

K Knocks 'Dangerous' Like, Then Slams Nixon

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, continuing his criticism of President Eisenhower, said today it is dangerous to have such a man heading a great nation.

And he indicated the Soviet Union could have little confidence in Richard M. Nixon as a working partner of the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Premier declared the Eisenhower presidency is a dark period in history, with the President lacking in will power. He pictured Eisenhower—whom he met and praised last fall in the United States—as virtually a stooge for the late John Foster Dulles at the 1955 summit meeting.

Then he indirectly continued his recent criticism of Vice President Nixon by saying:

"We were not so badly off in Dulles' time because he did so many foolish things it made it easier for us. From that point of view I suppose that Nixon is the best choice for us. Of course it would be better for us if we had a wise partner, but if not, that is the American people's business, and they will be the ones to suffer."

Khrushchev made these remarks at a news conference, attended by 400 reporters, in the Kremlin's domed Sverdlovsk Hall. It was called primarily to give the Soviet leader a chance to outline his new disarmament program. But he ranged widely in his comments and answers to questions.

Here are Khrushchev's comments on the major topics at his conference:

EISENHOWER—The President

is so weak and ineffectual that it is dangerous to have him running the United States. In the Soviet Union Eisenhower might be offered the job of running a child's home.

NIXON—The vice president, along with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, is leading the United States along the path to war and Eisenhower does not have the will power to control them. The Soviet Union would have little confidence in Nixon as a negotiator if he is elected president.

DULLES—The late secretary of state John Foster Dulles gave the orders at the 1955 Geneva summit meeting. He passed notes to Eisenhower and the President read them off without even waiting.

DISARMAMENT—All foreign military bases should be scrapped plus all weapons for delivering a nuclear attack. This reshuffled the priorities in his "general and complete disarmament" plan, presented to the United Nations last year.

ROCKETS—The commander of Soviet rocket troops now has the authority to order nuclear retaliation against any foreign base that launches further spy flights over the Soviet Union. Countries with U.S. bases will be hit first.

SUMMIT—Eisenhower wrecked last month's Paris meeting, and the Soviet Union is still trying to organize one in another six or eight months.

GERMANY—The Soviet Union still intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, which will give them the right to cut off Western access to Berlin. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer belongs in a lunatic asylum.

Has New Meaning for City Mother

Fallout Shelter to Open

Pontiac's prototype family fallout shelter—which opens for public inspection tomorrow—has taken on a new, sober meaning for Mrs. Clarence H. Dolsen.

It is in the basement of the Dolsen home, 88 W. Walton Blvd., that the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization (OCDM) is opening the shelter in an effort to encourage disaster preparedness in Pontiac area homes.

The Dolsen family volunteered for the shelter early this year, promising to let the public look at it weekends.

though, have Mrs. Dolsen wondering.

"Maybe we all really need to have shelters against fallout. I pray that we never have to use ours for that purpose, but I'm glad we have it now."

It is this attitude—that family preparedness is wise—that the OCDM is trying to foster.

SIGN TELLS HOURS

The Dolsen home is a white and yellow ranch house on the north side of Walton, a block west of Baldwin.

A sign in front proclaims the hours the shelter is open to the public—10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Suggested parking is along the shoulder on Walton or on side streets.

Visitors will enter the Dolsen home through the back door, which can be reached by means of the driveway.

The Dolsen shelter was constructed by private contractor at a cost of around $500. Similar shelters would cost about $200 for

At that time, Mrs. Dolsen let it be known that her main concern was not civil defense, but tornadoes.

ONLY BASEMENT NEARBY

"Ours is the only basement in the neighborhood," she observed, "and I had always told the neighbors they could use our basement for shelter in case of tornado."

"We knew the shelter could be used for tornado protection, so we volunteered."

That was five months ago when the international situation was happier.

Boy, 9, Survives Wilderness Ordeal

FLIN FLON, Man. (AP)—A helicopter Thursday plucked a starving, nearly incoherent little boy from beside the burned wreckage of a plane where he had spent 15 lonely, fear-ridden days in the rugged bush of northwest Manitoba.

Later the helicopter returned to collect the bodies of the child's father and a friend who died in the crash.

"Gee, I thought you'd never come," said 9-year-old Walter Sedor to his mother at the Flin Flon hospital.

ON FISHING TRIP

The father, Steve Sedor, 39, a friend, Ken Harrison, 32, and the child were on a 12-mile flight to Tartan Lake for a fishing trip when the plane crashed May 18.

The boy, sitting in the back seat, apparently was thrown through the roof into heavy brush which broke his fall.

Walter told rescuers he chewed a few roots and ate leaves and drank rain water.

A package of supplies containing enough food for one person for at least 25 days had been thrown clear but the boy didn't touch it—apparently unaware of what it contained.

Since May 18 the weather during the day had been relatively mild, but on several occasions the temperature approached freezing at night. There were several rainy days.

Thursday, Harvey Evans, a pilot for TransAir Ltd., spotted the boy sitting on a rock about three-fourths of a mile from Tartan Lake.

Evans, returning from a flight north, said if his course had been 100 yards to either side he would not have seen the child.

School Board Pegs Lower City Tax Rate

18.98 Millage Figure Is Under Both Last Year's and Maximum Limit

The Pontiac Board of Education last night established a tax rate for the school district that is less than last year's and below the maximum to which they are entitled by law.

Reason behind the action, the Board stated, was "to keep faith with the people."

The tax rate for those who live within the city is to be 18.98 mills ($18.98 for each $1,000 valuation of property). Last year it was 19.63 mills.

The Board could have established a tax rate of 19.83 mills.

18.43 OUTSIDE

Those who live in the school district but outside the city limit will pay a tax rate of 18.43 mills. Their tax rate last year was 18.283 mills.

While the levy is less this year, it will produce more income than was obtained from the higher tax rate of 19.83 mills due to the increase in state equalized valuation.

Income received last year was $10,236,181. The 1960-61 school year income will realize a total of $10,471,231.

Three tax rate proposals were presented to the Board last night each progressively more expensive. The Board chose the second. It could have established a tax rate to bring in $10,835,127.

These figures provide 1.36 mills for unlimited debt.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, said the proposal enacted establishes the levy so as to produce the number of dollars from local tax revenues that would have been available had the millage proposal been successfully voted in last month's election.

"The anticipated total income for operation will be approximately $28,913 higher than had been expected with passage of the additional millage proposal because of the increase in state equalized valuation," Whitmer said.

"This enables the Board to finance the same budget as was presented to the people in the millage campaign," he said. "We have an obligation to the taxpayers."

Normal Weather Is 5-Day Forecast

For the next five days temperatures in the Pontiac area will average near the normal high of 70 degrees with little day-to-day changes.

The low tonight is expected to be 54, the weatherman said. Saturday's high will be near 74. Mostly fair with little change in temperature is the forecast for Sunday. Monday and Tuesday may be somewhat cooler.

Morning southerly winds at 10-20 miles an hour will shift to northwesterly and diminish tonight. Rainfall registered .31 inches from 10:15 a.m. yesterday until the same time today.

Fifty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 71.

Buses Set to Roll Thursday

Pontiac's new bus company plans to begin operations Thursday after the City Commission approves a lease agreement at its Tuesday night meeting.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said today that officials of American Transit Corp. told him they were ready to submit the proposed lease-agreement to the city.

The agreement would give a new company to be known as Pontiac Transit Co. a one-year franchise in Pontiac. By leasing the company's equipment, the city would guarantee it an exemption from state gasoline and weight taxes.

Employing the drivers and mechanics of the old Pontiac City Lines, Inc., Pontiac Transit Co. plans to operate buses on established routes, following closely established schedules and charging a 25-cent adult fare.

John W. Sysma, president of Pontiac Business's Local 1067, has predicted with assurance that a two-year contract would be signed by the Union and the company.

If the way is paved for the buses to roll Thursday, schedules will be distributed in the downtown area Wednesday, Hirlinger said.

American Transit company has rented the old Pontiac City Lines buses for use initially.

Scholle Sees Delegates Going Solidly for Kennedy

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A key labor figure on the Michigan Democratic delegation predicted last night it will be solid for Sen. John F. Kennedy as a result of Gov. Williams' personal endorsement.

August Scholle of Royal Oak, state AFL-CIO president, foresaw only an outside chance that a few of the national convention delegates might hold out for Adlai E. Stevenson. Scholle discounted even this possibility despite a warm feeling for the Democratic standard-bearer he backed in 1952 and 1956 at his third and fourth national conventions.

"I still think Stevenson would be a formidable candidate, assuming he got the nomination," Scholle, as fourth vice chairman, is the ranking labor member of the 31-vote, 102-man delegation, a delegation made up about one-third of dues-paying unionists.

While some delegates "very ardently" favor Stevenson, he added, it did not appear likely that they would hold their votes for him in a situation that might seriously threaten the liberal cause in the Democratic Party. This would be the case, he said, if competition narrows down to a choice of Kennedy, who is a candidate or Stevenson, who says he is not on the one hand, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson on the other.

He foresaw Sen. Stuart Symington as out of the running by then.

Rainfall Down in May in City Compared to '59

Rainfall during the month of May measured 2.66 inches in downtown Pontiac.

This compares with U.S. Weather Bureau figures of 4.61 inches in the Detroit area during May of last year. The weather bureau said the average May precipitation in the Detroit area is 4.41 inches.

It rained on 12 days in the Pontiac area during May, while 11 other days were sunny, five cloudy, one drizzly and another misty.

Governor Denies UAW Influenced Decision on Supporting Jack

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential bandwagon rolled forward today under a new head of steam generated by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

The six-term governor gave his wholehearted endorsement Thursday to Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I think Kennedy is the best man and I will back him against the field," the governor said at a ferry boat news conference in northern Lake Huron.

Four other state party leaders supported Williams' decision, giving every indication that Michigan's 31-vote delegation to the Democratic convention in a few months will go down the line for the Massachusetts senator.

Kennedy, who learned of the endorsement at a 90-minute conference with Williams at this resort island, was obviously delighted.

"Michigan is going to carry with it more than its own delegation," he said.

With the endorsement of Gov. Michael V. DeSalle of Ohio already in his pocket, Kennedy was hopeful the Williams decision would help turn more key northern states into his corner.

Kennedy's delegation will be the seventh largest at the party's national convention at Los Angeles.

Williams, though he won state backing as a favorite-son choice for the presidential nomination, now is gunning for the vice presidential spot, or at least a nodding to with his decision.

Both Williams and Kennedy asserted there were no "deals" made at their closed-door conference in the governors summer resort. The senator said he would prefer to let the convention pick the vice-presidential nominee.

DENIES UAW INFLUENCE

Williams stated firmly that the deal was a payoff was behind Gov. G. Mennen Williams' endorsement of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as the Democratic presidential nominee.

But it appeared almost a certainty that the six-term, undefeated governor will be able to sell the Massachusetts senator to the Oakland group and the rest of the to Los Angeles next month.

Mrs. Harriett Phillips, apparent leader of the Oakland delegation, said "I'm still for Stevenson."

NOT OVERLY ENTUSED

A long-time personal friend of Williams and one of four Oakland delegates, Dr. Howard H. McNeill of Bloomfield Hills said he is "not overly enthused" with Sen. Kennedy.

He said that before the 43-year-old Kennedy—bumped him out of the race in the West Virginia primary—he and the UAW during the labor hearings," Bentley declared.

Bentley Terms Endorsement UAW Payoff

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) charges that a deal was a payoff was behind Gov. G. Mennen Williams' endorsement of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Bentley, who is a candidate this year for the Senate, said yesterday the endorsement is "payment in full for the protection the Kennedy brothers gave to Walter Reuther and the United Auto Workers Union at the Senate Labor Rackets Committee hearings last year."

Sen. Kennedy and his brother Robert, chief counsel for the committee, "were obviously shielding Reuther and the UAW during the labor hearings," Bentley declared.

U.S. 10 Crash Kills Flint Man, Injures 2

A Flint man was killed early last night in a two-car collision on U.S. 10 at Davenport road, Springfield Township.

The victim, Roy E. Myers, 41, of 813 Avon St., was a passenger in a car driven by DeLore P. Shaker, 32, of 2233 Procter St., Flint. Driver of the other car was Mrs. Sharon L. Hall, 23, of 8545 Tindall Rd., Davenport.

Witnesses told sheriff deputies the woman made a left turn into the path of Shaker's northbound car.

Mrs. Hall, who is expecting a child, was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Shaker was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Myers was dead on arrival at Pontiac General. He suffered head and internal injuries.

Dems for Victory Will Seek to Select Favorite Candidates

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR., of the county AFL-CIO Council in Pontiac Monday night.

Such endorsement, members of Mrs. Phillips' faction believe, will mean victory for the party over Republican incumbents this year.

Some party workers and candidates tried last night's top-secret huddle at Carpenters Local 888 Hall, 1949 W. 12 Mile Rd., as hot potato. About 70 accepted Mrs. Phillips' invitation sent "to the active Democrats in Oakland County." Richardson didn't attend.

Mrs. Phillips, a strong voice in the state party and a member of the State Central Committee, would not say why the news was barred, other than to say "This is a closed caucus meeting."

She refused to ask for a show of hands as to whether all wished the press to be removed from the meeting. One sought to keep this reporter present at the 29-hour session.

It was decided that candidates for congressional and state offices would be interviewed, June 11, while those for county offices would follow the next day.

Then the panel of interviewers would report back to the group as to their wishes.

One candidate condemned Mrs. Phillips' action as not "bringing anything new into the party." All they have done is promise victory, he said. Last night's session was heavily dotted with local and state union officials.

"After the primary, their group will be dead as a doornail," the candidate predicted.

Picking of candidates prior to the primary is sure to split the county party further between Mrs. Phillips' forces and those sympathetic to Richardson, the candidate said.

It is the individuals who are in a bind between the two groups. If they don't attend the meetings of the insurgent group they will be tagged anti-labor and face defeat, he said.

They will be labeled as "recognition of Mrs. Phillips as a leader."

materials it built on a do-it-yourself basis.

The shelter is 7-feet-8 inches wide inside, 8-feet-4 inches long and 8 feet high. To ward off radiation, the walls are lined with concrete 4 inches thick and the ceiling 8 inches thick.

Inside, the shelter is painted an attractive yellow and white.

The Dolsens' son, Billy, 10, thinks the shelter is nice enough to be used as a playhouse for his neighborhood friends.

Billy's sister, Kaylene, 9, says it would make a good dollhouse.

Family household articles, such as canned goods, pots and pans and bedding, help encourage a homey feeling in the shelter.

Besides ample supplies of food and bottled water, the shelter contains such items as flashlights, paper plates and cups, a chemical toilet, a portable stove, candle and a fire extinguisher, tools, medical supplies, games and reading material including a Bible.

An important item is the transistor radio on which Concordia will release messages could be heard.

Sleeping arrangements include two floor mattresses with bed rolls, a built in bunk and an Army cot. Vents low on one wall provide the air supply.

Board Holds 2nd Hearing Over Mrs. Vogel Witnesses Tell of Teacher's Behavior

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Her reputation as a teacher at state, Mrs. Jsa Vogel sat through the second meeting of her public hearing before the Board of Education last night without uttering a word in her defense, but obviously anxious to tell her side of the story.

The drawn-out affair has been postponed until the third week in June.

Witnesses in her behalf, the parents of her fourth grade pupils at Herrington school have availed their turn during two sessions lasting an hour and a half each against the teacher. Their turn will come later.

They signed a petition protesting her dismissal. Mrs. Vogel has appealed the school board's decision that her contract not be renewed. The hearing is expected to run through at least three more meetings.

Chief witness against Mrs. Vogel was night watchman, Mrs. Joyce Schaefer, 1182 Maur St. Her son, Gary, 10, is in Mrs. Vogel's class.

"She (Mrs. Vogel) said my son was dumb and retarded," said Mrs. Schaefer. "She said my son was hateful and that she hated him. She told him she hated him. She said to me, 'Half the children in my class belong in Juvenile Home and yours in particular.'"

"I called him a cheat and liar," Gary stated, losing voice and he would wake up in the arms of the night. She brought him up in front of the class and made him sit on the floor.

He was 78 pages of homework to do. "She admitted she slapped him. I gave her permission to spank him, but where a spanking should be put, not on the back of the head. She calls me up on Sundays and runs me into the dirt. She called me an evil mother and that I didn't know how to raise children."

Mrs. Schaefer said her son brought home a note to be filed and returned to the teacher. It was not filled out properly, according to Mrs. Schaefer, and Mrs. Vogel told Gary, "Stupidity must run in your family."

Glenn Schaefer, the boy's father, also testified.

"Gary wanted us to stay home tonight. He was afraid," said Glenn. "He was afraid his mother was going to spank him tomorrow."

Schaefer told how he first learned of the alleged abuse.

His son-for the reported occurrence at school and spanked him a number of times. He then realized the boy wasn't wrong, he said.

A divorce with 17 years teaching experience, after-haired Mrs. Vogel glowered at the witnesses during their testimony. She remained silent following a reprimand after one outburst, but smiled often in answer to the charges.

Mrs. Vogel's attorney, William R. Beasley of Royal Oak, has admitted to the record a continuing motion to dismiss the case on grounds that Mrs. Vogel was not notified of the charges at least 60 days prior to dismissal, as required by law of the Tenure Act.

Also admitted to the record is Beasley's continuing objection to the admission of hearsay evidence.

The Board's attorney, Harold D. "Insisted" that the hearing be held on an "informal" basis. The Board approved unanimously a motion supporting Duly's stand and the hearing continued informally.

The U.S. auto industry used 20 per cent of the total domestic steel output.

