First Heavy Snow Creates Scene of Winter Beauty

DUCKS INSPECT NEW LOOK — The first heavy snow of the season Saturday turned many spots in Oakland County into scenes of winter beauty. This spot, at Quarton and Chesterfield roads, between Pontiac and Birmingham, impressed even a flock of ducks, who appear to be on a tour of inspection. If you want to see where they are bound, turn to page 21.

AFL-CIO Ready to Expel Bakers for Corrupt Acts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—AFL-CIO convention sessions, in recess over the weekend after the Friday expulsion of the Teamsters Union, get under way again today with another expulsion action due against the Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union.

Federation leaders were reported to have decided to make the Bakery Union's expulsion effective next March 15 unless the union ousts union President James G. Cross by then.

A special Bakers convention is scheduled for March 3-5 at Cincinnati to elect officers.

Cross has refused to quit his union post, despite testimony before Sen. McClellan's committee that he had compromising ties with employers and misused his union's funds and power.

James R. Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters, similarly was implicated in the Senate hearings and like Cross refused to accept an AFL-CIO mandate to get out of his union.

★ ★ ★

Union leaders aimed a convention blast at the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington today for allegedly concentrating on labor corruption and going light on management sins.

APPROVAL EXPECTED

These views are contained in a resolution drafted by federation approval.

It says the year long investigations conducted by the group headed by McClellan (D-Ark) are one-sided, and it calls for equally ardent exposure of management malpractices.

McClellan's committee has exposed some alleged employer sins at its hearings, particularly in connection with the operations of Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago management consultant on labor relations, but hearings have been mainly concentrated on wrong-doings of labor leaders.

★ ★ ★

AFL-CIO leaders said the resolution on the conduct of the McClellan committee's hearings will make clear they want and welcome aid in exposing labor corruption but feel there are plenty of management practices that need exposing too.

ONE STANDARD SOUGHT

"We feel the hearings have been one-sided," said one top AFL-CIO leader privately. "We don't think labor should be singled out. There are 10 cases of business corruption for every one in labor.

"There shouldn't be one standard for labor and another standard for business, not in a democracy."

Layne May Quit After Injury

Veteran Detroit Lions' Star Breaks Leg in Sunday's Game

DETROIT (INS) — Veteran Detroit Lions quarterback Bobby Layne, hero of Detroit's 20-7 victory over the Cleveland Browns, indicated today his pro-football career may be over.

In Osteopathic Hospital, doctors said Layne suffered a broken bone in his right leg in yesterday's game.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he would quit for good, he said:

"It could be. This is the worst thing that has ever happened to me.

"I've had my nose broken and and have been hurt in other ways, but this is the worst."

Layne was injured in the first half when he was cut down as he faded back to pass. He was smothered by Cleveland defenders with a total weight of almost 750 pounds.

★ ★ ★

The Detroiter refused to say if there was any unnecessary roughness. Last season when Chicago Bears' end Ed Meadows crashed into him, putting him out of commission, it started one of the hottest controversies in the history of the National Football League.

He said, "All I know is that I was knocked out. When I came to, my leg was dead and my foot sort of fell away. I thought something was broken."

Dr. Richard A. Thompson, team physician, described the injury as a fractured fibula and a posterior dislocation. He said there was "absolutely no chance" for Layne to play again this year.

Annual School Yule Concert Tuesday Night

Tomorrow night at 7:30, the Pontiac public schools instrumental music department will present the annual Christmas concert.

The concert, including the six junior high school orchestras and bands, the elementary school bands and the Pontiac Central High School band and orchestra, will be held in the boys' gymnasium of the Pontiac Central High School.

Almost 80 students of instrumental music will take part. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Colder, Some Snow Is Tuesday Prospect

This morning's cloudiness will continue with some light snow tonight and the thermometer registering a low around 30 degrees, says the weatherman.

Tuesday will be cloudy and colder with snow flurries. The high temperature will be near 32. Tomorrow night will be clear and colder with the low dipping to 20 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 19 degrees. The mercury stood at 32 at 1 p.m.

Airline Service Possible in City

Pontiac Joins Group Presenting Requests to CAB in January

Pontiac's chances of securing airline service appeared strengthened today as the city joined with a committee of other cities also seeking service for the first time.

The Michigan Airline Service Committee will present its statewide pattern of aviation service together with the Michigan Dept. of Aeronautics to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in January.

★ ★ ★

The committee has outlined routes which the cities would be adding to the overall state pattern of airline routes if their request for service is approved.

Under the proposals, seven Michigan cities would be receiving this service for the first time. Besides Pontiac, they are Alpena, Reed City, Manistee, Benton Harbor, St. Joseph and Port Huron.

The proposal met with immediate approval of Homer D. Hoskins, Pontiac Municipal Airport manager. "I am very happy with the whole thing," he said. "It is a very practical solution which will speed up our request for service

Links Teamsters to Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Nashville, Tenn., contractor testified today saboteurs dynamited $100,000 worth of his equipment on federal property soon after he had refused to sign a labor contract with the Teamsters Union.

"We felt that it arose out of this dispute," Robert McDowell of the contracting firm of McDowell & McDowell told the Senate Labor Rackets Investigating Committee. "They were the only ones we had any misunderstanding with."

He said he knew of no arrests ever made by the police in the case.

McDowell said the blast came without warning on Labor Day 1953 on property of the Tennessee Valley Authority. He said this was six weeks or two months after he had signed a labor contract with a rival union, John L. Lewis' United Construction Workers, instead of the Teamsters.

The contractor said he had refused to sign with the Teamsters on advice of counsel that the contract demanded by that union's Local 327 in Nashville would have been "a closed shop agreement in violation of both federal and state law."

PROFANE CLASHES

McDowell told of some profane and very arrogant clashes with W. A. Smith, business agent of Local 327, in earlier stages of the dispute and spoke of some threats of violence. He did not say who uttered the threats.

★ ★ ★

He said his firm signed up with the Construction Workers Union and "everything went smooth for a couple of months" until Labor Day, when "we had this dynamite put on our project at this Gallatin (Tenn.) steam plant of the TVA." His firm was building an entrance road to the steam plant.

McDowell said someone exploded more dynamite in December 1953 that blew a hole in the room of the company's office building in Nashville, doing $1,200 damage. He displayed one of two crude, homemade pipe bombs he said had been found unexploded on the roof.

The hearing was called to continue the committee's investigation of dynamiting, arson and beatings in Nashville area labor disputes.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said in advance the hearing also would deal with "the continuing thought that possibly there has not been a thorough and complete investigation of this violence by law enforcement officials."

Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) has charged that some Tennessee Teamsters officials were responsible for what he termed a five-year "reign of terror" in Tennessee and neighboring states.

He has been sharply critical of what he termed lack of proper investigation of violence in labor disputes in Knoxville.

Dollar-or-Less Gifts an Aid for Shoppers

By JANET ODELL

As we promised in our last article, here are suggestions for gifts costing a dollar or less. We know you can find something to please everyone.

An interesting gift for a man and his car is an auto dash can. This small plastic pail fastens on the dashboard and swings out of sight when not in use. It takes care of the litter accumulated during a trip and can easily be removed for emptying.

For the person who entertains a lot there are boxes of hand carved cocktail picks. Made in Portugal, they're far too attractive to throw away. The guests will probably keep them for souvenirs.

★ ★ ★

A practical, yet attractive looking gift is a set of non-woven dust and polishing cloths; they may be used over and over.

Have you seen the little metal "Oscar" cups? Each one is mounted on a wooden pedestal and is engraved "To the World's Best Mother," and so on.

Almost anyone would be able to use a plastic box filled with rubber bands in all sizes and colors.

And any car owner, male or female, will bless you on snowy days if your gift is a plastic windshield cover to stretch over the glass when the car stands outside.

For a family that always has something to drink while watching TV, a bottle opener and cap catcher would be welcome. No more having to chase that elusive cap across the floor.

Fancy Christmas papers and plain white tissue paper now come in long continuous rolls. You tear off only what you need at one time. The boxes have cutter edges.

Slide viewers for the person who dotes on photography start at a dollar. Metal molds with which to make gingerbread houses will appeal to kitchen enthusiasts. A package of magnets in assorted sizes is bound to put some youngster in seventh heaven. Just try it.

Northville Man Gunshot Victim

Faulty Trigger Blamed for Death of Hunter in Milford Township

A 23-year-old Northville man was killed by his companion in a hunting accident Sunday as the two hunted rabbit in Milford Township.

William Stamper, 23, of 620 N. Center St., was pronounced dead of gunshot wounds in the neck and upper chest, at 9 a.m. by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Wellington Gibson.

His companion, Russell D. Morris, 27, of 812 Brushwood Dr., Walled Lake, told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that Stamper was flushing a rabbit from a rubbish pile.

Morris said he wheeled to shoot when his 20-gauge shotgun accidentally misfired striking Stamper. Deputies said the gun had a defective trigger assembly.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred in the area of Burns and Commerce roads. Stamper's body was taken to the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake. He is survived by his wife and one child.

Sisters, Cousin in Fatal Party at Mt. Clemens

Police Rescue Louise, Oldest of Group, From Freezing Water

MT. CLEMENS (INS) — An after-church skating party ended in death yesterday for three small Mt. Clemens girls, who fell through paper-thin ice on a pond near their homes.

A fourth child, sister of two of the victims and cousin of the third, was confined to St. Joseph Hospital suffering shock and exposure.

The dead girls are Peggy Snay, 9; her sister, Kathleen, 8; and their cousin, Mary Jo Glasgow, 10, all of Mt. Clemens.

Sheriff's deputies said the three youngest girls lost their lives trying to save Louise who walked to the center of the lily pond to test the ice. The trio ran to her aid, and also plunged through the sheet of ice.

★ ★ ★

Herbert Matison, whose home is in front of the pond, dashed to the pond. His wife called police. Patrolman William Denison was the first to answer the call.

He found Matison up to his waist in the water, mired with mud. Louise was farther out. Her head was above water and she was screaming for help.

Witnesses said the officer plunged into the water, half swimming, half wading, smashing the ice ahead of him as he made his way to Louise. The girl was holding Mary Jo in her arms.

They said Louise went under after Mary Jo was lifted out.

Patrolman Maurice Maes, who arrived a short time later, plunged into the pond half way between Matison and Denison.

BRING MARY JO OUT FIRST

Denison placed Mary Jo on the ice and skidded her to Matison. Numb with cold, Matison managed to get the girl to shore.

Denison, meanwhile, grabbed Louise and pushed her across the ice the same way as she screamed "my sisters are in there."

Denison was up to his chin in the muddy waters but struggled to shore. Fellow officers pulled him to safety.

★ ★ ★

Firemen and other members of the Mt. Clemens rescue squad found the two other bodies a short time later.

They applied artificial respiration to Peggy, Kathleen and Mary Jo but they failed to respond.

Mrs. Hazel Glasgow, mother of one of the victims, said she felt that the ice was safe because boys from the neighborhood played hockey on the pond Thursday without incident. Authorities said, however, recent rains and a warming trend made the ice paper-thin. It was the worst tragedy of its kind in Mt. Clemens history.

The three little girls will be buried Wednesday in new dresses that would have been their Christmas presents.

Clean Up After Fire

PTA Mothers Wash School Walls

FIRE DAMAGE — Damage from a fire started by vandals in Longfellow School Saturday is shown. Interior of one classroom was ruined, and smoke damage resulted through the building.

Mothers of Longfellow Elementary School children put on their blue jeans, rolled up their sleeves and pitched in yesterday to wash away the smoke damage in the classrooms caused by the $12,000 vandalism fire Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leon Stickney, 174 S. Edith St., president of the Longfellow Parent - Teacher Association, reports that 22 mothers showed up with their pails and cleaning clothes after a telephone committee contacted as many members as possible Saturday night.

"I don't think the children would have been able to go to school for several days if we didn't get busy yesterday and clean off the desks, chairs and window sills," Mrs. Stickney explained.

Every seat and desk throughout the 21 classrooms and the auditorium were scoured by the mothers so that their children could return to school today.

The fire Saturday morning was the second one within two weeks attributed to vandals. The school is located at 51 N. Astor St.

★ ★ ★

Building damage was estimated by firemen at $9,000 while $3,000 in contents was damaged in the second-floor classroom gutted by fire. The school has an enrollment of approximately 700 students.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Are the northern lights visible brighter and brighter until one reaches the pole? Do they have a connection with our weather?

No, the northern lights seem to extend across the heavens south of the north pole by a good margin, and while they appear to the north, to most of us, they are seen from a different direction at the pole.

Science still does not have a complete explanation of these lights though it is thought that they are reflecions from small particles in space. As far as is known, they have no effect on our weather.

However, they do sometimes cause electrical or electronic interference and man has not yet learned how to cancel out this communications handicap. In the recent NATO naval maneuvers in the North and Norwegian Seas, communications were badly snarled at times by nature's interference.

The Day in Birmingham

City to Take Up Problems of Parks, School Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Another light agenda is set for tonight's City Commission meeting. Two principal items to be taken up will be the use of city parks and the parking problem by three schools.

Reports from City Manager L. R. Gare and schools Supt. Dwight E. Ireland discount complaints of parents concerning muddy areas at Quarton, Barnum and Torry Schools.

They point out that paved areas have been provided at each of the schools, where parents may pick up children with no need of driving or walking through mud.

Legal advisers and city manager's reports outlined the additional public use of city-owned parks.

Following the rifling of three purses at the Community House Friday, Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist again warns shop and office employes on proper care of handbags during working hours. He pointed out that this season invariably brings additional pilfering. He strongly urges all purses be kept beyond the reach of the public.

The Community House will be the scene of the annual Christmas Concert of the Birmingham Musicale at 2 p.m. Thursday.

William J. Reddick will direct a choral ensemble in a group of Christmas selections. Under the direction of Mary Jane Walker, the Birmingham Madrigal Singers will present some of the lesser known Christmas carols.

A special feature will be two groups of cello solos by Dr. Helen Clapp Dudeck.

In Tavern When Home Burns

Mom Held for Neglect After Blaze Kills Eight

PARK FALLS, Wis. (INS) — Charges of neglect were being prepared today against the 38-year-old mother of eight children who were killed in their flaming home two miles from Park Falls, Wis.

The unattended children, aged 1 to 10, died in their beds when fire gutted the three-room frame cottage yesterday.

Price County Sheriff Andrew Pilch said the mother, Mrs. Harvey Klein, was in a tavern at Phillips, the county seat, until 1 a.m. He said Mrs. Klein later took an auto ride with a man and walked a quarter mile home when the car battery failed.

The mother fainted when she saw the ruins of her home.

Pilch quoted her as saying, "I'm sorry I didn't burn up with the children."

★ ★ ★

The children were Harvey Jr., 10; Gary, 8; Barbara, 7; Curtis, 5; Valerie, 4; twins Nina and Ninette, 2, and Thomas, 1.

FATHER WORKING

Their father, Harvey Klein, 45, was 30 miles away, working in a logging camp.

The fire was spotted by a neighbor, Charles Hauschild, who said, "I tried to get in but the flames drove me back."

Firemen, their pumper truck in repair, stood by helplessly until a state conservation crew arrived with a 200-gallon load of water.

The house was destroyed in less than an hour.

Fire Chief Merlin Boettcher ordered the ashes sifted for clues to the origin of the blaze.

County District Attorney Carl Bjork said Mrs. Klein will be charged with neglect. The mother was held in the county jail at Phillips.

Sam Frye of nearby Marshfield, Wis., told police he was with Mrs. Klein in the early morning hours. He said they noticed the flames after his car battery failed.

Frye said Mrs. Klein rushed home while he hitchhiked to Park Falls.

and I hope assist us in getting approval."

Representatives from Battle Creek and Benton Harbor were the only ones not fully endorsing the plan.

Hoskins explained that the proposal was merely "an expansion of the overall route system in Michigan" by the cities awaiting service.

Pontiac has made its request for service since the 4,000-foot east-west runway was completed in October 1956.

Two airlines, North Central and Lake Central, told the CAB in Washington in October of this year that they were willing to serve Pontiac.

Hoskins said he expected an answer on the city's request "sometime this spring."

Teamster to Testify on Seating Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Konowe, who helped handle seating of delegates to the recent Teamsters Union convention, was called to testify today in a suit aimed at erasing James R. Hoffa's election as union president.

Konowe, a special New York representative of the big Teamsters Union, served as secretary of the Credentials Committee at the Miami Beach convention which elected Hoffa more than two months ago.

Konowe's testimony has been postponed three times in the week-old trial of the suit brought by 13 dissident Teamsters members from the New York area. The 13 seek to void the election of Hoffa and other officials on grounds the convention was rigged.

U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who is hearing the case without a jury, has issued a temporary order barring Hoffa from taking office until the court contest is completed.

Much of the rebel group's case hinges about Credentials Committee actions at the Miami Beach convention.

Shooting Climaxes Quarrel Over Wife

LANSING (AP)—Leroy Barber, 25, was held for investigation yesterday after State Police said he admitted shooting another man to death during an argument over Barber's wife.

★ ★ ★

Bennie Berryhill, 25, of Lansing died of a shotgun blast that struck him in the throat at Barber's home near here.

Police said the shooting happened early yesterday when the two argued after Berryhill brought Mrs. Barber home. State Police Detective Wayne Jussila said Barber, an unemployed laborer, told him he had seen Berryhill at a tavern with his wife earlier.

★ ★ ★

The Barbers are the parents of three children ranging in age from 2 weeks to 2 years. All were sleeping when the shooting occurred.

Power Balance Rules Out War?

British History Expert Says Sides Too Evenly Matched for Outbreak

LONDON (AP)—Prof. A. J. P. Taylor, British historian, says a balancing of power has all but ruled out the possibility of another world war.

"I'm glad the two sides in the cold war are balanced now," he says. "I prefer to see neither side have power dominance—it's too dangerous. Though I'd rather see American dominance than Russia, of course."

Taylor is an Oxford University professor, a prolific author of books and essays and a familiar figure in British homes as an outspoken television "brains truster."

"World war is now worse for both sides than any possible alternative," he observed.

★ ★ ★

"In the second World War, the alternative—Hitler rule — was worse than war. Now a world war would be such a catastrophe that nothing would be worth it.

"Two things could really change the situation now. One is a political upheaval in Russia—a real upheaval that would change the Communist party structure, not just the fall of Khrushchev or something like that. The other is an economic upheaval in America, a slump.

"I think the situation may be a race to see which of these systems cracks first, Russian tyranny or American capitalism."

What has Britain to contribute to a world in this situation?

Taylor snorted at the interviewer's question and said: "If you contribute the example of orderly government and democracy, and act friendly and mind your own business, what's wrong with that?

"I do think we might go on contributing to raising the standard of living in backward areas of the world. That's what we did all through the last century."

Christmas Month Is Also Dangerous One for Drivers

December, the month of Christmas festivities, can also be the month of personal tragedy.

For December ranks high in traffic deaths and injuries.

December of 1956 saw 78 persons injured in Pontiac traffic mishaps, while during the year before two died and 66 were hurt during the same month.

DRUNK DRIVERS GO . . .

This year traffic safety leaders in the city are urging extreme caution by motorists during December, and Municipal Court Judges Maurice Finnegan and Cecil McCallum will follow their traditional holiday season policy of "Drunk Drivers Go to Jail."

Capt. Joseph W. Koren of the police traffic and safety bureau pointed out that in 1956, December accounted of 11.1 per cent of the year's accidents. In 1955, the figure was 12.7 per cent.

Of injury accidents, Capt. Koren said, no less than 13.5 per cent occured in December last year.

CITES COMMON CAUSES

He pointed out that the three most common causes of accidents in December are bad road condition (39 per cent), bad light conditions (52 per cent of the month's accidents are at night) and location (50 per cent occur in shopping districts).

The three most common violations that lead to accidents, Capt. Koren said, are drunk driving, following another car too closely and failure to yield right of way.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley elaborated on the statistics by noting that the shorter days of winter mean an increase in after-dark driving.

FATAL TEAM

"Darkness is a danger in itself," Chief Straley said, "and it becomes all the more dangerous when coupled with slippery road conditions."

Smart drivers, the chief added, realize the added importance of vigorous windshield wipers and defrosting equipment during sloppy nighttime weather.

Some of the rules the police department is stressing this month are:

1. Start earlier and drive slower. Don't expect to maintain summertime schedules.

★ ★ ★

2. Get the feel of the road when starting. Don't wait for an accident to prove the roads are slippery.

★ ★ ★

3. Allow a safe distance between cars. Especially note if the car ahead has tire chains which might allow driver to stop quicker than your car.

★ ★ ★

4. Make gradual stops, even if you have tire chains, and pump your brakes to signal your stops to the driver behind.

★ ★ ★

5. Give pedestrians a wide berth, because they too are hardicapped by slippery footing and poor visibility.

Scientific tests conducted by the National Safety Council's committee on winter driving hazards show that effective braking distances are longer on melting ice than on solid ice.

These tests show that a car going 20 miles an hour will skid 114 feet on ice if the temperature is zero, but at 30 degrees above zero the same car will skid 235 feet.

Chains reduce braking distances by 50 per cent, the tests proved, but are no substitute for reduced driving speeds.

Chutist Hits Wires, Blacks Out Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A 29-year-old parachutist made a practice jump yesterday and landed on a 110,000-volt transmission line. At the moment he hit the wires, power to this city of more than 143,000 was cut off.

Officials of Tacoma City Light declined to say officially that the blackout, which lasted for nearly two hours, was due to parachutist Ronald Herzog, but they were unable to give any other cause.

Herzog, rescued unharmed by firemen, said he didn't see any flash when he hit the wires. He had jumped from a small plane, planning to land in a pasture, but the wind carried him into the wires.

Pittsburgh Trolleys Run; 56-Day Strike Mediated

PITTSBURGH (AP) — This steel city's main public transportation system moved full speed toward normal trolley and bus service today after settlement of the longest and costliest mass transit strike in Pittsburgh's history.

Supervisory personnel of Pittsburgh Railways Co. had performed minimum maintenance chores during the 56-day walkout of 2,200 operators.

Settlement of the dispute came with dramatic suddenness on the basis of a peace plan formulated by a government-business-labor group.

Striking operators accepted first. A few hours later company officials announced acceptance. A formal contract will be signed soon.

Under the agreement members of Division 85, Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, get a 26-cent hourly wage increase in a two-year contract. Improvements in fringe benefits are also included.

Before the strike Oct. 14 operators earned $2.14 an hour including a 4-cent cost-of-living increment, which now is frozen in the basic rate.

