K Can't Make Date, but Likes Summit Lineup

PARIS (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev's one reservation in his cordial acceptance of the West's proposal for a Paris-in-the-springtime summit meeting left the starting date up in the air today.

That means yuletide work for diplomats of the United States, Britain and France on the question: If not April 27, when?

April 27 was proposed by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle at their meeting here last weekend for a Paris session.

The Soviet Premier, perhaps the fore-runner of a series of summit meetings on world problems.

But that almost certainly would mean the Paris conference — expected to last at least a week — would run through the May Day

LONDON (UPI)—Consultations among the Western governments on an alternate date for an East-West summit conference will begin on Monday, official sources said today. The consultations will be "through normal diplomatic channels."

DETROIT (AP)—A Roseville man ran amok with a shotgun and stood off more than 20 policemen for half an hour before he was wounded and captured last night.

Henry H. Ainsworth, 35, was treated for a minor leg wound and held a police prisoner without charge at a mental clinic after the battle around his home.

Ernest Thomas, Roseville police dispatcher, said a man who identified himself as Ainsworth telephoned at 11:04 p.m., apparently while a Christmas party was in progress at his home, and said: "I'm going to shoot the whole bunch."

Roseville policemen Robert Peters and Robert MacPhearson said when they arrived at the home Ainsworth was standing in his driveway loading a 12-gauge shotgun and that he fired at them. They radioed for reinforcements.

The man stood in the driveway cursing and firing wildly at irregular intervals.

He was wounded by one of four police shots fired as he ran to cut off police attempting to converge on the back of his house. He drove them back and managed to run into the house.

But 15 minutes later, Ainsworth walked out with his hands in the air and surrendered. Police, at the time, were preparing to make a tear gas attack.

He Legged the Loot

DENVER (UPI)—Police said Paul C. Stone admitted taking money from a robbery when they discovered he was hiding $424 in cash in his artificial leg.

Pontiac Youth Tells Story of Delinquency

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG
When the 14-year-old showed up to meet the officer in a small room in Pontiac's City Hall, it was hard to distinguish him from any other youngster his age, except maybe by the pointed shoes.

Neat and well groomed, the thin youngster in faded blue jeans and light red jersey has been branded juvenile delinquent.

He wasn't facing a policeman, but George Caronis, Pontiac's Youth Assistance officer.

Caronis' job as a Protective Services Division caseworker is to help the boy before he winds up in jail, to nip his delinquency in the bud before it becomes an adopted pattern.

Ted (as we will call this boy) is left in the care of his grandparents. His mother met a violent death when he was five. His father has a drinking problem, works nights and sleeps days.

Ted goes and comes as he pleases. He has been arrested for malicious destruction of property, stealing and as a peeping Tom. He now sees Caronis once a week. This is how one of the interviews went recently:

Q. Ted, you are here because we are trying to find out why you are continuing in your delinquent behavior. Can you tell me what your latest involvement has been with the Police Department?

A. Yes, I went over to my girl friend's house and there was a bunch of boys there and her mother wouldn't let us in. This boy had a zip gun. It was in the garage and I fired it once.

Q. Who made the zip gun?

A. He did.

Q. Are there a lot of zip guns in town?

A. That's the only one I've ever seen.

Q. Would anybody use it against a person?

A. Sure.

Q. Would they think of using it in a violent way?

A. Yes.

Q. What about your father? Your father didn't he?

A. Yes, he drank quite a bit.

Q. Is this still true today?

A. Uh, not as much as it used to be. I mean, he doesn't come home really loaded. Uh, in a situation where it's right in front of him all the time. I mean, guys are all the time buying him drinks. He could say no, but he doesn't.

Q. Do you respect your father?

A. I do. He's always been good to me. Dad and I are real good friends.

Q. Would you say that dad's discipline has been a little lax?

A. Yes, I would say so.

Q. Do you feel if he wasn't so lax, you wouldn't be doing some of these things that are getting you into trouble?

A. Yes.

Q. You have shown some adjustment here, Ted, and yet you continue your delinquent behavior. How do you size yourself up? Would you say that being in a group you do things you wouldn't do by yourself?

