

Lively Primary Brews in 19th

By JIM DYGERT

The Republican congressional primary in the new 19th District this year promises to be a lively one.

Two candidates, who entered the race a few months ago believing they would not have to oppose State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, yesterday served notice that they will not withdraw just because the county's senator is now a candidate after all.

James Dickerson and Richard D. Kuhn had similar reactions in this respect to Roberts' announcement yesterday of his candidacy for the GOP nomination in the new district.

News Analysis

Even more candidates may get in the race to take advantage of there being a large field to split up votes, even though the formidable of Roberts' well-known political name may keep some out.

OTHER DIFFERENCES

Dickerson's and Kuhn's reactions differed in other respects, however.

"I was somewhat surprised," said Dickerson, development director for Oakland University. "I believed his main interest was in running for the proposed appellate court."

Roberts had said he was interested primarily in seeking

Strike Settled; Flint Workers Set to Resume

Ratification Meeting
on Buick Contract

FLINT (AP)—Members of United Auto Workers Local 599 voted almost unanimously today to ratify a strike settlement paving the way for 15,000 workers to return to their jobs at Buick Division of General Motors Corp.

FLINT (AP)—A quick resumption of work by the Buick plant's 15,000 employees was sighted today in the wake of yesterday's strike settlement agreement.

Striking Local 599 of the United Auto Workers scheduled a ratification meeting at noon.

Management said recall of workers would start immediately, if the terms were approved and the strike called off after an eight-day tieup.

With Buick's return to operation, another 4,000 idled at a dependent Fisher Body factory also would go back to jobs.

Final agreement was attained yesterday as negotiators cleared up remaining issues in a brief meeting that followed a previous overnight session that ended at 6 a.m.

JOINT STATEMENT

Buick and Local 599 announced the settlement in a joint statement. Later the union claimed a "great victory" in a separate statement.

Charging a work speedup and other grievances, the union walked out at the big General Motors complex Jan. 8. All production was halted.

The company denied there was a speedup and charged the union was making unfair demands.

Jack Wagner, local 599 president, said that more than 500 grievances were settled. He said they bore on work rates, back pay, and other issues.

"We feel we came out with a very great victory," Wagner said.

Management made no comment on Wagner's statement.

The Buick strike was one of a series in the auto industry over production rates since the start of 1964 car model run late last summer. All the others were settled.

400,000 Workers Affected Teamsters, Truckers Agree

on an unprecedented master labor contract covering more than 400,000 workers. Behind them is C. K. Call, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service.

Hoffa Praises National Pact Without Strike

Three-Year Accord Increases Salaries,
Improves Benefits

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the nation's truckers reached agreement today on an unprecedented master contract covering more than 400,000 workers.

The accord averted a strike scheduled for last midnight.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa lauded the contract as the first national labor agreement reached without a major strike. He said it would bring more than 400,000 members and 410 locals into one bargaining unit.

The contract, which will become effective Feb. 1, still must be ratified by the union's membership and the Trucking Employers, Inc., executive policy committee.

The three-year contract, which expires March 31, 1967, provides a 28-cent per hour pay increase over the three years, a $5 per week boost in the health-welfare and pension package over the three years, improved vacations and a cost-of-living increase.

Truckers' salaries will increase 10 cents an hour the first year, 8 cents the second and 10 cents the third year.

Pay scales under regional contracts now in effect range from $3.06 to $3.28 per hour.

The health-welfare fund will be increased $1 a week the first year, $1.50 the second and 50 cents the third. The pension fund will be increased $1 per week the first year and $1 the second.

The union also won its demand for retention of a cost-of-living clause.

Governor Asks Rigid Road Laws

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today asked the legislature for several new and stricter laws aimed at reducing traffic deaths, and asked highway funds for a state police freeway patrol.

In a special message on traffic safety, Romney asked $1.3 million be appropriated as a "highway purpose" from motor vehicle taxes to finance a 130-troop freeway patrol.

He also asked the legislature:

- To help strengthen state police by approving a general fund appropriation of nearly $16 million, providing an authorized strength of 1,339 state policemen. Manpower is expected to reach 1,220 by July.

SAFETY CENTER

- Reactivation of the Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University, a $250,000 item.

- To bring juvenile offenders under the "point system" under which an accumulation of moving violations results in driver license suspensions.

- To prohibit "drag racing" and speed contests on public highways.

- To study the idea of periodic motor vehicle inspection through a system of locally owned service stations and garage.

TRAINING PROGRAM

- To provide $100,000 to Michigan State University for a regional police training program for peace officers of local governments.

- To increase by $24,000 the appropriation for the State Safety Commission.

Romney also recommended stricter enforcement of existing laws governing motorists.

Hits Use of Highway Department's Money

LANSING (AP)—Highway Commissioner John Mackie has promised a fight "in the legislature and the public arena" against Gov. George Romney's request for highway funds for a state police freeway patrol.

"I was expecting this all along," Mackie said.

He said he had anticipated a request for $10 million, not just the $1.3 million requested by Romney.

SAVED MONEY

"I figure we've saved almost $9 million," said Mackie, but added that he feels the request still "opens the door" to what he considers misuse of the highway funds.

"I flatly predict that if this succeeds, the next bite will be substantial," he said.

Mackie said he objected to the reasoning by which highway funds would be used for police enforcement because it would be "penalizing" the fund.

Romney, in the message, acknowledged Mackie "began a freeway service for stranded motorists" to which Romney objected as "unnecessary duplication of service by two organizations."

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Mackie's proposal would be illegal and questioned whether the use of highway funds by any state agency would be legal.

Glenn Leaves NASA; Senate Drive Next?

HOUSTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. resigned from the nation's space program today, presumably to seek election to the U.S. Senate from his native state of Ohio.

The manned spacecraft center, the training base for astronauts, announced at 1 P.M. (EST) the acceptance of Glenn's resignation but made no reference to the widespread reports Glenn will seek the Senate post now held by Sen. Stephen M. Young, a 74-year-old Democrat from Cleveland.

The formal announcement did not say whether Glenn, 42, plans an immediate trip to Ohio, although a hotel at Columbus, the Neil House, confirmed reports he has reserved the hotel's grand ballroom for a 10 a.m., (EST) news conference there tomorrow.

The formal announcement from the training base for astronauts merely said Glenn had requested he be relieved of his assignment with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and that Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the center, had accepted the request.

"Dr. Gilruth praised Glenn for his outstanding contributions to the manned spaceflight program and wished Glenn and his family every happiness," the one-paragraph announcement said.

The statement made no reference to Glenn's plans and Glenn was not available for comment.

AMC to Close for One Week

Also Plan Temporary
Cut of 2,500 Workers

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. announced today it will shut down Rambler auto production for a week beginning Jan. 27. AMC said the shutdown is necessary to correct what it termed an "unbalanced model mix" in production and field stocks.

When it resumes production Feb. 3 at Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., American Motors said it would be at a lower rate, "with a temporary reduction of about 11 per cent" in its auto-production force of 26,303.

AMC blamed in a statement what it said was "favorable public reaction to the new Rambler American, up 42 per cent in sales for the current model year," for its reported imbalance in model-mixes and field stocks.

"Our sales are running at record levels," the statement said, "but the reception of the new Rambler American has been so much stronger than anticipated that it is necessary to correct production and inventory balances. The American has shown the sharpest rise of any new car this year, with the exception of one luxury car."

Temperatures to Stay Mild, Snow Light

Those of us who've been sympathizing with the East for its recent bad weather avalanche got a small jolt this morning when we looked out the window.

But today's snow was to be light and temperatures are to remain relatively mild. The high today will be 32, tomorrow, 30.

The low prior to 8 this morning was 10 degrees. By 2 p.m., the temperature had risen to 31.

Project Finally Set

Clinton Drain Bonds Are Sold

Contractors were expected to begin moving equipment into Pontiac today after $2.45 million in Clinton River drain bonds were sold yesterday to Halsey-Stuart Corp., of Chicago.

Bids were opened on the bonds at a meeting of the Pontiac Clinton River Drainage District No. 1 Board.

The Chicago firm was lowest of three bidders, offering to buy the bonds at a 3.5209 per cent interest rate.

The board termed the bids "satisfactory."

OTHER BIDS

The other bidders were First of Michigan Corp., 3.54263 per cent; and Blythe & Co., 3.6485 per cent.

The project had been stalled by court action involving Michigan drain codes since last June. No financial institutions would bid on bonds to finance the drain until litigation was cleared up.

The way was cleared last month when the U. S. Supreme Court dismissed an appeal of a Detroit District Court decision involving the drain codes.

However, its value won't be fully utilized until additional work is done to the river east of Union Street, where the present project ends.

The original Clinton River plan included widening, deepening and straightening the river from Union to East Boulevard. That portion, estimated to cost some $1 million, was deleted by the City Commission in June 1962.

Better assembly of urban renewal lands for resale will be a by-product of the project.

Portions of the river work, particularly under Saginaw and along the south side of Orchard Lake Avenue, must be done before utility companies can relocate underground facilities and the State Highway Department can proceed with the final section of Pontiac's perimeter road.

U.S. Restates Canal Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House repeated today that "the United States government is ready and willing to discuss all problems affecting the relationship between the United States and Panama."

In the wake of an uproar threatening an agreement to end the Panamanian dispute,

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger made that statement to reporters and added:

"It was our understanding the government of Panama also was willing to undertake these discussions. Our position is unchanged."

WANTS ASSURANCES

Salinger emphasized the word "our."

Panama has gone back to a previous stand that it wants assurances that the United States will negotiate differences over the Panama Canal before normal diplomatic relations are restored.

This country's position is that it has agreed only to discussions on that, along with other matters.

Administration officials said the United States is not willing to concede in advance that it will do anything—but it definitely is willing to discuss all outstanding problems.

TREATY SQUABBLE

The chief of these centers around the existing treaties under which the United States operates the Canal and the Canal Zone. Panama wants to revise them.

The White House made it clear that the United States definitely is concerned about the new insistence of Panama on negotiations as distinguished from discussions.

Salinger told reporters that: "We do feel in this time of difficulty between the two countries it is a time for exercise of the highest responsibility by all those involved."

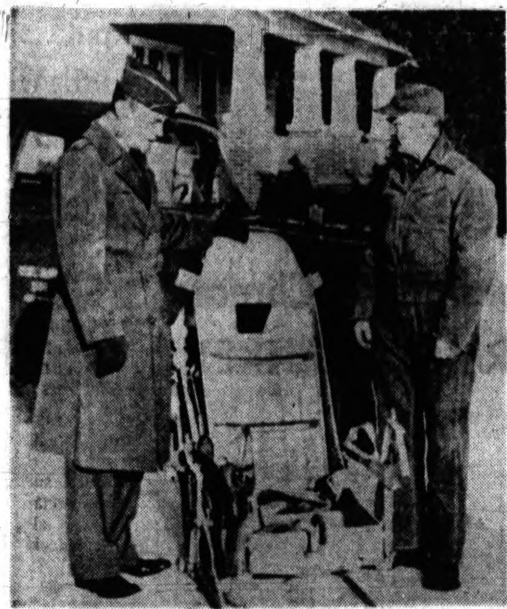

WRAPPED WARMLY — This small child is wrapped in a warm blanket and handed down the gangplank of an Air Force transport

Fail to Retrieve Cushion Thought Off Lost Craft

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An attempt failed today to pick up from the sea a seat cushion possibly from the schooner Enchantress, missing with five persons.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the tan leather cushion sank before a helicopter from the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt could retrieve it. The search continued in an area 250 miles east of Jacksonville for possible survivors.

John L. Pelton of Whittier, Calif., owner of the Enchantress; his wife and two sons and skipper Chris de Grabowski, set out Jan. 10 from Charleston, S.C., for the Virgin Islands.

Deny Ed Murrow Will Leave USIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Information Agency denies Edward R. Murrow is quitting as director because of his health, or is likely to do so.

Asked about a new report that Murrow had submitted his resignation, a spokesman said: "There isn't even a likelihood of his retiring because of ill health."

The spokesman said Murrow appears to be in the best condition he has been in since he underwent chest surgery last Oct. 5.

'Published Threat Made Against 20 Congressmen'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Post quotes U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., as saying a "thinly veiled threat" has been made against him and 19 other Democratic congressmen in a publication.

The Post said in a copyright story Wednesday from its Washington bureau that Gonzalez asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to investigate a group he identified as the Minutemen. He said a copy of the group's publication "On Target" contains the threat against him and the other 19 congressmen.

In his letter to Kennedy, the San Antonio congressman said "in the light of recent developments I have become decidedly more sensitive about some of the hate material that is so widely distributed."

The newspaper said Gonzalez referred to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the murder of the accused assassin.

OPPOSE FUNDS

Gonzalez was quoted as saying the threat was directed at him and the others who voted against increasing funds to operate the House Committee on Un-American Activities last year.

He said the second page of the publication "On Target" dated March 15, 1963, contains the names of the 20 congressmen, bordered in black and headed with the words: "In Memoriam."

Gonzalez said the other congressmen are James Roosevelt, George E. Brown Jr., W. D. Edwards and Edward R. Roybal, all of California; William Fitts Ryan, Abraham J. Multer, Leonard Farbstein and Benjamin S. Rosenthal, all of New York; Edith Green and Robert B. Duncan of Oregon; Robert W. Kastenmeier of Wisconsin; Barratt O'Hara of Illinois; Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio; Charles C. Diggs Jr., John D. Dingell, Lucien N. Nedzi and Neil Stabler, all of Michigan; Thomas P. Gill of Hawaii; and Donald M. Fraser of Minnesota.

CALLED JUDASES

Gonzalez said the publication introduces the black-bordered box with the words: "Here, then, are the Judases who seem will not only to sell out their country for thirty pieces of silver but to go on record and brag about it."

He said another portion of the publication contains these words: "Traitors beware. Even now the crosshairs are on the back of your necks. These patriots are not going to let you take their freedom away from them."

Airport Aid Passes Hurdle

A proposed $89,000 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport this year was approved and recommended by the State Aeronautics Commission in Lansing yesterday.

The local program includes construction of a fire and crash building and taxiway.

It was part of a $7.6-million budget under the federal aid to airports program, recommended by the commission for Michigan airports for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The recommendation must now be approved by the federal government and the legislature. Under the airport construction aid formula, 50 per cent of the cost is paid by federal funds with the state and local government each paying 25 per cent.

Could Romney Run for Both?

May Be on Ballot for President, Governor

LANSING (AP) — Legal experts in the state capitol are studying the statutes to determine whether Gov. George Romney could run for reelection this year if he also becomes a Republican candidate for president or vice president.

Leon S. Cohen, a deputy attorney general, said research is underway even though the office has not received a formal request for such an opinion.

Romney, who said recently he would accept a GOP presidential draft, has not yet revealed his political plans. He is expected to announce next month whether he will seek another term.

The deadline for state candidates to file petitions for the August primary is June 16. The Republican national convention begins almost a month later—July 14.

NOT CLEAR

The rub is, Michigan statutes apparently do not specify clearly whether his name could be withdrawn from the state ballot if he gets the convention nod.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery said "we would probably have to get an attorney general's opinion or a court decision" if Romney becomes a state and national candidate simultaneously.

Perusal of the state elections code has thus far failed to give a clear-cut answer as to whether the governor could run for the two offices at the same time, as President Johnson did in 1960 when he sought reelection to the Senate while running for vice president.

The chairman of the House Elections Committee, Rep. Russell H. Strange, R-Clare, said he will propose new legislation to enable Romney to seek the White House and the governor's chair in the same election. Strange described his idea as "lightning insurance" for the GOP.

As for Romney's thoughts on the matter his press secretary, Richard Milliman, said recently "we haven't even bothered to research the question."

New Units Put Damper on Disaster

An automatic sprinkler system that was installed in a Pontiac factory only two weeks ago was credited with extinguishing a fire that could have proved disastrous this morning.

Fire Marshal Charles Metz said that the system so thoroughly quenched the 4:15 a.m. fire at the Seaman Manufacturing Co., 29 W. Rundell, that damage was minor.

The fire started in a pile of material used by the company to produce sound reducing liners for the automobile industry, according to Metz.

The fire department had only to be sure the fire was out when it arrived.

Metz said company officials told him today that the system already has paid for itself since no time will be lost because of fire damage.

K Guards Face Weapons Ban in Norway Visit

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet security police will not be permitted to wear arms in Norway during the visit of Premier Khrushchev in June, the foreign ministry said Wednesday. "It would be a violation of the basis of the visit," the ministry's legal department said.

Khrushchev will visit the three Scandinavian countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—next June.

The statement was made after a Norwegian newspaper claimed that Soviet security agents violated the law by carrying arms when they came here with Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

City Manager Echoes Words of Predecessor

"Our biggest problem is, in my opinion, trying to give Pontiac the type of enforcement it wants with a force that's a third below the minimum needed to do the job."

"What the police department needs is about 50 more men."

"There are 107 on the force and we should have 152 to meet the minimum requirements of this City."

Do these statements sound familiar? Were they taken from the hearings which ousted former City Manager ROBERT A. STIERER?

No. They are the words of our new city manager, Robert A. Carter.

Former City Manager STIERER said the same things, though, when the majority of Pontiac's commission was pushing him out of a job.

Former Pontiac Police Chief JOSEPH KOREN gave similar answers, in the face of charges of police inefficiency and irregularities.

One job facing Carter when he took over here was the police department, the pet subject of the majority of our city commissioners.

KOREN was suspended, then removed from the police department entirely, to the limbo of the traffic engineer.

If the problem with the police department is the lack of manpower, why remove the chief?

Why remove a city manager of recognized talent and ability, to get to the police chief?

U.S. Cigarette Report Ignites National Furor

The long-awaited report of the U. S. Public Health Service finds cigarette smoking a major health hazard, and advises discontinuance.

Based on a 14-month survey covering 8,000 case studies of the effects on health, the 10-man committee decided that available evidence shows that cigarette smoking far outweighs all other causes of lung cancer and cancer of the larynx.

In many respects, the public impact of the report was less severe than might have been expected. Many unofficial though expert opinions had for some time damned cigarette smoking as detrimental to health, and the tenor of the official report was pretty well anticipated.

But regardless, the social, economic and regulatory implications of the report are vast. To what extent the 70-million American cigarette smokers are influenced by it remains to be seen. Immediate reaction was mixed, many smokers declaring their intention to continue the habit as others prepared to marshal will power to forswear it.

Cigar and pipe smokers (the non-inhalers) were found to be far less vulnerable to the dangers of smoking, and many cigarette smokers will doubtless convert to one of those forms of tobacco use.

On a lighter note, we have a suggestion for cigarette smokers who have all along maintained that tobacco was an unessential part of the smoking habit—that indulgence was merely a nervous yen "to have something in their fingers to toy with."

Why not substitute identicallyshaped lengths of wood painted white for such relaxation purposes and donate the substantial money thus saved to a worthy cause—like, say, the United Fund—or even go on a personal binge?

With reference to students who have drivers licenses, the higher the mileage they pile up, the lower the grade they make.

"Do you sometimes feel that you don't exist?" asks a psychologist. No. We know that if we didn't exist we couldn't feel that we didn't.

In most cases a man with teenage daughters is more and worse pulletpicked than henpecked.

Castro Remains Pain in the Neck

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro has been boss of Cuba five years this month. How is he doing? He is still there and still a pain in the neck to the United States, and a big embarrassment.

This noisy and flamboyant man is probably a pain to the Russians, too, but an expensive pain. The help they're giving him costs a pretty penny, but they hardly dare stop, no matter how much they wish they could.

It's easy to belittle him. It's done often in this country: the low living standard in Cuba, the poor Cuban sugar crop, the regimentation of the people. Cubans still flee Cuba, and the exiles hate him.

But there is no evidence all the Cubans do. Whether he could retain power in a truly free election is something else, but his dictatorship prevails and shows no signs of toppling.

Without Soviet help, he might not have survived. But this country's desire to ruin him by isolating him economically—shutting him off from trade with American allies or friends—is far from completely successful.

This situation has its own irony: the United States wants no one to give Castro economic help but is willing to sell wheat to the Soviet Union.

ANSWER IS SIMPLE

The answer is simple on that one. Castro is a close-up menace and the Soviet Union isn't; getting along with the Soviet Union is important, but getting along with Castro isn't.

Castro flew off to Moscow to see Premier Khrushchev right after the American-Panamanian riots began last week. Whether he went to talk about that or about more Soviet help for Cuba isn't known yet.

Through it all, Castro has been a five-year disaster for the United States in more ways than one:

- So long as he stays, communism has a foot in America's backyard.

- The United States has failed to abolish him, despite all its huffing and puffing. This has left the United States red-faced.

- The American-backed invasion of Cuba, the only real try at getting rid of him, was a total bust.

GREATEST SHOCK

Castro provided the setting for the greatest shock of the late President John F. Kennedy's administration, when Khrushchev almost got away with slipping missiles into Cuba.

When Kennedy forced the Russian to withdraw the weapons it required an unforgettable showdown that was tough on everybody's nervous system.

In an earlier time—say the days of Theodore Roosevelt, which was a time of big-power imperialism—the United States might have settled Castro's hash fast with a quick and direct invasion.

But now the United States and the Soviet Union, also, insisting they have no imperialistic intentions, have to worry about world opinion, which they are trying to influence, when they deal with little nations.

This gives Castro a lot of room to maneuver and shake his fist, which he has been doing pretty well, without fear of being belted. There's nothing in sight to indicate it won't be that way for some time.

David Lawrence Says:

CIA Revelations Constructive

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the most constructive step taken by the United States government in the debate over the cold war was the recent decision to let the Central Intelligence Agency come out into the open and give the world — including the American people — the facts about the economic difficulties confronting the Soviet Union.

Naturally there has been some criticism. But even in the face of expected comments of an adverse nature—particularly from Moscow newspapers — the CIA has disclosed some valuable information about the Soviet economic crisis.

This presumably couldn't have been done without the consent of the President.

Discussion of the CIA's scope of activities, however, didn't arise for the first time under the present administration. It has been up again and again.

Obviously, the CIA has to operate in secrecy, but the mirage of the agency given to the American public has been primarily of the "cloak and dagger" type.

Some criticism has come from the press here about the CIA's news conference, inasmuch as the questions asked by the reporters were not always answered.

U. S. INTEREST

The CIA cannot serve usually as a vehicle of information for the press, but it can at times give out that which it is in the interest of the United States government to make public.

In the past, the directors of the CIA have made speeches discussing various aspects of the cold war, but these have not been as specific as the type of information given out at the recent news conference.

The value of economic information about what is going on behind the iron curtain can hardly be overestimated. Thus, it has been revealed that the Soviets have not made in recent years the progress often attributed to them.

It is apparent also that, if the Moscow government is to develop, for example, chemical fertilizers on a large scale to improve Soviet agriculture, chemical production for use in nuclear weapons and other explosives will have to be cut down.

FAVORABLE TURN

This could mean a favorable turn in the cold war for the United States, and certainly it could reduce some of the pressures on the Soviet Union.

Men run blocks and blocks to see a fire, followed by women when the fire sale starts.

Being married is what makes people worry, like being single.

Friends who know that I sure here to spend billions for the accumulation of unnecessary armament.

There has been some talk that the State Department should have complete control of what information is made public about foreign countries. This is what the bureaucrats always want—a centralization of authority.

But the ill effects of such a procedure have often been noted in the way the State Department has at times exercised control over the output of the Voice of America, reducing the value of its broadcasts and actually impairing the power of this agency as a propaganda apparatus in the battle of air waves.

If the CIA is permitted to reveal the truth about what is happening on the economic front throughout the world, selecting the most significant developments for analysis, the interests of the United States will be served.

Bob Considine Says:

No Real Rush to Cigars; Women May Follow Suit

NEW YORK—One thing that may halt the rush of cigarette smokers to cigars is the prospect that the American female will slavishly follow suit. They did with cigarettes and booze.

Elizabeth Taylor, considered by many people of foreign lands as the typical American wife and mother, is just not going to look good with a heater in her kisser as she scrambles Dicky's breakfast eggs.

It is not going to add one blessed thing to Shirley Temple's comeback if she walks on screen flicking cigar ashes like George Burns.

Margaret Chase Smith can only endanger her chances of becoming the next President of the United States if she starts handing out cigars to complete strangers.

One of the ads that beckoned frightened or defiant cigarette smokers toward cherootsville stated proudly that kings, presidents, and prime ministers are inveterate cigar smokers. So are a lot of Bowery bums.

SAME AD

The same ad quoted John Galsworthy:

"By the cigars they smoke, and the composers they love, ye shall know the texture of men's souls."

