Recount Possible in Adams Contest

DETROIT (AP) — The race for one seat on the Wayne State University Board of Governors today appeared headed for a possible recount in the aftermath of Michigan's spring election.

The Associated Press' complete unofficial tabulations showed Democrat Ralph E. Richman of Holland holding a 734-vote margin over Republican Thomas B. Adams of Bloomfield Hills for one of two board seats on the ballot.

With all of the state's 5,075 precincts reporting, Richman, a 71-year-old insurance agent led the

The women's side of the Greater Pontiac Centennial became official today as Mayor Philip E. Rowston proclaimed the inauguration of the Centennial Belles.

Bonneted women were invited to join bearded men in "the festive spirit" of centennial fun. Details of women's participation were to be spelled out at a women's rally beginning at 8 tonight in Elks Temple.

Predict Boost in Output

DETROIT (AP) — Booming retail sales in March were reported today by the auto industry along with forecasts of increased production.

March Auto Sales Boom

Buick said it delivered 24,909 cars last month for its best March since 1957. It said the sales were a 52.7 per cent increase over February, the highest monthly volume for the company in nine months.

Chevrolet said sales of 146,000 cars and 29,500 trucks made the March total the highest achieved by the division since June, 1959.

Pontiacs Sell at Fast Clip

Pontiac dealers in March reported total retail sales of 34,543 new cars, delivering 13,501 Pontiacs and Tempests during the last 10 days of the month for the division's best 10-day sales performance since April 1959.

The figures were announced today by S. R. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager.

Belgium to Pull Forces in Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations today formally notified the United States that it is ready to comply immediately with U.N. resolutions calling for the withdrawal of Belgian military personnel from the Congo.

The news of the Belgian decision was transmitted to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld in a note dated April 3 and made public today.

The note said steps already had been taken to pull out some troops.

The withdrawal of Belgian forces has been one of the main issues in the current U.N. debate on the Congo.

Asian and African nations have been working on a resolution demanding that the Belgians get out within 21 days.

West, Midwest Find It Almost Winter in April

By The Associated Press

Rain, snow and gusty winds dampened hopes for a warm start to the season in the Midwest and West today as cool weather continued across wide sections in the northern two-thirds of the country.

Mostly fair weather prevailed in other regions, with summer-like temperatures in many parts of the Southwest.

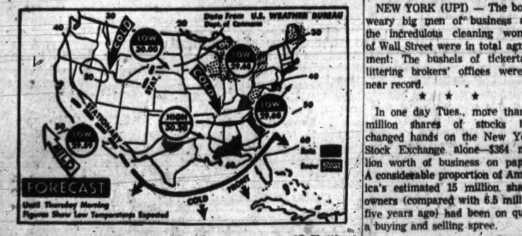

Snow whitened sections of western Minnesota and the Dakotas and winds of 40 to 50 m.p.h. swept parts of the Red River Valley and the Missouri Valley. More than one inch of snow was reported in Bemidji, Minn. A rain belt extended from northwest Minnesota and southwest Wisconsin into eastern Iowa and central Illinois. Snow diminished to flurries in Pennsylvania and New York.

Castro Is Angry Protests Firing by U.S. Cruiser

HAVANA (UPI)—Acting foreign minister Carlos Olivares charged early today a U.S. cruiser fired antiaircraft guns at a Cuban plane two weeks ago near Imias in Eastern Cuba.

Cuban authorities got Swiss Ambassador Walter Boest out of bed before dawn to deliver a note from Olivares denouncing what he called "aggressive attitude" of U.S. forces in Cuban waters.

The note, replying to Tuesday's U.S. protest against Cuban efforts to seize the American cable schooner Western Union, cited the cruiser's alleged March 23 attack as a sample of "grave... provocative... criminal activity" by ships from the U.S. Navy's big Guantanamo Base.

It said nothing to indicate the plane was hit or that anyone was injured in the alleged attack. It did not indicate what type of plane was involved or what it was doing in the vicinity of the cruiser.

Olivares' note also charged that U.S. planes violated Cuba's airspace 49 times between Feb. 15 and March 15.

The "gravest" of these violations, he said, was an alleged landing 100 feet outside the fence at Guantanamo by a helicopter which "left immediately." Others were described as mere passage over Cuban territory.

In one instance, the note said, three U.S. jets "violated" Cuban national territory at a height of 300 feet, penetrating 3 kilometers (a little over a mile).

"This criminal activity has become habitual," the note said. "The repetition with which the U.S. based planes and ships appeared to offer armed support to a craft which had illegally penetrated Cuban waters is noteworthy."

Olivares denoted the U.S. protest as a "smokescreen... to hide five (unspecified) transgressions of most elemental standards of international law."

The note said the U.S. Navy's rescue of the Western Union was "an aggression or at least a provocation by U.S. armed forces."

Firm Eyes City Ambulance Run

Will Take Over Calls If It Gets All Pontiac's Emergency Business

The gap in the city's emergency ambulance service may be filled this weekend.

A new company, called the Midwest Ambulance Service, plans to begin operations Saturday if it can get all the city's emergency calls, according to Jan B. Fine, manager.

Operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week from a garage at 278 S. Saginaw street, the company would not seek any subsidy from the city if it gets all the calls for help received by the Fire and Police Departments, said Fine, a former Pontiac resident who now lives at 1333 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham.

The rates, Fine said, would be similar to those charged by Superior Ambulance Service before it went out of business in February. He said these include base charges of $15 a run within the city limits and 50 cents a mile extra, outside the city.

Superior, claiming to have lost $3,000 in six months from service bids left unpaid by emergency victims, quit servicing police and fire department calls after the city failed to act on its request for a subsidy.

Since then, there have been two other proposals made to City Hall concerning the restoration of ambulance service, both on the basis of a city subsidy.

Fine said, "we are willing to give it a try without a subsidy. The company, he said, expects City Hall approval on Friday. It will operate three ambulances initially, Fine said.

Reviewing the Midwest proposal at an informal meeting last week, city commissioners were favorably impressed by the fact that no subsidy was asked.

But Commissioner Robert A. Landry, expressing doubts about any company's ability to survive without a subsidy, said night shifts would be a problem. He said he would have to get into the ambulance business some day.

Notified of the Midwest plan, Landry held off calling for establishment of city-operated emergency ambulance service.

The fire department, with the occasional help from funeral homes, has been handling all the emergency calls since Superior pulled out February 24.

MSUO Inviting Those Interested Sunday 1 to 5

Adults interested in Michigan State University's (MSU) continuing education program will have an opportunity to tour the campus during an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Visitors will be able to discuss courses with faculty members. Reservations for the 10-week spring term which begins Monday will be taken in the office of continuing education.

Dr. Lowell R. Edmund, director of continuing education, said all MSUO buildings will be open with volunteer student guides conducting tours.

Oil paintings and sculpture by continuing education art instructors Lloyd and Renee Radell and Mary Hetenyi will be on display in the Oakland Student Center. Textbooks used in the 60 university-level courses will be displayed in the university bookstore.

'Average' Homeowner Above the Norm in U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The "average" homeowner is above average in income, car ownership, education and appliance ownership, reports Dr. Stuart H. Britt, professor of marketing at Northwestern University.

His report is based on study of 2,683 families. The study, sponsored by the Federal Reserve Board's Marketing Bureau, also showed that 86 per cent of the families attend outdoor theaters on their own homes.

Speculators Go on Buying, Selling Spree

BY LEROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI)—The bonanza big men of business and the individual cleaning women of Wall Street were in total agreement: The bushels of ticker tape littering brokers' offices were a near record.

In one day Tuesday, more than 1 million shares of stocks had changed hands on the New York Stock Exchange alone—$364 million worth of business on paper. A considerable proportion of America's estimated 15 million share-owners (compared with 6.5 million five years ago) had been on quite a buying and selling spree.

Tot them it was all over, very little seemed to have changed. Price averages computed by different means showed only slight variations. In effect, the market didn't go anywhere.

This meant that for just about every stockholder who wanted to sell, all across the country, there was someone who wanted to buy. And it was impossible to single out any major reason for the extraordinary pace, the way President Eisenhower's heart attack was blamed for the previous 7-million share-day, Sept. 28, 1955.

Market observers instead offered a number of little reasons that they hoped would add up to the levelling factor.

Some investors wanted cash for income tax payments, they said.

Some investors acted on word from President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, Walter W. Heller, that the end of the recession might be at hand. So they bought.

Some speculators may have been looking for a quick profit. So they bought and sold.

Ready to Blame Dems for Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican congressional leaders appear to be submitting a record aimed at putting the blame on the Kennedy administration if Laos eventually falls into Communist hands.

Their strategy, not publicly admitted, seems directed at countering Democratic contentions that President Kennedy inherited from the previous Republican administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower almost insurmountable crisis in Laos.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois fired another round Tuesday in behalf of the GOP at an internal news conference.

He contended that formation of a coalition government in the South East Asian country would only "postpone the evil day" of a Communist takeover.

Dirksen said he was "greatly distressed" by a suggestion of reviving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, who had been ousted by President Kennedy, to return to Laos.

He said that if the situation in Laos was so bad, it might be better to let it alone.

In Laos, about 100 loyal Laotian parachute troops dropped into the area northwest of Mouang Kasy today to assist pro-Communist forces, according to U.S. officials.

The parachute troops, headed by commander in chief Ben Leuth, took off before dawn from the royal capital of Vientiane, Laos.

At least 10 transport planes and 11 or more helicopters, some of the latter delivered only a week ago from Thailand by U.S. Marines, the informants said.

The move followed reports that Communist Pathet Lao forces dropped 300 parachute troops on the vital north-south highway south of Mouang Kasy Tuesday.

The royal forces' action would be an outflanking move. Mouang Kasy is about 100 miles north of here.

Red N-Talk Attitude Disappoints Kennedy

GENEVA (UPI)—President Kennedy is disappointed with Soviet behavior in the 20-day test ban conference here and considers it a setback for his attempts to replace fear with confidence in the U.S. nuclear arsenal.

But Gore told members of the Inter-Parliamentary Union that the President still hopes the Russians will get out of their defensive tactics and make possible an agreement to end nuclear testing.

Gore's remarks were made only a few hours after the Soviet Union's foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, said that the U.S. had been "too soft and easy, flabby and centered on non-essentials."

McMurry, in a news conference just one hour after being sworn in to his new post Tuesday, said he wants to promote "the encouragement of people to learn, to teach, and to do what is taught."

cerned, it's now illegal for women to wear makeup on the membership button in the Centennial Bells.

This is the way Rowton's proclamation expressed the situation.

"All members of the fair sex shall refrain from wearing or displaying lipstick, foundation cream, pancake or liquid makeup, mascara, eye shadow, eyebrows coloring, artificial hair, false hair, hair polish (both on scalp and on eyebrows), nail polish, or any other adornments which might be considered as improvements on mother nature, as well as jewelry, perfumes, colognes and toilet waters, unless they are wearing also the official Centennial Belle membership button (which serve as cosmetic permits) and the official centennial bonnet."

Women of the city's PTA or organizations are adding in the distribution of centennial bonnets.

U.S. Red Chief Maintains Laos Is an Island

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gray-haired, soft-spoken Elizabeth Gore, 70, on tour as national chairman of the American Communist party, held a news conference in her small San Francisco hotel room.

"Anything the Kennedy administration does that's good, we welcome it," Miss Gore said Tuesday.

"Some things it said about Laos, or Laos, or whatever it is, they were extremely belligerent. It would be a shame to go to war over such a small island."

Reporters were unable to persuade Miss Gore that Laos is not an island.

Island View Parking Lot to Be Started on Monday

BIRMINGHAM (UPI)—Construction of the Island View Parking Lot behind the Field Building on North Woodward Avenue is scheduled to begin Monday with completion expected in six weeks.

City Engineer Andrew W. Nease said today that barring unforeseen problems the general contractor for the 141-car lot has indicated work will be complete well in advance of the contract deadline of July 1.

The contract for the project was let by the City Commission Monday and went to Stolaruk Asphalt Paving, Inc., of Oak Park for its bid of $24,000.

Stolaruk was the lowest of 16 bids submitted and 28 per cent lower than the estimate of city engineers.

The Oak Park firm will be responsible for applying an asphalt surface and the construction of concrete bumper strips, curbs, sidewalks and drive approaches.

The contract does not cover fencing, parking meters or the relocation of utility poles.

Preliminary work on the North Woodward Parking Lot will begin Monday. The lot will be constructed with the demolition of three structures located on the expansion site.

The buildings will be razed by Joseph F. Hietich of Pontiac, who submitted a low bid of $18,000. The structures to be removed are at 331 and 351 N. Woodward Ave. and 277 Bates St.

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Metropolitan Auditory, Spirit 9, will meet 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. William Moore, 329 South St., Birmingham.

The cohostesses will be Mrs. Jack Kalkbrenner, Mrs. John Nickell and Mrs. George Ku.

The students of Bloomfield Hills Junior High School have financially adopted a 9-year-old Italian girl by promising to contribute to her support for one year through Foster Parents Plan Inc.

The youngster is Antonia Alletto of Agrigento, Italy.

Under the plan the child receives $8 in cash a month and the remainder is used for periodic food and new clothing packages, travel.

Okays Special Lighting District

Waterford Approves Street Illumination in Highland Estates

After much discussion, the Waterford Township Board last night approved the setting up of a special street lighting district in the Highland Estates subdivision on M59 and Airport Road.

There are 302 lots in the subdivision which will be assessed $2.40 each, annually for 40 ornamental underground lights. There are 28 lots bordering the subdivision on 25th Avenue and Airport Road which will each be charged $3.55 yearly for regular street lighting.

Some objected to installation of the lights because they would not benefit them. Warren Hess of 5789 Pontiac Lake Road said, "My house is 250 feet back from the road and we could not possibly benefit from street lighting."

However, Clark James E. Seeterlin explained that the board had been petitioned by a large group of people to light certain streets, and added, "Whenever you light streets, those properties bounding the street benefit, even though residents living there do not want the light."

In other business, the board removed six lots on the corner of the Boardman Road and Highland roads from commercial to light manufacturing. There were no objections present.

The board renewed the license of the Everett Kartway Co. for the operation of a small go-cart track at the corner of Telegraph Road and Dixie Highway. The track will be operated under the same conditions as last year, with adequate mufflers, an 11 p.m. closing time, and a stipulation that those under 17 years of age must be accompanied by parents.

Seeterlin was authorized to advertise for bids for two one-half ton pickup trucks for the sewer department and the cemetery department. The trucks will cost an estimated $1,600. Bids will be opened April 17.

The township board, in a resolution, thanked outgoing Democratic trustees John Verhey and Lewis Ruelle, who were defeated in Monday's election by Loren Anderson and Byron L. Cole. The new trustees are expected to take office at next Monday's regular meeting.

Howell Sanatorium Mental Use Near

LANSDOWN (AP) — The state's mental hospital at Howell should be ready for use as a mental hospital in two or three weeks, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said Tuesday.

Heustis said most patients at Howell are being moved to Detroit's Herman Kiefer Hospital.

The move will make the 338-bed facility available for the long waiting lists of patients for the state's mental hospital, he added.

Heustis said he expects a bill turning the facility over to the mental health department will have been passed by the legislature and signed by Gov. Swainson by the time the move is completed.

NY Sanitation Dept. to Gild Garbage Trucks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The sanitation department said a test of a new golden paint for garbage trucks worked out so well the paint will be spashed on all 1,800 trucks.

Also to be gilded are 334 mechanical brooms.

Purpose of the golden yellow paint, the sanitation department said, was to make the trucks easier to see at night and during snow removal operations.

Talk to Africans in Own Tongues, Williams Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, says the Soviet Union and Communist China are making a "low key" campaign to win African leaders and students to the cause of communism.

He said Radio Moscow and Radio Peking have a much stronger voice than the United States in efforts to reach the bulk of the African people.

He said the United States should begin using 10 to 12 of the native African languages in broadcasts to increase the effectiveness of the American message of democracy.

There are 800 to 1,000 different languages now being spoken in Africa but Williams said a dozen of these are spoken by the larger number of the people.

Democrats Victorious in One of State's Tightest Elections

In a small but hotly contested election that saw most races going right down to the wire, Michigan Democrats continued their current domination of state politics.

Oakland County's James Zeder, for example, lost for the University of Michigan Regency when a shift of less than 1% of the total vote would have put him in office. Mr. Zeder is one of the most capable men to run for public office in this state in two decades, but the voters were swayed by partisan politics.

Less than a switch of 1% would have put JOHN S. PRINCE on the Michigan State University Board at East Lansing, also; but again, one of the tight races on the ticket squeezed out another Oakland County man.

Thomas B. Adams was beaten as a Wayne Governor when he would have been elected had one-tenth of 1% of the voters reversed themselves.

How can they be that close? The national election was reenacted on a tiny scale right here in Michigan.

Con-con won but it was fairly close, whereas its supporters were expecting a decisive victory. Wayne County is now on the high road to controlling Michigan politics. Is this inevitable in great industrial States or States dominated by extremely large cities such as New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, etc.?

Michigan seems to be climbing on the political band wagon and surrendering. The conservative, thoughtful and hard-working element will be swept aside by the radicals and the extremists that lay hands on the political machinery of huge cities.

Study U.S. history. The industrial expansion scheme was voted down. This was probably the least understood issue on the ballot. In fact, some 60,000 voters skipped it as a tacit recognition that they didn't comprehend. It needs more study and thought.

John C. Mackie headed both tickets and swept through the most one-sided victory. He was around 240,000 ahead, and still going away with a few scattered precincts to report.

Many close students of state affairs believe that the overwhelming victories of HARRY F. KELLY and JOHN R. DETMERES are one of the significant happenings of the day. Certainly these two men have had more judicial experience and know-how than their opponents and the voters seemed determined to support the Supreme Court as it is. KELLY was more than 2 to 1 over his closest challenger, and DETMERES was ahead by almost as much.

The most disturbing factor lies in the pitifully small number of citizens who voted. The backsliders, the quitters and the civic cowards constituted a gigantic and shameful army. They should hang their heads, whatever the causes of defection.

No excuse is adequate. Yet, they will probably constitute the segment that screams the loudest and bleats the most when things "don't go to suit them." They have guaranteed minority rulers for the period ahead.

Some 81% of the Michigan voters sat dumbly at home and "looked out the window."

With a big vote, the result might not have been changed. The winners could have conquered by wider margins. And on the other hand, with one or two exceptions, they could have all gone down to defeat.

Waterford outvoted Pontiac. She cast approximately 10% more votes than the City — and both sides of Telegraph Road should be heartily ashamed of themselves — especially Pontiac.

The quitters ruled.

The Man About Town

Two Final Days

For You to Make Entries in Our Baseball Contest

Minute: The time required to put you in line to win $250.

Friday noon is the last hour that entries will be received in our baseball contest.

And that's day after tomorrow. You still have time to qualify for that $250 in U.S. bonds, which will be given for the closest answer to—

What player, who has been at bat at least 25 times, will be leading in American League on the night of Thursday, May 11, and what will be his batting average?

Every member of your family is eligible to compete, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. All can be mailed in the same envelope.

Simply drop upon the player you think will be leading the league on May 11. Then jot down his name and estimate his batting average. Sign your name and address, and see that it is received in this office by Friday noon. You can send in the entries for all other members of your family, regardless of age, at the same time.

Remember that the time is short, and you must act NOW, or lose out on your opportunity to get $250 in the best investment in the world.

Last year nearly 100 entries were disqualified because they were not received before the closing hour. A minute's time NOW will keep you out of that class.

Continuing the favorite among entries received is

Al Kaline, but he is being pushed for first place by Mickey Mantle, who has a following almost equaled by that of Roger Maris and Nellie Fox, with several other prime favorites, and a field that now has passed the hundred mark.

Your foremost duty right now is to distinctly remember that—

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 7 — and that's DAY AFTER TOMORROW.

An Iroquois Road man is having his troubles. He phones that he started to raise a beard in our whicker contest, but looked so much like

The Heavy at the New Frontier

Bigger Peace Corps in Operation

WASHINGTON — Many Americans are puzzled by President Kennedy's proposal to send a peace corps of young people abroad. They are puzzled because virtually the same work already is being done by Americans in the mission groups.

What will the peace corps do that isn't being done now? There is need, of course, for more work in this field, but the peace corps will do a fraction of it.

The Kennedy plan calls for the spending of somewhere between $5 million and $10 million a year. Yet the Protestant churches of America are spending approximately $15 million a year, and the Catholic church of this country, it is estimated, are spending at least $40 million a year on foreign missions.

According to the latest figures, there are 26,000 Americans serving as Protestant missionaries abroad and about 6,700 of the Catholic faith. There also are 20,000 missionaries from other Christian countries.

These missionaries do not spend most of their time teaching religion. On the contrary, they teach school and also train. They build hospitals, furnish medical aid, educate doctors and nurses, train native leaders in administration work, develop welfare programs and supply technical skills.

Many are agricultural experts who show farmers how to handle their farms and increase the yields. Quite a number are young people.

This correspondent asked Dr. Darby Fulton of Nashville, Tenn., head of the Board of World Missions of the Southern Presbyterian Church—whether any conflict was imposed on those given help by the missionaries.

RELIGION NOT NOTED He replied: "Not all, so far as their religious affiliation is concerned. We take them into our schools and, of course, if we are looking for teachers to come in and instruct people in our schools, we get Christians to do that—but so far as the facilities of the schools are concerned, in the admission of pupils, there is no religious question. We take Buddhists, Confucianists, animists—any religion—or any irreligious group.

"Many go out without ever confessing any Christian faith, or even showing any signs of being influenced definitely in that direction."

American churches started sending missions to points outside the best sources of thiamin for man or animals are the whole (unmilled) cereal grains, lean meats, mutton, lamb, fish, heart, liver, dried brewers, yeast, bran, wheat germ, carrots and milk.

Perhaps no one who ever owned and loved a dog knows less about the feeding of dogs than I do. At that, I expect Tony the Irish Terrier will resume wagging right where he left off, when I come to take him out for his walk.

It's years now when I handed Tony over to the tender mercies of the veterinary who disposed of him via the strychnine route—the easiest and quickest way out, he said.

I can't forget that little secret wags Tony gave me as I said goodbye.

For a year or more the vitamins we gave Tony to supplement his regular feed rejuvenated the old fellow remarkably.

Voice of the People: Says Newspapers Biased on Presidential Golf

I have the impression that when President Eisenhower went out to play golf, the newspapers in effect said: "President deserves White House for another round of golf."

Yet when John Kennedy walks down to Florida for several days the news reports say: "President takes a brief vacation." It takes a lot longer to enjoy "a brief vacation" in Palm Beach than it does to play 18 holes of golf.

Reporters have been charged with being pro-Democratic. A leading magazine article said 75 per cent of the reporters traveling with Nixon during the campaign voted for Kennedy.

Neither of these things bother me, but I am disturbed when it shows in their work and when their superiors don't correct it.

Brings Out Another Point on School Aid

If private and parochial schools get federal aid, then Southern private schools that are being built for the express purpose of keeping out Negroes will be eligible for tax money. These white schools for only white children will be a government obligation.

If Southern people are so worked up about segregation that they want schools for whites only, let them have all they want and they'll have to pay the bill themselves. Otherwise, anyone can build any kind of a school and stick the costs on the taxpayers.

Me? I'm going to build a little tiny school for my own relatives and let the taxpayers foot all the bills. Why not? Since the taxpayers must foot the bill, I'll hire the very best teachers for my little kinderg.