One unofficial estimate placed the company's revenue loss in the dispute at more than three million dollars; the strikers' wage loss at some 1½ million. Department stores and other retail establishments lost unestimated millions in sales.

Gilbert Teitel, union business agent, called the agreement "an honorable settlement for both sides." C. D. Palmer, company president, said added costs "will in all probability necessitate further increases in rates in the not distant future.

Cash fares for trolleys are 23 cents and buses 28 cents.

Mayor David L. Lawrence headed a committee of federal and state mediators, third-party labor and management officials and state government representatives which drafted the peace proposal.

Originally, the union had demanded a 36-cent hourly pay boost in a two-year contract. The company first offered 16 cents.

Operators will receive 6 cents an hour more retroactive to Sept. 1, 8 cents effective immediately, 6 cents a year from now and 6 cents March 1, 1959. This will bring the basic rate to $2.40 an hour.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

NATO Alliance Takes Stock of All Resources

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
Chief European Correspondent

PARIS (INS)—NATO is making a gigantic inventory of what it has to fight with if war comes.

ACCOUNTING VAST

The vast accounting of "every stick and stone we've got" was forced on the Alliance by the Soviet Sputnik and hastened by the approaching meeting of the heads of the NATO governments.

It took these things to spur the Alliance to act on past recommendations to mobilize all possible resources to strengthen NATO in the political and economic fields.

The mass study amounts to the greatest geopolitical survey of Western Europe ever undertaken.

KNOW RESOURCES

Once completed it will permit the political leaders of the Alliance to know what resources they have, where the Alliance must be strengthened and how it can progress materially.

Every day the experts meet in a dozen conference rooms of NATO headquarters at the Palais De Chaillot. They have been meeting ever since it was decided to have the meeting at the summit.

PROBLEMS DIVERSE

The experts work on such diverse problems as how to get more use of European railroads and how science can increase the yield of European farms.

A diplomat who has been working with NATO for some years said:

"We have had studies before, but never anything like this. When this is finished we really will have an understanding of what the Alliance has to work with in every field."

Perhaps the most striking example of the work is the study to determine what will have to be done in Europe to handle turbojet and turboprop civil transport airplanes.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration does this in the United States. But NATO itself is examining schedules, traffic problems and airport facilities to see that the members of the Alliance get the best use of the new and faster airplanes.

The problem of the turbojets and turboprops is given such weight that NATO experts held ten meetings on it in one week.

A mere list of the problems handed to committees and working groups indicates both the broadened scope of NATO interests and just how many different things a modern Alliance has to think about. Among them were:

—Scientific coordination among members.

—Arms production in NATO countries.

—Preparation for civil emergencies in wartime.

—Petroleum products, their acquisition and movement.

—Coordination of European air space for civilian traffic.

—Soviet economic policy.

—The NATO military budget.

—Political problems within the Alliance.

—Information and cultural exchanges.

—The political, scientific, economic and military position of the Alliance.

★ ★ ★

This partial list of committees and working groups indicates how far NATO already has advanced from a purely military alliance in which members promise to send soldiers to help each other.

Through the vast geopolitical survey the experts are creating the basis for as much unity in the Atlantic community as the politicians are able to arrange.

Paper Does Stretch!

OTTAWA—It is quite possible to stretch paper; in fact, it's done every day in the manufacture of newsprint. From the time the moisture-laden newsprint leaves it's Fourdrinier screen to the final rewinding process it is under constant tension, with the result that it undergoes a stretch of 5 to 6 per cent.

Plantation Workers on Strike in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Four hundred thousand tea and rubber plantation workers struck today in a 24-hour demand for pensions and shorter working hours.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman of the Ceylon Workers' Congress said the walkout had halted work on 75 per cent of the plantations in the main tea and rubber growing areas. However, members of the rival Democratic Workers Congress stayed on the job.

★ ★ ★

Police rushed reinforcements to the areas affected, fearing clashes among the rival unionists.

The ratio of suitable farming land to total area is highest in Europe where it runs to 37 per cent. In North and middle America the average diminishes to only about 10 per cent.

'Grave' Problems Confront Russians

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia reported today that caretakers and gravediggers at Moscow cemeteries have been taking bribes to find space for the dead.

The government newspaper said two cemetery directors have been convicted, five others arrested and 20 dismissed for demanding and accepting bribes from grieving relatives. Space is at a premium in the city's graveyards.

★ ★ ★

Izvestia cited the case of a grandmother who paid 100 rubles to arrange for burial of her granddaughter. Another woman paid 200 rubles to have a fence built around a grave. Izvestia said, and the fence was provided by "hoodlums" who tore it from another grave.

Sheep have been known to exist for weeks while buried in snowdrifts.

Good Should Come From Rude Surprise

The National Science Foundation delving into the causes of our consternation at Russia's scientific progress, has come up with some interesting facts.

Each year the Soviets publish some 1,200 scientific journals of which 200 contain information vital to our scientists. All are available to us but only 30 ever are translated so that our Government is never fully aware of what Russia is accomplishing.

An example given by the Foundation well illustrates this point. American firms worked five years on an electrical circuit necessary for a project and spent $200,000. Yet the Russians had the answer and reported it in a scientific journal before the research firm even had started experiments. This information was available but went unread.

Another instance revealed by a House subcommittee looking into Government secrecy, had to do with Sputnik I. Our scientists had difficulty establishing its radio frequencies, yet in the June and July issues of the Soviet magazine Radio, the frequencies were given but we didn't bother to translate the information.

★ ★ ★

Such a thing couldn't happen in Russia. Its Union Institute of Scientific and Technical Information, a clearing house for all scientific information, was established in 1952. It employs 2,300 full time translators and a part time staff of 20,000. Each year the institute publishes nearly 400,000 scientific reports, abstracts from which are put in 13 journals which all scientists get. Of the 1,800 such journals printed in this country, 1,400 are translated.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the severe jolt to our national pride and complacency will awaken our Government to what we have been missing. Our State Department now is moving to re-establish its scientific attaches in major embassies abroad.

Although the official reaction to Sputnik I was "we are not surprised," we were. If we had been reading Russia's frank reports on its scientific projects, we should not have been.

Moroccan Extremists Stir Trouble in Africa

Ceded to Spain by Morocco in 1860 as a haven for Spanish fishermen, the small enclave of Sidi Ifni on Africa's West Coast has become the scene of a nationalist revolt.

The barren 700 square mile territory with a population of about 35,000 was not a part of the Spanish protectorate system and was not occupied until 1934. To complicate matters the area around Ifni is controlled by extremists of the Moroccan force, the Army of Liberation, which previously had been carrying on guerilla warfare against France.

★ ★ ★

When Morocco was declared independent in 1956, King MOHAMMED V tacitly agreed to leave Spain in possession of Ifni. But in August 1957, he asked Spain to relinquish the territory and as soon as he left for his current visit to this country, the extreme nationalists who do not accept the King's rule, gathered together a force of 1,200 townsmen and tribesmen and raided Ifni. They killed Spanish sentries and made off with trucks, mules and supplies.

★ ★ ★

Spain has reinforced the garrison there with paratroopers and Foreign Legionnaires. The irregulars have been driven across the frontier but are in possession of some outposts and fighting has spread southward to the Spanish Sahara.

Last year Spain had agreed secretly to cede Southern Morocco —a Spanish protectorate— to Morocco. But since then this land has become strategically important. Discovery of oil in the area and in the Sahara has changed Franco's mind.

★ ★ ★

While this is a small and perhaps unimportant uprising at the present time, it could set afire all of North Africa and unite the Arabs against the West. Premier NASSER of Egypt already has offered assistance and encouragement to the Moroccan extremists.

Centennial Farm Owners Planning to Get Together

Best Christmas gift: One tied with your heart strings.

Word comes to me from the Michigan Historical Commission at Lansing that only 45 Oakland County farms have received centennial markers. At least 100 are eligible for this distinction and honor. If your farm has been in the same family for 100 years or more, you should have one. Write them about it. I hear that a state association of centennial farm owners is soon to be organized, and our county should have 100 per cent membership. It costs nothing and endures through all the coming years.

Winners in our postage contest will be announced in this column tomorrow.

Genesee County's oldest resident, Miss Jennie Phillips, who died last week at Davison at the age of 103, spent a large part of her life in the Pontiac area. For over 80 years she lived at Fenton.

Executive Secretary of Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts, Ed. Leland, surely believes in getting things started early in the day. According to his notice of this month's meeting, it is to be held at 7:30 a.m.

My good friend and next door neighbor at Holly, Court Hall, has gone through an experience that all of us have wondered how we'd act if it happened to us. Assistant Manager of the Grand Blanc branch of the First State and Savings Bank at Holly, he faced a gun in that holdup Thursday. While Court admits that he never before appreciated that a revolver is so big, his principal concern was caused by the nervousness of the thug, and feared his shaking fingers might pull the trigger. He was more nervous than those being held up.

The other day at Mrs. Paul Maize's home in Davisburg, Mrs. B. B. Kimball was dealt the following bridge hand:

S—A
H—A-K-Q-J-x-x
D—A
C—A-K-Q-x-x

Her opening bid was 7 no trump which she made. Mrs. Ted Koella, Jr., Sylvan Lake, Mrs. Paul Maize, of Davisburg, and Miss Vera Bassett were the other players.

"The sea gulls are coming to Cass Lake," phones Burchard Gohlke who lives on its shore. He counts them in considerable numbers, and wants them added to my already long list of what we have in Oakland County.

Suspended until spring is work on widening the M15 pavement north of Clarkston, according to advices from the Ann Arbor Construction Company which has the contract. For about 10 miles it is being widened from 20 to 24 feet.

The Boys' World Changes

David Lawrence Says:

Our Prestige Seems Flighty Thing

WASHINGTON — What an ephemeral thing "American prestige" seems to be nowadays.

Some American scientists fail in a single test of an instrument that another country has launched successfully, and shafts of criticism and satire are thereupon hurled at the United States of America from every side.

LAWRENCE

Within our own country the Democrats jeer at the Republicans, and the Russian press gleefully reprints the jibes. The British press jeers and snipes at America —and the Russians exultantly rebroadcast it all to the rest of the world. The President's "prestige," it is further said in Europe, has been damaged and he must hasten to Paris to repair it.

Self-criticism is healthy, but hysterical outbursts condemning the United States, either as a government or a people, because a scientific test failed, are a sad commentary on the superficiality of the times.

Certainly it is gratifying to win any contest. But when the Russians concentrated on training paid athletes and won the Olympics last year against our amateurs, the people of the United States didn't hang their heads in shame.

★ ★ ★

The real contrast worthy of attention is not between material objects catapulted through space but between the kind of lives the people of Soviet Russia and the people of America are permitted to live. To pay for their Sputniks, the Soviet rulers have deprived several million people of their food and clothing, as Vice President Nixon noted in his Friday speech.

On the same day that the newspaper headlines told of the ill-fated explosion of the "Vanguard" in Florida, the National Council of the Churches of Christ —the biggest Protestant organization in America—elected as its president a prominent pacifist, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, pastor of a Baptist church in St. Louis.

In his inaugural address, he declared it is "utter folly and futility" to spend 40 billions a year on national defense that never in the world can defend us." He added that the world had succumbed to "a feverish philosophy of bomb for bomb, rocket for rocket, Sputnik for Sputnik."

★ ★ ★

Could such outspoken words criticizing public policy be uttered inside Soviet Russia today? Could the people there choose without restriction their form of worship and speak out against the atheism that dominates their own governmental policies and the Communist Party doctrine?

If prestige in the world is to be evaluated only through materialistic accomplishments and if the yardsticks by which the position of the United States itself abroad is to be measured are solely those of a contest in scientific skills, or even in perfecting weapons of destruction, then there is something very important to be done to change world opinion.

Slowly but surely the real lesson of the Sputniks and the missiles and the H-bombs will have to be learned. It is not the weapons themselves nor their potentiality and range of destruction which is most to be feared, but the hand that triggers their fatal journeys through space. Peoples alone can control impulsive rulers.

The question of armaments would become academic, indeed, if peoples everywhere were in control of their own governments. There would be no tension, no fear of sudden attack, no worry about missiles and Sputniks if the people of Soviet Russia could at will choose their own leaders and could vote freely on national and international policies.

It is no solution, of course, for one side to give up its weapons. Self-preservation invokes a higher law than non-resistance and surrender to slavery. Only by isolating and bypassing the Khrushchevs and the gangsters at his side and by talking directly to the people of Soviet Russia can a program of "massive reconciliation" become effective.

For no matter what are the secrets of outer space, the fact remains that, coming down to earth, the people of Soviet Russia and the peoples of all the rest of the world really want to live in peace.

The Country Parson

"It's just as vicious to run down people with your conversation as with your car."

Dr. Brady Says:

Detect Premature Aging in Fingernails, Skin, Hair

At 20 to 25, the fingernails become brittle. At 25 to 30, the nails lose their normal luster and become vertically ridged. At 30 to 35, the nails look flat or even hollowed out (concave) instead of convex.

DR. BRADY

At the same time her skin and hair betray the cold gradations too — but if she spends enough money and time for it, she can conceal the premature aging of skin and hair a little longer, or at least deceive herself that the aging is not so obvious.

We're talking about malnutrition, the malnutrition that is so widespread in America today. Among women, that is. It occurs in men, too, though far less frequently.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the abnormal preoccupation of women with makeup, hair-dos and nail polish is one factor and their constant "dieting" and calorie-counting is another.

The first factor dulls their consciousness of what's happening to them. The second worsens the nutritional deficiency they had already acquired on everyday refined vitamin-mineral-poor American diet.

Most of these prematurely old women will continue "trying" this and that magic remedy until they develop some irreversible degeneration—degeneration being the inevitable consequence of nutritional deficiency which goes uncorrected beyond a certain limit.

★ ★ ★

How to prevent the malnutrition (nutritional deficiency) responsible for these changes in hair, nails and skin:

CORRECT EATING HABITS

Build your own diet on the pattern or model for the basic health, reduction, regeneration, corrective-protective, rejuvenation diet described on P. 42 of The 7 Keys to Vite (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

To the extent that your own diet departs from the basic health diet, you need a regular dietery supplement to keep your daily vitamin-mineral intake up to the health level.

It takes nearly four months to grow a nail, 3½ months if your nutrition is good, 5 months if your nutrition is poor.

These pamphlets may help you to improve the condition of your nails, skin and hair:

Wheat to Eat; Young Folks and Old Folks; Nutritional Deficiency Anemia — (The Gray Sickness); Acne—(Blackheads and Pimples); The Red Blood Vitamin—(B-12).

For any one pamphlet, send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Limited Parking Is Bad for Downtown Business'

I notice by the paper that parking is now prohibited on some downtown streets from 3 to 6 p. m.

★ ★ ★

Merchants are complaining about lack of business, but what about their customers being driven away by "no parking" or 15 minute parking at the center of our business district? But they take parking off for public cars, and taxis are given the best parking in the business district.

★ ★ ★

It's no wonder people go to outlying shopping centers. Many of those people would be spending their money in downtown stores if parking were not limited.

'Next Time Let's Do It, Talk After'

As I write this our "moon" launching has been postponed about five times and it's indefinite now when it will be sent up. I hope it will be successfully launched by the time this is printed, but it's beginning to look like a big joke. Officials gave some silly sounding reasons why it wasn't kept quiet until launched, but they didn't convince me. The whole episode is making a monkey of the U. S. and it will really be great if it doesn't work after all this. Next time let's just go ahead and do it and talk later.

Disgusted

'Christmas Spirit as It Should Be'

A recent letter sounded scornful that we're more concerned with Christmas than with war. It should be no other way. How many hundreds of wars have been fought since the birth of Christ, and yet Christmas has survived them all. It has been the religious spirit Christmas represents and teaches that has sustained people all through the ages of chaos and war. If we were to abandon Christmas to plan for war, we are indeed lost.

Good Will to Men

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

'Award Fuss Is Writers' Fault'

The fuss about the most valuable player award isn't about Mantle and Williams. It concerns two writers who placed Williams ninth and tenth on their ballots. If that isn't spite, I don't know what is.

The Yankees would have finished no worse than second without Mantle, but the Red Sox without Williams might have wound up in the American Association. And about the statement that my boy isn't able to play on a Yankee team. All I'd like to know is did you ever attend a major league game?

'Won't They Admit Their Error Now?'

The American Medical Association has now endorsed fluoridation 100 per cent "on the basis of an exhaustive new study." As I recall, the fight against fluoridation in Pontiac was headed by a lawyer who lives in Waterford and doesn't have a vote in Pontiac, and by a physician who lived in Detroit. As good sportsmen, why don't they admit their errors and now lead the fight to save our children's teeth?

Don't Omit Flowers at Funerals

Walter presents an interesting case. . Do you think the $36 for the Cancer Fund did more good than was lost in inspirational value through lack of maybe $200 worth of beautiful flowers at the funeral? Beware of the economy argument about funerals! And notice the hazard in cremation! Death should be regarded as our greatest graduation ceremony so don't strip it bare of all its idealism!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-367: Walter Edwards, aged 42, was president of the Ohio Funeral Directors Association, when I addressed it recently.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, a prominent citizen in Toledo passed away not long ago and I handled the funeral," Walter began.

"His family insisted that nobody send flowers. Instead, they suggested that his friends contribute to the Cancer Fund.

"But the total amount given to the Cancer Fund was only $36. And the lack of flowers certainly made the funeral a drab event."

PENNY WISE; POUND FOOLISH

Many good people in America have been agitating to omit flowers at all funerals and also inject still more efficiency by cremating the bodies.

They mean well, but so did Christ's Apostles who chided the woman for pouring the costly ointment over Jesus. Those Apostles said it could better have been sold and the proceeds given to the poor.

"The poor ye have with you always," Jesus remonstrated, as he approved the woman's farewell gesture of devotion.

Death is our most important graduation ceremony here on Earth. It far transcends our diploma from grade school of Senior High, or even college.

And at those events, we dress our children most attractively. We also present bouquets to the girl graduates.

"Flowers are the sweetest things God ever made and forgot to put a soul into," said Henry Ward Beecher.

★ ★ ★

So flowers from time immemorial, have been used as an inspiration to the bereaved.

To omit flowers, thus strips part of the idealism from our final graduation ceremony. It leaves a drab, depressing atmosphere that actually hampers the clergyman who delivers the funeral address.

WHAT ABOUT CREMATION?

To advocate cremation as another means of saving money and producing more efficiency, is usually not wise.

First of all, if we want to make a funeral simply a demonstration of pure economy, then why not resort to Hitler's coarse method and just bulldoze a trench into which we could dump the carcasses?

Or, better yet, sell the bodies to a local rendering plant so we might net $5 from the fats therein which could go into making soap.

But pinching pennies is not the primary purpose of a funeral. The latter is intended to inspire the living friends and relatives. A funeral should give us renewed fervor for leading a moral life.

★ ★ ★

The dignity and respect accorded our dead are also evidences of our standard of civilization.

Cremation may have some merit, especially in India or other regions where disease epidemics are common.

But the act of burning a body in a fiery furnace, as for purposes of cremation, causes a bad psychological effect on youth.

For cremation suggests lack of proper respect for human personality.

True, the dead body no longer houses the personality or soul. But it still is popularly regarded as the symbol of the former personality who inhabited that body.

★ ★ ★

So when children or teenagers see us treat dead bodies callously, that very fact subconsciously encourages them to show similar disrespect for living bodies.

Thus, it indirectly predisposes to juvenile delinquency, assaults and murder.

Be grateful that funerals have now become such beautiful and inspiring events.

And if a talented clergyman will give us a breath-taking glimpse into the Great Beyond, during his 15-minute funeral sermon, then that funeral may do more good for the assembled audience than all his 52 Sunday sermons the rest of the year.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Pledge on Iwo Jima Fulfilled Yesterday

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — A pledge made by four men 12 years ago on Iwo Jima came true yesterday when a minister flew 3,000 miles to officiate at the wedding of his former Army tent mate.

Robert C. Hagopian, Watertown town treasurer, was married to Miss Agnes Dadekian of Arlington by the Rev. James Forrester of the Sunnyside Baptist Church, Inglewood, Calif.

Hagopian served as a legal officer and the minister as chaplain at the 20th Air Force combat staging center at Iwo Jima. The two were tent mates there for 21 months.

Two other former Army men who had promised to be ushers when Hagopian married were on hand for the ceremonies. They are Prof. Sidney Lees of Newton and Paul M. Henry of Natick.

Repeats Views on Oppenheimer

Former AEC Member Neutral on Restoring Access to Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray says he is neither for nor against any decision to give Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer renewed access to government secrets.

Murray said yesterday he wanted to clear up what he termed "some public misunderstanding" over a Nov. 21 comment that he "would not be at all displeased" if Oppenheimer were reinstated for work on satellite and missile programs.

★ ★ ★

Murray said in a statement that any decision in the case of the controversial atomic scientist would have to be made on its own merits in the light of new situations.

"For me," Murray continued, "the essential thing is that my name should not be alleged in advocacy of the decision, or in opposition to it."

Oppenheimer was wartime director of the Los Alamos, N. M., atom bomb project. He was denied further access to government secrets in 1954 after the AEC voted 4-1 that, although loyal, he had held himself above security restrictions.

Murray, although voting with the AEC majority, said then he could not agree that Oppenheimer was loyal. Fidelity to security regulations is a test of loyalty, Murray said, and Oppenheimer was not faithful to the regulations and in that sense was disloyal.

In his new statement, Murray said, "I have no doubt today that my verdict was justly rendered. I have no doubt that the reasons I advanced for it were valid.

★ ★ ★

". . . Authorities who are competent to judge the exigencies of the new situation may feel it necessary or useful to recall Dr. Oppenheimer to government service. It would not be appropriate for me to express displeasure with this decision if it were to be made."

Murray is now a consultant to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

'Single Women Love Babies Too'

Joan Crawford Angry at Adoption Procedures

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Joan Crawford, who has been criticized for being a woman second, and a grade-A-don't-touch movie queen first, looked me straight in both eyes.

In a glamorous, flip-voiced, way she was annoyed.

"It makes you furious, you know. Breaks your heart. There are so many unwanted children in this world—so many sad ones. But they make it hell for an unmarried woman to get them."

Miss Crawford, who has four adopted offspring, whipped a zephyr of white chiffon over her knee and made stabbing gestures with an eyebrow pencil.

"I do not approve!" she said. "The adoption houses say they have to check up on the home, see if the man is a good prover. . .

WHO CARES

"I say, who cares if the home has an annual income of $100,000 or not. They have love. Single women often have more love."

