County Sizzles as Mercury Tops 90 for 7th Day

Throngs Flee Texas Floods

New Storms Lash Southern Part of State

More 95-Degree Heat in Store for Eastern Half of Nation

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

The worst heat wave of the year ended its second week today with little relief in sight as flooding Texas streams forced thousands of persons out of their homes.

Weathermen forecast more 95-plus heat today and Tuesday for the eastern two-thirds of the country and only mild relief Tuesday night, to be followed by 90-degree weather for several days.

No rain was in sight for the parched midwest, and Iowa corn crops were in acute danger.

The weather bureau forecast a high of 96 in the southeastern portion of Michigan. It was the seventh straight day thermometers soared above the middle 90 mark.

Parched timber areas in Ontario burst into flames over the weekend. At least 115 fires were reported in the Canadian province today. Officials said 22 blazes were burning unchecked across a wide front. The blazes already have claimed the lives of two men and a boy.

Michigan farmers reported the August heat wave has ended hopes for a bumper 1953 potato crop. Other crops were reported ripening too fast under the blistering sun.

Traditionally cool summer resort areas in Michigan offered little relief to vacationists.

Thermometers soared to 88 in Cadillac and 92 in Gladwin, usually rated the two coldest spots in the state.

Other temperatures were 77 at Sault Ste. Marie; 76 at Houghton; 85 at Escanaba; 86 at Alpena; 84 at Pellston; and 77 at Marquette.

In Chicago, every rise in the temperature meant a new record was being set. Sunday was the seventh consecutive day of over 90-degree heat. The high for the day, a blistering 96.3, set a new mark. It was the sixth consecutive day of 95-plus weather — another record.

Sunday was also the 18th

Seek Prowler in Murder Area

4 Police Departments, Deputies Converge on Baldwin-Beverly

Minutes after a prowler was reported in the Baldwin-Beverly Aves. area Saturday night, where the body of Mrs. Hallie Perkins was found and a teenager was attacked Aug. 15, four police departments and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies surrounded a woode dsection and conducted a futile, hour-long search.

The prowler was reported by a woman returning home from a store at 9:30 p.m. She said the man came out of the wooded area and started toward her. He fled after she screamed.

Detective John DePauw, coordinating the Pontiac investigation, said the area was scoured by Lake Orion, Lake Angelus and Sylvan Lake Police. The Pontiac Fire Department rushed floodlights to the scene to aid the hunt. Several cars from the sheriff's department also were dispatched to the scene.

The woman told Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives, she was unable to give a description of the man, except that he was wearing a light shirt and dark trousers.

Meanwhile, a 25-year-old woman reported to the sheriff's department that she narrowly escaped an attack early this morning when a "masked" man grabbed her and threw her to the ground.

The woman, who lives near Oakland Lake where another woman was reported molested Aug. 19, said the man fled through a field when she screamed.

MRS. LUCY CARTRETTE

Housewife Held in Mate's Death

Mrs. Lucy M. Cartrette Blames Jealousy for Saturday Shooting

A 33-year-old housewife, who admitted to police that she shot her husband to death Saturday, is being held for investigation of murder today, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Ziem said that Mrs. Lucy Mae Cartrette, of 259 S. Jessie St. would be charged today in a murder warrant.

Mrs. Cartette was arrested at her home after shooting her husband Scarborough, 32, at the home of Dean Wright of 105 Judson St., according to Captain Clark M. Wheaton, Chief of Pontiac detectives.

According to Mrs. Cartrette's statement to Ziem, she said she went to the Wright home after seeing her husband's car in front of the house. She said her husband hadn't been home all night and that "I saw him with another woman in front of our home in the car."

Mr. and Mrs. Wright told Ziem that they and the Cartrettes have been close friends since 1947. Both families came to Pontiac from Ashville, N. C., last February.

Dean said Scarborough (Scottie) came to the home about 10 a.m. Saturday complaining he was ill.

Ziem said that the Wrights and a next-door neighbor, Allen Locke of 99 Judson St., were sitting in the kitchen when the shooting took place. Dean said the wife returned to his home for the third time shortly before noon.

"Then we heard a shot and later we saw Scottie stagger from the bedroom and into the living room." The Wrights and Locke said Mrs. Cartrette then fired a second shot which struck him in the chest."

Ziem said that Mrs. Cartrette told him she had been upset since last July when her husband "started entertaining another woman," known as Edna.

Mrs. Cartrette told police and Ziem she has been seeing a doctor for "nerve treatments," for the past several weeks.

Reds May Free 500 More PWs Than Promised

Release 150 GIs Today; 486 Due May Actually Reach 1,000 Total

PANMUNJOM — AP — Another 150 Americans, mostly sergeants and officers, were freed today amid indications the Communists may send back up to 500 more Americans than the 3,313 originally promised.

The Reds also released 250 South Koreans on this 27th day of the Korean war prisoner exchange.

The Communists promised to send back 400 prisoners tomorrow — 100 Americans, 25 British, 20 Turks, 5 Australians and another 250 South Koreans.

Meanwhile, Allied and Communist delegates to the Military Armistice Commission met at this truce site in one of their longest sessions. After an hour and 49 minutes, the delegates recessed without setting a date for another meeting.

There was no announcement of what was discussed. The meeting was called at Communist request.

Returning Americans Monday raised hopes that the Reds would return more U. S. soldiers than they originally promised.

The Reds have returned 2,827 Americans, leaving 486 still scheduled for repatriation.

But liberated Americans who were at Kaesong over the weekend said more than 1,000 non-Korean POWs were still awaiting repatriation at the Red collecting center just north of here.

They said most of the men were American and British sergeants and officers.

The Reds said recently that their 3,313 total did not include some POWs captured in the last days of the war.

Lt. Maxey H. Hall Jr. of Indianapolis, Ind., said 290 American officers were at Kaesong. He said he had no idea how many enlisted men were being held there.

Sgt. 1.C. Earl Dantzler, of Richmond, Va., said more than 500 noncommissioned officers, mostly Americans, are awaiting return at Kaesong.

Other repatriates reported that many of the Allied prisoners awaiting repatriation were soldiers who had been sentenced to jail terms for alleged offenses while in captivity. The Reds promised Saturday to return all U.N. POWs who want to go home, including any convicted on Red charges.

Detroit Girl, 9, Saves Father From Drowning

DETROIT (AP) — Nine-year-old Annette Kuzdal can't swim at all. But still she waded into the Detroit River yesterday and saved the life of her father, Peter, 48.

Annette was sitting on the beach when Kuzdal suffered a heart attack and fell face down in shallow water. She yelled when she saw him floating and kept on yelling as she waded into the water.

She reached her father and held his head above water for five minutes until patrolmen Eugene Zablocki and Bernard Quinn heard her shouts and arrived to help.

Kuzdal rested a few minutes after being carried out of the water and then was well enough to drive his family home. Annette's two older brothers had been playing some distance away and did not know of the near tragedy until it was over.

"I knew I had to save Daddy when I saw him sinking," the child said later. "My brothers were playing a long ways off and didn't see him. At first the policeman couldn't see us either, so I kept yelling until they waded in."

Annette has helped her father frequently since the death of her mother three years ago.

"I help clean the house and cook eggs for Daddy sometimes," she said.

Does Your Head Feel Hot? Then Pity Your Poor Feet

The blistering heat has made Pontiac residents a bunch of hot-heads and even gives them a hot-foot everytime they step onto the sidewalk.

This was discovered by a Pontiac Press reporter assigned to check the actual street temperature when the mercury registers 95 degrees in the shade.

Carrying a thermometer exposed to the sun, the reporter walked from Saginaw and Huron Streets to Pontiac City Hall, about a four-block stretch. When he reached city hall, the mercury stood at 104.

Although 104 degrees beating down on the head — especially if the top thatch is a little thin—is pretty uncomfortable, pity the poor feet.

In the interest of science, the reporter pointed the thermometer at the sidewalk. The result: a sizzling 111 degrees.

All the reporter could say was—"hot dogs!"

Unearth Village 6,000 Years Old Near Beersheba

JERUSALEM (AP) —An American archaeologist reported today he has discovered the remains of a village estimated to have been founded in about 4,000 B. C. — predating the patriarch Abraham by perhaps 1,000 years.

Dr. Nelson Glueck of Cincinnati and New York, president of the Hebrew Union College and the Jewish Institute of Religion, said he had found the village and traces of ancient terraces, dams and irrigation canals about 40 miles from Beersheba, in the southern Negev Desert.

He returned today to the site of the diggings, which are on a parched hillside at the tiny settlement of Ain Mufifiq.

Dr. Glueck said the find was the first known evidence of any large scale agricultural center in the area.

Ferndale Lad Drowns at Lakeville Reunion

A family reunion ended in tragedy Sunday afternoon when an eight-year-old boy drowned in Lakeville Lake in Addison Township.

The victim was Henry Lewis, one of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lewis of 2129 Synes St., Ferndale.

The boy drowned in about eight feet of water off the landing. He was pronounced dead at 8:45 p. m. by Dr. John F. Naz acting coroner, of Clarkston after the inhalator squad of the Addsion Township Fire Department was unable to revive him.

The boy was playing with a group of about 13 children in the shallow water off the landing and was last seen about 5 o'clock.

The body wss taken to Mabley Funeral Home in Oxford pending further arrangements.

Big GM Exhibit Set to Move On

30,079 Visited Parade of Progress Here; Next Stop Is Detroit

General Motors "Parade of Progress" today began packing up to move on after playing to 30,079 people during its four-day stay in Pontiac.

The giant caravan of films, exhibits and stage demonstrations will leave Wasington Junior High School grounds Tuesday afternoon. Next stop is Detroit, where the show will be part of Michigan State Fair Sept. 4-13.

John E. Ryan, director, counted 11,166 people in attendance this weekend despite record heat which drove thousands out of the city to nearby lakes.

Smallest crowd of the Thursday-through-Sunday series of shows was counted Saturday, as 4,262 people defied heat which soared to 96 degress. Friday's attendance of 7,444 was tops for the four days.

"We regret the show can't stay longer in Pontiac, but our tight schedule makes it necessary to move on," Ryan said.

"We hope anyone who was unable to come out in Pontiac — especially because of the intense heat — will drive down to the state fair to see the show."

Ryan thanked Pontiac for the "fine reception' given the Parade of Progress. He said parade personnel were particularly hap-

Mother, 5 Children Victims of Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A mother and her five young children burned to death early today as flames destroyed their home on Universal road in nearby Plum Township.

Paul Krizanich, 40, who burned his arms in a futile attempt to save his family, was the only person who escaped.

He identified the victims as his wife, Hattie, 35, and these children Janet Lee, 10; Paul Jr., 8; Larry Ervin, 5; Karl Edward, 2, and Shirley, 6 weeks.

"I got up early to look for a job," sobbed Krizanich. Everything was quiet in the house when I left.

"When I returned the whole back of the old two-story frame house was a mass of flames."

No Relief Seen as Blazing Heat Shrivels Crops

Temperature of 96 Sets New Records Saturday and Sunday

7 a. m.	74	11 a. m.	88
8 a. m.	78	12 m.	91

Oakland County sizzled under scorching heat as temperatures topped the 90-degree mark for the seventh straight day today.

No immediate relief is forecast from the heat which has retarded crops, shriveled grassy fields to tinder-dry fire hazards and sent thousands to beaches seeking relief.

A blazing sun sent the mercury to 96 degrees Saturday, and again to 96 on Sunday, setting a new record for both dates.

Highest previous temperature recorded for Aug. 29 was 94 in 1872, and for Aug. 30 94 on that date in 1932.

The U. S. Weather bureau predicts that humidity will add to area resident's discomfort tonight and Tuesday with a chance of afternoon thundershowers Tuesday.

A low of 70 to 74 degrees is forecast tonight, with a high of 92 to 96 degrees Tuesday.

The mercury, which did not sink below 71 degrees during the night rose from 78 degrees at 8 a. m. today to 94 at 2 p. m.

August attendance records at nearby parks tumbled as thousands sought relief from the heat Saturday and Sunday.

Some 33,000 persons went to Kensington Metropolitan Park Sunday after 18,000 used the park Saturday. Cass-Dodge Park 4 reported a total crowd of 30,000 this weekend—(new record for August).

The mass exodus jammed highways all weekend, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, who said the traffic tieup reached a climax Sunday night, when traffic lined up for blocks at traffic lights on local highways.

And as another weekend

Remember '48: Hot!

The current heat wave closely parallels a similar hot spell five years ago. In 1948, the mercury rose past the 90-degree mark for seven days in late August. Four heat records were set in the 1948 scorcher: Aug. 25, 98 degrees; Aug. 26, 96 degrees; Aug. 27, 98 degrees; Aug. 28, 97 degrees. This month's hot weather has set two new records (96 on Saturday and on Sunday) and matched another (96 on Wednesday).

Auto Insurance Rates Revised

213 Firms Will Adjust Liability Tables to Favor Lower Risks

NEW YORK (AP) — Leading insurance companies have agreed on new nationwide auto liability rates cutting some costs for adult pleasure car drivers and increasing rates for many young people.

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau, major automobile insurance rating groups, announced last night agreement on the new schedules by 213 companies.

A spokesman for the underwriters said the rates would go into effect as soon as they can be filed with authorities in the various states.

Under the new plan, the main revisions affect adult drivers of non-business cars and young drivers under 25 years of age. Cars used for business remain classified as before with rates for this category the base for determining other rates.

For adult drivers, the new schedules take into account the possible use of their cars going to and from work. The lowest rates apply to those cars used solely for pleasure driving.

A slightly higher rate is fixed for cars driven less than 10 miles on a one-way trip to work; still higher rates apply for vehicles driven more than 10 miles to work.

Previously there was no distinction for private cars used for both pleasure driving and for traveling to work.

The new schedules also break down young drivers into three groups, instead of carrying them in a single category.

The three groups include those under 25 living at home, childless married couples under 25 and young drivers with no family control.

The first group of youths there will be a 4 per cent reduction; but for the third group, considered the worst risks, there will be a sharp increase. (In the New York area, they will pay $310 for the same insurance adults can buy for $123.

Farmers, who now get a 15 per cent discount, will get, under the new plan, a 20 per cent discount below the rate applying to their classification.

Gold Surrenders to Federal Attorney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ben Gold, fur workers Union president, surrendered today on a three-count indictment charging he lied when he swore in an affidavit in August 1950 that he was not a Communist.

Gold showed up at the office of U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover and was taken by marshals to the clerk's office to post $10,000 bail.

Gold swore in a statement filed with the Natonal Labor Relations Board that he was not then a member of the Communist party, had no affiliation with the party, and did not support its policies.

The indictment charged that all three statements were false.

Pitching Horseshoes . . . by Billy Rose

Rose Once Again Drops Strawberries Into Life's Queer Mess of Sour Cream

A few years back I was introduced to Gen. Eisenhower at a private party at Sherry's, and in the course of a brief chat he not only told me that he read my column regularly, but proceeded to prove it by rattling off the plots of a couple of short stories I had written.

"That man ought to be President," I said as I dug into my grapefruit.

When Stevenson was nominated, I waited for him to declare himself. He never did, and so when I stepped into the voting booth last November I automatically reached for the lever marked 'Eisenhower."

After all, how could I vote for Adlai without knowing something about his reading habits . . . ?

All of which is by way of saying hello out there again. This is the first column I have written since December 1950, when for reasons of health I reluctantly said bye-bye to my byline.

A couple of months ago, feeling fine again, I decided to go back to the typewriter, but the state of my health wasn't the deciding factor. Actually, it was because a mildewed Moor in North Africa asked me a peculiar question.

It happened this way. In January, while vacationing in Marrakech, I caught a performance of a ballet company whose dancers might have been better employed building a dam.

I ducked out in the middle of act two and, while I was waiting

Death of Mother Tempers Joy of Freedom for POW

Happiness tinged with sadness fills the Marsh Shelton home at 18 S. Parke St. today.

The release of Sgt. Roderick Shelton, 22, from a prisoner of war camp, ends 34 months of prayers for his safe deliverance — but the sad task of telling him his mother, Grace, died June 27 still remains.

She was as much a casualty of the Korean war as if she died on the battlefield, according to the family.

Shelton's sister, Mrs. Gladys Burke, 37, who has moved into the family home to care for two younger brothers and a sister, said her mother's health began failing as soon as she heard her son had been captured on Nov. 3, 1950.

"She worried herself to death and died only weeks before the armistice in Korea was signed," Mrs. Burke said today, "but we'll try to make Rod's homecoming as happy as possible."

Sgt. Shelton joined the army in 1948 and was sent to Korea in August, 1950.

He is one of seven boys and four girls, and came to Pontiac from Twila, Ky., about six years ago. Two brothers and a sister,

Birmingham Commission Will Be Asked for Refund on Willets Street Project

(From Our Birmingham Bureau)

BIRMINGHAM — A resolution asking refunding of money paid by Willets street property owners in a special assessment for street improvement will be presented to the City Commission tonight.

The commission ordered the Willets special assessment district dissolved on June 29 this year. An opinion by Forbes S. Hascall, city attorney, recommended refunds to property owners who were assessed originally, was written into the resolution, according to W. J. Johnson, finance director.

A report by Johnson estimating miscellaneous tax revenues for the 1953-54 fiscal year will be heard along with proposed quarterly allocation of such funds.

An amendment to the curb cutting ordinance will be considered. According to Hascall, it is aimed at clarifying problems arising when two or more lots are used by a single owner. The amendment would allow driveways and curb cuts for each lot if certain regulations were conformed to.

The Automobile Club of Michigan will present the commission with a certificate of excellence commending Birmingham's record of no pedestrian deaths in 1952.

Redeemer Lutheran Church will advise the commission of its consent to rezoning of three church-owned lots in the Ruby N. Subdivision to single residence use.

City Engineer L. R. Gare will present a plan and cost estimate for filling two city lots on Coolidge and Torry. Consideration will be given a Plan Board recommendation that the request for rezoning of a block on the northwest corner of East Maple and Coolidge be denied.

A request, with Plan Board approval, to rezone the property from north of Lincoln avenue to the Porritt land on the east side of Adams Road from business A to income bungalow will also be discussed.

The Community House, closed since the first of the month, has been undergoing a thorough housecleaning behind locked doors. A major face-lifting in 1952 lessened this year's job.

Along with a thorough cleaning, the outside trim of the house has been painted, as has the lobby and Boy Scout room. New asphalt tile is down in the businesswomen's lounge and new linoleum in the kitchen. The kitchen has also been completely rearranged for greater efficiency.

Purchases include a stainless steel serving cart for the kitchen and 100 new folding chairs.

Mrs. Paul Wagner, house committee chairman, said much thought is given to the upkeep of the house, and as much as the budget will allow is used to keep it attractive.

The Community House will be reopened to the public on Sept. 8.

Regular meeting of the Lions Club will be held Wednesday at Devon Gables. A noon luncheon will be served. No program is planned.

VET LICKS HANDICAP — Ernest S. Collins, 39, of 692 Ruffner St., Birmingham, demonstrates his loom to Miss Dorothy Walker, Veterans Administration secretary of Washington, D. C., a prospective customer. Despite severe arthritis, contracted while a German POW during World War II, Collins is supporting his family by selling products he makes on the loom. The loom was recently presented by the V.A.

Developed Arthritis as POW

Disabled Veteran Weaves Materials for Decorators

BIRMINGHAM — A local World War II veteran, racked with arthritis incurred in a German prison camp, has shrugged at his disability and found a novel way to support his family.

He is Ernest S. Collins, 39, of 692 Ruffner St. whose original sense of design and color finds him doing contract work for interior decorators and upholsterers plus selling his own hand loomed rugs, linen place mats, stoles and other items.

The loom was supplied him along with a 16-month training course by the Veterans Administration.

Collins was removed to a prison after his capture in 1944 where he developed arthritis from having to lie on a concrete floor in cold weather. Ten days in solitary confinement after he participated in a hunger strike also cut into his health.

After liberation from the camp, his army discharge came through in Nov. 1945 with a total disability classification and corresponding money allowance.

He was married in 1946 and now he and his wife, Eleanore, have a daughter, Mary Louise, 2, and a son, Michael, 1.

Collins' stiffness increased and he had to take hospital treatment from June to Sept. 1948.

After release from the hospital he was visited by Mrs. Janet Patterson of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. She contacted the VA.

The VA supplied the loom and a teacher, Mrs. Lillian Holm of Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Now, sitting at the 60-inch loom, especially built to accommodate his six-foot-plus frame, Ernest Collins smiles — even if the arthritis does kick-up occasionally.

Lee Thurston on Critical List

U. S. Education Chief Stricken in Washington With Heart Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Lee M. Thurston, who stepped from Michigan superintendent of public instruction into the office of U. S. Commissioner of education, is critically ill of a heart ailment.

The 54-year-old Thurston was stricken in his hotel room Saturday. Dr. Louis H. Shuman, his physician, described his condition as critical. He is in Georgetown University Hospital.

Mrs. Thurston was visiting her husband when he was stricken. The family has not yet moved here from its Lansing home.

Associates of Dr. Thurston said he had been working hard since becoming commissioner of education July 2, but appeared in excellent health when the office closed Friday.

He was appointed Michigan superintendent of public instruction in 1948 and won election in 1950. He did not seek re-election last April, having announced he would retire to become dean of Michigan State College's new School of Education this fall.

However when President Eisenhower, a fellow Republican, asked Thurston to take the $14,800-a-year job as U. S. education commissioner, he accepted.

Top Test Driver for Ford Begins His 37th Year

DETROIT (AP) — Al Esper, 54, today celebrates the beginning of his 37th year as Ford Motor Co. "chief test driver." He has logged more than one million miles on the job — with only one traffic ticket against his record.

In downtown Detroit, in 1926, Esper was tagged for going 28 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone.

Esper, whose real title is assistant test engineer, Vehicles Testing Department, said he and his fellow test drivers logged 5,293,872 test miles in 1952 and hope to top 6,000,000 miles this year.

Crash Victim Pulled From Flaming Auto

A Pontiac man, whose auto caught fire after striking a parked car at Oakland avenue and N. Rutgers street Sunday, was rescued from the flaming vehicle by nearby pededstrians according to Pontiac Police.

