Censored Facts in Army Report to Get Airing

Wilson Makes Pledge to Give Deleted Parts to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) pledged today that the public will "get all the facts" that were censored out of an Army memorandum critical of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his staff, if the Pentagon still has them.

Publication of the memorandum touched off a sharp controversy between Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and McCarthy and his chief aides.

Symington established yesterday that parts of it had been deleted. The memorandum detailed instances in which McCarthy and the chief counsel of his subcommittee, Roy Cohn, allegedly sought special treatment for Pvt. G. David Schinne, a former committee aide.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and other Pentagon officials promised the Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday that these missing parts, together with stenographers' transcripts of telephone conversations in the dispute, would be handed to any congressional committee asking them.

Wilson assured the committee he was "not going to try to hide anything."

Other Pentagon officials have said some profanity was struck out of the memorandum.

In Chicago yesterday, McCarthy declined comment on Wilson's testimony, but said, "We'll have all the story complete before we get through."

Wilson said, among other things, he has full confidence in the truthfulness of Stevens and the Army report.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) who failed in attempts to steer the Armed Services Committee away from the dispute, said in an interview he would not ask for the previously omitted material.

He noted that McCarthy's own investigations subcommittee, with Sen. Mundt (R-SD) as acting chairman, already has promised public hearing on the Stevens-McCarthy row "and I hope and pray we won't get into that."

Informed of this, Symington, the only senator serving on both groups, said:

"I'm promising that if the Armed Services Committee does not ask for them and make them public that the investigations group will."

Post Office Thrift Is Not for the Birds

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (AP)—From Leominster to Fitchburg is five miles as the crow flies—but 115 miles by U. S. mail.

Since an economy move eliminated the mail route between the two cities, this is what happens to a letter:

It is mailed by train in Leominster, goes by truck to Worcester, then by train to South Station, Boston, by train.

A truck carries it to North Station, Boston, from which it goes back to Fitchburg by train.

Spring will arrive in Pontiac at 10:45 p. m. Saturday, but you won't recognize the lady.

The long-awaited lady won't be anybody's idea of an ideal Saturday night date, the U. S. Weather Bureau says. She'll be damp and cold and spitting snow flurries.

And weathermen who've been watching her behavior say she may give Pontiac the cold shoulder for quite a while.

The weather bureau's Washington office says temperatures should average a bit cooler than normal for the next 30 days. A normal day in late March has a temperature range of 32 to 40.

For Pontiac, Saturday will mark the end of a tough, cold, snowy winter—generally colder than the one before it.

'Prince Onaga' Unmasked

HAILS FROM ST. LOUIS—Fred Williams, of East St. Louis, Ill., who masqueraded as Prince Onaga of the Belgian Congo, is shown with his wife, Margaret, in San Francisco as he was questioned by immigration authorities. The case came to light when immigration authorities, believing he was from the Belgian Congo, asked to see his passport.

'African Prince' TV Star Just an American Hooper

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Prince Onaga of the Wat-sui in the Belgian Congo"—star of a five-year song-and-dance hoax and of television shows and a movie—turns out to be plain Fred Williams of East St. Louis.

But Fred—against whom no charges were filed—refuses to abdicate.

"I think a black face should be somebody," the middle-aged son of a laborer said today.

Besides, before he and his wife donned their regal robes, they often were hungry. Then he discovered it's so much easier for a royal dance team to find work than for two ordinary dancers, home towns East St. Louis and Los Angeles. His wife is the former Margaret Cabelle of Los Angeles.

He insisted he still be called prince. And his chief worry was:

What will happen at the box office at Mariner Memorial Auditorium here April 5. On that date he and his wife were scheduled for a recital of African folk songs and dances.

Fred needn't have worried: that appearance was canceled. "It was a bit unfair of the immigration people to reveal this now, just before our concert," complained Fred, 40—the prince.

"They might have waited just a little. I haven't passed any bad checks, or hurt anyone. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Dr. Hannah to Resign U. S. Manpower Job

LANSING (INS)—Dr. John A. Hannah, Michigan State College president, said today that he is retiring as assistant secretary of defense for manpower July 1 or earlier if Congress adjourns before that date.

Doctor Hannah, who was first given a one-year leave from Michigan State and then a six-month extension, becomes the second Michigan man to step out of the Eisenhower administration. Former General Motors Vice President Roger M. Kyes is quitting as deputy defense secretary on May 1.

The heating season of the past winter (September through March), however, was slightly milder than the same period a year ago, due chiefly to a mild October.

The city has dug out from under 23.3 inches of snow since winter blew in Dec. 21, dragging a 3.5-inch snowfall behind it.

