

Hillsdale CD Chief Disputes Explanation of UFO

HILLSDALE (AP)—The civil defense director of Hillsdale County, completing what he said was a seven-week investigation, issued a 24-page report today disagreeing with Air Force explanations of an unidentified flying object reported in the county.

William E. Van Horn said he first was skeptical of such flying objects but now "I am firmly convinced that the UFO does exist." He attacked an Air Force astrophysicist's conclusion on the sighting March 21.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek of Northwestern University, a scientific consultant to the Air Force on unidentified flying objects, looked into reported sightings in Michigan in March.

Hynek said then the sighting at Hillsdale "could have been due to the release of variable quantities of marsh gas" which could produce lights that might be mistaken for objects in the sky.

Hynek replied today to major conclusions in Van Horn's report by maintaining the swamp gas hypothesis still "seems to me the most logical conclusion."

Hynek questioned why a physicist and chemist from Hillsdale College were not called upon to perform the investigation.

one time I could make out a convex surface between the two lights which I estimated at 25 feet between." Hynek in his report had said "They have not described an object," only "lights that seemed to move."

Griffin Takes Oath as Junior Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert P. Griffin was sworn in today by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as U.S. senator from Michigan. He fills the vacancy created by the death of Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

Griffin, who was serving his 10th year in the House, was appointed by Gov. George Romney of Michigan to serve in the Senate until Dec. 1.

Griffin, a Republican, is a candidate for a full six-year Senate term starting next January. McNamara was a Democrat.

With his wife, their four children, and other relatives watching from the Senate gallery, Griffin walked down the aisle soon after the Senate convened.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., accompanied him to the rostrum where Humphrey administered the oath.

Immediately after signing the official register, the new senator was greeted by his new Senate colleagues.

WATCH CEREMONY

Watching the ceremony in addition to Mrs. Griffin and the children were Griffin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Griffin of Highland Township; a sister, Mrs. William Foster of Pontiac; two brothers, Eugene Griffin of Waterford Township and Gerald Griffin of Midland, and an aunt, Mrs. Edna Foss of New Baltimore.

There was no immediate indication of Griffin's committee assignment.

Guest Mayor Is Here Today

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Highland Park's Michael M. Glusac exchanged jobs today as part of the statewide Mayors' Exchange Day.

The exchange of mayors is the traditional activity for Government Day of Michigan Week.

Taylor was to be in Highland Park, while Glusac visited here.

The 36-year-old Glusac arrived at the City Hall at 10 a.m. Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson and city administrators were on hand to greet him.

The day's scheduled events included a tour of the city, a plant tour and lunch sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division, a tour of the Oakland County Service Center and dinner at the Kingsley Inn.

A practicing attorney, Glusac was appointed mayor of Highland Park in March, 1965, filling a vacancy created by a death.

Prior to his appointment as mayor, Glusac served two years as a Highland Park councilman.

A Wayne State University graduate, Glusac was Highland Park's "Young Man of the Year" in 1962. He is past president of the Highland Park Bar Association, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He is a former member of the city's recreation commission and a member of the advisory board of the Highland Park Boys' Club.

Ready to Die for Cause, Say Top Buddhists

New Crisis Cuts Into Effort Against Reds, Threatens Vote Plans

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Buddhist leadership demanded tonight that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime pull its troops out of Da Nang where they have taken control of the city's key centers in an attempt to bring dissident northern provinces back under Saigon's authority.

But the gulf between the North and Saigon appeared to deepen. The new crisis cut into the war effort against the Communists and threatened plans for civilian elections in the fall.

Buddhists in Saigon announced that "all monks" are ready to die for their cause.

Their spokesman, Thien Minh, charged in an emotional speech that "there is a plot to assassinate all Buddhists."

"All monks will sacrifice themselves to strike against the government," he added.

In Da Nang, where an uneasy calm prevailed throughout the day, Buddhist supporters piled firewood in apparent preparation for threatened immolation by monks.

DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL

Minh demanded the government withdraw its troops from the North and "find an immediate solution" to restore civilian rule.

In 1963, Buddhist monks set fire to themselves on Saigon's streets to show their dislike

Hannah Testifies on CIA Ties in S. Viet Mission

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University President John Hannah testified today at a legislative hearing that no conclusive evidence has been developed that there were Central Intelligence Agency operatives in an MSU advisory mission to South Viet Nam.

The university halted counter-subversion training, he said, because it felt it could not continue when there was even a suspicion the mission involved CIA men.

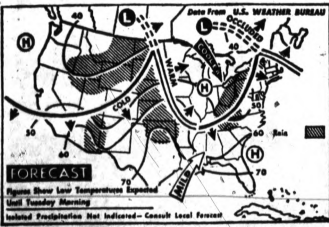

Hannah took the stand first at a legislative hearing into charges that Michigan State was a front for the CIA in South Viet Nam in the late 1950s. Two writers for Ramparts magazine, a California publication which made the charges, were on hand to present their side.

Hannah said MSU never had tried to hide its role in Viet Nam or what he called its failures there.

Cranbrook Executive Is Given Medal

Henry S. Booth, long-time leader and executive officer of the Cranbrook Foundation, was presented with a medal Sunday at the annual Founder's Day gathering.

Cranbrook Vice Chairman Harold A. Fitzgerald asserted that Booth had personally made far and away the greatest single contribution to the over-all picture.

Brookside, Kingswood, Cranbrook, the Art Academy, the Institute of Science, the church and the Foundation itself are many, many times the size that was originally conceived by the founders, the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth.

An original investment of $15 or $20 million dollars today probably represents $50 million. Cranbrook is the great original cultural center of Oakland County and has kept abreast of the phenomenal growth in the area.

The presentation pointed out that Henry S. Booth was the outstanding individual in the whole development and the medal was an attempt to recognize his time, efforts and accomplishments.

Vandenberg said they checked radiation in both the area of the sighting and in town and other unrelated places. Radiation is measured in roentgens.

"It registered 27 to 35 roentgens per hour in the area," the boy said. "In town, we got readings of around 15 to 20 roentgens per hour."

He said that within a few days after their tests, the radiation probably would have disappeared altogether.

Vandenberg said "We found large amounts of Boron floating in the water" and on the soil. He said it wasn't mixed with the water or soil and termed this "very strange."

Van Horn, who said he was not with the boys when they conducted their tests, said Boron ordinarily is not found in the soil in his county.

"There's got to be a reason for that Boron to be there and also for the increased radioactivity," he said.

None of the plants had any blue pigment, a coloring which could have been eliminated by radiation, he said.

Radiation checks were taken over a period of three hours at the location, he said, and "the radiation was decreasing at a rate of six to tenths milliroentgens per hour."

Century-Old Hill School Bell to Toll M-Week in Birmingham

At 9 a.m. tomorrow, the tolling of the century-old Hill School bell will officially inaugurate the beginning of Heritage Day festivities of Michigan Week in Birmingham.

The Birmingham Historical Society, led by its president, Garvin Bawden, will place a bronze plaque on Birmingham's first school building constructed in 1861.

The last occasion for the bell to toll was on VE day in 1945 when it was rung to celebrate the end of the European conflict.

The school was named after the late Rev. Mr. Hill, pastor of the Birmingham Presbyterian Church, who established an academy of higher learning near Pierce and Maple Roads.

The academy was discontinued when the Hill School founded by Chester, Martin and Merrill, was completed.

The first class in the building consisted of one member, who was formally graduated.

While Vliet was superintendent in Birmingham from 1915 to 1932, the Baldwin, Pierce, Adams, Quanton and Barnum schools were constructed.

He opened the first kindergarten class at the Hill School and was responsible for establishing the junior high system, making it possible to enlarge the curriculum by the addition of commercial work, manual training, domestic science, printing, band and physical training.

A swimming pool was added to the Barnum School in 1912 at a cost of $74,100. It was enlarged in 1930.

Born in Clarkston in September 1876, Vliet graduated from the local high school and entered Michigan State Normal in his 16th birthday.

Alternating teaching with college work, he graduated in 1902. He received an A.B. degree and Phi Beta Kappa key from the University of Michigan in 1909.

He served as superintendent of Clarkston schools for five years, Leslie for 12 and 17 in Birmingham.

He retired from school work in 1945, following 45 years as an educator.

Candidates are incumbents Eldon C. Rose, 47, of 2983 Shawnee and Norman L. Neal, 46, of 2751 North Lake and newcomer Lewis S. Long, 39, of 5657 Brunswick, all of Waterford Township.

It's the first try at public office for Long. Rose has served on the board since 1959, while Neal has been a board member since 1962.

Hue claimed he had the support of two South Vietnamese army divisions in the area.

Ky's forces were reported in control of Da Nang's City Hall, radio station, market place and other strategic areas. But rebels held out in scattered areas, including the Buddhist pagoda.

As the military junta pressed ahead with efforts to reassert its authority in the north, the United States was reported to have warned the ruling generals that further turmoil and strife could only help the Communists.

SPRAWLING SAIGON remained outwardly calm, but thousands of workers went on strike, slowing down the unloading of vital military cargo in the congested port.

Three new candidates are Mrs. Susan L. Miller, 27, of 900 S. East Blvd.; Victor L. Smothers, 47, of 261 Ottawa; and James R. Stett, 40, of 261 Ottawa.

Incumbent Mrs. Elsie Mihalchuk, 44, of 1592 Vinewood, and board member William H. Anderson, 53, of 2281 Ostrum, Waterford Township, had previously filed election petitions.

Mrs. Miller is a native of Flint, graduated from Flint Central High School in 1957, and received her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan in 1961.

She came to Pontiac in 1962, teaching for three years at Washington Junior High School.

His husband is a pediatrician. The couple has one child.

Mrs. Miller is a member of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob and a volunteer worker for the Democratic party.

Smothers, a Pontiac resident since 1929, is a member of the Pontiac Police Trial Board and former member of the Pontiac Police Reserve.

Stett, presently probate register of Oakland County Probate Court, is a former assistant county prosecutor and city personnel director.

He graduated from Cass Technical High School in Detroit, received a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

Stett is a member of the State Bar of Michigan and the Oakland County Bar Association.

He is married and has four children — two sets of twins — all attending Webster Elementary School.

Area Ski Resort Vandalism Tied to Three Children

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Police this weekend took into custody and later released three children who allegedly caused an estimated $2,000 damage at a township ski resort last week.

The children, two boys, ages 10 and 8, and their younger sister, age 6, broke "every window" in the Alpine Ski Resort, 6775 Highland, according to police.

In addition, furniture was overturned, desks rifled, and fire extinguishers discharged throughout the ski lodge.

The children's parents were scheduled to meet with juvenile authorities this evening.

AF Jet Flyby to Start Parade

An Air Force jet-flight passover will start the parade at 10 a.m. Personnel and mobilized equipment of the U.S. military forces, various veterans' organizations, and Michigan's 1966 Junior Miss, Bonnie Britton, will be participating.

Other groups include Scottish Highlanders, scouting units, school bands and a military brigade combining ROTC units from Mumfords, Cody, McKenzie, Cooley and Redford schools.

Open house activities and refreshments will follow the parade at the American Legion Hall. A special dinner at the Knights of Columbus Hall will honor distinguished guests and the Gold Star and Blue Star Mothers.

Budget Hearing Is Tonight

TROY — A public hearing on the proposed 1966-67 operating budget will be held at the City Commission meeting tonight.

The proposed budget figure of $2,565,440 is about $800,000 more than the present budget and would require a tax levy of 7.67 mills. This is an increase of .73 mills over the present levy.

The budget includes general operating expenses of $1,625,470; capital expenses of $467,470; equipment pool, $99,600; refuse, $79,000; and water supply systems, $354,210.

firemen are scheduled for pay raises in the new budget.

City commissioners recently tentatively approved a new pay schedule for police which provides for raises up to 20 per cent.

NEW SCHEDULE

Under the new schedule patrolmen are to get raises amounting to $1,196; corporals, $1,308; sergeants, $1,320 and lieutenants, $1,548.

Each of the city's three volunteer fire stations are to receive $4,000 instead of the present $3,000.

City Manager Paul York said the budget anticipates a year of rapid growth and increased activity.

"If economic conditions keep on as they have, we can expect Troy's growth to continue at an increasing rate," he said. "It is very important that we keep pace with this growth."

'ADEQUATE BUDGET'

He said the budget is an adequate one and provides for an effective program of city services to meet expected needs.

The commission is also scheduled to review sanitary sewer service to the Piedmont, Wheaton and Naughton street area.

The meeting is to be held at 8 p.m.

Ford Sees Farmer Discontent

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The discontent of the dairy farmers with administration farm policies will result in Republican election victories in certain farming areas, Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., predicted.

As Republican house leader, he has been making speeches in Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and attending conferences of protest groups.

Republican congressmen from farm congressional districts report a mounting anti-Democratic feeling among rural voters.

The latest complaint came from the National Milk Producers Federation.

Some of the Michigan members came to Washington and told Michigan congressmen that actions taken by the administration in recent months affect all commodity programs, some directly hitting the price of milk.

OBJECTIONS

Here are some of the objections:

- Substitution of margarine for butter in relief programs.
- Decrease in school lunch budget request.

- Refusal to make timely use of the Agricultural Act of 1965 (the open market purchase authority for milk and dairy products).

- Emergency increase of $26,700 pounds in cheddar cheese quota.

- Restrictions on exports of hides which lowered cattle prices.

- Substitution of oleomargarine for butter in Army Air Force rations.

- Secretary Orville Freeman's setting of a support level at only 78 per cent of parity.

- Restriction of imports of cream, junk, grapes, Colby cheese and Swiss cheese.

- Reduction of school milk budget request from $103 million to $21 million.

Then there was the refusal of the Department of Agriculture to hold nationwide hearings aimed at permanently increasing Class I differentials in federal order markets.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or estrogens of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

BIG AND LITTLE—Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Shafer and some of their 12 children gather around the table for a meal in their Springfield, Ill., home. Around the table are (clockwise) Kurt, 8; Laurie, the first-born, not quite 10; Kris, 8; twins Kevin and Karen, 7, partly hidden; Mr. Shafer; Jane, 3; Daniel, 6; Mrs. Shafer; and Mary Beth, 5. In left background is Jack, Jane's twin brother. In right background is Tommy, 2.

Childless After 5 Years

Once Upon a Time, They Worried ...

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—In 1955, Vernon and Mary Shafer, five years married, were childless — and worried about it. Little did they know.

Last month, Mrs. Shafer, 37, gave birth to her fourth set of twins. Four other babies have arrived one at a time, starting on May 24, 1956. The Shafers now have 12 children, all under the age of 10 and five still in three-cornered pants.

Packed into a four-bedroom house, they make life somewhat hectic for their parents, but Mr. and Mrs. Shafer are proud and happy. "God gave them to us," Vernon remarked in an interview, "and we are glad to have them."

"Some day," his brunette wife said with a grin, "the Planned Parenthood Association may get the age of 10 and five still in three-cornered pants."

The latest twins are girls, Susan and Sally. They balanced out the Shafer brood at six of each sex. The others are Laurie, the first-born, not quite 10; Kurt and Kris, 8; Kevin and Karen, 7; Daniel, 6; Mary Beth, 5; Jack and Jane, 3, and Thomas, 2.

Shaffer, 43, works days in his uncle's grain and poultry-hatching business and nights helping his wife keep house. "It's like having two jobs," he said amiably. Shaffer washes dishes, scrubs floors, bathes the children, helps them dress, cuts their hair, takes the older ones to Mass on Sundays and deals out any necessary spankings.

"He's got it over any husband I've ever seen," said Mary. "He's something special."

Mrs. Shafer herself spends nine hours a day feeding and caring for the new twins and another three or four hours cooking and ironing. There is a weekly turnover of 200 diapers alone.

NO MORE GOLF Shaffer said wistfully that he used to shoot a little golf and take a hand in friendly poker sessions in the old, childless days, but no more. "We don't have people over very often, either," he said. "Who'd want to sit around and watch you put 12 kids to bed?"

The Shafers conceded that the number of their children had outstripped their fondest hopes. "I think five or six would be just right," said Shaffer. "But we're happy with our 12. I wouldn't take a million dollars for any of them — or give you a nickel for another."

NEVER TOO LATE — Adam Wurster (right), who will be 102 next month, receives his Medicare enrollment card from C. A. Mattson, manager of the district Social Security office, in Flint. His oldest daughter, Mrs. John Frost, looks on. He is the oldest person in the three-county district to enroll in both the hospital and medical coverage.

It Seems to Me . . .

Do-Gooders Ignore Facts-- Police Deserve Obedience

Along with a host of others, I'm getting sick of the phrase: "police brutality."

Stupid do-gooders have taught a lot of criminals that lawbreakers should be pampered, petted and treated with deference and respect.

Why?
Again I ask: "why?"

When a thug or a juvenile criminal breaks the law and defies arrest he should be dealt with summarily. The policeman represents the law.

He's the one in authority.
He's the boss.
He guards you and me.

A few guns and back alley

punks feel they "have their rights." Well, so has the policeman. He comes first. His rights are paramount. The crook, the hoodlum and lawbreaker must obey him—or else. He represents all decent, law-abiding society.

This newspaper stands behind law and authority. We back the police. We support school-teachers in conducting classes. Firemen have the right-of-way. We accept acknowledged authority where it exists.

The pantswaits who expect bluecoats to bow, scrape and defer to the plug-uglies are simply too ignorant to understand life today.

Officers merely do their duty.

Wise Words for Americans . . .

Some fifteen years ago, a wonderful American spoke about "Our Greatest Dangers" and the essence of his remarks is just as true today as it was then and well worth repeating.

HERBERT HOOVER said:

"Our greatest danger is not from invasion by foreign armies. Our dangers are that we may commit suicide from within by complacency with evil. Or by public tolerance of scandalous behavior. Or by cynical acceptance of dishonor. These evils have defeated nations many times in human history. The redemption of mankind by America will depend upon our ability to cope with these evils right here at home."

How true, how true.
Mr. HOOVER's utterance should be read aloud in every meeting held in this nation until we restore a better balance and are headed for a more realistic future.

He's Here Again . . .

I'm knocked for a loop.
That Mister NADER, the 32-year-old death-trap soothsayer who voted himself an automotive expert, sounds off again. He says the door latches on the Rolls Royce are inferior to the Bentley and a severe bump makes doors, hood and trunk snap open. We suppose a "severe bump" means one you'd experience if you drove off the Empire State Building, or if you plummeted 4,000 feet to the floor of Grand Canyon.

Shucks! Here I was examining the Rolls Royce prospectus and had narrowed my choice down to the economical $38,000 city car or the alluring $48,000 sports coupe.
But that's over.

Think of those deadly doors!!
Thus that safe, sound and exceptional Pontiac car will get my trade for another year. Anyway, let's place responsibility where it belongs. The boy wonder and President JOHNSON have reduced employment in automobile plants across the country while suppliers and others will follow. Labor and capital can unite in voicing the most vociferous "boo" of current times. When a holdup man shoots a store-keeper, the goon isn't responsible for the murder. Oh, no. It's the bullet. Ask NADER.

Mechanical wizard Nader should now take over the administration of our moon landings.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

First Paris suffered a sharp decline in U.S. tourists and now all of France is wailing. Frenchmen assign it to DE GAULLE's attitude . . . Senator FULBRIGHT is receiving a panning from coast to coast for announcing: "Our power has made Americans arrogant, self-righteous and expansionists and immoral." . . . Frequently, when The New York Times refers to Senator WAYNE MONSIE it adds parenthetically: "He was kicked in the head once by a horse."

Scouts advise me Shirley Arama deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . Last year men's summer suits staged a big revival and the industry is confident the advance will be even greater in the months directly ahead. . . . Parcel Post losses near $100 million which could be wiped out by an increase of eight cents a package. . . . Mother's Day brought restaurants the biggest trade of the year.