The Madison Avenue fellow might have added, "By the ashes they leave on the new living room rug, ye shall know the combustibility of woman's wrath."

For one, I'm not going to make the big move to cigars. I gave up smoking about 25 pounds ago, after years of chaining cigarettes. I never let a cigarette burn in the ash-tray or subject my fingers to tar stains.

REPLACEMENT

The only time I'd take it off my lips was to replace it with a fresh one, lighted from the old one as the old one neared flesh.

Friends who know that I knocked it off marvel, at first, at my willpower.

"How could you do it?" they pleaded. "Tell me your secret." They always seemed a little let down when I tell them the truth.

"My wife told me to stop smoking," I say. They shake their heads. Particularly those who don't know Millie.

Plan Easier Credit for Families

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Opening the door for easier, cheaper credit for many families is now being discussed by some of President Johnson's top housing advisers.

The plan now being considered would make it easy for a homeowner who has paid off several thousand dollars of his mortgage to go back and borrow more. He wouldn't be required to take out a costly second mortgage. He would have, in effect, a sort of open-end expandable first mortgage, within fixed limits.

The homeowner could use the money for any reasonable purpose — to help finance college education for his children, a new automobile, large emergency medical expenses, a refrigerator and other household appliances, even a vacation.

Using usual channels, money borrowed for a refrigerator may cost up to 12 per cent. Borrowing for a car may cost 9 per cent. Other borrowing may be equally expensive — except for some college student loans.

But borrowing on a first mortgage on a home can be usually done at 6 per cent, or less, depending on the year. And the average man has difficulty borrowing in other ways the sizable funds he can borrow on a home.

Presumably, the term of the total loan would be lengthened and there would be no increase in payments. Presumably also the new loan would not be great enough to bring the mortgage up to its original total. There would have to be some

Press Favors All Schools; Coverage Not One-Sided

Editor's Note

Help! Help!

From time to time, this newspaper is variously charged with "favoring" Pontiac Central High or Pontiac Northern. A few jealous and zealous graduates and students of both are convinced we're in some dark conspiracy to repress the news of their own beloved Alma Mater.

It isn't so.

The Press is highly in favor of each. We cheer indiscriminately. And we're prejudiced in behalf of ALL the schools in our area. We print more school news than most newspapers, including athletics and everything else. Part of this is true because we are strongly in sympathy with all education. And another contributing reason is the fact The Press runs more total news than most Michigan newspapers, anyway.

Now St. Freds and St. Mikes leap into the arena with the "charge" that Central and Northern get more publicity than they do.

The "charge" is correct.

And this will continue.

Northern and Central are several times as big as St. Freds and St. Mikes and therefore are entitled to greater coverage.

Any rebuttals?

If there are, please submit them promptly for otherwise and henceforth we will cease and desist from publishing these rather silly, repetitious and conflicting charges from both sides.

We love all the schools.

P. S. We love all the boys and girls.

And P. P. S. We love all the teachers.

In answer to the letter in The Press that out-of-city residents should pay an income tax to help the cost in building and maintenance of city streets, the writer should be informed that these people have used Pontiac city streets to spend the income they've earned in the city.

I have spent over $4,000 to Pontiac merchants and services. I am a taxpayer and I don't feel that Pontiac city residents should be unable to use highways that my tax money builds. Highways are built by all taxpayers for all people. I pay my full share of county and state taxes and a share of these taxes are returned to Pontiac. It's time the brakes were put on some of these tax-happy politicians or we will all have to leave Michigan with the industries for a better tax climate.

The day Pontiac has a personal income tax, is the day I take my business where it is appreciated.

JACK TEAGARDEN

Jazz Great Found Dead

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The jazz trombone of Jack Teagarden — sometimes lazy and lyrical, sometimes brash and brassy — has been silenced.

Teagarden was found dead Wednesday in his motel room, not far from the night clubs of the historic French quarter where his Dixieland beat set feet tapping so many times. He was 58.

An autopsy was planned today to determine the cause of death. Teagarden was found face down on the floor. He wore a dress shirt and undershorts.

His last engagement was at the Dream Room, a Bourbon Street nightclub within earshot of his motel room.

The engagement was scheduled to end today, said Walter Noto, co-owner of the Dream Room, "but he took sick on Thursday the 9th."

"About one o'clock in the morning, he said he couldn't play anymore," said Noto. "I didn't know he was still in town. I thought he was going to his home at Pompano Beach, Fla., the next day."

Almost entirely self-taught, Teagarden played his trombone with its pulsating rhythms throughout the nation's jazz haunts for the past four decades.

PLAYED WITH LOUIS

Teagarden, a heavy-set, moon-faced man, was also a band leader and jazz singer of note.

He began playing the trombone at the age of 7, when his father gave him his first instrument. Teagarden, whose real name was Weldon John Teagarden, was born in Vernon, Tex.

Teagarden first met famed jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong in 1921 in New Orleans. Later the two played together.

"When I first heard him play," Armstrong once said of Teagarden, "I got goose pimples."

Teagarden has made his home recently at Pompano Beach.

He is survived by his widow, the former Addie Gault; a son, Joe, 12, and two sons by a previous marriage, Jack Jr. and Gilbert, both now living in Texas.

Plans for Children's Village Units to Be Eyed

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will consider final plans for first units of a proposed Children's Village at a meeting tomorrow in the County Courthouse Auditorium.

Board approval is being sought so that construction of the first three village units can begin March 3.

The supervisors' ways and means committee is requesting authorization for the County Board of Auditors to take construction bids on the estimated $646,000 initial project.

The first three units are intended to solve overcrowded conditions at the county's existing facilities for Juvenile Court wards, and to enable more individual care and treatment, especially of emotionally disturbed youngsters.

Two youth cottages and a special service unit are proposed for construction on the village site at the County Service Center in March. They would be completed some time in December.

The federal government has pledged an accelerated public works grant for half the cost, subject to final approval of the plans.

Construction of the entire village is expected to take several years. Ultimately it will provide quarters and educational facilities for all youngsters placed in the county's care, in a single campus-like setting.

In other action, the board of supervisors will be asked to adopt a 1964 legislative program and accept a committee report on proposed renovations of the county's Tuberculosis Sanatorium and Medical Care Facility.

TO BE SOUGHT

The legislative program will comprise bills to be sought by the board from the State Legislature this year.

Noticeably lacking will be any proposed county home rule enabling act. This was to have been the major bill to originate from here.

However, the board failed to approve a home rule enabling bill that was recommended by its legislative committee last month. The committee then decided there wasn't sufficient time to draft a new proposal.

Gov. George Romney is expected to have a proposed county home rule enabling act introduced to the legislature.

The county committee agreed that the board of supervisors could wait for the governor's bill and decide then whether to support it intact or seek any amendments.

So far, the board has a single bill in its program. It would stiffen prosecution for child abuse by requiring doctors to report to proper authorities any suspicious cases involving child injuries.

The committee also is asking the board to include in its program bills that would permit the county to establish an economic development program, increase its court fees equal to those charged in Wayne County, gain state reimbursement for mental patients placed in private hospitals for lack of state facilities, and compensate citizen members of the county planning commission for their expenses.

The board also is being asked to endorse bills that would raise the state's share of welfare assistance from 30 to 50 per cent; increase state aid for tuberculosis patients from $4 a day to 50 per cent of the actual costs; amend the Watercraft Control and Safety Act; and increase Probate Court fees.

NEEDED SPACE

Renovations at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium would enable the county to place medical-care patients there, thus relieving the outdated old wing of the medical care facility for needed office space.

The buildings and grounds committee is ready to proceed with architectural plans and cost and feasibility studies for the renovations.

The supervisors also will be asked to schedule a public election at Wolverine Lake in April on an annexation proposal.

Villagers would decide whether to annex 20 vacant acres from Commerce Township, so that a proposed subdivision could be entirely within the village.

Social Workers Set Talk About Ministry

Oakland Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers will meet Tuesday at Devon Gables to hear James Guinan, head of Parishfield Detroit, a lay-training center for the Episcopal Church.

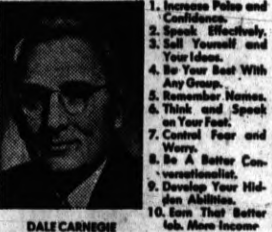

He will discuss the relationship of the ministry to social workers, especially those working with the Negro population.

Twenty-five per cent of the nation's 40 million public school children are enrolled in systems with 25,000 or more pupils, according to the National Education Association.

JFK's Woman Doctor Also Treats Johnson

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The hand behind the rocking chairs that rock world statesmen is a woman's naturally.

She's Dr. Janet Travell, House doctor who was appointed by President Kennedy and retained by President Lyndon B. Johnson in the same capacity.

The modest, MONTGOMERY grey-haired grandmother who puts chief executives on their rockers has won international fame as an authority on muscles. So great is the enthusiasm of the military establishment for her unique talents that she is in demand to lecture and demonstrate her techniques at Air Force, Army and Navy hospitals here and abroad.

President Kennedy gave Dr. Travell full credit for his remarkable recovery from the severe back injury and subsequent spinal operation which nearly cost his life before he met her.

President Johnson fortunately has no such health problem, but he is enthusiastic in his praise of the skilled woman medic who takes the kinks out of knotted muscles and constantly preaches preventive medicine.

Dr. Travell's office suite on the lower floor of the mansion is a mecca not only for chief executives, but for White House employees who consult her about a wide variety of ailments.

She and her medical staff have been so successful that the over-all health of White House workers is considered better now than three years ago, despite the frenetic pace of their demanding jobs.

IMPROVE POSTURE
Dr. Travell is constantly improving in order to improve seated posture and remove pressure from taut muscles.

For instance, she has recommended a rectangular, writing board with a semicircular cutout at waist height, which rests on chair arms. It brings one's work to hand without reaching, and supports one's arms.

The board can be sawed from a piece of plywood, and covered with felt. The trick is to make the semicircular cut-out large enough so that the two ends extend to the back of the chair to provide elbow rests.

Another of her innovations which has interested military doctors is the butterfly pillow. To make one, use a soft baby pillow, bunching the feathers at each end and tying them off.

LIGHTEN LOAD
Leave in the center only about an inch - and a half thickness of feathers in tubular shape, approximately 4 inches long.

Secured to the back of a rocker, the tube fits behind the neck, and the butterfly ends support the sides of the head, thereby lightening the load on the neck muscles.

Although Dr. Travell is the only woman ever to serve as White House physician, she is by no means unique in her own family, which boasts eight doctors of whom four are women.

Dr. Travell lives in a three-story Georgetown house with her handsome white-haired husband, John W. G. Powell, vice president and Washington representative of Trainer, Wortham & Co., investment counselors.

AVID GARDENERS

Now in their early 60's, both are avid gardeners who also play tennis year-round and ride horses when they can find time to visit their farm in the Berkshires.

Time is Dr. Travell's scarcest commodity these days. Besides her regular White House duties, she is a clinical associate professor of medicine at George Washington University Medical School and she tries to spend a day or two each month lecturing and demonstrating at various medical centers.

Long-time personal physician to many of the Kennedys and other celebrated patients, before closing her New York practice to assume the White House duties, she has continued her efforts to improve habits of work and activity.

For those who sit at a desk, she implores: "Get up and move around. Change your position frequently. Stop for short periods of exercise, even if it is just running in place for two or three minutes."

REGULAR EXERCISE

"Exercise regularly twice weekly, preferably at mid-week and on the week-end.

"Choose the physical activity you enjoyed as a youth, rather than taking up a new one like tennis or golf in adulthood. All of us have 'muscle memory', and we are less apt to suffer strains and sprains if the muscles repeat skills developed in childhood."

She has sensible advice for housewives, too: "Scramble your housework. Don't iron for hours at a stretch, or try to wash all your cabinet shelves or windows at once."

REST HELPS

"A few minutes of rest every hour is more likely to prevent muscle exhaustion than lying down for a couple of hours after a long period of work."

Dr. Travell suggests that housewives try lying flat and relaxing for two minutes every hour, and that they vary their tasks frequently.

"Housework is endless," she points out, "and it isn't housekeeping that's really important but home-making."

To prove that Dr. Travell's patients willingly accept her advice, one need only note the newspaper photos taken in the presidential office.

Just as did his predecessor, LBJ sits in a high-backed, padded rocker to talk over affairs of state with his callers. We would all be wise to adopt a similar health hint.

Inkster Man Held in Fatal Shooting

DETROIT (AP) — An Inkster man is being held by Wayne County authorities in connection with the slaying of his ex-girl friend Wednesday while she sat in a car in front of her Nankin Township home.

Held is Glenn Hannah, 27, who was arrested half an hour after the fatal shooting of Lynne Nubert, 21. Police said Miss Nubert was shot several times with a 22-caliber rifle.

Assistant Prosecutor John

Mowatt said witnesses told him Hannah drove up to the car, opened the door, and began firing. Mowatt said the car belonged to Miss Nubert's current boyfriend, Frank Hayes, who was cleaning a windshield at the time.

Italy ranks sixth among major rice exporters — behind Burma, Thailand, the United States, Egypt and Cambodia.

'Our Son,' Say Parents of Airman

APPALACHIA, Va. (AP)—Airman 3rd Class Samuel Hurd—his parents agreeing on his identity—was buried in a family plot near here Wednesday.

The funeral of Hurd, 21, who died in Viet Nam, had been held up because the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hurd of Warren, Mich., did not believe the body returned by the Air Force was that of their son.

A birthmark on the right leg of the body convinced them, however, and they approved the burial.

Hurd was found shot to death Jan. 3 on a park bench in Saigon.

SELF-INFLICTED

The Air Force said the wound was self-inflicted. The body was returned here Sunday. The parents, formerly of nearby Stonecat, expressed disbelief. The Air Force asked the funeral home to delay the burial. Then the parents changed their minds after being shown the birthmark.

"Anybody could tell it was their son just by looking," said Roy A. Green, owner of the funeral home. "He looked just like his father. They just didn't like his father. They just didn't want to believe he was dead."

Utah NAACP to Rap GOP —Not Romney

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The NAACP plans to picket a dinner honoring Michigan Gov. George Romney Friday night, but in protest to the Utah Republican party and not Romney.

"The picketing has nothing to do with Gov. Romney," said Albert B. Fritz, president of the Salt Lake chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"In fact, he has been outspoken in his defense of civil rights."

CALL ATTENTION

Fritz, in a statement issued Wednesday night said, "We wish to call attention to the Utah Republican party which, although it was in power during the last state legislative session, failed to pass any public accommodation measures."

Without Being Caught

Art Thief Told How to Return Painting

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—One way to recover a stolen masterpiece valued at $400,000 is for the police to explain to the thief how he can return it without being caught.

Scotland Yard has done just that in the case of the thief who two years ago stole from the National Gallery here the $400,000 Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington.

It remains to be seen whether this British police stratagem works.

The Yard has not only explained to Mr. X how he can slip the Goya back without being detected—it has practically drawn him a blueprint.

VARIETY OF METHODS

"There is nothing to prevent the thief from returning the painting anonymously by a variety of methods, such as through a public luggage checkroom," a Yard spokesman blandly pointed out.

The luggage ticket, of course, would then be mailed to the proper authorities.

Having offered his advice, the Yard warns the thief in the next breath that it will spare no efforts in relentlessly tracking him down.

And so Mr. X, encumbered with the hottest painting in Europe, is probably the most confused man in the British Isles at this point.

AUGUST, 1961

The Goya portrait, which was bought from Texas oil millionaire Charles Wrightman, was stolen from the National Gallery in August, 1961.

It was removed from under the noses of night watchmen through a lavatory window, down a ladder and over a high wall.

The thief gave his motive in a letter posted from London a few days after the burglary. "This act is an attempt to pick the pockets of those who love art more than charity," he wrote.

Since then Mr. X has been in almost constant touch with the police by telephone and by letter. In August, 1962, he threatened to cut the painting into strips unless $400,000 was paid to the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament. Since then his price has come down to $150,000.

NOT ALONE

Scotland Yard is not alone in giving advice to Mr. X, whom everyone here treats as a perfect gentleman. Sir Charles Wheeler, president of the Royal Academy, has been free with helpful hints, too.

At the moment, London is staging the biggest-ever exhibit of Goya paintings, loaned by the Prado Museum of Madrid, and insured for $21 million.

Why not smuggle the contraband of Duke of Wellington into the Goya exhibit, Sir Charles suggested, when no one is looking?

This would certainly tax Mr. X's ingenuity, as the Goya exhibit is more carefully guarded than Fort Knox.

SUMMER EXHIBIT

The Duke Of Wellington, By Goya

paintings are submitted for selection during the month of March.

Why not slip the Goya, wrapped as a brown paper parcel, in among the 7,000? No one would ask questions.

The National Gallery, has taken a stern attitude. Lord Robbins, chairman of the trustees, refused to consider bargaining over the Goya.

NO LAW

"If the thief returns the picture it could be regarded as if he had simply borrowed it," said Hendy. "Then it wouldn't be a criminal matter at all. There is no law against borrowing."

State Firm Is Charged

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Jenison poultry processing company operated by Henry Busscher was charged in an injunction suit by the Labor Department Wednesday with failure to pay $14,600 in back wages to 33 employees.

Senatorial Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., reminded his colleagues yesterday that "economy, like charity, should begin at home."

He urged fellow senators to quit inserting material in the Congressional Record which he said nobody ever reads.

Robertson said it costs $90 to $91 a page to print the Record, and recalled Benjamin Franklin's advice to "take care of the pence, and the pound will take care of itself."

Ex-Detroit Policeman Resigns After Trial

DETROIT (AP) — The Police Department Wednesday accepted the resignation of suspended patrolman Forrest Foster, recently acquitted of a murder charge in the slaying March 4 of John (Wimpy) Elliott. Foster, 35, had faced police trial board proceedings. A boxing manager on the side, Foster claimed self-defense in the fatal shooting of Elliott, a fight game hanger-on.

They Thaw Solution to Fire

PAUL, Idaho (AP) — It was six degrees below zero as firemen rolled up in the early morning to a smoldering potato cellar near this south-central Idaho village.

When they started to fight the fire, they found the cold had frozen the pump on their truck.

"Forward," said Fire Chief Alvin Stimpson, and the truck drove into the burning cellar.

After Bout With Boys

Boxing Teacher Resigns Post

KENDALLVILLE, Ind. (UPI) — Popular teacher William H. Enicks, who challenged two husky sophomores to put on boxing gloves with him, had a chipped tooth and plenty of bruises today—and no job.

"He resigned and that's all there is to it," said School Supt. Edgar Redman last night in disregarding a petition by students for Enicks' return.

The petition, signed by 56 of the school's 700 students and sent to school officials and a local newspaper yesterday, urged that Enicks, coach of the school's undefeated track team, return to Kendallville High.

The signers said they felt his boxing was "justified by the circumstances."

CALLS BOUT 'STUPID'

Redman called the teacher's boxing "stupid." He said school officials accepted Enicks' resignation last week after a conference with the boys involved in the incident and their parents.

He said the meeting with the parents "left only one possible solution."

Redman denied that Enicks, who has been here 2½ years, had been asked to resign.

"He just resigned," Redman said. "We accepted his resignation."

FOUND FIGHTING

Enicks, who described himself as "a little excitable," challenged the two boys when he found them fighting in the school gymnasium.

"If you want to fight, put on the gloves and fight with me," he told them. The two husky sophomores accepted the challenge.

Enicks came out of the fight with a chipped tooth, a sore eye and several bruises.

Redman said one of the boys complained of a black eye and bloody nose and the other said he received a bruised nose and a cut on the head.

NOT DETERMINED

The superintendent said it was not determined whether they received the injuries in the fight with Enicks or in another battle.

The students who signed the petition seeking Enicks' return claimed the two picked on other students earlier and were involved in corridor fights.

The petition said that "at least five rough fights have occurred in our halls during the last two weeks and we think Mr. Enicks' action was justified by the circumstances."

Some of the students said they might send a special mission to Enicks, who moved back to his home town of Attica, to "apologize for the administration's action and to ask that he come back."

"Mr Enicks is very much admired by us as a teacher, coach and most of all as a man," the petition said.

State Gangster to Be Released

JACKSON (AP) — A former Detroit "Purple Gang" member who has served 32 years on a life sentence was to be released today from Southern Michigan Prison on a mercy parole.

Raymond Brunstein, now 59 and partially paralyzed because of a stroke suffered last spring, was sent to prison by a jury that found him guilty in a 1931 gangland triple-slaying in Detroit.

The State Parole Board in October recommended Brunstein for a commutation of sentence and Gov. George Romney followed the recommendation, making the prisoner eligible for parole.

The former Detroit, confined to a wheelchair, was to be admitted to University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Sentenced with Burnstein in the aftermath of the so-called "Collingwood Massacre" gangland slaying were Harry Keywell, 52, who is still in prison, and Irving Milberg, who died in prison in 1938.

Phantom Thief Strikes Again — the Same Car

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Spokane's phantom car thief has struck again.

For the fourth time in three weeks he has taken the same 1959-model car from the same Spokane used car lot and abandoned it in the same spot.

Owners of the car lot have tried sabotaging the car. But the persistent thief makes repairs. They've tried watching it. He drives it away when they're not looking.

The car is located after a few minutes parked in its usual spot downtown, and as usual, the doors are carefully locked.

To Head Flint Works

FLINT (AP) — Anthony W. DeBlaise, 34, of Kenosha, Wis., will take over duties as director of Flint's department of public works on Feb. 1. DeBlaise, who held a similar post in Kenosha, succeeds Theodore D. Moss, who has announced his retirement.

More than half the adult population of the world, or 700 million persons, cannot read or write.

Box 23 Club Aids Firemen

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — When members of the Box 23 Club show up at the scene of a fire, they're sure of a hearty welcome from local firemen.

The Box 23 Club derives its name from fire alarm Box 23 from which the first alarm was pulled for the Hotel Kerns fire, Dec. 13, 1934.

The club, limited to 23 members, provides dry gloves, socks, coffee and other aid to firemen at the scene of major fires. They are called into action when the third alarm is sounded.

Dog Barks Blues; No Paper to Carry

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Lansing area resident who stopped taking the State Journal when a subscription ran out called circulation manager Frank Wippel a few days later to ask that it be renewed.

The customer explained that the family dog was used to bringing the newspaper into the house and was severely frustrated when he found no paper to carry to his master. "The dog sat and cried every night," the subscriber explained.

AT THE SUMMIT—Delegates to the Arab summit conference in Cairo reached agreement yesterday. The leaders agreed to set up a joint military command to oppose Israel's attempt to harness waters of the Jordan River. No military moves were announced, but the conference was hailed as a new point in Arab unity.

Arabs Reach Agreement to Join Military Forces

CAIRO (AP) — The 13-nation Arab summit conference has agreed to set up a joint military command in an effort to head off Israel's diversion of Jordan River waters.

Is a remarkable display of unity, the often feuding leaders of 100 million Arabs voted Wednesday night to establish a military committee with "administrative and financial possibilities as well as permanent headquarters, and all that these entail," a spokesman said.

Foreign ministers of the nations were to meet today to put the conference resolution in final form. The Arab League's military and financial committees also meet today to discuss the new command.

A final summit session to approve the resolution was expected tonight.

POSITIVE SOLUTION

Though the spokesman said Arab leaders had agreed on a "positive solution" of the problem raised by Israel's irrigation project, it still was generally doubted they anticipate war with Israel soon.

The spokesman would give no details of the new command and declined to say whether all Arab states would participate.

The spokesman said the agreement did not specify the area in which Arab forces might operate and did not limit the command to any specific task. He would not say whether troops of one nation would be stationed in the territory of another. He said no site had been selected for the command's headquarters.

Joint military commands have been proclaimed with great fanfare in the Arab world in the past, but they have usually foundered in the traditional discord of the Middle East.

INQUIRIES MADE

The United States and Britain made inquiries through their Cairo embassies about the Arab military plans.

An Arab spokesman revealed the embassies reaffirmed Western views on the Arab-Israeli situation in an apparent warning that the United States and Britain plan to stand by their pledge to prevent armed conflict in the Middle East.

In Tel Aviv, Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel warned the Arab leaders, "We shall frustrate any attempt to interfere with us."

In an interview, he expressed hope the Arab summit conference "will use common sense and show balanced judgment and will not adopt adventurous decisions."

DIFFERENCES SETTLED

But no matter what is accomplished in the military field, it appeared the conference would pay dividends in the field of Arab unity. A conference spokesman said "all Arab differences are on the way to be settled." He told newsmen negotiations to improve relations between individual Arab states are "progressing satisfactorily."

Less Missiles, More Aircraft

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is asking Congress to cut spending on missiles and ships by more than a billion dollars and to increase spending on planes by $300 million.

