Iraqis Hunt American Fate of Officers Remains Issue

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Iraqi officials combed through desert wastes today for the body of an American apparently blown through the shattered window of a French airliner 18,000 feet above Iraq.

The American — identified by police as J. R. Nash of Memphis, Tenn. — was en route from Tehran to Istanbul. The 31-year-old bachelor with a passion for travel was on the last leg of an aerial round-the-world trip when he disappeared Saturday night.

Although airmen described the accident as extremely rare, an Air France spokesman in Paris said it was "not without precedent."

The Paris spokesman and Air France officials in Istanbul gave this version:

The four-engine Constellation was about 25 miles north of Jirkouk, northern Iraq, when the third window on the right side of the plane burst "with a loud explosion."

Nash, who was asleep in the seat next to the window, was sucked out.

The plane immediately filled with steam as frigid air from outside poured into the heated cabin.

When the air finally cleared, other passengers noticed that Nash was missing.

The plane descended quickly to a lower level while shivering passengers crowded into the front of the craft until it arrived at Istanbul.

Friends in Memphis said Nash was an admirer of the late Richard Halliburton, noted traveler and author who disappeared at sea while trying to sail a Chinese junk from Hong Kong to San Francisco in 1939. Halliburton was a native of Memphis.

Disarmament Talk Seen as Significant

Stassen Flies to Meet Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower will confer here tomorrow with Harold E. Stassen amid fresh indications the United States now sees some chance for agreement with Russia on a first step toward disarmament.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, is scheduled to arrive by plane from Washington tonight. After talks with the vacationing President at the Augusta National Golf Club, he will return to London for resumption of disarmament negotiations by a U.N. subcommittee.

Recess of the negotiations for the Easter weekend brought Stassen to Washington Saturday for an interim report to Secretary of State Dulles and other administration officials.

After that meeting the government put out a statement calling for a continued "serious effort to reach an initial partial agreement for a first step" toward disarmament with safeguards for inspection and control.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Dulles had recommended that Stassen make a personal report to the President.

APPEARS SIGNIFICANT

That decision appears significant for two reasons.

Waterford Groups Seek to Rehire Policemen as Board Sets Meeting

Fate of 10 Waterford Township Police Department employees, dismissed Saturday because there wasn't enough money to pay their salaries, remained an issue as the township board prepared to meet tonight.

Several groups reportedly were circulating petitions asking the board to bring the department back up to its former strength of 16 officers.

Eight officers and two clerical workers were fired Saturday after township officials, reviewing their bank account, discovered only $44,000 cash reserves.

One group circulating petitions wants the board to rehire the employees and borrow money to pay them.

COULD BORROW
"The board could borrow on anticipated revenues. We're one of the largest townships in the county and need all the police protection we can get," a spokesman said.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson said none of the groups had requested time tonight to present the petitions formally.

Main item on tonight's formal agenda was plans for improvement at the Venice of the Lakes Subdivision on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road.

Residents of the area reportedly have agreed with township officials and representatives of the state health department and attorney general's office to finance improvements, themselves.

The health department has condemned the subdivision for having a polluted water system.

A bonding firm representative will be present tonight, Johnson said, to advise on legal means of raising money.

Dulles said in explanation that he and Eisenhower had agreed the situation in that field had reached a point where the State Department should have policy supervision.

There was no indication at that time that Stassen would never again deal directly with Eisenhower on disarmament. Rather, there were indications that if such dealings took place they likely would reflect some highly important development.

In the first place, Dulles and Stassen obviously believe the status of the London negotiations warrants Eisenhower's personal attention.

Secondly, only a few weeks ago the White House announced that in the future Stassen no longer would report directly to the President but to Dulles, who would keep Eisenhower advised regarding any disarmament developments.

Tornadoes Hit Texas, Drought Believed Over

Waterford Boy, 4, Strangles at Play

Four-year-old Roy L. Hopewell Jr. happily ran out the back door of his Waterford Township home yesterday afternoon to enjoy the Spring.

Forty-five minutes later, Roy's horrified mother found him, strangled to death by the chain of a backyard swing.

The sudden tragedy turned Easter gladness into a day of mourning for the Hopewell family, 3216 Warren Dr.

At about 2:45 p.m., 1½ hours before the family was to attend Easter services at the Jehovah's Witness Kingdom Hall in Drayton Plains, little Roy wanted to frolic in the warm sunshine.

He skipped to the back of the yard, behind an old barn, while Hopewell, a die-caster, and his wife Gertrude, both 23, were at the side of the house washing the family car for the trip to church. Two younger children, James, 3 and Susan, 2, played by their parents' side.

Although the seat of the swing had not yet been set in place, Roy was not daunted.

He grabbed one of the two 35-foot long chains that hung from a tree bough. At the end of the chain was a foot-wide loop in which Hopewell planned to place a seat for Roy to sit on this summer. Roy stood on a three-foot high bench and swung off. How many times the little boy swung off and on the bench, police don't know.

The last time, they theorize Roy somehow had wrapped the loop around his neck. As he swung off the bench, the boy's hands must have fallen in their grip on the chain above his head. The loop, however, held.