Chicago holds a reception for LBJ May 17th and a tidy $1,000 donation gives you the right to a personal handshake and a direct question. So many people applied they imposed a limit of 250. . . . Networks have been warned that many of their old movies are too far off-color for home consumption. Unless they stop, they're begging for a Federal censorship which they would rue forever. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's-O-A-K-I-A-N-D County judges for their expert and forthright stand on automobile accidents; the J's—Waterford Rotarians who billed "Bump" Elliott as "Master of Ceremonies" and our own HOWARD V.

"So One Guy Sez 'We Can Wipe You Out! An' The Other Guy Sez 'We Can Wipe You Out! An' POW!'"

David Lawrence Says:

Draft Aptitude Exam Is Needed

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What is surprising is not that many students are "demonstrating" against the draft - deferment tests but that Congress is so indifferent to one of the most glaring examples of neglect that has confronted the nation in relation to military preparedness.

Instead of developing tests that would enable the armed services to select the young men best qualified to become good soldiers, the emphasis today is on how to draft the boys who happen not to stand high in college exams or who are unable to go to college at all because of lack of funds.

The tests now being given 900,000 college undergraduates and high school graduates in 1,200 centers are based on the theory that certain young men should be deferred so they can continue their education and those not doing as well in classes should interrupt their education and go into the military service.

This plan ignores the fact that some of the boys with poor grades may not make good soldiers and also that many with high grades aren't likely to be really qualified for war activity later on.

What would benefit the armed services most is a system of aptitude examinations applicable to all young men, whether or not in college.

BEST PERFORMANCE

The results of the tests could enable the youngsters to be classified on the basis of what duties they could best perform.

Some would be found eligible for active military operations and could become officer material. Others would be most useful in clerical work or in the many phases of supply operations. Some would be most helpful in the kitchen or in handling vehicles.

But the armed services would have available the young men who would make the best soldiers, sailors or air force members.

Industry and business use aptitude tests extensively. These are as beneficial to prospective employees as to the employers.

Many a man has gone through life doing a more or less satisfactory job in his chosen work, but he would have been a happier person if his aptitudes had been determined early. He would then have chosen something for which he was especially qualified.

The same thing is true with respect to the many tasks in the armed services. To select from the younger generation each year, therefore, individuals who have passed merely a generalized test is not to serve best the military interests of the country.

Aptitude tests would aid the volunteers as well as the draftees to find out the kind of work for which they are best suited. It would also help them in later years in obtaining employment if they have been advised of the fields of endeavor for which they are qualified.

So, from the viewpoint of the armed services and society in general, the government would be helping all around if it undertook a comprehensive system of examinations for the draft applicable to all young men irrespective of whether or not they happen to be college students.

Bob Considine Says:

Path of Decimal Money Becoming Well-Traveled

NEW YORK — Her majesty's realm is making a fast buck. Legitimately, of course. Australia has decimalized its currency after much soul-searching.

Until that delightful continent sinks back into the sea, it will deal strictly in dollars and cents. Its grateful, rosy-jawed children will never again be cruelly asked to multiply 10 pounds, nine shillings and six pence by four guineas, eight shillings and thruppence.

New Zealand will decimalize itself next year, and even Big Casino — the United Kingdom — may in time. The Bahamas go for the buck May 25.

It will no longer be a joke if visitors to Nassau characterize some as "phony as a three-dollar bill." The $3 which has just been issued there is as honest as Nassau's sun and sand.

Indeed, the rear of the coral-colored bill is covered with an engraving of Paradise Beach with a loving couple, married, one prays, in the affectionate foreground.

PRETTY CHANCY

Matter of fact, the British are doing some pretty chancy things with their sacred, if deflated, currency.

If this kind of heresy continues we may have to send troops, bomb Buckingham and provide for a national election that will restore cooler heads to government.

Bahama has a square 15-cent coin coming up. Its coins will range from one cent to the silver manhole cover worth $5, the largest silver piece in the Western Hemisphere.

I'm not sure our purists will accept variations from such norms as pictures of public buildings on the backs of bills that carry the dollar sign.

FISHING SCENE

For example, the $100 bill that the Bahamas government is about to issue to swarms of U.S. visitors has a deep sea fishing scene. The $20 bill's rear side features a surly with a fringe on top. The back of the 50 cent bill shows the straw hat market.

Next thing those people will try to do is speak our language, if we're not careful.

The difference between gossip and news depends on whether you hear it or tell it.

Breaking Windows . . .

The Holland Evening Sentinel

A recent news story told about a school building that will have no windows. It will be built on heavy concrete pylons and will look like an impenetrable fortress. It may be necessary in the near future for all school buildings to take on this form.

When one considers that New York City spends about $5 million a year on repairing the work of vandals, and a great amount of that for new windows, then the notion of a fortress makes good sense. The problems of New York are those of every other large city, and a good many smaller ones. Some schools are going in for steel mesh window guards, others are having janitors live on the premises to protect the buildings.

Reader Asks Assistance to Keep Roadside Clean

People who throw their trash out the car window are thoughtless and rude. It's not pleasant to pick up beer bottles, cans, boxes, paper and other items.

Would it be too much to ask people to think twice before throwing litter out the window? Trash distracts from beauty. Help keep our community attractive, and let's keep this in mind wherever we go in America.

Bar Association Replies to OEO Rebuttal

You commented, editorially, on the Oakland County Bar Association's rejection of a government proposal to provide free legal services in Oakland County. A letter over the signature of the Executive Director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity criticized your editorial as not accurately reporting certain matters. As President of the Bar Association, I compliment and commend your reporting. Your editorial was fair and accurate.

Reply must be made to the statements as they relate to the implication that the government plan was rejected by the Bar because the government lawyer would receive less per hour than the lawyer under the plan proposed by the Bar Association.

The following items were included: three social workers at $25.00; eight investigator aids at $40.00; eight counselor aids at $45.00; in town mileage for 25 staff $13,440; out-of-town trips $2,400; mileage for clients $1,000; equipment, including six photocopiers, 11 dictaphones, 11 electric typewriters, and 32 executive desks $19,170.

Additional items ran the total budget in excess of $451,000 in Oakland County, which does not include the present taxpayer cost in providing counsel for indigents accused of felonies.

The following is a resolution passed by the Board of Directors:

"That the Oakland County Bar Association and the Legal Aid Society cooperate with the Office of Economic Opportunity in drafting a program relating to Legal Aid services for submission."

The Bar Committee proposed a plan patterned on Medicare which has received government approval. However, no one could conceive that the project would require the budget proposed by the government.

The implication that legal services to the poor are virtually nonexistent in Oakland County is an unfortunate reflection upon the Legal Aid Society. This budget, steadily increasing, had a budget last year of less than $20,000. There were no facts which could convince any lawyer of this County that the present program was so deficient that it should be multiplied, at taxpayers' expense, more than 23 fold.

Hopes City Commission Retains Bus Service

I have occasion to use our City buses and am interested in seeing who uses them between 7 and 8 a.m. Older people who look as though they may be working to supplement a small pension are the great majority. There are not many "shop" people, but school children galore.

I hope our City Commission will see fit to keep the service on as it is one of the few public services that benefits people in the lower income bracket. With the equipment the City has I think it does an excellent job.

Question and Answer

I was out at the Oakland County Courthouse at night, and the flag was still up after dark. What about this?
DISTURBED

REPLY

The flag may be flown at night on occasion. The Courthouse displayed it at half staff day and night for three days in mourning of Senator McNamara's death. Some places always fly the flag day and night: The U.S. Capitol building; Fort McHenry in Baltimore, where Francis Scott Key was inspired to write the national anthem; at Key's grave in Frederick, Md.; at Flag House Square, Md., where Mary Pickersgill made the flag which Key saw; and at World War Memorial, Worcester, Mass.

Family Planning Campaign

The Arab News & Views

The United Arab Republic, the first Arab country to initiate government - sponsored birth control programs, is cooperating with American family planning experts and may receive United States aid for its campaign. An American family planning expert is helping carry out the U.A.R. program through family planning clinics in rural communities, and another was to join the program this month. Tunisia also has a birth control program which cooperates with the American Population Council, working through village clinics.

No organization can long stand when it is weakened from within.

What about the old expression, "spare the rod and spoil the child"? We think a 12-month program would help in all education — this to include a work program to improve and keep our school building a model for all.

11,000 Join in Rally
at Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except for a brief scuffle and a few hecklers, the march against war might have been as peaceful as the weather.

Led by Dr. Benjamin Spock, children's health specialist, the 11,000 protesters trudged by the White House Sunday in breezy 75-degree weather.

Most were silent. Some pushed baby carriages. A few younger marchers sang. Many carried signs denouncing the Johnson administration stand in Viet Nam.

They swarmed up the grassy knoll near the Washington Monument to an outdoor amphitheater for a rally where they heard, among others, Spock and 31-year-old Socialist leader Norman Thomas.

HITS LECTERN
Thomas was cool as the gleaming mid-afternoon sun. He founded the lectern as he spoke of sending draftees from the United States into the Vietnam war.

"We've held our own" in Viet Nam, Thomas said, but "there is no military victory in sight." He said President Johnson has "extolled our restraint in the use of force, our sympathy for the Vietnamese people, our dedication to the causes of their freedom and their democratic rights. Though this all seems to me, in view of our actions, it is revolting kind of hypocrisy, it has led millions of our people into a righteous pride in our present course."

The scuffle occurred between some antiwar marchers who carried Viet Cong flags — which had been prohibited by march organizers — and two men wearing Nazi swastika armbands.

Police arrested the two men, charging them with disorderly conduct.

Across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, members of the Young Americans for Freedom picketed in support of the Johnson administration stand in Viet Nam.

PICKETS RAP PICKETS — A group supporting the U.S. stand in Viet Nam carried signs yesterday directed at demonstrators against the war who were marching across Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House. The pro-war demonstrators staged their march on the opposite side of the street before Lafayette Park.

Schlesinger Blasts 'Bunglers'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's critics say, among other things, that some of his Viet Nam advisers are bunglers and that he should have small nuclear weapons ready in the event Red China intervenes in the war.

These men have been wrong too often in the past to be trusted in the future," Schlesinger declared.

'SHORTEN WAR'
Sen. John C. Stennis, chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, meantime asserted "We must shorten the war to save American lives."

In remarks to a foreign policy forum at Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., Stennis said he had "no illusions" about the possibility that intensifying the war could bring on Red Chinese intervention.

Storms Rock Parts of U.S.

Tornadoes and Hail
Lash Several States

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms lined up across the nation's midsection today as turbulent weather continued from southern Illinois to Arkansas.

Tornadoes, damaging hail and lightning struck many spots from Kansas to North Carolina over the weekend.

Hardest hit by the tornadoes was Kansas City, Kan., where at least three persons were injured Sunday night and moderate damage was sustained.

Tornadoes also raked portions of Oklahoma as violent wind and hailstorms lashed into Arkansas and Missouri.

At Kansas City, a $500,000 fire started by lightning destroyed a barn and killed $3 show and breeding horses at the Cedar Creek Stables.

Blackwell, Okla., and Lake City, Ark., were pelted by large hailstones. Hailstorms also struck Springfield, Mo., and near Jonesboro, Ark.

To the east, heavy rain and hail damaged crops extensively in western parts of North and South Carolina Saturday.

A large peach crop at Spartanburg, S.C., was severely damaged and several farmers reported they would have no crop to speak of.

Study First Photos From Weather Orb

GREENBELT, Md. (UPI) — Scientists at the Goddard Spaceflight Center today began evaluating the first of thousands of photographs being transmitted by the butterfly-shaped Nimbus 2 weather satellite.

The 812-pound vehicle, equipped with heat sensors and special cameras, was launched into a polar orbit early yesterday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

It was blasted aloft by a supercharged Thor-Agena B rocket after three postponements caused by technical difficulties. It originally was scheduled for launch April 29.

Nimbus 2, orbiting north to south while the earth rotates west to east, can photograph the entire 200 million square miles of the earth's surface.

Scientists hope it will make possible accurate two-week weather predictions.

NIGHT PICTURES
Special infrared instruments are equipped to take night pictures.

The satellite will transmit 3,000 photos daily to a network of 150 worldwide automatic picture transmission stations, 26 of which are in foreign countries.

Goddard scientists said yesterday the satellite had stabilized in orbit and began transmitting its first pictures at 3 p.m. EDT. It was circling the earth every 108 minutes, reaching 726 miles from earth at its farthest point and 687 miles at its closest point.

Its speed was 16,564 miles an hour.

6-MONTH OPERATION
Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said they expected the 10-foot-tall satellite to remain in operation six months.

Its predecessor, Nimbus 1, malfunctioned a month after its launch in 1964 and went dead after transmitting 27,000 cloud pictures.

In addition to its picture-taking chores, the satellite's heat sensors will measure the amount of heat the earth absorbs from the sun and reflects back into the atmosphere.

Scientists hope to learn what causes storms from the heat balance study.

How to Sell Your Photos

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newfeatures

Many amateur photographers sooner or later feel that they produce pictures which are as good — or better — than the ones they see in print in various publications and they wonder how they can sell their photos.

There are many factors that must be taken into account before such a seemingly simple transaction as printing a picture takes place.

Actually, it's a complicated process to match suitable pictures with editors and deadlines but fortunately there is a handy guidebook for consultation by advanced as well as novice photographers.

"Where and How To Sell Your Pictures" by Arvel W. Ahlers and Paul V. Webb, is a sixth revised edition of a listing that first appeared 14 years ago.

Its expanded, up-dated version now includes information on European markets because that's Paul Webb's bailiwick and the authors have been co-operating in across-the-ocean photographic selling for the past few years.

TYPE PICTURE
Just as important as the names, addresses and requirements of the photography markets is Ahler's advice and comprehensive survey of what type pictures sell and the importance of an imaginative, fresh approach coupled with top technical quality.

Besides the well-known publications which are considered the prime targets for picture takers, Ahlers discusses the much larger field of "off-trail" photo markets which enterprising free-lance photographers create for themselves.

Often they develop out of other hobbies or interests and the photographer discovers that his pictures of classmates, sports, buildings, celebrities, pets or school productions can be sold to other people.

Other hobbyists, craftsmen, artists, amateur thespians, athletes, civic and educational groups, resort owners and real estate agents are just a few of the prospects in every community for ambitious photographers who wish to start free lancing.

Bobby Warns of Hospital Facility Crisis

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., warned last night of a "national crisis in medical facilities" on the eve of Medicare.

Kennedy, speaking at a fund-raising dinner here, called for a $2-billion federal program for increased medical, hospital and nursing care for the elderly.

"The bright hopes of Medicare can be dashed" without such a program, Kennedy said.

The senator said he is preparing a bill, for submission soon to Congress, that would commit the government to spend the $2 billion over 10 years for building, training and research.

Kennedy said the legislation would help fulfill the needs of the 19 million Americans over 65 who will become eligible for Medicare benefits on July 1.

Anti-U.S. Mood Is Growing in Russia

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Newcomers to Moscow are surprised at the extent of anti-American propaganda there.

While they expected some hostility, they say they were unprepared for the virulence of editorials and cartoons dealing with U.S. policy in Viet Nam and Germany.

Party leader Leonid Brezhnev said U.S.-Soviet relations are bad and observers expect them to get worse before they get better.

In the midst of the increasing freeze, however, it is noteworthy that the Soviets are keeping cultural relations apart. The last cultural treaty met some snags, but exchanges under the 1966-67 pact are starting fast.

The American ballet theater and Earl (Fatha) Hines will visit the Soviet Union this summer, along with exchange professors and students.

CURIOS — Moscow observers are intrigued by Soviet press reporting of Premier Alexei Kosygin's trip to Cairo. Kosygin stood by unprotestingly while his host, Gamal Abdel Nasser, chastized both Israel and the United Nations. But the Soviet press reports on Nasser's speeches, while extensive, significantly failed to include anything on either subject.

TRADE GOODS — London diplomats are speculating that Russia may supply Egypt with missiles as one result of the current Nasser-Kosygin talks. In return, Russia apparently expects to obtain submarine bases in Egypt at Alexandria and on the Red Sea.

Russia is reported keen on having a base which would enable her to keep a permanent watch on movements of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean and on NATO moves.

drive against the de Gaulle government in the March 1967 parliamentary general elections are having trouble getting off the ground.

The Communists have refused to cooperate with former Leftist presidential candidate Francois Mitterrand's "shadow cabinet."

Boyle's Mail Tells of Car Thefts, Milk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The FBI estimates that U.S. car thefts — $20,000 were stolen last year—could be cut in half if everyone simply locked his car on leaving it.

Don't you like your wife's lumpy mashed potatoes? Well, don't bark her out — just tell her they'll taste better if she uses hot instead of cold milk.

While giving her husbandly hints on how to run her household better, be sure also to advise her to dust the light bulbs regularly. Dust films can reduce the lighting efficiency of bulbs up to 40 per cent.

NO JANITORS

The titled set: janitors practically have disappeared in America. They all have become building custodians. Can you also remember when "executive trainees" were called office boys?

Someone has figured out that it costs taxpayers about $2 million to maintain a U.S. senator through his six-year term.

Quotable notables: "The man does not live who can kill me" — Benito Mussolini, who turned out to be wrong.

Money may not grow on trees, but there is still money in trees. A giant Indiana walnut tree, according to Plywood magazine, recently was auctioned for $12,000.

Matrimonial peril: Single women have fewer coronary attacks than married women, according to a Canadian hospital survey.

The late Gertrude Stein, who wrote "A rose is a rose is a rose," could also speak clearly. Asked about a trip she made to Sacramento, Calif., she replied: "When you get there, there isn't any there there."

"YOUR HEALTH" SCIATICA

If you have ever suffered from or known anyone with sciatica, then you realize how extremely painful this condition can be.

The sciatic nerve is the longest and thickest nerve in the body, starting from the small of the back and traveling along the entire length of the leg to the foot.

Pressure on this nerve usually follows a low back injury. Patients complain of pain usually in the buttocks side of the thigh, and in the calf of the leg. Some patients cannot sit, stand or lie down without severe pain.

Pain pills may help, but only for short periods of time. The sensible thing to do is to see your Chiropractor, who will give you a thorough examination, take X-Rays (to find the area of nerve pressure) and then remove this pressure through Chiropractic treatments. In many cases, you will relieve much pain, time, and possible surgery. Instead of just "living" with sciatica, call your Chiropractor and get well.

Gun Battle Fatal to Man, 2 Police Hurt

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — Bruce Winfield, 38, a Bureau of Public Roads engineer, died in a Kingman hospital Sunday night of bullet wounds in the head and chest suffered in a gun battle in which two policemen also were wounded.

The wounded officers, struck by bullets from a high-powered rifle, are patrolman Robert Wilkins, 29, and police Sgt. James McFarrin, 27, both of Kingman.

Police Chief Carl Fisher said Wilkins answered a disturbance call at the Winfield residence after a complaint by Mrs. Winfield. Fisher said Wilkins had just pulled up in front of the house when a bullet shattered the window of his car and struck him in the hand. Fragments of the shell peppered his chest, legs and stomach.

Two other squad cars went to the residence, Fisher said, and McFarrin was struck in the face by the muzzle blast from a rifle wielded by Winfield.

DOCTORS OPERATE

McFarrin was flown to a Phoenix, Ariz., hospital where doctors operated in an attempt to save the sight in one of his eyes.

Fisher said Winfield was cornered by a group of 16 police officers, sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen and shot as he turned to fire his rifle.

The first U.S. spacemen were in a balloon which rose 14 miles in 1935.

Projected Educational Net Will Provide Research Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is cranking up a new kind of clearinghouse for educational research information using the most advanced electronics to make the data available to all.