This was revealed Wednesday when the Defense Department sent Congress its authorization request for the 1965 fiscal year.

The request included $10.6 billion for procurement of missiles, ship, and planes. Last year, Congress appropriated $11.4 billion for procurement.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, that must consider the request, said "I am not disturbed at all" by the requested cut in procurement spending.

WE WILL SEE

"We will see what the justification is when the hearings begin," he continued.

Vinson said the committee would begin its hearings on Jan. 27. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is scheduled as the first witness.

The authorization bill actually totaled $17.2 billion—the largest authorization ever sent to Congress by the Defense Department.

But Vinson pointed out that this figure included an authorization of $6.6 billion for research and development. In the past, Congress has not included research and development in the annual military authorization bill.

The department's authorization request presages even deeper cuts in the military procurement program. Congress usually appropriates less money than it authorizes.

Last year, for example, Congress authorized $11.9 billion in military procurement but later appropriated only $11.4 billion of it.

The timing of the authorization bill came as a surprise because it preceded the scheduled date for President Johnson budget message by almost a week.

Valley Has Lingo All Its Own

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — "Let's pike to Boont."

This may not mean anything to anyone outside Boonville, Calif., but several California folklorists and researchers into American dialects and colloquialisms think it may be a good idea.

The discovery of a pioneer lingo known as "Boont Ling" in the narrow, winding Anderson Valley in Northern California's Mendocino County has stirred interest among several language experts, since the dialect still is spoken as a secondary language among Boonville old-timers and on outlying ranches.

FIRST HEARD

Charles Adams, assistant professor of English at Chico State College, Butte County, Calif., first heard of the lingo from Caroline Close, order librarian at Chico State.

She had written a paper when she was a student in folklore at Sonoma State College relating, among other things, how a soldier in World War II wrote home from overseas in Boont Ling to avoid censorship.

A study of the Anderson Valley area, which was settled in 1853, shows it was isolated for many decades. The original settlers, many from the Midwest, intermarried and gradually developed a secondary language of their own.

How the words developed is not precisely known. But everyone who was anybody received a nickname, usually related to personal habits, physical characteristics and appearance. These crept into Boont Ling as nouns, verbs and adjectives, together with slang expressions, archaic English, bits of Indian dialect and odd contractions.

GONNA CHIPMUNK

For instance: Charley Ball means to embarrass; frati is wine. A saddle is a beeson tree.

A hairk means a haircut, hairy mouth is a dog and blue tail a rattlesnake.

Nouns often become verbs. Chipmunk means to hoard. Shy means to leave or stop. Pike is a word for travel.

Boont is predominantly, oral, but can be written. Here is an example supplied by Myrtle Rawles, who has written a brief history of Anderson Valley and its language:

"There being a hob in Boont, Popeye shied ottoing, charled the broady, chiggeled, then took his applehead and tweeds and piked to Boont for a hedge. He managed a horn or two for himself and gave the tweeds a few buckies for dulcey."

It means: "There being a dance in Boonville, Fred Rawlins stopped work, milked the cow, ate, and then took his wife and children to Boonville for a haircut. He managed a drink or two for himself and gave the children some nickels for candy."

Tempting Taste Treats

Show Off With Savory Sausage

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

How often do you consider sausage when you are planning a main dish? Getting into this habit has two advantages; your meals have more interest and you might save a little money.

Sausage is a good friend of hurry-up cooks. Because it is ready to eat, any dish you might make with it calls for a minimum of cooking.

An indoor grill, a hibachi or the broiler is all you need to prepare the first recipe, one that uses ring bologna.

Ring Bologna Kabobs
1 Ring Bologna, cut in 1 1/2" lengths
12 cherry tomatoes
Green peppers
1 cup soured cream
1/4 cup horseradish
1/4 cup chili sauce

Alternate bologna pieces, tomatoes and pieces of pepper on skewers. Broil under broiler or on charcoal grill (or on your hibachi-pot) until hot, removing from grill or broiler before tomatoes become soft.

Mix together soured cream, horseradish and chili sauce. Serve with hot kabobs. Or, for a flavor variation, serve with hot barbecue sauce.

A snack for the cocktail hour

or a luncheon entree — that's the way you use Sausage Roll-ups. Buy precooked pork sausage for this recipe.

Sausage Roll-ups
12 precooked sausages
2 cups packaged biscuit mix
1/2 cup wheat germ
1/2 cup milk
Brown sausages about 3 min-

utes and drain well on absorbent paper.

Mix biscuit mix and wheat germ in a bowl. Add milk and mix into a soft dough. Knead on floured board about 15 strokes. Roll into an oblong 12 x 8 inches. Cut into 2-inch strips and cut each strip in half.

Wrap each sausage with dough. Bake on unglazed brown paper on cookie sheet in hot oven (425 degrees) for 12-15 minutes. Makes 12 roll-ups.

When that leftover meat just won't stretch to feed six people, add half a pound of link sausages and you're all set. You can make a casserole dish hearty enough for winter appetites.

Sausage Cassoulet
1/2 lb. link sausages
1 medium onion, sliced
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
2 1-lb. cans cooked dry lima beans
2 cups cubed, leftover meat (beef, lamb, veal)
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup coarse dry bread crumbs

2 tablespoons chopped parsley (optional)

Using a skillet, brown sausage and onion rings in oil. Drain lima beans, reserving 1/2 cup of liquid.

In 1 1/2 quart casserole, combine onion rings, lima beans and cubed meat. In saucepan, combine tomato sauce, bean liquid, and garlic powder; heat to boiling; pour over beans. Top cassoulet with link sausages.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes or longer. Melt butter; add bread crumbs and parsley. Sprinkle around edge of casserole; return to oven just until crumbs are golden brown. Serves 6.

Heat Shrimp Curry Right With Rice

Exciting curry dish that's mild enough for all the family.

Fragrant Shrimp Curry
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
2 cups water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 pound medium shrimp (cooked, cleaned and cut in half lengthwise)
1/2 cup converted - type rice (cooked according to package directions)

1/4 cup flaked coconut
Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, then curry powder. Add water and bouillon cube; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add shrimp; reheat.
Arrange hot rice in deep 9-inch pie plate; turn curried shrimp over it; sprinkle with coconut. Bake in very hot (450 degrees) oven until coconut is toasted — about 10 minutes. Makes 4 small servings. Serve with mango chutney.

Rosemary, as well as the usual sage, makes an excellent seasoning for roast pork.

Easy Way to Transform Bread Into Party Food

Ordinary sliced bread can be given a party flavor by spreading it with melted butter or margarine to which has been added one-half teaspoon of parsley flakes and one-eighth teaspoon of paprika and garlic salt.

The bread then should be toasted in a 400 degree oven for five minutes and cut into strips or halves.

Oranges Provide Calcium Too

If you are a woman over 30 and have had more than two children, all of the sources of calcium should be of interest to you. Many studies show that it is the woman of the American family who is most apt to get less calcium in her diet than other members of the family, and less than the amount recommended for her.

Still, she's the one who needs extra calcium for having babies and nursing them, may have drawn on her body stores.

Although a great deal of the calcium consumed in this country has been estimated to come from milk and milk products, many women do not drink milk regularly. Therefore, the fruit and vegetable sources of calcium are very important to them.

The "four or more servings" recommended in the daily food guide can readily provide an amount of calcium equal to that in a cup of milk.

Orange-Grenadine Sundae
3 California oranges, peeled, cut into bite-size pieces, drained

1/2 cup grenadine syrup
1 quart brick vanilla ice cream
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 to 3 tablespoons toasted and sliced almonds

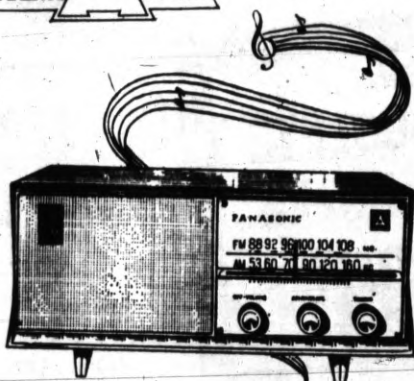

Combine orange pieces and grenadine syrup. Chill 20 to 30 minutes. Just before serving, cut vanilla ice cream into eight slices; place on chilled dessert plates.

Top with orange pieces and whipped cream. Sprinkle with sliced almonds. Serve at once.

Casserole Cookery Calls for Willingness to Experiment

Flavorful casseroles come about by design—your design—making casserole cookery a truly creative project. Here are a few tips to set your thinking cap whirling with casserole ideas, whether you're new at the one-dish meal game or are an experienced casserole cook.

Start with an imaginative appraisal of the contents of the refrigerator and pantry shelves. Besides the leftover meats and vegetables that provide a good foundation for a casserole dish, check for unusual items that will add special interest.

Mushrooms, nuts, bits and pieces of cheeses, pimiento-stuffed or ripe olives, crunchy water chestnuts and chow mein noodles and even dried or canned fruits offer exciting possibilities to the adventuresome cook.

Do your marketing with an eye to supplementing and utilizing what you already have on hand rather than completely starting from scratch. Especially watch for bargains at the meat counter and select inexpensive cuts like stewing meat, short ribs, pork or lamb shoulder and most ground meats.

Once you've decided on the ingredients for the dish, assembling it is easy. Meat should be almost completely cooked through and tender before adding it to the casserole.

Brown the pieces of meat first, if you wish, then simmer till tender in water or other liquid such as tomato sauce or stock. If you use raw vegetables, add them to the liquid to cook partially, too.

For an attractive casserole vary the shapes of the food. For instance, dice vegetables or cut into Julienne strips. Slice circles of carrots, parsnips or zucchini.

SOME WHOLE

Use small, whole vegetables like pearl onions, new potatoes and baby carrots. Keep cut-up food in large enough pieces so that the identity of the food itself is retained.

Of course, you'll probably wish to mince vegetables like onion, celery and green pepper to allow their flavor magic to spread completely through the dish.

Much of the flavor success of your casserole depends upon the sauce that binds the filling ingredients together. A well-seasoned sauce can be prepared from vegetable juices, liquid saved from cooking vegetables, meat stock, leftover or canned gravies, soups, tomato sauce and so on.

Heat all the filling ingredients together, pour into a casserole or baking dish, then top with whichever topping strikes your fancy—dumplings for stews and soups, and muffins, biscuits or pastry for oven dishes.

TOPPING

Ever stopped to think of all the ways basic flour toppings can be varied to add interest to plain Jane casseroles or stews? Here are a few suggestions to spur you on. You'll soon discover the list is endless.

Take account of your herb and spice shelves. Use ¼ to ½ teaspoon per two cups of flour. Generally, it's best to start with the smaller amount, increasing according to your family's taste.

BROILED HAM AND YAMS—Orange glazed Louisiana yams . . . topped with flaky toasted coconut . . . surround a thick juicy ham steak. Accompany this popular entree with a crisp cabbage salad.

Broil Orange Glazed Yams With Ham

It's the smart homemaker who scans the food pages for "best buys," and plans her menus around them. And during January, February and March, when Louisiana yams not only are at their best but in plentiful supply, everyone should take advantage of them.

Southern women like to team these flavorful moist yams with ham, and have designated this three-month period as Louisiana Yam Supper Season.

They suggest that you boil and mash the yams with butter and spices as an accompaniment to baked ham, or broil them with ham steak.

Then, too, since yams combine well with fruit, they like to dream up all kinds of casseroles and skillet dishes with yams, ham and fruit. Some go even further and add a little wine for a gourmet touch.

Broiled Ham and Yams

1 fully cooked ham slice, 1½ inches thick (about 2 pounds)
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ cups orange juice
1 can (1 pound) yams, drained or 4 medium Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and quartered
1-3 cup flaked coconut
Snip fat on edge of ham slice in several places. Broil 3 inches from source of heat 12 to 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine cornstarch, sugar, nutmeg and orange juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear.

Turn ham and broil 5 minutes. Arrange yams around ham. Brush ham and yams with orange glaze. Broil 10 minutes longer, brushing frequently with orange glaze.

Sprinkle yams with coconut. Broil 2 to 3 minutes longer. Reheat remaining orange glaze and serve with ham and yams. Makes 4 servings.

New Four Layer Torte Is Filled With Cream

Although tortes are traditionally one of the most complicated dessert delicacies to prepare, this one is really easy. The cake layers are made with a base of packaged graham cracker crumbs and chopped pecans for extra richness. They are then split and spread with whipped cream mixed with pineapple, and chilled for an hour, or all day if you wish. Serve this elegant torte soon.

Sunny Graham-Nut Torte

2 teaspoons baking powder

2 cups graham cracker crumbs
½ cup butter or margarine (1 stick)
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 can crushed pineapple, well drained
Maraschino cherries

Sift flour and baking powder together into crumbs; mix well together. Cream butter or margarine, gradually add sugar and mix well. Add egg yolks and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in nuts and vanilla.

Add crumb mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with the dry material; beat just until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold gently into crumb mixture.

Turn into 2 waxed paper-lined 8-inch layer pans. Bake in 375-degree oven, for about 30 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans on rack.

When layers are thoroughly cool, remove from pans and peel off paper. Split each layer in two. Whip cream until stiff and stir in drained pineapple. Spread mixture evenly over four layers and stack.

Refrigerate at least an hour before serving. Decorate with cherries. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

All You Have to Do Is Open a Few Cans

Canned foods are versatile . . . and there's no better way to prove this than in this recipe for a quick and delicious lunch or supper main dish. Drain a 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, reserving ¼ cup of the liquid.

In saucepan, combine a 10½-ounce can condensed cream of chicken soup, a 5-ounce can boned chicken, and a 5½-ounce can water chestnuts (drained and sliced), 1 teaspoon soy sauce, mushrooms, and reserved liquid; heat, stirring now and then. Serve over 3 cups cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

For flavor change; mince a green pepper and saute it in a little butter; add to cream of mushroom soup.

Pound of Veal Will Serve 4

Skillet dishes have long transcended the status of "quick family meals." With today's convenience foods, and the imaginative styling of utensils, top-of-stove dinners done in the skillet are company fare without question.

Rich and flavorful mushroom gravy helps the hostess on her way in this Veal and Zucchini Italian. Marvelous to use right from the can, it gives recipes a real zest, and requires little effort from the homemaker.

Thinly sliced veal steaks are cut into strips, browned and combined with garlic, sliced zucchini, canned tomatoes, mushroom gravy, and seasoning. Supper is ready in an hour with this as the center of attention.

Serve it with fluffy rice, a tossed green salad, long crusty rolls, and a dessert of fruit and cheese to complete the meal with sophistication and ease.

Veal And Zucchini Italian
1 pound thinly sliced veal steaks, cut in strips
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
¼ teaspoon oregano
1½ cups sliced zucchini (½-inch thick)
½ cup drained canned tomatoes
Cooked rice

In skillet, brown veal with garlic in butter. Stir in gravy and oregano. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes, stirring now and then. Add zucchini and tomatoes. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes, stirring now and then. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

Sprinkle cooked buttered brussel sprouts with sesame seed; broil under broiler few minutes.

Fudge Drops Are Festive

Fudge Drops are perfection for gift giving, equally wonderful for your own entertaining. They're an example of how two great foods can enhance each other—morsels of semi-sweet chocolate combined with walnuts from California.

Melt two 6-ounce or one 12-ounce package (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot but not boiling water. Remove from water and add ¾ cup sweetened condensed milk, 1½ cups coarsely chopped walnuts, 1 tablespoon water and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Stir until smooth—do not beat.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on wax-paper-lined cookie sheet and chill until firm. Yield: Approx. 1½ pounds.

Stir shredded cheese, chopped or shredded vegetables, snipped fresh herbs or chopped luncheon meat into muffin batter or biscuit dough.

Roll biscuit dough to a rectangle, spread with herb or garlic butter then roll up jelly roll-fashion. Cut into pinwheels and ring them around the casserole.

Make pastry toppings interesting, too. Cut strips and weave into a lattice crust. Stir shredded cheese in with the dry ingredients. Cut out interesting designs in the pastry.

Or, cover the casserole with plain pastry. Then with a cookie cutter, cut out interesting designs from extra pastry and place atop the plain.

Lesson in Nutrition Tells Child Needs

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Mucus is the secretion of mucous membranes—the membranes lining every part of the body that communicates with the outer world, such as mouth, throat, nasal passages, sinuses, larynx, windpipe, bronchial tubes, air cells in lungs, esophagus, stomach, intestine, ureter, bladder, urethra, Fallopian tubes, uterus and vagina.

The function of mucus is to lubricate the mucous membrane and prevent irritation of the membrane by dust or other foreign matter inhaled, ingested or inserted.

Mucus (noun) is the secretion of normal or healthy mucous (adjective) membrane. So it is unfortunate that such misleading terms as "mucous colitis" in this country and "mucous disease" in England became popular in the 19th Century through careless application of the adjective "mucous" by physicians of that era.

In his book "Studies in Deficiency Disease," Sir Robert McCarrison, M.D., D. Sc., Hon. L.L.D., said in 1921:

"The gastro-intestinal catarrh which characterizes 'mucous disease' is very common among children who are fed largely on sterilized milk, artificial foods, white bread, polished rice, poor butter, overcooked vegetables and excessive quantities of sugar."

VITAMIN DEFICIENCY

McCarrison further stated that one of the most constant results of food deficient in vitamins is colitis... most cases are of very long standing... from the long continued use of deficient foods of childhood onwards.

The foods mentioned by McCarrison are deficient chiefly in vitamin B.

A malady common in babies and young children is variously called coeliac disease, intestinal indigestion, marasmus and infantile atrophy or malnutrition.

Years ago, Dr. Sidney Haas showed the great value of the banana diet in such cases. Even infants only three or four months old tolerate ripe banana perfectly, making it possible, said Dr. Haas, to bring about a clinical cure in practically all cases.

RIPE BANANAS

When banana is ripe the skin is golden yellow, flecked with brown spots, not black bruise marks. The pulp is soft, not mushy, yellow, not white, delicious in flavor.

It is an ideal food for adults with the "mucous colitis" obsession. All babies should receive a good diet ration of ripe banana, and perhaps they would if banana pulp came in a pretty package, all ready to spoon into the baby "with your doctor's blessing."

In the "Brady Baby Book" (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I say: At the age of two or three months begin feeding the baby ripe banana, only a teaspoonful a day at first, gradually increased week by week until the baby takes half a banana at the age of eight months.

Many mothers report that they begin feeding the baby banana at the age of a month or six weeks, and the baby thrives on it.

B COMPLEX

An essential part of the treatment of coeliac disease, intestinal indigestion, marasmus, infantile atrophy or malnutrition in young children, and mucous disease, spastic constipation, mucous colitis, colon derangement or intestinal indigestion in adults is an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex, that is, two or three times as much as M.D.R. (minimum daily requirement).

Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, 5 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Teacher Cleared in Spanking Suit

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Municipal Court jury Wednesday exonerated a junior high school teacher named in a civil suit as a result of a paddling he administered to a 13-year-old boy.

The jury deliberated one hour and 12 minutes before finding in favor of the defendant, John C. Buckhold, 29.

Frances Eanheff of Springfield, mother of the boy, Terry, sought $1,000 in compensatory and punitive damages as a result of the paddling at Clark Junior High School last April.

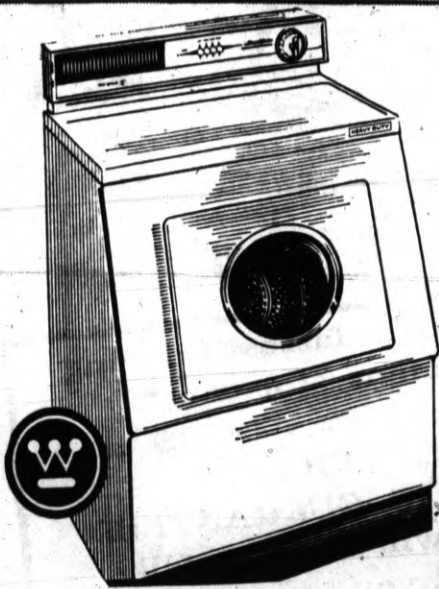

The first wholly reinforced concrete building in the United States was erected in New York City in 1875.

Gas Wars Hurt 1,600 Stations

DETROIT (AP) — The gasoline price war in the Detroit area has forced some 1,600 retailers to sell their service stations or go out of business, an industry spokesman said Wednesday.

Cash B. Hawley, general manager of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association of Michigan, said that during the last five years the price of gas "must have changed about 700 times."

He blamed the up-and-down price situation on the over-production of foreign crude oil, asserting that the major domestic companies sell the imported oil while holding down production in this country.

"This allows these companies to daily with the retail market and dictate prices which result in vicious price wars," Hawley said.

CHEAPER OIL

He added that the firms "are seeking to unload all their foreign oil," which, Hawley said, is cheaper and can be sold for less.

Hawley said the association will ask for legislation to end the price war. The first target, he said, would be gas stations whose advertising signs are often "deceitful and fraudulent."

LIMBURG, Germany (AP) — A mastermind of the Nazi "mercy killing" program goes on trial here Feb. 18, accused of murdering 100,000 mental patients and Jews.

Prof. Werner Heyde, 61, former SS Elite Guard colonel, is charged with multiple counts of murder. Co-defendants are two former aides, Dr. Hans Hefelmann and Friedrich Tillmann. Heyde was arrested in 1959 after police found him working under an alias as chief medical adviser to the Schleswig-Holstein State Welfare Court.

'No Government Santa Claus'

Barry Urges Work for Welfare Checks

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, calling for an attack on what he termed "the Santa Claus" of the "government handout," has urged that able-bodied men on relief be put to work for their welfare check.

The Arizona Republican accused President Johnson of making "Santa Claus promises" in his State of the Union message.

Johnson's program adds up to saying "that the bureaucracy in Washington can solve all our

HOME TOWN

Carrying his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination into the home town of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his only announced rival, Goldwater charged Wednesday night the Democratic party has "reduced rewards for good work and also reduced the penalties for laziness or waste."

He told the Economic Club of New York that the government should investigate "whether the attitude or the action of the small group not participating in the general prosperity has anything to do with the situation."

In his State of the Union message Johnson outlined proposals that would cost about 1 billion dollars over the next few years to combat poverty.

Johnson also proposed a $97.9 billion federal budget, saying it would cut expenditures $500 million below those of this fiscal year.

ACTUALLY WANTS

Goldwater called that "a fast shuffle of figures" and said Johnson actually wants $2 billion more than Congress authorized for this year.

Goldwater said that to deal with the problem of poverty: "I would, if I were in a position to do so, call a conference with participation from all of the states to study this problem of poverty and jobs, to pin down the figures, to survey all the solutions and not seek to impose the federal one."

Urging that welfare recipients be put to work as a safeguard for welfare programs, Goldwater said: "It has been tried, and I think most Americans want to work, not to get a dole."

JOBS DONE

"There are community projects aplenty that could be powered this way, getting jobs done which otherwise would not be done, and getting them done without gaudy new federal programs."

He said welfare recipients in Phoenix, his home town, are put to work cutting palm fronds or painting lines on the streets.

Goldwater said that no matter how high the U.S. standard of living rises, there always will be "a poverty class."

He added: "I do not believe that the mere fact of having little money entitles everybody, regardless of circumstance, to be permanently maintained by the taxpayers at an average or comfortable standard of living."

Young Mother Drowns

YPSILANTI (AP) — A young mother drowned Tuesday when she apparently fainted and fell into a bathtub where she had been washing baby clothes, police said. Officers were unsuccessful in an attempt to revive Mrs. Mary J. Thompson, 21, of Ypsilanti, who was dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Rocky Campaigning in Smaller Towns

KEENE, N.H. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination into the smaller communities of New Hampshire today.

The New York governor's campaign advisers in New Hampshire think his biggest challenge will be winning support from the conservative-minded, small-town voters.

Rockefeller, a leader of the Republican party's liberal wing, is competing in the New Hampshire presidential preference primary against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leader of the GOP's conservative bloc.

LISTED STOPS

Rockefeller's 12-hour schedule for today listed stops at Swanzey, Keene, Peterborough, Wilton, Milford, Bedford and Derry. He will wind up the trip tonight at his Manchester headquarters.

The agenda included a combination of speeches and direct contact with individual voters.

In earlier campaigning, Rockefeller has stayed close to the cities—Concord, Nashua, Manchester and Portsmouth. Now he is extending his activity into areas in which Goldwater is believed to be strongest.

ADDED PROBLEM

The rural areas and smaller communities post an additional problem for the governor in that these are believed to be the greatest source of adverse reaction to his divorce and remarriage.

His campaign strategists are counting on the governor's personal campaign techniques to offset that reaction.

