Stabbing Victim Serious

Two Dead in Area Slayings

Pontiac Press Photo

DEATH SCENE—George Henry, 29, was shot to death at this Commerce Township camp site Saturday afternoon. The site is located at the Upper Straits Lake Resort Club, 9140 Richardson. Henry was seated at the picnic table just prior to the shooting. Henry's brother-in-law, Arthur Fleming Jr., has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the shooting.

Man Held After Park Shooting

A Farmington Township man is in Oakland County Jail awaiting preliminary examination in Commerce Township Justice Court on a charge of first-degree murder.

Arthur C. Fleming Jr., 29, of 25608 Farmington stood mute at his arraignment late Saturday afternoon before Justice John C. Weick in connection with the fatal shooting of his brother-in-law, George Henry.

Henry, 33, was shot once through the chest at about 1:45 p.m. Saturday at the Upper Straits Lake Resort Club, 9140 Richardson, Commerce Township.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Richard Rossman said, "There is no doubt in my mind that Fleming did the shooting."

Henry, his wife, Josephine and their four children, had been living in a tent at the private park since the beginning of summer. Prior to that the cement worker and his family lived in Detroit.

* * *

Rossman said the apparent motive for the crime was that Henry had allegedly propositioned Fleming's wife, Carrie, about one month ago.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said that Fleming had apparently brooded about the incident since it occurred.

Saturday he went to the camp site armed with a 38-caliber revolver. Deputies said Fleming told officers he didn't remember pulling the trigger.

Witnesses at the scene of the shooting included Mrs. Henry, who is Fleming's sister, and the defendant's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs: Arthur Fleming of Detroit.

SITTING AROUND

Mrs. Henry said she and her husband and the Flemings were sitting around talking when her brother came into the camping area.

Sheriff's deputies said that Fleming yelled at Henry and accused him of "fooling" around with his wife.

Henry told Fleming to put down the gun and started to get up from the table just before the fatal shot was fired deputies said.

Medical authorities said Henry died of extreme internal bleeding.

Fleming, a dark-haired factory worker, was arrested at the scene of the shooting by deputies.

Will Arraign Oxford Youth in Fatal Killing

Stabbing Allegedly Occurred in Fight Near Lake Orion Bar

An Oxford Township teenager was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon on a charge of first-degree murder in connection with a fatal stabbing shortly after midnight today in Lake Orion.

Richard Hartwick, 17, of 167 W. Drahner was charged in connection with the death of Russell Richards, 24, of 66 King Circle, Orion Township.

Richards was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital shortly before 1 a.m.

A third man, Larry Lyons, 23, of 111 Central, was reported in serious condition at the hospital, also suffering from stab wounds.

* * *

NEAR SCENE

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said a knife was found near the scene of the fight and this is presumed to be the murder weapon.

Hartwick was arrested at his home last night after police officers were led there by a State Police tracking dog.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor James R. Stelt said that the first-degree murder warrant was issued on the basis of a statement made by Hartwick and the investigation by police officers.

* * *

WERE RELEASED

Two other men, Kenneth B. Drobek, 20, of 641 Central, Lake Orion, and Donald W. Waltz, 29, of 724 N. Oxford, Oxford Township, were released today after being held with Hartwick.

Detective Fred Pender gave this account of the event leading up to the fight.

FIVE MEN

He said the five men had been in the Ver-Wood Tavern, 54 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, and an argument had started over two women.

The group went outside and

Cong Attack Police Center

Four Killed in Raid on Saigon Headquarters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a Jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of submachine gun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

The explosion seriously damaged the home of the director of the national police, Col. Pham Van Lieu. The headquarters consists of three buildings in a block-long complex of police buildings. Col. Lieu's home is next to the headquarters.

* * *

U.S. sources said the attack was probably carried out because of increased police activity in the Saigon area in recent months. U.S. authorities have been making a determined effort to increase the effectiveness of the police force.

Informed sources gave this account of the daring raid:

Sniping, Looting Continues in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that Los Angeles' six-day riot has ended.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sniping and looting flared again today in scattered sectors of Los Angeles' 42-square-mile Negro riot zone following the spread of violence overnight to other Southern California cities.

After the first few hours of daylight, police reported "this is by far the quietest day yet."

Then shooting and looting started again, as it has each day since rioting broke out last Wednesday.

There was no massing of mobs, however, and only a few arrests.

Fire fighting officials said "We're almost back to normal, except for considerable mopping up." Many of the blazes being fought today were never properly extinguished, they said, because of attacks from Negro gangs.

* * *

Many of the fire crews still wore bulletproof vests, borrowed from equipment developed for fighting in Viet Nam as protection against snipers'

The death toll stood at 32.

After five straight nights of rioting by uncounted thousands of Negroes, police removed most of the barricades in a 42-square mile "unsafe" zone and this morning residents moved about freely for the first time since Wednesday night.

* * *

As relief authorities moved three tons of food into the burned and looted district, police and 15,000 massed National Guardsmen kept close watch for possible renewal of sniping and fire-bombing in all-white areas.

'ATTACKS PLANNED'

A high-ranking police officer said the attacks last night and early today seemed "planned and organized." He didn't say by whom.

Then, with the dark, came spreading violence:

- Negroes rioted in a Negro section of Long Beach, 15 miles south of the old riot center at Watts. Long Beach officer Richard Lefebre, 24, was mortally wounded by a shotgun blast.

Police and guardsmen imposed a curfew from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. on a 12-square-block area of a predominantly Negro district.

- Gunmen, identified by witnesses as Negroes, shot at

Policeman Shot in City

A Pontiac policeman was shot shortly after noon today when he answered a family trouble complaint at 249 Orchard Lake, police reported.

Patrolman Robert Roland was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where his condition was believed to be satisfactory. He was shot in the shoulder with a 22-caliber rifle.

* * *

Police tentatively identified his assailant as Obie Peeple of 249 Orchard Lake. They said Peeple shot at Roland from a second floor window as he approached the building.

Peeple also was reported injured when police returned his fire. He was taken to the same hospital.

Extension Agent Cuts in Works

Statewide reorganization triggered by legislative budget cuts may cost Oakland County two-thirds of its Cooperative Extension Service staff.

The county's two 4-H agents, Mrs. Donald B. Montney and John H. (Jack) Worthington, will leave the county staff at the end of this month.

One home economics agent, Mrs. Noel Kurth, will be leaving at the end of September.

The position of agriculture agent, now occupied by Jay Poffenberger, may also be discontinued by the first of October.

* * *

BEING TRANSFERRED

Worthington, 4-H agent here for more than 11 years, is being transferred to a similar position in Cass County.

Mrs. Montney, who has been 4-H agent in the county for the past four years, will begin teaching home economics at Clarkston Junior High School when school opens.

Mrs. Kurth, home agent here for one year, said she will drop out of extension work at least temporarily to study for an advanced degree.

* * *

Poffenberger, a 10-year member of the county staff, said he has no immediate plans.

NOT OFFICIAL

Lyle B. Abel, Oakland County extension director, said the staff cuts won't be official until the September meeting of the state extension board of directors.

It appears to be definite, however, that 60 field positions throughout the state will be discontinued, Abel said.

If the preliminary cuts become final, Oakland County will be left with a director, a home economics agent and a 4-H agent.

The district offices for horticulture and consumer marketing will also remain in Pontiac, Abel noted.

NOT ASSIGNED

A 4-H agent to replace Mrs. Montney has not been assigned to the county as yet, the director said.

* * *

Abel pointed out that the budget cut thus far has resulted in no cutbacks in administrative personnel in the East Lansing office.

Slightly Cooler Due

Record Heat Sunday

You thought it was hot yesterday? You were right!

Records fell as the temperature soared to a searing 97 degrees.

It was the hottest day of the year and the hottest Aug. 15 in Pontiac history.

A cool front came through the area yesterday offering a brief respite from the heat as the mercury dropped from 96 at 5:30 p.m. to 70 at 11 p.m. Tonight's temperatures will range from 64 to 70.

* * *

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers. The high will fall between 86 to 90.

Temperatures will remain high Wednesday and scattered showers or thundershowers are predicted for the area.

The lowest mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 66. By 2 p.m. partly cloudy skies and a beaming Sol sent the temperature to 86.

Nearly 100 Killed in Chilean Disaster

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The government declared a national disaster today after a week of heavy snows, high winds and lashing rains took nearly 100 lives, ravaged 40 per cent of the nation's farmlands and isolated hundreds of towns and villages. President Johnson offered whatever U.S. aid is needed.

Blizzards raged next door in western Argentina and snow avalanches thundered down the Andes slopes.

One sketchy radio report heard in Mendoza, Argentina, said 46 persons were buried in the mountain village of Las Cuevas. There was no independent confirmation.

The toll of the storm in western Argentina: four known dead, 18 injured and 51 missing.

Chile's worst single disaster occurred at sea yesterday.

Forty-five navy men perished in the wreck of the cutter Janequeo, dashed against rocks in Bahia San Pedro, 546 miles southwest of Santiago.

The navy said 27 men were rescued. The cutter had been on a mission to rescue a patrol boat blown aground in the storm. It was one of Chile's worst naval disasters.

Ashore, avalanches, floods and other storm-caused incidents killed more than 50 other persons.

Communications breakdowns prevented the government from learning a full picture of the storm disaster. But officials described the storm damage as worse than that caused by the earthquake last March which killed more than 350 persons and caused more than $100 million in damage.

ATTACKED BY 'MONSTER'—Christine Van Acker, 17, of Monroe sports a black left eye after an encounter late Friday with what she described as a huge hairy monster who jumped on the side of her car and beat her head against the door until she fainted. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Rose Owens, who said she had had a previous run-in with the monster. State Police said that 16 persons have reported seeing it in the last two months. One of the witnesses sketched the drawing at left.

U.S. to Unveil New Policy on Soviet-U.N. Dues Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S. plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

The former Supreme Court justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

114 NATIONS

The 114-nation body was paralyzed all last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a showdown has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.N. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

The issue has become mainly a political controversy. The Soviet Union and France contend that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and the Middle East U.N. force are illegal because they were levied by the assembly rather than the Security Council. The United States disagrees.

The majority of the U.N. members have been urging both sides to avoid a showdown.

The special committee on peacekeeping operations has been trying to find a formula for ending the deadlock and at the same time work out plans for future peacekeeping projects. It is generally agreed that the United Nations $108-million deficit will be liquidated by voluntary contributions. The Soviet Union has agreed to make a substantial contribution once the assembly has returned to normal operations.

'JFK Felt LBJ Best Successor'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he considered him "the best man to carry on," Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Sunday night.

* * *

"He's fulfilled all of our hopes since then," said the younger brother of the late president.

Sen. Kennedy, speaking at a Democratic dinner, made no reference to the published account by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and assistant to President Kennedy, that the nomination was offered to Johnson as a political gesture in the belief there was "practically no chance Johnson would accept."

The former attorney general cited passage of programs in civil rights, medical assistance for the elderly, and federal aid to elementary and secondary schools under the Johnson administration.

Referring to Kennedy's 1960 primary campaigns in Wisconsin and other states, the New York senator said of the programs' passage:

"All of this has happened because men had a dream and were willing to go to the people and ask for their support on the basis of these programs. President Kennedy was such a man. And he knew that Lyndon Johnson was such a man, that he was committed to these programs, that he shared their dreams, that he was the best man to carry on this fight.

* * *

"It was for this reason that President Kennedy wanted Lyndon Johnson to run with him for vice president in 1960."

Sen. Kennedy's comments came in a speech recapping accomplishments of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations at a $50 a plate testimonial dinner for Wisconsin Democratic Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

Pedestrian in Hospital After City Accident

In fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning was Domingo Hewitt, 37, of 36 W. Wilson, who was struck by a car Saturday night as he crossed South Saginaw at Wilson.

A witness told Pontiac Police Hewitt was hit when he stepped out in front of a car driven by David D. Benac, 19, of Warren.

PHOTO OF MISSILES—The Defense Department released this diagramed photo today in Washington, describing it as a "recent reconnaissance photograph of a surface-to-air missile site in North Viet Nam." girls walked up to the guard at the headquarters entrance and engaged him in conversation

His attention diverted, he hardly noticed a Jeep driven by a man in uniform move past him and into the front yard of the headquarters. Then a green and white sedan drove up and he challenged it.

He was killed by a burst of automatic fire. The girls fled to a European car down the street. The drivers of the Jeep and the sedan ran from the headquarters building, covered by fire from another European car parked just across the street from the entrance.

HIT RUNNING

A guard believed he hit one of the running Viet Cong.

They entered the car across the street and drove off as both vehicles inside the compound exploded.

The getaway car made a pass near a small police substation several blocks away and fired on a guard, seriously wounding him.

* * *

Police later found the other getaway car, abandoned and booby-trapped. After defusing the bomb, the police found several submachine guns inside.

QUIET ENDS

The attack was the first serious terrorist incident in Saigon in seven weeks. More than 40 persons were killed June 25 when terrorists set off explosives at the My Canh restaurant on the Saigon riverfront.

South Vietnamese forces began a large operation in Quang Tri Province, bordering North Viet Nam, following up a saturation raid there Saturday by B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command. A briefing officer said five Viet Cong guerrillas were killed in the initial stages of the operation.

In the air war, U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew 218 sorties against the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m., spokesman said.

The pilots reported more than 200 buildings destroyed and 75 others damaged, they added.

Four U.S. Navy Skyraiders from the carrier Oriskany supported by three Skyhawks, hit the Ky Anh military barracks about 80 miles inside North Viet Nam, spokesmen reported, and the pilots said eight buildings were destroyed.

Rioting Continues in LA

homes in all-white Sylmar in the San Fernando Valley.

- Fire bombs flared on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, and lumberyards were set afire in Wilmington, at the harbor, and near downtown Los Angeles.
- In San Diego, 120 miles South, Negroes rioted through a 30-block area. A white man was stabbed. Three stores were set afire.
- In suburban Van Nuys a warehouse burned, police captured nine Negro men and shot and wounded a Negro woman.
- In San Bernardino 60 miles east of Los Angeles, milling Negroes smashed windows at a drive-in restaurant, but depressed swiftly when police arrived.
- Police arrested a Negro who tried to set fire to an apartment house in Hollywood.

VIRTUAL CONTROL

The first incident: an arrest of a Negro drunken driving suspect by white police. Thousands of rioting Negroes drove police from Watts.

Guardsmen from the California 40th and 49th National Guard Armored divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gove. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

* * *

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and yesterday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police — but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

JUST SHORT

Brown's party turned back just short of an area where gunfire blazed.

Early today the statistics told results of six days' rioting:

Killed 32.

Injured: 812.

Arrested: 2,847.

The Los Angeles Fire Department said fire damage totaled more than $175 million.

In every Southern California community with big Negro populations, tension mounted, crowds gathered, and police added extra crews.

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves.

Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence:

- A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" yesterday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock. Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.
- A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire last night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.
- A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State freeway last night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official.

"We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Inside the military perimeter thrown around the Negro section by guardsmen, shortages developed.

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs — among them many drug stores and markets. Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced last night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to reestablish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

Pope's Recovery Slow; May Have Small Ulcer

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI) — Pope Paul VI is recovering from overwork slower than expected and may have a small ulcer, a high Vatican source said today.

The pontiff came to the papal villa at Castel Gandolfo in the Alban Hills July 19 under doctors' orders to rest more and spend more time outdoors.

Guard, Police Enforce Peace

No New Outbreaks of Race Riots in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of police, supported by about 2,000 National Guardsmen held in reserve, continued today to enforce racial peace in a largely Negro neighborhood where rioting erupted Thursday and Friday nights.

There were no new outbreaks of violence Saturday or Sunday as police in the West Garfield Park area firmly pursued a policy of breaking up groups before they could become mobs.

* * *

More than 300 policemen patrolled the troubled area around the clock. Additional police were stationed in nearby police districts. National Guard units were on standby duty at five armories.

* * *

Violence erupted in the area after a Negro woman was killed by a fire truck responding to a fire call that turned out to be a false alarm. The rioting Thursday and Friday nights resulted in injuries to 67 persons and the arrest of 123.

28 ARESTED

Twenty-eight persons were arrested Saturday night and charged with loitering when they heckled police or were slow to follow orders to keep moving.

Few arrests occurred Sunday as 85 Negro detectives broke up and dispersed any groups they saw gathering in the streets.

* * *

Most of those on the streets were children at play. Traffic was proceeding normally through the area.

Taverns in the neighborhood remained closed on police orders.

HEARING CONTINUED

In holiday court, Magistrate Albert H. Laplante continued to Aug. 27 a hearing on charges against those arrested Saturday night.

More than 50 Negro clergymen circulated through the troubled area Saturday night, urging residents to keep off the streets.

* * *

Albert Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a civil rights group, expressed satisfaction with the restoration of peace but demanded that city officials investigate the cause of the outbreak.

* * *

"We're not going to be involved in keeping the peace at the price of injustice — continuing the status quo for these kids and others," he told newsmen.

* * *

Raby said many of the teenagers involved in the rioting were frustrated and angry. He said they expressed their resentment by hurling bricks and bottles at police and motorists.

Crash in City Leaves Woman Hospitalized

Rachen Vizza, 61, of 77 N. Roselawn is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following an auto accident Saturday night.

Chamber Officers Back Garage Assessment Plan

BIRMINGHAM — Officers of the Birmingham - Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce are backing the assessment method of financing the city's first parking structure.

City commissioners are expected to decide tonight how to cover the $1,174,000 cost of the project.

With a number of downtown businessmen objecting to establishment of an assessment district, the commission delayed taking action on the method a month ago.

The commission in June tentatively approved a 10 per cent assessment against property in the downtown district, with the rest of the cost to be paid through parking revenue.

* * *

PREVIOUS COST

Businessmen objected to the assessment on the basis that they already have been assessed for all the surface parking lots.

The parking ramp is to be built on the L-shaped lot fronting Woodward and Willits. It will provide 566 spaces.

In a letter to their members last week, chamber of commerce officers outlined their reasons for supporting the 10 per cent assessment.

* * *

They noted that the structure could be financed without assessments or increases in the parking rates.

TOTAL NEEDED

"However, if this financing method is adopted, the total parking authority revenue would be required to meet the interest and principal payments on the revenue bonds which would be issued," they said.

"This would leave insufficient revenue to be pledged to assure a second, third or fourth parking structure as our needs for more parking spaces in Birmingham increase."

* * *

The chamber of commerce officers are supporting a plan which calls for some of the cost to be raised through increases in the charge for long - term parking, or that over two hours.

3 Scientists Die on Peak

Killed in Fall While Mountain Climbing

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Three mountain climbers were killed and a fourth climber was injured in a fall on South Maroon Peak, west of Aspen, yesterday.

* * *

They were identified by the lab as Drs. Frank E. Pretzel, Robert B. Day and Herbert E. Ungnade.

The injured man was identified by the lab as William B. Martin, another laboratory employe but not a scientist. The lab said Dr. Donald W. McEachern, another scientist, was with the party but not injured.

* * *

Officials said they were vacationing in the Aspen area.

WILL RECOVER

Martin was taken to the Aspen Valley Hospital. Although his injuries were not listed, it was reported he would recover.

A fifth climber, Don McCathern, was not injured.

All but McCathern were reported roped together as they descended over a snow field on the 14,000-foot peak in a mountain wilderness 10 miles west of Aspen.

* * *

One of the four was reported to have slipped and all four were dragged down a slope.

FLY TO AREA

Dr. Robert Barnard, Aspen physician, and Alfred Braun, an experienced mountain climber, were flown to the area in a helicopter.

* * *

They found two men already dead and two others hurt, one obviously critically. He was hoisted on a stretcher to the helicopter, but the man was dead by the time the craft returned to Aspen.

Man Is Held in Diamond Ring Theft

A Detroit man is being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of larceny from a building following a wild chase through the streets of Pontiac Saturday afternoon.

Henry C. King, 21, was held in connection with the theft of a tray full of diamond rings from Enggass Jewelers, 25 N. Saginaw, about 1 p.m. Saturday.

Arthur Newberry, 41, of 24300 Scotia, Oak Park, manager of the store, told police that a shabbily dressed man came into the store about 12:30 and told a clerk he wanted to buy a ring.

After about 30 minutes, Newberry said he saw the man run out the front door with a tray of rings, valued at $2,000, in his hand.

Newberry and several police officers followed the fleeing bandit down Saginaw to Pike.

King was apprehended under a building at 52 W. Pike.

Officers said there was a trail of diamond rings from the jewelry store to the spot King was found.

Car Hits Fence; Boy, 3, Killed

A 3-year-old Pontiac boy, Charles Patton, was killed in an accident Saturday night when his mother swerved the Patton car to avoid hitting another child on a bicycle.

The car struck a fence on South Paddock.

Mrs. Thelma Patton of 137 Raeburn was listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning.

Her son, a passenger in the car, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The driver told police she saw a boy on a bike ride in front of her and hit the fence when she swerved to the left and applied the brakes to avoid hitting the boy.

She was traveling north on South Paddock near South Jessie at the time.

Crosses Sea in Tiny Boat

British Sight Sailing Newsman Off Coast

FALMOUTH, England (AP) — Robert Manry, an incredible sailor who crossed the Atlantic alone in a midget boat, met his wife 70 miles off England today, grinned at her and shouted a cheerful "Hello!"

The Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer newsman, 48, nudged his 13½-foot Tinkerbelle toward the Cornish coast and probably will reach Falmouth, his goal, within two days.

This will mean he has sailed the smallest known boat in history 3,200 miles nonstop across the Atlantic in 79 days through gales.

Out of touch for a week, Manry was sighted this morning off Wolf Rock. A trawler carrying his wife and two members of his newspaper sailed out to meet him. They converged in midafternoon.

Russell Kane, promotion director of the Plain Dealer, reported by radiotelephone on the reunion at sea.

TURNED AROUND

The trawler Excellent then turned around to return Mrs. Manry to Newlin, near Penzance, early this evening.

Manry was reported strong and well, dead on course in such a manner that the oldest sailors in this historic port called him a sailing marvel.

The Tinkerbelle was bobbing along under bright sun, helped by a gentle westerly wind.

* * *

It was apparent that with the helpful tides Manry was just about home and would glide into Falmouth harbor possibly around noon Wednesday.

If the tides change, he might have to "stooge around" a few more hours, but his problems — compared to those he experienced in last week's gales —are now minor.

Two fishing boats had sighted him earlier 60 to 70 miles from Falmouth.

While Mrs. Manry was at sea meeting her husband for the first time in 76 days, their two children — daughter Robin, 14, and son Douglas, 11 — greeted the latest news in Falmouth with shouts of joy.

* * *

Robin hugged her brother and cried: "It's wonderful! Daddy's coming, Daddy's coming!"

* * *

The youngsters may be taken out on a trawler to meet their dad before he puts in to Falmouth harbor and a noisy welcome.

From the trawler Excellent, with Mrs. Manry aboard, came word that the crew offered Manry a fried fish dinner but that he refused it.

The harbormaster in Falmouth said Manry could even make Falmouth by late tomorrow if favorable winds continue.

"Manry says he is fit and well and has asked for the course to the Lizard," reported skipper Harry Small of the fishing boat Trewarvenneth. The Lizard is a point on the southernmost coast of England, near Land's End.

The fishermen gave Mandry's position southwest of the Lizard and estimated he would reach Falmouth in another day or so if the present calm sea and fair winds persist.

Cease-Fire Line Crossed by India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian army has attacked across the cease-fire line in Kashmir and has taken three mountaintop Pakistani outposts in the Kargil sector, it was announced today.

A spokesman said the Indian army counterattacked last night after Pakistani forces tried to cut the road to Leh in the Ladakh sector where the Indians face Communist Chinese units.

These posts were captured May 17 by the Indian army and then vacated under an agreement arranged by the United Nations. India intends to hold the posts this time to protect the road to Leh, the spokesman said. (Earlier story, Page C-3.)

a fight ensued behind the tavern. This fight broke up without serious injuries, Pender said.

Then a second fight broke out a few minutes later behind Barney's Bar at 111 Central, Lake Orion. It was during this fight that the fatality occurred, the detective said.

Ike to Woo GOP's Big Contributors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican treasury have an appointment in the country Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They will eat lunch in a tent and listen to political pep talks and the oom-pah of a high school band.

The trip to Eisenhower's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., is the Republican National Finance Committee's reward for those who have contributed — or may contribute — $1,000 or more to help fill the party's treasury.

A GOP spokesman says 200 to 225 persons are expected. Speakers will include Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The 70-piece Gettysburg High School band will provide the music.

MAJOR EFFORT

The outing is a major effort by the finance committee in its competition with GOP splinter groups for campaign donations.

The seriousness of this competition was indicated when Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky noted in a recent report to contributors of funds to the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee that "there seems to be an unusual amount of solicitation by groups flying the Republican banner." He said he had been asked for his opinion of these groups.

"So far as we know," Morton said, "all that have been called to our attention are honest and well-meaning. But if one's resources are limited, as is the case with most of us, it becomes a question of choosing the best places to spend the available money.

"We hope you will support your local and state organizations, then your congressmen and senators through the national congressional and senatorial committees and the Republican National Committee, which is the over-all body of our party," Morton said.

SPECIALIZED FIELDS

"After these demands are taken care of, there are many worthy organizations designed for special help in specialized fields of political thinking. Support them too, if you are able, but I hope you will agree with us on the suggested priority."

★ ★ ★

There are indications, however, that the priority isn't working out too well. Barry Goldwater's Free Society Association, for example, is credited with already being loaded with funds to pursue what the 1964 GOP presidential nominee says will be a conservative educational program.

Ruler of Cambodia Praises De Gaulle

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodam Sihanouk, Cambodia's ruler, hailed French President Charles de Gaulle today as "The sole consolation which comes from the West to our people, to all the Indo-Chinese people, to all the peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America."

Sihanouk presided at a ceremony in which the French government presented 10 Skyraider fighter-bombers, small arms and communication equipment to Cambodia.

He Picked Up Weight

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The thief who slipped through a tiny window in a store here must have been small. But he's probably larger by now. Missing after the robbery were three dozen bread rolls, several pounds of barbecue, assorted pies and cakes, and a 10-quart pot.

Taxing Problem Closes Churches

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — There's room for a religious revival in Marion County. Lots of room.

Seventeen tax-exempt churches in the county representing nine faiths were up for sale today — for taxes ranging from a few hundred dollars to more than $4,000.

Although tax-exempt, the churches must legally file for the exemption. In the words of the Rev. John Cheffins of the Community Baptist Church, one of the churches on the selling block, "Brother Thomas forgot to file."

No one bothered to bid on the churches when they went up for sale a week ago today, but the properties will remain available until Nov. 1.

"I don't want to sell anybody's church, but under the law I have no choice," Marion County Treasurer John Dodkins said.

NONE BOUGHT

Deputy County Auditor Edward Hoffmann Jr. said that in the past, a faithful parishioner has sometimes shelled out the cold cash to buy his church back at a tax sale. But so far, none of the 17 churches up for sale has been bailed out in that manner.

He said anyone can pick up a used church by going to the Marion County tax office and plunking down the required money. Baptist churches make up the largest block of the available seven of the 17 structures.

There are two Churches of Christ, a Methodist church and a grab-bag assortment of lesser-known denominations.

★ ★ ★

If anyone does pay the taxes and purchase a church, under Indiana law the original owner has two years in which to reclaim the property.

NO CATHEDRALS

Lest anyone anticipate picking up a stately cathedral for a few hundred dollars, it should be remembered that some of the institutions are simply homes that have been used as churches over the years.

In addition to the churches, several parsonages are for sale and even the Irvington Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. That building is owned by a Baptist Church.

U. S. Turncoat Leaving China

Report Korea War GI Is Due in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI) — William C. White, one of the few Korean War turncoats still in Red China, is expected to arrive in Hong Kong tomorrow after more than a dozen years behind the bamboo curtain, it was reported today.

U. S. consular officials said White, from Plummerville, Ark., is expected to arrive by train from Canton, capital of the southeast China province of Kwangtung.

He was believed to be accompanied by his Chinese wife and their two children.

U. S. officials here said they had no firm indication why White was leaving China after such a long time. But they said he had been making some "rumblings" about wanting to go elsewhere for some time. He apparently had difficulty getting an exit visa for his wife.

★ ★ ★

White is reported to be a graduate of Peking University and to speak fluent Mandarin Chinese.