The system, called ERIC, for Educational Research Information Center, will rely on 12 specialized clearinghouses around the country to judge the material in each of a dozen fields.

Information from the clearinghouse will be fed into the U. S. Office of Education in Washington for centralized indexing.

Two of these clearinghouses already are in operation.

One covers vocational and technical education at Ohio State University and another deals with preparation of school personnel, located at City University of New York.

FULL OPERATION

All 12 are expected to be operating by September and in full swing by 1967 — at a cost of about $2 million.

Lee G. Burchinal, in charge of ERIC said each of the clearinghouses will be manned by two kinds of experts — experts in the subject matter involved and experts in the modern techniques of information retrieval.

They will identify the worthwhile research papers in their fields and submit resumes to ERIC in Washington.

There they will be catalogued and publicized throughout the education community in periodic bulletins and indexes.

AVAILABILITY

Thus, a valuable collection of documents on teaching the children of migrant farm workers at remote Adams State College of Colorado will become available to everyone in the country dealing with the problem.

The documents themselves will be stored on "microfiche," a French technique that literally means microcard.

A hundred pages of reading matter can be condensed to two small "microfiche" films about the size of a postcard.

When a request for a research paper comes in, it will be referred to the Educational Document Reproduction Service, run on contract by a private company in Cleveland, Ohio and furnished for nominal cost.

Eventually, it is expected that foreign countries will join ERIC, Burchinal said, so the information network will become worldwide.

Barry: GOP '68 Convention a '64 Repeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater says the 1968 Republican Convention will be as conservative as the 1964 convention that nominated him for president.

Goldwater, appearing Sunday on a television-radio program, replied to a comment of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who described the 1964 Goldwater campaign as a "bad dream."

"If he (Javits) thinks the makeup of the 1968 convention is going to be any different than it was in 1964, he's mistaken," the former Arizona senator said.

Between 75 and 80 per cent of the delegates to the 1968 convention will be conservatives, Goldwater added, calling the Republican party "a conservative party."

Goldwater also said he believed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the unsuccessful GOP presidential candidate in 1960, is the "logical choice as now" for the 1968 nomination for president.

But Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said during a television-radio interview, he does not think "anyone is out front today" in the race for the GOP nomination.

"God forbid," Scott said when asked for reaction to Goldwater's comment on the makeup of the 1968 convention. "I would not want again to go through that trauma or that debacle."

Goldwater also returned to a 1964 campaign issue to urge the Johnson administration to give military commanders "in Viet Nam greater authority to make strategic decisions."

"This war has to be fought by military people," he said. "Men trained in war, trained in the concepts of war should be calling the shots."

The Massachusetts apple industry lost $1 million this year with 20 per cent of a bumper crop of 3.2 million bushels rotting away for want of trained pickers.

Russia Set to Buy Farm Machinery

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government, which usually avoids buying machinery abroad, disclosed today it will rely partly on foreign help in expanding production of agricultural equipment.

First Deputy Premier Kirill T. Mazurov made the disclosure when he opened an international exhibition of farm machinery at Moscow's permanent fairgrounds.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators today open hearings on international operations that some believe have cut supplies to raise prices for profiteering on antimalarial drugs needed for Viet Nam.

Bus Strike Affects 12 Western States

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe and Reno were without return trip buses between Los Angeles and San Diego today without bus service today in a strike which shut down Greyhound operations in 12 Western states.

Since the company operates extensive service to outlying areas around the cities, commuters had to turn to carpools and available trains.

Greyhound said 1,500 buses, including 365 on commuter runs, are out of service in the strike of 5,000 employees.

Drivers and clerks went out at 12:01 a.m. Sunday. Talks with federal mediators have been interrupted and no new sessions were scheduled for today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam will have a long wait if he expects to pay off the national debt with gifts from the citizenry. A special fund set up by Congress to receive debt-retiring gifts is almost 5 years old and it still hasn't collected its first million dollars. The debt, however, has shot up by $30 billion during the same period to its present $209 billion. The fund, isn't designed to retire the entire debt, but does afford a convenient spot for donors who want to do something about the high cost of government. Treasury Department officials said today more than $815,000 had been contributed to the fund through April 30. Before the fund was established, the department merely tossed into the general fund any contributions it received earmarked for debt retirement. The reasoning was that this increased the budget surplus and reduced the deficit. The Treasury had no authority to earmark any contributions to debt retirement until June 27, 1961, when President John F. Kennedy signed a bill creating the special debt account. In its first year, the trust received less than $10,000.

Counterterrorism Squads Have Simple Job---Kill Foe

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—The insignia is a black bat with outspread wings holding a death's head skull.

The circular yellow background has the three red stripes of the Republic of Viet Nam diagonally across it and two small blue stars make up the patch.

It is the very rarely seen battle patch of the mostly highly secret paramilitary organization in Viet Nam — the counterterrorism squads.

The existence of these highly controversial squads has been consistently denied by both Vietnamese and American military authorities. But in the more than two years since the inception of the counterterrorism program, the organization has grown considerably.

The job of the counterterrorism squads is very simple — kill Viet Cong, operating as political or military cadres in a specific area.

The 10-man squads have been operating mainly in disputed areas controlled neither by the government nor the Viet Cong. They have also penetrated deeply into what is considered hard-core Viet Cong country.

Acting on hard intelligence from agents, refugees or Viet Cong deserters, effective and potent Viet Cong cadres and agents are identified and marked for elimination.

If the Communist agents are operating in disputed areas, they may be given a warning to get out quick. This usually takes the form of a picture of a single eye tacked above the bed or on the door of the agent's house.

NO ONE KNOWS

No one knows how it got there. No one saw the shadow in the night, but the message is clear and the agent knows it is time to move.

But often there is no warning. The squad is given its orders and moves out under cover of darkness. They usually travel only at night. Either the squad has a guide or they know the area intimately themselves.

When the victim is located, he is assassinated quickly and quietly with the minimum of disturbance and the squad vanishes into the night as silently as it came.

Sometimes the squad will be given the job of destroying a known Communist ammunition dump or supply area but these are usually small village caches containing a few weapons only or a village workshop known to be manufacturing homemade mines.

GET OUT FAST

At such a time the squad, attacking again at night, may silently set demolition charges but usually ends by shooting up the village and getting out fast.

The "assassination squads," as they are commonly called, are a creation of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency together with the Vietnamese military intelligence organization.

Cadres are trained in a special camp at Vung Tau 40 miles southeast of Saigon, by American and Australian instructors.

Soviet Hotels Sometimes Dry

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — You get mighty thirsty when you're staying in a hotel in the Soviet Union. There is no running water in the room and there is no running water in the kitchen. There are ordered from a lady behind the counter. There was no cold water, the lady said, handing over four bottles.

This time, however, there seemed more grounds for complaint. Hotel prices for diplomats and correspondents were tripled this year as part of a Soviet drive to earn dollars for foreign trade.

The lady on the seventh floor who keeps room keys was very apologetic, she said the water would be back on in 50 minutes.

The guest asked if there was a buffet such as many Soviet hotels provide on several floors. "Nyet." The guest asked about room service. "Nyet."

The lady suggested buying bottled water at the second-floor restaurant.

WOULD BE QUICKER

The guest figured this would be quicker than waiting 50 minutes. He did not count on the elevator.

The hotel, with 14 floors, and accommodations for 350 guests, has two elevators. Each is common, with a telephone inside. But each is the size of a telephone booth. The Soviets allow six people in each. The wait can be 15 minutes or more.

In the restaurant the thirsty guest was ignored by waitress, then finally directed into the kitchen. There he ordered four bottles of cold mineral water from a lady behind the counter. There was no cold water, the lady said, handing over four bottles.

Dirksen Recovering From Thigh Fracture

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen showed improvement yesterday in his recovery from a thigh fracture suffered last Tuesday.

The 70-year-old Illinois senator walked along parallel bars in the physical therapy department of Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

His wife, who is staying at his side, said his spirits were good, but he has not been permitted to do any office work.

Aspirant to Tour Viet

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Wesley B. Tebeau, candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from the Michigan 9th District, was scheduled to leave for San Francisco today for Vietnam where he will study current conditions and U.S. war efforts.

A harried waitress, unnoticed by the counter lady, grabbed two of the bottles and scurried back to the restaurant.

DEBATE ENSUED

A debate then ensued in order to get another two bottles without paying for six. The guest won this fringe encounter but the battle was far from over.

Waiting for the elevator on the second floor, the guest finally concluded that the upbound local did not stop there. He walked down to the first floor in order to ride up to the seventh.

On returning to his room, the guest found the cold water was on again, but not the hot. Apparently 50 minutes or more had slipped by.

Nevertheless the cold running water was a blessing. It was needed to wash the single dirty glass provided in the carpetless, luxury double room. Only then could the self-service bottled water be poured out.

Finally, his thirst quenched, the guest could enjoy the lovely view of the Dnieper River from his room and realize that he had still been reasonably lucky.

After all, the room had a bottle opener.

A steam press to make coins, designed by Benjamin Franklin, was first used by the mint to speed production March 23, 1836.

Leftists Call French Strike

Severe Blow Likely for Nation's Economy

PARIS (UPI)—Leftist groups completed preparations today for a 24-hour nationwide strike tomorrow, which is expected to deal a heavy blow to the French economy.

For the first time since the days of the Algerian war, unions and opposition political groups plan to stage a giant street march through the heart of Paris.

The Communist party seized the labor agitation as the occasion for a new call for the formation of a "popular front" which might be able to defeat President Charles de Gaulle's supporters in the 1967 parliamentary election.

Union sources said they expect some 3 million workers to heed the strike call.

The walkout is expected to disrupt such public services as railroads, gas and electric power supply, the Paris subway and the state-operated school system.

LATEST IN SERIES

It is the latest of a series of harassing strikes which began in March, when unions demanded a 6-per-cent wage increase for public service workers.

Detroit Man New Head of 'Y' Council

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A Detroit automobile manufacturing executive is the new president of the National Council of Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States.

George E. Gulien Jr., 52, a vice-president of America Motors Corp., was named Sunday at the closing session of the council's 40th annual meeting.

"Society's need for the services that the YMCA can provide for youth was never greater," Gulien said.

"YMCA is not merely an institution centered in a great building in a metropolitan city," Gulien said, "but is an association of people, located in hundreds of communities across the nation, who are concerned about making life for American families better in their communities."

Gulien has been active for many years in YMCA affairs.

Nevada Clubs Face Pressure

Fuss Over Tax Share May Extend to Ballot

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Nevadans are being forced to take a close look at their 35-year-old prodigy — legal gambling.

No longer is gambling considered an experiment in Nevada. Clubs like Harrah's and Harold's, The Dunes and The Desert Inn are now an integral part of the Nevada scene.

But gamblers are being pressured to prove they are paying their share of taxes in the face of mounting demands for state revenue. One Baptist minister even proposed abolition of gambling. But that sort of talk rarely is heard in Nevada.

The fuss started a year ago when an out-of-work North Las Vegas man launched an initiative petition drive to increase the state's special gross tax on casino winnings by nearly 300 per cent on the big clubs.

AN UNKNOWN

Joe Matthews, a stocky, 53-year-old California native, was a virtual unknown. Not many thought his movement would last long.

But Matthews persisted and now claims he has 11,000 of the 14,000 signatures he needs to force action in the legislature next year, or at the polls in 1968 if the legislature fails to act.

The gamblers are worried.

Their defense is headed by two major casino organizations—one of them established since Matthews came on the scene, the other rejuvenated in the past year.

The spokesmen for each say a tax increase of such proportion would ruin the gambling industry and take a lot of Nevada business down with it.

TIGHTER CONTROL

That also is the view of Gov. Grant Sawyer, a Democrat, who first won election in 1958 on a platform of tighter gambling control.

Matthews says he is not out to destroy gambling.

However, he says, "There's something wrong when you can produce $300 million in one year on gambling and can't support a school system."

A report made last fall for Gov. Sawyer by the Nevada Gaming Commission, the Nevada Tax Commission and the Nevada Gaming Control Board said the 75 casinos which did 96 per cent of the business during the preceding year had net profit of $12 million on total sales of $408.3 million, including food, drinks and room prices as well as gambling receipts.

The casinos paid nearly $15 million to the state in special gambling taxes and fees in addition to another $15 million in taxes levied only on gamblers by federal, county and city government.

Space Jaunt for Monkey Is Scheduled

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES—Brain waves recorded five months ago from more than 50 hours during astronaut Frank Borman's Gemini 7 flight may not be fully understood until a macaque monkey makes a similar flight early in 1967 to provide more data.

Substantially more comprehensive instrumentation can be placed in deep body structures not feasible for use in man before the monkey is launched from Cape Kennedy as part of the Biosatellite program.

Data on the effects of prolonged space flight in an animal trained to perform tests of perception, recent memory and hand-eye coordination should be of direct use, however, in later manned flights.

Tape recordings from the study on astronaut Borman were submitted to extensive computer analysis that clearly revealed drifting of consciousness toward drowsy states and showed the patterns of sleep.

Dr. W. R. Adey and his team at the brain research institute, University of California, Los Angeles, collaborated with Drs. P. M. Kellaway and R. Malsbury of the Methodist Hospital, Houston, Tex., on the Borman study.

Teen Questions Ethics

She's Unusual Mother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a high school sophomore and my problem is what is happening to "truth" and "honor" today. Yesterday I found a note near my locker. It said:
"Hi, Kathy, 'Carol and I skipped school Friday. We had a ball. We went to her house and made fudge and watched TV. Her mom works, which makes it nice."
"When I got home at 4:30 my mother told me the school had called to see why I was absent. My mom is a real doll. She said I was home 'sick.' Want to join us next time?"
"BONNIE!"
Abby, as you can see, a student skipped school and her mother lied to cover up for her. This kind of thing makes me sick. If the kids lie and their parents cover up for them, it's all wonder we have so much juvenile delinquency!

ABBY

that's where she SAID she was going." And after the school-skipper had faced the music at school, she'd have had an encore to contend with at home.

DEAR ABBY: I divorced my husband when my only child was a mere babe in arms. Actually he deserted me when I was pregnant. I married a wonderful man, who adopted my daughter when she was two. He raised her as his own. She is getting married soon and wants a large church wedding. She has decided she wants her REAL father to give her away.

This girl hasn't seen her REAL FATHER for 10 years; and maybe three times in her entire life. He has done nothing for her. I can't understand this girl. Do I go along with her wishes or tell her it's impossible?

Her stepfather would be hurt beyond words; besides he is paying for the wedding. Answer son as I am a wreck.

DEAR NO: Your daughter appears to feel that the tradition and protocol of a marriage ceremony are more important than her debt to a devoted stepfather. Tell her that while her intentions are probably sincere, the hurt to her stepfather would be unforgivable. And if she doesn't yield then, bow out of the wedding.

DEAR DISGUSTED: There have always been "moms" who have lied to cover up for their children, and there always will be. But take my word for it, they are the exceptions. Most mothers would have said, "She went to school today, at least

Polly's Pointers Signs Save Time

DEAR POLLY—My son made two very useful cardboard signs for me. Both are about 10 by 14 inches and one is blue with white lettering and the other is red with white lettering.

The blue one says "No bread" and the red one says "No milk." I attached a heavy string loop at the center top of each sign which is long enough to wind around the outside door knob twice to keep it from blowing off.

The milkman and the bread man appreciate this time-saving idea. —EDITH.

DEAR POLLY—I always keep a roll of plain paper around the platen (roll) of my typewriter to protect it from the constant pounding as I was taught to do in school many years ago.

Now I type on the far left and far right of this paper (beyond the space needed for the average size envelope) the zip code numbers that I use most often. Saves time and steps. —M.H.S.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Late August vows are planned by Mary Jane Head, daughter of the Clarence E. Heads of Maceday Lake Road and Paul Dennis Newman, son of Mrs. Peter Newman of Seeden Drive and the late Mr. Newman.

Girls Attend Conference Briefing Tea

A tea, briefing area delegates to Wolverine Girls State June 14-21 at University of Michigan, was given Sunday afternoon at the Birmingham American Legion Post.

The girls were accompanied by their mothers and Girls State chairman, Mrs. William Hoose of the American Legion Auxiliary, Chief Pontiac Post 377 under whose sponsorship they will attend.

For seven days the girls will play junior politician roles, establishing a unit of government. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, they will be assigned to cities, petition for offices and form party platforms.

At the close of their session, two of the 462 high school juniors at Girls State will be elected to represent Michigan at Girls Nation in Washington, D.C.

Attending from Pontiac will be Sandra Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, North Perry Street; Pamela Gulda, daughter of the Alfred Guldas, Elizabeth Lake Road; and Merlynn Laurain, whose parents are the Merle Laurains, West Fairmount Avenue.

On Your Toes Now, Feet Come to Fore

With summer only a hop-skip-and-jump away, now is the time to take your feet in hand. In fact, just following a few simple rules, you can make good foot health a year-round proposition.

To mark the occasion of Annual Foot Health Week, observed May 13-20 this year, the American Foot Care Institute urges that all Americans be on their toes when it comes to proper foot care and footwear. Too often, says Dr. Benjamin Kauth, prominent podiatrist and Institute director, are foot ills simply a matter of neglect, lack of exercise and — most important — the wrong shoes.

Dr. Kauth has prepared a short list of "Do's" and "Don'ts," designed to keep you and your family on a sound footing from Maytime on.

- DO wear shoes that have been properly fitted. Correctly fitted shoes should be half-inch longer than the longest toe, a quarter-inch wider than the widest part of the foot, and the back should cradle the heel snugly to prevent rubbing.
- DO wear shoes of the best footwear material: leather. Supple leather uppers shape themselves to the foot, flex with every movement. Pliable leather soles offer cushioned support and protection. Only leather has natural porosity, keeping feet dry and comfortable. If sneakers are necessary for gym or tennis, they should be worn for only short periods of time.
- DON'T wear the same shoes two days in succession. Change socks or stockings once or twice a day.
- DO bathe feet once or even twice a day. Dry thoroughly and use foot powder.
- DO exercise your feet. Limber them up at intervals; wiggle your toes. Take walks regularly.
- DON'T neglect your own and your children's feet. Examine them at frequent intervals for any signs of trouble.
- DON'T be a "bathroom surgeon." If feet need attention, consult a qualified podiatrist.

Room Dividers From New Trim

Airy-looking room dividers and bead curtains will be easy to make with a new kind of decorating trim on the market, the National Cotton Council reports.

The trim consists of fluffy pom-poms of cotton, strung together like beads on a single strand.

Available by the yard, the new trim comes in eighteen decorator colors.

New Arrival Calls for Revamped Budget

Consultant in Money Management

Are you planning for your first child? Or, to be more basic about it, are you expecting your first child — and trying to figure out how high the cost will run?

The immediate medical bills, of course, must be the number one expense to consider. But these costs aren't going to be the only ones involved. In order to give you a practical run-down on how to budget for the arrival, plus the first year's feeding and care of an infant, let's start with today's hospital costs.

Figures mentioned here, remember, are averages, and vary according to regions and size of community. Your own standard of living, too, enters into the cost picture.

Figures estimated by Blue Cross for January, 1966, show that for an average stay of 4.4 days in an average community hospital, costs are $267. Doctor fees, they say, range from $125 to $315 — with the "most established" fee $250.

Some trend today is to have more or all of the cost of having the baby paid through health insurance plans. In fact, more than one-half of the births in the past year, according to statistics, were covered by some form of insurance ranging from a $50 flat fee to full maternity coverage.

HOME COSTS VARY

However, not all expectant mothers are covered by a medical plan. One young friend of mine, expecting her first child next month, has been quoted a price of $266 for two-bed hospital accommodations, and $258 for four-bed accommodations. These prices are for a four-day stay, including board and care, delivery room, laboratory fees, drugs and dressings. Her doctor's fee, of course, is in addition to these costs.

