

McNamara Tells Plan to End Army Reserve

Burch Ouster Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Gov. Romney predicts Dean Burch is on the way out, but the embattled national chairman is preparing his plea to Republican National Committee members to keep him in the $30,000-a-year post.

Romney conferred yesterday with both former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and with Burch but declined to say what was discussed at either meeting.

He had breakfast with Eisenhower at an undisclosed location and met in late afternoon with Burch at GOP headquarters here.

Winds to Drop Temperature Into Low 30s Tonight

Northwesterly winds breezing in at 10 to 18 miles per hour late today will drop temperatures into the low 30s tonight.

Increasing cloudiness and a cooler, the high near 40 is the prediction for tomorrow. Cloudy with little change in temperature is the outlook for Monday.

Thirty-four was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 36 at 2 p.m.

Goodfellows Sell Papers to Help Needy

Drive by Police, Fire, Postal Workers Will Bring Yuletide Cheer

It's that day again! It's Goodfellow newspaper day for the City of Pontiac.

The Goodfellow drive is sponsored by the Metropolitan Club of Pontiac, Spirit 6, whose membership is made up of police, fire and postal department employees.

They're out to provide a happier Christmas for needy families with Christmas baskets, food, and warm clothing for children, as well as fuel oil or coal for homes of destitute families.

The goal this year for Christmas and all through the year is $2,000, according to Robert L. Koch, president.

Names of needy families are obtained through the Salvation Army which acts as a clearing house for these families and prevents duplication with other contributing organizations.

This is the 36th year that the Pontiac Goodfellows have conducted these sales and helped needy families.

Area residents who miss the paper sale may make a contribution by sending it to the Pontiac Goodfellow Drive, Box 735, Pontiac Post Office, according to George H. Ferguson, chairman of the drive.

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP
At the same time Highland Township firemen are selling copies of The Pontiac Press at major township intersections until dusk.

The 20-man force is collecting funds to provide Christmas dinner baskets to the needy in their area.

Philippine Team to Aid in Care of Quadruplets

MANILA (AP)—A health department team left here by train today to assist in the care of quadruplets born Wednesday in southeastern Luzon Island.

The infants, born to a tenant couple in Tabaco, Albay Province, were reported doing well but in need of incubators. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epifanio Colloa, reportedly have seven other children.

State Senate Victor Dies Today at Home

Paul M. Chandler, state senator-elect from the 14th District and publisher of four weekly newspapers, died today at his Livonia home apparently of a heart attack.

Chandler, 45, a Republican, was elected last month to the Senate after serving two years as a state representative from northwest Wayne County.

He published papers in Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington and Redford. All were named the Observer.

Chandler, who was president as well as publisher of the Observer chain, was dead on arrival at 4:40 a.m. at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

A University of Michigan political science graduate, Chandler was employed by the Associated Press and Detroit News prior to entering the weekly publishing business.

He won the Bronze Star in World War II Navy service in the Pacific as an officer on aircraft carriers.

A native of Sault Ste. Marie, Chandler also served as vice president of the Michigan Racing Association from 1953 to 1956.

He defeated his Democratic opponent James McCarthy in the Senate race by a 65,271 to 58,397 vote count.

Chandler was married to the former Myra Kuder and was the father of five children.

Also surviving is a sister, Ruth Tomlinson of Galea, Ill.

School Units Balloting on Bonds, Taxes

Voters in the Utica and South Lyon school districts go to the polls today to cast ballots on bond issue and millage propositions.

South Lyon electors are voting on a $760,000 bond issue for a 16-room expansion at the high school and construction at three elementary schools.

The 25-year bond issue initially would increase school taxes by an estimated 2 mills.

In Utica, an $8.5-million bond issue proposal is coupled with two millage propositions on the ballot.

The net effect of success in this election would be to raise school taxes by 6 mills ($6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation).

The bond issue is for future building needs, including an over $4-million high school, and the millage requests for operating funds.

The net effect of success in this election would be to raise school taxes by 6 mills ($6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation).

Delegates joked about the bazooka incident afterward, but many were plainly shaken by realization that the U.N. had been brought under shellfire.

Bitter debate on the Congo had frayed delegates' nerves and they neared the snapping point yesterday when the bazooka bedecked with a Cuban flag lobbed a single shell across the East River to within 100 yards of the U.N. conference building.

The blast rattled windows in the headquarters just as Ernesto Guevara, Cuban minister of industry, was addressing the assembly.

At the same time, anti-Communist Cuban pickets milling outside the building rushed screaming toward police lines. A leather-jacketed woman waving a knife tried to force her way into the building. Police said later she told them she had intended to kill Guevara.

CONSIDERABLE HEAT
It had been expected that discussion of the U.S.-Belgian mission to rescue white hostages from the Congolese rebels would generate considerable heat.

But few expected the vituperation and the theme of black man and the white man drummed out by African leaders in the council during the week.

With Washington already threatening to stop pouring millions of dollars into the United Nations unless the Communists pay up, delegates wondered what effect the vitriolic African attacks on the United States might have.

ROBERT S. McNAMARA

U.S. Is Silent in Dixie Case

Mum on When to Request Grand Jury

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Federal authorities today maintained an official silence about when they would request a federal grand jury to consider charges against 21 white men in the slaying of three civil rights workers.

Charges of conspiring to kill the three integrationists last summer remained against only one of the original 21 suspects — Horace Doyle Barnett, who the FBI says made a confession.

He estimated this latest reorganization would result in savings of about $150 million per year.

"The realignment program," McNamara said, "will involve the transfer of unit structure of the Army Reserve into the National Guard, and the elimination of all units for which there is no military requirement."

INDIVIDUAL TRAINEES
"The Army Reserve will consist of individuals rather than units and will provide individual trainees for summer camp and mobilization."

"Under the plan, the paid drill strength will be 550,000 well-equipped, well-trained officers and men."

This, McNamara said, would compare with the total of 700,000 now in the two Reserve organizations — 400,000 in the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Attorney D. Robert Owen of the Justice Department's civil rights division conferred here yesterday with U.S. Atty. Robert Hauberg but apparently had not yet asked U.S. District Judge Harold Cox to convene a grand jury. Owen declined comment on the government's plans.

Similar action was taken against 19 of the suspects Thursday at Meridian, after U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter refused to hear testimony concerning Barnett's alleged confession.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The firing of a bazooka shell at the United Nations headquarters was a grim climax to a week in which shafts of hate hurled in Security Council debate left many diplomats shocked.

Delegates joked about the bazooka incident afterward, but many were plainly shaken by realization that the U.N. had been brought under shellfire.

New Program to Merge Units With Guard

Secretary of Defense Estimates Savings of About $150 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced plans today to wipe out all Army Reserve units and merge some with the National Guard. He said this will bring the Reserve-Guard system "into balance with the contingency war plans."

He told a news conference this "means there will be no more units in the Reserve," although individuals who are not in units transferred to the Guard will still be available for call up.

He said he had instructed Secretary of the Army Stephen Allen to prepare plans for realigning the Reserve and Guard forces "to improve significantly the early deployment capability and combat readiness of the U.S. Reserve forces."

He estimated this latest reorganization would result in savings of about $150 million per year.

Cuddly Christmas With a Live Pet

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Why not treat your child to a pet this Christmas? There's nothing that will make his or her eyes sparkle more on Christmas morning than a waddly, tail-wagging puppy or a cuddly kitten.

Or, if you object to a pet that has to be ushered in and out with what seems like revolting regularity, why not consider one that is confined to a specific area.

To keep your four-footed friends smelling sweet after their baths with tearless pet shampoo and tangle-free rinse, there are dog colognes. They come in appropriate scents for him and her.

Pontiac Woman Tells Story of Congo Savagery

Mrs. Hector McMillan of Pontiac returned to her native land yesterday.

In a steady voice, the gray-haired missionary told how two of her six children were shot and her husband killed Nov. 24 in the Congo.

Mrs. McMillan, 51, the former Jane Reed, is a missionary from First Baptist Church of Pontiac.

Her children huddled around as she told her story at Kennedy Airport after her arrival from Leopoldville.

Her husband, Hector, 49, a home builder and handyman, was shot by Congolese rebels outside a mission house near Stanleyville in which the two children were shot.

MORE SOLID

"These events have made my religious beliefs more solid than ever," she said. "I feel more than ever now that the Lord has a plan for us and this is a part of it."

The McMillan children are: Kenneth, 17; Paul, 16; David, 14; John, 13; Stephen, 11, and Timothy, 10.

The McMillan family ordeal reached its climax after Belgian paratroopers were dropped to rescue persons imprisoned by the rebels.

"When the rebels saw the planes they became agitated," Mrs. McMillan recalled.

TOLD TO LINE UP

"They told us to go outside the mission house and line up.

Then the 14 children and nine women in the group were ordered to go back inside.

"We were all crowded into one room. Suddenly they fired on us. Kenneth was shot in the hip and Paul was hit in the left cheek by a bullet fragment.

"Kenneth's wound was more serious, and we waited for his release from the hospital."

Mrs. McMillan's husband, outside the mission, heard the shots. He turned and went to ward the house. It was then he was shot and killed.

MORE BAD NEWS

The McMillans were with the Unevangelical Fields Mission headquarters five miles from Stanleyville.

Mrs. McMillan, who had spent 23 years in the Congo, received some more bad news two days ago — the death of her husband's brother, Archibald, a farmer, of Avonmore, Ont.

As a result, the tired mother and her family did not leave to join relatives here.

Instead they left for Montreal.

Budget for CMU Set

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — A budget of $15,107,000 has been requested by Central Michigan University for its 1965-66 operations. President Judson Post said the budget request includes $75,517 for operating expenses and $7,332,200 for capital outlay. It is 30.4 per cent higher than the current budget.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TRANSISTOR

QUESTION: What is a transistor and how does it work?

ANSWER: To understand transistors, think of electrons as very small electrical particles connected with a larger atom. Some electrons can flow, or move from one atom to another.

When this happens, there is an electric current; lights and electric appliances such as radios can be put to work.

The flow of electrons can be controlled in various ways. To do this, larger radios have a number of vacuum tubes from which air has been removed so the atoms of the air will not disturb the electron flow.

It is then easier to control them, such as using magnets to turn or deflect the stream of electrons, or to make them go faster, which will result in amplifying the electric signal so sound can be produced.

A transistor is another way of doing these same various jobs, but it is very much smaller, which is why the tiny radio in the picture is possible.

Transistors use much less power than vacuum tubes and create little heat. Inside a transistor are layers of material such as germanium and silicon, called semiconductors.

Certain impurities are deliberately added, which has the effect of changing the electric current passing through in just the way which is needed.

FOR YOU TO DO: Have you a scrap book on the space age? If not, start one and paste in everything you can find on such things as transistors, satellites, computers and space capsules.

Kills Family, Self and Dog, Parakeet

AUBURN, N. Y. P—An ex-postman who often told friends his body was controlled "by evil forces" seized a revolver Friday night and shot to death his wife and their four children and killed himself.

Police said John Offenber, 43, killed his wife, Mary, 41, and Patricia, 10, Wayne 8, John 5, and Susan, 3. He also, they said, shot the family dog and parakeet and set fire to the house.

When police called by Offenber's father-in-law, walked up to the Offenber home, they heard Offenber yell, "Call the hospital. I want an autopsy on my body."

Seconds later, they heard a shot.

Student Mob Behavior Danger Sign of Times

Seldom has the Nation witnessed a more unbridled display of collegian intransigence than that recently visited upon the University of California.

In a riotous demonstration and sit-in against the university's rule against on-campus recruitment of volunteers and solicitation of funds for off-campus politico-social activities, 814 participants, half of whom were students, were arrested on various charges of lawlessness.

Administrators of educational institutions have long been accustomed to and able to deal with spontaneous eruptions of youthful high spirits and exhibitions of student-body reaction to issues of the day.

But the disgraceful occurrence at California with its 25,000 students bore convincing evidence of an organized campaign led by a small group of Communists, Communist sympathizers and other leftwingers trained to promote anarchy or rebellion.

The student director of this latest clash with institutional administration is a radical who took part in several sit-ins in San Francisco last year and was a leader in previous campus disorders. Since the West Coast act of defiance, he has set out on a cross-country tour, a campus address before University of Michigan students two days ago being his first stop.

It is worth noting that the American Civil Liberties Union for Northern California, to its credit, has refused to join the legal defense of those arrested in the California riot.

The student revolt there is more than a disgrace to the state and its university. It reflects a new and alarming development in university life and is a danger signal for all American universities.

If such acts of contempt for authority are to be tolerated, the intellectual preparation of this country's youth will one day be handed over to the guidance of the revolutionists.

Better Waste Disposal an Urgent Area Need

A badly-needed and overdue solution to the noxious effects of waste and animal-carass disposal at the County Service Center is offered by a study submitted last month by the Oakland County Engineering Department.

Without incinerators properly to do the job, animal carcasses from the County Animal Shelter have been disposed of in a land-fill area operated by the City of Pontiac, while rubbish and garbage have been burned in an open dump maintained by the County Service Center or collected by hog farmers.

The city's land-fill outlet, however, is soon to be closed, and the county dump has been termed "a highly objectionable nuisance" by the County Health Department which has recommended its discontinuance.

Called for by the engineering department, study is the construction of two incinerators—one for animal carcasses, the other for combustible waste—at a cost of $19,000, which includes a building to house them. Annual operating costs are estimated at $13,000.

This would seem to be a relatively economical plan for the elimination of a nuisance that is steadily becoming more offensive to residents exposed to it, and we urge that the project be given due consideration.

Somewhat related to the county's waste disposal problem is disaffection of nearby residents with the dump maintained by Waterford Township. This, however, is a problem faced by most communities, with no definitive solution immediately in sight. One proposal under consideration is a tri-county authority that would operate a sanitary land-fill in an uninhabited area for the disposal of all rubbish and garbage.

Regardless of the plan ultimately adopted, the general excellence of the area's public facilities should not suffer from backwardness in so essential a facility as proper waste disposal, and every effort should be bent toward improvement of it.

Johnson Mum Since Election

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson can afford to stay mum for a while, and he is. Ever since he won the election the White House has been practically soundproof, and this will probably go on into January.

This is enough to irritate anyone who can't get used to the great stillness around here. It is unusual, but Johnson seems to be playing it cool.

This is a switch from the way Johnson skipped around through most of 1963, before and during the campaign, in a kind of speeches and holding news conferences almost on the run.

He was always saying something, or doing something, a man in search of approval. But then, when he got such overwhelming approval in the election, it's no wonder if he felt silence would be appropriate for a time and for a change.

Yet the very quietude created a mystery, a wondering: What's he up to? Of all people, and unintentionally, it was Sen. Barry Goldwater who helped create this condition.

Goldwater spent so much campaign time defending himself, particularly against the charge of being trigger-happy, that he did very little about saying exactly what he'd do if elected.

WONDERFUL FOR JOHNSON This was wonderful for Johnson. Since the polls already had him away off in front and Goldwater wasn't offering specific programs, Johnson didn't have to try to outbid with programs of his own.

This left him free to move and maneuver as he thought best at the time, picking and choosing among a lot of programs he might otherwise have had to pin himself to in the campaign.

In the meantime, being Johnson, the President has been busy behind the walls of the ranch house and the White House preparing next year when Congress came back.

