Keep Green" forest programs.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—The leaves on our red Japanese maple are developing brown spots, and in many instances drying up completely. What causes this and what can be done?

A—Leaf-spotting of maples is abundant after a period of cool, wet weather. There is nothing to do now, other than fertilize the soil and water during periods of drought. However, next spring, several applications of Bordeaux mixture or fermate at ten-day intervals should be made, starting when the leaves are unfolding from the buds.

* * *

Q—What spray or dust is best to use on potato vines?

A—The United States Department of Agriculture recommends one which includes DDT or Malathion.

* * *

A—They add a little potash to the soil, and slightly reduce its acidity. To be of any value use 15 to 20 pounds per 100 square feet of area. However, for real help, rely upon a complete rose food, composed of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

* * *

A—The answer is a prayer, hand-picking and dusting with a 1 per cent rotenone.

* * *

A—Vedette is an improved Elberta, fruiting three weeks earlier, has yellow flesh and is a freestone most seasons.

Deciduous shrubs and broad-leaved evergreens may be reproduced from cuttings taken now, and started in sand or expanded mica. Before tackling the job, read up thoroughly on the subject.

Some Tree Ills, Cures Outlined

Maples Are Susceptible to Leaf Scorch Due to Thin Leaves

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks and Recreation Dept.

The Department of Parks and Recreation receives numerous calls on tree problems each year. Some of these problems that confront the home owners are slime flux, leaf scorch, leaf spot and verticillium wilt.

Slime flux is more prevalent on maples and elms and is the sap seepage from the heartwood or sapwood. The sap comes out from weak crotches, broken branches, stubs and wounds.

This unsightly condition along the trunk of the tree can be toxic to the tender tissue of the wood. If the fluxing isn't too severe the bark may be traced back and daubed with tree paint. In severe cases, flux tubes may be installed to relieve the pressure.

Maple trees are more susceptible to leaf scorch than the other species because of their thin leaves. The first symptom is the brown discoloration of the edges of the leaves and between the veins.

In periods of continued high temperatures, leaf scorch may result in the premature loss of leaves. This condition is more severe on trees that have had their roots injured or where the soil is deficient in plant nutrients. Fertilizing, pruning and watering dry soils are the control measures used.

Leaf spots are exactly what the name implies. The elm leaves are subject to attack by the fungus Gnomonia Ulmea producing yellow or white flecks on the leaf surface. These flecks or spots increase in size and finally become black in color. In severe cases leaves may drop prematurely.

Maple trees also develop leaf spots such as anthracnose, purple spot and tar spot. To control leaf spot on maples or elms, the fallen leaves should be burned in the fall. Fungicide sprays containing copper are also effective.

Norway and sugar maples are most susceptible to verticillium wilt. The symptom of this disease is the wilting and dying of the leaves.

Trees affected may appear sick for years before death results. Slime flux often seeps out from the bark on Norway maples.

If a maple has green streaking in the sapwood, it usually is a positive symptom of the disease. It is believed that the disease enters the tree through wounds in the stems or roots.

Mild cases of verticillium wilt may be controlled by pruning and the application of a high nitrogen content fertilizer.

If a maple tree dies from verticillium wilt it should be removed and the soil treated with formaldehyde solution for several months before another tree of the same species is planted. It is usually best to plant another species of tree that is not susceptible to the disease in the area where the maple died.

Complex Computation Accounts for a Profit

Raising veal will pay if you are getting less than $3 a hundred for your milk, and veal is selling for $20 a hundred or more.

Here's the way the experts figure it:

Starting with a 90 pound calf, it will take about 10 pounds of whole milk to put on a pound of gain. That means 600 pounds of milk to get the calf to 150 pounds—a good market weight.

Check your local situation by figuring what the calf would be worth at 90 pounds. Then take the price for choice veal and figure the calf's value at 150 pounds. Divide the difference by 6 and you will have the return for each 100 pounds of milk when you sell it through veal.

Foil Mulches Garden

Aluminum foil can be used in the garden. The idea is to mulch between rows with thinly rolled foil. Mulching curbs weeds and helps the soil retain moisture. Foil designed especially for mulching is available in 12 and 18-inch widths.

'Price Supports Are Overrated'

Sen. Ferguson Backs Plan for Flexibility in Farm Program

Only 10 per cent of Michigan farm income is derived from the so-called basic farm crops which are backed by rigid government supports, Sen. Homer Ferguson declared in a recent Senate speech.

"Fifty-five per cent of Michigan's farm income is supplied by products which enjoy no price supports at all," he said.

"These figures certainly indicate that we have been assigning to price supports—and particularly price supports for the six basic commodities—an importance vastly out of proportion of their real significance," he said.

The Michigan senator concluded: "The evidence all indicates that both the government and farmers themselves have gotten into difficulties only on the commodities which have been supported at 90 per cent of parity. This is in itself a convincing argument for more flexibility in our farm program, along the lines recommended by the President."

A Department of Agriculture report indicated that on a national basis, 23 per cent of cash farm income was provided by the six basic crops: Wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Reduction of Cattle Herds Forecast for This Year

Reduction in cattle numbers seems to be in the cards this year after all. The best guess now on this year's slaughter is around 39 million head, compared to 36½ million in 1953.

Despite the larger 1954 calf crop, this means enough cattle will be killed to pull total numbers down around a million head by the end of the year.

Despite important recent gains in the fight against tuberculosis, more than 50,000 persons die of the disease annually in the United States.

This Week's Garden Tips for the Area

Aphids are as attracted by roses, sweet peas, lupines and nasturtiums as children are by candy. An all - purpose spray dispatches them handily — but spraying is only as effective as the frequency with which the spray gun is used.

Keep on a regular 10-day or two-week schedule and follow printed directions implicitly.

Summer flowering plants, bulbs and shrubs are benefited by booster feedings — liquid manure or water-soluble chemical fertilizer are both good.

Vegetables do better with extra food, too, but where the fertilizer isn't specifically recommended for leaf feedings or there might be the danger of burned roots, apply the food carefully in trenches beside the plant rows.

* * *

Spring blooming shrubs may be pruned still — there's time for new shoots to develop for next year's bloom.

* * *

Pinch out axiliary growth on tomato vines if you want to keep them from wandering all over the place.

* * *

Make notes on possible purchases of roses next year and mark spots where replacements are to be made.

Fat More Expensive to Grow Than Lean

Even when you're using lard-type breeds, it costs more money to raise short, chuffy hogs than to produce longer, leaner ones.

In recent tests animal nutritionists bred litter - mate Duroc sows to Duroc boars of two types. Pigs from the short, fat Duroc sire gained 1.51 pounds a day, while those from a longer, meatier Duroc gained 1.63 pounds daily.

Pigs from the longer boar needed 385 pounds of food for each 100 pounds of gain. Those from the chuffy sire needed 399 pounds. Gains on the short kind cost 46 cents a hundred more or about a dollar more a hog.

TWIN RARITIES—Albino squirrels are so rare that the capture of a pair of them at Seneca, Ill., caused much excitement. The snow-white oddities are progeny of two normal, wild red squirrels. They are pictured with Jimmie Jones, on whose parents' land they were caught when a few weeks old. The animals are very tame and are thriving.

Air Conditioning in Farrow House Brings Savings

How would you like an air-conditioned farrowing house? A Georgia hog raiser is building one for his 35 brood sows.

He is putting a refrigeration unit near each end of a 27-by-72 shed-type building. He plans to insulate and cool the house so young pigs will get under heat lamps where they're safe.

He believes 75 degrees during August and September will save enough pigs to pay for the equipment.

His records show 6¼ to 7 pigs a litter saved in fall, 8½ to 9 in early spring. He says that such equipment last fall would have given him 50 extra market hogs to sell.

The units he will use retail around $400 each. The cost of electricity will be about $15 a month.

Gardens Should Be Thinned Out

Experts Advise Against Planting Seedlings Too Close

And thin means T-H-I-N.

Your doctor strongly advises against too many pounds on you.

Your friendly garden guide advises against letting too many seedlings remain in a garden row.

Probably the hardest thing to ask the novice gardener to do is to pull out some of those now precious seedlings, which are compacted in rows like chorines in the arm-locked finales of a show. You love each and every seedling, but some must go so the best can grow.

It's just possible that you overseeded your rows. If so, you and thousands like you are in the same garden path.

