

Space Gun Will Propel Astronaut

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When astronaut Edward H. White II floats away from the Gemini 4 spacecraft, he will use a space gun to try to move with in 20 feet of an orbiting, spent rocket. It will be the world's first rendezvous in space.

The dramatic additions to the flight plan of the Gemini 4 — following quickly the announcement that White will leave his craft — were announced yesterday by a panel of space agency officials.

day by a panel of space agency officials.

"If we are successful," said Dr. George E. Mueller, acting director of the Gemini program, "we will have done something the Russians have not tried, although I am sure they will have the capability."

At Pad 19 in the Cape Kennedy complex, technicians unseated the Gemini spacecraft from its perch on the nose of a nine-story-tall Titan 2 rocket, replaced a faulty battery, and remated the two.

The battery must be checked out, but officials said that barring further difficulty, Gemini 4 would lift off on time next Thursday morning.

SIMULATED MISSION

Space buddies White and James A. McDivitt, both Air Force majors, planned to run through a simulated mission today. They will don their silvery space suits, climb into the spacecraft and run through highlights of their scheduled four-day mission.

Mueller described this sequence after Gemini 4 slides onto orbital path during the actual trip.

After separation of the spacecraft from the second-stage booster, six minutes after launch, command pilot McDivitt will hold a tight formation with the spent rocket, trailing it by about 300 feet.

During first orbit, the astronauts will depressurize the cabin while pressurizing their space suits. McDivitt will maneuver the 7,600-pound spacecraft to within 25 feet of the burned-out rocket.

White will open his cabin hatch and stand. Then as the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

City Coed Dies in Fiery Crash

An 18-year-old Pontiac girl was one of four Michigan State University students who died in East Lansing early today when their small foreign car "virtually exploded" after a collision with a larger vehicle.

Killed in the fiery crash were: Nancy J. Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward, 285 Starr; Lars W. Johnson, 21, of Grand Rapids, the driver; Richard McCleary, 20 of Webster, N. Y.; and Eileen Nelson, 19, of Flint.

The crash raised Michigan's highway death toll to nine early in the Memorial Day Weekend.

Michigan State Police said following the collision, the small car flipped over on its top and skidded 110 feet along the highway, bursting into flames.

Ingham County Coroner Dorr Hoffmeyer said all four victims died of burns. The car had turned left onto M-10, a four-lane highway, and into the path of a larger auto, officers said.

Miss Ward was a 1964 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, where she was active in the girls' choir, the Future Teachers' Association and cheerleading.

SORORITY PLEDGE
She was a member of the local chapter of the National Honor Society, and as a freshman at MSU, had just pledged Delta Gamma sorority.

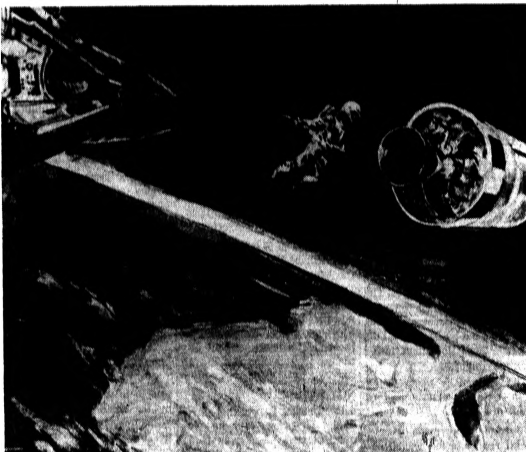

Other traffic victims thus far this weekend:
Thelma Wells, 52, of Hazel Park was killed today when her auto hit a utility pole in Redford Township, Wayne County.

Edmon Jester, 64, of Detroit died today after being struck by a hit-run driver while walking in Detroit.

Dale Emon Simmons, 16, of Fulton County, Ohio, died yesterday when his car hit a tree in Morenci, Mich. State police said Simmons attempted to turn a corner at high speed and lost control of his auto.

Clarence Wilson, 45, of Garden City was killed late yesterday when his car hit a tree in Plymouth Township, Wayne County.

Everette Gleen Sitsworth, 19, of Decatur, was killed yesterday when he was hit by a vehicle while riding his bicycle on M40 near Paw Paw.

A SPACE 'FIRST' — This drawing depicts a scene as it may take place on next week's flight of the Gemini 4 when a rendezvous will be attempted by U.S. astronauts with the booster that put them into orbit. At left is the Gemini capsule which has been slowed to let the spent booster (right) catch up. The astronaut maneuvers with one hand on his lifeline, the other holding a pressure gun that helps control his space movements.

Route Scouted for Moon Trip by Space Lab

Satellite Is Orbiting to Collect Data for U.S. Manned Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An interplanetary laboratory named Imp 3 raced deep into space today to scout scientific secrets and chart radiation hazards along the astronauts' pathway to the moon.

The 130-pound "flying physics lab" shot away from Cape Kennedy at 7 a.m. atop a towering Delta rocket.

The booster's three stages fired with drill-like precision and buried the satellite into space at more than 23,000 miles an hour.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours after launching that Imp 3 was in orbit and gave it the official designation of Explorer 28.

The payload was aimed at a great elliptical course intended to take it 130,000 miles from earth before it swings back as close as 120 miles at the low point of its four-day orbit.

SEVERAL DAYS
NASA said it might require several days to determine exact orbital figures.

Although this distance is only half way to the moon, Imp 3's sensitive instruments were to peer millions of miles into space to gather information.

The flight control center reported tracking stations were receiving clear signals from the high-flying satellite.

The only difficulty appeared to be that the payload angle to the sun was slightly off. Officials said this could affect data from some of the radiation experiments, but the problem was not considered serious.

IMP OF SEVEN
Third of seven, stands for Interplanetary Monitoring Platform, is the third of seven similar satellites planned to gather radiation and magnetic field data in support of the U.S. Apollo project to land men on the moon in this decade.

A major assignment of the Imp series is to determine if satellite instruments can be used to predict when great flares will erupt on the sun's surface, dumping clouds of cosmic rays with their dangerous highly charged protons into space.

All Trapped Miners Feared Dead in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A government spokesman said today there is little hope of anyone escaping alive from the shattered Bhoiri coal mine in eastern India where an explosion killed an estimated 250 to 400 men.

Mine officials sealed some air intakes in an effort to stifle the flames that erupted after the blast had ripped through three levels of the mine before dawn yesterday.

Flames and gases drove rescue teams back to the surface, with many exits covered up by fire fighters, any survivors have little chance of escaping, a government spokesman said.

The official acknowledged he was "taking the low figure" in estimating that 250 men were dead. Labor union leaders put it at 400.

The blast came at shift changing time and officials could not say exactly how many men from the old shift had left the mine or how many of the relief had entered.

Bindhwasary Dubey, member of the legislature in Bihar State, where the mine is located, told Indian newsmen he believed every miner underground and all those working on the surface near the shaft were killed in the blast.

FORCE OF BLAST
One mangled body was flung 40 feet by the explosion and it was reported that a workman sleeping a mile away was killed by a stone hurled from the mine shaft.

If a government is correct in its estimate that at least 250 men are dead, the Bhoiri colliery explosion would be the worst mine disaster in India's history.

Prominent Pontiac realtor John Q. Waddell, 99 Cherokee, died yesterday.

Service will be 11 a.m. Monday at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, with private burial Tuesday at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Waddell, 62, has served on the city's tax board of review and the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. He was also a member of the board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

A 1925 graduate of the University of Michigan, Waddell served in the Air Force in World War II, and later served on Pontiac Selective Service Board No. 65.

He was a member of Pontiac Rotary Club, Pontiac City Club, Pine Lake Country Club, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, Blue Lodge of Gardner, Mass., and the Detroit Consistory and Mostem Shrine.

Mr. Waddell was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Surviving are his wife, Annette; a son, Robert of Pontiac; a daughter, Mrs. Roland F. Wacker of Ann Arbor; one grandson; a sister; and a brother.

Cloudy, Mild Over Weekend

Memorial Day weekend weather will feature mostly cloudy skies and slightly warmer temperatures, with highs in the 60s.

There's also a chance that we may have showers, but only Sunday morning.

Clouds will cover the skies tonight, while the mercury rests in the 40s.

Monday's weather picture is partly cloudy with only minor changes in temperatures forecast.

Winds today are from the west and northwest at 8 to 15 miles an hour. They will become southwesterly tonight, then northwesterly at 10 to 18 miles an hour by tomorrow afternoon.

This morning in Pontiac, 42 was the low mercury reading. The recording at 2 p.m. was 52.

House Approves Tax Measure

LANSING (AP) — The House voted yesterday to raise taxes on business, lower it on beer and impose a new levy on real estate transactions.

It approved the first state income tax — a five per cent levy on net business income.

"And we still came up $33-million short of the new revenue we will need in the next two years," said Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, at the end of a scrambling, impromptu "fiscal reform" session in which an $83-million use tax on services was buried and an attempt to revive a statewide personal and corporate income tax failed.

The action came as the deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin approached.

A Democratic-sponsored bill to replace the business activities tax with a net income tax was approved 76-9 and sent to the Senate while most Republicans stood by and watched.

NOT ADEQUATE
They praised it as a partial—but not adequate—solution to the state's tax problems. Twenty-one of the 37 Republicans refrained from voting on the tax—which would produce an estimated $52-million in its first full year of operation.

