Girls From Everywhere Head for Roundup

Avalanche of Scouts Covers Roundup Site

Highland Recreation area blossomed out in yellow, green and white yesterday, as half the 5,000 Girl Scout campers arrived and set up housekeeping for their roundup.

The first big bus pulled into the parking area beside the sheep barn at 8 a. m. and spilled its load of excited travelers.

From then until late afternoon they came at regular intervals.

Registration with their camp leaders came first, then a health check-up with a medical officer. City clothing was hung in specially equipped wardrobe tents.

Experience gained in campouts back home helped most, but some had difficulty in constructing nine-girl picnic tables at which each patrol will eat.

Home Features Merry-Go-Round Picture Window

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American dream of a house with a view has reached some kind of a climax with the construction near here of a house with a rotating second-story picture-window living room.

• • •

Clark Ranney, 68, the builder has dubbed it the "Sceneramic House." He says he has applied for patents and that other builders, particularly in Florida, have asked for rights to put up similar homes.

• • •

The house has a brick first floor containing three bedrooms, two baths and a kitchen.

The rotating upstairs frame living room is reached by a spiral staircase in the center of the house. It revolves on 24 wheels which ride a circular track and can make one revolution per minute at top speed.

The living room can be automatically timed to follow the sun across the sky or track the moon at night.

• • •

Ranney estimated the rotating living room would add about $1,500 to $2,000 to the over-all cost of constructing a house.

Royal Pair Hit Rumors

THE HAGUE (INS) — Queen Juliana and her husband Prince Bernard today issued a statement saying they were "disappointed and saddened" by reports of a rift between them.

Prize Climbs to $500

Alas! Gold Pot Is Heavier as 5,085 Fail Puzzle No. 4

Feeling much like the chap who wandered forlornly through the swamps wailing "Chloe!" into every bog and hollow, POT-O-GOLD judges surveyed a roomful of mail this morning and sadly announced, "No winner again this week . . ."

Our bulging gold pot groans and the judges go around with long faces. The only people with any reason to be be happy are the participants in this week's Puzzle No. 5 who now have a chance to win $500.

Entries in last week's contest totaled 5,085, bringing the number who have joined in the summer-long event so far to over 20,000. But the 63 who sent their solutions in via envelopes and the like number who missed the deadline never had a chance.

Three confused prize-seekers repeated a mistake that disturbed us last week—they sent us their entries for another newspaper's contest.

Quite a few entrants came within 1 or 2 words of winning the $400 prize, a happening which might have been helped along by the publishing of a list last week which included the winning words.

Losers can compare the fruits of their labors with the correct solution on Page 44 of today's Press and perhaps pick up a few pointers in the accompanying explanations. We have also included an entry for Puzzle No. 5 on Page 17 — a correct solution to it is worth $500.

And look at Monday's Pontiac Press for the beginning of another weekly word game. It promises to be just as much fun as past puzzles. Who knows? You might be our first winner.

Suit on Fluoridation Off in Tecumseh

ADRIAN (AP)—Plaintiffs in a lawsuit involving fluoridation of water in the village of Tecumseh have asked the circuit court action be dismissed. Two of the signers in the original suit said the other four do wish to continue the contest. They had charged fluoride was still being used in the city water supply despite a public vote against it.

City officials said no fluoride was being put into the water system but that the water had a natural fluoride count of .2 parts per million.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —Israel charged today that Egypt's latest seizure of a ship bound through the Suez Canal for an Israeli port has created an "intolerable" situation.

Banking Furnaces As Steelmen Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel wage negotiating teams wound up another session today with no indication of any progress toward staving off a nationwide strike of 650,000 steel workers tomorrow midnight.

But as steel furnaces cooled, negotiators arranged for further talks.

On emerging from the session David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, and John A. Stephens, chief industry negotiator, said only that they would continue to keep in touch and probably would meet later today or tomorrow.

McDonald then attended a meeting of the union's executive board.

The meeting of the union's 170-member Wage Policy Committee was scheduled for this afternoon.

Neither company nor union sources would say whether there had been any reply to an invitation extended by McDonald last night to leading executives of 12 steel firms to meet him here today.

McDonald sent individual telegrams to each after Adm. Ben Moreell, board chairman of the Jones & Laughlin steel firm, said in a TV speech that men of good will could reach a settlement.

As gradual cooling-off operations set in to prevent damage to the giant steel furnaces, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell announced that the government had no immediate plan of invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to prevent a shutdown.

It is estimated that the cooling-off process, which takes about three days, plus an even longer time for rekindling the fires if a sudden settlement is reached, will cost the industry 500,000 tons of steel production valued at 65 million dollars.

The union also pressed its strike plans, choosing picket line captains in various plants and scheduling meetings of two top policy-making groups.

The contract expiring at midnight tomorrow night was for two years with provision for a one-year wage reopener.

In Detroit, McLouth Steel Co. and Rotary Electric Co. and the United Steelworkers agreed to keep their respective contracts in effect for another month—averting a strike for 4,400 workers.

Thomas Shane, Detroit district director of the USW, said that whatever benefits come out of the New York steel negotiations can be applied retroactively to July 1 by both companies.

Ike Signs Road Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Eisenhower today signed the 33-billion-dollar highway construction bill, setting in motion the government's biggest peacetime spending program.

To help pay for it, drivers begin Sunday to pay another penny a gallon for gasoline. Federal taxes also will go up on trucks, tires and diesel fuel.

Warmer Tonight, Showers Saturday

According to the weatherman, tonight will be partly cloudy and warmer with the thermometer registering 60 to 64.

Partly cloudy and warmer with scattered thunderstorms is the prediction for the Pontiac area tomorrow. The mercury is expected to rise to 83 to 87 degrees.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's forecast for the next five days is temperatures about 1 to 2 degrees below normal. Precipitation will total about ¾ an inch as the Pontiac area receives scattered showers or thunderstorms Saturday and possibly again Sunday and about Wednesday.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 50 degrees. The thermometer registered 76 degrees at 2 p.m.

At Faster Clip Than Increase in Travel

Traffic Toll Still Soaring

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll continued its climb last month with a record 3,170 traffic fatalities.

The National Safety Council said this brought the toll for the first five months of 1956 to 14,720—a 9 per cent increase over the corresponding period of last year—and a new record.

May was the 15th straight month that traffic deaths showed an increase in comparison to corresponding months of the previous year.

Safety officials expressed concern that deaths on the highways were occurring at a faster rate than the increase in travel.

Fights Reported in 5 Key Cities Besides Poznan

38 Killed, 270 Wounded as Commies Put Down First Workers' Riot

BERLIN (INS) — Fresh anti-Communist fighting reportedly flared in Poznan today and spread to five other key Polish cities in the biggest postwar uprising in Red-ruled Poland.

Reliable East German informants also told of sporadic fighting at Warsaw, Cracow, Danzig, Lodz and in lesser cities along the Polish-Russian border.

Reports in West German newspapers from Finland said there were anti-Red demonstrations also in the Soviet-occupied Baltic states of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, but these reports could not be confirmed.

The official Polish news agency admitted that 38 persons were slain and 270 wounded yesterday in Poznan when Red tanks and machine-guns crushed a workers' revolt led by a young girl waving a Polish flag dripping with blood.

The Polish government also was said to have sealed off its frontiers with Germany and Czechoslovakia to prevent the escape of anti-Communist ringleaders accused of sparking the uprising.

A German businessman who declined to be identified told of getting a direct report from his business agent in Poznan who told of the renewed fighting early today in that industrial city where the bloody uprising first began yesterday during an industrial fair.

NO WAY TO CHECK

There was no immediate way of checking the reports of the extent of the fighting inside Poland, a traditional foe of Soviet Russia. Only scattered information seeped through the censorship wall hastily erected by Red officials after the initial outbreaks.

• • •

But the informants inside Communist-ruled East Germany who told of the spreading Battle were considered reliable.

The Polish news agency PAP conceded the seriousness of yesterday's uprising in Poznan by saying that Red soldiers and police were among the casualties in the battle with the thousands of rioters.

27 Candidates Speak Briefly at Torchlight Rally

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ, JR.

Twenty-seven candidates for various state and national posts spoke to an audience of 1,000 people last night in Birmingham's Shain Park, in an atmosphere reminiscent of a 1910 Fourth of July celebration.

Sponsored by the Birmingham League of Women Voters, the nonpartisan rally was preceded by a torchlight parade and followed by a reception for first-time voters.

An additional 31 candidates for county offices were introduced to the audience, but weren't allowed to speak.

Republican Donald S. Leonard, running for governor, was allowed five minutes for his speech. He urged everybody to vote, and said he had "no backstage manipulators, no commitment of any kind."

Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart told the audience that "neither major party, nor any candidates, have monopoly on the right answers," but "defied" any Republican to try to repeal social legislation passed by the Democrats during their 20-year administration of the country.

Hart's Republican opponent, Clarence A. Reid Sr., urged the audience to vote and claimed the Republican party is "the party of initiative, and that is what has made our country great."

Seven Congressional candidates were allowed to speak for three minutes each. Democrats Zigmund Niparko, Hazel Park, and Jack L. Ward, Birmingham used the ime to introduce themselves, thank the audience and the League of Women Voters, and urge the audience to vote in the primary.

Niparko said he is a young man, but "willing and ready to learn." Ward emphasized the need of legislation to protect farmers.

Democrat Paul Sutton, of Royal Oak, wistfully recalled that in 1952 he received 1,681 votes in Birmingham. "God bless you, and may your tribe increase," Sutton told the loyal 1,681. He promised to seek Federal aid to alleviate the County's water and drainage problems.

Republican William S. Broomfield, Royal Oak, pledged, "My yardstick will be what is best for the people of Oakland County." He said during his terms in the Legislature and State Senate, "positive action" had been taken on the water and drain problems.

George N. Higgins, Ferndale, scoffing at campaign oratory, said the effectiveness of a legislator should be measured by his success in getting his bills passed.

Higgins was beginning to list the accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration when Mrs. Peter Loomis, official timer, flashed her light in his face.

Paul Sadler, Royal Oak, winding up the Republican Congressional list, pledged "fair, common-sense representation." He called for an income tax ceiling, reduction of foreign aid and higher standards of education for American children.

Ten candidates for the State Senate also spoke for three minutes each, as did seven candidates for the Michigan House of Representatives.

Thirty-one candidates for county offices were introduced briefly, and the dwindling audience moved to a reception where first-time voters met all candidates.

Mrs. Charles Blunt, mistress of ceremonies for the occasion said the League of Women Voters sponsored the rally in the belief that the primary election is the most important election of the year.

REP. JAMES ROOSEVELT

Roosevelt Faces Busy Schedule

May Fall Asleep During His Wedding Ceremony Sunday Afternoon

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. James Roosevelt said he faces such a busy schedule this weekend that he might fall asleep during the ceremony when he marries his secretary in Los Angeles Sunday.

The California Democrat held a news conference to discuss plans for his third marriage. The bride-to-be is Mrs. Gladys Irene Owens.

Roosevelt said he may have to remain in Washington until Saturday debating the school construction bill, which he favors strongly.

At the end of the day's session, he will catch a plane to California.

The couple will be married in the early afternoon at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. George Lyons Pratt.

The bride and bridegroom will then catch a night plane back to Washington, and Roosevelt will be on the floor of the House Monday noon to continue his fight for the school bill.

The congressman said his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, will not be on hand for the wedding ceremony, but added that he and Mrs. Owens have her blessing.

He said also that the whole family will get together at Hyde Park sometime in July.

Roosevelt told newsmen that, although he is being married at the home of Father Pratt, Rector of the Episcopal Church of the Advent in his home district, the ceremony will be conducted by a minister of another denomination.

Roosevelt pointed out that he is a life-long Episcopalian, and therefore had not expected an Episcopal minister to marry him in view of the fact that he and Mrs. Owens have both been married twice before.

He said: "At no time was there any request to the Bishop to be married in the church."

Ballot Designation Request Is Denied

Oakland County's Board of Election Commissioners today denied a request by incumbent Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr. that his title be printed on the primary ballot Aug. 7.

Murphy's appeal filed shortly after filing of petitions closed June 19, was based on a provision in the election law which allows designation when two candidates of the same surname are opposing each other.

William O. Murphy, a Democrat, also is running for register of deeds. The two are not related.

Election Commissioners, including Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Mabel Childs, deputy for Clerk Lynn D. Allen, said the law would apply only if the two Murphys were opposing each other within the same party in a primary election.

Wilson Says Ike Never Dictated Defense Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson testified today that President Eisenhower has never dictated specific ceilings or cuts in military spending.

"The President never told me 'You've got to cut your military budget so much,' never in 3½ years," Wilson said.

* * *

The defense secretary was before a special Senate subcommittee inquiring into relative U. S.-Russian air power. Demands in Congress for increased funds for the Air Force have received stimulus from the hearings by this group under the chairmanship of Sen. Symington (D-Mo), onetime secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration.

Wilson's assertion that Eisenhower never fixed a ceiling on the military budget capped a series of questions from Fowler Hamilton, committee counsel, about memoranda and letters from the Budget Bureau, a White House agency, to the Defense Department.

* * *

The general import of Hamilton's line of inquiry was whether the size of military budgets was determined chiefly by national security considerations or was greatly affected by administration fiscal policies.

In getting into it, Hamilton introduced a letter from Joseph M. Dodge, budget director, to Wilson in the early days of the Eisenhower administration.

The letter said the first task was to review the fiscal 1954 budget—prepared by the previous Democratic administration.

Among other documents introduced was a memorandum to the secretary of air, signed by the Defense Department's comptroller, W. J. McNeil, and dated about a month after the Dodge letter.

This memo said that on the basis of preliminary review there appeared possibility for holding down money outlays. Then the McNeil memo said that Wilson desired "immediate steps be taken to place fiscal year 1954 funds in administrative reserve." The funds totaled $1,934,580,775.

Hamilton asked Wilson what "administrative reserve" meant.

Wilson said it meant that temporarily the funds "would be held in suspense."

Wilson went before the senators with a prepared statement in which he cautioned against insisting upon "excessive" U. S. Military strength.

"Our objective is to deter war by every honorable means. It is not our objective to overarm or to give any country cause for alarm," he said.

Of this country's military strength now and for the future, Wilson said it is "a dynamic military power of true substance.

"We do not need or wish to flaunt it before the world," he added, "but it would be a serious disservice to our country and the morale of the free world to belittle it."

The white-haired Cabinet officer made no direct reference to the extra billion dollars which the Senate voted this week to provide more funds for the Air Force than the Eisenhower administration had requested.

* * *

Nor did he take any note of the storm that arose after he used the word "phony" in talking of the increase. But he said in his 3400-word prepared testimony:

"We deplore efforts to belittle the capacity and resolve of this government to be prepared to meet any recognized threat."

Wilson came to the meeting under instructions from the President to "lay it on the line" in discussing the military budget.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower approved the outline.

Hagerty also had these other significant comments:

1. He was certain there was no discussion "at all" of the possibility of the Cabinet member's resignation.

2. The talk of the two "would indicate to me that the President of the United States has complete confidence in the secretary of defense."

3. There was no discussion of Wilson's word "phony."

Lunch activity started early in the well-equipped field kitchens. Food was carried from central supply areas in each section of the camp to the girls' wooden crate cupboards, most of which were painted bright colors and decorated with each patrol's own insignia.

The patrol from Amarillo, Tex., decided to make the Michigan countryside look like "home." The girls erected a "Boot Hill cemetery", complete with wooden crosses and an epitaph for each girl in the patrol.

Army personnel delivered duffle bags and patrol equipment throughout the day. The men are also responsible for disposal of all trash daily.

The campers are divided into five sections, with three camps in each section. Each camp has about 350 Scouts. The girls live in troop units of 32 girls. These girls come from four different sections of the country, with their leaders coming from still other areas.

Nature walks, sightseeing, swimming and other sports were on the afternoon program for most, but the late arrivals traveling since Monday stayed around "home", and just rested.

Today the rest of the campers will arrive.

By dinner time the shuttling buses will have deposited 5000 Scouts from every state in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, the Canal Zone and Canada. Other countries represented are the British Isles, Norway, Denmark, Columbia, Brazil, Puerto Rico, the British West Indies and Mexico.

Burglary of Apartment Nets Thief $5, Papers

Personal papers, a billfold and $5 were reported stolen Wednesday night from a first floor apartment at 21 Stout St., according to Pontiac police.

Mrs. Case Streeter of that address said the articles were in her purse on the dining room table. The purse was found discarded in the back yard, police said.

They believe the home was entered through a basement door, which was forced open.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Richmond public schools have bought from the Army for $100 each three bulldozers which cost $49,000. The schools hope to save money by doing their own grading for new school buildings.

Senators Stay Overtime to Push Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today sought to stave off new Senate efforts to cut the 4½-billion-dollar foreign aid authorization bill after winning every test in the opening day of voting.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex) announced the Senate would run again into a late night session if necessary to pass the big measure and send it into conference with the House. If work on it is not completed by tonight, he promised a Saturday session.

* * *

The Senate worked more than 11 hours yesterday on the measure tagged by President Eisenhower as of major importance to free world strength and security. It handed him important triumphs on these four votes:

* * *

1. A 58-27 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La) to cut the bill to $2,756,000,000 the sum Congress appropriated last year.

2. A 50-38 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia.

3. A 45-43 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Young (R-ND) to clamp import quotas on textiles and farm products in surplus in this country.

4. A 52-36 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) to put a temporary import quota on textiles.

Stair Climbing to Condition Ike for Homecoming

WASHINGTON (INS) — The White House announced today that President Eisenhower will begin stair climbing exercises today in preparation for leaving Walter Reed Hospital tomorrow.

News Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference that the President "will be walking up and down some stairs today."

He explained that this will be "an extension of the walking exercises" ordered by the President's physicians to promote his convalescence from an abdominal operation on June 9.

Hagerty disclosed that the President spent about four and one-half hours out of bed late Thursday afternoon and evening. This was by far the longest continuous period he has remained out of bed since his operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at their Gettysburg, Pa. farm, and he will remain at Gettysburg until he is strong enough to resume the schedule of activity which he followed before his operation.

It is undetermined as yet just how long this will be or whether he will visit the White House in the interim.

Falls From Car in Path of Oncoming Traffic

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Joseph Risek, of Detroit, received only minor injuries when he fell yesterday from his car which was going about 45 miles an hour, in front of oncoming traffic on Woodward Avenue.

He had swerved to avoid a car pulling in front of him about 1,500 feet north of Long Lake Road. After he fell out, his car continued driverless about 200 feet, hitting the grassy bank.

Risek was treated and released from St. Joseph Hospital.

Veteran Fireman Gets Leg, $4,000 at Benefit Event

Former Assistant Fire Chief Charles Swaim, 65, was back at the Waterford Township fire hall in Drayton Plains this morning, $4,000 richer and managing pretty well on a new, artificial leg.

The money was given Swaim at a dinner last night, attended by most of the 41 firemen and more than 100 friends and well-wishers.

Swaim, who lives with a married daughter at 4821 Hatchery Rd. had retirement plans in mind when he stubbed his toe during a fire call in March, 1955.

Clarkston Teenager Struck Down by Car

A Clarkston teenager was in "fair" condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being struck by a car while riding a bicycle near Clarkston yesterday.

Bradley R. Chase, 13, reportedly suffered a possible concussion in the accident. The car was driven by Violet V. Webber, 35, of Clarkston.

Investigating Waterford Township police said the boy drove his bike out from a path into the highway striking the front of the Webber vehicle. The woman told officers she could not stop in time to avoid the collision.

and the pro-Stalin student demonstrations in Tiflis this year when up to 100 persons were reported killed.

Western businessmen in Poznan to attend a big trade fair in the industrial city of 300,000 were amazed eyewitnesses to the violent outburst that began at 7 a.m. and evidently continued all day yesterday.

Solid lines of marchers 20 abreast waving banners demanding "bread" swarmed through the streets, captured and burned secret police headquarters, liberated party headquarters, destroyed the jamming station that interferes with Western broadcasts. They raised a white flag over City Hall.

TANKS IN STREET

The businessmen told of tanks rolling through the streets, of bullet blasts at the milling workers, of jet fighters winging overhead and of a tight curfew clamped on the city by Polish authorities.

* * *

In some instances, it was reported, troops and police failed to take action against the demonstrators and even gave up their arms to them. Some of the marchers, armed, returned the fire of troops. They succeeded at one time in capturing some of the tanks.

At least 30,000 persons were reported in the marching, milling crowds which started the demonstration by upsetting cars.

"Out with the Russians," one of the marchers was heard to shout in German. Poznan was a German city, Posen, before World War I.

TRAIN DELAYED

Although Warsaw claimed that all was normal, witnesses said a train bound for Berlin was held up for an hour and a half early today due to shooting near the station. Poznan is 155 miles east of Berlin.

Tax Man Set Straight by Tavern Operator

DENVER (AP)—George H. Allan, Colorado internal revenue director, vouches for this:

"Tavern operator," replied the taxpayer.