Now let's assume you've got these primary expenses under control. Next come the "home" costs. These, of course, will vary tremendously depending on what you feel are "musts" in the way of baby equipment — and how many items you get from family and friends Anyway, consider $100 a basic cost for providing baby with minimum equipment.

For example: crib, $35; mattress, $15; bedding, $25; formula and feeding equipment, $8; personal care items, $17. Another $100 can easily be spent for additional furnishings such as an adjustable chair, play pen, steel-frame stroller, carriage.

In fact, the carriage itself can eat up a $100 bill. Then there's the layette — for as little as $40 to $50 for the basics, on up to $150 or whatever you want to spend. But keep in mind that the baby will get gifts, so the young mother on a budget needn't spend an extravagant amount on pretty things for the baby to wear.

Babies are generally more comfortable in as little clothing as possible anyway.

AVERAGE MONTHLY COSTS

Now comes the next vital statistic — if diaper service is part of your planning, the cost can run from $2.90 to $4.15 a week, for the average weekly supply — estimated at 100 diapers a week.

If any diapers are left over, a new mother will find herself using the extra diapers for many other handy uses — such as for mopping up spills, for bibs, or goodness knows, what else. And these extras prove invaluable.

Feeding and caring for an infant, boy or girl, can average about $5.95 a week or $25.50 a month during the first year. These figures come from the Community Council of Greater New York. These costs are figured on 4.3 weeks in a month.

This amount is expected to cover formula, medical check-ups, clothing, drugs and incidentals, as well as home laundering of diapers. Some mothers will want to home-launder the diapers — especially if they have a dryer as well as a washer.

As a last word, I suggest that if your income is from $6,000 to $8,000 a year, making room for the new baby and feeding and caring for the infant for a year could reasonably cost from $750 to $1500.

Fete Bride-Elect

Cathleen Susan Gallagher, daughter of the James Gallaghers of Norton Avenue, was honored at a bridal shower Friday in the home of Evelyn Bone, also on Norton Avenue.

A June 25th wedding in the Grace Lutheran Church is planned by Miss Gallagher and her fiancé, Michael Harmes, son of U.S.M.C. Gunnery Sgt. and Mrs. Donald Morgan of North Perry Street.

John Greenlees, best man and the ushers James and Donald Greenlees are the bridegroom's brothers.

Vision Problems Changed Today?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Problems relating to vision have changed, eye specialists report. Very few persons today are troubled with a sty, but modern gadgets may provide some problems for the unwary.

The fun lamp is a case in point. It's as easy to go to sleep under the sun lamp as it is at the beach. Many sun lamp snoozers have obtained "eye burn" in the process. Over an extended period, the lamp's rays injure the eyelid and the eye. The eyelid also transmits light, in case you didn't know it, the specialists noted.

There are 20 grandchildren.

Glass Pleases Everyone

NEW YORK (UPI) — Glass can be formed into countless shapes and styles, reports the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

Bottle manufacturers, the Institute noted, shaped the bottles and jars to meet the housewife's preferences.

Mothers, for example, like baby food jars of clear glass with wide mouths so they can see what they are buying and so they can get the food out easily with a spoon.

The housewife prefers syrup bottles with pinched waists or glass handles at the neck. Either design makes it easier to handle the bottles.

Weekend Job Isn't Horseplay, for This Coed

HOUSTON (UPI) — Dainty Louise Randorff, 19, will probably be broken in half if she ever gets a kick out of her work.

Miss Randorff, a student at Sam Houston State College, is working her way through college by giving manicures to horses. She's not a blacksmith, but she earns about $40 on weekends trimming the hooves of her equine clients.

Most horse owners gave her the horse laugh when she first made her business pitch, but she now has a regular clientele.

The biggest problem on the job, she said, is "the leathers," since most of her customers weigh about 1,000 pounds.

A languages major in college, she wants to be a teacher. But all her plans also include horses.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TREE BARK

QUESTIONS: Why does a tree have bark?

ANSWER: Looking at the cross section of a tree trunk as at upper left, we can get a clear idea of the reasons for its special structure.

The tiny spot in the center shows the tree in its first year. Each ring after that shows one year's growth.

The darker group of rings in the center shows the part of the tree trunk which is no longer engaged in the business of carrying water and sap up and down, which it did when the tree was young.

But it acts as a strong central structure holding the tree up in the air. The outer rings show the active part of the trunk.

Through this, sap goes up toward the leaves. In the outside part, just under the bark, food comes down which has been made by the leaves and is distributed.

The bark is a strong outside layer which has the special job of protecting the easily damaged inner sapwood.

Sometimes it splits into rough plates, but sometimes it is smooth, like the white birch bark the Indians in the picture are peeling to build the beautiful canoes once made by them.

Sections of bark were sewed together, waterproofed on the edges with pitch, and attached to a light wooden framework.

The young warrior is imitating a moose's call on his bark horn. He's hoping to serve moose steak for supper.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look for a broken limb or tree branch on the ground to examine what's underneath, but don't peel or cut down a living tree in order to do this. Trees can be very easily killed if their protective bark layer is removed.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Distortion May Follow Cataract Removal

Q—How soon after a successful cataract removal is sight restored to the eye?

A—It is customary to keep the eye bandaged for about 10 days after such an operation.

When the bandage is removed, vision is restored but may be distorted due to the loss of the lens. BRANDSTADT

In some persons, this can be corrected by wearing a contact lens in addition to the glasses previously worn.

In those who are unable to wear a contact lens, there is a gradual readjustment of binocular vision with a change in the prescribed glasses.

Q—Is it possible successfully to remove a cataract from an eye that has already had a detached retina?

A—Yes. The retina and the lens are completely separate structures.

Q—Is it possible to remove a cataract by freezing instead of cutting?

A—It is possible by freezing instead of squeezing.

The use of a subfreezing extractor has several advantages over the older method but it does not eliminate the necessity of cutting through the hard outer capsule of the eyeball.

Q—Every time I take two or three aspirins for a cold, dark red blotches appear on my arms. What can I do for this?

A—In persons who are hypersensitive to aspirin, such a rash is common.

This is a mild form of aspirin poisoning rather than a true allergy.

Most persons who take aspirin for minor complaints take two or three when they would get a better result with less danger of poisoning if they took only one tablet and repeated the dose not often than every four hours.

Of course, much larger doses are needed in the treatment of arthritis or rheumatic fever.

If you use the smaller dose, however, and still get a rash, you should switch to another drug.

Q—Will aspirin cause an increase in blood pressure?

A—No, and it will not lower it either.

House Gets Controversial Measure

Loan Plan Fight Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government to shift government loans to private investors what could be one of the grimmest fights of the Congress — to the enactment of a $4.2-billion financing program that could make the assets into cash for use by its difference between a nearly balanced budget next year and one $4 billion in the red.

The bill comes before the House today with a vote expected Tuesday. It would permit the government to shift government loans to private investors by putting them in a pool and selling shares in this. Thus the enactment of a $4.2-billion financing program that could make the assets into cash for use by its difference between a nearly balanced budget next year and one $4 billion in the red.

The measure has encountered wide opposition. Republicans have called it a budget gimmick to conceal the amount of government spending. Other opponents — including the Farmers Union and the Americans for Democratic Action — say it would cost the taxpayers more in interest than straight Treasury borrowing.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL

As soon as the financing measure is disposed of, the House is scheduled to start debating another highly controversial piece of legislation to increase minimum wages.

The measure would increase the minimum wage from the present $1.25 an hour to $1.40 next Feb. 1 and $1.60 an hour a year later.

The measure also would extend coverage of the act to 7.2 million additional workers. A major fight is expected on proposed inclusion of farm workers.

The bill's sponsors say they have enough votes for House passage. The Johnson administration has called for improvements in the minimum wage, without spelling out details.

SPACE FUNDS

The Senate, with a relatively quiet week in view, is expected to take up a $3-billion National Aeronautics and Space Administration authorization bill.

Its foreign relations committee may begin voting on details of a $3.4-billion foreign aid bill which has provided a platform for debate on foreign policy in general. It also is scheduled to consider further proposals for tighter congressional supervision of the Central Intelligence Agency and other intelligence agencies.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower paid tribute to "a son of West Point" to Sylvanus Thayer, "the man who fathered it."

In a recorded message delivered yesterday in New York at the installation of Thayer into the Hall of Fame for Great Americans, Eisenhower called him the "patron saint" of the Army.

Eisenhower, a 1915 graduate of West Point, was unable to attend the ceremonies at New York University because he is undergoing medical tests at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley was his personal representative at the installation.

Thayer was named to the Hall of Fame in recognition of his work as superintendent of the military academy from 1817 to 1833.

Mrs. Haddix quit Riverside Christian Training High School at the end of her junior year in 1930. Then, last year, she decided to get a diploma. She timed her graduation to coincide with that of John Dwight.

Church Unit Hits British Gambling

LONDON (AP) — Britain's gambling fever is still spreading and it's time to do something to curb it, the churches' council on gambling said today.

The council, an interdenominational group which keeps an eye on gaming and its effects on society, estimated gambling was a $2.5-billion business in Britain last year — an increase of $28 million over 1964.

But this figure, the council noted in its annual review, does not include the turnover for gaming clubs or gaming machines, which the council said it is unable to estimate.

"It is one aspect of the era of manifold change through which we are passing that many find their lives deeply unsatisfying," the church report said.

DANGEROUS THING

"Gambling offers excitement, but as an addictive social habit it is a dangerous thing on which to depend. More positive answers require to be generated and popularized."

"The nation must consider what it has done and is doing in this decade. By the operation of the law it has opened doors to permit, not just gambling but its commercial exploitation, and it has done this so radically as to appear reckless to many visitors from overseas."

Although a few Britons gambled in continental casinos, gaming houses were forbidden in Britain from 1945 until the law was relaxed in 1960.

"Parliament must now examine the results of its handiwork and take some decisive action," the churches' council said, repeating its assertion of last year that the law should be amended so that its original intentions are carried into effect.

The 1960 parliamentary act was designed to make gaming lawful while preventing anyone from making a profit by encouraging others to play for high stakes.

Albert Woolston, the last Union Army veteran, died Aug. 2, 1966, at the age of 109.

KNOWS WHEN TO DUCK — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin ducks under the arm of a man describing the works of the Aswan High Dam on the Upper Nile which was built with Russian technical assistance. Kosygin, who is on an eight-day official tour of the United Arab Republic, visited the dam last week.

Eye Saudi-U.A.R. Rift

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin met President Gamal Abdel Nasser today to discuss what role, if any, Russia would play in the event of a military clash between the United Arab Republic and Saudi Arabia.

The United States is firmly committed to defend the oil-rich Saudi regime of King Faisal and its support of royalist factions in the Yemen civil war. Nasser backs the republican elements in Yemen.

Today's talks between the Egyptian and Soviet leaders came as Kosygin wound up his eight-day state visit to the U.A.R. The 62-year-old premier arrived here last Tuesday.

In a luncheon toast to Kosygin at Port Said yesterday, Nasser renewed his threat of an "armed struggle" with his enemies in the Middle East and coupled it with thanks to the Soviet Union for supporting Egypt in the 1956 Suez war.

Nasser's threat of an "armed struggle" appeared to echo his May Day speech warning of a possible invasion and occupation of Saudi Arabian territory.

PROMPT REAFFIRMATION

Nasser's May 1 warning against Saudi Arabia brought prompt reaffirmation by the U.S. State Department of America's commitment to the defense of King Faisal's state in the event of attack.

The Egyptian press has charged the United States with assuming the role of protector toward Saudi Arabia, and claimed it was the instigator of Saudi interferences in Yemen affairs.

Kosygin responded to Nasser's speech yesterday by assuring the Egyptians that "the Soviet people will always stand at your side."

But Kosygin did not give an explicit commitment to back Nasser in a military confrontation with Saudi Arabia.

ANOTHER STATEMENT

In another statement to Arab students last night, Nasser hinted he may have embraced the Russian call for unity of leftist Arab nations against Western-backed governments in the Middle East.

The unity of leftist regimes — principally the U.A.R., Syria, Iraq and Algeria — has been blocked so far by differences among them, including Nasser's longstanding feud with the Syrians.

His statements yesterday could indicate that Kosygin has persuaded Nasser to try and overcome these differences.

If so, this would be a major diplomatic victory for the Soviets in the Middle East and would be a source of serious concern for the United States.

Are Adults Following Now Instead of Leading?

NEW YORK (AP) — Are adults copycats, following the young generation instead of trying to lead it?

Dr. Emanuel Demby, president of Motivational Programmers, Inc., says: "From time immemorial, young people have carved out individualistic group patterns, behavior that made them like teen-agers and separated them from us."

"Then the tide began to turn," Mr. Demby said. "They took over rock 'n' roll music; they adopted the Twist, Frug and Watusi; they sliced hems above the knee; they even talked about a sexual revolution almost as much as the youngsters."

"Every step that youth took to differentiate itself was followed by a copycat action on the part of adult society," Demby told a recent scientific meeting.

ONE EXCEPTION

The one exception: smoking pot — marijuana — and using psychedelics.

"It is almost as though this is the only no-man's-land between youth and adult society. Thus, it is not surprising that more and more young people are taking a stand that pot, LSD and all the rest are not only not harmful, but helpful to their growth. Adult society, anxious and fearful, accuses youth of becoming alienated and degraded by dependence on drugs."

In depth interviews with young people, Demby said, "We found them almost thanking God that in at least one area of human activity adults were not copying youth."

Demby, who is senior research consultant to the College of Business Administration of Fairleigh Dickinson University, said one youth told him: "Adults are the enemy."

TAKING OVER

Another said: "We're taking over sooner or later. 'We have to. We're the active generation. Yours is the generation of betrayal. You started out idealistic. You wound up commercial.'"

A 20-year-old college girl: "The styles we wear are sweet and tough. We don't want our parents to copy what we wear. We can get away with it. It's terrible to see a 50-year-old woman using powder and make-up to look young enough for our styles. Mothers are too old to wear what we wear."

Youth, said Demby, sees adult society as a pitiable, alienated, world's population.

Demby sees youth as the idealistic generation — a very happy generation — "although they see themselves as tragic. My own prediction is that they're going to be one of the great generations of all time. They have a tremendous spiritual sense they want to express — and will. They will be good parents, better than we."

READY FOR OBSCURITY

Until adults discover the thrill of being adults, the models used in advertising will continue to become younger and younger. A model who looks like a 21-year-old will be ready for obscurity."

Package design will move more toward sensual materials and sexy forms.

New frames of reference will be needed to measure public opinion attitudes of youth groups, to know how much is part of a put-on."

Fewer young people will want to become physicians or have anything to do with the bomb and development of weapons.

The future for products and services that promise relief from anxiety will be greater than ever.

Fidel's Power Seems Firm, Despite Stories to Contrary

By ISAAC M. FLORES

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro appears to be steadily consolidating his power, giving internal subversion little room to maneuver as a threat to his Communist regime. This is the view of experienced political observers in Havana.

Draft Test Tip: Bone Up on Science, Math

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the 400,000 students who took the national draft deferment examination have a tip for those taking the test later: bone up on your science and math.

Those are the subjects that were found most frequently during the three-hour, 150-question exam. It was administered Saturday at 1,200 colleges and universities in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

The results will be forwarded to local draft boards to help them determine whether the students can stay in school or be drafted into the armed services. Another 600,000 youths will take the test May 21, June 3 and June 24.

'NOT A CINCH'

"The examination would have been a cinch for fellows at MIT or any other technical school," said Harvey Stein, 23, a student at Hastings Law School in San Francisco. "But I'm afraid it wasn't for me. I was a history major."

Although they said the examination was easy, two City College of New York students — Peter Gewandter and Al Samuel — said it was science-oriented, even in the reading comprehension and verbal analogy sections.

40,000 Take Exam in State

By The Associated Press

An estimated 40,000 college students in Michigan during the weekend sought to protect their draft-deferred status, taking aptitude tests for their Selective Service boards to an ally.

In some cases, opponents of the testing program picketed or handed out leaflets, but no incidents were reported except a momentary scuffle at Wayne State University which Detroit police broke up without making arrests.

Col. Arthur Holmes, state Selective Service director, said about 40,000 students participated in the first round of testing. Other exams will be held May 21, June 3 and June 24. The testing was at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and at U. of M.'s Flint branch drew about a dozen pickets each Saturday. A minister and a sociology professor demonstrated in Flint.

vana. They discount reports, mainly from outside the country, picturing the Castro regime as in danger.

A number of top-ranking personalities have been removed from official positions, but the number and caliber of these people do not seem sufficient to weaken the regime nor to indicate a trend of internal subversion.

There is much disagreement among serious students of Cuban politics as to what would happen if Castro were to be assassinated. There does appear to be virtual unanimity among them that there is no organized, meaningful, militant resistance against the bearded Communist leader.

NOT SUPPORTED

"It cannot be over emphasized that actual Cuban events do not support optimistic reports on the outside that the government is teetering on the verge of disaster," a Western diplomat says.

Castro did in fact survive an assassination plot, and had five persons sentenced to long prison terms as a result.

The Cuban economy is in trouble and has been for a number of years. Consumer goods, food, clothing and other necessary items continue to be scarce and Cubans seem to complain more about the situation each day.

But this dissatisfaction cannot be translated to mean a general resistance movement. In the main, most Cubans seem to realize the futility of organized protests.

LITTLE DISSENSION

Despite the claims of Castro critics, most political experts here agree there appears to be little dissension within the Cuban armed forces.

At least one of its top commanders-one of the 12 original Castro rebels in the Sierra Maestra—has been purged. Other lesser officers have been shuffled about. If anything, this may demonstrate that Castro keeps on top of the situation by preventing any possible dissension. There has been no evidence of large-scale demonstrations against the regime anywhere on the island. Cubans are showing their disapproval in other ways. They are leaving their homeland in unprecedented numbers, in relation to population.

From all reports, Castroism is getting to be an increasingly dimmer beacon to other Latin American revolutionary movements.

Hospitalized Senator May Be Discharged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Carl Hayden, president pro tempore and the oldest member of the Senate, was expected to be released from the Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., today.

The 88-year-old Arizona Democrat was admitted two weeks ago for tests and rest after suffering unfavorable reactions from antibiotics administered for a respiratory infection.

Mets Shell Giants 9; Astros Lose

By The Associated Press
Milt Pappas spotted Frank Robinson 400 points, but he's not worried. He figures he has until 1968 to catch up.

Actually, at his present pace, Pappas won't need that much time to pull even with Robinson. The Cincinnati pitcher scored another chunk off the Baltimore slugger's lead Sunday, gaining his third straight complete-game victory as the Reds whipped Chicago 9-2.

Pappas and Robinson were the primary players in the winter deal between the Reds and the Orioles, and everyone conceded the better of the trade to Baltimore when Robinson was hitting 400 before Pappas even had a game for Cincinnati.

But now the 27-year-old Cincinnati has won three games in 10 days, and he's helped pull the Reds to within three games of 500 after they had been eight games under.

Pappas, however, isn't interested in discussing the merits of the trade.

"I'll take three years before anyone can decide what's what in a deal like this," he said Sunday. But he added:

"The Reds got me to pitch, and I can do that. What happens with Robinson and the Orioles, I have no concern."

Elsewhere in the National League, New York whipped San Francisco 6-1, Philadelphia stopped Houston 5-2, and St. Louis doubled Atlanta 3-1.

Pappas received solid support from Pete Rose, who rapped three hits, including a three-run double in the fourth inning. Deron Johnson, Don Pavletich and Art Shamsky contributed homers to the Reds' attack while Ron Santo connected for the Cubs.