Last winter's snows totaled 10.83 inches, less than half as much.

Temperatures dropped to 10 above zero—or lower—on 14 days this winter. Last winter had only 10 such days. And the thermometer got down to zero this year for the first time in several years.

Pontiac residents had their first real sample of the winter to come on Dec. 14, when three inches of snow blanketed the city and sent motorists scurrying for anti-freeze.

A second snowstorm marked the first day of winter Dec. 21, and ushered in a cold wave that put the snow in the freezer to keep 'til Christmas Day.

U. S. Ambassador Allison Says America Will Pay for Japs Caught in H-Blast

TOKYO (UP)—Ambassador John M. Allison told the Japanese people today the United States would pay "fair and just compensation" to fishermen exposed to the Bikini hydrogen blast "if the facts so warrant."

Allison issued a statement which offered renewed assurances that U. S. civilian and military facilities in Japan are available to give the "greatest possible degree of assistance to Japanese authorities."

The ambassador said joint investigations already were being made to determine the extent of damage caused by the March 1 explosion, estimated in Washington to have had the force of 15,000,000 tons of TNT.

"In advance of these findings, I am authorized to make clear that the United States is prepared to take such steps as may be necessary to insure fair and just compensation of the facts so warrant," Allison said.

Fifteen more fishing boats from the mid-Pacific and Indian Ocean put mid-Pacific and Indian some of them were reported to be radioactive.

Inspection teams boarded the vessels with Geiger counters and ordered the captains to keep their cargoes of tuna in the holds.

The Japanese Tuna-Bonito Fisheries Assn. set up a central headquarters in Tokyo to direct the inspection of all ocean-going fishing boats which had passed within 700 miles of the Bikini atoll.

An American medical expert on radiation said the two most severely burned crew members of the Fukuryu Maru, first radioactive ship to reach port, were out of danger and would recover.

Dr. Masao Tsuruki, Japanese specialist who examined victims of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki blasts, said a physical check of the Fukuryu Maru's crew, showed the effect of radioactivity on the crew members was the same shown by persons burned in the 1945 explosions.

Townships Bill Passes Senate

OKs Forming of Special Assessment Districts to Finance Improvements

LANSING (UP)—The Senate voted 22-1 today to pass a House-approved bill authorizing creation in townships of special assessment districts to finance sewer, water, and road improvements.

The measure was given immediate effect. If the House agrees Monday to minor Senate amendments, the measure will go to the governor for signature.

Before the measure was advanced through preliminary Senate debate, the upper chamber adopted an amendment sponsored by Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) to make the act apply only to townships which have an assessed valuation of $10,000,000 or more.

The measure allows petitioning by 65 per cent or more of property owners in an area to create a special assessment district empowered to undertake improvement projects.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Walter McMahon (D-Hazel Park), previously was passed by the House.

Families Offer Home for Boy

Youth, 13, Is Being Held for Psychiatric Exam After Fleeing Home

At least half a dozen families have offered to care for Joe Pilat, the 13-year-old who fled from his guardian's Brown City farm home Monday morning and holed up with a shotgun and 18 shells in a nearby barn.

Lapeer Undersheriff Neil Gass said today the offers had come from as far away as Detroit, but most came from the Brown City-North Branch area.

In Ann Arbor, Clare Golden of the Michigan Children's Institute, a branch of the State Social Welfare Dept. said:

"Naturally we're interested in any expression of interest and as soon as we know what kind of plan the youngsters need we will talk with these people."

Meanwhile, Joe is in Flint Juvenile Home awaiting psychiatric examinations. A case worker quoted Joe as saying he wanted to stay in the community where he had been living.

Miss Golden said Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kreiner, with whom the youth had been living for the past nine years, "are interested in helping him."

After firing off the shotgun on a dare, Joe was persuaded to surrender to State Police and sheriff's deputies. He said he barricaded himself in the barn so authorities would pick him up.

Wheat Damaged by Dust, Snow in Plains States

DENVER (AP)—Dust and snow-bearing winds blew south and east out of Colorado and Arizona today, after a two-day assault, leaving in their wake crop damage estimated at 16 million dollars and up to 11 inches of snow.

The estimate of crop damage covered eastern and southeastern Colorado and came from State Agriculture Commissioner Paul W. Swisher. He said the wind and lack of moisture combined to destroy wheat crops capable of producing eight million bushels.

Wyoming got most of the snow, including the 11-inch fall—at Casper.

California Has Quake

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California was shaken by a rolling earthquake shortly before 2 a. m. today. The tremor was strong enough to bring many residents out of bed but apparently caused little damage.