"Joint?" asked the agent, wanting to know whether the taxpayer was filing the return along with his wife.

The Day in Birmingham

50 Register During Rally; Clerk Sets Longer Hours

BIRMINGHAM — Special hours were announced today for registering of voters by Irene Hanley, city clerk, who reports that 50 voters added their names to city lists last night.

The 50, who registered during the hours of the Torchlight Parade and candidates rally (see story on page 1) were welcomed by the clerk, who says, "That is 50 off the end of the line on the last day of registration."

Several hundred are expected in the line July 9, as are usual on the last day before a primary or presidential election.

About 400 have registered since the April election, reports Miss Hanley. The office totaled 1290 voters on June 5, but will not take another exact total until July.

The clerk's office will be open from 9 to 1 tomorrow, and on next Saturday. Next week, special hours will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. except for 5 p.m. closing on July 3 and no hours on July 4.

Progress on the plans for sewage treatment by the North Evergreen Authority is going satisfactorily, City Manager D. C. Egbert said shortly before this afternoon's authority meeting.

Details and methods to be discussed are part of the long progression towards either providing local sewage treatment or utilizing an interceptor.

Slated Monday for later elementary and junior high school boys is a film program at the library. First of a six-Monday series, the program at 2 p.m. in the library auditorium will feature "The Big Race," about sports-cars, and "Play Ball, Son."

Other programs later will be on cowboys and Indians, fishing, and other sports. A book display in the high school reading alcove will be corelated with the program.

About 284 children have registered in the summer reading program and about 54 are attending weekly story-hour sessions Tuesday afternoons, says Children's Librarian Kathleen Burgess.

Next Tuesday's story will be "The Tinderbox" by Hans Christian Andersen and "The Lad who Went to the North Wind." Hours are from 2:30 to 3 p.m.

Miss Helen G. Matz

Service for Miss Helen G. Matz, an accountant at the James Vernor Company and an aunt of Mrs. Edwin W. Deer, Mrs. Lawrence Hulbert and Mrs. Robert Olsen, will be at 9 a.m. Saturday in Holy Name Church.

Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. A Rosary will be recited tonight at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at 8:30.

Miss Matz, who died Wednesday, lived at 650 Gladstone, Detroit.

Six Are Shaken Up in 3-Car Collision

Three members of an Ortonville family suffered minor injuries and three others were shaken up in a three-car accident in White Lake Township last night.

Mrs. Lois A. Templeton, 27, was treated for cuts and bruises of the face. Her daughters, Judy, 2, and Virginia, 7, required treatment for bruises. They were released following treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. Shaken up were her husband, James K., 29, one of the drivers, and children, Dale 4, and Barbara 3.

The other vehicles were driven by Warren G. Lindstrom, 17, of 9605 Bonnie Brier, White Lake Township, and Henry J. Pennell, 63, of 7020 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Investigating Oakland County deputies said the Lindstrom and Pennell vehicles collided and the Templeton car was forced to go off the highway to avoid them after Lindstrom stopped to make a left turn.

Williams Sets Out for Far West Tour

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams sets out today for three days of political activity in the Far West.

The Michigan governor was booked to speak late in the day at the Washington state Democratic convention in Tacoma, and to make talks Saturday in Salem and Milwaukee, Ore.

Williams was vague as to the exact nature of the Oregon meetings, but presumably they will advance the candidacy of U. S. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) for re-election.

On his way back Sunday, Williams expected to make another Democratic meeting, this one in Salt Lake City, Utah.

He said the swing was in response to invitations of long standing to appear in Washington and Oregon.

Without Snow, We Hope!

GLENN (AP)—Some 40 gallons of maple syrup, mounds of pancakes, sausage, bacon and coffee will be served up at the annual Glenn Pancake Festival Friday through Sunday. The celebration dates back to 1938, the summer after a snowstorm stranded motorists here and village residents fed them pancakes.

Guy Nunn Retracts 'Oil Bribes' Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guy Nunn, radio voice of the United Auto Workers (UAW) said yesterday he made a "mistake" when he broadcast early this year that "the oil and gas lobby has been buying senators by the bushel."

"I've made more judicious statements in my life," the Detroit commentator and radio director of the UAW told the special Senate committee which is investigating lobbying activities for and against the natural gas bill. The bill was vetoed by President Eisenhower in February.

* * *

Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) and Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said Nunn should apologize. He refused, saying some Senators have said worse things about the UAW.

* * *

Another witness earlier in the day was Walter Reuther, UAW president, who said flatly his union lobbied against the gas bill, which would have exempted natural gas producers from direct federal price controls.

Indiana State GOP Convention Opens

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Future political prospects for Sen. William E. Jenner and Gov. George N. Craig were at stake today as Indiana's faction-torn Republicans assembled for their biennial state convention.

* * *

Craig is barred by the state constitution from succeeding himself as governor, and Jenner's term in the Senate has two more years to run. But both have a vital interest in the convention's selection of delegates to the national convention and candidates for statewide office and the U.S. Senate.

* * *

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, who has tried to sidestep the Craig-Jenner feud, has only token opposition in his bid for renomination to a third term. His sole opponent is George B. Huff, an Indianapolis public relations man who advocates abolition of foreign aid and farm subsidies.

* * *

The culminating episode in a bitter four-year struggle for power between Craig and Jenner will be the five-man race for the gubernatorial nomination.

Puppy Dog Elvis Makes Friends —With Bite

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Charleston News and Courier sent a girl reporter to intetview singer Elvis Presley last night.

He bit her on the hand.

"Hey, you, what's the idea? You trying to make like Marlon Brando or something?" she asked.

"I was only being friendly, like a little puppy dog," said Presley.

When the reporter explained it was the first time anyone had ever bitten her to show friendliness, Presley replied:

Man Jailed for 13 Days by Bookkeeping Error

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bookkeeping error kept a man in jail 13 days he wasn't supposed to serve, sheriff's deputies report.

* * *

Frank Joseph Arnold, 26, was brought before Municipal Judge Joseph A. Sprankle Jr. yesterday. The judge could find no complaint against him.

* * *

Arnold said he thought he was there on a traffic warrant from nearby Altadena. But the judge pointed out he had already served his time on that count in the Pasadena city jail.

A search of records failed to disclose any new charges. Arnold was released from the county jail.

Bob Considine Says:

GOP Seems Unprepared if Ike Doesn't Run

NEW YORK (INS)—The impression one got at the governors' conference at Atlantic City this week was that the Republicans have absolutely no machinery set up to begin working if their hospitalized champion decides not to run again, and that the Democrats believe their one best bet is Adlai Stevenson, who lost decisively to Eisenhower in 1952.

• • •

Any abrupt statement by Eisenhower to the effect that he does not feel physically able to carry on would plunge the GOP into a state of helpless indecision it has not known for years.

One gathered at Atlantic City that such an emergency would reopen the gaping party wounds healed by the late Sen. Bob Taft when he met with Eisenhower after the 1952 convention and then helped him get elected.

The 21-governor appeal to Eisenhower to please run again mirrored the party's complete dependence on the 65-year-old chief executive.

• • •

Stevenson received more favorable mention in absentia at Atlantic City than Averell Harriman, who was there industrially in person. Sen. Kefauver's name was mentioned about as frequently as that of Millard Fillmore.

NO BUTTON-HOLING

He threw no parties, moved about without ostentation, did no button-holding that any reporter could observe.

• • •

But when he left Atlantic City yesterday he remarked quietly that his tiger had at least 580 convention delegates in his pocket. Stevenson would not need many more.

Judging from some of the raps at Harriman, and the rude snub of Michigan's liberal Gov. "Soapy" Williams, who was dumped as chairman of next year's governors' convention, though the job should have been his on a seniority basis, the Democrats appear to be making an effort to out-straddle the Republicans now securely athwart the middle of the road.

"It's the temper of the American people right now, this middle of the road," one of Stevenson's supporters said the other day. Plainly, he was eager to avoid any distemper in this election year.

• • •

Gov. Harriman entertains shapely defined hopes but has only vague plans for overcoming the lead which the polls insist Stevenson and Kefauver now have over him.

"I leave that to your imagination," he said to newsman Scotty Reston the other day when Reston asked him how he ever expected to surmount such obstacles.

• • •

PROBLEMS PREVIEWED

Some of the problems Honest Ave (who looks more and more like a well-shaven Lincoln) will have at Chicago were previewed at Atlantic City.

Govs. Hodges of North Carolina and Shivers of Texas complained of Harriman's real or imagined "associations" with Tammany Hall, Walter Reuther, the alleged effort to split the Democratic Party, the Americans for Democratic Action, a "super New Deal," "Minority groups," and a reported assertion that integration must be enforced by troops, which Harriman has denied ever making.

Harriman went forth to call a press conference after a corridor chat with reporters indicated he was repudiating Tammany and the ADA.

At the conference he went to pains to point out that Tammany is simply a nickname for one of 62 Democratic organizations in New York state, superceded in size by the Brooklyn and Bronx organizations.

• • •

The ADA, he said, chased Communists out of the liberal movement. Top Tammany sachem, Carmine DiSapio, does not run the Democratic Party in New York state; he, Harriman, does. And so forth.

Only Gov. Garry of Oklahoma spoke out for Harriman at the governors' conference. Gov. Chandler of Kentucky offered himself as Harriman's running mate if Harriman gets the nomination but added that he wished to teach him "the facts of life."

In all, it was not a triumphant three days for New York's favorite son candidate. But men have won great political prizes in even more hostile climate.

Japanese to Display U.S. Children's Art

LOS ANGELES—On their way to Japan are 120 paintings and drawings of "My Mother," executed by American children. They will be exhibited all over Japan in schools and museums.

The pictures, showing American mothers as very active women—busy in community affairs as well as in their own households—were chosen from among 750 sent to the Japanese Embassy in Washington by school officials as the best of thousands drawn and painted throughout the United States. Together with entries from other countries, they will be on display for a year and those judged outstanding will be awarded certificates of merit.

Visit in Red China

TOKYO (INS)—A group of thirty-nine Japanese businessmen, members of the Japan International Trade Promotion Association, will leave Tokyo July 3 for a month-long visit to Red China.

Now, Hear This!

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A State Highway Department official says Michigan's new speed laws aren't changing the driving habits of state motorists.

Ceylon Causing British Troubles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two old Oxford classmates had a reunion this week at the British Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London and one raised a sticky and fateful question.

As expected, Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike of Ceylon finally asked Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden to take the British navy out of its great base at Trincomalee, Ceylon, and the RAF from its base at Katunayake.

* * *

Bandaranaike was a surprise winner in Ceylon's April elections. He is pledged to get rid of the British bases, to satisfy the demands of Asian nationalism and neutralism a la Nehru of India.

The decision creates a new headache for Britain.

This and the instability of some other links just about breaks the old British Empire lifeline.

Without the bases in Ceylon, the Indian Ocean jump will be from Aden to Singapore, a stretch of 3,600 miles with no way stations between. And neither of those terminals is too secure, considering the sweep of nationalism in Malaya-Singapore and the rise of Yemen and Saudi Arabia and Arabs generally in the clamor for Middle East dominance.

Ceylon's people are friendly but they are particularly sensitive to foreign rule. The garden spot isle for centuries was passed around among Dutch, Portuguese, French and English conquerors. Britain has held the bases now since 1802.

The foremost of these is Trincomalee, one of the finest natural anchorages in the world.

* * *

It is a steaming, tropical fishing port on the island's northeast coast, edged by jungle and tangled with mangrove growth, but inside its bottleneck entrance from the wide reaches of the Bay of Bengal and Indian Ocean is a protected fairway big enough to anchor and maneuver the biggest aircraft carriers. There are deep coves with just enough space to park a pair of cruisers. Sheer hillsides provide protection from broadside dive-bombing.

This is the base of the British East Indies Station Fleet. In wartime it was home to the British and Allied Eastern fleets under command of Admirals Sir James Somerville and Sir Bruce Fraser.

Money Allotted for Work on Michigan Harbors

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says recent congressional action will make available $590,000 to begin work on harbors of refuge at Chippewa Harbor, Isle Royale, Eagle Harbor, Harrisville, Oscoda and Whitefish Point.

Williams said Thursday he was advised that the public works appropriation bill has cleared the conference committee hurdle in Washington with money for the projects still intact.

Appropriations already have been made by the Michigan State Waterways Commission for matching funds to provide for the state's share of expense.

The action by Congress is expected to permit a start on the harbor projects soon after July 1, the governor said. The work is part of a projected chain of 15 such harbors of refuge around Michigan's coastline.

City and County Proud to Welcome Girl Scouts

By choosing Highland Recreation for its 1956 encampment, this splendid organization has paid the entire community a high compliment. In the fullest and friendliest sense of the term we can assure the girls and their leaders that the welcome mat is out at Haven Hill.

★ ★ ★

It also is possible to predict that by the time the 5,000 girls occupy their city of 2,980 tents, everything will be in readiness for a highly successful encampment. A force of adult advisers soon will be hard at work with final preparations.

★ ★ ★

We urge the community to take advantage of the fact that the camp will be open to visitors every day from June 29 to July 11 between 10 a. m. and sundown. Also open to the public will be several programs to be presented in an arena with a seating capacity of 10,000.

Let's show these Senior Girl Scouts that we are proud of them and their visit here. Let's do everything we can to make them feel at home.

Federal Aid to Schools

It was inevitable that widespread difference of opinion would result over the issue of federal aid to schools at the national Governors' conference at Atlantic City.

★ ★ ★

This is an important question, interesting to all, old or young. It is highly controversial because of its political implications, as well as for educational and other considerations.

Those who favor federal aid cite the fact that as long as the people of some states either can not or will not spend as much for their public schools as do the people of other states, there will continue to be differences in educational opportunity. More children can go to college in some states than in others. The country may lose some geniuses as a result. In an atom age, the pro-aid group argues, this is a national danger.

Those who oppose federal aid point out that no one gets federal aid without incurring obligations. They fear creeping federal control of local schools. They say this is just one more area in which the federal government is reaching out to take more power away from the states.

If the pro argument is followed to its logical conclusion, and if absolutely equal opportunity is the all important goal, then all governmental functions should be turned over to Washington.

It is the old argument that has continued ever since the Nation's founding. Is it better to centralize power at Washington, or is it better to keep it localized as much as possible, turning over to the national government only those functions which are extremely difficult for the states to handle?

It is easy to sympathize with both sides in this argument, for there is merit in each. However, there are other complicating factors to be considered. For example, Michigan pays far more tax money to the federal government than it gets back in benefits.

We Michiganders already are helping out so-called poorer states to the tune of millions of dollars every year. The aid to education bill would materially increase this amount.

Do the people of Michigan want to do this? And how far are they willing to go in footing the bills for providing local services for the people of other states?

★ ★ ★

These are questions which everyone should consider in evaluating this discussion as it continues among the Governors, and in Congress.

David Lawrence Says:

Struggle Inside Kremlin Walls?

WASHINGTON—What's going on inside the Kremlin? Nobody here really knows, but American intelligence sources can make some shrewd guesses.

• • •

There's a battle on. The struggle for leadership is between the former Stalin men and their opponents. Evidence of the conflict can be seen in the behavior of the Communist parties outside of Soviet Russia. Whoever still has these foreign instrumentalities of Communism under control—and it looks like someone in the top ministry who handles foreign outlets of propaganda is in command—may have inspired the severest criticism of Khrushchev by the Communist groups outside Russia.

The outcry from The Daily Worker in New York, for example, and from Communist organs in other parts of the world is that the men in the Kremlin who stood by Stalin and didn't interfere with his cruelties are themselves to blame and must answer for their acquiescence in his crimes. It's really a political maneuver to get them out altogether.

Whenever dissension of such proportions goes on in any cabinet, there is bound to be a slowing up of certain activities and a speeding up of others.

PROPAGANDA STRESSED

In the case of the Kremlin, the speed-up is on the foreign propaganda side. A desperate effort is being made to win new laurels in the Middle East and in Europe. The drive is on to push the American military forces out of their bases everywhere in Europe and Asia. It has already succeeded in Iceland. The movement has intensified in Morocco and North Africa generally and trouble-making has been renewed by the Communists throughout Latin America. It looks as if the men in charge of the foreign office are seeking to establish a new prestige for domestic reasons.

Meanwhile, the infiltration policies which have been pursued with considerable vigor lately are making some headway and causing the Western Powers concern in France as well as Italy.

It's a mixed-up situation for the United States and her Allies to analyze. For there is no certainty as to who is going to be on top next in the battle for supremacy inside the Kremlin. Whichever faction wins will be faced with internal weaknesses growing out of the fight itself.

MOSCOW BACKING?

The new outbreak of rioting just reported from Poland may or may not have been inspired by certain political strategists in Moscow but it looks as if the discipline usually exerted there over the satellite states has weakened lately. Hence, the people in Poland now are emboldened to take chances. Incidentally, it has always been assumed here that the overthrow of the government at Moscow would come about as a result of revolt initiated throughout the satellite states.

There have been some suggestions here and there that the entire course of events recently in Moscow has been artificially planned. But officials in Washington feel that the sensational speech by Khrushchev in February was forced on him as a maneuver in defense against his political opponents inside the Kremlin. It took many weeks for the text of that speech to leak out. The question is what happened in the interim.

What has been going on under the surface since the lines of battle between the pro-Stalin and anti-Stalin groups in the Kremlin were drawn? Certainly control of the Communist parties outside Soviet Russia is an important piece of influence for someone in the Kremlin to manipulate. Hence, the anti-Khrushchev propaganda let loose from New York and other centers carries special significance. The fact that the editorials from the outside organs of the Communist parties have just been reprinted in Moscow newspapers shows that whoever controls the press there wanted to use those same editorials as an influence inside the Soviet Union itself.

• • •

It's a desperate game, and perhaps soon the world will know more details as a purge of the higher-ups—maybe Khrushchev or Bulganin or both will go down—and the elevation of some new leader come to pass. Something is going on inside the Kremlin that means much to the outside world. Dictatorships work invisibly, and sometimes palace revolutions break out when the rival dictators cannot tolerate each other. It would seem that big events are in the offing.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Avoid Liquid Applications in Treatment for Shingles

In the course of my recent bout with imaginary ulcer-hydronephrosis-cancer of the head of the pancreas, etc., that the vague and worrisome bellyache might indicate shingles — herpes zoster, as doctors call it. For that matter, my first inkling of what really ailed me came when a playmate on the bowling green, a retired obstetrician, suggested I had angina and gave me a nitroglycerine tablet to take for it. I did take the tablet that evening, not because I was in any distress but just to see whether it was active. It was—it gave me an unpleasant throbbing in the head and flushing of the face.

Intercostal neuralgia—that's what I concluded my wandering belly, side and backache signified.

Intercostal means between the ribs—nerves that emerge from the spinal cord and pass around the trunk between the ribs, supplying sensation to chest wall, belly wall, flanks, hips.

The cause of intercostal neuralgia (pain in an area supplied by one or more intercostal nerves), let us say, I don't know. I won't say the cause is "unknown"—but if anybody knows the cause of intercostal neuralgia, he or she does not choose to tell the world about it.

Shingles (herpes zoster) is intercostal neuralgia with blisters. The victim suffers pretty severe pain in back, loin, flank, chest or belly for a day or two and then, when they are about ready to start the anesthesia for removal of his appendix or something, a crop of small blisters appears on the surface of the skin of the affected area. Shingles has been a diagnostic booby trap for more than one fast operator.

The pain of shingles is generally persistent and harassing. If the patient is not in vigorous health to begin with, his or her siege of shingles may be an exhausting months-long illness.

And so, two things are essential in the successful treatment of shingles. First, to build or maintain vite. Second, to beware of the damage pain-killers may do the blood and heart.

If one does not know the cause of shingles—certainly I don't—one can't suggest a specific or curative remedy. Drop me and call a real doctor if you wish, but aside from internal analgesics and applications of soothing or protective dressing, I have no faith in specific remedies or methods of treatment for shingles.

In my judgment the least dangerous pain-killer for one with shingles is aspirin, and remember, aspirin is aspirin, no matter how much or how little you pay for it.

The grain of truth in the notion that if shingles goes entirely around the trunk your name is Dennis is that the eruption is nearly always limited to one side; but, of course, if it did occur on both sides, it would be virtually a double dose of trouble.

It is advisable to avoid liquid, oily or greasy applications and just keep the affected area of skin heavily powdered with equal parts of cornstarch, boric acid and talc, or just borated talcum powder or zinc stearate powder. After drenching with the powder apply a thick layer of cotton batting, and keep this in place with a wide tensil bandage, snugly but not tightly applied.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Drayton Resident Opposed to City Airport Expansion

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Recent articles about the Pontiac Municipal Airport expansion plans fail to cover certain unfavorable aspects to enlarging this layout. For one thing, comparatively few people benefit from this tax-supported playground. Pontiac taxpayers have contributed for over 20 years to provide landing and storage for planes owned by a tiny fraction of the city's population.

This money is spent year after year though Pontiac as yet has no municipal recreation building, poor playgrounds and inadequate playground equipment.