A. Definitely. When you get three or four together and they're all about the same, something wrong will happen.

Q. How do you think you fit into

Birmingham Youth Killed in Auto Crash

Berkley Man Fatally Injured by Bulldozer in Southfield

A Birmingham High School student was killed Christmas morning when he lost control of his car on Woodward avenue just north of Bloomfield court.

The accidental death of a Berkley man the day before Christmas was listed as an occupational fatality. He was killed in a bulldozer accident in Southfield.

Timothy N. Bearden, 17, of 2169 Tottenham Rd. was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital at 4:30 a.m. Friday.

Police said the boy must have been going at a high rate of speed when the car swerved to the right, jumped a curb and struck two trees and a fire hydrant.

The teen-ager is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Bearden. His father is president of Judge W. Bearden Diversified Manufacturing Co., Detroit.

Service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Monday at the Holy Name Church. Burial will take place in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. The body is at the William Vasu Funeral Home, 4375 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak.

Surviving also are three brothers, Wesley, Ned and Daniel; and two sisters, Susan and Patricia.

Southfield police said a father of three, Carl E. Sawyer, 27, of 3072 Robina Rd., Berkley, was killed instantly shortly after 2 p.m. Thursday when the bulldozer he was driving hit a ditch in a field on Webster road at Southfield and Evergreen roads.

INSTALLING SEWER
Sawyer and a crew of men were installing sewer lines in the field.

A fellow worker, Cecil Howie, 35, of 807 Vermont St., Royal Oak, told police he was working in another part of the field when he saw the bulldozer hit a ditch.

He said Sawyer was tossed from his seat into the machinery of the front part of the vehicle.

Service will be held at 1 p.m. Monday at the Sawyer Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Surviving are Sawyer's wife, Betty; three daughters, Cynthia, Deborah and Linda; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sawyer of Algonac.

They Didn't Make It Home for Christmas

YULE TRAGEDY—As Christmas morning dawned a neighbor spotted this wreckage on the farm of Sam Dethmers five miles north of Lowell. After an investigation, a tragic story unfolded. A young couple, Elizabeth and Robert Hagstrom of Denver, Colo., died in the crash on their way to Massachusetts for the holiday. Although the plane cracked up on Christmas Eve, no one noticed it until the next morning.

Blast Clobbers Kentucky Town in State Air Crash

190 Homes Shattered as Warehouse Explodes in Warsaw

WARSAW, Ky. (AP)—An explosion in a soft drink and beer distributing house ripped through the heart of this town of 1,000 persons on Christmas, causing damage estimated at two million dollars.

The warehouse owner, Jack Smith, 32, was burned from head to ankles. Three others were taken to hospitals and at least 12 others suffered injuries.

Twenty houses were destroyed and about 190 of this town's 250 houses were damaged. Some were jarred off their foundations and the roofs of some were wrenched loose.

Fire Chief Delmar Alexander said damages to the ruined plant, on busy U.S. 42, amounted to $400,000.

Howard Yandell, chief, liquid propane gas inspector for the State Department of Public Safety, said the blast may have come from a gas-and-oil furnace in the warehouse.

An ambulance attendant said Smith told him en route to a hospital that the explosion came as he lighted a cigarette in his office.

State Police sent 50 troopers into the wrecked town to prevent looting and keep back the curious.

Denver Couple Dies in State Air Crash

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
IONIA—Christmas presents scattered in the wreckage of a smashed plane told a tragic story yesterday of a holiday trip which ended in death for a young Denver, Colo., couple.

Robert Hagstrom, 28, and his wife, Elizabeth Jane, 26, died Christmas Eve when their private plane plunged into the earth on a farm near Ionia.

Police said the couple's plane apparently crashed Christmas Eve but no one knew about the crash until the next morning when Mrs. R. G. Roth spotted the wreckage on the farm of a neighbor, Sam Dethmers, on M91 five miles north of Lowell.

Dethmers, after learning of the crash, said he heard a swishing sound Christmas Eve but did not investigate.

Police said the plane apparently ran out of gas and cracked up while trying to make an emergency landing on the highway.

The craft crashed with such force that its engine partially buried itself in the frozen ground. Wreckage was scattered over a half-mile area. Christmas gifts, including a teddy bear, were found in the wreckage.

Denver police said the couple was en route to Massachusetts to spend Christmas with their families. They said the couple had been married little more than a year and had no children.

Both worked in the Martin Aircraft plant at Denver.

