

U.S. Denies Deal Made for Crew of Pueblo

SEOUL (AP) — The newspaper Chosun Ilbo said the United States agreed today to apologize to North Korea and the North Koreans agreed to return the 83 crewmen of the seized intelligence ship Pueblo. This was denied in Washington.

"We have no confirmation on that," William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state said. "As of this moment we cannot report any progress."

Bundy added that meetings between the United States and the North Koreans are continuing.

Quoting an unidentified South Korean government source, Chosun Ilbo said the agreement was reached at the third secret meeting of U. S. and North Korean representatives held at Panmunjom, where the Military Armistice Commission meets in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The report said the United States agreed to a Communist demand that it sign a note of apology admitting that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

U.S. officials in Seoul said they could neither confirm nor deny the report.

Earlier South Korean sources had reported the meeting at Panmunjom today and said the North Koreans offered to release the body of the dead American and "several" injured if the United States would admit the Pueblo was trespassing.

3 COPTERS WAITING

A Seoul radio station said three helicopters were waiting at the conference building at Panmunjom in expectation of the release.

A source at the 121st U. S. Army Evacuation Hospital 15 miles west of Seoul said one wing had been on the alert since yesterday to receive the Pueblo's casualties.

The sources said the negotiations at Panmunjom are being carried on by Rear Adm John V. Smith for the United States and Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook for North Korea.

A South Korean government source said his government has asked the United States to demand a Communist apology for the attempt on the life of South Korean President Chung Hee Park in exchange for any apology over the Pueblo.

By N. Viet Thrust—Rusk

'Peace Try Ignored'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says North Vietnam helped mount the major Communist offensive in South Vietnam knowing U.S. air attacks were being curtailed during exploratory peace moves.

The United States therefore must conclude, Rusk said, that the North Vietnamese "are not seriously interested at the present time in talking about peaceful settlements."

His statement that the United States "exercised some restraint" in its bombing of the North came during a joint radio-television appearance with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who left open the possibility of new American troop deployments to the war zone.

The program was NBC's "Meet the Press," doubled to an hour's length for yesterday's joint interview, which reportedly was suggested by President Johnson.

Both Rusk and McNamara said they believe — but are not "100 percent sure," in Rusk's words — that the USS Pueblo did not intrude in the territorial waters of her North Korean captors.

And McNamara said the United States did not send aid to the Pueblo when the intelligence vessel was captured Jan. 23 because it was impossible initially to tell what was happening; there was no contingency plan specifically covering the ship, and an attempt to send air support might have generated "a bloody battle" with North Korean planes.

Rusk said the U.S. bombing limitation occurred in recent days as the United States sought clarification of North Vietnam's statement it would talk peace if all bombing were permanently halted.

"We have not had a pause in the traditionally accepted sense," Rusk continued, "but we have limited the bombing at certain points in order to make it somewhat easier to carry forward these explorations, so that particularly difficult incidents would not interrupt them."

Despite the limitation "they participated in laying on this major offensive," Rusk declared.

Marines Repel Heavy Attack Near Khe Sanh

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Battling blindly in heavy fog, U.S. Marines crushed a heavy North Vietnamese attack on this sprawling combat base network today. The fighting may have signaled a renewal of the siege which the U.S. Command is expecting to develop into one of the war's biggest battles.

Artillery and air power helped the infantrymen turn back two assault waves on Hill 861A but not before a handful of Communist troops broke through the defenses of the Leatherneck company defending the knoll taken at such a high cost in Marine blood last spring.

At one point the company commander, Capt. Earl C. Breeding, of Oceanide, Calif., reported, "I think I'm being overrun." Later Breeding reported to his worried commander, Lt. Col. Harry Alderman of Clovis, Calif.: "We're a helluva long way from being over-run."

The attack began about 4 a.m. and continued at some points until after dawn. Seven Americans were killed and 24 wounded. Later in the day, Breeding's unit was still resupplying and realigning its defenses and had not swept the area for a count of enemy dead. Six enemy bodies were found inside the company's perimeter and about 150 more were immediately outside the barbed wire.

During the attack the Communists fired 104 rounds of rockets and artillery on the main Khe Sanh combat base and airstrip. Only a handful of men were wounded there and on other hill positions three to six miles from the airstrip, at which an estimated 200 rounds were fired.

Senior Marine officers said that 1,000 to 2,000 North Vietnamese massed for an assault on Hill 881 were spotted and were hit by a heavy artillery barrage. No attacks materialized on Hill 881, about five miles northwest of the airstrip.

Pontiac Man Slain; Murder Is Charged

A 41-year-old Pontiac man faces preliminary examination Wednesday on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the shotgun slaying of another man at a Pontiac service station late Saturday.

Remanded to Oakland County Jail without bond at arraignment yesterday was Robert Jones of 390 S. East Blvd.

He is accused of shooting Isaac Jones, 27, of 476 Thors Court following an alleged argument at the Clark Gasoline Station at 157 Auburn about 9:30 p.m.

The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital minutes later.

A witness said Robert Jones and the victim had argued shortly before the incident when Isaac Jones drove into the station.

He said the victim left, then returned and the argument resumed.

Detectives said they believe Isaac Jones was in his car at the pump deck nearest the station building when the fatal blast was fired.

He was shot in the left shoulder, according to police.

Officers impounded a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun at the scene and tagged it for evidence.

January Deliveries Soar at GM Truck

GMC Truck and Coach Division enjoyed its best January delivery pace since 1951 with 10,608 domestic deliveries of trucks and coaches, Martin J. Caserio, General Motors vice president and divisional general manager, said today.

Last month's deliveries were 15.6 per cent higher than the 9,178 deliveries made in January last year, he said.

Area Basks in Warm Sunshine

Don't put away your snow shovel permanently but do plan to sit back and bask in temperatures eight to 12 degrees above the normal highs of 22 to 27, tomorrow through Saturday. This is the five-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast.

Following today's sunshine and mild temperatures, tonight will be fair with the lows ranging from 20 to 26.

Tomorrow, clouds will dot the skies but sunshine will still be the order of the day with little change in temperature.

Wednesday's outlook contains more of the same, sunshine and mild temperatures.

Percentage of precipitation probabilities are near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 22. By 2 p.m. the mercury warmed to 42.

Signs Pointing to Pontiac Housing Progress

By BOB WISLER

There are encouraging signs that Pontiac is gaining ground on one of its most acute problems — the lack of housing for all income levels.

But the hoped for rush of new development throughout the city is — at this point — only a trickle.

Only a small number of new units were constructed in the past year but there are plans for immediate construction which should add substantially to the city's apartment inventory by the end of this year.

A few proposed developments have been stalled in the planning stages for a variety of reasons. The main snag is the increasing difficulty of financing large developments.

The past year has seen completion of 285 units of Bloomfield Townhouses just north of the city limits east of Woodward, a small 11-unit project on Trill north of Washington and a 16-unit structure on Mechanic at Douglas.

CONSTRUCTION EXPECTED

Immediate construction is expected of a 34-unit complex on West Kennett at Carlisle.

Charles L. Langs, Pontiac's major developer, is now renting the first of 250 townhouse apartments on Auburn just west of Opdyke.

Known as Auburn Hills, the rental units are built under the government's 221d program, which accepts occupants on a sliding scale of income keyed to the number of persons in the family.

As soon as weather permits construction is expected to begin on the first of 252 apartment units between Madison and Perry across from Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

LOW-INCOME PROJECT

Site work has begun and construction will start soon on the first phase (200 units) of a planned 325-unit low-income rent supplement project on West Kennett, west and north of Alcott Elementary School.

North of that, between Cherrylawn and the city limits, developers Herbert and Michael Chernick are constructing an eight-model townhouse type unit.

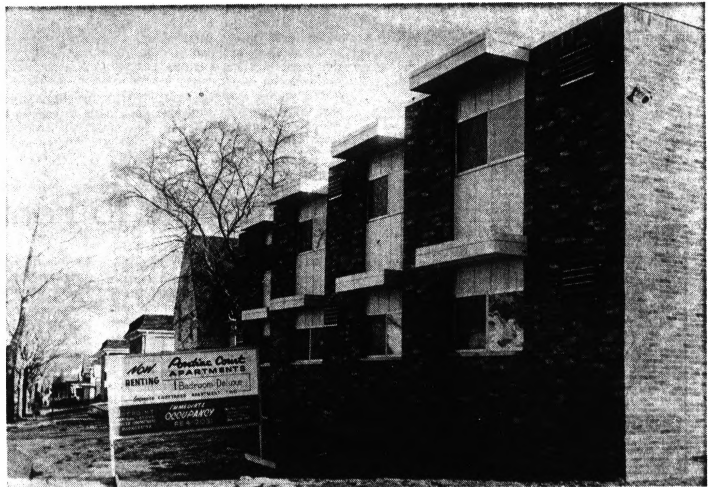

They plan to begin construction of 132 units this year, under the 221d program, once commitments have been received for most of the units.

The complex near Perry Mount Park Cemetery will consist mostly of one-bedroom and two-bedroom units renting for $145 to $170, Harold Ross, the developer, said. The complex will feature a swimming pool.

The first phase calls for construction of 132 of the 252 planned units.

Plans have been completed and engineering work is being completed on

THE NEW — A 16-unit apartment project on Mechanic is among the few new apartment units completed during the past year. City officials are, however, expecting this to be a big year for apartment construction in Pontiac.

Mansfield Postpones Try on Rights Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has abandoned efforts to get a vote on a pending civil rights bill until after the Senate returns Feb. 14 from a Lincoln day holiday.

Mansfield said in an interview he expects a compromise version of the measure to be offered shortly. But he said he won't try to get a vote on it before the Senate recesses for the holiday Thursday.

"This bill is not going to please either side in the controversy," he said. "Members will want to talk about it and I don't see any possibility of getting a vote by Thursday."

The Senate already has had 12 days of desultory debate over the measure. It would make it a federal crime to interfere by force or threats with the exercise of federally guaranteed rights because of an individual's race, color, religion or national origin.

CALLED DISCRIMINATORY

Southern opponents of the bill

call it discriminatory. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who may hold the key votes on any compromise, has contended the measure should be broadened to protect the rights of all persons, not just those of civil rights workers and Negroes.

Senate liberals want the legislation limited strictly to deal with crimes in which race is a factor, contending crimes against Negroes often go unpunished in state courts.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said in a weekend report to constituents the argument over the bill is keeping the Senate from taking up other pressing national problems.

"It is my belief that in the field of race relations and race improvement Congress has gone just about as far as it is possible legally to go," he said.

"We were to be able to believe that earlier laws, which were enacted supposedly in behalf of civil rights, would have the effect of moving racial violence from the streets into the courts. The violence became 100 times worse than it was in the early 1960's."

$7 Tax-Free Ceiling on Day Abroad Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential proposals to the House Ways and Means Committee as a key element proposed today to tax the cost of the Johnson's effort to reduce by $500 million the net outflow of dollars resulting from tourist travel.

The administration also proposed extending the 5 percent excise tax now charged on air tickets within the United States to foreign air traffic and to water transportation outside the Western Hemisphere.

Pontiac Div., UAW Talks Near Deadline

Negotiations continued today between officials of Pontiac Motor Division and UAW Local 653 but progress is slow, a union spokesman said.

Wayne Anable, president of Local 653, said the union hopes to reach a contract settlement before the union strike deadline of 2 p.m. Friday.

Negotiators have been meeting in daily 16-hour sessions in an attempt to settle before the zero hour. A walkout would immediately affect 16,500 union members and repercussions would be felt at other GM plants.

"Our negotiating committee has been meeting since July 27. We have many just demands still on the table," Anable said.

The local president said matters of unresolved grievances changes in the local seniority agreement and improvements in working conditions are among those which would have to be settled before a local contract could be offered for ratification by the union members.

LARGEST WALKOUT

A Pontiac plant strike would be the largest walkout yet at GM plants. A strike by 11,000 foundry workers at three plants — one in Saginaw and two outstate — led to parts shortages and forced layoffs of 134,000 last month.

GM workers are still being called back. Today 29,750 of the 113,800 still idled were scheduled to return.

19 Feared Lost as British Trawler Sinks

HULL, England (AP) — A British fishing trawler with 19 men aboard was reported today to have sunk off the coast of Iceland. All were believed lost.

"There was no chance at all," a spokesman for the ship's owners said. "There was no distress call and they would have had no time to launch lifeboats."

The Icelandic gunboat Odin and two other trawlers saw the ship sinking but could not get close because of icy gale winds and snow, the spokesman said.

3RD LOST IN WEEK

The ship, the 639-ton Ross Cleveland, was the third fishing trawler from Hull believed lost in arctic fishing grounds in the past week. A total of 59 British fishermen are believed drowned in arctic waters in the three ships.

Wives of missing fishermen fomented a rebellion by traveling crews. Sunday, three of eight trawlers due to leave for the North Sea fishing grounds stayed in port. The wives are demanding that each ship carry a radio operator.

9 Die, 15 Hurt as Hotel Burns

BOSTON (AP) — Nine persons—seven men and two women — have been killed and 15 others injured in a fire that destroyed the Hotel Roosevelt, a $2-a-night haven for transients on Boston's skid row.

Acting Fire Chief Joseph D. Sullivan said it was Boston's worst hotel fire. The toll Sunday would have been higher without spectacular and heroic ladder work, he said.

With the screams of trapped guests ringing in their ears, firemen clambered up ladders to rescue those stranded in their rooms. One ladder company maneuvered a 100-foot ladder between a utility pole and an elevated railroad.

Vincent Dolger, acting city fire marshal, said 22 persons were in the building.

FIRE IN CLOSET

Night Manager Vincent Cromwell said he smelled smoke about 3:45 a.m. and discovered a fire in a linen closet next to the second floor clerk's desk and office.

Cromwell tried unsuccessfully to put out the flames, he said, then called the fire department.

Within two hours the six-story building at the corner of Washington and East Berkeley streets was a smoking ruin. The only guests who had a chance to escape the flames, which leaped 40 feet into the night sky, were those with easy access to the fire escape and those in rooms facing the elevated structure.

'Stay in School' Program Is Sought by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, conceding that the budget will dictate cutbacks in some federal education programs, asked Congress today to authorize new efforts, including a "Stay in School" program.

In a special message, Johnson said:

"My recommendations are tailored to enable us to meet our most urgent needs, while deferring less important programs and expenditures."

To meet what he sees as the most urgent needs, Johnson said that "several programs must be reduced or deferred." As an example, he said the federal government can cut spending on construction of facilities and the buying of equipment.

"But," he said, "many of our urgent educational programs which directly affect the young people of America cannot be deferred. For the cost—the human cost of delay—is intolerable."

Joe Kennedy Has Relapse

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, 80-year-old father of the late President John F. Kennedy, was resting comfortably today after a minor relapse Sunday night, family sources said.

Kennedy, former U.S. ambassador to Britain, suffered a "slight spasm of a blood vessel in the brain," a physician, Dr. Saul Rotter said. Rotter said Kennedy's condition was "about the same" as it had been before the difficulty.

Kennedy was paralyzed by a stroke in 1961 and has suffered a series of heart seizures since. Kennedy's condition, Rotter said, is "related to his age and his underlying condition."

20 Are Arrested in Police Raid

Independence Twp. Legion Post Is Target

Twenty persons were arrested last night by Pontiac State Police in a raid on an illegal gambling and drinking establishment at an American Legion post in Independence Township.

Booked for running card gambling and selling liquor without a license at Chief Pontiac Post 377 at 4819 Edgewood were post commander Garland L. Baldwin, 3778 Gainesborough, Orion Township, and James R. Pillow, 2205 Sashabaw, Waterford Township.

Charges against both men are felonies, police said. Eighteen others were picked up on disorderly person charges for being at the illegal gambling and drinking establishment.

Thirteen State Police officers raided the post on information they had received, they said. The men were led by Sgt. Raymond Hoopengartner.

The arrestees, a number of whom were post members, were to be arraigned before Judge William Stamp of Independence Township this morning.

Baldwin and Pillow posted $100 bonds each. The others paid $20 bonds.

Petitioner Withdraws Bid for Vacating Abbey Road

BIRMINGHAM — The petition requesting the vacating of Abbey Road south of Wimbeldon has been withdrawn and a new one presented.

Ralph Manuel, 590 W. Brown, who asked the city commission to approve vacating the road, said in a letter to the commission that comments from L. R. Gare, former city manager, had led him to withdraw his petition.

City Manager Robert S. Kenning had recommended that the request for vacating, scheduled for a public hearing at the commission meeting tonight at 8 p.m., be denied.

Kenning said that the proposed vacating would leave Poppleton Park, a 17-acre parcel of city property bounded by Hunter, Oxford and Wimbeldon, without a convenient access route.

Though the park is not presently developed for recreation to any great extent, Kenning said, the potential is great, and vacating Abbey would necessitate considerable construction if future development resulted in increased use of the park.

Manuel requested that vacating of the east 12 feet of the 50-foot right-of-way only be considered at the scheduled hearing.

The commission is also slated to consider a request from Pembroke Manor Association to allow additional time for voter registration.

Signs Point to Pontiac Housing Progress

a proposed 120-unit apartment complex on West Kennel, east of Alcott Elementary School and 280 apartment units north of Herrington Elementary School and south of University Drive.

Developers of the Kennett site plan to construct a two-story, four-unit house-type two-and-three-bedroom apartment units on slabs which will rent in the neighborhood of $100 per month.

Site plan for the development will soon go before the planning commission.

The 280 units north of the Herrington school will be one, two and three-bedroom townhouses (22d13). Construction is expected to start in the spring or summer.

Another Langs project — 228 units for the elderly — will be constructed on Auburn next to the Auburn Hills Townhouses is still awaiting clearance by the government.

The units are to be built under a new method called "turnkey" whereby the developer constructs the project and then sells it to the government at an agreed-upon price.

A proposed 596-unit development is tentatively slated for a 40-acre site north of Walton and east of Giddings.

Difficulty with arranging financing is one of the chief hurdles to implementation of the project. The land has been rezoned for multiple-family construction.

One of the biggest disappointments in new housing concerns the reported stall of a planned $20-million multiple dwelling-shopping center.

The developer, Dr. John R. Ylvisaker of Bloomfield Hills, informed city officials that he has temporarily dropped plans for the construction of 1,000 units, 500 of which were to be contained in high-rise buildings.

City commissioners last summer rezoned a 53-acre site west of Perry, south of Walton and north of what would be an extended Pontiac Road, for the development. It was to be constructed this year.

City officials said Dr. Ylvisaker is still planning to complete 10 acres of commercial shopping facilities on the site.

Plans called for luxury-type apartments, extensive use of pedestrian decks, parking facilities under the units and two-story low-rise units.