Pontiac and Waterford have enjoyed comparatively good relations for many years. Mutual respect has been the reason. Expanding the airport in the midst of a high concentration of homes, to their certain depreciation, is certainly no way to improve these relations.

The advent of helicopters will soon outmode the need for rural airports. Even now, some of the larger cities are closing the gap between their large airports and their downtown facilities by use of the whirly-birds.

Ask yourself these questions: Do I use the airport? Would I get more benefit from my tax dollar if it were spent on improving school and recreational facilities? Do I think the airport has been a material factor in the improvement of Pontiac?

Would I like a large airport to move in close to my home and school? If your answers are unfavorable, may I suggest you contact your representative on the City Council to let him know how you feel?

Laws to Aid Auto Dealers May Do Harm, Little Good

Small and large Ford automobile dealers from all sections of the country concluded a meeting at which all aspects of the Monroney and O'Mahoney Bills, now before the Congress, have been fully and openly discussed.

They reached the following conclusions:

(1) If the O'Mahoney Bill becomes a law, the automobile bootlegger will be able to thrive and prosper, to our detriment, as never before. This is because, under the provisions of the Bill, no one will be able to take any effective action against bootlegging and other unethical practices.

• • •

(2) If the Monroney Bill becomes a law, the government through the Federal Trade Commission, will be required to enter into every phase of our business — including contract provisions, prices and profit margins—and the days of NRA and OPA will look like paradise by comparison. We are therefore against the passage of this Bill.

• • •

(3) If either or both of these bills become law, the manufacturers may well be forced to seek entirely new methods of distributing, selling and servicing the cars and trucks they make, methods that could seriously affect not only our future profits but the very existence of authorized dealerships. For this very important reason, we are against each of these Bills.

• • •

(4) Our final conclusion is that the combined provisions of these bills fail completely to meet the objectives of those who, several months ago, set out in all sincerity to cure certain recognized evils and abuses in our business. The O'Mahoney and the Monroney Bills—in their present form—may well kill the patient instead of curing him.

• • •

For these basic reasons, the dealers hope that no bills concerning automobile factory-dealer relationships will be passed at this session of Congress. They are communicating to Senators and Congressmen these conclusions and urge, in the interests of the successful future that all dealers will do the same as quickly as possible.

• • •

In commenting on the current Legislature, Vice President W. T. Gossett of the Ford Motor Company declared:

"We believe that the manufacturers have demonstrated clearly that they are ready and willing to do their part to meet the problems of the time without legislative intervention. It is only reasonable to suggest that the industry be given sufficient time to complete the process of working out solutions. Certainly there is no occasion for such drastic measures as those involved in the proposed legislation before this Committee.

• • •

"The automotive industry traditionally has been highly competitive, not only within the industry but with other industries that vie for the consumer's dollar. The industry has attained a high level of efficiency, of quality of product and of value to the consumer. It has been a major factor in the expansion of our economy and in the changing pattern of our way of life.

• • •

"Imposition of the sort of governmental regulation contemplated by the Monroney bill would bring about revolutionary chages in the operations of the industry—changes of which the foreseeable consequences are, without exception, adverse. We think it is clear that the proposed legislation would work to the detriment not only of the industry but of the economy in general and of the public at large."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Charm Unaffected by Middle Age

Myrtle is panicky about her age. Her type of fear was commonplace 20 years ago. Thanks in part to some 250 newspaper editors who have run this column in their areas, Myrtle's problem is now less common. So clip this case record. Send it to every woman in your family who lives in an area not reached by this column. It can save marriages and even sanity.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-395. Myrtle F., aged 43, is a neurotic wife.

"Dr. Crane, your column does not run in my city," she began, after a recent address I had given before her women's club.

"But my sister clips your column and I read it avidly.

"For I am growing panicky about the change of life. I get so jittery I can't sleep.

"I'm ashamed to admit it but for the past six months I have been taking sleeping pills.

• • •

"Sometimes I feel so blue I just sit and cry. My husband tells me there's nothing to worry about, and I remember some of your newspaper columns also said the same thing.

"But could you please reassure me personally about it? Will I lose my appeal to my husband after the menopause?".

BUGABOOS AT 45

At about the age of 45 the womb (uterus) ceases its regular function.

But the womb is not a primary sexual organ, so it has no significant bearing on a wife's physical charm.

Women can remain thrilling and thrillable all their lives, with or without a uterus.

If you have lost your womb earlier in marriage due to fibroids or if you are at the age where the uterus normally stops its monthly functioning, shrug your shoulders. Take a "So what!" attitude.

Husbands don't know if their wives have a uterus or not as regards their marital relations.

SPECIFIC FACTS

In my many years of teaching, I have long realized that people want logical facts to support scientific statements.

I have just told you that your womb does not affect your ability to function as a thrilling and thrillable wife.

So let's show you some clincher arguments to prove that statement. First, the thing that makes physical affection pleasureable is primarily tactile stimulation.

But you wives know very well, without ever having taken a college course in psychology, that the touch or tactile cells in the skin do not depend upon the womb.

No, their nerves lead to the brain. So you can feel all the tactile sensations at 55 or 65 or 75 that you did at 35.

Oh, I'll qualify that mildly. As we grow older, all of our functions may diminish slightly. We may not secrete as much saliva at 65 as at 25, or as much thyroxine or insulin.

But the difference is minor. We don't suddenly drop from a full 100 per cent down to zero, just because we reach the age of 45. Maybe we fall from 100 per cent to 95 per cent.

MENOPAUSAL WORRIES

So get straightened out on this medico-psychological point now and you can pas sthrough the menopause with little effect on your charm or your personality.

You wives have no cause to worry about yourselves, so turn your attention to your husbands. They are likely to be in a far worse state.

For they also start dreading middle age lest they wane in their ardor. This very fear can completely demolish their virility.

• • •

So you wives must be smart and affect more aggressiveness to banish your husband's growing dread of impotence.

Send for my booklet "Menopausal Complexes of Men & Women," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Plan Red China Party Congress

To Convene This Fall; Press Reports Indicate Purge Probable

HONG KONG (INS) — Preparations are in full swing for the eighth national congress of the Chinese Communist Party which is expected to convene this autumn, perhaps before Oct. 1.

Throughout Red China, provincial congresses down to basic level party organizations are meeting to make their individual reports and to elect their congressmen.

According to the Kwantung Provincial Communist Party Committee, the principal items on the agenda of the national congress will be:

1. The working report of the central committee of the Chinese Communist Party.
2. The report relating to the revision of party regulations.
3. The directives pertaining to the second five-year plan for the development of national economy.
4. The election of the central committee.

The eighth congress, the first of its kind since 1945—will however, discuss much more than those four items, for Communist press reports have indicated that the party in general is headed for a purge.

The ailments afflicting the party, according to the reports, are materialism, bourgeois idealism, sectarianism, lack of criticism and self-criticism, dogmatism and disunity.

Music Camp Opens 29th Annual Season

INTERLOCHEN (AP)—The national Music Camp's 29th annual concert season opens today with the honor orchestra, directed by Orien Dalley of the University of Michigan, first to perform.

The national high school band and choir is featured on the program Saturday night. Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder and director of the camp, directs the same orchestra July 1 in the opening symphony concert.

Other Sunday concerts feature the all-state intermediate band, directed by Charles W. Hills of Fowlerville, and the national intermediate orchestra, conducted by Hendrik Essers of Washington, D. C.

More than 260 events are scheduled for some 1,800 fine arts students from throughout the United States who are attending the eight-week session.

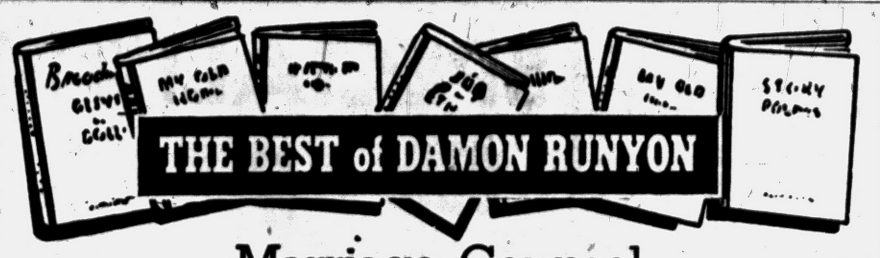

More Are Marrying and at Younger Age

NEW YORK (INS) — Insurance experts report today a marked trend toward earlier marriages in the United States.

Statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. said that about half the men who eventually marry do so before the age of 23 and the median age for first marriages among women is about 20.

The total number of married persons in the U. S. has reached a record high of 81¾ million, as compared with 75 million in 1950 and 60¼ million in 1940.

At present almost 70 per cent of the population 15 years of age and older is married, while in the decades before World War II the proportion was a little more than 60 per cent.

Marriage Counsel

Damon Runyon reverted frequently to the subject of the trouble a fellow always gets into when he respond to requests for advice. A marked characteristic of the nameless character who is the narrator of Damon's classic Broadway short stories is a complete reluctance to give advice to guy or doll.

One of the most memorable of Damon's My Old Man stories dwells on "the way his well-meant advice was always getting him into trouble." It is his "Marriage Counsel."

By DAMON RUNYON

Our Old Man said one time a charming young lady by the name of Miss Abagail Zuz came to him for advice on the subject of marriage. She was being courted by a young man named Clukey and also by Obadiah Envelope, a sod widower of several years' standing and twice her age. Our Old Man said she asked him which one he thought she should marry and that he advised her to take Obey.

* * *

He said he told her that he did not entirely agree with Benjamin Franklin's advice to young men to marry widows, but that he did think it was an excellent idea for young women to marry widowers. He said he explained to her that it had been his observation that second wives had all the best of it because their husbands tried to do for them all the things they had neglected to do for their first wives.

Our Old Man said he told her that a girl who caught a fellow who had been bereft of his helpmate after 10 to 20 years of married life became the beneficiary of conscience payments by the husband to the memory of the first wife, although Our Old Man said the husband was not always really to blame for inattention to the first wife. He said as a rule a first marriage comes in youth and a fellow is out hustling around to make a living and is too busy to remember the little amenities of matrimony, such as taking the wife places and buying her things.

He said that after a lapse of years marriage became a routine with the husband, and he did not notice how hard the wife worked at home or how tired she looked and in fact gave her presence scant consideration until one day she up and died, and then he got to remembering her only too well.

Our Old Man said then the husband began thinking of the things he could have done and perhaps meant to do for her and was downright conscience stricken, so when he got married a second time he was generally always on his toes trying to make up to the second wife for his derelictions in the case of the first. He said he told Miss Zuz that he had known Obadiah Envelope long enough to feel that he was that type and that she would be missing a right good thing if she failed to nail him.

ADVICE ALL WRONG

So Miss Zuz became Mrs. Obadiah, but Our Old Man said she was around in two weeks complaining that the advice given her was all wrong, especially with reference to Obadiah taking her places and buying her things. She said Obadiah was about as loose as the post office foundations with his money and that he was not conscience stricken enough to keep her from doing all the housework. Our Old Man said the former Miss Zuz was right put out and wanted to know what he advised now.

He said he suddenly remembered that Obadiah inclined a bit toward spiritualism, so he told Mrs. Obadiah to leave everything to him. Our Old Man said then one night he dropped in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obadiah and that he took with him a friend of his by the name of Mrs. Toober who gave seances with a table and after a little social chat he got her to call up a few spirits and one of them was the spirit of the first Mrs. Obadiah.

Our Old Man said it was the most convincing spirit he ever heard . . . Obadiah cried as if his heart would break.

Our Old Man said Mrs. Toober said this spirit wanted to talk with Obadiah and what the spirit talked about was how it suffered thinking of the way Obadiah had neglected it in life and how it hoped he was showing the second Mrs. Obadiah every possible kindness and spending plenty of money on her.

Our Old Man said he never heard a more convincing spirit than this one, although Mrs. Toober did all the talking for it, and Obadiah cried as if his heart would break and he promised the spirit he would do just as requested if it cost him the fifty thousand dollars he had saved up and for several months the second Mrs. Obadiah had a wonderful time.

Our Old Man said it would have gone on indefinitely but one day Mrs. Toober told one of the neighbors that he had directed her what to say at the seance and the neighbor told Obadiah and Obadiah shut down on his generosity to his second wife until she was no better off than the first one was.

Our Old Man said Obadiah wanted to fight him for interfering with his married life and the second Mrs. Obadiah hated him for advising her to marry Obadiah and on top of that Mrs. Toober persecuted him for years claiming he had promised her five dollars for the seance.

Our Old Man said it was remarkable the way his well-meant advice was always getting him into trouble.

Raze Rescue Mission

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — One of the city's most famous landmarks, the old Mel Trotter Rescue Mission, is being razed this week to make way for a 300-car parking ramp. The four-story structure — once a burlesque house — was converted in 1906 as a rescue mission.

Adenauer Snub to Russia Rouses Angry Opposition

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's flat rejection of any direct approach to Moscow on the reunification problem has caused an angry opposition storm in Bonn.

The 80-year-old Adenauer told International News Service in an interview that the German question must be settled on a Big Four level, and that Russia should discuss the problem on that basis.

He said any other course would be exploited by the Soviets to give the impression that West Germany was nibbling Soviet bait and about to make a secret deal to side with Russia.

Adenauer, a vigorous anti-Nazi and anti-Communist, said flatly, "I will not be lured into a trap. Let us face the issue. Today or tomorrow I may be gone. The Soviets are banking on that fact."

* * *

He added the Russians also hope France and Italy will swing to the left, making Germany a bloodless captive and putting the Soviet "war potential" on a footing with that of the United States.

REACTS FURIOUSLY

German Socialist opposition leader Erich Ollenhauer reacted furiously to this statement, charging Adenauer's rejection of direct negotiations with Moscow "the highest degree of neglect of the appreciation of the current international situation."

Adenauer is having plenty of domestic trouble besides his running battle with the Socialists. Some members of the Christian Social Union—the Bavarian wing of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union—criticize his plan for an 18-month conscription period.

Since the debunking of Stalin began in Moscow, it has been a fashionable cry in some party ranks in Germany to call for a "more imaginative" foreign policy, for less inflexibility in the matter of Adenauer's dealings with Moscow.

This is somewhat strange when contrasted with the shouts of protest not only from Italian and French Communists but from another big-name Italian Socialist, Pietro Nenni, at the belated Moscow revelations of Stalin's ruthless rule.

Despite what may be his own wish to escape some wrath from his own followers, Nenni's language in denouncing Nikita Khrushchev's disclosures in Moscow was acidulous.

NO FREEDOM INSURED

This is strong medicine when it comes from a man who has been the ally of the Italian Reds and who himself is a Stalin Prize winner.

Nenni said that Stalin's dictatorship over the party became evident during the 17th party congress in 1934.

But he adds that it was Khrushchev, present denouncer of Stalin, who actually moved the resolution approving Stalin's report at that congress.

JUNIOR EDITORS

OFF TO CAMP — 5
The Bus

Mothers and fathers are sorry to see them go, but know that the Junior Editors are going to have lots of fun. When they come back all will be healthy and tanned after plenty of fresh air, hiking, swimming and games.

Color this picture with your crayons, paste it down on cardboard and then cut out carefully. To make it stand up, fold the bottom two end panels under and the middle panel forward.

Cut the slits on every dotted line in the bus windows, and then slip the narrow end of the strip of passengers into the slit nearest the door working from the back. Weave it over the window spaces and under the narrow strips and the bus will be filled with children.

He Tells Police, 'There's a Lion in My Driveway'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "There's a lion blocking my driveway and I can't get to work," Walter Ekola complained to police.

• • •

A policeman went to Ekola's house and found 25-year-old John Shinners and his 9-month-old lion cub King waking from a sleep in the front seat of Shinners' car. The car was parked in Ekola's driveway.

Shinners explained he had lost his way to a Shrine circus. So, he said, he and King just bunked down to await daylight.

• • •

Shinners said he and his lion "live no place special" since the Los Angeles Animal Regulation Commission recently asked him to keep the cub out of the city.

The policemen led Shinners and King to the circus grounds. Ekola went to work.

Mill to Be Renovated

Negro Solon Fights Integration Cause

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Dawson (D-Ill), one of three Negro Democrats in the House, said today he will fight inclusion of an antisegregation amendment in the embattled $1,600,000,000 school construction bill.

* * *

As the House plunged into another day of debate over the big federal aid measure, House leaders said a final vote is unlikely before next Thursday. It will be Monday before preliminary voting starts.

Dawson said in an interview he will oppose a racial integration rider to be offered by Rep. Powell (D-NY), his Negro colleague, because "federal aid to education is needed now."

Inclusion of the Powell amendment will kill the bill, Dawson said, and added:

"I hate to see an issue (segregation) as vital as this used as a cat's-paw to kill the bill."

Democratic leaders were reported to be cracking the party whip in a determined effort to keep Powell's amendment out of the bill.

Misco Plant to Expand

MUSKEGON (AP) — Misco Precision Casting Co., has opened negotiations to locate at a Muskegon facility in order to be in full production by fall. Increased demands for its products—jet engine component parts — has bypassed plans to build a $1,000,000 plant in Muskegon Township. Misco already employs about 200 persons at a Muskegon location and operates a large plant at Whitehall.

Independent Voter Still Holds Balance of Power in Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan survey indicates that the independent voter controls one fourth of all Michigan ballots when he votes.

In a survey conducted last September on 635 adults from 23 Michigan counties, the University's Survey Research Center has concluded that Democratic preferences outnumber Republican preferences six to five.

But the independent voter, with 26 per cent of the eligible ballots, still controls the balance of power.

In answer to the question, "Generally speaking, in politics, do you usually think of yourself as a Republican, a Democrat, an independent, or what?", 37 per cent responded for the Democrats and 31 per cent for the Republicans.

Six per cent said they didn't know. This does not imply ignorance. Some were refusing to answer.

However, Prof. Angus Campbell, director of the Center, said that the findings of the Democrat majority is in no way a reliable forecast of the fall election. He pointed out that issues and candidates also determine largely a voter's decision.

* * *

In addition, he explained, an inclination toward one party or another is useless unless it becomes a vote at a polling place.

The survey indicated that the Michigan Negro is overwhelmingly a Democrat. Splitting the Negro portion of the sample, 76 per cent answered Democrat, 13 per cent independent and nine per cent Republican.

Of the whites, 32 per cent answered Democrat, 28 per cent independent and 34 per cent Republican.

Republican respondents dominated the lowest (up to $2,999) wage groups and the highest ($6,000 and up) wage groups, while Democrat respondents dominated the middle wage groups ($3,000-$5,999).

Education showed another wide difference between Democrats and Republicans. Of those who finished grade school, 43 per cent were Democrats, 27 per cent Republican; some high school: 37 per cent Democrats, 31 per cent Republican; completed high school 36 per cent Democrat, 32 per cent Republican; some college, 28 per cent Democrat, 38 per cent Republican; completed college: 13 per cent Democrat, 52 per cent Republican.

Independents tend to remain at about the same levels despite educational levels.

Both CIO and AFL families tended to be strongly Democratic. There was little difference between them. In families where at least one member belonged to the CIO 53 per cent were Democrat, while the percentages among AFL was 49.

Age was another factor where variations in party preference tended to be great.

The survey indicated that Democrats outnumbered Republicans in every ten-year age group until age 60. Independents, as in almost all gradings of age, salary, and education did not tend to fluctuate.

The survey supported the common belief that central Detroit is largely Democrat—58 per cent against 17 per cent Republican and 19 per cent independent. In the suburbs this tapered slightly to 46 per cent Democrat, 20 per cent Republican and 27 per cent independent.

Cities other than Detroit over 50,000 were split almost evenly between the three groupings.

Cities between 2,500 and 50,000 showed the greatest Republican strength—50 per cent against 19 per cent Democrat and 25 per cent independent. Small towns and open country showed 43 per cent Republican, 30 per cent independent and 21 per cent Democrat.

In the sample there were as many respondents from small towns and open country as there were from central Detroit.

Rural-Road Speed Averages 50 M.P.H.

WASHINGTON — According to the bureau of Public Roads, the average speed of motor vehicles on main rural highways where drivers were free to choose a desired speed set an all-time record of 50.7 miles an hour in 1955, an increase of seven tenths of a mile an hour over the 1954 figures.

Studies made by 33 states indicate that the average 1955 speeds for cars, trucks and buses were 52.1, 45.8, and 52.6 mph, respectively.

Some 57 per cent of the passenger cars exceeded 50 mph and 18 per cent traveled more than 60 mph. Twenty-seven per cent of the trucks and 63 per cent of the buses exceeded 50 mph.

4,752 Enroll at MSU for Summer Classes

EAST LANSING (AP)—Enrollment for Michigan State University's summer session is about 9 per cent higher this year than last, the university states.

