Mexican Boy Awaits Snow

Friday, a 10-year-old boy peered out his window at dawn, saw a thin layer of frost on the ground and tore outside to pack his first snowball.

One of 187 young Mexican children students who have come to Michigan to visit and go to school for two months, Carlos Schiefer has never seen snowflakes.

Living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silvio P. Ciccone, 48 Thors St., Pontiac, Carlos' biggest disappointment with Pontiac so far is the mild weather. He dreams of shoveling snow men and a good old-fashioned cold war.

When he can spare time from the pair of wooden skis he's building in the basement with Anthony, 5½, he helps Mrs. Ciccone with her housework or wanders, taking pictures of everything that moves or has paint on it.

STARTS SCHOOL
Today he started school in the fifth grade at St. Frederick School, 70 Whittemore St. Mrs. Ciccone is amazed that his appetite is as good as it is, considering the change from Mexican food. He had a hamburger one night and he loved it.

His new five brothers and sisters are a special treat for him, she said. He has an older sister at home and enjoys being the oldest in a big family for a change.

The other children, Martin, 4, Madeline, 3, Paula, 2, and baby Christopher, 1, share his enthusiasm about the Youth Understanding exchange program. He has promised to teach them all "La caracacha" in Spanish.

Temperatures to Dip Tonight and Tuesday

Showers beginning late this morning will end this evening giving way to colder temperatures, the weatherman forecasts.

Following a low of 36 tonight, Tuesday's outlook includes fair and colder weather with a high of 42 degrees.

Precipitation will total one-quarter to one-half an inch in showers or snow flurries tonight, Wednesday and again Friday or Saturday. The lowest temperature preceding 8 o'clock was 46 at 12:15 a.m. By 2 p.m. the thermometer read a mild 54.

Time Waning to Shop for Out-of-Town Kin

Since the postmaster has asked us to mail out of town packages early, we should get that box off to the relatives in the East right away. Shopping is easier, too, in the early days of December.

The children are easy to buy for. The baby would like a gaily colored plastic clock

His mother teaches kindergarten in a bilingual school in Mexico City so Carlos speaks English very well. He has trouble with just one word—"snowman."

"He was intrigued with the basement because there aren't such things in Mexico City," Mrs. Ciccone said. "His mother told him it would be cold here and I haven't been able to convince him that he doesn't need his winter underwear when he goes to bed."

The Youth Understanding exchange program was begun three years ago by the Ann Arbor-Wahtemaw Council of Churches. The Ciccones and the other families obtained their visitors through the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Selfridge Event Honors Officer

Housing Unit to Be Named for Late Major, Louis Joseph Sebrille

Dedication of the Caphart housing area near Selfridge Field on Pearl Harbor Day Thursday will commemorate the deeds of Pontiac's late Major Louis Joseph Sebrille. The housing unit will be named after the officer.

For "conspicuous gallantry and integrity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty" near Manchurian, Korea, on Aug. 5, 1950, his widow Elizabeth received the first Congressional Medal of Honor to be awarded a U.S. Air Force member for Korean action.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Sebrille of Bloomfield Township, formerly of Elizabeth Lake, enlisted as an aviation cadet in Chicago when World War II was less than two weeks old.

In mid-1946 he was among the first WWII veterans recalled to active duty. He was in the vanguard of USAF members rushed into action to stem the southward

Russia Blames Continuance of N-Tests on U.S.

Soviet Union Declares Unless West Stops It Will Set Off New Blasts

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians tried again Sunday night to put the blame on the West for continuance of nuclear weapon tests. The Soviet government declared that unless the Western powers stop all nuclear weapons tests—including underground explosions that don't produce radioactive fallout—it will resume "such nuclear tests as it deems necessary for the consolidation of its defense capacity."

A few hours after the Moscow warning the United States announced it had set off a low-yield underground nuclear blast Sunday and is preparing to go ahead with another test next Sunday.

"Our announced policy is to test and talk," a State Department spokesman said in Washington.

The Russians, who broke a three-year moratorium on nuclear testing Sept. 1 for a series of big to gigantic nuclear explosions in the atmosphere, said the time has come now "for the early achievement of an agreement which would rid the peoples of experimental weapon blasts."

"What are the Western powers striving for?" asked the statement. "To end nuclear tests throughout the world or to continue their pursuit for an illusory superiority in nuclear weapons?"

The Soviet call for an end to testing made no mention of supervising any new moratorium as demanded by the Western powers.

TALKS DEADLOCKED
Tass, the Soviet news agency, restated the Soviet statement. It said it was issued in connection with last week's resumption of the Geneva test talks.

The Geneva talks are hopelessly deadlocked as a result of a new Soviet refusal to admit any inspectors of a test ban to Soviet territory and the West's rejection of the Soviet demand for an unsupervised test moratorium.

The Soviet return to the Geneva talks last week was interpreted as an indication they had completed their series of tests that included the biggest man-made explosion—one carrying a force of 50 million tons or more of TNT.

A U.S. State Department spokesman said Sunday night that the United States has no indication that the Soviet Union has stopped testing.

President Kennedy has said the United States also will resume testing in the atmosphere if the government feels this necessary for Western defense. U.S. experts are now evaluating the new Soviet weapons, as indicated by fallout samples and other evidence resulting from the recent test series to determine if the claimed U.S. lead in nuclear weapons is endangered.

Goldfine, Secretary in Court on Smuggled-Letters Charge

From Our News Wire

BOSTON — Mildred Papernan, confidential secretary to Bernard Goldfine, appeared in court today with her boss to face charges that she smuggled letters to the industrialist in prison.

Goldfine was to be brought to U.S. District Court here from a U.S. correctional institution at Danbury, Conn., where he is serving a one-year sentence for evasion of almost $500,000 in personal and corporate taxes.

Miss Papernan was placed on three years' probation in June after pleading guilty to an indictment charging her and Goldfine with evading taxes on $364,734 owned by his Stratmore Woolen Co.

Goldfine also is under five years' probation on a suspended 18-month sentence on a second indictment. One condition of probation was that he identify the recipients of about $600,000 unaccounted for in his business operations.

Published reports said the industrialist has disclosed to the Justice Department some of the people who shared in the $500,000.

Goldfine and Miss Papernan are charged with violating terms of probation in connection with the alleged smuggling of letters to Goldfine at the Danbury institution. Only members of Goldfine's family were given permission to correspond with him.

The businessman gained notoriety during the Eisenhower administration as the gift-giving friend of Eisenhower's presidential assistant, Sherman Adams. Adams resigned after the public disclosures.

The Washington Redskins, leading off, chose Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis of Syracuse, first Negro player ever selected by the 'Skins.

Los Angeles, picking second in a draft swap previously obtained from Minnesota, selected quarterback Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State.

The Rams, also getting the third choice in regular rotation, took the prize-tackle from Utah State, Merlin Olsen.

Dallas traded its first choice to the Cleveland Browns who chose Gary Collins, Maryland end.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, drawing fifth, selected fullback Bob Ferguson of Ohio State.

The St. Louis Cardinals, making the sixth draw, took tackle Fate Echols of Northwestern.

Cleveland, down for the regular 11th position in the draw, got tackle Bob Lilly of TCU, as Dallas' pick in the 14th position because of a previous trade.

1,500 Men Head to Trouble Spot at Crossing

U.S., Commie Troops Face Each Other at the Friedrichstrasse Point

BERLIN (UPI) — A U.S. Army Battle Group of 1,500 men started rolling toward Berlin today where U.S. and Communist troops faced each other from positions less than 15 yards apart at the tense Friedrichstrasse crossing point.

The big troop movement had been decided previously but the beginning of it coincided with Communist actions in narrowing gaps in crossing points between East and West Berlin.

The Communists moved in troops and laborers Sunday night to reinforce their border barricades. Allied reaction was swift.

A platoon of American soldiers was rushed to Friedrichstrasse, apparently to guard against any Communist attempt to shut the crossing point completely.

SET UP GUNS
The Americans set up two machineguns and trained a battery on a heavy concentration of East German troops on the other side of the crossing point.

The French also pulled troops up to the border but the British took no special action.

A spokesman said a company of British soldiers has been on border duty since the Communists closed the border in August.

The United States sent a protest to the Soviet garrison headquarters in East Berlin three hours after the Communists rolled up to the border but there was no immediate reply.

The soldiers who left their barracks in West Germany today comprise the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry. They were expected to reach Helmstedt tonight and start moving across East Germany to West Berlin Tuesday.

They will replace a battle group sent into Berlin by President Kennedy after the Communists started building their wall Aug. 13.

...stories whenever he wanted. In fact, reading mystery stories was one of the King's chief pleasures and it had any complaint of it all was that he could not get enough detective stories. The little library off his bedroom and the big library next to the throne room were stacked with such books.

Still the King was always looking for more because, of course, it is no good reading a mystery story a second time when you already know who killed the cook and who stole the duchess' tiara and who blew up the midnight express from Chungking.

Romney, Griffin Both May Run

American Motors Chief Sets Date for Decision on Governor's Race

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR. George W. Romney has said it himself. He is considering running for Michigan governor in 1962.

Meanwhile, 35-year-old Congressman Robert P. Griffin, R-Traverse City, formerly of Pontiac, said he is "continuing to consider" running for the same nomination despite Romney's announcement Saturday.

Following days of speculation, Romney, 54, of Bloomfield Hills, confirmed in a press release his gubernatorial thinking.

He said he'd decide definitely no later than Feb. 10 — three days after an American Motors Corporation annual stockholders meeting.

WANT RESIGN

Romney, a vice president and Oakland delegate at the constitutional convention, said he'd resign as president of the corporation should he decide to run for governor.

Before he left for Washington following a month long speaking tour in the state, Griffin said: "I will continue to try to find out how much interest and support there is in my becoming a candidate."

He said he had no deadline. Griffin, co-president of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill, apparently welcomed Romney's statement.

"The fact that he has brought his interest into the open is a good thing for the party," Griffin said.

State GOP Chairman George M. Van Pelt said today that he had several announcements for governor before he was through. Some party leaders fear a primary runoff between Romney and Griffin, and any others, might cause a split in party ranks and drain the party treasury.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Light snow and rain is expected tonight in Eastern New York and New England with some snow forecast for North Dakota. "But, your Majesty," said the minister of science. "You have already read every mystery in the realm. The minister suffers a little as he said this because he felt the King should read scientific tracts or even science fiction that would improve his mind."

"Isn't there anything new being written?" asked the King impatiently.

"By your order," said the minister distastefully. "Every author in the land is at work on a new mystery. Nevertheless it will be a Christmas before the first one is finished."

"Christmas?" exclaimed the King, turning to his secretary. "That reminds me, what preparations have we made for Christmas this year?"

The secretary took a small note from his pocket and began to read:

"ONE ORDERED

"Tree hundred and fifty foot Christmas tree to be installed in the Public Square.

"Eight hundred and twenty-two tons of stockings to be hung on the fireplace for the eight hundred and twenty-two children plus," said the secretary, glancing aside at the minister of science. "One large size stocking for Your Majesty."

"Very good," said the King, pleased. Then he looked up. "My goodness! We haven't sent my letter!"

"What letter is that?" asked the minister of science who made it his business to keep up with the royal correspondence on all matters of state.

"My letter to Santa Claus," explained the King. "Sit down," he ordered his secretary. "We'll do it right away."

The minister of science, who was one of those people who thought Ferdinand simple-minded, left in a huff while the secretary drew a blank paper to take the King's dictation.

"Dear Santa," began the King. "I am very much in need of some good detective stories and it would not be too much trouble, this is what I would like for—"

At this point there was an enormous crash. The whole palace shuddered. The King was flung from his chair and all the detective stories on the shelves were hurled to the floor.

A moment later, the palace watchman burst into the room crying, "Your Majesty! The sky has fallen in!"

CELEBRATES TODAY — "Here I come with 95 years young" — that's what Mrs. Isadora Lanpher exclaimed upon awakening this morning on her birthday. "The spritely and grand old lady," as she is called by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson of 683 E. Pike St. with who she lives, is pictured at her favorite hobby making quilts.

Woman Marks 95th Birthday

Mrs. Isadora Lanpher Finds 'Keeping Busy' is Key to Happiness

"Keeping busy keeps you happy" is the philosophy of life for Mrs. Isadora Lanpher who's 95th birthday's today.

She's a "truly grand old lady" according to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson of 683 E. Pike St. with whom she's been staying during the past two months.

Friends and relatives began celebrating Mrs. Lanpher's birthday over the weekend by sending flowers and gifts.

Born in Bernie, Mo., in 1866, Mrs. Lanpher remembers the Civil War vaguely — she was 2 years old at the conclusion of the conflict.

She became a Mrs. in 1887 when she and Sam Lanpher were wed. Sam was overseer and general manager of the Cape County Land and Investment Co. in Missouri. He died in 1930.

Though her eyes are beginning to fail and hearing is increasingly difficult for her, she's still a "spritely lady," Mrs. Anderson notes.

"She does her own sewing and patching to this day, and straightens up her own room — as well as giving me a hand with light chores occasionally," Mrs. Anderson added.

Mrs. Lanpher has shared her favorite hobby of making quilts with people in five states.

She watches television daily. But first on the morning agenda is reading the Bible. Sunday mornings find her listening to sermons on the radio. When she's well, she attends services at Covenant Methodist Church on Pontiac Lake Road.

Red roses, Mrs. Lanpher's favorite, were Mrs. Anderson's choice for the frosting decorations atop the white birthday cake which she readied for the celebration. Four roses, three red and one white, were Mr. Anderson's gift.

The surprise cake and gifts were received with an upsurge of arms and ecstatic scream of joy, Mrs. Anderson said.

Later Sunday night, donning her new white shawl, she danced a little jig.

flowing. Red tide in the Korean War.

During an attack on a camouflage area containing a concentration of enemy troops, artillery and armored vehicles, Major Selfridge was hit and his F3 aircraft was severely damaged by anti-aircraft fire.

Deliberately ignoring the possibility of survival by abandoning the aircraft or by crash landing as his wing man, Capt. Martin H. Johnson, suggested, Selfridge replied: "I'm going back and get that plane."

Johnson related:

"As Selfridge drew into his six sixes and flew right into the armored truck with all guns blazing away. He was hit and one bomb and several rockets exploded on his plane."

"There was a terrific explosion, and a huge ball of fire rolled along the ground."

"I flew back feeling that on this summer afternoon in Korea, he had lost a remarkable friend, a fine commander and a very brave man."

Major Selfridge is survived by his wife, and 12-year-old son, Lt. Col. J. H. Johnson, who lives in Belwood, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Elsie M. Best of 1060 Oregon Road, and Paul of 1060 Oregon Road, and Allen of 1060 Oregon Road, and a sister, Mrs. Sumner Goss of Birmingham.

The Day in Birmingham

To Submit Revised CD Center Plan

BIRMINGHAM — A revised program for the construction of a civil defense operations center for the city will be submitted to the City Commission tonight for consideration.

City Manager L. R. Gare will recommend that an architect make a preliminary study of the needs for a municipal fallout shelter in order to determine the total cost of such a structure.

The center had been proposed to the Commission at its meeting Nov. 29 and it requested the manager to submit additional information with regards to the availability of federal matching funds.

Gare said he believes that there is no question that the city can receive the matching monies provided that certain regulations established by the government are met.

"It appears to me that the type of shelter which would qualify for matching funds might possibly have to be more extensive than the one on which we based our estimate of $50,000 a few weeks ago," said the city manager.

He said the shelter that was first contemplated provided for the minimum operating conditions and did not provide for all the accommodations apparently required, such as an infirmary area for the care and treatment of ill or injured staff members, accommodations for the entire legislative body and the judiciary.

The municipal shelter first proposed would accommodate 100 persons and would be built on the south side of city hall, extending from east to west under the existing courtyard.

It was proposed that the shelter could be utilized as a police pistol range for everyday use.

Proposed operations centers in Lavinia and Roseville also will be discussed for comparison purposes. Both have been approved for matching funds and both would be constructed in conjunction with civic center buildings.

Each have been estimated to cost between $200,000 and $400,000.

Gare said that the commission should be prepared to spend a definite amount of money before accepting going into detailed construction drawings and cost estimates.

Teddy Roosevelt Shifts Christmas Tree Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI).—The late President Theodore Roosevelt, an avid conservationist, thought the cutting of evergreens for Christmas was a wasteful practice and forbade their use in the White House.

He later was assured by Gifford Pinchot, his advisor on conservation measures, that the supervised winter and deer.

and proper harvesting of Christmas trees was good for the forests. Since then the White House has had a Christmas tree.

It's a Legal Season

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo. (U.P.)—Mrs. Ann White asked her fourth-grade pupils to name the seasons of the year. One boy said there are five—spring, summer, fall, winter and deer.

Watch That Metal Tree

NEW YORK (UPI).—Safety experts warn against the use of electric light strings on a metal Christmas tree such as those made of aluminum. They point out that severe electric shock could occur if the cord became frayed or if the interior of a light socket came in contact with the tree. Off-on-tree lighting is recommended.

Bewigged, Bothered and Bewildered...

OKLAHOMA CITY (U.P.)—A statue of George Washington at a lawyer's exhibit at the state fair spent one day decked-out with brown hair.