Waterford Wife Claims Assault

Woman, 23, Says She Was Attacked in Car and Robbed of $35

A 23-year-old Waterford Township wife driving home from work at 3:30 a.m. today was stopped by an unidentified man in another car who attacked and robbed her, according to township police.

The woman told police that "he came out of a dark car behind her blindfolded. There were no headlights on. They were signaling her, she pulled off Elizabeth Lake road and stopped."

The assailant jumped into her car and criminally assaulted her, she told police. She finally broke free and ran for her life.

The man grabbed her purse containing $35 and fled in his car.

Churches in Favor of Sit-Ins

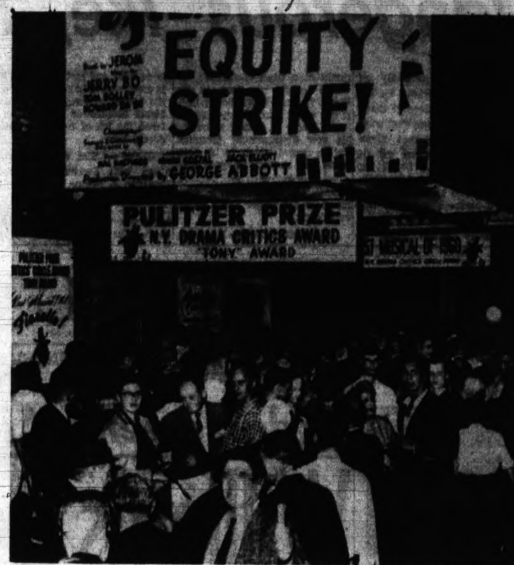

NEW YORK (AP)—Lunch counter sit-ins and other nonviolent protests against discrimination have the backing of the general board of the National Council of Churches.

The 250-member board of the Council, which represents 33 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, ended a two-day meeting Thursday.

A resolution backing the demonstrators was approved overwhelmingly.

The board's statement said the sit-ins were "expressions of just and righteous indignation against laws, customs and traditions that violate human personality as well as efforts to bring these laws, customs and traditions into conformity with the law of God which recognizes the dignity and worth of each and every person."

The resolution urged churches to encourage merchants to serve whites and Negroes without discrimination.

MUSICAL CLOSED — A crowd gathered under the marquee of the Broadway Theater on 44th street Thursday night in New York after doors failed to open for the performance of the prize-winning musical "Fiorello." A sign on the marquee calls it an Equity strike in the dispute between actors and producers. This is the first time in 41 years that the Great White Way has been dark. Twenty-two theaters are affected.

Great White Way Is Dark

Strike Blacks Out NY Theaters

NEW YORK (AP)—The Broadway stage is blacked out for the first time in 41 years, a victim of taxicab drivers' dispute between actors and producers.

In the midtown theatrical district Thursday night, as the 8:30 curtain time came and went, there were no blinding lights on the marquee, no surging crowds of pedestrians, no swarms of taxicabs jockeying to get their fares to the playhouses.

"There will be absolutely no shows until there is an agreement," said producer Alexander H. Cohen, speaking for the New York League of Theaters.

"Actors Equity on strike," he added. "It looks like a long one."

2 Reserve Banks Start Move to Easier Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—San Francisco and Philadelphia Federal Reserve banks eased the money situation in their areas today by cutting their discount rates from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

Other Federal Reserve banks were expected to follow the movement toward lower interest rates generally. The discount rate is the amount charged when member banks borrow money from the reserve system, and is reflected in the interest rates the banks themselves charge their borrowers.

The change in the discount rate was the first since last September when it was increased from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent at all 12 of the Federal Reserve banks.

A reserve system spokesman here said the lower rate reflects "the decline in inflationary psychology."

SEEN AS STIMULANT

Some Wall Street investment firms looked on the move as a stimulant to the stock market. Others thought the reaction would be only temporary.

Hailing the reduction as good news, one investment man said the reduction should eventually help business and make yields on common stocks and bonds look more attractive.

LOOKED INTO FUTURE

Proposal No. 3 included a balance that would be available for things in the future that aren't known in the program today, the superintendent said.

"That would have been going to far in terms of reasonableness," he said.

The tax rate that has been accepted will bring income tax in the amount of $100,000 for National Defense Education Act participation and a minimum of $100,000 for raises in teachers' salaries.

Teachers are asking salary improvements totaling more than $200,000.

Whittier emphasized, however, that the $155,000 provision is not a limit. A higher amount for wage hikes may be able to be financed by monies from other areas in the budget.

Said Whittier: "Adoption of the school tax rate for 1960-61 follows the continuing policy of the Board of Education to levy only enough tax rate to cover estimated costs for the coming year."

"The levy for 1960-61 is 705 mills less than the levy for the 1959-60 school year, based on equalized valuation."

"The levy the Board has established is 35 mills less than that which is available to the Board and represents the sum of $263,000 under potential income."

"The operating budget financed by the tax rate will maintain and bring some improvements to our educational program."

"While the Board has had no control over the sharp increase in equalized valuation that has occurred, it is pleased with the prospect of being able to maintain our good educational system next year."

Crop Aid Dips 81 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. government's investment in price-supported wheat, corn, cotton, and other surplus commodities totaled $8,831,833,000 as of April 30. This represented a drop of about eighty one million from the previous month.

Teachers who will submit resignations to the School Board before the next semester, Ireland said yesterday.

"Fifteen already have resigned and the school year isn't over yet."

The millage proposal in March was intended to increase the salaries of school personnel.

A 13 mill proposal for higher salaries was placed on the June 13 regular school election ballot.

Ireland said the normal turnover in the school district is about 12 per cent. There are 504 teachers and other personnel in the system.

"We already have reached the 12 per cent mark and I expect it to be much higher before school begins in the fall."

"Teachers who had planned on staying and making their careers in Birmingham have told me they were leaving for higher-paying school districts."

The maximum salary for teachers in Birmingham is $7,100.

Nikita Wires U2 Spy's Dad

Says Mr. Powers Will Be Welcome to Come to Russia

NORTON, Va. (AP) — Oliver Powers has been promised a favorable reception in the Soviet Union, where his father, Francis, is being held as a spy in the U2 plane case.

A telegram from Moscow earlier this week, bearing Premier Nikita Khrushchev's name, promised to help the Norton schoolmaker if he journeys to visit his son.

"I plan to go and want to go as soon as possible—as soon as arrangements can be made—to see my son and to see Mr. Khrushchev," Powers told a local newspaper.

Powers himself could not be located for comment on the telegram disclosure. A source close to him said the telegram from Khrushchev was read in its entirety to the State Department in Washington soon after it was received.

Powers was reported to consider the telegram not as an invitation but as an assurance that his visit to the Soviet Union would be well received there.

He has said two parties have offered to finance his trip. The State Department in Washington indicated Powers would encounter no difficulty in obtaining a passport.

Speaker Questions Why, Where State Costs Shooting Up

State governmental costs have risen $613 million dollars from 1948 to 1959, Robert E. Pickup, executive director of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, said in a talk in Pontiac last night.

He spoke at the annual meeting of Civic Research, Inc., of Oakland County, an affiliate of the state organization.

Elected to the Board of Trustees of the county group were James F. Spencer, manager of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn., James Clarkson, executive vice president of the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn., and C. Theon VanDusen of Bloomfield Hills.

Pickup spoke on Michigan's state and local financial problems.

Talking about the increased cost of government, Pickup said a population increase of 27 per cent over the 12-year period, and a price increase of 26 per cent for the period, accounts for only $284 million of the total increase of $613 million, or a 46 per cent increase.

"This, then, leaves in excess of $300 million in additional money which has been made available for new or expanded services—money in addition to that necessary to keep up with the population increase trend."

mary, his favorite for the nomination was Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Although claiming to be "quite surprised" with hearing of Williams' endorsement at this time, the surgeon said the governor had a "perfect right" to pick his favorite before consulting beforehand with the state delegation.

He said he had the impression from a recent letter from the governor that he might withhold support of any candidate until Michigan's delegation, which is pledged to support Williams as a favorite son until released, had been polled.

But the decision had to be made now, said Mrs. Mildred A. Burns, an Oakland alternate delegate and secretary to the president of the county AFL-CIO Council.

She saw the endorsement as a move to ward off up-and-coming Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's bid for the nomination.

On record as favoring Stevenson, Mrs. Burns said now it appeared "almost too late" for the former Illinois governor to make a bid.

Disapproval of Johnson came too from the second Oakland national convention alternate, Harold Julian of Berkeley, assistant to Norman Matthews, director of the Chrysler department of the United Auto Workers.

"Anybody but Johnson," Julian said last night.

He said he was still undecided about who he liked — Kennedy, Stevenson or Missouri Sen. Stuart Symington.

"I happened to be for Kennedy anyway," said delegate Mr. Jack (Pete) Moskowitz, Huntington Woods housewife. "Whatever he does (Williams) does is fine with me."

The fourth delegate, Howard M. Arnold, auto factory worker from Royal Oak, said Kennedy was "my man after Humphrey got out."

"It's all right with me," Arnold said.

Parking Meter Model Insured

Other New Products
Include Device to Dust
Records While Playing

NEW YORK (AP)—A "vandal-resistant" parking meter which carries an insurance policy indemnifying against loss due to vandalism, is among new products this week.

The meter looks like a miniature hang vault and the door hinges are on the inside for protection against prying and chiseling. It's made by Duncan Parking Meter Division of Motor Products Corp., Chicago, Ill.

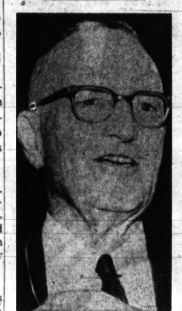

The firm says that pilot models installed in Chicago resulted in a sharp drop in losses due to vandalism and, although a few of the meters were damaged, none of their coin vaults was broken.

A unique feature of General Electric's new fall line of phonographs will be a device to vacuum clean recordings while they're playing. Called "vac-magic," the device consists of an acoustically sealed vacuum cleaner which pulls in dust picked up by a brush mounted in front of the stylus.

Of use in teaching such skills as dancing, callisthenics, typing and skating is a new portable high fidelity sound system which permits a record's playing speed to be varied from 25 to 100 revolutions per minute. Records can be slowed to a third of normal tempo or speeded up as much as 300 per cent. Offered by Rek-O-Kut Inc., Corona, N.Y.

Bonard Industries, Inc., Grand Haven, says it has the first major and practical major change in bicycles in more than 50 years. It's the new "Bowden" bike in which all mechanical parts, gears, chain, etc., are enclosed and protected against water and dirt. This makes it a strikingly designed and contoured bike.

NEW MODERATOR—The Rev. Herman Lee Turner, 69, of Atlanta, Ga., is the new moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. The new presiding officer of the 3,200,000-member church hopes for a merger with the Presbyterian Church of the United States, southern branch of the church.

Wisconsin Parole Board to Decide About Guano

RHINELANDER, Wis. (UPI)—The State Parole Board will meet next week to decide whether to grant parole to a former United Auto Workers organizer sentenced to three years in prison for the beating of two nonstrikers at the Kohler Co. plant in 1954. John Gunaka, who pleaded "no contest to the charges at his Sheboygan, Wis. trial last fall, filed a parole petition yesterday.

Statues in Rome Often Suffer Broken Noses

ROME (UPI)—This capital boasts some of the most beautiful statues in the world, but they sometimes are a pain in the neck to city fathers.

One of the biggest headaches is the noses on statues. They seem to be the prime targets for rock-throwers. Each year there are workmen who do nothing for several weeks but replace noses.

Officials say schoolboys are the biggest offenders. As one official put it: After a bad day at school, nothing helps a boy so much psychologically as knocking the nose off an ancient emperor.

The favorite target is Pilgrimage, the mathematician, who has a lovely aquiline nose.

Strangely enough, the nosecutters have a great respect for women. It is seldom that the statue of a woman gets her nose lopped.

Postal Bill Buried, Needs More Signers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backers of a 9 per cent pay raise for 1,700,000 postal and white collar government workers today sought 30 more signatures needed to pry the stalled legislation from the House Rules Committee.

The discharge petition was filed by Rep. T. A. Thompson (D-La.) when the house convened at noon yesterday and by the end of the day 189 members had signed.

The petition requires 219 signatures to take the bill away from the committee and bring it to the floor. If the petition was successful the measure could be called up June 13 at the earliest.

The pay hike, which would take effect July 1, would cost the government $10 million dollars a year.

"Choosing a name," says Dr. George H. Brown, marketing research manager of the Ford division of Ford, "creates more emotional disturbance in the company than anything we do."

After surveys and legal checking to avoid duplication, one name for a car is picked from a list of about 10,000. It is the name the company feels best symbolizes the image it hopes to create for its car.

The names chosen for the compacts, and the symbolism they have is typical of the modern trend in naming cars. They are:

Falcon—"For its size, the strongest bird in the world... the most agile bird... graceful... dramatic in motion... soars to great heights."

Corvair—"A fast escort ship with economy and lightness and gesture of any other product... 'Valiant'—'Original'... not suggest compact roominess."

Lancer—"Sharp, streamlined, bright and shining, sleek."

Tempest—"A fury of power, small but powerful, exciting."

After the name is chosen, the company then chooses a color for the car. The color is chosen to complement the name and the image the company wants to create.

The color is chosen to complement the name and the image the company wants to create.

Clinton Valley Stands Out Here

Cubs Key to Scout Success

By JOE HAAS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — The emphasis on cubbing in the Pontiac area is another feature that makes our Clinton Valley Council stand out at the annual convention of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America which closed here this afternoon.

HAAS

It is agreed that cubbing is the primary essence of scouting, as it gets the lads when their minds are in the formative stage.

The Clinton Valley Council is numbered among the few in which the number of cubs far exceeds the number of scouts. This means a healthy and continued growth.

In Clinton Valley's 253 units there are 5,197 cubs, 3,574 scouts and 343 explorers—a total of 9,114. The units in our council follow: cub packs, 109; scout troops, 112; explorer units, 32.

There are also 3,123 adults directly connected with the work, or a total of 12,237 under the scouting influence in Clinton Valley.

It is conservatively estimated that one-third of the homes in the council have reared a scout or have been actively connected with the movement.

In the United States and its territories there are 532 Boy Scout councils with a membership today in excess of three million.

Since the first troop was organized 50 years ago, over 28 million people have been involved in the work.

At the closing luncheon today a special tribute was paid to the holders of the Silver Beaver Award—Clinton Valley Council has 67.

Scouting's highest awards, the Silver Antelope and the Silver Buffalo, also was given out.

Clinton Valley Council's Camp Agawam, 12 miles northeast of Pontiac, on Tommy's Lake, is looked upon as a model by most of the other councils in the nation who are aware of its facilities.

Most of the councils do not have a camp within their own limits.

and some do not have any camp at all.

In some of the western and southern states, the council camps are over 200 miles away.

At our camp Agawam over 1,000 scouts annually partake of its many festivities for at least a week in every summer.

A check made with councils from different states, shows that the boys of Clinton Valley Council have this privilege at a cost far below the national average.

The impact of scouting on the men in the Pontiac area is quite remarkable. A large majority of the business men were boy scouts, and their sons are following in their footsteps.

More than ever before at a national convention, the work of the mothers of our nation has been recognized here during the last two days.

The women are the ones who get the lads started in cubbing, as den mothers or otherwise, and give give unsparingly of their time to the meetings.

Several of the national speakers have stressed the part that women are playing in keeping scouting on such a high level. As one speaker put it, "The dads are OK, but it is the moms who put themselves into the thing to such a degree that it becomes a family essential."

Nation's Banks Getting Tight; Put in More Machines to Add

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Banks too tight to watch their own pennies. With both the volume of checks and the cost of clerical handling soaring, more banks around the nation are adopting or studying the use of machines to do this work automatically.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports that while eight years ago the nation's banks handled around eight billion checks, this year they are expected to handle 14 billion, and by 1970 perhaps 22 billion. Often a single check is handled 10 to 20 times during its journey through several banks before the money involved is finally collected.

Others have estimated that just sorting checks alone costs banks 200 million dollars, occupying 475,000 clerks for 100 million man-hours.

Banks started doing something about it back in the 1940s with punched-card systems to perform bookkeeping tasks. More recently electronics, computers, have come along to lighten the paper-work of doing this and the other processes involved.

The latest electronic check handling system is being put into use today in New York City by the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. with equipment developed by Pitney Bowes and the National Cash Register Co.

ALL ELECTRONICALLY

It is said to sort the checks, put them in the customer's account, prepare his monthly statement, turn out a record for the bank, and figure the customer's net balance—all electronically.

General Electric set up a bank automation system some time back for the Bank of America on the West Coast which by the end of 1961 is expected to handle individual checking accounts. The bank has some 275 branches. This electronic records method of accounting goes by the nickname of ERMA.

The trend is gaining enough headway that an official of Burroughs Corp. predicts that this decade will see financial institutions spending 1½ billion dollars for various devices to do the job by machine.

The American Banking Assn. management commission gave its blessing to use of magnetic ink containing iron oxide at the bottom of checks. This gives the customer's account number, and routing symbols and adds the amount of the check. Each number gives a different signal when subjected to electric impulse, and when the data is fed into a computer, the bank obtains totals, controls sorting and record-printing.

Officials of International Business Machines says its magnetic equipment will be delivered to 25 banks across the country by the end of this year.

A later development than magnetic ink character-recognition is a device called optical sensing which can scan ordinary type-written characters.

Farrington Manufacturing Co. makes one used by American Telephone & Telegraph for reading dividend checks. First National City Bank of New York uses one for its travelers checks.