Police said no search had been launched for the couple because they had not filed a flight plan. Officials at the Denver Airport said Hagstrom was an experienced pilot.

Husband Runs Car Into Helpful Wife

DETROIT (AP)—Leslie Shillinglaw, 68, struck and fatally injured his wife in a freak accident as he parked his car in a garage here yesterday.

Police said Mrs. Shillinglaw opened the garage doors for her husband. As he drove in, the auto brushed Mrs. Shillinglaw and Shillinglaw apparently panicked.

He shoved the car into reverse, backed into a utility pole, then lunged forward again, striking his wife and roaring through the rear wall of the garage, police said.

Christmas Emergency

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (UPI)—Mayor K. Neil Thurmond had the best of intentions when he gave his two-man police force Christmas Day off and set about doing their work himself. But Thurmond had to call the policemen back on the job when his wife gave birth unexpectedly to a baby boy.

7 Fatalities Every Hour May Push Figures Above Predicted 530

Michigan has made a grim contribution of 15 lives to a mounting national traffic death toll which has led authorities to plead for redoubled safety efforts.

As the halfway point of the three-day holiday neared, more than seven persons lost their lives each hour in accidents involving cars, buses and trains.

A spokesman for the National Safety Council urged motorists to use extreme caution during the coming hours. He blamed the highway death toll on bad weather and heavy traffic.

Seven deaths an hour could raise the count for the holiday span—which actually covers 78 hours—above the 530 estimate of the National Safety Council.

The Michigan toll included four children and a 17-year-old youth.

Two of the children, a brother and sister aged 7 and 8, died only hours before an anticipated visit by Santa Claus in Allegan County. An 11-year-old Detroit was killed when hit by a car Christmas Eve. A 6-month-old Alma baby and a Birmingham 17-year-old died in Christmas Day smashups.

The Associated Press weekend tabulation of traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Thursday. It ends at midnight Sunday. Over the Christmas weekend a year ago traffic claimed 21 lives.

During the first 30-hour period of the Christmas holiday last year, fatalities reached 207. This year the figure stood at 217 when the 30th hour passed. The 1958 holiday ran 102 hours.

However, the 1959 Christmas holiday fatality average had not approached that of the most recent comparable three-day Christmas period — 1955.

That year 609 persons died on the highways. Last year's four-day span took 599 lives.

Five children and three adults died near Haverstraw, N.Y., when their auto tore into a steel and concrete blockhouse. Police said the vehicle was speeding.

Near Tchula, Miss., six persons perished in a two-car crash. Seven were injured. Five died in a similar collision near DeQuincy, La.

A passenger train traveling at 70 miles-an-hour and an auto collided near Joliet, Ill. Three occupants in the car were killed.

A car-bus crash near Weslaco, Tex., killed three persons in the auto and injured three bus passengers.

Rough Sledding Ahead in Warming, Wet Weather

Boys and girls hoping to try out their new ice skates and sleds and those planning to go skiing will have to wait until next week.

A warming trend is moving across the state and may be accompanied by showers in most sections of the state during the week-end, the weatherman said.

In some places the rain will remove all trace of snow already on the ground, making it difficult even to keep artificial snow on slopes.

Low temperatures in the Pontiac area will be near 45 tonight, going up to 55 Sunday.

This morning's heavy fog with occasional drizzle was expected to turn to rain late tonight and Sunday.

The warming trend will continue until Tuesday or Wednesday when it will turn colder again and the rain will change to snow.

Southerly winds at 5-10 miles an hour this morning will increase to 15-25 miles by tonight, continuing Sunday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 36 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 46.

Santa-Trooper to Rescue

Sheds Garb, Grabs Man

LELAND (P) — State Trooper Morris Tubbs, who started out to play Santa Claus, ended up wrestling a shotgun from a man to end a tense, bullet-spattered hour in a residential district here Thursday.

A shotgun-toting fisherman barricaded himself in his home. Police bullets and teargas shells, punctuated by three blasts from the fisherman's shotgun, routed the man.

Tubbs vaulted onto the porch as the man came out and wrestled him to the ground to end the Christmas Eve drama.

Marvin William Cook, 45, was lodged in Leelanau County Jail pending further investigation.