Perry Traylor, 40, of 106 W. Beverly Ave., who told police he doesn't remember "what happened" when his auto hit the parked car, is reported in "good" condition at Pontiac General Hospital where he is being treated for fractured ribs, cuts and bruises.

Traylor's auto, according to Pontiac firemen who put out the blaze, was totally damaged by the wreck and fire.

The owner of the parked auto, which was hurled 96 feet by the force of impact, is Russell Lewis, 18, of 3124 Collier Rd.

Floods Hit Texas as East Swelters straight day without rain, 12 short of the record set in 1919. The record for consecutive days of over 90 is eight, set in 1934 and equalled twice since.

The east coast sweltered along with most of the rest of the country as millions of cliffdwellers jammed New York state beaches.

A high of 95.9 was reached in New York City, topping the previous Aug. 30 high of 92.1 set in 1945. As in Chicago, Sunday was the seventh straight 90-plus day.

The Rockaway Beaches reported more than 1,200,000 persons for the day, famed Coney Island 1,250,000 and Jones Beach 150,000. Hundreds of persons rode the Hudson River ferry boats in an apparent attempt to cool off, and the animals at Bronx Zoo were repeatedly hosed down.

Pittsburgh reported a record snapped when the mercury soared to 97.3, shattering a mark set in 1881. Philadelphia counted seven more deaths from ailments induced by record heat, for a total of 43 since last Tuesday.

Boston and other eastern cities simmered under near 100 degree heat and no rain or cool weather was in sight for the eastern section of the nation.

Meanwhile, at Robstown, Tex., some 2,000 persons prepared to move back into their flooded and silt-filled homes as soon as a virtual lake of dirty floodwater recedes.

The new flood was caused by a three-inch cloudburst last night that followed another heavy storm Saturday and a total of about 20 inches of rain in south Texas in the last week.

Other, even more serious flash flooding, hit Stinton, Tex., and 11 other towns and thousands of acres of farm land Saturday.

But in west Texas a drought still parched the earth.

py with the interest shown by young people here.

"One of our objectives is to point out to young men and women the possibilities of technical careers in science, engineering, and such," he said. "I feel we may have accomplished that in our Pontiac showing."

The Parade of Progress, which has visited 14 cities in the area, still has some 200 towns to play to on its five-year tour. From Detroit, the show will move east through Ohio and then south for the winter.

Billy Rose Pitching Horseshoes Again

for my hat, a smallish Arab in a red fez sidled up and said, "Mind if I ask you a question?"

"Thanks," I said, "but I've got a hot watch."

"I figured as much," said the Arab. "What I really wanted to know was, how's your Uncle Charlie?"

It was 10 seconds before I realized he was talking about Charlie, an uncle of mine on the East Side whose didoes I used to chronicle in my column.

"How come you know about my Uncle Charlie?" I said.

"I read your pieces about him in the Paris Herald," said the Arab. "They sell the paper here in Marrakech."

As I ambled back to my hotel, I felt as if I were walking in stilts. "Five thousand miles from Times Square," I kept telling myself, "someone remembers a column you wrote years ago."

When I got back to New York, I faced up to my portable and pecked out 26 other reasons for writing "Pitching Horseshoes" again. Collectors of curiosa might be interested in the last six . . .

(u) My old enemys are beginning to bore me. A columnist — no matter how well intentioned— is a cinch to acquire a new set of enemies.

(v) Every now and occasionally, I yen to praise something or somebody. With a byline, I can sound off from Sixth avenue to Singapore; without one, I'm limited to a table at Lindy's and four or five insomniacs who talk back.

(w) Thinking back, the happiest days of my rag-tag life were the busy ones. In recent years. I have learned that loafing in large quantities is strictly for oysters.

So, in addition to three columns a week, I aim to produce a couple of shows this fall, and fill in my spare time by learning something constructive, like Sanskrit.

(x) All Broadway wisenheimers are convinced that their opinions are immortal and ought to be carved on the side of a pyramid. In that respect I'm no different — except, of course, that I'm right.

(y) Here of late I've been waking up and saying to myself, "What's Walter Lippman got that I haven't got?" and I haven't been able to come up with an answer. It's not an easy thing to live with.

(z) In short, like the retired pickpocket, I just can't help keeping my hand in.

"Pitching Horseshoes" will pretty much follow its old pattern-pink lemonade and a pinch of show business and a weather ear open for yarns which may provide the reader with a chuckle or three.

To sum up, the papers these days are a-busting with news which indicates that the cream of human kindness is turning sour.

Into this mess of sour cream, perhaps I can drop an occasional strawberry. I can think of no better chore for myself.

May Pipe Canadian Gas Into Michigan

LANSING (UP) — A Canadian pipe line company may supply the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula with natural gas in three or four years, the Michigan Economic Development Department said today.

Donald Weeks, director of the department, said the Mid Continent Pipe Lines Ltd. of Toronto is seeking approval to build a natural gas pipeline from the province of Alberta to Toronto. Weeks said the proposed pipeline would cut across the Upper Peninsula and through Sault St. Marie into Ontario and then to Toronto.

But he said the Canadian company has indicated it would build a spur line into the northern part of the Lower Peninsual to serve Petoskey, Cheboygan, Alpena, Traverse City and other Northern Michigan communities.

Red Probe in State to Quiz Teachers

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) today announced his house Un-American Activities Committee subcommittee will hold two weeks of hearings in Michigan beginning Nov. 30.

Clardy's subcommittee originally was scheduled to open its hearings in Detroit, Oct. 26.

The Michigan congressman said the hearings will cover Communist infiltraiton in the teaching profession. He said the subcommittee would remain in Detroit one week and then hold hearings in Flint and Lansing.

Clardy said he asked for the four-day postponement in connection with his tour of Europe this fall to check on government expenditures abroad.

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — For the first time in the history of this atomic center, a circus set up its big tents in Los Alamos today.

The 150 members of the Gil G. Gray Shrine show underwent security screening last week. As they paraded through the main gate today, they were subjected to a lesser, routine check.

Ancient Astrolabe on View Daily at Science Institute

BLOOMFIELD HILS — An ancient astrolabe—an instrument used to observe the position of celestial bodies—of the kind used by Columbus in discovering America, may now be viewed at Cranbrook Institute of Science, open free to the public daily from 2-5 p.m.

Most useful astronomical instrument developed by the Arabs and Greeks of pre-Christian times, the astrolabe is one of three navigational devices bought by Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of the Institute, in a Cairo bazaar last spring.

For at least a thousand years, Hatt observed, astrolabes were used to measure the altitude of sun, moon and stars, to tell time by day or night, to calculate latitude, and to fix the points of the compass.

Chaucer presented an astrolabe to his son in 1391, and prepared a treatise on its use. Columbus used one on the Santa Maria. Eventually the astrolabe was supplanted by the quadrant, the octant and the sextant.

Two other star calculators of ancient Arabic craftsmanship brought back by Hatt are a wooden quadrant, for measuring altitudes, and a celestial sphere.

The sphere is a brass globe on which the constellations are mapped.

Early instrument makers often lavished such care on the decoration of their products, Hatt said, that even before the instruments themselves were obsolete, they became collector's items and are now rarely obtainable.

Heat Wave Extends Into 7th Day Here

passed without rain in this area Oakland County Agricultural Agent Edmond W. Alchin warned that crops will reach "the critical stage, unless soaking rains fall before the end of this week.

Heat and drought which entered its 24th day today brought warnings of grass fires from Pontiac and nearby fire officials.

Pontiac Fire Department reported no grass fires this weekend, crediting Friday's warning in the Pontiac Press for much of the careful conduct of home rubbish-burners.

Waterford Township Fire Chief Rudy Boss reported the situation in his area is "getting out of hand." Boss said Waterford firemen were called to 21 grass fires during the week, 10 of them this weekend.

A woman was burned about the face and hands fighting one fire Saturday, he said. Another fire, raging out of control, burned a deserted farmhouse and barn Saturday afternoon.

"Things here are critical," Boss said.

Michigan Conservation Officer Howard Johnson said the conservation department had ordered all fire departments in the dought area to issue no more "burning permits" to local citizens.

Anyone whose rubbish fire gets out of control, he said, is liable to a $10 fine or 90 days in jail.

Pontiac persons used a record 33,000,000 gallons of water this weekend, according to Joseph Gable, acting Pontiac water superintendent. Gable said the total pumpage was an all-time, weekend record.

Today, Gable said, looked like another record day.

"We've got just barely 65 pounds of pressure behind the water in our mains today," he said, "and we'll be lucky if we can hold it."

Normal pressure is 70 pounds, Gable added.

all married, returned to Twila but the rest of the family still lives in Michigan.

His father, an employe of GMC Truck and Coach Division, hopes all members of the family can get together for a reunion when Sgt. Shelton returns home.

Shortly before his capture, Sgt. Shelton received the Bronze Star for carrying a message to a front line company while under heavy enemy fire.

He has managed to write five letters home since his capture and told the family he was being "treated as well as can be expected."

Mrs. Burke said the family has sat up each night until 1 a. m. listening for word of prisoner releases, "but Saturday night we went to a show and missed the broadcast telling us the good news.'

"The Pontiac Police sent a man in a squad car to tell us Rod was released and all the neighbors thought there'd been an accident or something."

Sgt. Shelton's brother, Ray, 20, was drafted Aug. 3 and sent to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland for his basic training. "Everybody's hoping that he can get a furlough to join the family reunion when Rod gets back," his sister said.

(By the Associated Press)

Six more Michigan prisoners of war were returned to freedom by the Communists in Korea last night, bringing Michigan's total to 119 since "Operation Big Switch" started.

Those from Michigan among the 150 Americans freed last night were:

Sgt. 1. C. Robert Edwards husband of Mrs. Mozelle Edwards, 71 Orchestra Place, Detroit.

Sgt. Charles W. Legue, son of Mrs. Ruth Legue, RD-2, Vassar.

Cpl. John K. Erickson, son of Elof Erickson, RD-1, Alto.

M-Sgt. Estes V. McClain, husband of Sue McClain, 3514 Fourth St., Detroit.

Sgt. 1. C. Gilbert E. Ream, brother of Harold L. Ream, 345 W. Brantley Rd., Ravenna.

Second Lt. Edward L. Stickels, son of Melville E. Stickels, 131; West End Dr., Holland.

A few hours before these six were freed, four other former Michigan POWs came flying home to loving arms.

Looking remarkably strong and healthy, despite their long stays in prisoner of war camps, were: ST5. Williams M. Allen Jr., of Lincoln Park; Cpl. Gilbert Broughton, of Wyandotte; Cpl. Lahman L. Bower Jr., of Berkley, and Cpl. Steven E. Magiera, of Flint.

They all landed at Detroit's Willow Run airport, carrying with them orders putting them on "rest and recuperation" leaves for the next 30 days.

The four reported they were under orders not to discuss camp life "as long as the Chinks hold any of our buddies."

4 Injured in Crash on Telegraph Road

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Four persons were injured in a two-car collision early Sunday morning on Telegraph, north of Hickory Grove.

Dashes Into Car's Path, 5-Year-Old in Hospital

Mary Louise Jones, 5, of 1245 Hemingway, Lake Orion, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital for possible head injuries Sunday after being struck by an auto driven by Leonard R. McArthur, 29, of 1314 University Ave.

Slap Writ on U. S. Plane After Boning Up on Law

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Twin brothers who aren't lawyers but spend plenty of time studying law books have slapped a writ of attachment on one of Uncle Sam's million dollar Globemaster planes, grounding same.

As a result of their suit an armed sheriff's deputy took possession of the plane at Lockheed Air Terminal Saturday just as an air force crew was preparing to take off in it. The huge C97 plane had been in the shops for about a month.

The surprising legal action was the latest move in the long feud between George and Charles Finn, 39, and the United States government.

It all started eight months ago in a dispute over another plane, a surplus C46 Flying Boxcar, which the twins claimed they owned but which the government seized.

The Finn brothers, former Air Force men, purchased this plane from the Vineland School District, near Bakersfield, Calif. The district had been using the surplus plane as a temporary schoolroom.

During the ensuing hassle one of the twins flew the C46 to Nevada but the government seized it there. Federal officials said the Flying Boxcar was sold to the school district for educational purposes and it could not be re-sold to private parties.

There followed a series of legal actions in the matter. Last Friday the Finnis obtained a writ of attachment from Municipal Judge Charles B. MacCoy in Los Angeles.

The writ was obtained in connection with their suit for $2,999 damages for loss of the C46. The government has five days to answer the writ or post bond.

The Finns told reporters they had been reading up on law for months in the county law library and then decided to attach a government plane.

"We picked out this C97 (the Globemaster) simply because it's government property valuable enough to cover our claim," said one of the twins.

"Our aim is simply to establish our right to operate an air cargo line with an airplane (the Flying Boxcar) we say is ours."

140 MPH Typhoon Lashes Philippines

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon winds up to 140 miles an hour hit the Babuyan Islands off the northern Philippines tonight as they swept from the Pacific into the south China Sea.

The Philippine weather bureau said the center of the tropical blow was expected to pass 50 miles southwest of Basco, main port in the Batanes, early tomorrow. It is moving west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

The typhoon is the second to strike the northern Philippines area within 11 days.

It is expected to hit the Red China mainland just south of Hong Kong and Macao if it maintains its course.

Manila and other Luzon areas were buffeted by gale winds.

There have been no reports of damage from the sparsely-populated islands bearing the brunt of the typhoon.

Corunna Father of 12 Kills Self With Shotgun

CORUNNA, Mich. (AP) — Clayton Diffin, 64, father of 12 children, was ruled a suicide Sunday. His body was found in a corn crib on his farm.

He was killed by a shotgun discharge in the abdomen. Relatives told police Diffin had been partially paralyzed for two years since suffering a stroke and had been despondent.

Jacqueline Cochran was the first woman to fly a plane faster than the speed of sound.

Farmers Union Denounces Plan

Proposal Would Fasten High Tag on Grain Used Here, Low on Exports

WASHINGTON (UP) — The National Grange today warmly endorsed a new wheat price support proposal in which prices would be high on grain consumed in this country and low on exports.

The National Farmers Union, however, denounced it as "a handy kind of mask for a reduced level of supports."

Roy Battles, assistant to the national master of the Grange, said farmers deserve an "American price" on the portion of their wheat and cotton crops used in this country.

Prices for the rest of the crops should find their own levels in free markets, he said.

Industry and labor get similar protection from tariffs and minimum wage laws, he said.

The two-price method of wheat support approved by the Grange, one of the nation's "big three" farm organizations, is under consideration by Agriculture Department officials.

Most versions of the two-price system would finance support for wheat used in this country by a "bread tax" — a levy collected from processors who would pass it on to consumers.

The Farmers Union, which opposes this type of two-price plan, said "it would shift any costs directly onto people who buy bread and off from federal income taxpayers."

This is "already true to a considerable extent," an Agriculture Department economist said.

Taxpayers pay the cost of government support programs, but consumers also pay when supports keep domestic wheat prices above the world free-market level, he explained.

The Farmers Union also said the average farm return per bushel of wheat would be only about 75 per cent of the "fair earning power" parity price under these plans.

Under a current law which expires after 1954, wheat and other basic farm crops are supported at 90 per cent of parity.

The government economist said average prices for farmers under a two-price plan might sink to 80 per cent of parity or rise above 90 per cent, depending on world market prices.

But total farm income from wheat would be higher under such a plan, he said, because rigid 90 per cent supports cause markets and production to shrink.

Without "competitive" wheat prices, he added, American farmers would lose all export customers except those guaranteed by the subsidized International Wheat Agreement (IWA).

Last year Canadian exports of wheat outside IWA contracts rose from 100,000,000 bushels to 150,000,000 bushels. U. S. wheat exports outside IWA dropped from 225,000,000 to 67,000,000 bushels, and most of that was given away in foreign aid.

The reason for this trend, the economist said, is the fact that the U. S. support program keeps prices higher than foreign buyers will pay.

Motorist Catches Hit-Run Driver After 40 Miles

CHICAGO (UP)—Louis Gawlik, 39, was a man with a mission.

When he saw an oncoming car knock a woman down at an intersection, he wheeled his own automobile around in pursuit.

Ninety minutes and 40 miles of dark alleys later, he overtook the fleeing car when it ran out of gas. His yells brought police.

The seized driver, Arthur Kneip, 58, denied striking the woman, Mrs. Mary Garbrecht, 53, but police said they found a fragment of her slip on Kneip's fender.

Kneip posted $465 bond for appearance in auto safety court Oct. 8 on charges of drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian.

Mrs. Garbrecht is in a hospital with injuries to her head, hips and legs.

Gawlik told police he stuck to the pursuit because his father was killed nine years ago by a hit-and-un driver who never was apprehended.

Family's Prayers Answered

Southfield Township POW Released by Communists

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three weeks of hopeful waiting ended last week for the Lawrence Caverlys of 23820 10½ Mile Road when they received word of their sor Richard's release from a Communist prison camp in Korea.

An Army infantry sergeant Richard, 21, was captured by the Reds in Nov. 1950. "But our only report was that he was missing," his mother Mrs. Theresa Caverly said.

"We hoped and prayed for 13 months for a report that he was a prisoner. When that came we began praying for his release. The truce talks gave some hope and finally it has come, after two and a half years.

Richard enlisted when he was 17 she said, after attending Highland Park High School. "His six brothers, two sisters, my husband and I have been siting at the television nightly for three weeks waiting," she recalled.

"We had word from a soldier released earlier that Richard was well, but we weren't really happy until his name flashed on the screen.

"We didn't celebrate though, we'll do that when he gets home safe and sound."

Ferguson Sees Early Tax Drop

Senator Tells Dem Pal GOP to Keep Pledges, Explains Slowness

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — Sen. Homer Ferguson said Sunday night he believed federal income taxes will be reduced 11 per cent next year.

The Michigan Republican made his prediction during a panel discussion over a nationwide broadcast. Sen. Guy M. Gillette of Iowa spoke for the Democrats.

"Taxes have not yet been reduced because the C.O.D. orders placed on us by the previous administration are now coming due," Ferguson said.

Gillette accused the Republican Party of failing to keep four major compaign promises: reduce taxes, cut expenditures, balance the budget and reduce the national debt.

Ferguson said the previous administration's budget has been reduced by $14,000,000,000. He said spending has been reduced and predicted the budget will be balanced soon.

Gillette said he was "fed up" with the statement that the Republicans "inherited" the debts of the Truman administration.

"You can only 'inherit' from a dead person and the Democratic Party is by no means dead," he said.

Calls for Delay in Revising Law

Sen. Watkins Asks Ike to Postpone Action on Immigration Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) told President Eisenhower today he believes the Republicans are in a "strong position" on the immigration issue and he urged delay in any recommendations for changes in the basic law.

In a letter to the President, Watkins described as "largely political" a move by Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) for a drastic overhauling of the McCarran-Walter Act. The law was criticized in last year's presidential campaign by Eisenhower and former Gov. Adlai E Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic nominee.

In April, Eisenhower asked for a congressional study of the law's operations looking toward a "fundamental revision" of the statute, about which he said he had received "a great many complaints."

Watkins, who heads a Senate-House immigration committee undertaking this study, wrote Eisenhower that he believes the special quota immigration act passed at this year's session to admit 216,000 European refugees and others "takes care of population pressure areas as far as we probably can go in the next three years."

This special act, covering three years, falls somewhat short of Eisenhower's request. He sought authority to admit 240,000 in two years.

"It seems to me, Mr. President," Watkins wrote, "that the administration's position should now be that we have taken care of any emergency matters connected with immigration and that we should follow the program set up by Congress and study the McCarran-Walter Act so that when the present emergency act terminates we will be in a position to suggest revisions in the permanent act if they are required.

"I am satisfied that the Democrats have just awakened to the fact that the Emergency Act of 1953 has placed the Republicans in a strong position before the country on this question."

Opposes Exemptions to Federal Sales Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Charles R. Sligh Jr. of the National Association of Manufacturers, which advocates a uniform federal sales tax on manufactured articles, says there should be no exemptions from such a levy.

Asked on an NBC radio-television program yesterday whether children's clothing might not be exempt, Sligh replied. "Any exemption is a dangerous step. You can't open the door to any exemptions if you are going to produce the revenue needed."

Sligh said the NAM favors a uniform flat rate of 4 or 5 per cent on all manufactured goods, to replace the varying excise taxes on various goods. Present schedules exempting many articles and taxing others up to 20 per cent, he said, are discriminatory.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1953

Sanatorium Board Upheld

Unanimous endorsement by a committee of supervisors of policies and actions of Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium trustees should end the dispute over control at that institution.

The dispute was brought into the open by the resignation of the hospital's Medical Superintendent, Dr. George H. Phillips. He charged that medical care of patients was suffering because control was divided between him and Business Manager George H. Williams.

Another charge was that the trustees, Chairman Albert Weber, George Scott and Joe Haas, invariably decided all disputes in favor of the business office.

After looking into the situation the trustees accepted Dr. Phillips' resignation. They also voted him use of the medical superintendent's home for his vacation period until he leaves September 1 to accept another position in Jackson County.

Meanwhile it was learned that a petition signed by 181 of 250 patients had been circulated. It urged trustees to make changes at the sanatorium that would persuade Dr. Phillips to reconsider his resignation. It was charged by a patient who refused to sign that pressure had been exerted to obtain signatures.

The six member sanatorium committee, of which Elmer Kephart is chairman, reached its decision after a hearing requested by Dr. Phillips. Without a dissenting voice it voted confidence in the trustees and their policies and approved acceptance of Dr. Phillips' resignation.

In this the committee echoed previously expressed opinoins of Claire W. Seery, chairman of the Board of Supervisors and Committee Chairman Kephart.

We have confidence in these officials. It is our belief, after investigation, that dual control at the sanatorium is in the best interests of patients as well as the public.

Our Opportunity in Iran

Bankrupt Iran's plea for cash aid from any quarter highlights the opportunity confronting the United States and the West to consolidate the victory won there over Russian intrigue.

That victory came with the downfall of the weeping Mossadegh. It was dramatized by return of the Shah with the backing of Iran's army and the establishment of its leader, General Zahedi as premier.