Burroughs has one being tested at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., by the Army Signal Corps. Remington Rand division of Sperry-Rand and IBM have some in the works.

Among other companies in the electronic computer competition are Radio Corp. of America, Minneapolis-Honeywell, Philco, and Sylvania division of General Telephone.

When the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., put in an electronic machine it had a naming contest by employees. Winner was George from "Let George do it."

A runner up was Nitro, meaning "not intended to replace officers."

State Freeway Mileage Topped Only by Texas

LANSING (U)—Michigan, with 260 miles of interstate freeway built to 1975 traffic requirements and now open to service, is second only to Texas in miles.

The State Highway Department said a new report by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads credits Texas with 441 miles as of March 31. Ohio was ranked third with 221.

Illinois was far down the list with 96 miles and Indiana had only 11 miles.

2-Month Farm Prices Show Slight Decline

LANSING (UPI)—The Federal State Crop Reporting Service says the index of prices received by Michigan farmers for the month ending May 15 was 2 per cent below the previous month.

But the index was up slightly more than 1 per cent from the similar period a year ago, the service said.

The increase was due mostly to higher prices for milk, poultry products, wheat and potatoes, the service said. The drop from April figures was caused by slight decreases in the same products.

Michigan Takes Oil Lease Bids on 101,000 Acres

LANSING (UPI)—The Conservation Department's oil and gas advisory board Thursday took bids on the largest leasing of exploration rights since 1953.

Officials said more than 101,000 acres would be involved.

"The size of this leasing reflects drilling interest which has been generated by success in the Albion-Scipio fields in Southern Michigan," a spokesman for the department said.

"But most of the land in that area has been leased and people are spreading out looking for other finds."

All of the land to be leased was in the Lower Peninsula.

Some of it was located in state forests, recreation areas or other public-use areas. Restrictions are placed on exploration when drilling might affect a recreation area, and the driller must obtain permission from the Conservation Commission before work is started.

There was no estimate of the amount of money involved in the leases available.

Debate Waxing Warm in '60 on Executives' Stock Options

NEW YORK (UPI)—The moral and economic issues of stock options for top executives have been debated heatedly this year at big business stockholders meetings.

The issue has been called "immoral" by Dean Edwin Griswold of the Harvard Law School and an unfair advantage by the Federation of Women Shareholders in American business.

Griswold said stock options for executives are "immoral" because they give the holders a chance to play "heads-you-lose, tails-I-win" in the stock market.

President Wilma Soss and Vice President Beatrice Kelekian of the women shareholders have been making the circuit of big company meetings, heckling management about executive stock options and executive remuneration in general.

They claimed stock options give corporation big-wigs unfair tax advantages over their fellow citizens because if the stocks are sold at a profit that profit is taxable only at the 25 per cent capital gains rate.

Another feminine investment expert, Catherine Curtis of Washington, who appeared at several big company meetings to answer Mrs. Soss and Mrs. Kelekian, said the reason the tax law is not to reform the tax law is not to heckle corporation managements.

OPTIONS OLD IDEA
Stock options for executives are as old as business but have been especially common since certain changes in the tax laws in 1950. It's estimated that 60 per cent of the companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange offer executive option plans.

Most companies insist options are the only compensation plan that enables them to compete for top-flight executive talent in the face of present tax laws.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has sought to rule out options for executives in public utility companies, but Middle South Utilities, Inc., plans a court test of the ruling.

Chairman Ralph Cordner of General Electric Co. had a paper profit earlier this year of $1.2 million in his optioned GE stock and President John Burns of RCA had a similar paper profit on option stock of $500,000.

But when stocks go down as they have in recent months the options can lose much of their glitter. In big companies, though, stock options for executives are a moral, not an economic issue. As one stockholder pointed out at the annual meeting of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), if there were no stock options and all Jersey's 20 top executives worked for nothing, that would only increase income to the 500,000 other stockholders by one cent.

Has Hands Blown Off; Woman's Husband Held

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The investigation of an early morning bombing which nearly killed a mother had led officers to the headquarters of her estranged husband.

Frances Brinkley Tate, 25, remained in critical condition today after a gift-wrapped bomb blew off her hands Thursday and mangled the faces of two of her three children.

Her 10-year-old husband, Levey Tate, 33, has been charged with three counts of assault with intent to murder. He has denied the charge.

Officers raided Tate's basement home in a remote section of near-by Lincoln County and discovered 1,485 gallons of moonshine whiskey, 38 cases of beer, a modern still, a pistol, a rifle, several shotguns and a supply of ammunition.

The raid came after Tate changed his earlier story and said he made a trip to Triune, near Nashville, to deliver some whiskey. The trip was made shortly before the booby-trap gift exploded in Mrs. Tate's face.

The crudely made dynamite bomb was left in a gift-wrapped shoebox at the home of Dorothy Hayes, Mrs. Tate's mother, with whom she had been living. Mrs. Hayes said she thought the package had been left as a gift for Mrs. Tate's third child, a 2-week old baby. She gave it to her daughter to be opened. The girls had come running up to see the "gift" when it exploded.

The girls, Becky, 10, and Charlotte, 8, were hit by fragments from the bomb. Mrs. Tate's daughters by a previous marriage, they were reported in serious condition.

Will Air New Detroit Tax Plan

Council Promises Full Public Hearing Before Final Action Aug. 2

DETROIT (U)—A new version of a 1 per cent income tax on persons living or working in Detroit will be given a thorough public airing before final action is taken on the proposal Aug. 2, Common Council members said yesterday.

A new draft of the ordinance will be submitted to the Council by July 6, along with a complete set of regulations governing its administration. If adopted, it would go into effect Jan. 1.

Spokesmen for the Detroit Fire Fighters Assn. (AFL-CIO) and the Detroit Police Officers Assn. put their groups on record in support of the income tax plan.

In a joint statement they said the new tax will provide "equitable taxation for all citizens using the essential services of our city, and will guarantee continuation of the very best police and fire protection."

The Council had planned to reintroduce the tax legislation next Tuesday, but postponed the action to give city attorneys sufficient time to prepare the new law. Louis Mirani vetoed the proposal. The Council failed to override the veto.

Fire in Wiring Ruins 1960 Car, Hurts Garage

Pontiac firemen agreed today that Frank J. Zwicker has had more than his share of new car trouble.

A short in the 1960 car's wiring set the vehicle ablaze at 4:55 this morning.

The blaze spread to the garage. When the last flames were extinguished almost an hour later, Zwicker's car, valued at $2,300, was completely destroyed.

And the fire caused an additional $300 in damage to the garage. Zwicker lives at 18 Cherry Ct.

Sen. Morris Blesses Bagwell ... Belatedly

LANSING (U)—Sen. Carlton H. Morris belatedly moved today to heal a rift in the Republican Party by endorsing Paul D. Bagwell, until Tuesday his primary opponent for governor.

He did not expressly offer to campaign for him.

"That's wonderful and I welcome it," said Bagwell, apprised of Morris' statement.

Bagwell had just presented his nominating petitions at the State Elections Bureau, becoming the first major party candidate to qualify for statewide office on the Aug. 2 ballot.

"As the minority party in Michigan we just cannot afford the luxury of intra-party battles," Bagwell added.

Morris, six-term Republican senator from Kalamazoo, withdrew from the race for the GOP governor nomination four days ago with an angry blast at "giant industry" and "big labor."

He said nothing about supporting Bagwell and left unclear his intention as to a possible seventh term in the Senate. Then he retired to a secluded lakeside cottage in Van Buren County.

Through a campaign aide, the 43-year-old lawyer sent word today to the Capital that he will not seek a seventh term. And he used those words with reference to Bagwell and the GOP gubernatorial situation.

"It has been clear that our views regarding many of the problems facing this state's people have differed on many points."

"Mr. Bagwell is, however, my party's candidate and as such I along with the Republican Party as a whole, earnestly hope for his victory in November," Morris said.

Phone Crews Busy at U. of M.

Underground Fire Puts 600 Out of Service but Hospital Not Affected

ANN ARBOR (U)—Repair crews were busy today restoring service to some 600 telephones at the University of Michigan which were disrupted by a fire in an underground heating tunnel.

The blaze, which apparently was ignited by sparks from a welder's torch, burned out nearly all of the university's telephone trunk lines and endangered its power source yesterday.

However, telephone men later established limited two-way service over six trunk lines. University Hospital was not affected by the disruption.

The fire sent clouds of smoke billowing from several manholes and attracted hundreds of students to the scene. Late afternoon rush-hour traffic was snarled at the intersection of North and East University avenues, important arteries of campus traffic where the fire was located.

Two firemen were overcome by noxious smoke which flowed from the tunnel. They returned to duty after treatment. The fire broke out at 3:30 p.m. and was brought under control three hours later.

Plan for Bill to Help Pay Sick Costs

Limited Care for Aged Gets 1st OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee today approved a strictly limited plan for health care of the needy and near-needy aged.

Estimated to cost $30 million a year, the plan is designed to benefit about 14 million persons aged 65 or older, not necessarily poor.

In doing so, they rejected the proposal by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.) for an expansion of the Social Security retirement system to provide health benefits for all retirees.

The difference, both sweeping efforts and determining whether federal standards, benefits and eligibility.

Of the estimated annual cost, the federal government would contribute 150 million dollars, the act would be to instruct Chairmen 150 million. Depending on the financial condition of the various states, the federal share would range from 50 to 65 per cent.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee settled on this plan after eight weeks of disagreement.

In doing so, they rejected the proposal by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.) for an expansion of the Social Security retirement system to provide health benefits for all retirees.

Sylvan Taking Bids on Sewer

James K. Storm Project to Begin Soon After June 15 Opening

The Sylvan Lake City Council is accepting bids for construction of a storm sewer on James K boulevard early this summer, it was announced today.

Estimated cost is $2,322, of which residents will pay $1,116, or about half in special assessments at a rate of 60 cents per lineal foot of frontage.

The bids will be opened June 15.

There are some 3,300 feet of property frontage which will be affected by the sewer.

Residents Approve

The special assessment district covers an area roughly from Dick street to the north city limit.

At public hearings last night and two weeks ago, residents voiced approval of the sewer and forthcoming blacktopping projects.

"The sewer should take only two or three days to construct, but it must be completed before we can blacktop the streets in that district," said City Manager David E. Firestone.

There is one milk cow in the United States for every eight persons.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Question: We see so many dogs obviously enjoying an automobile ride, but not cars. Is there anything we can do about his car sickness?

Answer: The answer to this problem is usually found in the cause, not the cure. In the very young dog, the sensation of motion can cause nausea, but is generally overcome in a short while.

Often the only time Rover is allowed in the car is when he is taken to the veterinarian or a kennel. He is intelligent enough to associate the ride with the destination and his apprehension produces illness.

There are other causes, of course. Dogs are sensitive to the fumes of automobiles, so be sure there is plenty of ventilation. Don't confine him to the floor of the car where he can't see out. Don't allow him an excess of food or water before traveling, and if the journey is lengthy, remember that he needs rest-room breaks too.

Pills to help prevent motion sickness are available through your veterinarian or pet store and one given about an hour before traveling will help.

(Address your question to Dr. Moller in care of this paper. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

Turkey Plentiful for July Buyers

Agriculture Department Says Quality High and Supply Over '59 Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has put turkey at the top of its plentiful foods list for July.

It said markets will have considerably more than the record number of birds sold last July, and "quality is high." All sizes will be in ample supply.

Produce on the July plentiful list included lettuce, eggplant, green peppers, cabbage, potatoes, onions, peaches and watermelons.

Poultry will have to be meatier to qualify for U.S. Grade "A" after July when the department's revised standards for poultry go into effect.

REQUIRE MORE FLESH
The revised standards call for a greater amount of flesh on the breast of "A" quality birds.

New standards and grades for poultry parts also are provided, so that shoppers can buy, for example, U.S. Grade "A" chicken or turkey legs.

Other changes include use of letter grade marks (U.S. Grade A, B or C) to individually grade, ready-to-eat, poultry, new wholesale and procurement grades; and redefinition of the standards, in part, so they will be applied more uniformly.

Output of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in April totaled 2,107,000,000 pounds, down 2 per cent from April 1959, and 9 per cent below March.

Production of red meat for the first four months of the year totaled 8,981,000,000 pounds, up 6 per cent from production in the same period last year.

Beef was up 8 per cent from last year, veal up 7 per cent, pork up 5 per cent and lamb and mutton down 4 per cent.

The value of U.S. farm exports during July-March 1959-60 was 21 per cent above that of overseas shipments in the corresponding period a year ago.

They Did It by Sixes

St. Fred Students Catch Senioritis, but Love It!

By PAT VILLELLA

After the success of the senior play and junior-senior prom held last Friday, the Senior Class at St. Frederick's High School has come to know "Senioritis."

This particular disease is known only to graduating seniors and a few to catch.

After receiving their caps and gowns last week, the seniors have reached what may be called the home stretch. The caps and gowns bring them even closer to the final step.

Monday, the salutatorian and valedictorian were named. As everyone knows, the valedictorian is picked for outstanding scholastic ability.

This honor goes to Sherri Gorman, who has kept not only an A average, but has also included herself in many extra-curricular activities.

COLLETTIE SCHAFER
Collettie Schaffer has been named salutatorian. Collette will be responsible for the farewell speech commencement.

The Senior Class was also honored at the Honors Convocation dance which will be held from 8 to 11 in the Parish Hall.

is to give recognition to the outstanding seniors. Recognition was given to those with high scholastic honors; for service, leadership and citizenship.

An award was given also for the outstanding girl and boy in the senior class, the "Womanhood" and "Manhood" awards. The students who have been received into the National Honor Society were announced.

The seniors have been busy with the last edition of the RAMROD.

The hopes of the class was a junior-sized yearbook and their hopes have come true through hard work and determination.

The final edition will be on sale early next week and the Press Club is proud to boast some 28 pages of good newspaper.

The Senior Class will be able to leave behind a school paper and an IBM electric typewriter as a gift to the school and the Press Club.

Athletic awards were presented by boys' coach Jim Neibauer, and the girls' coach, Joyce Droupp.

Outstanding girl and boy athletes of the year were announced by the Rev. Renna Narum, pastor of Immaculate Conception in Milan. Receiving the trophies were Diana Adams and Patrick Campbell.

Trophies were also given to senior members of the boys' and girls' varsity teams and senior cheerleaders, Marie Cronan and Diana Adams.

After the awards, the film of the St. Michael's St. Frederick football game was shown.

'About Faces' Is Annual Event

Waterford Juniors Fete Graduates

By JOHN TEEUWISSEN

With exclamations of joy and relief at the end of exams, mingled with not a few expressions of sadness at leaving the life which they lived for three years, Waterford High School's Class of 1960 left its last formal class today, a bit wiser, more mature and self-confident.

The end of classes, however, is not the end of the busy senior's activities. Tomorrow evening he will be entertained by the Junior Class at the annual Junior-Senior event, "About Faces."

The juniors will present a program and provide refreshments and music for dancing as they fete the graduating class.

General chairman for "About Faces" is Virginia Studebaker. She

Waterford's 11 Honor's Convocation saw many awards presented. The charter members of Waterford's chapter of the National Honor Society were recognized to open the assembly.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD
The Junior Chamber of Commerce Scholarship was presented to Betty Sue Stecher.

Recognition was given students who had been on the Honor Roll all year and who had earned all A's at least one marking period. Recognition was given speech, music, and art award winners.

Several students were singled out for individual honors. The John Phillip Sousa award for instrumental music was presented to Helen Bulla, assistant principal, presented Judy Doyle with the DAR Gold Citizenship Award.

Tension then began to mount as the time came to announce the recipients of the coveted awards for Outstanding Senior Journalist, Outstanding Senior Athlete and Outstanding Senior Citizen.

The Journalism award went to Mary Ellen Taylor, senior editor of the yearbook and a three-year journalist student.

Bill Bryce, football, basketball and baseball standout received the Andy Miceli Award as Outstanding Senior Athlete.

Selected as Outstanding Senior Citizen of the Class of 1960 was Student Council Vice President Sandra MacAbee.

The trip was taken via the USS South America. Seniors left Friday morning and boarded the waiting ship after a bus trip to Detroit.

A talent show, given by the students aboard the ship, was a highlight of the trip. There also was a Captain's Dinner.

After four hours on Mackinac Island, the weary but excited seniors returned to the boat. They arrived home Sunday afternoon. Daniel Hutches and Karen Violette

Oxford Graduation Exercises Planned

By BEATRICE KRAIG

Baccalaureate services will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Oxford High School Auditorium. An old tradition of the seniors is to march in to the music of "Pomp and Circumstance."

The Oxford High School Choir will sing "Beautiful Savior" and "The Battle Hymn of Republic," which will follow the prayer.

The Honors Conference will be held Monday afternoon. It is an assembly for all students who are to receive awards. All parents and alumni are welcome to come to this assembly.

The seniors will have their commencement exercises at 8:15 June 8 in the auditorium. During the exercises, the Mixed Senior Ensemble will sing the "Lord's Prayer," "Graduation Day" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Following graduation, there will be a party for the seniors and their dates from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. climaxed by a breakfast prepared and served by the Mens Club.

Request Program Beamed to Sailors

LONDON (UPI) — One of the world's most southerly radio request programs is on the air, bringing messages from British families to men in whaling ships on the South Atlantic.

The Falkland Islands broadcasting station at Port Stanley went on the air recently with a half-hour program of music and messages for the 1,200 whalers and seafarers currently operating in Antarctic waters.

The program, broadcast every other Friday, carries messages and records from families or friends in Britain and Norway to the men of the whaling and sealing fleets.

