Commissioners Approve New Traffic Rule for Use at Lincoln, Woodward

From Our Birmingham Bureau, BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners approved a change-over of the Lincoln-Woodward intersection last night in a move to eliminate accidents there.

Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley said the State Highway Department is planning to route north-bound Woodward avenue traffic turning left onto Lincoln via Adams road. The commission gave its o. k. to the plan, which would clear up congestion at the intersection by channeling the flow through on the east-west light.

Moxley said the highway department plans to erect a large sign over the road, similar to the one at the north entrance to the city on Woodward.

City Attorney Forbes Haswell said the friendly suit in circuit court to condemn subdivision restrictions allowing the construction of a fire station at Chesterfield road and Maple avenue began yesterday.

No one appeared from the subdivision to show cause why a jury should not be empaneled to hear the case March 19.

Woods Stands Mute to Murder Charge

James Woods, 27, of Detroit, stood mute when arraigned Monday before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland on a first degree murder charge.

A plea of not guilty was entered for him by the court and he was returned to the County Jail. Woods is charged with the fatal shooting of Arthur Moran, 21, of 4075 First St., Clarkston, in a parking lot Jan. 7, 1953.

Ike Picked Nixon to Answer Adlai

High administration sources said last night Eisenhower himself made the suggestion that the Republican National Committee seek free radio-TV time to answer Stevenson and that it was the President who chose Nixon to speak for the party. The President, it was reported, phoned the idea to Hall, who already had moved in the same direction.

One informed source indicated that the strategy was "to get McCarthy out of the headlines and get our story across."

It was understood in this connection that Hall did not contact McCarthy before asking the network for rebuttal opportunity.

McCarthy, arriving in New York after a brief Miami vacation, said Hall was "entirely correct" in regarding the Stevenson speech as an attack on the GOP. McCarthy, in fact, called it an "intemperate attack." But he added:

"Mr. Nixon is speaking for the party. I'm speaking for myself."

"The FCC rules," he asserted, "provide that I must be given time to answer these charges. . . I intend to do everything I can to make the television companies live up to their obligations."

Commission sources said last night FCC's basic law requires that candidates for public office be given "equal opportunities" on the air. But this would not seem to cover the present situation since no one involved is an active candidate.

However, these sources also said the commission has tried in the past to see to it that broadcasters treated all controversial issues fairly.

In announcing that it was honoring Hall's request, CBS said it got the GOP chairman's bid first and would not grant McCarthy the free time he asked because "time already has been given to the GOP to answer Stevenson."

NBC said it would give "commensurate time" to the party, not McCarthy. Both networks allotted the GOP the 10:30-11 p. m., EST, period next Saturday—the same as that filled by Stevenson last week.

CBS contended it had complied with "both the spirit and the letter of the law and the FCC requirements."

On Capitol Hill, two Republican members of McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee endorsed the selection by the Republican National Committee of a party spokesman to carry the GOP story to the nation.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said it "makes sense" to follow this procedure. He called Stevenson's speech a "wholesale attack on the party" and he added that the GOP "shouldn't just let whoever gets to the telegraph first" make the official reply.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) applauded the selection of Nixon to handle the chore. He said he felt the party's official reply should come from somebody high in the administration.

Naguib Wins Back His Premier Post

(Continued From Page One) meeting last night said it was Nasser who suggested Naguib be given back his old posts, provided he gives up his earlier demands for power to veto the council's decisions and to hire and fire Cabinet ministers.

"The council and Naguib welcomed the suggestion," the informant said. The council also canceled out another decree signed only yesterday naming Nasser as Egypt's military governor. The post went back to Naguib.

The surprise developments of last night were another chapter in a long conflict inside the Revolutionary Council, Nasser was the behind-the-scenes engineer of the bloodless coup which ended the monarchy, exiled King Farouk 20 months ago and set Naguib up as revolutionary hero. He was known to favor keeping the council at supreme power even after the constituent assembly was elected. Naguib, on the other hand, was said to have wanted the council to step into the background when the interim parliament took over.

Born May 23, 1885, he was the son of Frederick and Nora Hagel. He was a member of the Drayton Ave. Presbyterian Church in Ferndale, and had resided at 816 Pearson before moving to Corpus Christi nine years ago.

Besides his widow, the former Alice Hagel, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Cavanaugh, of St. Louis, Mich.

Gasoline Prices May Drop Soon

Broomfield Committee Says Large Inventories Could Force Cut

LANSING (UP) — A special House committee studying gasoline prices reported today that reductions in retail gas prices are in prospect for Michigan motorists.

The special committee, headed by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), noted that large inventories of crude oil have been accumulated and the motoring public may benefit from price cuts "in the very near future."

The House group, formed last year to probe facts surrounding the continued rise of retail gasoline prices, said no state legislation is needed but federal regulatory action may result from a pending congressional study. The report noted that more than 80 per cent of the gasoline industry is interstate in nature.

