structure, which will be four times as large as the current Administration Building on Oakland Avenue, is expected to be ready for occupancy in the summer of 1968. Nearly 1,000 employees will move into the new building when it is completed.

EVERETT, Mass. (AP) — A Boston & Maine one-car diesel passenger train smashed into a fuel oil truck stalled with frozen brakes on a street crossing early today. Twelve persons died as flames engulfed the train and the truck.

Officials said there may have been up to 35 persons aboard the train. No definite check was available on the number aboard the local run.

Chelsea Fire Chief Herbert Fothergill said most of the victims were trapped in the train for 20 minutes until the fire was put out. He said firemen used their bare hands to extricate the passengers.

A fireman said one door was blocked "because there was a body lying on the other side."

Policeman Ralph DeVito said he and officer George Stewart "tried breaking the windows with our night sticks but that wouldn't work. We couldn't open the door because there was this guy trying to get out the door with his head stuck through the window."

"We pushed him away but then there was so much smoke we couldn't see."

Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston said it received nine dead from burns and four injured. Whidden Hospital in Everett said it received two dead and 10 injured.

Chelsea Naval Hospital received one dead and two injured. One injured was taken to Chelsea Memorial Hospital.

Police said at least two of the injured were not train passengers. One was a fireman, Nunzio Iozza, and the other was a Navy corpsman, John Mann, 30, both overcome by smoke while helping to carry the dead and injured from the scene.

Police said Mann, a passerby, made one trip to Chelsea Naval Hospital giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Marine Sgt. David R. Cosgrove, 30, of Lynn, returned to the crash scene and was overcome.

NEAR BOSTON

Everett is an industrial community on the outskirts of Boston.

Police said the driver of the fuel truck, Raymond Bouley, 29, of Billerica told them his brakes froze as he reached the crossing on Second Street and the vehicle stalled.

Area Braces for Snowfall

Freezing Rain Likely

Michigan braced itself today for an expected heavy snowfall, the first of the winter.

The U. S. Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings, predicted snow ranging from 1 to 3 inches in southern sections, including the Pontiac area, and up to 8 inches in the Upper Peninsula.

Freezing rain or rain mixed with snow was forecast for the Pontiac-Detroit area and southwest Lower Michigan.

Strong winds of up to 35 miles per hour also were predicted.

Pontiac has already received 23 inches of snow. Thirteen inches fell in November and 10 inches early this month. Only 23 1/2 inches fell in the area during the entire season last winter.

TO LOW 30s

Temperatures falling to the low 20s tonight will rise to the low 30s tomorrow.

For the next five days, temperatures are expected to average near the normal high of 31 to 34 and low of 18 to 21. Minor day-to-day temperature changes will be indicated.

Snow flurries totaling near one-half inch are predicted for tomorrow and again during the weekend.

A low of 17 and a light snow was recorded prior to 8 a.m. At 2 p.m., the mercury registered 27.

"It would go faster if it were an eight instead of a six. Do you know anybody who's eight?"

FREAK ACCIDENT—Three occupants of this automobile escaped injury today when a private plane landed on top of the car on the Baltimore-Washington Parkway in nearby Anne Arundel County, Md. The wheels of the Piper Colt crashed through the canvas top and came to rest in the back seat of the car. The car then went out of control and struck the side of a bridge. The two pilots were not injured.

BURNED-OUT CAR — This is the interior of the burned-out Boston & Maine passenger train where 12 died in a fire early today following a collision with a stalled fuel oil truck in Everett, Mass. One fire official said most of the victims were trapped in the train for 20 minutes until the blaze was put out. (Other picture, page A-2.)

Waterford Is Mopping Up the Water

Two working crews were expected to restore normalcy in the Waterford Township water supply system before going home today.

A malfunction in the system early today caused several hot water pressure release valves to pop in homes, awakening the occupants who heard gushing water.

Despite the disorder, water service in the township was maintained, a spokesman said. At least 25 complaints were phoned in to the township police and fire departments and to the Detroit Edison Co. by affected citizens.

Complaints ranged from broken water heaters, pipes and softeners to leaking water. Most of the calls originated from the Huron Gardens area in the southeastern part of the township which borders Pontiac.

A spokesman for the township water supply system said the trouble stemmed from a malfunctioning electrical switch which controlled the nine water pumps in operation last night.

Located at the system's Tubbs Road facility, the switch was relaying a faulty signal to the pumps which, consequently, continued to operate when they should have stopped.

DIRT ON SWITCH

It was theorized that some dirt may have gotten on the electrical switch, which is about the size of a pin head.

The whole township was under high pressure, said Alfred Beamblossom, an official of the water supply system, who shut down the pumps at 2 a.m.

Pressure release valves should be geared to pop when the water pressure exceeds 125 pounds.

Township officials were busy checking for broken water mains and handling individual complaints today.

WATER MAINS

One water main and three house service lines were reported broken. Some basements were flooded.

One complainant said the top of his water softener blew off with such force it put a hole in a tile ceiling in his basement.

Another resident said he (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

A Christmas Report

Viet: No Peace on Earth

By BOB HOPE

SAIGON (Special) — This column was written on Christmas Day. I'm mentioning the date more to remind myself of the season — because many of the things we see are far from Christmasy. . . . Our armed chopper was about to land, when the pilot gave us the weather report: "We are now landing at Di-An Outpost, the temperature is 96 degrees, and there is light-to-moderate ground fire . . ."

Of course, once we were on the ground, there were some reminders of the season: The tanks were decorated with holly, and on the gun turrets was scrawled, "Merry Christmas . . ."

I asked Billy Mitchell, a lanky Pfc. from Maysville, Ky., if there's been any action nearby, and he said: "Just don't take any long walks . . ."

I must tell you about the guy who introduced me here at the home of "The Big Red One." His name is Sgt. Kirk James, from Brooklyn, N.Y., and he just received the Distinguished Service Cross.

BREAKS UP ATTACK

He single-handedly broke up a Vietcong attack a few weeks ago, wiped out a couple of machine gun nests, and — although wounded in the face — crawled during the four-hour battle from emplacement to emplacement helping the wounded, and shouting encouragement to his buddies. He typifies the new breed — a sort of Audie Murphy, model 66 . . .

Our second show on Christmas Day was a brand new spot for us, Ku Chi, which is a new home for the Tropic Lightning, which is what the 25th Infantry Division proudly calls itself.

I've played to these guys since 1941 — and wouldn't be surprised if some of the sons of my original audience were among the guys who enjoyed the show here in Vietnam . . .

Before and during the show there was a battle going on a few miles away, and the constant thump of artillery was uncomfortably close. All through the show I couldn't help wondering what this place must be like when there is no "truce."

I can't recall seeing so many armored half-tracks and tanks around a show site, and we never appreciated it more . . .

Pontiac GM Plants Top Record Payroll

Employee payrolls at the three General Motors plants in Pontiac rose to a record high of $33.8 million during 1966, an increase of $16 million over last year.

In addition, GM expenditures for services and goods purchased from area companies topped the $100-million mark for the first time in history.

The year-end statement was released jointly today by Martin J. Caserio, GM vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division; John Z. DeLoe, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division; and Thomas F. Wietoria, Fisher Body plant manager.

Combined GM employment in Pontiac averaged 37,500 for the year, up 2,300 from 1965.

During the past year, local GM employees invested more than $8.1 million in U.S. Savings Bonds through payroll deduction. In addition, they were awarded $731,360 for ideas submitted through the GM Suggestion Plan, an increase of more than $279,000 over last year.

Employee contributions to the 1966 Pontiac United Fund totaled $617,747, compared to $483,256 a year ago. In addition, General Motors made a corporate gift of $165,000 to this year's local campaign.

In 1966, several new sales and production records were established at Pontiac area GM installations.

On Jan. 2, 1966, Pontiac Motor produced the one-millionth Tempest, just five years after its introduction. A new all-time monthly production record was set in June when 89,123 Pontiacs and Tempests were built. And, for the 1966 model year, Pontiac surpassed another milestone when 831,331 units were produced.

At GMC Truck & Coach, a new single-order record was set during 1966 when the New York Transit Authority contracted for 682 air-conditioned buses, valued at $23 million. A second major order, placed by Greyhound Corp., called for 200 intercity buses worth $10 million.

New plant construction in the Pontiac area during 1966 included Pontiac Motors' announcement of plans for a 280,000 square foot manufacturing plant, and a new five-story administration building.

In September, Caserio, former general manager of AC Spark Plug Division and a General Motors vice president, succeeded Calvin J. Werner as general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division. Werner, a General Motors vice president, became general manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division.

Quake Jars Chile; Port Half-Destroyed

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A violent earthquake shook northern Chile early today and destroyed about 50 per cent of the houses and buildings in the nitrate port city of Talati, officials reported.

One death was reported at Talati. A boy was killed by a falling wall. Three other persons were reported injured there.

The earthquake struck about 100 miles north of Santiago in the provinces of Tarapaca, Antofagasta and Atacama.

A spokesman at the City Hall in Antofagasta said panic gripped the city and army and police units were called out to maintain order and help in rescue operations.

The spokesman told of the death in Talati and the destruction in the port. Talati, a town of about 10,000, contains mostly old buildings of flimsy construction.

Water mains were ruptured there and power lines were down. Army trucks were rushed in with water supplies.

Much of Chile's big copper industry is located in the area.

Forecasters Forecast Improved Forecasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States' weather chief predicted today that two-weeks-in-advance weather forecasts for any part of the world will be possible within 10 or 15 years.

They would predict the weather, fair or foul, for each day over that span, and could lead to enormous dollar savings.

President-day capabilities of three-days-ahead forecasts even in the United States are pretty

DWIGHT EISENHOWER

Ike Leaves Hospital; Trip West Eyed

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has returned to his snow-covered farm home and is planning a trip next week to his favorite sun spot, Palm Desert near Palm Springs, Calif.

The five-star general arrived Tuesday afternoon from Walter Reed Army Hospital where his gaitladder was removed Dec. 12. A spokesman at his office reported "everything is fine."

Eisenhower told newsmen on leaving the Washington hospital that he hopes to be putting golf balls very soon and "really swinging in a couple of months. He is scheduled to leave Jan. 4 for California.

Meanwhile he plans to take it easy. "Let me show proper respect for my scar," he said as he gingerly got into a limousine for the short ride to the waiting helicopter for the trip home.

Eisenhower also repeated for newsmen his support of U.S. bombings in North Vietnam.

"Anyone who is an aggressor cannot be permitted to go scot free," he said, adding that the bombings are aimed at military targets.

He said civilian casualties of such bombings are unfortunate but asked, "Is there any place in the world where there are not civilians?"

'U.S. Policy on Bombing to Continue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top-level U.S. sources say there is no point in changing U.S. bombing policies in North Vietnam despite controversy surrounding a Pentagon admission that some civilians have been hit.

The officials said it is necessary to bomb military targets in order to raise the price to North Vietnam of aggression against South Vietnam and to save lives of Americans and others fighting the Communists.

The Pentagon acknowledged Monday night that attacks on military targets have inflicted civilian casualties but said "It is impossible to avoid all damage" to residential areas dotted with military targets.

The Pentagon response was to a story by Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, who reported from North Vietnam that he saw "block after block of utter desolation" in one town and learned of 89 civilian deaths in another.

The implicit declaration by the U.S. officials that there is no review of bombing policy pending appeared certain to be challenged soon after Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and critic of U.S. policy in the war, plans hearings on the subject. Fulbright aides said Tuesday they have no doubt he will call on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk for detailed reports on the bombings.

The U.S. sources did say a search is being made of government intelligence information concerning the bombings reported by Salisbury.

JFK Book Suit Withheld; Dispute May End Quietly

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kennedy book dispute could end quietly now after Mrs. John F. Kennedy's decision to withhold temporarily her suit to stop its publication, a family spokesman indicated today.

"I'm not going to guarantee it," he said, "but much points to a resolution. There has been progress and I think things could well be resolved noiselessly and soon."

Attorneys for Mrs. Kennedy and Harper & Row, publishers of William Manchester's "The Death of a President," an account of the Kennedy assassination, agreed Tuesday to put off hearings on her request for an injunction against the book until mid-January in expectation of a reasonably quick settlement.

The parties, ordered to appear at a State Supreme Court show cause hearing, said the arrangement would give them sufficient time for more discussion on passages to be trimmed from the 300,000-word text. Both sides characterized progress as "steady."

IN HOSPITAL
"That's great," said Manchester's wife, Julia, learning of the decision. Manchester, recovering in a hospital from a mild case of pneumonia, was not available for comment.

Mrs. Kennedy and Harper & Row said in a statement that Manchester's hospitalization Monday made it necessary to continue talks "over a longer period than was anticipated."

"We're probably at a stage now where things depend more on the doctors than the lawyers," the Kennedy spokesman said. "We just have to wait for the author, although we'll be talking about other things for next week or so."

Harper & Row called the statement "hopeful" and indicated that an amicable settlement was thought possible soon.

LATER PUBLICATION
The publisher also agreed in the statement not to bring out the book until April 1. Look magazine reached a settlement with Mrs. Kennedy on deletions in its 60,000-word extract of the book, the first installment of which reaches newsstands Jan. 10.

Pontiac Youth Hurt in Head-On Crash
A 20-year-old Pontiac youth was injured seriously shortly after 9 this morning when his car and a truck collided head-on on Walton Boulevard near Silver Lake Road in Waterford Township.

The victim, Robert Cushing of 52 Norton, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Driver of the truck was John Kudray, 62, of 3521 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township. Pontiac State Police are continuing their investigation.

Marooned Family Found
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter, searching for a missing plane, brought back the unexpected: a family of six who had been marooned four days on an island after a storm wrecked their boat.

The helicopter ferried Harold Carthy of Chowchilla, Calif., his wife and their four children, to a resort on the coast of Baja California yesterday.

Coast Guardmen reported the family had been spotted by an Air Force search plane. The island is about 75 miles south of the village of San Felipe in Baja California.

Planes were combing the area for a missing twin-engine plane carrying San Francisco importer Richard Y. Dakin, seven members of his family and a crew of two.

The plane, which disappeared on a flight to La Paz, Mexico, has been missing nearly a week.

Birmingham Area News City Commission Delays School Crossing Action

BIRMINGHAM — Action on providing a safer school crossing for children at Pembroke School has been delayed until the City Commission reviews a traffic safety report submitted by the Automobile Club.

The Pembroke Manor Association had requested that sidewalks be extended to the curb at the Elton and Derby intersection and that a crossing guard be located there until corrections are made.

The commission last night was also informed that the Detroit Edison Co. has agreed to postpone all construction on an underground conduit until after Jan. 2.

Residents on Yosemite had requested that the project be postponed until after the holiday season.

The project will consist of an underground conduit originating at the transmission line at Maple and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and connecting to the new substation on the south side of Brown east of Parkview. Construction is expected to take about two and a half months.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A children's Christmas program will be held at the public library from 10 to 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The special program will consist of holiday stories and Christmas songs led by Mrs. Max M. Plumhoff. It is planned for children from three to five years old and parents are asked to pre-register with librarian Rebecca Lamb before tomorrow.

Located at 4036 Telegraph, the library will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. through tomorrow and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday.

It will be closed Saturday and Monday and will reopen at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved $300,000 in special assessment bonds to defray the cost of water mains in the township.

months for the initial work on the project.

"First, they will develop a plan to utilize the maximum involvement of the people from the areas to be affected," Whitmer said.

The two directors are to organize the families in the enrollment districts of McConnell, Central and Wilson elementary schools.

"Very early in the game the people will have a chance to think about and talk about the kind of educational program they'd like to have," he said.

The coordinators also are to sell the human resources center idea to community organizations. Their preliminary work is to result in a long-term study plan and a plan for funding the project, Whitmer noted.

Waterford JCs Offer Aid in Scout Dispute

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce last night offered to enter the dispute between the United Pure and North Oakland County Girl Scout Council as a third party moderator.

"We are hopeful that a meeting of the Girl Scout representatives will be scheduled as soon as possible so that differences can be resolved," said Michael G. Patterson, president of the Waterford Jaycees.

"Our board of directors voted unanimously to offer our services to ward this goal," he added.

The Girl Scout Council leaves the UF program as of Saturday after a lengthy dispute over UF supervision and requested compliance with a UF study on the needs and organization of the agencies its supports. The council will need about $70,000 to sustain activities in the coming year, according to Mrs. Elwyn Tripp, council president.

Road Section to Be Opened
The eastbound section of Square Lake Road between Woodward and Opdyke is tentatively scheduled to open to traffic tomorrow, the Michigan State Highway Department announced today.

The construction of the six-lane divided highway from Telegraph to I-75 began last December, and except for the one section, was opened in October.

All traffic between Woodward and Opdyke has been carried on the westbound lanes during construction.

The opening of the new section may be delayed by bad weather, according to a spokesman for the highway department.

Total cost of the project, including right-of-way, was nearly $5 million.

Mao in Dilemma on Scorned Leaders

TOKYO (AP) — "The attitude of Communists toward any person who has made mistakes in their work should be one of persuasion in order to help him change and start afresh and not one of exclusion, unless he is incorrigible."

Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung made this statement in 1958. Today 38 years later, Mao at 73 faces a dilemma: Should he continue to try to persuade his former lieutenants, President Liu Shao-chi, and Communist Party Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping of the error of their ways? Or should he discontinue them as incorrigible and exclude them from the corridors of Chinese power.

The white-haired Liu and the short, Napoleonic Teng were subjected Tuesday night to the scorn of 100,000 young Red Guards at a rally in Peking at which Liu was branded the "Khrushchev of China" and the "Boss of capitalism."

Wall newspapers in Peking disclosed that Liu and Teng abjectly confessed to anti-Mao sins before the party Central Committee last October, slightly more than two months after Mao had moved Defense Minister Lin Biao into Red China's No. 2 spot and banished Liu to No. 8.

QUESTION SINCERITY
The Red Guards question the sincerity of the two men. Official organs have said they continue to resist the Mao-Lin purge. So the "persuasion" continues, its goal more and deeper self-criticism and slavish and unquestioning obedience to Mao and Lin Piao.

The sins to which Teng confessed in October were of recent date, revolving chiefly around his incorrect direction of the cultural revolution purge in June and July, while Mao was out of Peking.

Liu's admitted mistakes go back to 1946. Their number and seriousness raise the question: Was he forced on each occasion to indulge in self-criticism? Or has he, through control of the party majority, been able to defy Mao for two decades without being scratched?

It appears that in 1946 he favored a coalition government with Chiang Kai-shek, and a long period of peace for China. The implication is that Mao did not and did not spark the belligerent wing of the party which welcomed, if it did not encourage, the breakdown of the talks over which the late U.S. Gen. George C. Marshall presided.

OF INTEREST

This bit of information will be of interest to American historians and politicians long at odds over whether the Communists plotted war while they talked peace. When all the facts are available, it may be seen that the United States got closer to success in the abortive coalition talks than anyone at the time realized.

Residents Eye GOP Unit in Shelby Twp.

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—Some residents here—long a stronghold of Democrats—are flexing their political muscles in an attempt to form a Republican party organization.

Impetus for the move came last November when three unknowns running as Republicans put up a race for the township offices and one of them, Kirby Holmes, defeated long-time Democratic Supervisor Loren Evans.

The other two, Thomas Plazza of 5005 Brookside and Mrs. William Provencer of 3084 Lakeside, finished close enough to the winners to demand a recount, although the outcome was unchanged.

They are currently forming the nucleus of what they hope will be an enterprising and voting group that will further change Shelby's political history.

Right now the drive is on for money. The need is to pay legal and campaign expenses, and to organize sometime early next year, according to Mrs. Provencer, who is serving as the temporary secretary-treasurer.

Plazza has the position of temporary chairman.

Clarkston Clerk Tells Deadline for Office Seekers

CLARKSTON—Deadline for prospective candidates to file nominating petitions for village office is 4 p.m. Tuesday, according to Clerk Artemus M. Pappas.

Petition blanks are available through Pappas.

The primary election will be held Feb. 28, with the general election to follow March 12.

Positions to be filled are village president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and three trustees.

Petitions must be signed by at least one per cent of the village's voters.

Kwintels to Play

LAKE ORION—The Kwintels will play for a New Year's Eve dance from 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Friday evening at the Boy's Hut, 105 S. Broadway.

It's a girl-ask-boy dress-up affair, according to Debby Wheeler, Boy's Hut president.

ICE FUN—These youngsters trying out their new Christmas skates on Walled Lake yesterday observed the safety rules by staying close to shore. A short time later, in another section of the lake, a boy fell through the ice but was rescued by Novi policemen. The two skaters shown here are Barbara Rounay, 115 Arvida, and Terry Hinkley, 122 Arvida, both of Walled Lake.

Area News

Sewers Due in Oxford Area

OXFORD—Sewers appear to be in the future for the village and township of Oxford.

The Village Council last night confirmed a resolution adopted earlier by the Township Board in which the Oakland County Department of Public Works has been asked to make a study and recommendations for procedure.

Three separate studies are asked:

- The extension of the Paint Creek Arm of the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor along the creek to Lake Orion and Oxford.

- The construction of a temporary disposal facility to be built and used by Lake Orion, Oxford Township, Oxford and Oxford Township.

- The construction of a temporary facility to serve Oxford and Oxford Township alone.

The engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson of Waterford Township is expected to begin preliminary work in the near future, according to village manager Robert Smalley.

Near-Tragedy Spurs Warning on Lake Ice

NOVI—In the wake of a near-drowning in Walled Lake yesterday, Police Chief Lee Begole has issued a warning to all would-be ice skaters and other sports enthusiasts.

"Stay close to the shore," he said, "and skate where you know the ice is safe. Above all, don't skate across the lake yet."

The near drowning occurred at 4:27 p.m. yesterday when 14-year-old David A. Hoffman, 230 Pontiac Trail, and his friend, Francis Perraine, 230 S. Pontiac Trail, both of Walled Lake, were returning after a trip across the lake to the grocery store.

The thin ice in the channel, about 600 feet from shore, suddenly cracked and David fell through into the icy waters.

A passing motorist, Mrs. Glen Harmon, 119 Leed, Walled Lake, reportedly saw the incident and stopped Patrolman Robert Starnes and his partner Sgt. Richard Faulkner.

PUSHES BOARD

Starnes crawled across the thin, cracking ice pushing a 10-foot long board in front of him to where David was struggling in the water.

Faulkner and an unidentified man helped pull the two back to shore.

"The boy was lucky," said Begole. "He had been warned by his parents not to cross the lake."

"Later on, the lake will be solid enough to drive a car across, but that channel is the last to freeze and was only covered with about a quarter-inch of ice."

Rochester Okays Offer to Buy Land for Renewal

ROCHESTER—An offer of to be further discussed with the township.

A public hearing on a request from Robert and Richard Ten-quist to rezone two lots on Quarter for duplex dwellings was set for Jan. 23.

Reports from planning consultants and the planning commission recommended denial, according to William Sinclair, village manager.

He reported the offer exceeds the appraised price.

The village council meeting last night was devoted largely to urban renewal projects with Wilhelm giving a summary report of what the council might expect in the coming year.

The newly formed urban renewal rent supplement committee, organized to disperse some $7,500 of village funds over the next five years, was introduced.

FAMILY AID
Wilhelm said nine to 12 families would probably qualify for such aid in order to find standard housing in other areas.

The director moved on the first house reporting from the renewal area—it's being relocated on Lounsbury, a half block south of Parkdale.

He said the home would be sold at cost and at about $8,500 with first priority going to retired couples from the renewal area.

In other business the council instructed the attorney to draw up a contract with Texaco to provide water and sewer services for the latter's proposed service station outside the village limits.

The attorney was asked to enclose with the contract a statement regarding the current impasse in building such facilities, and that the matter would have

Church Schedules Special Service

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Walton Missionary Baptist Church, 6013 Sashabaw, will conduct a special New Year's Eve all-night singing and watch service Saturday night.

The service, featuring southern Michigan singing talent, will begin at 8, according to Rev. Fred Walden, pastor.

Slated to perform at the service are the "Happy Three Trio" of Detroit, the Brown and Walker Quartet of Flint, Mary Smithling of Lake Orion and Brother Bob Gregory and Singers of Waterford Township.