Joan adopted her eldest daughter Christina between marriages (she's had four, and of course trusts her current husband, Alfred N. Steele, president of Pepsi-Cola). And although she feels that a father is a good thing for a child to have around the house, he is not a necessity.

"I was born knowing how to hold a baby, and baby a baby, and carry it. Intuitive? Oh, sure it is." Yet a woman who isn't lucky enough to find a good husband may be the most intuitive of all—and lose out.

Miss Crawford was dressing for a party. Silently, she went about the business of widening the full and famous lips; and then, in answer to a question about why she so badly wanted children though single:

"You'd think I'd hate 'em. Do you know that from the age of nine to the age of 13, I took care of 30 children? I was working my way through a school, and I spent most of those years cooking, making beds and blowing noses all day long for kids from age two up."

She put down the lipstick and looked in the mirror appraisingly.

"Didn't make me hate 'em," she said. "Made 'em a habit."

Still in her negligee, Joan donned a frothy suggestion of a hat: White lilies of the valley dangling from the derriere of her currently red-gold coiffure. "I'm practically dressed," she said, disappearing into another room of her Plaza Hotel suite and emerging a brief time later in a spectacular black crepe that confirmed the movie queen legend.

She was heading for a press party, at which it was announced that she has accepted the N. Y. chairmanship of WAIF (World Adoption International Fund), a volunteer outfit that finds homes anywhere else in the world for children who can not find homes and families in their own countries.

The box-office take from the Dec. 11 premier of her new film, "Wild Is The Wind," will go to the cause.

"Don't ask me anything technical about WAIF," she said airily. "I haven't got a grip on it yet. All I know is that it helps kids." And she shrugged.

All that glitters in Miss Crawford is not glamor.

Santa Claus Remains One of History's Most Mysterious Characters

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Feature Writer

Paunchy, bearded, florid - faced Santa Claus, the benevolent bagman who makes a business out of dropping down people's chimneys on one night of every year, has remained one of history's most mysterious, elusive characters.

Thousands upon thousands of words have been written about him, but he has never submitted to an interview.

NO PHOTOS

Artists, sculptors, cartoonists and window dressers by the hundreds have attempted to capture his likeness for posterity, but no recognizable photograph is known to exist of him.

Children by the million have witnessed his incredible sleight of hand feats on Christmas morning, but he has never been apprehended in the act of breaking and entering to distribute the wares of his workshop.

The exact location of this workshop, a massive underground toy factory operating night and day on year-round basis somewhere in the frozen wastes of the arctic, has never been discovered, despite repeated polar expeditions by Peary, Amundsen, Ellsworth and Byrd.

BOOKS NEVER EXAMINED

Where does Santa recruit his help? Are they union or non-union? Who supplies the raw materials for his immense foundries and assembly lines? Has this top-of-the-world Christmas cartel long ago mastered the secrets of the atom? Or does it run on solar energy in a land where half the year there is no sun?

What right does he have to monopolize the minds and hearts of people for one whole day every year, depriving them of their long treasured hates and prejudices? Who gives him safe conduct down the chimneys of the world?

These are questions that never have been answered but will crop up again as he sets out on his nocturnal mission once more this Christmas Eve.

Travelling under aliases like Kris Kringle, Jolly Old Elf, Good St. Nick and just plain Santa, this undercover man has tested the patience and credulity of millions since time immemorial.

COME AGAIN

Does he really exist Will he come again this year?

Te known facts about this most wanted and most sought after character are slim and sketchy.

He has been described as being short (perhaps a midget), fat (some liken his abdomen to a gelatinous substance), rosy cheeked; is given to fits of prolonged and immoderate laughter, drives his eight reindeer sled in a reckless fashion, and has been occasionally observed smoking a long Dutch pipe.

The latest reports are that he wears gaudy red trousers, jacket and mittens, trimmed in white fur, a black leather belt with gold buckle, and black patent leather boots. His most distinguishing characteristics are a long flowing white beard and a ruddy, bulbous nose. He is said to be about middle aged, and has been for several centuries.

HAS ULTIMATE WEAPON

He is known to be armed (with a bottomless bag of presents) and dangerous (in his insistence on spreading good cheer in every direction even where none is wanted).

An all points bulletin has been broadcast for his speedy apprehension, and this year steps are being taken to trace his movements as he crosses the radar network of the Distant Early Warning system in Canada.

Object: to wish him a Merry Christmas.

Persons having information as to his whereabouts are urged to hang their stockings by the mantle, try not to panic, get a good night's sleep and await further developments.

Highway Date to Be Set Soon

Mackie Says Estimate Including County Xway Almost Finished

Proposed date for construction of the Oakland County Expressway (new U. S. 10) will be made public soon, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has indicated.

"The department's year-by-year breakdown of the five-year construction program dates are almost completed and will be ready for announcement soon," Mackie said.

★ ★ ★

.."The breakdown will indicate which projects our engineering schedules call for letting in each year and should prove to be an aid, not only to the highway department in its future right-of-way acquisition and planning, but also to local governmental units and the highway construction industry as a whole."

In line with the stepped-up highway program, Mackie said, a target of more than $200,000,000 in construction has been set for next year.

A month ago, Mackie estimated that the new U. S. 10 could be under contract within two years.

As proposed by the highway department, the new road would be a four-lane, limited-access expressway running from U. S. 23 at the southeast corner of Flint, past Pontiac to the Detroit River.

Only the sections from Flint south to Eleven Mile road and from the Detroit River north to the Edsel Ford Expressway are projected in Mackie's first five-year plan.

★ ★ ★

The connecting link, joining both ends of the 60 mile road, should be one of the first projects in the second five-year plan, beginning in 1962, he has said.

The first Oakland County section will cost an etimated $48 million and probably will be routed east of the present U. S. 10 (Woodward avenue); although the exact route will be negotiated with local communities.

It is projected that the road will pass through the northeast portion of Pontiac, along a route already approved by the city for the Michigan Turnpike Authority.

Lecturer to Show Movies of Portugal

The Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club will present Karl Robinson, one of the country's outstanding film-lecture producers, and his "Portugal, Madeira and the Azores," this Tuesday night in Pontiac High School auditorium.

This will be third in a series of seven travelogues in this year's Travel and Adventure series. Robinson has spent 25 years living and working in foreign fields. This program is expected to be one of the series' finest on human relations.

Robinson's films include generous portions of the scenic spots, but his emphasis is on people and things of special human interest. A live sense of humor flavors both his narrative and his photography, it is said. The program is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Cub Pack 9 Gives Tree to Youth Home

Cub Scout Pack 9, Webster School, presented a fully-decorated Christmas tree to the Oakland County Children's Home this week.

Each cub in the pack helped to decorate the tree with ornaments and tinsel at a meeting, and awards were given to individual members. George Putnam led the boys in Christmas Carols.

She Jumps From Car Before Train Hits It

SODA SPRINGS, Idaho (AP)— A 27-year-old mother of four jumped from her car yesterday at a railroad crossing in this southern Idaho town just before a freight train ground the vehicle into scrap.

Mrs. Eldon Perkins of Soda Springs saw the freight approaching an intersection near the town. She slammed on the brakes, but they didn't hold on the icy street. The auto slid onto the tracks and Mrs. Perkins jumped.

The train demolished the car and carried it nearly 200 feet down the track.

President of Carnegie Says We Are Facing Intellectual Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Carnegie Institution of Washington says the United States is facing a new kind of war—one to be fought with intellectual weapons.

The institution said this last night in making public the annual report of its president, Dr. Caryl P. Haskins, and accounts of current research by Carnegoe departments in various scientific fields ranging from astronomy to studies of the earth's interior.

★ ★ ★

The institution's statement said "the recent demonstrations of Russian scientific and technical prowess underscore the importance" of furthering fundamental research in the natural sciencies.

"There can no longer be doubt that the challenge confronting the United States is as urgent as it was in 1941," the statement said. "The challenge now, as then, is to total war.

★ ★ ★

"But this war is of a very different kind, to be fought with very different weapons. It will not be a war of clean-cut, short-run crisis, to be resolved by obvious victory or defeat. It may not be a war fought on battlefields, or with what we think of as the normal weapons of warfare. It may last a generation or more, and at times we may even forget that it is being fought."

★ ★ ★

The weapons in this war, said the institution, "will be total stamina and intellectual tone and capability."

"Ultimate victory and peace," it said, "will be won and maintained in large measure through the life of the mind.

★ ★ ★

"The future may well go to that nation which shows the greatest appreciation and respect for intellectual values and accords them a high place in its society. This is especially true in the field of research in the natural sciences. . . ."

Viet Nam Police Chief Gets 10-Year Sentence

SAIGON (AP)—Nguyen Van Ton, former director of the South Viet Nam national police, was sentenced today to 10 years at hard labor for turning over a large quantity of arms and vehicles to the Binh Xuyen rebels.

Ton was arrested in May 1955. President Ngo Dinh Diem's government crushed the Binh Xuyen rebellion.

'Like Threading Needle'

Air Force to Try Regaining Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Like threading a needle."

The Air Force says that's how it will be when one of its jets tries to fly at least 1,144 m.p.h. this week and wrest back from Britain the world's record over a measured straightaway course.

★ ★ ★

The assault will be made Tuesday, weather permitting, in a flight out of Edwards Air Force Base on the Mojave Desert.

Maj. Adrian E. Drew, 37—Korea combat veteran now with the 481st Fighter-Bomber Squadron, Bergstrom AFB, Austin, Tex. — will make the try in a high-tailed twin-jet, a McDonnell F101A Voodoo.

★ ★ ★

He must traverse the 10.1-mile measured "speed trap" in each direction, his official speed to be the average of the two flights.

He's allowed an 80-mile approach in each direction to stabilize on course. Crossing the trap, he mustn't vary more than 164 feet above or below his chosen altitude.

★ ★ ★

Timers on their backs on the ground, using two aligned wires on poles overhead as their sight, will click stop watches as he enters and leaves the trap. A stationary camera on the ground and a crystal clock will help with timing. A camera in the plane will snap four pictures per second of the altimeter and other instruments.

All this hair-splitting precision is to satisty the National Aeronautical Assn. NAA represents Federation Aeronautique Internationale, international arbiter of records.

★ ★ ★

Great Britain set the current record March 10, 1956, when L. P. Twiss piloted a Fairey Delta 1,132.136 m.p.h.

Pravda Ridicules U.S. for Moon Failure

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today continued to ridicule U. S. efforts to launch a space satellite—but entirely through reprints of comment from abroad.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper published criticisism from papers in Berlin, Peiping, London, New York and Paris.

Pravda's only comment was in its headline: "American Prestige Has Fallen Lower Than Ever Before."

French Report Killing 227 Algerian Rebels

ALGIERS (AP)—Military authorities claimed today that French forces killed 227 Algerian rebels and executed four on terrorism charges over the weekend.

The only French losses reported were one man killed and two wounded in fighting near the Tunisian frontier.

Couple Gets Unruffled About Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — "A man," said Murgatroyd suddenly, "is only as old as his wife feels."

★ ★ ★

"Then I'm getting you a wheelchair for Christmas," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, laying aside her embroidery. "If this is going to be one of those evenings when you're in your philosopher mood, I think I'll address those Christmas cards you were going to do last night."

"Procrastination," mused Murgatroyd, "is the thief of time. Yet time is money. Therefore procrastination is the thief of money, which is ridiculous. Most men make their money while putting off the things they really want to do."

★ ★ ★

"That's one mistake you never made," murmured Mrs. Murgatroyd, busy with stamps, cards and envelopes. "You didn't botner to make any money in the first place. I wonder if last year's address is still right for the Nibbicks, or did he take that job in Pasadena?"

"Just address it in care of his psychiatrist," said Murgatroyd. "A psychiatrist is a man you can afford to go to because you worked so hard you need a psychiatrist."

"Some people," said Mrs. Murgatroyd with dark emphasis, "would go to a psychiatrist simply for the chance to lie down on a couch. The least you could do is get up and stamp these envelopes."

"Suffering," meditated Murgatroyd, "refines the soul. If not the heel."

"Why must Christmas gifts arrive by Dec. 25? Why must everybody celebrate Christmas the same day anyhow? Why not a dozen Christmasses? A hundred?"

★ ★ ★

"You still wouldn't be organized for any of them," said Mrs. Murgatroyd. "I am now composing a Christmas message to our old friends, the Klingheisers. Is there any tidbit of wit and wisdom which you wish to contribute"

"Tell them," said Murgatroyd drowsily, "that Scrooge wouldn't have thrown in the towel so soon if he'd had Christmas cards to write."

"If HE had them to write!" shrieked Mrs. Murgatroyd. "Well, I like that! Here I sit, writing my fingers to the bone, while you—"

★ ★ ★

"Z Z Z Zzzz," came from Murgatroyd. Which is, after all, the only way to end a conversation with a woman.

Another $100 Adds to Bulge in Pot-O-Gold

It's getting closer and closer to Christmas and still no one has found the solution that will relieve old Pot-O-Gold of its increasing bulge. A winner for this week will find his efforts worth $1,400, not bad pay for the little time it requires. You still have time to get in on the big money before those Christmas bills start pouring in, so get busy right now.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

6-Nation Pact to Aid Emigrant Workers

ROME (UP)—The six nations in the European coal-steel pool today signed a treaty guaranteeing broad social security protection for emigrant workers.

★ ★ ★

The convention was hailed by ministers of the six countries as a step toward eventual free circulation of labor in Western Europe.

The convention applies to all classes of immigrant workers transferring from one to another of the six countries.

★ ★ ★

It provides sickness benefits, disability benefits, old age pensions, unemployment benefits, and benefits for members of the families of emigrant workers even though these dependants remain in the worker's home country.

The benefits to the emigrant workers, are, in the main, comparable to those due native workers.

The "staked pains" of the western United States are so named because the pains were so fat it was necessary to drive stakes into the ground to guide covered wagons.

Liner Queen Mary Sails—49 Hours Late

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UP)—The liner Queen Mary left today for New York with 850 passengers, 49 hours behind schedule.

Departure was postponed first because of her late arrival on the eastbound passage and then by high winds in the Southampton area. Cunard line officials said they expected the ship to make up a day of the lost time by a quick turn-around in New York.

Hibernation is almost—but not quite—death. A woodchuck, for example, normally breathes about 30 times a minute. When excited, the rate jumps to 100 times a minute. But in hibernation one breath in five minutes suffices. Its pulse drops from an average of 80 to four or five beats a minute.

Farm Chemicals New

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Between 80 and 90 per cent of the total volume of agricultural chemicals used today were unavailable in their present form in the early 1940's. When America entered World War II only 50 basic chemicals were used on United States farms; now there are more than 200 in use.

Dear Abby—

If You Can't Say Anything Nice, Don't Talk at All Is Her Advice!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My sister's child accidentally swallowed 24 aspirins and her husband wouldn't budge from the TV set because he was watching the World Series. My sister doesn't drive so she called me, hysterical, as I live right and I drove them to the hospital.

ABBY

The boy got well but before she asked me not to say anything I told a few of our relatives about how her husband acted.

The rest of the family won't have anything to do with him now and both my sister and her husband are down on me for telling. My sitser called me "Big Mouth" and other insulting names. Was I in the wrong?

HELEN B.

DEAR HELEN: Your sister's husband didn't deserve to be shielded from this one—but in family matters, "If you can't say anything real nice—please don't talk at all, is my advice."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know this is going to sound very funny to you but it isn't funny to us. We live in a neighborhood where there is a little boy who is so terrible you don't dare let kids outside who are smaller than he is.

He doesn't listen to anybody and even his own mother is afraid of him. He bit our daughter last winter so deep we had to take her to the doctor. What can we do with a boy like thi?

AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: The boy's parents should have this child examined (physically and mentally) by a specialist. If they refuse, there is a law-enforcing body (local police) whose duty it is to protect citizens.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I laughed as loud as anybody when I heard the joke about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter. I quit laughing when I found out the traveling salesman was my husband.

He was working in the Dakotas when he got this young girl in trouble. We have three children of our own (one in college) and my husband is 49.

He says he isn't even sure he is responsible as he only saw her twice. The law is on her side. If you can help us out of this, you are a genius.

SALESMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Only a lawyer can help your husband out of this one. Your salesman-husband may have another mouth to feed, so he had better start making more calls—and fewer stops.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am happily married and have two children. Before I married my husband I was engaged to a man who gave me a one-karat diamond ring. I still have the ring in my drawer, although I never saw him again after he broke the engagement on me.

Believe me, I have no feeling for him and its been eight years. I have no diamond ring and want to know if you think it's okay if I take the ring out and start wearing it.

My husband says he doesn't care. Is it proper? It's too beautiful to leave in the drawer.

ME.

DEAR YOU: If your husband doesn't object and you want to wear it, I see no reason why you don't. I suggest you have it reset.

★ ★ ★

CONVIDENTIAL TO BEVS: Don't be a fool. Let him drool.

★ ★ ★

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Give 16-Year-Old Son Course in Driving as Holiday Present

By DR. DOROTHY WHIPPLE

Do you have a boy nearing 16 or just past his 16th birthday? If you do, there has probably been a lot of pressure to be permitted to drive the family car. You cannot put it off much longer.

★ ★ ★

Why not get him a learner's permit and a paid-up course of driving lessons for Christmas?

Every American boy wants to drive a car, and almost every one will. It is part of our cultural pattern.

THE BEST COURSE

It is much better to encourage your boy to be a good safe driver than to forbid his driving and set the stage for unwise transgressions.

★ ★ ★

Christmas is a wonderful time to show your boy that you recognize his growing up and have faith in his developing responsibility.

He will live up to your high opinion of him. He will take pride in being the best of possible drivers. You may have to watch yourself that you are as good as he is!

★ ★ ★

Insist on absolute observance of the law. Do not let him take the wheel of the car until he has a learner's permit, and no permit until he is old enough by law to have one.

NEVER A BURDEN

Almost every 16-year-old boy itches to drive. That's why the tedious hours of practice are looked forward to eagerly, never felt as a burden.

★ ★ ★

Once the real driver's license is acquired he may express a sudden desire for long Sunday trips. Go with him and let him drive a good deal of the time.

Let him talk about the car, the road, and his driving. Praise his careful driving, encourage him to prove that teenagers make the best drivers.

★ ★ ★

When he finally is able to take the car out on his own the question of car insurance comes up. Unfortunately the rates for this kind of insurance are considerably higher when a teenager is one of those permitted to drive.

LET YOUTH PAY

No car should ever be on the road without adequate insurance. This matter should be thoroughly discussed with a teenager wanting to drive. It is my feeling that the additional cost of the car insurance is an expense the boy himself should pay.

★ ★ ★

Let him get some out-of-school and weekend jobs and earn the money that is needed to have him covered by insurance. This adds to his feeling of responsibility about the car.

So at Christmas time give your boy the first step in learning to drive.

He will appreciate your recognition of his growing maturity, feel warm and friendly toward you and most likely do everything in his power to warrant your confidence in him.

Parents Implant Traits in Kiddies at Early Age

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

The adage that "the sins of the father shall be visited upon the children" strikes closer to home than most of us realize.

★ ★ ★

Psychologist Bethuel G. Gross of Chicago believes the "spittin' image" in the cradle becomes the carbon copy of whatever neuroses are bothering his parents. And he says:

"The child's emotional tone and concepts are pretty well set by the time he reaches 5 or 6."

TRAITS AFFECTED

Compassion for other people, integrity, respect for authority and emotional control are traits usually affected, Gross says. But how can such thoughtful points hold any meaning for a mind too young to think?

★ ★ ★

Studies show that from birth to crawling, a child makes a leap virtually from vegetable to human — with the outer world depicted totally by the parents.

Whether this eye-opening is heartening or frightening can color the child's outlook toward the world in general. Gross says it lays the foundation, friendly or hostile, for later thought.

★ ★ ★

Gross says some children are "sentenced" to live with parents "whose behavior patterns are motivated by fear, envy, bitterness, prejudice." Others, he adds, are disturbed by parents wavering between too much discipline and too little.

DAMAGING FAULT

Parental inconsistency, Gross says, is one of the most damaging faults.

★ ★ ★

"When one day it's this," he says, "and the next day it's that—kids can form no pattern of orderliness."

This is the extreme of no discipline, he says, while the other extreme is too much discipline—"overemphasis on authority which doesn't allow a child the freedom of thinking or developing initiative."

★ ★ ★

"Emotionally adjusted parents," Gross says, "make for emotionally adjusted children, can hold them in good stead the rest of their lives."

Girdles Hit New Low This Year

NEW YORK (INS)—Girdles are at a new low this season—right down to the knee.

★ ★ ★

It's all for the sake of sleekness in slacks — and it' a mighty good idea. If you bulge, slacks are no asset—especially from a rear view. But with a long-leg panty girdle, you can be as slithery as Marlene Dietrich.

According to the Corset and Bra Association, these longleg girdles are also a very smart idea if you want to try the chemise silhouette. The chemise sort of clings to your body when you move, and a girdle that provides an unbroken line of hip and thigh is desirable.

★ ★ ★

The new girdles which look come in lengths from 17 to 31 inches from waist down. The shorter lengths stop at mid-thigh or just over the knee, for wear under pedal pushers or matadors. The longer ones are for slacks.

They're made in white or black, sizes small, medium or large—wriggle-in styles only.

Lingerie Offers Triple Luxury

Lingerie that triples in luxury — the luxury of lace, the luxury of high fashion—is now available at modest cost.

One such sheath petticoat, made of honeycombed nylon lace, lined with nylon tricot for opacity, has matching briefs.

To keep this fragile-looking but sturdy lingerie clean and shapely, wash often in lukewarm soap or detergent suds. After rinsing, let it drip dry and the design will puff up like new—no ironing needed.

Sleepwear Comes in Gleaming White

Speaking of a white Christmas: Some of the prettiest new sleeping togs are snowy white. When you're gift shopping, look for the new pantaloon pajamas, ruffled and beaded with satin ribbon—and also the white corduroy peignors.

They are so pretty, so washable, so economical. A drip-dry gift will warm any female's heart!

Women Come Into Their 'Own'

Surpass U. S. Men in Wealth, Hold Controlling Power

NEW YORK (INS) — It's not the meek who inherit the earth any more, it's the women.

Women are the biggest property holders in the United States, largely because they outlive men, Milton C. Lightner of the National Association of Manufacturers said today.

Lightner, an NAM vice president, told the women's session at the 62nd Congress of American Industry that women now own three-quarters of all of America's assets.

THEY'RE 'LOADED'

"This includes 100 billion dollars in common and preferred stock, almost 60 billion savings accounts and roughly 35 billion in government bonds," he said.

