

N. Viets Overwhelm Special Forces Camp

ONE COLOR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars overwhelmed the isolated Ashau Special Forces camp tonight after a fierce, two-day fight put up by several hundred mountain tribesmen and their 15 to 20 U.S. advisers.

Casualties among both the Americans and Montagnard defenders were heavy. But Col. William McKean, commander of Special Forces in the area 360 miles north of Saigon said his men "fought every inch of the way" and he thought the Communist toll was also high.

The Communists took the triangular-shaped fortress after it had been pounded into ruins and flames by Red attack and U.S. planes trying to drive them off.

Heavy clouds, at times cutting the ceiling to 200 feet, seriously hindered the American pilots flying in almost over the tree tops.

Until the end the American "green berets" and their tough little Montagnard troops clung doggedly to a single bunker on the camp's northern trench line.

The attackers were described as a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment. Originally, they had been thought to be two companies — 200 or so men — of regular Viet Cong troops.

Before the collapse, helicopters flew out "a certain number of defenders," Lt. Col. Kenneth B. Lacey, Special Forces commander in Viet Nam, said. He gave no figures.

The camp was defended by 15 to 20 Americans and about 300 Montagnards they had trained.

Three U.S. aircraft — two planes and a helicopter — were lost in the determined effort to save the camp.

ALLIED FORCES

The Communist capture of the camp dominated reports from the fighting zones.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, the Communists showed little stomach for combating the U.S., Vietnamese and other allied forces hunting them down.

On the political scene, Premier

Nguyen Cao Ky and others of the ruling military junta met under heavy security at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport and fired one of their most powerful members.

While South Vietnamese air force planes circled overhead and tanks and troops guarded the compound, they dismissed Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, who commands the northernmost 1st Corps area.

INDEPENDENT WAYS

This is the zone that includes the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp. Thi has long been known for his independent ways.

The bad weather that plagued the defense of Ashau also curtailed air raids against North Viet Nam.

Throughout the siege of the Special Forces camp, thick clouds kept U.S. planes from providing the effective air support that might have saved the camp, only a minute's flying time by jet from Da Nang, 60 miles away.

Another plane was lost in the final hours of the fighting, but the pilot was rescued in a daring and heroic feat.

PLANE DOWNED

An A1E Skyraider was shot down at 11:35 a.m. while making a second napalm run over the camp.

Although the wreckage was aflame, the pilot managed to crawl out with minor burns.

Under a burst of machine-gun fire, Air Force Maj. Bernard Fisher, 39, Kuna, Idaho, landed his Skyraider on the camp's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

RING EXCHANGE — Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands and Claus von Amsberg gaze at each other as they exchange rings in their church wedding ceremony in Amsterdam.

Romney Enters I-696 Dispute

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today he will personally step into the controversial I-696 freeway routing.

The governor told newsmen he hasn't gathered enough facts to decide if the State Highway Commission was right or wrong in its decision last week to abandon a once-approved route for the highway from Southfield to St. Clair Shores.

"But there is no question that we've got to have a freeway through that area," he declared.

"What route, I don't know, but anyone familiar with the area knows we need that freeway."

'GREAT PRIVILEGE'

"We have a large responsibility: it is a great privilege to take part."

A native of St. Johns, Tatroe has held his present position since 1963, replacing William Schunck, present superintendent of Wayne County Schools.

Tatroe was named Waterford Township's outstanding young man of 1963 by the township's Junior Chamber of Commerce at their annual Bosses' Night Banquet in January 1964.

He is a member of the National Education Association, Michigan Education Association, Waterford American Association of School Administrators and Michigan Association of School Administrators.

A member of the official board of Central Methodist Church and the board of directors of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, Tatroe also belongs to the Greater Waterford Community Council and is a past member of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He received his bachelor's master's and doctorate of education degrees from Michigan State University.

Dutch Princess Weds German in Amsterdam

Royal Pair Cheered by Thousands; Some Protest the Marriage

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP) — Crown Princess Beatrix, the future queen of the Netherlands, married a handsome German diplomat today as 1,000 demonstrators tried to march on the royal palace. Club-swinging police beat them back.

The bridegroom, Claus von Amsberg, 39, grew up under Hitler and as a youth served in the German army.

The marriage made him a prince of the Netherlands, entitled him to an annual allowance of $83,000, and changed his name to the Dutch, von Amsberg.

The demonstrators, most of them youths, shouted condemnations of the bridegroom and republican slogans but were about half a mile from the wedding procession through Amsterdam.

The police dispersed the crowd as it started to march on the palace.

EX-JEWISH QUARTER

In the former Jewish quarter flowers were placed at the monument to the wartime resistance movement against the Germans.

Youths set off smoke bombs along the route of the procession to protest the marriage. At one point, the bride's golden coach was thrice enveloped in smoke.

But thousands of Dutchmen waved flags and cheered the 28-year-old "smiling princess" and her bridegroom as the royal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

TOUR SCHOOLS — Participating in the Waterford Township School District's "Community Day" program are (from left) Fire Chief Lewis Goff; Police Chief William Stokes; Andrew Montgomery, acting president of the AFL-CIO Council of Oakland County, and James Schell, township treasurer. Some 65 visitors toured two elementary and one secondary school yesterday. The purpose of the day according to school officials, was to show citizens the Waterford Township educational program in action.

Heart Attack Kills Suspect in Liuzzo Case

BESSEMER, Ala. (UPI) — William O. Eaton, 42, a balding Ku Klux Klansman charged with two other Klansmen in the killing of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, died today of an apparent heart attack.

The former steel worker was forced to retire from his job at a local steel plant because of a heart attack in 1964.

Jefferson County authorities said no investigation was under way into his death.

Eaton, Eugene Thomas and Collie Leroy Wilkins were charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker, following the Selma to Montgomery "freedom" march last year.

In Wilkins' trial on the murder charge, the prosecution attempted to prove that the three Klansmen killed Mrs. Liuzzo by shooting her from a passing car on the highway between Selma and Montgomery on March 25, 1965, the day the march ended.

However, after one trial in which the jury deadlocked and a mistrial was declared, Wilkins was acquitted in a second trial.

Has Heart Surgery

Girl Gets Chance to Live

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Frail Judy Lynn Funsch, a cheerful 5-year-old, today underwent heart surgery that could give her the chance to grow up normally.

The pretty blonde who weighs only 28 pounds, was wheeled into the operating room shortly before 8 a.m.

Judy Lynn suffers from a rare obstruction of a vein that carries oxygenated blood from the lungs to the heart.

She was not aware that the 10-man University of Michigan team that performed the delicate surgery was not optimistic about her chances for surviving the operation.

Doctors told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Funsch, of Genesee Township, that without the operation, Judy has only a few years to live. If surgery is successful, she has a chance for a normal life.

Judy has been enjoying her stay in the hospital's pediatrics ward.

"She's been playing with the other kids, and is happy with her favorite doll, Suzie," said Mrs. Funsch. "She was particularly thrilled to see her picture in the paper."

Highly susceptible to disease, Judy has suffered congestive heart failure and been stricken several times with pneumonia.

"This will be exploratory surgery to see if help can be offered to the child," explained one of the physicians on the team. "We may not be able to do anything for her."

Rabbi's Condition Said Very Critical

DETROIT (AP) — Rabbi Morris Adler came to life today, nearly one month after he was shot in the head while conducting Sabbath services at his synagogue.

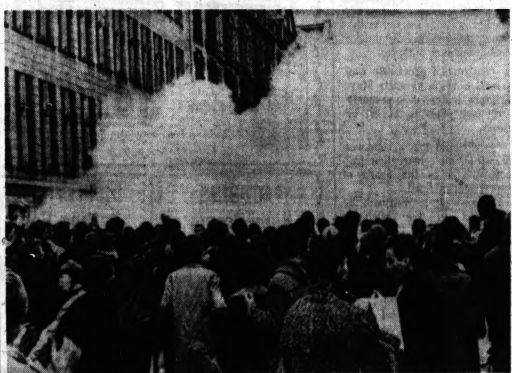

Sinai Hospital, where Adler, 59, has lain in a coma since the shooting Feb. 12, said he had developed circulatory and pulmonary complications.

The hospital called his condition very critical.

The bulletin said the complications were not unexpected in view of Adler's prolonged coma and "constant supportive measures which have been necessary." Adler suffered brain damage from one bullet.

Six cases have been reported in Lake Orion. Pontiac and Waterford Township both have had five cases.

Walled Lake, Avon and Oxford townships all have reported four cases, while two have been reported in Keego Harbor and Commerce township.

PROTEST WEDDING — Smoke bombs cloud the air in the streets along the royal wedding route in Amsterdam today, as many persons in the city staged violent protests against the marriage of Crown Princess Beatrix to Claus von Amsberg, a former member of the German army.

Road Mishaps in City Still on Increase

Motor vehicle accidents reported in Pontiac last month continued to sharply increase over last year.

Figures released today showed the number of vehicles involved in accidents in February totaled 431, a jump of 81 over the same period in 1965.

The February vehicle-accident statistics brought the 1966 total to 925, compared to 761 in the first two months of last year.

The number of persons killed this year has doubled the figure of two for 1965, and injuries are up 45 per cent to 461.

An understaffed traffic bureau, cited last month by Lt. Clayton Randolph as contributing to the accident problem, remained at the same level.

MEN ASSIGNED

Nineteen men are assigned to traffic on two shifts, covering the period from 6:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Present plans call for addition of two patrolmen to the bureau in the near future, although Randolph has said he could use six.

To Honor Hart at OU Dinner

The leadership of the Democratic party in Michigan will honor Sen. Philip A. Hart Saturday at a dinner to be held at Oakland University.

George Googasian, county chairman, said that those attending will include former Governor G. Mennen Williams, U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, Congressman Billie S. Farnum, 19th District, as well as National Committeeman Neil Staehle and other state and county officials and legislators.

Dinner chairman Larry Perneck of Oak Park reports that tickets sales indicate the annual event will be the largest in county history.

Pontiac Primary Results Certified

The board of canvassers last night certified results of Monday's City Commission primary election with only one minor change.

The board cut three votes from the 240 given Samuel J. Whitters in District 1 in the unofficial returns.

In precinct 37, Whitters received 34 votes instead of the 37 votes he was initially credited with. All other vote totals remained the same as reported in the unofficial tally Tuesday.

procession moved through Amsterdam.

The government had proclaimed a national holiday, but the turnout fell far short of what palace officials had hoped for. Some observers estimated about 80,000 lined the five-mile route. Police said that 250,000 could be accommodated.

ONE HOSPITALIZED

The Dutch radio announced that one of the young demonstrators who tried to march on the palace was hospitalized with a concussion after the clash with the police.

A simple civil ceremony in Amsterdam's City Hall preceded the glittering church wedding before a gathering of Europe's dwindling royalty.

Beatrix and her bridegroom were solemn and showed slight traces of nervousness during the first ceremony.

But once the mayor pronounced them man and wife, Beatrix broke into a big smile again and looked up fondly at her husband. He smiled back.

SLIGHT DRIZZLE

A slight drizzle began to fall as the royal procession moved from the City Hall to the ancient Westerkirk — West Church — for the religious ceremony.

The crown princess and the new Dutch prince smiled and waved in response to cheers as they rode to the church for the religious ceremony. The strain began to tell on the couple.

Beatrix was deeply moved and appeared on the verge of tears as the minister delivered the wedding sermon on the theme "Narrow is the road which is leading to heaven. I am your Lord, follow me," Von Amsberg looked grave.

Amid the pomp and pageantry a restlessness ran through the Dutch nation, where five years of Nazi war-time occupation left deep scars.

Deadline Near for Registration of Pontiac Voters

The registration deadline is 5 p.m. March 21.

Seven City Commissioners and two municipal court judges are to be elected in the April vote. The two incumbent judges are unopposed for reelection.

Fourteen candidates, including seven incumbents, seek seats on the commission. The clerk's office is open 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

HEAVY FIRE

Communist gunners also shot down a Marine medical evacuation helicopter, but another came in and picked up the wounded and crew despite heavy mortar and small arms fire.

The pilot, Capt. Frank Kelley, 44, of Boston, Mass., said some of the 25 wounded Vietnamese and one American limped to the chopper by themselves.

Yesterday, the Reds brought down a C-47 Army transport while it was making a firing pass at about 1,000 feet.

A 50-caliber bullet almost ripped the right engine off but the pilot managed a forced landing. He was killed on the ground while firing his M16 automatic rifle. Another crewman also was killed.

The copilot was last seen advancing toward the Reds with his M16 blazing. Helicopters rescued three other wounded.

There was no way to relieve the garrison by artillery or land in the heavy jungle, forest and tough mountain terrain that the Communists have long used to infiltrate men and supplies.

The Montagnard and American defenders threw back three assaults.

Construction of Courthouse Wing Stalled

Construction of the proposed courthouse wing will be delayed three to four months, Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, said today.

Speaking to members of the buildings and grounds committee of the County Board of Supervisors, Murphy said that the timetable revision is due to mechanics of financing the project under the recently established county building authority.

Construction previously was slated to begin by early May. Murphy indicated it probably will take place in August or later.

Murphy said that a bond resolution for the construction project will go to the board of supervisors in April. If approved, it then will be submitted to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission which probably will require 60 days to grant approval. Bids on the estimated $3 million wing are expected to go out in July, Murphy said.

Bound Over in Shooting of Suspect

Everett Joseph, 48, charged with shooting another man at the Pontiac police station last week, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday for arraignment March 21.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, presiding at the preliminary examination of Joseph, ordered the $500 personal bond continued.

Joseph of 599 Lochaven, Waterford Township, is accused of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than commit murder.

He was arrested March 2 on the second floor of the police station moments after John B. Cannon, 36, of 5 Lee Court, was shot in the leg in an office.

Cannon was only slightly injured.

Police said the shooting occurred as Cannon appeared for pretrial examination on a gross indecency charge involving Joseph's 23-year-old married daughter.

Cannon was originally charged with rape in the case, but that accusation was dismissed in Municipal Court.

The woman was an outpatient at the Pontiac General Hospital Mental Health Clinic where Cannon worked when the alleged offenses occurred last fall.

She is now being treated at Pontiac State Hospital.

Cannon's examination on the charge was rescheduled for today.

Waterford Township will receive $122,983.

The two are among 18 Oakland County school districts to receive grants totaling $1,717,723.

Listed among Pontiac's programs for use of the funds are elementary and secondary language arts, cultural enrichment, and health services and administration.

The bulk of Waterford's allocation will go to development of a learning center.

Girl Scouts Observe 54th Birthday

Being observed this week is the 54th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America.

Born in Savannah, Ga., the organization has grown from the first troop of 12 to a national enrollment that now numbers more than 3.5 million, 720,000 of whom are adult leaders and program consultants.

The membership comprises 600 area Councils in the U. S. Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., however, is federated with the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts that is established in 67 countries of the free world.

Four age levels, ranging from seven to 17, divide the Scouting structure into Brownies, Junior Girl Scouts, Cadettes and Senior Girl Scouts.

Locally, a full week of events is programmed for the 8,000 Girl Scouts in the Northern Oakland County Council. These include religious observances, demonstrations of domestic skills and ceremonial activities. And, if you've never sampled those delicious cookies the Scouts are selling, try some. You have until March 20.

We warmly salute the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. on its anniversary and on the significant job it is doing in training and guiding America's young womanhood during its formative years.

Solon Warns Against U.S. Fiscal Policy

Representative GEORGE H. MAHON, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee says "Somebody has to draw a line between what the Country stands in need of and what it can afford . . . We are too readily inclined to make yesterday's wants today's needs. A great problem in government finance these days is that not enough of us lie awake nights worrying about the fact that we are spending beyond our income . . ."

White House Answers Local Girl

(Editor's Note: The following is an answer to a letter written to the Voice of the People from Estelle Johnson, a ninth grade student at Washington Junior High School, asking the question why we could have a cease-fire in Viet Nam and then commence killing when the period is over. In order to get a firsthand answer, the original letter from Miss Johnson was forwarded to President Lyndon B. Johnson.)

THE WHITE HOUSE—The President has asked me to reply to your letter to him on Viet Nam.

Although the Government of the Republic of Viet Nam and General WILLIAM C. WESTMORELAND, Commander, U. S. Military Assistance Forces, would not "fire at or on the enemy except in self defense" . . . for a 30-hour period covering Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, there were a total of 60 significant incidents initiated by the Viet Cong during this period. Many Vietnamese civilians, as well as U. S. and Vietnamese Armed Forces were killed or wounded as a result of these incidents.

Again, for 78 hours beginning January 20, in keeping with the importance and tradition of the Lunar New Year to the Vietnamese people, and consistent with like instructions issued by the Government of the Republic of Viet Nam; General WESTMORELAND directed that U. S. Forces not "fire at or on the enemy except in self defense." During this period there were 106 Viet Cong initiated incidents, again resulting in many casualties among Vietnamese civilians and military, U. S. Forces and the other Free World Assistance Forces. So, as you can see, the cease-fires have been one-sided.

The foregoing examples have not caused any weakening of our efforts to find a solution. In 1965 we had 300 private talks for peace in Viet Nam with friends and adversaries throughout the world without success.

Secretary of State DEAN RUSK, in his news conference of January 21, 1966, spoke of our efforts as follows:

"You are familiar with the intensive effort which has been made since Christmas to probe the prospects for peace. We have been in touch again with the governments of the world and with many of them through special emissaries. There has been an overwhelmingly favorable response to these efforts — except from those who could in fact sit down and make peace.

"The diplomatic efforts of the past four weeks have not caught the other side by surprise. In April, President Johnson at Baltimore called for unconditional discussions. In May, there was a cessation of bombing which ended after a harsh rejection by the other side of any serious move toward peace. Over the months the President and I have discussed the elements of a reasonable peace which were summarized at year's end by the so-called fourteen points. For months on end, both publicly and privately, it was indicated to the other side that the bombing could be stopped as a step toward peace, and every possible effort was made to ascertain what the response might be.

"But nothing was forthcoming from Hanoi on that subject. Nevertheless, a number of governments, including Communist governments, insisted that diplomacy could play a more effective role and the prospect for peace would be improved if in fact the bombing were suspended. The Christmas cease-fire was therefore extended as far as the bombing was concerned, until now the suspension is in its 29th day. The question posed to the other side — are you interested in peace? — is the same question which has been posed for months, and indeed years, by all available means.

"We have been waiting for some word from Hanoi that goes beyond bitter invective or charges that talk of peace is a trick, or a deceit or a swindle. We have been listening for sounds, other than the sounds of bombs and grenades and mortars in South Viet Nam. I regret that I cannot report to you any positive and encouraging response to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind."

In a statement on January 31, 1966, President Johnson announced the resumption of bombing North Viet Nam, with instructions to Ambassador GOLDBERGER to request a meeting of the United Nations Security Council.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Sanctions Discrimination

WASHINGTON — "Discrimination" in any form by any governmental institution is supported nowadays to be something plainly unconstitutional and illegal.

When, however, the Supreme Court of the United States says it is constitutional to LAWRENCE discriminate between the states of the union by punishing some and letting others be immune, hardly any voices are raised in protest.

Last Monday the highest court in the land, by a virtually unanimous decision, ruled that most states in the union can retain literacy tests and other qualifications for voters but that certain states cannot.

Instead of punishing individual officials for violating the laws against letting racial bias interfere with registration of voters, the Congress passed in 1965 a law taking away from certain states, the privilege of setting voter qualifications altogether, and this the Supreme Court now says is constitutional.

"The Constitution speaks of 'equal protection of the laws,' but the Supreme Court in its latest ruling says this guarantee isn't applicable as between states."

Also, for centuries the principle of justice has been proclaimed that anybody accused of wrongdoing should be presumed to be innocent until proved guilty.

The Supreme Court, however, now declares that this doesn't apply to the states of the union and that, even without a trial in a court, a state on the basis of inference or mere suspicion may be deprived of its right to use voter-qualification tests of any kind.

The punishment meted out by Congress is that a state suspected of racial discrimination in the use of any voter test may be prohibited for a period of five years from using such tests.

This means that in certain states a would-be registrant need not be able to read or write or to demonstrate any educational achievement or possess good moral character, while other states can retain similar qualifications.

The Fifteenth Amendment merely says that the right of citizens to vote cannot be "denied or abridged" on account of race or color. It doesn't say that a person cannot be denied the right to vote if he or she is illiterate.

Indeed, in most states of the union, such qualifications are required by law and are permitted to stand.

It will be noted, moreover, that states as an institution are put on trial instead of officials who may have been guilty of abusing the laws on voter qualifications by applying them in a manner that constitutes racial discrimination.

The Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution prohibits official discrimination as between citizens in the different states of the union. It says all citizens are entitled to "equal protection of the laws."

Citizens in certain states have been required to take voter tests in the past and have long been registered as voters. But others now are declared immune from such tests and are allowed to vote and exercise a majority's right in the community.

Just 100 years ago a majority in Congress unseated the duly elected representatives of several states in the South and the federal government sent troops to coerce the legislatures into "ratifying" both the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments, which forbid racial discrimination.

It was a fraudulent procedure, but the Supreme Court has from that time on never ventured to rule on the scandal of the "ratification" process. The Machiavellian doctrine that "the end justifies the means" evidently still prevails as "the spirit of the times."