Under the bill, addicts may now come forward for treatment without being branded as criminals. It places the addict under the supervision of the State Health Commissioner for hospitalization and rehabilitation.

It states specifically that the commitment of any patient cannot be deemed a conviction and the proceedings under which he is committed cannot be used against him in any criminal case.

France Orders All Planes Into Dien Bien Phu Battle

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—France threw every available warplane into the battle for Dien Bien Phu today, hoping to wipe out the Russian-style artillery concentrations that are turning the encircled out- into a smoking shambles.

U. S.-made Bearcat fighter-bombers and B26 light bombers were mustered for the attack. French Gen. Henri Navarre told the pilots that his hopes of victory are riding on their wings.

"In these decisive moments, I am counting on you," Navarre said in an order of the day. "The whole of our aerial forces, without exception, must join in the battle. Success depends on the efficacy of their action."

The Communists have at least temporarily abandoned the "human sea" infantry attacks that cost them 12,000 casualties in the past week. They appeared to be depending on their 75 and 105 mm. field guns and 120 mm. mortars to smash Dien Bien Phu's defenses.

The French outpost's vital airstrip is now within range of the Communist guns, and the Reds appeared determined not only to halt the supply airlift to the surrounded fortress but to prevent the evacuation of wounded.

The Reds had allowed a few hospital planes to land during the battle, but they put 20 shells through the wings and fuselage of a Red Cross plane that tried to touch down on the airstrip Thursday.

Drug Addiction Bill Ready for Signing

LANSING (AP)—A bill permitting courts to hospitalize drug addicts for medical treatment was passed unanimously by the House Thursday and sent to the governor for his signature.

The bill, written by Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) was hailed as a progressive step to meet the problems of an estimated 5,000 drug addicts in Michigan.

Under the bill, addicts may now come forward for treatment without being branded as criminals. It places the addict under the supervision of the State Health Commissioner for hospitalization and rehabilitation.

It states specifically that the commitment of any patient cannot be deemed a conviction and the proceedings under which he is committed cannot be used against him in any criminal case.

Carries Slashes but Exemption Hike Vote Fails

First Code Changes in 70 Years Face Weeks of Senate Battling

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower chalked up a big victory in House passage yesterday of a major tax revision bill without a personal income tax cut he opposed.

However, an even tougher fight is shaping up in the Senate today.

With party lines holding unusually firm, the House beat down 210-204 a Democratic move to slash income taxes $2,400,000,000 a year by raising the personal exemption for each taxpayer and dependent from $600 to $700.

The President went to the country by television and radio Monday night to urge defeat of this proposal.

He said it was politically inspired and would be a serious blow to the government's finances, even endangering national defense.

The whole tax issue is certain to be aired at length in the coming campaign for control of Congress. There were sharply varying appraisals of yesterday's House action.

Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, said that as a result he has raised from 45 to 60 his estimate of anticipated Democratic gains in the House in November.

His Republican counterpart, Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, replied that the tax action will bring votes to the GOP. He predicted Republican gains of 25 House seats.

In the showdown, only 10 of the 211 Republicans voting supported the exemption increase. Nine Democrats opposed it as compared with 193 who voted "aye." The lone independent voted for it.

The House afterwards passed by a 339-80 vote the 875-page tax revision bill to which the Democrats had tried to attach the reduction in income levies.

This measure would rewrite the entire tax code for the first time in 70 years. It covers such a broad range of subjects that Senate floor

McCarthy to Answer Adlai Despite Laryngitis Bout

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) was in bed with a case of virus laryngitis today but said he would deliver his counterattack against Adlai E. Stevenson despite the illness. His temperature had been 103.

Dr. Raulf Hanson examined McCarthy on his arrival here and said the senator had "a virus laryngitis with a sore throat and a high temperature."

The doctor said he strongly advised against McCarthy working today and tonight, "but he insists he is going to."

McCarthy tonight will answer, in a speech before the Milwaukee Young Republican Club, what he calls a personal attack upon himself by Stevenson.

Clear channel radio station WGN, of Chicago, affiliate of the Chicago Tribune, will carry the speech from 9:30 to 10 p. m. EST and pipe it to at least four other stations.

The broadcasting arrangements were the best the senator could get after the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System refused to grant him free air time to answer Stevenson's recent Miami, Fla., speech.

The defeated Democratic presidential candidate at that time criticized McCarthy and President Eisenhower's leadership of the Republican Party, calling it "half McCarthy—half Eisenhower."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon made the official GOP reply last Saturday.

