

DELAY TUITION INCREASE CONSIDERATION

The Board of Trustees will delay consideration of a tuition increase until the extent of a new cut in the 1975-76 state appropriation is known.

Gov. William Milliken has indicated that he will recommend further reductions in the budgets of almost all state agencies and colleges and universities, President Donald D. O'Dowd told the board at its October 22 meeting.

He asked that a proposed tuition schedule before the board be held until the amount of the latest cut is determined in Lansing. At that time, the university will call a special meeting of the board to consider a revised budget and adopt a tuition level necessary to support OU programs, O'Dowd said.

The proposal before the board on October 22 would have raised tuition $1.50 and $2 per credit hour for resident undergraduates and graduates. Out-of-state tuition would have been raised $4 a credit hour. The university will attempt to cut its budget wherever possible, but an even higher tuition increase may be necessary, O'Dowd warned.

SCIENCE FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION DEADLINE

Students interested in the National Science Foundation Fellowships are reminded that the closing date for submission of applications is December 1, 1975.

The Career Advising and Placement Office suggests that interested students write immediately for applications to the following address: Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20418.

Further information is available in the Career Advising and Placement Office, 201 Wilson Hall.

PERSONNEL ACTIONS APPROVED BY BOARD

The Oakland University Board of Trustees approved the appointment of one new faculty member and authorized changes of status for six individuals in personnel actions Wednesday, October 22.

The new appointment is that of Donald J. Trumppour as part-time adjunct associate professor of education. Re-appointed were William I. Martin as part-time adjunct professor of education and Suzanne M. Molnar as full-time visiting assistant professor of mathematical sciences.

MITCHELL LIVINGSTON RESIGNS

Mitchell Livingston has resigned as Director of Residence Halls to assume the position of Director of Residential Services at the University of Iowa. He will be leaving Oakland on November 7 and reporting to the University of Iowa on November 15.

Mitchell has been at Oakland University since August of 1971 when he came here to assume a position on the housing staff. He has been the Director of Residence Halls here at Oakland since February, 1975. A farewell party is being planned for Mitchell on November 5 from 3-5pm in Lounge II of the Oakland Center.

MUSIC CONDUCTING CLASS ON CHANNEL 7

Segments of a music department conducting class will be seen on television on Wednesday, October 29, when Channel 7's 11 o'clock news will explore the education of a conductor.

The segment is part of the continuing series "Harrington is," in which newsman Jim Harrington looks at various occupations. Harrington is seen observing the instructor, David Daniels.

In another segment, Harrington is shown working with the Warren Symphony, a suburban orchestra conducted by Daniels.

Faculty receiving changes of status and their new positions follow: Carol S. Beers to assistant professor of education; Billie DeMont to associate provost; Brian Murphy to associate professor of English; Ralph Schillace to associate dean of the evening program; George Tzoannos to visiting assistant professor of economics; and Howard R. Witt to professor of engineering and associate dean of engineering on a 12-month basis.

NEW MEDIA AIDS AVAILABLE ON CAMPUS

Three new presentations, all prepared through the university's Department of Public Relations, are available as a service to the university community: a new campus map, a color slide presentation, and a handbook for prospective students.

The campus map, updated to September 1, 1975, is an invaluable guide to parents and guests visiting the university for the first time. It is available in stores.

The narrated 68-slide presentation offers a general overview of Oakland University, its history, and its comprehensive programs. Twelve additional slides can be added at the end of the series for a departmental presentation, if desired. Arrangements to use the slide show may be made through J. Llewellyn, News Services, 7-3180.

An attractive handbook of contemporary design outlines essential information for those seeking entrance to the university or considering enrollment here. It is available at the department of admissions.

OU'S RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE WEDNESDAY

Life is to share. Have you pledged your pint of blood to the OU Blood Drive? This year is going to be a record breaker--close to five hundred OU people already have pledged. Red Cross is providing twice as many beds, so donations will be expedited over last year.

If you haven't pledged, come to 118 Oakland Center, Office of Commuter Services, or on October 29, come to the Gold Room, Oakland Center between 9am and 9pm. Help us help others. GIVE A PINT OF LIFE.