21 TURNCOATS

He will be the first of the 21 Korean War turncoats to leave China in almost two years.

The last turncoat who returned to the United States through Hong Kong was Scott L. Rush of Marietta, Ohio. He came back in September 1963, only a month after Lowell D. Skinner of Akron, Ohio, had grown tired of life in China and returned home.

Albert C. Belhomme, a former U. S. Army sergeant who held a Belgian passport, came out at about the same time as Rush and Skinner.

★ ★ ★

Consular officials said they were informed by Red Cross authorities today that White, his wife, Hsieh Ping, and their two children will be arriving shortly before noon tomorrow.

White apparently has been working for the past few years in the Foreign Language Press, Peking's main publishing house for overseas propaganda material.

It Seems to Me...

When GOP Begins Shape-Up Consideration Goes to Nixon

Through this formative period of Republican transition and even evolution, the name of RICHARD NIXON repeatedly flashes in and out of the Presidential picture.

Here's a strong character.

He's a man of high principles.

★ ★ ★

Many people privately think Nixon was once brazenly cheated out of the Presidency by political shenanigans, with Illinois' crooked Cook County figuring as the bell cow. Be that as it may, his acknowledged ability and character place him just off stage in the easily accessible wings of political expediency.

★ ★ ★

When the revitalized GOP ultimately begins to take form, Mr. NIXON must be considered in the forefront of Presidential possibilities and a man on whom many otherwise dissentious Republicans could unite. The GOP is currently reminiscent of the rambunctious individual who snorted defiance and then leaped on his horse and rode off madly in all directions.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Nixon possesses the skillful hand to restore peace, harmony and concord. This is a two-party country and must remain so. Otherwise the cradle of all current democracy collapses. As is inevitably the case, all contesting entities must voluntarily give up something. Cohesion and unity are primary essentials. Currently, the GOP is groping about for leadership to unite all factions.

NIXON may be the focal point.

And there's always our own ROMNEY.

Time Passes....

Some ninety odd years ago, the Fifteenth Amendment was added to our Constitution. It reads:

> "The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

Nearly a century elapsed before this Nation insisted it meant what it said. The signing of the current Bill of Rights makes it official and mandatory.

For this delay we should hang our collective heads.

Whose Fault....

Our Associated Press correspondent in Viet Nam says the situation there hasn't advanced one step toward victory or peace in the last six months.

Whose fault is this?

Is it JOHNSON'S?

Is it MCNAMARA'S?

★ ★ ★

Or is it yours — and mine — for not insisting that they bring about some kind of settlement? Must we feed a continuous line of American boys to death on those battlefields when we aren't gaining an inch? Does this go on for another year — two years — eight years?

Who's running this war?

On whose head does this blood rest? Let's have victory — or peace.

Wise Word....

Recently, an eastern Inquiring Reporter asked what years of a lifetime were the best. The finest answer was from a gentleman past 60 who replied:

"The best years are those ahead."

Here's a philosophy that you can't beat. No matter how fine and glorious the periods of the past may have been, "the best is yet to come." This man ranks in the uppermost echelon. This citizen would be a delightful acquaintance.

★ ★ ★

One replied that the best year was always "this one," and you like that enormously, too. But the olive wreath and the unchallenged accolade go to the first mentioned.

Fair Deal....

S. K. TZARAPKIN, one of Russia's trained-seal stooges, broke into print at the 18-nation Geneva disarmament conference. He declared that if the United States would gracefully back down in Viet Nam and cancel every one of our overseas bases, the Reds would be happy to sign a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

Isn't that wonderful?

Russia always plumbs the depths.

★ ★ ★

This guileless oaf must have sired the current quickie: "Wouldn't it be nice if Jackie Gleason and Frankie Sinatra took off a hundred pounds apiece."

And in Conclusion...

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A New York disc jockey "celebrated" the anniversary of the Hiroshima bombing by playing "Happy Birthday." He was summarily canned as protests clogged the wires . . . . Our State Department protested when diplomatic immunity was ignored on eastern throughways and foreign diplomats were given tickets. However, the applause from the public was terrific . . . . WHIZZER WHITE (Supreme Court Justice) keeps bobbing into discussions as the next baseball commissioner.

★ ★ ★

Trusted scouts advise me "SANDY" HUBER deserves mention as one of our very attractive young ladies . . . . LBJ celebrates his 57th birthday August 27 and expresses the "hope it will pass quietly." Meanwhile the White House "leaks" the fact in all directions at every opportunity . . . . Overheard: "I know what to give the girl who has everything—a police whistle." . . . . "The only defense against the atomic bomb is peace."

SANDY

KAREN SMITH, Wheaton, Ill., was turned down by universities and so she wrote the College Admissions Center at Evanston, Illinois, and now 57 institutions have indicated they'll take her. The charge is a mere $15 . . . . Help! Help! Last week, through an unspeakable and crass mistake, I listed RON KRAMER'S signing with the Lions as the "Jeer" of the week. It was supposed to have been bracketed with the 4-H club as a "Cheer." Except for the fact this is my first mistake in 102 years, I'd slip quietly into the dark recesses of an abandoned closet and cut my throat. So-o-o-o-o-o-o: Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—RON KRAMER'S signing with the Lions; the Jeers: ME — and FRANK SINATRA'S "cruise."

Saturday Night Every Night In The Week

David Lawrence Says:

Riots Stem From Crime Impulses

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This certainly is a tragic era in American history. Will it be like the worrisome era of "Reconstruction" which followed the war between the states?

At least 32 persons were killed in the last few days in Los Angeles, and more than 800 were injured in riots there. The estimated damage to private property exceeds $200 million.

Serious riots also are occurring in other big cities like Chicago, and looting has been a sequel to almost all the disturbances.

The causes of all these outbursts cannot be oversimplified as attributable merely to race consciousness or to the effects of discrimination. The trouble goes deeper.

* * *

It has to do with the impulses to crime that grow out of idleness, unemployment, and listening to those impassioned speakers and demonstrators who preach "nonviolence" but themselves practice what amounts to an incitement to violence.

But this is not the whole story. The truth is American cities are becoming more and more congested as population grows by leaps and bounds.

America has not really come to grips as yet with the problems growing out of constant unemployment among the unskilled and uneducated masses.

* * *

It happens that most of those persons engaged in the riots of the last few days as well as other disorders in recent months are Negroes — but the crime wave in the United States is not limited to interracial conflict.

ON INCREASE

Even here in the national capital, where the Negro population is in the majority, the attacks on Negroes by Negroes are increasing in number.

So the answer doesn't lie in more oratory on the subject of "civil rights."

What is needed is more knowledge about the importance of obeying local ordinances and the laws that are designed to preserve order.

* * *

RESPONSIBILITY

The responsibility now rests with the President and the Congress and the governors of the states, as well as mayors of all cities, to make clear again and again to the people that the right to "demonstrate" does not mean there is a license to create disorder or to stimulate the criminal elements who loot stores, set fires, and attack innocent bystanders.

There certainly needs to be a moratorium on all kinds of street demonstrations until the authorities in government can restore law and order while at the same time tackling the deeply rooted causes of unrest, especially in employment and education.

Capital Letter:

N.Y. Secede From U.S.? It's Really Not So Absurd

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Now that Singapore has declared itself a republic, it will doubtless soon be applying for admission to the United Nations as a separate nation.

Ruth Montgomery

What if New York City were to do likewise? After all, the two have much in common.

Singapore is a 210-square-mile island with a multilingual population of 1.7 million, a strategic position just off the peninsula of a vast mainland, and a natural deep-water harbor.

New York City is a 365-square-mile island and peninsula-tip just off a vast mainland, with a multilingual population of nearly 8 million, a strategic location, and a natural deep-water harbor.

Singapore's population is approximately 75 per cent Chinese, plus 205,000 Malaysians, 126 Indians and Pakistanis, 11,000 Europeans and 20,000 of other minority groups.

* * *

New York's citizenry is even more diversified. According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, it has the largest population of any city in the world, a Negro community of nearly a million, a large Puerto Rican colony, a big Chinese quarter, and a foreign-born population from Europe and Asia approximating 1.77 million — more than Singapore's total population.

Singapore was the economic core of the Federation of Malaysia, from which it has now broken away. New York's Wall Street is the financial center of the United States.

Internal racial, economic and political frictions led to Singapore's breakaway from Malaysia.

New York City could offer equally valid grounds for secession. The state governor is a Republican, although the city votes Democratic. Rioting has flared in its Negro and Puerto Rican ghettoes, but New Yorkers as a whole are totally out of sympathy with race suppression in the Deep South of the nation to which it belongs.

The loss of Singapore will not only weaken the Malaysian economy but may generate separatist movements in other states of the federation.

An identical situation could develop here, if New York City seceded. Not only would the nation keenly suffer by losing its banking center, best harbor and high tax incomes, but other sections might also be inspired to withdraw from the union.

Come to think of it, perhaps Singapore has given us an idea that should be encouraged.

If we Americans divided ourselves into forty or fifty geographical, political and economic entities, each with U. N. membership, perhaps we might yet be able to out-vote the burgeoning Afro-Asian bloc and the

The first life insurance policy issued by the Provident Life and Trust Co. of Philadelphia, chartered March 22, 1865, was to be voided if the insured, a Philadelphia merchant named Edward Snowdon, died upon the seas, visited the South or Far West without consent of the company, was employed as an engineer or fireman in charge of a steam engine or as conductor or brakeman on a railroad, or "as an officer, hand or servant of any steam vessel. . ."

* * *

Today the salubrious climate of the South and Southwest attracts the aged and infirm and railroads are regarded as about as safe a form of transportation as there is. But the clause that would appear least appropriate in today's life insurance policy is the one that said Snowdon couldn't collect if his death were "in consequence of a duel."

* * *

Such restrictive provisions are not found in today's insurance policies, with trips to other continents regarded as routine and measured in days or even hours, instead of weeks and months.

Modern insurance coverage provides many benefits never dreamed of in those days, and its adaptability to modern needs seems to have made its attraction as strong as ever despite the increasing volume of federal health and welfare programs.

The continuing court drama starring James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is a disquieting commentary on the processes of justice in America.

Mr. Hoffa is currently under two criminal convictions. One of these — on a charge of attempting to bribe jurors in a 1963 Nashville trial in which Mr. Hoffa was charged with conspiracy to violate the Taft-Hartley Act—was upheld by the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

He has promised to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if he doesn't get a rehearing in the lower appellate court. He is also appealing a second federal conviction on a charge of defrauding the Teamsters' pension fund.

The trial courts' sentences were: Eight years in prison and $10,000 fine on the bribery court and five years on the fraud conviction.

The sentences, of course, will not be imposed until Mr. Hoffa has exhausted every avenue of appeal. That is right and proper.

There cannot be the slightest doubt, however, that, if the defendant involved were a man of ordinary circumstances, he would already be behind bars. He would not have the extraordinary resources, as Mr. Hoffa has, necessary to pay the costs of legal counsel and official proceedings through months and years of appeal.

However pure the principles of appellate procedures, they too often, in practice, result in discrimination between Mr. Big and Joe Pungle.

Cites Marine Aid to Villagers

Extra Duties Part of 'Pacification' Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze says U.S. Marines dig wells and bake bread for South Vietnamese villagers as well as fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas shooting at them from fortified hamlet houses.

In an interview, Nitze answered questions about the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force (MAF) in the foot-by-foot battle to clear Viet Cong out of the jungle, villages and huts in the zone around the air and naval enclave of Da Nang.

* * *

A controversy has developed over the destruction of Vietnamese houses in fire fights between Marine units and the Viet Cong.

Some of the hamlets, like Cam Ne where hut-burning came into attention, are places that have been converted into actual fortified towns, Nitze said. They must be cleared of the enemy as control of the enclave is expanded toward perimeters.

BASES FOR ATTACKS

Places which are used as bases for Viet Cong attacks on military installations or harassment of loyal South Vietnamese are "cleared routinely" by Marines operating in conjunction with South Vietnamese government representatives.

Then Nitze added: "Where neither U.S. nor Vietnamese forces can maintain continuous occupancy, it is necessary to destroy those facilities which have been developed by the Viet Cong for their purposes."

* * *

What about the two images of the American Marine -- the fierce warrior and the benefactor?

Nitze said he believed that the 3rd Marine Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, "has been eminently successful in its village pacification program."

WERE HAPPY

The secretary said that during his inspection trip to Viet Nam last month he visited a small village north of Da Nang which Marines had just secured.

"The women and children were happy to see them," Nitze said, "and each Marine seemed like a pied piper with a flock of youngsters following him. It doesn't take long for these Americans to gain the confidence of the local people.

* * *

"Most important, the Vietnamese soon gain confidence and regain their self-respect.

"Coincident to this process, the Marines help them to rebuild their village, open their churches and schools and reestablish their own village governments.

UNDER TERROR

"It is perhaps difficult for us to realize, but many of these people have lived under Communist terror in their villages for 10 years and in some instances for 20 years."

Nitze said that Marine units have dug 20 wells, built and repaired roads and village bridges and repaired dwellings.

* * *

"On their own time and with their own funds," he said, "Marines have baked bread, established a voluntary blood bank for Vietnamese children and paid for operations and hospitalization of afflicted children.

"We are doing this village (pacification) work right on the front lines," Nitze said.

Suspect Inside Connections in Big Plant Theft

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Police said today the daring thieves who scaled a wire fence at Englehard Industries and escaped with more than $100,000 in gold "probably had some connection inside the plant."

The burglars climbed over a 10-foot fence, crawled under an electric-eye alarm, made their way to a refinery and hauled off more than 2,850 ounces of raw and refined gold within about 20 minutes late Saturday night.

* * *

In making their escape, police said, the thieves set off the electric-eye alarm just before scampering over the fence to a getaway car.

Detective Lt. Edward McGurty said the thieves "had to be some people who knew the plant very well. They knew exactly where to get the stuff."

Lodge Leaves Tuesday for Saigon

Taylor Tells 4-Point Strategy Aimed at Viet Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon, is handing over to his successor a four-point strategy aimed at winning the war in Viet Nam.

Pursued unswervingly, that strategy can bring an eventual settlement with the Communits, Taylor said in a weekend interview.

* * *

As Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. prepared to leave Tuesday for his ambassadorship post in Saigon, Taylor outlined the four-point plan:

1. Maximum effort within South Viet Nam to defeat and destroy the Viet Cong units in the field. 2. Air strikes against military targets in North Viet Nam. 3. Continuing efforts to strengthen South Viet Nam's government. 4. Maintaining readiness to talk of peace with any government sincerely seeking an honorable settlement.

"I consider that these four points constitute a sound strategy which, if adhered to without swerving, has a good chance of achieving U.S. and Vietnamese objectives," Taylor said.

In other comment on the Viet Nam situation:

— Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a speech prepared for the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Chicago, said the primary U.S. task in Viet Nam is to make the Communist aggressors "realize that our patience is greater than theirs and that time is on our side."

— Walt R. Rostow, State Department policy planner, said U.S.- South Vietnamese forces so far have achieved "better than a standoff" in battling the monsoon offensive of the Communist guerrillas.

—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said he expects no "general call-up of the Reserves" to meet mounting U.S. military needs in Viet Nam.

Taylor, responding to written questions submitted by the Associated Press, listed the pluses and minuses of his year as ambassador to Saigon.

* * *

"Probably the most important gain," he said, "was the development and adoption of the current strategy for conduct of the war against the Viet Cong and Hanoi."

* * *

He declined to predict just when peace might be won, but said "I would expect this war to end in an agreed settlement after the Communist leaders have become convinced that the U.S. will not pull out, that the Saigon government will not collapse, and that there is no further hope for a Viet Cong military victory."

GOVERNMENT STABILITY

Taylor said further that:

—The most important shortcoming during his year in Saigon was "the continuing uncertainty as to the stability of the central government."

— The rising American military role will boost the superiority of U.S. and Vietnamese ground forces over the Red guerrillas "to the point that they should be able to repel the enemy and eventually pass to the offensive on a broad front." The U.S. force growth also will improve Vietnamese morale and demonstrate the unqualified U.S. commitment.

—"There is no danger that I can see to this becoming an 'American war.'"

* * *

— Red China is already in the conflict through contributions of equipment, advisers, technicians and propaganda, but "I foresee little likelihood of Red China entering the war in an unrestricted sense."

He's Slowing Down—at 108

KEYPORT, N.J. (AP) — Joseph Esperak has no formula for longevity but he comments:

"I never got married, I don't eat meat, I laid off whisky but I had my share of wine.

* * *

"I used to smoke two packs of cigarettes a day. But I cut down to maybe a cigar now and then."

And, he said Sunday while celebrating his 108th birthday, "sometimes I feel like 115."

* * *

The assistant supervisor of the Bayshore Nursing Home, where Esperak has lived for the last five years, described him as "a very healthy 108."

Detroit Man Is Feared Drowned in Kentucky

PADUCAH, KY. (AP) -- George W. Amos, 15, of Detroit disappeared Saturday night and was presumed drowned in the Ohio River near here when the boat he was in swamped.

Two brothers, Frank, 13, and Terry, 10, who wore life jackets, reached shore. The boat's owner, Wayne Williams of Paducah, clung to the boat and was rescued.

'OAS Report Backs U. S. Latin Action'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says an Organization of American States report "establishes beyond a doubt there was need for prompt and decisive intervention by the United States" in the Dominican Republic.

U.S. troops were sent to the Caribbean nation in late April after uncontrolled fighting broke out following an attempted revolt.

Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, said in a statement that an OAS report of May 7 provided support for the U.S. action.

Dodd's statement is part of a forward to a Senate Internal Security subcommittee report on security problems in Latin America.

Viet Captured With Copter

Cong Suspect Caught, Brought Back Alive

DA NANG, Viet Nam (UPI)—Marine Capt. Howard Henry made aviation history today by capturing the first suspected Viet Cong prisoner of war with a helicopter.

Henry, of Chickasaw, Ala., and Baltimore, Md., ran down the suspected sniper near Da Nang and chased him until he threw up his hands and surrendered.

Before their quarry could recover, Sgt. James Maynard of Cyclone, W. Va., leaped out of the helicopter and bundled the breathless prisoner into the aircraft, and helped bring him back as the first suspected Communist ever captured by a helicopter.

"It all started as a routine mission," the 32-year-old Henry said. "We had just dropped four Marines at an outpost, when we received automatic weapons fire from a clump of bushes west of the landing zone.

* * *

"We got out of there fast, and Maynard covered our exit by spraying the bushes with machine gun fire."

SUSPECT FLEES

The helicopter's fire flushed the suspect out of the bushes and he ran down the road.

"He was really traveling," Henry said. "I've never seen a man run so fast, and Maynard was pecking away at him so he knew he was being chased."

"He fell down once and played dead, but when we began to orbit, he got up and started to run again.

"We were about 50 feet overhead by this time, with Capt. Paul Bronson of Los Angeles, orbiting overhead and protecting us."

The suspect was trapped in a small canyon, and in desperation threw up his hands and surrendered. Henry put the helicopter down alongside him, and Maynard tackled the black-tuniced Vietnamese and dragged him aboard the aircraft.

Poverty War, Farm Bill Up for Debate

GOP Salvos Set in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans in Congress are set to fire both barrels this week at President Johnson's antipoverty program and his farm bill.

The Senate opens debate today on the $1.65-billion bill which would provide funds to continue Johnson's antipoverty program for a second year.

* * *

Tuesday the House will take up still another controversial measure, the omnibus farm bill with its strongly disputed plan aimed at increasing the income of wheat farmers.

* * *

Despite Republican opposition, Senate Democratic leaders predicted the poverty legislation will clear their branch handily, perhaps Tuesday.

WORK ON REVISIONS

The House plans to devote three days to the farm bill. The measure's managers reportedly are at work at some last-minute revisions designed to soften the opposition.

The biggest floor battle on the antipoverty bill is expected over the right of governors to veto projects in their states. They have such a right under the present law passed in 1964.

* * *

The Senate Labor Committee wrote in a provision which would eliminate the veto on three major types of projects — community action, neighborhood Youths Corps and adult education.

Republican senators have pledged they will try to knock out this provision.

The $1.65-billion authorization for the year ahead in the Senate measure is what Johnson asked except for $150 million added in the Labor Committee for a special program aimed at helping "chronically unemployed poor adult workers with poor employment prospects."

The House, in passing its version of the legislation last month, authorized a $1.9 billion total.

* * *

The House battle on the farm bill centers on a wheat provision recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Opponents say the administration proposal would lead to higher bread prices — a "bread tax."

LESS THAN CENT

Sponsors of the bill say it would bring an increase of only seven-tenths of a cent in the cost of the wheat which goes into a loaf of bread.

Backstage talk of a compromise on the far measure centers in broad outline on a plan which would raise the price level at which the government could resell surplus grain — thereby curbing the competition the government poses to private grain dealers.

The second part of the compromise would be retention in the main of the controversial wheat section.

The bill also would extend the cotton, feed grains, wool and cropland adjustment programs.

Teens Aren't Liberal Despite Town's Name

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — When three youths were convicted of gasoline thefts in Seward County, Judge Horace Malin called upon a jury of their high school classmates to help him determine what sentence to pass.

After consulting with the young jurors, he pronounced 30-day suspended jail sentences, restitution within 48 hours, $25 fines and six months probation, including observation of curfews.

Attic Search Yields Embalmer's Coffin

PARSONS, Kans. (AP) — Ernest Hollon purchased a 60-year-old house. In the attic, which could only be entered through a small access hole, he found a large coffin, eight feet long and three wide. The lid was securely attached.

Hollon called the police to help remove the lid.

It was empty and had never been used.

Police surmise the box was constructed in the attic or put there while the house was under construction. It could not be removed until it was taken apart.

Tracing ownership of the house, Hollon found an embalmer had once lived there.

Ex-Greek Leader Loses 2 Partners

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Two major political partners of ousted Premier George Papandreou formally broke their ties with his Center Union party policy today and opened the way for a possible anti-Papandreou parliamentary majority.

The declaration of independence by Stephanos Stephanopoulos, Papandreou's former deputy premier, and Elias Tsirimokos, former interior minister, brought this NATO nation's grave political crisis to a possible turning point after a month of rioting and uncertainty in which the monarchy itself seemed imperiled.

King Constantine, who ousted Papandreou July 15 and rejected his ultimatum that he be returned to power or new elections be called, appeared to hold a strengthened hand.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

New Light Shed on German Measles

BRANDSTADT

New light has been shed on the relationship between German measles (rubella) and birth defects by studies of the widespread epidemic of this disease in the winter of 1963-1964.

With new tests for detecting the virus in the blood, it has been found that many babies are infected with rubella at birth, even though their mothers had no history of exposure or infection during pregnancy.

Some of these babies had defects at birth but more than 50 per cent of the defects caused by rubella do not show up at birth and many are not detectable until about the age of one year.

It must be concluded that mild, unrecognized infections in the mother can be just as damaging to the baby as a clinically recognized case.

* * *

This also suggests that many birth defects which in the past were classified as of unknown origin were due to these mild infections in the mother.

CONTAINS VIRUS

This has given rise to the concept of the "rubella baby." Such a baby is defined as one whose mother had German measles during pregnancy, whether she knew it or not, and whose blood at birth contains the virus, whether any visible defects are present or not.

Many rubella babies have now been found with defects not previously associated with German measles — particularly purpura (a tendency to bruise easily), an enlarged liver and spleen, damage to the bones and anemia.

Rubella babies are loaded with virus and may act as a source of infection for other members of the family, nurses, doctors and all others who come into contact with them.

* * *

In the past, gamma globulin has been given to women in the first three months of pregnancy immediately after exposure to rubella.

* * *

Recent studies have shown that, even though this may prevent the mother from a clinical attack of the disease, it will not protect the baby.

Since there is no way to insure that the baby will not have birth defects, therapeutic abortions are performed on many of these women in states where this procedure meets legal requirements.

The only other preventive measures are to try to prevent a pregnant woman from getting rubella by avoiding contact with persons who have the disease and by avoiding pregnancy during a threatened epidemic.

U.S. Tourists Shun Snobbish France

BY LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Paris Le Monde recently reprinted in facsimile a card urging Americans not to visit "France and other enemies of the United States."

* * *

In a short but angry commentary the influential newspaper charged that the card though its authors were anonymous, was part of the anti-French campaign under way in the United States.

Thus does man bite dog. How long ago was it that the French belittled "materialistic" Americans while reaching for their dollars?

Who in Europe has not made disparaging remarks about the "typical American tourist"? For generations he was pushed around, cheated, generally abused.

* * *

What American college girl or schoolteacher in quest of European culture will ever forget the weary waiting in tourist offices?

HAVING REVENGE

At last the much-maligned American tourist is having his revenge. He still goes to Europe but for a much shorter stay. An often he avoids Paris and other unfriendly cities.

It has finally dawned on the Europeans that U.S. propaganda to "see America first" is beginning to hurt their tourist business. They see a threat to their hotels and overrated luxury trades.

Even President de Gaulle's government, which is responsible for much of the anti-American propaganda in Eurpoe, has become alarmed. It now urges Frenchmen to be polite to Americans.

* * *

To be sure, the card that aroused Le Monde's ire overstated the case somewhat. The French, strictly speaking, are not really anti-American, despite de Gaulle's propaganda. They dislike all foreigners.

PARIS DRIVER

In fact, a Paris driver careening through murderous traffic would just as soon hit an Englishman, a Swede or another Frenchman as an American.

* * *

However, the anonymous authors of the card that urged Americans to see the United States first made sense.

For if it is culture that the college girl and schoolteacher seek — why not take a good look at the United States?

* * *

Our painters and musicians have created new landmarks in art. Our young novelists are more interesting than any that have risen in Europe since World War II.

LONG LINES

Long lines of Parisians wait on Sunday in front of Champs Elysees movie houses to see Hollywood's "B" productions rather than French pictures.

A group of young French men and women who recently toured the United States was amazed by the grandeur and physical beauty of America.

They were even impressed by our motels and, believe it or not, by the orderliness of our traffic.

* * *

A PASSAGE

Here is a typical passage:

"We have gathered a sort of momentum of travel which does not know how to stop, and all the mountains, deserts, rivers, forests, homes, people, kindness, warmth, love (yes, love), novelty, discovery, beauty, grandeur, simplicity, youth, vigor, enormousness of the United States combine to look over our shoulder and say, 'Don't go.' "

* * *

Don't get me wrong: I still love Paris (though not in the spring, which is always cold). But see America first.

NLRB Had Busiest Year Ever in 1964

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board had its busiest year in its 30-year history during 1964.

Commerce Clearing House said the board caseload reached a high of 27,403 accepted cases and the disposal of 26,715 of them.

The cases included 15,620 unfair practice changes and 11,715 representation cases.

Back pay was awarded to 5,142 employes under the direction of the NLRB which found them to have been discriminated against by employers, unions or both.

* * *

The awards amounted to $3 million, an all-time high, and above the previous year's figure of nearly $2.75 million.

* * *

Job reinstatement offers were made to 4,044 employes during the year with 3,004 accepting and returning to work.

Cuban Reds Lauded

MOSCOW (AP) — The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party sent congratulations Sunday to the Communist party of Cuba on its 40th anniversary, Pravda reported today.

Negroes Fear British Klan Threat

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — Colored immigrants from the West Indies today called on the Negro population in Britain to mobilize in self-defense against threats of this country's newly organized Ku Klux Klan.

The North London West Indian Association held an emergency meeting last night and passed resolutions calling for a national movement for West Indians in Britain.

"This is not an organization to preach hatred against the whites but to prevent what is happening in Birmingham, Ala., and in Los Angeles," said Lincoln Dyke, chairman of the association.

The meeting here took place as another Negro immigrant group in London discussed plans to set up vigilante patrols against threatened KKK attacks and feared racial outbursts.

The 6,000-member standing conference of West Indian organizations in London planned a series of local meetings to deal with the threat.

The Negro leaders acted following three recent cross-burning incidents in the midlands and a serious racial disturbance in Volverhampton Saturday when some 150 whites, armed with sticks and bottles, marched on the home of a Negro family shouting "Let's get the blacks."

More alarm spread through the colored community after a series of threatening letters were received by Gurmukh Singh, an East Indian executive member of the Campaign Against Racial Discrimination (CARD). All of the letters bore the KKK imprint.

Malay-Thai Pest: Border Reds

SONGKHLA (Southern), Thailand (UPI)—Thai and Malaysian security forces are working closely to end a Communist reign of terror along the jungle-covered mountain border.