Mrs. Rockefeller passed up the campaign swing today in favor of the next one on Jan. 24. She is expecting a child in June and is limiting her participation in political activities.

Whoopee! Jeans Again

FRIENDSWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Tradition has been broken at the Friendswood Junior High School.

Girl students wore blue jeans and pedal pushers to school and the principal, Bill Powell, wore his pajamas under his clothes.

The reason: The heating system in the school is still working at only one-third of capacity. This has created no little discomfort during mid-term examination week.

Heretofore the only time the girls wear jeans has been during the annual Western Day celebration.

Abandon Hope for Frenchmen Buried in Debris

PARIS (AP) — French firemen and army engineers abandoned hope today of finding any more survivors beneath the wreckage of a 12-story apartment house that collapsed, killing at least 15 workers.

Officials fear as many as 20 or 25 men may have been killed.

The building, part of a low-cost housing project on Boulevard Lefebvre, fell apart yesterday as workers were putting one of the last steel and concrete beams into place.

Salvage crews went to work at dawn to clear away the rubble.

Farm fires have cost the United States an estimated $12 million since 1961. They account for almost one-eighth of the total damage by all fires, which was a record $175 million for the same period.

Apartment Complex Backed by Avon Area Homeowners

AVON TOWNSHIP — Something new has been added to the controversy surrounding the proposed apartments on Walton — endorsement of the Northwest Avon Inter-Association Council.

The council is made up of representatives of the homeowners' associations in northwest Avon Township.

After two meetings with Builder Sidney Weinberger, the council has agreed to give its approval to the multiple dwellings, provided certain deed restrictions are established.

Weinberger, head of College Park Development Co., wants to build six eight-unit, two-story apartments on Walton opposite Brewster.

5.5 ACRES

Each of the $80,000 colonial buildings would contain four two-bedroom and four one-bedroom apartments. They would be constructed on a 5.5-acre parcel.

Inter-Association Council President Philip K. Trimble said today that Weinberger has agreed to the deed restrictions set up by his group.

He said the builder has promised a minimum of 700 square feet for the single bedroom apartments and 900 square feet for the two-bedroom units.

Trimble said Weinberger has also agreed to limit the complex to 48 units, and charge in the neighborhood of $200 for rental of the apartments.

OTHER ESTABLISHMENTS

"The group still feels that they would just as soon not have the apartments, but looking at the alternatives there are several other establishments less desirable than these," Trimble said.

He explained the council was faced with the choice of the apartments, general commercial, or administrative and professional buildings.

A buffer zone around the apartments is required by the township zoning ordinance.

Trimble said that although the council is now in favor of Weinberger's proposal, "there is some indication that Spring Hill residents are not completely satisfied."

ADJACENT TO SITE

Spring Hill Subdivision is adjacent to the site of the proposed apartments.

In a public hearing last September, more than 225 crowded into the township hall to express opinion on the issue, and Attorney Kenneth Shampo of Warren turned in petitions which he said carried the names of 970 residents objecting to the proposed construction.

The Avon Township Board is expected to make a final decision on the issue at next Wednesday's session.

NEWS OF THE AREA

First-Hand Experience

Methodists Set Race Experiment

ROCHESTER — A youth group at St. Paul's Methodist Church is planning to learn more about race relations by firsthand experience this weekend.

Members of the Senior High Youth Fellowship have invited a similar group of a predominantly Negro congregation in Detroit to be guests in their homes Saturday and Sunday.

Eighteen boys and girls from East Grand Boulevard Methodist Church will arrive in Rochester at 10 a.m. Saturday.

They will be accompanied by their youth director, Phillip Wilcox.

St. Paul's MYF has arranged this visit as an opportunity to do more than talk about race relations, according to Rev. J. Douglas Parker, church pastor.

He said youths feel, or think they should feel, no prejudice.

But, he asks, "How can they be sure when there is no chance to share with those of another race?"

"This weekend's experience will provide the young people with the opportunity to build the kind of close relationships that can reveal how they really do feel."

THREE GOALS

The local group has set three goals which members hope might be enhanced by this experience:

• To better understand and develop Christian attitudes toward others.

• To provide families of the church and community with a chance to meet and know Christian youth of another race — especially their own families.

• To witness to the community that they believe in Jesus Christ and want to take part in building the kind of kingdom He proclaimed.

LATER MEETING

After meeting their host families and getting acquainted during the afternoon, the youth will meet at the church for a discussion on the meaning of friendship and Christian love.

A party at the church will follow a progressive dinner Saturday night.

Adults from the church and community are invited to share with the young people in discussion Sunday afternoon at 3 in the church parlors.

Rev. Parker will be joined by Rev. Woodie White, pastor of the Detroit church, in conversation regarding current trends in human rights.

OTHERS INVITED

Parents and friends of the MYF group's guests from East Grand Boulevard are also invited for the discussion and social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Price are adult advisors for the fellowship group planning this experience.

Wants History of Rochester

ROCHESTER — Village President John Boeberitz wants help. He doesn't have a pressing problem to solve. Rather he needs historians, writers and data compilers.

He wants a new history of Rochester to be written, and he is seeking aid to gather all available information and put it together in book form.

Boeberitz said he only knows of two histories that have been published — both of them now outdated.

ELICIT INTEREST

So, at his instigation, the council has directed that a letter be sent to local service, school and church groups to elicit their interest in the project.

The replies are due back to the village offices by Feb. 15.

Blood Drive Set in Troy

TROY — The Troy-Clawson Elks Lodge will sponsor its semi-annual blood drive from 3 to 9 p.m. Monday at the lodge hall, 1451 Big Beaver.

Area residents are asked to join the local Elks in donating a pint of blood. Donors may make their contribution to the Elks' Blood Bank or to the bank of their choice.

Any donor who is not an Elk and contributes to the Elks' bank is eligible to draw blood from the bank. Further information about the program can be obtained by contacting Russell Davis at the Troy-Clawson Lodge.

Supervisor in Milford Will Retire

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — For the second time in his life, Supervisor Mayon Hoard will retire at the end of this month.

Hoard's resignation came after seven years as supervisor. His second career began in 1957, when he retired after 39 years at the Ford Motor Co.

While working at Ford, the supervisor had been busy in civic activities. He served on the Milford Village Council from 1941 to 1942 and as president of the village from 1943 to 1950.

In 1955 he was elected to the township board for the first time.

As a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Hoard has been chairman of the equalization and drain committees.

Hoard, 65, said he plans to spend his retirement in Florida. The township board will appoint his successor Feb. 3.

Outlines Jobs of Center Unit

TROY — Working on plans for the proposed $7-acre civic center here, the City Commission has outlined future chores of the recently organized building authority.

First on the list of the authority's duties is the job of finding an architectural firm to draw up specifications for the center.

The initial unit is to be a new municipal building. The authority will also review financial data on the proposed structure, to be of some 18,000 square feet.

REVIEW LAYOUT

Then the board will review a proposed layout for the development with the city planning commission and planning consultants Vilcan-Leman of Southfield.

Their findings will be submitted to the City Commission for its comments and possible approval. No timetable has been set for the schedule.

Oakland Twp. Charity Sets Annual Meeting

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The annual meeting of the Oakland Township Community Chest will be held in Oakland Township Hall, 4393 Collins, at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

All residents of the township are invited to attend and participate in the meeting. Local community chest directors will be elected and other necessary business transacted.

Units Under Construction for Catholic Sisterhood

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A high school, novitiate and headquarters for the Roman Catholic Sisters of Mercy are now under construction on Middlebelt between 11 and 12 Mile.

The multimillion-dollar complex will be composed of three separate facilities surrounding a small lake. It is scheduled for completion within a year.

Near the center of the 125-acre site, and on the southern shore of the lake to be made by enlarging a stream, will be the provincialate.

One of the building's two wings will house the administrative offices of the Province of Detroit. The other wing is designed as a convent, containing a small chapel for the use of the seven-member provincial council.

SISTERHOOD PROJECTS

The 763 sisters of the province work in health, education and welfare activities in Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Argentina.

Their novitiate, on the eastern shore of the lake, will include classrooms for a two-year liberal arts college program directed by Mercy College of Detroit.

The educational area will contain classrooms, studios, laboratories and a library.

One wing will house administrative offices and another the living quarters, with a 200-room sleeping area, living rooms, a health clinic, locker rooms, reception area, dining room and recreation area.

MAIN CHAPEL

The main chapel will be adjacent to the novitiate. Its copper-sheathed timber roof, 60 feet tall at the apex, is designed to symbolize praying hands.

Building materials for the chapel are to be wood, natural stone and cathedral stone.

A shrine to Our Lady of Mercy on a peninsula in the lake will use the same predominant design.

Our Lady of Mercy High School will be a self-sustaining unit on the west side of the lake. Its facilities include a convent for 40 nuns, chapel, administrative offices, gymnasium, pool, auditorium, cafeteria and kitchen, in addition to classrooms.

The complex was designed by Giffels and Rossetti, Inc., of Detroit.

KAREN N. HADRILL

Announcement is made of the engagement of Karen N. Hadrill to Jerry E. Wells. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Muriel Hadrill, 514 General Motors, Milford, and Philip Hadrill of Detroit. Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ervin R. Wells of 1045 N. Milford, Milford Township. The couple has set an April 4 wedding date.

Rochester Kiwanians Call for Ads

ROCHESTER — The local Kiwanis Club's Welcome Service Committee has set a Feb. 7 deadline this year for advertisements to be turned in for the Rochester directory.

Herbert Stentenberg, incoming Kiwanis president, said merchants will be contacted and requested to re-subscribe in the directory, which lists local businesses alphabetically.

Chairman of the Welcome Service Committee this year is W. V. (Tom) Sawyer. He is assisted by Herman C. Klix and Arthur Kollin.

Rochester Kiwanians have supported the Welcome Service program since 1954 and have contacted some 3,200 area newcomers.

BETTER COMMUNITY

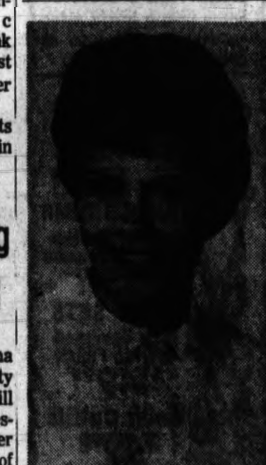

Prime purpose of the plan is to make Rochester a better community in which to work, live and shop.

Rochester's official welcome hostess, Mrs. Sawyer, will again be calling on some 30 new families each month.

More information on the program can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Sawyer, 1855 Washington.

ETHEL LUCAS

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McSwain of 211 N. Saginaw, Holly, announce the engagement of her daughter, Ethel Lucas, to Roy Durgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Durgan of 425 Harden, Holly. A July wedding is being planned.

Romeo Clerk's Post Loses Some Luster

ROME — One month from tomorrow, a primary election here will determine who's going to be the village clerk.

The question is: does either of the two Republican candidates want the job?

As it stands now, the winner will receive a salary which is a small fraction of that paid the clerk when the two filed petitions for the job.

Nomination in the primary is tantamount to election in March with only one candidate on the ballot.

At the Jan. 6 meeting, the council voted to slash the clerk's pay from $4,200 annually to $15 a meeting.

CAN'T RETRACT

Even if they wanted to, candidates Mrs. Phyllis Mellen and Councilman Norman Engel couldn't retract their petitions, according to state election laws.

Mrs. Mellen, of 254 E. St. Clair, said today that news of the pay cut was "a shock, that's for sure."

She said if she could have withdrawn her petitions when she found out her sole duties would be carried out at the council meetings, she would have.

"I wanted the office because I like the work that is involved," she said. "The part of the job that I like the most is the part they are taking away."

SHE'LL TAKE IT

However, Mrs. Engel says now she will take the job, if elected. "If I don't work (full time) there, I'll work someplace else and I could still be village clerk."

Along with cutting the annual pay, the council decided to staff the village office so the clerk would not be needed during the day.

FACES BLINDNESS — Harry Botek, 16, has contracted an unusual eye disease diagnosed as ocular penphigus, which could cause blindness in one to 10 years. His stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Henderson of Mason, plan to take him to Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D.C., next week to have specialists examine him.

Basutoland, a British protectorate in the middle of the Republic of South Africa, is now the favorite asylum for political refugees from the republic.

Teen Hopes Hospital Can Save His Sight

MASON (AP) — A trip to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. next Monday awaits a 16-year-old Mason boy suffering from an unusual eye ailment which doctors say could cause blindness in one to ten years.

Harry Botek's eye condition has been diagnosed as ocular penphigus, an illness which attacks the white membrane covering the eye, causing it to shrink and eventually drying the eye's surface.

A Walter Reed official asked Harry's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Henderson, to bring the boy to Washington. He said a Johns Hopkins University Hospital eye specialist, Dr. Alfred Maumenee, will examine Harry Wednesday, Mrs. Henderson said.

ICE FISHING

"We first noticed Harry had trouble with his eyes when I took him ice fishing last March," his stepfather said. "His eyes were watering a lot. We thought his eyes were affected by the strong sunlight on the ice."

Harry has continued his studies at Mason high, trying to acquire as much knowledge as he can in preparation for the possibility of going to the Michigan School for the Blind.

"We still hope that we'll find a way to save Harry's eyesight even though the chances are regarded as pretty slim," said Henderson.

FATHER KILLED

The boy's father, Anton Botek. The boy's father, A'ton Botek Jr., was killed in action in Korea in 1951. His mother married Henderson about ten years ago.

Congress recently approved a 47.2 billion dollar appropriation for defense, the second biggest arms appropriation in U. S. history.

2 STORES IN PONTIAC . . . MIRACLE MILE SHOPPING CENTER AND PERRY AT MONTCALM

Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Bookmyer, Birmingham, arrived early for the Oakland County Medical Society dinner Wednesday evening at Oakland University. The president of the society and his wife wanted to view the exhibit of medical history paintings by Robert A. Thom. His group is co-sponsor of the exhibit with OU's division of continuing education.

announced a special public showing of the paintings on Sunday from 2-5 p.m. Thom and his research director, George A. Bender, will be present to explain the pictures.

At Meadow Brook

Set Summer Ball

The gardens and fountains of Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson's Rochester estate will glow under the lights of the fourth annual Meadow Brook Ball on June 20.

The ball, according to co-chairman Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, provides the largest lump sum contribution to the Oakland University scholarship fund. Admission to the affair is 100 dollars per couple.

At a "June in January" planning luncheon, Wednesday committee members met to coordinate preparatory efforts. Cochairman Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills opened her home for the meeting.

Among those relaxing in the walnut paneled library before the meeting were Mrs. E. M. Estes, Mrs. Ben D. Mills, Mrs. Robert Powers, Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend and Mrs. George J. Huebner Jr.

Other members of this year's committee are Mesdames Don E. Ahrens, William B. Bachman Jr., Rinehart S. Bright and James L. Cameron Jr.

Club Plans for District Gathering

Mrs. James Sweeney of Bloomfield Hills is assisting with plans for the midyear meeting of District I, Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Jan. 30, in the Women's City Club, Detroit.

Seven state chairmen will present the morning program "Pillars for Program Planning" beginning at 9:30.

The Charles W. Warren Company will show slides of the recent flower show and table setting exhibition at their store.

OHIO SPEAKER

Mrs. John W. Knight Jr. of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, will give a creative demonstration "New Dimension in Design" following the luncheon interlude.

Well-known throughout the Middle West as a lecturer-writer on flower arranging, her talk will stress the abstract influence in arrangements.

Both sessions of this meeting, according to the director, Mrs. Keith B. Willoughby of Farmington, will provide exciting and adaptable ideas for programming monthly meetings for garden clubs.

Reservations for the day may be made to Mrs. Oris OptHolt of Farmington.

Personals

From England comes the news of a new grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills.

Their daughter Toni and her husband Basil W. Denning of Merstham Surrey, England added a fourth child to their family on Jan. 9. Their little girl's name is Jennifer Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cotterman of Rugby Circle have returned to their home following three weeks in Chicago and Akron, Ohio. The Cottermans spent a week as the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brant Cotterman and children Mark and Cheryl, of Western Springs, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Emerson (Sharon Walsh) of Lansdowne Street announce the birth of their second daughter, Leslie Carol, Dec. 19 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Sacred Heart Extends an Invitation to Dinner

The annual Gourmet Dinner of the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, will be Jan. 25.

The dinner is sponsored by the Convent Fathers' Club with Peter Darin as general chairman of the group.

The decor theme of the dinner, planned by Mrs. Don E. Ahrens and Joseph W. McCarthy, is designed to evoke memories of the Caribbean.

Specially prepared tropical music will provide the dining background and travel posters will add to the setting.

The hospitality committee this year will be divided into four groups, according to chairman, Judge W. Bearden.

HOSTS

Greeting the first arrivals will be Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Churches, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Doetsch, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. O'Connor.

Later, the reception committee will include Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Costello Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Baer.

A third group of hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. William J. DeVault, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Stein, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Vieson.

The final reception committee, will include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Brady, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Bookmyer, and Dr. and Mrs. Norman F. Gehring.

Tickets for the Gourmet Dinner are available through ticket chairman Walter Roney of Dearborn, from parents of children attending the school, or from the convent.

Invite Her to Family Gathering

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: We have a cousins group. We are 25 altogether and are all first cousins. Twice a year we get together for a reunion. Just recently one of the cousins was engaged.

We would like to know if his fiancée should be asked to come to our next reunion which will be next month. Some feel she should and others think that as she is not yet in the family she should not be included in the group.

Will you please give us your opinion?

A: If your reunion is not for the discussion of personal family matters but is merely a social gathering, she should be invited to it just as she would be to any party to which her fiancée is invited.

Q: Is it, or is it not, proper to write a personal note when replying to a formal third person wedding invitation from a close relative? A friend and I have been arguing this point for some time.

She says that a third person invitation always requires a third person answer no matter how well you know the hosts; whereas I feel such a note is much too formal from close relatives.

Will you please settle this point for us?

A: If the wedding is to be a large one, the answers should all be in the third person because whoever is keeping track of the replies need look no further than the name and "accepts" which is indeed a help when there are many invitations to open, read and record.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Parents Are Superhuman; How Do They Stand You?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy and I have been wanting to quit school for over a year, but my parents won't let me.

I hate school and I want to quit now and get a job. I failed two subjects last term, and know I won't do any better next time.

My parents found out I was smoking and they ordered me to quit. I told them if they wouldn't let me quit school I wasn't going to quit smoking.

My Dad made a deal with me: he said if I quit smoking and continued with school, he'd buy me a car I wanted. I said okay.

He got me the car and I really have been trying harder at school, but he caught me smoking. Well, he took the car away from me and I'm grounded until June.

They said if I flunk anything I'll have to go to summer school. How can I get my parents to be more human?

DEAR MAD: I think your parents are super-human. And far more generous than most parents would have been.

You made a deal and welched on it. Work hard in school and quit feeling sorry for yourself.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am overly sensitive because I've had gray hair since my mid-twenties, but I do not like to be called "Grandma" by anyone except my own grandchildren.

The moment I became a grandmother, everybody started calling me "Grandma." Even people who hardly knew me well enough to call me anything but "Mrs. —" started calling me "Grandma."

I resent it. While waiting in my doctor's office, his nurse had the gall to say, "Come on, Grandma, you're next."

I am only 59 years old.

Would I be out of line to correct these rude people? Or should I just sit there and burn?

DEAR "GRANDMA": Many people are not aware that pet names (and that's what they are) are not always appreciated.

So I suggest that you tell whoever incurs your displeasure by calling you "Grandma" exactly how you feel about it.

It takes nerve to be outspoken. But it's better than burning.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Likes It Peaceful" with much interest. I agree with her husband, who refused to drive the carload of children to school because he thought the walk would do them good.

When I was a boy nobody chauffeured us to school and we didn't expect it. We walked two miles there and back every day in all kinds of weather and we didn't live in California, either.

Not only that, but when I was six years old and had to have my tonsils out, my mother gave me a nickel and put me on the streetcar and told the conductor to drop me off at the hospital.

She came to get me that night. I lived through it and am none the worse for it. I think your kids today are so pampered it's pitiful.

MOREY IN OAKLAND

Q: My husband's brother died recently and my sister-in-law asked my husband plus his three other brothers to act as pallbearers at the funeral.

I have never heard of members of the deceased's family acting as pallbearers and I think it was not only wrong but very trying on the brothers.

Wasn't this procedure highly irregular?

A: You are quite right. Pallbearers are always chosen from among the best friends, business or political associates of the deceased and never from the intimate family.

DEAR ABBY: Your column is read to me daily as I am blind.

About the lady who wrote to Sears for a Do-It-Yourself Dental kit, and Sears took it as a joke: I agree, Abby, that dentistry takes skill, but no order should be laughed at. I happen to know that many years ago a man from Buxton, Oregon, wrote to the Seattle Sears for a wife—he got her!

This young widower filled out an order blank for fun in the presence of some friends at the request of his young son who wanted a "Mommy." They mailed it, and when the "order" arrived, the clerk who got it asked if anyone there could fill it.

A little widow, who was the mother of a small daughter, said she'd go if he would send the fare. So Sears informed the man in Buxton.

He sent the fare to see what she looked like, she made the trip, and they lived as happily ever after as any other couple.

Legion Women to Hold Dance

A membership quota dinner dance for the Auxiliary of the Chief Pontiac Post No. 377 of the American Legion will be held Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion home on Lake Oakland.

The Auxiliary discussed the dinner dance at their business meeting last Saturday. Mrs. Marshall Charter and Mrs. Howard Bliss were hostesses for the evening. Luncheon followed the meeting.

Dress-up afternoon functions need a large pin worn below a cultured pearl double-strand choker, and matched to large earrings. A blazing sun in yellow gold with wind-swept rays, each sparked with small diamonds, and centered with a large pearl, is a pin that holds its own in any company. Important pearl and gold earrings are lighted by small diamonds set at random on the gold.

Chiefs Initiate New Member

Mrs. H. H. Pattison of Orchard Lake was hostess to the Past Chiefs Club of Mizpah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters of Pontiac, Wednesday evening.

Dessert was served following the initiation of Mrs. Reino Perkio into the club.

Fund-raising projects for the year were discussed and the evening closed with a social hour.

Gardeners Meet

Mrs. Kenneth Gidley was hostess for Tuesday's meeting of the Dirt Gardeners Club in Adah Shelly Library.

Lyle Abel, Oakland County extension director, spoke to the group on "Soil Conservation."

ABWA Group Hears Talk on Retailing

Vocational talks on retailing highlighted Tuesday's dinner meeting for Land-O-Oak chapter, American Business Women's Association (ABWA) in the '300 Bowl.'

Mrs. John Tomlins who was elected president will be installed at the next meeting.

Appearing on the program were Mrs. Frank Pentz, Kay Buckner, Mrs. Minnie Allen, Mrs. Norman Pardike, Mrs. LaVon A. Ryden and Mrs. Tomlins.

Sort as You Go

To save sorting on laundry day, keep a plastic bag in the clothes hamper where items that must be hand-washed can be deposited.

Annual Dinner Set for Northern

Camp Fire Girls Council Meets

Pontiac Camp Fire Girls Council has scheduled the annual meeting and dinner Tuesday in Pontiac Northern High School cafeteria, according to Eldon Gardner, council president.

Mrs. Lou B. Paine, director Division of Field Service, Camp Fire Girls Inc., has chosen for her address the topic "There Is No Substitute for Quality."

Prior to joining Camp Fire's national headquarters staff, Mrs. Paine served as executive director of Camp Fire councils in Ponca City and Oklahoma City, Okla.

She was formerly director of private camps for girls in Wisconsin and Minnesota and of a children's health camp in Oklahoma City.

Camp Fire's highest national order, the Wohelo Order, was presented to Mrs. Paine for excellent leadership and continuous contributions to the program content.

A native of Oklahoma, Mrs. Paine received her AB and MA degrees from the University of Oklahoma and did additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and New York University.

Committee members planning the cooperative dinner for leaders and their families are Mrs. Hiram Smith, chairman; Mrs. Leslie Seay, Mrs. William Brent, Mrs. Norman Felt, Mrs. Melvin Hunt and Mrs. Benjamin Shelton.

Mrs. Thomas Atkinson and Mrs. Howard Hisson, both of Rochester, and Mrs. William Postle, complete the committee.

Pontiac Mall Art Show Planned for February

The second annual Pontiac Mall Art Show will take place Feb. 3-15. Dates and plans are being announced by Mrs. Sanford McLean, chairman.

Mrs. McLean is president of Clarkston Village Friends of Art and a member of the Pontiac Society of Artists.

Any Oakland county artist is eligible to exhibit his material. Entry blanks and rules are available at the Mall.