Even the big deal green thumb boys are guilty of the same failing at times. But they get after things when the growing season gets under way, and judiciously pull extra seedlings.

If, for instance, your seed packet says that beets should be thinned to two to three inches apart.

He hasn't written the instructions that way to sell more seeds, for he won't. He wants his seeds to grow and flourish into perfect types. He wants you to be satisfied and buy his wares the next year.

If you follow them, or the directions in your garden book, you'll likely come up with gorgeous blooms and mouth-watering vegetables instead of spindly plants and stunted production which will send you wailing to some old-time gardener

"What's wrong with my garden?"

Any high school freshman will tell you that two objects cannot occupy the same space. He's right.

If the early bulb foliage has died down, they may be dug, divided and replanted at this time.

Walkout Continues at Great Lakes Steel

Great Lakes President Paul Carnahan notified the CIO-United Steel-Workers of America yesterday that the union would be held responsible "for the great damages we are suffering."

The walkout has idled 11,500 workers and the company insists there can be no negotiations with the union so long as an "illegal" strike is in progress.

A spokesman for David J. McDonald, national president of the CIO-USW, said the union leader had not received Carnahan's telegram calling the strike illegal and in violation of the contract.

The strike began Wednesday over the company's discharge of 14 men.

Marilyn Monroe Says She's Not Expecting

The actress said her collapse on a movie set Tuesday was due to overwork and nerves.

"I'm not expecting a little baseball player yet," said the wife of Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee Clipper. "That doesn't mean, however, that Joe and I don't want one."

Mrs. Rooney Solves Star's $$ Problems

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Should the lady of the house take care of the family finances?

Mrs. Mickey Rooney thinks so. What's more, the Mighty Mick agrees. This could lead to all kinds of discussions in homes throughout the land.

• • •

"Certainly, the wife should handle the money matters in the home," says Mrs. Rooney. "The man has enough to do in earning the money. He shouldn't have to be concerned with the family budget as well."

Like the three previous Mrs. Rooneys (Ava Gardner, Betty Jane Rase, Martha Vickers), Elaine Davis is a beauty and taller than her husband. Elaine also has a business sense. A Compton, Clif., girl, she began modeling when she was 15 years old. And Elaine began early managing her own affairs.

After she married Rooney in Las Vegas on Nov. 23, 1952, she began to take an interest in his tangled financial setup.

• • •

"Mickey never handled his own money," she remarked. "He always had a business manager to take care of things for him. I think that's a mistake. You don't realize where the money is going unless you're in on everything yourself. You're inclined to spend unwisely."

Elaine took matters into her own hands. They moved into a medium-sized house, nothing too fancy. Both of them went on an allowance. Pretty soon the financial picture began to brighten.

"Now we're hoping to be able to buy another home," she said. "Not a bigger house; just one with more grounds. Both of us love horses, and we'd like to have a stable."

• • •

Rooney's budget is burdened by alimony and support payments. About $450 goes every week to Miss Rase and sons Mickey Jr., 9, and Tim, 7; $500 weekly goes to Miss Vickers and son Teddy, 4. Despite this hefty outlay, the present Mrs. Rooney said she and Mickey may be able to start saving.

Now 33, the onetime child star appears to be hitting his stride again. He drew good notices for his mature emoting in "Drive A Crooked Road" and has a choice role in the forthcoming "Bridges at Toko-ri." At present he is acting in his own production of "The Atomic Kid," a comedy about a lad who survives an atomic bombing.

• • •

Another big piece of news on the Rooney agenda is his television series, "Hey, Mulligan!," which will start on NBC in August. He'll be opposing the CBS powerhouse, Jackie Gleason, but Mickey's backers aren't worried.

"I think we can knock off Gleason," said Rooney's manager, Maurice Duke. "The kids used to like Gleason because of the crazy characters he did. But lately he's been concentrating on the man-and-wife skits. The kids don't like that so much. And Mickey has always been a kids' favorite."

Big Breakfast Plays Major Farm Role

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — A good breakfast can prevent accidents, the University of Illinois says.

Gordon McCleary, executive secretary of the Illinois Rural Safety Council, reports that an analysis of farm accidents indicate often "that it all began at breakfast."

"Whether a poor breakfast starts the victim on an all-day grouch, or fails to cure one he already has, it's often the beginning of an unfortunate chain of events," a university extension service release said of McCleary's report.

McCleary reported that the man who goes to the field with a grouch doesn't have much patience and may take foolish chances.

"That increasingly costly cup of coffee may be pretty cheap insurance against an accident when it helps to start the breadwinner off on a good day," the university bulletin said.

BEAUTY IS TRUMP — Lovely Irene Knight, 23, of Philadelphia, is a match for any queen in the deck, and even carries a spade to go along with the suit of that pasteboard lady behind her. 3 Hurt in Collision at M59-Squirrel Rd.

Three persons were injured last night when one car failed to stop in time for a traffic light at M59 and Squirrel Rd., and ran into the rear of another auto.

Alvy Shelby, 40, of 1400 Crescent Lake Rd., Waterford Township, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he could not stop in time to avoid a collision with a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy G. Dushane, 25, of 76 N. Edith St.

Shelby and his daughter, Lorretta G., 19, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head cuts and bruises, and Mrs. Dushane was treated for a neck injury.

First Important U.S. Australian Test Up Today

Shea Meets Hartwig in Wimbledon Match—Big Guns Take Day Off

By TOM OCHILTREE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The first important American-Australian singles clash of the Wimbledon tennis tournament comes up today and for those seated close enough it should sound almost like a debate.

* * *

* * *

Shea is listed 19th in the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. rankings and enters the match as the underdog.

When he nets a key point or sends drives flying beyond the baseline, Shea occasionally will mutter a few words to himself. But he is monosyllabic compared with Hartwig. The Aussie keeps shouting to himself "Careful now, Don't do that, Watch for a lob, I'll have to stop over-hitting."

Sometimes when he plays with his fellow countrymen in Australia they shout across at him to keep quiet. They refer to him as the "Chattere" but they all respect his game.

* * *

Today's program gives the four big guns of the tournament—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, and Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall of Australia, the day off in the men's singles division.

Trabert and Seixas take on Britain's Roger Decker and Tony Pickard in the doubles. Hoad and Rosewall go against the Swedish pair of Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidson.

* * *

Defending champion Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, San Diego, Calif., also gets the day off in the women's singles. This makes all the big names available for the Saturday program.

Ivory Rangers Try Again for 3rd Win Sunday

Ivory Rangers, balked by rain in Milwaukee last Sunday, will try again for their 3rd win of the season when they take on the San Antonio Polo Club at Uihlein Stadium in the Wisconsin city Sunday afternoon.

Rangers will remain in Milwaukee to play off their rained-out game with the Milwaukee Polo Club July 4. Then they will return to Detroit to face Milwaukee and San Antonio on successive Sundays here.

While the Rangers are on the road, polo doubleheaders will be offered under the lights on the shortfield at the Ivory Club each Wednesday evening. The first game will start at 8 p.m. These twin bills will bring together teams composed of the foremost poloists in Michigan.

Yewcic Will Be Sent to Tiger Farm Outfit

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit front office said today newly-signed catcher Tom Yewcic would be kept with the Tigers "for a few days" and then shipped off to the Wilkes-Barre farm club in the Eastern League.

The 21-year-old former Michigan State College backstop signed a non-bonus contract with the Tigers Thursday. He had been sought by several other major league teams.

Bonham Sets Show Record

By H. GUY MOATS

Thursday's opening round of competition in the 37th annual Detroit Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club saw a new record for competitive riding hung up by the veteran rider Max Bonham of Battle Creek.

All Max did was to bring about a dozen winners in the various jumping events, and with his wife took a 1-2 class also. But the biggest feature of the superb Bonham performance was his defeat of Miss Budweiser, the Olympic team jumper, owned by August Busch of St. Louis Mo., the Cardinal Baseball team magnate.

Max defeated the smart Miss Budweiser in the USET challenge trophy where he rode the winner and the runnerup to force the Olympic horse into third spot. Bonham won on Plenty (owned by P. T. Cheff of Holland), then placed Velvet Lassie second (owned by Mrs. Hubert Thomas of Indianapolis Ind.). Miss Budweiser was ridden by Bob Egan.