Broomfield's committee said it found no evidence of any violation of state laws in gasoline sales.

Hittle, Party Split on Jobless Benefits

"If I can't get the information I want, I can't vote honestly and intelligently," Hittle said. Hittle charged that the Teahen bill would grant no increase to 64.2 per cent of the labor force in Michigan, the single men. Only 6 per cent would get the proposed $39 maximum, he said.

He said his bill would cost $5,328,951 over the present law, while the Teahen bill would cost $4,782,000 more.

Hittle said the proposed new merit rating system for figuring employer contributions to the $440 million compensation fund would reduce the contributions of 15,000 employers, raise 5,000 and leave 5,000 unchanged.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the majority leader who unseated Hittle from that post last year, challenged some of Hittle's figures but did not press the fight.

Statutory Rape Charge Draws 60 Day Sentence

He was also assessed $100 costs for assaulting a 14-year-old girl last July 16. Thornton pleaded guilty to the charge Feb. 19.

JAMES NYE

Dairy to Hold Open House

New Building, Designed for Bulk Milk Handling, to Receive Guests

The Nye Dairy will hold open house in its new plant, at 585 Oakland Ave., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Manager James Nye says the new building is 60x160 feet and affords triple the space of the Cooley street plant.

The latest innovation in the dairy business, bulk handling of milk, will be introduced for the first time in this section of the state, according to Nye.

Called the ultimate in milk handling by dairy researchers, the bulk method affords milk almost direct from cow to consumer. Milk is pumped directly into refrigerated, stainless steel holding tanks on farms and chilled to 38 degrees. A built-in agitator keeps the milk circulating until it is tested for fat content by the dairy's tank truck driver and it is then transferred to the truck for delivery to the plant.

"A higher fat content is assured this way," Nye reports, "and all milk is measured before transfer to the truck so the farmer knows exactly how much is being transferred."

The new plant will use a 2,500 gallon tank truck to make pick-ups from 19 farms in this area. Ten of the farms have already had equipment for the bulk method installed. The others will change as soon as their equipment arrives, according to Nye.

Expandable interior partition walls in the new plant may be adjusted to meet any further change in operation. A steel-beamed roof is supported by tile glazed block walls and floors are constructed so that all water drains toward the outside. Completely fireproof, the new plant has "dry islands" where employees can work in comfort and safety, according to Nye. A ventilating system is used for temperature control and to cut down moisture and dampness in walls and floors.

Michigan Youth Killed in Arizona

Three Prison Escapees Crash Into Roadblock at 100 M.P.H.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (U) — A young Michigan desperado lay dead and his buddy critically injured today after a wild, shooting highway chase by a dozen State Police cars.

The third gunman, who drove their stolen car into a roadblock at 100 m.p.h., was thrown clear, escaping injury.

For 55 miles the trio, of Jackson Prison escapees, heavily armed and wanted for a series of crimes, outmaneuvered lawmen alerted by the armed hold-up of a liquor store here late Monday night.

One of the youths fired from a rifle during the chase, hitting a sheriff's car and putting a Highway Patrol car out of action.

The victim was identified as Ronald Taylor, 18, of Midland. Dave Totten, 20, of Fenton, was still unconscious in Doctors' Hospital here with a brain concussion and arm injury. The third youth is Duane Reger, 17, of Clare County.

Sheriff J. Peery Francis, of Okemos County, said Reger was surely and refused to say more than admit the trio had escaped last month from a Jackson prison honor farm.

Francis said the late-model car which they used had been stolen in El Paso, and three youths answering their description had left a trail of thefts and burglaries.

ROCHESTER — In the absence of any real issues, the annual village election Monday drew one of the lightest votes in recent Rochester political records.

Frank Rewold, also an incumbent, received the third two-year term with 303 votes.

Paul Hofmeister, with 279 votes, and John Dahlman with 256 were named by the electors to the one-year terms. Ralph Garner was given 236 votes.

Milford Defeats Liquor Proposal

Disputed Issue Rejected by 2-1 Vote; Houghton Wins Top Post

MILFORD — The controversial liquor-by-the-glass proposal was rejected by Milford voters by almost two to one yesterday.

The proposal would have allowed the serving of liquor by the glass along with beer and wine "according to state laws." Registered against the measure were 417 votes, with 214 in favor.

A second proposal, calling for a general rubbish collection service in the village, was approved, 372 to 142.

In the race for village officials, Donald Houghton unseated incumbent Paul Plotter for the post of president. Elected as clerk was Florence Harland with 329 votes; and as treasurer, Irene Gordon with 365 tallies.

Named as trustees for two-year terms were Theron Arms Jr., who polled 506 votes, Edward Nealer, with 494 votes, and Ralph Hewitt with 477 votes.

