

British Isles Gripped in Mixed Emotion as Meg Says, 'No'

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's decision to give up Peter Townsend sent a wave of mixed emotions racing through the British Isles today.

Public and press reaction was compounded of resentment, approval, and downright confusion.

Some newspapers predicted an outbreak of popular feeling against the Church of England and the Duke of Edinburgh—both strongly identified by many Britons with the unhappy ending of the romance.

Among those of conservative views, Margaret was warmly praised for putting her duty to the throne, church, and British Commonwealth above her normal desire to marry the man she loves.

To the great mass of the British people, the big question appeared to be the human one:

"Is the Princess now condemned at the age of 25 to a life of spinsterhood?"

CHURCHMEN PRAISE MEG'S DECISION

Churchmen generally praised Margaret's decision not to marry Townsend, father of two sons. He divorced his wife in 1952 on grounds of misconduct. She has married another man.

"I thank God," said the Rev. Douglas Lockhart, an Edinburgh clergyman who was outspoken in opposition to a Margaret-Townsend match. "She will have the love and sympathy of Christians everywhere."

Dr. Leslie Wetherhead, president of the Methodist Conference, said: "I think that it, Margaret's decision, is very courageous, absolutely right, and I think it will endear her more than ever to the hearts of all our people."

The Rev. Henry Cook, president of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, issued a statement saying:

"All honor to the princess." The archbishop of Canterbury, ranking prelate of the Church of England of which Margaret's sister, Queen Elizabeth II, is the constitutional head, had "no statement," his chaplain announced.

SOME BRITONS ARE DISAPPOINTED

But many ordinary Britons — those who watch Margaret admiringly whenever she appears in public and who beam beneath her warm smile — obviously were disappointed by her blighted romance.

A girl who performs in a cabaret was standing outside Clarence House, the Princess's London residence, when Margaret's statement of her decision was issued.

"It takes a lot of guts to give up the man you love," the girl said. "I think she has more courage than her uncle."

She was referring to the Duke of Windsor who, 19 years ago, abdicated the throne he had ascended as Edward VIII to marry "The woman I love" — the twice divorced American Wallis Warfield Simpson.

"It's the only thing she could do, poor kid," Mrs. Mary Keller, a factory worker in London's East End, said. "I wouldn't be a member of the royal family for all the money in the world."

Molotov Sidesteps Israeli Demands to Halt Arms Sale

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was reported today to have made a new move to inject Russian power and influence in the troubled Middle East.

Israeli informants said Molotov's strategy was indicated when he answered Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's protests against the flow of Red arms to Egypt.

At Molotov's insistence, Sharett and his aides refused to disclose the precise nature of his reply. But this much did come out of the meeting last night between Molotov and Sharett:

The Soviet foreign minister did not turn a completely deaf ear to Sharett's complaint that the sale of submarines, tanks, guns and MIG fighters by the Soviet bloc imperiled Israel's existence.

Talks on the military and other aspects of the Middle Eastern situation will be continued between the two countries, probably in Moscow through diplomatic channels.

Molotov sidestepped Sharett's direct appeal to stop the sale of arms to Egypt. He explained it was Czechoslovakia, not Russia, which was selling the arms, and anyway the deal was a "normal" commercial transaction.

But he expressed some appreciation of Israel's opposition to the Baghdad pact. This is the alliance of Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan, the so-called "northern tier" of countries in the Middle East, to which Britain is linked and which the United States may join in 1956 or 1957.

Russia previously has bitterly protested against the creation of this alliance. Before flying back home today, Sharett conferred with Israeli ambassadors to Washington, London, Paris and Moscow in an effort to pull together the results of his week-long talks with the foreign ministers in Paris and Geneva.

GMC Trucks Top Sales Peak

69,276 Units During First 9 Months Higher Than '54 Total Count

More GMC trucks were sold in the first nine and a half months of this year than during all of 1954, according to R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division.

He said GMC's domestic sales from January to mid-October reached 69,276 units, compared with 67,626 for all of last year.

"New model GMCs did not reach dealers in volume quantities until May of this year and GMC was about 5,000 units behind last year's sales during the first four months," Woodhouse explained.

A sharp increase in retail deliveries in the first half of October set this year's sales surging past the 1954 mark. During the first part of the month, sales were 66.2 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago.

Before flying back home today, Sharett conferred with Israeli ambassadors to Washington, London, Paris and Moscow in an effort to pull together the results of his week-long talks with the foreign ministers in Paris and Geneva.

Damp, Cold Weather Predicted for Area

The Weather Bureau has predicted damp, cold weather for the Pontiac area tonight through tomorrow night.

The forecast calls for showers and a low of 40 to 41 tonight, with overcast skies and a high of 41 to 48 tomorrow and occasional rain beginning late tomorrow.

It is supposed to turn colder tonight, Wednesday and Thursday the weekend.

Main or snow for the southern section and snow in the Northern section of Michigan is predicted for Wednesday. More snow will arrive toward the end of the week.

The lowest temperature predicted for Wednesday is 37 degrees. The low 8 a.m. was 37 degrees. The

Woodward Case 'Still Open'

District Attorney Will Investigate Personal Lives

Father of 'Cinderella,' Retired DSR Motorman, Lives at Gaylord

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

NEW YORK—Police and district attorney appeared today to be at loggerheads over whether to investigate the reportedly stormy marital life of the late William Woodward and his wife.

The two officials who questioned the blonde and beautiful widow for 40 minutes last night in her New York Hospital suite where she is recovering from shock took different viewpoints on future actions in the case.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Frank Gulotta disclosed that the case was still "open" and under investigation and would go to the grand jury sometime this month.

Assistant Nassau County District Attorney Edward J. Robinson said "We don't plan to question her any more because we got as full and complete a statement out of her as possible."

He said he didn't ask her any questions pertaining to her marital life with the millionaire sportsman whom she says she mistook for a prowler and hothoused to death early Sunday morning.

But Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County Detectives, had a different version.

Pinnell said he felt the shooting was an accident but that he planned to look into her private life fully and question her again.

Robinson said there was no major discrepancy in her statement last night and the one she gave to police after the shooting. But Pinnell declared:

At Gaylord, Mich., a retired Detroit streetcar conductor, living in this Michigan resort community, says Mrs. Ann Woodward, "could very well be" his daughter.

Ask Court Order to Move House Fraction of Foot

A Ferndale couple are seeking an Oakland County Circuit Court order requiring their neighbor to move her house and fence a fraction of a foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Gasper Enrico Jr. filed a suit yesterday claiming they own a 33-foot lot in Little Farms Subdivision and Irene Maria owns another adjacent to the west.

Their neighbor's house, they allege, encroaches on their property 4 feet at the front and .45 feet at the rear. At another point her fence is .5 feet over the line, they charge.

They ask a mandatory injunction forcing the defendant to move the house and fence alleging that water from her roof runs onto their land causing it to be "unusually and unnaturally damp." No hearing date has been set.

Russian Roulette Fatal for Youth

Pleasant Ridge Teenager Killed When Teaching Game to Friends

A Pleasant Ridge youth died on the second pull of the trigger last night as he gave a car full of friends a fatal lesson in Russian roulette.

Frank Connolly, 18, of 15 Cambridge Rd., died at William Beaumont Hospital, shortly after arrival.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Connolly, the boy used a long-barreled .22 caliber revolver which he had picked up when returning briefly from a dance at St. Mary's High School in Royal Oak.

According to companions, Connolly removed the shells from the gun when riding back to the dance. The first pull of the trigger brought only a click, they said this morning. An explosion followed the second trigger squeeze, and Connolly slumped over the seat.

Ike's Mum on 2nd Term, Reports Summerfield

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, well enough now to discard virtually all medicine, left it abundantly clear today he is in no hurry to say whether he will run again.

And Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is the latest to indicate that most of Eisenhower's top strategists of 1952 are against putting any pressure on him for an early decision.

Summerfield came out of a 30-minute conference at Fitzsimons Army Hospital yesterday saying there had been no discussion of the 65-year-old Eisenhower's political plans for 1956.

More important, perhaps, he said the President didn't mention politics to him. Summerfield is a former GOP national chairman who managed Eisenhower's successful 1952 campaign.

Cabinet member No. 11, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, is coming out to see the President tomorrow. A social visitor Saturday will be Eisenhower's old friend and World War II comrade, British Field Marshal Montgomery.

Eisenhower's personal friends say he will serve out his present term in the presidency but will decline a second nomination. If that is his decision, the longer he withholds it the better it may be for GOP fund-raising drives. These same friends say Eisenhower will play an important role in the choice of his successor as Republican standard bearer.

Whatever his role in 1956, the President will make the issues in the State of the Union and subsequent messages he will present to Congress in January.

Among these will be a commitment of his party to the flexible price supports for farm products that have drawn fire from Democratic advocates of fixed high-price supports.

The President walks freely around his room now, a little more each day. An aide said he now sleeps easily without sedatives and that he no longer requires anti-coagulant medicine.

Solons Tackle Gov. Williams' 'Action' Plans

Safety, Mental Health Top Agenda; Politics Shadows Session

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Legislature came back today for a special session ringing with political overtones for the 1956 campaign.