Says SUB Pay Same for Skilled, Unskilled

As an observer and participant in unemployment and SUB pay benefits as outlined by the UAW-CIO, I do not believe it is worth the long strike we went on to obtain it. It is very misleading. Supposedly, you receive an unemployment check plus SUB benefits to make up the difference to the amount of 65 per cent of your take home pay on a forty hour week. This is not true. An unskilled worker taking home $75 a week draws the same amount of SUB as the skilled worker whose take home pay is $114 a week. Also the way they work it, you never manage to get your unemployment check, you actually you are trying to live on unemployment only, most of the time. One time we had a SUB check come through the mail two weeks after I had been back to work.

All this does is encourage the unskilled, short term worker to sit around most of the time doing nothing and getting paid for it.

The seniority men and skilled trades workers are getting the run-around.

One Who Knows

Smiles

One thing that never comes to those who wait is the time they lose.

An Eastern woman left $5,000 to her cat and dog. Fine chance for a cat and dog fight.

How about this? When a fellow promises to be faithful to the last, who were the others?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Law of Land Differs From Bible

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE H-451: Clara K., aged 42, presents a perplexing—modern problem.

"Dr. Crane," she began fearfully, "I am in a terrible state of mind."

"For 20 years I was married and did everything I knew how to make my husband happy."

"I never refused him physical affection and I kept a nice home. I also reared my children as well as I knew how."

"Meanwhile I was active in the Y and my church and I tried to be neat and attractive to my husband."

"He started drinking heavily and consorting with other women. Finally he actually became a sick drunk alcoholic."

"He demanded a divorce, apparently because of interest in another woman, so we have been divorced for 4 years."

"But a few months ago I met a fine, Christian gentleman. My children are fond of him and he has asked me to marry him. But do we have the right? Doesn't the Bible veto marriage of divorced people?"

The Roman Catholic Church, of course, permits an annulment of such a marriage as Clara's even after many years of wedlock and the presence of teen-age children. If it argues there was no true marriage at the outset,

Open Examination in Slaying of Wife

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Preliminary examination of Rockford distasteful Otto Peebles, 44, in the fatal shooting of his wife opened Tuesday before Municipal Court Judge Louis E. Simlauser.

The judge is to rule on a question of whether statements of the principals and pictures of the slaying scene at a Lakeside home on Silver Lake, near Rockford, may be introduced.

Defense attorney Harold Sawyer Jr. asked why the statements and pictures, taken by state police, were not being offered as evidence. Prosecutor Richard K. Elliott said they were irrelevant. Three witnesses, including Miss Mary Catherine Voss, 46, owner of the home where the shooting occurred March 18, testified.

Marten dens normally are in a tree, in a convenient cavity, though dens in the ground have been reported.

Cuban Reds' Hard Line Includes Soft Soap

HAVANA (AP)—A list of 36 slogans for Cuba's giant May Day celebration was published Tuesday by the Communist party newspaper Hoy. Following the style of the Soviet Press in whipping up enthusiasm for the celebration, Hoy's slogans covered subjects ranging from peaceful coexistence to anticlericalism to Cuba's shortage of soap. The paper exhorted Cubans to remember that "If we lack soap we don't lack courage."

Migrants Film 'Not Typical'

Murrow Tells Reason: Might Be Misunderstood by Foreigners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward R. Murrow said today he tried to stop a foreign television showing of a documentary film on U.S. farm labor because he believed the foreign audience would regard the film as representative of American life.

As a CBS commentator before becoming director of the U.S. Information Agency, Murrow narrated the documentary, "Harvest of Shame." It depicted conditions of migrant farm labor in the United States.

After he took his government job, Murrow unsuccessfully sought to prevent the British Broadcasting Corp. from showing the film in Britain.

Addressing a foreign policy briefing for broadcasters, Murrow said he would have opposed the showing of "Harvest of Shame" abroad even if he were still a private citizen working for CBS.

Murrow said in his opinion the U.S. viewer is sufficiently informed to know that the documentary's portrayal of seamy conditions did not mean everything in America is like that.

But he expressed fear that a foreign audience would get a falsely unfavorable impression.

He had said earlier he did not want the film to appear to have official U.S. government approval—a possibility because of his new job.

New York Phone Co. Puts Out Spanish List

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Telephone Co. is distributing a Spanish-language index to the classified phone directory to help Spanish-speaking residents find what they want in the yellow pages.

The company said 60,000 copies of the Spanish index are being distributed, and that more will be published if the index proves popular.

Life Insurance Local Offices Hold Open House

Life insurance underwriters in Oakland County have joined in a statewide observance of the current Life Insurance Week as proclaimed by Gov. Swainson.

Theme for the week is "700 Per Minute" which means that life insurance companies are paying to the people in Michigan approximately $700 each minute, 24 hours daily.

To commemorate the week locally, life insurance offices in the county are holding open house daily through the rest of the week.

Members of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association yesterday presented a check for $200 to the city library to purchase additional books.

The members also will hold a testimonial dinner for Elmer Wilson, organizer of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association at noon April 18 in the First Methodist Church, 14 Jackson St. He has completed 50 years in the life insurance business locally.

Udall's Playing Politics, and GOPer Says It's Fine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall has spoken out again in favor of playing politics "to the hilt" as a Cabinet member.

Rapidly building a reputation for candor and controversy, Udall told a former Republican House colleague that politics in policymaking is a good thing.

Before he was done, the Republican was agreeing with Udall and criticizing attempts to staff government appointments with bipartisan appointments.

It all came about in a House appropriations subcommittee hearing, published Tuesday.

The secretary, appearing to justify the Interior Department budget request, and Rep. Ben Jensen, R-Iowa, launched into a discussion of politics in operation of the 50,000 employ agency Udall runs.

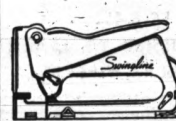

Jensen wanted to know why Udall froze new hiring by the Interior Department and whether it had anything to do with stories the previous year.

Professor Succumbs

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Robert T. Haslam, 72, industrialist and former professor of chemical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was a former general sales manager, vice president and director of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He was born in North Adams, Mass.

Shipments of iron ore from Canadian mines were up 1.2 per cent in the first half of 1960 compared with the corresponding period of it had anything to do with stories the previous year.

Average Congolese Wishes for the Good Old Days

By PETER GROSE
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The latest story going the rounds of Leopoldville's cafes concerns Alphonse, a Congolese houseboy struggling to support his wife and five children.

He says to his white employer: "Oh, patron, when is the 'independence' going to end?" To the ordinary Congolese, the catchword "independence" once brought hope of a better, carefree life. By now the word means unemployment, insecurity and frustration.

After nine months in the dream world of independence, Congolese in Leopoldville realize the austere and unexpected responsibilities they assumed when they insisted on managing their own country.

Bright yellow billboards—springing up around Leopoldville—bearing words of encouragement to the weary Congolese in their own language.

CAPITAL RUN DOWN
"If the politicians reach accord, if national unity is achieved, if tribal warfare can only cease, then will come the end to unemployment," the signs say.

This once wealthy capital is running down gradually. Some of the outlying provinces are in chaos but Leopoldville's daily life retains its hot and sleepy routine.

Here the hard aspects of independence are coming through attrition rather than spectacular collapse.

One by one stores in the European city are closing, because of lack of things to sell as well as lack of people with money to buy them. Half a dozen supermarkets are still crowded with Congolese and European buyers, but the shelves are empty. Prices are creeping up as difficulties of importing and paying for the imports increase.

RECEIVE SCIENCE AWARDS—Two area youths recently were presented with honor awards by the Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts and Letters. The certificates were presented by Dr. Conrad R. Lam, past president of the academy (left), to Mohawk Drive, a senior at Pontiac Central High, and Hoekman, of 1740 Hamilton Drive, Bloomfield Township, graduated from PCH in 1959. Dr. Lam is chief of thoracic surgery at Henry Ford Hospital. The students were guests of honor at the academy's annual dinner held this year at Wayne State University.

Both balls traveled about 175 yards, and both came to rest beyond the rough—in the wrong fairway.

This was the first time reporters had been permitted to watch Kennedy tee off, and then write about it, since he was nominated for the presidency in July.

A few minutes earlier photographers for the first time in that period had been allowed to take pictures of Kennedy on the golf course.

The only shots permitted by the White House, however, were of the President standing at the first.

In advance of Kennedy's round at the Palm Beach Country Club course, reporters also had been told they could be present only for the pictures taken before he hit a ball.

But they were allowed to stay on and watch him drive. The President, wearing a blue sports shirt and pale yellow slacks, arrived at the club at the wheel of a top-down convertible a few minutes before 11 a.m.

Other members of the four-man party the President's father-in-law, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, and two of the President's brothers-in-law—Stephen Smith and Peter Lawford, the Hollywood actor.

His Golf Seems Somewhat Above Par

JFK Has Drive, but Lacks Direction

PALM BEACH, Fla.—Playing like a man in a terrific hurry, President Kennedy drove—and severely hooked—two golf balls off the first tee into a gully wind Tuesday.

Both balls traveled about 175 yards, and both came to rest beyond the rough—in the wrong fairway.

Four Drown During March; 3 Were Tots

Four persons drowned in Oakland County during March, compared with none for the same month last year.

The sad toll so far in 1961 has included three small children who wandered onto thin ice on Pleasant Lake in West Bloomfield Township. The triple tragedy occurred March 2.

This year's fourth victim was a fisherman who fell through the ice on Keweenaw in Davisonburg March 4.

By this time last year three persons had drowned in the county, and the fourth drowning was not recorded until July 10 during the swimming season.

A fifth drowning in Oakland County this year was averted March 6 when a mother saved her young child by applying mouth-to-mouth respiration after she pulled him out of Williams Lake in Waterford Township.

Senate Group to Mull Probe of Birch Society
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Internal Security subcommittee will meet April 12 to decide whether it will investigate the John Birch Society.

Both critics and supporters of the right-wing group have urged a congressional probe to get the facts on its aims, activities and membership.

Canada imported 24,400 head of United States beef cattle in 1959, the most for any year since World War II.

Text Book Rental Nixed at Hazel Park
LANSING (AP)—Hazel Park can't rent out books to school children once it has specified they are free, an attorney general's opinion has decided.

The Hazel Park School District had sought to ease a financial squeeze by charging rental for text books, said Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Text Book Rental Nixed at Hazel Park

The rental of books would have to be approved by the voters, said Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

Once school district residents have voted for free books for their children, the school board can't change it by resolution, Adams said.

House is Nonpartisan in Congratulations to 2

LANSING (AP)—The House of Representatives has been nonpartisan in sending congratulations to two former members elected mayors of their cities.

A House resolution noted that Willard J. Bowerman Jr., a Republican who served in the House from 1953 to 1960, was elected mayor of Lansing and that S. James Clarkson, a Democratic representative in 1959-60, is the newly elected mayor of Southfield. "There mayoral election victories are of primary interest and a cause for rejoicing," the resolution said.

Economists Eye Gambling as Barometer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers look for the odds on the nation's economy in gambling receipts at Las Vegas and betting at the Kentucky Derby.

It's not that national economic policy depends on these statistics, according to Council Chairman Walter W. Heller, but the data can be informative.

He said a 16.7 per cent increase in gambling at Las Vegas, where it is legal, was indicative of an upturn.

"We're awaiting figures anxiously on the Kentucky Derby, mutual take," Heller told the National Press Club Tuesday. "The Derby figures have proved so reliable as an indicator in the past few years, they are going to re-name the track, Churchill Downs."

Put 2 Area Men in Group to Eye Con-Con Topics

Two area men were among some 75 named today by Gov. Swanston to six study committees to examine specific subjects to be considered by the forthcoming constitutional convention.

Named to the committee on the executive department were Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams of Pontiac, and former Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner of Birmingham.

Swanston said the committees will be asked to come up with recommendations in the fields of legislation, finance and taxation, executive, local government, education and the courts.

The governor asked the committees to have preliminary reports by June 1, and a final report when the convention begins in October. The committee members were chosen from many fields including education, government, labor, industry and business.

United, Capital Airlines Get CAB Okay to 'Wed'

By ROBERT J. SELLINO

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Final government approval of the United-Capital Air Lines merger spurred further speculation today on further "marriages" in the hard-pressed airline industry.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) gave United "an official green light Tuesday to acquire Capital. It was a decision which...

— Made United the nation's biggest carrier, supplanting American Airlines.

— Doomed Capital to a corporate death as of June 1, marking the end of an airline that dates back to 1927 when it operated three Waco biplanes on a mail route between Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

— Gave impetus to persistent rumors that other airlines may seek to combat United's new status as the industry's giant through mergers of their own.

There are almost as many merger rumors as there are airlines in the United States, although only one officially is before the CAB—Northeast and Trans World Airlines.

Northeast, however, indicated recently that it had changed its mind.

A possible merger between Eastern and Continental Airlines has been the subject of widespread speculation.

Both airlines denied conducting merger talks, but Eastern has suffered badly from various CAB route awards to competitors and Continental wants expansion eastward.

American is another airline which has figured prominently in merger rumors, mainly because it never objected to the United-Capital agreement.

This was a surprising development which led some industry sources to believe that American had some merger ideas of its own. National Airlines, which has had tough financial sledding, also has been mentioned in merger talk.

TO ANNOUNCE DETAILS

United President W. A. Patterson was expected to announce in Chicago Thursday final arrangements for the merger with Capital, biggest in the history of commercial aviation. This much already is known:

— United adds 41 of Capital's prop-jet Viscounts to its fleet. Fifteen Viscounts go to Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., as partial payment for the $33.8-million Vickers mortgage that threatened to plunge Capital into bankruptcy and forced the merger negotiations.

— United adds a 7,500-mile route system and 8,800 employees to its own 14,000 route miles and 23,000 employees.

— United will begin consolidation operations over Capital's routes June 1.

— United plans to set up two new regional headquarters in Atlanta and Pittsburgh.

— United will repaint its newly-acquired Viscounts with its own blue and white markings, plus interior refurbishing, as they come in for regular overhauls.

— United will absorb all Capital employees except for a handful of top officials.

Eyes Bike Tabs, Tennis Courts

Greater Watford Group Sets Sights on 2 Projects

At its April meeting held last night at Pierce Junior High School, the Greater Watford Community Council adopted two projects: a township-wide effort to license all bicycles and the promotion of tennis courts at the senior high school.

The bike-licensing program has a fourfold purpose: to promote understanding of the state and local vehicle code (which governs bicycles on all streets and highways); to insure that today's riders will be tomorrow's safe drivers; to enable bikes lost or stolen to be easily identified; and to allow identification of the rider in case of an accident.

Engineered by juvenile officer Arthur Holmes of the Watford Township police department and school officials, the licensing program will be launched Friday in schools.

An assembly program will be held in each school to explain the bicycle ordinance, and students will be given license application cards to be filled out by parents after a safety check in bikes.

SALE AT SCHOOLS

Beginning May 1, officers, assisted by members of the Community Council, will be selling the licenses in the school hallways. The police department hopes to complete sales at four schools in one day, Holmes stated.

Free for the license, which is a reflective sticker and easy to apply will be 25 cents.

Richard Younce, chairman of the parks and recreation committee, led the discussion on the tennis courts project. High school groups have earned more than $2,000 toward a double court and the recreation department holds $225 donated some years ago by the Watford, Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club.

Cost of a 100 by 120 foot bituminous concrete court was estimated at $3,800 and a 10-foot fence enclosing the courts was estimated at $700.

The next court meeting has been set for Tuesday, May 2.

Bandits Get $22,000; Man Gets Their License

MANITO, Ill. (AP)—Two men held up the Peoples State Bank and fled with $22,000 today after imprisoning three bank employees, two federal bank examiners and two customers in a rear room.

They fled in a car whose license number a garage operator had noted Tuesday while the men were in Manito and the garage man felt, acting suspiciously.

Also being investigated was a burglary at the apartment of Axel Solwick, 51, Fairgrove St. Missing was a Social Security check for $105.

The other large sum was taken in a break-in of the Dayton Tire Co., 77 W. Huron St. The intruders cut a hole in the wooden door, then opened a safe where the money was stored.

Fidel Releases Two Americans

Businessmen in Miami Tell of Plane Accident, Ten Being Held

MIAMI (UPI)—Two American businessmen, held incommunicado by the Cuban government since March 24 when their private plane was forced down in Havana, said today they were questioned only once before their release.

Linden Blue, 34, of Denver, Colo., and Donald Swenson, 36, an American citizen who lives in Toronto, arrived in Miami Tuesday night. Each lost about 10 pounds during the 11-day jail stay, in which they were held without charge by the Fidel Castro regime.

"That was the most frustrating experience—not having any idea what charges were against us, or knowing who had been notified," Blue said.

They said they were not abused by their guards. They found the food was poor.

Stops Fees on Products

Gas Chamber and Bullets Among Memories of Dachau

(Continued from Page 10) The last of a series of articles to which this column is devoted is to the gas chamber and the bullet. When the mass murders were carried out, the victims were taken to the gas chamber or the execution grounds.

By BOB KOSINSKI

MUNICH—John Neuhäuser, auxiliary bishop of Munich, was one of 239 Catholic priests (it is a total of 370 clergymen) imprisoned at Dachau, the Nazi horror camp which served as a site of pilot plant for SS Lt. Col. Adolph Eichmann's "solution of the Jewish question."

Now a vigorous 73, the bishop bemoans about his busy office and his rounds with the speed and determination of a man attempting to make the most out of his borrowed time.

He is filled with perpetual wonder over the plain fact of still being alive... wonder and joy.

When he speaks, which is often his voice almost shouts. When he tells of being beaten in Sachsenhausen, before transfer to Dachau, he flails his fists about and punches himself around the head.

"He must have been very close to death Feb. 4, 1941, the night the Gestapo came for him."

The then minister was clearly an enemy of the Third Reich. For years he had engaged — at the request of his superior, Cardinal Faulhaber — in compiling Nazi crimes against the church and alerting the Vatican and the world's free press.

WRITES TWO BOOKS

But he lived; lived to fill two books with his vivid memories.

Nothing seems to have slipped his notice from the time the track to which he rode with other human animals bumped through the gateway to Dachau — over which gate was the mocking legend "Arbeit Macht Frei" ("Work Makes You Free").

What follows here are the bishop's impressions of Dachau and those of other Christian religions who shared the shocking fate of Jews, gypsies and others infernally earmarked for extermination:

IMPRESSIONS

Day after day the dreaded morning and evening roll-calls took place in the square and here, too, in the presence of all the prisoners, corporal punishment was inflicted.

From here the labor gangs marched away every day to their work and returned again at night with a forced song on their lips!

Sometimes they even marched back to the music of the camp band. Here, too, prisoners were paraded naked and from them were chosen the candidates for the "invalids-transport" to be taken to the gas chambers.

Some of the persons managing the infirmary knew practically nothing about the care of the sick. A perverse attendant would kill the more bothersome sick, using injections or tortures of his own devising. Cause of death was always given as "heart attack and embolism."

There was also a mortuary in which bodies and human skeletons were preserved. When there was no more room here, the bodies were piled up on the street and then hauled off to the crematorium. In the last months an outbreak of typhoid claimed a hundred and more victims daily.

FENCED BY BARBED WIRE

The whole camp (survivors recall) was fenced with barbed wire which was charged with electricity, and by a wall. Watch towers were erected at the most important points and corners. The shrill voice of the SS officer, always a tall to the prisoners' ears, sounded, Tower A—no incident!

Machine guns were mounted on the towers, their barrels directed toward the camp. At every movement in the "mess hall" or in the vicinity of the barbed wire fence shots came from the watch towers without any warning.

It often happened that prisoners in a state of madness and despair threw themselves against the wire at night and died there.

The Jews were marked with a particular sign, the Jewish star on a yellow background. The non-Aryans were exposed to special persecution... 15,629 of Dachau's inmates died from typhoid fever in 1945.

In the first week of July, 1944, two trains arrived with Frenchmen from Compiègne. We experienced something unbelievable. In the cattle wagons, 370 corpses lay among the living. There was hunger, thirst and heat during the journey.

A German clergyman who was a witness cried, "Germany can never make amends for all this!" The SS spread the report that the prisoners had fought against themselves on the way and had trampled one another to death. They were suffocated.

Eight Jewish children came to Dachau in one batch. The youngest was eight years old, the oldest 15. He felt himself the speaker for all. Unusually mature for his years, he explained objectively to us what he said were the intentions of the SS men: "We shall be killed like our fathers and mothers. We know it. In the camp where we were, some of the group were called every day."

"They disappeared and we did not hear of them any more. Now it is our turn. They will take us away from here and kick us into the gas chamber. I suppose it must be so." Fourteen days later it was so.

The number of executions by bullet will never be established. What details we know may really only be a fraction of the whole. The first general execution, of which precise details are known, took place on Nov. 11, 1940: 55 Poles, former senators, envoys, etc., were shot.

In the autumn of 1941, several weeks after the beginning of the war with Russia, mass liquidations of POWs took place daily. Well over 6,000 were executed, but their names were not registered.

As soon as the news of the impending execution of 92 Russian officers reached the prisoners' ears, leaders met secretly and unanimously decided that no labor commando would march out that day unless the SS were permitted to accompany them to work.

The 20,000 prisoners remained standing silently in the square. "What is going on here?" the camp commander roared when no man would march off to work.

He repeated the order. But still no one moved. The Russian officers were witness to this.

Then one of them, Tarassov, a lieutenant colonel, stepped forward and called to the prisoners, "Comrades, march off! We shall die as we lived in the struggle for Russia. Goodbye, Comrades, march off!" But no man moved.

Two guard companies of 700 men came with machine guns and carbines, and still nobody moved. Once again Tarassov cried out, "March off, Comrades, march off! Goodbye."

Full of sorrow, the men finally off when 15 heavily armed SS men approached, took 12 of the Russian officers into their midst, led them to the range near the crematorium, and liquidated them one after the other.

And the 15 men marched back to the roll-call square to fetch the next 12; and so they continued until the last had fallen by the bullet.

Ninety-two marched silently to death, having rejected the offer of the 20,000 to suffer for their race.

Famed Musical 'Carousel' to Be Offered by PCH

The well-loved melodies of Rodgers and Hammerstein will be heard for the fourth consecutive year when Pontiac Central High School's drama department presents "Carousel" Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday evening and the afternoon of April 13 and evenings of April 14 and 15.

The six performances at Pontiac Central High School's auditorium are under the direction of Stuart Packard. Musical directors are A. Michael Dempsey and Jerry Libby. Mr. Dempsey will conduct the pit orchestra as they play such familiar melodies as "If I Loved You," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Robert Peterson and Richard Morse are serving as orchestral advisors.

SET TIMES

Matinee curtains will rise at 2 p.m. with evening performances set for 8 p.m.

Committees and production staffs have been engaged for weeks laying the groundwork for a successful production. Meanwhile a cast of 70, including chorus and dancers, has been rehearsing the poignant love story of Billy Bigelow, the cocky carnival barker who tries, fails, and tries again as the husband of Julie Jordan, the patient and faithful girl who marries him. For the first time in this series of musicals, costumes have been made by students instead of renting them from a professional costumer. The practice is expected to prove profitable and will provide a nucleus of a dramatics ward, for the school when they are alerted for future use at production's end.

Sherry Drinkwater has directed a costume committee composed of Betty Boone, Judy Prewette, Pat Rahja, Kaye Gaddes, Susie Dawe, Connie Crocker and Sharon Drew in the production of the several score costumes.