Someone complained of a family quarrel at the Cook home. Sheriff Bob White, who said there had been several such incidents in recent months, answered the call along with Deputy Gerald Smith.

When White entered the home, Cook pointed a double-barreled shotgun at him and ordered him to leave. White said he couldn't calm Cook, so he went to the car and called for help.

Five troopers, including Tubbs and another on a Christmas gift mission, were sent from the Traverse City post.

Cook fired a shotgun shell "to prove to you that I am not kidding."

Tubbs and Allison went back, once Cook was jailed and delivered the presents to a needy family, for whom they'd been gathered.

these boys you run around with? Do they look up to you?

A. No, I don't think they give a hoot about anybody, really. I don't think they really care whether they get into trouble or not. They wear motorcycle jackets and things like that.

Q. Do you think this kind of dress is a fad?

A. No, I wouldn't say that. I think it's a good sign of trouble.

Q. How many of these kids are in school? Are they a small percentage, or more?

A. A small percentage.

Q. Are these the kids who get into trouble?

A. I would say so.

Q. You said they don't care and don't have any feelings. Would they go out of their way to use a zip gun?

A. I don't think they'd go out of their way, but I don't think they'd be scared, either, because the home situation is bad.

Q. Would you say these boys have been delinquent because of poor home environment?

A. That's right.

Q. What do they think about?

A. I would say so. They just think about now. They don't think about yesterday or tomorrow. They just think about what they're going to do now.

Q. Are you still defiant?

A. I'm good to teachers at school until maybe I do something wrong. It's my fault the majority of the time. I'd say Teachers.

Q. If one gets you for something wrong then he'll tell the next one and all of a sudden every teacher...

...if you're walking down the hall they'll stick their heads out just to see if they can catch you. And you're not doing anything more wrong than the next kid, but you're down to the office, down to the office, down to the office.

Q. What do you need to do to build a positive relationship?

A. First, at home I think maybe the kid should get more responsibility. And maybe the parents should look into the kid's school and go to PTA meetings and talk to the teachers and talk to their friends and see what kind of people they hang around with, but I think a lot of the parents now don't do things like that.

Burning Freight Cars of Gas Warily Eyed

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., (P)—Firemen and train crews are keeping watch today on 28 burning freight cars following a Christmas night derailment. Five of the cars carried manufactured gas.

At least one of the cars carrying gas exploded during the night, according to Southern Railway officials in Birmingham. They said no injuries were reported.

The derailment occurred in an isolated rural section 15 miles east of here. Firemen were unable to get heavy fire-fighting equipment to the wreckage.

Nikita Wants Date of Summit Changed

Foreign Office said "No doubt something can be worked out." A French spokesman said prior commitments almost rule out the possibility of a summit meeting in April.

"It should be possible to find a date in May which would be acceptable to all of the four powers," he said.

In Washington, State Department translators did a speed-up job on Khrushchev's message to Eisenhower and got it quickly into the President's hands. There was no immediate White House reaction.

One point sure to be in the background of Western consultations is the fact the United States, Britain and France still have some differences on issues to be talked over with Khrushchev. Diplomatic experts could use extra time to resolve them in the interests of a common front.

Snow, Rain, Freezing Drizzle

Nation Somber and Wet

By The Associated Press

Somber and wet weather ranged over the nation Saturday.

There was snow, rain and freezing drizzle. Fair skies peeked through cloud covers in only three areas: the central Gulf Coast, Florida and the Carolinas and California-Nevada.

Rain that turned to snow fell at higher elevations during the night from Arizona and New Mexico northward into Montana. Salt Lake City got an inch of new snow and several areas in central Arizona reported about .25 inches. Two roads were blocked in south-east Colorado.

Scattered patches of light rain or drizzle fell from northern California northward to the Canadian border, from Texas into the Central Plains and from the Gulf of Mexico northward through the Ohio River region.

Drizzle and freezing drizzle made roads slick and hazardous from North Dakota eastward into the upper Great Lakes area, especially Wisconsin.

Scattered, light falls of snow fell down on New England.

Temperatures rose from 5 to more than 20 degrees in the eastern two-thirds of the nation during the past 24 hours. Mercury readings in New England soared from near zero to the 30-degree mark during the night.

Commission to Receive Library Parking Sketch

BIRMINGHAM — City Engineer G. R. Serenbetz will submit a preliminary sketch and plan for the proposed parking lot on the Baldwin Public Library property to the City Commission at its regular Monday night meeting.