Municipal Judge James Demopolos, handling out literature at the display, said a man grabbed a wig from the statue and ran. A brown wig was the best replacement that could be found immediately, the judge said.

Rabbit Experiments Interesting

Doctors Look Again at Gamma Globulin

NEW YORK (UPI) — Experiments with a deadly virus disease of rabbits indicate medical science may have given too soon on the idea of treating deadly virus diseases in human beings with "GG."

GG stands for gamma globulin which is a fraction of the blood rich in antibodies. GG from the

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD

It is a common experience that as you get older you feel more tired after a night's sleep. This is because of the changes in your body's internal clock, which controls your sleep-wake cycle. As you age, this clock becomes less precise, leading to more frequent awakenings during the night.

Three English scientists are appealing for a new trial on the grounds that it would lead to a new verdict. Their justification for appeal was some dramatic experiments with the viruses of rabbit pox.

RABBIT POX

This to the rabbit approximates what small pox is to man—it is extremely virulent disease with a high mortality rate. The scientists took blood from rabbits which had recovered from it.

Into other rabbits they injected viruses in quantities calculated to be fatal to 80 per cent of them. They waited for the characteristic symptoms of the disease to develop, and then injected the "convalescent serum" from the rabbits who had recovered from it.

Although the disease process had started—add was in "full bloom," as some medical scientists say—the borrowed GG arrested it in its tracks, in many cases. The scientists found that as late as the third day of high fever, the borrowed GG could save rabbit lives.

Many medical scientists have given up on this treatment for virus-ridden human beings because it has never seemed to work very well and because it is assumed on theoretical grounds that once viruses start multiplying in the tissues of their "host," they are beyond the reach of borrowed antibody.

B. Maher, agreed with the theoretic premise of Rivers and others that borrowed GG does not get into contact with multiplying viruses once the disease is under way.

But contact isn't necessary, they said in reporting to the faculty journal, "The Lancet."

Viruses multiplying inside cells are unreachably, but the borrowed GG seems to interfere with the spread of the viruses to new cells—at least it does in rabbits infected with rabbit pox viruses.

Their experiments were confined to rabbit pox but, "It is unlikely that the results are unique for this system," they said. The fact is their results suggest the method would work in many virus diseases. Therefore, "the potentialities in smallpox and other lethal virus diseases in man should be reconsidered."

Tropical Disease Expert Retires at Parke, Davis

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Eugene H. Payne, an authority on tropical diseases, has retired from Parke, Davis & Co. after more than 20 years with that pharmaceutical manufacturer.

He is 65 and had been a member of the firm's clinical investigation staff for the last 17 years. The Bolivian government decorated him with the order of the Condor of the Andes for his work in wiping out various types of disease in South America, where he spent much time.

What's Final Decision on Fallout Shelters?

The current debate over national policy on fallout shelters clearly demonstrates the power of a presidential statement. Who would have guessed that a few words from President Kennedy would succeed in swaying our deep-rooted public apathy toward civil defense.

Now the problem is where do we go from here? Maybe JFK should go back on the air and tell the public what's what. We honestly don't know, and are not alone in this feeling.

Premier KHRUSHCHEV's menacing gestures a few weeks ago gave the question of survival high priority. It was at this time that KENNEDY went on TV to tell the people how they should meet the Soviet threat he described as "worldwide."

In announcing a program to protect American families against the radioactive fallout of a nuclear war, the President said, "The time to start is now."

Four months have passed and the public still awaits official direction from Washington. Confusion has replaced apathy as the principal obstacle to effective civil defense.

While defense planners struggle to work out a coherent civil defense policy in the light of new weapons technology, e.g., the 100-megaton bomb, our scientists contradict each other on the magnitude of the menace posed by the fallout.

The Washington Post notes "the one clear thing about Federal civil defense policy is that the administration has none—at least not yet."

New York Times correspondent Peter Braess reports that as a Nation debates the validity, shape and impact of civil defense, "the Kennedy administration has taken a passive public role."

Atty. Gen. ROBERT F. KENNEDY reflected the "wait and see" attitude with his disclosure that he plans no family shelter until a Federal policy leading toward shelters for everyone is established.

We can only comment that it seems to us that our signals on civil defense are mixed up.

Drivers, Pedestrians Warned to Be Careful

Watch out! These are dangerous days. Traffic Departments are warning drivers and pedestrians that December is more accident-prone than other months.

New York City's Commissioner says a combination of longer hours of darkness, plus bad weather, plus more shoppers—all add up to consternation in the traffic division. Gotham annually sets the season's record in the next four weeks.

We'd like to think we're more cautious, generally smarter and better drivers than those frenzied fiends in Manhattan. But maybe we aren't. Thus, The Press begs you to exercise more care and more prudence both as a driver and a pedestrian.

Don't become a casualty.

Castro's in Bad Way From Every Side

Fidel Castro, the political scourge of the Caribbean and a bedfellow of Communist Russia, is falling upon even worse days. His only current ray of sunshine is the Brazil situation.

His country is in a bad way financially, and he isn't making enough progress anywhere to appease his Kremlin bosses. Furthermore, he's so terrified of an assassin that he has become psychopathic. And this may be justified for the island finds a new pack of converts every day who are willing to administer the coup de grace without the flicker of an eyelid and Castro's bulletproof vest might prove woefully inadequate.

Venezuela severed diplomatic relations with the Soviet stooge and thus became the ninth nation in our hemisphere to take this stand. Not too far back, this would have been utterly impossible as Castro sympathizers in Venezuela were so numerous the move would have precipitated riots.

Venezuela is having her own troubles and the budding republic has been beset by trials and tribulations. But she has shaken off the Castro tinge.

Castro's star is waning. Even the Kremlin grows impatient. He loses ground with friend and foe alike and has been eulogized into an untenable position all around.

TB on the Gain

Pontiac Area Figures Are in Accord With Findings

Hair: What can be worn three ways: parted, unperted and de-perted.

The series of articles in this paper about apathy toward tuberculosis leading to its increase finds plenty of Pontiac proof. Recent case finding tests have largely been responsible for a big jump in the number of patients in the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Dr. James T. Cheng, states that about 30 new patients have been received during the past month, the largest for a single month in several years. The sanatorium now is practically filled to its capacity, when the emergency tent per cent of the rooms, (required by law), are held in reserve.

Other season ruckers are reported by Mrs. Cameron Clark of 65 Summit St., who has pussy willows in bloom.

An interesting prank in a deer hunting camp is recounted by Al Weber, who says a deer's antlers were fastened to the head of a dead pig, and the master-piece shown to a novice in camp. He looked it over and said, "It may be a deer, but I'm not going to take another drink."

For the Pontiac area this week, the Old Farmer's Almanac says:

"Only foolies won't don woolies."

A card drifts in from Lewis Benfield of Davisburg, stating that he raised a rutabaga that weighs 7 1/4 pounds "when all trimmed up."

Looking at it from another angle, Mrs. Alpha Breckfield of Waterford phones that the space age now gets down to monkey business.

While no definite figures are available, it is conservatively estimated that at least a dozen deer were shot in Oakland County during the 1961 open season.

An experienced Christmas shopper tells me that the best plan is to Lay away a gift a day.

In what has been a remarkable autumn in the Pontiac area, Mrs. Douglas Hinchfield of Birmingham reports that she picked "the last rose of summer" on Dec. 1.

The accent of President

John F. Kennedy, since he's from Boston, is summed up by Jake Fremoye of Rochester as "Jack and the bean talk."

David Lawrence Says:

Word 'Liberal' Used Mistakenly

WASHINGTON—Who is a "true liberal" nowadays? The word "liberal" has often been used mistakenly to characterize advocates of progress just as the word "conservative" has often been used wrongly to denote a person allegedly opposed to progress.

But a true conservative, like a true liberal, really wants to conserve the constitution and the basic principle that, in a free society, there must be government by law and not by coercion.

Government by coercion has sometimes been resorted to under the present administration, just as it was at times under the preceding administration. To curry favor with certain blocs of voters, principle is sacrificed to expediency.

An executive agency for instance—whose edicts have never been authorized by any law of Congress—was set up a few years ago, with the vice president as chairman, and has been continued under the Kennedy administration.

It undertakes to tell anyone engaged in business that he cannot get or keep a contract with the government on matter low law in price is his bid unless, in effect, he hires a certain proportion of his employees according to race or color or creed. This is called "non-discrimination." In theory, it can be supported as "good politics," but it has no sanction in law.

Just a few months ago government agencies were sending out purchase orders for sub-machine guns to newspapers and other publications needed by the armed services and it was stipulated, as a condition of purchase, that the publishers must swear or affirm that not only were they not discriminating in matters of employment but that they would deal only with subcontractors who followed the same rule of "non-discrimination." The idea that the press must be free from dictation or coercion by the government did not seem to be considered.

Thought control goes even further unofficially. Members of the administration are boycotting private clubs that do not admit Negroes as members.

In New York and Washington not all the members of the diplomatic service of foreign governments are admitted to such clubs.

In the past, private clubs here have not admitted diplomats from Communist-bloc countries. In theory, it might be argued that, in the "public interest," all private clubs should admit anyone the government here might wish to see admitted.

THE SAME SORT OF IGNORANCE of the workings of the living body is also profitable, at the expense of the public, to "diet fadists" and to those who exploit the sale of what may be useful products when put to proper use.

With few exceptions, and perhaps none, the glandular secretions (hormones) that enter directly into the blood stream are held in balance by a control center that sits at the base of the skull (anterior pituitary gland). Note the word, "balance."

NATURAL CONTROL. Now, when a secretion is deficient, the master gland usually exerts a bit more pressure to raise local output, something like working a night shift. And when a secretion is produced in excess, the control center can reduce the working days to three a week.

What happens, then, when we start tinkering with this delicate adjustment may be just the opposite of what we set out to do.

For example, if a secretion is man's patriotism, his duty to mankind or to accurately defined civil rights."

Not only Prof. McInerney but also Dr. Dexter L. Hanley, S.J., professor of law at Georgetown University—another Catholic priest who is a prominent educator—can surely be said to qualify in the category of true liberals.

Prof. Hanley said that individuals should seek first to influence society through persuasion and conviction rather than to coerce it by law.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And Pilate said to them, Why, what evil has he done? But they shouted all the more. Crucify him. — Mark 16:14.

It seems strange to us that Jesus should suffer for He had no sin Himself, but His sufferings were occasioned by His relationship to others. — William T. Rose.

THREATS REACHED

He said threats have risen and been heard in Berlin, the Middle East, Southeast Asia, Latin America, Africa.

But, he added, the balance sheet "on our position in the world is not just the addition of successes and the subtraction of losses."

This outstanding fact of 1961 is, he said, "that it was a year of unification—a year in which free men everywhere found themselves coming together, aware of their common purposes."

Bolster Child's Soul With Music

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE K-467; Lorna L., age 11, is quite musical.

"Dr. Crane," her mother protested, "where did Lorna get her talent?"

"Neither her Daddy nor I have any musical ability. So how did she develop such a little coarser voice?"

One of our great scientists named Conradi placed English sparrows eggs in the nests of canaries.

The young sparrows, after hatching, never heard the typical call notes of their own species.

No, they were constantly surrounded by canaries, so the little sparrows began to trill and sing like canaries, though with a little coarser voice.

Lorna really got her first delight in music from her talented music teacher in the second grade.

The latter made a game out of Mitch Miller's unique arrangement of the Christmas song called "Little Sandy Sleighfoot."

"Children," said her teacher, "I want you to pay attention to this new song and then try to tell me how many different voices and musical instruments you can detect."

"We shall call this game 'Musical Detectives.'"

Later, the teacher informed me that her pupils all got excited over the new game. For the teacher had cleverly caused them to link

'For Better World, Seek What Is Good'

We all know the world is in a sinful condition. Church people, who go to church Sunday after Sunday hear, we cannot achieve on our own strength alone. Let the power of God speak out from your heart and defend our Christian friends.

Let us re-examine our hearts and ask, "Where shall we start?" Let us follow after the things which make for peace, and things whereunto one may easily endue. Let us admit the good and seek that which is good.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Monday, Dec. 4, the 338th day of the year with 27 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1789, George Washington said goodbye to his officers at a New York tavern about before he resigned his commission as commander-in-chief of the Continental Army.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson sailed for France to attend the peace conference at Versailles.

In 1942, President Roosevelt ordered the liquidation of the Works Progress Administration, created in 1935 to provide work projects for the unemployed.

In 1948, the United Mine Workers were fined $2.5-million and their leader, John L. Lewis, $10,000, for refusing to call off a 17-day strike.

A thought for today: George Washington said, "I cannot be no greater error than to expect or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation."

Portraits

By JOHN C. METCALFE

Let me tell you, my darling... For the night is cold outside... And bring you the warmth and comfort... Of our winter fireside... While the falling wind is weeping... At our frozen window pane... Let me hear you softly whisper... In my loving arms again... And as heavy snow is falling... In the darkness of the night... Let our thoughts be filled with laughter... And the shadows turn to light... And when daylight is returning... May the sunbeams in the sky... And the deep blue of the heaven... Gently kiss your sleepy eyes.

And that is right, for when you try to encourage your children's fondness for music, also combine it with religious idealism and a lofty moral sentiment linked with character.

Childhood is the proper time to inspire and nurture idealism, so use music to help accomplish this goal.

"Music," aptly stated John Erskine, "is the only language in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing."

Dissenter Among Top Illinois Dems

Rally Behind Adlai for Senate

CHICAGO (UPI)—The most powerful Democratic voices in Illinois were rallying today behind the proposed candidacy of Ambassador Adlai Stevenson for the U.S. Senate, but one party leader was not enthusiastic.

State Rep. Paul Powell, speaker of the Illinois House, who has indicated he'd like to run next year against Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said, "I'm not excited."

Powell, a powerful Southern Illinois voice in a party which must get downstate votes to win, was all but alone in his grudging acceptance of the suggestion that Stevenson take on Dirksen.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., an old Stevenson running mate in the latter's successful 1948 bid for the Illinois governorship, said he thought a try for the Senate by the U.S. envoy to the United Nations would be a "splendid idea. I think he would be our strongest candidate."

Douglas said he wrote Stevenson two weeks ago, urging him to run.

Stevenson has promised a decision by Jan. 1.

Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley, who controls the bulk of Democratic votes in Illinois, said he suggested that Stevenson run for the Senate "as far back as the presidential nomination."

The only announced Democratic candidate for the Senate next year, State Rep. Paul Simon, said he would withdraw and leave Stevenson a clear field if the former governor decides to run. "I have such high regard for Mr. Stevenson that I wouldn't want to run against him."

NO HARD FEELINGS

Powell rather acerbically recalled that Daley failed to back Stevenson for the 1960 presidential nomination. "Daley didn't want him for president. If Daley wants him that's all there is to it. I wouldn't go unless Daley was for me. . . . I can't figure it myself, but if he is their candidate, there will be no hard feelings and I will support him."

If he runs, Stevenson will need wholehearted support of Powell. Both Stevenson and Dirksen have been formidable vote getters, but Dirksen had a narrow squeak in 1956 and Stevenson failed to carry Illinois in his 1952 and 1956 bids for the presidency.

A membership in the world's most exclusive club — the U.S. Senate — has long been a Stevenson dream. He wanted to run for the Senate in 1948 but that place on the ballot already had been promised to Douglas. Stevenson was persuaded to run for governor. Both won.

Should Stevenson defeat Dirksen, history would be repeating itself. Dirksen won his first term in 1950 by besting Scott W. Lucas, who was Democratic floor leader in the Senate. Dirksen holds the same post on the other side of the aisle.

Agricultural Groups Seek State Approval

LANSING (AP)—Two agricultural commodity groups have applied to use a state authorized seal of quality; the State Agriculture Commission reports.

The two, a Jersey milk marketing group and a poultry group, made application at a commission meeting.

The five-member commission drafted a proposal opposing the adoption of national standards to legalize fish flour (a high-protein flour made from ground whole fish). If legalized, the product could be used in food products to bring up the protein content to meet state requirements, a spokesman said.

'Flood' Forcing Move

DILLON, Colo. (AP)—Dillon, familiar to tourists driving on U.S. Highway 6 across Loveland Pass, has been hauled to the new location of a new dam, part of the Blue River Water Diversion Project, eventually will cover the town site. Most of the buildings already have been hauled to the new location six miles away.

'Surfacer' Measures Level of Rail Tracks

CLEVELAND (U.S.)—A device which resembles a miniature boat trailer, and uses piano strings, is being used by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad to insure level tracks and smooth rides for passengers and freight.

The device, called a "surfacer," registers low spots — variations as small as an eighth-inch — on an indicator. A ballast tamper then moves in to push ballast under and around ties and correct the situation.

Using the equipment, railroad maintenance engineers say, crews can correct 50 to 80 low spots a day.

St. Joseph's Boosters Celebrate 3 Good Years

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Boosters Club, organized for the betterment of the hospital, celebrated three successful years at the annual dinner dance Saturday in Forest Lake Country Club. Delighted with the growth and support the service group has received at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor (left) and Dr. Everett Gustafson.