His mother, missing him and remembering it was time to get ready for church, went to the back of the barn. She found her son lifeless, his feet five inches off the ground.

The frantic father rushed the child to the nearby fire station in Drayton Plains. Efforts by an inhalator crew proved fruitless. Little Roy was taken to Pontiac General Hospital and pronounced dead.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from Coats Funeral home, 3141 Sashabaw Rd. Burial will be at Drayton Cemetery.

Israeli, Jordan Troops Battle

Arab Official Claims Foreigners Interfering in Internal Troubles

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli military headquarters reported today a three-hour gun fight between Israeli and Jordanian troops on the central frontier.

In Amman, Jordan's foreign minister accused "certain foreign diplomatic missions" last night of interfering in the troubled kingdom's internal affairs. There have been demands from leftists for the expulsion of the U.S. ambassador.

In neighboring Israel, the Foreign Ministry said it received intelligence reports that 1,000 Syrian troops had crossed into Jordan to reinforce the 3,000-man Syrian garrison already there.

The Israeli spokesman said 2,000 Iraqi troops moved to the border of the crisis-torn Arab country, presumably on orders from Iraq's King Faisal II to assist his young cousin King Hussein of Jordan.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency said the Iraqi forces also crossed into Jordan and camped near El Mafraq, where the Syrian troops are located. The agency said Syrian President Shukri Kuwaili phoned King Hussein asking him to try to avoid a clash between the Iraqi and Syrian troops. There was no confirmation of this report.

Hoffa Defense Filing Answers to Indictment

AFL-CIO to Cleanse Union Even if Beck Skips Hearing—Reuther

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys for Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa begin their defense today against his bribery and conspiracy indictment growing out of an alleged attempt to plant a spy on the Senate Rackets Committee.

Motions were to be filed for Hoffa and Florida attorney Hyman I. Fischbach, who were indicted jointly March 13 on three counts.

They were charged with bribery, obstruction of justice, and conspiracy to influence, obstruct and impede the special Senate committee.

There will be no arguments on the defense moves for 10 days.

The Hoffa-Fischbach case is expected to set legal precedents because it is one of the rare cases in history charging bribery and involving a congressional committee.

Hoffa was arrested in Washington and Fischbach at Coral Gables, Fla., on March 13. The indictment charges that Hoffa, at the time of his arrest, had in his possession documents from the committee files given him by Cheasty.

In another development regarding the Teamsters Union, AFL-CIO Vice President Walter Reuther said yesterday that if President Dave Beck refuses to attend hearings against him it "will not block out" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Wing Broken, Plane Lands OK

DC3 Caught in Storm Near Phoenix Brings All to Port Safely

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A twin-engine Frontier Airlines plane landed safely yesterday with about 10 feet of its left wing sheared off, raising the question of whether it actually could have scraped against the ground while in flight.

Government investigators tackled that intriguing problem today.

The DC3 was caught in a severe downdraft about 50 miles north of Phoenix, but pilot Dale Welling applied full throttle and pulled out after the plane plummeted an estimated 4,000 feet.

He brought in 23 scared passengers and the other two crewmen for a perfect landing after a jittery half hour aloft.

E. T. Burson, the airline's chief pilot, said that an examination of the drift of the scratches on the shredded wing indicated it had hit something, "but we don't know what it was."

He declined to speculate.

The planes tip-to-tip wingspan was 95 feet, and the loss of 10 to 12 feet did not affect most of the "flying surface," a Frontier official said.

Twisters Bring Heavy Rainfall Across Plains

34 Injured, 1 Missing as Widespread Damage Is Inflicted

DALLAS (AP) — Tornadoes boomed last night and rivers were rising today, but there was a bright side apparently the seven-year drought was about broken in most of the state.

Ten tornadoes lashed from angry storm clouds over the Texas Panhandle and South Plains last night, injuring 34 persons and inflicting heavy property damage. One man was reported missing.

An 11th tornado hit near Cotulla in south Texas but did little damage.

The Trinity River approached the flood stage here and the Weather Bureau warned it would flood lowlands to the south in the next few days.

Thunderstorms also hit central Texas last night and today.

Hard rain accompanied the tornadoes in northwest Texas and heavy rains drenched south Texas last night. General heavy rains have been soaking most of Texas since the middle of February, boosting the morale of farmers, ranchers and city dwellers.

NEARLY BROKEN

State officials expressed cautious optimism that the drought was about broken in all but the western and southernmost portions of the state.

A tornado followed by heavy rain lashed Littlefield yesterday, cutting it off from outside communications for a time.

The Texas highway patrol said the tornado cut through the western side of the South Plains cotton marketing and ginning center of about 8,000.

Couple Report Kidnaping

Saginaw Man Says He, Girl Were Abducted, Then Released

SAGINAW (AP) — Charles Hardin, 20, of Saginaw, reported to State Police today that he and his 19-year-old girl friend were abducted last midnight by a man who later released them after assaulting the girl.

The girl said she had been raped.