Bonham also won on Forest Witch in the Michigan bred hunters class, and Mrs. Bonham rode Arctic Night (owned by Mrs. F. M. Huebner) to second place. In the Thursday evening spread class Bonham had a winner on Jacob's Ladder (a Charles Dennehy Jr. entry) and then turned about to take Velvet Lassie to second in the same event, with Egan on Miss Budweiser third. This event was ridden under FEI ruls.

One injury broke into the smooth tenor of the show, Thursday afternoon when D. R. Motch of Keene, Va. was thrown when his mount, Borealis in the working hunter class stumbled and fell on the outside course. Motch suffered a fractured left shoulder and a dislocated right arm. He was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital and was to be released today.

Because of the injury to Motch, events in which Motch was to have ridden were taken over by a groom, Stewart Lanham, who rode Evening Pink to victory in the Green Hunter and hunter under saddle divisions.

A Birmingham girl, Lou Wilson took top honors in the junior class. She rode a ribbon winner for the 14th straight time in the shows in which she has taken part this season.

Show moves into today's program with the junior prix de nations teams competition the big feature this afternoon. These are junior equestrian teams riding under FEI rules and there are about a dozen entries. The knock-down-and-out sweepstakes is another colorful and important feature of today's performance, along with the scurry, on tonight's program under the lights.

Show runs through Saturday and concludes Sunday with determination of the several championships.

Three-gainted—won by Alexandrite, Mrs. A. E. Knowlton of Delaware, Ohio.

OVER THE BRUSH—Birmingham's Skip Dowd, riding Earncraft (Owner, A. B. Dowd, Birmingham) big brown gelding takes a brush jump in the opening day's activities at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, Thursday. Skip was taking part in the junior events in the Detroit Horse Show's 37th annual exhibition. The event was won by Fredericka W. ridden by Donna Pethick.

* * *

New Pony Class is Judged for 1st Time in This Area

A new class, to be judged for the first time in a major horse show in this area, has ben added to the current Detroit Horse Show, at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

The class is for ponies under saddle, and is sponsored by the United States Pony Club, a new organization in this country, modeled along the lines of the British and Canadian pony clubs. First branches of the club in the Midwest are now being formed and Rochester has the first in this section.

Ponies in this class are not show type. They are not hackney fine harness ponies, but are shown as pleasure ponies for children (14.2 hands or less).

About a dozen are entered for the Saturday judging by Mrs. Ella Kerr of Rochester, probably Michigan's oldest breeder of fine riding ponies.

Michigan Animal Rescue League, a comparatively new organization, with some 40 members, will present the trophy for the class. League aims at the actual "rescue" of horses from bad handling. It is now gathering funds with which to provide a shelter for smaller animals.

Neddie, owned by Billy Burgess; Linda, owned by John Chiera Jr.; Safety and Decoration, both entered by Cecily Donnelly, all of Rochester; an entry by Douglas Holmes of Bloomfield Hills; two from the Woodcraft Farms of Flint and two by Don Wilcox of Imlay City.

Bumpy Jones 3rd in Event at Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—One American record was bettered last night in opening races of the 6th annual Keo Nakama swimming meet.

Jody Alderson of Chicago swam the 50-meter free-style in 29.6 seconds, bettering the 29.8 mark set in 1952 by Phebe Cramer of Berkeley, Calif., who finished second last night. Judy Roberts of Indianapolis was third.

* * *

* * *

Women's 200-meter freestyle: 1. Gail Peters, Washington, D.C.; 2. Jody Alderson, Chicago; 3. Barbara Stark, San Francisco. Time 2:34.5.

Women's three-meter springboard diving: 1. Patricia McCormick, Los Angeles, 1952 Olympic performer, 350.3 points; 2. Paula Jean Myers of Los Angeles, 310.6; 3. Gail Benton, Atlanta 262.3

Three-Sports Man

Don Halverson was Wayne's first three-sport man in years last season. The Stambaugh, Michigan junior lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He also could have made the Wayne tennis team, but baseball and tennis overlapped.

Yankees, Tribe Will Clash in 3-Game Session

Cleveland 4 Games in Front; New York Now in Third Spot

CLEVELAND (AP)—To Casey Stengel, it's "That big series in Cleveland." Al Lopez calls it "a crucial weekend, but certainly not one of those do-or-die times."

No matter how they described it there was little doubt that Managers Stengel of the Yankes and Lopez of the Indians view with respect the three-game series their teams open here tonight.

Manager Lopez, however, had a ready answer for that sort of speculation:

"I don't care what percentage New York had the last five years. It doesn't matter, so long as ours is bigger."

Lopez on that: "You bet we can."

Separated by four games, the first-place Indians and the third-place Yankees plan to send their best pitchers to the mound in the series. For New York, it will be Allie Reynolds, Ed Lopat and Whitey Ford. For Cleveland, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon are scheduled for the starts.

Garcia and Reynolds, facing each other in tonight's opener, each has a seven-game winning streak going.

Irv Noren, one of the Yankees' leading hitters with a .303 average, may not play tonight. He had a sharp pain in his chest during drills yesterday and was removed temporarily from the starting lineup. Otherwise the two teams are at full strength.

Coast Fighter Scores TKO Over Chuck Adkins

AL Homers Up

National Loop Batters Slip From 1953 Pace

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—National League batters, record smashers with 1,197 home runs last season, have tailed off somewhat in 1954, but they still aren't giving pitchers anything to cheer about.

* * *

Figures compiled by the Associated Press through yesterday's games reveal that senior circuit hitters have accounted for 489 homers this year compared to an even 500 in a like number of games in 1953.

The American League is up over last season, 364 to 356. American Leaguers connected for 879 homers during the entire '53 campaign.

Actually, only seven clubs—the Cubs, Giants and Cardinals in the National League and the White Sox, Senators, Red Sox and Tigers in the American—are showing an edge over last year.

The Cubs, who had 55 home runs in 62 games in 1953, lead the National League with 82 and the Cleveland Indians are on top in the American with 62.

* * *

The Cincinnati Redlegs with 65 compared to 84 in as many games in '53 and the Philadelphia Phillies (35 to 51) have suffered the greatest drop.

* * *

Not surprising is the fact that the leagues' last place clubs, Pittsburgh in the National League and Baltimore in the American, also are on the tail end in homers. The Pirates have connected 30 times and the Orioles only 25.

Lulu Perez Favored in Tonight's Bout

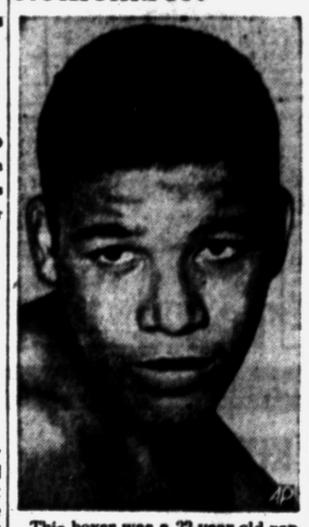
The winner may get a crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and because of the importance of the scrap the distance has been increased from 10 to 12 rounds. The state athletic commission will recognize the victor as the No. 1 contender.

Minner Finds Phillies Tough Team to Beat

NEW YORK (AP)—If Paul Minner doesn't face the Philadelphia Phillies again this year, it probably will be all right with him.

The veteran southpaw has lost his last three decisions and all have been to the Phillies, 6-0 on June 10; 4-1 on June 22 and last night 3-2 in relief.

Remember?



This boxer was a 22-year-old rapidly rising lightweight and welterweight when this picture was made in 1942. A Detroiter by birth, he won Golden Gloves titles in 1939 and '40. His identity will be found on the final sports page today.

Merchants Hand League Leaders Surprise Defeat

But 6-2 Loss Doesn't Change Standings for Class A Loop

By BILL MARTIN

City Class A Baseball League leader Oliver Buick was surprised, 6-2, yesterday by 5th-place Auburn Merchants, but the upset failed to alter loop standings.

Merchants overcame a 2-1 deficit with a 5-run outburst in the 6th inning. They rapped three consecutive singles and pushed across the tying run to chase Oliver starter Dick Goldworthy.

Second-baseman Jim Long scored both of the losers' runs. He walked and scored on Paul Fournier's single in the 1st inning and slammed a home run in the 3rd.

Ted Kluszewski Leads Hodges

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati slugger, regained first place today in the balloting for National League first basemen in the All-Star baseball poll.