Bob Considine Says:

Red China Won't Permit Viet End, Chiang Quoted

NEW YORK — People . . . lamps would be mounted on high towers here and there and — Presto! — we'll be making like Scandinavia during the period of the midnight sun.

It would be tough on our wagers, having to go to work each night wearing sunglasses.

Chiang Kai-shek told Frank J. Johnson, foreign editor of the American Security Council's Washington Report that Communist China will never permit an end to the war in Viet Nam so long as it is within her power to keep it going.

"He did not think 500,000 or 600,000 Americans would make any difference," Johnson reports.

"As to sending Nationalist troops to fight in Viet Nam, President Chiang thought this would be unwise. Their hearts would not really be in any fight except to regain their own territory."

What about saving what's left?

Straw-in-the-Wind Department: Dick Nixon has moved the state of Washington branch of his law firm's office a half a mile closer to the White House.

His problem: Should he pass or kick?

Roosevelt Raceway, the nation's most affluent harness racing merry-go-round, has okayed a proposal by William Griffin, former N.Y. Looks like a great buy for the home loan people.

Lao Troops' Competence Grows

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

A year ago, 70 Lao were training at the reserve officers school at Dong Hene, just south of the 17th parallel in the Laos panhandle. There were 10 officers-instructors.

The school is about 50 miles from the Ho Chi Minh trails which carry troop reinforcements from North Viet Nam to the south.

One evening in mid-March last year, Ho moved a battalion of his regulars to Dong Hene. These first-line North Vietnamese forces (about 350 troops) surrounded the school and its 80 men.

The school wasn't organized for a strong defense. There was a little wire strung around. There were a few machine guns and sufficient rifles — but little or no heavier armament.

But the Lao school command chose to stay and fight.

The attack came at 2:30 in the morning. The Communist Vietnamese rushed the school in a series of human waves. The Lao stood. They were still fighting at six in the morning when the Lao air force moved in with low-level strikes.

The North Vietnamese reg-

Voice of the People:

Proposed Gun Legislation Will Not Prevent Crime

After reading the articles pertaining to restrictive gun laws, I offer a rebuttal. A bill being introduced by Senator Dodd, S-1592, is from a mistaken idea that it will prevent crime. You will never legislate guns out of the criminal's hands.

The anti-gun people do not want you to have a gun — rifle, shotgun nor antique gun. The way this will be brought about will be to make it so expensive and time-consuming to own a gun that most people won't bother.

If you want things to stay as they are, write Senator MacNamara and Senator Hart. They will decide whether or not your privileges are to be taken away. Let's punish the criminal who misuses a gun, not the honest citizen who loves to hunt.

Discusses Need for Public Housing in City

Regarding public housing for Negroes in Pontiac, if a Negro would fix up his present home there would be no need for sub-standard housing in his neighborhood. Business places in Negro neighborhoods often are in the same condition as some of the houses. Lakeside Housing Project is a disgrace to the City, as many neighborhoods are. What makes the City believe Negroes will make better neighbors in other neighborhoods if the one they leave is not presentable? We need to help ourselves first.

The groups who seem only to complain to commissions and take their cases to court should aid a family who may be sick, disabled, or otherwise unable to repair its dwelling.

A Negro is a U.S. citizen and should be able to buy and live wherever he is financially able. Many Negroes and other races prefer to live near their friends. Churches, lodge and community buildings, and businesses owned and operated by Negroes could survive better in all-Negro neighborhoods.

'Citizens May Select Qualified Candidate'

I'm pleased the citizens of Oakland County will have the opportunity to select a gentleman as qualified as Barry Grant for Oakland County Probate Judge. His knowledge of the law and his interest in better government is matched with understanding for people and caring about their needs and problems. He will make a fine addition to our Probate Court.

Comments on Rochester School Proposals

I congratulate the Rochester Community School Board and administrators for their work in providing an excellent long-range plan for our school district. I urge all eligible voters to support Proposal "A" (building expansion) and Proposal "C" (operating expenses).

Proposal "B" (construction of a pool and auditorium) is a worthwhile project but I would rather see this money spent for increased teacher salaries and educational assistance. We should face up to this need if we plan on holding our present teaching staff and attracting capable replacements and additions.

RAYMOND H. STORM

Why did the local Girl Scouts refuse to cooperate with the United Fund survey and are they being kicked out of the UF?

A. R. J.

REPLY

The Girl Scouts say: "Because our program is extensive, reaching every fourth girl in the County, the considerable time and personnel required by the survey would substantially cut into our service to the girls. We are receiving a 1966 allocation from the Pontiac Area United Fund, but are told in 1967 we are on our own. We believe in federated fund raising and will continue to receive UF support from the four other areas of Oakland County we serve."

Lao finally gave up and moved on, leaving 150 dead.

Again, just several weeks ago, Hanoi had to throw in three fresh battalions drawn from North Viet Nam to overcome hard fighting and Lao troops hanging on to a small key airfield in northern Laos. The battle had been nip and tuck.

Ho's men took the airfield; but paid a heavy price in dead and wounded and with no assurance they could keep it. The Lao and Meo troops fought stubbornly. Day after day, Lao air force came in low to hit Vietnamese concentrations.

Just three-and-a-half years ago, the United States agreed to an "unenforceable" treaty on Laos because our officials were convinced "Lao troops wouldn't stand and fight," so Laos couldn't be held.

U. S. advisers consistently reported Lao units broke and ran when attacked by North Viet names. They frequently ran even when Vietnamese troops were rumored in the neighborhood.

One U.S. adviser told of being stranded on a battlefield when the Lao ran on reports the Vietnamese were coming. But he wasn't captured; the Vietnamese troops never arrived.

Army for army, the Lao still are no match for the North Vietnamese. Hanoi has several times the trained troops and a great deal more armament.

But today, a sizable number of Lao units are able to take on the best troops of Hanoi's army and stand up man for man.

The change has been gradual. Incidents like the 80 reservists at Dong Hene gave them a new pride. The growing strength and ability of the air force added confidence. In the past several years, too, a new breed of trained officers has gradually risen to high rank, heading aside men who had been sergeants under the French and colonels and generals in free Laos.

The growing Lao competence and confidence will help in the Viet Nam war. It means that Ho will have to peel off troops from time to time to keep his troops under control. The Lao air force and infantry will eat a little into Ho's supplies of men and equipment.

County Aides Ask Staff Hike

Oakland County department heads are seeking a total of 154 new employees for next year at a total added personnel cost of $682,738.

The departmental requests were made at a series of hearings this week conducted by the salaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The committee will meet again tomorrow afternoon to begin discussions on salaries of present employees. No more requests for new employees are expected.

Last year at this time, department heads asked for 125 new employees for their 1966 operations. Only 15 were allowed when the county budget was adopted last fall.

Preliminary requests for more personnel are subject to review by the County Board of Auditors which prepares recommendations for joint consideration by the salaries and ways and means committees of the board of supervisors.

All Hearts 'n' Flowers

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Cecil and Jewell Love were married on Valentine's Day 1963 by the Rev. Paul A. Fullilove. They were granted a divorce Wednesday in Hampden County Probate Court.

Mrs. Love filed for the divorce on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

County OEO Outlay 'Good Investment'

Receiving $300,000 in return for a $42,000 investment would be good business for Oakland County as far as James M. McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO) is concerned.

McNeely has been seeking $42,000 in local funds for a proposed OEO health services program.

With this amount available, OEO then could file an application for a federal grant for the remaining 90 per cent of the $428,417 program.

McNeely eyed the $42,000 appropriation from the county yesterday after the OEO Commission agreed to allow the health committee of the County Board of Supervisors specify in its application for federal funds that OEO would derive extensive benefits from a proposed new county health center.

The health committee already has been assured of a federal grant for one-third of the cost of the South Oakland Health Center in Southfield.

ANOTHER GRANT
An additional grant of up to another one-third of the cost, or $300,000, could be acquired if grant.

McNeely feels that the expected extensive use of the new health center by OEO-aided persons could well be the factor that will result in the additional grant.

Project Aims at Medical Needs of Rural Areas Short of Doctors

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A 77-year-old physician is the only medical doctor in rural Grant County which has a population of 8,000.

But a novel idea by the University of Oklahoma Medical Center will soon bring reinforcements to the overworked doctor as well as determine whether such projects are feasible in other areas of similar needs.

"If our plan works, all of the medical have-not areas will eventually be helped," Dr. James L. Dennis, dean and director of the medical center, says.

"Project Responsibility," as it is called, is designed to supply the immediate medical needs of doctor-short rural areas, train health workers and provide postgraduate teaching in family medicine at a combination clinic-hospital.

The pilot facility will be established in the town of Wakita — population 450 — in north-central Oklahoma's wheat country.

Wakita hasn't had a medical doctor for two years.

Dr. Franklin P. Robinson of Pond Creek, 20 miles to the south, is the lone physician in the county.

Dennis said the pilot center will be staffed by a general practitioner, a pediatrician and an internist. Each will have a medical school teaching appointment.

There also will be nurses and a professional social worker. The hospital will have nine beds for emergency cases.

Eventually, Dennis said, physicians operating the facility may buy the clinic-hospital, which is supposed to be activated within the year.

In the plans are a heliport for speedy transport of acutely ill patients to larger medical centers and to expedite visits by consulting physicians.

Wakita civic leaders agreed to raise about $200,000 to erect the center. Doctors, who will receive a guaranteed salary, will charge standard fees.

Junior Editors Quiz on RACCOONS

QUESTION: What do raccoons eat? Is it true they wash their food?

ANSWER: The raccoon is a smart, practical little animal with a talent for taking care of himself! Related to the pandas, bear-like animals who live in Tibet and China, the raccoon is bear-like in his own habits.

He is willing to eat just about any food which comes along. The 'coon diet includes such various items as nuts, wild blackberries, grapes, bugs, reptiles, birds' eggs, frogs and fish.

The last two are high on the menu, since 'coons love to explore the edges of streams and ponds.

Their forepaws, almost like hands, help them to grasp the various little creatures on which they dine.

These paws are also a great help in climbing trees. Since the 'coon hunts at night, sleeping birds are frequently eaten.

'Coons like to wash their food, especially that part consisting of meat and provided they are near water.

They are very particular about this, holding the food in their paws and dousing it thoroughly; in fact they wash it so much they make it look quite unpalatable.

It is a curious habit, yet one which naturalists say is characteristic of 'coon in all part of the country, when water is available.

E. Lansing Eyes an Income Tax

EAST LANSING (AP) — East Lansing, which has no industrial property to tax, is studying the possibility of levying an income tax which could tap the $80 million Michigan State University payroll.

City Manager John M. Patriarche said he thought a package combining a one per cent income tax with a reduction in property taxes could win resident's approval.

Under state law, the city would be able to levy a tax of one-half per cent on nonresidents who work in the city, including MSU employees.

Patriarche said he had not figured out the details, but said the city could net an added half million dollars a year even with a reduction in property taxes. Detroit, Hamtramck, Flint and Saginaw have income taxes now.

Medical Crisis—4

Health Needs Vast for Nation's Poor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — U.S. medicine will have an exacting role to perform in the "war on poverty." Vast needs are seen among the millions of poor and old in big city slums and many rural areas. This is the fourth of five articles on American medicine today.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's simply shocking," said a pediatrician in a large Eastern city. "You wonder if some way can't be found to give these kids a better medical break."

"These kids" were 1,442 youngsters, mostly from poor families, enrolled in a Head Start program to prepare them for entering school.

One-third of them, medical examiners found, had some major medical defect, or emotional problem — or both.

UNMET NEEDS

That is one measure of the health needs, mostly unmet, among millions of poor people in big cities and many rural areas, needs unmet despite hospital clinics and physicians' donated time.

Various reasons are suggested for the neglect.

One-third of them, medical facilities exist, that there aren't enough facilities, that some people can't find baby sitters or take time from their jobs, that clinics and services are too fragmented and patients are shunted from place to place, that many have no medical or hospital insurance systems. The charge is even made that "many poor people just don't care."

But when, and if, the sluice gates open to meet their needs, the nation's medical system will be challenged more than ever.

Medicare will bring part of this new testing, since many elderly persons living on limited incomes will be offered hospitalization under Social Security payments. They may also sign up, at low fees, for medical services.

HEAVY DEMAND

Looking to July 1, when Medicare begins, hospitals in some cities expect a heavy demand for beds and services. Others anticipate only a slight increase, mainly because many beds already are occupied by patients over 65.

More demand for medical services will come.

For Title XIX of the Medicare law calls upon states vastly to expand their programs of health care for all the needy and medically needy in each state, by July 1975, if they are to continue receiving federal money.

Poor health is one root, one anchor, in a vicious cycle of poverty—without intervention, the poor get sicker and the sick get poorer," says Dr. H. Jack Geiger of Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

NOVEL APPROACH

He and Dr. Count D. Gibson Jr., professor of preventive medicine at Tufts, are originators of a novel approach to improve the health of the poor—a program containing seeds for increasing health manpower jobs among the poor themselves.

Sponsored by the medical school, with an initial grant of $1,168,000 in poverty program funds, the program is setting up two community health centers, one in Boston, another to come in a rural Southern area.

The Boston center, at the Columbia Point housing development, is operating. In its first four weeks, 600 children and adults in the housing development came for diagnosis and treatment.

"We hadn't expected that amount of demand until next June," Dr. Geiger said, showing a visitor through an area of the housing project converted into the health center. "That reflects the pent-up need."

SMALL STAFF

Tufts supplies the small staff of physicians on duty at the health center. The doctors may refer some patients to city hospitals or to specialists, as needed.

This health program is one pilot attempt—aided by a computerized system of keeping records—to determine the real need for health services, what they cost in time, services and money to meet them, Dr. Geiger explains. It may point the way to similar centers in other areas.

There are 6,000 families in the housing project, and one-third of them enrolled in a voluntary health association which helped plan the health center itself. But anyone in the housing project can utilize the health center. No one is charged for visits.

Prevention of illness is emphasized. "It is their health center," Dr. Geiger stressed. "We believe the people of Columbia Point would rather have things done with them, not for them or to them. We believe people have something important to contribute to this kind of idea and program."

MEMBERSHIP DUES

The association members decided that families should pay $3 a year in membership dues, partly to help equip the center.

"We asked why $3 was decided upon and someone said: 'Because that's the cost of just one taxi-ride in the middle of the night to a hospital emergency room that we won't have to make when a health center is right here.'"

Poor people—not unlike any one else—"find ways of beating the system. If they have to wait too long in a hospital clinic, sometimes the wrong clinic, it turns out—or return day after day, or answer the same questions again, or go to several clinics, they find they can get faster care by going to the hospital's emergency ward."

Hospital emergency rooms in numerous cities report a large recent increase in patients—including middle-income persons who say they don't have, or can't find, or haven't tried to find, a private physician.

THEIR SYSTEM

"But here," Gibson and Geiger point out, "they don't have to beat the system—because it's their system. When problems arise, they help us solve them."

"Poor people know their own problems. And they have ideas."

When we suggested putting fold-down cots in the pediatric waiting room, several women scoffed. 'Put in rocking chairs instead,' they told us. 'Anyone knows a sick baby cries less if his mother is holding him.'"

To augment medical manpower—mostly womanpower—the center provides some jobs for residents as health aides, as receptionists, as nurse aides, home aides who know the people and their problems, as medical stenographers. Other jobs may come along.

"We hope some of these people will leave us to go on to similar jobs elsewhere, or for girls to become nurses, and then we can train more people," Dr. Geiger said.

COMPREHENSIVE

"We believe that health services should go to the community, because that's where the people and the needs and the problems are. The health services should be comprehensive and coordinated, not fragmented—because people are indivisible and health is indivisible."

Whatever the outcome of this particular program, its future promises many other changes in medicine.

Next: The promise.

Scrapped Bomber Has Role in Supertransport Plans

EDWARDS AIR FORCE tended the XB70A was needed to BASE, Calif. (AP) — The giant XB70A heads into the last phase of its useful existence soon with one of the world's most versatile test pilots assigned to salvage what he can from the by-product of a billion-dollar bomber. Air Walker, 45, holds the world speed and altitude records in the X15 rocket plane, has begun training to fly the 500,000-pound XB70A, late this spring using them for research.

As chief engineering test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's research center here, Walker will do research aimed solely at aiding design of the upcoming supersonic transport — SST — even though the transport is likely to bear little resemblance to the XB70A.

NASA DIRECTOR
Paul Bikle, director of the NASA center, says: "If we were starting out to build an SST research plane now, we wouldn't build an XB70A, but it's available and could prove very useful."
Adds Walker: "Sometimes, getting negative answers in design is just as valuable as getting positive answers. At least, the XB70A should show us what is not practical — how not to design an SST."

In exclusive interviews Bikle and Walker said they believe the SST research program, scheduled to last 18 months with the Air Force and NASA sharing the $35-million cost, will end the usefulness of the XB70A.

After that — perhaps a niche in the Smithsonian Institution's museum of aviation relics.

LAUNCHING PLATFORM
"We once were very hot on the idea of using the XB70A as a launching platform for the X15, which now uses the slower B52," Bikle said. "But we've found it just wouldn't be feasible. I don't see anything ahead for the XB70A after the SST research program."

His words were a swan song for one of the most controversial craft in U.S. military history.

When conceived more than a decade ago, the 185-foot XB70A was the prototype of a multibillion-dollar fleet designed to carry nuclear city-busters across oceans at 2,000 miles an hour at altitudes of 70,000 feet — beyond the reach of pursuit craft then flying.

Before it could be built, however, intercontinental missiles proved they could do the job faster and cheaper — and extremely fast fighters like the YF12A were developed which could shoot it down.

TWO BUILT
The XB70A was scrapped as an operational bomber and only two were built, at a cost of $1.2 billion. Military and congressional spokesmen for years considered the XB70A was needed to get what we can out of the XB70A.

LEARNING TO FLY B58
So Walker is taking time out from test-flying a still-legged lunar landing research vehicle to learn to fly 1,600 m.p.h. B58 bombers in order to qualify to pilot the XB70A.

Of the fact that he will never again fly the X15, in which he set records of 4,194 m.p.h. and 354,000 feet, Walker says: "Naturally, I regret it, but I can't have a foot in all the cockpits around here. Besides, who wants to get in a rut?"

NASA has installed $2 million worth of instruments on the XB70A. With these it will study:

1. Air friction on the plane's skin, which gets hotter than a kitchen stove (more than 600 degrees Fahrenheit). Unless controlled by insulation or refrigeration, such heat means discomfort for passengers and dangerous structural weakening.
2. Noise generated by the swift flow of air along the fuselage and wings. Louder than an automobile horn a few inches away, the noise must be quieted for passenger comfort and structural safety.
3. High altitude turbulence. This little known phenomenon, which can buffet a plane the way gusts toss a ship at sea, is could mean disaster.
4. Sensitivity of hydraulic controls. Wing and tail surfaces are too large to be controlled by human muscle alone; hydraulic pressures, many times greater than those which help a driver brake his car, move tail and wing flaps half a block away from the pilot's cabin.

Defoliation in Viet Explained

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department, replying to a New York critic, says less than 1 per cent of farmland in South Viet Nam has been treated with defoliation chemicals.

Use of the herbicides is necessary, a spokesman said Wednesday because "in war, food is as essential for the effectiveness of a military unit as its weapons and arms."

The spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, press officer, added that the herbicides are used in remote and thinly populated areas, are not toxic to men and animals and that the future use of land is not affected.

The government's defense of the use of the chemicals came after a newsmen asked about Robert B. Nichols, 46, a New York architect who has been fasting since Feb. 28 to protest defoliation.

Nichols, who served on a presidential study committee on natural beauty last year, wrote to President Johnson asking how the United States could justify defoliation and destruction of crops in Viet Nam in light of America's goal of stepped-up food production.

A White House aide replied to Nichols March 6, McCloskey said.

Revealing the White House reply in part, the spokesman said herbicides are used to strip cover off trees to deny the Viet Cong guerrillas places of concealment. Chemicals also are used along roads, railroads and canals where the Viet Cong ambush civilian and military traffic.

In remote areas, McCloskey said, the chemicals are used to destroy thick jungle cover along known trails used as supply routes for Viet Cong men and weapons. Potential training and storage areas also are treated.

He said 20,000 acres in South Viet Nam — one-third of 1 per cent of the total area under cultivation — have been subjected to chemical defoliation treatment.

The State Department aide said it is the policy of the South Viet Nam government to increase the production of food for its people and it is the policy of the United States to help Saigon by supplying such things as fertilizers, new strains of livestock and improved growing techniques.

BEING INTENSIFIED
U.S. food support for South Viet Nam is being intensified, he said, as a result of the recent Honolulu conference and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman's visit to Saigon.

The White House answer apparently did not satisfy Nichols, who says he will continue his fast until he gets an explanation of U.S. government policy that an ordinary man as himself could understand.

McCloskey said it is regrettable that Nichols "has chosen to express that dissatisfaction by endangering his own health."

Prince Philip Flies to Texas on U.S. Tour

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Prince Philip headed for Houston today on a U.S. charity tour which he kicked off in Miami by raising $225,000.