Democratic Gov. Williams presented the lawmakers with an "action" program on highway safety, mental health and teacher pay raises which will cost about 16 million dollars for the remaining eight months of the fiscal year.

The extent to which the Republican-controlled Legislature adopts or rejects the Williams' program may influence the 1956 state campaign vitally.

Having already "delivered" his message by mail five days in advance, Williams contented himself with a brief, 10-minute address to the joint House and Senate.

Republican leaders said they would not know until they held party caucuses later today how long the session would last.

But the betting was heavy that the lawmakers will recess Wednesday or Thursday and return next Tuesday for final decisions.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, ignoring an invitation to hear Williams' review his program, hastened off yesterday afternoon to inspect the Farmington Children's Home which Williams wants to buy and remodel at a cost of $1,160,000.

The same committee planned to go to Battle Creek this afternoon to inspect the Idle Ft. Custer Station Hospital which Williams wants to lease.

Both institutions are key points in his $2,500,000 program to absorb 1,221 mentally retarded children who are waiting admission to overcrowded state hospitals.

Rep. Joseph M. Warner (R-Ypsilanti), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said his group probably would want to inspect the two institutions also, but he was figuring on a long weekend recess to provide the opportunity.

Urges Speedup in UF Returns

Critchfield Points Out Need to Reach Goal by Thursday Deadline

Speedup in United Fund returns is vital if the drive is to reach its $562,175 goal by Thursday's deadline, Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield said today.

Collections reached the 75 per cent mark yesterday with $424,447 pledged, he stated.

Greater returns are expected today and Wednesday as several large firms complete they employ solicitation.

Safe Driving Campaign Planned in City Dec. 1

President Eisenhower's second, annual nation-wide Safe Driving Day will be Dec. 1, the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce announced today.

In Pontiac, chairman of the program for the second time will be Clyde Haskill, also chairman of the Safety Committee.

"S-D Day last year proved a terrific success," Haskill said today. "We found this out: 15 days before and 15 days after S-D Day, the accident rate in Michigan dropped."

"Now, we know that if the State of Michigan can go for one 24-hour period without a traffic death, the same can be accomplished on a yearly basis."

"Provided, of course, that John Q. Public is ready to do his part."

"As important as the number of traffic deaths cut down is the fact that several hundred people, who were statistically due to be injured in accidents, weren't hurt."

"We hope the officials and citizens of Pontiac will cooperate in making S-D Day a greater success than ever."

Commissioners Named by Judge

3 to Set Land Value for Gas Pipeline After Action by Court

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday confirmed appointment of three commissioners to set values on land sought by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for pipeline right-of-way.

They are A. Floyd Blakeslee, a Pontiac attorney, George Lehman, a Royal Oak realtor and Pleasant Ridge Mayor Arthur C. Kuhn.

Lehman was appointed after Ernest Skinner, of Royal Oak, said he would not be able to serve.

The commission will attempt to set fair values on land the owners of which have refused to sell at the price offered them by Consolidated.

The company says the land is needed to lay a pipeline 25.5 miles from Willow Run, Washtenaw County, to a point in Milford Township, to the point in Milford Township, to a point in Milford Township, to a point in Milford Township.

Pennsylvania Leans to Dr. Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA (U) — Some Republican leaders are discussing the idea of entering the name of President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, in Pennsylvania's presidential preference primary next year.

Pennsylvania Republicans, who confirmed such reports, emphasized yesterday the proposal is only in the "talking stage." Dr. Eisenhower declined comment.

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell said as far as he knew the idea had not as yet been discussed with Dr. Eisenhower, the youngest of the five Eisenhower brothers and president of Pennsylvania State University.

Financier Refuses Grand Rapids Post

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — Financier Frank D. McKay yesterday asked to be dropped from consideration in connection with plans to redevelop the city's lower downtown business district.

A mayor's study committee last week recommended a vast redevelopment plan for the district—termed a blighted area. McKay was asked to head a group to investigate the project, which he estimated at ranging from $30 million to $100 million, and to offer suggestions for the proposed redeveloping.

In a letter to committee chairman John Vandenberg, McKay said his association with the program had stirred up political rumormongers. McKay, formerly a leading political figure, said:

"I'm not going to get involved in their (the city commission) politics. Life is too short and I'm too old."

Jackson Prison Term Given Parole Violator

Elmer E. Turner, who was returned here from California on a violation of probation charge, was sentenced to 3 to 15 years in Jackson state prison yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick.

Turner, 26, of 34 Bellevue, was placed on three-year probation for breaking and entering July 12, 1954. He broke probation by leaving the state.

Rider Gives Cabbie $99 Fare Too Much

BOSTON (AP)—There's a $100 bill waiting at police headquarters for the man who overpaid his taxi bill by $99.

Cab driver William Epstein of Revere gave the $100 to police yesterday with an explanation of how he got it.

He said a man handed it to him for a 65 cents fare. Neither noticed the denomination, so Epstein returned 35 cents change and drove off.

Later he discovered it was a $100 bill and not a $1 bill.

Police said they are holding the money for its rightful owner.

Arrested Scotch Price Dissenter Clear of Defraud

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A New York sporting goods distributor—who went to jail rather than pay $28 for a fifth of Scotch whiskey at Ciro's night club—has been cleared of trying to defraud an inn keeper.

"Justice has been done," said Richard T. Shubert after being found innocent yesterday by a municipal court jury.

Herman Hover, owner of the plush Sunset Strip bistro, took the verdict philosophically. "Well, that was that," said Hover, who made a citizen's arrest of Shubert when the New Yorker balked last Sept. 13 at paying that much for the Scotch.

Shubert's attorney argued he just wanted an adjustment of the bill and did not intend to defraud Ciro's.

Revoked License Driver Gets Probation, Costs

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Avance Parker, 32, of 241 E. Wilson Ave., was placed on two-year probation and assessed $150 court costs by Judge George B. Hartwick.

Parker admitted Oct. 7 to driving while his license was revoked Sept. 11 in Bloomfield Township.

Survey Reveals Urgency of 6 County Water Needs

If there remained any doubt about the urgent need of an adequate water source for the metropolitan area, it should have vanished after the report on the survey just completed.

The survey was made for the Supervisors Inter-County Committee. Conducted by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission it covered Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties.

Of 295 cities, villages and townships in this area, only 10 failed to answer the questionnaire. Thirty-seven communities reported they weren't equipped to meet current water needs. One hundred others reported they have no municipal water systems at all. Fifty-eight communities reported water supplies adequate to meet present needs.

As a statement by City Manager WILLMAN indicates, Pontiac's long range water problem will not be solved until a supply is obtained from one of the Great Lakes. Pontiac got through this year only by dint of overhauling old wells and adding several new ones.

Little imagination is needed to realize what an economic disaster would result if our giant automotive industries should be forced to cease operations for lack of water.

The Supervisors Inter-County Committee is planning a more comprehensive study of the situation. Meanwhile there should be no further delay in completing the organization of the projected metropolitan area water authority, already approved by Oakland's supervisors.

Canada's Dollar

Our northern neighbor's dollar, which made history last week by slipping slightly below par at New York, has edged back to decimally above par.

What made this news worthy of comment is the fact that Canada's monetary unit hadn't been at a discount in New York for three and a half years.

Back in 1949 the parity set for the Canadian dollar was the equivalent of 90.9 U. S. cents. On September 30, 1950, however, the Ottawa government after consulting with officials of the International Monetary Fund, announced temporary abandonment of this fixed ratio. This had the effect of leaving its dollar to the forces of demand and supply.

Strange as it might seem, this decision was dictated not by any weakness but because the currency was in too strong demand. Influx of foreign funds confronted Ottawa with two serious threats. These were inflationary pressures and stability in the country's foreign exchange position.

By March 1952 the Canadian dollar had crossed the 100 cents mark and the peak was reached last January when it was quoted in New York at a premium of 31 1/4 cents. Since then it has fluctuated and lately declined slowly, largely due to a change of direction in the movement of capital, principally toward the United States.

Some fiscal experts think the time is ripe for Canada to restore the fixed exchange ratio. Others think this would be disadvantageous and that events point toward Canada's emergence into financial and industrial self-sufficiency and as an exporter of capital.

The Old Fox

America's national game lost one of its greatest figures in the death of CLARK GRIFFITH.

As a player, manager and owner of the Washington Senators, GRIFFITH contributed greatly to baseball throughout the 69 years of his active participation in it.

Born in a log cabin in Vernon County, Mo., November 20, 1869, he became interested in the game at the age of 13. The name "Old Fox" was given him by fellow players because of his smart pitching maneuvers.

After mound duty for several Midwestern amateur teams, GRIFFITH started his professional career with the old St. Louis Browns of the American Association. Later he pitched for the Boston Club in the same loop and then for the Chicago Nationals and the Senators.

In 1901 he joined a baseball rebellion which resulted in the organization of the American League. Co-founders with him were Ban Johnson. Deserved honor came to the Old Fox in 1946 when he was admitted to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

One of the finest tributes to GRIFFITH came from WILL HARRIDGE, president of the American League. Declaring that GRIFFITH was a great player and manager, HARRIDGE added that "he was even more outstanding as a league executive whose ability over the years helped build and develop the American League."