So, for all of these reasons, he probably will keep on not saying much until next month.

This seems simple but what isn't simple is how he is going to make good on just about the biggest promise he made—and this was long before the campaign.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS

The faith of the three wise men who visited the infant Jesus is best told what could be the first completely American Christmas carol, "We Three Kings." The words and music were written by the Rev. John Henry Hopkins in 1857.

The three kings had known of the prophecy of the coming of the Christ Child. The new star which they followed was a proof of that prophecy. The gold, frankincense and myrrh were fitting gifts. In their wisdom they knew he was the Saviour. The last phrase of the carol carries the same plea today as it did then. "... Guide us to Thy perfect light."

Days of All Faiths:

Most Important Mother-to-Be

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Chiefly in France and Spain, but also in scattered places elsewhere, the Feast of the Expectation of the Confinement of the Blessed Virgin Mary is celebrated. If the birth of Jesus occurred on December 25, then during this period Mary must have been thinking of little else, and it is a pleasant thing to try to join with her in her happy anticipation and to pay tribute to the world's most important expectant mother.

But to the curious and the literal-minded, the matter of timing is troublesome. When Jesus said "No man knoweth the day nor the hour" (Matthew xxv:13) He was talking about His second coming, but it is equally true of His first. No man knows any more about the day or hour of His birth in Bethlehem. We don't know the month either. When the Church was trying to agree on a date for Christmas, every month in the year was suggested by serious, intelligent men.

In fact, we don't even know the year in which Jesus was born. With all the world using a calendar that purports to count its years from the birth of Christ, most people naturally assume that He was born exactly 1964 years ago. Not at all. The real date has never been determined and probably never can be.

In the whole Bible, Old Testament or New, there is no such thing as a date in the sense that we use the term. The writers, instead, hook events up with other events, and come out with varying degrees of vagueness.

It is as if modern historians tried to set times by saying something happened "during the second administration of Grover Cleveland," or "shortly after World War II." Isaiah was about as precise as any Biblical writer when he said he had his great vision "in the year that King Uzziah died."

As to the year Jesus was born, there are no satisfactory clues. Matthew (chapter 2, verse 1) says it was "in the days of Herod the King." Well, even if it was on the last day Herod died it would have been in 4 B.C., for that is the year Herod died.

But the evidence in Matthew ii:16 is that it was probably two years before Herod died. Matthew says the king in his attempt to kill the infant Jesus "slew all from two years old and under." This would put the birth around or before 6 B.C.

Luke (ii:1 and 2) complicates things further by saying Jesus was born at a time when a decree had gone out from Caesar Augustus that "all the world should be taxed, and this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria."

Syrenius was governor of Syria three times: from 6 to 4 B.C., in 3 and 2 B.C., and from 6 to 9 A.D. Which of his three taxings is Luke talking about?

Add to the writers' imprecise habits of expression about the times when things happened, the fact that all of them were writing fifty to a hundred years after this event and their memories must have been a little hazy about details. And add to that the failure of astronomers to come up with anything but the most doubtful help when they have tried to date the star of Bethlehem.

The best you can get out of all of it is that Jesus was certainly born before 4 B.C. and perhaps several years earlier.

So the day, month, and year of the birth are vague, and consequently the beginning of Mary's confinement is vague. But the date is not really important. It all happened sometime. The world is full of the proof of that. And December 18 is as good a day as any to remember the joy of history's most important mother-to-be.

Washington Notebook:

LBJ Has Tough Going in Sports

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Greeting medal winners on the 1964 U.S. Olympic team at a recent White House luncheon, President Johnson found it necessary to venture into the relatively unexplored waters—him, at least—of sports.

The President sailed through his introductions of Supreme Court Justice Byron R. "Whizzer" White ("everybody's All-American when he played football at the University of Colorado") and physical fitness consultant Stan Musial ("Stan the Man—who, as far as I know, has no senatorial aspirations").

But the Chief Executive then introduced Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to the Olympians as "a former star guard on the University of Arizona baseball team."

The White House transcript of the President's remarks later changed the sentence to read "star guard on the football team," but actually Udall played neither football nor baseball in his college days. He was a basketball star.

Attending the University of Arizona on the GI Bill after World War II, Udall joined several other veterans on the bas-

Voice of the People:

'Nation Suffers As LBJ Seeks Middle Ground'

The present administration is largely responsible for our deteriorating status as a free, friendly nation. The horrible blunders over Cuba and in Viet Nam and Africa indicate a lack of diplomacy in our foreign policy administrators.

Our democratic leaders reach the height of hypocrisy when they tell the common folk they are for freedom and then cater to and hobnob with the so-called royalty and overprivileged scoundrels of the earth. While President Johnson seeks his "middle ground" between autocracy and democracy, we'll be "losing ground" with the world's masses who want freedom and self-government right now.

Reader Sees No Wrong in Sale of Smut

I see nothing wrong in selling so-called indecent magazines. How do people expect our future generations to act with extreme care in national problems if they don't even know what the human body looks like? There can never be anything smutty or filthy that God created—or have people forgotten that God created them.

People with dirty minds see evil in these magazines. They, not the photographer, make filth out of the pictures.

'Area Needs Cooley Lake Road Dump'

An uninformed person, admittedly only a visitor, berated and derided the Cooley Lake dump. An operation of this type is necessary to any community as a clearing house and disposal point for accumulative trash. If not, the entire area for miles around would be one gigantic display of discards. We taxpayers are grateful for a disposal yard.

Two Readers Comment on Editorials

Monday's editorial abandoned "clear cut Goldwater issues" and the dedicated fighters for them—and you join the howling crowd which stood up in the heat of campaign, secretly preparing their after-election campaign speeches "I told you so!"

You fail to see that all printed and spoken "scientific" evaluations of election returns failed to mention or evaluate approximately five million voters who refused to vote for the presidency. This "block" must be opposed to Johnson's candidacy and added to 26 million votes for Sen. Goldwater. Mr. Johnson got only 54.6% and not 68%. The "clear-cut" Republicans were helped in by plus five million of Democrats.

The defeated "me-too-ism" is hungrily feeding itself on the "wounds" of GOP, seeking to recreate a political atmosphere in which the voters do not have too much choice and consequently not any political responsibility. The 1964 GOP platform and Sen. Goldwater's campaign can be compared to a seed, which had only a limited time to strike root! Why don't you continue to work for the yield of seed you helped to plant? Do not turn into a Rocky or Scant-Thorny grounds where the good seed for GOP can only die!

A. SLOVACEK

You pass judgment in editorials in an "off the cuff" manner. Take the quick appraisal of the Goldwater philosophy, the condemnation of the Supreme Court, the disapproval of all government officials, plus the implied belief that "business" men only know all the answers. Could it be that the only correct ideas are those that contain no element of "liberalism"? These changes make it impossible to approach the settlement of today's problems in the same manner as 50 years ago.

Udall's wife Lee recalls that her husband took a lot of ribbing on the court because of his age. Says she:

At the Denver Conference of Republican Governors someone asked a Rockefeller aide when the governor would arrive for that Friday-Saturday affair.

Said he: "Early Friday." Responded the questioner with a smile: "Will he stay all day?"

Leaving the employment of President Johnson can be a very difficult matter, according to one White House staffer who is trying to extricate himself.

"It's a very complex business," he says.

Evidently the President is not eager to see any important departures from his staff. He even made a last-minute effort to dissuade Ralph Munroe, White House personnel specialist now off to be the new U.S. ambassador to Chile, from leaving.

Says one source: "The President practically tried to pull Ralph off the boat!"

School District Change Denied

Will Eye Vacancy in Waterford

A property transfer from the Lake Orion to Oxford School District, requested by three families, has been denied by the County School Board.

The school board upheld the position of Lake Orion School District that the transfer of 35% acres would create a jagged border line.

In other business this week, Oakland Schools board member Herbert Sillman of Oak Park was appointed to the Oakland County Committee for Economic Development.

Also, a letter of intent was authorized to lease an IBM computer to update the county schools' computer center.

School officials estimate it will take 18 months to obtain delivery of the new computer.

The school board set Dec. 30 at 3:30 p.m. as the date and time of their next meeting.

Pleads Guilty in Road Deaths
Detroit Negligent When 3 Were Killed

A Detroit man yesterday pleaded guilty to negligent homicide in a Troy traffic accident that took three lives last summer.

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt accepted the plea of Ronald V. Ryskewicz, 24, and will sentence him Jan. 6.

Ryskewicz was the driver of a car which collided with one driven by Emory D. Atkins, 22, at the intersection of Dequindre and Wattles on May 30.

Atkins and his wife, Doris, 17, were killed, as was a passenger in Ryskewicz' car, Nancy Vinci, 20, of Warren. The Atkins lived at 1725 E. South Boulevard, Avon Township.

Ryskewicz, who Troy police said sped through a stop sign, was originally charged with manslaughter but was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

County Unit Wrapping Up Legislative Program

With the exception of a couple of items scheduled for further study, the legislative committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has completed its 1965 legislative program.

The committee met yesterday for a final look at the program it will recommend to the board next Tuesday.

The county's legislative representative, John G. Semann, will attempt to influence passage of the proposed bills approved by the board during the coming session of the Michigan Legislature.

County home rule, a top item on last year's legislative agenda which seems due for even more attention this year, was nearly stricken from the committee's program.

A special study committee on county home rule had reviewed a home rule bill proposed by Wayne County and recommended its approval by the legislative committee.

APPROVED BILL

The legislative committee vetoed the recommendation, however, by a vote of 4-3. After further discussion of the measure, the legislative committee rescinded its veto and approved the bill, 5-2.

The bill is essentially the same one that died in House committee last year after being passed by the Senate.

It enables all counties to establish either a partisan or non-partisan charter commission and outlines procedures for framing a home-rule charter, which is then submitted to a vote of the people.

Other proposals on the committee's legislative program are:

- A bill to provide matching funds for all Juvenile Court administrative costs.
- A bill to reimburse counties for expenses incurred in detaining juveniles awaiting acceptance to state training schools.
- A bill to provide similar reimbursement for mental patients awaiting transfer to state institutions.
- Two amendments to the Drain Code.
- A bill to place County Planning Departments under the control of the board of auditors.
- A bill creating an economic development department to encourage new industry to locate in the county.

- A bill authorizing school districts to expend funds for traffic safety devices.
- A bill providing matching funds for welfare hospitalization costs for afflicted adults.
- A bill providing full reimbursement for direct relief costs above one mill of the county's state equalized valuation.
- A bill requiring the state to register deeds on property it acquires before Dec. 31 of the year of acquisition.
- A bill providing for an increase in state appropriations to local health departments.
- A bill providing for an increase in state subsidies for tuberculosis patients from $4 to $6 per day.
- A bill giving Oakland County first chance at purchase of a parcel of land owned by the state.

- The committee is also considering a proposal regarding a public defender, system and one on consumption of alcoholic beverages in boats.
- In addition, the committee is supporting part of a seven-point program proposed by the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.
- Some of the proposals are a repeat of the legislative committee's. Others include:
- Removal of the requirement that boards of supervisors publish warrants and claims.
- Authorization of per diem pay for all boards and commissions appointed by boards of supervisors.
- Changes in fee schedules of county officers (clerks).
- Amendment of the law relieving the federal government of tax responsibility on property it purchases which has taxes due on it.

Appearances Set for Scout Carolers

A group of Cub Scouts from Pack 24 of St. Benedict's School will visit two homes for the aged and the county infirmary Dec. 20 singing Christmas carols.

Participating will be cubs from Dens 3 and 5 with their respective den mothers, Mrs. Paul Deschaine and Mrs. Anthony Martinez.

How Children Fail—6

Young May Not Need Praise

By JOHN HOLT

Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Copyright 1964, Princeton Publishing Corp.

How is it possible for children of only 10 to have such strongly developed concepts of themselves, and these unfavorable almost to the point of self-contempt and self-hatred? We expect this of older children, but that it should have gone so far, so soon...

Perhaps they are thrown too early, and too much, into a crowded society of other children, where they have to think, not about the world, but about their position in it.

Is it possible that our modern way of teaching, all gentleness, persuasiveness and human contact tends to make children get themselves and their work all mixed up? The first school I went to was very different from this.

Even when I was 5, the teachers there never called me anything but Holt. Of me, as a person, they seemed to take little notice. I didn't know whether they liked me or not; it never occurred to me to wonder. My work was what concerned them. If it was good, it was commended; if bad, it was criticized.

There may be more than we think in this old-fashioned way of dealing with children. Maybe it was easier for children to grow up in a world in which, when they impinged on the world of adults, they were treated firmly, impersonally and ceremoniously, but were otherwise left alone.

WHY BAD?

There was a word on one of my pupil's report card that he could not understand; he was almost in tears over it. Why should he have assumed that it was bad?

Of course, we adults tend to see all small, specific failures, of our own or of children, as proof of general failure, incompetence, worthlessness. Is it a cultural matter?

Are there no people in the world for whom it is not a disgrace to do something badly?

Note the danger of using a child's concept of himself to get him to do good work. We say, "You are the kind of sensible, smart, good, etc., etc., boy or girl who can easily do this problem, if you try."

CONCEPT FAILS

But if the work fails, so does the concept. If he can't do the problem, no matter how hard he tries, then, clearly, he is not sensible, smart or good.

If children worry so much about failure, might it not be because they rate success too highly and depend on it too much? May there not be altogether too much praise for good work in the lower grades?

If, when Johnny does good work, we make him feel "good," may we not, without intending it, be making him feel "bad" when he does bad work?

Do children really need so much praise? When a child after a long struggle, finally does the cube puzzle, does he need to be told that he has done well? Doesn't he know, without being told, that he has accomplished something?

HORNING IN

In fact, when we praise him, are we not perhaps horning in on his accomplishment, stealing a little of his glory, edging our way into the limelight, praising ourselves for having helped to turn out such a smart child? Is not most adult praise of children a kind of self-praise?

I think of a marvelous composition that one boy wrote about the dining room in his house. I find now, to my horror, that in thinking with satisfaction about that composition, I am really congratulating myself for my part in it. What a clever boy this is! and what a clever man am I for helping to make him so!

(NEXT: The Missing Pieces.) (NOTE: If you would like to read all of "How Children Fail," consult your local bookseller or send $4.50 to Princeton Publishing Corp., 30 East 46 St., New York, N.Y. 10017.)

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

By LUCRECE BEALE

(Synopsis—The Prince and the Turtle and the Snowman arrive in Santa Land to find that Santa has gone to Fairyland. Tweedledees grumpily agree to get them there in time for the Music Festival.)

CHAPTER SEVEN

For two hours George and the Prince and the Snowman wandered through the workshops of Santa Land. They had never dreamed of such a wonderland and the little elves who were Santa's helpers had never dreamed of such visitors.

"Are you really real?" they asked the Snowman, pinching off a piece of his arm.

"Ouch! Of course I'm real. But I shan't be long if you keep that up."

"But, you're not finished!" exclaimed the elves and they put a tall silk hat on top of the Snowman's head. "And a broom! He needs a broom!"

They stuck a brand new broom under his arm. "He's one-eyed. Give him another eye!" Out came the jewels and an emerald became the missing eye.

IN MIRROR

The Snowman looked at himself in the mirror. He was the handsomest, best-dressed Snowman ever made.

Meanwhile, George played games with a Jack-in-the-Box whose head popped in and out of its house even faster than George's did.