Three well known area artists will judge the exhibit. They are Marshall Fredricks, Robert Thom and Michael Church. The first two are local men while Church comes from the University of Michigan Extension Service in Ann Arbor.

Eight Reasons to Ask for More Alimony

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband left me for another woman, so we got a divorce. I got custody of our eight children, from four to sixteen years of age. He has been giving me $70 a week to pay for everything. I am unable to work, and I just can't seem to make it on $70 for the rent and all the bills. My weekly food bill is about $40 and milk runs up to $35 a month.

This is a rough idea of what I pay:

House, $100; utilities about $42; life and car insurance, $25.86; payment on furniture, $20; doctor, $15; food, $40 a week; property tax, $500 a year; clothing?

My husband is the manager of two used car lots which are doing very good. He was making $750 a month when he just started over a year ago.

I would like to ask for an increase in my alimony. Can you help me?

Mrs. E. L., National City, Calif.
TALK TO LAWYER

Dear Mrs. L.: Talk to a lawyer and explain the situation. He can take the case into court, if he feels such action is justified, and show that the award is inadequate since your husband's income has increased.

Your standard of living, as it's set up now, calls for approximately $550 a month. Of course, you might not be awarded that amount, but certainly I'd say you're entitled to more than you're now receiving. Alimony awards take into account the circumstances of both parties involved.

So if your husband is doing as well as you think he is, you have eight good reasons for asking for more money!

Dear Miss Feeley: In making some transfers of property to cut down on inheritance taxes, my wife and I have heard that you are allowed to give $3,000 each year to a person: a sum of $3,000 once in your life.

Just what does this mean? That the government absolutely forbids the giving of more than these amounts, except for charity? That you can deduct such amounts from your income for tax purposes (also unlikely)? That such amounts would not be included in your estate at death?

If so, would this hold for the last three years of life (contemplation of death)?

R. W., Lancaster, Pa.

Dear R. W.: The federal tax law allows an individual to give a total $3,000 to any number of persons during any calendar year without incurring a gift tax for that year. In addition to this annual exclusion, there's an over-all tax exemption of $30,000 against all taxable gifts during one's lifetime.

ONE YEAR
This exemption of $30,000 may be used in one year, or spread over a period of years until the amount is exhausted. Such gifts are not therefore included in your estate at death.

Your wife and you could make a joint outright gift to $66,000 ($6,000 annual exemption of one year plus $60,000, the over-all tax exemption) to one person without incurring gift tax liability if your over-all tax exemption has not been used by either in the past.

The government doesn't forbid the giving of more than these amounts, of course. Be as freehanded as you like. But any sum over the stated figure is taxable.

Generally speaking, gifts made within three years of the donor's death are subject to tax—unless his executor can prove they were not made in contemplation of death. You might want to consult your attorney on utilizing this federal gift law to save taxes on your estate.

Dear Miss Feeley: My partner and I are going into business for ourselves. We are going to be delivering furniture for a large firm.

We are both doing the same kind of work, but I own the truck myself, and how will we figure a fair share for the truck and its expenses?

Do you have a mileage rate we could go by?

B. W., Colton, Calif.

Dear B. W.: A national trucking company renting 16-foot trucks has the following mileage rate arrangement: $29 for the first day, including the first 40 miles. Any additional mileage is at 18¢ per mile. This arrangement assumes a $200 deductible clause on the insurance policy. If there is no deduction on the insurance, the cost will be $2 more each day.

Partners starting a business venture ought to have a legal agreement so that expenses and profits are equally shared. This would include payment to you for your partner's share in the truck—or pro-rate it from the company's expenses.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for personal reply.)

Instant Trick for Tiny Tots

Busy moms will appreciate the "instant" decorating talents of "Tot Time," a new window shade designed especially for the nursery set.

Tot Time silhouettes gaily tumbling toyland characters against a muted harlequin background of pastel blues and pink on white, making it appropriate for either boy or girl schemes.

An invisible vinyl surface coat renders it completely amenable to soap-and-water treatment, and its blackout qualities assure serene slumber for daytime nappers and early-to-bed scholars.

Area Group to Probe Civil Rights

"International Implications of the American Civil Rights Struggle" will be probed at the 8 p.m. meeting of the Oakland County Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Jan. 24.

Speaker for the meeting to be held at the Birmingham Community House is Dr. Alvin D. Loving, professor of education at the University of Michigan and executive director of Community Action for Detroit Youth.

The first Negro full professor in the 145 year history of the University of Michigan, Dr. Loving has traveled extensively.

FULBRIGHT PROFESSOR

For one year he was in India as a Fulbright professor with the Indian Ministry of Education. And for two years he served in various capacities for the new University of Nigeria.

A member of the executive committee of the University of Michigan at Flint, Dr. Loving will give the winter commencement address at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti on Jan. 26.

Mrs. Otto Enoch is program chairman for the meeting. Assisting her are Mrs. Alexander Duffield and Mrs. Harold Chalk.

Make Curtains Superfluous

Window dressing can add zest to a small room, especially if the shade is used as the single source of strong color. Hang the shade reverse roll, to conceal the roller, and curtains become superfluous!

Today's readymade shade cloths are available in a tremendous choice of tanga, high fashion colors.

Elegantes Return With Handbags

International jewelers are searching for gold mesh handbags, status symbol of the kidglove "elegantes" of the twenties.

They've come back. Also revived: the fabric bag on which you pin one conversation gem.

Country Set and flannel go feminine. Double frame detailing on jacket and skirt is enhanced by check sinue blouse. Colors are pink and blue. Retails locally for about $30 for suit and $8 for skirt.

Polly's Pointers

Boys Win Polly Dollar

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — Recently after hearing a parental lecture on "Money Does Not Grow on Trees," my three sons, ages 9, 6 and 3, surprised me with their ingenuity.

They made a toy pool table by turning a large box upside down and taping paper bags to the corners for pockets.

The cue sticks were old cafe curtain rods and the billiard balls were marbles. If you print this I will hand my sons the dollar with another talk on "Busy Minds Make Polly Dollars."

When I make cafe curtains, I make pot holders from left-over fabric. An old quilted baby pad is ideal for the padding in between.—MRS. A. B.

DEAR POLLY — When pulling threads in linen for hemstitching or other needlework, always dampen along the line where the threads are to be pulled.

This makes the task much easier.—MRS. E. F.

DEAR POLLY — Before you walk through your garden, fasten a paper bag with a snap clothespin to your belt or apron. Drop wilted flowers, dead leaves and so on into the bag and keep your garden neater with less effort.—L. S.

DEAR POLLY — Recently when baking a birthday cake for my neighbor's child, I wrapped two or three silver dollars in aluminum foil and when the cake was cool I put each of the wrapped dollars in a slit made in the cake. Then the cake was iced and decorated. This idea was a huge success.—MRS. W. M.

Share your favorite home-making ideas... send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: Please tell me how to take in a waistline on a sheath dress without a waistline seam when the woman has a large bust and hips and a small waist. I know this is the wrong style for such a figure, but have had to do this alteration for some of my customers. Mrs. T. M.

Dear Mrs. T. M.: You are right when you say this isn't the best style for that type of figure. Instead of trying to fit the dress in to fit the waist, which would only make the bust and hips seem larger, make a one inch casing on the wrong side of the dress, either around the entire waistline, or for about 8 inches each side of the side seams.

You can put a piece of elastic in the casing and make it tight enough to draw the dress in for a nice fit. A belt could be worn over this adjustment.

Dear Eunice Farmer: Please tell us how to sew straight seams in drip-dry fabrics so they won't pucker. Mrs. B. G.

Dear Mrs. B. G.: There are many factors that enter the picture of drip-dries. It is usually better to use a synthetic thread so that the tension of the thread will be more like the fabric.

I have also found that I must use a slightly larger length stitch, and as I stitch a seam I hold it firmly.

One of the facts we usually forget is that the synthetic fabrics don't look quite as pressed or smooth as your all cotton,

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

I'm just a beginner when it comes to sewing, but have discovered a wonderful way to make soft, round cord-sashes for dresses. Take a nylon stocking, split the leg down the front and back all the way to the toe. (The toe joins the two lengths).

Then, attach a safety pin to one end and pull it through your finished bias tube. This makes a lightweight belt that is cooler and quickdrying.

Mrs. J. Strobel, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this suggestion.

silk, or whatever. You must weigh the advantages of this type of fabric against the disadvantages and decide which is most important for each garment.

Dear Eunice: Since I have already won a Tailor Trix Pressing Board, I am only submitting this in hopes it will help others the way it has helped me.

I sew a lot of shirts for my three boys and use a lot of round breast pockets. I cut a cardboard pattern the size of the finished pocket and place it on the wrong side of cut out pocket.

Pull the seam allowance over the cardboard and press carefully. After you are finished, slip the cardboard out and press again. Baste and stitch in place — a perfect rounded pocket each and every time!

Dear Eunice: I do a lot of sewing, but don't know when to use the machine made buttonholes with the round end and when to use the straight buttonholes. A Friend

The machine buttonholes with the round ends are commonly called "keyhole" buttonholes and are usually used on men's jackets and coats. They could be used on anything very tailored, however, I think women's clothes will usually have the straight buttonhole.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY: Viyella: — A fabric that is made of a combination of wool and cotton. It is woven in Great Britain, especially popular for sport shirts and casual wear because of its appearance of wool and yet the lightweight comfort of cotton. It is also hand washable which gives it an added asset.

Hair, Make Up Match Fashion

Daring décolletages, wasped waistlines, glimmering gems and fabulous fabrics for the season's black-tie galas have inspired Charles of the Ritz to advance the dolled-up look in make-up and hair styles.

Hair for after dark is a baby-doll crown of curls that narrows to a sleek, ear-framing cut.

Make-up is chosen in colors that hold their true brilliance under artificial lighting.

Englishmen Primp for Winter 'Strut'

Males in England will be strutting this winter in the new "peacock look," says the British Men's Fashion Council.

The new style features suits made from two matching cloths, with the jacket and waistcoat tailored in a fabric differing from that of trousers.

Prevent Mildewing

Mildewing in bamboo blinds can be prevented by taking the time to shellac the blinds when they are new.

Opera Lovers Gathering at BHHS

Local junior and senior high school music teachers gathered Tuesday evening to hear details of the coming "Overture to Opera" program.

Mrs. Ralph Fox of Bloomfield Hills, opera education chairman for the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area, opened her home for the meeting.

The series, which presents excerpts from the Metropolitan Opera Company repertoire, will stage its first presentation at 8:15 p.m. Jan. 29 at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Dr. David DiChiera, producer-director of the program, attended the gathering to explain the series.

Also present were the seven members of Mrs. Fox's schools committee and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, Metropolitan Opera Chairman for the area.

Mrs. Lynn Townsend, general cochairman with Mrs. Theodore Yntema, was also there.

Ivy Leagues Go for Cape Shades

Harvard Square shops, reports Women's Wear Daily, are stocking cape shades. Everyone who is anyone at Radcliffe wears a cape or poncho, it seems.

To be a Radcliffe personality, what's more, one must sport long, straight hair.

Under the capes? Dark knee-skimming shifts, turtle-neck jerseys. The uniform goes directly from classes to parties.

Burlesque Show Tonic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE R-447: Hiram H., aged 46, is a prominent business executive.

"But, Dr. Crane," his embarrassed wife began, "I have just learned a very humiliating thing about Hiram."

"My brother tells me that Hiram and a few of his male cronies from the club, are accustomed to visiting burlesque shows once or twice per week."

"What would make a prominent and morally upright man like Hiram ever do such a thing?"

"Why, just suppose it became known in our neighborhood! It would be so humiliating I could never attend any social event again!"

We physicians often prescribe tonics to perk up your gastric appetite.

And I often urge attendance at church as a tonic for your soul or spiritual need.

Doctors likewise prescribe testosterone and other hormones as a sexual tonic for men in middle age.

But a lot of laymen try to prescribe for their own erotic decline.

Since impotence is largely a psychological problem, men like Hiram may thus prod their waning sexuality by pornographic pictures, lewd jokes and visits to burlesque shows.

WARNED WIVES

Many times I have warned you, wives that a man with a ravenous gastric appetite doesn't try to whet his hunger with constant appetizers.

No, it is the fellow with a diffident stomach who tries to stimulate it with wine before dinner, plus anchovies, caviar and hors d'oeuvres.

Wives, please wake up to reality when you see that your husband is trying to prod himself in the erotic realm!

For when men fear that their erotic vigor is waning, they are likely to employ psychological goads.

Such men may thus employ pictures of nude girls as their erotic anchovies.

SUBSTITUTES

Burlesque shows and pornographic pictures are employed as psychic testosterone.

Just analyze middle aged men at the average social gathering.

They usually divide into 3 classical groups.

First, a certain number are athletic-minded, so they seek a TV to watch a prizefight or ball game.

The second group will argue politics or protest about taxes.

But a third and often larger crowd will put their heads together and in furtive tones tell lewd jokes and swill down hard liquor in the hope they can get a throw-back to their fraternity days.

This latter group is in the male "swan song" stage.

You wives should thus perk up and become more seductive mates or you may lose your husbands entirely.

Such males are becoming platonic. And a platonic or im-

Parent Should Judge Child's Friendships

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Often, after we have become a mother, we find very peculiar things happening to our old friendships.

The unmarried roommate with whom we once shared an apartment comes to weekend with us — and we find our minds wandering away from conversation we used to find stimulating.

As she tells us about the men she's dating, the possibility that her firm will send her to Paris, her impressions of off-Broadway's latest hit, the interests of the "best" friend with whom we once had so much in common suddenly seem as remote from us as the moon.

We think, "My goodness, what foolish things Jane goes on about! Isn't that the baby crying? It's that tooth coming in..."

I mention this common experience in response to a mother who writes:

NEW FRIENDSHIP

"Our 11-year-old girl has formed a friendship with a new neighbor's child who at first seemed a quiet and well-mannered little girl. Now I don't trust her at all.

She has gained influence over Betty, who runs to the telephone to complain about me whenever we have any argument. There is no use in forbidding the calls as they see each other in school every day.

My husband thinks that this child encourages Betty to exaggerate her troubles with me because she has problems at home of her own. I know that parents are not supposed to interfere with children's friendships. But this girl is not a friend..."

You know that, Betty does not. It's what she has to find out.

I know that it's hard to let her find out. But if we will remember how time alters our attachments to people who were once our "best" friends, it may become a little easier.

We lose some of the anxiety that insists we must detach the child from the friend we consider undesirable and find it easier to stand aside so that he can discover the undesirability for himself.

Our own emotional experience with outgrown friends comes to our rescue and supports what we know with our brains.

However, by "standing aside" I do not mean effacing ourselves and our feelings toward the child's undesirable friend. Parents are fully entitled, in my opinion, to express their disapproval of a child's friend.

What we are not entitled to do is to demand that he share it. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Mrs. Joseph Baxter will lead the group as president. Assisting her will be Mrs. Coleman Lee, vice president; Mrs. Leonard Methner, secretary; and Mrs. Joseph Guzak, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Methner, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. John Feliksa, Mrs. Joseph Borys, Mrs. Bruno Wolosiewicz, Mrs. Guzak, Mrs. Andrew Macuga, and Mrs. Joseph Baxter.

POST-EASTER

The annual Easter Monday luncheon and card party date has been set as March 30. Mrs. Gerald Bergin, past president, will be chairman.

and Mrs. Kenton Plourde, co-chairman.

Mrs. Baxter has chosen her committee chairmen for the year. They include Mrs. C. D. Benninger, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Leo Halpenny, Mrs. James St. Louis, Mrs. Glen Blust, Mrs. Carlton Brown, Mrs. Sidney Centilli, Mrs. Alfred Fox, and Mrs. Bessie Goulet.

Courtesy Curtsies to Carpet Care

When giving a party and a guest spills a beverage on your carpeting, don't pass it off with the polite statement "don't worry about it, we'll take care of it later."

Take immediate action by blotting up the liquid in the damp area and save the appearance of the carpeting.

It will also save your guest a permanent source of embarrassment.

The National Institute of Rug Cleaning points out that 85-90 per cent of all liquid stains on carpeting in the home could be eliminated if immediate steps were taken after the spill.

The procedure is simple. Blot up the excess liquid with tissues, starting from the outside of the damp area and working toward the center. This will keep the liquid from spreading and making the area larger.

After thorough blotting place ½ inch of absorbent material over the damp area and weight down with books.

The extra weight assures that the absorbent material and the face fibers of the carpeting are in contact. This should be left for at least six hours.

Food Products for Small Fry

A July wedding is being planned by Patricia Frances Shaw, daughter of the Harold V. Shaws of Berwick Boulevard and Lindel D. Bridges, son of Mrs. Mildred Duncan of West Hopkins Avenue and John Bridges of Arlene Avenue.

New food products for small fry include chicken sticks, a finger food containing poultry, nonfat dry milk and mild seasonings; creamed corn, in strained and junior foods; and junior apricots with tapioca. Both creamed corn versions are enriched with whole milk powder.

Italians Barge Into Fashions

Italian designers are heading barges of knitwear toward our shores. The knits are used in every type of apparel from beach to dance floor, in cotton, silk and wool. A new rage: the acetate knit, which feels silky and holds color well.

Use Pillow Ticking

Pillow ticking can be turned into long-lasting shoe bags, laundry bags, draperies, quilt coverings and bedspreads for children's rooms.

Nomads and Knights Hold Joint Installation

The Nomads of Avrudaka and the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan will hold a joint public installation, Saturday, in Pythian Fellowship Hall on Voorheis Road.

Among those to be installed are Mrs. John Skjerveheim, Thomas Kretz, Mrs. Annise Burnor, Mrs. John Vincek, Mrs. Vida Beltz and Mrs. Karl Erickson.

Others are Mrs. Stanley Prevost; Mrs. Claude Wiley;

Mrs. George Brinkman; and Mrs. P.A. Sanderson.

Mrs. Milton Probert is imperial representative with alternates Mrs. Sanderson and Mrs. Alfred Schalm.

Dancing will follow the installation ceremony, scheduled at 8 p.m. The affair is open to the public.

The Nomads are an affiliate of the Knights of Pythias and do mostly humanitarian work, helping wheel-chair victims of spastic diseases and elderly hospital patients.

'Handy' for Chiefs --- 'Home' for Huskies

Pontiac Central can gain no ground Friday night when the Chiefs entertain Bay City Handy for a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game.

Central is camped in third place and is expected to beat Handy and stay in that location.

The Chiefs are not planning to reach second place because Flint Central holds that spot and the Indians are playing weak Midland.

Saginaw, PCH's next foe, is idle this week.

An upset win by Handy, however, not only would send the Chiefs tumbling to their second loss, they've won six, but it would also drop them in the standings and state ratings.

Coach Fred Zittel is not worried about the ratings and is not thinking ahead to Saginaw.

"We play each game as it comes along and I don't believe in ratings," he has commented several times.

RATED 3rd

Pontiac Central is rated third among the state's Class A teams by the Associated Press, ahead of Saginaw and Flint Central. Even though they probably won't move up in the SVC, the Chiefs need a win.

This would put them in a position to overtake Saginaw by whipping the Trojans in a tough road game.

Handy gave Saginaw a tough time for two quarters last week before bowing, 61-45. The Wildcats trailed only 30-28 at the intermission and didn't fall behind until Saginaw forced the Wildcats out of their favored zone defense.

Art Van Ryzin, who scouted Handy, said he was impressed with the guard play of Jim Nesbitt and Bob Scott.

"Handy also appeared to be a well drilled team," said Van Ryzin. "Whenever the score was close, the coach (Mike Budge) could slow things down."

The Wildcats, 1-4 overall, have good size.

Center Don Zielinski is the tallest at 6-5. Clay White is a solid 6-3 and Chuck Kopec, the steadiest of the trio stands 6-0. Zielinski and White gave the Wildcats good defensive board work off the zone against Saginaw. The Trojans would get only one shot at a time in the first half.

No basketball coach likes to lose; but when a team falls into a two or three game losing streak, sometimes he is hard pressed to bring his charges back on the winning stride.

Pontiac Northern cage mentor Dick Hall did not show any concern that his team wouldn't bounce back following the Huskies third straight loss Tuesday night.

"Our kids are ready to play ball again," the likable 1963 Press county basketball coach of the year commented in the visitors locker room at Detroit Central.

Several factors apparently prompted Hall's optimism. While losing to Catholic Central, Northern did score 75 points.

This is the first time in three starts that the Huskies had surpassed the 70-point level (which they did in winning their first four starts).

COMES HOME

The team now returns to play its next six games (five in the Inter-Lakes League) at home, starting with Waterford tomorrow night.

The Huskies have played five straight away contests and now will get down to defending their league title with the schedule in their favor.

They lost a good frontcourt performer when Dick DeWeese broke his leg in the surprise loss at Farmington. But Dave Sudbury had his best game Tuesday with 12 points and key rebounds.

Waterford coach Bob Taylor obviously hopes Northern will not bounce back right away. The Skippers are winless in three league starts and 1-5 overall.

Taylor does not have the height to combat PNH under the backboards and has not displayed enough speed to halt the Huskies' potent fast break.

The scoring punch for Waterford has been spread around with sophomore Rick Ziem carrying the top average.

Other Inter-Lakes games Friday will have Southfield (2-1) at Farmington (2-1) and Berkley (1-2) at Walled Lake (2-1).

Four teams are tied for the lead with Northern, Walled Lake and Farmington favored to stay deadlocked following Friday's games.

Ups Average to 25

Wingate in Scoring Lead

Ralph Wingate of Emmanuel Christian, the 1962-63 scoring champion, tossed in 40 points against Webberville last week and moved into first place in the topsy-turvy Oakland County scoring race.

The 6-1 forward, one of the early season leaders, came from fifth place to take the lead with an average of 25.0 for seven games.

Bruce Rodwan, last week's leader, dropped to fourth place. Rochester's Bruce McDonald jumped from fourth to second with an average of 23.0.

KEEPS LEAD

Dwight Lee of New Haven continues to pace the area scorers with an average of 26.3.

Record May Fall in Bing's Pro-Am Open

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's National Pro-Amateur Championship—one of golf's most unpredictable events—opened today with conditions ripe for a tournament record score.

A field of 174 pros teed off in the $60,000 competition. Each was paired with an amateur in the concurrent best-ball pro-am battle.

Predictions of good weather through at least Saturday heightened chances that Billy Casper's tournament record of 277 might fall. A field including most of golf's top names further increased the record possibility.

Despite good weather last year, Casper's winning score was only 285. He set his record in 1958 and only once since then has the winning total dipped below 282.

HAND IN HAND—Nate Thurmond (42) of San Francisco and Bailey Howell of Detroit appear to be holding hands while contesting for rebound in last night's Convention Arena National Basketball Association game. Thurmond managed to tip ball to teammate and the Warriors went on to beat the home team, 89-79.

Pistons Held to 79 by San Francisco

By The Associated Press
Who says the National Basketball Association has a bunch of score-happy teams?

You couldn't prove it by San Francisco and Detroit—at least not by their game Wednesday night. The game, won by San Francisco 89-79, was the lowest scoring games of the season.

But it was the second quarter that perhaps started people thinking the teams were trying to revolutionize the professional game. Each team scored only 11 points in that 12-minute span a feat as rare as NBA players under six feet tall.

Both teams recovered slightly after halftime, with the Warriors getting the better of the increased scoring the rest of the way.

LOWEST OUTPUT

The total point output for Detroit was its lowest at home in more than seven years.

Wilt Chamberlain paced San Francisco in scoring with 32 points. Bailey Howell had 21 for Detroit.

In a couple of more normal games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 111-108 and Boston kept its slate clean against Baltimore 113-108.

Elgin Baylor's twisting flip shot from close in gave the Lakers their victory in the contest that was tied 30 times.

Cliff Hagan led all scorers with 39 points while Jerry West finished with 36 for Los Angeles.

Baltimore, which now has lost five in a row to Boston, came within three points of the Celtics at 111-108 with 40 seconds to play. But Sam Jones clinched the Boston triumph with a shot from the corner.

All eight Boston players scored in double figures. Baltimore's Rod Thorn and Terry Dischinger tallied 23 each.

Church Cagers to Break Tie

The first place deadlock will be dissolved but the crowd in second place seems unlikely to diminish following Friday night's games in the YMCA Church Basketball League Senior Division.

Friday's feature attraction will have Central Methodist colliding with First Congregational at 9:45 p.m. in a battle for first place. Both have 4-1 logs to date.

At 6 p.m. All Saints Episcopal will play first Baptist with a share of second place at stake. The two are now tied with Trinity Baptist at 3-2.

