Like a Small Tornado

Vandals Hit Pontiac School

By JIM LONG
Vandals hit Hawthorne Elementary School with the force of a small tornado last night, scattering wreckage in almost every corner of the building.

VANDALS RUN WILD — A food mixer lies broken on the floor of the kitchen in the Hawthorne School after vandals raced through the building, ransacking or damaging almost every room. Pontiac police are investigating.

Only a few classrooms in the school at 1400 N. Telegraph escaped the vandalism that spread throughout administrative offices, kitchen, gymnasium and hallways.

Splintered glass from windows and showcases littered every floor.

The break-in was discovered at 12:50 a.m. today by Pontiac policeman Richard Adams while on patrol.

The interior of the building was found in shambles after school engineer Lewis Anthony.

BUILDING LOCKED

The building had been vacant since 11:30 p.m. when it was locked by a custodian.

A kitchen clock stopped at 12:30 a.m. when its plug was pulled from an electric outlet.

Damage has been estimated by school officials at $3,000. Though damage was heavy, classes were conducted as normal today.

The office of the principal, William E. Neff, suffered the most extensive damage.

DOORS SMASHED

Glass doors and partitions were smashed, a fish tank broken as well as a duplicating machine. A typewriter was hurled through a glass window and into the corridor, important papers and records strewn across the floor.

The entire office was boosed down with a fire extinguisher.

A $25 transistor radio was reported stolen from the office.

Holes were stabbed in framed pictures throughout the building.

MACHINE FLOORED

In the gymnasium, a popcorn machine was tipped over and popcorn thrown on the floor. A handle was pried off a refrigerator and food thrown over the entire area.

The adjoining kitchen had its walls splattered with jars of catsup, mayonnaise and pickles.

A large food mixer was smashed when it was pushed from a table and onto the floor. So was a radio.

A mirror in the kitchen lavatory was in a thousand pieces.

Another fire extinguisher was used to spray the floor of the lavatory.

The school clinic had papers strewn about.

A mirror and lamp shade was broken in the teachers' lounge and furniture was overturned.

Pontiac police, who are investigating the vandalism today said entry was gained after a window was broken on the south side of the building.

Higher and higher the temperatures climb, even though only a degree or two a day. Spring is just around the corner.

Romney Eyes District Issue

Study Counterattack on 'I Man, I Vote'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney today made it clear his office is studying a counter-attack on "one man, one vote" legislative districting, should that be the choice of the Michigan Supreme Court.

In his last press conference before leaving for a Hawaiian vacation, he mentioned constitutional amendment and federal or state court appeals as possible countermeasures.

The State Supreme Court will hold oral arguments Monday and Tuesday on four plans submitted by the deadlocked Legislative Apportionment Commission, and a decision is expected in early or mid-March.

Romney said the main Democratic plan, based on a contention that the State Constitution's "equal protection" clause requires equal population districts, "couldn't possibly conform with the apportionment formula of the new constitution."

Last week, Romney said he did not believe a U.S. Supreme Court decision favoring the "one man, one vote" principle in Georgia congressional districts posed a threat to Michigan's congressional or legislative apportionment.

Father, Son Receive Top Jaycee Honors

It was family night for the Louis H. Schimmels, junior and senior.

The elder Schimmel, director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, received the "Outstanding Boss" award. He lives at 509 W. Iroquois.

His 26-year-old son was named key man of the Pontiac Jaycees, primarily for his work in promoting the recent Pontiac City Charter revision.

The awards were presented at the Jaycees Bosses Night dinner held at Devon Gables restaurant in Bloomfield Township.

Jaycee President Richard Fitzpatrick, in presenting the award to the younger Schimmel, said the charter proposal has been recognized on the state Jaycee level as "one of the finest programs undertaken."

Castro Group in Canada for Lard Purchase

$2-Million Venture Likely to Succeed; No Opposition Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cuban government purchasing mission in Montreal, Canada, is negotiating with U.S. companies for the purchase of $2 million worth of lard, it was learned today.

There were strong indications this major effort by the Fidel Castro government to obtain U.S. foodstuffs would be successful.

The sale would be the largest movement of U.S. goods to Cuba since the series of food and medical shipments used to ransom the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

U.S. officials have criticized other Western nations for selling "hard goods" — such as buses and trucks — to Cuba.

There are no U.S. regulations against the sale of food and medicine to Cuba—provided no export subsidy is involved—but the problem of transportation has reduced such sales to a trickle in recent months.

Many Cubans use lard as a spread—as margarine is used in this country—as well as for cooking. Like many other foodstuffs it has been in short supply in the island nation.

CANADA DELIVERY

The Cuban group has requested 20 million pounds of lard for delivery in Canada. It would be up to the Cubans to move the lard from Canada to Cuba. The wholesale price is 9 to 10 cents a pound.

Sources declined to identify the firms involved while the negotiations are under way by phone and letter.

Officials of the Commerce Department and State Department said they had not heard of the proposed transaction.

"This would be within the letter of the law," the State Department official said.

CASH PAYMENT

Payment probably would be in cash since the Cubans have money on hand in a Canadian bank.

Viet Nam Premier Claims French Plotted His Death

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh was marked for assassination today in a plot backed by French officials, the premier and strongman has told associates.

A spokesman for the French Embassy denied the charge and remarked that "The premier must have been saying this in jest."

The premier, 36, returned from the Mekong River delta where he escaped death or injury earlier in the day when an armored personnel carrier hit a Communist land mine.

Reports have been circulating in Saigon that a coup was being hatched against the man who threw out the military junta and seized power Jan. 30.

UNKNOWN TO U.S.

A U. S. Intelligence official said he had no information of a plot backed by Frenchmen. He said such a plot might be instigated by renegade French working without official sanction.

The charge came at a time when the U.S.-backed war against the Communist guerrillas is going badly and President Charles de Gaulle has called for neutralization of southeast Asia, including South Viet Nam.

Khanh has said he took over rule in South Viet Nam to prevent neutralization, claiming such sentiment was growing in high Saigon circles.

Khanh had visited the battlefield near Long Binh about 45 miles south of Saigon, where guerrillas struck yesterday behind a mortar barrage and engaged Vietnamese marines in possibly the fiercest fight of the month.

Tax Cut Starts March 5th

WASHINGTON (AP)—The historic tax bill is signed and sealed, and its big career of reductions will begin being delivered to taxpayers right after March 5.

President Johnson signed it into law last night and told the nation in a radio and television address it is "the single most important step we have taken to strengthen our economy since World War II."

Noting that John F. Kennedy had "inspired and proposed" the $115-billion cut—the biggest in history—Johnson hurried off to the home of the President's widow to present her and her two children, John Jr. and Caroline, with three of the pens he had used to sign it.

The tax bill, which the Senate completed final congressional action on yesterday by a 74 to 19 vote, will reduce taxes for 80 million individuals by almost one-fifth, on the average, by about 9 per cent for 550,000 businesses. The cuts are retroactive to Jan. 1.

BETTER LIFE

Johnson in his 15-minute address said the measure "will strengthen our economy and bring a better way of life to our citizens."

The theory is, as Johnson explained: "As you spend this money at the grocers or department store, the grocer and department store owner in turn will spend it for their own needs—and in this fashion, the money will circulate through the economy raising the demand for goods several times the amount of the tax cut."

All told about $900 million more a month will be fired into the economy to speed it up, enlarge it, create more jobs and provide an economic fortress for "the preservation of freedom in the world."

The President urged Americans now put this theory into practice, declaring:

NEW OPPORTUNITY

"If American enterprise responds to this new opportunity with increased investment and expansion—with new production and new products—with the creation of new jobs—then the tax cut will bring greater abundance to all Americans."

Then the federal government will not have to do for the economy what the economy should do for itself.

Johnson called the tax reductions an "expression of faith in our system of free enterprise" and for his part in the effort to keep "down government spending" he said he will send revised budget estimates to Congress to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Baker Probers Eye Caribbean Business Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two drama-packed hearings, the Senate's Bobby Baker investigators shifted their sights today to vending machine operations and to gambling concessions in the Caribbean.

Witnesses called by the Senate Rules Committee were Edward Torres, identified as vice president of the Fremont Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., and John Gates, a vice president of Pan American Airways and president of Intercontinental Hotels.

Torres has figured in testimony about the financing of the Serv-U Corp., a vending machine company in which Baker is a major but unlisted stockholder. Questions also have been gambling interests. The name of Gates has not been brought up in the public raised about whether he had hearings, but there has been a reference to the Intercontinental Hotels and gambling concessions in the Caribbean.

PROBE FORTUNE

The committee is investigating how Baker built up a fortune he has put at over $2 million while he was serving as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker, who resigned his $19,600-a-year post last Oct. 7, refused at a hearing two days ago to answer questions or surrender subpoenaed documents about his financial and business dealings. He said he might incriminate himself by doing so.

And at a televised hearing Wednesday, Nancy Carolé Tyler, 24, Baker's secretary and a former Tennessee beauty queen also refused to answer questions.

She too invoked the Fifth

Want Pisa Tilted Back

PISA, Italy (P)—The city of Pisa has asked the Italian government to spend more than a million dollars to tilt the Leaning Tower back just a little and keep it from falling down.

The 14,000-ton tower would be jacked up six feet and then eased back down on a new cement base.

No one wants to straighten the tower. But the 184-foot tower already slants almost 11 feet from true perpendicular, and the tilt has increased by a quarter of an inch in the last 45 years. Experts say that if this keeps on, the tower may not stand another 100 years. Over the past 45 years Pisan authorities have received thousands of suggestions on how either to straighten the tower or halt the tilting.

Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination. But she denied she was guilty of "any legal or moral wrongdoing" and appealed to the nation to keep an open mind about her.

DEFER DECISION

The committee deferred until later a decision on whether to recommend to the Senate that Baker and Miss Tyler be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year's imprisonment, a $10,000 fine, or both.

L. P. McLendon, the committee's special counsel, said he had hoped to have Edward Levinson of Las Vegas and Benjamin Sigelbaum of Miami, Fla., both financial backers of Serv-U as witnesses this week.

But he told newsmen that so far the committee has been unable to serve subpoenas on them.

'Retiree' Returns as Court Clerk

A courthouse veteran who everyone thought had retired to Florida is returning to take back his old job as Oakland County Circuit Court assignment clerk.

Presiding Circuit Judge Philip Pratt announced yesterday that Richard C. Smith will take over the post he relinquished in 1959 to Louis E. Fairbrother.

Fairbrother, an attorney, is resigning effective May 1 to go into private practice with James G. Hartick in Birmingham.

Smith left in 1959 after 23 years in various county posts to work on a farm near Ft. Lauderdale. He said he applied for his old job when he heard Fairbrother was leaving it.

EXPERIENCE

Smith, 49, was assignment clerk from 1949 to 1959 and previously had served as acting assignment clerk for three years.

He was the late Circuit Judge J. Edgar H. Russell Holland's court clerk from 1938 until beginning in the assignment clerk's office in 1944.

Judge Pratt said Smith's appointment to the $8,600-a-year post was approved unanimously by the county's seven Circuit judges.

Schools Grow at Rapid Pace

Postwar Babies Now at Senior High Age

The bumper crop of postwar babies is aging rapidly. In fact, the "babies" have reached high school age, according to statistics from the county school board.

Oakland County public schools report a total enrollment of 191,926 in all grades and special education classes, up 9,000 over last year.

Almost half of the increase (4,188) comes in the senior high school grades.

According to the official child-count, which is the basis for state aid, only kindergartens are less crowded this year.

BEGINNERS DROP

School officials say there is a drop of 216 children in the kindergartens, which places the total number of beginners at 18,832.

Other elementary school grades have sizable increases. The six grades have a 3,058 child-increase.

Junior high grades (7-9) have 1,997 more youngsters this year over last.

The eleventh grade registers the largest single increase with 2,287, while the twelfth shows a 1,603 gain. The total number of eleventh graders is 12,244, with 9,383 in the twelfth grade.

The total number of public school children enrolled in all grades and special education classes in the county is 191,926.

China Invasion Talk Revived by Nationalists

By ROY ESSOYAN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Charles de Gaulle's recognition of Red China and Formosa's split with France have brought the possibility Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists will step up their guerrilla raids against the Chinese mainland.

The effect also has been to revive talk of a small-scale invasion of the mainland—an action which would put the United States on the spot.

Experts here say the Nationalists have the military capability to attempt an invasion big enough to establish a beachhead on the Communist coastline.

They doubt the Nationalists could maintain a beachhead

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

across the Formosa Strait without American support.

GRIM CHOICE
Any active invasion attempt would confront the United States with a grim choice—to come to the rescue of the beleaguered Nationalist invaders, or to abandon them.

That's one of the last decisions Washington wants to make. But some Chinese officials here express fear that France may have set off a diplomatic chain reaction, and they feel their only hope of survival as a sovereign power is to force the United States to make that decision.

"We have an old saying," a high-ranking Chinese said. "When one is desperate one must risk all. It may come to that."

Officially, Chiang has been committed to an invasion of Red China since the Communists swept him off the China mainland 14 years ago.

U.S. ESTIMATES

American officials estimate the Nationalists could drop one regiment of airborne troops—about 3,000 men—on the China mainland without the knowledge of U.S. officials here. Given a full-scale invasion attempt, they could ferry about 25,000 men across the strait by sea.

"But amphibious landings are a very sophisticated business," a high-ranking American here said. "The Nationalists just don't have the facilities to supply a mainland beachhead, to provide air cover and to keep shuttling reinforcements and more supplies."

The Chinese Nationalists have proportionately more men under arms—600,000—than any other country. But Red China has an army of 2.6 million.

GUERRILLA RAIDS

The Nationalists stage frequent guerrilla raids on the China mainland. They claim to have established 12 secret bases in six coastal provinces—but these reports are discounted by independent experts. The guerrilla teams so far have numbered about 12 men each. The raids have been considered "throwaway operations" to harass the Communists, Few raiders return.

Chinese and American officials say the raids serve an important psychological purpose by tying down substantial Communist forces opposite Formosa.

It's 'Remember When' Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Memory is the passport back to a land that never changes—the past.

It is refreshing to the spirit to drink again from the fountain by remembering when—

You could tell Joe College by his coonskin coat and mandolin.

Every girl wanted to be the first in her crowd to learn to dance the fox trot.

The thing most Americans ate first for breakfast was a piping hot biscuit, drowned in calorie-loaded butter.

Security to a man was a big gold railroad watch and a thick gold chain.

Love was so blind that a fellow could spend an evening looking at pictures of his best girl's relatives in her family photo album—and still decide he wanted to go ahead and marry her.

The druggist had more patients than the doctor, because all he charged for was the patent medicine he sold.

NEEDED RELATIVES

The candidate who had no job but the most relatives was almost a shoo-in to be elected sheriff.

Before going to church on Sunday it was customary for a fellow to stop off at the neighborhood barbershop for a shoe-shine—and to hear the sports there brag about all the hellish things they'd done on Saturday night.

A man could achieve social status of a kind by learning to roll a cigarette with one hand—an old cowboy custom.

In a large family every child had his own special place under the dinner table to park his chewing gum.

DOG MOVIE STAR

People wondered what the country was coming to when it was reported that Rin-Tin-Tin, the popular film star, was being paid more than the president of the United States.

While collar workers earned more money than blue collar workers, and also prided themselves on the fact they never had to eat a liverwurst sandwich for lunch.

A rural constituent didn't care how his congressman voted—just so he sent a package of free seeds.

The height of devilry in grammar school was to steal a kiss from a squealing girl in the cloakroom after class.

CIVIL WAR VETS

A veteran was an old man with white hair who carried a cane and claimed he was a drummer boy in the Civil War. He also usually had either been patted on the head by Abraham Lincoln or held the bride of Robert E. Lee's horse.

It was predicted that if income taxes ever got any higher

Record File Spouts Cards

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Walter Depp, a clerk in the Miami Police Records Bureau, had a mechanical volcano on his hands.

Depp pushed a button on a new $6,000 filing machine. The machine blew its stack.

It spewed out 5,400 index cards, virtually burying Depp in a pile of paper.

"It was fun while it lasted," Depp said.

Pontiac Motor Division Keeps Pace With Times

Ground breaking within a fortnight for a multimillion dollar expansion will give Pontiac Motor Division the most modern foundry facilities in the automotive industry.

With the foundry area to be increased by approximately a third, the existing production installations and processes will be modernized and upgraded commensurably with the most advanced foundry concepts.

When completed in October, the enlarged foundry will cover 796,000 square feet as compared with the initial 247,000 when operations were begun in 1928.

The physical as well as production and sales expansion of the Pontiac division during recent years has been the outstanding industrial boon to the local area, whose every resident is directly or indirectly benefited by it.

We extend hearty congratulations to General Manager E. M. (PETE) ESTES, his stellar staff and loyal work force whose team effort has resulted in the top-rank position of their product necessitating plant expansion.

Antiquated Vote Setup Killed by Amendment

South Dakota recently had the honor of driving the last nail in the coffin burying the corpse of the discriminatory poll tax as voter qualification in elections for national offices.

The Sioux state was the 38th to ratify the Senate-approved resolution that now becomes the 21th Amendment to the Constitution. Illinois was the first state to ratify it, Michigan the eleventh. Approval of three-fourths of the Nation's 50 states are required to effect a Constitutional Amendment.

Five states, however, still impose poll taxes, unaffected by the Amendment, as a requirement in state and local elections.

Ironically, the poll tax was originated to broaden voter participation in elections rather than to restrict it. In the early days of the Republic, the voting privilege was restricted to property owners, and the nominal voting fee was passed to extend right of suffrage to non-property holders.

With the elimination of property ownership as a prerequisite for voting, the poll tax contradictorily became a means of restricting voting—particularly among Negroes in Southern states.

It is to the discredit of the five diehard commonwealths that they still retain the antiquated poll tax as a concomitant of their local elections.

We hope that in due time they'll see fit to abolish this last deterrent to the free and untrammelled vote that should be the heritage of every American.

LBJ Puts Aides Into Hot Spots

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, in search of better if not new ways to handle trouble spots like Latin America and Viet Nam, just moves one man in on another without waiting for resignations.

But Fidel Castro's Cuba still seems to baffle him, as it did President John F. Kennedy.

He was president less than a month when he decided to improve on the Latin American policy he inherited from Kennedy. Having decided, he moved suddenly.

He lifted Thomas C. Mann, 51-year-old Texan, from his job as ambassador to Mexico and put him in charge of all Latin-American affairs with the title of assistant secretary of state and White House adviser.

Mann then replaced Edwin M. Martin who served a few months off before becoming an ambassador in Latin America.

So far there has been no noticeable change in this country's Latin-American policy, but meanwhile the Panamanians rioted against Americans in the Panama Canal Zone, causing new trouble.

FROM BAD TO WORSE

In South Viet Nam, which this country has backed for eight years against the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam, the situation seems to be going from bad to worse.

On Dec. 14, the same day Johnson elevated Mann, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was heard from in a speech which got a lot of attention but contained nothing new.

Although Hilsman's province included Viet Nam, that day he talked of Red China. He said the United States thought its policy of "strength and firmness" would produce changes in China, now full of hostility.

Shortly afterwards came a change, but not in Red China. There was another coup in South Viet Nam, another change in government, and the increasingly confident Red guerrillas began assassinating Americans in Saigon.

OTHER SIDE PROGRESSING

This more than anything brought home to Americans the realization that despite all the U.S. aid to South Viet Nam, it was the other side that was making progress. Johnson is very sensitive to public reaction.

This week the State Department announced all matters involving Viet Nam would be placed under William H. Sullivan, acting as special assistant to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In addition Sullivan will head a new committee to examine and pull together American policy in Viet Nam. The committee includes senior officers from the State and Defense Departments and other agencies.

Tuesday, one day after the announcement about Sullivan Hilsman, a key official in the past in developing U.S. policies in Viet Nam, resigned.

'NOT POLICY ISSUES'

Hilsman said his resignation was "not related to policy issues" and the White House said he wanted to return to teaching.

But there is no indication Johnson is going to do anything new about Fidel Castro's Cuba or that there is anything new he can do.

David Lawrence Asks:

Will Tax Cut Money Be Spent?

WASHINGTON — The big news today is that the personal tax cut, amounting to approximately $8 billion this year, is at last a reality. But does this mean that the people will promptly go on a "spending spree" and pay out all that money?

President Johnson himself used the word "frugality" not long ago in talking to the nation, and it is just conceivable that the American people may decide to be "frugal" with a good part of the tax cut they will get.

The dictionary defines a frugal person as one who is "not wasteful" and who doesn't "spend freely or unnecessarily."

Private debt at the moment is the biggest in history. Many people owe money on various items they have bought on the installment plan and some are behind in their payments, either because of unemployment or other misfortunes.

Much of the money obtained through the tax cut will go toward the payment of debt. There are lots of people, too, who are trying to "save up for a rainy day."

There are children who will be going to college next year, and there will be other expected expenditures for the future which will cause the family to put aside the extra money obtained from the tax cut.

NOT CERTAIN

Thus, it is not certain that all the extra money will actually be spent. Saving is an important characteristic of many citizens.

Lots of people will invest their money in savings bonds, or put their funds in savings banks, where they can draw interest. Many an individual who has faced hardships in the past and gets some extra money isn't inclined to spend it right away on luxuries.

The best available statistics on past years indicate that spending in the United States usually amounts to somewhere between 92 and 94 per cent of the income, and this is equivalent to about two-thirds of the gross national product.

The news headlines refer to an "$11-billion tax cut," but this doesn't happen all in one year, and includes corporations. For the year 1964, the cut in personal taxes amounts to $6.1 billion.

60 PER CENT

The middle and low-income groups, with incomes under $10,000 a year, will get about $3.5 billion of the 1964 cut — 60 per cent of the total. There will be a temptation among these groups to spend the money for immediate necessities.

But in the higher brackets — the people who do most of the saving — it seems plausible to assume that much of the $2.5 billion in reduced taxes will be invested in securities or saved in other forms.

This, in the long run, should tend to make funds for loan purposes more plentiful, and, for a time at least, it could be that interest rates will not rise as has often been predicted because of the extra supply of money from the tax cut.

But there is something else to be considered. Large corporations will pay out in taxes during 1964 more than they normally would.

This is because they have been required to accelerate payments in order to enable the government to collect taxes on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. While the objective is commendable, the fact is that corporations will not get the full benefit of the tax cut until 1971.

LBJ Actively Considers Naming Envoy to Vatican

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is actively considering the appointment of an ambassador or personal representative to the Vatican.

The initiative in pressing for an official U.S. envoy to Pope Paul VI has been taken by Senate Assistant Majority Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, a Midwestern Protestant.