The real estate transfer tax — the second element in the Democratic "start on fiscal reform" package—was passed 74-19. Imposing a $1.10 levy on each $1,000 involved in real estate transfers, it would produce an estimated $2 million for the state and $2 million for counties.

Fiscal reform may not be dead yet, said Montgomery — the man considered generally responsible for the Democratic tax program. A Republican legislator, Rep. James Folke of Horton, has served notice he will try next week to discharge from committee of a resolution which suspends the deadlines for tax and spending bills.

"If that resolution gets out next week — or if we have a fall session — we may find the courage to raise taxes to finance the spending we have approved," he said.

House Scratches Dog Racing

Even additional rabbits failed to make a race of it.

Proponent Arthur J. Law, Pontiac's Democratic representative, offered the inducements of reduced tolls on the Mackinaw Bridge and a 100,000-seat Olympic stadium near Detroit.

The odds didn't change, and Law mustered only 31 votes to bring his bill before the House. He needed 56.

Law estimated the state's revenue from the races would reach $10 million in three years.

Under his proposal, 45 per cent of the track take would be used to cut the bridge tolls, 40 per cent would go to the stadium fund, and 15 per cent would go to the counties in which the tracks were built.

At the city hall ceremony a church choir will sing several selections, the Pontiac Northern High School band will play "Taps" and the Rev. Theodore R. Albebach, Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church, will present the Memorial Day address.

City officials on hand will be introduced by the Association president, David MacGillis of 259 W. Columbia.

A short service will be held at the Perry Mount Park Cemetery following the ceremony at city hall.

Residents are asked not to park in the city lots off of Lafayette prior to the parade as the procession will form there.

U.S. Planes Bomb Island off North Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. war planes dropped 12 tons of bombs today on Hon Nieu Island 130 miles north of the 17th Parallel, destroying an anti-aircraft battery, two buildings and a radar tower, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The strike force of six Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and supporting jets ran into heavy ground fire during the 20-minute attack, the spokesman said. But all returned safely.

Earlier U.S. Navy planes hit bridges and barges about 100 miles south of Hanoi.

Eight aircraft from the carrier Oriskany severely damaged a wooden highway bridge and a barge and then struck at two highway bridges under construction.

Parade to Honor War Dead

Pontiac's traditional Memorial Day parade will step out briskly at 10 a.m. Monday to honor the city's war dead.

The 50-unit procession will follow a route which starts at Huron and Saginaw, goes south to Water, east on Water to Wide Track and then south to Auburn.

At Auburn, the parade will make a U-turn and return to the front of city hall where a ceremony will be held.

Represented in the march will be nearly all local veteran groups, school bands, area military reserve units, law enforcement agencies, churches, children's organizations, Scouts and many other groups.

Veterans' groups will be vying for the "Floyd Cremer Memorial Trophy," to be presented to marchers in the parade.

MARCHING UNITS
Included among the marching units will be Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts. During the parade each boy will carry in his left shirt pocket, over his heart, the name of a man who gave his life for his country.

At the city hall ceremony a church choir will sing several selections, the Pontiac Northern High School band will play "Taps" and the Rev. Theodore R. Albebach, Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church, will present the Memorial Day address.

City officials on hand will be introduced by the Association president, David MacGillis of 259 W. Columbia.

A short service will be held at the Perry Mount Park Cemetery following the ceremony at city hall.

Residents are asked not to park in the city lots off of Lafayette prior to the parade as the procession will form there.

A Hungarian Embassy official hinted earlier this week that if agreement is reached on Viet Nam policy, the Russians and Peking is trying to woo.

Skepticism Meets Wagner in Threat to Quit NY Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he is seriously considering not running for an unprecedented fourth term next November because of personal reasons. A withdrawal likely would have national political repercussions. The disclosure by the Democratic mayor Friday night, however, was seen by some as a move to rally dissident or indifferent Democrats around him, and that he had no intention of pulling out.

The Brooklyn Democratic organization is bitterly divided over the county leadership of Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, whom Wagner has been trying to depose. Political observers said if Wagner pulled out, it would greatly aid Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in gaining control of the Democratic party in New York.

Wagner, 55, denied his statements were aimed at rallying dissident or lukewarm Democrats.

MORE TIME

"I find I can't spend as much time as a father should with his boys," he said, referring to his two sons, Robert Jr., 21, and Duncan, 18. He said he also was considering how much his health might be strained by four more years. He said he would announce his decision "in a week or two."

The mayoral race took on added national significance May 13 with the entry of Rep. John V. Lindsay, East Side Manhattan Republican considered by some as possible presidential material. Lindsay, a proven vote getter in a predominantly Democratic district, viewed his entry at the time as a step toward the revival of the Republican party.

Robert Price, Lindsay's campaign manager, said the congressman would have no immediate comment.

It was learned that the Lindsay camp feels—at least right now—that Wagner has no intention of pulling out.

WAIT AND SEE

"We want to see whether it's real or not," said one aide, who did not want to be identified. Even some Democrats, who also did not want to be identified by name, said they found it hard to believe the mayor would not run in a city where Democrats hold a better than 3-to-1 edge in voter registration.

The mayor emphasized that he had been considering not running long before Lindsay threw his hat into the ring. There was some speculation Wagner might be concerned about losing to Lindsay, even though he was favored because of the Democrats' huge registration margin.

New Letter Form Dedicated to JFK

BOSTON (AP)—A new air mail letter form dedicated to the late President John F. Kennedy goes on sale today, the day the president would have celebrated his 48th birthday.

It was dedicated at Faneuil Hall Friday by Postmaster General John Gronouski with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., representing the family.

The single sheet of lightweight paper, bearing John Kennedy's likeness, can be folded to form an envelope. It costs 11 cents.

Livingston Dem Confab Illegal

HOWELL (AP)—Edward Lettinger still is chairman of Livingston County's Democrats. Circuit Judge Leo Bebeau ruled Friday, but the Sept. 12, 1964 convention that elected him was illegal.

The county convention ended in fistfights and resulted in another convention called by Brian Lavan, who was elected chairman. Judge Bebeau ruled the second convention illegal on grounds it was not called by Lettinger, the only duly elected chairman, and Lettinger did not preside.

Bebeau ordered a new convention called within 50-60 days with those delegates certified to the Sept. 12, 1964, convention being seated.

Russia: Canada 'Witch Hunting'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused Canada today of conducting a "witch hunt" against Soviet officials in Ottawa.

The Russians said Canadian police had hidden microphones in the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, spied on Soviet officials and kicked them out of the country on trumped up spy charges.

The accusation also implied that Canadians had murdered a Soviet scientist who died in an automobile accident two years ago.

The attack came in the news paper Sovietskaya Rossia, the news organ of the giant Russian Federation, the largest of the Soviet republics.

Liked Alabama U. Stay, Says First Negro Grad

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Vivian Juanita Malone, the Negro who walked past Gov. George C. Wallace's famed "stand in the schoolhouse door," said yesterday integration had worked well during her two years at the University of Alabama.

"Yes, I think it definitely worked out all right," Miss Malone told reporters at her first news conference since enrolling at Alabama June 1963. She graduates Sunday with a B-plus average in industrial relations.

Miss Malone becomes the first member of her race to receive a diploma from a formerly all-white state university in Alabama.

"I take pride in being the first of my race to graduate from the University of Alabama," the 22-year-old coed said. "I feel it is a very good school with some excellent instructors and would recommend it highly to any Negroes who want to get a top education."

Miss Malone, looking back on her two years at the university, said, on the whole, she had "a very happy time."

"It has been a very interesting and exciting two years," she said. "I've enjoyed it and I've made many friends and many acquaintances. On the whole it's been a very happy time."

Miss Malone, along with Negro James Hood, made history June 11, 1963, when they were admitted, under federal protection, as students at the university.

Miss Malone attended classes without incident. Hood later withdrew, giving "ill health" as his reason.

Rain Plagues LBJ's Visit to Home State

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, home in Texas for the first time in six weeks, is being plagued with bad weather.

Cloudy skies with occasional thunderstorms — some of them heavy — were forecast today for the area of the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of here.

Johnson, who flew to the ranch Thursday night for the Memorial Day weekend, had plenty of weather troubles Friday. Because of torrential rains and a low ceiling, the President had to fly by helicopter to and from Baylor University commencement exercises in Waco, 120 miles northeast of here. He had hoped to make the trip in his Air Force Jetstar transport.

The weather also altered Johnson's plans for delivering the Baylor commencement address. He wanted to use a teleprompter for the speech, broadcast nationally by television and radio networks, but the necessary equipment got hung up in the clouds aboard a chartered airliner, bringing the White House press corps to Waco.

Because of rains that caused flash floods in the area, the plane was able to land only after Johnson had arrived at the ceremony. He read a typed copy of the speech.

RAIN INTERRUPTS

Johnson's first stab at relaxation during the weekend also was affected by the weather. After the Baylor event, he flew to Lyndon B. Johnson Lake — formerly Granite Shoals Lake — north of here for an outing. But clouds hugged the ground there and rain came down in sheets.

OU Students to Study Spanish on Mexico Visit

Imagine an American college program in which all students are fined for speaking English.

Imagine, too, 12 Oakland University students finding themselves 2,400 miles away in Mexico as the semester began.