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Nalepa (left) and Dr. and Mrs. Michael Kozonis were among Boosters present for Saturday's dinner dance. The club's first project was the renovation of the hospital's emergency entrance room. Desiring to be of greater service, the group's motto for this year is, "Further horizons every year—with purpose staunch and dauntless will!"

Sunlight Exposure Causes Wrinkles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Blame aging and wrinkling of the skin on the "cumulative" amount of sunlight exposure, not on age, as such, or complexion.

This is the conclusion of a study done by Dr. Earl G. Cockerell and associates from Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, Tex. During the study, skin specimens were examined from young, middle and old age groups.

Abby Says: It's Good

Sixteen Knows Answer

By ABIGAIL VAN BURKEN
DEAR ABBY: We are twins (16) who read your column every day and respect your opinion greatly. So do our parents.
Our parents forbid us to date boys out of our religion. We don't intend to get serious about these boys, we just want to date them. Isn't it better to go with them and get it out of our

Bridegroom Can Get OK for You

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I received an invitation to the wedding for a friend of mine. I know the bridegroom quite well, but I know the bride only slightly. It so happens that my fiancé who lives in another city will be visiting me the weekend of the wedding.
He has never met either the bride or the groom. I would like very much to go to the wedding but am reluctant to leave him alone for several hours. Would it be acceptable to request permission to bring my fiancé with me?
If permissible, do I ask the bride's parents who are giving the wedding but who are strangers to me, or do I explain my predicament to the bridegroom?
A: Explain your situation to the bridegroom and I am sure he will be glad to ask permission of his fiancée's family.

Q: My husband I along with two other couples were invited to a dinner party in a restaurant. Before starting to eat, the host suggested we say grace. While we are all accustomed to saying grace at home, I think saying grace in a public restaurant was a little out of order. Will you please give me your opinion.
A: In an entirely secular and public place, each one should have said grace in unobtrusive silence.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Expenses" answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to cover cost of handling and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

systems than not to be able to, and think we are missing something?
THE TWINS
DEAR ABBY: I was impressed with the letter signed "Sucker's Wife." It was from the woman whose husband repaired everybody's appliances in the neighborhood free, but her own sewing machine had been in need of repairs for a year.
I've been in the sewing machine business since 1937, and have been taken advantage of many times, but I don't think I am the worse off for it.
Will you write the lady and tell her I will be delighted to fix her sewing machine free if she'll pay the freight both ways?
Sincerely,
W. L. L. Fayetteville, N.C.
DEAR W. L. L.: You are very generous. The lady lives in Honolulu.

DEAR ABBY: When we women go to learn to stick together? Someone should start a foundation for women who want to leave their husbands but have to stay put because they have small children to raise, no means of supporting themselves and no place to go.
I wish I had a dollar for every case where the husband was chasing around and living it up while his wife had to pretend she didn't know it and just keep her mouth shut. We women should get together and help each other financially through thick and thin and tell the men to go jump in a lake.

Decoupage Work to Be on Display

An exhibit at "Winter Green," the annual Christmas show opening Tuesday at the Detroit Historical Museum will be the unusual decoupage work of a group of Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham women during the past year.

This group of nine members of The Michigan Guild of Decoupages, including Mrs. Henry Whiting, Mrs. Gordon Lovejoy, Mrs. Harry Kieh, Mrs. Robert Woodruff, Mrs. Murray Kice, Mrs. Langley Smart, Mrs. Duncan Hammer and Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble, have met at the home of Mrs. Theron Van Dusen once a week for the past four years to practice this art of the 18th century, which has its contemporary expression in collage and montage.
The group's study and research has included trips to the art museums of New York and Boston and to the workshop of the nationally and internationally famous decouper, Mrs. Maybelle Manning of Boston.
The exhibit will be on view at the museum through Dec. 10.

Pamper Your Skin

Did you know that human skin is a mere fraction of an inch thick? But, oh, what a difference the condition of that fractional layer can make!
When skin is "muddy," your appearance is in lowest gear. To encourage enviable natural beauty, pamper your complexion by gentle massaging with plenty of soapsuds at least twice daily.

Here's How

The common home practice of washing off mattress surfaces has approval from the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers. Here's how:

1. Create wet-dry pads by heating a small bowl of soap or detergent with a little water.
2. Sponge-rub the mattress cover vigorously with the fluffy pads, working quickly on one area at a time.
3. Rinse-rub with a clean damp towel.
4. When dry, turn the mattress and "shampoo" the reverse side the same way.

'Belting' It Out

(UPI)—The belt manufacturers should be happy for the break the New York garment industry gives them in new collections. Most often men's narrow, string-like belts tied instead of buckled, and made either of hid or snakeskin; and wide, wide belts which demand a skinny mid-section. Some of these wide numbers measure eight and 10 inches and usually are shown banding the midriff directly under the bosom.

Know How to Choose a Sweater?

URBANA, Ill. (UPI)—Check for these points in a good sweater, advises Rosemary Bowald, University of Illinois home economist:

KNIT TO SHAPE

Is the sweater full fashioned? In trade jargon, this term means knit to shape, and full fashioned sweaters generally fit better and keep their shape longer than sweaters cut and sewn from knit fabric. Check the armholes for full fashioning marks, which result from changing the stitches from needle to needle. Don't confuse them with mock fashion marks, usually found on cheaper sweaters.

Is the knit firm and close? This indicates better quality than a loose, sleazy knit.

Is the ribbing firm, yet elastic? Generally, stitches in the ribbing should be smaller than stitches in the body of the sweater. Neck ribbing which has been knitted onto the sweater is more desirable than ribbing which has been sewn on.

Are the seams straight, flat and smooth? Look for sweaters with underarm seams on both sides or none at all. Sweaters with only one underarm seam are apt to sag. Check cuff seams too, particularly if you ever turn up the cuffs. Be sure there is no bulky, unsightly seam.

Remember Painful Permanents?

Don't Shrug Off Blessings

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
We certainly take our blessings for granted! I am not talking about our real and vital blessings, but those which are minor by comparison. YET these add so very much to one's pleasure, self-confidence and attractive appearance.
Take electrolysis, for instance, that magic which permanently removes superfluous hair. In 1875 came the first report concerning the removal of hair by electrolysis. The thought had been bouncing around for a long time before that, and electrolysis had been used medically in the treatment of tumors as early as 1867.

It seems that folks (women, I bet) were willing to accept rugged experiences long ago in order to rid themselves of superfluous hair. As late as 1878 physicians were using such techniques as plucking the hairs and then inserting a needle, which had been dipped in caustic potash or carbolic acid into the follicles.

Of course, these needles were not electrified. The treatment was supposed to kill the root (a wonder it didn't kill the person), or cause so much inflammation that it closed the canals so that the hairs could not regrow. One method included surgery which removed the follicles as well as the hairs.

Compare that with the ease and skill with which hair is removed today — and yet take it for granted.

HOURS OF AGONY
Think of the permanent wave! Not many years ago having a permanent was extremely painful. Perhaps I was unlucky and had an especially unskilled operator but I stood the pain for hours, thinking that that was what I had to do if I wanted to have my hair curled.

Regardless of my unhappy experience, there is no doubt that the permanent wave has improved greatly every year. Now it is really streamlined and should be dependable.

Think of all of the wonderful products we have with which to care for the skin and the hair, and just think of the hair tints we have!

Sometimes we forget how many years of thought, how much creative ability, how much research and experimentation came before the products and procedures we take for granted. It seems that we should take advantage of these small blessings and not be casual about them.

Chapter Practices Christmas Carols

The Xi Beta Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. William Killen on Glenwood Avenue. Cohostesses were Mrs. Idamae Fraser and Mrs. Clarence Hall.

An evening of court whist followed the practice session of Christmas carols. Mrs. Walter Hiller will open her Drayton Plains home Tuesday evening when the group will make holiday table decorations to be used in a nursing home for the aged.

At one time receiving a permanent was a pretty painful process. Perhaps it isn't a pleasure today, but it isn't painful—and the results are much better.

Receive Recording
A tape recording of the Thursday evening dance attended by members of the Do-Do Square Dance Club in McCarrall School was presented to the Russell Newmans who leave soon to make their home in Fairbanks, Alaska. Margaret Fettingler will replace Mr. Newman as club treasurer.
Callers for the evening were Eugene Shaw, Charles Putrell, George Newton and Martin Lock.

Toy Monsters Degrade Christmas Spirit

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

It is a child's toy—and I saw it recently on TV. As it appeared on our screen it looked to be about 2 feet tall—a mechanical man, box-headed, swivel-eyed, made to simulate metal and containing batteries geared to respond to a child's voice. Commanded to perform, it obeys.

Its arms jerk into action, and from them streams a hail of plastic missiles guaranteed to fall dolls, teddy bears, houses of blocks and other natural presences of the nursery.

Speaking from the screen its merchandise said in effect that "the (toy) is every child's 'Big Brother,' and that it gives children who live in a world of frustration the chance 'to sublimate' and the sense of security they need.

Now "to sublimate" is a concept of Freudian psychology; a process by which we use the force of some unconscious hatred to empower some socially approved action.

Many non-Freudian psychoanalysts regard it as an unhealthy process, holding that social approval is useless to us so long as we are controlled by unconscious hate. They think that "sublimating" people are pretty miserable. But even Freudian psychologists would disagree. This toy, I think, as an assistant to the "sublimation" of children's frustrations. Certainly those I know would agree with me that it is actually an assistant in the exercise of mindless and wasteful destructiveness.

As I write this column, mothers all over the world have been marching on Soviet consulates and embassies to protest Russia's superbomb tests—those exercises in wanton and mindless destructiveness loosed upon the natural presence of the earth: next spring's rain, the tender bones of children, milk and pasture land.

From people everywhere has arisen prayer for a resurrection of human feeling upon this planet before human feeling is ended—and the inhuman, the push-button, the machine man takes it over.

So it seems to me to be a most inappropriate moment to introduce a missile-streaming robot on to the Christmas shelves of this nation's toy stores.

If grownups must go on playing with the mindless and heartless machinery of death, surely they can refrain from putting it into the shape of toys for children.

Creamy Filling Is Hidden Right Under Fluffy Icing

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe is another dessert one, but with such interesting possibilities of variation. We still are looking for interesting salad and meat recipes from any of our readers.

Mrs. Courtney Phelps is a busy young homemaker with 5-children under 6 years of age. She and her husband are building their own home. She likes to paint and to work in her yard and garden.

HIDDEN TREASURE CAKE
By Mrs. Courtney Phelps
1 package white cake mix

2 teaspoons poppy seed
1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 recipe 7-minute icing

Add poppy seed to cake mix and prepare as directed on package. As soon as the cake comes out of the oven, break the crust in a number of places with a fork.

Prepare the pudding and spread over warm cake. Cover with 7-minute icing.

You can vary this recipe by using other kinds of cake mix or pudding mix. Try an icing made with brown sugar or a chocolate 7-minute icing. There are lots of possibilities.

Leader of the day was Mrs. Norberg. Mrs. Paul Gorman sponsored the demonstration group which covered various topics of meetings, debate, appeal and withdrawal of a motion.

The Dec. 13 meeting will be in the regular club room.

MIRACLE MILE

Rockefeller Center Tree Tradition Began Modestly

By PHYLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK—The giant Rockefeller Center Christmas tree — soon to be lighted so that a dozen million Americans can see it and feel happily humble — is a perfect symbol of what Santa Claus could do if he only had money. Most of those Americans probably think the idea for this dazzling annual spectacle was old John D. Jr.'s charitable dream. Not so.

It was way back in 1931, when life was earnest and people sang reverent Christmas carols instead of red-nosed vibrator cha-chas, when almost no man had everything, that it started. A group of workmen gathered together at a hole in the ground off Fifth Avenue. It was almost midnight, Christmas eve. They pitched in nickels and dimes to buy a 15-foot Christmas tree in the depths of their diggings. They decorated it with tinsel and little bits of colored paper. While they stomped their feet on the crusty mud, they sang carols. And that tree — unlighted and flimsy and a relative pips-squeak of the forest — was the first Rockefeller Center tree.

The tradition was begun before the building.

Since then, executives at the center annually begin searching for a newer, greater tree every year. They employ a "coordinator of Christmas activities," who starts the quest for another tree on the day after Christmas.

More than 100 rangiers often are on the lookout for exactly the right tree. It's not an easy job, because Center trees rarely come from the forests. In a forest, trees grow high and lean. For Rockefeller Center, which is 800 feet tall and a block wide, there must be a tree that has not only stature but fullness; a free-standing monarch of perfect proportions, where every branch has equal access to sun and wind.

By summer, usually, the potential Center tree has been narrowed to a few beauties. When the final selection is made, it is certain to be at least 40 years old and 50 feet tall, weighing up to 5 tons, more than 80 years old.

Then comes the problem of moving the tree from its natural estate to the heart of the city. The job is meticulously handled. By men who know this most specialized business in the world.

'Pup for Christmas' Is Hit of Yuletide Season

By DICK HANSON

Presenting "A Pup for Christmas," a very short five-act play fitting to the season.

INTRODUCTORY

A pup for Christmas is a usual topic around any home with children and no pets at this time of year. It's a rare child who doesn't want a pet; and, naturally kids are aware that this is the best time to campaign for one.

The campaign will gain intensity as the yuletide fever of jolliness and good will overtakes even parents (those rather grim and usually unbending "big people.")

Scene opens in a typical American living room, with a cast of one small boy, an harassed father, and a serene mother quiet feeding baby.

Father (with a menacing look in his wild eyes):

All right, so I'm an ogre, but no dog.

Boy (pleadingly): Gee whiz, one ill' dog 'round here sure would make a difference; I'd be happy then.

Father: We went through this before, Jimmy. Our house is just too small for a dog, besides there'd be messes to pick up. And I'd have to take care of it.

Boy: No you wouldn't; I'd take care of him, Dad, I promise.

Father: The answer is no. Your mother has enough to do minding the baby.

(Mother remains silent, only cocking an eyebrow at the remark by her beleaguered spouse.)

Boy (mumbling and glassy-eyed feigning proximity to tears, actually readying a fresh attack): Some Christmas it's going to be—just like last year.

Father (his pride pricked): Whadaya mean last year? You got a nifty machinegun, and you wouldn't shut up 'til you broke it—not even for six days after, in fact.

Boy: Yet, but a puppy dog wouldn't break 'n' he'd be quiet.

Father (a sigh showing first sign of weakness): There'd be other problems, son, he'd have to be fed, cleaned and walked (shudders at thought of dropping temperatures outside.)

Boy: Dad, those are things you do for someone you love.

Father (realizing he's suddenly vulnerable somehow, turns to wife in desperation): Mary, say something! Mother (calmly): It's time you were in bed, Jimmy. Exit a small figure dejectedly.

ACT II, ACT III, ACT IV

Repeat Act I on successive days.

FINAL ACT

Christmas Eve — Christmas tree lights gleam softly in the still living room.

Furtively dad sneaks into the deserted room with a bulge in his overcoat pocket, only a small wagging tail sticking out of the pocket.

MORAL

In summary: Just in case you find yourself in a similar situation, Dad, remember, the Oakland County

Animal Shelter at the county service center on Telegraph road has a surplus of loveable puppies for $3 apiece at this time of year. Also Michigan Animal Rescue League Shelter on Featherstone Road at East Boulevard has a good supply of pups waiting.

IS THIS THE ONE? — Like many boys his age, all 8-year-old Scott Isgrig of 765 Menominee Road really wants for Christmas is a dog of his own. Here he considers a likely candidate at the Animal Rescue Shelter at 790 Featherstone Road. It's a big decision for any boy to make.

PERPLEXING PROBLEM — Scott debated at length whether to take this appealing dachshund home for his new pet but finally decided the dog was just too long for safe passage alone through the screen door. Besides those abbreviated legs might have trouble keeping up with an active boy.

School Districts Being Reduced

Michigan Had 7,361 in 1911; Now 557 K12 Areas by Consolidation

LANSING (AP)—Consolidation, annexation and absorption have reduced the number of Michigan school districts to 1,897 as of November, the State Department of Public Instruction reported today. The number of school districts was as high as 7,361 in 1917. The total was reduced to 4,913 in 1950 and 2,843 in 1957.

More than 94 per cent of all public school children in Michigan now are enrolled in 557 12-grade districts, the department said. About 91 per cent of Michigan public school children now live in K12 (kindergarten to 12th grade districts.)

Iosco and Ontonagon counties are unique in that they have 100 per cent organization into K12 districts.

Michigan is following the national trend in the consolidation of school districts, the department said. It has been predicted the nation's present some 42,000 school districts eventually will be reduced to less than 20,000 districts.

Another facet of the state re-organization program is that indications are that the present 28 special act school districts will be reduced to 12 in 1962.

Flint and Grand Rapids already have submitted requests that the legislature repeal their special act status and requests from other special act districts are expected. With the repeal of the special legislative act, the district automatically becomes a district of the class specified by the state school code.

Four Feared Killed in German Air Crash

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A four-jet Boeing 720 of the German Lufthansa airline crashed southwest of Frankfurt on a training flight today. Police said it was likely that the four crewmen aboard were killed.

A Lufthansa spokesman said there were no passengers aboard the plane, which crashed near the village of Ebersheim, near the city of Mainz.

The weather was cloudy but there was no fog at the time of the crash.