As activities are drawing to a close in a number of area high schools, this is to be the last edition of Friday's weekly school page until classes resume in the fall. Watch The Press for stories of graduation events during the next two weeks.

Hold Independence Township Offices for Half-Day

Clarkston Pupils Assume Government Jobs

By JANET TISCH

Ten students from the Clarkston High School Freshman Class recently took over Independence Township offices on Student Government Day.

They spent a half-day with the officials they were representing. They wrote a short report on what they learned and presented it to all the Michigan history and vocational guidance classes.

These students are to attend a Township Board meeting June 7 at which acting supervisor David Smith will present a short talk.

The students who participated in Government Day besides David were Betty Raby, clerk; Mike Simonson, treasurer; David Kney, assessor; Marsha Booth, secretary; Ed McCand, trustee; Fred Lissner, fire chief; Frank Powell, superintendent of cemeteries; Barb Hagen, office manager; and Ward Robbins, building inspector.

The 1960 graduating class of Clarkston High School will present its baccalaureate services Sunday afternoon in the high school gymnasium.

REVEREND DEE
The Rev. David Dee will give the baccalaureate address. The Senior Chorus will sing "One World," in which Dan Althouse will sing a tenor solo.

The chorus will also sing "Lord Make Me Thine Instrument." To close the services, Lucy Oakley will sing "Climb Every Mountain," accompanied by the entire chorus.

Commencement exercises will be held Monday evening on the school football field, weather permitting.

Students who are graduating stumma cum laude and magna cum laude will be presented, and R. E. Spohn of the Clarkston School Board will present the 150 graduates with their long-awaited diplomas.

The Lahti Department recently presented its second annual awards program in the school cafeteria. During a candlelight ceremony, 11 students received membership certificates in the National Latin Honor Society.

Membership in this society is granted to students who have shown a special aptitude for language study.

Admitted into the society this year were Judy Jaffe, Maureen O'Mara, David St. Chin, Jean Powell, James Jennings, Mary Robbins, Marcelline Wae, Caroline Richmond, Marsha Booth, Larry Childress and Donald Milligan.

LATIN SCHOLAR
It was learned that one of these students, Judy Jaffe, had also won a certificate of merit for having placed among the top quarter of those students taking the A.P.S.L. School's S. F. Golden, principal of Clarkston High School; and Terry Thomas, boys' counselor.

Dr. Hoops spoke to the gathering on the "Place of Humanities in a True Education."

Dr. Hoops announced that next fall MSUO will begin its own "Classics" program. He further stated that it was the hope of MSUO to encourage the teaching of the Classics in this area and that he rejoiced in honor Dr. Robert Hoops, dean of faculty at Clarkston would offer its first course in advanced Latin next year.

Punch, coffee and cookies served by the Latin II students closed the program.

COUNCIL OFFICERS
Student Council officers for the 1960-61 school year have been elected by the student body of Clarkston High School.

After a week of campaigning and a convention, held May 26, students who had registered to vote were able to cast their ballots. Elected were: president, John Hicks; vice president, Ron Apple; treasurer, Barb Buzzell; and secretary, Ruth McNell.

Fred Lissner, fire chief; Frank Powell, superintendent of cemeteries; Mike Simonson, treasurer; David Smith, supervisor; Marsha Booth, secretary; Betty Raby, clerk; Ed McCand, trustee; Barbara Hagen, office manager; and David Knor, assessor.

Hospital Gives Tea to Honor Volunteer Workers

Pontiac State Hospital volunteer workers Mrs. Dean Coffin, left, and Mrs. William Breech, both of Bloomfield Hills, join Ted Panaretos, community relations director, and Mrs. C. Oglesby of Birmingham, at right, as they greet fellow-workers Thursday at the annual tea for volunteers in the recreational therapy department of the hospital.

By MADELINE DOEREN
The Pontiac State Hospital honored over 500 of its volunteers Thursday afternoon at a tea in the recreational therapy department of the hospital.
The Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.
Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, hospital superintendent, welcomed the assembly and expressed appreciation on behalf of patients and staff members for the dedicated service rendered by some 500 volunteer workers.
Mrs. Ruth Vancil, music director in the recreational therapy department, led a mixed chorus of patients in two numbers, "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and "Let The Rest of the World Go By."

A vocal duet presented Rodgers and Hammerstein's "If I Loved You" from "Carousel."
Choosing for his topic "Hundreds of Helping Hands," Rev. Hershey stressed the importance of the volunteer in American society. "They are the very backbone of any institution," he said. "Volunteers are needed by hospitals just as the church cannot function without volunteer workers."

After deploring the lack of literature on what makes the volunteer tick, Rev. Hershey closed with the thought-provoking question, "Just what would happen if an army of volunteers would stage a sit-down strike some morning?"
Ted A. Panaretos, hospital community relations director, headed the volunteer-tea-planning committee which included Dr. William A. Decker, Elizabeth Tiley, R.N., Mrs. Eleanor McCurry, Dorothy Roe, Grace Clark, Mrs. Hazel Polz, Ted Stein and Richard Arthaud.

When asked about the role of the volunteer in hospital administration, Mrs. Ruby Cargle, director of nurses, replied, "The hospital just couldn't function without them. They run small errands for ward patients, write letters, assist in the central supply room and surgical units. They uphold the patients' morale by encouraging good rooming and participation in all activities."

Mrs. L. Rumbaugh of Birmingham who works with 10- to 14-year-old boys is impressed with the fine manners, good behavior and cooperation of her charges.

PERK UP MORALE
A unit of cosmetologists from Detroit believes that nothing improves female morale better than a good shampoo and a hairdo.
Although the hospital has a beauty salon for ambulatory patients, those not so fortunate soon become "forgotten women" unless some one does something about it.
For this minority group, the beauticians bring facilities to the patient, setting up shop at bedside. At the last session, 10 beauticians gave 32 permanent waves in four hours.

More volunteers from the Pontiac area are needed as the Detroit unit comes out only every two months.
Also mindful of the non-ambulatory women patients, the Assembly to Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2706 of Keego Harbor, has adopted the slogan "Remember the Forgotten Woman."

DEAR NO FRIENDS: Perhaps your wife lacks confidence. She probably feels that she doesn't know how to entertain properly and is afraid to try. Let her know that the people who are worth entertaining won't like her less if she isn't the hostess with the mostest don't give up. Everybody needs friends.

They serve coffee and tea-time delicacies one day each month, with special treats on holidays.
VARIETY OF CRAFTS
Crafts taught in the recreational therapy program include ceramics, dressmaking, millinery, copper enameling, leather work, art, flower arrangement, needlework, basketry, weaving and knitting.
If the patient cannot attend class, the class goes to the patient, with bedside instruction.

The task of spoon-feeding aged and infirm patients has proven very rewarding to volunteer worker Mrs. Earl C. Pinkerton of Royal Oak.
She is busy corralling more volunteers for this tedious chore which calls for patience and tact. Some of her patients are nearing the century mark.

The Gray Ladies have started a newspaper where patients report little anecdotes about themselves and their visitors with an occasional quip about their favorite staff members.
Does the volunteer worker have any qualms about working in a mental hospital?

RESPONSIBILITY REALIZED
"Not after she realizes her sense of deep responsibility to the patient," says Mrs. Dean Coffin.
Mrs. William Breech even regards the patients as a sort of second family and wonders about them when off duty.

Noted for her distaste of "teacup charities," Mrs. R. C. Oglesby feels that hospital volunteer work absolutely spoils one for any other type of volunteer service.
When she spotted Mr. Panaretos after benediction by the Rev. Mr. Hershey, he was wearing a giant campaign button. It was presented by a group of volunteers and inscribed, "Our Boss Ted—for Valor Under Fire."

Richard Arthaud of Lake Orion, social service director of Pontiac State Hospital, left, and Mrs. Jack E. Bartholomew, volunteer social service worker from Birmingham, are served a glass of punch by Mrs. Walter H. Obenaus, wife of the hospital medical superintendent.

See Older Relatives on Visit

By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: My parents live several hundred miles from me, and I get home on the average of twice a year for three or four days. Whenever I go home my relatives expect me to call them or go to see them. Since I have many relatives this would be an impossible task and I like to spend my time at leisure with my parents. Is it not as much their place to call on me since they know in advance that I will be in town, as it is for me to go to see them? The reason I ask is because every time I go home and I fail to go to see these relatives, they seem very hurt and never fail to tell my parents how ill-mannered I am.
Answer: Those of your relatives who are of your age or younger should not expect you to call on them, but you should go to see those that are of your parents' generation.
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to take a box of candy to one's hostess when invited to her house for dinner? I have always followed this practice but was told recently that it is not done by people of best taste and makes the hostess feel that it is payment for the meal.
Answer: This is more popularly done in some communities than in others, but it is certainly not in bad taste. I can't imagine that any hostess would be critical of this courtesy.

MRS. FRANK H. BRITTON

While in college Mrs. Britton was a member of the Public Affairs Club, English Guild, Spartan Athletic Society and served as a cheerleader, junior class secretary and assistant editor of the college paper. She is listed in the 1959-60 "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Comb Cleaner
(NEA) — A good way to keep your combs and brushes clean is to soak them for a few minutes in a basin of warm water to which you've added a couple of tablespoons of baking soda. The alkaline action of the soda solution cuts and removes odors and oil.

Abby Says: You Made a Mistake

14 Is Too Young to Drool

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Boy, oh boy, do I ever need your help! I am 14 and I like this boy Norman (also 14) very much. I found out he was getting his curly hair cut off for a crew cut on Saturday morning. I was happy because I know the barber he goes to.
I told the barber how much I liked him and asked him if he would save Norman's curls for me, so he did. Guess what? Somehow it got back to Norman and now he won't even look at me. What should I do?
LOVES NORMAN
DEAR LOVES NORMAN: Quit drooling over him — and hang on to those curls. That's probably as close to Norman as you'll get until his hair grows out and he grows up. A 14-year-old boy would rather have a girl secretly hate him than publicly like him.
DEAR ABBY: We have a widowed grandmother, aged 60, who has had this man living with her for the past four years. He is now in his late thirties.
She owns her own home and is very well off financially. Despite our protests she brings him to all the family gatherings. We can hardly stand him.
Everyone in town knows about these two. Is there anything we can do to get rid of him? Some folks say it is none of our business, but we think, out of respect to the memory of our deceased grandfather, we should put a stop to it.
We've asked her to please leave this fellow home when she comes to family get-togethers, but she won't come without him. We hoped she'd get over this nonsense but it's been four years now and he is still around. If she dies, will this man have any claim on her property, holdings and insurance?

INTERESTED GRANDCHILDREN
DEAR INTERESTED: Evidently Grandma doesn't care what you or the neighbors think. I don't know what provisions she has made for her "property, holdings and insurance" — but her lawyer probably does. If you are interested — why don't you ask Grandma?
DEAR ABBY: Is it normal for a pretty, 35-year-old woman (who looks 25) to refuse to have any friends over? When I mention inviting a couple or two in for an evening it starts a terrible argument.
We have been married 10 years and have no children. We own a beautiful, new, ranch-style home with new modern furniture, so she doesn't have to be ashamed to invite people in.

But she flatly refuses. The two of us get along fine and I have absolutely no complaints except this one. How do I get her to invite people over? Or should I just give up?
DEAR NO FRIENDS: Perhaps your wife lacks confidence. She probably feels that she doesn't know how to entertain properly and is afraid to try. Let her know that the people who are worth entertaining won't like her less if she isn't the hostess with the mostest don't give up. Everybody needs friends.

Why Grow Old Too Soon?

Get That Waistline Down

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "I have a problem. I am 24 years old and weigh 130 pounds. My measurements are bust 33 inches, waist 24½ and hips 38. If I lose weight, I lose in the bust. My husband always is teasing me about being so big and I feel so big. I must do something, please tell me what."

A. You did not give me your height but it does not sound as though you are terribly overweight. I judge that it is mostly your measurements which displease you. When you diet take bust-developing and hip-slimming exercises.

HAS BULGE

Q. "Please answer this as soon as possible in your column. How can I get rid of the bulge between my bust and waist? I haven't been bothered with this until recently. I am doing exercises for the hips and waist but I never have seen any for this spot."

A. Many women are harassed by deposits of fat on the diaphragm. Do the following exercises. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated and your arms at your sides. Keep the knees stiff as you bend your trunk forward. Touch your fingers to the left toe if you can. Raise the trunk and pull back toward the right, arms moving to overhead position. Stretch. Again bend the trunk and try to touch the fingertips to the right toe. Raise the trunk and pull back to the left. Stretch. Continue alternating left and right.

Q. "Are hormone creams harmful?"

A. When they first appeared on the market some years ago many physicians were afraid that they might be dangerous. However, today, after many years there has been no evidence that they are dangerous. The doctors with whom I have talked do not disapprove of them, the exception being that a woman who has had cancer should not use them.

Q. "I am a boy 48 inches tall and I weigh 74 pounds. Will you please tell me what foods I should eat to gain weight and what exercises I should do to grow taller. I am 13 years of age."

A. About the best way to increase your height is to improve your posture. The habit of holding the spine straight and the head erect can give you an increase of a couple of inches. You just need a well-balanced diet to begin with. Then add more desserts. Have cream sauces on your vegetables and drink a quart of milk daily. (Take some in-between meals) with a little cream added. Vitamin B complex seems to help some in growing and gaining.

Q. "If you would like to have my leadet 'General Reducing Routine' send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leadet No. 1 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press."

The lobby and a conference room will be in the center, and the west wing will contain the council chambers to accommodate 75 spectators. The building will be finished in brick veneer to match the Lions Club warming shelter in the park.

The meeting will be held in the Milford High School at 8 p.m. The Huron Valley Schools branch of the Michigan Education Assn. and the local PTAs are sponsoring the program.

Newlyweds Honeymoon in Santa Clara, Calif.

MRS. RICHARD A. TEWS

WALLED LAKE — On a honeymoon trip to Santa Clara, Calif., where they will live, are a newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Tews.

The bride is the former Toni Rae Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland A. Hammer of 112 Lakeside St. The bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Albert Tews of 8106 Clinton River Rd., Utica.

For her wedding in the Methodist Church here, the bride chose an ivory satin gown with a long train. She wore in traditional fashion the French rose-pointe lace veil worn by her mother for her wedding and the bridegroom's gift of a pearl necklace and matching earrings.

The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and white roses, with a tiny yellow rosebud center.

Mary Sue Nebel of Munising was maid of honor. Pat Tews, cousin of the bridegroom, bridesmaid; and Annette Gingras of Livonia, the bride's niece, flower girl.

Duties as best man were performed by Thomas, Ritter, of Pottery, Ushers were the bride's brother Thomas, Patrick McLeod of Dexter, Gerald Mack of Utica and Charles Rose Jr. of Windsor. The bride's nephew, Steven Carlson of Walled Lake, was ring bearer.

Immediately following the candlelight ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall.

Bottle, Shrewd Detective Lead to Arrest of Three

MRS. JAMES E. COCHRAN

Three burglary suspects were trapped Thursday by a shrewd Oakland County sheriff's detective and a bottle of beer.

Detective Charles Whitlock investigated a break-in at the home of Richard Erikson of 3190 Clark Rd., Orion Township, shortly after Erikson reported it yesterday.

Erikson had returned from a vacation to find his home ransacked and many items of bedding, furniture, kitchen appliances, and food including 30 frying chickens missing.

The loot was worth at least $500. There was also a case of beer stolen.

This struck a note with Whitlock. He recalled a break-in in the Birmingham area several nights ago where the burglars had left an empty bottle of that brand of beer at the scene.

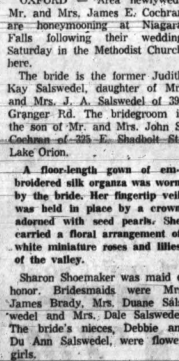

A witness had given Birmingham Police the license number of a car seen in the area of the burglary. Whitlock traced the license to Nevin E. Pritchard, 18, of 125 Indian Lake Rd., Lake Orion.

Detectives arrested Pritchard who implicated two more Lake Orion men, Samuel F. Trounstein, 28, of 829 Pine St., and Russell E. Richards, 19, of 919 Cole St.

Detectives said the three have admitted to them that they were responsible for both break-ins.

They were scheduled to appear in court today on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime. Whitlock and other deputies found most of Erikson's stolen property in an apartment rented by the trio at 27 Clark St.

A floor-length gown of embroidered silk organza was worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown adorned with seed pearls. She carried a floral arrangement of white miniature roses and lilies of the valley.

Sharon Shoemaker was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Brady, Mrs. Duane Salawedel and Mrs. Dale Salawedel. The bride's nieces, Debbie and Du Ann Salawedel, were flower girls.

The bridegroom's brother William served as best man. Ushers were James Brady and Dale and Duane Salawedel. The bride's cousin, Francis Rosebush Jr., was ring-bearer.

WASHINGTON — The figure of a Hawaiian personality who died in 1813.

As the 50th state, Hawaii has the right to contribute a representative statue to the American Hall of Fame.

By all odds, the favorite is King Kamehameha I, who unified the once-warring islands and welcomed modern ideas from the outside world.

HAD KEEN MIND

Kamehameha was born on Hawaii Island, the largest and southernmost of the volcanic archipelago that stretches 1,600 miles across the mid-Pacific, says the National Geographic Society.

The date of his birth is uncertain. Conflicting evidence points to years as far apart as 1757 and 1758. But historians agree that Kamehameha (pronounced with the accent on the 2nd) was a man of keen intelligence and prodigious energy. He stood 6 feet, 6 inches tall, weighed more than 250 pounds, and was noted for physical courage and skill.