At the moment, they are hampered gecause there is no hot pursuit policy permitting border crossing by pursuing forces.

The terrorists are believed to be still led by the Malayan Communist party leader Chin Peng who was driven out of Malaya 12 years ago with about 70 remnants of his forces when the British defeated the Communist attempts to take over the former colony.

Since then, their number has grown to an estimated 600 with the hard-core remnants picking up recruits from disgruntled Malays and Thais.

* * *

One bit of evidence has been the field kitchens recovered in Thai and Malaysian raids against terrorist camps. Abandoned jungle camps usually contain two kitchens—one for the Chinese who were the terrorists in Malay and one for the Moslem Malays who eat no pork.

In the 1948-1960 Malayan emergency, Communist terrorist camps were always single-kitchen affairs.

The border terrorists are known to be surviving through the means of extortion and fear among the local jungle folk and Padi (rice) planters.

But they are believed to have gained support from Malays living on the Thai side of the border who are dissatisfied because they feel the Thai authorities are not allowing them sufficient say in the management of their affairs.

* * *

There is an undercover movement, probably supported by the Communist terrorists, for the secession of the four southern states of Thailand which have strong Moslem links, and either their inclusion in Malaya (thereby Malaysia) or the establishment of a separate state to include the northern Malayan states of Kelantan, Perak and Kedah.

Talk of Indonesian interference and influence in the area remains unsupported by positive evidence, although an Indonesian is believed to have been among a group of the border terrorists killed and captured recently by Thai security forces.

It is here in Songkhla that the main headquarters of the joint Thai-Malaysian security operations is to be built.

But so far, each country's security forces are not permitted to cross the other's border in hot pursuit of Comumuist terrorists. The more professional troops the Malaysians are deploying in the operations are concerned with such restrictions.

* * *

The terrorists are believed to have farm paddies on the Malaysian side of the border and live in camps on the Thai side. Malaysian military officials say that, too often, hopes of a successful operation against the terrorists have been balked by the border-crossing restrictions.

This problem is expected to be dealt with at a meeting now going on between top Thai and Malaysian officials in Bangkok.

Preserving Old Pear Tree

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Illinois is carefully preserving its oldest pear tree.

The tree, along with other nursery stock, was brought to Jersey County in a covered wagon 135 years ago by Dr. Ralph H. Van Pelt, a native of New Jersey.

* * *

The pear tree still flourishes, and this year was a solid mass of white blossoms in late April.

* * *

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

ALSAC Volunteer Teens Will March Again

Pontiac Press Photos

The endless details and paperwork connected with any community project can dampen spirits. But not so for these ALSAC volunteers. Good sports all, they know this is just another stepping stone in reaching their ultimate goal of collecting Pontiac area's $20,000 pledge. From left are Arnie Raft, his mother, Mrs. Arnold Raft of Raymond Place, and Pontiac's teen chairman, George Wren of North Astor Street.

This group is an example of what will take place in Pontiac and surrounding areas on Sept. 12 from 2 until 4 p.m. when teen-agers conduct a march collecting funds for ALSAC. These funds are solicited once yearly for this charity which built and supports St. Jude Research Hospital, Memphis, Tenn. St. Jude is the renowned hospital dedicating its services to children with leukemia and related blood diseases. Children of every race, color and creed are admitted completely free of charge. From the left are Ellen Raft of Raymond Place; Marietta Wall, Mayor Avenue, Independence Township; Barbara Richmond, Walled Lake; and Sandi Lachowitcz, Tanbay Avenue, Commerce Township.

Polite Talk at Parties Is an Art

By The Emily Post Institute

People who talk too easily are likely to talk too much and at times imprudently. And those who have vivid imaginations are often unreliable in their statements.

On the other hand, the "man of silence," who never speaks except when he has something worthwhile to say, tends to wear well among his intimates, but he is not likely to add much to the gaiety of a party.

* * *

In conversation, as in most things, the middle road is best. Be neither too silent nor too glib. Know when to listen to others, but know also when it is your turn to carry the conversation.

Try not to repeat yourself, either by telling the same story again and again or by going back over details of your narrative that seemed especially to interest or amuse your hearer.

Many things are of interest when told briefly and for the first time; nothing interests when dwelt upon too long or told a second time.

* * *

When someone is talking to you, it is inconsiderate to keep repeating, "What did you say?"

Those who are deaf are often obliged to ask that a sentence be repeated, for otherwise their irrelevant answers would make them appear half-witted.

People who are hard of hearing should use a hearing aid. It makes life more comfortable for them, and friends do not have to shout at them. But countless persons with perfectly good hearing say "What?" from force of habit.

* * *

Remember that the sympathetic listener is the delight of delights.

The person who is seemingly eager for your news or enthralled with your conversation, who looks at you with a kindling of the face and gives you spontaneous and undivided attention, is the one to whom the "orchid" for the art of conversation would undoubtedly be awarded.

* * *

If you would like the book entitled "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

How Many Others Are There Around?

Ruby, Are You the One?

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My problem is YOU! My husband is an avid Dear Abby fan and every time he reads a letter in your column from a woman complaining about her husband because he's fat or stingy, looks at other women or kids around with waitresses, he accuses me of writing the letter.

It usually ends up in a big fight. So Abby, in the future will you please use the writer's name or initials or say where the letter comes from?

I don't care how you label it as long as he knows it didn't come from—

RUBY

DEAR RUBY: Now, you've done it! There must be no less than 5,000 "Rubys" for whom this letter was NOT intended. But in my effort to clear YOU, I have inadvertently implicated them.

Tell your hubby that if the shoe fits to wear it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: It's fishing season again and I want to know how we can keep fishermen out of our yard.

We live on the banks of a creek, and for two years we've had to put up with men, women, children and dogs running over our property from 4 a.m. until 8 p.m. There are no signs to indicate that this is a fishing resort, but everyone seems to think it is because the stream is public.

There are fishing resorts a little farther down the road with parking space and picnic grounds.

Why can't they go there? People come right up to our porch and holler under our windows. If I have clothes on the line, they walk under them. They get their fish lines caught in our radio aerial and even use our ladder to climb up and untangle them.

Some ask if they can park in our driveway. And those who don't ask, park there anyway and block our one-way road so we can't get in or out. We don't own this place, we only rent, so why should WE have to put up NO TRESPASSING signs? Any suggestions.

IDANHA, ORE.

DEAR IDANHA: I would demand that my landlord either put a fence around the place, or post NO TRESPASSING signs and see that they are obeyed. Don't put in another fishing season such as the poor suckers in your creek.

Where Is the Serial Number?

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

"Serial number?" That's a seemingly innocent enough question. I was filling out the guarantee for our new portable radio.

Finding the serial number was another matter.

"MADE IN JAPAN"

The radio was in a leather case. Nothing on the case, but "Made in Japan." Nothing whatever on the plastic case of the radio itself.

* * *

When we finally found the serial number, it was inside and the entire works had to be taken out of the case.

Now really!

I have almost as much trouble getting the serial number of my refrigerator.

WHEW!

In order to get that, I have to get down on the floor on my stomach and use a flashlight to see the numbers that are on the bottom of the door.

I don't know whether it's a conspiracy to make life difficult for the consumer or what.

If the manufacturer is so anxious to get the serial number, why doesn't he put it where it can be seen or at least tell the consumer where to look for it?

* * *

A couple of years ago, our son was trying to find the serial number of his bicycle so that he could get a license. His father and he hunted for an hour or more and never did find it.

When the boy got to the police station, the officer in charge did find the number, but only because he knew from experience where it was hidden.

WHY BE COY?

In this age of numbers, why do manufacturers remain coy? Everyone else blazens a string of numerals all over the place.

Take a look at your checkbook, for instance — or your driver's license.

Class of '60 Sets Reunion

The St. Frederick's High School class of 1960 will have a reunion August 28 at Airway Lanes. Dancing will follow the dinner affair with the "Strings and Keys" musical group featured.

Working on details along with their chairman, Dennis Parle, are Catherine Carry, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. Jere Dirker and Robert Hoehn.

LCW Ready for Annual Card Party

The League of Catholic Women will stage its annual summer luncheon and card party at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in the league home on Wide Track Drive.

Brides Are Holding the Spotlight

Sheila Gail Wooster, daughter of the Glenn Woosters of Sylvan Lake, became Mrs. Richard John Bucklin, Saturday, in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Traverse City. His parents are the William Bucklins of Marquette.

MRS. RICHARD JOHN BUCKLIN

Judith Kay Hinkley, daughter of the Don C. Hinkleys of Illinois Avenue became the bride of Douglas Lee Roeser, son of Dr. and Mrs. Waldomar O. Roeser of Neome Drive, Saturday, in All Saints Episcopal Church.

MRS. DOUGLAS LEE ROESER

Bucklin-Wooster

Off on a Colorado honeymoon are the Richard John Bucklins (Sheila Gail Wooster) who were wed Saturday in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Traverse City.

AFTERNOON RITE

Reception in the Moose Hall, Traverse City, followed the four o'clock rite performed by Rev. Lloyd O. Hubert.

Their parents are the Glenn Woosters of Sylvan Lake, presently summering at Duck Lake, Grawn, Mich., and the William Bucklins of Marquette.

SINGLE SILK ROSE

An illusion veil held by a single silk rose complemented the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace layered over taffeta. She carried white camellias.

Marcia Wooster and Mrs. David Allen, attended their sister as honor maid and bridesmaid, respectively, along with Mary Bucklin.

Robert Bucklin of Ann Arbor was his brother's best man, with ushers Jon Tibor, Imlay City and Edwin Hill, Marquette.

The couple will reside on Balboa Place. They are graduates of Northern Michigan University.

Roeser-Hinkley

Reception in Devon Gables followed the vows of Judith Kay Kinkley and Douglas Lee Roeser, Saturday in all Saints Episcopal Church.

Their parents are the Don C. Hinkleys of Illinois Avenue and Dr. and Mrs. Waldomar O. Roeser of Neome Drive.

* * *

Schiffli embroidery in mimosa pattern accented the bride's Empire gown and train of white silk organza over taffeta. An organza Dior bow cradled her bouffant veil of imported illusion.

* * *

During the four o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. Charles Sturm, the bride held a bouquet of Phalaenopsis orchids, ivy and Stephanotis.

* * *

With Jana Lee Miner, honor maid, were bridesmaids Mary Everhardus, Susan Steger, Nancy Fellows, Jerilyn Pinney and Mrs. Haskill Lunsford. Nancy and Susan Roeser were flower-girls.

* * *

On the esquire side were best man Frederick Roeser, with ushers Frederick Staley, Kenneth Shaw, J. D. Hurd, John Hinkley and Dr. W. M. Roeser.

Lou Ellen Oakley, daughter of the Llewellyn M. Oakleys of Warbler Drive, spoke vows with Lt. (j.g.) Thomas William Sumner, Saturday, at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian. His parents are the Thomas A. Sumners, River Forest, Ill.

MRS. THOMAS W. SUMNER

Sumner-Oakley

Lt. (j.g.) Thomas William Sumner and his bride, the former Lou Ellen Oakley flew to Mountain View, Calif. after their marriage Saturday at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian.

GARDEN RECEPTION

Her parents, the Llewellyn M. Oakleys hosted a garden reception in their Warbler Drive home following the candlelight rite performed by Dr. Harold C. DeWendt.

* * *

Re-embroidered Chantilly lace over white taffeta fashioned the bride's sheath gown worn with princess crown and illusion veil.

SISTER ATTENDS

Mrs. Barry Bourdo of Custer, Mich. was her sister's matron of honor. Their cousin, Margaret Reagh, of Saginaw, was bridesmaid. Marcia and Mark Bourdo were flower-girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

* * *

Cmdr. Donald Sumner of Alexandria, Va. was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Thomas A. Sumners, River Forest, Ill.

Bruce Thompson of Chicago was groomsman. John Oakley ushered with Barry Bourdo.

* * *

Lt. Sumner is stationed at Moffett Naval Air Station. He and his bride are graduates of University of Michigan.

Florida's Four Flying Sisters

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Four Florida sisters took to the air for the first time in their lives to make possible a family reunion in California.

The four sisters flew from Florida to Beaumont, Calif., to visit the fifth sister, Mrs. Maude Bagley, 75. Making the trip were Mrs. Bertha Dowling, 71, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Sue Rosier, 68, of Tampa; Mrs. Cora Shealey, 63 and Mrs. Minnie Elixson, 83, of Gainesville.

More With Less

New machines, products and methods have enabled American farmers to increase food production with 40 per cent fewer workers than 20 years ago.

In Garden Ceremony

Noon Rites Performed Under Trellis Canopy

Paula Joan Siegel and Robin Canfield were wed in a garden ceremony, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lapides on Pickering Road.

FLOWERED TRELLIS

Mr. Lapides escorted his niece to a trellis canopy interlaced with white snapdragons and Shasta daisies, where Rabbi Ernst Conrad performed the noon rite.

* * *

Alencon lace accented the bride's ballerina-length gown of white silk organza over taffeta worn with illusion shoulder veil and circlet of lace and pearls.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Sidney Siegel of Telegraph Road, the late Mr. Siegel and the Richard Canfields of Williams Lake Road.

HOME RECEPTION

After the reception in the Lapides' home, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. They will reside in Kalamazoo while he will attend Western Michigan University.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Pallas of Grand Haven and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan R. Boyce of Pine View Drive.

An heirloom mantilla veil of Brussels lace complemented the bride's Empire gown and squared train of white silk peau de soie. She carried glamellias with white and red Sweetheart roses.

* * *

With honor maid, Ethel Carpenter of Three Rivers, were Dorothy Pallas, attending her sister as bridesmaid along with Pamela Eaton and Susan Miller.

* * *

Harlan Boyce was best man for his son. Ushers included Dr. Roger Burau, John Cork, Richard Doerr, Gary Henry, Thomas VanderBerg and Robert Pallas.

The couple will be seniors this fall at Western Michigan University.

On a northern honeymoon after Saturday vows and reception in the Troy Assembly of God Church are the Marvin John Engelsmans (Aleen Mae Berry). Their parents are the Donald E. Berrys, Norton Street; Mrs. John Parent, North Perry Street and John Engelsman of Detroit. For the rite performed by Minister Louie H. Calaway, the bride wore white silk organza and French lace. White roses rested on her white heirloom Bible.

Seaman and Mrs. Edward Robert Eckler (Sharon Kay Beardslee) left for Miramar, Calif. after the vows and reception, Saturday, in the Oxford Methodist Church. Their parents are Mrs. Edith J. Beardslee, Oxford, Clarence C. Beardslee, Highland, and the Ralph W. Ecklers of Orion Township. A net veil complemented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza appliqued with lace. Rev. Fred Clark performed the ceremony.

Twin Attends Her Sister

Nanci Lou Alderman and Delbert James Brannstrom of Saginaw were married Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church, Bay City, before Rev. E. C. Wicklein.

MRS. D. BRANNSTROM

Joining the couple at the church reception were their parents the William K. Aldermans, Bay City, and the James Brannstroms of Lakeview Street.

* * *

The bride's sheath gown and full circular train of white silk organza over taffeta was appliqued with Alencon lace and styled with Camelot sleeves.

An orange - blossom headpiece held her bouffant veil. Royal Bouquet orchids centered her bouquet of English Ivy and Stephanotis.

TWIN ATTENDS

With Vicki Alderman, maid of honor for her twin, were bridesmaids Thayer Mackenzie, Grosse Pointe; Jan Wiles, Sara Wishart and Sue O'Brien all of Bay City.

* * *

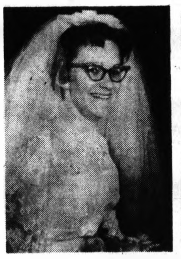
Denneth Emery was best man. Ushers were Dennis Baldwin, William Kreh, Tony Grohman and Robert Ricker.

Auxiliary Okays Gift

The "City of Pontiac" Auxiliary to Post 1370, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has approved a donation to the 'Kathy Leach Fund.'

Mrs. Dixie White and Mrs. George Pappas are delegates to the national convention in Chicago, with Mrs. Otto Zander and Mrs. James Smith, alternates.

Mrs. Robert Almas is chairman of a benefit sale Sept. 17-18 in the VFW Hall on South Saginaw Street.



Wearing floor-length white silk shantung with Empire bodice of lace, Cheryl Ann Patten became Mrs. Charles Everet Weaver, Saturday in St. Mark's Lutheran Church. Rev. W. C. Grafe performed the rite preceding a church reception. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Patten Jr., Wolverine Lake, and the Jesse Weavers, Cedar Island Drive. Honeymoon itinerary includes Niagara Falls and northern Michigan.

This Pair Is Home After Trip

Returned from a northern honeymoon are the Archie Christopher Lambs (Trudy Louise Campbell) who chose the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian, for their recent vows and reception.

* * *

Their parents are the John C. Campbells of Arrowhead Road, West Bloomfield Township, and the Archie C. Lambs of RioVista Drive, Commerce Township.

* * *

With her chapel-length gown of white silk organza and Alencon lace, the bride wore an illusion veil with lace pillbox. She carried white roses.

* * *

Margaret Geisel of Windberg, Pa., was maid of honor at the rite performed by Rev. Edward Auchard.

* * *

Maynard Dyer of Jonesville was best man. John Lundquist and Thomas Lamb seated the guests.

Health Spending

Private expenditures for health purposes in 1963 totaled $23.7 billion or six per cent of all personal consumption expenditures, according to the National Consumer Finance Association.

The first application of high-strength nickel steel to bridge construction was in the Queensboro Bridge, which spans the East River in New York City. The bridge was completed in 1909.

Prevent Mildew

Use spring-type clothespins suspended from the top of the clothes shute to hang damp towels and other wet articles. When they are dry, drop them to the basement. Saves possible mildew.

Turkey became a republic in October 1923.

Exercise Mat and Pillow for Weight Worries

Have you heard about a new exercise mat and pillow which come complete with instructions for weight watchers?

The set is made of lightweight foam under zip-on cotton sailcloth covers which are machine-washable, water-repellent, and soil-resistant.

Because exercise induces perspiration, it is important to launder the covers often — especially if used by more than one member of the family.

Just pop the covers into the washer, dry them by machine or on the line, and then zip back over the mat and pillow. Their taut fit makes ironing unnecessary.

Love Is Eternal

HARWICH, Mass. (AP) — The idea of romance is not dead here. The annual official meeting at this Cape Cod town rejected a proposal to change the name of Lovers' Lane to Homestead Lane.

Designed, Made Gown

Barbara Jo Graybiel designed and made her gown of white peau de soie appliqued with Alencon lace, for vows to John Lewis Hayes, Saturday, in the First Presbyterian Church.

MRS. JOHN L. HAYES

Her veil was silk illusion. White glamellias and greens comprised her cascade bouquet.

Parents of the bridal couple are the James E. Graybiels of Oneida Road and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew T. Hayes of Dwight Street.

* * *

Sherri Dudley was honor maid at the rite performed by Rev. Galen E. Hershey, followed by a church reception.

* * *

Bridesmaids were Sarajane Serwin and Mrs. Charles Henderson. Patti Graybiel was junior attendant and Kim Kaminskis, flower girl.

* * *

Dr. Thomas Hayes was best man. Guests were seated by Gary Failla, Arthur Azoian, Arthur Stinson and Thomas Graybiel.

Just 5 Words Can Help Avert Any Confusion

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five words on every prescription blank can avert confusion, help the patient understand his illness and its treatment more fully, and provide doctors with readily available necessary information, reports Dr. Robert Montgomery.

The words: "Please label as to contents." Montgomery, reporting in "Medical Annals, District of Columbia," said that pharmacists are not permitted to label prescriptions unless specifically requested.

The information is especially helpful when a patient, during a trip away from home, must consult another doctor.

Christian Family Movement

They Fete French Visitors

By MADELEINE DOEREN

More than 80 Oakland families who are associated with the Christian Family Movement were weekend hosts to some 150 French visitors.

CAME BY BUS

The group, most of whom belong to a smiliar movement in France, arrived by bus from Canada, Saturday, at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak.

One of the objectives of the movement is the development of lay apostles.

* * *

The William Linnens of Birch Harbor Lane, West Bloomfield Township, honored their guests Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Baudry of Boulogne, France, at a party on Saturday.

With the Thomas McHughs of Sylvan Lake at the gathering were their house-guests Jean DeSavigny and Yves Vourch, both of Paris, France.

GARDEN RECEPTION

The McHughs were hosts at a garden reception for their guests on Sunday.

* * *

Other area hosts to the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sanchez, Emerson Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hurtubise, Tilmor Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Street; the Alfred Duffs, Crocus Street; the John Keenans and Mr. and Mrs. John Palms, East Square Lake Road.

OTHER HOSTS

The list continues with Mr. and Mrs. James Pontius and the William Gavins of Lamplighter Lane; the Keith Ackleys Northover Drive; the George Newburns, Park Ridge Drive; Road; the William A. Moores, Henley Drive; the Paul Carletons, Cragin Drive; the James Shurtleffs, Woodedge Drive; the Charles Putts, Plumbrook Court and Mr. and Mrs. John Sykes Shallowbrook Drive.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grohs, Beverly Hills concludes the list.

* * *

OFF FOR CHICAGO

The visitors will leave for Chicago today after touring the Ford Motor Company Rouge plant. They plan to visit Montreal, Boston, New York, Washington, D.C. and Rockford, Ill., and will attend the biennial convention of the Christian Family Movement at the University of Notre Dame beginning next Sunday.

Garden Grooming Glove Is Helpful

An aid in the cause of good grooming in the garden is the split leather glove. When trimming roses, shrubbery and spiky hedges, these flaring leather gauntlets protect you from scratches and keep nails and hands presentable — no matter how many hours you spend "in the bush."

* * *

Keep a pair handy in your tool basket or pocket of your gardening apron.

Because of its great resistance to penetration (four times that of any other glove material), split leather is also safest for handling broken glass.

* * *

The leather, although strong, is soft and pliable so there is no binding or blistering while gardening tasks are performed.

The Keith VanKleeks of Lanette Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail Ann to Donald L. Warner, son of the Daniel Warners of Mapleleaf Street. She is a sophomore at Western Michigan University. Her fiance is enrolled at Oakland Community College.

Now Is Time for Bargains in Furniture

Oakland County Co-Operative Extension Service

August and September bring furniture sales from most of the major retail stores carrying home furnishings.

Some provide substantial savings as early as July so area residents should be familiar with advertisements currently being displayed.

WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

Anything on sale is a bargain only if it is needed in your home situation, if it fits in with already purchased items, and if it suits your budget. Your family's needs and desires, the color scheme, the style of furniture, the kind of space you have and your budget limitations should all be considered before you actually buy furniture.

Once you have decided that now is the time you will buy that extra chair for the living room, a new dining room set, perhaps an end table or just an accessory piece, then take time to look around.

Furniture is usually a longtime investment. It's much better to make up your mind slowly than to have a mistake staring at you for years to come. There will be plenty of stores for you to do your shopping. Savings can be considerable if you make a wise decision.

To save yourself some misjudgment, learn what you can about furniture construction. Know what makes a sturdy, structurally sound item. Shop at a reliable dealer who will have an interest in what he sells.

Ask about finishes on wooden furniture so you will know how to repair it if it becomes damaged with home use. Learn your upholstery fabrics and ask about the care they need. It's no bargain if the item is poorly constructed and the fabrics used on it wear quickly.

Remember — learn before you shop; then shop wisely; and then enjoy your "bargain."

4-H Fair Ends Successful Run

A series of horse club events brought to a close Saturday evening what appears to be a record-setting Oakland County 4-H Fair.

Preliminary attendance estimates indicate that more people came out to view the 3,500 exhibits of some 2,000 Oakland County 4-H youngsters than ever before.

"This was probably the best fair we've ever had," said Jack Worthington, county 4-H agent.

The outstanding success of the fair was attributed to the fine weather and a growing interest

Cowboy Gear Taken by 'Thieving Varmint'

OXFORD — About $600 worth of bridles and saddles were taken from the Rafter M Ranch, 270 N. Rochester yesterday during the "All-Western" rodeo.

Romeo State Police said one of the contestants reported the theft of a hand-tooled saddle valued at $400, three bridles and three saddle blankets from his trailer.

Fair Contest Deadlines Approaching

Entry deadlines are approaching for the Michigan State Fair's beauty queen and baton twirling contests.

The fair itself opens Friday evening, Aug. 27, and runs through Labor Day, Sept. 6.

The deadline for entering the Miss Michigan State Fair contest is Aug. 20. Only winners of other beauty contests during the past year in the State of Michigan are eligible.

Preliminary judging will be in the Community Arts Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Sept. 1, with the finals at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 2 in the Music Shell.

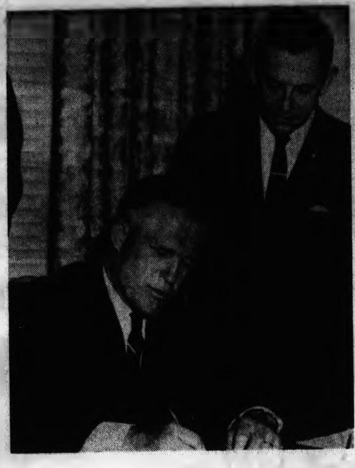
* * *

For baton twirlers, the entry deadline is Aug. 25. Classes include novice girls and boys, junior and senior teams, and junior and senior corps.

Application forms and further information are available from Cleighton Melin, director of music and parades, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Mich. 48203.

GETS PER POST—James L. Ockerman Sr., veteran Pontiac police officer, has been named secretary-treasurer of the Past Exalted Rulers Association of Farmington Elks No. 1986. He was also appointed to the lodge's state awards committee by State President Roy Gallie.

Honey production in the United States averages 1¾ pounds per person a year.



RAILROADS NOW RESPONSIBLE—Gov. Romney recently signed into law a bill which makes railroad companies operating diesel engines responsible for the fires they set, the damage caused and the cost of suppression. Present at the signing was Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion, who introduced the bill in the House of Representatives.

Weekend Traffic Fatal to 19 in State

By The Associated Press

Michigan residents swarmed to the state's lakes and highways in record numbers during the weekend in an effort to escape a heat wave blanketing much of the state.

Nineteen persons died in traffic accidents in the state. Another nine lost their lives in water accidents.

The victims included:

2-CAR CRASH

A migrant working, mother and her daughter were killed Sunday night in a truck which rolled over into a ditch along M22 in Benzie County some five miles south of Empire. Dead were Mrs. Frances Davis, 34, of Houston, Tex., the driver, and her daughter, Jerreaca, 8.

Donald L. Sundstrom, 31, of Plymouth, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Dearborn Heights.

Edith Hiller, 80 of Detroit, was killed Sunday when struck by a car at a Detroit intersection.

Robert Penney, 43, of Wyoming was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding rolled over east of Moreley in Mecosta County.

Charles Patton, 3, of Pontiac, died Saturday when the car in which he was riding struck a fence in Pontiac.

DEARBORN HEIGHTS

Jerry Brand, 16 of Livonia, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Dearborn Heights.

Zelma Browne, 47, of Detroit, died Saturday in a two-car collision in Detroit.

School Delay Forces Juggling of Classes

MILFORD — Elementary classes will be juggled in the Huron Valley School District this fall as an alternative to half-day sessions.

Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens devised a plan for meeting crowded conditions after learning that the new Muir Junior High School will not be ready for the opening of school.

Architects last month told the board of education that various factors had caused the delay in completion of the unit, now under construction on George Street northeast of Baker Elementary School.

Representatives of Kainlauri, MacMullan, Millman Associates, Inc., of Ann Arbor said the school may be completed in November.

When opened, the building will have a 600-student capacity.

The entire student body of Milford Junior High School expected to number some 550, then will be transferred to the new unit.

"Meanwhile, we have to house six elementary classrooms which were intended to be put into the old Milford Junior High," Owens said.

At Duck Lake, Baker, Brooks and Johnson elementary schools the multipurpose rooms will be used for sixth-grade classes.

Two other sixth-grade classes — one from Duck Lake and one from the Baker-Johnson attendance area — will be moved to the high school.

* * *

Once the new junior high school is completed, the classes again will be juggled to make use of the old building.

The youngsters who had been meeting in the Duck Lake multipurpose room will be switched to the high school.

Three of the high school's six elementary classes then will move to the old junior high, along with one sixth grade class each from Brooks, Baker and Johnson elementary schools.