Fat Cats Dog It as Rat Killers

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Last November, in connection with the 22nd annual observance of International Cat Week, the American Cat Fanciers' Association undertook a campaign to find jobs for unemployed cats.

Robert Kendall, the city's president, pointed out that most big cities have thousands of jobless cats which could be put to work killing rats in the slums.

He said the most effective method of rat control was the so-called "Hong Kong system," under which buildings are assigned a certain number of working cats, depending on their size.

I am not clear whether that means the size of the buildings or the cats.

"A good cat averages 13 kills a night," Kendall said.

CATS DEFENDED

Before proceeding further with this, I would like to note that most people will accept with equanimity the disparagement of public officials, home, motherhood, apple pie and Lawrence Welk.

But woe betide anyone who rubs a cat lover the wrong way.

Cat lovers are quicker to write irate letters than any other segment of the public, except possibly the defenders of and apologists for bapies and drum and bugle corps.

Knowing this, I approach my task with trepidation. Nevertheless, duty compels me to report that the entire concept developed by the American Feline Society has now been called into question.

OVERRATED

I have at hand a statement by Earl F. Geiger, executive vice president of the Orkin Exterminating Co. He claims that the rat-fighting abilities of cats are vastly overrated.

"They've gotten too fat, slow, peaceful, pampered and over civilized," Geiger says.

"An alley cat occasionally may take on a young rat, but even he is no match for a full-grown one. Moreover, a cat has to learn how to fight rats. It's hardly instinctive behavior."

"In one experiment, of 20 kittens raised in isolation, only nine grew up to kill rats. In another test, where 18 cats were raised with rats in their cages, none attacked his cage mate and only three became rat killers."

Geiger's picture of the cat as a paper tiger may be accurate, but I doubt his suggested substitutes will be accepted. That is, unless somebody can teach an owl instead of a pussycat. "an owl to purr."

Novi May Set Cityhood Vote

NOVI — A date for an election proposing home-rule cityhood for the village may be set tonight by the Village Council at its meeting at 8 at the Village Hall.

Consideration of an election date is coming after the Jan. 24 decision of the State Court of Appeals which cleared the way for the election.

The Village Committee for City Incorporation made the appeal against the Sept. 19 decision of Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer. He ruled against an election and the Dec. 17, 1966, decision of Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn.

Thorburn had ruled that the village could hold an incorporation election although it didn't have 500 people per square mile.

The judge explained that the election intended no change of boundaries and represented one type of incorporated entity becoming another type of incorporated entity.

The appeals court decision stated that "no judgment shall be set aside or vacated by any circuit judge except the one who made the judgment unless he is absent or unable to act . . ."

Taxes will be the topic of discussion this week at meetings for Milford PTA members and taxpayers in Highland Township.

State Rep. Clifford Smart and Huron Valley Schools Supt. Truman Owens are speaking tonight at 8 before the Milford PTA at Muir Junior High, 425 George.

Their topic "Education — Bargain or Bust?" will touch on schools and tax dollars, sources of state aid to education, and the law and teacher strikes.

Tomorrow night, Highland Township taxpayers are invited to a meeting at 8 at the Township Hall, 205 N. John.

The intent of Max Johnson, of 280 N. Hickory Ridge, who organized the meeting, is to form a township taxpayers association and hire an attorney to "press for more equalized taxes in the township."

The attorney selected, William Travis of Pontiac, will speak at the meeting.

Four area residents, also opposed to local taxes with Johnson, requested the removal of the three members of the Township Board of Review.

The Township Board received the request of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kwik and Mr. and Mrs. R. King Jan. 10 and took no action.

At a special meeting Jan. 13 of the Township Board and the review board, the board reportedly found no reason to remove Eldridge Brian, Franklin Leonard and Clarence Carlson.

Board members agreed that any assertions of incorrect property assessments should be submitted in writing to the Township Board, giving the complete and legal description of the property and being signed by the person making the complaint.

So far, no taxpayer has submitted such a statement, reported Township Clerk Mrs. Norma Jean Waters.

Weapons Stolen in W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Police here are investigating the robbery yesterday morning of 15 rifles and shotguns and six handguns from Dunham's Sporting Goods Store, 33096 Northwestern Highway.

Township police received the alarm at 2:30 a.m. yesterday.

They report a large window in front of the building was broken and provided entry and exit.

Several rifles and blood spots were on the floor near the window, according to police.

No one was found in the building, said police.

Teacher's Lot 'Never So Good'

"We never had it so good" John W. Dickey, Avondale Superintendent of Schools, tells beginning teachers.

And he backs up the contention with a list of rights posted in 1872 in New York.

• Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks.

• Each teacher will bring bucket of water and scuttle of coal.

• Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.

• After 10 hours in school, teachers should spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

• Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.

• Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a godly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

• The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of 25 cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

MORE 'ENLIGHTENED'

After the beginning teacher has a chance to digest that, Dickey has a more "enlightened" list for them issued in 1923 in Idaho.

The teacher was to receive $5 a month providing she met the following conditions:

• Don't get married, and don't keep company with men.

• Don't be away from home between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

• Don't loiter in ice cream parlors.

• Don't smoke cigarettes, and don't drink beer, wine or whiskey.

• Don't leave town without permission.

• Don't ride in a carriage or automobile with any man except your father or brother.

• Don't dress in bright colors, dye

his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

• The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of 25 cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

Controversy in Troy

Apartment Boom Threat?

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

Are apartment people different than home-owning people?

The Troy Council of Homeowners' Associations seemingly think so. The council is the sponsor of a petition drive aimed at halting expansion of the already-extensive Somerset Park apartment project.

Biltmore Development Co., owners of Somerset, seek to expand the well-known apartment development. A $40-million Somerset North is planned.

Some 200 of the 328 acres proposed for the new project must be rezoned to permit the apartment construction. The Troy City Commission has given its okay to the rezoning.

The association of associations (the home owners) object and a petition drive is under way to force the commission to repeal its split 4-3 vote on the matter or put the issue on the public ballot.

Thus, the two types of people appear pitted against one another.

The dialogue is one that is apt to come to most area communities as multiple dwelling development continues to increase.

Southeastern Michigan has experienced considerable apartment building in the past half decade. A regional study of this development is slated by the new planning division of the Council of Governments (COG), which became operational last month.

COG's planning division, formerly the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, is actually its only operating arm currently.

PATTERN CHANGES

A study is to be made of the impact of apartments on communities. The pattern of single-family building has changed just since 1960.

According to the planning statistics, multiple dwellings from 1954 to 1959 accounted for only 5.3 percent of the total housing authorized for construction in the Detroit region.

However, from 1960 to 1965 multiple dwellings had increased to 35.4 percent of the total. And further, some 46,929 multiple units have been authorized in the last 6½ years in the metropolitan area.

One of the purposes of the study is to be the development of planning standards and guidelines for use of the various governmental jurisdictions.

The Troy controversy would indicate a use for such guidelines.

State Income Tax Bringing in More Than Predicted

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's new personal income tax is bringing in a lot more money than originally predicted, says the head of the State Budget Bureau.

And the added money nicely covers Gov. George Romney's suggested spending levels of $1.146 billion in the current fiscal year and $1.334 billion in the 12 months beginning next July 1.

In fact, current estimates of this year's intake from the 2.6 personal income levy, which took effect last October, are a whopping $10 million more than the amount projected last June.

In June, when the new fiscal package was being put together and debated in the Legislature, the state's budget analysts said the personal tax would net the state some $164 million by June 30, 1968.

Romney's budget message, delivered to legislators last month, contained an estimate of $234 million from the same source.

FACTORS
Budget Director Glenn Allison says three factors account for most of the $70 million upward revision in the state's estimate of what it will collect when the first income tax returns are filed next April.

For one thing, he said, the state greatly overestimated the "slippage" which would result because the income levy is a new tax.

Slippage results when taxpayers pay too little — for instance by filling out their forms improperly — or employers withhold too little, or misguidedly ignore the new tax, hoping it will go away.

Much of that money eventually can be recovered, but not all of it will come in time to help finance the budget for the fiscal year in question.

CONSERVATIVE
Allen said the Budget Bureau — being purposely conservative, on the theory that it's better to underestimate revenue than overestimate it — had allowed for about $26 million in slippage during fiscal 1967-68. Most of that money has gone back in the new revenue estimates made public by Romney in January.

"I think the Revenue Department has done a much better, quicker job making collections than we had estimated it would," Allen said. "And, to some degree, we built in a safety factor just to be sure."

Another factor, Allen said, is that contract settlements between the United Auto Workers and the auto industry were higher than the state had anticipated.

Higher income for auto

Senate Office Bill May Stir House 'Trade'

LANSING (UPI) — Money — how much and where it's going — appears to be the fight song of Michigan lawmakers.

The Senate voted itself a district office plan last week to the tune of $700,000 added to its budget. Under the rapidly approved program, each senator is entitled to a home office staffed by an assistant and a secretary.

An afterthought attempt to revoke the action never got off the ground, but the legislation may cause some flurry in the House of Representatives. They don't have to okay it, but will have to approve the funds to pay the hefty tab.

Some House members see that as just their chance to haggle either for the same set-up for themselves or for the Senate's acceptance of a constitutional amendment to establish four-year terms for representatives.

Legislators also helped the struggling Inkster school district with a $250,000 state school aid payment that will arrive late this month.

Dr. Edward Forte, superintendent of the Inkster schools had threatened to turn his 5,067 pupils away from classrooms unless the state added $900,000 to his teacher payroll. But a last-minute arrangement by the city treasury handed the district $485,000 in property tax money 10 days early so the schools could meet a Feb. 16 payroll.

The Legislature threw in the school aid bonus to further ease the district's financial strain.

workers means, of course, more income tax paid to the state.

A third factor cited by Allen to help explain the sudden appearance of the $70 million is the appearance of more up-to-date statistics about income levels in Michigan.

When last June's estimates were being made, Allen said, the analysis was working with federal income statistics that were a year old even then.

In August, he added, the federal government produced some newer figures. "We took a look at those federal numbers and we knew we were low," he said.

Allen says he thinks his bureau has a fairly accurate idea of what the personal income tax is likely to produce, since the state has already received and studied many returns from withholding returns from employers.

MYSTERY
The new 5.6 per cent corporate income tax is more of a mystery, he said, since estimates were left out of the latest computations.

Allen says his bureau's $272.7-million estimate of the personal income tax intake in the next fiscal year is pretty close to being right, because the mistakes made in the original estimates were left out of the latest computations.

In other words, no $60-million windfall next year. "We won't make that kind of error," Allen said, "although in some ways I wish we would."

It Seems to Me . . .

OU's Educational Function
Stalled by State's Blindness

Our wonderful Oakland University seems to face a serious crossroads. Current Michigan budgetary allowances have crimped Oakland badly. In a realistic effort to help, Governor ROMNEY has recommended an increase of just over $300,000, while $600,000 was Oakland's bottom hope.

About ten years ago, this University was slowly and painstakingly conceived in a series of discussions with leaders from all over the Nation. A group of local people with President JOHN HANNAH and DURWARD B. VARNER, of Michigan State, conferred with educational authorities from coast to coast, augmented by a liberal sprinkling of top business executives.

It was decided that Oakland University would become a superior institution with higher standards, higher aims and educational advantages on a greater level. This plan was put into effect. To the amazement of all concerned, the fledgling University attracted immediate attention all over the State and very rapidly from the Nation at large.

It was recognized for what it was. Here was a lustrous young stalwart whose growth and reception exceeded the fondest hopes of all concerned. There have been continuous satisfaction and excitement on the part of the administrators, faculty, student body and area citizens. Oakland County leaders pitched in unreservedly and provided unstinted support. Probably no similar place during its formative stages ever received as many hours of service from top leaders who never received a single sou of recompense.

In fact, the majority of them have contributed liberally in a financial way in addition—not once, but many times.

At the outset, all colleges receive more funds per student than they do subsequently. However, Oakland has never received these State funds on that basis. Currently there are dire and serious threats to the main endeavor here: namely, to nurture and expand an institution that is definitely superior. There only are a few of these in America.

State taxpayers can be profoundly thankful for the millions public-spirited citizens have poured into this project, thus saving citizens that precise amount of money. Michigan's eight million residents can really bow in appreciation.

But now, authorities are cutting Oakland appropriations so drastically that all semblance of the original conceit will vanish. Prominent area citizens wanted on the Governor and Lieutenant Governor and outlined our predicament. They were received in a cordial and friendly atmosphere and further consideration was assured and the $300,000 additional recommendation has resulted.

In the meantime, Oakland's character hangs in the balance. The original conceptions will vanish, unless the situation is faced squarely. The Governor suggests the situation be taken up with the State Educational Board ere another year elapses, and a final decision as to the ultimate fate and character of Oakland defined and established.

And there we hang, suspended in mid-air.

Top GM Exec Resigns

Residents of this general area were sorry to see S. E. KNUDSEN resign from General Motors. Certainly he has played an unusually constructive role in the general advancement of the Corporation and the Pontiac Motor Division especially.

Son of a distinguished father, he became a genius in his own right and his personal activities even transcended the wonderful record of his staunch forebear.

Mr. KNUDSEN declares simply he proposes to "pursue personal interests." A statement like this from so dynamic a soul could mean almost anything. Whatever significance it carries, he has the good wishes of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

And in Conclusion

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Friends tell me that movie theaters which have signs: "For Adults Only," should change them to read: "For Mature Adults Only and Average Teen-agers." LBJ's home state of Texas ranked seventh in prime defense contracts just a few years ago, but now it nudges past New York into second position. Whoopee! Overheard: "The bank robbery situation is so bad in Montreal that four times in 1967 outgoing bandits scurried squarely into incoming gangs ready to loot."

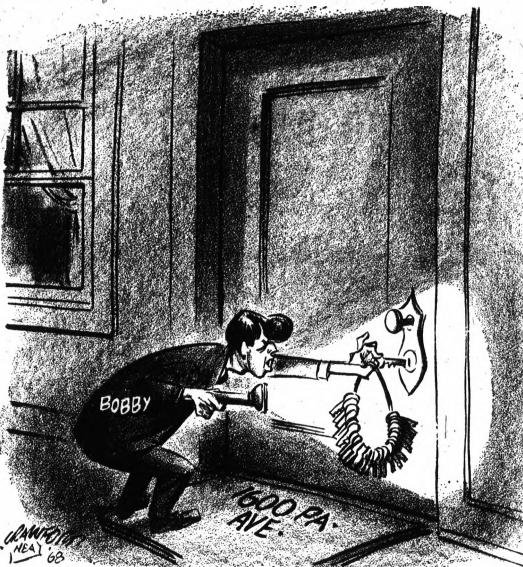

Scouts advise me Carol Smith ranks among the area's attractive young ladies. . . . Mad Mogi, missing from his regular haunts for several months, returns to talk with hometown trees. He claims 87% accuracy and some dumb-founded people are inclined to agree. He predicted the Truman-Dewey outcome. Now he says the GOP will win all the apples in November. . . . This may surprise you. With the Christmas sales of records totaled, the leader was "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Overheard: "Sometimes when I just blurt it out without thinking, it doesn't sound any worse than as though I'd pondered two days."

The SMOTHERS Brothers are constantly in communication with network censors who insist they clean up their dubious material. Good for the censors. . . . Sign on a Greenwich Village building: "For Longer Trips, Try LSD With Platformat." New York is arguing about allowing school guards to carry weapons. If they do, the officers will be as well equipped as the students. . . . A Canvas Back duck has reached 72 miles an hour without a following wind. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the wonderful, constructive life lived by GEORGE DONDERO; the J's—Sperry Rand TV commercials—they're at the bottom of the heap. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Needs More Unity on Viet

WASHINGTON — This isn't the first time the United States has found itself enmeshed in a war thousands of miles away from the United States which can affect its future security and destiny.

Nor is it the first time that superficial criticism, unfamiliarity with the true significance of our exhibitions of political partisanship have made difficult here at home the formulation of a constructive policy.

What America needs most in the Asian crisis is unity among its own people and a greater display of friendship and positive action by the various nations abroad which have not yet come to realize that the Vietnamese situation is a world problem.

The events of the last few days have dramatized the fact that Vietnam's troubles are not going to be solved simply by military action within its own borders, though the need for an offensive strategy has been accentuated. Likewise, the talk of "peace negotiations" has proved fruitless.

The main responsibility lies with the sponsors of the banditry who have openly admitted their status as belligerents.

Moscow has sent billions of dollars of war supplies, and Peking has aided conspirators and infiltrators, upon whom the blame for the conduct of the guerrilla war in Vietnam rests.

TIED IN
Tied in with the whole situation, of course, are the North Korean raids on South Korea.

What can be done? The United States has pleaded in vain with the United Nations. That organization today is frustrated. The small nations cast a majority vote and could change the whole face of things, but they fear the antagonism of the Communist regimes with their far-flung power to subvert and overthrow local governments. So the free countries will have to unite and in a concerted way compel both Moscow and Peking to halt their mischievous making.

This does not mean merely the use of military force in a broader way. It does mean a recognition at last that economic measures can become a powerful influence in shaping the course of hostile governments.

The United States can form a new group of allies and call for support first of a worldwide economic blockade of North Vietnam and then, if necessary, a cutoff of all trade with the Communist countries which are directly or indirectly supporting the war in Southeast Asia.

It is tragic to note that, despite the sacrifices which 500,000 Americans in our armed services in Vietnam are called upon to make, there is no blockade by sea in the waters surrounding the battle region.

If ever there was a basis for intervention by the United Nations — such as happened when "Peace-keeping" task forces were sent into Africa — the Vietnam situation affords such a case today.

Bob Considine Says:

Crazed Raids May Mark
Beginning of End for VC

NEW YORK — The crazed raids by Vietcong on the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, and at Da Nang, Bien Hoa, Tan Son Nhut airport and elsewhere have more chance of being part of the ending rather than the beginning of new troubles in Vietnam.

There is reason to believe CONSIDINE that the biggest land battle of the war is shaping up, in Marine country along the DMZ. But, like the other incidents, it will give off a great shower of sparks — and die.

The enemy is going for broke, as the Japanese did at the end and the Germans did at Bastogne.

It is risky to attempt to apply western reasoning to minds that are not western and probably never will be. Bill Hearst, Milt Kaplan and I were dropped into Tan Son Nhut in Gen. Westmoreland's chopper, a year or so ago, only hours after another suicidal raid by the VC.

Some of the bodies were still around. They included a boy who didn't look more than 14 or 15. He apparently had died while still charging a sand-bagged American gun position.