In laying the case before the White House, the Minnesota senator argues: "It is in our own self interest to have regular representation at the Vatican, which is an important point of contact for the troubled Middle East, Africa and Latin America."

"It is foolish public policy for us to deny ourselves this contact point at a crucial period in world history."

CATHOLIC ADVANTAGES

Humphrey, in urging a re-examination of "diplomatic relations," believes there are "certain advantages" to appointing "a Catholic layman of stature," rather than a Protestant this time.

"The religion of our envoy is not really significant," he told this writer, "but because of certain rituals connected with the church, a Catholic might have certain advantages there. At any rate, it is time that we quit worrying about the religion of a man."

"Now is the time to act," he argues, "particularly with the Ecumenical Council under way and the many changes taking place throughout the world."

"The Vatican is playing an increasingly significant role in world affairs since Pope John's outstanding encyclicals on world peace and social justice."

VITAL CONCERN

"The Middle East and Africa are of vital concern to us, as is Latin America. Russia and Red China are pressing their version in all these areas."

that we also hope to see accomplished."

Humphrey said he is in complete agreement with former Representative Victor Anfuso, now a member of the New York State Supreme Court, who last year made a House speech calling on President Kennedy to appoint a representative to the Vatican.

Anfuso, who still favors the appointment of a Vatican envoy, says he believes such a move would greatly strengthen our position in Catholic-oriented Latin America.

Chart Defense Plan to Save Lives

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara now has an "Improved Strategic Defense Plan," which, his computer machines say, could save 161,000 lives in event of a 3,000-megaton Soviet attack.

It would include: ● A 100-city system of blast shelters at a CROMLEY cost of $18 billion. ● An antimissile defense building program costing $18 billion. Heart of this system would be batteries of Nike X and Zeus antiballistic missiles. ● A $3 billion, five-year nationwide fallout shelter building program centered in schools and hospitals. ● A multibillion-dollar program aimed at producing a super-sonic long-range fighter that could stop Soviet bombers well outside the continental United States.

Overall, there would be radiation protection for 240 million people and blast protection for 130 million of the 240 million. Even without this protection, say the calculating machines, an additional 65.7 million Americans would live through a 3,000-megaton Soviet attack, equivalent to the combined power of 3,000 Polaris missiles, 3,000 Minutemen and 350 Titans.

But even with the protection of this four-way defense, McNamara's computers estimate 45.3 million Americans out of a predicted 1968-70 population of $110 million, would lose their lives in a 3,000-megaton attack.

McNamara's "go" decision has taken almost all available funds. Because the big ICBM program will move down the next few years, the door is open for adding several billion dollars a year to continental defense. This plan was developed principally to protect primary military centers, the military's industrial backup and the people, factories and government centers essential to the "earliest possible national recovery."

Way back in 1932 we started a funny little junior college. We have one rule—you're grown up. Now act like it!

We don't ask for high school transcripts until the students are about ready to complete their two years here. We have never had a straight "A" student. We get very few of that type from high school but most of these don't make good with us.

In addition to our screwball entrance plan, we have a lot of other funny ideas. One is that boys should hold jobs while in college. Many men earn all their way. If they have money we don't want them. And do they succeed in life—don't get me started!

You provide the $50 million and we'll furnish the land. We'll forgive the taking over of our idea.

Asks About Teachings of Missionaries

Since the Pontiac Council of Churches was formed I have heard that plans are being made to send missionaries to other parts of the world. Now, since the teachings of these churches are not the same—some baptize babies, some don't; some approve of alcohol, some don't—what will these missionaries teach?

Opinions Differ on Effects of Boston School Boycott

BOSTON (AP)—Education officials and Negro civil rights spokesmen differed sharply today over Wednesday's boycott in which more than 10,000 children stayed away from public school classes.

The Rev. James P. Breeden, a Negro Episcopal minister who was co-chairman of the "stay out for freedom" demonstration, said he viewed it as a "complete success."

But School Supt. William H. Ohrenberger said, "I cannot view this event as a victory for anyone."

Ohrenberger said the boycott served only to "alienate the colored and white children in our schools. Unhappily a color line is being drawn that never before existed."

The school department counted 20,571 pupils absent from the city's high, junior high and elementary schools, out of a total enrollment of 92,844, including an estimated 14,000 Negroes.

The department said absences on a normal day total some 9,000 or about 10 per cent, hence the boycott could be viewed as responsible for something more than 10,000 absences.

Last June 18, when the civil rights forces staged their first boycott to call attention to charges of de facto segregation in the schools, an estimated 3,000 pupils stayed away from junior and senior high schools.

Mayor John F. Collins conferred at City Hall for nearly an hour with four leaders of the protest, including Canon Breeden. Afterward the mayor said he was happy the demonstration was carried out peacefully. He invited the Negro leaders to meet with him again.

QUESTIONABLE EFFECT

Just how much effect the demonstration would have on racial problems in the public schools remained a question. A majority of the five-member school committee appeared unchanged in its view that, despite the Negro assertions, there is no segregation in Boston schools.

Nevertheless Noel Day, co-sponsor of the stay-out, said, "We can only wait for tomorrow and hope they will come to the realization that a problem does exist."

Paul Parks, Boston education chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, commented: "We do not look upon this boycott as a solution to the problem, but we are showing the

'FREEDOM SCHOOLS'

The youngsters who stayed away from classes went to so-called "freedom schools" that lasted the length of the normal school day. There were 37 of these schools set up in churches and halls.

In each one, the program followed a general pattern: Silent meditation, civil rights songs and readings of Negro poetry, then group discussions of Negro history and civil rights.

Safety Honors to Be Given at Luncheon

Certificates of achievement will be awarded tomorrow to the City of Pontiac and five local utilities and industries for 100 per cent participation in last year's vehicle safety inspection.

Dr. George Harkless, chairman of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic Safety Committee, which sponsors the annual event, will present the awards at a luncheon at the Elks Temple. Others receiving the awards for "noteworthy performance" are Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach, Consumer Power, Michigan Bell Telephone and Detroit Edison.

During the week-long voluntary program, 3,508 vehicles were inspected. Of the 406 rejected because they required some type of safety service, 140 returned through the inspection line and were approved.

Roughly 64 per cent of the United States machine tools in metal working are at least 10 years old.

UAW Chiefs Map Issues for Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Top leadership of the United Auto Workers went into its second and final day of sessions today to map demands for new contracts covering half a million workers.

Present three-year contracts between the UAW and Ford, Chrysler and General Motors expire Aug. 31. Negotiations will start about July 1. The UAW's 26-man International Executive Board will submit recommendations to the union's convention March 20 in Atlantic City, N.J. UAW President Walter Reuther has not indicated what demands he expects the union to make on the auto industry's "big three" manufacturers. He said, however, that he expects considerable concessions in view of the industry's profitable 1963 year.

A number of larger UAW locals have started a movement for earlier and more liberal pensions. The auto worker's pension age is now 65.

About 95 per cent of all Indiana's farm land is under cultivation.

Coin Knowledge Leads to Mint

A long-time interest in numismatics, the fascinating hobby dealing with coins and currency, reached a high point recently for Russell B. Robins, 3755 W. Maple, Bloomfield Township.

Robins, a senior vice president of the Jam Handy Organization, served as an appointee of President Johnson on the Annual Assay Commission.

The appointment involved a two-day visit at the Philadelphia

Mint. Robins explained, where the commission took up its time-honored task of inspecting the nation's coins.

"The commission dates back to 1792 and originally had control over coinage," said Robins.

MODERN OPERATION
"Congress now approves new coins, and modern machinery has made coin production a precision operation. But the Assay Commission still meets every year to weigh coins and determine their metal content."

Robins said the commission convenes in its own room at the old mint.

Besides examining thousands of sample coins withheld from recent production runs, the commission also observed the minting of the first half dollars honoring President Kennedy.

He explained that the commission consists of private citizens representing business and financial circles as well as numismatists.

Robins is active in Royal Oak Club, as well as American numismatic organizations.

Senator Quits Try to Force Testimony

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, Wednesday abandoned his efforts to force a criminologist to testify about an alleged link between the underworld and city officials.

Blondy said a brief telephone call to Michigan State University criminologist Orden Smucker convinced him that Smucker did not have specific Michigan officials in mind.

Smucker Monday told an interviewer that organized crime could not exist "if public officials weren't bought."

In Today's News From Washington

Johnson, Ex-Cabinet Aides Visit Kennedy's Widow, Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: A MOMENT—It was 97 days since John F. Kennedy was assassinated and to his widow's Georgetown home Wednesday night came a delegation of his former Cabinet advisers and associates, led by President Johnson.

A few minutes before the historic tax cut bill for which the late president, as Johnson put it, had "worked so hard, so long and had such faith in" had been enacted into law.

And for Mrs. Kennedy and her two children Johnson brought along three of the pens he used to sign it.

The President, accompanied by his wife, spent about 40 minutes with Mrs. Kennedy. He told newsmen the Cabinet group, advisers and White House aides had given Mrs. Kennedy a gift in memory of the late president—a gold tray with a coffee and sugar set engraved with the names of Kennedy's Cabinet members and White House staff aides.

"A little memento of admiration and affection," said Johnson.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk gave a speech at the presentation but he declined to reveal what he said.

"These things are hard to ex-

SATISFACTORY
The session was described as "satisfactory" by Ambassador Juan P. de Guaymas.

A new plan toward settling the bitter dispute was advanced by Panama's OAS ambassador, Miguel J. Moreno, at a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker at the Paraguan-mediation subcommittee of the Organization of American States.

TRADE INQUIRY: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is launching a major inquiry into East-West trade.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced Wednesday night that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be the first witness, March 12, in a series of public hearings designed to gauge the effect of the trade carried on with Communist nations by Western allies.

OTHER MEMBERS
Other Cabinet members who will testify are Secretary of Commerce Luther N. Hodges, on March 16, and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, March 20.

Fulbright explained, "We are going to try to get the basic facts on the growing volume of trade by our friends of West Germany, Great Britain, France and other countries with the Communist countries."

Propose Tax on Electricity

Money to Be Used for State Colleges

LANSING (AP)—A plan for taxing electricity to raise money for Michigan's junior and community colleges was introduced Wednesday in the House.

The bill, if enacted, would impose a tax of one-fifth of one mill per kilowatt on electricity distributed by utilities. The revenue would go into a junior and community college fund.

The tax could raise $10 million per year, asserted Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, sponsor of the proposal.

NOT CONSUMER

The bill includes a provision that would prevent the tax from being passed along to consumers either as a part of the charge or as a separate item.

It may be "considered as an indirect cost of doing business," the bill says.

Money from the tax would go into a fund to be administered by the Department of Public Instruction, which would distribute it annually on the basis of full-time students at junior and community colleges.

"Community colleges are designed to serve residents of Michigan almost exclusively," said Montgomery. "This fund is proposed to help them do their part in providing college opportunity to the tremendously larger college-age groups in the years just ahead."

Another community college bill was introduced by Rep. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood.

It would appropriate $2,267,000 from the general fund to be used as the state's share of matching funds for developing community colleges under the higher education assistance law passed in Congress in 1963.

Mack's bill was the last of some 56 bills which beat the deadline for introduction Wednesday, as the legislature broke all records for bills introduced in one session.

Cuba Sets Move to Negotiate on '60 Oil Seizure

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio said today that the Cuban government has taken first steps to negotiate with Shell Oil Co. over compensation for seizure of the firm's Havana refinery in 1960.

The broadcast, monitored here, said the initial move was made through the British foreign ministry in London. Negotiations will be conducted with the Anglo-Dutch company and not with the British government, it added.

The Fidel Castro government seized the $28-million Shell plant along with Esso and Texaco refineries after the three refused to comply with a government order to refine Russian petroleum.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose up to 100 lbs. or more. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. Thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.95 and is sold on this guarantee. If not satisfied for any reason, just return the package to your druggist and get your money back. No questions asked. Peaceful Demonstration in Olympia

Indians Set Washington Capital Uprising

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Hundreds of Indian tribesmen, contending the white man has violated ancient treaty rights, organized today for a peaceful uprising on the Washington State Capitol steps.

From 1,000 to 5,000 Indians—by estimate of organizers—are expected to assemble Tuesday at the statehouse near the banks of Puget Sound, where their forefathers roamed before the complications of fishing laws and reservation rules.

They'll come by bus and automobile for a mass demonstration to protest what they say is growing disregard of century-old treaties.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini will be on hand to hear their grievances.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Melvin Thom, San Francisco, a Paiute and president of the National Indian Youth Council, said it may be the beginning of a national campaign to protect Indians' rights and heritage.

The Indians will have some famous paleface support.

Joining their protest Tuesday will be actor Marlon Brando, an advocate of Indian and Negro causes, and Eugene Burdick, co-author of the novel "The Ugly American."

The Indians will present a "proclamation of protest" to the governor, but they said there will be no march and no incidents.

"NO VIOLENCE"

"We don't expect any violence," said State Patrol Chief Will Bachner. "I have worked with these people throughout the years and never have found any of them unreasonable."

The Indian protest was touched off by recent state action to prevent tribesmen from fishing with nets for salmon and steelhead on rivers named after their tribes.

The Indians contend the century-old treaties gave them the right to fish at usual and accustomed places off the reservations.

The state, armed with a recent State Supreme Court opinion, says it must restrict net-fishing to keep the fish from being wiped out.

The Indians also are embittered over a 1963 state law that extended state legal jurisdiction over some reservation towns, and in such matters as school attendance, welfare problems, and highway travel on tribal lands.

Sgt. York Better,
Still Listed Critical

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—World War I sharpshooter Sgt. Alvin York showed some improvement early today but his condition still was listed by hospital authorities as critical.

York, 76, and bedridden for 10 years, is suffering from lack of body fluids. He entered the hospital here Saturday for the seventh time in the past 18 months.

Dr. Guy Pinckley said York still is not coherent in his speech but said he "can be aroused from sleep a little easier."

York is in a semicomatose state, his physician said.

Father and Daughter
Born February 29

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Charlotte Stone, 8, celebrates her second birthday Saturday and her father, Charles Stone, 48, will observe his 12th. Both were born on Feb. 29 in leap years. They plan a big party.

Barnett 'Harassed'

Trustee for Evers' Fund

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Former Gov. Ross Barnett had a court-appointed trustee today to handle an avalanche of $1 checks destined for the family of a slain Mississippi Negro leader.

Barnett asked chancery court yesterday that he be relieved of a flood of mail which he earlier termed a "harassment."

Chancery Judge E. W. Stennett named Marvin E. Collum, vice president of the First National Bank here, as trustee of the funds.

An estimated 5,000 envelopes filled a corner of Barnett's private law office containing checks made out to "Ross Barnett, Trustee of Memorial Fund of Family of Medgar Evers."

SLAIN BY SNIPER

Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was slain by a sniper June 12 in front of his home.

Barnett said in his petition that he had "never been appointed as trustee of memorial fund of family as far as is known ... and he is unwilling to serve as such trustee."

He said the fund is the result of a chain letter. Barnett left office Jan. 21.

Top Prep Five Wins

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A tip-in by Cliff Foster as time ran out gave Lansing Sexton High a breathtaking 80-78 1/2 overtime basketball victory over Battle Creek Central Wednesday night. Sexton, Michigan's No. 1 rated Class A team in the weekly Associated Press poll, is now unbeaten in 15 games.

Freeway for Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department announced its approval Wednesday of an engineering report on a $26 million east-west freeway through Lansing. The 8.9 mile connector route will link up with I-46, which skirts the city on the South and West.

News From Around the World

Australian Gold Rush Dies as Syndicate Grabs Claims

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Eager prospectors staged a wild West gold rush today, but the electronic age denied them the most prized claims.

Notices were posted in Coolgardie, 350 miles east of Perth, of leases that had been surrendered in the rich eastern mining area. Prospectors jumped into cars and station wagons and drove to the area half a mile away to stake claims.

But a syndicate had stationed representatives in the field during the night, and other representatives at the registrar's office passed the word on the leases available by portable two-way radio. The syndicate's claims were staked before the stampede was in sight.

FIRST DISCOVERY

Among the leases the syndicate staked was Bayley's Reward, the site of the first discovery of gold in the field in 1892.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt has warned Britain, France and Spain they must stop trading with Cuba if they want to continue doing business with oil-rich Venezuela.

Betancourt told ambassadors of the three nations that if trade with Fidel Castro's regime continues, their ships would be banned from Venezuelan ports, their planes from Venezuelan airfields and investment opportunities cut off.

The president acted after the Organization of American States found that Cuba had tried to overthrow his government.

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government is studying plans to station a battalion of U.S.-built anti-aircraft missiles on Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu to take the place of a U.S. fighter-interceptor squadron to be withdrawn before July 1.

A spokesman for the government defense agency said today the plans are "in a preliminary stage. We cannot say anything about this matter until the right time comes."

GUARD AREA

The newspaper, Yomiuri reported that defense agency sources said the agency is planning to station a battalion of Nike-Ajax ground-to-air missiles on Kyushu to guard industrial areas from air attacks.

The newspaper said the missiles could be equipped either with nuclear or conventional warheads.

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow Jews have received government permission for the first time in three years to bake matzoh at a special bakery for the Passover, which begins March 28, Jewish sources say. For the past two years Jews have had to bake the unleavened Passover bread at home. This was difficult since kitchens were specially prepared for Matzoh and with the housing shortage most Jewish families share cooking facilities with non-Jews.

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian exports to Cuba totaled $16,432,672 last year, a jump of nearly $5.5 million over 1962, the trade ministry reports. Wheat and flour purchased by the Soviet Union and diverted to

Other exports included tallow, about $550,000; veterinary medicines, $582,706; baby foods, $275,000; seed potatoes, $275,000; powder, $929,000; livestock, $544,000; synthetic yarn, $363,000; meat wastes, $273,000.

Don't Yell for X Ray if Child Gulps Object

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"My boy had three fluoroscope examinations, one a month. We thought he might have swallowed a foreign object. Since then I have heard that fluoroscope examinations may make a person sterile, but X-ray doesn't do so." (F. M.)

Fluoroscope is X-ray. There is virtually no danger of sterility from the examinations.

The correspondent does not say what sort of foreign body the boy might have swallowed. He does not say what symptoms, if any, the boy developed within a day, a week or a month after the possible swallowing of the foreign body, that warranted X-ray examinations.

If the boy had no unusual symptoms the X-ray examinations were gratuitous, not called for, and probably carried out merely because the doctor hadn't the courage to tell the parent it was a foolish waste of money.

If the boy actually swallowed a foreign body, the probability would be that the object would be expelled via the natural outlet in 48 hours, more or less.

BEWARE HYSTERIA

When a child or anyone else swallows a foreign body, don't get hysterical. Remember, in most instances parents never miss the coin, button, or other object the baby has swallowed. It passes through the alimentary canal without any trouble.

If you know or strongly suspect the child has swallowed a foreign body, instead of calling the fire department, the police, an ambulance, or a plumber just follow these sensible rules:

- DO NOT give an emetic or a laxative or physic.

- Give a young infant all the ripe banana, mashed potato, scraped apple, or apple sauce and gruel he will eat, for a day or two. Give an older child a bowl of mixed vegetables such as cabbage, celery, carrots, green beans, spinach, parsnips, beets or beet greens, spinach, lettuce, and any fruit the child likes. This should be cooked not more than fifteen minutes.

The purpose of such diet is to provide a bulky residue which will collect around the foreign object and embed it in a comparatively smooth mass. Thus it will be more easily carried through the canal and evacuated.

In any case, my advice is that you leave to the doctor the question of when and what kind of X-ray examination is necessary.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be accepted by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1964)

Michigan Bell to Spend More

$5 Million to Build in Wake of Tax Cut

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced a $5-million increase in its construction and expansion program Wednesday within a few hours after Congress passed the federal tax cut bill.

"We are accelerating our construction program in response to the intent of the tax reduction, which is to stimulate the economy through increased business activity," said William M. Day, Michigan Bell president.

Day added in his statement, "There is no quicker way for us to reach the mainstream of the economy than through additional construction dollars which mean more hours of work for more workers."

One of the first results of the stepped-up program will be addition of 150 installers to the Michigan work force of Western Electric Co., which installs telephone communications equipment in telephone company buildings. It will amount to about a 25 per cent increase in the work force.

Day said Michigan Bell's enlarged plans call for construction of two new buildings and additions to 12 others in the company's system.

The combination of payroll, construction program and purchases by Michigan Bell from suppliers in the state will pump more than a quarter billion dol-

2nd Boat Show Is Set at Mall

Displays of Crafts From Area Dealers

The second annual boat show at the Pontiac Mall opens Monday with craft and equipment displays of special interest to Oakland County boaters.

"The type and size of boats in the show, as well as other items, are those that can be used on local waters," said Robert Witthold, Mall manager.

Witthold said 10 members of the Pontiac Independent Marine Dealers Association are participating in the exhibition which runs until March 7.

There is no admission charge for the show, which will be open in the Mall concourse during the shopping center's regular hours.

Approximately 100 motor and sail boats, along with an equal number of motors, trailer and accessory displays are planned. Outboard and other special exhibits have been entered by manufacturers.

Participating dealers are Montgomery Ward, McKibben Hardware, Harrington Boat Works, Pinter's Marine Sales, Cruise-Out Boat Sales, Oakland Marine Exchange, Walt Mazur, Lake & Sea Marina, Wardens Cycle Sales, Leon F. Irish Co., and Paul A. Young, Inc.

Waters Down Main Speech

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Horace Estey, president of the Louisville Water Co., attended a luncheon to describe his company's operations, but dinner was delayed an hour.

There was no water. A main had broken downtown and water had to be imported in jugs for the guests.

Estey revised his speech to include an explanation of why water mains break.

Scuffle Mars Play Opening

American Nazi Party Pickets 'The Deputy'

NEW YORK (AP) — The appearance of 14 uniformed members of the American Nazi party led to the only scuffle as about 150 persons demonstrated outside the Brooks Atkinson Theater where "The Deputy" opened Wednesday night.

Police were prepared for any outbreaks, such as occurred when the controversial play was performed in Europe. More than 100 patrolmen, some on horseback, kept people moving.

The followers of George Lincoln Rockwell, the American Nazi leader, wore the swastika insignia on their brown uniforms.

Paul Sternberg, a salesman, rushed into the Nazi pickets, who carried signs reading: "Deputy is hate. This is a hate play. This play is anti-Semitic. Jews mock Pius XII."

Police grabbed Sternberg as he tried to punch one of the Nazi pickets. Others who tried to join in were shoved back by officers.

Sternberg later told newsmen he was not for or against the play, adding:

"The swastika should not be allowed on the streets of New York. I went over there and punched one of those guys and I got hit on the hand and on the belly. What are they protecting those crumb for?"