HOMEWARD BOUND — His choice made, Scott tucks his new-found friend safely under his arm and heads back home with his mother, Mrs. Robert G. Isgrig. The happy ending will be repeated many times from now 'til Christmas.

St. Lawrence Put to Winter Rest

Seaway Shut Officially After 2-Day Delay Due to Weather, Late Rush

MASSENA, N.Y. — The St. Lawrence Seaway closed officially for the season at midnight Saturday after a two-day delay because of bad weather and a late rush of grain traffic.

A spokesman for St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. said Sunday about six grain ships from the Great Lakes still were waiting at Montreal.

The seaway will operate during daylight hours for the next day or so, he said, "just to get these lakers up where they belong."

But officially, he said, the seaway is closed and is scheduled to remain closed until April 15.

The seaway handled four ships Saturday. The last "salty," or seagoing vessel, the Greek freighter Amantia, cleared the system at 5:15 a.m. and headed for the Atlantic Ocean.

The seaway closing had been planned for midnight Thursday, but when the deadline arrived, there were still about 50 ships in the system. Many of them had been delayed by high winds and a snowstorm Wednesday.

Because of the delay, the deadline was extended 48 hours.

4 in Family Die as Plane Crashes Near Turnpike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—An early fog, combined with a sudden fog, spelled tragedy Sunday for a family of five whose plane crashed, possibly during an attempt to land amid heavy Sunday traffic on the Ohio Turnpike. Four died and the fifth was injured.

The plane missed the turnpike as it lost power during a hard about 100 feet above the toll road and plunged into a field.

Dead in the crash were the pilot, William E. Phillips, 35; his wife, Beverly, 29; a son, Kenneth, 7, and a daughter, Mary Ann, 6 months.

A third child, Barbara, 5, was reported in fair condition at South Side Hospital.

Month-Long Drive for Muscular Dystrophy to End

Some 600 volunteers for the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. (MDAA) will end a month-long fund raising campaign tomorrow night with a door-to-door solicitation throughout Pontiac.

The porch light drive from 7 to 9 p.m. will be part of a nationwide campaign. One quarter of the money raised will provide for a year of complete medical care for Oakland County patients.

The rest of the money will go to the Institute for Muscle Disease.

MDAA supports a clinic at Detroit Memorial Hospital and cares for some 50 patients with muscular dystrophy in Oakland County.

MDAA drive officials expressed hope that the Pontiac campaign will top the $2,500 raised last year.

Members of Church youth fellowships and other teenagers will canvass Pontiac Township for the drive between 4 and 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Admits Killing 5

Adds 3 More to Charge He Shot Cab Driver, Crippled Engineer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—An AVIAT Army private who Sunday night confessed to a police-crushed Indiana engineer and a local police officer has admitted five more slayings, police said today.

Detective Joe Hannah said Robert Allen Jones, an 18-year-old soldier stationed at Monte Germany, has been charged with murder in the slaying of cab driver John Womack, 35.

Officers said Jones, who told police "I ain't got nothing to lose," Sunday night admitted using a 25-caliber German pistol to kill Womack and Gerald Stube, 54, of Seymour, Ind.

Hannah said Jones had confessed to "three and possibly four more killings" in the Chicago area.

The detective said Jones told him he tried to strangle one man in Chicago but he "never did learn" whether the man died.

Hannah quoted Jones as saying, "I only got 115 from the cable. It wasn't even worth my time and trouble."

SPOTTED BADGE
During the questioning session, Hannah said Jones spotted a detective's badge with a diamond in it.

"Boy, it's a good thing I didn't see you out on the street some place," Jones was quoted as saying to Police Lt. Pete Davis. "I'd have killed you for that badge."

The officers said Jones told them, "I ain't got nothing to lose and there's no doubt I'm going to burn so I might as well tell you everything."

3 Missionaries Leave Lisbon

Tell of Being Jailed in Portugal to Provide Political Scapegoat

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three Methodist missionaries who spent 90 days in jail in Portugal and Angola charged Sunday they were imprisoned because the Portuguese government needed a "scape-goat."

The three, arrested here by plane from Lisbon Sunday, they were Fred Brancel, 33, Endeavor, Wis.; the Rev. E. Edwin Lester, 38, Lexington, Ky.; and Marion Way Jr., 31, Charleston, S.C.

The missionaries had been charged with engaging in subversive activities designed to make Angola independent. They denied the charges.

"There was an attempt to put the finger on something or someone and I think our mission was the scapegoat," Brancel said.

Way claimed that they were arrested because "we have been practicing what the Portuguese have been preaching."

"The government officials have a wonderful policy of interracial cooperation but it doesn't get down to the local officials who control the lives of the people in these areas," he said. "When we practice this philosophy, the Portuguese government officials are reflected in a bad light in the eyes of the natives."

They also charged the Portuguese government with mistreating Africans in Angola and detailed some of the alleged incidents.

College Enrollment Has Gone Up, Up, Up

CINCINNATI — More students are attending American colleges this year than ever before.

Dr. Garland C. Parker, University of Cincinnati registrar, reported Sunday night full-time enrollment at 1,045,462. The total full and part-time enrollment at universities and four-year colleges is 3,515,471.

This represents a 7.5 per cent increase in full-time students and a 4.2 per cent increase in part-time. Altogether, there are now 6.5 per cent more college students than last year.

Michigan State University ranks ninth among the top 10 in full-time students with 21,221. University of Michigan is 10th with 20,963.

U. of M. is sixth among the top 10 in grand total students with 28,778. The University of California is first with 27,474 in grand total and 23,346 full time.

Michigan State is 12th in grand total with 26,091 and Wayne State 19th with 20,095.

Georgia Newsman Dies

FITZGERALD, Ga. (UPI)—Funeral services were held Sunday for S. G. Pryor Jr., cofounder and former editor of the Flag newspaper, who died Saturday at the age of 73.

Grant to Finance Study of U.S.'s Catholic Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — The Carnegie Corp. of New York announced Sunday a grant of $550,000 for the first complete study of the nation's Roman Catholic elementary and secondary schools.

The survey, which will include costs, quality of education, physical facilities and other factors, will be administered by the University of Chicago and is expected to take two or three years.

Named to run the survey are Notre Dame's president, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh; George H. Shuster, noted Catholic layman and former president of Hunter College, and the Rev. Frederick G. Hochwald, executive secretary of the National Catholic Education Association.

Principal Will Attend Education Conference

Mrs. Emily Hicks, principal of the William A. Hart Elementary School, 381 S. Winding Drive, Waterford Township will attend a regional conference, Dec. 10-12, sponsored by the National Department of Elementary School Principals. Some 150 principals from 15 mid-western states will participate in the conference at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.

Pennsylvania State University was known as the Farmers' High School of Pennsylvania when it opened in 1859.

'Crisis' Looms in Britain

By HARRY FERGUSON
LONDON (UPI)—It started with what seemed to be a harmless statement by her Majesty's forestry commission that for certain purposes the American oak tree (Quercus rubra) was superior to the British oak (Quercus robur).

Two lovers of Britain—and that comprises her total population—flew into a rage that may shake the foundations of the Anglo-American alliance.

The crisis centers on Sherwood Forest where Robin Hood and his Merry Men put the television industry into their eternal debt hundreds of years ago by acting and short plays without the benefit of cameras, script or director.

Her Majesty's forestry experts proposed to start planting American oak trees in Sherwood Forest and this is the statement that set the winds of controversy howling.

"The English oak needs shelter and secluded spots. The American oak will flourish in poor sandy soil and grows taller and quicker."

SO ANGRY!
It was inevitable that British tree lovers would bare their fangs and leap at the throat of Her Majesty's commission. The only question was which one would get there first.

The honor went to Sir Shane Leslie, 74, chairman of an organization known as "The Men of Trees," and cousin of Sir Winston Churchill.

Sir Shane's organization is dedicated to the preservation of British forests and in his opinion the greatest piece of legislation ever passed by Parliament in a 100-year-old law making it an offense to cut down a sapling, especially with "intent to steal."

"Absolutely nonsense," roared Sir Shane at the forestry commission. "Nothing can be better than an English oak which has evolved in Sherwood Forest for thousands of years. If the people responsible for this irresponsible proposal would like to test it, let us plant an English oak and an American one side by side. Then in 500 years we will know who is right."

It was suggested to Sir Shane that the forestry commission might want to delay its decision for 500 years.

"Precisely," he replied. "They are trying to rush this thing through willy-nilly because they know only too well that time is on my side."

At this writing Her Majesty's forestry commission has gone into secret session.

Gen. Walker to 'Make Stand Alone'

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker said he'll go it alone in his fight against communism.

"I will not be affiliated with anyone in particular," he declared Sunday when asked whether he would carry out his program through such organizations as the John Birch Society.

"I intend to be myself and stay unassociated with any organization or any individual except the necessary personal staff to help me in my correspondence and my assistance in my program and objectives. I am going to be a principal spokesman for anyone but Edwin A. Walker."

Walker quit the Army last month following removal from his command of the 24th Division in Germany last May. It came after an investigation of complaints about an information program he sponsored among his troops.

He later was ordered to a staff assignment at the Army's Pacific headquarters.

Among other things, Walker was accused of having described as "definitely pink" such persons as former President Harry S. Truman, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

An Army investigation cleared Walker of accusations that his troop training course was pattered on literature of the John Birch Society. The report said, however, that Walker was a society member.

Walker, appearing on the ABC-TV program, "Issues and Answers," said he didn't intend to change his purpose now.

Asked if he was forbidden by the Army to tell his troops what he regarded as the truth, he declared: "I am suggesting that the military is censoring, it is censoring, it is censoring and continues to be censored."

Walker said he was expressing the belief expressed by both President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that extremists can cause great damage to the country.

"I do not believe you can castigate what is going on in America as extremists, superpatriots, as clearly as that."

Walker quoted Eisenhower as having said in a recent issue of Newsweek magazine that "those who take extreme positions in American political and economic life are always wrong."

"I would say this is a very extreme statement," Walker countered. "It can't be justified by history to say that those who take extreme positions in American political life are always wrong."

USW Renewing Plea for a Cut in Work Week

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers have renewed their plea for a shorter work-week with no cut in pay.

Asserting that automation is steadily reducing the number of jobs in the steel industry, the USW issued a statement Saturday saying that a shorter work week would be a good remedy for the problem.

"Contrast the bleak picture of steelworker unemployment and community distress with the rosy performance of the industry," the statement said. "And the finding will reveal that the rewards of progress have been uneven."

Yule Commercialism Attacked by Lutheran

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Lutheran leader attacking the growing commercialism of Christmas, has urged churches to cancel Christmas services and leave the holiday to television and department stores.

The Rev. Dr. Edgar S. Brown Jr., director of worship of the United Lutheran Church in America, the nation's largest Lutheran body, made the appeal Sunday in "The Lutheran," his church's weekly news magazine.

Toronto Audience Goes Wild Over Ill Judy Garland
TORONTO (UPI) — Ailing singer Judy Garland had a Canadian audience cheering in the aisles Sunday night with a performance delivered despite her illness.

Mrs. Garland arrived at Marilyn Airport Sunday to be greeted by a small group of reporters, photographers, news-magazines and three waitresses from the airport restaurant.

Sunday night when the singer mounted the stage at 6,000-seat O'Keefe Center applause burst from the theater at least 11 times before her first song.

Some of the audience ran down the aisle to shake hands with her. The singer was forced to cancel an engagement last week because of an infection. Her manager, David Begelman, said the infection has left her "terribly weakened."

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months. Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dynex) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in convenient suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Phone Calls Home Top Gift List for GIs

"Hi, Mom!" The voice was young and eager. Words tumbled out, tears mingled readily with laughter.

It was Pvt. Willie Smith, in far-off Greenland, talking to his mother on Christmas Day . . . a free transcontinental call arranged through the auspices of The United Service Organizations, better known as the USO.

This holiday season, thousands of American servicemen stationed everywhere from Greece to Guam, Italy to Iceland, will be reunited by phone with parents, wives and sweethearts.

A telephone call to loved ones in the States ranked high on the list when USO asked servicemen overseas what they most wanted—and didn't want—for Christmas. From 22 different bases, the answers came.

Most of the boys said they'd love to receive more photographs of family and more mail from home — photos and mail topped the list!

Close seconds were subscriptions to home-town newspapers, pictures of sweethearts, "home-made" (not store-bought) cookies and cakes, subscriptions to news and men's magazines, money orders, pictures of friends and TELEPHONE CALLS from home.

CALLS PAID FOR

The USO's "Hi Mom" telephone program dates back to the Korean War when a local union of the Communications Workers of America sent a check to a Chicago USO club, suggesting it be used to pay for telephone calls home by servicemen.

This practice ended with the war, but was reestablished in 1947 in a different form by the National Communications Workers of America, and the USO. On Christmas Day of that year, ten inmates of an Army hospital in Seoul, Korea made trans-Pacific calls home to Mom, courtesy of the CWA and USO.

Each overseas USO unit will be allocated a certain number of calls which will go to personnel selected by unit directors. But there are over one million American Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine personnel serving abroad . . . and they'd all like to say "Hi, Mom" on Christmas Day.

Other things many would like for Christmas — especially those serving in Europe and Alaska — are civilian clothes. The boys in Alaska mention sweaters specifically when asked about their Christmas gift preferences. But surprisingly, requests for "civies" were at the bottom of the list in 62 of each American.

the Pacific bases in Japan and Korea.

As for the "don't wants," the USO survey found that the GIs were able to buy many items at PXs and ship's stores. The items they didn't request include watches, cameras, film, records, cigarettes, tobacco and store-made candies and cookies. All of these are in plentiful supply overseas and at bargain prices.

"I don't want money or expensive things," said one GI — folks back home are thinking of just something to show that the

Udall Fits Role as Whipping Boy

GUESS WHO WROTE TO ME TODAY?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—Every president needs to have one appointee who puts his foot in his mouth, makes people mad, or pulls enough honors to take the heat off the White House.
If he didn't have such a whipping boy he would have to invent one, but President Kennedy now seems to have found his, just as his predecessors had theirs.
Every time someone lately denounced that President Eisenhower the Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, he knew he had come safely through another day. Why fire Ezra? As long as the farmers centered their wrath on that stubborn, straight-laced gentleman, the president escaped personal blame for his own farm policies.
President Truman had Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, his military aide to serve as scapegoat for administration blunders. Mention the scandal about White House deep freezes, for instance, and one automatically thinks of Vaughan. Why? He distributed a half dozen frozen ones among the White House inner circle, keeping one for himself, but the Trumans got two.
President Roosevelt had the irascible Harold Ickes to infuriate all comers at the Interior Department, and Henry A. Wallace to wave a red flag at conservatives in the Commerce Department. President Wilson had his mysterious Col. House.
It's a little early to make a final judgment on the Kennedy administration, but as the first year draws to a close it looks like Interior Secretary Stewart Udall is shaping up beautifully for the invaluable role of bone-puller.

SOLICITS CONTRIBUTIONS
The ubiquitous Arizona man barely cut his eyeteeth on his shiny new mahogany desk before he persuaded a lobbyist pal to solicit $100-a-plate contributions to a Democratic fund-raising dinner. The pal obligingly put the bite on other lobbyists who do business with the government.
When word leaked out the administration was able to shrug it off while Udall took the black eye for raising the money.
More recently Udall appointed himself one-man czar for capital memorials, and decreed that Washington could not have so many statues. Before the startled citizenry could rally to proper defense, he shipped a towering statue of William Jennings Bryan off to Salem, Ill.
Next he decided, without a by-your-leave from anyone, that he would send our imposing statue of Dr. Benjamin Rush to Dickinson College in Pennsylvania. It mattered not to Udall that the American Medical Association had protested the statue of this signer of the Declaration of Independence to the country, nor that it stood on haval property that is not under Interior's jurisdiction.
This Udall is a merry mischief maker—just what the doctor probably ordered to keep the voters mad at him instead of the White House. As a matter of fact, JFK may be in on the plot. No sooner had Udall banished Bryan's statue than Kennedy stopped the sale of silver, and called for repeal of the Silver Purchase Act. Bryan was, of course, the nation's most eloquent spokesman for silver-backed currency.

Meany's Charge Denied by UAW
Union Official Claims AFL-CIO Chief Confused About Information
DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union says AFL-CIO President George Meany was "completely cockeyed" when he claimed the UAW is failing to devote resources and effort in trying to sign up more members.
The UAW denied Meany charges it laid off 80 union organizers and had a $5-million kitty lying idle which could be used in an organizing drive.
"Meany should check his information before he talks. His facts are completely cockeyed," said a top UAW official who declined use of his name.
Meany, in Miami Beach for the AFL-CIO convention starting Thursday, told reporters over the weekend that UAW President Walter P. Reuther and other industrial union leaders have failed to mount an all-out organizing effort.
"Why haven't the auto workers done more?" Meany asked. "They laid off about 80 organizers from their staff since last spring. They have $5 million in a special strike fund and there's no sense in letting it lie idle."
In an angry reply, the UAW said that "in the first place, we didn't lay off any of them; that's completely cockeyed. We shifted people because we concentrated our efforts this year on collective bargaining, not organizing."
"Secondly, he (Meany) talks about $5 million in the fund. If he'd take the time to read the (UAW) constitution, he would find you can't spend strike fund money for any other purpose. It has to go to workers on strike."
The UAW said the fund never did total $5 million. At one time it was up to $42 million but strikes at General Motors, Ford and other firms in the auto and farm implements industries have taken more than $8 million already, the union said.