Add to this the experience of learning a foreign language in a country where it's spoken and the result is a thumbnail sketch of OU's first off-campus credit program, the "Mexican Seminar."

The students and their instructor, William C. Bryant, assistant professor of modern languages, will spend three months in Guanajuato.

Living with Mexican families,

they will study at the University of Guanajuato.

INTENSIVE TRAINING

Most are taking intensive language training under Bryant, though the more advanced students are studying readings of contemporary Spanish literature.

All are enrolled in a Mexican history course taught by a member of the Guanajuato faculty. In exchange, Bryant will teach an English course to Mexican students.

The venture is the first program at OU in which a faculty member and students have formed an academic unit to study in a foreign country.

Similar projects are being planned for European countries, according to George C. Matthews, dean of the college of arts and sciences.

Local students participating in the seminar are Sharon Cleland of 2608 Desmond, Waterford Township, Nancy Petaja of 202 Winny, Avon Township, and Donald Welsh of 3729 Rutland, Troy.

Norway Chief Quits in Party

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Premier Einar Gerhardsen resigned today as chairman of the Norwegian Labor party which he has headed since the end of World War II.

Trygve Bratteli, 55, the vice chairman since 1945, was elected to succeed him. Gerhardsen, 68, indicated some time ago that he would step down as party leader because of age.

The new vice chairman is Reinolf Lissen, 31, secretary of the Labor party's parliament group since March 1964.

If the Labor party wins the general election, next September, the election of Bratteli as party chairman means that he will replace Gerhardsen as premier.

Reflections

MEMORIAL DAY

Each of us will celebrate Memorial Day in ways that touch us intimately. Soldiers and Sailors that fell in battle will be remembered, gloriously; fathers and mothers who fought the good fight for their children and society will be eulogized. Our every deed, act, attitude is a message to a yesterday.

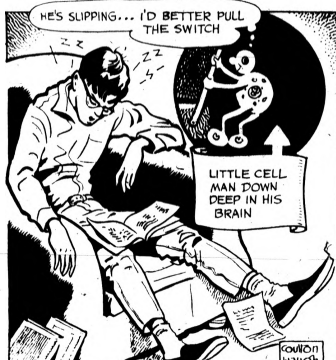

M.E. SIPLE

Each of us will lay a tribute of living flowers on the resting place of one who won a battle over enemies so vast that it staggers the imagination, a son who fought virus and won his battle, a daughter who won her fight with an illness that crippled, a parent who faced a life in bed, who rose above physical handicaps to make life a thing of beauty and repose, who gave peace to family and friends, we pay tribute to them as wayfarers on the one-way road of life.

A spray of living flowers is an emblem of everlasting strength, the last resting place is a shrine to greatness, with luminous we express sublime faith in a Supreme Being and His Heaven.

Junior Editors Quiz on SLEEP

QUESTION: We all sleep—but why?

ANSWER: Sleep is a way in which nature insures that our bodies will have a chance to replenish themselves. While awake, a special group of cells in the brain directs us in our conscious activity.

But there is another part of the brain, lower down, which can turn on or shut off the activity of the upper cells.

This wise lower brain, symbolized in our picture as the little cell man, seems to know when the conscious parts need to be shut off, so it makes us drowsy and we tumble into bed. While sleeping, we use very little energy.

This allows the nerve cells to build up supplies of the chemicals they need to get us going when we wake up.

We all need sleep; when young, children should have ten hours rest, when older, nine or more. Adolescents need from eight to nine hours.

Experts say it doesn't matter what position we take when we first go to sleep. Without knowing that we are doing so, we change our position several times during the night.

This gives a chance for all the muscles to relax. It is important that a sleeping person be protected from cold, because, during sleep, the body produces less heat than when awake.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch your behavior throughout a day. A person who hasn't had enough sleep is likely to be grumpy and cross. If you find yourself that way, get more sleep!

"My dear Watson," remarked Sherlock Holmes, "I have a little mystery for you. South was Sir Percy Adair, one of the best players in England. East was Colonel Sebastian Moran the second most dangerous man in London and the most dangerous one at the card table. The scene was the finals of the Hogeness Club championship and when the Colonel fooled Percy and held him to five hearts he received a top score and won the event. How did he fool Sir Percy?"

Watson studied the hand carefully and replied, "This time I have you, Holmes! The Colonel won the club opening and returned the six of trumps. Sir Percy decided that the Colonel

Rights Act Compliance Is Termed Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP) Asst. Secretary of Welfare James M. Quigley said today he is encouraged about the filing of acceptable civil rights compliance statements in the hospital and education fields.

Quigley said there has been a breakthrough in both fields by institutions and states seeking to meet the 1964 Civil Rights Act provision that they end discrimination or face loss of federal funds. The former Democratic congressman from Pennsylvania is coordinating Welfare Department compliance efforts.

"We still have a lot of work to do," Quigley said.

He noted that some 235 complaints, most of them directed at individual hospitals, have been brought to his attention.

ATLANTA REGION

The hospital complaints have been almost entirely at areas served by the Atlanta regional office but have included some in the Boston, New York, Kansas City and San Francisco regional offices.

"At this stage of the game, we have probably completed 35 or 40 hospital investigations," Quigley said. "But that is just the first step. Then we have to seek compliance on a voluntary basis."

In the educational field, Quigley hailed the fact the acceptable compliance statements have been received from state educational agencies in all but two states, Alabama and Alaska. He said this means that only Alabama among the Deep South states still does not have an acceptable plan.

"This has been very definitely a breakthrough," Quigley said, and the guidelines issued by Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel last month have been a big help.

Germans Seek Prewar Powers

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government is making an all-out effort to take over the special powers that the Western Allies assumed in West Germany after World War II.

As things stand now the United States, Britain and France would run West Germany in a war or rebellion, Erhard wants Germans to have the right to rule their own country in any circumstances.

It's an uphill fight. Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin is conferring with other leaders of his Socialist opposition party to decide how far they will go now. Brandt says agreement is unlikely before the Sept. 19 election.

Erhard's government is seeking a legislative package that would set up an emergency constitution. This would provide a small emergency parliament and special powers for the government, including tight control over press and labor.

SOVEREIGN NATION

Erhard and his Christian Democratic party would like to get the necessary amendment to the constitution through Parliament before it adjourns in mid-July. Then they could tell the voters that 20 years after World War II they had made West Germany a fully sovereign country.

This is provided, of course, that the three Allies relinquish their own powers, as they have promised to do.

To amend the constitution, Erhard needs Socialist cooperation. His own party does not have the votes for a two-thirds majority in the Bundestag.

The Socialists don't want the responsibility of refusing. They accuse their opponents of shilly-shallying on the issue for years, and of trying to put the heat on now that the election is in sight.

TREATY TERMS

Under a treaty signed in 1955 the Three Western Allies are responsible for the security of their troops in West Germany who total more than 300,000 men, mostly Americans. If the Allies decide that an emergency exists they can rule West Germany by military decree.

Will Pay in Hardship Cases

House Okays Uninsured Motorist Bill

LANSING (AP) — The House voted overwhelmingly Friday to protect drivers from the estimated 600,000 uninsured motorists on Michigan highways — for as much as $25,000 in one accident.

It passed 87-9 and sent to the Senate a bill establishing an unsatisfied judgment fund to prevent serious economic hardship on persons injured or the families of those killed.

NAME CHANGED
Changing the name from the "unsatisfied judgment fund" to the "motor vehicle accident claims fund," the House adopted a substitute for the bill originally backed by Hare.

It would have imposed stiffer application fees on the uninsured, charged insurance companies one-half of one per cent of their gross premiums in Michigan, and required them to help administer the fund.

The amended plan is based on an 18-year-old Ontario, Canada, fund. A group of legislators visited Toronto, Ont., last week.

The Canadians, they said, have found that a high charge simply encouraged the uninsured to try to dodge it. When applying for plates, a motorist would have to provide proof that his car was insured in order to avoid the $25 fee.

The fund — designed solely to aid hardship cases — would not pay when compensation was made from any other source — such as insurance or workmen's compensation.

The driver of an uninsured car involved in a payable accident would have his license suspended until he:

1. Repaid in full to the fund the amount paid out, or

2. Commenced installment repayments in accordance with an agreement made with the secretary, and

3. Filed proof of financial responsibility.

Set Discussion of Tax Hike for Education Plan
A discussion of the proposed tax increase for special education in Oakland County Schools is slated at Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Oakland County Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Ann Zuzich, chairman of the association's education committee, will review the present special education program at the meeting in the Birmingham Community House.

An increase of one-half mill is sought in the June 14 school election. This would double the present half mill levy.

A representative of the State Department of Public Instruction has been invited to outline the state's role in special education for the mentally handicapped.

U.S. Paying Dominican Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sent more than $10 million worth of aid to the Dominican Republic since civil war erupted a month ago.

Money, food and medical supplies have been sent to aid the hungry, ill and the wounded — and to keep the government functioning while rival factions struggle to take charge.

U. S. officials won't say whether or how the aid is being used to help achieve the announced U. S. goal in the Dominican Republic — a Communist-free, coalition government.

The United States has declared its neutrality in the current struggle between rebels and a military civilian junta. But politics aside, said Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the United States had to make sure Dominican life and government did not disintegrate into chaos.

President Johnson added in his Baylor University speech Friday: "As peace returns to the Dominican people and as a broad base is laid for a new Dominican government, responsive to the people's will, the United States will be prepared to join in full measure in the massive task of reconstruction and in the hopeful work of lasting economic progress."