Local talent also will perform. The service is open to the public, said Rev. Walden.

Troy City Planner Disputes Report on Growth Projections

TROY—Some doubt has been cast here on the authenticity of figures used in a recent projection for the future of Oakland County.

The report, prepared by Dr. Albert J. Mayer, sociologist at Wayne State University, goes wrong particularly in its reflection of current and projected population, according to George Peek, city planner.

70,100 by 1970—47,000 by 1960—and 116,000 by 1990.

Peek says Troy's actual population in 1960 was 38,000, a year increase over 1960 census figures, lies closer to 28,400.

He further stated that the city could well fall short of Detroit regional planning projection of 38,000 by 1970, let alone Mayor's 70,100.

BUILDING SLOW

Tight money and a slowdown in residential construction held Troy to about 700 new homes this year, according to assessor Ernest Reschke.

Even that number, he points out, is up some 420 from last year.

Mayer reports that of all the people in the tri-county area who earn over $25,000 a year, some 35.5 per cent live in Oakland County.

Peek is not inclined to disagree, but he quickly points out that those people still make up only 8 per cent of Oakland's overall population, as shown in a survey prepared by the Center for Urban Studies at the University of Michigan.

INCOME BLOCK

That same survey shows the biggest block of income to be between $10,000 and $14,999 and that's where about 28 per cent of the residents fit.

Peek also notes that 51 per cent of the people living in Oakland County work here, according to the report.

"This is a figure which would seem to dispel to some extent the idea of a core city and bedroom communities," he reported.

The same report shows that about 28 per cent do to Detroit to work and the rest are scattered around in other communities.

In another breakdown, Peek reports that the figures for Troy show 6,500 single family homes and about 1,500 multiple units, with 24,700 of Troy's population living in single residential homes and 3,750 in apartments.

4 Utica Teens Are Charged

Hitchhiker Robbed, Hit With Tire Iron

UTICA (UPI)—Police charged four Utica teen-agers yesterday with robbing a hitchhiker and then beating him with a tire iron.

John T. Cummings, 17, of Utica, was reported in fair condition today at the Selfridge Air Force Base Hospital.

He told police that four youths, all wearing black jackets, stole his coat, hat and watch and then beat him when he told them he had no money.

He was dumped in a snowbank and was found by a passing motorist. Police said the coat, watch and hat were recovered when the four youths were arrested.

They were arraigned by Harrison Township Justice Edmund Schmidt. All pleaded innocent.

The four were identified as Samuel Breeding, 17, Roger Mulasky, 17, Gary Hamafor, 18, and John Breeding, 19. Bond was set at $10,000 for each on the robbery charge and $5,000 on the assault charges.

School Board Post Is Filled

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—Leary Wood, 565 E. Ridge, has been elevated to the presidency of the Brandon Community Schools Board of Education.

Formerly vice president, he was named to the new position following the death this month of Dale J. Fortin, former president.

Ronald Sutton, a member of the board, has been named vice president succeeding Wood.

A new appointment to the board is expected at the Jan. 9 meeting, according to Schools Supt. Henry Versnick.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare was established on April 11, 1953, with Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as the Department's first Secretary.

Farm Year in Review and Look Into Future

LANSING—It was a year in which Michigan farmers received a tax break, a preview or warning—of what 1980 might be like, and news of such startling developments as paving of cucumber patches.

In 1966, as in most years, many farmers had reason to curse the weather, especially Western Michigan fruit growers. A spring frost cut cherry and peach production in half.

A drought hurt Northern Michigan producers of oats, grain corn and other crops.

But statewide grain corn production reached 94.3 million bushels and a record average yield of 67 bushels an acre.

FIELD PAVING

The paving, which was tried in cucumber patches and potato fields, actually was laid down two feet under the soil.

The asphalt layer doubled the soil's water holding capacity and Michigan State University scientists said in September that this doubled the amount of food produced on the land in some trials.

The tax break was ordered by the 1966 Legislature. Lawmakers approved an exemption for agricultural equipment and instructed local property assessors to ignore growing trees, vines, bushes and other plants when assessing farm property.

Farmers also won a one-year delay in minimum wage coverage and Workmen's Compensation for farm hands.

TRANSLATION TIME

The delay on minimum wages was to give MSU's Rural Manpower Center time to translate the wage into piece work rates. The delay on Workmen's compensation was to work out insurance rates and decide how seasonal workers and members of the farmer's own family should be covered.

The preview of 1980 was MSU's gigantic "Project 80"—a look ahead to Michigan's rural potential 14 years from now.

About 100 scientists, with help from rural leaders, spent two years putting together more than 1,000 pages of detailed reports on various segments of agriculture.

Some of their projections: Michigan will have only about half as many farms as at present, about one million fewer acres of cropland—but bigger crops.

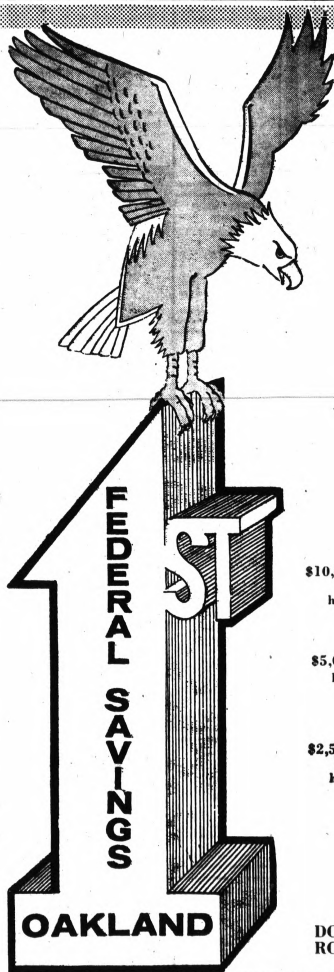

The state will have fewer farm laborers and fewer cows, but more horses and more horsepower—in tractors and other machinery.

The best selling items will be those that tickle the customer's taste rather than those that merely fill his belly—less bread and potatoes and beans and more steak and ice cream and fancy salad.

Weather cut the tart cherry crop from 120,000 tons in 1965 to 50,000 in 1966, the sweet cherry crop from 24,000 tons to 17,000 and the peach crop from 2.8 million bushels to 1 million. Grape production dropped from 75,000 tons to 50,000.

Apples, however, remained steady at 16 million bushels, the 1.6 million bushel pear crop and 11,000 ton plum crop were significantly larger than the 1965 crops.

The grain corn yield of 67 bushels an acre was nearly six bushels above the 1960-64 average. Total production was up nearly 4 million bushels from 1965, when widespread drought hurt the crop.

Close Look Taken at OEO Lease

We are in hearty agreement with members of the City Commission in their critical attitude toward the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

The opposition flared at last week's commission meeting when the City's continuation of the lease for local administrative space for OEO came up for discussion.

A two-year extension of the lease, which had cost the municipality $10,000 for the current year, had been requested. Instead, the City Fathers voted a six-month renewal, reflecting the consensus that the antipoverty program represented unwarranted Federal invasion of local responsibility wasteful of taxpayers' money.

From the outset of OEO, The Press, while sympathetic with its objectives, has shared this view and has editorialized in that vein.

We believe that if the programs of local agencies fall short of OEO goals they could be broadened or new ones initiated at less cost to taxpayers than the establishment of another Federal bureaucracy.

Another consideration that inclined the commission toward the short-term lease extension was that the new Congress might well take an analytical look at some of the Administration's grandiose social programs and restructure them along more practical lines.

Meanwhile, it felt, the City's strained fiscal situation argued against commitment of city funds beyond the immediate future.

The realistic attitude of the commissioners is most reassuring and further evidence that Pontiac's government is in capable hands.

Let's Write 'Finis' to Kennedy Book Squabble

The airing of the controversy between Mrs. JACQUELINE KENNEDY and WILLIAM MANCHESTER, author of the book "Death of a President," has reflected little credit on either, while pushing an onlooking public to the brink of boredom.

For her part, Mrs. KENNEDY, after commissioning a reputable author to write a definitive account of her husband's assassination seems to have arrogated to herself the prerogative of historical hindsight.

The author, on the other hand, appears to have deviated from his agreement to submit the manuscript to the Kennedy family before publication — an agreement that hardly enhances his stature as a historian.

The coloration of the issue, like so many others involving human relations, is gray—neither black nor white—and as such precludes settlement on any basis other than compromise. It is to be hoped that such resolution is speedily agreed to and the regrettable happening given suitable burial.

By way of a footnote Mrs. KENNEDY, unfortunately, stands to be the loser in the embroilment that publicized her efforts to suppress certain passages in the forthcoming book. Expropriation of the offending matter will serve only to whet the appetite of a morbid public eager to savor it in the bootleg form in which it is likely to emerge.

Bureaucracy Proves Bane of British Railroads

Not long ago, a foremost American railroad authority visited Great Britain to study the transportation problems of that country—a country where most of the transport system was taken over by the government nearly 20 years ago.

Among other things, he reported that "Britain's transportation problems have become so bad that even the most objective description of them sounds exaggerated." Frequently cited as the No. 1 problem is the breakdown of internal morale—one of saddest casualties of political intervention. Rail managers, seeking to do a good job, find themselves squeezed between a political administrators above and the transport unions below.

nationalized transportation in Great Britain should make every American look with new respect on the fundamental soundness of our own rail system. In the United States, the railroads are self-supporting enterprises that contribute hundreds of millions of dollars every year in taxes to Federal and local governments. They maintain payrolls running into billions of dollars.

Under the remorseless demands of competition, they work unceasingly to provide the kinds and quantities of equipment that can best serve the needs of shippers.

American railroads are subject to public regulation in every phase of their operation. But instead of being a national liability, they are an indispensable national asset.

Powell's Pride in Prime Peril

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's pride appears to be in greater danger than his seat in Congress from the challenge being readied to bar him from the House when Congress convenes Jan. 10. Even if he is denied the right to be sworn in with his 434 colleagues—as seems most likely—there is almost no chance he will actually be excluded from membership at that time and his Harlem district declared vacant.

Not since the Civil War, when three border state representatives were expelled for treason, has a member been kicked out of Congress. In 1900 a polygamist member-elect from Utah was denied a seat and in 1919 a member charged with favoring Germany in World War I was excluded, but eventually seated when his district twice re-elected him.

And that is about the extent to which Congress has used its power to judge the fitness of its members.

What is expected to happen Jan. 10 is that Powell will be asked to stand aside until a special committee investigates the case against him and makes a recommendation. That's what was done in the case of the married Mormon, and Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., who plans to make the Jan. 10 challenge, says he is thinking of following the same course.

It could take six months or a year for such a committee to complete its work. Meantime Powell would be legally a member of the 90th Congress, entitled to his $30,000-a-year salary, his office staff and his free mailing privileges.

All he would lose is his right to vote.

If the committee should recommend that Powell be barred, approval by the House would cut off his salary and vacate his seat. But by that time Powell may have purged himself of the contempt of court in New York that is largely responsible for his current difficulties.

Because history, tradition and precedent all tend to block the effectiveness of the challenge to Powell's seat, some of his opponents also plan to try to take away his chairmanship of the education and labor committee.

MAJORITY NEEDED

This could be accomplished by a majority of the Democratic members at their caucus Jan. 9. Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., who led the fight to reseat Powell's powers as chairman last session, is planning the strategy for having him ousted.

Powell's preference for joining in the sun in the Bahamas instead of facing the subcommittee's questioning will be used to support the charge that he is unfit to continue as chairman.

David Lawrence Says:

Clergy's Viet Letter Inexcusable

WASHINGTON — Pacifism theoretically may be tolerated as freedom of speech, but sheer ignorance of what happens in a bombing raid is inexcusable.

Thus, twelve national churchmen, without a knowledge of the facts, denounced — in LAWRENCE a letter addressed Monday to President Johnson — the military forces of the United States for having killed civilians in Hanoi, the capital of North Vietnam.

The churchmen request the President to halt the bombing and make peace without any prior commitment by the Vietcong or the North Vietnamese.

They also condemn, in effect, as immoral the right of the American military forces to defend themselves against the enemy by bombing supply centers where some civilians may be killed.

Many thousands of American and South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed, and there have been wanton, inhumane and vicious attacks on people in hotels and in private homes in Saigon as the Communist guerrillas have waged a savage war.

But all this apparently is disregarded by the clergymen, who insist it is only the American pilots who must be humane and avoid any bombing whenever some civilians happen to be near a supply of guns that are later to be used to kill Americans.

Military targets, to be sure, are always vulnerable, and it is customary for civilians to be evacuated from such areas during any fighting. So it seems strange that 12 churchmen now are accusing their own government of deliberate acts of inhumanity.

The Defense Department is, in effect, criticized in the churchmen's letter for trying to explain the complex problems involved in attempting to carry out bombing operations without hurting civilians.

The department, for instance, said that some civilian damage is especially hard to avoid when the "North Vietnamese deliberately employ their air-defense sites, their dispersed petroleum, oil and lubricant sites, their radar and other military facilities in populated areas, and indeed sometimes on the roofs of government buildings."

REAL QUESTION

The real question is whether there is in modern warfare any way to distinguish between military or nonmilitary persons on the ground.

Plenty of warnings have been given for civilians to withdraw from the area. If they remain, they must take the risk of being hurt.

This is becoming the strangest war in history. To give aid and comfort to the enemy would be called treason. Today it is described as righteous protest.

The American people are constantly being urged to ignore all the sacrifices that have been made for a moral principle — to repel the aggression of those who would enslave a helpless nation.

There are clergymen in America who evidently think that Communist commanders are humane, that their forces in Vietnam didn't violate the Christmas truce this year or last year and that they never kill any civilians in their raids, skirmishes and midnight assaults in South Vietnam. This is an example of what has been called the "valor of ignorance."

Bob Considine Says:

Chiang Move Could Lose the Literary Pirate Vote

NEW YORK — If Chiang Kai-shek dictates that publishers on Taiwan will not be permitted to steal William Manchester's uncut Kennedy book, there are going to be a lot of outraged literary pirates over there. Chiang will blow the pirate vote in the next election.

A number of nations which adhere scrupulously to pacts and conventions of all kinds assume the most cavalier attitude toward copyright literary material.

These nations are not necessarily our enemies, though the Soviet Union and Communist China rank high among copyright scofflaws. Otherwise friendly publishers in Egypt, Turkey and even Venezuela flinch from our literary stores whatever pleases their fancy.

In a rare burst of conscience the Soviet Union once offered to pay Ernest Hemingway for books of his it had systematically stolen over the years and reprinted for its own profits.

Hemingway said he would accept payment only if the Russians reimbursed every other author they'd been stealing from. That might have broken the Kremlin's bank, so nothing came of the wayward stroke of conscience.

No. 1 BOOK

In 1945 the number one book on China's best seller list was "Within Four Seas, All Are Neighbors," by Wendell Willkie. It did very well in this country, too, under its original title, "One World."

Number two on the list was "Bombed and Destroyed by Fire the Great Eastern Fire," by Capt. Ted Lawson, one of the heroes of the Doolittle raid. In this country it was called "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo."

I had had something to do with preparing Ted's book for him, so it was interesting to meet the people who stole it.

Ran into them at a party in Chungking and found both of them quite charming. Two publishers had pirated Ted's book and both reported that their competitive editions were selling very well.

"My book is doing better than his," the Chinese lady publisher told me, nodding at her rival.

"He was stupid enough to wait until he could get hold of the Random House hard cover edition. I stole my text as it appeared from week to week in Colliers."

She sneered chagrined that I didn't congratulate her very warmly.

Back in 1945 starry-eyed representatives of 46 world powers met in San Francisco to establish the United Nations.

The purpose was "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

Since then the United States has pumped 150 billion tax dollars into the organization in an effort to achieve that noble goal.

That's enough to pay off nearly half the national debt. It would be sufficient to pay all the federal government's operating expenses (including veterans' pensions and Social Security benefits) for a full year with some $20 billion left over for "incidentalities!" Including the so-called "War on Poverty."

And what have we gotten?

Twenty-one years have passed. But, unfortunately, there has not been a single day of peace. The years have been marked by many conflicts including Korea, and now, Vietnam.

'Enjoyable Recreation Provided at City Course'

As a Pontiac resident for forty years but never having played golf until retirement, I was unaware how much good our tax money is doing at Pontiac's municipal golf course. Now, a senior citizen enjoying free green fees, I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude.

As one who formerly scoffed at golfers, I am sincere when I recommend the game to any retiree as wonderful recreation providing the opportunity to meet old friends and make new ones.

I must also mention the friendly golf course employees whose cheerfulness adds so much in making this recreation more enjoyable.

Commissioner Wood States His Position

I was present at the Commission meeting on Dec. 20. The Pontiac Press of Dec. 21 mentioned every commissioner except myself. To inform the public of my position on the poverty program—I voted for it with reservations, feeling that the other townships of Oakland County should share in paying the $800 per month office rent charge. I asked City Manager Warren at the meeting if any effort by Mr. McNeely had been made along this line and was informed that none had been made. Unless more money is available to the City at the end of the six months period I will vote against further extension.

While vacationing in San Francisco I visited the Southgate Shopping Center in Hayward, California, built by Mr. A. Alfred Taubman and another center under construction at Concord, California, and reported my enthusiasm for both projects to the City Commission on my return. No mention has been made of my report to the Commission in The Pontiac Press, but Commissioner Hudson had a front-page report.

I am taking this opportunity to give the people of Pontiac information which The Pontiac Press failed to report.

BAD NEWS — Former U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater was informed of his mother's death in Phoenix, Ariz., after landing at Honolulu Airport yesterday. IRS Tax Forms Being Mailed

Odds 4 to 1 Taxpayer Will Get Good News

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unlikely as it sounds, the odds are four to one you will be receiving good news from the Internal Revenue Service next week.

The IRS has begun mailing 1966 federal income tax forms and instructions to 65 million Americans. Nearly four times as many taxpayers will be entitled to refunds as will owe additional payments.

But the knowledge that 34 million taxpayers are putting in for refunds isn't likely to ease the pain for the nine million who owe more money.

About one taxpayer in five will wait until the last minute before filing a return. This year, the last minute will be midnight Monday, April 17.

Since the April 15 filing deadline falls on a Saturday, IRS officials are giving late filers an extra two days.

SEVEN-PAGE SURPRISE

About 43 million taxpayers will receive the same two-page Form 1040 they filled out last year, and 22 million will receive the so-called "short form" 1040A, a small punch card.

But 60,000 taxpayers will receive a seven-page surprise in the mail — an experimental new tax form designated 1040Q.

The 1040Q is in the form of a questionnaire, and IRS Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen says it is simpler than the other forms.

The 60,000 "highly representative" taxpayers who will receive it were chosen at random in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

MAY BE OFFERED

If enough of them like the new form, it may be offered to all taxpayers next year.

The tax rate for 1966 was the same as the year before. There were only a few minor changes on the 1966 tax forms because there were only a few changes in the tax law.

African King Held Prisoner

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — The prime minister of the world's second youngest nation put his king under house arrest at midnight Tuesday after months of feuding over their respective powers.

Prime Minister Leabusu Jonathan ordered King Moshoeshoe II confined to his palace in Maseru following a day of disorder in which six persons were killed and more than 100 arrested. The dead included a police inspector.

Jonathan, Lesotho's premier chief, and Moshoeshoe have been disputing the division of political powers made when Lesotho, formerly Basutoland, gained its independence from Britain Oct. 4. The tiny African nation has an area of 11,716 square miles and a population of about 880,000 and is surrounded by South Africa.

Pact for Montcalm-Oakland Work OK'd

City commissioners last night approved a $79,530 contract with the Michigan State Highway Department for reconstruction of the Montcalm-Oakland intersection.

However, city officials indicated that once the work started for this summer was completed, Cass and Oakland would become one-way problem with southbound Baldwin traffic.

The intersection work calls for construction of several lanes to channel traffic at that location, according to City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

Oakland is to become one-way north, while Cass is to become one-way south. Southbound Baldwin traffic will be forced to cross Oakland to Allison in order to continue southward.

Warren put the city's share

Warren reported that the highway department plans to take bids Feb. 8 for the intersection reconstruction.

In other business, the commission received formal notice from the county of the transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to that unit.

MEETING TODAY

Warren said details of the transfer remain to be worked out and he was to meet today with county representatives. In exchange for the airport, the city is to receive two downtown properties owned by Oakland County.

Also last night, an ordinance was introduced to provide for a $1.5-million revenue bond issue to finance two new major trunk sewers.

Final action is expected next week. The commission's approval would permit making an application to the State Municipal Finance Commission for the latter's okay to issue bonds.

A report was received last night on bids received for construction of a new police pistol range in the public safety building.

Two bids, $23,400 by Askenay

Construction Co. of Detroit and referred for study and recommendation.

The commission, in still other business, received a report on the city's 1966 tree planting program. Some 658 trees were planted at a total cost of $8,000, budgeted from the capital improvement fund.

A public hearing was set for Jan. 3 on necessity for construction of a sanitary sewer in Durant, Pershing to Englewood.

Total cost was estimated at $14,930 with $7,122 assessed and the city's share totaling $5,216.

N. Viets May Allow More U.S. Newsmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There was speculation today that Hanoi may further relax its policy against admitting American newsmen in hopes of propagandizing U.S. bombings of North Vietnam.

A U.S. official said today he would not be surprised if North Vietnam loosened its restrictions on admitting American newsmen, but he refused to comment on whether Hanoi's motive might be to discredit the United States.

Such speculation has been rife since Sunday in reaction to a New York Times correspondent's dispatches reporting U.S. bombing raids in the North hit nonmilitary targets, including civilian housing.

Harrison E. Salisbury, Times assistant managing editor, reported he personally observed damage reportedly caused by U.S. bombing raids in civilian areas in communities in the Hanoi area.

Salisbury is one of only two American newsmen who have received visas from North Vietnam.

About 50 American newsmen have secured passports valid for travel to North Vietnam from the U.S. State Department.

Talks Continue With Employees

2-Year Agreements Being Worked Out

Negotiations are continuing with two municipal employee groups on respective two-year working agreements, City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported last night.

Warren told the City Commission that talks are continuing with the Pontiac Police Officers Association and the Pontiac Municipal Employees Association.

The commission last night approved a working agreement with Local 100, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Essentially, the Local 100 agreement is the same as has been in effect since 1950, according to city officials.

Nicholas Santivan, personnel director, reported only two changes in the proposed agreement. One of these changes, details of which are still to be worked out, is a union security clause whereby nonunion members would pay a service charge in lieu of monthly dues.

WAGE PACKAGE

Negotiations on the working agreements continue after settlement was recently reached on a wage package worth $527,000 for four groups representing city workers.

The commission, in separate action, formally approved the wage settlement last night.

Several commissioners warned, however, that the wage hikes heightened the city's fiscal crisis and local voters might be prepared to do something to increase the city's revenue.

The commissioners warned that drastic cutbacks would be necessary if new revenue is not secured.

Two State Gls Killed in Viet

DETROIT (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Carvel J. Mounce got a letter from Vietnam Tuesday from their son, Spec. 4 Barry M. Mounce.

Their son said he was in combat, but he hadn't killed anyone and he was glad.

He didn't want to kill, he said.

Less than two hours earlier, the Defense Department had notified the Mounces that their son had been killed in action. The Defense Department said that another Michigan man, Spec. 4 Richard G. Wormdahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wormdahl of Ypsilanti, was also killed in action in Vietnam.

The list of those who can be called upon in the event a regular teacher is absent is the shortest it's ever been in the history of Louis A. Crew, director of instructional personnel services.

There are 90 names on the list — 40 at the elementary level and 50 for secondary schools.

Crew would like the total to be closer to 220.

"It should be three times as great at the elementary level and twice as large at the secondary level," he said.

FIVE TO 20 A DAY

The number of substitutes needed throughout the system can range from five to 20 a day, Crew noted.

Although the present list would seem to be large enough to cover emergencies, Crew pointed out that all substitutes are not available every day.

"Many of the elementary school substitutes are available on a limited basis," he said.

"Some can teach only at schools in their own neighborhoods and some want to work just one or two days a week."