Wade McCree Quits UAW Review Board
DETROIT (AP) — Wade H. McCree Jr. resigned Sunday from the public review board of the United Auto Workers Union.
McCree, a former Wayne County Circuit Court judge, recently was appointed a U. S. District Court judge. He said there might be a conflict of interest if he continued as a member of the board while occupying the U. S. bench.
The board reviews complaints of UAW members and checks on the ethics of union actions.

Future Rider May Travel on Air

Wheel a Thing of Past?

Tomorrow's commuter may of business in a high-speed, wheel-less vehicle that skims along inches above the ground if current experiments prove practical.

Speeds of 100 to 500 miles an hour will be attained easily in wheel-less Levacar vehicles such as the one Ford Motor Co. recently showed in model form for the first time, according to Dr. Andrew A. Kucher, Ford vice president in charge of engineering and research.

The Ford Aerolus model (named after the ancient Greek God of the winds) represents a 200-passenger Levacar which may someday shuttle between major cities and heavy-population areas.

GREAT SPEED POSSIBLE
Its great speed is possible because the Levacar has practically no friction to overcome. It slides along on a thin film of air, using twin rails for a guide.

Full-scale versions probably will be powered by gas turbine-driven shrouded propellers and lifted by air from turbo-compressors (Levacaps), according to Dr. Kucher.

It is too early to say exactly what the future has in store for Levacars, said Kucher, "but the feasibility of the system has been established and the technology is being developed."

Research teams are convinced that a working system can be built and make a place for itself in public transportation because of the Levacar's unique speed, comfort, safety and economy.

Seek Replacements for Gordon Getsinger
Replacements will be sought for Gordon T. Getsinger as a member of the Bloomfield Township Board of Trustees and Republican State Central Committee.

Getsinger, 145 W. Square Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, has submitted his resignations from both after accepting a position as sales manager for a manufacturing firm in New York City.

The former Detroit manufacturing representative was re-elected to his second four-year term on the township board in April and has been one of four Oakland County members of the GOP policy making body since 1957.

His successor on the township board will be made by a majority vote of the board. Getsinger's successor on the State Central Committee will be made by the other three members.

Good Relations Remote

Castro and JFK Spar Over Elections

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy hardly had the words out of his mouth about wanting to see free elections in Cuba when Fidel Castro made it plain there won't be any.

Kennedy, in his interview with Ives, the Soviet government newspaper, said last week the United States would accept Communist government anywhere if it was approved by the people of a country in free balloting.

The American dispute with Cuba, Kennedy said, is that Castro has not permitted "free and honest election, and until he does his government cannot claim to represent a majority of his people."

ing his country into communist and would create a single political party with restricted membership.

This means he will pick the membership. The Cubans, like people in Russia and the satellites will have to mark yes or no on the candidates chosen for them.

WHEN IMPOSED

Then, any prospects of better relations with Cuba become even more remote, particularly since Kennedy said: "What we find to be objectionable, and a threat to the peace, is when a system is imposed by a small militant group by subversion, infiltration, and all the rest."

Kennedy's statement that this government was willing to recognize another government—in his case a Communist government—chosen by its people in free elections is not a new principle in American history.

But there is a certain contradiction in the yardstick he uses for finding a system objectionable when it is imposed by a "small militant group."

That's exactly—through a militant group—how Castro took over Cuba. It's also exactly how the Bolsheviks took over Russia. This country recognizes and deals with Russia but not with Cuba.

But communism is closer in Cuba than in Russia. And besides, Cuba is trying to stir up revolutions in this country's closest neighbors in Latin America.

This demonstrates the dilemma of American presidents when, faced by different and shifting situations, they first try to consider what they think are American interests.

Castro, who took over Cuba almost three years ago, and still has not allowed elections, said over the weekend he was leading

U.S. Food Aid to Go to Huron Schools

LANSING — Huron public schools have been selected to take part in a special federal school lunch program of aid to distressed areas, the State Department of Public Instruction says.

Under the nationwide test program, the Huron schools have been selected to maintain a type A school lunch program with the federal government supplying the cost of three basic foods, protein, vegetables and fruit.

The Huron district, which has never operated a type A program, will be listed by the U. S. Department of Commerce as within a distressed area.

Bob Hope Hit by Champagne Bucket in Skit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope suffered a two-inch cut on his forehead when he was hit by a champagne bucket while filming a skit for his Dec. 13 television show Sunday night.

Hope and actress Nancy Kwan were portraying two movie stars caught in the recent Bel-Air fire and the bucket was supposed to be lowered to them by ladder from a rescue helicopter. It came down too fast and struck Hope and the bucket was not seriously hurt. He resumed the skit with an adhesive patch on his forehead.

Arraignment Slated for Keyes Jan. 8

LANSING — Former Lt. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes will be arraigned Jan. 8 before Circuit Court Judge Louis Cough on a charge of conspiracy to violate the state election laws.

The former Republican House and governor was accused in an indictment last summer of having petitioned in his behalf improperly notated during his campaign for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor in 1956.

In an order binding Keyes over to Circuit Court for arraignment and trial, Judge Sam Street Hughes said the court "finds that there is probable cause to believe that the respondent is guilty of said crime."

Keyes is free on $1,000 bond.

Murder and Suicide Found by Firemen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Firemen battling a pre-dawn fire in a 15-story Brooklyn apartment building today said they found the bodies of a man and woman who had been shot to death.

Police said each victim had been shot once with a rifle found nearby. Detectives termed the deaths a murder-suicide. Officers identified the victims as John and Doris Weaver, both about 28.

1.5 Million Refugees From Palestine

U.S., Israel Headed for Arab Clash

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and Israel headed today for an open clash with the Arab world over how to help the 1.5-million Palestine Arab refugees.

The General Assembly's special political committee was to take up the annual report of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Arab refugees in which director John H. Davis of the United States endorsed a 13-year-old assembly decision that the estimated 1.5-million refugees of the 1948 Arab-Israeli war should be given the choice between going home to Israel or taking compensation for the property they left there.

Saudi Arabian delegate Ahmad Shikairy planned to insist that the refugees should be given this choice. Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir was expected to set forth Israel's stand that it is willing to help compensate the refugees but not to take them in for fear they would endanger its security.

Diplomatic sources said they expected trouble between the United States and the 10 Arab countries, over at least two of three proposals being prepared for submission to the committee.

The United States was working on a resolution to commend American scholar Joseph E. Johnson for his Arab-Israeli mediation as special representative for the U.N. Palestine Conciliation Commission.

DISSENT REPORT — The Arabs did not like Johnson's recent report, which said it must be assumed that "there will be Palestine Arab refugees for at least a decade."

Jordan, Lebanon, Syria and the United Arab Republic, hosts to the refugees, were working on a resolution to increase the membership of the conciliation commission from three to nine and give equal representation to Communist, Western and neutral countries. The United States, which now sits on the commission along with France and Turkey, is against such a troika setup.

The Arab resolution would also have the United Nations name a custodian to collect the income from Arab refugee property in Israel and use part on refugee relief. The United States is particularly opposed to this idea.

Some African and Latin-American countries are working on a third resolution to call on Israel and the Arab countries to negotiate on all outstanding issues. Israel has long demanded such talks. But the Arab states have said repeatedly they will negotiate with Israel only after Israel carries out U.N. resolutions for the partition of Palestine into Arab and Jewish states, for the inter-

Would-Be Groom Picks Up $1,400 for Honeymoon

SEATTLE (AP) — A young man who said he was waiting for his fiancée to show up to talk to the priest about their marriage plans paced nervously in a church rectory here Sunday, then snatched up $1,400 from a table.

"This would be enough for a honeymoon," he told secretary Rose Moroni, who had been counting for deposit in a bank.

"Yes, it would make quite a nice honeymoon," Miss Moroni agreed. Then, she told police, the man dashed out the door with the bundle of money and disappeared.

At Southfield Meeting Tonight

Hope to End Ad Scrap

SOUTHFIELD — A long-standing dispute over the right to place newspaper advertisements in the city's legal advertising is expected to be settled tonight, after the Michigan Supreme Court upheld the mayor's right to an absolute veto power.

The decision was made Saturday in the case of former Mayor Donald L. Swanson who had vetoed in 1959 a City Council resolution designating the Southfield Sun as the municipality's official newspaper.

The council maintained Swanson did not have the right to veto what the council considered an administrative decision on its part. Swanson was defeated in April by Mayor S. James Clarkson for the mayor's post.

Although not listed on tonight's City Council meeting agenda, according to the city clerk's office, a showdown between the Sun and the Southfield News is expected to be made at the session.

While the case was pending in the courts, both papers divided the city's legal advertising.

UPHOLDS EARLIER DECISION

The high court decision upholds an earlier decision made in November 1952, by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

The latest ruling today was hailed by Clarkson and Council President Hugh Dohany as confirming the mayor's right to veto any council move.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the mayor can veto anything the council does," he said.

Clarkson said, "Of course, the council still has the power of overriding the mayor by mustering five votes."

While Dohany agreed the ruling without doubt gave the mayor absolute veto power, he expressed fear of delays in getting council resolutions into action.

"The mayor has 10 days in which he can exercise his veto power," Dohany said. "It means that getting council resolutions into action could take at least 10 days."

"Any decision by the council will be made in the future with the veto power of the mayor hanging over it."

MAYOR-COUNCIL CONFLICTS?

One solution to the possible delay problem, he said, would be to have closer contact between mayor and council so the mayor could indicate his intentions before a council decision is made.

In the newspaper case, the council had been unable to override the mayor's veto because it could not muster the necessary five out of seven votes.

The original vote to give the legal advertising to the Sun had been 4-3.

The council meets at 8 p.m. today at the No. 10 school, Ten Mile and Berg Roads.

More than 200 persons attended the event, and gifts were presented to the retirees.

Tax Guide for Farmers Has Easy-to-Read Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 1962 edition of the farmers' tax guide for calendar year 1961, now is available. It tells farmers how to prepare their federal income tax returns in January.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said the new edition of the 64-page tax guide was released early to afford farmers ample time to prepare their returns. Some filings are due in January.

Caplin said that one million copies of the comprehensive green and white booklet were available for the asking at local internal revenue service offices and from county farm agents.

The early release of the publication was part of internal revenue's stepped-up program for improved information, education, and service to all taxpayers, Caplin said.

The 15 chapters of the booklet contain easy-to-read instructions in both general and specialized areas of federal income and self-employment taxes as they apply to farmers.

Among the things discussed are: Filing requirements and return forms; the importance of good records, farm inventories, trades, condemnations, diseased livestock, the new feed grains program payments, marketing quota penalties, and many other subjects.

A farmer's tax calendar has been added this year which tells the farmer what he should do and when he should do it in regard to his taxes during 1962. A sample filled-in federal income tax return also is contained in the booklet.

To Offer Exhibit of Children's Art Next Sunday

CLARKSTON — Climaxing eight weeks of children's Saturday art classes, the Village Friends of Art will present an exhibit from 2 to 4 p.m. next Sunday, in the foyer of the new First Methodist Church here.

There will be approximately 40 pictures and about the same number of sculptured pieces created by children from 8 to 12 years of age.

The art course has been under the supervision of Kate McLean, artist, and Hazel Nauman, sculptor.

Due to the acceptance and interest shown in the art classes, plans are being formulated for another class to begin in January. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Henry Rankin.

State Nike Batteries Win Firing Awards

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Army National Guard Nike Ajax batteries defending the Detroit area won the highest possible award for performance in practice firing at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The three batteries of the 2nd Nike Battalion, 17th Artillery, 210th Artillery Group (Air Defense) were named "honor batteries" after turning in performances rated in the high 90's during a week-long stay at McGregor missile range.

The batteries are on full-time duty at Nike sites at Marine City, Auburn Heights and Southfield.

America's farmers have twice as much invested in machinery as the steel industry and five times as much as the automobile industry.

Troy Garbage Pickup to Get Public Airing With Folder, Interest Card

TROY — The fate of a proposed garbage collection service hinges on a show of citizen interest. City Treasurer Leslie A. Rice said today.

Rice last week sent out about 5,000 folders explaining the proposal.

Attached to the folder is a card ready for mailing, no stamps needed. On the card, the citizen can indicate interest in the proposal by signing his name, address and phone number below a printed statement.

"I am interested in Troy's proposal plan for a city-controlled refuse pickup. I understand I am not under obligation in mailing this card."

Rice warned that a lack of action by interested residents might kill the proposal.

"If we get about 1,000 of the filled-out folders back, we can assume that there is enough interest in the city to warrant the setting of bids," Rice said. "But if we get less than 1,000, I'm afraid I'll have to recommend we not go ahead with this plan."

Rice said many residents who wanted garbage collection, probably would not fill out the folder. He said the city needed some indication of citizen interest to be able to make the pickups worth a contractor's efforts.

Present plans envision start of the service by Jan. 2. The initial fee, Rice said, will depend on the number of replies to the survey received.

Police Seeking Cause of Detroit Boy's Death

DETROIT (AP) — Police today awaited a medical examiner's report on the cause of the death of Richard Van Meer, 15.

The youth was found dead in bed Sunday by his mother, Marie. She said her son returned home late Saturday night and told her he had been in a fight but was unhurt.

By the time the fire department arrived, the interior of the 13-room house was ablaze and too far gone to save. It took firemen nearly three hours to bring it under control.

The house had been vacant since Nov. 15. It was being used by employees of the owner.

No estimate of damage has been determined. The cause of the blaze is still being investigated.

Fire Destroys Old Farmhouse

93-Year-Old Landmark in Farmington Township Vacant at Time of Blaze

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A 93-year-old landmark, the McCracken family farmhouse on 12-Mile Road, was destroyed by fire last night.

The 3½-story, vacant structure is owned by Howard McCracken and is located on the site of his apple orchard at 3270 W. 12-Mile Road. The house had been built by his grandparents.

The fire was discovered by McCracken, about 10:30 p.m. only a half hour after he had inspected the building when he found the doors to the old house open.

His check of the premises, however, turned up no signs of a fire, according to Farmington Township Fire Chief Paul Butten.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Jobs to Open in Spring at Oxford Boat Factory

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Employment opportunities here are expected to bloom next spring with completion of new and doubled plant facilities of Sea Ray Corp., builder of fiberglass boats.

The facility is being built on the west side of M24 about a half mile north of Oxford. The present plant which will be abandoned is in Orion Township at 2010 Indianwood Road, about three miles west of M24.

The boat firm, a subsidiary of Ray Industries, Inc., now has about 30 employees.

"By the start of our peak season in April we'll probably have a total of 75 in our Northampton, plus or minus 10 per cent," said Sea Ray President C. N. Ray today.

Most of the present employees live in or near Orion and Oxford townships. There is some technical personnel from the Detroit area.

The new ultra-modern facility, situated on a 100-acre plot, is immediately adjacent to a 100-acre lake. The lake is intended to be used for testing and demonstration of Sea Ray's marine product line, Sea Ray fiberglass boats.

Plans for the new plant have been in the completion stage for the past year, pending growth of the marine products line.

AMPLE PROVISION

With over three years' experience in the manufacture of a complete line of fiberglass boats, Sea Ray's production staff, together with plant engineers, has made ample provision for future needs as production volume in the boat line increases, according to Thomas Dugall, assistant sales manager for the corporation.

Actual transfer of production from the present manufacturing site on the outskirts of Lake Orion to the new facilities will begin early next year.

"Production will be interrupted only momentarily as Sea Ray's staff has engineered three such moves to larger quarters in its short but rapid growth, with very little loss in production time," Dugall said.

C. N. Ray, president of Sea Ray Corp., reports that a current backlog of orders will keep present facilities in full production until the end of this year.

In addition to the manufacturing facilities, plans also call for construction of an ultra-modern general office building at the same site.

It is expected that executive and nonproduction personnel will take possession of the new office facilities early next spring.

The rites were performed by Rev. E. G. Baumgartner before an altar backed with red roses and white carnations.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of Chantilly lace featuring a Sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel sweep.

A crystal and pearl crown held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a bridal bouquet of roses, stephanotis and carnations.

Mrs. James B. Leenhuis attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Sherry of Rochester and Bonnie Jean Lee and Mrs. Wayne Buchanan, both of Pontiac.

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Army National Guard Nike Ajax batteries defending the Detroit area won the highest possible award for performance in practice firing at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The three batteries of the 2nd Nike Battalion, 17th Artillery, 210th Artillery Group (Air Defense) were named "honor batteries" after turning in performances rated in the high 90's during a week-long stay at McGregor missile range.

The batteries are on full-time duty at Nike sites at Marine City, Auburn Heights and Southfield.

718 at Lakewood, 697 at Wonderland Tops First Day of Action

71 for Bowlerama Finas; 3 Days Still Left for Entries

In the biggest opening quality-ing round in the five year history of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama, 71 bowlers earned their way into the finals by qualifying at two sites yesterday.