Police did not make any charge against Sternberg.

NAZIS LEAVE

An hour after the play started, the Nazis left.

The controversial play attacked Pope Pius XII for allegedly failing to condemn Hitler's mass murder of Jews in World War II.

Other groups picketing included members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the "Ad Hoc Committee to Protest 'The Deputy,'" "Citizens for Mutual Respect," whose members handed out anti-Semitic leaflets; and eight "individualists" who said freedom should not be impaired.

U.S. Cyprus Envoy Called Back to D.C.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The urgent recall of the American ambassador for consultations in Washington stirred speculation today of a new diplomatic offensive to settle the Cyprus crisis.

U.S. Ambassador Fraser Wilkins was scheduled to leave today on orders from Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He is expected to be away from his post a week to 10 days.

Wilkins' recall coincided with reports that Cyprus President Makarios may soon demand a reduction or withdrawal of the British police force following his planned buildup of the island's police.

A top Western diplomatic source said Britain has no intention of removing its 7,000 troops even if Makarios demands such action.

BOTH REQUESTED

The source said the British troops originally were called in by the government representing two communities — the Turkish Cypriot and the Greek Cypriot — and it is questionable whether a government representing only the Greek Cypriots has the right to demand a British withdrawal.

Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, announced Tuesday his government is recruiting up to 5,000 Greek Cypriot "auxiliaries" to bring the Mediterranean island's police strength to 7,000.

The government action was expected to aggravate further relations between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities which have been warring over constitutional differences.

The Turkish minority contends that the bolstered police force will be used against it by the Greek majority.

SHAKY TRUCE

The fighting, which has caused hundreds of casualties since Christmas, has been kept to a minimum in recent days by the British security troops supervising a shaky truce.

Diplomats here have virtually concluded that negotiations at the United Nations in New York will not produce a solution.

With tension continuing to mount on the island, these diplomats speculated that the danger of an explosion would force the guarantor powers — Britain, Greece and Turkey — to intervene openly under the 1960 treaty and impose a solution.

It was speculated that this possibility was behind the sudden recall of Wilkins to Washington.

WANTS GUARANTEE

Because of Greek Cypriot fears that Turkey might invade to protect the Turkish Cypriots, the Makarios government wants a United Nations guarantee to replace the 1960 treaty. Britain and Turkey oppose such a change.

Turkish rejection of the proposed changes set off the current fighting which has created the danger of possible military intervention by Turkey and Greece. Greek Cypriots outnumber Turkish Cypriots 4 to 1.

Senate Votes to Air Proposal

Down Effort to Place Bill in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first day's skirmish in the Senate on the civil rights bill has ended in a temporary defeat for Southern forces seeking to strangle the legislation.

After more than five hours of sharp debate, the Senate voted Wednesday night 54 to 37 to put the bill directly on its agenda and not shunt it to the Judiciary Committee headed by a strong foe of the measure.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield surprised many senators who supported him in that vote by trying then to win unanimous consent to send the bill to Judiciary until March 4, next Wednesday.

This was blocked by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, N.Y., and Mansfield told newsmen today he probably would not renew the request.

SHORT HEARINGS

He explained the period through March 4 would be filled anyway by debate on a wheat-cotton bill which will be taken up before the civil rights legislation. And, he said, he had become convinced that a short series of hearings before the Judiciary Committee would be helpful.

Mansfield blocked the House-passed civil rights measure from going to committee, which would be its normal course, and asked that it be placed on the calendar. This would put it in position for him to call it up for debate at any time.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces, at once raised a point of order that Senate rules require bills to go to committee.

SEARCH LAKE — While Coast Guardman feeds out air hose, a diver enters Lake Pontchartrain yesterday in search of wreckage of Eastern Air Lines flight 304. The jetliner crashed after takeoff from New Orleans Tuesday, killing all 58 aboard.

Magnetic Equipment Used

Lake Probed for Jetliner Debris

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Navy plane carrying magnetic airborne detection gear goes up today on a sweeping search of Lake Pontchartrain for the main wreckage of a jet airliner lost in the big lake.

Two days of searching turned up only bits of bodies and small, floating pieces of the Eastern Air Lines four-engine jet which crashed Tuesday shortly after takeoff from New Orleans International Airport. All 58 aboard perished.

Jack Yohe of Washington, chief public information officer for the Civil Aeronautics Board investigating the crash, said the Navy plane would concentrate its search along an area

8 to 12 miles out from the New Orleans lakefront.

The search centered earlier about 20 miles north of the New Orleans shore after planes spotted an oil slick and floating debris in the area. The lake is about 30 miles in diameter.

CRASH SITE

Yohe said latest indications were the jetliner crashed some 10 miles closer to international airport.

The DC-8, with a capacity of 126 passengers, was on a flight from Mexico City to New Orleans at 3:01 (Pontiac time) en route to its next stop, Atlanta, when it dropped from radar contact.

George Clark of Fort Worth, Tex., regional director of the CAB bureau of safety, said, latest information indicated the jet was lost about seven minutes after takeoff.

The CAB said underwater closed circuit television would also be made available for the search.

Baby's Just Lovable!

Little Ol' Winemaker

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Two-year-old Susan Leigh Doughty dumped a bowl of grapes on the kitchen floor, removed her shoes and socks and started stomping on the grapes. To her mother, Mrs. James R. Doughty, she explained simply: "I saw people doing it on television."

Lady's Expecting Any Day—Maybe

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The African Lady is expecting a baby any day now—maybe.

If the blessed event comes off successfully, it will be an international zoological first.

For the lady—Lady A by name—an African elephant and her mate, Casey A, are star attractions at Kansas City's Swope Park Zoo. Zoo director William T. A. Cully says there is no record of an African elephant ever giving birth in captivity.

Cully says the elephant gestation period runs from 18 to 22 months. Lady A "could give birth any time between now and early May."

NAMED FOR A's

The zoo got Lady A and Casey A in 1955 when they were just four years old. They were named for the Kansas City Athletics baseball club.

Cully says "there aren't many pair around. Cleveland has a pair and San Diego and there's a pair at Basel, Switzerland. I don't know of any others."

Four Indian elephants have been born at Portland, Ore. and Portland's zoo director, Jack Marks, has been giving Cully lots of advice.

The only catch, Cully admits, is that it may all be a delusion. He just hasn't found a guaranteed test to prove an elephant is pregnant.

SE Asia Chiefs End Malaysia Talks

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The presidents of the Philippines and Indonesia ended their talks on the Malaysian crisis today.

A high source said they were in general agreement on the urgent need for another three-power summit conference.

The informant said visiting President Diosdado Macapagal and President Sukarno hoped the meeting with Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia can be held some time next month.

Rahman declared yesterday there would be no summit meeting until the three nations' foreign ministers met and did something about removing 200 from Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

MEET IN MARCH

The foreign ministers are expected to meet in the first week in March in Bangkok, Thailand's capital. Thailand was named by the three nations to supervise a cease-fire on the frontiers of Sarawak and Sabah.

The feeling in Jakarta is that not much would be accomplished by the foreign ministers because of the deadlock over the cease-fire.

Malaysia refuses to discuss a political settlement in its dispute with Indonesia until the guerrillas are removed. Indonesia insists the guerrillas must stay where they are until there is a political settlement.

Furthermore, Rahman has made clear the foreign ministers must take up only the question of making effective the Borneo cease-fire arranged last month by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

POLITICAL TALKS

Indonesia wants the ministers to take up a political agreement.

An outbreak of shooting in Sarawak last week was blamed by the Malaysians on Indonesian terrorists. Malaysia has built up its defenses on the Borneo frontier and has threatened to shoot down any Indonesian planes if they try to drop supplies to the guerrillas.

Indonesia says there will be an air drop but has not indicated when it will begin.

Informants said Macapagal and Sukarno will issue a joint communique tomorrow shortly before the Philippine president ends a six-day visit and flies back to Manila.

The Philippines is not involved in the Borneo guerrilla activities but has been drawn into the Malaysian dispute because it claims Sabah.

Indonesia contends the Malaysians were formed to preserve British colonialism in Southeast Asia and is trying to wreck the federation of former British colonies and territories.

Viet Offensive Fizzles After Contact With Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A massive military operation near the Cambodian frontier has fizzled out after heavy initial contact with Communist Viet Cong forces.

The Saigon government said three guerrillas were killed and two captured in the operation near Tri Ton, in the Seven Mountains region 120 miles west of Saigon.

One government soldier was reported killed and two wounded in the battle after several Vietnamese battalions moved into the area early Tuesday. The Viet Cong slipped away after the initial engagement.

SEIZED WEAPONS

Saigon authorities said government troops seized some Communist weapons and mines and wrecked a Viet Cong training center and 25 houses. Government troops ran into heavy Viet Cong resistance on Wednesday night near the Me-kong River delta city of My Tho, 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

A Vietnamese spokesman said government casualties were three killed and 76 wounded. Fragmentary reports said 26 guerrillas also were killed in the fighting that erupted when several battalions passed an unexpected Viet Cong stronghold.

Emerging from their fortification, the guerrillas opened up with heavy fire at the rear guard of the government troops.

The government reported a new case of train sabotage today near the same spot where the Viet Cong blew up a passenger train Monday and killed 10 persons.

The engine and two coaches of a train were derailed Wednesday after saboteurs removed a section of track 200 miles north-east of Saigon. No injuries were reported.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

THE MAN WITH THE PITCHER

"Go into the city," Jesus said to two of His disciples, "and there will meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him. And whosoever he shall go in, say ye to the good man of the house, the Master says where is my guest chamber that I may eat the Passover with my disciples? And he will show you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us." (Mark XIV:13-16)

From these cryptic directions, the two disciples found the room where Jesus was to meet with His twelve Apostles for the Last Supper.

To Launch Balloon for Studying Sun

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Plans have been announced for another balloon launching to study upper atmosphere conditions.

Weather permitting, a giant balloon will be sent aloft Friday from the National Center for Atmospheric Research just outside this east Texas city in what is called "Project Corona-scope."

Officials said Wednesday the balloon will carry a 1,300-pound telescope to 100,000 feet above the earth to examine the sun's corona, or gaseous envelope.

JOHN REES

Metalious Will Stirs DisputeHusband, Children
Get None of Estate

LA CONIA, N.H. (AP)—Grace Metalious, in life a controversial figure for her "Peyton Place," in death was at the center today of a new dispute—over the last thing she wrote, her deathbed will.

She left an estate estimated at $1 million. The deathbed will left nothing to her husband, George, or to their three children, Marsha Dupuis, 26, Christopher, 17, and Cynthia, 13.

Instead, the will drafted the day after she was admitted to a Boston hospital Sunday night, desperately ill with a chronic liver ailment, named John Rees, an English journalist, as the sole beneficiary. Rees currently is living in Boston.

Rees said at a news conference Wednesday night he met Mrs. Metalious for the first time last fall and had been collaborating with her on a book to be published in 1965.

HE'S SURPRISED

He said he was "completely surprised" that she named him sole legatee and executor.

As to her children, he said, "I am very fond of them and intend to make some provision for them."

The will was filed Tuesday in Belknap County Probate Court, and was challenged immediately by counsel for the three children.

The court appointed John Snerson, a member of a Laconia law firm which long had advised Mrs. Metalious on legal matters, as a special guardian to protect the interests of the children.

NAME EXECUTOR

The court also refused to allow Rees to act as executor of the will immediately. It named John F. Holland, a Manchester attorney, as administrator, and Boston lawyer John P. Cremens to act jointly as executor.

It was Cremens who drew the deathbed will for Mrs. Metalious Monday. She died Tuesday.

Cremens said Mrs. Metalious told him she was divorced from both George Metalious, father of her children, and T. J. Martin, a former Laconia disc jockey, whom she married after divorcing Metalious.

However, she and Metalious remarried after her marriage to Martin was dissolved by divorce.

Opinions Vary on Romanian, Peking Meeting

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Romania is sending a high-level government mission to Peking next month, but interpretations of the meaning of the trip varied according to the geographic location of the observer.

In Vienna, there was speculation that the Romanians, angry because Soviet Premier Khrushchev has blocked their plans to industrialize, may be preparing to throw their support to Mao Tse-tung in his campaign against Khrushchev's coexistence policies.

An announcement from Peking today said Romania had accepted a Chinese invitation "to exchange views on relations between our two (Communist) parties and between our two countries and on the question of the unity of the socialist camp and of the international Communist and workers' movement."

Heart Valves Replaced

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago hospital reported yesterday successful replacement of valves in the heart of a 24-year-old man.

Two of the faulty valves were replaced with artificial substitutes, and the third was repaired to function normally.

Mount Sinai Hospital said the patient, Dennis Mikolajczak of suburban Calumet City, is almost completely recovered. Tests showed three heart valves seriously damaged and his life in jeopardy. The faulty valves would not close completely and the blood was unable to pass through his heart adequately.

The hospital said Mikolajczak's weight is now 193 pounds and he has no trouble in getting around.

peaceful coexistence nor taking a stand against Red China's tough foreign policy.

STRAINED RELATIONS
Romanian-Soviet relations have been reported strained since a Warsaw Pact economic meeting in 1962 at which Khrushchev told the Soviet Union's Balkan neighbor it should specialize in agricultural production and de-emphasize its industrial program.

Such specialization by countries is the chief point in a Khrushchev blueprint for the European Communist bloc. The Chinese charge that Khrushchev's aim is to make the Soviet Union the industrial heart of the Communist empire while keeping other bloc partners in a backward agricultural state.

10th Success Marked for Titan Missile
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A 5,800-mile strike into the South Atlantic marked the Titan 2 missile's 10th straight success. The Air Force reported that the most powerful missile in the U.S. military arsenal achieved all flight objectives in Wednesday's Cape Kennedy launching.

Engagement Ring
Found in 'Garbage'

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—Several months ago Mrs. George Christopher accidentally dropped her engagement ring into the garbage can.

Recently she received from her husband a fancy package. Inside was a miniature garbage can, and in that was a duplicate of the engagement ring she'd lost.

A minimum of 2 million houses must be built annually until 1970 to accommodate the population growth, President Johnson said in his Housing Message.

Five Organizations Police the TV Viewing Content

(Editor's Note — This is the fourth article in a five-part series on pornography in the United States written by UPI reporter Harry Ferguson.)

By HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Television is the most heavily censored and the most inhibited of all the forms of art and entertainment.

Five separate and powerful organizations are looking over the shoulder of the man who is preparing something for you to see and hear in your living room.

In spite of this, as we shall see, television is becoming bolder and more candid. A program such as "The Defenders," whose heroes are a pair of public spirited lawyers, has tackled such controversial matters as narcotics addiction and birth control without being blown off the air.

But it is the exception, not the rule, and most television producers still look apprehensively at:

• The Federal Communications Commission, which has life and death rule over TV stations because of its licensing power.

• The Federal Trade Commission, which monitors television to be sure that the products advertised do not make false claims.

• The National Association of Broadcasters, which has its own code of ethics.

• The script continuity department, which each network maintains to see that no objectionable material gets on the air.

• The sponsors. These are the men who pay for the programs and many of them have firm ideas about what people should and should not see.

Then, of course, there is the general public which can and has killed programs simply by ignoring them. Television is a big, fat target for anybody who doesn't like what is being broadcast.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, issues periodic statements deploring violence on TV because of the bad effect it has on the young.

NOTES CHANGES

Charles Winick, in a study of television taste and censorship made for the fund for the republic, notes the changes that have taken place in the last 20 years.

"Television is becoming freer in its discussion of sexual matters... 'Man and Superman' was a sophisticated play concerned with sex. The 'Four Poster' frankly presented the relationship between a married couple over the years.

"Happy Birthday" suggested that one way for a young unmarried woman to get rid of her inhibitions was to relax with a drink (it drew adverse mail).

"Circle of the Day" dealt with a woman who had premarital sex relations, and with her husband who had fathered another woman's child (it did not draw any protests).

"In 'The Letter' the heroine of the man show. He tried to rape me." (No letters of complaints were received).

But he goes on to note the public pressures that restrict TV.

VARIED COMPLAINTS

"Among the varied interests that complained to one network over a relatively short period time were:

Dentists over showing a dentist causing pain to a patient, warehousemen because they felt that nine out of ten murders shown on the air involved a warehouse.

Gas companies on the use of gas ovens in suicide attempts, leopards manufacturers about leopards dealing with toupées... leather manufacturers on the presentation of juvenile delinquents in leather jackets.

Dry cleaners on the dry cleaners on television who leave spots on the garments, and waitresses about television waitresses who are hard-boiled and tough.

IN 2 YEARS

One manufacturer complained in two different years over the seasonal use of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" because he felt it was an attack on employers inasmuch as Scrooge was not an ideal employer.

Television is more sensitive to letters than, for instance, newspapers are because a definite trend in public opinion can doom a TV show whereas a newspaper keeps on publishing.

There is much talk about the "censorship of the ratings," but it is misleading. The shows that fail to attract a large enough audience to survive are not victims of the censor but of economic warfare.

A sponsor may be a man who contributes to the support of a museum or a symphony orchestra in his home town, but when he goes shopping for a TV show he wants something that will move merchandise.

LESS MERIT

Thus "The Beverly Hills" survive and flourish while shows of much more artistic merits are canceled for lack of a sufficient audience.

What censorship the sponsors do exert is largely to protect their investment. True or not, there is a story that the Ford Motor Co. removed a picture of the New York skyline from one of its shows because it showed the Chrysler building.

Such stories circulate through the television industry all the time, but the fact is that most sponsors don't care what kind of a show they buy so long as it causes enough people to tune in. The systems for rating the size of an audience have been under heavy attack in the last year.

An investigation by a congressional committee turned up evidence that some of the organizations that supply ratings are about as scientific as the ancient oracles who obtained information by examining the entrails of fowl.

But the television industry still guided by the ratings, and good shows and bad live or die by them.

Television is the mass entertainment medium that the movies used to be, and Hollywood figured the average mental age of its audience was 12 years.

Here is an old saying directed at persons who like heavy, significant drama: "If it's a message you're looking for, call Western Union."

JAMES OLIVER BUSWELL IV

Oakland University - Community Arts Council concerts for the 1964-65 series are set. Performances will be given from October through April.

Now in its third season, the organization which began on an experimental basis, is entirely self-sustaining.

Starting the series on Oct.

3 will be eight young dancers from the famed San Francisco ballet. Their program will combine classical dance numbers and contemporary works.

On Nov. 14 the De Cormier Folk Singers will present a concert. Their director, Robert De Cormier, was formerly personal conductor and musical director for Harry Belafonte.

This year the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the Oakland University Chorus and Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be in the evening. It is scheduled for Dec. 13 in OU's Intramural Building.

Nineteen-year-old James Oliver Buswell IV, a violinist, plays a concert Jan. 30. A student at the Julliard School, he has made a number of television appearances.

An extra in the series is a program of opera staged by David DiChiera, assistant professor of music at OU. This is a Sunday afternoon program, Feb. 14.

New York Pro Musica, an instrumental and vocal group presenting 14th and 15th century music, will play a concert on March 6.

World-famous Whitmore and Lowe, a piano duo, come to Pontiac for a concert April 3. They are among the few serious music performers to sell over one million records.

Arthur Whitmore is a brother of Mrs. William Vann, of Watkins Lake.

Concluding the 1964-65 series will be a concert of works by David DiChiera in the Gold Room at OU, April 11.

Full details regarding the series are obtainable through the division of continuing education, OU. Tickets now on sale are for the entire season.

'Y' Field Director Meets Local Staff

RUTH E. WEST

Ruth E. West, national YWCA staff member, will be the guest of the Pontiac YWCA March 6 and March 9.

She returned from Brazil in Nov. 1963, after serving for five years there as advisory secretary from the international division.

Miss West has been appointed to the central region field staff assigned to this area. She will meet the officers, the board of directors and trustees, as well as members and friends of the association, March 6 at 1 p.m. over dessert and coffee.

Before going to Brazil, Miss West was an advisory secretary to the YWCAs of the Philippines and in 1948-49 worked in China.

Familiar with this area, she was executive director of the central branch of Metropolitan Detroit YWCA from 1953 to 1958.

Latin Americans, Chinese and Filipinos living in the area are especially invited to meet Miss West. Those planning to attend are requested to call the YWCA.

Soda for Grease

A damp cloth and baking soda can be used to remove burned-on grease from porcelain enamel.

An August wedding is planned by Kathryn Anne Kesti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Kesti of Motorway Drive and Ronald George Yatch, son of Dr. and Mrs. George D. Yatch of Troy. She is a junior at Central Michigan University. After graduation from CMU in June, her fiancé will begin work on his master's degree in biology.

The nuptial luncheon was served by the Marion Simons Circle with Mrs. John Hawley as hostess.

Women Talk on Belonging

The meaning of belonging to the group was discussed at the Tuesday meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church.

The program was presented by the Pearl Baxter Circle with Mrs. Clarence Hamel as chairman. Also participating were Mrs. Carl Theorin, Mrs. Harry Goring and Mrs. E. H. Ruddenbaum.

The noon luncheon was served by the Marion Simons Circle with Mrs. John Hawley as hostess.

Chaperon Needed for Excursion

By The Emily Post Institute

Q A club to which my friend belongs is chartering a bus for a weekend sight-seeing trip to Washington. There will be about 25 young people in the group.

My boy friend has asked me to go along and I would like too very much, but my mother doesn't think it will be proper since it will be an overnight trip.

Reservations have been made for the group to stay at one of the large hotels in the city.

Wouldn't the fact that a group is going make such a trip entirely proper?

A The fact that you are going as a group does not in itself make the trip proper, and unless an older person or a married couple will chaperone the group, I agree with your mother that your going on such a trip would not be proper.

Q Another young man and I recently returned from a cruise. The dining room steward assigned us to a table with two young women for the cruise.

The dinner hour was from six-thirty to seven-thirty. These two young women always came into the dining room after we were seated. Was it necessary for us to rise when they came to the table?

A Correctly, you should have risen when they came to the table.

Q My father is not living and my uncle will take his place in giving me away at my wedding. Should he be given a gift along with ushers and bridesmaids?

A No gift is required or expected, but if you would like to give your uncle a small memento of your wedding, he will surely be pleased.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

'Normal' Person Wants Extermination of Others

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Demented people, young and old, should be exterminated. Bums, chronically ill and alcoholics likewise.

What good is derived from keeping them alive when money is so badly needed for normal people? I have made a study of social misfits and have seen many "rest homes" filled with county and state and patients who have been ditched by their families.

Nobody cares a hoot about them. Some of these people are completely gone mentally. Why keep them at the taxpayers' expense?

All people physically and mentally incapable of contributing to our society, should be done away with. Mercifully, of course.

