Nixon Acclaimed GOP Nominee on First Ballot; Chooses Lodge for No. 2 Spot

UNANIMOUS CHOICE—Vice President Richard M. Nixon won the Republican Party's presidential nomination at Chicago last night with 1,321 of a possible 1,331 delegate votes on the first ballot. Arizona then made the selection, unanimous after Louisiana had refused to withdraw the 10 votes it cast for Sen. Barry Goldwater. The convention hall was jubilant.

Vice President Will Not Use Text for Acceptance

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (U.P.)—The Republican ticket for 1960's crucial election will be: Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for vice president.

A jubilant GOP convention made official on a single perfunctory ballot Wednesday night what long has appeared inevitable.

It nominated Nixon to battle Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic choice.

This will pit in the November balloting a 47-year-old Quaker, a relatively poor man and a self-propelled politician, against a 43-year-old Roman Catholic from a wealthy and politically experienced family.

In a post-midnight conference of the party's top leaders that lasted for 2½ hours, Nixon tapped Lodge, the United Nations ambassador, as his running mate.

Lodge's acceptance was a foregone conclusion. So was the convention's ratification tonight of his nomination for second place, despite the talk by Illinois Gov. William Stratton that some unnamed Midwesterner might be offered as a rival candidate.

Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, the Republican keynote speaker, will place before the convention tonight the name of Lodge as the prospective GOP vice presidential candidate.

Nixon personally announced to Judd that he would make the nominating speech, Nixon spoke to newsmen as he entered the Morrison Hotel for a "summitside up breakfast" for Republican women.

The vice president also disclosed that he will be introduced for his acceptance speech tonight, as the GOP presidential candidate, by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon told the unusual for so important an occasion and speak without a text.

The vice president was asked if there might be some opposition to Lodge in the convention balloting.

"There might be," he replied, "but that opposition would be in good spirit if it comes."

Lodge said today he was "overwhelmed" at being selected to be Nixon's running mate on the Republican presidential ticket.

He said that if nominated he would resign "some time" in August from his post as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Lodge said he was ready to campaign anywhere in the country and that he was "very optimistic about the outcome."

"It will be a fighting campaign," he said.

Convention Roars Nixon Approval

Expected, Still Celebrated

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO—It was the outcome that everybody expected, but according to a political tradition must be greeted with an outburst of enthusiasm.

This time that pent-up enthusiasm resulted in a demonstration of 15 minutes, in which Michigan joined every other state and territory in letting loose.

Republican National Convention procedure, differing from that of the Democrats, requires a complete roll call of delegations before a motion to make a choice unanimous can be entertained.

With the exception of 10 votes out of 1,331, Nixon was the choice on the roll call, so when that was completed, the unanimous motion was made, with less than a dozen voting no.

GOLDWATER BUILD-UP

A demonstration of about the same length had followed the placing of Nixon's name in nomination, so in a general way the furor exceeded that given Kennedy at Los Angeles.

Astute politicians today are saying that placing the name of Sen. Barry Goldwater before the convention as a presidential candidate was only a build-up for the nomination for vice president tonight.

After a demonstration of 10 minutes, which appeared to be quite perfunctory, and the gathering of a few votes on the roll call, Gold-

Helicopter Hop Costs 13 Lives

Jog Between Airports Ends in a Cemetery Outside Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A brief helicopter hop between airports ended abruptly in forty deaths in a gloomy suburban cemetery Wednesday night for all 13 persons aboard.

"It was a big red flash," said Ed Gauger, who from his back porch watched the helicopter crash in close over the trees and crash four blocks away. State trooper Henry Plotto said the craft was off before it crashed.

The fuselage containing at least five bodies ripped into a cluster of tombstones and erupted in white-hot fury. The tall section with three bodies, was more than two blocks away.

Some of the bodies were burned black; others were twisted in grotesque shapes.

Gauger said he was certain the pilot veered from his regular course to avoid hitting the populated residential area.

An employee of the company, Chicago Helicopter Airways, Inc., said it appeared the tail section of the helicopter, similar to one used Wednesday by President Eisenhower on a visit to the Republican National Convention, apparently fell off in flight.

The final session of the GOP convention in Chicago is slated to begin at a half hour earlier this evening at 7 p.m. The start of channel 2's television coverage will be pushed back to 6 p.m. with channel 4 and 7 cutting in at 6:30.

The roll call for nomination of a vice-presidential candidate is the first thing on the agenda. Acceptance speeches by Richard M. Nixon and his running mate will cover the major portion of the evening.

WWJ radio will start its broadcast of the events at 6 p.m. and WJBK is slated to switch to Chicago at 7.

First Half GM Profits Top '59 by $22 Million

DETROIT (U.P.)—General Motors made 22 million dollars more profit in the first half of this year than in the first half of last year—the only one of the big three auto manufacturers to improve on 1959 earnings.

Ford profits were down 21 million dollars. Chrysler completes the picture with its report today. Board Chairman L. L. Coolt has indicated Chrysler made money but nothing approaching the 43 million dollar profit of last year's second quarter.

In its second quarter report yesterday General Motors said its net income amounted to 612 million dollars in the first six months, equal to $2.15 per share. This compared with 590 million dollars, or $2.08 per share, a year ago.

Sales totaled $7,109,000,000 for the January-June period compared with $6,812,000,000 in the first six months last year.

But unlike a year ago both sales and earnings for the second quarter trailed first quarter figures. Earnings of 288 million dollars were down 32 million from the first quarter of this year and were nine million below the second quarter of 1959.

Second quarter sales totaled $3,631,000,000 this year and $3,306,000,000 last year.

Nixon Bases Early Appeal on Background of Poverty

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon drove his campaign for the presidency forward today without even a pause for breath.

He was out among the delegations to the Republican National Convention by breakfast time, making a man-of-the-people appeal that appeared to show some of his strategy for the contest with the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy. In between those sessions the vice president was lining up seconding speeches on behalf of U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the vice presidential running mate Nixon hand-picked.

Nixon reported he got only three hours sleep, but he was at his campaigning without letup.

One of his early visits—he got there 20 minutes late—was at an open caucus of Texas and Georgia delegates.

There he made an appeal for party unity. Then he launched into accounts of his own upbringing and that of his wife Pat with broad implications of a contrast with the upper-crust wealthy background of his Democratic opponent.

The Republican Party's new top man related that Mrs. Nixon was the daughter of an itinerant miner, and that her mother died of cancer when Mrs. Nixon was 12, that she was orphaned at 16 and worked her way through college to become a school teacher.

"When you have got that kind of a background, you must have what it takes," Nixon asserted.

TELLS OF FATHER

He then told about his own father, a one-time streetcar motorman and carpenter who, Nixon said, worked as a "roughneck" on oil rigs to supplement the family's income from a six-acre lemon grove.

Nixon said his father used to joke, "This land must have oil in it because it ain't good for growing lemons."

The candidate said oil was found on the land after it passed out of the family's hands, and "That's the only reason I didn't become a Rockefeller."

Goldwater Hits Conservatives

CHICAGO (UPI)—The conservatives of America got a tongue-lashing last night from the arch conservative of them all.

He accused them of having thrown the country on past occasions to the Democrats—a party "dedicated to the destruction of America"—by sulking at home on election day instead of voting.

He told them not to do it again.

He told them to get out and fight for Richard M. Nixon for president even if they do think the 1960 GOP platform is too liberal in spots.

It's a lot better, he said, than "blueprint for socialism presented by the Democrats" at their national convention in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

The tongue-lashing and the exhortation were delivered by the one man whom conservatives adore above all others in public office—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Goldwater, a handsome, gray-haired, forceful 61-year-old, has been called "the darling of the conservatives," a "conservative's conservative," and "a right-wing reactionary." He glories in such labels.

If the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was "Mr. Republican," Goldwater, a Republican too, is "Mr. Conservative." There were those at last night's session of the GOP National Convention, which unanimously nominated Nixon for president, who far preferred Goldwater.

One of them, Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, defied the senator's personal wishes and put him in nomination. He said Goldwater had won "the admiration of America by his unswerving willingness to call a spade a spade." This touched off a noisy 12-minute demonstration.

Four seconding speeches followed, each praising the senator as a man of integrity, totally without fear.

The moment they were through, Goldwater appeared on the speaker's platform. He withdrew his nomination, brushed a chorus of "noes," and asked the Arizona delegation to cast its 14 votes for Nixon.

Then he begged leave to make a few remarks addressed to conservatives. He said there never had been a political convention which produced a platform pleasing in all respects to everybody.

But he said the 1960 Republican platform was greatly to be preferred to the Democrats', and he told conservatives they had better support the Republican version.

Press Gives State Hopelists Closer Look

Next Tuesday is primary election. Voters will narrow the field for county offices. The Press has been looking into these races this week.

But there are also state offices to consider. Primary contests soon for governor, lieutenant governor, the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.

For a rundown of men who seek these posts, turn to Page 17 of today's Pontiac Press, and watch for another page on the county situation tomorrow.

'Not One Without Other' to Complete Courthouse

County officials these days are recalling the strains of a Broadway musical hit that concludes "you can't have one without the other" when they think of Tuesday's vote to finish the new courthouse project.

County officials are reminding voters that for the four-million dollar tax package to be successful Aug. 2 both propositions must pass.

"It will take a simple majority of those voting on both questions to accomplish what the county is attempting to do," declared Norman R. Barnard, corporation counsel.

"This is not an alternative tie proposal where one or the other will do the trick, but both are needed to get the job done."

Only property owners and their spouses will vote on one question to allow the Board of Supervisors to levy a half mill (.50 cents) for the new courthouse.

On the other question—which can be voted as by all qualified electors—the county seeks permission to spread the tax outside the 15-mill property-tax limitation.

The questions will be on top of the voting machine ballot and should be voted on first as soon as the red handle has closed the curtains.

Thundershowers May Hit Tonight

The weatherman says there is a chance of scattered thundershowers tonight, and that Friday will be partly cloudy and a little cooler.

The low is expected to drop to about 68 tonight and rise to a high of 84 tomorrow. Fair to partly cloudy, and a little warmer is the outlook for Saturday.

Northwesterly morning winds at six m.p.h. will become southeasterly at 10-20 m.p.h. this afternoon and tonight, shifting to northwesterly Friday.

Sixty-four was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 88.

RYAN'S PORT, Mass. (U.P.)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today accepted an invitation from the National Broadcasting Co. to take on Vice President Nixon in face-to-face televised campaign debates.

WITHDRAWS NAME—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona withdrew his name from nomination for the presidency immediately after it was placed before the GOP convention last night. He lashed out at conservatives who he charged had caused the GOP to lose to the Dems by default in the past by staying home on election day. He urged them to support Nixon.

Wants to See Jailed Husband

Mrs. Powers Awaiting Word on Russian Visa

WASHINGTON (U)—Mrs. Francis Gary Powers appeared in person to the Soviet Embassy Wednesday for permission to visit her husband, awaiting trial in Russia on a spy charge.

She was told Moscow would have to pass on her visa application, but said she "very definitely" hopes to get the clearance.

"They said they would let us know as soon as they got word from Moscow," said Alexander W. Parker, Richmond, Va., attorney, who accompanied the 34-year-old Mrs. Powers on her hour-long visit to the embassy.

Mrs. Powers, wife of the American pilot of the U2 plane downed over Russia May 1, left her Milledgeville, Ga., home to make the personal appeal.

"I want to be with my husband at this time," Mrs. Powers, dressed in black and carrying a white raincoat, told reporters. She had little more to say.

"She's a little upset and nervous," said W. P. Dickson Jr., of Norfolk, president of the Virginia State Bar Assn., which is helping Mrs. Powers.

Parker said Frank Rogers, Roanoke attorney who also was with the group today, have applied for visas, along with Mrs. Powers. Parker said they hoped to have some answer before the start of the trial, scheduled for Aug. 17.

If they are allowed to attend, Parker said, "We'll do whatever the Soviet law permits," including conferring with Powers' Soviet-appointed attorney.

Mrs. Francis Powers

Parker remarked he wouldn't say they were hopeful about the visas— "We're just waiting."

The pilot's father, Oliver Powers of Pound, Va., has received his visa to go to Russia.

An estimated 82 per cent of all the farms in Idaho are occupied and operated by the farmers who own them.

Citizens Urged to Vote in Primaries August 2

It is almost unbelievable that in this democracy there are literally millions of citizens who are disfranchised—voteless. We have them right here in Oakland County.

The amazing thing is that it is voluntary. These people just don't bother to register and vote. Yet they like to sound off and express opinions.

The chief alibi, which no person who can add one and one should be guilty of, is that "my single vote won't make any difference."

Oh, yeah? Past records indicate a different story.

Harry Truman carried California and Ohio in 1948 by less than one vote per precinct, and without those states he would not have won the election. An infinitesimal majority of 87 votes sent Lyndon Johnson to the Senate the same year.

Right here in Michigan our own Governor Mennen Williams won over Fred Alger in a very close race that even necessitated a recount. There are plenty of other examples.

But if one is not interested in voting a bunch of figures doesn't mean much. Neither, presumably, does the future of the country. Get out on Tuesday, August 2, and show your true colors by voting in our primary election.

Manila Appreciates Pontiac's Fine Gift

MR. LOUIS H. FARR, Assistant Publisher of The Evening News in Manila, in the Philippines, sends us an editorial which was just carried on Pontiac's recent gift.

We reproduce it herewith:

"The unique and highly serviceable gift given to the people of the Philippines by the citizens of Pontiac, Michigan, namely, a Helio-Courier, which is a combination airplane and helicopter, is a fine thing not only in the spirit that it was given, but in the use it can be put to. Intended by the givers as an instrument to help eradicate illiteracy and link isolated places in this country with population centers, the Helio-Courier would also be a handy transport for relief supplies in case of disaster, or as a speedy means to carry sick or injured people to hospitals. Indeed, we think that the gift will be very versatile in many, many ways. Therefore, many, many thanks to Pontiac."

Mr. Farr also requests us to extend an additional word of thanks from him personally for the fine gift Pontiac people have made.

Political Knowledge Most Important Factor

Those who grow weary of the convention hoopla sometimes voice a cry for federal primaries as a solution which would eliminate this traditional political disease which strikes every four years.

This would be a grave mistake, we believe.

We're weary of long-winded speeches and other time-consuming aspects of the conventions, but conventions do give some general assurance that the candidates selected are sincere party members. Federal primaries could easily become nationwide popularity contests. Would you have wanted Lister as a candidate a couple of years ago? He had enough followers to swing it, in a federal primary.

Political parties serve a valid purpose in providing a working framework and permanent organization for the training of future office holders. Our government has achieved stability through the years with two major parties.

A number of splinter groups, factions and wings each claiming to be separate parties, have plagued France and other European nations for years. One party seldom achieves a majority, and governs by coalition, depending for survival on placating this or that small minority.

Federal primaries could easily be the beginning of such a multiplicity of parties, with their attendant evils. Nationwide balloting on primary candidates could light the fuse of a blast which would destroy our two-party system, and put untrained candidates on the ballot on the basis of popularity and little else.

Let's put up with the demonstrations and the favorite son baloney. The alternatives are worse.

The Man About Town

The Sole Survivor

In Pontiac's Downtown of Tree With County's Name

Political convention: A gathering of politicians in the guise of representing the people.

Nearest remaining oak tree to Pontiac's main corner is that rugged individualist on West Huron Street, across the alley from the courthouse. It is full of sentiment in the minds of many, the uppermost being that of retired Circuit Judge

Frank L. Doty, who looked down upon it from his office for many years. He feels that it is waging a hard battle to preserve the sturdy qualities of the tree for which our county was named. It is surrounded by pavement, its roots are cramped in their efforts to draw nutriment from the soil, but every year it puts out a foliage that is magnificent.

When he was a boy, the still has boyish ways.

Bob Oliver had a playhouse in the branches of that tree, when his father was sheriff. It has seen thousands pass under its branches, and remained on the job after hundreds of county officials have served their time in the adjacent building. Although somewhat stunted in its growth by its cramped position, it appears good for several generations more. Here's hoping that it will be allowed to serve them.

You may think that defective tires would be the greatest feature in safety checking of automobiles. But you'd be wrong. In a recent survey, the results were: defective rear lights, 325; front lights, 87; windshield wipers, 89; brakes, 72; exhaust system, 21; steering, 2; glass, 2; tires, 1.

I have it direct from Michigan Deputy Conservation Director

Gaylord A. Walker that there will be no fees charged at our state parks this year—if ever. The law providing for same does not go into effect until Aug. 18, too late to set up the system for this year. And there will probably be a new phase on the matter by 1961.

Recently digging five young fox out of a hole in the hills near his home north of Rochester, Sherman Boike says they're so cute that he would like to forego the $30 bounty on each of their scalps. "But they smell to high heaven," says Sherman.

Recently felling a maple tree in his yard,

Eugene Pudray of Keego Harbor, found a metal hammock hook, four inches inside its bark. He says that old residents tell him that the tree was on a picnic spot used by Pontiac people over 50 years ago, long before there was even one house in Keego Harbor.

David Lawrence Says:

GOP 3 Deep in World Experience

CHICAGO—The Republicans plan to offer the country a triumvirate of experience to meet the crises of a troubled world.

Richard Nixon is elected president and Henry Cabot Lodge is the vice president, they will confer and counsel often with Dwight Eisenhower.

America's policies thus will be formulated on the basis of experience with all the controversies and personalities in international affairs gained in rich, fruitful years.

This is the meaning of what has been urged in favor of the combination of Messrs. Nixon and Lodge, both of whom have been so closely associated with the administration of President Eisenhower.

The way the delegates cheered Eisenhower and the enthusiastic reception given him by the people of Chicago would seem to indicate that folks generally would be glad to see Eisenhower continue to exert his influence, through his successor, on the side of patience yet firmness in dealing with the Soviet Union.

Henry Cabot Lodge is well known to TV audiences and in the press because of his courageous and skillful handling of the Soviet threat in the United Nations meetings in New York.

Since the forthcoming political campaign will raise the issue of experience versus inexperience in world affairs, the Republican leaders were wise to bring President Eisenhower here and to consider so favorably the selection of Henry Cabot Lodge for the vice presidential nomination.

For the feeling is that international issues will be dominant in the campaign. Both Nixon and Lodge are good debaters and have a familiarity with the subject matter gained at first hand inside the United States government from day to day for the last seven years or more. Lodge has proved a masterful diplomat, and speaks French fluently.

As for the platform controversies here, they appeared to fade away through "compromise." Phrasesology that emphasizes in broad terms the desired objectives rather than specific formulas or legislative proposals was adroitly employed as usual to satisfy conflicting elements.

But the Republicans had two significant things in their "civil rights" plank which will win them considerable support. They didn't endorse "sit-ins."

For to do so meant something the Democrats overlooked — that the word "sit-in" could be easily construed to include "sit-down" strikes in plants and factories as well as in business establishments.

This particular issue was fought out in Michigan in the 1950s, when Super-speed photographs of sneeze spray widely printed in newspapers and magazines have impressed many readers, but unfortunately no pictures of the spray produced by conversation were published.

The technologists who made the pictures estimated that the droplets, laden with germs, travel at the rate of 150 feet a second and they imagined some of the droplets might float about for a considerable time, to deposit their loads of bacteria upon the mucous membranes of the person who might eventually inhale them.

I believe there is no serious danger from that. I believe any disease germs contained in such moist-the Supreme Court of the United States declared "sit-in" strikes unlawful. Certainly in principle a sit-in is different from a non-violent occupation of a lunch counter.

The Republicans didn't mention "sit-ins" as such at all in the platform and wisely confined themselves to this broad statement: "We reaffirm the constitutional right to peaceable assembly to protest discrimination in private business establishments."

"We applaud the action of the businessmen who have abandoned discriminatory practices in retail establishments, and we urge others to follow their example."

The reference to "peaceable assembly" means, of course, only outside the stores, where there is a legal right to protest or demonstrate.

Faith is the daring of the soul to go farther than it can see. — William N. Clarke.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doubtful Hand Shaking Can Spread Infection

Here it is well to mention the theory that the custom of shaking hands may be a mode of infection. I doubt that hand shaking spreads disease, because we know the specific germs of such diseases as influenza, diphtheria, meningitis, pneumonia, quickly lose their virulence or power to cause disease, if they do not die on exposure to air, light, dryness or a temperature below that of the blood.

I do not believe that objects or furniture contaminated by cough, sneeze or conversational spray of a person with some such infectious disease are likely to be a source of infection to any one.

It is my firm conviction that only the spray you catch on the fly, so to speak, and take directly into nose or mouth, can give you the disease.

Knowing the range of cough or sneeze spray widely printed in newspapers and magazines have impressed many readers, but unfortunately no pictures of the spray produced by conversation were published.

The technologists who made the pictures estimated that the droplets, laden with germs, travel at the rate of 150 feet a second and they imagined some of the droplets might float about for a considerable time, to deposit their loads of bacteria upon the mucous membranes of the person who might eventually inhale them.

I believe there is no serious danger from that. I believe any disease germs contained in such moist-

The other piece of political wisdom emerged as the Republicans took note that the Democrats had, by their platform, called for abolition of all literacy tests for voting. This would require a constitutional amendment.

The Republicans, on the other hand, pledged "legislation to provide that the completion of six primary grades in a state-accredited school is conclusive evidence of literacy for voting purposes."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use Tactful Criticism in Business

The strategy described in today's Case Record is the very core of practical psychology. And it forms the foundation of successful Personal Administration. But every parent and teacher should become adept at the "Pause and Praise" principle to the "Sandwich Method" of giving criticism.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F - 428. Ken W., aged about 60, is the dynamic head of an important division of J. L. Hudson's nationally known department store in Detroit.

A year or two ago, his store invited me to Detroit to give a series of addresses to their employees. At a luncheon prior to the start of the addresses,

DR. CRANE Ken asked me about the nature of my talk that night.

"What is the most important idea to keep in mind," he said, "in getting along with people?"

THE MAGIC TATTOO

This is a very frequent query by merchandising leaders for we now realize that human relations is the biggest field for progress in industry.

Voice of the People

'Censor Boards Approve Huckleberry Finn Movie'

A letter appeared in The Voice of the People highly critical of the picture, "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." It was obvious the writer felt the picture was unfit for children to see. However, a number of national organizations do not agree with this view.

The following national organizations have moving picture censor boards which viewed this picture and each gave the classification of "Family" to it. This means they approved it as suitable for children and young people: PTA National Council of Parents and Teachers, Schools Motion Picture Committee, Protestant Motion Picture Council, American Jewish Committee, General Federation of Women's Clubs, American Association of University Women, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, National Council of Women of the U.S.A., Federation of Motion Picture Councils, and American Library Association.

I quote from the review board for the above named national organizations: "Mark Twain's classic tale of life on the Mississippi River over a hundred years ago has been given a handsome, almost reverent screen version. Well detailed period touches set a highly colorful background, and through it all the wide Mississippi just keeps rolling along, a beautiful and impressive sight."

Dissatisfied With Press Coverage

As a member of the Oakland County Delegation to the Democratic convention, I am surprised with releases by Joe Haas, the veteran reporter. Each day the articles are more lurid in comparing the activities of the delegates to Los Angeles with the activities of the delegates to Chicago.

This 'dean' of reporters made no personal contact with me at any time during the convention in Los Angeles. As for my knowledge, he made no contact with other members of our delegation after Monday morning.

If Mr. Haas went to Los Angeles to report the activities of the 18th District Delegation, I think he failed completely in his assignment.

'Republicans Profit by Dems' Mistakes'

Don't give the GOP any credit for having a better run convention than the Democrats. It was just the luck of the draw. Had the Republicans met first, the Democrats would have observed all their mistakes and then they would have guarded against them just as much as the GOP did. The President of the United States isn't going to be decided by aisle crowding and gum chewing at conventions.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use Tactful Criticism in Business

"And many men, in particular, are so obsessed with their own ego that they sink a small fortune in an elaborate maneuver to show off their importance 100 years after they are dead."

If we parents and teachers and bosses in industry could always see that famous tattoo, we'd be more tactful in correcting people.

For when anybody receives a criticism or correction, even though it is for his own ultimate best interests, that criticism deflates his importance. Then he grows angry or bitter or vindictive and wants to strike back.

"SANDWICH" CRITICISM

Instead of "belling" at our children or "barking" at our employees or "barking" at a patient or client, we'd curb our caustic tongues to just remember that tattoo on his chest... "I want to feel important."

"Well, Dr. Crane, how can an employer train workers and administrators to correct without making the recipient feel less important?" Ken inquired.

And the psychological strategy for that universal problem is to use the "sandwich method."

Insert a correction or reproval as the meaty middle layer of your sandwich. But start off with an honest compliment first. Praise the person you are going to correct.

"But that sounds unusual," you may say. "It is the opposite of how we feel. For when we catch somebody in a mistake, we like to jump on him."

True enough, and that's why we must carefully teach ourselves to resist this natural reaction. Don't jump on the victim with a vicious reprimand. Instead, pause a moment and praise some of his obvious good points.

The Almanac

By United Press International

This is Thursday, July 28, the 210th day of the year, with 156 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this 14th in history: In 1868, the 14th Amendment to the Constitution was ratified providing in part that "All persons born or naturalized in the U.S. are citizens of the United States, and of the state wherein they reside."

In 1942, Austria declared war on Serbia, marking the real beginning of World War I.

In 1932, more than 15,000 unemployed war veterans camping in Washington were driven out of the city by federal troops commanded by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

In 1945, the U.S. Senate ratified the charter of the U.N.