"Prince Chad rushed about examining bicycles, pogo sticks, toy trains, fire engines, games and spinning tops. He planned to fill the Kingdom of Razezpen with just such things when he became King.

The two hours sped by and too soon it was time to meet Patrick Tweedledees at workshop number six.

CROSS AS EVER

The old fellow was cross as ever, but he handed them each a pair of shoes and it was plain to see he was pleased with the job he had done. There were two giant shoes for the Snowman, four tiny shoes for George and two regular size for the Prince.

"They are the only ones of their kind in the world," said Tweedledees. "They will take you to Fairyland but not bring you back.

"Put them on when you come to the forest that lies on the east of Santa Land. They will carry you faster than your thoughts and you will be in Fairyland in time for breakfast."

The three travelers tried to thank him but he waved them off grumpily and stomped back to Santa's house to finish his sleep.

GOOD FELLOW

"He is a good fellow," said George. "I wish I could have sung for him. But I do not think he is a music lover."

"He would be if he heard you," said the Snowman loyally.

"Perhaps he will," said the Prince. "If George should win the Music Festival."

"Ah, yes," said George longingly. "Let us hurry!"

WENT OFF

They went off as fast as the Turtle's short legs would permit to the forest on the east side of Santa Land.

Behind them, where none could see came Womp, the man-witch. All this time Womp had been fidgeting and biting his nails as he waited impatiently to catch the Prince alone.

Womp had promised King Kerchew of Razezpen that he would see to it that the Prince would not return from his trip to Santa Land.

If he did not come back he could not be crowned King on Christmas Day and wicked Kerchew (who was only acting king) could go on being king forever.

FOLLOWED PRINCE

But Womp had followed the Prince all the way to Santa Land and never had a chance to be alone with him. Now time was running short and Womp was very worried.

Christmas Eve was tomorrow and after that came Christmas and it would be too late to stop the Prince.

But soon, very soon, Womp would get his chance.

Tomorrow: Womp's Chance

Bishop A. M. Zaleski to Be Installed

LANSING—The largest gathering of Catholic Church officials in this city's history will attend the installation of Coadjutor Bishop Alexander M. Zaleski in St. Mary's Cathedral Tuesday.

Bishop Zaleski is a former pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, Pontiac.

An archbishop, nearly two dozen bishops and 700 priests, brothers and nuns as well as a number of laymen and civic officials will fill the cathedral for the simple but majestic rites.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, metropolitan archbishop of the province of Michigan and superior of Michigan's nine bishops, will be the ranking prelate in attendance.

Bishop Zaleski, an auxiliary bishop in Detroit since 1950, was named Coadjutor Bishop of Lansing with right of succession by Pope Paul VI on Oct. 14.

He succeeds retiring Bishop Joseph H. Albers, Lansing's first Catholic Bishop, who asked to be relieved of his administrative duties because of his health.

Tuesday's ceremonies will be held outside the cathedral with a colorful procession of prelates, monsignori and priests who will be escorted by more than a score of uniformed Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus from throughout the Lansing Diocese.

Bishop Zaleski will then celebrate a Pontifical High Mass in Latin at the Cathedral's main altar. He will preach a sermon during the Mass.

Mark 8th Anniversary
The Junior and Adult Chords of St. James Missionary Church will celebrate their eighth anniversary with a program at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. James Church. Guest speaker will be Rev. James H. Jones of Detroit. The Pontiac Spirituals will sing.

Students Present Christmas Pageant

Students of Emmanuel Christian School will present a Christmas pageant at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the school gym. Grades 1 through 3 will offer "The Toy Shop Comes to Life," a well known Christmas story in which wooden soldiers, stuffed animals and rag dolls come to life the night before Christmas. This part of the program is under the direction of Gloria Lee.

Grades 4 through 6 will present "Out of the Ivory Palaces," a different portrayal of the birth of Jesus Christ as seen from Heaven rather than from earth as we usually look at His birth.

Angels are sad at the thought of Jesus leaving Heaven to come to earth and tell the story as the acts unfold in the little manger in Bethlehem. Wade Gladin will direct the scenes.

A Glee club composed of students from the grade school will sing several Christmas numbers including "Out of the Ivory Palaces," "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" and "No Room." Mrs. Charles Whitfield will direct the music. The public is invited.

EMMANUEL BAPTIST
Firemen from all over Oakland County will be attending Emmanuel Baptist Church, 645 S. Telegraph tomorrow. Firemen will also visit every department of the Sunday School. Pontiac area firemen are especially invited to attend.

LIBERTY
Pastor S. M. Edwards will bring the message when the Willing Workers of Liberty Baptist Church observes its first anniversary at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in Liberty Church, 250 Fisher.

"The Meaning of the Candles" will be the theme of the Baptist Training Union study at 6 p.m.

Church Choir in Oratorio

A masterpiece of the preBach era, backed by musical instruments, is the oratorio presentation scheduled in Christ Church Cranbrook at 5 p.m. tomorrow. The public is invited to attend.

In "The Christmas Story" by Heinrich Schütz, the rarest heard harpsichord and recorders will join the more conventional instruments — strings, brass, bassoon and organ — to provide the accompanying music.

"The Christmas Story" features Charles Wingert, tenor, of the Kenneth Jewell Choral, as the Evangelist. Russell Skitch, prominent Detroit bass-baritone and a member of Christ Church Cranbrook choir, portrays Herod. Conducting the oratorio is Robert Bates, organist and choirmaster of Christ Church.

Youth Group Has Series of Discussions

The Youth Group of First Congregational Church will hold the second in a series of discussions by Bert Van Koughnet, director of elementary education of the Pontiac Public School system Thursday.

His subject is "Perceiving, Believing and Becoming." All young people of the church are invited to the 6 p.m. dinner meeting and program which follows.

Tomorrow is Family Day. At the 10:30 morning service Sunday School children will attend the service with their parents for the first part of the service.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor, will preach a sermon especially for them before they return to Sunday School classes.

Following the service the Women's Fellowship is sponsoring a family dinner. Guests are invited.

Pastor Will Show Slides

Pastor Philip Somers of the Marimont Baptist Church, will show slides of his recent trip to Venezuela tomorrow. He will take 15 minutes each Sunday evening to show a portion of the colored pictures taken while he and Mrs. Somers were in Venezuela.

The Men's Quartet will provide special music in the morning worship service and Claudette Bessell will play a violin solo in the evening service.

The junior high young people will have a program entitled, "Our Testaments" at 6:30 p.m.

The senior high under the direction of Vance Meyer will discuss, "Who Is This Man?"

Jewels for Glittery Christmas Giving

Ever since the custom of giving Christmas gifts began, the jewelry store has been the treasure house of the widest assortment of memorable gifts to be cherished through the years.

For this reason, gifts that come from the jeweler are always welcomed and prized. This year, the Jewelry Industry Council reports, you will find an even greater choice of beautiful and exciting gifts for every age and price range. Karat gold and diamond jewelry are at the head of any woman's "most wanted" list. Some of the reasons are shown here.

Watch and Ring by Eric E. Seibert

At the left is a beautiful overlapping leaf spray bracelet interwoven with a ribbon of brilliant diamonds; the pin, a magnificent sunburst flower of 18 karat gold with a center cluster of brilliant cut diamonds.

Matching earrings and a ring that is a large dome of overlapping karat gold leaves topped off with a cluster of diamonds complete the ensemble.

So fashionable and flattering to women of all ages are pearls that they are a top favorite on many lists.

Pearls in the elegant manner are shown here for her stocking. A circle pin of cultured pearls and diamonds that can be hung on a gold chain and worn as a pendant; earrings of sprays of pearls and a huge ring of a cultured pearl atop a diamond studded dome, are some suggestions.

PEARL BRACELET

A bracelet made up of a series of cultured pearls held by two ribbons of diamonds set in 14 karat white gold tops the stuffed stocking. Santa can win the heart of any woman with whimsical gifts. Shown is a Christmas wreath pin of green stones and gold colored ribbon; a charm bracelet with a gold colored Christmas tree; gold colored snowflake earrings; and a snowball ring.

Trifari offers a dramatic rhinestone pendant on a multi-strand necklace of fine chain to add extra sparkle to holiday entertaining.

The matching bracelet with its beautifully designed clasp complements the pendant, and the modified drop earrings complete this fashion jewelry ensemble.

FASHION WATCHES

Today's woman often wears a watch that is not only a timekeeper but a fashionable piece of jewelry. The watch shown here is the last word in designing.

It's propped up so you don't have to twist your wrist to read the time. As well as being a fine watch, this conversation piece, in 14 karat polished gold serves as a beautiful bracelet.

The coordinated ring is polished gold set with diamonds.

Respectable Woman Stays Clear of Man's Apartment

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable divorced woman, 48 years of age. At a drop-in type cocktail party I met a very personable looking gentleman. He said he was also unattached, and by his own jolly admission was "pushing 60."

ABBY

We had a few laughs, danced a while and then he invited me to his apartment. I was taken back and refused.

Was I being mid-Victorian? He didn't say what he had in mind. If he'd even said he wanted to show me his elchings or a collection of something, I might have reacted differently.

When he left, he didn't ask for my telephone number. At my age prospects are not too plentiful. Now I am sorry I didn't go.

I've never gone to a man's apartment and didn't want him to think I was "that type." Was I foolish?

SORRY NOW

DEAR SORRY: I doubt if the man had any elchings, a stamp collection, medals from World War II, or other things women are invited to men's apartments to see, but seldom do.

A man who, by his own "jolly admission," is pushing 60 probably figures he doesn't have much time to waste. You used good judgment.

If he's anything special, you'll see him again. If he was only on the prowl for instant romance—who needs him?

DEAR ABBY: I have gotten up every morning of my life for the past 50 years and started fires in the coal and wood stove while my husband stayed in bed and slept. I also took care of the children without any help from him. I even carried the wood and water myself. Don't you think it is time he got up and worked on me for a change? Or am I supposed to go on like this for the rest of my life, and keep my mouth shut, just to avoid a fight?

NO SPRING CHICKEN

DEAR NO: You may be no spring chicken, but neither is your husband a dumb cluck. After being waited on for 50 years he is thoroughly spoiled, and you spoiled him. So don't expect to teach that old dog any new tricks.

DEAR ABBY: I spend half my life going back to restaurants where my wife and I have dined in order to retrieve things my wife has left behind.

How can I break her of forgetting things like gloves, scarves, handkerchiefs, packages, etc., on dining room tables, chairs and floors?

MR. BEAGLE

DEAR MR. BEAGLE: Before leaving the restaurant with your wife, present her with a check list. Purse? Scarf? Handkerchief? Compact? Lipstick? Wrap? Earrings? Pill box? Gloves? Packages? Head? Husband?

DEAR ABBY: I have seen many letters in your column from women who have waited for a married man to divorce his wife for them, but most of them never do.

Have you ever heard from a woman who has waited and finally got her man?

I would like to see a few because I am not sure whether I should keep on waiting.

WAITING

Young Singers Will Entertain Party Guests

The Everett Caseys will open their Orchard Lake home to the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, for a holiday party at 7:30 this evening.

An evening of conversation and family fun will feature native songs by the Akram children of Lahore, Pakistan, and German songs by the Cantarella children of Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. A. B. Akram will speak briefly following a showing of the movie "The Promise of Pakistan."

A Christmas cookie exchange is planned, also a sale of books, baked goods, recipes and white elephants.

DEAR WAITING: I heard from two this morning.

ONE SWEET

One said, "After my sweetheart divorced his wife and married me, he started to cheat on me just like he used to cheat on her. It was a 'habit' he couldn't break, and since I had helped him form it, shouldn't complain."

The other woman said that she waited 14 years for her man. And now she is playing nursemaid to a sick old "geezer" whose wife took him for all he was worth and threw him out.

Put Aristotle on Program

The Waterford Great Books Group will discuss "Politics" by Aristotle, Greek philosopher and tutor of Alexander the Great, at 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, in the CAI Building.

Jessie Kobrach will serve as author's advocate and Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Valentine will lead the discussion. Newcomers are invited.

For Christmas giving, herbs in colorful red clay pots can be decorated to provide a practical and lasting gift. Gay Christmas seals, tinsel or glitter may be used at the top of the pot; or plastic angels, Santas on wired pipe cleaners or springs of holly may be stuck in the soil near the rim. Wrap in transparent plastic with a vivid colored bow.

Mrs. George Tatterday, Mrs. John Hendry, Mrs. Lewis Butler, Mrs. George Teeples and Mrs. Russell Thorne.

Red Faces Avoided by Small Gift

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have been invited to spend several days with my boy friend's family over the Christmas holidays.

I have never met them before. I would like to know if it would be fitting and proper for me to take them each a small Christmas present.

A: As this will be your first meeting with his family, I would not, if I were you, take them Christmas presents as this could very easily lead to embarrassment.

I would suggest that you take a box of good candy to his mother and let that suffice.

Q: I have two small children who are approaching the age where they should be taught how to answer their elders. I was brought up to answer, "yes ma'am" and "yes."

I have been told that this is old-fashioned and no longer in use. Will you please tell me if this is true, and if so, what can I teach them to say instead?

A: "Ma'am" has almost completely gone out of use except perhaps in some parts of the South. "Sir" has always been and is still proper between a young man and an older gentleman.

To teach children to say, "Yes Mrs. Jones" and "No Mr. Smith" is not only correct but will give them the habit of paying attention to, and remembering the names of people they meet, which will be a wonderful help to them the rest of their lives.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Secretaries Celebrate at Yule Party

Members of Pontiac Chapter, The National Secretaries Association (International) gathered for the Christmas dinner party, Wednesday, at Bedell's in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Russell Brackett who gave the invocation was hostess for the evening, along with Mary Eleanor Lockman.

President Edythe Perry and vice-president, Mrs. Warren Trevelan, announced a meeting with other metropolitan chapters, of NSA, Jan. 15, in the Women's City Club, Detroit. A March 13 workshop in Cobo Hall is also on the agenda.

Chapter members will play "Santa" to a needy family in the community.

Guests were Mrs. Jack Hendrickson, Margaret Villa, Mrs. Ulysees Barnett, Marguerite Hodge and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Tips on Toys for the Dog
at Christmas

NEW YORK (NEA) — There's nothing more disappointing to a dog owner than to buy his pet a Christmas gift only to find that the pup won't even look at it.

Here are a few tips from an expert about playthings for pooches.

Steer clear of wooden objects or toys that are apt to splinter.

Even though a toy may catch your eye, don't be carried away by your own likes and dislikes.

Remember that it's for Fido to enjoy.

Latex toys come in a bewildering number of shapes. If the dog is afraid of squeaky noises, choose one without a squeaker.

For teething puppies, squeakless toys are safest. They can't swallow the metal squeaker.

Bilevel Brick Ranch Of C. Bud Sheltons Found On Shagbark Drive, Avon Township

Sheltons Chose Contemporary

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

New home owners faced with construction blunders should take heart at the experience of the C. Bud Sheltons. The Sheltons and their three children, Russ, Brenda and Jill live on Shagbark Drive, Avon Township.

"What we first termed mistakes," said Mrs. Shelton, "actually developed into assets."

"For instance, in our dining room, the plans showed plenty of space for a credenza in the hallway that led from the foyer to the family room."

"When the room was completed, much to our disappointment and discouragement, the hallway was nowhere near wide enough for a piece of furniture that size."