Appearing in the lead roles of Julie and Billy are Marlene Beale and Ed Haroutunian. Others in the cast include Karen Kessler, Deanna Todd, David Austin, John Hunt, George Sarros, Mitzie Schroeder, Ron Boyce, Gary Alan Jim Baker and Julian Spres. Judy Whitmer, Karen Bronoel, Peggy Warren, Russi Maissa, Juanita Graham, Jim Bank, Nadia Morris, Floyd Morris, Dick Levine and Tom Murphy complete the list.

Nancy Walker and Pat Rahja are in charge of make-up. Brian Orser is handling lights with Sue Douglas in charge of props. Cochairman of tickets is Helen Thams and Kaye Gaddes is student director. Cost Nickola, student director has been working hard with Mr. Packard on the famous clam-bake scene in which the chorus shines. Chorus members include Peggy Warren, Susan Putnam, Jeanette Wright, Kathy O'Brien, Kathy Jackson, Nancy Walker, Minnie Churchwell, Linda Freet, Willie Prentiss, Margaret Meizer, Edwina Shelley, Juanita Graham, Barbara Griffin and Betty Boone.

Others are Karen Bronoel, Judy Whitmer, Jill Hicks, Irene Perkins, Cynthia Rush, Bill Marford, Dick Levine, Jim Baker, Mark Berg, Tom Lew- is, Larry Taylor, Ivery McDaniel, Henry Manning and John Kimball. Completing the list are Doug Sheffield, Floyd Morris, Bill Smith, Tom Murphy, Phil Web- Gary Allen, Julian Spres, Russi Maissa, Tom Schellenberg, Wade Wilkinson and Art Branner.

Dance numbers in "Carousel" are intricate and colorful. Shirley Zikewich, a 1959 graduate now working at the Oakland County Friend of the Court office has been dance director. She has worked long hours with soloists Sylvia Rothschild and Jim Hinojosa in the production's memorable dream ballet scene. The dancing chorus includes Pat Weld, Bernadette Johnston, Judy Whitmer, Sue Alderson, Joan Grahek and Deborah Cooper.

Dave Hunt and Mark Berg are serving as stage managers. Mrs. Joan Smith is art director; Pat Wilkinson, tickets; and Judy Prewette, publicity. Cover design for the program was executed by Chris Lauchner and printing has been under the direction of Ted Carlson. The school may be contacted for tickets. Reserved seats are available.

Better Tell, Not Show, Letter Part

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: A friend of mine received a letter from a mutual friend of ours who is abroad at the present time. She told me that Mary had mentioned me in the letter and proceeded to show me the sentence which referred to me.

A: However, instead of giving me the letter to read, she held it in her hand and had it folded in such a way that I could read just the part meant for me. I thought this extremely rude. What is your opinion?

A: Folding the letter in the way you describe was rude! If it would have betrayed a confidence to let you read the rest of the letter, she should not have shown it to you at all, but instead should have read it to you or told you of the part that concerned you.

Q: I am a young married woman working for a large organization. Recently one of the men who works in my department (a bachelor) was taken ill and rushed to the hospital for an operation. One evening after work I stopped at the hospital to see him. When I arrived home and told my husband where I had been, he was quite perturbed over it and said that it was very improper for me to go alone to visit this man.

A: As he was sick in a hospital, your visit was not improper, but since it did upset your husband, it will be well to take another person with you should you go to see him again.

Abby Tells Organist:

Just Change Your Tune!

DEAR ABBY: I am an organist in the dining room of a resort hotel. One of our guests was an elderly gentleman, badly crippled with arthritis. He was in a wheelchair and had to be spoon-fed. He had dinner in our dining room every night with a male nurse who traveled with him. One of our waitresses took a shine to this male nurse. I don't know if they ever got together after the elderly man was put to bed, but here is the problem.

The elderly gentleman and his male nurse checked out, and now the little waitress just stands around, staring into space.

When I play "Danny Boy" (that is the male nurse's name) she goes to the kitchen and cries. She asked me to get "Danny's" address from the front desk. Should I do it?

hour and no one will know you are chewing.

Our hostesses and her-motops (yes, ladies chewed, too) found tobacco chewing to be very soothing with no ill after-effects. And you didn't see them running after psychiatrists or sleeping pills to quiet their nerves.

DEAR OLD-TIMER: Yours is the first good word I ever had from anyone regarding the use of tobacco. Twenty-three spit!

DEAR ABBY: I want a pet but Mom won't let me have a dog. I don't like rats or mice. Mom is afraid of birds. Dad says a monkey or a rabbit is out of the question.

Goldfish aren't any fun, and neither are turtles. Do you have any suggestions? I am 10 years old. Don't you think I should have a pet?

DEAR WANTS: About the only "pet" you haven't mentioned is the hamster. They are clean little things and easy to care for.

I think all children should have pets. It's an excellent way to learn responsibility.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DESK NEAR THE WINDOW": A woman who marries a man because she "feels sorry for him" usually winds up feeling sorry for herself.

Interested in Sewing Contest?

On April 17 registrations will open for the International Young Styleniker Sewing Contest, sponsored by the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

Girls between the ages of 10 and 21 may vie for a share of the more than $130,000 in prizes. Awards will include a jet trip to Paris for visits in the houses of famed couturiers, and air trips to historical and famous cities in the United States. Registrations will be accepted through Aug. 12.

Three age groups, all completing identical basic requirements, will compete separately in the contest. Girls aged 10 through 13 sew in the Tween Division; girls aged 14 through 17, in the Teen Division; and seamstresses aged 18 through 21, in the Misses or Mrs. Division.

will be named in each local instruction center.

Aug. 26 is the deadline for completion of the dresses. Judging on various levels will take place through September, with a final showing in New York planned for midautumn.

BLANKS AVAILABLE

Entry blanks and complete rules may be obtained through any local Singer Sewing Center.

Winning garments from the local instruction centers will be sent to the sewing machine company's area headquarters for further judging. There are 38 such headquarters in the United States and Canada. Winners in each of the three divisions again will be selected.

Philatheas See Holy Land Slides

Some 30 members of the First Philatheas Class of First Baptist Church met Tuesday in the church parlors.

Woman's-Eye View of Hubby's Outlook

By RUTH MILLET
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
How many of these statements do you agree with? These are all widely planted on life culled from their correspondence:
No man would be as completely lost without his wife as she keeps telling herself he would be.
It's as hard for a man to reconcile himself to the fact that he has married a poor housekeeper as it is for a woman to admit to herself that her husband will never earn a good living for her.
No woman ever bored a man with silence.
It's after marriage that a woman starts telling herself that looks aren't everything.
Many a man has become an ardent hunter or fisherman because his wife always has something for him to do if he tries to loaf around home.

President Plays Host at Luncheon

MOMS of America, Inc., Unit 2, met Tuesday for schoolgirl luncheon at the home of the president, Mrs. Duane McVean of East Beverly Avenue.
The group will attend the State Board luncheon and card party Monday at the Women's Guild in Clawson.
The 20th anniversary of the founding of the organization will be observed April 17 at a cooperative luncheon at the American Legion, Hall, Royal Oak.
Mrs. Edgar Thomas will open her home on Center Street for a public luncheon, April 19 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., to raise funds for hospitalized veterans.
Gov. John B. Swainson has proclaimed April 18-22 as "MOMS' Week."

Be Pretty for the Family

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Like any other job, the job of being a homemaker is one which must be learned through experience. With the years come skill and efficiency. This is one of the rewards which years bring to the mature woman.
A task which once consumed an hour now takes half the time, and a culinary delight once regarded as impossible to master has become your second nature.
You no longer have to rush to get through the day's work because you know how to make the most of your time by short cuts and general competence.
However, there is never enough time for everything you want to do, and it isn't enough to be the best cook in town if this means neglecting personal appearance.
No matter what her age, a woman's appearance must be constantly maintained if she is to look her best. Hair, complexion, hands and feet, must all receive unwavering care in order to look attractive.
Why not combine good grooming with housework? This is quite practical and possible. For instance, what better time is there to plan the week's or the day's menu than while making in a tub of hot suds?
While the steam and lather combine to give you a beauty treatment, you may be relaxed enough to dream up some unforgettable meals.
LET HAIR DRY
Another winning combination is to let freshly shampooed and set hair dry while you prepare vegetables for dinner. It is also a big help to cream your hands and face preparatory to a manicure and a soapless wash.

Named Delegate to Lutheran Church Contab

Mrs. Sam McMurray was appointed a delegate for the coming Augustana Lutheran Church Women's conference and convention in Rockford, Ill., at St. John's Lutheran Church Tuesday ALCW meeting.
"Let All the Nations Praise Thee" was the meeting's theme. A study of Christian religion, hymns and recorded services in foreign countries was introduced by Mrs. Harry Santala, Mrs. Charles Colberg, Mrs. Edward Stafne and Mrs. Murray Schluter.
Mrs. Colberg displayed hand-made art and craft from various countries.
Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Taylor, Mrs. Harry Santala and Mrs. Donald Forslund.
Highlight of the meeting was a surprise birthday cake and gift presented to the pastor Charles Colberg.
The roadrunner, a cuckoo famous for its ability to kill rattlesnakes, also is known as "snake-eater."

An Expert Explains High Living Costs

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — The cost of living's going up and up — and we consumers share the blame.
"We are demanding more and more in the way of personal services — say better maid, hotel-like service when in the hospital and deluxe medical care, if you will."
economic adviser to the United States Secretary of Labor, and perhaps the nation's foremost expert on budgets and the cost of living, said so.
For 28 years Mrs. Wickens has fed on statistics relating to the federal reports on the nation's economic condition.
"We don't expect much change in the cost of living in the future," Mrs. Wickens said. "Look at the wholesale price index. It will stay there."
A look showed that the wholesale price index remained virtually unchanged for two and one-half years — if you skip over the personal service items.
"We're really not in a period of inflation," Mrs. Wickens said. "Rather, we're in a time of stability, a time characterized by plenty of goods of all kinds — in contrast to a time during which there is a scarcity of goods."
"When there is a scarcity, there is scarce buying, hoarding. And that forces prices up."
The economist said — in an interview during a visit here — that much of the trouble stemming from fiscal matters on many a homemaker probably can be traced to poor budgeting.
For budgeting she characterized as a failure to keep track of expenditures, and a failure to analyze drains on family income.
She suggested that those homemakers with money troubles try to keep track of the loose dollars, the funds seeming to disappear into thin air during a month's time.
"Keeping track," she said, "gives you some idea of the leaks in your spending pattern. When you know where the leaks are, you can attempt to plug them."
Mrs. Wickens, mother of two sons, has worked all of her married life, taking time out for dates with the stock.
"But I didn't leave my job to have babies," she said. "I continued — even when I was in the hospital — to be on call. As soon as the doctors allowed, I was having bedside conferences with my staff, making budget decisions, giving opinions on hiring, firing."
During the times Mrs. Wickens was in the maternity department, she was the boss of 2,000 and handling a budget of $2.75 million a year.
"When a woman's bent on a career, marriage and child raising, she can't stop working when it's inconvenient," she said.
Mrs. Wickens' home is in Avon, S.D., 1300 miles from Washington, D.C. She commutes — when she has the time.
In Avon, the Wickens' have a farm of 3,000 acres. Her husband, a retired Air Force officer and former economist, looks after the farm.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice:

"Please explain the simplest way to 'shorten boys' and men's cuff-type trousers. I have two growing boys and can't buy the correct in-season length for the size of their waist. If I could shorten these myself, it would certainly help financially. Many of my friends have the same problems and all of us are anxious to get this information. Your column is the first thing I read when I open my paper."

Mrs. G.F.W.

I have had so many requests for this question that I hope all of you will clip this column and save it for future reference.

1. Rip out the original cuff and press the trouser legs flat.
2. Mark correct length of finished trousers.
3. Chalk mark $1\frac{1}{2}$ " below first chalk line for width of cuff. (b)
4. Mark $2\frac{1}{2}$ " below 2nd line and cut slacks off here. (c)

Fold him to wrong side on middle chalk line. (b)

Machine stitch cut edge (c) to trousers. This could also be done with a calf stitch. The stitching line will be covered with cuff. Fold cuff up to right side on first chalk line (a) and the cuff should be even and the correct length. Tack the finished cuff to trousers at both seams.

"Dear Eunice:

"I have just finished a pure silk suit and every time I wear it, I have a million wrinkles in the front. I don't think this looks very good but don't know what to do about it since I didn't fit the skirt too tightly. Have you any good ideas that would correct this?"

Mrs. V.E.R.

Dear Mrs. V.E.R.:

Silk fabrics have a tendency to wrinkle more than almost any other type fabric. I would suggest lining the FRONT of the skirt with a soft, but firm lining fabric. This won't entirely correct the situation, but should help.

Some of your good clothes for summer made from fabrics such as linen and silk, should be partially lined in front only to help prevent wrinkles. They need not be lined in back because this type of fabric doesn't stretch.

"Dear Eunice:

"Can felt be cut on the cross-wise fold? I have a short piece which could be cut to advantage cross-wise."

Mrs. C.P.

Felt has no grain and therefore can be cut in any direction. Felt is not a woven fabric, only woven fabrics have a definite grain.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY:

Save on Soap

(UPI) — End wasteful guessing in the laundry department by keeping a measuring cup near the detergent. Use the exact amount indicated on the package to provide suds. For a low-suds detergent, use only enough to make the water feel "slippery." Not only is too lavish a use of soap costly, it wears on clothes.

Regittko-Lingle Nuptials Are Held by Candlelight

White satin gowns marked family pews in the First Presbyterian Church for Saturday evening vows of Marian Lenora Lingle to David P. Regittko of Dearborn.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershberg performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with white carnations, pompons and gladioli.

The Lewis A. Lingles of Sylvan Lake are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Regittko of Detroit and the late Mr. Regittko.

Soft satin roses accented the back waistline and peplum of the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle, styled with chapel train. Seed pearls and paillettes accented the Sabrina neckline and pointed basque bodice which extended into wrist-point sleeves.

French silk illusion veiling, worn by the bride's sister on her wedding day, was secured by a crown of lace and seed pearls. Pearl jewelry, a gift of the bridegroom, also was worn. White phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis comprised the cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Donald McColl of Waterford Township attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. M. D. Felton of Holly and Mrs. William Thurston of Garden City were bridesmaids.

Their street-length dresses of soft blue silk organza over tulle were styled with bateau necklines, cap sleeves and draped skirts. Matching veiled hats of pearl-tipped petals and cascades of pink carnations completed their ensembles. Flowers for the honor attendant were deeper pink.

On the esquire side was Arthur Bailey, best man, with Marshall Rafferty and Michael Selwa acting as some 125 guests. All are of Dearborn.

MRS. DAVID P. REGITTKO

Leaving for the Great Smoky Mountains area, the new Mrs. Regittko was wearing toast-shade linen with matching coat, with bone and tangerine accessories. The couple will reside in Dearborn.

A plink flower hat complemented Mrs. Lingle's beige, embroidered silk organza sheath dress and bone accessories.

Mrs. Regittko, in a green lace jacketed sheath dress and matching hat, chose white accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

Losses of about $25 million a year are incurred because of the death or serious injury to livestock being shipped to meat packing centers.

Parents, Athletes Get Together on Dinner

An oriental dinner will be served Saturday by St. Frederick Parents Club members. Discussing use of the proceeds, which will benefit the school's athletic program, are (from left) chefs Phil Yapo of Percy King Drive and Sylvester Yapo of Judson Street, varsity club president Tom Ritter of Edgefield Drive, cheerleader captain Pat Brandt of Josephine Avenue and football captain Jim Kennedy of Voorheis Road.

Teamwork will be displayed Saturday when parents and athletes of St. Frederick School combine efforts for their fund-raising oriental dinner.

Dinner will be served in the parish hall from 2 to 8 p.m. by members of the school's athletic groups — both male and female. Proceeds from the dinner will be directed to the school's athletic program.

General chairman Sylvester Yapo will be busy in the kitchen as chef, with Phil Yapo, John Brown is handling ticket sales. In charge of the dining room are Mrs. E. M. Clemen and Mrs. John Brown.

Head coach, Gene Wright has supervised the sale of tickets by varsity club members. Mrs. Frank Scully is handling advertising.

An active telephone committee includes Mrs. William Brant, Mrs. Doris Lufkin, Mrs. Theodore Dobski, Mrs. William Bieleme, Mrs. Clarence Sears, Mrs. Robert Landry and Mrs. Frank Secoy.

Also serving on this committee are Mrs. Joseph Long, Mrs. Lionel Bradley, Mrs. Cecil Osgrove, Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald, Mrs. Orbe Quares, Mrs. George Tewksbury, Mrs. Nestor Gagnon, Mrs. Floyd Foster and Mrs. James Gatten.

It is estimated that South De-Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore both the Mt. Rushmore Memorial, Roosevelt, will exist for 100,000 years without appreciable change.

DAYTIME MAKEUP

Daylight is very harsh and unkind to the use of heavy make-up. It is well to become skilled in applying mascara and eye shadow for a dramatic effect but we caution you NOT TO USE IT during the day. It will accentuate and shorten the features instead of softening them. So apply your foundation with a light touch, let rouge appear as a shadow of color and powder lightly over all. Brush eyebrows and fill in with a quick stroke. Apply your lipstick with care and blot well. Save your dramatic effects for special after-five occasions.

Colors Can Bring Out Your Best

ST. PAUL, (UPI)—The 1961 spring fashions are full of gray, vivid, and daring colors. But before that spree in the dress shops, a University of Minnesota home economist has a word of warning.

"Your personal coloring is the key to choosing becoming color in your clothes, according to Mrs. Charlotte Baumgartner.

When choosing any piece of clothing, Mrs. Baumgartner suggested, "consider what will best suit you: your skin, hair and eyes."

"The key to color fashion," she said, "is to emphasize the desirable characteristics."

For instance, you can make big eyes more intense by wearing a blue dress slightly more grayed than are the eyes.

Or produce the same effect by wearing a small amount of the same hue if it is more intense. For example, try a violet blue necklace.

It is also possible to emphasize your coloring by wearing the complement of the hue you wish to emphasize. If you are a blonde, the neutralized orange tones of your hair will appear more intense if you wear a bright blue sweater.

"Very light values seem to add color also," Mrs. Baumgartner said. If you want to bring out the color of your complexion and hair, wear white or some very light value next to your face.

"A world of modern and exciting fashion awaits every woman who learns to know herself and buy accordingly," Mrs. Baumgartner said.

Seek to Have State's Bishop Baraga Declared Saint

By KENNETH LOWE
Editor, Marquette Mining Journal
Written for The AP

MARQUETTE — Michigan someday will have a Catholic saint — if the efforts of a dedicated group of men and women prove successful.

They are members of the Baraga Association, whose goal is the canonization of Frederic Baraga, pioneer missionary to the Indians of Northern Michigan.

The association and the Baraga Historical Commission, established in 1951, have their headquarters in a little stucco building in Marquette. Here the staff pores over a collection of more than 400,000 documents in eight languages bearing on the life of Baraga, first Bishop of Marquette.

It is a long labor of love, and no one knows when it will be completed. But when the scholars, translators, secretaries and clergymen have finished reconstructing the missionary's life, the entire case will be shipped, along with documents, to Rome — for further study.

Only one American citizen ever has been elevated to sainthood.
That was Mother Francis Xavier Cabriel, proclaimed a saint by Pope Pius XII in 1946.

This, however, does not discourage the Baraga Association, which has about 12,000 members in all 50 states and in numerous foreign countries. They realize decades may pass before any concrete action is taken on their cause.

Meanwhile, the association continues to gather and analyze documents and data about the Jesuit priest. It maintains an extensive library of material about him and his times. It publishes a quarterly bulletin devoted to Baraga's life and lore.

Bishop Baraga, for whom the Upper Peninsula county and a high school in Marquette were named, was born in 1797 in Slovenia, now a part of Yugoslavia. He came to the United States from Austria in 1830 and later became an American citizen.

He started his missionary car-cer in 1831 among the Ottawa
Indians in the Little Traverse Bay region of Northern Michigan. Two years later he established a mission at Grand Rapids.

In 1835, he went to LaPointe, a small settlement on Madeline Island in Lake Superior off the Northern Wisconsin shore and began his long work with the Chippewas.

He learned to speak the Indian tongues and published Chippewa and Ottawa grammars and dictionaries. A brilliant linguist, his writings are in English, German,
French, Slovene, Latin, Italian, Chippewa and Ottawa — to the consternation of historians who have had to decipher his diaries and letters.

Bishop Baraga lived in the wilderness with the Indians. He endured hardships and danger daily and often walked on his mission trips from Sault Ste.

Marie to Marquette and then to Ontonagon, a distance of about 300 miles.

Even after he was named bishop
his work with the Indians. By the time he died in 1868, he had established
30 missions on the shores of Lake
Michigan, Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

He is buried in a crypt at St.
Peter's Cathedral in Marquette.
Hundreds visit the crypt every year.

Since the bishop's death, he has been the subject of at least five full-scale biographies, and one historical novel has been based on his life.

"His reputation for sanctity was very strong in his own day," says

the Rev. Charles J. Carmody, Marquette, executive secretary of the Baraga Association and assistant to the postulator, "and his reputation has retained its strength to the present day.

"But since there are no living witnesses, we must reconstruct and prove his entire life if Bishop Baraga ever is to be canonized."

"We must prove that he lived a heroic and sanctified life and there must be several undoubted miracles worked through his intercession."

"As a wise old man once said, it's easier to be a saint than to be declared one."

And Revenue Agents Couldn't Be Happier

Those Taxing Questions Are on the Wane

By DICK RAINBOWS
Mothers-in-law and dogs are disappearing from the American tax scene.
This would indicate that either man-in-law is being served up in a more appetizing form now, or dogs are people are simply getting wise to Uncle Sam's prize brainwasher — the income tax return.
Lyle Russell, administrative representative in charge of the Collection Division at the Pontiac Office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, thinks people are just getting smarter.
In the past, when the "last minute" return was on the office, the office was flooded with inquiries. Some hubby would call asking if he could claim his mother-in-law as a dependent because she was visiting.
"No, I'm not supporting her, exactly, but she's here. Isn't that enough?" these harried husbands would exclaim.
NEW TYPE
Then there were always the ladies who called asking if they could claim their pet dog, or canary or vermin fly-trap as a dependent.
These early April arrivals are vanishing from the scene, but there are still a few chuckles to be had — and long lines of taxpayers — at the local revenue office.
"We have one breed of taxpayer this year who comes in, gets advice, fills out his form and then marches over to the cashier's window and asks for his refund," says Russell.
"It's like that, he wants the refund."
Refunds can only be repaid via government check after a taxpayer's firm has been received and thoroughly processed at a central office.
Russell also relates a comic incident that happened last week. A woman phoned the office and asked, "How much can I deduct for gas for my car?"
"The government allows six cents per gallon," answered a tax expert.
"Well how much is that a tank?" were her next words.
Just goes to show that nobody can out-smart the answers.
WELCOME CHANGE
But the really bizarre, time-consuming taxpayer queries are disappearing and Russell points to the National Office and R. I. Nixon, Michigan district director, as those most responsible for the welcome change.
"We feel that, due to various taxpayer education programs initiated by Mr. Nixon and the National Office, taxpayers are better informed today, which is a good thing," Russell says.
"These tax education programs now begin in high school. It's not unusual for high school students to go home and help their parents fill out their tax returns, and this is of greatest value during the last few weeks for filing when the local office is plenty busy."
The deadline this year is midnight, Monday, April 17, due to April 15 falling on a weekend.
The calls are increasing and more people are rushing to the local office, at 55 Oakland Ave., seeking advice.
SPECIAL DAYS
The office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays are designated as special taxpayer assistance days. Persons with questions may call FE 2-0208 for help Mondays or, if the problem is more complex, pay a visit to the office.
The Pontiac office is the only full-time one in Oakland County.
We have two real rush periods, Russell says. One is in January. These people have refunds coming and file early.
"The other is right now. Many of these people either one some or are trying to break even."