Some outstanding actual and handicap scores were rolled at Lakewood and Wonderland Lanes and a pair of tournament newcomers took the honors as the high qualifiers.

Bernie Greenwood, an 18-year-old Flint Junior College student from Waterford, came through with a red-hot 718 total at Lakewood. At Wonderland, Gene Connell of Union Lake, rolled a 697 total.

Greenwood, who bowled in the junior leagues at Lakewood last year, moved into the senior ranks this year carrying a 161 average. He put together scores of 282-185-187-147 to add to his 81 pin handicap. The 282 is his highest game since entering senior bowling ranks. He had a 967 as a junior bowler last year.

Connell, father of two, rolled games of 201-185-192 with a 119 handicap. He carried an average of 143 at the end of his first year of bowling last May. "I started this season by changing my delivery," said Connell. "I started curving my ball instead of just throwing it straight. I practiced all summer at it and now I'm picking up a 200 game much more often."

This is his second time in the Bowlerama. Last year he missed qualifying with 611 total.

Clifford Lanes of Pontiac was runner-up with 685, followed by Ray Brachneau with 684.

Ken Roberts and Gary Thompson followed Greenwood in the Lakewood scoring with 707 and 702 respectively. Thompson had three beautiful games all over 200. The scores were 202-224 and 226 with a 50 pin spot.

The cutoff point at Wonderland was 633. Only in the day it looked like 630 would make the cutoff but the last squad at 4:00 p.m. turned in a rush of high scores.

At Lakewood, the cut at 623 with 36 others tied as alternates with 622 scores.

IT IS TO BE NOTED THAT ALL SCORES LISTED ARE UNOFFICIAL UNTIL COMPLETE COUNCIL HAS MADE OF AVERAGES. A slight change in the final qualifiers listed could bring in all the alternates listed at 622.

The best actual series of the day was turned in by Les Rothbarth, a member of the Airway team playing for the Press House troupe. Rothbarth, who failed to qualify in his past attempts in the tournament, turned outstanding games of 223-246-215 for a 684 actual.

High game at Lakewood was turned in by Arley Shaffer with 276, one pin better than Greenwood's best single score.

At Wonderland, the 633 actual total of Paul Edwards was tops while Lloyd Hoover's 347 was best high game. Unfortunately, Hoover, R & M proprietor, failed to qualify. He has other games of 182-184 and 239 actual total.

All 71 qualifiers have secured themselves of at least $10 in the finals to be held December 27th at "300 Bowl." For Connell and Greenwood there is an additional $10 and trophy as high qualifiers.

For Rothbarth, Shaffer, Hoover and Edwards there is an additional $10 as high actual game and high actual series holders.

NEXT SUNDAY IN THE FINAL QUALIFYING CHANCE FOR ALL

BOWLERS WHO WISH TO ENTER OR RE-ENTER. The final deadline is WEDNESDAY MIDDNIGHT. Bowlers will roll at Huron Bowl and at Collier's Lanes in Oxford. One of every seven at each house will earn a spot in the finals, will be held immediately following the "300 Bowl."

In addition, the top average bowlers, those with high actual series in the Bowlerama and the top qualifiers will have another opportunity for more prizes in the Actual's Invitational which will be held immediately following Bowlerama handicap championship at "300 Bowl."

With a record number of entries expected for the second week of qualifying, all bowlers are urged to get their entry forms in as soon as possible especially if they have a choice of second times. Several squads are filling very rapidly and once they are filled, bowlers will have to bowl in designated remaining squads.

Lakewood proprietor Bill Kuklin-ki also announced yesterday that in addition to the prizes won by Greenwood, he and those over 700 at his house will receive a wrist watch. This includes Roberts and Thompson.

Bears Booting but Lions Get Big Kick

Martin's Point From 24 Yards Earns Victory

Morrall Moves Detroit to Touchdown With 22 Seconds Left

CHICAGO—There were a host of painful kicks in the Detroit Lions' 16-15 victory over the Chicago Bears yesterday at Wrigley Field.

The Bears went without a touchdown and could do nothing but boot five field goals, but the big kick of the day was Jim Martin's 24-yard extra-point that spelled the margin of victory.

Quarterback Earl Morrall seldom was more masterful. Entering the game in the third period when Jim Ninowski hobbled off, Morrall worked the Lions in six plays to the dramatic score that erased a 15-9 deficit.

He completed four passes in the drive, hitting Larry Barr with a five-yard touchdown toss 22 seconds before the gun. That tied it 15-15 and it was up to Jim Martin to kick the conversion.

Martin carefully placed the extra point that is practically automatic in the NFL. But this time it wasn't. On the first try, the point was nullified for a holding penalty and the Lions were set back 15 yards.

So Martin again booted the victory point from a distance when a miss wouldn't have been too surprising.

A tough defense was the chief weapon for the Lions. The offense, except for the two touchdowns, was muddled as in the early part of the season.

The Bears were held without a touchdown despite ample chances. Their 15 points came on five field goals ranging from 12 to 33 yards by Roger Leeder, who had made only three of 13 previous attempts. His five field goals tied an NFL record.

The defense actually provided the margin of victory in the second quarter on a safety. The Lions had gone ahead 7-3 on Ninowski's 14-yard pass to Jim Gibeaux.

Martin's kickoff was bobbled by Charlie Bivins and the Bears had to take over at their 1. Carl Bretschneider and Gary Lowe trapped Willie Gault in the end zone on the next play for two points that seemed pretty unimportant at the time.

Four more field goals by Leeder came coming after the Lions failed to pick up a free ball on a kickoff—lost to Morrall's heroics.

The Lions had used all their time out when Morrall started them from their 28.

He failed to connect on his first pass and then hit Barr for 14 yards.

With 1:05 left, Morrall passed 17 yards to Gail Cogdill, who stepped out of bounds to stop the clock. One minute was left.

Morrall then hit Gibeaux with a 36-yarder to the 5 and the clock continued while the Lions quickly lined up with 33 seconds left. A pass fell incomplete in the end zone and with 29 seconds left Morrall started the play that resulted in the winning touchdown.

The first touchdown drive wasn't as pulse-thrilling. Ninowski moved the Lions 58 yards in four plays after they'd recovered a fumble.

The Lions return home for their final two games, hoping to retain second place and another trip to the playoff bowl in Miami. They play the Minnesota Vikings next Sunday and then the Philadelphia Eagles Dec. 17.

Packers 'Steal' Title With 20-17 Triumph

By The Associated Press

The Green Bay Packers "stole" the Western Conference crown in the National Football League and forcing the Giants and Philadelphia Eagles into a two-week test of strength for the Eastern title.

Led by Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the Packers edged the Giants 20-17 Sunday, wrapping up the Western title with a 10-2 record. New York and the defending league champion Eagles were left in a tie for the top spot in the Eastern section with 9-3 records and two games remaining.

The Packers won as Taylor scored twice on runs of 14 and three yards—the last the clincher—in the fourth quarter—and Hornung brought his league-leading point total to 143 with a pair of field goals and two conversions. Altogether Taylor ran for 136 yards, a club record.

But the key play was made by Packers' defensive back Jesse Whitton, who stole the ball from Alex Webster on the Giants' 30 in the final quarter. The Packers, trailing 14-13, took advantage of the grab. Taylor finally going in for the winning touchdown from the 3.

Meanwhile, the Eagles blitzed the Pittsburgh Steelers 35-24. They have the advantage of playing at home against the Giants next Sunday in a battle that could determine Green Bay's opponent in the Dec. 31 championship play-off.

Not to be counted out, however, are the Cleveland Browns, one game back of the leaders with an 8-4 record after beating Dallas 34-17. The Browns met Chicago next, then close out at New York while the Eagles are at Detroit.

The Lions moved into second place in the West, beating the Bears 16-15 while the San Francisco 49ers were losing to Baltimore's Colts 20-17. St. Louis extended Washington's winless streak to 22 games with a 38-24 victory and Minnesota whipped the Giants but one more chance, rolling into Packers' territory behind Taylor's passing until Bob Gault fumbled on a double reverse, and Willie Davis recovered on the Green Bay 27 with two minutes PACKERS CLINCHER — Green Bay fullback Jim Taylor (31) scores in last quarter on a 14-yard run, one of two touchdowns he made Sunday as the Packers sniped the Giants 20-17 to clinch the NFL Western Conference crown. Cliff Livingston (88) of the Giants' and Packer Norm Masters (78) are also shown.

Patterson 10-1 Choice Over McNeely Tonight

TORONTO (AP) — Heavy-closed circuit television double-header. A first in boxing. The opening bout will match Sonny Liston, the reinstated No. 1 contender from Philadelphia, and stocky Albert Westphal of Hamburg, Germany. In a ten-rounder at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

The spectators at the two arenas will see the other city's fight on four-sided movie screens the can be lowered and raised.

McNeely, a 62, 200-pound former Michigan State tackle, predicted he would win by knockout "within six rounds."

"I'm going after him," said McNeely. "He won't have to go looking for me."

"I think McNeely might be the kind of a fighter who will gamble and try to take over the fight," said Patterson. "If he does, it could be up and down the last leg longer Johnson fight with nobody giving up. So I'll gamble in the first round if he's willing."

Patterson declined to make any predictions but he stated, "I will be 100 per cent better than I was in the last fight with Ingemar List March."

In that case, with Johnson Patterson rallied from two first round knockdowns and kayaked the husky Swede in the sixth round.

The Patterson-McNeely title fight will be the second half of an inter-

Lakewood Heads Teams

Five teams are still in the running but Lakewood Lanes is going to be hard to beat for the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama team championship.

The LL quietest turned in a 3059 total yesterday in the opening round of the annual tournament topped by old pro Bill Ball at 698. Gary Thompson contributed 622. Carl Behrick 613. Bob Lowry Jr. 592 and Bob Kulinski 574.

Kulinski bowled at Wonderland under a tourney rule which prevents proprietors from attempting to qualify at their own establishments. The others competed at Lakewood.

A big trophy and 5 gift certificates for each member are awaiting the winning team.

Strongest remaining candidates for five-man honors are the units representing Huron Bowl and Collier's Lanes, the two qualifying sites this weekend. No members of either team competed yesterday.

The Huron Keglers were in Kansas City bowling in the 19th BPAAP team meet.

Wonderland and Howe's Lanes are the other possibilities. Proprietor Paul Morris is the last remaining Wonderland contestant in the team contest and he needs a 728 Sunday to pull his team through. The other four totaled 2322 yesterday behind a 655 for Paul Edwards and John Meyer's 613.

Howe's and Montclair Center are just the opposite. Only two members of Howe's team took part in the first round. Les Samuel hit 509, Glen Bartle 508. Vic Stoddard of Montclair had 505.

Sylvan Lanes and Nor-West Recreation have four-man scores of 2177 and 2158, respectively. Art Hebbel had 582 for Sylvan and Sam Harris 543 for Nor-West.

Airway Lanes, paced by Les Rothbarth's big 684, currently ranks 2nd at 2592. Earl Van De Moortel added 607.

Next in line is Dixie Recreation at 2894. Fred Russell edged Les Smith for individual high 616 to 615.

2861 total was posted by 390 Bowl led by proprietor Joe Fazio's 626. Next was Cooley Lanes with 2633 with the balanced scoring topped by Harvey Brown 677.

Holding down 6th place is Motor Inn with 2598 followed closely by Hilltop at 2589. Charles Palanan was the most steady pinner for Motor Inn totaling 575. Bill Johns led Hilltop with his 551.

Elks Lodge 810 is the other team with play completed. Howard Fields rolled 599 in a 2513 performance.

Bull, Behrick, Thompson, Brown, Rothbarth, Van DeMoortel, Smith, Russell, Edwards, Meyer and Christensen all also advanced to the handicap finals and a chance at the big money Dec. 17 in the individual championship battle at 300.

Coach is Forgotten Man in Oilers' Success Story

By The Associated Press

The mighty George Blanda is getting most of the credit for Houston's American Football League surge that has shot it to the top of the Eastern Division and made it a favorite for the championship.

But what about the coach?

Blanda, who put on a great show Sunday in leading the Oilers to a 33-13 victory over his bitterest rival, the Buffalo Bills, certainly has earned all the accolades. But this coach, Wally Lemm, must be the most successful one in the world today.

Houston hasn't lost a game since Lemm took over Oct. 16 in an effort to pull the Oilers from the doldrums. They've won seven straight.

Lemm spoke of the team effort as he praised his boys for reversing the 34-32 licking they took from San Diego more than two months ago.

He said that other boys were just giving Blanda the help all great football players have to have.

George passed for four touchdowns, kicked two field goals and converted three times. That accounts for all the Houston points.

"Our line gave Blanda some great protection," remarked Lemm.

The Chargers, who had won 11 straight and had clinched the championship of the Western Division, were noted for their pass defense, having piffled 43 for a record. But Houston not only passed San Diego go but threw three San Diego throws.

Houston maintained a game lead over Boston in the Eastern Division and has only to beat New York and Oakland, a couple of clubs the Oilers already have clouted, to push into the championship playoff game.

Boston hung in the race with a 28-24 victory over Denver and New York kept its hopes dimly alive when it edged Dallas 29-7. Buffalo edged Oakland 26-21 in the other AFL game Sunday but it meant nothing. Both are out of the race.

Houston goes to New York next Sunday, and can put the quietus on any Titan hopes. Boston will be at Oakland, San Diego hosts Buffalo and Denver will be at Dallas in the next to last Sunday of the regular race.

Some league records were set Sunday. Houston broke its own record for attendance when 37,845 fans turned out; Houston's Charley Hennigan caught passes for 224 yards and that gave him a 1541 yard total. Gino Capelletti of Boston ran his scoring total to 125 points.

Mississippi, after its 37-7 victory over Mississippi State, went to Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Rice won its crucial game against Goham Bowl-bound Baylor, 26-14, and became Kansas opponent in Jan. 1.

Colorado meets Louisiana State, the Southeastern Conference champion with Alabama, in the Orange Bowl, New Year's day. LSU finished with a 9-1 mark, and Colorado beat Air Force 29-12 in its final game.

Notre Dame ended its rehabilitation program on a sour note, losing to Duke 23-14.

On the final day action, Holy Cross rolled over Boston College 38-24, Tennessee swamped Vanderbilt 47-7, Houston upset Oregon State 22-12, Oklahoma ended with a 5-5 mark after knocking off Oklahoma State 21-13 and Texas Christian and Southern Methodist battled to a 29-29 tie.

Army Talking About Next Year After 13-7 Loss to Navy

By The Associated Press

The only piece of unfinished business is the naming of the year's No. 1 college team, and Alabama is expected to get that honor hand-down in this week's final Associated Press poll.

The Goham Bowl, which never got off the ground in 1960 and was a question mark until last Thursday, will pit unbeaten, but once-dethroned Alabama's Skyline Conference co-champions against Baylor Saturday at New York's Polo Grounds.

The following week, Miami, which ended its season with a 15-1 victory over Florida, journeys west to Philadelphia Stadium to meet Syracuse in the third Liberty Bowl.

Penn State plays Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl Dec. 30. Tech also wound up the regular season on a happy note, beating Georgia 22-7 Saturday.

On the same day, Villanova meets Wichita in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.

Colorado meets Louisiana State, the Southeastern Conference co-champion with Alabama, in the Orange Bowl, New Year's day.

LSU finished with a 9-1 mark, and Colorado beat Air Force 29-12 in its final game.

Notre Dame ended its rehabilitation program on a sour note, losing to Duke 23-14.

On the final day action, Holy Cross rolled over Boston College 38-24, Tennessee swamped Vanderbilt 47-7, Houston upset Oregon State 22-12, Oklahoma ended with a 5-5 mark after knocking off Oklahoma State 21-13 and Texas Christian and Southern Methodist battled to a 29-29 tie.

Alabama's Crimson Tide, unbeaten and settled in ten 1961 regular season games, heads a list of 18 major college football teams that will participate in those always interesting post-season football games, beginning with Saturday's infant Goham Bowl in New York.

Alabama, which buried Auburn 34-0 last Saturday to wrap up its first perfect season in 16 years, will meet Southwest Conference co-champion Arkansas in New Orleans Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Tide, a bright and shiny product after four years of rebuilding by coach Bear Bryant, was one of four schools to wall down the reigning open bowl spots last Saturday.

Chiefs Trim Grosse Pointe, 65-55, in Season Opener

Successful Debut for PCH Cagers

BY BILL CORNWELL

"Considering the fact that it was our first game of the season, I'm pretty well satisfied with our performance."

So commented Art Van Ryzin, Pontiac Central's veteran head basketball coach, following the Chiefs' 65-55 triumph over Grosse Pointe Saturday night at Grosse Pointe in their 1961-62 season opener.

Although the Chiefs' floor play was ragged and sloppy at times, Van Ryzin certainly did have several reasons to be pleased.

Otto Kennedy, Pontiac's 6-foot-6 senior center, did an outstanding rebounding job as he controlled both backboards.

Charles Douglas demonstrated clearly that he still has his sharp shooting eyes by pouring 21 points through the hoop to pace the win. Then there was Rudy Ransom, the smooth-working forward who also performed well on the boards in addition to contributing 12 points.

Junior Ed Williams played steady ball in his first varsity start, being fouled out with 2:45 remaining in the third quarter and lanky Paul Brown didn't replace the lineup as Williams' replacement.