In addition, 75 per cent of all life insurance benefits, or about 15 billion dollars a year, goes to widows, and widows pay nearly 80 per cent of all inheritance taxes.

Men like to refer to property as "being in my wife's name," Lightner noted, but the truth is that women own the property.

In spite of their financial holdings, women apparently don't want to run or control big corporations, Lightner said. But they are "in control" as buyers of what the corporations offer — dominating by what they buy such production as refrigerators, stoves, toasters and dishwashers.

THEY CHOOSE

"The choice of a new automobile or new home is largely your responsibility," Lightner told the all-female audience.

The NAM official urged women, because of their financial interest, to take a bigger part in community and government affairs. He pointed out:

"You are the prineipal owners of business, the chief purchasing agents and the largest property holders. Never before in history has the future of a great nation depended more on its women."

Yule Concert to Feature Music Through the Ages

The combined voices of 720 high school vocalists will open Sunday's annual Community Christmas Concert in Pontiac Central High School boys' gymnasium with the 17th Century Latin hymn "O Come, All Ye Faithful." As a contrast they will then sing Benjamin Britten's modern Ceremony of Carols, "Deo Gracias."

★ ★ ★

Singing "When the Star Shines" and the familiar "O Holy Night" by Adam will be the combined girls' glee clubs under the direction of Edward Banghart. "Noel! Noel!" by Gevaert and "Behold That Star" will be sung by the boys glee clubs under the direction of Mrs. Doreen Voltmann.

SONGS OF MANY ERAS

The high school A Cappella Choir, with 110 voices, will sing selections from various musical periods. "O Magnum Mysterium" by Vittoria, a 17th Century composer, tells of the wondrous Nativity.

"Mi Y Malel" by M. Ravino is translated "Who Can Retell?" and recounts the ancient times in Israel when Judas Maccabeus led the faithful band. This is a favorite song for the Chanukah celebration.

Olaf Christianson's "Lullaby on Christmas Eve" and the Darby arrangement of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" complete this group.

The audience will have an opportunity to participate by singing the familiar carols which will be directed by David Stimac, music instructor at Madison Junior High School.

COMBINED VOICES

Completing the afternoon program, the high school musicians, Pontiac Women's Chorus, MacDowell Male Chorus and former members of the PCHS Vocal Department will join in performing two Bach chorales and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah."

Critic Sees U.S. Run by Women

Hendrik de Leeuw Claims He Likes Gals, but---

NEW YORK (INS)—Hendrik de Leeuw claims he's "very fond" of women even though he's just written a book calling them "bossy, over-bearing and masculinized."

★ ★ ★

"I'm just a critic," he protested in defense of his volume "Woman, the Dominant Sex."

VETERAN HUSBAND

The mild - mannered, short, balding De Leeuw adds in self-defense:

"I've been a husband for 28

★ ★ ★

But his happy marriage doesn't keep him for clobbering U. S. women for "tolerating father as a second-class citizen," for turning America into "a woman's country" and for "raising children on artificiality . . . in which television seems to influence more than religion."

De Leeuw, author of some 20 books and hundreds of magazine and newspaper articles, claims he has not set out to make woman a nasty word.

★ ★ ★

"There are many things wrong with women," he says, "but women have also made great achievements. There's a lot wrong with men too — in fact a lot of the problems involving women are caused by men too busy and too lazy to be masters in their own house and fathers to their own children."

SEVERAL REASONS

The U. S. is now a matriarchy, De Leeuw adds, because of several things.

Because women insist on the material goods the hucksters tell them they ought to have. They hire a babysitter and take a job for extra money to keep up with the Joneses. Then they needle their husbands because they have to work.

★ ★ ★

"Husbands are greatly at fault—they treat their homes like a place to eat and sleep; they're too tired and too lazy when they come home from the office to keep their wives from being bossy.

"A man should believe that home is his castle and that he has authority; he gringe home the bacon and he ought to say how it should be cooked."

De Leeuw believes the job of getting the next generation "straightened out" must start with educating the parents of today.

★ ★ ★

"There must be less emphasis on material things," De Leeuw adds. "I don't mean taking the gadgets out of the kitchen—I mean that women should be smart enough to know that sometimes they can keep a happier husband by keeping an older car.

"There must be a return to the old-fashioned things, both trips to the woodshed by father and child and pretty compliments for women by their husbands. It would make everybody happier."

Must Have Front Seat When Riding

Guest Who Suffers With Car-Sickness Isn't Rude

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last Sunday my husband and I were invited to go for a drive with friends. When they called for us at our house the wife was seated in front next to her husband and my husband and I were expected to sit on the back seat.

"I know from past experience that when I sit on the back seat of a car I get carsick after I have been riding for awhile, but it doesn't seem to happen when I sit up front.

"As we were going for a long drive and I didn't want to run the risk of getting sick, I asked the wife if I could sit up front and told her why. My husband thinks I was entirely out of order and showed very bad manners. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: As there was a real danger that sitting on the back seat would make you car-sick you were certainly justified in asking if you could sit in front. Under ordinary circumstances, however, a guest sits where her hosts ask her to without question.

"Dear Mrs. Post: After the wedding recessional, who follows the bridal party out of church and then who comes next, etc?"

Answer: The bride's mother goes first, with the head usher accompanying her up the aisle. The bridegroom's mother follows immediately with the second usher. After this the fathers and other members of the immediate families leave.

After the families and fewest intimate friends have gone down the aisle, the ribbons are removed from the other pews allowing people to leave as they do after any other church service.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is considered bad taste to sign Christmas cards and also to address the envelopes in red ink?"

Answer: Ordinarily red ink is taboo, but it is very gay and quite suitable to the spirit of Christmas.

My husband says that I am absolutely merciless because whenever I meet people with an idea I back them into a corner and wring it from them for my column.

* * *

I must admit that I sometimes do this. As a matter of fact, I met Judith McCann at a small dinner party in New York not long ago. Miss McCannis the well-known designer of earrings and I did ask some questions.

I asked Judith McCann which types of earrings she advises for certain types of faces. Since the need for upward lines is almost universal, she feels that the earring with an upward sweep is good for about every face.

The only exception to this is the face with a prominent jaw. Long earrings that fall from the lobe are excellent for this type because they soften the jaw.

* * *

Judith feels that a small woman can wear large earrings just as dramatically as a tall one unless her features are too small. The features are the test. If one feature is large, the eyes or the nose, for instance, she can put on large, dashing designs and not be overwhelmed.

THE DOME SHAPE

For a face that is not wide enough at the eye section she thinks the dome shape is most flattering.

* * *

She differs with the past conround face should not wear round earrings. Miss McCann feels that the woman with a round face can wear any shape, round included, if the earrings are flat, not domes. If ears are so large as to be a should be longer than usual.

This attractive woman likes to wear enormous earrings and started designing some for herself. However, no existing device would hold them on. That was how she hit upon her revolutionary idea of suspending the earrings, not from the lobe but from the curve of the ear above the lobe, and holding the earring in place with a little wire behind the ear.

This type earring has proven very popular because it is so comfortable, and women who could not keep these ornaments on because of the shape or size of their ear lobes can now do so.

* * *

I had never thought before that plastic surgery and earrings have anything in common but I can see how this is true. This comparatively new type of earring starts higher on the face since it is suspended from the curve of the ear rather than the lobe. This does away with the danger of having earrings aging because they emphasize the jaw and chinline. These actually give the face a lift.

* * *

All of our accessories, earrings, necklaces, bracelets, bags and pins, should be chosen carefully, not only to match our costumes but also to flatter our face and figure.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR DISTRESSES WOMEN

I do not believe that there is any problem in beauty more distressing to women than superfluous hair. There are few as embarrassing. Neither are there any about which there are more misconceptions.

* * *

With this in mind, I recently had a talk with Mr. Garo Artinian, director of the Kree Institute in New York City. Mr. Artinian is the outstanding authority in the United States on superfluous hair and its permanent removal.

The earring with an upward sweep is good for almost every face.

This is a universal feminine problem. Every woman who is well-groomed must take it into consideration. However, those women who have not been harassed by this difficulty to an extreme degree have no idea how much suffering it can cause.

Superfluous hair could be a real affliction were it not possible to remove it or have it removed. I am quite sure, that in many instances, it has actually affected happiness and the course of lives.

Women differ greatly in this matter. Some are heavily haired while others are not. Some have very dark hairs while others have light. Some women have superfluous hair which is more widely distributed than others. Practically all women remove the hair from their armpits and legs.

Some women have a more unusual distribution of this unwanted hair, such as about the nipples or on the thighs, chest or abdomen. Around middle age most women discover a few new hairs on their chin. Facial hair may become a trial.

ELECTROLYSIS METHOD

It has been established conclusively that the only way to remove superfluous hair permanently is by the electrolysis method of the newer radiomatic (short wave) method. This latter is much faster. All other methods are temporary.

I asked Mr. Artinian from which areas superfluous hair can be successfully removed by one of these two techniques and he answered, "From all areas except the inner nostrils. Also those who have diabetes should not have these treatments because they may not heal in a normal manner."

If you are going to have any superfluous hair removed permanently, the important thing is to be sure that you have a well-trained operator who uses good equipment.

I asked Mr. Artinian how one can be sure of locating an expert electrolysist and he said to be certain that she or he is a graduate of a well-accredited school of electrolysis. He suggested that it is also a good idea to select one who has gained a reputation for good work in your neighborhood or city.

Girl Displays Rage by Defending Brother

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Eight-year-old Bess dislikes her chore of putting supper dishes away. So one evening as she went about it, she flipped on the kitchen radio. Out of it noise rocked and rolled.

★ ★ ★

From the living room her father shouted, "Shut that thing off!"

Later her little brother Ted lost a marble under their father's chair and refused to go to bed until he found it. Maddened by the persistent wriggling under the chair in which he was trying to read his paper, his father grabbed him.

Saying, "I told you to go upstairs to Mother," he cuffed the boy on his rear. He had lifted his hand for the second spank when Bess burst into furious attack.

★ ★ ★

"You stop hitting Ted, Daddy!" she yelled. "I'm going right upstairs and tell Mother on you. I'm going up right now and tell her what a mean, cruel father you are!"

Then she fled, Ted howling behind her.

A HARD DAY

Her father had had a hard day. Shaken, he thought yearningly of south sea islands where a man could live untroubled by go-getting vice presidents in charge of sales and by daughters who thought you such a brute that they had to protect little brothers against you.

It happens to us all.

After a while we lose awe of this noble championship. We begin to understand that the child who rushes so indignantly to the defense of a brother or sister resembles some adult champions of the underdog.

We remember that these high-minded grownups are apt to be people who find personal defense very difficult and, like Bess, need the glow of intense humanitarian sympathy with the other fellow's injustices to explode the rage they feel at their own.

We see that Bess was really angry at our banning of entertainment during her boring chore. We help her to tell the truth by calling her downstairs and saying, "Now tell me what I did to you that you are so angry about."

★ ★ ★

We treat her exactly as Priscilla did John Alden. When that high-minded young man insisted on championing the other fellow's rights to her love, his realistic sweetheart said, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"

This Toadstool Allows Perching

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Little people, who in legend used to hide under toadstools, now in real life perch on top of them.

★ ★ ★

The toadstool of wood and vinyl is the latest addition to the casual living scene.

It is 14½ inches high with an upholstered top base 14 inches in diameter and a bottom base 10 inches in diameter.

As an ottoman, a TV seat, a snack table, a children's room accessory, the colorful stool brightens any setting. Available in persimmon, cerulean blue, white and black, it encourages mixing and matching the interchangeable tops, stems and bases.

Field Adviser Is Visiting Pontiac Camp Fire Girls

MRS. OWEN

Mrs. Mary Ellen Owen, field adviser for Camp Fire Girls, Inc., is visiting Pontiac today through Friday to meet with new leaders and council committees in planning for the coming year.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Owen, who advises councils in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and West Virginia, received her bachelor of arts degree from Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa. She did graduate work at the University of Michigan.

A native of Battle Creek, Mrs. Owen was a board member of that city's Camp Fire council and cochairman of the day camp committee. She became interested in Camp Fire Girl activities through her husband, the late Forrest Flagg Owen, former president of the Battle Creek council. Their daughter, Betty Owen, now serves as field adviser for the Southwest region.

Prior to joining the national staff of Camp Fire Girls Mrs. Owen was a social worker with the Michigan Children's Aid Society and was women's personnel director for the Aviation Division of the Oliver Corporation.

★ ★ ★

Previously she had been the director of the Battle Creek Volunteer Bureau. She worked with the Social Security Administration as manager of the field offices in Greensburg, Braddock, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Owen is a past president of the Battle Creek branch of the AAUW and also served as a board member of the Battle Creek YWCA.

Members Greeted by Fashionette Club

Mrs. Gerald Dennis, Barbara Schumacher and Mrs. Willard Weber were received as new members of Fashionette Club when that group met recently in Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Lupe Paramo was named program chairman for a Dec. 17 Christmas party in Adah Shelly Library.

Ceil Chapman

Low-Back Dressy Dress Uses Bias for High Style

"Bias" is such a lovely word when it is defined by Ceil Chapman and used with such inimitable style as this low-back dressy dress.

★ ★ ★

Completely lined and judiciously boned, the front bias drape is smoothed into the side seams, while the skirt floats freely over a straight sheath slip. This is a trick that gives figure control, so that the dress clings in the proper places, makes the most of a curve without making too much of it.

Perfect for chiffon, or crepe in either silk, rayon or synthetic mixtures, and even in very sheer wool, it is easy to make and a cinch to fit. From this chart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
8	33	23	34	16½
10	34	24	35	16⅝
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1329, state size, send $1.

For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents—for Ceil Chapman label, send 25 cents. For airmail service in U. S. add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Address Spadea, The Pontiac Press, Box 535, GPO, Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge.

Wives Admire Husbands After Years of Marriage

Young Women Aren't the Only Ones Who Appreciate Their Mates

By RUTH MILLETT

If a bride of a few weeks or months or even a year thinks the man she married is close to perfection as a husband and that she is lucky indeed to be sharing her life with him—that's not news.

But when a woman who has been married 25 or 37 or 43 years still feels awed at having won such a prize it ought to be reported. So here goes.

Some time ago I wrote a column listing a whole string of qualities that make a man a good husband. "Does he sound too good to be true?" I asked.

The letters started pouring in. "He's not too good to be true," wrote wives from all over the country. "I know because my husband does all of those things and then some."

I acknowledged the flood of protesting letters in a later column, but pointed out a fact I had noticed about them: All of them were from young wives.

Then the letters from women married long enough to have grandchildren began to arrive. They wanted to make sure I knew that today's young men aren't necessarily better husbands than men in their 40s, 50s and 60s.

Such proud, happy letters I've never read before. So men, don't ever think it doesn't pay to go halfway in making your marriage a success.

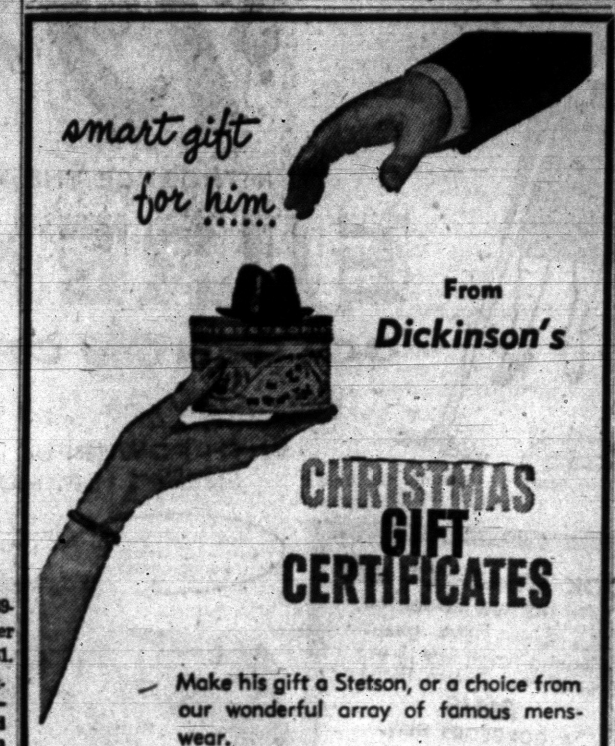

And don't think that a wife doesn't appreciate a good husband when she has one. Or that time makes her take his good qualities for granted.

I have stacks of letters from wives married for years to prove that a middle-aged or older woman can be just as sure as any bride that her husband is one in a million.

In a recent scientific exploration of long abandoned gold mines in New Guinea, an American GI helmet was found.

Heavy Snow Decks Area in Holiday Attire

★ ★

SAFE HAVEN—These ducks which are found in the Cranbrook area took to open water which winds through the scenic grounds when heavy snow covered the landscape Saturday. This picture was taken just off Chesterfield road, where the stream, a tributary of the Rouge River, winds through the picturesque grounds surrounding the Cranbrook and Kingswood school grounds and the Bloomfield Hills estate area.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

DOWN WE GO—Toboggan fans greeted the snow with enthusiasm. Coming down a slide in the Cass-Elizabeth Lake area are Gary Fisher, 4931 Sherbrone; and John and Ronald Parker, both of 5109 Durham. The first heavy snow of the season was an invitation to get out equipment which is not used until much later some winters.

DRYING OUT — Who minds wet feet and cold hands if there is a warming fire close by? Here four outdoor fans pause in their fun to warm up and rest in a wooded spot along the Clinton near Cass and Elizabeth lakes. They are David Leonard, 5018 Chipman; James Byrd, 5075 Durham; Gary Hewitt, 9260 Oregon; and John Luttman, 5188 Durham.

FAIRYLAND — Oakland County roads wind through areas which are scenic at any time of the year, but a snowfall which clings to trees when they are bare of leaves has a beauty unmatched at any other time of the year. This picture was taken on Cranbrook road, just off Woodward.

WELCOME SIGHT — Snow plows were a welcome sight Saturday on streets and sidewalks throughout the city. Here a tractor equipped with a large, stiff rotary brush makes quick work of clearing sidewalks on West Iroquois road. With proper equipment, keeping walks and streets clean is quickly accomplished if done before the snow packs and freezes.

TREE REALLY DECORATED — The community Christmas tree, on the courthouse lawn at Saginaw and Huron streets looked mighty nice to start with, but Dame Nature added a final note of festivity with a liberal white coating on the green branches. It is shown here in all its final splendor, appearing just as every child expects a Christmas tree to appear on the important morning.

MR. SNOWMAN — The heavy, wet snow was ideal for young artists with a yen for sculpturing. Here Tom and Michael Condon, of 19 S. Marshall put finishing touches on a 6-foot playmate. Carrots made the eyes, nose and mouth.

HOLIDAY TOUCH — Christmas decorations on downtown light poles were complete after the storm added the white mantle associated with outdoor evergreens in winter. Courthouse shown in the background, during the snowfall.

Proposals to Leave NATO Gain in West Germany

By RICHARD O'REGAN

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Proposals to take West Germany out of NATO and neutralize her militarily are gaining ground in the Bonn republic.

There is no doubt that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano will go to the NATO summit conference next week determined to stick by the West and work for closer anti-Soviet defense.

The majority of West Germans still seem to be going along with the government's policy, but more of them than ever before are questioning whether Adenauer is right.

For many years after the war, the average West German had few belongings and little personal security. There wasn't any question about his supporting the West.

Now he is prosperous but he's more worried about the future than at any time in 13 years.

With the summit conference to strengthen NATO defenses only a week away, such questions as these have become major political topics:

Wouldn't the country perhaps be safer if it were neutral? Or would that be committing national suicide? Should Washington and Moscow get together for direct negotiations? Or would that mean that decisions regarding Germany's fate would be taken without her having a say?

★ ★ ★

Adenauer has led the nation consistently along the path of firm support for NATO as defense against the Russians. But Adenauer's position has been badly shaken lately.

First there was Sputnik and an uneasy feeling that the Russians, although already just across the East-West border, were nearer than before. Then came Eisenhower's latest illness on top of what looked to the Germans like a long history of wavering U.S. policy.

★ ★ ★

Finally there were the proposals of George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to Moscow. They have touched off the hottest debate in years. Newspapers have been filled for two weeks with discussions pro and con.

In a series of lectures in London, Kennan called for a reappraisal of Western policies toward Germany and Russia.

★ ★ ★

He urged withdrawal of both American and Russian troops from Central Europe, a reunified neutralized Germany and the creation of a vast neutral wedge across Europe as the only way out of the nuclear arms race. He thought Central Europe should be free of atomic weapons.

Kennan's ideas have gotten big headlines and outright support from the Social Democrats, Adenauer's main opponents. The nation's third largest party, the Free Democrats, also have come out in support of Kennan as have several groups of industrialists and a number of West Germany's influential independent newspapers.

★ ★ ★

Western diplomats have been more surprised that limited interest in Kennan's ideas has been heard in progovernment quarters as well.

Von Brentano said Kennan's proposals were "unrealistic," but he added that a number of his suggestions would be examined carefully.

What's red, white and blue messenger with three wheels?

The answer to this riddle is the new three wheel, 7½ horsepower combination mail and parcel post "mailster" and Pontiac postmen will begin using five of them Monday to help out in the Christmas mail rush, according to Leslie H. Dean, acting postmaster.

CITY OWNS 10

The post office now owns 10 of these $917 labor savers but only five will be used at the present time.

The "Mighty Midget," as they are nicknamed, will be used on mail routes south of Orchard Lake road and east of Saginaw street where the roads are paved or black topped and the houses are not too close together, Dean explained.

The vehicle, which weighs 860 pounds, can carry up to 500 pounds in mail and parcel post packages. It holds five gallons of gas and is expected to go 35 miles per gallon.

Deliverymen can handle all mail and parcel post needs on a route with this type of vehicle, thus eliminating the relay box and heavy parcel post truck.

The car has a motorcycle type front wheel steering and a fiberglass reinforced plastic body and top. Side plastic curtains provide all-weather protection for the carrier and mail.

The mailster is 100 inches long and 50 inches wide.

Armenian Farm Bosses Criticized by Pravda

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda had sharp words today for "self-complacent" Communist party and farm leaders responsible for cotton production in Armenia.

★ ★ ★

It reported that in some regions cotton was "left under the snows" because party leaders and farm directors loafed in organizing and directing the picking.

★ ★ ★

Pravda said one region had brought in only 53 per cent of its cotton quota by the end of the first week of December while in neighboring areas more than 94 per cent of the quota had been reached.