To solve the Sheltons' dilemma, interior decorator Edward Crane of Birmingham drew attention to the areaway wall by papering it with a grained wallpaper in bittersweet and gold. He then attached a polished walnut plank with decorative brass chain lengths.

On this eye-catching conversation piece, crackle-glass bottles that chade from bittersweet to gold add emphasis to the wall colors. And, as a direct contrast, the shelf is centered by a black sculpture of a native woman.

Twin glass globes etched in white enamel, to match the room's central hanging fixture, light the area.

Gold carpeting and off-white walls complete the room's color background. Danish oiled-walnut chairs with bittersweet and gold fabric on the cushions and backs are grouped about the oval polished-walnut table.

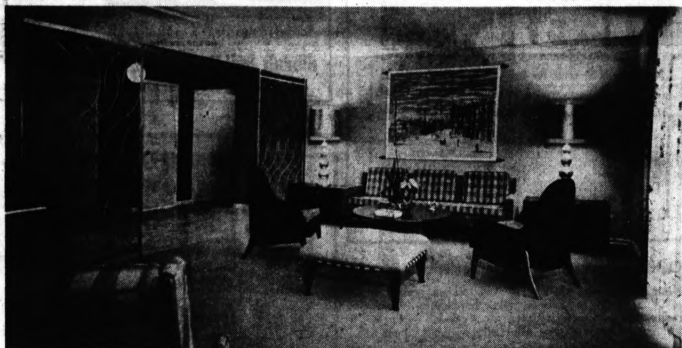

Another "mistake," the steep drop of the back yard, is now held in place by massive boulders. Varities of evergreens and shrubs cascade over the field stone outcroppings, creating a natural beauty spot that passersby stop to admire. The corner site overlooks Lochmoor Lake.

Entered by double carriage doors, the foyer is separated from the living room by an open divider. Setting the formal area's color pace is a line painting by Carzou. It introduces shades of pumpkin, bittersweet, turquoise and black. Mounted on black rods, the original interpretation of Venice is hung from brass rings above the sofa.

The bittersweet, brown and beige plaid of the sofa back and seat cushions duplicates the fabric of the room's wing-back chair.

Completing the sofa arrangement around the slate pedestal table are twin brown arm chairs with bittersweet felt cushions and an ebony-based square stool also covered in bittersweet felt.

PLEASING DECEPTION — Unless you were told, you'd have a difficult time imagining that this charming residence was a two-family house, with separate, modern, three-bedroom units; private entrances; individual terraces and different garages.

Has Novel Design Two-Family House

We have something unusual this week — something rarely seen in house plans displayed for the reading public. It's a two-family house!

Not just any old two-family house, but one that looks like a one-family house, thanks to an ingenious design by architect Herman H. York.

Most two-family houses have one living area directly over the other, or one unit next to the other, or one unit next to the other in a symmetrical pattern.

But note the exterior of this house, with a porticoed front porch at the left and an attractive separate entrance at the right side, giving an over-all appearance of a one-family, two-story plan.

TWO GARAGES
There are two garages, but one has been subordinated, further adding to the impression of single-family occupancy.

This house is so built that each unit can be separately owned or the entire structure singly-owned with one unit rented.

Income-producing property such as this is particularly good where land values are high and plot sizes consequently must be held to a minimum.

Under some community ordinances, this double residence conceivably could be built on a plot measuring as little as 70' wide, although a width of 80' would be preferable.

In any case, it is important that local zoning ordinances be carefully checked to determine what can and cannot be done at the exact location where you intend to build.

Each unit has its living room to the left of its own entrance and foyer. There is a living room-dining room expanse of 31' in the home to the left of the party wall, about the same to the right.

You can see that this party wall extends as a six-foot-high brick wall when it moves outward, thus serving as a decorative and practical separation of the two rear terraces.

CONVENIENT CHIMNEY
Since the chimney is conveniently located between the two terraces, individual barbecues can be built if desired.

Both kitchens overlook and lead to the terraces. While the kitchens can be entered from the rear of the house, it is not necessary to do so, the traffic pattern permitting movement to them from the main entrances — without crossing any other rooms.

Another advantage of the traffic design is that any one can go from the outside directly to the stairs leading to the bedrooms. Each unit has three bedrooms and a sizable bathroom.

The continuous party wall gives excellent sound control by itself, but added sound insurance is built in by the back-to-back closet arrangement.

There are 1,395 square feet of living area in the left-hand unit, 1,356 square feet in the other.

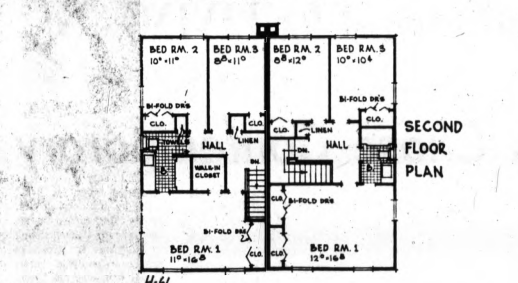

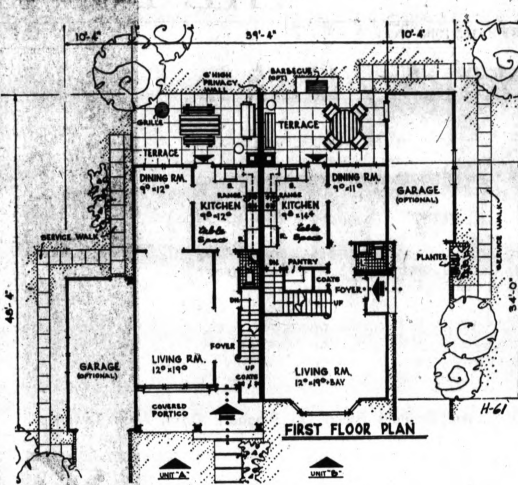

However, the owner might prefer the left-hand unit because of the direct approach to the front door. These statistics, by the way, do not include the garages, terraces and porches.

SUBURBAN EXTERIOR
The masonry has been minimized in Design H-61, primarily to create an exterior which looks like one found in the suburbs rather than one with urban characteristics.

The addition of brick or stone veneer will not detract from the elevation should local preference be strong for masonry.

As for a color scheme, it is advantageous to do the entire unit in a monochromatic decor, using white side walls and trim, depending upon the masonry, for complement, and dark shutters and roof for accent.

Should dark side wall shingles be used, the roof, trim and shutters should be white. In any event, the front elevation will have a strong horizontal line because of the portico cornice, a device used to create an appearance of length.

FLOOR PLANS — Although a long party wall separates the two living units and terraces of this house, with only minor differences on each side, the exterior design gives a strong impression of a graceful, attractive one-family structure.

Maintenance Nil on Marblecrete

Marble chips are being "shot from guns" in a new wall finishing process. Called marblecrete, the new concept has become popular in the United States, Australia and Germany.

In the new process plasterers use rock guns to fire colored or white chips into the final coat of white portland cement stucco.

Often a clear glaze is then applied to the wall. This makes the wall easy to wash with plain water.

Weatherproof and never needing paint, marblecrete has been used for schools, stores, houses, churches, apartment buildings and factories.

Besides marble, the "shot from guns" process has been used with quartz, glass and ordinary pebbles.

More than 40 per cent of all bathtubs installed now are porcelain on steel, says the Porcelain Enamel Institute.

Fresh Cranberries for Holiday Dishes

By JANET ODELL

Unless a cranberry has bounce, it's no good. That's one of the tests packers give the scarlet little berries.

Their color is perfect for the Christmas season. And cranberries are so versatile that they can be served from one end of the day to another, in almost every course.

New products, either on your grocer's shelves already or to be there in the near future, are a cranberry juice cocktail and dietetic cranberry juice.

Cranberry orange relish has been in the frozen food case for some time. Now you can buy it in cans as well.

Both kinds of cranberry sauce come in a sugar-free low calorie form.

Best of all, the growers promise that from now on you will be able to buy quick-frozen fresh cranberries.

Frozen Cranberry Salad Loaf

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 can (13 ounces) crushed pineapple | 1 tablespoon lemon juice |
| $\frac{3}{4}$ cup sugar | 1 tablespoon butter or margarine |
| 2 cups fresh cranberries | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| 1 banana, diced | 1 egg, well beaten |
| 1 cup diced, fresh or drained canned pears | $\frac{1}{4}$ pound (16) marshmallows, diced |
| 1 cup heavy cream, whipped | |

Drain pineapple thoroughly and reserve syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make 1 cup. Combine with sugar and cranberries in saucepan and bring to a full boil. Remove from heat. Drain cranberries and reserve syrup. Combine drained cranberries and pineapple, banana, pears and lemon juice. Chill.

Melt butter and blend in cornstarch. Add reserved cranberry syrup and stir over medium heat until mixture boils and thickens. Reduce heat and stir a little of hot mixture into egg; return to hot mixture, stirring constantly. Continue cooking over low heat for 3 minutes. Cool to lukewarm.

Fold fruit, marshmallows and whipped cream into cooled mixture. Pour into 9x5x3-inch loaf pan or 2 refrigerator trays. Freeze until firm. Slice and serve on crisp greens with mayonnaise, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

Molded Cranberry Party Salad

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 cup water | 2 tablespoons lemon juice |
| 1 cup sugar | 1 tablespoon brandy (optional) |
| 2 cups fresh cranberries | 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, cut into cubes |
| 1 cup boiling water | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped nuts |
| 1 package (6 ounces) strawberry-flavored gelatin | 1 cup chopped celery |
| 1 cup cold water | |

Combine 1 cup water, the sugar and cranberries in a saucepan. Bring just to a boil. Remove from heat, cover and cool for about 5 minutes. Combine boiling water and gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Add 1 cup cold water, cranberry mixture, lemon juice and brandy. Chill until thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into $\frac{1}{2}$ -quart mold. Chill until firm. Makes 6-8 servings.

Festive Cranberry Fruit Salad

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 3 cups fresh cranberries | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup salad oil |
| 1 cup honey | Crisp salad greens |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cup vinegar | 2 cups diced oranges |
| 1 tablespoon celery seed | 2 cups diced, unpeeled apples |
| 1 teaspoon dry mustard | 2 avocados, peeled and diced |
| $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt | 2 tablespoons lemon juice |

Combine cranberries and honey in saucepan. Bring to a full boil over medium heat. Remove from heat and cool to room temperature. Drain cranberries and reserve syrup. Combine cranberry syrup, vinegar, celery seed, mustard, salt and salad oil; beat or shake until well blended.

Arrange salad greens on salad platter. Arrange cranberries, oranges, apples and avocados in rows over greens. Sprinkle lemon juice over apples and avocados. Serve with salad dressing.

Sugarless Way to Make Sauce

Traditional Jellied Cranberry Sauce has been de-calorized to just 18 calories per serving, versus 114 it had been sweetened with sugar.

Jellied Cranberry Sauce (Low-Calorie)

- 2 cups raw cranberries
1 cup water
1 envelope (or tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
2 tablespoons sucaryl solution

Combine cranberries and the 1 cup water; cook until skins pop. Soften gelatin in the $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water. Add cooked cranberries, stirring to dissolve gelatin. Add sucaryl. Pour into a 1-pound can or 2-cup mold. Chill until set. Slice to serve.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 18 calories; 1 gram protein; trace of fat; 3 grams carbohydrate.

To make plain cranberry jelly force cooked cranberries through food mill or strainer; add to softened gelatin and proceed as above.

Cranberry Sauce Tints Both Cake and Frosting

You have tried cakes with mayonnaise substituting for eggs and shortening. Now it's time to try a cranberry mayonnaise cake with canned whole cranberry sauce.

- CRANBERRY SAUCE CAKE
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups whole cranberry sauce
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup real mayonnaise
1 Grated rind of 1 orange
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup orange juice
3 cups sifted flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Lightly grease 9-inch tube pan and line bottom with brown paper. Combine cranberry sauce, walnuts, real mayonnaise, orange rind and juice in mixing bowl. Sift flour, sugar, baking soda and salt on top. Stir until mixture is well blended.

Pour into prepared tube pan. Bake in 350 degrees (moderate) oven until cake tests done, about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Cool, then frost.

TO PREPARE FROSTING:
Cream 2 tablespoons margarine. Add 2 cups sifted confectioners sugar and $\frac{1}{4}$ cup whole cranberry sauce. Beat until creamy.

Cranberries in some form add so much to so many menus that it is strange some homemakers serve them only at holiday time. It's an unfortunate tradition. Perhaps it dates back to the time when both cranberries and sugar were expensive. Today fresh cranberry sauce is one of the thriftest treats you can bring to your table.

Just to show you the from-soup-to-nuts versatility of cranberries, here are some excellent recipes you'll want to try.

- Cape Cod Cranberry Ginger Relish
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
5 cups fresh cranberries
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cups sugar
3 tablespoons grated orange rind
3 tablespoons chopped candied ginger

Soften gelatin in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water and set aside for later use. Wash cranberries and place in a saucepan along with sugar and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water. Cover and cook 8 to 10 minutes or only until skins pop. (Overcooking produces a bitter flavor.) Remove from heat and stir in orange rind, chopped ginger and softened gelatin.

Rinse a 4-cup mold in cold water. Pour mixture into the mold and chill until jellied. Serve with poultry or meat. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Fresh Cranberry Granite
4 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups water
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fresh lemon juice
Wash cranberries and place in a saucepan with water and salt. Cover and cook only until skins pop. Strain, being sure to push through as much of the pulp as possible. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. When cold, stir in lemon juice.

FRESH CRANBERRY SALADS—What has more eye appeal than a pink or red cranberry salad? That molded cranberry loaf on the wooden tray can be garished with a frame of sour cream or mayonnaise. Dramatize the serving of a ruby mold by placing it on a tall milk glass compote. And use whole crimson berries to make a fresh fruit salad more colorful. The arrangement of the fruit in the lower salad follows the line of the serving tray. There's no limit to what you can do with cranberries at Christmas and all through the year.

Pour into ice cube trays. Freeze to a mush. Serve as a dessert or as an accompaniment to turkey. If this ice freezes too hard, let stand at room temperature a few minutes to soften. Yield: $\frac{1}{2}$ cups.

Chill until ready to serve. Turn the butter and cranberry juice into a mixing bowl. Gradually beat in with a spoon, keeping smooth, enough confectioners' sugar to make a mixture that can be kneaded.

Roll out to $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch thickness between 2 pieces of wax paper. Chill. Cut into desired shapes. Gradually beat in with a spoon, keeping smooth, enough confectioners' sugar to make a mixture that can be kneaded.

Roll out to $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch thickness between 2 pieces of wax paper. Chill. Cut into desired shapes. Gradually beat in with a spoon, keeping smooth, enough confectioners' sugar to make a mixture that can be kneaded.

Heat a can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of asparagus soup with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk; add a can (7 oz.) drained tuna and a cup ripe olive wedges. Simmer, stirring, until heated through; stir in two tablespoons lemon juice and ladle over a platter of buttered, parsley-sprinkled spaghetti.

Add finely diced raw celery to cooked peas for a crunchy addition; dress with butter and reheat.

Cover jointed ends in the center with a short strip that's about $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch wide and 2 inches long.