The main channel for pouring in U. S. funds for one politically sensitive purpose — paying salaries of Dominican government employees — is the Organization of American States.

OAS Secretary General Jose Mora in Santo Domingo to mediate the civil war — has $8 million from the United States to keep pay checks going to Dominican government workers, whether they be in the junta or the rebel area. Inter-American troops have occupied the republic's Central Bank to make sure the funds don't fall into the wrong hands.

U. S. authorities figure this is the best way of keeping vital government services going without violating official neutrality toward the feuding political factions. The junta leader, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, nevertheless denounced the move as "frank intervention" in the country's internal affairs.

NATURAL GAS WAS FORMED FROM TINY MARINE ORGANISMS, ABUNDANT IN SEAS THAT ONCE COVERED MOST OF THE EARTH. THEY SETTLED ON THE OCEAN BED AND WERE BURIED IN MANY LAYERS OF MUD AND SAND. GRADUAL DECAY, HEAT, PRESSURE AND PERHAPS RADIOACTIVITY TRANSFORMED THEM INTO GAS.

TODAY, NATURAL GAS SUPPLIES VITAL ENERGY IN 3 OUT OF 4 HOMES, THOUSANDS OF INDUSTRY AND MILLIONS OF COMMERCIAL BUSINESSES IN AMERICA.

Pontiac Sends Books to Southern Schools

Five cases of books from the children of Webster School are ready for shipment to children living in southern mountain areas.

Webster School is participating in a national PTA project, "Books for Appalachia." Many other Pontiac schools are working on the project, as well as different groups like a Y-Teens club in one school.

Webster believes it is the first to send off a contribution from Pontiac.

NATIONAL DRIVE

This is a nationwide drive for a million books that will go to Appalachian communities where there are no libraries and where tiny country schools have only a few library books, or none at all.

The project at Webster sparked the interest of students and teachers alike.

When it started, PTA president Mrs. Ross Elliott and PTA library committee members, Mrs. Donald McMillen and Mrs. G. W. Stark, explained the idea to Mrs. Thelma Jones, teacher-librarian.

Sixth graders who are student librarians caught the enthusiasm and conducted a campaign with posters, appeals over the public address system and flyers for parents.

FLOOD OF BOOKS

Enough books poured in to fill five bookcase boxes. All books sent must be shipped in specially made cases that become bookcases when the hardboard covers are removed.

Students of Graham Lewis at Pontiac Northern High School made the boxes with lumber donated by the Benson Lumber Company.

Perhaps Friend Is Vexed Because He Asked You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 49, but I am far from "old," if you know what I mean.

A very prominent, well-to-do professional man (he is a widower) has asked to marry me. I've been a widow for six years. Melvin is very affectionate and full of fun, and he seems young at heart, but you never know.

Please don't think I am silly, but a friend of mine, who was widowed twice and strong three times with older men, told me that men who lose their hair early in life do not have much "drive" romantically. (I hope you get what I am trying to put across.)

I've known Melvin practically all my life. (His wife and I were good friends.) Melvin started to go bald in his late 20's and this worries me. I don't know what to believe: Is there any truth in what my friend says? Sign me.

YPSILANTI
DEAR YPSI: Absolutely not! Just because there's chrome on the dome doesn't mean there's no power under the hood. Tell your widow friend to get her ears out of your water.

She carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies, ivy and pink lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Brooks Marshall Jr. of Franklin was honor matron and Patricia Coghlin of Mexico City, Mexico, maid of honor.

FOLLOW THE PRESCRIPTION:
People often spend time and money going to the doctor, additional time and money getting a prescription filled - and then proceed to "improve upon" the doctor's directions or to ignore them completely.
How you take the medicine is important. Too little - too much - too soon - too late: these are some of the things that can cause a prescribed medicine to be ineffective or sometimes even harmful.
Your doctor knows what he wants you to have. His instructions are precise. Your pharmacist spells them out practically. There are your doctor's instructions to you, follow them faithfully!

WHY THIS AFFLICTION — The bronze sculpture of Job as he cries out to God in his grief and sorrow will be displayed at Central Methodist Church tomorrow until June 6. Shown with his creation is Thomas Horwitz of 949 James K, a Pontiac businessman. The sculpture will be shown during the Emerging Arts Exhibit June 20 to 22 at Temple Beth Jacob, and later will go on tour with a national religious art exhibit.

Bronze Statue of Job on Exhibit at Central

The bronze sculpture of Job created by Thomas Horwitz, Pontiac businessman, will be on exhibit tomorrow through June 6 in the narthex of Central Methodist Church, 3882 Highland, Waterford Township.

The statue will be exhibited during the Emerging Arts Exhibit on June 20-22 at Temple Beth Jacob. Later the figure will be on tour with a national religious art exhibit.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, minister at Central Church, will preach on "Job's Lament" at 9 and 10:45 a.m. tomorrow. The sermon will be broadcast at 11:15 a.m.

The sculpture depicts Job at the time he learns that his wealth has been destroyed, his sons and daughters dead.

Job has fallen to his knees upon the ground, his hands outstretched, head thrown back facing heaven and crying out in grief, proclaiming his devotion to God, exclaiming "The Lord giveth, the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord."

The viewer can almost feel the pangs and suffering that Job was experiencing. Mr. Horwitz has created an exceptional work of sculpture with a religious theme that should rank with the finest produced in this century.

WEARS KAFIAH

Job is clothed in the typical dress of the day wearing a kafia headpiece and goat-skin garment.

When questioned what inspired him to create Job, Mr. Horwitz, of 949 James K, said the idea came to him during the three days following the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

The anguished feeling which he and other Americans experienced prompted the question "Why was Kennedy killed in the prime of life and at the pinnacle of achievement?"

Then I thought of Job and the question of "Why were his children and possessions destroyed?" Mr. Horwitz said.

The creator of the sculpture went on to say he has long been interested in art forms that could be used to enhance the beauty of churches and temples.

FIRST IN CLAY

The 36-inch statue, weighing 720 pounds was started the week after President Kennedy's death. The first figure modelled in clay, was then cast using the lost wax process.

Mr. Horwitz said Dr. Joseph Nosanchuk served as a model for some of the posing.

Although his sculptures are primarily devoted to those with a religious motif, in 1963 he created a 10-foot ballerina that weighs over 1,700 pounds.

Mr. Horwitz, owner of Michigan Fluorescent Light Co., joined the parks and recreation sculpture course in 1962 "for a little spare-time relaxation." He has a background in several art mediums including oils, watercolors and sculpture.

Before coming to Pontiac in 1940, he was a make-up artist in several nationally prominent studios and directed make-up departments for many large outdoor theatrical productions including the Century of Progress at the Chicago World's Fair.

Mr. Horwitz said his family were all interested in art. His daughter Mrs. Elinor H. Perrin, a speech therapist for Oakland County, paints in oil; and his wife is a culinary artist.

To Honor Pastor Rosche

Rev. Theodore R. Rosche, associate professor of philosophy and religion at American University in Washington, D. C., will be guest preacher tomorrow when Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian honors its assistant pastor.

The Rev. Raymond H. Rosche, the minister to be honored, is the father of the guest speaker. Minister of visitation at the Orchard Lake Church, Rev. Mr. Rosche was ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church USA 40 years ago. He earned his master of theology degree from Episcopal Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, Pa.

He served congregations in Kenmore, N. Y. at Bethesda Presbyterian in Philadelphia and in the Adirondack area in central New York State.

From 1960 to 1963 he served as Stated Clerk of the Presbytery of New York. He expects to retire from the Orchard Lake ministry Sept. 1.

Doctor Slater Home in June

Brothers Manage Hospital in Africa

Directing a hospital and making difficult diagnoses from bed was part of the missionary task of Dr. John Slater of Pontiac and Detroit who returned this month from the Ivory Coast.

Dr. Slater and his brother Dr. Dwight Slater run a hospital at Ferkessedougou. Last year while the Dwight Slaters were on furlough, Dr. John Slater suffered a back injury.

As the only doctor at the hospital, he had to direct the work from bed.

Dr. Slater is the son of Mrs. Hazel Slater, 56 Neoma. During this year the Slater family will be residing at 2454 Border Hill, Novi. They will arrive in Pontiac in June.

The Slaters first served as missionaries in Congo with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society of Wheaton, Ill. When Congo independence forced them to close their hospital in the Kivu, they went to Ivory Coast and opened the hospital at Ferkessedougou.

Dr. Slater will be speaking throughout the area during the year. On June 2, he will be in Denver to speak at the 22nd annual meetings of the Conservative Baptists.

Dr. Slater is a graduate of Wheaton college and received his M. D. from Wayne State university in 1967.

Vacation Visits Plan Develops

What began in 1947 as a modest goodwill project has developed into the major interfaith Minnesota Interracial Vacation Visits Program.

For the second year, Roman Catholics are cooperating with Protestants in the summer visits which bring children of Negro, Oriental, Indian and Spanish-speaking backgrounds to white church homes in the country for eight days every summer.

A project in the Twin City area of the Minnesota Council of Churches, it is now sponsored jointly with the Catholic Interracial Council in the state.