The man fled in Hardin's car from Sanford, 40 miles northwest of Saginaw, after forcing the couple out of the car and then attacked the girl. After that, Hardin and the girl were ordered out of the car and the man drove off in Hardin's car.

The couple hitchhiked back to Saginaw and reported the attack to State Police at the Bridgeport post.

Hardin gave police this account of the attack:

He and his girl friend were sitting in their parked car on a Saginaw street when a man suddenly put a knife to Hardin's throat.

The man forced the couple to drive him to Sanford. Stopping there, the man forced Hardin into the trunk of the car and then attacked the girl. After that, Hardin and the girl were ordered out of the car and the man drove off in Hardin's car.

The couple hitchhiked back to Saginaw and reported the attack to State Police at the Bridgeport post.

Hardin described the assailant as about 30, bushy haired with a reddish cast, with a scar running from his nose to a sideburn. He said the man remarked he was a former inmate of Southern Michigan Prison.

Hardin is the son of Robert M. Hardin, owner of a general insurance agency in Saginaw.

9 Die in Traffic Over Weekend

State Roads Take Toll Despite Ideal Driving Conditions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents took nine lives in Michigan over the Easter weekend.

The holiday weekend was the first of 1957 to open with sunny skies and balmy temperatures—ideal road conditions.

Joyce Szypala, a Lincoln Park girl who would have been 16 years old on Easter Sunday, was struck and killed by a car Saturday night.

Mrs. Ethel H. Stall, 60, of Detroit, was killed Sunday morning in a smashup of the car in which she was riding near Cass City. Her husband was injured. State police said the car, driven by Mrs. Stall, apparently blew a tire and then struck a ditch bank and rolled over.

CAR ROLLS OVER

Collin R. Getts, 24, of Stanton, was killed Saturday in Montcalm County when his car left a county road at a curve and rolled over.

Wilmer Pierson, 80, of Saginaw, and his wife, Clara, 65, were injured fatally Saturday when their car and a dump truck collided near Freeland. Pierson was president of Pierson Construction Co., a Saginaw construction firm.

Wilber D. Teachout, 35, of Battle Creek, was killed Saturday when his car crashed into a tree in the village of Augusta in Kalamazoo County. He was an auditor for the Michigan Employment Security Commission and was the father of six children.

William Charles Asman, 24, of Cadillac, was injured fatally Saturday when his car struck a tree in Henderson township in Wexford County.

Robert Kresakoff, 28, of Detroit, died Saturday in a two-car collision near West Branch in Ogemaw County.

George W. Harden, 82, was injured fatally Saturday when he was struck by a car near his home in Algonac.

John R. Sutton, 4, of 1911 Tamm St., Rochester, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital Sunday afternoon after being hit by a car driven by Eugene F. Coon, 375 Rivard St., Pontiac.

The child, with a fractured left arm and lacerations of the head, is listed as being in satisfactory condition by a hospital spokesman.

According to police reports, the child ran into the street in front of his home and Coon pulled to the right trying to avoid him, but the child ran into the side of his car.

Modern Pilgrims to Land at Plymouth Mayflower Sails for U. S.

ST. KEVERNE, England (AP) — Mayflower II — replica of the Pilgrim fathers' ship—sailed out of sight of the English coast today as she headed for the United States.

Soon after dawn, the little wooden sailing vessel was spotted by the coast guard 15 miles out from The Lizard, southernmost point of England's coast. Half an hour later she was out of sight.

Coast guard officer William Knight said, "On her course she has seen the last land until she approaches her destination."

The ship left Plymouth, England, Saturday, bound for Plymouth, Mass. For more than 24 hours she dawdled in the English Channel with hardly a breath of wind to fill her sails.

Skipper Alan Villiers, Australian seafarer, hopes to land the ship in Plymouth in about six weeks. He has said it all depends on weather conditions in the Atlantic. There is a crew of 32 aboard.

Just before the little ship sailed out of land's sight, Knight flashed the following poem—he said he had composed—to the vessel by signal lamp:

eral persons and caused heavy damage. A tornado also hit three miles west of Littlefield.

Roads were under water for a time and communications were out.

Reports poured in last night of tornadoes sighted in the air or hitting in open country.

The highway patrol said 15 to 20 houses were blown away by random tornado blasts. Two cotton gins, one in Littlefield and one at Hart Camp, were blown down.

One tornado hit an open field south of Lubbock, then bounced and passed within two blocks of the city. Power lines were knocked out.

The tornado next hit the Witharral community, 20 miles to the northeast. It demolished six homes and damaged a seventh.

John Waters said the tornado blew away 2,400 chickens at his farm.

State Agriculture Commissioner John White said, "The drought is about broken except for west Texas."

"The rain we are getting now is falling where we have already had good rains this spring and it is running off the soaked land."

"Sail on, sail on, oh pilgrims free: 'In treasure's chest, man's destiny. 'Your course is true 'On each degree, faith, hope and charity."

Beck is under temporary suspension as an AFL-CIO vice president pending a hearing May 20 on "malfeasance" charges.