The one basic design consists of 45 degree angle parking on the southerly portion of library property with the entrance at Bates and the exit at Chester. The plan calls for 19 parking stalls.

Serenbetz said the total estimated cost of the project is $12,300.

Included in the estimate is the construction of a 27-inch high brick wall extending along the north line of Merrill Street from Bates to Chester at a cost of $3,840.

Also included in the estimated cost is the $1,045 for the installation of 19 parking meters.

Serenbetz said the basic design could be expanded to accommodate an additional eight spaces by placing a second row of angle parking at the westerly end of the library property extending east from Chester. The addition would cost approximately $1,600.

A 14-year-old Birmingham boy suffered first, second and third degree burns about the face Thursday when a trash container exploded while he was throwing in waste papers.

Donald Gardner of 6348 Tubbury Lane, was listed in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, today.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been determined.

Hiking Woman Doctor
Rests Her Sore Feet

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Barbara Moore, self-styled superwoman who finished a 373-mile hike on Christmas Eve, was suffering today from nothing more serious than sore feet.

A spokesman at Paddington General Hospital said her feet are still blistered but "physically she is feeling quite fit."

IRS Planning
Tax Crackdown

Will Get Tough With Firms Allowing Liberal
Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is preparing to get tough with corporations that allow their officials to "live it up" on tax-deductible expense accounts.

Informed sources said the government was likely to change corporate tax forms so that companies will be required to answer detailed questions about deductions claimed as "ordinary and necessary" business expenses.

But no change will be made in the tax forms filed by some 60 million individual taxpayers.

The new questions would go on next year's corporate forms, not this year's. An announcement of IRS action may be forthcoming next week. This would give companies a full year's notice of the scrutiny due to come on the returns they file in 1961.

Highly placed revenue service sources acknowledged last night that the "get tough" decision was in large part inspired by pressures from congressmen.

Several have told Tax Commissioner Dena Latham they don't know how to answer letters from voters who complain about people who live it up on business expense accounts.

He's No Longer
Trying to Get Into the Act

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A heckler, shouting retorts to actor Basil Rathbone's lines, created temporary havoc this week at a performance of the play "JB." He was hustled out of the Hanna Theater by police after he stopped the show.

The man, in his 60s, began answering Rathbone's lines shortly before the middle of the first act.

Rathbone, who plays the part of the Devil, commented on the evil man God has created. The heckler then listed some of these men—Tito, Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini.

A short while later, just after Rathbone's line, "God kills savages!" the man shouted, "God saves!"

At this point Rathbone broke character, confessed he'd forgotten his next line and asked that the unidentified heckler be removed. The show later continued without incident.

He Hopes for Girls,
Gets Wish Three-Fold

WOODBURY, N.J. (AP) — As he rushed his wife to the hospital last Christmas Day Dominic Marinelli hoped it would be a girl.

That would have given him three boys and two girls. A few hours later he had three boys and four girls.

Mrs. Marinelli's triplets were the first born at Memorial Hospital since 1912.

Son of Nobleman
Is Missing in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Police are searching for the 70-year-old son of a European nobleman who came to this country about five months ago.

He is Budapest-born Maj. Esterhazy, a son of Count Charles Esterhazy of the Austro-Hungarian court and of the former Lady Hamilton Charteris of England. Esterhazy's disappearance was reported Christmas night by his daughter, Elvira Esterhazy of Manhattan.

Reds Shell Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China's gun batteries lobbed 53 shells at the Quemoy Islands Christmas Day, Nationalist Chinese authorities reported. The Communists do such shooting on odd-numbered days. Today they stilled their guns for the 20th consecutive even-numbered day.

Carole Weeps
on Birthday
Spent in Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carole Tregoff spent her 23rd birthday alone and weeping in county jail Christmas Day.

She and her sweetheart, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 41, return to court Monday when jury selection will resume in their trial. They are accused of the July 18 slaying of the doctor's socialite wife Barbara, 33.

She was denied a Christmas visit with her father and stepmother. And the redhaired beauty couldn't get Christmas mail because the jail censor had the holiday off.