Choose Chairman at Pontiac General

Rev. Gus Tsoumpas, pastor of the Hellenic Orthodox Community Church of St. George, was named chairman of the Chaplain's Commission at Pontiac General Hospital Thursday.

Rev. Forrest Pierce, minister at Trinity Methodist Church in Kregg Harbor, was elected vice chairman of the commission; and Mrs. Mervel Minniss, secretary.

The Chaplain's Commission is sponsored by the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

For the first time, said Rev. Willis J. Morrison, project advisor, a reverse-visits program will be conducted from July 16-23 this year, when white children from rural communities will visit in the homes of minority families in the Twin Cities.

Last year, 237 children visited in 140 host homes in 79 Minnesota communities, Rev. Morrison reported.

Champagne Walls And Muted Aqua Carpeting Set Background For French Provincial Living Room

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward H. Noble

Utica's Biggest Oak Key to Site Choice

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
"Years ago, my father picked this lot on which to build our family home," said Mrs. Herbert B. Rhodes of Hall Road, Utica, "because it had the oldest and largest oak tree in Utica."

"And though it's in the heart of town now, then it was considered strictly residential."

"Lately with the traffic increase, we've been tempted to move out into the suburbs. But since I run a full time 'one woman' insurance agency, having the house this close to downtown is a great help."

The Rhodeses have remodeled the kitchen area to add to its efficiency and convenience.

Decorated with a French provincial theme, their living room features a background of champagne and muted aqua.

Glass insets protect the hand-painted tops of the fruit-wood tables on either end of the bark-brown sofa. Legs and sideboards of the tables are antiqued white.

The walnut coffee table, with its mosaic inlay of greens, blues, pink and burgundy, introduces a contemporary accent.

French brass medallions mounted on black and framed in antique-white hang on the wall over the grand piano.

Completing the room's seating arrangement are twin teal-blue velvet chairs.

In the adjoining dining room a French wallpaper print with shades of blue, aqua and a touch of lavender is used above the muted-aqua dado.

Tall brass Italian candlesticks with lavender candles balance the white ceramic ar-rangment on the slate-topped sideboard.

Furniture pieces in the room are pecan-finished walnut. The chair seats and back cushions are teal-blue velvet.

Study Claims Wood Is Tops

Why do so many homeowners insist on wood window sash?

The answer might be found in the results of a heat transfer study published recently.

According to the heating engineers who conducted the tests, a wood window with a single thickness of glass reduced heat loss or heat gain as much as 22 per cent when compared with the same size window made with other sash materials.

Wood sash showed an even greater advantage when double-glazed windows were used. With double glazing, the heat loss was 37 per cent less for wood units than for metal sash.

For the homeowner, that means big savings in heating and cooling bills with no loss of styles.

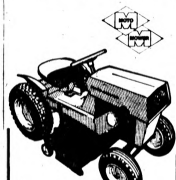

Windows of ponderosa pine are readily available in sliding, casement, vent, bow, bay, awning, hopper, double-hung and picture window styles, as well as window-door combinations.

Thinned or Stirred?

Always read the directions on a can of paint to determine whether the paint should be thinned or whether only occasional stirring is required to get the best results.

A FOR EXCELLENCE: The delightfully rustic appearance of this A-frame house contrasts somewhat with the modern design and conveniences of the interior, with a three-bedroom plan which enables it to be used as a year-round as well as vacation home.

FLOOR PLANS: A three-level layout permits all the main rooms of the house to be placed on one floor, with an extra bedroom and bath on a balcony, and a family room, dressing room, bath, utility room, storage area and garage at grade level.

All-Year Comforts in Vacation Home

The vacation home market continues to grow. More and more persons are finding it desirable to invest in second homes.

Increasing amounts of leisure time have made it practical to get away from it all for a while, something which could not be done easily when the man of the house worked six days a week and got very little time off for vacations and holidays.

Interlocked with the demand for more vacation homes is an upgrading of quality.

Second homes these days are not the shack-like structures of years ago. Used to modern conveniences, home owners want many or all of them in their part-time residences.

Also, some buyers see vacation houses as possible future retirement dwellings, while still others are interested in immediate year-round homes in lake, shore and mountain areas.

A-FRAME
A house that fulfills these needs is Design H-85, a creation of architect Lester Cohen. It utilizes the A-frame plan, which has attained so much popularity because of its economy of construction as well

Window Condensation From Trapped Moisture

The condensation that causes windows to sweat during winter months usually is the result of the failure of normal moisture to escape to the outside.

Authorities estimate that, with a family of four, cooking, laundering and even breathing and perspiring can add more than 10 gallons of water a day to the air in the home.

H-85 STATISTICS

Design H-85 has 925 square feet of living area on the main level, with a combination living-dining room, a kitchen, a bathroom and two bedrooms. An 18' by 12' bedroom and a bath are on the balcony level. A family room, dressing room, bath, utility room, laundry, storage area and garage are on the grade level. A wide outdoor balcony provides a relaxing and dining area at the front and side of the A-frame and a shaded section underneath. The covered area at the side can be used for storing a boat. Over-all dimensions, not including the outside balcony, are 37' 2" by 24' 10".

Flat Varnish Won't Shine

If you have coated a dresser, table, bookcase, or wooden chair with flat paint to match or contrast with a room's wall paint, the horizontal surface must be protected from dustfall and from the soiling that comes with handling.

The customer services division of Armstrong Paints recommends covering such surfaces with a thin coat of a new, extremely hard polyurethane flat varnish.

The flat variety will not shine like a gloss varnish, but both types will resist fruit acids, alkalis, household vinegar, alcohol, grease, oil, heat, cold, ammonia, soap, and detergents. They will wipe clean with a damp cloth. Because they are clear, the change or loss of color is imperceptible.

Repeated washing of either latex or oil based flat paint would tend to erode the surface, an Armstrong spokesman pointed out.

The polyurethane gloss varnish can be used on floors, marine hulls, decks, bar tops, and other wood surfaces on which an extremely durable shiny finish is desired.

Both the gloss and flat types are at their own sealer and no primer is required. They set dust-free in about 30 minutes.

Interior Tips

Basic Rules Important

Proper use of color and attention to some basic rules of furnishing can multiply your family's enjoyment of a new home.

Here are a few tips on use of color, decorating and furnishing the interior of your modern home:

• Use one floor covering to tie together two closely related rooms in your home. Or, if you wish, use the same color if two types of floor covering are employed.

• Choose only those floor coverings that suit each situation in your home. It is wise to use more textured and darker carpets and rugs in rooms where they will get heaviest wear.

• In treating windows — especially large ones — be sure to blend your draperies with the outside of your home as well as with inner walls.

If you want to make your ceiling appear higher, hang your draperies from the ceiling down. On the other hand, if you want to make the ceiling appear lower, use cornice boards, balustrades and similar horizontal lines to create that illusion.

• When you want to make a window seem wider in your home, hang the draperies on either side instead of over the window.

• Be sure to use only those drapery materials in keeping with the style of your room. • When buying furniture, obtain only that which fits the scale of your room.

• Arrange pieces of furniture so they lend themselves to conversation groups. Don't place them so people pass between two sets of chairs, for example, or so you have to shout from one side of the room to the other.

• Along with that, place your furniture to permit easy circulation through the room. Don't break up natural passageways.

• Also, provide a variety of bright colors and textures throughout your room to make it more interesting.

• After placing your furniture, make use of accessories, such as screens, to help carry out the style of your home. Make yours individualistic.

• Pick up an accent color in the room with accessories and use plants to give your room a feeling of warmth.

• Finally, hang pictures so they form a unit with the furniture or within themselves.

Materials Simplify Repair Job

The home owner oppressed by a deep feeling of guilt because he surrenders to the urge to play golf or watch a baseball game instead of giving his home its annual spring checkup can forget about visiting a psychiatrist, reports Albert M. Creighton Jr., president of Devcon Corp., Danvers, Mass.

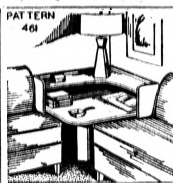

"Guilt feelings magically disappear," Creighton said, "when the home owner realizes that he can take care of minor home repairs and still take part in his favorite outdoor activity."

Creighton, whose firm produces a complete line of home and industrial repair materials, believes that spring repairs would not be neglected if the public were more aware of the large variety of simple home repair materials available today.

Devcon, for example, manufactures materials which may be used to repair gutters, downspouts, storm doors, windows, lawnmowers, plastic swimming pools and other flexible items.

Almost every hardware store — or the hardware sections of department and chain stores — carries a complete line of these modern materials. Usually mounted in plastic bubbles on display cards, they cost little and may be used to repair anything from concrete floors to radiators, pipes, sinks, automobile mufflers, exhaust pipes, fenders, tile, china, wood, glass, steel, aluminum, rubber, and even clothing.

In many cases, these tough do-it-yourself materials form bonds which are stronger than the material being mended. They make permanent repairs, won't harden or shrink and are designed so that anyone can use them easily and effectively.

A corner table provides space for a lamp, books, magazines and other articles — all within reach of chair or sofa. Pattern 461, which gives directions and actual-size cutting guides for making this table, will be mailed for 35¢. This pattern also is in the Small Household Furniture Packet No. 10 which contains four full-size patterns all for $1.

Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Process Makes Darkened Shade Brighter Fast

QUESTION: We have a silk lamp shade which has darkened generally, although there are no specific stains on it. How can we clean it?