Reuther expressed hope yesterday that expulsion will not be necessary, but added that the AFL-CIO will have "no choice" unless the Teamsters Union can "clean up from within."

The alternative, he added, is for the labor federation to "take aggressive action to create a union that can be clean and attract the rank and file."

The federation's Ethical Practices Committee has called a May 6 hearing to consider charges that the Teamsters Union is dominated by corrupt influences. The union has challenged the charges, but has not yet indicated whether it will appear.

Arguments in the wiretap trial of gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, switch to San Francisco today.

Attorneys will argue in the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals on a vital point in the federal government's case against Elkins, a key figure in the Portland vice investigation.

That point is whether the government can call as witnesses the sheriff's deputies and others who raided the home of Elkins' employee Raymond Clark, 33, and sized tape recordings last year.

Clark is accused with Elkins in the wiretap trial.

Detroit Held Here in Fatal Shooting

Robert Skinner, 54, of 20012 Roselawn Ave., Detroit, is being held in Oakland County Jail on a charge of first degree murder in the shooting of Minor Montgomery, 45, of 10431 Sandwood Ct., Saturday night.

According to Det. Samuel Whitfield of the Royal Oak Township Police, Skinner and Montgomery were drinking at the home of V. T. Clark of 20810 Mendota St., when an argument started. Skinner left, and reportedly shot Montgomery when he returned.

Skinner admitted the shooting, claiming self defense "when Montgomery pulled a knife during the argument," police said.

Easter Parade Hats, as Usual, Feature Nutty Styles

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Hundreds of thousands of Michigan Christians attended church yesterday to celebrate Easter, the festival commemorating the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Unique among the services was the one conducted at Detroit's historic Mariners Church. The rites were radio-beamed to sailors on ships throughout the world.

Easter parades found pleasant weather, which also drew thousands of motorists onto highways for drives to parks and lakeshores.

HIGHLIGHT PARADE

Crazy hats and decorated dogs highlighted—as always—this year's New York Easter parade.

Police estimated that some 1,300,000 paraders swarmed into the area between 46th and 57th street on Fifth Avenue. The bulk of the crowd remained near St. Patrick's Cathedral, where you stood a chance of being photographed, televised or at least seeing the people who did grab the publicity.

It was New York's hottest day so far this year. The mercury went into the 80s at noon and climbed to 82 in midafternoon.

In general the hats were less daffy and more stylish than in previous Easter parades, with only a few really outlandish designs in evidence. White was the favorite color. Hats were small and much decorated with matching or pastel flowers.

STARTLING HAT

One of the most startling pieces of headgear was a huge pink affair with a brim about two and one-half feet wide. It was covered with loose straw that looked like shredded coconut. Flowers, fruits and little chicks hatching from their eggs were the principal decorations.

Another nutty hat fashion was a white, cone-shaped one topped by a clover framework in which a bell swayed. The entire decoration, which stood three feet above the wearer's head, was made of little white flowers.

Hat-wearing dogs were much in evidence, usually in the chihuahua size. One wore a straw sailor hat, another a flowers-and-rhinestones hat perched atop its head. More flowers, ribbons and sparkle were distributed on collars and harnesses.

In Augusta, Ga., President and Mrs. Eisenhower led the Easter parade. They heard the timeless story of Christ's resurrection retold at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Decked out in Easter finery, the Eisenhowers attended Easter services with Treasury Secretary and Mrs. George M. Humphrey, their weekend guests at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Collision in Rochester Sends 8 to Hospital

ROCHESTER — Eight persons were hospitalized at Pontiac General Hospital Saturday night, following a three-car collision at Helen and West Fifth streets here.

Rochester police said that one car sideswiped another, causing the collision.

Taken to the hospital were Robert Gray of 339 East St.; Ward Lamphere, 710 Ludlow Ave.; Leland Tanner of 520 East Third St.; in one car; Delphine Snyder of 291 Princeton St., Pontiac, and Pauline Snyder of the same address; Florence George, of 380 Blaine, Pontiac, also Betty Turner and Barbara Turner, both of 380 Blaine.

The first lady wore a black and white silk print dress and matching jacket by Molly Parnis, with a corsage of four white orchids. Her Easter bonnet was a flowered white silk creation by Sally Victor. White gloves and black bag and shoes completed her ensemble.

OXFORD GRAY

The President was equally stylish in an Oxford gray silk suit, silver necktie and a red rose in his lapel.

Humphrey, it was disclosed by Presidential news secretary James C. Hagerty, has finally "gotten bit by the golf bug," too.

The 67-year-old secretary, who has never played before, took some lessons yesterday and then bought a set of golf clubs.

Eisenhower, Hagerty reported, was "greatly amused." It will probably be some time before the secretary is ready to play with the President, though Hagerty said he did "pretty well" yesterday for a new golfer.

The Eisenhowers and Humphreys joined in singing the Easter hymns, including, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "Lo, a Voice to Heaven Sounding." The blue-robed choir also sang the traditional "Christ Is Risen" with its chorus of alleluia's.

A small crowd was gathered outside the red brick church for a glimpse of the Eisenhowers, who sat in a sixth row pew.