Although 642 ballots were cast in the election, Charles Tressler, the only candidate for the assessor's post, received but 18 votes. The village council will decide whether the 18 were enough to put Tressler in office.

13 Head of Cattle Killed in Crash Near Williamston

LANSING — Thirteen head of cattle were killed today when a truck rammed a stalled automobile and overturned on U.S. 16 two miles east of nearby Williamston. Both drivers, however, escaped unhurt.

Nine calves, two cows and two sheep were killed.

A car driven by Edward Whittemburg, of Webberville, stalled at the foot of a short hill. Glenn Pringle, also of Webberville, was following a tractor-trailer truck. When he topped the hill, Pringle said it appeared the car still was moving, but he saw it had stalled too late to avoid it.

The truck banged into the car, then tipped over on its side. The rear of the car was smashed in. The accident happened shortly after midnight.

Doctor Denies Tax Cheating

Enters Innocent Plea to Two-Count Indictment for Failure to File

FARMINGTON—Dr. Maynard E. Whitehead, a 41-year-old Farmington osteopathic physician, Monday pleaded innocent in Detroit to a two-count Federal indictment of failing to file income tax returns for 1950 and 1951.

Whitehead told Internal Revenue Department agents: "I was just too busy. I never got around to filing returns."

According to Joseph A. Moynihan Jr., chief assistant U. S. district attorney, Whitehead paid no taxes on incomes of $23,845 in 1950 and $31,876 in 1951.

Moynihan said the physician owes $29,974 in taxes for 1946-51, but the statute of limitations restricts the indictment to 1950 and 1951.

The father of two children, Whitehead has his office and home at 3320 Grand River. He has practiced here since 1930.

O-Jib-Wa Worked Wonders I DON'T FEEL LIKE THE SAME PERSON

Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, my rheumatism and arthritis is gone and I can get around again says Mrs. Thelma Huff, R No. 2, Ortonville, Michigan.

When I look back, just a short time ago, and think how I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism and arthritis throughout my entire body, it seems impossible that one medicine could do so much—so soon. Every joint ached and pained and my hands and feet hurt so that I couldn't do any work except get meals, and that was hard. I could get about the house only by using a cane or by holding on to the back of a chair. My husband had to help me out of bed and then I would hardly bear to stand, as my ankles and feet were so bad. I used many things that were supposed to help, and after many disappointments was ready to give up altogether. A friend urged me to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS as a last resort, so I decided to give it a good trial. I seemed to be a little more at ease at the start and didn't see much change in this first month, but after that, quickly got better. I really feel great now and whereas I couldn't get in or out of a car before, I now climb on a tractor and help with the jacking. O-JIB-WA BITTERS seemed to have completely rid me of my pain. I believe that it's the best medicine made for rheumatism and arthritis.

House Kills Speed Bills, Faces Liquor Ad Decision

LANSING (AP)—A bill regulating beer and wine advertising on television was up for decision in the House today.

Leaders were busy behind the scenes last night trying to find a way to avoid a vote on the measure. While they were negotiating, the House took these actions:

1—Killed for this year any possibility of imposing speed limits on Michigan highways.

2—Advanced for votes today the Conlin plan to revise the sales tax diversion amendment and a bill to require safety belts in cars.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), majority leader, was trying to line up votes to send the McCune bill on television advertising back to committee and to set up a study committee on the problem.

He has offered Rep. John J. McCune (R-East Lansing), sponsor of the bill, the chairmanship of the committee, but McCune was being non-committal about approving the plan.

Meanwhile, the Democratic minority, whom Phillips needs to put over his plan, was not committing itself either.

The flood of mail, still largely favorable to the bill, continued. House postoffice workers said they have delivered a record 10,000 letters, cards and telegrams in the last week, mostly on the bill.

The bill would require the State Liquor Control Commission to review television advertising and blacklist any manufacturer who permits ads presenting a dramatization of the act of drinking. Licenses would be forbidden to sell the products of offending manufacturers.

The bill proposing highway speed limits had lain dormant on the calendar for weeks. It was unexpectedly taken up for a vote and promptly killed 27-57.

A long speech by Rep. Leonard Wood (R-Detroit) saved his safety belt bill from a move to send it back to committee.

The bill would require the installation of a safety belt or similar device in the front passenger seat of all cars sold 90 days after the legislature adjourns.

Hamtramck Police are awaiting a reply from Illinois authorities as to ownership of the car, believed to have a damaged right front fender.

Meanwhile, an ex-convict held as a suspect was released on a writ of habeas corpus Monday and agreed to cooperate with the investigation.

Death Car Owner Facing Sentencing

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Burtenshaw, 29, pleaded guilty Monday to leaving the scene of a fatal accident, which police said, resulted in the deaths of three women in an expressway collision last Dec. 5.