Kamehameha was a product of the feudal customs of his pagan home and time. He clung to the traditions and primitive faith of his ancestors. He was ruthless in battle and an absolute monarch over his people. But he commanded affection as well as respect.

"I think no Christian king can govern in the absolute manner in which I do," he once said, "and yet be loved by his subjects as I am."

Kamehameha's career as "Napoleon of the Pacific" began soon after the English navigator, James Cook, discovered the Hawaiian chain in 1778.

After his first visit to Captain Cook's ships, when he traded a feather cloak for iron daggers, Kamehameha helped Western tools and methods in his esteem.

He hired foreign advisers and bought foreign arms and vessels for military campaigns. When peace came to the islands, he encouraged imports of new plants and livestock. He promoted shipbuilding and foreign trade.

Kamehameha's death in 1819 marked the end of an era. The ancient faith, with its rigid tabus, was abruptly abandoned. New English missionaries arrived, setting new patterns of life.

Prisoners Tell What They Want for Happiness

CHICAGO — Prisoners in the Cook County Jail answered a quiz by the Jilt's newspaper on what three things they hoped for most out of life.

Some answers:

"A wife, a home and happiness because those are the three essentials of life."

"Money, a good foundation under me, and a good girl—because that is what it will take for me to survive through my life."

"Freedom, forgiveness from all my loved ones and all those I have hurt in the past, and the strength to live a Christian life after I am free, as I have learned here through the help of Christ."

"Get out of jail, get back to my kids and be a great Casanova."

Rochester Coin Club Plans Exhibit Saturday

Troy Contracts Total $1,008,502

Let School Expansion Bids

TROY — Contracts totaling $1,008,502 for school expansion were awarded by the Board of Education here last night at a special meeting.

A general contract to nearly double the size of Troy High School and for alterations to heating systems in the Smith and Beaver elementary schools went to low bidder A. Z. Schima & Sons Co. of Dearborn for $896,600.

Construction at the high school is expected to accommodate an additional 650 students by September 1961. At present there are 550 students.

Seventeen classrooms will be built onto the north end of the high school. Also to be added to the building are a library, band room, two drafting rooms and a shower and locker room.

The gymnasium and cafeteria will be enlarged at the same time.

The school Board is considering adding a driver education room and another shop room at the high school also. The contract will have to be broken down before the Board can decide on the cost, among parson, according to School Supt. Rex B. Smith.

Construction at the high school and alterations at the two elementary schools are scheduled to begin immediately, with completion by June 1961.

Contracts awarded last night come under an overall $2,200,000 school expansion program approved by voters in the district Oct. 10. The program is being financed through the sale of bonds.

Already under way are construction of a new elementary school on an 11-acre site at Livernois and Rochester roads and additions to Morse and Poppleton elementary schools.

Enlargement of the high school will enable shifting of the ninth grade from the overtaxed Baker Junior High School.

Expansion plans at Troy schools hit a snag earlier this year when the State Health Department vetoed any new construction until a solution to the city's sewer woes was reached.

PLANS LATERAL SYSTEM

At present, Troy is served solely by septic tanks, and the Health Department decreed that these have reached the saturation point, permitting no new ones.

The city plans to build a lateral system to tie in with sewer mains planned by the county. However, the county's plans are being held up by a pending court case over distribution of costs among participating communities.

In the event the sewage system is not completed before the school additions are ready for use, the School Board had to agree to have raw sewage hauled away by truck from the schools before the Health Department would give its approval.

The school expansion plan is deemed essential to relieve existing overcrowded conditions as well as to absorb an expected increase from 3,500 pupils to 4,500 by 1964. The figures are based on a school census taken a year ago.

Also awarded last night to low bidders were a $214,361 mechanical contract to Lloyd S. Thorne Co. Inc. of Troy, an $88,415 electrical contract to Jones Electric Shop of Ferndale, and a miscellaneous school supplies contract, split among five companies, for $5,999.

A fire insurance contract for the next five years was awarded by the School Board to low bidder Hudson and Muma Insurance Agency of Detroit for $9,129.

The Board also approved plans to move the school bus yard from the high school to Smith Elementary School to allow room for the addition.

June 11 Licensing Day

Waterford to Tag Bikes

Waterford Township police are preparing to license more than 5,000 bicycles.

The project will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, June 11, according to Police Chief Milford J. Pender.

Inspection check lists distributed to more than 11,000 school children will be returned Monday at the police department information.

License issuing will take place at the elementary school nearest the applicant.

Junior and senior high school students must designate the nearest elementary school on the returned forms.

A fee of 25 cents for the metal license tag will be charged.

If an individual cannot get his license June 11, he may obtain it at the police station at a later date.

However, Pender stressed that a bicycle must not be ridden until the license is secured.

He explained that the township bicycles ordinance was passed last year as a safety measure, as a means of educating young people to the requirements of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code and to identify bicycles lost or stolen.

It's Happened at Last—Manville Has Two Wives

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A Superior Court ruling here has made a bigamist of playboy millionaire Tommy Manville.

The court ruled Thursday that the asbestos heir's ninth wife didn't legally divorce him.

This means Manville is still legally wed to ex-dancer Anita Frances Rodney-Eden and means that if he's currently married at all, it's bigamously.

Manville's current wife, No. 17, is former waitress Christina Erdlen, 20.

Nab 4 Boys in Burglary

Four teen-age boys were nabbed by Pontiac police early today in a burglary of Calabrese's Market, 433 S. Jessie St.

The store and two youths on the sidewalk nearby.

Beals, the driver, spotted the approaching police cars and sped off, leaving Gambin and the juvenile flatfooted.

Beals knocked down several barricades on S. Jessie between Prospect street and East Wilson avenue before losing control of his car and finally stopping at Padlock and Drexel streets.

Flury was arrested when officers spotted him near the store an hour later.

In the car police found beer, cigarettes and three gallons of ice cream.

The ice cream—unmelted—was returned to the grocery.

History of Tea Has Strange Legends

WASHINGTON—Increasing numbers of people are enjoying "a nice cup of tea" in recent years.

In 1959, world tea output reached a record 1,671,400,000 pounds, or $24,280,000,000 in tea cups, the National Geographic Society says. Production has risen more than 57 per cent in the past two decades.

Tea is the most popular drink in Ceylon, Pakistan, India and the Soviet Union. It has made remarkable gains in North Africa and the Near East.

Even the British have not reached the saturation point. They have increased per capita consumption to almost 10 pounds a year, the world's highest rate.

GAINS IN U.S.

Coffee still holds sway in the United States, but tea has millions of adherents. The United States is the second largest tea importer.

*According to Chinese legend, the first cup of tea was brewed by Emperor Shen Nung in 2737 B. C. The emperor, known as the Divine Healer, always boiled his drinking water.

One day, leaves from a tea tree blew into the bubbling water. Shen Nung inhaled the delicious aroma and promptly drank the brew.

The first authentic mentions of tea occur in 4th Century Chinese texts, where they described it as "a divine remedy and a supreme gift of heaven."

Popularity of tea was assured after it cured a famous general of a monumental stomach ache. The formal Japanese tea ceremony was started in the 15th Century, and it continues today as a means of achieving the beautiful in daily routine.

In England, where tea is a way of life, the drink was an object of puzzlement and dispute when introduced in the 1600s. Many thought it was simply another herb. They boiled the tea, threw away the water, and served the leaves with butter.

The United States is credited with two innovations: iced tea and tea bags. Iced tea was improvised at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 when the hot variety proved decidedly unpopular in the sweltering heat.

Tea bags were inadvertently invented in the same year by Thomas Sullivan, a New York tea merchant who sent his customers samples in small silk sacks. Soon they were asking for more tea packaged in bags. Today, 40 per cent of the tea consumed in the United States goes into iced tea, and 58 per cent is sold in bags.

Rail Engineers Win 2 Pay Hikes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A wage arbitration board awarded the 40,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers two pay increases of 2 per cent each. The union's headquarters reported today.

The decision, which may set a pattern for 800,000 union members on the nation's railroads, also includes a clause making a 17-cent-an-hour cost-of-living payment a regular part of the wages.

A two per cent raise becomes effective July 1. Another two per cent will go into effect next March 1. These are on top of the present basic daily rates, which include the 17-cent factor. The escalator features of the cost-of-living clause are being eliminated in the new agreement.

The contract will run to Nov. 1, 1961.

The union says the hourly average for its members, including the 17 cents, now is $2.83. The union wanted a 12 per cent increase. Initially the railroads proposed a decrease of 15 cents an hour.

The award is by unanimous decision of the six-man arbitration board, headed by Prof. Archibald Cox of Harvard University.

Deaths Elsewhere

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Martin Francis Hubert, 85, chairman of the city's ethics committee and former board chairman of the Hearst Corp., died Thursday.

FRANKFORT, Ind. (AP)—G. Max Fowler, 70, publisher of the Frankfort Morning Times and a national Masonic officer, died Thursday.

Different Reaction to Same Name

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP)—When Richard McMillan signs his name, it attracts attention. But not always for the same reason.

As an artist, he signs his name at the bottom of his water color, or oil paintings, a n.d. draws applause from his admirers.

As a state trooper attached to a highway radar unit, he signs it at the end of a traffic summons—and draws a different kind of reaction.

California Reels in Heat Wave: 117 at Mecca

By The Associated Press

Parts of California still reeled in the grip of a heat wave. Thursday's readings included 118 degrees at the airport outside of Sacramento, and 106 in the city, topping the June 2 record of 100 degrees. Thousand Palms and Mecca, Calif., had 117 degrees. Thunderstorms rolled over the eastern portion of the country today, cutting a swath from Alabama, northeastward into New York state and the southern New England states.

A few light showers doused the section from the Upper Great Lakes into North Dakota. Fog covered parts of the Ohio Valley. Fair skies ruled elsewhere. Temperatures were mostly sea-

Seaman Being Held in False Bomb Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Baltimore merchant seaman was ordered held in $2,500 bail Thursday on charges of filing a false bomb report after he said a box he was carrying aboard an airliner contained a Soviet atomic bomb.

Patrick Matthew Hayes, 57, adverse purchasing a round trip ticket for New York at Baltimore's Friendship International Airport, told an Eastern Airlines employee he had a Soviet atomic bomb in a 16-inch cardboard box he carried. He said it was timed to explode when he reached La Guardia Airport in New York.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Hayes was the 17th person arrested on false bomb charges since April 7.

Orioles, Indians One-Run Victors

A year ago Dick Stigman was a 17-game loser in the minors. Now he's Cleveland's relief ace, a southpaw stopper who has kept the Indians close to Baltimore in that American League pennant race.

While the Orioles have taken over first place by winning 11 of their last 14 games, Cleveland has clung to second by winning nine of the last 14—and Stigman has saved five of the nine.

He kept the Indians within 2½ games of the Orioles by putting down a four-run ninth-inning rally at Kansas City Thursday night, saving a 7-6 Cleveland victory over the A's after Baltimore had beaten the New York Yankees 6-5.

Chicago's third-place White Sox fell 3½ games back with a 4-3 loss at Detroit. Washington jumped out of the cellar and dropped Boston to eighth by sweeping a doubleheader from the Red Sox, winning the nightcap 4-7 in 10 innings after an 8-3 romp.

Every club but the White Sox clipped in on an 18-run home total that tied a 27-year-old American League record for five games. Twelve National League homers tied the eight-game major league record of 30 set in 1950.

Stigman, 24, who had a 9-17 record at San Diego in the Pacific Coast League last season, relieved winner Jim Grait (5-1) with three runs home and twout in the ninth. Dick Williams' pinch single scored another run, but after pinch-hitter Hank Bauer walked, Stigman got Harry Chitt on a fly, ending the A's winning string at five.

Tito Francona, Woodie Held and Johnny Romano homered for the Indians' last six runs, all off Ray Herbert (2-4). Romano's three-run shot in the fifth inning was the clincher. Mary Thronberry hit a two-run homer for the A's.

The Orioles scored all their runs on three homers for a three-game sweep over the Yankees and their seventh victory in eight games. Gene Woodling's home run won it, cracking a 5-5 tie in the eighth against Art Ditmar (2-3), who lost his third in a row; this one in relief. Brooks Robinson's one-on-home run had tied it 2-all in the fifth, and Jim Gentile then gave the Birds a 5-4 lead in the sixth with a three-run homer off starter Jim Coates. Chitt Estrada (5-1) won it in relief.

Bill Skowron and Roger Maris drove in all of the Yankees' runs and had six of their 10 hits. Each hammered a homer off starter Hoyt Wilhelm, with Maris keeping the AL lead with his 12th.

The Senators walloped five home runs, two by Billy Gardner, who hit a grand slam in the nightcap. Gardner, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison unloaded in the opener as Washington beat the Delock (0-1) for the first time in 10 decisions going back to 1957. Don Lee (1-0) was the winner, picking up his second major league victory, both against the Red Sox. A two-out triple by Faye Thronberry beat Frank Sullivan (0-1), working in relief, in the second game. Pete Ramos (3-4) was the winner, coming on after Harmon Killebrew, who hit a two-run homer, had tied it 2-all with a sacrifice fly in the ninth.

MUSIC FOR GOLF — Wife Smith of St. Clair Shores had plenty of time to play her piano in her specially-equipped bus used on the tour of professional golf. Rain washed out the first round of the Wolverine Open being played at Hillcrest in Mt. Clemens. The tourney will begin today and 36 holes will be played Saturday with the finals on Sunday.

Wolverine Open Resumes Today After Rainfall

MOUNT CLEMENS — The cream of the nation's top lady golfers get a belated start today in the 72-hole Women's Wolverine Open on a course left soggy by a heavy downpour.

The three-hour rainfall washed out yesterday's first round and caused officials to schedule 36 holes of the 72-hole grand for tomorrow. Six groups from the field of 41 were on the par 34-36 Hillcrest Country Club course when the rains came.

The course was water-logged and many spots were covered with ankle deep water when officials announced the postponement.

Titans Wallop Ohio in NCAA

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U)—The University of Detroit advanced to today's second round of the NCAA district 4 baseball tournament by pointing out a lopsided 14-2 victory over Ohio University.

The Titans play Big Ten champion Minnesota today in the double elimination playoffs which sends its winner to the national tourney. Minnesota's powerful Gophers blasted out eight extra base hits in trouncing Notre Dame 15-6 yesterday after Detroit chattered Ohio.

Detroit pitcher Dave DeBuschere was touched for single runs in the first two innings, but then slammed the door in the face of the Ohioans the rest of the way.

The 6-foot-4 righthander gave up only four hits, fanned six and walked only two in the seven innings he worked. Don Olnick pitched the final two frames to give DeBuschere a rest.

Only two of them earned. Sixteen walks made the Titans job easier.

The Michigan Public Golf Association is adopting a new policy this year for its State Invitational Match Play Championship — and yours truly heartily approves the change.

Scheduled June 23-26 at Loch Alpine Golf Club near Ann Arbor, this year's Michigan Public tournament will be operated on a flight basis to permit highly handicapped players to participate.

Since the MPGA switched the state tourney from medal play to match play in 1957, competition has been restricted to the low 63 qualifiers plus the defending champion for the head-to-head eliminations.

Following last year's event at Rochester, so many public link golfers favored competition on a flight basis that the MPGA decided to accommodate them this summer.

The new 1960 setup will place the low 63 qualifiers and defending champion Gene Hunt of Flint in the championship flight, 32 players in the 1st flight, another 32 in the 2nd flight and either 16 or 32 in the 3rd flight, depending on the number of entries.

Eighteen hole qualifying rounds are slated June 23 with match play getting under way the next day. Hunt is exempt from qualifying.

Entry deadline is June 21 at 5 p.m. and the entry fee is $15. Entries, accompanied by check or money order, should be mailed to Joe Peak, the MPGA tournament director, at 16654 Whitcomb, Detroit 55, Mich.

Invitations are being mailed now. The odds are better this year.

Meyer Wants Change

Phillie Pitcher Seeking Release After Fine

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pitcher Jack Meyer, charging the Philadelphia Phillies kicked him when he was down by fanning him 15 days pay or "more than $1,000" for a fracas, has asked for his outright release to join some other club.

In reply to Meyer's request, General Manager John Quinn said Thursday night: "We're not even entertaining that."

Meyer, 28, the winningest pitcher on the Phillies roster this far with a 3-1 mark, said he expected to be fined for the fracas last Saturday night in a Pittsburgh hotel room but he was angry over what he called the excessive amount.

It was one of the largest fines in modern day baseball, according to Meyer's figuring, and marked the second Phillies' pitcher who has been fined this year. Jim Owens was assessed $500 for an altercation with a hotel employee in Florida during spring training and threatened to quit baseball, but changed his mind.

"I assume anybody would be angry," countered Quinn when told that Meyer's remark was in reference to the fact that he is in Jefferson Hospital with a herniated back disc and has been placed on the disabled list for 30 days.

"Meyer fined himself," Quinn declared, "by his actions off the field." Quinn would not disclose the amount. He said it was 15 days' pay.

And neither Meyer nor Quinn would say just what happened or what changed his mind.

Michigan Public Golf League team competition resumes Sunday with Glenhurst at Rochester, Bob O-Link at Idyl Wild, Loch Alpine at Bald Mountain and Sunnysbrook at Brac Burn. Morey's and Sylvan Glen drive byes.

The 36-hole National Public Links qualifiers are slated Monday at Pine Lake and Forest Lake, followed by the 36-hole National Open trials Tuesday at Dearborn C.C.

Sugar Ray, Pender Still in Title Match

BOSTON (AP)—Yep, it's still on. The Sugar Ray Robinson-Paul Pender match, that is.