Tint Pudding Sauce With Red Fruit

- CRANBERRY HARD SAUCE
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, soft
3 tablespoons cranberry juice cocktail
2 cups (about) confectioners' sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon almond extract

Turn the butter and cranberry juice into a mixing bowl. Gradually beat in with a spoon, keeping smooth, enough confectioners' sugar to make a mixture that can be kneaded.

Roll out to $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch thickness between 2 pieces of wax paper. Chill. Cut into desired shapes. Gradually beat in with a spoon, keeping smooth, enough confectioners' sugar to make a mixture that can be kneaded.

Tall Pudding Decorated for Yuletide

Do you like to rehearse your Christmas recipes? Then you might enjoy trying this Steamed Cranberry Pudding now.

Although long steaming is called for, the cranberries remain a pretty red color and give a polka-dot effect. Although we specify 8 to 12 servings as this pudding's yield, it's a good idea to count on 8 servings if it is offered as the only dessert, 12 servings if there are other sweets on your holiday table.

- Steamed Cranberry Pudding
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fine dry bread crumbs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon mace
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 cups cranberries, coarsely chopped

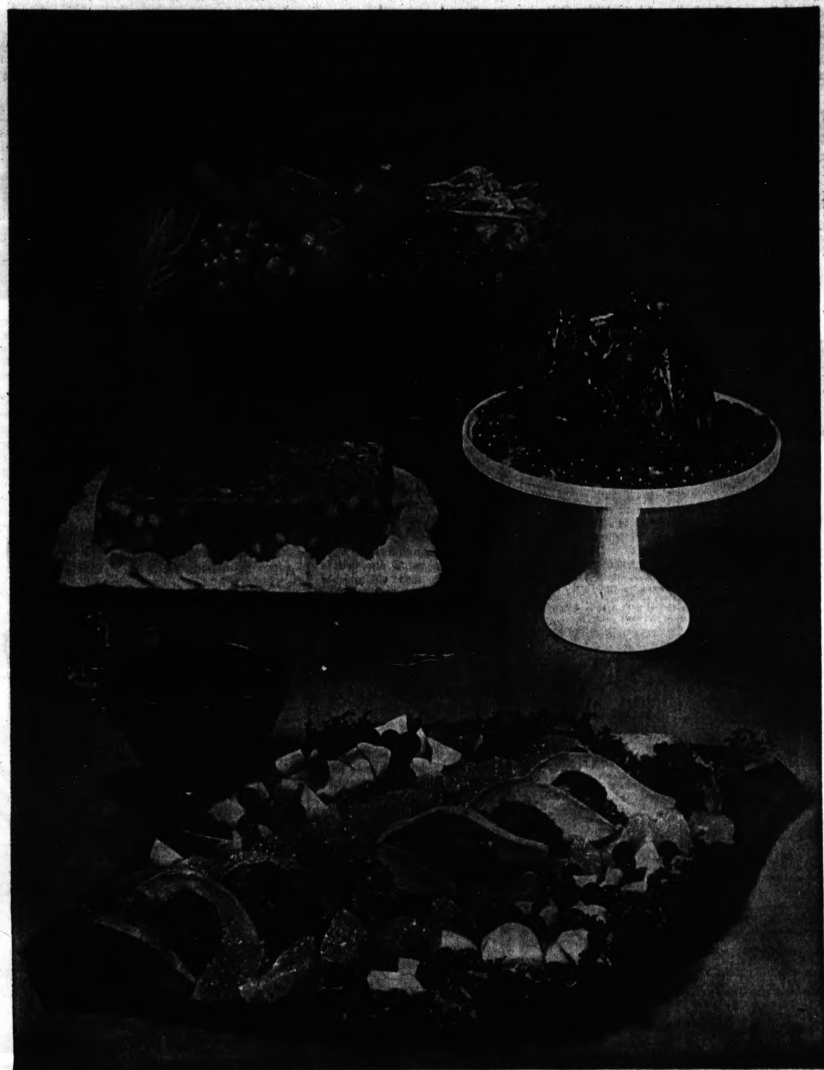

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in bread crumbs and mace. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal.

Beat eggs with milk to blend and add, all at once, to the dry ingredients; stir until entirely blended. Fold in cranberries.

Spoon mixture into a well-buttered $\frac{1}{2}$ -quart mold. Cover tightly.

Put filled mold into a kettle; add boiling water to come halfway up side of mold. Cover kettle and steam for 3 to 3½ hours. Add boiling water as necessary to keep the level halfway up the mold.

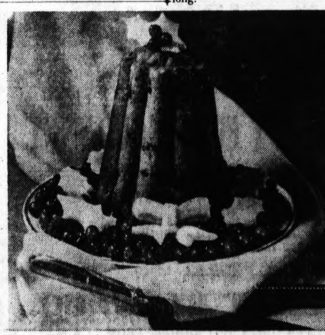

Remove mold from water and let cool for 15 minutes. Unmold and serve warm with Hard Sauce. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Dishwasher Will Please Housewife

"Visions of sugar plums danced in their heads." This is fine for the kids, but what about Mother at Christmastime? With big family meals, extra snacks and holiday entertaining, one vision she's apt to be stuck with is a staggering pile of dirty dishes.

That's why electric dishwashers have become popular gift items. Homemakers who have received a dishwasher as a Christmas gift are as happy as a teen-ager on her first date. A dishwasher may be less romantic but the joy of it lasts a lot longer.

Today's electric dishwashers cut clean-up time to minimum. Dishes can be taken from the table, scraped and loaded out of sight and mind — without groaning — and while the hostess is enjoying her second cup of coffee with family and friends, the dishwasher does the work.

Not only is a dishwasher more convenient, but it also does a better job than old-fashioned hand-washing. Water hotter than hands can stand, special detergents and powerful jets of water virtually scrub soiled dishes hygienically clean. After rinsing and hot-air drying, dishes come out sparkling and spot free, ready for the table.

New units are more convenient and have greater loading capacity than ever before. Many families regularly load their dishwasher as dishes are used throughout the day and then wash the whole batch before they go to bed at night.

If many large pots and pans have been used to prepare a holiday meal, they can be kept separate and washed together in a second load.

Three types of electric dishwashers are available. The built-in is the most popular for new homes and kitchens that are being remodeled. It's installed under a counter and is permanently attached to water and waste lines.

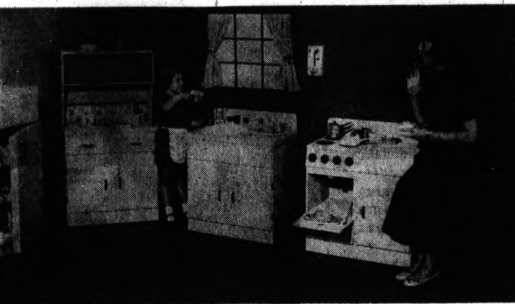

The portable rolls about on wheels and from a convenient storage spot and the sink. No installation is required.

The convertible is a portable that is especially designed for easy installation as a built-in. It's often favored by families who rent now but plan to buy a home in the future.

Christmas Plants Brighten Altars

For church altars, supplement poinsettias, evergreens and holy wreaths with other tasteful arrangements of clay-potted plants that can be both symbolic and pleasing.

Miniature roses, cyclamen, azaleas, potted Jerusalem cherries and Christmas peppers, rosemary herbs as well as coleus and chrysanthemums can add to traditional plant displays.

JUST LIKE MOMMY'S — What little girl wouldn't beam to open her eyes on Christmas morning and find that Santa had left her a miniature kitchen just like mommy's. St. Nick's helper, better known as daddy or grandpa, can duplicate the above models using the easy-to-follow pattern. To obtain pattern number 363 for building all four items, send $1.00 by check, currency or money order to: Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif., 91409.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

Dor's mother, Barbara, wept. She had been saving, little by little, for the time when Dor's father could no longer work.

"Barbara, you and Shep will have to watch the sheep until we return," Dor's father said. "A neighbor boy will help you. We shall be back as soon as we can."

That night Barbara packed a lunch and very early the next day Dor and his father started for Bethlehem. It was still dark, and the stars looked strange.

By Ralph Lane

May Prove Premature

What's This?? Dem Praising Romney!

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency Friday praised what he thought was Republican Gov. George Romney's stand on the explosive subject of workmen's compensation.

But the praise may prove as premature as it was rare.

Ferency, a frequent critic of Romney and Republicans in general, predicted "at least 90 per cent of Romney's legislative proposals for amending the Workmen's Compensation Act will be enacted."

"We are pleased that the governor intends to keep his campaign pledges in this area," Ferency said. "There appears to be general acceptance (among Democrats and organized labor) of the principles of revision."

LIBERALIZING PROPOSALS
Liberalizing proposals were made by Weldon Yeager, appointed by Romney to head the workmen's compensation department. Romney, however, said at a seminar on compensation this week that Yeager's "recommendations do not represent my position or that of anyone in the executive department."

Ferency said later he was not aware of the Romney statement. "I just assumed that an appointee of the governor would be making the recommendations of the governor," Ferency said.

Romney was to be in New York and Denver today. But an aide said, "what the governor meant was that this did not necessarily represent his position."

Romney wants to study Yeager's recommendations and those of a study commission he appointed last summer before stating his own position, a spokesman for the department said.

"His statement did not in any way indicate opposition," he added.

Romney and Yeager did not have an opportunity to discuss the recommendations before Yeager released his proposed changes, the spokesman said.

Yeager's recommendations included payments of benefits to an injured worker for as long as he is unable to work, eliminating the present 500-week limitation and increasing weekly benefits to a maximum of $100 per week. Maximum benefits now range from $33 to $57 weekly.

coverage to farm workers and domestics, allowing the injured person to choose his doctor after 30 days treatment by a company doctor and allowing the worker to apply any time after the injury, but with benefits retroactive for only a year.

Salinger, Murphy Trade Jobs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California Sen. Pierre Salinger and Sen. elect George Murphy are swapping jobs.

Salinger is resigning three days early to go into the movie business.

And old show business pro Murphy is heading for Washington early — to plop into Salinger's Senate seat while it's still warm.

Democrat Salinger lost to Republican Murphy in November after a bitter campaign. But — on the altar of seniority, for the good of the Golden State — the two Friday shrugged off old insults.

Salinger called a news conference to say he had finally decided among a host of job offers. Jan. 1 he becomes a vice president of National General Corp., a theater, movie-making and a closed-circuit television firm.

Thaumaturgy is the performance of magic.

Romney's Committee Supports 'Experience Rating' for Insurance

LANSING (AP) — The Governor's Action Committee on Health Care supported Friday the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan to use a so-called experience rating in setting premiums.

"The present competitive situation admits of no other practical solution than permitting the proposed change to merit (experience) rating," the committee reported.

It said, however, "retention of community rating is most consistent with the broadest concept of sharing the risk" although it is not practical under current health insurance rate competition.

The committee's report was in reply to a request to examine the Blues' proposal Nov. 23 to add experience rating to its system of community rating. This would allow lower rates for low-risk groups and higher rates for high-risk groups.

State Insurance Director Allen Mayerson had requested the report.

The two health care plans now differentiate only on the basis of whether the subscriber is a group or non-group member, over 65, or a group conversion plan, receiving family or non-family benefits, and for Blue Shield—on the basis of income.

It has been losing low-risk groups to private insurance plans, whose rates are lower, spokesmen for the Blue plans said. They asked to be allowed to offer lower rates to low-risk groups and higher rates to high-risk groups—the first-year change totaling not more than 20 per cent.

Some 2.5 million Michigan residents would be affected, they said. Members of groups of less than 100 subscribers would not be affected by the merit plan.

A minority report argued that the reasons for the change "are not convincing, that soundness of the corporations would not be threatened by maintaining the present concept of community rating."

Reflections TAKE STOCK

Take Stock of what we have, set down what we want, make rules of conduct to achieve that objective.

Every objective has a price; energy, helping others, kindness, thoughtfulness and a willingness to mix victory with defeat. Our assets come with thoroughly blended ingredients, tempered with the love of those around us.

Let me tell you about Mithis Abernathy. His parents were rich, his social position was second to none, he had everything - except he had no friends. In school he ate his lunch alone, his classmates took his money and shunned him, he wasn't invited to social affairs. He took stock of what he had, found one asset, his father's money. He made a set of rules: One - Money is a poor substitute for interest in others. Two - Be natural, friendly. Three - Ask questions. Listen to their problems and troubles. He came involved in them. With these three rules he met his associates with a different attitude; that difference made him a social favorite.

There is a lesson for all of us in Mithis Abernathy's three rules.

Aimed at Unemployed Teens

County in Job-for-Youth Plan

Oakland County is cooperating with the State of Michigan in offering unusual employment opportunities to a select group of youth in the area.

Six girls and one boy are now employed in various county departments on a 26-week work education program sponsored by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

The seventh girl will begin work Monday.

All are high school dropouts or graduates who have been unable to find employment.

John Witherup, county personnel director, said 15 area youngsters will be receiving on-the-job training when the program gets into full swing.

The wages aren't much - $20 for a 40-hour week - but the opportunities are unlimited.

Carefully screened applicants for the program are referred to the county by the MESC.

They are given further testing by the personnel office to determine their capabilities and qualifications.

Offices now employing the youths are the health department reimbursement and accounting divisions of the board of auditors, sheriff's department, cooperative extension service, planning commission and the county garage.

Witherup said the program has been "very successful" thus far, and some of the youths are being considered for full-time employment at the end of their training period.

EQUALLY DIVIDED

The trainees wages are equally divided between the county and the state. Plans are to enlarge the program as soon as more money is available, Witherup said.

The girls applying for the program far outnumber the boys, according to Witherup, due to the availability of better-paying jobs for boys.

PCH Leads Saginaw Valley; Huskies Also Win

Chiefs Defeat Arthur Hill in Key Tilt, 65-50

Pontiac Central Five Stays Unbeaten With 4-0 Record

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It looks like the good old days in the Saginaw Valley Conference, momentarily for Pontiac Central at least.

The Chiefs defeated a tough Saginaw Arthur Hill quintet 65-50 last night to take sole possession of first place in the SVC with a 3-0 record.

The smaller but scrappy PCH quintet started slowly and led only 8-7 after five minutes of the first period, but then a couple floor violations on Arthur Hill gave the Chiefs a chance to break it open to 16-9 after one period.

After this the margin went as high as 21 points with Carl Arnold dribbling past the Lumberjacks with 22 points and a Jess Egans adding 21.

After a 34-22 halftime lead, Arthur Hill tried to closeup the middle with a pressing zone but leaving Arnold open to hit on four straight jumpers from the outside.

The margin thus increased to 49-22 with the Chiefs getting 11 straight points before Dave Fisher finally hit a bucket to break the drought for Arthur Hill.

TALL FRONT LINE

The Lumberjacks considered a top contender in the SVC race with a tall front line were a much better ball club than they indicated. Early in the game they missed at five easy layups which would have kept the action much closer.

Dennis Hurp, stumpy Arthur Hill guard, played floor havoc with the Chiefs in stealing the ball several times. He finished with 12 points to lead the losers.

The Chiefs have another league game at Midland next Tuesday and a victory would assure them of the conference lead to start the new year.

Roseville Sets Scoring Record

Walled Lake Victim of Wildcats, 92-63

Roseville set a school scoring record last night with a last-half blitz that buried Walled Lake, 92-63.