Trinity, the defending champion, will meet winless Oakland Park Methodist at 7:15 p.m. The night's other game has St. Paul Methodist playing Macedonia Baptist at 8:30 p.m.

PRODUCTION LINE—The famous Detroit Red Wing production line of the 1949-50 seasons will be in uniform again Monday night when the Old Timers play the present Red Wing squad in a special doubleheader. The Junior Wings play Hamilton Bees in another game. Left to right: Gordie Howe, Sid Abel and Ted Lindsay are practicing together again for the game. The twinbill will start at 7:30 p.m. Monday night at the Olympia and some of the top names in Red Wing history will be on hand.

Mays and Cepeda

Giants Sign 'Giants'

By United Press International

The San Francisco Giants have satisfied two very important people — Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda.

Mays, the highest paid active player in baseball, signed for an estimated $105,000 yesterday. A few hours later, the Giants also received a signed contract from Cepeda, who is in the $50,000 bracket.

Mays regards his contract-signing as a necessary chore and seldom balks, but Cepeda is a lot different and Giant officials were pleased with his early signature.

Last season, Cepeda held out until March 2 but had his best season since 1959. He led the team with a .316 batting average, hit 34 home runs and had 97 RBI. His slugging percentage of .563 was fourth in the National League.

The contract was the seventh Cepeda has signed with the Giants. For Mays it was his 14th.

Burdette, who joined the Cardinals last season after being traded by the Braves, had a 9-13 record for the two clubs.

Detroit Pair 1st in Keg Warmups

DALLAS (AP) — A star-studded field of 432 began the quest for a share of the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament prize fund today.

Bowling fans here got their first glimpse at the game's brightest stars as the field competed Wednesday in a preview, an exhibition designed to give contestants a chance to warm up on the 24 lanes installed in the State Fair Coliseum.

Severino Donoso Jr., a 28-year-old optician from Detroit, was the surprise star of the preview, outscoring many of the game's top-ranked players with 235-259 games. Another relatively obscure bowler, Pat Stone of Detroit, posted the second best score, 478.

Don Carter, always the man to beat in this gruelling 11-day event, poured in a hefty 457 total. The St. Louis ace has won four all-star titles, but has not won a major tournament in 13 months.

La Verne Carter, Don's pretty blonde wife, led the 144 member women's field with 456. Defending champion Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., lagged far behind with 369.

Loop Leaders Extend Win Strings

West Bloomfield Heating and Spencer Floor Covering continued on their unbeaten paths last night in city and township men's recreation basketball.

West Bloomfield made it three straight in the Pontiac American League by trimming the Bachelors' Club, 90-57.

Spencer won its sixth straight with a 73-56 romp over Lakeland Pharmacy in the Waterford Township Class A league.

Corr's Fuel Oil also had an easy time disposing of 300 Bowl in the American League, 96-62, led by Lester Hardiman's 26 points.

The city Class D league had St. Luke's Methodist 41-35 over Victor Paint and New Hope Baptist slipped by Minute Lunch, 54-42.

West Bloomfield played without 6-10 Bob Bolton and had a tight game for three periods before breaking loose in the final period.

Spencer coasted past Lakeland and opened a wide lead on the losers in the league race and also on Five R's which was upset by Class B Zilka Heating, 49-48.

It is the first time in two years a Class B team has beat an A squad in the township leagues. Gus Pantelides dropped in a field goal with one second to play to forge the winning margin.

Bill Gapczynski with 25 and John Harrington with 20 paced the Spencer victory while Dave Goff and John Keating had 14 and 13 respectively in the Zilka win.

Corr's had five players in twin figures led by Hardiman's 26. Pete Douglas hit 17. The 300 Bowl squad was led by Sam Sheehy's 13. The 96 for Corr's is the league high mark this season.

'500' Winners in Coast Race

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — The entry list for the Riverside 500-mile stock car race took on an Indianapolis aspect today with four Indianapolis-500 winners signed for the $65,000 classic Jan. 19.

Farnelli Jones, Troy Ruttman, A. J. Foyt and Rodger Ward will join a host of stock car specialists seeking spots in the 44-car field. The qualifying begins Thursday.

The second annual 500 on the twisting 2.7 mile paved track marks the first race in which the 1964 model cars will be eligible to compete.

Joe Weatherly, National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing grand national champion in 1962-63, placed seventh in the Riverside 400 in November. Dieringer, of Charlotte, N.C., won that race and was second in the Riverside 250 last May.

Calvin 5 Thickens Cage Race in MIAA

By The Associated Press

Undefeated Calvin remained in hot pursuit of the MIAA basketball title Wednesday night, racing past winless Olivet, 85-76. But Alma stayed right behind the leaders with a 96-71 victory over Adrian.

In the only other MIAA game Wednesday night, Kalamazoo took over third place with a 91-84 triumph over Hope. Lawrence Tech beat hometown rival Detroit Tech, 76-59, in an independent contest.

5TH STRAIGHT

In winning its fifth straight conference game, Calvin jumped to a 46-32 halftime advantage over Olivet. Jim Van Eerden's 32 points led the way. Mike Rabbers' 27 points, and 24 by teammate Ed Donaldson, went for naught as Olivet dropped its sixth straight league match.

Bud Acton, who scored 17 of his 26 points in the final 10 minutes, thwarted an Adrian rally to lead Alma to its fifth victory in sixth league games. The 6-foot-5 center was kept on the bench throughout most of the game because he accumulated four personals.

Adrian rallied from a 44-28 halftime deficit to come within six points, mainly on the shooting of Dick Seagert, who scored 21 points. But Alma proved sharper at the foul line, hitting on 34 of 46 free throws, including 12 of 14 for Acton. The loss was Adrian's third in five MIAA tilts this season.

Kalamazoo raced to a 44-29 budge at the half, and held on to edge Hope. The victory put Kalamazoo's record at four wins and two losses. Hope is now 3-3. Jim Peters paced the winners with 24 points, and Dick Johnson added 22. Hope's Glenn Van Wieren had 22. Jerry Wnuk's 27 points paced LIT to its ninth win of the season over DIT, which has lost 10 of 15 games this season. Lawrence Tech has lost eight.

Toronto Blitz Misses Goal

Rangers Win, 5-4, After 5-0 Margin

By The Associated Press

Toronto's timekeeper claims third periods in Maple Leaf Gardens are 20 minutes long just like everywhere else in the National Hockey League.

But it felt more like 49 for New York Coach Red Sullivan Wednesday night. Sullivan sweated it out as the Rangers all but tossed away a 5-0 lead and held on for a 5-4 victory over the Leafs in Wednesday's only NHL game.

Everything came up roses for the Rangers in the first two sessions as they peppered Leaf goalie Don Simmons, who let almost as many shots get by as he managed to stop. Simmons had 13 saves as New York had a 5-1 lead after two periods.

Suddenly the tide changed as three Leaf goals in 8½ minutes of the third period had Sullivan gasping. But the Rangers held on and escaped with their first victory in Toronto this season and only their second in the last 22 games at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Sooner Regents Fail to Climb on Bandwagon

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Amiable Gomer Jones, just about everybody's choice to replace Bud Wilkinson as University of Oklahoma football coach, bided his time today as Oklahoma Regents prepared for a close-up look at other coaching talent available for the job.

Jones, 49-year-old line coach and associate athletic director, was given a strong recommendation Wednesday by Wilkinson who urged the Regents to delay no longer in naming his successor. Wilkinson resigned Saturday as head coach but stayed on as athletic director.

Jones, who was Wilkinson's righthand man during the later's tenure as head coach, previously had been publicly endorsed by Dr. George L. Cross, university president after 46 football players signed a petition asking that Jones be named. Four of the players appeared before the Regents Wednesday on Jones' behalf.

The University of Oklahoma Alumni Association also has endorsed Jones.

Boys' Basketball Team Posts Shutout Victory

A shutout and a high-scoring contest featured play in the opening week's action of the Waterford Township Recreation Department boys' basketball league.

Huntton Lakers blanked Waterford Center, 22-0, as Mark Goodman scored 16 of his team's points; and Paul's Barber Shop defeated Stringham, 26-18.

Two other contests saw Williams Lake Jets take wins in both — 8-6 over the Schoolcraft Rebels and 10-9 from Beaumont.

In the first 20 All-Star bowling tournaments, there were eight 300 games, and five 300's in the 21st meet.

Six Pine Knob Skiers Place in Region Meet

A delegation from Pine Knob Ski Resort competed in the Junior Alpine Races Region III point meet last weekend with mixed success.

More than 300 boys and girls entered the Walloon Hills event near Harbor Highlands, including Marlin Jarosz, Mary Trepp, Alex Kachinko, Mike Dunnlay, Larry Hafeli and Bob Trepp from Pine Knob.

They competed in three events with two seventh places their best showings on the icy, windswept courses.

Miss Jarosz took seventh in the slalom event; and Hafeli was seventh best in the downhill competition.

Miss Trepp finished eighth in the slalom and Kachinko took ninth place. Trepp grabbed the 15th spot in the downhill race while Dunnlay was 24th.

Site of Games Suffers Spell of Rainy Thaw

Austrian Organizers Working Feverishly to Improve Slopes

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Organizers of the 1964 Winter Olympics battled thaw, rain and lack of snow today in a heroic effort to save the games from disaster.

An emergency force of nearly 3,000 officials, Army engineers, infantrymen and civilian volunteers were hunting for snow in far-off mountain regions and lugging it onto the Olympic sites.

Machines sprayed artificial snow on the bobsled and toboggan courses to stop the ice from melting in the balmy air.

Organizers are determined not to change the program, but they admit they may be forced to unless the weather changes for the games Jan. 29-Feb. 9.

A warm front that moved into this part of Austria from the West three days ago still loomed over the Tyrolean Alps, keeping temperatures well above zero.

THAW FORECAST

The short-range forecast was negative—more thaw and rain with only little snow in higher regions.

Emergency operations concentrated on Mount Patscherkofel, just south of the city, where the men's downhill is to be held as the first major Olympic event Jan. 30.

The prankish weather also upset pre-Olympic ski races elsewhere in Austria and Switzerland. The Hahnenkamm men's races at nearby Kitzbuehel, scheduled for this weekend as the last dress rehearsal before the games open, were canceled due to lack of snow.

Attempts to shift the race to nearby Bad Gastein, site of the traditional "Silver Jug" women's races, failed when most of the men's teams instead went to Italy for races at Madonna di Campiglio.

Future Cloudy for Ice Squad

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—The Windsor Bulldogs of the International Hockey League will remain in operation until at least Sunday, it was decided Wednesday night.

Players have reserved their decision on whether they will take over the management of their own team and will attend another meeting tonight.

With Windsor games scheduled in Chatham Friday, at Toledo, Ohio, Saturday and at home against Toledo Sunday, the league is guaranteeing financial backing through Sunday.

A players' meeting was called Wednesday night after John Wismer of Port Huron, who has been financing the team, withdrew his support Tuesday. The team has been losing money this season.

In Cross Country Race

Blind Put on Skis

OSLO (AP)—Blind skiers will match their skills against Norway's best in a special test—believed to be the first time blind skiers will participate in a sanctioned cross country race.

The organizers announced today that a field of 100 will meet in the special event April 12. The 25-kilometer test, approximately 15 miles, will match 64 blind skiers, some of Norway's top aces and members of the Norwegian parliament and cabinet.

The competition will be called the Ridderrennet—the Knight's Run.

Special rules will be in effect both for those who can see and those who cannot.

Those who can see will have to use copies of 100-year-old ski equipment and will be allowed only one heavy pole.

The blind, including seven women, will train for one week in the area of the run, learning every detail of the trail.

Turns and downhill runs will be marked with sound devices.

The initiative for the test was taken by the blind.

'Black Sash' Women Fight Apartheid

REPORT

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Their only weapons are silence and a black sash. Yet, in the hands of a group of white women, these weapons, directed against the stringent racial laws of white-ruled South Africa, are making an impact throughout this republic.

The strongman architect of South Africa's security laws, Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster, has labeled them a leftist organization. But the majority of the Black Sash women are middle-aged conservative housewives, many from wealthy, influential families.

—House arrest, which can confine people of all races to their homes without trial for as much as five years, allowing them freedom only to earn a living but curtailing all social and political activities;

—The Group Areas Act, which segregates all races into separate residential areas, prohibiting social contact among whites, blacks and coloreds (people of mixed races).

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's government often is quick to silence critics of its apartheid policy, but has not acted against the Black Sash.

"They'd like to label us Communists," says Mrs. Sinclair, "but with members throughout the whole of South Africa, many from influential families, they cannot succeed in this smear campaign."

LESS MEMBERS

At the outset, in 1955, the Black Sash reported 10,000 active members. Today the numbers have been whittled down to a hard core of a few thousand.

"South Africa's crime is apartheid," said Mrs. Sinclair. "The penalty is isolation. But the silent women of the Black Sash will continue to act as the conscience of the nation, no matter how much rotten fish, eggs and threats come our way."

MOTHER LEADER

Under the leadership of Jean Sinclair, mother of five children the Black Sash women intend stepping up their campaign this year.

Their protest meetings are generally timed to catch the eye of lunchtime or homegoing commuters. No speeches are made and no literature distributed.

Wearing a broad black sash as a sign of mourning, the women stand with bowed heads. A single placard indicates to passersby the reason for their vigil.

Recently the Black Sash women participated in countrywide protests against:

Search for Plane
Cost $1.5 Million

HONOLULU (AP)—A week-long search for a missing Air Force cargo plane, its crew of eight and one passenger, cost more than $1.5 million, military officials estimated today.

The plane disappeared in the mid-Pacific during a 2,300-mile flight from Wake Island to Honolulu Jan. 1. No sign was found of the C124 Globemaster or the persons aboard.

Search aircraft from the Air Force, Coast Guard and Civil Air Patrol logged 4,000 flying hours in the gigantic search, which covered 600,000 square miles of ocean. Two Navy ships and a Coast Guard surface vessel also took part.

Back in Foreign Policy Role

Kennedy Aims for Deal With Sukarno

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is back in the foreign policy trouble-shooting role he formerly played for his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

This time he has been asked to deal with the trouble in the new Malaysian federation has been of increasing concern to the United States.

The new state was formed on Sept. 16 when the self-governing state of Singapore and the former British Crown colonies of Sabah (British North Borneo) and Sarawak joined Malaya to form the independent Malaysian federation within the British Commonwealth.

Sukarno has attacked it as British neo-colonialism and an attempt by the British to continue their economic domination of the area.

Against it, he has declared a policy of "confrontation" with tactics similar to those by which, with not much more excuse than proximity, he was able last year to wrest west New Guinea from the Dutch.

From the Indonesian-held portion of Borneo, Indonesian-trained guerrillas have stabbed into Sarawak, Java-based pirates have attacked Malaysian shipping and Indonesian planes have violated Malaysian air space.

In the course of events, Sukarno has taken over British firms in Indonesia valued at around $500 million, and Jakarta mobs sacked and burned the British Embassy.

Economically, he declared a trade embargo against Malaysia, despite the fact that Malaysia annually took 27 per cent of Indonesia's products, a move scarcely designed to

to help Indonesia's already shaky economy.

Against this background, President Johnson dispatched his attorney general to confer with the vacationing Sukarno in Tokyo.

United States concern arises not only from its already-deep involvement in nearby South Viet Nam but also from the fact that it is committed to oppose aggression anywhere in Southeast Asia.

NUMBER OF STEPS

The U.S. already has taken a number of steps to discourage Sukarno.

U.S. military aid to Sukarno has been reduced almost to zero, including shipment of spare parts for the Hercules airplanes Indonesia uses to ferry guerrillas to the jungles of North Borneo.

Previous plans for the United States to participate in a $300-million development program for Indonesia have been dropped.

In his briefcase, Robert Kennedy also has a potent weapon. AID BAN

It is a clause in the new foreign aid bill which would prohibit further aid to Indonesia unless President Johnson deems it necessary to United States interests. U.S. aid last year amounted to close to $80 million.

To make up for the loss of the Malaysian trade, Sukarno has made a deal to divert rubber to Communist China and has expanded his trade relations with the Philippines and the Dutch.

Sukarno never has been too much troubled by his economic problems. But militarily, Malaysia will prove no such easy plum as West New Guinea.

The Malaysian government already has shown its determination to resist and it is backed by Britain, Australia and New Zealand.

U.S. railroads each hour of the day and night pay out an average of $135,000 in federal, state and local taxes.

Titan 2 Missile Double Success
in Weapons Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Titan 2 missile struck a target 5,800 miles away Wednesday in a successful dual demonstration of its ability to orbit astronauts and deliver a nuclear warhead.

The Air Force said the flight was primarily a weapons test of the United States' most powerful operational rocket. But the vehicle also carried devices applicable to Titan 2's assignment to boost the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

Included were vibration-reducing equipment and a malfunction detection system designed to warn astronauts if the rocket encounters trouble during the launching phase. Both systems were carried on three earlier flights with satisfactory results.

is the new 1964 SAAB in the same boat as Volkswagen?

As for styling or body changes, yes. They're few and far between. And both cars make a fetish out of sound engineering. But SAAB mechanical changes tend to be dramatic, year to year. Take the new 1964 SAAB. It has a completely new brake system: dual master cylinders with independent hydraulic lines that connect the front wheel on one side with the rear wheel on the other side. If one fails, you still get effective braking on both sides. So do your wife and kids. We made a dashboard change, too. Not one instrument, but the whole works.

Otherwise, SAAB sticks to the solid things it's always had: front-wheel drive, fantastic 2-stroke engine, and room — comfortable room. So it's not really in the same boat as Volkswagen. Nor is the price. SAAB costs about $300 more. Value-wise, it's worth it.

Only $1895 (right off the boat).

Blue Chips Hike Market Average

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon with selected blue chips boosting the averages slightly.

The general run of key stocks showed fractional gains or losses in active trading.

Cigar manufacturers moved up sharply in response to reports that many smokers are being converted to cigars because of the government health report that linked cigarette smoking with various diseases and laid little blame on cigar and pipe smoking.

Cigarette stocks were narrowly mixed. The trend was uneven also among motors, aerospace issues, office equipments and nonferrous metals. Steels and airlines were slightly lower.

OTHERS IMPROVE

Utilities, rails and chemicals improved.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 290.4, topping yesterday's historic closing high. Industrials were up 1.1, rails .5 and utilities .2.

New yearly highs were made by General Cigar which advanced nearly 3 points and Consolidated Cigar, which rose more than a point. Bayou Cigar rose nearly a point.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderately active. Rayette, Data-Control Systems and Pyle National rose more than 3.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were irregularly higher.

Bob Kennedy Lands in Tokyo

Tries to End Hostility Over Malaysia Issue

TOKYO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived in Tokyo today for talks with President Sukarno of Indonesia in an effort to cool Indonesia's hostility toward the new Federation of Malaysia.

The late president's brother arrived by Air Force jet with his wife, Ethel. It is his first assignment by President Johnson as a diplomatic troubleshooter.

Kennedy said he is counting on a "bond of friendship between the United States and Indonesia" to help ease the dispute. He meets with Sukarno Friday.

The attorney general added, however, that the Malaysian crisis is "best decided, resolved, determined by Asian countries, not by ourselves."

RESPECTS KENNEDY

Kennedy, 38, met Sukarno in 1962 on a Far Eastern tour for his brother. Although Sukarno has been openly critical of the United States, he is said to respect Kennedy's honesty and ability.

Kennedy also expressed thanks on behalf of his brother's widow, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, and the Kennedy family for "the many indications of affection and concern by the people of Japan at the death of my brother."

He said the late president had hoped to visit Japan this month or next and had always felt a "special relationship existed between the people of Japan and the United States."

Kennedy's personal efforts in the Malaysian dispute will take him around the world to meet with all the principals. Monday, he flies to Manila to confer with President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines. He is also expected to talk with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in London.

FEDERATION OPPOSED

Under British sponsorship, the British territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sabah (British North Borneo) and Sarawak formed the Federation of Malaysia last September. From the start, it was opposed by the Philippines, which claims Sabah, and Indonesia, which occupies the rest of Borneo.

Sukarno, by far the more militant opponent, vowed to crush Malaysia.

Grain Prices Hold to Narrow Range

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices held generally within a narrowly mixed range today in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans showed a little tendency toward firmness but dealers said the transactions consisted largely of small quantities and that there was about as much willingness to sell as to buy as many speculators seemed inclined to trade for small profits on quick turns.

After about an hour wheat was 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher, March $2.22 1/2; soybeans 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, January $2.77 1/4; corn 1/4 to 1/4 lower, March $1.20 1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, March 72 1/2 cents; Rye 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, March $1.54.

Bankers See More Credit at Higher Cost

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Now that businessmen have convinced themselves that 1964 is going to be bigger and better they're going to be seeking more credit. And that's likely to mean higher interest costs.

Anyway that's how many New York bankers see it. And they reason that the government won't object too much unless credit gets too tight for faster economic growth.

For one thing, basic interest rates have been rising in a number of European countries, always a temptation for idle American funds to go overseas. This Washington doesn't want because it adds to the U.S. deficit in its balance of payments, which last year apparently was somewhere near the 1963 level of $3.5 billion despite all efforts to lower the surplus of outflowing dollars over returning ones.

FUNDS HELD UP

If interest rates go up here, bankers contend, this will hold the funds at home and maybe even attract more from Europe. Bankers argue that an interest rate rise would do this much more effectively than the proposed tax on American purchases from foreigners of foreign securities.

Federal Reserve banks last summer raised their charge for loans to member banks to 3 1/2 per cent from 3 per cent. But short-term loan rates have often been above that of late, making it possible for a bank to borrow from the Fed and lend to others at a profit. The banks' prime rate which they charge large borrowers with top credit ratings has stayed at 4 1/2 per cent since the middle of 1960.

Financial circles are talking again of a possible rise in the Fed's discount rate from the present 3 1/2 per cent, and perhaps soon thereafter a rise in both the short-term rates and the prime rate.

This depends, of course, on Washington's assessment of its foreign and domestic monetary policies, and on the expected rise in demand by American business for more credit.

BANKERS SURE

Bankers seem sure of the latter than of the change in official policies, where even more

South Is Hit by 4th Storm

Ice, Snow Dropped in Usually Mild Dixie

By the Associated Press

Another winter storm brought snow and ice to the central portion of the Southeast today. It was the fourth snow storm of the winter in a region where snow once a year is the rule.

The storm developed over the northwest Gulf of Mexico and is following a pattern set by earlier winter storms.

The Weather Bureau issued a critical weather warning including a wide area from parts of southwest and central Texas through east central and north-east Texas, Southeast Oklahoma, southern Arkansas, northern Louisiana, portions of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and southern Tennessee.

Cold weather dealt Florida a damaging blow Wednesday. The state's winter vegetable crop was damaged, but there was little damage to the citrus crop.

COLDER AIR

The Weather Bureau said the storm is expected to pass into the Carolinas today and then it would draw colder air from the North into the Southeast and Florida. But Florida is expected to escape sub-freezing temperatures tonight—except in the extreme north.

Rising demand can lead to higher interest charges, and this can spread all along the line to the large and small borrower alike.

The Weather Bureau said ice and freezing rain could cause damage, but it is unlikely that the storm would wreck the havoc of the storm of Dec. 31-Jan. 1. Damage from the earlier storm was set at millions of dollars in Georgia alone.

Heavy snow fell in north central and northeastern Texas and spread into northern Louisiana and southern Arkansas. Five inches fell in a six-hour period in Dallas and four inches in Fort Worth. Rain and some sleet pelted south central and southeastern Texas and southern Louisiana.

LT. Col. Francis Smith of the Civil Air Patrol said the parachute—the fourth to be recovered—may have been Wooten's. Three of the four crewmen who bailed out have been accounted for.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I want to speculate with $1,000. I am not interested in yield, only in growth, and I would like to buy stocks under $5 a share. What do you suggest?"

C.P.

A. I suggest that you alter your thinking a little.

One of the most common and dangerous delusions I encounter is that very low-priced stocks are necessarily cheap stocks. It is perfectly true that in the earlier stages of this bull market, some large fortunes were made in very low-priced issues. But the bull market has roared on for 14 years, the market has been scoured for values, and there are few if any issues now selling below $5 that are not in that range because their quality is poor or their risk is high.

I beg you not to get speculation confused with growth. Speculation means the deliberate assumption to risk in the hope of attaining substantial profit. When you buy growth, you expect over a period of time a steady advance in price which is achieved by rising earnings and dividends.

I know of no good speculation or growth stock in the price range you designate. In fact, my mail is full of requests from worried investors who bought very low-priced stocks within the past year or two, have suffered severe losses, and now wonder what to do about them.