The back court, a constant problem for Van Ryzin last season, was handled capably by quick-moving forward Larry Decker, who rounded into form yet after just coming off the football field.

Pontiac is in complete command of the situation against Grosse Pointe, now coached by former Austin mentor Chuck Holroyd.

The Chiefs enjoyed quarterly leads of 35-8, 31-23, and 41-27. Their lead mounted to 13 points midway through the 4th period before Van Ryzin emptied his bench in the final two minutes. The Pontiacs never came closer than nine points.

Spartans, 'M', Titans Triumphant

By the Associated Press

Basketball moved into Michigan's college world Saturday for a three or four hour stay as most state teams went into action against non-conference foes.

Northern Michigan proved a worthy foe for the 75-59 score indicated in the Spartans' basketball opener at Michigan State Saturday night.

Northern played the Big Ten team on fairly even terms in the first half. The Spartans had to rally to gain a 30-27 halftime lead and go on to win.

A crowd of 11,334 watched the Spartans avenge their loss to Northern last season.

Dick Hall and Art Schwarm topped Michigan State in the second half scoring surge.

Peter Gens, a 6-foot-4 sophomore from Bangor, Mich., was the Spartans' high scorer with 19 points. Bob Armstrong paced Northern with 17.

The Spartans will continue warming up for the opening of the Big Ten season in January by taking on Tulsa here next Saturday night in another non-conference game.

Michigan topped Ball State, 74-50.

In one of the top games, Western Michigan hung on until the last three minutes before dropping a 61-56 decision to Northwestern. The game was tied with three minutes remaining.

Western had its Big Ten opener handicapped a good while as the score changed hands eight times and was tied eight times. It was the season opener for both clubs.

Wayne State, the only team in action against conference opposition, staged a mild upset, whipping Case Tech 52-51. Case Tech was last year's President's Athletic Conference champion.

The winning points came from two free throws by Ken Marzica in the last 10 seconds of the game.

Powerful Detroit rolled over Western Ontario 89-56. The Titans beat a 49-17 halftime lead and served more headed Ed Ferguson collected 33 Detroit points.

Lawrence Tech breezed past Alma 79-58. Tech held a 45-25 halftime edge. LTT's scoring was led by John Brandy with 26 points.

Detroit Tech battled to a 68-64 victory over Northwood Institute of Alma behind Ted Kucarska's 21 points.

Adrian dropped an 83-50 decision to Indiana Tech. Tech's winning basket came with two seconds remaining.

Michigan Tech clipped superior state of Wisconsin 87-77 although senior led 41-33 at halftime.

Sault Tech won with eight points in the last two minutes to edge Northern Michigan 65-59. It was Tech's third victory in as many games.

Hillsdale was spanked 79-71 by Ferris although the Dales had led 41-40 at halftime. Bernard Kilpatrick scored 23 points to lead Ferris.

On the national level, Southern California fell to Oklahoma 66-58 and Kentucky routed Miami of Ohio 54-51. USC was ranked 11th in the AP pre-season poll. It was Kentucky's 34th straight opening triumph.

Indiana bowed to Drake 90-81. Evansville whipped Iowa 65-59. DePaul jumped Minnesota 66-56.

Ohio State started a new campaign with a 72-57 rout of Florida State even though Jerry Lucas was Both teams had identical 15-of-28 marks from the free throw line with the Chiefs outscoring the Pontiacs from the floor, 25 field goals to 20.

Forward Rick Brydges was the only Grosse Pointe player to reach double figures. Brydges netted 15 points, seven at the foul stripe.

The Chiefs' victory averaged a 54-43 loss to the Pontiacs on the PCH court early last season.

Ray Sain bagged 14 points to lead a well-balanced attack as the PCH reserves routed Grosse Pointe's junior varsity, 64-29, in the preliminary game.

George Chapman, 11, of Pontiac, won the Midget Boy's Division championship in a speed skating meet held Sunday at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit.

The city high school football championship game in Chicago between Lane Tech and Weber, which Weber won 14-13, drew 85,700 fans at Soldier's Field.

Myrna Bodek of Oak Park won the senior ladies' singles title in the Eastern Great Lakes figure skating sectional meet at Cleveland Saturday. Jack Deo of Troy won the juvenile singles title.

The Grand Rapids Shamrocks are the first champions of the United Football League by defeating Columbus Saturday night, 40-7.

The Hyde Memorial Award will be a new trophy presented tonight at Michigan's Football Banquet at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Detroit. It will go to the senior voted the most valuable.

Vincent Draddy, chairman of the awards committee of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, said the bowl would be presented to the captain and coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of the Alabama team at the fourth annual awards dinner of the foundation Tuesday. President Kennedy will receive the gold medal award and many sports stars will be honored as well.

Previous winners of the bowl were Syracuse in 1959 and Minnesota last year.

DETROIT (AP) — One major in individual objective remains in the distinguished career of Gordie Howe — to retire with the National Hockey League's goal-scoring record.

Last night Howe forgot about scoring No. 81 and helped Normie Ullman to score a coveted hat trick. Howe set up Ullman on all three goals as the Wings climbed back into fourth place with a 3-1 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"That was one of the most unselfish things I ever saw," said general manager Jack Adams, who's watched Howe grow from a green rookie to one of the greatest players in NHL history.

Ullman had scored with 74 seconds left and the Wings were striving to protect their lead after Toronto pulled goalie Jerry Cheevers for a sixth attacker.

Suddenly Howe came up with the puck and the empty net loomed ahead without a Toronto player in sight. It would have been easy for Howe to score. But Ullman swooped by and Howe flipped him the puck for the sure goal.

In other NHL action, Montreal beat Chicago 1-0 on Don Marshall's goal and broke its first-place tie with the Leafs. Chicago fell a point behind Detroit into fifth.

New York whipped Boston 3-1. Andy Hebenton, Dean Prentice and Camille Henry scored for the Rangers. Don McKenzie got the Bruins' goal 32 seconds before the finish.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, spurred by Gordie Berenson's three goals, clipped Michigan Tech 5-3 Saturday night in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game. Berenson scored once in the first period and twice in the second to lift Michigan to its third victory.

Moss Opens With Win in 8th Bahamas Race

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Stirling Moss of London opened the car portion of the eighth annual Bahamas International Speed Week Sunday with an 83-second victory in the Nassau tourist race.

Driving through occasional tropical showers, Moss wheeled his Ferrari Berlinetta to the finish nearly 2 miles ahead of Bob Grossman of West Nyack, N.Y., in an identical model.

The balding Britisher repeated his triumph last year and took the checkered flag after 21 of the 25 scheduled laps when the time deadline ended the race.

The wet track held his speed to 80.113 m.p.h., compared to his 83.559 m.p.h. record set last year.

The Captains hold a set of new uniforms and a set of new basketball at Waterford Kettering.

Coach Joe Dudy's quietest makes his debut at home against Oxford of the South Central League. Six other games involving area teams are carded Tuesday.

Birmingham Groves' careers apparently suffered a major letdown after their conquest of Southern overtime Friday. The Falcons' 77-67 victory by Farmington 55-50 Saturday at Birmingham. Northville gained its second win in as many nights, topping Plymouth, 81-61.

Kettering has a handful of experienced players who were transferred from Waterford Township High at the beginning of the school year. Dick Shipman, a starter for the Sigepts last season, is expected to lead Kettering. Mike Corley, 6'7 center, is another possible starter.

Olympic Group Seeks Improved U.S. Teams

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Association opens its quadrennial meeting today with hopes of streamlining its operations to present a stronger U.S. team in Tokyo in 1964.

Waiting in the wings as the two-day meeting opens is the angry power fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The AAU, which wound up its annual convention here Sunday and the NCAA have the two largest blocs of delegates in the Olympic Association.

Over the weekend, the AAU completed a reshuffling of top officials. This may smooth the way for a compromise in the feud with the NCAA which centers mainly on foreign competition, such as the Olympics.

Crash Work Can Help Student Survive

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

The semester has now passed the halfway mark and many of you students are in trouble. Real trouble.

It's an old, old story. Your grades are just up for review. Nothing that you have done seems to have produced the desired result at all.

You are upset. Your parents are discouraged.

Teachers, who had hoped to inspire you to better work and Dr. Nason's high grades this semester, are disappointed.

The outlook is bleak, as you contemplate it. Perhaps you've concerned over just the matter of athletic eligibility.

But your concern may be deeper. Maybe, at this point, you're asking yourself: "What about college? Will my grades be so bad I won't even finish high school?"

I expect I understand your dilemma better than you understand it yourself. That is because I have been teaching young people on the high school and college levels for more than 40 years. And for a great many of those years I have been helping these young people over scholastic hurdles which seemed to them to be insurmountable.

DO IT QUICKLY

Out of all this experience I have evolved a kind of crash program. I call it that because it gets the job done fast.

Let me tell you about the crash program in the terms of one student's experience. It worked well for him, and it will work well for you.

Just give it a chance.

Jack, a student in a California college, was a naval officer program trainee at the start of World War II. He really wanted to be an officer. To fail in class would mean being "washed out" of the officer-training program and returned to the fleet — not as the officer, but as an ordinary seaman.

Surviving his last test grade in chemistry, Jack had to admit to himself that he was headed for an "F" in the course. That's when he came to me because I happened to be an advisor in the program.

I remember Jack as all man; he wasn't whining. He asked for no favors, only some understanding of his problem and a good deal of help — sudden help.

HERE'S THE PROGRAM

First of all, I recommended that he start restudying chemistry from the beginning for the next weekend. I suggested that he work hard on grasping clear and precise meanings and concepts.

Next I suggested to Jack that he get a new notebook just for this endeavor. As he came to each problem situation he was to turn to the notebook and work out the solution for just one or two problems.

This notebook of solved problems became Jack's evidence that he was trying to do a thorough and conscientious job. Jack spent the entire weekend alternating between his study reading and writing solutions in his notebook.

On Monday of the next week he made an appointment with his teacher. He took along the notebook. He told his chemistry teacher what he had done during the weekend. And he asked for a clarification of a few of the solutions. Jack had worked out each of these troublesome problems as far as he could. He had then left a blank space with a short question written lightly in pencil. With the help of his teacher at hand, he was able to turn quickly to each trouble spot and pin down his difficulty.

Without any waste of time the instructor was able to tell Jack exactly where he needed help.

The story of Jack, his problems, his notebook and his partially solved problems has a happy ending.

On the basis of that weekend of work with the crash program, Jack survived in the course and stayed on the officers' training program which he finished on schedule to earn his commission.

(If you have a question for Dr. Nason, write him in care of this newspaper. If your question is of general interest, he will discuss it in his column.)

Navy Reserve Unit Head to Join Admiral's Staff

Cmdr. William C. Remick, commander of the Pontiac Naval Reserve Training Center for the past three years, will leave here soon to join the operational staff of Adm. Nels Johnson.

Cmdr. Remick handed over command of the local training center to Cmdr. Wilfred O. McDowell, who presently holds a similar position in Lansing.

Cmdr. McDowell's duty here will be only temporary, however. He will retain command of the Lansing Naval Reserve Training Center besides having charge over the Pontiac center. A permanent replacement will be named later.

Cmdr. Remick, 39, of 816 Abbequami Trail, Orion Township, is to join the admiral's staff of Amphibious Group 3 by mid-December.

His home base will be San Diego, Calif., but the commander will begin his new duty with a 9-month tour of the Western Pacific area.

During Cmdr. Remick's command, the Pontiac Naval Reserve Surface Division based at the local training center gained high ranking in the state and in the 9th Naval District.

Cmdr. Remick was in charge of all servicemen on active duty at the base and he also was responsible for the training of Navy reserves at the center.

A veteran of amphibious campaigns during World War II, the Korean conflict, has been awarded the Korean Presidential Unit Citation and the Philippine Presidential Unit Citation.

He commanded the USS LST 691 in 1950-52 during that vessel's part in building an emergency air strip in the enemy-held harbor in the Philippines.

Cmdr. Remick handed over command of the local training center to Cmdr. Wilfred O. McDowell, who presently holds a similar position in Lansing.

Yule Traditions Still Carried On

Candles in Window and Oranges in Stockings Only Two of Many

Because long ago Saint-Nicholas saved three lovely girls from being sold into slavery by tossing gold into the chimney where their stockings hung to dry, good children now awaken on Christmas morn to find an orange or tangerine to represent a lump of gold in their stocking, too.

No other time of the year is more filled with beautiful customs and age-old traditions as Christmas.

Families have taken their cue from the season—so that nearly every home has its own particular customs.

Across the land, candlelight gleams in windows, a custom that originally was observed to help churchgoers make their way in the darkness.

Smell of cooking and baking fill the air. What home celebration is complete without its mince pie and plum pudding?

During the Christmas season, the home takes on a festive note. Mother uses her best china, linens, and her sterling silver. Decorative silver bowls and platters become beautiful ornaments, brimming with greenery and gleaming candelabra hold varied-color candles.

Many other old customs with modern variations have been carried over from the past.

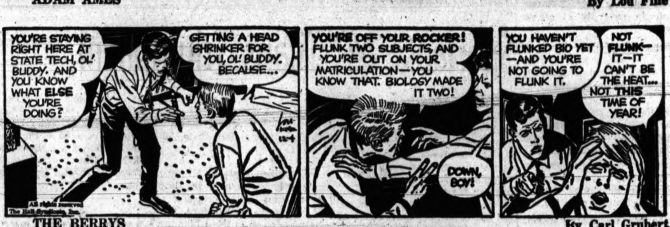

The table, once set for Santa's visit, now awaits a visit by an intimate group of friends. Christmas Eve is the time in many homes when Dickens' "Christmas Carol" is read.

Swainson, a World War II casualty, urges Michigan residents "to participate actively in this observance by joining with local chapters of the disabled American veterans in their hospital visitation programs."

U.S. Might Makes Red Threats Almost Ludicrous

(Editor's Note: As Nikita Khrushchev brandished his nuclear-tipped missiles, Bob Constantine set out on a momentary mission of discovery—to find out, within bounds of national security, just how good our own nuclear arsenal is. Here is his first article.)

By BOB CONSTANTINE

There is no need to prolong the surprise in this first article of a series devoted to first-hand reports on nuclear preparedness of the U. S. and her allies:

We could reverse a familiar threat and bury Khrushchev and his entire empire.

The West today is capable of destroying the Soviet Union's ability to support a great war in a matter of hours—not days, weeks, months or years.

Britain alone has 50 H-bombs in place—able to reach Moscow and beyond. Seventy-five per cent of all British cities with a population of 100,000 or more are within the range of the Thor.

Italy has 30 more of these megaton-range bombs ready to be launched, via Jupiter IRBMs, by superbly trained Italian crews, in the event of attack.

POLARIS SUBS READY
Six Polaris submarines, each carrying 16 nuclear warheads, are on patrol in the North Atlantic. Nearly 30 NATO divisions, which are or can be quickly equipped with tactical atomic weapons, form an explosive shield that reaches from Norway to Turkey.

By the end of this month the U. S. will have 65 intercontinental missiles in place, some of them buried in abated sites all but impervious to enemy attack. All carry area-leveling thermonuclear warheads.

The U. S. 6th Fleet, probing the Mediterranean to its inmost reaches, mounts atomic bombs, mines and rockets aboard its super-sonic air arm—ready to be catapulted off carrier decks on an instant's notice.

Finally, and supremely, there is the Strategic Air Command's manned bomber force, chief deterrent of Soviet expansion since the start of the cold war 15 years ago. With the impending operational status of the Sky Bolt air-launched ballistic missile, a single B52 will be able to hurl four of its load of H-bombs while still 1,000 miles away from the chosen targets.

The U. S. Air Force has 630 B52s, 55 supersonic B60s and 1,700 B29s, all capable of becoming air-borne within 15 minutes after radar barriers—BMEWS, DEW Line, picket ships and planes—flash warning of an impending Soviet attack.

Western men have on his side in these tense but hardly hopeless times the reassuring "bonus" strength of the RAF's superb manned bomber force and literally clouds of NATO fighters and fighter-bombers capable of striking like lightning.

ALWAYS ON ALERT
SAC bases overseas point at the heart of the enemy from virtually all readings on the compass. The great command's Reflex program puts bomb-laden B47s on those overseas strips on a rotation basis.

Ground crewmen live in trailers within a few feet of the poised bombers. Bomber crews take their flying shifts to bed with them at night. When parked, the station wagons the crews use for transportation around assigned bases are always armed—hood fastened at the airport, to save a few precious seconds.

A Reflex crew never leaves a base during a tour. Wherever they roam on the reservation they can be summoned instantly by blaring alarms or, if they are attending church services, by a blaring red light atop the altar.

The search for better hardware never ends. NATO soon will be at least 25 per cent more powerful than it is today, on the ground, and much more than that in the air. The Titan II intercontinental missile will have storable fuels and be launched from the bottom of its 15-story deep silo.

The B7E, set into production, will give the free world the awe-some protection of a 2,000 m.p.h. carrier able individually to carry more havoc than all the bombs dropped by all the air forces of World War II, plus all the shells, bullets and torpedoes exchanged by the antagonists in the greatest war in history.