Rod Gardner stopped San Francisco on four hits, one of them Jim Hart's homer. Ron Hunt triggered two New York rallies, singling and scoring the first and singling at the start of a four-run outburst in the third.

Don Sutton and Phil Regan combined for a six-hit effort as Pittsburgh's John Roseboro and Maury Wills each tripled in a run, and Wills scored on Willie Davis' single.

Philadelphia defeated Houston as Harvey Kuenn singled in the sixth inning and scored the tying run, then singled across the lead run in the seventh.

Cookie Rojas added a two-run double in the eighth, insuring Larry Jackson's first victory as a Phillie.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the third inning with the help of Joe Torre's error and went on to defeat Atlanta. Torre dropped Frank Bolling's throw at the plate, allowing Orlando Cepeda to score and Tim McCarver to reach third from where he came across on Julian Javier's sacrifice fly.

SUAREZ SLIDES TO SAFETY — Kansas City Athletics' catcher Ken Suarez reaches third base with a head-first slide for a sixth-inning triple Sunday. Third baseman Tom Tresh of the Yankees applies the tag too late. The visiting New Yorkers took a double-header victory, however, 5-2 and 3-1, before a capacity crowd.

Boston Snap Loss Skein Against California '9

ANAHEIM (AP) — Jose San after Tom Saltrano reached a tiego, with a ninth-inning relief first on George Scott's error and help from Dick Radatz, pulled Boston out of a six-game losing streak Sunday by pitching the Red Sox to a 6-3 second-game victory over California.

The Angels won the opener 5-4 as Joe Adcock and Ed Kirkpatrick each hit two-run homers, and Rick Reichardt singled home what proved to be the deciding run.

Santiago held the Angels to six hits in the nightcap, but Radatz relieved him in the ninth.

In the opener, the Angels came from behind with three runs in the seventh and pinned the loss on reliever Darrell Brandon. The victory went to Angel reliever Bob Lee, though Lew Burdette worked the last two innings and survived a one-run upsurge.

Foy knocked in two of the Boston runs with a double and sacrifice fly, and Petrolini drove in two with three singles.

By JACOBY AND SON

When your partner has been able to describe his hand to you and you jump to game you expect him to pass. In other words, you have told him that you want to play game and nothing more.

When your partner has not limited his hand the jump to game has a far different significance. It implies that you want to play game if partner holds the minimum that he has indicated but is willing to go higher if he has something in reserve.

South's two spade bid was a force to game and did not give anything like a complete picture of his hand but it gave North a chance to describe his hand perfectly and North did just that by his jump to four hearts.

In the language of bids let's see just what North said when he jumped to four hearts. The message was, "Partner, I heard your two spade bid. We are going to game in any event and while my hand is minimum in high cards I have a self-sufficient heart suit of at least six cards. If that is enough for a slam, go ahead and bid it."

South decided that it was enough for a slam. It might even be enough for a grand slam in case North held the ace of diamonds in addition to the good hearts so South used Blackwood to check the aces.

When North showed only one ace, South made a very fine decision and bid six no-trump.

It was just as well that he placed the slam there. A diamond opening by East would beat six hearts two tricks. The bad spade break would set six spades but in six no-trump, South had 12 easy winners against any lead.

Engine Drops Out of Plane

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A 1929 biplane lost its engine in flight Sunday but glided to a smooth landing on Tampa Bay. The pilot escaped with a back injury. Authorities said the pilot, Henry Palmer, St. Petersburg, was able to control the vintage plane and execute a smooth landing at an ideal spot — on the shallow part of the bay.

The emergency landing inflicted no serious damage on the plane. The engine was found in the bay.

County Cleans Up for Cash

MANISTEE (AP) — Manistee County is 127,000 bottles and cans cleaner today.

And residents who picked up the trash from 125 miles of roadway are $517 richer.

A committee of civic leaders put a half-cent reward on every bottle and can taken from a roadside and brought to a downtown parking lot.

Residents of the county in northwestern lower Michigan dumped the refuse for six hours Saturday. It was piled as much as seven feet high in the parking lot.

"One woman must have brought better than 7,000 bottles," she had five kids with her," said William J. Henry, secretary of the Tuesday Committee, sponsor of the cleanup.

"They dragged them in boxes, they brought them in wheelbarrows, they hauled them in station wagons and they gathered them in a wagon pulled by a horse," Henry said.

Men from the Junior Chamber of Commerce stood guard at the Manistee dump to prevent anybody from trying to re-use the bottles and cans already thrown in the proper place.

The Jaycees counted the bottles and cans—children brought about 80 per cent of them—and paid out the money.

"Every body has a lot of fun," said Henry, general manager of the Manistee News Advocate which publicized the cleanup campaign.

Barbra Eying New Fields, Including Playing of Juliet

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LONDON—Can you see Barbra Streisand as Romeo's Juliet?

She can and Shakespeare is just one of the plans the singing star has conceived for her future. Among the others: becoming a movie star and mother of two or three children.

Miss Streisand and her husband, Elliot Gould, are expected to appear in their first film in December, and the other plans will naturally be held in abeyance.

She now is playing to standing-room audiences nightly at the Prince of Wales Theater in her Broadway smash, "Funny Girl."

"It isn't easy," she admitted one afternoon in her posh London flat while serving some caviar to an American visitor. "I mean it's not like making a movie, where you can say 'Wait a half-hour while I take a rest.'"

1,400 PEOPLE
"You can't take a rest when you've got 1,400 people out there and they've paid a lot of money to see you. You've got 30 costume changes and all those songs and dances and what do you do when you feel like throwing up?"

Miss Streisand is under contract to continue in the show until mid-July.

Then she was supposed to return to the United States for her third CBS television special and a concert tour, for which she was to receive a record pay for a performer. But her pregnancy has forced cancellation of these appearances.

"I'm tired. I feel like sleeping all the time. But I suppose I'll get used to it."

DOESN'T SHOW
Her fatigue doesn't show in "Funny Girl." She still belts out "People" and clowns her way through the show, although she has eliminated some of the gymnastics.

Having won various Tonies, Emmies and Grammys for her stage, television and record work, Brooklyn-born Barbra now is contemplating other fields. Shakespeare? Why not?

"I've done it in school, but never professionally, and I'd like to try," she admitted.

"What would I play? Juliet? Cleopatra? 'Taming of the Shrew.' There are a lot of great parts in Shakespeare."

But previous to that she will fulfill her ambition to become a movie star.

"That's what being a star really is," she said dreamily. "When you say 'star,' you think of Lana Turner, Ava Gardner—people who really have an air of glamour."

"It's what I've always wanted. My face? I never worried about it. Funny thing about my face, it has always photographed well — always. Besides, most of the stars who made it have unusual faces — Claudette Colbert, Marlon Brando, Humphrey Bogart."

Her first film will be "Funny Girl," to be shot in Hollywood next year. It was scheduled to begin in January, but will be postponed because of Miss Streisand's personal production.

Chiang Begins His 4th Term

Heir-Apparent Will Take Office as VP

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chiang Kai-shek begins his fourth six-year term Friday as Nationalist China's president. Taking office beside him will be an economics expert whom Chiang himself chose as his heir-apparent.

The vice president-elect, C.K. Yen, will be the first non-military man to hold the office.

Yen is now premier. The last vice president, Chen Cheng, died in March 1965, and since then, there has been no constitutional successor to Chiang.

Chiang at 78 is in good health and leads an active life. His last serious illness was in 1962 when he underwent prostate surgery.

YOUNGER MAN

Chiang passed over a number of his contemporaries to select a younger man. Yen is 68. He was also chosen because of his proven ability as an administrator and economic expert. Before becoming premier in December 1963, he served a four-year term as governor of Formosa, sandwiched between two periods as minister of finance, 1959-64 and 1962-63.

Yen has a wife, five sons, four daughters and seven grandchildren.

Chiang regards Yen's excellent command of English as an asset that meets one of Chiang's own shortcomings.

Another asset, in which Chiang admits he himself is deficient, is Yen's internationally recognized expertise in economics.

School Shuffle Before Voters

GREENVILLE (UPI) — Residents in Montclair and parts of bordering counties were scheduled to ballot today on a Montclair County school reorganization plan which a circuit judge refused to block.

The proposed consolidation plan for Montclair County calls for the elimination of 19 primary school districts and the merger of Blanchard, in Isabella County, into a new Montclair K-District along with Edmore and part of the Six Lakes primary union.

Isabella Circuit Judge Robert Campbell Saturday denied a petition by the Blanchard school district and two individuals who sought to halt the election and also have the 1946 state K-12 Act ruled unconstitutional.

An 18-man Isabella County committee "released" Blanchard and Weidman district from Isabella County's intermediate district reorganization phase those districts could proceed with consolidation of districts centered closer though in adjoining counties.

Water Leak Repaired

BELLEVEILLE (AP) — Water was shut off Sunday to some 13,000 residents of Belleville and Van Buren Township. The water supply was cut off while workmen repaired a leak in a main line.

Stock Mart Rally Fizzles Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A mild stock market rally fizzled out today and prices declined once again as trading quieted.

The early advance and the moderate activity and as the advance faltered, the price slowed considerably before Friday's. Then stocks began to weaken as selling pressure built up.

Most of the initial gains which ran to a point or two for some pivotal blue chips — melted away as the new selling drive got under way.

General Motors stretched a fractional loss to more than a point. Anacostia slashed a 2-point advance to a fraction.

Prices were mixed in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 6.4 and 30.5 with industrials off 1.0, rails off .6 and utilities unchanged.

Typhoon Irma

262 Aboard Filipino Steamer Aground

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Irma drove a small Filipino ship aground off Cebu Island today and a radio callback obscured the fate of 262 persons aboard the ship.

The typhoon's 80-mile winds kicked up giant seas that lashed the 40-ton interisland steamer Pioneer Cebu. The center of the typhoon was almost directly over the ship.

"We have not had any radio contact since mid-afternoon and we have no hope of getting any help to the area before Tuesday morning," a rescue official said.

Rescue ships were standing by in nearby ports.

AGROUND ON REEF

A radio operator at Philippine President Lines in Manila said the ship was aground on a reef off the northern tip of Cebu and in a "critical condition."

"We picked up the SOS this morning. The radio operator on the ship said the seas were huge and threatening to capsize the ship," he said.

The last contact he had with him said the ship was aground. He did not say anything about abandoning it.

Earlier reports said the 176-foot ship had sunk but they were denied by an official of Pioneer Shipping Lines, owners of the vessel.

UNIT ALERTED

A duty officer at the Manila Marine Rescue Center said navy and air force units had been alerted.

"But the weather is too bad down there for the air force to take off," he said.

Earlier reports said the 176-foot ship had sunk but they were denied by an official of Pioneer Shipping Lines, owners of the vessel.

NEW YORK—The sharp drop in stock prices in the first half of May has:

• Dismayed many speculators in glamour stocks.

• Turbured some investors in blue chip issues.

• Left the official guardians of the economy outwardly unruffled.

• And convinced some tax-payers by making a tax hike seem less likely.

OWN VIEWS

It's all in how you look at it. From where the government economists stand, today's apparent bad news could be tomorrow's good news.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield proposed today that the United States withdraw all but a token force of U.S. troops from Europe as part of the realignment of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview he hopes the Johnson administration will recognize the change in status in Europe and seek some compromise with President Charles de Gaulle in France's scheduled exit July 1 from NATO.

Out of such negotiations, the Montana senator said, could come a sizable reduction in the force.

Church, who recently completed a two-week tour of Europe, said Sunday, these policies need updating. He also suggested that a meeting between President Johnson and de Gaulle would be "very useful."

Regarding, Church said, the United States must cement the alliance of the 14 NATO members besides France.

Washington discussions on NATO step up this week with Britain's minister of European Affairs, George Thomson, due to see Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials yesterday and Thursday.

Washington's Foreign Minister, Pierre Harmel, is due here at the end of the week.

U.S. strategists were reported seeking stronger ties and unity among the 14 NATO members who will remain if France withdraws from the pact.

NATO ministerial meeting to be held in Brussels June 6-8.

Adults at Fault - PTA Leader

'Youth Given Power, Not Responsibility'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers said today that adults must blame themselves for giving adolescents too much power and not enough responsibility.

"It is to us who have led many of them to believe — or pretend — that everything in life is or should be fun," Jennelle Moorehead said in her prepared keynote address to the PTAs 70th annual convention.

"Parents and teachers, in our effort to be permissive, have to often be under submissive."

ANOTHER END

Mrs. Moorehead of Eugene, Ore., told the convention that there is another end of the spectrum.

"We have thousands of able, responsible youngsters being pressured to make high grades so that they can qualify for college and to maintain those grades in order to stay there," she said.

"I would be the last person to decry superior academic achievement, but I would be remiss not to cry against the exaggerated importance today attached to grades as grades, as distinguished from the true purpose of education."

About 2,000 delegates representing 6,000 PTAs throughout the country and in American cities overseas are attending the four-day meeting which began Sunday.

Will Seek Judgeship

Star's Daughter, TV Hit, Shines Out in Own Light

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I'd be lying if I said I don't have my own trust fund and could always find it into it . . . my father's a very wealthy man," said Mario Thomas, Danny's 25-year-old daughter, sitting in one of the Plaza's nicer suites.

She was being interviewed because she stars in her own TV show, "That Girl," on ABC, next season.

"But I feel I have been independent. That's hard, when you have such wonderful parents."

"Being sponsored by a famous parent is the kiss of death. The best comedy comes from my father's stable. The man's a comedy genius. But how could I do my best work with somebody who loves me and I love him. The emotional involvements would be too strong."

"My father has never pushed his advice on me. 'I was offered the national touring company of 'Barfot in the Park.' 'Father thought it would be good for me. I said 'No, because everybody would come to see Danny Thomas' little girl.' 'Doing the London company—that was perfect. Daddy's show's not in England. One of the London critics writing about me even said, 'She's the daughter of an American comedian, I'm told.'"

"Mother and daddy were there for the opening and they cried because it was their little kid up there on stage and people were shouting 'Bravo.' And daddy really backed off and let it be my evening. It was all daddy's way of saying 'You did it, kid.' 'You see,' she said, 'I mean it when I say I have my heart set on a career that isn't an appendage of somebody else.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Henry Ford 34s were accompanied by two FBI men at Voinis, looking for jewel thief spotters. . . . Sheila MacRae flew to Miami Beach to discuss going on Jackie Gleason's TV'er regularly next season. (She's also being pre-trial examined in the Otto Preminger-vs.-Irving Lazard "Battle of 21" case.

Man Fitting Into Environs
Has High Toleration for Bad Conditions

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Modern man is so adaptable he can learn to tolerate murky skies, chemically treated water and a lifeless land, stated a scientist with the Rockefeller University in New York.

In fact, man may soon forget that some of his most exhilarating experiences have come from the freshness, brilliance and rich variety of unspoiled natural phenomena, said Dr. Rene Dubos at the first lecture of a series on environmental improvement.

Unfortunately, perhaps, starless skies and joyless scenery are not incompatible with the maintenance of life, or even with physical health, Dr. Dubos pointed out.

The only measure of their loss may be a decline in the quality of life and sanity of human beings.

The ability to adapt, for eons an asset for survival on earth, HAS EFFECT

Man's adjustment to the stresses of environmental pollution, intense crowding and monotonous, ugly, depressing environments has pathological effects, often delayed and extremely indirect.

For instance, constant exposure to smog and fumes eventually shows its effect in the form of pulmonary diseases in people who had learned to accept atmospheric pollution as part of life.

Pulmonary diseases now constitute the greatest single medical problem in northern Europe, home of the Industrial Revolution.

Most of the environmental problems in the modern world have their origins in the rapid increase of world population, Dr. Dubos said.

Throughout history, man's civilizations have been built on the relationships linking man to nature.

Scranton Has Most at Stake in Governor's Race — and He's Not Running

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The man with the most to win or lose, in Pennsylvania's gubernatorial race this year is Gov. William W. Scranton, and he isn't even a candidate.

At stake is Scranton's power base for his expected campaign to capture the Republican presidential nomination.

The governor is prohibited by law from seeking a second four-year term. But if he is to bargain from a position of strength at the 1968 national GOP convention, the governor's office must remain in Republican hands.

The man chosen by Scranton and his colleagues in the state party to keep Pennsylvania Republican another four years is Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY
In the last full week of campaigning, however, Scranton and the GOP were shocked by an airplane tragedy which took the lives of State Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini; his wife; Liquor Control Board member James E. Staudinger; and the pilot of their chartered plane, Melvin Ladin of Collingswood, N.J.

Alessandrini was the candidate for lieutenant governor on the organization-endorsed ticket headed by Shafer.

Republican and Democratic

Homemade Boat Flips; 2 Drown

BELLEVEILLE (AP)—A Belleville man swam to shore but two boys drowned when a homemade hydroplane capsized in Edison Lake Lagoon Saturday.

Charles Harris, 15, and Gregor Danculovich, 14, both of Belleville, drowned in about 12 feet of water after the 10-foot boat, powered by a seven-horsepower motor, overturned.

Walter Ruchowiak, 21, said he tried unsuccessfully to save the youths. Wayne County sheriffs' men said the craft, owned by Ruckowiak, was designed for one person and carried no life preservers.

nominees for governor, other state offices, 27 congressional seats, and all 253 seats in the General assembly will be chosen in primaries Tuesday.

Shafer's opposition for the Republican nomination isn't regarded as formidable. The strongest of his two opponents appears to be Harold E. Stassen, 57, Philadelphia lawyer who hasn't won a race since he was elected governor of Minnesota in 1943.

But the Democratic organization candidate, State Sen. Robert Patrick Casey of Scranton, has vigorous campaign opposition from Milton J. Shapp, 53, wealthy Philadelphia industrialist, who is making his first statewide race.

Two years ago, Shapp announced for nomination to the U.S. Senate but withdrew when the Democratic state organization endorsed State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Munnich. Passed over again this spring in favor of Casey, Shapp launched his own campaign.

Seasoned observers now regard the contest as close.

YOUNGEST MAN
Casey, 34 and the youngest in the race, got the party leaders' backing only after they political observers with a Pennsylvania Republican par-failed to induce former Gov. George M. Leader to forsake his political career and return to politics.

Shafer, 46, and a classmate of a swift kick to the status quo, I want your help in demolishing what has become a Pennsylvania tradition of government by crisis."

But Scranton told a news conference next day he thought the speech was a good one and that it was wrong to lift excerpts out of context and criticize them.

Stassen disagreed, saying, "In effect, the speech seemed to downgrade the Commonwealth."

For Outdoor Enthusiasts

Local Facilities Popular

Pontiac area outdoor enthusiasts are among the millions of visitors to two of the largest recreation developments in southeastern Michigan—Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester.

Both sites are projects of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park agency serving the counties of Oakland, Livingston, Macomb, Washtenaw and Wayne.

These parks, as well as smaller Marshbank Metropolitan Park six miles southeast of Pontiac, offer recreation on a "day-use" basis and hence no family camping is available.

However, there is recreation at all three sites, with Kensington Park being the best-developed since it is the oldest in terms of use.

Over 2 million persons are expected to visit Kensington Park this year, with many of them coming from Oakland County.

NATURE TRAILS

The nature trails and nature center are both popular during spring months when hiking is the main attraction along nature trails. Here individuals and family groups may walk along the trails and find plant and animal life labelled for easy identification.

One unique attraction are the Canada Geese that make their home on Kingfisher Lagoon in front of the Nature Center or on Wildwing and Kent Lakes. Inside the Nature Center are seasonal exhibits that better explain the natural environment of the area in the park and representative of southeastern Michigan wildlife.