Moscow had helped Mossadegh because it counted on him to clear the way for a Communist takeover. The United States, on the other hand, backed the army and police to block a Communist coup. To that end we not only supplied weapons but expert training aid. This is one aid program that worked.

But Iran's troubles aren't over. Communists don't give up easily. Tudeh party members already are circulating violent anti-American and anti-British pamphlets.

Mossadegh who faces trial on charges of attempting to destroy the constitution, emptying the treasury and printing worthless money still has the support of the Tudeh party.

Iran's immediate need is for a quick settlement of the oil dispute. Since nationalization two years ago the country has been able to sell virtually no oil. The loss to the national treasury during that time approximates $100,000,000.

The situation seems made to order for the United States. Iran needs cash help to get back on the road toward solvency. An emergency loan properly secured by future oil revenues suggests itself as a wise first step to stabilize the new regime at Tehran.

Certainly we shouldn't wait until Russia offers help.

VA's Belated Checkup

The Veterans Administration has announced its first checkup of parents receiving compensation for the deaths of sons or daughters in World War II.

The checkup was prompted by a recent sampling of cases which showed some abuses. Under the law a parent is entitled to compensation only if dependency on that child can be shown.

This, of course, does not affect widows of war dead who are entitled to compensation as long as they don't remarry.

For the purposes of the inquiry, questionnaires are being sent to all parents now receiving compensation. These ask for full details of incomes and expenses.

While VA has released no details on abuses revealed by the sampling, it is moving in the right direction. Nonetheless hard pressed taxpayers will wonder why eight years have elapsed before any action was taken to prevent waste of public funds.

Becoming wiser today isn't an unmixed blessing. It causes a person to realize what a fool he was yesterday.

Punctuality: A good trait—but often a lonely one.

Time Magazine has a habit of running pictures of prominent people on its cover. And local subscribers were not surprised on receiving a recent issue to see in that position. Only the reading of the cut lines reveals the fact that it is not Mr. Keeling, but Central Intelligence Agency's Allen Dulles. But it surely is a good picture of Ralph, including his pipe. To be sure, it lacks his big hat, but the features and general expression are quite similar, as you will note by the reproduction herewith. Ralph is mighty happy about the resemblance, and we are sure that Mr. Dulles also will feel honored.

They are being put out at cost and price lists and order blanks are available by writing the department at Lansing. Sept. 1 to Nov. 15 is the best planting season. The seedlings are for forest planting, erosion control, windbreaks and Christmas tree production. They come in red, white, Jack and Scotch pine and white spruce. Reader Favors Trimming Trees, but Not Cutting Them Down, to Escape Starlings

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I recently read a letter regarding the starlings on Shirley Street and I believe the date they came was June 22 and not on July 12, as was stated in the letter I read.

We have been washing the sidewalks and the street with the rest of the people and we are hoping the starlings will leave the first part of September.

We are not asking to have the trees cut down. All we want is the branches cut and thinned so that so many of them can't roost in the trees.

I know they have been on our street for the last eight years. No one realizes what a nuisance starlings are until they have had to put up with their noisy chatter, both morning and evening, as well as the terrible odor and the mess they make over everything.

One Who Dislikes Starlings

Says Error Not Due to Mixed-Up Birth Records

In Tuesday's issue of the Pontiac Press there appeared a small article regarding the birth of Edward Keehn, Jr. I would like to clarify this item.

The doctor who delivered the boy did not register the birth at the time: therefore, when Edward wanted a copy of his certificate this July, the doctor filed a "delayed certificate" and our copy was clearly marked as such.

The reporter who copies the names of recent births for the Press evidently did not notice the notation.

We make our share of errors, but this particular one was not due to a "mix-up" in our records.

Believes Good Thoughts Are Man's Highest Ideal

The person who criticizes another for drinking or any of the moral habits is no better than the one criticized.

Thought is a unit and it lies in the realm of the divinity. Man's inherent good lies in being, doing and thinking nothing else but good. No one can do the good for another, it is only the individual himself who must first become conscious of the good thought. . . then comes the reflection of the thought.

Criticism lies in the direction of reverted reflection. It is the outer man casting remarks about his brother and shows his inner sanctuary lies in the realm of unjustified thinking.

The critical man must be the first to learn that good thoughts are man's highest ideal and that at the moment the thought is put into words or deeds it is the expression of himself.

When he criticizes another he is bringing forth into words his highest ideal which is himself, showing what is in his inner sanctuary. He breaks two of the Beatitudes in the doing of it. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God," and "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion: for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?—Eccl. 3:22.

Unpublished Taft Letter Shows Faith in President and His Businessmen Aides

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — While the late Sen. Taft did not agree with some of the policies of the Eisenhower administration, a hitherto unpublished letter shows that the Ohio senator felt complete confidence that government finances would be put on a sound basis beginning July 1, 1954.

On May 7, 1953 — when serious illness was already beginning to keep the Ohio senator away from his work — he wrote to Charles H. Keinath of Newark, Ohio, as follows:

"I have your recent letter indicating your concern and criticism of the new administration, and I have read with interest your analysis of the present situation in Washington.

"The new administration has appointed to office men with limited experience in government but wide experience in business. These men have been shocked at the conditions they have found.

"The Truman administration was made up of people who believed that government spending was a good thing in itself, and there never has been an organization in the history of the world where there was such an uncontrolled and uneconomic spending.

"The officials of the Eisenhower administration have undertaken seriously to reduce their departments to a business basis.

"Furthermore, the government is bound by many commitments which cannot be terminated over night. More than $80 billion of appropriations from past years will be unspent on July 1, 1953, to which the Truman administration added a request for further appropriations of $73 billion.

"It is a difficult and complicated job to find out how far we are burdened by the acts of the past administration. We cannot possibly expect to operate during the fiscal year 1954 at the level which this administration itself would have fixed if it had been in control.

"The Eisenhower administration will not have a really free hand until the year which begins July 1, 1954.

"I cannot in this letter discuss all the single criticisms which have been pointed to the Eisenhower administration. However there can be no doubt about the sincerity of their efforts, and the public will have to remember that progress is necessarily slow, because they have taken over a tremendous job.

"The federal government is ten times the size of the government in 1933 which is the last time there was a complete change in administration."

It is known that Sen. Taft had the highest admiration for George Humphrey, now secretary of the treasury, and it is an interesting coincidence that the prophecy in this letter, just four months later, should begin to be fulfilled.

For Mr. Humphrey is just now giving the country the best news it has had on the fiscal situation since the Eisenhower administration took office.

Progress is really being made toward a balanced budget. For a $3.8-billion deficit for the fiscal year ending next July is compared with the $9.4-billion deficit which ended the fiscal year 1953, for the greater part of which the Truman administration was responsible.

As Sen. Taft wrote in his letter, it is in the fiscal year which begins ten months from now — on July 1, 1954 — that the Eisenhower administration aims to balance the budget.

The news from Mr. Humphrey's office on how things are progressing this year certainly encourages hopes for a good budgetary situation for the next fiscal year. It will make for a sounder dollar in this country and give it greater prestige throughout the world.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Sheer Physical Beauty Won't Make You Popular

Sarah is as good looking as millions of girls who win devoted husbands. But Sarah is not thinking positively. Actually, there isn't one real beauty per 100 college coeds. What men really go for is a charming girl who laughs and pays them big doses of compliments. Then they'll soon think she's beautiful.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case H-373: Sarah J., aged 24, offers a challenging problem.

"Dr. Crane, I am one of those unfortunate females who is not very good looking," she began, with a rueful smile.

"And it seems to me that we plain looking girls are seriously handicapped.

"For the stunning lookers get the best jobs. And if they make mistakes in their work, the boss tends to ignore them.

"But we get no favors at all. How can we compete with the beauty queens and win husbands?"

First of all, by changing your outlook on life Sarah already has indicated her negative viewpoint by calling herself an "unfortunate" female.

We human beings are not "unfortunate" unless we think negatively and grow envious of others.

Napoleon said he was no victim of circumstances, for he replied that he made his own circumstances!

Popularity is not a synonym for sheer physical beauty. In fact, many college boys have told me they deliberately shun the beauty contest girls, for the latter so often lack an interesting personality.

"They are just painted dolls," such men will say. "They try to get by on their face or figure, and that soon grows monotonous."

Well, not all beautiful women lack charm, but beauty itself is no surefire "open sesame" to dates and boy friends.

I've had such beauty contest girls in my office at Northwestern who would actually shed tears because they were not popular."

Most girls are definitely not beauty stars. Yet they win husbands. If you doubt this, just look around your neighborhood at all the married women and see how few of them are actual beauties.

But they are charming and delightful to their husbands, or they would never have rated wedding rings.

So how did they win their men? How did they obtain proposals of marriage?

By being wholesome, attractive personalities! And what makes a woman attractive to men?

Beauty is one item, so get all the value out of your figure and complexion that you can. But beauty is not the major asset.

Men prefer a girl with a cheery smile and the ability to carry on interesting conversation.

And to the average man, interesting conversations is that which revolves around himself and his talents or virtues. So join the "Compliment Club."

Be lavish with honest compliments about your companion. Pour them on thickly. For the more compliments you pay a man, the more attractive he soon thinks you are:

In psychology we have an axiom to the effect that "You cannot think ill of those who think well of you."

Briefly, that means if you girls first show a man you think well of him, as via the "Compliment Club" plan, then he will think well of you.

Indeed, he'll begin to regard you as wonderful. And that will actually make him alter his scale of art values.

For a boy who thinks a girl is wonderful, also considers her good to look at.

And that is why millions of so-called "plain" women win devoted husbands. For personality beats sheer beauty of skin and figure.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover printing and typing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

If political straws show which way the wind blows we have another bale of hay.

Every man Jack is running for something or other this November. As goes Maine so pops the weisel.

Not since Fiorello La Guardia ran on the Republican - Fusion-Liberal - Democratic - Labor catalogue have so many politicians wanted to save the nation. Fiorello is the little crusader who had more battle flags than battles.

We remember when the little man campaigned to succeed himself on the reform ticket. Which is certainly the height of something. Accentuated by elevator heels.

It is down Congress-way that the ideas of November will play seek with the next 12 months. The balance of power depends on who has his hair parted exactly in the middle.

At national conventions they pare down the difference by splitting delegates into proxies and proxies into halves. It takes nine tailors to make a man but two alternates can do it in politics.

We have had short term senators whose sterling qualifications fitted them to increase vacancies. In their efforts to boost the cause by television the committee reports one senior senator wound up on the Juvenile Jury.

We have rehashed the old frontier slogan, "Fifty-four-forty or fight." The fight will be in "fifty four."

The Democrats are printing a magazine called "Digest." They hope it's good for themselves and bad for the Republicans.

Ike's Republican majority in Congress is slimmer than a girdle ad.

Old-Style Placebos Were of Strychnine; Today's Should Use Minerals, Vitamins

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A placebo is medicine, usually something that has little or no effect, given to satisfy the patient's desire for medicine.

In my early days, a kindly doctor, gave me advice. He showed me his stock of placebos — a dozen large jars of tablets coated in a dozen different colors — but all of the same composition; namely, 1/100th grain strychnine sulphate, scarcely enough to give a mouse convulsions.

His waiting-room was always full of people who wanted some more of those pink, green, yellow or pearl gray tablets, at 25 cents a packet.

Complained a correspondent who had been given the run-around:

". . . lump in my throat which never seemed to go away . . . sent me to a throat specialist who said there was nothing . . . must be my nerves, so he told me to have a complete check-up at the —— Clinic to find the cause. . . after a few weeks on Iodin Ration I noticed the lump was gone . . . life became more rosy . . ."

My kindly colleague felt no compunction whatever. He said 1/100th of a grain of strychnine three times a day could do no harm and made most of the customers feel better.

This health column racket is getting tougher every year. Were it not for the heaven-sent solace and oblivion of the bowling green I'm sure I would have quit in a huff long ago.

Tell you what I'd use for placebos if I should decide to dust off my N. Y. State license and open an office for general practice at my old stand.

I'd use assorted liquid and solid preparations of essential nutritional elements (minerals, vitamins) which everybody requires to maintain vite or to prevent manifestations of nutritional deficiency disease, but nearly everybody fails to get from ultra-refined everyday American diet.

Using such placebos instead of the strychnine or other questionable medicines or poisons my colleague and mentor used so profitably, I could establish at say $1 for a two-weeks supply of alterative, tonic or blood builder, an honest sideline as remunerative as the "shot" racket which some medics today employ to separate gullible patients from folding money.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Cold Weather, Big Trout Put Pep in Ike's Vacation

By MERRIMAN SMITH

FRASER, Colo. (UP) — Backstairs at the mountain White House:

It is bitter cold in the woods at night around the Aksel Nielsen ranch where the President is staying. Consequently, Secret Service agents on duty through the night wear the same kind of heavy parkas used by American troops in Korea last winter.

Local residents are anxious to get a chance at St. Louis Creek when the President returns to Denver. This is the stream that goes through the Nielsen property. It was heavily stocked with rainbow trout, some reportedly weighing close to four pounds, shortly before the President's arrival here last Thursday.

The country around Fraser offers some of the most eye-appealing scenery in the West. The towering mountains back of the Nielsen ranch are flecked with snow patches and the President is trying to capture the high-altitude vista on canvas.

White House reporters traveling with the President were warned in Denver to brace themselves for rugged country and cold weather at Fraser. Consequently, they outfitted themselves in what they took to be true Western style.

Whe they assembled in Fraser for their first news conference with press secretary James C. Hagerty, the reporters and cameramen resembled the cast of a grade D shoot-'em-up movie.

"Oh, no, no," screamed Hagerty when he got his first look at the denim pants and shirts and broad brimmed Western hats.

"These, Mr. Secretary," said Frank Holeman of the New York Daily News, "are the writers of the purple page."

Helpful kitchen hints according to the President:

H version of vegetable soup looks more like beef stew. He uses huge chunks of top-grade beef. He is more fastidious about fixing his soup than he is about frying rainbow trout. Takes hours to cook.

He marinates his potatoes in vinegar before putting them into his potato salad.

He always serves bacon with fried trout. The bacon is sort of a by-product because he cooks it before the trout to get fresh bacon drippings which he mixes with melted butter for the actual fish frying. It is a very tasty combination.

The President uses a self-rising pancake flour made in Denver for his flapjacks. At least, Nielsen went into the general store here the other day, bought a good supply of the pancake flour and said it was for the Chief Executive.

RAF Red-faced as 'Kidnaping' Fizzles in Paree

WEST DRAYTON, England (AP)—The Royal Air Force still wasn't talking today about the travels of Leading Aircraftsman A. V. Rigden, whose disappearance in the Suez Canal zone July 9 kicked up a major fuss between the British and Egyptians. The British public, however, suspicioned the young man had been enjoying some real French leave.

After Rigden's disappearance, the British charged Egyptians had kidnaped him and demanded his release. Egypt said she knew nothing about him, but the British placed traffic controls around Ismailia for several days, arousing considerable resentment.

Until a terse RAF announcement yesterday that the 21-year-old airman was under arrest at the air station here, there had been no modification of the British charge he was being held by the Egyptians. The RAF said only that his disappearance was being investigated.

Rigden's parents visited him yesterday. His father reported:

"He woul ' only say that he had been held by French police in Paris, handed over to British authorities and immediately flown to this country."

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Trade Mark

Legion Opens 35th Convention

Fight on Air Force Cuts Shapes Up at National Meeting in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—The American Legion officially opened its 35th annual convention today with a sharp fight in prospect over Air Force budget cuts by the administration.

Lewis K. Gough of Pasadena, Calif., national commander of the organization, told convention delegates in his report that while the proposed 1954 budget gives the Air Force only 114 wings, 23 wings have been added to the Air National Guard and Air Reserve.

"Over-all, greater combat strength should be realized through a reduction in lead time, better utilization of personnel and equipment and by the elimination of waste and duplication," Gough said in his report prepared for delivery.

(An Air Force wing is a combat plane plus nontactical groups for supply, maintenance and such. Leadtime is the length of time it takes from the letting of contracts until a plane is ready for use.)

The legion's National Security Commission, headed by Thomas E. Paradine of New York, adopted without opposition, however, a report calling the present Air Force inadequate and especially short of replacement crews for the Strategic Air Command.

The legion's National Executive Committee, meeting late yesterday, merely "received and filed" the report without debate.

Joe Hodges, past department commander of the legion in Virginia, said the Virginia delegation will try on the floor—probably Wednesday—to get the legion to fight for restoration of a 143-wing Air Force.

The funmaking actually started yesterday with the 40 & 8 parade, a two-mile-long spectacle as gaudy as a circus and as noisy as a battle.

Police estimated that 75,000 persons lined the two miles of curbs to watch replicas of locomotives and box cars, reminiscent of France of 1918.

Pretty, high-prancing majorettes led the drum and bugle corps and bands.

The spectators did their best to match the marchers on color as well as noise, waving balloons and flags.

The main parade of the convention, a 10-hour affair, will come tomorrow.

Gough, in his report, said the planned reduction in the total strength of the Army means "increased reliance will have to be placed on the reserve and the National Guard.

He said the reduction in manpower strength will not be at the expense of combat units but will be achieved through better use of manpower and elimination of unnecessary overhead and support personnel.

Speaking on foreign relations, Gough said he was pleased to note that many recommendations of the legion's Foreign Relations Commission on Far Eastern policy, toward the United Nations, and in regard to participation in European defense "have now been accepted and implemented by the present administration."

He criticized opponents of universal military training and said the legion has made some progress toward a UMT goal.

"Previously," the national commander said, "it was the opinion of the President and the Defense Department that UMT could not be implemented so long as it was necessary to draft men under the selective service system.

"Now the President has directed the commission (the National Security Training Commission) to report on the feasibility and desirability of operating a military training program to supply trained nonveteran reserves while at the same time continuing induction for service.

"It has been, and continues to be, the contention of the American Legion that the present method is unfair in that only one out of six registrants actually serves in the armed forces. The five or six who escape service and the ordeals of conflict, also escape the reserve obligation which is passed on to the veteran."

He said the legion added its strength to supporters of the McCarran-Walter Act on immigration and naturalization "and have helped prevent direct attack on that law."

RIBBING A GIANT—The wooden piece being fitted into place by a Westinghouse worker forms one of the many ribs in a nearly-completed pattern for part of a giant steam turbine that will help power a new atomic energy plant in Ohio. Finished, the huge wooden form will be encased in sand to produce a mold. The casting from the mold will form a section of a 200,000 kilowat steam turbine generator unit.

Fisherman Ike Gets Trout on First Cast

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Fish in St. Louis Creek got their first chance yesterday to nibble at presidential bait—and it proved fatal.

President Eisenhower fished the creek for the first time since he arrived at his vacation ranch last Thursday. He snagged a trout on his first cast and his luck continued good, aides reported. A sore elbow which he bruised before leaving Washington early this month had kept him from fishing.

The President planned to tempt the trout again today.

Freed PWs Collect $2,079 for Japanese

INCHON, Korea (AP)—Eighty freed Americans today collected $2,079 for a Japanese civilian who "made life easier for us" in North Korean prison camps.

The money was sent to Kiyoshito (Mike) Tsutsui, who was captured soon after going to Korea with the U. S. 24th Division in July 1950. He has been repatriated.

Sgt. Wilbert R. Estabrook of Portland, Maine, said:

"Mike went to bat for us when he didn't have to—and when it was dangerous for him to step out of line. He was our interpreter with the North Koreans and he made life much easier for us when they were kicking us around and plenty were dying from starvation and cold."

There are more than 200 organized tenting campes in Germany scattered through the mountains forest and seashore resorts under municipal contro, and the number will be doubled this year according to the German tourists agency.

The perfect records are held by Muskegon and Ann Arbor among cities with 25,000 to 50,000 population and Monroe in the 10,000-25,000 population group.

Bob Considine Says:

Lodge, Vishinsky, Kinsey Busy During His Vacation

NEW YORK (INS) — Nothing funny happened to me on the way back to work.

But a lot of important things happened before that. The least-popular war in our history ended temporarily at least, and Russia gave the sensitive balance of power an awful jolt by touching off a hydrogen bomb or device. Only time will tell us which was worse.

In U. N. our man Henry Cabot Lodge said things to their man Andrei Vishinsky, and vice versa, which, if said in a Third Avenue bar, would have prompted the adversaries to step outside. But that isn't done in striped pants.

The only danger in U. N., as the wordy battles between the peacemakers raged, was that the windows (as well as the issues) would become clouded.

Eventually, we'll have to equip U. N.'s acres of windows with inside windshield wipers, so that those on the outside may discern the occupants. Or, rather, watch them.

Comforting, however, to have a fellow like Lodge in there shouting for us. He loudly answers the Russians before they finish squawking. In the course of answering them, he lays down a barrage of counter-charges.

"That way, we get at least an even break in the headlines," he explained recently. It was not a flippant remark.

Even the most ardent proponent of U. N. will grant that it is primarily a forum from which speakers seek to alter world opinion.

The unofficial book of the month, of course, was Doc Kinsey's 5-pounds of key-holing — achieved with the assistance of an eager beaver staff.

Personally, I like my friend Bob Ruark's "Horn of the Hunter" a lot better, even though it dealt only with wild beasties and jungle safaris rather than with the dangerous American female aged 2 to 90. (Wish Kinsey would release that interview he had with the 2-year-old.)

As the father of some impressionable and growing kids, I'm inclined to think it might have been better if the first gal interviewed by Kinsey had slapped his face.

Of books, Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "They impart sympathetic activity to the moral power. Go with mean people, and you think life is mean.

"Then read Plutarch, and the world is a proud place, peopled with men of positive quality, with heroes and demigods standing around us who will not let us sleep."

"Oh, shah!," said Mossadegh, during the month. Iran became a country which needed (as Bugs Baer once must have said) revolving doors on the palace. The shah, once back, immediately put the bite on us, and we responded heartily, having become immune to rabies.

I stopped by Bermuda for a few days to visit Al and Lillian Steele. The Mid-Ocean Club, intended scene of the Eisenhower-Churchill-Fernandel conference, is like a dressed but abandoned stage.

The sentry boxes and floodlights are still up. So is the wire barrier put up to envelope the Big Three, or big two and a half.