The voting to select 16 starting players in the 21st All-Star interleague game in Cleveland July 13 opened on June 11. It will close July 3.

* * *

Stan Musial, St.Louis Cardinals right fielder, still leads as the poll's highest individual vote-getter. He has been named on 151,203 ballots. Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox left fielder, is runnerup with 146,304 votes, followed by New York Yankee catcher, Yogi Berra, who has 144,738.

By JACK SAYLOR

Pontiac is virtually the same team that won the Saginaw Valley high school championship last spring, and the club won its 2nd straight game Thursday, but did not overwhelm Griff's Grill, another team made up primarily of PHS boys. Score was 5-2.

Rochester, which extended Pontiac to extra innings in its 1st game, blanked Clarkston, 4-0. This team is largely Rochester High School's 1954 team, which had a fine record.

Jm Jones hurled Pontiac to its victory on a 2-hitter. His mates Jumped on Ted Wharry for 3 runs in the 1st inning on a hit batsman, and singles by Jerry Vallad, Trueman (Hoot) Lamphere and Tom Glenn.

Billy Henderson tossed a 4-hit shutout for Rochester. Falcons scored all 4 of their runs in the 1st on an error, singles by Earl Harvey, Buzz De Baene, and Russ Jones, a walk and Larry Herron's single.

In Class E, Cass Ponts managed only 3 hits, but whipped Pontiac Police, 10-6, on walks and 8 Police errors.

In Class F, Welden's downed St. George, 7-3, as Lovell permitted the losers 1 hit and fanned 8. Williams Lake Specs drubbed Boys Club, 16-4 and in a lone Knothole tilt, Team 14 laced GMC, 12-4, with Dic Lamphere pitching 1-hit ball and whiffing 14.

Afflictions Overcome

Sports World Contains Many Stories of Courage by Handicapped Athletes

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—When Ed Furgol won golf's richest prize last week, the U.S. Open championship, it was far more than a victory by a comparative unknown over the titans of his field.

* * *

Although Furgol is the first handicapped golfer to gain top rank, the sports world contains many stories of courage and inspiration where athletes overcame their afflictions.

* * *

In 1917 a Kansas schoolhouse fire cost a young boy his life and so severely burned his brother's legs that, although the wounds healed, circulation remained impaired and the shin bones never regained their normal protective covering of muscle.

* * *

Yet the boy, Glenn Cunningham, grew up to run in the Olympic Games of 1932 and 1936 and set numerous records as a miler.

* * *

Pete Gray, who had only one arm, played with Memphis of the Southern Assn., in 1944 and hit .333 with 35 extra basers. He stole 68 bases. In 1945 he made the big time with the St.Louis Browns and hit .218 in 48 games.

* * *

Then there was Monte Stratton, the Chicago White Sox pitcher, who lost a leg in a 1938 hunting accident. The road back was hard, but in 1946 Stratton was pitching for the Sherman club in the East Texas League, where he won 18 games.

* * *

Lou Brissie, badly wounded in the leg in World War II, begged doctors not to amputate because he wanted to be a big league player. He eventually did make it and starred with the Philadelphia Athletics. He played with heavy leg braces.

* * *

* * *

The list of those who have conquered polio to shine in athletics includes Walt Davis, who won the 1952 Olympic high jump and later set a world record of 6-11½; Henry Thresher, talented Yale sprinter, and Tenley Albright, the young Boston girl who became world champion figure skater.

Harvey Haddix Off to Fast Start for Great Mound Career, He's Keeping Cardinals in Race All Alone

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — While they are discussing the pitching prides of the past, such as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Christy Mathewson and Cy Young, I have been looking at a young fellow who is at least starting in their general direction.

* * *

His name is Harvey Haddix, a Cardinal whose original nest was in the thriving hamlet of Medway, Ohio. He is 28 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall with a displacement of 170 pounds.

* * *

Harvey's first real crack at big-league baseball came off last year. He was in the Armed Services in 1951 and 1952. In this opening stand he won 20 games and lost nine.

* * *

In connection with Haddix you don't hear so much about sliders, screwballs, knuckle balls, etc. You hear more about speed, control and a good curve which are always the main things that count.

It is only natural that pitchers are going to be the main factors in the summer pennant runs in the two big-league races as well as later in September's pennant stretch. The Cardinals would be already out of the race if it were not for Haddix, who has 12 victories, 10 in a row, and had 37 scoreless innings at one stretch.

* * *

Pitchers who have been of major help in the race so far have been Eddie Lopat and Allie Reynolds of the Yankees, with Whitey Ford coming on—Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn of Cleveland—and Bob Keegan, Sandy Consuegra and Virgil Trucks of Chicago.

* * *

In the National League the best have been Haddix of the Cardinals, John Antonelli and Ruben Gomez of New York and Johnny Podres of Brooklyn.

* * *

Eddie Stanky has been having a series of nightmares with his shaky pitching. Only Haddix has kept Eddie from diving off some cliff. He has the best hitting team in either league, led by such stars as Stan Musial, Ray Jablonski, Wally Moon, Red Schoendienst and others. With good pitching, the Cardinals have been making enough runs to lead the league by a neat margin.

Bevo Tallies 27 in Pro Basketball Bow

MIAMI, Fla., June 24 (AP)—Bevo Francis, Rio Grande College's star basketball player, made his professional debut here tonight and scored 27 points to lead the Boston Whirlwinds to a 57-40 victory over the Honolulu Surfriders.

Bevo hit four out of five field goals in the first half and six of nine in the second for 20 points. Bevo's coach, Newt Oliver, also made his debut with Boston.

Quarters were cut to 8 minutes instead of 12 because of rain.

Jewelers Sweep Twin Bill Against City League Foes

Pitcher Alex Morris turned in a masterful mound performance as the Jewelers blanked CIO No. 594, 4-0. He allowed only two hits, struck out seven and issued no bases on balls.

Only four Union players gained base, and only one of those advanced past 1st base. Shaw's scored single runs in the 1st, 4th, 5th and 6th innings to win easily.

Jewelers were outhit 6-4 in the 2nd game, but downed General Motors, 6-1. Pitcher Glenn "Wimpy" Johnson helped win his own game with two doubles in three trips.

In Girls' League action at Northside Park, Giles Realty extended its undefeated record to six games by dumping Gingellville, 10-6. Learie McCaughan paced Giles' 13-hit attack with a home run and three singles in five appearances. Shaw's Elaine Jones pitched a 1-hitter as her team trounced Avondale, 9-0. Losers committed 10 errors afield.

Santee Awaits New Bid for Mile Honors

Fred Dwyer to Furnish Opposition in Service Track Meet

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., June 25 (AP)—A meeting Saturday between Kansan Wes Santee, America's No. 1 candidate for the 4-minute mile, and Fred Dwyer, former Villanova college ace, looms as the feature of the annual Inter-Service track and field championships opening at this Marine base today.

Santee, whose 4:00.6 and 4:00.7 performances earlier this month are the fastest miles turned in by an American, set a new Marine record of 4:07 here last week in the All-Marine, All-Navy meet which produced qualifiers for the event opening today.

Dwyer, representing the 2nd Army, ran a 4:16.9 mile at Ft. Devens, Mass., last week in the All-Army championships. He followed it up by winning the National AAU mile two nights later at St. Louis in 4:09.5. He has a 4:07 run to his credit and could be the man to push Santee to his goal of four minutes or under. Australian John Landy's 3:58 early this week bettered the 3:59.4 mark set last month by Britain's Roger Bannister.

Santee also will meet formidable opposition in Saturday's 880-yard run. He set a Marine record of 1:52.3 here last week. Facing him will be Henry Cryer, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., who did 1:51.3 in the AAU meet trials a week ago for a new record, which Mal Whitfield erased the following night.

Poor Ring Padding Cancels Fight Card

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—What was to have been the first fight card in several years at Wahconah Park was cancelled last night for what a policeman at ringside said was "not enough padding on the ring."

Officials could not be reached for comment.

The main bout was to have been between Gerald Dreyer of Pretoria, South Africa, British Empire welterweight champion, and Irish Johnny Darby of Paterson, N.J.

Morgan Keeps Mastery Over Detroit Club

Even Bangs Homer to Rub It In; Senators in Town Today

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, thankful the Yankees have left town, take on the Washington Senators tonight in the opener of an important three - game series.