Boating is a popular activity as well as fishing on Kent Lake, which covers 1,200 acres of the 4,300-acre regional recreation site. Two launching sites are provided and in addition there is a boat rental building with aluminum rowboats available for rent.

Permits Are Needed for Federal Facilities

LANSING — Families bound for camping trips and sightseeing excursions during the Memorial Day weekend are reminded they will need vehicle entrance permits to use and visit a number of federal facilities in Michigan.

Starting May 28, annual or daily permits will be required to get into the Seney and Shiawassee national wildlife refuges, the Pundell Creek national fish hatchery, and 31 campgrounds in the Huron-Manistee and Ottawa national forests.

The vehicle entrance requirement will be extended to 14 campgrounds in Hiawatha national forest on June 15. It will remain in effect through the summer season at all of these federal sites.

For the convenience of recreationists planning to use these facilities, the Michigan Department of Conservation is selling annual $7 permits at its publications room in Lansing and information office in Detroit.

The "Golden Passports" to federal areas in Michigan and throughout the country are also available from Department district headquarters at these locations:

Baraga, Crystal Falls, Escanaba, Newberry, Gaylord, Cadillac, Mio, Gladwin, Grand Rapids, Imlay City, Plainwell, Jackson, and Pontiac Lake.

Motel Industry Booms Near Major Airports

With air passengers at an all-time high, the motel industry is booming at the nation's airports.

Started less than 15 years ago, airport motels have mushroomed across the country at virtually every one of the 200 air terminals.

At last count there were more than 1200 airport motels in the U.S.

Airtels — a new name for a new kind of motel, built to serve airports and keyed to the air age.

Land Purchase Funds Okayed

Area Located Within National Forest

A bill providing for the purchase of a relatively untouched 27-square-mile area on the Michigan-Wisconsin border in Gogebic County has been okayed by Congress and signed by the President.

The land is located within the Ottawa National Forest, and within its boundaries are 36 named lakes and 19 ponds with a total area of 4,000 acres of unpolluted northland waters.

Known as the 'Sylvania,' only the owners and a few guests have ever been allowed on the property since the early 1900s.

While some timber harvest will be made in the area, the main emphasis will be a recreation and education area for the thousands who will use the lakes and campsites.

AFTERNOON HUDDLE—Members of the Pontiac Area Campers, on their first outing of the season, huddled Saturday afternoon for a meal at the campground at Algae Lake just north of Ortonville.

Family Finds an Out—Camping

One way to get away from it all is to load mom and the kids into the family car, hitch a camper or trailer to it and start driving.

Michigan has hundreds of camps that welcome the trailer camper, and the number of such campers continue to grow by leaps and bounds.

Pontiac has a group of camper-trailer lovers who exit the city en masse during several of the summer weekends.

The local group, with 75 families on the membership role, is known as the Pontiac Area Campers and was organized in 1961.

President of the organization is Don Torley, 21 Delaware. "We started with 15 families in '61 and it grew fast," said Torley.

GROWTH PROBLEM

Growth became a problem so the group has limited the membership to 75. There is a waiting list now numbering 10.

The group started its summer travels Friday with a trip to Algae Lake, just north of Ortonville, where they spent the weekend.

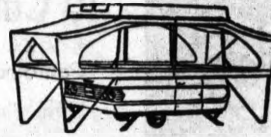

There are more trips on the schedule. In June, the group will journey to Algonac. In July, Camper's Cove at Camp Pelee, Canada, is the destination, and they'll move into the Dryden Ski Lodge area in August.

A September outing is in the making and they will wind up the season with a mystery trip in October.

The August 19-20-21) trip to Dryden Ski Lodge is the start of a week-long outing. After spending three days at Dryden, the group will move to the McFeeley's campsite just south of Ortonville.

Torley says that normally about 25-30 families make the trips.

Michigan's '66 Camp Directory Now Available

Outdoor-bound families can get a good jump on planning their spring and summer camping trips by writing for free copies of the Conservation Department's 1966 Michigan Campground Directory.

The pocket-size guide, available from the Department's Publications Room in Lansing, tells how to find more than 330 Michigan-based campgrounds which have about 17,000 sites at state parks, state forests, national forests, county and township parks.

Besides providing directions, the handy folder lists each campground's number of sites and its recreational features.

Two of the midwest's largest privately-owned animal parks are located in Michigan near Muskegon and Coioma.

CAMPER'S STEW — This delectable dish is ideal for the hungry campers and requires little time in preparation.

Combination Requires Little Time

There's really nothing mysterious or difficult about making stew. But an exceptionally good stew usually requires several hours of long slow cooking.

Camper's Wiener Stew is an exception to the rule, because it is a tasty wiener and vegetable combination that is not time-consuming.

The secret of its simplicity is in the ingredients. Small cooked potatoes and golden sliced carrots provide a bright assortment of vitamin-rich vegetables. The liquid or "gravy" is a combination of tomato juice and condensed vegetable soup.

Camp cooks will find Wiener Stew a hearty meal for outdoor eating. It's a nutritious meal-in-one dish that is long on nourishment but short on preparation, ideally suited to the call of the wild.

CAMPER'S WIENER STEW
1 package (1 lb.) Oscar Mayer Wieners
1 can (10-oz.) condensed vegetable soup
1 can (1 lb.) potatoes, drained and quartered
1 can (1 lb.) sliced carrots, drained
1 can (5 1/2-oz.) tomato juice
1/4 teaspoon thyme
Cut wieners into bite-size pieces. Combine with remaining ingredients in skillet or saucepan. Cook slowly stirring occasionally, 5 minutes or until heated through. Makes 5 servings.

Canines Can't Roam in Parks

Rover wasn't given a full pardon when the Conservation Commission decided not to ban dogs from state parks and campgrounds.

Man's best friend was placed on probation.

The Conservation Department ground. How well these regulations are followed will determine Rover's future welcome at these sites.

Following are the canine regulations for campground and state parks:

1. It is unlawful to possess a dog in a state park or recreation area from May 1 to Sept. 30 . . . unless the (dog) shall be under immediate control on a leash not exceeding six feet; or to have a dog within the area used as a bathing beach.

(This provision doesn't apply to dogs in field trials or being trained when upon lands open to such uses.)

2. Don't leave the dog unattended.

3. Don't tie the dog to a tree or tent stake where a youngster, not knowing the dog's disposition, may be injured.

4. If you leave your camp, take your dog with you or ask some friend to take care of him so he isn't left locked in a car or trailer all day without food and water and barking for attention.

5. Take care of the dog's droppings by wrapping in a newspaper and placing in a trash basket.

6. If you walk your dog, do it in an isolated part of the park, not on a vacant campsite which may later be occupied by a family with young children.

7. THE DOG SHOULD HAVE HAD RABIES SHOTS . . . THE CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT ASKS THAT DOG OWNERS HAVE A VETERINARIAN CERTIFY AS TO THE DOG'S HEALTH.

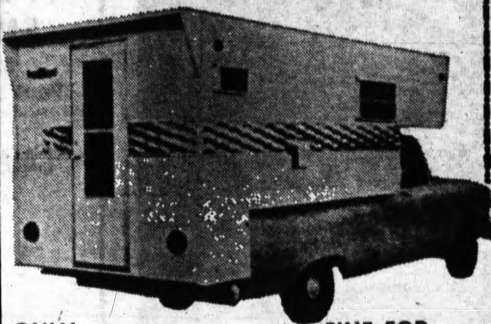

Violation of No. 1 is automatic eviction of the dog. Continually ignoring 2-6 can mean expulsion of both dog and owners.

More important, continued violations could make dogs persona non grata in the future.

State's Camp List Grows

Some 1,700 new public campsites have been opened in Michigan this year in an effort to meet the growing interest in camping vacations, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

More than 1,200 campsites have been added in state parks and recreation areas and nearly 470 in state and national forest campgrounds.

The 1966 Michigan Campground Directory lists 17,331 prepared campsites in 350 parks, recreation areas and campgrounds, maintaining the state's position as one of the nation's leading camping areas.

The total includes 12,144 campsites in 65 state parks and recreation areas, 2,291 in 139 state forest campgrounds, and 1,258 in 60 county, township and city parks.

Making its debut this season is a new state park, Tawas Point on Tawas Bay near East Tawas. The park has 202 campsites and features an excellent beach, hiking, swimming and boating.

OTHER CHANGES

Other major improvements include:

• Western Upper Peninsula: The capacity of Fort Wilkins State Park, Copper Harbor, has been doubled with the addition of 85 campsites, while Van Riper State Park near Champion has 82 new sites for a total of 232. Nearly 70 campsites have been added in state forest campgrounds.

• Eastern Upper Peninsula: Indian Lake State Park, Manistique, has 144 new campsites for a total of 311, and more than 150 campsites have been added in other state parks and forest campgrounds.

• Northern Lower Michigan: Among more than 900 new campsites are 90 at Mitchell State Park, Cadillac, 80 at Mears State Park, Pentwater, and 66 at Interlochen State Park, Interlochen.

• Southern Lower Michigan: Some 70 campsites have been added at four state recreation areas, including 40 at Bald Mountain near Lake Orion.

OFFER FACILITIES

State parks generally offer the most complete facilities with bathhouses, flush toilets, electricity and concession stands. Most of the state and national forest campgrounds have pit toilets, picnic tables, fireplaces and a water supply.

Fees vary with the type of facility. For state parks, each motor vehicle must have either an annual permit costing $2 or a daily permit costing 50 cents. These permits can be purchased at the parks or at many hunting and fishing license dealers throughout the state.

Campsite rental in state parks is $1.75 a day plus an additional 25 cents a day for electricity, if needed.

There is no charge for state forest campgrounds and state game areas. National forest users are now charged $7 annually or a modest daily fee and specific information on these charges can be obtained from the National Forest Service or the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Washington, D. C.

Some county and township parks have a fee to cover maintenance and campers should inquire locally about the amount.

CAMPERS LIMITED

From June 15 through Labor Day, campers are limited to 15 days in any one state park with an additional 30 days during other months. Camping is limited to 20 days at one site in state forest campgrounds and 15 days in national forests.

Free camping for periods up to 20 days is permitted in approximately half of the more than 600 improved water access sites. These areas have pit toilets and some have a water supply.

Camping is also permitted on most of the more than seven million acres of public forest land in the northern two-thirds of the state, even though there are no designated campsites. No permits or fees are required and there are no restrictions except during the November deer hunting season when campers must post a camp registration card.

Except for a few rustic trail-side cabins in the Porcupine Mountains and Wilderness state parks, Michigan does not operate hotels, lodges or rental cabins. All campsites are allotted on a first come, first serve basis.

Several kinds of camping are permitted at Isle Royale National Park, Isle Royale, and information can be obtained by writing Superintendent, Isle Royale National Park, Houghton, Michigan.

Free copies of the Michigan Campground Directory and other vacation travel information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

Consumption of Gas for Recreation Rises

The recreational vehicle industry burned more than 1.1 billion gallons of gasoline in 1965.

This is an increase of more than 250 million gallons from 1964 consumption of 750 million gallons.

The increase is a result of the growing usage of all types of recreational vehicles, including travel trailers, pick-up coaches, and canvas camping trailers.

Interstate Highways Engineering Wonder

WASHINGTON — The Interstate Highway System — now half-finished — ranks as one of the engineering wonders of all time.

The biggest public works projects in history will require 1,800,000 man-years of labor before it is completed in 1972.

Excavators will move enough material to bury an area as big as Connecticut knee-deep in dirt.

The sand, gravel, and crushed stone needed for construction would girdle the earth with a wall 50 feet wide and nine feet high.

The road pavement, if made into one huge parking lot, could accommodate two-thirds of all the motor vehicles in the United States.

21,000 MILES OPEN

More than 21,000 miles of the 41,000-mile network of expressways were open to traffic in the spring of 1966, the National Geographic Society says. Another 5,600 miles are under construction, and engineering or right-of-way work is in progress on 11,356 miles.

Started in 1956, the Interstate System is scheduled for completion in six more years. It will link virtually all of the nation's major population centers with high-speed, multilane, limited-access highways.

The system will make a reality of the motorist's dream of driving from Maine to California without encountering a traffic light. It already is possible to make a signal-free run from Boston to Des Moines, Iowa.

The Interstate Highway System is expected to save 8,000 lives a year when completed. Studies show that the new highways have an accident fatality rate of only 2.8 deaths per 100 million vehicle-miles, compared to 9.7 deaths per 100 million miles on older roads in the same areas.

With the $46.8-billion system half complete, engineers are looking beyond 1972, studying nationwide highway needs for the next 20 years, and debating highways of the future.

SPEED LIMIT 100 MPH

One proposal calls for super-expressways with a speed limit of 100 miles an hour; 120 would be permitted for passing. Called the "Century," the first such highway would run between Washington, D. C., and Boston.

Drivers of passenger cars would not have to compete with trucks on the Century. Trucks would have their own "super-freightways."

Old cars would be barred from the Century, and cars entering the new highway would undergo a safety test. Drivers with bad accident records would not be admitted.

Automobiles will enter the superhighway via a "slow" road with a speed limit of 30 miles an hour, then take a ramp at 90 to the full-speed "chute" with flat shoulders and no ditches, culverts or poles to hit.

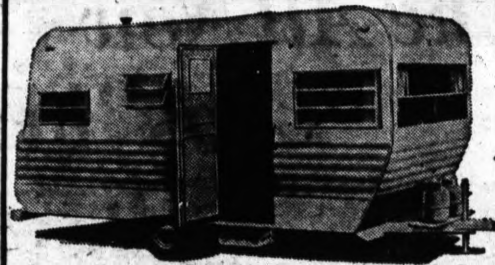

Electronic sensors in the road will sound a warning buzzer in an automobile if it approaches the car ahead too closely. When a car starts slowing down, warning lights on its roof will flash and a buzzer will sound in the vehicle behind it to reduce the danger of rear-end collisions.

State's Sleeping Bear Dune Lures Visitors

From atop giant Sleeping Bear Sand Dune in northwestern lower Michigan the view is one of striking beauty, differing from any other in the United States.

West of the Sahara-like sands lie the cool, blue waters of Lake Michigan and two off-shore islands. To the east are green forests and shimmering inland lakes.

In the sum of its parts, the two-county Sleeping Bear region is choice resort country with unlimited opportunities for recreation and sightseeing, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

It has year-round vacation appeal: spring cherry blossoms and mushrooms, summer and winter sports, and the brilliant flame and gold of autumn.

Dominating the scene is Sleeping Bear, Mother Nature's massive sand castle towering some 460 feet for seven miles along the Lake Michigan shore. It is the world's largest shifting sand dune, inching inland more than two feet a year.

The Sleeping Bear region is at once remote and accessible — remote in that its natural features are relatively unexplored; accessible in that it lies within a day's drive of major upper midwest metropolitan centers.

Recreation comes in active and relaxing packages. For more active persons there are swimming, boating, water skiing.

ing. Less active activities include photography, painting, sunbathing, float trips, nature study, rock hounding and scenic tours.

A cultural flavor is found at summer theaters and the world famed National Music Camp at Interlochen nearby.

2 DOZEN LAKES

Among the region's two dozen lakes and ponds, and many miles of rivers and streams is Glen Lake, considered to be one of the world's most beautiful. Its 6,000 acres of water surface is rimmed with stately summer homes.

The region's warm days and pleasantly cool nights are ideal for long hours of recreation and refreshing sleep, according to the Tourist Council.

Prevailing westerly Lake Michigan breezes tend to retard temperatures in the spring, but prolong warm weather in autumn.

Sleeping Bear's glacial landforms are described as excellent examples of their kind, easily observed and understood. The region also presents excellent opportunities for study of plant ecology and other botanical fields.

Except for its sun-bleached beaches and dunes, the region is almost completely forested. White spruce are found on South Manitou Island which also has a 50-acre tract of virgin timber containing the largest known northern cedar in the U.S.

CAMPSITES

Accommodations, including hotels, motels, resorts, lakeside cottages, and five forested parks and campground, are plentiful and priced to fit nearly every vacation budget.

CAMPSITE LIVING — In the quiet, uncomplicated beauty of a Michigan forest, this family enjoys the leisurely pace of a camping vacation. Michigan is one of the nation's leading camping areas with some seven million acres of public forest land and more than 17,330 public campsites in 350 state parks and recreation areas, state and national forest campgrounds, and county, township and city parks.

Sport-O-Rama Scheduled for Local Ward's Stores

The second annual Sport-O-Rama, sponsored by Montgomery Ward and Company, is on the schedule for May 19-29 at all 11 Ward's stores in Southeastern Michigan.

The Sport-O-Rama is slated for 9:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m. daily and from noon until 6 p.m. on Sunday, according to S. D. Ward, district general manager of Montgomery Ward.

The show will include prizes, guest appearances at each store by sports personal-sporting goods.

Among the personalities who'll be on hand for the Sport-O-Rama are Bruce Randall, former 'Mr. Universe'; fishermen Daly Dalrymple and Ed Gates; and gymnast Sandy Kane.

Randall will give detailed information concerning physical conditioning, weight loss and gain, along with body building. The ex-Marine once weighed 401 pounds and then trimmed down to 183 in 32 weeks.

Dalrymple is an expert on spin and fly fishing. Gates is a manufacturer of fishing lure.

Vacation Planning Guide Available

A complete vacation planning source is provided by the 1966-67 Recreational Vehicle Park Guide, just published by the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association. The new book combines for the first time six major facilities directories with a 64-page vacation guide and road atlas in full color.

With more than 7,400 listings, it is the largest guide ever published by MHMA.

In brief, the publication tells recreational vehicle enthusiasts where to go, what to see, where to stop, and how to get there in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

It has been enlarged in scope and renamed to acknowledge, in addition to travel trailers, the growing number of pick-up coaches, camping (tent) trailers, and motorized homes.

Principal features of the book are directories to 1,400 private parks and 1,720 government parks and forests accommodating recreational vehicles.

The 128-page Recreational Vehicle Park Guide retails for $2 per copy and can be ordered from Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association, Department PRMY, 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 60606.

Travel Trailer Directory Out

A new directory of the nation's 447 travel trailers clubs has been published by the Travel Trailer Division of the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association.

The directory lists ten national clubs and 437 local clubs as well as the executive officer and address of each. Forty-two roster. California takes the honors for being the "most organized" with 180 clubs.

The Directory of Travel Trailer Clubs is available for 15 cents in coin from Travel Trailer Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association, 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 60606.

FROLICKING INDIANS — These young Indians can live it up in the Wigwam's balcony. Each room has storage space for toys, closet and shelves.

Wigwam Vacation Home Roomy for Little Indians

A Wigwam has been contrived for white braves or brave whites, depending on your point of view and the number of small Indians who will share it.

Actually only 16 feet by 16 feet with bedrooms on a balcony, the Wigwam is a cozy little vacation home, the brain child of designer Ving Smith of New Rochelle, N. Y. It can be put up by two men in two days and the lightweight materials may be hauled in a trailer to the vacation spot.

"The Wigwam idea sort of mushroomed from a psychological feeling that it denotes a simple way of life, and the shape is sort of inevitable for the type of construction used," Smith explains.

The finished second home was exhibited by U.S. Rubber at a recent home furnishings show and the general idea is that it may be built for mass consumption at about $5,000 with kitchen, bath and fireplace.

It utilizes materials touted as care and maintenance free, withstands heat and cold, although if it were to be used as a ski lodge some sort of heating unit would be needed.

EXTERIOR SIDING

Exterior siding is a laminate with lightweight foam core insulation in modular panels eight by four feet. Panels are decorated inside and out to help cut building costs.

Below that upper structure are modular wall panels framed in aluminum, four feet by six feet eight inches on tracks of a 10-foot header and on the floor. The header is attached to an pole.

The outdoor entrance deck is covered in vinyl carpet that can be vacuumed, rained on, scrubbed.