Hot in Cold Swim

VICTORIA, B.C. (UPI) — Jim McAgue won a swimming trophy yesterday. He stayed in the water longer than anyone else in the chilly city's annual Christmas Day swim.

Reflections

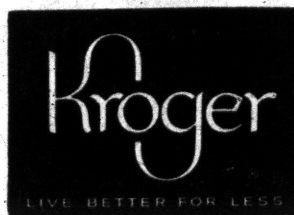

HAPPY NEW YEAR

We've had astonishing things happen during 1959: man sailed under polar ice; man skinned the edge of space, bailed out and landed without harm; we have avoided conflict with Russia; use nuclear power to illuminate cities; one step to control of polio—we're proud of these achievements. 1960 has many probabilities—bio-chemists are close to the secret of cellular construction; meteorologists expect to accurately predict weather for 30 or more days; astro scientists hope to send our rocket to orbit around the moon; engineers predict better combustion of gasoline to increase our mileage — any one would make 1960 a banner year.

Economists freely prophesy that our New Year will bring the greatest prosperity ever enjoyed; we can't peek but with the above as probabilities we are justified to "WHOO!" in greeting our New Year 1960.

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL OF YOU!

Lockheed Gets Dutch Order for Jet Fighters

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI)—The Dutch government has announced it will buy nearly 400 million dollars worth of American Lockheed F104G Starfighter jets for its air force.

The decision ended weeks of controversy between factions favoring the Starfighter and those favoring the French-built Mirage jet.

The Starfighter will replace the Royal Dutch Air Force's American Thunderbolt fighter-bombers and Sabrejet fighters and its British Hawker Hunter fighters.

The total Dutch order, probably coupled with a smaller Belgian purchase, will be for some 200 planes and spare parts costing nearly 400 million dollars.

Casino Owner Shot; Gambling Girl Held

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Police held a former gambling house girl as a material witness today but reported they had no definite lead on who shot and killed Bill Duffin, a casino owner.

Six slugs were fired into Duffin's back Christmas Day as he climbed into his car on the main street here, just two blocks from the state Capitol.

The burst of gunfire came during a light snowfall just outside the Silver Spur Casino. Duffin, co-owner of the Senator Club, was killed almost instantly.

Police Chief Bob Humphreys said Ruby Barker, 34, was with Duffin. After questioning, the former Senator Club employee was held as a material witness "for her own safety." She formerly had made change for customers at the casino.

'Purple People Eater' Is Just a Bit of Rawhide

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You never would have suspected that the tall, good-looking gunslinger on the Western set was also the man who perpetrated "Purple People Eater."

They are one and the same bearing the improbable name of Sheb Wooley.

"It's a contraction of Shelby," he explains. The Western half of his well-split personality is one of the stars of the TV show "Rawhide."

The hour drama shoots at MGM and I dropped by to ask Sheb about his double career. Which came first?

"The TV series," he replied. "At least I signed up for it before 'Purple People Eater' broke. I didn't know whether the show would sell or not. It did, and I was stuck with it."

NO AUSTRALIA
"The result was that I wasn't able to cash in on the success of the record. I had to pass up a lot of TV spots and a tour of Australia. Still, I'm not unhappy about it. The series brings in a steady income and keeps me at home. I have a wife and child, and if I were strictly in the music business, I'd be traveling most of the time."

Even though he alternates with other stars in the series, "Rawhide" keeps him working pretty steadily. He likes the work, but it does interfere with his songwriting career.

"Sometimes I'll get an idea for a song and want to work on it," he remarked. "But it keeps rattling around in my mind because I don't have the time to sit down and develop it. You can't do it between scenes in your dressing room."

Sheb has been acting in films since 1950, got his biggest notice as one of the killers in "High Noon." Then came "Purple People Eater." So far it has sold 2 million records here and overseas.

"Most of the money came in last year, with some of it this year from overseas," he said. "So about 80 per cent of it went right to Uncle Sam."

He has a new tune, an oil field number called "Roughneck," which is getting some action. But in view of the changing patterns of the music business, he's just as happy to be toting a gun on the TV prairie.

Quake Strikes Southern Peru

Aid Rushed as Reports List 7 Dead, 37 Hurt, 254 Homes Destroyed

LIMA, Peru (AP)—President Manuel Prado's government ordered relief supplies flown today to the mountainous Cangallo department of southern Peru, stricken by a yuletide earthquake.