A heartwarming sidelight on GRIFFITH's private life is provided by the fact that he and Mrs. GRIFFITH, childless themselves, adopted and raised seven children.

Foreign Students Write Own Version of Value of Visits

Accidents: What happens every hunting season when both guns and hunters are loaded.

After spending three weeks in Oakland County homes, under the International Foreign Youth Exchange program, three youths now are on their way home. One of them, Naim Teeny of Lebanon, writes as follows to Mr. and Mrs. Clara Voorhees, in whose home he was a guest: "Time has gone so fast, and our departure from U.S. has come near. As time comes close, our hearts suffer more and more, for saying good-bye. In our hearts we now have the feeling that we are brothers of the same Father, and we must make our best to live peacefully in the world. May we all raise our hearts toward the Lord, asking His help."

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce reports that already 33 churches and schools and seven high school bands have indicated their intention to participate in this year's Christmas-on-Wheels parade through downtown.

Winner in last year's MAT Football Contest was Suzanne Patricia Karner of 711 Menominee Road, whose marriage to John Henry Behm of Watkins Lake took place Saturday.

Lansing's new civic center now is being dedicated in a week-long program. This multi-million development was started when the late C. W. (BUD) Otto was executive director of the Chamber of Commerce there, and was his pet project. Mr. Otto held a similar position in Pontiac several years ago.

A card just received from Harley Montpelier of Lake Orion says: "The only game I saw when I went hunting was a skunk—and he fired first."

A small balloon released at a homecoming at Black River Falls, Wis., was found a few days later by Ross Pettibone of Metamora, near the Oakland-Lapeer County line.

While Michigan people are considering a speed limit of 60 or 65 miles an hour, word comes from my Tokyo scout that the limit there is 50 kilometers, or about 35 miles per hour.

In Pontiac for a few days, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Herbert Fugmire, now of Winona Lake, Ind., marvel at the progress our city has made since they were in charge of the Salvation Army here 30 odd years ago. They are particularly impressed that the spiritual life has kept pace with its industrial development.

"All I Want Is to Ask if They're Running"

David Lawrence Says:

Democrats Emphasizing Negative Outlook Concerning Second Term for Eisenhower

WASHINGTON — Some Democratic senators are scared lest President Eisenhower recover his health to the point where he can be urged to run again for the presidency.

Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois, Democrat, told a press conference the other day, for example, that Republicans "ought to be indicted for murder in the first degree" if they "force" Eisenhower to seek a second term.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, Democrat, says it is "inadvisable" to suggest that President Eisenhower, if not well enough to serve his fourth year might resign, or that, conversely, if he is well enough to stay in office a fourth year he could serve a second term.

What the Tennessee senator thinks is that there should be only one kind of comment on the President's health—a negative one. Apparently he doesn't want Eisenhower to run again, and neither does Senator Douglas.

MANY MEN WORKING But there are lots of people who feel that a heart attack does not necessarily disqualify a man from serving his countrymen in the Presidency and there are physicians of note who concur.

Many men are today active in business and are carrying big responsibilities, though they suffered heart ailments of a serious nature. The President of the United States has a big job but he can also be protected against the time wasting ceremonies of his office and participation in celebrations of various kinds.

At this time when the whole world looks to President Eisenhower for guidance in the complicated business of the "cold war," it is natural that the people who want his steady hand in the White House should hope that the heart attack will not deprive them of his services.

HE WOULD RESIGN If Eisenhower is seriously ill, he is the kind of man who wouldn't stay in office a single day beyond the time the physicians told him so. He would resign.

The Constitution takes account of that possibility by mentioning the word "resignation." In fact, Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, said in 1948 before the election that if Dewey won, President Truman should resign. His concern rightly was with the gap in government such as occurred when Hoover was defeated and for four months there was uncertainty about the monetary policies of the incoming Roosevelt administration.

What Fulbright was concerned about held good in a case of disability or a fatal illness that might strike a president. It is that there should be no interregnum of uncertainty—a period in which the whole world is in doubt as to executive policies in Washington.

Because Eisenhower has been making such a splendid recovery, his many friends are hopeful he will run again. That wish comes from "right-wingers" and "left-wingers" and the only people who seem to be anxious for that not to happen are the Democrats.

politicians with a stake in the outcome. They want the eliminated because they think the Democrats then will win. They are mistaken, of course, because if the election were held today any Republican nominee would win and would carry both houses of Congress.

Actually the Democrats might make a stronger campaign against Eisenhower if he runs than against his record if he doesn't run because he would still be popular but in no position due to illness to answer his critics on the stump.

That would arouse resentment among the voters and tend to benefit the Republican ticket. (Copyright 1953, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Half of American Youths Fail in Chinning Tryouts

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D. Michigan reader, telling how her parents lived to the age of 87 and 89 without any teeth or dentures, mentioned that her father could chin himself more times than any of his teenage grandsons could.

Oh, come, now, isn't that going a little too far? These grandsons, I take it, were or are Americans. Surely, Ma'am, you can't expect young Americans to chin themselves, run a mile, turn handspikes and flips and all that there stuff? That sort of thing just isn't done by the nifty-pammy youth of today.

In tests of physical strength of boys from 6 to 16 years of age less than a tenth of the European boys failed to pass, while half of the American boys failed. We've found so few boys can chin now that, we've discontinued the test. I said the director of physical education and athletics of one American university.

The professor of physical education at another said "They still have leg muscles, but muscles in the shoulder girdle and in the arms have almost disappeared."

Isn't it about time to squelch for good and all for the good of all, instead of the few, the evil of "varsity" football in our high schools? Even if football "training" is beneficial for boys who escape injuries, the benefit is restricted to the few at the expense of the many.

That is to say, not the times and dollars the student body is virtually forced to cough up for football equipment, but the cutting of classes and the neglect of proper high school activities in order to pamper and glorify the prima donnas of football.

It is painfully obvious, from the fact that so many boys can't chin themselves nowadays, that physical education in America is a costly farce.

EXPERTS WORRIED No wonder the experts are worried about what is going to happen to America in the coming Olympic games.

This shameful fact is something for every American to ponder: Nearly four and a third millions of men from 18 to 25 years old were given pre-induction physical examinations in the seven years from 1948 to 1955. More than half of them, 2,340,000 were rejected on physical and mental grounds.

No, I'm afraid I can't chin myself now. I mean I'm afraid to try. I'm afraid the attempt might aggravate the pain in the neck I've had since I last did my morning rolls, three or four weeks ago. Whatever slight injury I sus-

'Believer in Clean Sport' Grateful to Republicans

Letters will be sent when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer requests unless the letter is critical to its subject.

Well, this is another first for the Republicans... cleaning up the so-called sport of boxing. This disgraceful thing has been going on for years, and no one did anything about it until they got into power.

We sure hope they clean it up once and for all and keep it clean. Now can they call it "sport" when they have in it many people with criminal records?

Republicans have the numbers racket pretty well cleaned up, too. There is still a little more time, and that will have to go, too, as did bingo.

TV has done lots to help clean up boxing. People can see for themselves, unlike when we depended on radio. Then they could say anything and get away with it. Now you can see what's going on and what a shameful sport it is.

Hal Boyle Says:

Poverty Placed Its Mark Upon Tennessee Williams

NEW YORK (U.S. Today's success story: Tennessee Williams, who once wrote purely from hunger, has become one of the golden boys of the American writing scene.

He has been so successful that his friends have given him a new nickname: "Tennessee Millions."

At 41 the prolific author has turned out nine full-length plays, a volume of verse, two volumes of stories, and a collection of a dozen shorter plays called "Twenty-seven Wagons Full of Cotton."

He has completed for Paramount Pictures a film script of "The Rose Tattoo," starring Burt Lancaster and Anna Magnani—it is the third of his dramas he has adapted for the movies—and his "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is a top Broadway hit.

Most successful people credit their rise to hard work. Williams feels that his own fame came, in large measure, from the revolt stirred in him by his discovery of poverty and what it did to people.

Born in the Episcopal rectory of his grandfather in Columbus, Miss., he moved at the age of 12 to St. Louis, where his father worked as a salesman for a shoe firm. The family lived in one of a row of ugly brick apartment buildings "the color of dried blood and mustard."

In the South the young writer had been unaware of any distinctions based on wealth. "But," he says, "we suddenly discovered there were two kinds of people. The rich and the poor, and that we belonged more to the latter."

"If I had been born to this situation I might not have resented it deeply. But it was forced upon my consciousness at the most sensitive age of childhood."

The shock resulted in a rebellion and a social consciousness which Williams feels still mark most of his writing. But the shock paid off well.

"I am glad that I received this bitter education," Williams once wrote, "for I don't think any writer has much purpose back of him unless he feels bitterly the inequities of the society he lives in."

"I have no acquaintance with political and social dialectics. If you ask what my politics are, I am a Humanitarian."

How did he get his odd first name? He picked it out himself. As a boy he had published some lyric poetry, which he later decided was pretty awful, under his birth name—Thomas Lanier Williams.

"I felt the name had been compromised," he says, "so I changed it to Tennessee Williams, the justification being mainly that the Williamses had fought the Indians for Tennessee and I had already discovered that the life of a young writer was going to be something similar to the defense of a stockade against a band of savages."