Lake Orion OKs Budget for Schools

LAKE ORION — The board of education has approved a $1,759,347 budget based on a tax rate of 24.56 mills for the coming year. This is 4 mills less than is available for levying.

Schools Supt. A. A. Reed said the board will levy only eight of its 10 voted operating mills because the district will receive more money from increased state aid.

For the same season, the high school debt millage and the junior high school debt millage were each reduced by 1 mill.

Last year a 4-mill operating tax approved by voters the previous summer was not levied because the junior high was not completed. Only two of those mills are being levied this year.

* * *

The new budget represents a $350,000 increase over the previous budget with the largest portion of the increase, about $175,000, going to pay 30 additional teachers.

TEACHER RAISES

Also included in the increased budget is about $12,000 worth of teacher raises.

An 11th step was added to the schedule setting salaries for teachers with a bachelor's degree at $5,300 to $7,775. Those with a master's degree will receive $5,500 to $8,250.

The district will also pay Blue Cross insurance for all personnel, which will amount to about $20,000.

* * *

Monies allocated to the various departments are $694,000, elementary instruction; $599,197, secondary instruction; $43,330, special education; $56,221, administration, $1,700, health service; $103,482, transportation.

Others are $182,902, for operation; $36,550 for maintenance; $11,247, fixed charges; and $23,235 for capital outlay.

NOT MARGARET TYPE—Margaret Quelch, 36-year-old airlines agent in Miami, Fla., has had the nickname "Sam" for 17 years and has started action to make it her legal name. She says it is short, simple and easy to remember, and nobody can change it to Peggy or Maggie.

Body Found in Dearborn

DEARBORN (AP) — The body of an attractive young woman was found lying on the floor of a car Sunday which was parked in the lot of a bar where police moments earlier had stopped and questioned a man.

The man was being sought.

* * *

The woman, shot in the head, hand and arm, was identified as Roberta Gronowski, 33, of Detroit. Police said her body was jammed under the dashboard of her convertible.

* * *

She was identified by Theophil Gronowski, 35, of Detroit, a former husband. He told police he had not seen her for several months.

NO WEAPON FOUND

Police said no weapon has been found.

The officers checked the lot after they saw the flashing taillights of a car in the Dearborn parking lot. Asked what he was doing there, the man told them he had been dropped off by friends and was picking up his car.

* * *

The officers found Mrs. Gronowski's body minutes after the man drove off.

She's Changing Name—to Sam

(EDITOR'S NOTE: An underdressed riot squad in California. A lady named Sam in Florida and an unlicensed lady in Maryland are among glimpses from the U.S. scene this week.)

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sam Quelch has a sweet voice, pretty face, shapely figure.

Sam is a woman and proud of it.

Last week she started legal action to change her given name, Margaret, to Sam.

* * *

"Why not?" says Sam, 36, an agent for an airline. "It's short, easy to spell, simple to remember, and no one can make a nickname out of it."

First she made up her mind to legally change her name but couldn't convince her lawyer to stand up in court.

A LITTLE FOOLISH

"I think he felt a little foolish about asking the judge to change my name to Sam," Sam says.

So she brushed up on the law herself and put a notice in the Miami Law Journal, noting that Margaret Quelch shall henceforth be known as Sam Quelch.

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Marion F. Pomeroy has been parking cars for 15 years—without a driver's license.

The silver-haired widow has been the sole attendant at a parking lot here since her husband died eight years ago. Born in Winchester, Va., she came to Frederick as a bride 55 years ago.

* * *

"This was the first parking lot in Frederick and we've never had an accident," she said.

Mrs. Pomeroy never has driven a car and has no license, but she doesn't hesitate to help straighten out motorists who do.

"When they park crooked, I just go out and help them park straight," she said.

* * *

Her employer, Thomas Kiriakou, says of Mrs. Pomeroy: "She does a fine job. She's an expert in taking care of cars."

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This city of 75,000—which sometimes plays host to 150,000 teen-agers at its seven miles of beaches may have the nation's least-dressed riot squad.

Fifteen officers in swimsuits have been assigned to the beaches to mingle with the crowds, watching for the first sign of riotous behavior. The officers wear their identification taped under their thigh-length surfer trunks and hide handcuffs in their hats.

* * *

"We've found that these riots don't just happen," said Sgt. Earl Robitaille. "They're planned. A bunch of troublemakers say, 'Let's go to Huntington Beach Sunday and have a riot.'

* * *

"All it takes is a comparative handful of boys throwing sand bombs and smashing things, and 700 or 800 other youngsters rush up just to see what's happening. Our plan is to grab the rioters before things get bad."

So far it has worked.

Detroiter Electrocuted

ST. CLAIR (AP) — Steven Ray Henley, 37, a Detroit electrician, was electrocuted Saturday while repairing a water pump on Dickenson Island near here.

Alabama Crash Kills Detroit Student Pilot

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The crash of a small civilian airplane on the Alabama River near here Saturday took the life of U.S. Air Force 2nd Lt. Robert Oltean, 25, of Detroit and seriously injured another person.

* * *

Officials at Craig Air Force Base said that Oltean, a student pilot, died when the three-passenger Piper Cub crashed into a gravel bed on the river.

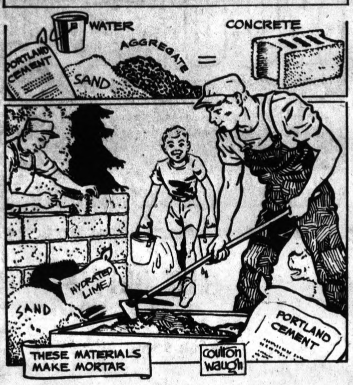
A Junior Editors Quiz About CONCRETE



QUESETION: What is the difference between cement and concrete?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Cement is a powder made from crushed limestone and some other ingredients. The most common type is called Portland cement. When this is mixed with water there is a chemical reaction which produces a hard, stone-like material.

Cement is sold in stores carrying building supplies. Concrete is a very strong, long-lasting material made principally from cement.

To make four cubic feet of concrete you would use one bag of cement (94 lbs.) mixing this with five and one-half gallons of water, about 200 lbs. of sand and 260 lbs. of coarse aggregate, this meaning broken pieces of rock from ½ to ¾ inches in size.

These mixtures have other proportions, depending on the concrete's use. When these are mixed, they can be poured inside a wooden form, which can be removed when the concrte is dry.

Many buildings are constructed of concrete cast in the handy form of blocks, as shown being laid in the lower picture.

The man in foreground is mixing the material used to bind them together, called mortar.

It is similar to concrete, but the crushed rock or aggregate is left out as this would make it too coarse. Hydrated lime is often added to make the mixture more worable for special jobs, such as filling the joints between bricks.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn more about concrete, for there are many ways you can use it around a house and garden. It is a big job to mix yourself, but you can buy mixtures ready made. All you have to do is add water.

Camel Goes on Sit-Down

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Greta, the camel, sulked when they tried to move her into a luxurious new home at Bristol Zoo.

She sniffed contemptuously at the new enclosure and then sat down for 15 hours. The 20-year-old camel wouldn't eat or move.

It rained but she sat there, damp and dignified.

Finally, zoo authorities gave in. Greta was allowed to go back to her old home.

The death toll on Canada's highways last year increased 10.6 per cent to 4,655 persons.

Conciliators Try to Heal Rights Rift

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The streets of this western Massachusetts city were quiet early today as federal conciliators tried to repair a community rift widened over the weekend by the arrest of 67 civil rights demonstrators.

Harold T. Hunton and James D. Norton of the Community Relations Service met with the city's Human Relations Commission Sunday night.

* * *

The conciliators described their visit as a fact-finding mission. They said they would meet with Mayor Charles V. Ryan and other officials.

At issue are charges of brutality brought by civil rights leaders in July against several police officers. The leaders say the City Police Commission has been slow to take up the cases.

OFFICE HOURS

Demonstrations were renewed Friday, and 23 persons were arrested on the steps of City Hall after being informed they could stay on municipal property only during office hours.

Violence threatened to erupt Friday night after two stores in a Negro neighborhood were set afire with homemade bombs. A soaking rain prevented a crowd from gathering.

* * *

Forty-four persons were arrested Sunday, most of them after 200 persons paraded from a park in the Negro section one and a half miles to Court Square, downtown.

On orders from the park superintendent, 100 policemen surrounded the square and carried off the limp demonstrators.

POSTED BAIL

City jails were cleared of demonstrators Sunday night. Police reported all those arrested posted bail, which had been set at $500 for a few and $200 for those jailed for the first time.

The demonstrators were to be arraigned today on charges of trespassing, camping in a public park without permission and being abroad in the night time without good reason.

* * *

The federal conciliators are dealing with an incident that occurred several weeks ago outside a Springfield night spot. Police broke up a gathering and arrested 18 persons, all but one of them Negroes.

The police commission has agreed to decide if police misconduct was involved — but not until disposition of the court cases against those arrested. The cases were continued last week.

* * *

Negro Clerics Rap Anarchy

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A conference of about 2,000 Negro ministers has unanimously approved a resolution condemning the use of "violence, plunder and anarchy in our cities as methods towards solution of our problems."

Ministers and bishops from nearly 1,000 parishes voted Sunday for the stand at the 96th session of the New York-Washington conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

* * *

The Rev. Dewitt T. Alcorn of Memphis, Tenn., wrote the resolution and read it to the delegates.

* * *

Praising President Johnson for "his progressive and human leadership," it endorsed his statement that "civil rights will not be won through violence."

SINCERE EFFORTS

The resolution referred to "sincere efforts being made by an awakened government to heal these bleeding wounds and erase the scars."

"We know that wrong cannot be corrected with wrong, hate with hate," it said.

Assistant Now Paid $6,000 More Than Boss

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (UPI)— Assistant City Manager Jack Strickland, who's just received a $5,000-a-year raise, now makes more than the boss—$6,400 more.

City Manager David Burkhalter, however, has given his blessings to Strickland's $16,000 annual salary. Burkhalter's salary was frozen at $9,600 by the voters. No limit was placed on his assistant's wages.

Wayne County Deputies Charge Widespread Vice

DETROIT (UPI) — Charges of widespread illegal gambling in Wayne County were voiced yesterday hours after Sheriff Peter L. Buback ordered a complete investigation into alleged traffic ticket fixing by members of the county's road patrol.

Four Wayne County sheriff's deputies and one former deputy charged they had evidence of widespread gambling, prostitution and official bribery in many parts of the county.

The five previously had charged superiors in the road patrol were disregarding tickets written by them for the past several years.

None of the men are now on the road patrol.

* * *

Deputies Robert Jones, Johnnie Tally and Lewis and James Huddleston are now assigned to duty at the county jail in downtown Detroit.

EX-DEPUTY

The ex-deputy, Gene T. Baker, was on the road patrol but quit the force several weeks ago.

Jones refused to detail the charges of gambling and other vice, saying only "I would never say something I couldn't prove. Certainly we have evidence."

He said he would not be specific until he talked to Buback about the charges.

* * *

Buback has asked the Wayne County Prosecutor's office to take over the investigation of the ticket fixing allegations with help from Deputy Inspector Richard Novak. Buback made a blanket denial of all the charges.

TRANSFERRED

According to the sheriff, the deputies were transferred to the county jail because "I couldn't trust them on the street."

He said the men tore down his campaign posters during the last election campaign replacing them with posters for Philip Van Antwerp whom they supported. Van Antwerp was defeated for sheriff and now is a Detroit city councilman.

Most of the 28 justices of the peace who handle the Wayne County traffic ticket cases said they could recall few specific incidents to back up the charges from the five men.

* * *

However, the men said they found a batch of tickets they had written in the desk drawer of their superior, Sgt. Paul Paciorek. They charged Paciorek, a 24-year-veteran of the department, failed to send the tickets on to the justices of the peace.

Grants Will Help Poor in State to Attend College

WASHINGTON (AP) — Work-study grants totaling $763,558 have been awarded to Michigan colleges and universities to help students from low-income families attend school this fall, the Welfare Department said Saturday.

* * *

The grants are part of $27.5 million in such funds designed to help more than 100,000 students attend college nationwide this fall.

* * *

Students may work on campus as library, laboratory or research assistants, as maintenance aides or in clerical jobs. Off-campus jobs may be in libraries, social work agencies, YMCA's, boys clubs, community action programs and anti-poverty projects.

Must Consider Viet Censorship in Wake of Leak—Wheeler

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says he thinks the government is going to have to take "a very hard look" at possible military censorship in Viet Nam.

Appearing Sunday on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers," Wheeler was asked if he thought censorship were necessary.

* * *

Replied Wheeler: "I think we are going to have to take a very hard look at this. As you know, I was somewhat distressed the other day at a report which came from Viet Nam detailing the movement of an American unit into a combat area.

* * *

"Now this is valuable information to the enemy. The results could well be a bloody defeat for our forces or it might permit the Viet Cong to escape a trap that has been set for them.

PREVENTIVE ACTION

"I feel that we must find the means to make sure that this kind of thing doesn't happen again."

The report was not carried by the Associated Press.

Wheeler was questioned on the relations between newsmen and military spokesmen.

The general said the government has attempted to cope with the problem for three years, citing daily briefings as an effort to improve the relations.

"I can only hope," he said, "that by following this same policy of treating the press openly, frankly, that the press in turn will take exactly the same attitude. In other words, deal openly and frankly with our officials out there."

CLEAN SWEEP—Comedian Zero Mostel, star of the Broadway show "Fiddler on the Roof," last night relinquished his role as Tevye after a solid year of performances. His first order of business was to shave off the year's growth of beard.

Humphrey Raps Book About JFK, Rusk

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey criticized today a report that the late President John F. Kennedy had planned to replace Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The reports that Rusk was ineffective was harmful and mischievous, Humphrey said.

Humphrey appeared on a taped television interview and was questioned about a book on the Kennedy era written by historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a member of the late president's staff.

"I think it has been harmful," Humphrey said. "I think it has been mischievous. I don't think it has helped the country and I don't think it is a fair reflection upon Dean Rusk, whom I consider to be one of the great Americans."

Asked by interviewer Martin Agronsky if he considered the report true, that Kennedy considered Rusk ineffective, the vice president replied:

★ ★ ★

"I don't think President Kennedy ever did. I do not think that President Kennedy ever felt that way. I knew Preesident Kennedy — maybe not as well as Mr. Schlesinger, but I do not believe the late beloved president, whom I admired very much and loved very much, would have sent the secretary of state up to Congress time after time to talk to us if he didn't have faith in him."

★ ★ ★

Humphrey said he thought Rusk had more support in Congress "than any secretary of state in my memory."

This AUGUST There's a Method To Our Madness!..

It happens every August . . . The appliance business gets that "low-down blues feeling." Who needs winter entertainment appliances in August? Not much summer left to enjoy the comfort of air conditioning. Maybe the old refrigerator will hold out. Why worry about it now. Even if you can get a new air conditioner for a mad $79 . . . or a new top-name brand refrigerator for $99 at Highland just because it's August! What other month of the year can you get an RCA Victor Color TV for less than $300 or a G.E. stereo Hi-Fi console for just $89 . . . a Detroit Jewel gas range for $69 . . . or a Hotpoint dishwasher for $109? There's a method to our madness. We've deliberately reduced everything to save you more dollars this August than ever before. That way you may decide to buy that refrigerator or TV RIGHT NOW! Maybe you'll even buy two appliances and save twice as much. Everything is marked down, including new 1966 models. Everything is top-quality and top-name brand. Floor models are priced accordingly. If price is your only reason for not buying at Highland during August — better get a new reason.

Lady Bird's Farm Shack Fixed

AUTAUGAVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has paid about $420 for repairs to a small house on her Alabama farm.

The repairs include a shiny new tin roof and a brace to support the porch. The farm's overseer said the repairs amount to about seven times the $60 annual rent paid by the Negro tenants.

★ ★ ★

A year ago the roof on the small, rundown frame house where Charlie Cutler has lived for 30 years was leaking and the porch sagged for lack of repairs.

But that was before the Republicans came.

'GOOD ROOF'

"It's a good roof," said Cutler, 76, as he sat in the red metal glider on the baby blue front porch. "I ain't got no complaints."

The house is one of several on the Autauga County farm owned by the wife of the President. A minor political storm arose a year ago when two Republican congressmen paid a visit to the farm and criticized the condition of the houses in light of the President's antipoverty program.

★ ★ ★

All the buildings are old and in need of repair. They originally were tenant houses for sharecroppers who formerly worked the 1,700-acre "Hall place,' named after its original owners.

Mrs. Johnson no longer farms the land; she has put it in timber instead. Rather than move the Negroes off the property, however, she instructed her overseer to leave them enough land for a garden plot and let them stay as long as they liked.

'BUSY NOW'

"Mrs. Johnson ain't been here for three or four years now," Cutler recalled. "I guess she's pretty busy now that Mr. Johnson is president."

Wallace Canterbury, her overseer, said the tenants pay $5 a month rent for the house, a garden patch and cow lot.

★ ★ ★

He said the cost of repairing the Cutler house amounted to seven years rent.

"They are expected to do their own repairs," Canterbury said. "The houses are in such bad repair, it just won't pay Mrs. Johnson to do it."

The repairs to the Cutler house were made after the Republican hue and cry over its condition. Canterbury said that some repairs—"just patching mostly"—had been made on others.

A group of Alabama Young Republicans offered to put a new roof on the house, but Canterbury said Mrs. Johnson paid for all the repairs.

About a mile from the Cutler home are two other shacks where young Negroes live. Their mother died early this year.

"We haven't thought about leaving," said Suzie Tyus, one of the 11 occupants of the dilapidated frame house. "We're satisfied. We ain't asked nobody to fix it."

Japan Mourns War Victims

TOKYO (AP) — Japan grieved for her three million war dead in ceremonies throughout the country Sunday marking the 20th anniversary of her surrender in World War II.

"I feel pain in my breast when I think of the people who died in battle or at their duties during the great war and of their relatives," said Emperor Hirohito, leading the main observance before 4,000 invited guests in a Tokyo hall.

The emperor and Empress Nagako stood before a wooden altar surrounded by white and yellow chrysanthemums. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, his ministers and other leading government officials stepped forward in turn to lay a single white chrysanthemum before the altar.

Life in Tokyo's Ginza and elsewhere stopped at noon for a minute of silent prayer. There were exhibitions of Japanese war relics.

Plush Resort Now Wasting Away In Bahama Sun

Millionaire's Investment: $23-Million 'Ghost Town'

BY ROBERT COCHNAR

PARADISE ISLAND, Bahamas — (NEA) — If there's a ghost town in the Bahamas, Paradise Island is the place.

Not that it was planned that way since something like $23 million was invested in this glob of sand formerly known as Hog Island in less than six years.

The money belonged to Huntington Hartford, the grocery chain heir. And so did the island just off Nassau from 1959 until recently when it was sold for an undisclosed figure.

The glorious white beach is still used by tourists (at $2 a head), but the rest of the island reminded me of a spruced-up set from a Tennessee Williams play.

* * *

There are no paying guests at the elaborate 52-room Ocean Club Hotel, where the wealthy once forked over as much as $130 for a night's lodging. Only a horse-like German shepherd and a few staff members live there now.

KNOWN AS BEST

The Martinique, once known as the best, and most expensive restaurant in the Bahamas, is shuttered. The chefs Hartford used to bring in from France each season have long since returned to Riviera kitchens.

And the golf course, which some say is the most expensive ever to be built, lies in dusty ruins. Gary Player was once resident professional.

Top tennis pro Pancho Gonzales used to oversee a now disused collection of courts which rivaled Forest Hills' manicured gems.

* * *

A Meyer Davis society orchestra used to play nightly in the ballroom. A jukebox crammed with not-too-current rock 'n' roll music has taken its place.

STRIKING ATTRACTION

One of the most striking attractions on this lonely island is a 13th century French cloister, bought from the estate of William Randolph Hearst. Hearst had planned to ship it to his fabled San Simeon in California but is wound up in Miami and Hartford had it carted over to his island.

So what happened to this isle of opulence, practically overnight? There are several explanations offered by Nassau residents.

For one thing, there weren't enough guest facilities.

A 52-room hotel, even filled to the rafters for the entire season (which it was) couldn't begin to pay the island's annual maintenance costs, which are said to have been something like $2 million.

LACKED PERMIT

Hartford couldn't get a gambling permit from the Bahama authorities, despite the fact both Nassau and the developing Grand Bahama Island maintain posh casinos.

* * *

Many Bahamians believe the real reason Paradise Island was so unsuccessful is Huntington Hartford himself, who seems to indulge in expensive whims.

Several years ago he published a classy magazine of the arts called Show, a delightful, well-edited thing (Hartford was editor and publisher) which, unfortunately, died despite frequent million-dollar injections.

* * *

And then there's the controversial Gallery of Modern Art in New York, a multimillion-dollar Moorish temple for realistic painting and sculpture which critics have panned.

* * *

I asked Paradise Island's caretaker, a pleasant chap from Tennessee, what he would do with the island to make it pay. His answer was precise:

"First I'd build a flock of hotels and motels — at least 500 rooms — and then I'd build a bridge from the island to Nassau. And I'd get a gambling casino. And I'd wait for the money to roll in."

Boy Dodges Sales Taxes

BELOIT, Kan. (AP) — Even 7-year-old youngsters these days can figure a way to beat taxes. Kansas recently increased its sales tax, requiring a penny tax on a 15-cent purchase.

Barry Treaster entered a store with only 15 cents. He bought a 12-cent comic book and three one-cent pieces of candy. The clerk told him he needed a penny tax. Barry had only 15 cents, so he returned a piece of candy, paid 14 cents and walked out.

Moments later, he returned and made a one-cent purchase — the remaining piece of candy on which there was no tax.

Pakistan: Indians Seize 3 Kashmir Posts

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Radio Pakistan claimed today that Indian forces had crossed the U.N. cease-fire line in the Kargil area of Kashmir and occupied three border posts.

The radio quoted a spokesman of the Azad Kashmir government in the Pakistani sector of Kashmir.

* * *

Sunday night the Azad Kashmir government reported that an earlier Indian attempt to invade the Pakistani sector had been repulsed with heavy Indian casualties. That report said India had been shelling Pakistani posts for the last three days.

In the Indian sector of Kashmir, at least two civilians were killed in fighting Sunday night between the Indian army and guerrillas at Sardar Sharif, 18 miles southwest of Srinagar, the Indian government radio reported.

* * *

The guerrillas were believed to have suffered heavily, the broadcast said.

About 1,000 Pakistani guerrillas were beaten back with at least 60 casualties when they tried to infiltrate Saturday under cover of an artillery barrage, Indian officials in New Delhi said.

Long Indian army convoys headed west toward areas hit by guerrilla warfare Sunday. Officials refused to say whether this was a big antiguerrilla operation or merely a precaution.

An 8:30 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew was imposed on Srinagar, the capital of the Indian sector of Kashmir.

Several persons were feared to have died there in a seven-hour blaze that destroyed about 300 houses. Snipers hindered firemen. Indian officials said the blaze was started by Pakistani infiltrators.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri asked for national unity against the "thinly veiled Pakistani aggression in Kashmir."

Lineup Switch Helps Tigers to 2 Victories

DETROIT (AP)—Manager Charlie Dressen's decision to bench Willie Horton last week has paid off an added dividend in the person of Gates Brown.

Now if Dressen could only figure what to do with Mickey Lolich.

Brown, inserted into the lineup when Horton was benched, has made the most of the situation.

He had five hits in nine trips Sunday as the Tigers moved into a tie for second place with Cleveland by beating Los Angeles, 9-2 and 9-5.

* * *

Brown has collected 17 hits in 32 trips to the plate in an eight-game hitting streak to raise his average to .281.

RIGHT GUESS

"I kept trying to play Gates or Jim Northrup whenever I could in hopes that one of them would get hot," Dressen said.

"Gates got hot about this time last year, so I guess I made a pretty good choice again," Dressen added.

* * *

Brown, who said he was not discouraged with sitting on the bench after being the regular left fielder last year, said a change of stance and a lighter bat has helped.

"When you're on the bench and the team is going good, you have to expect to stay on the bench," Brown said.

He added that he opened his stance a little about three weeks ago and switched to a Norm Cash model bat—one with a thinner handle.

LIGHTER BAT

"I see the ball better now and it sure looks big coming in ther," Brown added. "The

Bengals' Boss Doesn't See 'Big' Series

DETROIT (AP) — The three-game series against the Minnesota Twins, which opens Tuesday night, is important but not that vital, according to Manager Charlie Dressen.

"The only thing we have to see is that they don't take three from us," Dressen said. "There are too many games left yet to say one series is going to make or break you.

Dressen will use Hank Aguirre, Denny McLain and Dave Wickersham against the league-leaders. The Twins will counter with Jim Perry, Jim Kaat and Mudcat Grant.

Someone asked Gates Brown why he hadn't thought of changing his batting stance earlier.

"You have to be playing to experiment," Brown explained.

"When you only get in there once in a while—like for a pinch hitter—you have to worry about hitting the ball.

"Playing regularly, and getting more turns at bat helps you find out just what changes you can make."

Dressen indicated that he would not hesitate putting rookie catcher John Sullivan into the lineup against the Twins.

"Bill Freehan hasn't been hitting lately and Sullivan knows the younger pitchers," Dressen said.

Sullivan's four hits Sunday could well earn him a few more starting assignments.

Program Planned for Tigers' Game

DETROIT (AP) — Special ceremonies are being planned to commemorate the Detroit Tigers' 10,000th game in the American League.

The ceremonies will be held before the game with the Cleveland Indians on Friday, Sept. 24, the Tigers said Saturday.

The exact date of the mile-game is not known exactly because of possible postponements. But it is expected to fall sometime during the week of the 24th.

An audit by Lee Allen, baseball historian on the staff of the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., revealed the Tigers entered the 1965 season with a total of 9,849 games played.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — High above cloud nine, 12,000 feet over Philadelphia, the temperature was 40 degrees and the Detroit Lions relaxed in the comfort of the United charter hoping to make a successful start to the 1965 NFL exhibition season.

It might have been better if they had stayed in the plane and played the game by remote control.

* * *

Instead, the Lions landed in the city of Brotherly Love, wilted in 90-degree heat, wallowed on a scorched gridiron and were whipped by the equally non-too-impressive Eagles, 20-17.

Yesterday, it wasn't the case of the better team winning, but of the poorer of the two teams losing.

"We were flat and lifeless. If there were any bright spots for us in the game, I'd have to check the films to find them," said Harry Gilmer, who had his Detroit coaching debut spoiled.

The "new" Lions offense failed to materialize as the running attack managed 63 net yards in 23 rushing plays against an Eagle defense which a week earlier was ripped for 37 points by Washington.

By the same token, the veteran defensive unit, with some of its better names on the sidelines however, just didn't have it as the Eagles countered with 220 yards on the ground.

* * *

"There were a lot of missed assignments on defense" said Gilmer, "we will have to analyze the plays carefully."

PRECISION MISSING

From the early minutes of the game when the Lions moved from their own 47 to a first down on the Eagle six-yard line, the ground and air precision appeared lacking.

Three tries by Joe Don Looney and Nick Pietrosante failed to cross the goal line and Wayne Walker had to settle the series with a 9-yard field goal.

After the ensuing kickoff the Eagles started on their own 12-yard line and with Earl Gros and Tim Brown picking up good chunks of yardage and King Hill connecting on a couple key passes, one a 34-yarder to Ralph Smith, the touchdown came at 13:08 with Gros going over from the three.

Sam Baker converted to make it 7-3.

* * *

In the 2nd quarter, an 18-yard punt off Pat Studstill's foot gave the Eagles the ball on the Lions' 49.

But, two of the key defensive moves of the game came in this series when rookie defensive end Larry Hand hit Hill for a 15-yard loss and Alex Karras bolt-

Miss King Picked for AAU Trip

TOLEDO — Three Michigan swimmers are among those selected by the National AAU for all-star teams which will range from Baghdad to Rio de Janeiro in the next two months.

They are Jerry Dilley of East Lansing, Cynthia Goyette of Detroit, and Micki King of Pontiac.

* * *

Miss King, who won the 3-meter women's diving championship last week, placed third in the platform event Sunday with 304.45 points.

High school girls swam away with the Lions' share of records at the first combined Men's and Women's National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

Only one boy splashed into the world record column, but four girls bettered individual marks and a Commerce, Calif., team stroked 8.7 seconds off the world mark for the 800-meter freestyle relay in the five-day meet which ended Sunday.