In 1945, an army B-29 bomber crashed into the Empire State Building, killing 13 persons.

This "pause and praise" is thus an essential part of the opening when you employ the "sandwich method."

For your initial praise forms the basic layer of the psychological sandwich.

Then smile and casually lead into the meaty layer by saying:

"Bill, I wonder if you wouldn't get better results if you did that in this manner."

Even with this original compliment, plus this smiling, casual lead-in, he may vaguely feel belittled and less important.

So push his ego back to par, or even higher, by fading out with another sincere compliment as your final layer of the sandwich!

ALL OUT FOR NIXON — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was about as enthusiastic as possible in his support of Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the Republican National Convention Wednesday night. Wearing his Nixon hat and Nixon banner, he was all smiles and enthusiasm. Rockefeller predicted the party would carry New York and the country in the November presidential election.

Weather Balloon Flies 'Backward' in Time'—Fast

NILES (UPI) — A weather balloon launched in Tokyo by the United States Air Force on July 26 by the calendar arrived in this Southwestern Michigan community on July 23.

Sound confusing? The answer is quite simple. The balloon crossed the international date line during the course of its 6,000-mile flight to gain a full 24 hours.

Weather officials calculate that the balloon, called a radiosonde, traveled at about 300 miles an hour to reach this part of Michigan in about 20 hours of actual flying time.

The balloon was found by Michael Matthews, 18, of Niles who saw the weather device parachute down on a farm north of here.

He turned the balloon over to the post office here which forwarded it to McClelland AFB in California.

Railroad Heads Will Discuss Merger Idea

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The presidents of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and The New York Central will meet in New York Aug. 15 to discuss merger proposals—even though C & O president Walter J. Tuohy said a three-way merger would be "unthinkable" at this time.

Tuohy made his comment in a letter to B & O President Howard E. Simpson.

At the same time, the Central made public a letter suggesting immediate studies of the benefits of a three-way deal.

The C & O said in a statement that plans to merge the C & O and the B & O are "practical and would make possible 'realistic' consideration of getting the three roads together in the future. It said the three-way discussions would take at least three years.

Much Milk Shipped

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) has shipped more than a billion pounds of skimmed milk — or about six times the weight of the liner Queen Elizabeth — to the world's children since its inception.

Electrical trades union workers struck at Salwick, England, saying it was unsafe to work on construction of an eight-story atomic reactor there.

Federal Reserve Board
Decreases Stock Margin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board Wednesday cut from 90 to 70 per cent the so-called margin—or cash down payment—required for purchases of stock, effective today.

The margin requirement had stood at 90 per cent since Oct. 16, 1958.

In raising it from 70 per cent at the time, the board said it was moving to prevent excessive use of credit in buying and carrying of stocks.

Widespread weakness in the stock market since early in the year, and the general downward drift of prices were major factors behind Wednesday Reserve Board action, which will liberalize the use of credit.

The last time the board cut the margin requirement was in January 1958 when it was lowered to 50 per cent. It raised the requirement to 70 per cent on Aug. 5, 1958, and then to 90 per cent in 1958.

The new reduction applies to both stock purchases and short sales. No other changes were made in the regulations.

TOTAL CREDIT DOWN

A board spokesman said total credit in the stock market has dropped 9.5 per cent from a historic high of $1.7 billion in mid-1959. But in the past few months, he added, the volume of outstanding credit has been fairly stable.

In view of these developments, the spokesman said, the board felt a margin requirement of 70 per cent "would be sufficient to prevent excessive use of credit in purchasing securities."

The board spokesman said he was not trying to shore up stock market prices. The board has consistently taken the position that it adjusts margin requirements only to prevent excessive use of credit, and not to influence market prices.

However, there persists a feeling among financial experts that the board always has at least half an eye on the level and direction of prices when it changes margin requirements.

Normally, lowering the minimum down payment would make it easier for people to buy stocks. A buying spurt inevitably pushes prices up.

Today's action means that to buy

$100 worth of stock a buyer need put up only $70 in cash instead of $90. Officials pointed out that this is still a high requirement for the shoeing speculator and should keep him out of the market.

Congress first gave the Federal Reserve Board authority to regulate margins in 1934, largely because of the way a heavy use of credit had contributed to the great stock market crash of 1929.

Since 1936, the margin requirement has generally been between 50 and 75 per cent. It was 100 per cent in 1946-47.

July Car Sales Up for Second 10 Days

DETROIT (UPI)—Mid-July sales of new cars climbed 13.7 per cent above the similar figure for the first 10 days of the month, Ward's automotive reports said Wednesday.

The statistical agency said new cars sold at a daily rate of 17,485 during the middle 10 days of the month, compared with a daily rate of 15,376 during the first 10 days. Total sales from July 11 through July 20 were 157,369 domestic made cars, Ward's said, with compacts accounting for 41,152 or 26.1 per cent of the sales.

The mid-July sales left dealers with 1,062,900 cars available for sale, compared with 1,056,600 on hand in dealer showrooms on July 10, Ward's said.

Versatile Device, They Claim

Chrysler Execs Pushing Their Nonslip Differential

By JACK VANDENBERG

UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—Two Chrysler Corp. experts on automobile accessories feel that nonslip differential is one of the most overlooked safety devices on a modern car.

And it's a bargain, too, say Don Linnell, manager of optional equipment and accessories for Chrysler, and his assistant, Frank Nash.

"Most people think of nonslip differential as merely a device to keep them from getting stuck on ice or in snow," said Linnell, "but it's actually much more than that."

"It's a safety device which may already have saved many lives although there are no statistics available."

Nash added that the value of nonslip differential was not limited to the winter season or areas that have ice and snow part of the year.

AIDS IN CORNERING

"A driver is much less apt to lose control of a car rounding a curve, even on dry pavement, if his car is equipped with nonslip differential," Nash said.

Nonslip differential, now in its third year on American-made cars, Linnell is going to become more directly the power transmitted from and more important the engine to the wheel that is turning slowest.

A gear shaft slides out of its normal groove on to a beveled surface as the wheel slows down. The movement of this gear shaft automatically diverts the power delivered by the engine to the slower-moving wheel.

"In other words, when one wheel starts to spin, part of the power normally delivered to that wheel, which is moving faster, is diverted to the wheel that still has traction, which will be moving slower," Linnell explained.

When a car rounds a curve, the weight shifts to the wheel on the outside of the curve and this wheel slows down, Linnell said. When the wheel slows down more power is transmitted to it and this additional power helps the motorist control the car around the curve.

In 1958, the first year it was offered, 2.8 per cent of Chrysler's cars were equipped with nonslip differential. Last year the percent age rose to 4.4 and for the first six months of this year it was 5.4 per cent.

"Gradually, we feel nonslip differential is going to become more directly the power transmitted from and more important

Comment From Republican Convention

GOP Plays It Safe With LA Cleric

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO—To offset things, a Los Angeles prelate was brought to Chicago for one of the invocations.

I learn of a very substantial donation to the 1960 Republican campaign fund from a Kalamazoo firm that gave nothing four years ago.

Our Grand Trunk is a part of the largest railway system outside the Chicago, the Canadian National.

Oakland County's Don F. Ahrens, who is soliciting funds for the Republican campaign, has a card which he passes out, showing an elephant with a cup. He circulated some of them at a luncheon, and one came back with 25 cents fastened to it.

A Chicago paper editorializes this way: "The best thing about national political conventions is that they happen only every four years, and that we have only two major parties."

Daffynition to start my Man About Town column: "Draft: A political breeze that isn't dependable."

If my political memory is correct, Richard Nixon is the first vice president nominated for president in 124 years. Martin Van Buren getting that distinction in 1836. He was elected.

Courtesy in exaggeration: They serve free soft drinks on the buses that give newsmen free transportation from their hotels to the convention and back.

Harry Horton, veteran Oakland County supervisor from Royal Oak, is here taking in the doings, and looking for somebody to argue into a yes vote on that courthouse millage proposition next Tuesday.

If you'd like my opinion, I think Eisenhower and Truman, strange as it may seem, have one very commendable habit that's exactly alike. And it has brought millions of votes to them.

Neither loses any opportunity to bring his wife into the foreground.

The impact of Eisenhower's talk Tuesday evening is best expressed in the words of Oakland County Chairman Art Elliott:

"Who remembers much of anything else that happened on that program?"

I often wonder what these banner carriers do between national political conventions.

Ripon, Wis., is renewing its claim that the Republican party was born there, when a few men, including some Democrats, got together on March 20, 1854, to organize it.

However, they admit that its first real doings of record was at our Jackson, Mich., on July 6, 1854.

Henry Cabot Lodge spent several years as a New York and Boston newspaperman. Well!

There's business as usual at the nearby Chicago stock yards, the largest in the world, as the convention goes on.

They have trucks that haul the same number of cattle as a railroad stock car.

They bring them in from all over the Midwest, and they don't smell so bad.

Chicago, like most every city including Pontiac, has some vacant stores in its downtown section.

With a sinister application, the Democrats have placed big "Thank You Ike" signs on their windows.

EXCRUCIATINGLY PERSONAL: Only accident so far was the loss of a tooth from my upper plate, broken out in trying to masticate a Washington State-grown apple, bought in Los Angeles.

Serves me right for tackling such a dry and tasteless thing, which should not even be classified as "fruit," when compared to a Michigan product.

Ticket scalpers reaped a harvest on the Eisenhower appearance at the convention.

Gallery tickets that had been passed out too freely by local politicians were sold by some of their recipients to scalpers who were getting as high as $10 for them.

Some arrests were made. The fine usually was $25.

Police were necessary to eject some intruders from the press section. They had climbed 12 feet up some floral scaffolding, to stand behind the regular occupants. Two little shrubs were discovered hiding behind me.

I cannot get over that Eisenhower exclamation — in a city that I, so strong for the opposition, parts. In my extended span of life, I've never seen anything that even approached it.

Then city from Mankato, Minn. now comes back with the query: "Did you say Pontiac, Mich., or Pontiac, Alaska?"

A drunk on a bench in Grant Park within 25 feet of Michigan Avenue and directly across that street from the largest hotel in the world, slept through it all Tuesday afternoon.

When awakened by the police, he rubbed his eyes and asked: "What's doing?"

He remembers that Dan Davis gave the present Courthouse a clock, and wonders if the Courthouse now under construction will have a clock.

Chicago's greatest problem is its elevated downtown Loop railway tracks.

Because of its underground already being honeycombed with subways, sewers, water mains, etc., they cannot be transferred there, so must be continued.

The iron and steel in them is worth millions just for junk.

Group Seeks Arrest of Township Officials

A Royal Oak Township organization is seeking a court order directing Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Lemmie C. Cash, township justice of the peace, to issue warrants for the arrest of several township officials.

The group, the West Eight Mile Community Club, yesterday filed a motion for a writ of mandamus in Circuit Court.

The writ they seek would direct the issuance of warrants against the township clerk and Township Board members. The group alleges that the officials violated state law in failing to post an annual township financial report in six conspicuous public places.

Detroit attorney Norman E. Conn and Albert E. Conn filed the application for the writ yesterday. Circuit Judge William J. Beer set a hearing on the matter for Aug. 15.

NO IMMEDIATE WARRANT

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long said no warrant would be issued at present, because of insufficient evidence.

The attorneys said evidence that officials violated the law would be presented to the prosecutor's office shortly.

They said the club is a civic improvement association of some 70 members.

The township's finances are already the target of an investigation by the prosecutor's office.

The probe concerns a $3,478 cash shortage in township funds uncovered recently in an audit by a Detroit firm. No arrests have been made in connection with the shortage.

Awarded Contract for Curtainwalls

Aluma-Vue Co. of Milford has been awarded a contract to furnish Multi Story Curtainwalls for the Gothic Memorial Hospital in Oak Park, Ill. It was announced by E. J. LaForest, vice-president of the firm.

The company, located at 10325 Highland Rd., manufactures horizontal sliding aluminum windows for residential, commercial and institutional buildings.

Owned by former Birmingham resident Paul E. Moody, the local firm now employs 46 persons. There are other Aluma-Vue outlets in Denver, Colo., and the Philippine Islands.

New Catholic Catechism Forbids Aiding Racism

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholics today have a new catechism on racial segregation.

It includes such points as this: Question: Can a person inclined to racial prejudice completely overcome, by an act of his will, any racial feelings he may have?

Answer: He cannot destroy this feeling completely by a single act of his will. To root out this feeling will require time and many repeated acts of the will.

The catechism considers the subject in terms both of theory and deed.

Q. Why is segregation based on race alone immoral?

A. Because such segregation is based on "racism" which teaches that certain races and nationalities are inherently and naturally superior to other races.

Q. May Catholics be members of organizations whose purpose is to continue segregation as we know it?

A. Catholics may not be members of such organizations because by so doing they are promoting a system which is unjust and uncharitable.

The 17-page "Elementary Catechism" was written earlier this year by the Most Rev. Albert L. Fletcher, bishop of Little Rock, Ark., for use in study groups.

It is being distributed generally this week by the National Catholic Welfare Conference in advance of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice in St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25 to 28.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The contest for South Korea's new Parliament went into its last hours today with the Democrats, Syngman Rhee's chief opposition, the odds-on favorites.

Some 10,800,000 voters are eligible to choose a new two-house Assembly Friday from 1,700 candidates. The new assembly by Aug. 12 will elect a president to succeed Rhee, who was overthrown after the fraudulent March 15 presidential voting aroused the nation and touched off violent student riots.

Britain Ready to Give U.S. Strategic Bases?

LONDON (AP)—A high government source said Wednesday Britain is ready to provide several new strategic bases to the United States for the nuclear-powered submarine that will carry the Polaris missiles.

This word underlined Prime Minister Macmillan's intention to resist demands for abolishing U.S. air and rocket bases in Britain.

But in the wake of the U2 and RB47 airplane incidents, Macmillan is insisting on a clearer set of rules governing the use of these bases.

In general these rules would be designed to give the British the right of veto over some peacetime military operations conducted by household furniture business held log of June 26, 1958.

Shipments ran 1 per cent ahead of last year and in so doing pulled the unfilled order backlog down to 10 per cent, the biggest since 1959. June dollar payrolls were up 1 per cent, the biggest since 1959. Vacation pay was a large factor, the manufacturers reported.

NOMINATES NIXON—Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon is shown delivering the shortest nominating speech since the one that placed the name of Abraham Lincoln before a Republican convention 100 years ago. 'If Only GOP Hadn't Killed Third Term'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.) was thinking what a lot of people were thinking Tuesday night when the Chicago Amphitheater rocked with cheers for President Eisenhower.

"If the Republican hadn't changed the constitution with the 22nd Amendment, he would be unstoppable," Kuchel said.

An indeed it was plain that if President Eisenhower were not prohibited by the law the Republicans passed from running for office again, he could have a third term nomination. "If Eisenhower were running again this year, the Democrats would throw in the sponge," Kuchel said.

Like to Put Dems on Rights Spot

Administration Will Try to Show They Cannot Make Good on Pledges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Eisenhower administration plans to put the Democrats on a political spot by introducing new civil rights legislation at the postconvention congressional session.

The Republican strategy would be to try to show that the Democrats could not make good on their ultraliberal civil rights plank approved at the party convention in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

The GOP feels a congressional civil rights fight before the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy, would have a special impact on voters because the (Mass.) and his vice presidential running mate, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), would have to take part.

Informed sources here said that President Eisenhower would make a final appeal to Congress for some of his old civil rights proposals. New provisions also are being considered but no decision has been reached.

WORKING ON IDEAS

Justice department civil rights experts are working on a number of ideas. At. Gen. William P. Rogers was expected to put them in final form when he returns next week from the GOP convention.

Among the old proposals sources said Eisenhower would send to Congress were a bill to give more power to the President's Anti-Discrimination Committee on Government Contracts and a measure to provide federal aid to schools trying to integrate.

The administration also may ask for legislation to wipe out inequities in literacy tests for voters. This measure would be designed to prevent southern voting officials from giving Negroes tougher tests than whites.

Republicans also are considering reviving in limited form the so-called Title III, knocked out of the 1957 civil rights bill, which would give the attorney general sweeping authority to initiate civil rights suits on behalf of Negroes.

The Negroes now must start action themselves.

Seaway to Bring Plant Pest Invasion?

LANSING (UPI)—The St. Lawrence Seaway is expected to bring a shipping boom to Michigan ports. But it also could bring an invasion of foreign plant pests and animal diseases.

"Completion of the seaway means Michigan will be in the firing line of the front trenches as far as invasion by foreign pests is concerned," said C. A. Boyer, chief of the plant industry division of the State Agriculture Department.

Boyer said a state senate committee appointed to study the problem will hold a hearing Aug. 11 in Detroit. Chairman is Sen. Arthur A. Dehmel (R-Unionville).

Federal and state specialists will testify on the problem. Boyer said his department needs to add about six or seven men to its present staff of 40 to check all foreign cargoes unloaded at Michigan ports for possible disease threats.

He estimated about 200 foreign ship stops at Michigan ports could not be checked out last year because of a shortage of federal and state inspectors.

'New Rules Effective Jan. 1,' Says Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII, in major liturgical reform for the Roman Catholic church, today announced that a new code of rules for the Roman Breviary and Mass will become effective Jan. 1.

In a formal document—a "Motu Proprio" or order by the Pope's "own hand"—the head of the Roman Catholic Church said the new rules will be promulgated soon.

He said the new code combines the rules "in a better form, arranged in a clearer order" and religious services will be shortened and simplified.

He did not specify what changes will be made.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said a new calendar of the Breviary and Mass also will be issued.

Dems Out-Liberal GOP on Civil Rights

By OVID A. MARTIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Here is a brief comparison between the civil rights plank adopted by the Democratic party and that approved by the Republican Party.

VOTING—Democrats pledged use of full powers of existing law to secure ballot for all. They promised to support action to eliminate state literacy tests and payment of poll taxes as requirements for voting.

The Republican plank also pledged use of existing law to end discrimination at the ballot box. But it pledged legislation to provide that completion of six primary grades in state accredited schools is conclusive evidence of literacy for voting purposes.

EDUCATION—Democrats promised to use full powers—legal and moral—to ensure the beginning of good faith compliance with the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision. They would give local school districts until 1963 to submit plans for first-step compliance with that decision.

The Republican plank pledged use of the Civil Rights Act of 1960 to prevent obstruction of court desegregation orders. It proposed legislation authorizing the Justice Department to bring actions for school desegregation in appropriate cases, as when economic coercion or threat of physical harm is used to deter persons from going to court to establish their rights. It rejected the Democratic proposal to give school districts three years to submit plans for beginning integration.

EMPLOYMENT—Democrats

promised support of legislation to establish a fair employment practices commission to help end discrimination in employment. They also promised to use full executive powers to assure racial equality in federal employment and in all activities carried on under government contracts.

The Republican plank pledged creation of a commission on equal job opportunity to continue present federal efforts to end job discrimination on government contracts. It promised legislation to end discriminatory membership practices of some labor union locals, unless such practices are ended by the unions themselves.

It pledged also development of a federal-state program to end discrimination in all employment areas.

HOUSING—Democrats promised to take action to end discrimination in federal housing programs.

The Republican plank pledged action to prohibit discrimination in housing constructed with aid of federal subsidies.

FEDERAL FACILITIES AND SERVICES—Democrats said the Justice Department should be empowered and directed to file civil injunction suits to prevent discrimination in all areas of community life, such as voting, schools, housing, jobs and public facilities.

The Republican plank promised to end discrimination in federal facilities, to oppose use of federal funds for building segregated community facilities, and to insure that public transportation and other government-authorized services are free of segregation.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE—Democrats said congressional procedures should be improved to permit majority rule.

The Republican plank pledged the party's best efforts to change congressional procedures that often make unattainable proper legislative action in the civil rights field.

Gov. Williams Not Impressed by Ike's Talk

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams dismissed President Eisenhower's address to the Republican National Convention as "the swan song of a slacker but inadequate administration."

"Unfortunately, mere claims of progress and prosperity do not change the fact that the GOP has failed in almost every field from farm programs to foreign policy," he said.

"The decline in American leadership abroad and the mounting problems at home cannot be covered with words, no matter how sincerely they are uttered."

Dem Governor Hopefuls Pull Their Punches

Bentley-Leonard Race Unruffled

By United Press International
One of the few Republican primary battles in Michigan this year is drawing to a close with very little sound and no noticeable fury. Senate hopefuls Rep. Alvin Bentley, Owosso congressman, and former State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard are contending rather quietly to determine who will oppose incumbent Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, the Democratic candidate.

Part of the reason for the relative calm of the battle, undoubtedly, is the almost unique type of campaign being carried on by Leonard who this week told a Detroit television audience that he had not solicited funds for his campaign, indeed he had no funds.

Bentley has conducted a more ordinary type of campaign, concentrating on his four terms of experience in Congress, his previous service in the diplomatic corps and his particular knowledge attained through service on the Foreign Affairs Committee.

He has characterized his political philosophy as "middle of the road" although Leonard and others have termed him a "conservative."

Leonard, who has served in several state, Detroit and Wayne County posts including that of Detroit and Michigan police commissioner, terms himself a "liberal Republican."

Apart from their semantic argument the candidates have indicated little real difference on the principal issues involved. Both favor a medical care for the aged measure but oppose the machinery in the Forand bill.

Both have also come out for a "reappraisal" of foreign aid spending with a view to cutting off nations which have proven unfriendly to us.

Leonard, in what was termed his only television appearance of the campaign, said that he was just "touring the state and meeting people." He said his 10-year-old son Eddie, one of three children, was his campaign manager.

REMEMBER HIM
"My great support," he said, "comes from people who have known me over my years of public service. I do find people remember me from my campaign for governor in 1954."

Leonard said he had, "no television, no radio, no billboards, no posters, no newspaper ads, and, no money."

He expressed confidence, however, that the Michigan Republican voters would select him over Bentley on Aug. 2-2 1/2 to give better balance to the ticket, and that the GOP candidates would secure impressive victories in November.

McNamara, the incumbent Democrat, is 65 and was born in Weymouth, Mass.

He moved to Detroit in 1921 and earned his living in the construction industry prior to his election to the Detroit Common Council in 1948.

McNamara was the unpaid president of Pipefitters Local 616 in Detroit for several years and has a long association with the labor movement.

Following his term on the Detroit Council McNamara was elected to the Detroit Board of Education in 1949 for a six year term. He defeated Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson in 1954 for his Senate seat following the death during the campaign period of Democratic candidate Blair Moody.

HOUSE VETERAN

McNamara is a member of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee and the Public Works Committee. He is chairman of the subcommittee on problems of the aged and aging and a member of the public roads subcommittee.

He is unopposed for the Democratic nomination but a recent illness has caused concern within the party that he may not be able to remain in the race.

Bentley announced for the senatorial race several weeks before Leonard announced his intention to run and Leonard admitted that the fact that the congressman was unopposed had some influence on his decision to make the race.

"I don't feel it is healthy, for the state or the party, to conduct these no-contest elections," Leonard said. He added, however, that he felt the unopposed Republican candidate for governor, Paul Bagwell, was a good man for the job.

Backers Get Raspberry From Senate Hopeful

MANISTEE (UPI) — Henry Dongvalla of Fountain, a candidate for State Senate from the 26th District, gave his would-be supporters the raspberries, but it was in the interest of vote-getting. Leonard, a lawyer and farmer, dished up 500 quarts of black raspberries at a Ninth Congressional District Democratic picnic here.

Politics Scorch State?

STURGIS (UPI) — Republican candidate for governor Paul D. Bagwell says Michigan needs a political battleground if it wants to be economically healthy. He said Democratic mistakes were responsible for a bad national reputation for Michigan.

Five Dems Stir Up Lt. Governor Race

By ROGER LANE
LANSING (AP)—The lieutenant governor's race, which normally attracts little attention in a primary, is drawing a lot of voter interest this year primarily because of a five-way race for the Democratic nomination.

Four Democratic candidates are on the ballot: the fifth, Dr. Eugene Keyes of Dearborn, failed to get approval of state election officials or the State Supreme Court to get his name on the ballot. Election board investigators said he didn't have enough signatures on his petitions.

The Republican race has been a fairly quiet affair between Sen. Edward Hutchinson, 45, of Farmville, and Clarence A. Reid, a Detroit lawyer and lieutenant governor in 1953.

It got to the place early this month where State Rep. George Sallade of Ann Arbor, who dropped out of the race for the GOP nomination because of petition difficulties, criticized other statewide GOP candidates for confining themselves to "genial generalities" in their campaigning.

Things were not so quiet in the Democratic camp, however, especially after the state AFL-CIO convention endorsed Richard F. Vander Veen, 37-year-old Grand Rapids attorney for the Democratic lieutenant governor nomination.

Vander Veen then was tagged as the man to beat in the five-way Democratic contest.

On June 30 Vander Veen touched off the biggest uproar of the campaign by coming out flatly for a constitutional convention proposition vigorously opposed by the AFL-CIO.

Rivals for the Democratic nomination in Aug. 2 balloting had a field day when Vander Veen thereafter issued statements seeking to smooth over differences with his most powerful backer.

OTHER HOPEFULS
Also seeking the Democratic endorsement are William J. Coughlin, 36, of Detroit, George H. Dougherty, 45, of Flint and State Rep. T. John Lesinski, 35, of Detroit.

The AFL-CIO convention endorsement of Vander Veen drew fire from his opponents.