BANDAGED FOR DEATH
Another VC was decked, in death, with fresh bandages. He apparently had been wounded in the preliminary shelling of the VC positions around the airport, had been patched up, and still joined in the bloody rush that cost him his life.

Still another suicidist ran right through troops guarding our RF101's, hugging a dynamite satchel charge, dived under the tail of a forlorn old DC3 and blew himself apart.

The detonation pinched in a consequential dime-sized hole in the tail assembly of the rickety DC3.

Subsequently we asked Air Marshal Ky to explain how the enemy could instill such dedication in men who must have known they didn't have a chance of succeeding. He seemed surprised by the question.

"I could raise my finger and get a hundred volunteers to parachute into the center of Hanoi and probably certain death right now," he said. "It would not be difficult at all. The men would be honored to be a part of such an act."

One of the reasons behind the humiliating capture of our spy ship Pueblo can be traced in all probability to the acceptance of spying as a way of life.

It used to be a pretty individualistic sort of thing, a raffish business which attracted the likes of Mata Hari, for example.

She would be replaced today by a computer, or a ferry ship, or radar, sonar, U2's, satellites and a prosaic code-smasher named Elmer somebody, who has to knock off the breaking of Outer Mongolia's chaireuse code to get to the Parent-Teachers meeting.

New War

Israel Digest

"Any decision to start a new war will be taken this time, without a doubt, by the Soviet Union. Even when Egypt regains all the planes and tanks she lost in the war, she will not risk another war, and will demand military guarantees from the Soviet Union. If permission is not given by the Kremlin, Egypt will not begin a war." Israel's Defense Minister Moshe Dayan declared.

The Soviet Union would not give Egypt the go-ahead to start a war unless victory was assured. Mr. Dayan said. They will not risk losing again after once more supplying Egypt and other Arab States with costly arms.

The Defense Minister emphasized that any new war would begin in the south, from the Suez Canal area. Behind this southern front "stands the strongest Arab State and one that is vying for the leadership of the Arab world — Egypt." The combination of the strongest enemy state and the support of

Mother of Serviceman
Gives Her Views of War

Open letter to the President of the United States: It is reported that the Vietcong are preparing for the biggest attack of the war against our U.S. Marines. The only son I have has joined the Marines; however, he has not yet been sent to Vietnam. I am frustrated. I do not understand this war.

I want freedom and peace for all but it has been proven that this can never be. We as one nation cannot make it so. We are bringing misery to innocent people over there. Also, we have oppression and not complete freedom in our country and it is worsening. We must first look to our own country and try to make it a better place in which to live.

I pity you, Mr. President, with this great burden on your shoulders, but I pity more those 19-year-old boys who have not yet had a chance at life who are being taught the horrors of war. How unfair for anyone to say you will go and you can stay for one reason or another. There must be a better way. I did not plead with my son not to join up, but I do plead with you, Mr. President, to do something to end this terrible thing.

Comments on Recent Open Housing Hearing

As I listened to the public hearing on the Open Housing Ordinance I again became aware of how much sincerity, good and understanding Pontiac encompasses and how articulate are many of our minority citizens. Leadership means individuals elected because they have greater understanding and foresight than the average person. Leaders are not robots tabulating the majority vote and voting accordingly, but they must determine what is best in the long range whether it concurs with the majority or not.

I believe our four Commissioners voting for open housing are leaders in the true sense and especially commend Mayor Taylor and Commissioner Hudson because they are aware that it may be their district constituents who do not share their views.

'Are Property Taxes Threat to Security?'

Are foreign countries or state property tax powers threatening individual security and freedom? People strive to pay for their homes in the belief that they will have individual security. Michigan now requires that taxes be assessed at 50 percent of value and taxes must be paid whether or not you have any earnings during the year. The fixed amount must be paid whether you earn $4,000 or $20,000 per year.

If you fail to pay these taxes for three years the state that is supposed to protect your security takes your property from you. Is our government working for us or are we in slavery working for the government?

March Miller of Oakland County Republican Headquarters tells us a group of private citizens who call themselves Romney Associates began over a year ago collecting money in case Romney decided to run for President. Names and addresses of all donors were kept in the event he didn't run. When he announced his candidacy, the money was turned over to him as a campaign fund, which he is using, along with personal funds, to cover his campaign expenses.

the U.S.S.R. makes it certain, the Minister said, that any new conflict would begin on the Egyptian front.

Jordan will not fight for the West Bank. Jordan, Mr. Dayan said, is linked with the West especially the U.S., and this fact bars it from any war initiative. "Jordan, too, is not capable of embarking on a new war and won't decide on it as a means of regaining the West Bank," he added. The Defense Minister emphasized that the inhabitants of Judea and Samaria have no desire for war.

Colonel Talks About Khe Sanh

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — The defender of Khe Sanh combines the caution of a banker and the zest of a hardened combat man who is sure he can win his toughest fight.

Col. David E. Lownds and his reinforced 26th Marine Regiment are surrounded by two divisions of North Vietnamese troops—more men than Hanoi has committed to one battle so far in the war.

The Communists have artillery, heavy rockets and deadly accurate mortars. All are zeroed in on the Khe Sanh base camp and take a daily toll of Marines.

"Can we hold this place?" Col. Lownds responded to a question. "Hell, yes. The morale and discipline of my men are high, and because the enemy has delayed our defenses are better every day."

NOT SATISFIED
That's the professional fighter speaking. Lownds, who was nearly killed in the opening phase of the battle for Khe Sanh, adds: "But if I said I was satisfied with my position the general should take another look at me. Any commander who is satisfied with his defenses is a fool. If I stay here two more years I'll still be at it. Complacency is dangerous and foolish."

Late in December, intelligence began turning up evidence that the North Vietnamese were no longer infiltrating past Khe Sanh but were massing around it. Lownds' Marines are shock troops who hate digging, but they've been at their shovels ever since.

Khe Sanh sometimes is likened to Dien Bien Phu, where the French suffered their final decisive defeat in their Indochina war. Both are in remote mountain valleys that are hard to resupply. In both cases the defenders were badly outnumbered by a hard, well supplied Communist force bent on annihilating its foe.

But Lownds says the French made a series of key errors.

UNPREPARED
They underestimated their enemy, failed to prepare their bunkers for a real siege and were short of artillery. They could not count on the necessary aerial bombardment and resupply to keep them going.

Lownds, twice wounded in World War II, feels he and his Marines have none of these factors working against them. By unofficial count, the U.S. Air Force in one day dropped more bombs around Khe Sanh than the French did in the entire

Chicago Stadium Spurns $20 Bill

CHICAGO (AP) — You can't buy a box of popcorn for a $20 bill at Chicago Stadium. You can't get peanuts or a hot dog, either.

"Because of a recent influx of counterfeit $20 bills we won't take them," a concessionaire explained Sunday night.

months-long campaign for Dien Bien Phu.

The French considered Dien Bien Phu an offensive base, the colonel adds. At Khe Sanh, Marine reconnaissance patrols are still on the move, but the Leathernecks are not attempting to assault Communist positions a few hundred yards away. They know that the attacker suffers as many as five casualties for each one he inflicts, and the Marines want the North Vietnamese to take the long end of the odds.

Lownds knows well the problems of assaulting fixed positions. During World War II he was wounded during the Marine landing on Saipan and again at Iwo Jima.

A North Vietnamese 122mm rocket almost got him before the battle of Khe Sanh really started. The round smashed his hut just after lunch when he normally would have been in it. That day he was briefing a general deep in a command bunker. The regimental commander sports the handlebar mustache favored by many Marines in Vietnam. His close cropped hair looks younger than his 47 years. Born in Holyoke, Mass., and a graduate of the University of Rhode Island, Lownds served in the Dominican Republic during the 1965 crisis there.

Recalling his days as a battalion commander, he says, "Having a Marine battalion is the ultimate in any Marine's life. It's more personal and more immediate. Having a regiment is an honor."

The colonel's wife lives in Plantation, Fla. The oldest of his seven children is married to a Marine stationed in Phu Bai.

NO INSIGNIA

In a crowd of Leathernecks, Col. Lownds would be hard to spot. Short in stature, he wears no visible insignia of rank and carries a clip of M16 rifle ammunition in the pocket of his flack jacket just like his infantrymen.

Perched atop some sandbags talking with newsmen, Lownds was approached by a corporal who said, "Hey, Marine, can you tell me where subsection 5 is?"

The colonel quietly gave the corporal directions and then returned to his explanation of tactics for the defense of Khe Sanh.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

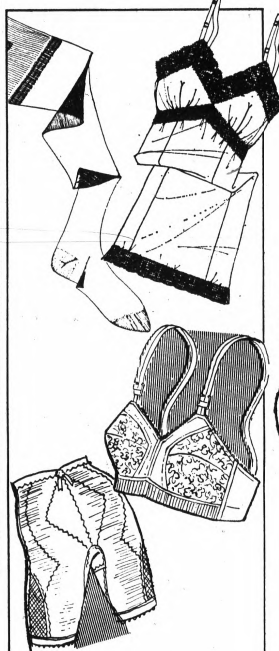

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Gethsemane Lutheran Church was the setting Saturday evening as David Carson Bingham married Judy Marie Bishop.

Carrying a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and red roses, the bride was gown in silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and bouffant skirt.

Reembroidered lace highlighted her ensemble. Capping her bouffant veil was a petal headpiece.

Members of the wedding party on the bride's side were Mrs. Stephen Andrews, matron of honor and bridesmaids Mrs. Larry Morgan, Martha Lawson and Beverly Thurman.

Best man honors were performed by Ralph Rumsey with Albert Pelham and John and Newton Cole ushering.

RECEPTION

Before departing for a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the newlyweds were honored with a reception at the American Legion Hall.

The bride is the daughter of the Homer C. Bishops of Devondale Street, Avon Township. Parents of the bridegroom are the Carson Bingham of Bingham Farms.

Handy for Mail

You can protect your magazines and other large pieces of mail from picking up dirt off the porch or hall floor and also from becoming bent or corners broken by fastening a metal basket below the main slot of the box.

Why Grow Old?

Q. I have naturally medium-brown hair. Recently, I had it colored red. It isn't really red, doing wet work. Also, keep but it has a strong reddish tinge. It is reddish-brown. I had been using black eyebrow pencil and mascara. Should I change now that the color of my hair is different? What should I do?

A. Use brown mascara and eyebrow pencil instead of black. Even if your hair is dark a combination of black and brown pencil is best. This looks more natural. Depending on the shade of your hair use a pencil from medium to dark brown — probably medium is better for you.

Q. I am not very tall but have very large feet. They are extremely long. What can I do? Are there any exercises?

A. No. There are no exercises you can take to shorten the feet. Sometimes flat feet look very long, and are longer, because the arches are non-existent. Special exercises will help weak feet.

Probably, your difficulty is just a pair of normal but long feet. The modern vogue for buckles on shoes will be flattering. They make the foot appear shorter. Also, many shoes today have cross straps over the instep or fasten around the ankles. All of these will be flattering.

Q. I have very large ears which protrude badly. I understand that they can be corrected with plastic surgery. Is this true? I really do not feel that I want that, though. Is there anything else I can do?

A. It is true that this condition can be corrected by plastic surgery. However, there is an efficient product on the market which will hold the ears back in place. Of course, you can also style your hair in such a way as to hide the protruding ears.

Q. I have splitting, breaking nails. What can I do to correct this condition?

A. Be sure to protect your hands from detergents with cotton-lined, rubber gloves when doing wet work. Also, keep them out of hot water as much as possible. Leave nail polish off for a while. Do not saw back and forth when filing the nails.

Insufficient protein and calcium and vitamin intake may be factors.

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

New Bridal Registry

Thanks to a new and unique photographic registry service initiated this week by C. R. Haskill Studios, many brides-to-be will now be able to have their complete wedding photographed and albums given to them as wedding presents.

How often it has been said, "I'm not having wedding photos taken, it's beyond us right now." Yet, the very thing the young bride foresees in the beginning is the one thing that remains forever, bringing memories of that wonderful day each time photographs are viewed.

Now through "Wedding Photography Registry" a prospective bride can call C. R. Haskill Studios on University Drive in Pontiac and engage a photographer to cover the wedding day festivities. At the same time, she can select the style of wedding photography she prefers — Natural color; the album; wall — hung paintings; frames, etc.

As a gift, C. R. Haskill provides each of his brides a "Wedding Guest Book," a portrait for the newspaper free and even rice conveniently packaged for the guests to throw at the happy couple when leaving the church.

Mr. Haskill has also available at special discount prices, invitations and napkins and often quips, "We supply everything but the Bridegroom!"

Why not call C. R. Haskill Studio now at 334-0553 and reserve your wedding date, or stop in at 1 University Drive, Pontiac.

A 'Royal Pain' Is Now Removed

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret was reported progressing well today for surgery for removal of her tonsils Friday.

Her husband, Lord Snowdon, said she was "as well as can be expected."

"As you know, the operation is a little more serious in an adult person. All she needs now is plenty of rest."

The princess is 37.

Girl's Letter to 'Any GI' Gets Answers

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Janis Krisjanson has scores of pen pals — nothing so unusual for a 16-year-old high school girl — except that her pen pals are in Southeast Asia.

Janis, a junior at Ingraham High School here, read in the newspaper that many GIs would like to receive mail from the United States.

So she penned a letter assuring the servicemen that "somebody cares" and addressed it simply to "A GI in Thailand."

The letter traveled to the front lines in Vietnam and the soldier who received it turned it over to his commanding officer. The commanding officer gave it to a higher officer and the letter was printed in the next issue of "Stars and Stripes."

That's how Janis accumulated all her GI pen pals.

Two Products Simplify the Job of Housekeeping

Keeping spic and span is easier with two new products from one company. One is for the ironing board, one for floors.

The fabric finisher brightens colors and puts new freshness into fabrics. The maker says it also makes the iron glide more easily over all fabrics, that it eliminates scorching, sticking and the need for dampening. The finish comes in an aerosol can.

The floor product is a wax remover which the maker says cleans all surfaces except wood and cork. Apply it directly to the floor, let stand briefly, then wipe and rinse with clear water.

NICE DOGGIE . . . UH, WOLFIE—Maj. William D. Gilmer of the Kansas City, Mo., police department pets his Canadian-born timber wolf, Shanty. Gilmer obtained the 10-month-old animal as a pup and plans to breed it with a German shepherd dog to obtain a better animal for canine police patrols.

Hopes for Superior Animal

Shepherd-Wolf Eyed for Police Work

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Neighborhood vandals give a wide berth to William D. Gilmer's house.

Maybe it's because of that timber wolf in the back yard.

Gilmer, a major in the Kansas City Police Department, plans to breed the wolf with a German shepherd dog to create a better animal for police canine patrols.

He hopes the shepherd-wolf pups will grow taller, heavier, faster more powerful and more alert than the shepherd and Doberman pinscher dogs now being used.

"I'd like to breed an animal which possesses the acute sense of danger of a wolf," Gilmer said, "but yet has the training and handling ability of a domestic dog."

NO EASY TASK

Finding a timber wolf wasn't easy. "It's nearly impossible to obtain a wolf for a pet in the United States," said the police officer.

"In the United States, wolves have become nearly extinct and are protected by stringent conservation laws.

"But I learned that in Canada the laws still consider wolves as predatory beasts, as animals which are exterminated when they are found."

After many inquiries, Gilmer received a month-old wolf pup from a Canadian conservation officer who found it in a den some 200 miles north of Winnipeg.

SILKY FUR

When the wolf arrived via air freight "it was a little bundle of silky fur," he recalled. "It weighed about four pounds."

Now named Shanty, it weighs in today at 100 pounds of muscle and sharp fangs. And it's only 10 months old.

Gilmer erected a doghouse in his back yard and also dug a wolf den where Shanty spends his time during extremely cold or hot weather.

"I've asked my neighbors if they were bothered by howling noises, and they said they weren't," Gilmer said.

LOVES CHILDREN

"Shanty seems to have a natural instinct to love and tolerate children," he said.

"Once I caught two neighborhood children, one riding on Shanty's back and the other pulling his tail — and the wolf wasn't upset."

Shanty eats nearly three times the food required for a German shepherd. But there's good news for potential wolf owners. The beasts are instinctively housebroken.

'Apartheid' Exists in U.S., Say Some Riot Panel Members

By ROY MCGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An exhaustive six-month study of the race riots that have wracked the nation's cities has convinced some members of President Johnson's riot commission that America is an "apartheid" society, like South Africa.

These members are pessimistic about the future; they believe that there will be further separation of the races, further alienation, a further wrenching of the structure of U.S. society before the racial question can even begin to be resolved.

No member of the panel, formerly known as the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, will publicly predict another summer of racial violence. But privately most see little chance of a tranquil 1968.

Conditions in the big city ghettos, breeding ground of anger and discontent, are essentially unchanged since last summer. And no matter what recommendations the commission may make in its March report, there won't be time to put them into effect before the days lengthen and the temperatures soar.

Some commission members believe relationships between the races have deteriorated to the point where there are probably no short-term remedies, and they are doubtful whether the country has the patience to effect long-term solutions.

ESSENTIAL AGREEMENT
About two-thirds of the commission's report has been completed.

There will be a final rewrite to sharpen the language, but there is essential agreement among the 11 members about what happened in the summer of 1967, and what caused the riots.

There is virtually no agreement yet on what should be done, specifically, to head off further racial turbulence.

Generally, there are three broad categories of attack: improve housing; make sure everyone has the opportunity to work in a meaningful, dignified job; improve education for the young. Education and jobs are the key to relieving poverty.

IMMINENT DANGER
But there is imminent danger that Negroes will not endure the necessarily slow pace required to produce such jobs and attain such education.

Some commission members contend the only answer is a guaranteed income for every family.

The commission will have some harsh things to say about the white community. It has learned, for instance, that the great majority of whites disavow racial prejudice, claiming that they don't discriminate against Negroes.

But most commission members have concluded that whites generally are prejudiced and do discriminate, although frequently unaware of it.

NEGROES AWARE
But Negroes are aware. And this awareness has led inevitably to the rise of black nationalism, the call of the Negro militant for a separate black society.

Historically, some commission members have concluded, United States has never freely given the Negro anything except in response to protest.

The question now, they think, is whether the white community has been sufficiently frightened to grant full equality.

Most panel members don't think it has.

REPRESSION POSSIBLE
Will it become frightened enough with almost certain violence again next summer? Again, most commission members think not. Instead, they see possible ruthless repression if anarchy breaks out.

The signs are already here. Commission members have learned, for instance, that the response of many police departments to demands for human relations units and civilian review boards is to buy tanks, machine guns and other sophisticated riot control equipment.

What does it mean politically? Some members see trouble ahead for any politician who counsels restraint in response to violence.