Getting Tax Tips—The Pontiac Branch Office of the Internal Revenue Department, 55 Oakland Ave., is currently in the "home stretch" giving assistance to persons with income tax problems. One of many such taxpayers caught in the last-minute rush is Frank B. Shields (right) of 750 Third St., shown getting home help advice from Gordon Poor, an internal revenue agent at the local office. While the questions—and snafus—may be different this year, the big rush to meet the April 17 deadline is still the same.

Swainson Appoints Attorney From Soo

LANSING — Appointment of Raymond F. Cleveland, 34, a Sault Ste. Marie attorney, as corporation commissioner was announced today by Gov. Swainson.
Cleveland was named to the post formerly held by Lawrence Gibson of Detroit, who resigned to become a United States district attorney.
Appointment of Cleveland, a former law partner of Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, requires Senate confirmation. He will not be allowed to assume the duties of the $10,000-a-year job before that time.

Fire Destroys Block

SAN PEDRO SULA, Honduras (UPI) — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a square block in the business section of this banana belt city late Tuesday. No casualties were reported.

HAPPY VICTORIES—Mayor Raymond R. Tucker (left) and Comptroller John R. Poelker, Democratic victors in Tuesday's St. Louis, Mo., city election take calls from well-wishers at their campaign headquarters Tuesday night. Tucker, in winning his third four-year term handily, turned back Republican Ben H. Lindenbusch, recipient of support and advice from the GOP National Committee.

Pontiac General Shows $10,000 Bulge for Period

Income exceeded expenses by approximately $10,000 at Pontiac General Hospital during the third accounting period ending March 25, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported today.
Billings of $463,000 were at an all-time high, but so were expenses, he reported.
Occupancy, dropping to about 80 per cent last week, now averages 87 per cent for the year to date, Euler said.
During March there were 54 medical and 13 surgical patients whose admissions were delayed or canceled for lack of bed space, he said.
The Sister Kenny Physical Therapy Department continues to be a busy place. The clinic has given 4,516 treatments to 309 inpatients and 349 outpatients since the first of the year, Euler said.

She Has Right to Corp

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. O. C. Wilkinson told police there was something fishy happening around her house Tuesday. And there was. Somebody tossed 100 fish on her front lawn.

Senators Laud Defense Plans

McNamara Goes Over Big With Vet Solons; 'Knowledge Amazing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate veterans today credited Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with stout and logical arguments for major changes in this nation's military might.
Secretary McNamara has acquired an amazing knowledge of our defense problems in a relatively few months," Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Tuesday after nearly six hours of closed-door testimony.
"The new Pentagon chief, a former president of Ford Motor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were to return for additional Senate questions today."
Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., one of the 17 committee members who listened to the testimony said in a separate interview: "I suspect that when we get through he (McNamara) will have most of his major recommendations approved both ways."
Case said he referred to proposals to spend additional millions on stepping up operations of certain long-range nuclear missiles and strengthening the ground and other forces involved in limited or brush-fire wars.
Russell said two of the most controversial issues thus far are the decision to cut back the B70 bomber development and limit development of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile.

Controversial Illinois Mayor Suffers Defeat

AURORA, Ill. (UPI) — Paul Egan, whose eight years of public conflicts made him one of the nation's better known mayors, was beaten by a margin of more than two-to-one Tuesday in his bid for re-election.
Egan polled 6,994 votes to 15,177 for his opponent and the new mayor, Jay L. Hunter, 69, a retired high school principal.
During his two terms as mayor, Egan battled local officials, business leaders and leading officials. Win or lose, he always was outspoken.
Once he appealed to President Eisenhower for advice. Another time he threatened to take his case to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.
But election defeat found him silent.

Rough Seas Stop Airlift of 2 Burned Seamen

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — Rough seas today prevented the airlift of two critically burned seamen from a Norwegian freighter racked by an explosion and fire Tuesday night with 53 persons aboard 480 miles from land.
The freighter, Martha Bakke, which was disabled because of age to its engines, was making its way under reduced speed to Prince Rupert, B.C., a fishing port midway between Vancouver and Juneau, Alaska.

Union Lake Youth Guilty of Drunken Driving

A 17-year-old Union Lake youth pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge in West Bloomfield Township Justice Court yesterday.
The youth, Earle Bragg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Bragg, 9164 Julia St., was fined $100 or 30 days in the county jail. The fine was paid.
Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle also ordered the youth's driver's license suspended for 90 days.
The rings of Saturn, whirling around the planet, were once believed to be rock. Now scientists think they may be ice or stone covered with ice. The largest of these are believed to be about the size of golf balls.

Host of Video Westerns Get Boot, Will Travel

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—You'll wonder where the westerns went when you flip the dial on your TV set. A glance at the rapidly filling network schedules for next season bears out those reports you've been hearing about a recession in TV's western front.
So far, the three networks are showing a definite coolness toward westerns as they reach for offbeat situation comedies, adult cartoon features, a game show or two, exotic adventure series and the may-day-drama shows in filling their time slots for 1961-62.

Apart from "Gunsmoke," which CBS-TV is expanding to a full-hour next season, no new westerns are headed our way. This doesn't mean that TV's western buffs are being shut out. There will still be plenty of horse operas carrying over from the current season. There were about a dozen more when the 1960-61 season began. A glance at the rapidly filling network schedules for next season bears out those reports you've been hearing about a recession in TV's western front.

Since TV's western chart seems to be bottoming out, I elected to live dangerously last night and watched not one, not two, but three westerns—the hard way: One after another.
I stayed with ABC-TV's "Rifleman," "Wyatt Earp" and "Stagecoach West." In that order. In "Rifleman," Buddy Hackett played the part of a fellow named Bibb. In "Wyatt Earp," Morgan Woodward turned up as an old-timer called Gibbs.
And in "Stagecoach West," Steven Terrell was a bad-guy named Tibbs. Bibb, Gibbs and Tibbs. Our westerns have looked alike for so long that there's no reason why they shouldn't sound alike, too.
Only "Stagecoach" held attention. The ambitious story kept plunging along—plunging is the word, for I counted about a dozen fatalities during the hour—but it was the photography that was most worthwhile.
The entire story took place outdoors and the hard-working camera succeeded in creating setups that fairly glistened with atmosphere and then someone went and added shattering background music to the proceedings and ruined everything.
"Wyatt Earp" was a plodding all-out hack job. Buddy Hackett, in "Rifleman," wasted his talents in a cliché role. During this episode, young Johnny Crawford, as Mark McCain, was called upon to bemoan the disappearance of the wild west. Perhaps he was anticipating next season. Westerns? They went halfway.

A Freudian Play? No Couching From Audience

NEW YORK — And now a play about Sigmund Freud himself.
The patron saint of modern drama—without him where would Tennessee Williams and all the other scoundrels be?—takes stage center in "A Free Country," introduced Tuesday night at the Music Box Theater.
With a cast starring Kim Stanley, Steven Hill and Sam Wanamaker, the eminent Viennese doctor's early career is examined with respect, rather than in cliché, attention.
The main part of Henry Decker's script concerns the case history — an hysterical woman with aching legs—which launched Freud on psychoanalytical research.

Detroit Archdiocese Begins Fund Drive

The Archdiocese of Detroit opened its 12th annual Archdiocesan Development Campaign Tuesday night with a dinner at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.
The Most Rev. John F. Dearn, archbishop of Detroit, was the chief speaker at the dinner attended by the clergical and lay leaders of the 3,000 workers who will conduct the campaign.
Chairman of the archbishop's ADF committee for 1961, Edward H. Kelley, general manufacturing manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, was also one of the speakers.

More than 50 minerals are known to exist in Barren. In 1960, minerals provided almost one-third of the export earnings. The most important developed mineral resources were petroleum, tin, tungsten and lead-silver.

Hearing April 13 at Utica School on M53 Project

UTICA — A public hearing on the proposed widening and relocation of M53 from Eight Mile Road to a point about a quarter of a mile south of 28-Mile Road will be held at 2 p.m. April 13 in the Utica High School auditorium.

In announcing the forthcoming hearing, the State Highway Department explained that in 1955 the State Legislature designated M53 as part of a system of arterial roads to be improved to receive priority improvement.

The widening section of the project is estimated to cost $4.55 million and is scheduled to be placed under contract in the first half of 1962 and during 1963.

Contracts for the freeway section also are scheduled to be awarded during 1963 at an estimated cost of $9.7 million. It is planned to finance up to 50 percent of the cost of the project with federal aid highway funds, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

IN TWO SECTIONS

The proposed project has been divided into two sections in order to effectively relieve the extreme traffic congestion caused by rapid industrial, residential and recreational development of the area.

The first section calls for the widening to seven lanes and resurfacing of existing Van Dyke highway from Eight Mile Road north to a point about a quarter mile south of 18-Mile Road.

The middle lane will be reserved for the left turning movements of both north and southbound traffic. The second section of M53 from just south of 18-Mile Road north to its terminal point near 28-Mile Road will be constructed on a new location.

LIMITED ACCESS

Between these points the new road will be a limited access freeway and will serve as an easterly bypass of the city of Utica.

On this freeway, traffic interchanges will be provided at Hall Road, 23-Mile Road and 26-Mile Road. Interchanges with existing M53 also will be provided at each end of the project.

Bridge or grade separation structures will take the freeway over and under Utica Road, Clinton River, Canal Road, and 21, 22, 24 and 25-Mile Roads.

At the hearing the highway department will present data it has prepared concerning the economic effect of the project and its influence upon the area.

Preliminary engineering and location information will be given. Testimony also will be taken from interested citizens either for or against the proposed project.

Plan Event to Raise Scholarship Funds

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The local chapter of the American Field Service will hold a luncheon and fashion show at the Orchard Lake Country Club tomorrow at 1 p.m. to raise funds for its 1961-62 scholarship program.

The scholarship fund requires $650 to bring a student to West Bloomfield High School and $305 to send a local student abroad, according to Mrs. N. D. Allen, chapter chairman.

She said that in the last five years foreign students from Turkey, the Philippines, Argentina, Spain and Germany have participated in the exchange program. Styles shown at the show will be from the Bloomfield Fashion Shop. Reservations can be made by contacting Mrs. Harry Bittner of 5899 Springwater Lane, West Bloomfield Township.

Cutter Takes Keepers to Their Lighthouses

CHEBOYGAN — The Coast Guard cutter Sandusky Tuesday delivered three lighthouse keepers to the posts for the 1961 Great Lakes navigation season. The cutter picked up the keepers at Mackinac City and took them to the lighthouses at Poe, Martin and Spectacle reefs in Northern Lake Huron.

To See Model April 17

Rochester Board OKs School Plans

ROCHESTER — Preliminary drawings for the new West Junior High School and final plans for renovation of Central Junior High School on West University Drive have been approved by the Rochester Board of Education.

Linn Smith Associates of Birmingham, the architectural firm which is designing both new buildings, will have a model of the new school building ready for the board's April 17 meeting.

West Junior High School will contain 22 classrooms, a library, gymnasium and cafeteria, according to the plans approved by the school board.

It will be constructed at a 22-acre site on Old Perch Road between Walton Boulevard and Avon Road.

Each of the two new schools will have accommodations for 600 students when completed in the fall of 1962.

"West Junior High School will have a potential capacity for 800 students," Halseuga said.

The assistant superintendent said

CHANGES IN STORE

The present Junior high school building will be remodeled extensively between now and the fall of next year.

An enlarged cafeteria will be located in the area now occupied by the home economics room. The library and counseling offices also will be relocated and a new stairway will be built at the east end of the building.

The heating unit in the older section of the building will be revised and the shop area in the basement of the school will be moved to new quarters in the high school.

Included in other plans approved by the school board for Central Junior High is the renovation of the locker area and relocation of the home economics room to the old study area.

Several other rooms also will be remodeled to make way for special education facilities.

Besides approval of Junior high school plans, the board of education has agreed to rent the 4-H Trailblazers Club for its annual horse show this summer.

The board stipulated that the club would have to pay the expenses for any damages done to the field in addition to the regular rental fee.

The board took no action on a request by the school district's bus drivers for a 40-cent-an-hour pay increase on regular runs and a 50-cent-an-hour raise on special runs.

The bus drivers now are paid $2.10 per hour for regular runs and $1.50 per hour for special runs.

A new voting precinct (No. 6) also has been established by the board. Precinct No. 6 will include the area south of Dutton Road and west of Brewster and Old Perch roads.

The library will be open Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The 2,000 books borrowed from the Michigan State Library will be available for circulation with the opening of the library, located at 5030 Orchard Lake Road.

Baton Twirlers Will Compete

International Contest at Lake Orion to Draw 500 of Best on April 15

LAKE ORION — More than 500 baton twirlers from throughout the country expected to participate in the annual Lake O' Lakes International Baton Contest, April 15 at Lake Orion, Community High School.

Official hostess will be Candy Stokes, 34-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stokes of 421 Lake St.

The contest again will be directed by Ray G. Hess of 8886 Arlington Drive, Pontiac. He said the competition is expected to "hold its reputation as the Midwest's largest indoor contest."

Three years ago Hess introduced an intermediate class for the first time. It now is included in most contest throughout the country.

ANOTHER FIRST

Another "first" is planned for this year. It will be "sweetest judging" to this method the contestant twirls before one judge in her class, then the top four girls twirl a second time before two different judges to determine the top four place winners.

Because of the high quality of past judging, it is expected that the top twirlers in the country will be present, according to the director.

Last year 574 twirlers competed. This year, 129 trophies, 40 plaques and 21 medals will be given to winners.

The 1961 contest, sponsored by Chariton Polan Post 233, American Legion also will feature a style show of twirling uniforms in the school lobby.

The Land O' Lakes Majorette and Drum Corps Mothers Club will serve food all day. Any profit will be donated to the local legion post and to the corps' South Milwaukee trip fund. The corps will enter the National Baton Twirling Association and also attend summer camp there this year.

Inquires about the April 15 contest can be made to Hess or Mr. John Smiddy, 1652 Meadowlawn, Pontiac.

Accepting Bids on 2 Area POs

Branches in Ortonville, North Branch Will Get New Buildings

Officials in Washington today announced that bids now are being accepted for construction of two new post office buildings in Ortonville and North Branch.

The deadline for bids on both buildings is June 1, according to U.S. Sens. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The Post Office Department's regional office in Chicago has advised the senators that its new Ortonville office will contain 3,807 square feet of floor space with an outside loading platform and access for parking and truck maneuvering.

The department holds an option on a 57-by-125-foot lot on the south side of Mill Street, between Pond and Church streets in Ortonville. The site in the Lapeer County village of North Branch, according to U.S. Congressman James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, is a 77-by-115-foot lot on the northeast corner of Lincoln and Banker streets.

Specifications for the North Branch Post Office are the same as those in Ortonville, except that it will be slightly smaller, containing 2,300 square feet of floor space.

Successful bidders will purchase the lots, construct buildings according to departmental specifications and lease them to the department on long-term leases. The officials said bids should be submitted to Real Estate Officer Paul C. Bridgman, Box 2656, Federal Building, Detroit 31. Information regarding bidding forms, building specifications and lease provisions also may be obtained by contacting Bridgman.

Toss of Coin Decides Winner of Election

CHEBOYGAN — A flip of a coin put Joe Thompson on the A10th Township Assessments Board of Review Tuesday. Thompson and his opponent, Everett Van Londen, each drew 70 votes in Monday's election and agreed to the coin-toss to decide the winner.

Tax for Library Actually Lost

Didn't Get Majority of Total Votes Cast in Independence Twp.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP

A half-mill tax increase for operation of the township library actually was defeated at the polls here Monday because of a state law dating back to the 1900s.

Contrary to earlier reports, outgoing Township Clerk Harold Doebler said today the "millage increase was defeated because the majority of voters who cast ballots in the election."

The issue was supported by 685 "yes" votes and received only 579 "no" votes.

However, the tax increase was defeated by township residents who voted for officials on the ballot, but who did not vote on the millage question.

The total number of voters who took part in the election was 1,542, according to Doebler. Of these, only 1,365 cast ballots on the millage proposition.

It would have needed 772 "yes" votes to pass.

Doebler said Township Attorney Paul M. Mandel is checking the statute which will verify the results. But he indicated that, however, are that the millage proposal was defeated.

Doebler, the incumbent who lost the Republican nomination for clerk to Howard P. Altman in the primary, received 205 write-in votes for the post in Monday's election.

However, Altman won the job by totaling 78 votes. He had no Democratic opposition. Incumbent treasurer Kenneth L. Johnson, also unopposed, received 719 votes.

Incumbent Supervisor Duane Hurstall led the Republican ticket by defeating his Democratic opponent, Carl K. Golding, 976 to 295.

I Write-In Vote Gives Nonpaying Job to Area Man

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — A single write-in vote in Monday's election has made John A. McClanathan the highway commissioner here.

McClanathan was defeated in the March 12 election in his bid to regain his seat on the village council in Beverly Hills. He lives at 31355 Kemora Road.

His still be a nonpaying job and his jurisdiction covers one-half mile of township road.

One voter among the 3,079 who voted put the name of the 44-year-old glass company executive on the ballot. No one sought the job.

Mrs. Fannie Adams, long-time township clerk, said the post often is vague.

"A man by the name of Don Altman got it two years ago," she said. "I remember swearing him in, but I haven't seen him since."

Treasurer Tops in Votes for Addition's Election

ADDITION TOWNSHIP — Official returns of Monday's election showed Treasurer Donald Hickmott to be the top vote getter on Addition Township's slate of unopposed Republican candidates.

Hickmott was re-elected with a total 212 votes, two more than the 210 received by Clerk Robert A. McCallum, who previously was reported as the biggest winner in the local election.

The returns also showed that the township's new highway commissioner to be Jim Burns. He was elected with one write-in vote.

Shelve Public Vote on Recreation Sites

City commissioners last night shelved the suggestion that financing of recreation centers be put to a public vote.

The move came after City Attorney William A. Burt said the public should not be asked to vote on a bond issue unless detailed plans had been prepared first. There are no such plans at present.

The attorney's report was an answer to Commissioner Milton H. Henry's suggestion for a $5-million bond issue.

Ready for delivery last week, the report was postponed because Henry was not at the meeting.

Commissioner Robert A. Landry, favoring the construction of recreational centers, said the commission should consider revising City Manager Walter K. Willman's five-year capital improvement plan to include recreational facilities.

Only limited funds are allotted to recreation in Willman's five-year budget.

PAVING PROJECTS
The 1961 neighborhood improvement program occupied most of the meeting.

Five proposed curb and gutter projects scheduled for hearings April 11 include:

Manitou Road, Ottawa Drive to Seminole Hills subdivision — assessed cost, $5,202; city cost, $13,800.

Poplar Street, Baldwin to the railroad — assessed cost, $8,900; city cost, $7,858.

First Avenue, Astor to Fuller — assessed cost, $3,696; city cost, $4,307.

Kenilworth Avenue, Mt. Clemens to Perry — assessed cost, $37,231; city cost, $24,048.

Monticello Avenue, Oakland to Orlando — assessed cost, $17,816; city cost, $6,247.

Scheduled for hearings April 11 were assessment rolls covering the following black-topping projects:

Melrose Avenue, Mt. Clemens to Perry; Tennyson Avenue, Fuller to Arlene; Third Avenue, Joslyn to Highland; Clifford Street, Auburn to Osmun; Seward Street, Sanford to Baxter; Russell Street, Auburn to Osmun; and Oxford Road, Argyle to Canterbury.

Deleted from the 1961 program on motion of Commissioner Landry was the proposed recapping of Radburn Street, Paddock to Sanford.

Other hearings last night covered recapping of N. Saginaw Street, Chamberlain to Russell; Clinton Street, Williams to Wayne; and Joslyn Avenue, Columbia to Walton.

Still other hearings covered assessment rolls drawn up for blacktopping of Hillman Avenue, Nebraska to Earlmoor; Pleasantview Drive, Bland to Bland; and Pleasantview Drive, Argyle to Dresden Avenue, Woodland to Hollywood; E. Beverly Avenue, Fuller to Arlene; Fourth Avenue, Joslyn to Highland; Mainfield Avenue, Fuller to Arlene; and Second Avenue, Joslyn to Laurel.

The hearing on plans for a Fiddle Avenue water main was continued one week. Four established homes on the street have services.

Swainson said the close vote on the proposal, which lost by some 10,000 votes, indicates it should be thoroughly considered by the convention delegates.

Under the plan, up to $5 million of the state's credit could have been used to lure new industry to the state or assist business in expansion projects.

Traffic Deaths Behind '60 Pace on County Roads

While the traffic death count in Oakland County continued to mount through March, the total number of fatalities for the month fell below that recorded during the same period last year.

Seven persons lost their lives on the roads and highways in the county last month. In 1960, 10 were killed here during March.

The grim toll for this year so far is 22 with three of those recorded in the present month.

Last year 35 persons had already died in county traffic by this date, and the tally was boosted to 27 by the end of April 1960.

Mild weather in March of this year compared with the same month in 1960 undoubtedly has helped keep the '61 toll down so far, according to county traffic authorities.

The figure is likely to climb sharply with the arrival of warm weather, judging by records of previous years. Drivers are warned to be wary.

Also sent to the planners was a neighborhood petition, signed by 96 per cent of the affected property owners, for the closing of one of the "lover's lane" alleys in the State-Avenue Street area.

First Avenue, Astor to Fuller — assessed cost, $3,696; city cost, $4,307.

Ex-Kenny Director Sentenced to Prison

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Marvin L. Kline, former executive director of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation, today was sentenced to 10 years in prison on a conviction of grand larceny.

Judge Levi Hall decreed the former Minneapolis mayor must serve the sentence "at hard labor" at Stillwater Prison.

Kline, 37, had been found guilty by a District Court jury of fraudulently increasing his own salary from $25,000 to $40,000 while he headed the Kenny Foundation.

Suzi Parker Divorced
NEW YORK (AP) — Actress-musician Suzi Parker was divorced in Paris March 21 from writer Pierre de la Salle, her American lawyer has revealed.

Ore and metals are Norway's most valuable export, with products of forests and fisheries, ranked second and third, respectively, in 1959.

The nation's proved reserves of liquid petroleum grew from 28,400 barrels in 1950 to 32,300,000 barrels in 1959.

Lawyer Claims Gestapo Tactics in Deportation
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A lawyer for Carlos Marcello charged today the government used "Gestapo tactics" in abruptly deporting the New Orleans racketeer to Guatemala without notice.

But Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said that a report from the U.S. Immigration Service indicated that deportation "was in strict accordance with the law."

Marcello was whisked out of the country, by plane when he reported to the Immigration Service in New Orleans to register as an alien as required by law. He found himself in Guatemala in a matter of hours.

Marcello's Washington attorney, Jack Wasserman, announced he is preparing a petition asking the federal courts to order the immigration service to return Marcello to this country.

The nation's proved reserves of liquid petroleum grew from 28,400 barrels in 1950 to 32,300,000 barrels in 1959.

But Salinger Has to Use Word 'Routine'

Secret Service Takes Kidnaping Threats Seriously

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The investigation of recent death and kidnaping threats against President Kennedy and his family in South Florida was described by White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger as "routine."

Said one investigator who went nearly two days without sleep working on the case, "How routine can you get?"

Salinger had no choice but to say what he did — or say absolutely nothing. If he knew or had openly conceded the gravity with which the Secret Service regarded the case, the effect on the public would have been highly alarming.