This may sound hard-hearted, but one day this will have to be done. Sign me.

DEAR FARSIGHTED: You are not the first to sugar-coat genocide, nor will you be the last.

But if you are one of the "normal" people who would survive the exterminations you suggest—God help us.

DEAR ABBY: One of my hamsters got loose and we found her in the piano. She was caught in there and must have gotten pretty beat up because, when we finally got her out, she couldn't walk or stand up.

I think she broke her leg or her back, maybe. I wanted to take her to the vet's, but my big sister, who drives, thinks it is silly and she won't take us.

My mother drives, but she doesn't have the time. If this hamster isn't going to get well, maybe she should be put to sleep.

What should I do? I am 12.

LOVES ANIMALS.

DEAR LOVES: Call your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Ask them if they can provide transportation for such a case.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from Gordy's Wife, who said her husband didn't care for the potatoes she had prepared for supper, so he threw them at her.

She said he threw a "potato fit." She must have been one of those cool Scandinavian women. I would have thrown a "gravy fit" to go with the potatoes!

IRISH

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIKES TIM." Smile anyway. No one so desperately needs a smile as one who has none to give.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one today to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Women's Section

A Personal Plea for the Peignoir

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Open letter to Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor and special assistant to the President on consumer affairs.

Say it isn't so, Mrs. Peterson. Say it isn't so that glamour girls are has-beens. What brings up this matter is a newspaper item from San Francisco in which you're quoted as having told a conference of the status of women that a "new American woman" is emerging and you believe "it's about time."

"Gradually," you say, "women are coming into a new recognition of themselves."

"The stereotyped idle glamour girl in a negligee is no longer acceptable as a feminine symbol."

ASK MEN

Mrs. Peterson, have you asked any red-blooded American male about that?

Now, I won't quarrel with your word "idle." Nor with your observation that the new American woman has a "serious acceptance of her responsibility to be a contributing person to her society."

But, dear Mrs. Peterson, can't we contribute and try for glamour too?

Ask any girl with an ounce of the feminine in her and she dreams of coming home at the end of the day and slipping into something comfortable—and beautiful.

Maybe, it's only a dream, but don't take away any desire for an ermine peignoir instead of blue jeans... for a floating chiffon hostess robe waiting to make us elegant even as we fix the lamb chops and baked potatoes, help Junior with home work and wash hubby's socks.

LEAVE ILLUSION

Leave us our illusion that there's some of the siren in us and that the negligee is comforting too. Don't rob us of the feeling that in each of us there is a little of Marlene Dietrich, Audrey Hepburn and Marilyn Monroe.

As Walter Mitty had his dreams of accomplishment, let us women go on thinking of ourselves as fascinating, enchanting, alluring, bewitching, equipped with an irresistible and magnetic charm. (See Webster's definitions of glamour, Mrs. Peterson.)

Take away our urge to being.

Fashionettes Meet

"Ask the Doctor" a skit starring Mrs. John Menard was featured at the Tuesday night meeting of the Fashionette Club at the Adah Shelly library.

witch, to appeal? Why? Mrs. Peterson, that would be like saying to an eight-year-old, "no, Virginia, there is not a Santa Claus."

Think of the dire consequences if our glamour image were no more. Our morale would slump like a baseball player's batting average. ... gone would be our interest in going to the office or factory.

HIGHER UNEMPLOYMENT

With no feminine enchantment in office or factory, the men would be equally despondent. The numbers of unemployed would skyrocket.

Think of what else would happen to the economy. The multi-billion dollar beauty and cosmetics business which pampers us with the outer trappings of glamour would go into a decline.

No need for the latest hair style or color. No need for manicures or facials. No longer to dream of a week or two luxuriating in the possession of a beauty spa.

The fashion industry would go into a depression if its job was no longer to glamorize us, only to cover us. The at-home clothes division would fold immediately.

CRISIS

The advertising profession would... well, Mrs. Peterson without its promoting glamour for our everyday living have you thought of the crisis this would precipitate on Madison Avenue?

Let this new American woman you say is emerging have that serious acceptance of her role as a contributor, okay.

But let her be all woman too, believing herself a glamour girl—fascinating, alluring, enchanting.

Mrs. Peterson, the women—and the men—will love you.

Local Sorority Sees Japan

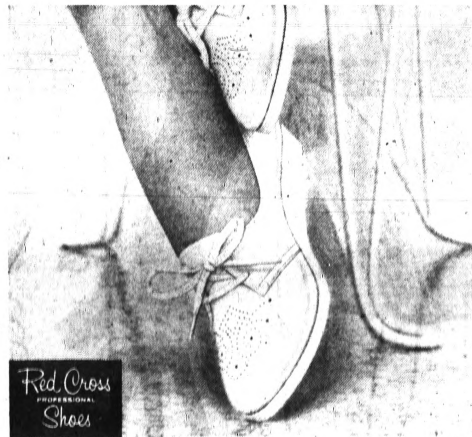

Merrill Petrie showed slides of their recent trip to Japan as Omega Mu Sigma Sorority members met at their Chokee Road home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ray Peterson was hostess along with Mrs. Petrie for the cooperative dinner preceding the business meeting.

Final arrangements were made for a benefit sale to be held March 13 on West Park Street.

Mrs. Patrick Cullen will host the next meeting at her home on Voorheis Road.

Stepdaughter's Lost; Give Her More Time

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: As my husband's ex-wife is a hopeless alcoholic, their daughter, 15, lives with us. She thinks nothing of coming out with a dirty joke before company.

She dresses sloppily and stays out until all hours of the night. Boys neither of us know telephone her constantly.

My husband excuses all this; and as I am not her real mother, she won't listen to me. How can I do anything for her . . . ?

ANSWER: You can't. You'll just have to wait until the turmoil behind this behavior explodes itself so visibly that her father will have to look at it and assist you in getting help for her.

It seems clear that you cannot now take any external action on your concern for this child, who is so bewildered at this time.

But you can take internal action on it. You can purge it of any attacking spirit it now possesses. This concern of yours is the one positive pressure on your stepdaughter.

It tells her that to you, at least, her young life is important. It is her lifeline back to shore.

HOLD FIRE

I ask you to purge it of all attacking elements because attack at this moment is dangerous.

Your stepdaughter cannot change her behavior at this point. She feels too lonely, too abandoned, too discouraged to even suspect that she wants to change it.

Attack is a demand that she change it. Since she can't do it, attack deepens her sense of abandonment and discouragement.

At this moment, we must take care to express only the sadness of our concern for her — our sadness over her self-wastefulness.

MISTAKEN BEHAVIOR

We will thus convey our conviction that her behavior is mistaken without compelling her to defend it.

I urge this attitude on you because inevitably an event will occur which will force her to realize with you that her conduct is mistaken.

Then, good mother, she will turn to you. You will be the one person who has known what she has "discovered." She will trust your wish to help her or ask help for her.

Legion Auxiliary Making Plans for Anniversary

Plans were made for an anniversary dinner March 21 at the Monday evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Cook Nelson Unit.

American chairman Mrs. Homer Sisney reported on the presentation of three American flags to girl scout troops at Eastover School. One flag was also presented to a girl scout troop at Her-rington School.

Monday Mrs. Harry Sisson, district 18 president, will make her official visit to the Auxiliary of Cook Nelson Unit.

The regular business meeting of the 18th district will be held March 6 at the American Legion Home.

Wash Day Woes

If homemakers in 18th Century Europe dreaded wash day, they had good reason! In many countries, it was customary to let the household laundry accumulate for two or three months — then suds and scrub madly from long before dawn till long after dusk.

Knit Suit Is Elegant

This interesting eye-catching suit is modeled by Pamela Britton.

The skirt designed in straight simple lines complements the ¾ straight sleeves and the unusual slant opening of the sweater. The whole garment was knitted in a stockinette stitch (which is Knit 1 row, Purl 1 row) that elegant look and also to make it possible for any beginning knitter to own this different garment.

Or, how about knitting only the sweater to match or contrast any of the skirts that you now own?

The skirt uses about 8-oz. of yarn and the slant sweater about 10-oz. of yarn.

Instructions are written in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included in one pattern.

Slant Opening Sweater Suit No. 47 may be obtained by sending $1.00 in currency, check or money order to: Ursula Dubois, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Box 3307, Van Nuys, Calif.

Ancients Used 'Salamanders'

Our new electronic kitchen ranges notwithstanding, the ancients had a trick or two when it came to rustling up a meal.

Broiling in ancient times was done with a "salamander" — a metal ball about a foot in diameter, attached to the end of a metal pole.

This ball was heated red-hot in an open fire, then moved slowly a few inches above the surface of the food until the meat was nicely browned.

But what primitive homemakers did not have was a selection of our modern soap or detergent to wash their greasy "salamanders" quickly and easily.

Appealing touch for a child's room is a made-to-order shade — made to the child's order, that is.

Animal- or flower- shapes, cut from scraps of washable printed wallpaper or fabric, can be glued over a plain plastic-coated shade.

From the decorative standpoint, light filtering through from the outside will show the designs off to good advantage.

And from the practical standpoint, a sponge dipped into soap or detergent suds will wash the entire shade surface safely without "unsticking" the glue.

Stretch Socks Solid Comfort

Spandex stockings have the advantages of comfortable support, great holding power and control, lightness of weight for day-long and year-long comfort, and long-lasting stretch.

These utilitarian stockings come in fashion tints, are sheer enough to have fashion appeal, are easy to suet out, and dry quickly. Some spandex hose can even be washed and dried by machine.

Two Units of Sorority Eat, Meet

XI BETA BETA

The annual progressive dinner of the Xi Beta Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held Tuesday evening.

First course was served at the home of Mrs. Edgar Arnold of the Cass Lake Road. Mrs. Thomas Ogden on Coleman Street was hostess for the salad course.

The group then went to the home of Mrs. E. L. Sturdy on Starr Street for the main course. Dessert was served in the Oak Hill home of Mrs. Thomas Mosley.

Plans were made to attend a special meeting about the heart at Washington Junior High School on March 10.

EPSILON RHO

Mrs. Mabel Baker spoke on "The Artist's Landscape" and Mrs. William De Rousse spoke on "Collections" at the Wednesday evening meeting of Epsilon Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. James Barnes opened her Orchard Lake home for the meeting and was assisted as hostess by Mrs. George Carlson.

Club Probes a Philosophy

The work of a French philosopher will be discussed at the 8 p.m. Friday meeting of the Waterford Great Books club discussion group.

Penses (thoughts) by Pascal, 17th century philosopher have been selected.

Kay Rector and K. B. Valentine will lead the discussion with Ron Bird as author's advocate.

MR. AND MRS. ELDON J. SWEAZEY

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon J. Sweazeay of Bradford Street, who observed their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, will be honored by their children, at a reception, Sunday, in Oakland Park Methodist Church. The couple who were married in North Branch are parents of Mrs. Claude McKinnon of Williams Lake; E. Jack Sweazeay, Huntington Beach, Calif.; and MacVean K. Sweazeay of Oak Park. There are eight grandchildren. The '58-ers' of Chapter 228, Order of the Eastern Star honored the couple at a recent party in Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Says Ex-German

U.S. Teens Pampered

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE R-483: Hans S., aged 38, came over here from Germany.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "I think one of the reasons for the juvenile delinquency in America is the idleness of teenagers."

"Over in Germany," for example, children aren't sent to high school and college just for social reasons or to keep up with the Joneses.

"In Germany, children either decide early that they are going to prepare for a profession or else they go into vocational school."

"And by the age of 17, our German youths are trained apprentices and working on the job for a livelihood."

MAUDLIN YANKS

"Yet over here, maudlin Americans think it is criminal to fetter the happiness of teenagers by putting them to work at that early age."

"Instead, their misguided parents indulge them with sports cars and idleness, so they get into mischief just for lack of something to do."

"Dr. Crane, I dare you to challenge American parents to get down to brass tacks and nip delinquency in the bud."

"For a working boy or girl is not likely to have time or desire to break into gas stations or loot department stores or waste papa's dough on hot rods and playboy indolence."

CROWDED SCHOOLS

"Taxpayers over here keep moaning about the overcrowded colleges."

"There are already far too many American youth in college! Instead of sponging off of indulgent papa, let the teenagers start becoming producers in America's economy."

IS HE RIGHT?

Maudlin do-gooders painted such a pathetic picture of sweat shops and child labor offenses here in America that now the pendulum has possibly swung too far in the opposite direction.

Employers are hamstrung by laws so they are afraid of hiring high schoolers lest they be fined by the government.

If early teen-agers falsify their ages to get jobs, they expose their generous employers to stiff fines as soon as do-gooder bureaucrats discover the kids are under 16.

Parents, too, have listened to similar maudlin psychology till they don't even make their own youngsters work for pay chores around the house.

Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing two long S-cent stamps, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Attention all cooks! Somewhere between our typewriter and the printed page on Thursday a whole paragraph from the recipe was lost. If you clipped the recipe, please substitute this copy of it.

PINEAPPLE REFRIGERATOR CAKE

By Mrs. Russell Perkins

1/2 pound vanilla wafers
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups confectioners sugar
2 eggs
1 can (9 oz.) crushed pineapple, drained
1/2 pint whipping cream or 1 package dessert topping. Crush wafers and put half into 8x8x2 pan, pressing firmly.

Cream butter or margarine with sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating until smooth and creamy. Pour into pan.

Whip cream or dessert topping and fold in drained pineapple. Pour over other mixture in pan.

Sprinkle on remaining crumbs. Place in refrigerator overnight. Garnish, if desired, with strawberries. Makes 9 servings.

Youth Evenly Divided on Subject

Drag Racing Still Increasing, Say Teens

By Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.
Drag racing, hot rods, souped-up engines. How do they stand with today's young people?

Our latest survey indicates the nation's youth is fairly evenly divided on the subject of drag racing, although a slight majority disapproves of the sport.

Despite this disapproval, however, and although most boys and girls say they themselves do not participate, teen-agers predict drag racing is increasing.

Half of the 1,112 teen-agers interviewed said their friends engaged in drag racing, half said they did not; but when asked whether they themselves participated in the sport, an overwhelming number—86 per cent—said no.

It is interesting to note that many although more boys than girls said their friends engaged in drag racing, both groups denied their own participation almost equally.

Sixty per cent of the boys and only 41 per cent of the girls said their friends were drag racers. In contrast, 82 per cent of the boys and 88 per cent of the girls said they did not race.

Both the young men and young women agreed that most of the racing is done without supervision. Seventy per cent said the sport was spontaneous.

Supervision plays a large part in gaining the sport's approval from the teen-agers.

DISAPPROVED

A slight majority—53 per cent—said they disapproved of the sport, but while only 33 per cent of the girls approved, 60 per cent of the boys were for drag racing.

Several of those who okayed it agreed with Lee Runstad, 16, of Mitchell, S.D., who said, "Superised drag racing is a good outlet for tension."

Patricia Kaufman, 19, of Washington, D.C., supported this view. "If this is what they like, let them do it safely and sanely," she said.

"It's your life and you should be able to do what you want with it," Edwin Watkins, 15, of Oklahoma City, Okla., added.

DANGEROUS

Others turned thumbs down on the whole idea, stressing its danger and poor public image.

"It's immature and dangerous and adds to the bad reputation of teen-agers," Frances Osterstrom, 16, of Winnetka, Ill., said.

Eugene Avino, 15, of New Haven, Conn., expressed disapproval of the sport but was pessimistic in regard to doing anything about it.

"People can be killed, but you can't stop someone from doing it," he noted.

Despite the fact that a majority of teens disapprove of the sport and do not participate in it themselves, 67 per cent of those interviewed said drag racing is on the increase.

MORE CARS

One reason was given for its increase by Joseph Sarno, 17, of Boston, Mass., who summed up the sentiments of several, saying simply, "Kids are getting more cars."

Some teens felt that regulation has given the sport a better reputation and encouraged more teen-agers to take up drag racing.

"In my own age group it is increasing because it is under supervision and more people approve," said Connie Turner, 16, of Ft. Smith, Ark.

Local law enforcement plays a large part in cutting down on drag racing, according to Arthur Kipman, 16, of Philadelphia, who said the "authorities are really clamping down on it."

GREATER CHOICE

Roger Ames, 16, of Mitchell, S.D., pointed to the greater choice of pastimes to support his opinion that drag racing's popularity is on the wane.

The sport is decreasing "because there are more things for kids to do besides that," he said.

Thai Food Served at Brunch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Food preparations in a strictly American church have taken on an oriental flair this week. Members of the Women's Association of University Presbyterian Church in Avon Township had a Thailand brunch this morning.

In honor of missionary month the women asked Dr. Elihu Deer of the University of Detroit to speak. He has been a structural engineer for SEATO at the University of Bangkok. Thai food was in order for the day.

Right after the first of the year Mrs. Raymond Jahns of Rochester called me to ask for help in planning food for this event. "The Complete Book of Oriental Cooking" by Myra Waldo (David McKay Company, Inc., New York, $3.95) became our source book.

Mrs. Jahns, general chairman of the event, had as her assistants Mrs. Richard Bittinger, Mrs. Walter Carter, Mrs. George Hardy, Mrs. Symons and Mrs. Wesley Tomlinson.

Press readers can try some of the recipes used by these women.

You will note a number of the recipes call for coconut milk. Here's how to make it: For each cup of flaked coconut, add 2 cups hot milk. Let stand 30 minutes, then squeeze through cheesecloth to extract all the milk.

If cream is called for, substitute 1 cup hot (not boiling) heavy cream for the 2 cups of milk. Chill coconut cream if it is to be whipped.

SHRIMP SALAD

2 cups water
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons salt

2 pounds of raw shrimp
2 tablespoons olive oil
¼ cup minced shallots or onions

2 minced garlic cloves
1 cup chopped green peppers
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 apple, peeled and grated
¼ cup chopped peanuts
1 cup coconut milk
Bring water, bay leaf and salt to a boil; cook shrimp in the mixture 8 minutes. Drain, cool, clean and cut each in 4 pieces.

Heat oil in a skillet; saute the shallots and garlic 8 minutes. Cool 5 minutes and mix with green peppers, soy sauce, apple, peanuts and coconut milk. Pour over shrimp and chill 1 hour. Serves 6-8.

GOLDEN SILK

12 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
1½ cups water

Remove white membrane of egg yolks. Mix yolks very lightly with fork.

Cook sugar and water to a thick syrup. Use a funnel with a narrow end. Drop 1 tablespoon egg yolk into it at a time, while holding funnel and rotating it over the boiling syrup.

As soon as threads form, remove to a plate. Continue with balance, forming small mounds on the plate. Serves 6-8.

BATTER FRIED BANANAS

1 cup rice flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup coconut milk
1 tablespoon oil
2 egg yolks
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
½ cup flaked coconut
5 bananas, peeled and sliced in 1-inch lengths for deep frying.

Sift flour and salt into a bowl; beat in coconut milk, oil, and egg yolks until smooth. Fold in egg whites and a nut coconut. Dip bananas into batter.

Heat fat to 380 degrees. Fry a few pieces at a time until delicately browned. Drain and serve hot. Serves 6-8.

COCONUT PANCAKES

1¼ cups rice flour
1¼ cups sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
3 cups coconut milk
4 eggs
½ cup oil

Sift flour, sugar and salt into a bowl. Beat in coconut milk and eggs until a very smooth batter is formed.

Heat 2 teaspoons oil in a 7-inch skillet; pour enough batter into it to thinly coat the bottom. Lightly brown the pancakes on both sides. Roll up like jelly roll.

Keep warm while preparing the balance. Makes about 30.

Broccoli Puts Color Into Crab Dish

Western-grown broccoli has so many wonderful uses. It's good in salads, served as a green vegetable, or dressed up as the main dish.

Broccoli will brighten your Lenten menu when you combine it with nourishing crab, hard-cooked eggs, and a good cheese sauce. Serve western-grown sliced tomatoes and onion rolls. For dessert, serve fresh pears and apples.

Crab and Broccoli Casserole

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
½ teaspoon dry mustard
4 hard cooked eggs
2 cups fresh crabmeat or 2 7-ounce cans crabmeat
1 pound fresh broccoli, cooked

Melt butter in frying pan. Stir in flour, gradually adding milk. Stir constantly until smooth and thick. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, ¼ cup of the cheese, and dry mustard.

Peel and quarter eggs. (Reserve one egg for garnish.) Combine sauce with eggs and crabmeat.

In a shallow 8x8x2 casserole arrange the broccoli spears allowing the bud ends to show. Sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup of cheese. Garnish with remaining hard cooked egg. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Honey Spread

Keep a jar of Honey Spread on hand in your refrigerator for pancakes and French toast. To make the spread, cream a quarter pound of butter or margarine and very gradually beat in a quarter cup of honey.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Pork Blade Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the upper half of the shoulder, or the Boston butt, and contains a portion of the blade bone. It is also called a shoulder steak.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. The meat is first browned in its own or a little added fat. The drippings are poured off and a small amount of liquid added. The meat is covered tightly and allowed to cook slowly until done, about 45 to 60 minutes.

Serve Beet Salad on Nest of Lettuce

Beets were planted in colonial Boston gardens. This lettuce salad combines the tartness of oranges and grapefruit with the bland flavor of beets.

Beet Citrus Salad

1 head western Iceberg lettuce
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) whole beets, drained
3 scallions or green onions, chopped
½ cup prepared Russian dressing
2 grapefruit, sectioned
Parsley

Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Line serving platter with outer lettuce leaves; shred remaining lettuce and place in center. Toss beets, scallions and dressing together lightly; place in center of lettuce.

Arrange orange slices and grapefruit sections around beets and garnish with parsley. Serve with additional dressing, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Honey Spread

Keep a jar of Honey Spread on hand in your refrigerator for pancakes and French toast. To make the spread, cream a quarter pound of butter or margarine and very gradually beat in a quarter cup of honey.

Just How Much Space Is in Refrigerator?

NEW YORK — "In terms of usable refrigerated space for food storage, today's refrigerator and freezer buyer generally buys a pig in a poke," according to George C. Foerster, President, Amann Refrigeration Inc.

Foerster, at the introduction of the firm's 1964 line of freezers, refrigerators and air conditioners said, "Most of the industry at present sells in terms of a refrigerated capacity that amounts to little more than multiplying width by depth by height. The resulting figure is then offered as the cubic footage of the box."

"What happens is that a woman who thinks she's getting a 17 cubic foot refrigerator may actually have only 15 cubic feet in which she can store food."

"Various fixtures and ap-

"We've spoken to various members of the appliance industry about this glaring exception to generally high industry standards."

"We believe the consumer will eventually become aware of the discrepancy between the space she buys and the space available for food storage, and that it would be in the best interests of the appliance industry to start labeling its refrigerators and freezers in terms of true food storage capacity," concluded Foerster.