TWO Recreation Board Gives Final Approval to Budget of $15,110 for Coming Year

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — A slightly increased budget gained final approval of the recreation board last night, and will be submitted to city commissioners before April 1.

The total proposed cash budget of $15,110 is $1,700 higher than last year. Anticipated revenues of $2,850 would reduce the total sought to $12,260, raising the city's 1954-55 share by $1,200.

Mrs. William Jackson, chairman, reported progress is being made by a nine-member committee working on initial steps to combat rising juvenile delinquency in the area.

Three fields of possible attention have been outlined, she said: the immediate field of youngsters already in trouble with police; facilities for children not causing difficulties, and possible long-term education.

Mrs. Jackson pointed to the city's annual Halloween Party as exemplifying the last point. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has estimated the juvenile problem for that night would be doubled if not for the party.

Roland W. Reese, board member, came up with a breakdown of cost estimates for a possible portable artificial ice skating rink. A rink approximately 50x185 feet, complete with music, lighting and fencing, would run about $60,000, he said.

He proposed and stated advantages for utilizing the four tennis courts to be built at Elton Park as a winter ice rink.

The board agreed that Reese should discuss with City Manager Donald Egbert methods of financing the rink, and also minor changes in the tennis court construction which would be necessary before any recommendations are made.

A special meeting of the Birmingham Gun Club will be held at 5 p. m. tomorrow at the clubhouse, to vote on a proposed amendment to the club's constitution.

Additional Birmingham social news on page 17.

The proposal would change the date of the annual meeting from the first Saturday in December to the first Saturday in January.

Tomorrow will also be the last club shoot during March.

Meeting at 6:30 tonight for a potluck spaghetti dinner, the Young Couple's Club of Kirk in the Hills Church will hear member Robert Thompson speak and show pictures of his recent journey to Switzerland.

Boy Scout Troop B-7 and Scoutmaster Eric Jacobson will leave at noon tomorrow for a campout at the Highland Recreation Area. Jacobson recently received awards for an "outstanding record for re-registration and planned progress and activity" from Boy Scout headquarters.

The Birmingham Board of Education has adopted a policy requiring parents who move from this school district to another to transfer their children to the new schools immediately.

Parents moving from one attendance area to another will have to transfer their children to the school in the new attendance area.

Families planning to move into the school district will not be allowed to place their child in school until the move is made.

The board also moved to discourage the circumvention of such policy by securing guardianship papers for the sole purpose of establishing a legal residence within the school district for children wishing to attend the Birmingham schools.

As guest of the Civitan Club breakfast meeting at 8 tomorrow at Colonial Manor, Jack McLeod will show movies of the Le Mans car race.

Stevens Upholds Army Integrity

Terms Irresponsible Attacks on Service and Officers 'Deplorable'

CHARLESTON, S. C. — Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said today, "It is deplorable that the Army... and especially its senior officers should too often be the target for irresponsible criticism."

The secretary's row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), one phase of which centered on Stevens' charge that Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker underwent abusive treatment at a McCarthy subcommittee session, is still unsettled.

However, Stevens did not mention McCarthy in his talk prepared for the inauguration of retired Gen. Mark W. Clark as president of the Citadel, historic military school in Charleston.

The secretary said, however, he is determined to defend the Army, "its prestige and integrity."

He said that nothing was more detrimental to the military service than the feeling among its members that they are held in low esteem by their fellow citizens. "Any action which fosters such a conclusion strikes at the tap roots of our security," he said.

He said also that President Eisenhower's expressed opinion that military leaders "must not be thrust into the political arena to become involved in partisan politics" has too often been "forgotten or flouted."

lanterns marked deep washouts and caving on local roads.

But the weather spelled spring.

Sunny skies and soaring temperatures reaching into the high 40s and 50s warmed Pontiac's winter-weary heart for a week until blustery winds spat rain and colder weather on the city Feb. 20.

Many Pontiac folks (and the weather bureau's 30-day forecast) thought winter was about over.

But winter, having its strength for one last fling, was planning a wild week for Pontiac.

March trudged into Pontiac burdened with four inches of snow, shook it off on the astonished city, then blew up winds which whipped it into drifts.

The winter's heaviest snowfall sent road crews scurrying to trucks and plows—equipment that hardly had a chance to let its engines cool for three straight days.

March 2 brought another storm—an inch and a half of snow. Some 54 schools closed and thousands of youngsters stayed home.

A third storm—packing another four inches of snow—swept down on the area March 3. More schools closed; and almost half the county's 100,000 youngsters were away from classes.