P. S. — It is rusting.

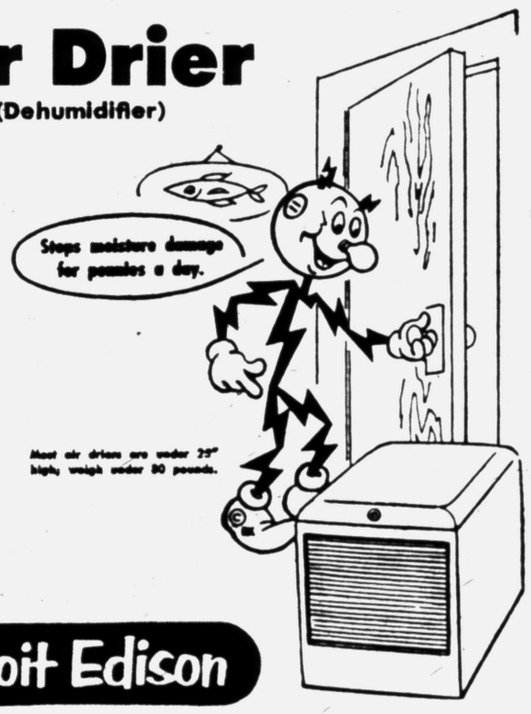

And so, with a convulsive shudder, back to work.

110,000 Chinese Attend Red Technical Schools

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Peiping radio says there are more than 110,000 students enrolled in technical schools to become specialized technicians, particularly in heavy industry, to meet the needs of Red China's five-year plan.

The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press, said the government was giving ever more and more attention to such schools.

Suez Settlement Rumored Near

British Are Reported Close to Agreement on Withdrawing Troops

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Britain and Egypt were reported near agreement today on evacuation of British troops from their big Suez Canal zone installation and future Western use of the base in the event of war.

A high official source said "almost all" differences had been settled and the two nations so long at odds were expected to complete a final agreement late in September.

The source said Egypt, in informal talks here, had agreed if Britain pulled her 80,000 troops out of the canal zone, Egypt would make the base there available again to the West in case of war.

But he indicated possible use of the base in the event of an attack on Turkey remained the chief point at issue. He explained:

The Egyptians contended Western forces should be allowed back into the canal zone only in case of aggression against Arab countries.

"The British at first insisted that this be extended to include cases of aggression against Iran, Turkey and Greece as well. Now they have given up Greece and Iran."

"Little questions" still blocking a formal agreement will be taken up, the source said, when Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, Britain's top negotiator, returns from London conferences around Sept. 16. He is scheduled to leave for Britain early in September.

Visitor's Yen to Go Fishing Stirs Uproar

TRUCKSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A Frenchman's yen to go fishing has turned this Luzerne County village upside down.

It all started when Pierre Antoine Jean Boutaud de la Combe from Menesplete, near Bordeaux, told Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Nunlist he'd like to do some fishing before he starts classes this fall at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Nunlists, who are entertaining Pierre, discovered that noncitizens are not eligible for Pennsylvania fishing licenses.

There was a call to Gov. John S. Fine. Then a telegram was dispatched to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower asking if she would transfer to Pierre a special fishing license issued her. But state law prohibits such a transfer.

Undaunted, the Nunlists are now considering an appeal directly to the Pennsylvania Game Commission for a secial dispensation.

The French student will attend MIT on a Fulbright-Smith-Mundt scholarship. His visit with the Nunlists was arranged under a State Department program called "Experiment in International Living," in which foreign students live with Americans in order to make friends and learn the language.

OUR PARADE OF PROGRESS has come and gone.

The big red trucks have packed up their shows and disappeared over the far horizon.

We enjoyed our stay and your hospitality; we hope that you enjoyed the things we had to show you.

If it gave you a clearer understanding of how General Motors links Science and Industry in the service of human needs, we are grateful.

We hope it accomplished one more thing: that somewhere in your city we have set a young boy to dreaming!

As we see our job, General Motors is not concerned alone with making good cars or fine products for today.

We are even more vitally concerned with preparing better cars for tomorrow and with providing even greater conveniences for future households.

For in so doing—in performing this task faithfully—we believe we are contributing toward a better country and a richer and more satisfactory future for our sons and daughters.

The real hope for continued progress lies in the spirit of individual initiative—in the methods and processes yet to be perfected and the discoveries still to be made.

That's why we hope that among the crowds who visited our exposition there were youngsters who found their imaginations stirred, who caught the glimmerings of a vision, who started in pursuit of that vision by turning to their home chemistry sets, their model kits, their tool chests and workbenches.

The first purpose of the Parade of Progress is to interest, to enlighten, to entertain.

Through that purpose we hope to make clear the processes by which American industry contributes to our national well-being and security.

But parades must sooner or later all reach their end. Progress is something that can never halt.

That is why we hope that somewhere we set a boy to dreaming—and set him on a road of usefulness and service to himself, his country and his fellow men.

FATHERS OF FLIGHT — The Wright Brothers

By Wade Jones and Ralph Lane

3 Generations of State Family Teach This Fall

GLADWIN (AP) — Three generations of teachers in the same family will be teaching in Gladwin County rural schools this fall.

It may not be a national record, but this central Michigan community is proud of it.

The trio was rounded out this year when Miss Beverly Lennon, 18, signed up to teach at one-room Ridge School beginning Monday.

That's where her mother, Mrs. Carol Lennon, and her grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Wirtz, taught previously. They will teach this fall at nearby schools.

There is an unusual parallel in the lives of Mrs. Wirtz and her daughter. Both taught a few years before marriage. They retired, raised families, and then returned to teaching after being housewives 20 years.

Miss Lennon doesn't know if history will repeat itself in her case, but she does share something else in common with her mother and grandmother.

None are college graduates, but all three are working on their degrees at Central Michigan College in Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Wirtz, 65, started teaching in 1906. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret White, taught school in Ontario, Canada, in the 19th century.

Mrs. Lennon, 42, started teaching in 1931.

Deny Van Fleet Asked to Head ROK Military

SEOUL (AP)—A South Korean government spokesman today denied a report that President Syngman Rhee has asked Gen. James A. Van Fleet to command ROK military forces as Korean general of the army.

Dr. Karl Hong Kee, director of the government office of public information, said such a report is "absolutely unfounded."

Brownell Sees Great Red Peril

Believes Commies Are More in Labor Unions Than Anywhere Else

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell said today domestic Communists are "a greater menace now than at any time" and that "I suppose there are more in labor unions than anywhere else."

In a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, Brownell said the Reds "have gone underground since the Smith Act trials started. They are better organized, and detection is more difficult."

Eleven top Communist officials were convicted in 1949 of conspiring to violate the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to teach or advocate forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

Brownell said the Communist party has lost about 75,000 members, bringing it down to about 25,000, since that trial and several others which followed it. But the 75,000, he added, 'are obviously subject to the propaganda of the Communist agents."

The party members who remain, he said, are "organizing their forces more effectively. . . and their espionage activities are much more underground than they were."

In response to a question, he said there was no early prospect that any of the unions expelled from the CIO serveral years ago on ground that they followed the Communist line would be put on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Brownell was asked whether the Reds were "not concentrated in the clergy." He replied "No."

There was no mention of the name of J. B. Matthews, former staff director of the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) Shortly after Matthews was hired by McCarthy, the American Mercury published an article in which Matthews wrote that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States today is composed of Protestant clergymen."

In the public uproar which followed, McCarthy defended Matthews. But after President Eisenhower asailed the statement, the senator accepted Matthews' resignation.

Matthews has contended he can document his article, which also said most Protestant clergymen are loyal. He has been promised a hearing before the House Un-American Activities Committee. No date has been fixed, but it seems certain no hearing will be held before October.

Caring for the tourists who come from all over the word to see the Leaing Tower of Pisa is now a major industry in that Italian city.

REV. RAYMOND L. WREATH

Pastor to Leave Local Church

Rev. R. L. Wreath Tells Resignation Sunday at First Christian

At the close of the service Sunday in First Christian Church (Disciples), the Rev. Raymond L. Wreath, pastor for past three years, announced his resignation.

The Rev. Mr. Wreath will become pastor of Columbia Avenue Christian Church in Rochester, N. Y., starting Oct. 1.

During his pastorate here, there have been 135 additions to the membership and local expense and missionary budgets have shown a consistent growth, church officials said.

Among the capital improvements are the waterproofing of the building's exterior now in progress, a new and larger men's room, a brick bulletin board, laying of a new floor in the gymn, reroofing of the church and conversion of heating system to gas.

The remaining indebtedness on the property also was liquidated during the current pastorate.

The Rev. Mr. Wreath is going to one of the prominent Christian Churches in the state of New York. His last Sunday in Pontiac will be Sept. 13.

Rev. Ivol Curtis Speaks in City

Former Pastor Here Is Greeted by Large All Saints Gathering

A capacity crowd greeted the Rev. Ivol I. Curtis at All Saints Episcopal Church Sunday morning when the former pastor preached at the morning service.

Mr. Curtis resigned in December 1952, to accept the pastorate of an Episcopal Church in Los Angeles.

Choosing verse seven of Isaiah 35 which reads "The burning sand shall become a pool and the thirsty ground springs of water," for his text, he spoke on "Dreams and Realities."

He said some folks progress in their living from delusion to reality while for others life seemed to be in the reverse, reality to delusion.

"To the Christian, life should have greater and greater reality, as the experienced traveler in the desert knows that the lake he sees in the desert is but a mirage and that beyond the desert is the real lake, so the dreams of life can have a real effect over our future," the former pastor said.

He spoke of the dream of the pioneer, of the scholar, and of the dream of the United Nations, that war should be outmoded.

The task of the world today, and the Christian, is to increase love and banish hate. "This," he said, "is the problem of the church, the community and the individual, as well.

Texas Cuts Time Limit on Separation Divorces

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The man or woman who wants a divorce in Texas because of long separation from the marriage partner doesn't have to wait as long to seek one now.

The legislature passed a law cutting the time from ten to seven years and Gov. Allan Shivers signed the bill putting it into effect.

The first gasoline-powered farm tractor was put into use about 1905; today, there are nearly four million tractors on American farms.

Couples Lose $450 in Boat Sinking

A near-drowning in Elizabeth Lake yesterday afternoon cost four persons over $455 in money and goods when their leaking boat went down as it neared the shore off Holiday Park.

Greatest loss was sustained by Mrs. Arnold Stalder of 26550 Plymouth, Detroit, who reported that $200 was in her purse when the boat went down. Also in the boat with the Stalders were Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Giltinam of Dearborn.

The couples rented the boat from a livery for a ride and the boat began leaking in the middle of the lake, they reported to deputies.

A passing boat took them to shore.

Korean Vet Celebrates White Hot Christmas

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—The temperature was a sizzling 96 yesterday but it was Christmas at the home of Marine Pfc. Edward J. Ryan.

Ryan was on the Korean battle line last Dec. 25 so his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Ryan, and his pretty fiancee, Shirley Jennings, decided to postpone the holiday celebration for his homecoming. He returned Saturday night and found a brightly decorated evergreen tree surrounded by colorfully wrapped gift packages.

One of the gits, appropriately enough, was an electric fan.

Although the average dairy cow produces about 200 pounds of butterfat a year in the United States, many cows produce as much as 600 pounds.

U. S. 'Doing Well' in Talks With Spain

NEW YORK (AP)—James C. Dunn, ambassador to Spain, says the United States is "doing very well' in negotiations for U.S. air bases in Spain in return for American aid.

Dunn made the statement to newsmen yesterday as he passed through here on a plane trip from Madrid to Washington for State Department consultations on the negotiations with Spain.

Dunn said of the talks with Spanish officials: "There is good disposition on both sides. But it is one of those negotiations composed of a lot of detail, and it takes time. It looks very encouraging and I am optimistic. The Spanish themselves, through the press, say that we are close to an agreement."

CAA Lists Increases in Navigation Aids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration today said a survey of its air navigation facilities for the year ended last June 30 showed:

A 14,000-mile increase, to 52,000 miles, in the total length of direct airways using the new radio range called VOR (very high frequency, omni-directional range).

A 2,000-mile boost to 20,000 miles in alternate VOR airways, allowing faster traffic in and out of busy airports.

A 4,000-mile step-up to 19,000 miles in oceanic routes.

SPANS ATLANTIC—Mrs. Marian Hart, 61-year-old, American sportswoman, flew a single-engined sports plane across the Atlantic in 13½ hours. The couple flew from Torbay, Newfoundland, to Shannon, Ireland.

Special TV Series Deals With Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Cancer Society and the Columbia Broadcasting System on Oct. 21 will start a series of color TV programs for the medical profession dealing with detection, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

The society, in an announcement yesterday, said the series of 30 weekly one-hour programs will be sent over a closed circuit to medical centers in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Toledo, Ohio. Other cities will be added later.

The society said it has allocated $250,000 to the first year's operation, with CBS paying the balance of expenses.

Son of Noted Balloonist Ends Flight in River

RIVERVIEW BEACH, N. J. (AP)—A family habit of floating through the stratosphere in a free balloon ended in a river yesterday for Donald L. Piccard.

The son of Dr. Jean Piccard, noted scientist who made the first free balloon flight into the stratosphere, took off from Chester with four others.

The flight ended a few miles away when the balloon and its occupants came to rest unceremoniously in the middle of the Delaware River. The balloon was towed to shore by a motorboat.

Young Piccard is a researh engineer living in Swarthmore, Pa.

Carmen Sylva was the pen name of Elizabeth, former queen of Romania.

Anxious to Be Comedienne

Scripts Based on Book 'Mr. and Mrs. Cugat;' Will Be Live Shows

BY JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, (UP)—That business of a pretty girl being like a melody is all well enough, but Joan Caulfield is a little tired of music.

She hopes her new television show will result in her cover girl looks taking a back seat to her ability as a comedienne.

The erstwhile stage ingenue turned movie star embarks on her big TV opportunity Sept. 12 as co-star with Barry Nelson of "My Favorite Husband" on the network.

The show will come "live" each Saturday evening from the Hollywood studio.

"I play a sort of wacky, dumb-smart wife in the series and this opportunity to play comedy is something I've waited for for a a long time," Miss Caulfield said on a quick trip to New York.

"From the scripts I have seen so far, I'd say I'll have ample opportunity to make up for lost time in this department."

Actually it wasn't too easy to keep Miss Caulfield on the subject of her show. She has two sidelines conversationally and they kept getting in the way.

One is the New York Giants, whose current low state has her feeling miserable, especially since she is a close friend of Loraine Day Durocher.

The other is her husband, Frank Ross, a movie producer for 20th Century-Fox.

"I can hardly wait for you to see 'The Robe,'" she said. "It's the first Cinemascope production, you know, and my husband's the producer. I'm just sick that I won't be able to be here for the premiere next month, but my TV show . . ."

This was a good opening. What's the TV show about?

"Oh, the TV show! Well, it's based on the book 'Mr. and Mrs. Cugat' by Isabel Scott Rorick, just as was the radio program, called 'My Favorite Husband,' on which Lucille Ball appeared from 1948 to 1951.

"I play the role of Liz Cooper and Barry is my husband, George. He's a young bank executive. We get involved in the troubles and fun of a suburban couple."

Miss Caulfield, who hasn't been on Broadway since "Kiss and Tell" in 1945, sees no change of doing stage work while she is tied up with the TV show, but she would do a movie if the right thing came along at the right time.

"However, doing one TV show 'live' each week is a big enough order and I'm going to concentrate on that for the time being," she said.

MY FAVORITE HUSBAND—Lovely Joan Caulfield caught in a romantic mood embraces TV hubby Barry Nelson as they portray the Coopers in a new television series. Titled "My Favorite Husband," the show will debut on Sept. 12.

46 Minutes in Air Sets Model Record

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UP) — A former Kalamazoo resident set a new national record for keeping a radio-controlled model plane in the air yesterday, but failed to beat the world record held by a Russian.

Dr. Walter Good, 37-year-old physicist with the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics laboratory in Silver Spring, Md., kept his model aircraft in the air 46 minutes. The Russian s mark is 62 minutes.

James Reed, president of the District of Columbia Radio Control Club, told a reporter Dr. Good was trying for the longer mark and "worked all day but couldn't make it."

Five other model plane owners also took part in the trials.

Dr. Good, who now lives in Bethesda, Md., held the old national record of 42 minutes. He set it in June, 1952.

Hamtramck Sergeant Got 1,300 Letters as POW

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (UP) —Sgt. 1. C. Steve Katsaros of Hamtramck, Mich., probably holds the distinction of being the top mail receiver held by the Communists.

When released Sunday, the 23-year-old Michigan soldier said he had received 1,300 letters during two and a half years as a POW.

"I hate to say it," he explained. "But it's all fan mail. I was well known at home and everyone wrote to me."

August Rains Cause Flood in Red China

HONG KONG (UP) — The Red radio at Hankow in Hupeh province of Red China said yesterday that heavy rains Aug. 12 and 20 caused a serious flood which left "thousands of field and property . . . under water."

The radio did not estimate the damage or give specific areas.

Says Bible-Barrage Was Not Forbidden

BONN, Germany (UP) — A U. S. High Commission official denied last night that the State Department had refused a church group permission to launch a barrage of Bible-laden balloons over Iron Curtain countries.

The Rev. Dr. Carl McIntire of Collingswood, N. J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches, charged in Amsterdam yesterday that the State Department had refused permission to float the Bibles from the U. S. occupied zone of Germany. The head of the Protestant organization wired President Eisenhower for "assistance."

Alfred V. Boerner, public affairs director for the High Commission, said, "actually, the council needs only clearance by German authorities. The only question is whether the State Department should intervene in helping the council obtain such German clearance."

He said the department had been asked its attitude and a reply was awaited.

PWs Yell for 'Ax' but Chinese Bring 'em 'Eggs'

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (UP) —"Eggs" and "ax" may sound the same to a Chinese who speaks little English, but to Americans 500 pounds of eggs doesn't get the wood chopped.

Lt. William P. Wyatt of Venice, Calif., freed today by the Reds, told the story:

The Americans needed an ax to chop wood.

They badgered the Reds for months for one, but were told it was hard to get supplies from China.

Finally a Chinese official told them in broken English he located "ax" but needed six men to carry it back from a barge on the Yalu River.

Warning them to be careful, he led them to the barge—and the men saw 500 pounds of eggs they had to carry back to their POW camp.

K2 Challengers Rest in Pakistan

Haggard Americans Failed to Reach Top of 2nd Highest Peak

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UP)—The would-be American conquerors of Mt. Godwin Austen (K2), the world's second higest mountain, rested up here today after the failure of their expedition and the death of one of their group.

The party led by Dr. Charles S. Houston, of Exeter, N. H., arrived here by plane yesterday from their headuarters at Skardu, Kashmir.

The expedition was forced back by bad weather which pinned them down on the upper slopes of the mountain which never has been climbed. Physiscist George R. Bell of Los Alamos, N. M., was brought back with frostbitten feet, and another American, Arthur K. Gilkey, 26, had become ill earlier.

Gilkey was killed when the party bringing him down by stretcher fell more than 100 feet over a knife-edged ridge. Though sunburned, all members of the party had lost considerable weight and looked somewhat emaciated.

Trading in Old German Bonds to Resume Soon

NEW YORK (UP)—A new German-American valiation board will start tomorrow the task of examining and verifying ownership of old German dollar bonds which have been in default since the outbreak of World War II.

The board announced yesterday that it had set up offices at 30 Broad St. in New York's financial district.

Trading in some 90 German issues will resume as soon as enough valid bonds and rightful owners have been determined by the board to establish a market value and permit orderly buying and selling.

105 'Die Hards' in Commie Jail

POW Reports on Men to Be Repatriated After All Other Prisoners

FREEDOM VILLAGE (UP) — A young Ohio soldier freed by the Reds today said 80 to 105 "die hard reactionary" prisoners once sentenced to jail by the Communists are now held in a special tent city four miles south of Kaesong.

Sgt. 1. C. Harley J. Coon, 22, of Dayton said these were Americans, British and Turks who were taken from their buddies at the time the armistice was signed and were told they would not be repatriated until they served their sentences.

Coon said these men now expect to be repatriated after all the other U. N. prisoners.

The Communists promised Saturday that they would repatriate all U. N. prisoners who want to go home.

Coon said the prisoners in this tent city — mostly sergeants and officers — are heavily guarded.

He said three Americans from his camp 4 at Wiwon are among them. He said the Reds had sentenced these men to prison terms of 9 to 18 months.

Coon said he saw one of them as he passed 'tent city' en route to repartiation.

Coon said seven sergeants from his camp talked with a Red Cross team yesterday at Kaesong, and told about the men held there.

He said the Red Cross team promised to try to get cigarettes to them.

Funeral Rites Friday for Bishop F. J. Haas

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The Most Rev. Francis J. Haas, the bishop of Grand Rapids who died Saturday after a heart attack, will lie in state at St. Andrew Cathedral from tomorrow until Friday.

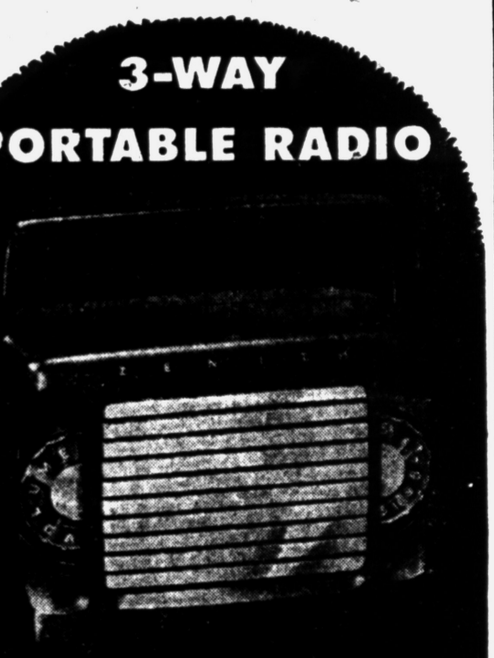

Funeral rites, including a children's mass and a pontifical requiem mass followed by final absolution, will be held at the cathedral Friday, the chancery office of the diocese of Grand Rapids announced Sunday.