They believe, for instance, that if riots erupt President Johnson will lose the election unless he moves forcefully to put them down. They see the backlash vote, heretofore a trickle, turning into a tidal wave for a major party candidate who promises to suppress violence.

THIS IS A SWITCH — Many persons go skiing in Minnesota during the winter, but they usually find a snowy hill for the sport. When the temperature soared to 33 above zero in Minneapolis Saturday, 14-year-old Mary Seran just had to try out her water skis again. She joined three companions in an outing on the Mississippi River.

WINTER WONDERLAND — Two-year-old Kendra Harper is dwarfed by the king-sized snow statue, one of several made by students at Michigan Tech at Houghton for the school's winter carnival. Some of the statues towered over 30 feet.

YOUTH BOXED IN — A Philadelphia youth, identified by police as Michael Lucien Szwaj, 19, poses before arraignment in Brooklyn Federal Court. Above, he's shown after being discovered in a large shipping crate at Kennedy Airport Friday night. Police said the youth told them he had two friends nail him in the box and deliver it to an air freight terminal in Philadelphia. The crate was addressed to a clinic in Australia.

VICTIMS OF WAR — An old Vietnamese woman leaves An Quang Pagoda in Saigon with her dog in her arms after the structure was retaken from the Vietcong by South Viet marines. She was one of about 600 civilians found in the pagoda. Approximately 174,000 civilians have been forced from their homes in the recent fighting.

Fulbright's Viet Stand Firm Despite Hawkish Foe

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, who hasn't had a serious election challenge since Arkansas sent him to the Senate 24 years ago, is threatened by a Marine hawk who contends Fulbright's opposition to U.S. policy in Vietnam is delaying the day of victory.

Fulbright's response: Pled his case to the voters and field their roughest questions.

The Senate's No. 1 dove isn't retreating from his criticism of President Johnson's Vietnam policy; in fact, he's telling his home folk he doubts the administration now will accept any victory less than victory in the war.

Fulbright's possible opponent in the August Democratic primary is former Gov. Sid McMath, a major general in the Marine Corps reserve who has two Marine officer sons—one in Vietnam.

McMath, now a Little Rock lawyer, is making an average of three speeches a week across the state, where hawkish sentiment is strong, contending Fulbright's criticism is holding up victory by receiving "undue attention."

Many observers see evidence that Fulbright is gaining strength through an increasing number of personal appearances. In each, he sets out his views briefly then invites questions from the audience.

His constituents respond with alacrity. They probe his stand on Vietnam; they prod him about his role in steering the Gulf of Tonkin resolution through the Senate; they worriedly inquire about the North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo, and they bluntly ask the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee if his dissent is indeed prolonging the Vietnam war.

"I don't think it has any significance at all in keeping Ho Chi Minh from the negotiation table," Fulbright told one such gathering in Pine Bluff.

"Are you willing to accept the infallibility of one leader?" he demanded.

Fulbright is said to feel the administration will help McMath if the former governor decides to run against him.

But many political observers see Fulbright's strength reflected in former Gov. Orval Faubus' attitude.

Faubus held the state house for six straight terms before stepping out in 1966. The Democrats nominated Jim Johnson, but the voters defied tradition and elected a Republican, Winthrop Rockefeller.

Faubus has talked of taking on either Fulbright or Rockefeller this year, whichever appeared the weaker. Now Faubus is believed to have given up any idea of challenging fellow Democrat Fulbright in favor of zeroing in on Rockefeller.

The senator has been fence-mending since last fall, "discussing the issues" with the voters in 32 speeches and question-and-answer session.

Tests Use Single Flier in Jets

AF Tries to Solve Pilot Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, seeking to solve a chronic pilot shortage, is running tests designed to see if its most advanced jets can be flown by one pilot rather than two.

Pentagon officials say they would like to limit the crews of F4C Phantoms and F111A fighters to a single pilot with a non-flying navigator in the rear cockpit.

This would ease the pilot shortage and save some $400 million over the next five years, they said.

Single-pilot flight tests, now under way in Southeast Asia and the United States, are slated for completion this summer.

Probe Shows Federal File on Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Edward V. Long says his Judiciary subcommittee's probe shows "there is very little that some agency of the federal government does not know about us from the cradle on."

The Missouri Democrat, whose panel has looked into the type and amount of information the government maintains on individual citizens, released today a summary of its findings.

"To my knowledge, this is the first inventory showing the amount of government information on American citizens ever prepared," Long said of the 906-page summary compiled from questionnaires sent to federal agencies.

It was the fourth time within a month that the building which Del Rio owns had been the target of a break-in. Earlier, he said, about $1,500 worth of typewriters and other office equipment had been taken from a ground-floor office of the building, located near the heart of Detroit's worst rioting last July.

Del Rio said he has kept the 30-year-old shotgun he used to fire at the would-be burglars loaded and ready in the building since the riot.

DEFENSE OF PROPERTY

"I've said it once and I'll say it again," he said, rolling his fingers over three unspent shotgun cartridges on his office desk. "A man has a right to defend his property."

Del Rio said a window was smashed and he spotted a man in the doorway of one of the entrances to his office building.

Del Rio Tells of Shooting at 2 Intruders

DETROIT (AP) — State Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, fired a shotgun blast at two men who tried to break into the building housing his office on Detroit's West Side, he told police Sunday night.

A police check of the alley behind Del Rio's office revealed no sign that either of the two men had been hit.

Del Rio said he flipped on the light switch, and when the man yelled to a companion to get going, dashed to get the loaded shotgun.

"I ran around back, opened the window, and yelled 'halt, halt!'" and when they didn't stop, I let go with both barrels," he said.

Del Rio said he knew of many persons who have kept loaded weapons close to hand since the July riot. "Everybody is afraid of injury," he said.

The state representative said he did not think events of last July would repeat themselves in Detroit this coming summer.

SYMBOLS OF POWER

"It'll be more like guerrilla warfare," he said, "and it won't be racist. It'll be aimed at symbols of power."

He added he does not expect white extremist groups to invade Negro neighborhoods.

"I'm not worried about Break-through," he said, referring to a far right-wing group based in Detroit, "because if they break through here, they're not going to get out."

Diver's Pat Brings Whale of a Reply

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — While taking photographs 70 feet below the ocean's surface, Rick Grigg couldn't resist the impulse to pat a 25-foot migrating California gray whale.

The whale responded with a flip of its tail that knocked the airpipe from Grigg's mouth, pushed his face plate to his shoulders and slashed his forehead.

Another diver helped Grigg to the surface after the encounter Saturday. Grigg's injuries were minor.

Clawed Handler Keeps His Cool, So Does Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — A Central Park Zoo keeper was clawed on the left forearm by a jaguar Sunday, but his calmness after the incident kept most of the 200 visitors from knowing what happened.

The keeper, Walter Caldwell, 40, of Jamaica, Queens, was attacked by the 14-year-old, 125-pound animal named Theresa as he worked in the aisle between the cage and a spectators' protective railing.

Caldwell, a 10-year employee, displayed no emotion as he was taken to a zoo office, then was taken to a hospital where his wound was stitched and he was given a tetanus shot.

Later, head keeper John Kinzig commented: "We all take what you call occupational risks. She's a nervous cat, anyway."

Waterford Store Is Burglarized as Owner Sleeps

A Waterford Township store owner is still wondering today how thieves made off with almost $4,500 worth of instruments and some cash while he was sleeping in the back room of the store.

Police discovered the break-in Saturday morning and, almost accidentally, discovered Gerald Parnall sleeping in the room of the Country Music Store, 7400 Highland.

Entrance was gained by breaking the window in the front door, police reported.

$7,000 Cash Taken From City Home

Four small safes containing dollars was in change, the rest at least $7,000 in cash were in bills.

Entry was made by forcing through a rear door, according to officers, who checked the scene for fingerprints.

Gladys Rowley of 46 N. Shirley told city police the safes were taken from the dining room area.

She said several hundred dollars were in the safes.

BATTLE AREAS IN HUE — Savage house-to-house battles raged today in Hue during the eighth day of the biggest Communist offensive of the Vietnam war. Vietcong controlled the northern sector of the city and action was particularly heavy north of the old section of the city, which South Vietnamese planes bombed, and on the northern bank of the Perfume River.

Hue Recalls WW II Days

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — "This is a regular Warsaw ghetto," said the young marine as he sat on a mat of crushed grass in a doorway looking out on the broad, deserted, rubble-strewn avenue. He was too young to know first hand about the battles in European cities during World War II. But the battle in Hue reminded him of what he had read.

Hue's avenues are wide and flanked by concrete walls five and six feet high. The Marines often lay down a random barrage and then cross the avenues one by one at a dead run. In the narrow alleys and hallways it is different. If enemy bullets miss, they ricochet crazily back and forth, giving each bullet half a dozen chances to maim.

SURPRISE MEETINGS

Marines often come around opposite corners of a building, startling one another. In the large buildings, a rifleman who disappears into a room runs the risk of another member of his squad lobbing a grenade in after him. Because of this there is a lot of loud talking. "I whistle a bit," said one corporal.

Army Capt. John Doherty of Andover, Mass., had a typical experience. He went with an eight-man reconnaissance patrol to the soccer stadium 800 yards from the U.S. military advisory compound. There was not a sound as the men walked through the streets. "Then we took sniper fire from all across our front," Doherty said. Within seconds two men were dead. "I fired a burst and a sniper fell out of a tree. All you could see of them was muzzle flashes."

'Joint Chiefs Back Khe Sanh in Writing'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff have assured President Johnson in writing that Khe Sanh, the Vietnamese border post which came under heavy attack today, "could and should" be defended.

Johnson requested each member of the Joint Chiefs to sign a statement, according to the latest issue of Time magazine, because "I don't want any damned Dien Bien Phu."

A White House spokesman said yesterday he did not "have any information" on the magazine report, but said "it's possible."

The magazine said that Johnson cross-examined the Joint Chiefs at great length about the wisdom of defending the isolated outpost, then insisted that each of them put his affirmative view in writing.

Asked about the report the Pentagon said: "After conferring with Gen. (William C.) Westmoreland, the Joint Chief determined that Khe Sanh could and should be defended and so reported to the President in a Joint Chiefs of Staff memorandum signed by the chairman, Gen. (Earle) Wheeler."

Khe Sanh is in the northwestern corner of South Vietnam, near the borders of North Vietnam and Laos.

Pageantry to Open Winter Olympics Tuesday

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The 10th Winter Olympic Games open with their usual pomp and pageantry Tuesday with Gen. Charles de Gaulle among the 80,000 spectators but with the attention of the sports world on skier Jean-Claude Killy, figure skater Peggy Fleming and the daring king of the bobsledders, Eugenio Monti.

When the lavish ice and snow spectacle finally gets under way in earnest Wednesday, the main question marks of the games will ring the heads of these outstanding figures. Can Killy, France's superman of the Alpine slopes, pull off a triple gold medal sweep as Austria's Toni Sailer did in 1956 — or even win one of the events — under the pressure of competing before an idolatrous nation of fellow Frenchmen? Many contend he can't.

Can Miss Fleming, the 19-year-old darling from Colorado Springs, Colo., regain for America the women's figure skating supremacy lost as the result of a tragic airplane accident in Brussels that killed the cream of U.S. talent? She is rated a cinch.

Can Monti, the red-haired daredevil from Italy who has won nine world championships, finally win an Olympic gold in a sport in which he has been rated the best for years? He is heavily favored.

Some 1,500 athletes from 37 nations march into the huge temporary stadium in the lavish opening ceremonies, starting at 3 p.m. local time.

The French president, who will sit in a specially heated box, will officially declare the Games open during an extravaganza that will see 30,000 perfumed artificial roses rained on the crowd, parachutists drop from the sky and a blast of spectacular fireworks after lighting of the traditional flame.

After the swirling snowstorm halted training and raised fears Saturday, the weather turned beautiful again Sunday and prospects were good for clear skies and cold temperatures. That's what the contestants want—and need.

MILD SLUMP

Killy, 24, dark and handsome and rated the best of the world's Alpine skiers although he has experienced a mild slump this year, will face stern competition from Gerhard Nennung of Austria, Edmund Bruggman of Switzerland and America's one-two punch of Bill Kidd of Stowe, Vt., and Jim Heuga of Squaw Valley, Calif.

Nennung is favored in the downhill, starting with preliminary runs Wednesday, and Bruggman is rated best in the giant slalom. Killy's best hope appears to be in the giant slalom and slalom, where Kidd and Heuga are also strong.

'64 Champ Tries Again

Things Different for Terry McDermott

By WILL GRIMSLEY
GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Since winning the United States' only gold medal in the 1964 Winter Olympic Games at Innsbruck, a lot has happened to Terry McDermott, the speedskating barber.

He has put away his shears and become a manufacturer's representative.

He has moved from his little home town of Essexville to Birmingham.

He has become a father three times over. He has gained close to 10 pounds. "I'm as fast as I ever was, it's just a question of whether I am in as good condition," he said today, as he relaxed in the Olympic village on the eve of the official opening of the games.

NO RACING

"You know, I didn't race at all in 1965 and 1966. When the Olympic trials were announced, I couldn't resist the urge to come back and make a try for another medal."

McDermott has been selected to carry the Stars and Stripes in the van of the red-jacketed U.S. delegation of 119 athletes in Tuesday's ceremonies.

outside of Essexville, a community of 5,000 on the fringe of Bay City, ever heard of McDermott. Few knew or cared about a sport called speedskating in which men and women in funny helmets and tight suits zip around a track in pairs, racing against a clock.

Then, at Innsbruck, McDermott beat the two-time Olympic champion from Russia, Eugen Grischin, in the 500-meter race. Overnight he was a sensation.

"I went to a lot of dinners after that and made speeches, from New York to Los Angeles," Terry recalled. "My whole life changed. But I didn't give up barbering immediately.

"I returned to my chair. When my uncle died, I took over the shop. I continued barbering a year and a half after I won my gold at Innsbruck."

Famous as Uncle Sam's only gold medalist in the 1964 games, McDermott found his friends and neighbors at Essexville very little impressed.

"Aw, they were proud of me, I guess, although they didn't go out of their way to show it," he said. "They'd still come into the shop, sit down and say, 'Go light around the edges, will you, Terry?' or 'Not too much off the top, please.'"

"People out there don't go overboard easily. Shortly after coming home, McDermott's first child was born — daughter Joyce, now aged 3½. Then came Lynn, now 1½, and Mike, six months.

NEW POSITION

As to his new job, McDermott said: "I decided I should do something to better myself, so I went into this business with a friend," he explained. "I quit racing. I never thought I'd race again."

"I guess I got a little heavier. I was around 170 when I won at Innsbruck and I'm close to 180 now. But that's not a factor. It's just a matter of conditioning."

"I've broken 41 seconds twice since I've come back but Neil Blatchford has better time — 39.2. At Inzell, Germany, just before we came here. I think I've got a chance."

Terry is now 27, a muscular 5-10 with short-cropped hair. The haircut is his concession to his former trade.

"The way the kids wear their hair these days," he said, "A barber would go broke."

Scandinavian Titlist

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Top-seeded Jan Leschly of Denmark beat Alex Metreveli of Russia 4-6, 12-10, 6-3, 6-4 Sunday to win the men's singles title in the Scandinavian tennis championships. In the all-British women's singles final, Virginia Wade beat Joyce Williams 6-1, 6-2.

Red Wings Nipped by Hustling Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Sometimes the Detroit Red Wings net looks more like a clay pigeon at a trapshooters' meet.

That's the way it was when the Boston Bruins pummeled two Detroit goalies with 50 shots Sunday night, nipping the Wings 5-4.

John McKenzie scored the hat trick as the Bruins broke their eight-game scoring slump in the National Hockey League.

And Boston's combination of vigorous offense and tight defense limited Detroit to 27 shots against goalie Gerry Cheevers.

Detroit netminder Roger Crozier was forced to leave after 5:28 of the second period, with the Wings trailing 3-2. Roy Edwards allowed the next two Boston goals.

McKenzie, a 30-year-old veteran enjoying his finest season, scored his 17th goal in the first period and then completed the hat trick with a pair of tallies in the middle session.

SLUMP OVER

The victory also ended a Boston slump. The Bruins had tied their last two games after losing four straight.

Boston jumped to a 1-0 lead on defenseman Bobby Orr's rink length dash capped by a blistering slap shot just inside the Detroit blue line.

Detroit's Gordie Howe connected for his 26th goal to tie the count before McKenzie scored for the first time.

Kent Douglas made the score 2-2 on a goal late in the opening period.

McKenzie tipped in a shot while the Red Wings were short handed at 4:26 of the second period, but Gary Bergman again tied the score for Detroit.

Then the Bruins went in front to stay as Ted Green's pass out from the corner was deflected into the Detroit goal by the Wings' Alex Delvecchio. McKenzie added his third goal 16 seconds later.

Floyd Smith completed the scoring at 18:46 of the third period.

It took defenseman John Miszuk 96 games to fashion his first two big league goals but only 20 minutes to notch his next two.

Miszuk scored twice in the first period Sunday night and Philadelphia went on to stun Toronto 4-1 for a weekend sweep of established teams by the expansionist Flyers. On Saturday, Philadelphia knocked off Chicago 5-3.

OTHER CONTESTS

In Sunday's other games, New York ended Montreal's run at the NHL record book by blanking the Canadiens 3-0, halting a 12-game winning streak and 16-game unbeaten skid. Minnesota shaded Oakland 4-3 and Chicago dropped Los Angeles 5-3.

In Saturday's action, Montreal turned back Los Angeles 5-1, Detroit trounced Minnesota 8-1, St. Louis tripped Oakland 4-1, Pittsburgh and Toronto played to a 3-3 tie and New York and Boston finished in a 3-3 standoff.

The weekend sweep gave the Flyers, leaders in the NHL's new West Division, three victories in the last four starts against the established teams and left Punch Imlach, coach of the Maple Leafs, with some unpleasant thoughts.

Imlach's Leafs dropped into a fourth-place tie with New York, managing only one of a possible four points in their weekend games against expansion teams.

Miszuk, who scored once in 47 NHL games over three seasons with Detroit and Chicago before being drafted by the Flyers, and once earlier this season, doubled his career output against Toronto's Johnny Bower. His first goal came while killing a penalty and the second was a 50-footer which bounced over Bower's stick.

FIFTH SHUTOUT

Doug Favell kicked out 31 shots in the last two periods to preserve the victory — his second straight over the Leafs.

Ed Giacomini's fifth shutout of the season and Vic Hadfield's first goal after missing 10 games with a dislocated right shoulder, led the Rangers past the Canadiens.