The handsome husband of British Queen Elizabeth was the attraction at a glittering $100-a-plate dinner Wednesday night.

The prince, piloting his turbo jet, planned to reach Houston this afternoon.

A fuel stop was scheduled for New Orleans.

In Miami, Cuban exiles protesting British trade with the Fidel Castro regime, picketed in front of the Fontainebleau Hotel, site of the dinner.

NO BEARING
As they demonstrated, the prince told a news conference that the British trade with Cuba and Viet Nam "has nothing to do with me. Even if I said I did or did not agree, it would have no bearing on the matter."

Variety Clubs International announced $225,000 was raised at the dinner for the benefit of ailing children.

Pontiac Teen Is Sentenced for Brawling

A 17-year-old Pontiac youth was sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail yesterday for conviction on a disorderly charge stemming from a fracas with police Feb. 28.

Maxwell J. Jones of 544 Goring received the jail term from Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Jones, another youth, Joe E. Smith, 18, of 381 Dittmar were arrested after a brawl with two Pontiac patrolmen on a downtown street.

Smith, who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly, was placed on 90 days probation by Finnegan and given the choice of one day in jail or fine.

Smith was ordered to stand trial March 16 on the interfering charge, a state law violation.

Patrolman Larry K. Feneley and Freeman L. Stallions, both 28, testified Smith had resisted arrest and that Jones had jumped Stallions from behind as Smith was taken to a patrol car.

Pentagon Praises Negroes in Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon military personnel of other Negroes are praising the races. Negro as a gallant, hard-fighting soldier. New figures show that proportionately more Negroes have died in Viet Nam than military personnel of other races.

The Defense Department Wednesday provided figures from what it called a "one-time survey" which showed Negroes suffering a higher number of deaths, proportionately speaking, in the Southeast Asian conflict.

The survey showed that Negroes make up 14.8 per cent of the Army force in Viet Nam, but have suffered 18.3 per cent of the deaths since January 1961.

MORE MARINES
By the same token, Negroes comprise 8.3 per cent of the Marine total in Viet Nam but have suffered 11.3 per cent of the casualties.

When only enlisted men are counted, the Army's Negro deaths jump to 22.1 per cent of the total casualties, and the Marines' Negro deaths are upped to 12 per cent.

The survey, reaching 98 per cent of military personnel in Viet Nam at the close of last December, showed 16,531 Negroes in the Army, 3,500 in the Marine Corps and 500 (5.8 per cent) in the Navy (an estimate based on Negro numbers in the Navy and around the world).

The Air Force, using figures available through last September, puts its Negro total in Viet Nam at 906 (8.3 per cent).

ANOTHER DEATH — A soldier checks the body of a dead U.S. Negro killed by a Viet Cong mine northwest of Saigon. Pentagon figures have shown that proportionately more Negroes have been killed in Viet Nam than military personnel of other races.

The Navy reported only one Negro death in Viet Nam in 1961-65, while the Air Force showed none.

Of the Army's 1,078 Viet Nam deaths at the end of 1965, 197 were Negro including six Negro officers. Of the Marines' 346 fatalities, 39 were Negro including two Negro officers.

For all services, the number of Negroes figures to 9.27 per cent, while the deaths average 14.8 per cent.

Pentagon officials say they do not consider the number of Negro fatalities high. If the figures show anything, one spokesman asserted, "it is the valor of the Negro in combat."

SAME DANGER

Officials emphasized that Negroes are not singled out for hazardous missions in battle areas. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently told inquiring Southern senators the same thing during hearings on additional funds for the Viet Nam war.

Pentagon officials say many Negro deaths occur in forward airborne units where the number of Negro volunteers is high. They say there are no records to show how large a percentage of Negroes serve in airborne units.

Wheeler gave senators an estimate of about 18 per cent and said most units have about 12 to 14 per cent Negroes.

However, Brig. Gen. Ellis W. Williamson, a former airborne unit commander in Viet Nam, told newsmen this week that the number of Negroes in his outfit, the 173rd Airborne Brigade, ran no higher than in other units.

Town Hall Concludes With a Bit o' Irish Wit

Mrs. William Smolek of Farmington (upper left) wore apricot handknit two-piece dress to the Town Hall luncheon Wednesday. With it she wore a white straw cloche with a narrow band of apricot buttoned on. Mrs. Y. P. Fisher of Franklin matches the white satin blouse of her suit with a close fitting white satin hat, softened with a touch of feathers. Topping the brunette head of Mrs. John Gottschalk, Woodbine Drive, is a pink silk print bowler. Mrs. Gottschalk wore a navy suit. Mrs. Normand Durocher, Eastways Road, lets the thought of spring go to her head. On her, this floral hat of green, yellow and gray roses is fetching. Her suit is lime green.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor
Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall members heard a discussion of the Irish literary renaissance Wednesday at their closing session.

Ulick O'Connor, by profession a barrister in Dublin (that's a lawyer who may speak in court), is an interesting speaker. He is also an athlete and a poet. He would like to be best known as the last.

In the arts, the Irish excel in literature, said O'Connor, and their greatest writers are those of the early 20th century.

—Joyce, Yeats, Synge and O'Casey.

The Irish insurrection of 50 years ago was headed by poets and writers.

EXPLOSION
O'Connor was asked to comment on the recent blowing up of Lord Nelson's statue in Dublin.

"Very sad," he said, and went on to explain that it was probably the work of a small group of anarchists who spend all their time blowing things up. He wishes they wouldn't destroy such beautiful things.

As a poet, O'Connor likes seeing life in the raw from the viewpoint of a lawyer. He also likes the remarkable literary imagination of the Irish peasants, many of them illiterate.

"They have the spoken language of poetry on their lips," said the speaker. As an example, he quoted an old Irish woman who said, "Life is nothing but a sigh between two secrets—the secret of coming and the secret of going."

RECITED VERSE
The speaker quoted from his own and other poets' work. He said he tries his best to disprove the assumption that poetry is not for the muscular athlete.

He is cheered by the appetite for poetry he finds among women's groups in the United States and wishes the men shared it.

O'Connor is also a television personality, calls himself a "nasty Johnny Carson."

He spends two months each year lecturing in this country. He attended college in New Orleans in 1950 and spent six months in Hollywood on a Huntington Hartford fellowship grant.

Secretaries Meet, Hear Dr. M. J. Hill

Dr. Milton J. Hill, audiologist, Oakland County Schools Speech and Hearing Clinic, spoke Wednesday evening to the Pontiac chapter, National Secretaries Association, International.

The membership and guests gathered in the Airway Lanes for this event.

Highlights were given by Dr. Hill on the work being done in testing areas for children with impaired hearing.

Plans were discussed for a group trip to the Stratford Festival in Canada this summer.

More information may be obtained through Theresa McVeigh and Roberta Trayer.

The Press photographer picked the beige bird-topped 'whimsy' worn by Mrs. Richard Bullen of Clarkston (left). It matches her beige linen-and-silk knit dress, Mrs.

Clyde Dearing (right) of Ottawa Drive topped her butterfly yellow costume with a daisy hat. Fresh looking and spring-like.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Hatlessness in Church Not Proper

By the Emily Post Institute
To the often-asked question of when and where it is necessary for a woman to wear a hat, the answer is:

* * * * *
You must wear a hat to all Roman Catholic church ceremonies, and it is always correct at churches of every faith. If you are one of the many women who feel that there is no hat in the world becoming to you, you must settle for a little veil on the occasions when it is necessary to cover your head.

* * * * *
At official luncheons and receptions, hats are almost a requirement, and beyond that, they may be, and are, worn at any time and on any occasion that you wish to during the day. A small hat or veil is appropriate, but not necessary, with a cocktail dress.

* * * * *
Except for the necessary covering at an evening wedding, a hat, even the smallest veil, is never worn with an evening dress. The only exception, and it is not truly an exception, is the practical one of wearing a plastic or net scarf tied over your beautiful new hairdo to protect it from wind and rain on the way to a formal party.

HOW LONG?

Q: When an invitation reads, let's say, "From four until six o'clock" does it mean that guests are supposed to come in any time between these hours, stay a short while and leave, or may guests come at four and stay until six if they wish?

* * * * *
I would appreciate your answering this question as a friend and I have a difference of opinion on this.

A: It means that the party starts at four and ends at six and that guests may stay for as long or as short a time as they wish between these hours. They should not, however, stay beyond the last hour mentioned in the invitation.

Tea Marks Head Start of Festival

Mrs. Frederick J. Poole and Mrs. Norman Cheal, Waterford Township Meadow Brook festival cochairmen, were hostesses at a tea Wednesday for festival workers in the Waterford area.

The South Shore Drive home of Mrs. Gelston Poole was opened for the affair.

Guests for the occasion were Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, area chairman, and James Hicks of Oakland University.

After distribution of brochures and posters concerning the Meadow Brook program, Mr. Hicks related interesting facts concerning this year's artists to the group. He said that individual tickets may be ordered now for any of the concerts through the university's Festival Office.

Individual tickets for the grounds and pavilion may be ordered now, he added.

This year's festival will have an additional two-weeks of music.

August 11 through 14 of the seventh week will feature Robert Shaw conducting major choral works.

The eighth week, Aug. 18, 19 and 20, Sixten Ehrlich will conduct "Twentieth Century music featuring world premiere performances of works commissioned from Roger Sessions, Harlow Surinac and Ulysses Kay.

Tickets for the seventh and eighth week programs also are available now.

Posters for this year's Meadow Brook Music Festival are ready and members of the Waterford Township promotion committee are looking for good places to display them. At the left is Mrs. Wallace Edwards, Otsego Drive. Right is Mary Phipps of Sherbourne Drive.

Son of the Wellington Relyeas of Sylvan Lake, Gary practice teaches at Cass Technical High School, Detroit. The Wayne State chorus and symphony orchestra also will perform in the production at 8:30 p.m.

Leaves Mate Holding Bag While He Takes Applause

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Get this picture. My husband and I were walking out of a supermarket.

I had one large sack which I know weighed 22 pounds because I weighed it on our bathroom scale when I got home. He was carrying a 20 pound sack of flour and a 10 pound sack of sugar.

Then he saw this nice looking young woman walking out just ahead of us. She was carrying only one large sack.

My husband handed ME his 30 pounds, rushed up to take the sack from this stranger's hands, and then he carried it to her station wagon.

I would like for you to explain exactly what you think of his actions. My husband claims he can't see where he did anything wrong.

BOILING MAD

DEAR BOILING: Either your husband is still working for a merit badge or he is hungry for a kind word from a strange woman.

DEAR ABBY: "LOVE-STARVED" has my sympathy. He's the man whose wife won't let him kiss her because she's afraid he might mess her hair-do or smear her make-up.

I have been married for nearly four years, and I have never seen my wife with curlers in her hair or go all over her face. She says, "I can do all the construction work during the day time. I don't care if the mailman, milkman or delivery boys see me looking like a spook. But when my man comes home, I like to be as fresh and pretty as I can be."

LUCKY LENNY
DEAR LUCKY: Cover her up. She might get pneumonia.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MISS G. IN MACON:" You are under no obligation to tell him your age. Simply say, "I'm old enough to know the score, and young enough to play the game." (That ought to settle his hominy grins.)

Art Work Bears His Own Stamp

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (UPI)—A retired steamship executive has put the postage stamp to new use — to paint.

Paul Curau, 74, an accomplished amateur painter, uses used stamps, pasted on montage-like, to do both portrait and scenic works.

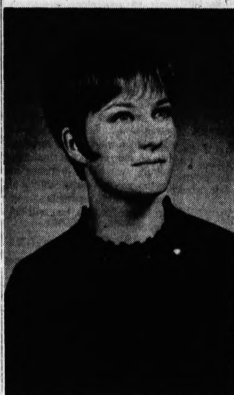

Curau is a philatelist by avocation. One of his paintings is of a street scene in Leisure Village, a retirement community located in Lakewood. Curau said the actual "painting" averages about five hours of work but the planning process may take several days.

Curau was with the United States Lines for almost 35 years as sales promotion manager. He retired in 1957 and moved to Lakewood with his wife, Hansie, in 1964.

Self Doubt Must Be Natural to Youth

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: You're a hypocrite like all the other grownups. First you say that we young people should be allowed to decide if we want sex with a boy we love or not. Then you start right in talking about why we girls shouldn't have it outside marriage. You don't want us to make our own sex decisions any more than our parents do. You just want to sound as though you were very broad-minded and as if you were on our side...

ANSWER: You sure are disappointed in me, aren't you? It's a pretty unreasonable disappointment if I may say so. I never pledged you my support of a decision to have unmarried sex with a boy you love. I just pledged you my support of your RIGHT to decide for it. They are not the same pledge.

After all, if I grant you your right to the opinion that it's wise to sleep with a boy you're not married to, I am entitled to my opinion that it isn't wise. You can't ask me to share all your opinions, you know.

That's to demand that I disappear as a person just as I'd be demanding that you disappear as a person if I insisted on your agreement with all my opinions.

You should be interested in the intensity of your wish that I share this sex opinion of yours. Because it tells us both that you don't really trust it without my support.

Man, do I wish you young people could accept your distrust of yourselves instead of being so ashamed of it! Oh, do I wish you could be what you are—YOUNG!

You are people whose age entitles them to distrust themselves; to doubt, for example, their readiness to involve themselves in sexual love. This is an experience which is the supreme test of our emotional maturity and the one which prepares us for the solemn responsibility of creating and nourishing new human life. But no, you will not be young.

You won't claim the privilege of the young to feel reasonable doubt that you possess all the answers in the complex world you have barely entered.

How merciless you are to yourselves! No experience, no truth, must be hidden from you. The truths that real grownups know they have to grope for, painful inch by painful inch must be all known to you right now.

With such a nutty notion in your heads, how can you be anything but terrified by the suspicion that you DON'T know everything?

Coed's Mom Had Problems, Too

Haverford, Pa. (U.P.) — Today's college coeds are no more promiscuous than their mothers were at the same age, says Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, a Harvard University psychiatrist.

Dr. Farnsworth, director of health services at Harvard, speaking at Haverford College recently, told about 100 visiting girls in the audience:

"Your behavior and your mothers' behavior is very similar."

"And they were nice girls too."

"As a physician, I observe that girls still get pregnant when they do not want to, and have to make choices that are not conducive to their future happiness," he said.

"Unwanted children keep society in a turmoil."

Haverford is an all-male school, but coeds from nearby schools sometimes attend special lectures.

CONFUSION REFLECTED

Dr. Farnsworth said confusion about sex at college is a reflection of the confusion everywhere about it.

He said there are basically three different attitudes toward sexual behavior — traditional morality, the so-called "new morality, and amorality, or refusal to accept any standards."

Traditional morality, he said, proscribes any premarital sexual activity.

He said there are no such guidelines for the "new morality."

SOUNDS GOOD

"Let us assume a principle," he said. "Premarital sexual relations are undesirable for those who are immature or cannot take responsibility for a possible child, but those who are mature and responsible, they are enriching and ennobling."

"See how nice that sounds?"

"Immediately, the couple considering such relations must classify themselves," he said. "It is easy to guess what the decision will be."

He added, "When tragedy ensues, as it occasionally does, who can wonder that they are confused about society's inconsistent attitudes toward them."

Need for Hang Tags With Complete Laundering Information, Say Store Executives

By MARGARET BROWN
Ever buy a dress with a tag that reads:

"This fabric is fast color and guaranteed washable; however, due to fine styling we suggest it be dry cleaned." How does the perplexed homemaker treat such a garment?

Or, how about the tag which advises, "Remove any non-washable trimmings and wash by machine or hand, using no harsh detergents." Can one actually machine launder it? And which trimmings are "non-washable?"

EXPERT TALKS

Mrs. Mary Hardy, home economist with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, says, "A woman's number one concern is how to take care of a garment properly." She added, "What I would like to see are accurate and understandable woven tags, sewed into clothes; that way one always has washing instructions."

Currently, in an intensive crusade, American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association is aiming a campaign against garment hang tags that give homemakers inadequate or ambiguous laundering instructions.

The association contends that with today's impressive array of wonder fabrics and knit constructions, precise directions as to care are essential if consumers are to get full "performance" and to stay within the family clothing budget.

The AHLMA has appointed a Hand Tag Subcommittee whose members have been scrutinizing garment tags and contacting and offering assistance to manufacturers who do not provide adequate laundering information.

Locally, most apparel and fabric stores as yet have not been informed of the endeavor, but several offered comment regarding the tag improvement movement.

R. W. Davis, manager at Calico Corners, said, "Bolt on our fabrics all bear the tag specifying fiber content and finishes, as required by the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act of 1960. The tags indicate whether material is Scotchgard, vat-dyed, stabilized (pre-shrunk), etc., but say nothing about washability."

"However, our salespeople are trained to point out laundering possibilities with each sale. One has to remember that, though a fabric is washable, not everyone treats it carefully."

He mentioned a bride who bought 16 panels of 36-inch "washable" fabric and found they naturally changed drastically in length and color after she casually tossed them into her automatic washer for a full cycle.

George Lindorfer, owner of the Golden Thimble, finds material bolt tags often inadequate.

"I think most manufacturers are very remiss about laundering instructions. Many times we cut off a piece of material and launder it ourselves to check it for washability."

"I'm glad to hear there's an organized effort to do something about this. I personally have written to many manufacturers seeking more complete information on tags and labels."

Of the many local dress shops, three reported, little customer dissatisfaction with tag information.

GO UNREPORTED

Their comments, however, may suggest the possibility that garment-laundering disappointments often go unreported.

Cecile Dumbrigue, daughter of C. E. Dumbrigue, Loon Lake Shores, leaves Saturday for Viet Nam where she will serve with the American Red Cross.

Miss Dumbrigue served with the Peace Corps in Venezuela for 21-months, helping to establish programs for young women through the YMCA.

ported—further, that perhaps shoppers inadvertently are not too observant of hang tag instructions and need to be alerted.

Mrs. Helen Smith, an assistant manager at Arthur's said, "We really haven't had many complaints as to name tag inadequacies. We leave all tags on the garments, and most seem to be pretty clear as to laundry products to use, how to hang, wash and dry."

Manager of the Pontiac Mail's Bloomfield Fashion Shop Mrs. Irving Gillies: "Manufacturers' hang tags in the medium and better-priced dresses have seemed adequate. But, I think often customers pay little or no attention to them."

"We think it's wise for women to have a little card file with garment tag instructions, perhaps keeping record according to seasons. Each family member's special clothing care could be listed under their initials, and the cards could be filed by description of the garment."

Don Wheatley, division manager at Alvin's, added, "We've found that many complaints about laundering results stem from the consumer's lack of education regarding washability of certain materials. Assuming, for example, that 'Acetate' means washable. Not all acetate knits are washable."

Wheatley's remarks remind us that the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service also encourages the public to inquire more about fabric identification—learning to distinguish between trade names, such as Acrilan and Orlon, and generic of family names:

Mrs. Richard Warner of Gateway Drive (left), assisted by saleswoman Mrs. Lester Dawson, Douglas Drive, checks a spring skirt's laundering instructions hang tag while shopping at Bloomfield Fashion Shop. Mrs. Warner is remembering the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association's crusade urging homemakers to inspect garment hang tags more carefully for adequacy of washing instructions.

MSU Bulletin Office, P. O. Box 231, East Lansing, Mich. Area homemakers are urged to help the AHLMA in the hang tag effort. Finding an inaccurate or incomplete hang tag, they may send it, along with a note of explanation to: AHLMA Hang Tag Crusade, the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association, 30 N. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill., 60606.

AHLMA will check the tag. If it appears faulty, the appropriate garment or fabric maker will be contacted.

Care of Plant

DEAR POLLY — I have a bird-paradise plant and do not know how to take care of it. I do not know how much sun, fertilizer or water it requires. No one seems able to tell me the things I should know but I feel sure some of the readers will help me. — CLEO

DEAR POLLY — When our daughter broke her arm a good neighbor gave her a most useful gift. This was a board six inches wide and the length of the board was the width of our bathtub.

Two corks were attached to the underneath side of each end and, when she bathed, this board was put across the tub so she was able to lay her heavy arm in the cast down instead of holding it up. The small corks kept the board from sliding or scratching the tub. — MRS. W. S.

DEAR POLLY — When we mail birthday or Christmas gifts to out-of-town relatives who are children younger than ours, we use our child's good outgoing clothing as packing instead of confetti or crumpled paper.

In this way we get the most benefit from the cost of the postage and the other children get the use of the clothing. — MRS. R.C.

DEAR POLLY — Did you know that if you have a black and white picture made in a studio (not a glossy snapshot) that you would like to have tinted and cannot afford, you can color it with colored pencils?

These wooden colored pencils may be purchased at the dime store and they give beautiful results. If you get the colors too dark just rub a soft cloth over it and the colors lighten or can be completely removed by erasing.