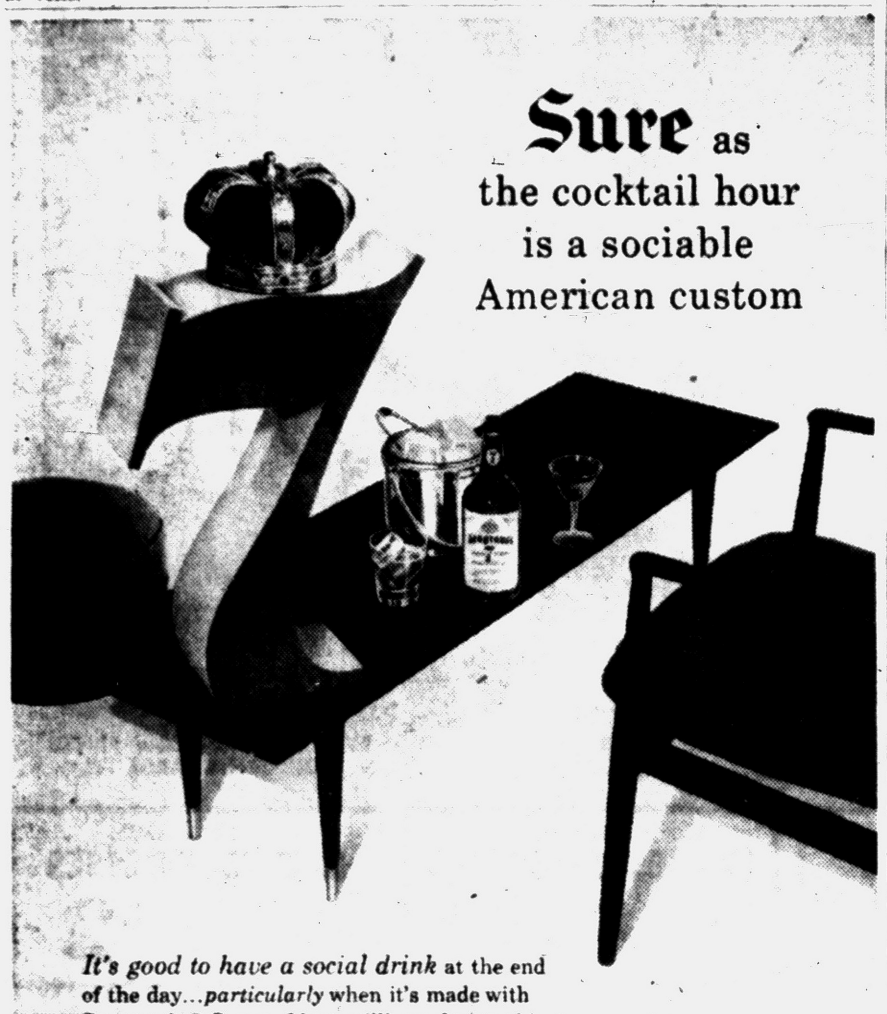

At the close of registration Wednesday, 4,752 students had registered for summer classes. Late registrations are expected to boost the figuure to 5,200 or 5,300.

The largest summer school enrollment was in 1947, when 5,288 students registered.

Returns to Tragedy

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins returned home from work yesterday and found her two children suffocated in a home freezer. Neighbors said Mrs. Jenkins had cleaned the freezer and left the lid up to air it out. The children, Sandra, 8, and Gregory, 6, apparently climbed in and one of them let the lid fall shut, police said.

There are 11,564 active licensed women pilots in the nation. Fourteen of them hold helicopter ratings.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR DIAMOND APPEAR
TWICE as Large . . .
TWICE as Brilliant!

REMOUNT your DIAMOND

"MIRROR-LIKE" SETTING

Read What a New York Paper Has to Say About This Discovery

Mirror-Like Gem Settings "Increase" Diamond Size

NEW YORK—A few small diamonds that look twice or three times their actual size when mounted in a piece of jewelry is becoming one of the biggest trends in the country, according to a designer here.

Stylists are making a one-quarter carat diamond, or several stones with that combined weight, seem as much as a full carat "with Mirrors," as a prominent designer describes it.

In his case, he explains, the mirrors are gem settings made of the brilliant white gold or platinum metals.

The jewelry "magic" works in the following manner. When the customer's budget is limited, your jeweler will work with a number of small diamonds generally brilliant cut, perhaps adding up to one-quarter or one-third carat.

Having mounted them in settings, he will often encircle the gems in highly polished engravings of the same white metal so that they, too, resemble diamonds.

In appearance, a ring, clip or earrings so designed seems studded with gems, and very costly. Only when held close to the eyes can the "illusion" be detected. Meanwhile, women are delighted with the trend of "reflected" luxury.

Remount your diamond along with 9 diamonds (total of 1/5 carat) for as little as $100.00 including all setting and Federal tax.

Here's the Secret

4 diamonds set to add brilliance to your own center diamond.

Or, use your diamond with 11 diamonds (total of 1/4 carat) for as little as $130 including all costs.

If you wish to trade in your diamond, Connolly's will allow the full price that it could be sold for today.

Among Parallel Group in State

City 7th in Phone Service With 86 Pct. Distribution

More than 86 per cent of all Pontiac households now have telephone service, according to a report released today by E. J. Novak, district commercial superintendent here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

• • •

Top city among those in the state with more than 50,000 population is Royal Oak, with 93 per cent of all households equipped with telephone service.

Next in line are Kalamazoo with 91; Jackson and Lansing with 90; Grand Rapids, 89; Flint, 88; Pontiac and Battle Creek, 86; Detroit and Saginaw, 84; and Bay City, 82.

Again this year, Evanston, Ill. leads all other cities of 50,000 population with 98 per cent of its households having a telephone. Several smaller Michigan cities like Birmingham and Midland, have similarly high telephone development.

Of the households in the entire Michigan Bell area, 87 per cent have telephones. Only one other Bell System company, the Southern New England Telephone Co., has a higher development—88 per cent.

Although 86 per cent of Pontiac's households have a telephone, Novak said there were more than 98 residence telephones for every 100 households.

The seeming discrepancy is a reflection of the growing number of homes with more than one telephone," he said. "The popularity of extension telephones has mushroomed since the company began offering them in a choice of eight colors."

Appoint School Head

DETROIT (AP)—Stuart Openlander, 44, has been appointed superintendent of schools in suburban Dearborn, coming from a similar post in the village of Wayne. Openlander succeeds Dr. Mark Scully, who resigned to become president of Southeastern Missouri State College. Openlander will receive $18,500 the first year of a three-year contract that provides $20,000 the third year.

Campaign by Airplane

PORT HURON (AP)—Robert J. McIntosh has dusted off his World War II air force pilot's license to hit an aerial campaign trail. McIntosh is seeking the Republican nomination to Congress from the Seventh District. He said renting a plane is cheaper than covering the six county district by automobile. McIntosh last flew in 1945 but had his license reinstated after a physical examination and some practice flights.

UP SHE GOES — Taking rapid form these days is Pontiac's second milestone in its Civic Center program — the $800,000 Public Safety Building. The structure is being constructed next to the City Hall and is expected to be ready by the fall of next year at the earliest. Work began on the building in late March. It will house, among other things, the police department, the fire chief and staff, and municipal courts. It is being financed from the city's capital improvement program.

U. S. Defends Pacific H-Bomb Blasts; Horrifying Effects Serve as Example

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The U. S. has told the U. N. Trusteeship Council that hydrogen bomb blasts in the Pacific have disclosed the "horrifying" effects of an atomic war.

The U. S. at the same time reiterated her right to continue such nuclear tests in the Pacific trust territory and refuted claims advanced primarily by India that the explosions are in violation of the U. N. charter.

Mason Sears, American representative in the council, pointed out that the U.S. accepted her trust agreement in 1947 "clearly predicated upon the fact that the islands were a strategic area in which nuclear tests had already been held and would be held again."

He added:

"When you come right down to it, does anyone suppose that the U. S. would have voluntarily transferred the islands to the trusteeship system if further nuclear tests were thereby to be prohibited?"

COURT RULE INSISTED

India insisted that the International Court rule on this point but the U. S. opposed this procedure.

Mason claimed in the council that there was no objection to the tests until "fall out" ashes in 1954 from the hydrogen bomb explosion in the Pacific injured natives of the Marshall Island group and some Japanese fishermen.

He added:

"The issue therefore is not the moral issue of a strategic trust territory. It is rather that these tests have dramatized the horrifying issue of what might happen to the world if an aggressor nation were to precipitate a nuclear war."

India referred only indirectly to the fact that Russia also is conducting nuclear tests, although within Soviet territory. The Indian representative said that such experimentation is "dangerous" wherever carried out. Presumably, he meant that the possibility of radioactive fall-out results from nuclear explosions anywhere.

RAPS RUSSIAN TESTS

Sears leveled oblique criticism at Russia's unreserved secrecy on all nuclear blasts conducted in the wastes of Siberia by drawing the council's attention to "another side" of the picture. He said:

"This is a recognition that the nuclear tests in the Pacific have been so extensively photographed and advertised that the whole world has now come to understand that a third world war might destroy the human race.

"In consequence, it might well be that the Pacific tests will go down in history as the time and the place that made future international war impossible.

"If so the Marshall Islands, without loss of life or important damage to more than five square miles of territory, will have shared in making one of the greatest contributions that have ever been made to the welfare of mankind."

Fund for the Republic Probe Date Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has set July 10 for the start of its long-planned probe of the Fund for the Republic.

• • •

The initial hearing, Chairman Walter (D-Pa) said, will deal with a fund-financed survey concerning "blacklisting" of persons in the entertainment industry for alleged Red activities.

Walter said John Cogley, director of the survey, has been subpoenaed to testify at the closed session.

• • •

Cogley's report said the blacklisting has become common practice in all parts of the entertainment industry except the legitimate theater.

The Fund for the Republic, a tax-exempt group, operates independently of the Ford Foundation, which established it with an initial grant of money.

Lifts 3,500-Pound Car to Free Injured Man

COLOMA (AP)—A husky 25-year-old farmer hoisted a 3,500-pound car that was pinning a man who had been tossed underneath after a highway accident Wednesday.

The farmer, Walter Johnson, braced himself against the side of a ditch and raised the tilted car from Edward Beard, 34, of Rt. 3, Coloma. Beard suffered a fractured leg.

Jackson Sets Fund Goal

JACKSON (AP)—A record $484,962 has been set for Jackson County's torch drive goal this fall. It tops by almost $51,000 the $434,000 raised in last year's drive.

Shivers Hits Dem Unit Rule as Source of Party Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas said yesterday if the nominees and platform of the Democratic National Convention are unacceptable to the South "anything can happen, and probably will."

In remarks prepared for a National Press Club luncheon, Shivers made a plea for states' rights and opposed third party movements as "undesirable."

* * *

He said there is a way out of the party's dilemma short of abject surrender by the South and that is restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule at the national convention.

Shivers, who bolted his party to help Dwight D. Eisenhower carry Texas in 1952, said a return to the two-thirds rule would restore the party to "a position of broad influence, representative strength and true moderation."

Prior to 1936, a Democratic presidential candidate could be nominated only by winning two-thirds of the delegate votes at the party's convention. Some Northern Democrats argued in those days that this gave the South "a veto" over contenders for the nomination.

Shivers said since the two-thirds rule was abandoned and the unit rule kept in force — whereby a state delegation majority casts the entire vote of that state — the Democratic party "has been breaking up into ideological splinters."

* * *

He said these rules should stand or fall together because the rules since 1936 have constituted "an open invitation to political manipulaters."

* * *

Shivers did not mention any of the Democratic presidential hopefuls, who include Texas favorite son Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Last month Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn defeated the Shivers forces for control of the Texas Democratic party organization.

Shivers may have had Johnson in mind, however, when he said there is a new political party in Texas which he called the "Moderates." He said they have "temporarily prevailed over the 'Conservatives' and the 'Liberals.'" He added he used the word "temporarily" because he had learned from experience that moderation in politics is most difficult to preserve.

Shivers said all like to think of themselves as moderate, but in politics the man in the middle of the road "is the man most likely to get run over."

* * *

In making a strong plea for preservation of states rights, Shivers described the Supreme Court decision against public school segregation as an "unwarranted invasion" of the powers reserved to the states under the 10th Amendment.

* * *

He said he was not attacking the court as an institution or advocating rebellion against its decisions, but he does advocate and exercise the "right of vigorous protest."

Win Cash Prize for the Answer to Puzzle No. 5!

Looking for a way to overcome that summer lethargy? The Press' new word game POT-O-GOLD is designed to perk you up — and give you a chance to win one of the weekly prizes which will be offered until Labor Day. It's fun. All you need is a pencil and a postcard. Everything else is below.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

That's all there is to it. Good luck!

OK Plans in Waterford Township for Junior High

Estimate Cost at $2 Million

School Board Chooses 1-Floor, 37-Classroom Building Design

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Plans for a two-million-dollar junior high school, approved in tentative form last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education, call for 37 classrooms, an auditorium that will double as a gymnasium and four special-study rooms.

The school, named John D. Pierce Junior High, will stand on the corner of Hatchery and Crescent Lake Roads.

Occupancy by the fall of 1958 is contemplated by the board, which met in special session last night. The school will house students of seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

A one-story building's plans were chosen from four schematic drawings of the proposed school, presented to the board by architect Eugene Cleland of the firm George D. Mason & Co.

The plan permits partial separation of grades, with the music, homemaking, fine arts and industrial arts rooms, along with the library and gymnasium, being used by all grades.

The gymnasium will serve as an auditorium and the cafeteria will be constructed so that it can be divided into three separate study halls.

A covered walk will lead to the bus loading platform. No other exterior or interior details were decided.

The board directed the architect to develop plans and specifications and it is expected they will be ready for bids in December.

The two-million dollars to build and equip the school was approved by the voters last February as part of a three and a half million dollar bond issue.

The balance will be used to purchase six sites for four elementary schools, a third junior high school, and a second senior high school, and to construct the four elementary buildings and the addition to the Jayno Adams elementary school.

The Board Building and Site Committee reported on several possible sites but no action was taken.

A special meeting has been set for July 5, when the sites will be reconsidered and the board will elect new officers for the coming year.

Napoleon's Time Recalled in Rochester Observance

ROCHESTER — When the First Congregational Church of Rochester was first organized, on July 1, 1827, John Quincy Adams was President and Napoleon Bonaparte had only been dead six years.

Thus were the members of Michigan's oldest Congregational church reminded on their observance of their 50th anniversary by their pastor, the Rev. C. O. Brown.

This Sunday the church that began in a log cabin and now is planning for a Christian future by building a new church, observes its 129th anniversary.

The church, now serving 634 members, will also receive a new class of members at this service.

Although all records are not in existence, a great part of the original documents are still in the possession of the church and in the care of the church historian, Mrs. John Kline.

References to the Woman's Fellowship appear as early as 1876, Sabbath or Church School—1859, and the choir and music program—1876.

The Rev. E. John Yuells, minister, will preach the anniversary sermon, "Throughout All Generations," and administer the sacrament of Holy Communion.

Service of worship during July and August will begin at 9:30 a.m. with church school for pre-nursery through third grade at the same time.

Twining Visits Red A-Plant

U.S. Aircraft Builder Chided for Bringing in Private Craft

MOSCOW (AP)—Gen. Nathan B. Twining visited an atomic power station today which feeds Moscow with a minute part of its electrical supply.

The U. S. Air Force chief was taken on a tour of the 500-kilowatt station which has become a showplace since it began operating in June, 1954.

Another aerial visitor to Moscow, U. S. plane equipment maker William P. Lear, was summoned to the American Embassy last night for a talk with U. S. Minister Walter Walmsley.

Lear declined to discuss what was said, but he remarked that he gathered that the embassy was concerned about his flying visit here.

The wealthy manufacturer arrived in Moscow three days ago in his Cessna 310 plane, which is fitted with equipment that NATO bars for export to Soviet countries.

Lear was the first American to fly a private plane into the Soviet Union. A Soviet trade association official has been shepherding him around Moscow since he arrived.

Lear said Soviet officials were amazed at the equipment he showed them.

About 18 million tourists visited Ontario in 1955.

Vacation Bible Schools Attract Children, Adults

Pontiac Press Photos

"The Life of Paul" is the subject of the study sessions at the Vacation Bible School being held at the Emmanuel Baptist Church. Discussing various Bible verses are (left to right) Jo Ann Wilson of Opdyke road, Reta Shafer of North Hilldale drive, John Best of Robinwood avenue, Golden Blount of Whittemore street and Harvey Keith of Kempf street, Drayton Plains. Groups use the wall map to trace St. Paul's journeys. Classes are being held for all ages from nursery school through adults.

Egypt Leads the World in Divorces

Wife Can Be Shed With Little Effort in Moslem Nation

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt leads the world in divorce cases. And no wonder. Moslem law requires only that a husband point a finger at his wife and shout, "I divorce you," three times.

* * *

If he says it only once the wife is divorced all the same. The difference comes in case of a reconciliation. A wife divorced thrice cannot return to her husband unless she marries and is divorced by another man. In case of one oath the wife can return to her husband by getting a new dowry.

There are four pages in today's Women's Section

A husband can divorce his wife in absentia. He may write her a letter sometime informing her of her new status. No court procedure is necessary.

* * *

A wife can also be divorced in advance and still remain legally married. This is called the conditional divorce. Suppose the husband does not want his wife to visit her neighbor. "If you visit Om Ahmed Farag," he warns, "you are divorced."

If a month later the wife visits Om Ahmed Farag she is automatically divorced.

The law cannot interfere in stopping a divorce but can exact alimony for the wife and children.

* * *

According to the national Egyptian census, half the marriages in Cairo end in divorce. The rate of divorce throughout Egypt is 35 per cent.

The census reports say two thirds of the divorces are a result of "hatred and disharmony." Polygamy ranks second and is responsible for 18 per cent.

* * *

The Ministry of Social Affairs has worked out a program to check divorce but this has to be approved first by the leading sheiks of Egypt. The program restricts polygamy except in cases of sterility or similar circumstances to be decided by court. It also advocates that divorces be obtained only in court. The government has drawn up a complete educational program to be studied in schools and universities on "how to build a successful marriage."

A wife can divorce her husband in Egypt only if it is agreed in the marriage contract that she may do so.

King and Queen of the Vacation Bible School at Five Points Community Church are Gary Roerink of Corwin court and Sandra Jackson of East Walton boulevard. They were crowned by the Rev. Gordon Lindsay, pastor, for bringing the most new members to Sunday School during the last six weeks.

Members of the Vacation Bible School at the First Church of God, the children are preparing puppets for the entertainment of their parents this evening. Ike, Mamie Mark 40th Anniversary

Eisenhowers Will Celebrate Sunday at Gettysburg

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Forty years ago this weekend, a visiting British minister stood in the living room of a Denver town house to unite a blue-eyed girl with bangs to a nervous second lieutenant who refused to sit down for fear of creasing his stiff white uniform.

* * *

On Sunday President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary in the living room of their Pennsylvania farmhouse.

First Lady Mamie, content merely to have her husband home again from Walter Reed Hospital, has no idea what she will wear for the happy occasion.

Suffice it to say, however, that it will not be the Chantilly lace gown, now in the Smithsonian Institution, which Denver Society columnists mistakenly described in 1916 as "a lingerie gown of cream net with trimming of silk lace."

* * *

Forty years ago, the wedding of Mamie Doud and Ike Eisenhower came as such a surprise to their friends that Denver newspapers commented on the "unannounced engagement."

NO ATTENDANTS

Only close relatives of the couple occupied the larkspur and gladioli-banked parlor to witness the now historic event. There were no attendants, and the newlyweds departed immediately afterward for an auto trip through Colorado before embarking on their new life together at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

* * *

Although friends had expected a wedding in the fall, the paper confided, "war excitement" along the Mexican border had forced a speed-up so that the youthful lieutenant could "have his bride at his side in these critical times."

Two World Wars and one cold war later, Ike will again have Mamie at his side this weekend in Gettysburg.

* * *

In fact, Mamie has been at his side so constantly since his operation for ileitis that she has had no time to shop for an anniversary gift for her man. Ike, naturally, faces the same dilemma.

DIAMONDS AND ANDIRONS

Two years ago, the President gave Mamie a diamond pendant on a chain, and for their 39th anniversary—thoughts practically centered on reconstruction of their Gettysburgh dreamhouse—he gave her andirons for the farm.

* * *

At the wedding ceremony on July 1, 1916, Ike little thought as the visiting Englishman read the nuptial vows, that in subsequent years he would help to rescue Britain and be given life tenancy of one of the most historic villas there.

The newspaper clipping reports that the Rev. William Williamson of Leichester, England, performed the ceremony because he was "a close friend of the bride's parents."

The truth, according to Mamie's secretary, Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree, is more prosaic, actually, the visiting pastor of St. Stephen Presbyterian Church in England was simply the summer replacement for Mamie's own minister.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Williamson proved an appropriate choice, however, inasmuch as he was also the chaplain of three base hospitals in Britain.

Sun May Bring Out Brown Spots

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me what to do about getting rid of the brown spots on my hands and what causes them? Once, a long time ago, you wrote that the habit of eating two or three egg yolks a day would remedy this condition. What about it?"