The publicity attending the threat, which came to light while the Kennedys were vacationing last week in Palm Beach, Fla., was undoubtedly hard on the golden reputation of the community.

Palm Beach Police Chief Homer Large was explosively angry that his normally genteel and placid resort city should figure in news stories involving threats of kidnaping and assassination.

A REVERSE REWARD—This, however, is one of the rewards of the presidency and for the resorts he favors with his presence.

Palm Beach, itself, was in no way responsible for the most recent threat on the lives of the President, Mrs. Kennedy and their children.

What brought the famous southern resort into the tense affair was that the threats originated in South Florida. The threats in themselves were not geographically.

The surly Cubans involved reportedly had advocated the extermination of the Kennedys wherever they were. The two Puerto Ricans who tried in a blast of killing gunfire to shoot their way into Blair House to murder former President Harry S. Truman came from Puerto Rico to Washington to do the job.

USED WORD 'ROUTINE'—Spangler's rather required use of the word "routine" in describing the current case was true to the extent that periodically, nuts and malcontents in various parts of the country write a President hate letters and threaten to kill him. These letters are checked out and a permanent file is kept on the writers.

The investigation in South Florida was a far different matter, however. The first report spoke of emotional advocacy by a pro-Castro Cuban garment worker of kidnaping as a means of turning U.S. policy from its anti-Castro position.

Emotional as it may have been this was enough to set off a painstaking federal investigation. The one threat voiced in Miami led to other trails and the Secret Service began to pick up traces of shadowy Cubans taking daily of wiping out the entire Kennedy family as a blow for Castro.

This took the case quickly out of the routine class and turned it into a hard-boiled investigative matter.

The Secret Service knew it was coping not with simple oddballs who think they deserve a larger pension, but with men and women fired by political customs, nationalistic zeal for a foreign power and possibly more dangerous than any other factor, one or more willing martyrs.

Portuguese Fly to Brazil
LISBON, Portugal (U.S. Press)—Portuguese who sought political asylum in the Brazilian embassy here when the liner Santa Maria was seized by Portuguese revolutionaries on the high seas last January flew to Rio de Janeiro Tuesday. Brazil will admit them as political exiles.

OK Armory Contract
LANSING (UPI)—The State Administrative Board Tuesday approved the award of a contract for a National Guard armory at Sturgis. The board accepted the building committee's recommendation that the $225,963 award go to Nordstrom-Blyers, Inc., Lansing, for construction of the armory.

Finch Jurors Show Strain

Enter Third Round of Life-or-Death Decision on Doctor, Carole

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There was obvious strain among the Finch trial jurors going into the third round of their life-or-death deliberations.

But there was no evidence the jury was approaching the point of hopeless deadlock in trying to decide what penalty Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 43, and Carole Tregoff, will pay for the murder of the doctor's wife.

In their Hall of Justice jail cells above the jury room, the surgeon and his ex-mistress waited like many others for the decision that didn't come. The jurors were in the eighth hour of their deliberations when Superior Court Judge David Coleman ordered them locked up for the night.

Coleman said earlier he would let the jurors continue deliberating indefinitely if they were near a decision at their normal quitting time.

Finch was convicted last week of first-degree murder and conspiracy—both capital offenses—and Miss Tregoff was convicted of conspiracy and second-degree murder. Each could get the death penalty, or each could get life imprisonment, or one could get one penalty and one another. Seven years would be the earliest either could leave prison on parole should life terms be imposed.

Vote Fraud Book by Republicans Very Popular

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican National Committee reports its booklet on vote fraud is so popular it may be made into a movie.

The booklet, entitled "Are You a 'Shadow Voter'?" was released a month ago. About 60,000 copies have been distributed in five printings.

The GOP said two unnamed financial backers have offered to make a movie out of the booklet to be distributed during the 1962 campaign.

The booklet says more than three million votes are stolen or lost in every national election. It contains documented case histories of 15 ways in which votes are stolen.

Count Frank Williamson Against Township Raises

"Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!"

says NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

Will the Soviet threat come true? Will your grandchildren live under Communism? Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag? "Never!" you say. But are you sure? How can you oppose Communism? One sure way is to help Radio Free Europe.

This voice is that of Nikita Khrushchev. The audience is American. "Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!" he shouts. Do you believe that? Will your children live to see the Free World die? Will your grandchildren live in barracks with their hair shaved off? Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag? "Never!" you say. But are you sure? What can you do to oppose Communism? There is one sure way. It is to help Radio Free Europe.

What does it do? Every day, to 79 million captive people behind the Iron Curtain, it broadcasts the plain truth... religious services... folk songs they love... the real news of the outside world.

It helps keep these 79 million people from turning to Communism. The Poles, Czechoslovaks, Bulgarians, Rumanians and Hungarians. It keeps alive their belief in the Free World... their hope for the future... their friendship for America. Broadcasting from 28 transmitters... manned by escapees from Communism... working 18 hours a day... it reaches over 90% of these people, despite Communist jamming. Thousands of smuggled letters echo the same plea: "God Bless You! Please keep Radio Free Europe on the air!"

These 79 million people are vital to the cause of freedom... the future of your children. They are the buffers between Russia and the Free World. They help tie up 30 Russian divisions, stationed to prevent uprisings.

They pose a major obstacle to the Russians starting any war. And they depend on Radio Free Europe. It is their strongest link with the Free World.

But Radio Free Europe needs money to continue this important job... to grow... to become ever more effective. It is privately supported and depends on individual Americans for its very existence. How about it? Will you help fight Communism? Secure the future of your children? ... Give a dollar? ... Give five dollars? ... or more? Surely, your heart tells you to give something so that our children—and all children—shall live in freedom throughout the world.

Warns Cost Perils UP Iron

Rail Chairman Says Must Reduce Expense of Ore Mining

IRONWOOD (AP)—The board chairman of the Chicago and North Western Railroad warned Tuesday night that the economy of Michigan's Upper Peninsula "hangs in the balance" unless ways are found to reduce over-all costs of underground iron ore mining.

Ben W. Heineman told an assembly of 800 here that the Goebels Range, source of much of the nation's iron ore, must make adjustments to meet economic challenges from other iron centers in the U.S. and foreign countries.

"Unless costs are reduced," Heineman said, "the future is dark and failure to reduce them may be fatal to the industry."

Only three of the five iron ore mines in the Goebels Range have been operating in recent weeks. Five others are shut down indefinitely.

HEINEMAN referred to a survey made by the railroad, a major shipper of the ore, that shows 1961 schedules call for only a little more production than in 1959 when the mines were idled by the nation's longest steel strike.

He said a concerted effort is needed to reduce the cost of laid-down ore at the mills-in-mining, shipping and taxes.

"The mines have borne discriminatory tax loads under a belief that a captive market for Michigan ore still exists," he said.

"But higher grade ores from Canada, South America and Africa have placed the underground mines of the Goebels in jeopardy because they offer higher iron content at lower cost."

STURGIS (AP)—A fire swept the Sturgis Livestock Sales Co. Tuesday, killing more than 300 animals and causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

About 250 hogs, 50 sheep and five cows died when the flames raged through the animal pens and destroyed a two-story building housing a show ring and offices.

Officials of the firm said the pens were stocked heavily for a regular weekly auction sale. The company is situated a mile south of the city.

There were no injuries.

About 11 per cent of the area of the United States, about 340,000 square miles, is underlain with coal deposits.

GM Sales in March Go Up 34 Per Cent

March sales of General Motors cars and trucks rose 34 per cent above the January-February level, which at the same time, March output of all GM divisions — including Pontiac Motor — was off from the corresponding month in 1960.

Combined sales of cars and trucks last month totaled 275,000 units.

GM Vice President James M. Roche, of Bloomfield Hills, said the corporation's dealers delivered an estimated 340,000 new cars in March, compared with about 175,000 in January and February.

"The pickup in deliveries by GM dealers is most encouraging," Roche said. "The March sales improvement this year was nearly double the rise our dealers normally experience at this time of year."

"Our sales last month provide impressive evidence of the improved vitality of the market for new cars. Rising consumer interest has been evident for both the regular and smaller lines of cars."

Roche said the pickup in new car sales as well as other market trends provide good signs that the spring selling season will show a continued rise.

"ENCOURAGING TREND" "There has been an encouraging upward trend in recent weeks in new car orders from customers," he said. "Truck sales also have been improving steadily (and) used car sales by GM dealers have shown increasing strength."

GM reported its U.S. plants produced 230,501 passenger cars in March, compared to 230,681 a year ago, and 34,923 trucks and coaches, compared with 37,413 in 1960.

Pontiac Motor production in March totaled 28,173 cars — 19,169 Pontiacs and 9,004 Tempests. The division produced 44,939 Pontiacs in March 1960.

Output for the year's first quarter totaled 87,691 cars — 57,963 Pontiacs and 29,734 Tempests, down from the 127,792 units for the like quarter of 1960.

CHEVY IS TOPS GMC Truck & Coach output in March numbered 6,290 units, down from 11,703 for the like month of 1960. For the first quarter of 1961, GMC produced 17,549 units, down from 32,889 units for the like period a year ago.

Chevrolet Division output in March surpassed the other GM units, with 123,851 cars rolling off Chevy assembly lines. Second place was taken by Pontiac.

Other GM divisions fared as follows: Oldsmobile, 25,504 units; Buick, 19,653, and Cadillac, 15,513.

Manufacturer Sales Climb, Profits Dip

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported Tuesday that manufacturing corporations' sales rose to a record high last year, but higher costs drove profits down.

Sales totaled $345.7 billion, up $17.7 billion from 1959. However, costs climbed faster, shrinking profits after taxes to $15.3 billion, down $1.1 billion from 1959.

Profit margins fell to 4.4 cents per dollar of sales, the lowest since the 1958 recession.

The profit drop was most severe among durable goods industries, whose net earnings were off 13 per cent. The largest declines were reported for lumber, fabricated metal products, furniture and some machinery.

It was, therefore, reassuring to get through the mail this week a questionnaire prepared by Elmo Roper, one of Gallup's arch rivals in the opinion sampling field.

"At least," I said to myself, "someone seems to care what I think."

Moreover, Roper's poll is more than just a cross-section of public opinion. It was described as "a survey of 3,000 American leaders." When I read that, it made my heart sing.

NOT INCLUDED Later, however, I found out that I wasn't included in the select 3,000. An accompanying letter explained that extra copies were being mailed to a bunch of newspapermen.

Nevertheless, my spirits were uplifted by a chance to participate in a poll on any basis, and I have done my best to justify Roper's confidence in me.

In this poll, the pollsters are supposed to predict, or guess, what domestic and world conditions will be like four years from now. The results will be buried in a "timber capsule," which will not be opened until 1965.

Then we can all see how wrong we were.

Among other things, Roper wants to know who will win the 1964 U.S. presidential election and whether man will have reached the moon by 1965.

The answers to both of those questions are more or less obvious. A harder question would be: Who, in 1965, will be president of the moon?

HIS OWN QUIZ I wouldn't want to take the element of suspense out of the poll by revealing all of my answers in advance. I will, however, paraphrase a few of the questions and list my responses to them.

By doing so, I may enable some other unpolled citizen to share vicariously in the thrill of being quizzed by Elmo Roper.

Q.—It now takes about one hour to drive from midtown New York to Idlewild Airport. What will be the driving time in 1965?

A.—Zero. At the rate New York is growing, by 1965 the airport will be in midtown.

Q.—The flying time by commercial jet liner between New York and Washington is now about one hour. What will be the flying time in 1965?

A.—This also will be cut to zero. By 1965, a jet leaving Washington will reach New York before it ever gets off the runway.

Formosa Refuge Enjoying Boom

U. S. Helps Island to Rise After Nationalists Arrival in 1949

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — This island the size of Maryland and its more than 10 million inhabitants have made great forward strides economically and militarily in the 12 years since it became a refuge for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist Chinese.

The Chiang government began its second decade with an island vastly changed from the drowsy, underdeveloped land which greeted the generalissimo and his two million followers when the Communist Chinese drove them from the mainland at the end of 1949.

The textile industry is booming; steel production is reported at 200,000 metric tons annually; there is an island-wide hydroelectric and thermal power system; U. S. interests have poured capital into new industries — automobiles, diesel engines, electrical appliances, timber products.

Agriculture is still the mainstay of the island's economy. Native grown rice, vegetables and meat products are sufficient to feed the 10 million people, almost 90 per cent of them native Formosans. It is conjectured, however, whether this situation will continue in the face of the rising birth rate here.

One economic setback was dealt by the floods of last August, when the island suffered an estimated $100 million loss in crops, industry and private property. More than 1,000 persons were killed.

Most of the credit for Formosa's forward progress goes to the United States, which has poured more than one billion dollars in direct aid and military and technical assistance into the island in the last 10 years.

The defeated Nationalist army which arrived 10 years ago from the mainland also has been rejuvenated by the Chiang government.

Mass retirements and a big conscription program during the last three years have etched a young face on the 600,000-man force which trains night and day on Formosa and guards the Quemoy and Matsu offshore islands.

See Eventual 1½-Hour Flights to Islands of Pacific

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A 2,000-mile-per-hour jet plane — that could whisk you to Europe, South America or Pacific Islands in 1½ hours at bargain rates — was described today.

It would do away with some of the luxuries of today's airline travel. Passengers would have less room — about as much as a passenger in a car. And there'd be no fancy meals, no drinks.

In return, tickets might be 10 to 25 per cent cheaper. Flight times would be drastically cut.

"A weekend in Europe could be a reality for millions just as a weekday evening in Paris could exist for the well-to-do," said engineers Paul Shippa and James Frick of General Dynamics' Convair Division.

NEW CLASS

"If operating costs can be made to decrease a bit along with the increasing travel speed, the possibility exists for creating a whole new class of travelers," they said.

A typical first-class jet fare, round trip between Paris and New York now runs $300, tourist class $265.

The engineers suggested that airplane designers, working on a supersonic, 4,000-mile range airplane, should not be bound by current passenger seating traditions.

"Certainly, to be extreme, a passenger will be satisfied with less volume to move around in for a 10-minute trip than he will for a 10-hour trip," they said.

President Kennedy recently asked for some 10 million dollars to begin research and development of a supersonic civilian transport, but no money so far is available for such a project.

The high speed of the plane and shorter flight times also might reduce the need for meal service and other catering.

The engineers also contemplated the possibility of a windowless airplane, but admitted that passenger acceptance for such a change is a deciding factor.

Without windows, the plane could be made more strong structurally. At high altitudes there might be little to see.

If other space savings were made passengers could be provided with television to occupy their time, providing outside scenes or special programs on "What's doing at your destination."

AT LEAST 10 PCT.

Fares could be cut some 10 per cent from current first-class tickets with some space reductions.

If passengers were packed in with "cattle-car density" fares might be reduced another 25 per cent, the engineers speculated.

If airlines did away with reserved seats and sold tickets on a first-come, first-serve basis, and revised other practices, further cuts in fares could be made, they said.

"Asked if such an air bus ever would have strap hangers like the subway, the engineers said it wouldn't be possible under present Federal regulations which require passengers to be belted into their seats.

However, it is possible that some

Airline Seeks Permission

Planes Would Fly You Abroad for $133

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New York to London by air for only $133 — but with no meals and no seat reservations.

That is the revolutionary service being proposed by an all-cargo airline, Seaboard and Western, which thinks that its plan will tap a huge market of people who otherwise would never fly to Europe.

Seaboard has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to let it try this transatlantic service starting this summer for at least a year.

In effect, it is a "bright first and people second" idea — passengers would be carried on Seaboard's regular cargo flights only if there were room after cargo and mail is loaded.

Seaboard plans to use its new prop-jet Canadair CL44S, a 400-mile-an-hour transport with an unusual "swing-tail" which opens on hinges to facilitate loading.

For passengers, the airline would use three-abreast seats premounted on pallets which can be installed or removed in a matter of minutes. Passengers would be given about six hours notice whether space was available.

The $133 fare amounts to 3.5 cents per passenger mile, compared to 1.2 cents for current "economy" fares and 14 cents for first class passage.

Seaboard's proposal already has drawn objections from the two U.S. scheduled airlines serving the Transatlantic market — Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways.

To put its plan into effect, the cargo line must obtain a CAB exemption from a regulation which forbids all-cargo airlines from hauling passengers on regularly scheduled cargo flights.

Both TWA and Pan-Am have challenged the CAB's authority to grant such an exemption.

Seaboard argues that the CAB itself has called for drastically lower fares to encourage international air travel by people who cannot afford regular U.S. or foreign airline service.

NATIONAL ROAD TEST GIVES THE EVIDENCE!

Concrete outlasts asphalt 3 to 1

Concrete outlasts asphalt 3 to 1

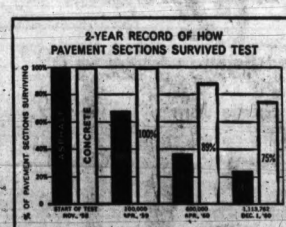

Sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials, the great National Road Test is furnishing important facts of design and construction for pavements.

This completely impartial pavement test, the most significant of all time, was directed by the Highway Research Board. Side by side, concrete and asphalt test sections were subjected to the same 2-year traffic under identical conditions of weather, soil and vehicle loads.

In standing up to traffic, concrete's margin of superiority grew steadily greater as the test progressed. At the end of test traffic, a count of surviving sections showed 74.6% of the concrete still performing. Just 23.6% of the asphalt sections remained. Rideability measurements, too, showed concrete ahead by a wide margin.

Bit of Herb Puts Spring Into Crabmeat Salad.

"We may pick a thousand salads as we light on such another herb," declared one of Shakespeare's characters when speaking of marjoram. It is an excellent salad ingredient. Do try it in this herb-crab meat salad:

Flake an 8-ounce can crab meat or 1 1/2 cup chilled cooked fresh crab meat. Combine with 2 medium-sized fresh mushrooms, sliced, 1/2 cup celery, 1/2 cup onion, 1/2 cup celery powder, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon salad oil, 1 tablespoon cider vinegar and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Toss lightly. Serve on bed of head lettuce. Yield: 5 servings.

Egg Salad Casserole Tempts Your Guests

Hot Casterole Egg Salad requires six to eight eggs for four servings. The eggs can be hard-cooked a day ahead, and the salad assembled several hours before your guests arrive. Put the casserole into the oven the moment your last guest arrives, then handle the final steps of luncheon preparation as the guests are getting settled. A little advance planning makes it possible to do this without remaining in the kitchen constantly.

* * *
Tip to the cook: To hard cook eggs, cover eggs in a saucepan with lukewarm water, at least one inch above the top of eggs. Heat rapidly to boiling. Remove from heat; cover tightly. Allow to stand 15 minutes. Remove eggs immediately; cool promptly under running cold water. Remove shells. Cover and store in refrigerator until ready to use.

Through the Rainbow

The gleaming black olive you remove from the can has gone through almost every color of the spectrum as it ripened. It turned from green to orange-red to yellow to purple and finally to black. Of all the 1,200 foods that are canned, ripe olive cover the widest spectrum.

ing cold water. Remove shells. Cover and store in refrigerator until ready to use.

Hot Casterole Egg Salad
6 to 8 hard-cooked eggs, nearly cut
1/2 cup celery, 1/4 inch dice
1/2 cup coarsely chopped pickles
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup salad dressing—half mayonnaise and half bottled dressing
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup (1/2 lb.) grated Cheddar cheese
1 cup (1/2 lb.) creamed potato slices

Combine eggs, celery, pickles, onion, parsley and pepper in mixing bowl. Add salad dressing. Toss lightly to blend ingredients. Add salt and additional pepper to taste.

Divide into 4 individual 1-cup shallow casseroles. Sprinkle with cheese. Top with potato chips.

Place casseroles on baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F) 25 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with hardcooked egg slices. Makes 4 servings.

To basic mashed potatoes made from 6 medium potatoes add 3 well-beaten eggs, 1/3 cup grated cheese and 1/2 teaspoon marjoram. Bake in shallow baking dish in moderate oven until top is golden brown.

Jumbles Have Long History

This recipe is for Bosworth Jumbles. The old tale has it that the recipe for the jumbles was dropped on Bosworth field by Richard of Gloucester's battered fingered cook — that it was snatched up by young Henry Richmond, first of the Tudors, at about the time poor King Richard was vainly battling his kindred for a horse! Dropping the jumbles themselves might have provided a devastating delaying action and changed the course of history — as it is plainly impossible to eat, fight and run at the same time. Try them yourself and see if you can stop eating them.

Bosworth Jumbles
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries
1/2 cup cherries

Cream butter or margarine and sugar together. Mix in egg. Add flour and cherries; mix well. Shape dough with hands into lengths 6 inches by 1/4 inch. Place on greased baking sheets in "3" shape. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 10-15 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; then remove from baking sheets. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

Canada had 2,655 miles of railways in operation in 1951, compared with 44,000 in 1871.

Hodges Seeks Business Code

Sets Group to Work on Moral Credo in Order to Protect Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, disturbed by the price-fixing conspiracy in the electrical machinery industry, is trying to develop a code of ethics for businessmen.

Hodges, a former textile executive, told a reporter that a group is working, at his behest, on a moral credo which would set forth the principles under which business should operate in the public interest.

"The idea is to unveil the code, when completed, under sponsorship that would command widespread respect among businessmen and the general public."

No decision has been made on whether the sponsor should be an existing business organization or a special group which might be created under the auspices of the Commerce Department or, possibly, the White House.

SIDE-STEPPING ISSUE?

Hodges said business credos too often are simply a statement of conservative economic views, side-stepping questions of basic morality.

He said the need for greater attention to business ethics in some areas was made apparent by the price-fixing case in which more than 20 corporations were fined nearly $2 million and seven executives were jailed.

In addressing a North Carolina audience recently Hodges said: "We would be completely unrealistic unless we recognize that business is under an indictment because of the anti-trust case."

However, he added that to indict all of business for this reason would be like condemning all of labor because of the activities of James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Nixon to Begin Talks on New Administration

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The five-month honeymoon is over, says Richard M. Nixon.

The former vice president told a news conference Tuesday he will begin public appraisal of the Kennedy administration next month, starting with a May 5 speech in Chicago.

Nixon said he will take the role of the loyal opposition with similar talks in Los Angeles, San Diego to receive a Kwanitz award from the Kiwanis Club.

French Drop Charge Against State Airmen

PARIS (AP)—French authorities have dropped a manslaughter charge against Sgt. Robert D. Carpenter, of Jonesville, Mich., the Air Force said Tuesday.

Carpenter had been held by police in connection with the death of a French citizen in a fight which followed a traffic accident near Montrichart last Aug. 7.

Carpenter, 29, said his car ran off the road when he was blinded by the lights of another car. The other driver, Paul Leger, stopped and a fight between them ensued. During the scuffle, Leger fell, striking his head. He died later.

Two psychiatric examinations by French and American doctors found that Carpenter temporarily lost control of himself after striking his head on his car windshield.

The doctors said he was not responsible for his actions in the fight.

Deliveries of major petroleum products to military agencies in the second quarter of 1960 averaged 748,000 barrels daily compared to 690,000 barrels daily in the preceding quarter.

AF Punters UNWANTED—A baby kangaroo, prematurely kicked out of its pouch by its mother, is fed from a bottle by attendant Gene Hartz at Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo.

The young hopper was supposed to remain in the pouch until July or August. She has been placed in an incubator.

Theater Party to Kickoff Crusade

The Michigan Cancer Foundation will kick off its annual educational crusade Thursday morning at the Birmingham Theater.

Volunteers, who have been busy for weeks mapping out their door-to-door crusade, will pause to attend a theater party at 9:30.