ANSWER: Using a clean feather duster or clean cloth, remove all dust from the shade. Place it in a large container or tub of lukewarm suds and lift it up and down 20 or 30 times.

Rinse with clear lukewarm water. Blot with a terry towel or similar cloth. Stand it about two feet from an electric fan and let it stay there for about a day.

Do not attempt to dry it in the sunlight or near heat. Before beginning the dunking procedure in the lukewarm suds, be sure any trimming on the shade is securely attached.

One Bathroom Creates Problems

One of the principal causes of frayed tempers in the home is the family stampede to the single bathroom.

By combining two powder rooms with a third enclosure for the ceramic tile bathtub-shower, either powder room becomes a full fledged bath when used with the adjacent bathtub and shower.

Where possible one of the powder rooms should serve the master bedroom, the second being entered from a common hallway to other bedrooms and living quarters.

Keep Water Off

Hard Maple Floor

Never scrub a Northern hard maple floor with water. Properly finished at the time of installation, the maple floor can be kept clean with a soft brush, dry mop or cloth.

If the floor is soiled or spotted, rub with a mop or cloth slightly moistened with the penetrating seal you used in the original finish treatment.

Kept-Up Home Easy to Live In, Easier to Sell

"A man should keep his friendships in constant repair," Samuel Johnson, the English author, once said. To this, someone might add, "and his home, too."

Anyone who has ever tried to sell a house knows how important it is to have it in good condition.

A properly maintained home is more fun to live in — and easier to sell if you decide to move.

Of course there are all sorts of chores you can perform to keep your house in tip-top shape. Periodic repainting, for example.

The best idea is to equip your home with low maintenance materials, such as ceramic tile. Real tile is ideal for kitchen counters and bathroom walls and floors because it never needs to be painted or polished.

Only care it requires is an occasional quick wipe with a damp cloth.

Bellydancer Muscles Pupils From Squirming Ringsiders

By EARL WILSON

Miss Nai Bonet, the prima bellyrini of Broadway has the problem every night of getting some gentleman customer out of the audience at Lou Black's at the Taft to be her bellydancer pupil.

"You're my Sultan and I'm your slave," Nai tells the chap — doing a few belly tosses — then she asks him his name. Whether it's Fred, Sam, Cliff, Bruce or Irving, Nai says, "In my country, that means 'Passionate Lover'."

A few nights ago, a male pupil wound up his lesson by trying to kiss her, whereupon Nai said, "It means 'Passionate Lover' in my country — not in YOUR country!"

Nai (who pronounces it like "Nigh"), is 23, 5'6, and gorgeous, and she stands out from most of today's bellydancers like Gypsy Rose Lee stood out among the strippers. She sways around town swathed in mink, she smokes cigarettes through a long jeweled holder, she wears gold beaded gowns that caress a sensational figure, she possesses what other girls class "class" and she's never vulgar. Actually, she says, she doesn't really smoke cigarettes.

WILSON

Nai, who was born in Saigon, and reared in Brooklyn, the Bronx, Yorkville and Yonkers, so enchanted the Gag Writers Institute when she appeared before them that they named her Belly of the Year. However, Nai doesn't consider bellydancing "the end," if you'll pardon the expression.

"I'm trying to improve myself in ballet," she says.

Darryl Zanuck's scouts have their eyes popping out over her lush, long, black-haired, slightly Oriental look . . . four smaller picture companies want her . . . she's already established as the girl who taught Shirley MacLaine to bellydance in "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Jill St. John's best heat, a ski instructor, went back to Norway to serve a year in the army . . . Norman Mailer saw his new book displayed at the Cafe Renaissance 48 and exclaimed: "Well, somebody here has great taste!"

Sidney Lumet flew from N.Y. to Cannes for the showing of "The Hill," returned next day to start filming "The Group." Stan Musial revealed one of his great thrills at Eddie Condon's he'll address an FBI graduating class . . . Co-producer Bob Weiner went to England to arrange a London company of "What Makes Sammy Run?"

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "He who has a sharp tongue cuts his own throat." Newkirk (Okla.) Herald-Journal.

EARL'S PEARLS: Behind every successful man is a fellow who claims he once went to school with him — Quote.

Boris Karloff, 77, has a new "lifetime" contract with American-Int'l Films. He noted: "Every time I sign a new contract, the small print seems to get smaller." . . . That's earl, brother.

Homage Paid at JFK Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — A brother and sister of President John F. Kennedy visited his grave in Arlington National Cemetery today on this 48th anniversary of his birth.

Flowers from his widow and from President Johnson also were placed at the grave as the Memorial Day weekend started. Mrs. Kennedy sent a basket of yellow flowers.

A short time earlier, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver and his wife, a sister of the late president, had paid their respects.

Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clinton, President Johnson's military aide, placed a presidential wreath at the grave as a higher sounding Taps in the distance.

Eight Perish in Crash of Private Plane

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A twin-engine private plane crashed and burned to day, killing its eight occupants, police reported.

The craft, hit in a gully six minutes after taking off from Orange County Airport at near-by Costa Mesa, police said.

Ernest Laurin said the plane was registered to Richard G. Kennedy of Pasadena, Calif.

There were no survivors and no immediate indication of the victims' identities or destination, Laurin said. He said the Beechcraft was consumed by flames.

A witness said the plane sounded as if it were having engine trouble. The craft hit a power line before plunging to earth, police said.

The crash site, in a brushy, hilly area, was about three-quarters of a mile north of U.S. 101 and three-quarters of a mile south of the Ford Aeronautics plant, which manufactures missile parts.

The advance of 25 cents to $1 for the week was the fifth consecutive weekly gain and tenth in the last eleven weeks. The price averaged about $27.25, up 48 cents from the previous week. A year ago, the average was $20.29.

Spring slaughter lambs closed mostly 50 cents higher and at their highest level in more than seven years.

Everyone Over 65 Advised to Ask for Social Security

Persons over 65 should apply for Social Security, even if they are still working, according to William E. LaRocca, Pontiac district manager of the Social Security Administration, 35 E. Huron.

In many cases some benefits can be paid even while the worker is still employed.

The widespread impression that earning over $1,200 in a year bars a person from receiving payments is incorrect, LaRocca explained.

An application filed with the Social Security Office will prevent any possible money loss.

Social Security benefits amounting to $4,270,372 a month are being paid to 54,740 people in Oakland County, LaRocca reports.

Latest available figures show the average retired worker in the county receives $91.56 a month, compared to a national average of $77.57.

RECEIVE BENEFITS About 27,000 retired workers and 2,300 disabled workers receive $2,728,188 of the total, LaRocca said.

The balance represents payments to dependents of retired and disabled workers, and to survivors of workers who have died.

The number of beneficiaries increased 5.5 per cent and the amount paid increased 6.5 per cent during the past year.

Retirees in Oakland County receive higher average benefits than those in any other county in Michigan.

ENTIRE STATE In the entire state, 808,462 persons are drawing $59,700,576 a month, LaRocca said, and benefits for 1965 are expected to exceed $750 million.

LaRocca expects an increase in retirements after September, when the new UAW-CIO contracts regarding retirement benefits go into effect at General Motors.

The local office is receiving calls daily, asking for information about the terms of the revised GM contract.

STEER PRICES Slaughter steer prices were highest on Friday when some strictly prime grade brought $30.75, the best in more than two years. On Wednesday, the same grade topped at $30.25, also a high since January 1963.

The advance of 25 cents to $1 for the week was the fifth consecutive weekly gain and tenth in the last eleven weeks. The price averaged about $27.25, up 48 cents from the previous week. A year ago, the average was $20.29.

Queen Begins Return Home

W. German Citizens in Rousing Send-Off

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Two West German destroyers escorted the British royal yacht Britannia down the Elbe River to the sea today on the first stage of Queen Elizabeth II's return to her homeland.

The destroyers accompanied the yacht to the limit of Germany's territorial waters to fire a final 21-gun salute to the queen before turning back.

The queen's 11-day visit to West Germany was the first any reigning British monarch has paid to this country in 56 years.

The citizens of Hamburg, Germany's "most English" city, gave the British queen and her husband, Prince Philip, a rousing sendoff yesterday.

In a week and a half, the queen covered West Germany from Munich in the south through the industrial Ruhr to this great seaport. She got a look at every aspect of German life from grand opera to soccer football.

RELATIVES Elizabeth spent last weekend with her husband's three sisters, all of whom married German noblemen.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard hailed the visit as confirming the ultimate reconciliation of the British and German peoples after two bitter wars in less than half a century.

The queen was welcomed by huge crowds everywhere she went. Millions of persons here and in British spent hours each day watching television coverage of the royal tour.

"The press, radio and television have made it possible for a great many people in both our countries, and beyond, to share the pleasure and the friendliness of the last 10 days," Elizabeth said in a farewell toast to President Heinrich Lübke last night.

She said she hoped the visit would encourage a better understanding of the need for European solidarity.

Beware of Hair Snarlers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Wig snatchers are becoming a hairy problem for Atlanta police.

Sgt. W. A. Jones said Friday that thieves are yanking wigs off both men and women.

Mixed Activity Noted for Week in Bond Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Activity and price movements on the nation's bond markets were mixed during the past week.

Corporate bond prices sagged, treasury bond prices were mixed and municipal bond prices remained about the same.