Sees Earlier Pollution End

LANSING (AP) — Voluntary cleanup agreements by local communities and industries should lead to an earlier end to some of the Detroit River-Lake Erie pollution problems, Gov. George Romney said yesterday.

The communities and industries will spend an estimated $200 million on control measures scheduled for completion by 1970.

Romney received a report from Gerald Eddy, chairman of the State Water Resources Commission, that final agreement on details of waste reductions and time schedules has been reached formally with 33 waste-disposing units, including 11 industries.

Eddy said the WRC expected formal stipulations soon from Detroit, Wayne County and Scott Paper Co.

ASKS FOR REPORT

Meanwhile, Romney asked the WRC to report on how much government must spend in the 1967-75 period "to attain satisfactory water quality conditions throughout Michigan."

The study, he indicated, would show how large a grant-in-aid program the state should establish.

Romney said Michigan is the first of the states bordering Lake Erie to take specific action to correct pollution problems that were identified by federal government conferences last summer.

VACATION HOME — This is a vacation home designed for quick, inexpensive construction. You guessed it. It's called a Wigwam. It was shown recently at the National Design Center in Chicago.

AFTER A HANDOUT — A mother and her two cubs approach a motorist in Yellowstone National Park, looking, most likely, for a handout. The frisky brown bears are frequent visitors to roads running through the park.

Visitors Asked to Assist Canada in Camp Study

TORONTO — During the 1966 season, visitors will be asked to assist in obtaining information for the long-range recreational planning programs in Ontario.

The study is to be a co-operative undertaking of the people who use the parks, the Department of Lands and Forests and the Department of Highways. It will incorporate features unique in the field of recreation research.

It will involve interviewing a sample of visitors — both day use visitors and campers — in each Provincial Park. The questionnaire forms which will be used are designed for direct processing in an "electronic optical mark page reader" which will "read" the information on the form and transfer it automatically to standard punch cards.

These punch cards will be used for complete analysis of the survey information in the electronic computing branch of the Department of Highways.

The use of this type of study is an important breakthrough in the recreation research programs of the two co-operating government departments and those who use the parks.

Camp Show Set at Pontiac Mall

Everything the camper needs will be on display at the Annual Camping Show, which started today and runs through Saturday at the Pontiac Mall.

Many types of campers will be shown during the week at the show which will be open from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. daily.

Travel trailers, camping trailers, tents, truck campers and the latest in camping equipment will be included in the displays.

Federal Funds Helping State in Recreation

Southern Michigan Has Key Projects of Department

Michigan received approval this week from the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to spend $192,100 in federal matching money to help finance a pair of state outdoor projects under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program.

getting the bureau's first go-ahead in this state were Conservation Department requests to cost-share acquisition of lands at Lakeport State Park in St. Clair County and to add facilities to Brighton Recreation Area in Livingston County.

As approved, the department will use $125,000 in federal Land and Water funds as a 50 per cent reimbursement for lands it recently bought at Lakeport State Park.

Acquired at the park is a key 200-acre tract, formerly owned by the Michigan State AFL-CIO, which features about 2,250 feet of Lake Huron frontage.

The lands, highly valued for their stretch of excellent sandy beach, figure prominently in large-scale expansion plans for the park.

The remaining $67,100 approved for spending will go into a major development project which the department hopes to start next fall in the Bishop Lake unit of Brighton Recreation Area.

Under plans drawn up, the unit's day-use facilities will be expanded and its campground modernized. Scheduled for development are two toilet-shower buildings and a network of water, sewage, and electrical systems.

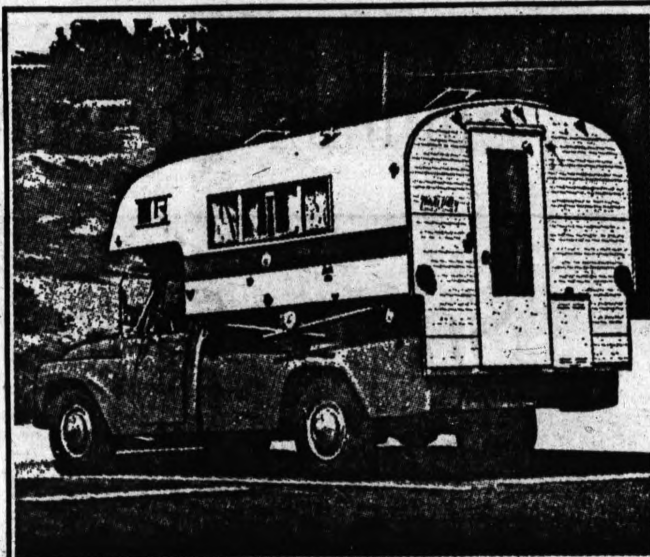

While the department was receiving good news on its first application for Land and Water funds, its planners were putting final touches to another batch of requests for release of additional federal matching money.

State to Share in Federal Funds for Conservation

Michigan's share of federal funds under the Land and Water Conservation Bill for 1965 and 1966 fiscal years has been set at $2.8 million.

The total will be split about 50-50 between state and local projects. Some state monies will be needed to supplement proposals for two projects, one an addition to Lakeport State Park in St. Clair County and the second to help finance major development at Bishop Lake in the Brighton Recreation Area.

Land and water funds are accumulated through the sale of $7 stickers which are required for use of federal outdoor recreation facilities.

Sleeping Bear Name Given by Two Tribes

The Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes, that magnificent chunk of Great Lakes real estate in northwestern lower Michigan, was named by the Ottawa and Ojibway Indians who formerly inhabited the Grand Traverse region.

Many moons before the coming of the pale face, the Indians said, the bear Mishe-Mokwa and her twin cubs tried to swim from Wisconsin to Michigan, crossing the wide expanse of Michiguma, or Lake Michigan.

Mishe-Mokwa reached the distant shore, but her cubs floundered and sank beneath the waves. She grieved in anger, tearing at the shore and laying waste a great stretch of sand. Then she lay down to rest and silently mourn.

The great spirit Manitou gave Mishe-Mokwa the sleep of the ages and left her on the dunes as a monument to a mother's love. Manitou also raised the cubs in the form of islands and named them in honor of himself, north and south Manitou.

Legend has it that Mishe-Mokwa will awaken when the last pale face has left the region.

HILLSDALE (AP)—The civil defense director of Hillsdale County, completing what he said was a seven-week investigation, issued a 24-page report today disagreeing with Air Force explanations of an unidentified flying object reported in the county.

William E. Van Horn said he first was skeptical of such flying objects but now "I am firmly ly convinced that the UFO does exist." He attacked an Air Force astrophysicist's conclusion on the sighting March 21.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek of Northwestern University, a scientific consultant to the Air Force on unidentified flying objects, looked into reported sightings in Michigan in March.

Hynek said then the sighting at Hillsdale "could have been due to the release of variable quantities of marsh gas" which could produce lights that might be mistaken for objects in the sky.

Hynek replied today to major conclusions in Van Horn's report by maintaining the swamp gas hypothesis still "seems to me the most logical conclusion."

BASED LARGELY

He noted Van Horn's report was based largely on data accumulated by Van Horn and by two teen-agers who conducted scientific tests.

Hynek said "both Van Horn and particularly the youngsters are to be complimented for pursuing this." But he said "they were unwise in not getting corroboration. It's always wise in any scientific project to get confirmation."

Hynek questioned why a physicist and chemist from Hillsdale College were not called upon to perform the investigation.

Van Horn said he was called to a dormitory at the college the night of March 21 where he and 17 girls in the dormitory watched "the object from the northeast, flashing by their window, disappearing to the south of them and then reappearing over the area and descending to where we observed it."

Hynek "was informed by myself," Van Horn said, "that at one time I could make out a convex surface between the two lights which I estimated at 25 feet between." Hynek in his report had said "They have not described an object," only "lights that seemed to move."

Buddhists Tell Ky to Pull Troops

FIT TO BE TIED — Admiring The Press Annual Baseball Contest winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond they will share are (from left) Howard Williams, Harold Shoof and Elmer Horne.

They earned the bond, held by Press staffer Howard Heidenbrand, by picking Tony Oliva with a .385 average to head American League batters after yesterday's games. Oliva's average was .38554.

Guest Mayor Here Today in Exchange

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Highland Park's Michael M. Giusac exchanged jobs today as part of the state-wide Mayors' Exchange Day.

The exchange of mayors is the traditional activity for Government Day of Michigan Week.

Taylor was to be in Highland Park, while Giusac visited here.

The day's scheduled events included a tour of the city, a plant tour and lunch sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division, a tour of the Oakland County Service (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Twins' Oliva Scores for 3 in Press Baseball Contest

The 1966 annual Press Baseball Contest ended in a photo finish.

Three contestants picked Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins to top American League batters when the contest closed with the conclusion of yesterday's games.

They pegged his average at .385. Tony's actual figure was .38554.

The thrilled threesome are retiree Elmer Horne, 63, of 4224 Lanette, Waterford Township; Howard Williams, 49-year-old GMC Truck & Coach employee, of 854 Inglewood; and four-year Air Force veteran Harold Schoof, 27, of 3671 Shady Beach, Orchard Lake. All are married. Schoof the father of two.

None of the winners professed any occult powers in making their selection.

All are baseball fans, regular contest entrants, and just felt that Oliva was in for another big year. The suspicion lingers, however, that they patronized the same clairvoyant.

Similarly, the lucky ones had made no plans for spending their windfall.

ALL AGREE

All agreed that it would have been bad luck to count their winnings before they were hatched.

The Press congratulates the three winners and hopes the several thousand others who were outguessed will begin boning up for next year.

2 Astronauts Bone Up for Gemini Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Healthy and eager on the eve of a bold space adventure, Gemini 9's two astronauts boned up on intricate details of their complex assignment today as preparations for tomorrow's launch continued.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan have "the toughest job ever handed an astronaut crew," one official said.

Only the weather cast a glimmer of doubt about Tuesday's 12:28 p.m. EDT launch of Gemini 9, an hour and 39 minutes after the scheduled lift-off of its Agena target rocket.

Reuther Tells Convention of UAW Progress

'Current Auto Pacts Will Mean $2 Billion in Worker Benefits'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The 20th constitutional convention of the United Auto Workers of America opened today for about 3,000 delegates who were told that current contracts with the four major auto companies will mean $2 billion in increased economic benefits for workers.

In a formal report prepared for delivery to the convention, UAW President Walter P. Reuther said that stable price levels maintained by General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors "once again prove that wage increases made possible by increased productivity are not inflationary."

The "real significance" of the three-year contracts, signed in 1964, "is difficult to comprehend," Reuther said, "because of the progress that we made in so many significant areas."

Contract provisions, he said, were designed to create a larger number of job opportunities for younger persons by reducing hours of work and making early retirement possible for older workers.

The contracts, Reuther said, were aimed at "humanizing working conditions and providing greater dignity for the worker on his job."

NEW OPPORTUNITIES

In the first four months of the union's early retirement program, which became operative in September 1965, 10,000 new job opportunities were opened, he said.

Reuther also said that current prosperity depends on decisions made by President Johnson and the Congress.

"The immediate prospect for the U. S. economy is for a continuation of the present expansion."

Monks Vow Fight to Death

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Buddhist leadership demanded tonight that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime pull its troops out of Da Nang where they have taken control of the city's key centers in an attempt to bring dissident northern provinces back under Saigon's authority.

But the gulf between the North and Saigon appeared to deepen. The new crisis cut into the war effort against the Communists and threatened plans for civilian elections in the fall.

Buddhists in Saigon announced that "all monks" are ready to die for their cause.

Their spokesman, Thien Minh, charged in an emotional speech that "there is a plot to assassinate all Buddhists."

"All monks will sacrifice themselves to strike against the government," he added.

In Da Nang, where an uneasy calm prevailed throughout the day, Buddhist supporters piled firewood in apparent preparation for threatened immolation by monks.

DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL

Minh demanded the government withdraw its troops from the North and "find an immediate solution" to restore civil rule.

In 1963, Buddhists monks set fire to themselves on Saigon's streets to show their dislike of the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Diem was ousted in November of that year under strong Buddhist pressure.

Minh said there were eight killed, 52 wounded and 12 arrested in yesterday's Da Nang fighting. There was no official confirmation. Other reports said five were killed.

HUNGER STRIKE

Minh announced that Buddhists began a protest hunger strike in the Pho Quang pagoda in Da Nang.

In the Buddhist center of Hue, northwest of Da Nang, troops and artillery were reported moved up to oppose any attempt by Ky to move in loyal troops, as he did yesterday against Da Nang insurgents.

Griffin Sworn In as a Senator

Cites Lack of Space in His New Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert P. Griffin today became Michigan's first Republican senator since 1958.

Swearing-in ceremonies were held at noon for Griffin. He succeeds the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, Michigan Democrat.

Griffin, first Republican in the state's Senate delegation since Charles S. Potter, was appointed to the vacancy by Gov. Romney.

"We have one room now just a little bit larger than a broom closet," Griffin said from his House office where he has spent five terms.

"It's going to take a lot of doing to get reorganized and it will be a gradual process."

MORE SPACE

Griffin, who arrived in Washington from Michigan Saturday night, said he expected to get more space but so far had been allocated only one room in the new Senate Office Building.

McNamara's offices still are open and can remain so for a 30-day period.

Griffin said he expected to talk with Sen. Thomas K. Kuchel of California, the acting Republican Senate leader.

He said he hoped to see Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, still recuperating from a fractured upper thigh bone, tomorrow.

UFO Explanation Is Disputed

after the sighting by Kipling Vandenberg, 15, and Jerry Wilson, 16, of Bay City, amateur chemists and biologists.

They tested radiation, soil, plants, animals, minerals and water in the area.

Using a geiger counter and a radiological survey meter, the boys reported "the area contained an abnormally high amount of radiation from some unknown source."

CONTAINED BORON — "The area also strangely contained Boron which was found in both water and soil. These two facts are the only ones which would substantiate the presence of a UFO."

Vandenberg said they checked radiation in both the area of the sighting and in town and other unrelated places. Radiation is measured in roentgens.

"It registered 27 to 35 roentgens per hour in the area," the boy said. "In town, we got readings of around .15 to .20 roentgens per hour." He said the settings on the measuring device were the same for both areas.

"This would be almost 40 roentgens per day, and this would be enough to destroy some of the vegetation," he said.

None of the plants had any blue pigment, a coloring which could have been eliminated by radiation, he said.

THREE HOURS — Radiation checks were taken over a period of three hours at the location, he said, and "the radiation was decreasing at a rate of six to ten milliroentgens per hour."

He said that within a few days after their tests, the radiation probably would have disappeared altogether.

Vandenberg said "We found large amounts of Boron floating on the water" and on the soil. He said it wasn't mixed with the water or soil and termed this "very very strange."

Van Horn, who said he was not with the boys when they conducted their tests, said Boron ordinarily is not found in the soil in his county.

"There's got to be a reason for that Boron to be there and also for the increased radioactivity," he said.

Van Horn said Hynek "never stepped his foot into" the area of the sighting.

State Police Question Six on Break-Ins

Six youths were apprehended by State Police yesterday in connection with a pair of recent burglaries at the Clintonville Market, 4494 Clintonville, Waterford Township.

Two juveniles and 17-year-old Larry L. Buhl of 3434 Floreita, Waterford Township, are being questioned about a May 1 break-in at the store in which two cases of beer were taken.

Three other juveniles are being quizzed in connection with a burglary at the market Saturday in which items valued in excess of $200 were stolen, including 12 cases of beer and 35 cartons of cigarettes.

Buhl was to have been arraigned in Justice Court today. The others were released to their parents.

Cranbrook Executive Is Given Medal

Henry S. Booth, long-time leader and executive officer of the Cranbrook Foundation, was presented with a medal Sunday at the annual Founder's Day gathering.

Harold A. Fitzgerald chairman of the Cranbrook Foundation, said that Booth had personally made far and away the greatest single contribution to the overall picture.

Brookside, Kingswood, Cranbrook, the Art Academy, the Institute of Science, the church and the Foundation itself are many, many times the size that was originally conceived by the founders, the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth.

An original investment of $15 million dollars today probably represents $50 million. Cranbrook is the great original cultural center of Oakland County and has kept abreast or ahead of the phenomenal growth in the area.

The presentation pointed out that Henry S. Booth was the outstanding individual in the whole development and the medal was an attempt to recognize his time, efforts and accomplishments.

LBJ Sets Talks on Viet Crisis

Top Advisers Called to Afternoon Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson called top military and diplomatic advisers to an afternoon session today to go over the Vietnamese crisis developing over Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's crackdown on Buddhist dissidents.

Ky's action took Washington by surprise. The State Department said there was no advance notification to the United States.

The administration ordered American officials to use all possible efforts to bring together the rival South Vietnamese factions.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said that Johnson would be seeing his ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during the afternoon.

"I am sure they will go into the Vietnamese situation," Moyers said.

Actually, Moyers said, the session has been on the books since last Thursday, one of a series involving these key men.

NOTHING TO SAY — The press secretary said that at this point the White House had nothing to say about current internal and political developments in Viet Nam.

Asked what the posture of the United States government is in the light of what is happening in Viet Nam now, Moyers told reporters, "I wouldn't want to characterize it."

Johnson met yesterday afternoon with the same officials on the schedule for today.

Moyers said the session grew out of Johnson's having McNamara in for lunch and the resulting decision to get the latest reports.

Road Project Is on Schedule

Operate Side-by-Side With Drain Work

The widening of Square Lake Road is progressing on schedule, with work dovetailing with the construction of a major drain project along the route, a State Highway Department official said today.

Lyle Lipp, assistant district construction engineer in Pontiac, said that crews presently are in the process of removing old pavement, while at the same time, drains are being installed to serve the Devonshire subdivision.

The $2,156,000 road improvement from I-75 to Telegraph is scheduled to be completed on or before Oct. 1.

The road is being widened from four lanes to a six-lane divided highway.

The only major problem encountered to date is an increase in traffic on subdivision streets north of Square Lake Road, according to Lipp.

'NO DIRECT ROUTE' — "Motorists are trying to find a shortcut from the Telegraph area to Woodward, and there just is no direct route," he said.

A hill of sand near the intersection of Woodward and Square Lake has prompted many inquiries from persons wanting to know if an overpass is being constructed at the corner, Lipp said.

"No overpass is being built," explained Lipp, "and the sand is to be used to fill in swampy areas just west of Woodward."

Century-Old Hill School Bell to Toll M-Week in Birmingham

At 9 a.m. tomorrow, the toll of the century-old Hill School bell will officially inaugurate the beginning of Heritage Day festivities of Michigan Week in Birmingham.

Walter Piel, chairman of Michigan Week and assistant to the school superintendent, will ring the bell.

The Birmingham Historical Society, led by its president, Garvin Bowden, will place a bronze plaque on Birmingham's first school building constructed in 1861.

The last occasion for the bell to toll was on VE day in 1945 when it was rung to celebrate the end of the European conflict.

The school was named after the late Rev. Mr. Hill, pastor of the Birmingham Presbyterian Church, who established an academy of higher learning, Pierce and Maple Roads.

DIXONTUNED — The academy — was discontinued when the Hill School founded by Chester, Martin and Merrill, was completed.

Back NAACP on Housing Law Repeal

The Oakland County chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has received statewide support for its bid to have the city's restrictive public housing law repealed.

Yesterday at the 30th annual convention of NAACP branches in Muskegon, delegates approved a resolution of support for the stand against Ordinance 1270.

The resolution is to be sent to the Chicago office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Essentially, the state resolution approves the stand of the Oakland County NAACP.

The local chapter has sought repeal of the ordinance which restricts public housing in Pontiac to the current project and planned housing units designed for the elderly.