A depression product, it took Williams seven years to earn a college degree. Twice his health broke down in years during which he worked all day and wrote most of the night. He held such odd jobs as elevator operator, waiter, cashier, shoe firm clerk, teletype operator and movie usher.

"But there was never a moment when I did not find life to be immeasurably exciting to experience and witness," he recalls, "however difficult it was to sustain."

His bread crumbs days ended when he left a $17 a week movie usher job for a Hollywood writing assignment at $250 a week.

Williams now can afford to travel anywhere he pleases. An associate recently said: "The first money Tennessee earned as a writer was $25 for three sonnets. Now he gets at least $10 a word."

That's not bad—considering that President Calvin Coolidge when he left the White House received only a dollar a word for writing a daily column!

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Psychosomatic Medicine' Brings Cure for Paralysis of Hand After Wedding

Roberta also has a paralyzed right hand, but it was cured almost instantly. This is a perfect teaching case to illustrate what modern physicians call "psychosomatic medicine."

Scrapbook these actual office cases, for they give you a chance to compile your own textbook of practical psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case P-366: Roberta R., aged 23, is a new bride.

"But my right hand is paralyzed," she protested unhappily. "It was perfectly normal until after my marriage last week."

"But the very next morning when I woke up, it was numb. And it has been that way ever since."

"Dr. Crane, I am alarmed, for I don't want to have a paralyzed hand all my life."

"Is it polo or what? Please tell me what to do to make it well."

Roberta has figuratively cut off her offending hand!

There is an age-old tendency in the human race to pass the buck and thus blame segments of our anatomy for our own wrong behavior.

For example, there have been occasional instances where murderers were later so remorseful that they actually cut off the guilty hand that had plunged the dagger into their wife or child.

With this general background, you are ready for a more detailed explanation of Roberta's complex.

PSYCHO NEUROLOGICAL Her apparent paralysis of the right hand is a psychological belation of her childhood training. For Roberta had engaged in auto erotic practices when she was about 10 years old.

The water was so hot and her mother made her keep the naughty hand immersed so long, that it was numb when Roberta finally was allowed to remove it from the pail.

Please note that this situation occurred 13 years prior to her wedding day. And ostensibly Roberta had completely forgotten it, at least until our lengthy interview.

Meanwhile, she had refrained from any further indulgence in self sex practices.

But her mind had been indelibly impressed with the guilty association of erotic stimulation, followed by numbness of the right hand.

After her marriage, this old thought association was quickly revived, and although her erotic stimulation was now legitimate and a normal function of marriage, her right hand suddenly became numb.

For subconsciously she was again imposing a penalty upon herself, as her mother had so drastically taught her, 13 years earlier.

When I explained the background of her case and positively told her that her right hand would now move normally and she would have full feeling in it, sure enough, her hand was O.K.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c. Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets. Sashabaw PTA Fair Scheduled

Group Plans Multiple Activities for Friday Event

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Friday is the day set for the annual Sashabaw PTA Fair.

Plans for the affair, scheduled from 6 to 10 p.m., will include a talent show, country store, cake walk, fish pond, candy and home arts booth, games and refreshments. Penny votes for king and queen finalists will decide the winners.

Laria, the TV Police Dog, will make an appearance with her owner-trainer, Joseph Depa. The dog does 13 acts with no oral commands.

Co-chairmen of the fair are Mrs. Jay Davidson and Mrs. Virginia Wilburg. Proceeds of the event will go for new playground equipment for the school on Maybee Road between Sashabaw and Clintonville Roads.

Auto Agency Opened by Major in Milford

MILFORD—A former Major in the United States Air Force stationed in Germany, has purchased the Graham-Wight Ford Agency in Milford.

Tom Bohr, 36, is planning a celebration for Friday night to announce the change in ownership. The agency opened in 1940.

Beginning at 8 o'clock, a 5-piece band will play for modern and old time dancing, in the display lobby of the company at 120 S. Main street. There will be gifts for everyone, and refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

Bohr, a former Detroit dealer, is married, has three children and is in the process of building a new home in Milford.

Slate Annual Bazaar

CLARKSTON—Joseph C. Bird, Chapter OES will hold its annual bazaar Friday at the Clarkston Masonic Temple. The event will start at 5:30 p.m. with a bake sale, fancy goods and homemade candy for sale. A card party will follow at 8 p.m.

Women Slate Pot-Luck

IMLAY CITY—The Women's Union of First Baptist Church will hold its annual potluck luncheon at 1 p.m., Thursday, Mrs. George Sutton, Flint, will be guest speaker.

Hold Saddle Club Party

LAPEER—A masked Halloween party for the Lapeer Saddle Club was held Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fox.

DR. ROBERT H. BAKER

Principal speaker at the dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Veterans' Building in Imlay City, which will launch the drive for a $350,000 hospital in the area, will be Dr. Robert H. Baker of Pontiac, President of the Michigan State Medical Society. The proposed medical institution will be located between the villages of Romeo and Almont and will serve an area of 15 miles in radius.

Council Deeds Field After Hearing

ROMEO—The Village Council was authorized to give the Board of Education of the Romeo Community School District a deed to the old Athletic Field following a public hearing held last night.

The ends of East Washington and Harriet Streets extend onto the field, and it was necessary for the council to conduct the hearing in order to close the unused portions of the two streets before it could issue the deed.

An offer to purchase the field from the Romeo Lions Club has been accepted by the Board of Education. Now that the way is clear to complete the transaction, the local service club hopes to continue its original plan to develop the sites for use by children and adults of the community.

The council then drafted a resolution to begin blacktopping the Municipal Parking Lot on East St.

Clair Street. Curbed gutters and parking meters will also be installed.

Village president, Philip M. Stone, was authorized to sign the Michigan State Highway Contract before the close of the hour long session.

Trinity Methodist Bazaar, Supper to Be Saturday

KEEGO HARBOR—Trinity Methodist WSCS members have set Saturday for their annual Harvest Supper and bazaar.

A home style turkey dinner will be served at 5, 6 and 7 p.m. Mrs. Harold Grove is in charge of the dinner.

Fancy work, Christmas cards, aprons, homemade baked goods and candy will be on display and ready for sale at 2 p.m.

Carry Bond Issue in Troy Township

TROY TOWNSHIP—The proposed $1,500,000 school bond issue was carried yesterday in Troy Township with a vote of 383 yes and 237 no.

The bond was proposed to supplement school needs. Planned are two elementary school additions, one new elementary school, an extensive addition to the junior high school, and an addition to the high school and remodeling of existing facilities there.

The bond payment will be set up for payment over a 25 year period. The longer pay off period was selected to keep the tax requirement low.

Lakeville Methodists to Hold Family Night

LAKEVILLE—The Lakeville Methodist Church will hold family night Thursday starting at 6:30 p.m. in the church basement with a cooperative supper.

The evening's entertainment will be a film "God Is My Landlord." The public is invited to see the film.

Choir Honors Organist

MARLETTE—Forty-five members and friends of the Methodist Church choir honored Mrs. Lionel Thompson who is taking leave of absence after ten years of playing organ for the Methodist Church.

Install County OES Officers

Mrs. Lloyd Sibley of Clarkston was installed as president of the Oakland County Assn. at Royal Oak Masonic Temple on Thursday afternoon.

Serving with her for the coming year are Mrs. Walter Weitzel of Birmingham, first vice-president; Keith Agay of Walled Lake, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Voll of Rochester, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harry Long of South Lyon, marshal; Wilma Bendle of Holly, chaplain; and Mrs. Arnold Tomke of Southfield, organist.

Mrs. Esther Taylor of Hazel Park chapter, retiring president, presided at the business session and closed the afternoon session.

Mrs. Frank Shotwell, past president of the Oakland County Assn. from Commerce opened the afternoon session.

Genevieve McRobbie Wed to Detroit Man in Marlette

MARLETTE—The Bethel Church was the scene Saturday night of the marriage of Genevieve Jeanette McRobbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McRobbie and Orville Burton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Burton of Detroit.

The bride's floor length gown was of nylon lace and net over satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried white carnations and pink roses.

Jacquelin McRobbie was maid of honor for her sister, and Evelyn McKaye was bridesmaid.

The bridegroom's attendants were Henry Miller and Sonny Davis and seating the 150 guests were LeRoy Hager, John Carroline and Carl Hager.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

Named at Honors Day

CLARKSTON—Jo Ann Valentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Valentine of 6423 Andersonville, Clarkston, was named at the Honors Day program held recently at Kalamazoo College. Miss Valentine, a sophomore at Kalamazoo, achieved a grade-point average above 3.75 for her course work last year, and placed in the upper ten per cent of her class.

County Births

Almont—A daughter, Peggy Ellen, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lecky of Romeo. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Briedenbach of Attica are parents of a new daughter, Loretta Lynn.

A son, Patrick James, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Louie of Lam.

AVON PLAYERS REHEARSE—Rochester's theater group has chosen for its first production of the season "The Heiress," two-act play by Ruth and Augustus Goetz. Curtain will go up at 8:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday at Rochester High Auditorium. Rehearsing a scene here are (left to right) Mrs. Henry Purdy, Mrs. Richard Jerome and Mrs. Don Baldwin.