A. Actually, there is no scientific background for this contention as far as I know. I have known several women who felt that this was the reason for the disappearance of brown spots on their hands.

These spots often appear after exposure to direct sunlight. Many women have them at the end of a summer of gardening or outdoor life of some sort.

I suggest that you cover your arms and wear gloves whenever feasible when in the sun. Get your outdoor life in the early morning or late afternoon hours.

* * *

Q. "I am bothered quite often with bad breath and a stale taste in my mouth. I do not drink or smoke. My dentist says it is not from my teeth and I wonder what it could come from. Have you any ideas? My fiance is returning from Europe this summer and naturally this is important to me."

A. Bad breath can also come from indigestion or diseased sinuses or tonsils or adenoids. Have you investigated these probabilities? Also have you tried any of the comparatively new products on the market which are supposed to help?

* * *

A. "Am I too tall to wear high heels? I am 5 feet, 8 inches tall."

A. Let me answer you with a note from a masculine reader:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: Here is one man who would just as soon see women in low heels. I think that there are as many women who are awkward in high heels as there are women who waddle in low heels, in fact more. But I suppose this word of comfort won't mean a thing to the ladies."

I think you should wear high heels whenever you want to. If you feel self-conscious when you are taller than a date, or if your date feels so, wear low heels.

There are many, many attractive low-heeled shoes available today. They are not as they used to be. I, also, think that most women are more graceful in low heels.

* * *

Q. "I am 14 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 124 pounds. My bust measures 36, waist 28 and hips 36 inches. I know I am terribly overweight. Please tell me how much, because I am going to begin just starving soon if you can't help me."

A. You are only about seven pounds overweight and if you have a large frame, maybe not that much. Do not make the mistake of faddish dieting. You will injure your health and ruin your looks if you do.

Just cut out in-between snacks which have a high calorie count. Instead eat fresh fruit in between meals. Eat a well-balanced diet but leave off "seconds" and "thirds" for a while.

* * *

If you would like my leaflet "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bert Weddle, social relations chairman, and her committee.

Fine-boned, tiny brides should follow the example of this famous bride—no ruffles, no line-breakers and the accent on the silhouette.

Tiny women will look chic rather than a second edition schoolgirl, if they stay away from ruffles and bows. The granddaughter of Toscanni wore this simple wedding gown and had the black and white print in her trousseau.

Good Cake, Small Cost for Griffens

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In depression days the idea was to eat as cheaply as possible. But even cake can be made economically, if necessary.

Mrs. Raymond A. Griffen's mother-in-law used this cake recipe and handed it on to her son's wife. It is a prime favorite in the Griffen household.

Mrs. Griffen enjoys doing things with her two young daughters. The whole family rides bicycles together. They like to entertain.

Mrs. Griffen likes to cook, she likes to do interior decorating. She likes bowling and working with growing things.

POOR MAN'S CAKE
By Mrs. Raymond A. Griffen

1 box seedless raisins
3½ cups water
2 cups sugar
2 heaping tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2¼ cups sifted flour
1 cup nuts

Boil raisins and water together about 45 minutes. There should be 2 cups of liquid left after straining the raisins out. Add the rest of the ingredients and mix thoroughly. Add the raisins and nuts last. If desired, dates may be used.

Pour into a greased 8x8 pan or a tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees at least 1 hour. This is a moist cake like fruit cake. It needs no frosting.

These 'kitchen-rack cuties' are so easily and quickly made. Just applique the fruit, add a few simple embroidery stitches, and presto—a set of appealing towels. (An ideal bazaar donation!)

Pattern 2526 contains hot-iron transfer for 6 designs—each about 6" x 6"; color chart; stitch illustrations; full directions.

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Now available—the colorful 1956 Needlework Album containing dozens of lovely designs from which to choose more patterns in crochet, embroidery and knit — plus 3 gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25c a copy!

Old Prejudice Must Be Destroyed

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. R.'s father headed the high school's science department in the town where she grew up.

Whenever as a child she experienced any hurt or discouragement at school, she'd think comfortingly, "Anyway, no kid dares ever be mean to Daddy. Not even teachers dare be mean to Daddy."

Last Saturday was her 8-year-old son's birthday. Among other gifts, Will received a microscope from his parents and a baseball mitt from an uncle.

His mother, who had bought the finest equipment available to go with the microscope, eagerly opened his box of glass specimen slides. "This feather specimen will look just like a fern," she was saying when looking up, she saw that Will had left her.

* * *

Out in the hall he was standing before the mirror, making a catcher's reaching motions. Rhythmically, with little grunts of pleasure, he was smacking the fist of one hand into the mitted palm of the other.

REJECTED CHILD

Watching him, Mrs. R. rejected her child, just as you and I have when our youngsters have demonstrated in some way that they're not going to give us some personality feature we want.

* * *

At these moments, we like to imagine that we are merely "disappointed" in the child who gives us an interest in baseball instead of biology; a snub nose instead of an aquiline one; shyness instead of self-confidence.

The fact is, we're dishonest. Our attitude represents rejection just as dropping a glove that doesn't fit us back on the counter is rejection.

If we're not brave enough to realize that we have dropped the child because he doesn't fit our prejudiced demand, we may never discover what our prejudice is, let alone how strongly it governs us.

* * *

For example, the prejudice in Mrs. R. that wants to make Will into a duplicate of her father affects her marriage as well as her motherhood. Because her father's academic achievement meant comforting prestige to her as a little girl, she respects no other kind.

This has been hard on her husband, a capable business executive. Due to the contempt she feels for his achievements, he has long since stopped asking her for understanding of his problems.

* * *

To know what an enemy this childish prejudice has been to her is pretty important to Mrs. R.

It's always sensible to look squarely at any rejecting feeling we have toward a child. Always, its kernel is prejudice—some rigid and unreasonable value we have acquired as a child.

Until we can locate it and destroy it, it can continue to make us and our families miserable because they do not give us what prejudice says they should.

Baxter-Leach Rite Read

Nadine Leach became the bride of John E. Baxter Saturday afternoon in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Franklin McAllister of Bloomfield, Ind., at the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. He was assisted by the Rev. Edmund Watkins.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leach of Nelson street and John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Baxter of Third avenue.

A ballerina-length gown with a bodice of lace over satin and a nylon tulle skirt was worn by the bride. The bodice was fashioned with a V neckline and long sleeves that ended in points at the wrists.

* * *

Mrs. Arthur Buffington served as matron of honor. Darlene Nichols and Mrs. Jack Cook were Nadine's other attendants.

For the honeymoon trip to Canada and northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Baxter changed to a navy blue suit with white accessories and the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will make their home on Third avenue on their return.

Ladies Aid Society Conducts Meeting

Twenty-six members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Percy Blynn of Lyle drive. Cohostesses were Mrs. Park Wagg, Mrs. Foster Berdan and Mrs. Lottie Waldon.

Mrs. Clarence Failing gave the devotional topic, "The Eight Beatitudes." Mrs. Guy Caswell presided, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Howard Hall.

Guests attending were Mrs. Maude Marlott and Michael Glenn Edgar. Mrs. Fred Johnston invited members to her home on Sarasota avenue for the July meeting.

Make Chili Mild, but Pass Seasoning

Go easy on the chili powder! Remember that some people like chili hot, some like it mild, just like music.

So — season moderately during cooking and leave the final seasoning to each person by passing a shaker of chili powder.

Skillful Budgeting Means Fulfilling of More Wants

WASHINGTON (INS)—The mark of your skill as a "budgeteer" depends on how small a difference there is between what you want and what you can get.

* * *

That's the opinion of Dr. Mabel A. Rollins of the New York State College of Home Economics, Cornell University.

"Many, many choices are presented to each family in the United States," she said, "and the extent to which each family arrives at a satisfactory life for itself depends on their skill in making these choices.

"We have choices of spending money more greatly in proportion to time in some cases," continued Mrs. Rollins, who headed the "family economics-home management" division of the 1956 American Home Economics Association meeting which ends today.

* * *

"We have choices that involve use of particular skills and knowledges. We know there is a gap between what we work to attain and what we can accomplish. Probably the best criterion for home management is the skill with which we narrow this gap."

NO GENERAL BUDGET

Dr. Rollins said there is no such thing as a general budget which families of the same income could follow because interests, individuals, values and prices around the country all differ.

* * *

"This all sounds rather general," she said when asked about budget-making. "There was a time when we though we could work out specific budgets for large groups of people.

"Today home economists are working more closely with the families they advise and we have to live with the results."

The first step towards brainy budgeting, she said, is to "think of the way we want to live. We can look at what we do and it seems, and may well be, a reasonable pattern, but it might not seem reasonable to others. That's unimportant because it's our life.

* * *

"The important thing is to know clearly why we're doing it and if we are willing to live with the consequences.

RECORDS NEEDED

"You must know what's important to you. Records are necessary because some knowledge of what you did in the past is a first stepping stone to what you'll do in the future.

"Habits are usually well set and a good knowledge of your own pattern is a jumping-off point, as well as perhaps a start toward changing it.

"The next step is to see what resources you have in the particular situation—places where you can buy inexpensively, for instance. Even if you don't plan to buy at the lowest price, the information is useful. Then assess what you will do in the situation.

"Then, keeping prior obligations in mind, make a plan as to how you are going to allocate your money, knowing full well that you'll make adjustments in time."

Modest maidens hail this year's swing to the more modest swimsuit. You get more suit for your money in many styles now in the market.

Women Need Financial Know-How

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is a story about a famous multimillionaire who, while playing bridge with friends, dropped a dime from his pocket.

* * *

He looked and looked for it, taking time from the game, because it had rolled somewhere and wasn't in sight.

"Oh, forget it," his friends said, while he searched under the sofa. "You have plenty more where that came from."

"No," the rich man said, "I won't forget it. My fortune was built on a dime. I'm always afraid the dime I neglect might be the one my fortune was founded on!"

* * *

Many working women could learn a lesson from that. We work so hard to make our money, but then we sometimes don't take very good care of it.

LITTLE THOUGHT

The housewife who has a money-making home project, the mother who has a part-time job, the career woman with a full-time career — they give a great deal of thought to making more money, but very little thought to making more of the money they have.

* * *

Budgets sound dreary and time-consuming, but they needn't be.

There are good, up - to - date methods of keeping track of your money, which are easy — and like finding extra money growing on trees.

Furthermore, most women don't know as much as they should about the different ways of investing money.

For years and years, we were conditioned to think of it as man's business. It was considered downright cute not to know a thing about either the stock market or banking procedures.

But that's old hat now. The smart woman makes it her business to handle her money well, whether it's a lot or a little.

If you'd like to learn more about this subject, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of good books on the subject of Women and Money.

Barge Blows Up; 2 Hospitalized

Crewmen Flung in Bay, Burned by Oil Blast at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An oil barge blew up last night, hurling two crew men into the water and spreading a fierce fire along a pier.

Two fire boats and dozens of fire department pieces quickly controlled the dangerous blaze on the San Francisco waterfront at Mariposa Street.

* * *

"It blew up in three quick blasts," said John de Haan, 49, crewman on the Navy oiler Kern, anchored nearby.

He said the Tidewater Associated Oil Co. barge was unloading fuel oil.

"A man was blown off the barge by the blast, and I pulled him out of the water," he said. He was Alfred Johnson."

* * *

Stewart Ford, ambulance attendant, said Johnson was taken to San Francisco Hospital with first, second and third degree burns on the face.

Fred Witter, 50, also pulled from the water, was taken to the hospital with severe burns.

The blast shot flames 400 feet into the air and the fire lashed through windows of the Triple A Machine Shop on the shore end of the pier.

About 75 men working on the machine shop's night shift fled safely.

* * *

"I heard it like thunder — bo-o-om!" said Rubin Martinez, 30, sheet metal foreman. "We saw flames coming through the windows, and we ran out."

Two Navy ammunition ships moored nearby were moved while firemen fought the blaze.

Shortest Railroad in State Goes No Place in Circles

FAIRVIEW (AP)—A private railroad to no place runs around in circles near this Oscoda County village.

It was planned that way by E. Carrington Eddy, who organized, laid out and operates his own Pinconning and Blind River Railroad.

The P. & B. R. winds around a little more than a mile of 16 gauge track. The engine is a 30 horsepower scale model diesel that pulls two boxcars around wooded curves, over a 14-foot trestle and through a pass cut in a sand hill.

FOLLOWS GRANDFATHER

Following the steps of his timber baron grandfather, a partner in the pioneer Eddy Bros. Lumber Co., Eddy cuts logs on his land, loads them aboard the train and hauls them to his sawmill.

The cut lumber then is loaded back on the train and taken to a piling area for storage.

Eddy has been working on the railroad three years and says it will take another year to complete. He plans to lay another 7,000 feet of track which would make a 14,000-foot loop around his property. Eddy also wants to add a tunnel and depot.

Guests of Eddy and his wife are likely to be treated to a ride on the tiny train, which clacks along at a 15 mile an hour pace. Stations along the way are named for relatives, friends or descriptive landmarks — Jenner, Skull, Snowshoe, Golden, Cross Cut, Pines

* * *

Occasionally Eddy invites Boy Scouts or similar groups to see his pet hobby in operation. And when he isn't running his own railroad, Eddy is likely to be found on railroading junkets with other fans who seek out narrow gauge lines to travel.

India has 24 different languages in common use.

And They Can Hurt

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma City mailman John Derschon always has been wary of dogs on his route. But it was no dog that caused him to take sick leave while a painfully pinched leg heals. He was nipped by a pet goose.

Sweden's purchases from the United States last year rose 40 per cent above the 1954 figure and exports to the United States gained by about 14 per cent.

Tattooing Is Solution for Stray Animals

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore County Humane Society is acquiring a tattooing outfit as a means of solving the stray dog and cat problem.

A tattoo of a letter and number will be applied indelibly in the animal's ear, and the number will be filed at the county shelter as a permanent record. In this way, the society hopes to reduce the load of unidentifiable animals on its hands. So far this year the society has received more than 7,000 dogs and cats.

Local anaesthesia will be applied before the tattoo goes on.

Work Before Play as Girl Scouts Erect Tent City

GOOD JOB, HUH? — Cathy Kummer of Sheboygan, Wisconsin gives a few extra whacks to her tent stake. Strong winds Thursday made tent pitching a challenging job for the thousands of girls who became the first citizens of tent city.

Pontiac Press Photos

REGISTRATION TIME — Patrols check in with their camp leaders immediately after arriving at the Highland camp area. These girls who were among the first to arrive Thursday come from Gem Area, Idaho.

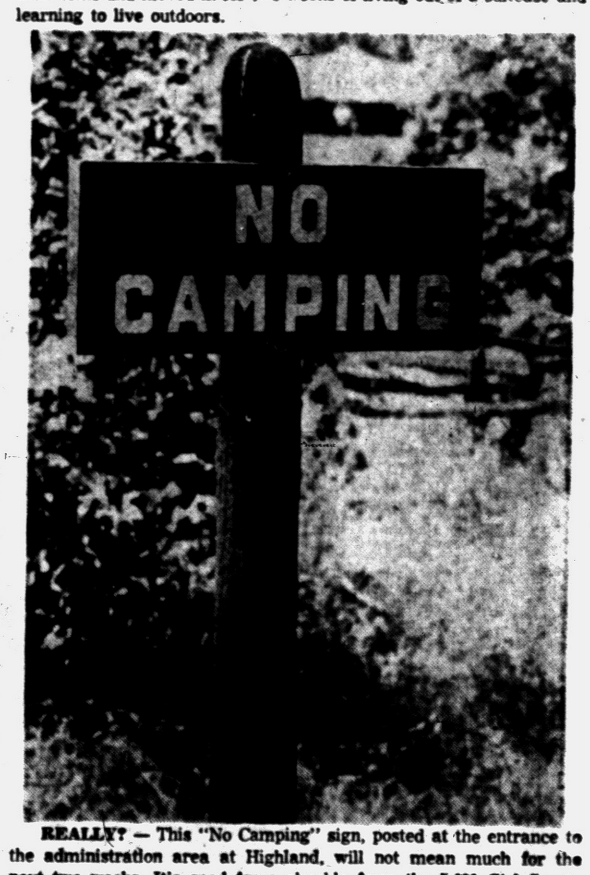

TOOTHBRUSH TIME — Judy Richter from Hammond, Ind. gets ready for a little freshening up, after her arrival at Girl Scout Roundup yesterday morning. After a little brushing up, the girls put up their tents and moved in for two weeks of living out of a suitcase and learning to live outdoors.

PACK HORSE — Beth Meyer of Evanston, Illinois tried to do the work of two girls. Her pack basket on her back tipped over, and she lost half of the items she was carrying. Oh, well, it's all part of the fun.

THE COMMUTER GROUP — Four local Girl Scout volunteers look over the Roundup area where they will be working during the next two weeks. Senior Scouts Valerie LaPiner and Judy Abersole of Westacres (left) and Mrs. E. J. Lally Jr., 6123 Andersonville road (center) watch as Mrs. Evelyn Copeland, Executive Director of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, points out an interesting feature of the administration area.

REALLY? — This "No Camping" sign, posted at the entrance to the administration area at Highland, will not mean much for the next two weeks. It's good for a chuckle from the 5,000 Girl Scouts as they pass it on their way into the Roundup campsite.

THERE'S WORK AHEAD — Smiling in anticipation of the fun they're to have, these Roundup campers hike up the hill to their campsite. Cameras, extra clothing, personal belongings and swap items are stowed in their hand luggage. Once at their destination the girls set up their tents and settled in for a two-week stay.

Republicans to Set Up Farm Campaign Headquarters in Chicago

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Republican national committee is about to spring a surprise on rival Democrats by opening the largest farm belt campaign office in history in Chicago.

• • •

Big time cattle rancher Dan Thornton, former Colorado governor and long-time personal friend of President Eisenhower has been asked to head up the precedent-breaking undertaking to woo the farm vote.

If Thornton accepts—and he has indicated that he will—he will direct a large staff of farm experts who will consult with agricultural groups and blanket the rural areas with top-flight speakers on the administration program.

Ike himself will be under heavy pressure to make two or more farm speeches in the bread-basket of America. Such administration stalwarts as Sen. George Bender of Ohio, Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana and Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois are facing a fight for their political lives.

SPEECH AT DES MOINES?

Des Moines, always a logical spot for a farm speech in a presidential election year, is under consideration for an Eisenhower speech. Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper faces a re-election battle in Iowa but is heavily favored.

Democratic Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas, who will be in Washington this week, has already let it be known that he would like Ike to make a farm speech in the Lone Star State, where Shivers bolted to Eisenhower four years ago.

Republican leaders are frankly jubilant at the secret move to set up agriculture campaign headquarters in the heart of the Middle West, instead of the industrial East which some farmers instinctively distrust.

SOIL BANK LURE

The officials are convinced that with congressional approval of Ike's pet soil bank plan, they have a "highly attractive package" to sell American farmers.

A White House official pointed out that foreign exports of agricultural products have risen 12 per cent this year over last, on a quantity basis. Except for cotton, in fact, farm exports in fiscal 1956 have totaled the highest in thirty years.

Within the last three or four months, the farm parity ratio has risen from 80 to 85 per cent, and hogs which sold for as low as $10 per hundredweight last winter have recently been bringing $17 to $18.

Representatives of the Republican committee will stress to farm groups that Ike's veto of the fixed parity farm bill saved them from mounting surpluses which deflate the natural farm market.

The administration move to increase the current price of wheat and corn should prove a temporary stop-gap until the soil bank begins to pay off to cooperating farmers after the first of the year.

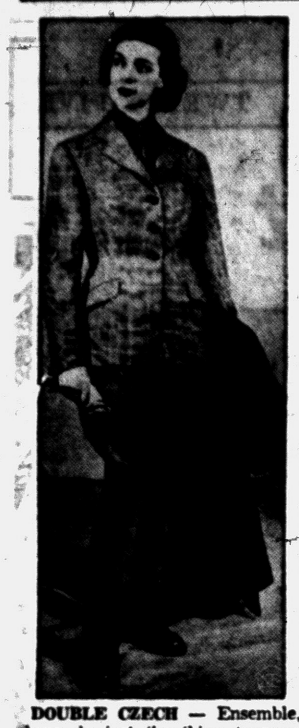

A top official said no attempt will be made to minimize the "hard times" endured last winter by farmers, but that emphasis will be laid on administration drives to reduce surpluses and give the farmer his fair share of the national income by producing a balance between farm prices and the city market.

Thornton, frequently mentioned as a possible successor to former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay until the nomination of White House assistant Fred Seaton, would add considerable prestige to the Chicago farm operation.

Like Ike a Texan by birth, he is an affable and shrewd politician with a big popular following. Owner of two vast Hereford cattle ranches in Arizona and Colorado, he declined to run for a third term as governor.

• • •

Thornton, a frequent golfing partner of Ike's, has apparently done excellent spade work for the Republicans in Colorado. Only last week, Democratic Gov. Ed Johnson predicted that if Eisenhower again heads the ticket, that state will fall to the GOP.