It'll be a battle for the 1st place division. Tigers hold a two-game edge over the 5th place Senators. But a Senator-sweep will move them into 4th place.

George Zuverink (3-2) was named to pitch for the Tigers. Washington skipper, Bucky Harris, was uncertain about his choice. So he named two probable pitchers—Dean Stone or Frank Shea. They have contrasting records: Stone 5-1 and Shea 0-7.

It's a wonder the Tigers have any pitchers left after the Yankee series. Steve Gromek went the distance to beat the world champions last Tuesday but in the next two games, manager Fred Hutchinson called on eight hurlers.

Ned Garver was the loser yesterday by a score of 11-2. He lasted only five innings, giving up six runs. It wrecked his glittering 1.40 earned run average.

When Garver was sent to the showers, he was asked if he could remember the last time he had beaten the Yankees. He couldn't. A check of the record books showed that it was in 1949 when he was a member of the St. Louis Browns.

There was little doubt about yesterday's game. Yankees, gaining momentum in quest of their 6th straight pennant, hammered out 16 hits. Even pitcher Tom Morgan, a woefully weak batter, joined in the slugfest. He hit a two-run homer off Garver in the 2nd inning.

Mickey Mantle, with a single and two doubles, knocked in four Yankee runs in the attack against Garver, Dick Weik and Ray Herbert.

The galling part about it, as far as the Tigers were concerned, was the fact the Yankees didn't start their rallies until the bases were empty and two were out. They scored all 11 runs in this manner.

Middlecoff Posts Spectacular 65 in Tourney

By LOU BLACK

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — While many of the nation's top golf pros were buzzing today about a spectacular round posted by Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Tennessee dentist appeared more excited about getting support for his plan to pick the golf player of the year.

Middlecoff shot a 6-under par 65 yesterday to pace the opening round of the four-day, 72-hole $15,000 Insurance City Open. He played the 6,561-yard Wethersfield Country Club course in 31-34—65. His score included six birdies. He missed eight others, three of them when the ball rimmed the cup and bounced out.

Had any one of those missed birdie putts dropped he would have equalled the course record of 64, registered last year by Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., who opened with 69 yesterday. Nearest to Middlecoff, however, are Earle Stewart, lanky Texan, and Leo Biagetti, Sandusky, Ohio, with 68s.

Defending champ Bob Toski, Livingston, N. J., carded a 70, along with 15 others, including Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., runnerup in last week's National Open. Eighteen hole rounds are scheduled today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Middlecoff, shaking off congratulations, said his plan was designed to reward the foremost competitors for sustained excellence in all competition under all conditions.

He has devised a yardstick for measuring quality that, he claims, would be at least as accurate as baseball's batting averages or earned run tables. The fact that he is PGA tournament chairman gives it authority.

"The winner," said the tall dentist, "would be the golf player of the year; not the golfer of the year, but the player, meaning the most consistent competitor.

"The leading money winner is not necessarily the best golf player. On the golf course, same as on the race track, earnings reflect economic conditions; just one tournament like the Tam O'Shanter out in Chicago can put a fellow on top. True leadership doesn't depend on earnings and it isn't reflected accurately in the tables showing average scores of the year.

"Those averages the PGA and USGA keep showing that so-and-so has an average 18-hole score of 71.4 for the year. Well, a man can keep his average low by playing on the softest courses. If he hits a tough one and takes a big score in the first round, he can pick up there and it won't count against him as long as he doesn't quit without finishing the round.

"I would rate each man, instead," explained Middlecoff, "according to his performance against everybody else in every tournament. In most of our tourneys we split the prize money down to 25th place. I would award the winner of each tourney 25 points, the runnerup 24 and so on down to 1 point for 25th place. I would establish a minimum of tourneys, say 15, so a man who played only a handful a year couldn't walk off with the prize.

'Dream' Is Nightmare

By BEN PHLEGAR

Associated Press Sportswriter

By now the Braves' officials reach for the aspirin bottle automatically whenever they are forced to remember how much they gave for so little.

* * *

Johnny Antonelli, Don Liddle, Ebba St. Claire, Billy Klaus and cash were parcelled off to the New York Giants for Bobby Thomson and Sam Calderone.

This was supposed to be the trade that could take the pennant away from Brooklyn. It may succeed—but for the Giants, instead of Milwaukee.

* * *

For the Giants Antonelli has won nine games, Liddle has won two. St. Claire is catching at Minneapolis, Giants' farm stop, where Klaus is playing second base and hitting over .300.

* * *

For Milwaukee, Thomson has been hurt since March 13. He will be out another month at least. Calderone lost the second string catcher's job to rookie Charley White and has played just one full game and parts of nine others.

Not only have the Braves suffered mentally and financially but they have been helpless in man-to-man competition. Antonelli has beaten them three times in three tries. Liddle pushed them into fourth place yesterday with a sparkling four-hit 2-1 victory.

* * *

Liddle's masterful performance kept the Giants one game ahead of the Dodgers who beat Cincinnati 9-6. St. Louis trimmed Pittsburgh 5-1 and Philadelphia shaded Chicago 3-2 in 11 innings.

* * *

Cleveland saw its American League lead shrink to two games over the Chicago White Sox. The Indians lost to Philadelphia 5-1. Chicago defeated Washington 5-2. Third-place New York moved within four games of the leaders with an 11-2 waltz at Detroit. Boston and Baltimore weren't scheduled.

Liddle got the runs he needed to beat his former mates when Willie Mays parked a Warren Spahn pitch deep into the upper left field seats with Don Mueller on base in the second inning. It was Willie's 23rd homer, tops in both leagues.

They aimed for the fences in Ebbets Field yesterday and the Dodgers came out on top. Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam drove in five Brooklyn runs with homers. Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey hit a pair, good for three Cincinnati runs.

The Cardinals, who open a three-game set in Brooklyn tonight, were treated to a four-hit performance by rookie Brooks Lawrence in his first major league appearance. The 29-year-old righthander, just called up from Columbus, struck out four Pirates and walked two.

Philadelphia also received a pleasant pitching surprise when veteran Herman Wehmeier stayed 11 innings for the victory over Chicago.

Rookie Arnold Portocarrero turned on the Indians, who had beaten him three times, and tamed them on five hits for his third straight victory.

* * *

Billy Pierce gave his sore arm a three-inning test against Washington and held the Senators hitless. He took over for Sandy Consuegra who was credited with his ninth success. George Kell drove in two runs with a single and a home run.

40th-Place Finisher Wins in Yacht Race

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Although she was 40th to finish, the Malay, a trim 41-foot yawl, last night won the 635-mile Newport to Bermuda yacht race on the basis of corrected time.

The Malay, owned by D. D. Strohmeier of South Dartmouth, Mass., reached the finish line at St.Davids Head early last night. She had an elapsed time of five days, five hours, 52 minutes and 54 seconds and a corrected time of 4-03-40-29. The corrected time also gave her first place in the Class D event.

Wendell Anderson's yawl, Escapade, of Detroit was third.

HERE'S THE MOST WELCOME outboarding news in years! The new Scott-Atwater with Bail-a-matic pumps your boat dry, keeps it dry . . . automatically! Bail-a-matic ends the work and bother of dipping, sponging, dumping, hand pumping . . . and it's a built-in feature of four new Scott-Atwaters: 5, 7½, 10 and 16 hp!

Besides Bail-a-matic, the new Scott-Atwater line offers many other exciting features: the new slimmer Aquablade Lower Unit increases speed and gasoline mileage; Pillowed Power cushions the powerhead for a quieter, smoother ride. And all four models are equipped with Complete Shift; separate Siamese Fuel Tank; Twist-Grip Speed Control; remote control connections.

Sentiment Can Overcome Neutrality in Press Box

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Under normal conditions a sports press box is an oasis of neutrality in a desert of howling partisans.

But through the years we have seen a press box as wildly and emotionally partisan as any other spot. These were the rare occasions when sports writers' hearts took charge of their heads.

First comes to mind that unforgettable occasion when Babe Ruth stood alone at the plate, his once huge frame wasted away by illness, while a packed Yankee Stadium roared its last tribute to the king of them all.

That was a sad occasion, which tore at the heart strings, but happier occasions also come to mind. There was the time when Walter Johnson, king of all pitchers, getting a shot at a World Series when his once dreaded fast ball had disappeared, pitched with heart and head to win his first World Series victory. And the press box denizens gave body English to every pitch of the Big Train.