Q. "We have started a trust fund for our son to pay for his education 12 years hence. He has 25 shares of General Foods. With dividends and gifts he will have about $100 every few months going into the savings bank. Should we invest this or leave it in the bank?"

G.R.

A. I advise you to let the money accumulate in the savings bank until you have at least $400-$500 to invest.

The minimum commission is $6 on a single purchase of stocks amounting to $100, which is equivalent to adding 6 points to your purchase price.

Cured Smoking Addicts Become Habitual Bores

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The cigarette addicts who used to get smoke in our eyes now simply gets in our hair.

Since they swore off the filthy weed as a result of the present health scare, they have become matchless bores.

Mark Twain pointed out long ago there was no problem in quitting smoking. "I've done it a thousand times," he said.

But the current crop of swearer-offers is making a big production out of it. If you look around your own social circle, you may find the following types of ex-smokers familiar—perhaps only too familiar:

The Crusader — Not content with giving up smoking himself, he wants everyone else to quit, too. "If I had my way," he mutters darkly, "I'd put a torch to every tobacco field in the country."

Secret Backslider — He denounces nicotine in public, but several times a day sneaks out to the office washroom and smokes three cigarettes like crazy. Then he chews a couple of mints so no one can smell tobacco on his breath.

Rationed Abstinence — This cheapskate hasn't quit smoking cigarettes. He has just quit buying them. By the end of the day he has put away three packs—all borrowed. He borrows the matches, too.

Confessor — Like a reformed drunk, this fellow is compelled to brag to one and all about how awful he used to be before he saw the light and changed his ways. "I was a four pack a day man," he says, holding on to your lapel. "But I finally shook it. Haven't had one since 5:33 p.m. yesterday."

Switch Artist — He gave up cigarettes, and took up pipe smoking. "I don't seem to have the hang of it," he moans. "In the last week I've burned holes in two of my best suits."

Substituter — After cigarettes went out of his life, sweets came in. He went from one candy bar a day to six, then went on to malted milks. In a month he gained 15 pounds. He no longer worries about his lungs. "I'm so fat now I can hardly breathe," he complains. "Unless I get this weight off I'll probably get a heart attack. What's a good diet?"

TWO FACES

Liar—at the office he thumps his chest and brags, "Don't miss 'em a bit. Never felt better in my life. Should have done it years ago." But at home he snaps at his wife and children, kicks his dog, and if you look closely at his fingernails you will see they are gnawed down to the first knuckle.

Those who give up cigarette smoking aren't the heroes. The real heroes are the rest of us—who have to listen to them.

Ex-Convict Jailed on Theft Conviction

A 32-year-old Detroit ex-convict was sent back to prison Tuesday for stealing 19 kitchen cabinets from a partially built home in Bloomfield Hills in November.

Roy H. Wilkins was given a 2- to 4-year term by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero. Wilkins pleaded guilty Dec. 23 to larceny in a building at 2344 Hunt Club Drive.

He was imprisoned in 1961 for violating probation on which he was placed after a bad check conviction. He was paroled in 1962.

four hearts. He won the diamond opening and played a heart. West ducked and dummy's queen held the trick. Then South led three rounds of clubs in order to ruff his club loser. He could have played a second round of trumps, but he did not know that they were divided 2-2 and it was far safer to make the club play first.

South really could not afford a stronger rebid than two hearts. The spade response had weakened his hand. A simple raise to two hearts would have improved the South hand to the extent that he could have jumped right to game.

OSWALD JACOBY
When asked why he wants to climb a certain mountain, the climbing enthusiast will reply, "It's there, isn't it?"

Many bridge players feel the same way about a five-card suit. It's there and must be bid.

When your five-card suit is spades it really takes a lot of fortitude, or maybe just some good old horse-sense, to keep from mentioning it and North did not have this restraint. He responded one spade to his partner's opening heart.

South rebid to two hearts and North bid himself right into a quandary.

He did have pretty good heart support but at this point a heart raise would almost surely lead to a game contract and North only held eight high card points. Finally, North decided to pass.

South had no trouble making

LBJ Agrees With Nik on Border Rifts

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: NOTE TO KHRUSHCHEV: President Johnson has drafted a proposed message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev telling him the United States agrees that border disputes between nations should be settled peacefully.

But in the note, a reply to Khrushchev's recent proposal pact, Johnson intends to point out to the Soviet leader that the United Nations is a peace-keeping organization, although it needs strengthening.

The President's proposed reply, described by officials as a four-page message, was dispatched Wednesday to allied governments for their comment. Thus, depending on allied reactions, the message may be substantially changed before it is sent to Moscow next week.

As now drafted, Johnson's proposed reply would tell Khrushchev that any future understanding regarding nonaggression and the peaceful settlement of boundary disputes would have to apply to the case of Formosa, the island home of the Chinese Nationalist government.

JUST CLAIM Khrushchev had declared in his note that Communist China's claim to Formosa is just and excluded it from his proposed nonaggression agreement.

Johnson also suggests in the proposed draft that Khrushchev's ideas on improving relations and easing tensions may be further discussed in Geneva disarmament conference which resumes Jan. 21.

TAX FACTS: The number of tax returns showing incomes of over $10,000 increased 18 per cent last year to more than 7 million.

But more than half the returns filed—including those of both single persons and families—showed incomes of below $5,000. This category decreased 1.9 per cent.

IRS REPORT These figures were in an Internal Revenue Service statistical report issued Wednesday.

There was a 6.4 per cent increase in the amount of wages and salaries reported, and the total adjusted gross income rose $8.6 billion, to $348.5 billion.

POSTMARK: Beginning Feb. 1, postmarks will no longer tell the time of day that mail was canceled. In its place will go a simple "a.m." or "p.m." designation.

MANUAL OPERATION Since 1879, postal regulations have called for the date and time to appear in postmarks.

But the Post Office Department reports that this has cost countless man-hours for changing the time in the canceling machines was a manual operation.

The rest of the postmark's face will remain the same, giving city, state and date.

GRAIN SALES: The Commerce Department authorized Wednesday that first sale of American rice to the Soviet Union — $7.45 million worth—since the United States gave approval to commodity sales to iron curtain countries.

After the license was granted, Continental Grain Co. announced in New York it had sold 50,000 metric tons of rice to the Soviet Union at the world market price.

It said the rice would come from surpluses in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas and that shipments from Gulf ports will begin next month. It was reported that Moscow paid American dollars for the rice.

Unemployment in Michigan Rises Slightly

EAST LANSING (AP)—Unemployment in Michigan rose slightly in November but remained below the national jobless rate, report Michigan State University economists.

The November rate in the state was 4 per cent, above the October figure of 3.5 per cent but under the national rate of 5.4 per cent, the economists said.

Of the total state labor force in November of nearly 2.9 million, 116,000 were unemployed.

FLINT LOWEST The economists said the lowest jobless rate among 14 labor market areas in the state was Flint's, with only 1.7 per cent idle. Saginaw had two per cent jobless.

Sit-In Staged in Colorado

CORE Unit Protests at Governor's Office

DENVER (UPI)—A small group of drowsy demonstrators were "sitting in" at the Colorado state capitol today, determined to keep up a 24-hour vigil in support of fair housing laws.

The sit-in started at 2 p.m. yesterday at the office of Gov. John Love.

When the building closed in the evening, the demonstrators were allowed to stay but were moved out into the hall, where they lounged on chairs and slept in sleeping bags during the night.

Mrs. Barbara Jensen, 33, action captain for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said members of the Denver chapter of the group would stick it out until the legislature quits for the weekend tomorrow.

WON'T QUIT "We won't give up," she promised.

Tomorrow is the deadline for the governor to submit items of proposed legislation to the state legislature. And in this off-year session of the legislature, only items recommended by the governor and money bills can be taken up.

Love said he had no objection to the demonstrators spending the night in the capitol but indicated he resented the sit-in.

"I was assiduously working to find means by which this law could perhaps be strengthened," Love said. "This demonstration has made it somewhat less likely I will recommend the legislation. I don't like to respond to force."

CORE SIT-IN Three Negro women and three white women began the demonstration yesterday afternoon, sitting down in the waiting room of the governor's office with signs hanging from around their necks stating: "This is a CORE sit-in."

Half an hour after they arrived, Love met with them briefly. Some personnel changes were made in the CORE team during the afternoon and when the building closed at 6 p.m., there were one man and four women, including a single Negro, staying for the night.

The governor arranged for some chairs to be placed in the hall and the group had a radio and four sleeping bags.

Two officers of the state patrol were standing by.

All Escape Blaze in New Jersey Hotel

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP)—The 150-room Willows Hotel was destroyed by fire early today, but all occupants, 60 guests and about 20 employees, escaped unhurt.

Police Chief William C. Poole estimated the loss would exceed $1 million. Only the brick outer walls of the three-story hotel were left standing.

Story Saved for Family by Photos in Sequence

By IRVING DESFOR AP Newsfeatures

Winter is project time for many — a time to work on the attic spare room or basement recreation room or to set up the gift Ping-Pong table or even install a darkroom.

Whatever the project, it is ideal material for a picture story. A series will preserve the frustrations — and their solutions — as well as the fun of family participation in any of the home work.

Many photographers consider it is sufficient to make just a "before and after" picture. Perhaps they get too involved in actual construction to take time out to make progress pictures.

But that is where the heart of the picture series is — the running story of events as the project evolves.

This is true also of any hobby that the family shares or any games they play together.

TELLS A STORY

And when it comes to an interesting story-telling set of photos, what can beat a candid series of Junior deeply absorbed in his pet project, perhaps building a model airplane or sister dressing or nursing her brood of dolls?

Since we're dealing with wintertime indoor projects, illumination will be a matter either of using available light with high speed films or of shooting flash.

For picture-taking projects, you can boost the level of room illumination with brighter lamps or put a reflector bulb in the room to "lighten" the work.

With today's high-speed color films and certainly with black-and-white films, pictures by existing light are easy to make.

BALANCED FILM

Be sure to use Type B color slide films which are balanced for tungsten lighting. Use a light meter so that the entire roll of film is properly and consistently exposed.

If the existing light isn't bright enough for available light picture taking, you can shoot with flash.

To avoid the monotony of straight flash-on-camera pictures, there are several ways to add variety to flash illumination. At the same time they produce more interesting results in the light and shadows.

The simplest technique is merely to remove the flash from the camera and hold it up high to one side of the camera.

NEED A CORD

You must have a flash extension cord and attachment for your camera for this effective technique. It improves the facial lighting and separates the shadow from immediately behind the head when properly held.

Sometimes another person can hold the flash while the photographer concentrates on the camera or the flash can be clamped in off-camera position for easier one-person operation.

Another technique to try is bounce flash. Here you aim the flash at a light-colored wall or ceiling so that the light bounces off and onto the subject.

It provides a softer illumination but requires opening the lens about one and one-half stops to compensate in making the exposure.

ANOTHER WAY

Another way to soften the full force of direct flash is to remove the reflector from the flash and shoot with the bare flashbulb. While shooting very close, this — or spreading a handkerchief over the flash to diffuse the light — prevents "burned out" faces.

Crime in Detroit Shows Increase in Serious Acts

DETROIT (AP)—Major crime in Detroit increased 2.9 per cent last year over 1962 while crime as a whole was down a trifle, Police Supt. Eugene A. Reuter reported Wednesday.

The rise in major crime was attributed to increases in rape, robbery and auto theft. Other forms of major crime include murder, assault, other acts of violence and major thefts. There were decreases in these.

Reuter's report said rape and attempted rape increased 18 per cent, robbery 9.6 per cent and auto theft 15.5 per cent.

Crime as a whole was down 1 per cent.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE EARTH

QUESTION: How far is it around the earth and what is inside?

ANSWER: If you could slip a huge tape measure around earth's equator, as the young folks in our picture are doing, you would find that it measures 24,902 miles.

This distance around earth's outside is its circumference; but it has another measurement, the diameter, which is straight through the widest part.

Earth's diameter is about 7,927 miles from one spot on the equator to another on the opposite side. But if you measured from one pole through the center to another it would be only about 7,900 miles, which shows that Earth is very slightly flattened at the poles.

The earth is mostly composed of rock which would be found to be hotter as one burrowed down. At the center (1) an "inner core" is thought to lie — about 1,630 miles across. Above this (2) rests the "outer core," of heavy heated rock which is probably in a "plastic" or flowing state.

The "mantle" (3), of heavy rock which may move under pressure, rests upon this and finally (4) comes the "outer core," about 20 miles thick, which contains the seas and continents.

Below the sea the rock is mostly basalt, but the continents are largely granite, with soil created by the action of water and air.

FOR YOU TO DO: It is interesting to compare the sizes of the various planets in our solar system. We show one smaller than the earth and another which is larger. Find out about one which is so close to earth's size that it is almost a twin.

Hammer Kills 3 in Family

Son Admits Slaying
Mother, 2 Brothers

HIGHLAND PARK, N. J. (AP)—
A 19-year-old sailor killed his mother and two younger brothers with a claw hammer yesterday, police said.

The youth, John V. Cheetham, told a magistrate as he was being arraigned: "I'm guilty." An argument with his mother, Ilga, 41, apparently over money, touched off the slayings, police said.

The mother's body was found on the kitchen floor of the family apartment. Cheetham's brothers, Douglas, 10, and Andrew, 6, were found in a bedroom.

The mother and the older boy were dead. Andrew, unconscious, underwent surgery at a New Brunswick hospital but died 10 hours after the attack.

HELD FOR MURDER

Cheetham was held without bail on two charges of murder and one of atrocious assault.
The latter charge will be changed to murder today, officers said.

Cheetham, a third class petty officer, was separated from his ship, the Salisbury Sound, in San Diego and came home on leave Jan. 1.

He was to report Sunday to Wigby Island Naval Base in Washington.

The father, John R. Cheetham, came to the hospital while doctors fought to save Andrew.

FAMILY GONE

"My whole family is gone," he cried. "Everything is lost, everything. They argued about nothing... nothing."

Another brother, Edgar, 14, came home after the slayings.
Police said John showed him the bodies. Then the brothers went to police headquarters.

At first, neither youth said anything, Sgt. Ralph Zafarana said.

Then, said the sergeant, John burst into tears and sobbed:
"I've killed my mother and brothers."

State Police Alert Stores of TV Fraud

Department stores in the area were alerted by state police today of a swindle that has cost several businesses expensive color televisions.

Detective Robert Neigebauer said it operates this way:

A man purchases the TV with a small down payment, has it delivered to his apartment, which he has rented temporarily, and then pays the COD balance with a bad check drawn on a local bank account under an assumed name.

Shortly after the set is received, the man, who uses the name of Stanley L. Adams on the checks, hauls the TV away and leaves his apartment permanently.

Star Keeps on the Move to 'See More' of Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We were up in the new Hilton Hotel's Empire Suite, which is so luxurious you expect Nicky Hilton to be one of the bellboys, talking to Sammy Davis Jr. and watching his pretty wife May Britt puffing a cigarette.

with a pinch of tobacco?)

She was puffing this filter through another filter—a long holder—as Sammy spoke of trying to help Producer Hillard Elkins cast a talented white actress opposite him in a musical of "Golden Boy" for next fall.

"Moved a Clifford Odets play of the '30s into the '60s," Sammy said. "... no longer a hood-lum story... concerns a Negro boy and white society... start rehearsing May 6... Philly, Boston, Toronto, Detroit... New York Sept. 28... I want to be around Broadway two or three years... like to stay put here and get to know my wife and two children better..."

May's filter went out. Sammy lit her a fresh filter.
Puff, puff. We hadn't thought of Sammy as a New Yorker lately but he wants to be here for a while, and not in Hollywood.

A fellow broke in to ask Sammy if he wanted a helicopter or police-escorted limousine to get from Camden next Sunday between shows at the Latin Casino to come to NY for a "Fight for Sight" benefit if it can be done.

"Helicopter might be fun," Sammy said. "... You sure do want to stay put," said May. Her tender smile filtered through the haze at him.

Top Aide to Write JFK Book

First of Kennedy Team Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top-level White House team put together by John F. Kennedy is expected to remain on the job, relatively intact, at least through the November election.

But there has been a break, the resignation Wednesday, effective Feb. 29, of special counsel Theodore C. Sorensen. And a second break could come in a few weeks if Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., the historian turned presidential assistant, decides to return to private life.

An intimate of the late president said that with the possible exception of Schlesinger he felt certain the Kennedy staff would continue to serve President Johnson.

Sorensen wrote Johnson that he was quitting "to devote the next several months to writing a book about the late president and my 11 years of service with him."

NO DISENCHANTMENT

There was no indication that Sorensen, one of Kennedy's chief aides, had experienced any disenchantment with Johnson. And, he told a news conference Wednesday, he hoped his move "would not encourage others to follow suit."

Sorensen said "I feel that I have a book to write." And he added that if it wasn't written now, it might never be written. He said he would try to portray Kennedy both as an individual and as president.

In a sense, it seemed that Sorensen felt an obligation to write the Kennedy story as a stand-in for the slain chief executive. He said he never had planned to write a Kennedy book but that he and the late president had talked several times about the book Kennedy would have written after leaving office.

THEODORE C. SORENSEN

Schlesinger, historian of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, is expected to follow Sorensen through the White House door—although Johnson repeatedly has urged him and other Kennedy aides to remain.

OWN CHOICES

The former Harvard professor has emphasized his belief that every president should be surrounded with assistants of his own choosing. And he obviously does not think that Johnson, left to his own designs, would have chosen him for the White House staff.

One other top drawer Kennedy aide—appointments secretary P. Kenneth O'Donnell—is regarded by some as likely to resign in the coming months. However, a staff associate said he was convinced that O'Donnell would stay.

Other principal Kennedy assistants have given every indication that they will heed Johnson's pleas to remain at the White House. These include Pierre Salinger, press secretary; special assistants Lawrence F. O'Brien and Ralph Dungan and associate special counsels Myer Feldman and Lee White.

Cosmonette Didn't Say She Was Expecting

MOSCOW (AP) — Spacewoman Valentina Treshkova-Nokolayev never told anyone she is pregnant, an official Soviet spokesman said today.

There had been published reports that she was expecting her first child in late summer. The Soviet spokesman didn't deny the report; he just claimed Valentina never said she was pregnant.

Lively Primary Brews in 19th

By JIM DYGERT

The Republican congressional primary in the new 19th District this year promises to be a lively one.

Two candidates, who entered the race a few months ago believing they would not have to oppose State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, yesterday served notice that they will not withdraw just because the county's senator is now a candidate after all.

James Dickerson and Richard D. Kuhn had similar reactions in this respect to Roberts' announcement yesterday of his candidacy for the GOP nomination in the new district.

News Analysis

Even more candidates may get in the race to take advantage of there being a large field to split up votes, even though the formidability of Roberts' well-known political name may keep some out.

OTHER DIFFERENCES

Dickerson's and Kuhn's reactions differed in other respects, however.

"I was somewhat surprised," said Dickerson, development director for Oakland University, "I believed his main interest was in running for the proposed appellate court."

Robert had said he was interested primarily in seeking

Moon Program Fate in Congress Hands

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. commitment to land men on the moon before 1970 is in jeopardy but the Johnson administration appears determined to save it, if possible.

According to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), everything depends on Congress.

What Congress thinks about this will be seen later in the appropriations it votes for space exploration.

Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., associate NASA administrator and general manager of the space program, told reporters at a budget briefing yesterday that the lunar landing will slip into the 1970's unless Congress:

- Gives NASA $141 million more for the current (1964) fiscal year which started July 1.

- Votes $5.3 billion for the 1965 fiscal year starting next July 1.

Seamans said NASA must get both to meet the moon target date set by the late President Kennedy in May, 1961—a target which President Johnson has endorsed for his own administration.

UNUSUAL BRIEFING

Yesterday's briefing and the circumstances which prompted it were unusual.

Normally, no agency publicly discusses its new budget until the President has sent Congress his annual budget

Medicare Plan Is Introduced

Six GOP Senators
Offer Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Republican senators offered legislation today to provide a public-private health care plan for the aged that they described as the most comprehensive yet presented to Congress.

One part would provide 45 days of hospital care, up to 180 days of skilled nursing home care, or more than 200 days of home health care following treatment in a hospital for all persons 65 or over.

This would be financed by an increase of 1/2 of 1 per cent in the Social Security pay roll tax to be deposited in a separate health fund.

The other part of the program would create a national, federally chartered association of private insurance and group service companies which would authorize a standard medical-surgical policy for those over 65.

RISKS POOLED

By enabling private insurance firms to pool their risks, a standard policy could be made available at a cost of about $2 a week, sponsors estimated.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., chief spokesman for the sponsors of the measure, called it "the program with the best chance of becoming law in 1964."

It is based on the recommendations of the National Committee on Health Care of the Aged, which submitted its findings to the late President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 14.

The American Medical Association opposed and Congress' mid-Kennedy's program to provide hospital, nursing and outpatient care for the elderly by boosting the Social Security tax on employer and employee 1/4 of 1 per cent.

HEARINGS TO RESUME

The House Ways and Means Committee is to resume hearings on the administration bill Monday. Yesterday, President Johnson reaffirmed his support for the measure and predicted it "is going to be the law of the land."

Strike Settled; Flint Workers Set to Resume

Ratification Meeting
Scheduled on Terms
on Buick Contract

FLINT (AP)—A quick resumption of work by the Buick plant's 15,000 employees was sighted today in the wake of yesterday's strike settlement agreement.

Striking Local 599 of the United Auto Workers scheduled a ratification meeting at noon.

Management said recall of workers would start immediately, if the terms were approved and the strike called off after an eight-day tieup.

With Buick's return to operation, another 4,000 idled at a dependent Fisher Body factory also would go back to jobs.

Final agreement was attained yesterday as negotiators cleared up remaining issues in a brief meeting that followed a previous overnight session that ended at 6 a.m.

JOINT STATEMENT

Buick and Local 599 announced the settlement in a joint statement. Later the union claimed a "great victory" in a separate statement.

Charging a work speedup and other grievances, the union walked out at the big General Motors complex Jan. 8. All production was halted.

The company denied there was a speedup and charged the union was making unfair demands.

Jack Wagner, local 599 president, said that more than 500 grievances were settled. He said they bore on work rates, back pay, and other issues.

NO COMMENT

Management made no comment on Wagner's statement.

The Buick strike was one of a series in the auto industry over production rates since the start of 1964 car model run late last summer. All the others were settled.

Temperatures to Stay Mild, Snow Light

Those of us who've been sympathizing with the East for its recent bad weather avalanche got a small jolt this morning when we looked out the window.

But today's snow was to be light and temperatures are to remain relatively mild. The high today will be 32, tomorrow, 30.

There won't be enough snow to go skiing in your backyard, but winds will be brisk, ranging from 10 to 28 miles an hour.

The low prior to 8 this morning was 10 degrees. By 1 p.m., the temperature had risen to 28.

Hospital Woe: Too Few Beds

Pontiac General Is Canceling Patients

There were 199 scheduled admissions canceled at Pontiac General Hospital last week, according to Harold B. Euler, administrator.

That's the most for any week in the hospital's history.

"Our admitting office is experiencing great difficulty in finding beds for patients of emergency and urgent classification," Euler said.

Occupancy last week was 100.7 per cent and for the year to date it's about 100.12 per cent.

BUSIEST PERIOD

"This time of the year is normally the busiest for any hospital, but indications are that the number of patients seeking admission this winter will be the greatest in our history," Euler noted.

Cancellations also pose a problem for doctors. Currently, doctors must schedule surgeries at least three weeks in advance.

Since it's difficult to know what occupancy will be from day to day, hospital officials can't cancel admissions in most cases until the last moment.

"Neither the patient nor the doctor is happy about this, but there is nothing else we can do," Euler explained.

ORGANIZATION QUESTION

Many people also wonder how a hospital can be "filled" and still have empty beds. This is due to the basic organization of a hospital.

It is possible that several beds in the maternity ward may be unoccupied, but they are still reserved for expectant mothers.

"You can't put a gall bladder case in obstetrics," said Euler.

Some beds must also be reserved for emergency cases.

Hoffa Claims National Pact First of Kind

Negotiations Avert
Walkout by 400,000
Set for Last Midnight

CHICAGO (AP)—James R. Hoffa's International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the nation's truckers reached agreement on an unprecedented master contract early today affecting more than 400,000 workers, averting a strike for last midnight.

Hoffa said the contract, which he described as the first national labor agreement reached without a major strike, would bring more than 400,000 teamster members and 400 locals into one single bargaining unit.

"This is one of the finest contracts ever negotiated in the United States," Hoffa said at an early morning news conference.

"Everything is fine," he said of negotiations with the Trucking Employees, Inc. "All you have to be is patient."