Feeding Unit Meeting Set by Red Cross

A meeting of the mass feeding committee for Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross has been called for 3 p.m. Monday at the chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd., by Sydney J. Winstanley, chairman.

According to Winstanley, all superintendents of schools in the county have been contacted in an effort to secure permission to use the schools for food distribution in the event of natural disaster.

Results of this recent questionnaire, routing for dispersal of food, and appointment of additional committee members will be discussed at the meeting.

Tipsters' New Pep Up: 'Leap Year' Drinks

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Arthur Flynn, tap-room proprietor, is featuring two "Leap Year" cocktails which he says are unbeatable for getting the job done.

A gin-and-orange juice concoction is advertised as making a girl "irresistible." A Scotch and vermouth on ice, says Flynn, will render a fellow "immovable."

Thus far, no fellow and girl have come in at the same time to try their respectively recommended cocktails.

Three Injured in Train Crash

Two Diesel Engines Smashed, Ten Autos Damaged

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — Three trainmen were injured, two diesel engines smashed and 10 cars damaged as a southbound Chesapeake & Ohio freight crashed headon into a work train near White Cloud yesterday.

* * *

The injured, taken to Gerber Memorial Hospital at Freemont, were identified as Alfred McClure of Marne, freight train engineer; Cecil Pierson, flagman, and Ward Butterfield, head brakeman.

None was believed seriously injured.

Eighteen railroad workmen aboard the work train had debarked only a short time before the crash to work along the tracks.

Clyde Hoover, 50, of Grand Rapids, work train engineer, said his four-car train had stopped a short while before he saw the southbound freight round a curve five miles northeast of White Cloud and about 35 miles north of Grand Rapids.

Hoover said he and two crewmen leaped to safety.

* * *

Six cars of the 19-car freight were wrecked and one derailed. Three cars of the work train were damaged.

River Rouge Asks to Keep Fire Engine

LANSING (AP)—Mayor M. Warren Duncan of River Rouge begged the state not to take back its fire truck from the city—not for a year, anyway.

* * *

The truck is badly needed, and besides the city just spent $4,000 rehabilitating and outfitting it, he told the state administrative board Thursday.

"I beg you to let us keep it another year," Duncan said.

The board, despite some show of reluctance on the part of Gov. Williams and state treasurer Sanford Brown, agreed for the time being not to enforce its demand for the vehicle's return.

The state loaned the truck to the city as a civil defense precaution during World War II.

* * *

Now the state wants it back for the fish hatchery that gave it up. The hatchery is at Harrietta, west of Cadillac.

Youths Complete Half of Motorcycle Tour

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Two Benton Harbor youths today started the second half of their 10,000 motorcycle tour of the West.

Duane Rock, 17, and Bob Morrow, 19, reported from Corvallis, Ore., yesterday that they had covered 5,000 miles since they left Benton Harbor June 9.

They've been through St. Louis, Tulsa, Houston and traveled down into Mexico and up the West Coast via the Painted Desert, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Now they'll head into Canada and then east toward Michigan. They expect to be home around mid-July.

* * *

Rock and Morrow had $375 apiece when they left home and reported from Corvallis that expenses have run about $120 apiece through the first half of the trip.

Hal Boyle Says:

Movie Comeback Frightens Rita Hayworth

TOBAGO, B.W.I. (AP) — Can you imagine Rita Hayworth suffering from stage fright?

* * *

Well, you don't have to imagine it. It's true.

The sultry redhead, hitting the comeback trail after nearly a three-year absence from the screen, said she felt very nervous her first few days before the camera.

* * *

"I actually had stage fright for about a week—and this after making about 80 or 90 pictures," she said.

"It seemed like a new career, as if I were starting all over again."

* * *

Rita hasn't been exactly idle during her long layoff. During that period she shed crooner Dick Haymes, her fourth husband, after sticking by him during a government effort to deport him. She also engaged in a feud with her studio, Columbia Pictures, and lost a $75,000 breach of contract suit against it.

A $150,000 countersuit brought by the studio against her is in abeyance pending the completion of the two remaining pictures under her contract.

* * *

Miss Hayworth's comeback vehicle is a $2,500,000 earthy film called "Fire Down Below," co-starring Bob Mitchum and Jack Lemmon. Some of the scenes are being shot here on Tobago, an island off Trinidad.

Life on location, even for a glamorous actress, is mostly hard work and little play. Over a steak dinner on the veranda of the small hotel at which she is staying, Rita said:

"I've been out only two evenings in the last six weeks. About the only relaxation I've had is an occasional swim."

* * *

Rita, who has seen four marriages go on the rocks, indicated she was more interested in work right now than romance.

"I don't really know whether I'm an actress or not," she said. "But it's the only career I ever wanted. It's the only one I'm interested in now."

"I'd like to do a comedy for a change—something really crazy. I haven't thought much about television as yet. But something may come up."

* * *

About 9:30 Rita began yawning and left for bed, explaining she had a 4:30 a.m. call. She has been working a 12-hour day.

The next morning cameramen were shooting one take over and over again. Rita went through the routines without even a frown.

Asked what she enjoyed most about acting, Rita said:

You'll Find Delinquents Among Russians, Too

By EARL WILSON

MOSCOW—There are juvenile delinquents here in Russia who consider it very smart-alecky to call Gorki Street "Broadway."

They say their greetings to each other in an English or American "hello" instead of the Russian way.

It's not that they're pro-American or anti-Communist. They're just trying to be "advanced" and "individualistic"—and they get into trouble with their parents. But for the crowd that's misbehaving like that, you'll find thousands of others who very dutifully train for the Russian athletic program—girls included.

RUSSIAN TEENAGERS AND COACH

Out at Dynamo Athletic Stadium I found several 13 or 14 year-old girls taking coaching in track athletics. They had a good-looking blond male coach to whom they were devoted.

I asked if they'd ever heard of any of our American athletic heroes . . . Marciano, Joe DiMaggio or Mickey Mantle?

They hadn't. But the interpreter knew about "beizbol"—just that "is not very spread here."

The little girls seemed quite happy learning how to run and jump and they surely were healthy, clean and scrubbed in appearance. They could be little girls in any American city.

But that's what happens nowadays. Somehow the Russians got hold of "Snow White" some years back and gave Russian words to the Walt Disney classic.

A friend of mine tells me you would have a hard time convincing a Russian that "Snow White" did not originate in Russia and get stolen by the Americans.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Marlon Brando told his agent: "No more musicals!" . . . Elvis Presley will be coaxed into white tie and tails for Steve Allen's Sunday TV'er . . . Charles Laughton will direct and act in "Major Barbara" on B'way in the fall . . . Lana Turner will sponsor a beauty parlor in Acapulco . . . Susan Hayward's next may be att'y Eaton Chalkey.

Al Hibbler, the blind singer, will get 10G's for singing the title tune in the film, "Nightfall" . . . Here's a switch: Some press agents now guarantee to get clients mentioned in a scandal magazine.

Earl's Pearls . . .

As someone once said: "Pray as though no work could help, and work as though no prayer could help."—J. O. Jewett.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Noro Morales claims he watched a rock 'n' roll singer who got stage fright and couldn't shake.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A cocktail party's where friends get together to take their enemies apart."—Martha Kay. That's earl, brother.

Schoolteachers Chide Parents

Drinking, Profanity and Cheating Top Misdeeds of Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — Schoolteachers replying to a nationwide survey let fly at parents today as mostly to blame for a list of student misdeeds ranging from drinking to profanity, cheating and impudence.

* * *

The teachers, quizzed by the National Education Assn., said they believed student drinking had "definitely increased" in the past 10 years, along with classroom insolence and failure to carry out assignments.

Almost all of them, however, made it clear they think most American children are all right. A trifle over 5 per cent said their students this past year were "often" or "almost always" difficult to handle. The rest said they were either "exceptionally" or "reasonably" well behaved.

More than 90 per cent said conditions are not so bad as portrayed by press, movies and radio.

* * *

It was when they came to reasons for such misbehavior as they found that the teachers tore into parents.

Among 17 reasons which the NEA asked them to rank in importance, the largest percentages gave first place to these three: irresponsible parents, unsatisfactory home conditions (low income, broken families, etc.) and lack of supervision because mother working.

Much smaller percentages blamed television and movies, automobiles, undesirable hangouts near school and lack of teacher authority to punish offenders.

* * *

More important than any of these, in the teachers' opinion, were lack of special classes for retarded children and overcrowding of schoolrooms in general. Replies indicated that misbehavior is likely to double when a class goes from 30 to 40.

Seek Ham Operators to Help Over Holiday

Amateur radio operators and holders of advanced first aid certificates have been asked by the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, to aid the chapter in the holiday highway program over July 4.

Chairman of first aid, Ralph Forman, said the need for additional volunteers is due to the fact that 31 first aid instrutcors are now in training at Pontiac General Hospital to aid the emergency room in the event of national disaster.

Formerly, the patrol cars were manned entirely by instructors, Forman said.

The holiday highway patrol will be on duty from 4 to 10 p.m. on July 3 and 4 to encourage safe driving, clear up traffic congestion and offer first aid in case of accidents, Forman added.

Hollywood Headlines

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) —The new Elia Kazan picture, "A Face in the Crowd," is an indictment against TV that, Elia tells me, will out-huckster "The Hucksters" and out-speed "What Makes Sammy Run" in the expose field.

Andy Griffith, the lanky star of "No Time for Sergeants" on Broadway, gets the Kazan treatment in this from the man who brought fame to Marlon Brando, James Dean, Eva Marie Saint and others.

"Face in the Crowd" is from a short story by Budd Schulberg, a top debunker. Andy plays a hillbilly singer who soars to TV fame on his wholesome appeal until he gets the big head.

There's real trouble facing David Selznick if he puts the autobiography of the Duchess of Windsor on the screen. He won't be allowed to show the film in England, or any of the British possessions. That would cut down the revenue considerably.

The Duke of Windsor is said to be largely influenced by England's displeasure at having some of the royal secrets shown to the world.

One of the few times British royalty has been the subject of a movie was when Irene Dunne made "Mudlark," and she was given the cooperation of the royal family, who thoroughly approved of the way she pictured Queen Victoria.

LUCKY LAMOUR

One of the most coveted night spots in New York, the Versailles, goes to Dorothy Lamour, who opens there Nov. 7 for a long run.

But don't think my girl Dottie is going to be idle until then. She has many dates including the provincial exposition at Quebec, the Frankie Laine TV show out of New York, and the Lake Club in Springfield, Ill.

Dottie looked so good on the Bob Hope TV show that she's had TV offers galore.

I asked Bing Crosby if he and Bob would ever do any more "Road" pictures. Bing said, "No, Robin and I are getting a little too old to chase blondes or Dorothy Lamour."

No doubt about it, Rita Hayworth was Miss Popularity, herself, in Trinidad.

Not only did she behave like a doll making "Fire Down Below" during the five-week location, but just before she left she gave a valuable piece of jewelry to be auctioned off for the local branch of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

The bracelet really had sentimental value to Rita in the gold charms that dangled from it.

There were a heart and key given by Daughter Rebecca, a gold bullfighter from her father, a miniature "Oscar" from Jose Ferrer for her work in "Miss Sadie Thompson" and many others. It is expected the bauble will raise thousands at the auction.

WEDDING WHISPER

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: 'Tis whispered, and very loudly, that Pat Hardy will be Richard Egan's bride—and at a very early date.

Carol Haney will have to undergo surgery on her knee for the removal of a piece of cartilage.

A jeep and a trailer are now in transit to Anna Magnani, a gift from Hal Wallis. It's the fulfillment of a promise that he would buy her a fire engine red jeep if "The Rose Tattoo" made good.

Sitting a few tables away from us at LaRue was Eve Arden. She said she'd made a day of it, lunching at Romanoff's. She and her husband have given up their house in town, and so they had an evening on the town.

Teresa Wright moves tomorrow into her new home. She bought the house of the ex-Mrs. Ferrer. Mrs. Ferrer is now married to Howard Warshaw, professor of art at Santa Barbara College.

Indians Joining Forest Fighters

Hundreds of Crewmen Continue Battle Against Flaming Wilds in West

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — More Indian fire-fighting specialists were on their way today to join hundreds of crewmen battling flaming forests in Arizona and New Mexico.

Forest Service officials said they had dispatched about 75 more Indians to Coconino National Forest in Arizona to help control another rash of new, small, lightning-caused fires which started late yesterday.

Officials said rain had eased the fire fighters' work in some areas.

N. H. Buck of the regional office of the Forest Service said:

"Things are looking a little better on the Costilla fire." That swept about 2,000 acres in north central New Mexico just south of the Colorado border. "We are holding the lines there with the help of a few showers," he said.

He said there also had been a "little rain" on the 2,000-acre fire in Rucker Canyon in Coconino National Forest about 25 miles north of Douglas, Ariz., and about 250 men had it "fairly" well under control.

Buck said four or five more fires were reported in Gila National Forest in southwest New Mexico, but there were "good rains reported too in both that area and in Apache National Forest" in southeast Arizona.

About 2,500 men have been battling hundreds of scattered blazes, most of them of less than an acre in extent, in New Mexico and Arizona for the last several days. Weather Bureau reports indicated still more thunderstorms activity for today.

Even Though Emeralds May Cost Fingers

Colombians Search Avidly for Green Gold

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA (INS) — Four hundred years ago, there dwelt upon this fertile earth a pack of crazy Indians called the Chibchas.

* * *

They were extremely wealthy, since the mountains they grouped and whooped upon contained the world's richest supply of emeralds.

But like most 16th Century Indians, they did not know the value of a peso, much less a dollar, so in one tremendous gesture of goodwill towards the gods, they tossed an estimated five-billion-bucks worth of emeralds and gold into Lake Guatvita—near Bogota.

At last Christianity has come to Colombia, and the whole country is seriously aggrieved, not to mention busy.

* * *

The people now realize that a god has no use for lush living, whereas baby can use a new pair of baguettes. And everybody who can swim, dig, shovel and ride a burro is on the emerald trail.

EMERALD RUSH

"For many decades," reports a distinguished pick-wielder around Bogota, "Colombia has been in a state of emerald-rush. Coffee, of course, is our biggest product. Oil and cattle and salt are great money-makers.

* * *

Until 1947, when the government stepped in to pick up most of the profits, the search among the hundreds of unchhartered miles of mountains was wide open.

Today ostensibly, the military dictator government has control, and any pioneero who stumbles upon a rich deposit of emeralds is honor bound (under penalty of the pen for life) to fork up the loot for a pittance of its value.

But life never quite works out as governments plan, and there is probably more green stuff smuggled out of the earth and the lake to private dealers and exporters than even the most suspicious militia imagines in its most vicious dreams.

LUCK VIA MULE

"There was the case," reported the expert in a hushed voice, "back in August of 1954. A man was driving his mule up a steep mountainside one day when the mule slipped and turned over some stone in the loamy ground.

* * *

"There was a hole, and there was something green in it. The muleteer filled his pockets and went back to his village, called Gachala.

"That night he was thirsty but didn't have money even for a beer. He bartered his green stones for whisky and was agreeably surprised when the tavernkeeper said he could have all the alcohol he could drink."

"At capacity, he spilled the beans about the greens."

* * *

The next day an entire village was out with short knives, digging in the loam. As usual, feuds sprang up and those who were not killed had fingers chopped off.

But nonetheless, the fingerless ones carried away $1,600,000 in emeralds before the government smelled a rat and stepped in.

NO PITY NEEDED

You see many men with missing fingers in Colombia. But no pity, please. They are all presumably wealthy.

* * *

Though the government controls most of the emerald mines, the workers in those mines have developed smuggling to a fine art.

They conceal fine, pure chips 'twixt their toes, under tooth fillings, in adhesive patches under their hair. If they become nervous under examination at the exit of the mine, they swallow them.

"Since fine emeralds are so scarce and precious, it is well worth it," explains our expert.

* * *

Wayne Examiner's Power Restricted

DETROIT (INS) — The system of inquest into questionable deaths was nullified for Wayne County yesterday by a ruling from the State Supreme Court.

The high court ruled the county medical examiner, an office which replaced the old coroner's office last year, did not have the right to conduct inquests as did the old-time coroners.

The decision was handed down in a test case between County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien and medical examiner Edward Zawadzki.

Last July O'Brien had sought to force Dr. Zawadzki to hold an inquest into the death of Harper Woods man whose internal organs contained cyanide when examined by Dr. Zawadzki.

* * *

The inquiry was sought by O'Brien so his office could question all parties concerned under oath but the medical examiner held his office was limited to holding inquest only for the determination of death and not for possible homicide motives.

Chotiner to Release Documents Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Murray M. Chotiner goes before investigating senators today to face questioning about his law practice and to surrender some subpoenaed documents.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said the hearing would start as a closed door session, but might be opened to the press and public if his Senate Investigations subcommittee members so chose.

* * *

Chotiner is a Beverly Hills, Calif., lawyer who managed the 1952 campaign for Vice President Nixon and has been a top campaign adviser to other California Republican candidates.

The subcommittee had demanded from Chotiner a list of all clients he has represented in cases involving the government since took office. It also wants an explanation of what he did to earn his fees from them, and some documents.

Check Lawn for Grub Sign

Insect Pests — if Not Caught—Can Ruin Fine Grass

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Few things are more disturbing than to see a potentially fine lawn ruined by grubs. These tiny insect pests have damaged many lawns in the past, and will continue to cause trouble unless adequate measures are taken.

• • •

Japanese beetle grubs may cause severe injury to lawns. Grubs feed about an inch below the surface of the soil, cutting off roots and, in severe infestations, actually rolling back the turf.

• • •

Dieldrin or chlordane usually kills grubs within three to four weeks if rain wash it into the soil according to experts. Chlordane should be applied at the rate of one pound of 40 to 50 per cent strength to each 1,000 square feet of area.

Six ounces of dieldrin is the correct quantity for a similar area. Either of these will control grubs for at least three years because of residual action.

• • •

The chemical has a better chance to seep down into the soil if the lawn is cut and raked before treatment.

Malathion, a powerful insecticide recently introduced to the home gardener, has been given a satisfactory report by many entomologists.

INDOOR GARDEN — Mrs. Olin Thomas waters the plants in her 18-foot long planter which holds a variety of plants including some very interesting chartreuse toad stools. The vine growing up the window is a hoya carnosa and is now in bloom. One African violet bloom Mrs. Thomas has in the planter, is a full two inches in diameter.

Farmer Gives Tillage Advice

Minimum Formula, Loose, Fluffy Seed Bed Recommended

BY ED MARKARTY
Associated Press Farm Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Agronomists in recent years have argued strongly in favor of doing as little land fitting as possible before planting seed.

Minimum tillage, they stressed, would prevent much soil compaction by heavy farm equipment. Certain amount of packing is required for plants to grow well, but too much is as harmful as too little, the experts say.

Smith ignores the notion that corn land first should be worked to within an inch of its life. He merely plowed — waited a few hours, and went over the fields with a tandem hitch of double disc and spike-toothed harrow.

Then he planted, using a regular two-row corn planter which is modified to insure packing wheel pressure and proper planting depth for the seed.

One of the minimum tillage secrets is leaving the seed bed in a loose, fluffy condition — except for the most part, where the crop seed is planted. It gives corn seeding a fast start in the firm (but not compacted) soil, while loose soil between the rows handicaps weed growth.

By the time nature settles the middles, the corn is advanced ahead of weed growth and often can more than hold its own without further weed control by the farmer.

The methods include sod waterways to collect and carry off excess water after rainstorms; plowing and planting on the contour of farm slopes to prevent erosion and plowing down green manures to enrich and improve the condition of the farm's naturally heavy soil.

Move Poppies Later

Chartreuse Toadstools Grow in Thomas Home

• • •

Among the other bright green plants is a climbing vine, hoya carnosa. The plant is in bloom right now and the blooms are grouped in little clusters. The individual flowers are star-shaped and ivory-colored with red centers. The waxy petals seem almost unreal.

The planter itself is filled with many interesting house plants including geraniums, cut-leaf philodendron (which Mrs. Thomas grows in her own greenhouse stretching off the living room.) African violets, sansevieria and box wood.

• • •

Keep Tools Together

Aphids May Infest Trees This Summer

If your Norway maples are losing an unusual number of leaves in the summer, aphids may be holding their annual convention in your favorite shade tree.

Another sign is the sticky "honeydew" dripping from trees onto sidewalks, parked cars and summer clothes. Aphid infestations virtually can cover shrubs and shade trees. This may damage new growth or cause leaves to dry out and curl.

Outdoor Lights Add Much to Gardens

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—It's not necessary to turn the dark into dawn, but a few judiciously placed outdoor light can turn your garden into a place for an enchanted evening.