And who can forget the time when Les Patrick, coach of the N. Y. Rangers, then in his 40s, donned a goalie's pads, and played heroically to win in a Stanley Cup match. Even the hostile Canadian hockey fans were pulling for Les that night.

Then there was the time old Jim Braddock, supposedly all washed up and only recently off a relief line, stepped in to the ring to fight Max Baer for the world's heavyweight title.

And whom do you suppose the press box was rooting for? You're right. They were yelling for old Jim to come through and old Jim won the title.

There was a press box ovation for Earl Sande the day the little jockey tried in vain for a successful comeback after years out of the saddle. And another for Ted Williams, never a press box favorite, when he returned from the wars to make his first appearance for the Red Sox.

July Soybeans Weaker Today

CHICAGO (AP) — A carryover of selling from the previous session sent July soybeans down several cents in active dealings on the board of trade today. Wheat weakened but feed grains held fairly steady.

July soybeans tumbled the 10 cent daily limit yesterday and there were many unfilled selling orders in the market at the close. Many of these were carried over to today's session and accounted for a drop extending to more than five cents at the opening.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ⅞ lower, July $1.92⅜, corn ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.57¼, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 71¾, rye ½ lower, July $1.00¼, soybeans 4¾ lower to ½ higher, July $3.73¼ and lard 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $16.02.

Big 3 Buy Most Newspaper Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler ranked 1-2-3 as the biggest users of national newspaper advertising last year.

This was disclosed today in a report of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

General Motors Corp. kept a firm hold on the No. 1 position it has held among a national newspaper advertisers for the past seven years. The company boosted its newspaper advertising last year by 62.7 per cent, spending $32,944,248 or $12,692,697 above the 1952 figure.

Ford Motor Co. rose from 5th place to 2nd, spending $18,278,304 last year, an increase of 68.3 per cent.

Chrysler Corp. was in third place, having moved up from fourth the year before. Chrysler spent $14,582,794, a 24.6 per cent increase over 1952.

Two More FHA Men Suspended for 'Irregularity'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Housing and Home Finance Agency announced today that two more longtime officials of the Federal Housing Administration have been suspended pending disposition of charges of "serious irregularities."

Cole said he based his request to FHA for the suspensions on information furnished by William F. McKenna, deputy administrator in charge of the current investigation into FHA operations.

That inquiry began with allegations that (a) builders had reaped multi-million-dollar windfall profits through oversize loans for construction of apartment projects in a program now closed out, and (b) home owners were being bilked in operations under the current program for FHA-guaranteed loans on home improvement jobs.

Market Climbs Higher Again

NEW YORK (UP) — The Stock Market climbed still higher today with a rise that probed into new high ground again.

A number of areas in the list failed to join in the rise, but losses usually were quite small. The pace of trading was good with the rate around the two million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,260,000.

Airlines were active and higher right from the start. Pan American World Airways opened on 10,300 shares up ⅛ at 11¾, and American Airlines started on 2,500 shares up ⅛ at 13¾.

The electrical equipments were strong, and many railroads were in demand. The steels were steady and the motors were spotty.

Auto Output Will Be Same as Last Week

DETROIT (AP) — Motor vehicle output this week will be approximately the same as that of last week, Automotive News reported today.

The paper said U. S. factories will build 113,610 cars and 20,142 trucks this week compared with 113,626 cars and 20,227 trucks last week. It put passenger car output for June at 503,800 units for a January - June total of 2,957,000 cars. That would make this year's first half the third best in automotive history.

First Hurricane of Year Strikes

Brownsville, Texas Hit by Fringe of 80 M.P.H. Gulf Storm

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)— Alice, the first hurricane of the season, sprang up suddenly in the Gulf of Mexico and scooted over to Brownsville and the lonely Mexican coast today.

* * *

One man was injured in Brownsville when winds, which blew in gusts up to 56 miles an hour, knocked off a crossbar on a power line, and the crossbar hit him on the head. The man, unidentified, was working on the line.

Some 50 or 60 Girl Scouts in a camp near here were evacuated and set up their camp in the Brownsville Civic Center before dawn.

All persons on Padre Island, off the coast near Brownsville, were evacuated. Tides there were expected to be 5 to 8 feet above normal.

* * *

Brownsville, a city of 36,000 and 30 miles inland from the coast, is used to hurricanes. It's been at least sideswiped by all gulf hurricanes.

The first word that the Weather Bureau had that a storm was in the making was last night. The bureau had been keeping watch on a squally area in the gulf all this week.

Hal Boyle Says—

J. Fred Muggs to Return to Africa on World Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Fred Muggs, America's only incorporated ape, sets out next month on a flying trip around the world that will mark a new milestone in the air age.

The celebrated chimpanzee will become the first television star in history to girdle the globe by airplane while still in diapers. Neither J. Milton Berle nor J. Arthur Godfrey can make this claim.

Over at NBC, where Muggs has become at the age of 2 a veteran news commentator as co-star on J. Dave Garroway's "Today" show, J. Fred's ourney is being accorded more respect than J. Crhistopher Columbus' first voyage.

* * *

"The other day 20 people attended a conference to iron out the details," said a network man with a note of awe. "Muggs listened for a while, then stretched out in the leather seat of an executive's chair and fell sound asleep. He has tremendous self-possession."

Muggs, who is traveling as a goodwill ambassador for the U.S. television industry, is bound to be the most popular American tourist of the year for a very simple reason. He doesn't speak English.

Flying via Pan American World Airways, he will hit such key cities as Paris, Rome, Cairo, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Mexico City.

* * *

But the trip also holds a sentimental interest for him as he will revisit Africa, where he was born in poverty some 27 months ago.

Today, just 18 months after Muggs entered television, he has become the wealthiest simian alive. He earns $450 a week, has 300 suits, gets hundreds of fan letters each week, owns 4-inch-square ranches in Texas and Florida, and is incorporated under the name of J. Fred Muggs Enterprises. He has also judged several beauty contests, and is an admiral in the Nebraska navy. He has endorsed everything except a tractor.

Wearing a beret and dark glasses, Muggs will take in his entourage his secretary and Girl Friday, J. Mary Kelly; a cameraman; and his two young owners, J. Roy Waldron and J. Bud Mennella.

* * *

I went along with the chimp the other day to a children's store to watch him pick out some new clothing for the journey—a cutaway with morning trousers and pearl gray vest, a white gabardine suit; a red, white and blue bathing suit.

But it is an open secret in the TV industry that underneath his fancy garb J. Fred still wears diapers. It takes time to housebreak a TV commentator.

"We have arranged for a veterinarian to check J. Fred's health at each stop," said Mennella. "But what is worrying me is laundry service. Muggs needs 12 changes a day, and I don't know whether any airplane can haul all those diapers.

"In Africa I hope I can find a stand-in for Muggs. He has to make so many personal appearances now I don't know how much longer he can stand up under the strain. Television is very hard on any performer's nerves."

* * *

Miss Kelly already views the African stopover with dismay. She is fearful Muggs will go native, rip off his store clothes and disappear into the bush.

"We certainly have no romance in mind for him," she said firmly. "We definitely are not going to let him associate with any other chimpanzees.

"He's getting girl-crazy already. He likes to put his arms around them and hug and kiss them."

During his stay in the store Muggs tore down a rack of hats, broke a dummy head on the floor and jumped up and down in glee. Finally, he playfully refused to put his feet into a pair of overalls held out by Mennella.

"Quit being so silly, Muggs," said Menella, impatiently. "You're getting so you act like a child."

Pheasants Get Break So Does Benefactor

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (UP) — James Haithcock, 24, of Bloomingburg went to the hospital with a broken collarbone because of his feathered friends.

Haithcock told sheriff's officers his car hit the shoulder of a state highway, went over a roadside fence and plowed out into a farm field and finally overturned.

No, he said, he hadn't lost control of the car. Haithcock said he swerved purposely, to avoid a flock of pheasants meandering down the highway.

County Board Meets Monday

Will Hear Reports on Sanatorium, 'County Center,' Building

Oakland County Board of Supervisors will meet Monday to hear requests from three committees.

The June session is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the county office building, 1 Lafayette St.

The supervisors' brief agenda has Elmer Kephart, chairman of the tuberculosis sanatorium committee, scheduled to report.