Exhausted road crews stumbled home for a few hours' sleep and trudged back to work again. Four-foot snowdrifts marooned cars and blocked side roads.

Not all the schools had their doors open for business again until Monday, March 8.

This was Winter, 1953-1954.

Let's hope we've seen the last of it.

Tax Revision Bill Passed by House

consideration of it may not come for two or three months.

The permanent revision program in the general tax bill would cost about $1,400,000,000 in revenue the first year. Democrats say the loss would mount to 3½ billions when all provisions take full effect; Republicans dispute this.

The bill would permit corporations to make bigger depreciation deductions during the first years of use of plant and equipment. It also would cut taxes on dividends paid to stockholders.

It would carry a wide variety of fringe benefits for individuals, including increased deductions for medical expenses, deductions for widows, deductions to farmers for soil conservation expenses, dependency deductions for college students even though they earn more than $600, and additional deductions on retirement income.

Another provision would extend for a year from April 1 the present 52 per cent corporate income tax rate. Under present law it is due to drop to 47 per cent at the end of this month, which would mean a revenue loss of $1,200,000,000.

Wife Conspired to Kill Spouse

Investigators Maintain Woman Tried to Hire Them as Gunmen

DETROIT (INS)—A 42-year-old Wyandotte housewife today was accused of trying to hire two Toledo gunmen to kill her third husband so that she could cash his $4,000 double indemnity life insurance policy.

Held for investigation of attempted murder is Mrs. Hattie Bowlin, tripped up when her two hired killers turned out to be investigators for the Wayne County prosecutor.

Mrs. Bowlin was quoted as saying she wanted her husband out of the way because he was stingy and never took her any place. Later, when confronted by her 53-year-old husband Walter, she claimed the whole thing "was just a joke."

Although Bowlin has not yet decided to prosecute, one thing is certain, he said:

"I'm gonna change my place of eating. And I'm gonna change the beneficiary on that insurance policy too."

The plot was uncovered when Charles Cross, 16-year-old cousin of Mrs. Bowlin's second husband, told police she approached him a week ago and offered him $1,000 to kill Bowlin.

Investigators George Rose and Nick Grabowski were assigned to pose as Toledo henchmen and rendezvoused with Mrs. Bowlin in a bar Thursday.

They said she offered them $1,000 out of the insurance money if they would kill her husband and even took them home to demonstrate where and how to ambush her husband when he returned from work.

Williams Asserts Faith in Police Despite Scandal

DETROIT (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams believes most Detroit policemen are "good, honest and effective law enforcement officers," despite the current investigation into alleged payoffs to some officers on the force.

The governor made the statement Thursday night at a dinner meeting of the Detroit Police Lieutenants' and Sergeants' Assn. He was given an honorary membership in the organization.

"The current charges affecting a few officers should not, and I am sure do not, reflect upon the honesty of the thousands of others who are doing every day a good and loyal job of protecting the public," Williams said.

"I welcome the opportunity to testify to my firm belief that the personnel of the Detroit Police Force, as a whole, is a corps of good, honest and efficient law officers," the Governor said.

"That opinion, I am certain, is shared by the vast majority of the people of Michigan."

UP Development Bureau to Consider New Era

MARQUETT (U)—Leading Upper Michigan into a new economic era will be discussed by members of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau next Thursday.

The eventual construction of a pipeline across the peninsula, an expected increase in tourist trade, construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and building of a bridge to span the international rapids at Sault Ste. Marie are topics on the agenda.

Van Valkenburg Ailing, Broomfield Takes Over

LANSING (U)—Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) went home today for treatment of a virus respiratory infection and a painful boil.

He had been resting in his hotel room here, but was driven home Thursday to be under his own doctor's care. He expected to return to the Capitol Monday.

In his absence, Speaker Pro Tem William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) has been presiding over the House sessions.

Miss Universe of '53 Planning Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The two-month-old marriage of Christiane Martel, Miss Universe of 1953, and Ronnie Marengo, Stockton, Calif. department store heir, is on the rocks today.

The 17-year-old French beauty's marital rift was disclosed by her sister, Gergette, who married film director Vincente Minnelli a short time after Christiane became a bride.

Mrs. Minnelli said Christiane, who met the wealthy 21-year-old Californian when she appeared at the merchandising establishment owned by his father, Peter Marengo, already has seen an attorney about a legal separation. She added:

"It's too bad, but sometimes things work out that way."

U. S. Not Likely to Buy Off Reds

French Peace Hopes for Indochina Appear
Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — French hopes that the United States will try to buy peace in Indochina by making concessions to the Chinese Communists seem destined to end in disappointment.