Do not wet these pencils, apply them dry. Do remember this is not to be used on glossy snapshots. — ALICE

DEAR READERS — Do be careful and not use too heavy a hand with those colors. Alice certainly did a beautiful job on the photograph she sent me; her handsome son was a good subject. — POLLY

DELAYED PROTEST—While some groups protest the Viet Nam war, the nuclear bomb and traffic conditions, the Procrustators Club of America yesterday demonstrated in

Bitter California Governor Race Looms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — old administration of "shoddy machine politics." The promise of a bitter fight for the party's governorship nomination punctured Democratic plans for a peaceful primary today and cheered Republicans seeking political control of the nation's most populous state.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, seeking a third term, replied angrily to the challenge of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, who said Wednesday he will try to take the nomination away from Brown.

"I think he's in the wrong party's primary, but I accept the challenge," Brown told 2,500 Democrats Wednesday night at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco.

Yorty, a maverick Democrat who supported Republican Richard M. Nixon for president in 1960, accused Brown's 7-year-

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer and the third candidate in the GOP race, said "It is good to see that the Democrats have not swallowed... Brown's hogwash."

The governor said at the campaign dinner, saying "I warn Mr. Yorty right now that he will have to explain his record of attacks on Democrats like John F. Kennedy and his failure as mayor of Los Angeles."

"He is going to have to explain his failure to do anything meaningful about rising crime, smog, traffic, rapid transit and a host of other social problems," said Brown. "They were all there when he took office in 1961. They are still there."

"Now, the candidate wants to transfer his failures to Sacramento." In 1960 Yorty headed a slate of national Democratic convention delegates opposed to a Brown favorite-son group. Brown won overwhelmingly, but Yorty polled more than 600,000 votes.

"Duty to Country" has been a Girl Scout Ethic and a part of the Girl Scout Promise since March 12, 1912, when Juliette Gordon Low organized the first troop of 13 girls in an organization that today numbers more than three and a half million members. Girl Scout Week is a time for Girl Scouts everywhere to re-examine the ways they can demonstrate good citizenship, and to remember that, for 22 million others over a 14 year span, Girl Scoutings' high ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service have been as much as the state of liberty itself.

'Someone Who Cares' Gives Potential Dropout a Chance

BY LESLIE J. NASON, E.D.

More than anything else, the potential dropout needs a friend. More often than not when the troubled student finds someone who "cares" and who is eager for him to succeed, he will make the added effort necessary to solve his own problem.

A Long Beach, Calif., youth project is operated by 40 women volunteers, none of whom works for pay. Each volunteer works with one student who is thought to be a potential dropout.

They get much closer to the students than the school counselor who often has to deal with as many as 200 students.

The volunteers have been successful in 85 per cent of the cases in keeping students in school as increased effort on their studies.

IMPORTANT ROLE

Assistance with out-of-school problems of the student has proved as important as tutoring or in-school help.

The big brother or sister programs of some fraternities and sororities provide the same individual morale building. They help direct the student's energies to the solution of his problems.

Every individual needs to feel that someone is interested in him and his problems. It is as true of the high IQ student as it is of all the rest.

A program of faculty sponsors for individual gifted students in a large high school produced positive results. As soon as a student was identified as one with superior ability, a faculty member volunteered to give him individual attention.

The number of gifted who were not getting results was reduced and, at the same time, the number of gifted with appropriate high goals was increased.

The common key to the success of these programs was the personal touch. To help a student, one must first have his confidence.

Students, particularly under-achievers, keep their shortcomings as personal secrets. Often when these students are convinced that a person is interested in helping them solve their individual problems, they will

N. Viet Blockade Talk Quieted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he does not believe President Johnson is giving consideration at this time to proposals to blockade North Viet Nam ports.

Mansfield said in an interview he thinks any action to mine the harbor of Haiphong, bomb the docks there or intercept supply ships would bring a confrontation with the Soviet Union that might drive the Soviets and the Chinese Communists closer together.

He gave his views as a feeling of uneasiness spread among some senators that Johnson may be considering fresh action to diminish military supplies reaching the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that this feeling is based on a statement by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor that he is inclined to believe the time has been reached to mine the Haiphong harbor from the air to cut off shipping.

PERSONAL VIEW

Taylor, a part-time presidential adviser, said he was giving only his personal opinion. But Mundt said he doubts the general would have made such a statement without at least tacit White House approval.

This and other Viet Nam war questions were likely to be raised in a Senate debate on a $415 million foreign aid authorization, including $275 million in emergency funds for South Viet Nam.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, turned over management of the measure to Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala.

Fulbright, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he lacked enthusiasm for the bill.

The committee, in recommending approval of the measure Wednesday, said it has doubts expenditures in South Viet Nam will provide a better life for the people there.

"HOLDING ACTION"

"Until the military situation improves," the committee said, "our aid program is likely to be little more than a holding operation keeping the wolves of rampant inflation away from the door and providing relief where needed."

The committee hopes that the officials of the South Vietnamese government will vigorously pursue a program of economic and social reforms as pledged in the declaration of Honolulu. This committee will remain skeptical until words are matched with deeds.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said in a supplemental statement the committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policy produced evidence the reasons for the "present size and scope of United States involvement in Southeast Asia are subject to question" and raise the danger of the war becoming "open-ended."

Clark and Church announced they would vote for the bill but agreed with Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., that this would not reflect "a ratification" of the conduct of the war or indicate any future commitment. The bill already has passed the House.

HAULT SUPPLIES

Mundt said he expects that in time there will be action to halt the shipping of supplies to North Viet Nam.

"I think the time is going to come when we will have to act to cut off the supplies that are going into Haiphong," Mundt said. "There are several ways it can be done and I would not be surprised if some action is taken soon."

Mansfield said, however, that Taylor was speaking on his own and not in his capacity as a former ambassador to Saigon or a presidential adviser.

"I feel that the President is not giving any serious consideration to any such move at this time," he said.

CITE REDUCTION

The Democratic leader said that State and Defense Department studies indicate that allied and neutral shipping to North Viet Nam has been reduced drastically.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he was voicing only his own idea when he proposed in a speech to the Veterans of Foreign Wars the institution of a quarantine against Haiphong. He said he hadn't consulted Taylor or the White House about it.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he couldn't agree with Dirksen's proposal. He said he feels that increased diplomatic pressure should be brought on U.S. allies and neutrals to keep their ships out of the harbor. "After all," he said, "when the late President Kennedy quarantined Cuba, he was acting in defense of our own coastline. We don't have a similar situation in Viet Nam."

The administration won some tests Wednesday.

The President's supporters beat back 47 to 37 a proposal of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to provide for deductions of up to $25 for annual college education expenses. It would have cost about $1 billion a year starting in 1968.

Rejected on a voice vote was an attempt by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to kill the increase from 6 to 7 per cent in the auto tax.

The Senate added a number of provisions to the House bill, including a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to deny tax deductions for advertising payments to political publications or for dinner tickets and programs for political benefits.

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's population, now estimated at 8,210,000, is expected to be between 9.9 million and 10.9 million by 1985, the U.S. Census Bureau predicts. The precise figure will depend on fertility rates and interstate migration, the bureau noted.

$1 Billion Chopped In Senate

Cuts in War Fund Bill Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration sought today to persuade Senate House conferees to drop two Senate amendments that took a $1 billion chunk out of a $6 billion tax bill designed to help finance the Viet Nam war.

Chances for dropping the two provisions appeared good as the conferees try to compromise Senate and House versions and meet President Johnson's March 15 deadline for final congressional action on the measure.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen told a reporter he had been advised the House conferees would stand firm against the two amendments.

One would provide Social Security coverage for 1.8 million persons over 70 not covered now. The other would confine reinstatement of the 10 per cent excise tax on phone calls to long distance calls while keeping it at 3 per cent for local residential calls.

KEY PROVISIONS

Major provisions in the bill are reimposition of taxes on phone calls and car sales that were cut Jan. 1, a graduated withholding system for collection of personal income taxes and a speedup in payment of corporation taxes.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, DU Minn., predicted the Senate conferees would abandon the two amendments "before they get to the roundtable." The Senate conferees pass through the roundtable in the center of the Capitol on the way to meet the House group.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged that the President had sent up a "picaresque bill" not geared to meet the government's needs in the war crisis.

In the light of this, the administration could have expected an "irresponsible" performance" from the Senate and that is what it got, he said.

As the bill cleared the Senate Wednesday by a 79-9 vote, it would provide a net of less than $5 billion.

The Social Security amendment by Sen. Winston L. Proudy, R-Vt., adopted 45 to 40 Tuesday, would cost an estimated $750 million.

And the proposal by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., to knock out of the bill the increase in the excise on local residential telephone service would wipe out $15 million of the bill's revenue.

The Senate became so confused Wednesday in voting on Hartke's proposal that it adopted the amendments by a vote of 66 to 42 in a form which usually repealed the entire excise levy on residential service.

But Hartke said this was a mistake. He finally got consent to change it to carry out his original intention of leaving the residential phone tax at 3 per cent.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged that the President had sent up a "picaresque bill" not geared to meet the government's needs in the war crisis.

King Critical of Progress in the North

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. said Wednesday he felt some Northern cities were not working fast enough to prevent Negro ghettos from exploding into violence.

"I think almost any major Northern city can explode if measures are not taken to remove the conditions which led to the seething desperation that brought Watts into being," he said.

The Rev. Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Council and now leading civil rights action in Chicago, spoke to about 2,000 persons at Michigan State University.

He called the Watts riots in Los Angeles a case of Negroes "hurting themselves to hurt others in a desperate search for justice."

SUGGESTS LEGISLATION

Negroes must obtain economic security, he added. He suggested legislation raising the minimum wage, extending it to cover all workers, creating massive public works and training programs and providing a guaranteed annual income.

Among cities possibly in danger of explosive violence, he mentioned New York, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

Rev. King won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964 for his leadership of nonviolent civil rights demonstrations in the South.

He said he expected nonviolent protests would be effective in the North, too.

ORGANIZING DRIVES

And, he told a news conference, they would be backed by door-to-door campaigns to organize Negroes living in slum areas into units that could bargain collectively to improve their conditions.

The Rev. Dr. King also warned that disintegration of Negro family life could negate civil rights progress.

"Family life is not only educational in general, but its quality ultimately determines an individual's capacity to love," he said.

The danger, he added, is Negro family problems "will be attributed to innate Negro weaknesses and used to rationalize oppression."

The divorce and illegitimacy rates among Negroes are higher than among whites, he said, and 56 per cent of Negro children are at some point recipient of public aid.

Suspect With Knife May Have a Point

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man police allegedly found carrying a knife in one of Pittsburgh's higher crime districts said Wednesday at his hearing: "I'd rather be caught by police with a knife than be caught up here without one."

Julian Broughton, 32, of Pittsburgh was ordered to County Jail by a magistrate pending grand jury action on a charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Animal Tests Controversial

High School Biology
Project Basis for Suit

By Science Service
NEWARK, N.J. — The old question of man's right to use animals for scientific research has risen again.

This time controversy centers around a high school biology experiment. But so basic are the questions of law and morality that the trial under way here in the Essex County Court House has implications reaching into scientific laboratories across the nation.

Three years ago a high school student, John Barry Fugere, now a premedical student, won approval from his school for a project in which he injected a Rous cancer virus into four chickens. Two of the chickens developed cancer and died within months.

Subsequently the New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) filed suit against the East Orange Board of Education for allowing "unnecessary cruelty" to chickens.

The trial raises a basic issue: Can the use of animals for a worthy purpose ever be termed "cruel?" If it can, then virtually all experimentation on living creatures leading to new knowledge of disease and the life processes is suspect.

CODEPENDENT

Fearing this, the National Society for Medical Research offered itself as a codependent in the Essex case. Also the New Jersey Science Teachers Association joined battle for the defendants.

At this point the SPCA is not challenging all live animal experimentation. Rather it is charging that the school board acted illegally under a New Jersey anticruelty law.

Specifically exempt from this law are institutions such as universities, colleges and medical societies conducting research authorized by the State Department of Health.

The SPCA believes that any pain given animals for any reason by any group other than those listed in the statutes is unnecessary and cruel. In this case that means high school biology classes.

BEEN DONE FOR YEARS

Despite the statute, scientists, physicians, and commercial groups among others in New Jersey have done live animal research for years.

Moreover, those institutions which could have been authorized did not bother to apply. And the State Health Department people did not feel it their responsibility to prohibit the research.

As for biology experiments in public schools, that has always been considered a matter for the Department of Education, not health. Dr. Oscar Sussman, director of the division of Veterinary Public Health said at the trial.

Dr. Sussman said in his opinion animal cruelty depends on human intent.

DEPENDS ON INTENT

If the intent is a good one, it cannot be cruel, though from an animal's point of view it may be uncomfortable.

Thousands of dogs are killed in pounds because they have no homes. Many could have been used to a valuable end in scientific research, Dr. Sussman said. This is cruel killing. "Any animal killed in a pound or shelter is cruelly killed if unnecessarily killed," he said.

Industrial Zone OK'd in Avon

The Avon Township Board last night approved the rezoning of 46.6 acres of land between Hamlin and Avon roads from general farm to light industrial.

The controversial request of R & C Robertson, Inc., was granted after the board spent more than two hours listening to the protests of some 100 home owners who will be affected by the rezoning.

By approving the request, the board followed the recommendations of the Regional Planning Commission, the Township Zoning Board and the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee.

Objections voiced by residents last night were basically those expressed in a public hearing before the Township Zoning Board in January.

They claimed their property would be devaluated and cited the danger to children because of the increased traffic.

WANTED EXPLANATION

Most of the residents protesting the change sought an explanation of the choice of location.

They said they don't object to industry in the township but they don't want it in their back yards. They claimed there are other parts of the township better suited for industrial zoning.

"The township needs industry," said one man, "but if you misplace it you make a mistake we'll have to live with all our lives."

Another claimed it is spot zoning.

FUTURE FEARED

Mrs. John W. Chastain, 1921 Livorno, noted that once the area is rezoned, any type of industry can be put in. The developers have stated that light industry similar to Holley Computer in Rochester will be built.

"This just isn't so," said Mrs. Chastain. "And it doesn't seem feasible that the board would consider rezoning this in the face of so many objections."

Trustee Donald J. Campbell told the home owners that "whether we like it or not, Avon Township is being urbanized. We don't have any choice."

"Surveys show that our population will be at the very least doubled," he said, "and all we can do is control this growth."

BUILDING BOOM

"When water and sewers go in we will have a boom in residential building and we have to have industry to balance it out."

He explained that in the master plan, 25 per cent of the area is zoned for industry because the trend is toward single story buildings with large parking areas, all of which require a lot of land.

"You are not going to get the noisy factories and tall smokestacks," he said.

In the master plan, the area in question is part of an industrial corridor.

Mike Pareto of 982 W. Hamlin questioned the validity of the master plan saying it has never been questioned professionally.

"This isn't the best use this land could be put to," he said.

There is a possibility of court action as the result of the board's decision.

Ray Gline of Roseville, an attorney for the Livorno-Livorno Home Owners Association said he has the approval of the group to take the matter to court if necessary.

The board action has the support of the League of Women Voters. In a letter to the board, the League said that the master plan shows good practices of zoning and urged the board to accept the recommendations of the planning groups.

Cattle Face Lousy Spring

MIDLAND (UPI) — The nation's cattle are faced with a lousy spring, Dow Chemical Corp. predicted today.

The company said reports of a population explosion in the ranks of cattle lice are coming in from all sections of the country except the Southeast.

It said farmers would suffer profit losses unless steps were taken to rid their stock of the bug.

As a guide, it suggested farmers watch their cattle for telltale signs such as "lack of interest and general discomfort."

Firemen managed to keep the fire from spreading to the house and garage which Rogers said were about 30 feet from the barn.

No estimate of the loss has been made.

LAKE ORION — An Oakland County health officer will show a film at the 8 p.m. meeting Monday of the Proper School PTA.

U.S. Aid to 8 Districts Totals $360,365

Eight area school districts have received a total of $360,365 in federal funds since the beginning of the academic year.

Districts now using funds provided under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 include Brandon, Clarenceville, Clarkson, Farmington, Lake Orion, Rochester, Troy and Walled Lake.

Nearly $18 million in federal education funds have been allocated to Michigan school districts since the start of school last fall.

Thomas J. Brennan, president of the State Board of Education, said Michigan is one of the first states in the nation to pass the halfway mark in distribution of its federal funds.

OEO Okays School Plan for Deprived

A $125,476 education program aimed at encouraging 90 deprived high school pupils to pursue higher education was authorized yesterday by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Termed Upward Bound the year-long program is slated to begin in July. A federal grant for 90 per cent of the total cost is pending.

Oakland University will develop a program for 60 of the 90.

The participants in the OU program, 35 Negroes and 25 white, will be drawn from the Pontiac, Oak Park, Ferndale and Hazel Park school districts. Total cost will be $86,146.

Cranbrook will develop a program for another 30 pupils from other county school systems at a cost of $39,330.

General purpose of the program is to provide counseling and training for young people with normal intelligence but of disadvantaged backgrounds to raise their sights and desires for post-high school education.

All those selected for the program will have completed the 10th grade.

In one indictment, Margulies is accused of paying Woodward and three other trustees $1,800 in return for their votes to sell him certain lots on property formerly used for temporary housing.

The others named, but not indicted, are Frank Miles, treasurer, and two former trustees, W. C. Chambliss and Ernest Wilson.

ALLEGED OCCURRENCE

The bribe is alleged to have occurred between September 1961 and May 10, 1962.

The second indictment charges Woodward with accepting part of a $300 bribe from Margulies between March and November 1962 for his vote to sell three lots in the Wyoming Park Subdivision.

Miles and Chambliss again were named in the order for the warrant against Woodward but were not indicted.

ON MARCH 2

On March 2 Woodward, Township Supervisor Edward Kennedy, Miles, and two former trustees, Marshall Taylor and Chambliss, were indicted on two separate charges of bribery totaling $4,200.

Also indicted at that time was Elton Mickels, Inkster's urban renewal director.

School Board to Spend $450 for Recruitment

TROY — The board of education plans to spend $450 to convince prospective employees that Troy is a good place to teach.

Say Oxford Officials

'Old Home a Heap of Trouble'

By JANICE KLOUSER

OXFORD — The plumbing is bad, the wiring is bad, there's no insulation and it would cost at least $20,000 to refurbish it, Oxford village officials think these are good enough reasons to forsake the old white frame house that is serving as a village hall in favor of a new building.

They are hoping that village voters will agree with them Monday when they are asked to approve a $60,000 bond issue to pay for construction and furnishing of a new building.

The new hall would be part of a $191,000 civic center complex which would also house the township offices and the library.

The old house in which the village hall is located was purchased in 1959 for $13,350. It is a flagrant violator of the building code, according to Village Manager Robert Smalley.

There is only one lavatory, the wiring is exposed, it's cold in the winter and hot in the summer and facilities in the police station in the back part of the house are sadly inadequate, he said.

The police station has no detention cell so an officer must take off about two hours to take a prisoner to the sheriff's department in Pontiac.

"Our 'prisoners' are mostly amiable drunks," said Smalley, "but it takes valuable time to take them to Pontiac."

The new police station, which would be part of the village building, would have a detention cell to accommodate two persons, a squad room and an office for the chief. It would constitute one-third of the building.

BUILDING SPACE

The governmental unit would include counter space, offices for the manager and council which could be partitioned off if necessary and a partial basement for storage and emergency power units.

The basement could also be used for civil defense emergencies.

Included in the cost of a new building is the demolishing of the present house, landscaping, interest and architectural fees.

The cost is figured on the basis of one contractor working on the three units.

If the proposal is turned down and the offices built at a later date, an additional $6,000 would be added to the cost according to the architects.

TAX INCREASE

Smalley figures the tax increase for the bond issue would be about 1.5 mills. He said this would cost the taxpayer about two cents a day or $6 per year for the average family.

The early American architecture of the civic center is designed to blend in with the theme being adopted by many of the downtown stores.

Cost of the library, also planned for the center, has been estimated at $81,000 while the township's section of the complex is expected to cost around $50,000.

The library will get a $27,300 grant from the federal government. This plus donations and

Oxford Village Hall—Voters Will Determine Its Fate

Barn Fire Kills Cattle, Hogs in Metamora

METAMORA — Twenty-eight head of cattle and 21 hogs died in a fire last night which destroyed a barn owned by Melvin Moore of 583 Brauer.

Also lost in the fire, which most believe was started by defective wiring, were 3,000 pounds of hay and some farm equipment.

Firemen from Hadley, Metamora, Brandon and Oxford township departments fought the blaze from 2 to 5 a.m.

Oxford Assistant Fire Chief Claude Rogers said they rescued about 100 chickens, two head of cattle and six hogs.

"We tried to get the rest of the animals," he said, "but the heat was so intense they wouldn't come out. We had to stand and watch them drop like flies."

Firemen managed to keep the fire from spreading to the house and garage which Rogers said were about 30 feet from the barn.

No estimate of the loss has been made.

PTA at Proper School to Start Fluoride Drive

LAKE ORION — An Oakland County health officer will show a film at the 8 p.m. meeting Monday of the Proper School PTA.

The film, entitled "Target for Tooth Decay," will kick off the PTA's fluoride campaign. New officers for 1966-67 will also be elected.

Since School Year Start

U.S. Aid to 8 Districts Totals $360,365

Eight area school districts have received a total of $360,365 in federal funds since the beginning of the academic year.