Fragmentary reports said seven persons were killed and 37 injured at the village of Pomabamba, and that 254 homes were destroyed there.

Two other villages, Mollebamba and Huantapungo, were described with Pomabamba as being among the most affected. But there was no detail on the toll in those two.

Communications between Lima and Cangallo, about 400 miles southeast of this capital, were so poor it was not known exactly when the quake occurred or where it centered.

Peru is prone to earthquakes.

Bus Union Nixes Bid to Bargain Within Each City

SAGINAW (U)—The 20-day, three-city bus strike remained stalemated today after union officials snubbed a suggestion by City Manager C. A. Miller.

Gordon Guymer, president of the Street, Electric Railway & Motor Coach Employees Union, said Miller here there would be progress if the Saginaw, Pontiac and Kalamazoo locals held separate talks with National City Lines, Inc.

Maurice Biddle, company operations manager, said he would consider negotiating with only one union local at a time.

Guymer said the union wants a united front so that the 110 members in all three communities get the same settlement.

The union wants a 22-cent an hour wage boost and 9 cents more an hour in Saginaw and 8 cents in Kalamazoo in wage differentials for mechanics.

NO SUMMIT IN SIGHT—Americans in 1959 paid an average of 25 per cent more for everything they bought than 10 years before. The Labor Department cost of living index shows that all items finished the year at higher levels than they began.

It Was Christmas Eve, but ...

Officer Loses His Spirit

Patrolman Ronald Councilor was filled with the spirit of the yuletide season on Christmas Eve. When he saw a car speeding at 45 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone, the officer took off after the motorist.

As the motorist traveled down Franklin road, Councilor said he shined his spotlight into the car's rear window, and turned on his red blinker signal.

It was 1 a.m. It was Christmas Eve. All he wanted to do was to tell the driver to ease up on the gas pedal, he said.

But the driver didn't stop. Councilor turned on his siren and the car finally came to a halt.

Before the officer could issue any warning, he said, he received a dressing down. The Christmas spirit was still there, but ...

The patrolman asked the driver, Edwin Beaudin, 39, of 64 Mark St., for his license and registration. After protests, Beaudin handed them to the officer.

The officer by this time decided to write a ticket. He told Beaudin to stay in his car while he went to the patrol car to make out a citation.

Beaudin didn't, he said. He followed the officer back to his car, arguing vigorously.

The protests were to no avail. Councilor handed the motorist his ticket and jumped into his car.

As the officer backed up, Beaudin yelled that the police car had hit his wife. Councilor jumped out. He hadn't hit anyone, he said.

Finally, Councilor radioed for another car. Beaudin was arrested and brought to the police station where he was charged with disturbing the peace. He was released on $25 bond.

This morning Beaudin returned for an appearance in Pontiac Municipal Court—as he'd been ordered by police.

He didn't get to court today, however. Municipal Court is closed for the holidays.

White House sources said the President had hoped to make his Christmas visit to the children Friday but was unable to do so because of ice-coated highways.

Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, said that in view of Eisenhower's plan to leave Sunday for a vacation in Augusta, Ga., "it seemed the logical thing to do."

She said the President planned to spend only about an hour with his grandchildren—whom he has not seen since he left Dec. 3 on his long good will tour. He probably will be back at the White House for lunch, she added.

The four grandchildren—David, 10; Barbara Anne, 9; Susan, 8; and Mary Jean, 4—are with their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower at the younger Eisenhower's Gettysburg home near the President's farm.

Robert C. Frayer, 2539 Middle Belt Rd., won a five-day vacation at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach in a recently held national sales contest of the Easy Laundry Appliances Co. Representative of Frayer Refrigeration Sales, his winning performance was based on sales of the Easy's Combomatic washer-dryer.

Patrolman Ted Therington was sent to the rescue, although he was off duty. It was his mother's monkey, bought Christmas Eve.

Lebanon Builds Luxurious Casino in Playground Bid

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A new four million dollar casino is part of a Lebanese effort to make this little Arab country an international playground.

The country is well endowed with natural attractions.

Picturesque mountains rise from the blue Mediterranean. Lebanon has the best hotels and night life in the Middle East. And the climate any time of the year compares favorably with Europe at its best.