For the second straight year, Santa Clara, Calif., took the team titles.

* * *

The male record-setter was 15-year-old Steve Krause of Seattle, Wash., who became the second man to swim 1,500-meters in less than 17 minutes.

Ironically, both Krause and 16-year-old Kendis Moore of Phoenix, Ariz., clipped a tenth of a second off records held by swimmers who didn't compete in those events Sunday because of injuries.

METRIC MILE

Krause's 16:58.6 clocking in the freestyle metric mile beat the mark held by Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., Miss Moore's 2:26.3 nipped the 200-meter butterfly record of Olympic champion Sharon Stouder, also of Commerce, Calif.

Confidence Biggest Reward for New Champion of PGA

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Dave Marr won an imposing array of prizes with his triumph in the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship—$25,000 for a start, along with the prestige of capturing one of golf's four biggest titles and a handsome, coveted trophy.

But his biggest reward was confidence regained—the confidence he could be a winner.

* * *

"I was convinced I would never win again," the trim Texan, choked with emotion and near tears, said Sunday after his stirring two-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper in the teaming heat at Laurel Valley's golf club.

"When I blew the Insurance Open three weeks ago I said to my wife, Susie, I'm just never going to win a tournament' . . . I thought maybe it was the end of the line."

FACED TEST

But Marr faced the challenges at Laurel Valley—the pressure, the heat, the threats of proven champions Nicklaus and Casper—and won for the first time in over three years. He went into the fourth round tied with Tommy Aaron, four under par for 54 holes.

Gardner Dickinson was one stroke behind, with Nicklaus and Casper two back.

* * *

Aaron, playing in the threesome ahead with Casper and Sam Snead, came apart completely. But after nine holes, Casper had pulled into a first-place tie with Marr while Nicklaus and Dickinson—playing with Marr—were only a shot back.

However, Marr regained command with birdies on 10 and 11, then clinched it with scrambling, vital pars on the two tough closing holes. His even par 71 gave him a 280. Nicklaus, also with a 71, matched Casper's final-day score and 282 total.

NEAT SUM

Nicklaus, the heavy pre-tourney favorite and winner of the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks, got $12,500 for a neat sum of $56,800 in three successive tournaments. The Masters champion has won $126,500 for the year, just $1,730 shy of the record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

"I knew it was gone when I took that bogey on 11," the genial Ohio strongboy said. Actually, there was plenty of drama after that.

* * *

Bo Wininger, colorful 44-year-old veteran, zoomed up to fourth place with a torrid 66, giving him a 283. Dickinson faded to a 74, for a 284 and fifth, while Snead shot a 72 and tied at 285 with Australian Bruce Devlin, who had a 70.

Aaron, a noted fast starter seeking his first victory, led the first two rounds and shared first with Marr after three, but once again collapsed. He blew to a 78, tying at 287 with Jack Burke, Jacky Cupit, Rod Funseth and Bob McCallister.

OVER PAR

Palmer, Laurel Valley's home pro and indolized demigod in these Western Pennsylvania highlands, closed with his fourth straight over-par round. He posted a 73 to go with earlier scores of 72-75-74 for 294.

At that, the slumping star—who delcared he was giving up some of his outside interests to concentrate on getting back his golf game—matched U.S. Open champion Gary Player. The South African finished with a 74.

* * *

Defending PGA champion Bobby Nichols was never in it, and totaled 300 with his final-round 74. Ben Hogan, the legend of another era two days past his 53rd birthday, carded 72 for a 289.

Twins 8 Games Ahead

Minnesota Keeps Rolling Along

By United Press International

The Minnesota Twins have reached that stage of the American League pennant countdown when they win even when they lose.

Time is the front-runners' ally — they can rock along at .500 and laugh it up as long as no contenders mounts a streak.

* * *

And in the AL this year, there is no evidence that any of the contenders is beginning to mount that streak.

Since Aug. 1st — the date from which most late flag surges are dated — not one of the Twin's pennant rivals has played more than .600-ball.

The Cleveland Indians have been 8-9, the Detroit Tigers 8-6 the Baltimore Orioles 7-9 and the Chicago White Sox 9-6.

During the same stretch the Twins have won eight of 14 games. That's hardly a glamorous pace but it has cost them no more than a half game to the White Sox, who are so far out of it anyway that they're already making World Series reservations with friends on other teams.

SAME STORY

It was more of the same Sunday when the Twins divided a doubleheader with the Indians, the Orioles lost their third consecutive game to the Washington Senators, the Tigers downed the Los Angeles Angels twice and the White Sox scrambled for a victory over the Boston Red Sox.

When all the shooting and shouting was over, the Twins retained an eight-game lead.

By winning half of their remaining 44 games they will reach the 97-victory mark. To surpass that total, their closest rivals — the Indians and Tigers —would have to play better than .700-ball.

Jim Grant picked up his 15th victory of the season for the Twins in the opener — a 1-0 game into the ninth before the Twins won, 4-3.

Don Mincher doubled home two runs and scored on Jimmie Hall's single to make it 4-0 in the top of the ninth but Al Worthington had to come out of the bullpen to save Grant when the Indians rallied for three runs

Dave Marr Put on U.S. Team for Ryder Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Marr's victory in the PGA Championship has earned the Texan a spot on the U.S. Ryder Cup golf team that meets Great Britain Oct. 7-9.

Marr and nine other pros were nominated Sunday night for the event, to be held at the Royal Birkdale Golf Club in Southport, England.

Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Gene Littler, Johnny Pott and Julius Boros, all veterans of Ryder Cup play, were selected along with Marr, Ken Venturi, Tommy Jacobs and Don January.

The selections were made by three officers of the PGA — President Warren Cantrell, Secretary Max Elbin and Treasurer Leo Fraser, with a two-year points standing serving as a guide.

Casper led in points, compiled from the tourney following the 1963 PGA through this year's championship.

Detroit Rower Scores Upset in Scull Final

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Maher, 19-year-old auto factory worker competing for the Detroit Boat Club, scored a stunning upset Sunday in the 91st National Rowing Championships by winning the championship single sculls finals.

Maher won the race in the last stroke by a margin of about our inches over Don Spero of the New York Athletic Club who had won the event in the past two years.

Both scullers were timed in 8:10.0 over the 2,000 meter Hunter Island Lagoon Course.

Boat No. 1 of the Detroit Boat Club also scored a first in the 150-pound eights championship finals with a time of 6:47.2. The Club's No. 2 beat finished fourth with 6:55.

Pontiac Cyclists Post Two Victories

Pontiac cyclists picked up two victories Sunday in the International Motorcycle championships at Port Huron.

Roger White came home first in the medium weight class and Rex Beauchamp led the field in the featherweight division.

Other riders placing were Bob Spangler, second in Class A heavyweight; Rocky Watson second and Chuck Fordyce third in Class B Heavyweight; Ray Pace third in medium weight; Brian Marchewka second in Class B lightweight; Jim Lee second in sidecar class.

WANDERED TOO FAR—Pittsburgh's Gene Alley (14) was to far offfirst base when the Los Angeles Dodgers allowed an attempted sacrifice pop fly bunt to fall safely. Don Drysdale threw out batter Tommy Sisk at first base, then Dick Nen (28) was able to tag Alley before he could return to the bag, thus completing double play. Umpire is Tom Gorman and catcher John Roseboro is at right foreground.

Area Man Fatally Injured in Mishap at Drag Track

A 23-year-old Birmingham man was killed Sunday when his dragster went out of control during a run at the Motor City Dragway.

William Maltby, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens. Track officials said it was the first fatality in 12 years at Motor City.

* * *

The dragster, a 1964 Ford Thunderbolt 425-horsepower machine, apparently broke an axle going at about 100 miles per hour.

* * *

Witnesses said Maltby, who was married and had one child, had nearly completed the run and was going through the chute when his car veered into the infield grass and flipped four times as he tried to steer it back on the track.

Maltby was thrown from the car despite his seat belts.

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Tuesday was supposed to be race driver Richard D. Carter's 31st birthday, but a flaming crash at a local speedway Saturday night turned it into his funeral date.

Carter, of Breckenridge, drove his supermodified race car a little too near another racer in the 15th lap of the feature event at Berlin Speedway in nearby Marne.

His wheel rode up over the exposed wheel of the other car, flipping his auto upside down and crushing him beneath it.

* * *

Ottawa County Sheriff's deputies said Carter was dead on arrival at Butterworth Hospital. The driver of the other car was uninjured.

Among the survivors are his wife, Shirley, and three children.

Carter was born Aug. 17, 1934 — and his funeral has been scheduled for Aug. 17, 1965.

Miss Bardahl Utah Winner

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Miss Bardahl won the first Bonneville Regatta Sunday as Ron Musson of Seattle drove his unlimited hydroplane at an average speed of 105, 291 miles per hour on Willard Bay.

* * *

Miss Smirnoff, driven by Bill Cantrell, was second, Miss Madison third, Miss Budweiser fourth, and Notre Dame fifth.

The first-place finish put Miss Bardahl 44 points behind first-place Notre Dame in the national unlimited hydroplane standings.

Denmark Title Decided

RUNGSTED, Denmark (UPI) — Michael Attenborough of England defeated Veit Pagel of West Germany, one up, in a 36-hole final Sunday to capture the Scandinavian amateur golf championship.

Aerial Bombs Decisive

Browns Whip 49ers

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns' vaunted aerial attack, supposedly short-circuited by the loss of pass-catching ace Paul Warfield, has passed its first preaeason test with flying colors.

Led by quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski, the defending National Football League champions whipped the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday in their first exhibition start against NFL competition.

* * *

The Browns, who lost Warfield for two months when the former Ohio State flash fractured his shoulder in last month's victory over the College All-Stars, shook Gary Collins and Walt Roberts loose for three long touchdown bombs against the 49ers.

In Sunday's other action Philadelphia's Tim Brown paced the Eagles to a 20-17 NFL exhibition victory over Detroit and the San Diego Chargers, led by quarterback John Hadl, walloped Kansas City 31-10 in an American Football League warm-up.

LARGE CROWD

Saturday night, a crowd of 75,229 — largest ever for a pro exhibition in a non-league city — packed the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans to watch the Baltimore Colts overpower the St. Louis Cardinals 22-10 while NFL exhibitions in Atlanta's new stadium and Green Bay's expanded park drew turnouts of 39,120 and 50,837.

The Minnesota Vikings held off Pittsburgh 31-21 in the pro grid inaugural at Atlanta's municipal Stadium. The Packers shelled the New York Giants 44-7 at Green Bay.

* * *

Elsewhere Saturday night, Houston upended the AFL champion Buffalo Bills 29-7 at Buffalo and Denver came from behind to whip Oakland 27-17 in an AFL test at Salt Lake City.

The scheduled NFL exhibition between Dallas and Los Angeles was postponed until Tuesday night because of the Los Angeles riots.

The Browns' Ryan flipped scoring strikes of 34 and 33 yards to Collins in the first quarter and Ninowski hit Roberts for a 22-yard touchdown before the half ended. LeRoy Kelly returned a San Francisco punt 68 yards for another score and veteran Lou Groza booted three field goals.

SORE BACK

George Mira went all the way at quarterback for the 49ers, whose other signal-caller, John Brodie, is nursing a sore back.

Baltimore trimmed the Cardinals at New Orleans behind John Unitas, who fired two touchdown passes, and a rugged defense led by Dennis Gaubatz, Fred Miller and Steve Stonebraker.

* * *

The Vikings stormed to a 31-0 lead at Atlanta before Don Nelson came off the bench to spark a late Pittsburgh rally. Nelson, who entered the game with only six minutes to play, scored one touchdown and passing 60 and 72 yards to Roy Jefferson and Jim Butler for two more.

TOUGH DEFENSE

Green Bay blanked the Giants until the closing minutes while Bart Starr's pinpoint passing threaded New York's rookie-laden secondary. Starr completed 10 of 12 tosses for 153 yards and two touchdowns.

Veteran George Blanda and second-year man Don Trull passed the Bills dizzy in Houston's second straight exhibition victory. Abner Haynes capped Denver's last-quarter comeback with a 61-yard scoring dash.

B'ham Nine Possesses State Title

Birmingham's Federal Little League All-Stars have the state championship and now are anxiously awaiting a bus trip to Herrin, Ill., this week and possibly a plane ride to Williamsport, Pa., following that.

* * *

The District No. 4 champions rapped Hamtramck, 18-0, Saturday night for the state title at Muskegon Heights.

Jim Hagen fanned 15 foes and was backed by four home runs while allowing only two hits. Birmingham scored in every inning but the fourth.

An eight-run second, featuring a homer by Steve Fisher, wrapped up the victory. Ken Woodman, Jack Hamilton and Hagen had circuit blows later in the rout.

* * *

It was a striking contrast to Birmingham's victory Friday night when it rallied from a 5-0 deficit to overtake Muskegon West, 10-9, despite shoddy fielding.

The winners now must win three games in the regional at Herrin (about 90 miles southeast of St. Louis) to qualify for the Little League World Series at Williamsport.

All games are single elimination. Birmingham is one of only 32 teams left in the continental U.S. battling for four berths at Williamsport. Four teams from outside the U.S. also will qualify.

* * *

Birmingham's first game at Herrin will be Thursday. The semifinals will be Friday and the finals Saturday in the eight-team regional.

U.S. Switches Net Players

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States takes the big gamble by sending Frank Froehling III instead of Arthur Ashe against the Spaniards Tuesday in the Inter-Zone Davis Cup tennis final.

The American captain, George MacCall, tagged Froehling, a 6-foot-6 hard-hitting Coral Gables, Fla., boy for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston a few hours before the draw.

* * *

The draw is scheduled at noon today. The matches start Tuesday with the opening two singles, followed by the doubles Wednesday and the final two singles Thursday.

Class A Title to Be Decided This Week

The 1965 city Class A recreation baseball championship will be decided this week between defending champion Huron-Airway and Pontiac Business Institute, a team that won't quit.

PBI reached the final round with a come-from-behind 3-2 extra-inning conquest of the R. T. Clippers last night at Jaycee Park.

Fine pitching dominated the tense struggle before one of the largest crowds of the season; but, ironically, it was a mistake by a moundsman that ended the tilt.

TWO LEADS

Clipper relief hurler John Billesdon let a two-out, ball one-strike two low curve ball get away from him with the bases loaded in the bottom of the eighth.

Speedy Rick Pankey darted home from third base without a play being made on him. Pankey had walked to open the inning. A sacrifice, a wild pitch and two intentional walks then loaded the bases.

The Clippers led twice by one run. Dave Simmons' long sacrifice fly drove in an unearned run in the fourth; Larry Douglas blasted a triple to deep right center field in the top of the seventh to break a 1-1 tie.

But PBI refused to stay down. Ed Sparkman tied it in the fifth with a two-out single to right. Dan Greig ripped a sharp safety to left with two out in the seventh to send the game into overtime.

Sparkman was the winning pitcher in relief, hurling one inning. Dave Moilanen and Bob Readler, the two starting pitchers, dueled expertly for six innings before the late fireworks.

Ranked Net Stars Set Aside Rackets

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Chuck McKinley, America's second ranking tennis player, took his winner's trophy home from the 76th Meadow Club Invitation Grass Court Tournament, and then headed for the office.

Gene Scott, America's fifth-ranking player who was dethroned in this event by McKinley, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6, 10-8, Sunday, took his consolation trophy home and went to sleep.

* * *

Each has decided to forego any more tennis until the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills, beginning Sept. 3.

"I'm in the investment banking business now and tennis is secondary to me," said McKinley, who has played in only two grass court tourneys this summer.

Orchard Lake Boater Third on Anchor Bay

A Detroit sailor captured first place in the team championships over the weekend at Anchor Bay.

Ken Court piloted the winner and Marv Wendell of Royal Oak came in second. George Heine of Orchard Lake placed third.

Tom Dillon of Bloomfield Hills placed 15th and Kondon Juhlman of Walled Lake sailed home 21st.

Title Game Schedued

Midget Bar and Howe's Lanes will square off tonight at 7:30 at Drayton Plains park in the deciding game of the Class D softball series in Waterford Township. The winner will advance to district play in the state Class D playoffs.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT—Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds lies motionless after running into the left centerfield wall while chasing a ball hit by Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals that went into the bleachers for a home run in the second inning of game at St. Louis yesterday. Umpire Doug Harvey and centerfielder Vada Pinson and infielders Pete Rose and Leo Cardenas rush to his aid. Robinson remained in the game until the seventh inning before going to the hospital for treatment of a bruised hip. X rays were negative. Cardinals won, 12-7.

Senators Call Runner, 18, in Track Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators called young track star Gerry Lindgren to testify today in a wide-scale probe of the row between ruling powers of U.S. amateur athletics which has caught him and others "in the middle."

The investigation, starting today, is to continue through two weeks with 42 witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Senate Commerce Committee seeks to learn in the hearings whether the fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached proportions endangering the careers of athletes and U.S. interests in competitions, including the Olympic Games.

Lindgren, 18, a distance-runner from Washington State University, is just back from international competition in which he won a spot by participating in an AAU-sponsored meet which the NCAA was boycotting.

The committee wants to learn from Lindgre and others whether he now faces any possible reprisal from the NCAA.

Canada's PGA King

MONTREAL (AP) — Wilf Homenuik of Winnipeg won the Canada PGA championship Saturday with a final round 72 for a total of 214 for the 54-hole tournament.

Junior Baseball Tourney Set at Jaycee Diamond

District and regional junior baseball action will crowd the Jaycee Park diamonds this week as Pontiac is host to five state recreation association youth tournaments.

The city also will entertain the state Class A men's baseball district next weekend under the Jaycee Park lights.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30, Class E and F district tilts will be played between Pontiac and Saginaw.

The Moose team of Pontiac will play on the No. 1 diamond in the "F" (13-years-and-under) tilt; while Pontiac's Yankees (15-and-under) will play Saginaw in "E" action on the lighted field.

The Yankees last year reached the state Class F finals before losing.

REGIONALS TOO

The winners of the district games then will play here Thursday afternoon against the East Detroit district winners.

Both regional clashes will begin at 5 o'clock on the same respective diamonds. At 7:30 p.m., Auburn Heights Boys Club will play Roseville in the Class D regional. The Pontiac entry is the defending state champion.

The Moose are managed by Rich Fisher, Dave Lee has the Yankees, and Sam Sheehy directs Auburn Heights BC.

Saturday night, Detroit and Flint will clash in the men's Class A regional under the Jaycee Park lights at 7:30. Sunday, the Pontiac city champion will play Flint and Monday it will meet Detroit.

* * *

The top two teams will advance to Battle Creek for the state finals Labor Day weekend. The Pontiac champion or a local all-star team will play a Baltimore Oriole tryout camp squad at Jaycee Saturday night Aug. 21st in a benefit for the Class A managers' tournament expense fund.

Utica Wins League Title

Utica, which hopes to enter the Pontiac city men's baseball league next summer, won the Clinton Valley League yesterday afternoon by beating Pontiac Business Institute, 9-2, at Jaycee Park.

Herbe Doebler hurled a three-hitter and rapped out two himself for the winners. He had batting support from acting manager-player Jeff Maxwell, Ted Hockstеadt and Len Johnson who each had three hits.

It was the second straight CVL title for the team organized by John Lieber.

Pontiac's Pro Eleven Gains 26-20 Triumph

Regular Play Opens September 4 Against Same Team

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The defense took the bows Saturday night as Pontiac's Arrows handed Flint's Blue Devils a 26-20 setback at Wisner Stadium before 2,040 fans in a Midwest Football League exhibition game.

* * *

The game was the first meeting between the two on the professional gridiron and it had plenty of action. They will tangle again at Flint Saturday and open the regular league season at Wisner Stadium Sept. 4.

Both teams turned in strong defensive performances. Pontiac's defenders accounted for two touchdowns and Flint's crew was responsible for a couple of scores.

Both teams had trouble moving the ball on the ground and in the air, and Arrows coach Lyle Wells indicated after the game that the offensive unit would get a stiff workout in practice this week.

* * *

"Too many mistakes," moaned Flint coach Jerry Williams. "Nothing went well," he added.

ARROWS SAME

Wells could have uttered almost the same comments.

Arrows' quarterback Mike Brown, former All-State performer at Ferndale, had a weird evening at the helm.

* * *

He led the team on a 73-yard march to open the game, sneaking over for the touchdown for a 7-0 Arrows lead.

Next time Brown got his hands on the ball he fumbled in his own endzone and the Blue Devils, Len Christman recovered for a TD to tie the score at 7-7.

And with the Arrows ahead 14-7 in the third quarter, he lost control of a pass tossed into the right flat and Flint defensive halfback Chuck Hynes picked it off and scampered 70 yards to tie the score at 14-14.

* * *

Brown ended his performance on a happy note, however, as he teamed up with halfback Bob Hill of Armada on a 32-yard pass for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter that turned out to be the winning score.

DEFENSIVE STAR

A standout on defense was Steve Szabo, a teacher at Pontiac Central, who turned in the game's most spectacular play late in the second quarter when he picked up a Flint fumble at his own 40-yard line and went all the way to give the Arrows a 14-7 lead.

* * *

Hynes' run with the intercepted pass tied the score at 14-14, but the Arrows came back moments later to score after recovering a Flint fumble at the Blue Devils nine-yard line.

Fullback Willie Jones, former star at Hillsdale, ripped up the middle for eight yards and bucked over on the next play for a 20-14 lead.

A short kick set up the final Arrows' tally. Kicker Lawton Williston, booting from his own 45-yard line midway in the fourth stanza, was rushed and the ball slid off the side of his foot and bounced out of bounds at the 50.

TWIN BITES THE DUST—The Indians won this small skirmish yesterday at Cleveland as Indians' catcher Phil Roof tagged out Minnesota's Jimmie Hall in the ninth inning of the first game of doubleheader. Hall tried to score from third on a bunt by Rich Rollins. Minnesota won the game, 4-3, but the Tribe came back to take the nightcap, 6-4.

Coaches in Grid Recruiting Scuffle

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald said Monday that UCLA head football Coach Tom Prothro and Southern Methodist assistant Chuck Curtis scuffled briefly Saturday in a dispute over a prize SMU recruit.

* * *

The scuffle, said the newspaper, occurred after the Big 33 football game in Hershey, Pa., matching Texas and Pennsylvania high school stars.

Object of the dispute was Jerry Levias of Beaumont, Tex., who has signed a letter of intent to attend SMU in Dallas this fall. He is the first Negro athlete signed by a Southwest Conference school.

UCLA and some other schools do not recognize the letter-of-intent as binding.

Curtis said this happened:

"Levias had told me earlier that he didn't want to see Prothro or any other coaches, so I told the boy that I would be with him.

"I was walking off the field with Jerry and Ronnie Scoggins (another SMU recruit) after the game.

"Suddenly, here come Prothro, blocking our path. He asked the boys if they would like to fly on back to California with him, and I told Prothro that Levias and Scoggins were already signed and sealed for SMU and that I was gonna see to it that they were delivered.

"Prothro got angry and a little obnoxious and wouldn't let us by him. All I did was shove him against a fence and see to it that he didn't bother the boys any longer."

Levias and Scottins went on to the team bus.

"I thought for a minute that it might get out of hand," said Curtis. "We both got a little hot under the collar is all."

He added, "We've known for some time now that UCLA has been after Jerry, but we didn't know just how badly they wanted him until Prothro himself came out here to see him."

STILL CONTACTED

Levias said, "Prothro called me and so did someone from the University of Washington as well as other schools. I thought that once I announced my intentions to attend SMU that the other schools would leave me alone. But they haven't."

Southern Methodist flew Curtis to Hershey when it heard that Prothro was coming to see Levias. UCLA has been seeking for some time to persuade Levias to attend that school.

Steady Mary Mills St. Louis Golf Titlist

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three steady rounds paid off for Mary Mills, enabling her to hold off a driving finish by challengers and win the St. Louis Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Mills, the 1963 U.S. Open and 1964 Ladies PGA champion, won her first tourney this year by firing a 72. Sunday for a 216 total, two strokes better than Marlene Hagge and Carol Mann.

Miss Mills shot 73 and 71 the first two days of the 54-hole tournament at Norwood Hills Country Club.

Mrs. Hagge opened with an 81 Friday and then shot 69 and 68, the latter the lowest round of the tourney. Miss Mann started with a 76 before rallying for two 71s.

PAY DAY

The victory was worth $1,875 to Miss Mills, of Gulfport, Miss. Mrs. Hagge and Miss Mann each won $1,350.

Judy Torluemke took fourth with 220 for $975. Sandra Spuzich, Betsy Cullen and Sue Maxwell tied for fifth with 222.

* * *

Kathy Whitworth, the leading money winner on the tour with six tournament victories, began the day in second place, one stroke back, but she blew to 78 and finished tied with Betsy Rawls and Sandra Palmer at 223.

Eagles Down Lions, 20-17

ed in two plays later to smear Hill for minus-14 more.

SIDELINE COMPLETIONS

In the last minute of the half, Milt Plum started hitting the sideline passes to Terry Barr and Gail Cogdill but time ran on their own 41.

From the opening kickoff of the 2nd half the Eagles went from their own 20 to the Detroit two in nine plays and Baker made it 10-7 with a nine yard field goal.

The Lions had only one offensive play in the first eight minutes of the third quarter and that was for nine yards by Dan Lewis and a fumble giving the Eagles the ball and setting up a 46-yard touchdown march. Hill went over from the one and Baker made it 17-3.

* * *

The Lions then took the kickoff, marched from their own 22 and crossed the goal with Plum hitting Cogdill for a 16-yard TD. Plum completed five of six passes in this series. It was 17-10, with Walker's point.

The Eagles were a constant threat on their kickoff and punt returns. Rookie Clyde Thomas returned 39 yards to the Eagle 42 and from here the Eagles went to the Detroit two giving Baker another 9-yard field goal to make it 20-10.

With eight minutes left the Lions recovered an Eagle fumble on their 46, but failed to capitalize and Studstill had to punt.

Thomas called for a fair catch but fumbled and the Lions had the ball on the Eagle 15. Three plays later Studstill made a fine overhead catch of Plum's pass for the touchdown and it was 20-17 with the PAT.

The Eagles showed their best on third down plays. They made the third down play nine times for first downs as evidenced by the 71 total offensive plays to 59 for the Lions.

The Lions will stay out of the clouds this week and await the Baltimore Colts who invade Tiger Stadium, Friday night.

Brown also helped in another way by making a game-saving catch of Willie Smith's pop fly in the ninth inning of the second game. The Angels had already scored a run and had the bases loaded at the time.

"Some people kid me about my fielding," Brown said. "I'm ready to go with anyone when it comes to going after the ball."

Lolich flew in from Alpena, where he is serving with the Air National Guard, again and pitched one inning of the second game.

But Giants Win, 15-9

Phillies Rough on Oriental Hurler

By The Associated Press

Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy sauce firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21-year-old left-hander was honored in pre-game ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.

He received a Datsun sports car, three plaques and friendly words from Japanese Consul General Tsutomu Wada, Mayor Johny Shelley of San Francisco and Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California.

OTHER WORDS

Murakami thanked the crowed in Japanese and English. but minutes later he obviously had some other kind of words for the Phillies.

With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaped the jam by striking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

* * *

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants early in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

OTHER IDEAS

Following his rude introduction to starting, Murakami said, "I want to start again." But Manager Herman Franks had different ideas.

"Murakami is more valuable to me in the bullpen," he said.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee. Tom Sisk and Jim Pagliaroni bunted across runs while Bill Virdon'js bunt set up two others.

Drysdale, incidentally, batted seventh in the line-up but struck out twice. He also suffered his 11th loss against 16 victories.

First Shirt Big Man on His Birthday

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It was the First Shirt's birthday and by popular decree the happy hour had been extended far into the night.

In the Army in wartime there is time for only two major holidays: Christmas and the first sergeant's birthday.

First Sgt. William Bledsoe of Chattanooga, Tenn., had reached his 47th birthday in his third war with nary a gray hair sullying the dark crewcut atop his handsome head. The boys in the MACV house — Military Assistance Command Viet Nam — in Vinh Long Province down in the delta assembled a fire team to convoy him safely past that momentous milestone.