Districts now using funds provided under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 include Brandon, Clarenceville, Clarkson, Farmington, Lake Orion, Rochester, Troy and Walled Lake.

Nearly $18 million in federal education funds have been allocated to Michigan school districts since the start of school last fall.

Thomas J. Brennan, president of the State Board of Education, said Michigan is one of the first states in the nation to pass the halfway mark in distribution of its federal funds.

Congress appropriated nearly $1 billion to improve educational services for disadvantaged children under a formula based

County Probe Issues 2 More Indictments

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Two indictments, both involving a township trustee and a Detroit contractor, were issued this morning by Oakland County grand juror Circuit Judge Philip Frank.

Taken into custody by grand jury investigators were trustee Samuel Woodward and Morris Margulies, an officer of the American Custom Homes, Inc.

They were to be arraigned

Ulica Councilman to Resign April 1

UTICA — City Councilman Herbert Rhodes plans to resign from his position as of April 1.

He told the council he is resigning because of a lack of time to contribute to council business and because of health reasons.

Rhodes is now serving his ninth year on the council.

Pupils, Parents to See State History Films

ROCHESTER — Fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils will accompany their parents to the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Meadow Brook PTA to view two films on the history of Michigan.

The first film "When Michigan Was Young" covers the age of glaciers through the land rush of the 1900s. The second is "Michi-gan-a" showing Michigan during the growing years of the 19th century.

Troy, $19,544; Clarenceville, $17,875; and Brandon, $10,249.

Walled Lake has received $77,460 for enrichment and remedial programs.

Other programs and amounts are Clarkson, supplemental reading, $41,948; Lake Orion, $39,564; and Rochester, reading, $39,800.

the sale of the present building of Mechanic Street will meet the $81,000 cost.

PAY EXPENSES

A 1-mill tax voted last year will pay the operating expenses.

The township now has about $30,000 in a building fund, according to Supervisor Lee Valentine. Permission to raise an additional $20,000 will be asked at a township meeting tomorrow.

Valentine says the additional funds can be acquired without a bond issue or a raise in taxes. He said he will explain his plan at tomorrow's meeting.

The township offices are now housed next door to the village office in a 90-year-old house which in the past has served as residence, a restaurant and a Lutheran Church.

The civic center, to be built on the site of the present offices, was designed by Harry M. Denyes Jr. Associates, Inc., and Bruce Lafer, Pontiac architect. This plus donations and

Art of Gadget Repair Is Dad's Undoing

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — There comes a time in the life of every parent when his children cease to regard him as infallible.

This blackest hour of fatherhood is often connected with broken toys. * * *

When the children are young the toys tend to be simple. Even a man who is ham-handed can replace a wheel on a tricycle. His children regard him as a mechanical genius.

"As matters stand, yes." "Daddy, is there going to be any more snow this winter?" "I'm not in a position to know. The weather depends on a number of factors."

Then all of a sudden they're playing with things like electric motor raceways and a father's troubles begin.

RATHER SPECIALIZED
Surveying with disgust the parts of a nonworking racer after his father's unavailing efforts over the weekend, the 10-year-old said:

"Daddy, I don't think you understand electricity."

"It's a rather specialized field, Jeffrey. This car will have to go back to the shop for servicing."

"When Michael's Ferrari quit running, his father fixed it."

NOT SURPRISING
"Michael's father makes his living as an electronics expert. It is not surprising that he could fix Michael's Ferrari."

"Daddy, can you fly an airplane?" asked the 9-year-old.

"No, Nicky, flying airplanes is not among my accomplishments."

"David's uncle can. He owns his own airplane. He took David to Miami."

NOT RICH ENOUGH
"We aren't wealthy enough to own an airplane. Besides, I can't stand the heat in Miami."

"Daddy, why did you call a mechanic when the car wouldn't start yesterday? Roland's father always fixes their car himself."

"Roland's father is a qualified mechanic. He works in a garage. If I worked in a garage, I could fix our car, too."

"Daddy, could you change a tire?"

KEEP FORGETTING
"I could if we had a jack. I keep forgetting to buy one."

"If we have a flat tire, will you have to call a mechanic?"

"Teresa's father knows when it is going to snow. The last time it snowed he told her the night before."

"Teresa's father is a meteorologist. It is his business to know when it is going to snow."

"Daddy, why did you call Mr. Tallman when the water pump froze? Marcia's father thawed theirs out with a little bonfire."

OWNS BLOWTORCH
"Mr. Tallman happens to be familiar with water pumps of this type. Also he owns a blow torch, which is lots better than a bonfire."

"All right, daddy. Will you help us with our arithmetic?"

"It's the binary system again, isn't it? I'm sorry, but they didn't teach that when I was in school."

"Daddy, are you awfully old?"

"I wasn't when I woke up this morning, but I just aged 10 years."

Think Green and Irish for St. Patrick's Day

Fondue Press Food Editor
Your name doesn't have to be Murphy or Kelly in order to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. You can just welcome the opportunity to plan a meal around traditional Irish foods — or to color the menu green. But, please, not everything is green; no family can face that.

Irish Soda Bread is true Irish food. As one food editor commented, "It resembles an over-blown drop biscuit." Serve with a "dish" of tea.

County Cork Soda Bread
4 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 1/2 cups buttermilk
1/4 cup cooking oil
Resist flour with baking powder, salt and soda. Add raisins and caraway. Add buttermilk and oil. Mix just enough to moisten dry ingredients.

Shape dough into two mounds on greased baking sheet. Cut deep cross in top of each loaf with sharp knife. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Makes two loaves.

Chicken is a favorite food in Ireland. Prepare it with a flavorful Parsley Lemon Sauce and serve it with some unusual baked potatoes.

SHAMROCK CHICKEN
2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in serving pieces
3 cups water
1 onion, sliced
4 celery tops
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons MSG
2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon peppercorns
Put chicken in a kettle; add remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil; cover tightly. Reduce heat and simmer 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until chicken is tender. Remove from heat; stain broth.

Place chicken on a serving platter; keep warm while preparing Parsley Lemon Sauce. Yield: 8 servings.

Parsley Lemon Sauce
1/4 cup butter or chicken fat
1/4 cup flour
3 cups chicken stock
3 egg yolks
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup finely chopped parsley
Melt butter in a saucepan; blend in flour. Gradually add stock and cool, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Beat together egg yolks and lemon juice. Add to stock, stirring rapidly. Cook until mixture returns to a boil. Remove from heat; stir in parsley.

Spoon part of the sauce over chicken; serve remaining sauce separately.

Baked Potatoes Colcannon
8 medium baking potatoes
1/2 cup milk
8 whole scallions, finely chopped
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon MSG
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups hot cooked chopped cabbage
Select potatoes of uniform size so that they will all bake evenly. Scrub potatoes well; dry. Bake in a 450 degree oven 45 minutes to one hour, or until tender when tested with a fork. Cut slices from top of each. Scoop out centers, taking care not to break skin. Mash potatoes, or put through ricer.

Put milk and scallions into a large saucepan. Simmer until scallions are tender. Add butter, mashed potatoes and remaining ingredients. Cook over medium heat, beating constantly, until mixture is fluffy and heated through.

Spoon into potato shells. Serve immediately or, if desired, brush with melted butter and place under broiler until lightly browned. Yield: 8 servings.

For dessert or for an evening party, make a pale green creamy frozen mousse that's of pan. Garnish with shaved, flavored with Creme de Menthe, sweet chocolate.

Creme de Menthe Mousse
5 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
6-8 tablespoons green Creme de Menthe
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup water
1 1/2 cups heavy cream, whipped
Beat egg yolks and sugar over hot water until thick. Beat in creme de menthe. Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve over hot water. Beat into green mixture. Cool until mixture thickens and will mound on a spoon.

Beat egg whites stiff and fold in. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into 2-quart shamrock mold and freeze solid.

At serving time, remove rim of pan. Garnish with shaved, sweet chocolate.

Writes Book for Single Cook

If you're a gal-on-the-go who suddenly finds yourself stranded in the kitchen, here's a cookbook designed just for you.

Delightfully written, "Saucers and the Single Girl" by Jinx Kragen and Judy Perry (Doubleday & Co., Inc., Garden City, New York, $3.95) is the ideal kitchen guide for the girl who wants to "make the leap from filing cabinet to flame."

It's a complete with imaginative ideas and kitchen hints for every occasion — from intimate dinners for two to gala bashers for the whole gang.

Ideal fare for a cocktail party is Hot Shrimp in Dill Sauce. These taste-tempting hors d'oeuvres are easy to make and yet show much more ingenuity than the usual potato chip or cheese cracker party snacks.

Hot Shrimp in Dill Sauce
2 pounds frozen shrimp, ready to cook
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon dill weed
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Thaw your little shrimp, and dry them. Melt butter in frying pan with salt, pepper and dill. Saute the shrimp in butter about 1 minute per side. Add lemon juice, cover, and cook for about 5 minutes. Serve hot to 8 to 10 people.

Slow Cooking Means Good Ragout Flavor

There's lots of good tomato sauce with these ragouts.

Oxtail Ragout

3 1/2 pounds disjointed oxtails
1/4 cup flour mixed with 1 teaspoon seasoning salt and 1/2 teaspoon onion
2 medium onions, peeled and quartered
4 small carrots, pared
1 celery top, minced
2 cans (each 8 ounces) tomato sauce with mushrooms
2 cups (or more) water
Cut excess fat away from oxtails and coat with flour mixture. In a large kettle, in a little of the melted oxtail fat, brown the meat in two batches.

Remove any fat in kettle. Add onions, carrots, celery top, tomato sauce and 2 cups water.

Cover and simmer until oxtail meat is fork-tender—about 3 hours. If sauce becomes very thick, add more water — 1/2 cup at a time.

Skim fat from top of sauce. Stir in 1/2 teaspoon salt adding more if necessary. Makes 6 to 8 hearty servings.

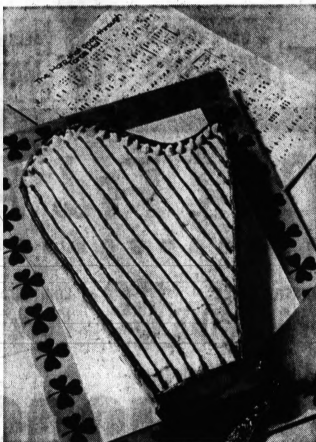

Beets, Sauerkraut Combine in Relish

Red Cabbage Relish
1 can (1 pound) sliced beets
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut
2 to 3 tablespoons light brown sugar

Drain beets, reserving 1/4 cup of the juice; chop beets fine. Into a saucepan turn the 1/4 cup beet juice, chopped beets, undrained sauerkraut and brown sugar. Mix well and let bubble gently until very hot and flavors blend — about 10 minutes.

With a slotted spoon, remove to serving dish. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

IRISH HARP CAKE — Prepare and bake a cake mix according to package directions, using 13x9x2-inch pan. Cool completely. Make harp shape by cutting curved piece from top of cake and long triangular piece from right side. To make frosting, melt one 6-ounce package (1 cup) butter-scotch flavored morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from water; stir in 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gradually beat in 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Cover cake with thin layer of frosting, then frost cake generously. Put additional butterscotch flavored morsels along top edge of harp to make tuning knobs. Outline frame of harp and make strings with green frosting from a tube.

Green Peas, Water Chestnuts Cooked in Chinese Style

The Orient is renowned for its subtle cookery, particularly its distinctive vegetable combinations! One of the questions often asked about Chinese crisp, tender vegetables is, "How do they do it?"

Baked peas, Chinese style, a delightful recipe that is adapted from Far Eastern cuisine, is a splendid example of how they do it... and there's nothing mysterious about it. Part of the charm lies in the suave combination of tastes and textures.

Baked Peas, Chinese Style
1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, partially defrosted and broken apart

1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts, drained
1 can (8 ounce) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
1 can (10-ounce) cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 cup chow mein noodles

Saute onion and mushrooms in butter or margarine until onion is soft. Add to peas, bean sprouts and water chestnuts. Blend together soup, milk, salt and pepper; pour over vegetable mixture and mix carefully.

Place in 1 1/2 quart shallow casserole. Edge casserole with chow mein noodles. Heat in moderate oven 350 degrees, 30 to 40 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Stir Frying Is Oriental Way to Prepare Lobster Tails

If the Chinese have a word for it we probably couldn't pronounce it anyway, so here this kind of cooking is called for what it is. Stir-frying. Everything is cooked together in a heavy skillet, with the cook stirring constantly.

Cooking time is short, so the stirring is not tedious. As a matter of fact, it is a Chinese custom should guests join a dinner to prepare more dishes instead of making a larger amount at one time. It is only a matter of minutes to stir-fry up another batch.

For American appetites it is well to stir up a substantial amount of this particular dish right from the start. Stir-fried South African rock lobster is that good.

The succulent pieces of white rock lobster meat make a perfect marriage with the vegetables, all cooking to the right degree of doneness at the same time. The thickening sauce is delicately aromatic and the fragrance of the dish is apt to bring the family into the kitchen to watch you stir.

Stir-Fried Lobster

IT'S STIR FRIED — Vegetables are crisp and the South African rock lobster meat is succulent when they are cooked together in oriental fashion by stir-frying. This pan is an authentic Chinese wok, but any heavy skillet will serve the same purpose.

Eggs Stretch Meat Dollar

Whether it's the "stike and aigs" of the Australian or the "bacon and ..." of America's eggs have always been a perfect companion to meat.

With slightly higher meat prices — don't cut out the meat! Stretch your meat dollar with economical eggs.

Scrambled eggs with shredded sausage or ham cooked in the eggs is one way of doing this. The meat should be pre-cooked since eggs take but a couple of minutes.

Another excellent way to stretch almost any kind of meat is with an omelet. Chop the cooked meat before making the omelet. Then as the omelet nears completion (less than 30 seconds in a hot omelet pan for a French Omelet) sprinkle on about half the meat.

As the omelet is poured out of the skillet and folded over on the plate, the balance of the meat is sprinkled on top of the golden brown omelet.

Two large eggs are a quarter of a pound. Preparing individual omelets takes only minutes — and they are more pleasing to the entire family.

A dozen eggs — weighing 1 1/2 pounds — makes a mighty fine meal for most any size family, and helps stretch the meat budget — for breakfast — lunch — dinner — any occasion.

Cook Cabbage Quartered for Sake of Odor

If you object to cooking cabbage, because of its well-known odor, remember, that it is only released when you cook cabbage too long.

Cabbage will cook in approximately 10-15 minutes if it's shredded.

Cooking cabbage is not difficult. Just remove the outer green wrapping leaves from the head and quarter or shred it. Cook the prepared vegetable in a small amount of boiling salt water.

One pound of cabbage will supply 4 to 5 half cup servings of the vegetable when cooked. If raw, one pound of cabbage will give you approximately 3 to 4 cups of shredded cabbage for slaw or other kinds of cabbage salads.

When buying cabbage, pick a head that's solid and fairly heavy for its size. Closely cropped heads, with only three to four wrapper leaves are the least wasteful.

LOW-CALORIED TREATS — Most vegetables are on weight watchers' menus because they are low in calories. To keep them that way, use low calorie French or Italian-style dressings as a sauce. Cook the vegetables as usual; warm the dressing with a bit of parsley or some garlic salt; pour over vegetables and serve.

Fresh Taste of Grapefruit in Salad

Florida Seacoast Salad is a colorful combination of fresh grapefruit sections, sea-food, shell macaroni and green beans. Makes you think of those sea-cooled stretches of beautiful beach just to look at it!

Any time is salad time, and this is one of the handiest salads you could serve for a simple, yet elegant ladies' luncheon.

Chilled rosy shrimp and lobster meat, frozen green beans, porcelain macaroni shells that look for all the world as though they'd just been retrieved from the seashore, and bright touches of pimiento and green pepper combine with crisp sliced celery and the zesty flavor of juicy Florida grapefruit sections.

The perfect, tasty dressing for this salad is Grapefruit Remoulade—made with mayonaisse, chili sauce, horseradish, chopped hard-cooked egg and frozen Florida grapefruit juice concentrate for pungent flavor.

FLORIDA SEACOAST SALAD

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup salad oil

1 can (6 ounces) frozen grapefruit juice concentrate, thawed and undiluted, divided

1 1/2 cups lobster meat
2 pounds raw shrimp, cooked and cleaned

2 cups cooked macaroni shells (1 cup raw)

1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans, cooked crisp tender

1 1/4 cups sliced celery
1/4 cup diced pimiento
1/4 cup diced green pepper (optional)

3 cups grapefruit sections, drained

Salad greens

GRAPEFRUIT REMOULADE DRESSING

1/2 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons frozen grapefruit juice concentrate (reserved from salad)

2 teaspoons horseradish
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
1/2 cup mayonaisse

Combine all ingredients. Yield: About 1 cup.

PINK, GREEN, WHITE — Florida Seacoast Salad is a colorful combination of fresh tart-sweet grapefruit sections, rosy shrimp and lobster meat, frozen green beans and cooked shell macaroni, topped with Grapefruit Remoulade Dressing.

Fisheries Dept. Offers Booklet

Fish for breakfast? "Why not?" asks the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Most people who have had breakfast of sizzling fish cooked over a campfire minutes after it was caught will agree they've never tasted anything better, the Bureau adds.

To carry on the fish-for-breakfast theme, the Bureau announced publication of a new recipe booklet to help home-makers perform their culinary magic with fish, and at the same time provide the family with a hearty morning meal.

The publication, "Top Of The Mornin' With Fish and Shellfish," is available for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. It is illustrated in color.

Bureau home economists developed and tested more than 20 new recipes and suggestions for serving fish and shellfish for breakfast or brunch. These include crispy fried rainbow trout, breakfast perch, lobster waffles, sesame smelt, shrimp toppings for a wonderful flavor in sour cream, and many others.

Use of Pecans Makes Foods More Interesting

Pecans are nutritious nuts. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, they are an excellent source of vitamins A, B, and G, as well as calcium, phosphorus, iron, protein and quality carbohydrates.

Try a chopped pecan-cream mixture spread generously between slices of fresh brown bread. Or feature chopped salad fare, by mixing chopped pecans and cottage cheese, then serving in a crispy lettuce cup.

Pecans and fruit always make a mighty tempting treat. For example, try sprinkling pecans atop peach or pear halves, apple wedges, pineapple rings or orange and grapefruit sections, and watch your family's faces light up.

To add the grand finale to every dish, try sprinkling chopped pecans as a topping. Mix chopped pecans into a vegetable or fruit salad for a tasty topping, or fold chopped pecans into whipped dessert waffles, sesame smelt, shrimp toppings for a wonderful flavor surprise.

NUTTY BUT NICE — Peanuts are the sophisticated snack, either "as is" or in an assortment of delectable dips, spreads and prepared tidbits. Here they add the "something crunchy" to cocktail fritters and a dip for shrimp.

Peanuts Have Their Place in Cocktail Delicacies

Peanuts are the sophisticated snack. Simply "as is," or in an astonishing assortment of dips, spreads and prepared tidbits, nothing beats peanuts for before-and-between-meal nibbling.

Peanuts add that "something crunchy" to dips and spreads.

A simple sour cream-catsup dip for shrimp assumes importance with the addition of chopped peanuts. Another favorite, cocktail fritters, takes on a new zest when peanuts are added.

Peanut Shrimp Dip and Peanut Cocktail Fritters are ideal accompaniments for any iced beverage. They're easy to make, and may be prepared in advance. The dip should be refrigerated in a covered container; the fritters kept warm in the oven.

Peanut Shrimp Dip

1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup finely chopped dry roasted peanuts
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish

Combine sour cream, catsup, chopped peanuts and sweet relish. Chill.

Serve as a dip for chilled cooked shrimp. Makes 1 1/4 cups dip, enough for about 3 pounds of shrimp.

Peanut Cocktail Fritters

1/2 cup boiling water

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Fresh beef brisket.

Q. Where does it come from? How identified?

A. It comes from the brisket (breast) section of beef, between the fore shank and the plate section and is usually boneless.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. Fresh beef brisket may be simmered in water or it may be braised, like a pot-roast. (Corned beef brisket is always simmered in water.) For cooking slowly, seasonings and vegetables, as for pot-roast may be added as desired.

Successful Businesswoman Guided by Bible Verse

By PATRICIA MURPHY
One of America's Leading Businesswomen
I can still see the little bouquet of daffodils, just as it sat on a battered table in a rented room on Henry Street in Brooklyn in the autumn of 1929.

What a time for a 17-year-old girl to arrive in New York! I'd come from the tiny fishing village in Newfoundland just as the Depression was getting under way.

My only income came from coloring picture-postcards by hand. It earned me enough to pay my rent, but there wasn't much left over for food. Breakfast many days consisted of a glass of water.

And still, more often than not, my room had a gay bunch of daffodils on the table.

I had been raised in a convent where the message preached day and night was: seek first the kingdom of God. I think this is what I was trying to do each time I bought flowers. For it involved a real choice: I had to make up my mind which I wanted more, lunch or daffodils, for they cost the same—25 cents—and I could not afford both.

By evening, of course, on the days when I chose daffodils, I was ravenous. I would walk down Henry Street to a basement restaurant where I knew food for practically nothing.