Hadfield's goal, on his first turn on the ice, broke a scoreless tie in the second period and Rod Gilbert and Jean Ratelle added insurance tallies in the final 20 minutes.

Doug Mohs rammed in a pair of goals and Bobby Hull scored his 36th of the season as Chicago upended Los Angeles. The victory moved the Black Hawks two points back of the first-place Canadiens in the East race.

Minnesota opened a five-point gap on LA and St. Louis tied for third in the west, by whipping Oakland. Jean Paul Parise's third-period goal was the clincher for the North Stars, who trail first-place Philadelphia by five points.

Non-Title Bout Tonight

PARIS (UPI) — Welterweight champion Curtis Cokes of Dallas meets France's Jean Josselin tonight in a 15-round non-title bout. Cokes won a 15-round decision from Josselin in a title match in 1966.

Borrowed Money Helps Aussie Win

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Kerry Pearce came to the United States on borrowed money but it's a good bet Australia will pay for his return trip, with a Mexico City visit to boot.

The blond 5-foot-8, 150-pound Pearce surprised the track world by running two miles in indoor record time of 8:27.2 Saturday night in the second annual San Diego Indoor Games.

The longest performance eclipsed by 1.6 seconds the 1966 record of Australia's Ron Clarke, and Pearce wasn't even the favorite. His best previous indoor effort was 8-43.6.

Fellow countryman Kerry O'Brien, who had been undefeated indoors this season, set the pace before giving way to Pearce after the first mile. O'Brien was second in 8:41.3.

Pearce, a sophomore at the University of Texas at El Paso, was named the meet's top performer although outstanding efforts were turned in by Earl McCullough, Bob Seagren, Randy Matson and Bob Beamon.

Pearce said his family in the Melbourne suburb of Richmond borrowed to help pay the $600 cost of his trip to the United States 13 months ago.

EYES OLMPYICS
Pearce, who turned 21 in December, said his greatest desire is to represent Australia this year in the Mexico City Olympic games.

But he was informed recently that his times wouldn't qualify him for the Olympics. His best outdoor time is 8-46.0.

Kerry, who grew up about 10 miles from Clarke's home said, "Ron is just the greatest. He's not my ideal, but he's a great friend and athlete."

Pearce's coach, Wayne Vandenburg, said he had expected Kerry to reach a peak next month at a NCAA indoor championship. Australia selects its Olympic team April 30.

"This kid has worked for that record," Vandenburg said. "Anybody who runs 140 miles a week deserves it."

McCullough — drafted by the NFL Detroit Lions — edged Willie Davenport in their long-awaited 90-yard hurdle duel.

Ralston Leads Pro World Net Matches

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The World Cup professional tennis matches continued today with Dennis Ralston the leading money winner with $2,732.40.

Ralston, representing the United States, increased his earnings on the current tour Sunday when he and Earl "Butch" Buchholz won the tennis doubles title over an Australian team.

Buchholz and Ralston topped Australian Tony Roche and John Newcombe 31-25 and 31-29 and earned nearly $450 each in the process.

The matches began last week in Kansas City and will continue through Tuesday in St. Louis with only the singles titles yet to be decided.

Spartan Coach Whirls Yo-Yo

By United Press International
Red Auerbach has his cigar and John Benington has his yo-yo.

Auerbach, general manager of the Boston Celtics, used to light up a victory cigar on the bench when the former coach saw his charges had the game safely slowed away.

Benington hasn't got the yo-yo bit that refined but showed in Saturday night's 82-77 win over arch-rival Michigan State. He may be thinking along those lines.

The Michigan State coach, angered over what he thought was a foul on the Spartans' John Bailey in the first half, returned from a fruitless hassle with officials and brought out the yo-yo in front of the scorers' table, giving it a whirl three times.

Some deadly outside shooting by Harrison Stepler, who had 20 points, and inside bombing by Lee Lafayette, who contributed 21 points, broke Michigan State from a 66-43 lead in the last five minutes and carried them to the victory.

The Spartans moved up a notch in the Big Ten standings at 3-3 while the Wolverines sank to the conference cellar, winless in five conference starts.

TAKES TOP SPOT

Ohio State captured the top spot, with a 4-1 record, by romping 86-64 over Wisconsin. Dave Sorenson paved the way with 23 points as the Badgers slipped to 2-3 record.

It was the first time Benington had displayed his yo-yo talents in public and came late in the first half when Bailey missed a fast-break layup, falling on the floor after the shot. The Spartans coach complained to the officials Bailey had been shoved but to no avail.

Michigan State traded six point leads with Michigan during the first half, before settling for a 39-39 tie.

Lolich Joins Fold; Unsigned Tigers Total 3 Rookies

DETROIT (AP) — With the signing of southpaw Mickey Lolich, General Manager Jim Campbell of the Detroit Tigers can sit back and relax for awhile.

Lolich, who won nine of his last 10 games and finished the season with a string of 23 2-3 scoreless innings, was the last unsigned regular on the Tigers roster. He came to terms Saturday along with pitchers Dennis Ribant, Bob Reed and George Kornee, and reserve catcher Jim Price.

Lolich finished the season with a 14-13 mark, including six shutouts and a club record 10 game losing streak early in the season.

Ribant, 9-8 with Pittsburgh in the National League last year, was drafted by Detroit in a winter deal for Dave Wickham. Kornee appeared briefly with the Tigers last year and Price batted .261 in 44 games. Reed, a University of Michigan standout, posted an 11-6 record at Montgomery and a 2-3 mark at Toledo last year.

The only unsigned players are rookie pitchers Les Cain, Dick Drago and Jon Warden.

Rochester Five in Overtime Loss

Rochester's Falcons are out of the running for basketball honors in the Oakland A League, but the squad still has an opportunity to help decide who wears the crown.

The Falcons, who knocked off Clawson Friday night, 50-46, were knocked out in overtime by St. Clair Shores Lakeview Saturday night, 62-61.

Next on the falcons' schedule is a trip to Romeo and a meeting with the potent Bulldogs, who share the league lead with Lake Orion's Dragons.

That trip comes tomorrow night and Rochester has enough talent to pull off an upset. An earlier meeting between the two went to Romeo, 71-68.

Orion's Dragons, hoping for a Rochester victory, entertain Clawson and the other games on the Tuesday O.A. slate have Ulica at Madison and Troy at Avondale.

In a couple of other Saturday games, Birmingham Groves turned back Bloomfield Hills Andover, 55-45, but Cranbrook suffered a 74-44 setback at Shady Side in Pittsburgh.

Rochester ran into foul problems in dropping the contest to Lakeview.

Mike Scalliey, who finished with 11 points, fouled out in the third period, and Mike Phillips, who wound up with 12 markers, was whistled out early in the fourth with the Falcons ahead, 44-40.

Lakeview battled back to square the score at 55-51 in regulation and outscored the Rochester 7-6 in the extra session.

FREE THROWS
The Falcons came up with three buckets in overtime, while Lakeview picked up only one, but the winners checked in with five out of seven free throws.

Dennis Cannon led the winners with 21 points. Gary Sovey shared honors with Phillips with 12 points.

Groves, snapping a four-game losing streak, outlasted Cranbrook in three quarters to run its record to 7-5. Lane Brown came through with 17 points to spark Groves, while Steve Jones tossed in 16 to lead Andover (5-7).

Cranbrook held a 57-54 lead after three quarters, but Shady Side posted a 20-7 advantage in the fourth to pull it in. Jim Kovoboski tossed in 31 points to pace Shady Side. Ron

Irish Lose 3rd Straight

Titans Hand Notre Dame 82-79 Defeat

By The Associated Press
The Titans of the University of Detroit surprised a regional television audience with a come-from-behind 82-79 basketball victory over Notre Dame Saturday at Detroit.

Detroit trailed by as many as 10 points in the first half, but two straight baskets by senior guard Ralph Brisker with five minutes in the game evened the score at 22-22. Larry Salsi followed with two points and the Titans hung on the last few minutes for the win.

The loss was the third in a row for the Irish, who are now 3-13 and 6 for the season. Detroit's record is now 10 wins and two straight baskets by senior guard Ralph Brisker with five

Porsche Cars Take Daytona Top Three

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — With a militant roar, the ghost white cars of Porsche strutted to the top of the racing mountain and left Alfa Romeo, Ferrari and Ford scrapping at the bottom.

Three sleek Porsche 907's from Stuttgart rolled over the finish line Sunday for a sweep of the top three positions in the 24 hours of Daytona Track and Road Race.

Behind the fantastically durable German automobiles were the hulks of one American and two British cars which took a shot at them and the Alfa Romeo and the few Ferraris entered never had a chance.

Ahead of Porsche is, in the words of a little German mechanic following this first race in the 1968 world manufacturers' championship series, "Porsche jahr" the year of Porsche.

The 2.2 liter Porsche 907's which will be flown back to Germany to be torn apart and rebuilt before returning for the Sebring, Fla. race March 23, picked up nine points toward the manufacturer's title.

And it appears that nobody — not even the little Alfa Romeos who at 1.9 liters finished fifth, sixth and seventh behind a Ford Mustang — can knock Porsche off the top of the new three-liter standings.

CONFESSION MADE
The Ferraris, which aren't competing on a factory level after the International Automobile Federation ruled out their big P4's in November, appeared resigned to the Porsche domination in the three-liter class for now.

A crowd estimated at over 50,000 saw the long race, which was close until the Porsches methodically ground down two British-built five-liter Ford GT40s and the radical Homet turbine car.

The two Fords were forced out before the race ended and the Homet wrecked at dusk Saturday while running high in the standings.

The winning Porsche was driven by Briton Vic Elford and Jochem Neerpach of Germany. It was followed by identical 907 prototypes of Hans Herrmann, Jo Siffert and Joe Buzzetta-Jo Schlesser.

The lead car averaged 106.679 miles per hour around the high-banked track and a road course here and traveled 2,526 miles between 3 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday.

It was more than 150 miles back to the 4th place Mustang prepared by Shelby-American and driven by Jerry Titus, Sherman Oaks, Calif., and Ronnie Bucknum, Lacombe, Calif.

14th VICTORY
In other games Saturday, at Saint Marie Lake Superior upset its record to 14-3 with a 75-74 come-from-behind non-conference win over Davenport College of Grand Rapids.

Eddie Jenkins and Leroy Haywood teamed for 49 points to help Michigan Lutheran win 90-75 over Northwest Institute in a game played at Harper Woods. Jenkins scored 26 points, while Haywood added 23.

In Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association action Calvin College defeated Kalamazoo in overtime at Kalamazoo 79-77. Ralph Wellington had 30 points for the losers.

Albion squeezed past Aurora, Ill., 85-83 at Albion on Greg Macey's tip-in basket at the buzzer. Illinois State crushed Ferris State in Illinois with a 112-76 score. Six men scored in double figures for the Redbirds. Cassius wallpated Wayne State 103-81 at Buffalo, N.Y. after leading only 46-41 at halftime.

Eastern Michigan couldn't hold on to an eight-point lead and lost to Akron 62-55 in a non-conference game at Akron. In other games, Kellogg Community College beat Concordia C.C. 80-57; Alma edged Olivet 79-72; and Detroit College of Business downed Walsh College of Ohio 78-71.

Germany to be torn apart and rebuilt before returning for the Sebring, Fla. race March 23, picked up nine points toward the manufacturer's title.

Arnie Forces Sudden Death, Then Triumphs

3 Different Players Take Leads in Hectic Final 9 Holes

PALM SPRING, Calif. (AP) — It was asking too much, but Deane Beman, a former two-time U.S. amateur golf champion and now a sophomore in the ranks of the professionals, almost knocked off two giants in one afternoon.

But it just wasn't to be. Billy Casper, one of the Golgiath, fell back, but not Arnold Palmer.

And so Palmer held the Bob Hope Desert Classic championship for the third time, a feat accomplished with the familiar Palmer dramatics and excitement.

Beman, 29, who won the British Amateur in 1959 and the U.S. in 1960 and 1963, came from behind to pass Casper, the leader, and shoot a 7-under-par 65 in Sunday's final round. He had a 90-hole score of 348, 12 under par, and it looked reasonably safe.

LONG WOOD
But up came Palmer to the final green at Bermuda Dunes Country Club's par five 18th. The place was packed in the gallery in a private box were former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Ronald Reagan, and other dignitaries.

Palmer knew he had to reach the green of the 529-yard hole in two shots and go for a birdie to tie—or an eagle to win.

Palmer's No. 4 approach wood sailed some 250 yards over a forbidding lake and reached the green, 20 feet from him. He putted boldly for the eagle but came up 18 inches short.

He tapped it in for the birdie to bring off a sudden-death playoff with Beman.

SCUFFED TITLE
They both par four on hole number 15, where the playoff started. On the par four 18th, Beman's approach drifted into the fringe of the crowd to the right of the green. He scuffed the next shot—"I only hit half the ball"—and it skidded across the green.

Palmer meanwhile was on teemate, and two and putted up front about 12 feet, inches away from the cup.

Beman putted back but the short. Palmer holed out and the match was over.

It was a hectic final nine holes. At different times, three golfers were in the lead. They were Casper, Harold Henning and Beman—but never Palmer.

When it was over, Palmer had collected $20,000 and Beman $120,000 Henning was in third place for $7,500.

Casper finished with a 71 for 150 and a tie with Tom Weiskopf. Together at 351 were Lee Trevino, 69, and Charles Coody, 69.

Casper led Palmer by one stroke starting the round and was two in front after nine holes. Beman then came on with his 32 over the par 36-72 course.

GETTING READY
Ryun will be starting to set his pace for Olympic competition although there are no entries expected to push him in the mile. His outdoor world record is 3:51.1.

FAST FINISH
Quarry, knowing he was after the fabled Spencer in the closing seconds of the fourth and 10th rounds, finished with a flurry that staggered his heavier opponent, Referee Jack Downey stopped the fight.

Through the 11th Quarry, who weighed 193 to Spencer's 200½, was ahead on all three official cards.

Downey had it 7-6. Judges Dick Young and Rudy Ortega scored it 9-4 and 7-3, respectively. California rules give the winner of a round from one to five points and the loser nothing. The Associated Press had Quarry ahead 6-5.

Attention on French Skier as World Olympics Start

The first phase of the women's figure skating also is scheduled early Wednesday in the Stade de Glace.

The dark-haired, green-eyed

Miss Fleming, a precise school skater and a dazzling free skater, has proved to be far ahead of the field. Also bidding for medals will be Tina Noyes of Arlington, Mass., and 15-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill.

Monti, now 39, a ski lift operator from Cortina d'Ampezzo, has had outstanding times in the preliminary trials and is picked as the man to beat by all his rivals.

"There are biased racers and there is Monti — he's in a class by himself," said Boris Said of Fair Haven, Vt., one of America's four-man drivers.

The British have the defending champion two-man sled back, Tony Nash and Robin Dixon. Romania and West Germany are strong. The United States' top two-man drivers are Paul Lamey of Manchester, N.H. and Gary Sheffield of Lake Placid, N.Y.

The bobsled races will be held at picturesque Alp d'Huez, 38 miles east of Grenoble. Other competitions will be staged on Alpine slopes overlooking this valley city.

Streak Ends in Wild Game

By The Associated Press

In the course of Arizona's basketball game with New Mexico Saturday night, Dick Root suffered a gut jaw, a chipped tooth and a mild concussion.

His substitute, Gordon Lindstrom, fared a little better. He held the game with just a cut over his eye.

New Mexico, obviously, was not prepared to give up its 17-game win streak and fourth-place Associated Press ranking without a battle.

But when the game was over, so was the Lobos' perfect record: Arizona won 69-68.

BOXING MATCH

And in another basketball game that turned into a boxing match at times, Marquette beat DePaul 58-53.

Bob Zoretich of DePaul and Pat Smith of Marquette were both tossed out of the game for throwing punches after DePaul's Ken Warzynski had received an elbow in the eye.

Al McGuire, the Marquette coach, protested that DePaul Coach Ray Meyer had set up the fight to get Smith thrown out of the game. Meyer replied with a few choice comments of his own.

"I'm so burned up," he said, "I would like to discontinue this series."

BRUINS ROMP

Second-ranked UCLA easily beat hometown rival Southern California 101-67 behind Lew Alcindor's 32 points and Mike Warren's 18. Third-rated North Carolina won its 12th straight game, beating Maryland 73-67 with Larry Miller and Charlie Scott each scoring 17 points.

Tennessee, No. 6, won its 33rd straight home-court victory, (133) and Jim Saffron (138) stomping Mississippi 88-46. Vanderbilt, No. 7, was surprised by Florida 91-65. Neal Walk scored 35 points for Florida, which won its first game ever on the Vanderbilt court.

Eighth-ranked Columbia beat its major Ivy League competitor, Princeton 69-60, as Jim McMillian scored 32 points, 24 in the second half.

Tenth-ranked Kentucky beat Louisiana State 109-96 despite a 44-point output by Pete Maravich. Top-rated Houston, fifth-ranked St. Bonaventure and ninth-rated Duke were idle Saturday night.

Army won its ninth straight game, beating Syracuse 85-75 with Steve Hunt scoring 32 points and Bill Schutsky throwing in 27. St. John's won a last-second decision from Niagara 74-73 as Calvin Murphy had 42 points for the losers.

Long Island University, No. 1 in the small-college poll, won its 14th straight, downing American University 67-64.

In games played Sunday, Xavier, Ohio, downed Georgetown, D.C., 78-68 and Duquesne topped Providence 84-64.

Junior Editors Quiz on PERFUME

QUESTION: What is the difference between perfume and toilet water?

ANSWER: Perfumes are substances giving off delightful odors. Many perfumes come from flowers, but not all. Fragrant woods, roots and leaves, as well as certain animal and artificial substances, are often used, either by themselves or blended with the fragrant parts of flowers, called essential oils.

Perfumes have been made and used since the days of the Egyptians. They can be roughly divided into two types. The extracts or essences are concentrated and strong and are generally sold in small, attractive glass bottles (left). A touch of such a perfume on the hair will give a pleasant odor which will last for a long time.

The other type, toilet water, is a weaker solution of the strong extract perfume. It is generally sold in larger bottles (right). Women like to use toilet water with or after a bath. A popular form of this is cologne, which is named after the city of Cologne in Germany, where it was originated and where much of it still comes from. Oils of lemon, bergamot and orange, among others, are used, as well as rose water, giving a most refreshing odor.

100 Heart Victims Sought for U-M Drug Study

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 100 male heart attack victims are being sought by two University of Michigan doctors participating in a study to determine whether drugs can protect against repeated heart seizures. The Michigan project is part of a $26 million national program involving 55 medical centers and financed by the National Heart Institute. The plan calls for 4,500 patients over five years.