The three-year contract, which expires March 31, 1967, provides for a 28-cent pay increase spread over the contract period. Truckers' salaries will increase 10 cents the first year, 8 cents the second year and 10 cents the third year.

AVERAGE PAY

The average industrywide pay for Teamsters' truckers now is about $3.17 per hour.

The contract still must be ratified by the rank and file members of the Teamsters.

Negotiations became snarled earlier this week when the truck lines' negotiating team, headed by C. G. Zwingle of Oakland, Calif., insisted on a 10-8-8 salary table.

Hoffa said that the wage-fringe benefit package would total 45 cents per hour. Zwingle agreed that Hoffa's estimate was "reasonably close," but did not elaborate.

ORIGINAL DEMANDS

Hoffa said the Teamsters' original demands were 60 cents

Who's Head of Pontiac Local 614?

From most appearances, Leann Harrelson is no longer president of Pontiac Teamster Local 614.

But, despite several days of effort, The Pontiac Press has been unable to gain a completely clear picture of Harrelson's present status with the local.

According to William Merrill, chief assistant U.S. attorney in Detroit, Harrelson is barred from holding office by his September embezzlement conviction under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

Merrill says Harrelson told him he had resigned, but adds that he is "checking into that."

ATTORNEY STATEMENT

Lawrence Burns of Detroit, attorney for Local 614, says, "Mr. Harrelson is presently not acting in any capacity for Local 614. And he is not drawing any pay."

But Burns says he doesn't know if Harrelson has resigned, or is required to submit a resignation.

Well, who is president then? "It's a vacant title," says Burns. "No new president has been elected."

NO PRESIDENT

Who's acting as president? "No one," says Burns. "We're waiting for word from the international on what to do."

Burns indicated there was concern that the local might be violating the law by allowing Harrelson to continue to serve.

What does Harrelson say? He's been unavailable for comment.

A man who answered the phone this morning at Local 614 said, "Mr. Harrelson is no longer with us."

CRYPTIC REPLY

But a telephone query a couple of days ago as to whether Harrelson was still president got the following reply from the person who answered the phone: "Well, in a manner of speaking."

Floyd B. Harmon, secretary-treasurer of the local, declines to discuss the matter. He referred The Press to Burns.

Canal Truce in New Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army turned back control of the Panama Canal Zone to its civilian governor today even as a new eruption of U.S.-Panamanian differences threatened to wreck a one-day-old diplomatic truce agreement.

High U.S. officials said the situation was very confused.

They hope for clarification in a meeting to be held by U.S. troubleshooter Edwin M. Martin and Panamanian President Roberto Chiari in the course of the day. Chiari requested Martin to see him. Martin's instructions are to try to keep the agreement in force.

Despite the shifting developments, the Defense Department announced that the Army had turned back to civilian authorities responsibility for security in the Canal Zone.

AN AGREEMENT

Yesterday, U.S.-Panamanian negotiations resulted in an agreement sponsored by the five-nation Inter-American Peace Commission that the two countries would resume normal diplomatic relations and 30 days thereafter would put all their problems on the conference table.

The United States said the agreement was to "discuss" the problems. Panama said it was to "negotiate."

Within 24 hours of the announcement of this peace deal,

Chiari told a throng of demonstrating students outside his palace in Panama City that he would not restore normal relations with the United States unless the United States agreed to negotiate a new Panama Canal Zone treaty.

Chiari wants to eliminate U.S. absolute control of the Zone and get a voice for Panama in the operation of the Canal.

Astronaut Reported Ready to Run in Ohio as Democrat

JOHN GLENN

HOUSTON (UPI) — Reports were strong today that astronaut John Glenn may circle his native Ohio as a senatorial candidate this year rather than circle the globe as a space pioneer.

The 43-year-old senior astronaut could not be contacted, but he passed word along to aides that he had "no comment to make."

Earlier, a high Democratic source in Ohio and the American Broadcasting Co. both said Glenn would announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate on the Democratic ticket.

The Ohio Democrat said the spaceman would go to Columbus, Ohio to make the official announcement within a few days. Reports began to circulate in Ohio last week that Glenn would run for the seat now held by Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland.

DAYS NUMBERED
ABC Science Editor Jules Bergman said Glenn told him by telephone from Houston that he thought his days as an astronaut were numbered because of his age.

Bergman said Glenn told him he thought one way he could help his country would be to enter politics.

Glenn's spokesman at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration named spacecraft center said "Glenn has no comment to make on any statements coming out of Ohio," and added "He will not be available to talk to anyone tonight."

Glenn secluded himself in his home south of Houston last weekend to spend a "quiet, contemplative" two days — presumably to decide whether to run.

BOTH PARTIES BID
Both the Democratic and the Republican parties had bid for his senatorial services.

Rumors about Glenn's running for office first began to circulate last summer. At that time, informed sources said space was "still his first love."

They said he would leave the nation's space program only if he was refused a guaranteed return trip out of this world.

Fire Destroys Firm Near Grand Haven
GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Fire apparently starting with an overheated electric press in an assembly room today destroyed Plywood Component Corp. in nearby Grand Haven Township.

Howard Bowen, president and general manager, estimated losses at $75,000 to $100,000.

for the whole government. Johnson won't do that until Tuesday.

But Seamans said the President put pressure on the space agency to submit its money requests to Congress ahead of the normal schedule in order to get committee hearings started as early as possible.

The $5.3 billion bid for fiscal 1965 was sent to Capitol Hill yesterday.

GOES NEXT WEEK

The $141 million supplemental request for fiscal 1964 — which Seamans said was vital to the lunar landing commitment — won't go to Congress until next week.

Once upon a time space officials thought it might be possible to get a couple of men on the moon in 1967.

Two years ago they would have settled for 1968. To meet the target date, they said, they would have to get $11 billion from Congress for fiscal 1964 and 1965.

They asked $5.7 billion for the current year and got $5.1 billion.

That $600 million cut, Seamans said, set NASA back a year.

Even if Congress puts up everything now being asked, he said, the lunar landing can hardly be accomplished until early 1969.

Court vs. Construction

Progress Drowns Out Process

By JIM DYGERT

With the help of an administrator in the role of traffic officer, the wheels of justice were rolling smoothly again yesterday in the Oakland County courthouse.

For a couple of days there, it looked as if a head-on collision between judicial progress and the judicial process had snarled everything in a comic drama of confused carpenters, ruffled dignities and panicky administrators.

It was all because the old jury room on the second floor is being remodeled into a courtroom for Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt, one of the county's two new judges.

Carpenters could not help making noise with their hammers and saws.

STRAIN TO HEAR
Hearing a divorce case in his courtroom directly above the construction scene, Judge William J. Beer was straining to hear a woman witness.

But her soft, timid voice was being drowned out by the pounding below.

Judge Beer sent his court officer down to ask that work be suspended for a few minutes.

The workmen apparently did not realize who it was that poked his head in and said, "You're making too much noise."

Their answer was: "You ain't heard nothing yet."

REINFORCEMENTS
The judge sent reinforcements, his court clerk and his secretary. They and the court officer requested the foreman's appearance in Judge Beer's court.

The foreman stood before the bench, looking up at the stern countenance of a judge who thought he had been defied.

"I want the pounding stopped," said the judge. It stopped.

Shortly afterwards, county engineer Joseph D. Joachim stopped by to check the status of the remodeling project. What he found left him gaping. The carpenters were not in sight.

It seems that it costs the county extra money when construction workers are forced to stop through no fault of their own.

This made the matter serious enough to bring it to the attention of the top county administrator, Daniel T. Murphy.

Murphy and Joachim hastened to the office of the presiding Circuit Court judge, who, as coincidence would have it, was Judge Pratt. As coincidence would further have it, Judge Beer was already there.

Now there's a new system, with one of Joachim's men as traffic officer.

When progress interferes with process, Joachim's office is advised and his man gives progress the red light for a while.

"It'll probably happen only a few times," says Judge Beer, "and then only for a few minutes."

a post on the new court of appeals to be set up under the new state constitution.

But he renewed his interest in Congress, which he termed his "first preference," after state legislators failed to set up the court last month.

DISCUSS ISSUES
"I welcome Sen. Roberts into the race," Kuhn said. "It will be a good opportunity to discuss the issues such as medicare, foreign aid and taxation."

"I consider him to be a Rockefeller Republican," Kuhn said. "I'm a little more conservative."

Kuhn may have been pleased however, with more than the opportunity to campaign against one of the leaders of the GOP "moderates" in the State Senate.

Dickerson is also a "moderate."

There appears to be little difference between his and Roberts' approaches to public problems. There's little for them to fight about.

SPLIT VOTE
Kuhn may be thinking they might split the "moderate" Republican vote in a way most beneficial to Kuhn's candidacy.

Dickerson, according to informed sources, has received commitments of support from a number of sources.

Roberts had indicated to friends that his campaign would be directed against Kuhn.

Roberts and Dickerson have been friends for some time. Roberts said he would rather not be running against Dickerson, but he didn't think the contest would destroy the friendship.

OTHER POSSIBLE
Meanwhile, other possible GOP candidates waiting to be heard from were County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, Fern-dale auto dealer George N. Higgins and, if the field gets large enough, State Rep. Thomas G. Sharpe of Livingston County.

Livingston County has about one-eighth of the new district's population. The rest is provided by the northern and western parts of Oakland County.

While Republicans are girding for the primary showdown with confidence that the winner of that contest will go to Washington (the district's voting record has been 60 per cent Republican), Democrats are scheming to thwart them.

They're hoping to come up with a strong candidate, perhaps one with a widely known name, and take advantage of

THOSE MENTIONED
Among the names mentioned as possibilities are Secretary of State James M. Hare, State Auditor Gen. Billie S. Farnum and Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

Seeterlin is currently considered the most likely.

Congressional candidates need not live in the district where they seek election. Hare and Farnum do have Oakland County homes, however.

Scientists Have Own Lava Lake
HONOLULU (AP) — U. S. Geological Survey scientists at the Volcano Observatory, Hawaii Island, are as happy as children in a toyshop with their new backyard "laboratory" — a 50-foot-deep lava lake.

The lake, formed Aug. 22-23 when a million cubic yards of lava spewed into the floor of an old pit crater near the observatory, has yielded the highest temperature actually recorded in a lava bed — 1,123 degrees centigrade.

U. S. scientists and volcanologists from Japan have started related programs which they hope will tell them a little more about volcanoes.

Hawaii Island is 200 miles southeast of Honolulu, and is the site of one of the world's most restless volcanoes.

Reds Call Conference on Anti-imperialism
ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Ghana and Communist China indicated in a joint communique today they would set the ball rolling for an anti-imperialism conference of African, Asian and Latin American countries.

The communique, issued at the end of a six-day visit by Premier Chou En-lai of Red China, said it was necessary for all anti-imperialist movements in the world to "close their ranks and wage a united struggle against the forces of imperialism, colonialism and neo-colonialism."

Bob Kennedy Lands in Tokyo

Tries to End Hostility Over Malaysia Issue

TOKYO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived in Tokyo today for talks with President Sukarno of Indonesia in an effort to cool Indonesia's hostility toward the new Federation of Malaysia.

The late president's brother arrived by Air Force jet with his wife, Ethel. It is his first assignment by President Johnson as a diplomatic troubleshooter.

Kennedy said he is counting on a "bond of friendship between the United States and Indonesia" to help ease the dispute. He meets with Sukarno Friday.

The attorney general added, however, that the Malaysian crisis is "best decided, resolved, determined by Asian countries, not by ourselves."

RESPECTS KENNEDY

Kennedy, 38, met Sukarno in 1962 on a Far Eastern tour for his brother. Although Sukarno has been openly critical of the United States, he is said to respect Kennedy's honesty and ability.

Kennedy also expressed thanks on behalf of his brother's widow, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, and the Kennedy family for "the many indications of affection and concern by the people of Japan at the death of my brother."

He said the late president had hoped to visit Japan this month or next and had always felt a "special relationship existed between the people of Japan and the United States."

Kennedy's personal efforts in the Malaysian dispute will take him around the world to meet with all the principals. Monday, he flies to Manila to confer with President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines. He is also expected to talk with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in London.

FEDERATION OPPOSED
Under British sponsorship, the British territories of Malaysia, Singapore, Sabah (British North Borneo) and Sarawak formed the Federation of Malaysia last September. From the start, it was opposed by the Philippines, which claims Sabah, and Indonesia, which occupies the rest of Borneo.

Sukarno, by far the more militant opponent, vowed to crush Malaysia.

City Hospital Board to Consider Budget
The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees is slated to approve the hospital's 1964 budget tonight at its January meeting.

The proposed budget is expected to be some $500,000 above last year's $4.3-million operating budget.

After it's approved by the board, it then goes to the City Commission for approval and back to trustees for final adoption.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 at the hospital.

The Amerigo Vespucci, Italy's naval school ship, is named for the 15th century Florentine navigator for whom America was named.

Zone Ordinance Hearing Calm in Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Coolly and calmly, residents of Bloomfield Hills last night discussed a proposed zoning ordinance which has been the center of controversy for almost three years.

Approximately 125 persons attended the public hearing in Cranbrook's gymnasium. Their demeanor was far less heated than at the hearing which saw another ordinance defeated a year ago.

But some changes have been made, in both the code and the composition of the City Commission.

Commissioners asked for a straw vote last night on the two matters on which they have been split — desired density in multiple-residence zones and the height of buildings there.

SOME OPPOSITION

The result was nearly a toss-up. A few more hands were shown in opposition to the proposal, which would allow construction of three-story town houses.

Three of the commissioners — Louis J. Colombo Jr., David W. Lee and James A. Beresford — are in favor of allowing town houses to be built under certain circumstances, if approved by the board of appeals.

The circumstances would include a five-acre site and 150-foot setback.

The trio also is in favor of permitting 4.5 families per acre in multiple residence zones. The present code allows three.

MORE LENIENT

They and City Attorney W. B. Hartman said the more lenient restriction might be more defensible in court.

Commissioner Henry L. Wolfenden, speaking for himself and Mayor Lyman J. Craig, charged that the three others were acting to benefit only one property owner, Robert Swanson, who owns 28 acres of property he hopes to develop into town house sites.

Swanson has taken the case to Oakland County Circuit Court.

The proposed code would not alter the size of the commercial district, although the area allotted for retail units within it would be decreased.

Library Board Gets Property

The Bloomfield Township Library Board has received its biggest gift since taxpayers allowed it a 1-mill operating levy last spring — it now has property on which to build a library.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green, 2800 Turtle Lake, have given four acres of property on the southeast corner of Echo and Long Lake to the township.

Designated for use as a township library site, the rolling terrain is near Bloomfield Hills High School.

"It's an ideal location," Supervisor Home Case said.

The library board presently is looking for a building to rent for the facility.

Green, who has lived in the township for more than 30 years, is chairman of the board of directors for Automotive Materials Inc. of Detroit.

Archeologists Discover Hidden Etruscan Temple

ROME (UPI) — At some time in the Middle Ages, people living in a village northwest of Rome apparently found the remains of a small Etruscan temple and, with the religious intolerance typical of the period proceeded to destroy it.

They threw everything that was left of the temple into a well and sealed it with huge stone blocks.

It stayed that way until Dr. Lucia Portoghesi, slim, dark-haired young archeologist, brought out a crew of workmen recently and dug up two of the most interesting items of Etruscan art found in modern times.

They are frescoes of Etruscan warriors and dancers, painted on terra cotta about 2,500 years ago.

DIFFERENT STYLE
Dr. Portoghesi, who works for the Superintendent of Antiquities of Southern Etruria, said the style of painting is completely different than that of other Etruscan funerary art found previously in the same area.

Dr. Portoghesi made her discoveries at Ceri, a few miles from Cerveteri, the famous burial site of the mysterious Etruscan peoples, where extensive excavations were carried out in the 1890's.

By contrast with these works, Dr. Portoghesi said, the paintings she found have a greater pictorial quality and greater vivacity of content.

"The well already had been violated by clandestine diggers when we began our excavation," she said, "but fortunately a considerable strata of animal bones discouraged them and we were able to reach several stratum that were very rich archeologically."

PAINTED STONE
"In the upper stratum we found tiles and fragments of painted stone. In the lower stratum, blocks of tufa, a frame that evidently encircled the sacrificial altar and, on the bottom, in a sandy strata, tiles and cups."

"Practically all of the little temple that had been, was contained in the well."

Dr. Portoghesi, who directs her digging crew in slacks and blouse, now is trying to locate the original foundation of the little temple.

Jokes No Laughing Matter

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UP) — For people who like to read other people's mail, here is a letter I have written to George Q. Lewis of New York.

"Dear George,
"I am not certain how I should address you because the titles you use on your press releases fluctuate rather wildly.

"On some you identify yourself as director of the National Laugh Foundation; on others as director of the Humor Exchange Network.

"On still others you are director of the National Association of Gagwriters, the National Academy of Humor, the Gagwriters-Comedy Workshop, the Gagwriters Round Table and the Future Funnymen of America.

"Apparently all of these groups operate out of the same office, which must get pretty crowded at times.

"At any rate, you have been urging those of us on your mailing list 'to help promote a national sense of humor' and otherwise do all we can to abet the cause of comedy.

"I have been giving this a lot of thought, George, and I have come up with a plan that may be a major contribution.

"As you know, joke-telling is an art that very few people have mastered.

CAN'T TELL JOKES
"All of us have friends, relatives, bosses, customers, clients or colleagues who can't tell jokes worth a hoot but who insist on telling them anyway.

"As you also know, listening to a badly told joke, even a good one, is one of the most painful experiences known to man.

"Unless he wishes to offend his friend, relative, boss, customer, client or colleague, the victim is required to hear it through with his face frozen in what S. J. Perelman once described as 'a grisly simulacrum of a smile.'

"Well, George, it is my plan to organize a campaign to make a crime for anyone over the age of 7 to tell a joke without a license.

BEFORE THE BOARD
"To obtain a license, the applicant would have to appear before a board of examiners and demonstrate that he is qualified to tell a joke without lousing up the narrative or forgetting the punch line.

"A special license would be needed to tell jokes in Dialect. None who simulates pidgin Tonkinese in jokes requiring a French accent need apply.

"It is my feeling, George, that a campaign of this nature would serve the cause of humor even better than 'National Save the Pun Week,' which you recently promoted.

"I trust that one or more of your organizations will join me in sponsoring it."

Two Parolees
Sent to Prison

Two 21-year-old Pontiac parolees were sentenced to 3½- to 15-year prison terms Tuesday for an assault with intent to rob a Waterford woman in her home last month.

Sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondoro were Michael T. Cervantes of 278½ Whittemore and Gerald W. Richway of 381 Prospect.

Both pleaded guilty Dec. 30. They were accused of attempting to rob Mrs. Mary Lewis of 2889 Frembes between 11 p.m. and midnight Dec. 21.

Mrs. Lewis told police two men with white masks over their faces demanded money from her when she answered her door, but fled when they saw her granddaughter in the house.

THIRD MAN

Police said a third man was waiting with a car that failed to start when they tried to escape.

Robert L. Saucier of 148 Wall is also accused in the incident. His case is pending.

Cervantes and Richway were imprisoned in 1962 for burglary and paroled last August.

Hog Wild Spree Follows Meaty Meeting, Match

DALLAS (UPI) — Housewives who purchase the family meat supply may not haggle over a fourth of a cent a pound the way Mrs. Mary Favreau does.

She is a buyer for Samuels Meat Co., and perhaps the only woman in the industry.

Mrs. Favreau started her career as a wiener peeler in Boston. Peelers make skinless franks by removing a cellophane coat from wieners after they are formed and before packaging.

In Boston she met a sausage maker who became her husband. He is H. L. Favreau, now a salesman for the firm for which his silvery-haired wife works.

Mrs. Favreau, 41, specializes in buying pork. During a normal week she will purchase more than 1.5 million pounds from markets all over the nation.

At that rate, a quarter of a cent a pound runs into thousands of dollars.

The Lawrence W. Days of Cramlane Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Karen Elaine to Milton Willard Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Haines of Clintonville Road. A spring wedding is being planned.

Hammer Kills 3 in Family

Son Admits Slaying Mother, 2 Brothers

HIGHLAND PARK, N. J. (AP) — A 19-year-old sailor killed his mother and two younger brothers with a claw hammer yesterday, police said.

The youth, John V. Cheetham, told a magistrate as he was being arraigned: "I'm guilty." An argument with his mother, Elga, 41, apparently over money, touched off the slayings, police said.

The mother's body was found on the kitchen floor of the family apartment. Cheetham's brothers, Douglas, 10, and Andrew, 6, were found in a bedroom.

The mother and the older boy were dead. Andrew, unconscious, underwent surgery at a New Brunswick hospital but died 10 hours after the attack.

HELD FOR MURDER

Cheetham was held without bail on two charges of murder and one of atrocious assault. The latter charge will be changed to murder today, officers said.

Cheetham, a third class petty officer, was separated from his ship, the Salisbury Sound, in San Diego and came home on leave Jan. 1.

He was to report Sunday to Wigby Island Naval Base in Washington.

The father, John R. Cheetham, came to the hospital while doctors fought to save Andrew.

FAMILY GONE

"My whole family is gone," he cried. "Everything is lost, everything. They argued about nothing... nothing."

Another brother, Edgar, 14, came home after the slayings.

Police said John showed him the bodies. Then the brothers went to police headquarters.

At first, neither youth said anything, Sgt. Ralph Zafarana said. Then, said the sergeant, John burst into tears and sobbed: "I've killed my mother and brothers."

State Police Alert Stores of TV Fraud

Department stores in the area were alerted by state police today of a swindle that has cost several businesses expensive color televisions.

Detective Robert Neigebauer said it operates this way:

A man purchases the TV with a small down payment, has it delivered to his apartment, which he has rented temporarily, and then pays the COD balance with a bad check drawn on a local bank account under an assumed name.

Shortly after the set is received, the man, who uses the name of Stanley L. Adams on the checks, hauls the TV away and leaves his apartment permanently.

Fatal Grade Crossing Closed in Colorado

LA SALLE, Colo. (AP) — A grade crossing where 20 children died in a train-school bus collision in December 1961 will be closed.

The Colorado Public Utilities Commission gave the Union Pacific Railroad permission on Wednesday to abandon the crossing, several miles north-east of La Salle. A flashing signal will be installed at a new crossing a quarter mile away.

Star Keeps on the Move to 'See More' of Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We were up in the new Hilton Hotel's Empire Suite, which is so luxurious you expect Nicky Hilton to be one of the bellhops, talking to Sammy Davis Jr. and watching his pretty wife May Britt puffing a cigarette.

(You remember cigarettes—long white filters with a pinch of tobacco?)

She was puffing this filter through another filter—a long holder—as Sammy spoke of trying to help Producer Hillard Elkins cast a talented white actress opposite him in a musical of "Golden Boy" for next fall.

"Moved a Clifford Odets play of the '30s into the '60s," Sammy said. "... no longer a hoodlum story... concerns a Negro boy and white society... start rehearsing May 6... Philly, Boston, Toronto, Detroit... New York Sept. 28... I want to be around Broadway two or three years... like to stay put here and get to know my wife and two children better..."

May's filter went out. Sammy lit her a fresh filter. Puff, puff. We hadn't thought of Sammy as a New Yorker lately but he wants to be here for a while, and not in Hollywood.

A fellow broke in to ask Sammy if he wanted a helicopter or police-escorted limousine to get from Camden next Sunday between shows at the Latin Casino to come to NY for a "Fight for Sight" benefit if it can be done.

"Helicopter might be fun," Sammy said. "... You sure do want to stay put," said May. Her tender smile filtered through the haze at him.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

David Merrick gave Carol Channing star of his "Hello, Dolly," an expensive silver cigarette box: Carol, who doesn't smoke, keeps her false eyelashes in it... Cassius Clay's a scheduled attraction at the Miami opening of the Ringling Bros. circus... Marilyn Maxwell's date at the Las Vegas Flamingo was wealthy Bill Tishman Jr... Maurice Gosfield the blimpish "Doberman" of the Sgt. Bilko TV'er—died off 50 lbs... At the Little Club: Michael Rennie and Sue Healy.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Charley Jones describes the international situation: "It's as shifty as an armful of coat hangers." TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Arlene Francis, taping a "Girl Talk" TV'er, gave this tip in the battle of the sexes: "Men and women are equal—but don't let HIM know it!"

EARL'S PEARLS: For every married man who speaks from experience, there are a dozen who don't get the chance to. Vaughn Mender tells of his home town: "It was boring. If a yo-yo went down, it stayed there. Every Saturday we'd go down to the hotel to see who rented the room." That's earl, brother.