"They'll meet as scheduled in a national television bout in the Boston Garden June 10 for a version of the world middleweight title that appears to be getting more limited all the time."

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission Thursday gave the bout the go-ahead — which amounted to simply reaffirming an earlier opinion — even though the New York commission suspended the aging sugarman.

The title which Pender won by a split decision Jan. 22 was recognized only in New York and Massachusetts. After suspending Robinson, however, the New York group declined to say if they'll recognize the winner of the rematch as the champ.

When Long Jim Barnes won the first PGA Championship, in 1916, his reward was $300. When Bob (Robbie) became the 27th man to take that title, in 1959, he won $8,250.

In eight years, National Golf has realized nearly $762,000 for Day, sponsored by The Professional-distribution to golf charities and Golfers' Association of America, worthwhile golf projects.

Farm and Garden News

NEW ROSE — Circus, an All-American floribunda is a fine example of the new race in roses that is winning wide popularity among home gardeners throughout the nation. Its spectacular show of changing colors — yellow, orange, scarlet, buff, apple blossom pink and red — presents a different color display each day of the blooming season. Its predominant color is yellow. Circus grows to a height of about 30 inches, is extremely hardy, offers a profusion of clustered blooms. The versatility of the floribunda makes it highly desirable for a border or foundation plant, to accentuate walls or fences, or as a fence in itself.

Good Sprinkler Must Be Efficient—Not Costly

A sprinkler should be easy to work and move, cover a large area with even distribution, and the spray should be fine enough to prevent grass or soil injury. You don't have to spend a lot of money for a sprinkler. There are good, rust-resistant models for $3.49. There is one big manufacturer with a 14K gold sprinkler valued at about $1,500—that has been available for loan on special occasions, such as the dedication of a public park.

Annual Mosquito Warfare About to Begin

During his centuries old battle against insects in general — and the mosquito in particular, man has developed only a few really effective defenses. This year, climatic conditions in this section of the country have caused ideal breeding conditions for mosquitoes. It will be only a matter of time before these stinging "dive bombers" will be out en masse, hungry, quite literally, for our blood. Now is the time to prepare for the attack. Here are some easy to follow steps offered by many health authorities to combat the mosquito menace.

1. Mosquitoes live and breed in water. This includes water filled cans, rain barrels, and cisterns. So, get rid of all still water on your property. Wherever it's not practical to drain off the water, spray it with larvicides, unless, of course, it is used for drinking, household purposes, watering animals, or is inhabited by fish.
2. Keep grass, short, mosquitoes don't like it that way, and they won't live there.
3. To keep insects out, check all screens for holes; make sure they fit snugly; fill in cracks around doors and windows.
4. Protect yourself and your family when out of doors with an effective insect repellent.
5. Make certain to tightly close all fireplace dampers and check the roof for openings under eaves or near the chimney base.
6. Support local municipal and health authorities in their efforts to control insects.

Pruning May Help

— If the spring shrubs bloomed sparsely this year, perhaps the remedy is a heavy pruning — cutting old wood from the base of the bush — and a good feeding. In pruning, always try to retain the natural form of the shrub — except, of course, when you seek a hedge.

For Next Year

— Biennials and perennials may be started from seed at any time during the growing season. It's a good idea to wait for these until after the press of getting this year's flowers and vegetables under control.

Dwarf Trees So Rewarding

Dwarf fruit trees occupy very little space, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Planted on ten-foot centers, a plot 20 x 30 feet will take nine trees, a small home orchard of different fruits. For a family of four, four to five trees will supply plenty of fruit for the table. The fruits are as delicious as fruits from standard, or large trees. The smaller trees due to their low heights are easy to spray. They can be sprayed when needed with the usual spray gun, filled with a recommended all-purpose insecticide. It only takes a short time to spray fruit trees depending on the number planted; spray once, when dormant, and then a few times from blossoming on. Your nurseryman will recommend good all-purpose sprays and the exact times to spray. Dwarf fruit trees bear some fruit usually the second year after planting and continue to bear for many years. And the fruit is absolutely fresh, something that is hard to find, if not impossible to, in retail markets where fruit comes to the market last grown. Fresh, home-picked fruits not only are more delicious, but also contain more vitamins. Everyone should have at least some dwarf or standard trees growing on his property if for no other reason than to know how delicious tree-ripened fruits can be.

Fountains to Be Had for Patios

Rippling, cascading waterfalls in fountains are now possible for the patio or even the living room and within reach of a modest household budget. These completely self-contained, automatic waterfalls require no water connections or special plumbing as the same water circulates over and over again. A small electric centrifugal pump provides the action and requires no more current to operate than a small household appliance. Plugs into 110 volt (AC) current. Typical of the new waterfall fountains is a three-tier unit that includes three shallow bowls of weather resistant material with top and center bowl 18 inches in diameter and a larger bottom bowl 22 1/2 inches in diameter. Water circulates and cascades in a regulated, uniform flow. The simplicity of operation and ease of assembly makes it possible to enjoy the fountain either outside or indoors. A special diffuser device prevents splashing and the fountain could be placed on the finest carpet without danger of overflow. Bowl and fountain are available in turquoise or white with contrasting overall design. They weigh only 18 pounds. Size is 22 inches in height by 31 inches by 33 inches, compact enough for any location. The cascade water is an excellent humidifier for dry rooms. A leakproof, decorative circular planter is available with the fountain in same matching colors. This provides a facility of planting foliage or flowers to set off the beauty of the waterfall. The fountain is approved by Underwriters' Laboratories. Bernard Edward Co., Chicago 32, is the manufacturer.

Lily of the Valley Bed Needs Some Thinning

Lily of the valley likes shade as well as moisture. It thrives where the soil is rich in organic matter and plant food. Additional feeding with a 4-32-4 or similar fertilizer each autumn is beneficial.

Because they spread rapidly thinning or transplanting becomes necessary every two or three years. A neglected planting of lily of the valley produces few flowers.

Separate Iris, Discard Diseased Rhizomes

Bearded iris, the most commonly grown variety, should be divided and transplanted in July and early August. Discard the old center rhizome and those that are diseased or borer ridden. Trim off all rusty foliage and cut back remainder one-half. Rusty spots on iris may indicate lack of lime in the soil.

Two sections of an old tire can make handy rubber footings for working in the garden. Popular Mechanics Magazine suggests.

Plants in Shipping Pots Need Changing to Clay

To keep down shipping costs, many houseplants on the market today are sold in lightweight, non-porous containers. This is especially true of those grown in Florida and shipped to florists and supermarkets in the north.

It's a good idea to switch the plants you buy in these containers to porous clay pots to provide them with the very best growing conditions.

Clay pots, with their life-giving porous walls, assure healthy growth of your plants, by letting the injurious salts contained in many soils pass through the sides. This prevents a concentration of salts from souring the soil and killing the plants.

Too, clay pots promote proper aeration, the air in the soil can be quickly renewed through the walls of the pot. Fresh air is drawn down into the soil as the moisture within evaporates through the wall.

Unlike other containers, over-watering is never a problem. Excess moisture finds its way through the pot and evaporates.

Because root systems of most plants are easily shocked or damaged, it's a good idea to remove the soil and plant at the same time.

TO REMOVE PLANT
This is quick to do by placing one hand across the mouth of the pot, so the plant stem is sandwiched between your forefinger and middle finger.

Tip the pot over and sharply rap one edge of it on a table or bench. Both the plant and the soil will drop from the pot with the root system still intact.

Besides being good for your houseplants, clay pots fit in most room decorations — period or modern. The handsome, reddish color goes with paint schemes inside, and any patio or terrace motif outside.

If the houseplants you buy will go into a planter, you can sock the plant, pot and all, right into the soil. This makes for easier changing of the plants later, if they will be changed.

Keep Their Feet Dry

Tuberous rooted begonias often lose their buds because of too much soil moisture. These plants want a very humusy, gravelly soil and perfect drainage. Water standing about roots is not relished by any plant.

PeatMoss Aids Tree Transplant

A rolling tree that gathers some moss is likely to be in better shape for the growing season.

The transplant just moved from nursery to home grounds has a firmer grip on life, in soil improved with peat moss, just before planting. So says J. J. Slocum, field representative of the Davy Tree Expert Co. Reason is that the peat moss helps condition the soil, whether sandy or clay. It retains moisture in the sandy kind and aerates the clay sort.

Peat moss is important, in proper planting. When the tree is set in the pit at proper depth, the fibrous roots should be good topsoil free of roots, soil or other undecayed vegetable matter. Topsoil is far better than unimproved subsoil, but even so its quality is uncertain, at best. That's why it is essential to mix it with liberal amounts of peat moss, a convenient form of humus.

For rules of green thumb, one-fifth to one-third of moss to soil is desirable. Determine how much you need and then buy it in package, bag or bale, depending upon the quantity. It's easy to mix. Merely turn it over with the soil several times, concrete mixing style. Don't try mixing in the planting pit, but do it before you start filling in. The moss applied to the moss-enriched fill you place on the bottom of the pit before the root ball is placed.

If the job is done right, peat trees will thrive in well aerated, moderately rich, moist and well drained soil.

Black Plastic Excellent as Garden Mulch

Plastic mulch is simple to use. First, the soil should be fertilized and prepared normally. Then, strips or rolls of the opaque plastic are laid out. Slits can be cut at desired spacings and seedlings planted through the slits. Rain will seep through to water your plants, but the film retards evaporation.

Because black absorbs heat, plants get a better start. Also because black prevents light from reaching the weeds, they won't grow.

To keep the plastic in place, use earth or stones around the edges. It can be reused several years.

Double Size of Iris Bed by Dividing Old Plants

The iris family ranges through the color spectrum. You'll find these popular perennials produce new plants each year.

Divide the rhizomes immediately after flowering. Separate them where they narrow naturally, leaving several fans of leaves on each new division. Set the rhizomes just below the soil with roots spread out. Cover with soil and water lightly each week.

Poppies Love Sun

— Oriental poppies can be depended upon to bloom if planted in a well-drained sunny location in soil deeply prepared with humus, and a fertilizer strong in phosphorus. Protection from standing water at any time is essential. You may be over-watering.

Hitler Economic Aide Walther Funk Dies

DUSSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Walther Funk, who ran Hitler's economy and served as president of the Nazi Reichsbank, has died at the age of 85, friends disclosed today.

The former Nazi financier was sentenced to life in prison as a war criminal but won a mercy release three years ago because of age and ill health.

A family friend, at whose home Funk was visiting, said he died Wednesday of a heart attack.

CAMPAGNERS—House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas announced Friday in Washington the formation of a national committee to get the Democratic presidential nomination for fellow Texan Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Rayburn said India Edwards, former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Oscar Chapman (not pictured), former secretary of the Interior, will head the group which is called the Citizens for Johnson National Committee. Rayburn said Johnson knows of this movement.

Bitten by Uncharmed Snake Escapes 'Sure' Death

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)—Kenneth Earnest is home and anxious to get back to the work in which he has been bitten by:

An alligator, rattlesnake, cottonmouth moccasin, innumerable nonpoisonous snakes, and almost finally, an Australian tiger snake. Earnest, 22, is a professional snake handler. He was bitten by the tiger snake May 17, and won a battle for survival which has gone down in medical annals as a rare victory.

Tiger snake victims usually die. The venom is 10 times deadlier than that of the cobra, 70 times deadlier than that of the rattlesnake. After Earnest was bitten doctors listed the odds 5 to 1 against survival. The venom paralyzed his breathing, speech and eye muscles. He was in an iron lung 10 days.

"There wasn't much pain," said Earnest. "Not like a rattlesnake bite, which has a terrible localized pain and about drives you out of your mind. This time it was like a heavy weight on my chest, like I was going to strangle. Each breath was a difficult procedure."

Gets Grant to Work Up System To Teach Spanish Fast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A new method of teaching soon may cut by 40 per cent the time it takes to learn Spanish.

Dr. William E. Bull, professor of Spanish at the University of California at Los Angeles, has designed a new method of teaching Spanish and the federal government has given him a grant of $132,000 to help develop the system.

In making announcement of the grant, UCLA said it was one of the largest grants ever given to an individual under terms of the National Defense Education Act by the government.

The new teaching study is based on a long-term, original study by Bull.

The new program calls for development of a 500 poster-size drawing series to be used as teaching aids. They will take about a year to complete. They will then be made into film strips, licensed by the U.S. Department of Education, and made available to schools and colleges.

Bull says the picture series hits at the so-called "trouble spots" in learning the Spanish language. He says the teaching of these spots is done, not by confusing rules, but by observing correct usage in real life situations.

Summer Job Outlook Brightest Since 1957

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Sec. James P. Mitchell says summer jobs for vacationing students will be more plentiful this year than any time since 1957, but there still will be plenty of competition.

Mitchell, in his annual "open letter" to young people seeking summer employment, said about five million college and high school students under 20 were expected to be in the nation's labor force by July.

Clark, a Democrat, ran against Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.) in the Fourth District four years ago.

Getting Fancy in Missile Tests

AF Switches to 2nd Bomarc Just as 1st is Ready for Kill

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force is getting fancy in its group-to-air missile tests.

A Bomarc-A interceptor missile was put on the trail of a target over the Gulf of Mexico Thursday, but just as the missile was about to make its kill, it was switched by remote control. A second Bomarc was launched and intercepted the target.

It was the 9th and 10th consecutive successful launchings of the Bomarc-A missile from Santa Rosa in the past three months.

The Army claimed a first for its Redstone missile at White Sands Missile Range, N.M.

FLYING TV STATION
The combat-ready rocket, carrying a flying television station, successfully traversed the longest overland trajectory ever attempted in the United States.

The air borne TV camera transmitted pictures of the target area to receiving stations more than 100 miles away, the longest transmission yet attempted by the RCA-designed system.

Army spokesmen said the TV camera operated perfectly for the third time in as many tests at White Sands.

When Papa West Gets His Degree, 8 Kids Will Cheer

CHATANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Howard P. West gets his law degree from McKenzie College Monday night, eight little Wests will be cheering for him in the audience.

West, 34, is an electrical engineer who got his degree in 1949 from Syracuse University. Four years ago he decided to study law. He has interpreted his study with work at a chemical firm.

5,000 at Dirty Isle of Pines

Cuban Prison Jammed

NUOVA GERONA, Isle of Pines, Cuba (AP)—The estimated 5,000 political prisoners in this tiny Cuban island have jammed the prison.

Visitors to the prison, built more than 30 years ago as a model for Latin-American penal institutions, report conditions have changed drastically under the regime of Fidel Castro, himself a former prisoner here.

Two prisoners occupy each cell designed for a single person, they say. The water system is so inadequate that prisoners are allowed to bathe only once a week and to use water for flushing toilets and wash basins once in two or three days.

Most prisoners say they prefer to work in the marble quarries near the penitentiary to serving out time in their cells. Inside they may only walk the long circular corridors until they are ready to collapse or lie on their cots. Reading matter is prohibited, and prisoners are not permitted to have radio sets.

Not all of the prisoners are Cubans. At least one American, Frank Austin Young of Miami, Fla., and British-born Peter John Demmon of Nassau are held here.

Both were convicted of counter-revolutionary activities against the Castro regime and both are charged as war criminals.

Only immediate relatives of the political prisoners are permitted to see them, and these visits are allowed only once a month under close supervision.

By contrast, the complaints say, common criminals held in the same prison may have visitors any day and are even given day or night passes to visit outside the prison.

Elizabeth and Philip to Visit India in '61

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace today announced that Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip will visit India early in 1961.

Although no date has been set, the visit probably will be in February, it was stated.

The Queen and her husband also will visit Pakistan early next year, presumably on the way to or from India.

The visits will be the first she has made to republic members of the Commonwealth, for whom she is head of the association of nations and not queen of the country itself. It also will be the first the Indian subcontinent since George V and Queen Mary visited India in 1911.

DESI GRASSES PARTY — A press luncheon, given by Bob Hope, left, to welcome Lucille Ball back to motion pictures, took an unexpected twist in Hollywood Thursday as her recently divorced husband, Desi Arnaz, pulls up a chair and joins them. Desi didn't need an invitation because he owns the place. He gave Lucille a big kiss, which is in line with Hollywood's traditional attitude toward divorce — "We're still the best of friends" — so it meant no reconciliation. Hope and Miss Ball are beginning production of "The Facts of Life," her first movie in four years.

Wiping Cloth Manufacturers Avoid Flags

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Assn. of Wiping Cloth Manufacturers has appealed to its members to make certain that no American flags are cut up for use as scrub rags and dust cloths.

The 160-member association also asked the public not to include flags in bundles of rags collected by rag dealers or charitable organizations.

It was disclosed last week that a New York wholesaler shipped 48- and 49-star U.S. flags to Haiti for use as dress goods, curtains and scrub rags.

E. D. Srold, secretary of the association, said the flag problem seriously affects wiping cloth manufacturers even though the original disclosure did not indicate whether the wholesaler was a member of the wiping cloth industry.

It is now estimated that more than 10 million persons who have retired are drawing upwards of 10 billion dollars a year in relief funds of private and government plans.

Greta Thyssen Given Year Probation, Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Thirty Days," said the judge, and actress Greta Thyssen looked suddenly frightened.

But the judge added: "The jail term suspended" — and the Danish-born blonde beauty left Municipal Court Thursday, smiling happily.

She was fined $32.50 and placed on a year's probation on a disturbing the peace charge, filed after an officer said she struck him when he halted her car for a traffic violation. She claimed she thought he was going to kiss her.

Ike, GOP Decide Against Session

Any Special Meeting After Either Convention Would Be 'Bad'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower and Republican legislative leaders Thursday ruled out a special session of Congress after the political conventions.