"This is the most ambitious field study testing the effectiveness of drugs in coronary heart disease in the history of this country," said Dr. Henry Schoch, associate professor of internal medicine at the U-M Medical School.

Schoch is directing the project in Michigan assisted by co-investigator Dr. Rudolph Reichert Jr., clinical assistant professor of internal medicine at U-M and a St. Joseph Mercy Hospital staff member.

Schoch said the program gives men who have suffered a heart attack a chance to participate in research aimed at reducing mortality from the nation's No. 2 killer.

"The need for immediate protection for these men is pressing," Schoch added.

To be considered, volunteers must have their doctors' permission, be between the ages 30 and 64, and have had at least one heart attack.

Women are ineligible, Schoch said, because they are more resistant to heart disease than men. Also ineligible are men with liver disorders or cancer, those taking insulin, psychiatric patients and alcoholics.

Each patient will be assigned by computer to one of the drugs being tested and will take nine capsules a day, returning to the hospital every four months for a checkup.

Schoch said it was hoped that one or more of the drugs would reduce five-year mortality by at least 25 per cent among treated heart attack victims.

DEATH LIKELY

Without treatment, Schoch said, from 30 to 50 per cent of heart attack victims are likely to die within five years.

The drugs being tested can lower the blood level of cholesterol and other fats which clog blood vessels with fatty deposits.

English Lessons Still Choice of Many Arabs

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Many Arab parents want their sons and daughters to learn English as their major foreign language despite current diplomatic strains," claims Dr. Richard C. Yorkey, director of the American University of Beirut's Center for English Language Research and Teaching.

"The Middle East education boom, tourism, the preponderance of research in English language journals, even intercultural marriages, account for this great interest in English," Dr. Yorkey said on a recent New York visit.

The 3-year-old language center in Lebanon is the world's first in a developing country.

It is serving as a prototype for a second regional center which the Agency for International Development (AID) is scheduled to open in Singapore this summer in cooperation with seven Southeast Asian nations.

AID has financed the Beirut center for the last three years on an original $285,000 grant.

FAR GREATER

"Demand for English language instruction in the Arab world is far greater than our ability to supply teachers," Yorkey said.

"English is part of most Middle East educational systems from the earliest grade school years, through secondary school training and on into college and university curricular."

"The BA in English literature is offered by all the region's national universities, but only we offer the MA in teaching English as a foreign language. That program has grown from three students in 1964 to our present enrollment of 29 candidates from nine countries this year."

Taste is the name of the game.

Miners Return to Jobs Sunday

84,000 Workers Idled by 1-Week Walkout

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Soft coal miners returned to the pits in western Pennsylvania Sunday midnight, signaling the end of a one-week walkout that idled some 84,000 workers in five states.

United Mine Workers and company officials in the other affected states—Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Virginia—said they expected workers on the job today and the resumption of normal operations.

Thousands of miners met Sunday and voted to go back to work.

The strike was triggered last Sunday midnight when miners in western Pennsylvania stayed off the job to protest the use of Pennsylvania state troopers at a small, nonunion mine being picketed by the UMW.

WALKOUT SPREAD

The walkout spread to other states, cutting heavily into the nation's soft coal production.

In Pennsylvania, Harvey Younker, president of District 2 of the UMW, said the 8,500 men in his 17 county area would be on the job. And major coal producers—Bethlehem Mines Co., Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Co., North American Coal Co., and Barnes and Tucker Coal Co.—reported miners returned to work at the midnight shift.

The return-to-work agreement hinged on a triple compromise hammered out among the UMW, the state's labor and industry secretary, William Hart and Solar Fuel Co., where picketing sparked the strike.

Another meeting among the three parties was scheduled today in Harrisburg.

AGREE TO NEGOTIATE

In the agreement Saturday, Solar agreed to negotiate with the union, the UMW said it would not picket the company's mine and the state agreed to patrol the mine with only three state troopers.

The strike was the biggest to hit the coal industry since 1950 when the UMW struck during contract negotiations.

Some coal operators said the current strike might be an attempt by the union to cut into coal supplies to enhance the UMW's position in upcoming contract talks this year.

But Joseph Yablonski, head of UMW District 5, said the accusation was "ridiculous." He said the arrests of 250 men in two days by state police at the Solar mine was the only reason for the strike.

Strike Brings Trash Crisis in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mounts of garbage, higher than automobiles were stacked on sidewalks today in the fourth day of a strike by city sanitation workers. Officials said the city was on the verge of a health emergency.

City Health Commissioner Edward O'Rourke said rats soon would be swarming over the piles of refuse and Mayor John V. Lindsay said the city would be in "a real health crisis" if the strike for higher pay did not end Wednesday or Thursday.

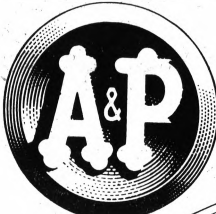

With at least 30,000 tons of uncollected garbage in cans, bags and boxes on the sidewalks, spilling over into the streets, and growing at the rate of 8,000 tons a day, the city was acting on two fronts today to get the striking garbage collectors back to work.

Slim 'n' Easy Are Dieters' Delights

In French, parfait means perfect. For Americans, Everything's Rose Parfait means perfect dessert, kind to the waistline and easy on the cook.

What could be more luscious than chunky fruit cocktail, layered and mirrored in low calorie fruit gelatin with a rose wine accent? The combination is as pretty as a picture and better yet the calorie count is minimal.

This is just one of the ideas for slim and easy cookery that has been created by home economists for a new line of low calorie fruits. Firm and flavorful as you take them from the can, the fruits are delicious as is or easily incorporated into calorie-pared mousses, compotes, fluffs, cobbles, tarts, puddings and whips.

The six items in the low calorie line include fruit cocktail; pear halves; peaches, both halves and slices; sliced pineapple and apricot halves. They are as delectable as fruits packed in heavy syrup and may be found on the grocer's shelves with regular canned fruits at approximately the same price.

For the whole family's enjoyment, simply chill any of these luscious fruits in the refrigerator and serve in dessert dishes with perhaps a dusting of nutmeg or a calorie trimmed dessert topping. For cool weather menus heat the fruit and its liquid with a blend of whole spices to serve warm for dessert or as a meat accompaniment.

When company's coming, you'll have fun creating desserts that satisfy the sweet tooth, yet are lower in calories than those prepared with regular ingredients.

EVERYTHING'S ROSÉ PARFAIT

Add wine and chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in drained low calorie fruit cocktail and spoon into parfait glasses. Prepare remaining envelope low calorie gelatin mix by dissolving envelope contents in 1 cup boiling water. Stir to dissolve. Add cold water. Chill until mixture will mound. Whip with rotary beater until thickened and bubbly. Spoon onto fruit filled gelatin in parfait glasses. Chill until ready to serve. Garnish, if desired, with low calorie whipped topping mix, or sour half and half.

Yank Given Life for Murder of Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Army court martial has sentenced a Special Forces captain to life imprisonment for the murder of a Vietnamese man after taking much of the testimony in closed session for "security reasons."

The seven-officer court sentenced Capt. John J. McCarthy Jr., 25, of Phoenix, Ariz., a Green Beret specialist in guerrilla warfare, last Tuesday but it was not revealed until today.

McCarthy was convicted in the shooting last Nov. 24 of In-chin Hai Lam, who apparently worked for McCarthy's detachment in Saigon. One non-commissioned officer in the detachment testified that the captain told him: "Lam knows too much. He has to die." Another testified he was driving Lam and McCarthy in a car about 10 miles outside Saigon when Lam was killed.

Territorial Limit Extension Eyed

Broomfield, Griffin Urge New Boundary

Congressman William S. Broomfield of Rural Oak today joined with Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., in urging an extension of U.S. territorial limits to match those claimed by other nations.

The proposal was triggered by the recent Pueblo incident off North Korea.

The proposal introduced by the 18th District Republican representative would restrict this country's traditional three-mile territorial limits only to those nations which observe the same three-mile boundary.

The U.S. outer limits, under the proposal, would be extended up to 12 miles for ships of such nations as North Korea and the Soviet Union which claims a similar 12-mile boundary.

The resolution is identical to one introduced simultaneously in the Senate by Griffin.

UNIFIED LIMIT

The proposal also calls on the President to convene an international conference, preferably through the United Nations, to seek an agreement among the countries of the world on a unified territorial limit.

Broomfield, the ranking Republican on the Asian and Pacific Affairs subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is also a member of the U.S. Delegation to the United Nations.

Missionaries Saved From Cong by Gls

SAIGON (UP) — U.S. soldiers battled their way onto a hilltop and saved 34 members of American and Canadian missionary families minutes before the Vietcong overran their mission at Dalat, U.S. officials said today.

"The 11 men, 14 women and 9 children rescued by helicopter Friday from their mission 145 miles northeast of Saigon were from the Christian Missionary Alliance and Overseas Crusade group.

They were flown today to Cam Ranh Bay, officials said.

Vietcong massacred six American missionaries and took a seventh prisoner Jan. 30 when the guerrillas captured a mission for lepers at Ban Me Thuot.

One of those saved Friday was the daughter of a missionary slain in that attack.

'BAD SITUATION'

"It was a very bad situation," said the Rev. James Lewis of Ottumwa, Iowa, whose wife and one-year-old son were with him at the Dalat mission.

"Our mission is located on a hilltop overlooking Dalat and we got out just in time before the VC overran it."

No one was killed or wounded in the Vietcong attack before U.S. troops fought their way into the Dalat mission and staged the helicopter rescue, U.S. officials said.

The Dalat mission was under the supervision of the Rev. Dale Herendeen of Hemet, Calif., who escaped with his wife and daughter.

Bronson Asks Laws to Aid Crime Fight

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today called for the enactment of a wide range of new laws to aid police and prosecutors in combating crime.

In a letter to all area legislators, Bronson urged action on 52 specific proposals.

"These proposals are critical at this time if we are to strengthen law enforcement and improve the quality of public justice," he said.

Bronson's high-priority list of requests include:

Reevaluation of all laws relating to drug abuse and narcotics; modernizing county coroner systems; upgrading police training; reconfiguring Michigan law to provide adequate safeguards against lawless group activity; establish area police intelligence units; and provide for police mobilization readiness.

Bronson also recommends the review of laws affecting control of criminal sexual psychopaths and alcoholics; establishment of effective probation control over misbehavior violators; mandatory reporting by police agencies of crime statistics to a central agency; licensing and regulation of private police; compensation of victims of crime and criminal penalties for charging illegal excessive interest rates on loans.

"All citizens have a stake in the efforts to combat crime," said Bronson. "Everyone interested in improving the community should contact his senator or representative in Lansing immediately and demand that these proposals be given top priority during this session of the Legislature."

Soviets Find Big Diamond

MOSCOW (AP) — The biggest diamond ever found in the Soviet Union was discovered today near Mirny, in northern Siberia, the official news agency Tass reported.

Tass said the diamond weighed 166 carats, 60 carats more than the Maria which had been the record Soviet find. The Maria, named for its finder, Maria Kosenkova, is in the state collection.

The new stone has been named Stalingrad, in honor of the epic World War II battle which ended in a Soviet victory 25 years ago this month. However, the name of the city was changed to Volgograd in 1961, during the anti-Stalin campaign.

People in the News

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Sir Winston Churchill was named yesterday by the Overseas Press Club of America in New York as the man who made "the greatest mark for good upon our times of all the leaders of this century."

Others named in the poll, in the order of finish, were:

Franklin D. Roosevelt, John F. Kennedy, Jonas Salk, Mahatma Gandhi, Eleanor Roosevelt, Albert Einstein, Pope John XXIII, Albert Schweitzer, Harry S. Truman, Martin Luther King, and Dag Hammarskjold.

The 12 named will be subject of a book for young persons, "Heroes of Our Time," to be written by press club members.

The club is composed of some 3,200 present and former foreign correspondents.

Actor Curtis Nurses Broken Nose

Actor Tony Curtis nursed a broken nose today in Boston. The accident held up filming of "The Boston Strangler" for one day.

Curtis was injured Saturday while inspecting a near Boston Common to be used in a chase sequence. One of the two stunt men was testing the strength of a fence when a loose board blew back and hit Curtis on the nose, a spokesman said.

Curtis, who plays the role of the strangler, was treated at Beth Israel Hospital and released.

Latin Police Give Painter Unwanted Haircut

Ernesto Deira, one of Argentina's foremost painters, said yesterday police gave him an unwanted haircut and detained him 13 hours after an antihippie raid on a night club in Buenos Aires.

Deira, 39, who said he once taught at Cornell University, said he and several other persons were arrested Saturday and "treated in a humiliating manner." Before his release, he reported, a police barber cut his hair, "which I have worn long all my life."

The military government of President Juan Carlos Onganía has been campaigning against long-haired men and miniskirt girls.

Deira last year won the top painting prize of the Argentine National Academy of Fine Arts.

Committee Is Urged to Back Crime Bills

A state senator from Oakland County today urged the Detroit Committee and its chairman, Joseph L. Hudson, to take some positive action in supporting proposed legislation in the areas of crime in the street and law enforcement.

The committee has been vocal on a number of issues since it was organized after the Detroit riot," said Sen. George W. Kuhn-Ridgely District, "but it hasn't taken steps to combat crime."

"It has been mainly concerned with social problems," Kuhn said. "I don't like its silence on the problem of crime."

In a letter to Hudson, Kuhn said that since the governor and President have realized crime as being a problem, "it is now time that your committee recognize the problem."

While commending Hudson and his group in encouraging job placement programs with large corporations, Kuhn said that two other areas need support from the committee, public housing and the crime crisis.

PROPOSALS LISTED

Kuhn, in his letter, listed 10 proposals which he is asking the committee to support. They include:

The establishment of a State Police reserve; legislation making the possession of Molotov cocktails unlawful; a law making sniping at firemen performing their duties during a riot a felony; and strengthening concealed weapons laws; and making enticement public insurance unlawful.

Kuhn also asked for support of proposals granting mayors more power to invoke curfews; enactment of a stop-and-frisk law; a law placing a minimum jail term for rioters; and the establishment of state internal security council.

Reinstatement Order Issued

LANSING (UP) — A State Highway Department bridge engineer who was fired for conducting a parking lot paving business on the side, has been ordered reinstated by a Civil Service Commission hearing officer.

Hearing Officer Arnold Embree instead ordered Earl H. Green Jr. suspended without pay from Nov. 1, 1967, to Feb. 18, 1968. He also was told to give up his outside employment.

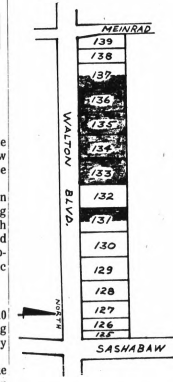

Green, of 31615 Bella Vista, Farmington Township, a bridge engineer with the Pontiac office, had been employed by the department since 1946.

He was fired for acting as a broker, or contractor, for the asphalt paving of privately owned parking lots in his spare time and during vacation periods.

In ordering Green's reinstatement, Embree noted: "The evidence clearly indicated that his Highway Department supervision investigated such employment in 1963 and at that time did not require him to obtain written approval nor take any disciplinary action against him. Further, there is no claim Mr. Green was told to desist from this self-employment."

NO EVIDENCE

The hearing officer said further: "There is no showing of any failure in the rendering of impartial and loyal service to the state. The dismissal charges were vaguely worded, he was not given a fair chance to correct his breach of discipline that had been condoned previously and the department knew it had not been reasonable proof of conflict of interest."

50 FINE USED CARS

Our New 1968 Continental, Mercury, Cougar and Montego sales have been going great guns and some mighty fine trades have been taken in . . . in fact, our used car area is overflowing with them. It just so happens, too, that this is our business anniversary. So . . . putting the two situations together, we're having a whopping, price-slashing sale all this week of the largest and finest group of pre-owned cars we have ever been able to offer.

Substantial, bona fide savings . . . as low as $99 down . . . up to 36 months to pay . . . bank rates . . . immediate delivery.

Look over the partial supermarket shopping list below . . . it'll give you some ideas . . . and then come 'a running'. We are in a very happy anniversary mood.

U.S. Denies Deal Made for Crew

MAKE OVER PAGES

Bulletin
WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy denied today that agreement has been reached for the release of the 83-man crew of the U.S. Navy intelligence ship Pueblo.

SEOUL (AP) — The United States agreed today to admit that the USS Pueblo trespassed in North Korean territorial waters, and the North Koreans agreed to return all 83 crewmen of the intelligence-gathering ship, the Seoul newspaper Chosun Ilbo said.

Quoting an unidentified South Korean government source, Chosun Ilbo said the agreement was reached at the third secret meeting of U.S. and North Korean representatives held at Panmunjom, where the Military Armistice

Commission meets in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The report said the United States agreed to a Communist demand that it sign a note of apology admitting that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

U.S. officials in Seoul said they could neither confirm nor deny the report.

Earlier South Korean sources had reported the meeting at Panmunjom today and said the North Koreans offered to release the body of one dead American and "several" injured if the United States would admit the Pueblo was trespassing.

3 COPTERS WAITING

A Seoul radio station said three helicopters were waiting at the conference building at Panmunjom in expectation of the release.

A source at the 121st U.S. Army Evacuation Hospital 15 miles west of Seoul said one wing had been on the alert since yesterday to receive the Pueblo's casualties.

The sources said the negotiations at Panmunjom are being carried on by

Rear Adm John V. Smith for the United States and Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook for North Korea.

A South Korean government source said his government has asked the United States to demand a Communist apology for the attempt on the life of South Korean President Chung Hee Park in exchange for any apology over the Pueblo.

'Reds Struck During Peace Try' Marines Repel Heavy Attack Near Khe Sanh

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says North Vietnam helped mount the major Communist offensive in South Vietnam knowing U.S. air attacks were being curtailed during exploratory peace moves.

The United States therefore must conclude, Rusk said, that the North Vietnamese "are not seriously interested at the present time in talking about peaceful settlements."

His statement that the United States "exercised some restraint" in its bombing of the North came during a joint radio-television appearance with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who left open the possibility of new American troop deployments to the war zone.

The program was NBC's "Meet the Press," doubled to an hour's length for yesterday's joint interview, which reportedly was suggested by President Johnson.

Both Rusk and McNamara said they believe — but are not "1,000 per cent sure," in Rusk's words — that the USS Pueblo did not intrude in the territorial waters of her North Korean captors.

INACTION EXPLAINED

And McNamara said the United States did not send aid to the Pueblo when the intelligence vessel was captured Jan. 23 because it was impossible initially to tell what was happening; there was no contingency plan specifically covering the ship, and an attempt to send air support might have generated "a bloody battle" with North Korean planes.