During happy hour, normally the cocktail hour before supper, martinis plummet from 25 cents to 10 cents and beer from 20 cents to 10 cents in the screened-in little bar on the roof of the barracks. At those prices, bonhomie was found to flow faster than the muddy Mekong slipping by in the distance.

BIG SPENDER

Cpl. Tom Fusco, a big-spending airman from Brooklyn, stepped up and belted an enormous Chinese gong suspended from the ceiling just beyond the mess sergeant's latest futile homily: "Patrons will refrain from profanity." The coconut trees and mangrove swamps rang with the news that he was buying the entire house. The tab came to $2.60. Fusco shrugged it off.

Rank has its privileges but also its responsibilities.

Capt. Harold Spoons of Ada, Okla., saw his duty and did it. Again the gong rent the murky delta night, summoning more revelers to the fiesta.

A MACV compound in the delta houses a curious assortment of military personnel: sailors who daily risk their lives putt-putting up the Viet Cong-infested canals with the RAG — River Assault Group; flyboys who go up in small planes called L19s to direct air and artillery strikes; Army advisers who live out in the "boonies" and eat roast dog and fried snake with their Vietnamese counterparts; engineers who rebuild the blown out bridges and cratered roads.

Pride of outfit, plus a tactical desire to get along with the top kick, caused each in turn to belt the gong.

The night rang with an anvil chorus of liquefied salutations for the First Shirt. Well-wishers came and went, fell by the wayside and wandered off soliloquizing the big delta moon in jabbering iambics, but Sgt. Bledsoe manfully stuck to his stool. He took on enough infusions of distilled camaraderie to fell a water buffalo and yet rarely slurred a syllable in gracefully acknowledging each paean to his antiquity.

Sometime during the night it was discovered that Capt. Jack Miller of Catron, Mo., just back from a sampan trip through VC country, had made the list for major. The delights of double jeopardy ensued. The tocsin rang. Heads rang. The top kick hardly even teetered.

Next morning the casualty list was high and ice in high demand as a poultice for wounded pates. Cheeks sagged. Eyeballs took on the color of tattered VC flags. Hands shook. A morning air-strike rattled the windows and shook the floors of the compound, but some of the survivors of the night's jubilation thought it was only the ringing inside their heads.

And yet at 7 a.m., same as always, there sat 1st Sgt. Bledsoe ramrod straight at his desk in the orderly room, fatigues neatly pressed, shoes shined like an ebony woodcarving, eyes clear and shining.

Which is why the First Shirt wears the First Shirt.

If traffic fatalities continue to increase annually at present rates, about 100,000 such deaths will occur in 1975, according to traffic safety officials.

Bee Causes Collision

GUILDHALL, Vt. (AP)—Trooper John Shanks was passing an illegally parked car near here when a bee stung him on the cheek. He lost control of his state-owned cruiser and crashed into the parked car. Damage was estimated at $400.

Hooks Own Lost Wallet

VERONA, N. J. (AP) — James Degnan was fishing at Verona Lake when he pulled up a wallet he had lost in the same lake less than a year ago. The wallet contained several dollar bills and some credit cards — water-soaked but still usable.

Lonely Hearts Prove More Red Than Blue

BERLIN (UPI) — "Good-looking businessman, good dancer, luxury flat, sports car, seeks acquaintance of warm-hearted natural woman 30-45 for leisure time activity and possible marriage."

Advertisements like these appear by the thousands each week in West German and West Berlin newspapers and magazines.

Some are placed by lonely, good-looking businessmen in search of leisure time activity and/or marriage.

But the West Berlin city government today warned warm-hearted, natural women between 30 and 45 that the good-looking businessman might turn out to be a Communist spy.

* * *

It did not condemn the practice of seeking a mate or friend through lonely hearts advertisements.

PRISON CELL

But it advised caution lest a ride in a sports car end in an East German prison cell.

A city spokesman disclosed that the East German "State Security Service," the secret police, is placing lonely hearts and help wanted advertisements in Western publications in an attempt to recruit and ensnare Western residents to be agents.

It also is answering lovelorn and help wanted advertisements placed by West Germans and West Berliners.

* * *

The spokesman said the Eastern campaign has been going on for about two years.

MAIN AIM

One of its main aims is to seduce lonely women working for the West German government to betray information on their work or superiors.

German secretaries of the Western allies also are sought.

The East German secret police or his Western agent, of course, hides his identity until he feels he has his woman hooked. Or he might never disclose it.

* * *

The Communists are trying to capitalize on the great number of unmarried, divorced and widowed women in West Berlin and West Germany.

NEVER MARRIED

Many lost their husbands in the war. Many lost their fiances and never married.

The greatest scarcity of men is among the 40-60 age group.

The shortage of men in these age groups has produced lonely hearts clubs, filled the classified sections of newspapers and been a boon for gigilos and homely men.

* * *

It has produced the marriage swindler and now the Communist spy.

Willy Brandt Facing Crisis

West Berlin Mayor to Get Key Vote Test

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin faces the crisis of his career in next month's West German election.

If things break right for him, he will find himself the leader of his country, the world's third greatest industrial power. He would be Germany's first Socialist chancellor in 35 years.

If he fails to get in, it will be for the second time and his party may well start looking for a new leader.

A million or so votes on Sept. 19 will make all the difference.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

Brandt, who formally opens his campaign Saturday, is craggily good-looking, broad-shouldered, a charmer in three languages.

Behind him stand a beautiful wife, an anti-Nazi record and a strong, well-disciplined party. He would seem to have everything a candidate needs, but some of the assets may turn out to be illusory.

* * *

Looks, personality and family life appear to carry less weight in Germany. Many German voters are more impressed by the patriarchal figure of ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer or the professorial manner of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Brandt's dangerous work in the anti-Nazi underground does not figure largely in his party's campaign. His enemies like to recall that he emigrated to Norway, married there, returned after the war in Norwegian uniform and only resumed his German citizenship in 1947.

TAXI DRIVER

A West Berlin taxi driver once put it this way:

"Would you people in America vote for somebody who fought on the Japanese side?"

* * *

Brandt denies ever having fought in the Norwegian army.

Brandt's Socialist party still is suspect to many West Germans. True, Karl Marx himself considered it heretical. True, it has given up nationalization of industry, antimilitarism, anticlericalism. True, Brandt is as staunch an anti-Communist as only a West Berliner can be. Yet the image of the whiskered, bomb-throwing Bolshevik persists with many older voters.

Freedom Swim Foiled

BERLIN (AP) — A young East German trying to swim the Spree River to West Berlin Sunday night was spotted and pulled aboard an East German patrol boat, West Berlin police reported today.

Moderately Active Trading

Stock Market Advance Slows

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advance slowed somewhat early this afternoon.

Trading was moderately active.

* * *

The rally was in its fourth consecutive day.

Brokers said they expected investors' interest in stocks to remain high because of record new car sales in the first 10 days of August, the best mid-July factory employment showing since 1943 and the inflationary implications of wage increases won by glass workers in a three-year contract.

PACE ADVANCE

Motors paced the advance. Chrysler gained nearly a point, General Motors moved up half a point and Ford Motor was ahead by a minor fraction.

Bethlehem and Republic Steel gained about half a point.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .5 at 331.4 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

Gains of a point or so were made by Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, International Business Machines and Control Data.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of more than a point were made by Aqua-Chem, Duval, Famous Artists Schools and Pyle National. Syntex was up nearly a point. Driver-Harris lost about a point.

Corporate and Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Astronauts Get Final Training

Eight-Day Flight Is Set to Begin Thursday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. plunged today into the final phases of training for their eight-day space journey scheduled to start Thursday.

The two astronauts took their first day off in several weeks and relaxed with sports yesterday.

Cooper and astronaut Donald Slayton bobbed in a small boat in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy and reported catching several fish. They said they hooked three sharks, but all escaped.

Conrad and astronaut Neil Armstrong took to the golf links at Port Malabar, about 40 miles from Cape Kennedy. Their scores were not reported. Armstrong and Elliott See are backup pilots for the upcoming Gemini 5 mission.

* * *

Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, today returned to the long hours of rehearsal for their flight, the longest yet planned by man.

LUNAR PATTERN

It will equal the time planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing trip. Medical experts hope the flight will erase any lingering doubts that man will be able to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and back.

Early in the flight, the astronauts are to attempt man's first rendezvous with another satellite. They will launch their own satellite from the spacecraft, back about 52 miles away from it and then use radar and other electronic aids to try to close within 20 feet of it.

It will be a major test for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October during which an attempt will be made to rendezvous and link up with another satellite which will be launched by another rocket.

Cooper and Conrad planned to spend most of today flat on their backs in a spacecraft simulator in the cape's mission control center. On the schedule were simulations of several launchings, key segments of the flight and failures.

Jury Vindicates 1962 Corvair

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A six-man jury ruled Saturday in favor of General Motors in a suit charging that the 1962 Corvair was built with engineering defects.

Earlier this week in a similar suit, a jury in San Jose, Calif., also ruled in favor of General Motors.

* * *

The Florida suit was filed for former State Rep. David Anderson, who was killed in a crash in April 1963, and James T. Russell, who was injured in the accident.

The suit, which charged the Corvair had a defective steering system, sought no specific amount.

The jury got the case Friday and deliberated 13 hours.

Business Notes

Lawrence O. McKinley, 1681 Ashtan, Walled Lake, has received Campbell Soup Co.'s highest annual award for overall outstanding sales performance.

The award is given for consistently outstanding performance throughout the entire year. McKinley received the award during the company's recent annual marketing meeting in Chicago.

Douglas S. Brown of 4011 Meadowlane, Bloomfield Hills, has been elected to the board of directors of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

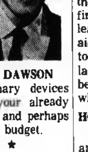
Brown is assistant controller of Fruehauf Corp. and manager of manufacturing accounting, Fruehauf Trailer division.

Hubbub Developing Over World Money

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A hubbub is developing over the international money supply. Is this a problem involving only monetary eggheads? In the following, first in a series of five articles on the world's money supply, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, gives an ABC of terms you'll be seeing more often.)

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst



DAWSON

NEW YORK — Some people see a drought ahead for the international money supply. And they say this could end up being about as bad for you as the drying up of water reservoirs.

Others see the world's complicated monetary system more in danger of being flooded — and with new inflationary devices that could swell your already high cost of living and perhaps scuttle your family budget.

* * *

At stake is not only how much money and credit the world needs but how it should be divided between the haves and the have-nots. Who supplies the funds and who gets them can affect U.S. prosperity and the purchasing power of your take-home pay.

Here is the meaning of the terms being bandied about by international bankers and and national treasurers:

Q. Just what is "international liquidity" that could be the chief bone of contention at next month's gathering in Washington of the world's top financial experts?

A. It is the sum of all funds and credits on which central banks and governments can lay their hands to meet their balance of payments deficits.

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS

Q. And what is a balance of payments deficit — or surplus?

A. Any nation's balance of payments is the difference between: 1. the amount of its money that is paid to foreigners for imports, military expenses abroad, tourist travel, government loans and grants, private investment or loans in other lands; and 2. The amount of money that comes back in payment for a nation's exports, profits on overseas investments, tourist travel from abroad, interest on its government and private loans. When more money goes out than returns, there's a deficit. When more comes back than is sent abroad, there's a surplus.

* * *

Q. When this country runs a deficit — as it has in every year since 1949 except 1957 — how does it settle up?

A. It can dip into its official reserves, borrow from standby funds or induce foreigners to hold onto their surplus of dollars as being good as gold.

OFFICIAL RESERVES

Q. What are official reserves?

A. Gold and foreign currencies held by central banks or governments. Since World War II the U.S. dollar has been the most prized and widely held currency. The British pound sterling is next, especially among the Commonwealth nations. But any country's currency may be held, and often is, for settlement of payments in the normal patterns of trade.

* * *

Q. What are astandby funds?

A. Since World War II the major source has been the International Monetary Fund. There are also a variety of international credit forms that central banks can use. A recent one is the "Club of 10" — pooling of financial resources of the 10 leading monetary countries to aid any member that gets into too-deep water as Britain has of late. All such borrowing must be repaid in time, hopefully when surpluses replace deficits.

HOW BIG?

Q. How big are these reserves and standby funds?

A. Members of the IMF have a total of about $65 billion of official reserves and their credit sources total around $23 billion.

* * *

Q. Do U.S. official gold and currency reserves and standby funds finance its international trade.

A. No. Private corporations, importers and exporters, commercial banks and other lenders do that. If the outflow of dollars were in balance with the return flow, America's international trade and foreign investments could rise to any level without affecting its reserves of gold and foreign currencies.

DAY TO DAY

Q. How are day-to-day deficits or surpluses settled.

A. Normally by private corporations and banks out of their own holdings of foreign currencies and credits. It's only when a deficit is persistent and huge (as in the United States until lately and as in Britain today) that the central monetary authorities must sell foreign exchanger of gold or seek credits.

* * *

Q. How does the balance of trade differ from the balance of payments?

A. The balance of trade is the relation of exports to imports. The United States sells more abroad than it buys and has a balance of trade surplus. It's all the other forms of payments outlined above that have turned the favorable U.S. balance of trade into a deficit in the balance of payments.

(NEXT: Why is the international money supply a problem now?)

Area Bank Starts Construction on Branch Office

Construction of a new branch of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank has been started at Woodward and Bennaville near Lincoln in Birmingham, according to Thomas H. Wagner, chairman and president.

Edward M. Greene, assistant vice president, will be manager of the Woodward-Bennaville branch which is expected to be completed in October.

* * *

This will bring the number of locations to four in Birmingham with a fifth branch office under construction in Wixom.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am a 19-year-old college sophomore, studying on two scholarships. I would like to invest some vacation earnings and am considering Chesebrough-Pond's, coupled with either American Motors or Random House. What do you advise?"

G. B.

(A) I like Chesebrough-Pond's, which has been showing good growth in a highly competitive field. American Motors has just cut its dividend in half and reported lower earnings. I believe this company has some serious problems ahead, and I would avoid the stock.

I assume you are interested in Random House because of its excellent position in the textbook field, which is sure to benefit from Federal aid. The company is well-managed but earnings—though gaining in recent years—are still well below those of 1959-61, and the stock's price is much lower than the best levels of that period.

I would prefer Crowell-Collier, perhaps even stronger in educational publishing. Earnings have been making a fine comeback and the shares have shown good technical action in a difficult market.

Can't Blame Johnson for Riots—Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Rep. Gerald R. Ford said Sunday racial riots are national problems for which no one person or party can be blamed "and we'd better all get to work to try and solve them."

* * *

The Michigan congressman said there were many factors which prompted the recent riots, but he doesn't think it possible to pinpoint "any individual, political party, or any one part of our society" as being responsible.

* * *

Speaking on the CBS program "Face the Nation," Ford was asked to comment on a statement by Rep. Prentiss Walker, R-Miss., that Los Angeles could "blame" President Johnson and his "Great Society" for the riots.

Ford rejected this idea but said perhaps in past years Negroes had been promised too many changes were going to take place overnight.

* * *

"These problems are not going to be solved tonight or tomorrow or the next day," he said. "Instead of trying to blame any political party, we ought to get to work to solve these problems . . . we all better work at it pretty hard."

Less Time for Special Interests

School Curriculums Are More Rigid

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

It is no wonder that students these days feel pressured.

Stiffening academic standards in colleges have resulted in more rigid curriculums in secondary and elementary schools. Each time a new requirement is introduced, there is less possibility of electing music, art, creative writing, literature or other special interests.

A case in point is California, where the state legislature recently approved a bill making the study of a foreign language mandatory for grades six, seven and eight. The course will be the sixth required subject in these grades.

With no intention to do so, the legislators thus restrict the youngsters from electing courses in the arts.

Most schools provide only six periods per school day. Unless the elective subject is taught at noon or in an added seventh period, there is no time for it. All students are thus required to spend their entire day studying the same courses. There is little time left for the pursuit of special interests.

Development of special interests and talents is important not only to the ultimate success of the pupil, but is in the best interest of society as a whole. When each child is free to develope his special talents, he will be able to make his best contribution to the welfare of all.

In addition, the personal satisfaction resulting from individual progress in music, art, or other special fields keeps interest in learning alive for the pupils involved.

On the other hand, restricting fields of special interest does not automatically turn a student's attention to the required subjects.

Teachers can assist in the transfer of interest in self-development from one activity to another. In the case of school subjects, this is best accomplished when the teaching emphasis is on subject matter rather than factual content.

The goals of elementary education need to be reset to fit the changing needs. Today, it is not the number of subjects required that is important, since it is impossible to impart all of the facts each individual student might possibly need in the future. The important thing is that he learn how to learn.

The skills necessary for future success can be acquired through the study of fewer subjects — provded the acquiring of these skills is emphasized. With fewer subjects, time can be set aside to give all children an opportunity to develop interest in the fine arts.

By JACOBY & SON

Here is a hand played by Max Sapire in a duplicate game in Fort Elizabeth in South Africa which illustrates a rather unusual safety play.

JACOBY

Max found himself in what appeared to be a fine four-spade contract.

Bridge experts use caution in play and Max thought things over very carefully after winning the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts.

At trick two Max led a spade to his ace and when both opponents followed to that first trump lead Max decided to play safe for his contract. Accordingly, he led a club toward dummy at trick three. East won with the ace and led a second heart which Max ruffed.

At this point Max felt certain of making five odd, if trumps broke 3-2, by laying down his king of trumps but Max decided that he wanted to be sure of his contract in case they did not.

Therefore, Max led a second club toward dummy. He did not care who ruffed it with what trump because once that club was ruffed the defenders would be down to two trumps between them and even if they turned up in one hand Max would wind up losing two trump tricks and the ace of clubs only.

Actually West discarded on the second club whereupon Max ruffed dummy's last heart, laid down his king of spades and conceded two trump tricks to West.

If Max had played the second trump before leading that second club to dummy he would have gone down. We leave it to you readers to figure out how.

Business Hit Hard by Riots

Hundreds of Millions in Property Damage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Devastating rioting has taken a heavy toll of the bustling business life of the West's biggest city.

Losses are likely to climb far into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Conservative estimates placed fire damage alone at $175 million.

* * *

Violence has destroyed hundreds of business establishments.

The flow of customers to stores in other areas has been slowed by a curtailed public transportation system and the forced closing of schools and businesses.

BLEAK FUTURE

The future looked even more bleak for those whose businesses were hit by fire, burglary and looting. An insurance executive said insurance firms probably would not pay their losses.

The executive quoted the state's adjutant general as saying the riots were "armed insurrection." That, he said, isn't covered by the insurance policies.

* * *

Dozens of merchants were forced to close because of fire and other damage.

With bus service canceled throughout the vast riot area, the Southern California Rapid Transit District worked out routes from outlying points, steering buses away from the danger zone.

BANKS CLOSED

The Bank of America closed six of its branch offices. The Southern California Auto Club shut down four offices. Tourists checked out of hotels, even those far from the scene of violence.

The University of Southern California, on the shattered section's northern fringe, canceled today's summer school classes.

* * *

The insurance official, who declined to be identified, explained that insurrection isn't included in insurance policies protecting against fire, burglary and robbery.

"The state adjutant general, Lt. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, provided the insurance companies with an excellent defense," he said.

"He stated that the situation here was, in his opinion, an 'armed insurrection' in which a 'significant number' of the population of Los Angeles was participating."

The insurance executive said he thought that the Los Angeles City and County governments would be hit by lawsuits from damage victims.

Negro Newsman Visits LA Terror Spot

By GEORGE GOODMAN
Los Angeles Sentinel

LOS ANGELES—On the south side of the city where the terror of fire and pillage has slowed, it is quiet and hot. But there is still the sniper fire and people don't feel it's all over yet. Cars have moved in and out of the trouble zone — a fact which some feel nullified the curfew's effectiveness.

Sunday afternoon I drove in and out of the danger zone, red-eyed and unshaven from long hours without sleep. At no time was I stopped for questioning though I passed numerous police check points.

* * *

"Police push them down here and they pop up some place else," said Palmer Lee Usher, a long-time south side Negro resident.

"What's going to happen when you cats leave?", a tall bare-chested youth taunted at Negro guardsmen deployed at a major intersection.

FINISH THE JOB

"We don't have nothing against you—just the police. And when you leave we'll finish the job," he added.

The most recurrent question asked among whites is how an area like Southern California, usually thought of as liberal, became engulfed in what is probably the nation's worst race riot in recent years.

* * *

I asked a Negro postal worker.

"The bitterness against the police is the number one issue," he said. "I want peace as much as you and at any cost. But what good does it do when Police Chief (William H.) Parker ridicules Negro leaders and calls black people monkeys? Things like that make my blood boil."

LAW BLAMED

Others feel that Proposition 14, the constitutional amendment passed last year is to blame. That amendment struck-down portions of the state fair housing laws banning race discrimination in housing sales and rentals.

"I came to California thinking it was the most liberal state in the nation," said Overton Washington, a west side barber. "Then I moved in here like everybody else.

* * *

"Proposition 14 added insult to injury and it permanently erased the Negro's illusion about Californians being so liberal," he added.

Negro customers in the shop nodded in agreement.

TWO AMERICAS

Said one: "The white man has learned that he can't keep two Americas going at the same time, one white, and one black, one with all the good things in it, the other with all the bad."

Peaceful residents are saddened with knotty problems left in the wake of the disaster. I stopped at an icehouse where at least a dozen people were lined up waiting for service.

"It's a shame," one woman told me. "I have a freezer filled with food that's spoiled. Some people with small children have no water and no electricity."

One man told me he was running errands for friends who had no transportation.

STORES CLOSED

"Buses and taxis aren't running and most east side stores have been burned up or shut down," he said.

Others fear criminal elements may gain control of rioters. Those fears were voiced by Robert Farrell, field deputy for Negro City Councilman Billy G. Mills.

"Nobody knows for sure, but when looting and burning are being carried out there seem to be certain patterns established," Farrell said.

* * *

"It looks like liquor stores, pawnshops displaying guns in their windows, and drugstores are hit—and in that order.

THUGS THRIVE

"We've heard that sometimes a scout surveys the building before the fire bomb is tossed. And we know that in every Negro community there are parasitic groups of thugs, black and white, who thrive on confusion like this."

* * *

The most bizarre scene I witnessed was that of two elderly white men sitting unperturbed on the delapidated front porch of their frame shack in the south central area.

* * *

"What about them?", I asked a Negro man watering his lawn, nearby.

"Nobody cares about them," he answered. "They've been living there for years and they haven't got anything."

Warehouse Lack Cited by Pravda

MOSCOW (UPI) — Warehouse bottlenecks are aggravating Soviet farm problems, Pravda said today.

* * *

The Communist party newspaper said there are not enough warehouses to store potatoes and vegetables at harvest time.

Because of this, it said, many tons of crops rot on farms.

In addition, it said, there is a shortage of stores and stands to sell the sudden rush of potatoes and vegetables when they become available.

* * *

Pravda told of trucks laden with food being driven from town to town as their drivers searched for a place to store their produce.

FED TO CATTLE

In the end, it said, the food often is fed to cattle or allowed to rot "while the population, even in summertime, cannot always buy fresh cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbages or potatoes."

Construction of silos and warehouses is "going very slowly," Pravda said. It blamed state trading organizations set up to funnel food from farm to market.

Explosion on Boat Puts 4 in Water

BAY CITY (UPI) Four persons were hurled into the water yesterday when a 20-foot cabin cruiser exploded on the Saginaw River.

None of the four was injured seriously. They were picked up in the water by Charles Shaw of Linwood.

The boat, owned by Tom Moszyk of Bay City, burned to the water line and was declared a total loss. It was valued at $3,500.

Boy Is Killed in Fire

NILES (AP)—(AP)—John LeLand Cole, 5½-year-old son of Mrs. Robert Long, died Sunday afternoon in a fire which destroyed a shed at the family's home in nearby Bertrand Township. Fire Chief Adam Kuntz said the boy apparently had been playing with matches.

ORDINANCE NO. 86

AN ORDINANCE TO ADOPT, BY REFERENCE, THE ABRIDGE BUILDING CODE OF THE BUILDING OFFICIALS CONFERENCE OF AMERICA, 1960 EDITION, AS THE BUILDING CODE AS THE TOWNSHIP OF PONTIAC.

The Township of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1.

Certain documents, copies of which are on file in the office of the Township Clerk, available for inspection by and distribution to the public at all times, and which are marked and designated as the "Abridged Building Code" and the "Basic Building Code," 1960 editions respectively, as amended by the Accumulative Supplement of 1964, and approved by the Building Officials Conference of America, Incorporated, are hereby enacted and adopted and are to be used, considered and enforced jointly, with the "Basic Building Code" serving as a supplement to the "Abridged Building Code" in the regulation of the erection, construction, enlargement, equipment, alteration, repair, moving, removal, demolition, conversion, use, height, area and maintenance of all buildings and structures in the Township, including the penalties for violating the provisions of said codes; and each and all of the regulations, provisions, penalties, conditions, and terms of said "Abridged Building Code" and "Basic Building Code," 1960 edition, approved by the Building Officials Conference of America, Incorporated, are hereby referred to, enacted and adopted and made a part hereof, as if fully set forth herein with the additions, insertions, deletions and changes, as hereinafter set forth.

Section 2.

This Ordinance and the various parts, sentences, paragraphs, sections and clauses thereof are hereby declared to be severable.

Section 3.

The permits shall be issued with the Zoning permit and the fee schedule shall be the same as the Zoning Permit Fees.

Section 4.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, use, occupy or maintain any building or structure in violation of any provision of this code or to cause, permit or suffer any such violation to be committed. Any such person, firm or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days (90) in the Oakland County Jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each provision of law thus violated. It shall be the responsibility of the offender to abate the violation as expeditiously as possible, and each day that such violation is permitted to continue shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 5.

All ordinances, resolutions or orders or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 6.

This Ordinance shall be published not later than ten (10) days from the passage hereof and shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of the first publication.

This Ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days after publication in a newspaper circulating within the Township.

This is not a job but a chance to get in to something you may have always wanted — a business of your own. Can be handled in spare time and still leave room for full expansion.

NOT A GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEME We will appoint an ambitious person who would establish and service a number of sensational self-service "TOY SHOP" displays in markets, drug and variety stores, etc. You will be furnished sales aids for securing accounts plus expert advice and guidance for extra sales-producing charity affairs, toy parties, etc. from a company in its 10th year in toys.

Requires Only Few Hours Each Week
If you have a desire to better yourself, if sober, honest, really sincere and have a car—apply at once, giving phone and complete details about yourself. Airmail or Wire:

Udall Offers Plans for Drought Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reportedly has come up with several proposals designed to help parts of the drought-stricken Northeast.

Sources said the recommendations had been sent to the White House, and primarily involved conservation methods.

The sources said they were prepared specifically for water-short urban areas of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Beatles Are a Big 'Hit'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles stood on second base, and for some 55,000 excited fans in Shea Stadium Sunday night it was better than the World Series, the All-Star game and 50 grand slam homers rolled into one.

The crowd — mostly girls, average age 15 to 16, and a sprinkling of boys and parents — couldn't hear much, despite 29 loudspeakers facing the horseshoe-shaped stands. Most people way up in the three balconies couldn't see much, either. ther.

But many had a good raving cry — individual outbursts ranging from ordinary weeping and screaming to howling and hysteria with jumping up and down.

The nearly universal, sustained screaming prevented anybody hearing the Beatles' famous vocalizing and guitar and drum playing.

ARMORED TRUCK

The Beatles rode in a red Wells Fargo armored truck, during which they were pinned with badges désignating them honorary Wells Fargo agents.

"It was fun. We felt like cowboys," Paul McCartney said just before going on stage.

* * *

The Beatles rode in the back of the armored truck. Driver John Lee of Brooklyn, said Ringo Starr told him, "Take it easy on the bumps." All four gave Lee autographs for his 8-year-old daughter, Joann.

After their 35-minute, 12-song performance, the Beatles stepped from their stage atop second base into a waiting white ambulance. They transferred from the ambulance to the Wells Fargo truck and were driven through streets lined with policemen to the heliport at the nearby World's Fair. They flew to the Wall Street heliport in Manhattan in a chartered helicopter and returned by limousine to the Warwick Hotel.

AP Photofax

AT SECOND BASE—The Beatles perform on a stage at New York's Shea Stadium—home of the Mets—before some 50,000 enthusiasts. Despite 29 loudspeakers, the crowd was unable to hear much of the performance, and many in the upper balconies were unable to see the famed musical group.