The Casino du Liban, one of the world's largest, shows the optimism Lebanese have in their country's economy. Barely 15 months ago this country was in virtual civil war; business was brought to a standstill for five months. Today all that is forgotten, and Lebanon is riding on a wave of prosperity.

Lebanese businessmen who built the casino are spending lavishly. Jean Beauchet of Paris trained a special ballet for three months in the Moulin Rouge before bringing the girls to Lebanon.

Sabin's Vaccine Gets World Use

Reds Adopt It Widely; Still Isn't Approved for General Use in U.S.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Dr. Albert Sabin received a letter from a Russian medical official today telling him nearly 60 million Russians will be vaccinated in the next five years with the oral, live virus polio vaccine the Cincinnati researcher developed.

The letter from Professor A. S. Smorodintsev of the Institute of Experimental Medicine in Leningrad also said Hungary has ordered compulsory vaccination of all children up to two years of age with the Sabin vaccine.

Dr. Sabin, 53, who has spent the last 14 years working on his vaccine, said he will go to Moscow March 15 to attend a meeting of the Polio Research Institute of the Soviet Academy of Medical Sciences. He will stay four days.

The meeting is part of a program of U.S.-USSR conferences in several medical fields.

Under the joint program, research will be conducted at the Soviet Polio Institute, the Cincinnati Children's Hospital Research Foundation, where Sabin has his laboratory, and the National Institute of Health's Division of Biologics Standards.

More than 11 million persons in Russia, Britain, South America and parts of Asia and other European countries have received the vaccine, which has not yet been approved for general use in the United States.

Mackinac Bridge Traffic Decreases

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — Less traffic crossed the 100-million-dollar Mackinac Bridge in 1959 than in 1958, Bridge Authority Chairman Prentiss M. Brown reports.

Traffic dropped 10.5 per cent and revenue 7.2 per cent, Brown said in his year-end summary of bridge facts and statistics.

"Month after month we reported reductions in traffic and revenues compared with 1958," Brown said.

"The traffic attracted to the bridge by its newness and dedication publicity made 1958 a banner year. Experts tell us that 1959 was a more normal year, and that we can anticipate steady growth in both traffic and revenues from here on."

Estimating the last 11 days of the year, the gross revenue will come to $4,761,700 and 1,244,627 vehicles will have crossed the bridge compared with $5,132,958 and 1,390,390 vehicles for 1958.

Suburb Is Proud of Youth Curfew

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs shouting "Down with curfew!" once blossomed on some walls in the Washington suburb of Seat Pleasant which has grown proud of its curfew.

Since Nov. 1, no boy or girl under 18 may wander on the streets past 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and past midnight Friday and Saturday. Neither may youngsters loiter with friends in any establishment beyond those hours.

If they do, police may take them to Juvenile Court. And their parents and the owners of the establishment may be fined. In seven weeks of curfew, however, no one has been arrested or fined. The threat has been enough.

Police say not one young hoodlum has disturbed the peace of the community during this period. The nights of Seat Pleasant are quiet now.

They were not always. The curfew was installed, community officials said at the time, to protect Seat Pleasant from "trading bands and juveniles from other communities who have come in wanting to do pitched battle." Mayor Edward J. Goodwin has of death.

Yuletide Sales Up Over 1958

Linens, 'Holiday Foods and Fashion Accessories Lead Boosters

NEW YORK (UPI) — A last-minute Christmas shopping rush this week boosted retail trade moderately over a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. reports.

Although warm weather in some areas held down winter apparel sales, marked gains did occur in women's fashion accessories, sportswear, electric housewares, linens and holiday food specialties. New car sales remained sluggish as a result of limited dealer inventories, the statistical agency said.

D&B reported the total dollar volume of retail trade in the week ended this Wednesday at 1 to 5 per cent higher than a year ago with regional estimates ranging from 1 to 8 per cent higher in the Middle Atlantic States, to 1 per cent lower to 3 per cent higher in the West South Central.

In contrast to the usual seasonal movement, men's suits and topcoats made a better showing than did furnishings. Over-all men's apparel volume was moderately better than the 1958 week. Furs, lingerie and children's goods remained well over last year, D&B said.

While promotions helped volume in television sets and hi-fi rise over a year ago, interest in other major appliances remained close to 1958 levels.

American interests obtained oil rights in Iran in 1957.