One possible reason for the current shortage might be that potential substitutes are in a better financial position than they once were—they just don't need the $18 to $22 a day, Crew suggested.

The requirements for substitute teaching are determined by the State Department of Education, he noted.

Candidates for the job must have completed at least two years or 60 semester hours at an accredited teacher training institution, although the class-work need not have been in education courses.

"They also, obviously, must have an interest and liking for working with children," Crew added.

He admitted that pupil behavioral problems usually are greater with a substitute than with a regular teacher.

UNINTERRUPTED

"We like to think the instructional program continues almost uninterrupted—but we know this isn't the case," he said.

On the other hand, he commented that the rewards of substitute teaching can be great.

"It often serves as a springboard to encourage a person to return to college for full certification," he said.

PARADOXICAL SITUATION

The average Cuban faces a paradoxical situation. He is told—with some basis—that the fishing industry is booming, that cattle raising is now a major industry, that agricultural production is climbing and that more coffee, tobacco and fruits are being grown than ever before. But he sees little improvement in his lot.

He has no more to eat than he had several years ago; in some cases, he has less. Shoes, clothing, consumer and meat clothing, consumer items and household goods are rationed, or expensive and of poor quality when available.

The housing problem continues to worsen.

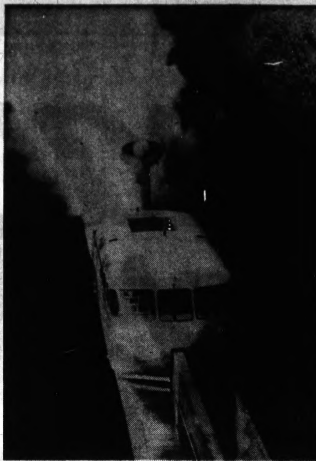

Most of the economic gains go right back into expansion efforts in industry and agriculture. Increases in agricultural and livestock production are exported for needed foreign currency.

The Castro administration's major advances have been in mass public education, agrarian reform and extension of medical care.

BENEFICIARIES

The main beneficiaries of the revolution have been the backwoods campesinos and poor people in the interior of the country. In many instances they have better housing, roads, education and medical treatment than ever before.

These people constitute the backbone of the prime minister's support.

HIGH-SPEED EXPERIMENT — The aerotrain, a half-size prototype of an air-cushion railroad car, races down its flange during a high-speed experiment near Paris yesterday. French engineers put a rocket on the tail of the vehicle, normally able to attain only about 125 miles per hour, and during the test, the car increased its ground speed to 189 m.p.h. It is designed to combat urban and interurban congestion expected to peak by 1975 or 1980.

Dodd Is Optimistic on Soviet Evolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who is a member of both the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the internal security subcommittee, made his remarks in an introduction to a 27-page study of Soviet literary developments since Stalin's death in 1953.

The study was prepared by Dr. Sergius Yakobson and Dr. Robert V. Allen, Russian specialists at the Library of Congress. Dodd said he personally requested the inquiry.

The work, entitled "Aspects of Intellectual Ferment in the Soviet Union," traced the sometimes defiant development of Soviet letters through the trial of Russian writers Dmitri Siniaskii and Yuli Daniel in February 1966.

Siniaskii was sentenced to seven and Daniel to five years imprisonment for publishing "anti-Soviet propaganda" in the West.

Desegregation first occurred in Georgia's public education system when two Negroes were admitted to the State University in Athens, on Jan. 10, 1961.

"With such a society the free world would have no difficulty in achieving that degree of basic understanding essential for peaceful coexistence," Dodd said.

Cuban Leader Starts 9th Year

Castro Is Stronger Than Ever

By ISAAC M. FLORES
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro begins his ninth year in power more firmly in command of this island nation than ever before.

His personal popularity may have dipped a bit since Jan. 1, 1959, when the bearded mountain rebel emerged victorious over dictator Fulgencio Batista, but he has more than compensated for it with an iron-grip control over what he calls the "proletariat masses."

Barring any violent incident, political observers here see no alternative to Castro communism in this restless Caribbean island's immediate future. They see little basis for persistent speculation outside the country that the 40-year-old "maximum leader's" regime is teetering on the edge of disaster.

There appears to be little chance for internal subversion. Attack from the outside looks unfeasible in this age of push-button global warfare.

ECONOMY IMPROVING

And, helping to solidify Castro's position, the country's economy seems on the verge of better days despite a commercial shipping blockade, low sugar prices and the creeping pace of industrialization.

While there is discontent with the regime, no organized militant resistance against it is evident.

Castro's security system maintains a vise-like control over the country's eight million inhabitants. It includes nearly two million neighborhood informants, hundreds of thousands of militia men and women, young Communist and Communist party members, militant women's groups, state employees, students, secret police and the toughest military organization in Latin America.

This apparatus is reason enough for Castro Communism's expected long life here, but there are others.

HOPES FADING

Perhaps the key lies in the slow but significant forward movement of the economy.

Castro's chaotic status over the past eight years has given Castro foes reason to believe that it would be the cause of his downfall. Though still alive, those expectations are fading with the regime's tottery clumb out of the economic gutter.

Much of the credit is due to the huge injections of money, equipment and technical aid from the Soviet Union. But Castro's determination can't be discounted.

counted. His powers of persuasion are the country's main driving force.

Any mention of Cuba's economic gains, however, has to be tempered with qualifications about the daily lives of its people. Economic improvement in some cases has come at the expense of the masses.

He has no more to eat than he had several years ago; in some cases, he has less. Shoes, clothing, consumer and meat clothing, consumer items and household goods are rationed, or expensive and of poor quality when available.

The housing problem continues to worsen.

Lynda Bird Johnson and actor George Hamilton hold a news conference at the home of former actress Merle Oberon in Acapulco where they refused to discuss the question of whether they will marry. The couple arrived Monday night and are the guests of Miss Oberon during their Mexican vacation.

'No Comment on Romance' Says Actor

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Actor George Hamilton says whether he and Lynda Bird Johnson will marry "is a very personal question and we will keep it personal."

"We have never commented upon this and will continue to keep this policy," Hamilton told newsmen in Acapulco, where he and President Johnson's 22-year-old daughter are vacationing.

The actor and Miss Johnson held a news conference Tuesday at the home of former actress Merle Oberon, their hostess. Hamilton said they expected the press to leave them alone for the rest of their Mexican vacation.

The couple arrived Monday night. Hamilton said they may spend New Year's Eve in Acapulco.

Lynda said she likes the sun in Acapulco and plans to do some sunbathing.

More Gifts for Sisters Are Named

By ELIZABETH L. POST

I am most grateful for the following letter and hasten to print the excellent suggestions it contains.

Dear Mrs. Post: In a recent column, you gave some gift suggestions for a nun. I have a few things I'd like to add. Usually, nuns have very little money, so small luxuries are really welcome. Some lotion or powder or any kind of bath accessory is pleasing.

If you know of any delicacy that Sister enjoys, or some special cookies or candy that she can share with the other members of her community, that would be a good gift.

Select a good book for light reading — a mystery, suspense or romantic novel for relaxation.

If a class or group of students want to get together and purchase a gift, a warm, new blanket is something that would be greatly appreciated.

I hope you'll find some of these suggestions a little different and helpful. Maryanne Graham

Dear Mrs. Post: I have always written on both sides of single-sheet letter paper, but my girl friend says this is not correct. We decided to write you for the answer. Marie Kane

Dear Marge: Certainly you may write on both sides of the paper — what a waste if you don't. However, if it is airmail paper or a very thin sheet, don't write on both sides because the writing shows through and makes it very difficult to read.

CAKE DECORATIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd like to have a special cake decorated for my daughter's engagement party. Is there any marking customary for such a cake, and if not, will you suggest one? Mrs. Martin

Dear Mrs. Martin: Although there is no prescribed marking, the long favorite one is their two first names enclosed in a heart.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette, revised by Elizabeth L. Post.

Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, and don't forget to include your name and address.

New Career as Actress Crowns Achievements

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—The life of beautiful Marayatt Andriane of Thailand is already about as glamorous-filled as any girl could ask.

But now the acting bug has bitten, and the tiny brunette is mixing movie roles with hers as wife of a diplomat. She is married to Louis Jacques Andriane, French diplomat currently director of administration for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), headquartered in Bangkok.

"My husband is delighted that I'm taking on this new responsibility," said Mrs. Andriane. "My house in Bangkok pretty well runs itself anyway... I've a wonderful house boy, cook, servants."

FAMOUS CROSS-SECTION

Currently, she is on an international personal appearance tour to promote the first picture she's been in, 20th Century-Fox's "The Sand Pebbles," starring Steve McQueen. Mrs. Andriane plays the role of a Chinese girl.

The actress is the daughter of a diplomat, Khum Biddh Viragakkia, Thailand's ambassador through the past several years to Western European and South American countries.

Although born in Bangkok, she spent her early years in London, went to school in Switzerland, and because of her visits with family during school vacations is fluent in English, French, Italian and German.

They Mean Well

Only Want to Please

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to sound ungrateful, but why do grandparents always buy clothing for their grandchildren two and three sizes too big for them?

Often these items are needed for use immediately, but they must hang in a closet or be put away in a drawer until the child "grows into them."

Many a lovely gift has been stored away and forgotten, and by the time the child can wear it, it's out of style. Mention this in your column, Abby. But please don't use my name.

MRS. X.
DEAR MRS. X: The reason grandparents buy clothing for children to "grow into" is obvious. It's a hold over from leaner years. However, gift-giving grandparents want only to please. So a word to the wise should bring the right size.

DEAR ABBY: While walking down the street yesterday, I saw a mailman emptying one of those sidewalk mailboxes. A woman was standing there screaming that she had just mailed a letter in that box and she wanted it back. The mailman said he was sorry but it was against the rules and he couldn't give it to her.

She yelled even louder that she could prove it was HER letter and she wanted it back. Then he tried to tell her what she would have to do to get it, but she refused to listen — she stormed off in a huff.

Now I would like to know how a person can get his own letter back after mailing it if the mailman won't give it to him.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER
DEAR INNOCENT: Make a duplicate of the envelope of the letter you want back. If it was going out-of-town, go to the main postoffice. If it was a local letter, go to the postoffice in the zone in which you mailed the letter and ask the postmaster for the appropriate form to fill out to retrieve your letter.

If your letter hasn't left the postoffice, and you can identify yourself adequately, they'll give you your letter. If the letter HAS left town, they will telephone or wire the out-of-town postoffice (at your expense) and if it hasn't been delivered, they'll send the letter back to you.

But when it comes, you will have to go to the postoffice and pick it up personally. This may sound like a lot of red tape, but it's not too much trouble for one who has mailed a letter in haste and wants it back.

OU Continuum Center Slates Seasonal Classes for Women

The next counseling and testing session for women, a Continuum Center program at Oakland University, is scheduled to begin Jan. 5.

Almost 550 women have already taken advantage of the opportunity to learn more about themselves in this "Investigation Into Identity" course which has been designed expressly for the woman who is exploring the possibilities of education, volunteer service or employment in the complex world outside her home.

The first session is an informal one, free to anyone interested in learning more about the program. At this initial meeting, Director Priscilla Jackson describes the Continuum Center and what it offers. The group then breaks into tables of six for discussion.

The tests, especially adapted to measure the aptitudes, interests and abilities of each woman, are administered by staff psychologist Gerald Self, Ph.D.

The course is an accelerated program of six sessions, held twice weekly. Members of the "Investigation Into Identity" class will meet from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays on the OU campus.

Following the introductory program, the next four class sessions will be devoted to taking the series of tests and receiving other Continuum staff members including the education advisor, Elizabeth B. Wright, volunteer placement adviser; Helen Zdeba, employment adviser; Mrs. Eleanor Driver, orientation interviewer; and Mrs. Margaret Twyman, registrar.

The sixth and final session is devoted to a discussion of the factors which may influence a decision. This is followed by a one-hour personal interview with Dr. Self in which he interprets and explains the test results.

In addition to this course, women are welcome to consult at any time with the staff advisers who include a trained social worker, an expert in the personnel field and an educator skilled in academic counseling. The nominal fee charged for this particular service is applied toward tuition if the individual decides to enroll later in an "Investigation Into Identity" course.

For women in the Grosse Pointe and eastern Detroit area, a class will be held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning Feb. 14. These "Investigation Into Identity" sessions will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, concluding March 2.

Format and content of the program will be the same as the one offered in January.

A third and final program for the winter season will be held at Presbyterian Church of Our Savior, Middle Belt Road, beginning March 7 and ending April 11. This is an evening class which will meet once a week from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

If a woman decides to investigate the alternatives outside the home after completing the testing and evaluation sessions, she will find the three Continuum advisers able to guide her more intelligently with the aid of the test information provided by the psychologist.

Follow-up services of the advisers are available without further charge to those who have completed the testing program.

The Continuum Center, supported by a grant from the Kellogg Foundation, is a unique project and is under the supervision of Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, Dean of the Division of Continuing Education at the University. It was created in the fall of 1965 as a response to the questions raised by over 1500 women who participated in discussion groups, planning sessions and conferences held at the University during a four year period.

Located on the second floor of South Foundation Hall, the Center welcomes visitors during office hours from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

For further information, contact the Continuum Center, Oakland University.

Iodine Could Be Help

DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 8322. Billy J., aged 14, is very short and slender.

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "Billy is unduly sensitive because he is only 5'2" tall and even most of the girls in his freshman class at high school are taller than he is."

"Besides," he wants to be an athlete, but he is so short and slender, that I feel he doesn't have a chance.

"What would you advise?"

Our four Crane sons were also very short, for they didn't start their major growing till in the third year of Senior High.

So I had them take a drop of iodine in a glass of milk at least three times per week, from the time they were freshmen.

Whether that helped, I can only say that George and Philip passed the six-foot mark, and the two younger boys reached almost six feet.

Yet they didn't have any tall ancestry to aid them.

For example, my grandfather was only 5'3", as an adult. And my father was about 5'7" as an adult.

Mrs. Crane's dad was also only 5'6".

And their grandmothers were short, too, so for three generations behind them, there had been no tall ancestors!

They used the ordinary iodine from the bottle you get at the drug store to paint cuts.

And the reason for trying this iodine strategy is based on a medical theory that when children start to make their rapid growth, a little extra iodine may help add an extra inch or more.

The average child grows about three inches per year until he reaches 13.

That starts the typical "shooting" year, when the average child adds three and a half inches.

Then his growth dwindles till he may stop at 18 or 19, though occasionally children have added an inch or two even after they left college.

But some children don't follow the standard pattern, so they shoot up early.

A Minnesota mother thus wrote me recently because of her worry over her seventh grade son, aged 12, who was 6'10" tall and thus towered like a giant over his five-foot classmates.

Many other children's don't start their "shooting" year till 15 or 16.

Our four boys didn't make their big growth until they passed 15, though it is supposed to begin at 13 for most children.

As regards Billy's slight build, he can compete very adequately in track, especially in the distance events.

Some of our world famous mile runners and two-milers have been both slender and short of stature.

Gymnastics, weight-lifting and wrestling will also offer him plenty of opportunity to win athletic letters, for in wrestling you are matched on the basis of equal body weights.

Regular exercise is good insurance for building a larger, more powerful heart, so Billy can begin the distance races, starting out gradually, of course, till his heart gets accustomed to the demand for power and endurance.

Exercise also stimulates more hunger, which may increase the ingestion of extra food and trace chemicals that may aid height.

Send for my booklet on "Trace Chemicals," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Suit Dress Is In

Suits haven't gone into discard, but competing strongly against them are suit-dresses, as the fashion industry calls the new costume. These are two-piece dresses, often with short sleeves, that try to look like suits but have no blouses. Larry Aldrich of New York is one exponent of the suit dress, showing one costume in double knit jersey, orange skirt, navy top with orange collar, and trimmed in brass buttons.

MRS. E. D. MILLER

MRS. T. A. WINKLER

E. D. Millers Speak Vows in Ceremony

Pfc. and Mrs. Edward Dewey Miller (Sherry Lynn Range) left for a brief honeymoon after recent vows and reception in the First Baptist Church of Lake Orion.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Myron Range of North McGregor Drive, Orion Township, and the Edward Millers of Foreland Drive, Oxford Township.

With her bouffant tiered gown and train of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride wore an illusion veil with organza headpiece. Her bouquet held white carnations and red roses.

Bonnie Pritchard was honor maid with Mrs. Michael Fitch and Mrs. Howard Christian as bridesmaids.

With best man Edward Jewell were the ushers Michael Fitch and Wesley Schaar.

The bridegroom will serve with the U. S. Army in Germany.

Honeymoon at Niagara for Gallants

After their marriage and reception, Tuesday, in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, Pvt. and Mrs. William Chandler Gallant left for Niagara and Boston.

Parents of the former Sandra Lee Saville and her husband are the Hunter L. Savilles, Pioneer Drive and the William D. Gallants, Lakeview Drive, White Lake Township.

With her gown and cathedral train of white satin, the bride wore a beaded heirloom crown capping tiers of silk illusion with face veil.

Her heart-shaped bouquet held pink Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Cheryl Saville, Arydthe Gallant and Karen Wilcox attended the bride with Connie Sherwood, flower girl.

Pfc. Eldon Young of Fort Devens, Mass. was best man. Pfc. Robert McClure, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and Jim Ferguson ushered. Michael Malcomb was Bible-bearer.

Trip Follows Recent Vows

Marine Pfc. and Mrs. Thomas Arnold Winkler (Sharon Ann Clark) left for his base in San Diego, Calif. after their recent nuptials in St. Williams Catholic Church, Waller Lake.

With them at the reception in the Middle Straits Community Center were their parents, the Allan Clarks of Bolton Drive, Commerce Township, and the Leslie Winklers of Farmington.

A bouffant illusion veil complemented the bride's chapel-length gown of white peau de soie trimmed with Alencon lace. She carried a white orchid and Stephanotis.

Barbara Lantz was maid of honor with bridesmaids Colleen Clark and Mary Winkler. Christopher Winkler was best man. Seating guests were David Winkler, Craig Douglas and Larry Bachilla, Royal Oak.

Sports Widows Given Advice

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "If you can't lick 'em — join 'em." That's the advice Mrs. Hunter Ennis has for wives whose husbands are avid football fans. She suggests they learn the fundamentals of the game and watch with their mates — at the stadium or on television.

"You don't like anything you don't know about," says the blonde wife of Hunter Ennis, Texas Christian University football coach. "Read some pre-game newspaper stories before going to the stadium." She advocates getting acquainted with football by watching TV.

Why Grow Old?

Even though you usually have your hair fixed at a beauty salon, there are times when it is most convenient to have a little do it yourself know-how I am bringing you some today.

There are weeks which are so rushed that it is impossible to keep your appointment. Then there are days when you are grounded with a cold or have been out in the wind so that your hairdo needs a little pickup in-between professional settings.

A good haircut, which pretty much falls into place according to the style you are wearing, is essential in any instance. However, it is even more important when you are fixing your own hair.

Here are a few things to remember. Section your hair. From past experience or observation you probably know just about how wide the sections should be and the direction in which they should go.

Roll in the direction in which your hairdo is going. The following are two important things to remember when putting your hair on rollers. Be sure that the hair is not twisted, but smooth on the roller. Otherwise, it will fly in all directions when it is combed out.

Also, be certain that the ends of the hair are even. If they are not, use the scissors to make them so.

The size roller to be used depends on your hair style and the texture of your hair. If you have coarse, thick hair, use very large rollers. If your hair is fine, you will need smaller ones. In either case, large rollers are used at the top to give height and contour while small ones are used nearer the back hairline.

DAMPEN HAIR — If you do not have time for a shampoo, dampen the hair slightly before rolling it up. Then after it dries, spray it with hair spray. Then brush it into shape. Some women spray the hair when it is damp before rolling it up, but I think the other method is much better.

It will be helpful if you will

Cellophane Lace

The rustle of spring shows in some new fabrics. Mollie Parris of New York showed "cellophane" lace, a shiny, three-dimensional fabric in evening wear. Miss Parris also does T-shirt dresses, these elegant and knee-length copies of the classic T, unbelieved and often showing in white satin.

Kim Smith in St. John's Lutheran Church, Romeo.

The newlyweds' parents are the Herbert E. Stowells of Elm Drive, Oakland Township and the Robert C. Smiths of Williams Street.

The bride's A-line Empire gown of white peau de soie was styled with cathedral train appliqued with white roses and seed pearls. A petal cluster held her bubble veil of illusion.

From Romeo, were honor maid Cheryl See and bridesmaids Debbie Stowell and Linda Johnson along with Bethlake and Robyn Smith of Pontiac and Joan Weller, Port Huron.

Larry Mathews was best man. Ushers included Jon Stowell, Michael Smith, Robert Ferguson and William Graves.

Couples Tell of Engagements

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Bender of St. Louis, Mich. announce the engagement of their daughter, Arlouine Ann, to Robert Earle Kibbie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Kibbie of Dover Road. The spring bride-elect is an alumna of Cleary College, Ypsilanti, where her fiance is presently a student. He is a graduate of Northwood Institute.

An April wedding is planned by Barbara Ellen Roje, daughter of the Duane H. Rojes of Beach Drive, Orion Township, and Leonard Wayne Graf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Graf of Ann Arbor. She attended Oakland University and her fiance is an alumnus of University of Michigan.

The Leslie Tomlinsons of Berkley announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Ann, to Harold E. Leach, son of Mrs. George C. Leach of Melrose Avenue and the late Mr. Leach. He attends Oakland Community College. A June 24 wedding date is set.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian J. Gloomis of Chippewa Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Richard Allen Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chase of Lakewood Lane.

May vows are planned by Sharon Ann Plawski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Plawski of Beachland Boulevard, and Richard Hernandez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hernandez of Seward Street.

Your Built-In Thermostat Sets Habits

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — People have their own built-in system of responding to food, reports Louise W. Hamilton, extension foods and nutrition specialist of the Pennsylvania State University. Some people gain weight even if they eat little food and others can't gain weight no matter how much they eat, she said.

In one study of this nutrition problem, a group of medical students kept track of the food they ate. The intake was 1,000 to 5,000 calories for the men. The top figure was 3,500 calories for the women. There was little relation between the weight gain of the student and the food he ate.

Growing children seem to have the same variations, said Miss Hamilton. Children with similar ages, height, weight, and body surface show considerable difference in how much they eat.

How much energy a person uses to do a certain job shows this to be true. When military men of the same age, size, and conditioning were measured for the amount of energy they used when marching, variations were considerable. Men were tested marching on a level surface at a little over three miles an hour. Men using the least energy burned up four calories a minute while some men used twice that amount of energy.

Before freezing fruits, add some sugar. This helps to keep the natural color and vitamin content.

Iron and Roll to Stop Creases

When laundering your white table linens, wash them in hot soapy water, rinse well then iron on both sides while still damp.

Wrap tablecloths round long pasteboard tubes, and napkins and smaller articles around shorter ones, to prevent creases while stored. Wrap in blue cellophane to prevent yellowing. Linens are then ready for company use at a moment's notice.

This Playboy Needs to Save for Old Age

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: Here's the way I've set up my budget on $680 a month: Food, $60; rent, $150; clothes, $100; car, $100; insurance, $40; utilities, $20; furniture, $50; spending, $160. But I need help, Mary. I'm a single playboy here in town.

T.B., Chicago

Dear T.B.: Here's the way I'm setting up your budget. And I'm not playing by about, say, $20 a month. Take $32 off the allotment you're spending on clothes. Then knock off $5 from the food bill. Save $5 on car operating expenses for the month — not much to ask, huh? Then cut down on your social spending by about, say, $20 a month. That leaves a total of $618.

So look what you have left at the end of the month, T.B. — $62 to put into a savings account, and you haven't even missed enough fun to notice.

I honestly wouldn't want to slow you down any. But you can't keep on being a playboy forever. Some day you're going to be worrying over a retirement income instead of a new kit sweater. So let's both start worrying a little now, just to make things easier for you on the long downhill run.

Sixty-two dollars a month save is $744 a year. Every year if this amount is invested at a favorable interest rate of say 5 per cent compounded semi-annually you'll be mighty glad to have about $4200 five years from now.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have an account in one bank for a little over $10,000 and another one in a branch of the same bank. Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, am I covered with the required insurance? I also have accounts in other banks (different companies).