"Yes,"

Mr. Anthony just shook his head. "Well, I hope you've got a secret."

I did have a secret, and when I returned to my room and saw those yellow flowers laughing from the dingy table, I knew that the secret was a good one.

If by "choosing first" with my daffodils I had been able to dispel the tight, pinch-penny fears of the Depression, couldn't I do the same through my restaurant?

I made a careful round of all the shops in the neighborhood, checking food prices to see how

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS

But one evening when I arrived at Mr. Anthony's restaurant, the lights were out and the door locked.

By now I'd gotten to know the Anthony's personally. I was worried and began to pound on the door until at last it opened and Mr. Anthony's drawn face appeared.

"Oh, it's little Miss Murphy, I'm sorry. There's no supper tonight. We've gone out of business."

HELD DOOR WIDER
He held the door wider. "Have a cup of coffee, anyway, with some bread and butter."

So we went back to Mr. Anthony's kitchen while he told me the same awful depression tale I had now heard so often. He was closing down one step ahead of bankruptcy.

Mr. Anthony kept talking. But I wasn't hearing him. The thought that was racing through my head drowned out all others. All my schoolgirl years I'd had one ambition: to be hostess in a restaurant.

I blurted it out. "Do you think there'd be any chance at all of my taking over your business?"

STARED AT ME
Mr. Anthony stared at me, dumbfounded. "My young colleague," he said at last, "how much capital do you have?"

"Sixty dollars."

"Why, you'd need almost half that for a single week's rent."

"You're an 18-year-old girl from the country, you're living in the heart of the worst depression this country's ever seen; three times this year experienced businessmen have tried to operate this restaurant and failed. And you still want to try?"

"Yes."

Mr. Anthony just shook his head. "Well, I hope you've got a secret."

I did have a secret, and when I returned to my room and saw those yellow flowers laughing from the dingy table, I knew that the secret was a good one.

If by "choosing first" with my daffodils I had been able to dispel the tight, pinch-penny fears of the Depression, couldn't I do the same through my restaurant?

I made a careful round of all the shops in the neighborhood, checking food prices to see how much it cost a housewife to prepare a meal. I wanted to keep my charges close to her budget. But then I wanted to give her the one thing she probably didn't get at home that year: that "feel of plenty," that taste of God's own abundance.

RELISH TRAYS
I spent a long time plotting ways to bring about that feel on a tiny budget. Relish trays I could heap raw cauliflower wedges and celery curls on a tray — the heap was the important thing.

HOT POPOVERS
Piping hot popovers passed round again and again; flour was cheap and I loved to bake. Really fresh linen. Candles, everywhere there would be candles. And — of course — daffodils, least expensive and loveliest of flowers.

Just the other day I climbed into a plane at an airport near New York City and started flying south.

Below I could see one of my Opening day. I scurried from kitchen to pantry and back again, tasting, adding, fretting. My chef was a student from Columbia University; the waitress and busboys were students too.

As evening approached they circulated the neighborhood with a box of cookies in one hand and a sample menu in the other.

On the sidewalk above us we heard footsteps. People were coming! I started up the steps, then, halfway, knelt down and asked God's blessing on the restaurant. Then, with a smile that I hoped hid my stage fright, I opened the door.

IN BUSINESS 35 YEARS
Thirty-five years have passed since that night, and I have been in the restaurant business all that time.

Below I could see one of my restaurants, the Westchester Candlelight, set in a 10-acre park surrounded by gardens and greenhouses. Upwards of 10,000 people, I knew, would eat there on this one day alone.

In the plane I stopped to count up the number of meals we have served in those 35 years and the figure came to over 50 million!

I thought, as I often do when these figures startle me, that the principle we uncovered in the heart of the Depression has proved valid in prosperity, too.

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God," Christ said. Afterwards, He promised, a real abundance would follow.

Next — Bobby Ruessner, star of the Montreal Canadiens hockey team tells how faith helped him win his battle against self-doubt.

Auto Stereo Is Latest in Entertainment

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Just when you think that the entertainment industry has developed every possible medium along comes a new one.
This time it's stereo music in your car. No commercials, no screaming disc jockeys. Just stereophonic music to help you while away the miles on the highway.
The tape cartridge market is the talk of the recording business, and both record companies and car dealers are anxiously eyeing the millions that might be reaped from the new field.

Car stereo seems so simple that it is surprising that someone didn't develop it sooner. Speakers are spotted in various locations in the car. A player is located under the dashboard.
PLASTIC CARTRIDGE
All the driver has to do is turn on the machine and insert a plastic cartridge containing a continuous loop of tape. Instant stereo.

According to Billboard, which devoted a full issue to tape-cartridge recently, the new business started with the invention of George Eastman, a Los Angeles engineer. He began tinkering with a continuous-play tape in 1963 and four years later had developed a cartridge that contained 1,200 feet, or an hour of music.

Four years ago, Earl Muntz, the onetime Madman Muntz of used-car selling, started merchandising car installations and tape cartridges. The big push for the industry came last year when Ford offered as an optional feature in its 1966 cars a car stereo system developed jointly by RCA and Lear Jet Corp.
The innovation appears to have been a success. The best indication of that is the report that General Motors will offer stereo tape as an optional feature in its 1967 cars, and Chrysler is expected to follow suit.

THE COST
What does car stereo cost? If you were buying a new Thunderbird, you could get a player for $127.56. Installations can be made in your present car from $79.95 up. Cartridges cost from $2.95 for the cheaper pops to $4.98 for longhair music.

Some record executives are viewing the new field with hope tempered by caution.
"The tape cartridge business offers the threat of a boom," said Capitol's Alan Livingston.
HOME RECORDERS
"But I believe the system will not be a mass business unless tape cartridge systems are also introduced into the home."
Most home tape recorders don't handle cartridges.
Car stereo offers many possibilities. Actor Eddie Albert uses his to study lines for his "Green Acres" television show while driving to the studio. Others learn foreign languages while commuting. For the devout, Bible messages are available. Might prove helpful on the Los Angeles freeways.

Private Police Training Urged

Formal Instruction in Firearms Suggested

LANSING (AP) — Private security guards—who have been involved in two fatal shootings in recent months—must be trained in the proper use of firearms, Wayne County officials said Wednesday.

"There should be some sort of arms training for private security guards—say by a recognized gun club, so that when they are confronted by teen-agers at a drive-in, they will know how to handle themselves," said Joseph Costanzo, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor.

Costanzo, John Mazer, also an assistant prosecutor, Sgt. Forest Ford of the Detroit Police Department, and Norman Ellyson, owner of a private guard agency, testified before a House committee on a security guard control bill.

Mazer suggested after the meeting with the House State Affairs Committee that State Police might be able to set up standards or conduct formal instruction in firearms handling.

BILL SPONSOR
The bill, sponsored by Rep. Joyce Symons, D-Allen Park, was one of several introduced in the legislature following the fatal shooting last year of Dr. Wayne Glas, prominent Detroit surgeon.

Earlier this month, a boy was shot and killed at a Dearborn Heights drive-in.

A part-time guard at the restaurant last year was backed against a wall by four youths, that one of them struck him and that he shot the boy accidentally after firing a warning shot in the air.

Such guards are not licensed, the committee was told, unless it is required by local ordinance.

$5,000 BOND
The bill would require licensing of individual guards, backed by a $5,000 bond, and of security guard agencies, backed by $10,000 bonds.

It also requires the guard of the principal officer of the agency be a citizen of the United States, at least 25 years old, have a high school education or its equivalent. He must never have been convicted of a felony or high misdemeanor or dishonorably discharged from military service.

A "grandfather" clause would exempt those engaged in the business three years prior to the enactment of the bill or who meet other specifications.

play-their-year bids. Most nine spot. If that wins there is no further problem. If it loses, you go back to dummy and finesse the clubs once more. This play wins as long as West does not hold both club honors. If he does, the expert comes out looking like a dunce.

Once South bid four spades North was interested in a grand slam. Hence, his bids of five clubs and five hearts to show those two aces but South realized that he had reached his limit when he bid four spades.

West might have opened a heart in which case South would have to go down one trick but West made the apparently safe lead of the king of spades and South had a good play for his contract.

He needed to set up a third club trick for a discard of a heart.

The simple way to go about that would be to play king-ace and a third club. This would win against a 3-3 club break. It would also win if the play of the king dropped an honor from either hand.

The simple way is not the best or expert way here. The expert way is to lead the three of clubs from dummy after drawing trumps and finesse the

Uncle Sam May Receive Hard Knocks in British Election Campaign Starting Friday

LONDON (AP) — Uncle Sam may come in for some hard knocks in Britain's national election campaign which begins officially Friday.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson set the election for March 31 hoping to increase his Labor party's parliamentary majority substantially over its present three-vote margin.

There is a growing feeling of frustration among many British citizens who believe that Britain's policy is too closely aligned with Washington. Politicians of all three major parties have made clear they intend to exploit the issue.

THE POSITIONS

Their positions are roughly these:

- Left-wing Laborites strongly oppose Wilson's support of U.S. policy and action in Viet Nam. Some have charged that this was the price their party leader had to pay for American support of the pound sterling.
- The Liberals oppose British backing of American efforts to contain Red China. They say Britain's future lies in Europe, not "east of Suez."
- The Conservatives believe, in the words of party leader Edward Heath, that British dependence on the United States is "not the right relationship for allies." Here they want to strengthen the British economy so "we can stand on our own feet."

Before the Laborites came to power and even during the first days of Wilson's administration, there were fears in the United States that relations between the two countries would deteriorate.

But Wilson made close U.S.-British ties a cardinal policy and many observers believe relations between Washington and London have never been closer.

They also say it is a bad use of foreign currency and will place Britain further in debt to the United States. One leading Conservative recently told a group of newsmen privately that the United States appeared to be trying "to clamp Britain in (financial) chains."

Anti-Americanism — although the term may be too strong — erupted in the House of Commons Monday and Tuesday during a heated debate of the government's defense policy. Tories flared again Wednesday after an announcement that the state-operated British Overseas Airways Corp. is canceling an $84-million order for British-made airliners.

"The government has damaged the capability of the aircraft industry, reduced the strength of conventional forces, and are rendering the country, for a whole range of requirements, prisoners of the United States," charged Enoch Powell, who speaks for the Conservatives on defense matters, during the defense debate.

"Britain is now relying on the military strength of the United States, combined with that of former enemies, Germany and Japan, for protection against world communism," complained left-wing Laborite William Warbey.

Central to Meet Ferndale in Regional Final

Elimination Continues as PCH Ousts Cousino, 66-62

Chiefs Thwart Patriot Rally After Big Lead

Second-Period Surge Led by Soph Wilson Determining Factor

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The battle against league champions continues for Pontiac Central and the action in regional tournament play gets tougher as the process of elimination continues.

The Chiefs, who were co-champions of the Saginaw Valley Conference, ousted Tri-County champ Kettering in district play and last night in their opening regional game at Ferndale defeated Oakland-A-Champ Warren Cousino, 66-62.

The victory sets the stage for the regional final against Ferndale, Southeast Michigan loop champion, Friday night on the Eagles' home court.

A disastrous second period doomed the Patriots. After a nip and tuck first period which ended when Ed Pruitt fired a 25 footer at the buzzer to make it 18-18, the Chiefs tallied 17 in the second stanza to only four points for Cousino which went into the game with a 19-1 record.

Jessie Evans hit his first four shots and Willie Craft came through with three well-executed layups to pace the first period scoring for PCH, while Cousino held the lead twice at 15-12 and 18-16.

WILSON FIRES FAST

In the second quarter, the Chiefs started controlling the boards and sophomore Alton Wilson, replacing Craft, hit on five of his first six attempts to help push the margin to 27-19 and 35-22 at halftime.

Evans, with three fouls was taken out of 42:31 left in the period, but Cousino managed only one field goal in the quarter.

The Patriots' scoring star Paul Papak hit only one field goal in 13 tries in the first half, but when he finally found the range in the second he hit on eight of 13, including the last five buckets which threw a scare into the Chiefs.

Central pushed the margin to 15 points 37-22, 41-36 and 45-30 but then started faltering under the Cousino tight press and with 1:30 left in the period, the score was 45-39.

Evans sat out most of the stanza with his 4th foul and returned for the final quarter, which looked somewhat secure with 12 and 10 point margins with 3:40 left to play.

Central's attempt to control play in the final three minutes nearly faltered as Cousino took the ball away three times, with Papak hitting his last five buckets.

TIGHT PRESS

With 13 seconds left he pushed one from 15 feet to make it 64-64, and Evans in putting the ball in play, had 3,000 fans on their feet as Cousino blanketed all of the in-bound receivers.

Evans fired long downcourt, the ball just clearing the hands of a Cousino defender, the hands of Craft who dribbled in for the layup to clinch it.

Central hit 16 of 29 in the first half from the floor and managed 13 of 26 in the second half for a final shooting percentage of 54 per cent.

The game against Ferndale Friday night will start at 8 o'clock with the winner moving into the state quarter-finals against the Livonia Franklin regional winner at a site to be selected, possibly at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

TRIBAL POWWOW — Coach Fred Zittel holds a time-out powwow with the Pontiac Central Chiefs during their regional contest against Warren Cousino last night. PCH raced to a 15-point lead and then fought off a Cousino rally to win the game, 66-62, to earn the right to meet Ferndale Friday night in the regional finals.

Joins Lions' Staff

Schmidt to Coach

It's official, Joe Schmidt, veteran linebacker of the Detroit Lions, announced his retirement today.

Schmidt, however, also announced that he would join the Lions' coaching staff.

Head Coach Harry Gilmer said that Schmidt would assume the duties of linebacker coach.

It was also revealed today at the Detroit press conference that Dick "Night Train" Lane has been offered a front-office position with the club.

Lane's primary duties will be in the scouting and player-evaluation program of the team. A former All-Pro defensive back, Lane has been in the National Football League for 14 years.

Schmidt is the third assistant coach named by Gilmer for the 1966 season. Added recently were Sammy Baugh, to coach the quarterback and offensive backfield, and Lou Rykus, offensive line coach replacing Aldo Fort.

Schmidt will bolster the defensive staff which also includes Carl Tasse, secondary coach, and Carl Bretschneider, defensive line. John North will coach the receivers.

"It will be difficult to replace Joe as a player, but with him working with our linebackers, who include some highly-touted rookies, we feel he will be invaluable to our ball club," said Gilmer.

Schmidt joined the Lions as a seventh draft choice from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953.

LIONS CAPTAIN

Schmidt captained the Lions nine straight years and was voted the most valuable player in 1955-57 and 1961.

He was a Pro-Bowl selection 10 times and was on the All-NFL pro team eight times.

Schmidt considered retirement in 1964 after undergoing shoulder surgery for the second time in two seasons, but he returned to play the entire 1965 season at his middle line-backer spot.

"I'm sort of reluctant to hang up the cleats after 13 seasons, but I'm looking forward to working with the Lions as a coach."

"And who knows what might happen. I plan to stay in shape and if something should happen that the club might need me, it wouldn't be too much of a job to reactivate me as a player," he said.

GILMER PLEASED

Gilmer was pleased that Schmidt left the opening to be reactivated. "I think Joe still has another year or two left as a player," he said.

Lane, 38, broke in with the Los Angeles Rams in 1952 and later played with the Chicago Cardinals before moving to the Lions in 1962.

In 1964, Lane injured his left leg and missed almost the entire season. He underwent surgery during the winter but was still hampered by the damaged leg during the 1965 training season.

He was placed on the "taxi squad" at the start of the 1965 season but was reactivated in October when injuries dwindled the Lions' secondary.

Lane holds the NFL record for the most interceptions in a season—14—during his first year with the Rams.

He ranks second with career interceptions behind Elmer Tulin with a total of 68.

Toronto moved to within four points of third-place Chicago, a 1-0 loser to New York, and within five points of first place Montreal which dropped a 3-1 decision to Boston.

TWO MEN SHORT

Frank Mahovlich slapped home a late first period goal on a power play to give Toronto its victory over Detroit.

The goal, Mahovlich's 28th of the season, stretched Toronto's unbeaten string to eight games.

Chicago's Bobby Hull was halted for the third straight time in New York's victory over the Black Hawks. Hull scored his 50th goal a week ago and one more would give him the all-time NHL single season scoring mark.

Earl Ingarfield won it for New York with a third period goal.

West Bloomfield Falls to Broncos at Howell

By FLETCHER SPEARS
HOWELL — Holly's basketball Broncos are a tough bunch to corral.

Using a tight defense and hot shooting of a pair of seniors, the Broncos advanced to the finals of the Class B regional here last night by disposing of West Bloomfield, 67-57.

The victory, the team's 13th against six setbacks, sends the Holly squad into the finale Saturday against the winner of tonight's Northville - Holt game. Both games start at 7:30 p.m.

Holly and West Bloomfield (10-10), splitting a pair of regular season games in Wayne-Oakland League play, played on even terms for much of the first quarter, but the Broncos took command by outscoring the Lakers 15-4 in the second period for a 31-20 intermission lead.

The Broncos' defense kept the Lakers in the basket well clogged and forced the Lakers to try their luck with outside shooting.

CAN'T HIT

With the Lakers unable to hit from long distance, Holly's shooting center guards — Bill Taylor and Mark Phalen — took charge and helped the Broncos open up a comfortable lead in the second and third quarters.

Taylor, collecting a game high 22 points, pushed in seven from the field and hit 8 of 10 from the charity line.

Phalen shot the show in the third frame with his floor play and on-the-target shooting.

During a two-minute stretch of the third period, Phalen flipped in nine points in a row — three long one-handers, a layup and free throw — and Holly led after three quarters, 49-35.

The defense that proved the Lakers' undoing for three quarters, almost backbited on the Broncos in the final frame.

LOSE THREE

A tight defense leads to fouls and Holly lost Taylor at 3:40 of the fourth. Center Greg Averyhardt left a minute later and Phalen went out at 2:04.

With those three gone, the Lakers narrowed Holly's lead to eight points, 57-49, with a little more than two minutes left, and they cut it to 60-53, with a little more than two minutes left, and they cut it to 60-53 with a minute left, but the Holly reserves managed to stall out the clock.

The Lakers' Tim Moller, who normally collects several buckets from close range, wound up with only five from three outside — and he caught in a 9 of 9 free throws to pace the team with 18 points.

Guard Greg Hepinstall, unable to hit from the outside during the first half, found the range in the fourth quarter and finished with 12 points. Bill Burt added 10.

Northville, co-champion of the Wayne-Oakland League, takes on an impressive Holt quintet that knocked off previously unbeaten Portland Tuesday night, 59-57.

Mount Clemens '5' Posts Regional Win

For the second year in a row, Rochester's journey along the state high school basketball tournament trail has ended with Mount Clemens.

Last year, Mount Clemens knocked off the Falcons in taking the district title, 74-54, and last night the Battling Bathers clipped the Falcons' wings in a Class A regional clash on the East Detroit floor, 76-64.

"We're going to have to learn how to beat that team," said coach Wayne Case, whose squad wound up the campaign with a 13-4 record.

The victory boosted Mount Clemens into the regional semifinals against the host East Detroit tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The Shamrocks of East Detroit, the state's top-ranked Class A team, will take a 20-0 record into the contest. East

TIGHT DEFENSE

The Bathers threw a tight man-to-man defense at the Falcons at the start and the winners' full-court press forced Rochester into numerous mistakes.

"It was the best press we've seen," said Case. "It was hard to get the ball down court."

With Rochester unable to mount an attack, the Bathers fired away and grabbed an 18-11 lead after one quarter and upped the lead to 41-23 at halftime.

Rochester closed the gap to six points, once in the second frame and again the third, but the Bathers pulled away each time.

Forward Jim Dockery and guard Ben Robinson paced the Mount Clemens (14-4) attack.

TOP SCORER

Robinson, along with spearheading the defense, collected 20 points to lead all scorers and Dockery topped in 18. Bob Lisenberry added 17.

Bob Miller, a standout in the Falcons win over Ulica last week in the district finals, came through with 18 markers to pace the Falcon's attack.

Helping Mills with the scoring were Harry Hogan (13) and Dan Ludwig (10).

Sam Snead Early Riser

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — After 30 years, golf has turned full cycle for old Sam Snead — he's back with the dew-sweepers.

The sweet-swinging hillbilly from West Virginia makes his season's debut on the pro tour today in the $100,000 Doral Open and he has to haul his aching bones out of bed to meet an 8:10 a.m. teeoff time.

"Good gosh, 8:10 — they must be joking," the Slammer meant when he got sight of the pairings. "You'd think I was just starting on the tour."

The years have hardly made a dent on the rugged character who was born in Hot Springs, Va., 53 years ago and who went over to White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., to become one of the game's winningest and most popular personalities.

His swing is still like molasses rolling over hot biscuits. He walks with a jaunty, confident air, the familiar coconut straw hat covering his balding pate.

Galleries flock to his heels just to watch the rhythmic beauty of his swing. At the end of his round — whether he shoots a 68 or a 75 — admirers besiege him for autographs.

U-M Five Dueling a Sleeper

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — The country's No. 1 team, last year's national title runner-up, and two dangerous sleeper contenders are blended in the NCAA's Midwest regional basketball tournament starting tomorrow night here.