Grandma Has a Good Idea

Although many cooking ideas have changed and recipes discarded, there are still old favorites in use.

Take, for instance, the peach pie served at the James Saunders' home. This recipe has been in use for three generations.

Originated for fresh peaches (naturally), it can be made with frozen peaches. You may wish to cut down on the amount of sugar with the frozen fruit.

GRANDMA'S PEACH PIE

1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
Sliced peaches
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
3 eggs

Fill unbaked pie shell with sliced peaches. Mix sugar and flour in a bowl. Beat eggs and add. Pour over fruit.

Bake 1 hour at 325 degrees.

Diabetics Can Have A Cake

Diabetic Date Nut Bread

½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg
1 tablespoon liquid sweetener
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
2 teaspoons cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup dates, cut fine
1½ cups unsweetened apple sauce
¼ cup pecans, broken
Cream butter, add egg, sweetener and vanilla. Stir together and add dry ingredients. Add apple sauce, dates and pecans.

Turn into loaf pan lined with wax paper and bake at 350° F. for one hour or until done.

Brazil Nuts in Divinity and Brittle Candy

Divinity has long been a classic in the candy family, and here with the distinctive flavor of Brazil nuts, rum flavoring and candied fruits this favorite borrows nesselrode popularity.

The choo-crunch candy with Brazil nuts is a simple brittle. Cut in squares, dipped in melted semi-sweet chocolate and chopped Brazil nuts, this crunch candy has a professional air.

To shell Brazil nuts quickly, cover them with cold water, bring to a boil and boil three minutes. Drain, cover with cold water for a minute, then drain and note how quickly the Brazil nut meats can be cracked and freed from the shells.

Brazil Nut Nesselrodes

2 cups sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon rum or vanilla flavoring
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts, divided
¼ cup finely-cut candied fruit

Combine sugar, corn syrup, water and salt in a saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring until syrup, when dropped in cold water, forms a hard ball, or until thermometer reaches 265 degrees.

Just before sugar reaches 265 degrees, beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Remove syrup from heat and gradually pour the syrup in a very fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly while pouring. Continue beating until mixture holds its shape.

Stir in vanilla, ½ cup of the Brazil nuts and fruit. With lightly buttered hands form into ¾-inch balls; roll in remaining ¼ cup Brazil nuts. Yield: 1½ pounds.

Brazil Nut Choco-Crunch

2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1½ cups chopped Brazil nuts, divided
1 package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tablespoon shortening

Put sugar and butter in heavy skillet. Place over low heat and stir constantly until sugar melts. It is important to keep the mixture stirred constantly over low heat to get an even caramelization of the sugar.

Just as soon as all the sugar is melted, add brown sugar, color, add the soda and stir in 1 cup of the Brazil nuts. Turn onto a greased baking sheet and roll out with rolling pin until brittle is ¼-inch thick. Pull corners to make a square.

While candy is hot, mark quickly into squares with a sharp knife. Break into pieces when brittle hardens.

Melt semi-sweet chocolate pieces and shortening over hot, not boiling water. Dip one third of each square into melted chocolate; coat with remaining Brazil nuts. Yield: 2 pounds.

Squash Rings

A different way with a favorite vegetable. Cut butternut into one-inch thick rings, spread in baking pan. Dot with butter and sprinkle with brown sugar and a little nutmeg. Bake until tender.

Mortadella Is Made of Beef and Pork

Mortadella is an Italian-type Bologna made of finely chopped, cured pork and beef with added cubes of pork fat. It is delicately spiced with garlic, smoked at high temperatures and air-dried. The pieces weigh from four to eight pounds, reports the American Meat Institute.

Serve mortadella in sandwiches and on cold plates. To serve hot, brush barbecue sauce over a one to two-pound cut of mortadella and bake.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONEY

ANSWER: The curious looking spade-shaped object at upper left is thought to have been the first money; it is Chinese, made of bronze.

The Chinese also made paper money as early as the 1200's. Egyptian ring money helped develop the use of coins; we illustrate the first U.S. coin (right).

Paper money was used early in North America, by the French Canadians in 1665. Paper money was issued in 1775 by the Continental Congress, but because there was little gold or silver to back it, it quickly lost its value, leading to the saying: "It's not worth a Continental" when referring to something worthless. In the 1860's the U.S. Government issued its first paper money.

Paper money is made under the strict supervision of the Treasury Department, which alone is authorized to issue it. Artists draw the designs which are then copied on soft steel plates by engravers.

The plates are made into rolls, which, after various hardening processes, are then used to print the bills in groups of twelve.

Check these important things on a bill: (1) The Federal Reserve Seal with a letter, (2) the serial number of the bill and (3) the green Treasury Seal.

FOR YOU TO DO: Very special paper is used in printing United States money. Tiny bits of blue and red threads are scattered through it. Look for these in a bill—they may be a bit difficult to see in an old one. It is hard for counterfeiters to imitate this effect.

California Dip Made With Soup Mix Has Other Uses

Look what's happened to California Dip, that ubiquitous appetizer made from onion soup mix and dairy sour cream that broke on the party scene almost ten years ago, and has been going strong ever since! It has graduated, and now its role has been expanded to make zesty, appetizing spreads, and fillings, toppings and sauses and flavors, as unlimited in their indefinite variety as your own imagination.

Once you start, you'll find that almost any ingredient can be combined with basic California Dip. Variations can double as dips or spreads and can be created in a jiffy.

Served with a tempting array of melba toast rounds, assorted crackers and crisp raw vegetables, they're an easy replacement for fussy hors d'oeuvres.

First, the basic recipe for California Dip.

California Dip
1 pint dairy sour cream
1 (1 1/2) ounce envelope onion soup mix
Combine sour cream with soup mix and refrigerate at least 1 hour.

Now, the variations. To 1 cup of California Dip add any of the following combinations. When ingredients are blended, cover and refrigerate at least 1 hour.

Crab Meat and Dill Dip: add 1 3-ounce package softened cream cheese and a 5 1/2 ounce can crab meat, drained and flaked, with 1/4 teaspoon dried dill weed.

Vegetable Dip: add 1/2 cup creamed cottage cheese, 1/4 cup finely chopped cucumber, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, and 3 radishes coarsely chopped.

India Dip: add 1/4 cup finely cup chutney and 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger.

Have you ever thought of using the dip in meat cooking? Try it in Swedish Meatballs and you'll be surprised at the wonderful flavor it gives to the meat.

Or try California Dip as a filling to alternate in layers of a round loaf of pumpernickel with a salmon spread. There's no end to its versatility.

Even cream puffs can be filled with it or any of its variations. Made bite size, these California Dip filled cream puffs will add a zing to the buffet table or appetizer tray.

One of the most unique uses of California Dip is as an ingredient in bread. It's combined with sausage chunks and makes a hearty loaf that can be formed as a braid or ring.

When served with an assortment of cheeses, it can become an important addition to the buffet table, with soup a satisfying luncheon.

Swedish Meatballs
1 pound lean ground chuck
1/2 cup California Dip
1 egg, slightly beaten
3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon allspice

Julienne Beets Fine in Salad

Vegetables, of course, are an important part of the daily diet. And, this should be taken into consideration when serving a spaghetti dinner. Salad is a natural for the meal so make it a vegetable one.

When planning a menu around spaghetti topped with canned ready-to-heat and serve clam sauce, the perfect vegetable accompaniment is Tossed Beet Salad.

It's colorful combination of canned julienne beets, hard cooked eggs, crisp crumbled bacon and lettuce tossed with a tangy dressing made with French dressing and prepared horseradish. A dollop of sour cream as a garnish adds an extra attractive touch.

Tossed Beet Salad
1/2 cup French dressing
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 can (1 lb.) julienne beets
3 slices crisply cooked bacon
2 hard cooked eggs
1 medium head iceberg lettuce
Salt, freshly ground pepper

Mix French dressing and horseradish; chill 1 to 2 hours to blend flavors. Chill beets. Crumble bacon and chop eggs.

Tear lettuce into bite-size pieces. Add drained beets, bacon, eggs and dressing. Toss lightly until mixed. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

May be garnished with spoonfuls of dairy sour cream, if desired. Six to eight servings.

TOSSED BEET SALAD — Becoming ever popular are meals with a foreign accent. And a meal Italian style is sure to delight your family. Spaghetti with clam sauce is the hearty main course. But, don't forget the vegetable. Make it in combination with the salad — and make your choice Tossed Beet Salad.

da. sugar, salt and 2 eggs, beaten; then stir in softened yeast.

Gradually add enough flour to form a stiff dough. Knead on floured board until smooth — about 5 minutes — then place in greased bowl and cover with towel.

Let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled in bulk. Meanwhile prick sausages well, then brown in skillet on both sides. Drain on paper toweling, then cut into small pieces.

When dough has risen, punch down. Knead in sausage until well blended. Divide half of dough into 3 parts. Roll each part into a strip about 20 inches long. Braid them together, sealing ends. Repeat with remaining dough.

Form into a ring and place into greased 9-inch spring form tube pan or place lengthwise on greased cookie sheet. Let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk.

Brush top of braid with 1 beaten egg, then sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake at 350 degrees about 45 minutes, or until golden and firm. Cool on rack. Makes 2 rings or braids.

Leftover Muffins No Problem

For oven-fresh muffins at a moment's notice freeze baked muffins. They'll keep up to two months in the freezer.

To freeze, prepare the muffins as directed. Cool to room temperature. Then wrap in moisture-vapor proof material, seal, label and freeze.

To serve the fully baked muffins, thaw them at room temperature for one hour and then reheat in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 10 minutes.

Put left-over muffins to good use, too. Cut cone-shaped tops from the muffins. Brush the muffin cups and tops with melted butter then toast.

Fill the cups with any creamed filling or jelly or jam, perch the jaunty cone "caps" atop and serve for luncheon or supper dessert.

For a crunchly alternate to breakfast toast, split left-over muffins and toast quickly under the broiler. Serve with butter and jam or maple syrup.

Cocoa Muffin Puffs
2 cups sifted enriched flour*

3/4 cup cocoa
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk

2 tablespoons melted shortening or oil
1/4 teaspoon mint extract
3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons water (about)

Fresh mint leaves
Sugar
Sift together flour, sugar, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Stir in nuts.

Blend together egg, milk, melted shortening or oil and mint extract. Add liquid to flour mixture, stirring only until dry ingredients are moistened.

Fill greased muffin cups 3/4 full. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Meanwhile, blend together confectioners' sugar and water to form a thin smooth icing. Sprinkle sugar over mint leaves. Remove baked muffins from pans and immediately dip tops into icing and place sugared mint leaves in center. Makes about 12 medium sized muffins.

*If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Huge Halibut Joins Little Oyster in Bake

Have you ever wondered why halibut steaks have dark grey skin on one side with white on the other? The Halibut Association of North America tells us that the halibut uses his contrasting colors as a camouflage.

He buries himself in the sand at the bottom of the sea, dark side up, so he's invisible and can pounce on his prey. But when he rouses himself to swim around, his white underside blends with light filtering through the water. If it weren't for his chameleon-like habits, the halibut would be in hot water. He's far too big (there's often several hundred pounds of him) to hide easily.

Because of his unwieldy size, the halibut is usually cut into cross-section slices which we call steaks. Here's an easy way to bake halibut steaks together with frozen vegetables and frozen oyster stew for a delicious seafood meal-in-one dish.

Deep Sea Halibut Bake
1 pound halibut, fresh or frozen

1 (10 oz.) can frozen condensed oyster stew

1 (10 oz.) package frozen mixed vegetables, thawed
1/2 cup milk

If halibut is frozen, let thaw for two hours on refrigerator shelf. Meanwhile, combine frozen oyster stew and milk, and heat slowly until stew is completely thawed. Add frozen vegetables, mix well and pour over halibut steaks in baking dish. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 30 minutes. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Modern Meat Has Fewer Calories

Nutritionists agree that the protein-rich diet is the safest, most satisfactory way to reduce. Protein is essential for proper functioning of the body, plus resistance to disease. Foods high in protein have stick-to-the-ribs quality to keep away hunger.

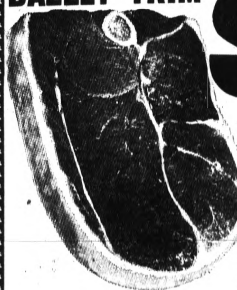

This places meat in a key position in your diet plan. Meat is a favorite food and is high in complete protein, B-vitamins, iron and other minerals.

Meat, as we eat it today, has an average of 26 per cent fewer calories, 46 per cent less fat and 23 per cent more protein.

Eastern Rails Blamed for Seaway Shipping Lag

DETROIT (AP) — Eastern railway and port interests were charged at a Congressional hearing Wednesday with attempts to hamper shipping on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Former Michigan Republican Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker, one-time Secretary of the Army, testified the same original eastern foes of the Seaway now support efforts to boost Seaway tolls and also back discriminatory rail rates.

Brucker appeared before a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Commerce which is looking into Seaway affairs.

Other witnesses, including Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit, complained over what they called discriminatory rail rates.

HART CALLED

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., member of the subcommittee, presided at the start of the hearing but was called back to Washington for Senate action on civil rights.

Other hearing witnesses called for modernization of Great Lakes vessels and increased Seaway efficiency in order to attract more foreign trade.

Witnesses urged more use of the Seaway by the Defense Department by shipping of mid-west products via the St. Lawrence route to the east instead of by rail.

John N. Grose, vice president of the V.G. Narhag Co., Detroit custom house brokers and ocean freight forwarders, said eastern shipping interests dominate vessel movements and rate structures of the Great Lakes.

Economies to aid Great Lakes shipping were proposed by Harry Benford of the University of Michigan's Department of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering.

Benford proposed construction of automated vessels to reduce crew costs, a fast tax write-off on new ships, an extended shipping season, streamlining of maritime regulations, and more maritime research.

JFK Children Both Are Sick

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy and her 3-year-old brother, John Jr., have had a bout with that nemesis of childhood—chicken pox.

Africa Love a Grave Issue

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Municipal officials in Pretoria have a grave problem on their hands — how to keep young lovers out of the city's cemeteries at night.

An official reports that cemeteries seem to be increasing in popularity as courting places these days, and several times couples have been locked in the graveyards after closing time. They have either had to spend the night there, or climb fences to get out.

No Industries in Industry, Ill.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Illinois industry is booming — except in Industry, Ill.

The town of Industry, 60 miles southwest of Peoria, has no industry at all.

According to the annual state business census being conducted by Illinois Manufacturers Directory, Industry is one of 450 Illinois municipalities lacking a manufacturing or processing plant.

On the other hand, says the 51-year-old state industry guide, more than 750 Illinois cities, towns and villages contain more than 22,300 factories and plants.

How about Industry?

"We used to have industry, but we don't now," a town spokesman said. "If you know anyone interested in locating industry in Industry, please let us know."

INTRODUCING 9 NEW LOW-COST SEAFOOD IDEAS - FROM DEMING'S.

DEMING'S SEAFOODS

THREE COLORS

Drain and flake 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon into bowl. Save liquid. Add 1 beaten egg, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 tsp. seasoned salt and 2 tbs. salmon liquid to salmon. Mix together and shape into balls. In casserole dish, combine 2½ cups cooked rice, 2 cups cooked green beans and 1 tomato, diced. Heat 10½ oz. can cream of mushroom soup with ¼ can liquid (salmon liquid plus milk) and 1½ tsp. instant minced onion until smooth. Pour over rice and vegetables and mix lightly. Place salmon balls on top and bake in 350° oven for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

DEMING'S KING CRAB POLYNESIAN

Cook 1 cup sliced celery until just tender. Set aside. Drain ½ cup syrup from No. 211 can of pineapple chunks and mix with 2 tbs. cornstarch, 2 tbs. vinegar, 1 tbs. sugar, ½ cup water, ½ tsp. soy sauce, and liquid from 1 can Deming's King Crabmeat. Cook until thick and clear. Add celery, ¼ cup sliced pimiento, pineapple chunks and flaked crabmeat to sauce. Heat and serve over fluffy rice or crisp Chinese noodles. Serves 5 to 6.

DEMING'S SALMON MACARONI SUPPER

Drain 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon and save liquid. Cook 1½ cups elbow macaroni (or noodles) in 1 qt. boiling salted water until tender. Drain well. Melt 3 tbs. butter or margarine in skillet, stir in 3 tbs. flour until smooth. Add 2 cups liquid (salmon liquid plus milk) and cook, stirring frequently until mixture has thickened. Stir in 1 cup grated American cheese, medium or sharp, ½ tsp. salt and 2 tbs. sweet pickle relish or chopped sweet pickle. When cheese has melted, remove from heat and add flaked salmon and macaroni. Place in 1½ qt. casserole and sprinkle 1 cup coarsely crushed potato chips around edge. Bake 10-15 minutes in 400° oven. Serves 4 to 6.

DEMING'S SALMON 'N VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

Drain 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon and save liquid. Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in skillet, stir in 3 tbs. flour. Add 1½ cup liquid (salmon liquid plus milk) and cook until mixture has thickened, stirring constantly. Add ½ tsp. lemon juice, ½ tsp. salt, 2 cups cooked vegetables (carrots, peas, etc.) and flaked salmon. Mix lightly and spoon into 1½ qt. casserole dish. Prepare 1 package instant potatoes (or 3 cups fresh mashed potatoes) and arrange around edge of dish. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 375° for 10-15 minutes or until potatoes begin to brown. Serves 6.

DEMING'S BAKED TOMATOES WITH KING CRAB

Slice off top and scoop out centers of 6 medium tomatoes or green peppers and turn over to drain. If using peppers, cook for five minutes in-boiling, salted water, then drain. Mix together 1 can Deming's King Crabmeat with liquid, 2 cups cooked rice, 1 tsp. lemon juice, and ½ can cream of celery soup. Season to taste. Fill tomatoes or peppers with crab mixture, dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with cracker crumbs. Place in pan with enough water to cover bottom and bake at 350° for 20-25 minutes. Heat remaining ½ can soup with ½ cup milk, and spoon over tomatoes or peppers. Serves 6.

DEMING'S HI-PRO SALMON SANDWICH

Drain and flake 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon. Mix salmon with 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs, 4 tbs. sweet pickle relish, ¼ tsp. salt, 2 tbs. catsup and 6 tbs. mayonnaise. Spread bread slices with pasteurized processed cheese spread in place of butter. Cover half the slices with salmon filling. Top with lettuce and remaining bread slices. Makes 10 sandwiches. For 5 sandwiches, use half of 1-lb. or one 7½ oz. can Deming's Salmon and half remaining ingredients.

DEMING'S SALMON VEGETABLE PLATTER

Mix liquid from 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon with 1 tbs. vinegar, 1 tsp. sugar, ¼ tsp. celery salt and 1 tsp. prepared mustard. Pour over salmon and let stand at room temperature for 1-2 hours (optional). To serve, place salmon in 325° oven for 20 minutes or until heated through. Baste occasionally with the salmon liquid. Make a sauce by adding 1 tbs. salmon liquid to ½ cup mayonnaise, and heat slowly. Pour over salmon. Serve with mixed vegetables. Serves 5 to 6.

DEMING'S GOLDEN CRAB SANDWICH

Drain and flake 7½ oz. can Deming's King Crabmeat. Combine with ½ cup finely chopped celery, 3 tbs. chili sauce, 3 tbs. mayonnaise and ¼ tsp. dry mustard. Spread on 6 slices buttered toast and warm under broiler. Remove from oven; top with 6 more toast slices. Put two slices processed American cheese on top of each sandwich so toast is entirely covered. Return to broiler until cheese melts and starts to brown. Serves 6.

DEMING'S IMPERIAL CRAB LOUIS

Sprinkle 1½ cup sliced celery and 1 thinly sliced cucumber with ¼ cup French dressing and chile. To serve, take slices from dressing and mix remaining dressing with ¼ cup chili sauce, ¼ cup mayonnaise and 1 tsp. lemon juice. Drain and flake 7½ oz. can Deming's King Crabmeat. Toss with 2 finely chopped boiled eggs and celery. Add salt to taste. Arrange salad greens on 4 plates. Mound crabmeat mixture in centers. Circle with alternate slices of tomato and cucumber. Spoon dressing generously over crabmeat. Sprinkle with 2 tbs. finely chopped green onion or chives. Serves 4.

DEMING'S ONE-DISH SALMON SUPPER

Drain and flake 1-lb. or two 7½ oz. cans Deming's Pink or Sockeye Salmon into bowl. Save liquid. Add 1 beaten egg, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 tsp. seasoned salt and 2 tbs. salmon liquid to salmon. Mix together and shape into balls. In casserole dish, combine 2½ cups cooked rice, 2 cups cooked green beans and 1 tomato, diced. Heat 10½ oz. can cream of mushroom soup with ¼ can liquid (salmon liquid plus milk) and 1½ tsp. instant minced onion until smooth. Pour over rice and vegetables and mix lightly. Place salmon balls on top and bake in 350° oven for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

DEMING'S KING CRAB POLYNESIAN

Cook 1 cup sliced celery until just tender. Set aside. Drain ½ cup syrup from No. 211 can of pineapple chunks and mix with 2 tbs. cornstarch, 2 tbs. vinegar, 1 tbs.

Wage Earners Have Varied Opinions on Cut in Taxes

By RAY KOHN

Associated Press Writer

Most wage earners think the $11.5-billion federal tax cut will mean more pocket money. Some think it won't even make that much difference. The cut was signed into law Wednesday night by President Johnson.

Some individual reaction across the nation today ranged from St. Louis clothing salesman Herb Wagner who said, "It will put more money in the consumer's pocket and we'll spend it some way or other," to Dr. Richard C. Snyder, Ohio State University dentist, who said: "That amount of money isn't going to make much difference to either the man with the small income or large one over a year's time."

The reactions were obtained in an informal Associated Press check.

Some persons think that the idea of a tax cut is a spirit booster.

Said Nondis Burnett, Kansas City medical secretary: "I have not figured it out yet but it should make everyone feel good."

Others were apprehensive that the extra money might go from one tax pocket to another. Mrs. Elmer Brown, Albany, Wis., housewife, commented: "What you save from the federal government you'll have to spend for the state."

Dan Fulton, chairman of Montana's chief tax agency, estimated the federal tax cut will put about $500,000 a year in the state treasury due to increased state income tax payments with smaller federal deductions.

But in Newark, N.J., Absalom Brent, a detective lieutenant, said, "Every little bit helps. My wife will get a couple extra dollars and she'll spend it for home expenses."