Would all these bank accounts be added together, under the law, to make one sum and then have the maximum of, I believe, $10,000 only for them all? J.S., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear J.S.:

Since the main office and all branches of a bank are considered as one bank, if your accounts are in the same "right and capacity"—which means if they are under the same name with each passbook reading identically—then the sum total of these accounts is now insured to the maximum of $15,000, not $10,000.

Just recently Senate Bill S. 3158 was put into law, authorizing the Federal Insurance Corporation and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation to increase insurance coverage. Of course, you can have more than one insured account in a bank if you transfer funds from an "individual account" to a "voluntary trust account" or even a "joint account with right of survivorship." Each of these accounts has different rights and capacities and can be separately insured to the maximum of $15,000.

Under the law insurance coverage is based upon deposits maintained by a person at a single insured bank, and not upon one's total deposits in other banks.

Dear Miss Feeley: How much allowance should a girl of 13 receive? She makes her own bed, keeps her room clean, does dishes when I ask her, and babysits whenever asked.

She goes bowling once a week ($1), donates $1 a week to church. Should we give her this money with her allowance and let her take care of it? Mrs. F.C., Lincoln Park, Mich.

Dear Mrs. C.:

Yes. Money management is part of her education — and this is a good age to turn over the entire responsibility of her allowance.

Make it $3 a week, if you can. Then she can maneuver that third dollar, so that part of it can build up over the weeks for some major purchase she wants. She sounds like a young lady to be trusted with her own funds.

Tireless Helpers Get Reward

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — It was hard to tell who was more excited at the naturalization ceremony in the Federal Building here — the Alberto Diaz family who became U.S. citizens, or Mrs. F. Noble Ropkey, who has been vitally interested and extremely active in helping Cuban refugees for the last five years.

The Diaz family was the first Cuban family sponsored by Mrs. Ropkey to take the citizenship oath. Referred to by the approximately 300 Cubans now living in Indianapolis as "our angel," she has brought refugees here, helped them find jobs, given moral support and practical advice.

Sunday Look

The little girl look in dresses goes on into the next season for big girls too. It's the Sunday school look, topped navy skirts with red jackets, plus white blouses, Peter Pan collars in white, and big bows at the neck.

State's Year-End Report Says '66 Crops Top '65

LANSING (AP) — The Combined output of Michigan's 17 major field and fruit crops totaled 10.34 million tons in 1966—a 3 per cent boost over 1965—a State Crop Reporting Service said today in its year-end report.

Although the total topped the 10.06 million tons produced last year, this year's production was 1 per cent below the 1960-64 average, the report said.

The weather in 1966 was described as generally more favorable for grain, dry beans, soybeans and hay than in 1965, but a dry spell reduced crop yields in northern Lower Michigan and much of the Upper Peninsula.

Good-to-excellent yields were general in the southern Lower Peninsula, the report said.

Combined output of the 10 major field crops was 9.8 million tons this year compared with 9.4 million tons last year. Fruit production totaled 578,000 tons, 19 per cent below last year and 6 per cent below the five-year average.

The field crop value totaled $380 million compared with $346 million last year, the reporting service said.

The report said smaller crops of peaches, sweet and tart cherries and grapes more than offset larger crops of pears and plums.

The year-end report said dry bean production totaled 8.1 million bags (100 pounds clean basis), 31 per cent higher than the 1965 figure and 9 per cent above the 5-year average.

HEAVY RAINS
Dry weather from the last half of May through mid-July slowed bean development but heavy rains in August supplied sufficient moisture to carry the crop through to maturity and dry fall weather aided harvest, the service said. The bean yield per acre of 1,260 pounds was slightly below the 5-year average.

The service reported that: The state produced 30.4 million bushels of winter wheat, 15 per cent more than last year. The rightful owner.

average yield of 40 bushels per acre equaled the record established in 1964.

Total feed grain production—corn, oats and barley—was 3.1 million tons, 2 per cent higher than the 1965 total.

The state's corn for grain production totaled 94.3 million bushels—a 4 per cent increase over 1965. The average yield of 67.0 bushels per acre set a state record.

Oat production declined 14 per cent from 1965 due to a delay in early spring planting caused by wet soil. Dry weather in June and July plus hot weather in those months reduced yields sharply.

Barley production totaled 862,000 bushels, 2 per cent below the 1965 crop.

The year produced a record soybean crop of 10.8 million bushels—12 per cent higher than last year's total.

Late summer potatoes totaled 950,000 hundredweight — up 15 per cent from last year. The fall potato crop is estimated at 7,955,000 hundredweight — down 9 per cent from last year.

The year's 1.1 million ton sugar beet production almost equaled the 1965 crop. An increase in harvested acreage was offset by a lower yield per acre.

The report said the state's 10 major field crops were harvested from a total of 5.7 million acres in 1966 compared with 5.8 million acres in 1965.

Women Sold Wrong Quilt
WILLIAMSBURG, Mass. (AP)—That was a fine-looking quilt the Congregational Church women sold at their bazaar. Trouble was, it wasn't theirs.

The bazaar had been mailed in as a project for a quilting bee and accidentally got mixed up with the bazaar goods.

Now the churchwomen are trying to find the lucky buyer so they can return the quilt to its rightful owner.

SETTLES TO BOTTOM—The USS frigate Constellation, oldest ship of the U.S. Navy still afloat, settled two feet to rest on the bottom of the Baltimore Harbor in Maryland today after a seam apparently widened from ice formations and the vessel shipped from 8 to 10 feet of water. Fire boats were called to pump out the ship's hold.

Medicare Fight to High Court

WASHINGTON (UP)—The first of several lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of an anti-Communist disclaimer in the Medicare law has reached the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Aline P. Weiss, 70, mother-in-law of Dean Louis Pollak of Yale Law School, and her mother, Mrs. Alice K. Politzer, 96, both of New York, yesterday asked the court to rule on the law and a clause in the Medicare application.

Their appeal was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

The question on the Medicare application, which must be answered by 3.4 million prospective applicants not covered by Social Security, asks whether the enrollee was a member of a Communist organization. The statute specifies that members of Communist organizations are not eligible for benefits.

The song with the longest title is "Green with Envy, Purple with Passion, White with Anger, Scarlet with Fever, What were you doing in her arms last night Blues," written in 1961 by Springer and Jones.

Another Bugging Is Admitted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has admitted another case of electronic eavesdropping by the government. It is the eighth admission since last spring.

In papers filed Tuesday night in the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston, the department said the FBI had monitored conversations of Louis J. Taglianetti, who later was convicted of income tax evasion.

The department denied any evidence used in Taglianetti's case was obtained from the FBI bugging, but requested a lower court review of the conviction to determine whether circumstances warranted a new trial. A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI reported it installed a microphone in 1965 at the business establishment of a close associate of Taglianetti and overheard some of his conversations.

FOUND GUILTY
Taglianetti of Warwick, R.I., was found guilty last April of evading taxes for the years 1964, 1967 and 1968. He was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $5,000.

The voluntary announcement of the latest bugging incident followed a Justice Department order last month to examine all cases to determine whether electronic eavesdropping was used to gather evidence illegal.

"It does not appear from the logs of our inquiry into the handling of (Taglianetti's) case by the Internal Revenue Service, the Department of Justice and the U.S. attorney, that any of the monitored conversations were used in evidence or were the source of leads to any evidence in this case," the papers filed by the department said.

The department's first voluntary announcement of electronic eavesdropping resulted in a Supreme Court order of a new trial for Fred Black, a Washington public relations man also convicted of income tax evasion.

The department later admitted bugging the suite of Bobby Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary who is facing various charges including income tax evasion.

Detroit Church Seminar on Draft Is Today

DETROIT (AP) — An interfaith seminar on how youth can avoid the fighting in Vietnam opens at Detroit's Central Methodist church today.

Sponsored by a group calling itself the Committee of Citizens for Peace in Vietnam, the day-long meeting includes workshops for draft-age youth on various aspects of the Selective Service System.

A rally protesting U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war will climax the meeting.

"We expect 7 to 15 people at each of the seven workshops," said the Rev. George Colman, a member of the committee and a Presbyterian minister.

RECEIVED CALLS

The Rev. Mr. Colman said he had received calls from people who said they planned to attend the rally and "find out just what these kids are doing with their draft protests."

"This should provide some opposition comment," he said.

The Rev. David M. Gracie, rector of Detroit's St. Joseph Episcopal church and a committee member, said last week that the sponsors "are not advocating draft dodging."

The Rev. Mr. Gracie said that the meeting was a public forum designed to let draft-eligible youth know where they stand with the law if they plan to oppose the draft with other than conscientious objector status.

COMPLEX PROBLEM

Men opposed to war and killing have little difficulty forming a stand gaining conscientious-objector status, he said, but "the guy who believes this particular war—but not all wars—is unjust, is going to be faced with a complex problem."

Both the Rev. Mr. Colman and the Rev. Mr. Gracie have stated that no recommendations about the draft would be offered but, in Colman's words: "It's an attempt to provide an interchange of ideas for those who are interested."

The workshops feature attorneys who have handled Selective Service cases, clergymen who have counseled conscientious objectors, and students who have been involved in peace protests.

Election Suit Is Dismissed

Asked Runoff Vote for Georgia Governor

ATLANTA (UPI) — A Georgia judge yesterday dismissed a suit seeking to force a runoff election for governor, stating there is a clear constitutional provision for the legislature to elect the chief executive in deadlocked elections.

"The constitution's provision is plain and clear," said Fulton County Superior Court Judge Claude Shaw. "It means what it says and says what it means. There is no authority whatsoever for the secretary of state to call for a runoff election."

The plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Jones of Sandy Springs, Ga., announced through their attorneys that they would ask the State Supreme Court to overrule the dismissal.

The suit sought a runoff election between Democrat Lester Maddox and Republican Howard (BO) Callaway with write-in votes barred.

It was the write-in ballots that were blamed for neither candidate receiving a majority in the Nov. 8 general election.

RIGHT UPHELD

"If I was in either one of their shoes, I would want a mandate of the people," said William H. Schroder, an attorney for the plaintiffs. "No matter whom the legislature chose, the people would suffer."

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the legislature's right to elect the governor in a Dec. 12 decision.

Attorneys for the state argued in a hearing on the Jones' suit that the high court considered the Nov. 8 election "complete."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Harold Hill cited the Supreme Court's decision that legislators would not be bound to vote for a particular candidate by a party loyalty oath because the "election is over." A new step or process is about to begin.

Record-High Interest Rates May Ease for Home Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tight money, a major weakness in a generally strong economy this year, is easing rapidly, but the potential home buyer still faces the highest interest rates on record.

But the home loan peak may be near, with more normal costs and greater availability of loans possibly just around the corner.

Indications of the easing, and a prediction of further easing next year, came at a fast clip Tuesday, capped by an announcement from the Federal Reserve Board of an end to a policy begun last September aimed at restricting bank lending to business.

The board said current credit conditions made its September policy "inoperative."

ON MORTGAGES

Interest rates on mortgages generally lag behind the rest of the money market but one economist said today he expected a leveling off now and a possible downturn within the next few months.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported Tuesday that interest rates on conventional home loans increased again during November but the slower overall pace and a greater availability of funds indicated the peak may be near.

There were these other developments:

— Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, in his annual economic outlook, predicted a somewhat easier credit situation during 1967 with an advance in home building from its lowest level since the end of World War II.

— The Federal National Mortgage Association reduced sharply the interest rates on its short-term discount notes, the second drop this month after an upward trend which began in September 1965.

PCT. DROP

The government's short-term borrowing costs, usually the first to reflect easing in money markets, have already dropped below 5 per cent since reaching their peak Sept. 19.

That day, the rate paid by the government on six-month Treasury bills rose to 6.039 per cent, the first time that the rate exceeded 6 per cent on any Treasury issue.

The Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates the savings and loan industry, noted that, in the past, interest rates on mortgages have tended to lag behind declines in the money market generally.

Monthly surveys of interest rates showed a 6.4 per cent rate in November on conventional mortgages for new homes compared with 6.32 in October. The rate on existing homes, however, rose only to 6.5 from 6.49 in October.

MORE MODERATE

The Federal Reserve Board said the expansion of business loans — which economists blamed for much of the inflationary stress this year — has been reduced to a more moderate level.

In an attempt to restrict bank lending to business, the board in September said it would examine a bank's over-all lending policies to business before approving any Federal Reserve loans to the bank.

Business spending for new plant and equipment this year is forecast by a government survey at 16.5 per cent above 1965. Both government and private surveys predict a slackened growth next year.

VIP TREATMENT — Six-year-old Susan Dewey, a leukemia victim from Grand Rapids, Mich., gets the attention of Disneyland characters as she and her sister and parents tour the huge Anaheim, Calif., amusement park yesterday as guests of a California businessman who asked to remain anonymous. Doctors say the child may die within a year.

Little Leukemia Victim Sees Disneyland

Susan Dewey, 6, a leukemia victim from Grand Rapids, Mich., was given VIP treatment Tuesday at Disneyland.

She was met at the gate by the Three Little Pigs and a human-sized cartoon character named Goofy, who — in the fantasy land of children — is a talking dog.

A crew of firemen in a fire wagon drove Susan to Snow White's castle where she rode on the back of the flying elephant Dumbo and was whisked around the Teacup and toured "It's a Small World."

Needy Indians Have Big Yule

Dinner Final Touch to Effort of Good Will

BAY MILLS (AP) — The Indians of Bay Mills, who were likely to be without Christmas goodies until a few days ago, put a tasty finishing touch Tuesday on an outpouring of good will.

They had their Christmas dinner—a big one, turkey and all the trimmings.

"It was more like Thanksgiving," said Alex Goldade, county supervisor from nearby Brimley.

The good will was sparked by a hunter's concern when he saw a barefoot Indian girl standing in the snow near the huge Chippewa reservation near Bay Mills last month.

RALLIES CO-WORKERS

The hunter, Harry Mitchell of Port Huron, rallied co-workers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and collected some 3,000 pounds of gifts, clothes and food for the Indians.

Fire destroyed the gifts—and the church building they were stored in—the day after they were delivered. But people all over the country came to the Indians' rescue.

Thousands of pounds of gifts poured in, on airplanes from Minnesota, in trucks from Detroit, in letters from Wisconsin.

Father Joseph Lawless, pastor of the church that burned, said he has received several thousand dollars for renovating a community building to be used until a new church is erected.

"I've received so many donations I haven't had time to count them all," Father Lawless said.

There were so many gifts the 32 Bay Mills Indian families shared their Christmas.

Joseph Sagataw, chief of the Hannahville Indians, arrived Bay Mills Tuesday to take a van load of extra gifts and food to his tribesmen.

Meat Conspiracy Case Is Postponed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Municipal Court examination of eight persons and two firms charged with conspiring to violate state meat laws was postponed Tuesday when the attorney for two of the defendants withdrew.

James M. Catclich, attorney for Peter and Gerrit Ritsma of Holland, told Judge John T. Letts his clients advised him they would be unable to meet future bills for legal service.

Letts granted an adjournment until Jan. 24 after the Ritsmas agreed to pay for time to hire another attorney or obtain the services of a court-appointed lawyer.

Dog Licenses on Sale at Animal Shelter

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the Oakland County animal welfare division, announced today that 1967 dog licenses are currently on sale at the county animal shelter, 1200 N. Telegraph.

License rates are $1 for males and spayed females and $2 for unspayed females.

Deadline for purchasing licenses at regular prices is Feb. 28, said Dr. Bates.

Starting March 1, licenses will sell for $5 and $7.50. Upon purchasing licenses, applicants should present a rabies vaccination slip for each dog.

LAST CASE

However, dogs can be vaccinated for $2 each at the animal shelter, Dr. Bates said. The shots are for a one-year period.

Dr. Bates recalled that the county's last reported case of rabies infecting a dog occurred in 1954. A few cats and skunks have been afflicted with the disease since then, according to Bates.

In addition to the animal shelter, a few northern Oakland County communities sell dog license plates. Included in this bracket are Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Township, Waterford Township and Rochester.

Licenses also can be bought at the county treasurer's office. TO CONDUCT CLINICS

Hours at the animal shelter are 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

Beginning the last part of next month the county will conduct clinics in various Oakland County communities and at the shelter for the purpose of licensing and vaccinating dogs.

Dr. Bates warned that county dog wardens cited several persons this year for not having dog licenses.

One judge, Dr. Bates said, fined violators $10 plus $6 court costs.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Thirty-three plane loads of South Vietnamese army paratroopers jumped into the Mekong Delta Tuesday in the first large-scale combat parachute drop over South Vietnam in almost two years, the U.S. Air Force announced Wednesday.

2 Trailers to Add State Capitol Space

LANSING (AP) — Legislative leaders plan to attach two mobile trailer buildings to the ground floor of the Capitol next month to gain office space for legislators.

A House Republican-Democratic negotiating committee is to make a final decision on the plan this week. Under the plan, 16 House Democrats and secretaries would have office space in the mobile buildings, which would be used until the Capitol is remodeled or replaced by a new structure.

"I think they're going to be very attractive," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, chairman of the Democratic House negotiating team. "They'll have a rustic appearance so they won't clash too much with the Capitol."

2,700 Yanks to Leave Cuba?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba reportedly has agreed to let 2,700 U.S. citizens leave that country. The first arrivals could fly to New Orleans today, sources indicate.

The State Department is making no immediate comment but is known to have been negotiating the matter for weeks with the Castro government through the Swiss Embassy in Havana.

There are an estimated 880 U.S. families in Cuba, many headed by persons of Cuban descent born in the United States.

There have been, however, past reports that repatriation might be under way and it has not developed.

Huskies Lead Entire Game

Pontiac Northern Outguns Pontiac Central, 58-45

By JERE CRAIG
The attack repeatedly faked the Pontiac Central literally off their feet Tuesday night and outgunned the visitors for a 58-45 game losing streak in the annual cage clashes.

The Huskies driving tactics on the attack repeatedly faked the Pontiac Central literally off their feet Tuesday night and outgunned the visitors for a 58-45 game losing streak in the annual cage clashes.

The victory lifts PNH to a 4-1 mark this season while Central fell to 3-2. This was Northern's third win in 21 city series games, all three coming on its own court.

The last one was 58-42 in the 1963 district tournament title game.

Last night's contest was an unusual one in that the winning Huskies, while clearly outplaying the PCH quietest, hit only 39 per cent of their field goal tries and were out-rebounded.

But seven first period turnovers by Central and five more in the next session to only four by PNH in the initial half dug a burial mound that was too much for the visitors to surmount.

NEVER LEAD

Never leading in the contest, the Chiefs fell behind by 10 points in the first three and a half minutes of play. This ineffective ball handling, it began, was cut to four at period's taking more and less effective shots from the floor.

the intermission despite the fact PCH took command of the backboards.

The invading Central squad, however, couldn't put the ball in the basket. After hitting four of ten in the first period with hustling zone kept PCH gunning from the outside except for the high-post work of Alton Wilson

As a result, the Chiefs hit only 26 per cent and scored their second lowest total in the intracity rivalry.

For a change, Northern had the tougher defense in the annual meetings. The Huskies hustling zone kept PCH gunning from the outside except for the high-post work of Alton Wilson and some occasional tips that often didn't drop in.

Guard Craig Deaton especially proved troublesome to the Chiefs' top point producer, Prentice Hill. The 20.5-point marks was held to seven shots and one basket.

Don Hayward, PNH's steady forward, was off in his shooting but pulled down 15 rebounds.

ADD PUNCH

Dana Coia and reserve center Stan Allison, giving another fine performance as a substitute, picked up the scoring slack with 20 points between them, and also combined for 16 rebounds.

Allison, particularly, was effective midway through the final half with three baskets as the Huskies built their lead to 49-33.

Guards Mike Clancy and Deaton, making their first varsity start as a unit, also contributed with their shooting and defensive hustle.

Although outrebounded, 60-53, PNH managed 78 shots to 65 for Central but made six more field goals than the losers. Wilson topped the backboard work. Gordon Hamilton had 15. Wilers with 16 retrieves while son also hit 7 of 13 for the game's top shooting mark.

But he wasn't enough to prevent Northern from amassing an 18-point lead late in the game and adding 50 points in this year's City All Sports Trophy competition before a noisy, standing-room-only crowd of 2,000.

State Quintets Lose in Motor City

Titans, Broncos Are Losers in First Round

U. of D. Upset, 98-94 by Tulane; Miami, O., Defeats Western

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit's hopes for hometown glory in the Motor City Classic basketball tournament were shattered by upstart Tulane.

The Green Wave, with some hot shooting in the second half, turned the tide and upset the Titans 98-94 Tuesday night.

In the first game, Miami of Ohio whipped Western Michigan 51-45, earning the right to face Tulane in the championship game tonight. Detroit meets Western Michigan in the consolation match.

Down by 12 points at the half, Tulane hit 10 straight points in the first two minutes of the second half and came within two points of the Titans, 57-55.

Johnny Arthurs, a sophomore forward, and Al Anders, a Benton Harbor product, put the Green Wave back in the game. Arthurs hit 19 of his 33 points in the first half and Andrews pumped in 17 of his 21 points in the last 20 minutes.

HOT PACE

Tulane fired a blistering 68 per cent in the second half, sinking 22 of 32 floor shots.

Mainly played a slow, deliberate game in topping WMU.

Paced by the nearly perfect shooting of forward Fred Foster, Miami jumped to a 32-24 halftime margin. But the Broncos cut the margin to 46-43 by 4:32 to play on a jump shot by Pahl White.

A pair of foul shots by Jerry Fisher with 1:44 remaining wrapped it up for Miami. Foster topped the Redskins with 44 points while Reggie Lacrofield had 17 points to lead WMU.

Representing PCH were Randy Johnson, N. Z. Bryant, Larry Craft, Ken Vollmar, Ben Rodriguez, Bill Gottschall, Charles Mason and Athie McGinnis.

Other teams with wrestlers still contending were Royal Oak Kimball, RO Dondoro and Warren Lincoln, each with 6; Farmington, Birmingham Seaholm and Hazel Park, each with 6; Berkley, North Farmington and Birmingham Groves, 3 each; Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Redford Union, Warren Mot and Catholic Central, 2 each; Bloomfield Hills, Country Day and L'Anse Creuse, one each.

The tournament had more than 20 teams and almost 500 wrestlers competing Tuesday before good-sized crowds.

MSU Handed Defeat in Quaker Tourney

From Our News Wires

Louisville merrily whistled its way through the "graveyard" of nationally ranked basketball teams while Michigan State was gently laid to rest.

Second-ranked Louisville and seventh-ranked State were booked into the same Quaker city tournament which began Tuesday at Philadelphia's historic Palestra where more than a handful of highly rated clubs have gone to their reward.

The Cardinals, however, were not about to roll over and played out for Niagara. With sophomore sensation Butch Beard and junior Westley Unsell combining for 47 points and 36 rebounds, Louisville crushed the Purple Eagles 88-73.

State, now 5-2, wasn't that fortunate against local enemy Villanova. The Wildcats hit the Spartans with a tenuous defense and three hot sophomores in scoring a 66-43 upset.

The victories sent Louisville and Villanova into Thursday night's semifinals where the Cardinals will meet Syracuse and the Wildcats face 15th-ranked Princeton. Syracuse held off LaSalle 88-84 and Princeton pummeled Bowling Green 87-73 in other first-round activity.

The Spartans meet Bowling Green of Ohio in a consolation match tonight.

EIGHT TIES

The game was tied eight times in the first half and the lead changed hands 13 times. The Spartans took a short-lived lead early in the second half but Villanova's George May popped in a pair of 20-foot jumpers and the Wildcats were ahead to stay.

MSU closed the gap to two points, 57-55, with less than three minutes to play. But Villanova scored nine straight points to put the game out of reach.

Johnny Jones topped Villanova with 21 points and May added 17.

Steve Rymal, a guard from Adrian, was high for Michigan State with 16.

The victory was the fourth for Villanova in seven games.