Scottish Plane Down in Desert; 6 Killed

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP) — Six persons died in the crash of a twin engine Scottish passenger plane in the Libyan desert yesterday near Tripoli, owners of the plane reported last night.

The 16-seat craft was on a flight to demonstrate its use in oil survey work. Rescue planes reported that all aboard were killed. Passengers included D. F. McIntyre, head of the Scottish Aviation Aircraft Manufacturing Co., owner of the plane.

What's Long if 97 Years Is a Shortened Life?

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — Peter Peterson, 97, and his wife Celestia, 96, celebrate their 79th wedding anniversary Wednesday.

They were married at St. George, in southwest Utah, Dec. 11, 1878.

He still chuckles at doctors' predictions in 1913 that a lightning bolt which hit him — robbing him of the use of one lung and seriously hurting a hand — would shorten his life by 10 years.

The couple has 7 of their 10 children living and can count among their descendeants 48 grandchildren, 149 great-grandchildren and 32 great-great-grandchildren.

U.S. to Build Two Bases on Okinawa

TOKYO (AP)—The United States will spend more than 19 million dollars to build two Marine bases on Okinawa—Camp Schwab, future home of the 3rd Marine Division, and a helicopter facility.

★ ★ ★

The installations underline a U. S. intention to keep forces on the island as long as world tension requires. Japan has repeatedly asked for return of the Ryukyu Island chain, including Okinawa.

Contracts totaling 13 million dollars have been signed with Zenitaka Gumi, a Japanese construction company, to build Camp Schwab.

★ ★ ★

The helicopter facility to cost six millions is still on the drawing boards. Present plans are for Seabees to build it.

It was President Woodrow Wilson who said that "The commands of Democracy are as imperative as its privileges."

RAF Planes to Play Santa

Plan to Drop Packages of Yule Gifts to Troops in Malayan Jungles

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — RAF Valetta transports will wing out over Malaya's green jungles on Chrsistmas Eve dropping cannisters filled with Christmas fare to British Commonwealth troops forced by the Communist revellion to spend the festive season in jungle forts, isolated outposts or on patrol.

NO BREAKS

It will be the 10th Christmas in succession that Commonwealth forces have had no break from the gruelling jungle warfare.

"I must stress that there will be no question of a letup," a senior army spokesman said.

"It is impossible to say how many men will be out in the jungle on Christmas Eve or Christmas itself. There are always several hundred troops at one time out on patrol but if we were to receive a hot tip on Christmas Eve we would immediately mount an operation," he added.

The Christmas "hampers" dropped by parachute will include cold turkey, pudding, nuts, whisky, brandy, beer and Christmas delicacies.

On Christmas day, voice aircraft, usually used to call on the Red guerillas to surrender, will broadcast carols to troops in the jungle.

This has become a highlight of Christmas day in Malaya since two years ago. Even the civilians population in the towns look forward to it.

More than 1,000 Australian soldiers and 750 New Zealanders have just arrived to join 15,000 Britons in the jungle war.

To many of the Australians and New Zealanders, it will be their first Christmas away from home.

McElroy in Britain Talking With Lloyd

LONDON (AP)—U. S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy conferred with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today. They discussed the new Western policy of interdependence of the Atlantic bloc nations.

McElroy, who arrived Saturday is reported to have brought an offer from the United States to set up medium-range rocket bases in Europe. Among other provisions the proposal, according to informed sources, seeks to give all NATO countries a voice in any decision on the use of atomic and hydrogen weapons in an emergency.

Romeo Cow Sets World Record for Production

Dairy Officials Honor Champ

Langmeadow Minnie Produces 26,695 Lbs. of Milk in 365 Days

ROMEO—A princess and other dignitaries traveled many miles to honor a new world's champion here Saturday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Michigan dairy princess, Annetta Stamm of Hastings, was among those present at Colby-Dale Farms to pay homage to the greatest milk producing cow in the world, Langmeadow Minnie.

Minnie, a Guernsey owned by Howard H. Colby, retired Detroit brewer, had just completed her 365-day test. Results of her test showed that she had set a new world record for all breeds in production on twice-a-day milking.

Her totals were 26,695 pounds of milk and 1,461 pounds of butterfat.

★ ★ ★

Her other accomplishments included top production in butterfat for a Guernsey cow on two, three or four times a day milkings, and highest production of butterfat on twice-a-day milking.

The 10-year-old cow, noted for her gentle disposition, produced 3,050 pounds of milk and 166 pounds of fat in her highest month.

Called a "personality cow," her regular milker, Ted Binion, said "she's always a lady, in the field or in the barn."

MILKED BY MACHINE

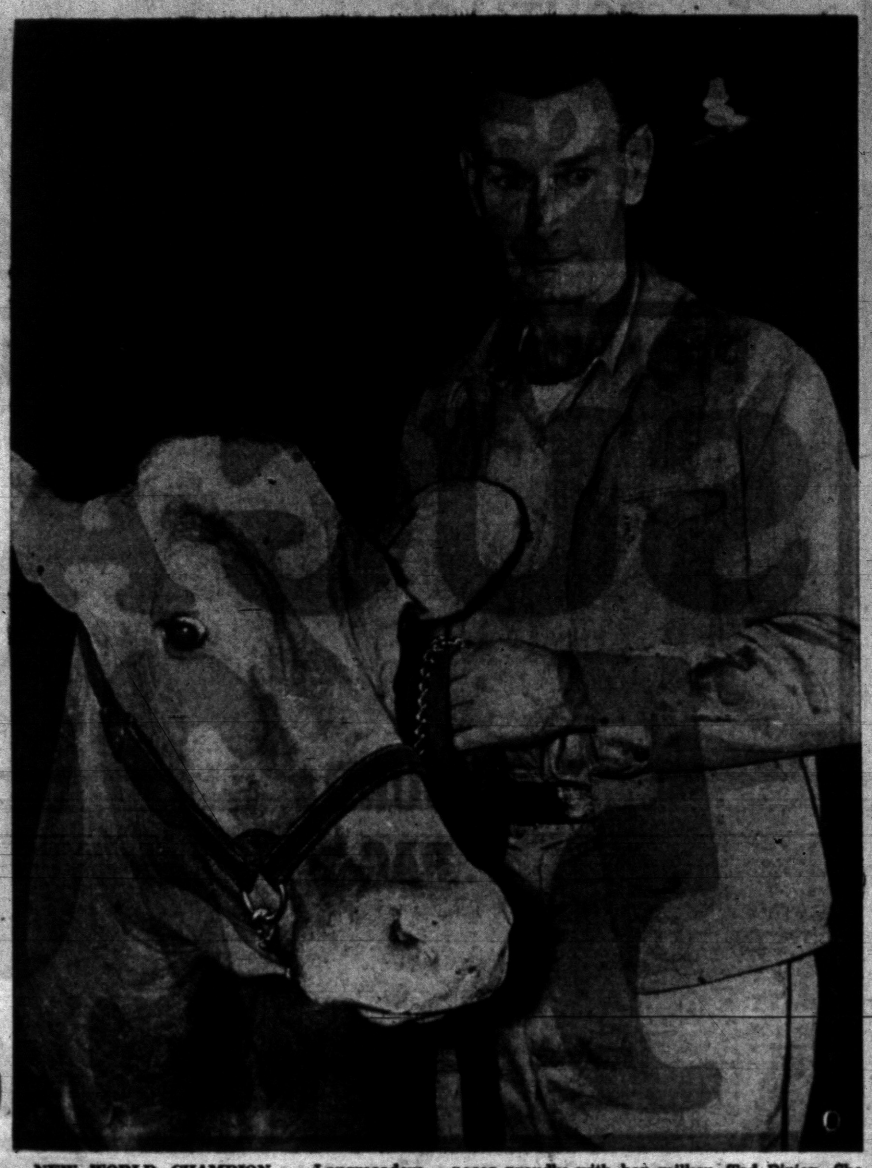

"She was milked by machine throughout her test, ran with the herd and was milked in a tie stall with 31 stablemates," Binion says.

"During this lactation, however," he said, "she rated the luxury of a box stall."

It's nothing new for Mr. and Mrs. Colby to raise a champion. Last year Langmeadow Cameo, Minnie's cousin, was top producer for her breed in the world. But this year, Minnie topped that record and she has three daughters—all of whom are expected to surpass her in production.

Officials from the Michigan and American Guernsey Cattle Club were on hand to honor Minnie on her "recognition day." Among those present were Max Dowdy, Lafayette, Ind., district Guernsey field representative; Harold Adams Peterboro, N. H., assistant promotional director, American Guernsey Cattle club, and Socrates Kereazis, also of Peterboro, production testing division of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Others were Floyd Greenberg, Jackson, Michigan Guernsey Cattle Club field representative, and Delbert Kingston, Carey, Ill., member of the executive committee of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

NEW WORLD CHAMPION — Langmeadow Minnie, Guernsey cow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Colby, Colby-Dale Farms, Romeo, poses proudly with her milker, Ted Binion. She was royally feted Saturday afternoon after setting an all-breed world's record for production.

Experts Analyzing 20,000 Feet of Vanguard Motion Pictures

Films May Show Reason for Flop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Vanguard experts think they may have found exactly what went wrong with the big satellite-bearing rocket that burned on its launching stand Friday.

They believe the cause of the trouble is quite clearly indicated in 20,000 feet of motion picture film, taken at many different angles, and in pictures from still cameras. But they are giving no hint as to the nature of their discovery.

The film has been flown to Washington for analysis by the Naval Research Laboratory. That is the agency in charge of Project Vanguard, the U. S. program to put artificial moons into orbits around the earth.

It was learned that the motion picture films included some of the most dramatic footage of its kind ever made—several hundred shots, all in color, of the rocket before it was ignited, during its fruitless struggle to launch itself, and to its destruction by fire.

The black and white footage of this sequence reportedly was lost because those particular still cameras went up in smoke.

ASSEMBLE DATA

Vanguard crews worked throughout the weekend to clean up the launching area and assemble data that may help explain the failure and prevent a recurrence.

One party of Vanguard engineers reportedly returned to Washington Saturday with fairly well-fixed opinions as to what had caused the accident.

The film developed after they left probably will change their minds, one source said.

★ ★ ★

The original Defense Department announcement of the rocket failure attributed it to loss of chamber pressure in the first of the three rocket stages. The General Electric Co. built the rocket motor for the first stage.

In Cincinnati the day after the accident, Louis Michelson, manager of GE's rocket engine section, said films of the launching attempt showed clearly that "the engine operated correctly and that the cause of the failure was elsewhere in the missile."

Michelson added that most of the GE engine parts were recovered that the first-stage engine had not been at fault.

Marquette Man Shoots Stepson

Police Hold Father, 49, in Munising Jail After Admission of Guilt

MARQUETTE (AP) — State police today held a 49-year-old rural Marquette man in the fatal shooting last night of the man's stepson.

State police Det. George Strong said William Nikunen admitted shooting Joseph Peters, 27, after the stepfather came home from a drinking bout.

Strong said Nikunen's wife, Elizabeth, told him Nikunen entered their home some 20 miles southeast of here and got angry because he could not find some cigarettes.

The officer said Nikunen fired a small gun and, when Peters came from his nearby home to investigate the noise, was shot as he walked in the front door.

Mrs. Nikunen was the victim's mother. The Nikunens also have three children.

Strong said Nikunen offered no resistance after his wife called police and he was taken to the Alger county jail at Munising.

Judge Doty entered a plea of innocent and ordered Watkins to stand trial.

State Employes to Seek Raises

MSEA Asks 12-Cent Hourly Hike; AFL-CIO Request Higher

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Employes Assn. today called for pay raises and insurance benefits totaling 11 million dollars next year.

Morris A. Riley, executive secretary of the organization which claims 12,000 members, said requested pay boosts amount to $7,500,000—or 12 cents an hour average.

★ ★ ★

If granted, he said, the increase would put the average salary of the state worker at $4,000.

The rival CIO-AFL state employes union last month asked for increases and benefits totaling $30,500,000, including $27,500,000 in salary increases. This group claims 5,000 members.

"The MSEA board feels that in the face of economic problems already facing the state and legislature, the association is not justified to seek a larger increase than is absolutely required since the last salary adjustment," Riley said.

★ ★ ★

The State Civil Service Commission a year ago authorized boosts of 11 million dollars, and the extra money was voted by the 1957 Legislature last spring, with the increases effective in July.

The MSEA also will recommend that employes get one and one half hours in time off for every hour of overtime worked, Riley said.

All the recommendations, he said, will be submitted to the Civil Service Commission at its Dec. 20 meeting.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, he said, the union will offer to support studies aimed at streamlining the state's job classification scheme through such means as job consolidation.

Riley said MSEA directors contend such moves could save the state more than the amount of the recommended raise.

Residents Voting Today on Sewer Bond Issue

MADISON HEIGHTS — Residents here are going to the polls today to vote on a $1,500,000 sanitary and storm sewer bond issue.

The storm sewer would take the place of the proposed 12-town drain, said City Manager Jack P. Sweitzer this morning. He added that he thinks it will be more economical and quicker.

Illinois Girl, 7, Sought by 500

Swamps at Sycamore Combed for Tot Who Vanished Last Tuesday

SYCAMORE, Ill. (INS) — More than 500 volunteers, organized in teams of 12 and in radio contact with each other, spent Sunday searching for a missing seven-year-old girl, believed kidnaped.

Object of the search was Maria Ridulph, who disappeared last Tuesday after she and a companion were accosted by a blond-haired stranger.

The search was directed by more than 50 FBI agents who moved into the Sycamore area shortly after the girl disappeared.

The hunt extended 35 miles from the Sycamore street where Maria was last seen on the police theory that the man who abducted the child took her to the Fox River bottomlands, filled with swamps, quicksand, timber and abandoned gravel pits.

Sycamore Police Chief William Hindenburg said the area was searched by men on foot, on motorcycles and on horseback. Civil Air Patrol planes also were used.

Police from sheriff's offices in Lasalle, Lee, Livingston and De Kalb counties took part in the search.

Maria's parents, meanwhile, attended services at St. John's Lutheran Church in Sycamore, where prayers for solution of the mystery and the child's safety were offered by the congregation and pastor, the Rev. Louis L. Going.

About a dozen articles of clothing were found by searchers and turned over to FBI agents.

Argentine Plane Crashes; 62 Die

Airliner Hits, Burns Flying Holiday Crowd to Andes Resort

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—An Argentine airliner taking holidayers to an Andes mountain resort crashed yesterday in a thunderstorm 180 miles southwest of here. All 62 persons aboard were killed.

Heavy storms interrupted communications and blocked roads near the crash. A four-man police patrol reached the wreckage and confirmed the disaster, worst in Argentine aviation history.

★ ★ ★

The DC4 of the state-owned Aerolineas Argentinas left Ezeiza Airport on the outskirts of Buenos Aires with 55 passengers and seven crew members. Their destination was San Carlos de Bariloche, a small Andes resort town 700 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

The four-engine plane apparently smashed and burned after the pilot tried unsuccessfully to make an emergency landing at a ranch in the cattle country near Bolivar.

Removal of the bodies was delayed by storms which lashed a large part of the country. Trucks could not move on the muddy roads and helicopters were requested for work at the scene.

★ ★ ★

The airline said it could not determine the nationality of all the Passengers imediately because many had not given that information when they booked passage. It appeared likely, however, that all aboard were either Argentine citizens or persons living in the country.

Several other planes caught in the storm were forced to return to airports, and the Buenos Aires city airport halted takeoffs.

Short Agenda Faces Waterford Board

Only two matters have been slated for tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Bids for 2,000 feet of fire hose will be opened and purchase orders awarded.

The board will also establish a no parking zone in the Randigate Park Subdivision on Elizabeth Lake road.

According to treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Olson, no definite date has been set for the issuance of 1958 auto license plates by the township.

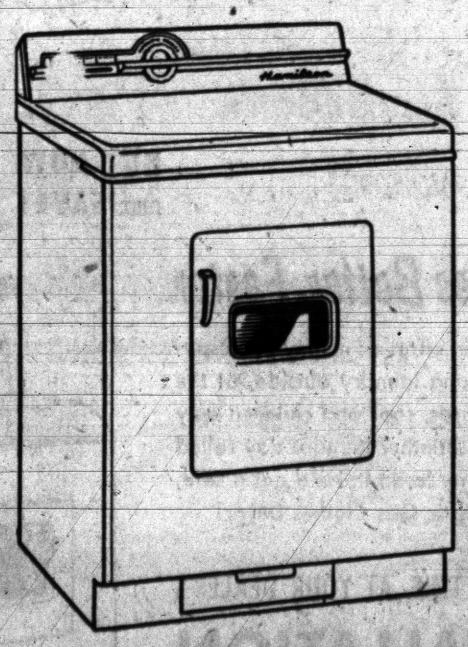

A new policy was established at last week's board meeting whereby the service of issuing the plates will be accorded residents, but plans for the project have not yet been completed.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A flash flood swept away a bus stalled while crossing a ravine today and 24 Jordanians were drowned. Another 24 were rescued but some were injured seriously.

★ ★ ★

The mishap occurred north of Tulkarm, near the Jordan-Israeli border. It was believed that several passengers still missing had been washed into Israeli territory.

State Boy Scout Asks to Be First Into Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-year-old Michigan Boy Scout wants to be the first person fired into outer space in a rocket.

Rep. Cederberg (R-Mich) said he received the request in a letter from Floyd Crook of Big Rapids. The boy asked the congressman to forward his request to the proper authorities at the Pentagon.

The boy explained, Cederberg said, that he is interested in astronomy and space travel.

He's 'On the Spot' as Rocket Explodes

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

The man "on the spot" Friday as the U. S. failed in its attempt to launch a satellite into space is a tall, handsome engineer whose leisure passion is sailboats.

J. Paul Walsh is deputy project director of Operation Vanguard and in actual command of the satellite launching attempts at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

★ ★ ★

No rocket specialist, the 40-year-old Fall River, Mass., native is an engineer-administrator who has risen rapidly in recent years to the key position he now holds.

Walsh, slim and crew-cut, and no "egg-head" in either appearance or tastes, was educated at Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken, N. J., And the University of Maryland, and joined the Naval Research Laboratory in 1943.

He has worked on the navy's atomic submarine project, served with the Atomic Energy Commission in the Pacific during nuclear tests.

★ ★ ★

His calmness under fire—noted by observers at Cape Canaveral—is mentioned by friends as among his most striking characteristics. This was true even in the frustrating days of postponements leading up to yesterday's unsuccessful launching try.

When he's not trying to launch rockets, or helping to build nuclear subs, Walsh divides his time between his family, his sailboats and his jazz record collection.

He has been married 14 years, has a daughter, 12, and two sons, aged 9 and 4, and lives at Silver Springs, Md.

Says Ike Will Seek Tariff-Slashing OK

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today that authority to cut tariffs 25 per cent below present levels over a five-year period will be sought by the Eisenhower administration.

★ ★ ★

The move was described as part of a foreign trade program to be put before Congress in January.

★ ★ ★

A Washington dispatch to the Times also said the detailed proposals, "which promise to stir one of the greatest controversies of the coming sessions," will be made public today by the State and Commerce departments.

Will Check Ike for Paris Trip

Shows All Indications of Benefit From Rest; Doctors' OK Likely

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower returns to Washington today for a medical check later in the week on whether he is up to attending the Dec. 16-18 Paris NATO conference.

Eisenhower, starting his third week of convalescence from a slight stroke, was pictured by an aide as greatly benefited by a long weekend of rest at his farm. All signs pointed to an okay from his doctors for the Paris trip.

★ ★ ★

When the President was stricken, the State Department said it was being taken for granted he would be unable to attend the NATO heads of government conference opening in Paris a week from today.

In response to questions yesterday, press secretary James C. Hagerty said he assumed the planned checkup will be made at the White House rather than at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. He said no specific time had been set for it.

★ ★ ★

Before his illness Eisenhower had been scheduled to arrive in Paris next Sunday. Indications now are that if his doctors give a go-ahead for the trip he may leave Washington Friday and arrive in the French capital Saturday.

Hagerty said in response to a question that in his opinion the President's long weekend of rest at his farm had done him much good.

★ ★ ★

It was a weekend of nothing but rest, nearly all of it indoors because of almost constant rain.

The President did get in a 30-minute automobile trip around his farm yesterday, but murky skies and the cold rain discouraged a longer tour.

Curtice Urges Safety Groups

GM President Says Citizens Associations to Cut Traffic Deaths

WASHINGTON (UP)—The best device for reducing the number of traffic deaths is a citizens' traffic safety organization in every community, Harlow H. Curtice said here today.

Curtice, president of General Motors and chairman of President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety, addressed the opening session of the Public Officials Traffic Safety Conference, sponsored by the President's committee.

★ ★ ★

People are aware of the traffic safety problem and concerned about it, the General Motors president told the group.

This favorable public sentiment "can be translated into effective public support only when there is sound and aggressive leadership to mobilize and direct this latent force," he said.

Citizens' organizations in each community would be in a position to keep in close touch with public officials who can push through programs aimed at reducing the highway death toll, he said.

New York Subway Union Strikes; 4 Leaders Jailed

NEW YORK (UP)—A rebellious motormen's union struck New York City's subways today, but the Transit Authority announced it planned to continue service.

The authority said motormen started to refuse to take trains out on runs.

The strike hit the city a couple of hours before the morning rush hour.

★ ★ ★

Shortly before the deadline, State Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, who had been urging MBA officials not to strike, ordered the president of the association and three other MBA officials to jail for violating a no-strike injunction.

★ ★ ★

The decision of the MBA to strike was made yesterday at a meeting attended by an estimated 1,200 members of the union. The MBA claims to represent 2,600 of the 3,167 city subway motormen. It is involved in a struggle with Michael J. Quill's Transport Workers Union for representation of subway workers.

Greenberg ordered the four MBA leaders jailed for 10 days after finding that they did not show good cause why they violated the injunction.

★ ★ ★

The union leaders were all under suspended 10-day sentences imposed following an MBA strike June 14, 1956.

When the sentences were imposed in December 1956, they were suspended on condition that the union leaders abide by the injunction order and "refrain further from calling a strike or urging or counseling a strike."

The state Condon-Waldin Act subjects civil service employes to forfeiture of their jobs if they stage strikes or work stoppages.

★ ★ ★

Ordered to jail were Theodore Loos, MBA president, and Augustine J. Johnson, Edwin O. Kisser and Louis Steinfeld.

A fifth official, Vincent O'Brien, was dismissed by Greenberg after he said he told yesterday's strike meeting, "I am against the strike."