Spurns Colorful Phrase

Quarles, Wilson Contrast Strongly; Very Congenial

By International News Service

If, as universally predicted, scholarly Donald Quarles succeeds blunt Charles Wilson as defense secretary, the "bopper" will be speedily declared obsolete.

Unlike his explosive boss, the 62-year-old Air Force secretary instinctively spurns the colorful turn of phrase and adheres rigorously to a scientific mode of speech.

From long years of theoretic physics at Columbia University and explorations in advance engineering at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Quarles has acquired a vocabulary which taxes the most erudite newsmen.

But, even though they miss an occasional word, Pentagon reporters admire Quarles' refusal to talk down to them.

Wilson, who speaks in "scatter load" terms and branches off into philosophic, sometimes bombastic, asides, is admired for his courage. Quarles is respected for his accuracy.

SHARP CONTRAST

The two defense officials are sharply different in other respects. Wilson is a lumbering, 200-pounder, Quarles a small, dapper man at 142 pounds.

Wilson is a man of enormous wealth who had to relinquish two and one-half million dollars in General Motors stock to avoid the "conflict of interest" laws. Quarles, a man of moderate means, was permitted by Congress to retain his ten-thousand dollar a year pension from the Bell system.

But despite the personality contrasts, the two men are uncommonly congenial and appear to share a certain earnestness.

Quarles is to be sworn in next Friday as deputy secretary of defense—Wilson's "alter ego"—and it is widely believed he will succeed the cabinet officer who is expected to resign this summer.

Quarles was born in Van Buren, Ark., and embarked upon his long scientific career in 1912 when he transferred from the University of Missouri to Yale.

Shooting Spree Takes 5 Lives

Man Kills Estranged Wife, Daughter, Two Louisiana Officers

CHURCH POINT, La. (AP)—A family disturbance erupted into a wild shooting spree yesterday and brought death to an estranged couple, their 14-year-old daughter and two policemen.

State Police Trooper F.J. Comeaux said the shooting was touched off by an Easter visit of Raphael Daigle, 37-year-old carpenter, to his estranged wife, Rena, 35.

Mrs. Daigle, their daughter Nettie, Police Chief Wilbur Landry and Asst. Chief Burley Cormier were wounded fatally at Mrs. Daigle's home, Comeaux said. Daigle later turned his shotgun on himself and committed suicide, the trooper said.

City police said Daigle apparently went berserk during a talk over reconciliation.

Police reported a call from Mrs. Daigle's home asked for police protection, and Landry and Cormier responded. Police theorized that Daigle, who had been arrested before for disorderly conduct, was angered by the call and shot his wife, their daughter Nettie and the two policemen.

The first automobile advertisement appeared in about 1900.

People in the News:

'Scout-O-Rama' Project Guided by Tough Campaigner

(Special to the Pontiac Press) Operating a project of the scope which the Ottawa Boy Scout District "Scout-O-Rama" has become is a job for a master promoter, organizer and dedicated Scout leader.

East Gruber of Westacres, who holds this tough but interesting assignment, possesses all of these qualifications. He's energetic, inspires people with their part in a project and directs his committees in the manner of a general planning a major battle campaign.

Wry, slightly grey-haired, Gruber guides his annual project (it's really a personal challenge) with a "hurry up and do it" push on all activities, after first gathering committee chairmen who thoroughly know their field and understand responsibilities of following through on an assignment.

Gruber, with General Motors for 32 years and now in the purchasing department of Pontiac Motor Division, has 20 years of experience in Scouting. He's been Scoutmaster of Westacres troop 36 and has contributed his talents to many council and district activities.

EARL GRUBER

Planning for this year's "Scout-O-Rama," to be held from 2 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday in Walled Lake Senior High School, was begun last October when Gruber started talking with Scout leaders to determine what kind of a show they would like to present to the public.

After approval of preliminary plans by the Ottawa District Committee, Gruber appointed chairmen, began holding meetings with leaders and committee-men and shaped up policies of operation. These meetings settled problems on size and shape of the 41 booths and approved topics for demonstrations by the 46 Scout units. Talent for the two performances of an hour-long stage show was screened, scheduled and rehearsed.

Feeling that safety and security should receive particular attention, the committee asked the Walled Lake, Wolverine and Michigan State Police; Commerce Township Fire and Oakland County Sheriff's Departments to lend assistance in parking, traffic and fire protection. In addition, insurance on the event was taken out.

Promotion activities, such as 25,000 tickets, 550 posters and newspaper stories were lined up. Other problems included securing lumber for booths, transporting stored materials and working out programs with school officials.

On Saturday, Gruber and his team, and more than 3,300 Scouts and their leaders of Ottawa District, will see the results of their efforts to depict 10 years in a boy's life at an "action-packed" show and exposition of Scouting.

'Other City' to Be Shown at Lake Orion

Dr. Raymond Ashare, staff surgeon at Pontiac General and St. Joseph Hospitals, will conduct a discussion after the afternoon film.