The Federal Reserve System stepped into the market to buy government bonds — a move it does not make often. The system account at the end of the fiscal week Wednesday showed the system as a buyer of some $39.4 million.

The government activity resulted in more price advances than declines on the treasury bond list. Of the 40 issues, 17 marked price advances, 11 declined in price and 12 were unchanged.

Of 477 corporate bond issues traded during the week 110 advanced in price, 246 declined and the remainder were unchanged.

Volume for the week totaled a par value of $48.13 million, compared to $51.49 million the previous week.

'Father Knows Best' in 6th Rerun

Jane Wyatt Reaps Residuals

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — It has been five years since Jane Wyatt cooked her last meal for the Anderson family, and still the residuals for "Father Knows Best" keep rolling in.

Jane is living testimony of the benefits of having a successful television series. She still gets a regular, sizable check for her six years of service to "Father Knows Best," and this pleasant practice may well continue for years to come.

"I'm now getting paid for the sixth rerun — think of that!" says Jane exuberantly. "After we went off the air, the show ran for three years in prime time, and for two years it has been playing every day on the network. It's also playing all over the world."

For such blessings Jane can naturally look back on the series with great fondness. But upon reflection she had to admit that doing a series for six years is not without its hazards.

"SHEER JOY!"

"The first year was sheer joy," she recalled. "The second year was when the problems started to set in. But we licked them and the third year was smooth going. Fatigue began to set in during the fourth year. We got through the fifth year only because we all thought it would be the last. The sixth? Pure hell."

The trouble with the show was inherent in its very nature, she explained.

"Being a family show, we all had to stick around," she said. "Even though each story was centered on one of the five members of the family, I always had to be there to deliver such lines as 'Eat your dinner, dear,' or, 'How did you do in school today?' We got along fine, but after the first few years it's really difficult to have to face the same people day after day."

The series finally expired out of sheer exhaustion, said Jane. The three kids were crashing into adulthood, and plots began to have a reminiscent ring. All agreed it was time to quit. The final count: 207 half-hour episodes, about the equal of 75 feature movies.

Jane has now returned to the big screen, playing Maureen O'Sullivan's "close friend" in "Never Too Late." It's a bit of a wrench, but the technique is coming back to her.

Jane, whose movie career dates back to "Lost Horizon" and before, is learning to adjust.

Land Rezoning Marks Agenda

Main Items Tuesday of Waterford Board

Proposed rezoning of three parcels of land will be considered Tuesday night by the Waterford Township Board.

The regularly scheduled Monday night meeting was shifted to Tuesday because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Rezoning from single family residential to residential transfer park is sought for an area fronting on Pontiac Lake Road west of Airport.

Also to be considered are requests to rezone the proposed Lake Oakland Shores subdivision from recreational to single family residential and property on Hatchery, extending to Saginaw Trail, from commercial to manufacturing.

In other action, the board will consider amending the township carnival ordinance to require mechanical inspection of rides.

CARNIVAL PERMIT
It also will act on a request for a carnival permit June 20 to 26 at the Spartan shopping center.

The board will consider a request for the transfer of a beer and wine license at 4494 Clinemile from Clara M. and Zina Tremblay to Edward White.

Action to advertise for bids on the renewal of employee workmen's compensation and liability insurance also is expected.

Space Gun Will Propel Astronaut

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When astronaut Edward H. White II floats away from the Gemini 4 spacecraft, he will use a space gun to try to move within 20 feet of an orbiting, spent rocket. It will be the world's first rendezvous in space.

The dramatic additions to the flight plan of the Gemini 4 — following quickly the announcement that White will leave his craft — were announced yesterday by a panel of space agency officials.

"If we are successful," said Dr. George E. Mueller, acting director of the Gemini program, "we will have done something the Russians have not tried, although I am sure they have the capability."

At Pad 19 in the Cape Kennedy complex, technicians unscrewed the Gemini spacecraft from its perch on the nose of a nine-story-tall Titan 2 rocket, replaced a faulty battery, and remated the two.

The battery must be checked out, but officials said that barring further difficulty, Gemini 4 would lift off on time next Thursday morning.

SIMULATED MISSION

Space buddies White and James A. McDivitt, both Air Force majors, planned to run through a simulated mission today. They will don their all-very space suits, climb into the spacecraft and run through highlights of their scheduled four-day mission.

Mueller described this sequence after Gemini 4 slides onto orbital path during the actual trip:

After separation of the spacecraft from the second-stage booster, six minutes after launch, command pilot McDivitt will hold a tight formation with the spent rocket, trailing it by about 300 feet.

During first orbit, the astronauts will depressurize the cabin while "prepurifying" their space suits. McDivitt will maneuver the 7,600-pound spacecraft to within 25 feet of the burned-out rocket.

White will open his cabin hatch and stand. Then as he (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

City Coed Dies in Fiery Crash

An 18-year-old Pontiac girl was one of four Michigan State University students who died in East Lansing early today when their small foreign car "virtually exploded" after a collision with a larger vehicle.

Killed in the fiery crash were: Nancy J. Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward, 285 Starr; Lars W. Johnson, 21, of Grand Rapids, the driver; Richard McCleary, 20, of Webster, N. Y.; and Eileen Nelson, 19, of Flint.

The crash raised Michigan's highway death toll to nine early in the Memorial Day Weekend.

Michigan State Police said following the collision, the small car flipped over on its top and skidded 110 feet along the highway, bursting into flames.

Ingham County Coroner Dorr Hoffmeyer said all four victims died of burns. The car had turned left onto M78, a four-lane highway, and into the path of a larger auto, officers said.

Miss Ward was a 1964 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, where she was active in the girls' choir, the Future Teachers' Association and cheerleading.

SORORITY PLEDGE

She was a member of the local chapter of the National Honor Society, and as a freshman at MSU, had just pledged Delta Gamma sorority.

Other traffic victims thus far this weekend:

Thelma Wells, 52, of Hazel Park was killed today when her auto hit a utility pole in Redford Township, Wayne County.

Edmon Jester, 64, of Detroit died today after being struck by a hit-run driver while walking in Detroit.

Dale Emon Simmons, 16, of Fulton County, Ohio, died yesterday when his car hit a tree in Morenci, Mich. State police said Simmons attempted to turn a corner at high speed and lost control of his auto.

Clarence Wilson, 45, of Garden City was killed late yesterday when his car hit a tree in Plymouth Township, Wayne County.

Everette Glen Sitsworth, 19, of Decatur, was killed yesterday when he was hit by a vehicle while riding his bicycle on M40 near Paw Paw.

Winds today are from the west and northwest at 8 to 15 miles an hour. They will become southwesterly tonight, then northwesterly at 10 to 18 miles an hour by tomorrow afternoon. This morning in Pontiac, 42 was the low mercury reading. The recording at 1 p.m. was 53.

A SPACE "FIRST" — This drawing depicts a scene as it may take place on next week's flight of the Gemini 4 when a rendezvous will be attempted by U.S. astronauts with the booster that put them into orbit. At left is the Gemini capsule which has been slowed to let the spent booster (right) catch up. The astronaut maneuvers with one hand on his lifeline, the other holding a pressure gun that helps control his space movements.

House Approves Tax Measure

LANSING (AP) — The House voted yesterday to raise taxes on business, lower it on beer and impose a new levy on real estate transactions.

"And we still came up $33-million short of the new revenue we will need in the next two years," said Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, at the end of a scrambling, 11-month "fiscal reform" session in which an $83-million use tax on services was buried and an attempt to revive a statewide personal and corporate income tax failed.

The action came as the deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin approached.

A Democratic-sponsored bill to replace the business activities tax with a net income tax was approved 74-9 and sent to the Senate while most Republicans sat by and watched.

NOT ADEQUATE

They praised it as a partial—but not adequate—solution to the state's tax problems. Twenty-one of the 37 Republicans refrained from voting on the tax—which would produce an estimated $82-million in its first full year of operation.

The real estate transfer tax — the second element in the Democratic "start on fiscal reform" package—was passed 74-19, imposing a $1.10 levy on each $1,000 involved in real estate transfers. It would produce an estimated $2 million for the state and $2 million for counties.

A key element in the Democratic program — a four per cent use tax on all services but hospital bills — was shelved in the hectic session.

Reduction of the beer tax

Next week the House will try to pass a bill to reduce the beer tax from $6.61 to $4.10, passed on a nonparty line 56-30 vote.

NOT DEAD YET

Fiscal reform may not be dead yet, said Montgomery — the man considered generally responsible for the Democratic tax program. A Republican legislator, Rep. James Folks of Horton, has served notice he will try next week to discharge from committee a resolution which suspends the deadlines for tax and spending bills.

"If that resolution gets out next week — or if we have a fall session — we may find the courage to raise taxes to finance the spending we have approved," he said.

House Scratches Dog Racing

Even additional rabbits failed to make a race of it.

Proponent Arthur J. Law, Pontiac's Democrat representative, offered the inducements of reduced tolls on the Mackinaw Bridge and a 100,000-seat Olympic stadium near Detroit.

The odds didn't change, and Law mustered only 31 votes to bring his bill before the House. He needed 58.

Law estimated the state's revenue from the races would reach $10 million in three years.

Under his proposal, 45 per cent of the track take would be used to cut the bridge tolls, 40 per cent would go to the stadium fund, and 15 per cent would go to the counties in which the dog tracks were built.