Five bishops will participate in the final absolution rites following the funeral service at 11 a.m.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Raymond H. Baker, who was named administrator of the diocese Saturday by the Board of Consultors, will offer the children's mass at 9 a.m.

Let's have a LABOR DAY PICNIC

...And Make It A Success!

Each year the picnic season stretches a little later into the fringe of fall weather. Labor Day can be the spring board for autumn outdoor "feasts" with everyone from Grandfather on down to Junior sharing in the fun of preparations for the informality of meals served in the open.

Picnics used to be a chore. They too often turned out to be at least as tiresome as they were jovial. The big Sunday picnic was usually preceded by a full Saturday of work for mom in the kitchen and followed by a tedious drive home through Sunday night traffic. That left dad's nerves frayed and the kids curled up into restless bundles of sleep in the back seat.

But times have changed. When the kids shout "Let's have a picnic!" today it might mean breakfast, lunch or dinner out in the back yard, on a picnic bench in a nearby park or the traditional Sunday outing or "camper's feast." Yes, you read correctly—breakfast can also be considered a picnic treat when it is taken out of doors. And why not? Many families are finding that by getting on the road early, preparing breakfast on the picnic site over a small charcoal fire and returning by midday they can avoid the heavy road traffic that might otherwise add a tiresome note to a pleasant occasion.

No matter when or where the picnic is to be, you can be assured of success if you follow these two basic rules:

RULE 1—MAKE IT EASY. You can take the fun out of any outdoor meal if you make it a chore either to prepare or to eat. Half of the fun of a picnic is in its informality. It should offer a marked change from the routine of eating indoors—a change in both the type of food that is served and the way it is served. Paper plates, for example, are a picnic tradition. Plastic and plastic coated plates carry the picnic spirit too. But only the most finicky of eaters will demand that anything but a disposable plate be used for the outdoor meal away from home, or even in the back yard.

Food served at the picnic should be appetizing. But the fancy trimmings are out of character. For the backyard meal vegetables and salads can be pre-arranged on special trays in the kitchen without undue fuss. But for the feast away from home you will save a great deal of effort if you plan beforehand to serve all food out of the container in which it is packed for traveling. The use of refrigerator-packs — square shaped containers that were designed to take up a minimum of space and stack one on top of another—is a common trick with veteran picnickers.

RULE II—MAKE IT A GROUP AFFAIR. Whether it involves a single family, several families, an office group or just a group of neighborhood friends, a picnic plan should include a share-the-work clause. Considering the family picnic first, the burden of preparation of food and service should not fall on mom; she should enjoy the day too. Furthermore the picnic will be turned into a "family game" if everyone has particular duties and responsibilities. Dad is responsible for the fire and icing of the beverages and perishables; the girls help mom with the food and the young man takes care of the game equipment, bats and balls, portable radio, playing cards and perhaps the paper plates, cups and silverware. And someone—anyone—is given the particular duty of seeing that everyone else remembers to bring along the salt, a can opener and bottle opener.

For the group picnic it is always wise to appoint one person as the official "picnic secretary." This person may be relieved of any duty to bring along food or supplies. But to earn his or her meal, the secretary is responsible for drawing up the menu and being sure that through an even distribution of cost and labor burdens there will be enough of everything to go around.

Below you will find some general menu suggestions for the three types of picnics mentioned above.

Any meal can be a picnic if it is served up in picnic style out of doors. "Picnic style" includes a consideration of all the elements of informality plus a change of atmosphere and even a different type of menu.

THE BACKYARD PICNIC. One obvious advantage of this type of picnic is that you have all the advantages of home—no traveling; use of the kitchen for preparing special treats—coupled with the change from indoor to outdoor eating. Use of the outdoor barbecue pit or rolling barbecue cart will give dad a chance to show his skill as a chef.

But it's still a picnic even if it only means bringing the meal directly from the stove out into the yard.

PICNIC AT THE NEARBY PARK. The special feature of this outdoor meal is that the car can be loaded at the last minute with hot foods from the stove and served shortly afterward under the shade of the park trees. Casserole dishes that will retain their heat for 45 minutes or an hour make a big hit at the park picnic.

SUNDAY OUTING OR "CAMPER'S FEAST." This is the traditional all-day picnic that can be given an extra zip by taking along a collapsible barbecue grill and some charcoal for sizzling hamburgers, steaks or hot dogs.

What are the special picnic foods? Here is the beginning of a list for you to save; you can probably add many more of your own specialties:

TRADITIONAL PICNIC FARE

Fresh vegetables—lettuce, tomatoes, celery, carrots

'Sick' Elm Trees Found in City

Pontiac Press Photo

Fungus Causes Dutch Disease

Forester William Aho Having Both Removed as Control Measure

Recent laboratory tests show two positive cases of Dutch elm disease in the city of Pontiac.

The findings were revealed by Michigan State College which is doing laboratory cultures on 13 trees sampled throughout the city.

The two infected trees discovered so far are on public thoroughfares at 302 Clifford St. and 437 South Blvd.

The Dutch elm disease was first discovered in Holland after World War I, manifesting itself with wilting leaves followed by their yellowing and dropping, according to City Forester William Aho.

A cross section of an infected branch will show brown flecks in the sapwood. Directly beneath the bark, wood shows brown streaks when it is bare, Aho said.

He cautioned though that only a laboratory culture test can prove the presence of Dutch elm disease, for other elm diseases will cause similar discoloration.

The disease is caused by a fungus which develops on elms' sapwood, Aho stated.

It interfers with normal sap flow causing wilting and eventual death to the tree.

Vehicles of the disease are the American and European elm bark beetles as well as the sap stream of naturally grafted roots of elms close to each other.

Control of its spread is a major problem, Aho pointed out.

There is no effective cure for the fungus itself But spread of the diesease can be checked through "sanitation" of healthy tress to destroy possible breeding ground for the beetles.

"Sanitation", in the foresters' terminology means severe pruning and destruction of deadwood and devitalized limbs and sealing bark cuts where beetles nest and multiply.

To control the disease a Michigan Agriculture Department regulation states that all varieties of elm infected with the fungus are a public nuisance to be destroyed within 10 days of discovery of the infection.

City crews are now removing the two trees found infected by the MSC laboratory.

Parks and Recreation Department Director David R. Ewalt said his department is making a study of costs of trimming and spraying, making the elm trees in the city "sanitary" and will report findings to City Manager Walter K. Willman and Pontiac City Commission.

"Any action beyond that," Ewalt said, "must be authorized by them."

Oveta Outlines Health Problem

Tells Hospital Group Long-Term Illness Can Wreck Family Finances

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The head of the nation's top health agency called today for a way of "saving the average American family from destruction by catastrophic illness."

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby told the American Hospital Association we also "have not found a sure way to see our retired senior citizens through increased illness of age."

"Tuberculosis, strokes, congenital defects, cancer, urthritis, . . . by their very duration still can wreck many many a family's income," said the secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

She called on the hospital administrators to apply their "brains, their experience and their funds" to solving this problem.

Another major national problem, Mrs. Hobby noted, is a shortage of doctors and nurses. "We need to face the fact that we need more doctors of all kinds . . . doctors trained to the newer fields of medicine-geriatrics and rehabilitation to name only two."

She forecast an "inevitable" change of hospital structures and purposes "as the science of rehabilitation and geriatrics progresses."

The hospital business, Mrs. Hobby said, was big business —a 10 billion dollar investment —and is responsible for raising the life expectancy of the American people.

But she admonished the administrators "to be ever on the alert never to let his cash register problems so absorb him that he becomes a hotel keeper." She reminded the delegates there should always be a difference "between the professional services of the hospital and its hotel function."

Democratic Parley in Chicago to Seek Party Unity by Hitting Farm Policies

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders, still beset by internal dissension, look for attacks on Republican farm policies to become a rallying point for their efforts to restore party unity at a Sept. 14-15 conference in Chicago.

Farm prices, which recently turned down again after leveling off from previous declines, are certain to be spotlighted at a panel discussion of agricultural problems led by Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has billed the Chicago meeting as a sendoff for Democratic senatorial candidates in next year's campaigns. And high farm price supports appear to be one of the few national issues on which the 21 Democrats up for re-election can agree, almost without exception.

Southern Democrats who were critical of former President Truman and who show no enthusiasm for Adlai E. Stevenson as the presidential nominee again in 1956 can forget their party differences in support of almost any program that promises greater returns for the farmer.

That goes for such expected candidates as Senators Eastland of Mississippi, Ellender of Louisiana, McClellan of Arkansas, Maybank of South Carolina, Robertson of Virginia, Russell of Georgia and Lennon of North Carolina.

It goes also for Southerners more inclined to support the party stand on other national issues, such as Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate minority leader; Sparkman of Alabama, the 1952 vice presidential nominee; Kefauver of Tennessee; and the dozen Democrats from the North and West who are up for re-election.

Johnson said in a weekend analysis of problems likely to come before the next session of Congress that the agricultural situation is contributing to "disturbing signs in the nation's economy."

"Farm prices have been falling at a rate far exceeding the drop in consumers' prices," he observed. Noting that inventories are piling up in some industrial lines, he added:

"It is too early to say whether there are merely minor cracks in an otherwise solid economy or whether they represent the beginnings of a trend which could be deleterious to our people."

Thus far, none of these potential 1954 senatorial candidates has indicated he is voluntarily absenting himself from the meeting, as Sen. Holland (D-Fla) said he would do.

Holland said in an interview yesterday he is declining an invitation to attend the Chicago session because he believes the South has nothing to gain there. This was an obvious reflection of Dixie resentment over the civil rights stand taken by the party at last year's convention.

Holland said that until the South is taken into full partnership in the writing of the platform and the selection of presidential nominees, the national party is going to continue to find defections below the Mason and Dixon Line.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who helped swing Virginia to President Eisenhower in last year's election by refusing to back Stevenson, said he hadn't been invited to the Chicago powwow and had no intention of attending.

However, Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said he would go if he could arrange his schedule to attend the meeting.

A-Bomb Crater Tour Available in Sept.

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—Ever had a yen to wander around an A-bomb crater?

The military is finally prepared to gratify your wish with a nice, safe hole with no dangerous radioactivity.

The crater was made when the world's first atomic bomb shattered the dawn July 16, 1945. It will be open for a guided tour Sept. 6.

Still standing are the twisted remains of the steel tower, most of which was vaporized by the bomb. A small section of trinitite — the glassy-green fused desert sand — has been protected with a roof and may also be seen.

Chicago Couple Is Lost in Australia; Now Safe

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A one-time Chicago opera singer and his dancer wife, missing in remote central Australia for nearly a week, have turned up exhausted but uninjured.

The former Chicago Opera Company tenor, Victor Carrell, and Mrs. Carrell, a choreographer known professionally as Beth Dean, said they spent five nights in a cave near Ayres Rock after their car got stuck during a rainstorm. They walked into Ernabella mission south of Alice Springs Saturday night.

'Operation Tornado'

Flint Proud as Volunteers Complete 81 New Homes

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint was proud today of itself and its neighbors. In its northern outskirts stood 81 completed homes and 112 more in various stages of construction to prove hearts and hands can do much to erase the scars of tragedy.

Those homes took an estimated 80,000 man hours of work — all of it contributed Saturday and yesterday by volunteers. Beneficiaries were those who lost homes, and often loved ones, in a furious tornado that claimed 116 lives, injured nearly a thousand and made kindling wood of houses June 8.

The building bee was tagged "Operation Tornado," and workmen, skilled and amateur, flocked to the scene from many places. Around 200 came from Detroit. A group from Muskegon chartered a bus to get to the job.

When 4,500 turned to Saturday, they started on 111 houses from scratch. Some others already were partially up. They also found some gaping, gaunt basements without any building materials beside them —mute evidence of wiped-out families.

Red Cross financial aid, Red Feather fund contributions, and RFC and bank loans helped provid building materials. Flint dealers also gave discounts.

Where there had been 4,500 volunteers Saturday, 5,000 showed up yesterday. Four fell by the wayside from heat prostration as temperatures soared into the 90s.

Their work made Flint Mayor Donald L. Riegle hail "Operation Tornado" as a "thrilling success," and Project Chairman M. A. Borgman added:

"There's not another country it could have happened in. The Voice of America ought to blare this thing all over the world."

"For most," explained Mayor Riegle, "the free labor meant the difference between a home and no home."

The project began with a short prayer service Saturday morning. By last night, many families were moving back into their homes, and workers and victims were joining in a gay street dance. A 10-piece band came to do its bit too.

Moving furniture into this completed seven-room home, Allen Crosby wondered "how to thank all these wonderful strangers."

But perhaps Cecil Schaif put into words the feelings of all as he finished building a storm cellar into his reconstructed home:

"I hope that's the most useless thing I ever built."

Church Thief Keeps Up Record on Sixth Night

ENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — A busy Greenville County church thief didn't rest on the seventh day.

City View Baptist Church yesterday lost a tape recorder. It was the sixth of a series of nightly church break-ins which began last Monday. A different church has been robbed each night. All have been Baptist.

Reds Arrested in Election Plot

1,600 Agents Caught in Attempt to Disrupt West German Elections

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German police have arrested some 1,600 German Communist agents who infiltrated from the Soviet East Zone in an attempt to upset West German elections.

Officials said the Red plot — as the election campaign entered its final week — had been foiled.

Tight frontier controls were set up yesterday. Guards were posted at all train and road crossings along the east-west border. All travelers were checked thoroughly.

A government spokesman said last night most of those rounded up were members of the Communist "Free German Youth" organization. They traveled on forged papers and were well supplied with bundles of Red propaganda material and West German currency.

Authorities admitted that hundreds of the Red agitators probably still were at large and might try to stir up riots at election rallies or disrupt the voting on Sept. 6.

The undercover invasion, although widespread, was spearheaded in the industrial Ruhr, where the Communists are exerting their greatest efforts to swing the vote away from pro-western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

About 1,000 of the young Reds were arrested as they crossed the border at Helmsted. In other areas, 144 were nabbed in Schleswig-Holstein state; 150 in Bebra, 130 in Coburg, 170 in Altenau, 30 in Munich and 30 in the Rhineland-Palatinate state.

Some of the Communist agents were hauled back to the border by truck. Others were arraigned before West German courts or held for questioning. An estimated $35,000 worth of West German marks were confiscated.

Canadian Gobs Still Waiting for Ice Cream

ABOARD HMCS ATHABASKAN IN KOREAN WATERS (UP) — U.S. Marine Corps airmen owed the crew of this ship 700 pounds of ice cream today but the destroyer was moving so fast the Canadians have been unable to collect.

The Athabaskan rescued four U.S. airmen from the sea. Their total weight was 700 pounds, and the airmen promised to pay off pound for pound in ice cream for each man returned.

It started last February when the Athabaskan returned a jet pilot to the carrier Phillipine Sea after he crashed off Korea.

oficecream — to equal the weight of the flier — to reward the Canadians. But the destroyer had to leave before the ice cream could be transferred and the ships have not been together since.

Recently, the Athabaskan was guarding for the U.S.S. Point Cruz when a Corsair aircraft crashed. A helicopter reached the plane before the Athabaskan's sea boat, but the "chopper" crashed too, and the seaboat picked up its two-man crew and the injured Corsair pilot.

The men were taken back to by jackstay and in the Athabaskan's motor cutter.

Once again the ships separated before the ice cream reward could be paid. And the men of the Athabaskan are still waiting.

Arsenal Builds Tank Destroyer

Detroit Plant Develops Vehicle With Up to Six Recoilless 105s

DETROIT (AP)—A cheaper, higher-firepower tank-killer is being built at the Detroit Arsenal. It's one of a series of combat vehicles, designed to carry more guns than any tank in production now.

Designed to combat tanks, the new tracked vehicle is said to carry from 1 to 6 105 mm recoiless guns. Details of the vehicle's armament and design are top secret.

Nicknamed "The Thing," the tank-killer was designed to be semi-expendable and can be cheaply produced on a mass basis.

It is officially named "Ontos" and is mounted on a light chassis and uses a new type track. Arsenal tank section chief Daniel F. Smith said that the vehicle is light enough to be carried by transport aircraft.

Col. Benjamin Whitehouse, arsenal commander, said it merely is one of hundreds of projects being worked on at the plant.

Joker Pulls Off Theft; Police Asking for Chat

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"I want everything in the cash register," said a sinsister-looking man who kept his hand in his front pocket as if he had a gun.

As grocery store cashier Otto Smith opened the register, the man suddenly smiled and said:

"Forget it, I don't have a gun. I just wanted to see if it was as easy to pull a robbery as the papers say it is."

Police say they want to have a little chat with the joker.

5 Die as Truck Dives Into Japanese River

TOKYO (AP) — Five persons were drowned when a truck carrying 30 villagers plunged into a river near Sendai, northern Honshu Sunday, the newspaper Asahi reported today.

One is still missing and four others were injured.

Firestone Working After 4-Day Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — The giant Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. was rumbling back into production today after a four-day strike by 25,500 CIO United Rubber Workers ended in an agreement expected to set a pattern for the entire rubber industry.

The agreement was reached here last night after almost continuous bargaining during the walkout, which shut down Firestone plants in eight cities. It provides a 12-cent hourly pay raise package, including a 5-cent general increase which raises the average pay of the production and maintenance workers to $2.10 hourly.

Other benefits include a $25 increase in pension payments — to $15 monthly—and comprehensive, company-paid hospital and surgical insurance for employes and their dependents.

Catholics Celebrate in Upper Michigan

MARQUETTE (AP) — The Centennial celebration of the Catholic Diocese of Marquete began Sunday with a field mass in Memorial Stadium that attracted more than 5,000 Catholics from all over the Upper Peninsula.

It is beleived to have been the largest religious gathering in upper Michigan history.

The congregatior heard a sermon from the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Sryd, vicar general, who praised the early work of Indian missionary Frederic Baraga, first bishop of the diocese, and expressed hope that Bishop Baraga would soon be named a saint.

"It has been said that no Indian missionary was more beloved and revered by the Indians than Bishop Baraga," said Msgr. Sryd.

Another Business Firm Bombed in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An automobile agency was bombed in northeast Kansas City early today—the third such explosion at business firms in the last three days.

The blast blew out four plate glass windows and damaged a car at the Berl Berry Ford agency.

Police have been unable to find a motive for any of the bombings. There have been no injuries.

Exercises Will Tone Up Flabby Muscles, Flatten Protruding Tummy

36 x 72-Inch Towel Makes Perfect Mat for Home Workout

Do you want a flat tummy? If yours protrudes even in the slightest you may, if youre fastidious about appearance, want to do some exercises to tone up the abdominal muscles.

Rlaxed muscles, with consequent falling of the organs within the abdominal cavity, cause protrusion even when you're slender.

If your doctor gives you the go-ahead signal, you might take these abdominal muscle-toning exercises:

1. Get into a bathing suit or similar garment. Spread a 36x72-inch beach towel on the floor. (This will make a fine exercise mat, for it absorbs perspiration and keeps you clean).

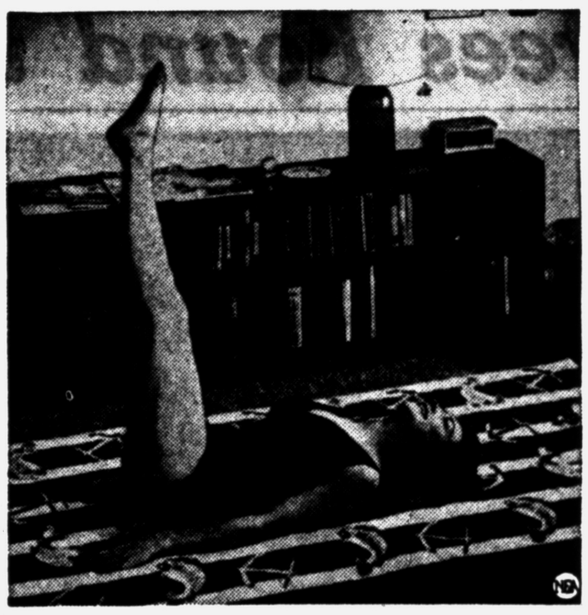

Lie down flat on your back. Raise yourself up to a sitting position without the help of your hand or elbows.

Increase from one time each session to 10 time each session. You'll feel the muscular pull along the lower margins of the ribs.

2. Again lie on your exercise mat. Raise both legs at right angles to your body, knees straight, ankles together.

Now let your legs down slowly as possible, keeping the knees straight.

The emu is the second largest bird in the world, the ostrich being first.

This girl uses a beach towel for an exercise mat. She is toning the abdominal muscles by very slowly letting her legs down from their right angle position. Her knees are kept straight.

Good Homemaker Able to Answer 8 of 10 'Yes'

What makes a really good homemaker may be debatable, but psychologist Ernest Dichter has come up with a test which may help to provide a few answers.

Writing in the September issue of a popular magazine as part of a symposium on home life, Dr. Dichter lists a series of questions for every woman who takes care of a home and family. Allowing one point for each yes, Dr. Dichter feels that a score of 8 is excellent, while a score of 6 just passes.

1. Do you run your home for your family? Answer yes only if you don't allow your tastes to dominate your family's.

2. Are you resourceful? Can you make simple repairs yourself?

3. Are you a good organizer? Do you run your home so that your chores leave you time for rest and leisure with your family?

4. Are you imaginative? Answer yes if you try new recipes, often have surprises for your family.

5. Are you a good cook? Do your family and guests compliment you on your meals? Do you know the nutritive values of foods for health?

6. Are you tolerant? Answer no if you insist on neatness and order even at the expense of the comfort and relaxation of your family.

7. Are you considerate? Do you remember things your family likes?

8. Are you self-possessed? Answer no if you go to pieces when unexpected company arrives, or the cleaning woman doesn't show up.

9. Are you companionable? Answer yes if you and your husband and family share one or more hobbies together.

10. Are you neat? Answer yes if you keep yourself and your home ready to be seen with pride, not apologies by outsiders and your family.

Woman With Writing Bug Should Put Talent to Test

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mrs. J. A. R. has written me a letter which is typical of many I receive.

The mother of four children, she wants something stimulating to do,and some extra money, but she cannot leave home. Like so many women in this situation, she has picked the idea of writing magazine stories.