Dr. Arthur Weaver, graduate of the College of Medical Evangelists of Los Angeles, Calif. who interned at Pontiac General Hospital is a private practice surgeon, will lead the question and answer period afterward.

DRAW, PODNER — The "man" on the right is a gun slinger of the new, electronic school. He's Rudolph the Robot, and can whip up and fire his two guns in 1.3 seconds. Arthur C. Ross, left, of Dallas, Tex., designed the robot to aid marksmen in improving their aim and drawing speed. Rudolph's vital spots are electronic in nature and correspond in their placement to similar sections of the human anatomy. When Rudolph's eyes light up, it's a signal for his human opponent to draw — but fast. If the robot is hit in a vital spot within 1.3 seconds, the human wins. Hal Boyle Says:

Tycoons Distrust New Holiday Idea

NEW YORK (AP) — The business world is buzzing with a proposal that has stirred the canyons of commerce more than anything since some unknown invented the expense account.

The proposal is to protect that little shepherd of the till, the business executive, from wrinkling care by forcing him to take every seventh week off with full pay. Bart Schwartz, a textile company president, has just put the executives of his own firm on this program of compulsory leisure after testing it for four months himself.

"It works," he said, "we'll all live longer, work harder, be happier, make more money."

The idea of a week of vacation for every six weeks spent on the treadmill sounds like seventh heaven to the ordinary office employee. It may please the wives of executives, too. But how about the executives themselves?

They are excited by the thought of getting paid 7½ weeks out of the year for doing nothing except improve their health. But they are inclined to look for the thistle hidden beneath this latest fringe benefit.

"Great suggestion," said one executive I talked to. "Our workload is terrific. It'll keep a lot of us from killing ourselves if it becomes widespread in industry. But in my own case, I don't feel that I really need it or want it."

That is a typical reaction. Every executive is sure that a vacation every seventh week is fine medicine — for the other fellow, not him.

Why? Let's explore the situation.

The proper care and feeding of his heroes has been a problem with all civilizations.

But in the old days, when the warrior was the hero, the solution was simple. If the hero won a crucial battle, he was rewarded with a big slice of the defeated enemy's tax money, a palace or two, and a couple of dozen more girl grape-fetchers to enlarge his harem.

Today we have a different brand of hero. The real hero of 20th century America is neither the warrior nor matinee idol, neither Gen. Douglas MacArthur nor that troubled troubadour with the talented sideburns, Elvis Presley.

Our national hero is that magician of the marketplace, the business executive. And no hero in history has been harder to keep healthy or compensate adequately.

The present-day business executive seems to be as sensitive as a Swiss watch, likely to get wound up and break down with everything from ulcers to athlete's foot, from heart attack to hernia.

Every possible reward of a materialistic society is held out on a platter to cheer the tired tycoon and keep his hormones humming. He is often given a high salary, a fat expense account, an office-paid car, office-paid "business" trips to Florida that are in reality vacations, stock deals, bonuses, free insurance, medical benefits for him and his family, and pensions that would match a king's ransom.

Some firms even provide a staff psychiatrist and he can lie down on a couch and talk about his troubles on company time.

Why, showered with all these goodies, do executives fall prey to more physical and emotional ills than you can find in the average clinic. Is it all because of the responsibility of their jobs?

There could be another answer:

That the executive enjoys so many golden benefits he worries himself sick for fear that someone will take them away, or when he dies he won't be able to take them with him. He has so much security it makes him feel insecure. After all, what can heaven promise him that his firm hasn't already given him?

Which brings us right back to why most executives are leery of Mr. Schwartz's daring idea of multiple vacations for executives. It's simply too good to be safe.

As an executive said frankly:

"If I thought my boss felt he could get along without me one week out of seven, I'd never really be able to rest in my swivel chair again."

Bob Considine Says:

Newspapers Bring History to Life

NEW YORK (INS)—The annual gathering of the American newspaper publishers in New York is as good a time as any to bury an obsolete metaphor. It's the one that runs, "... dead as yesterday's newspaper."

There are deader jewels in the crown of America's freedom of speech and communication. A live TV or radio show is deader one second after presentation is completed than, let us say, the bound copy of the Dec. 23, 1773, edition of the Massachusetts Gazette and Boston Newsletter—which carried well-written accounts of the dumping of 342 chests of tax-bearing tea.

Freshly printed copies of those papers, carried to New York and Philadelphia by a courier named Revere, and dispatched thence as far south as Georgia, united and strengthened the will of the colonies as much as did the Massachusetts Spy's stories of May 3, 1775, covering the action in the battles of Lexington and Concord.

The historian winces and knows no solace when he considers the events in ancient history which will forever remain obscure as to origin and other details because there was no newspaper there to blot up and retain the details.

The Gospels are but scattered, halting, half-recalled memories of events which changed the shape of earth and thought and will affect billions yet unborn.

Save for what would surely seem their inspired phases, the story could have been covered better by any one of America's 1,700 odd daily newspapers. No cub would have neglected to do an obit on Joseph, a memorable oversight on the part of the sainted Evangelists.

WHAT STORIES!