Route Scouted for Moon Trip by Space Lab

Satellite Is Orbiting to Collect Data for U.S. Manned Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An interplanetary laboratory named Imp 3 raced deep into space today to scout scientific secrets and chart radiation hazards along the astronauts' pathway to the moon.

The 130-pound "flying physics lab" shot away from Cape Kennedy at 7 a.m. atop a towering Delta rocket.

The booster's three stages fired with drill-like precision and hurled the satellite into space at more than 23,000 miles an hour.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours after launching that Imp 3 was in orbit and gave it the official designation of Explorer 28.

The payload was aimed at a great elliptical course intended to take it 130,000 miles from earth before it swings back as close as 120 miles at the low point of its four-day orbit.

SEVERAL DAYS

NASA said it might require several days to determine exact orbital figures.

Although this distance is only half way to the moon, Imp 3's sensitive instruments were to peer millions of miles into space to gather information.

The flight control center reported tracking stations are receiving clear signals from the high-flying satellite.

The only difficulty appeared to be that the payload angle to the sun was slightly off. Officials said this could affect data from some of the radiation experiments, but the problem was not considered serious.

THIRD OF SEVEN

Imp 3, which stands for Interplanetary Monitoring Platform, is the third of seven similar satellites planned to gather radiation and magnetic field data in support of the U.S. Apollo project to land men on the moon in this decade.

A major assignment of the Imp series is to determine if satellite instruments can be used to predict when great flares will erupt on the sun's surface, dumping clouds of cosmic rays with their dangerous highly charged protons into space.

All Trapped Miners Feared Dead in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A government spokesman said today there is little hope of anyone escaping alive from the shattered Bhori coal mine in eastern India where an explosion killed an estimated 250 to 400 men.

Mine officials sealed some air intakes in an effort to stifle the flames that erupted after the blast had ripped through three levels of the mine before dawn yesterday.

Flames and gases drove rescue teams back to the surface, with many exits covered up by fire fighters, any survivors have little chance of escaping, a government spokesman said.

The official acknowledged he was "taking the low figure" in estimating that 250 men were dead. Labor union leaders put it at 400.

The blast came at shift changing time and officials could not say exactly how many men from the old shift had left the mine or how many of the relief had entered.

Bhineswar Dubey, member of the legislature in Bihar State, where the mine is located, told Indian newsmen he believed every miner underground and all those working on the surface near the shaft were killed in the blast.

FORCE OF BLAST

One mangled body was flung 40 feet by the explosion and it was reported that a workman sleeping in a mine away was killed by a stone hurled from the mine shaft.

If a government is correct in its estimate that at least 250 men are dead, the Bhori colliery explosion would be the worst mine disaster in India's history.

Waddell, 62, has served on the city's tax board of review and the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. He was also a member of the board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

He was a member of Pontiac Rotary Club, Pontiac City Club, Pine Lake Country Club, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, Blue Lodge of Gardner, Mass., and the Detroit Consistory and Masonic Shrine.

Mr. Waddell was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Surviving are his wife, Annette; a son, Robert of Pontiac; a daughter, Mrs. Roland F. Wacker of Ann Arbor; one grandson; a sister; and a brother.

Parade to Honor War Dead

Pontiac's traditional Memorial Day parade will step out briskly at 10 a.m. Monday to honor the city's war dead.

The 50-unit procession will follow a route which starts at Huron and Saginaw, goes south to Water, east on Water to White Track and then south to Auburn.

At Auburn, the parade will make a U-turn and return to the front of city hall where a ceremony will be held.

Included among the marching units will be Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts. During the parade each boy will carry in his left shirt pocket, over his heart, the name of a man who gave his life for his country.

Brazil Chief for Dominican Peace Force

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The inter-American peace force in the Dominican Republic gets a Brazilian commander today, but the United States has made it clear it will retain tactical control.

Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim arrives today to become chief of the 21,000 U.S. troops, 1,170 Brazilian soldiers, 21 Costa Ricans, 250 Hondurans and 159 Nicaraguans.

But Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of U.S. forces here, said yesterday he expects to retain control over which troops to use and how they will be carrying out their mission for the Organization of American States.

Palmer called in an interview he will receive instructions from the processional will form there.

Rain Plagues LBJ's Visit to Home State

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, home in Texas for the first time in six weeks, is being plagued with bad weather.

Cloudy skies with occasional thundershowers — some of them heavy — were forecast today for the area of the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of here.

Johnson, who flew to the ranch Thursday night for the Memorial Day weekend, had plenty of weather troubles Friday. Because of torrential rains and a low ceiling, the President had to fly by helicopter to and from Baylor University commencement exercises in Waco, 120 miles northeast of here. He had hoped to make the trip in his Air Force Jetstar transport.

The weather also altered Johnson's plans for delivering the Baylor commencement address. He wanted to use a teleprompter for the speech, broadcast nationally by television and radio networks, but the necessary equipment got hung up in the clouds aboard a chartered airplane bringing the White House press corps to Waco.

Because of rains that caused flash floods in the area, the plane was able to land only after Johnson had arrived at the ceremony. He read a typed copy of the speech.

RAIN INTERRUPTS

Johnson's first stab at relaxation during the weekend also was affected by the weather. After the Baylor event, he flew to Lyndon B. Johnson Lake — formerly Granite Shoals Lake — north of here for an outing. But clouds hugged the ground there and rain came down in sheets.

OU Students to Study Spanish on Mexico Visit

Imagine an American college program in which all students are lined for speaking English. Imagine, too, 12 Oakland University students finding themselves 2,400 miles away in Mexico as the semester began.

Add to this the experience of learning a foreign language in a country where it's spoken and the result is a thumbtack sketch of OU's first off-campus credit program, the "Mexican Seminar."

The students and their instructor, William C. Bryant, assistant professor of modern languages, will spend three months in Guanajuato.

Living with Mexican families.

they will study at the University of Guanajuato.

INTENSIVE TRAINING

Most are taking intensive language training under Bryant, though the more advanced students are studying readings of contemporary Spanish literature.

All are enrolled in a Mexican history course taught by a member of the Guanajuato faculty. In exchange, Bryant will teach an English course to Mexican students.

The venture is the first program at OU in which a faculty member and students have formed an academic unit to study in a foreign country.

Similar projects are being planned for European countries, according to George C. Matthews, dean of the college of arts and sciences.

Local students participating in the seminar are Sharon Cleland of 2808 Desmond, Waterford Township, Nancy Petaja of 202 Winny, Avon Township, and Donald Welsh of 3729 Rutland, Troy.

Oil Worker Is Hurt in Plant Explosion

DETROIT (AP) — Robert J. Swatski, 30, of Lincoln Park was burned critically Friday night in an explosion at the Marathon Oil Co. refinery here.

Police said the explosion was apparently touched off by sparks from a welding torch Swatski was using. There was no damage to the plant.

Swatski was in critical condition in a Detroit hospital with second-degree burns over 60 per cent of his body.

Ferris College Grads

to Be Given Awards

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Distinguished alumni awards will be presented to three Ferris State College graduates at the 11th annual alumni reunion here June 13. They are Dr. Leo F. Duggan of Houghton, retired dean of students at Michigan Technological University; the Rev. C. Gordon Phillips of Detroit, retired Methodist minister, and former Marquette County Prosecutor George C. Quinnell.

Reflections

Each of us will celebrate Memorial Day in ways that touch us intimately. Soldiers and Sailors that fell in battle will be remembered, gloriously; fathers and mothers who fought the good battle for their children and society will be eulogized. Our every deed, act, attitude is a message to a yesterday.

MEMORIAL DAY

Each of us will lay a tribute of living flowers on the resting place of one who won a battle over enemies so vast that it staggers the imagination, a son who fought virus and won his battle, a daughter who won her fight with an illness that crippled, a parent who faced a life in bed, who rose above physical handicaps to make life a thing of beauty and repose, who gave peace to family and friends; we pay tribute to them as wayfarers on the one-way road of life.

A spray of living flowers is an emblem of everlasting strength, the last resting place is a shrine to greatness, with humbleness we express sublime faith in a Supreme Being and His Heaven.

Rev. C. Gordon Phillips of Detroit, retired Methodist minister, and former Marquette County Prosecutor George C. Quinnell.

Junior Editors Quiz on SLEEP

QUESTION: We all sleep—but why?

ANSWER: Sleep is a way in which nature insures that our bodies will have a chance to replenish themselves. While awake, a special group of cells in the brain directs us in our conscious activity.

But there is another part of the brain, lower down, which can turn on or shut off the activity of the upper cells.

This wise lower brain, symbolized in our picture as the little cell man, seems to know when the conscious parts need to be shut off, so it makes us drowsy and we tumble into bed. While sleeping, we use very little energy.

This allows the nerve cells to build up supplies of the chemicals they need to get us going when we wake up. We all need sleep; when young, children should have ten hours rest, when older, nine or more. Adolescents need from eight to nine hours.

Experts say it doesn't matter what position we take when we first go to sleep. Without knowing that we are doing so, we change our position several times during the night.

This gives a chance for all the muscles to relax. It is important that a sleeping person be protected from cold, because, during sleep, the body produces less heat than when awake.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch your behavior throughout a day. A person who hasn't had enough sleep is likely to be grumpy and cross. If you find yourself that way, get more sleep!