The party is sponsored by the foundation, the theater management and the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit.

The event will bring together crusade chairmen and the many volunteer workers behind this month's drive in Oakland County. The program will feature a special showing of "The Hoodlum Priest," starring Don Murray, and a new education film on breast self-examination, "A Breath of Fresh Air," produced by the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

ISSUES PROCLAMATION The door-to-door crusade is slated for next Monday and Tuesday in this area.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston has proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month in Pontiac and has urged all area residents to help give once for all in last fall's United Fund appeal have taken care of that need.

The foundation wants people to know what it is doing, what services and program it makes available to the public, and what the public can do to wipe out cancer.

Volunteers in North Oakland County are under the chairmanship of John W. Fitzgerald, Pontiac Press editor. Chairman of the Women's Division is Mrs. Milo D. Editha and one son, Donald.

Survivors include his widow Editha and one son, Donald.

Smith, a Grand Rapids native, started with the Press as a reporter in 1924 after graduation from University of Michigan. He later served as picture editor, held a long tenure as state editor and also served as assistant news editor. In recent years he worked at the copy desk.

Pay Tribute to Italy and Appetizing Food

Although Italy as we now know it is but 100 years old—the separate states of the Italian peninsula became one nation in March, 1861—the cuisine of this country has developed over the centuries. Here, Italian foods have become such an accepted element of the contemporary landscape that it's hard to believe they didn't originate this side of the Atlantic.

In tribute to modern Italy's hundredth birthday, take a fresh look at some of your family's favorite Italian-style foods. You'll find they're easy to prepare in your own kitchen now that such ingredients as savory herbs and pungent cheeses are readily available to American homemakers.

Vent Parmigiana is one dish most everyone enjoys. To prepare it, first make a tangy tomato sauce. Brown vent cutlets coated with packaged corn flake crumbs and grated cheese, then cover them with the sauce and bake. During the last 15 minutes of baking, top the meat with cheese. Serve with a green salad and fresh fruit for dessert.

Chicken, too, responds deliciously to an Italian hand. Try oven-frying chicken, Italian-style. Marinate the chicken in olive oil first, then coat with seasoned corn flake crumbs and bake. Dishes of this sort are true time-savers when you use the packaged corn flake crumbs in the package with the pour spout.

Vent Parmigiana
2 tablespoons finely chopped green onions

1/2 cup vegetable oil
1/2 cup corn meal tomato paste
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon dried basil
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 black peppercorns
1 cup corn flakes or
1 cup boiling water
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese or aged cheddar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 vent cutlet, pounded until very thin
3 slices cheddar cheese, cut in half
2 tablespoons heated oil until lightly browned. Stir in tomato paste and cook for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in sugar, spices, seasoning, peppercorns and water; simmer 30 minutes. If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs; combine with Parmesan cheese. Beat eggs with salt and pepper.

Dip vent into seasoned eggs, then into corn flake crumbs mixture. Brown on both sides in remaining oil. Place in a shallow layer over meat. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes.

Top each cutlet with a half slice of cheese. Sprinkle with more Parmesan cheese, if desired. Continue baking about 15 minutes longer. Serve at once accompanied by a green salad. Yield: 6 servings.

Italian-style Oven-Fried Chicken
1/2-3 pound frying chicken, cut up
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup French dressing
1 cup corn flakes or
1 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup finely minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Wash and dry chicken pieces. Marinate chicken pieces in olive oil for 15 hours, turning occasionally. If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flake crumbs, cheese, parsley, garlic, salt and pepper; mix well. Roll chicken pieces in crumb mixture. Arrange in shallow baking pan without crowding. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 1 hour, or until chicken is tender. Yield: 4 servings.

Cook Raw Shrimp in Chinese Manner

A delightful luncheon or supper dish, especially for serving on a blustery spring day, is this Shrimp Suet, adapted from a Chinese recipe by the Shrimp Association of the Americas.

Shrimp Suet
1 pound shrimp, fresh or frozen
1 (16 oz. or 12 oz.) package peeled and deveined shrimp
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 onion, sliced
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup minced green pepper
1 No. 1 can bean sprouts
1/2 cup cold water
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 cups cooked hot rice
Salt and pepper to taste

If you buy shrimp in the shell, clean them, but do not cook. Melt butter in frying pan and saute onion, celery and green pepper until soft. Drain bean sprouts and add liquid to sauteed vegetables.

Dissolve cornstarch in cold water with cranberry sauce, top with cinnamon, bake at 350 degrees F. about 30-40 minutes. Top colorful red and golden baked apple with sautéed shrimp and sauce.

Hot Ham-Potato Salad a Different Winter Dish

Salads are a very popular main dish choice for summer suppers and there's no reason why the idea can't be carried over to winter as well. This hot ham and potato salad, for instance, is a hot and heartier version of the summer version of potato salad that would be well suited to wintertime appetites.

This main dish salad, "dressing" and all, is made in a fry pan. Economical canned chopped ham, cut in cubes and browned in butter, is combined with onion and cubed potatoes which have cooked tender in evaporated milk. Just before serving time vinegar and seasonings are stirred in to thicken the evaporated milk into a smooth and flavorful hot dressing for the salad.

Hot Ham and Potato Salad
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) chopped ham
1 (16 oz.) can evaporated milk
3 cups cubed raw potatoes (about 5-6 cubes)
1/2 cup onion, chopped, onion
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk (1 tall can)

Warm Water Unmolds Gelatin—but Don't Drop

In the spring, a young cook's fancy turns to thoughts of shimmering unfused gelatin molds: strawberry Bavarian, lemon chiffon, or perhaps pineapple mousse. But faced with a gelatin dish to be unmolded, many a homemaker qualms.

The unmolding procedure is simple: Dip the mold in warm water to the depth of its contents; loosen around edge with tip of paring knife. Place serving dish on top of mold, turn it upside down, and shake mold gently until contents slide out.

Holiday Baking Idea
Fill: cored Golden Delicious apples with cranberry sauce, top with cinnamon, bake at 350 degrees F. about 30-40 minutes. Top colorful red and golden baked apple with sautéed shrimp and sauce.

Sesame Stuffing for Tenderloin

Since pork tenderloin is considered as a very tender cut of pork, it's always easy to find ways of preparing this tasty meat. For instance, here, too, different flavors may be introduced, such as sesame seed in this recipe.

After the tenderloins are cut lengthwise, almost through, you will notice they may be opened and laid flat for the stuffing. String or skewers are needed to fasten the sides well, so the stuffing will remain inside during the cooking. After roasting, the string or skewers are removed.

Pork Tenderloin With Sesame Stuffing
2 pork tenderloins
1 bouillon cube
1 cup hot water
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sesame seeds
1/2 cup toasted bread cubes
1/2 cup poultry seasoning
1/2 cup egg-salt
1 egg-salt

Cut the pork tenderloins lengthwise, but not quite through. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Cook celery and onion in butter or margarine until tender, about 5 minutes. Toast sesame seeds until lightly browned.

Combine bouillon, celery and onion, sesame seeds, toasted bread, seasonings and egg for stuffing. Spread stuffing on cut surface of one pork tenderloin and place remaining pork tenderloin, cut side down, on stuffing.

Fasten with string or skewers and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until done. 4 to 6 servings.

Cheesecake Is Scrumptious

A dessert as beloved as cheesecake naturally has a variety of flavors and forms:

Cream cheese or cottage cheese or a blend of both cheeses are popular American varieties. Italian cheesecake is often made with creamy Ricotta cheese, while German cheesecake is often made with cream cheese or Parmesan cheese.

To bake or not to bake cheesecakes is no problem. Both varieties are tantalizing, both are easy to make and both will be appreciated down to the last crumb.

The baked variety of cheesecake stands high and handsome... smooth and satiny... wondrous. The refrigerator cheesecake is light but has a firmness given to it by gelatin.

Cheesecakes are enhanced by a variety of fruits. The vine-loving strawberry or raspberry, sweetly tart cherry, succulent apricot and plum, pineapple to name just a few.

Chocolate, vanilla, almond, orange and lemon are popular flavoring agents for extra zest.

Cheesecakes crumbly are usually of pastry dough, graham cracker, zwieback or vanilla wafer crumbs. Cheesecakes made of cream cheese, milk and eggs are best protected by constant refrigeration.

Cool Meat Quickly in Refrigerator

Meats cooked for future use or meats left over after a meal should be quickly cooled, uncovered, in the refrigerator or in a cool room with good air circulation. The meat should not be left at kitchen temperatures for over two hours if one is to prevent possible spoilage. When cooled, cooked meats can be covered or wrapped loosely to prevent excess drying. Keep cooked meat cold in the refrigerator.

Store cooked meats properly and use them within one or two days to enjoy best flavor, juiciness and satisfaction without danger of spoilage.

Eggs in French Toast Cups

Look what breakfast can hold for you: Dip bread as for French toast, then reach, not for a skillet, but for custard cups and butter them well. Into each cup, press a dipped bread slice. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until lightly browned, or about 20 minutes. To serve: Spoon fluffy scrambled eggs into the baked French Toast Cups.

Add Extra Protein With Peanut Candies

Peanuts certainly do get around! Just stroll down the candy aisle of your favorite food mart and watch the parade of peanuts. Peanut candies, muggles, blocks and clusters. Peanuts in cups, logs, brittle and crisp sugar jacks!

And it figures. What else can candy-makers put in confections that is as low in cost, as high in important food values and as universally popular as the small but potent peanut? Countless candies are dropped into lunch boxes every day for school youngsters and working parents.

Along with an apple and a glass of milk, they're the ideal energy-booster for after-school snacking or the evening "candy break." For peanuts, nutritionists tell us, are more than source of quick energy. They're also protein-packed body-builders.

Cooking with peanut confections is as much fun as eating cookies. Before baking, stud slices of packaged refrigerator cookies with chocolate-coated peanuts, peanut "Boston beans," slivers of peanut candy bar or crushed peanut brittle for the quietest glaze-cream ever.

Or whip up Candy Bar Hot Fudge Sauce. Just melt 4 chocolate peanut candy bars (nickel size) in a double-boiler. Stir in a little water, a teaspoonful at a time until it's the thickness you like. Pronto—glossy, nut-studded chocolate sauce for homemade muds, puddings or cake toppings!

Or dress up party parfaits with the help of peanut candies. Like this:

Candy Bar Parfait
Into sherbet or parfait glasses, spoon alternate layers of melted, cooled peanut candy bar and coffee ice cream—thin bands of the chocolate sauce between wide layers of slightly softened ice cream. Top with a swirl of the melted bar, a shower of chopped peanuts and a cherry.

Peanut Brittle, ground or crushed, lends a delightfully nutty, buttery-sweet flavor to another handsome ribbon parfait.

Cherry Peanut Tangle
Prepare one box whipped dessert topping according to package directions. Chill in the refrigerator at least one hour. Prepare one package black cherry flavored gelatin dessert and chill until partially set. Fold ½ cup finely crushed peanut brittle into whipped topping.

Fill six parfait or sherbet glasses with alternate layers of fruit gelatin and brittle whip. Crown the last bright gelatin layer with a fluff of the whip and a sprinkling of crushed brittle. Chill well before serving.

Chocolate Trifle
Cut left-over white or chocolate cake (plain or fruited) into ½-inch cubes—enough to make 1 cup. Put 3 "nickel" chocolate-peanut candy bars through the fine blade of the food chopper. Prepare 1 package vanilla instant pudding by package directions. Scatter chopped candy over the pudding; blend in thoroughly. Fold in cake pieces. Spoon into 6 sherbet or parfait glasses and chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Bananaberry Split
In chilled parfait glasses, alternate layers of slightly softened banana-cream with trickles of red raspberry jam and spoonfuls of chopped chocolate-peanut clusters. Top with a swirl of the ice cream and spangle with chopped nut candy. Serve at once or refrigerate and serve later.

Hot Buttered Apple Juice
An afternoon snack treat for both adults and children is Hot Buttered Apple Juice. To prepare it combine a pint bottle of apple juice with 2 sticks of cinnamon, a tablespoon of brown sugar and 2 teaspoons of lemon juice; simmer 10 minutes. Pour into cups and dot each with a half teaspoon of butter. Makes 4 servings.

All organic compounds in plants come from sugar.

Sugar Will Bring Out Parsnip Flavor

Roman emperors in the days of the decline denied themselves nothing. When the Emperor Tiberius got a longing for a mess of parsnips he sent his runners up to the Thine Valley. Wild parsnips grew here in great profusion, turning sweet in the course of the cold northern winter.

Your nearest food market will have parsnips to use in this recipe. Parsnips are in great profusion, turning sweet in the course of the cold northern winter. Parsnips are in great profusion, turning sweet in the course of the cold northern winter.

margarine, 1 teaspoon sugar and ¼ teaspoon black pepper. Shake over low heat 2 or 3 minutes. Sprinkle lightly with either ground allspice or nutmeg and a teaspoon fresh lemon juice. Serve with pork or fowl.

Quick Fruit Compote
Prepare colorful fresh fruits such as grapes, oranges, pink grapefruit, red and Golden Delicious apples, as you would for fruit cocktail. Marinate in a light pink wine and chill. Fill sherbet glasses with fruits, pour wine over, sprinkle top with fine-grated coconut. Quick 'n' easy!

The aurora borealis, or "northern lights," reaches its peak in March and April.

Senate Ramrod Mansfield Has Hard Thankless Job

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield is keeping a stiff upper lip about the job he has inherited from Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Montana Democrat is now President Johnson's chief lieutenant in the Upper Chamber, but about all the glory that Mike is reaping from the arduous job is an onslaught of critical mail as every plank of the new frontier platform.

Mansfield is a spooked, retiring gent who does not easily brandish a big stick.

He fruitlessly tried it a few weeks ago, by stormily warning senators not to export the traditional Easter recess unless they put their collective nose to the grindstone.

He was going to keep them right

BAC Conforms to JFK Demand

Makes Hodges Chief, Small Business Gets Voice in Body

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's Business Advisory Council yielded Tuesday to Kennedy administration demands for changes in its practices.

At its first meeting under the Kennedy administration, the council agreed to make Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges its general chairman with final authority over a wide range of matters. And it no longer will get off-the-record reports from high government officials.

The council, a group of 175 presidents and board chairmen of big corporations and financial houses, had accepted several so-called administration "suggestions" rather than be disbanded.

Hodges announced after the meeting that he would add five seats to the council and fill most of them with representatives of small business. Bringing small businessmen into the council was one of the proposed reforms.

In a three-hour session, some 80 members in attendance elected Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel, as council chairman to succeed Ralph J. Cordiner, head of the General Electric Co., who resigned.

The changes in ground rules were approved unanimously by voice vote, Blough reported. Hodges explained that as general chairman he will have final authority to appoint new members of the council, renew membership and draw up agendas for the council's five meetings a year.

Administrators, Teachers to Meet at Madison High

Teachers and administrators in Region 7 (Oakland County) of the Michigan Education Association will attend a regional council meeting in Madison High School, Madison Heights, next Wednesday at 5 p.m.

The session will center around a discussion of the representative assembly which will be held in the Lansing Civic Center, April 14-15. The educators will discuss the proposed amendments and bylaws to the MEA constitution and will talk about the adoption of the platform and resolutions which become the program of action for the association.

Presiding at the meeting will be Roscoe V. Crowell, principal of Avondale Senior High School, Auburn Heights. He is president of Region 7.

Representing the Michigan Education Association will be Donald Giese.

Campaign Too Spirited

HARLAN, Ky. (UP)—Arthur D. Hogg, 51, of Cumberland, is a candidate for constable in the May 23 primary election, but he'll be in jail election day for selling moonshine whiskey.

here in session, he said, unless he get prompt action on the President's "must" legislation.

The senators yawned, hummed and dozed again, until Mike to catch the plane home in Easter. Instead of just a weekend, Mike gave them the usual 10-day recess.

Asked why he had changed his mind about the stern father act, he explained that "the Senate calendar was clear, except for one pending nomination."

COMMITTEES DILLY-DALLY

The reason the Senate calendar is clear is not because of an energetic spurt of legislative action, however.

It is due to the fact that senators have dilly-dallied for so long with their committee work that nothing is ready for floor action.

They could easily have had the minimum-wage bill up for consideration by now, but the leadership deliberately delayed it in the hope that this week's visit to the graneros will whet senatorial appetites for the administration bill which the House defeated last month.

The troubles that President Kennedy has encountered thus far in getting his pet bills passed are as nothing compared to the difficulties that lie ahead, Mansfield predicts.

The really controversial ones besides minimum-wage are aid to education, housing and medical care for the aged.

Mansfield, who as majority leader will naturally press for their enactment, discloses that his mail is running heavily against all of them, and particularly against aid to education.

Subterranean Quake Ruins 26 Oil Wells

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—

Authorities say an earthquake centered 10 miles beneath Los Angeles—Long Beach—knocked out 26 producing oil wells and damaged many total millions of dollars.

A subterranean slip was blamed. No surface damage was reported.

The quake, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at first was believed to have been of no consequence.

In addition to the oil wells in the harbor, three wells for injecting water to halt land sinkage were damaged.

Stewart-Glenn Co. Buys Out the Glenn Interest

Furniture Man's Son Sells

The president of one of the city's oldest furniture companies announced today the purchase of interests held by Robert Glenn.

John F. Stewart, president of the Stewart-Glenn Co., organized in 1917, said the company this week acquired the interests held by Robert Glenn, son of one of the founders of the company. The name of the firm will remain the same.

At the same time, Stewart announced that the transaction will result in the closing of the S-G Warehouse Furniture Sales, 20 Franklin Road. A close-out sale will begin April 6.

No purchase price was disclosed. The company will center all its business in its store located at 2080 S. Telegraph Road, and hopes to increase the floor space of the two-year-old building by at least 50 per cent, according to Addison K. Oakley, manager and secretary of the company. Glenn said he sold his interests in the company in order to expand the operations of the Automat Corp. of which he is president.

King of Beasts Not So Lordly With Crocodiles

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (U) — The lordly lion's claim to be king of beasts was shaken recently by an authority on African wild life.

Dr. E. S. B. Leakey, director of Ceylon Museum in Nairobi, Kenya, said he recently came across two cases where crocodiles had caught lions by their tails.

"Both lions escaped minus their tails," he said.

And the lowly hippo, he added, are not so defenseless either. "Because they have extremely muscular lips with which they can kill a lion."

Kindly Mail Carrier Makes His Last Trip

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (U) — Victor L. Harrison, 61, who recently retired as a mail carrier, estimates he walked 180,000 miles during 38 years of delivering letters.

Harrison, a preacher of the Advent Christian Church, was known for his kindness.

During World War II when mail from overseas arrived at the post office, Harrison telephone anxious wives and mothers to tell them they would have mail for them.

Such a Sweet House

CENTREVILLE, Ala. (U) — It was a honey of a new house that the William G. Henderson family moved into. But Henderson didn't like the honey running down the walls. So he called workmen who tore out part of a 16-foot ceiling and cleared away a colony of bees.

Request Ouster of Prosecutor

Lassiter Motion Asks
Kent Be Endorsed as Witness Instead

Motions were filed in Wayne County Circuit Court Tuesday to have Asst. Prosecutor George D. Kent endorsed as a witness and disqualified from handling the state's conspiracy and murder trial of Mrs. Nelle Lassiter and Gordon Watson in the slaying of her husband.

Judge Joseph G. Rashid ordered a hearing on the motions for 2 p.m. Friday.

Kent was in charge of the prosecution of Charles Nash, Richard Jones and Roy C. Hicks, all of Chattanooga, Tenn., who pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the death of Parvin (Bill) Lassiter in April, 1959. They are now serving life-term prison sentences.

He also has handled the conspiracy and murder case against Mrs. Lassiter and Watson, a one-time partner of her husband in a Royal Oak automobile dealership. Joseph W. Louissell, Mrs. Lassiter's attorney, said in today's motions that Kent recommended the court accept second-degree pleas against the three now in prison, although in possession of evidence "clearly demonstrating" they were guilty of first-degree murder.

He also charged that Kent made the recommendation after an understanding was reached with the trio to "fully cooperate" in an attempt to convict Mrs. Lassiter and Watson in Lassiter's slaying.

The state charges that Lassiter was slain in a plot engineered by Mrs. Lassiter of 3009 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, and Watson, of Los Angeles.

Man in Space

Engineers Out to Make 'Murphy' a Liar

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — Engineers seeking to hurl a man into space are indebted today to great minds of the past, such as Copernicus, Newton, Einstein and Murphy.

"Murphy is the most recent addition to this roster of genius and the least well known. In fact, nobody knows where he worked or lived."

But no matter his background, "Murphy's Law" ranks with the theory of relativity for many a space engineer. The law says, "If something can go wrong, it will."

William Cowdin, an official of the Aerojet-General Corp. here, said that the truth of Murphy's statement dawned only recently, but has already increased rocket reliability as engineers eliminate parts.

He cited, for instance, the Big Titan II, scheduled to make its first test flight in the near future with 50 per cent fewer parts than Titan I.

Cowdin is technical director for Aerojet's portion of the Dynasaur program, which should bear fruit in 1963 when a Titan II rocket lifts a manned glider into space. Aerojet, maker of the Titan, works jointly under the Air Force with Boeing, maker of the glider.

CONTROLLED LANDING

Unlike Dynasaur, the Mercury project will lift a capsule into space. The Mercury astronaut, after his orbital swings around the earth, will fall. The Dynasaur pilot will come down for a controlled landing.

Despite his respect for Murphy, Cowdin is now adding parts to the Titan for greater pilot safety.

"If the Titan, operating as an ICBM with a warhead, failed over the ocean, we'd lose only the missile," he said.

But with a man on board, the rocket needs a "master sensing system" to either shut down its engine or separate it from the glider in case something goes wrong at 20,000 miles an hour between 50 and 300 miles above the earth.

FEW PARTS

Cowdin plans to construct the system from relatively few parts, unlike "several years ago when we were so safety conscious that we put separate shutdown gadgets on nearly everything inside the rocket."

In addition to keeping safety

Her Mop's a Home 3 Years for Robins

CINCINNATI (U) — Three years ago Mrs. Maude Rankin hung up a mop on a back porch nail to dry but she never got to use it again.

A couple of robins picked the scrubbing end of the mop as a place to build a nest and raise a family. They kept coming back each year.

How does she clean her floors now? "I get down on my hands and knees and scrub," she said. "Gets cleaner that way, anyway."

gadgets at a minimum, engineers have heeded Murphy by developing reliable liquid fuels that can be stored in the rocket at room temperature.

Before the perfection of "storable" last year, liquid fuel rockets burned liquid oxygen, whose storing temperature is 267 degrees below zero. It cooled the rocket just prior to launching and contributed to long and complicated count-downs.

Besides making the count-down simpler, storable fuel has still another advantage in that its two components—kept separate in the rocket—ignite on contact. Liquid oxygen and its other component—also kept separate—required a special firing device.

To be logical Murphysmen, engineers should stop designing liquid fuel rockets with their internal pumps, pipes, turbines and generators. They should produce only solid fuel rockets like the Navy's Polaris and the Air Force Minuteman, whose engines are simply big chunks of fuel with nozzles on the bottom for spitting out flame.

But solid-fuel rockets generally deliver less thrust. Also, when engineers begin swiveling their burning jets so the rocket can change direction, the solid-fuel rockets accumulate almost as many moving parts as the liquid-fuel rockets.

Finally, the solids have a near-fatal flaw for the future man in space: They cannot be turned off and on to allow the man easier cruising toward the stars.

And even if the pilot's name were Murphy, he'd want to be able to do that.