The Wildcats, playing on their home floor, hit 20 of 30 field goals in the second half and surpassed the previous high total of 91 set three seasons ago. Walled Lake trailed only 40-39 at halftime; but Jack Nizza scored four straight field goals and the winners five in all at the start of the third period to begin the telling push that led to a 32-point half.

Although the visiting Vikings held the backboard edge, their shooting was cold (32 percent) and Roseville took advantage of the Walled Lake shaky defense.

Jeff Clime and Frank Woloszyk led a well balanced Roseville offense with 21 and 18 points respectively, mostly on fast break baskets. Mike Hoover's jump shooting led to 17 Wildcat points.

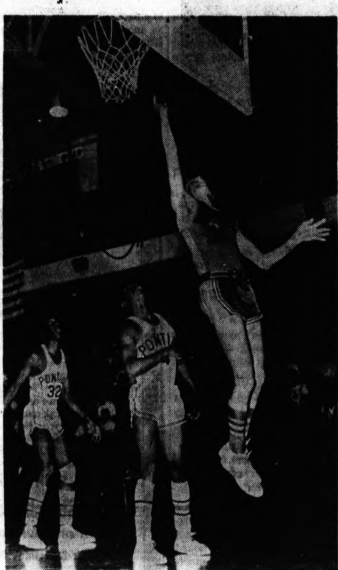

Four players hit twin figures for the visitors. Pat Godfrey had 15 for the top mark. The Vikings now are 1-1 while the win was second in four tries for Roseville.

3 Unbeaten Pacing SEMA

Birmingham Seaholm, Berkeley and Ferndale remained spotless in the first night's activity of the Southeastern Michigan Association's basketball race.

Seaholm's Maple made it four in a row with a 71-45 trouncing of previously unbeaten Hazel Park.

Berkley's streak reached three straight as the Bears nipped Royal Oak Kimball in overtime, 65-64; and Ferndale now is 2-0 over-all following its 80-60 pasting of Southfield.

Seaholm sprang into a 37-19 first half cushion and then extended it with a 15-7 third period edge. Guard Harold Wilber as usual led the winners with 19 tallies.

Northern Gets First Victory

Mt. Clemens Is Initial PNH Victim, 74-69

Pontiac Northern couldn't stop sharp shooting Bill Ford of Mount Clemens, but the Huskies did stop the Bathers and chalked up their first victory of the season 74-69.

Northern received better scoring balance to offset Ford's 34 points, getting 22 from Roger Hayward, 19 from Larry Frye and 17 from John Bailey.

The Huskies led 38-31 at halftime, but with Ford hitting his deadly shots in the third quarter, the Bathers pushed in 25 points and held a 56-53 lead after three periods.

With three minutes to play, Bailey hit a bucket to make it tied 67-65 for PNH and the Huskies never relinquished the lead.

Hayward netted all of his points on 11 field goals and the Huskies were deadly at the free throw line with 18 of 22.

After losing their first two by close margins to Flint Southwestern and Highland Park, two rugged foes, the victory was sweet for the Huskies who host Roseville next Tuesday before their big battle with Pontiac Central at PNH on December 29th.

Oxford Quintet Stays Perfect With Victory

Oxford rolled along unbeaten and close to the Tri-County League lead with its 45-40 brush past Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse Friday night.

Sophomore Roger Miller continued his strong scoring with a 20-point effort as the Wildcats won their third straight, though only No. 1 in the loop.

After a low scoring 10-10 first quarter, Oxford broke away to a 27-20 intermission edge. This was increased to nine points, 39-30 in the third period.

L'Anse, which hit for 10 points in each of the four sessions, then trimmed the Wildcats' point - producing down.

Falcons Upset Cousino Quint

Dragons Waltz, 60-41

But Avondale Falls

By HENR PETERS

It was a night of upsets at least half-way around the Oakland-A League last night as Rochester and Lake Orion posted impressive first victories.

The Falcons applied the heat in the fourth period to bomb top-ranked Warren Cousino, 67-58, and the Dragons led all the way in a lopsided 60-41 triumph over Pittsburg.

Troy and Madison share the top lead after chalking up their second straight wins. The Colts swept past Avondale, 70-53, and the Eagles netted a 70-43 decision over Clawson.

Trailing 47-48 going into the final period, Rochester made its home opener a rout by shelling the Patriots with a 22-5 blitz in the first six minutes of the season.

Bruce McDonald dealt the telling blows in the outburst which shot the Falcons ahead 67-52, sinking 11 straight free throws to go 12-for-13 during the period.

HITS 25-3

The sharpshooting 5-9 senior guard paced Rochester with 25 points, but had considerable help from a troop of underclassmen who repeatedly took the play away from the much taller veterans.

Scoring in double figures was again with the boards were juniors Bob Mills (15), Harry Hogan (10), and sophomore Don Goding (13).

Cousino, now 1-1, had Randy Eckhardt and Jeff LaFata with 14 apiece and Drew Pisha at 12.

Before breaking the game wide open, the Falcons were in a real dogfight. Down 12-11 in the first period, they took a 22-31 halftime edge, and then fell behind at the three-quarter mark.

Golding got the tying bucket to start the fourth and Mills put the Falcons four-up with a field goal and two free throws. Then McDonald started his flawless streak.

Lake Orion cruised into a 32-18 lead the first half and was never in danger as the Spartans lost their second straight. Dave Phillips canned 17 points. Bill Hamilton and Dennis Brophy 13 each, and Jim Greenhill 12.

AVON FALLS

Troy likewise had a breeze in leading Avondale's initial loss. Chris Backus, scoring frequently from under the hoop, led the Colts with 25 points.

Guard Bud Hether came out in 18 on layups and jumpers, while Bruce Boas added 12. The "Yellow Jackets" attack from Lynn Thorne 18, Dan McCoskey 12, and Barry Peel 10.

After narrow leads of 27-25 at the half and 46-43 going into the fourth period, Madison pulled away from Clawson (6-2). Jim Wilfong tallied 27 for the Eagles, and Rick Miller had 23 for the Trojans.

Student's Death
After Fight Said to Be Accidental

ALPENA (AP)—The death of 17-year-old college student Lloyd Ross from a skull fracture was accidental and apparently occurred from a fall during a fight, Alpena police said late Friday.

The Alpena Community College student was found dead in his bed Thursday. An autopsy revealed a brain hemorrhage caused by the fracture.

Police said the Alpena County Prosecutor's Office had determined the accidental nature of Ross' death but that statements still were being taken from possible witnesses.

Curb Filming,
WSU Is Urged

DETROIT (A)—Wayne State University's audio-visual department was called on Friday to stop making films for private industries.

State Rep. Richard Guzowski, D-Detroit, said Wayne has an "unfair advantage and is improperly competing with private enterprise by using university facilities paid for by the state."

Guzowski's comments came after a day of testimony at the City-County Building.

The lawmaker, who investigated the department, said the probe was started after private movie makers and affiliated unions complained of the school's activity.

Goodfellow Edition: Sales Help Pontiac Needy

Police Lieutenant William F. Nesbitt; Postman Harry Isenberg and Firefighter Robert L. Koch—all members of the Metropolitan Club of Pontiac, sponsors of the drive to help needy families.

Buying Helps to Bring Cheer at Christmas

Drive Is Sponsored by Police, Fire and Post Office Workers

It's that day again! It's Goodfellow newspaper day for the City of Pontiac.

The Goodfellow drive is sponsored by the Metropolitan Club of Pontiac, Spirit 6, whose membership is made up of police, fire and postal department employees.

They're out to provide a happier Christmas for needy families with Christmas baskets, food, and warm clothing for children, as well as fuel oil or coal for homes of destitute families.

The goal this year for Christmas and all through the year is $2,000, according to Robert L. Koch, president.

Names of needy families are obtained through the Salvation Army which acts as a clearing house for these families and prevents duplication with other contributing organizations.

This is the 36th year that the Pontiac Goodfellows have conducted these sales and helped needy families.

Area residents who miss the paper sale may make a contribution by sending it to the Pontiac Goodfellow Drive, Box 735, Pontiac Post Office, according to George H. Ferguson, chairman of the drive.

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP

At the same time Highland Township firemen are selling copies of The Pontiac Press at major township intersections until dusk.

The 20-man force is collecting funds to provide Christmas dinner baskets to the needy in their area.

Philippine Team to Aid in Care of Quadruplets

MANILA (AP)—A health department team left here by train today to assist in the care of quadruplets born Wednesday in southeastern Luzon Island.

The infants, born to a tenant couple in Tabaco, Albay Province, were reported doing well but in need of incubators. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epifanio Collao, reportedly have seven other children.

State Senate Victor Dies Today at Home

Paul M. Chandler, state senator-elect from the 14th District and publisher of four weekly newspapers, died today at his Livonia home apparently of a heart attack.

Chandler, 45, a Republican, was elected last month to the Senate after serving two years as a state representative from northwest Wayne County.

He published papers in Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington and Redford. All were named the Observer.

Chandler, who was president as well as publisher of the Observer chain, was dead on arrival at 4:40 a.m. at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

A University of Michigan political science graduate, Chandler was employed by the Associated Press and Detroit News prior to entering the weekly publishing business.

He won the Bronze Star in World War II Navy service in the Pacific as an officer on aircraft carriers.

A native of Sault Ste. Marie, Chandler also served as vice president of the Michigan Racing Association from 1953 to 1956.

He defeated his Democratic opponent James McCarthy in the Senate race by a 65,271 to 38,367 vote count.

Chandler was married to the former Myra Kuder and was the father of five children.

Also surviving is a sister, Ruth Tomlinson of Galena, Ill.

School Units Balloting on Bonds, Taxes

Voters in the Utica and South Lyon school districts go to the polls today to cast ballots on bond issue and millage propositions.

South Lyon electors are voting on a $700,000 bond issue for a 10-room expansion at the high school and construction at three elementary schools.

The 25-year bond issue initially would increase school taxes by an estimated 2 mills.

In Utica, an $8.5-million bond issue proposal is coupled with two millage propositions on the ballot.

The net effect of success in this election would be to raise school taxes by 6 mills ($6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation).

The bond issue is for future building needs, including an over $4-million high school, and the millage requests for operating funds.

Plan to End Army Reserve Is Announced

McNamara Tells of 2nd Streamlining of News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today his plan to carve up the Army Reserve and put the leftover pieces in the National Guard.

But even before the Pentagon boss' scheduled late morning news conference, protests were heard.

For although the purpose of McNamara's session with the press was not disclosed officially, there was no doubt the result would be the effective end of the 300,000-man organized Army Reserve.

Those units which haven't passed McNamara's muster for efficiency, readiness and effectiveness would disappear from the rolls.

About half the Army reservists would be shifted to the National Guard, expanding its strength from 400,000 to about 550,000 and making it the sole ready back-up for the regular Army's 16 divisions.

MANPOWER POOL

Would be put in a general military manpower pool of available reservists who could be called up, individually and in an emergency, to bring units up to full strength.

This second and more drastic streamlining of the Reserve in two years is a sore spot with the Reserve Officers Association ROA.

The association wired President Johnson yesterday to urge a full investigation and public hearings on the proposal.

The plan has implications which "threaten national danger," the ROA said.

U.S. Is Silent in Dixie Case

Mum on When to Request Grand Jury

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Federal authorities today maintained an official silence about when they would request a federal grand jury to consider charges against 21 white men in the slaying of three civil rights workers.

Charges of conspiring to kill the three integrationists last summer remained against only one of the original 21 suspects—Horace Doyle Barnett, who the FBI says made a confession.

U.S. Commissioner Verta Lee Sweetman dismissed charges against James Edward Jordan, 38, at Gulfport yesterday at the request of the Justice Department.

Similar action was taken against 19 of the suspects Thursday at Meridian, after U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter refused to hear testimony concerning Barnett's alleged confession.

Attorney D. Robert Owen of the Justice Department's civil rights division conferred here yesterday with U.S. Atty. Robert Hargrett but apparently had not yet asked U.S. District Judge Harold Cox to convene a grand jury. Owen declined comment on the government's plans.

Shell Climaxes Week of Strife

Bitter Debate, Firing Fray U.N. Delegates

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The firing of a bazooka shell at the United Nations headquarters was a grim climax to a week in which shafts of hate hurled in Security Council debate left many diplomats shocked.

Delegates joked about the bazooka incident afterward, but many were plainly shaken by realization that the U.N. had been brought under shellfire.

Bitter debate on the Congo had frayed delegates' nerves and they vented the snapping point yesterday when the bazooka bedecked with a Cuban flag lobbed a single shell across the East River to within 100 yards of the U.N. conference building.

The blast rattled windows in the headquarters just as Ernest Guevara, Cuban minister of industry, was addressing the assembly.

At the same time, anti-Communist Cuban pickets milling outside the building rushed screaming toward police lines.

A leather-jacketed woman waving a knife tried to force her way into the building. Police said later she told them she had intended to kill Guevara.

CONSIDERABLE HEAT

It had been expected that discussion of the U.S.-Belgian mission to rescue white hostages from the Congolese rebels would generate considerable heat.

But few expected the vituperation and the theme of black man against white drummed out by African leaders in the council during the week.

With Washington already threatening to stop pouring millions of dollars into the United Nations unless the Communists pay up, delegates wondered about the virilistic African attacks on the United States might have.

Certain of It - Romney

Burch Ouster Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Gov. Romney predicts Dean Burch is on the way out, but the embattled national chairman is preparing his plea to Republican National Committee members to keep him in the $30,000-a-year post.

Romney conferred yesterday with both former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and with Burch but declined to say what was discussed at either meeting.

He had breakfast with Eisenhower at an undisclosed location and met in late afternoon with Burch at GOP headquarters here.

At a capital news conference, Romney said he is more certain than ever Burch will be ousted when the question comes up at the national committee meeting Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Burch's letter, giving his views on party issues and the reasons why he feels he should be retained as national chairman, is expected to be mailed Monday to the 132 members of the committee.

An Associated Press survey of the committee showed yesterday that most members were waiting to hear what Burch had to say before committing themselves on whether they would favor his retention.

Romney, at his news conference, referred to the statement issued last weekend by 18 GOP governors and governors-elect after a meeting in Denver.

It called for major changes in the national committee.

"We need a chairman who is objective, and who makes the party inclusive rather than exclusive," he said. "This calls for a change as the governors meeting indicated."

TOP AIDE

Burch was a top aide to defeated Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater last summer's GOP national convention.

He was elected national chairman on Goldwater's recommendation.

Burch has said that those seeking to oust him are really trying to throw Goldwater out of the party.

But Romney said he disagrees with this interpretation.

The Citizens Committee on Taxation yesterday filed more than double the required 1,433 signatures for a referendum on the city income tax.

Charles Nasstrom, committee chairman, and his wife, Lois, delivered the petitions to Clerk Olga Barkeley's office at 4:30 p.m.

Nasstrom said the petitions contained 3,214 names. A check of signatures and certification of the validity of the vote mandate is expected Tuesday, he said.

If the petitions are certified, a referendum on the income tax proposal will be set by the City Commission between Feb. 1 and March 20.

If the tax is approved in the election, it would become effective July 1.

JANUARY START

The tax, authorized by the City Commission in October, would have become effective Jan. 1 if no referendum was petitioned.

Formation of the Citizens Committee on Taxation was announced Nov. 19 to study the city's financial status and to explore revenue sources other than the income tax if it appeared that more revenue was needed.