The board's buildings and grounds committee, headed by Harry W. Horton, will report on proposed annexation of part of the "county center" just outside Pontiac to the city and on purchase of another four-acre piece of land there.

H. Lloyd Clawson, chairman of the board's special county building committee, will also report. Voters will decide Aug. 3 whether the county will have a new $4,500,000 courthouse and spread a half-mill tax (50 cents on each $1,000 worth of property, as equalized) for 20 years to pay for it.

Truck Trailer Doesn't Trail; Damages 5 Cars

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ladder truck No. 1 roared out of the firehouse, swung east and hurried to answer an alarm last night.

That is, the truck did. The trailer didn't. It rolled straight across the street, sideswiped one car and rammed a second.

The third flashed down the sidewalk, clipped a lamp post, lumbered across the street and crunched into two other cars.

The trailer halted its trip by breaking an axle after its tie-in with car No. 2. It was then discovered that the trailer driver hadn't made the trip at all.

"Ninety-nine times out of 100 I look back over the truck to see if everybody's there," explained Lt. L. B. Sheets. "This time I didn't."

No Injunction on Sunday Sales

Circuit Judge Doty Upholds City Ordinance in Opinion

A temporary injunction to prevent the city of Ferndale from enforcing an ordinance forbidding the sale of furniture and appliances on Sundays, requested by a Ferndale corporation, was refused Thursday by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

In a written opinion Judge Doty upheld the ordinance as valid, constitutional and not discriminatory. The Benjamin Appliance and Furniture Co. claimed the ordinance didn't apply because it was in conflict with a state statute and because it attempted to regulate a business not affected with the public interest.

The company also contended the ordinance was discriminatory, and amounted to class discrimination. Judge Doty's opinion said the Michigan Supreme Court has ruled several times on similar contentions and has always upheld the rights of the city in passing such ordinances.

In its bill of complaint the furniture company complained that drug stores handled household appliances and sold them on Sundays, without interference from the city.

"If any such drug stores do sell household appliances, including furniture, then such stores are violating the ordinance . . ." Judge Doty said.

Drayton Plains Girl Wed in Presbyterian Ceremony

MRS. RUSSELL SCHEUFLER

DRAYTON PLAINS — Lucille Hanggee of Drayton Plains became the bride of Russell Scheufler of Bison, Kan. in an evening ceremony Thursday at Community United Presbyterian Church here.

Baskets of garden flowers decorated the altar for the wedding attended by 125 guests.

Lucille is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Hanggee of 4645 Dixie Hwy. and Joseph Hanggee of Meinrad drive. Russell is the son of Mrs. Lena Scheufler of Ellinwood, Kan.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of tulle and French Chantilly lace over satin. Her fitted bodice featured a small collar of lace and points of lace on tapered sleeves. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink rubrum lilies.

Serving as maid of honor for the bride was Mary Clark of Drayton Plains, wearing a floor length gown of green nylon dotted Swiss over taffeta of the same color and featuring a round neckline and wide collar. She carried pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Belva Boston of Topeka, Kan., and Donna and Joyce Scheufler of Ellinwood, all wearing gowns similar to the maid of honor in different colors.

Serving as best man was Floyd Thompson of Sandusky. David Hanggee of Pontiac, brother of the bride, and Harvey Beach of Drayton Plains seated the guests.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlor. The couple then left for a wedding trip to Canada, the bride wearing a blue two-piece dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink rubrum lilies.

When returning the couple will make their home in Bison. The bride is a graduate of Waterford Township High School and Sterling College at Sterling, Kan. She was a teacher at Mullinville, Kan.

Rebels Massed for Major Battle

Government Leaders Vow to End Guatemala Invasion Soon

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The Guatemalan rebel command said last night its forces were massed for a full-scale attack on Chiquimula and that "bloody" fighting already raged there. But government military leaders, boasting advances on "all fronts," vowed to bring the invasion to a speedy end.

A communique from the invasion headquarters of Guatemalan exile leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas said a major battle was shaping up at Chiquimula, less than 70 miles northeast of the Guatemalan capital.

The announcement said that as the rebels pressed in to attack, the government hastily reinforced the Chiquimula garrison with artillery, mortars and machineguns. The communique said the garrison commander had deserted to the rebels.

Informed sources said the Honduran government was about to demand the expulsion of Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla on grounds he sparked Wednesday's Leftist student demonstration in Tegucigalpa. Seven persons were wounded when police opened fire.

Bill Warning Russia Expected to Be OK'd

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a resolution sponsored by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson warning Russia against interfering in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere.

Senate Republican Leader William J. Knowland said he expects the resolution to be brought up on the Senate floor and passed this afternoon.

Knowland said that some language changes acceptable to Johnson were made by the committee but that the modifications clarified and did not change the meaning of the resolution.

Driver Is Held in Injury of Boy

Motorist Catches Youth After 3-Year-Old Is Hit, Dragged by Car

A Walled Lake motorist is in Oakland County Jail today for investigation of felonious driving in connection with the hit-run injury of a three-year-old Walled Lake boy last night.

Buddy Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch of 936 Amenia, is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured arm.

The youngster was playing in front of his home last night when a car struck him, dragged him about 75 feet and then sped away.

A neighbor who witnessed the accident, Allen Willis of 974 Amenia, said he followed the car for six miles before forcing it to a stop.

The driver, Samuel Spencer, 20, of Cabin 200, Willow Camp, returned with Willis. He said he did not stop because he thought the boy was not injured.

Aerial Hijackers Rob Burmese Plane

RANGOON (INS)—Three armed men forced the pilot of a Burmese passenger plane to land on a beach west of Rangoon today and escaped with about $630,000 dollars in Burmese money.

The currency — three million kyats — was intended for the government treasury.

The Union of Burma C 47 was enroute to Akyab when the aerial hijackers entered the cabin, put a gun in the pilot's back and ordered him to land the twin-engined aircraft on the beach at Bassein, 100 miles west of the capital.

Visits Son in White Lake Township

Elderly Couple Flies from Germany to Share in Anniversary Celebration

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

Sixteen hours is about the only difference between the rolling hills of western Oakland County and the agricultural-industrial lowlands of northwestern Germany—except for the heat and humidity (it's hotter and drier there).

That's the way Paul Carls and his wife, Helene, sum it up any way.

The Carls — each 82 — are still marveling over their flight from Bremen, Germany to Wayne County's Romulus Airport Sunday night — a flight which took them from that teeming German city to the peaceful home of their son, William Carls, at 620 Edgewood Dr., Brendel Lake.

It was the first flight for the folks, but not their first trip to the United States. Mrs. Carls was here 55 years ago and both visited William's White Lake Township home in 1936.

Things were more peaceful in Germany then, but the force that was to somersault it and all of Europe into war was already at work.

"More people over there would like to get hold of Hitler than the people over here," Carls asserted, recalling the rubble, cramped living conditions and inflationary prices just short hours away.

Then, looking out into the warm summer sunshine at a pair of grazing Holsteins (another tie with the homeland), he said:

"There is no strife here. One neighbor doesn't bother the other."

Son Bill, 51, who own the Numatics Operating Valves Co. in Milford, does the translating for his parents, who are here to help him and his wife, Marie celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary today.

"The folks just keep repeating: 'Why can't we all live in peace and tranquility, as here?' " he said. He has been in America nearly 30 years.

Age has dimmed the Carls' heed to politics, but they feel there is a pretty evenly divided opinion among western Germans regarding a European army.

"Some people say that there has been so much war and destruction that they don't want any more of it," the elder Carls said.

About the Russians, only 160 miles away, Carls said opinion, too is divided.

"Not much information leaks from behind the Iron Curtain," he explained. "So you don't know exactly what to believe."

Although food and clothes are readily available in Germany the Carls said, prices are prohibitive.

A good mechanic, for instance, earns 400 marks a month. (The American dollar is worth a little over four marks.) A man's suit of good quality costs 260 marks, a pair of shoes, 40. A woman's dress of only fair quality runs from 30 to 40 marks, and a good cloth coat costs 200 marks.

The Carls have not thought yet about when they are going back. He retired in 1944, when bombs destroyed the family home in Osnabruck in Hanover province so there is no hurry.

Carls was in charge of maintenance at a steel rolling mill up to that time. Then they went to live where they now reside, with relatives in Bremen, 80 miles away.