'Oldest' City Attorney on Job Since 1919

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (U) — City Atty. Joe W. Anderson figures he's the granddaddy of all city attorneys — but only by eight days.

Anderson, who recently observed his 72nd birthday, went to work as assistant city attorney on Dec. 23, 1919.

He figures he has eight days over A. C. Van Solen — who went to work in Seattle, Wash., city attorney Dec. 31, 1919.

Pontiac Agency Open

Tiger Tickets at Osmun's

The Detroit Tigers will continue with their Pontiac ticket agency to serve fans of the city and Oakland County, it was announced today.

Osmun's Men's Store at 51 North Saginaw Street in downtown Pontiac will again be headquarters for purchase of box and reserved seat tickets for all 1961 American League games at Tiger Stadium.

This will be the third season that the Tigers have had an agency at Osmun's.

"Billy Lott, Tiger Ticket Director told the results of the past two seasons were excellent. Osmun's has been one of the most active of the 12 outside agencies in operation."

"We are convinced that fans of the Pontiac area found our agency convenient and economical. As a short cut to ticket buying it served a most useful purpose," Lott commented.

The agency is now prepared to accept 1961 ticket applications.

The ticket department at Tiger Stadium will fill all orders immediately for any game during the 1961 season.

The Pontiac agency is one of 17 set up by the Tigers and an expanded outside network intended to facilitate placement of ticket orders by fans beyond the immediate Detroit vicinity.

The others are located at Flint, Lansing, Mt. Pleasant, Port Huron, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Jackson and Kalamazoo in Michigan; London and Windsor in Ontario, and Toledo, Ohio.

Grand Rapids Kegler Rolls 300 Game

It's Only 17th Perfect Score in ABC History

Pfeiffer Bowlers Pace Local Tourney Entries at Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP) — Robert (Corky) DeGraff's perfect game at the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday was a family affair.

The crew-cut Grand Rapids, Mich., photographer reeled off 12 straight strikes as he rolled with his father-in-law, Marshall Robbins, in the third game of the doubles.

DeGraff, at 24 the youngest 300 bowler in 58 ABC tournaments, rolled 194 and 205 in his first two.

"Marsh told me to keep throwing the same way. We didn't seem to be going anywhere so I figured I had nothing to lose," he said.

DeGraff's 609 and Robbins' 615 gave them 1,224 for second place in the classic doubles.

Pfeiffer Bowlers paced 11 Pontiac teams last night with 555, led by Wayne Beals with a 340 game and a 621 series, Grifflon Bar followed at 5215, featuring Jim Muenner's 544, Drewry's 544 and Stro's each hit 555. Tony Galen's 538 topped Drewry's, Armand Gligio rolled 515 and Al Gligio 495 for 519.

Miller Reilly totaled 582. Dick Carter was high with 555. Jay Korpine fired 564 in Leonard's 585. Sylvan Center had 522 with Henry Davidson the best individual at 511.

Wrigley's Market scored 597, headed by Jim Cardoni's at 597. Biemar Inn was next at 559, sparked by a 554 for Simon Repovash. Sylvan Lanes finished with 522 as Marshall O'Shaughnessy led with 611. Midway Bar hit 522 with Bill Mortimer the No. 1 man at 499.

A handful of afternoon spectators was hushed as DeGraff came up for his last try in the third game. Competition stopped on all 40 lanes.

"I never knew a bowling alley could be so quiet," DeGraff said later. "The silence didn't bother me. I knew everyone was pulling for me."

There have been only 17 perfect games in the tournament's history.

Waterford's Falls Is Triple Winner

Joe Falls won three events and Mike Siskels two as Waterford opened its dual meet track season with an easy 75-31 victory over Wayne Tuesday on the indoor field.

The Skippers captured first in all but one event: Falls won the hurdle races and the pole vault. Siskels was first in the 100 and 200-yard dashes and ran a leg on the winning 880 relay team.

AP Photo — Bob DeGraff of Grand Rapids finds everything just perfect after a kiss from his wife Ardith. The reward was the result of bowling a perfect "300" game in the ABC tournament in Detroit yesterday. He is the 17th to do it in 58 years old history of the tourney.

Five Player AFL Trade Involves QB Babe Parilli

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots and Oakland Raiders have engineered a five-player trade—the biggest in the one-year record of the American Football League—that brings veteran quarterback Babe Parilli to the Patriots.

A form of censure will be invoked on any house violating the code, according to a spokesman for the group. "We will also try to prevent keggers who do not compete in a house that is a member of our proprietors' association from bowling or advertising their tournaments in a member place," he added.

All agreed that big giveaways are injurious to the sport. Some reportedly have already lost loggers because of the chances of special prizes elsewhere. "I can't afford to give away a kiddie car and they're giving cars," stated one loser.

Three large new keg sites are scheduled to be ready by open by next fall and the total may grow by that time. Those apparently definite are "300 Bowl," a glamorous replacement for Land-O-Lakes and Blue Sky Lanes.

The trio will add over 90 alleys to a section which had seemed already well set for bowling for many years to come. "We'll be like the gas stations—on every corner—said one owner about the situation.

His comment is fitting for one section where "300," Lakewood Lanes and Huron Bowl will be practically neighbors and all only a few minutes from the site where a new place complete with swimming pool is to be built on 12th near Crescent Lake Road.

It will be quite a battle during the next several months with some of the proprietors and even the two big bowling concerns feuding over the situation here.

Press Sports Editor Bruno Kearns gave a thorough summary of the mess from an alley-bowler standpoint in his Press Box column yesterday. That plus the new terrific giveaway plan of some of the battlers could really mean disaster for many in the keg business.

Here's N'THREE
Jennie Mayer rolled a 257 game, hitting 10 straight strikes after starting out with 7 and 9 at Wonderland Lanes. It was the best game in 10 years of bowling for the 153-average woman. Her series was 589. . . . Funeral service was held this week in Wisconsin for ex-ABC president and board member Arthur Pickler.

A 1103 and 1065 by West Side were best games rolled in the recent match against Lipcer although the losers topped 1000 three times. Locals also had the edge on individual games with 14 of 300 or more to 12. . . . Farmington Classic led Camp o Jewelry hit 1083-900, Nor-West Lanes 905. Jerry Heistler's 237-603 topped most. Jerry Murray hit 245-574. Tom Friedman 247-668. Dick Preston 267-660. Jerry Dunkel 235-660 and Bill Fite 260-639.

Final open meeting of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association is set for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the Elks. Prizes for the recent women's tourney will be distributed. Teams with 2520 and up finished in the money. The other limits were 1172 in doubles, 603 in singles and 1769 all events. . . . Les Rothbarth appears to be regaining his old form as a local keg ace after being in quite a slump.

"We're not trying to conceal any thing. We want DeBusschere and we plan to go after him," the coach admitted.

Bob Callahan, DeBusschere's basketball coach at U.D., suggests that DeBusschere might have "a better chance" in basketball.

"In baseball he'd probably have to spend two or three years in the minors and then if something should happen to his arm, he's out of luck."

By going to college he was able to postpone the inevitable decision of what to do with his future.

Time, however, is beginning to run out and within the next year (he graduates in 1962) he must decide which way to jump.

"I think other people are more concerned about it than I am," says DeBusschere. "I don't intend to start thinking about it seriously until next year. Right now I'm not looking past this coming baseball season and then there's another year of basketball and baseball after that."

"Naturally, a lot would probably depend on what kind of offers I get. But money certainly isn't the

11th Frame

Will a code of ethics help to solve a problem which could become a dangerous threat to the future of some of the local bowling establishments?

Area keg proprietors hope so. They named a four-man group to work on the project yesterday following much discussion at a fiery meeting.

People in the business have been understandably disturbed at the constant addition of establishments and expansion of others in the past two years but recent "big giveaway" announcements have them really doing a slow burn. "We're really perturbed," said one house owner.

Lou Korpine of Motor Inn, Sam Perna of West Side Recreation, Wonderland Lanes' Paul Horie and Art Rosner of Sylvan Lanes were selected to set up the code "where by bowling will be dealt with as a sport rather than a giveaway."

A form of censure will be invoked on any house violating the code, according to a spokesman for the group. "We will also try to prevent keggers who do not compete in a house that is a member of our proprietors' association from bowling or advertising their tournaments in a member place," he added.

Michigan Wins Slugfest

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The University of Michigan won a slugfest from Arizona State University here last night, 13-11.

Eight runs in the final two innings turned the trick for the visiting Wolverines. Mike Joyce went all the way to gain the victory while the Sun Devils used three hurlers with Sterling Slaughter being charged with the loss.

Michigan catcher Dick Syring hit a home run with one on in the ninth.

Mild Winter Helped Herd

Deer Are Doing Well

LANSING — Barring a siege of bad weather, Michigan's deer herd will come out of the winter in better physical shape than it has had in a number of years.

Except for a few severe cold snaps, which have found the going comparatively easy during their 1960-61 winter season, Snowfall has been the lightest since the early 1950's.

This has helped to ease the normal yarding pinch on deer in the Upper Peninsula and allowed animals to feed and roam through much of their summer range during a good part of the season.

Conservation Department game warden look for only a smattering of starvation losses. Last winter, an estimated 20,000 deer died from starvation.

To date, only two starved deer have been reported by field men.

Jordan River Lake Trout Hatchery Awaits Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hatchery capable of producing two million lake trout each year will be in operation in 1963 at Jordan River, Mich. If Congress okays an administration fund request.

OCSC Archers State Champs

The Oakland County Sportsmen's Club archers won two state championships last Saturday at their own indoor range.

The OCSC instinctive and free-style teams captured the Flint round titles. The No. 2 instinctive trio finished third. A total of 29 teams from all parts of the Lower Peninsula competed.

Scores Double Kill One Deer, but Loses

STREATOR, Ill. (AP) — Francis Fasarp bagged two deer last night, but he didn't come back with his prizes strapped to his fenders. In fact, he barely came back with the fenders.

Fasarp, 32, a tobacco salesman, was driving home when the sight of five bounding deer suddenly filled his windshield. He thudded into the midst of them, and two deer lay dead on the highway, about three miles north of Henry.

Game Warden Robert Bectold decided Fasarp could go, but the deer had to stay. Bectold distributed the freshly killed game to charitable institutions. The accident left the car with a smashed radiator, shattered headlight and dented hood.

Charles Boyle, secretary of the Fauna Preservation Society, said the raiders were in a conveyer of modern vehicles which nullified the boy's chief defense against attack — its speed.

Boyle said the raiders apparently entered the protectorate from Oaxaca, and independent Araba shielded under British protection on the Persian Gulf coast of the Arabian Peninsula.

Eagle Survey Under Way Along State's Shorelines

LANSING (AP) — The bald eagle, proud symbol of the nation, may be on the decline.

Bird lovers aren't the only ones to be concerned. For the bald eagle is no mere commoner in the bird kingdom, but a titled lord of sorts whose likeness graces the seals of the United States and the State of Michigan, among others.

The National Audubon Society is conducting a nationwide survey of eagle nests and populations to find out whether its fears are well founded.

The survey has already started in Michigan. Sergei Postupalsky of Warren, a member of the Audubon Society, is coordinating state efforts. The State Conservation Department is co-operating.

The department will turn over to the Audubon Society a list of all nest sightings since records first were compiled in 1937. Later on, information on the birds themselves will be compiled as reports come in from conservation officers in the field.

A survey last year turned up more than 60 eagle nests in the Upper Peninsula. The actual total is no doubt higher.

Andy Ammons, state game biologist who is coordinating the conservation department survey, says eagle populations probably are declining slightly in Michigan.

"Encroachment of man on the eagle's isolated nesting areas is probably the reason," Ammons said. "Down in Florida, where the situation is said to be most serious, it is thought that marsh spraying and other pesticide control programs are to blame."

Game men think the total of breeding pairs of bald eagles in Michigan doesn't top 100. Most are in the upper two-thirds of the state, although nests and eagles have been along Lake Erie in Monroe County, Anchor Bay off Lake St. Clair, St. Joseph and Allegan Counties and near Lake Muskegon.

Nests have been spotted most frequently in the northeast Lower Peninsula and along the Great Lakes shores in the Upper Peninsula.

Nests, measuring five or six feet, usually are built in the crotch of the largest tree around. Invariably, they're near a large body of water where the eagle can obtain fish, his chief nourishment.

Eagles are thought to mate for life. They've lived as long as 20 years in captivity and probably longer in the wild.

In Michigan, full grown birds may have a wing span of six to eight feet and measure three feet from beak to tail. They may weigh as much as 10 to 11 pounds.

Only fully grown mature birds display the white head which gives the bald eagle its name.

Right now eagles are on their nests, with the mother and father sharing the job of incubating the two eggs that are normally laid in a season. Most eaglets will be hatched this month.

Woe to the man who is caught killing a bald eagle. State law sets a maximum $100 fine and 90 days in jail.

Congress, anxious to preserve the bird that symbolizes the American ideal of freedom, passed a law 21 years ago that provides for a $500 fine and up to six months in jail.

Included under the proposed measure would be docking facilities for industrial or commercial use on "public inland lakes or streams," including the St. Mary's, St. Clair and Detroit rivers.

The bill was proposed by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Pontiac; Martin Buh, R-Comstock Park; Albert Horrigan, D-Flint; Joseph A. Kowalski, D-Detroit; and Homer A. Dett, R-Kalamazoo. It would pour money into the general fund as well as the fish and game protection fund.

Fifty per cent of the money collected by the department would go to its fund and the remaining half to the state's general fund.

If the bill gets out of the conservation committee by Friday's deadline, it will meet strong opposition from large industrial firms which own docking facilities on the rivers linking the Great Lakes.

PLANT CHAMPIONS — Sixty-Six won the G. M. C. Truck and Coach winter trapshooting league plant championship over division champion Chippers. The summer trapshooting league will get under way May 4.

Must Reading for Anglers

'Attached Thereto' Says Fish Digest

By DON VOGL, Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

The time has come to take a close look at Michigan's 1961 Fish Law Digest.

This 16-page folder is supposed to be included with each purchased fishing license. It is required reading for all anglers — if they can figure some of the law-book wording.

At the bottom of page 9 is a paragraph concerning special provisions governing four lakes in Oakland County. A quick reading discloses:

That Haven Hill Lake in the Highland recreation area is open to fishing only when covered with ice.

That Wildwood and Valley Lakes in the Holy recreation area are closed to spearing during January and February.

That we should look under "experimental lakes" on Page 4 for more regulations.

That Page 4, informs us it is unlawful to possess a spear while fishing Pontiac Lake. That this lake has no closed season on black bass, but that the season on northern pike is closed from March 1 to June 16.

The digest defines an artificial fly as follows:

"Limited to so-called and commonly accepted wet or dry trout fishing fly and without spinner, spoon or any other contrivance or device attached thereto or used in connection therewith."

This seems to indicate that a hook covered with feathers, animal fur, tinzel or silk thread is acceptable. But don't weight it in any way or you may pay the penalty.

It is "lawful to use for still fishing, ice fishing, casting or trolling 2 lines under immediate control, having a total of not more than 4 hooks on all lines baited with natural or artificial bait."

According to this you can fish with two lines at the most, and have three hooks on one line, one hook on the other; or two on each line. Treble hooks attached to a line are outlawed.

Treble hooks on plugs, spoons, spinners or other manufactured lures are all right. Nightcrawler harnesses, although sold commercially, are not considered "manufactured lures." So if you are fishing with two lines and both have harnesses with three hooks each, you are two hooks over the limit.

For the trout fishermen who are impatiently waiting the arrival of April 30, here are some regulations:

Fish only on the North Branch of the AuSable River from Egan's Landing to where it empties into the main stream. Only five fish can be kept in this stretch, and each one has to be at least nine inches long. Special areas on the main stream and South Branch of the AuSable are the same as in past years.

Don't go cleaning those fish out in the boat. It's unlawful to have in the creel, on the stringer, hidden in the tackle box, etc. on public waters "mutilated fish that cannot be identified or measured."

This warning is for those people who accept fish caught by a friend or neighbor. Make sure he has a license and caught the fish legally. It is a violation to possess illegally taken fish.

If the husband has a license and a trout stamp, the wife is covered. But if the husband doesn't have a license and his spouse wants to go fishing, she'll have to purchase one, or get him to pay his $2.

Most anglers give the digest a quick glance and then store it somewhere. When needed, they can't seem to locate it.

We suggest that all fishermen read the digest. It is very confusing in places, clear in others, but its contents can save fishermen some embarrassing moments. And money, too.

Solunar Tables

This schedule of Solunar Periods for the next week has been prepared by John Alden Knight. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times:

Guess Who Leads List of Fishing Violators?

Women are 50 per cent more likely to be arrested for fishing without a license than men, according to a recent survey by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The study showed that for each 100 men checked, one did not have a license. One violator for every 100 women was found.

In Michigan, a married woman does not need a license, providing her husband has one.

Commercial Dock Fee Bill Meets Opposition

LANSING (UPI) — The state's fish and game protection fund is a sore spot for the Conservation Department this year and several attempts are being made to clean up the ailment before it becomes more serious.

In the current session of the legislature, the department had had bills introduced to expand the base of fishing license fees which go into the fund. One would require wives to buy licenses and another bill would extend license requirements to the Great Lakes.

A third bill introduced by members of both parties in the House would bring money into the depleted fund by imposing a fee on marinas, piers, docks and wharves used for commercial boating in the state.

The fee would be 3 per cent of the appraised value of the property to which the dock facility was located—with a minimum of $5 a year.

Individuals would be exempt from the fee if the docks were used for "noncommercial recreational purposes" or private use.

'Sportsmen' Send Rare Oryx Closer to Extinction

LONDON (UPI) — A group of "sportsmen" armed with machine guns and using fast automobiles recently committed one of the most senseless and savage attacks on wildlife in modern times.

They rolled into the Aden Protectorate and killed so many Arabian oryx — one of the rarest and most beautiful antelopes on earth — that experts believe the animal, as a free living and free breeding species, can now be regarded as extinct.

Charles Boyle, secretary of the Fauna Preservation Society, said the raiders were in a conveyer of modern vehicles which nullified the oryx's chief defense against attack — its speed.

Boyle said the raiders apparently entered the protectorate from Oaxaca, and independent Araba shielded under British protection on the Persian Gulf coast of the Arabian Peninsula.

Cities Keep OK to Tax Income

Attempt at Banning Is Beaten in State House for Second Time

LANSING (AP) — The idea of allowing cities to collect their own income tax appears to be gathering support in the legislature.

The House of Representatives Tuesday, by a 64-34 vote, defeated a bill to prohibit city income taxes.

Rep. John T. Bowman, D-Essex, and members of other suburban communities originally sponsored the bill, aimed at killing any attempt of cities to levy income tax on their commuters.

The measure lost once and was brought up again in amended form. Detroit's anti-Democratic delegation, led by Rep. Michael J. O'Brien, fought it bitterly. It gained help from representatives of out-state large cities.

If the legislature removes the taxing authority of the cities, O'Brien threatened, the cities may move to get some of the money back in other forms. He was talking about such as the sale of state sales tax proceeds.

"Detroit is a very friendly city," O'Brien said. "We have been supporting many other cities with taxes for years. When we send $27 million to Lansing we get back only $3 million."

The city representatives, voting outside their party, fought the bill as an encroachment on home rule.

Centennial Note: Be Sure to Wash the Facial Fuzz

To centennial conscious Pontiac men, the following memo from a news service which gives out ideas on good grooming should be of interest:

MEMO TO MUSTACHIO MEN— With mustaches now more popular than during the last few decades, it's well to remember that they need washing as well as the face.

Since the hair collects dust and grime—and retains it close to the nose and mouth—an extra wash should be "champoned" with plenty of warm soaps and rinses once or twice every day.

Massachusetts Cyclists Allowed to Stop Traffic

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts motorists will be required to stop on signal from youngsters riding bicycles under a bill signed into law Tuesday by Gov. John A. Volpe.

The law reads: "Every person operating a motor vehicle shall reduce the speed of said vehicle to 15 miles per hour and sound his horn when approaching a child on a bicycle, and it shall child shall signal for him to stop said do so."

Behan After Court Date to Face Assault Charge

TORONTO (UPI)—Irish playwright Brendan Behan expected to see his lawyer today about trying to "get to court sometime this week."

Behan wants to get out of the hospital, where he has been receiving treatment for two alcoholic seizures and get to court to face charges of disturbing the peace.

He is charged with assaulting two city policemen.

Ach! Free Scotland?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A tourist back from Scotland proudly displayed a silk scarf pocketed from the rear of the courtroom to chat with his foster parents.

"If we let him go home tonight," said a deputy sheriff, "he'd be first one back here in the morning." "Made in West Germany," he said.

School Officials Get Back of Community College Bill

Such a nice kitty—Laurette Bascombe hugs King Cuckoo, pet lion, in effort to prove he's gentle as all get out. St. Louis police told the lion's owner, Rick Flinn, to remove the animal from the northwest St. Louis County neighborhood where he had been keeping it. Neighbors had complained they feared for the safety of their children. Flinn stuck his head in the lion's mouth and Laurette, who was King Cuckoo in a dancing act, hugged it to show how friendly it is but police were not impressed.

Oakland County Sup't. of Schools Dr. William J. Emerson and school officials from the metropolitan Detroit area Tuesday strongly supported a proposed bill to establish community colleges in this area.

The educators and administrators appeared at a public hearing in Lansing before the Senate Education Committee.

The proposed bill, now being studied by the committee, would allow the Wayne, Oakland and Macomb county boards of education to set up community colleges in their respective counties.

"Such a bill might trigger a study on the need for revising laws governing the establishment of such schools," said Sen. Lynn O. Franklin, D-Midland, committee chairman.

The bill, if passed, would allow counties with student populations of more than 120,000 to set up county community colleges and levy a maximum of 2 per cent tax on certain transfers of real property.

PLAN QUICK VOTE

"The proposal for an Oakland County College will be put to voters at the end of the measure passes," said Emerson.

"The proposed tax would raise $2 million a year in Oakland," he said.

Present laws allow community colleges to be set up only as part of the educational system in one school district or through the joint effort of neighboring districts.

At the hearing, Mrs. Peter Loomis, president of the Birmingham Board of Education, said "the bill would leave the establishment of the junior colleges to local choice."

Educators said the measure would speed the growing need for institutions of higher learning, be quicker and better organized, permit more long-range planning and growing need for terminal courses (less than four years).

Emerson has been close to the problem for several years, working with the Six County Study Community College Needs, sponsored by Wayne State University.

Way's Cleared for Rate Hike

State Supreme Bench Rejects Bid to Block Blue Cross Decision

LANSING (AP)—The State Supreme Court today turned down a request by two United Auto Workers Union officials aimed at blocking a decision on proposed $2.5 million annual increases in Blue Cross and Blue Shield health insurance rates.

The court had been asked to conduct a hearing on why Frank Blackford, state insurance commissioner, should not be prevented from making a decision on the increases until new hearings were held.

Blackford earlier conducted hearings in Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids on requests of Blue Cross and Blue Shield for rate increases of 21 per cent and 13.5 per cent, respectively.

The Supreme Court petition was filed by Paul Silver, president of UAW Local 351 and Mike Marasica, vice president of UAW Local 7. They claimed the three earlier hearings did not give opponents of the increases an adequate opportunity to be heard.

Informal of the court decision, Blackford said the appeals moved the last barrier preventing issuance of a decision on the rate-increase request.

Blackford said his decision would be issued before the end of the month.