Dogs Keep Gamblers From Stopping 'Action'

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Crowds swarmed out of Reno's gambling casinos to watch an early morning fire in such numbers Sunday that snarling police dogs were used to keep onlookers from interfering with firemen.

The blaze burned out the Reno branch of the Nevada Bank of Commerce and caused smoke and water damage to several other offices.

Mom Was Beauty, but Less Daring

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) — "Things were different in 1929," a Miss America runner-up of 36 years ago said today after her daughter won a beauty contest in a daring swimming suit.

"Now you are no tso restricted," Mrs. Fred Silver said, explaining that the big difference was the open-neck swimsuit her daughter wore.

Mrs. Silver, then Isabell Green, won the title of Physical Culture Girl in 1929 in Madison Square Garden, wearing a closed-neck, wide-shoulder swimming costume which included long stockings and a shirt.

She went on to win the Miss Newark and Miss New Jersey contests the same year and was third runner-up in the Miss America Pageant.

NO TALENT NEEDED

Mrs. Silver, a dark-eyed girl who wore her long red hair at shoulder length, said, "No talent was required then; it was based on appearance."

Her daughter, Andrea, 20, a college student has the same dark eyes, soft voice, and flowing red hair.

* * *

Sunday night she was selected Miss New Jersey Press Photographer after appearing in a scoop-neck, flowered-print dress and a bathing suit — the latter provided by the sponsors of the contest.

"I thought it was rather cute. It had black net mesh down (the middle) to the belly button. It wasn't that revealing," said Andrea, who measures 35-23-35 and weighs 125 pounds.

* * *

Mrs. Silver appeared as a dancer in the Broadway production of "Strike Me Pink," in 1935 and later in the Hollywood musical "Sing and Like It."

She met her husband at a house party in Newark. Now president of a glass and mirror company, Silver led a band, "The Ramblers," in the 1930s and played the guitar.

Traffic safety and transportation experts are studying proposals to provide exclusive lanes on major highways for buses.

In 'Virginia Woolf' Film

Actor Learning From Burtons

By DORIS KLEIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Making a film with the Burtons is like going to school, says George Segal, "I'm learning a lot."

Segal plays the object of Elizabeth Taylor Burton's straying affections — from husband Richard — in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

* * *

The film version of the Broadway play is being shot behind closed doors at Warner Bros. Miss Taylor, concerned about the demanding role, and Mike Nichols, directing his first film, prefer it that way.

"It makes for rather a close-knit group," says Segal, his hair blond-streaked for the part.

COLLEGE PROF

Segal plays an ambitious young college professor who, with his wife, Sandy Dennis, visits Elizabeth, the college president's daughter, and Burton, her husband. Elizabeth uses a play for Segal as a weapon against her husband.

Any palpitations from the nearness of Elizabeth?

* * *

"The Burtons are professionals and they work that way," says George, "there isn't any fooling around."

During lunch breaks, George drops over to the Warners' commissary and the Burtons retreat to their dressing room. After work, the Burtons return to their rented house in Beverly Hills and George to his suite at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

LITTLE MINGLING

There isn't much off-set mingling, says George.

"But we protect each other," he adds, meaning he doesn't let go with any juicy Burton tidbits for the gossip columnists.

* * *

Ambitious, driving and tense, George is still young enough to be awed by the big names in show business, despite his own rapid rise in the last two years.

"Look, that's Henry Fonda at the next table," said George over a toasted cheese sandwich in the commissary. "When I think of all the emotion I've been through just watching that guy on the screen."

STAGE ROLES

Son of a New York beer distributor, George dawdled in television and stage roles in New York until about two years ago.

* * *

"It doesn't matter how good you are on the stage or television," he says, "you really haven't made it until you make it in Hollywood."

George caught the eye of producer Mike Frankovich when he appeared in "The Young Interns" at Columbia, which has him under seven-year contract.

He landed the artist's role, opposite Elizabeth Ashley in the star-studded "Ship of Fools."

'ABBY MANN'

"Abby Mann, who wrote the screenplay, told me I play Abby Mann in the picture," said George. "Mann wrote himself into the picture."

His biggest role is in the still-unreleased, "King Rat," story of life in a Japanese prison camp, in which he plays the title role.

* * *

Next comes "Ice Station Zebra" with costars Gregory Peck and David Niven.

"All of a sudden, it's all happening," said George. "It's a little hard to believe.

"Outside interests? Who'd want any. All I want to do is work."

Three Inmates Escape S. Dakota Prison Farm

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Three young men fled the South Dakota Penitentiary farm at nearby Ellis Sunday, Warden Don Erickson said.

* * *

Also missing, he said, was a fire red pickup truck bearing white shields on its sides emblazoned South Dakota Penitentiary, Unit 6.

Tony Bennett's Screen Test Applauded by Disc Jockeys

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS—Tony Bennett's in the apogee of happiness now that he's a movie actor like fellow New Jerseyite Frank Sinatra. Tony, 38 last week, plays "Hymie Kelly," a press agent, in "The Oscar" at Paramount—and in one scene smashes his actor client (Stephen Boyd) over the head with a club, then kicks him when he's down, snarling "You taught me it's all right to fight dirty!"

WILSON

Every press agent'll be rooting for Tony . . . Every press agent's longed to do this to a client.

"People ask me, 'How do you like getting up in the morning?' " Tony told me at the lunch. "I like it . . . for 15 years I've been waiting to do it."

Tony's screen test — done with his friend Stephen Boyd—was shown to visiting disc jockeys. When it was finished, they applauded.

China, Indonesia Aides Talk

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi met with Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio for 3 hours Sunday night.

Chen Yi arrived for celebrations of Indonesia's 20th independence anniversary Tuesday. His visit was announced Thursday, three days after Singapore withrew from the Malaysian federation which Indonesia has threatened to crush.

★ ★ ★

Indonesia has not yet recognized Singapore as an independent state. Subandrio indicated last week it would not do so unless Britain lost its military bases there.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The South Korean Cabinet resigned today in the wake of the ratification of the controversial Japan-South Korea amity treaty, but President Chung Hee Park rejected the resignation.

The Cabinet resigned so Park could make any changes he felt necessary to cope with the tense political situation.

★ ★ ★

The National Assembly ratified the treaty Saturday.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel's ruling Mapai party formally ousted former Premier David Ben-Gurion and 10 of his top supporters Sunday night for forming their own political group.

The step was taken to prevent the new group from claiming that they are still Mapai party members despite their independent list of candidates for the national elections in November.

False Police Alarm Costs 15 Days, $25

SALINA, Kan. (AP)— Melvin Pickett called police, reporting that a family fight was going on in his house. When officers arrived, he told them he only wanted to see how long it would take them to answer a call. Police Judge Morris Hoobler sentenced Pickett to 15 days in jail and fined him $25 for sending a false report to police.

Scurvy Cases Are Increasing

LONDON (AP) — A doctor has made a report to the Ministry of Health in which he suggests that there are probably hundreds of thousands of cases of scurvy — mostly undiagnosed — in Britain.

The doctor was Geoffrey Taylor of Ilminster Somerset, who said he found during nine weeks as consultant physician at St. Mary's Hospital, Kettering, that more than half the cases in the acute geriatric (diseases of old age) wards had signs of scurvy.

"The cause," he wrote, "is the obvious shortage of vitamin C in many diets and the overcooking of food. I found the mid-day meal already fully cooked nearly three hours before it was eaten."

Dr. Taylor also took into consideration, he said, observations at other hospitals.

★ ★ ★

Scurvy is a disease caused by a vitamin C deficiency and is characterized by anemia and debility.

The Most Noble Order of the Garter, oldest European order of chivalry, was originated by King Edward III in 1348.

British Block Red Ballet for Peace Group

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office told the Soviet Embassy today the Bolshoi Ballet will not be allowed to give a farewell benefit performance for the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation.

"It has always been the view of the government that in pursuit of better Anglo-Soviet cultural relations they cannot allow Soviet artists to be involved in internal politics in this country," a Foreign Office spokesman said. "It would be inappropriate that Soviet artists should appear in support of any movements of a political character or ones involving any ontroversial domestic issues."

★ ★ ★

The Bolshoi company is here under the British-Soviet cultural agreement. Its performances at the Royal Festival Hall in London end this week and then it goes on a provincial tour, ending Sept. 11.

The benefit performance was scheduled for Sept. 13 at Wimbledon Town Hall. The foundation was formed to further the view of Russell, 93, a philosopher who opposes the American stand in Viet Nam.

Fine Friendly Fighters

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Two brawlers told the judge they laid down their weapons so the fight would be fair. They left their knives inside when they went out for what one called a "friendly fight." Once the fight started, however the one who was losing grabbed a lead pipe and swatted his opponent over the head. the judge found both guilty.

Craters Are More Numerous On Other Side Of Moon

Reds Show New Moon Photos

MOSCOW (AP) — The new Soviet photos of the back of the moon show it has fewer seas and is more mountainous than the visible lunar surface, a Soviet scientist reported today.

The part the earth can't see has numerous chains of minor craters extending for hundreds of kilometers, a feature not found on the side facing the earth, wrote Dr. Yuri Lipsky of the Shternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

* * *

Lipsky's article was distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass along with several of the moon photos.

The Tass article said the pictures were taken in 68 minutes on July 20 by the Soviet space probe Zond 3 and the probe passed the moon at a distance narrowing from 7,208 miles to less than 6,213 miles.

PICTURES SENT

The pictures were transmitted back to earth beginning July 29, as the probe sped on into an orbit around the sun. Each transmission took 34 minutes.

The total number of pictures received has not been disclosed.

* * *

Lipsky wrote that the new pictures confirmed indications of the first pictures of the back of the moon, taken by a Soviet satellite in October 1959, that the two sides of the moon differ.

"On the invisible side there are relatively few seas, and on the whole it is more bright and mountainous," Lipsky said had been shown.

"The density of craters on the reverse side also proved to be higher. These conclusions are fully confirmed by photographs taken by the Zond 3 probe."

* * *

The term "sea" or its Latin form "mare" is used by astronomers to describe dark, level parts of the moon's surface, which lacks water. The seas are believed to be composed of loose, level dust or similar material.

* * *

The bright, mountainous parts of the moon are designated continents.

Foreign News Commentary

Soviet Chiefs Follow K on Diplomacy

By MURRAY J. BROWN
United Press International

The new men in the Kremlin have taken a page from ex-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's book on diplomacy by receiving foreign leaders at their vacation dachas (villas) on the Crimean coast for "informal" talks.

East Germany's leader, Walter Ulbricht, was the first visitor, and it was assumed he discussed current economic and political troubles inside the Communist world with Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev and President Anastas Mikoyan.

* * *

Similar talks are expected in the next few weeks with the leaders of Romania and Czechoslovakia.

BUDGET VS. BASE: Expect pressure to mount on the British government to whittle down its commitment in Malaysia. Military commitments in the Southeast Asian Commonwealth member is costing Britain about $280 million a year.

* * *

Those seeking to reduce the over-all defense budget already are pointing to the Far Eastern base as one place where money can be saved, especially since Singapore's secession from the federation rules out use of the base for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) needs.

LE GRAND CHARLES: Insiders said President Charles de Gaulle will not stage a classic election campaign if he decides—and chances are he will—to run for a second term this December.

* * *

They said de Gaulle will not run on a party ticket but as "a candidate of all Frenchmen." His campaign probably will be limited to one or two nationwide radio-television addresses just before the Dec. 5 elections.

AFRO - ASIAN ANTICS: Algeria is pulling out diplomatic stops to ensure that the second Afro-Asian summit conference, originally set for June 28 in Algiers and now scheduled for Nov. 5, takes place as planned.

* * *

Despite the lukewarm attitude of such "moderates" as Japan, the Philippines and Thailand, the Algerians hope to drum up enough support from Red China, Indonesia and other "hard-liners" to make sure the conference is held.

NEW TIES: Sources say Malaysia soon will discreetly ask Yugoslavia if it is agreeable to an exchange of diplomatic representatives.

If so, Malaysia will then establish relations with its first Communist country. The sources also report periodic feelers on the part of Russia for diplomatic relations, but any such development still appears a long way off.

NUCLEAR CLUB: Indonesian military men are beginning to name dates for the first time for plans to test an atomic device.

Some officers set the date as early as Oct. 5, Indonesian Armed Forces Day. Other dates mentioned range from Christmas to New Year's.

* * *

Authorities in Jakarta agree that the test will be by the grace of Red Chinese technicians and materials and that its main purpose will be to enhance the prestige of both countries.

Wagon Train Stalled

Help for Homesteaders

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP) — It looks like two families of Texans who are determined to homestead near McBride, Canada, will reach their destination before fall despite their misfortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Sunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Freeman and eight children left six months ago from their homes near Bitter Creek, Tex., by wagon train.

* * *

The families were making about 20 miles a day on their 3,000-mile journey, but about a week ago they became stalled in Newcastle. They ran out of money and their equipment broke down.

More bad news reached them in Newcastle.

A representative of the Canadian Immigration Service advised them their homestead was not in shape for the winter.

Cunningham then learned from a friend in McBride that his homestead had been vandalized and all his equipment was stolen or destroyed. The equipment included a small sawmill, haying equipment, tools and household effects. Buildings reportedly had been wrecked.

* * *

Because of the loss of his Canadian assets, Cunningham could no longer sponsor Freeman's immigration to Canada.

The president of Highland Enterprises, Inc., Jack L. Campbell of Newcastle, heard of their predicament. He appointed Freeman as the company's manufacturers' representative for Alberta and British Columbia. Campbell agreed to furnish a truck to take the homesteaders the rest of the way to Canada.

* * *

The Texans plan to leave Newcastle about the middle of next week with their horse power harnessed to a truck, upon which their livestock will be loaded for the rest of the journey.

SCENE ON SABBATH—The Sunday scene in the Watts sector of Los Angeles was a desolate panorama of destruction through which only firemen, police and National Guardsmen moved. A vast military maneuver drove Negro looters from the streets, leaving a scene more like a World War II battlegound than one in peacetime Los Angeles.

LA Sector Calm AfterOutbreaks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comparative calm settled over the city's troop-encircled Negro riot zone today after a wild night in which violence spread for the first time to other Southern California cities.

At midmorning Police Inspector J. K. McCauley said: "This is by far the best day yet."

His headquarters in South Los Angeles received a few reports of shootings and lootings but there were no massing of mobs and no arrests, he said.

The death toll stood at 32.

After five straight nights of rioting by uncounted thousands of Negroes, police removed most of the barricades in a 42-square mile "unsafe" zone and this morning residents moved about freely for the first time since Wednesday night.

* * *

As relief authorities moved three tons of food into the burned and looted district, police and 15,000 massed National Guardsmen kept close watch for possible renewal of sniping and fire-bombing in all-white areas.

'ATTACKS PLANNED'

A high-ranking police officer said the attacks last night and early today seemed "planned and organized." He didn't say by whom.

Then, with the dark, came spreading violence:

- Negroes rioted in a Negro section of Long Beach, 15 miles south of the old riot center at Watts. Long Beach officer Richard Lefebre, 24, was mortally wounded by a shotgun blast.

English Sight Sailing Editor

Near End of His Solo Trip Across Atlantic

FALMOUTH, England (AP) — Two fishing boats sighted Robert Manry and his 13½-foot sloop Tinkerbelle in a calm sea off the English coast today and reported him fit and well. They said he was 60 to 70 miles from Falmouth, his goal in a journey across the Atlantic.

"Manry says he is fit and well and has asked for the course to the Lizard," reported skipper Harry Small of the fishing boat Trewarvenneth. The Lizard is a point on the southernmost coast of England, near Land's End.

The fishermen gave Manry's position southwest of the Lizard and estimated he would reach Falmouth in another day or so if the present calm sea and fair winds persist.

After the sightings by the fishermen at 11:55 a.m., Manry's wife, Virginia, set out in the trawler Excellent, chartered by the Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer, the newspaper for which Manry is an editor.

* * *

Shortly after noon, Manry went aboard the British navy minesweeper Brereton, which came alongside his boat, and asked for a glass of milk.

MISSED MILK

"It's the first I've had in 76 days," he said.

He chatted with officers and crew of the Brereton and signed the ship's visitors book.

The Coast Guard said at noon the Tinkerbelle was 40 miles southwest of the Lizard.

* * *

The trawler Excellent, with Mrs. Manry aboard, planned to rendezvous with the Tinkerbelle.

LAND TOGETHER

The Brereton messaged land stations that she and the Excellent probably would accompany the Tinkerbelle into Falmouth.

Aboard the Brereton, Manry said he greatly looked forward to a reunion with his wife.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200-mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass, to Falmouth.

He was last sighted a week ago 265 miles west of Lands End.

Extension Agent Cuts in Works

Statewide reorganization triggered by legislative budget cuts may cost Oakland County two-thirds of its Cooperative Extension Service staff.

The county's two 4-H agents, Mrs. Donald B. Montney and John H. (Jack) Worthington, will leave the county staff at the end of this month.

One home economics agent, Mrs. Noel Kurth, will be leaving at the end of September.

The position of agriculture agent, now occupied by Jay Poffenberger, may also be discontinued by the first of October.

* * *

Announcement of the pending changes was made Friday by a district extension director.

BEING TRANSFERRED

Worthington, 4-H agent here for more than 11 years, is being transferred to a similar position in Cass County.

Mrs. Montney, who has been 4-H agent in the county for the past four years, will begin teaching home economics at Clarkston Junior High School when school opens.

Mrs. Kurth, home agent here for one year, said she will drop out of extension work at least temporarily to study for an advanced degree.

* * *

Poffenberger, a 10-year member of the county staff, said he has no immediate plans.

NOT OFFICIAL

Lyle B. Abel, Oakland County extension director, said the staff cuts won't be official until the September meeting of the state extension board of directors.

It appears to be definite, however, that 60 field positions throughout the state will be discontinued, Abel said.

If the preliminary cuts become final, Oakland County will be left with a director, a home economics agent and a 4-H agent.

The district offices for horticulture and consumer marketing will also remain in Pontiac, Abel noted.

NOT ASSIGNED

A 4-H agent to replace Mrs. Montney has not been assigned to the county as yet, the director said.

Slaying Occurs at Private Park in Commerce

Farmington Twp. Man Held in Fatal Shooting of His Brother-in-Law

A Farmington Township man is in Oakland County Jail awaiting preliminary examination in Commerce Township Justice Court on a charge of first-degree murder.

Arthur C. Fleming Jr., 29, of 25608 Farmington stood mute at his arraignment late Satur day afternoon before Justice John C. Weick in connection with the fatal shooting of his brother-in-law, George Henry.

Henry, 33, was shot once through the chest at about 1:45 p.m. Saturday at the Upper Straits Lake Resort Club, 9140 Richardson, Commerce Township.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Richard Rossman said, "There is no doubt in my mind that Fleming did the shooting."

Henry, his wife, Josephine and their four children, had been living in a tent at the private park since the begining of summer. Prior to that the cement worker and his family lived in Detroit.

Rossman said the apparent motive for the crime was that Henry had allegedly propositioned Fleming's wife, Carrie, about one month ago.

Saturday he went to the camp site armed with a 38-caliber revolver. Deputies said Fleming told officers he didn't remember pulling the trigger.

Witnesses at the scene of the shooting included Mrs. Henry, who is Fleming's sister, and the defendent's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fleming of Detroit.

SITTING AROUND

Mrs. Henry said she and her husband and the Flemings were sitting around talking when her brother came into the camping area.

Sheriff's deputies said that Fleming yelled at Henry and accused him of "fooling" around with his wife.

Henry told Fleming to put down the gun and started to get up from the table just before the fatal shot was fired deputies said.

DEATH SCENE—George Henry, 29, was shot to death at this Commerce Township camp site Saturday afternoon. The site is located at the Upper Straits Lake Resort Club, 9140 Richardson. Henry was seated at the picnic table just prior to the shooting. Henry's brother-in-law, Arthur Fleming Jr., has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the shooting.

Stab Wounds Fatal in Lake Orion Fight

Second Cut Victim Is Reported Serious; 3 Suspects Arrested

The Oakland County Prosecutor's office late this morning issued a first degree murder warrant against Richard Hartwick, 17, of 167 W. Drahner, Oxford Township, in connection with a fatal stabbing in Lake Orion.

One man was killed and another seriously injured in a brawl outside a Lake Orion tavern shortly after midnight today.

* * *

Dead is Russell Richards, 24, of 66 King Circle, Orion Township, who died shortly after the fight from stab wounds.

Larry Lyons, 23, of 111 Center was reported in serious condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, also suffering stab wounds.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and Lake Orion police have arrested three suspects for investigation of murder.

* * *

RESPONSIBLE

Detectives said that it was likely only one of the three was responsible for the actual stabbing.

However, they said they could not release any details concerning the matter until after the three suspects have given statements to the Oakland County prosecutor.

Detective Fred Pender said one knife was found at the scene of the crime and this is believed to be the murder weapon.

* * *

Pender gave this account of the events leading up to the fight.

FIVE MEN

He said the five men had been in the Ver-Wood Tavern, 54 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, and an argument had started over two women.

The group went outside and a fight ensued behind the tavern. This fight broke up without serious injuries, Pender said.

Then a second fight broke out a few minutes later behind Barney's Bar at 111 Central, Lake Orion. It was during this fight that the fatality occurred, the detective said.

In Saigon

Cong Blast Viet Police HQ

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a Jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of submachinegun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

The explosion seriously damaged the home of the director of the national police, Col. Pham Van Lieu. The headquarters consists of three buildings in a block-long complex of police buildings. Col. Lieu's home is next to the headquarters.

* * *

U.S. sources said the attack was probably carried out because of increased police activity in the Saigon area in recent months. U.S. authorities have been making a determined effort to increase the effectiveness of the police force.

Informed sources gave this account of the daring raid:

At 9 a.m. two Vietnamese girls walked up to the guard at the headquarters entrance and engaged him in conversation

His attention diverted, he hardly noticed a Jeep driven by a man in uniform move past him and into the front yard of the headquarters. Then a green and white sedan drove up and he challenged it.

He was killed by a burst of automatic fire. The girls fled to a European car down the street. The drivers of the Jeep and the

Chilean Storm Toll Mounts

45 Die in Shipwreck; Avalanches Claim 51

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Forty-five Chilean navy men perished in a shipwreck on the storm-battered Chilean coast, the navy reported today. It said 27 others were rescued.

The victims were aboard the 850-ton cutter Janequeo which was blown onto rocks yesterday and sank in Bahia San Pedro, 546 miles southwest of Santiago.

The Janequeo was attempting to rescue the partol boat Leucoton which had been blown aground in a storm raging in southern Chile for a week.

The sailors' deaths brought the over-all storm death toll to 96. Others perished in avalanches in the Santiago Concepcion areas.

* * *

The navy said the death toll at sea included one man from the Leucoton.

RESCUE SHIPS

Because of the high seas and winds, rescue ships were unable to reach the Janequeo and Leucoton survivors until today.

Navy officials said there was a danger that the rescue craft could have been hurled against the rocks.

President Eduardo Frei declared 22 provinces disaster areas. He mobilized military, government and private agencies to help the injured, ill and homeless.

* * *

About 500,000 persons are suffering as a result of the storm, the government said.

U.S. AID

The U.S. Embassy offered aid. U.S. relief agencies began providing the victims food, blankets, tents and medicine.

The government said 40 per cent of Chile's farm land had been damaged or destroyed.

The storm halted much of the railway traffic and smashed hundreds of fishing boats and docks.

Pontiac Boy Killed as Car Hits Fence

A 3-year-old Pontiac boy, Charles Patton, was killed in an accident Saturday night when his mother swerved the Patton car to avoid hitting another child on a bicycle.

The car struck a fence on South Paddock.

Mrs. Thelma Patton of 137 Raeburn was listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning.

Her son, a passenger in the car, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The driver told police she saw a boy on a bike ride in front of her and hit the fence when she swerved to the left and applied the brakes to avoid hitting the boy.

She was traveling north on South Paddock near South Jessie at the time.

She had no operator's license, according to police.

The accident occurred at 7:05 p.m.

Slightly Cooler Due

Record Heat Sunday

You thought it was hot yesterday? You were right!

Records fell as the temperature soared to a searing 97 degrees.

It was the hottest day of the year and the hottest Aug. 15 in Pontiac history.

A cool front came through the area yesterday offering a brief respite from the heat as the mercury dropped from 96 at 5:30 p.m. to 70 at 11 p.m. Tonight's temperatures will range from 64 to 70.

* * *

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers. The high will fall between 86 to 94.

Temperatures will remain high Wednesday and scattered showers or thundershowers are predicted for the area.

The lowest mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 66. By 1 p.m. clear skies and a beaming Sol sent the temperature to 88.

U.S. to Unveil New Policy on Soviet-U.N. Dues Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S. plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

* * *

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

The former Supreme Court justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

114 NATIONS

The 114-nation body was paralyzed all last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a showdown has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.N. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

* * *

The issue has become mainly a political controversy. The Soviet Union and France contend that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and the Middle East U.N. force are illegal because they were levied by the assembly rather than the Security Council. The United States disagrees.

The majority of the U.N. members have been urging both sides to avoid a showdown.

* * *

The special committee on peacekeeping operations has been trying to find a formula for ending the deadlock and at the same time work out plans for future peacekeeping projects. It is generally agreed that the United Nations $108-million deficit will be liquidated by voluntary contributions. The Soviet Union has agreed to make a substantial contribution once the assembly has returned to normal operations.

'JFK Felt LBJ Best Successor'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he considered him "the best man to carry on," Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Sunday night.

* * *

"He's fulfilled all of our hopes since then," said the younger brother of the late president.

Sen. Kennedy, speaking at a Democratic dinner, made no reference to the published account by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and assistant to President Kennedy, that the nomination was offered to Johnson as a political gesture in the belief there was "practically no chance Johnson would accept."

The former attorney general cited passage of programs in civil rights, medical assistance for the elderly, and federal aid to elimentary and secondary schools under the Johnson administration.

WENT TO PEOPLE

Referring to Kennedy's 1960 primary campaigns in Wisconsin and other states, the New York senator said of the programs' passage:

"All of this has happened because men had a dream and were willing to go to the people and ask for their support on the basis of these programs. President Kennedy was such a man. And he knew that Lyndon Johnson was such a man, that he was committed to these programs, that he shared their dreams, that he was the best man to carry on this fight.

* * *

"It was for this reason that President Kennedy wanted Lyndon Johnson to run with him for vice president in 1960."

Sen. Kennedy's comments came in a speech recapping accomplishments of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations at a $50 a plate testimonial dinner for Wisconsin Democratic Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

AFTERMATH OF EXPLOSION — Police, firemen and newsmen walk through debris outside one of the National Police Headquarters buildings destroyed by a Cong bomb explosion in Saigon this morning. Four were killed and at least 20 injured when terrorists set off a car loaded with explosives, then sprayed the area with machine gun fire.

sedan ran from the headquarters building, covered by fire from another European car parked just across the street from the entrance.

HIT RUNNING

A guard believed he hit one of the running Viet Cong.

They entered the car across the street and drove off as both vehicles inside the compound exploded.

The getaway car made a pass near a small police substation several blocks away and fired on a guard, seriously wounding him.

* * *

QUIET ENDS

The attack was the first serious terrorist incident in Saigon in seven weeks. More than 40 persons were killed June 25 when terrorists set off explosives at the My Canh restaurant on the Saigon riverfront.

South Vietnamese forces began a large operation in Quang Tri Province, bordering North Viet Nam, following up a saturation raid there Saturday by B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command. A briefing officer said five Viet Cong guerrillas were killed in the initial stages of the operation.

In the air war, U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew 218 sorties against the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m., spokesman said.

* * *

BARRACKS HIT

Four U.S. Navy Skyraiders from the carrier Oriskany supported by three Skyhawks, hit the Ky Anh military barracks about 80 miles inside North Viet Nam, spokesmen reported, and the pilots said eight buildings were destroyed.

* * *

Nine Skyhawks and six Skyraiders from the Oriskany and the carrier Coral Sea pounded targets in North Viet Nam in a series of missions beginning yesterday and ending this morning, the spokesmen added.

Cease-Fire Line Crossed by India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian army has attacked across the cease-fire line in Kashmir and has taken three mountaintop Pakistani outposts in the Kargil sector, it was announced today.

* * *

A spokesman said the Indian army counterattacked last night after Pakistani forces tried to cut the road to Leh in the Ladakh sector where the Indians face Communist Chinese units.