Top-ranked Kentucky, 24-1, launches its quest for a fifth NCAA crown against Dayton's Flyers, 22-4, an at-large contender hubbed around 6-foot 11 Henry Finkel.

Friday night's second game in the 12,500-seat University of Iowa Fieldhouse sends Big Ten champion Michigan, 17-7, last year's NCAA runner-up to champion UCLA, against spunky Western Kentucky, 24-2, Ohio Valley Conference titlist.

GIANT KILLERS

Dayton and Western Kentucky, both victorious in last Monday's Midwest preliminary round at Kent, Ohio, are the potential giantkillers in this tournament which sends the survivor to the NCAA finals at the University of Maryland the following weekend.

Western Kentucky, tenth in national rankings with a 24-2 record, spilled fourth-ranked Loyola of Chicago 105-86 in the NCAA kickoff at Kent.

Dayton triumphed at Kent over champion Miami, Ohio of the Mid-American Conference 68-51, and among the Flyers' 23 of Western Kentucky.

Kentucky, last in NCAA winter in 1958, is the only school ever to win more than two national crowns since the tourney was started in 1939.

aggregation was a blazing surprise in a season in which UCLA and Michigan were voted the one-two clubs in pre-campaign reckoning.

Kentucky, paced by All-American Louie Dampier, and Pat Riley and soph Thad Jaracz, both on the AP's third All-American team, raced to 23 straight victories before succumbing to Tennessee 69-62 last Saturday.

Although top-ranked in the final Associated Press poll, Rupp is wary of his Wildcats' NCAA tourney debut against Dayton.

Dodge Driver Pacing Field

Pearson After Pole
Post in '500' Race

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP)—David Pearson is a 31-year-old professional stock car race driver, and like most in his trade, he's a stickler for consistency.
The handsome, 185-pound father of three hasn't paid taxes on less than $25,000 a year since he started racing six years ago, and he'll tell you there's no room for errors.

Pearson's Dodge Charger was easily the fastest car during practice Wednesday for Sunday's $68,500 Peach Blossom 500-mile race. He had turned unofficial laps of better than 117 miles per hour.

In the afternoon qualifying, with eight up-front berths in the 44-car starting field available, Pearson was among the first of the top drivers in line.

He turned the one-mile North Carolina Motor Speedway at 115.994 m.p.h. on his first of four laps, then followed with 115.942, 115.316 and 116.429. They averaged 116.147 for the four-lap race and it looked good enough for the prestigious pole position.

Ball Park in Shape

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bill Anderson, manager of the Milwaukee County Stadium, said Wednesday the stadium would be ready for major league baseball April 12, regardless of whether the Braves move to Atlanta.

Reds Want Shot at Pros

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—World amateur hockey officials claimed today that the Russian National team could whip professional National Hockey League squads—but hesitated to give them the chance.
John F. (Bunny) Ahearn, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, said a change of rules would be necessary before the Russians could be allowed to play an exhibition game against the NHL Montreal Canadiens.
The Russians, competing in the world championships here, night,

Lone Score Gives Rangers Big Win

Just one goal was all the Waterford Rangers needed last night at Cranbrook for a crucial Southeast Michigan Hockey Association victory over Fraser.

Bob Church converted Paul Furneaux's pass for the lone tally early in the second period as the unbeaten Rangers took sole possession of first place in the juvenile division.

Goalie Warren Timmerman posted his third shutout in a 4-1 season to date for Waterford. The Rangers next will meet Royal Oak at 7:30 p.m. Sunday on Fort Huron ice.

Bob Friend, ex-Pirate who will pitch for the Yankees this year, broke in with Waco, Tex., in the big State League in 1950.

Boxing Victory Is Nullified

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A near-hurricane blew out of Rubin (Hurricane) Carter's camp after it was announced, but the official decision in his Tuesday night fight with Wilbert (Skeeter) McClure will be a draw, not a majority decision for Carter as was announced from the ring.
The Toledo Boxing Commission nullified the decision for Carter after a chance check of the score cards Wednesday morning turned up an error in addition on the referee's card.

Referee John Ousky's decision had been announced from the ring as 6-4 for Carter, of Paterson, N.J., but it was later determined he had scored the ninth round for McClure but gave him four instead of five points for it.

Judge Joseph Justo also had the bout a draw 45-45 while judge Jack Myers scored it 46-45 for Carter.

CALLED EVEN
Commission Chairman Sam Youngheart said he was changing the decision because two of the officials had called the bout even and only one had scored it for one of the boxers. He explained that a majority is necessary before a fight can be won by any fighter.

OLSM to Make Regional Bid Friday

Dryden Meets Flint Quintet

Northville Attempts to Avenge '65 Loss

Northville and Dryden have rugged regional basketball openers tonight while Orchard Lake St. Mary will seek its first victory tomorrow night against a formidable foe.

Holt (15-4) is attempting to repeat its 1965 regional triumph over Northville's Mustangs in the "B" tournament at Howell. Northville is 15-5.

Dryden's Cardinals, a Class D quarter-final loser to defending state champion Covert last season, risk their hopes and a 16-3 record against strong Flint St. Mary (19-2) tonight at Grand Blanc.

The winner then advances to the regional final Saturday afternoon against Ruth SS. Peter and Paul, a 60-54 overtime conqueror of Peck last night.

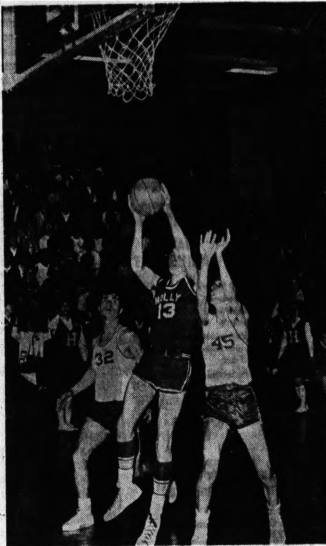

OL St. Mary has an 18-3 record to impress Perry at 8:30 Friday night. The Ramblers, however, are 18-3 and have an impressive 96-71 regional Class C win over Armada last night at Grand Blanc to offer in rebuttal.

NEVER WON
That is one more regional triumph than OLSM mentor The Rev. John Rakoczy can claim. Now coaching his sixth district champion, Fr. Rakoczy has never had a regional victory.

The Eagles have thrived this season on a strong team effort keyed by the fine all-round play of Connie Krogulecki, an all-state candidate at guard.

John Stepien, who is co-captain with Krogulecki, also makes key contributions with his scoring, rebounding and passing.

The Grand Blanc "C" regional championship contest will be 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

TOP SCORER — Holly's Bill Taylor (13), going in for a layup last night against West Bloomfield on the Howell floor, wound up with 22 points in sparking Holly to a 67-57 victory in the Class B regional tournament game. Trying to halt Taylor are Greg Hepinstall (32) and Ted LaPratt (45).

Insurance '5' in 'C' Victory; 'D' Play Ends

Coulacos Insurance moved into the favorite's role for the city recreation department's Class C men's basketball title with a decisive 53-28 decision over the All Stars last night.

At the same time, East Side won the Class D boys' playoff crown, 68-55, over the All Stars. The adult All Stars were unbeaten in the playoffs and could have taken the "C" laurels with a win, but Coulacos' big victory gives it a definite mental advantage in the extra game now required for the double-elimination tournament.

The insured men — who went through the regular season undefeated, then lost their playoff opener — were led by Bob Becker (19 points) and Bill Hayward (15).

East Side outscored the junior All Stars in each of the first three quarters by a 57-34 margin and coasted to its championship.

Fort Wayne Nips Flags
FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Fort Wayne beat Port Huron 4-3 in an International Hockey League game Wednesday night by running up a lead early in the contest and then staving off the opposition's rally.

Close Contest Features Rec Action

The American League's two bottom teams put on the best show in last night's Waterford Township men's recreation basketball program.

Fifth-place Local 594 nipped last-place Powell Trucking, 74-71, in a tight game that never saw more than five points separate the two teams.

Powell led by one after the first quarter, then the union men built progressive one, two and finally three-point leads in

Game honors went to Ron Landy who had 29 for Powell. Dave Todd hit 29 and Jim Patterson 18 for the losers.

Class A champion Spencer Floor Covering trimmed Drayton Drug, 95-73, despite 39 points by Mike Miley. John Kelmer had 26 and John Herrington 27 for the winners.

Frushour and Struble Realty ripped Lakeland Pharmacy, 81-67, to take sole possession of second place. Mike Kulinski scored 26 to claim game honors for Lakeland.

He Picks Ace Laugh-Maker: Calls Ford 'Funny Fumer'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—There's a future in your Paul Ford. Paul, whom some of us regard as the greatest funnyman since W. C. Fields, actually with some of Field's qualities, may be the Show Business Man of the Year. He personally converted "3 Bags Full" into the most hilarious audience-pleasing farce of many seasons.

I happen to be a Paul Ford addict who ferociously roars with laughter when Ford merely clumps across the stage. And when he gets angry and says "QUIET!" I go into paroxysms.

I can't explain . . . I just think he's FUNNY! His on-stage anger is as funny as Jack Benny's cheapness. Paul, at 63, is going to be hailed as an artist as Charles Chaplin is.

Ford himself doesn't take it that seriously. Last week (before opening of "3 Bags Full," Paul told me, "If you don't like the show, be sure to come to the Tractoria to the party afterward. You may like the party better than the show."

Fortunately, I loved both.

Ford, who often rides the bus and subway, had a peculiar experience recently on a bus.

"There was a girl up at the front who looked familiar," he says. "I kept trying to think who she could be. When she got off, the same time I did, she said, 'Dad, how could you ride the whole trip without saying hello to your daughter?'"

THE MIDNIGHT EAR . . .

The Irving Berlin's year-old granddaughter (dtr. of Elizabeth and Edmund Fisher) died in London of respiratory ailments . . . Hal Holbrook (Mark Twain) and actress Carol Rossen are a duo. His "Mark Twain Tonight" opens March 23 . . . Allan Sherman's new parody: "The Girl From Nymphomaniac."

Alan King gives his audience at "Impossible Years" a curtain speech, suggests they see "Lion in Winter" which he co-produced . . . Ed Sullivan'll be a grandfather in June, for the fifth time . . . Carol Burnett'll be a guest star on the "Lucy Show" next season . . . Singer Frank Warren's set for a Viet Nam tour . . . Producer Ernie Pintoff told comic Marty Ingels he's plotting a TV'er, to be called "The Marty Ingels Show."

"I just hope," says Marty, "that I'm right for the part."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bobby Goldsboro reminisces about his home town. "It was so poor they had to use candles in the traffic lights."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some women don't mind having a man around the house. They just don't want him inside.—Bill Copeland.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The cheerful loser is a winner."—Gilbert Hubbard.

EARL'S FEARS: It was first said, claims Pic Larmour, by a cowboy, about drinking whisky: "A little too much I just enough."

Army Demands Sukarno Oust Pro-Red

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian army has given President Sukarno an ultimatum to get rid of his pro-Communist Foreign Minister Subandrio and has demanded an answer by Saturday, reliable sources in Singapore reported today.

Sukarno is expected to announce his decision at a meeting with the armed forces chiefs at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles outside Jakarta, the sources said.

The army chiefs who have demanded Subandrio's ouster are mostly supporters of former Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, whom Sukarno fired last month.

Subandrio has been accused unofficially of having been behind last October's Communist coup attempt. His name was on a list of ministers published by the coup leaders but he has denied that he had anything to do with the coup.

A clandestine anti-Sukarno radio station, in Indonesia reported today that Njono, a member of the Indonesian Communist party's central committee and one of the coup leaders, was executed by a firing squad on Monday. He had been sentenced to death by a special military tribunal on Feb. 21.

ANTI-RED DRIVE
The army crushed the coup and launched a violent anti-Communist campaign which caused Sukarno to fire Nasution. His ouster brought on demonstrations by anti-Communist students which have been mainly directed against Subandrio. About 200 students rammed a truck through a wall around the Communist Chinese Embassy today, broke all its windows and burned its documents, the Singapore sources said.

The students also punctured tires of embassy vehicles, the sources said. A Malaysian government radio broadcast in Kuala Lumpur said no Chinese officials were reported harmed.

The informants in Singapore said it was believed the attack was in retaliation for one by pro-Communist students on the U.S. Embassy in the Indonesian capital on Tuesday. In that attack three cars were set afire and some windows were broken.

STUDENT VIOLENCE
It was the third straight day of student violence in Jakarta. About 10,000 anti-Communist students occupied the Education Ministry Wednesday and later another 3,000 stormed into Parliament and presented demands that Communists be purged from the government, the sources said.

Travelers arriving from Indonesia said the students Wednesday also attacked and ransacked the offices of Red China's New China news agency. The students have accused the agency's correspondents of writing lies about Indonesia. On Tuesday more than 8,000 students ransacked the foreign ministry.

Chicago Using TV to Watch for Pollution of Air

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago has a 631-foot-high electronic air pollution watcher.

A television camera has been installed atop the city's tallest building, the Civic Center, and begins operation today sweeping the horizon for clouds of pollution.

A spokesman for the Department of Air Pollution Control says the camera will flash signals to a monitor from its perch 631 feet above ground. The monitor will pinpoint the violation and patrol cars will be sent there.

The spokesman said the camera will be used as long as it proves effective.

377 Mental Health Jobs Unfilled in State

LANSING (AP) — The state has been unable to fill mental health jobs ranging from psychiatric nurses to mental health directors. Mental Health Director Robert Kimmich said Wednesday.

Kimmich told the Senate Appropriations Committee, "We have talked to civil service about an aggressive, imaginative approach, but they haven't been able to do it yet... they offer routine examination announcements and some classified ads."

He said, other states have "teams touring the country and hiring people on the spot."

The professional mental health market is so tight, Kimmich said, "that we have to steal from outside the state." He said so far Michigan has won more specialists than it's lost in the national competition.

Kimmich himself came to his $35,000 job less than two years ago from San Francisco. The department's newest major acquisition is Dr. E. Gordon Yudofsky, arriving late this month from Long Island, N.Y., for the $23,506 job as superintendent of Northville State Hospital.

Kimmich said the hiring situation could improve "if we can do some of those recruitment team things—but they're expensive."

He said he does not think the Civil Service Commission opposes the idea—"they just feel they can't do it."

A commission spokesman said later "if mental health wants to send out teams into their states, this is not something we could underwrite."

He said that in 1964-65 more than half of the commission's $38,000 advertising budget was spent on behalf of mental health hiring "and it looks like it will

Reds Seize Special Forces Camp

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars, overwhelmed the isolated Ashau Special Forces camp to night after a fierce, two-day fight put up by several hundred mountain tribesmen and their 15 to 20 U.S. advisers.

Casualties among both the Americans and Montagnard defenders were heavy. But Col. William McKean, commander of Special Forces in the area 360 miles north of Saigon said his men "fought every inch of the way" and he thought the Communist toll was also high.

The Communists took the triangular-shaped fortress after it had been pounded into ruins and flames by Red attack and U.S. planes trying to drive them off.

Heavy clouds, at times cutting the ceiling to 200 feet, seriously hindered the American pilots flying in almost over the tree tops.

Until the end the American "green berets" and their tough little Montagnard troops clung doggedly to a single bunker on the camp's northern trench line.

The attackers were described as a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment. Originally, they had been thought to be two companies — 200 or so men — of regular Viet Cong troops.

Before the collapse, helicopters flew out "a certain number of defenders," Lt. Col. Kenneth B. Lacey, Special Forces commander in Viet Nam said. He gave no figures.

The camp was defended by 15 to 20 Americans and about 300 Montagnards they had trained. Three U.S. aircraft — two planes and a helicopter — were lost in the determined effort to save the camp.

ALLIED FORCES

The Communist capture of the camp dominated reports from the fighting zones.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, the Communists showed little stomach for combating the U.S., Vietnamese and other allied forces hunting them down.

A flurry of speculation dominated the political scene as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and other members of the ruling military junta met under heavy security at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

While Vietnamese air force planes circled overhead and tanks and troops guarded the compound, the military leaders held a special session amid a flurry of reports that one of its most powerful members, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thi, might be removed as commander of the 1st Army Corps.

This is the zone that includes the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp. This has long been known for his independent ways.

The bad weather that plagued the defense of Ashau also curtailed air raids against North Viet Nam.

Throughout the siege of the Special Forces camp, thick clouds kept U.S. planes from providing the effective air support that might have saved the camp, only a minute's flying time by jet from Da Nang, 60 miles away.

Another plane was lost in the

PLANE DOWNED

An A1E Skyraider was shot down at 11:35 a.m. while making a second napalm run over the camp.

Although the wreckage was aflame, the pilot managed to crawl out with minor burns.

Under a burst of machine-gun fire, Air Force Maj. Bernard Fisher, 39, of Kuna, Idaho, landed his Skyraider on the camp's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Girl's Fate Is in Hands of Doctors

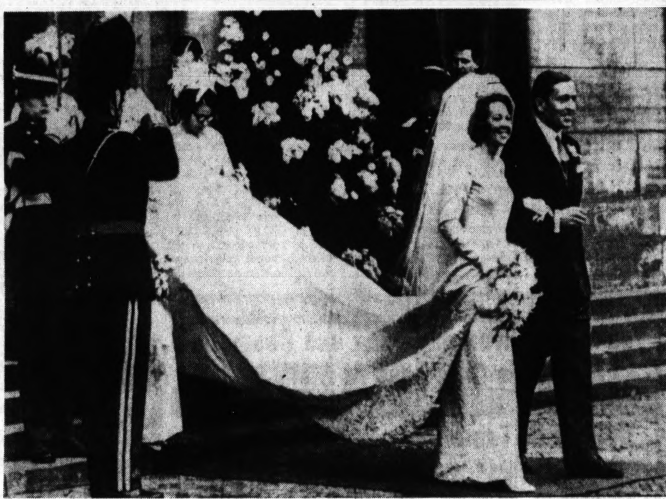

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Frail Judy Lynn Funsch, a cheerful 5-year-old, today underwent heart surgery that could give her the chance to grow up normally.

The pretty blonde who weighed only 28 pounds, was wheeled into the operating room shortly before 8 a.m.

Judy Lynn suffers from a rare obstruction of a vein that carries oxygenated blood from the lungs to the heart.

She was not aware that the 16-man University of Michigan team that performed the delicate surgery was not optimistic about her chances for surviving the operation.

Doctors told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Funsch, of Genesee Township, that without the operation, Judy has only a few years to live. If surgery is successful, she has a chance for a normal life.

ROYAL WEDDING — Crown Princess Beatrix and her groom, Claus von Amsberg, walk from the Royal Palace in Amsterdam this morning on their way to a civil ceremony.

that preceded a church wedding. The princess' train, starting at the waist is 15 feet long and seven feet wide.

ENJOYING HER STAY

Judy has been enjoying her stay in the hospital's pediatrics ward.

"She's been playing with the other kids, and is happy with her favorite doll, Suzi," said Mrs. Funsch. "She was particularly thrilled to see her picture in the paper."

Highly susceptible to disease, Judy has suffered congestive heart failure and been stricken several times with pneumonia.

"This will be exploratory surgery to see if help can be offered to the child," explained one of the physicians on the team. "We may not be able to do anything for her."

MANY MESSAGES

As the story of Judy's plight became known around the country, heartfelt messages of encouragement arrived at the hospital.

A couple wired from Bogalusa, La.:

"Our son had heart surgery at age 4. He's now a normal and happy boy. We had to make a similar decision. You can know that if anything happens Thursday it is God's will and you have done everything possible as parents to give Judy a normal life. Our prayers are with you and Judy."

Violence Mars Beatrix Rites

Police Battle 2,000 in Tense Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — Club-wielding police battled 2,000 demonstrators in the streets today as the marriage of strong-willed Princess Beatrix to a former member of the Hitler Youth exploded into violence. The demonstrators hurled smoke bombs at the princess' gilded carriage.

The dimpled blonde princess, 28, smiled through the civil and religious ceremonies that united her with former German diplomat Claus von Amsberg, 30, a member of the Hitler youth who served in the Wehrmacht.

But other royal members of the wedding party suffered fits of coughing from the smoke bombs.

More than 200,000 Hollanders lined the procession paths to cheer the princess who someday will be queen.

But youthful ruffians and Dutchmen remembering the Nazi occupation and the bombing of Rotterdam in World War II rose in protest against the marriage which made von Amsberg prince of Holland.

Almost 15,000 ceremonial and security troops and police guarded the 2.5-mile procession route made turbulent by the youths who hurled more than 30 smoke bombs.

WEDDING COACH

A half-dozen of them exploded near the glassed-in wedding coach drawn by six coal black horses. The coachmen and horses never faltered, though they were almost hidden by the dense fumes.

Sabotage attempts were made on television cameras and cables which carried the ceremonies and procession to the screens of Western Europe but the service went through.

The tension crackled up to the moment the prince and princess were home safely inside their palace off Dam Square.

They were married first in a civil ceremony at city hall and then in a religious ceremony at 1:22 p.m.

In Avon Township

Industrial Zone OK'd

The Avon Township Board last night approved the rezoning 46.6 acres of land between Hamlin and Avon roads from general farm to light industrial.