Lesinski said Vander Veen's formal labor endorsement represented mainly an AFL-CIO attempt to split Lesinski from getting the nomination.

The pudge lawyer, an ace Democratic bargainer in the 1950 legislative fencing over taxes, asserted AFL-CIO leaders opposed him because of his independence and because of fancied ties with the Teamsters Union.

Dougherty blasted Vander Veen as a State Democratic Chairman Neil Staebler's fair-haired boy, and Coughlin said his opponent was beneficiary of a violation of the party's "fair election practices code."

As president of Terwest Local 28 of the United Auto Workers Union, Dougherty further was bitter that money he raised for his Committee on Political Education (COPE) found its way into Vander Veen's campaign—as a result of the AFL-CIO endorsement.

Coughlin, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor since 1953, is a former state chairman of Michigan Young Democrats.

The fair election code was a novel feature of the campaign, representing an effort by Staebler and Coughlin to keep down intra party bitterness in a year of transition for Democrats.

In subscribing to it, statewide candidates undertook to refrain from personalities, concentrate their political fire on Republican and to limit spending so as not to dry up potential money resources for the fall campaign.

MEETING ARRANGED

The top party leadership was committed to strict neutrality. One feature of the arrangement called for periodic meetings for briefing on top issues and to air minor frictions before they could grow into important party schisms.

The code was put to its hardest test by the lieutenant governor contest, with Coughlin declaring at one point he would no longer be bound by its restrictions. Coughlin alleged, and Staebler denied, that the state chairman showed partiality to Vander Veen and aided his campaign by indirectness.

Of the Republican candidates, Hutchinson probably is the better known, having served in the Legislature for 14 years—the last 10 of them in the Senate.

Hutchinson, a kind of untitled leader of the GOP majority, is widely regarded as the Legislature's top authority on the constitution.

Reid, like Hutchinson a lawyer, lists his birthplace as a log cabin near Circleville, Ohio. He served five terms in the Senate before his term as lieutenant governor, and has been active in Detroit area veterans and fraternal organizations.

Dems Face Fight in Detroit Area

GOP Primary Tussle in Spotlight

LANSING (AP)—A Republican free-for-all in midstate's English District and stiff challenges for two Democratic incumbents in the Detroit area hold top interest in 1960's Michigan congressional primary.

In these three races, Tuesday's balloting will determine a successor to Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Owosso Republican seeking promotion to the U. S. Senate, and the fate of Democratic Reps. Thaddeus M. Machrowicz and John Jesinski.

Machrowicz, in a four-way battle for survival, is threatened chiefly by Russell S. Brown Jr.,

LANING (AP)—Under ordinary circumstances, the three-man race to succeed Gov. G. Mennen Williams as Democratic standard bearer in Michigan would have wound up in a knock-down, drag-em-out battle.

The mantle of the six-term governor was a prize not available to Democrats for 12 years. When Williams finally threw it up for grabs, the ensuing scramble could well have set up a din resounding from one end of the state to the other.

For the most part, however, the Democratic primary contest for governor has been a polite and orderly affair intended to leave the winner unscarred by family fights when he takes on Paul D. Bagwell, the unopposed Republican contender, in November.

Though chafing at times, Secy. of State James M. Hare, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Detroit Councilman Edward Connor have stayed pretty much within bounds of a fair elections practices code.

Williams, State Chairman Neil Staebler and others drew it up in an effort to prevent the personality clashes that might help destroy the Democratic political empire built up through the Williams regime.

FIRE AT BAGWELL
All three candidates have turned the brunt of their campaign fire on Bagwell and the record of the Republican-controlled Legislature.

Bagwell, with little to gain by taking on all three Democrats at once, said he would have his big guns for the winner of the Aug. 2 primary.

As the 1958 GOP contender, he gave Williams his closest race in three elections.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo, who as a leader of Senate conservatives led a fight against a state income tax in the 1959 Legislature, set out to beat the Michigan State University professor in the GOP primary.

Disappointed and disillusioned by lack of financial support, however, he withdrew in the early-going and filed for another term as senator.

Despite a lack of biting infighting, the Democratic race for governor has given the primary its liveliest moments.

None of the three contenders has been favored with an endorsement by Williams, who adopted a strict hands-off policy.

Officially, the powerful Michigan AFL-CIO has been neutral, too, although a goodly number of member locals have thrown their support to one of the candidates.

LABOR VOTE COUNTED

Swainson, 34, Plymouth attorney and legless war veteran, appeared to have the blessing of top brass United Auto Workers leadership, but all have won endorsements from labor's ranks.

Eager courting for the working man's vote has produced most of the campaign fireworks.

Connor, 32, a Detroit attorney, last week took off one of his kid gloves long enough to accuse Swainson of deliberately overestimating the extent of his labor and party support in violation of the elections code. Hare, he said, ducked the hard-core specifics of campaign issues.

As the last man to enter the race and the only one without experience in state office, Connor concedes he is the underdog in the three-way race. As such, the campaign code committee allowed him a $35,000 tab for advertising expenses, $5,000 above the maximum set for Swainson.

Hare, with the built-in advantage of a statewide system of branch fee offices and three terms in office, was allowed $25,000.

Generally, the trio isn't far apart on most issues. All three are opposed to a Republican-backed proposal, ready for a November referendum, on a penny increase in the three-cent sales tax.

All blame the Legislature for last year's state cash troubles and look to an income tax as the ultimate solution.

They come to a parting of the ways on a proposal for a convention to rewrite the 52-year-old state constitution. Swainson and Connor are opposed to it, thus lining up with the AFL-CIO, which contends the methods of selecting delegates would give Republicans firm control of the convention.

Hare, 49, actively endorses a convention, siding with Williams and Bagwell.

EARLY ADVOCATE

Bagwell called for constitutional revision long before either of the two Democratic candidates. It was a plank in his 1958 platform.

Other proposals he stumped the state with two years ago are key issues again. These include tax and government reform and improvement of the state's industrial climate to provide 100,000 new jobs yearly.

Though favoring a flat rate income tax, Bagwell is backing a "yes" vote on the sales tax increase as a temporary solution to the state's financial troubles.

Bagwell, 46, is on leave from his job as MSU scholarships director. Proceedings from a fund-raising dinner thrown by friends and party leaders in Lansing are taking care of his financial obligations during the campaign.

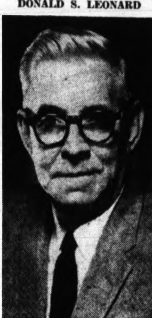

The three Democrats concentrated their efforts in vote-rich metropolitan Detroit. In the 1958 primary, 70 per cent of the Democratic vote was cast in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties.

LANSING (UPI) — If you call the governor's office for G. Mennen Williams this summer, be sure to specify junior or senior.

Gary Williams, 19, who is named after his father, the governor, began working as an unpaid "administrative interne" while on summer vacation from Princeton University.

The younger Williams accompanied his father to the governors' conference at Glacier Park, Mont., and the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.

Kill State Fair, Urges Official

State Agricultural Chief Claims Event Serves Only Detroit Area

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — State Agriculture Commissioner Arthur J. Hannah says the Michigan State Fair should be discontinued and the fairgrounds at Detroit sold.

"The day of the state fair is over," said Hannah at a meeting where he was drumming up support for the Republican nomination for legislator from Grand Rapids.

Hannah also said that if he was elected to the House of Representatives he would give "serious review and consideration" of the entire state-supported program of fairs.

The commissioner said he believed the sale of the state fairgrounds would bring from 40 to 60 million dollars to the state treasury.

As it is now, Hannah said, it costs the state one million annually to maintain and operate the fairgrounds.

He said the fairgrounds serve only the Detroit area and "Detroiters are merely going to a high-priced entertainment, and the agricultural exhibits."

Move Toward Youth Brightens Swainson

LANSING (UPI)—A youthful Democratic candidate for governor was encouraged by nomination of a youthful Democratic candidate for president.

If Sen. John F. Kennedy at 43 is old enough to be president, then Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson at 34 is old enough to be governor, according to reasoning in the Swainson camp.

Swainson said he saw "many parallels in our careers."

"There's a move toward youth," Swainson said. "It's time for a new generation to come forth."

Proposes St. Clair Isle Park

DETROIT (AP)—A chain of man-made islands in Lake St. Clair, stretching from Detroit to the south end of the St. Clair River, has been proposed by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Hare, a contender for the Democratic nomination for governor, depicted the project, as the answer to a growing shortage of recreation space in Southeastern Michigan.

The cost would be moderate, he said. Islands in the shallow western side of the lake would be built from industrial waste and sand scooped up in deepening the St. Lawrence Seaway shipping canal.

Islands would be connected by a series of bridges.

"There is no reason at all why this roadway could not become a scenic drive linking metropolitan Detroit with St. Clair River communities, which now, must make a big detour, around Anchor Bay in order to reach Detroit," he said.

The islands themselves, he said, would provide areas for picnic grounds, sports areas and beaches.

Indonesians Cling to Cha-Cha

Won't Dance to Sukarno Tune

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—night spot just half a block from President Sukarno is losing the battle of the cha-cha. Since traditional Indonesian dances are slow, some social young Indonesian couples dance to the cha-cha provides an element of hip-swinging abandon on the government-run element of hip-swinging abandon.

For a youth faced with mounting frustrations and limited opportunities. A young Indonesian puts it a simpler way — "We like it — it's fun." Sukarno, a staunch nationalist, went on the attack a year ago.

In a series of speeches and statements, he labeled cha cha and rock 'n' roll mixed up, called music. He called the new dances the first steps in a foreign cultural imperialism that could destroy Indonesia's national identity. The Jakarta army garrison outlawed cha cha, even in private homes. Records in stores were destroyed, and a fine was ordered for anyone teaching the banned steps.

WANTS FOLK DANCES

Sukarno stressed even more that Indonesian folk dances were the patriotic thing to do. He often keeps Jakarta's diplomatic corps going for two hours or more — elderly envoys and their wives from both sides of the Iron and Bamboo curtains weaving hand in hand about in an endless chain to beat of tom toms and chants from the Spice Islands. Sukarno leads the way.

But few of Jakarta's city-bred youth follow the presidential lead. At first they went underground. Teen-agers and college students had cha cha parties at private homes, behind drawn curtains. Foreigners with cha cha records became popular hosts. Then came a bolder move. Entertaining band leaders took some of the Indonesian songs Sukarno likes so much and gave them a Latin beat.

EVEN HAVE CROONERS

"Look, I'm folk dancing," said one Indonesian recently as he and his partner cha chaed across the floor of a popular club to the refrain of an old Indonesian tune. Now blaring jazz and Latin music is far out into the open. Crooner Bing Slamet is the rage. "The Stan Kenton of Indonesia" and "Jakarta's Louis Armstrong" draw big crowds. One can find government officials and army officers dancing to the forbidden tunes. Foreign Minister Subandrio has been described as a cha cha devotee.

Reds Demand Removal of Troops From Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The Communists used the seventh anniversary of the signing of the Korean armistice Wednesday to again demand all foreign troops be removed from Korea. The United Nations command refused.

The request, voiced at a Communist-called meeting of the armistice commission here, was echoed in thousands of words poured out by Peking and Pongyang radios. They denounced the United States and accused it of preventing the peaceful unification of Korea.

GOP Platform Extends Policies of Eisenhower

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans today keyed their 1960 campaign to fostering and rebuilding under Richard M. Nixon the policies developed by Dwight D. Eisenhower. That is the theme of the 10,000-word set of party principles adopted overwhelmingly Wednesday night by the Republican convention which also chose Nixon as the party presidential nominee.

There were only a few scattered "poes" in the voice voting on the platform's approval.

NO FIGHT WAGED

A battle threatened earlier by some of the party's Southern and conservative delegates never came off.

They had balked at what they considered the most forward-looking platform ever accepted by the GOP. They blamed it largely on New York who, along with Nixon, had pushed for a liberal platform.

But in the end, after a week of wrangling over policy views, all concerned applauded and pledged to close ranks in support of both the GOP platform and the ticket in a drive for an election victory.

One major difference between the Republican and Democratic platforms, which parallel each other in many respects, is the emphasis on the role of government.

The Democrats called for considerable expansion of federal spending to spur the economy and stimulate growth. But the Republicans said any extension of government should be approached with extreme caution.

DIFFERENCE REMAINS

It was clear that the traditional policy differences between the parties still exist.

"We have no wish to exaggerate differences between ourselves and the Democratic party. Not we, in conscience, obscure the differences that do exist," said the GOP platform.

"We believe that the Republican program is based on a sounder understanding of the action and scope of government. There are many things a free government cannot do for its people as well as they can do for themselves.

"There are some things no government should promise or attempt to do. The functions of government are so great as to bear no needless enlargement."

tempt to do. The functions of government are so great as to bear no needless enlargement."

But having said that, the GOP embarked on a long list of pledges to stimulate foreign policies, continue a no-price-ceiling defense plan, take positive steps to aid business, labor and agriculture, and wipe out racial discrimination in all walks of American life.

LBJ to Confer With Truman

Then It's Fly On to Hyannis Port for Talk With Kennedy

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, will leave his LBJ Ranch near here Friday to fly to Missouri to meet with former President Harry S. Truman.

After a luncheon talk with Truman, Johnson and his staff will fly in their chartered plane to Hyannis Port, Mass., to map campaign strategy with the Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Johnson and director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency conferred Wednesday night at the ranch and Johnson was briefed on secret intelligence as authorized by President Eisenhower.

Johnson said he would go from Hyannis Port Saturday to Nashville, Tenn., and then on Sunday to Monticello, Iowa, for speeches.

Trying to Even Scores With Dog Brings Trouble

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Trying to even scores with a dog Wednesday got 25-year-old Noel Douglas Hopkins in trouble.

Mrs. Ann Stock of Phoenix complained that he drove his car onto the sidewalk to hit her pooch, charged with cruelty to an animal. Hopkins was quoted by police as saying, "so I got him, huh?"

After posting $300 bond, Hopkins told police the dog had bothered him previously.

Dem Supports State Real Estate Law

DETROIT (UPI)—Richard P. Vander Veen, a Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has announced his support of the recently adopted state regulation requiring real estate dealers to offer their services without reservation because of race, religion or ancestry.

Vander Veen's campaign headquarters here issued a statement saying he had been asked by the Detroit Real Estate Board to reveal his position on the matter.

Vander Veen said he supports the rule and believes the state corporation and securities commissioner has full authority to make such a ruling.

The Detroit Real Estate Board objected that the rule violated "freedom of choice."

Believe Some Missed in Adrian Census Count

ADRIAN (UPI)—Adrian residents who believe they were missed by federal census takers this year have been asked to telephone city hall.

If it appears a sizable number of residents were missed, the city may decide to rereck the census count, according to City Administrator Clifford Miles.

He said Adrian will lose about $14 in tax allocations for every person missed in the census.

Dutkiewicz left Frankfurt, Germany, with his wife and young children to begin a 31-day furlough and was not seen again. The Tass announcement was the first word since then.

Dutkiewicz, a fluent Russian linguist, is a graduate of the Army's tough ranger commando course. The Army identified him, as a supply sergeant but refused to answer questions about his background. One co-worker said he was a radio operator with a signal unit at Darmstadt.

Ivestia said he worked as a laborer at the 280th Infantry Regiment of the U.S. 7th Division when Germany was accepted after the war and that he later went to the United States.

He remained jobless and "suffered all sorts of deprivations" until April 1951, when he was drafted, Ivestia said. It said he served his hitch, was unable to find employment and enlisted again.

His DetractorsRejects Report That Dead Virus Vaccine
Up to 30 Pct. Failure

COPENHAGEN (UP)—Dr. Jonas Salk said today the polio vaccine he developed has been underestimated.

In a speech to the fifth International Polio Conference the American scientist described as untrue reports that the vaccine made of dead virus, leaves unprotected from 20 to 30 per cent of those who receive immunization shots.

He said an investigation he carried out in connection with a polio epidemic in the United States last year failed to show a single person out of 10,000 who did not react to the vaccine. He said one injection had given immunity to part of the population.

He said his vaccine should be developed to where it will give long-term immunization with a single injection. This, he said, is theoretically possible.

Dr. Maurice R. Hillman of Merck Laboratories reported development of a new polio vaccine that under test conditions give immunity to most persons after two injections within a month interval.

Dr. Gordon C. Brown of the University of Michigan said that babies whose mothers had received polio vaccine were born with some protection against the disease. He said, however, it was far from enough.

GIVE WEALTH TO ORPHANS — Victor, 64, (left) and Joseph Saturno, 72, Reno, Nev., ranchers announce the giving of their wealth of more than a million dollars to help orphans in Italy and the United States. They have set up two Saturno foundations, one to aid 12 charitable agencies in Italy and another to help four beneficiaries in California and Nevada. The brothers, retaining only enough of their wealth to care "for limited personal needs," plan to "travel and enjoy freedom from care."

Men, Too, Go Thru CHANGE OF LIFE. Don't Surrender to Old Age Until You Have Made This Test

WHAT IS CLIMACTERIC? Medical dictionaries tell us "climacteric" is the time of life when the body undergoes a radical change. The first change, when boys become men and girls become women, is usually between the ages of 12-15 - another change again occurs usually between 40 and 50.

WHO DOES IT AFFECT? With men and women, it means it is called "menopause" or "change of life" ... In men, doctors call it "male climacteric."

WHAT ARE THE COMMON SYMPTOMS? Because the body and blood are undergoing important changes during climacteric, the entire system is affected and these changes are called "climacteric." The most common symptoms are: Irritable, feel weak in arms, legs and back and often are very "crabby." Often there are "hot flashes" accompanied by that "chills" or "feeling" and very often a "hot" or "cold" sensation. A certain vitamin and mineral is needed such as you find in this important discovery called RED ROOSTER PILLS.

WHAT CAN BE DONE? Medical science has discovered many medicines that can take you over the difficult "change of life" period. Today, RED ROOSTER PILLS supply the body with an unusual combination of vitamins and minerals to often needed during this period. Fifteen-day supply only $2.99 ... be absolutely satisfied with results or cheerfulness, unconditional return.

Reunited With Mother
Waterford Woman Finds Sister
 By REBA HEINTZELMAN
 With a little political assistance, the constant searching of a Waterford Township woman for her "baby" sister, who had become a ward of a Grand Rapids court 18 years ago, ended happily yesterday at Pontiac State Hospital.
 When 24-year-old Mrs. Richard Manley walked into the hospital waiting room, her mother, Mrs. John Dybol cried out, "Oh, there's my baby," and burst into tears.
 The mother has been at the hospital the last four years, after a partial stroke.
 Mrs. Manley, her youngest daughter, had been taken from her in 1966 because the family had been unable to provide financial care needed for the child.
 SEVEN OTHER CHILDREN
 There were seven other small Dybol children to care for in the small house at Luther, near Cadillac, at the time, and a blacksmith's salary was mighty meager during those depression days.
 After a time, the little girl was placed in the County Crippled Children's Home, and underwent several successful operations on a club foot.
 Later, she was adopted by a well-to-do Grand Rapids couple, the John Beynes.
 The foster parents raised her as their own until the time that Barbara went to California five years ago to take a secretarial position. After she was married, she returned to Grand Rapids, where her husband now operates a drive-in restaurant.
 In the meantime, the persistent sister, Mrs. Chester Engelhart of 5418 Fleet St., who is a nurse at a Detroit hospital, took care of a patient, State Rep. Mrs. Josephine Huntzinger. Through Mrs. Huntzinger's efforts, the foster parents were finally located.

PLAN BIG REUNION
 All that is a thing of the past, and a big family reunion of the six living Dybol children and their parents is planned for Saturday and Sunday at Elizabeth Lake.

Although Barbara knew she had been adopted and had a wonderful home, she naturally had always wondered what her real family had been like. This and many other questions will be hashed over at the weekend celebration.

Slaps Down Russians in a One-Man Show

Lodge is a Tough, Stubborn Aristocrat

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge has been a success at the United Nations if you figure success as slapping back fast and hard at the Russians every time they step out of their corner. And I guess that is what success at the U.N. means these days.

That's the comment of one of Lodge's State Department associates. It's echoed around the Department.

Lodge, considered the front-runner for the Republican vice presidential nomination, is known as a man with an educated, clean, mean punch, quick on the trigger, a tough counter-slugger who knows all the tricks when no holds are barred in a fight with the Russians. He's a tough infighter.

He thrives on complicated wrangles. He delights in replying to Soviet charges and adding accusations of his own in a quick countermove. Lodge holds this is the only way the world will learn about Communist fallacies.

He'll punch and punch away at one point, say, Hungary, when he touches a sore spot. The Lodge theory: this is the only way the Asian, the African and the Middle Easterner will learn what it means to corymb to the Russians.

Yet State Department men claim that Lodge is a careful strategist, and not a Don Quixote tilting at windmills. He hates to press for an issue in the U.N. if he doesn't think he has the votes to win. He would rather compromise and wait for another day.

Some of the major arguments he had with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on such matters. Dulles would want Lodge to press for a vote on moral grounds.

Lodge would hold this was silly on issues on which the U.S. couldn't win, that it would lose its ground in the long run if the world saw us going down to defeat before the Soviet Union on votes in the U.N.

There's still a difference of opinion in the Department over whether Dulles or Lodge was right. Some diplomats called Lodge practical, some called him compromising, expedient.

Men who work with Lodge in the State Department say he's a lone wolf, that he plays his own game out of his own briefcase. They feel that he tells no one what he is going to do.

"You never know what to expect from Lodge," says one diplomat. "But sure anyone gets close to him."

He has strong convictions by all accounts. Lodge goes along with the secretary of state and the State Department when he agrees. Otherwise he argues until he still disagrees, he goes straight to President Eisenhower. He can do that, being a member of the Cabinet. And sometimes, State Department officials admit, wryly, Lodge has proved to be right when you look back at it.

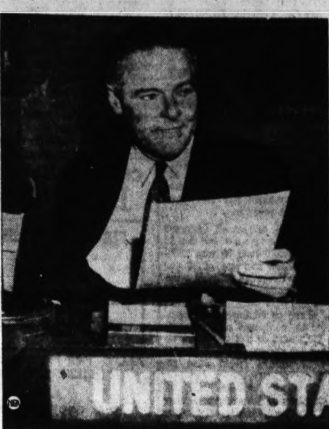

The 58-year-old Lodge is tall, trim, personable. He's a careful dresser. Women either like him extravagantly or hate him for being "aloof."

AN ARISTOCRAT
"There's no doubt," says one highly placed State Department official, "that he's a Cabot in the breed about which it was once said, the Lovells talk to the Cabots and the Cabots talk only to God." He attends official receptions only briefly and drinks little.

Lodge is a man who has shown a capacity for change. He started out in the U.S. Senate as an isolationist, voted against aid to Britain in 1940.

But he ended up as an internationalist. He started out voting for the Wagner Labor Relations Act; later, he voted for Taft-Hartley.

His life has been well planned. He grew up in Beacon Hill, Boston, went to Middlesex school. He then CLEAN AND MEAN — Henry Cabot Lodge, United States Ambassador to the United Nations and leading candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination, is a tough infighter with a mean punch. He waits till he has the Russians on weak ground, then wades in with facts, figures and denunciation. He's aloof and plays the game his own way, going to President Eisenhower rather than the State Department if he sees fit.

was graduated from Harvard in three years. He became a newspaper reporter as a starting point for politics. Then at the age of 30, he won a seat in the Massachusetts State Legislature in a hard-fought, door-to-door fight.

Lodge is no mean political antagonist. He was first elected U.S. Senator from Massachusetts in 1906 at the age of 34 when he defeated the redoubtable James C. McLaughlin, former mayor of Boston and governor of Massachusetts. He was re-elected in 1912, but resigned to enter the Army.

He was elected Senator again in 1936 at the age of 54 when he defeated the redoubtable James C. McLaughlin, former mayor of Boston and governor of Massachusetts. He was re-elected in 1912, but resigned to enter the Army.

1946. Then he was manager of the successful campaign to get Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the Republican nomination in 1952.

But he himself lost that same year in his own bid for re-election. The winner over Lodge by a narrow margin was John F. Kennedy.

Industry Top Sugar User

NEW YORK (UPI)—Industry today uses more sugar than the nation's housewives. The big trend toward packaged foods such as cake mixes has accounted for the switch. Food processors consume more than 50 per cent of the sugar supply compared with only 35 per cent a decade ago.

Owner Contents $12,500 Gold Bird Is Object of Art

CARSON CITY, Nev., P. — A nine-inch high gold rooster on display in the Nugget Casino at Sparks violates the Gold Reserve Act and should be melted down, the federal government says in a suit in U.S. District Court.

The government contends the rooster contains 206 ounces of gold, 156 more than an individual can keep for more than a month without permission unless the gold is used for artistic purposes.

Casino owner Dick Graves admits the bird contains $12,500 in gold but contends it is an object of art and worth $40,000.

UAR Ambassador Ordered to Quit Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (P)—The government has ordered ambassador Mahmoud Moharran Hamad of the United Arab Republic to quit the country within 24 hours.

The move is retaliation against the expulsion of the Iranian Ambassador Djameid Gharib from the U.A.R. Tuesday in the row over Iran's recognition of Israel.

Government officials supplied at President Nasser's violent attack on Iran and his decision to break diplomatic relations between the two countries.

They emphasized that Iran's recognition of Israel—cause of the rift—was not new. What started the violent U.A.R. reaction was a weekend remark by the Shah at a news conference that Iran always had recognized Israel but had withdrawn its ambassador several years ago for budgetary reasons.