A check of official opinion indicated today that this country has no intention of holding out to Red China at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far East peace problems either the prospect of recognition or the lure of trade as payments for peace.

There have been news reports from Paris that at least some responsible French leaders believe only such American inducements can offer any real hope of an end to the Indochina fighting.

U.S. officials do not necessarily agree with this point of view. There is no indication that the Reds at Peking care about American recognition or are enough interested in trade with the United States to give up their bid for Indochina.

The real difficulty between Washington and Paris on the problem, however, is their different approaches to the problem of Indochina peace. The French government undoubtedly feels itself under pressure to get peace in Indochina at some price. But the United States has been willing to consider only a settlement which did not bring in outside issues and which would secure the strategic land against new Communist aggression.

In the Geneva talks the world powers will tackle first the problem of Korea and second that of Indochina. A trade embargo was imposed by the United States on Red China because of the Korean War. At the moment it appears that only Communist agreement to the unification, freedom and independence of all Korea would bring an agreement to lift or substantially modify the trade barrier.

On the recognition issue Secretary of State Dulles now has a completely frozen policy. Powerful political elements are absolutely opposed to recognition to the Red regime in China and opposition to this view, if it exists, is seldom heard. Diplomats believe that only a long period of good behavior on the part of the Chinese Communists could bring any change in the national attitude on recognition.

Indochina came up for discussion yesterday at a private White House chat between President Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former supreme commander in the Far East. MacArthur, confirming this, declined to give details.

Boy, Dying of Gunshot Asks Leniency for Friend

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Before dying of an accidental gunshot fired by his companion, Robert Pratt, 15, forgave his chum, William Woodhams Jr., also 15, yesterday.

"Don't be hard on William. He didn't mean it," Robert said to a policeman.

The boys were target shooting in a dump with a small-calibre rifle.

We say this to America...

It took Studebaker, the great independent, to build the FIRST
really modern car!

IT HAD to be done — and Studebaker did it! Studebaker — the great independent of the automobile world — once again has set the pattern for car design for years ahead!

Today's new Studebaker — styled by Raymond Loewy — is Studebaker's answer to America's growing demand for lower cost motoring.

The speedlined new Studebaker silhouette is designed to save gasoline sensationally because it's free from power-wasting excess bulk.

Studebaker has no "family" of cars to consider when it introduces a new model. Pace-setting Studebaker builds no other cars. Studebaker is completely independent.

That independence is the reason the far-advanced new 1954 Studebaker has swung on the scene so fast.

Drive the car! Get the proof!

Get ahead of the parade — and get a '54 Studebaker. Don't settle for an old-fashioned "new" car this year.

Get the out-ahead styling — the stand-out operating economy — of a far-advanced '54 Studebaker. You're sure to get more for Studebaker's modern design when you trade.

Words of Faith Start Girl on Road to Christian Life

By AMELIA ANTHONY
Founder of Gristown, U.S.A.
The distressed voices in the corridor awoke me. Then came the knock on my door.
"Mama, Myrna is running away. Mama."
Putting on my robe, I looked at my watch. It was 2 a.m.
"Myrna's packing," Ellen said. "She says she doesn't want to stay here anymore."
"All right, dear," I said. "Go back to your room. I'll talk to Myrna."

NO. 1 IN MICHIGAN
UNITED SHIRT DISTRIBUTORS
35 Stores in Michigan

Dressing, I realized that "talk" was about all I could do with Myrna. We could not prevent her from running away. When Gristown was established in 1949, I wanted it to be a true home, so there were no fences or barriers. Only the quality of love and sense of belonging would keep Myrna and any others from leaving.

But love had been a weak weapon against Myrna. Since the day three weeks before, when juvenile authorities had turned her over to me, she had rebuffed my every attempt to get close to her. Myrna seemed hardened at 15 in a way that would have been pitiful in a mature woman.

She had parents but they neglected her. She was not eligible for an orphanage. Since she had done nothing wrong, there was no need to send her to a detention institution. Myrna had no suitable relatives. No one wanted her.

But I did. For youngsters like her I had founded Gristown. And now she had decided to go. I hurried to her room where she was packing her suitcase with grand flourishes. When she saw me, her taut face set in determined lines.

"You're leaving?" I asked. "It looks like it," she said curiously. The window was opened—obviously her escape. I helped her pack. "Ladies leave by the front door," I said, picking up her suitcase, led her into the living room.

I opened the door and handed her the bag. "Good-bye, Myrna," I said. "I know that God will watch over you."