The subways handle more than 4½ million fares a day. A strike places extra burdens on the municipal and private bus lines.

★ ★ ★

Louis Waldman, attorney for the MBA, told a reporter he was not representing the union in the present situation because he believed a strike would be illegal.

He said he had so informed the union leaders and had advise them how they might proceed legally.

The MBA long has been engaged in a running battle with the Tramsit Aautority for bargaining rights, now held by the TWU.

★ ★ ★

Recently a fact-finding board recommended that bargaining rights be assigned on a system-wide basis, rather than to individual craft unions. This all but insured a TWU victory in a bargaining election scheduled for next Monday, since the TWU has the backing of the vast majority of the 35,000 subway employes.

1st Norwegian-Built Car at Auto Show

OSLO, Norway — Norway's first International Automobile Show since the war was featured, in Oslo this year, by introduction of the Troll, the first Norwegian-produced car. It is a two-passenger vehicle constructed with a locally produced plastic body and a chassis and motor of German manufacture.

The Troll is to sell at 12,500 crowns, or about $1,760. Capital is expected to be raised by selling stock in a new company to the public.

The cars of 58 manufacturers shown at the international exhibition included 133 passenger automobiles and 152 trucks, buses and special vehicles.

Represented were the United States, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, France, Great Britain, Italy, the Netherlands, Poland, Russia, Sweden and West Germany. American 1957 models were among the most impressive.

Nitrogen is used for protection of special high-quality steel and other metals during high-temperature furnace treatment.

Find 6 Students Caught in Cave

Rescuers Come to Aid of Explorers Trapped by Flood in England

KETTLEWELL, England (UP) — Rescue workers today found four youths and two girls trapped since Saturday in a flooded cave.

The youths, members of a college cave-exploring club, were trapped by rising water inside a maze of tunnels 400 feet underground.

Rescue crews included a team of divers in frogmen outfits.

★ ★ ★

The six were Peter Clough, Michael Cazalet, Robin Turner and Christine Woodward, all 16, Joan Smith, 18, and Peter Blackburn, 20. All are members of a club of cave explorers at Bradford Technical College. Their parents notified police when they failed to return from the expedition to the moors.

It was believed they entered the cave at the Dow Ghyll entrance and planned to come out at the Providence Pot exit two miles away.

Soon after they went in, heavy rains fell. Stones loosened by the rain blocked Providence Pot. Meanwhile, a stream flowing into the Dow Ghyll end rose several feet, crating what cave explorers call a "siphon," a place where the tunnel roof dips into the water.

★ ★ ★

Six frogmen went through the siphon into the main cavern of the underground system of tunnels but found no trace of the young explorers. The floor of the cave itself was deeply flooded. Another six divers then began a search of the honeycomb of narrow connecting passages, some only two or three feet wide.

Operation to Transplant Kidney Fatal for Twin, 14

BOSTON (UP)—Jimmy Foster, 14, who said he wasn't afraid to die, succumbed yesterday to a congenital kidney ailment, two weeks after receiving a healthy kidney from his twin brother in a transplant operation.

★ ★ ★

Jimmy was the first fatality in a series of six operations at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in which identical twins donated healthy kidneys to their ill twins.

Jimmy's case differed from the others. He suffered a kidney defect from birth. The others had developed diseases of the kidneys.

The Foster boys came from Pocatello, Idaho, for the Nov. 25 double operation. The donor twin, Jerry has recovered.

★ ★ ★

A hospital bulletin said the donated kidney failed to function in Jimmy, and that an artificial kidney machine made only slight and temporary improvement.

Jimmy was told three days ago that the operation had failed.

"I'm not afraid to die," he told his mother Mrs. Juanita Foster.

"I know that the best of all human power was done by save Jimmy," Mrs. Foster said yesterday. "I'd do it all over again. I hope others will not be disheartened by this experience."

Four earlier kidney transplant operations—which doctors say can be performed only on true identical twins, have been pronounced successful.

In the fifth case, Delores Huskey, 14, DeSoto, Mo., who received a kidney from her sister Doris, was reported in critical condition from an infection which invaded her new kidney from the intestinal tract.

Long Search for Ben Hur Stops at Geoffrey Horne

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Just hold everything if you please! On Saturday, 24-year-old Geoffrey Horne, who is so good in "Bridge on the River Kwai," tested for "Ben Hur," and he'll test again tomorrow. Sam Zimbalist saw him in "Bridge" and sees in him the Ben Hur for whom he and MGM have long been searching. Seems pretty certain Geoffrey will get it.

He stopped by my house and he's still on Cloud 9 over the notices he's received in "Bridge" and very pleased over all the trips he's being given in places where the picture opens.

Geoffrey's still under contract to Sam Spigel, but you can bet Sam will let him go for "Ben Hur." And, oh yes, Geoffrey admitted while we were talking that model Nancy Berg is his best girl.

William Wyler is set to direct "Ben Hur."

NIGHT BEAT PAYS

One thing about going out at night—you do get news! I ran into Jimmy Woolf of London, who is here on business, and he told me that he has made a deal with Heather Sears, who was so good in Joan Crawford's picture, "The Story of Esther Costello," to co-star with Laurence Harvey in "Room at the Top."

Laurence is now appearing on Broadway with Julie Harris in 'Country Wife,'" said Jimmy, "but he'll leave the play in March to come to London for my picture."

Peter Glenville, famous English director, will direct "Room" which has to do with a government employe who leaves his office to join a theatrical group, and falls in love with a young actress.

BUYS OWN RIGHTS

Despite the big success of "Look Homeward, Angel" on Broadway and the fact that Paramount owns the film rights, this studio is in a peculiar position on the Thomas Wolfe classic.

Producer after producer on this lot tried for years to whip the bulky story into a picture script. No luck. It was always shelved.

Now, when the picture is made, it's a leadpipe cinch that the studio will have to buy the compact play which Ketti Frings made from the long novel. So they'll have to pay a big price for something they already own. That's Hollywood for you.

P. S. One bright thing—Paramount has the inside track to Tony Perkins, the star of the Broadway hit.

YOUNG HAMMERSTEIN

With great pride Oscar Hammerstein, who sat next to me at the Jack Warner party, told me that his son James is producing "Blue Denims," the Broadway play about teenagers.

"Yes," put in Josh Logan, who is directing the play, "James is my boss and he has real ability."

Carol Lynley has the teenage role, and two oldtimers, Chester Morris and June Walker are all set to play her parents. While we were talking I thought how slender both Nedda Logan (Mrs. Josh) and Dorothy Hammerstein (Mrs. Oscar) have become. Seems everyone is dieting these days.

FILM MORROS STORY

At the time I talked with Boris Morros some weeks ago he told me if his life story were made as a motion picture, he'd love Yul Brynner to play him. I hear Yul is not at all indifferent to the idea, and he'd be excellent. How he'd play the spy role!

However, producer-director Louis De Rochemont has said no cast is in sight yet—but what a coup, one of the biggest of the year. Columbia has pulled off in getting this story.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Jennifer Jones and David Selznick meet in New York Friday, Dec. 13, when she returns from her trip to India.

Leave it to the Gabors to make news. Eva arrived in town in cotton lounging pajamas covered by a mink coat.

The new manager of George V in Paris, Louis Colonelli, was given a luncheon by Bernice and Sheldon MacHenry at the Tail O' the Cock.

Van and Evie Johnson take off for Europe Dec. 20 to spend Christmas in London and New Year's in Rome. The children go with them.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Debate Opens on Cyprus Issue

General Strike Called by Island's Underground to Mark U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — Greece and Britain squared off today for the opening of U.N. debate on Cyprus. The Greeks circulated a resolution calling for self-determination for the British island colony in the east Mediterranean.

British Minister of State Allan Noble was listed to open the debate in the Assembly's Political Committee, with Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tossiza to follow.

★ ★ ★

Greece claims the Greek-speaking majority on Cyprus wants to unite with Greece. The Turkish-speaking minority wants continued British rule or partition into Greek and Turkish areas.

Britain has offered the island limited self-government but has refused to set a date for a self-determination election.

On Cyprus the EOKA underground called a general strike to mark the U.N. debate.

★ ★ ★

EOKA leaflets said that in case of "postponement or circumvention of a just solution" in the U.N. the fight against the British would take on a new intensity with "many more casualties on both sides." Guerrilla activity had declined somewhat in recent months.

★ ★ ★

The new British governor of Cyprus, Sir Hugh Foot, in a broadcast from Nicosia asked Cypriots by radio to "insure that this week of U.N. debate should be free of all disorder." But a number of persons were reported injured when demonstrators clashed twice with police.

GOLDEN, Colo. (UP) — Phil Logan a sophomore football player from Fort Worth, Tex., won the annual rock drilling contest at Colorado School of Mines. Within the alloted three minutes, he carried a pneumatic drill to the site, set it up and punched a 36-inch hole in a slab of granite.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: What is the fastest thing on four feet?

ANSWER: In a short race of a quarter of a mile, the cheetah would easily win over any other member of the animal kingdom. But over a longer course, the gazelle would be an easy winner.

The cheetah has been clocked at 70 miles an hour, but it tires quickly and slows down considerably after running a quarter of a mile. The gazelle has been known to maintain a speed of 60 miles an hour for as much as three miles.

The cheetah is tamed and trained for hunting in India, where it is called a "hunting leopard." It is held by a leash and blindfolded until the game is sighted. When the cheetah is freed, it makes a quick dash for the animal and holds it until the hunters arrive.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch for an opportunity, when you ride in a car, to clock the speed of a dog racing along beside it. How does the dog's speed compare with that of a cheetah?

★ ★ ★

Decorate Yule Trees by Using Green Tape

Decorating packages is fun. For a stylized Christmas tree, use a long strip of green gift wrap tape down the center to form the trunk.

Then place strips of red tape across it. The tree is shaped by narrowing the size of the cross strips as you work toward the top.

The tips of a propeller at top speed often surpass the speed of sound.

Rifle Students Write Their Exams in Lead

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Twenty-six seventh and eighth graders used targets for examination papers and wrote their answers in lead from guns, not pencils, at Level Park Elementary School here.

The 26, between 12 and 14 years old, comprised the school's first class in gun safety and conservation. The firing ended 12 weeks of classroom work. The instructor was Harold Jilbert, who also teaches science and physical education.

The class met once a week and regular school credit was given. Pupils had to get parental consent to enroll.

After classes in safety, care of weapons and conservation, there was a great deal of "dry firing" before the boys were allowed to shoot rifles at the range of the Level Park Conservation Club.

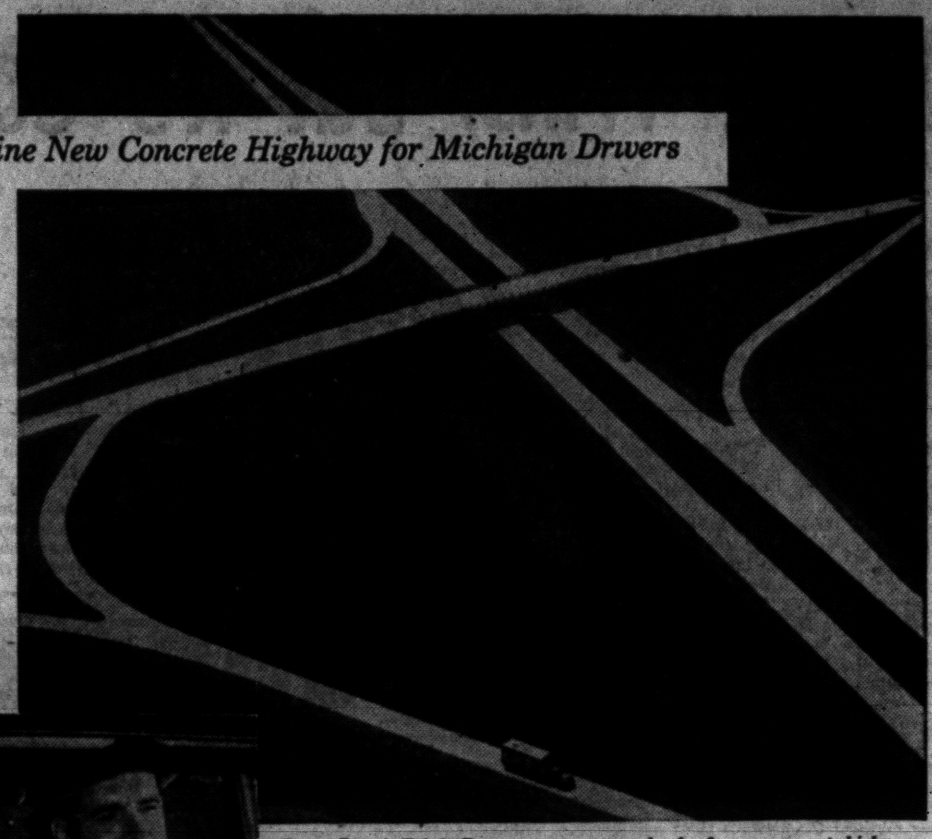

"I'll bet," said Jilbert, "that was the only final examination anybody ever looked forward to with pleasure."

Another Fine New Concrete Highway for Michigan Drivers

Detroit-Toledo Expressway, an example of a fine new concrete highway

New concrete highways are built to last 50 years . . . and more. They will still be "new" long after this youngster can drive his own car.

Built to Cost Less!

Economy is a built-in advantage of concrete highways. They are low in first cost and cost far less to maintain over the years. Longer life and less upkeep are premium advantages of concrete.

Concrete Highways for Smoother, Safer Driving

NEW CONCRETE HIGHWAYS give Michigan motorists the smoothest ride ever. These easy-to-drive super roads are designed for 1975, but you can enjoy their comfort today.

They're safe, too. Concrete's gritty texture means more skid resistance, even in wet weather. And at night your visibility is up to four times better on concrete than on light-absorbing asphalt.

These new concrete thruways represent the last word in engineering achievement. Thanks to improved techniques they'll last 50 years and more. Drive one of Michigan's new concrete expressways and you'll agree you never had a smoother, safer ride.

49ers Last Minute 'Shoppers'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco 49ers are like a lot of Christmas shoppers. They wait until the last minute to get things done.

They waited until the last 46 seconds yesterday before rookie quarterback John Brodie tossed a game - winning touchdown pass against Baltimore. The 49ers whipped the Colts 17-13 and threw the title race in the Western Division of the National Football League into a triple deadlock.

★ ★ ★

The West Coast result gave the Colts and 49ers each a 7-4 record. The Detroit Lions climbed into the tie with them by whipping the Cleveland Browns 20-7. The Browns clinched the Eastern title when Pittsburgh upset the New York Giants 21-10 Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere in the NHL yesterday, Washington racked Philadelphia 42-7 at Washington; The Chicago Bears fended off their cross-town rivals, the Cardinals, 14-6; and Los Angeles polished off Green Bay 42-17 at Los Angeles.

The 49ers pushed the Western race into a last-minute affair. Each contender has one game remaining next Sunday.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco meets the Packers, last place team in the West, at home; Baltimore plays the Rams in Los Angeles; and the Lions will be guests of the Chicago Bears.

Brodie, from Stanford, hasn't played often. He has watched Y. A. Tittle, first string quarterback, pass for winning touchdowns in the waning moments of three games and learned the knack.

★ ★ ★

Tittle contracted a muscle spasm in his left leg with less than a minute left and the Colts leading 13-10. Brodie replaced him with San Francisco on the Colts 14. On fourth down he passed to Hugh McElhenny in the end zone to wrap up the game. Team doctors said Tittle could play next week.

The capacity crowd of 59,686 in Kezar Stadium saw Tittle complete 21 of 34 pass attempts for 252 yards. Baltimore's John Unitas threw 37 times, completed 23 passes for 296 yards and one touchdown. It was his 23rd touchdown pass of the year.

Don Bosseler scored three touchdowns and quarterback Eddie LeBaron threw for two others as the Redskins moved past the Eagles into fourth place in the East.

Willie Galimore raced 67 yards for a touchdown against the Cardinals when the game was five minutes old. The Bears marched 80 yards and scored 24 seconds before the first half ended to insure their victory. Lamar McHan passed 10 yards to Gern Nagler for the Card score in the fourth quarter.

Norm Van Brocklin passed for four touchdowns against Green Bay. He hit on 15 of 25 passes for 253 yards. A crowd of 70,572 watched the game. Los Angeles must draw 1,544 fans next week to become the first NFL team to draw more than a million spectators in a season.

LIONS' LAYNE HURT — A fractured right ankle sent Detroit Lions' quarterback, Bobby Layne from Sunday's game with the Browns, and today it was reported the injury may mean the end of Bobby's professional grid career. Above, Layne is being carried from the field at Briggs Stadium after being hit by a hard tackle from Browns' rookie, Paul Wiggin, in the 2nd period.

Layne Sidelined as Lions Defeat Cleveland, 20-7

Crucial Victory Brings Detroit 1st Place Tie; Bobby's Ankle Broken

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT—Sunday was a day of both joy and despair for the Detroit Lions.

The Lions hammered out a crucial 20-7 victory over the Cleveland Browns here yesterday afternoon before a sellout throng of 55,814 fans in Briggs Stadium.

Detroit's triumph, coupled with San Francisco's last-minute 17-13 win over the Baltimore Colts, threw the Lions, 49ers and Colts into a three-way tie for 1st place in the Western Division of the National Football League.

But in the process the Lions lost Bobby Layne, one of pro football's all-time great quarterbacks. The veteran Layne suffered a broken right ankle midway through the 2nd quarter and is out for the balance of the season.

The Lions led Cleveland all the way, but were forced to fight off repeated scoring threats during this titanic battle of defenses.

Jim Martin's 27-yard field goal in the 1st quarter gave the Lions a 3-0 lead at halftime and quarterback Tobin Rote's 10-yard touchdown pass to Dave Middleton made it 10-0 in the 3rd period.

Cleveland struck back in the same stanza on quarterback Milt Plum's 58-yard touchdown aerial to halfback Ray Renfro to cut Detroit's margin to 10-7. But Martin booted another 27-yard field goal and John Henry Johnson smashed across from four yards out in the final 30 seconds of play to ice the decision.

The Browns, who clinched the Eastern Division title on Saturday without moving a muscle as the Pittsburgh Steelers eliminated the New York Giants 21-10 in the rain and mud at Pittsburgh, muffed three golden chances to score.

In the 2nd period Yale Lary fumbled a punt by Cleveland's Ken Konz and Herschel Forester recovered for the Browns on the Detroit 19-yard line. Two plays later ex-Detroit halfback Lew Carpenter fumbled and the Lions regained possession as Bob Miller pounced on the ball on the 17.

Earlier in the same quarter the Browns marched to the Detroit 11 where the Lions called a halt and on 4th down Lou (The Toe) Groza attempted a 17-yard field goal. To the amazement of everyone in the stadium, Groza's kick failed.

Cleveland's last bid to score came in the 4th quarter. With the Lions leading 10-7, the Browns started a drive from their own 42. They advanced to Detroit's four where, with a 4th-and-one situation, halfback Chet Hanulak was stopped for no gain and the Lions took over on downs.

From there the Lions moved to wrap up the verdict. A Rote-to-Middleton pass clicked for 34 yards and a couple of Cleveland penalties aided the Detroit cause. Rote's 3rd down aerial fell incomplete, then Martin booted his 2nd three-pointer from the Browns' 27.

A Cleveland gamble set up Detroit's 2nd touchdown. The Browns were stopped on a 4th-and-one play on their own 27 and the Lions gained control. Six plays later Johnson tore through the middle for a four-yard TD.

The Lions' defense, paced by the brilliant linebacking of Joe Schmidt, did a masterful job of throttling Cleveland's sensational rookie fullback, Jim Brown. It was Brown's most unproductive day of the 1957 season.

DOWNED FROM BEHIND — Cleveland Browns' quarterback, Milton Plum was caught from behind in the above play in yesterday's game with the Detroit Lions, and suffered a one-yard loss. Joe Schmidt and Gil Mains nailed Plum in the 2nd period as Plum tried to pass and couldn't find a receiver. Note ball (arrow) in his right hand. Lions won 20-7.

Remark About Layne Keys Lions' Victory

DETROIT—A Cleveland player's remark that "he'd have been better off in jail" after quarterback Bobby Layne's second-period injury was credited today with keying the Detroit Lions in the Western Conference football title chase.

The Detroit quarterback suffered a broken right ankle late in the first half of yesterday's National Football league game and the Lions went on to defeat the Cleveland Browns—Eastern Conference champions—by a 20-7 score.

The Detroit players and coaches said after the game that Don Colo, the Browns' 250-pound defense tackle, made the remark that "he'd have been better off in jail."

Layne won an acquittal Friday evening in Detroit traffic court on a drunk driving charge. His arrest, the subsequent delays in the trial and finally the court test itself kept Layne in the headlines for weeks.

★ ★ ★

Coach George Wilson, whose Lions led 3-0 at the half, told his squad in the dressing room at intermission that "you have to go out there and win one for Bobby."

"I know it may sound corny," said Wilson, "but I was steaming—and that's just the way I felt. We beat 'em good in the second half and it was for Layne."

Although Layne was tackled hard several times by Cleveland's defensive line, the injury came when he got his cleats stuck in the mud as three tacklers converged on him. The Lions were using extra-long cleats because of the muddy field.

★ ★ ★

The broken bone and dislocation will keep Layne out of action the rest of the season. The quarterbacking will be done by Rote and Jerry Reichow, the sophomore from Iowa who was shifted to end this season after the Lions acquired Rote in a trade from Green Bay.

"I still think we can win if our ball players want to win," said Wilson. "We have as good a chance as anybody—we're still in the race."

Michigan Evens Hoop Record

Balanced Offensive Produces 81-57 Win Over Nebraska

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Balanced scoring is the key to Michigan's future basketball success.

The Wolverines aren't capable of doing it in every game. But when they're hitting from the floor, any team they play is in for a struggle.

Nebraska learned the hard way Saturday that Michigan can score from the outside. The Cornhuskers tried a zone defense. M. C. Burton and Billy Wright ruined this strategy by popping in long ones.

After halftime, Nebraska changed to a man-to-man and Pete Tillotson and George Lee slipped through repeatedly to score from close up. Leading 36-31 at halftime, Michigan raced away in the final period to take a 81-57 victory, its first of the young season.

Four Wolverines scored in double figures. Tillotson was high with 23 points and Burton had 17, Lee 13 and Wright 12.

Michigan's benchwarmers are due to gain more experience this week when the Wolverines meet South Dakota State Wednesday and Washington of St. Louis Saturday, both at Ann Arbor.