Mrs. Rockefeller and Mamie Talk About Grandson

CHICAGO (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller had an animated conversation at a luncheon Wednesday. Reporters wondered what it was about and asked Mrs. Rockefeller. "Mrs. Eisenhower was sweet enough to ask about our sweet grandson," said the wife of the New York governor. The grandson was born to Steven and Anne-Marie Rockefeller July 21.

Rocky Supporter Ezra Benson Sits in Nixon Box

CHICAGO (AP) — Guess who was sitting in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's box late in the nominating proceedings at the convention Wednesday night?

It was Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture, who last week said he thought Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would be the strongest candidate the GOP would nominate.

Benson's own box was crowded. When the vice president's mother and two daughters left the convention an usher told Benson he had invited to use the Nixon box.

Benson said he didn't know who had invited him.

CLOSE CALL. — Fourteen-year-old Judy Altman of Waterford Township became curious yesterday, grabbed a net and snaggd an evil-nodded gar pike out of Elizabeth Lake as neighborhood children watched on shore. Later she had fun showing others the 34-inch fish that is noted for its killing of other fish.

Waterford Girl Catches Elizabeth Lake 'Monster'

What started out to be a lazy, summer morning yesterday, turned into the most exciting day in the life of 14-year-old Judy Altman of 4500 Cass - Elizabeth Lake Rd. Waterford Township.

As Judy sat languidly on a dock on Elizabeth Lake with several neighborhood children, she spotted a long, menacing - looking fish wiggling through the three-foot deep clear water.

Her friends became excited as they watched the "thing" slither under the dock near the top of the water. Quickly Judy grabbed a small net and started after it.

Judy waded out and followed what she thought looked like a sword fish. All of a sudden the fish spotted the girl following it, turned and swam directly towards the now-frightened teenager.

In self defense, more than in an attempt to snag the "monster," Judy dropped the net down in front of her knees just in time to keep from being speared by the long evil snout of a garpike.

The excited children on shore, called Mrs. Steven Gibbons of the fish-deepening pike up on 4516 London Ct., who helped haul the dock.

Upon examination, it was found that the fish was 34 inches long and had at least 100 razor-sharp teeth in both its jaws.

There were no hard feelings among the area children who swim

Kennedy Sees Lively Battle if Lodge Gets 2nd Sppt on Ticket

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. — Sen. John F. Kennedy congratulated Vice President Nixon today on his winning the Republican presidential nomination.

He told a news conference at his summer home here that if U.S. ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge gets second place on the ticket "the Democrats will have a vigorous fight in the fall."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington the new Democratic national chairman, appeared with Kennedy at the news conference.

Kennedy denied that he once said President Eisenhower should resign to Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, as reported by former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in Chicago last night.

"I said the President should have expressed regret over the crash of the T2 in Soviet territory," Kennedy said. "Rather than issue a statement that turned out to be a lie."

The Democratic presidential nominee said he didn't mind what Dewey, a two-time GOP presidential standard bearer, said about him.

He added: "I've had worse things said about me in my own party. And Gov. Dewey, as a political prophet, is not without bluntness."

Asked if he felt President Eisenhower's support would be of value to Nixon, Kennedy said he will be "very helpful," then added: "I'd be glad to have his cooperation, but I believe he is committed elsewhere."

Jackie Observes 31st Birthday; Family Attends

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's wife, Jacqueline, observes her 31st birthday today at a dinner party in the family summer home.

The dinner is scheduled early so the couple's daughter, Caroline, 2½, can attend.

Among those attending will be Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Lee and her husband, Prince Stanislaus Radzinski of London. They have been visiting the Kennedy summer home for about a week. The Prince's title stems from Poland. The party will be strictly a family affair. The Democratic presidential nominee has not disclosed what birthday present he will give to his wife.

Reform Units Will Not Take Over Campaign,
Robert Kennedy Says

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State's regular Democratic organization will have the "primary responsibility" for running Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential campaign in New York, his brother said Wednesday.

Robert F. Kennedy, campaign manager for the candidate, made the statement as he arrived here to try to patch up differences between reform groups and the regular party organization.

The campaign will be conducted "through the regular Democratic organization," Robert Kennedy said.

There will be citizens committees in New York as elsewhere in the country to supplement the work of the regular Democratic organization.

He said the "work would be coordinated by someone from outside the state."

Chili at Its Best Has Lots of Meat

More meat than beans!

Tomato Chili

2 tablespoons rendered beef suet
1 cup onion (medium sized) finely chopped
1 cup green pepper (crushed)
1 onion, ground beef
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon (or more) chili powder
1 teaspoon salt

Put rendered beef suet in a large (10 to 12 inches) deep skillet over low heat. Add onion and green pepper and cook slowly, stirring often, for about 10 minutes. Add beef, tomato and kidney beans. Cook over high heat, mashing flavor of this combination.

with a fork to separate into particles, until meat loses its red color.

Add tomatoes and kidney beans (including liquid in both cans) sugar, corn, chili powder, salt and pepper to taste. Cover and simmer about 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 servings.

Cheese on Fried Potatoes

Hash browns prepared indoors or over a charcoal fire are always favorites, but for an even finer flavor sprinkle hot hash browns with shredded Gouda cheese just before taking them off the heat and allow the cheese to melt and soften. You'll like the extra time and cook over high heat, mashing flavor of this combination.

THE BIG BLUES — Like the jewels they are, fresh blueberries spill out of the jar to adorn your pies, pancakes, shortcakes and some heavenly scones.

Blueberry Scones Join Other Favorite Recipes

Every year at this time — as sure as the days get longer, the sun gets hotter, and the living gets more pleasant — fresh cultivated blueberries come to our markets.

Ah, bless the perseverance of those blueberry farmers! They're distressed but not defeated when the snow comes in March and the sleet in April. They keep on keeping on, and all the time they're busy improving the breed. It seems that every year the berries are bigger, juicier, more true-blue than ever before.

Of course you'll use them in pies, pancakes, shortcakes, muffins and all your old tried-and-true favorites. But use this year's crop in some new-to-you recipes, too. Especially in this one for Blueberry Scones — a delightful addition to breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea or a coffee break.

Blueberry Scones

2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup fresh cultivated blueberries

Mix and sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in butter with 2 knives or pastry blender or rub in with fingertips.

Add buttermilk to egg (reserving 1 tablespoon unbeaten egg white), beat until blended.

Four into dry ingredients all at once; stir quickly. Mix just enough to moisten ingredients. Lightly fold in fresh cultivated blueberries.

Turn out on slightly floured board. Pat to 1/4 to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut into squares, triangles or diamonds with floured knife. Brush with egg white diluted with 1 teaspoon water. Sprinkle with granulated sugar.

Bake on cookie sheet in hot oven (425 degrees F.), 10 to 15 minutes. Yield: 15 to 20 medium scones.

Chilled Shrimp Soup

Win loud acclaim from your friends with this chilled soup. Combine a can of frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup and a soup can of water; heat until soup thaws, then stir in a tablespoon of sherry. Place in refrigerator for at least 4 hours. Serve in chilled bowls with a garnish of sour cream or grated lemon rind. Serves 2 to 3.

For After Dinner

Elegant after-dinner beverage: heat a quart of extra-strong coffee with a couple of twists of orange rind and half a dozen whole cloves. Serve with a topping of whipping cream.

Pretty salad: arrange pineapple rings on water cress and overlap three thin fluted rounds of cucumber over the center of each slice of pineapple.

Pyramid Salad Good Eating

It's just like a man to say that salads are for the ladies but here's one that will have him eating his words... and the salad, too. It's a hearty combination of diced meat, olives, capers, scallions (what could be manlier?), asparagus spears, and hard-cooked eggs laced with a zippy salad dressing and studded with juicy chunks of Valencia oranges.

These little giants of health and value come straight from California and Arizona where the warm days and cool nights give them their special flavor tang that adds a lift to any dish... from salad to dessert or just plain eating of hand.

Royal Pyramid Salad

1/2 pound sliced ham or tongue, diced
1/2 cup sliced black olives
1 tablespoon capers
1 cup minced scallions
1/2 cup orange pieces
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1/2 cup Valencia oranges
Combine ham, olives, capers, scallions and orange pieces with enough salad dressing to hold together. Pile pyramid style on shredded lettuce on individual plates. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked egg and asparagus spears. Makes 4 servings.

ROYAL PYRAMID SALAD — Summer appetites are bound to be tempted by this handsome Pyramid Salad. Orange bits are blended with meat and vegetables, then topped with ham sticks and asparagus spears. Serve with hot rolls and a dessert for a luncheon.

Corn Oysters Are Simply Yummy

A reader requested this favorite way of serving seasonal corn.

Corn Oysters

2 cups corn (cut off cob, about 8 ears)
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup baking powder

Before cutting and scraping corn off cobs score the ears by slitting kernels with a knife drawn through the center of each row.

Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored; beat in sugar, salt and corn. Stir flour and baking powder together and lightly beat into corn mixture.

Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in heavy skillet or on griddle; drop heaping tablespoons of corn mixture onto hot fat. When oysters are browned on bottom and slightly set on top, turn and brown other side. Add more butter to skillet as needed. Makes 16.

Ground-in grime... or simply soiled...

you need CLOROX to get out dirt that suds leave in!

Naturally you add Clorox when things get grimy. But now we know there's dirt that suds can't budge even in lightly soiled wash loads. Tiny soil particles and normal body oils lock themselves in so tightly they're actually suds-proof. Getting suds-proof dirt out — and the gray it causes — calls for Clorox.

Clorox takes over where suds leave off. Suds loosen ordinary dirt. But suds-proof dirt demands the special dissolving action of Clorox. Every time you add Clorox, you add cleaning power that suds alone cannot match.

Clorox actually dissolves suds-proof dirt that makes clothes gray!

Michigan Tomatoes, Corn Make First Appearance

Blue skies of July and August bring one of Michigan's specialty crops—the blueberry. About half the crop goes to processing plants to reappear as canned frozen berries or as frozen blueberry pie.

The bulk of fresh cultivated blueberries come to market in pint boxes. Many of these are packed by 500 members of the Michigan Blueberry Grower's Association who rigidly control quality and packaging, reports the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer.

Blueberries packed by these growers undergo a pre-cooling process before shipping. If the berries are kept cool, they keep as long as 10 days without losing much flavor.

The Michigan Blueberry Association sells two grades of blueberries. "Great Lakes" brand represents the top grade, "Lake States" is the second grade.

Late July and early August is a good time to buy blueberries for freezing. Sort the berries, remove any sticks, leaves, crushed or unripe fruit. Gently wash and drain. If you plan to use them for pies or salads during the winter, pack after draining and freeze.

For fresh fruit desserts, cover blueberries with a 40 per cent syrup and freeze. Make the syrup with 3 cups of sugar to each 4 cups of water and chill before using.

The season for Michigan grown tomatoes is getting under way. As you select tomatoes in the store, you may find that some are not fully ripe. Research shows that for best color, flavor and texture . . . and for holding vitamin value . . . tomatoes should be ripened at room temperature or a little below, between 60 and 75 degrees. At temperatures above 85 degrees or in direct sunlight tomatoes will turn yellow instead of attractively red.

If unripe tomatoes are placed in the refrigerator they become pale, watery, soft and lacking in flavor. Even ripe tomatoes lose some flavor if kept refrigerated for long. Keep ripe tomatoes 55 to 70 degrees. A cool basement will keep ripe tomatoes for several days and you will find they have better flavor than if they had been refrigerated.

A recent survey in three food stores in Lansing showed 33 forms of potatoes available. A comparison of price per serving of potatoes in these 33 different forms showed a price range of 1.4 cents per serving for fresh potatoes to 9.2 cents per serving for potato salad.

It is interesting that certain prices on processed forms may result in potatoes which are as low in cost per serving as fresh potatoes. For example, the dehydrated mashed potatoes at two 7-ounce packages for 39 cents had the same cost per serving as fresh potatoes priced at 10 pounds for 39 cents.

The dehydrated escalloped and dehydrated au gratin potatoes (which were recently added as "new products" on the grocery shelf) cost 7.8 cents each per serving. Here, you are paying for more than potatoes. You are paying for ingredients in addition to potatoes, and the convenience of having them ready to serve in less than an hour with no fuss of peeling, combining ingredients, etc. What changes in the food market can you see? You've noticed the trend to more vine-ripened tomatoes. There is an abundant supply of summer squash, leaf lettuce and head lettuce. Home-grown celery is of good quality and reasonably priced.

Michigan potatoes are starting, but you'll find them immature. Use them quickly. You may find a few summer apples . . . Transparent, Wealthy and Duchess varieties all good for pies or sauce.

The warm weather is bringing Michigan corn to market this week. That season for hot buttered "roastin' ears" has arrived. You can take advantage of the current price of beef chuck or lamb shoulder by cutting the meat into cubes, marinating and cooking over the grill on a skewer. Pork loin roast, roasting chicken, duck and turkey are specially priced . . . does this suggest roasts? Fryers are also featured this week.

Check the arithmetic. Small eggs are now a better value for the money than medium size eggs. Of course you don't serve small eggs by the pound. But 3 small eggs are equal in volume and food value to 2 large eggs.

Pile Berries, Pineapple Into Meringue Pie Shell

Meringue shells are the basis for many delightful summer desserts. To make Pineapple-Strawberry Meringue Pie, prepare meringue crust according to directions on package of mix or use a basic recipe for a 9-inch pie shell. Mix 1 pint of strawberries with 2 cups of pineapple tidbits and 1/2 cup sugar and allow to stand in refrigerator for a short time. Just before serving, pile fruit into meringue shell and serve with or without whipped cream.

Mustard and Garlic Lend Taste to Fowl

Fine flavor for broiled chicken breasts.

Broiled Chicken Breasts
4 whole small broiled chicken breasts; 1 tablespoon butter; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard; 1/2 teaspoon paprika; 1/2 teaspoon onion powder.

Wash and dry chicken breasts. Cream butter, salt, mustard, paprika and garlic powder. Arrange chicken, skin side down, on broiling pan without rack. Spread with half of butter mixture; chill remainder until needed. Broil rapidly, adjusting position of pan or heat as necessary, until cooked halfway through and browned.

Turn chicken skin side up, spread with remaining butter paste. Continue broiling until cooked through and browned. Serve at once with good pan drippings. Makes 4 servings.

You'll Never Be Able to Keep It Long

This delightful English spread sometimes goes under the name of Lemon Butter.

Sandwich Cake With Lemon Curd
1 egg; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup (1/4 stick) corn oil; 1/2 cup (1/4 stick) lemon juice; 1/2 cup (1/4 stick) lemon curd; 1/2 cup (1/4 stick) lemon juice.

In top of double boiler, beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites. Stir in sugar, margarine, lemon rind and lemon juice. Place over boiling water, with water touching top of double boiler. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and clears very slightly.

Remove from heat; cool; refrigerate in tightly covered container. At serving time, spread two spongecake layers with Lemon Curd. Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Note: Lemon Curd may be used as a dip for fresh fruits or as a potatoes shows that money spent spread for toast, rolls and biscuits

Processed Potatoes Include Service

How many ways do you serve potatoes? Recently consumer marketing specialists in East Lansing found twenty-three forms of potatoes in three supermarkets. The cost per serving varied from 1.4 cents per serving of fresh potatoes to 9.2 cents per serving for potato salad.

This check on forms of potatoes also showed that certain prices on processed forms may result in potatoes which are as low in cost per serving as fresh potatoes. For example, the dehydrated mashed potatoes at two 7-ounce packages for 39 cents were the same cost per serving as fresh potatoes priced at 10 pounds for 39 cents.

The Marketing Information Agent Mrs. Sawyer, reminds shoppers that this simple check on forms of potatoes shows that money spent for food often buys more than the basic product. Depending upon the prices, and sometimes additional, form, you pay for packaging, service, ingredients.

Watermelon Ice Rates a Taste

If you've been eyeing watermelons in the stores for the past several weeks, and have been resisting them because of price or uncertainty over flavor, quit resisting. Watermelon season is here, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture says it promises to be a good one. Good enough that the Department of Agriculture classifies watermelons as one of the "Pleasant Foods in July," on the basis of a large acreage planted to melons and good growing weather so far in most of the important growing areas.

If you've been keeping an eye on prices, you know they're down. Let yourself go to the point of sampling the melons and you'll find that flavor is up. That's the situation we should be enjoying for the next several months. For picnics or for meals at home, watermelon offers one of the most appealing, most convenient and most thirst-quenching desserts you can find.

If you want to add a note of elegance, or if you feel guilty about doing things the easy way, serve your family Watermelon Ice.

First, chill cubes of ripe red watermelon. From other parts of the melon, extract a quart of watermelon juice; add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup sugar and juice of one lemon. Pour into refrigerator trays and place in freezing compartment until it is firm but soft. To serve, place four or five cubes of chilled melon in a sherbet glass and top with watermelon ice, garnished with a sprig of fresh mint.

Delay Police, Fire Fund Bid

To Vote in Fall at White Lake

Necessity for an Extra Proposal Halts Move for Primary Ballot

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—A proposal requesting funds for the operation of the police and fire department here will not appear on the Aug. 2 primary ballot as planned, Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said today.

The proposition would have sought an increase of one mill for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

"We discovered too late that two proposals were necessary in asking for the additional mill," said Cheyz. "Not only would we have to ask for the extra mill, but we needed the approval of the voters to go over the 15-mill limitation."

The supervisor said the technically was discovered by Township attorney Emmett Leith in checking over the Board's resolution pertaining to the one-mill increase.

"Actually, it's no setback at all," Cheyz said. "The proposition, or propositions to be specific, will appear on the November ballot."

The proposition calls for the millage hike to be carried for a five-year period.

Cheyz said the error will not affect the ballot since it already has been corrected on a sample copy received by the township.

Approval to place the proposition on the ballot was given by residents at the annual township meeting in April.

The additional mill, if approved, would bring in more than $10,000 a year to operate the police and fire departments.

Should the proposition be approved in November, the increase would not appear on tax bills until November of 1961, Cheyz said.

Two other propositions will appear on the ballot in August, according to the township supervisor.

One calls for the abolishment of annual meetings, the other, a one-half mill for four years for the County Court House, now under construction.

White Lake is one of 11 townships in the county seeking to abolish meetings.

For her wedding the bride chose a street length gown of silk organza with a cascade of lace and a scoop neckline. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Janice Thibodeau and the bridesmaid was Rose Saliba. Best man was Joseph Saliba, and Alfred Saliba acted as the groom.

Political Hubbub Thing of Past as Ike Rests

DENVER, Colo. — President Eisenhower relaxed today in this Colorado capital where eight years ago he was planning the campaign which took him to the White House.

In contrast, today he has before him a decision whether to yield to the clamor of thousands of youngsters and attend the annual Boy Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., 69 miles south of Denver.

The job of campaign planning to keep the White House in Republican hands the next four years now is the task of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower's choice to succeed him.

The President watched the convention proceedings on television. He later sent a congratulatory message to Nixon.

JEANNE DELINE

Select Oxford Girl for Queen Contest

OXFORD—A 17-year-old brunette with a ready smile has been picked to represent Oxford in the Romeo Peach Queen competition Aug. 18.

She is Jeanne DeLine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. DeLine of 130 Annandale Rd., Lakeville.

Jeanne, who will be a senior at Oxford Area Community High School next fall, won the Miss Oxford title over 10 other attractive contestants.

She was selected by a panel of three judges on the basis of poise, personality, public speaking ability and beauty. The judges were Mrs. Dexter Garbet, Gladys Lamoreaux and Mrs. Jack Valentine.

A dinner is planned to honor the annual Miss Oxford Wednesday at the Villa Inn in Lake Orion. At that time she will receive her crown from Caroline McMillan, who held the local title last year.

Expected to be present are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reid, the three judges, the two title-holders and Lee Winborn, suburban editor of The Pontiac Press.

Reid is president of the Oxford Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the local queen's contest this year.

The new Miss Oxford will be one of 11 area title holders vying for the Peach Queen's crown. The winner will reign over the 28th annual Peach Festival in Romeo Labor Day weekend, Sept. 25.

Should Jeanne be picked as one of the two maids of honor or queen, she will spend the two weeks before the festival making numerous appearances on radio, television and at public events to publicize the forthcoming celebration.

In any case, she will be a member of the queen's court and be a guest in a Romeo home over the holiday weekend so that she may take part in all the planned activities.

She will be given a formal gown to wear at the coronation ceremony Sept. 4 and ride on the queen's float in the Floral Parade, which is the high point of the Labor Day program.

Clarenceville Loan Approved

State Allows School to Borrow $850,000 for Improvements

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Clarenceville School District has received approval from the State Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $850,000 on general obligation bonds for school additions and improvements.

The bond issue was one of three propositions approved by voters here March 21.

According to Supt. Louis F. Schmidt the first project to get under way will be a 10-to-14-room addition to the Grandview Elementary School in Livonia. The school district takes in part of Oakland and Wayne counties.

Remaining funds will be used to add classrooms to the Clarenceville Senior High School.

"We plan industrial, homemaking and music classroom additions for the high school," Schmidt said.

A school program developed in 1959 calls for bonding propositions to appear before voters every two years for new construction, he said.

"Citizens know they can expect another bond issue in 1961," Schmidt said. "In 1957, they approved $750,000 for additional school construction."

"This is all part of a planned program to keep up with the increasing student population."

He said the addition to the Grandview School will accommodate approximately 400 pupils.

Both additions are tentatively scheduled to be ready for occupancy in September 1961.

The two other propositions approved by voters in March was for a two-mill increase for operations and a continuation of five-mill and a change of school district classification.

Planning Group on Shelby Ballot

Voters Also Facing Civil Service Decision on Fire Department

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Voters here will be asked to make a decision on the establishment of a township planning commission in one of two proposals in Tuesday's primary election.

Shelby Township Board, which meets a "yes" vote on the issue, believes a planning commission would be of more value to the community than the present zoning board.

The commission would be composed of as many as nine members, including a township official, who would serve varying terms in office. The entire commission would be appointed by the township board.

In the other proposal on the ballot voters will be given the opportunity to reconsider Civil Service protection for the Shelby Township Fire Department.

The present act came into effect following the February primary election last year. It applies to both police and fire departments. The local Civil Service Commission ordered Fire Chief Clyde Schmidt reinstated in March and his back salary restored after he had been suspended last September.

Schmidt had been suspended on eight counts of inefficiency, insubordination, discourtesy and mismanagement by former township Supervisor Steve Skala.

The Commission threw out six of the eight charges because they were not "justified and qualified." The other two are not being intended as discipline or reprimand.

The firemen are in favor of retaining Civil Service protection for their department. Fire would remain under fire despite the outcome of the voting.

Campers from other areas pay only $11 for the entire week's stay. Besides covering the cost of recreational facilities and housing, the charge also includes three meals a day prepared by the camp's own chef and kitchen staff.

For most of the city visitors, a vacation in the country would not be possible if it weren't for the duty at the camp at all times are Salvation Army Camp.

Over 200 women gathered at the secluded West Walton boulevard home of Mrs. Clark J. Adams Wednesday afternoon for the Golden Anniversary Tea of The Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital.

The membership enrollment drive was observed in commemoration of the hospital's 50th year in the city.

News note of special interest was an announcement that the auxiliary has organized a branch unit for retired men desiring to volunteer their services at the hospital.

William H. Beahrd of Crescent Lake drive, Drayton Plains, became the group's first charter member, and word has it that a number of auxiliary members' husbands have expressed enthusiasm for the effort.

In addition to the men's volunteer program, members recently arranged for a volunteer clerical committee to assist at the hospital. Mrs. Edwin Williams, a new member, is chairman.

8 YEARS OLD

Organized some eight years ago through encouragement of the late Lauretta F. Paul, a former director of the hospital, the auxiliary's purpose is to further an interest in and cooperate with the hospital staff and the board of trustees in the work of Pontiac General Hospital.

At the request of Miss Paul, chairman of the Church and Assn. to the hospital called upon a qualified woman from their parish to attend the auxiliary's organizational meetings.

Under chairmanship of Mrs. William B. Dean, who currently serves as auxiliary president, the organization adopted bylaws and elected officers.

At present there are over 400 members in the auxiliary, with some 150 engaged in regular volunteer work at the hospital. Among services extended to patients are the bookmobile, aux-mobile — featuring novelties and personal items, storybook ladies and play ladies for the children.

Active the year around, members have just completed a successful scholarship fund-raising drive and are well along with plans for their annual High Fever Follies production in November.

Also on the agenda is an awards luncheon to honor volunteers who have contributed outstanding service to the hospital.

Countryside Unit Tours Shrine

Mrs. I. W. Sander, Mrs. R. D. Baker, Mrs. Frank Stroup, Mrs. George Rapp, Mrs. J. C. Mahannah and Mrs. Edwin Dreyer were cohostesses.

Married Saturday in Chapel Eldridge Couple Plans to Reside in Kalamazoo

Lynn Louise Grieser of Benton Harbor exchanged marriage vows with David M. Eldridge of Birmingham Saturday in the First Congregational Church, Benton Harbor.

Dr. Howard A. Blanning, pastor emeritus of the church performed the ceremony in the Anne Barton Chapel before the immediate families.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Grieser of Benton Harbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Andrew Eldridge of Holland avenue, Birmingham.