She looked up at me quickly, and for an instant her dark eyes filled with confusion. Then she clinched her teeth and walked off into the dark night. I watched her until she was out of sight. Dejected, I closed the door and went to my office.

Too crushed even for tears. I sat there, numb by my first failure. And when words finally came to me, they were a prayer, I begged

God to show me what I had done wrong, what to do next.

Gristown had been my lifelong dream. As a social worker I had seen countless young girls who were unwanted, had nowhere to go and slipped off eventually into the darkness of serious delinquency. For years I searched for some way to protect them from that black future.

When enough money had been saved, I opened a small home for girls in Buffalo Gap, Texas. Four months later I received, by deeded gift, surface rights to a 1,425-acre property nine miles south of Whiteface, Texas. The buildings we constructed became Gristown, U.S.A.

We have made it as homelike as possible, and accepted full responsibility for girls of all ages and the duty of preparing them for constructive womanhood.

Myrna had been the fifty-third girl to arrive. And the first to run away.

The knock at the door was so light it almost escaped me. It was Myrna, uncertain but still defiant. "I want to talk to you," she said, "but just for a few minutes. I'm not staying. But there's something I must know." Her voice trembled, but she tried to keep the bitterness in it.

"Why did you say God would watch over me?" she demanded. "Because He will," I said.

"He never has," she said. "Why should He start now? He's left me alone all these years. Why should He suddenly care for me? I don't care for Him. I hate Him."

"No, you don't," I said, suddenly realizing her terrible loneliness and hunger for the love her unfortunate childhood forced her to reject. "God has cared for you in many ways."

"Like what?" she challenged. "Such as giving me a prostitute for a mother and a drunkard for a father? Like giving me a murderer for a grandfather and a bootlegger for an uncle?"

"Like putting me in the streets so the police can pick me up? Like giving me a life that can only make me like my mother? Well, if that's how God has cared for me, I might as well get started now."

The words tumbled through the wall of hate she had built for herself. She was shaking and I wanted to take her into my arms.

"God hasn't given you those things," I said. "He couldn't because they're evil. If you think you have this same kind of life ahead of you, it's only because you're making the mistake your family made: You won't let yourself love God. And you can't be aware of His love until you do."

"What has God done to show me that He wants my love?" she said. "He has brought you back here."

She stood there, and her eyes mirrored the conflict between what the hard years had taught her and what she now suddenly wanted. Abruptly, the sobs came. And she was in my arms.

The next day, she was so different the others were slightly reticent.

But I kept hoping for something more. That moment came on a Sunday morning.

Accompanying other girls, Myrna had joined a congregation whose people wanted to build a new church. This Sunday, the pastor suggested that men of the congregation contribute a portion of their salaries to meet remaining expenses. Myrna was suddenly on her feet.

"Most of you know I'm from Gristown. I have my dollar a week allowance I can give. But I want to do something more. I want to work to earn money for the new church."

Other girls joined her. At Gristown, they baked pies and cakes and sold them. In one week, they made $60. Their example inspired the rest of the congregation, and everyone did something special to raise the necessary funds.

Weeks later, I saw Myrna and five other girls kneel at the church altar and, through baptism, accept their responsibilities as Christians. Afterwards, Myrna came to me.

"You've always said you've built Gristown on a foundation of faith," she said. "Well, I think everything must be built that way, if it's to endure."

TOMORROW—Ann Blyth tells how faith brought her out of the blackness of despair.

Waterford Education Board Calls in High School Bonds

$200,000 Worth to Be Redeemed

Increase in Valuation Allows Action on Notes Due in 1969-70

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Due to increased valuation in Waterford Township School District, the Waterford Board of Education voted Thursday night to call in $200,000 of the high school bonds.

These bonds, scheduled to be paid in 1969-70, carry a 2.75 per cent interest rate.

The Board of Education stated that if the valuation continues to climb, the bond issue originally planned to span 20 years will be completely paid off in less than ten years.

Preliminary plans for elementary school building additions were approved at last night's regular meeting.

Four rooms will be added to Waterford Center and two rooms to the Jayno Adams school. Williams Lake will get a four room addition and the board previously approved a three room addition at Four Towns School.

A bond issue to finance an elementary school expansion program for the district was approved by the electors on February 25 in the amount of $1,600,000.

James Denfelder, assistant to the superintendent, said that as soon as the bonds are sold, bids will be let on these buildings.

The board hopes to have these facilities ready for the 1954 fall school term.

Also included in the February bond issue were provisions for four new elementary schools for the district. Several architects are being interviewed now by the Board of Education for these new structures.