• • •

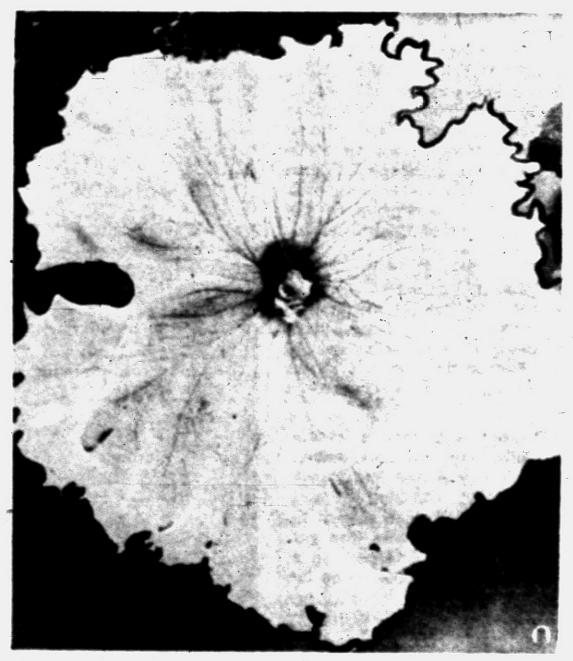

No matter how large or small your outdoor area is, lighting is the key to beauty and utility at night. You receive added hours of pleasure from the use of outdoor light, whether your area is a two-by-four plot or magnificently planted grounds.

Outdoor lighting should not be just an imitation of daylight—the result is likely to be either flat and monotonous or glaringly bright.

Lighting equipment manufacturers have shown great imagination and originality in designing fixtures and portables for gardens. They are producing lights for almost every possible use—including "lily pads" and telescoping lights that poke into the ground.

Electrical contractors have become proficient in installing permanent outdoor lighting fixtures in new and older homes and will provide advice and cost estimates free. In addition, many do-it-your-

Garden Fountain Built Cheaply, Easy to Make

DALLAS, Tex., (INS)—You can make your own contemporary style garden fountain from inexpensive materials and no special water connections.

Frame of the fountain, as exhibited at the Dallas Exposition for Modern Living, is made of one-half inch lead pipe gently curved into a six-foot "S" shape with the top ending in a circle horizontal to the ground.

From the circle are hung four concave pans of metal hung one beneath the other at oblique angles. Stretch slender copper tubing from your nearest water faucet to the base of the pipe stand.

Feeding Aids Blooms

Spray Total of 3,192 Trees

Should Report Dead Limbs, Says Parks Department

By DONALD E. NAGEL
City Forester

This elm beetle carries the spores of the fungus from diseased trees to healthy ones causing the well known Dutch elm disease.

The only practical way to control the disease is by sanitation and chemical control. By sanitation we mean the removal of all dead wood and the repair of all wounds on the tree. By chemical control we mean spraying of the trees with insecticide.

This year the forestry crews of the Parks and Recreation department sprayed all the elm trees on the city streets, city parks, cemeteries and public school grounds. All trees at Pontiac State Hospital were sprayed.

A total of 2,912 street elms, 114 school trees, 491 cemetery trees and 356 park trees were sprayed as well as 396 at the State Hospital which brings the total to 3,912 trees sprayed.

In the next week or so the Parks department will start a Dutch elm disease survey. All elm trees will be checked including as many as possible on private property.

Persons spotting a dead or dying elm tree are asked to call the Parks and Recreation department at FE 3-7131. The removal of these dead trees is an important factor in the control of the disease.

Hedges Along Roadside Can Be Traffic Hazards

By ALBERT S. FULLING
AP Newsfeatures

Last week, I drove a friend to his home in outer suburbia. After wheeling into his driveway, depositing him with his wife, two children, dog and garden, I started to back out to the roadway.

However, I braked instinctively before the car moved three inches.

I was in a man-made death trap.

But a lot of auto has to extend into the traffic lane before the driver—whether backing out or going forward—can see the road in either direction.

Hedges and shrubbery are fine for privacy, for screening, for ornament or for marking property boundries.

But you've got to draw the line when hedges push beyond the margin of safety. I told this to my friend.

"I know," he agreed, "it's dangerous. But what can I do?"

He has two alternatives: He can get out the hedge clipper and pruning shears and lop off three feet from the top, or he can dig up the hedge and move it back from the roadway—far enough for safe visibility from the driver's seat. This should be at least a car-length.

Hedge plants are rugged. With reasonable care, the moving job can be accomplished. It will flourish after pruning.

Take stock and survey your perimeter situation. If you have a homemade traffic hazzard, do deal with it. If you are just starting to plant a hedge or perimeter shrub, think of how high it will become, and how much of a problem it will be to you, your family and the other driver in the years to come.

Sometimes, however, a few gardeners can't see the tree for the leaves. Sometims they plant so much in the wrong place no one can see anything for the leaves. Not even that car barreling down the road.

Cut Delphinium Stalk

Cut back delphinium stalks after flowering. If you want to encourage a second blooming—growers disagree on the advisability—give them a complete feeding, worked in carefully about the roots.

Make New Flower Box

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—When I planted my roses the nurseryman recommended ground corncobs to be mixed with the soil. Now I find I have a full bag left. Tell me of what value are corncobs? If I put them over my grass do I stand a chance of making a corn patch of my whole lawn?

A—Use the corncobs as a mulch about the roses to conserve moisture and to prevent weed growth. Sprinkle on a little fertilizer strong in nitrogen after spreading the mulch. No corn growth can develop from the ground-up cobs.

Q—Will you please tell me what I can use or mix with the soil in my flower bed to prevent it from crusting? I have to hoe it every week to keep it loose.

A—The addition of peat moss and coarse sand mixture to the top three or four inches of your garden soil will prevent caking to a marked degree.

To improve a clay soil, first work in an inch or more layer of agricultural slag, then thoroughly mix in considerable old manure and pet moss. Yes, and also add some coarse sand. For best results mulch the beds for the summer with some organic material like peat moss, sawdust, ground corncobs, and in early spring work this mulch into the soil.

Q—I've tried to get rid of snails and slugs with several sprays and dusts, but I have not been successful. Is there something that will get them?

A—A preparation sold under the name of Snarol is very effective against snails and slugs. Other brands, also having a base of metaldehyde, are recommended.

Q—Both my bleached and unbleached celery have a pronounced bitterness in flavor. Other than that, the unbleached is of fine quality. Can you perhaps tell me whether it is a certain condition of the soil which causes this bitterness or some other reason?

A—Bitterness may be caused by lack of lime in the soil. Celery is a heavy feeder and needs plenty of fertilizer and good soil. It grows best in the cooler months. Anything that slows down its growth would tend to make for poor quality.

Maintain Privet Hedge With Frequent Clipping

The trick in maintaining an attractive privet hedge lies, alas, in frequent light clipping rather than infrequent heavy cutting. During the growing season, the hedge needs attention at least monthly and more likely every three weeks.

Make the job easier for yourself with, if possible, an electric trimmer but anyway with a pair of shears of a comfortable weight and well sharpened.

Veeck Ready to Make Offer for Tiger Franchise

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Veeck, who won a pennant at Cleveland and used a midget at St. Louis, is going to bid for a major league comeback with the Detroit Tigers.

Veeck has lined up a well balanced syndicate that he hopes will meet all the requirements necessary to buy the Tiger franchise from the estate of Walter O. Briggs.

Ten other syndicates also are in the running with the doors due to close at midnight Monday. That's the deadline for posting the $250,000 "good faith" money necessary to get a look at the books of the Detroit Baseball Co.

Actual bids can be made anytime. None has been announced yet but Veeck says he'll probably make his offer on Monday.

"I'm hopeful, almost confident, that it will be acceptable," Veeck declared last night as he unfiled his partners—11 Detroit area business and professional men, a brewery executive from Baltimore and John S. Hilson, a New York broker.

Hilson probably is the big money man in the venture. He was a partner with Veeck in the purchase of the Cleveland Indians in 1947 and the old St. Louis Browns in 1951.

• • •

The Indians won a pennant the year after Veeck bought them but in St. Louis he had to rely on such tricks as using his midget as a pinch hitter and having the players psychoanalyzed.

• • •

Spike Briggs, president of the Tigers and the elder Briggs' only son, has said he expects the franchise, team and Briggs Stadium to bring about 4½ million dollars. the trustees, of which he is one, have not been ordered to sell. This Briggs also has emphasized that means they could turn down all bids. He also has said the estate is interested in keeping control of the Tigers in Detroit.

• • •

Actually, any syndicate interested in the Tigers will have to satisfy both the trustees and the other American League owners. The league must approve any change in ownership of any team.

• • •

There is a chance that this could cause Veeck trouble. He never was too popular with the other club owners and some observers felt he was forced out of the league when the Browns were transferred to Baltimore after the 1953 season.

• • •

Veeck wanted to make the move but one source said the league insisted on a change in ownership before approving any franchise shift.

• • •

Since leaving the majors Veeck has become a New Mexico rancher. He also worked for Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, in making a survey of the Pacific Coast for a possible major league shift westward. This season he has had occasional dealings with the new Miami team in the International League.

• • •

• • •

Seeks British Amateur Crown

Wiffi Makes Title Bid

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — A freckle-faced 19-year-old from Michigan and a jaunty giant-killer from Virginia met today for the British Women's Amateur golf championship with American golfing prestige due for another shot in the arm no matter the result.

• • •

The 36-hole windup matched young Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., with Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., in the first all-American final in the 63-year history of the tournament. America thus was assured of its first British Women's title since Louise Suggs, now a professional, won it in 1948 to duplicate Babe Zaharias' victory the previous year.

• • •

For several years considered one of America's bright young amateurs, Wiffi has come into her own in the last two weeks. She won the French Women's tournament 10 days ago and played without letup this week in advancing to the finals.

• • •

Yesterday, her all-around game was brilliant as she blasted her Curtis Cup teammate, Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., 5 and 4, in the semifinals after sweeping past Irish champion Pat O'Sullivan, 8 and 7 in the quarter-finals.

Her coolness showed when an unthinking woman rode a horse out of the woods just as Wiffi was driving on one hole. She calmly went through with her swing, sent a booming drive down the fairway, then walked over to pat the horse and chat with the embarrassed rider.

In succession, Miss Patton eliminated the defending champion, Mrs. Jessie Valentine of Scotland, veteran Elizabeth Price of Britain, and Britain's best young player, 19-year-old Angela Ward.

According to the tournament form book, she's been winning on borrowed time. She was not a member of the U.S. Curtis Cup team and had to pay her own way overseas for the French and British tournaments. But her golf here has been of championship calibre.

She was two under level fours in defeating Miss Ward.

BULLETIN

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., led Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., two up, at the end of the first 18 holes in their 36-hole final for the women's British amateur golf championship today as rain-sodden greens gave both players trouble.

Kuenn Hits 2 Homers

Yes Sir, Tigers Win, 4-0

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It happened! The Detroit Tigers finally won a baseball game. They beat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-0, last night.

The victory was Detroit's first in 11 games—10 losses and a tie. The defeat was Kansas City's 11th in the last 14 games—all of them at home.

Detroit's long victory drought was broken by shortstop Harvey Kuenn's booming bat and the six-hit, shoutout pitching of the veteran Virgil Trucks, who now has won three and lost two.

Kuenn clouted home runs over the left field fence in the third and 8th innings. But no one was on base for either his 4th or 5th circuit smashes of the season.

• • •

The Tigers got two insurance runs, which Trucks didn't need, in the 9th. Jack Phillips, Bill Tuttle and Red Wilson singled in order, the latter's lick to center scoring Phillips and sending Jack McMahon to the showers. Jack Crimian relieved McMahon and forced Trucks to dodge from an inside pitch with the squeeze-play signal on. As a result Tuttle was caught in a rundown between third and home. Trucks then singled to bring in Wilson.

• • •

McMahon, recently obtained from the Pittsburgh Pirates, was making his American League starting debut with the Athletics. All four Detroit runs and 9 of the Tigers' 10 hits were charged to him.

Trucks was in serious trouble in only the seventh inning. Harry Simpson and Vic Power singled, Joe Ginsberg popped out, but Jim Finigan singled to load the bases. Trucks then got pinch-hitter Jim Thompson on a foul pop and McMahon on an infield grounder.

Up to the 7th he had been touched for only two hits, one a ground rules double by Ginsberg. The A's got only one hit after the seventh.

• • •

• • •

Manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers has nominated lefthander Billy Hoeft to oppose the Athletics tonight in what he hopes will turn out to be Detroit's second triumph in a row and Kansas City's fifth loss in a row.

4th Round at Wimbledon

Seixas Still in Running

LONDON (INS)—Vic Seixas, the only former men's champion still in the running, and defending women's champ Louise Brough led a group of ten American survivors today into the fourth round of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Seixas, eighth-seeded 1953 champion from Philadelphia, survived third-round action yesterday with sixth-seeded Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and J. Allen Morris of Atlanta, Ga., while three other Yanks were ousted from men's singles play.

Miss Brough, along with Althea Gibson of New York, Mrs. Beverly Baker Gleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., got safely through the third round of singles as two other American girls were eliminated.

Seixas eliminated fellow-American Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 10-8. Rhodes scholar Richardson beat Denmark's bearded Davis Cupper, Torben Ulrich, 6-4, 10-8, 6-3.

Jaycee Links Squad Chosen

Russ Porteous rounded out Pontiac's five-man delegation to the state Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament by defeating Birmingham's Ray Lovell in a "sudden death" playoff at Municipal Golf Course.

One hole was required to turn the trick. Porteous, Clawson's High School's ace golfer last spring, fired a par three on the south nine's 212-yard 1st hole while Lovell suffered a penalty stroke and holed out with a bogey four.

The two boys carded identical 78's in Monday's Pontiac Jaycee tourney over the Municipal links, thus forcing a playoff to determine the 5th qualifier. Lovell will go to the state event as an alternate.

The state tournament will be held July 9-10 at Kalamazoo. The state champion qualifies to enter the national Jaycee tourney August 20-25 at Fargo, North Dakota.

No-Hit Parade Continues in Junior, Midget Action

A two-run rally in the 6th inning brought Osmun's an 11-10 verdict over the Pontiac Sluggers and the parade of no-hit games continued to lengthen in Junior and Midget baseball action Thursday.

• • •

Three consecutive walks and an infield error contrived to give Osmun's a winning edge over the Sluggers in their Class F free-for-all on Columbia-Joslyn's north diamond. The Sluggers outhit the winners, 12 to 5.

Dick Tiltman pitched a four-inning no-hit game to spark Boys Club No. 3 to an easy 11-0 conquest of Arnold Drug in Class F at Columbia-Joslyn.

Two no-hit chores were turned in by Knothole League pitchers yesterday. Bill Bennett and Dave Moczarski combined to blank the Indians as the Boys Club won handily, 13-0. Wright tossed a three-inning gem as the Auburn Heights Boys Club trampled Mahan Realty 22-1.

In other Knothole play at Jaycee Park, the Tigers whitewashed Joslyn Market, 11-0, behind the four-hit hurling of Raddy Ransom. Ransom also clouted a home run. The Whitfield Cubs mauled Earl's Market, 23-4, on Dawson's two-hit pitching.

White Sox, Orioles Hold Winning Pace

White Sox and Orioles of the Federal Savings Midget Baseball league yesterday continued to set the winning pace for the circuit. Each notched a victory at Boys' Club diamond.

Sox defeated the Yankees 5-1 behind Bob Sutton's one-hitter. Sutton and Norm Neidrick led the hitting with two apiece.

Roller Skaters Hold Achievement Contest

An old adage of the turf says horses come in all shapes and sizes and they also come from all over the map. A check of the hometowns of the 431 thoroughbreds that won a stakes race in the past year shows 373 were bred in 27 states. While Needles demonstrates a good horse can be raised anywhere (Florida) more than half the stakes winners still bear the stamp "bred in Kentucky."

Fence Busting Redlegs Keep Up Assault in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Redlegs, long a second-division club, stand just 6 percentage points shy of the National League lead today with what may be the most powerful lineup ever in major league baseball socking home runs at a record-bustin' pace.

Never in the first division at season's end since 1944 (when they were third), the Redlegs continued their assault on the pennant and an all-time major league homer mark as Smoky Burgess holted a three-run homer to cap an eighth-inning rally that beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 last night.

It was the fifth of the season for Smoky, who shares the catching chores with young Ed Bailey, and the 100th of the year for the robust Redlegs. They now are four games ahead of the New York Giants' record 221-homer pace of 1947, reaching the century mark in their 63rd game.

• • •

With the three-game sweep of the Pirates — accomplished with three late-inning rallies—the Redlegs pulled into a virtual first-place tie with idle Milwaukee. In the only other game scheduled, the Giants smacked four home runs to drop Brooklyn 6-3 and put the third-place Dodgers two games behind the leaders.

The last-place Giants got their home runs from Foster Castleman, Jackie Brandt, Bill White and Daryl Spencer, pairing them in the fifth and eighth innings. Bill Sarni scored the run that broke a 3-all tie in the sixth on a wild pitch by reliefer Don Bessent, now 0-1.

Hall Fans 12 as Coachers Record 2-1 Softball Win

GMC scored two runs early in the game and Doug Hall twirled three-hit ball as the Coachers nipped Bicmar Inn, 2-1, in Thursday night's feature City Softball League attraction at Beaudette Park.

Jim Bird doubled, stole 3rd and romped home on catcher Bud Reed's error for GMC's 1st run in the 1st inning. Fred Foster's single and a double by Jerry Dennis tallied the eventual winning run in the 2nd.

Hall mowed down 12 Bicmar hitters on strikes and his shutout bid was ruined in the 3rd stanza when Jerry Ganzel connected for a home run. Hank Dudzinski hurled a five-hitter for the losers.

Shaw's Jewelers crushed Sam Benson, 16-0, in a game called after four innings because of the time limit. Bill Mason cracked a home run and Percy McConner pitched a one-hitter for th Jewelers.

The North Side Auto Parts massacred Michigan Bell, 28-1, in a girls' tilt at North Side Park. The winners scored 16 runs in the 3rd inning as 21 batters strolled to the plate and 14 hit safely. Katy Boykins, Effie Seay and Roberts all blasted homers.

Unearned Run Wins for Elks

An unearned run in the last half of the 7th inning handed Elks No. 723 a 3-2 decision over Oliver Buick and General Motors walloped Griff's Grill, 12-4, in Class A City Baseball League games Thursday night.

Lee Beavers reached 2nd on a two-base error by centerfielder Duane Sheffer, then raced home with the winning run on pitcher Larry Cates' miscue to give the Elks their verdict over the Buick team in a tight contest at Wisner Field.

Bill McGuire hurled the distance for the winners and gave up six safeties. Cates was touched for seven hits. The win boosted the Elks into 3rd place in the league standings.

GMC collected 10 hits and Griff's obligingly committed 10 errors as the league - leading Coachers romped to their 11th consecutive triumph in a make-up game at Washington Junior High.

Griff's took a brief 3-2 lead in the 1st inning when starter Chuck Gillis was shelled from the mound by a walk, Dayton Patterson's single and a two-run homer by Ted Wharry. Steve Kebler took over and held command the rest of the way while the Coacher bats went to work.

Fifteen of 27 odds-on favorites have come through with wins in the Kentucky Derby classic over the years.

'Diamond Jim' Worth $25,000 If Captured

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wanted: A snub-nosed, wall-eyed, chinless fugitive wearing black and white stripes and known as "Diamond Jim." Last seen in the vicinity of Chesapeake Bay. Reward for his capture, dead or alive, $25,000.

* * *

Beginning next Monday, Diamond Jim will have thousands of persons looking for him, trying to snare him. And if they catch him, he'll be cooked.

* * *

Diamond Jim is a 10-pound striped bass, or rockfish, who will be turned loose in Chesapeake Bay. To his jaw will be clamped a gold tag with a diamond in the center to identify him.

He must be caught by hook and line. If he's hooked before midnight Sept. 14, the lucky angler will receive $25,000. If he's boated after that date, he'll still be worth $1,000 for the rest of his life.

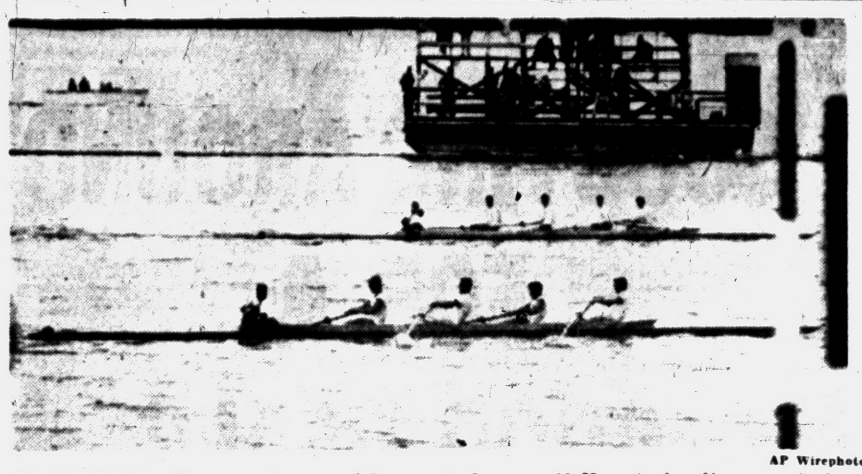

* * *

It's all a contest promoted by the League of Maryland Sportsmen, the Maryland Department of Information and a Baltimore brewery. Its long-range purpose is to publicize Chesapeake Bay as the "world's best fishin' hole."