The bride wore a beige silk shantung suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. Jean Grieser, her sister's only attendant, chose a turquoise silk shirtwaist dress and white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Tom Gillingham of Birmingham was best man.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents entertained at a patio luncheon at their Seneca road home. The wedding dinner at Schuler's was hosted by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Grieser.

The bride attended Western Michigan University last year, where her husband is presently enrolled. He is affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Returning from their honeymoon, the couple will reside at home in Kalamazoo after September first.

J. Barrett at Wednesday's Golden Anniversary Tea. Mrs. Williams is chairman of a newly organized volunteer clerical committee which will assist at the hospital.

Hostess for the hospital auxiliary Golden Anniversary Membership Tea Mrs. Clark J. Adams, center, greeted guests on the spacious lawn of her West

'I Don't Care' Attitude Cause of Overweight

(EAT) — The woman who watches the scales creep up five and then 10 pounds without doing something about it is doing neither herself nor her family a favor. For as she goes from a size 14 to a size 16, she may tell herself that she was never meant to be a size 10 or how.

Her family most likely won't say anything for fear of hurting her feelings. She'll probably get rid of some of her worry about her weight increase by telling her friends that she "plans to go on a diet." And of course, she doesn't.

This is a common story in the United States today. Too common. It produces great numbers of shapeless, overweight women to whom clothes are a problem, whose health is endangered, who look years older than they actually are. And it's all so unnecessary.

A good deal of excess weight is due to thoughtlessness. The woman who really gives the matter some thought will not stuff herself with bread at a meal, choose cake instead of fresh fruit or nibble between meals. She knows that the price she will pay for these trivialities is way out of proportion.

New Tie Shapes

(UPI) — Tie-shapes for fall are a trifle wider. Extreme narrowness is out. Early fall will find new stripe patterns, in bright colors, to supplement — or supplant — the usual repeats and challis in "his tie collection."

Luncheon Is Benefit

A bridge luncheon on the terrace of Mrs. Earl Eddy's summer home at Elizabeth Lake, Tuesday, was one in a series of benefit parties planned by Pontiac Woman's Club. Mrs. C. W. Myers assisted the hosts.

The club is presently interested in providing scholarships for a local girl, the Look Rio Home for Girls at Belleville. Girls' Ranch at Camp Oakland and the act fund of the Michigan Federation of Woman's Clubs.

The benefit breakfast scheduled for Aug. 8 has been canceled.

Joyce Clements Weds Robert Curtis Burns

A garden reception at the Watkins Lake road home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clements followed the marriage of their daughter Joyce Ruth to Robert Curtis Burns Saturday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church.

Vows were repeated to the Rev. William H. Marchab in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride chose a street-length dress of white pure silk shantung. Her shoulder-length cloud veil was caught by a pearl headpiece. She carried white carnations and pink tea roses.

A petal caplet complemented the dress of beige embroidered

Will Sell Ornaments Spruce Up Guild Fair

Committees are hard at work putting the final touches on Saturday's annual mid-summer fair of the Anglican and St. Mary's guilds at St. Mary's in the Hills Episcopal Church.

Area people who have traditionally sought the elegant handmade Christmas ornaments over the years the fair has been operating may also look forward to a selection of antiques.

Chairman Mrs. Newton Skillman and Mrs. R. C. Lake have been working with Guild President Mrs. W. H. Wilcox.

Manning the various booths will be Mrs. B. A. Zinn and Mrs. Arthur Dodge, ice cream and cake; Mrs. Allan Macdonald and Mrs. Kelsy Taeger, gifts; and Mrs. Halsey Davidson, antiques.

Others are Mrs. Merle Yorkley, Mrs. George King and Mrs. Clarence Butler, next-to-new booth; Mrs. A. J. Deuster and Mrs. Roy Johnson, baked goods; and Mrs. Ray Hayes, cake walk.

The Christmas booth will be under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Spitzer, Mrs. Lake and Mrs. Skillman will have charge of the "Kiddie Korner"; and Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Lorne Proctor, hat and bag booth.

Others assisting include Mrs. Clayton Leach, Mrs. Donald Shultz and Mrs. E. H. Calkins. The Men's Club will have charge of parking, baseball concession and light refreshments. Pony rides and other children's rides will be handled by the Couples Club.

Young Set Favors

(UPI) — A survey by one hosiery maker showed that 31 per cent of women under age 21 wear seamless stockings exclusively; age 21 to 25, 25 per cent wear seamless all the time; 26-35, nine per cent wear seamless and 53 per cent wear full-fashioned exclusively. The typical hosiery customer, said the survey, usually has five pairs of stockings, buys new ones about three or four times a year, uses about one pair a month. Fifty per cent own stockings of more than one color category.

Old Age Draws Most Disfavor

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

If you had it in your power to relieve one portion of your life, which would it be? Grammar school days? High school days? Your first sweetheart? The young married years?

We put this intriguing thought to 1,042 teen-agers throughout the country to determine how the panorama of life appeared to those who have yet to view it through the rose colored glasses of nostalgia.

For most of us, the "good old days" are but a pleasant myth invented by a convenient memory, which clouds over the bad things of the past and enables us to see only the good.

For teen-agers, the past—short though it is—has much more valid recall.

CLOSER, MORE REAL
It is closer, far more real and uncolored by the sifting process of memory.

Our survey shows that they look upon high school and college years as the happiest, and tend to view the long old retirement years as the unhappiest.

Almost without exception, these youngsters view the young unmarried years as happy years and look with growing trepidation to the slow but sure approach of middle age.

For purposes of this survey, we asked them two questions:

1. When you are old, what do you think will have been the happiest period of your life?
2. What do you think will have been the least happy?

The wording enabled them to project themselves into the future and view the past as if it had already happened.

RANGE OVER FULL SPAN
Their opinions ranged over the whole span of life, from preschool days to the retirement years, but for most, there was no time in the present or the immediate past.

Thirty-seven per cent chose high school days as the happiest. Twenty per cent chose the college years.

Twenty-three per cent chose the young married years.

Only 2 per cent thought that middle-age would make them the most happy girl or fellow, and 1 per cent or less chose preschool, grade schools, junior high days or the retirement years.

High school age, according to 16-year-old Sheila Syring of Eugene, Ore., "is the time of most freedom and least responsibility."

"Everything is provided by your parents, leaving you free to pursue many interests."

Steve Gould, 15, of Webster Groves, Mo., took a short leap into the future and voted for the college era because "I think it will be a good feeling to be away from parents and home. The thing I look forward to most is the opportunity to run my own life."

The survey also turned up a teen-ager who could wait to retire.

To 18-year-old Bob Fleming of South Bend, Ind., the retirement years will be the happiest because "they finally give you a chance to relax—I think."

What about the least happy years of life?

Again the teen-agers' unique vantage point for viewing the past provided some interesting choices.

The greatest number, 21 per cent, agreed retirement years would be the least happy. Beyond that, there was little agreement.

Fifteen per cent thought grammar school days the unhappiest. Fifteen per cent chose junior high years.

Nine per cent voted for high school years.

Five per cent said middle-age. Four per cent picked college and young adulthood.

Only 2 per cent, the bottom of the list, were pessimistic enough to think that the young married years would be their unhappiest.

"DIDN'T USE ABILITIES"
Most of those who picked school years already past associated their choice with some unhappy experience in their own lives.

"High school days" were my unhappiest," said 17-year-old Bill Frederick of Fort Wayne, Ind., "because I did not use my abilities to the utmost degree."

Marcia Klompars, 16, of Grand Haven, Mich., found her junior high school years, just completed, "strictly for the birds. There was no education challenge, far too many cliques and everybody was mixed up. These were the best years."

In giving the retirement years the greatest number of unhappy votes, teen-agers cited such drawbacks as failing health, feeling useless and unwanted, frustration, lack of interests, the "slow torture of watching your friends die off" and the general handiaps of old age.

Helen Kreuger of Green Bay, Wis., spelled out fears of middle-age in a particularly baleful analysis.

"I can see myself now," she described her vision of the future. "People by this time have usually lost all appeal for each other; physically and emotionally."

"They try to prove to each other that they are still young and fit. As a result, jealousies and fights occur."

"If people could only adjust to this time, it could be a very happy period of life, but we are all only human and refuse to admit to ourselves that time has made its inroads."

"When we are old, we know we are old. When we are young, nobody has to tell us."

"When we are middle-aged, we cannot quite figure out whether we are young or old, which is why I am sure it will be the most unhappy time of our lives."

Summer Presents Hazards

Accident prevention is a homemaker's constant concern, but summer presents its own special health and safety hazards which need special precautions. Careful attention to the areas suggested below can help prevent your family's summer living from being marred by accident and illness.

Safety begins in your backyard. Make a periodic survey to be sure it's free of broken glass, rusty wire or garden tools. Make it a point to examine the playgrounds your children use. If these areas are not well maintained, report this to authorities and see that they're cleaned up.

Children's toys and sporting equipment should be kept in good repair. Shaky bicycles and rusty roller-skates can lead to painful falls, while exposed edges on metal toys can cause dangerous cuts and scratches.

The swimming hole doesn't have to be a water hazard. If your children are taught how to swim, respect for the water, and the importance of reporting to you where and when they're going swimming and when they will return, you minimize both the accident possibilities and the "worrying to which you'll be subject."

Check on outdoor lighting. Spotlights not only make outdoor barbecues more cheerful, but by illuminating shrubbery, furniture, and steps you can help prevent guests and family from stumbling over them in the dark. Bright night lights serve also as a deterrent to prowlers in summer when doors and windows are likely to be left open.

Finally, go over traffic safety rules with your children. During the winter they may have come to rely on school crossing officials, so in the summer they should be reminded periodically of the basic precautions to cross with the light.

Take Care of Gray Hair

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

In this day of really lovely hair tint shades, there isn't much excuse for money gray hair streaked with yellow. None of us, I think, really have an aversion to age. But almost all of us have an aversion to its trappings. And these include gray hair.

Unless you're lucky enough to possess that lovely, silvery gray hair which is a mark of beauty in itself, do something about your hair. If you don't want to switch back to a color, you need it. You can keep your gray hair. But ask your beauty operator to give you a silvery rinse when you have your hair done. Keep your hair beautifully set. Have it restyled every four months to make certain that yours is a contemporary hairdo. Stay away from stiff little waves and sausage curls, hairnets and all of the other unlovely ways of hairdressing. GO EASY

If you prefer a color tint, have one that's a shade or two softer than your own natural hair coloring. Because, as you grow older, your skin tones change, too. That's why true blonde or red shade looks brassy on an older woman.

You Can Get Rid of Fat by Exercise

She is a woman in her mid-forties, thin, nervous and tired. She is on a diet. She wants, she says, to lose five pounds. It is useless to tell her that she shouldn't, that her face will become more haggard.

She complains that she is hippy and that she must take off weight. What she needs, of course, is spot exercise. She needs to rid herself of rolls of fat on either side.

But she doesn't want to do this. It seems like too much trouble. The dieting won't do it, of course. But five minutes' exercise each morning (or night) would get rid of those unsightly lumps within three weeks.

And make her feel more alive, more lithe and more youthful into the bargain. Instead she will persist in doing it her way without realizing that she is not attaining her goal.

This is a mistake many women make out of the notion that spot exercises are tire, some and difficult. They need to be neither. The best ones are simple, fast and fairly easy to do.

"They're hideous!"
A completely unscientific poll drew these comments:

"Ten-age Tuesday. Weid — 'They're hideous. Those designers must have a grudge against women.'"

Zsa Zsa Gabor — "Nobody in a sack ever caught a man. Of course, I don't think a woman should show everything she has. She should leave some things to the imagination and just let a few friends discover them."

Jerry Lewis — "I'm against any style that makes Marilyn Monroe look like a boy. My personal preference is for dresses that, when a girl walks, it looks like two little boys having a fight under a blanket."

Shirley McLaine — "It'll be a big year for the farmers — the women will be able to eat anything they want for a year without worrying about their waist line."

Bob Hope — "They ought to put the potatoes back and forget the whole thing. A guy who takes a girl out is entitled to know where things are."

Lucille Ball — "I'm glad I saved my old sack."

Japanese actress Miyoshi Umeki — "Wearing a dress like that is like throwing a rock through a stained glass window."

Mittay Garrow — "It's the House of Dior's answer to the unobtainables."

Jayne Mansfield — "Sack dresses are fine for a woman about eight months pregnant. (Jayne, a little more than eight months pregnant, is in a hospital awaiting her baby.)"

Kim Novak — "I don't like it. I think girls should look like girls—even at election time."

If in Doubt—Don't

Stars Leap to Attack of the Sack

'Swimming Pool' Shapes of Things to Come Draw Quips

By JOE LEWIS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It seems nearly everybody in this glamorous town — from Zsa Zsa Gabor to Bob Hope — is taking a whack at the sack today.

Moretown's reaction to the House of Dior's new fashions — unveiled in Paris, sounded like a depth charge exploding in a kid's-shaped swimming pool — only a swimming pool has more shape.

And, the outraged glamour girls cry, that's just what the new fashions resemble: somebody's kidney-shaped swimming pool — only a swimming pool has more shape.

The Dior line—featuring bared knees and nonexistent waist and bust lines—also let the male stars as — not as Elvis Presley's guitar.

Bloomfield Hills Notes

Busy Summer Continues

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Among parents visiting sons and daughters last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mills and the Thomas H. Wagners who flew up to Rhineclauder, Wis., together.

At Camp Bryn Aon they were guests of Debbie Mills and Dorothy Ann Wagner and at nearby Dearborn their sons Ben Jr. and Tim Wagner were their hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner have invited friends to an informal dance and supper on the terrace of their home on Beaulieu drive.

Another party Saturday evening will be a cocktail which the Ronald Kasperzaks will give after a golf tournament at Orchard Lake Country Club. They have invited 24 guests.

Romany Acres, the George Wellington Smith home in Franklin, will be the setting for the annual picnic of St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook. Members may come in the afternoon, enjoy swimming in the pool, play tennis, badminton and a cooperative supper which board members have arranged.

Officers of the guild have planned the affair under the new president John Warner and incoming board members Mrs. Wendell Wright, Mrs. David Raymond and John W. Sanders. Remaining board members Mrs. Albert Remington, Mrs. Tempin Licklider and James Schneider will assist.

David and Wendy Denning, small grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett, are visitors in the Gossett home while their parents, the Basil W. Denning, are traveling in the West. The Denning family will leave early in August for their new home in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. MacGregor will give the second of a series of parties Saturday at their home on Wattle road. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robinson (Jane Romney) will come from Salt Lake City this weekend for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Romney before moving to Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Robinson has just been graduated from the University of Utah and her husband will transfer from medical school there to the University of Michigan graduate school of medicine. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Deveraux will spend next weekend in Boston where Mr. Deveraux will attend a reunion of naval officers who served under Rear Adm. Nathan Prime. Adm. Prime will also attend.

Mrs. Francis Dewey entertained at luncheon Tuesday for her daughter Mrs. Arthur C. Prime Jr., who is here with her children from her home in Northfield, Ill.

Good Neighborhood Relations Up to You

By RUTH MILLETT

When you move into a new neighborhood or a new town, you don't know your neighbors yet. Don't low-rate neighbors you left behind—or your new neighbors will surmise that you, yourself, may be pretty hard to get along with. Pitch in and try to get your yard looking as trim as those of your neighbors. If your yard is an eyesore on the block you can't expect neighbors to raise their eyebrows.

Make up your mind that you are going to live in peace with your neighbors. You won't, for long, if you start complaining about children, dogs, or noise. You can't live on an average-size lot and have the privacy of a walled-in estate.

Be sure to return the calls of those who call on you—whether they are especially congenial or not. Returning a call is simple courtesy. You can then let the acquaintanceship remain just that, if you want to.

Don't gossip with one neighbor about another. If you do, you will be in the middle of a neighborhood squabble. If there is a gossip in the neighborhood, try to stay clear of her.

Return any favors done by neighbors. It takes very little effort to cut a basket of flowers for a friendly neighbor, or to take over a plate of home-baked cookies, or to offer to market for a neighbor who is ill.

If you get in any car pools, be sure to do your part. Be on time so that the other mothers can rely on you. The car pooler who is always begging off when it is her turn to drive, or who is late picking up the children, can throw a whole car pool into a dither.

Always have a friendly greeting for neighbors you know only by sight.

It's not so hard to fit into a new neighborhood—if you know how to be a good neighbor.

FOR A HAPPIER LIFE and a happier marriage, send for a copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband."

To Present 4th Concert Sunday Eve

The fourth in a series of six summer concerts by the Detroit Little Symphony, conducted by Francesco Di Biase, will be presented at the plaza area of Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Guest soloists will be Maria Romelli, soprano, and Robert Rogers, baritone. Rogers, who is a colonel at Selfridge Air Force Base, replaces Nicholas Billardello who was originally listed for this concert.

Col. Rogers has appeared with the Michigan Opera Company, the Omaha Civic Opera and was a guest soloist last summer with the Detroit Little Symphony concert series at Metropolitan Beach.

Miss Romelli appeared at the Beach in 1957 and she performed for the King and Queen of Greece on their tour of the United States. She has made numerous appearances in concert, including Carnegie Hall and Orchestra Hall in Chicago in addition to radio and television appearances.

She also has been a guest soloist with the Detroit Symphony, the Pontiac Symphony and at Wayne State University.

Late September vows are planned by Miss Carroll and her fiancé Charles Gordon Turner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Monroe.

Try Your Own Allergy Test

(NEA) If you have had past troubles with skin allergies and are wary of trying out a new eye shadow, lipstick or cream, there's one safe way to settle the question. Put a small dab of the make-up on your arm and go about your business for four hours or so.

If the area on your arm becomes red or itchy, then the make-up is definitely not for you. But if no trouble symptoms develop, then you have an all-clear on this particular cosmetic.

For Happy Picnic

Don't let a disorganized picnic happen to you. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest you make a check list of picnic supplies and attach it to the inside lid of the picnic basket. A quick check before you leave tells if anything is missing.

Keep Them Shiny

(NEA) Important to your wardrobe upkeep: well-polished shoes. Shine them yourself, or drop them off at the shoe repair shop regularly.

Warm Weather Suits State Crop

Corn's at Good Height; Wheat, Peaches Need Good Temperatures

LANSING (U)—That stretch of warm weather in recent days was just the ticket for Michigan's big corn crop, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Early planted corn is tasseling and shows good height and some has been cultivated for the last time, the agency said.

Late planted acreage, however, still is lagging and will need top growing conditions for a good harvest. Soil moisture conditions are reported generally good.

Rain and generally damp conditions slowed wheat combining in southern counties last week, but good progress was reported from some east central counties.

A big share of Michigan's wheat acreage is ripe and ready for combining if good weather comes along. Winter barley combining is virtually over.

southern counties but are just heading in some northern lower peninsula counties and in the upper peninsula.

Upper peninsula farmers are still putting up first crop hay, but some good second cutting are being made in southern counties where the first crop was cut early.

Cherry growers in southwestern Michigan's fruit belt are harvesting a large crop of tart cherries this year. Picking will continue in heavy volume this week. Picking also stepped up in central and northern fruit areas, where smaller than usual crops are in prospect.

Early sweet corn and tomatoes have joined the list of vegetables being harvested. A few early variety peaches also are showing on the market.

Ponders Jute Trade

KARACHI (UPI)—The Pakistan government is unofficially reported considering establishment of its own jute trade representatives in important jute markets abroad. It is argued that by eliminating the middleman, Pakistan could get better jute prices and could better observe market trends.

Norway is slightly larger in area than New Mexico.

JUMPER DIES — Mrs. Oksana Stepanova Kasenkina, 63, who jumped to freedom from the third-story window of the Soviet consulate in New York 12 years ago, is dead. She succumbed Sunday at Miami hotel to natural causes complicated by a heart condition. She had made her 1948 leap to avoid being returned to her homeland.

Seven states have 100 or more county sub-divisions.

Once Top Vacation Choice

Denver's Too High for Ike

DENVER (UPI) — This used to be one of President Eisenhower's favorite vacation spots. Now he finds it sort of frustrating.

The one thing he simply hasn't been able to find around here is a sea-level golf course.

It was here, at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elvira Doud, on Lafayette street, that Ike suffered a serious heart attack in 1955.

Since then, he comes to the mile-high city only on short visits. One reason is that his doctor, Howard Snyder, takes a cautious approach to exercise at high altitude by the country's number one former heart patient.

Ike's favorite sport is golf. He has been playing daily at Newport, R.I., where he and Mamie have been vacationing for the past couple of weeks. He also likes to fish.

Doc Snyder for a year or so after Ike's recovery didn't want him to come back to Denver at all. Later he eased the ban provided the President agreed not to attempt any strenuous sport.

That has tended to rule out most of Ike's vacation fun. Cherry Hills Country Club, his favorite course here, is a hilly layout that he usually played by electric cart even before he had his attack. His favorite fishing spot is at Fraser, Colo., which is some 4,000 feet higher than Denver.

Oh well, Doc Snyder has nothing at all against bridge, at any altitude.

Will Discuss Role to Pick WMU Head

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, says he expects to discuss with the State Board of Education next month his role in picking a new president for Western Michigan University.

Bartlett is an applicant for the $25,000-a-year job, left vacant when Paul V. Sangren stepped down last month. He is also a member of the board of education, which will choose a successor.

The dual role has stirred criticism that Bartlett is involved in a conflict of interests.

Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont, board chairman, said he understood that State Democratic Chairman Neil Stangler had sent a letter to Bartlett asking him to withdraw from consideration for the post or disqualify himself from the selection process.

Bartlett, a Democrat, is one of four front runners among some 30 men for the job. Others are John W. Lederle, head of the public administration department at the University of Michigan; James W. Miller, secretary to the Michigan State University Board of Trustees and former state controller; and Russell E. Seibert, a WMU vice president.

Pro-U.S. Liberals Win Again in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's ruling conservatives rolled up another smashing provincial election victory Wednesday — their third this month — over a left-wing opponent who campaigned against Japan's new alliance with the United States.

Liberal-Democrat Kuroki Kan-da, 31, a veteran of 26 years in public service, overwhelmingly defeated progressive independent Giheti Tsumoda, 54, backed by both Socialists and Communists, for governor of Gumma Province. Two other minor candidates ran far behind.

Republicans First to Back Court on Segregation End

CHICAGO (AP) — It has taken the Republicans, as a party, six years to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools.

The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.

Scherer Corp. Head Dies

STILL AROUND — Two-time unsuccessful GOP presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey addressed the convention in Chicago last night before the nomination of Richard M. Nixon. He praised Nixon's experience for the top spot and contrasted it with the youth of John F. Kennedy. Dewey lost the 1944 race to Franklin D. Roosevelt and the 1948 campaign to Harry S. Truman.

Accused of Asking Bequest Kickback

DETROIT — Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen today will seek a warrant for George S. Nickelson, a court-appointed trustee estate administrator, accused of demanding a kickback on a bequest to a Taylor Township school for blind children.
Nickelson, 59, administrator of the $105,851 estate of Mrs. Harriet May Shrigley Palmer, who died Jan. 2, 1958, will be charged with soliciting a bribe.
Conviction carries a maximum four year prison term or a $2,000 fine.

South Poland Deluged by 30-Foot Flood Crest

WARSAW (AP) — A flood crest 30 feet high swept down the Vistula River and left thousands of acres of farmland and several cities in southern Poland inundated today. The Polish Press Agency said the situation was critical in the districts of Krakow, Katowice, Opole and Lublin, with heavy rain falling.

Newberg, a Bloomfield Township resident had been a director since 1957.

Last week it was disclosed Newberg had resigned as president of Chrysler because of interests he held in outside firms which sell to Chrysler. He agreed to give back to Chrysler's $450,000 in profits he made from these outside interests.

His name because it lies in a huge U-turn in the Rio Grande river in Texas.

Beats Braves as Pirates Boost Lead

Sanford Hurls 6th Shutout

By The Associated Press.

Jack Sanford today must know how Freddy Fitzsimmons, another Giant pitcher, felt 25 years ago.

In 1935, Fitzsimmons lost eight of 12 decisions. In his four successful outings, he had to pitch a shutout.

Sanford won his ninth game for San Francisco Wednesday, a 5-0 triumph over Milwaukee. He has lost eight. Six of his victories have been shutouts. He sometimes wonders how he won those other three.

Big Jack's four-hitter, combined with Pittsburgh's 7.3 triumph over St. Louis increased the Pirates' first place lead over the Braves to 1½ games.

Los Angeles' third place Dodgers blanked the Cincinnati Reds 2-0 behind Don Drysdale's four-hitter and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Chicago Cubs 7-5.

Orlando Cepeda, with three hits, and Jim Marshall, with one, drove in two runs apiece to lead the Giants' eight-hit attack on loser Lew Burdette and Don McMahon. The Giant victory snapped a four-game Milwaukee winning streak.

Sanford, who fanned six, now owns shutout victories over Philadelphia (2), St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Milwaukee. He needs Los Angeles and Cincinnati to join Grover Alexander, C. Young and Jack Coombs as the only major leaguers to blank all opposing clubs in one season.

This was the 15th shutout by a Giant pitcher this season. The most shutouts by a Giant pitcher is 12, by Christy Mathewson, in 1918.

Drysdale duplicated Sanford's four-hit performance for Los Angeles which marked his second straight shutout and fifth consecutive victory. The tall right-hander struck out six and didn't walk a batter.

The Dodgers got to the southpaw fireballer in the seventh breaking through for a run on singles by Duke Snider, Charlie Neal and Maury Wills. They added another, off reliever Jim Brown, in the eighth, on an error, Wally Moon's single, and a wild pitch. The victory was the 14th in 18 games for Los Angeles, now 9½ games behind Pittsburgh.