Auburn MOMS Slate Saturday for Annual Event

AUBURN HEIGHTS—MOM's unit No. 19 of Auburn Heights will hold its annual bazaar and ham and turkey supper at the old fire hall on Auburn avenue Saturday night.

Booths for the bazaar will open at 2 p.m. Serving for dinner will begin at 5 p.m.

Other MOM's units are invited to attend. The next regular meeting of the group will be Monday.

ROMEO—The 15th anniversary of the organization of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church here will be celebrated at 8 p.m. Wednesday evening. The scene of the festivities will be the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Members of Circle one will act as hostesses for the evening. Mrs. Elmore Higby will be the program leader.

Among those who will be honored at the celebration are past residents of the Society. Special invitations have also been issued to charter members.

County Calendar

Imlay City—The Women's Study Club will meet today with Mrs. Howard Headley. The program will be "Atomic Energy for Peace." The committee is Mrs. Carey E. Terry and Mrs. George Cross.

The New Era Club will meet Wednesday evening in the Community Room. Marilyn Ahrens of the Detroit Edison Company will speak and show film. Mrs. Donovan Brown is program chairman.

Four Towns—Naomi Circle is meeting Wednesday morning at 10 at the home of Mrs. Douglas Shatto on Lao Lock Loehaven to finish up plans for the Saturday Bazaar.

Girl Scout leaders are meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Allen, Cooley Lake Road at 8 p.m. Monday.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Union Lake Fire Department will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. Harry Burgin, Peoria. The group is making plans for the Christmas season.

Don't Tip Housemaid After Meal

By EMILY POST
"The other evening, I had a heated discussion with a friend on the subject of tipping. The question concerned the propriety of tipping the maid in a friend's house when invited there to dinner.

"My friend said it is considered an 'international' custom to tip the waitress for the additional work involved. I said that it is improper to do this and, in fact, might be indirectly considered an insult to one's hostess in regard to her not paying an adequate wage.

"My suggestion was to send a little gift (not necessarily personal) the next time you are invited to dinner. I would appreciate hearing from you on this much discussed problem."

Answer: In different degrees you are both wrong. A guest is never expected to tip anyone after merely dining or lunching in someone's house. It is an obligation to tip all who have waited on you when you take leave after being a houseguest for overnight or longer.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When the main course of a meal has been eaten, it was always my understanding that the knife and fork were laid side by side on the plate with the prongs of the fork pointing up.

"My husband always leaves the fork with the prongs down. He says that he was taught to do this at boarding school and that it means you have finished eating. Which is correct?"

Scavenger Hunt Highlights Party

A scavenger hunt was the highlight of a Halloween party held at the home of Grace Campbell on Preston avenue Saturday evening. Mrs. Robert Stuart, Joyce, Wilton and Betty Allison were co-hostesses for the affair.

Guests attending were Richard Noble, Bob Stuart, Bob Peterson, Pete Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thomas, Chuck Diss, Jane Tuohy, Jan Fine and Beverly Carrie.

Others attending were Jerry Bradley, Donna Linebaugh, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, Helen Wesch, Mr. and Mrs. Don Keener and Gailie Palala.

Barbara McQuinn, Joan Sebit, Elizabeth Thomas, Marguerite Windate, Florence Mallett, Carol Fox, Warren Wiggins, Bob Thompson, Don Yenier, Art Hart, Ron May, Jerry Hall and Terry Kelly completed the list.

The 50th anniversary celebration of the founding of Sigma Delta Teacher's sorority was held Saturday at Devon Gables. Mrs. C. A. Harris of East Iroquois road, president; Mrs. Peter Vandermade of Detroit, charter member of the sorority, and Mrs. Elma Waterman of Green street (left to right) chairman of the affair, met for a friendly chat just before dinner.

Brrr! Style World Sees Cold Winter

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The weather prophets are doing a lot of hedging these days about what kind of a winter it's going to be. Even those traditional weather indicators, the woolly bears, seem to be all confused.

At last report half of the so-called fuzzy-wuzzies had wide stripes and half had narrow stripes, and it looked like the beginning of a cold war on the weather front.

As for me, I'll ignore the woolly bears and take my weather predictions from the coat-and-suit manufacturers. And according to the boys in the garment district, this is going to be a winter to remember.

For the first time since most of them can remember, retailers around the country are ordering winter coats for January delivery. Now this amounts to revolution in the garment industry, where they sell winter coats in June and spring dresses in November.

Nobody seems to know quite why this sudden demand for winter coats has arisen, except that many people are better weather prophets than woolly bears or moss on trees. And any merchandising man can tell you that a store buyer has to have a sixth sense about what people are going to wear.

Designer Vera Maxwell says stores are reordering heavy wool dresses and coats right now, while she is opening her spring collection, and adds:

"It's enough to drive you crazy. Maybe if we do have a hard winter it will bring the seasons back to normal in the fashion business.

I've always thought it's idiotic, anyway, to sell winter clothes in May and June and summer clothes in January."

"We've been selling full length mink coats all summer in preparation for cold weather ahead," she says. "We've sold more fur coats this year than ever—and we've hardly had the first frost yet."

Just to wrap it all up, Samuel Schulman, president of the Associated Fur Mrs. says happily:

"Already people have bought more fur coats than ever before, and the winter isn't started yet. Fur coat sales are 15 per cent ahead of last year. Stores are preparing for a long, cold and busy winter. This year people who never owned a fur coat before are buying them."

The ninth annual Fall Vocal Festival will be presented by the Pontiac High School Vocal Department Nov. 7 at the high school.

Maynard Klein, director of choirs at University of Michigan, will be guest conductor. The following numbers will be sung by the massed chorus of 700 voices.

Psalm 150.....Casar Frank Ave Verum Corpus.....Mozart
Lovely Appearance (Redemption).....Gounod
The Bartered Bride (opening Chorus).....Smetana
Israel Home in the Lord.....Honegger
How Low Elder.....Vaughan Williams
Sine Nomine.....Vaughan Williams
Just as the Tide was Flowing.....Vaughan Williams
Awake (Die Meistersinger).....Wagner

Special groups who will also appear will include the Pontiac High School A Cappella Choir as well as some of the small vocal ensembles from the department.

The Combined Girls' Glee Club and the Combined Boys' Glee Club will each sing two numbers.

Tickets may be obtained from the Vocal Department office or from students of the Vocal Department.

Children of the Owen-Wever community enjoyed a Halloween party Monday evening sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation.

Mrs. Robert Baldwin was general chairman of the affair assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Giles.

A film on fire prevention shown by Mrs. Gordon Rice, and a costume parade followed with Mrs. Leah Hervert and Mrs. Cleatus Garner in charge.

Costumes were judged by Kenneth Marlin, Oliver Drumheller, Mrs. Carl Hutchinson.

Prizes were awarded Lois Lucier, Larry Carson and Linda Roehm in the 5 to 9-year-old group. In the 10 to 12 age group Judy Martin, Pamela Morris and Jacqueline Morris were awarded prizes.

A mystery prize was won by Joan Susan Allen, a member of the kindergarten class of Owen-Wever.

Refreshments were furnished by the Owen-Wever Community Club. Mrs. Elmer Vick and Mrs. Charles Nelson were in charge of registrations.

But she was "quite unhappy" in the home town and decided to strike out for New York. She was smart, good-looking, practical and ambitious. She borrowed money from her dad and headed for the big town.

She tried for a modeling job. For three months she couldn't get any work so she switched agencies. She joined up with the important Ford Model Agency, run by Eileen Ford, a former model, and her husband, Gerard.

6000 1ST MONTH
Jean began to click at once and she has been going great ever since. The first month $600. She promptly paid back the money she borrowed from her father.

6000 1ST MONTH
Jean began to click at once and she has been going great ever since. The first month $600. She promptly paid back the money she borrowed from her father.

Today she is just about tops in her profession and one of the most sought-after models in the business.

"I work from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., keeping appointments here and there around town," said Miss Patchett. "I work three and one-half days a week."

"No, I'm not a $60 an hour model—I'm $50 an hour. I could get $60. But $50 an hour is enough. If you take $60 it puts you in a higher bracket, tax-wise. If I took $60 I'd have to take off another day a week so as not to get up into that higher bracket, and I won't do that."

"NOTHING OFF-BEAT"
Questioned about her private life, she hastened to say there was "nothing off-beat" about it.

"There wasn't anything off-beat before I was married, either," she smiled. "I ran my business professionally even when I was single."

She said she and her banker-husband lead "quite normal" lives. They go to the movies a great deal and rarely visit night clubs. They eat home five nights a week. Jean says she can cook "pretty good—considering the little time I have to devote to it."

Her hobby is golf. The best score she ever shot, however, was 105. She and her husband golf together in West Hampton, L.I., where they have what Jean describes as "a little house."

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac.

Asked what is her ambition, now that she has done so well as a model, she replied:

"Only to have a family. I have no ambition to go into the movies, or anything like that. I have been asked to go into the movies about twelve times but I turned the offers down."