Western Kentucky struggled to a 90-84 triumph over Holy Cross and reached the final round of the Hurricane Classic against Miami, an 82-78 win over Pennsylvania.

Suspension — crippled Illinois and Southern California reached the second round of the Los Angeles Classic, Iowa State and Kansas State gained semifinal berths in the Big Eight tournament and defending Champ Oklahoma City and Stanford advanced in the All-College tournament.

THREE RALLIES

The Wings, who rallied three times to earn the tie, remain only a point behind Philadelphia in the battle to stay out of the cellar.

Howe tipped in a long shot by Norm Ulmer at 15:42 to get the tie. Defenseman Leo Boivin scored his second and third goals of the season for Detroit and Alex Delvecchio got his eighth

Annual Honor Goes to MVP in NFL

Bart Starr Is Jim Thorpe Award Winner

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Bryan Bartlett Starr of Montgomery, Ala., and Green Bay, Wis., has been on just one foot in his life.

In 1966, the Green Bay Packers played a game in New York, and Bart Starr, who expected to play quarterback, sat on the bench all afternoon, though he was in perfect health.

That night Starr and end Ron Kramer, a fellow packer also disappointed at his inactivity, didn't drown their sorrows. They deluged them.

The next week, Starr started at quarterback for the Packers, and seven years later he is still starting. The Packers have won five Western Conference titles in the National Football League, three NFL championships and are about to try for a fourth.

And this year Starr has won the highest honor that can come to a professional football player.

Bryan Bartlett Starr today was named the recipient of the 12th annual Jim Thorpe Trophy, awarded by Newspaper Enterprise Association to the most valuable player in the National Football League. The winner is determined in a poll of all the league players.

Now there's a real cause for celebration, if Bart wants to try it again.

The Green Bay quarterback will receive his trophy in a special ceremony to be telecast nationally by CBS-TV on Jan. 1 as part of a special half-hour program immediately preceding the National Football championship game between Starr's Packers and the Dallas Cowboys.

Presentation of the NEA All-Players All-Pro team will feature the program.

Others who figured prominently in this year's balling conducted by NEA were Gale Sayers, the fine halfback of the Chicago Bears, who won the league's rushing crown with 1,231 yards gained; defensive safety Larry Wilson of the St.

Louis Cardinals; running back Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns, and another quarterback, Don Meredith of the Dallas Cowboys.

11TH SEASON

The quiet quarterback waited until his 11th pro season to be acclaimed the outstanding man in the NFL. His contributions have been veiled during the last decade by such glamor names among the quarterbacks as Norm Van Brocklin, Y. A. Tittle and John Unitas.

The acclamation is significant this year because all the other quarterbacks, including Unitas, pinpointed Starr as the top man of '66.

"Bart is the best in the business," noted Norm Sneed of the Philadelphia Eagles, "and certainly deserves and has earned this award."

Among all the passing statistics that abound in the National Football League record manual, the name of Starr is found in two places only. There is a category called "passing efficiency"—it reveals Starr as the most efficient passer in history (for 1,000 or more attempts) with a completion percentage of 56.8 going into this season.

There is another called "passes had intercepted"—Starr has the lowest lifetime percentage in history, at 4.25 per cent of his career attempts.

This season, the Packer quarterback has exceeded himself in both areas. Starr completed 62.2 per cent of his passes with only three interceptions.

But the Green Bay quarterback is more than just a flinger of passes. In fact, critics used to say he didn't really have a good arm, that he couldn't throw the long ball. No one has ever argued, however, about his ability to direct a team.

"He has a lot of leadership ability," said coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers, "and he knows exactly what I want. Bart follows our ready sheet for a game perfectly. We win because we make very, very few mistakes." And Starr makes virtually none, on a strategy level.

"His greatest asset," said Bill Austin, a former Packer assistant who now coaches Pittsburgh, "is picking apart the defense. Any defense has a hole. The trick is to know where it is."

And Bart can also get a team to respond. Recognition of his leadership qualities was delayed by a natural reserve and politeness inherent in the quiet native Alabamian. Early in his career, he once admonished an unruly team huddle, "Hush up, y'all." And broke up the Packers.

But when a tough enemy linebacker tried to push him around physically, he said the other guy off, in the salty words of a first sergeant.

"Great leader!" noted Ron Kramer, in voting for his old teammate. Kramer now plays for the Detroit Lions. He was the man with Starr, remember, on that despairing night back in 1959.

Adrian, Albion Suffer Losses in Tournament

MARSHALL (AP)—Manchester of Indiana poured in 132 points Tuesday night to highlight a high-scoring first round of the Marshall Optimist Classic basketball tournament.

Manchester dumped Adrian 123-76, paced by Joe Phillips' 23 points. Jim Ingelue had 23 for the losers.

In other games, Taylor of Indiana whipped Albion 101-81 and Eastern Michigan blitzed Ferris State 113-64.

Wildcats Must Stop Dribbler

NEW YORK (AP)—Someone looked even younger than his 31 years.

Someone else suggested that if he feels as young as he looks, maybe he should guard Jim Walker when his Northwestern basketball team plays Providence tonight in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival tournament.

"I'll pass this time," Glass said Tuesday. "I don't want to embarrass him with my speed." The Northwestern coach was enjoying himself by making a little joke. He might as well have. There most likely won't be anything enjoyable for him tonight.

For his Wildcats, who squeezed by eighth-ranked St. John's 62-60 in the Festival opener, must try and stop Walker, who is one of the most elusive dribblers and most phenomenal shooters in college today.

St. Joseph's, Pa., meets Rhode Island in the first semifinal contest.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Australia has retained the Davis Cup, the top prize in amateur tennis, for the third straight year after a determined bid by upstart India.

Roy Emerson, the Aussies' Ace, clinched the Cup by beating Ramanathan Krishnan 6-0, 6-2, 10-8 in Wednesday's opening singles match. Fred Stolle then triumphed by outlasting game Jaleed Mukerjee 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

The Australians, who have won the Davis Cup in seven of the last eight years and 14 of the last 17, were expected to clinch it easily after Emerson and Stolle had swept their opening singles matches Monday.

BIG UPSET But the Indians came back with a stunning upset in Tuesday's doubles, beating Tony Roche and John Newcombe, possibly the world's best team.

NO. 11—SHOT WITH ANGLE
This is a shot which must be hit at different angles, depending on the location of the object ball with respect to the pocket.
For this type of shot, set yourself directly in front of your cue ball.

Next, walk over to your object ball and create an imaginary line with your cue stick from the object ball to the pocket (picture No. 1).

Remember the exact spot that must be hit to successfully pocket the ball.

You then go back to the cue ball, aim it at the spot (No. 2) and stroke smoothly.

After a few practice shots you shouldn't have too much trouble with angle or cut-shots. Remember practice makes perfect.

Anchor Bay Anglers Out, but 'No Fish'

The ice fishing report from Lake St. Clair was short and to the point.

Conservation officer James Lee of Algonac reported safe ice on northern Anchor Bay and about 150 fishermen out Monday, but "no fish."

The same can't be said about the Mud Creek area of Saginaw Bay where perch fishing continued to be very good. There is six to seven inches on the Bay.

Fishing on inland lakes in the Pontiac area is just getting under way. Last week-end's results were rated as fair with a few perch being taken at Pontiac Lake and some crappies at Kent.

Grouse and rabbit hunters were out in large numbers Monday, but failed to put much of a dent in the game population. Rabbits remained holed up during the weekend and were very reluctant to run even when started.

Pats were difficult to locate and those found had a tendency to flush wild. There was one bright note to pat hunting which ends Saturday in Southern Michigan. The report from DeFord game area in Tuscola county rates grouse hunting excellent.

POPULAR FISHING SPOT — Cars have been jamming the parking areas along Saginaw Bay's Sebewaing and Wildfowl Bay areas as fishermen take part in a good harvest of perch. Big perch are being caught off Muddy Creek near Sebewaing. The fish are running about average in Wildfowl Bay with some anglers going out a mile or more. Best action is in about four feet of water.

Three Officers Get Honors

Former Imlay City Supervisor Cited

Special recognition has come to three law enforcement men of the Conservation Department for their performance of duties and leadership in community conservation activities.

Honored were Herman Haedicke, regional law supervisor for the southern Lower Peninsula, and conservation officers Ray Ankney of St. Charles and Robert Dice of Big Rapids.

Haedicke, former law supervisor at Imlay City, received his award at a state directors' meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs for "his untiring devotion to the conservation of our natural resources."

The plaque also cited him for his "valuable services" to the officers, directors and members of MUCC's District 1.

Ankney was given his award by the Chesaning Area Conservation Club "in recognition of service above self" to that organization.

The Western Michigan Law Enforcement Officers' Association named Dice as its Officer of the Year and then picked him as its secretary-treasurer. Dice is the first conservation officer to win the Association's award since it was established four years ago.

Caution Is Urged With Snowmobiles

Snowmobiles and ice don't necessarily mix this time of year.

This warning comes from Lt. Don Kraat of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, who points out that "a minimum of four inches of ice on a lake is needed to safely support a snowmobile and one man."

Several mishaps on Lower Peninsula lakes have been reported, including a double drowning Monday on Lake Pontchartrain near Fenton.

"Many of the lakes in our area don't have sufficient ice to even walk on let alone ride a snowmobile," said Kraat. "Lakes with four inches can be dangerous this time of year because the new ice isn't always uniform in depth."

The recent boom in snowmobiles and other mechanized snow sleds has opened the door to new methods of travel over long distances where cars can't be used.

Snowmobiles are being used more extensively for reaching ice fishing grounds are large inland lakes and the Great Lakes.

Even on Saginaw Bay where the ice usually reaches a depth of more than a foot, a snowmobile operator can get in trouble if he doesn't know the danger spots.

TAXI PILOTS

"Ice taxi drivers who carry fishermen six and seven miles out know where the shipping lanes and other weak places are located," said Howard Greene, district game supervisor at the Conservation Department's Pontiac Lake district office.

who spent several years working at Wildfowl Bay.

"A fellow from Pontiac or Detroit who wants to go out beyond the seven-mile reef could drop through because he isn't familiar with ice conditions out that far."

Kraat, who heads the Sheriff's Department water safety division, urged fishermen to be "extremely careful when walking on area lakes."

"Spring holes, air pockets and river currents in lakes may be frozen over, but the ice will be much thinner than on other parts of a lake."

The snow covering ice also makes it difficult to see the weak spots, he pointed out.

Waterfowl Survey Slated in January

Aerial and ground counts will be carried out in Michigan by the Conservation Department and U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife during the week of Jan. 9 to take stock of wintering waterfowl populations in the state.

As in the past, the annual post season survey will be coordinated with waterfowl checks throughout the continent to get the first reading on next spring's potential supplies of breeding ducks and geese.

In addition to their regular waterfowl inventory, game biologists will again keep tallies on bald eagles to help size up current populations of the nation's symbol.

Game Habitat Packets, Trees Offered for Sale

The Conservation Department offered game habitat planting stock for the first time last spring to complement its coniferous tree program and found it had a tiger by the tail.

The public response to both the tree and habitat offering was overwhelming and orders had to be turned back before the announced deadline in April.

More stock will be available in 1967 to meet the demand that is expected to exceed the 1966 sales.

Purchase application forms for habitat and coniferous tree packets are now available at Conservation Department field offices, including the Pontiac Lake district headquarters, at Highland and Tull in Waterford Township.

Landowners desiring both trees and a habitat improvement packets must use separate forms.

Prices for the habitat stock remains the same at $7.50 for packets and one cent each for individual species. There is a minimum of 200 on the separate species.

Increased production costs have raised the price of pine trees and average of $2 per thousand.

MIXED STOCK

The game habitat packets contain a mixed variety of hardwood bushes, trees and pines and are designed for use according to soil type and location above or below M55.

"Anyone wishing help in planning a habitat program is welcome to contact our office for assistance," said Howard Greene, district game biologist at the Pontiac Lake office.

The deadline for applying is April 15, 1967 and all shipments will be made by May 15.

Included in the various habitat packets of 400 bushes and 100 conifers will be autumn olive, honeysuckle, Siberian crab, Washington Hawthorne, sly dogwood, wild grape, fragrant sumac, arrowwood, nannyberry, coralberry, high bush cranberries and white spruce, jackpine, red and white pine trees.

Some packets contain more species than others because of their soil designation.

State's Banking Chief Renamed for Fourth Term

LANSING (AP)—State Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay of Detroit was reappointed to a fourth term Tuesday by Gov. George Romney.

Slay, 49, was first named commissioner June 6, 1961, by former Democratic Gov. John Swainson to fill an unexpired term.

Slay, 1963 by Romney, who named him to the post again in 1964.

The two-year appointment, expiring Dec. 31, 1968, needs Senate confirmation.

The $18,000 a year position also includes directorship of the Department of Commerce's financial institutions bureau.

Male Style-Setter Eyes Bare Bosom

LONDON (AP) — Milady's bare bosom is likely to remain popular — but it's unlikely to become fashionable.

Now who's putting on that front?

A mah, of course. He's John Taylor, editor of the British magazine of male fashion, Tailor & Cutter, the voice of Saville Row.

In a book entitled "It's a Small World," Taylor says that he has done a lot of research into his subject.

NOTHING NEW

He says the topless dresses of the mid-1960s were really nothing new. He reports that in the year 1796, the Champs Elysees in Paris came to an interested halt one afternoon as two interestingly unclad young ladies strolled beneath the leafy trees.

One girl wore only a length of gauze, but tastefully draped.

Girl No. 2 strolled beside her friend with her bosom entirely uncovered.

Those who witnessed the public reaction to the topless dresses in 1964 will be less than surprised at the repercussions in the Champs 168 years before.

PLAINLY HOSTILE

Here's what the author says happened:

"Furious to see public convention so lightly disregarded, the surrounding populace caught its breath only deep enough to voice plain hostility."

"It then advanced upon the pioneers in phalanxes of high dudgeon—or perhaps to obtain a clearer view—until the two ladies went in fear of their safety."

Taylor says the two girls were acting under the leadership of a pair of Parisienne fashion queens — Mesdames Becamier and Tallien, who had been, for the best part of a decade, encouraging the use of less and less, and more and more transparent clothing.

On this subject he says: "Gossamer silks, muslins and a variety of other see-through materials, were quite unsupported by the properties of underwear, and diamond bracelets were shifted from the traditional of the wrists and arms to encircle thighs and breasts and gleam seductively through the transparent materials which covered them."

FAD FADED

But this fad faded.

A student of manners as well as fashion, Taylor says that the reason why the bare bosom will never become fashionable is because of middle-aged women.

"The establishment reigns as supremely in female circles as it does in the male," he claims, "and as the age levels roughly correspond. Middle-aged women who establish feminine mores are bound to obstruct implacably a style which can offer them nothing but disadvantage."

Emphasizing that women are extraordinary persons, the author says they will accept a fashion for its own sake—even when they basically disapprove of it."

He cites the modesty boards that appeared like sprouting forests in British offices during the mid-1960s.

STRIPS OF WOOD

Following the general acceptance of the high-high miniskirt in 1965 and '66, a section of British women office workers began demanding the erection of modesty boards on their desks.

The boards—thin strips of wood nailed across the open spaces of the desks where female workers type—were to

Officials Analyze Reasons for Light Yule Fatalities

By The Associated Press
Death bypassed the highways in five states during the Christmas holiday weekend, and traffic safety officials credited the achievement to intense driver education, increased police patrols, bad weather and the spirit of Christmas.

Fatalities dropped substantially in several other states.

There were no traffic deaths reported in Idaho, Alaska, Nebraska, Delaware or Rhode Island.

Latest figures show that 584 persons lost their lives in the three-day Christmas weekend. Last year 720 persons were killed during Christmas observance. The 1966 Thanksgiving four-day holiday set an all-time record for any holiday period when 748 persons died.

A. E. Perkins, head of the Idaho State Police, gave credit to a pre-Christmas campaign which urged parents to have their children take more time reaching home for the holidays and asked partygoers to do their drinking after their driving.

"We had some inclement weather and that slowed people down," he said. "And I think the spirit of Christmas prevailed a little. People are getting to be a little better drivers, a little more courteous."

Special Dutch and Greek Breads Baked at New Year's

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Talking with area women who were born in foreign countries is particularly interesting when the talk concerns holiday customs.

Mrs. Robert Alderman of Northway Drive was born in The Netherlands, came to America for a visit, found a job and met her husband in California.

Now the mother of two boys and a girl, she is a contented American homemaker. Last year her parents came for a visit at Christmas, their first trip here.

In the Netherlands, says Mrs. Alderman, St. Nicholas Day on Dec. 6 is the day for children; Christmas is a religious holiday; and, New Year's Day is the main family occasion.

As a youngster, Mrs. Alderman does not remember her mother's baking because she had no oven. Baked good came from bake shops which were plentiful.

One thing about the holiday season in Michigan that pleases her is snow. Holland, she says is a very wet country and she likes our weather better.

Mrs. Alderman did not give us any recipes; she doesn't have one for some of the Dutch treats. But she mentioned Olie Bollen which is a traditional New Year's pastry.

For several months we've had a recipe for Olie Bollen, sent us by another Dutch-American, Mrs. Gysbertus Kokx.

Mrs. Kokx says this is "a very special Dutch New Year's Eve delicacy from a very old recipe."

OLIE BOLLEN

By Mrs. Gysbertus Kokx

4 cups flour
1 package yeast
3 cups lukewarm milk
1/2 pound raisins
1/2 cup citron or candied fruit
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dissolve yeast in a little of the lukewarm milk. Put flour and salt in a bowl, add dissolved yeast and the rest of the milk. The batter should be smooth but not too thin.

Stir in raisins and candied fruit or citron. Cover and let rise in a warm place about an hour.

Heat oil for frying to 360 degrees. Use two tablespoons, one to spoon out the batter and the other to slide it into the oil. Fry the olie bollen until they brown. They will turn over by themselves when one side is done.

Take them out of the oil with a slotted spoon and lay on brown paper to soak up

Vegetables Are Tasty in New Salad

Here's a colorful tangy salad that is sure to delight family and guests at the holiday meal. Bright orange carrots, crisp celery and sweet peas are topped with a tangy dressing. The dressing, which can be whipped up in minutes, is bottled French dressing, creamy mayonnaise and crumbles of mellow American blue cheese.

Holiday Salad

1 cup sliced, cooked carrots
1 cup thinly-sliced celery
1 1/2 cups cooked peas
1/4 cup French dressing
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup American blue cheese (about 2 ounces, crumbled)
1 medium sized head lettuce
Combine carrots, celery, peas, French dressing, mayonnaise and cheese; mix well and chill.

Cut lettuce into 6 wedge sections without cutting all the way through. Spread sections of salad mixture. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

the oil. Dust with confectioners sugar while still warm.

In Greece too, New Year's Day is a more festive occasion than Christmas which is a religious holiday. Mrs. Chris Anast of Avon Township who has been in this country for 10 years talked with us briefly about the holiday season in her native Greece.

At Christmas time they have turkey stuffed with chestnuts; they have Santa Claus; and they have Christmas trees made with evergreen branches.

On New Year's Eve, after a church service, people play cards for big prizes. There are sweepstakes. Presents come on New Year's Day.

A special bread is served at this time. In it is placed a piece of silver and the lucky finder is supposed to have financial good luck in the new year.

Mrs. Anast sends us her recipe for Vasilopita or New Year's Bread.

NEW YEAR'S BREAD

By Mrs. Chris Anast

6 eggs
1 cup milk
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 cakes yeast
10 cups flour
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup butter, melted
1/2 cup orange juice

1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Dissolve yeast in warm water with the one-half teaspoon of sugar. Add melted butter, shortening, sugar, orange juice, salt and lukewarm milk.

Beat eggs well and add to mixture. Add flour gradually until soft dough is formed. Knead well. Cover and let rise in warm place about an hour or until doubled. Knead down and shape into loaves. Place a quarter or a dime wrapped in aluminum foil in each loaf. Let rise in greased pans until double.

Brush top with mixture of one egg yolk and one tablespoon water. Sprinkle with sesame seeds, if desired.

Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 325 degrees and bake for another 20 minutes, or until loaves are golden brown.

DUTCH TREAT—Mrs. Robert Alderman, 685 Northway, talks about the Dutch pastry on the plate. Her mother who lives in The Hague sends her a holiday box of special treats each year at this time. Thoroughly Americanized and with an American husband and three children, Mrs. Alderman remembers holidays of her childhood, but lives very much in the present.

Brazil Nuts Delightful to Use in Many Tempting Ways

Brazil nuts reach the market in abundant quantity over the holiday season, and these sweet, buttery nuts go into a variety of festive pastries, appetizers, salads, and main dishes. The knowledgeable cook will prepare a quantity in advance and have them ready to put to work at cooking time.

Some nutty arithmetic may help you plan the quantity you will need to buy. One pound of Brazil nuts in the shell equals 1/2 pound shelled nuts. And one pound of shelled Brazil nuts equals three cups.

One cup shelled Brazil nuts equals 1 1/4 cups coarsely ground nuts; one cup shelled nuts equals 1 1/4 cups sliced nuts; and one cup shelled nuts equals 1 1/2 cups finely chopped nuts.

Brazil nuts have been packaged by Nature in a shell so sturdy that it may resist the nutcracker. To prepare your Brazil nuts for quality shelling, place the nuts in the freezer section of the refrigerator or in the food freezer for several hours or overnight. The freezing process makes the shell brittle enough for easy cracking.

Once shelled, here is how to prepare the nuts for cooking:

To slice, cover the shelled nuts with cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Simmer for five minutes and drain. The nuts will then slice lengthwise without breaking.

To make Brazil nut curls, brown. Add to bread crumbs and simmer the nuts as for slicing parsley in large bowl. Add and make paper-thin lengthwise slices with a vegetable fork.

To make finely chopped or ground Brazil nuts, put the nuts through the coarsest blade of the food grinder. For coarsely chopped nuts, use a French knife on a chopping board.

BRAZIL NUTS—Brazil nuts ready for shelling and crisp Toasted Brazil Nut Chips combine deliciously with assorted fresh fruits for a light dessert after a rich meal, or the perfect late-evening snack.

House OK on Powell Funds Is Sought

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Rubin, the lawyer trying to collect a $164,000 defamation judgment for his client from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, says he is again seeking a House resolution to let him attach Powell's congressional bank account.

Rubin also said Tuesday night that reports from reliable sources led him to believe there is more than $1 million in the account.

The lawyer said the entire amount of the judgment could be paid in a few weeks if the House of Representatives would pass an enabling resolution.

Rubin, who has been trying since 1963 to collect the jury award for his client, Esther James, a Harlem widow, said he had asked several representatives in recent weeks to introduce a resolution in behalf of Mrs. James.

When asked whether any had agreed to do so, Rubin replied: "No comment."

Rubin said he had asked House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., several times to sponsor a resolution permitting him to attach Powell's account, but had been refused.

Every congressman's account in the bank is confidential. The

Spellman Firm on Viet Views

Position Reportedly Perplexes Vatican

SAIGON (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman stood firm today on his call for nothing less than U.S. victory in Vietnam despite reports that the Vatican was upset by his remarks.

"Whatever I said, I stand by it," the 77-year-old Roman Catholic archbishop of New York told a newsmen before ending his Christmas visit with U.S. servicemen in Vietnam and flying to the Philippines.

Although the Vatican would make no official comment, unofficial sources there said the cardinal's statement that anything less than victory in Vietnam "is inconceivable" caused concern and perplexity. Those sources said such declarations seemed to be a bit of keeping with the efforts of Pope Paul VI to encourage a negotiated end to the war.

The Soviet government paper Izvestia charged the cardinal's "militant sermons" were "in sharp dissonance with recent statements of Pope Paul who appealed for an end to the bloody killing." North Vietnam denounced the cardinal as a "reactionary under a priest cloak" and charged he had "loudly clamored for the intensification of the U.S. aggressive war."

YULE SERMON

The cardinal's statement, made during a Christmas Eve sermon, also referred to the Vietnam fighting as a "war for civilization."

En route to Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport today, he told patients at the U.S. Army's 3rd Field Hospital. "All America should be grateful to you. The men in the armed forces have saved our civilization in past years. You are preserving it."