McNamara said it seems clear no U.S. action could have saved the Pueblo and her 83-man crew from capture.

South Korean sources meanwhile reported American and North Korean negotiators meeting at Panmunjom may have made "substantial headway" toward release of the crew members.

Rusk said the U.S. bombing limitation occurred in recent days as the United States sought clarification of North Vietnam's statement it would talk peace if all bombing were permanently halted.

HANOI KNEW

"They (Hanoi) knew these explorations are going on," Rusk said, "because they were party to them."

The bombing was restricted particularly around the sensitive areas of Hanoi and Haiphong, he added. "Again, Hanoi knows this," Rusk said.

"We have not had a pause in the traditionally accepted sense," Rusk continued, "but we have limited the bombing at certain points in order to make it somewhat easier to carry forward these explorations, so that particularly difficult incidents would not interrupt them."

Despite the limitation "they participated in laying on this major offensive," Rusk declared.

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Battling blindly in heavy fog, U.S. Marines crushed a heavy North Vietnamese attack on this sprawling combat base network today. The fighting may have signaled a renewal of the siege which the U.S. Command is expecting to develop into one of the war's biggest battles.

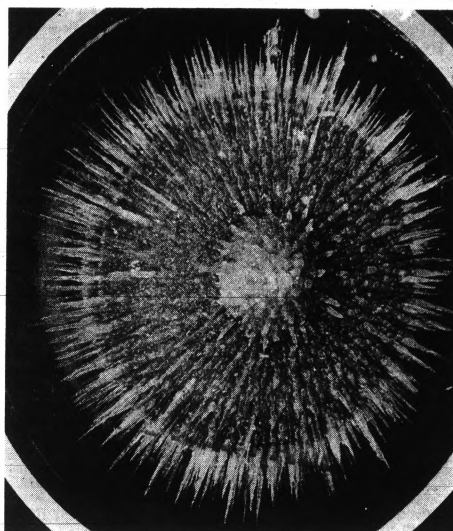

Artillery and air power helped the infantrymen turn back two assault waves on Hill 881A but not before a handful of Communist troops broke through the defenses of the Leatherneck company defending the knoll taken at such a high cost in Marine blood last spring.

At one point the company commander, Capt. Earl C. Breeding, of Oceanside, Calif., reported: "I think I'm being overrun." Later Breeding reported to his worried commander, Lt. Col. Harry Alderman of Clovis, Calif.: "We're a helluva long way from being overrun."

The attack began about 4 a.m. and continued at some points until after dawn. Seven Americans were killed and 21 wounded. Later in the day, Breeding's unit was still resupplying and realigning its defenses and had not swept the area for a count of enemy dead. Six enemy bodies were found inside the company's perimeter and about 150 more were immediately outside the barbed wire.

During the attack the Communists fired 104 rounds of rockets and artillery on the main Khe Sanh combat base and airstrip. Only a handful of men were wounded there and on other hill positions three to six miles from the airstrip, at which an estimated 200 rounds were fired.

Senior Marine officers said that 1,000 to 2,000 North Vietnamese massed for an assault on Hill 881 were spotted and were hit by a heavy artillery barrage. No attacks materialized on Hill 881, about five miles northwest of the airstrip.

A GUESSWHAT — It may look like a magnified view of a nova far out in the galaxy or a spiny sea urchin, but it isn't. It's not even a 1968 model of a flying saucer snapped by an enterprising photographer. It's really an ordinary automobile hubcap covered with crystallized snow patterned by the wheel revolving.

Station Attendant Charged

City Man Is Slain

A 41-year-old Pontiac man faces preliminary examination Wednesday on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the shotgun slaying of another man at a city service station late Saturday.

Remanded to Oakland County Jail without bond at arraignment yesterday was Robert Jones of 390 S. East Blvd.

He is accused of shooting Isaac Jones, 27, of 476 Thors Court following an alleged argument at the Clark Gasoline Station at 157 Auburn about 9:30 p.m.

The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital minutes later.

A witness said Robert Jones and the victim had argued shortly before the incident when Isaac Jones drove into the station.

He said the victim left, then returned and the argument resumed.

Detectives said they believe Isaac Jones was in his car at the pump deck nearest the station building when the fatal blast was fired.

He was shot in the left shoulder, according to police.

Officers impounded a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun at the scene and tagged it for evidence.

Hunt for Sub Ends

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli military forces gave up "with regret" the search for the submarine Dakar and her crew of 69, missing since Jan. 25 in the eastern Mediterranean, an official announcement said yesterday.

'Victory Blueprint' Writes Nixon 'Out'

By The Associated Press

As Richard M. Nixon indirectly engaged in "hand-to-hand" political combat with Gov. George Romney in New Hampshire, a nonpartisan political group said the former vice president's nomination would likely end GOP hopes for winning the presidency and making major congressional gains.

Although his aides had said he wouldn't indulge in the extensive handshaking campaign being waged by Romney, Nixon ended his New Hampshire swing only after pumping thousands of hands and chatting with hundreds of voters.

The campaign trip, the first since Nixon stepped into the race to capture Republican primaries, was "all and more than we expected," one top aide declared.

Romney is scheduled to appear today on the same Albany, N.Y., platform as New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Nixon flies to Wisconsin to open his primary campaign there.

The advice to Republicans on how to improve their chances of gaining election victories came from the National Committee for an Effective Congress, a liberally oriented organization describing itself as nonpartisan.

DISENCHANTED DEMS

"The blueprint for victory next fall," the committee said in a statement, "clearly calls for a candidate who appeals to disenchanted Democrats and to the vitally important independents." "To embrace Old Guard fundamentalism and nominate one of their favorites, Nixon or California Gov. Ronald Reagan, could be a foolish extravagance," the committee said.

The group recommended Rockefeller for the nomination, saying he's "the only man the polls and the professionals believe can stand up to LBJ."

Wednesday's outlook contains more of the same, sunshine and mild temperatures.

Percentage of precipitation probabilities are near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 22. By 1 p.m. the mercury warmed to 38.

THE NEW — A 16-unit apartment project on Mechanic is among the few new apartment units completed during the past year. City officials are, however, expecting this to be a big year for apartment construction in Pontiac.

There are encouraging signs that Pontiac is gaining ground on one of its most acute problems — the lack of housing for all income levels.

But the hoped for rush of new development throughout the city is — at this point — only a trickle.

Only a small number of new units were constructed in the past year but there are plans for immediate construction which should add substantially to the city's apartment inventory by the end of this year.

A few proposed developments have been stalled in the planning stages for a variety of reasons. The main snag is the increasing difficulty of financing large developments.

The past year has seen completion of 285 units of Bloomfield Townhouses just north of the city limits east of Woodward, a small 11-unit project on Prall north of Washington and a 16-unit structure on Mechanic at Douglas.

CONSTRUCTION EXPECTED

Immediate construction is expected of a 34-unit complex on West Kennett at Carlisle.

Charles L. Langs, Pontiac's major developer, is now renting the first of 50 townhouse apartments on Auburn just west of Opdyke.

Known as Auburn Hills, the rental units are built under the government's 221d3 program, which accepts occupants on a sliding scale of income keyed to the number of persons in the family.

As soon as weather permits construction is expected to begin on the first of 252 apartment units between Madison and Perry across from Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

LOW-INCOME PROJECT

Site work has begun and construction will start soon on the first phase (200 units) of a planned 525-unit low-income rent supplement project on West Kennett, west and north of Alcott Elementary School.

North of that, between Cherrylawn and the city limits, developers Herbert and Michael Chernick are constructing an eight-model townhouse type unit.

They plan to begin construction of 132 units this year, under the 221d3 program, once commitments have been received for most of the units.

The complex at the Perry Mount Park Cemetery will consist mostly of one-bedroom and two-bedroom units renting for $145 to $170, Harold Ross, the developer, said. The complex will feature a swimming pool.

The first phase calls for construction of 132 of the 252 planned units.

Mansfield Postpones Try on Rights Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has abandoned efforts to get a vote on a pending civil rights bill until after the Senate recesses Feb. 14 from a Lincoln day holiday.

Mansfield said in an interview he expects a compromise version of the measure to be offered shortly. But he said he won't try to get a vote on it before the Senate recesses for the holiday Thursday.

U.S. Tourists Target as Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. House Ways and Means Committee today seeking additional legislation for parts of President Johnson's program to cut the payments imbalance by $3 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler heads a delegation of officials to appear before the House Ways and Means Committee today seeking additional legislation for parts of President Johnson's program to cut the payments imbalance by $3 billion.

For some measures, such as restrictions on investment abroad, the authority is already on the books. But the administration is seeking legal tools to trim the tourist leakage by $500 million.

Details of the proposal have been guarded, but it is believed to include an excise tax on tickets for overseas travel and a tax on tourist spending, probably with an exemption intended to help low-budget travelers like students and teachers, and probably exempting travel in the Western Hemisphere.

BITTER MEDICINE

Some tax arrangements intended to stimulate exports and discourage imports also may be proposed.

Congress' initial reaction seemed to be that the travel tax would be a second dose of bitter medicine after the still unworkable proposal for an income tax hike.

But Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has repeatedly shelved the tax increase while demanding more spending cuts, has shown himself more favorable at least to the principle of the balance-of-payments program.

"I don't think there is any question but that some action will be taken in this area by the committee," the Arkansas Democrat told an Indiana audience last week.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford was not so encouraging in a weekend speech at Duke University, Durham, N.C.

The proposal to restrict travel may run into trouble in the state — led to parts shortages and forced layoffs of 134,000 last month.

GM workers are still being called back. Today 29,750 of the 113,800 still idled were scheduled to return.

Pontiac Div., UAW Talks Near Deadline

Negotiations continued today between officials of Pontiac Motor Division and UAW Local 653 but progress is slow, a union spokesman said.

Wayne Anable, president of Local 653, said the union hopes to reach a contract settlement before the union strike deadline of 2 p.m. Friday.

Negotiators have been meeting in an attempt to settle before the zero hour. A walkout would immediately affect 16,500 union members and repercussions would be felt at other GM plants.

"Our negotiating committee has been meeting since July 27. We have many just demands still on the table," Anable said.

The local president said matters of unresolved grievances, changes in the local seniority agreement and improvements in working conditions are among those which would have to be settled before a local contract could be offered for ratification by the union members.

LARGEST WALKOUT

A Pontiac plant strike would be the largest walkout yet at GM plants. A strike by 11,000 foundry workers at three plants — one in Saginaw and two in Ohio — led to parts shortages and forced layoffs of 134,000 last month.

GM workers are still being called back. Today 29,750 of the 113,800 still idled were scheduled to return.

9 Die, 15 Hurt as Hotel Burns

BOSTON (AP) — Nine persons—seven men and two women—have been killed and 15 others injured in a fire that destroyed the Hotel Roosevelt, an 83-night haven for transients on Boston's skid row.

Acting Fire Chief Joseph Dolan said it was Boston's worst hotel fire. The toll Sunday would have been higher without spectacular and heroic ladder work, he said.

With the screams of trapped guests ringing in their ears, firemen clambered up ladders to rescue those stranded in their rooms. One ladder company maneuvered a 100-foot ladder between a utility pole and an elevated railroad.

Vincent Dolger, acting city fire marshal, said 22 persons were in the building.

Night Manager Vincent Cromwell said he smelled smoke about 3:45 a.m. and discovered a fire in a linen closet next to the second floor clerk's desk and office.

Cromwell tried unsuccessfully to put out the flames, he said, then called the fire department.

Within two hours the six-story building at the corner of Washington and East Berkeley streets was a smoking ruin. The only guests who had a chance to escape the flames, which leaped 40 feet into the night sky, were those with easy access to the fire escape and those in rooms facing the elevated structure.

Independence Twp. Legion Post Is Target

Twenty persons were arrested last night by Pontiac State Police in a raid on an illegal gambling and drinking establishment at an American Legion post in Independence Township.

Booked for running card gambling and selling liquor without a license at Chief Pontiac Post 377 at 4819 Edgewood were post commander Garland L. Baldwin, 3778 Gainesborough, Orion Township, and James R. Pivott, 2205 Sashabaw, Waterford Township.

Charges against both men are felonies, police said. Eighteen others were picked up on disorderly person charges for being at the illegal gambling and drinking establishment.

Thirteen State Police officers raided the post on information they had received, they said. The men were led by Sgt. Raymond Hoopengartner.

The arrestees, a number of whom were post members, were to be arraigned before Judge William Stamp of Independence Township this morning.

Baldwin and Pivott posted $100 bonds each. The others paid $20 bonds.

KILLEEN, Tex. (UPI) — Police officials said yesterday they had no new developments in the similar deaths of two Ft. Hood soldiers in the past two weeks.

Police Chief Donald Cannon said he had "no further information to release at this time" in the investigation of the deaths of Sgt. Lynn Buttermore, 24, of Muskegon, Mich., and Gary L. Comer of Lancaster, Ohio.

Buttermore was found Friday and Comer was discovered Jan. 16.

Both men had been shot in the head with a small caliber weapon and their identification and personal belongings had been taken.

call it discriminatory. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who may hold the key votes on any compromise, has contended the measure should be broadened to protect the rights of all persons, not just those of civil rights workers and Negroes.

Senate liberals want the legislation limited strictly to deal with crimes in which race is a factor, contending crimes against Negroes often go unpunished in state courts.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said in a weekend report to constituents the argument over the bill is keeping the Senate from taking up other pressing national problems.

"It is my belief that in the field of race relations and race improvement Congress has gone just about as far as it is possible legally to go," he said.

"We were led to believe that earlier laws, which were enacted supposedly in behalf of civil rights, would have the effect of moving racial violence from the streets into the courts. The violence became 100 times worse than it was in the early 1960's."

Embassy Chauffeurs May Have Aided VC

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Mission is investigating reports that two Vietnamese chauffeurs employed by the embassy helped the Vietcong in the attack on the embassy last Wednesday.

Without confirming or denying the reports, a spokesman for the U.S. Mission said today that the reports were being investigated.

It was understood, however, that the Icelandic gunboat Odin and two other trawlers saw the ship sinking but could not get near because of icy gale winds and snow, the spokesman said.

3RD LOST IN WEEK

The ship, the 650-ton Ross Cleveland, was the third fishing trawler from Hull believed lost in arctic fishing grounds in the past week. A total of 59 British fishermen are believed drowned in arctic waters in the three ships.

Wives of missing fishermen fomented a rebellion by trawler crews Sunday. Three of eight trawlers due to leave for the North Sea fishing grounds stayed in port. The wives are demanding that each ship carry a radio operator.

Fla. Lawman, Kin Unscathed by Fire Bomb

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A fire bomb was hurled at the home of an assistant state attorney in Gainesville Sunday night, but police said no one was injured.

Mack S. Futch, who was at home with his pregnant wife and five children at the time, said only minor damage was done to the porch of his home.

"Had not a passerby called it to my attention, my five children and pregnant wife would have been seriously injured and maybe killed," he said.

The passerby notified Futch of the small fire and he went out and put it out himself, Capt. Robert Angel of the Gainesville Police Department said.

"I can only say that I feel this is the result of the action of irresponsible individuals who have the sense" as it had been before the fire and order by virtue of my position," said Futch, now in his 12th year as assistant state attorney.

Police surrounded the frame home, but made no arrests.

Joe Kennedy Has Relapse

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, 80-year-old father of the late President John F. Kennedy, was resting comfortably today after a minor relapse Sunday night, family sources said.

Kennedy, former U.S. ambassador to Britain, suffered a "slight spasm of a blood vessel in the brain," his physician, Dr. Saul Rotter said. Rotter said Kennedy's condition was "about spasmic individuals who have the sense" as it had been before the fire and order by virtue of my position," said Futch, now in his 12th year as assistant state attorney.

Police surrounded the frame home, but made no arrests.

SIGN OF INFLATION? — Some economists might be tempted to tie this scene to the current inflationary trend — an armored truck with an armored trailer on a San Francisco expressway. a proposed 120-unit apartment complex on West Kennett, east of Alcott Elementary School and 280 apartment units north of Herrington Elementary School and south of University Drive.

Developers of the Kennett site plan to construct two-story, townhouse-type two-and-three-bedroom apartment units on slabs which will rent in the neighborhood of $100 per month.

Site plan for the development will soon go before the planning commission.

The 280 units north of the Herrington school will be one, two and three-bedroom townhouses (22d13). Construction is expected to start in the spring or summer.

Another Långs project — 228 units for the elderly — to be constructed on Auburn next to the Auburn Hills Townhouses is still awaiting clearance by the government.

The units are to be built under a new method called "turnkey" whereby the developer constructs the project and then sells it to the government at an agreed-upon price.

A proposed 596-unit development is tentatively slated for a 40-acre site north of Walton and east of Giddings.

Difficulty with arranging financing is one of the chief hurdles to implementation of the project. The land has been rezoned for multiple-family construction.

One of the biggest disappointments in new housing concerns the reported stall of a planned $20-million multiple dwelling-shopping center.

Probe Continues in GI Slayings at Fort Hood

KILLEEN, Tex. (UPI) — Police officials said yesterday they had no new developments in the similar deaths of two Ft. Hood soldiers in the past two weeks.

Police Chief Donald Cannon said he had "no further information to release at this time" in the investigation of the deaths of Sgt. Lynn Buttermore, 24, of Muskegon, Mich., and Gary L. Comer of Lancaster, Ohio.

Buttermore was found Friday and Comer was discovered Jan. 16.

Both men had been shot in the head with a small caliber weapon and their identification and personal belongings had been taken.

Independence Twp. Legion Post Is Target

Twenty persons were arrested last night by Pontiac State Police in a raid on an illegal gambling and drinking establishment at an American Legion post in Independence Township.

Booked for running card gambling and selling liquor without a license at Chief Pontiac Post 377 at 4819 Edgewood were post commander Garland L. Baldwin, 3778 Gainesborough, Orion Township, and James R. Pivott, 2205 Sashabaw, Waterford Township.

Charges against both men are felonies, police said. Eighteen others were picked up on disorderly person charges for being at the illegal gambling and drinking establishment.

Thirteen State Police officers raided the post on information they had received, they said. The men were led by Sgt. Raymond Hoopengartner.

The arrestees, a number of whom were post members, were to be arraigned before Judge William Stamp of Independence Township this morning.

Baldwin and Pivott posted $100 bonds each. The others paid $20 bonds.

Now May Set Cityhood Vote

NOVI — A date for an election proposing home-rule cityhood for the village may be set tonight by the Village Council at its meeting at 8 at the Village Hall.

Consideration of an election date is coming after the Jan. 24 decision of the State Court of Appeals which cleared the way for the election.