STOPPED ON STREET
Commenting on the anonymity of fashion models in spite of the fact that their faces are familiar to the readers of newspaper and magazine advertisements, Miss Patchett said:

"That's where we've got it on the movie stars. We keep it professional-like. And yet I am often stopped on the street and asked if I don't pose for the magazines."

She added that she doesn't have time to answer her fan mail.

As she put it:

"I haven't time to write to my own Mother."

Amaranth Officials Pay Visit

Members of Esther Court 13 Order of the Amaranth received their official visit from members of the Grand Chapter, when they met for dinner Friday evening.

Mrs. E. A. Pearson, grand royal matron and John Herr, grand royal patron were present as were Mrs. Harvey Whetzel of Mt. Clemens and Mrs. Lionel Robertson of Lincoln Park.

Guests were present from courts in Flint, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Dearborn, Redford, Lincoln Park, Detroit, Mt. Clemens and Windsor, Ont.

Mrs. Harley Bowers, Mrs. E. J. Ziem and Mrs. Benjamin Holland have been invited to take part in friendship night in Windsor, Ont. Nov. 18.

Bonnie Greene Plights Torth in Ferndale Rite

Bonnie Jean Green of Ellwood avenue became the bride of Christian Leonard Hansen Jr. at the Ferndale Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Green of San Bernardino, Calif. are the parents of the recent bride and Mr. and Mrs. Christian Leonard Hansen of Ferndale are the parents of the bridegroom.

A silk velvet gown was chosen by the bride. Her flaring skirt swept into a cathedral-length train. The over dress was of embroidered tulle with a short apron front.

Mr. Earl King of Ferndale, Sharon Lee Green of San Bernardino, Marjorie E. Green of Birmingham, Ann L. Carter of Detroit and Mrs. Harry Nicholson were the bridesmaids.

LATRON CHOOSES VELVET
The matron of honor wore a yellow velvet gown. The other attendants wore gowns in shades of rust, gold, toast and champagne. Cindy Sue Hansen was flower girl.

Earl King of Ferndale served as best man. Ushers were Jack Ruppert of Ferndale, William Buey of Hazel Park, William Cosmbe of Detroit, Fred Allison of Highland Park and Jackie Roy of Ferndale was ring bearer.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the Sept. 17 ceremony.

The new Mrs. Hansen is a graduate of Highland Park Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Hansen, currently stationed with the U. S. Army in Alaska, will continue his dentistry studies in California where the couple will live on his discharge.

Marriage Vows Repeated by Suzanne M. Fairbanks

In an 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony Oct. 22 in the First Assembly of God Church, Suzanne Martha Fairbanks became the bride of Robert Bruce Fields.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Jane Fairbanks of Walled Lake and Henry Fairbanks of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Fields of Lincoln Avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

A floor-length gown of French Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil was secured by a Mary Queen of Scots cap trimmed with seed pearls.

A double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry, and she carried her prayerbook on which an orchid was arranged with orange blossoms and ivy.

Joan Gore of Walled Lake was maid of honor wearing a floor-length gown of rose velvet with a matching headpiece. She carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Robbie Shahan, niece of the bridegroom, served the bride as flower girl and David Fairbanks, the bride's brother, was ringbearer.

Performing the duties of best man was Len Drake of Walled Lake. Howard and Nelson Fields acted as the guests.

Mrs. Fairbanks was wearing a pink satin sheath dress with matching accessories when she received her guests at the reception held in Knights of Pythias Hall immediately following the ceremony. An orchid corsage completed her costume.

A beige lace dress with matching accessories was chosen by the bridegroom's mother. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Glamor Pays Off to Tune of $50-an-Hour for New York Fashion Model

This is the second of ten articles by a famed reporter on the professional and private lives of America's top models.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
Glamor plays off.

At least it does for sleek-looking Jean Patchett, the "92-cent-a-minute" New York fashion model whose first job was in a grocery store in her home town of Preston, Md.

Patchett, as she is known in the trade, is just about the "No. 1 model" in town, although there are several others who might dispute this envied distinction. She makes $30 an hour posing for fashion advertisements and is in such demand she could step her rate up to $60 an hour if she wanted to.

She is referred to by some competent judges in the profession as "the queen of the models."

In six, 5 feet 9 and weighs 117 pounds in her stocking feet. She always looks as if she had just emerged from the bathtub. She has blonde hair, dark brown eyes and photographic features.

Virtually every magazine on the nation's newsstands carries advertisements which are glamorized by the face and form of the stunning-looking Jean. She has "what it takes" to show off an expensive mink stole, a Paris-inspired gown, an opera coat or a pair of spike-heeled sandals. She looks classy in a limousine, too, or at the wheel of a motor boat.

DOZEN PERSONALITIES
Jean is as versatile as she is photogenic. She seems to have the ability to assume a dozen different personalities in an incredible short space of time.

I had an 11:45 a.m. appointment to interview Miss Patchett at Sonoroff's Photographic Studio in Manhattan, where she was due to pose before the cameras for a variety of fashion pictures at noon.

She showed up right on time. "I'm always on time," she said, in her brisk, business-like way. "I think when you are paid 98 cents a minute—or is it 92 cents?—you ought to be on time. It's an insult to be late for any appointment."

As she deftly applied her make-up before a mirror in her dressing room, Miss Patchett reeled off some facts about herself and her job.

HUSBAND A BANKER
She said she is 29 years old and happily married. Her husband is Louis Auer, a New York banker. They were married four years ago in the Church of the Ascension in Manhattan. They have no children as yet.

In response to questions, Miss Patchett said:

"I love modeling. I adore New York. I wouldn't be modeling if I didn't like it."

business. It's rather exciting. Of course, there's a bit of tension in it at times.

"But it enables you to make your own life. Now that I'm doing well in the profession, and am in demand, I don't have to work if I don't want to. I can write my own ticket, pick my own spots."

TRAVELS ABROAD
"Modeling has its alluring angles. It has paid me well and enabled me to see all kinds of interesting places. In my modeling for the fashion magazines I've had trips to Paris, to Spain, Mexico, Peru, Cuba, Nassau, Bermuda, Canada and elsewhere."

Jean's life-story to date is that of a small-town girl who made good in the big-time. She was born in Preston, Md., population 395, the daughter of J. Frank Patchett, a plumbing contractor. She has two sisters and a brother all married, with children.

"This sounds like a tape recorder," she quipped, as she reeled off the facts.

Her first job was in a grocery store in Preston. But she was pretty and she dreamed of bigger and better things. At the age of 16, she went to a secretarial school in Baltimore.

ATTENDS COLLEGE
She worked as a secretary for a year and a half but knew this was not what she wanted. She then went to Goucher's College in Baltimore, a girl's school, for three years. After this educational stint she returned to Preston.

But she was "quite unhappy" in the home town and decided to strike out for New York. She was smart, good-looking, practical and ambitious. She borrowed money from her dad and headed for the big town.

She tried for a modeling job. For three months she couldn't get any work so she switched agencies. She joined up with the important Ford Model Agency, run by Eileen Ford, a former model, and her husband, Gerard.

Michigan Still 3rd Despite Great Win Over Iowa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan, continuing a race that's knotted up like a coach's nerves on the eve of a big game, still are 1-2-3 in the national college football ratings.

The seventh weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters drew the season's heaviest vote, but it left the situation unchanged with Maryland on top by a scant handful of points.

The tabulation of 220 ballots brought Maryland 74 first-place votes and a total of 1,884 points—counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Just behind came Oklahoma with 54 firsts and 1,832 points; then Michigan with 63 for 1,774.

A week ago, with fewer votes cast, Maryland topped Oklahoma by just 30 points.

The fact that Michigan outscored Oklahoma on the first-place ballots but trailed on points, wasn't voting. Navy, soundly beaten by Notre Dame, didn't drop into the obscurity usually accorded to losers. The Tars lost their fourth-place rating to Michigan State but salvaged ninth place. The victory of the Irish impressed the voters so much that they hopped from ninth to sixth and almost drew even with UCLA.

All-winning West Virginia, a 39-0 winner over Marquette last Saturday, held onto seventh. Resurgent Georgia Tech and Texas Christian took over the 8th and 10th places the only oddity of this week's as Auburn and Southern California dropped out.

Maryland first moved to the top this year in the second regular-season poll after beating UCLA 7-0. Although the Terps have continued by imposing scores, Michigan ousted them from the top for a couple of weeks, only to drop back after two close calls.

Meanwhile it dawned on the experts that Oklahoma's "rebuilding year" team was walloping its Big 7 rivals just like the great Oklahoma teams of past years had done and the Sooners began attracting support. West Virginia, the only other unbeaten team in the Top 10, hasn't met opposition of the same calibre played by the first three.

Next Saturday may provide additional data to compare the top three teams. Missouri, which lost to Maryland by a point and to Michigan by 35 in its first two games, is Oklahoma's next opponent. Missouri finally got off the losing side last week by upsetting Colorado.

Maryland plays Louisiana State, a team which has occasionally disrupted the ranking powers but hasn't beaten them, and Michigan takes on the same sort of rival in Illinois.

The leading teams with won-lost records and first-place votes in parentheses (points on 10 for first place, 9-2, etc.):

1. Maryland (6-0) (184)
2. Oklahoma (6-0) (154)

It's all over but the shouting as far as conference play is concerned for Inter-Lakes gridders.