Extent of Surplus Problem Seen in '53 Crop Figures

WASHINGTON (INS) — The possible extent of this year's farm surplus problem will be outlined today when the Agriculture Department estimates the size of a number of 1953 crops.

Included in the listing will be estimated plantings of corn, spring wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, rice, sorghums, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tobacco, beans, peas, soybeans, peanuts, hay and sugar beets.

Agriculture Department officials already have indicated they will await today's report before deciding whether the government must launch a potato buying program to bolster prices.

Congressional leaders from potato-growing states have demanded that the department use customs receipts to buy up surplus potatoes for the school lunch program and other eligible outlets.

This problem was discussed at length by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and his assistants Thursday, and they agreed to look over this year's estimated potato plantings before undertaking such an operation.

Since grain industry and government spokesmen met in Omaha this week to find solutions to the impending shortage of grain storage facilities, federal farm planners will take a special look at the estimated acreage for 1954 corn, spring wheat and durum wheat, and other than 17 and one-half million grains.

A national acreage allotment of 63 million acres had been established for wheat, and it is expected to yield approximately 940 million bushels.

The Agriculture Department already has estimated the winter wheat crop at 45 million 575 thousand acres. This crop was planted last fall, and now is beginning its spring growth.

In view of the estimated plantings of winter wheat, acreage for the spring and durum crops combined should total no more acres.

An allotment of 46 million 995 thousand acres has been established for corn in the commercial

Meeting Called in School Vote

Farmington Residents Interested in Proposal on Bonds Invited

FARMINGTON — Residents of this area interested in the March 29 school bond proposal election have been invited by the North Farmington District Civic Assn. to a meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in the West Bloomfield Town Hall.

O. E. Dunckel, superintendent of Farmington schools, will discuss the school building program and its effect on taxation.

The program calls for an additional 40 elementary and four high school classrooms in the system. A gymnasium-auditorium would also be built if the bond issue is passed.

The Board of Education has stated the need for expansion is especially urgent in the Middlebelt-Northwestern Highway area, where it is proposed a 14-to-16 room elementary school should be erected.

Other plans call for construction of a similar school in the William Grace School area and a 10-room school below the Grand River cut-off.

Half-day sessions will go into effect for some elementary classes next fall, the school board has announced.

Detroit Asked to Share Cost of Adding Lanes to 10 Mile Road

DETROIT (INS) — The Regional Planning Commission today proposed to Common Council that Detroit pay half the cost of widening an Oakland County road.

The plan asks that two lanes be added to Ten Mile Rd. between the Detroit Zoo administration building and Woodward at a cost of $125,000.

Commission Director T. Ledyard Blakeman pointed out that the stretch of road is consistently clogged with traffic — mostly Detroiters traveling to and from the zoo.

He said Oakland County has agreed to pay 25 per cent of the cost. The remainder would be divided between Huntington Woods, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge and Royal Oak.

7 Escape Injury in Auto Wreck

2 Dryden Women, Five Children Only Bruised as Car Rolls Over

DRYDEN—Although the car in which they were riding rolled completely over, ending up on its side, two Dryden women and their five children escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon.

The late-model auto was described as a complete loss by Mrs. Dale Peck of 5664 S. Mill St., one of the passengers and daughter of the vehicle's owners.

According to Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Loretta Olson of 4043 S. Mill St. was at the wheel when the car apparently hit a soft shoulder as they were driving toward Dryden from Imlay City on M181.

Mrs. Peck estimated the speed at the time of the accident at about 30 to 35 miles per hour.

Also riding in the car were Mrs. Olson's children — Kathy, 5, and Karen, 4—and Mrs. Peck's children—Kay, 4, Gale, 2, and Cynthia, 8 months.

The passengers were bruised and slightly battered, Mrs. Peck said, but a doctor assured them they suffered no serious injuries.

Owners of the wrecked car are Mr. and Mrs. Clark Burnett of 5441 Main St.

India Missionary Among Mourners at Hayden Rite

TECUMSEH, Mich. (U)—The man who gave Perry Hayden the idea for his "dynamic kernels" project was here today for the famed miller's funeral Saturday.

Hayden died yesterday at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. By chance the Rev. Clifton Robinson, Indian missionary, was in Hayden's home town of Tecumseh at the latter's death. The Rev. Robinson accepted an invitation to assist at services to be held at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Hayden, 53, gained modest fame, with the help of Henry Ford, by wheat plantings from which he contributed a specific part to the church.

Hayden got the idea 14 years ago when hearing Rev. Robinson recite the biblical story of wheat tithing as a guest speaker at the Tecumseh Friends Church.