The Pirates, winning their third straight from St. Louis, snapped a 3½ tie in the seventh. Singles by Joe Christopher, Dick Groat, Gino Cimoli and Hal Smith highlighted the three-run rally. Fred Green, who took over after Joe Gibbon walked the first two batters in the sixth, gave up only one hit the rest of the way and gained credit for his fifth victory. Ray Sadecki was the loser.

Two Pirates' pitchers were forced out by injuries. George Whit, the starter, left after the first inning because of an elbow pain. Earl Francis relieved him, but had to leave at the end of the fourth because of a sore shoulder. Pitcher Bobby Del Greco's leadoff homer broke a 3½ tie and launched a four-run rally in the fifth for the Phillies which handed the talent Cubs their sixth straight defeat.

Pancho Herrera also homered for the Phils who rested for pitchers for 15 hits. Seth Morehead was tagged with the defeat. Larry Gene Conley won his seventh with the help of Dick Farrell.

The commission just killed Jordan's hopes to meet Cuba's Paré when they refused to grant Jordan a boxing license. The terse announcement Wednesday accused Jordan of "actions detrimental to the best interests of boxing."

Commissioner Secretary Clayton Faye declined to elaborate. But he added:

"The action seems very final. It's no secret the commission has taken a dim view of Jordan's choice of friends, including ex-gambler Mickey Cohen. However, Jordan testified at a recent commission hearing that his association with Cohen has broken off."

"You really can't put my finger on anything. But's done wrong," said his new manager, airline executive Kirk Korfarian. He picked up the outcome street fighter from east Los Angeles after Jordan lost his title to Paré at Las Vegas, Nev., two months ago.

The Jordan camp says they'll appeal the commission's ruling. Meanwhile, Korfarian said he'll try to get a court order to force Paré to meet Jordan in a return bout.

Detroit Comeback, Fog Stretch Game to 4:48, Big Debut for Foiles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Senators have learned, through years of oppression in the second division, the lessons of patience and perseverance. And last night they paid off.

The Senators survived Detroit's three-run rally in the ninth inning, a delay of the game by fog and six extra innings of scoreless baseball and finally defeated the Tigers, 5-4, in 15 innings.

The overtime decision enabled Washington to recover sole possession of fifth place in the American League. The Tigers dropped back into sixth.

Everything's Fine on Tigers' Farm

DETROIT (AP)—Everything is just dandy down on the farm, says the Detroit Tiger front office.

Of the eight Tiger farm clubs,

Five were in the first division as this week's action was winding up.

Two teams—Denver in the American Assn. and Duluth-Superior in the Northern League—occupied first place berths. Seven Denver hitters were above the .300 mark.

First baseman Larry Osburne was batting .344 and third baseman Steve Boros .330. Gord Seifried led the pitchers with a 10-4 mark and Jim Stump of Lansing was 6-5. Here's the rundown on the other clubs:

Birmingham, third place, Southern Association: ex-bonus pitcher George Thomas Hitting .301; Wyman Carey and Ron Nischwitz with nine wins each.

Victoria, third place, Texas League: Frank Kostro playing shortstop and hitting .277; Jim Proctor with a 10-4 mark and Dick Smallwood with 9-6 leading the team.

Four rookies quit the St. Louis football Cardinals' training camp Wednesday. Walking out were tackle Bob Corrigan and defensive back Vic Jones of Indiana, end Louis Knudson of Coe College and linebacker Larry Parrish of Southern Illinois. All were placed on the Cards' reserve list.

Second-seeded Julie Heidman of Hamtramck is the only remaining Michigan entry in today's quarter-finals of the national tennis tournament for girls 15 and under. Miss Heidman yesterday won her berth in the tourney at Cincinnati by defeating Pam Sullivan of Louisville, Ky., 6-4, 6-7.

Washington Redskins defensive back Bert Zagers reinjured his shoulder yesterday in a scrimmage and will be flown to Washington for possible surgery. The former Michigan State star missed last season because of the same shoulder injury. Rookie Jim Wulf, an other ex-MSU halback, is one of the contenders for Zagers' position.

Tobin Rabe, former quarterback for the Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers in the NFL, passed for three touchdowns and scored another TD as he paced the Toronto Argonauts to a 51-30 victory over the Calgary Stampede yesterday in an exhibition Canadian League football game at Toronto.

Barry, a 190-pounder, is among the fastest of the veteran Lions in his three years in the National Football League. Barry, playing defensive halfback, brought down the roughest, fastest runners in the game.

Wilson switched him from defense to a flanker-back spot in mid-season last year, capitalizing on Barry's speed in a pass-carrying role.

Swimmers Lost for Olympics

Emergency Operation for Freestyler Hurts U. S. Chances

DETROIT (AP)—Swimmer Jeff Farrell's emergency appendectomy yesterday may cost the United States a swimming victory in the Olympic Games at Rome.

Doctors said the former University of Oklahoma student might not be released for five days and would be unable to swim for some time.

Farrell, 26, of Wichita, Kan., set two American records—the 100 and 200-meter freestyles—at Toledo, Ohio, last weekend in the National AAU swims.

"This is a terrific blow," said Clarence C. Plonstein, Detroit athletic director and meet director for the Olympic trials to be held here next week.

Farrell could have been counted on to win the 100-meter race at Rome for an easy Gold Medal. He also would have been on the 200-meter relay in which four men swim 50 meters each. Without him, we could lose the relay and four more Gold Medals."

Ex-Dearborn Ace Top National Net Junior Threat

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Fred Drilling of Playa Del Rey, Calif., and Jim Osborne of Honolulu, held the spotlight today as the national junior and boys' tennis championship entered the third round of singles.

Drilling, former varsity tennis and cross country star at Dearborn, Michigan High, met in a tournament — wise veteran Jack Cooper, of Louisville, Ky., in the junior singles. Drilling upset seventh-seeded Mike Nerly, of Atlanta, Ga., yesterday, 6-2, 6-4.

Osborne carries the banner of the 50th state against Warren Stemmoms, of Seattle, Wash., in the boys' 15-and-under singles. The Hawaiian youth scored a stunning 6-2, 6-1 victory over fourth-seeded George Seewagon, of Bayside, N.Y., two days ago.

Dennis Raiston of Bakersfield, Calif., the defending junior champion, plays George Sokol, of Haverford, Pa., in the third round.

Doctoring Your Golf

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Hooking is beyond me."

DIAGNOSIS: Just a couple of gimmicks needed.

TREATMENT: Generally speaking, a hook is a nuisance. But there are times when a deliberate hook is just about the golfer's only salvation—as when he needs to bend the ball around trees or some other obstacle.

The first step in setting up a deliberate hook is to change to a "hook grip." This simply means turning the left hand back to the right on the shaft so that you can see the first three knuckles, instead of two as prescribed for the straight shot, also turn the right hand back the same way by about the same amount.

Then determine to swing into the ball.

Along an exaggerated inside-out pattern. That is, you want to hit around the ball instead of straight through it. Also, you want to let the hands roll over as you come into the ball — which will be made easy by the change in the grip.

The player who can hook the ball on demand is a far more resourceful player than one who can't. Sometimes the hook is the only way out of trouble, so some practice on it would certainly not be amiss. And remember that left arm as you try to hook.

Women Looking for Top Scores in American

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A flat uncomplicated public course that looked like a pushover to most of the ladies brought predictions of heavy scoring today in the American Women's Open.

National Open champion Betty Rawls long-driving Merley Wright defending titleist Bev Hanson and hometown sweetheart Patty Berg are among the top-ranked favorites in the 72-hole meet opening today.

All expected to shoot under par at roomy, 6,900-yard Hiawatha Course, where the gals can let out and hit as freely as they want. Fairways are broad, the trees are sparse and sand almost nonexistent.

For lovers of horizontal scenery it's pretty after a fashion, but it should be no trouble for the best of the women pros. Par for the ladies is 73.

Unknown Golf Threats

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sandra Spuzick of Indianapolis and Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., posed as threats to the better known stars in today's quarter-final round of the 60th Women's Western amateur golf tournament.

Miss Spuzick, Indianapolis city champion who was eliminated in the first round of two previous Western appearances, upset Jo Anne Gunderson, Seattle, Wash., the defending champ, 1-up in 20 holes Wednesday.

Miss Phillips, who has never cut any sort of ice in major golf, eliminated Nancy Roth, Hollywood, Fla., and Elkhart, Ind., 1 up. Miss Roth had played brilliantly in eliminating Barbara McIntire, the USGA and British champion, in the first round.

Barbara Williams, the California champ from Richmond, was Miss Spuzick's quarter-final opponent. Barbara beat Sherry Wheeler, Glasgow, Ky., 3 and 1 by coming from behind to win five holes on the back nine.

Judy Eller, the southern champion from Old Hickory, Tenn., shot sensational 2-under par golf in beating Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio, 4 and 3, and has Judy Kimball, Iowa champion from Grimes as a quarter-final foe. Miss Kimball eliminated Julie Hall, Anderson, Ind., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, and Mrs. Paul Dye, Indianapolis, Ind., met in a match of veterans.

All-Star Doubleheader Stays

San Francisco, Boston Picked for '61 Games

Vote to Continue Two Tilts Based on Fan Interest

NEW YORK (AP)—After weighing all the pros and cons, major league baseball players have voted to retain the two-year old, All-Star "doubleheader"—at least through next year.

Their decision was based on 1, the need for the extra revenue to speed up the premiums in order to receive top pension benefits at the earliest eligible age, and 2, the fact that the fans prefer two games over one.

The players made one concession, however. They agreed the games should be spaced further apart. Instead of playing both in the same week as was done this season, the top 1961 games will be played a month apart—on July 11 and July 13.

The tentative dates are July 11 in San Francisco and Aug. 8 in Boston. This year the games were played in Kansas City, July 11 and New York, July 13. The National League won both games to reduce the Americans' over-all margin to 16-13.

Kansas City's 30,000-seat Municipal Stadium was filled to capacity but Yankee Stadium, which seats 68,000, was only half filled for the second game.

"The players feel," said a player representative, "that despite the criticism from some newspapers and baseball officials the fans are in favor of two games, provided they are played in different sections of the country."

"A game in San Francisco and other one in Boston would give fans in both the East and West a chance to see an All-Star game in person."

Critics of the two-game idea referred to the Yankee Stadium contest as nothing more than an exhibition, largely because the two managers—Al Lopez and Walter Alston—used nearly all of the available players. The season's next year's games may be more on quality than on quantity with the managers sticking to their starting lineups as much as possible.

Toughest Assignments to Smallest Trackmen

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The smallest men training here today with the U.S. Olympic track and field team have the longest assignments. They are tuning their tough little torsos for the 10,000 and 5,000 meter races, and the 3,000 meter steeplechase at Rome.

"They're only little in measurement," observed Bill Bowerman. "They run real big."

Bowerman is head coach at the host University of Oregon, an interested spectator of the week-long training program and director of the Saturday meet which climaxes the practice.

Others have called them "cheats with legs." Head coach Larry Snyder, of the Olympic team said the description is apt. "If you add the word 'courage'."

Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., is the littlest of the lot and is America's No. 1 man in the biggest distance, 10,000 meters (marathoners are not training here). Truex is 5 feet 5 and his weight of 128 pounds makes him less than half the height of the team's best, George Young of Silver City, N.H. 140-pounder who admits his official listing of 5-feet-9 is a trifle high.

The biggest distance man who has qualified for a trip to Rome is Phil Rhee, 5-11. At Blythe, he got one of three homers.

The Indians cut down the chances of the Athletics making the Boys Club league playoffs in 11-5 win yesterday. Mike Dyer leading the steeplechase event in had a long homer and was robbed of another on the "catch of the year" by Frank O'Neill. The Braves took the National lead by downing the Phils, 8-5. At Blythe, he got one of three homers.

Freeman Sparks 6-1 Win

Dave Freeman clouted an inside-the-park home run, double and single to spark Hobby's 6-1 victory over the Arrows last night in a National division Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains. Hobby's pitcher Bob Al-Baylock silenced the bats of the league champion Arrows on five hits.

Darkness Halts 'A' Battle at 8-8

Darkness halted a wild and woolly Class A baseball battle in an 8 1/2 tie at Winder Field last night. The Jets took an early 2-0 lead, fell behind 7-3 and went back in command 8-7 before the Knights of Columbus got the final marker in the 8th.

A leadoff single by John Shanks, a stolen base and walk went to waste for the Jets in the 7th. For the Knights, John Burkart singled and went to second on an error with one out but died there. The Jets had a big hitting edge of 8 to 4 but committed eight errors.

There was no such problem in Class B as Griff's Grill blasted Don Nicholse, 18-1. Bob Garrett pitched two-hit ball as his mates garnered 11 singles sparked by Mary Evans with a homer and two singles.

In Class D, Pontiac Central scored seven times in two innings and coasted to a 10-1 romp of Oxford while Powell Trucking was belting Lake Orion 5-0. Rich Cavely fired a three-hitter, Jerry Powell and George Tomas combined for six hits.

Pontiac Police took an "F" American verdict over Westside Kivans, 6-3, by rallying in the late innings. Great Lake Giants outlasted Lake Orion 16-13 in the NL. When it was all over the scorebook showed 31 hits and 31 errors to go with the 73 runs.

Pitcher Frank Sand's home run decided a see-saw Class F International duel giving the Cuts an 8-7 decision over the Aztecas. The Aces took Perry Drug 8-6 and Frye hurled a four-hitter in a 4-0 Tiger triumph over the Spartans in the National loop. Tim Kaul had four straight singles for the Tigers.

St. Benedict and Pontiac Police won "F" AL games. St. Ben got only two hits but they were enough to hand Northwest Kivans its first loss, 4-1. Pitcher Len Gaches homered with one on as the Police tripped Pontiac Boys Club, 4-1.

Hitless and trailing 1-0, the Eagles scored eight runs in the 4th to whip the Tasty Freeze 8-1 in the Wildcat program. Gurling drubbed Baldwin Pharmacy 14-1. The Tigers took the Warriors, 11-2 and F. I. B.

Disqualification Stirs Riot

Yank Wins Wales' Fight

PORTHCAWL, Wales (AP) — Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y., was nursing only a slight cut over his nose today as a souvenir of his bout with European heavyweight champion Dick Richardson and an ensuing riot during which the fans pelted the ring with a variety of missiles.

The explosion came after referee Eugene Henderson disqualified the Welshman in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round fight for butting. The crowd, which had sat in a dripping rain in the outdoor arena, promptly went into action, hurling bottles, chairs, newspapers and umbrellas in a wild demonstration. DeJohn floored Richardson three times in the first round, and again in the sixth. But on the whole it was a butting, wrestling exhibition which aroused the ire of the spectators, who had expected much more from the two men.

The American punished Richardson severely with jabs and hooks. The referee had warned both men about butting at the start of the seventh, and stopped the fight when Richardson persisted in such tactics in the next round.

Qualifying Shoots Begin Friday

Pick 1st U. S. Olympic Trap Team Since 1924

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The first U. S. Olympic trapshooting team since 1924 will be selected in three days of competition starting Friday over Ft. Benning's International traps, only shooting layout of its type in this country.

A five-man service team is expected to have an edge in winning the two Olympic berths because of training in the Army's advanced marksmanship unit since late March.

The Amateur Trapshooting Assn. concedes that international trapshooting is more difficult than the type of clay target shooting that has developed in the United States and Canada.

International targets are thrown from 77 to 99 yards at an unknown angle in 90 degrees. At 11 yards from the traps, the target elevation may range from 3 feet 3 inches to 13 feet.

American targets are thrown only 48 to 52 yards within an unknown 48 degree angle. International targets, however, get two shots at each target with no penalty for a second shot.

American trapshooters have been missing from the Olympics since 1924 because of disagreement with the U. S. Olympic Committee specifically Avery Brundage, over what constitutes an amateur.

Trapshooters throughout the world compete for cash prizes and give pro rating only to full-time employees of sporting goods companies.

Elks Reach 'A' Finals

The Elks moved into the championship round and Arvo Reilly batted a lower bracket semifinal berth against Stadium Inn with Class A playoff victories Wednesday night. Arvo and Stadium clash tonight at Northside at 8:30. Elks, which meets the winner, Friday at 7 p.m. at Beaudette Park, ripped Stadium 2-1, scoring the runs in the opening inning on singles by Ed Goodell and Earl Lambertson and the first of three straight doubles by Linus Grant.

Jake Mazur hurled two-hit ball losing a shutout in the 7th on a walk, two infield outs and an error. The left two men on base by fanning the final batter. Arvo had to come from behind to eliminate the Pontiac Merchants. 3-2. A triple by Jerry Larson, a walk and Joe Gauthier's double got the Merchants out ahead in the 2nd.

The Realty nine got even in the 5th combining three hits and some walks and tallied what proved to be the clincher in the 6th on Bill Buck's single, a fielder's choice and single by Dayton Patterson. Winner Walt Travis retired the last eight batters in succession — six on strikeouts.

Golfers Start at Eastern Open

Palmer, Snead, Wall Are Playing Exhibitions Instead

BALTIMORE (AP) — Golf's traveling show took over the Pine Ridge course today for the opening of the $25,000 Eastern Open without having to worry about the likes of Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead.

Palmer, Snead, and another topflight PGA tourist, Art Wall Jr., chose instead this week to play for guaranteed exhibition fees in adjacent Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Bob Rosburg, PGA tournament committee chairman said Snead was paid $500 to play only in Wednesday's Eastern pro-am and $1,000 was dangled unsuccessfully before Palmer and Wall to come here for the 72-hole tourney.

Meanwhile, the 142 pro entered for the four rounds of the Eastern promise to give the Pine Ridge par of 72 a licking. Fifty tuned up in the pro-amateur event and 26 were under par despite playing in showers that added length to the 6,820 yard course.

Three of the leading 10 money winners on the tour, Venturi, Doug Ford and Gene Littler are among the foremost entries going the full Eastern route.

Wins Twice at Downs

DETROIT (AP) — Driver Don Hall brought in two winners at Northville Downs last night, winning with Nibble Away in the fifth to pay $11.60 and with Lew MacPherson in the seventh for $11. A crowd of 4,485 bet $212,902.

Miss Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lawson, took the first place trophy with a dazzling display of tricks on choppy waters. She is a graduate of West Bloomfield High School and has attended Hillsdale College.

Richard Kessler, of Royal Oak, took third place in the boat race division. He missed a chance of winning when he had to finish the race on one cylinder.

Navy Officer Takes International Crown

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Navy Lt. (jg) Michael G. Bode, a 25-year-old jet pilot from the Pensacola Naval Station's Whiting field, won the international two pistol match at the national rifle and pistol matches here Wednesday by scoring 537 out of a possible 600 points on the 50-meter targets.

It was his first try at international competition.

An Army enlisted man, Specialist 4 Robert E. Stoecker, of St. Louis, won the international rapid fire pistol title with a score of 560 out of a possible 600 points on the 25-meter silhouette target.

West Virginia beat Pitt eight times, lost twice and tied twice in various sports events during the past year.

Stymie was claimed for $2,500 as a 2-year-old but didn't win a stakes race until he was a 4-year-old. He eventually earned $208,486.

Best Water Skiers in Midwest at Loon Lake This Weekend

Eleven States to Participate in Tournament

Large Number Entering From Pontiac Aim for National Berths

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
The cream of the crop among Midwest water skiers will appear on the local scene this weekend at Loon Lake when the 3-day Midwest Regional Water Ski Championships take place Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Michigan's top water skiers who qualified in the state meet last weekend at Loon Lake will compete against the champions of 10 other Midwestern states.

The top skiers of the Midwest tournament will then get the chance to compete in the National Championships to be held at Minneapolis, Aug. 15-18.

Pontiac, Jackson and Ann Arbor skiers dominated the top positions among Michigan entries.

Nancy Maasler, women's state slalom champion from Pontiac and Marilyn Larwick, who won the slalom event, also from Pontiac, will compete in their respective divisions.

Paul Boel, of the Cass Lake Ski Club, will defend his seniors' jumping title in the Midwest meet. Boel jumped 105 feet in the state meet last weekend but failed to place among the top three because of a fall on another jump. He took second in the Nationals last year.

Ray Pullerton of Ann Arbor, winner of the state jumping crown last Sunday, and Bill Bibbie also of Ann Arbor, the two-time state slalom champ, will face some of the best in the nation in their races.

John Rosh of Minnesota is the nation's top jumper. He has jumped 135 feet as compared to the world mark of 142 feet. Rosh is a member of the Cyprus Gardens Water Ski Show in Florida.

One of his top competitors is expected to be the Illinois State jumping champion Terry Neagard.

Lynn Vermuelen 16-year-old skier from Jackson, is a strong contender in the boys' division. Vermuelen won the trick events in the state meet and although he had the top jump he finished second in the event and was third in slalom.

Some of the Pontiac entries in the various divisions include Randy McCully in the boys' jumping event; Bev Olson in the women's slalom; Ken Overt in men's tricks; Tony Mitchell in men's jumping and Dave Punks in men's slalom. In Mixed Doubles, mixed Goldsman and Ray Pullerton of Ann Arbor, Glenda and Dick Dorris of Pontiac and Jean and Jo Chirup of Pontiac were the top three state teams last year in the Midwest tournament.

The events start Friday at 7:00 a.m. and continue through the day in the boys' and girls' divisions. On Saturday the women and seniors' events take place and on Sunday, also starting at 7:00 a.m., all the men's events will be held along with the mixed doubles.

The final event gets underway usually about 4:00 p.m. There is no admission for spectators and entry is near the Edgewater Beach Motel, on Dixie Highway, which is one of the sponsors of the tourney.

Another Big Calico

Here's what may be the biggest calico bass of the season, up to now, for the Pontiac area.
Cliff Simmons, 15, and his dad, Clifford Paul Simmons, 360, Clarkson road, Lake Orion, were fishing in Lake Oakland when the youngster hooked and landed a 14-inch fish. A small fry, with a spinning lure, "took."

Keeping the Kids Busy Is Key to Happy Boat Trips

Getting children to go for a boat ride is no problem. Here are tips the Mercury outboard people have put together on keeping the youngsters entertained while afloat.

The methods you use on auto trips to keep the young ones occupied, such as guessing games, singing, toys, and coloring books, will work equally well on a boat trip. Afloat, you'll have the added advantages of stretching room.

Fortunately, most of the sports boats are just as much fun for youngsters. Water skiing is easy for young and old alike; fishing, even with a stick and a bent pin, keeps kids busy for hours.

"Helping" to steer, looking for objects along the shore, and keeping track of the various kinds of boats sighted are a few other projects which will hold their interest.

PEOPLE PROCEDURE — Rev. Clark McPhail, right of the Sylvan Village Mission Lutheran church, enjoys scuba diving as a sport and pastime. He helps in the Pine Lake program which has the West Bloomfield Boys' Club classes each week. The program in the past six years has given experience in diving safety to 688 boys. Craig Uter, 12, (in water) gets an assist from Rev. McPhail while Dale Rider, 13, Tom Roy, 13 and Billy Joe Model, 12, watch the instructions.

Scuba Diving Minister Helps Boys in Program

When the congregation at Sylvan Village Mission Lutheran Church saw the bloodshot eyes of their pastor Rev. Clark McPhail during services a couple weeks ago they may have been a little suspicious.

But those red eyes were the result of contributing toward a good cause and not any session with beverages which when taken in excess cause the eyes to change in color.

Rev. McPhail, a former officer in the Marine Corps, is one of the instructors of the West Bloomfield Boys' Club scuba diving program which holds its classes each week at the Pine Lake State Diving Center under the direction of Bill Perard.

Each Monday more than 45 boys assemble to learn the proper procedures and safety measure of skin diving. And they have fun doing it.

The program has been going on for six years and a total of 688 boys have received certificates showing their proficiency in the sport.

Some of the boys have gone on to make skin diving as part of their service careers. Others have become part of community water safety organizations using skin diving for practical purposes.

"This is a wonderful program," says Rev. McPhail, "and not a haphazard process which lets the boys risk their lives without knowing the safety measures of diving."

The 23-year-old pastor, who was an all-around athlete in college, became interested in diving while in the service. When he came to the Pontiac area a year ago he became interested in the program offered to the Boys' Club.

He proceeded to gain a certificate qualifying him to teach in the program and he now enjoys aiding the youngsters to learn the in the fast growing sport.

Rev. McPhail admitted that there is a lot to learn before one can undertake the sport expertly.

He went skin diving with friends and suffered what was known as "the squeeze." The face mask tightened on his face from water pressure at 75 feet and being unaware as to how to relieve the situation, he suffered a slight rupture in the eye.

The bloodshot eye caused his pretty wife to show concern over it.

It appeared that he would have been able to rise before the 10 count and might have misjudged the timing.

The knockdown was the only one of the boat although the 23-year-old Cleroux twice wrestled Harris to the canvas, once just before the knockdown.

Harris was trapped in a corner and felled by a terrific two-handed assault by the hulking Canadian.

The Texan rose dazed to one knee midway through the count and stood up a moment after Referee Tony Mancini had tolled 10 at 1:12.

Answers Vacationing Critic's Rap

Funt Focuses Candid Camera's 'Taint'

Editor's Note: Before leaving for vacation, UPI TV reviewer Fred Danz has written various performances in reply to the criticism of their TV shows. Along with the following, Danz also writes, "Candid Camera" is a television show that is "tainted" by its practical jokes.