Colorado Aggie's Weber Gives '11' Title Dreams

DENVER (U)—The play of center Bob Weber, a key man in the Colorado A&M football team, has caught the eye of the Rocky Mountain board that nominates players for the AP All-America team.

Weber is singled out as one of the reasons the C-Aggies are undefeated in the Skyline Conference games and are close to their first league title since 1927.

"There isn't a better center in the conference," said Coach Bob Davis of the Aggies. "He's a very fine blocker and an even better tackler. He's our defensive quarterback—he calls our defensive formations."

Along with being smart in football ways, the 22-year old, 190-pound junior, is an inspirational leader for the team. Although a junior, this is Weber's third year of varsity ball. He played as a freshman and sophomore, went into service, and then returned to A&M.

"He's the take-charge guy of the

This Friday will write an anticlimax, last chapter, to the season's record book as four I-L eleven clash with non-league opponents to close out their campaigns while Berkley and Van Dyke each has 2 non-league games left.

What shouting there is to be heard seems to be coming from the direction of Van Dyke, Waterford and possibly Farmington. From Berkley only a faint soon-to-die-out yell.

There is plenty of reason for cheer around Van Dyke for the Abes took home the I-L crown last Friday night for the only perfect mark in the circuit. Skipper are proud of their first winning year in football since 1947, not to mention that Dave Freeman's boys finished close on the heels of the champion Abes.

Celebration at Farmington is for the Falcons, who pulled out of their last place finish of last year and gathered in 4th place honors this season. The dim sound from Bearland is for senior quarterback Marv Bennett who scored Berkley's lone TD of loop play against Farmington last week. Bears had a winless league season after being 1954 I-L champs.

For the remaining two schools,

Southfield and Walled Lake, there is not too much joy. Jays have nothing to sob about but head men Monte Charles has the answer why the Blue and White are not celebrating their 3rd place finish.

"The boys all felt this was our year for the title and they worked hard for it. The game with Van Dyke (Jays lost 25-7) took everything out of us," he pointed out.

Vikings from Walled Lake fell from their 1954 tie for 3rd place to finish 5th this season. Tom Evans and company will probably never forget that they came within one point of upsetting Van Dyke.

Final card for I-L teams Friday: Milford (W-O) at Waterford, 3:30; Plymouth at Walled Lake; Red Ford Union at Southfield, 3:30; Ypsilanti at Berkley; Bentley at Farmington, 3:30 and Hazel Park at Van Dyke.

International Jumping Test Highlights National Show

NEW YORK (U)—The National Horse Show, strictly for the horse set of the equine world, opened an eight-day run in Madison Square Garden today.

The official opening is set for tonight when Lieut. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, Commanding General of the 1st Army, takes the salute of the four international teams. But by that time, more than a dozen events will have been run off.

As usual, most of the attention was focused on the international jumping which pitted the United States against teams from Mexico, Ireland and Canada.

The American team, one of the youngest ever to represent the United States, is composed of Billy Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., at 29, the oldest, Hugh Wiley of Towson, Md., 23, and Charles Dench of Lake Forest, Ill., 23.

This trio won four events at the Harrisburg show last week as did the Mexicans; Steinkraus has been a member of the United States team for several years, but Wiley and Dench are newcomers.

Uncle Sam's representatives also are handicapped by the fact that their No. 1 mount, Neatula, who won many a blue ribbon as an open jumper under the name of Injun Joe, injured a foreleg at Harrisburg and will be unavailable.

Steinkraus probably will do best on his own mount, Wombat, but the other horses the Americans will ride are borrowed.

Gen. Humberto Mariles, a long-time favorite of the Garden crowds, and his Mexicans always do well here and it will be a surprise if they don't win a major share of the honors. Gen. Mariles' little mount, Chihuahua II, probably is the sharpest jumper on the international teams.

Yank Pair Pitches NY to 7-0 Victory

NAGOYA, Japan (U)—The New York Yankees trimmed today's Chunichi Dragons 7-0 behind the three-hit pitching of righthanders Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant.

It was the Yanks' seventh win without a loss in a tour of Japan. The Yankees got eight hits, including a 2-run homer into right field by first baseman Eddie Robinson in the fourth inning.

A crowd of some 30,000, including many U.S. servicemen, saw the game.

Parents of Alma College Players Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ayling of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Greenlee of Auburn Heights were dinner guests at Alma College's annual Parents Night last Saturday in Van Dusen Commons for mothers and fathers of the Scots football squad members.

Dick Ayling, star quarterback for the Scots, played only part-time in Saturday's easy 31-6 victory over Olivet and completed five passes in six attempts. John Greenlee, freshman center, was a standout performer defensively as Alma limited Olivet to 48 yards rushing.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenlee live at 3036 Margaret. The Aylings reside at 86 North Edith.

Willed Rich Estate

LOS ANGELES (U)—The $350,000 estate of Albert A. Baroni, racing owner whose Top Row won the 1936 Santa Anita Handicap, will go to his widow, Ann, and his son, Albert Jr., under a will filed yesterday.

Baroni, beset by ill health, fatally shot himself at his San Gabriel home Oct. 11.

SPARTANS' LOSS — A knee injury, suffered in the Badger game, last Saturday, has sidelined big Embury Robinson, MSU's chunky 1st string left guard. Robinson was due for an operation tomorrow on the knee, and will be out for the balance of the season, MSU officials reported today.

Creighton Hits Peak of Career

New York Hockey Star Shares Scoring Lead With Jean Beliveau

MONTREAL (U)—After knocking around for seven years in the National Hockey League, Dave Creighton looks like he's finally come into his own with the New York Rangers. He shared the scoring lead of the NHL with Montreal's Jean Beliveau today.

The 25-year-old center, who was far down the list with only 17 points in 63 games with Toronto and Chicago last season, is atop the standings with 13. Beliveau, third in the league last season, also has 13 but is listed behind Creighton with one less goal.

Creighton has 4 goals and 9 assists, Beliveau 3 and 10. Another surprise is Ron Murphy, playing on Creighton's left wing for the Rangers. He's top with 8 goals so far and is tied for third among the point-scorers with Detroit's Gordie Howe. Both have 12 points.

OCSC Riflemen Victors Over Detroit Squad

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club rifle team defeated shooters from Wayne County Sportsmen's Club last weekend at the OCSC. Host club's top five shooters posted an actual score of 921 and a handicap total of 1030 compared to Wayne's 816-955.

Kjell Danielson and Nancy Newman recorded high actual scores with 187 apiece, followed by John Treeful, 183 and Jane Martini and Robert Gubbins, 182 each. Ted Vitasinski was top handicap rifleman with a total of 221, followed by Carolyn Heary, 205, Robert Gubbins, 203, Frank Stephens, 201, and Jane Martini, 200.

Wayne rifleman were led in both actual and handicap scores by Stan Stroebel, who shot 180-200.

Stevens Point Fullback Star Sought by Pros

"Nubbs" Miller Gets Offers From Packers, Los Angeles Rams

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (U)—The town that gave Ted Fritsch to professional football is reading another explosive package and, by the looks of things, there'll be plenty of takers.

He's Norbert (Nubbs) Miller, a 185-pound fullback who has averaged 156.8 yards rushing in each of Stevens Point State College's seven consecutive victories.

The 24-year-old dynamo already has received applications from the Los Angeles Rams and the Green Bay Packers, who train here during the summer, and more are sure to come because Miller is the kind of ballplayer the pros like to get.

State Boasts Terrific Three in Scoring Race

Clark, Raterink, Raab Place 1-2-3 to Grab Small College Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For statistics, no state in the union can match the terrific three of Michigan football — Hillsdale's Nate Clark, Central Michigan's Bernie Raterink and Alma's Marv Raab.

Combined, they have scored 44 touchdowns this season for 264 points, and have rolled up well over a mile in rushing — 2,188 yards.

According to statistics compiled by the Associated Press, Clark retained his state scoring lead this week with 96 points, although Raterink moved into a challenging position by scoring four times Saturday to give him 90 points.

Raab, the 1933 state scoring champion, is a close 3rd with 78 points. Both Clark and Raab tallied twice Saturday.

Raab gained 154 yards last Saturday and moved into the ground gaining lead in the state, and possibly in the entire nation. He has gained 786 yards in 75 attempts for an average of 10.21.

Raterink is next with 732 yards in 94 carries for a 7.79 average. Clark, last week's rushing leader, made only 47 yards Saturday and slipped to third place. He has 690 yards in 125 tries for a 5.06 mark.

The national statistics aren't compiled until later in the week, but it's a safe bet that all three will be at, or near, the top in ground gaining.

All three are outstanding candidates for little All-America honors. Their last two games may decide which one, or ones, makes the team.

While these three continued their hot individual duel, Russ McLean of Ferris quietly added another touchdown Saturday to hold his No. 4 spot with 54 points.

The leading "big college" scorer is Michigan State's Jerry Flannery, who has scored four touchdowns and kicked 13 extra points. Michigan's Ron Kramer, returning to action, is next with 34 points.