It is always hard to know which came first — the desire to write or the desire to find something which looks painless, yet brings in money without leaving home.

However, when a woman has the writing "bug," there is nothing to do but go ahead and put it to the test.

Through the hundreds of people I have interviewed, I have come to realize that a writing drive must be given a chance.

Until it is, the person who wants to write will listen to no other suggestions. Once given a try, the person is then more apt to settle on another tack, if the writing proves impractical.

So my sugestion to Mrs. J. A. R. is that she go to her public library and get a copy of the Literary Market Place. This book gives the names of all major magazines, describes the kind of stories they buy, and lists the names of the magazine editors.

She should then study several copies of the magazine to which she would like to sell her stories, reading them carefully to determine the kind of material used, and, even more important, to get the feeling and tone of the whole publication.

Having done this, she should select some episode or experience from her own life about which to write. You cannot sell a story, no matter how well written, that doesn't seem to you personally important.

After that, she must type the story neatly, double-spaced on one side of the paper, mark it clearly with her name and address, and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for return if rejected.

If she submits stories regularly over the period of the next year, she will then have an idea of the possibilities of such a career.

It has been my experience that, given any talent and sufficient hard work, within a year one should receive at least one letter with suggestions or comments.

If all you get from a whole year of hard and consistent work is a series of stereotyped rejection slips, it is a pretty good indication that — even though you may be writing well — your writing will not sell.

Hair Trend: Bit Longer but Upswept

NEW YORK (INS) — Men who have longed for long hair to return to their favorite female heads will have half a wish come true next year.

Smart coiffures, which have been short as a redhead's temper for several seasons, now apparently are going to lengthen at last.

But just to keep the many close-cropped heads of today fashionable until they grow out, there seems to be a general feeling that although hair will be longer, it will be upswept to keep it still neat and close to the head—for a time, at least.

At the "M. Louis Design Institute," one of those well-established coiffure clinics where trends are set, the prediction is this: Hair lengths at the nape of the neck will be three to four inches (contrasted to one to three, as ruled by fashion last year).

And the general look for the immediate future will be "up and forward" — meaning swept up in waves and soft curls off the nape in back, and brushed onto the forehead in similar waves and soft curls in front.

Four Pointers Will Help in Picking Color Scheme

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Of course there can't be rules to guarantee successful color schemes—color is much too personal a thing and too varied, and rooms differ too much one from the other for that.

But there are a few good points to steer by. Here are four of them:

1. Choose colors that you yourself really like and that are becoming to the family and its way of life and to the house. What's "good this season" or what others take up matters little compared to how much colors can be enjoyed and their suitability.

2. Stick to a color plan and remember that everything counts, the woodwork, the flooring if it shows, picture frames, small accessories.

3. Choose most of the quiest color in the scheme, less of a medium color and least of the brightest and the shades that contrast most strongly with the others.

4. Plan contrast in light and dark and in surfaces and textures as well as in the variety of colors.

Florence Byerly, home furnishings editor, put this point in verse, with:

"Something dark,
Something light,
Something dull
And something bright."

Mrs. R. H. "Is it advisable to sand and refinish old soft wood floors that are in fairly good condition? Do you think I could do this well enough so that small shag rugs can be used instead of a large rug?"

Yes, careful sanding and refinishing should be successful. There are many interesting stain colors now, including driftwood shades and soft browns, which are easier to color scheme into a room than the old yellow varnish shades.

Since your floor color can be new, look for one which will do the most for the room color.

Mrs. J. F.. "Our house is ranch type and the living room walls are rather cut up with a picture window, a small window, the front door and a door to the hall and an archway to the dinette.

"What color should the walls be, and would you suggest one different from the others? Divan set is blue gray, odd chair antique gold, curtains white and rug cedar color."

An interesting shade of medium brown, to echo the cedar rug, would look well.

A second color for one wall cannot be recommended with no more information than you have given—the furniture arrangement, for example, makes a difference—but it is probably not advisable because the wall spaces are too broken.

If there is woodwork, it should be the color of the walls.

Poor Cook Is Problem for Friend

Latter Runs Out of Excuses to Refuse Dinner Invitations

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "I have a friend who is a very bad cook. However, she is a very hospitable person and frequently asks my husband and me to dine with her.

"I have declined these invitations as often as I dare without her getting wise, but I have run out of excuses and I really do not know how to cope with this situation.

"I am made ill by her cooking; yet she is a wonderful person in every respect and I do not want to lose her friendship."

Answer: Tell her that you really can't dine out because you are having trouble with your digestion and you can't expect people to cook especially for you.

If she says she doesn't mind cooking especially for you, then you eliminate the things that she cooks very badly and that disagree with you.

Dear Mrs. Post: When my girl friend and I are driving a friend of hers home from a movie, having offered her a lift, is it up to me to escort this girl to the door and leave my own girl sitting alone in the car? Or would it be sufficient if we merely wait until she is safely inside the house before driving away.

Answer: You should open the car door for her and wait until she is safely in the house before driving away.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just heard, indirectly, that a friend of mine is planning a suprise shower for me.

I have always disliked showers and, furthermore, I do not want to place anyone in the position of having to give me a present. Is there any way I can discourage the giving of this shower?

Answer: My answer is that you should put yourself in a grateful mood instead of a resentful one. In other words, meet the kindnesses of your friends halfway.

Dear Mrs. Post: When served an individual salad bowl as the main course at lunch, does one eat out of the bowl or take small portions over onto one's plate?

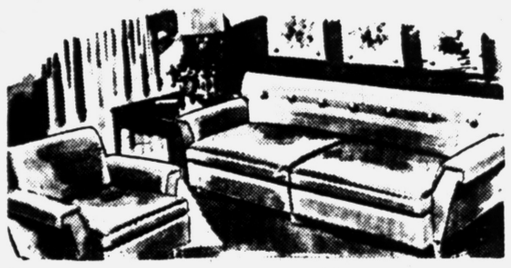

Answer: There is no rule. You may do whichever you prefer.

Uncle Officiates as William Aebersold Claims Bride

At a candlelight service Saturday evening in Central Methodist Church, Mary Ruth Maze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Baldwin of North Perry street, became the bride of William G. Aebersold.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman of Sault Ste. Marie, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white flowers and palms.

A ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin with a matching lace jacket was chosen by the bride. A fingertip veil of illusion was held by a lace band-style headpiece.

Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a white orchid surrounded by ivy with white streamers and stephanotis.

Mrs. Harold V. Lankey Jr., a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor wearing a ballerina-length strapless gown of white tulle with a pastel yellow stole. The bodice featured scattered daises and her headpiece was composed of daisies.

She carried a bouquet of daisy pompons.

William, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Aebersold of Tecumseh, asked his brother-in-law, Henry K. Smith of Tecumseh, to attend him as best man. Two Alpha Tau Omega fraternity brothers from Adrian College, William Hillis of Flint and Richard Hockins, were ushers along with Bob Richards of Saginaw and Fred Millis.

A deep purple crepe dress with dusty rose accessories and a corsage of dusty rose gladioli was chosen by Mrs. Baldwin for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Aebersold wore a navy blue crepe dress with dusty rose accessories and a corsage of dusty rose gladioli.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, after which the bride changed to a wedgewood blue suit with navy blue accessories and her white orchid corsage for a trip to northern Michigan.

Mary F. Sylvester Speaks Vows With William Beresford

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mary Frances Sylvester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Sylvester, and William Thompson Beresford were married in a 6:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening at Christ Church Cranbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford of Birmingham are the bridegroom's parents.

A garden reception was given in the home of the bride's parents on Snowshoe circle at Gilbert Lake.

Candlelight silk tulle over satin fashioned the bridal gown which was detailed in Alencon lace around the neckline. The same lace extended in princess lines through the bouffant skirt and cathedral train.

Y., sister of the bridegroom; Mary Booth, Betsey Deake, Mrs. Gerald Colson of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Mark Jung of Sheboygan, Wis., Mrs. John A. Bacon Jr. of Groton, Conn. and Debby Symmes of Winchester, Mass.

They all wore waltz-length gowns of primrose yellow pure silk with softly draped bodices and tiny sleeves. Tiny hats were trimmed with yellow daisies and velvet ribbon, and they carried baskets of yellow daisies and snapdragons.

For going away on her wedding trip to Old Trail Inn at Harbor Springs, the bride wore a red wool dress with bolero jacket trimmed in black taille.

The full skirt fell into a cathedral train, and her cathedral veil of silk illusion was held by a coronet of Rose Pointe lace. She carried a cascade of orchids, gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. John Preston Richardson of Detroit was matron of honor in white embroidered organdy over blue taffeta with a blue taffeta sash and matching organdy jacket. A crescent of daisies formed her headpiece and she carried a crescent daisy basket.

2nd Wife Shouldn't Fight Over First's Youngsters

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago, Mr. F. married and fathered children. Then something went wrong. His divorce gave Mrs. F. a generaous property settlement and him the right to receive visits from his children.

Until this summer, they have made them regularly. Now their mother has called a halt. Mr. F. has recently remarried and she refuses to allow them to visit the home of his new wife. She suspects attempts to win their affection from her.

The new Mrs. F. is indignant. "My husband and I are ideally happy. What right has this woman to treat me like this? Should she not be forced to send the children to visit us in justice to them, their father and me?"

Do I sense fear in this question?

Does the new Mrs. F. fear that Mr. F. will blame her for this situation? Does she feel he may lose faith in his happiness because it involves a problem? Is that why she wants to "force" his former wife to remove the problem?

I don't think a mother should be "forced" to send her childrn to stay with a person she distrusts and envies.

All we could gain by such action wouod be an increase of bitterness. Is that what we want for the children?

Let's not kid ourselves here. Let's consider the idea that we are not so concerned with the happiness of the children or their father as we are in self-justification.

If we find this is true, we are on our way. For self-justification can really mix us up here if we don't get on to it. It can harass us out of peace of mind by driving us to "force" the cooperation of distrust and envy.

That's just a waste of time. So let's stop trying to make the first Mrs. F. solve our problem for us and go to work on it ourselves.

This first summer of our marriage, how about working out some arrangement by which our husband and his children can be alone together?

What about removing ourselves from a situation where we represent tension so that they can talk about it freely without constraint?

The principle upon which we'd be operating would be, not dependence on someone else's justice, but reliance on our own sense of mercy.

It is quite possible that if we withdraw from this ugly battle this summer, we won't ahave to fight it again. By withdrawing, we may win the respect and gratitude no "forcing" could possibly win.

New Bread Welcome for Lunches
Can Be Made Early, Put in Freezer, Says Mrs. Huemiller

By JANET ODELL
(Pontiac Press Food Editor)

With the preparation of school lunches in the offing, a recipe for a different bread should be welcome. Your bread will be much easier to slice if you wait 24 hours after it is baked.

Mrs. Clarence Huemiller says orange bread can be kept in the freezer if you want to make it ahead of time for a party.

Mrs. Huemiller keeps busy with a young son and daughter, a house in the process of being built, a large garden and a few club activities.

She is active in the Lois Parker Unit of her church, the Willis PTA and is president of the Pontiac Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

ORANGE BREAD

By Mrs. Clarence Huemiller

Yellow peel of 2 oranges (discard the white part)
4 cups boiling water
¼ cup water
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
2¾ cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts, if desired

Cut the orange peel into very narrow strips. Pour the boiling water over it. Drain. Add to the peel the ¼ cup of water and the sugar. Boil these ingredients until they are the consistency of corn syrup. Cool. Beat the egg, add the milk and combine with the orange mixture.

Sift the dry ingredients and stir gradually into the liquid ingredients. Add the nuts, if desired, and beat until smooth. Place in a greased 6x10 bread pan. Let stand 10 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees about half an hour.

Avoid Sickness Schrub Hands,

Have you ever wondered how the doctor can visit patients every day, and yet seldom catch a contagious illness himself? Doctors aren't immune — at least, not without the precautions they practice religiously. These precautions are soap and water, faithfully used.

Why not do as the doctor does, when some member of the family is ill. Scrub your hands thoroughly after every contact with the patient or with things the patient uses.

And do you really know how to scrub? It's no hit-and-miss process. The doctor scrubs his nails with a brush, then lathers his hands thoroughly, then rinses them again and again with hot water. Another important thing to remember is always to use a clean towel for drying your hands.

Girl Complains That Six Close Friends Are Freezing Her Out of Their Circle

BY ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm reasonably popular and have lots of friends — in particular, six close girl friends. We've done practically everything together.

"When vacation started I had a job for the first three weeks, and when it was finished I thought I could again go on picnics and to the show with my girl friends.

"But things just don't seem as they were before. They never call me, and when I call them to go swimming or play tennis, they're always busy.

"When I see them at the show they're reasonably friendly, but usually leave early, giving me that brushed-off feeling.

I've stayed away from the show and have avoided calling them for weeks now, waiting for something to happen. But I'm sure something's wrong, though we've had no fight.

"I thought of asking the six to a party. I've tried going around with other kids, but I don't have any fun.

"I'm so lonesome, and I'm afraid I'm going to be left out completely when school starts. Have you any solution?"

It sounds to me as though you gave your six girl friends a rather thorough brush-off when summer vacation started. You say you had a job to do — but while you were busy at it, you didn't try to get in touch with them at all — you never found a free minute to see any of them.

You just went into hibernation while they started romping around together, getting their fun pattern set without you.

Maybe they thought you didn't want to bother with them. Maybe they didn't understand your silence and indifference. Maybe they figured you thought you didn't need them.

And now, though they still like you, they figure they don't need you. They make plans among themselves that don't include you. You let yourself be brushed off because you're slightly afraid of them now.

You're self-conscious about your outside position, and scared to stick too close for fear you'll be intruding.

Well, since you've not really fought, you've as much right in that crowd of girls as you ever had. And it's up to you to make your reappearance welcome.

Plan a very special outing this week and invite just two of the old friends to go along. Make it very interesting for them and show them that you're as fond of them as ever. Rapidly plan another special excursion and invite two more, then a third for the remaining two pals.

Two at a time will give you a better chance to re-establish your closeness. Two at a time will give the other four something to talk about!

Then when school starts you can drift right back into being always with them. They won't leave you behind, because you'll be in on the plans and tagging right along.

LISTEN LADIES! We're watching, very carefully, to see just how far the trend will go with these oversize earrings. Current favorites look like trapeze rings—and we're almost tempted to swing on 'em!

Choose Shorts in Right Length

"To market, to market—" but let's look attractive even when engaged in this mundane, housewifely chore. After all, our friends and acquaintances see us in the store and on the street.

If you're one of the many housewives who wear shorts around the house in summer and don't change when you go to market, are you careful to wear shorts that become you? The criterion is fixed by the appearance of your thighs and legs.

Few women beyond their 20's have thighs and legs that are beauty assets, but they can wear shorts and still be attractive if they'll choose the proper length.

There's only one length which is right—the Bermuda or knee-length shorts. These should be well-tailored so that they don't bag in the rear or outline the flesh. Choose a dark color for maximum slimming effect.

With their shorts, many women don't bother to put on an attractive top just to step out to the store. They needn't "put on" such a top if they'll have one on already.

Our average housewife beyond her 20's doesn't have the pretty bosom required by a T-shirt or summer sweater. But she'll wear one, or an outworn evening top, to market with her shorts, to the detriment of her good looks.

Mrs. Average-Housewife, why not wear a cotton shirt with your shorts, as well-tailored a one as you can afford, to give you that well-turned-out look regardless of the hour of day?

Among members of the Tuareg tribes of the Sahara Desert, the men wear veils day and night that cover all their faces except the eyes and the tip of the nose.

There's some question as to which started first—the war or the truce talks.

Damp Attics Are Lacking Ventilation

By HUBBARD COBB

Time was when the only spot in a house that was damp was the basement. Now it seems that almost as many people are bothered with damp attics as with basements.

Damp attics are the result of condensation and this in turn is the result of insulation applied without any thought to ventilation.

The remedy is not to rip out the insulation but to provide suitable ventilation to the attic space.

If your attic has windows it's easy enough to ventilate it by opening the windows at each end. Be sure to install screens to keep out the insects.

If the attic does not have windows, you can install ready made metal or wood louvers at each end. These, like the windows, should be covered with screening.

Place these louvers as close to the ridge of the roof as possible and don't try to get along with just one. A single opening in the attic does little towards improving the ventilation.

Some attics are nothing more than crawl space and installing a louver in them is impossible.

What you can do here is to make screened openings along the eaves or install patented vents in the roof—anything to get some fresh air moving about in the space above.

Remember that a damp attic can do a good deal of damage if left alone too long. It can start the wood decaying and be the cause of damp walls and ceilings.

Try It

Make Own Portable Grill

This is the beginning of the steak and wiener roast season. Isn't it funny how we do things at certain times of the year?

It seems that fall makes us want to get out-of-doors and into the open, and about that time I bet that you hear Mother say, "Oh my, I do hope that we can find a place to cook on."

You can now make this as a surprise for her. You can make this portable grill and take it along in your picnic basket. After it has been used you will always have to carry it in canvas or in a newspaper.

You will need three old auto license plates and some wire. Fasten the two end plates to the middle one by wiring them together through the holes which are used to fasten the plates to the car. Twist the wire around several times.

Your stove or grill is now ready for use. It will stand upright if the lower edges of the two side plates are always pushed into the ground a little way. Make a canvas pouch for it, too.

Royal Oak Rite Read for Couple

Mary Moore and Walter R. Denison Wed Saturday

Saturday evening the First Methodist Church of Royal Oak presented a setting of banked greens and gladioli in candlelight shed by three sets of cathedral candles, as Mary Doris Moore became the bride of Walter Ronald Denison.

The bride's grandfather, Dr. Eugene Miles Moore, minister emeritus of the First Methodist Church, performed the 8 o'clock ceremony, assisted by Dr. Paul S. Durham.

Mary is the daughter of Judge Arthur E. Moore and Mrs. Moore of Royal Oak, and the bridegroom's parents are the John P. Denisons of Bloomfield Hills.

Gowned in pearl lustered Italian silk in antique ivory, the bride carried a queen's crescent of tiny phalaenopsis orchids and sprays of stephanotis.

Pearl-studded Alencon lace framed the portrait neckline of the molded basque and was repeated in the traditional points of the sleeves, which tapered at the wrist. The full skirt flared into a cathedral train.

An Elizabethan coif of matching lace in the bride's own design held her tiered veil of silk illusion, which fell to formal length beyond her train.

The bridal attendants included Robin Squier of Park Ridge, Ill., as maid of honor, and bridesmaids Janice Wessinger of Huntington Woods, Joan Catherine Smith of Royal Oak, Lois Alenberg of Saginaw and Betty Wenaley of Detroit, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Their gowns, reflecting the jewel tones of stained glass windows, were tourmaline green undershot with iridescent gilt in costume taffeta.

Portrait necklines echoed the design of the bridal gown, and the full-length skirts belled from clustered waistline pleats. Coif caps of agate green velveteen tied under the chin.

The honor maid carried a semi-crescent bouquet of carnelian red fuji chrysanthemums centering a small cascade of variegated ivy with draecaena leaves, and the bridesmaids carried sprays of feathery chrysanthemums in colors shading from topaz to amber, with shaded leaves.

John P. Denison performed the duties of best man for his son, and ushers included the bridegroom's brother, John P. Denison; the bride's brother, Eugene A. Moore; Walter E. Simmons II of Grosse Pointe, Alva C. Tomlinson III and Richard Breck, both of Detroit.

Charles Davies of Birmingham, Eugene Hamaker of Marshall, Ronald S. Chipps of Kalamazoo, Terrance Andre of Saginaw and Frank Lena of Cicero, Ill., also served as ushers.

The bridegroom's brother, Tommy Denison, preceded the bride and her father down the aisle bearing the rings for the double-ring ceremony on a satin pillow, which was used by the bride's mother for her wedding.

The bride's mother was gowned in an Italian original design of handmade lace in alabaster ivory. The dress was styled with an oval neckline etched in petal relief, long sleeves, and a full skirt sweeping from miniature waistline pleats.

Her evening hat of cameo-toned panne velvet was designed in a leaf motif, and she wore a flower accent of rubrum lilies in garnet red.

Mrs. Denison wore an Italian import of marron brown silk organza with a satin jacket of pink sapphire, encrusted with bronze beads. A profile bandeau of bronze beading and a corsage of pale pink cymbidium orchids completed her ensemble.

Veronica Maximovich sang the wedding recital.

After a reception at the Orchard Lake Country Club, the bride changed for traveling to a princess costume suit of deep sapphire, collared in jet velvet. An elfin toque of ruby velvet and a cashmere coat in a glace cream color completed the picture.

The couple will honeymoon in northern Michigan before residing in Ann Arbor.

Pot Washing Tip

Pot washing can be an easier chore if these tips are followed: Use hot water to soak pans that were used for cooking fat and sugar; cold water should be used for pans that contained milk, eggs or starchy foods.

University Students Wed in Oxford Methodist Rite

Ann Arbor will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ginn Young when they return from a wedding trip in the Ozark Mountains.

They were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the Oxford Methodist Church.

MRS. RAYMOND G. YOUNG

The bride, the former Barbara Ann Woolcox, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Woolcox of Oxford. For the occasion she was dressed in a waltz-length gown of white satin, Chantilly lace and nylon tulle.

The fitted basque featured a Peter Pan collar, and she wore lace gauntlets on her arms. Her fingertip veil was held by a little cap, and an orchid with stephanotis and trailing ivy on a white Bible formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Leland G. Laurence performed the duties of matron of honor in a pink shantung gown with a fitted bodice and elbow-length jacket. A band of ivy with pink rosebuds formed her headdress and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Dressed in similar gowns and carrying green carnations were the other attendants, Mrs. Jack Brown of Oxford, Ardyce Mellendorf of Lake Orion and Betty Nimricher of Adrian.

Thomas Miller was best man for Raymond, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore T. Young of Voorheis road. Ushers included Robert Woolcox, the bride's brother; William Rexford of Grosse Pointe and Nathan Judson of Ann Arbor.

Aqua lace was chosen by Mrs. Woolcox for her daughter's wedding. Pink accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids completed her costume. Mrs. Young wore a jewel rose satin gown with cypripedium orchids.