Tough Week for Collegians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's only the second week of play in college basketball, but already the tests are getting a little tough. This could be a make or break week for the likes of Kentucky, Cincinnati, Bradley, Purdue and Indiana.

★ ★ ★

And it will give a better line for sure on Kansas State, Rice, Texas Christian, St. Louis, Temple and maybe even defending champ North Carolina and North Carolina State.

The only prospective powers who appear to have it easy are Kansas, Notre Dame, Michigan State and West Virginia.

★ ★ ★

The toughest job of all falls to Kentucky, which plays at Maryland tonight and then runs into St. Louis Saturday. The Wildcats are unbeaten in three, but look as though they can be had after fairly close calls against Duke, Ohio State, and then a three-overtime 85-83 decision over Temple. Maryland is 2-0 with a good defense, while St. Louis, showing sophomore strength, got off to a running start with a 96-41 victory New Mexico A&M.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati, pinning its hopes on sophomore Oscar Robertson who scored 28 at a point-a-minute clip in a convincing 105-49 victory over Indiana State, gets the big test tonight at home against Temple.

Bradley, the NIT champ ranked with St. Louis and Cincinnati as Missouri Valley kingpins, scarcely used its regulars, led by Barney Cable, in its opener against Illinois Normal. But come Saturday the Braves may have to hustle against Seattle and Elgin Baylor. Seattle opens against Portland State tonight.

Purdue (2-0) may be a late entry in the Big Ten race after surprising Missouri 76-49. The Boilermakers may find out for sure tonight at home against Kansas State.

Indiana, judged a title contender along with Michigan State and Ohio State in the Big Ten, now is 0-2, losing both at home. The Hoosiers play at Missouri Saturday.

Rice, heir apparent to Southern Methodist's Southwest crown, meets Louisiana State tonight, while Texas Christian, pegged No. 2 in the race, tries Oklahoma City tonight and then meets Auburn in the first round of the Birmingham Classic Friday.

The Tar Heels go against George Washington tomorrow, Furman Thursday and then South Carolina in an Atlantic Coast Conference TV game Saturday. The Wolfpack plays Clemson tonight, South Carolina tomorrow and Kentucky Saturday.

Notre Dame (2-0) after whipping Wisconsin 75-53, plays Nebraska tonight, Marquette Saturday.

Other tournament play this weekend pairs George Washington-Pitt, Duquesne-Miami (Ohio) in the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh; Cincinnati-Xavier (Ohio), St. Bonaventure-Marshall in the University of Cincinnati competition and Mississippi State - Miami (Fla.), along with TCU-Auburn at Birmingham. All three open Friday —the 13th.

Directors Meet Today

Contract Time for Lions

DETROIT (AP)—The board of directors of the Detroit Football Co. meet in regular session today and will offer coach George Wilson and his entire staff contracts for the 1958 National Football League season.

That move was anticipated even before the Lions beat Cleveland 20-7 yesterday. President Edwin J. Anderson has expressed satisfaction with Wilson's work and his assistants has publicly expressed hope that "these men will be with us for a long time."

Earlier there was a possibility that one, maybe two, of Wilson's assistants would be leaving after the current season —one of them to join Buddy Parker at Pittsburgh.

"That's all been taken care of," said a club official recently when questioned about it.

Saturday night at the Lions' alumni gathering Wilson said his staff—which includes Buster Ramsey, Aldo Forte, Red Cochran and Bob Nussbaumer—"has done a tremendous job" and said he hoped all of them would be back next season.

Bruins Blank Chicago, 3-0

Boston Creeps Toward 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The erratic Boston Bruins, who go through more ups and downs than a yo-yo, are pointing toward second place in the National Hockey League standings.

★ ★ ★

The third-place Bruins, a hard team to figure, have unobtrusively crept to within two points of the runner up New York Rangers after starting the season in real topsy-turvy fashion. Boston won its first four games only to lose the next six straight.

The Bostonians blanked the Chicago Black Hawks 3-0 last night while the slumping Rangers bowed to the Toronto Maple Leafs, 2-1. The league-leading Montreal Canadiens turned back the Detroit Red Wings 3-1 to boost their first place margin to seven points over New York.

★ ★ ★

In Saturday's action, Boston and Chicago played to a 2-2 tie in a nationally televised game, New York and Toronto tied 3-3 and Detroit edged Montreal 2-1.

Boston goalie Don Simmons handled 31 chances flawlessly in posting his second shutout as Jack Bionda, Vic Stasiuk and Real Chevrefils found the scoring range. The game was enlivened by a third period brawl, which was precipitated when Ian Cushenan of Chicago knocked Boston's Doug Mohns cold. Cushenan was assessed a match penalty and an automatic $50 fine.

Bobby Is Undecided About Retirement

DETROIT (AP)—Bobby Layne, who in the past has said a serious injury would lead him to retire from professional football, said today he would have to see how his broken ankle mends before deciding whether to play again.

Layne's right ankle was broken as he was trying to pass in the second quarter of Detroit's victory over the Cleveland Browns yesterday.

"I don't know yet how serious the injury is," he said.

Hoe, Rowboat Used to Save Stranded Doe

Volunteers Aid Deer After Animal Broke Through Ice

LAKE ODESSA (AP) — A conservation officer and two volunteers used a garden hoe and a rowboat to rescue a frightened deer that had broken through thin ice on Morrison Lake near here yesterday.

The trio, headed by conservation officer Louis Kahl of Ionia County, made its way to the struggling animal by breaking a path through the ice with the hoe. They then herded the deer to safety.

Kahl was called to the lake by Bobby Plants, about 13, of Lake Odessa, who saw the deer wander out on the ice and fall through. The boy's father joined in the rescue.

Kahl said the deer was close to exhaustion when it reached land. It lay resting for a few minutes and then bounded off into the woods.

Canadiens Keep Red Wings in Cellar

Montreal Takes 3-1 Decision at Detroit Olympia

Habs Lead NHL Race by Seven-Point Margin Ahead of Rangers

DETROIT (AP)—In happier times, when the Detroit Red Wings were the scourge of the National Hockey League, last night's 3-1 loss to the Montreal Canadiens might have been a post-game subject for gloom in the Motor City camp.

Naturally, nobody on the Wings' team was happy about the defeat but to understand the lack of self-recrimination fans could look back over a weekend campaign that also included a Saturday night 2-1 triumph over the mighty, league-leading Canadiens.

The Wings' 1-1 record for the weekend did nothing to improve their place in the NHL—they still are in a tie with Chicago for last place—but it was a morale booster which observers feel was needed.

Last night's contest under the lights at Olympia was a battle of goalies with Canadiens ace Jacques Plante stopping 31 shots at the cage to 25 for Terry Sawchuk of the Wings.

The first period saw the clubs playing on even terms but in the second Montreal's Jean Beliveau smashed the puck two feet off the ice for his 12th goal of the season.

★ ★ ★

The third period saw Montreal's Dickie Moore go on a scoring spree to complete the Canadiens' scoring.

The fast - moving forward pushed the Canadiens ahead early in the last period when he dashed the puck into the cage after taking a pass from Marcel Bonin.

The Wings' Alex Delvecchio came back minutes later to put Detroit in the scoring column with a solo dash the entire length of the rink which he climaxed with a bank-in shot off the Montreal goalpost.

Moore came back later to clinch the Montreal triumph with a close-range shot set up by Bonin.

The victory gave the Canadiens a seven-point margin over second-place New York in NHL standings.

Dodgers Still Need '58 Home

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Walter O'Malley begins a series of conferences with Los Angeles city and county officials today in an effort to try to nail down a 1958 home for his Dodgers.

★ ★ ★

His main objective will be to try to work out a financially satisfactory agreement with the commission which manages the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, the big oval where pro football draws crowds of up to 100,000.

So far the tab for use of that site has been too steep. However, public officials have shown repeatedly that they want to accommodate the Dodgers, and it is possible that something can be worked out.

O'Malley wants to use the Coliseum until he can build his new ball park, baseball's most modern, in Chavez ravine, assuming that he gets the ravine.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of the deal between him and the city forced the trade into a referendum vote with an initiative petition and the Dodger headman won't know whether the deal is solid until the voters have their say next June.

O'Malley looked at famed Rose Bowl over the weekend as another possible 1958 home grounds. But like the coliseum, it would take quite a bit of costly remodelling and it has the drawback of not being centrally located. However, the parking and other concessions go with it, which is not the case at the Coliseum.

In spite of his manifest dilemma, O'Malley seems to see his way out of it. He said that he had every hope of announcing his decision on where the Dodgers will play by next Monday.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Many bowlers make the mistake of releasing the ball at the bottom of the arc of the forward swing. It almost amounts to setting the ball on the alley and letting it roll itself.

Actually, the ball should be released as the armswing continues up and finishes in the follow-through motion shown today. This lifting motion allows the fingers to apply the finger lift which puts the necessary stuff on the ball.

The ball should be sent out over the foul line in the air before it touches the alley. It should land anywhere from a few inches to a foot and a half out beyond the foul line. Don't loft the ball several feet down the alley — this will only cause you to lose all the stuff which your fingers or wrist applied to the ball.

Setting the ball down behind the foul line can also cause such loss. In most cases, the bowler hasn't had a chance to apply any stuff.

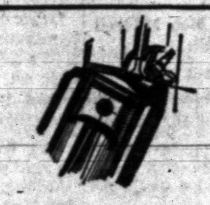

If your slide to the foul line brings you within a couple of inches of the line (and it should), the easy lifting motion of your wrist and fingers should send the ball out and over the foul line with no difficulty.

Lubanski Tops Men; Ladewig Leads Women

Ferndale's Mrs. Aldred Among 48 Qualifiers in Match Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — A pair of top-ranking Michigan bowlers, Mrs. Marion Ladewig and Eddie Lubanski, headed the semi-finalists into today's final preliminary play in the world's invitational match game tournament.

In both the men's and women's divisions, 48 bowlers will compete in double rounds today, the men rolling 12 games each and the women 8 each. The top 15 scores in each division will advance to tomorrow's head-to-head match play.

Mrs. Ladewig, six-time national champion of Grand Rapids, and Don Carter, St. Louis, all-star champion, are seeded into the match play. Both, however, were required to bowl in the preliminary rounds. The match play will continue through Friday night in the Chicago Coliseum when the champions will be crowned.

Lubanski shot his best six-game round of the meet yesterday, a 1,317 to total 5,179 for 24 games. He led second place Jimmy Carman, of Dallas, by 109 pins. The 19-year-old Texan, youngest bowler in the field of 160, posted 1,230 yesterday for a 5,070 total.

★ ★ ★

Lubanski, a 27-year-old brewery representative, shot games of 206-217-228-237-204-225. His previous high set was a 1,316 bowled the second day, which enabled him to more into second place.

Dick Weber of Brentwood, Mo., in 32nd place after the first days' shooting, finished third with 5,052. Weber shot 1,264 in his fourth round.

The best round yesterday was turned in by Steve Nagy, of the world's team match game champion Falstaffs, of St. Louis. Big Steve, tied for 34th after Saturday's round, rolled 1,410, the meet's second best six-game set, to vault into fifth place with 5,031. He was one behind Billy Golembiewski of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

It took at least a 4,756 to make the semifinals. This figure enabled Fred Ricilli, of Paramont, Calif., to grab the 48th place. Ricilli was 92d after Saturday's round, but a 1,267 yesterday enabled him to bridge the gap. The 48 were survivors from a starting field of 160.

Mrs. Ladewig had a 16-game total of 3,224 pins to lead the 64 women bowlers. She held a 68-pin lead over her nearest rival. Mrs. Ladewig, a 43-year-old grandmother, seeded into the finals, shot a 751 yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothy Aldred of Ferndale fired a 686 for a total of 2,953 pins to hold down a 28th place tie.

★ ★ ★

Low score to qualify in the women's division was 2,871, which was held by Marge Burton, of Detroit.

Avondale Hosts Oxford Tuesday

Skippers Open Play

By CHUCK ABAIR

The basketball teams of Waterford and Avondale will be among the last local contingents to swing into action as they debut in the feature contests of a slim area hoop card tomorrow night.

Only St. Michael will be left without a game under its belt after Tuesday since the Shamrocks do not open until next week.

Both Waterford and Avondale will be playing at home and are heavily favored to get off to strong starts.

New Skipper coach Gerry Wallace gets the first look at his crew against Cranbrook, while Avondale hosts Oxford.

★ ★ ★

Waterford has six lettermen back from the 1956-57 team which divided sixteen decisions but lost its key performers in Chuck Gillis, Ron Seets and Clayton Roth.

Wallace has built his attack around veteran starters Jim Devine and John Herrington. Also certain to see a lot of service are John Keating, Church Kirken, Chuck Liskey, Bob Mitchell and Barry Campbell.

Cranbrook has lost successive outings by wide margins to Walled Lake, Southfield and Birmingham despite the efforts of top scorers John Studebaker and Bob Klein. Each has 33 points for an 11 per game average.

★ ★ ★

Avondale was co-champion of the Oakland B league last season but was hard hit by graduation and is attempting to rebuild another power.

Jerry Hill (6-3) heads the four lettermen on the squad. He tallied 148 points a year ago. Ray Goforth, Chuck Nurek, Gary Acker and transfer Mike Walker may round out the starting unit for the Yellowjackets.

Oxford, small and lacking experience, was blasted by powerful Lake Orion Friday in its first appearnce.

★ ★ ★

There should be some other interesting game's on tomorrow's cage calendar. One will be at Royal Oak where old rivals Birmingham and Dondero match 1-0 records. Another may occur at Rochester where Utica becomes the 3rd foe to try to stop the Falcons.

Rounding out the variety of non-league action around Oakland County and surrounding areas will be such tilts as Ortonville at Goodrich, Madison at Ferndale St. James, Oak Park at L'Anse Creuse, Capac at Imlay City, North Branch at Lakeville, Redford St. Mary at Shrine and Mt. Clemens at Grosse Pointe.

Fans 'Fight' for Tickets

Big Day in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The guys down on the corner who seem to have no alma mater are the alumni for such professional football teams as the San Francisco 49ers—and yesterday was their "big game."

★ ★ ★

Except for 4,800 general admission tickets, the 49er-Baltimore showdown for the National Football League's Western Conference leadership was a sellout weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

So, hours before the game, more than 6,000 faithful stood in line outside Kezar Stadium throughout the cold night and morning yesterday—hoping to buy a ticket. Result: The biggest near-riot in the history of San Francisco sports. One man was hurt, four arrested, a ticket booth wrecked and 30 policemen kept mighty busy.

Other squadrons of ticketless fans motored to the hinterlands, some to points as far as Reno, Lake Tahoe and Fresno, to outflank the radius of the 100-mile television blackout of the game.

★ ★ ★

After the heart-stopping finish—in which rookie quarterback John Brodie hit end Hugh McElhenny in the end zone with a 14-yard pass—with 46 seconds to play—49er fans thronged to the city's night clubs and taverns to celebrate a 17-13 victory.

The jubiliation was occasioned by the fact that the 49ers' victory had put them in a three-way tie for the NFL Western Conference lead and in a position to shoot at the title.

New York Trips Hawks, 113-110

Youth Movement Starts to Pay Off as Knicks Win 4th Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knicks, stressing a youth movement in contrast to last season's veteran-studded National Basketball Assn. team, are starting to reap dividends on their new-look policy.

★ ★ ★

During the 1956-57 season the New Yorkers finished last in the Eastern Division and decided it was about time to clean house. In the off-season such "old reliables" as Sweets Clifton, Harry Gallatin, Dick McGuire and Jim Baechtold were either traded or released.

It took a while for some of the inexperienced youngsters to jell—but the Knicks currently are rolling along on a four-game winning streak.

★ ★ ★

New York spurted in the fourth quarter to throttle the St. Louis Hawks 113-110 last night. The Cincinnati Royals moved to within one game of the Hawks, the Western Division pace-setters, by whipping the Philadelphia Warriors 99-98 in the only other game played.

The Knicks advanced to third place in the Eastern Section as Philadelphia dropped to last, a half game behind. New York trails runnerup Syracuse by a half game.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

BUENOS AIRES—Pascual Perez, 108¼, Argentina, knocked out Young Martin, 112, Spain, 3. Perez retained world flyweight title.

Four Big 10 Quints Unbeaten

OSU Beaten Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big 10 basketball teams, with no help from highly rated Indiana and Ohio State, piled up a convincing record against non-conference foes in the first week of competition.

With Minnesota leading the way, Western Conference teams had a total of 14 victories and 7 losses.

Minnesota defeated Vanderbilt 89-85 Saturday for its third victory without defeat. Undefeated after two games were Illinois, Purdue, Iowa and Michigan State.

In Saturday's games, Illinois edged DePaul 75-50; Purdue beat Missouri 76-49; Iowa dumped Arizona 80-63, and Michigan defeated Nebraska 81-57. Northwestern lost to Kansas 71-65, and Wisconsin dropped a 75-53 decision to Notre Dame.

Indiana and Ohio State were beaten for a second time without victory. Indiana, defending co-champions, lost to Kansas State 66-61 and Ohio State was clipped by Butler 77-73 in overtime.

Both Indiana and Ohio State, along with Michigan State which won its second game without defeat Friday night, were considered the teams to beat in the Western Conference race which starts next month.

Off its early showing, Minnesota could develop into a strong club even though the Gophers will have to rely on sophomores. Iowa and Illinois also have started well despite sophomores as has Purdue which has shown signs of doing some heavy experimenting.

Three games are scheduled tonight with South Dakota at Northwestern, Kansas State at Purdue and Wisconsin at Washington of St. Louis.

George Kline and Ron Johnson were Minnesota's top scorers with 26 points each while Pete Tillotson had 23 for Michigan. Don Ohl and John Paul led Illinois' attack with 18 points each.

Archie Dees had 17 points for Indiana and Bill Greve hit 16 points for Purdue as coach Ray Eddy sent 18 players into the game.

Chinese Object to 'Hot' Dogs on Cafe Menus

TAIPEI, Formosa, (AP)—Police are cracking down on restaurants that serve their customers dog meat of stolen dogs.

★ ★ ★

There is no objection to dog meat, which is legal if it is acquired lawfully. In fact, some Taipei restaurants specialize in what they designate as "fragrant meat."

But the food's popularity has become a source of constant worry to dog owners. Thieves make no distinction between the finest pedigreed variety and the common mongrel.

★ ★ ★

Two men were arrested yesterday, and six dogs in their possession were saved from restaurant menus. Police say they will continue the drive.

Wheat Extends Previous Gains

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures advanced on the Board of Trade today, extending gains of the previous session.

Other grains and soybeans held about steady in mostly quiet dealings.

★ ★ ★

Strength in wheat futures stemmed from a good demand for cash wheat. Traders said there appears to be a shortage of red wheat, with the greatest demand coming from commercial interests.

This resuulted in buying of wheat futures and the nearby December delivery moved up nearly a cent a bushel in early dealings.

Corn futures prices changed only slightly in light trade. Commission houses were selling December, but offerings were well taken. Receipts of corn at Chicago over the weekend were 45 cars compared with 435 a week ago and 270 on the same day a year ago.

Rye followed the pattern of wheat. Soybeans were slightly higher at the outset, influenced by firmness in soybean oils.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to ⅝ higher, Dec. $2.20¾; corn ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. $1.17⅝; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, Dec. 65¾; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. $1.37¾; soybeans ⅛; lower to ⅜ higher, Jan. $2.32; and lard was 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, Dec. $12.42.

Big Rapids to Try Again for Hospital Bond Issue

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — A citizens group has elected Victor F. Spathelf, president of Ferris Institute, as chairman of a committee to lead a campaign for a new election on a bond issue for construction of an addition to Big Rapids Community Hospital.

City voters defeated a $260,000 bond issue for the project last Nov. 26.

Meanwhile, a check for $250,000 toward the proposed construction has been offered by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taggart of Big Rapids, providing the city passes a reduced bond issue of $200,000 for the hospital project.

Dean Lloyd Emmons Dies at East Lansing

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dean Lloyd C. Emmons, dean emeritus of the school of Science and Arts at Michigan State University, died Sunday after an illness of several months. He was 70.

He retired in 1952 but was called back to serve as acting director of the MSU museum, and later as assistant director, a position he held at his death.

Dean Emmons, as a long time member and chairman of the university athletic committee from 1945 to 1952, was instrumental in the school's admittance to the Big Ten Conference in 1948.

He was MSU's first faculty representative.

Stock Prices Sag Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices sagged slightly in quiet trading after a moderately active opening today.

Losses among pivotal issues went from fractions to around a point or so. There were a few small gainers.

★ ★ ★

Biggest opening block was 7,000 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, up ⅝ at 15 following news of a price rise by a producer of sulphur out of Mexico.

Aircrafts were the most actively traded group as plans were afoot for several missile tests this week following last week's failure with the Vanguard project. Martin Co., prime contractor for the Vanguard, was about unchanged after Friday's sharp loss.

General Dynamics was up slightly. Boeing and North American Aviation were steady. Douglas Aircraft and Lockheed slipped a bit.

★ ★ ★

Steels edged lower as reports came of the sharpest roduction cutbacks since 1954. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel took fractional losses.

Motors and oils also were lower, but rails and rubbers were mixed, while mail order stocks were steady.

Du Pont and Allied Chemical were off more than a point in a depressed chemical group. International Nickel was off around a point.

Jakarta Reports Inter-Island Shipping Paralyzed

Unions Take Over 3 Major Dutch Banks

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's defense minister issued an order tonight putting all Dutch-owned plantations and allied factories, research institutions and enterprises under the direct supervision of the government.

★ ★ ★

The step was announced as fears spread of an economic collapse, paced by the failure of three major Dutch banks in Jakarta to open this morning. The banks, seized by Indonesian trade unionists Saturday in defiance of government orders, reopened later this afternoon under the combined supervision of the army, police and the Bank of Indonesia.

★ ★ ★

The banks, which do a major share of Indonesian business, reopened after negotiations among Dutch bankers, military officials and union representatives. Money circulation had been drastically curtailed during the shutdown.

Defense Minister Djuanda Kartawidjaja's order for government supervision of plantations and allied industries and enterprises did not make clear whether they were being confiscated. It could be a move, however, to forestall further seizures by workers of Indonesia's rich revenue-producing rubber, tea and other estates.

★ ★ ★

The order applied to estates jointly owned by the Dutch and Indonesians, as well as purely Dutch firms. It directed all managers and workers in these enterprises to carry on work as usual and to avoid activities detrimental to their progress. The workers and managers were told to follow directives of the minister of agriculture.