Think of the unrecorded, unpublished features, sidebars, inter-ques and boxes which would have attended the descent from Mt. Sinai of Moses, tablets under his arm! Or the flight of Mohammed to Mecca, the building of the pyramids, the circle of Stonehenge, the temples of Yucatan, the palaces of Crete, the towers of Ankor-Wat!

Who were architects? What was the work week, the take-home? What did it mean then? And who was the millionth visitor who had his hand shaken by the mayor?

Because there were no newspapers we'll never know really what happened in England in 1666, in Virginia in 1607, and in Massachusetts in 1620.

But nothing much has happened since then that went unnoticed. Newspapers, and the knowledge they spread—and once read—enabled others to spread by being passed on, fanned freedom's fire into independence from Britain.

We are not in the dark today about what Lincoln did and said at Gettysburg because the story that day was covered by dozens of reporters.

SPUR PROGRESS

If there had been no newspapers, say, from 1897 to the present could there have been the development and acceptance of the automobile, electric light, airplane, telephone, highway system, radio, TV, modern medicine?

Could there have been comprehension of the forces that brewed into the wars of that period, clear focus on the leaders, dedicated and despotic, who strode the world?

Newspapers make a big difference in people's lives every day. They translate the incomprehensibly complex nature of the world today into language and pictures that most children can understand and by which the intelligence of the adult will not be offended.

They explain Suez to the reader, and the best way of inflating a soufflé. They probe the antarctic and the atom; shed light on cancer and calypso, take you to the White House and the White Tower hamburger place, the Kremlin and the row.

Klub Kit-Kat, delineate Einstein and Epstein, illuminate budget and baseball, range through acidosis to zither-playing.

There will be more of this tomorrow.

More Meat, Less Lard

Cigar-Shaped Porkers
Praised by Breeders

MONTROSE (U)—Bob Blanford's Danish hogs are a friendly lot. They will come at his whistle and like to be petted.

But the qualities that have endeared the Landrace breed to Blanford have little to do with their friendly nature. His cigar-shaped pigs have two more ribs than other types and they produce more meat per pound.

The Landrace breed was developed in Denmark about 50 years ago for the English bacon market after the demand for lard animals diminished. Denmark banned their exportation in 1928, but the pigs are often smuggled across the border—sometimes by huggies.

Blanford, a Virginian who specialized in history at William and Mary College, has about 200 Landraces on his 200-acre Kee-Wah-Din Farms along the Flint river. He has shipped his pureblooded animals as far as Montana and Florida to enthusiastic hog breeders.

LOW ON LARD

Blanford guarantees the Landraces he sells will produce no more than 3 per cent lard. Barbecue fans and sparerib lovers prefer it that way.

As a heritage from the Danish ancestors, the Landraces are a robust breed that can withstand a Michigan winter. Blanford keeps his outdoors throughout the year and has never had a weather loss.

Already Michigan's largest Landrace producer, Blanford plans to expand to about 600 head. To assure the best bloodlines possible, he imports breeding stock from Sweden, England and Canada.

Although he started out as a teacher, Blanford got into accounting after coming to Saginaw from Virginia several years ago. He built up the farm as a sideline before taking up hog breeding on a full-time basis.

Largest Easter Turnout Streams to City's Churches

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Press Church Editor

*"The strife is o'er, the battle done;
The victory of life is won;
The song of triumph has begun,
Alleluia."*

Thousands of worshipers heard the story of Christ's Resurrection in song and sermon, as they filled city and county churches to overflowing Easter Sunday morning.

The joyous services began before dawn and continued through the day ending with evening programs of Easter music.

Church leaders said Sunday saw the greatest number of churchgoers they had even known here on Easter Day.

As the sun peeped over the horizon, the deep tones from the bell of St. Vincent de Paul Church called parishioners to prayer.

Throughout the morning, church bells rang out from all sections of Pontiac, announcing the Easter services in celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ centuries ago.

The earliest service reported was at 5 a. m. in Providence Missionary Baptist Church. From 6 until 8 a. m. Sunrise services were scheduled with breakfast following in most churches.

Before altars banked with lilies and other floral decorations sent by members and friends in memory of loved ones, there were baptisms and receptions of members.

Children's, Junior and Senior Choirs were heard in traditional, well loved anthems and songs. At All Saints Episcopal Church, Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" was sung as an offertory number.

"Christ the Lord Is Risen Today" was given by Sunday School children at Waterford Township Lutheran Church.

Other familiar melodies were "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," "Open the Gates of the Temple," "The Holy City," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," "Bells in the Steeple" and "He Is Risen."

A Consecration Service was held in the new Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church with Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit area speaking.

Sermons in both Protestant and Catholic Churches dealt with Christ's rising from the tomb with His promise of life everlasting.

The festive Easter Day with its triumphant music, pageants, plays, and pantomimes drew to a close with pictures of the Holy Land being shown in Emmanuel Baptist Church by Dr. Tom Malone, the pastor.

AP Urges China Reporting

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Directors of The Associated Press said today, "Qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

Comment on the State Department's refusal to permit U.S. newsmen to travel to Red China, the board told the annual meeting of members of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative:

"The most noticeable gap in our coverage, and one that has caused much controversy, is Communist China."