Franklin B. Kelley, Richmond, Va., salesman said he has "no plans for a spending spree." "I think it's foolish to reduce taxes in an era of increased government spending and deficits," he said.

In Charleston, W. Va., elevator operator Charles Collins said every little bit helps. In Albany, N.Y., Esther Davis, saleswoman for a hotel chain, was enthusiastic. "Money is for spending," she said. "I can't wait." Optimistic was Paducah, Ky., banker Oscar Bryant, who said Kentucky may net up to a half-billion dollars in extra spendable income.

U. S. Business Views Risks

Some Fear Inflation as Tax Bill Result

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
NEW YORK (AP) — Many businessmen see a federal income tax cut as an exciting but possibly risky experiment.

It could lead to the kind of inflation, says Dr. Arnold O. Beckman, of Beckman Instruments in suburban Los Angeles, that would offset any benefits.

On the other hand, says Polard Turman, president of J. M. Tull Metals Co. in Atlanta, "It could bring a surge that would put us in a brand new era of economic growth."

Business leaders interviewed recently on a cross-country tour gave varying estimates of the specific effects of the legislation, now actual $11.5-billion tax reduction.

ALL AGREE

But all seemed agreed that tax rates have been too high for hearty economic growth.

"Tax rates have been oppressive," says John A. Barr, Chicago, chairman of Montgomery Ward & Co.

"This reduction is a good first step," Barr said. "It should not be considered as the end."

Many businessmen have been skeptical of the theory that a tax cut could eventually balance the budget because it would pick up business and produce additional tax revenue.

SPENDING CUTS

These businessmen say they don't want to bank on that alone, that they want spending cuts as well.

"We can't deny the inflationary aspect of a tax cut without cuts in government spending," says Beckman. "It should be accompanied by real cutbacks in spending."

John Hall, president of Potash Co. of America, says he is also concerned that labor unions might push for wage increases he feels might upset the economic appeal.

"So far," he said in his Denver office, "labor has been reasonable in its demands. What will happen now I don't know."

NO WORRY

Few of the businessmen interviewed agreed with a worry raised by economists who fear that the push of this year's tax cut will wear off next year when the government slows down pumping money into the economy.

Most businessmen seemed to agree with Turman, who said, "After all, the people will still be getting this saving next year; there's no reason to expect it to peter out like a pine knot in a campfire."

Amendment Fought by Milford Officials

BY PAT MCCARTY.
MILFORD — Led by President Wilbur Johnson, village officials are increasing their efforts to defeat the charter amendment that is to be put before the electorate in a little over a week.

The amendment to be considered March 9 would alter the method of special assessing for public improvements in the village.

Whether or not it passes will have an immediate effect on a proposed $213,000 street improvement program here. An Oakland County Circuit Court restraining order is holding action on the program in abeyance until after the vote.

The amendment would provide "that no special assess-

STRONG DOUBTS

The village's bonding attorneys have expressed strong doubts about the form of the proposed amendment, but Johnson is more concerned about its probable effect on public works programs.

In a statement released today, Johnson said the amendment could "hinder or prevent any public improvement such as streets, sanitary sewers, water mains, etc. where special assessment districts are involved."

If the change were made, he said, persons renting property in a proposed district could vote on the assessment but property owners not living in the district would be excluded from voting.

The village president noted that surrounding communities do not require "complicated and expensive" assessment elections.

FOR ONLY FEW

"An election might have to be held for as few as 10 or 12 property owners," he said.

"I am sorry there is a feeling that the village officials have been using 'ramrod tactics.' Believe me, we have thought about this for some two or three years," he added.

Johnson said that although different means of assessing have been used for other projects, the village has come to the point where "a step ahead has to be taken."

He urged electors to vote "no" on the proposal, thus backing the Village Council and the writers of the village charter adopted in 1958.

PUT ON BALLOT
The amendment was put on the ballot by some 135 voters who signed a petition circulated by former Village President Paul A. Elzner.

Johnson said that if the amendment fails at the polls the village's proposed street program will have been delayed about three weeks.

He was doubtful about the program's future if the people approve the change in procedure, adding that the improvements are long needed.

"We should have started this sort of thing probably 10 years ago," he said. "But nothing can be done unless there is special assessing. We just don't get enough money."

Orion Teen Code Goes to Students, Their Parents

LAKE ORION—Climaxing two years of work, the Orion Area Youth Guidance Committee is now distributing its parent-teen youth code.

Copies of the pocket-size rule book are being given to all students in grades seven through 12 and their parents, as well as area civic organizations.

Statements in the code are results of a survey of 2,000 teenagers and parents from the Lake Orion Community School District.

The pamphlet is intended to be used as a reference for parents and teen-agers in making decisions as to acceptable social behavior.

Jaycettes Sponsor Show in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — It will be time for fun in Ortonville Saturday.

The Ortonville Area Jaycettes Auxiliary (Jaycettes) is sponsoring a cartoon show and the appearance of "Mr. Magic" from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Brandon High School gymnasium.

Proceeds of the event will be turned over to the Jaycettes' state project, the Michigan Association for the Emotionally Disturbed Children.

The funds will be earmarked for a child in Brandon Township. Cochairmen of the show are Mrs. Dean Baker and Mrs. William Campbell.

DISTRIBUTE MANUALS—In order to help youngsters better understand their form of government, White Lake Township trustees are giving a Manual for Township Officials to each of the five schools with eighth grades in the township. William Odette, vice president of the Dublin School student council, accepted the reference book in behalf of his fellow students yesterday. With him are Supervisor Edward Chezy (center) and Trustee Walter H. Weinman, chairman of the township's Youth in Government Day planned for April.

Milford Names Four Women on Canvass Board

MILFORD—A quartet of women will sit as Milford's board of canvassers for the March 9 election here.

The board required by the new State Constitution was appointed for the upcoming election. Official two- and four-year terms will begin in November.

Members approved by the Village Council are Democrats Mrs. Reece Living, 666 Knight, and Mrs. Georgia Watkins, 125 First, and Republicans Mrs. Lawrence Hilliker, 618 Knight, and Mrs. Thomas Sutton, 625 Union.

Appointed to serve on the village's board of review are Gerald Lee, 204 Mont Eagle, and Neil Braun, 525 Mill. Listening to assessment appeals with Moe Miller, they will replace Floyd Sands and Howard Reid, both of whom resigned.

Church Group to Plan Day

ROCHESTER — A steering committee has been formed to lay plans for a World's Fair Day May 14 at the First Congregational Church.

Committee members are Mrs. Edward Alward, Mrs. Harold Pepper, Mrs. Conrad Leopold, Betty Arscott and a dozen more still to be appointed.

Rev. Robert Jacobson will serve as consultant along with Mrs. Don Kemler, chairman of the Women's Fellowship which is sponsoring the event.

Purpose of the fair is to acquaint the church and community with the current concerns of the church at home and abroad.

It also will provide fun and entertainment for the entire family from 3 to 9 p.m. Featured will be games, displays, movies, booths and refreshments in a carnival setting.

from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and on Thursday, March 12, 1964, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. for the purpose of reviewing the 1964 Tax Assessment Rolls for the Township of Bloomfield.

MSU Researcher Sees Farm Decline in Thumb

A Michigan State University agricultural researcher predicts that the number of farms in the state's Thumb area will decline by 1967.

Small dairy farms will decrease more rapidly than the other various types sampled, according to Dr. John R. Brake, MSU agricultural economist. He added that the land now being used by these farms will be mainly absorbed by larger farmers.

Demand for land will be increased by a desire to expand on the part of many farmers. Good land may command a price as high as $1,000 per acre and land suitable only for pasture may sell for $200.

In spite of the increasing farm size, the number of part-time farmers will increase, said Brake.

SPECIALIZATION
Specialization and intensification of farming will continue on surviving farms, mostly toward larger dairy and beef operations. More crops to feed these additional animals will accompany the increase.

HARRIETTE BURRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Burress, 2811 Willowood, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriette, to Roderick Polzin Jr. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the senior Roderick Polzins, 1126 Macdonald, Avon Township. An August wedding is planned.

Feud Still Halts Board Meeting

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — When will the Township Board be able to hold an official meeting again?

This was the question that remained yesterday after the latest installment in the case of the absent clerk left opposing sides stalemated in the township's political feud.

Contempt of court charges against the clerk—Township Clerk Mrs. Arlie Gray—were dismissed in Oakland County Circuit Court without objection from the man who had brought the charges, Township Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy.

Thus ended Kennedy's attempt to insure an official township meeting by forcing Mrs. Gray to attend through court action.

LACK OF QUORUM

The absence of Mrs. Gray and Trustee Aubrey Dunn—plus the existence of two vacancies on the board—has thwarted Kennedy.

Dance Club to Mark First Anniversary
Featuring entertainment of the "Mountain Boys," the affair will begin at 8:30 p. m. and continue until 11:30.

All intermediate level dancers in the area are invited. Chuck Becker will be caller and Mrs. Don Ashley will assist with round dancing.

Saturday's event will be the first undertaken by the new club officers. They are Ed Siewert, president; Bob Boncher, vice president; John Cracium, treasurer; Mrs. Ernest Formolo, recording secretary; and Mrs. H. F. Garvin, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Lee Truit, permanent hostess.

Housing Choice Is Topic
ROCHESTER — "Free Choice on Housing" will be the topic of discussion at the second of a series of open meetings on human and race relations for citizens of the Rochester area.

The meeting will be held Monday 8 p. m. at St. Philip's Episcopal Church. Sponsored by the recently formed Rochester Committee on Human Relations, the series drew 90 Rochester residents to its opening meeting Feb. 17.

Mrs. Rita A. Scott, supervisor of the Education Services Division of the City of Detroit's Commission on Community Relations, will be the speaker Monday night.

WITH COMMISSION
Prior to her service with this commission, Mrs. Scott spent eight years with the Detroit Housing Commission. She has a master's degree in clinical psychology from Wayne State and received her bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Scott is active in such community organizations as the YWCA and NAACP and is a member of the Youth Employment Committee of the Detroit Commission on Children and Youth.

nullified Feb. 4 in Circuit Court because they lacked a quorum of four.

It was then that they obtained a court order requiring Mrs. Gray to take minutes of official meetings or see that they were taken.

FAILED TO APPEAR

When Mrs. Gray failed to appear for a meeting called by Kennedy for the next night, he accused her of contempt of court.

Mrs. Gray answered that she sent a deputy to take the minutes because she was sick, but that there was no meeting, anyway. There was still no quorum. Supporters of Mrs. Gray and Dunn hope to end the stalemate with their recall drive against Kennedy, Miles and Woodard.

Union Lake Clubs Plan Joint Party

UNION LAKE—The noon and evening Optimist Clubs of Union Lake are planning a joint anniversary party for March 7.

A smorgasbord dinner has been scheduled for 7 p.m. at K-Falls, 1900 Hillier, West Bloomfield Township. Entertainment and dancing will round out the evening.

Reservations should be made by March 4 with Tom Lemaster, 2342 Ellery, Waterford Township.

Lake Orion Takes Bids for School

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion School Board moved closer to remodeling the overcrowded classroom situation in the district last night, by taking under advisement bids for the new $1.1-million junior high school.

To be erected on a 20-acre site adjacent to the high school, the new facility is being financed by the $2-million school expansion package voters okayed last July.

Bids for construction will be let at the board's March 4 session. The offers were opened last night.

Under review is the Leslie Construction Co.'s bid of $724,164, for general work. The construction firm which was lowest of eight bidders, has its headquarters in Ferndale.

ANOTHER BID

Another base low bid being reviewed is for mechanical work by Kraft Plumbing and Heating Co., Detroit—$245,200.

The electrical base bids of Fred Moele Co., $112,692, and Bell Electric Co., $108,870, are also being considered, along with the bids' alternates. Both are Pontiac firms.

Date set for completion of the new school is July 15, 1965. "We're very happy with the bidding," Schools Supt. A. A. Reed said today. "Our estimates were right on target."

COMBINATION SCHOOL

When in operation, the junior high will accommodate some 1,200 students. A combination one-and-two-story building, it will contain 34 classrooms, a cafeteria, library and athletic facilities.

A science room, industrial arts shop and home economics unit are also called for in the specifications.

Carroll-Fraser

Pair Wed in Florida

UNION LAKE — Joan Sarah Fraser recently became the bride of Carl Cullen Carroll in a double-ring ceremony at Christ the King Lutheran Church, Largo, Fla.

Rev. Otto Schultz, formerly of Pontiac, officiated at the evening wedding.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. J. B. Donnelly Jr. of Largo, Fla., and Burnell B. Fraser of 610 Union Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Maurice Godfrey of St. Augustine, Fla., and the late Cullen Carroll.

Jan Aird of Union Lake was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Nancy Garrod of Largo, Fla.

Serving as best man was Mike McVernon with Wayne Walker venting the guests.

A reception was held at the Outrigger Inn, St. Petersburg, Fla., following the rites.

The newlyweds are making their home at Indian Rocks, Beach, Fla.

Maples Quintet to Risk EML Hopes

Seaholm Bids for Cage Title at E. Detroit

Ferndale Finishing
With Port Huron
Raiders Eye Crown

Early in January, Birmingham Seaholm was riding along in the Eastern Michigan League race with a 3-3 record.

The Maples were almost counted out of the race at that stage, but they made an about face and won seven games in a row to move into a deadlock with Ferndale for the loop lead.

And tomorrow night, the squad will move into East Detroit needing a victory for take home a share of the EML title.

Seaholm and Ferndale are 10-3 in EML competition.

Ferndale is almost certain to wrap up a piece of the title with a home date against Port Huron, a squad that has won but once in 14 tries.

Other games on the EML slate have Hazel Park at Mount Clemens and Royal Oak Kimball at Roseville.

NO EASY TASK

Seaholm's task at East Detroit will not be an easy one.

The ED squad (9-5) has rolled up four wins in a row and has one of the top scorers in the area in Dick Williamson.

The Maples have thrived on balance in fighting their way into title contention.

Mark Fritz is the top scorer on the Seaholm unit with an average of 11.5 a game. Four other players are close to the 10-point mark—Bruce Nyberg, Ron Jacobsen, Jeff Meyer and Harold Wilber.

TITLE DECISION

North Farmington will invade Detroit Thurston in a battle that will decide the Northwest Suburban League championship.

Thurston heads the loop with a 7-4 mark and the Raiders are a game back at 6-1. A second game on the schedule has Oak Park at Livonia Franklin.

W-O Race Faces Tie

The race for top honors in area basketball leagues will come to a close tomorrow night, and in two of the loops, the top contenders are expected to finish in a dead heat.

Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills occupy the top rung on the Wayne-Oakland League ladder and both have relatively easy assignments in their 1963-64 finals.

And the story is the same for Troy and Fitzgerald in the Oakland A loop.

Clarkston (11-2) has a road date at Northville, and the Barons (11-2) will entertain Clarencville. Other loop contests have Brighton at West Bloomfield and Holly at Milford.

Clarkston was missing half of its 1-2 punch of Ken Miskin and Dan Craven earlier in the season when it clocked out a 40-45 decision over the Northville live.

Miskin saw limited service in that game but he has been on target in his latest outings, scoring 33 points in the Wolves' win over Clarencville and Oxford.

Golf's Big 3 at Tough Meet

New Orleans' Open
Attracts Best Pros

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The finest golfers in the history of the Greater New Orleans Open, lured by the tourney's richest purse, start play today for a share of the $30,000.

The 150 pros, who compete with 10 amateurs, include nine of the top 10 money winners from the 1963 circuit.

The weatherman expected occasional rain over a brisk, low 50-degree reading for the tee-off over the tricky 7,020-yard, par 72 Lakewood Country Club golf course.

Golf's Big Three — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player — were on hand, but so was Bo Wingner, who went almost unnoticed last year. He paid no attention to the reputations of the gallery favorites and went on to win the title for the second straight year.

The field will be trimmed to the low 80 pros after Friday's round. Sunday's final round will be restricted to the low 60 pros and amateurs.

The Barons will take a seven-game winning streak into the game against Clarencville, a team that handed the Hills units one of its two defeats.

West Bloomfield (7-3) will have an opportunity to even its season record when the Brighton (1-14) team arrives.

Holly (8-6) will be bidding for a share of third place in the loop race in the contest at Milford (4-11). The Redskins have lost six in a row.

In the Oakland A, Troy (13-2) will entertain Rochester (2-12), Warren Cousino (8-7) has a date at Fitzgerald (12-2), Avondale (2-12) plays host to Clawson (6-9) and Madison (5-10) journeys to Lake Orion (9-5).

Lake Orion finished sixth in the race last season and a win tomorrow night would sew up the third slot in the loop.

Avondale's Yellow Jackets will be trying to snap a five-game losing streak at Clawson's expense. The Hawks dropped a 63-56 decision to the visitors earlier in the season.

PNH, Seaholm Score Wins in Dual Meets

Pontiac Northern and Birmingham Seaholm scored dual meet swim victories last night, but all Oakland County area swimming teams are now pointing for their respective league meets and the state meet which are forthcoming.

Northern whipped Grand Blanc, 73-32, and Seaholm won over Warren Fitzgerald 60-42. PNH is now 9-3 for the season. Seaholm ended its dual season with a 13-0 mark and 42nd straight over 4 years.

The 200 freestyle relay team tied the county mark in 1:31.9 despite Fitzgerald's effort of 1:35.9 which was a varsity record.

PRELIMINARIES
Preliminaries in the Eastern Michigan League swim league got started at Seaholm pool at 6:30 p.m. tonight with the diving event and the 400 freestyle prelims.

Friday, the dual meet swim schedule comes to a close with Pontiac Northern visiting Birmingham Groves, and Pontiac Central traveling to Arthur Hill.

Late Rally Wins for Broncos

By The Associated Press

Western Michigan rallied to edge Toledo 90-89 in a Mid-American Conference game, and Calvin beat Olivet 91-69 to clinch at least a share of the MIAA championship Wednesday night.

In other Michigan college basketball games, Alma defeated Adrian 110-75; Kalamazoo outlasted Hope 102-98, and Albion upset Eastern Michigan 86-79.

COMBINATION

Western's guards Manny Newsum and Dave Anderson sparked a late Bronco surge which overcame an 83-70 Toledo lead. Anderson's field goal tied the score at 87-87 with 2:59 left.

Newsum put the Broncos ahead with a tip-in 23 seconds later. Anderson capped the scoring with a free throw.

Newsome and Ajac Triplett led Western with 27 and 26 points, respectively. Ray Wolford topped Toledo with 24 points. The victory gave the Broncos a 5-6 league mark. Toledo is 4-5 in MAC play.

Jim VanEerden's 21 points paced Calvin over Olivet. Calvin, which led at the half, 49-37, boasts a 10-1 record with one game to go. A victory would clinch the MIAA title. Olivet, 6-1, had the game's high scorer in Mike Rabbers. He had 22.

Alma, assured of at least second place with a 10-2 MIAA record, ended the season with a victory over Adrian at home. Alma's Bud Acton broke the conference scoring record with a 32-point effort. His 389 total points surpassed the previous mark of 366 set by Hope's Warren Vanderhill in 1958.

RANKS 10TH
Acton, who has scored 615 points in 21 games for Alma this year, ranks 10th among the nation's small college scorers with a 29.1 average. Don Numbers' 20 points paced Adrian.

Kalamazoo led all the way in beating Hope behind Dick Johnson's 22 points. The victory gave the Hornets a 6-5 MIAA record. Hope, 4-7 in the league, got 24 points from Glenn Van Wieren and 22 from Ron Vanhuizen.

Captain Jerry Chandler sparked a second half rally to give Albion its fifth victory in 10 games in a non-league affair with Eastern Michigan. Eastern led at the half 48-36. Then the 6-foot-3 Chandler took charge. He ended up with 23 points, 22 rebounds and seven assists. Eastern, 9-7 for the season, had the game's high scorer in Ed Gallup who netted 27 points.

Hot-Shooting Pistons Fall to Crippled 76er Quintet

DETROIT (AP)—Even Bailey Howell's 42 points and a 52.7 field goal shooting mark couldn't win for the Detroit Pistons Wednesday night.

Philadelphia got 16 points from inductible Johnny Kerr in a fourth quarter spur to beat Detroit 130-122. The 76ers need either one more victory or one more New York Knicks defeat to clinch the last playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

In other NBA games Wednesday night, Los Angeles beat the Cincinnati Royals 103-97 and Boston defeated Baltimore 100-87.

The Pistons, who hit on 48 of 91 shots, led through the game and carried a 100-93 advantage into the final quarter. Kerr, who scored 36 points to pace the 76ers, finally put his undermanned club ahead. The big center, playing his record 22nd straight NBA game, is one of the few able-bodied players coach Delph Schayes has left.

With three players already sidelined, Schayes lost another when forward Connie Dierking turned an ankle in the first half.

The Lakers' Jim King scored 17 points in 20 minutes to spark the Los Angeles victory over the Royals. The loss dropped Cincinnati 2½ games behind eastern leader Boston. Elgin Baylor paced Los Angeles with 35 points, Oscar Robertson potted 32 for the Royals.

Mt. Holly Sets Skiing Mardi-Gras

Hockey Squad Finds Victory Despite Defeat

Lose one start and advance to the state championship round.

That's the bizarre progress of the Rochester-Pontiac entry in the state and Lower Peninsula Senior Class A ice hockey playoffs.

The team, an all star squad drawn from the ranks of General Motors Tech's six-team league, lost its only start to Livonia, but the winners were declared ineligible for using unauthorized players.

The Rochester-Pontiac six then moved into the final round against Detroit Adray. That clash is scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday at Gordie Howe's St. Clair Shores Hockeyland.

The county representative includes Al Kruger of Commerce, John Stegall of Pontiac, Robert Bennett of Utica and Al Quenell of Rochester on its roster.

Admission is $1 and also includes the state juvenile playoff contest.

Davisburg Riders Take Show Ribbons

Students at Miley's Riding School in Davisburg captured eight ribbons at the Flint Riding Club's Amateur Schooling Show last weekend.

Top performers from Davisburg were Mike and Sharon Miley, whose father, Gene, owns the riding school.

Mike and Sharon finished 1-3 in the intermediate junior horse-manship competition, and Sharon placed second and Mike third in jumping. Sharon also grabbed sixth place in flat horsemanship (no jumping).

Other ribbon winners from the Davisburg school were Christine Byrnes (4th), Cathy Robertson (5th) and Barbara Laskowski (6th) in new rider competition.

Mt. Summit Ski Area Has Saturday Races

The annual Mt. Summit ski races will be held Saturday with downhill and slalom events in various age groups.

Trophies and medals will be awarded in each group and all skiers can enter up to the time of their respective race. The races will start at 10:00 a.m.