Dear Fred:

In criticizing "Candid Camera," you said you prefer "untainted" comedy.

Well, to begin with, in my opinion, there ain't no such animal. By "tainted," I assume, you mean something that's looked up too much. Sailed reality or reality that's impure by provocation.

If you've ever watched a parade of people with their manufactured excuses trying to get out of jury duty, you'd find a funny situation.

Just sitting there listening to them would be untainted comedy, or pure reality, call it what you will.

NEED PUSHING

If I filmed this using the actual judge, you'd find it slow and pompous despite the basic hilarity of the situation.

But if I set myself up as the judge and pushed these people to highlight the humor, then you may have comedy that's tainted, but it's also funnier.

Even a still cameraman shooting real life must catch and highlight its subjects. So do we. Otherwise, instead of "Candid Camera," you might as well just look out the window and observe people.

We feel that "Candid Camera" is at its most justifiable when it takes a universal minor weakness and exposes it so that we can all laugh at it.

As long as the weakness is a common one, then, in effect, we are laughing at ourselves. The man on camera is not singled out as an odd-ball; only because he's typical.

We're at our worst when we get a man who's not typical or a situation that's not universal.

TEMPTED TO BROADEN

For example, the time we dropped quarters on the street and shot the reactions of passers-by. The way they looked was the way we all look.

I admit that we have a great temptation to do broader things, for the audience seems to love them, but we limit ourselves in the interest of good taste.

You mention that sometimes there is a touch of anguish in our comedy. From time to time, we're accused of exhibiting sadism.

Part of this comes from the fact that we don't explain that our subjects were big enough to want us to use their spots.

They wouldn't sign the releases if they felt they had been treated sadistically. So if they don't feel they were treated badly, why right do other people have to say that they were?

You must remember that, of itself, all comedy is exaggeration. We do try to draw the fine line. We're not really doing anything that makes all of us laugh.

WORK AFTER FILMING

A sadist would receive his pleasure during the actual filming and, once the filming was over, wouldn't care what happened.

We, however, spend the bulk of our time working on "Candid Camera" after the filming ends.

In other words, we're being "candid" isn't enough. We've got to cut carefully and hedge our bets just as any other comedian does.

Plus, we haven't the advantage of rehearsal. In essence, while I'm questioning these people, I'm directing them, too.

We've had a number of imitators during the past 10 years and all have failed, partly because they just set a camera down and filmed what happened.

They didn't try to condition it themselves.

To return to your comment about "tainted" comedy, let me say that this proves, "Taint" what you do. It's the way they look.

Cordell, Allen Funt

IT'S NOT FOR YOU — Five-year-old Donna Plants (left) and her sister Chrissy try to keep their Dachshund dog Trixie from nuzzling in at feeding time of the five rabbits they're raising at their rural home about 30 miles southwest of Pittsburgh. But it was Trixie who dragged the new-born rabbits from a wooded area one week ago. This picture shows how well the rabbits have progressed on a special diet formula devised by the children's mother Mrs. Don Plants.

Skimpy GOP Delegate Spending Irks Chicago

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO — The Republican convention has been turning out funnier than the Democrats'. But the skimpy delegate spending is no joke in Chicago.

Oil men and bankers ordered $15,000 in room service liquor a day at conventions at the Conrad Hilton. The Republicans are spending less than a tenth of that.

But everybody's conventional. "Rockefeller's spontaneous demonstration" was much better planned than Stevenson's "spontaneous demonstration," one Republican said.

There was this sort of pressroom gag: "Flash, Walter Cronkite was wounded in action covering the Convention. He was kicked in the stomach by the baby elephant."

But the jokes. You could buy a badge showing a father saying to a son resembling Jack Kennedy, "Son, what you want to be?" Son says, "President." Father says, "No, no, boy, I mean after you grow up."

Another: "Kennedy's going back to high school and write a composition on 'How I Spend My Vacation.'"

Beer drinkers ordered "Rock on draft."

Thomas Dewey, Herbert Hoover and other speakers are "briefed and advised" (not "rehearsed") in TV techniques in a trailer at the amphitheater by Marshall Janison, Emmy-Award winning director. He's in charge of close-circuiting the big show.

He recently coached S. E. Knudsen of Detroit, son of the famous auto-builder, the late "Big Bill" Knudsen. Janison asked the son, General Manager of Pontiac, if he'd like to be President of the U.S.

"No," Knudsen said. "I just want something simple. I want to be President of General Motors."

Virginia Warren's engagement sparkler from John Daly's Big and beautiful. The 11 main Rockefeller suits at the Sheraton Towers cost a total of $1,000 a day.

Red Skelton canceled his luncheon to Tokyo. Bert Parks'll take time off to be master of ceremonies at the Miss America Pageant.

Pretty Nancy Kovack is getting weekly long distance calls from Cary Grant.

EARL'S PEARLS: One difference between telling your troubles to a bartender and a psychiatrist is that the bartender won't tell you to quit drinking.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a teen-age girl who's planning to run away from home, just as soon as she gets a long extension cord for the telephone.

Gary Crosby, at the Las Vegas Flamingo, mentioned his brother Lindsay: "He's awful young. In fact, when he got married they didn't go on a honeymoon—they went to camp." That's earl, brother.

Video Stirs Some Doubts on Convention Usefulness

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Several weeks ago, our dog had a fit. Is there anything we can do if it happens again?

A. The results of nervous strain take their toll on our pets too, and one of the signs of nervous disorder in a dog is a fit. There are many kinds: running fits, barking fits, epileptic, etc. There are varied causes, but all revert to the nervous system.

Diet deficiency, disease, injury or worms can cause these outbursts. If your dog shows signs of excessive barking, running, excitement, foaming at the mouth, or falling, confine him immediately.

Keep children away and don't attempt to teach or aid him without wearing bite-proof gloves. In most cases, the animal will snap out of this siege within 10 or 15 minutes.

If possible, have your pet examined by a veterinarian before another such attack occurs. Forgo home medication until the dog's doctor has ruled out more serious trouble.

Nixon Unanimous 1st-Ballot Choice —Taps Lodge for Number Two Spot

Convention Roars Nixon Approval

Expected, Still Celebrated

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — It was the outcome that everybody expected, but according to a political tradition must be greeted with an outburst of enthusiasm.

HAAS Republican National Convention roll call of delegations before a motion to make a choice unanimous.

This time that pent-up enthusiasm resulted in a demonstration of 18 minutes, in which Michigan joined every other state and territory in letting loose.

GOLDWATER BUILD-UP
A demonstration of about the same length had followed the placing of Nixon's name in nomination, so in a general way the furor exceeded that given Kennedy at Los Angeles.

Astute politicians today are saying that placing the name of Sen. Barry Goldwater before the convention as a presidential candidate was only a build-up for his name as a candidate for the nomination for vice president tonight.

After a demonstration of 10 minutes, which appeared to be quite perfunctory, and the gathering of a few votes on the roll call, Goldwater withdrew his name in favor of Nixon.

Nixon Severs Ties to Ike, Plans to Lead Republicans

WASHINGTON — Beginning today, Richard M. Nixon speaks as the leader of the Republican party, expressing "my own views rather than the Eisenhower administration position."

The vice president and Republican presidential nominee used those words in a pre-convention interview.

He said nomination would be a mandate to assume the party leadership and enunciate Nixon's, as distinguished from President Eisenhower's policies in "the most intensive campaign undertaken in my lifetime."

Nixon said he will not be critical of the past—"I am proud of my association with the Eisenhower administration and its record of accomplishments."

But, he went on, "I will be stating my own views. I will be talking of the new administration and looking to the future."

In a wide-ranging discussion, Nixon paid his respects to the political process of his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, and said he expects his own drive for the presidency to be a "hard, uphill fight."

ONE OF CLOSEST
He said the election will be one of the closest in history and the outcome may depend on events (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Rocky to Introduce Dick for Acceptance Speech

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO. (AP)—The Republican ticket for 1960's crucial election will be: Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for vice president.

A jubilant GOP convention made official on a single perfunctory ballot Wednesday night what long has appeared inevitable.

It nominated Nixon to battle Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic choice.

This will pit in the November balloting a 47-year-old Quaker, a relatively poor man and a self-propelled politician, against a 43-year-old Roman Catholic from a wealthy and politically experienced family.

In a post-midnight conference of the party's top leaders that lasted for 2½ hours, Nixon tapped Lodge, the United Nations ambassador, as his running mate.

Lodge's acceptance was a foregone conclusion. So was the convention's ratification tonight of his nomination for second place, despite the fact that Illinois Gov. William Stratton that some unnamed Midwesterner might be offered as a rival candidate.

Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, the Republican keynote speaker, will place before the convention tonight the name of Lodge as the prospective GOP vice presidential candidate.

Nixon personally announced today that Judd would make the nominating speech. Nixon spoke to newsmen as he entered the Morrison Hotel for a "sunrise-up breakfast" for Republican women.

The vice president also disclosed that he will be introduced for his acceptance speech tonight, as the GOP presidential candidate, by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The vice president was asked if there might be some opposition to his running mate on the Republican presidential ticket.

"There might be," he replied, "but that opposition would be in good spirit if it comes."

Lodge said today he was "overwhelmed" at being selected to be Nixon's running mate on the Republican presidential ticket.

He said that if nominated he expected to resign "some time in August" from his post as U. S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Lodge said he was ready to campaign anywhere in the country and that he was "very optimistic about the outcome."

It will be a fighting campaign, he said.

HAGERTY SPEAKS
At Denver, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today he sees no reason why Lodge would have to resign from (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Thundershowers

May Hit Tonight

The weatherman says there is a chance of scattered thundershowers tonight, and that Friday will be partly cloudy and a little cooler.

The low is expected to drop to about 68 tonight and rise to a high of 84 tomorrow. Fair to partly cloudy, and a little warmer is the outlook for Saturday.

Norwesterly moving winds at six m.p.h. will become southeasterly at 10-20 miles this afternoon and tonight, shifting to northeasterly Friday.

Sixty-four was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac recording 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the reading was 68.

Jog Between Airports Ends in a Cemetery Outside Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A brief helicopter hop between airports ended abruptly in fiery death in a gloomy suburban cemetery Wednesday night for all 13 persons aboard.

"It was a big red flash," said Ed Gauger, who from his back porch watched the helicopter sweep in close over the trees and crash four blocks away. State trooper Henry Piloto said the craft was after before it crashed. The fuselage containing at least five bodies ripped into a cluster of tombstones and erupted in white-hot fire. The tail section with three bodies, was more than two blocks away.

Some of the bodies were burned black; others were twisted in grotesque shapes.

Gauger said he was certain the pilot veered from his regular course to avoid hitting the populated residential area.

An official of the company, Chicago Helicopter Airways, Inc., said it appeared the tail section of the helicopter, similar to one used Wednesday by President Eisenhower on a visit to the Republican National Convention, apparently fell off in flight.

Accuses Them of Sulking on Election Day

Goldwater Hits Conservatives

INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE, Chicago (UPI)—The conservatives of America got a tongue-lashing last night from the arch conservative of them all.

He accused them of having thrown the country on past occasions to the Democrats — a party "dedicated to the destruction of America — by sulking at home on election day instead of voting."

He told them to get out and fight for Richard M. Nixon for president even if they do think the 1960 GOP platform is too liberal in spots.

It's a lot better, he said, than "blueprint for socialism presented by the Democrats" at their national convention in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

The tongue-lashing and the exhortation were delivered by the one man whom conservatives adore above all others in public office — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Goldwater, a handsome, gray-haired, forceful 51-year-old, has been called "the darling of the conservatives," "a conservative's conservative," and "a right-wing reactionary." He glories in such labels.

If the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was "Mr. Republican," Goldwater, a Republican, too, is "Mr. Conservative." There were those at last night's session of the GOP National Convention, which unanimously nominated Nixon for president, who far preferred Goldwater.

NOMINATED GOLDWATER

One of them, Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, defied the emotional personal wishes and put him in nomination. He said Goldwater had won "the admiration of America by his unswerving willingness to call a spade a spade." This touched off a noisy 12-minute demonstration.

Four succeeding speeches followed, each praising the senator as a man of integrity, totally without fear.

The moment they were through, Goldwater appeared on the speaker's platform. He withdrew his nomination, shushed a chorus of "noes," and asked the Arizona delegation to cast its 14 votes for Nixon.

WITHDRAWS NAME — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona withdrew his name from nomination for the presidency immediately after it was placed before the GOP convention last night. He lashed out at conservatives who he charged had caused the GOP to lose to the Dems by default in the past by staying home on election day. He urged them to support Nixon.

TAPPED FOR VEE — United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was tapped at 2:30 this morning by Vice President Richard M. Nixon as running mate on the Republican ticket. He is shown with his wife, the former Emily Sears. The selection came after a meeting of party leaders.

TV Convention Coverage Will Start at 6 P.M.

The final session of the GOP convention in Chicago is slated to begin a half hour earlier this evening at 7 p.m. The start of channel 7's television coverage will be pushed back to 6 p.m. with channel 4 and 7 cutting in at 6:30.

The roll call for nomination of a vice-presidential candidate is the first thing on the agenda. Acceptance speeches by Richard M. Nixon and his running mate will cover the major portion of the evening.

WWJ radio will start its broadcast of the events at 6 p.m. and WZB is slated to switch to Chicago at 7.

First Half GM Profits Top '59 by $22 Million

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors made 22 million dollars more profit in the first half of this year than in the first half of last year—the only one of the big three auto manufacturers to improve on 1959 earnings.

Ford profits were down 21 million dollars. Chrysler completes the picture with its report today. Board Chairman L. L. Colbert has indicated Chrysler made money but nothing approaching the 43 million dollar profit of last year's second quarter.

In its second quarter report yesterday General Motors said its net income amounted to 612 million dollars in the first six months, equal to $2.15 per share. This compared with 590 million dollars, or $2.08 per share, a year ago.

Sales totaled $7,109,000,000 for the January-June period compared with $6,513,000,000 in the first six months last year.

But unlike a year ago both sales and earnings for the second quarter trailed first quarter figures. Earnings of 288 million dollars were down 36 million from the first quarter of this year and were nine million below the second quarter of 1959.

Second quarter sales totaled $3,619,000,000 this year, and $3,306,000,000 last year.

In announcing the figures neither Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner or President John F. Gordon mentioned why earnings were down while sales were up in the April-June quarter.

But the report did say that employment averaged 25,000 more workers during the period and that payrolls of 861 million dollars were $58 million dollars over a year ago.

GM said its factory sales of cars, trucks and buses from plants throughout the world set an alltime sixth month high of 2,660,000 units. This was an increase of 15 per cent over a year ago.

Press Gives State Hopefuls Closer Look

Next Tuesday is primary election. Voters will narrow the field for county offices. The Press has been looking into these races this week.

But there are also state offices to consider. Primary contests begin for governor, lieutenant governor, the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.

3 Are Cleared in Befting Case

Chief Witness Refuses Testimony, Fearing to Incriminate Himself

Charges against three men of violating state gambling laws were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCullum after the key prosecution witness refused to testify on the advice of a defense attorney.

The charges were dismissed at the end of the examination of Jesse Jones, 48, of 50 Deland Ct.; Ernest Johnson, 47, of 428 Linda Vista Dr.; and Lee R. Myers, 46, of 32 Crawford.

They were arrested last month after Edward Ringgold, 45, of 338 Midway Ave., went to police vice squad officers to complain that he had been shortchanged on a gambling slip.

Ringgold was subsequently charged with winning a bet. He retained the same defense attorney as the others, Milton R. Henry, and refused to testify on the ground that he might incriminate himself in his testimony.

Jones and Johnson have more legal battles to cross, however. They were bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday on charges of possessing bet slips. Police testified that they found many bet slips on the two defendants when they arrested them after Ringgold's complaint.

A similar charge against Myers was dismissed. Although police testified that numbers slips were found in his locker at Plant 6 of Pontiac Motor Division, the judge ruled that police had no right to search the locker.

Nixon Cuts Ike Ties, Plans to Take Over neither he nor Kennedy can control. "What happens at home on the economic front, and developments abroad as they affect our hopes for peace, could have a greater impact on the outcome than what the candidates do," Nixon said.

Nixon will spell out his "policies for the 60s" in day-and-night campaigning in the next 30 days. He reserved for the campaign the detailed steps he has in mind on the farm, foreign policy, and economic fronts, and the steps to which they might depart from or build on the Eisenhower programs.

But he was willing to share a few glimpses beyond the campaign at what a Nixon administration might be like. The 42-year-old vice president, who has exercised unprecedented responsibility in that post, would assign even more duties to his own vice president, he said, and seek to end even more the stature of the office.

Nixon, the intense party man, insisted he wouldn't hesitate to pick a Democrat for a key Defense or State Department post. "When it comes to foreign policy and national security, I would not be bound by purely party considerations. In picking the ablest men for such posts, I would not be deterred if I thought the best qualified men happened to be active in the other party," Nixon said.

Nixon's endorsement of the Eisenhower record does not bar him from going beyond it with programs and policies he deems essential to his election. Some of these may well go beyond the platform itself, Nixon is convinced it is great to have Eisenhower on his side, but that no man can transfer his popularity to another, and that he must create an image of his own.

Wants to See Jailed Husband

Mrs. Powers Awaiting Word on Russian Visa

WASHINGTON (U)—Mrs. Francis Gary Powers appealed in person to the Soviet Embassy Wednesday for permission to visit her husband, awaiting trial in Russia, as a spy.

She was told Moscow would have to pass on her visa application, but said she "very definitely" hopes to get the clearance.

"They said they would let us know as soon as they got word from Moscow," said Alexander W. Parker, Richmond, Va., attorney, who accompanied the 34-year-old Mrs. Powers on her hour-long visit to the embassy.

Mrs. Powers, wife of the American pilot of the U2 plane downed over Russia May 1, left her Millidgeville, Ga., home to make the personal appeal.

"I want to be with my husband at this time," Mrs. Powers, dressed in black and carrying a white raincoat, told reporters. She had little more to say.

"She's a little upset and nervous," said W. P. Dickson Jr. of Norfolk, president of the Virginia State Bar Assn., which is helping Mrs. Powers.

Parker and Frank Rogers, Roanoke attorney who also was with the group today, have applied for visas, along with Mrs. Powers. Parker said they hoped to have some answer before the start of the trial, scheduled for Aug. 17.

If they are allowed to attend, Parker said, "We'll do whatever the Soviet law permits," including conferring with Powers' Soviet-appointed attorney.

Parker remarked he wouldn't say they were hopeful about the visas—"We're just waiting."

The pilot's father, Oliver Powers of Pound, Va., has received his visa to go to Russia.

An estimated 82 per cent of all the farms in Idaho are occupied and operated by the farmers who own them.

Comment From Republican Convention

GOP Plays It Safe With LA Cleric

By JOE HAAAS
CHICAGO—Just to offset things, a Los Angeles prelate was brought to Chicago for one of the invocations.

I learn of a very substantial donation to the 1960 Republican campaign fund from a Kalamazoo firm that gave nothing four years ago.

Our Grand Trunk is a part of the largest railway system entering Chicago, the Canadian National.

Oakland County's Dan E. Ahrens, who is soliciting funds for the Republican campaign, has a card which he passes out, showing an elephant with a cup. He circulated some of them at a luncheon, and one came back with 26 cents fastened to it.

A Chicago paper editorializes this way: "The best thing about national political conventions is that they happen only every four years, and that we have only two major parties."

Daffynition to start my Man About Town column: "Draft: A political breeze that isn't dependable."

If my political memory is correct, Richard Nixon is the first vice president nominated for president in 124 years. Martin Van Buren getting that distinction in 1836. He was elected.

Courtesy in exaggeration. They serve free soft drinks on the buses that give newsmen free transportation from their hotels to the convention and back.

Harry Horton, veteran Oakland County supervisor from Royal Oak, is here taking in the doings, and looking for somebody to argue into a yes vote on that courthouse millage proposition next Tuesday.

If you'd like my opinion, I think Eisenhower and Truman, strange as it may seem, have one very commendable habit that's exactly alike. And it has brought millions of votes to them.

Neither loses any opportunity to bring his wife into the foreground.

The impact of Eisenhower's talk Tuesday evening is best expressed in the words of Oakland County Chairman Art Elliott:

"Who remembers much of anything else that happened on that program?"

I often wonder what these bumper carriers do between national political conventions.

Ripon, Wis., is renewing its claim that the Republican party was born there, when a few men, including some Democrats, got together on March 29, 1854, to organize it.

However, they admit that its first real doings of record was at our Jackson, Mich., on July 6, 1854.

Henry Cabot Lodge spent several years as a New York and Boston newspaperman. Well!

There's business as usual at the nearby Chicago stock yards, the largest in the world, as the convention goes on.

They have trucks that haul the same number of cattle as a railroad stock car.

They bring them in from all over the Midwest. And they don't smell so bad.

Chicago, like most every city, including Pontiac, has some vacant stores in its downtown section.

With a sinister application, the Democrats have placed big "Thank You Ike" signs on their windows.

EXCRUCIATINGLY PERSONAL: Only accident so far was the loss of a tooth from my upper plate, broken out in trying to masticate a Washington State-grown apple, bought in Los Angeles.

Serves me right for tackling such a dry and tasteless thing, which should not even be classified as "fruit," when compared to a Michigan product.

Ticket scalpers reaped a harvest on the Eisenhower appearance at the convention.

Gallery tickets that had been passed out too freely by local politicians were bid by some of their recipients to scalpers who were getting as high as $10 for them.

Some arrests were made. The fine usually was $25.

Police were necessary to eject some intruders from the press section. They had climbed 12 feet up some metal scaffolding to stand behind the regular occupants. Two small shrubs were discovered hiding behind me.

I cannot get over that Eisenhower ovation — in a city that is so strong for the opposition party. In my extended span of life, I've never seen anything that even approached it.

Than guy from Mankato, Minn.

now comes back with the query, "Did you say Pontiac, Mich., or Pontiac, Alaska?"

A drunk on a bench in Grant Park, within 25 feet of Michigan Avenue and directly across that street from the largest hotel in the world, slept through it all Tuesday afternoon.

When awakened by the police, he rubbed his eyes and asked, "What's doing?"

There's an Oakland County touch to the Tom Dewey family. Dr. Harold D. Hull of Holly is the only brother of Mrs. Dewey.

Calling on me is Eugene Barstow, now of Elgin, Ill. He was born in Pontiac and his father worked for Probate Judge Thomas L. Patterson in doing odd jobs around the old courthouse over 60 years ago.

He remembers that Dan Davis gave the present Courthouse a clock, and wonders if the Courthouse now under construction will have a clock.

Closeness to the stockyards does not increase the quality of the meat in the hot dogs, as compared to those in Los Angeles.

It Was Nixon's Turn Last Night With Lodge

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight years ago Henry Cabot Lodge brought word to waiting newsmen in a Chicago hotel that a Republican selection committee had recommended Richard M. Nixon for vice president.

Lodge then was managing the campaign of Dwight D. Eisenhower, newly nominated for the presidency.

It was Nixon's turn early today, as the party's presidential nominee, to break the news that he had tapped Lodge to be his running mate.

Suspend 13 Police for Accepting Tips

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Thirty-two members of the police motorcycle squad have been suspended for accepting cash tips from truckers, Police Chief J. D. MacDonald reported.

The chief revealed Wednesday that 11 patrolmen and 2 lieutenants—all but two members of the city's motorcycle squad—have acknowledged taking gifts of from $1 to $5 from truck drivers they escorted across town.

Trucks carrying bulky cargoes which might pose a traffic problem customarily are given escorts.

MacDonald said the 13 officers will remain under suspension without pay, until the investigation is complete. He added: "We're going to put a stop to this practice if I have to get out and ride a motorcycle myself."

New Catholic Catechism Forbids Aiding Racism

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholics today have a new catechism on racial segregation. It includes such points as this: Question: Can a person inclined to racial prejudice completely overcome, by an act of his will, any racial feelings he may have? Answer: He cannot destroy this feeling completely by a single act of his will. To root out this feeling will require time and many repeated acts of the will.

The catechism considers the subject in terms both of theory and deed.

Q. Why is segregation based on race alone immoral? A. Because such segregation is based on "racism" which teaches that certain races and nationalities are inherently and naturally superior to other races.

Q. May Catholics be members of organizations whose purpose is to continue segregation as we know it? A. Catholics may not be members of such organizations because by so doing they are promoting a system which is unjust and uncharitable.

The 17-page "Elementary Catechism" was written earlier this year by the Most Rev. Albert L. Fletcher, bishop of Little Rock, Ark., for use in study groups.

It is being distributed generally this week by the National Catholic Welfare Conference in advance of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice in St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25 to 28.

Tag Arrives in the Congo, Faces Many Delicate Internal Problems

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Cries of "Long live free Congo" and "We demand a united Congo" greeted Dag Hammarskjöld today on his arrival in Leopoldville for a survey of the infant nation's grave ills.

The U.N. secretary-general found the young republic rapidly being pacified by U.N. task forces but facing acute economic and political problems.

He hurried to Leopoldville from Brussels, where Belgian Premier Gaston Eyskens and other officials bluntly told him to keep hands off Katanga, the rich, secessionist province being policed by Belgian troops.

GM Dealers Conclude Talk

U.S., Canada Delegates End 3-Day Meeting With Top Executives

General Motors dealers representing 48 cities in the United States and Canada concluded a three-day meeting today with top General Motors executives in the summer session of the GM President's Dealer Advisory Council.