Godfrey Discusses No. 1 Lung-Type Killer

Checkup, Early Detection of Cancer Can Mean Cure

Editor's Note—If present rates continue, 45 million Americans will be afflicted with cancer by 1975. Arthur Godfrey, who has been serving the public since 1935, is serving as honorary education chairman of the American Cancer Society's April crusade, records in this column the value of early detection and some promising research.

By ARTHUR GODFREY
Written for the AP

Many of the letters I received after my recovery came from people who were worried about lung cancer. This is the No. 1 cancer killer of American males — and it's on the increase in both males and females. It's the type of cancer I had.

When I began to get well, I asked questions. I talked to the experts. I read leaflets put out by the American Cancer Society for people like me, who never went to medical school. And I read technical brochures that the society puts out for those who did, so that they can keep up with new developments in detection and treatment, and consulted doctor friends. Here are some of the things I learned:

Lung cancer, like all cancers, is most curable when treated in the early stages. Again, surgery and radiation are the only cure. Although doctors are saving more cancer patients than ever before, and although death rates for almost all types of cancer are either leveling off or being sharply cut, the death rate for lung cancer is soaring. It is, in fact, 500 per cent higher than it was 20 years ago. Lung cancer killed 37,000 Americans in 1960.

Why the increase? There are suspects, some of them proved. Certain industrial chemicals now happily outlawed: Cigarettes, air pollution and possibly other relatively new environmental factors.

The American Cancer Society is directing a public educational program on cigarettes and lung cancer to the youth of the nation. This is a major public educational effort in cancer prevention. Ten thousand specially trained volunteers took part in the society's pioneering study of smoking habits and lung cancer, a study which would otherwise have been prohibitively costly.

AVOID KNOWN RISKS
How can you best guard yourself against lung cancer? By avoiding known risks. Nonsmokers have a low rate of lung cancer.

Don't wait for symptoms. Have a yearly chest X ray, along with your health checkup. The X ray can detect early signs of the disease, when the chance of cure is best.

Dr. George N. Papanicolaou has applied to the detection of lung cancer the techniques of cell examination which he developed earlier for detecting uterine cancer. The uterine cancer cell examination has brought into the realm of possibility the eradication of this form of cancer as a cause of death. I hope that some day this may be the case in lung cancer.

Because of my interest in lung cancer, I wanted to know more about Dr. Papanicolaou's work.

tection is more important. Man's best chance against cancer is to uncover it — wherever it might be — in its earliest and most curable stage. The earlier the better. I am happy to learn that more and more research scientists are devoting their time to studying ways of improving techniques of cancer detection. Perhaps one of them will come up with a simple blood test for cancer or a method of testing body chemicals or body cells for the tell-tale sign.

Imagine what a discovery like this could mean in saving the 45 million Americans now living who, the American Cancer Society tells us, will eventually have cancer if present rates continue. The discovery will come. But it will come a lot sooner if all of us help support the efforts of all those engaged in cancer research.

EXFOLIATIVE CYTOLOGY
This technique has helped develop and is based on a whole new branch of science called exfoliative cytology.

This is the way Dr. Papanicolaou describes it.

"Exfoliation is a biological principle. Just as trees and plants shed their foliage periodically, so, too, the animals, including man, continuously shed innumerable cells from tissues covering the body's surfaces, from the skin, and also from the membranes lining all body cavities. These cells can be drawn off, preserved, stained and examined under the microscope to see whether the cells are normal or cancerous."

The cytological technique which he developed is also being applied to the detection of abnormalities of the esophagus, stomach and bladder.

Detection is important. Early de-

Recount Is Eyed in Adams Race

DETROIT (AP)—The race for one seat on the Wayne State University board of governors today appeared headed for a possible recount in the aftermath to Michigan's spring election.

Democrat Ralph E. Richman held only a small margin over Republican Thomas B. Adams, an advertising company president from Bloomfield Hills, with the unofficial tabulation of votes nearly complete.

Richman, 71, a Holland insurance agent, led Adams, 41, of 931 W. Harbale Road, by 607 votes. With all but 12 precincts counted out of the state's 5,075, Richman had 599,421 votes while Adams had 598,814. Adams leads the firm of Campbell Ewald Co., in Detroit.

Outstate Dems Come of Age

Election Indicates Big Desertion of GOP in Northern Areas

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan Democrats today basked in a glow of confidence that their outstate party organization has come of age.

Returns in Monday's election from areas outside the three-county industrial complex around Detroit, where labor union backing has long made Democrats a power, indicated a significant voter swing in many traditionally Republican strongholds.

Not only was Highway Commissioner John C. Macle re-elected by a 550,000-vote margin, but Democrats also had an undisputed claim on all but two of the nine educational posts filed Monday.

Republican-nominated candidates claimed their only victories in races for the State Supreme Court, and these two offices were contested on the nonpartisan ballot.

Chief Justice John R. Dethmers and Justice Harry Kelly, a former Republican governor, won handily over the Democratic nominees for the high court posts.

BARTLETT EASY WINNER

Democratic Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett whipped his Republican rival in a breeze.

A Democrat took away the only spot on the State Board of Education held by a Republican when Paul Hartman won the seat being vacated by Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont.

One of two seats on the University of Michigan Board of Regents being vacated by Republicans was claimed by Democrat Allen Sorenson.

ZEDER OUT

Paul G. Goebel of Grand Rapids, the only Republican who so far clinched a spot on one of Michigan's higher educational governing boards, was elected a Michigan regent.

Goebel defeated former Chrysler executive James C. Zeder of Bloomfield Hills. With all but 37 precincts counted, Goebel was ahead 697,315 to 588,780.

Incumbent Democrats C. Allen Harlan of Bloomfield Township and Connor D. Smith were returned to the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

Democrats have been building in outstate counties for years, but the past year had relied chiefly on turning out an overpowering vote in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties for winning elections.

Our Springtime Doubling Back on Winter

Looks like the weatherman is doing a right about face.

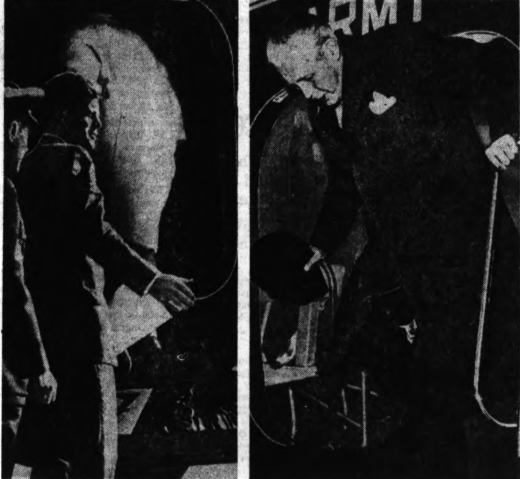

Instead of warm springlike temperatures, he predicts rain changing to snow flurries and a low of 32 tonight. He says Thursday will be cloudy with snow flurries and colder. The high will be about 40.

For the next five days temperatures will average 6 to 16 degrees below the normal high of 50 to 55 and normal low of 30 to 35. Thursday will be colder, and the minor changes are expected until it gets warmer about Monday.

Precipitation will total less than one-half inch in snow flurries Thursday and rain or showers late Friday and again Sunday.

Southerly morning winds at 10 miles per hour will shift to north-easterly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. late tonight.

Thirty-two was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 50 at 1 p.m.

COPTER COMMUTERS—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Macmillan both made use of helicopters at Andrews AFB, near Washington, Tuesday, as a prelude to their conference today. Kennedy is shown boarding a whirlybird there on the last lap of the return to the White House from his Palm Beach, Fla., vacation. Macmillan flew, at a different time, to the U.S. Naval Observatory.

Laos Top Item on Crowded List of Troubles

But Britain's Parleys With Russ Raise Hope for Cease-Fire Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy met with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today in the first of a series of conferences he hopes will strengthen Allied unity.

The continuing Laotian crisis was to be their first concern, diplomatic officials said.

As the two leaders met, British negotiations with the Soviet Union gave rise to reports that a cease-fire in Laos now might be speedily arranged.

Kennedy, leaving an administration policy conference at the State Department Tuesday night, said that "the cease fire is what we are most anxious to have, and we are hopeful that... we'll have one."

But the critical situation in the distant Southeast Asian kingdom is only one of many major issues up for discussion at the White House meeting.

Others include the problem of Red China and a growing movement to give it U.N. membership.

PARIS (UPI)—Neutrality expert Premier Pierre Sraun Phommavong will go to Washington for talks with the U.S. government before he visits Moscow, reliable sources said today.

The Cuban and Congo situations, the prospect of a crisis later this year over Berlin, and the stalemate in negotiations with Moscow for a nuclear weapons test ban treaty.

MEETINGS

The President and prime ministers have scheduled four meetings before Macmillan leaves next Sunday for Canada.

In addition to morning and afternoon sessions today, they will meet again Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is due here next week for talks with Kennedy. And the President plans to fly to Europe May 31 to confer with French President Charles de Gaulle.

As meetings can be arranged, Kennedy also expects to confer with Italian leaders and those of other Allied countries.

Macmillan arrived here Tuesday night from the British West Indies. He had flown to Key West, Fla., March 26 to discuss the Laotian crisis with Kennedy, at Kennedy's urgent invitation.

The talk today therefore does not constitute their first meeting, though it is their first session devoted to a wide range of international problems, with which they expect to be dealing in the months ahead.

Kennedy and his top advisers are said to feel that the face-to-face discussions with British, French, West German and other Allied government chiefs are of vital importance at this time.

$3.5-Million Sewage Plan Approved by Commission

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac city commissioners last night approved revised plans for expansion of sewage treatment facilities at an estimated cost of $3.5 million to curb pollution of the Clinton River.

MORE CAPACITY

This consists of an added 544-million-gallon treatment capacity at the new plant site to replace the old Jinholt Tanks and trickling filters at the existing plant, said Kelly.

Expansion calls for improvements to the present plant, new facilities on a 47-acre site at Auburn and Oyster roads, and a 66-inch pipeline connecting the two operations.

The 15-month construction program costs about $300,000 more than specified in the original plans which accompanied the proposed bond issues voters turned down three times several years ago.

The city still has to win state approval of the plans and of the proposal to issue general obligation bonds without a public vote, to finance construction.

Meeting with city commissioners last night, Harold Kelly, an engineering consultant from the Toledo firm of Jones, Henry and Williams, said State Health Department approval is expected shortly.

It was the State Health Department, after hearings before the Water Resources Commission two years ago, that insisted on more treatment facilities than originally asked.

City Manager Walter K. Williams estimated sewage rates would increase by about one-third to cover increased operational costs. At present, there are no plans to pay off the construction bonds through sewage charges.

Kelly estimated that the installation proposed would be adequate for 25 years at Pontiac's normal rate of growth.

He said that the two facilities, operating together, could handle average daily flows of about 20 million gallons, and flood flows of about 33 million gallons.

During heavy rains, he said, the bolstered facilities could give at least primary treatment to up to 40 million gallons a day.

The facilities are designed, Kelly said, to meet State Health Department demands that prevent contamination of the Clinton to be eliminated.

Specifically, he said, this involves reducing the amount of biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) in the effluent to 10 parts per million. The city must also add two parts of oxygen per million to the effluent as it heads toward the Clinton River.

"The maximum BOD rate permitted is unusually low because the river's flow is unusually low in the summertime," Kelly explained.

The move to begin expansion is expected to have a favorable effect on the State Health Department's near ban on new sewage lines in Pontiac.

It is expected to open up hitherto undeveloped areas where gravity flows to the existing plant are impossible.

The airport's guard of Swedish U.N. troops, who were attacked Tuesday by a rampaging mob in by Tshombe, retired to their camp on the outskirts of Elisabethville.

The Irish vanguard numbered about 150 troops, heavily armed and in full battle dress.

Another 500 were expected in the next few hours.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE

Katanga government officials apparently were unaware of the arrival of the Irish until it was that their purpose was to pre-

Women Tie On Bonnets to Join Centennial Fun

The women's side of the Greater Pontiac Centennial became official today as Mayor Philip E. Rowston proclaimed the inauguration of the Centennial Belle.

Bonneted women were invited to join bearded men in "the festive spirit" of centennial fun. Details of women's participation were to be spelled out at a women's rally beginning at 8 tonight in Elks Temple.

In a whimsical proclamation, Rowston noted that centennial bonnets in various colors and patterns are now on sale for $1 at centennial headquarters in the Pontiac Public Library.

Centennial Belle membership buttons and certificates are also on sale for $1. A little bell is attached to each button.

Monies raised by the sale of bonnets and buttons go into the general fund to defray costs of the June 17-24 celebration.

Centennial Belle chapters will be organized, Rowston said, in the same manner that bearded men are grouped within the ranks of the Brothers of the Brush.

Even as men are liable for arrest by Keystone Cops if they lack a centennial hat, tie or permit covering their beard or lack of beard, so women wearing makeup are in jeopardy from now on, said Rowston.

10-Day Sales of Pontiac Best Since April '60

Pontiac dealers in March reported total retail sales of 24,342 new cars, delivering 15,801 Pontiacs and Tempests during the last 10 days of the month for the division's best 10-day sales performance since April 1960.

The figures were announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager.

The March total, including 24,146 regular Pontiacs and 10,997 Tempests, represents a 4.5 per cent increase over Pontiac's February sales of 23,529 new cars, Knudsen pointed out.

The Tempest March sales total, as well as the past 10-day figure of 3,829 sales, are the highest since the new companion car was introduced last November, he continued.

Further indication of a business upturn, he added, is evidenced by Pontiac's 48.5 per cent advance over the previous month in median price car sales.

AFRICANS UNEASY

As the mob fever mounted, the U.N. command in Elisabethville agreed to return the airport to the joint control of Katanga police and U.N. troops. But some 4,000 Africans—many of them armed with long-bladed knives—were already on the march to the field.

The airport building was stoned, several Swedes were injured on the road to the airport and about 60 U.N. personnel were arrested, ridiculed and held for periods ranging from 30 minutes to five hours by Katanga troops or police.

An uneasy calm prevailed today in downtown Elisabethville before the Irish took over the airport. French police patrolled streets thronged with thousands of idle Africans.

I Didn't Go West

CENTENNIAL BELLE—Pretty as a poster girl for "Oklahoma!" Connie Scriven, 78 Oriole St., models one of the centennial bonnets that were proclaimed official regalia for women today. The 20-year-old Michigan State University coed also sports a Centennial Belle pin, which makes her eligible to wear makeup from now through the June 17-24 centennial observance.

News Flash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government's today accused China's Castro regime of mistreating U.S. citizens held in Cuban jails. The State Department said officials are not giving enough food and medicine to the Americans—and also are stopping U.S. gift foods and medicines from reaching the prisoners.

Local Fireman Dies in Hospital

Li. M. Robert Sartell, 32, in Car Crash; Leaves Wife, 4 Children

Li. M. Robert Sartell of the Pontiac Fire Department died while undergoing surgery last night in Pontiac General Hospital, following an automobile accident.

The 32-year-old fireman, who lived at 4665 Pine-dale St., Drayton Plains, was admitted to the hospital early yesterday morning after his car crashed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck on Dixie Highway in Springfield Township.

He was reported in fair condition with internal injuries later in the day. An autopsy was to be performed today to determine the exact cause of death.

Li. Sartell was president of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Assn., a member of the Metropolitan Club, and an 11-year veteran of the city fire department. He is survived at home by his wife, Neida, and four young children, Richard, Kathleen, Debra and Diane.

Also surviving are the lieutenant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus A. Sartell, of 1224 Alameda St.; a sister, Mrs. Marjorie Vance, also of Pontiac; and two brothers, Frederick of Pontiac and Richard of Waterford.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Sparks-Greifin Chapel.

U.S. Red Chief Maintains Laos Is an Island

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gray-haired, soft-spoken Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, 70, on tour as national chairman of the American Communist party, held a news conference in her small San Francisco hotel room.

"Anything the Kennedy administration does that's good, we welcome it," Miss Flynn said Tuesday.

"Some things it said about Laos, or Loupe, or whatever it is—they were extremely belligerent. It would be a shame to go to war over such a small island."

Reporters were unable to persuade Miss Flynn that Laos is not an island.

Girl Is Killed as Horse Bolts

Ypsilanti Twp. Student Dies as Her Frightened Mount Hits Train

ANN-ARBOR (U)—A 15-year-old Ypsilanti Township girl was killed Tuesday when her frightened horse bolted into the side of a freight train going 60 miles an hour.

The body of the girl, Anne MacDonald, a high school sophomore, was hurled against a freight car head, where it caught and was carried 7 miles before witnesses were able to alert the train crew.

Detective Chester J. Parks said Anne and a companion, Kathie Bird, 15, of Ann Arbor, had ridden rented horses to a park and were returning to the stable when the accident occurred.

While they were waiting for the Eastbound New York Central freight train to pass the Geddes Road crossing east of town, Anne's horse—apparently frightened by the train and the clanging signal bell—suddenly bolted and struck the first car of the 116-car train. The horse was thrown under the train and killed.

Police were notified soon after the mishap but were unable to overtake the train until it reached Ypsilanti, 7 miles away.

Members of the train crew were unaware of the accident until they were flagged down at the freight yards there. The girl was dead on arrival at a Ypsilanti hospital.

Kathie was hospitalized for shock.

Traffic Deaths Behind '60 Pace on County Roads

While the traffic death count in Oakland County continued to mount through March, the total number of fatalities for the month fell below that recorded during the same period last year.

Seven persons lost their lives on the roads and highways in the county last month. In 1960, 10 were killed here during March. The grim toll for this year so far is 51, with two of these recorded in the present month. Last year 27 persons had already died in county traffic by this time, and the tally was boosted to 37 by the end of April 1960.

Mild weather in March of this year compared with the same month in 1960 undoubtedly has helped keep the '61 toll down so far, according to county traffic authorities.

The figure is likely to climb sharply with the arrival of warm weather, judging by records of previous years. Drivers are warned to be wary.

United, Capital Airlines Get CAB Okay to 'Wed'

By ROBERT J. SERLING
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Final government approval of the United-Capital Air Lines merger spurred fresh speculation today in the hard-pressed airline industry.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) gave United an official green light Tuesday to acquire Capital. It was a decision which which has figured prominently in merger rumors, mainly because it never objected to the United-Capital agreement.

This was a surprising development which led some industry sources to believe that American had some merger ideas of its own. National Airlines, which has had financial shakings, also has been mentioned in merger talk.

TO ANNOUNCE DETAILS

United President W. A. Patterson was expected to announce in Chicago Thursday final arrangements for the merger with Capital, biggest in the history of commercial aviation. This much already is known:

—United adds 41 of Capital's prop-jet Viscounts to its fleet. Fifteen Viscounts go to Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., as partial payment for the $33.8-million Vickers mortgage that threatened to plunge Capital into bankruptcy and forced the merger negotiations.

—United adds a 7,500-mile route system and 7,800 employees to its own 14,000 route miles and 23,000 employees.

—United will begin consolidated operations over Capital's routes June 1.

—United plans to set up two new regional headquarters in Atlanta and Pittsburgh.

—United will repaint its newly-acquired Viscounts with its own blue and white markings, plus in-

Education Head Will Promote Rigorous Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Warning to American public school children: That New Frontier in education is going to be rough. Dr. Sterling M. McMurrin, the new U.S. commissioner of education, says today's education is all too often soft and easy, flabby and centered on non-essentials.

McMurrin, in a news conference just one hour after being sworn in to his new post Tuesday, said he wants to promote "the encouragement of quality and rigor in teaching and in what is taught."

Here's an Election Tie That'll Be Hard to Break

LANAN, Mo. (AP)—Six candidates were on the ballot Tuesday for the five City Council seats to be filled in this town of 500 in southwest Missouri.

Three candidates got 28 votes. The other three got 27.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep with nagging backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headache, muscular aches and pains, 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Large, economy size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Still Hold Back Their Livestock

Farmers Say Effort to Change Prices Will Have Big Effect Today

DES MOINES (AP)—Three days ago members of the National Farmers' Organization (NFO) started holding their cattle, hogs and sheep off the supply markets in the Midwest.

The objective: to close the gap between present prices and what NFO says is the actual cost of production on the farms. Also, to give farmers bargaining power with the processors who turn out the finished meat for the consumer's table.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley said Tuesday night at headquarters at Corning, Iowa, that the holding action will start having its big effect today. It will continue indefinitely, he said.

A poll of the stockyards in the Midwest indicated that the processors were not much excited about the NFO drive and that livestock receipts and prices to date had been about normal.

But Staley predicted a 25 to 40 per cent reduction in the new supply of cattle, hogs and sheep today as compared with Wednesday, of last week.

Extra Workers Slow Up Decline in Joblessness

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is studying a sudden turnaround in the economy, after a puzzling upsurge in the nation's work force that promises to keep unemployment high even with substantial economic recovery.

One possible explanation is that many women, and perhaps teenagers, are entering the job markets seeking income because the chief family breadwinner can't find work.

The work force data was put out by the Labor Department Tuesday as part of its regular summary of the nation's employment situation in March.

This showed that while unemployment fell by 210,000 in February to 5,895,000 the decline was less than the 300,000 expected on the basis of past experience. However, it was the first drop in a steady six-month climb in the tide total.

Employment on the other hand rose by a whopping 80,000 to 65,810,000. This was a record number at work for March, while the unemployed total was the highest idle figure in March in 20 years.

Walter W. Heller, President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, repeated a forecast that a turnaround in the economy, after its year-long downslide, is close at hand. But he said the nation will be lucky if the unemployment rate, now close to 7 per cent, falls below 4 per cent before 1962.

Seymour Wolfson, manpower statistics chief, said the latest government job report demonstrates that the phenomenon of both high employment and high unemployment can be expected to continue for some time.

Law Change to Up City Cab Insurance

City commissioners last night introduced an ordinance amendment requiring Pontiac taxicab companies to increase insurance coverage.

Headed for adoption next week, the measure ups the minimum on liability coverage from $5,000 and $10,000 to $25,000 and $50,000. Property damage coverage is boosted from $5,000 to $10,000.

The new minimums apply to every taxicab operating under license from the city.

The increases followed an administrative report indicating that insurance coverage is broader in other cities.

Drove Without Lincense Since 1935 — Pays Now

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — L. D. Jones didn't renew his driver's license in 1935 because the price jumped from 50 cents to $1.

The judge fined him $108.

Johnson's Visit to Senegal Ends on High Note

DAKAR, Senegal (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon Johnson today ended a three-day visit to Senegal in which he delighted the Senegalese with his informality and even managed to melt the Russians.

Western observers said Johnson, on his first overseas mission for President Kennedy, had scored as big a success as any while visitor to this African country.

The Senegalese were amazed at the American political campaign-type activities by Johnson. Almost everywhere he went, Johnson plunged into crowds, shaking hands and hugging babies. He obviously enjoyed every minute.

Johnson flew to Geneva for a one-day stopover before going on to Paris. He is expected to head back to Washington late Friday.

Furniture Man's Son Sells

The president of one of the city's oldest furniture companies announced today the purchase of interests held by Robert Glenn.

John F. Stewart, president of the Stewart-Glenn Co., organized in 1917, said the company this week acquired the interests held by Robert Glenn, son of one of the founders of the company.

The name of the firm will remain the same.

At the same time, Stewart announced that the transaction will result in the closing of the 8-4 Warehouse Furniture Sales, 20 Franklin Road. A close-out sale will begin April 6.

No purchase price was disclosed. The company will center all its business in its store located at 1800 S. Telegraph Road, and hopes to increase the floor space of the two-year-old building by at least 50 per cent, according to Addison K. Oakley, manager and secretary of the company.

Glenn said he sold his interests in the company in order to expand the operations of the Automat Corp. of which he is president.