The controversial request of R & C Robertson, Inc., was granted after the board spent more than two hours listening to the protests of some 100 homeowners who will be affected by the rezoning.

By approving the request, the board followed the recommendations of the Regional Planning Commission, the Township Zoning Board and the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee.

Objections voiced by residents last night were basically those expressed in a public hearing before the Township Zoning Board in January.

They claimed their property would be devaluated and cited the danger to children because of the increased traffic.

WANTED EXPLANATION

Most of the residents protesting the change sought an explanation of the choice of location.

They said they don't object to industry in the township but they don't want it in their back yards. They claimed there are other parts of the township better suited for industrial zoning.

"The township needs industry," said one man, "but if you misplace it you make a mistake we'll have to live with all our lives."

Another claimed it is spot zoning.

FUTURE FEARED

Mrs. John W. Chastain, 1921 Livernols, noted that once the area is rezoned, any type of industry can be put in. The developers have stated that light industry similar to Holley Computer in Rochester will be built.

"This just isn't so," said Mrs. Chastain. "And it doesn't seem feasible that the board would consider rezoning this in the face of so many objections."

Township Donald J. Campbell

in question is part of an industrial corridor.

Mike Paretz of 982 W. Hamlin questioned the validity of the master plan saying it has never been questioned professionally.

"This isn't the best use this land could be put to," he said.

There is a possibility of court action as the result of the board's decision.

Ray Gline of Roseville, an attorney for the Hamlin-Livernols Homeowners Association said he has the approval of the group to take the matter to court if necessary.

The board action has the support of the League of Women Voters. In a letter to the board, the League said that the master plan shows good practices of zoning and urged the board to accept the recommendations of the planning groups.

Hepatitis Hits Avon Nursery

Officials Discount Chances of Epidemic

Two cases of hepatitis were reported this week at an Avon Township nursery school, and the Oakland County Health Department has taken steps to prevent any spread of the disease.

Health department officials said there is no epidemic problem at the present time.

The health department provided gamma globulin for immunization of the other pupils at the Rochester Cooperative Nursery, 3900 Walton, and are observing the youngsters. About 25 attend the school.

Both youngsters who contracted the disease are from the same family, according to health department officials. Their mother also is under observation.

The nursery school rents space from St. Luke's Methodist Church.

A total of 47 hepatitis cases have been reported in Oakland County so far this year. This compares to 38 for the same period last year.

ABOUT AVERAGE

This year's rate was termed about average by a health department spokesman.

In recent years, the highest incidence of the disease was experienced in 1961 when 360 cases were reported in the county.

Health department officials said that proper water and sewer facilities and general cleanliness are the primary safeguards against the disease.

Highest incidence of hepatitis this year to date has been in Royal Oak where seven cases were reported.

Six cases have been reported in Lake Orion. Pontiac and Waterford townships both have had five cases.

Walled Lake, Avon and Oxford townships all have reported four cases, while two have been reported in Keego Harbor and Commerce township.

Educator Will Head 1966 UF Campaign

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Pontiac Area a United Fund Board of Trustees, announced today the appointment of Dr. Don O. Tatroe as general chairman of the 1966 Pontiac Area UF campaign.

Tatroe, 37-year-old superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, succeeds Calvin J. Werner.

Werner, a General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, was chairman of the 1965 drive which netted a record $1,107,000.

The successful campaign placed the Pontiac Area United Fund in the top 100 nationally, based on amount of money raised. About 2,300 U.S. communities conduct UF drives.

Active in recent United Fund campaigns, Tatroe of 3286 Angelus, Waterford Township, stressed the importance of the UF drive in a statement.

LARGER TASK

"Each year the task of 55 agencies supported by the Pontiac Area United Fund grows larger, and the need for funds grows larger too."

"Thirty thousand families are served by these agencies and the growth of Pontiac area communities means that still more families must be provided for in the future," said Tatroe.

"All of us who took part in last year's $1-million campaign are proud that our work and money enabled the agencies to continue to serve our communities well."

"We look upon the annual Pontiac Area United Fund campaign as one of the most significant avenues for voluntary service available to us as citizens, and invite the entire community to take part this year."

'GREAT PRIVILEGE'

"We have a large responsibility; it is a great privilege to take part."

A native of St. Johns, Tatroe has held his present position since 1963, replacing William Schunck, present superintendent of Wayne County Schools.

Tatroe was named Waterford Township's outstanding young man of 1963 by the township's Junior Chamber of Commerce at their annual Bosses' Night Banquet in January 1964.

He is a member of the National Education Association, Michigan Education Association, Waterford Education Association, American Association of School Administrators and Michigan Association of School Administrators.

OTHER MEMBERSHIPS

Tatroe also belongs to the Oakland County Association of School Administrators, Association of School Business Officials of U.S. and Canada and the Michigan Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development.

A member of the official board of Central Methodist Church and the board of directors of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, Tatroe also belongs to the Greater Waterford Community Council and is a past member of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tatroe also was active in Warren where he served as assistant superintendent of the Warren school system from 1955 to 1963.

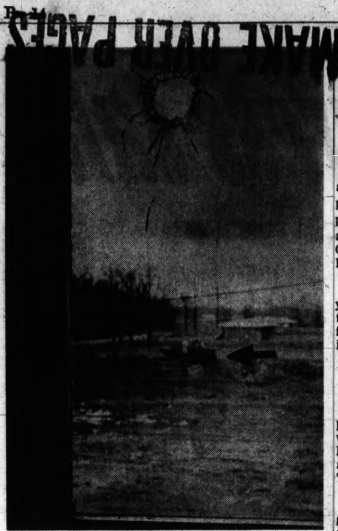

He received his bachelor's, master's and doctorate of education degrees from Michigan State University.

BLAST DAMAGE—An Avon Township explosion in which a Pontiac man and his son were injured yesterday also caused a freak mishap at West Junior High School. A tar tank on a truck (arrow) blew up, blasting a piece of pipe through this window, some 200 feet away, and into a cabinet across the room.

OEO Okays School Plan for Deprived

A $125,476 education program aimed at encouraging 90 deprived high school pupils to pursue higher education was authorized yesterday by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Termed Upward Bound the year-long program is slated to begin in July. A federal grant for 90 per cent of the total cost is pending.

Oakland University will develop a program for 90 of the 90.

The participants in the OU program, 35 Negroes and 25 white, will be drawn from the Pontiac, Oak Park, Ferndale and Hazel Park school districts. Total cost will be $86,146.

Cranbrook will develop a program for another 30 pupils from other county school systems at a cost of $39,330.

General purpose of the program is to provide counseling and training for young people with normal intelligence but of disadvantaged backgrounds to raise their sights and desires for post-high school education.

All those selected for the program will have completed the 10th grade.

Say Oxford Officials

'Old Home a Heap of Trouble'

By JANICE KLOUSER
OXFORD — The plumbing is bad, the wiring is bad, there's no insulation and it would cost at least $25,000 to refurbish it.

Oxford village officials think these are good enough reasons to forsake the old white frame house that is serving as a village hall in favor of a new building.

They are hoping that village voters will agree with them Monday when they are asked the wiring is exposed, it's cold in the winter and hot in the summer and facilities in the police station in the back part of the house are sadly inadequate, he said.

The police station has no detention cell so an officer must take off about two hours to take a prisoner to the sheriff's department in Pontiac.

"Our 'prisoners' are mostly amiable drunks," said Smalley, "but it takes valuable time to take them to Pontiac."

The new police station, which would be part of the village building, would have a detention cell to accommodate two persons, a squad room and an office for the chief. It would constitute one-third of the building.

BUILDING SPACE

The governmental unit would include counter space, offices for the manager and council which could be partitioned off if necessary and a partial basement for storage and emergency power units.

The basement could also be used for civil defense emergencies.

Included in the cost of a new building is the demolishing of the present house, landscaping, interest and architectural fees. The cost is figured on the basis of one contractor working on the three units.

If the proposal is turned down, and the offices built at a later date, an additional $8,000 would be added to the cost according to the architects.

TAX INCREASE

Smalley figures the tax increase for the bond issue would be about 1.5 mills. He said this would cost the taxpayer about two cents a day or $8 per year for the average family.

The early American architecture of the civic center is designed to blend in with the theme being adopted by many of the downtown stores.

Cost of the library, also planned for the center, has been estimated at $1,000 while the township's section of the complex is expected to cost around $50,000.

The library will get a $27,300 grant from the federal government. This plus donations and

Oxford Village Hall—Voters Will Determine Its Fate

the sale of the present building of Mechanic Street will meet the $81,000 cost.

PAY EXPENSES

A 1-mill tax voted last year will pay the operating expenses.

The township now has about $20,000 in a building fund, according to Supervisor Lee Valentine. Permission to raise an additional $20,000 will be asked at a township meeting tomorrow.

Valentine says the additional funds can be acquired without a bond issue or a raise in taxes. He said he will explain his plan at tomorrow's meeting.

The township offices are now housed next door to the village office in a 90-year-old house which in the past has served as a residence, a restaurant and a Lutheran Church.

The civic center, to be built on the site of the present offices, was designed by Harry M. Denyes Jr. Associates, Inc., and Bruce Lafer, Pontiac architect.

Pontiac Man, Son Hurt in Avon Twp. Tar Blast

AVON TOWNSHIP — A Pontiac man and his 18-year-old son were burned severely yesterday morning in an explosion at an Avon Township home construction site.

The youth, Ronald Gray of 282 Seward, is listed in serious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital where both are being treated for third degree burns.

Ronald, whose right leg was broken, sustained burns over 40 per cent of his body, including face, chest, arms, legs and back.

His father was burned on his face, hands, arms and chest.

They were injured when a tank containing tar exploded on the back of their truck.

Working for Oakland Wall Co. of Pontiac, the father and son were tarring the basement of a home under construction on the west side of Old Perch Road, just south of West Junior High School.

Rochester Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said the cause of the 10:40 a.m. explosion could not be determined immediately, but he noted that the tar was being heated by liquid petroleum.

A piece of pipe from the tar tank was blasted through a window of the school some 200 feet away.

The force of the explosion drove the pipe through a one-inch door and lodged it in the back wall of a cabinet on the opposite side of the vacant classroom.

West Junior High School pupils reported they saw the elder Gray run toward the school with his clothes in flames after the explosion.

Buchanan said the only fire going when he arrived was in a small tar bucket.

County Probe Issues 2 More Indictments

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Two indictments, both involving a township trustee and a Detroit contractor, were issued this morning by Oakland County grand juror Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

Taken into custody by grand juror investigators were trustee Samuel Woodward and Morris Margulies, an officer of American Custom Homes, Inc.

They were to be arraigned before Novi Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson on charges of bribery and conspiracy to bribe.

In one indictment, Margulies is accused of paying Woodward and three other trustees $1,800 in return for their votes to sell him certain lots on property formerly used for temporary housing.

The others named, but not indicted, are Frank Miller, treasurer, and two former trustees, W. C. Chambliss and Ernest Wilson.

ALLEGED OCCURRENCE

The bribe is alleged to have occurred between September 1961 and May 10, 1962.

The second indictment charges Woodward with accepting part of a $300 bribe from Margulies between March and November 1962 for his vote to sell three lots in the Wyoming Park Subdivision.

Miles and Chambliss again were named in the order for the warrant against Woodward but were not indicted.

ON MARCH 2

On March 2 Woodward, Township Supervisor Edward Kennedy, Miles, and two former trustees, Marshall Taylor and Chambliss, were indicted on two separate charges of bribery totaling $4,200.

Also indicted at that time was Elmer Michaels, Inkster's urban renewal director.

School Board to Spend $450 for Recruitment

TROY — The board of education plans to spend $450 to convince prospective employees that Troy is a good place to teach. The board voted to buy a half-page ad in a new catalog being put out by the Association for School, College and University Staffing.

The catalog will list teaching opportunities in school districts all over the country. It will be distributed to 150,000 graduating seniors from colleges of education.

Barn Fire Kills Cattle, Hogs in Metamora

METAMORA — Twenty-eight head of cattle and 21 hogs died in a fire last night which destroyed a barn owned by Melvin Mott of 3382 Brainerd.

Also lost in the fire, which Mott believes was started by defective wiring, were 3,000 bales of hay and some farm equipment.

Firemen from Hadley, Metamora, Brandon and Oxford township departments fought the blaze from 2 to 3 a.m.

Oxford Assistant Fire Chief Claude Rogers said they rescued about 100 chickens, two head of cattle and six hogs.

"We tried to get the rest of the animals," he said, "but the heat was so intense they wouldn't come out. We had to stand and watch them drop like flies."

Firemen managed to keep the fire from spreading to the house and garage which Rogers said were about 30 feet from the barn.

No estimate of the loss has been made.

Since School Year Start

U.S. Aid to 8 Districts Totals $360,365

Eight area school districts have received a total of $360,365 in federal funds since the beginning of the academic year.

Districts now using funds provided under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 include Brandon, Clarenceville, Clarkson, Farmington, Lake Orion, Rochester, Troy and Walled Lake.

Nearly $18 million in federal education funds have been allocated to Michigan school districts since the start of school last fall.

Thomas J. Brennan, president of the State Board of Education, said Michigan is one of the first states in the nation to pass the halfway mark in distribution of its federal funds.

Congress appropriated nearly $1 billion to improve educational services for disadvantaged children under a formula based on the number of families with annual incomes less than $2,000.

STATE SHARE
Michigan's share of the funds amounts to $34.7 million for the current school year.

Brennan said the department of education has approved 264 projects costing $27.8 million. An additional 61 projects for $5.7 million are expected to be approved soon, he said.

The state board president said federal education funds have been allocated to 281 school districts in 71 counties.

Oakland County, which has received $1,717,723, is second in the state, following Wayne County, which has projects totaling $5,573,125.

LANGUAGE PROGRAMS

In the area, four districts have received appropriations for language development programs — Farmington, $113,926;

Troy, $19,544; Clarenceville, $17,875; and Brandon, $10,249.

Walled Lake has received $77,490 for enrichment and remedial programs.

Central to Meet Ferndale in Regional Final

Elimination Continues as PCH Ousts Cousino, 66-62

Chiefs Thwart Patriot Rally After Big Lead

Second-Period Surge
Led by Soph Wilson
Determining Factor

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The battle against league champions continues for Pontiac Central and the action in regional tournament play gets tougher as the process of elimination continues.

The Chiefs, who were co-champions of the Saginaw Valley Conference, ousted Tri-County Kettering in district play and last night in their opening regional game at Ferndale dumped Oakland-A Champ Warren Cousino, 66-62.

The victory sets the stage for the regional finale against Ferndale, Southeast Michigan loop champion, Friday night on the Eagles' home court.

A disastrous second period doomed the Patriots. After a nip and tuck first period which ended when Ed Pruitt fired a 25 footer at the buzzer to make it 18-15, the Chiefs rallied 17 in the second stanza to only four points for Cousino which went into the game with a 19-13 record.

Jessie Evans hit his first four shots and Willie Craft came through with three well-executed layups to pace the first period scoring for PCH, while Cousino held the lead twice at 15-12 and 18-16.

WILSON FIRES FAST

In the second quarter, the Chiefs started controlling the boards and sophomore Alton Wilson, replacing Craft, hit on five of his first six attempts to help push the margin to 27-19 and 35-22 at halftime.

Evans, with three fouls was taken out with 4:53 left in the period, but Cousino managed only one field goal in the quarter.

The Patriots' scoring star Paul Papak hit only one field goal in 13 tries in the first half, but when he finally found the range in the second he hit on eight of 13, including the last five buckets which threw a scare into the Chiefs.

Central pushed the margin to 15 points 37-22, 41-26 and 45-30 but then started faltering under the Cousino tight press and with 1:30 left in the period, the score was 45-30.

Evans sat out most of the stanza with his 4th foul and returned for the final quarter, which looked somewhat secure with 12 and 10 point margins with 3:40 left to play.

Central's attempt to control play in the final three minutes nearly faltered as Cousino took the ball away three times, with Papak hitting his last five buckets.

TIGHT PRESS

With 13 seconds left he pushed one from 15 feet to make it 64-64, and Evans in putting the ball in play, had 3,000 fans on their feet as Cousino blanketed all of the in-bound receivers.

Evans fired long downcourt, the ball just clearing the hands of a Cousino defender into the hands of Craft who dribbled in for the layup to clinch it.

Central hit 16 of 29 in the first half from the floor and managed 13 of 26 in the second half for a final shooting percentage of 52 per cent.

The game against Ferndale Friday night will start at 8 o'clock with the winner moving into the state quarter-finals against the Livonia Franklin regional winner at a site to be selected, possibly at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

TRIBAL POWWOW — Coach Fred Zittel holds a time-out powwow with the Pontiac Central Chiefs during their regional contest against Warren Cousino last night. PCH raced to a 15 point lead and then fought off a Cousino rally to win the game, 66-62, to earn the right to meet Ferndale Friday night in the regional finals.

Leafs' Gamble Paying Off

Rookie Goalie Blanks Detroit in 3rd Shutout

TORONTO (AP) — The slumping Detroit Red Wings fell deeper into fourth place in the tight National Hockey League race Wednesday, dropping a 1-0 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The shutout was the third in five games for Leaf goalie Bruce Gamble, brought up from Tulsa a week ago.

Toronto moved to within four points of third-place Chicago, a 1-0 loser to New York, and within five points of first place Montreal which dropped a 3-1 decision to Boston.

TWO MEN SHORT

Frank Mahovlich slapped home a late first period goal as his power play to give Toronto its victory over Detroit.

The goal, Mahovlich's 28th of the season, stretched Toronto's unbeaten string to eight games.

Chicago's Bobby Hull was halted for the third straight time in New York's victory over the Black Hawks. Hull scored his 50th goal a week ago and one more would give him the all-time NHL single season scoring mark.

Earl Ingarfield won it for New York with a third period goal.

Third period goals by Murray Oliver and Johnny Bucyk carried last place Boston to victory at Montreal's Forum.

It was also revealed today at the Detroit press conference that Dick "Night Train" Lane has been offered a front-office position with the club.

Lane's primary duties will be in the scouting and player-evaluation program of the team.

West Bloomfield Falls to Broncos at Howell

By FLETCHER SPEARS

HOWELL — Holly's basketball Broncos are a tough bunch to corral.

Using a tight defense and hot shooting of a pair of seniors, the Broncos advanced to the finals of the Class B regional here last night by disposing of West Bloomfield, 67-57.

The victory, the team's 13th against six setbacks, sends the Holly squad into the finale Saturday against the winner of tonight's Northville - Holt game. Both games start at 7:30 p.m.

Holly and West Bloomfield (10-10), splitting a pair of regular season games in Wayne-Oakland League play, played on even terms for much of the first quarter, but the Broncos took command by outscoring the Lakers 15-6 in the second period for a 31-20 intermission lead.

The Broncos' defense kept the Lakers to the basket well clogged and forced the Lakers to try their luck with outside shooting.

CAN'T HIT

With the Lakers unable to hit from long distance, Holly's hot-shooting senior guards — Bill Taylor and Mark Phalen — took charge and helped the Broncos open up a comfortable lead in the second and third quarters.

Taylor, collecting a game high 22 points, pushed in seven from the field and hit 8 of 10 from the charity line.

Phalen stole the show in the third frame with his floor play and on-the-target shooting.

During a two-minute stretch of the third period, Phalen flipped in nine points in a row — three long one-handers, a layup and free throw — and Holly led after three quarters, 49-35.

The defense that proved the Lakers' undoing for three quarters, almost backfired on the Broncos in the final frame.

LOSE THREE

A tight defense leads to fouls and Holly lost Taylor at 3:40 of the fourth. Center Greg Averyhardt led a minute later and Phalen went out at 2:04.

With those three gone, the Lakers narrowed Holly's lead to eight points, 57-49, with a little more than two minutes left, and they cut it to 60-53, with a little more than two minutes left, and they cut it to 60-53 with a minute left, but the Holly reserves managed to stall out the clock.

The Lakers' Tim Moller, who normally collects several buckets from close range, wound up with only five — three from outside — and he cashed in on 8 of 9 free throws to pace the team with 18 points.

Guard Greg Hepinstall, unable to hit from the outside during the first half, found the range in the fourth quarter and finished with 12 points. Bill Burt added 10.

Northville, co-champion of the Wayne-Oakland League, takes on an impressive Holt quintet that knocked off previously unbeaten Portland Tuesday night, 59-57.

Mount Clemens '5' Posts Regional Win

For the second year in a row, Detroit topped the Bathers twice during the regular season, 83-50 and 38-22.

The Bathers threw a tight man-to-man defense at the Falcons at the start and the winners' full-court press forced Rochester into numerous mistakes.

"It was the best press we've seen," said Case. "It was hard to get the ball down court."

With Rochester unable to mount an attack, the Bathers fired away and grabbed an 18-11 lead after one quarter and upped the lead to 41-28 at halftime.

Rochester closed the gap to six points, once in the second frame and again the third, but the Bathers pulled away each time.

Forward Jim Dockery and guard Ben Robinson paced the Mount Clemens (14-6) attack.

TOP SCORER

Robinson, along with spearheading the defense, collected 20 points to lead all scorers and Dockery followed in 18. Bob Listebene added 17.