While the odds favor Diamond Jim's being caught by a bay fisherman, there's no assurance he'll stay in this area. Striped bass range up and down the Atlantic seaboard, so he is fair game as well for anglers off Montauk Point, Long Island, Cape Hatteras, N.C., and other favorite fishing spots.

* * *

The rules are simple. There are only two. One is that the fish be caught on a line, and that the captor get affidavits from two witnesses that they saw the fish with the tag still attached to its jaw. After that, the lucky fellow is free to cut the tag loose and present it, with the affidavits, for payment.

Indianwood Tough for Pros

By H. GUY MOATS

Only one of some 25 invited professionals, all of whom are in today's Michigan Open Championships, broke par in yesterday's pro-am tuneup over the rolling Indianwood layout. That fact bore out a prediction of earlier in the week that the Lake Orion course would "play long" for the 72-hole tournament.

Bob Keller, Frank Metzger's assistant at Red Run, fired a one-under par 71, for the best individual card of the day. At that, Bob didn't figure among the top half dozen teams. Seventy-five pros and amateurs played in the tuneup.

Winners of the pro-member event Thursday were Bob Inman, Detroit Golf Club and Pete Kraushaar, with a 6-under-par 66

One stroke back of the leaders were Ralph Yankee (unattached) and his two partners, Charles Kellogg and Neal Waldrop, with Reg Myles Jr. of Country Club of Detroit and Chet Kochanski.

There was a 5-way tie at 69 for 4th place between Eldon Briggs of Saginaw and Ed Van Tassel, defending Michigan Open champion Wally Burkemo and Ferd Henkel, Reg Myles and Bob Erdelon, and Joe Thacker of Knollwood with two partners, William A. Jones and Dr. Russ Ervin. Erdelon is the husband of Indianwood's woman's champion.

Although the "home pro," Mike Dietz, is generally rated the favorite, long with Burkemo, he faces a difficult task. In addition to his duties as the fourney host, Dietz also has been his own greenskeeper for several months. Former greenskeeper was turned loose and Mike "inherited the job to handle along with his pro-shop work. Dietz hasn't had too much time to sharpen his game.

The bulky field got away early today for three days of medal play. They go 18 holes today and Saturday. Sunday's big round will be over a 36-hole route. That's where the fellow with the game and stamina makes his bid.

Team of 36 to Represent Pontiac at Skate Event

Pontiac will be well represented at the Great Lakes regional roller-skating championships, starting tomorrow, in Milwaukee, Wis. The 36-member squad, entered for some 24 events is the largest ever to go from Rolladium Rink for this test. And, according to Bert Anselmy, Rolladium impresario, who will take the squad to Milwaukee, "this team in all probability will be the largest in the championships."

The meet runs through July 3. It is rated, according to Anselmy, as one of the biggest in the country. It includes skaters from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Only 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners from each state will be eligible. The Great Lakes meet is the final qualification event for the regional skaters to get into the North American Championships at Richmond, Va., latter part of July.

Diaper division—Robyn White, Roly Lund, Jean Hildebrand.
Juv. figures, free style—Diane Grassi, Gary Perkins.

Two Games Feature Waterford League

Bill Goulet pitched Drayton Drug to a 4-1 victory over Gidley Electric and Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson coasted on the mound as Emmanuel Baptist trounced Thrifty Drug, 12-1, in Waterford League softball activity Thursday night at Drayton Plains.

Goulet limited the Gidley club to four hits in the opening game. The losers took a 1-0 lead in the 1st inning, but Drayton scored twice in the 3rd, once in the 4th and once more in the 6th to stay in the thick of the title chase.

Johnson allowed only two safeties and struck out 10 during the Baptist team's easy win over Thrifty. He also garnered two hits at the plate. Farnham made two and Bill Pittman drove in three runs as Emmanuel scored in every inning except the 1st.

U.S. Olympic Candidates Tune-Up for Melbourne

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Uncle Sam's greatest group of Olympic prospects start final competition tonight for the team to make the trip to Melbourne, Australia in the fall.

• • •

A throng of more than 50,000 was expected in Memorial Coliseum to watch the U.S. finals in eight events. Nine others will be decided tomorrow afternoon.

"Performancewise, it's the greatest United States group ever," says U.S. Olympic track Coach Jim Kelly. Then he warns, "Don't forget the competition in Australia will be tougher than ever."

• • •

Finals tonight are in the hammer throw, javelin, high jump, dash, 400-meter hurdles, and 5,000 meter run. Preliminaries for the 800-meter run also are on the program with the first running event preliminaries scheduled at 8 p.m. (PDT).

• •

Top 400-meter hurdles competitors appear to be Glenn Davis of Ohio State, Eddie Southern, a University of Texas freshman, and Aubrey Lewis, much better known as a Notre Dame halfback. In the broad jump, Ernie Shelby of Pierce Junior College in California was best in the preliminaries with 26 feet 1¼ inches.

Favored in the 100 is Bobby Morrow, who won the event both in the NCAA and AAU championships. Harold Connolly is the favorite in the hammer throw.

World record shot putter Parry O'Brien last week was defeated in the AAU finals by Manhattan's 236-pound giant Ken Bantum. Both will complete tonight along with 13 others in the event, since all 17 events of the two-day meet list the 15 men who have survived competition in the NCAA, AAU and armed forces championships.

BULKY BROOKIES — Russ Hosmer (right above), holds what is rated as one of the biggest brook trout to come out of the Chapleau district in northern Ontario. His wife also holds one of good size, one of four she took on the recent trip to the Thessalon area (June 11). Hosmer's fish was a 9-pound, 3-ounce specimen, 27 inches long. It was taken from Foote lake on a red-white daredevil lure. Mrs. Hosmer's fish went five pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Collier, Oxford, accompanied the Hosmers, who live at 5236 Cooley Lake road. They plan to return to Chapleau in the fall. A national magazine has awarded them honor badges for the catches.

1st Ace in 40 Years

It took Bill Tilder a long time to achieve that pinnacle of golfing perfection, (or a bit of luck), but the Forest Lake golfer sunk his 1st ace yesterday in 40 years at the game. Tilder hit No. 4 green with an 8-iron shot. The Forest Lake fourth hole is a 130-yard carry.

Five Selected in Starting Lineup

Redlegs Dominate All-Star Ballots

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be Cincinnati against the American League in the All-Star game at Washington, July 10, with five Redlegs in the starting lineup.

Three more Cincinnati players, all handy with the home run bat, finished second in the final balloting as the fans decreed a complete turnover in the 1955 National League starting team.

* * *

First baseman Dale Long of Pittsburgh, third baseman Ken Boyer of St. Louis and right fielder Stan Musial of St. Louis were the only men capable of breaking Cincinnati's lock on the starting jobs. In each case the runner-up was a Redleg—Ted Kluszewski at first, Ray Jablonski at third and Wally Post in right.

* * *

This starting array had contributed 95 home runs in 63 games as compared to a total of 71 by the Americans.

Despite this tremendous push by Cincinnati, top honors in total votes went to Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' threat to Babe Ruth's home run record. Mantle polled 206,524 with catcher Yogi Berra second with 191,146 votes.

* * *

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher, who led last year's voting with 2,154,778 was second to Bailey in the 1956 voting with 115,495. Campanella, incidentally, didn't play last year because of injuries.

Other National starters of '55 who failed to win were Kluszewski, second baseman Red Schoendienst of New York, third baseman Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, shortstop Ernie Banks of Chicago, and outfielders Del Ennis of Philadelphia, Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Don Mueller of New York.

* * *

American League fans returned almost the entire 1955 ticket intact. The only starter who failed to win again was Jim Finigan, Kansas City third baseman who hasn't been playing regularly.

Mantle and Berra are the only representatives of the leading Yankees. Boston has two, Mickey Vernon on first base and Ted Williams in left, and Detroit also placed a pair—rightfielder Al Kaline and shortstop Harvey Kuenn. Other American starters are second baseman Nellie Fox of Chicago and third baseman George Kell of Baltimore.

* * *

Under All-Star rules, the players picked by the fans must start and play at least three innings unless injured. The pitchers and other members of the 25-man squads will be named by Managers Casey Stengel of the American and Walter Alston of the National next Monday.

The American League holds a 13-9 edge in games although the National has won five of the last six contests, including an exciting 12-inning battle last year at Milwaukee, won by Musial's home run.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Trap trouble.

DIAGNOSIS: Hit sand first.

TREATMENT: With the wedges we've got today, coming out of sand shouldn't be too much of a problem. It's primarily a matter of properly positioning the feet with relation to the ball, and then taking the right amount of sand behind the ball to "float" it out.

I say float, because actually the ball floats out with the sand—sort of rides out of it. You hit the sand first, whereas on all other iron shots you hit the ball first.

As sketch shows, you aim to hit inches behind the ball. How many inches depends on how much distance is needed, or how quickly the ball must be elevated. To get the ball up fast you take more sand and hit deeply. Hit closer to the ball and take less sand for yardage.

An open stance works best, with the right foot closest to the ball. Position the ball up front, about in line with the left heel for the average shot, and a little farther up for a quick-rising ball.

Pull down with the left arm—a strong left arm—and explode the ball, always. Don't spare the sand. Get down into it. And hit through. Finish the shot. Getting out of bunkers isn't cream puff stuff, even with those big, weighty wedges.

Be sure you've got a solid footing, because sand can be shifty. Dig in. And when you've made your shot, think of the player behind you. Smooth out the heel prints you've made.

School Chiefs Favor Disciplinary Action

CHICAGO (AP)—Corporal punishment to control students is favored by 72 per cent of school superintendents questioned in a nationwide sampling by an education magazine.

The July issue of "The Nation's Schools" magazine quotes 69 per cent of the superintendents as saying their school boards approved corporal punishment to control the behavior of pupils.

The publication did not state how many superintendents were surveyed, but Arthur H. Rice, editor, described it as a scientific sampling of about 15,000 school administrators.

The article did not investigate specific types of corporal punishment and noted that some states—including New Jersey, Colorado and Connecticut—outlawed such disciplinary action.

Workers in more than 200 skilled occupations were deferred by U.S. World War II draft programs.

DETROIT (AP)—Both Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. have been awarded new defense contracts.

Ford disclosed yesterday that its Aircraft Engine Division had received a new $188,250,000 contract for additional J-57 turbojet engines from the Air Force.

Chrysler said it had been given a $3,175,000 contract for engineering and production work on the army's new Jupiter guided missile.

Col. Edward B. Mohliere, commander of the Detroit Ordnance District, said most of the work on the surface-to-surface ballistic missile would be done at Chrysler's Sixteen Mile Road and Van Dyke plant.

Ford's J-57 Turbojet order is in addition to more than a billion dollars worth of these engines which the firm already has built or has on order.

Paul Whiteman to Sponsor Rock 'n' Rollers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paul Whiteman who has waved his baton in time to both jazz and the classics, will lend his prestige, if not the baton, to rock 'n roll.

Whiteman announced he will sponsor an R and R concert July 11 at Westport Stadium here. But he explained that he'll only be master of ceremonies. Bill Haley, a pioneer in the rock 'n roll field, will do the leading.

If the try-out here, and one later in Jersey City, N.J., are successful, Whiteman said, he'll set up a nationwide tour with himself as M.C.

Students via TV Top Students on Campus

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. George W. Kisker, associate professor of psychology at the University of Cincinnati, says persons who took his courses via television made better grades than those on the campus. He based his opinion on the examinations of 50 students from each class.

Dr. Kisker said his first opinion was that TV students were the smarter. Intelligence tests, however, showed the video scholars to have less brain power on the average than the campus students, he added.

Jeanne Crain Denies Misconduct Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jeanne Crain says she kissed a manufacturer neighbor "just once"—on his birthday, when his wife and her husband were present — and was alone with him twice in an apartment. But she says she "certainly did not" ever engage in misconduct with the neighbor, as alleged by her husband.

The 30-year-old film star made her statements in a 66-page deposition taken last Friday in the office of her husband's attorney and filed yesterday in Superior Court.

The actress' estranged husband Paul Brinkman, 37, recently filed a cross-complaint for divorce in which he accused her of infidelities on several occasions in the past two years with Homer Rhoads. Miss Crain and Rhoads, 45, president of an aircraft equipment firm, immediately issued denials.

Actor 'Satisfactory'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Character actor Eric Blore, 70, who suffered a stroke at his home June 13, is reported in satisfactory condition at the Motion Picture Country Hospital.

William Powell Snubs TV Offer

Sullivan Defeats Allen in the First Ratings on Rival Programs

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Liberace's fans wrote irately but politely after bad reviews of their hero . . . Lawrence Welk's admirers seemed, to a fan, more hurt than miffed . . .

DROPPING SHOW

CBS couldn't sell Herb Shriner in an hour show so it will shrink to 30 minutes . . .

SPECTACULAR IDEA

Wouldn't Artie Shaw be the ideal man to turn Edgar Bergen's little quizcast into a spectacular—called "Do You Trust Your Wives?" . . .

George DeWitt did such a job subbing for Steven Allen that Bill Cullen and Jack Parr got the job . . .

Marie McDonald Sues Mate for Second Time

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) — Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald, who divorced shoe manufacturer Harry Karl in 1954 and remarried him in 1955, has sued him again for divorce.

Miss McDonald, confined to bed by complications of pregnancy, alleged extreme cruelty in a brief complaint filed yesterday.

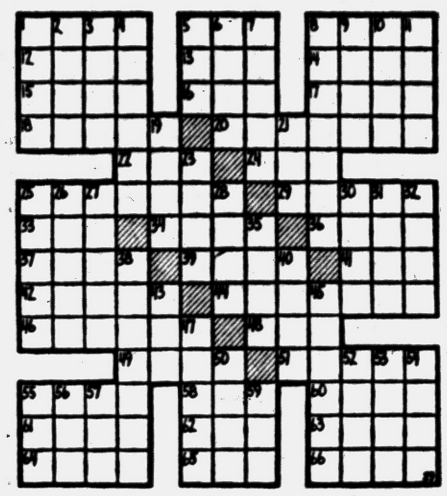

A week earlier a divorce and child custody suit brought by Karl in nearby Santa Monica was dismissed. A property agreement signed by the couple gives the actress custody of their two adopted children, plus support and alimony.

New York City has over 5,000 miles of streets.

Mae West First Witness

Battling Muscle Men Highlight Dramatic Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of Mae West's battling muscle men continue their legal histrionics in Municipal Court today with the judge vowing to hear out the case "if it takes a week."

Miss West took center stage yesterday by appearing as the first witness for the defense.

• • •

Charles (Chuck) Krauser, 33, professionally billed as Mr. California of 1948, is accused of simple assault for knocking down Miklos (Mickey) Hargitay in Miss West's dressing room June 6.

Hargitay formerly played the role of Mr. Universe in Miss West's night club show. She dropped him from the role because, she said, he was creating bad publicity for the show.

Her attorney told the court she objected to Hargitay's "running around with a woman who wasn't his wife." She announced his demotion from the Mr. Universe role at a news conference that preceded his scrap with Krauser.

Hargitay, she testified, hadn't been invited to the news conference. When he appeared, she said, she was surprised.

She said another reason she dropped Hargitay was because he had missed a rehearsal and, she testified, she told him she subsequently learned that his wife was divorcing him on grounds of cruelty.

Krauser, at the news conference asked Hargitay how long he had been with the show. The purpose of the question, apparently, was to show that divorce proceedings were started against Hargitay before he joined the troupe.

Miss West testified that at that point the two men exchanged cross words and then, she said, Hargitay lifted up his hands. She demonstrated for the court and jury by making a fist of her own by her ear.

• • •

"Then," she said, "Mr. Krauser hit him and in a second he was on the floor."

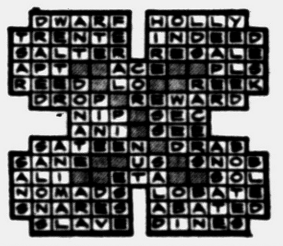

Hargitay testified that since the fight, in which he received a black eye and a split lip (now healed), he has been having nightmares and his career as a muscle man has been "irreparably ruined."

He has brought suit for $100,000 damages against Miss West and Krauser.

To Honor Judge Loucks

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Municipal Judge John C. Loucks, 78-year-old dean of Kent County jurists, will be honored Friday by the Grand Rapids Bar Assn., for 48 consecutive years as justice of the peace and municipal judge. Judge Loucks, who plans to retire July 4, took office first on July 4, 1908, and was re-elected to 11 more four-year terms.

And Still Pot-O-Gold Seeks Winner

Here It Is—Solution to 4th Puzzle

1. BULK is right. If his "regular sleeping comfort" is involved, that means his normal comfort, aboard ship or ashore. If his BULK, or size, makes him comfortable while asleep, he is suited to both his Bunk at sea, and his bed ashore.

2. Take BET. There is nothing in the selection of a big Bat to imply that a ballplayer has overconfidence. It may mean just the reverse, if he is not usually the user of a big bat. If he takes a big BET (not necessarily on baseball), the outcome can well show that he is suffering from overconfidence in expecting to win it.

3. Make it SNUG. A SNUG life is a comfortable one, free from care. Too SNUG a life will soften up a country and give it a false sense of security. A Smug life implies satisfaction with a mode of living; it need not imply that a self-satisfied country is unaware of danger from without (if it is smug, there is little danger from within, as it is obviously well-satisfied with itself).

4. PET is right. Feeling despondent because he thinks he has lost his Pep would mean that the child is capable of analyzing his despondency and putting his finger on a specific cause. This must be beyond the abilities of average children. It must be the thought of loss of a PET that could cause the despondency.

5. Choose DRAW. To Ward off an enemy means that he is already upon you and you defend yourself well or repel his attack. This may require strategy, but it is more likely to require at least equal forces, since the battle is under way. To DRAW him off most definitely requires strategy.

6. Choose SLANT. Everybody expects a lawyer to have some kind of SLANT, if only in favor of his client. If he makes no effort to conceal this SLANT, or leaning, he will not be considered harmful to his case. If he makes no effort to conceal a Plant, that is evidence or a witness brought in to give a false inference to further his case, then the jury can find out and can reasonably suspect the validity of such a move.

7. PUN is right. If you are presented with a choice of calling a PUN or PEN clever, you must choose PUN. It is a "pathetic fallacy" (the mistake of attributing human qualities to objects) to call a PEN clever. It is done, of course, but strictly speaking, a PUN can be clever, while a Pen can be only an instrument.

8. SPOON is right. Because a person takes a Snoop (furtive spying) now and then, it does not mean there is an actual cause for distrust. He may be curious, a common human failing, but wholly honest. One who takes a SPOON commits a definitely untrustworthy act; and success with SPOONS may lead on to bigger and better acquisitions.

9. Choose TAX. The words "can prove to be most unsatisfactory" give the clue to the right answer. They indicate that the future will reveal the effectiveness of the cuts; and that makes TAX a better choice. Axe cuts are immediately satisfactory or not, without waiting for proof to come along.

10. NUT is right. Nub is the gist of a story, and this means the main point or bare facts. There is no implication in Gist that it is hard to understand. The word NUT can be defined as something hard as a nut to crack, or understand; in other words, a puzzling problem.

11. Choose FOOL. Being a comedy team, husband and wife must have a place for a Foil, a "straight man" to set the other off at an advantage. the foil could be either the husband or the wife. But to make a FOOL of the husband would be to make him ridiculous in a way that has nothing to do with their work as comedians.

12. DUBS is right because these are the awkward, unskillful players who get in everyone's way and are apt to drive into the midst of other golfing groups. The Buds on a golf course are a natural phenomenon and do not present "an extra hazard" to any players.

13. KISS is right. A warm KISS denotes love and affection. A warm Skin (not a hot skin) merely denotes that one is alive, or in a warm place. There would be a special message conveyed by a hot skin, especially to a doctor. But a warm skin need not convey anything special.

14. Choose LAP. The LAP represents a loving mother, father, or other affectionate person. This brings comfort to the child. A Pal could be an excellent playmate, but with children, playmates do not bring comfort, or soothing and help, when needed. A playmate or pal brings fun and friendship, especially to a child.

15. GONG is right. The words "proper authorities" imply any of the ones that respond to a GONG or alarm bell: fire dept., police, ect. A Gang fight may take place without any authorities hearing it at all. A GONG is specifically placed so that the necessary people will hear it.

16. BOARD is right. There is no reason why a Broad table should hamper laboratory work, or be unsuitable. A broad table can be used in more ways than a narrow or smaller one. It can be used for large or small objects. A BOARD, wooden or fiber, table may be unsuited for a variety of reasons.

Warn Car Dealers

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien warned new and used car dealers against deceptive and false advertising. Police have received about 150 complaints recently of "bait" advertising aimed at luring customers to car lots and showrooms. O'Brien said dealers guilty of misleading advertisements may have trouble renewing their licenses to operate.

Although it varies from year to year, Americans may have as much as 11 times as many colds in winter as in summer.