The wedding recital was sung by Stuart Allen, accompanied by Mrs. Elva Willows.

After a reception in the church parlors, the bride changed to an aqua suit with white accessories for the wedding trip.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Young are students at the University of Michigan where she is a member of Tau Beta Sigma and he is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity.

Patricia Ann Ryerse Becomes Bride

Before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations, Patricia Ann Ryerse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Ryerse of North Perry street, became the bride of Don I. Hirsch Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hirsch of Locke road.

Officiating at the candlelight service performed before 300 guests was Dr. H. H. Savage.

The bride wore ivory satin fashioned into an 18th Century French court-style gown. The closely molded bodice was designed with a portrait decolletage outlined with tiny pearls and beads. The skirt, with the fullness of unpressed pleats, spread over a hooped petticoat into a train.

A matching satin coronet trimmed with pearls secured her fingertip veil of sheer illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of a white orchid, stephanotis, white roses and ivy.

As maid of honor, Donna Hirsch, twin sister of the bridegroom, wore a royal purple strapless gown with a tucked velvet basque bodice, a full skirt of net and a velvet shrug jacket. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums and ivy and wore a tiara of ivy with a cluster of orchid chrysanthemums in her hair.

Vonnie Whitten and Mary Lou Garcia wore gowns styled like the honor maid's. With the forest green gowns they carried yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and they wore tiaras of ivy with yellow and bronze flowers.

As flower girl, Nancy Slate wore a floor-length colonial frock of pink net over taffeta with a hoop skirt and she carried a pink and blue nosegay with a wreath of baby chrysanthemums in her hair.

Keith Bearden was best man with James Ryerse and Rodney Attwater as ushers. Duane Robertson, nephew of the bridegroom, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ryerse chose a street-length frock of brown velvet with lace trim, brown velvet accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

Mrs. Hirsch wore a street-length dress of cocoa crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of Briarcliff roses.

The reception was held in the church parlors after which the bride donned her going-away ensemble, a navy knit suit with navy accessories and the white orchid from her bouquet.

They will tour the eastern states for two weeks and will reside on North Perry street upon their return to Pontiac.

MRS. DON I. HIRSCH

Married Saturday evening in First Baptist Church were Patricia Ann Ryerse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Ryerse of North Perry street, and Don I. Hirsch. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hirsch of Locke road are his parents.

Coming Events

MOMS of America, Inc. Unit 2 will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Roosevelt Hotel to elect officers for the coming year.

The Pontiac League for the Blind will meet Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at 152 West Lawrence Street.

Leather Trim on Girls' Cuffs New for Fall

The prettiest, softest young girls' fashions we have had in many seasons will be on hand this fall.

Every design, every fabric, every color in girls' and teens' wear indicates that prettiness, softness and the light touch are part and parcel of young ready-to-wear for fall, 1953.

Cotton dresses in new prints and stripes, pastel trimmings, pale coats reflect a bouquet of colors never prominent before in young winter fashions. Sky blue winter mimosa, pink, fragile lilac are flower tones that are prominent in coats and are replacing white for regulation trimmings.

Leather trimmings are fresh unhackneyed accents for fall costumes—something new to children's wear. What could be newer than collar and cuffs of pastel capeskin or shiny patent with belt to match? And not only in collar, cuffs and belt sets is it new for young fashions, but suede in color to trim coats, jackets and dresses is a fashion touch with headline fashion news. Capeskin accessories are easy to care for—easily cleaned with a damp cloth.

All through fashion, arm in arm with pastels, black wends a merry way in dresses in all the size ranges. No one will be too young for black this fall—black youthfully lighted with color by stripes or small gay florals. Some of the handsomest new young cottons show black grounds joyfully striped in color; some of the newest coatings blend black with color; some of the freshest sportswear is braided in black, the fabrics grounded in black.

The youth advisory council supports a movement tolower the voting age to 18 and was issued a pamphlet on youth labor laws.

Rescue Plane Will Aid 8 After Canada Crash

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force has sent a rescue plane to the aid of eight RCAF airmen who survived a bomber crash near Churchill last Sunday.

All the men aboard the bomber were found alive near its wreckage, the Air Force said.

The plane, a Lancaster, disappeared in a violent electrical storm 85 miles north of Churchill, its destination on a training flight from Rockcliffe Airport near Ottawa.

Why English Don't Use Ice in Highballs!

BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Among the things you can find out from Richard Todd is the state of the British flim industry and why the English don't ice their highballs.

Todd is the handsome young Irishman who first attracted interest in this country in "The Hasty Heart," for which he won an Academy nomination in 1949.

Since then he has made three costume epics for Walt Disney, the latest being "Rob Roy," which he recently finished in Scotland.

The actor is here for a social and publicity whirl, and I nabbed him for a lunch. We discussed a variety of topics, and I guess I'd better put the more significiant ones first. Like how the film business is faring in England.

"It seems to be getting into better shape," said Todd. I don't mean that here is more work, because there isn't. The trend has been toward fewer jobs in the industry. But the business itself is getting on a more stable basis.

"While less pictures are being made, less money is being lost. Pictures are being made more economically and have a better chance to show a profit."

Todd is under contract to Associated British, which isn't as well known as the J. Arthur Rank operation. "While Rank would be losing a couple of million a year, Associated British would be making a couple of million," he said.

"But the British film industry owes a great deal to Rank. He came in with a lot of money and made important pictures. He raised the status of our flims in the world market."

Todd is here with his wife, who has been suffering from what he calls "an upset tummy."

"The same thing always happens when we come out here," he said, referring to the United States. "Both of us get upset tummies and I think I know what causes it—the ice in the drinks."

This brought up what Americans consider the curious English custom of serving drinks at room temperature.

"Mind you, we do ice some of our drinks," Todd remarked. "The long drinks — those with gin or rum—are usually served with ice. But I would never put ice in whiskey or brandy at home. They are at their best at room temperature. The cooler you make them, the less flavor and aroma you get."

American GI's in England had the common complaint about "warm beer." Todd defended his countrymen on that score:

"The best beers are the dark, malty ones, and they taste best when not cold. Of course, it is all right to chill the light beers which Americans seem to favor." But he had little regard for that type.

Todd confirmed the common belief shared by Americans that English coffee is awful and by Englishmen that American tea is atrocious.

"Our coffee tastes bitter to Americans because it has so much chicory in it," he explained. "However, I get no complaints over my coffee because I get the beans and grind them myself.

"I think the tea here tastes bad to Englishmen because of the custom of making it with a tea bag instead of putting the leaves in the pot. The kind of water you have may have something to do with it, too."

Todd has enjoyed his association with Disney, whose flims have established him as an action star. (He classifies his films as "more active than action," however.) He indicated he would be seeking the more dramatic type of picture in the future.

Here she ventures forth for a stroll, equipped with convertible protection. If the sun's hot, the parasol will shield Suzie from unflattering freckles. If it rains, she'll be "comfy" anyway.

States Collect Record Tax of $68 Per Capita

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 48 state governments last year collected a record $10,452,000,000 in taxes—or an average of $68.04 from each American.

Reporting this yesterday, the Census Bureau said the fiscal 1953 total was 685 million dollars more than was collected in the previous year. Most states end their fiscal years on June 30.

The bureau noted that the figures do not include local government taxes, which on a nationwide basis total nearly as much as state revenues.

Menshikov Is Named Red Delegate to India

LONDON (AP) — Former Soviet Trade Minister M. A. Menshikov has been named Russian ambassador to India.

Doctor Who Delivered Quads Dies on Ship

BRIXHAM, England (AP) — Dr. Walter Searle, 49, who delivered Britain's Coles quadruplets in 1950, died yesterday aboard a ship bound for New Zealand. His body was landed here today.

Dr. Searle, obstetrical surgeon at London's Westminster Hospital, successfully delivered girl quads to Mrs. Elizabeth Coles of London. The births were several days premature.

Russia Shuns Parley on Treaty for Austria

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has refused to send a representative to a meeting, suggested by the Big Three Western Powers to open today in London, to try to complete work on a peace treaty for Austria.

The State Department, making public the Soviet refusal late Saturday, said it was based on "flimsy" and "insincere" grounds.

Among other things, Moscow said the problem was not one which deputy foreign ministers could handle, as the United States, Britain and France had proposed.

Japanese Alpine Club Expedition Plans Climb

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — The Nepalese government has granted a Japanese Alpine club permission to attempt scaling the 26,658-foot Himalayan mountain Mansalu next spring, official sources said today.

The 14-member expedition tried to conquer the peak in northwest Nepal earlier this year but were beaten back by storms.

An eight-man team from Tokyo University also has been granted permission to attempt Anapurna peak—26,493 feet high—in central Nepal this winter. It already has been climbed once—by a French team under Maurice Herzog in 1950.

Girl Will Divorce First Husband, Remarry 2nd; 'Glad He's Safe'

LEXINGTON, Tenn. (AP)—Attractive Ava Nell Cogburn and James Hern, a tall ex-Marine, married last summer, two years after her husband, Sgt. Jimmie Cogburn, was reported missing.

Friday Sgt. Cogburn was released by the Communists.

Mrs. Hern said she will divorce the sergeant and remarry Hern.

The 24-year-old brunette said she was "happy and surprised" to learn Cogburn was alive.

"But," she added, "I don't love him in the way I love James."

She said she hadn't heard from Cogburn since he was taken prisoner in July 1950.

Hern said he would "stick by Ava Nell—I love her."

"It's worth all the embarrassment and trouble we'll have to go through to know the sergeant is okay," he said. "I only hope we can settle this with the least amount of fuss."

Cecil Manley, Mrs. Hern's father, also promised to stand by the young couple.

"They didn't mean to do anything wrong," he said. "They're young and happy making a good home together, and I'll do what I can to help them."

The sergeant and Mrs. Hern are the parents of a 6-year-old boy, James Danny. She and Hern have a month-old daughter, Marilyn Bonita.

Ex-POW Doesn't Know Names of His Twins, 2

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP) — A Marine lieutenant, the proud father of twin boys 26 months old, returned to freedom today and sadly said he still doesn't know their names.

Lt. Robert J. O'Shea of Merion, Pa., an aerial observer with the 1st Marine Division, was shot down July 3, 1951—the day he received a telegram telling of the births—but not their names.

He said he did not receive any mail in prison camp.

Communists Release Capt. John Payton Jr.

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP) —Air Force Capt. John Payton Jr., former husband of motion picture actress Barbara Payton, was freed from Communist captivity today.

The handsome, brown-haired flier said "It figures" when told his former wife is married to actor Tom Neal.

The last he knew, said Payton, "she was getting a divorce" from actor Franchot Tone.

Payton, of Burlington, Iowa, was a navigator aboard a B26 light bomber shot down near Pyongyang May 30, 1952.

LaStarza Hits Rocky's Rough Fighting Style

Champion's Slam-Bang Tactics Will Result in 'Soft Head'

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—Challenger Roland LaStarza expressed his admiration for Rocky Marciano but in an outspoken burst of oratory said that the heavyweight champion's slam-bang style of fighting is going to make Rocky "soft in the head."

"He's gonna get hurt," said Roland. "Maybe not by me. If I don't do it somebody else will. He takes two, three of four punches to give one. If he keeps it up he's gonna get soft in the head. That's no good He respects only his power to take and give a punch."

Only moments before, the handsome, 26-year-old ex-GI had said of Rocky in an interview: "He's a great fighter. He's the champion."

Then he came out with his explosive remarks in the midst of a discussion on what the average fight fan likes to see. It was agreed by all concerned that the fans want slam-bang action and blood.

"That's not for me, though," said LaStarza, who gets his crack at Marciano's crown in the Polo Grounds Sept. 24. "My idea of a great fight is when I can make a man miss and then inflict damage. It's when I can beat a guy without getting hurt—to win easy or by knocking my man out."

LaStarza is one of the handsomest challengers in heavyweight history. He hopes to keep his good looks. But he vows he's going to risk everything in a supreme effort to win the title.

Could he knock out Marciano, who has never been stopped or beaten?

"I could possibly," he replied. "I felt I beat him in our first fight (3½ years ago). I had him going at the end of the fight. He was stumbling to his corner at the end of the 10th round. If that fight had gone 12 rounds I would have knocked him out or stopped him."

22 Four-Baseers Break 5 Marks, Tie Two Others

Braves Blast 8 Home Runs in 1 Game, for Tie in Records

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

National League sluggers went wild yesterday, blasting 22 home runs to set five new records and tie two others.

Brooklyn's Dodgers walloped the St Louis Cardinals 20-4 and then saw their league lead cut to 10 games when the Milwaukee Braves trounced the Pittsburgh Pirates 19-4 and 11-5.

In the American, New York's 8½-game margin over Chicago remained intact after the Yankees split a double-header with the White Sox, winning 10-6 and losing 1-0.

But the spotlight was on the NL where these marks were recorded:

Major league record tied: eight home runs in one game, by Milwaukee. The Yankees hit eight June 28, 1939.

National League records set:

1. Eight homers in one game, by Milwaukee. Seven teams had hit seven.

2. Twelve homers hit in doubleheader, by Milwaukee. The Giants hit nine in 1939.

3. Twelve home runs in two successive games, by Milwaukee. Pittsburgh hit 10 in 1925.

4. Twenty-eight home runs on the road, by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews, who rapped three yesterday for his 41st, 42nd and 43rd of the season. Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner hit 25 on the road in 1949.

5. A hundred runs scored by Stan Musial of the Cardinals for the 10th consecutive season to break his own league mark.

National League records tied:

1. Twelve runs in the seventh inning, by Brooklyn. Chicago's Cubs scored 12 May 28, 1925.

2. Five runs batted in by Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella to give him 122 for the season. Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs set the record of 122 RBIs for catcher in 1930, later tied by Walker Cooper, Giants, in 1947.

While the 22 homers fell three short of the National League's record of 25 on July 16, 1950, the league raised its total home run output to 1,008, only 92 short of its all-time mark set in 1950. The American League hit only nine home runs yesterday to raise its total to 740. The league record is 973 in 1950.

Spearheaded by rookie Jim Pendleton's three homers in the first game and three by Mathews in the twin bill, the Braves practically assured themselves of second place.

Developments Fly in Fight to Reinstate Nine Preps

LANSING (UP) — There were four major developments today in the fight to obtain reinstatement for nine Michigan high school athletes ruled ineligible for one year for accepting merchandise awards.

The were:

1. Former Gov. Kim Sigler said he would go as high as the Michigan Supreme Court "if necessary" to seek reinstatement for the youths.

2. Rep. Harry Phillips (R-Port Huron), chairman of the powerful administrative rules committee, said he would call a special meeting of his committee for early next week to study the rules of the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) which made the boy ineligible. Phillips' committee has power to suspend any rule set by state board or commission.

3. A committee of businessmen at Hastings, where six of the boys attend school, planned to ask Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of public instruction, for a hearing on the case.

4. Rep. Gerald W. Graves (R-Alpena) planned to ask attorney general Frank G. Millard today for a ruling on legality of the MHSAA's "awards" rule.

The MHSA's executive committee ruled the nine preps ineligible Aug. 20. The committee said the Hastings boys made themselves ineligible by accepting $2.41 "reject" fishing rods from sponsor of a softball team and the other three youths, all from the Upper Peninsula, were ruled ineligible for accepting $2 in merchandise prizes from sponsors of a golf tournament at Escanaba.

"The rule under which these boys were made ineligible is arbitrary, harsh and silly," Sigler said. "I'll do everything in my power to see that these boys are reinstated, even go to the supreme court if necessary."

Connolly Makes 1st Appearance in U.S. Nationals

Three International Matches Share 'Spot' With Little Mo

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The first appearance of Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly and a trio of international matches involving U. S. and Australian talent feature today's program in the National Tennis Championships at West Side Tennis Club.

Miss Connolly, at 18 shooting for her third straight U. S. crown and a sweep of the world's titles, had a late afternoon date with Jean French Fallot of nearby Amityville, N. Y. It's only a mild test for the blonde whiz from San Diego Calif.

Headlining the international schedule in the plush stadium enclosure was a match between Rex Hartwig, Australia's handsome Davis Cupper and Billy Talbert of New York, the veteran who ranks sixth nationally.

But there were two other engagements attracting almost equal attention for those who like to compare the net prowess of the two major tennis-playing countries.

Wily Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 1950 national champion, was paired against Clive Wilderspin, the Australian who almost upset Ken Rosewall at Wimbledon this summer, and lefty Mervyn Rose, another of the Aussie aces, against Sidney Schwartz of Long Beach, N. Y.

As the tournament moved forward laboriously with no major surprises to date, the most discussed performer was a lanky collegian from California named Bob Perry.

The 20-year-old UCLA student from Los Angeles scored an important victory yesterday when he beat Harry Likas of San Francisco, 10th ranked nationally, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

His second-round opponent was Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles was the only seeded player to have trouble yesterday. He had to go five sets and 2½ hours to beat Clifton Mayne, 20-year-old University of California player, 7-9, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

'A' Champs Grab ABC Berth

Pontiac's Class A baseball champion Ortonville earned a berth in the American Baseball Congress state tournament at Battle Creek by sweeping a 2-game regional playoff at Royal Oak over the week end.

Ortonville downed Mt. Clemens, 2nd-place team in the Royal Oak circuit, 6-3 on Saturday and 12-6 on Sunday to eliminate need for an additional contest in the best-of-three series.

Drawings will be held today in Battle Creek for the 4-day ABC tourney which opens Friday.

A 3-inning scoreless relief performance by Roy Bone, who replaced Ortonville starter Herman Bishop in the 6th, helped the Pontiac nine take a 6-3 triumph over Mt. Clemens Saturday.

Catcher Jim Berg lashed out three singles in five trips and five of his teammates collected two hits apiece to spark a 15-hit barrage as the city "A" champs dumped Mt. Clemens, 12-6, Sunday to end the serise.

Art Pratt, the winning pitcher, struck out six and walked two.

Maccabean Games Leaders Defend Rule Restricting Field to Jewish Athletes

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The sponsors of the Maccabian Games, perhaps better known as the Jewish Olympics, which are scheduled to be held Sept. 20-29 at Tel Aviv, are anxious that the larger aims of their movement be known and any possible criticism of the present restriction of the field to Jewish athletes be headed off at the source.

To begin with, the infant state of Israel has some reason to believe that it is not surrounded by friends, and that if it is to survive and prosper its best bet is to build a country of strong young men who can move both to their right and their left. It believes that sport and athletics of every kind is the answer to that.

To that end, it has imported the best instructors available from every part of the world, including the United States, to give its young people their first real taste of sports, and it has conducted three previous games in which its learners have had an opportunity to compare their skill with that of Jewish athletes from as many as 19 other countries.

Now, says Col. Harry D. Menshal, the general chairman of the American committee, the time has come for the next step. This year, for the first time, a selected group of the world's leading stars in track and field, as well as in tennis, swimming and other sports, are having their expenses paid to Tel Aviv just to demonstrate their skills to the contestants and to an expected crowd of 30,000.

It is the hope of the Maccabians that their spectacle will grow in stature until it eventually will be possible to throw the competition open to Jewish and non-Jewish athletes alike, but they are quick to disavow any wish to ever rival the original Olympics. For one thing, their funds are much too limited, and for another it is doubtful that Russia or any of its satellites would ever enter.

Mathews Stars as Team Breaks Three NL Records

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "If anybody breakes Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in one season that curly-headed kid in the corner will do it."

That was manager Charley Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves raving about Eddie Mathews after the Braves whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a doubleheader Sunday, establishing three new National League records and tying a major league mark.

Grimm pointed to the strapping 185-pound Mathews with a gleam in one eye and the other orbit cocked on a 27-year-old Negro rookie outfielder, Jim Pendelton.

Mathews and Pendleton blasted six of the Braves' 12 homers. Pendleton hit three in the opener. Mathews banged two in the first game and added another in the nightcap as the braves trounced the Pirates 19-4 and 11-5.

Mathews' three homers ran his total for the season to 43. This put the slugger even with Ruth's record-setting pace of 1927 on this date — Aug. 31. Babe got his 44th on Sept 2.

However, Ruth collected his 47th homer in his 133rd game.

Mathews, with 43, alreay has played in 133 contests — so he's actually four games behind the Babe's pace.

Braves are idle today.

Slugging 3rd baseman's homers also gave him a total of 28 on the road this season, breaking the National League mark of 25 set by Ralph Kiner in his 4th season with the Pirates in 1949. Ruth collected 32 homers on the road with the 1927 New York Yankees to establish the major league record.

Mathews' 8th inning homer with two aboard in the first game also established a new National League record and tied a major league mark of eight homers in one game set by the Yankees in 1939. Seven clubs previously held the National League mark of seven homers in one game.

Joe Adcock's inside-the-park 2-run homer in the 7th inning of the nightcap helped the Braves eclipse a National League record of 10 homers in two consecutive games and nine homers in a doubleheader.

Detroit Is Winner in Speedway 'Drag'

Henry Cobsdill's Jaguar took the first sports car victory of the new 'drag" races at Partington's Pasture Speedway, Sunday, and he also turned in the fastest time for a sports car, a .59.02 for the quarter-mile strip.

Class A motorcycle trophy went to August Varady of Detroit. Richard Mitchell of Detroit had the fastest time for the cycles, hitting .68.06 for the quarter mile.

Drag races will continue at the Pasture every Sunday afternoon, owner Jess Partington said today.

MRA's Class A Title to Kazoo

Bob Walterhouse Has Indian Sign on Nine From Hamtramck

WYANDOTTE (UP)—Thanks to the sturdy arm of Bob Walterhouse, who pitched five week-end victories, Kalamazoo held the Michigan Recreation Association Class A softball title today.

Kalamazoo grabbed the crown in Sunday's finals by defeating Hamtramck, 4-0. In semi-final rounds, Kalamazoo trounced Saginaw, 11-1, while Hamtramck downed Ann Arbor, 4-.

Walterhouse allowed only three runs and 12 hits during his 35 innings on the mound. He struck out 28 batters.

Walterhouse held Hamtramck to one hit in the finale, while his own mates collected five. Hamtramck made three errors and Kalamazoo two.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies is the real workhorse among modern day pitchers. He has pitched 304 or more innings during the last three seasons.