The Village Committee for City Incorporation made the appeal against the Sept. 19 decision of Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer. He ruled against an election and the Dec. 17, 1966, decision of Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn.

Thorburn had ruled that the village could hold an incorporation election although it didn't have 500 people per square mile.

The judge explained that the election intended no change of boundaries and represented one type of incorporated entity becoming another type of incorporated entity.

The appeals court decision stated that "no judgment shall be set aside or vacated by any circuit judge except the one who made the judgment unless he is absent or unable to act."

Suspected Prison Escapee Disarms Detroit Policeman

DETROIT — An off-duty detective was disarmed last night in Detroit by a man believed to be one of two convicts who escaped from a Southern Michigan Prison farm and stole four guns from a man in a nearby house.

The police officer, William Henson, said he had stopped in a neighborhood bar to pick up a pizza when the waitress told him one of her customers had a gun.

Henson took the gun away, but the gunman whipped out a second pistol, disarmed him and fled. The detective said the man fit the description of one of the escapees from the prison farm in Jackson.

The fugitives were identified as William Raymond Gager, 24, of Saginaw, imprisoned when convicted on charges of fraud, and Jack Hewitt, 26, of Ferndale, imprisoned when convicted on charges of armed robbery.

Police said the stolen weapons included a .36-caliber pistol, a .45-caliber pistol, a .22-caliber rifle and a .30-40 rifle.

NOT HARMED

The owner of the guns was tied up by the escapees but was not harmed, officers said. They declined to give the man's name.

Police said a car was stolen from the city of Jackson soon after Hewitt and Gager disappeared and the two men may have taken the vehicle.

Controversy in Troy

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

Are apartment people different than home-owning people?

The Troy Council of Homeowners' Associations seemingly think so. The council is the sponsor of a petition drive aimed at halting expansion of the already-extensive Somerset Park apartment project.

Biltmore Development Co., owners of Somerset, seek to expand the well-known apartment development. A $40-million Somerset North is planned.

Some 200 of the 328 acres proposed for the new project must be rezoned to permit the apartment construction. The Troy City Commission has given its okay to the rezoning.

The association of associations (the home owners) object and a petition drive is under way to force the commission to repeal its split 4-3 vote on the matter or put the issue on a public ballot.

Thus, the two types of people appear pitted against one another.

The dialogue is one that is apt to come to most area communities as multiple dwelling development continues to increase.

Milford, Highland Meetings to Hear Taxes Discussed

Taxes will be the topic of discussion this week at meetings for Milford PTA members and taxpayers in Highland Township.

State Rep. Clifford Smart and Huron Valley Schools Supt. Truman Owens are speaking tonight at 8 before the Milford PTA at Muir Junior High, 425 George.

Their topic "Education — Bargain or Bust?" will touch on schools and tax dollars, sources of state aid to education, and the law and teacher strikes.

Tomorrow night, Highland Township taxpayers are invited to a meeting at 8 at the Township Hall, 205 N. John.

The intent of Max Johnson, of 280 N. Hickory Ridge, who organized the meeting, is to form a township taxpayers association and hire an attorney to press for more equalized taxes in the township.

The attorney selected, William Travis of Pontiac, will speak at the meeting.

Four area residents, also opposed to local taxes with Johnson, requested the removal of the three members of the Township Board of Review.

The Township Board received the request of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kwiek and Mr. and Mrs. R. King Jan. 10 and took no action.

At a special meeting Jan. 13 of the Township Board and the review board, the board reportedly found no reason to remove Eldridge Brian, Franklin Leonard and Clarence Carlson.

Board members agreed that any assertions of incorrect property assessments should be submitted in writing to the Township Board, giving the complete and legal description of the property and being signed by the person making the complaint.

So far, no taxpayer has submitted such a statement, reported Township Clerk Mrs. Norma Jean Waters.

Teacher's Lot 'Never So Good'

"We never had it so good" John W. Dickey, Avondale Superintendent of Schools, tells beginning teachers.

And he backs up the contention with a list of rules posted in 1872 in New York.

Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks.

Each teacher will bring bucket of water and scuttle of coal.

Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual tastes of the pupils.

Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.

After 10 hours in school, teachers should spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.

Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a godly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of 25 cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

MORE 'ENLIGHTENED'

After the beginning teacher has a chance to digest that, Dickey has a more "enlightened" list for them issued in 1923 in Idaho.

The teacher was to receive $5 a month providing she met the following conditions:

Don't get married, and don't keep company with men.

Don't be away from home between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Don't loiter in ice cream parlors.

Don't smoke cigarettes, and don't drink beer, wine or whiskey.

Don't leave town without permission.

Don't ride in a carriage or automobile with any man except your father or brother.

Don't dress in bright colors, dye

your hair or use face powder, mascara or lipstick.

STORY FOLLOWS

And Dickey follows the lists with the story of one — John Wilbur — who in 1935 began teaching in a one-room country school in Southeastern Missouri earning $65 a month.

In addition to teaching, Dickey relates, John was the janitor of the new frame building located in the middle of a cotton field.

Dickey's teacher remembers on days when he was ill that he had to pay the substitute from his own pocket.

By Pearl Harbo, he had been promoted to elementary school principal and was making $100 a month with which he supported a wife and three children.

DETROIT POLICEMAN

The teacher entered war production work in 1942 and earned $2,900 a month as a common laborer and then joined the Detroit Police Department. He remained a policeman until 1950 when he returned to teaching at a $900 cut in pay.

And the identity of John Wilbur? It was John W. Dickey, the superintendent himself.

OU's Educational Function Stalled by State's Blindness

Our wonderful Oakland University seems to face a serious crossroads. Current Michigan budgetary allowances have crimped Oakland badly. In a realistic effort to help, Governor Romney has recommended an increase of just over $300,000, while $600,000 was Oakland's bottom hope.

About ten years ago, this University was slowly and painstakingly conceived in a series of discussions with leaders from all over the Nation. A group of local people with President JOHN HANNAH and DURWARD B. VARNER, of Michigan State, conferred with educational authorities from coast to coast, augmented by a liberal sprinkling of top business executives.

It was decided that Oakland University would become a superior institution with higher standards, higher aims and educational advantages on a greater level. This plan was put into effect. To the amazement of all concerned, the fledgling University attracted immediate attention all over the State and very rapidly from the Nation at large.

It was recognized for what it was. Here was a lusty young stalwart whose growth and reception exceeded the fondest hopes of all concerned. There have been continuous satisfaction and excitement on the part of the administrators, faculty, student body and area citizens. Oakland County leaders pitched in unreservedly and provided unstinted support. Probably no similar place during its formative stages ever received as many hours of service from top leaders who never received a single sou of recompense.

In fact, the majority of them have contributed liberally in a financial way in addition—not once but many times.

At the outset, all colleges receive more funds per student than they do subsequently. However, Oakland has never received these State funds on that basis. Currently there are dire and serious threats to the main endeavor here: namely, to nurture and expand an institution that is definitely superior. There only are a few of these in America.

State taxpayers can be profoundly thankful for the millions public-spirited citizens have poured into this project, thus saving citizens that precise amount of money. Michigan's eight million residents can really bow in appreciation.

But now, authorities are cutting Oakland appropriations so drastically that all semblance of the original conceit will vanish. Prominent area citizens waited on the Governor and Lieutenant Governor and outlined our predicament. They were received in a cordial and friendly atmosphere and further consideration was assured and the $300,000 additional recommendation has resulted.

In the meantime, Oakland's character hangs in the balance. The original conceptions will vanish, unless the situation is faced squarely. The Governor suggests the situation be taken up with the State Educational Board ere another year elapses, and a final decision as to the ultimate fate and character of Oakland defined and established.

And there we hang, suspended in mid-air.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Needs More Unity on Viet

WASHINGTON — This isn't the first time the United States has found itself enmeshed in a war thousands of miles away which can affect its future security and destiny.

Nor is it the first time that superficial criticism—unfamiliarity with the true significance of our exhibitions of political partisanship have made difficult here at home the formulation of a constructive policy.

What America needs most in the Asian crisis is unity among its own people and a greater display of friendship and positive action by the many nations abroad which have not yet come to realize that the Vietnamese situation is a world problem.

The events of the last few days have dramatized the fact that Vietnam's troubles are not going to be solved simply by military action within its own borders, though the need for an offensive strategy has been accentuated. Likewise, the talk of "peace negotiations" has proved fruitless.

The main responsibility lies with the sponsors of the banditry who have openly admitted their status as belligerents.

Moscow has sent billions of dollars of war supplies, and Peking has aided conspirators and infiltrators, upon whom the blame for the conduct of the guerrilla war in Vietnam rests.

TIED IN

Tied in with the whole situation, of course, are the North Korean raids on South Korea.

What can be done? The United States has pleaded in vain with the United Nations. That organization today is frustrated. The small nations cast a majority vote and could change the whole face of things, but they fear the antagonism of the Communist regimes with their far-flung power to subvert and overthrow local governments.

So the free countries will have to unite and in a concerted way compel both Moscow and Peking to halt their mischief-making.

This does not mean merely the use of military force in a broader war. It does mean a recognition at last that economic measures can become a powerful influence in shaping the course of hostile governments.

The United States can form a new group of allies and call for support first of a worldwide economic blockade of North Vietnam and then, if necessary, a cutoff of all trade with the Communist countries which are directly or indirectly supporting the war in Southeast Asia.

IT'S TRAGIC

It is tragic to note that, despite the sacrifices which 500,000 Americans in our armed services in Vietnam are called upon to make, there is no blockade by sea in the waters surrounding the battle region.

If ever there was a basis for intervention by the United Nations—such as happened when "Peace-keeping" task forces were sent into Africa—the Vietnam situation affords such a case today.

Bob Considine Says:

Crazed Raids May Mark Beginning of End for VC

NEW YORK — The crazed raids by Vietcong on the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, and at Da-Nang, Bien Hoa, Tan Son Nhut airport and elsewhere have more chance of being part of the ending rather than the beginning of new troubles in Vietnam.

There is reason to believe that the biggest land battle of the war is shaping up, in Marine country, along the DMZ. But, like the other incidents, it will give off a great shower of sparks—and die.

The enemy is going for broke, as the Japanese did at the end and the Germans did at Bastogne.

It is risky to attempt to apply western reasoning to minds that are not western and probably never will be. Bill Hearst, Mill Kaplan and I were dropped into Tan Son Nhut in Gen. Westmoreland's chopper, a year or so ago, only hours after another suicidal raid by the VC.

Some of the bodies were still around. They included a boy who didn't look more than 14 or 15. He apparently had died while still charging a sand-bagged American gun position.

BANDAGED FOR DEATH

Another VC was decked, in death, with fresh bandages. He apparently had been wounded in the preliminary shelling of the VC positions around the airport, had been patched up, and still joined in the bloody rush that cost him his life.

Still another suicidist ran right through troops guarding our RF101's, hugging a dynamite satchel charge, divided under the tail of a forlorn old DC3 and blew himself apart.

The detonation pinched an inconsequential dime-sized hole in the tail assembly of the rickety DC3.

"I could raise my finger and get a hundred volunteers to parachute into the center of Hanoi, and I'd be certain death right now," he said. "It would not be difficult at all. The men would be honored to be a part of such an act."

One of the reasons behind the humiliating capture of our spy ship Pueblo can be traced in all probability to the acceptance of spying as a way of life.

It used to be a pretty individualistic sort of thing, a raffish business which attracted the likes of Mata Hari, for example.

She would be replaced today by a computer, or a ferret ship, or radar, or sonar, U2's, satellites and a prosaic code-smasher named Elmer somebody, who has to knock off the breaking of Outer Mongolia's chartreuse code to get to the Parent-Teachers meeting.

New War

Israel Digest

"Any decision to start a new war will be taken this time, without a doubt, by the Soviet Union. Even when Egypt regains all the planes and tanks she lost in the war, she will not risk another war, and will demand military guarantees from the Soviet Union. If permission is not given by the Kremlin, Egypt will not begin a war. Israel's Defense Minister Moshe Dayan declared.

The Soviet Union would not give Egypt the go-ahead to start a war unless victory was assured. Mr. Dayan said. They will not risk losing again after once more supplying Egypt and other Arab States with costly arms.

The Defense Minister emphasized that any new war would begin in the south, from the Suez Canal area. Behind this southern front "stands the strongest Arab State and one that is dying for the leadership of the Arab world—Egypt." The combination of the strongest enemy state and the support of

Also, we have oppression and not complete freedom in our country and it is worsening. We must first look to our own country and try to make it a better place in which to live.

I pity you, Mr. President, with this great burden on your shoulders, but I pity more those 19-year-old boys who have not yet had a chance at life who are being taught the horrors of war. Comments on Recent Open Housing Hearing

As I listened to the public hearing on the Open Housing Ordinance I again became aware of how much sincerity, good and understanding Pontiac encompasses and how articulate are many of our minority citizens. Leadership means individuals elected because they have greater understanding and foresight than the average person. Leaders are not robots tabulating the majority vote and voting accordingly, but they must determine what is best in the long range whether it concurs with the majority or not.

I believe our four Commissioners voting for open housing are leaders in the true sense and especially commend Mayor Taylor and Commissioner Hudson because they are aware that it may be their district constituents who do not share their views.

'Are Property Taxes Threat to Security?'

Are foreign countries or state property tax powers threatening individual security and freedom? People strive to pay for their homes in the mistaken belief that they will have individual security. Michigan now requires that property be assessed at 50 per cent of value and taxes must be paid whether or not you have any earnings during the year. The fixed amount must be paid whether you earn $4,000 or $20,000 per year.

If you fail to pay these taxes for three years the state that is supposed to protect your security takes your property from you. Is our government working for us or are we in slavery working for the government?

March Miller of Oakland County Republican Headquarters tells us a group of private citizens who call themselves Romney Associates began over a year ago collecting money in case Romney decided to run for President. Names and addresses of all donors were kept in the event he didn't run. When he announced his candidacy, the money was turned over to him as a campaign fund, which he is using, along with personal funds, to cover his campaign expenses.

Jordan will not fight for the West Bank. Jordan, Mr. Dayan said, is linked with the West, especially the U.S., and this fact bars it from any war initiative. The Defense Minister emphasized that the inhabitants of Judea and Samaria have no desire for war.

No Surprise

The Monroe Evening News
Close observers of the Washington scene were hardly surprised when President Johnson announced his successor to Robert S. McNamara in the demanding job of Secretary of Defense.

In choosing Clark Clifford as the new defense chief, the President named a man who generally has operated behind the scenes but who has been a factor in Democratic administrations for more than 20 years.

Reaction to his appointment has been good, however, from both the hawks and the doves.

His relatively noncontroversial government work in the past has built up a reservoir of good will in Congress for him which he is likely to find drained in a hurry once he gets his feet wet in the defense post.

Minister in Sticky Situation

How About Appearance of Evil?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you for advice, but I need help and I can't go to my friends. Besides, I need help, not pity.

My husband is a minister, about middle-age and a average looking. About a year ago he met an attractive young woman while calling on the sick in a hospital. They developed quite a friendship because after she went home he continued to visit her at home. (She is not even a member of his church.) I told him that I didn't like the looks of it, which only made matters worse.

He became very angry with me and insisted he was doing nothing wrong, but I notice he visits her only when her husband is at work.

People are beginning to talk, Abby, and I am worried. What should I do? NOWHERE TO TURN

DEAR NOWHERE: Pastors have been relieved of their duties for this kind of thing, which your husband surely knows. Even if he is doing nothing "wrong," remind him to "abstain from all appearance of evil." (New Testament, 1 Thessalonians, v 22) in case he wishes to practice what he preaches.

DEAR ABBY: I'm in love with a married man. We've been seeing each other for over a year now. He told me that he and his wife weren't actually living as man and wife, although they shared the same house for appearances sake. Also, because they have five children, he didn't want to break up the marriage just yet. But Abby, he promised that in due time he would divorce his wife and marry me.

I have been 100 per cent true to this man, Abby, since the day I realized I loved him. He said he loved me, too, but now he gives me the news that his wife is expecting! I don't know what to think. I need your opinion.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: I think you should thank your lucky stars for two things. One, that you discovered early in the game that the "love bug" that bit you was a louse.

Two, that if he had to get one of you pregnant, it was his wife.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIKES TO GOS-SIP": To paraphrase a little gem of philosophy I learned years ago: "He who steals my gold steals trash. But he who gossips about me and steals my good name enriches himself not, but makes me poor indeed."

Thoughtful Gift Still Includes Realm of Money

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The excellent letter printed below presents a most interesting view of giving money in place of a gift. I appreciate the writer's opinion, but I would like to repeat that a gift of money is often a lazy way of avoiding the difficulty of choosing a gift.

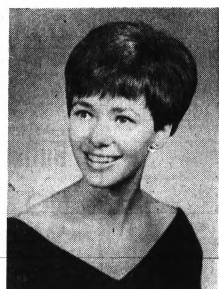

Also, a gift thoughtfully chosen with a certain person in mind serves as a permanent reminder of the donor's love, as cash can never do. However, there are occasions when a money gift is most welcome of all. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Waldo Herr for the best letter of the week.

Dear Mrs. Post: Though times have changed, well-meaning people still repeat beautiful old sentiments within the context of their ancient meanings. I am referring particularly to the admonition, "Give something of thyself," reiterated by those who still think of such a gift as only a handcrafted object.

In the fast tempo of today's world, not many people have time to duplicate those lovely handmade beauties of yesteryear. Nevertheless, I contend that the gift of money is also a gift of oneself.

The weekly salary is a symbol of a wage earner's faithful and sometimes laborious service. When he gives his money, he is surely giving something of himself; and denying himself to the extent of the gift.

Money can be a particularly appropriate and welcome gift to some who are dear to us. The elderly couple retired on a pitifully small pension must confine their spending to only the bleak necessities.

Janet Ann Peterson and Frederick Grant Lobb, seniors at Michigan State University, are planning a mid-June wedding. The bride elect is the daughter of the Robert Petersons of Des Plaines, Ill. Her fiancé is the son of the Wilfred Lobbs of Clarkston.

Check-mate lets you write a check bigger than your balance. It also provides you with a Check Guarantee Card.

It's a new banking service that adds a line of credit to your checking account. If you qualify, we establish a cash reserve in your name. Then, whenever you write a check bigger than your balance, we automatically transfer money (in multiples of $100) into your checking account.

It's an automatic loan whenever you need it. Just write a check for the amount you need. You could be writing a check or a loan, only your banker knows for sure. You pay nothing until you start using your reserve funds.

It also gives you a "check guarantee card" that helps you cash a personal check anywhere, anytime. Use your "Check Guarantee Card" whenever you need to cash a personal check. We'll see that your checks are honored for amounts up to $100.