Central Methodist 5 Leads Church League

Y.M.C.A. SENIOR DIVISION

Central Methodist 5, St. Paul Methodist 4, Trinity Baptist 3, First Baptist 2, All Saints 1.

Central Methodist won the driver's seat last week in the Y.M.C.A. Church Basketball League's senior division, but the runner-up 'fives will battle for their last chance Friday.

First Congregational and Trinity Baptist both trail the leader by one game and will clash in the feature game of a four-team program this week.

Trinity fell from its top first place game when Macedonia Baptist took a 54-52 win last week from the defending champs. Central, meanwhile, topped All Saints Episcopal, 68-54.

The Methodists now will meet the bottom ranking quintets in their final three games.

First Congregational stayed in the race with a 62-61 thriller over First Baptist. Last week's other contest found Oakland Park Methodist taking St. Paul Methodist, 50-25.

FRIDAY'S SCHEDULE
4 p.m.—All Saints vs. St. Paul Methodist
6 p.m.—Macedonia vs. First Baptist
8:30 p.m.—First Congregational vs. Trinity

Goalie Untouchable

Montreal Nips Leafs

By The Associated Press
Forgive Puny Imah if he can't figure out Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge. None of Hodge's Toronto Maple Leaf hockey players has been able to solve Hodge lately, either.

The National Hockey League Stanley Cup champions had gone nearly three games without scoring a goal against Hodge. But that was before Imah, Toronto's general manager and coach, swung a mammoth seven player trade with New York acquiring two accomplished 200-goal scorers, Andy Bathgate and Don McKenney, to beef up his club's firepower.

NEW LOOK
The new look Leafs took on Hodge again Wednesday and all they got was another great big shutout. Bernie Geoffrion's second period goal was all Hodge needed as he blanked the Leafs, 1-0.

The victory gave Montreal a two-point lead over the idle Chicago Black Hawks in the battle for the NHL lead and it gave Hodge a big kick.

It was the fourth shutout in the last five games for Hodge against the Leafs. In those five meetings he has allowed just one shot to get by—a sizzler by Jim Pappin in a 2-1 Canadian victory Jan. 29.

Two free throws by Rick Bianga in the final minute of play carried Detroit St. Joseph to a 69-67 upset victory over St. Michael Wednesday evening.

The Mikemen handled the Detroiters with ease in an earlier contest, 73-51, but they faltered at the foul line on the way court and dropped their fifth game of the season.

Bianga was the top gunner for the winners. He tossed in five field goals and added 11 of 13 attempts at the charity line.

Sen. Tower Tells How

'Barry to Be Nominated'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John G. Tower predicted today Sen. Barry Goldwater will combine the South with three big states and "nickel and dime his opponents to death" for the GOP presidential nomination.

Tower, Texas Republican who has been beating the bushes for Goldwater delegates, said his travels convince him the Arizona senator is picking up speed in his nomination drive and will be unstoppable if he wins the June 2 California primary.

"Barry is already assured of the solid support of Texas' 56 delegates," Tower said in an interview. "He's going to get Illinois' 58 and when he wins California's 86, he will have three of the six biggest delegations at the convention."

THE SOLID SOUTH

"The South is going to be solid for Goldwater. With that base, and the three big states, he'll nickel and dime his opponents to death with the support he will get from smaller delegations."

Tower predicted that the senator will collect all of North Carolina's 26 convention votes Saturday. He said there was no question that Republicans in Oklahoma will line up their 22 votes for Goldwater the same day.

Goldwater, who spoke at an invitational fund-raising dinner in Palm Springs, Fla. Wednesday night, will address the North Carolina convention at Greensboro Saturday after a talk before the National Press Club here Friday.

NO TAX VOTE

Because of Wednesday's trip, Goldwater did not vote on the final compromise version of the $11.5-billion tax reduction bill. However, he was announced as opposed to its passage.

Goldwater also was absent Wednesday when the Senate voted to hold the House-passed civil rights bill on its calendar—ready for possible moves to bring it up next week—instead of sending it to its judiciary committee.

Couch Reveals Lost Treasure

MIAMI (AP) — Finding hidden treasure is part of the job for upholsterers.

Hy Katz, a veteran in the business, tells of a woman who used a sofa for a bank and called in great distress after her husband unexpectedly sent it out for renovation. Katz found $299 in the sofa's crevices.

Another upholsterer, Leonard Caplin, got a $100 tip for finding a long-lost diamond ring.

His company, at one time found money so frequently that it printed envelopes for returning it. They said:

"We found this in your furniture—hope you spend it well."

Soviet Superhighway in Planning Stages

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet authorities announced Wednesday night plans for a 1,250-mile superhighway from Moscow to Chelyabinsk, heart of the Ural industrial area.

The government news agency Tass said the road will bypass cities and bridge intersecting roads.

Films Are Smashing Success

Cinema Agent Salves England's Ego

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Sean Connery, who plays secret agent James Bond on the screen, has a theory on why the great of a countryman who faced international villains and voluptuous females with equal fearlessness. Apparently the unwavering Bond continues to rule Britain. United Artists gleefully reports that the second of the Fleming films, "From Russia With Love," has already recovered its $1,850,000 cost in England.

So the American receipts will be much graver, or—to fit Bond's delicate taste—borderline.

REPEAT SUCCESS

No doubt the new film will repeat the success of "Dr. No," a surprise hit of 1963. "From Russia With Love" is the same kind of relentless entertainment, so ingeniously gimmicked and so outrageously plotted as to defy complaisance. Outlining the plot is about as easy as capitalizing the event that led to World War II. Suffice to say that this time Agent 007 is sent to Istanbul to accommodate a beautiful secretary at the Soviet consulate who will defect only to him. Only she is not really defecting; she has been duped by a counter-counter-agent—who—oh, forget it.

A logical continuity cannot be written because there is none. These films are a throwback to the Saturday matinee serials that were a Hollywood staple for many a year.

The formula is simple. Every five or ten minutes, Bond is bottled in a tight or deadly situ-

Film Clothes Designer Succumbs to Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Orry-Kelly, 67, motion picture costume designer who won three Academy awards, died Wednesday of cancer of the liver. Orry-Kelly, who came to Hollywood in 1931 and hyphenated his first and last names, was chief designer for Warner Brothers from 1931 to 1945 and later for 20th Century-Fox.

ation. Will he get out? Of course. The only difference between these films and oldtime serials is that you don't have to wait until next Saturday to find out what happens.

MODERN DESIGN

The Bond picture has the advantages of modern design. The scenery — Venice, Turkey, the Balkans — is exotic and colorful. The sadism is laid on with a deft touch — death fights of gypsy girls, a wide variety of garrottings, jado chops and other lethal devices, including a shoe-tie stiletto with 12-second poison. I counted eight individual murders and one mass battle.

There is sex. A parade of leggy, languorous beauties appears ready to surrender to the suave, furry-chested Bond, and most do.

Not many actors could pull off such an improbable characterization, but Scotsman Connery manages. He provides the proper touch of virility and daring, leavened with a sizable amount of wit.

One brief moment in "From Russia With Love" was a gem. Visiting a camp of pro-Western gypsies, Bond finds himself caught in an attack by Russian agents. Amid shooting on the stockade and covered wagons going up in flames, an arrow whizzes past Bond's ear. He considers the anachronism for an instant, shrugs and continues fighting.

That made the whole thing seem worthwhile.

Rep. Law Says Public in Favor of His Whipping Bill

Pontiac's Democratic State Rep. Arthur J. Law says that, despite criticism, his bill to permit public whippings for juvenile lawbreakers is supported by most of the public.

He says some 90 letters he has received are running about seven to one in favor of the proposal, and telephone calls and personal comments have been about 10 to one for it.

Mail on the subject ranging from praise to abuse has come to him from as far away as California, British Columbia,

Florida and Massachusetts, Law said.

"I am 100 per cent for your bill," wrote a man who signed his postcard, "Allen Park father of 5."

BRAVO, BRAVO
"Bravo, bravo, for your courage," wrote a San Francisco, Calif., citizen. "The modern hunkypanky of psychiatry and a Kansas City Mo., mother loves the best biblical advice of all — spare the rod and spoil the child."

A woman teacher from Pontiac believed in "using the rod if you can't reach the child with other means."

But another Pontiac woman, saying she was a Democrat who never vote for Law again, called him "cruel and sadistic."

A Wisconsin letter writer suggested to the legislator that he "go back to Nazi Germany," and a Kansas City Mo., mother loves the best biblical advice of all — spare the rod and spoil the child.

Policemen Needed in Waterford

During last fall's budget sessions, the Township Board authorized an additional four patrolmen, effective the first of this year.

Since then only two of 14 candidates have successfully completed two separate civil service examinations for the positions.

The most recent addition to the department is John Becker, who will begin duties Monday, Becker, 22, of 402 Sawyer, was the long survivor among eight hopefuls who took an exam last week.

NET GAIN
Complicating the personnel problem in the department is the fact that the chief resigned three weeks ago. This leaves a net gain of one man.

Capt. William Stokes is commanding officer pending selection of a new chief. Stokes and Lt. Frank Randolph will vie for the top job in written and oral examinations slated for March 7, and March 12 respectively. A group from Michigan State University will administer the tests.

The fire department was authorized six new men by the Township Board now in full strength.

Five newcomers joined the department last month and the final recruit, Gilbert Horton, 25, of 2121 Wilhite, was the lone successful candidate of five who took an exam last week.

Horton, a member of the volunteer firefighters for four years, will start work Tuesday if the pending report on his physical examination is favorable.

Man Is Held in Hunt Death

The man who reportedly pulled the trigger is being held in the Oakland County jail pending investigation.

Leroy E. Weiss of Ecorse died shortly after 10 last night, about six hours after being admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia.

Novi police said he was shot by Ambrose J. Beaton, 22, of River Road. The bullet from a .22-caliber rifle entered his right cheek, they said.

FOUR HUNTING
According to Chief Lee Beaton, the men were in a party of four hunting near Meadowbrook.

Witnesses reported that Beaton had been shooting the gun "in a careless manner," firing shots into the ground and into his car, Beaton said.

Charges will be determined after a conference today with Prosecuting Attorney George F. Taylor, Beaton said.

Taxes on distilled spirits, beer and fermented liquor have been reduced by the Federal Government nearly 90 per cent of its internal revenue between 1968 and 1973.

Johnson Flies to Florida on First Political Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flies to Florida today on his first obviously political journey since becoming chief executive three months ago.

The President's principal destination was the Miami metropolitan area. First, however, he breaks ground near Palatka for a $146-million cross-Florida barge canal that has long been the dream of the state's predominantly Democratic congressional delegation.

The Florida trip took on a predominantly political view by virtue of Johnson's engagement to address a Democratic fund-raising dinner at Miami Beach tonight. It was the first affair of its kind on Johnson's schedule since he became President last Nov. 22.

Had Johnson's Florida schedule included only the Democratic festival, his political party would have been obliged to pick up the transportation tab.

New Library in Waterford Used Heavily

Waterford Township's newly established public library has zoomed into second place in book circulation in the nine-member North Oakland Library Cooperative.

Opened Jan. 12, the new library's circulation of 1,235 NOLC books for the balance of January exceeded full-month totals of all members except the Pontiac Library.

Pontiac libraries circulated 4,648 NOLC books last month, according to Miss Phyllis Pope, Pontiac librarian and director of NOLC.

Ranking in third place behind Waterford was Oxford with 782 circulation followed by Walled Lake with 771, according to Miss Pope.

BOOKS CIRCULATED
Mrs. Richard Lee, Waterford Township librarian, said that the new library circulated 1,786 NOLC books during the first two weeks of February.

Unexpected Receipts and Savings

The Oakland County government spent $327,561 more than was budgeted for 1963, and still ended the year with a balance of $5,359.

While the budget called for $15.3 million, expenditures actually totaled $15.8 million.

The difference was more than covered by receipts and an unexpected savings in personnel costs, explained Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors.

He said receipts produced $182,103 more than had been estimated when the budget was prepared.

A $290,817 savings was realized through senior employees leaving and being replaced by new personnel at starting salaries, Murphy added.

County budgets had expected to save only $120,000 by personnel turnover last year. This figure was estimated at the usual turnover rate of 18 per cent.

Actually, closer to 25 per cent of the county employees left last year.

He credited increased receipts mainly to the clerk-register's office and the Probate Courts where statutory rates were raised during the year.

USE OF FUNDS
According to the chairman, the additional funds were used as follows:

Funds to construct children's village units for juvenile inmates, $103,210; toward financing a $16-million county budget this year, $50,000; for expenditures that exceeded what had been budgeted for last year, $174,351.

Murphy said expenditures that exceeded budgeted amounts were for adult hospitalization under the welfare program and for the care of mentally ill persons both in state institutions and at St. Clair Hospital.

"I'd like to have county finances turn out as well this year," Murphy added. "If we could get $158,000, we would be very lucky."

RISE IN COSTS
He said such a sum probably would be used up to meet rising costs for the care of more mentally ill persons.

The amount, if it materialized, would equal slightly less than 1 per cent of the budget.

Annual Confab of Dems to Air LBJ Programs

By JIM DYVERT
Last year it was Lyndon B. Johnson — then U.S. vice president — who was the star attraction at the Michigan Democratic Party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day celebration.

This year it will be one of Johnson's pet programs. Some 500 Oakland County Democrats are expected to be among more than 3,000 party faithful hoping to learn more about President Johnson's "war on poverty," including where to fight it.

The President's attack on poverty will be the subject for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day program scheduled for March 21 at Detroit's Light Guard Armory on Eight Mile Road.

DISCUSSION GROUPS
Plans call for discussion groups and workshops on Michigan's part in the poverty war in daytime session to be climaxed in the evening by the annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Although they hardly can hope to match last year's attraction, Democrats are hoping to get a nationally prominent speaker for the dinner.

A good drawing card would give them confidence of kicking off the 1964 campaign here with a rousingly successful dinner, the state party's chief fund-raising event of the year at $30-a-plate ($40 per couple).

Leading state Democrats will take part in the daytime discussions and workshops, according to County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin.

INFORM PEOPLE
"The daytime program will both inform people of the problems we face and suggest courses of action we can take right here at home," Levin said.

Good Crowd for Burton; or Was Liz Attraction?

TORONTO (AP) — Did they come to see Richard Burton play Hamlet on stage or to see Elizabeth Taylor in the audience? That was the question.

Burton opened in Toronto's O'Keefe Center Wednesday night in the title role of a modern dress "Hamlet" headed for a Broadway run under the direction of Sir John Gielgud. The critic of Toronto's only morning newspaper had qualified praise for the Welsh actor's performance.

But Miss Taylor's fans were disappointed. She ducked into a rear theater entrance half an hour before curtain time and remained backstage throughout the performance, avoiding 50 onlookers huddled in a light snow in front of the theater and 3,200 others in the audience.

GOT A LOOK

About 600 first nighters got a look at Miss Taylor at a later reception as she sat with her back to Burton whispering to British actor Lawrence Harvey. Burton was absorbed in a post-mortem with Eileen Herlie, who played Queen Gertrude.

Gielgud staged the three-hour production as if it were a rehearsal, but without director's interruptions. The cast wore everyday dress, with Burton in black slacks, a white T-shirt and a black sweater.

The director, one of the century's most notable Hamlets,

NAACP in County to Join Protest

President of the Oakland County chapter of the NAACP, Lynn V. Hoove, yesterday said his group will participate in a nationally organized racial demonstration March 24.

"We have committed at work now on how our effort will be organized and how our demonstration will be carried out," Hoove said.

He explained that the demonstration is being organized by the National NAACP organization and is the first of its kind planned on this scale.

Master plan for the local protest will be set up at a meeting of the chapter's executive board March 9, to be followed by a special membership meeting March 23.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

'Flutterbrain' Marie Wilson Gets a Wee Bit Lost in NY

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It's a crazy, crazy village we live in... Marie Wilson, the flutterbrain starring at the Latin Quarter, got lost trying to get to the "Girl Talk" TV show... Hunting the Elysee Theater, she arrived at the Elysee Hotel blocks away... A kindly cop steered her right saying: "Just because you play those dumb blond parts, you don't have to be so dumb..." On the program she was asked if blonds have the most fun... "Liz Taylor has lots of fun," she replied, vaguely.

Pat Collins, the gal night club hypnotist from Los Angeles, hypnotized a waiter Dave Zimler, at the Stage Delicatessen the other morning and got excellent, immediate and exclusive service.

On-the-wagon Bill Holden told a friend that since he gave up laughing water, "The girls aren't half so pretty and the jokes aren't half so funny..." So embarrassing for Comedian Marty Allen: When he got down on his knees to how before Joan Crawford at a dinner at the Americana, he split his pants all the way.

George Raft happily told friends at Chateau-Madrid that Ed Sullivan booked him for March 1—to do a French tango he introduced in 1926... Our old friend, wheel-chair disc jockey Great Scott, at KTRM, Beaumont, Texas, has a Saturday night hootenanny that he calls a "hootenanny."

You may have missed it but Garry Moore explained his beef against CBS on his CBS radio show—with Duward Kirby asking the questions. (CBS didn't delete it.) Garry said he'd be going off the air entirely (due to cancellation of his Tuesday show) because he just couldn't picture himself working a few hours a week on "I've Got a Secret"—just coming in and grabbing the money.

"What does your wife think of it?" Kirby asked Garry... "She's delighted," said Garry. "She thinks I've been working too hard anyway."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Eddie Fisher took a night off from his cafe stint in San Juan here to raise $17,300 for the U.S. Olympic fund. Jackie Kennedy's secretary Pamela Turnure, met him at the airport... Peggy Cass took off ten days from her TV chores to go skiing at Lake Placid... Jimmy Dean's investing in an underground home that'll be exhibited at the Fair (and installing one on his Virginia ranch).

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Milt Kamen said at Danny's his family was very poor: "In fact, when I was a kid we thought knives and forks were jewelry."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "You can complain because rose bushes have thorns, or rejoice that thorn bushes have roses. It's all how you look at it." That's Earl, brother.

Emperor Haile Selassie, the 225th consecutive Solomonic leader of Ethiopia, was crowned in 1930.

59th Birthday Is Celebrated by Rotarians

Rotary International is observing its 59th anniversary this week with 544,000 Rotarians throughout the world joining in the celebration.

The Pontiac Rotary Club with its 140 members is a counterpart of the organization which has established itself in 11,600 communities in 125 countries.

The local organization of business and professional men meets every Thursday for a fellowship luncheon at the Waldron Hotel and to plan their program of service activities.

More than 600,000 American motorists lock themselves out of their cars every year.

Queen Mother to Rest

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth will convalesce from her appendicitis operation aboard the royal yacht Britannia in the Caribbean next month, her household announced Wednesday night.

She will fly to Jamaica via New York by scheduled airliner, arriving March 12, and return to England April 1.

Registration Set for High School Evening Classes

Registration for the spring term classes for high school credit will begin Wednesday, March 4, in the office of the Vocational Building at Pontiac Central High School.

Persons may register during the day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through March 12 and from 7-9 p.m. on March 5 and 12.

Each class meets two evenings per week from 7-10 p.m. for ten weeks. Classes offered include English, social studies and mathematics.

A registration fee of $20 per subject is payable at the time of registration.

New Home Bugs Her

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. J. L. Day moved here with her husband three years ago and had a hard time getting used to spiders, mosquitos, sand fleas and other insects which were more abundant than they had been in her northern home. One day recently she dumped her clothes in the washer, and when she pulled them out, a dead snake tumbled out also. "That settles it," Mrs. Day said. "We're getting out of here."

The red carnation, favorite flower of President McKinley, was adopted by his native state of Ohio as its official flower.

Cuba Seeks Deal With U.S. Firms

VANDALS RUN WILD — A food mixer lies broken on the floor of the kitchen in the Hawthorne School after vandals ransacked through the building, ransacking or damaging almost every room. Pontiac police are investigating.

Like a Small Tornado

Vandals Hit Pontiac School

By JIM LONG

Vandals hit Hawthorne Elementary School with the force of a small tornado last night, scattering wreckage in almost every corner of the building.

Only a few classrooms in the school at 1400 N. Telegraph escaped the vandalism that spread throughout administrative offices, kitchen, gymnasium and hallways.

Splintered glass from windows and showcases littered every floor.

School engineer Lewis Anthony, 27, of 6443 Wilson, discovered the building in shambles at 12:50 a.m. today.

BUILDING LOCKED

The building had been vacant since only 11:30 p.m. when it was locked by another custodian.

A kitchen clock stopped at 12:30 a.m. when its plug was pulled from an electric outlet.

Damage has been estimated by school officials at $3,000. Though damage was heavy, classes were conducted as normal today.

The office of the principal, William E. Neff, suffered the most extensive damage.

DOORS SMASHED

Glass doors and partitions were smashed, a fish tank broken as well as a duplicating machine. A typewriter was hurled through a glass window and into the corridor, important papers and records strewn across the floor.

The entire office was holed down with a fire extinguisher.

Holes were stabbed in framed pictures throughout the building.

MACHINE FLOORED

In the gymnasium, a popcorn machine was tipped over and popcorn thrown on the floor. A handle was pried off a refrigerator and food thrown over the entire area.

The adjoining kitchen had its walls splattered with jars of catsup, mayonnaise and pickles.

A large food mixer was smashed when it was pushed from a table and onto the floor. So was a radio.

A mirror in the kitchen lavatory was in a thousand pieces.

Another fire extinguisher was used to spray the floor of the library.

The school clinic had papers strewn about.

A mirror and lamp shade was broken in the teachers' lounge and furniture was overturned.

Pontiac police, who are investigating the vandalism today said entry was gained after a window was broken on the south side of the building.

Train Blocks Crossing in Front of China Chief

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A speeding express train flashed over a grade crossing just ahead of Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's motorcade today.

Railway sources said the express apparently ran through signals at the approach to the crossing a few miles outside Colombo and that the incident would be investigated.

Viet Premier: French Backed Plot on Life

Gen. Khanh Claims Terrorist Was Paid to Assassinate Him

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh was marked for assassination today in a plot backed by French officials, the premier and strongman has told associates.

A spokesman for the French Embassy denied the charge and remarked that "The premier must have been saying this in jest."

The premier, 36, returned from the Mekong River delta where he escaped death or injury earlier in the day when an armored personnel carrier hit a Communist land mine and blew up 100 yards away from him.

Informed sources said Khanh reported he learned of the plot in time to call off a trip he had scheduled. He asserted French officials gave a terrorist 100,000 piastres (about $1,300) to kill him.

Reports have been circulating in Saigon that a coup was being hatched against the man who threw out the military junta and seized power Jan. 30.

UNKNOWN TO U.S.