Factory-dealer politics and other matters of mutual interest were discussed in the meetings, the purpose of which is to facilitate the exchange and development of ideas on how better to serve retail customers.

Thirty-eight GM dealers representing both large and medium sized cities in the United States and 12 dealers from Canadian cities participated in the meetings. Formerly known as the GM Dealer Council, the program was instituted by GM in 1954 in the interest of more effective and equitable factory-dealer relationships.

GM executives at the meeting included Frederic G. Donner, chairman; John F. Gordon, president; Louis C. Gadd, Cyrus R. Osborn, George Russell and Sherrod E. Skinner, executive vice presidents; James E. Goodman, vice president in charge of Body and Assembly Group; Edwin H. Walker, president and general manager of GM of Canada, Limited; Charles A. Chayne, vice president in charge of Engineering Staff.

James M. Roche, vice president in charge of Distribution Staff; Edwin C. Klotzbach, vice president and general manager of Fisher Body Division; Kenneth N. Scott, general manager of the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division; Howard E. Crawford, director of the GM Sales Section; Myrtle E. St. Aubin, director of the GM Service Section, and Patrick J. Crowley, director of the Dealer Relations Section, also attended.

3,500 Indonesians Hold Sumatra Demonstration

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—More than 3,500 youths demonstrated in front of military headquarters in the Sumatra capital of Palembang demanding the outlawing of the Communist party, reports reaching here said today.

The demonstration Tuesday violated regulations against any public display and three leaders of Islamic youth movements were detained for interrogation.

Professor Goes Out of His Way for Night's Sleep

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A history professor who said he couldn't find a vacant hotel room in all of London caught up on his sleep today in a downtown hotel after a 4,000-mile quest for lodging.

Plautus E. Lipsey Jr., 36, checked into the Piedmont hotel last night and apparently dropped off to sleep immediately. At least he didn't answer his telephone.

Lipsey, a professor of Oriental history at Mississippi College, Clinton, Miss., said he had planned to spend a month in Britain, but he cut his visit to one day.

He said in an interview before leaving London Wednesday that in all of London he couldn't find a vacant hotel room, so he was flying back to the United States in order to get a night's sleep.

Famed Biddle House Will Be Dedicated

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The historic Biddle house, sometimes referred to as the oldest and newest house on Mackinac Island, will be dedicated here Saturday.

The house, now completely restored, is prized as a classic example of early French-Canadian architecture.

Parts of the house are believed to date back to 1780. It was acquired in 1821 by Edward Biddle, a cousin of the Biddle family of Philadelphia, noted financiers.

Biddle, a prominent fur trader, lived there with his Indian wife, Adrian N. Langius, director of the State Building Division and chairman of the restoration committee, will preside over dedication ceremonies.

C. A. Osborn of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Society of Architects, which promoted the restoration along with the state building trades, will present the house to Gov. Williams. The governor then will turn it over to the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

Salk Answers His Detractors

Rejects Report That Dead Virus Vaccine Up to 30 Pct. Failure

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Dr. Jonas Salk said today the polio vaccine he developed has been underdeveloped.

In a speech to the fifth International Polio Conference, the American scientist described as untrue reports that the vaccine made of dead virus, leaves unprotected from 20 to 30 per cent of those who receive immunization shots.

He said an investigation he carried out in connection with a polio epidemic in the United States last year failed to show a single person out of 10,000 who did not react to the vaccine. He said one injection had given immunity to part of the population.

He said his vaccine should be developed to where it will give long-term immunization with a single injection. This, he said, is theoretically possible.

Dr. Maurice R. Hillman of Merck Laboratories reported development of a new polio vaccine that under test conditions give immunity to most persons after two injections within a month interval.

Dr. Gordon C. Brown of the University of Michigan said that babies whose mothers had received polio vaccine were born with some protection against the disease. He said, however, it was far from enough.

Wilkins Says Dem Plank Is Strongest

CHICAGO (U)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today praised the civil rights platform planks of both political parties but said the Democratic declaration is stronger and more comprehensive than the Republicans.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the association, said in a statement the Democratic plank is stronger because it does not shrink from the tough topics of a federal Employment Practices Commission and a pledge to press legislation giving the Justice Department broad authority to use injunctive powers to end discrimination in all fields.

Wilkins said, nevertheless, neither party by itself can make good on its platform promises.

"Only through united action by both parties in vigorous support of the pledges they have made in common can we realize the goal of equal justice and equal opportunity to which both parties stand committed and to which our nation is dedicated," he said.

In comparing the two planks, Wilkins said the areas of agreement are much more significant than the differences.

Mac Assailed on Choice of Foreign Secretary

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was lashed by friend and foe alike today for his appointment of a relatively unknown peer as Britain's new foreign secretary.

The last peer to be foreign secretary was Lord Halifax, who served during the war emergency days of 1940.

PLAN CENSURE MOVE
Opposition Laborites plan to introduce a censure motion when the House of Commons debates the government shakeup.

Only stern party discipline has stilled the protests of a number in Macmillan's own Conservative party.

Lord Home, 57, soft-spoken, cricket-loving Scot, formerly held the post of secretary of state for Commonwealth relations.

Some persons believe Macmillan was prompted to appoint Lord Home in the belief that big-time diplomacy these days is conducted by heads of government rather than foreign ministers.

Selwyn Lloyd became chancellor of the exchequer.

State Will Use Latest Count for Tax Rebate

LANSHING (UPI) — State Comptroller Ira Polley told county treasurers they must use the latest available census figures in allocating sales tax rebates to the local units of government.

He appropriated nearly $15.5 million among the counties as the payment for the quarter which ended June 30.

Polley said preliminary census figures issued by the Census Bureau in May were used by his office in determining the shares of the tax pie for the counties.

"We will continue to adjust each appropriation of the latest state and supporting county totals issued by the Bureau of the Census until after the final 1960 figures are received by the Bureau," Polley said.

Rocky Supporter Ezra Benson Sits in Nixon Box

CHICAGO (AP) — Guess who was sitting in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's box late in the nominating proceedings at the convention Wednesday night?

It was Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture, who last week said he thought Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would be the strongest candidate the GOP would nominate.

Benson's own box was crowded. When the vice president's mother and two daughters left the convention an usher told Benson he'd been invited to use the Nixon box.

Benson said he didn't know who had invited him.

Circus Cats Rounded Up After Escape From Truck

MERRITT, B.C. (AP)—Bushland truck accident, which occurred on the quiet little town of Merritt was plunged into a jungle-like atmosphere Tuesday when a circus truck driven by a Michigan man upset in a ditch, freeing two tigers, two lions and a leopard.

The two tigers and a lion were rounded up and prodded back into cages with sharpened poles. The other two big cats had to be shot. One roamed the bush for six hours before meeting death from hunters' bullets.

The slain leopard was cut down with rifles as it tried to attack James Wilkinson, 28-year-old circus worker from Texas who said the animal was "more scared than I was."

RCMP and district hunters shot Sheilah, an old lioness, after she roamed the bush for six hours. Sheilah had given the circus 22 cubs, including some of the animals in the L. G. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus, which moved into Merritt, 150 miles northeast of Vancouver, and set up its show while the hunt was in progress.

Reform Units Will Not
Take Over Campaign,
Robert Kennedy Says

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State's regular Democratic organization will have the "primary responsibility" for running Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential campaign in New York, his brother said Wednesday.

Robert F. Kennedy, campaign manager for the candidate, made the statement as he arrived here to try to patch up differences between reform groups and the regular party organization.

The campaign will be conducted "through the regular Democratic organization," Robert Kennedy said.

There will be citizens committees in New York as elsewhere in the country to supplement the work of the regular Democratic organization.

He said the work would be coordinated by someone from outside the state.

Jackie Observes 31st Birthday: Family Attends

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's wife, Jacqueline, observes her 31st birthday today at a dinner party in the family summer home.

The party is scheduled early in the couple's daughter, Caroline, can attend.

Among those attending will be Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Lee, and her husband, Pring Stantland Radziwill of London. They have been visiting the Kennedy summer home for about a week.

The party will be strictly a family affair. The Democratic presidential nominee has not disclosed what birthday present he will give to his wife.

Young Set Favors
(UPI) — A survey by one of the nation's largest surveying firms has shown that 21 per cent of women under age 21 wear seamless stockings exclusively; age 21 to 25, 22 per cent wear seamless and more than one pair a month. Fifty per cent wear seamless and more than one pair a month. Fifty per cent wear seamless and more than one pair a month.

Old Age Draws Most Disfavor

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.
If you had it in your power to relive one portion of your life, which would it be? Grammar school days? High school days? Your first sweetheart? The young married years?

We put this intriguing thought to 1,042 teenagers throughout the country to determine how the panorama of life appeared to those who have yet to view it through the rose colored glasses of nostalgia.

For most of us, the "good old days" are but a pleasant myth invented by a convenient memory, which clouds away the bad things of the past and enables us to see only the good.

For teenagers, the past—short though it is—has much more validity.

CLOSER, MORE REAL
It is closer, far more real and uncolored by the sifting process of memory.

Our survey shows that they look upon high school and college years as the happiest, and "lead to view the long old retirement years as the unhappiest."

Almost without exception, these youngsters view the young unmarried years as happy years and look with growing trepidation to the slow but sure approach of middle age.

For purposes of this survey, we asked them two questions:
1. When you are old, what do you think will have been the happiest period of your life?
2. What do you think will have been the least happy?

The wording enabled them to project themselves into the future and view the past as if it had already happened.

RANGE OVER FULL SPAN
Their opinions ranged over the whole span of life, from preschool days to the retirement years, but for most, there was no time like the present or the immediate past.

Thirty-seven per cent chose high school days as the happiest. Twenty per cent chose the college years. Twenty-three per cent chose the young married years.

Only 2 per cent thought that middle-age would make them the most happy girl or fellow, and 1 per cent or less chose preschool, grade school, junior high days or the retirement years.

High school age, according to 15-year-old Sheila Spring of Eugene, Ore., "is the time of most freedom and least responsibility. Everything is provided by your parents, leaving you free to pursue many interests."

Steve Gould, 15, of Webster Groves, Mo., took a short leap into the future and voted for the college era because "I think it will be a good feeling to be away from parents and home. The thing I look forward to most is the opportunity to run my own life."

To 15-year-old Bob Fleming of South Bend, Ind., the retirement years will be the happiest because "they finally give you a chance to relax—I think."

What about the least happy years of life?
Again the teenagers' unique vantage point for viewing the past provided some interesting choices. The greatest number, 32 per cent, figured retirement years would be the least happy. Beyond that, there was little agreement.

Fifteen per cent thought grammar school days were unhappiest. Fifteen per cent chose junior high years.

Nine per cent voted for high school years. Two per cent said middle-age. Four per cent picked college and young adulthood.

Best Time of Life? Teens Pick Youth Years

Only 2 per cent, the bottom of the list, were pessimistic enough to think that the young married years would be their unhappiest. "DIDN'T USE ABILITIES"

Most of those who picked school years already past associated their choice with some unhappy experience in their own lives.

"High school days were my unhappiest," said 11-year-old Bill Frederick of Fort Wayne, Ind., "because I did not use my abilities to the utmost degree."

Marla Klumpars, 16, of Grand Haven, Mich., found her junior high school years, just completed, "awful for the most part. There was an education challenge, far too many cliques and everybody was mixed up. These were the last years."

In giving the retirement years the greatest number of unhappy votes, teenagers cited such drawbacks as falling health, feeling useless and unwanted, frustration, lack of interest, the "bore" of watching your friends die off and the general handi-caps of old age.

Helen Kreuger of Green Bay, Wis., spelled out facts of middle age in a particularly helpful analysis.

"I can see myself now," she described her vision of the future. "People by this time have usually lost all appeal for each other physically and emotionally."

"They try to prove to each other that they are still young and fit. As a result, jealousy and fights occur."

"If people could only adjust to this time, it could be a very happy period of life, but we are all only human and refuse to admit to ourselves that time has made its inroads."

"When we are old, we know we are old. When we are young, nobody has to tell us."

"When we are middle-aged, we cannot quite figure out whether we are young or old, which is why I am sure it will be the most unhappy time of our lives."

Summer Presents Hazards

Accident prevention is a homeowner's constant concern, but summer presents its own special hazards and safety hazards which need special precautions. Careful attention to the areas suggested below can help prevent your family's summer living from being marred by accident and illness.

Safety begins in your back yard. Make it a point to examine the playgrounds your children use. If these areas are not well maintained, report this to authorities and see that they're cleaned up.

Children's toys and sporting equipment should be kept in good repair. Shaky bicycles and rusty roller-skates can lead to painful falls, while exposed edges on metal toys can cause dangerous cuts and scratches.

The swimming hole, doesn't have to be a water hazard. If your children are taught how to swim, respect for the water, and the importance of reporting to you where and when they're going swimming, and when they'll return, you minimize both the accident possibilities and the worrying to which you'll be subjected.

Check on outdoor lighting. Spotlights not only make out-does, barbecues more cheerful, but by illuminating shrubbery, furniture and steps you can help prevent guests and family from stumbling over them in the dark. Bright night lights serve also as a deterrent to prowlers in summer when doors and windows are likely to be left open.

Finally, go over traffic safety rules with your children. During the summer they may be from stumbling over them in the dark. Bright night lights serve also as a deterrent to prowlers in summer when doors and windows are likely to be left open.

Take Care of Gray Hair

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
In this day of really lovely hair tint shades, there isn't much excuse for money gray hair streaked with yellow. None of us, I think, really have an aversion to age. But almost all of us have an aversion to its trappings. And these include gray hair.

Unless you're lucky enough to possess that lovely, silvery gray hair which is a mark of beauty in itself, do something about your hair. If you don't want to switch back to a color you needn't. You can keep your gray hair. But ask your beauty operator to give you a silvery rinse when you give your hair a dose.

Stars Leap to Attack of the Sack

By JOE LEWIS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It seems nearly everybody in this glamorous town — from Zsa Zsa Gabor to Bob Hope — is taking a jab at the sack today.

Moskowitz's reaction to the House of Dior's new fashions — unveiled in Paris, sounded like a depth charge exploding in a kid-shaped swimming pool.

The Dior line—featuring bared knees and nonexistent waist and bust lines—also left the male stars as hot as Elvis Presley's guitar.

"THEY'RE HIDEOUS!"
A completely unscientific poll drew these comments:
"They're hideous," said Zsa Zsa Gabor. "Nobody in a sack ever caught a man of color. I don't think a woman should show everything she has. She should leave some things to the imagination and just let a few friends discover them."

Jerry Lewis — "I'm against any style that makes Marilyn Monroe look like a boy. My personal preference is for dresses that, when a girl walks, it looks like two little legs having a fight under a blanket."

Shirley MacLaine — "It'll be a big year for the farmers — the winter will be able to eat anything they want for a year without worrying about their waist line."

Bob Hope — "They ought to put the potatoes back and forget the whole thing. A guy who takes a girl out is entitled to know where things are."

Laurel Balli — "I'm glad I saved my old sack."

Japanese actress Miyoshi Umeki — "Wearing a dress like that is like throwing a rock through a stained glass window."

Dolores Michaels — "Hide a waist line? Never. That's what distinguishes a girl from a guy."

Mita Gaynor — "It's the House of Dior's answer to the untouchables."

With Preventive Measures

Complexions Fight Age

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Preventive medicine has come into its own. When you have a physical examination today your physician will look for any deficiencies and abnormalities which may lead to trouble later on, as well as for any physical problems you may now have. AND he will prescribe preventive measures whenever possible for lurking future difficulty.

You can do somewhat the same for your complexion. There is no reason for a woman to throw up her hands in despair when she glimpses the first little lines at the corners of her eyes or when she sees her first few grey hairs.

If the little lines are treated early enough, deep lines can be delayed for a long time. If they are neglected, they will turn into deep lines just as surely as rivulets will carve a deeper course if let alone.

You actually can "iron out" the first little lines at the corners of the eyes by massaging gently ALONG these lines, using your finger in a rotary motion, (after you have applied cold cream). You must be faithful with this treatment every night.

There are many factors which lead to lines, the thinning of the fatty deposits between the skin and the muscles, facial mannerisms, the general loss of tone, the decrease in the natural oils of the skin. Remember also that good nutrition and exercise contribute to the integrity of all tissues.

Dryness is one of woman's greatest enemies in the fight to prolong youthful appearance. Fight it with regular lubrication of the face and neck. Of course, there are some exceptions.

Some women have very oily complexions and need soap and water treatment several times a day and also astringents. But, the majority of women must keep their outer coating not only well cleansed but well lubricated.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Clear The Way For Beauty," which deals with many skin defects send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48, Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Speak Wedding Promises

Lutheran Church Site of Marriage Ceremony

At a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church, Elizabeth Marthia Warrior exchanged wedding vows with Allan Ray Houshopper before the Rev. Richard C. Stucke.

Altar flowers were white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Daughter of Mrs. Arthur Howard Warrior of Going street and the late Mr. Warrior, the bride was given in marriage by her cousin Arthur Mansfield.

Styled with fitted bodice and skirt made of Alencon lace, embroidered with seed pearls, the bouffant bridal gown of white silk organza over tulle, swept into a chapel train.

Green carnations pin white satin fans complemented attendants' street-length white nylon dresses with all-over embroidery in green, washed with green.

Margaret E. Ousterhout of Minneapolis, Minn., was honor maid and Sharon Sun Hump-shire, bridesmaid.

Deborah Theut, great-niece of the bridegroom, wore floor-length white organza over tulle and carried green carnation petals in a white basket.

The bridegroom, who lives on South Marshall street is the son of James Houshopper of Harrison street and the late Mrs. Houshopper. Arthur Larson was best man with Donald Shaw. Ben DeSantis and Richard Goodwin, ushers.

The new Mrs. Houshopper changed to a two-piece dress of gray cypress silk for traveling to Northern Michigan.

Mrs. Warrior chose a beige lace sheath dress with brown and white accessories for her daughter's wedding and church reception. Pink roses and white carnations, were arranged in a shoulder corsage.

Many Wives Imagine Leaving

NEW YORK (UPI)—A physician who is given to asking psychological questions of his patients was surprised by how many housewives, "seemingly happily married," now and then imagine themselves suddenly leaving home, husband and children.

"A few even go out and start off to return after two or three blocks," said Dr. Robert Sterling Palmer of Boston in reporting on how much a doctor can learn about people by asking the right questions and how much better the people feel when they answer them.

Palmer is not a psychiatrist but an internist, treating the range of common body complaints. But he has long been a student of the effect emotions have on body functions and as long ago as 1950 he published a scientific run-down on personality types and high blood pressure.

His newest report was on 400 run-of-the-mill persons who go to a doctor with a physical complaint. Sixty per cent were women and 10 per cent of these had these occasional fantasies of walking out on their families. Palmer took these women and his other patients to be representative.

Her sister, Jacqueline, as maid of honor, appeared in blue nylon over tulle and held a cascade of pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom had Jerry Campbell for his best man.

The newweds will live in Pontiac.

Sparkling legs will be high fashion this fall. Silver spangles, gold, bronze and barely black shades in sparkling nylon are being introduced in a new fall line of seamless stockings.

While taking blood pressures and otherwise looking his patients over, Palmer asked about feelings of tension or anxiety and if they thought they had a particular dislike, leading up to this question:

"Do you ever ask yourself what you are getting out of life?"

Somewhat later, when they had dealt with that one, Palmer had two more for them: "Do you ever ask yourself the meaning of life?" and "Do you have a sense of dread or foreboding, panic or terror?" Palmer reported to the New England Journal of Medicine that most of the 400 were "more than willing" to answer the questions, and in some detail.

Following scientific methods, Palmer tabulated the answers and found that 47 per cent of the 400 said yes, they did ask themselves what they were getting out of life. "A few felt cheated by life and some said they were often asking themselves what they had given to life."

As for the meaning of life, only 34 per cent said yes and they often asked a question of their own. "Doesn't everyone?" But most of the 400 answered the question by saying, "I don't know" and a few with, "I'm not that deep." Nine per cent said their religious beliefs were the meaning of their lives.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white silk organza over tulle, worn with fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

You Must Draw Line at Anger

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When guests at a hostess do what guests in her house get into a heated argument on a controversial subject? The other evening after this very thing happened in my house and I was really at a loss as to know what to do.

I tried several times to change the subject, but to no avail — instead the argument became more heated and I thought they were going to come to blows. I would appreciate your help in handling a situation of this kind.

Answer: This is the one exceptional time when a hostess has to take a stand like that of a school teacher facing an unruly class. And I exclaim, "Please, please don't let's go on with this. We are losing our tempers and not getting anywhere." If she is serving refreshments this is a good time to pause them.

Dear Mrs. Post: How can my stepmother be included in the newspaper announcement of my wedding? My own mother is not living and my stepmother has been very important in my life and I don't want to ignore her.

Answer: The announcement must mention that you are the daughter of the late—, but it may also state that the bride's stepmother is the former—.

Dear Mrs. Post: I had been ill for some time and was treated at a clinic by a well known doctor who put me on the road to recovery. There was no fee for his services, I feel I owe him a debt of gratitude for what he has done for me. Will you please tell me how I can properly show my appreciation?

Answer: An appreciative letter of thanks for his skill in treating you is all that is necessary — and would, in fact, be more pleasing than any gift you could send.

U.S. Shames Itself With Litter

Litterbugs' Delight is an apt name for the summer season.

And — according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. — this is the period when the national menace, the trash-tossing, really comes into its own.

Clear, sunny weather awakens a feeling of well-being in most of us, often translated into a spirit of cleanup activity.

In tune with nature we want our homes to be clean and shining and attractive.

SAME RULE APPLIES
Yet with living in the out-of-doors so much a part of the American plan, it seems reasonable to assume that when national moods encourage good housekeeping in the outdoor world in which we live and work and play.

Some of us are preparing for a stay at the summer cottage, many are getting children ready for camp and still others are eagerly looking forward to "two weeks with pay" at some pleasant resort.

But unless the trash-tossing pro-mote of the motoring and va-containing public have changed radically overnight, much of our pleasure will be marred.

For the activities of litterbugs, unfortunately, are not confined to highways and city streets.

High on the list of priorities to plague the swimmer, the sun worshiper, the picnicker and the motorboat enthusiast is the swarm of litterbugs that regularly invade our camps, beaches and waterways.

How often have you and your family chosen a beautiful scenic spot for your picnic lunch only to find some thoughtless camper have had the same idea.

PRESENCE OBVIOUS:
You know they've been there because they've left the remains of their repast for you to clean up.

Have you ever had an outing spoiled when one of your youngsters, or even you have, invaded our camps, beaches and waterways, suffering nasty injuries because of debris tossed on beaches, in lakes and streams, in parks and playgrounds?

Some of these cuts and abrasions result in serious infections.

If you stop to think of it you'll agree that litter, besides being a blot on the beautiful face of America, is a threat to health and safety, a fire hazard, a drain on the taxpayer and a national disgrace.

It is estimated that more than fifteen million tons of garbage go toward cleaning up primary highways every year.

Multiply that by the staggering amount of trash tossed at the vacation resorts, on rural roads, on beaches, in parks and in recreation areas.

The total is appalling. There are many better ways to spend our money.

FOUR FACTS
But why has litter become a national problem of such gigantic proportions?

There are four logically causal factors — more people, higher income per capita, more leisure and more mobility.

Perhaps the simplest way to put it is to say that too many people when away from home take a vacation from responsibility as well as from their jobs.

Keep America Beautiful, Inc., offers the following suggestions for promoting good outdoor manners: Always carry a litterbag or other container in your car or boat for travel trash.

Near throw litter or trash out the car window or overboard. Never leave a messy camp or picnic site.

Once Top Vacation Choice

Denver's Too High for Ike

DENVER (UPI) — This used to be one of President Eisenhower's favorite vacation spots. Now he finds it sort of frustrating.

The one thing he simply hasn't been able to find around here is a sea-level golf course.

It was here, at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elvira Doud, on Lafayette street, that Ike suffered a serious heart attack in 1955.

Since then, he comes to the mile-high city only on short visits. One reason is that his doctor, Howard Snyder, takes a cautious approach to exercise at high altitude by the country's number one former heart patient.

His favorite sport is golf. He has been playing daily at Newport, R.I., where he and Mamie have been vacationing for the past couple of weeks. He also likes to fish.

Doc Snyder for a year or so after Ike's recovery didn't want him to come back to Denver at all. Later he eased the ban provided the President agreed not to attempt any strenuous sport.

That has tended to rule out most of Ike's vacation fun. Cherry Hills Country Club, his favorite course here, is a hilly layout that he usually played by electric cart even before he had his attack. His favorite fishing spot is at Fraser, Colo., which is some 4,000 feet higher than Denver.

Oh well, Doc Snyder has nothing at all against bridge, at any altitude.

Pro-U.S. Liberals Win Again in Japan

TOKYO — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's ruling conservatives rolled up another smashing provincial election victory Wednesday — their third this month — over a left-wing opponent who campaigned against Japan's new alliance with the United States.

Liberal-Democrat Kotoku Kanda, 51, a veteran of 26 years in public service, overwhelmingly defeated progressive independent Gihachi Tamoda, 54, backed by both Socialists and Communists, for governor of Gumma Province. Two other minor candidates ran far behind.

Republicans First to Back Court on Segregation End

CHICAGO — It has taken the Republicans, as a party, six years to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools.

The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.