Not Out Yet

White Sox Still Hope to Overtake Yankees

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Just about everybody figures the Yankees have too great a lead for the Chicago White Sox to overcome in the 1953 American League pennant race.

A couple of exceptions are the rival managers, Casey Stengel of the yanks and Paul Richards of the White Sox.

The Sox needed a sweep of yesterday's doubleheader with the New Yorkers to maintain any sound ambitions for the flag. But they had to settle for a split—losing 10-6 and winning 1-0—and now only a minor miracle in the form of a complete Yankee collapse offers any real hope.

The Comiskeys are 8½ games back of New York and they have only 24 games left to play.

Nonetheless, Richards and the Sox squad refuse to give up. "We're not out of it yet," was the Sox pilot's attitude after the day's activity.

Stengel was close-mouthed and wary of optimism. "I'm not going to say anything until I can see by the standings that we've got them licked," he declared. That was as far as he'd go.

Stengel is known to be keenly covetous of a record fifth straight pennant for his Yanks and only the most optimistic of Chicago backers would attempt to belittle his chance for it.

Statistically, the Comiskey players are not out of it. But the odds are heavy against them.

For example, even if the Sox should win their remaining 24 games the Yanks would have to win only 16 of the 25 they have left. And if the New Yorkers from here on out should somehow lose more than they win—say 13 of the 25—the Sox still would have to take 21 games to win the flag.

The Yankees, sailing along with a .667 percentage figure, can win easily if they maintain that pace and the Sox continue their .600 rate-of-winning.

Perhaps more pertinent at this point is a study of just how strong the Sox hold on second place may prove to be. Indians, who whacked the Yanks three straight before the New Yorkers came to Chicago, followed up Sunday with a double victory over Boston. The Indians trail the Sox by only a game and a half.

U. S. Tennis Championships Can Boast No Great Stars Like Tilden, but Matches Should Be Close

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—It was what you might call "long ago and far away" when we looked at William Larned and others in the tennis argument.

It seems almost as long ago when we saw Comet McLoughlin successfully battle Norman Brookes in a 17-5 Davis Cup set at Forest Hills. By that time the first battle of the first World War had been fought. That year, August 1914, Brookes and Anthony Wilding carried the Cup back to Australia with a 3-2 triumph before reporting for active service, Wilding for death.

This year the U. S. tennis championship will be quite different. There will be no Big Bill Tilden nor Little Bill Johnston on the menu. There will be no R. Norris Williams, Rene Lacoste, Henri Cochet, Gerald Patterson or Ellsworth Vines. Those looking on will see no Donald Budge, Fred Perry, or Jack Kramer.

There has been a long line of stars dotting the tennis highway from the Longwood Cricket Club of Boston to Forest Hills during the past 50 years. This year apparently there are not so many stars as usual, but there may be even more excitement.

I remember 1919 when the crowds came daily and waited patiently for Tilden and Johnston to win their way to the national finals. That year Little Bill defeated Big Bill, but it was his last time.

I saw Little Bill just before that match and asked him what he weighed. "About 118 pounds," he said. Yet he whipped Tilden that day. Johnston had the forehand of two giants.. It was something devastating.

Many of those old-timers are still around. Big Bill died lately, Little Bill many years ago. But Vines is playing sound professional golf and McLoughlin is doing well at Los Angeles. His game too is golf.

This new championship will be a good scramble. It features Vic Seixas, Tony Trabert and others from the U. S. It has Ken Rosewall, Lewis Hoad, Mervyn Rose and others from Australia.

This will be a very active week as there are a few unknowns who are capable of beating anyone involved. Which means also there is no one playing who can't be chucked out of action.

Bengals Win 2, but Boone Misses Homer Mark

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Tigers were breathing a little easier today after sweeping a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-1 and 9-1, Sunday.

The twin bill victory gave the Tigers a firmer grip on their seventh-place spot and allowed them to think about climbing to sixth. The wins put the Tigers two games ahead of last-place St. Louis and pulled them to within four games of the sixth-place Athletics.

Only Tiger who had any regrets about the games was Ray Boone, who missed a chance to break a major league record in the third inning of the nightcap. Boone came to bat with the bases loaded and a chance to set a new mark for grand-slam home runs. But his long fly fell a few feet short of the right field stands.

It was the husky third baseman's first time at bat with the sacks loaded since Aug. 12, when he tied several others for the existing record of four grand-slammers in one season.

Two Cleveland cast-offs, Steve Gromek and Al Aber, went all the way to lead the Tigers as they snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Tigers gave Gromek a three-run lead in the first inning of the opener on two walks, Fred Hatfield's single and Bob Nieman's double. Jim Delsing homered after Boone singled in the third to add two more runs.

Athletics scored their only run in the top of the fourth when Gus Zernial doubled and Carmen Mauro singled.

Detroit added two more markers in the fourth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Philadelphia started the scoring in the second game with its only run in the second frame. But Tigers came right back to tie the count in their half of the second.

Detroit took the lead in the third with one run and the Tigers never again were headed.

The victory was Aber's fourth against three losses. It was Gromek's fifth win against seven setbacks.

Ralph Branca (3-4) and Ted Gray (7-13) were slated to face Harry Byrd and Bo Bo Newsom of the Athletics in today's twi-night double-header.

Yankee Sextet Set 8 Home Run Mark in 1939

Braves Match Record Sunday With 8 Homers Against Pirates

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you name the New York Yankees who established the major league record of eight home runs in one game which was matched by the Milwaukee Braves at Pittsburgh yesterday? It was on June 28, 1939 and the Yanks beat the Athletics 23-2.

As a memory refresher they were Joe DiMaggio and Babe Dahlgren, two each; Joe Gordon, Tommy Henrich, Bill Dickey and George Selkirk.

And the Yanks came right back to win the second game of the doubleheader 16-0 with Gordon hitting two homers and DiMaggio, Frank Crosetti and Henrich one each. The 13 in two successive games is a major league mark, which the Braves failed by one to equal.

Stanky, Robbie Razz to Draw

Both Get Out 'Needle' During Sunday Rout of Redbirds, 20-4

BROOKLYN (AP) — Only pleasure manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals got out of yesterday's 20-4 rout by the Brooklyn Dodgers was needling Jackie Robinson. And he didn't get any better than a draw.

Robinson, bothered by a tricky knee, struck out twice during the Dodgers' 12-run 7th inning. Stanky striding as though on one rubber leg, limped to the water cooler and a minute later repeated the trip with a towel wrapped around his knee.

Robinson, back in the Dodger dugout, riped the lineup card on the wall and waved it tauntingly at Stanky — a reference to the fact that Eddie had twice this season snafued a batting order and caused men to be called out for swinging out of turn.

And, just to make sure Stanky got the point, Robby printed a message on a large piece of cardboard. It read: "How to make out a lineup — by Ed Stanky."

Caddies' Advice Help to Cherry

Texas Amateur Thanks Indian Youth for Aid in Canadian Test

MONTREAL (UP)—Don Cherry, the crooning Texan with the sweet golf swing, today credited his triumph in the Canadian men's amateur championship to an accidental invitation and six words of advice from the quiet Iroquois Indian lad who caddied for him.

Cherry was 3-down at the halfway mark in his 36-hole final with Don Doe of Granby, Que., Saturday but rallied to win 1-up with a par four on the 430-yard 36th hole.

Cherry was the only member of the United States Walker Cup team who took part in the week-long match play tournament and said he entered only because he received a surprise invitation. The balding Texan was playing a night club engagement in Toronto when an official of the Royal Canadian Golf Association invited him to enter the competition.

Cherry said his caddie advised the No. 3 iron for the approach shot on the final hole which won him the title.

Old Major Leaguer Still Wins on Coast

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Ancient Tony Freitas, a major leaguer two decades ago, won his 21st California League game last night, a 15-0 Stockton victory over Modesto.

Freitas pitched for the Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Athletics in the early 30s.

The 45-year-old righthander, who was pitching before many of his Stockton mates were born, won 25 games for Modesto in the Class C League two years ago. Last season he won 18 for Stockton—64 victories in three years.

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP) — With a chance to move closer to sixth-place, Tigers entertain the Philly A's in a twi-night doubleheader tonight. Ralph Branca and Ted Gray of the Tigers will face Harry Byrd and Louis Norman (Bo Bo) Newsom. Detroit trails the sixth-place A's by four games.

In Sunday's doubleheader, the pitchers not only had trouble finding the plate, they couldn't even locate their catchers. There were no fewer than six wild pitches during the sloppy proceedings. Ed Monahan made three and Frank Fanovich two for the A's while Al Aber uncorked one for Detroit.

In the opener, Jim Delsing slammed his ninth homer for Detroit. Bob Nieman hit No. 14 in the nightcap. He also had 2 doubles.

If you haven't seen the Tigers this season, you'd better hurry. There only are 10 more games on the home schedule: Aug. 31 — Philadelphia (2-twi-night); Sept. 1 — Philadelphia; Sept. 2-3 — Boston; Sept. 5 — Chicago (2); Sept. 19-20 — Cleveland; Sept. 22 — St. Louis (night).

Walter Johnson pitched 21 years in the major leagues, all of them with the Washington Senators.

Miss Faulk Sure of Curtis Cup Position

Trips Miss Riley in Final Round for U.S. Crown

Polly Boomed for No. 2 Spot on International Team for 1953

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—There's sure to be one newcomer, Mary Lena Faulk, on the 1954 Curtis Cup golf team and there may be several. But the committee which will select seven girls to play the British side next summer may have to fall back on the girls who lost in 1952 to round out the lineup.

The results of last week's 53rd U. S. Women's Championship will carry a lot of weight in selecting the team. And what that tournament apparently proved more than anything else is that the bright young players aren't quite ready to take over from the more experienced older girls.

And, since the 1952 Curtis Cup team was the first ever to lose to Britain, that poses quite a problem in choosing a winning combination.

Miss Faulk, as 1953 champion of the United States and semifinalist in the British Womens Championship, is an obvious selection. Now 27 years old, she was just reaching her tournament peak when the 1952 team was picked and didn't make it. Now a lot of the girls who play golf against her figure she's the best of them all.

From the start, the competitors tabbed the wiry, 5-foot-6, 120-pound Thomasville, Ga., girl as a possible winner. And Mary Lena justified their predictions with an impressive 3 and 2 victory over the stubby and stubborn Polly Riley of Fort Worth in Saturday's final. Her margin wasn't big. But the sub-par score of 73 that gave her a 6-up lead on the morning round was easily the best performance of the week.

As runner-up Miss Riley should be the No. 2 selection for her fourth Curtis Cup team. After these two—going strictly on results and guess work—the lineup could be something like this: Barbara Romack, Patricia Lesser, Dorothy Kirkby, Pat O'Sullivan and Mrs. John Hulteng.

Ivory Rangers Trip All-Star Team, 15-9

Ivory Rangers won their 19th victory in 21 starts Sunday, downing the Juan Rodriques All-Stars, 15-9. Rangers, sparked by 4-goal contributions by Jack Ivory and MacStefani, were never threatened after roaring to a 6-1 advantage in the 1st two chukkers.

Bob Peterson led the All-Stars with four goals, while Rodriquez scored three.

Coachers Bow in MSA

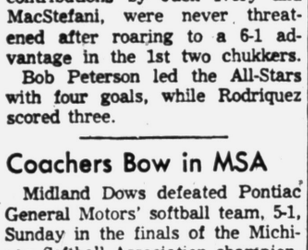

Midland Dows defeated Pontiac General Motors' softball team, 5-1, Sunday in the finals of the Michigan Softball Association championship tournament at Lansing. Dows swept four straight games in the weeken dtest.

SUNDAY'S STARS
(By the Associated Press)

BATTING—Jim Pendleton and Eddie Mathews, Braves—each hit three home runs as the Braves pounded the Pirates twice 19-4 and 11-5. Pendleton hit all three in the first game. Mathews hit his 41st and 2nd in the opener and his 43rd in the nightcap.

PITCHING—Billy Pierce, White Sox—pitched a four-hitter to win a 1-0 hurling duel from New York's Jim McDonald after the Yankees had taken the opener 10-6.

Bob Toski Finally Grabs Major Links Tournament

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Bob Toski won the top prize of $2,400 in the Insurance City Open Golf Tournament yesterday, and what do you think he's going to do with it?

He proudly proclaimed:

"I'm going to use the money to get married in December to Miss Lynn Stewart of Coral Gables, Fla. (formerly of Cleveland, Ohio) right after the Miami Open."

Toski, who has been a pro eight years, finally scored his first major golf victory.

To win, the 26-year-old, 126-pound slugger posted rounds of 66-66-70-67—269, a scorching 15-under par on the 6,541-yard Wethersfield Country Club course. Toski shared the lead with four others Thursday, and with Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, Saturday.

It was a popular victory. The mighty mite, next to Connecticut's Julius Boros, former National Open champ, was a favorite. Boros closed in 11th spot with 276.

Stranahan, warming up for the National Amateur next month, slipped to 1-over par 72 yesterday, for a 274.

Cartier Shoots for Win Against Rugged TV Foe

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Cartier, one of the many upset victims in the "house of upsets"—otherwise known as the Eastern Parkway Arena—hopes to square matters tonight when he faces rugged Garth Panter in a return 10-rounder.

Last July 27, the aggressive Salt Lake City middleweight, a 3-1 underdog, outpointed Cartier in a lively 10-rounder. Another surprise, besides the decision, was the fact that the bout went the limit.

Between the two, they have accounted for 58 knockouts in 108 fights. Panter has flattened 35 of 62 rivals. The New Yorker's kayo percentage is .500, 23 out of 46.

Starting at 9 p.m., the bout will be telecast (Dumont) to some sections of the country.

Hal Boyle Says:

Put Your Hobby to Work, Keep That Old Wolf Away

NEW YORK (AP)—There is more than one way to keep the wolf from your door.

Thousands of American families today are beating inflation by extra income earned by sideline pursuits.

Other thousands would like to do this also, but don't know how. Yet almost everyone can find a way to earn sparetime cash, if he but looks around him.

One of the best ways is to capitalize on your special interests or hobbies.

A former newspaper friend of mine, Ted O'Leary, editor of "The Profitable Hobbies Magazine," published in Kansas City, Mo., has collected hundreds of examples of how hobbies can be turned into a source of profit as well as relaxation.

One of the oddest is the case of Albert F. Marsh of Mobile, Ala. Some years ago Marsh received a single male hamster in payment of a $1 debt.

He bought two female hamsters and then began breeding and selling the little animals. Within 14 months he quit his job with the state highway department to devote all his time to the hamsters.

Within three years Marsh was grossing $4,000 a week, selling hamsters as pets and to hospitals and laboratories for experimental laboritories.

Being a housewife is no handicap in the search for gold mines in hobbies. Mrs. Myrtle Helm of Minneapolis began painting plaster figurines with friends in 1946 for fun. She wasn't satisfied with the paints.

With the aid of a chemist Mrs. Helm devised a quick-drying, hard finish paint that removed the need of kiln firing the figurines.

She began selling the paint and other supplies. Her husband resigned his post office job to help her. Soon their annual sales rose above $110,000.

Or take Mrs. Helen Simon of Kington, Wash., who searched for a way to augment her farm income—and found the answer in her own kitchen.

Mrs. Simon tasted some wild huckleberry jelly made by a relative. It was delicious. The idea came to her, "Why not try to market home-made jellies with wild fruit flavors?" She did.

In five years her sales jumped from $3,000 to almost $25,000 annually.

Such financial returns from hobbies as those in these three cases are, of course, unusual. But almost anyone with a little ingenuity can turn a ready dollar—as editor O'Leary's other case histories show.

Rudy Lecompte, a Baytown, Tex. oil chemist, bought an outfit for duck hunting and found he had no money left for decoys. He saw some buoyant driftwood and wondered if good decoys might be carved from this wood, which was plentiful.

He began doing so, now sells the decoys for $48 a dozen to other hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cox of Orlando, Fla. specialize in making deproductions of faded photographs in old family albums. They get their orders in house to house soliciting, sometimes earn $100 a day.

Janet and E. John Royle went to Arizona to be cattle ranchers on a place near Tucson. Then they got the idea of making novelty jewelry—pins, bracelets, earrings and necklaces — from cholla, or "jumping cactus."

They now have a country-wide market and virtually have forgotten cattle raising.

Age is no barrier. Mrs. George McCollum of Batavia, Ill. loved as a girl to make doll dresses. Now 81, she estimates that in the last 20 years she has made and sold about 100,000 doll garments to stores and individuals in all parts of the nation.

Each year she gives many doll outfits to orphanages, and her work has won praise from such people as Henry Ford, Helen Hayes, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Here is Mrs. McCollum's philosophy:

"If you get up in the morning knowng that someone is counting on you to accomplish something that day, then there is a real purpose and joy in living."

Market Tumbles One to 3 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy selling forced a sharp decline today in the Stock Market.

The tumble sent prices down to their lowest average level of the year.

Declines ran to between 1 and 3 points at the outside with losses of a point or a little more quite frequently throughout the list.

The greatest rush of selling came in the third hour of trading. The pace was pushed to around the two million share point. Friday's total came to 1,060,000 shares.

For the past two weeks the market has been in a process of adjustment to anticipated lower general business trends the remainder of this year and next.

Last week the market fell every trading day with the railroads in the van. The rails on average dipped to a new low. That focused trader attention on the industrial segment of the market.

Today the railroads continued on down and the industrials followed to a new average low.

That triggered professional selling on the theory that the occurrance was a bearish signal.

Wall Street brokers said the selling was mostly professional with little indication that the public was coming into the market at this point with any great volume of selling orders.

NEW YORQ (UP) — Something new has been added in soap.

Colored pictures and designs that adorn a cake of soap are being made to last as long as the soap itself.

You wash your hands and the pictures stay on the soap bar as it gets smaller and smaller.

Fair to Present GMC Trucks

Farm and General Use Vehicles Go on Exhibit This Friday

A comprehensive line of trucks for farm and general use will be exhibited by GMC Truck & Coach Division at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit beginning Friday.

There will be on display the 102-22 pickup and the 101-22 suburban. The suburban is an all-purpose vehicle with a metal body which carries a farm load and does double-duty as the family car as well.

Both are equipped with the 228 engine, which has the highest horsepower of any six-cylinder truck in its class and the highest compression ratio of any gasoline truck engine produced commercially.

The 632-42 cab and chassis will handle either truck or trailer. It weighs 28,000 pounds, and has a front axle capacity of 8,000 pounds and rear axle capacity of 21,000 pounds. Air brakes are standard equipment. The truck's GMC 426 engine is rated at 177 horsepower.

The stake body truck on view is the 353-24, powered by the GMC 248 engine. This medium-duty truck has a 4,500-pound capacity front axle and 13,000-pound capacity rear axle.

The 472-30 is equipped with the 302 engine, which in tests for the Army carried 10,000 pounds up a 60 per cent grade.

The Diesel feature of the show is the GMC D922-67, which uses the 6-71 Diesel engine that produces 225 horsepower.

Expansion of the nation's natural gas pipeline system, low fuel bills and new automatic features in gas appliance operation were given as principal reasons for the increase.

U. S. to Tighten Crutch Orders

Treasury Official Acts to Halt Inflation, Thus Stabilize Firms

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury Secretary Humphrey has given business a broad hint of what it can and can't expect in the way of help from the government as it starts its new year.

The new year for many businesses actually starts next month. If the expected pick-up comes after Labor Day, businessmen will plan accordingly looking toward a big Christmas climax.

But this year business will have to put more of its weight on its own feet and lean less on a cane supplied by the government.

That there'll be less monetary inflation to boost business is the conclusion businessmen are drawing from Sec. Humphrey's expectation of closing his fiscal year's shortage of only around 500 million dollars.

This would mean only a half billion of "new money" pumped into the economy.

In recent years this new money flow has been many times larger—and a chief source of the inflation which brought the purchasing power of the dollar down so sharply, but made business cash sales volume look so big.

The difference between an expected budget deficit of four billion dollars and a cash deficit of only one half billion comes about this way:

The conventional budget — the one the President submits to the Congress each January — does not include the money passing in and out of the treasury on its way to and from the various federal trust funds, such as the Social Security one into which workers and employers pay money and from which pensioners draw money.

These funds, however, go along with every other treasury receipt and expenditure to make up the cash budget.

When the cash budget runs into the red the treasury has to borrow—creating the "new money" which inflates the nation's credit system and brings on inflation.

Last fiscal year, for example, the cash budget was short by almost 5½ billion dollars.

Featured Lake One of Largest in Pontiac Area

The Oakland County lake pictured today on page 15 was not there when the first white men came to that vicinity 125 years ago. It was later formed by impounding the waters of a creek.

This also furnished the power for early manufacturing, but this was discontinued many years ago. The dam now is the foundation for a highway.

It is located in a township that bears the same name, and on its shore is a thriving village. Its area comprises about 750 acres of water.

In the early days it was known as Lake Canandaigua, and was close at hand to Oakland County's first big real estate development—which petered out. It has a score of islands, some of which are populated.

It is the largest among the 27 lakes in its township. It is very irregular in shape, with a shore line of at least 15 miles.

The shores of this lake were among the first in the county to be plotted for summer cottage purposes. Now it is the year-round home of 3,500 people.

For many years it was the site of a summer Chautauqua that attracted people from several states. A railway and prominent trunk line pavement skirt its shores.

The fast running creek that flows through it and the great number of springs in its bottom keep its water pure and fresh. Many of its banks are high and heavily wooded.

Among the early landowners on its shore were the Emmons, Carpenter, Deer, Porritt, Cummins, Spencer, Hogarth, Saylor, King, Andrews, Howarth, Axford, Lard, Emmons, Kline, Casimer, Glaspie, Kelley, Belt, Neal, Benjamin, Smith, and Hollister families.

You probably already have discovered the name of this beautiful and widely known lake. If not, it is Lake Orion, with the village of the same name on its shore, and formed by the waters of Paint Creek.

Local Packing Company Closed for Alterations

Kirby Packing Co. shut down Friday and will remain closed two to three months for modernization alterations, according to Manager Irwin G. Kampner. The Pontiac firm has 35 employes.

More than half the Eskimos in the world have never seen a snow house.