HAS COMPLAINED — Also, the local NAACP has complained HUD officials, charging that the city is in violation of federal requirements for establishing a representative minority group housing committee in line with the Workable Program for Community Improvement.

A second resolution, introduced by Oakland County delegates and approved at the state NAACP convention yesterday supported the establishment of local human rights committees.

Boyle's Mail Tells of Car Thefts, Milk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The FBI estimates that U.S. car thefts — $20,000 were stolen last year—could be cut in half if everyone simply locked his car on leaving it.

Don't you like your wife's lumpy mashed potatoes? Well, don't ball her out — just tell her they'll taste better if she uses hot instead of cold milk.

The titled set: janitors practically have disappeared in America. They all have become building custodians. Can you also remember when "executive trainees" were called office boys?

Money may not grow on trees, but there is still money in trees. A giant Indiana walnut tree, according to Plywood magazine,

The late Gertrude Stein, who wrote "A rose is a rose is a rose," could also speak clearly. Asked about a trip she made to Sacramento, Calif., she replied: "When you get there, there isn't any there there."

"YOUR HEALTH" SCIATICA

If you have ever suffered from sciatica, then you realize how extremely painful this condition can be.

The sciatic nerve is the longest and thickest nerve in the body, starting from the small of the back and traveling along the entire length of the leg to the foot.

Pressure on this nerve usually follows a low back injury. Patients complain of pain usually in the buttocks side of the thigh, and in the calf of the leg. Some patients cannot sit, stand or lie down without severe pain.

Pain pills may help, but only for short periods of time. The surest thing to do is see your Chiropractor, who will give you a thorough examination, take X-rays to find the area of nerve pressure, and then remove this pressure through Chiropractic treatment. In many cases, you will relieve much pain, time, and possible surgery. Instead of just "living" with sciatica, call your Chiropractor and get well.

Anti-U.S. Mood Is Growing in Russia

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Newcomers to Moscow are surprised at the extent of anti-American propaganda there.

While they expected some hostility, they say they were unprepared for the virulence of editorials and cartoons dealing with U.S. policy in Vietnam and Germany.

Party leader Leonid Brezhnev himself has said U.S.-Soviet relations are bad and observers expect them to get worse before they get better.

In the midst of the increasing freeze, however, it is noteworthy that the Soviets are keeping cultural relations apart. The last cultural treaty met some snags, but exchanges under the 1966-67 pact are starting fast.

The American ballet theater and Earl (Fatha) Hines will visit the Soviet Union this summer, along with exchange professors and students.

Israel and the United Nations.

But the Soviet press reports on Nasser's speeches, while extensive, significantly failed to include anything on either subject.

TRADE GOODS — London diplomats are speculating that Russia may supply Egypt with missiles as one result of the current Nasser-Kosygin talks. In return, Russia apparently expects to obtain submarine bases in Egypt at Alexandria and on the Red Sea.

Russia is reported keen on having a base which would enable her to keep a permanent watch on movements of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean and on NATO moves.

drive against the de Gaulle government in the March 1967 parliamentary general elections are having trouble getting off the ground.

The Communists have refused to cooperate with former Leftist presidential candidate Francois Mitterrand's "shadow cabinet."

Soviet Hotels Sometimes Dry

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — You get mighty thirsty when you're paying $26 a day for a hotel room and there is no running water.

The same thing happened last year in the same hotel, the newest in Kiev and one of the most modern in the Soviet Union.

This time, however, there seemed more grounds for complaint. Hotel prices for diplomats and correspondents were tripled this year as part of a Soviet drive to earn dollars for foreign trade.

The lady on the seventh floor who keeps room keys was very apologetic, she said the water would be back on in 50 minutes.

The guest asked if there was a buffet such as many Soviet hotels provide on several floors. "Nyet." The guest asked about room service. "Nyet."

The lady suggested buying bottled water at the second-floor restaurant.

WOULD BE QUICKER

The guest figured this would be quicker than waiting 50 minutes. He did not count on the elevator.

The hotel, with 14 floors, and accommodations for 350 guests, has two elevators. Each is modern, with a telephone inside. But each is the size of a telephone booth. The Soviets allow six people in each. The wait can be 15 minutes or more.

In the restaurant the thirsty

Dirksen Recovering From Thigh Fracture

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen showed improvement yesterday in his recovery from a thigh fracture suffered last Tuesday.

The 70-year-old Illinois senator walked along parallel bars in the physical therapy department of Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

His wife, who is staying at his side, said his spirits were good, but he has not been permitted to do any office work.

Aspirant to Tour Viet

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Wesley B. Thebeau, candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from the Michigan 9th District, was scheduled to leave San Francisco today for Viet Nam where he will study current conditions and U.S. war efforts.

A harried waitress, unnoticed by the counter lady, grabbed two of the bottles and scurried back to the restaurant.

DEBATE ENSUED

A debate then ensued in order to get another two bottles without paying for six. The guest won this fringe encounter but the battle was far from over.

Waiting for the elevator on the second floor, the guest finally concluded that the upbound local did not stop there. He walked down to the first floor in order to ride up to the seventh.

On returning to his room, the guest found the cold water was on again, but not the hot. Apparently 50 minutes or more had slipped by.

Nevertheless the cold running water was a blessing. It was needed to wash the single dirty glass provided in the carpeted, luxury-double room. Only then could the self-service bottled water be poured out.

Finally, his thirst quenched, the guest could enjoy the lovely view of the Dnieper River from his room and realize that he had still been reasonably lucky.

After all, the room had a bottle opener.

Leftists Call French Strike

Severe Blow Likely for Nation's Economy

PARIS (UPI) — Leftist groups completed preparations today for a 24-hour nationwide strike tomorrow, which is expected to deal a heavy blow to the French economy.

For the first time since the days of the Algerian war, unions and opposition political groups plan to stage a giant street march through the heart of Paris.

The Communist party seized the labor agitation as the occasion for a new call for the formation of a leftist "popular front" which might be able to defeat President Charles de Gaulle's supporters in the 1967 parliamentary election.

Union sources said they expect some 3 million workers to heed the strike call.

The walkout is expected to disrupt such public services as railroads, gas and electric power supply, the Paris subways and the state-operated school system.

LATEST IN SERIES

It is the latest of a series of harassing strikes which began in March, when unions demanded a 6-per-cent wage increase for public service workers.

Counterterrorism Squads Have Simple Job---Kill Foe

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—The insignia is a black bat with outspread wings holding a death's head skull.

The circular yellow background has the three red stripes of the Republic of Viet Nam diagonally across it and two small blue stars make up the patch.

It is the very rarely seen battle patch of the highly secret paramilitary organization in Viet Nam — the counterterrorism squads.

The existence of these highly controversial squads has been consistently denied by both Vietnamese and American military authorities. But in the more than two years since the inception of the counterterrorism program, the organization has grown considerably.

The job of the counterterrorism squads is very simple — kill Viet Cong, operating as political or military cadres in a specific area.

The 10-man squads have been operating mainly in disputed areas controlled neither by the government nor the Viet Cong. They have also penetrated deeply into what is considered hard-core Viet Cong country.

Acting on hard intelligence from agents, refugees or Viet Cong deserters, effective and potent Viet Cong cadres and agents are identified and marked for elimination.

If the Communist agents are operating in disputed areas, they may be given a warning to get out quick. This usually takes the form of a picture of a single eye tacked above the bed or on the door of the agent's house.

NO ONE KNOWS

No one knows how it got there. No one saw the shadow in the night, but the message is clear and the agent knows it is time to move.

But often there is no warning. The squad is given its orders and moves out under cover of darkness. They usually travel only at night. Either the squad has a guide or they know the area intimately themselves.

When the victim is located, he is assassinated quickly and quietly with the minimum of disturbance and the squad vanishes into the night as silently as it came.

Sometimes the squad will be given the job of destroying a known Communist ammunition dump or supply area but these are usually small village caches containing a few weapons only or a village workshop known to be manufacturing homemade mines.

GET OUT FAST

At such a time the squad, attacking again at night, may silently set demolition charges but usually ends by shooting up the village and getting out fast.

The "assassination squads," as they are commonly called, are a creation of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency together with the Vietnamese military intelligence organization.

"Society's need for the services that the YMCA can provide for youth was never greater," Gulien said.

"YMCA is not merely an institution centered in a great building in a metropolitan city," Gulien said, "but is an association of people, located in hundreds of communities across the nation, who are concerned about making life for American families better in their communities."

Gulien has been active for many years in YMCA affairs.

Teen Questions Ethics

She's Unusual Mother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school sophomore and my problem is what is happening to "truth" and "honor" today. Yesterday I found a note near my locker.

"Hi, Kathy, 'Carol and I skipped school Friday. We had a ball. We went to her house and made fudge and watched TV. Her mom works, which makes it nice."

"When I got home at 4:30 my mother told me the school had called to see why I was absent. My mom is a real doll. She said I was home 'sick.' Want to join us next time?"

"BONNIE"

Abby, as you can see, a student skipped school and her mother lied to cover up for her. This kind of thing makes me sick. If the kids lie and their parents cover up for them, is it any wonder we have so much juvenile delinquency?

DEAR DISGUSTED:

There have always been "moms" who have lied to cover up for their children, and there always will be. But take my word for it, they are the exceptions. Most mothers would have said, "She went to school today, at least that's where she SAID she was going." And after the school-skipper had faced the music at school, she'd have had an encore to contend with at home.

DEAR ABBY: I divorced my husband when my only child was a mere babe in arms. Actually he deserted me when I was pregnant. I married a wonderful man, who adopted my daughter when she was two. He raised her as his own. She is getting married soon and wants a large church wedding. She has decided she wants her REAL father to give her away.

This girl hasn't seen her REAL FATHER for 10 years; and maybe three times in her entire life. He has done nothing for her. I can't understand this girl. Do I go along with her wishes or tell her it's impossible?

Her stepfather would be hurt beyond words; besides he is paying for the wedding. Answer soon as I am a wreck.

DEAR NO: YOUR NAME

NO: Your daughter appears to feel that the tradition and protocol of a marriage ceremony are more important than her debt to a devoted stepfather. Tell her that while her intentions are probably sincere, the hurt to her stepfather would be unforgivable. And if she doesn't yield then, bow out of the wedding.

Problems? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Polly's Pointers

Signs Save Time

DEAR POLLY — My son made two very useful cardboard signs for me. Both are about 10 by 14 inches and one is blue with white lettering and the other is red with white lettering.

The blue one says "No bread" and the red one says "No milk." I attached a heavy string loop at the center top of each sign which is long enough to wind around the outside door knob twice to keep it from blowing off.

The milkman and the bread man appreciate this time-saving idea. — EDITH.

DEAR POLLY — I always keep a roll of plain paper around the platen (roll) of my typewriter to protect it from the constant pounding as I was taught to do in school many years ago.

Now I type on the far left and far right of this paper (beyond the space needed for the average size envelope) the zip code numbers that I use most often. Saves time and steps. — M.H.S.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Late August vows are planned by Mary Jane Head, daughter of the Clarence E. Heads of Maceday Lake Road and Paul Dennis Neuman, son of Mrs. Peter Neuman of Seedon Drive and the late Mr. Neuman.

On Your Toes Now, Feet Come to Fore

With summer only a hop-skip-and-jump away, now is the time to take your feet in hand. In fact, just following a few simple rules, you can make good foot health a year-round proposition.

To mark the occasion of Annual Foot Health Week, observed May 13-20 this year, the American Foot Care Institute urges that all Americans be on their toes when it comes to proper foot care and footwear. Too often, says Dr. Benjamin Kauth, prominent podiatrist and Institute director, are foot ills simply a matter of neglect, lack of exercise and — most important — the wrong shoes.

Dr. Kauth has prepared a short list of "Do's" and "Don'ts," designed to keep you and your family on a sound footing from Maytime on:

- DO wear shoes that have been properly fitted. Correctly fitted shoes should be half-inch longer than the longest toe, a quarter-inch wider than the widest part of the foot, and the back should cradle the heel snugly to prevent rubbing.
- DO wear shoes of the best footwear material: leather. Supple leather uppers shape themselves to the foot, flex with every movement. Pliable leather soles offer cushioned support and protection. Only leather has natural porosity, keeping feet dry and comfortable. If sneakers are necessary for gym or tennis, they should be worn for only short periods of time.
- DON'T wear the same shoes two days in succession. Change socks or stockings once or twice a day.
- DO bathe feet once or even twice a day. Dry thoroughly and use foot powder.
- DO exercise your feet. Limber them up at intervals; wiggle your toes. Take walks regularly.
- DON'T neglect your own and your children's feet. Examine them at frequent intervals for any signs of trouble.
- DON'T be a "bathroom surgeon." If feet need attention, consult a qualified podiatrist.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jeffrey Timmons of Battle Creek, with bridesmaids Jane Fosgitt; Mary Dickmann, Beckley, W. Va.; Linda Hines, Rockford, Mich. and Pamela Ruppel.

With best man, Dale L. Chase were ushers including Edward Perlman, Herbert

Girls Attend Episcopal Conference Briefing Tea

A tea, briefing area delegates to Wolverine Girls State June 14-21 at University of Michigan, was given Sunday afternoon at the Birmingham American Legion Post.

The girls were accompanied by their mothers and Girls State chairman, Mrs. William Hoese of the American Legion Auxiliary, Chief Pontiac Post 377 under whose sponsorship they will attend.

For seven days the girls will play junior politician roles, establishing a unit of government. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, they will be assigned to cities, petition for offices and form party platforms.

At the close of their session, two of the 462 high school juniors at Girls State will be elected to represent Michigan at Girls Nation in Washington, D.C.

Attending from Pontiac will be Sandra Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, North Perry Street; Pamela Gulda, daughter of the Alfred Guldas, Elizabeth Lake Road; and Merlynn Laurain, whose parents are the Merle Laurains, West Fairmont Avenue.

White Shoe Care

Here's a tip for those white shoes you'll be wearing. After polish has dried, wipe surface with a piece of wax paper. It will protect the shine and keep polish from getting on clothing.

Stock Mart Tumble Brings 4 Reactions

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK—The sharp drop in stock prices in the first half of May has:

- Dismayed many speculators in stock markets
- Disturbed some investors in blue chip issues
- Left the official guarantors of the economy guardedly unruffled
- And consoled some taxpayers by making a tax rate hike seem less likely.

It's all in how you look at it. From where the government economists stand, today's apparent bad news could be tomorrow's good news.

On paper, the stock market has lost many dollars, as measured by the quotations for leading securities, and even more if you look at the wing-clipping of the high-fliers.

The Dow Jones index of 30 blue chip industrial stocks at $33.68 at the close of trading in April. At the final bell Friday, the 13th of May, the average had slipped to $31.11.

The two-week drop of 57.57 points, or 1.1 per cent, has been called everything from a technical reaction from some tentative gains made in April, to an emotional upset brought on about equally by cuts in auto sales and production and by talk of inflation sparking higher taxes.

Traders feared higher tax rates would mean lower profits, after the first quarter's spectacular climb.

Those who lost money, or saw their paper profits shriveling, won't be dismayed. But Wall Street: many brokers call the cooling down of the speculative stock boom a blessing. This not only could give the general market a firmer base. It also could ward off criticism, and possible regulatory action by government agencies.

Washington economic planners are known to have been worried by the rise of speculation—apparent both in the price increases of the clamor stocks, and in the record volume of trading. These planners welcome the cooling down in the first half of May.

Many of the officials also are far from dismayed by the signs of a slowdown in the general economic pace. They dub as welcome such things as the current hesitation in the auto industry, leveling off of home building, trimming of plans for capital spending by industry, and the first signs that consumer spending itself may be calming down although holding to a high level.

The part that the stock market plays in this cooling down is largely psychological. Hopefully, it could keep the economy from getting frenzied.

ARE AGREED

Actually, the economic planners in Washington and most of their critics in banking circles are agreed on the desirability of further, but moderate, growth in the economy in general. They differ in that the critics think the pace already has become too rapid and the administration holds that, so far, this is far from a proven thing.

The slowdown in many sectors of the economy—while the stock market acting as the symbol—helps the official economists to argue that all could be working out for the best. Some critics, especially among bankers, may still be unconvinced. And those who lose money in the market are not happy.

But at mid-May, there's a different look to many things than a month ago.

Legislators Hear MSU, Ramparts

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University officials and two magazine writers were to meet today for a legislative subcommittee trying to find out what happened in the Central Intelligence Agency in South Vietnam.

MSU President John Hannah, who denied the charges at a lengthy news conference April 22, will be confronted by the state's House of Representatives, a Menlo Park, Calif., publication which launched the attack against the 1959 operation.

Warren Hinckle III, author of the Ramparts article, and Stanley Scheinbaum, former member of the MSU mission who wrote an introduction, were to fly there at their own expense for the hearing.

Rep. Jack Faxon, chairman of the House subcommittee on higher education appropriations, said he wanted to remove "a cloud of suspicion" that surrounds MSU's overseas program.

OPERATED MISSION

In 1959, the school was operating a mission in South Vietnam intended to help the new regime of Ngo Dinh Diem set up a civil service and police system.

Nonsecurity members were hired for the mission because not enough faculty members with the required skills were available.

The magazine charged that at least five CIA men were knowingly put on the payroll. Hannah contended the persons hired were specialists in teaching counter subversive tactics and were removed after the school learned of their CIA connection.

NO CONTRACT

The University never entered into any contract with the Central Intelligence Agency, said Hannah at his news conference.

The magazine said the university bought and sold goods for the Saigon government and violated the 1954 Geneva agreement limiting the military capability of North and South Vietnam.

Typhoon Irma Lashes Ship

262 Aboard Filipino Steamer Aground

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Irma drove a small Filipino ship aground off Cebu Island and a radio blackout obscured the fate of 262 persons aboard.

The last message from the vessel said the situation was critical.

The typhoon's 80-mile winds kicked up giant seas that lashed the 40-ton interisland steamer. Earlier reports said the typhoon was almost directly over the ship.

"We have not had any radio contact since midafternoon and we have no hope of getting any help to the area before Tuesday morning," a rescue official said.

Rescue ships were standing by in nearby ports.

AGROUND ON REEF

A radio operator at Philippine President Lines in Manila said the ship was aground on a reef off the northern tip of Cebu and in a "critical condition."

"We picked up the SOS this morning. The radio operator on the ship said she was aware and threatening to capsize the ship," he said.

"The last contact we had with him said the ship was aground. He did not say anything about abandoning it."

But the weather is too bad down there for the air force to take off," he said.

UNITS ALERTED

A duty officer at the Manila Marine Reserve Center said navy and air force units had been alerted.

"But the weather is too bad down there for the air force to take off," he said.

Many Good Recoveries

Mart Regaining Lost Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher in moderately active early trading today.

Selected blue chips made good recoveries from last week's large decline.

Amcan, a key stock in the averages, advanced 2 points as did Eastman Kodak, another pivotal issue.

Chrysler and General Electric bolstered the list with 1-point gains.

on 8,500 shares. It halved the loss in later dealings.

The background of economic and business news remained confusing, with the debate on a possible tax increase still prominent, but United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther called recent auto production cutbacks "essentially temporary."

Airlines posted a string of fractional gains. New York Central rose 1/4 in a generally recovering rail session. Stocks were unchanged to a bit higher.

One point losses were taken by Ford and Boeing.

Gains of a point or more were scored by Polaroid, Xerox and Control Data. U.S. Smelting rose 2.

Zenith, up a point, was outstanding in an electronics group which showed little change otherwise. Tobacco was narrowly mixed.

Opening blocks included: American Tobacco, off 1/4 at 33 on 17,500 shares; American Telephone, up 1/4 at 55 1/2 on 10,000; and Chrysler, up 1/4 at 82 on 6,000.