The departure of the 6-foot-4, 270-pound Ricca emphasizes head coach Buddy Parker's disappointment over the trade with Washington that sent all-star Lavern Torgeson to the Redskins for Ricca and lineman Walt Yowarsky. Yowarsky was eliminated from the roster weeks ago.

Topor, 6-foot-1 and 225 lbs., was drafted by the Lions in 1933 but Uncle Sam drafted him soon thereafter and he was not discharged from the army until just prior to the start of this season.

Lions Drop Ricca; Bring Up Ted Topor

one he lost to Florida A&M in a postseason game in the Orange Bowl last December.

But there was some reason for such an unusual licking. With only 31 players to begin with, injuries to the regulars were out with injuries before the game started. They still were losing by only 26-19 late in the third quarter before four more got hurt. Florida had 72 players dressed.

Santee Poised to Battle Ban Imposed by AAU

Denies He Was Given Excessive Expenses; Plans Early Appeal

QUANTICO, Va. (U)—Marine Lt. Wes Santee, America's star miler, was poised today to fight a permanent suspension as an amateur athlete which would bar him from the 1936 Olympics.

Santee, a former University of Kansas runner, said last night he planned an immediate appeal of the suspension voted Sunday by the Missouri Valley AAU Registration Committee. It said he had accepted excessive expense allowances for competing in three California track meets last May.

An official of the registration group said it was found Santee received $1,200 in all from sponsors of the three meets, whereas AAU rules allow amateur runners up to $15 a day in expenses, plus travel costs.

Word of the suspension action reached Santee yesterday at his Marine Corps base where he is stationed. He said he had never done anything to violate amateur athletic standards.

The committee gave Santee, the American mile record holder, five days to appeal its 5-2 action to the Missouri Valley AAU's Board of Managers. Santee said at his home in Triangle, near here, he was "in the process" of preparing that appeal and he indicated it probably would be in the mail by today.

Santee did not say what the appeal would contain.

If the suspension sticks, Santee would not be able to compete in next year's Olympic games in Australia. This obviously was uppermost in his mind.

"I would hate to miss the Olympics," he told an interviewer.

The registration committee informed Santee in a telegram that it had concluded "you had violated the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union relative to expenses allowable for travel and subsistence. . . ." thus, it told Santee, he was suspended "from further competition as an amateur athlete."

The committee said its action stemmed from expenses received for competing in meets at Fresno, Los Angeles and Modesto May 11-22, 1934.

Tracy Makes Pro Star Team

Ex-Maple, Vols Ace, Only Ottawa Player on Offense Team

TORONTO (U)—Montreal Alouettes today placed seven players on the 1935 Big Four (Canadian) all-star offensive football team.

It is a squad that for the 3rd straight season includes only one Canadian, emphasizing once again the key roles that imports play in each club's attack. The Canadians, however, gave the import talent a better battle for spots on the defensive all-star and another going to a former American now ranked as a non-import.

The teams were selected for the Canadian press by football writers, sportscasters and coaches in the four league cities.

The offensive team—Flying wing—Joey Pal, Montreal; half—Johnny Pedersen, Hamilton; half—Pat Peterson, Montreal; half—Lou Kussner, Hamilton; half—Tom Tracy, Ottawa; half—Bill Adams, Toronto; half—Sam Etcheberry, Montreal; center—Tom Hugo, Montreal; guard—Herc Truitt, Toronto; guard—Bill Adams, Toronto; tackle—Tex Coulter, Montreal; tackle—Billy Shipps, Toronto; end—Red O'Quinn, Montreal; end—Al Pfeiffer, Toronto.

Injuries Hit Rams Prior to 49er Tilt

LOS ANGELES (U)—The Los Angeles Rams will be without the services of their star pass-catching end, Bob Boyd, and may not have quarterback Norman Van Brocklin when they line up here Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers.

Boyd was hurt last Sunday by a crushing tackle by George Conners of the Chicago Bears and broke the game for good. Van Brocklin hurt his passing hand early in the game but stayed on for some time. The hand is badly swollen and indications are that Billy Wade will run the Rams Sunday.

The Rams and the Baltimore Colts are tied for first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

Dodgers' Podres Up for Physical

Hero of World Series Takes Exam in Albany on November 14

WITHERBEE, N.Y. (AP)—Johnny Podres, the Brooklyn Dodgers' left-hander who pitched them to two World Series victories, has been ordered by his draft board to report for a physical examination.

Miss Mary Podres, his sister, said last night that Johnny had been ordered to take the examination in Albany Nov. 14.

Podres pitched Brooklyn to an 8-3 victory in the World Series on his 23rd birthday and went on to shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 in the final game last month.

Johnny was rejected by his selective service board because of a back injury when he was called up in 1952. He was playing with Montreal in the International League then.

Kramer, Maentz Give 'M' Biggest Punch

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Some fans would put the Wolverines back on top in the national college football ratings.

Left end Ron Kramer and right end Tom Maentz teamed up to smash Iowa 33-21, but the critics still aren't convinced.

The victory, however, kept unbeaten Michigan a solid 3rd, behind Maryland and Oklahoma, in the 7th weekly Associated Press poll.

Tit-for-Tat—Grid Style!

SMU's Mustangs in Spot to Toss Aggie Title Hopes for Resounding Title Loss

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist's Mustangs play Texas A&M Saturday in a position to do to the Aggies what was done to them last season—knock them out of a share of the Southwest Conference championship because of a tie game.

SMU had high hopes last season when it came up to the game with Baylor with only a tie on its record—a 13-13 affair played with Texas two weeks before. If the Methodists could finish the season without a loss they would win the conference title because they had licked Arkansas, which had wound up the conference race with a 5-1 record.

But Baylor rose up and whipped the Mustangs 33-21 and that settled it. Arkansas was champion and played in the Cotton Bowl.

Last week the Aggies, riding on top of the race, were battered to a 7-7 deadlock by Arkansas. They stayed in the lead because SMU, the only other unbeaten team in conference play, took a 19-18 defeat from Texas.

But just one little slip the rest of the way and Aggie championship hopes could go glimmering.

And it's high scoring the nation's football experts like, Kramer and Maentz may yet recover top rating for Michigan.

Considering the opposition, Saturday's performance against Iowa was Michigan's most dazzling offensive display of the season, and it was the 1st time this year Kramer and Maentz had been on the field together.

Calling Kramer and Maentz "twins" is no baseless comparison. Maentz stands an inch shorter than Kramer's 6-foot-3 and he weighs three pounds less than Kramer's 222.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, an All-America end himself in his playing days at Michigan, says, "They're the greatest ends in the country, and Maentz rates just a shade behind Kramer."

This comparison is a close one. Both Kramer and Maentz have played in four games out of Michigan's victory string of six. Maentz missed the Missouri and Michigan State games with an injured back. Kramer missed the Northwestern and Minnesota games with an injured chest.

Still, like twins, they both wear protective plastic shields over their injuries. Kramer has snagged nine passes over the season for 150 yards and four touchdowns. Maentz has nailed 10 passes for 258 yards and three touchdowns.

Maentz has the better yard average, Kramer has the better scoring total.

But it must be remembered that every team Kramer has played against has set up a special defense against him. Two and three men cover him every time he goes out for a pass.

On the other hand, Maentz has not been a consistent Michigan target until the Iowa game. Then he gained a lion's share (169 yards) of his yardage total and doubled the number of passes he had caught in three previous games.

Kramer keeps saying that Maentz, who worked on wind sprints all summer to improve his speed, is a "terrific end."

But Maentz looks to Kramer as the master of the situation. He told how he and Kramer teamed to stop Iowa's speedy Earl Smith. Kramer would signal Maentz on which way Smith was heading by watching where Smith would line up in the Iowa offensive formation. Then either Maentz or Kramer would cut to turn Smith back.

"And I'll take a tip from Ron on how to get rid of a tackler too," Maentz added. "did you see the straight arm he gave Jerry Holchow (the Iowa quarterback) when he was going down the sidelines to score that touchdown?"

Kramer, who also kicks Michigan's extra points, still leads the team in scoring with 34 points, 10 of them conversions.

Maentz has only his three touchdowns for 18 points, 12 of them scored against Iowa.

Kramer and Maentz both punt. Kramer led the Big Ten in that department last year with a 41 yard average. This year he has had less luck, punting 10 times for a 36.5 average. Maentz has punted 11 times for a 39.4 average.

Canadian Seeks to Crash World Speedboat Mark

PICTON, Ont., (AP)—Bill Baden of Hamilton hoped to break the world mark of 178.5 m.p.h. for motor-driven speedboats today and perhaps crash on past the 202.32 record set by Donald Campbell's turbo-jet Bluebird last July.

Baden warmed up for the attempt by cracking the Canadian record of 154.0 over a "beautifully calm" Picton Bay yesterday in his Miss Supertest II.

North American racing officials recognize the 178.6 mark set by Stan Sayers of Seattle with Sio-Mo-Shun in 1952 as the world record for speedboats, ranking Campbell's record of 200-plus in a separate category because of the Bluebird's jet power.

Baden skimmed across Picton Bay three times in breaking the Canadian record of 138.58 set by Harold Wilson of Ingersoll in Miss Canada IV in 1949. His boat, owned by Jim Thompson of London, Ont., developed motor trouble on the fourth run and was docked for repairs.