A U. S. Intelligence official said he had no information of a plot backed by Frenchmen. He said such a plot might be instigated by renegade French working without official sanction.

The charge came at a time when the U.S.-backed war against the Communist guerrillas is going badly and President Charles de Gaulle has called for neutralization of southeast Asia, including South Viet Nam.

Khanh said he took over rule in Saigon, Viet Nam, after neutralization, claiming such sentiment was growing in high Saigon circles.

Khanh had visited the battlefield near Long Binh about 45 miles south of Saigon, where guerrillas struck yesterday behind a mortar barrage and engaged Vietnamese marines in possibly the fiercest fight of the month.

Washington (AP)—The historic tax bill is signed and sealed, and its big cargo of reductions will begin being delivered to taxpayers right after March 5.

President Johnson signed it into law last night and told the nation in a radio and television address it is "the single most important step we have taken to strengthen our economy since World War II."

Noting that John F. Kennedy had "inspired and proposed" the $11.5-billion cut—the biggest in history—Johnson hurried off to the home of the President's widow to present her and her two children, John Jr. and Caroline, with three of the pens he had used to sign it.

The tax bill, which the Senate completed final congressional action yesterday by a 74 to 19 vote, will reduce taxes for 80 million individuals by almost one-fifth, on the average, by about 9 per cent for 550,000 businesses. The cuts are retroactive to Jan. 1.

BETTER LIFE

Johnson in his 15-minute address said the measure "will strengthen our economy and bring a better way of life to our citizens."

AWARD WINNERS — Pontiac Attorney James L. Howlett (center) is flanked by Louis H. Schimmel Jr. (right) and the senior Schimmel after being presented awards from the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

Howlett was named the outstanding young man for his community activities. The elder Schimmel was named boss of the year and his son the key man in the Jaycee organization.

Father, Son Receive Top Jaycee Honors

A father and son last night walked away with two top honors from the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, while Pontiac attorney James L. Howlett was named outstanding young man of the year.

The elder Schimmel, director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, received the "Outstanding Boss" award. He lives at 509 W. Iroquois.

His 26-year-old son was named key man of the Pontiac Jaycees, primarily for his work in promoting the recent Pontiac City Charter revision.

The awards were presented at the Jaycees Bosses Night dinner held at Devon Gables restaurant in Bloomfield Township.

Jaycee President Richard Fitzpatrick, in presenting the award to the younger Schimmel, said the charter proposal has been recognized on the state Jaycee level as "one of the finest programs undertaken."

PAST RESIDENT

A Pontiac resident until recently, Schimmel is now living in Royal Oak.

Howlett, a 1951 graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, received the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award for his "loyal, faithful service to the community."

Bank of England Hikes Interest Rate

LONDON (AP)—The British government raised the Bank of England interest rate today to 5 per cent—an increase of 1 per cent—following signs of strain on the nation's economy.

A Bank of England spokesman said the main purpose of the increase is to steady the nation's pace of economic expansion.

In recent months there have been signs that expansion has been proceeding too fast.

One indication of strain was the balance sheet for Britain's international trade in January, which showed the biggest excess of imports over exports ever recorded.

May Get Guard in Race Crisis

Maryland Governor Eyes Demonstrations

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Gov. J. Millard Tawes was prepared today to send the National Guard, if necessary, into Princess Anne, scene of racial demonstrations in which 27 Negro students were arrested and 59 received medical treatment.

Police dogs and fire hoses were used as more than 100 State Police, some wearing helmets and carrying night sticks, clashed yesterday with 250 to 300 students from Maryland State College.

Tawes, in Annapolis, sent in the National Guard last summer during demonstrations at Cambridge, about 45 miles northwest of Princess Anne.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan said that although Guard units had been alerted it was hoped the 130 State Police could contain the situation.

TOWN POPULATION

Princess Anne has about 1,350 people. About one of three is a Negro.

No Opposition Seen as $2-Million Worth Is Under Negotiation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cuban government purchasing mission in Montreal, Canada, is negotiating with U.S. companies for the purchase of $2-million worth of lard, it was learned today.

There were strong indications this major effort by the Fidel Castro government to obtain U.S. foodstuffs would be successful.

The sale would be the largest movement of U.S. goods to Cuba since the series of food and medical shipments used to ransom the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

U.S. officials have criticized other Western nations for selling "hard goods"—such as buses and trucks—to Cuba.

There are no U.S. regulations against the sale of food and medicine to Cuba—provided no export subsidy is involved—but the problem of transportation has reduced such sales to a trickle in recent months.

Many Cubans use lard as a spread—as margarine is used in this country—as well as for cooking. Like many other foodstuffs it has been in short supply in the island nation.

CANADA DELIVERY

The Cuban group has requested 20 million pounds of lard for delivery in Canada. It would be up to the Cubans to move the lard from Canada to Cuba. The wholesale price is 9 to 10 cents a pound.

Sources declined to identify the firms involved while the negotiations are under way by phone and letter.

Officials of the Commerce Department and State Department said they had not heard of the proposed transaction.

"This would be within the letter of the law," the State Department official said.

CASH PAYMENT

Payment probably would be in cash since the Cubans have money on hand in a Canadian bank.

Mercury's Up! Spring Near?

Higher and higher the temperatures climb, even though only a degree or two a day. Spring is just around the corner.

The weatherman said the mercury will drop to 14 to 19 tonight and rise to near 36 tomorrow, with skies partly cloudy.

Mostly fair and mild is the outlook for Saturday.

Muskegon Youth Hurt by Dynamite Cap Blast

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A Muskegon youth was reported in serious condition today at Blodgett Memorial Hospital here following surgery for injuries suffered in a dynamite cap explosion.

State police said Loren E. Rose, 14, apparently detonated one or more caps Wednesday in a shed on the Meosota County farm of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Emery, near Big Rapids.

U.S. Warns of Build-Up if No Arms Agreement

GENEVA, (AP) — The United States warned today it must continue building up its own defenses as long as there is no agreement on genuine disarmament.

U.S. negotiator William C. Foster delivered the American warning before leaving the deadlocked 17-nation disarmament talks to return to Washington. Earlier he told the conference he and Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin, the conference co-chairmen, had not

3rd Blast Hits Florida Trains

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The third dynamite blast along the Florida East Coast Railway this month blew a locomotive and several box cars off the track 10 miles south of here today. No one was injured seriously.

Officials of the company said some of the cars caught fire after the blast at a highway intersection.

The railroad has blamed numerous dynamitings on sabotage. Eleven nonoperating unions which struck the road Jan. 23, 1963, have denied involvement in the violence and have pleaded with the dynamiters to bring it to a halt.

On Feb. 14, a powerful explosion hurled ten cars off the track near New Smyrna Beach. Earlier in the month, a train was dynamited near Miami.

Some crewmen were "shaken up" by today's blast, the railroad reported.

The railroad, operated by the Florida Du Pont estate, has resisted federal government orders to rehire the striking workers and restore the status quo of prestige days pending efforts to settle the dispute.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., introduced a bill in Congress on Wednesday to force the estate to dispose of the railroad, or to give up its banking empire.

A trooper, Colin MacIndoe was treated for what police said were acid burns of his feet and legs.

IN RETREAT

At least one officer used his night stick and the students three rocks, bottles and sticks at police as they retreated before the dogs and fire hoses.

Most of the 50 treated at the campus health center suffered scratches, bruises and dog bites. Two Negroes were hospitalized in Salisbury.

The students staged into town in mid-afternoon, picked the restaurants and marched singing and clapping along the block business district.

All 27 were released on bail late last night. They were taken to the college campus in state police cars.

New Wenger Gymnasium At Kingswood School Cranbrook Like Existing Buildings

To Request School Plan Procedures

A set of procedures for negotiating on all personnel policies will be requested tonight at the Pontiac school board meeting.

The request will come from Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth, president of the 474-member Pontiac Education Association, which represents about 70 per cent of local teachers.

Called professional negotiations, the procedures differ from the basic collective bargaining approach, according to Mrs. Ellsworth.

Collective bargaining is a tool of labor and industry, she said. It has a tendency to divide because it assumes there is a conflict, the PEA president added.

NOT THE CASE

This is not the case with professional negotiations, she continued. These procedures provide for the teacher association and school boards to negotiate on mutual problems through professional channels.

"This has a tendency to unite," Mrs. Ellsworth said, "because it recognizes all members of the profession, including administrators, teachers and school board members."

She said the association was asking for professional negotiations to insure the excellent relations, in writing, that the PEA has had with the school board in the past.

Mrs. Ellsworth will propose that a joint committee be set up to work out the final details of the negotiation procedures.

Included in the procedures will be a method of mediation should an impasse ever result, she said.

Merit awards also were presented to organizations that supported Jaycee activities during the past year. They were the Neagle Sign Co., WPON, Coca Cola Co., Pontiac Motor Division, Community National Bank and The Pontiac Press.

Principal speaker was sports-caster Van Patrick. Howard Heidenbrand, of The Pontiac Press, was toastmaster.

On Perimeter Road

State to Open Bids

State Highway Department officials today announced they will open construction bids in Lansing March 11 for the last phase of Pontiac's perimeter road, which includes the Auburn-Orchard Lake crossover and third section of the perimeter road.

Bids on work on U.S. 10 outside Pontiac will also be opened the same day.

For many years, the jog in east-west traffic flow where Auburn and Orchard Lake hit S. Saginaw has been a major traffic problem in the downtown area.

The contract calls for eliminating the L-shaped jog and joining Auburn and Orchard Lake as a four-lane divided highway from the west leg of the perimeter road (Cass) to the east leg (Parke).

The project is estimated to cost about $125,000.

Plans for the crossover were included in the overall perimeter road project plans several years ago. The third section of the road, estimated to cost $275,000, is Cass extended southward from W. Huron to S. Saginaw.

Two sections of the road went under construction last summer and portions of them are already open to traffic.

The first section is Parke, from S. Saginaw to E. Huron. The second section continues north of E. Huron looping around the top of the central business district to Cass (which becomes part of the road) and continues southerly to W. Huron.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

The third portion will complete the tear-shaped circle back to S. Saginaw. Traffic on the multi-lane perimeter road will flow one-way, counter-clockwise.

The crossover and the third section will be under separate contracts, although both will be let at the same time.

Completion date is June 30, 1965, although city officials are optimistic that the entire perimeter road will be open to traffic before the end of this year, if there are no major construction delays.

Bids will also be opened March 11 on construction of a median crossover at Woodward and Long Lake Road in Bloomfield Hills, and modernization of the Dixie Highway-Silver Lake Road intersection in Waterford Township.

Testimony on Ruby Could Begin Soon

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — With eight jurors sworn in for Jack Ruby's murder trial, and four yet to be found, attorneys on both sides say that testimony may start this week.

"You may find yourselves on trial here Saturday," said Melvin M. Belli, chief counsel for Ruby, answering reporters' questions.

Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade said he believes the jury will be complete before the end of the week. "But I'm not sure that we'll go right into the testimony," he said.

Three jurors—a record for a single day in the trial—were qualified Wednesday.

JURORS LISTED

They were J. G. Holton, 31, a mail carrier; Gwen L. English, 45, a married bookkeeper; and R. J. Flechter Jr., 29, a salesman for a paper company. Four men and a woman were accepted earlier in the hearing.

Ruby faces a possible sentence of death in the electric chair if convicted of murder with malice for having shot Lee Harvey Oswald last Nov. 24. Oswald had been charged with assassinating President John F. Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22.

The eight jurors are all married. Mrs. English is the only one without children. The other woman juror, Mildred McCollum, is the mother of six.

6 SAW SHOOTING

Six of the eight said they saw Oswald killed on television. One said he was out of town on the fateful weekend when Kennedy and then Oswald were slain. The other said he was fishing.

All eight faces said they can and will vote the death penalty if convinced that Ruby is guilty as charged.

Belli said Wednesday, examining one prospect. "There's an old saying that lawyers don't want intelligent jurors. We do want intelligent jurors in this case."

He is basing Ruby's defense on temporary insanity. There will be a good deal of sophisticated psychiatric testimony.

It appears that Belli and Wade are assembling an intelligent jury. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown thinks so, he said.

Auto Injuries Fatal for Boy

A 12-year-old Birmingham youth died today of injuries he suffered Monday in a traffic accident which killed his young friend, as the two crossed Highway 10.

Slavay Elmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Elmer, 1029 S. Adams, was being treated for a concussion in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

He and his companion, 10-year-old David Misner, were walking across Hunter about 8 p.m. when struck by a car driven by Norman Gorenstein, 31, of Detroit. David was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Misner, Royal Oak.

Police said Gorenstein's vehicle was obstructed by another vehicle and he was not able to see the boys in time to avoid them. He was not held.

Radar Car Location

The Pontiac police radar-equipped patrol car will be on Elizabeth Lake, Johnson, Bagley and Orchard Lake tomorrow.

Kingswood School Due New Gym on Campus

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A new gymnasium will go up on the Kingswood School Cranbrook campus this spring.

Last Testimony in Hoffa Trial

Government Closes Rebuttal Case Today

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The last of nearly a hundred witnesses will testify today as the government concludes its rebuttal testimony in the James R. Hoffa jury tampering trial.

Final arguments are expected to start by Monday, and attorneys predict the case will reach the jury by Tuesday night. The trial began Jan. 20.

The Teamsters Union president and five others on trial with him are charged with trying to fix the

Rep. Law Says Public in Favor of His Whipping Bill

Pontiac's Democratic State Rep. Arthur J. Law says that, despite criticism, his bill to permit public whippings for juvenile lawbreakers is supported by most of the public.

He says some 90 letters he has received are running about seven to one in favor of the proposal, and telephone calls and personal comments have been about 10 to one for it.

Mail on the subject ranging from praise to abuse has come to him from as far away as California, British Columbia,

Florida and Massachusetts, Law said.

"I am 100 per cent for your bill," wrote a San Francisco, Calif., citizen. "The modern lawmakers at Lansing ignore the best biblical advice of all — spare the rod and spoil the child."

A woman teacher from Pontiac believed in "using the rod if you can't reach the child with other means."

But another Pontiac woman, saying she was a Democrat who would never vote for Law again, called him "cruel and sadistic."

A Wisconsin letter writer suggested to the legislator that he go back to Nazi Germany.

A woman from Kansas City, Mo., mother of five asked:

FEAR, HATRED
"When did public humiliation ever create anything but fear and hatred? Are you also planning a revival of the stake for the burning of witches?"

Law said he has picked out a few letters to answer. Among these is one from a New York teacher who said the proposal for corporal punishment "casts discredit on lawmakers throughout the land."

The teacher also noted that "the Chinese, who don't whip their children, have a very low rate of juvenile delinquency."

Law said he felt compelled to answer the New York teacher because he is a man who is dealing with juveniles.

HOW TO COPE
"If he hasn't awakened to the situation by now, I don't know how he is going to cope with it," he said. "Maybe some of these people think they don't have any responsibility."

Law's bill would provide for whipping in public of juvenile offenders by parents or law enforcement officers, at the discretion of the probate court.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said a flogging law would be unconstitutional, and, if enacted, he would attempt to have it overturned by the courts.

John Martin of Grand Rapids, Republican National Committee man and chairman of the Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council, condemned the proposal as providing no solution to juvenile delinquency.

NOT A CURE

Law said he views it as an effort to reduce and discourage juvenile delinquency, but not as a cure.

"I'm sure it would be effective for some types of juvenile delinquents who show no respect for the law, or for those who are encouraged to break the law when they see others getting away with it," he said.

"But I think a judge would probably use it only rarely."

A mild-mannered grocer who once served as mayor of Pontiac, Law admitted that publicity about his proposal probably made him seem, in some persons' eyes, a "monster."

He said, however, that his voting record will show he has supported other forms of legislation to deal with juveniles, including rehabilitation programs for offenders.

"I believe in parental discipline and training, in treatment of kids who have mental problems and in the power of love and affection in the rearing of children," he said.

"But I also believe in the woodshed for some delinquents, and I think it would be all to the good for some to be punished in public."

Policemen Needed in Waterford

After winning a long-sought authorization to hire additional men, Waterford Township's police department now faces a new problem — where to find the new men.

During last fall's budget sessions, the township board authorized an additional four patrolmen, effective the first of this year.

Since then only two of 14 candidates have successfully completed two separate civil service examinations for the positions.

The most recent addition to the department is John Becker who will begin duties Monday. Becker, 22, of 402 Sawyer, was the long survivor among eight hopefuls who took an exam last week.

NET GAIN
Complicating the personnel problem in the department is the fact that the chief resigned three weeks ago. This leaves a net gain of one man.

Capt. William Stokes is commanding officer pending selection of a new chief.

Stokes and Lt. Frank Randolph will vie for the top job in written and oral examinations, slated for March 7 and March 12 respectively. A group from Michigan State University will administer the tests.

The fire department which was authorized six new men by the Township Board now is at full strength.

Five newcomers joined the department last month and the final recruit, Gilbert Horton, 25, of 2121 Wilhite, was the lone successful candidate of five who took an exam last week.

Horton, a member of the volunteer firefighters for four years, will start work Tuesday if the pending report on his physical examination is favorable.

Man Is Held in Hunt Death

NOVI — A 24-year-old rabbit hunter who was shot in the face by his companion yesterday afternoon died last night.

Leroy E. Weiss of Ecorse died shortly after 10 p.m. last night, about six hours after being admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia.

Novi police said he was shot by Ambrose J. Beaton, 22, of River Rouge. The bullet from a .22-caliber rifle entered his right cheek, they said.

FOUR HUNTING

According to Chief Lee BeGo, the men were in a party of four hunting near Meadowbrook.

Witnesses reported that Beaton had been shooting the gun "in a careless manner," firing shots into the ground and into his car, BeGo said.

Charges will be determined after a conference today with Prosecuting Attorney George F. Taylor, BeGo said.

Johnson Flies to Florida on First Political Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flies to Florida today on his first obviously political journey since becoming chief executive three months ago.

The President's principal destination was the Miami metropolitan area. First, however, he breaks ground near Palatka for a $146-million cross-Florida barge canal that has long been the dream of the state's predominantly Democratic congressional delegation.

The Florida trip took on a predominantly political view by virtue of Johnson's engagement to address a Democratic fund-raising dinner at Miami Beach tonight. It was the first affair of its kind on Johnson's schedule since he became President last Nov. 22.

Had Johnson's Florida schedule included only the Democratic fund-raiser, his political party would have been obliged to pick up the transportation tab.

The canal, which will be nearly 10 years in the making, will link Yanketown on Florida's Gulf Coast with the Atlantic, via the St. John's River near Palatka.

However, the barge canal ceremony bore a nonpolitical label and the government thus was required to pay the expenses most of the way.

On one sense, the start of construction on the cross-Florida barge canal represented a plus for Johnson and Florida Democrats.

The state's Congressmen, most of them Democrats, won authorization for the project as a defense measure during World War II. But it was only last year that Congress put up the first money — $11-million — to start the digging. And Johnson's new budget calls for an additional $4 million.

New Library in Waterford Used Heavily

Waterford Township's newly established public library has zoomed into second place in book circulation in the nine-member North Oakland Library Cooperative.

Opened Jan. 13, the new library's circulation of 1,235 NOLC books for the balance of January exceeded full-month totals of all members except the Pontiac Library.

Pontiac libraries circulated 4,648 NOLC books last month, according to Miss Phyllis Pope, Pontiac librarian and director of NOLC.

Unexpected Receipts and Savings

County Spends More, But Still in Black

The Oakland County government spent $327,561 more than was budgeted for 1963, and still ended the year with a balance of $5,359.

While the budget called for $15.5 million, expenditures actually totaled $15.5 million. The difference was more than covered by receipts and an unexpected savings in personnel costs, explained Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors.

He said receipts produced $162,103 more than had been expected when the budget was prepared.

A $300,817 savings was realized through senior employees leaving and being replaced by new personnel at starting salaries, Murphy added.

County budgeted had expected to save only $120,000 by personnel turnover "last year. This figure was estimated at a usual turnover rate of 18 per cent."

Actually, closer to 25 per cent of the county employees left last year.

By JIM DYGERT
Last year it was Lyndon B. Johnson — then U.S. vice president — who was the star attraction at the Michigan Democratic Party's annual Jefferson-Jackson day celebration.

This year it will be one of Johnson's pet programs.

Some 500 Oakland County Democrats are expected to be among more than 3,000 party faithful hoping to learn more about President Johnson's "war on poverty," including where to fight it.

The President's attack on poverty will be the subject for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day program scheduled for March 21 at Detroit's Light Guard Armory on Eight Mile Road.

DISCUSSION GROUPS
Plans call for discussion groups and workshops on Michigan's part in the poverty war in daytime sessions to be climaxed in the evening by the annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Although they hardly can hope to match last year's attraction, Democrats are hoping to get a nationally prominent speaker for the dinner.

A good drawing card would give them confidence of kicking off the 1964 campaign here with a rousingly successful dinner, the state party chief fund-raising event of the year, at $30-a-plate ($40 per couple).

Leading state Democrats will take part in the daytime discussions and workshops, according to County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin.

INFORM PEOPLE
"The daytime program will both inform people of the problems we face and suggest courses of action we can take right here at home," Levin said.

A noon luncheon will honor party workers and feature a political satire by "The Democratic Five and Their Hootenanny Parodies."

The attendance estimates of 500 from Oakland County and 3,000 all together, apply to both daytime and evening programs combined. Less than half those number are expected to take part in the daytime program.

Ticket sales in Oakland County are being handled by John Houston of Pontiac, Julian Cook of West Bloomfield Township, Mrs. Ernest Nigg of Birmingham, and Harold Robinson of Royal Oak.

Edgar Flood, director of Youth Protective Associations in the county, and Charles Welch, principal of Jayno Adams Elementary School.

Flood will discuss the function of the Waterford Township Youth Assistance Committee which works in conjunction with Juvenile Court with area youngsters.

Welch will discuss the proposed development of the state-owned hatchery property on Hatchery Road.

Council members will consider a resolution changing their regular meeting date from the first to the second Tuesday of each month.

Hoover Past Critical Part of Illness

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover has progressed past "the critical point" in his illness and was able to sit up in bed today for breakfast, his doctors said.

Hoover, 89, became seriously ill last Sunday with a respiratory ailment and a bleeding kidney.

Neil McNeil, a close personal friend, said Hoover had improved to the extent that no further medical bulletins would be issued. Tuesday had been issued since Tuesday.

McNeil said that as Hoover's nurse approached him with scrambled eggs in his Waldorf Towers apartment the 31st president, apparently hungry, said: "Faster, faster."

PIPE MUST WAIT
It will be a while yet, though, before doctors will permit Hoover to smoke his inevitable pipe.

"For a man of 89, he has a great grip on life," McNeil said.