Cardinal Spellman, who is Roman Catholic military vicar of the U.S. armed forces, celebrated his final Mass at the Regina Pacis — Queen of Peace — church in Saigon. His congregation was sprinkled with U.S. officers and enlisted men.

"I am concluding my visit to Vietnam and I thank Almighty God for giving me the strength to make it here," he said. "I have been edified by the soldiers and sailors — I mean all the military men and women.

ENDURING PEACE

"We hope and pray that God in some way will give us a miracle — the miracle of a just and enduring peace."

The cardinal, who was accompanied by U.S. Army physicians throughout his six-day visit, declared several times this was his last trip abroad to visit U.S. servicemen at Christmas. It was his 16th consecutive Christmas visit to the forces overseas.

Hearing Today in 3 Slayings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — David McCarter Jr. charged after Thanksgiving. They had their bodies mutilated.

Shelby County Sheriff C. P. Walker said Tuesday night that McCarter, 25, would appear before Judge Karl Harrison in Columbus to be advised of his rights.

McCarter is charged with the Christmas night slayings of Vaughn Murphy, 15, his brother, Steve, 13, and a friend, Will Binzel, 14. Their bodies were found Monday near Birmingham.

The bodies of the older Murphy boy and the Binzel youth, bruised and partially nude, were found off a dirt road. The other body was found in a creek seven miles away.

SHOT, STRANGLED

Two of the victims had been shot behind the ear and the third had been strangled, a medical examiner said.

Walker and Jefferson County Sheriff Melvin Bailey quoted McCarter as saying he drove a car to his father's service station and washed the trunk with kerosene. Examination of the trunk, Walker said, revealed bits of hair and blood which were sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington for examination.

The three boys had left the Bizel home about 6 p.m. Christmas Day to buy supplies for a camping trip.

Sheriffs Ray Bridges of Mobile County and Taylor Wilkins of Baldwin County sought Tuesday to question McCarter about a similar slaying of two Mobile youths earlier this month. Wilkins said that McCarter refused to answer questions.

FOUND DEAD

The two Mobile brothers, Randall Evans, 13, and Michael, 8, were found slain in a Baldwin County woods after they disappeared.

The 13 provinces of Ethiopia are administered by governors-general appointed by the emperor.

Viet War a Day-to-Day Affair

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP)—Snipers, a coconut booby-trapped with explosive, the 3 a.m. mortar attack—it is all part of the daily struggle, along with the battles, pacification and logistics.

Da Nang is on the fertile coast of the 1st Corps Area, the five northernmost provinces of South Vietnam which has cool highlands wrinkling into Laos.

A senior Air Force officer who flies from the Da Nang base talked about the day-to-day struggle.

SAME TRUCKS

"A couple of days later the same trucks are 20 miles south of the zone in Laos. We know they're the same trucks because we have people out there counting them."

"We bomb their convoys, the bridges, and we hurt them. 'Little things add up, too."

"For instance, the North Vietnamese have to drive at night without lights. That means in the north that the supplies and reinforcements move at 20 miles an hour instead of 50, and not as much before we started bombing."

"Where some bridges are bombed out, we've found fords just under the water, built of rocks. Now we bomb the rocks. If we don't it's the same as leaving a bridge standing."

ADD PERMANENCE

There are 61,000 U.S. Marines throughout the corps area. Their swelling encampments now include 2,700 of the area's 10,000 square miles. Navy Seabees have added permanence, building barracks, roads, warehouses and piers.

The Marines run an average 300 patrols a day, setting up about 150 ambushes in the process. In 20 months, the Leathernecks officially claim 11,500 enemy dead.

Combined enemy strength—North Vietnamese regulars, main-force Vietcong and local guerrillas—is estimated at 40,000.

The government has 34,000 regulars in the area, 32,000 militiamen who guard bridges and villages.

KILLINGS, KIDNAPINGS

But the area assassination rate is one a day. Five persons are abducted by the Vietcong every two days. Terror incidents average half a dozen daily.

Giant Air Force B52s, acting on intelligence and infrared detection devices, bomb suspected enemy concentrations regularly. The Marines' new A6 intruder can detect and destroy moving trucks or boats at night.

However the main highway, Route 1, was cut in six places by recent Vietcong attacks.

Marine artillerymen fire thousands of rounds a day in support of patrols or to harass the enemy, to keep him moving. Gunners at the Dong Ha batteries near the demilitarized zone recently fired 14,000 rounds in 24 hours.

HARD CORE HURT

A Marine officer said major operations - battalion - scale fighting which ceased in early October - "pretty well-blooded the nose of the hard-core enemy units."

"Now we're going after the infrastructure, the guy who picks up his rifle when he sees something to shoot at," he said.

In an area 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, 60 per cent of all Marine casualties are attributed to booby traps, compared with less than 5 per cent near the contested demilitarized zone.

"The VC pay old men and boys to put out booby traps like they were delivering papers," a Marine colonel said.

The booby traps may be grenades tied to trip wires, holstered out cocoons, or American beer cans chocked with TNT or chemical explosive drained from dud U.S. bombs.

Detroit Marshals Seek Fire Cause

DETROIT (AP) — Fire marshals today were sifting through debris trying to determine the source of a five-alarm fire which caused $100,000 damage at Dermaway University of Beauty Culture.

The blaze broke out shortly before sunrise Tuesday. Damage was confined to the school's basement quarters in the four-story brick and frame structure at John R. and Broadway in downtown Detroit.

'Race Separation Wanted'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey "a little bit skeptical" about chances for a settlement with the Communists in Vietnam.

He made his comment on an interview taped for broadcast tonight on educational television stations in Sacramento, San Francisco and Redding.

The governor, in the final few days of his eight years in office, listed the social legislation enacted by Democrats — and noted it was all accompanied by extensions of equal rights to Negroes.

Crisis Builds in Indonesia

JAKARTA (AP) — President Sukarno and military strongman Gen. Suharto faced a cabinet reshuffle showdown today that could force Sukarno's resignation and bring political chaos back to Indonesia.

Three Indonesian newspapers reported Sukarno threatened to resign unless the Suharto-dominated cabinet were realigned in his favor. They said he was also firmly — if any — in last year's abortive Communist coup.

The papers said the threat came yesterday during a confrontation between Sukarno and the chiefs of the four military services who now rule the nation. The papers reported Suharto told Sukarno his resignation would be accepted — if an impasse occurred.

Sukarno was slated to summon the cabinet into session today and demand it be juggled to restore at least some of his once-total power.

Although Suharto's military regime and the Indonesian congress stripped the moon-faced Sukarno of all major power and his title of president for life, he is still revered by many Indonesians as the father of their country's independence.

Boy May Face Murder Trial

Prosecutor Seeking Jurisdiction in Case

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office filed a petition yesterday with Juvenile Court asking that it waive jurisdiction of a 16-year-old Royal Oak boy so he can be tried on a second-degree murder charge.

At a preliminary hearing earlier in the day, juvenile authorities decided to detain Robert Quinn at the Children's Center pending a further investigation into the death of Gregory A. Barrett, 19, also of Royal Oak.

Barrett died Monday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. Dr. John H. McLaughlin, hospital pathologist, said Barrett's death was caused by pneumonia possibly related to spinal injuries he suffered in a fist fight with Quinn last Wednesday.

The waiver petition was filed by Asst. Prosecutor John J. Davey.

Davey said it is uncertain what started the fight but it appears to have resulted from an argument between Quinn and friends of Barrett the previous day.

No hearing date on the waiver has been scheduled but Davey has requested that it be held within two weeks.

Weather Satellite Likely to Aid Wildlife Studies

WASHINGTON — The next Nimbus weather satellite may draw a bead on wildlife as well as storms.

For a start, scientists hope Nimbus will collect useful data from a herd of African elephants. Eventually, if the experiment is successful, the satellite may zero in on sea turtles, polar bears, whales, and other animals whose day-to-day movements are difficult to trace.

By monitoring wildlife, ecologists hope to learn more about the mysteries of migration and gather data to protect species threatened with extinction, the National Geographic Society says.

A device called the Interrogation Recording and Location System (IRLS) will keep track of the elephants.

Court Date Set in Holdup Case

Circuit Court arraignment of a Pontiac man charged with armed robbery was set yesterday for Jan. 4 after preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCullum.

Robert T. McCullum, 24, of 95 Clovess is accused by Pontiac police of taking $10 from a 19-year-old youth last month with a sawed-off rifle.

McCullum is held at the Oakland County Jail in $15,000 bond.

He also faced arraignment in Circuit Court today on a second armed robbery charge stemming from a jewelry store holdup at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center in Bloomfield Township.

The waiver petition was filed by Asst. Prosecutor John J. Davey.

Davey said it is uncertain what started the fight but it appears to have resulted from an argument between Quinn and friends of Barrett the previous day.

No hearing date on the waiver has been scheduled but Davey has requested that it be held within two weeks.

Poverty War Changes Urged

In a settlement released today, the Pontiac Urban League called for a revised approach to the Oakland County War on Poverty by wider use of the present Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) program in the county.

The Urban League encouraged local and federal officials and interested citizens to examine the structural and administrative framework of the present Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) program in the county.

A determination then should be made whether we could receive more from our tax dollars through contractual health, welfare, community service, group work and recreation agencies, according to the statement.

Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Urban League, emphasized that a continuation of efforts to stamp out poverty is necessary.

He feels, however, that attempts by the County Commission on Economic Opportunity to recruit staff to provide services existing but contract with existing agencies is a poor procedure.

Barnes resigned as a member of the antipoverty commission nearly two years ago when the local war on poverty was just getting under way.

His resignation resulted from a disagreement with the course of action planned by the commission and his chief objection was that the OEO program was earmarked to duplicate many already available services.

"Much of the OEO program is a duplication of what other public agencies already are doing," Barnes said at the time of his resignation.

The Urban League director said today that by making better use of local agencies, some of the expected tentative cuts in the local OEO budget might have been avoided.

Most of the cuts seem to be in the area of administrative overhead, Barnes said.

Waterford Girl Injured in Area Auto Collision

A 19-year-old Waterford Township girl was injured late last night in a two-car collision on Clarkson Road near Pine Knob Road in Independence Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion is Carol Shipworth of 4846 Femore, driver of one of the cars.

The other driver, according to Pontiac State police, was James M. Halt of Garden City. He was treated at the hospital and released.

Arraignment in Wife Shooting Set for Jan. 5

Accused of shooting his wife in the leg, a Pontiac man is to be arraigned Jan. 5 in Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

James L. Day, 29, of 95 E. Howard is held at the Oakland County Jail in $10,000 bond.

He was bound over for trial yesterday following preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCullum.

Day was arrested Dec. 18 by Pontiac police after his wife, Patricia, 30, admitted him as the man who shot her in the leg with a .22-caliber rifle.

Slipshod Burglar Leaves His Loot

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A grocery owner happened to return to the store one night and surprised a boy with an armload of cigarettes, candy and ice cream. He locked the boy in a back room, then went to a nearby telephone to call police.

But the intruder picked the lock and vanished, leaving behind the loot and his shoes.

Horse Shows Up

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—The Western movie at a drive-in theater here got a bit too realistic to suit some patrons. During the film, a real live horse started wandering around among the parked cars. Police caught the animal and impounded him in the local zoo.

Policeman Revives Accident Victim

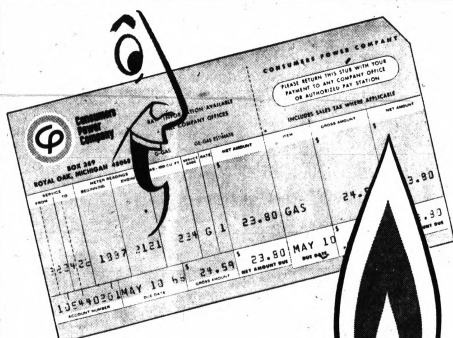

A Waterford Township policeman may have saved the life of a 39-year-old West Bloomfield Township woman who apparently had stopped breathing after her car slammed into a tree early today on Cooley Lake Road just southeast of Elizabeth Lake Road.

Patrolman Carl Selden revived Betty J. Manes of 1779 Post by administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation when he observed she wasn't breathing and couldn't feel her pulse.

The victim was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where she is listed in fair condition today with facial lacerations and a fractured hip.

Selden theorized the motorist lost control of her car on a curve after it skidded on wet pavement.

The accident occurred just after midnight.

GLASS TECHNOLOGY

Heating glass flask over hydrogen burner, before proceeding with next operation.

Modern man, in search of new ways of doing his job quicker, constantly develops new methods to help him toward this goal.

Even in the ancient art of shaping glass, new mass production methods like automatic molds, drills and grinders help speed production.

But not so at the Glass Technology Laboratory at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis where the 2,000-year-old method of glass blowing is still used for both instruction and production.

Glass forming works on the principle that when glass is heated, it can by various methods be formed into any shape the worker wants. The shaping method runs from the automated variety used by many of today's glass manufacturers to the oldest and most basic technique, used by the University.

At the University they begin with various sizes and shapes of glass already commercially produced, seal one end to make it air tight and place a hose in the other end. The part of the glass to be shaped is heated over a hydrogen burner to make it soft. When it is pliable the worker blows through the hose into the tube until the heated glass bulges outward. A paddle-shaped tool made of carbon is used to reform or take off excess glass.

Under the direction of its manager, Marvin Dynes, the University glass laboratory custom builds and repairs all specialized glass instruments needed by the school and does research and development on new glass products.

The laboratory is student-staffed. Each student attends required University courses leading to a degree in glass technology. The more advanced students work on research and development, while beginning students learn basic glass techniques by working on smaller, routine glass orders.

Sealing end of graduate and adding glass hose connector. Blowing keeps inside pressure even.

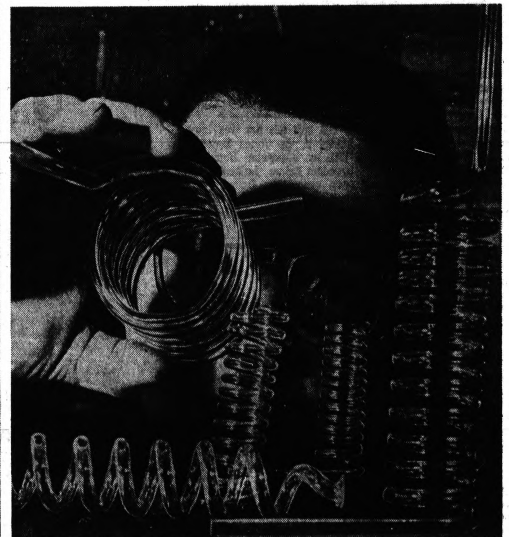

Three-necked flask from a standard stock neck: breaking bubble leaves neck-sized hole. Standard neck is attached.

Using lethe and carbon paddle, trainee cuts long glass tube into custom-size container.

Inspecting glass coil (made by winding heated tube around asbestos-covered rod).

GM Plants in Pontiac Mark Record Payroll for Year

Train Hits Fuel Truck; 12 Perish in Flames

EVERETT, Mass. (AP) — A Boston & Maine one-car diesel passenger train smashed into a fuel oil truck stalled with frozen brakes on a street crossing early today. Twelve persons died as flames engulfed the train and the truck.

Officials said there may have been up to 35 persons aboard the train. No definite check was available on the number aboard the local run.

Chelsea Fire Chief Herbert Fothergill said most of the victims were trapped in the train for 20 minutes until the fire was put out. He said firemen used their bare hands to extricate the passengers.

A fireman said one door was blocked "because there was a body lying on the other side."

Policeman Ralph DeVito said he and officer George Stewart "tried breaking the windows with our night sticks but that wouldn't work. We couldn't open the door because there was this guy trying to get out the door with his head stuck through the window."

"We pushed him away but then there was so much smoke we couldn't see."

Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston said it received nine dead from burns and four injured. Whidden Hospital in Everett said it received two dead and 10 injured.

Chelsea Naval Hospital received one dead and two injured. One injured was taken to Chelsea Memorial Hospital.

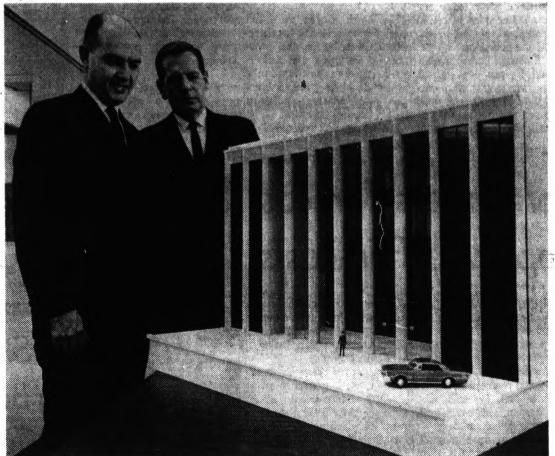

Police said at least two of the injured were not train passengers. One was a fireman, Nunzio Iozza, and the other was a Navy corpsman, John Mann, 30, both overcome by smoke while helping to carry the dead and injured from the scene.

Police said Mann, a passerby, made one trip to Chelsea Naval Hospital giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Marine Sgt. David R. Cosgrove, 30, of Lynn, returned to the crash scene and was overcome.

NEAR BOSTON

Everett is an industrial community on the outskirts of Boston.

Police said the driver of the fuel truck, Raymond Bouley, 29, of Billerica told them his brakes froze as he reached the crossing on Second Street and the vehicle stalled.

PONTIAC PLANS — During 1966 ground was broken for Pontiac Motor Division's new headquarters building. Checking a scale model of the multi-story office structure are F. James McDonald, Pontiac works manager (left), and Charles H. Collins, plant engineer. The 300,000-square-foot structure, which will be four times as large as the current Administration Building on Oakland Avenue, is expected to be ready for occupancy in the summer of 1968. Nearly 1,000 employees will move into the new building when it is completed.

Area Braces for Snowfall

1-3 Inches Predicted;
Freezing Rain Likely

Michigan braced itself today for an expected heavy snowfall, the first of the winter.

The U. S. Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings, predicted snow ranging from 1 to 3 inches in southern sections, including the Pontiac area, and up to 8 inches in the Upper Peninsula.

Freezing rain or rain mixed with snow was forecast for the Pontiac-Detroit area and southwest Lower Michigan.

Strong winds of up to 30 miles per hour also were predicted.

Pontiac has already received 23 inches of snow. Thirteen inches fell in November and 10 inches early this month. Only 23 1/2 inches fell in the area during the entire season last winter.

TO LOW 30s

Temperatures falling to the low 20s tonight will rise to the low 30s tomorrow.

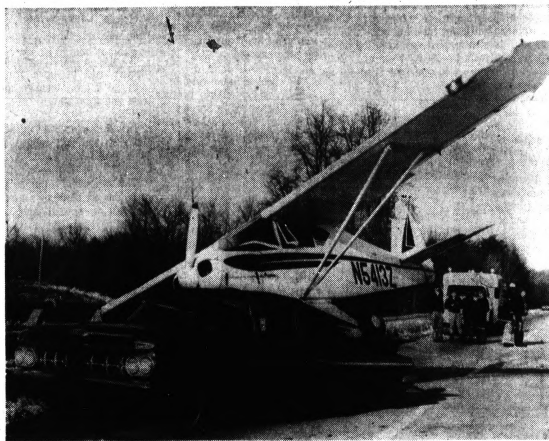

Snow flurries totalling near one-half inch are predicted for tomorrow and again during the weekend.

A low of 17 and a light snow was recorded prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m., the mercury registered 28.

LI'L ONES

"It would go faster if it were an eight instead of a six. Do you know anybody who's eight?"

FREAK ACCIDENT—Three occupants of this automobile escaped injury today when a private plane landed on top of the car on the Baltimore-Washington Parkway in nearby Anne Arundel County, Md. The wheels of the Piper Colt crashed through the canvas top and came to rest in the back seat of the car. The car then went out of control and struck the side of a bridge. The two pilots were not injured.

Waterford in Water

Several Waterford Township residents were awakened early today when the temperature pressure release valves on their hot water tanks popped because of a malfunction in the township water supply system.

At least 25 complaints were phoned in to the township police and fire departments and to the Detroit Edison Co. by affected citizens.

Complaints ranged from broken water heaters, pipes and softeners to leaking water. Most of the calls originated from the Huron Gardens area in the southeastern part of the township which borders Pontiac.

A spokesman for the township water supply system said the trouble stemmed from a malfunctioning electrical switch which controlled the nine water pumps in operation last night.

Located at the system's Tubbs Road facility, the switch was relaying a faulty signal to the pumps which, consequently, continued to operate when they should have stopped.

DIRT ON SWITCH

It was theorized that some dirt may have gotten on the electrical switch, which is about the size of a pin head.

The whole township was under high pressure, said Alfred Beamblossom, an official of the water supply system, who shut down the pumps at 2 a.m.

Pressure release valves are geared to pop when the water pressure exceeds 125 pounds.

Township officials were busy checking for broken water mains and handling individual complaints today.

WATER MAINS

A few water mains and house service lines were reported broken. Some basements were flooded.

One complainant said the top of his water softener blew (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5).

Expenditures Top $100 Million

Employe payrolls at the three General Motors plants in Pontiac rose to a record high of $33.8 million during 1966, an increase of $16 million over last year.

In addition, GM expenditures for services and goods purchased from area companies topped the $100-million mark for the first time in history.

The year-end statement was released jointly today by Martin J. Caesiro, GM vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division; John Z. DeLoe, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division; and Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body plant manager.

Combined GM employment in Pontiac averaged 37,500 for the year, up 2,300 from 1965.

During the past year, local GM employes invested more than $8.1 million in U.S. Savings Bonds through payroll deduction. In addition, they were awarded $731,360 for ideas submitted through the GM Suggestion Plan, an increase of more than $279,000 over last year.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Employe contributions to the 1966 Pontiac United Fund totalled $617,747, compared to $483,256 a year ago. In addition, General Motors made a corporate gift of $165,000 to this year's local campaign.

In 1966, several new sales and production records were established at Pontiac area GM installations.

On Jan. 2, 1966, Pontiac Motor produced the one-millionth Tempest, just five years after its introduction. A new all-time monthly production record was set in June when 89,123 Pontiacs and Tempests were built. And, for the 1966 model year, Pontiac surpassed another milestone when 831,331 units were produced.

At GMC Truck & Coach, a new single-order record was set during 1966 when the New York Transit Authority contracted for 682 air-conditioned buses, valued at $23 million. A second major order, placed by Greyhound Corp., called for 200 intercity buses worth $10 million.

To Work for Human Resources Center

Development of a human resources center for the southeast quadrant of the city was advanced today with the appointment of one of two persons who will do preliminary planning on the project.

B. C. VanKoughnett, community action director for the Pontiac School System, was named codirector of the project.

Appointed to the job on a half-time basis, he will work with a person yet to be named by City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

VanKoughnett, 33, of 156 Dwight, has served as principal of Mark Twain and McConnell elementary schools and as acting elementary education director for the district in 1964-65.

Handling some of VanKoughnett's present duties on a half-time basis will be Thor Petersen, Crofoot Elementary School principal.

MOTT GRANT

Preliminary planning for the multiservice educational park is being supported by a $10,000 grant from the Mott Institute for Community Improvement.

Schools Supl. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said the planning directors would have about six months for the initial work on the project.

"First, they will develop a plan to utilize the maximum involvement of the people from the areas to be affected," Whitmer said.

The two directors are to organize the families in the enrollment districts of McConnell, Central and Wilson elementary schools.

"Very early in the game the people will have a chance to think about and talk about the kind of educational program they'd like to have," he said.

The codirectors also are to sell the human resources center idea to community organizations.

Their preliminary work is to result in a long-term study plan and a plan for funding the project, Whitmer noted.

A Christmas Report

Viet: No Peace on Earth

By BOB HOPE

SAIGON (Special) — This column was written on Christmas Day. I'm mentioning the date more to remind myself of the season — because many of the things we see are far from Christmasy. . . . Our armed chopper was about to land, when the pilot gave us the weather report: "We are now landing at Di-An Outpost, the temperature is 96 degrees, and there is light-to-moderate ground fire . . ."