Burtenshaw, the owner of the car, was also charged with manslaughter but was allowed to plead to the lesser charge. He will be sentenced March 25.

James Mount, 23, who police charged was the driver, asked for a jury trial on the manslaughter and leaving the accident scene charges.

Burtenshaw testified that he was "too drunk" to drive and asked Mount to drive the car for him. He added that he saw the car had hit something and asked Mount to stop. He said Mount told him "I just nicked them" and just kept going.

Audubon Drew His Birds 150 Years Ago in 1804

WASHINGTON — America's millions of bird lovers celebrate a special anniversary this spring, remembering that 150 years ago artist-naturalist John James Audubon studied and sketched his first American birds.

They were pewees, small olive-green birds that beat the robins north to the young Audubon's new home on a farm in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, the National Geographic Society says.

Early in 1804, at 18, the Haiti-born son of a French naval officer arrived from France to live on his father's Mill Grove property near Norristown. He lost little time in exploring the natural wonders close at hand.

Prowling a cave along Perkioming Creek, the naturalist happened upon a mud and moss nest attached to the entrance. Snow still mantled the ground, and the air was chill. The pewees had not yet arrived. But shortly they came, and with them Audubon's intense delight in the birds of America.

The young man soon found another interest close at hand that also was to influence his entire career. While paying a visit to a neighbor, he met Lucy Bakewell, a girl of 15.

Later she became Mrs. Audubon, and although she realized that "I have a rival in every bird," she shared the many ups and downs in her husband's fortunes.

The old stone manor house of Mill Grove and 122 acres were acquired by Montgomery County in 1951, the centennial of Audubon's death, and were opened to the public last year.

The house has been decorated with engravings from Audubon's famous folio, "Birds of America." The grounds, equipped with picnic facilities, retain much of the wild charm the artist-naturalist knew. Mill Grove once was filled with birds and animals the young ornithologist had stuffed. There he devised his ingenious method of wiring specimens into life-like positions so that he could draw them accurately.

In the cave beside Perkioming Creek he conducted the first bird banding experiment in America, fastening silver wires around the young birds' legs.

Audubon's life at Mill Grove scarcely carried out his father's intentions—a profitable business career. Nor did the young man show any interest in a lead mine on the property that furnished bullets for Revolutionary soldiers.

It was a carefree time for Audubon, the young lord of the manor. He once remarked that "not a ball, a skating match, a house or riding party took place without me."

But Audubon—strong, athletic, expert marksman, rider and dog trainer—also roamed the countryside with his drawing pencils and fowling piece, strengthening his ambition to be a naturalist.

It was in the field that he conceived his life work: a monumental folio of America's birds.

City Enters Contest for Pedestrian Safety

The American Automobile Assn., sponsors of the National Pedestrian Protection contest, will judge Pontiac's 1953 pedestrian safety program, according to Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

A contest report form, concerning accident records, legislation, enforcement, engineering, organization, school safety and public information, all directed toward the pedestrian, has been completed and mailed to the AAA, Straley said.

Pontiac will be judged with other U. S. cities of similar size and population. A national board of judges will announce winners of the contest in the near future, he added.

Some of South Africa's gold mines are 9,000 feet deep.

Kekkonen Wants Union of Country's 2 Leading Parties

HELSINKI, Finland (U)—Ex-Premier Urho Kekkonen, head of four postwar Finnish governments, bid today for a revival of the Socialist-Agrarian governing coalition following weekend elections from which the two parties again emerged as the largest factions in the nation's Parliament.

There was no immediate public reaction from the Socialists but observers doubted the two parties could get together soon because of the bitter election campaign each had waged against the other.

Neither party came near winning a majority of the single chamber's 200 seats. They will be allotted in several days on a system of proportional representation but almost complete returns indicated the Social Democrats (Socialists) would get 54, a gain of one, and Kekkonen's Agrarian Union 53, a gain of two.

The Communist People's Democrats again appeared to have won 43 seats—no change—to hold their place as Finland's third-ranking party.

The Socialists broke with Kekkonen last fall over his austerity program designed to cut high production costs in the nation's two chief export industries, timber and metalworking. Their failure to hold their own on the world market has produced an economic slump.

Since Kekkonen's resignation, Premier Salkari Tuomioja has headed a caretaker regime.

Kekkonen today said the "restoration and maintenance of political and economic stability remains a joint job for the Agrarians and Social Democrats." He added his party is "ready to discuss a joint government and I don't doubt that we could through compromise work out a common program."

Testimony Can't Be Used Against Probe Witnesses

WASHINGTON (U)—The Supreme Court says testimony given by a witness before congressional committees may not be used against him in state or federal courts.

This immunity applies, the high tribunal declared in a unanimous decision yesterday, even though the witness may have failed to claim his constitutional privilege against self-incrimination.