Nasstrom said today that former Mayor Robert Landry and former City Commissioner Loy Ledford have resigned from the tax committee to avoid implications of "politics" due to their association with the committee.

Winds to Drop Temperature Into Low 30s Tonight

Northwesterly winds breezing in at 10 to 18 miles per hour late today will drop temperatures into the low 30s tonight.

Increasing cloudiness and a cooler, the high near 40 is the prediction for tomorrow. Cloudy with little change in temperature is the outlook for Monday.

Thirty-four was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 38 at 1 p.m.

Cuddly Christmas With a Live Pet

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Why not treat your child to a pet this Christmas? There's nothing that will make his or her eyes sparkle more on Christmas morning than a waddly, tail-wagging puppy or a cuddly kitten.

Or, if you object to a pet that has to be ushered in and out with what seems like revolting regularity, why not consider one that is confined to a specific area.

To keep your four-footed friends smelling sweet after their baths with tearless pet shampoo and tangle-free rinses, there are dog colognes. They come in appropriate scents for him and her.

If your pet's coat is beginning to gray or become dull, you can revitalize it with a gift of color shampoo.

For the fashionable of dogdom, there are assorted shades of nail polish. And, in addition to bejeweled collars and leashes, there are Christmas stockings stuffed to the brim for either cats or dogs.

You can say Merry Christmas to the wild birds by hanging out a seed bell.

Peron Is Told: 'No Politics'

Gets Ultimatum From Spanish Government

MADRID (AP) — Argentine ex-President Juan Peron's ill-fated move early this month to return home brought an ultimatum today from the Spanish government: Give up politics or leave Spain within a month.

The government also expelled all of Peron's political collaborators for helping engineer the abortive try to return to South America.

BY LETTER

The government decision was announced by Manuel Fraga, minister of information and tourism.

Peron was informed by letter, delivered to his hotel at Torrelaguarda in southern Spain.

It was understood that he was expected to answer promptly in writing. But his associates said "he will need some time to think it over carefully."

Newsmen were barred by police from approaching Peron.

UNDER PRESSURE

Sources close to the former strongman expected he would abide by the ultimatum. Peron had been under pressure from his Argentine followers to return this year and some sources said Peron now could point out that he had tried and resumed his comfortable life in exile.

Peron, 69, flew to Rio de Janeiro on Dec. 2. But Brazilian authorities, who said they were acting at the request of Argentina, ordered the airline to return Peron to Madrid.

Sources in Madrid said the Spanish government was embarrassed by the flight.

"We do not want to act as Peron's wardens any more," said Fraga.

Police Suspect Arson in Fire at Springfield Home

A fire, which police believe was deliberately set, this morning leveled an abandoned one-story frame home on Eaton in Springfield Township.

State troopers at the Pontiac Post are investigating the blaze, which appears to be the latest in a series of abandoned-building fires in the northwest section of the county.

Springfield Township firemen were called to the scene at 3:30 a. m. and fought the fire for nearly two hours.

The home, which had not been used for several years, is owned by Mrs. Palmer Bundy, 6621 Eaton, Springfield Township.

County Man Robbed in City Last Night

An Oak Park man was robbed early last night as he attempted to get into his car at 311 Howard and McNeil.

Arnold M. Sawyer, 50, 22131 Gardiner, told Pontiac police two men grabbed him about 7:30 p. m. and took his wallet with $175 and a small automatic pistol he was carrying.

Dearborn Man Killed Yesterday when his car struck a tree roadside on Ten Mile Road in Lyon Township.

Dead is Earl Coombs, 38, Troopers at the Brighton State Police Post said the accident occurred about two miles east of South Lyon, near Millford Road.

Police said Coombs was traveling east on Ten Mile when he apparently hit a slippery spot. The vehicle went into a skid and struck a tree on the south side of the road.

Christmas Mailing Tips

5¢ Stamp, Cooperation Go Far

What is your best buy for a nickel?

According to Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson it's an item most people take for granted — a postage stamp.

For all the service a five-cent stamp buys, the post office department asks little of its patrons — except at Christmas.

Today Donaldson made those annual postal requests to Pontiac area residents.

Simply stated they are:

- Mail as early as possible.
- Use the correct address and ZIP code.
- Use first-class postage if possible.
- Bundle mail going to the same areas (local, out-of-town, etc.).

• Wrap packages properly and securely and address them inside and out.

The postmaster said that each of these requests was made to insure that the cards and packages sent were delivered — on time.

"We have the personnel and equipment to do the best possible job, but we need the help of our patrons," Donaldson said.

The most serious problem noted thus far in the holiday mail at the post office is the use of incorrect addresses.

If the mail has a return address and carries first-class postage, the card or letter will be returned to the sender.

HOURS FASTER

Letters are delivered quicker when the ZIP code is used — up to 24 hours faster for first-class mail going to the west coast.

A package which is addressed on the inside as well as the outside will still be deliverable if the wrapping comes off in transit, Donaldson advised.

The main post office will wear somewhat of a new look during the holiday rush.

It will be open until 5 p. m. on Saturday and from 1-5 p. m. on Sunday. The Sunday hours are for stamps and parcel post only.

RACK PROVIDED

In place of the letter drop in the lobby, a seven-slot rack will be provided. Patrons are asked to sort and bundle their mail for deposit in the seven slots.

On a normal day the post office handles about 200,000 pieces of mail.

During several of the peak days of the holiday mail rush, more than 1 million pieces of mail will pass through the post office.

Seventy-five extra employees will be used to help handle the rush and most full-time employees will work on an overtime basis.

Set Conference of World Reds

Doubt Soviet Leaders Have China Approval

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party announced today that preparations for a world Communist conference will begin March 1. But the new Kremlin leaders apparently failed again to win Red China's approval.

The party newspaper Pravda published the new date for a preparatory meeting which former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had originally scheduled for next Tuesday.

Khrushchev had called for 26 Communist parties to prepare for a full conference of more than 80 parties in mid-1965.

The Chinese and their allies in the bitter ideological dispute between Moscow and Peking said they would not attend.

Some Soviet allies were reluctant to come for fear the conference would bring a permanent split in the world Communist movement.

According to Communist sources, the Soviet leaders who took over from Khrushchev Oct. 14 delayed action while trying to win Chinese approval. Such countries as Poland applied pressure for another Soviet unity bid.

Pravda said the March 1 date was set "on the basis of mutual consultations conducted among fraternal parties with the aim of better preparation" for the meetings.

The consultations are believed to have taken place during the gathering of Communist leaders here for the Nov. 7 anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai came but his talks with the Soviet leaders seemed from public indications to have left the dispute as harsh as ever.

From Western diplomatic reports reaching here Friday, a Soviet letter was written to China proposing postponement until March and emphasizing that the meetings would seek to achieve unity.

Decision to End Army Reserve Is Announced

Maupin Cummings, commander of the 8,000-man 39th National Guard Division, said:

"We've been reorganized so often in the last few years that it has hurt morale, hurt recruiting. Our personnel don't know what to think."

He said Hill isn't apt to take the action lightly, either. A roar of protest greeted the cut-down of two years ago.

Many members of Congress habitually spring to the defense of the Reserve. And about 82 of them hold Reserve commissions, several as major generals and brigadier generals.

Informants on Capitol Hill said yesterday McNamara would rule that key members of the executive, legislative and judicial arms of government who are in the Ready Reserve must be transferred to the Standby Reserve.

POWER LIMITATION

At the same time, congressional sources reported McNamara would limit the power of the service secretaries to issue travel orders and would place more of that power under his office.

County Staff Changes Aired

Oakland County's newly elected prosecutor and clerk-registrar recommended to the board of supervisors' salary committee yesterday changes they would like to see in effect when the new year begins.

Prosecutor-elect S. Jerome Bronson and Clerk-Register-elect John D. Murphy appeared before the committee to explain their plans and seek increases in salaries for some of their future staff.

Murphy requested the creation of a new position, to be titled deputy clerk-registrar, to act as his administrative asstant at a salary of $11,000.

The request was denied, however, in favor of upgrading the existing position of special deputy clerk, who will act as Murphy's assistant at a salary of $8,000, the figure recommended by the board of auditors.

The present special deputy clerk, Boris Sellers, has announced his intention of resigning at the end of the year.

NO OTHER CHANGES

Murphy, whose salary will be $16,000, said he plans no other changes in the present administrative setup.

Bronson, however, plans a major revamping of the present prosecutor's staff.

About half of the 15-man staff will be leaving at the end of the year for various reasons, according to Bronson, who requested the following changes in job classifications and salaries:

- Upgrading the chief assistant prosecutor's salary from the budgeted range of $11,300-$13,300 to a range of $14,000-$16,200.

The request was denied.

Classification of three senior prosecutor positions to chief trial lawyer, chief of warrants and information and chief of municipal and justice courts detail.

The salary range Bronson requested was $11,700 to $13,200, compared to the budgeted range of $9,800 to $11,300 for senior prosecutors.

The committee voted to recommend an aggregate of $38,000 for the three positions with a range of from $11,500 to $12,500.

• Reclassification of one senior prosecutor as chief of appellate division with the present budgeted salary range of $9,800 to $11,300. The request was approved.

Reclassifying the remaining senior prosecutor positions as Assistant Prosecutor III, the salaries to remain the same. This was also approved.

LEGAL SECRETARY

• Reclassification of the Clerk II position as a legal secretary with a salary range of $5,100 to $5,700.

The request was denied in favor of reclassifying the position to stenographer with a salary range of $4,200 to $5,000. The budgeted salary of the clerk II position is $3,900 to $4,700.

• Reclassifying the position of chief investigator to prosecutor's investigator with a salary range of $6,100 to $6,500. The request was approved.

Bronson will be paid a flat rate of $17,500 as prosecuting attorney.

25 Arraigned in Shelby Raid

Twenty-one men and four alleged operators of a gambling house were arraigned yesterday, and most went free after paying fines.

Twenty of the 21 arrested in an early morning raid on a house at 5170 Shelby, Shelby Township, paid $25 fines and were released.

One received three days in jail for talking back in Justice Court before Judge Joseph P. Plutner, in addition to a $25 fine.

The four alleged operators were freed on $300 bond apiece.

An examination was scheduled for Jan. 8, 1965, by Judge Francis A. Castellucci.

They are Morris Combs, 29, of 5170 Shelby; LaQuintus Collins, 27, of Madison Heights; Charles Mirabitor, 33, of Detroit; and Nathan Anderson, 44, of Warren.

The men were picked up in a joint raid which combined State Police from Romeo and Warren posts and the Detroit intelligence squad, plus Shelby Township police.

GM Executive Divorced; Wife Gets $1 Million

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Edward N. Cole, 55, a General Motors vice president, was granted a divorce Friday on grounds of mental cruelty. The Coles lived at 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township.

The settlement awards property valued at more than $1 million to his wife, Esther, 57.

The property settlement includes 6,000 shares of General Motors stock and $100,000 a year in cash for five years.

Cole also agreed to furnish his wife a new car each year while he remains a GM employee. He turned over to her property at Douglas Lake and Burt Lake in Michigan and the couple's former home.

Wrong Person Named in Waterford Twp. Fire

Through error, information concerning a Waterford Township fire was attributed to the wrong person in a news story Thursday.

Jack Emerson, 193 Leota, son of the owner of the building at 1400 Shoman, told firemen he had started a fire while thawing pipes, but thought he had put it out.

This statement was erroneously attributed to resident Carl Radtke.

Student Mob Behavior Danger Sign of Times

Seldom has the Nation witnessed a more unbridled display of collegian intransigence than that recently visited upon the University of California.

In a riotous demonstration and sit-in against the university's recruitment of volunteers and solicitation of funds for off-campus politico-social activities, 814 participants, half of whom were students, were arrested on various charges of lawlessness.

Administrators of educational institutions have long been accustomed to and able to deal with spontaneous eruptions of youthful high spirits and exhibitions of student-body reaction to issues of the day.

But the disgraceful occurrence at California with its 25,000 students bore convincing evidence of an organized campaign led by a small group of Communists, Communist sympathizers and other leftwingers trained to promote anarchy or rebellion.

The student director of this latest clash with institutional administration is a radical who took part in several sit-ins in San Francisco last year and was a leader in previous campus disorders. Since the West Coast act of defiance, he has set out on a cross-country tour, a campus address before University of Michigan students two days ago being his first stop.

It is worth noting that the American Civil Liberties Union for Northern California, to its credit, has refused to join the legal defense of those arrested in the California riot.

The student revolt there is more than a disgrace to the state and its university. It reflects a new and alarming development in university life and is a danger signal for all American universities.

If such acts of contempt for authority are to be tolerated, the intellectual preparation of this country's youth will one day be handed over to the guidance of the revolutionists.

Better Waste Disposal an Urgent Area Need

A badly-needed and overdue solution to the noxious effects of waste and animal-carass disposal at the County Service Center is offered by a study submitted last month by the Oakland County Engineering Department.

Without incinerators properly to do the job, animal carcasses from the County Animal Shelter have been disposed of in a land-fill area operated by the City of Pontiac, while "rubbish and garbage have been burned in an open dump maintained by the County Service Center or collected by hog farmers.

The city's land-fill outlet, however, is soon to be closed, and the county dump has been termed "a highly objectionable nuisance" by the County Health Department which has recommended its discontinuance.

Called for by the engineering department study is the construction of two incinerators—one for animal carcasses, the other for combustible waste—at a cost of $19,000, which includes a building to house them. Annual operating costs are estimated at $13,000.

This would seem to be a relatively economical plan for the elimination of a nuisance that is steadily becoming more offensive to residents exposed to it, and we urge that the project be given due consideration.

Somewhat related to the county's waste disposal problem is disaffection of nearby residents with the dump maintained by Waterford Township. This, however, is a problem faced by most communities, with no definitive solution immediately in sight. One proposal under consideration is a tri-county authority that would operate a sanitary land-fill in an uninhabited area for the disposal of all rubbish and garbage.

Regardless of the plan ultimately adopted, the general excellence of the area's public facilities should not suffer from backwardness in so essential a facility as proper waste disposal, and every effort should be bent toward improvement of it.

Johnson Mum Since Election

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson can afford to stay mum for a while, and he is. Ever since he won the election the White House has been practically soundproof, and this will probably go on into January.

This is enough to irritate anyone who can't get used to the great stillness around here. It is unusual, but Johnson seems to be playing it cool.

This is a switch from the way Johnson skipped around through most of 1963, before and during the campaign, making speeches, not holding news conferences almost on the run.

He was always saying something, or doing something, a man in search of approval. But then, when he got such overwhelming approval in the election, it's no wonder if he felt silence would be appropriate for a time and for a change.

Yet the very quietude created a mystery, a wondering: What's he up to? Of all people, and unintentionally, it was Sen. Barry Goldwater who helped create this condition.

Goldwater spent so much campaign time defending himself, particularly against the charge of being trigger-happy, that he did very little about saying exactly what he'd do if elected.

WONDERFUL FOR JOHNSON This was wonderful for Johnson. Since the polls already had him away out in front and Goldwater wasn't offering specific programs, Johnson didn't have to try to outbid with programs of his own.

This left him free to move and maneuver as he thought best at the time, picking and choosing among a lot of programs he might otherwise have had to pin himself to in the campaign.

In the meantime, being Johnson, the President has been busy behind the walls of the ranch house and the White House preparing next year when Congress came back.

So, for all of these reasons, he probably will keep on not saying much until next month.