Of course, once we were on the ground, there were some reminders of the season: The tanks were decorated with holly, and on the gun turrets was scrawled, "Merry Christmas . . ."

I asked Billy Mitchell, a lanky Pic from Maysville, Ky., if there's been any action nearby, and he said: "Just don't take any long walks . . ."

I must tell you about the guy who introduced me here at the home of "The Big Red One." His name is Sgt. Kirk Kimes, from Brooklyn, N.Y., and he just received the Distinguished Service Cross.

BREAKS UP ATTACK

He single-handedly broke up a Vietcong attack a few weeks ago, wiped out a couple of machine gun nests, and—although wounded in the face—crawled during the four-hour battle from emplacement to emplacement helping the wounded, and shouting encouragement to his buddies. He typifies the new breed—a sort of Audie Murphy, model 66 . . .

Our second show on Christmas Day was a brand new spot for us, Ku Chi, which is a new home for the Tropic Light, which is what the 25th Infantry Division proudly calls itself.

I've played to these guys since 1941—and wouldn't be surprised if some of the sons of my original audience were among the guys who enjoyed the show here in Vietnam . . .

Before and during the show there was a battle going on a few miles away, and the constant thump of artillery was uncomfortably close. All through the show I couldn't help wondering what this place must be like when there is no "truce."

I can't recall seeing so many armed half-tracks and tanks around a show site, and we never appreciated it more . . .

Quake Jars Chile; Port Hit Severely

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A violent earthquake rocked northern Chile early today and heavy casualties were feared in the port of Talca, the center of the upheaval.

The Chilean news agency Orbe said 80 per cent of the buildings in Talca were destroyed but the number of dead and injured was not known yet. The town, 700 miles north of Santiago, had a population of about 6,000.

The earth shocks were felt over a wide area and were reported in the provinces of Tarapaca and Antofagasta. Panic was reported in the town of Inciapi, and in Arica and Antofagasta, northern Chile's two largest cities.

The quake was registered in Santiago at 3:20 a.m. EST and by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey in Washington 10 minutes later. The latter said its observatory at Honolulu had issued a warning of a possible seismic sea wave.

The University of California's seismology station also recorded a strong earthquake in South America.

Forecasters Forecast Improved Forecasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States' weather chief predicted today that two-weeks-in-advance weather forecasts for any part of the world will be possible within 10 or 15 years.

They would predict the weather, fair or foul, for each day of that span, and could lead to enormous dollar savings.

President-day capabilities of three-days-ahead forecasts even in the United States are pretty

'U.S. Policy on Bombing to Continue'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top-level U.S. sources say there is no point in changing U.S. bombing policies in North Vietnam despite controversy surrounding a Pentagon admission that some civilians have been hit.

The officials said it is necessary to bomb military targets in order to raise the price to North Vietnam of aggression against South Vietnam and to save lives of Americans and others fighting the Communists.

The Pentagon acknowledged Monday night that attacks on military targets have inflicted civilian casualties but said "it is impossible to avoid all damage" to residential areas dotted with military targets.

The Pentagon response was to a story by Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, who reported from North Vietnam that he saw "black after black of utter desolation" in one town and learned of 89 civilian deaths in another.

The implicit declaration by the U.S. officials that there is no review of bombing policy pending appeared certain to be challenged soon after Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and critic of U.S. policy in the war, plans hearings on the subject. Fulbright aides said Tuesday they have no doubt he will call on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk for detailed reports on the bombings.

'Evaded U.S. Radar'

Red Spy Flights Alleged

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A Lehigh University professor, in a recently published book, says a nuclear-powered Soviet bomber may have made three undetected flights over U.S. territory two years ago.

In Washington, the Defense Department said, however, that it had "no knowledge of any such penetration nor of any such aircraft." A spokesman said the story "just doesn't make sense."

And a spokesman for the North American Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., said the allegations made in the book "have no basis in fact. To our knowledge, there have been no known or unknown overflights of our territory during or since 1964."

The story was told by John Carroll in the book, "Secret Electronic Espionage." It says the alleged flights may have been made over San Francisco, Calif., New York, and Hawaii in 1964 with a payload equivalent to a 30-megaton bomb and a "phantom instrument box" to ward off radar detection.

Carroll, an industrial engineering instructor, said he was informed of the possible flights by a Korean expatriate in California who claimed to be privy to the details of a 1964 meeting in Peking of the Red Chinese Ministry of Defense.

JFK Book Suit Withheld; Dispute May End Quietly

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy book dispute could end quietly now after Mrs. John F. Kennedy's decision to withhold temporarily her suit to stop its publication, a family spokesman indicated today.

"I'm not going to guarantee it," he said, "but much points to a resolution. There has been progress and I think things could well be resolved noiselessly and soon."

Attorneys for Mrs. Kennedy and Harper & Row, publishers of William Manchester's "The Death of a President," an account of the Kennedy assassination, agreed Tuesday to put off hearings on her request for an injunction against the book until mid-January in expectation of a reasonably quick settlement.

Marooned Family Found

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Coast Guard helicopter, searching for a missing plane, brought back the unexpected: a family of six who had been marooned four days on an island after a storm wrecked their boat.

The helicopter ferried Harold Carby of Chowchilla, Calif., his wife and their four children, to a resort on the coast of Baja California yesterday.

Coast Guardsmen reported the family had been spotted by an Air Force search plane. The island is about 75 miles south of the village of San Felipe in Baja California.

Planes were combing the area for a missing twin-engine plane carrying San Francisco importer Richard Y. Dakin, seven members of his family and a crew of two.

The plane, which disappeared on a flight to La Paz, Mexico, has been missing nearly a week.

off with such force it put a hole in a tile ceiling in his basement.

Another resident said he thought someone had left the water running, adding that when he got out of bed he stepped into about three inches of water.

Then, he said, he turned on the lights and saw some of his furniture floating by him. He said pipes in his bathroom had burst, causing the flooding condition.

Huron Gardens, an area bordered by Elizabeth Lake Road, was closed by the water. The water, according to a spokesman for the highway department, was carried on the westbound lanes during construction.

The opening of the new section may be delayed by bad weather, according to a spokesman for the highway department.

City Commission Delays School Crossing Action

BIRMINGHAM — Action on providing a safer school crossing for children at Pembroke School has been delayed until the City Commission reviews a traffic safety report submitted by the Automobile Club.

The Pembroke Manor Association had requested that sidewalks be extended to the curb at the Elton and Derby intersection and that a crossing guard be located there until corrections are made.

The commission last night was also informed that the Detroit Edison Co. has agreed to postpone all construction on an underground conduit until after Jan. 2.

Residents on Yosemite had requested that the project be postponed until after the holiday season.

Missing Man Found; Had School Woe

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A St. Louis University medical student, the object of an intense search after he was reported missing, turned up today after spending several days in a hotel room trying to figure a way to tell his brother he was quitting school.

Ronald Auclair, 24, of Shrewsbury, Mass., walked into his room at the St. Mary's Hospital in suburban Clayton, Mo., while police were searching the room for clues to his whereabouts.

"He checked into a hotel in St. Louis," said Auclair's brother, Ovila Auclair, 43, a Shrewsbury contractor. "He said he wanted to quit medical school and was trying to figure out a way to tell me," he said.

The search began when the younger Auclair failed to return to Shrewsbury for the Christmas holidays as planned. He also had missed two tests in school Dec. 19.

The missing man's girlfriend, Marilyn Richards, 21, of Shrewsbury, and his brother flew to St. Louis Monday to aid in the search. A check of Auclair's room at the hospital showed the only things missing were his car and his doctor's bag.

Dixie Home Blast Kills 5

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—An explosion possibly caused by accumulated gas ripped a five-room brick house last night, killing a family of five.

The blast, heard for a mile, broke windows in nearby homes in the block and littered the street and surrounding yards with lumber, glass, wall board and plumbing pipes and fixtures.

The dead were: David Fortenberry, 41, a printer employed by the Arkansas Gazette; his wife, Ocie; their daughters, Linda, 12, and Susan, 7; and Fortenberry's mother, Mrs. Nellie Fortenberry of Newport, Ark.

Waterford JCs Offer Aid in Scout Dispute

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce last night offered to enter the dispute between the United Fund and North Oakland County Girl Scout Council as a third party mediator.

"We are hopeful that a meeting of Girl Scout and UF representatives will be scheduled as soon as possible so that differences can be resolved," said Michael J. Patterson, president of the Waterford Jaycees.

"Our board of directors voted unanimously to offer our services toward this goal," he added.

The Girl Scout Council leaves the UF program as of Saturday after a lengthy dispute over UF supervision and requested compliance with a UF study on the needs and organization of the agencies its supports. The council will need about $70,000 to sustain activities in the coming year, according to Mrs. Elwyn Tripp, council president.

Residents in distant parts of North Little Rock and in Little Rock, across the Arkansas River, reported hearing the blast.

Mrs. Frances Hersberger, a neighbor, said she saw smoke. She said she thought a plane had crashed.

"The explosion knocked us out of our chairs," said Mrs. Willie Knowles, who lives three blocks up the street. She said it tossed an automobile across the street.

Residents Eye GOP Unit in Shelby Twp.

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—Some residents here —long a stronghold of Democrats—are flexing their political muscles in an attempt to form a Republican party organization.

Impetus for the move came last November when three unknowns running as Republicans put up a race for the top township offices and one of them, Kirby Holmes, defeated long-time Democratic Supervisor Lorin Evans.

The other two, Thomas Plazza of 5805 Brookside and Mrs. William Provencer of 2084 Lakeside, finished close enough to the winners to demand a recount, although the outcome was unchanged.

They are currently forming the nucleus of what they hope will be an enterprising and vote-getting group that will further change Shelby's political history.

Right now the drive is on for money. The need is to pay legal and campaign expenses, and to organize sometime early next year, according to Mrs. Provencer, who is serving as the temporary secretary-treasurer.

Plazza has the position of temporary chairman.

Farm Year in Review and Look Into Future

LANSING (U)—It was a year in which Michigan farmers received a tax break, a preview—or warning—of what 1980 might be like, and news of such startling developments as paving of cucumber patches.

In 1966, as in most years, many farmers had reason to curse the weather, especially Western Michigan fruit growers. A spring frost cut cherry and peach production in half.

A drought hurt Northern Michigan producers of oats, grain corn and other crops.

But statewide grain corn production reached 94.3 million bushels and a record average yield of 67 bushels an acre.

FIELD PAVING

The paving, which was tried in cucumber patches and potato fields, actually was laid down two feet under the soil.

The asphalt layer doubled the soil's water holding capacity and Michigan State University scientists said in September that this doubled the amount of food produced on the land in some trials.

The tax break was ordered by the 1966 Legislature. Lawmakers approved an exemption for agricultural equipment and instructed local property assessors to ignore growing trees, vines, bushes and other plants when assessing farm property.

Farmers also won a one-year delay in minimum wage coverage and Workmen's Compensation for farm hands.

TRANSLATION TIME

The delay on minimum wages was to give MSU's Rural Manpower Center time to translate the wage into piece work rates. The delay on Workmen's compensation was to work out insur-

Sewers Due in Oxford Area

OXFORD—Sewers appear to be in the future for the village and township of Oxford.

The Village Council last night confirmed a resolution adopted earlier by the Township Board in which the Oakland County Department of Public Works has been asked to make a study and recommendations for procedure.

Three separate studies are asked:

• The extension of the Paint Creek Arm of the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor along the creek to Lake Orion and Oxford.

• The construction of a temporary disposal facility to be built and used by Lake Orion, Orion Township, Oxford and Oxford Township.

• The construction of a temporary facility to serve Oxford and Oxford Township alone.

The engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson of Waterford Township is expected to begin preliminary work in the near future, according to village manager Robert Smalley.

Near-Tragedy Spurs Warning on Lake Ice

NOVI—In the wake of a near-drowning in Walled Lake yesterday, Police Chief Lee Begole has issued a warning to all would-be ice skaters and other sports enthusiasts.

"Stay close to the shore," he said, "and skate where you know the ice is safe. Above all, don't skate across the lake yet."

The near drowning occurred at 4:27 p.m. yesterday when 14-year-old David A. Hoffman, 230 Pontiac Trail, and his friend, Francis Perrino, 230 S. Pontiac Trail, both of Walled Lake, were returning after a trip across the lake to the grocery store.

The thin ice in the channel, about 600 feet from shore, suddenly cracked and David fell through into the icy waters.

A passing motorist, Mrs. Glen Harmon, 119 Leed, Walled Lake, reportedly saw the incident and stopped. Patrolman Robert Starnes and his partner Sgt. Richard Faulkner.

PUSHES BOARD

Starnes crawled across the thin, cracking ice pushing a 10-foot long board in front of him to where David was struggling in the water.

Faulkner and an unidentified man helped pull the two back to shore.

"The boy was lucky," said Begole. "He had been warned by his parents not to cross the lake."

"Later on, the lake will be solid enough to drive a car across, but that channel is the last to freeze and was only covered with about a quarter-inch of ice."

to be further discussed with the township.

A public hearing on a request from Robert and Richard Tenenwood to rezone two lots on Quarter for duplex dwellings was set for Jan. 23.

Reports from planning consultants and the planning commission recommended denial, according to William Sinclair, village manager.

ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER—An offer of $18,222 to purchase 3½ acres in the urban renewal area from Higbie Manufacturing Co. has been okayed by the council and sent to Chicago for final approval.

The land is adjacent to the Higbie plant which is situated on Water Street between Third and Fourth. Urban renewal director George Wilhelm said plans are to use it for parking purposes at the present time.

He reported the offer exceeds the appraised price.

The village council meeting last night was devoted largely to urban renewal projects with Wilhelm giving a summary report of what the council might expect in the coming year.

FAMILY AID

Wilhelm said nine to 12 families would probably qualify for such aid in order to find standard housing in other areas.

The director reported on the first house moving from the renewal area—it's being relocated on Lounsbury, a half block south of Parkdale.

He said the home would be sold at cost and at about $8,500 with first priority going to retired couples from the renewal area.

In other business the council instructed the attorney to draw up a contract with Texaco to provide water and sewer services for the latter's proposed service station outside the village limits.

The attorney was asked to estimate with the contract a stipend regarding the current impasse in building such facilities, and that the matter would have

Church Schedules Special Service

Local talent also will perform. The service is open to the public, said Rev. Walden.

Troy City Planner Disputes Report on Growth Projections

TROY—Some doubt has been cast here on the authenticity of figures used in a recent projection for the future of Oakland County.

The report, prepared by Dr. Albert J. Mayer, sociologist at Wayne State University, goes wrong particularly in its reflection of current and projected population, according to George Peek, city planner.

The Mayer report shows Troy with a 1965 population of 49,500 and a forecast for 70,100 by 1970—97,000 by 1980—and 116,000 by 1990.

Peek says Troy's actual population, based on a 46.8 per cent increase over 1960 census figures, lies closer to 28,400.

He further stated that the city could well fall short of Detroit regional planning projection of 38,000 by 1970, let alone Mayor's 70,100.

BUILDING SLOW

Tight money and a slowdown in residential construction held Troy to about 700 new homes this year, according to assessor Ernest Reschke.

Even that number, he points out, is up some 420 from last year.

Mayer reports that of all the people in the tri-county area who earn over $25,000 a year, some 35.5 per cent live in Oakland County.

Peek is not inclined to disagree, but he quickly points out that those people still make up only 6 per cent of Oakland's overall population, as shown in a survey prepared by the Center for Urban Studies at the University of Michigan.

INCOME BLOCK

That same survey shows the biggest block of income to be between $10,000 and $14,999 and that's where about 28 per cent of the residents fit.

Peek also notes that 51 per cent of the people living in Oakland County work here, according to the report.

"This is a figure which would seem to dispel to some extent the idea of a core city and bedroom communities," he reported.

4 Utica Teens Are Charged

UTICA (UPI)—Police charged four Utica teen-agers yesterday with robbing a hitchhiker and then beating him with a tire iron.

John T. Cummings, 17, of Utica, was reported in fair condition today at the Selfridge Air Force Base Hospital.

He told police that four youths, all wearing black jackets, stole his coat, hat and watch and then beat him when he told them he had no money.

He was dumped in a snowbank and was found by a passing motorist. Police said the coat, watch and hat were recovered when the four youths were arrested.

School Board Post Is Filled

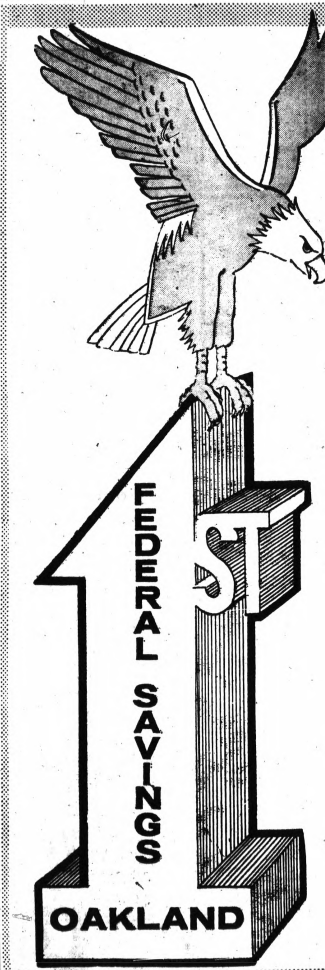

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—Leary Wood, 565 E. Ridge, has been elevated to the presidency of the Brandon Community Schools Board of Education.

Formerly vice president, he was named to the new position following the death this month of Dale J. Fortin, former president.

Ronald Sutton, a member of the board, has been named vice president succeeding Wood.

A new appointment to the board is expected at the Jan. 9 meeting, according to Schools Supt. Henry Versnick.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare was established on April 11, 1953, with Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as the Department's first Secretary.

'No Comment on Romance' Says Actor

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Actor George Hamilton says whether he and Lynda Bird Johnson will marry "is a very personal question and we will keep it personal."

"We have never commented upon this and will continue to keep this policy," Hamilton told newsmen in Acapulco, where he and President Johnson's 22-year-old daughter are vacationing.

The actor and Miss Johnson held a news conference Tuesday at the home of former actress Merle Oberon, their hostess. Hamilton said they expected the press to leave them alone for the rest of their Mexican vacation.

The couple arrived Monday night. Hamilton said they may spend New Year's Eve in Acapulco.

Lynda said she likes the sun in Acapulco and plans to do some sunbathing.

More Gifts for Sisters Are Named

By ELIZABETH L. POST

I am most grateful for the following letter and hasten to print the excellent suggestions it contains.

Dear Mrs. Post: In a recent column, you gave some gift suggestions for a nun. I have a few things I'd like to add. Usually, nuns have very little money, so small luxuries are really welcome. Some lotion or powder or any kind of bath accessory is pleasing.

If you know of any delicacy that Sister enjoys, or some special cookies or candy that she can share with the other members of her community, that would be a good gift.

Select a good book for light reading — a mystery, suspense or romantic novel for relaxation.

If a class or group of students want to get together and purchase a gift, a warm, new blanket is something that would be greatly appreciated.

I hope you'll find some of these suggestions a little different and helpful. Maryanne Graham

Dear Mrs. Post: I have always written on both sides of single-sheet letter paper, but my girl friend says this is not correct. We decided to write you for the answer. Marge Kan

Dear Marge: Certainly you may write on both sides of the paper, what a waste if you don't! However, if it is airmail paper or a very thin sheet, don't write on both sides because the writing shows through and makes it very difficult to read.

CAKE DECORATIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd like to have a special cake decorated for my daughter's engagement party. Is there any marking customary for such a cake, and if not, will you suggest one? Mrs. Martin

Dear Mrs. Martin: Although there is no prescribed marking, the long favorite one is their two first names enclosed in a heart.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette, revised by Elizabeth L. Post.

Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, and don't forget to include your name and address.

They Mean Well

Only Want to Please

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to sound ungrateful, but why do grandparents always buy clothing for their grandchildren? I have three grandchildren, two and three sizes too big for them?

Often these items are needed for use immediately, but they must hang in a closet or be put away in a drawer until the child "grows into them."

Many a lovely gift has been stored away and forgotten, and by the time the child can wear it, it's out of style. Mention this in your column, Abby. But please don't use my name.

MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X: The reason grandparents buy clothing for children to "grow into" is obvious. It's a hold over from leaner years. However, gift-giving grandparents want only to please. So a word to the wise should bring the right size.

DEAR ABBY: While walking down the street yesterday, I saw a mailman emptying one of those sidewalk mailboxes. A woman was standing there screaming that she had just mailed a letter in that box and she wanted it back. The mailman said he was sorry but it was against the rules and he couldn't give it to her.

She yelled even louder that she could prove it was HER letter and she wanted it back. Then he tried to tell her what she would have to do to get it, but she refused to listen — she stormed off in a huff.

Now I would like to know how a person can get his own letter back after mailing it if the mailman won't give it to him.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER
DEAR INNOCENT: Make a duplicate of the envelope of the letter you want back. If it was going out-of-town, go to the main postoffice. If it was a local letter, go to the postoffice in the zone in which you mailed the letter and ask the postmaster for the appropriate form to fill out to retrieve your letter.

If your letter hasn't left the postoffice, and you can identify yourself adequately, they'll give you your letter. If the letter HAS left town, they will telephone or wire the out-of-town postoffice (at your expense) and if it hasn't been delivered, they'll send the letter back to you.

But when it comes, you will have to go to the postoffice and pick it up personally. This may sound like a lot of red tape, but it's not too much trouble for one who has mailed a letter in haste and wants it back.

Hosts for Dinner

Christmas day dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wood of East Inverly Road for sons, Jim and Jack; Mr. Wood's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Kvitik and their sons Rick and Rob. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. A. Floyd Blakeslee.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BIG DECISION IN BID D." I can't think of a worse risk for marriage. If you "won" him, then what would you have? A two-timing husband who pulled every trick in the book to be with his girl friend while his wife sat at home alone.

You have no guarantee that he would treat you any better than he treated his first wife.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

June vows are planned by Carol Lane Nicholie, daughter of the Donald Nicholies of Clarendon Crest, and Kenneth Michael Cronin, son of Mrs. Richard Cronin of Sister Lakes and the late Mr. Cronin. She attended Ferris State College where her fiancé earned his degree.

New Career as Actress Crowns Achievements

NEW YORK—The life of beautiful Marayat Andriane of Thailand is a ready about as glamour-filled as any girl could ask.

But now the acting bug has bitten, and the tiny brunette is mixing movie roles with hers as a diplomat. She is married to Louis Jacques Andriane, French diplomat, currently director of administration for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), headquartered in Bangkok.

"My husband is delighted that I'm taking on this new responsibility," said Mrs. Andriane. "My house in Bangkok pretty well runs itself anyway... I've a wonderful house boy, cook, servants."

FAMOUS CROSS-SECTION

Currently, she is on an international personal appearance tour to promote the first picture she's been in, 20th Century-Fox's "The Sand Pebbles," starring Steve McQueen. Mrs. Andriane plays the role of a Chinese girl.

The actress is the daughter of a diplomat, Khun Biddh Viragakia, Thailand's ambassador through the past several years to Western European and South American countries.

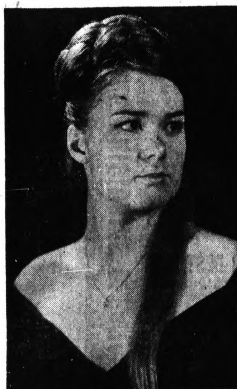

Although born in Bangkok, she spent her early years in London, went to school in Switzerland, and because of her visits with family during school vacations is fluent in English, French, Italian and German. "Actually," she said in an interview, "my husband had to teach me Thai." He's been many years in the Far East, and formerly was director of cultural affairs for SEATO.

URGED BY FRIENDS

Many of her friends, including the French directors Louis Malle and Raoul Levy, urged her to get into motion pictures. Why not, she decided, if those who should know thought she had acting potential.

Eventually, she flew to New York for screen tests, on to Hollywood for more, and Fox signed her to a seven-year contract.

OU Continuum Center Slates Seasonal Classes for Women

The next counseling and testing session for women, a Continuum Center program at Oakland University, is scheduled to begin Jan. 5.