"We were invited by the Chinese, along with others, to send a reporter into the country. The United States Department of State refused permission and threatened serious sanctions."

The Associated Press disagreed with the government's action and the board at this time states again that it believes qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

The directors observed that, despite the ban, The AP "did get first-hand reporting from China by commissioning a Canadian newspaperman (David Lancashire) to make a tour of the country."

Newsmen have protested that the travel ban infringed on the right of people in the United States to know, through their own reporters, about conditions in China. Secretary of State Dulles said recently that he and President Eisenhower have considered dropping the ban but have failed to find a formula for doing so.

Dulles speaks today at the AP's annual luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The White House announced in Augusta, Ga., yesterday that Dulles would "outline the broad principles of American foreign policy."

Dodger Rookie Pitcher Wise to Old Trick

BROOKLYN (AP)—The next time Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas tries an old semipro trick he'll be sure his intended victim is not wise to such goings-on.

The Pirates' third baseman tried to pull one on the Dodgers' rookie pitcher, Rene Valdes, yesterday and it backfired.

Thomas, on third base in the fifth inning of the first game at Ebbets Field, called for the ball. The Cuban righthander, making his major league debut, called "time" and then threw the ball toward third.

The Pittsburgh veteran stepped aside and let the ball roll to the stands. If Valdes hadn't called "time", Thomas would have scored.

Baseball Drills Planned

Griff's Grill Class A baseball team will hold practice sessions on Tuesday and Thursday of this week at Jaycee Park at 5 p.m. Griff's is looking for young players only. Interested persons should attend the workouts or call Ray White, OL 2-5304.

Drayton Plains Woman Captures Championship in Ladies' Division

A 17-year-old Pontiac High School athlete who was bowling in his 1st tournament and a Drayton Plains woman who just squeezed into the finals on a tie were crowned champions of the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama Saturday.

Joe Tinson, sparked by a 275 game and steady scoring Donna Verhey romped to easy victories with 676 and 674 in their respective divisions.

Tinson was awarded $425 and a handsome desk-calendar set for rolling a 577 actual to go with his 99 handicap. Mrs. Verhey, who had tied for the last qualifying place at Dixie defeated runnerup Pat Donner by 42 pins for $205 and a desk set. She had a 572 actual and 102 handicap.

All 51 contestants in the finals took home some part of the $1,635 in prize money with six others adding Press trophies for being the top qualifiers in the race to reach the big last round at Huron Bowl.

However, only one of the six who had been high-qualifiers finished in the "Big Six" in the two divisions. That was women's 5th placer Lois Fletcher. Frank Pavlinac was highest among the men finishing 13th. The others took big drops from their previous showings.

Lanky Bob Pickett of Pontiac took home the fine $220 men's runnerup prize with a 664 score hitting a 562 actual. Local softball ace Louis Seay was close behind at 662 for 3rd place.

W. Misiewicz, also of Pontiac, took 4th place honors with a 648. George Howard and Stan Bott staged quite a battle for the No. 5 with Howard winning out with 635. Bott rolled 633.

Pat Donner's runnerup showing made it an all-Drayton Plains finish in women's play. She hit 632. Ranking 3rd was Pontiac's Mrs. Marion McNair at 605. She edged another Drayton Plains' ace Marion Urich by one pin. Lois Fletcher had 587 for 5th and Helen Smith's 680 completed the top six.

Bill Johns of Pontiac posted the best actual series in the finals with a 608 but a slim handicap prevented him from ranking higher than 7th. Mrs. Verhey's 572 paced the women.

All awards were presented at a post-tournament ceremony held at the 300 Lounge with Press Sports Editor Bruno Kearns serving as master of ceremonies. Les Rothbarth, tourney manager, made the presentation of awards. The prize list and order of finish is as follows:

Texans Set Tempo in Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Cinderblasting baton teams from Texas and Kansas set the tempo for tremendous record-breaking performances in the 32nd Kansas Relays Saturday.

The Texans, besides running the 440-yard relay three-tenths of a second faster than the 40.2-second world record they set in 1952, hung up two more new marks for the Kansas relays—1:24.2 for the half-mile and 10:04.3 for the distance medley.

Altogether, 13 meet records fell. Kansas accounted for two of them in winning three relay events. Hal Long, Tom Skutka, Jan Howell and Jerry McNeal stepped the four-mile relay in 16:57.8. The recognized intercollegiate record was set at 17:08.6 in 1952 by Michigan.

The Jayhawks set a new mark of 7:32.3 in the two-mile relay and won the one-mile in 3:12.6.

Billy Tidwell, of Emporia (Kan.) State, was voted the outstanding performer after anchoring his team to meet records in the college sprint medley at 3:22.6 and the college mile relay at 3:15.1. He was clocked at 1:49.5 for his half mile trick and in :47.5 for the quarter.

Howard Payne College of Brownsville, Tex., set a college division meet record of 7:41.2 for the 2-mile relay and won the college distance medley in 10:20.6.