This seems simple but what isn't simple is how he is going to make good on just about the biggest promise he made—and this was long before the campaign.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD, ISHMAEL

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS

The faith of the three wise men who visited the infant Jesus is best told in what could be the first completely American Christmas carol, "We Three Kings." The words and music were written by the Rev. John Henry Hopkins in 1857.

The three kings had known of the prophecy of the coming of the Christ Child. The new star which they followed was a proof of that prophecy. The gold, frankincense, and myrrh were fitting gifts. In their wisdom they knew he was the Savior. The last phrase of the carol carries the same plea today as it did then. "... Guide us to Thy perfect light."

Days of All Faiths:

Most Important Mother-to-Be

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Chiefly in France and Spain, but also in scattered places elsewhere, the Feast of the Expectation of the Confinement of the Blessed Virgin Mary is celebrated. If the birth of Jesus occurred on December 25, then during this period Mary must have been thinking of little else, and it is a pleasant thing to try to join with her in her happy anticipation and to pay tribute to the world's most important expectant mother.

But to the curious and the literal-minded, the matter of timing is troublesome. When Jesus said "No man knoweth the day nor the hour" (Matthew xxv:13) He was talking about the second coming, but it is equally true of His first. No man knows any more about the day or hour of His birth in Bethlehem. We don't know the month either. When the Church was trying to agree on a date for Christmas every month in the year was suggested by serious, intelligent men.

In fact, we don't even know the year in which Jesus was born. With all the world using a calendar that purports to count its years from the birth of Christ, most people naturally assume that He was born exactly 1964 years ago. Not at all. The real date has never been determined and probably never can be.

In the New Bible, Old Testament and New, there is no such thing as a date in the sense that we use the term. The writers, instead, hook events up with other events, and come out with varying degrees of vagueness.

It is as if modern historians tried to set times by saying something happened "during the second administration of Grover Cleveland," or "shortly after World War II." Isaiah was about as precise as any Biblical writer when he said he had his great vision "in the year that King Uzziah died."

As to the year Jesus was born, there are no satisfactory clues. Matthew (chapter 2, verse 1) says it was "in the days of Herod the King." Well, even if it was on the last day Herod lived it would have been in 4 B.C., for that is the year Herod died.

But the evidence in Matthew ii:16 is that it was probably two years before Herod died. Matthew says the king in his attempt to kill the infant Jesus "slew all from two years old and under." This would put the birth around or before 6 B.C. Luke (ii:1 and 2) says Jesus was born at a time when a decree had gone out from Caesar Augustus that "all the world should be taxed, and this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was governor of Syria."

Syrenus was governor of Syria three times: from 6 to 4 B.C., in 3 and 2 B.C., and from 6 to 9 A.D. Which of his three terms is Luke talking about?

Add to the writers' imprecise habits of expression about the times when things happened, the fact that all of them were writing fifty to a hundred years after this event and their memories must have been a little hazy about details. And to that the failure of astronomers to come up with anything but the most doubtful help when they have tried to date the star of Bethlehem.

The best you can get out of all of it is that Jesus was certainly born before 4 B.C. and perhaps several years earlier.

So the day, month, and year of the birth are vague, and consequently the beginning of Mary's confinement is vague. But the date is not really important. It all happened sometime. The world is full of the proof of that. And December 18 is as good a day as any to remember the joy of history's most important mother-to-be.

Washington Notebook:

LBJ Has Tough Going in Sports

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Greeting medal winners on the 1964 U.S. Olympic team at a recent White House luncheon, President Johnson found it necessary to venture into the relatively unexplored waters of sports to him, at least — of sports parance. At least once he found the going rough.

The President stalled through his introductions of Supreme Court Justice Byron R. "Whizzer" White ("everybody's All-American when he played football at the University of Colorado") and physical fitness consultant Stan Musial ("Stan the Man — who, as far as I know, has no senatorial aspirations").

But the Chief Executive then introduced Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to the Olympians as "a former star guard on the football team," but actually Udall played neither football nor baseball in his college days. He was a basketball star.

The White House transcript of the President's remarks later changed the sentence to read "star guard on the football team," but actually Udall played neither football nor baseball in his college days. He was a basketball star.

Attending the University of Arizona on the GI Bill after World War II, Udall joined several other veterans on the bas-

Voice of the People:

'Nation Suffers As LBJ Seeks Middle Ground'

The present administration is largely responsible for our deteriorating status as a free, friendly nation. The horrible blunders over Cuba and in Viet Nam and Africa indicate a lack of diplomacy in our foreign policy administrators.

Our democratic leaders reach the height of hypocrisy when they tell the common folk they are for freedom and then cater to and hobnob with the so-called royalty and overprivileged scoundrels of the earth. While President Johnson seeks his "middle ground" between autocracy and democracy, we'll be "losing ground" with the world's masses who want freedom and self-government right now.

Reader Sees No Wrong in Sale of Smut

I see nothing wrong in selling so-called indecent magazines. How do people expect our future generations to act with extreme care in national problems if they don't even know what the human body looks like? There can never be anything smutty or filthy that God created — or have people forgotten that God created them.

People with dirty minds see evil in these magazines. They, not the photographer, make filth out of the pictures.

'Area Needs Cooley Lake Road Dump'

An uninformed person, admittedly only a visitor, berated and derided the Cooley Lake dump. An operation of this type is necessary to any community as a clearing house and disposal point for accumulative trash. If not, the entire area for miles around would be one gigantic display of discards. We taxpayers are grateful for a disposal yard.

Two Readers Comment on Editorials

Monday's editorial abandoned "clear cut Goldwater issues" and the dedicated fighters for them—and you join the howling crowd which stood up in the heat of campaign, secretly preparing their after-election campaign speeches "I told you so!"

You fail to see that all printed and spoken "scientific" evaluations of election returns failed to mention or evaluate approximately five million voters who refused to vote for the presidency. This "block" must be opposed to Johnson's candidacy and added to 26 million votes for Sen. Goldwater. Mr. Johnson got only 54.6% and not 68%. The "clear-cut" Republicans were helped in by plus five million of Democrats.

The defeated "me-too-ism" is hungrily feeding itself on the "wounds" of GOP, seeking to recreate a political atmosphere in which the voters do not have too much choice and consequently not any political responsibility. The 1964 GOP platform and Sen. Goldwater's campaign can be compared to a seed, which had only a limited time to strike root! Why don't you continue to work for the yield of seed you helped to plant? Do not turn into a Rocky or Scam-Thorny grounds where the good seed for GOP can only die!

You pass judgment in editorials in an "off the cuff" manner. Take the quick appraisal of the Goldwater philosophy, the condemnation of the Supreme Court, the disapproval of all government officials, plus the implied belief that "business" men only know all the answers. Could it be that the only correct ideas are those that contain no element of "liberalism"? These changes make impossible to approach the settlement of today's problems in the same manner as 30 years ago.

Udall's wife Lee recalls that her husband took a lot of ribbing on the court because of his age. Says she:

"Opponents were always shouting at him, 'Get out of here, you old codger! This is a young man's game!'"

Udall at the time was an ancient 25.

While Udall now climbs mountains — such as Japan's Fuji-yama — to stay fit, a fellow member of the cabinet, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, plays squash. One of his frequent opponents is Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

"Sometimes when I'm playing Freeman confides, 'I'm tempted to talk shop and suggest that he allow me to decide which military bases to close while he determines the support price for soybeans. That would be what you might call a share-the-wealth proposal.'

"And some day, if I ever win a squash game, I'm going to offer such a proposal."

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has a habit of making quite limited appearances at some of the GOP's two-day and three-day party gatherings.

At the Denver Conference of Republican Governors, someone asked a Rockefeller aide when the governor would arrive for that Friday-Saturday affair.

Said he: "Early Friday." Responded the questioner with a smile: "Will he stay all day?"

Leaving the employment of President Johnson can be a very difficult matter, according to one White House staffer who is trying to extricate himself.

"It's a very complex business," he says.

Evidently the President is not eager to see any important departures from his staff. He even made a last-minute effort to dissuade Ralph Dungan, White House personnel specialist now off to be the new U.S. ambassador to Chile, from leaving.

Says one source: "The President practically tried to pull Ralph off the boat!"

BISHOP A. M. ZALESKI TO BE INSTALLED

LANSING—The largest gathering of Catholic Church officials in this city's history will attend the installation of Cardinal Bishop Alexander M. Zaleski in St. Mary's Cathedral Tuesday.

Bishop Zaleski is a former pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, Pontiac.

An archbishop, nearly two dozen bishops and 700 priests, brothers and nuns as well as a number of laymen and civic officials will fill the cathedral for the simple but majestic rites.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, metropolitan archbishop of the province of Michigan and superior of Michigan's nine bishops, will be the ranking prelate in attendance.

Bishop Zaleski, an auxiliary bishop in Detroit since 1950, was named Coadjutor Bishop of Lansing with right of succession by Pope Paul VI on Oct. 14.

He succeeds retiring Bishop Joseph H. Albers, Lansing's first Catholic Bishop, who asked to be relieved of his administrative duties because of his health.

Tuesday's ceremonies will begin outside the cathedral with a colorful procession of prelates, monsignors and priests who will be escorted by more than a score of uniformed Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus from throughout the Lansing Diocese.

Bishop Zaleski will then celebrate a Pontifical High Mass in Latin at the Cathedral's main altar. He will preach a sermon during the Mass.

A Glee club composed of students from the grade school will sing several Christmas numbers including "Out of the Ivory Palaces," "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" and "No Room." Mrs. Charles Whitfield will direct the music. The public is invited.

Church Choir in Oratorio

A masterpiece of the preBach era, backed by near original instruments, is the oratorio presentation scheduled in Christ Church Cranbrook at 5 p.m. tomorrow. The public is invited to attend.

"The Christmas Story" by Heinrich Schütz, the rarely heard harpsichord and recorder will join the more conventional instruments — strings, brass, bassoon and organ — to provide the accompanying music.

"The Christmas Story" features Charles Wingert, tenor, of the Kenilworth Choral, as the Evangelist. Russell Skitch, prominent Detroit bass-baritone and a member of Christ Church Cranbrook choir, portrays Herod.

Conducting the oratorio is Robert Bates, organist and choirmaster of Christ Church.

Youth Group Has Series of Discussions

The Youth Group of First Congregational Church will hold the second in a series of discussions by Bert Van Koughnet, director of elementary education of the Pontiac Public School system Thursday.

His subject is "Perceiving, Believing and Becoming." All young people of the church are invited to the 6 p.m. dinner meeting and program which follows.

Tomorrow is Family Day.

At the 10:30 morning service Sunday School children will attend the service with their parents for the first part of the service.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor, will preach a sermon especially for the children before they return to Sunday School classes.

Following the service the Women's Fellowship is sponsoring a family dinner. Guests are invited.

Pastor Will Show Slides

Pastor Philip Somers of the Marimont Baptist Church, will show slides of his recent trip to Venezuela tomorrow. He will take 15 minutes each Sunday evening to show a portion of the colored pictures taken while he and Mrs. Somers were in Venezuela.

The Men's Quartet will provide special music in the morning worship service each Sunday. Claudette Bexell will play a violin solo in the evening service.

The junior high young people will have a program entitled, "Tour the Testaments" at 6:30 p.m.

The senior high under the direction of Vance Meyer will discuss, "Who Is This Man."

Dishwasher Will Please Housewife
"Visions of sugar plums danced in their heads." This is fine for the kids, but what about Mother at Christmastime? With big family meals, extra snacks and holiday entertaining, one vision she's apt to be stuck with is a staggering pile of dirty dishes.
That's why electric dishwashers have become popular gift items. Homemakers who have received a dishwasher as a Christmas gift are as happy as a teen-ager on her first date. A dishwasher may be less romantic but the joy of it lasts a lot longer.
Today's electric dishwashers cut cleanup time to minimum. Dishes can be taken from the table, scraped and loaded out of sight and mind — without perishing — and while the hostess is enjoying her second cup of coffee with family and friends, the dishwasher does the work.
Not only is a dishwasher more convenient, but it also does a better job than old-fashioned hand-washing. Water hotter than hands can stand, special detergents and powerful jets of water virtually scrub soiled dishes hygienically clean. After rinsing and hot-air drying, dishes come out sparkling and spot free, ready for the table.
NEW UNITS
New units are more convenient and have greater loading capacity than ever before. Many families regularly load their dishwasher as dishes are used throughout the day and then wash the whole batch before they go to bed at night.
If many large pots and pans have been used to prepare a holiday meal, they can be kept separate and washed together in a second load.
Three types of electric dishwashers are available. The built-in is the most popular for new homes and kitchens that are being remodeled. It's installed under a counter and is permanently attached to water and waste lines.
The portable rolls about on wheels and from a convenient storage spot and the sink. No installation is required.
The convertible is a portable that is especially designed for easy installation as a built-in. It's often favored by families who rent now but plan to buy a home in the future.

Christmas Plants
Brighten Altars
For church altars, supplement poinsettias, evergreens and holly wreaths with other tasteful arrangements of clay-potted plants that can be both symbolic and pleasing.
Miniature roses, cyclamen, azaleas, potted Jerusalem cherries and Christmas peppers, rosemary herbs as well as coleus and chrysanthemums can add to traditional plant displays.

JUST LIKE MOMMY'S — What little girl wouldn't beam to open her eyes on Christmas morning and find that Santa had left her a miniature kitchen just like mommy's. St. Nick's helper, better known as daddy or grandpa, can duplicate the above models using the easy-to-follow pattern. Reflections TAKE STOCK

Take Stock of what we have, set down what we want, make rules of conduct to achieve that objective.

Every objective has a price; energy, helping others, kindness, thoughtfulness and a willingness to mix victory with defeat. Our assets come with thoroughly blended ingredients, tempered with the love of those around us.

Let me tell you about Missis Abernathy. His parents were rich, his social position was second to none, he had everything—except he had no friends. In school he ate his lunch alone, his classmates took his money and shunned him, he wasn't invited to social affairs. He took stock of what he had, found one asset, his father's money. He made a set of rules: One—Money is a poor substitute for integrity in others. Two—He natural, friendly. Third: Ask questions. Listen to their problems and troubles. Become involved in them. With these three rules he met his associates with a different attitude; that difference made him a social favorite.

There is a lesson for all of us in Missis Abernathy's three rules.

County in Job-for-Youth Plan

Oakland County is cooperating with the State of Michigan in offering unusual employment opportunities to a select group of youth in the area.

Six girls and one boy are now employed in various county departments on a 26-week work education program sponsored by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESCC).

The seventh girl will begin work Monday.

All are high school dropouts or graduates who have been unable to find employment.

John Witherspoon, county personnel director, said 15 area youngsters will be receiving on-the-job training when the program gets into full swing.

The wages aren't much—$20 for a 40-hour week—but the opportunities are unlimited.

REFERRED TO COUNTY
Carefully screened applicants for the program are referred to the county by the MESCC.

They are given further testing by the personnel office to determine their capabilities and qualifications.

Offices now employing the youths are the health department reimbursement and accounting divisions of the board of auditors, sheriff's department, cooperative extension service, planning commission and the county garage.

Witherspoon said the program has been "very successful" thus far, and some of the youths are being considered for full-time employment at the end of their training period.

EQUALLY DIVIDED
The trainees wages are equally divided between the county and the state. Plans are