Almost 550 women have already taken advantage of the opportunity to learn more about themselves in this "Investigation Into Identity" course which has been designed expressly for the woman who is exploring the possibilities of education, volunteer service or employment in the complex world outside her home.

The first session is an informal one, free to anyone interested in learning more about the program. At this initial meeting, Director Priscilla Jackson describes the Continuum Center and what it offers. The group then breaks into tables of six for discussion.

The tests, especially adapted to measure the aptitudes, interests and abilities of each woman, are administered by staff psychologist Gerald Self, Ph.D.

The course is an accelerated program of six sessions, held twice weekly. Members of the "Investigation Into Identity" class will meet from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays on the OU campus.

Following the introductory program, the next four class sessions will be devoted to taking the series of tests and meeting other Continuum staff members including the education adviser, Elizabeth B. Wright, volunteer placement adviser; Helen Zehbe, employment adviser; Mrs. Eleanor Driver, orientation interviewer, and Mrs. Margaret Twyman, registrar.

The sixth and final session is devoted to a discussion of the factors which may influence a decision. This is followed by a one-hour personal interview with Dr. Self in which he interprets and explains the test results.

In addition to this course, women are welcome to consult at any time with the staff advisers who include a trained social worker, an expert in the personnel field and an educator skilled in academic counseling. The nominal fee charged for this particular service is applied toward tuition if the individual decides to enroll later in an "Investigation Into Identity" course.

For women in the Grosse Pointe and eastern Detroit area, a class will be held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning Feb. 14. These "Investigation Into Identity" sessions will be held from 1 to 4 p.m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays, concluding March 2.

Format and content of the program will be the same as the one offered in January.

A third and final program for the winter season will be held at Presbyterian Church of Our Savior, Middle Belt Road, beginning March 7 and ending April 11. This is an evening class which will meet once a week from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

If a woman decides to investigate the alternatives outside the home after completing the testing and evaluation sessions, she will find the three Continuum advisers able to guide her more intelligently with the aid of the test information provided by the psychologist.

Follow-up services of the advisers are available without further charge to those who have completed the testing program.

The Continuum Center, supported by a grant from the Kellogg Foundation, is a unique project and is under the supervision of Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, Dean of the Division of Continuing Education at the University. It was created in the fall of 1965 as a response to the questions raised by over 1500 women who participated in discussion groups, planning sessions and conferences held at the University during a four year period.

Located on the second floor of South Foundation Hall, the Center welcomes visitors during office hours from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

For further information, contact the Continuum Center, Oakland University.

Your Built-In Thermostat Sets Habits

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — People have their own built-in system of responding to food, reports Louise W. Hamilton, extension foods and nutrition specialist of the Pennsylvania State University.

Some people gain weight even if they eat little food and others can't gain weight no matter how much they eat, she said.

In one study of this nutrition problem, a group of medical students kept track of the food they ate. The intake was 1,000 to 5,000 calories for the men. The top figure was 3,500 calories for the women. There was little relation between the weight gain of the student and the food he ate.

Growing children seem to have the same variations, said Miss Hamilton. Children with similar ages, height, weight, and body surface show considerable difference in how much they eat.

How much energy a person uses to do a certain job shows this to be true. When military men of the same age, size, and conditioning were measured for the amount of energy they used when marching, variations were considerable. Men were tested marching on a level surface at a little over three miles an hour. Men using the least energy burned up four calories a minute while some men used twice that amount of energy.

This Playboy Needs to Save for Old Age

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: Here's the way I've set up my budget on $680 a month: Food, $60; rent, $150; clothes, $100; car, $100; insurance, $40; utilities, $20; furniture, $50; spending, $160. But I need help, Mary. I'm a single playboy here in town.

T.B., Chicago

Here's the way I'm setting up your budget. And I'm not playing: Take $32 off the allotment you're spending on clothes. Then knock off $5 from the food bill. Save $5 on car operating expenses for the month — not much to ask, huh? Then cut down on your social spending by about, say, $20 a month. That leaves a total of $618.

So look what you have left at the end of the month, T.B. — $62 to put into a savings account, and you haven't even missed enough fun to notice.

I honestly wouldn't want to slow you down any. But you can't keep on being a playboy forever. Some day you're going to be worrying over a retirement income instead of a new ski sweater. So let's both start worrying a little now, just to make things easier for you on the long downhill run.

Sixty-two dollars a month save is $744 a year. Every year if this amount is invested at a favorable interest rate of say 5 per cent compounded semi-annually you'll be mighty glad to have about $4200 five years from now.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have an account in one bank for a little over $10,000 and another one in a branch of the same bank. Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, am I covered with the required insurance? I also have accounts in other banks (different companies).

Would all these bank accounts be added together, under the law, to make one sum and then have the maximum of, I believe, $10,000 only for them all?

J.S., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear J.S.: Since the main office and all branches of a bank are considered as one bank, if your accounts are in the same "right and capacity"—which means if they are under the same name with each passbook reading identically—then the sum total of these accounts is now insured to the maximum of $15,000, not $10,000.

Just recently Senate Bill S 3158 was put into law, authorizing the Federal Insurance Corporation and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation to increase insurance coverage. Of course, you can have more than one insured account in a bank if you transfer funds from an "individual account" to a "voluntary trust account" or even a "joint account with right of survivorship." Each of these accounts has different rights and capacities and can be separately insured to the maximum of $15,000.

Under the law insurance coverage is based upon deposits maintained by a person at a single insured bank, and not upon one's total deposits in other banks.

Dear Miss Feeley:

How much allowance should a girl of 13 receive? She makes her own bed, keeps her room clean, does dishes when I ask her, and babysits whenever asked.

She goes bowling once a week ($1), donates $1 a week to church. Should we give her this money with her allowance and let her take care of it?

Mrs. F.C., Lincoln Park, Mich.

Dear Mrs. C.:

Yes, money management is part of her education — and this is a good age to turn over the entire responsibility of her allowance.

Make it $3 a week, if you can. Then she can maneuver that third dollar, so that part of it can build up over the weeks for some major purchase she wants. She sounds like a young lady to be trusted with her own funds.

Tireless Helpers Get Reward

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — It was hard to tell who was more excited at the naturalization ceremony in the Federal Building here — the Alberto Diaz family who became U.S. citizens, or Mrs. F. Noble Ropkey, who has been vitally interested and extremely active in helping Cuban refugees for the last five years.

The Diaz family was the first Cuban family sponsored by Mrs. Ropkey to take the citizenship oath. Referred to by the approximately 300 Cubans now living in Indianapolis as "our angel," she has brought refugees here, helped them find jobs, given moral support and practical advice.

State's Year-End Report Says '66 Crops Top '65

LANSING (AP) — The combined output of Michigan's 17 major field and fruit crops totaled 10.34 million tons in 1966 — a 3 per cent boost over 1965 — the State Crop Reporting Service said today in its year-end report.

Although the total topped the 10.06 million tons produced last year, this year's production was 1 per cent below the 1960-64 average, the report said.

The weather in 1966 was described as generally more favorable for grain, dry beans, soybeans and hay than in 1965, but a dry spell reduced crop yields in northern Lower Michigan and much of the Upper Peninsula.

Good-to-excellent yields were general in the southern Lower Peninsula, the report said.

Combined output of the 10 major field crops was 9.8 million tons this year compared with 9.4 million tons last year. Fruit production totaled 578,000 tons, 19 per cent below last year and 6 per cent below the five-year average.

The field crop value totaled $380 million compared with $346 million last year, the reporting service said.

The report said smaller crops of peaches, sweet and tart cherries and grapes were than offset larger crops of pears and plums.

The year-end report said dry bean production totaled 8.1 million bags (100 pounds clean basis), 31 per cent higher than the 1965 figure and 9 per cent above the 5-year average.

HEAVY RAINS

Dry weather from the last half of May through mid-July slowed bean development but heavy rains in August supplied sufficient moisture to carry the crop through to maturity and dry fall weather aided harvest, the service said. The bean yield per acre of 1,300 pounds was slightly below the 5-year average said today in its year-end report.

The service reported that: The state produced 30.4 million bushels of winter wheat, 15 per cent more than last year. The average yield of 49 bushels per acre equaled the record established in 1964.

Total feed grain production—corn, oats and barley—was 3.1 million tons, 2 per cent higher than the 1965 total.

The state's corn for grain production totaled 94.3 million bushels—a 4 per cent increase over 1965. The average yield of 67.0 bushels per acre set a state record.

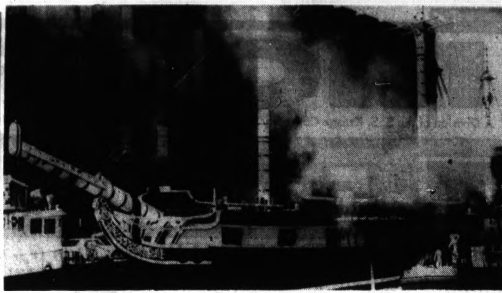

Out production declined 14 per cent from 1965 due to a delay in early spring planting caused by wet soil. Dry weather in June and July plus hot weather in those months reduced yields sharply.

Barley production totaled 282,000 bushels, 2 per cent below the 1965 crop.

The year produced a record soybean crop of 10.8 million bushels—12 per cent higher than last year's total.

Late summer potatoes totaled 950,000 hundredweight — up 15 per cent from last year. The fall potato crop is estimated at 7,855,000 hundredweight — down 9 per cent from last year.

The year's 1.1 million ton sugar beet production almost equaled the 1965 crop. An increase in harvested acreage was offset by a lower yield per acre. The report said the state's 10 major field crops were harvested from a total of 5.7 million acres in 1966 compared with 5.8 million acres in 1965.

SETTLES TO BOTTOM—The USS frigate Constellation, oldest ship of the U.S. Navy still afloat, settled two feet to rest on the bottom of the Baltimore Harbor in Maryland today after a seam apparently widened from ice formations and the vessel shipped from 8 to 10 feet of water. Fire boats were called to pump out the ship's hold.

Medicare Fight to High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of several lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of an anti-Communist disclaimer in the Medicare law has reached the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Aline P. Weiss, 70, mother-in-law of Dean Louis Pollak of Yale Law School, and her mother, Mrs. Alice K. Pollitzer, 96, both of New York, yesterday asked the court to rule on the law and a clause in the Medicare application.

Their appeal was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

The question on the Medicare application, which must be answered by 3.4 million prospective applicants not covered by Social Security, asks whether the enrollee was a member of a major field crops were harvested from a total of 5.7 million acres in 1966 compared with 5.8 million acres in 1965.

Another Bugging Is Admitted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has admitted another case of electronic eavesdropping by the government. It is the eighth admission since last spring.

In papers filed Tuesday night in the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston, the department said the FBI had monitored conversations of Louis J. Tagliani, who later was convicted of income tax evasion.

The department denied any evidence used in Tagliani's case was obtained from the FBI bugging, but requested a lower court review of the conviction to determine whether circumstances warranted a new trial.

A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI reported it installed a microphone in 1963 at the business establishment of a close associate of Tagliani and overheard some of his conversations.

FOUND GUILTY

Tagliani of Warwick, R.I., was found guilty last April of evading taxes for the years 1966, 1967 and 1968. He was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $3,000.

The voluntary announcement of the latest bugging incident followed a Justice Department order last month to examine all cases to determine whether electronic eavesdropping was used to gather evidence illegally.

"It does not appear from the logs of our inquiry into the handling of (Tagliani's) case by the Internal Revenue Service, the Department of Justice and the U.S. attorney, that any of the monitored conversations were used in evidence or were the source of leads to any evidence in this case," the papers filed by the department said.

The department's first voluntary announcement of electronic eavesdropping resulted in a Supreme Court order of a new trial for Fred Black, a Washington public relations man also convicted of income tax evasion.

The department later admitted bugging the suite of Bobby Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary who is facing various charges including income tax evasion.

Arab Leftists Start Drive to Oust Hussein

CAIRO (AP) — Arab leftists embarked on a new campaign today to overthrow Jordan's King Hussein and undermine his lonely crusade for moderation in the Middle East.

Ahmed Shukeiry, head of the extremist Palestine Liberation Hussein's foremost critics, announced formation of a secret Organization (PLO) and one of revolutionary council to work for the overthrow of the 32-year-old king.

Shukeiry's announcement yesterday was meant to fan discontent within Jordan — where a civil conflict could upset the entire delicate political and military balance in the Middle East.

Shukeiry said the revolutionary council — whose members and meetings would be kept secret — would "undertake the preparation of the people to wage battle for liberation with the Palestine liberation army in the vanguard."

Huskies Lead Entire Game

By JERE CRAIG

Pontiac Northern literally played Pontiac Central's Chiefs off their feet Tuesday night and outgunned the visitors for a 58-45 city series victory.

The Huskies driving tactics on the attack repeatedly faked the PCI defenders into leaving their feet too soon and giving Northern easy shots in close as the winners ended an eight-game losing streak in the annual cage clashes.

The victory lifts PNH to a 4-1 mark this season while Central fell to 3-2. This was Northern's third win in 21 city series games, all three coming on its own court.

The last one was 58-42 in the 1963 district tournament title game.

Last night's contest was an unusual one in that the winning Huskies, while clearly outplaying the PCI quietly, hit only 30 per cent of their field goal tries and were out-rebounded.

But seven first period turnovers by Central and five more in the next session to only four by PNH in the initial half dug a burial mound that was too much for the visitors to surmount.

NEVER LEAD

Never leading in the contest, the Chiefs fell behind by 10 points in the first period with half minutes of play. This deficit was cut to four at period's end, then grew to six points at the intermission despite the fact PCI took command of the backboards.

The invading Central squad, however, couldn't put the ball in the basket. After hitting four of ten in the first period with effective ball handling, it began taking more and less effective shots from the floor.

As a result, the Chiefs hit only 26 per cent and scored their second lowest total in the intracity rivalry.

For a change, Northern had the tougher defense in the annual meetings. The Huskies' hustling zone kept PCI gunning from the outside except for the high-post work of Alton Wilson and some occasional tips that often didn't drop in.

Guard Craig Deaton especially proved troublesome to the Chiefs' top producer, Prentice Hill. The 20.5-ppg marksman was held to seven shots and one basket.

Don Hayward, PNH's steady forward, was in his shooting but pulled down 15 rebounds.

ADD PUNCH

Dana Coin and reserve center Stan Allison, giving another fine performance as a substitute, picked up the scoring slack with 20 points between them, and also combined for 16 rebounds.

Allison, particularly, was effective midway through the final half with three baskets as the Huskies built their lead to 49-33.

Guards Mike Clancy and Deaton, making their first varsity start as a unit, also contributed with their shooting and defensive hustle.

Although outrebanded, 60-53, PNH managed 76 shots to 65 for Central and made six more field goals than the losers. Wilson topped the backboard work—Gordon Hamilton had 15. Wilers with 16 retrieves while others also hit 7 of 13 for the game's top shooting mark.

But he wasn't enough to prevent Northern from amassing an 18-point lead late in the game and adding 30 points in this year's City All Sports Tourney competition before a noisy, standing-room-only crowd of 2,000.

State Quintets Lose in Motor City

Titans, Broncos Are Losers in First Round

U. of D. Upset, 98-94 by Tulane; Miami, O., Defeats Western

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit's hopes for hometown glory in the Motor City Classic basketball tournament were shattered by upstart Tulane.

The Green Wave, with some hot shooting in the second half, turned the tide and upset the Titans 98-94 Tuesday night.

In the first game, Miami of Ohio whipped Western Michigan 51-45, earning the right to face Tulane in the championship game tonight. Detroit meets Western Michigan in the consolation match.

Down by 12 points at the half, Tulane hit 10 straight points in the first two minutes of the second half and came within two points of the Titans, 67-65.

Johnny Arthur, a sophomore forward, and Al Andres, a Benton Harbor product, put the Green Wave back in the game. Arthur hit 19 of his 33 points in the first half and Andrews pumped in 17 of his 21 points in the final 20 minutes.

HOT PACE

Tulane fired a blistering 68 per cent in the second half, sinking 22 of 32 floor shots.

Miami played a slow, deliberate game in topping WMU. Paced by the nearly perfect shooting of forward Fred Foster, Miami jumped to a 32-24 halftime margin. But the Broncos cut the margin to 46-43 with 4:32 to play on a jump shot by Paul White.

A pair of foul shots by Jerry Fisher with 1:44 remaining wrapped it up for Miami. Foster topped the Redskins with 24 points while Reggie Laclefield had 17 points to lead WMU.

Representing PCI were Randy Johnson, N. Z. Bryant, Larry Craft, Ken Vollmar, Ben Rodriguez, Bill Gottschall, Charles Mason and Athletic McGinnis.

Other teams with wrestlers still contending were Royal Oak Kimball, RO Dondero and Warren Lincoln, each with 6; Farmington, Birmingham Seaholm and Hazel Park, 4 each; Berkley, North Farmington and Birmingham Groves, 3 each; Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Redford Union, Warren Moti and Catholic Central, 2 each; Bloomfield Hills, Country Day and L'Anse Creuse, one each.

The tournament had more than 20 teams and almost 500 wrestlers competing Tuesday before good-sized crowds.

Central Michigan 5 Wins in First Round

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Tri-State and Central Michigan posted the better shooting percentages and the victories Tuesday night in the first round of the Calvin College Invitational basketball tournament.

Tri-State dumped Wheaton College 86-63 and Central Michigan defeated University of Bridgeport 97-77.

John Berends' 14 points paced Central Michigan's balanced attack.

From Our News Wires

Louisville merrily whistled its way through the "graveyard" of nationally ranked basketball teams while Michigan State was gently laid to rest.

Second-ranked Louisville and seventh-ranked State were booked into the same Quaker City tournament which began Tuesday at Philadelphia's notoriety Palestra where more than a handful of highly rated clubs have gone to their reward.

The Cardinals, however, were not about to roll over and play dead for Niagara. With sophomore sensation Butch Beard and junior Westley Unseld combining for 47 points and 36 rebounds, Louisville crushed the Purple Eagles 98-73.

State, now 5-2, wasn't that fortunate against local entry Villanova. The Wildcats hit the Spartans with a tenacious defense and three hot sophomores in scoring a 66-63 upset.

The victories sent Louisville and Villanova into Thursday night semifinals where the Cardinals will meet Syracuse and the Wildcats face 15th-ranked Princeton. Syracuse held off LaSalle 88-84 and Princeton pummeled Bowling Green 87-73 in other first-round action.

The Spartans meet Bowling Green of Ohio in a consolation match tonight.

EIGHT TIES

The game was tied eight times in the first half and the lead changed hands 13 times. The Spartans took a short-lived lead early in the second half but Villanova's George May popped in a pair of 20-foot jumpers and the Wildcats were ahead to stay.

MSU closed the gap to two points, 57-55, with less than three minutes to play. But Villanova scored nine straight points to put the game out of reach.

Johnny Jones topped Villanova with 21 points and May added 17.

Sleeve Rymal, a guard from Adrian, was high for Michigan State with 18.

The victory was the fourth for Villanova in seven games.

There have been few struggles in the annual city basketball series to match the classic junior varsity struggle last night between Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central.

The unbeaten PNH reserves entered the game confident of their first win over Central and built a 10-point second-half lead before their over-anxiety cost them a 69-66 defeat.

The young Chiefs (3-2) scored 27 points in the final period to pull their 16th win in the rivalry.

McNair tallied 22 points, including two clutch 22-foot jump shots, to lead the winners while Ed Williams made 24 for PNH.

Two technical fouls committed by Northern—one for an excess time out and one for failure to report by an entering substitute—cost the junior Huskies (4-1) three points and the game.

Big 'O' Sends Pistons to Loss, 131-123

CINCINNATI (AP)—They call Oscar Robertson the Big O because of his size and because he can shoot a basketball through the hoop.

He lived up to his nickname Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Royals dumped the Detroit Pistons 131-123 in a National Basketball Association title game.

In the only NBA action Tuesday, St. Louis downed Baltimore, 113-111.

Cincinnati took advantage of a slow Detroit start in the second period. Detroit missed its first nine scoring attempts as the Royals fired in nine consecutive field goals. Robertson shot eight in the nine.

The streak increased the Royals' 28-25 first quarter lead to a halftime tally of 66-46.

Prosecutor Seeking Jurisdiction in Case

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office filed a petition yesterday with Juvenile Court asking that it waive jurisdiction of a 16-year-old Royal Oak boy so he can be tried on a second-degree murder charge.

At a preliminary hearing earlier in the day, juvenile authorities decided to detain Robert Quinn at the Children's Center pending a further investigation into the death of Gregory A. Barrett, 18, also of Royal Oak.

Barrett died Monday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. Dr. John H. McLaughlin, hospital pathologist, said Barrett's death was caused by pneumonia possibly related to spinal injuries he suffered in a fist fight with Quinn last Wednesday.

The waiver petition was filed by Asst. Prosecutor John J. Davey.

Davey said it is uncertain what started the fight but it appears to have resulted from an argument between Quinn and friends of Barrett the previous day.

No hearing date on the waiver has been scheduled but Davey has requested that it be held within two weeks.

The soft felt hat was introduced in the United States in 1851 by a popular Hungarian freedom fighter, Lajos Jossuth, who visited the United States and was so admired by Americans that they adopted his headgear.

STRONG BACK—The elephant was chosen for the Nimbus experiment because of its bulk. The IRLS system must home in on a 25-pound transponder, a portable station to receive and send radio signals, that will be strapped to the animal's back.

By monitoring wildlife, ecologists hope to learn more about the mysteries of migration and gather data to protect species threatened with extinction, the National Geographic Society says.

A device called the Interrogation Recording and Location System (IRLS) will keep track of the elephants. The system will go aloft on the Nimbus-3, ground station.

Poverty War Changes Urged

In a settlement released today, the Pontiac Urban League called for a revised approach to the Oakland County War on Poverty by wider use of contractual arrangements with existing agencies.

The Urban League encouraged local and federal officials and interested citizens to examine the structural and administrative framework of the present Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) program in the county.

A determination then should be made whether we could receive more from our tax dollars through contractual health, welfare, community service, group work and recreation agencies, according to the statement.

Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Urban League, emphasized that a continuation of efforts to stamp out poverty is necessary.

He feels, however, that attempts by the County Commission on Economic Opportunity to recruit staff to provide services rather than contract with existing agencies is a poor procedure.

Barnes resigned as a member of the antipoverty commission nearly two years ago when the local war on poverty was just getting under way.

His resignation resulted from a disagreement with the course of action planned by the commission and his chief objection was that the OEO program was earmarked to duplicate many already available services.

"Much of the OEO program is a duplication of what other public agencies already are doing," Barnes said at the time of his resignation.

The Urban League director said today that, by making better use of local agencies, some of the expected tentative cuts in the local OEO budget might have been avoided.

Most of the cuts seem to be in the area of administrative overhead, Barnes said.

Court Date Set in Holdup Case

Circuit Court arraignment of a Pontiac man charged with armed robbery was set yesterday for Jan. 4 after preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCullum.

Robert T. McCullum, 24, of 95 Clovess is accused by Pontiac police of taking $10 from a 19-year-old youth last month with a sawed-off rifle.

McCullum is held at the Oakland County Jail in $15,000 bond. He also faced arraignment in Circuit Court today on a second armed robbery charge stemming from a jewelry store holdup at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center in Bloomfield Township.

Waterford Girl Injured in Area Auto Collision

A 19-year-old Waterford Township girl was injured late last night in a two-car collision on Clarkston Road near Pine Knob Road in Independence Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion is Carol Shipworth of 4846 Fennore, driver of one of the cars.

The other driver, according to Pontiac State police, was James M. Halt of Garden City. He was treated at the hospital and released.

A turkhen is a cross between a turkey and a chicken.

Arraignment in Wife Shooting Set for Jan. 5

Accused of shooting his wife in the leg, a Pontiac man is to be arraigned Jan. 5 in Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Jimmie L. Day, 29, of 95 E. Howard is held at the Oakland County Jail in $10,000 bond.

He was bound over for trial yesterday following preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCullum.

Day was arrested Dec. 18 by Pontiac police after his wife, Patricia, 30, identified him as the man who shot her in the leg with a .22-caliber rifle.