★ ★ ★

Soldiers replaced union guards at the doors of the three big banks in Jakarta that had been sized by the workers. Their ultimate fate—whether they will be nationalized or handed back to the Dutch—apparently was left undecided.

Directors of the banks told the government they could not operate unless there was an easing of the anti-Dutch campaign launched a week ago in an effort to pressure the Netherlands into giving up West New Guinea.

★ ★ ★

Seizures by the workers already have paralyzed interisland shipping and the principal export-import firms. Reports reaching Jakarta indicated workers also are taking over concerns handling Indonesia's major exports—rubber, tin, copra, coffee, tea and palm oil. Some reports said the Dutch were trying a scorched earth policy rather than hand over their stocks.

★ ★ ★

The first major group of Dutch leaving in response to the Indonesian demand for evacuation of was reported starting out Wednesday.

The immigration office issued 250 exit permits for men, women and children, including most of the employes of the KLM Royal Dutch Airline. The government banned KLM operations in Indonesia at the start of the anti-Dutch campaign.

Reports said the first evacuees would be moved out on planes chartered from Air India, the Australian Qantas Line and British Overseas Airways Corp.

★ ★ ★

The Indonesian army's only ammunition depot and small arms factory, in Bandung, 100 miles south of Jakarta, blew up last night and about 20 soldier guards were believed killed.

The government announced no details but there was no indication that the tremendous series of explosions was the result of sabotage.

PUBLISHERS HONOR GM — The "constructive relationship" between General Motors and American newspapers during 50 years of progress was cited as GM President Harlow H. Curtice (left) received an award from top representatives of the newspaper industry. The award, a gold-plated stereotype plate in a handsome case, was presented by Richard L. Jones Jr., president of the Tulsa World and Tribune, on behalf of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. The award, taking note of Curtice's personal contributions to the half century of progress which GM will mark in its "Golden Milestone" year of 1958, was made at a meeting of GM executives and publishers from throughout the nation at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Farmers Dwindling; Benson Has Idea

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of farms in the nation has been declining steadily. And today there are those who think Uncle Sam should speed the process by paying farmers to find jobs in town.

★ ★ ★

This is one of many schemes put forward to help Agriculture Secretary Benson grapple with the problem of huge farm production surpluses in a price-supported farm economy—and to ease the burden on the taxpayer.

Agriculture Department figures show the decline in farms has been running at around 150,000 a year. Many are absorbed into other farms, with the average size rising steadily and the farm population dropping.

★ ★ ★

The National Industrial Conference Board, in a study issued today, says the trend toward larger farms reflects more intensive mechanization, which means greater output from fewer workers.

The Committee for Economic Development, in a study also issued today, says that the trend to larger farms doesn't mean the family farm is on the way out, but rather that the one-family farm is being adjusted to modern technology and mechanization. It adds: "Corporation farms attract attention because in most places they are so rare."

★ ★ ★

The 134,000 farms with sales of $25,000 and over in 1954 were only three per cent of the nation's total. But they produced 31 per cent of the farm products sold.

The Institute of Life Insurance notes there are now about 1½ million farm operators who work off the farm 100 days or more a year, compared with 700,000 in 1930.

In addition to their off-farm pay, the farmers' income is being raised by pensions, interest on savings and other benefits.

Among ways to better the present farm policy, the CED advocates gradual reduction of price supports to zero and a new land retirement plan to help farmers move to other work.

This acreage cutting plan differs from Benson's soil bank plan by concentrating on getting whole farms out of production instead of just idling part of a farm.

★ ★ ★

The CED says the number of farms to be retired would be tied to the amount of existing farm surpluses at the time the plan takes effect. It would be aimed at farms returning the poorest incomes.

Judge's Yule Wish: To Help Them

Mayville Couple Asking for 2 More Youngsters

MUSKEGON (AP)—Probate Judge Harry H. Geoghan says his Christmas wish would be fulfilled this year if he could help grant a request mailed him from a couple at Mayville near Saginaw.

He said the writers asked any help he could give them or the probate judge in their district.

"We come to you to help us find two more youngsters, girls preferred, twins would be perfect, but we would consider any youngsters from 5 to 8 . . . Who could benefit from the many things we can offer them," the couple wrote.

Sixteen years ago, their letter continued, the couple adopted twin daughters one year old.

"We took them into our home, loved and cared for them until they were 17, tall, graceful and charming seniors in high school . . .," the letter said.

It added they were enrolled this fall to attend their church college next year. "We can offer so much to two little people," the letter read, "and we're sure there are two little ones who need what we have to offer . . ."

The twin girls, the couple wrote, died instantly in a recent auto crash on their way to a school party.

Waterford Barn Burns Down

Firemen Fight Blaze Four Hours; Owners Away at Time

Waterford Township firemen battled a barn fire for more than four hours last night on Pontiac Lake road across from the Oakland County Road Commission offices.

The barn, which was burned to the ground, was owned by Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Robb of 2575 Miller Rd., Waterford Township, who were notified of the fire this morning.

Officials were unable to ascertain the owners until the township offices opened today.

Waterford Township Police rerouted traffic because of hoses extending from the Road Commission's water supply to the fire.

The barn was partially insured. Dr. Robb said that there was a $3,500 loss. An unidentified person reported the fire. Its origin is undetermined.

STAYTON, Ore. (AP) — Three children died early today in a house fire two miles east of this western Oregon town.

The blaze broke out at 1:25 a.m. in a two-story frame house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Leroy Pollreisc and their four children.

The parents managed to escape with only one youngster, 13-month-old Albert Leroy.

A-C Sparkplug to Make Missile Guidance Parts

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Plans to launch volume production of inertial guidance systems for Thor ballistic missiles have been announced by the A-C Sparkplug Division of General Motors Corp.

A spokesman for the firm's Milwaukee plant said the division has been building the systems on a limited basis for several months but added that a new Air Force order "will boost output tremendously."

Martin J. Caserio, manager of A-C's Milwaukee plant, said some of the precision work on the systems will be done at the division's Flint, Mich., plant.

Caserio, commenting on the new order, said, "The Air Force Ballistics Missile Program can be compared only to the famed Manhattan project that developed the Atomic Bomb in World War II."

He revealed that A-C engineers have been working on inertial guidance since 1950 with cooperation from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Accuracy of our guidance can only be described as fantastic," Caserio said. "While military security does not permit more detailed information, it suffices to say that if a plane equipped with A-C guidance was flown from Milwaukee to Los Angeles, it would arrive over the runway without the pilot once touching the controls."

Barry May Testify in Twelve Town Trial

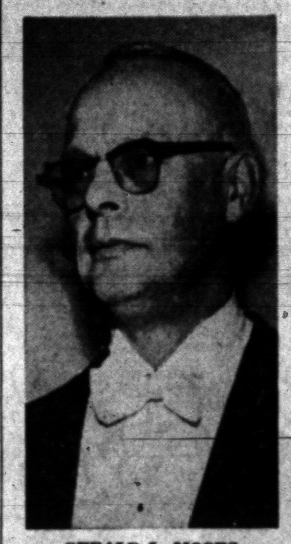

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry is expected to be recalled to the stand when the four-day-old trial of suits against the $41 million Twelve Town relief drains is resumed tomorrow.

When the case was adjourned Friday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, Barry was testifying in detail about progress made on the project since he took office at the beginning of the year.

Officials for Southfield Township and Troy, the two communities that brought the suits, said they intended to probe changes made in the drain since the last public hearing on it nearly two years ago.

Designed to relieve seasonal flooding in 13 southeastern Oakland County communities, the drain was stalled when Southfield and Troy filed suit last year.

Both communities say the project has proceeded unconstitutionally, with their apportioned shares of the total cost being set too high by the county drainage board.

Princess, Lover Radioed Appeal to 'Come Home'

TOKYO (AP)—The disconsolate mother of a teenage Manchu princess, missing five days with her youthful lover, today pleaded in a radio broadcast, "All is forgiven—you can marry."

★ ★ ★

The appeal was made as police pushed a five-day hunt for the couple into the foothills of Mt. Fuji, 100 miles southwest of Tokyo.

The 19-year-old Eisei Aishinkakura, is the niece of Henry Pu-yi, last of the Manchu emperors of China. He is now in a Red Chinese political prison.

★ ★ ★

She disappeared from home with Takemichi Okubo, 19, son of a northern Japan railway executive.

The couple, reportedly forbidden by Eisei's family to see each other, left behind a note saying they intended to commit suicide. Police said they are continuing the search on the assumption the lovers are still alive.

★ ★ ★

"Eisei! Takemichi!" Mrs. Aishinkakura sobbed over the radio. "Please come home . . . All is forgiven . . . You can marry or do as you desire."

Indonesian Families Stuck in Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP)—Nearly 800 Indonesians and their families have been stranded in Singapore aboard 27 ships of the Dutch KPM Line. The ships were diverted after the Indonesian government took over the Dutch line in Jakarta after Communist-led workers seized its headquarters and ships in Indonesian waters.

★ ★ ★

A KPM spokesman said he was awaiting instructions from Amsterdam on ways of getting the passengers to their destinations. He added that 156 Indonesian soldiers and policemen and their families stranded on KMP vessels have been put on other ships to reach their destinations. Another 63 soldiers are still in Singapore.

Killed Trying to Salvage 500-Pound Dud Bomb

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—A 500-pound bomb that H. I. Reed of Brawley was trying to salvage from a Navy target range in the desert exploded and killed him yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Navy authorities said Reed, 59, built a fire around the dud bomb to burn the powder out, and then withdrew about 40 yards. When it exploded a chunk of metal struck him in the back.

Network Vetoes Kirby to Take Over for Garry

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Garry Moore, out of loyalty, hoped Durward Kirby'd take over his TV show in '58. But the CBS "corporate mind" thinks of D. K. (a very funny guy) as an announcer.

WILSON

Comedian Dick Van Dyke of Danville, Ill., New Orleans, Atlanta, Miami and Brookville, L. I., who subs for Garry in January, is possible heir to the job. Garry's pals can't envision him doing "educational TV"—"a guy that's been writing jokes since he was 19!" they shriek.

No Advance Publicity Expected Now

Scientists Intensify Efforts to Launch U.S. Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army and Navy rocket scientists intensified their efforts today to match Soviet achievements in space in the wake of Friday's satellite launching fizzle.

There were strong indications that efforts would be made to keep the glare of worldwide publicity off the projects until a U. S. satellite is fired into the skies where two Russian Sputniks now are whirling around the earth.

★ ★ ★

There has been no official confirmation that the Army will move actively into the satellite-launching effort, but an informed civilian source said the Army has been given firm orders to go ahead.

Heretofore the U. S. satellite program has been under exclusive direction of the Navy, now preparing for a new launching attempt after the test failure at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Officially, the Army has been under somewhat vague orders to prepare for a satellite launching.

Army missilemen will use their Jupiter-C test vehicle—a rocket device they have claimed could have beaten the Russians into space by six months.

Target dates for new launching attempts by either the Navy or the Army appeared unlikely to be announced in view of the controversy over the wide publicity which preceded the Navy Project's failure.

President Eisenhower was expected to receive a full report on the Navy's Vanguard test failure within the next couple of days. He already has received a brief preliminary report, not made public.

Vice President Nixon called for Americans to abandon a "defeatist and self-deprecatory attitude" he said he found after Friday's satellite fizzle.

★ ★ ★

Stressing that Vanguard is a scientific and not a military project, Nixon said Americans should leave their "weeping walls" and get on with a missile program that will top the Russians.

"Sure we failed," he said. "We have before and we will again. But we need to keep our sense of proportion. We haven't overnight lost our sense of proportion, or ability to get things done."

★ ★ ★

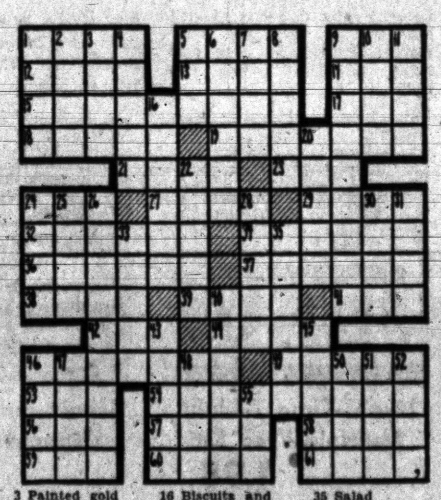

At Cape Canaveral, meanwhile, a bustle of activity appeared to signify a busy week ahead in other missile fields. Newsmen observing the American missile test center speculated that launchings might include both the 1,500-mile Jupiter and the Air Force Atlas—a 5,000-mile-range weapon.

There also were signs of preparations for firing an Army Redstone 200-mile range rocket and an Air Force 1,500-mile Thor, observers said.

Wants Women to Appear Chic

Singer Believes Fans Expect and Deserve to See Glamor on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)— Many women television performers "are trying so hard to look natural that they come out looking like a sack of beans."

★ ★ ★

That's not this department talking. It's singer Jane Morgan, who is blonde and beautiful and does not look at all like a sack of beans.

Maintaining a position of stolid male neutrality on the subject of women's clothing, we merely report what Miss Morgan tells us:

"Too many women performers are forgetting they should be show business personalities. They come on camera wearing dresses that any self - respecting housewife wouldn't wear to the grocery store.

★ ★ ★

Still quoting Miss Morgan, who makes many TV guest appearances besides producing hit records and playing nightclubs:

"These women are supposed to represent the chic and glamor of America to the world—and look at them! They make thousands of dollars and wear only one cheap dress in a half-hour show.

COSTUME VARIETY

"In nightclub performances women go to great pains and expense to create variety of costume in a half-hour performance. Personally I spend $1,000 apiece for gowns when I'm playing clubs.

★ ★ ★

"People expect and deserve to see glamor in their performers. But on television women aren't glamorous any more; they're merely casual. The American viewing public is getting gypped and it doesn't like it."

Miss Morgan believes that Dinah Shore started the "casual look" in TV women performers.

Miss Shore, to quote Miss Morgan, can get away with it because she's a great performer and varies casual attire with "glamorous" dresses.

★ ★ ★

But numerous young ladies who have imitated Miss Shore's casual TV manner simply haven't been able to match her taste in clothing, says Miss Morgan.

★ ★ ★

She names names. But you won't read them here. Who wants to get caught in the middle of a ladies' clothing war?

Red Skelton Slips on Walnut, Injures Ankle

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Red Skelton fell down the stairs of his Bel-Air home last night and suffered a possible fracture of his right ankle.

The accident put him in bed and necessitated the use of an emergency filmed show for his Tuesday night television series.

"Bo Roos (Skelton's business manager) and I were upstairs playing with the kids' electric trains," Skelton said, "when Georgia called me downstairs to see a television show. As I came down the stairs I stepped on a walnut that the dog had been chewing on, and that's the last I remember."

Predict South Korea Will Cut Its Military

SEOUL (AP) — Reliable National Assembly sources today said South Korea will cut its 720,000-man armed forces by 5 per cent in 1958.

★ ★ ★

The decision, subject to Assembly approval, was made at a recent meeting of the Assembly's subcommittee on the national defense budget, the sources said.

Defense Minister Kim Chung Yul testified before the subcommittee that he favors the cut and his ministry could implement the decision without endangering the nation's security.

★ ★ ★

The Assembly sources said the cut would save $7,600,000 which could be used to improve the military diet and medical care.

Little Sheikdom Bans Eli Lilly Corp. of U.S.

BAHRAIN (AP)—The British-protected sheikdom of Bahrain announced today that it has blacklisted the Eli Lilly International Corp. of the United States as part of the Arab boycott against firms doing business with Israel.

★ ★ ★

Products of the Indiana firm and of Britain's Imperial Chemical Industries will be banned from the oil-rich Persian Gulf island.

★ ★ ★

The government also announced that five ships—two Dutch, two Italian and one French — have been blacklisted.

Montreal Man Sells Embattled Road to Vermont

GLEN SUTTON, Que. (AP)—Paul DiPaolo of Montreal has accepted a $2,200 offer from Vermont for a 600-foot stretch of his land crossed by a road linking two Vermont communities.

★ ★ ★

DiPaolo, who owns an area of farm land at the international border, has been bickering with Vermont officials since last summer over rights to the stretch of road on the Canadian side. He has built blockades across the road periodically but residents of the area have torn them down.

★ ★ ★

He felled trees across the road last week, forcing residents of the area to make a long detour when traveling between the Vermont towns of North Troy and East Richford.

DiPaolo originally demanded $10,000 from the Vermont government.

The road has been in existence for decades.

Yugoslavia to Extend Independent Policy

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia has told the United States she will continue her independent foreign policy, diplomatic sources said today.

The assurance was given by President Tito last Friday when he received U.S. Ambassador James Riddleberger on the island of Brioni. Foreign Minister Koca Popovic also attended the conference, which lasted more than an hour.

★ ★ ★

Yugoslav recognition of Communist East Germany alarmed the Western world. Some took it as a sign that Yugoslavia was returning to the Soviet bloc.

Diplomats gave this report of the conference:

★ ★ ★

Tito repeated to Riddleberger the already published Yugoslav reasons for recognizing East Germany, including that he believes unification of Germany can be achieved only if the two German states negotiate between themselves. The same view is held by the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Tito also insisted that in recognizing East Germany, Yugoslavia followed her own line and did not act to please the Soviet bloc.

2 'Hot' Turkeys May Also Prove Fatal to Thief

LONDON (INS) — Poultry theft isn't a hanging offense in Britain, but it's likely to cost a certain turkey snatcher his life if he feasts on a couple of birds copped from a Wiltshire farm.

The thief, or thieves, didn't know it, but he got two turkeys that had been fed arsenic to aid in breeding and fighting disease. The arsenic isn't fatal to the turkeys, but it could kill someone eating them.

Police were doing their best to spread the word. Patrol cars cruised villages near the farm warning residents—and the thief, in particular—not to eat the hot and lethal birds.

Urges Reduction of Dependence

Middle East's Oil and Suez Canal Listed as Overemphasized

LONDON (AP)—George F. Kennan, former top State Department policy planner, last night urged the West to reduce its dependence on the Suez Canal and Middle East oil.

Speaking of areas susceptible to Red penetration, Kennan said: "Until we learn to live without these people, we shall find it hard to live with them."

★ ★ ★

Kennan said in a radio address that the West must make clear to the Soviet Union that in the Middle East there is "a point beyond which we cannot and will not be driven." Once that line is drawn, he added, the Russians "will not be long in appreciating the advantages to themselves of a fair settlement of political differences."

★ ★ ★

Kennan said that short of an intrusion by Soviet troops in the Middle East, "there is nothing that could happen there that would be worth the risk of a world war."

He warned the West against appeasing underdeveloped nations that threaten to turn to Moscow unless they receive economic aid.

"Surely there is one answer to such threats," he said, "and this is: 'Very well, then, go. Our interest may suffer but you will suffer first'."

man who found things so bad that he had to borrow the matches to start the fire in his store . . . Harry Oliver says in his Desert Rat Scrapbook that at those swanky desert resorts you're apt to see a lot of ten-gallon hats on five-gallon heats.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Hoping to find his way to Santa Land Prince Richard travels with Mr. Maxim's circus as the Strongest Boy in the World.

Chapter Five
KING IGNATZ

Night after night the circus played in a different town and before long Richard was far away from the Kingdom of Mitzenpoo.

Never had he imagined there were so many kingdoms in the world. They travelled through Amapala and Mendooza and the Empire of Vundawa. They played in Helsinberg and Glendarrow and the Kingdom of Ballyshannon. They put on shows in Bacharach and Trinon and the Principality of Kismoor.

★ ★ ★

Everywhere they went Richard asked, "Is this North? Are we near the North Pole?"

And everywhere the answer was the same, "Not yet. We'll get there by and by."

But the truth of it was they travelled in circles and zigs and zags and if one day they were closer to Santa Land the next day they were farther away.

★ ★ ★

At last they came to the Kingdom of Ketchikan where the cruel King Ignatz ruled. The people in Ketchikan were grim faced and sad eyed and the children never laughed.

Mr. Maxim put up his circus tent but when the time came to start the show there was no one there to see it. So he took Richard and went into the town.

"Why does no one come to the show?" he asked the market men.

"We have no money for shows or fun," replied the market men. "All our money goes for taxes to support the king."

★ ★ ★

In Mitzenpoo Richard's father had never taxed the people. He gave to the people. He never took from them. So now Richard asked in surprise, "Why does your king need so much money?"

"To pay his soldiers," said the market men. "King Ignatz plans to conquer the whole world. Last year he conquered Rivertania and the year before it was Kressmere. Ketchikan will be a very large kingdom when he finishes."

The market men told of cruel King Ignatz.

"Well," said Mr. Maxim. "No one here seems very happy about it."

"We are not happy," said the market men. "We are hungry and cold and we long for laughter. But what can one do?"

"I'll tell you what," said Mr. Maxim. "We'll put on a show free for you. Anyone can come tonight and the cost is nothing."

★ ★ ★

The market men were delighted. They passed the word to all their neighbors and that night everyone in the town squeezed into the big circus tent.

But just as the elephant act was about to begin there was the sound of shouting outside and King Ignatz and a troop of guards burst into the tent.

"What goes on here?" screamed the king. "Where do the people get the money for circuses and such? All money goes to me, the king!"

★ ★ ★

"Your majesty," said Mr. Maxim, "the circus is free tonight. We are giving it to amuse your people."

"I do not want my people to be amused," shouted the king. "They are meant only to work and work and work."

He waved his sword angrily and his guards pushed and shoved and carried all the poor people from the tent. When they all had gone King Ignatz sat down and said, "Now amuse me, and if you don't amuse me I'll have all of you locked up."

★ ★ ★

So the elephants and the trapeze artists and the bareback riders and the clowns and the lion tamer put on their acts for the king.

But all the time, King Ignatz sat stony faced with never a smile and it was easy to see he was not amused.

"Get the Strong Boy!" cried Mr. Maxim to the clowns. "He's our last chance!"

But, alas, Richard, the Strong Boy, was nowhere to be found.

Two Neighbors Catch One Fish Month Apart

LOWESTOFT, England (AP)—Two men who live in the same apartment building in Pakefield, five miles from Lowestoft, reported today they caught the same fish one month apart.

★ ★ ★

The fish, a two-pound whiting, was first caught in November by Colin Humphreys, an official of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries. In the interest of research, he put it back in the North Sea with a numbered tag attached to a fin.

★ ★ ★

Over the weekend B.J.W. Hawker, Humphreys' neighbor, caught the fish while fishing from the same spot on the Lowestoft beach.