They said it would touch off political squabbles which would be "bad for the country."

The GOP congressional leaders told newsmen after their weekly meeting with the President that Congress should be able to clean up its chores before the Democratic nominating convention opens in Los Angeles July 11.

They indicated their forecast took into account the fact that the lawmakers still must dispose of a series of issues with strong election-year overtones, including medical care for the aged and raising the 31-an-hour federal minimum wage.

Also still pending is legislation to extend the Sugar Quota Act, the big defense and foreign aid money bills, federal aid for depressed areas, extension of wartime excise and corporation tax rates and another temporary hike in the debt ceiling.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) said he saw no reason why Congress couldn't quit by July 2. Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) considered July 2 a more likely date but said this still would give Democrats time to get to Los Angeles.

Gursel Gaining Strength

Discover Mass Graves of Turkish Students

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—Discovery of mass graves of students who touched off the Turkish revolution raised the odds that ousted Prime Minister Adnan Menderes and some of his aides will face the death penalty.

The graves were found in Istanbul and Ankara. The students were killed in antigovernment demonstrations which started April 8 and eventually led to an army coup that toppled Menderes' government last Friday.

There were reports as many as 70 bodies had been found—some of them in refrigerators—by the new government of Gen. Muzaffer Gursel.

It was becoming more clear by the hour that the 30-man military junta headed by Gursel—termed the "committee of national unity"—was emerging as the real power in the nation.

The committee is composed mostly of colonels although two or three generals and at least one lieutenant also are members of it.

Col. Ertugrul Altin, spokesman for the committee, said the army had arrested the more than 400 members of Parliament who belonged to Menderes' democratic party.

He said they were being transferred to the island of Yassikada in the sea off Marmara to be held pending an investigation to determine whether they should be charged with violating the Turkish constitution.

If the investigating committee places such charges and a court convicts them, "it could mean even death," Altin said.

Altin said the committee would be dissolved after the army had fulfilled its promise to hold free elections.

Altin said five high officers would be tried specifically by a military court on charges they ordered troops to open fire on demonstrating students.

Crime Rate Up 7 Pct. This Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reports that the nation's crime rate continued its upward climb during the first three months of 1960.

Hoover said a preliminary crime report for the January-March period showed an overall 7 per cent increase in the number of serious crimes reported by cities with populations over 25,000.

The FBI chief appealed to the public "for closer cooperation with law enforcement agencies" to check the trend.

Murders increased 11 per cent, robberies 7 per cent and burglaries

10 per cent over the first three months of last year.

Cities in the 25,000 to 50,000 population group reported the largest increase in murder with a jump from 60 during the first quarter of 1959 to 84 during the same period of 1960.

Kalamazoo to Purchase Property for Airport

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—The City Commission has approved spending of $60,000 to purchase two parcels of land to be used for extending north-south runways at Municipal Airport to 5,000 feet so that they can accommodate larger planes.

If the plan receives federal approval, the project is expected to be completed in October.

Eke Signs Bill Giving NASA $970 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill authorizing $970 million dollars for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration next year.

Congress now is working on an appropriations bill to provide the actual funds for the agency. The House has voted $78 million dollars but the Senate is expected to approve the full amount authorized.

Christmas trees are at least a 70 million dollars a year trade, it is estimated, and some concerns have made them a major source of annual production.

Eke to Stop in Detroit Oct. 17 for Auto Show

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower will stop off in Detroit Oct. 17 to attend an annual banquet held in connection with the 43rd annual National Automobile Show, the White House announced Thursday.

Approves Funds to Collect Taxes

House Says Hire 2,000 More Agents to Dig Up 70 Million Dollars

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has approved funds that would enable the Internal Revenue Service to hire 2,000 more tax agents in the hope of collecting an extra 70 million dollars from reluctant taxpayers.

The funds were included in a compromise $4,841,314,000 money bill to operate the treasury and post office departments in the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

The House also agreed unanimously to ask the Senate to drop its objection to language in the measure which would broaden the "junk mail" privileges of members of Congress.

The House stood by its original statement in the bill reminding the post office that franked mail could be delivered without names or addresses to urban mail boxes as well as rural boxes.

The Senate also passed a tax bill Wednesday. It could provide up to 20 million dollars in tax relief for U. S. corporations which have overseas operations. The measure was designed to encourage American investment abroad.

The proposal went to a House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences. It would allow the firms to use alternate methods of figuring credit on taxes paid to other countries.

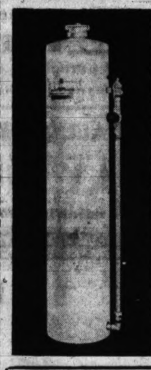

AP Photo: DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

—Actress Vivian Leigh, top, star of the Broadway show "Duel of Angels," and actress Anne Bancroft, bottom, star of "The Miracle Worker," talk to newsmen after last night's Actors' Equity Union meeting in New York. Miss Leigh said she felt the strike which blacked out Broadway theaters Thursday was unnecessary. Miss Bancroft felt Miss Leigh was misinformed. The actors and producers are meeting again today but one producer said, "It looks like a long strike to me." The argument is over a pension plan.

A Dauntless Spirit Belies Cane

Aged Mothers Still Want to Be Needed

By HAL BOTLE
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Children are supposed to be a comfort to their mother in her old age.

It works the other way in our tribe. The older Mother gets the more of a comfort she is to her daughter and four sons. We doubt if we could ever get along without her.

Mother will be 73 in September. Returning here for my first visit with her in more than a year.

I was afraid of what time might have done to her in the interval.

The worry was needless. Time has snowed white hairs on her, and slowed her steps with rheumatism, but it has no power to curb her sprightly spirit.

"All that I've got wrong with me is old age—and that will keep," she said. Her only concession to the years is a cane. She really needs the cane now. She is only 5 feet tall, but she is about the same distance around.

"I keep telling the doctor I should take off some weight," she said placidly. "But he won't let me. He feels that if you're old and have learned to live with your weight, it's often better to let it alone."

Mother has had what might be called a hard life, but she never thinks of it that way. At 15 she lost her mother, and at 17 she emigrated here by herself from her farm home in County Mayo, Ireland.

A HARD LIFE
I think Dad was making about $12 a week when they married. Five children came along, and she had to cook and mend and clean and do the laundry for us all.

Mother is proud of the fact that she never lost a child, and all are now more than 40 years old.

"That's a pretty good health record," she often says. "If you Dad and I did nothing else for you, we brought you into this world with strong, healthy bodies. That means a lot."

"A large family is an agitation. That's what it is—a constant agitation. But it doesn't leave you any time for self-pity, and that's a good thing."

"But I worry about you children now more than ever. At least when you were small I knew where you all were."

When she was younger, mother had a fine Irish temper. When angered at something one of her brood had done, she would turn her eyes to the ceiling and loose a tide of eloquence that curled the back on the elm tree outside the window.

But now she has mellowed into a serene philosopher.

"I have learned to live for today," she said. "That's the only thing to do—make the best of each day as it comes. You'll just break your heart if you try to live for yesterday or tomorrow."

Dad died in 1937, but we still don't really think of him as dead. We talk of him as if he had merely gone into another room.

And might be back at any moment.

Oakland Deed Business Rises

Receipts Down $1,215 Despite Increase of 3,812 Papers

Business went up considerably but receipts went down again in the Oakland County Register of Deeds Office last month, Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. disclosed in a monthly report.

Although there were 3,812 more papers filed in the office last month as compared with May 1959, receipts over the 12-month period went from $19,420 to $18,225—a $1,215 decline, Murphy said.

No attributed the decrease to fewer deeds and mortgages being filed last month than a year ago. He said this was due to a decline in building and was an "indication that mortgage money isn't being used so freely as some people thought it might be."

One large increase in business was noted in the amount of photos processed for filing. This item went up from 716 to 5,804. Murphy said this was because his office photographed township plats for the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Other comparison totals were: 2,718 deeds last year and 2,284 deeds last month and 1,240 mortgages last year and 536 last month.

There were seven new land plats recorded last month, Murphy said.

Teen-Age Sitters Would Be Taxed Under Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many teen-age baby-sitters and their employers would be subjected to social security taxes under legislation tentatively approved by the House Ways & Means Committee.

The committee, working on an election-year revision of the social security program, has adopted a provision to lower the age and earnings requirements for coverage.

Part-time workers such as domestic maids now must earn as much as $60 from a single employer in a three-month period to qualify for coverage. The committee decided to cut this to $25 and to lower the working age to 16.

This would mean that a 16-year-old earning as little as $2 a week baby-sitting could be covered by the program.

The tax now fixed at 3 per cent would in that case amount to 12 cents a week — half to be paid by the employer and half by the employer.

might be back at any moment.

That attitude — plus mother's in-born courage — may explain why nearly 23 years of widowhood haven't soured her disposition.

TOO BUSY TO GRIEVE
"I was too busy to grieve," she said. "And I still am. Anyway, death is part of life, and you must accept what you can't avoid. Life is love and happiness and sorrow, and it does no good to complain against it."

On Memorial Day, surrounded by her family, Mother went to Dad's grave and brought him a weight on anyone.

Denies 2 Judge Selections Made

Department of Justice Says No Nominations Received Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department today denied a report that the White House has picked nominees for two Federal District Court vacancies in Michigan.

"No names have been submitted to the White House for these vacancies," a spokesman said. "There is no picking going on here." The White House declined comment.

Congressional sources said John Feltus, a former Michigan Republican state chairman, and U. S. District Atty. Fred Kates of Detroit are front runners for the two vacancies on the Federal District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan.

The Justice Department investigators and clears all potential nominees for the federal judicial posts, but the department on either of the potential nominees, either of a state's senators are sufficient to block Senate confirmation of a nominee, which means that some negotiations with the senators involved are necessary.

The Michigan vacancies arise from the promotion of Judge Clifford Sullivan to an Appeals Court judgeship, and the upcoming retirement June 30 of Judge Arthur F. Lederle.

21½ From Pennsy Likely for Kennedy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts now has indicated support from 43 of Pennsylvania's 162-member delegation to the Democratic presidential nominating convention. Each delegate has half a vote.

This count of 21½ potential votes for Kennedy is based on replies in a just-conducted Associated Press poll of delegates and worse instances, a projection of pledges by delegates who promised that if elected they would support the winner of the presidential preference vote in their district.

Discount News Helps Laggards

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel, railroads, some oils and other neglected issues advanced today on news of easing credit. Trading was moderate early this afternoon.

Electronics and other "science" stocks which have run far ahead of the main body of the market were subject to further profit taking. They took losses of from 1 to 3 points.

Gains of the pivotal issues in other sections of the list went mostly from fractions to about a point, steel cutting early gains which in some cases ran by about 2 points.

Wall Street was encouraged by the Federal Reserve Board's approval of a reduction in the discount rate from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent in the district banks of Philadelphia and San Francisco.

But a move toward easier credit was partly anticipated by yesterday's rallying market and a vigorous early rise lost steam as trading progressed this afternoon.

The most bullish effect of the discount rate was on the bond market. A scattering of "yield" stocks and high-grade preferreds made gains on the highest.

Jones & Laughlin halved an early 2-point gain while Lukens remained about 2½ points down. Youngstown Steel was 1 point to the good. Republic and U. S. Steel were fractionally higher. Bethlehem erased a small advance and eased.

General Motors and American Motors were firm, trimming fractional gains. Ford, Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard held small advances.

Gains of a point or better were scored by Air Reduction, Kennecott, Anaconda, Goodrich and DuPont. Eastman Kodak dropped about 2.

Panic Grips Panama as 127 Are Hospitalized

Says Good Dividend News Is About Done

NEW YORK (UPI)—The bulk of good dividend news is past, at least for the time being. Standard & Poor's Corp. said today.

For the second successive month, dividend payments in May have been less favorable than in the corresponding month last year, the statistical service reported.

Last month, it said, 74 companies declared higher dividends, up from 38 in April but down from 91 in May 1959, while the number of extras, on a year-to-year basis, dropped to 39 from 51.

Moreover, there was a jump in the number of companies, with 18 companies decreasing their rates and 12 omitting payments as compared with 4 of each the year before.

Standard said that corporations were prompt in liberalizing payments as they emerged from the 1958 recession but could not maintain the pace this year as the earnings improvement slowed down.

The coal reserves of the United States are estimated at 74 trillion tons. Those in Europe amount to about 700 billion tons, and in Asia the reserves now known have been unofficially computed to be 2.5 trillion tons.

DEATH NOTICES

ALDRIDGE, JUNE 2, 1960. WALTER ALDRIDGE, 62, of 1001 N. 10th St., died at his home at 10:30 a.m. after a long illness. He was born in 1897 and was a member of the First Baptist Church. Pays Tribute to Five Freedoms

Monument Plan Unveiled

NYACK, N.Y. (UPI)—A 24-million-dollar monument to the Five Freedoms—the first of its kind to be built in the United States—was described Thursday by its architect, Eric Gugler.

President Eisenhower proposed to Congress last May 16 that the building be constructed as "a monument to the principles and ideals upon which our government is based."

The 377-foot-long, 45-foot-high edifice, now on Gugler's drawing board in his studio here, was planned by a national monument commission authorized by an act of Congress in 1949.

The commission was made up of members of Congress, citizens at large and the architects.

Their report on the monument to commemorate the freedoms of speech, religion, press, assembly and petition has just been submitted to Congress.

Gugler said that the open-topped granite and marble structure probably would be built between the Marine Corps War Memorial and the Netherlands Carillon Tower at the northern end of Arlington National Cemetery.

He said that his reliefs and inscriptions on the walls of the monument would depict important moments in American history.

The commission has recommended that half the money be supplied by the government and the other half by public contributions.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mrs. Cassandra Sisterna, announcing she "can't stand wives who grab everything," was a divorcee Wednesday that didn't cost her husband a cent.

Mrs. Sisterna, an attractive blonde dress manufacturing executive and model, turned down six suitors by community property. She also acted as her own attorney and paid for all legal paper which she filed herself.

She said she married James F. Sisterna, 35, in Minneapolis, Minn., but that there were "no children of the marriage and the reason for this is in his mental cruelty. He insulted me in front of our friends, asked friends to leave our home and we were separated for five years at one time."

Williams Spurs Kennedy Campaign

Nikita Calls Ike Dangerous to U.S. and Slaps at Nixon

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, continuing his criticism of President Eisenhower, said today it is dangerous to have such a man heading a great nation.

And he indicated the Soviet Union could have little confidence in Richard M. Nixon as a working partner of the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Premier declared the Eisenhower presidency is a dark period in history, with the President lacking in will power.

He pictured Eisenhower—whom he met and praised last fall in the United States—as virtually a stooge for the late John Foster Dulles at the 1955 summit meeting.

"MADE IT EASIER" Then he indirectly continued his recent criticism of Vice President Nixon by saying:

"We were not so badly off in Dulles' time because he did so many foolish things it made it easier for us. From that point of view I suppose that Nixon is the best choice for us. Of course it would be better for us if we had a wise partner, but if not, that is the American people's business and they will be the ones to suffer."

Khrushchev made these remarks at a news conference, attended by 400 reporters, in the Kremlin's domed Sverdlovsk Hall.

It was called primarily to give the Soviet leader a chance to outline his new disarmament program. But he ranged widely in his comments and answers to questions.

Here are Khrushchev's comments on the major topics at his conference:

EISENHOWER—"The President is so weak and ineffectual that it is dangerous to have him running the United States. In the Soviet Union Eisenhower might be offered the job of running a children's home."

NIXON—"The vice president, along with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, is leading the United States along the path to war and Eisenhower does not have the will power to control them. The Soviet Union would have little confidence in Nixon as a negotiator if he is elected president."

"DULLES GAVE ORDERS" DULLES—"The late secretary of state John Foster Dulles gave the orders at the 1953 Geneva summit meeting. He passed notes to Eisenhower and the President read them out without even waiting."

DISARMAMENT—"All foreign military bases should be scrapped plus all weapons for delivering a nuclear attack. This resulted the priorities in his 'general and complete disarmament' plan, presented to the United Nations last year."

ROCKETS—"The commander of Soviet rocket troops now has the authority to order nuclear retaliation against any foreign base that launches further spy flights over the Soviet Union. Countries with U.S. bases will be hit first."

SUMMIT—"Eisenhower wrecked last month's Paris meeting, and the Soviet Union is still trying to organize one in another six or eight months."

GERMANY—"The Soviet Union still intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, which will give them the right to shut off Western access to Berlin. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer belongs in a lunatic asylum."

Governor's Full Endorsement Hailed With Joy

Michigan Expected to Lead Other Northern States to Jack's Camp

MACKINAC ISLAND (P)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential bandwagon rolled forward today under a new head of steam generated by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

The six-term governor gave his wholehearted endorsement Thursday to Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I think Kennedy is the best man and I will back him against the field," the governor said at a ferry boat news conference in northern Lake Huron.

Four other-state party leaders supported Williams' decision, giving every indication that Michigan's delegate to the Democratic convention next month will go down the line for the Massachusetts senator.

Kennedy, who learned of the endorsement at a 90-minute conference with Williams at this resort island, was obviously delighted.

"Michigan is going to carry with it more than its own delegates," he said.

KEY STATE With the endorsement of Gov. Michael V. D'Salle of Ohio already in his pocket, Kennedy was hopeful the Williams decision would help turn more key northern states into his corner. Michigan's delegation will be the seventh largest at the party's national convention in Los Angeles.

Williams, though he won state backing as a favorite son choice for the presidential nomination, now is gunning for the vice presidential spot, or at least a cabinet post if Kennedy wins in November.