There have been technological breakthroughs that notably increase the efficiency of the nation's missile arsenal. On its recent shakedown cruise, the atomic-powered submarine Ethan Allen shot six improved Polaris missiles while submerged, without a hitch.

MINUTEMAN SOARS
The solid fuel Minuteman ICBM demonstrated its ability to come roaring up out of its silo at the press of a button, last month at Cape Canaveral.

A system of moving Minutemen about the U. S. on special launching trains, to make more difficult by many thousand-fold the targeting task of the enemy, is well beyond the drawing board stage.

The RAF has perfected a dispersal plan which would enable it to launch all its manned bombers—all of them—in less than two minutes.

There is no prime or even minor target within the sprawling and largely indefensible land mass of the U. S. S. R. which is not clearly pinpointed by Allied nuclear forces. In the event of full-breasted war, the world would see unfolded a master target program beyond the comprehension of the average man.

Each nuclear weapon is virtually earmarked for a specific task—all the way from a huge thermonuclear warhead blazing down from outer space after an 8,000-mile flight to short range atomic shells fired by artillery-men.

There would be no confusion, and a minimum of duplication of effort.

In the course of researching this series, I visited military installations at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.; Strategic Air Command Headquarters, Omaha; the Pentagon; the Polaris submarine yards at Groton, Conn.; Cape Canaveral, SHAPE at Versailles, Italian-American tactical missile commands in Vincenza and Verona, and Strategic Air Command bases in Spain.

DWARFED RED MIGHT
The collective might utterly defies description. It dwarfs the Soviet Union's military power, makes almost ludicrous the boasts and threats of Khrushchev.

It is said, and probably truthfully, that the Western coalition could "over-kill" any enemy target by five times, or in other words, could win a great war with but 20 per cent of its arms.

But the greatest weapon in the arsenal of the West as it faces its ideological foe across a no-man's land of timorous or rebellion-minded slave states, is Western man himself.

I saw him in California tinkering with a Titan that loomed 10 stories above him. He was poised near a red telephone in a steel and concrete command post beneath a Nebraska plain—a phone whose lines and impulses reached every Allied bomber and missile base, every bomb-filled plane on air alert. He the rest of it. I saw him, looking very much like an Italian, taking English lessons in the town of Rome and Juliet.

He is everywhere, this Western man with undreamable power in his hands, compassion in his heart.

He is slow to anger. Rather than throw a first punch, he will submit to a measure of pushing around. He has stood by and remained in a mood to negotiate while his rights were impinged in Berlin and his interests molested in Laos.

He has shrugged off the taunts of Castro, all of whose peoples and possessions he could obliterate from the face of the earth with one saturation swipe, as a man swats a fly. He patiently gives the Nehru, Sukarno, Jagan and Tito time to make up their minds.

He wants peace. But if it is snatched from him he has the means and the will to hit back with fission and fusion holocausts too ghastly to describe.

(Tomorrow: It was comes to the West, the first retaliatory punch would be thrown by the British: A Royal Air Force marshal outlines his mission.)

18 Congressmen Asked to Hearing on Apportionment

LANSING (U.S. News)—Michigan's 18 congressmen have been invited to attend a Senate committee hearing Friday on the apportionment of congressional districts.

Sen. Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing, the committee chairman, said that an invitation also has been extended to all Michigan legislators. He scheduled the meeting for 10 a.m. in the Senate Judiciary committee room.

Michigan was allotted a 19th district as a result of population gains in the decade ending last year.

Bills to provide for the 19th district failed to win approval in the legislature this year. Failure of lawmakers to agree on boundaries of a new district will force election of the 19th congressman from the state at-large next year.

Urge World Law to Prevent War

Lagos, Nigeria (UPI) — Two great law-making crusades that leading American lawyers today urged their colleagues from Africa and the Middle East to take part in a crusade for the adoption of international law as a means of preventing war.

The program was urged by John C. Satterfield of Yazoo City, Miss., president of the American Bar Association, and Charles S. Rhynes of Washington, D. C., a past president in speeches prepared for the third regional conference on world peace through law.

Rhynes said, "Law is man's greatest peace asset."

He said replacing the rule of force with the rule of law is not a utopian plan, because "international law already is functioning in some areas and the world's lawyers, like its scientists and doctors, must work together to extend its scope."

"We must mount a great world law-making crusade sufficient to create a 'lawful world,'" he said.

PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT
"World law today is both meager and weak. The great problem is how to fill the world with law before it is filled with mushroom clouds of death; how to inspire a great law-making crusade that will cause the thoughts of the man in the street to turn as automatically to peaceful settlement of international disputes as of village disputes," he added.

Satterfield's speech urged creation of an international framework in Africa "to provide the transfer of economic assistance from the developed to the developing nations."

"Only the rule of law can provide conditions for maintenance of peace and order, the protection of personal liberty, the regulation of economic activity in the common interest, and the just settlement of conflicting claims," he said.

Plan Language Training
EAST LANSING — Michigan State University will soon begin to train its first French, German and Spanish teachers under a new doctoral program in the three languages.

Dr. Stanley R. Townsend, head of the foreign languages department said the new program would help close the nationwide shortage of foreign language teachers in colleges and universities.

THOUGHTFUL gives combine pretty and practical presents with a theme. White gloves remind mother that she'll not dirty her hands taking out the refuse now that she has a disposal to perform this chore.

State Solon to Offer Property Tax Plan

LANSING — Property taxes will be deducted from any city or county income tax that might be imposed in Michigan under a bill that Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, plans to introduce in the 1962 legislature.

"If cities or counties should levy an income tax, it would be unfair to force property owners to pay both property taxes and an income tax," O'Brien said. "They already are paying their share of the tax burden in property taxes to the city and county and for schools."

By adding an income tax to property taxes, the property tax base could be destroyed, he asserted.

Seeds Catch Trout
STERLING, Colo. — D. C. Christensen, Sterling fisherman, said he caught some good-sized trout in the North Sterling Reservoir—using black watermelon seeds for bait.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT IS IN YOURSELF

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year—unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

VERTICAL PARKING—A car rests on its side in a basement entrance between the sidewalk and a building after the driver lost control of his car and it crashed over the sidewalk on Chicago's near North Side. Izvestia Criticizes JFK for Autobahn Suggestion

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper "Izvestia" says President Kennedy's suggestion that the autobahn linking Berlin and West Germany be placed under international control seems to be a "big stick" policy. It told him to forget the idea because it is "doomed to failure."

The Kremlin organ chided the President for what it called a "cock and bull" charge that the Soviet Union is out to communize the world.

Commenting on the interview Kennedy gave "Izvestia" editor Alexei Adzhubei, the paper said the President put forward "quite a few reasonable ideas"—but these were not among them.

"Izvestia" upheld the "sacred right" of the East German Communist regime to regulate ground, river and air traffic within its territory and declared: "No state which prizes its sovereignty must ever allowed the establishment of international control over its roads."

REVENGE SEEKERS
The newspaper's 4,000-word commentary Sunday charged Kennedy's plan was an attempt to help West German "revenge seekers" get control of East Germany's communications.

The autobahn—a superhighway cutting across 110 miles of Communist territory—is the only road route the Western Allies have to Berlin and they have insisted on their right of free movement over the highway. Soviet guards man checkpoints on the road under the four-power occupation agreement.

What stung "Izvestia" most appeared to be Kennedy's charge that Soviet ambitions to communize the world were the basic causes for world tension.

The government newspaper countered by charging Kennedy with showing "a desire to 'capitalize' the world."

CITES CUBA, LAOS
"Izvestia" cited Cuba, South Vietnam and Laos among other places where it charged Americans have sought to influence governments.

As for the countries of Eastern Europe under Communist rule, "Izvestia" said their fate "has long ago been settled by history" and warned the United States to keep hands off.

Kennedy Talks, Pickets March

President's Brother Bob at Civil Rights Banquet in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—While pacifists picketed outside, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy talked about civil rights at a banquet of the National Conference of Christians and Jews Sunday night.

The brother of the President had to press through admiring crowds at Hotel Carter to get to and from the podium. Before he left he received a special citation praising him for his efforts in behalf of civil rights.

Outside the hotel, 25 marching men, women and children carried pacifist placards. Police said some of the pickets were members of the Women Strike for Peace and other pacifist organizations.

Kennedy told the 1,500 persons attending the banquet this country is gaining in the fight for civil rights and will keep on battling bigotry and intolerance.

He said the United States was aware of the dark side of prejudice but was not going to hide it, as the Soviets would, from the world.

Human relations awards were presented to John W. Mills, president of Western Reserve University, and T. Keith Glennan, president of Case Institute of Technology and director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

HE QUILTS—Conor Cruise O'Brien resigns from the foreign service of Ireland. O'Brien had been relieved as chief United Nations Katanga representative, U.N. sources said.

Progress Reported on Studebaker Pact

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Tentative agreement was reported Sunday night on working conditions provisions in a new contract to cover 6,500 members of the United Auto Workers at Studebaker-Packard Corp.

It was the first break in negotiations which have been under way since the old contract expired at midnight last Thursday.

Woodward A. Frick, UAW Local 5 president who made the announcement, said no agreement was reached on economic issues but said they would be considered at a meeting scheduled today with Sherwood E. Egbert, Studebaker-Packard president.

UAW members authorized a strike by a 4,888-282 vote Nov. 21 but continued working on an hour-to-hour basis while the talk continued.

One out of every 7 dollars of the U.S. Post Office Department's revenue comes from third class mail.

Con Stabbed 11 Times

JACKSON (AP)—Convict George Springette, 32, was stabbed 11 times by another inmate at Southern Michigan Prison Saturday.

Physicians said they believe he would recover. State police said an assault with intent to commit murder warrant would be sought against Irving Heyman, 31.

A RUSH OF LOVE AND SHE'S IN YOUR ARMS

A MOMENT THAT MAKES YOU STOP AND THINK...

Is my family adequately provided for, if anything happens to me?

Will they always have the home they love?

Could we handle an emergency?

Have we made sure our children can go to college?

Will my wife and I be independent in our later years?

How 5 unique advantages of life insurance help answer these questions... bringing peace of mind at the stroke of a pen

- BY GUARANTEEING FAMILY PROTECTION. Life insurance lets a man protect his family right from the start. For life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, a sum of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.
- BY SAFEGUARDING YOUR HOME. With life insurance, a man can safeguard the home his family loves by owning a policy which takes care of any unpaid mortgage.
- BY PROVIDING A GUARANTEED FUND FOR EMERGENCIES. You know, in advance, exactly how much money will be available in your life insurance at any given time. Secure in this knowledge, you are better prepared to face emergencies.
- BY ASSURING FUNDS FOR COLLEGE. By figuring in advance what it will cost to give your children a college education, you can make sure—through life insurance—that college expenses can be met.
- BY GUARANTEEING A STEADY RETIREMENT INCOME. A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income guaranteed to last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances change, many couples review their program with their life insurance agent regularly. In this way, they get the most from their life insurance.

Teddy Roosevelt Shifts Christmas Tree Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late President Theodore Roosevelt, an avid conservationist, thought the cutting of evergreens for Christmas was a wasteful practice and forbade their use in the White House.

He later was assured by Gifford Pinchot, his advisor on conservation measures, that the supervised and proper harvesting of Christmas trees was good for the forests. Since then the White House has had a Christmas tree.

It's a Legal Season

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo. (UPI) — Mrs. Ann White asked her fourth-grade pupils to name the seasons of the year. One boy said there are five—spring, summer, fall, winter and deer.

Watch That Metal Tree

NEW YORK (UPI) — Safety experts warn against the use of electric light strings on a metal Christmas tree such as those made of aluminum. They point out that severe electric shock could occur if the cord became frayed or if the interior of a light socket came in contact with the tree. Off-the-tree lighting is recommended.

Bewigged, Bothered and Bewildered

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A statue of George Washington at a lawyer's exhibit at the state fair spent one day decked out with brown hair.

Municipal Judge James Demopolis, handing out literature at the display, said a man grabbed a wig from the statue and ran. A brown wig was the best replacement that could be found immediately, the judge said.

It's a Matter of Taste

NEW ULM, Minn. (UPI) — Manly Sweet has the room adjoining Misses Olga and Laura Souer at a rest home here.

'Surfacer' Measures Level of Rail Tracks

CLEVELAND (AP)—A device which resembles a miniature boat trailer, and uses piano strings, is being used by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad to insure level tracks and smooth rides for passengers and freight.

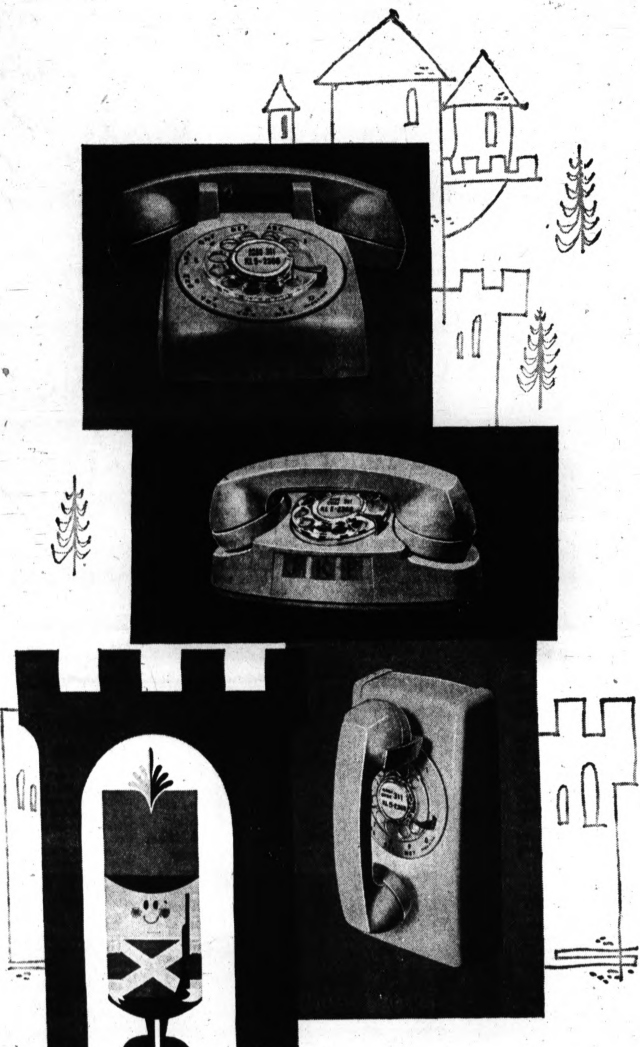

The device, called a "surfacer," registers low spots — variations as small as an eighth-inch — on an indicator. A ballast tamper then moves in to push ballast under and around ties and correct the situation.

Using the equipment, railroad maintenance engineers say, crews can correct 50 to 80 low spots a day.

SPACE WINGS — The Air Force has just released this design of silver wings for its new astronauts. To qualify to wear them, a pilot must fly at least 50 miles above the earth in a power space vehicle.

Every extension phone you order this Christmas season can include three black and gold initials of the person receiving it. They can be easily attached in a minute. This new feature lends a personal touch that makes an extension phone an even more welcome surprise than ever.

You can select the step-saving extension of your choice from this Phoneland holiday selection:

The Princess. It's little! It's lovely! It lights! Comes in five smart decorator colors. Ideal for bedside locations.

Desk Telephone. Available in five modern colors to harmonize with any room. Fits neatly on desks, tables, and counter tops.

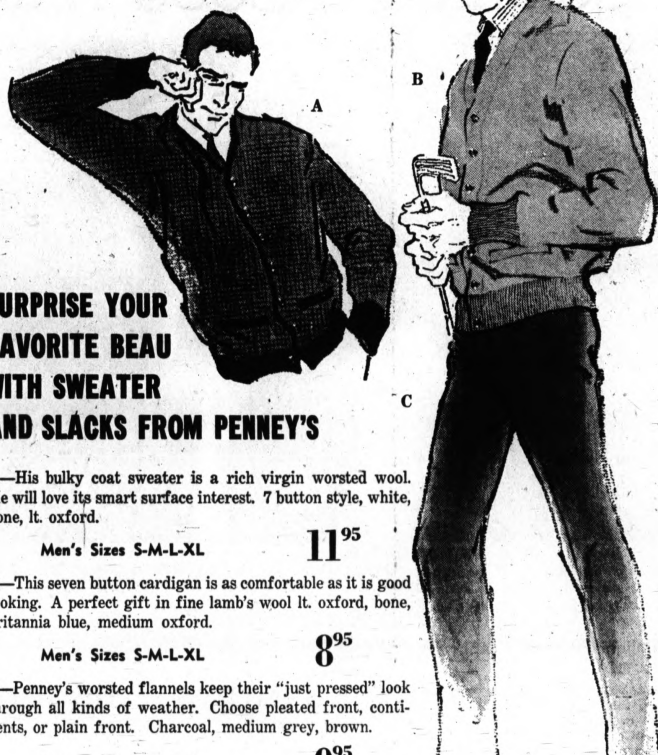

Wall Telephone. Saves you time and steps. Perfect for kitchens and family activity centers. Available in four cheerful colors.

And, when you're choosing an extension, ask about second line service, that lets two members of the family have separate phone conversations at the same time.