With all their awe over the cars, food, clothes and homes here, the Carls' attitude was best summed up by Mrs. Carls, who said:

Dancer Turns Into Director

Peter Calls the Shots on TV's Jack Paar Show and Summer Holiday

Over six feet tall and built like a halfback, Birch looks like the triple - threat gridiron hero who is coming back with the abolition of the two - platoon system.

Originally signed to do the choreography on the Jack Paar Show, Peter was so obviously gifted in matters of direction that in time the important directorial duties were entrusted to him.

Peter had already proved over the years that he could plan dance routines for a living, or do the dancing, or sing.

He has sung and danced on numerous outstanding programs, such as Stop the Music.

He played the dance lead on Broadway for two years in Gentlemen Prefer Blondes and danced in Carousel, Oklahoma and One Touch of Venus. He was the star dancer on the Jane Froman Show.

Birch's versatility is rooted in sound economic reasoning. "Sooner or later," he says, "a dancer discovers that his legs aren't what they used to be. He slows up. Therefore, I think it wise to develop other talents."

Director, choreographer, dancer, singer Birch also has demonstrated a flair for dramatics.

He played dramatic roles for an entire season at Westport (Conn) Country Playhouse, has appeared opposite Sarah Churchill on television, and handled an acting assignment, in addition to his dancing, in Gentlemen Prefer Blondes.

TOMMY JIMMY

The fabulous Dorsey brothers, whose feuds sparked the entertainment world, have joined forces once more and invaded the realm of television. The duo will alternate the emcee role on "Stage Show," an hour-long TV variety program with top stage, screen and recording stars. The show will debut on July 3, filling in while "The Jackie Gleason Show" enjoys a summer hiatus.

Jersey Turnpike Being Beautified

The Pike-Ette is a new idea in travel service. She is a hostess greeting and giving traveler's aid to the millions who annually use the turnpike and its 10 service stations.

In a trim green - and - white striped shirtwaist dress and perky cap she presides in the information centers. These centers are a new slant on service station operations, too. They are brightly decorated with draperies, displays, comfortable chairs and are clean and welcoming.

Bingo Petitions Need 30,000 Signatures

Petition signatures asking to have the question of charity bingo and raffles put on the November ballot now total 254,000, with another 30,000 needed by the July 2 filing date.

The petitions, sponsored by the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations, seek a revision of the state law which forbids lotteries, raffles, and bingo.

If the required number of signatures are presented, the question of allowing non-profit, charitable broups to run the games will be placed on the ballot.

Oakland County Chairman Robert White said 600 signatures have been turned in locally in the past two days.

Hearing Ailment Seen Cutting Life

NEW YORK (INS) — A progressive hearing loss may have a serious effect on the central newvous system and, in some instance may even contribute to severe illness and a shortened span of life, according to a well-known New York City ear doctor.

Dr. Edmund Prince Fowler, a consultant to the American Hearing Aid Association, believes that continuing nervous stresses and frustrations are frequently important factors in certain types of chronic deafness.

Dr. Fowler pointed out that straining to catch conversations keeps the person with defective hearing in a constant state of tension which, in some cases, leads to further nervous exhaustion and irritability.

He added this also may hold true for those who converse with the hard of hearing — friends, realtives and business acquaintances.

State Lists 4,408 TB Patients in Acceptable Beds

LANSING (UP) — The State Health Department reported today that a quarterly servey showed Michigan has 4,408 tuberculosis hospital beds cn fire resistant buildings.

The survey, based on data furnished by 27 tuberculosis sanatoria throughout the state, indicated 753 additional beds are classified as "unacceptable" because they are located in non-fire resistant buildings.

The report showed 4,604 patients receiving treatment as of March 31 and 90 patients awaiting admission.

State health officials said that since the quarterly survey was completed another 700 beds have been made available or will be ready for occupancy in the next few months.

Compared with December 1950, Michigan now has 549 "acceptable" tuberculosis hospital beds and 350 fewer patients awaiting admission. The number of hospitalized cases is about the same in 1954 as in 1950, officials said.

Grateful TB Patient Takes Nursing Course

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Flossie Shelton, a former tuberculosis patient has enrolled for nurses' training because she got such "wonderful treatment" while she was ill.

The 23-year-old Miss Shelton learned she had tuberculosis when she was 15. She was a patient at Oakville Sanatorium for 3½ years and spent another year "in the country, resting" before she was cured.

"After the wonderful treatment I had from so many nurses, I knew for certain I wanted to be a nurse," she said.

Furnace Man Delayed by Own Repairs at Home

OMAHA (AP) — Omaha World Herald columnists John Koffend wrote about the time his furnace went haywire and the repair man was late in coming.

When he did get there, he convinced Koffend his reason was excellent. His own furnace was on the blink.

Bob Considine Says:

Winston Finds President a Firm Man to Deal With

NEW YORK (INS) — Ike and Winnie meet again. They are not especially happy meetings for Britain's Prime Minister, since Eisenhower has become President. F.D.R. and H.S.T. were more inclined to do what the Prime Minister asked. Eisenhower, so close to Churchill during the latter reaches of World War II, is hard to stampede as President.

The first volume of Churchill's five-volume account of World War II makes no mention of the man from Dennison, Tex., and Abilene, Kans., who was chosen to be the supreme commander of the war against Hitler and Mussolini. The second volume makes only two references to him, both advanced as sort of afterthoughts.

On page 4 of "Their Finest Hour" the Prime Minister wrote, in the course of a tribute to his own generals, "five years later almost to a day it was possible to take a more favourable view of our circumstances . . . In addition to the immense captures by General Eisenhower, nearly three million German soldiers were taken prisoners in twenty-four hours by Field Marshal Alexander in Italy and Field Marshal Montgomery in Germany."

On page 192, speaking of certain land given up by the French, Churchill wrote, "the Allied Armies under Eisenhower, then an unknown American colonel, bought it back for us later at a high price."

There are nearly 100 references to Eisenhower in Churchill's final volume on his account of World War II, including this message to President Truman dated May 9, 1945:

"...Let me tell you what General Eisenhower has meant to us. In him we have had a man who set the unity of the Allied Armies above all nationalist thoughts. In his headquarters unity and strategy were the only reigning spirits. ... at no time has the principle of alliance between noble races been carried and maintained at so high a pitch. In the name of the British Empire and Commonwealth I express to you our admiration of the firm, far-sighted and illuminating character and qualities of General of the Army Eisenhower."

Eisenhower's account of World War II ("Crusade in Europe") has many tributes to Churchill. But the over-all impression one gets is that of a realistic Mid-Westerner determined not to be taken in by anyone, even by one of the most charming figures in history.

One got that impression at the Bermuda Conference last winter, too. Eisenhower wanted no part of flying off to Moscow or to a Russian satellite to talk through an interpreter to Malenkov, and he quickly informed the old gentleman on this point.

It was a blow to Churchill. He was a very tired old man who, it seemed, had run up against forces and personalities beyond even his comprehension.

H. V. Kaltenborn, another great elder, I think, bristled with rage the other night on Ann Gillis's "Who Said That?" when it was suggested, ever so gently, that this might be Churchill's last trip to the land to which — biologically, he owes half allegiance. Kaltenborn swore that Churchill would be coming back for years and years. I trust he does — for what ever he does makes a story. But I, too, feel that this is a last performance. And that it will be in front of a real tough audience—Ike.

TEETH-EASER—The "Chin-rester" was designed primarily for the pipe smoker with weak teeth, according to its New York manufacturer. The pipe has a specially curved stem that rests unobtrusively against the chin. This supposedly eliminates the need to grip the pipe tightly in the teeth, and makes for a rested smoker.

Girl More Interested in Tricycle Than TV

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pamela Schmidt, well and happy once more, tonight was more interested in her fifth birthday, coming July 9, than in the fact she was the subject of a heart operation shown on millions of the nation's television screens.

"But we can hardly believe that last year about this time she was given only six months to a year to live. After a checkup the doctors are making shortly after the first of the month, they expect all restrictions on her activities will be lifted.

Multiple Sclerosis Body Seeks Sclerotic Twins

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is seeking identical twins, either or both of whom suffer from the disease, to find out if heredity or environment causes the crippling of the central nervous system.

The society yesterday asked any twins suffering from multiple sclerosis, the cause and cure of which are unknown, to communicate with its offices at 270 Park Ave. here.