Both Williams and Kennedy asserted there were no "deals" made at their closed-door conference in the governors summer retreats. The senator said he would prefer to let the convention pick the vice-presidential nominee.

DENIES UAW INFLUENCE Williams stated firmly that the United Auto Workers Union had nothing to do with his decision. His political enemies frequently tag him as a vassal of UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther was not available for comment.

However, August Scholle, a key labor figure in heavily industrialized Michigan said after the Williams endorsement, "I have to say I'm for Kennedy."

Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, is close to Reuther in political and union affairs, and normally speaks for Michigan's organized labor on political matters.

Williams reiterated his contention that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas was too conservative to carry Michigan in the November election.

Bentley Terms Endorsement UAW Payoff DETROIT (P)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) charges that a payoff was behind the endorsement of Sen. John F. Kennedy by Massachusetts for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Bentley, who is a candidate this year for the Senate, said yesterday the endorsement in "payment in full for the protection the Kennedy brothers gave to Walter Reuther and the United Auto Workers Union at the Senate Labor Rackets Committee hearings last year."

Sen. Kennedy and his brother Robert, chief counsel for the committee, "were obviously shielding Reuther and the UAW during the labor hearings, Bentley declared.

"So now Walter is returning the favor by telling Sen. Lyndon B. Kennedy the Michigan delegation to the Democratic convention."

"The only thing we can wonder about is what Kennedy promised to give Williams in return for this endorsement," he said.

School Tax Rate to Fall in City

Local Board's Figure of 18.98 Mills Is Below Legal Maximum

The Pontiac Board of Education last night established a tax rate for the school district that is less than last year's and below the maximum to which they are entitled by law.

Reason behind the action, the Board stated, was "to keep faith with the people."

The tax rate for those who live within the city is to be 18.98 mills ($18.98 for each $1,000 valuation of property). Last year it was 19.66 mills.

The Board could have established a tax rate of 19.83 mills.

Those who live in the school district but outside the city limits will pay a tax rate of 18.45 mills. Their tax rate last year was 18.26 mills.

While the levy is less this year, it will produce more income than was obtained from the higher tax rate of 19.66 due to the increase in state equalized valuation.

Income received last year was $10,226,161. The 1960-61 school year income will realize a total of $10,471,221.

Three tax rate proposals were presented to the Board last night, each progressively more expensive. The Board chose the second. It could have established a tax rate to bring in $10,835,127.

These figures provide 1.56 mills for unlimited debt.

Dr. Dora P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, said the proposal enacted establishes the levy so as to produce the number of dollars from local tax revenues that would have been available had the millage proposal been successfully voted in last month's election.

"The anticipated total income for operation will be approximately $10,226,161 higher than had been expected with passage of the additional millage proposal because of the increase in state equalized valuation," Whitmer said.

"This enables the Board to finance the same budget as was presented to the people in the millage campaign," he said. "We have an obligation to the taxpayers. We (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Boy, 9, Survives Wilderness Ordeal

FLIN FLON, Man. (AP)—A helicopter Thursday plucked a starving, nearly incoherent little boy from beside the burned wreckage of a plane where he had spent 15 lonely, fear-ridden days in the rugged bush of northwest Manitoba.

Later the helicopter returned to collect the bodies of the child's father and a friend who died in the crash.

"Gee, I thought you'd never come," said 9-year-old Walter Sedor to his mother at the Flin Flon hospital.

Although suffering from exhaustion and undernourishment, the child was said to be in remarkably good condition.

ON FISHING TRIP The father, Steve Sedor, 39, a friend, Ken Harrison, 32, and the child were on a 12-mile flight to Tartan Lake for a fishing trip when the plane crashed May 18.

The boy, sitting in the back seat, apparently was thrown through the roof into heavy brush which broke his fall.

Walter told rescuers he chewed a few roots and leaves and drank rain water.

A package of supplies containing enough food for one person for at least 25 days had been thrown clear but the boy didn't touch it—apparently unaware of what it contained.

Since May 18 the weather during the day had been relatively mild, but on several occasions the temperature approached freezing at night. There were several rainy days.

Thursday, Harvey Evans, a pilot for Transair Ltd., spotted the boy sitting on a rock about three-fourths of a mile from Tartan Lake.

Evans returning from a flight north, said if his course had been 100 yards to either side he would not have seen the child.

Buses Set to Roll Thursday

Pontiac's new bus company plans to begin operations Thursday after the City Commission approves a lease agreement at its Tuesday night meeting.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said today that officials of American Transit Corp. told him they were ready to submit the proposed lease agreement to the city.

The agreement would give a new company to be known as Pontiac Transit Co. a one-year franchise in Pontiac. By leasing the company's equipment, the city would guarantee it an exemption from state gasoline and weight taxes.

Employing the drivers and mechanics of the old Pontiac City Lines, Inc., Pontiac Transit Co. plans to operate buses on established routes, following closely established schedules and charging a 25-cent adult fare.

John W. Sylva, president of Pontiac Business Local 107, has predicted with assurance that a two-year contract would be signed by the Union and the company.

If the city is paved for the buses to roll Thursday, schedules will be distributed in the downtown area Wednesday, Hirlinger said.

American Transit company has rented the old Pontiac City Lines buses for use initially.

Scholle Sees Delegates Going Solidly for Kennedy

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—A key labor figure on the Michigan Democratic delegation predicted last night it will be solid for Sen. John F. Kennedy as a result of Gov. Williams' personal endorsement.

August Scholle of Royal Oak, state AFL-CIO president, foresaw only an outside chance that a few of the national convention delegates might hold out for Adlai E. Stevenson. Scholle discounted even this possibility despite a warm feeling for the Democratic standard-bearer he backed in 1952 and 1956 at his third and fourth national conventions.

"I still think Stevenson would be a formidable candidate, assuming he got the nomination. But what the heck, I don't know whether he's actually going to be a candidate and what's the use of wishful thinking."

"I'd have to say I'm for Kennedy," he said.

Scholle, as fourth vice chairman, is the ranking labor member of the 51-vote, 102-man delegation, a delegation made up about one-third of dues-paying unionists.

In politics and union affairs he is close to Walter P. Reuther, whose United Auto Workers movement dominates the state AFL-CIO. He is a veteran of many political wars who is credited with being a keen tactician at conventions.

While some delegates "very ardently" favor Stevenson, he added, it did not appear likely that they would hold their votes for him in a situation that might seriously threaten the liberal cause in the Democratic Party.

This would be the case, he said, if competition narrows down to a choice of Kennedy who is a candidate or Stevenson who says he is not on the one hand, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson on the other.

"I don't think the northern liberals would be able to hold divided in such a situation and risk throwing the nomination to Johnson, who represents Democratic conservatism," Scholle said.

He foresaw Sen. Stuart Symington as out of the running by then.

Area Delegates Still a Bit Cool

But Governor Almost Certain to Succeed in Selling Kennedy

Oakland County's delegation is not 100 per cent solid on Gov. Williams' endorsement of Sen. John F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But it appeared almost a certainty that the six-term, underdog governor will be able to sell the Massachusetts senator to the Oakland County and the rest of the state to Los Angeles next month.

Mrs. Harriett Phillips, apparent leader of the Oakland delegation, said "I'm still for Stevenson."

A Huntington Woods housewife, Mrs. Phillips is a veteran member of the Democratic State Central Committee and personally with labor's helping hand—got her slate of six Oakland delegates and alternates elected at the state convention in Grand Rapids. She is a delegate herself.

NOT OVERLY ENTHUSIAST A long-time personal friend of Williams and one of four Oakland delegates, Dr. Howard H. McNeill of Bloomfield Hills said he is "not overly enthused" with Sen. Kennedy.

He said that before the 43-year-old Kennedy bumped him out of the race in the West Virginia primary, his favorite for the Senate was Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Although claiming to be "quite surprised" with hearing of Williams' endorsement at this time, the surgeon said the governor had a "perfect right" to pick his favorite before consulting his constituents.

Has New Meaning for City Mother

Pontiac's prototype family fallout shelter—which opens for public inspection tomorrow—has taken on a new, sober meaning for Mrs. Clarence H. Dosen.

It is in the basement of the Dosen home, 88 W. Walton Blvd., that the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization (OCDM) is opening the shelter in an effort to encourage disaster preparedness in Pontiac area homes.

The Dosen family volunteered for the shelter early this year, promising to let the public look at it week ends.

At that time, Mrs. Dosen let it be known that her main concern was not civil defense, but tornadoes.

"Ours is the only basement in the neighborhood," she observed, "and I had always told the neighbors they could use our basement for shelter in case of tornado."

"We knew the shelter could be used for tornado protection, so we volunteered."

That was five months ago when the international situation was happier.

The recent cold war tensions, though, have Mrs. Dosen wondering.

"Maybe we all really need to have shelters against fallout. I pray that we never have to use ours for that purpose, but I'm glad we have it now."

U.S. 10 Crash Kills Flint Man, Injures 2

A Flint man was killed early last night in a two-car collision on U.S. 10 in Davidsburg road, Springfield Township.

The victim, Roy E. Myers, 41, of 3127 Avon St., was a passenger in a car driven by Devere P. Shaker, 22, of 2223 Proctor St., Flint. Driver of the other car was Mrs. Sharon L. Hall, 23, of 8545 Tindall Rd., Davidsburg.

Witnesses told sheriff's deputies the woman made a left turn into the path of Shaker's neighborhood car.

Mrs. Hall, who is expecting a child, was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Shaker was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Myers was dead on arrival at Pontiac General. He suffered head and internal injuries.

Normal Weather Is 5-Day Forecast

For the next five days temperatures in the Pontiac area will average near the normal high of 75 degrees with little day-to-day changes.

The low tonight is expected to be 54, the weatherman said.

Saturday's high will be near 74. Mostly fair with little change in temperature is the forecast for Sunday. Monday and Tuesday may be somewhat cooler.

Morning westerly winds at 10-20 miles an hour will shift to northwesterly and diminish tonight. Rainfall registered .34 inches from 10:15 a.m. yesterday until the same time today.

Fifty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. at 1 p.m., the reading was 78.

MAKE OVER PACER Nikita Sticks His Nose Right Into U.S. Politics

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets — meaning Premier Nikita Khrushchev — are sticking their noses right into the middle of the American presidential election campaign.

Khrushchev has said repeatedly he wouldn't, even if he could, butt into the election. But he has done it repeatedly.

He did it again as Thursday — in a letter to four Democratic leaders — by blasting the Eisenhower administration and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate.

Every four years the American voters choose a president according to traditional and well-known reasons: His political party, his social and economic views, his manner, his judgment, his record, if any.

A candidate's ability to deal with some head of a foreign government on a face-to-face basis has never been a factor.

A BIG PROBLEM

But Khrushchev by his tactics now is forcing voters to do some thinking about a problem he is posing high into their consciousness: How would a candidate deal with Khrushchev? Would he be tough? Soft? Firm?

It would be easy to conclude, from what Khrushchev has already said, that he wants the Republicans to lose the election. For example:

1. He blames the Eisenhower administration for wrecking the summit conference.

2. He doesn't want another conference until after the election, which means he doesn't want another one with President Eisenhower.

3. He links Nixon directly into his blame on the Eisenhower administration for the summit collapse.

4. And he has ridiculed Nixon.

When he heard Eisenhower might let Nixon sit in for him for a while at the summit conference this was before it started — Khrushchev hooted at the idea by saying:

That would be like "sending the goat to take care of the cabbage."

In his letter Thursday he made Nixon part of what he called a "whole chain of acts" on the part of the Eisenhower administration leading up to the summit fiasco.

But while all this can be interpreted as out and out anti-Republican, Khrushchev on his visit to the United States last September said he could not see much difference between Democrats and Republicans.

He repeated that theme obliquely Thursday:

"We know that there are two major political parties in your country, but the foreign policy of the U.S.A. is said to be bipartisan."

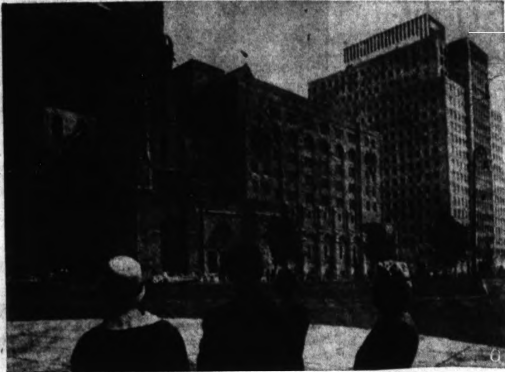

The Nixon followers already are trying to make capital of the idea that the vice president, if elected president, would be just the one to cope with the poly-Khrushchev.

When the summit began to topple under Khrushchev's assault in May, four Democrats wrote to Eisenhower in Paris, asking him to pass on their views to Khrushchev.

These four were: Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, both with their eyes on the Democratic presidential nomination; Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, and Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

They claimed Khrushchev all Americans were behind Eisenhower in a desire for peace, Khrushchev's answer — blaming the summit crackup on the Eisenhower administration — was greeted by Johnson this way: It is an "arrogant denial of the facts."

Ike's Grin to Be Lost Behind Tokyo Armor

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — There is a point at which, during exposure of public figures to large groups, the personal safety factor tends to cancel out the very reason for the performance.

President Eisenhower's trips through the teeming streets of Tokyo later this month will be made in a bullet-proof car.

This is unquestionably a valid precaution in view of the violent nature of the Japanese Socialist and Communist opposition to the U.S.-Japan Mutual Security Pact.

But what does it do to the warmth of his appearance? What tramping intruders does the presence of the heavy armor and the hundreds of secret and open police make on that sensitive plant we call good-will?

How diluted will become the friendly smile, the all embracing armwave, if strained through inch-thick glass or dispatched from the shrouded rear of a speeding limousine?

Wouldn't surprise me a bit if the mainland Chinese gave Kennedy and Maheu the heaviest shelling of their hapless lives, while Ike is spending the day with Chiang Kai-shek in Taipei.

An attack that day on Formosa itself is unthinkable, at this stage.

Where There's Firing . . .

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Wenche Foss, rehearsing for the title role in Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," fired a blank from a pistol at the National Theater Thursday night and fire engines roared through Oslo's streets. Smoke from the blank cartridge set off the theater's fire alarm system and out came the fire department.

The chief exports of Uruguay are beef, wool and other animal products, accounting for about 85 per cent.

of Red China's arms and political development.

But it seems safe to presume that Mao Tse-tung will not fail to want the little Nationalist Chinese offshore islands to "show" Asia and his now somewhat thoughtful friends in the Kremlin that he isn't afraid of the United States.

Says Good Dividend News Is About Done

NEW YORK (UPI) — The bulk of good dividend news is past, at least for the time being, Standard & Poor's Card today.

For the second successive month, dividend payments in May have been less favorable than in the corresponding month last year, the statistical service reported.

Last month, it said, 74 companies declared higher dividends, up from 38 in April but down from 81 in May 1959, while the number of extras, on a year-to-year basis, dropped to 39 from 51.

Moreover, there was a jump in the number of casualties, with 18 companies decreasing their rates and 12 omitting payments as compared with 6 of each the year before.

Standard said that corporations were prompt in liberalizing payments as they emerged from the 1958 recession but could not maintain the pace this year as the earnings improvement slowed down.

Panama Fritters Poison

Debate Waxing Warm in '60 on Executives' Stock Options

NEW YORK (UPI) — The moral and economic issues of stock options for top executives have been debated heatedly this year at big business stockholders meetings.

The issue has been called "immoral" by Dean Erwin Griswold of the Harvard Law School and an unfair advantage by the Federation of Women Shareholders in American business.

Griswold said stock options for executives are "immoral" because they give the holders a chance to play "heads-you-lose, tails-I-win" in the stock market.

President Wilma Soss and Vice President Beatrice Kelekian of the General Electric Co. had a paper profit earlier this year of $1.2 million in his optioned GE stock and President John Burns of RCA had a similar paper profit on option stock of $30,000.

But when stocks go down as they have in recent months the options can lose much of their glitter.

In big companies, though, stock options for executives are a moral, not an economic issue. As one stockholder pointed out at the annual meeting of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), if there were no stock options and all Jersey's 29 top executives worked for nothing, that would only increase income for the 600,000 other stockholders.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has sought to rule out options for executives in public utility companies, but Middle South Utilities, Inc., plans a court test of the ruling.

Chairman Ralph Cordiner of General Electric Co. had a paper profit earlier this year of $1.2 million in his optioned GE stock and President John Burns of RCA had a similar paper profit on option stock of $30,000.

But when stocks go down as they have in recent months the options can lose much of their glitter.

In big companies, though, stock options for executives are a moral, not an economic issue. As one stockholder pointed out at the annual meeting of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), if there were no stock options and all Jersey's 29 top executives worked for nothing, that would only increase income for the 600,000 other stockholders.

This Fish Tale
Man Escapes

Tennessee Fisherman
Has Sleeve Torn and Thumb Gashed

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (UPI) — Here's a fish story to end all fish stories:

Foster Barr of Atlanta was sitting in a boat when he was bitten by a fish, Charles Beasley, manager of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, said he and Barr were fishing on the Tennessee River when their boat suddenly began to act "like a car running over a bumpy road."

Beasley said he and Barr saw a school of gar fish—some appearing to be more than four feet long—thrashing around in the water.

In the excitement, one of the fish popped out of the water, ripped Barr's shirt sleeve from shoulder to elbow and put a small gash in the Atlanta man's thumb. As most fish stories end, the fish got away—and so did Barr.

The 1963 Ryder Cup Matches will be played at East Lake Country Club, Atlanta, Ga. Last time the competition was held in the Southeast was in 1951, when teams representing Great Britain and the United States met at Pinehurst, N.C.