These posts were captured May 17 by the Indian army and then vacated under an agreement arranged by the United Nations. India intends to hold the posts this time to protect the road to Leh, the spokesman said. (Earlier story, Page C-3.)

Riot Zone Calm Today

posed a curfew from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. on a 12-square-block area of a predominantly Negro district.

- Gunmen, identified by witnesses as Negroes, shot at homes in all-white Sylmar in the San Fernanco Valley.
- Fire bombs flared on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, and lumberyards were set afire in Wilmington, at the harbor, and near downtown Los Angeles.
- In San Diego, 120 miles South, Negroes rioted through a 30-block area. A white man was stabbed. Three stores were set afire.
- In suburban Van Nuys a warehouse burned, police captured nine Negro men and shot and wounded a Negro woman.
- In San Bernardino 60 miles east of Los Angeles, milling Negroes smashed windows at a drive-in restaurant, but depressed swiftly when police arrived.
- Police arrested a Negro who tried to set fire to an apartment house in Hollywood.

VIRTUAL CONTROL

The first incident: an arrest of a Negro drunken driving suspect by white police. Thousands of rioting Negroes drove police from Watts.

Guardsmen from the California 40th and 49th National Guard Armored divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gove. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

* * *

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and yesterday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police — but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

JUST SHORT

Brown's party turned back just short of an area where gunfire blazed.

Early today the statistics told results of six days' rioting:

Killed 32.

Injured: 811.

Arrested: 2,835.

The Lost Angeles Fire Department said fire damage totaled more than $175 million.

In every Southern California community with big Negro populations, tension mounted, crowds gathered, and police added extra crews.

RUSH FOR ARMS

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves.

Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence:

- A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" yesterday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock. Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.
- A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire last night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.
- A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State freeway last night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official.

LOADS OF BOMBS

"We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Inside the military perimeter thrown around the Negro section by guardsmen, shortages developed.

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs — among them many drug stores and markets. Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

* * *

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced last night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to reestablish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

8-Day Flight Thursday

Astronauts Enter Final Training Phase

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. plunged today into the final phases of training for their eight-day space journey scheduled to start Thursday.

The two astronauts took their first day off in several weeks and relaxed with sports yesterday.

Cooper and astronaut Donald Slayton bobbed in a small boat in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy and reported catching several fish. They said they hooked three sharks, but all escaped.

Conrad and astronaut Neil Armstrong took to the golf links at Port Malabar, about 40 miles from Cape Kennedy. Their scores were not reported. Armstrong and Elliott See are backup pilots for the upcoming Gemini 5 mission.

* * *

Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, today returned to the long hours of rehearsal for their flight, the longest yet planned by man.

LUNAR PATTERN

It will equal the time planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing trip. Medical experts hope the flight will erase any lingering doubts that man will be able to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and back.

Early in the flight, the astronauts are to attempt man's first rendezvous with another satellite. They will launch their own satellite from the spacecraft, back about 52 miles away from it and then use radar and other electronic aids to try to close within 20 feet of it.

It will be a major test for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October during which an attempt will be made to rendezvous and link up with another satellite which will be launched by another rocket.

* * *

Cooper and Conrad planned to spend most of today flat on their backs in a spacecraft simulator in the cape's mission control center. On the schedule were simulations of several launchings, key segments of the flight and failures.

CONTROL CENTERS

The control centers here and at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., conducted a series of tests involving the worldwide tracking network yesterday.

Mrs. Conrad observed the simulation in the Houston control center and said she hoped things go better on Thursday.

Flight director Christopher C. Kraft Jr. reported the test went "extremely well. It gave us a number of realistic problems and provided a good exercise in contingency situations."

* * *

Mrs. Cooper planned to fly here today from Houston with the two teen-age Cooper daughters. They will be here to watch the launching of Gemini 5 by a Titan 2 rocket.

Mrs. Conrad and the three Conrad boys will remain in Houston throughout the launching and flight.

Guard, Police Enforce Peace

No New Outbreaks of Race Riots in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of police, supported by about 2,000 National Guardsmen held in reserve, continued today to enforce racial peace in a largely Negro neighborhood where rioting erupted Thursday and Friday nights.

There were no new outbreaks of violence Saturday or Sunday as police in the West Garfield Park area firmly pursued a policy of breaking up groups before they could become mobs.

* * *

More than 300 policemen patrolled the troubled area around the clock. Additional police were stationed in nearby police districts. National Guard units were on standby duty at five armories.

Violence erupted in the area after a Negro woman was killed by a fire truck responding to a fire call that turned out to be a false alarm. The rioting Thursday and Friday nights resulted in injuries to 67 persons and the arrest of 123.

28 ARESTED

Twenty-eight persons were arrested Saturday night and charged with loitering when they heckled police or were slow to follow orders to keep moving.

Few arrests occurred Sunday as 85 Negro detectives broke up and dispersed any groups they saw gathering in the streets.

* * *

Most of those on the streets were children at play. Traffic was proceeding normally through the area.

Taverns in the neighborhood remained closed on police orders.

HEARING CONTINUED

In holiday court, Magistrate Albert H. Laplante continued to Aug. 27 a hearing on charges against those arrested Saturday night.

More than 50 Negro clergymen circulated through the troubled area Saturday night, urging residents to keep off the streets.

* * *

Albert Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a civil rights group, expressed satisfaction with the restoration of peace but demanded that city officials investigate the cause of the outbreak.

"We're not going to be involved in keeping the peace at the price of injustice — continuing the status quo for these kids and others," he told newsmen.

* * *

Raby said many of the teenagers involved in the rioting were frustrated and angry. He said they expressed their resentment by hurling bricks and bottles at police and motorists.

Tons of Mud Gush Onto Austrian Town

KOEFLACH, Austria (AP) — A dam break today sent tons of mud gushing into the streets on this small mining town in Styria province.

* * *

The mud poured out of a huge basin which serves as drainage pool for coal mines on a hillside above the town, burying tracks and trains at the local railroad station. Dozens of houses were damaged, and fields disappeared under four feet of mud. There were no reports of casulaties.

Birmingham Area News

Chamber Officers Back Garage Assessment Plan

BIRMINGHAM — Officers of Chamber of Commerce are backing the assessment method of financing the city's first parking structure.

City commissioners are expected to decide tonight how to cover the $1,174,000 cost of the project.

With a number of downtown businessmen objecting to establishment of an assessment district, the commission delayed taking action on the method a month ago.

The commission in June tentatively approved a 10 per cent assessment against property in the downtown district, with the rest of the cost to be paid through parking revenue.

* * *

PREVIOUS COST

Businessmen objected to the assessment on the basis that they already have been assessed for all the surface parking lots.

The parking ramp is to be built on the L-shaped lot fronting Woodward and Willits. It will provide 686 spaces.

In a letter to their members last week, chamber of commerce officers outlined their reasons for supporting the 10 per cent assessment.

* * *

They noted that the structure could be financed without assessments or increases in the parking rates.

TOTAL NEEDED

"However, if this financing method is adopted, the total parking authority revenue would be required to meet the interest and principal payments on the revenue bonds which would be issued," they said.

"This would leave insufficient revenue to be pledged to assure a second, third or fourth parking structure as our needs for more parking spaces in Birmingham increase."

* * *

The chamber of commerce officers are supporting a plan which calls for some of the cost to be raised through increases in the charge for long-term parking, or that over two hours.

Man Is Held in Diamond Ring Theft

A Detroit man is being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of larceny from a building following a wild chase through the streets of Pontiac Saturday afternoon.

Henry C. King, 21, was held in connection with the theft of a tray full of diamond rings from Enggass Jewelers, 25 N. Saginaw, about 1 p.m. Saturday.

Arthur Newberry, 41, of 24300 Scotia, Oak Park, manager of the store, told police that a shabbily dressed man came into the store about 12:30 and told a clerk he wanted to buy a ring.

After about 30 minutes, Newberry said he saw the man run out the front door with a tray of rings, valued at $2,000, in his hand.

* * *

Newberry and several police officers followed the fleeing bandit down Saginaw to Pike.

King was apprehended under a building at 52 W. Pike.

Officers said there was a trail of diamond rings from the jewelry store to the spot King was found.

3 Scientists Die on Peak

Killed in Fall While Mountain Climbing

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Three mountain climbers were killed and a fourth climber was injured in a fall on South Maroon Peak, west of Aspen, yesterday.

* * *

Officials at Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory said the dead were senior scientists at the laboratory, all having doctorate degrees.

They were identified by the lab as Drs. Frank E. Pretzel, Robert B. Day and Herbert E. Ungnade.

The injured man was identified by the lab as William B. Martin, another laboratory employe but not a scientist. The lab said Dr. Donald W. McEachern, another scientist, was with the party but not injured.

* * *

Officials said they were vacationing in the Aspen area.

WILL RECOVER

Martin was taken to the Aspen Valley Hospital. Although his injuries were not listed, it was reported he would recover.

A fifth climber, Don McCathern, was not injured.

All but McCathern were reported roped together as they descended over a snow field on the 14,000-foot peak in a mountain wilderness 10 miles west of Aspen.

* * *

One of the four was reported to have slipped and all four were dragged down a slope.

FLY TO AREA

Dr. Robert Barnard, Aspen physician, and Alfred Braun, an experienced mountain climber, were flown to the area in a helicopter.

* * *

They found two men already dead and two others hurt, one obviously critically. He was hoisted on a stretcher to the helicopter, but the man was dead by the time the craft returned to Aspen.

Police Locate Bakery's Safe

A 1,000-pound safe, stolen from the Farm Crest Bakery at 699 Auburn sometime Saturday night, was found near Palmer Park in Detroit by Detroit Police yesterday.

* * *

Pontiac police said the contents of the large safe, more than $3,000 in cash; checks and company credits were still missing.

* * *

Officers said the safe had been chipped and burned open.

The thieves entered the bakery by cutting out a window on the west side of the building. Police said they believe the safe was carted away in a small truck.

Soviets Say Iraqi Admits Killing

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said today an Iraqui student has confessed killing Ghanaian student George Daku last March 17 in Baku, capital of the Soviet Azerbaijan.

Abdul Hani, 27, hit Daku on the head with a stone after the two students quarrelled, Tass said. It said he would go on trial tomorrow in Baku.

* * *

Twenty-nine Kenyan students left Baku and returned home after Daku was found with fatal head wounds in a park. The Kenyans complained of beatings and discrimination against Africans.

Wed Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven, were Diane Merrill Pallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Pallas, Grand Haven, and Ronald Harlan Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan R. Boyce of Pine View Drive.

MRS. RONALD HARLAN BOYCE

R.H. Boyces on Florida Honeymoon

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Harlan Boyce (Diane Merrill Pallas) left for a Florida honeymoon after their vows and reception, Saturday, in the First Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven.

* * *

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Pallas of Grand Haven and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan R. Boyce of Pine View Drive.

An heirloom mantilla veil of Brussels lace complemented the bride's Empire gown and squared train of white silk peau de soie. She carried glamellias with white and red Sweetheart roses.

* * *

With honor maid, Ethel Carpenter of Three Rivers, were Dorothy Pallas, attending her sister as bridesmaid along with Pamela Eaton and Susan Miller.

* * *

Harlan Boyce was best man for his son. Ushers included Dr. Roger Burau, John Cork, Richard Doerr, Gary Henry, Thomas VanderBerg and Robert Pallas.

The couple will be seniors this fall at Western Michigan University.

Twin Attends Her Sister

Nanci Lou Alderman and Delbert James Brannstrom of Saginaw were married Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church, Bay City, before Rev. E. C. Wicklein.

MRS. D. BRANNSTROM

Joining the couple at the church reception were their parents the William K. Aldermans, Bay City, and the James Brannstroms of Lakeview Street.

* * *

The bride's sheath gown and full circular train of white silk organza over taffeta was appliqued with Alencon lace and styled with Camelot sleeves.

An orange - blossom headpiece held her bouffant veil. Royal Bouquet orchids centered her bouquet of English Ivy and Stephanotis.

TWIN ATTENDS

. With Vicki Alderman, maid of honor for her twin, were bridesmaids Thayer Mackenzie, Grosse Pointe; Jan Wiles, Sara Wishart and Sue O'Brien all of Bay City.

* * *

Denneth Emery was best man. Ushers were Dennis Baldwin, William Kreh, Tony Grohman and Robert Ricker.

Exercise Mat and Pillow for Weight Worries

Have you heard about a new exercise mat and pillow which come complete with instructions for weight watchers?

The set is made of lightweight foam under zip-on cotton sailcloth covers which are machine-washable, water-repellent, and soil-resistant.

Because exercise induces perspiration, it is important to launder the covers often — especially if used by more than one member of the family.

Just pop the covers into the washer, dry them by machine or on the line, and then zip back over the mat and pillow. Their taut fit makes ironing unnecessary.

Love Is Eternal

HARWICH, Mass. (AP) — The idea of romance is not dead here. The annual official meeting at this Cape Cod town rejected a proposal to change the name of Lovers' Lane to Homestead Lane.

Designed, Made Gown

Barbara Jo Graybiel designed and made her gown of white peau de soie appliqued with Alencon lace, for vows to John Lewis Hayes, Saturday, in the First Presbyterian Church.

MRS. JOHN L. HAYES

Her veil was silk illusion. White glamellias and greens comprised her cascade bouquet.

Parents of the bridal couple are the James E. Graybiels of Oneida Road and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew T. Hayes of Dwight Street.

* * *

Sherri Dudley was honor maid at the rite performed by Rev. Galen E. Hershey, followed by a church reception.

* * *

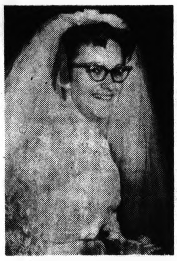
Bridesmaids were Sarajane Serwin and Mrs. Charles Henderson. Patti Graybiel was junior attendant and Kim Kaminskis, flower girl.

* * *

Dr. Thomas Hayes was best man. Guests were seated by Gary Failla, Arthur Azoian, Arthur Stinson and Thomas Graybiel.

On a northern honeymoon after Saturday vows and reception in the Troy Assembly of God Church are the Marvin John Engelsmans (Aleen Mae Berry). Their parents are the Donald E. Berrys, Norton Street; Mrs. John Parent, North Perry Street and John Engelsman of Detroit. For the rite performed by Minister Louie H. Calaway, the bride wore white silk organza and French lace. White roses rested on her white heirloom Bible.

Seaman and Mrs. Edward Robert Eckler (Sharon Kay Beardslee) left for Miramar, Calif. after the vows and reception, Saturday, in the Oxford Methodist Church. Their parents are Mrs. Edith J. Beardslee, Oxford, Clarence C. Beardslee, Highland, and the Ralph W. Ecklers of Orion Township. A net veil complemented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza appliqued with lace. Rev. Fred Clark performed the ceremony.



Wearing floor-length white silk shantung with Empire bodice of lace, Cheryl Ann Patten became Mrs. Charles Everet Weaver, Saturday in St. Mark's Lutheran Church. Rev. W. C. Grafe performed the rite preceding a church reception. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Patten Jr., Wolverine Lake, and the Jesse Weavers, Cedar Island Drive. Honeymoon itinerary includes Niagara Falls and northern Michigan.

Just 5 Words Can Help Avert Any Confusion

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five words on every prescription blank can avert confusion, help the patient understand his illness and its treatment more fully, and provide doctors with readily available necessary information, reports Dr. Robert Montgomery.

The words: "Please label as to contents." Montgomery, reporting in "Medical Annals, District of Columbia," said that pharmacists are not permitted to label prescriptions unless specifically requested.

The information is especially helpful when a patient, during a trip away from home, must consult another doctor.

This Pair Is Home After Trip

Returned from a northern honeymoon are the Archie Christopher Lambs (Trudy Louise Campbell) who chose the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian, for their recent vows and reception.

* * *

Their parents are the John C. Campbells of Arrowhead Road, West Bloomfield Township, and the Archie C. Lambs of RioVista Drive, Commerce Township.

* * *

With her chapel-length gown of white silk organza and Alencon lace, the bride wore an illusion veil with lace pillbox. She carried white roses.

* * *

Margaret Geisel of Windberg, Pa., was maid of honor at the rite performed by Rev. Edward Auchard.

* * *

Maynard Dyer of Jonesville was best man. John Lundquist and Thomas Lamb seated the guests.

Health Spending

Private expenditures for health purposes in 1963 totaled $23.7 billion or six per cent of all personal consumption expenditures, according to the National Consumer Finance Association.

The first application of high-strength nickel steel to bridge construction was in the Queensboro Bridge, which spans the East River in New York City. The bridge was completed in 1909.

Prevent Mildew

Use spring-type clothespins suspended from the top of the clothes shute to hang damp towels and other wet articles. When they are dry, drop them to the basement. Saves possible mildew.

Turkey became a republic in October 1923.

American families spend an average of 18 per cent of their incomes annually on food purchases.

TWIN BITES THE DUST—The Indians won this small skirmish yesterday at Cleveland as Indians' catcher Phil Roof tagged out Minnesota's Jimmie Hall in the ninth inning of the first game of doubleheader. Hall tried to score from third on a bunt by Rich Rollins. Minnesota won the game, 4-3, but the Tribe came back to take the nightcap, 6-4.

But Giants Win, 15-9

Phillies Rough on Oriental Hurler

By The Associated Press

Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy sauce firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21-year-old left-hander was honored in pre-game ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.

He received a Datsun sports car, three plaques and friendly words from Japanese Consul General Tsutomu Wada, Mayor Johny Shelley of San Francisco and Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California.

OTHER WORDS

Murakami thanked the crowed in Japanese and English, but minutes later he obviously had some other kind of words for the Phillies.

With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaped the jam by striking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

* * *

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants early in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

OTHER IDEAS

Following his rude introduction to starting, Murakami said, "I want to start again." But Manager Herman Franks had different ideas.

"Murakami is more valuable to me in the bullpen," he said.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee. Tom Sisk and Jim Pagliaroni bunted across runs while Bill Virdon'js bunt set up two others.

Drysdale, incidentally, batted seventh in the line-up but struck out twice. He also suffered his 11th loss against 16 victories.

Races Again Despite Burns

Scarred Hurtibise Flaunts Death

LANGHORNE, Pa. (NEA) — Racedriver Jim Hurtubise spun out of control at the track here in early August and it scared hell out of everyone but him.

As in any speedway mishap he could have been killed. He wasn't. But then he doesn't die very easily.

"Just a bit of bad luck," he whispered as he unstrapped his helmet and began to peel the gloves from his crooked hands.

His hands are what you notice first. They are not hands, really, but crippled fragments, the grotesque surrealist art of a surgeon's scalpel.

* * *

A year ago in another car on another track something went wrong, too. Just a bit of bad luck and the driver was pulled from sanity into a purgatory of unholy flame. Jim Hurtubise was burning to death.

They got to him before he died, however, and somebody commented that perhaps that was unfortunate. Most of the man was charred and beginning to crack like the basin of a dry river. Groping arms tore chunks of spoiled skin from his body.

He was not recognizable and grown men at the scene wept and looked away.

RECOVERS

But he doesn't die very easily. Burn cases are critical long after normal bone-breaking accidents expose their verdicts one way or another, and the driver was immobile for weeks, conscious of the fact he was not dead but not alive either. Progress was slow, disappointments many, and the pain . . . "beyond my description," admits Jim.

* * *

They remodeled Jim like an early American quilt. Patches of skin were grafted from the healthy to the burned areas; some central face features reshaped; the vital organs saved from permanent damage.

Steady Mary Mills St. Louis Golf Titlist

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three steady rounds paid off for Mary Mills, enabling her to hold off a driving finish by challengers and win the St. Louis Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Mills, the 1963 U.S. Open and 1964 Ladies PGA champion, won her first tourney this year by firing a 72 Sunday for a 216 total, two strokes better than Marlene Hagge and Carol Mann.

Miss Mills shot 73 and 71 the first two days of the 54-hole tournament at Norwood Hills Country Club.

Mrs. Hagge opened with an 81 Friday and then shot 69 and 68, the latter the lowest round of the tourney. Miss Mann started with a 76 before rallying for two 71s.

PAY DAY

The victory was worth $1,875 to Miss Mills, of Gulfport, Miss. Mrs. Hagge and Miss Mann each won $1,350.

Judy Torluemke took fourth with 220 for $975. Sandra Spuzich, Betsy Cullen and Sue Maxwell tied for fifth with 222.

* * *

Kathy Whitworth, the leading money winner on the tour with six tournament victories, began the day in second place, one stroke back, but she blew to 78 and finished tied with Betsy Rawls and Sandra Palmer at 223.

Eagles Down Lions, 20-17

SIDELINE COMPLETIONS

In the last minute of the half, Milt Plum started hitting the sideline passes to Terry Barr and Gail Cogdill but time ran on their own 41.

From the opening kickoff of the 2nd half the Eagles went from their own 20 to the Detroit two in nine plays and Baker made it 10-7 with a nine yard field goal.

The Lions had only one offensive play in the first eight minutes of the third quarter and that was for nine yards by Dan Lewis and a fumble giving the Eagles the ball and setting up a 46-yard touchdown march. Hill went over from the one and Baker made it 17-3.

* * *

The Lions then took the kickoff, marched from their own 22 and crossed the goal with Plum hitting Cogdill for a 16-yard TD. Plum completed five of six passes in this series. It was 17-10, with Walker's point.

The Eagles were a constant threat on their kickoff and punt returns. Rookie Clyde Thomas returned 39 yards to the Eagle 42 and from here the Eagles went to the Detroit two giving Baker another 9-yard field goal to make it 20-10.

With eight minutes left the Lions recovered an Eagle fumble on their 46, but failed to capitalize and Studstill had to punt.

Thomas called for a fair catch but fumbled and the Lions had the ball on the Eagle 15. Three plays later Studstill made a fine overhead catch of Plum's pass for the touchdown and it was 20-17 with the PAT.

The Eagles showed their best on third down plays. They made the third down play nine times for first downs as evidenced by the 71 total offensive plays to 59 for the Lions.

The Lions will stay out of the clouds this week and await the Baltimore Colts who invade Tiger Stadium, Friday night.

Gates Gets 5 Hits in Double Win

Brown also helped in another way by making a game-saving catch of Willie Smith's pop fly in the ninth inning of the second game. The Angels had already scored a run and had the bases loaded at the time.

"Some people kid me about my fielding," Brown said. "I'm ready to go with anyone when it comes to going after the ball."

Lolich flew in from Alpena, where he is serving with the Air National Guard, again and pitched one inning of the second game.

The first three Angels in the second inning singled and Lolich left after Bob Rodgers delivered a two-run double. Orlando Pena come on and, with help from Terry Fox in the ninth, went on to win his fourth game as a Tiger.

"I didn't see Lolich at all in the spring exhibitions," Dressen said. "Maybe I would have spotted something there. I've got my ideas but I'm not saying anything now."

First Shirt Big Man on His Birthday

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It was the First Shirt's birthday and by popular decree the happy hour had been extended far into the night.

In the Army in wartime there is time for only two major holidays: Christmas and the first sergeant's birthday.

First Sgt. William Bledsoe of Chattanooga, Tenn., had reached his 47th birthday in his third war with nary a gray hair sullying the dark crewcut atop his handsome head. The boys in the MACV house — Military Assistance Command Viet Nam — in Vinh Long Province down in the delta assembled a fire team to convoy him safely past that momentous milestone.

During happy hour, normally the cocktail hour before supper, martinis plummet from 25 cents to 10 cents and beer from 20 cents to 10 cents in the screened-in little bar on the roof of the barracks. At those prices, bonhomie was found to flow faster than the muddy Mekong slipping by in the distance.

BIG SPENDER

Cpl. Tom Fusco, a big-spending airman from Brooklyn, stepped up and belted an enormous Chinese gong suspended from the ceiling just beyond the mess sergeant's latest futile homily: "Patrons will refrain from profanity." The coconut trees and mangrove swamps rang with the news that he was buying the entire house. The tab came to $2.60. Fusco shrugged it off.

Rank has its privileges but also its responsibilities.

Capt. Harold Spoons of Ada, Okla., saw his duty and did it. Again the gong rent the murky delta night, summoning more revelers to the fiesta.

A MACV compound in the delta houses a curious assortment of military personnel: sailors who daily risk their lives puttputting up the Viet Cong-infested canals with the RAG — River Assault Group; flyboys who go up in small planes called L19s to direct air and artillery strikes; Army advisers who live out in the "boonies" and eat roast dog and fried snake with their Vietnamese counterparts; engineers who rebuild the blown out bridges and cratered roads.

Pride of outfit, plus a tactical desire to get along with the top kick, caused each in turn to belt the gong.

The night rang with an anvil chorus of liquefied salutations for the First Shirt. Well-wishers came and went, fell by the wayside and wandered off soliloquizing the big delta moon in jabbering iambics, but Sgt. Bledsoe manfully stuck to his stool. He took on enough infusions of distilled camaraderie to fell a water buffalo and yet rarely slurred a syllable in gracefully acknowledging each paean to his antiquity.

Sometime during the night it was discovered that Capt. Jack Miller of Catron, Mo., just back from a sampan trip through VC country, had made the list for major. The delights of double jeopardy ensued. The tocsin rang. Heads rang. The top kick hardly even teetered.

Next morning the casualty list was high and ice in high demand as a poultice for wounded pates. Cheeks sagged. Eyeballs took on the color of tattered VC flags. Hands shook. A morning air-strike rattled the windows and shook the floors of the compound, but some of the survivors of the night's jubilation thought it was only the ringing inside their heads.

And yet at 7 a.m., same as always, there sat 1st Sgt. Bledsoe ramrod straight at his desk in the orderly room, fatigues neatly pressed, shoes shined like an ebony woodcarving, eyes clear and shining.

Which is why the First Shirt wears the First Shirt.

If traffic fatalities continue to increase annually at present rates, about 100,000 such deaths will occur in 1975, according to traffic safety officials.

Bee Causes Collision

GUILDHALL, Vt. (AP)—Trooper John Shanks was passing an illegally parked car near here when a bee stung him on the cheek. He lost control of his state-owned cruiser and crashed into the parked car. Damage was estimated at $400.

Hooks Own Lost Wallet

VERONA, N. J. (AP) — James Degnan was fishing at Verona Lake when he pulled up a wallet he had lost in the same lake less than a year ago. The wallet contained several dollar bills and some credit cards — water-soaked but still usable.

Lonely Hearts Prove More Red Than Blue

BERLIN (UPI) — "Good-looking businessman, good dancer, luxury flat, sports car, seeks acquaintance of warm-hearted natural woman 30-45 for leisure time activity and possible marriage."

Advertisements like these appear by the thousands each week in West German and West Berlin newspapers and magazines.

Some are placed by lonely, good-looking businessmen in search of leisure time activity and/or marriage.

But the West Berlin city government today warned warm-hearted, natural women between 30 and 45 that the good-looking businessman might turn out to be a Communist spy.

* * *

It did not condemn the practice of seeking a mate or friend through lonely hearts advertisements.

PRISON CELL

But it advised caution lest a ride in a sports car end in an East German prison cell.

A city spokesman disclosed that the East German "State Security Service," the secret police, is placing lonely hearts and help wanted advertisements in Western publications in an attempt to recruit and ensnare Western residents to be agents.

It also is answering lovelorn and help wanted advertisements placed by West Germans and West Berliners.

* * *

The spokesman said the Eastern campaign has been going on for about two years.

MAIN AIM

One of its main aims is to seduce lonely women working for the West German government to betray information on their work or superiors.

German secretaries of the Western allies also are sought.

The East German secret police or his Western agent, of course, hides his identity until he feels he has his woman hooked. Or he might never disclose it.

* * *

NEVER MARRIED

Many lost their husbands in the war. Many lost their fiances and never married.

The greatest scarcity of men is among the 40-60 age group.

The shortage of men in these age groups has produced lonely hearts clubs, filled the classified sections of newspapers and been a boon for gigilos and homely men.

* * *

It has produced the marriage swindler and now the Communist spy.

Willy Brandt Facing Crisis

West Berlin Mayor to Get Key Vote Test

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin faces the crisis of his career in next month's West German election.

If things break right for him, he will find himself the leader of his country, the world's third greatest industrial power. He would be Germany's first Socialist chancellor in 35 years.

If he fails to get in, it will be for the second time and his party may well start looking for a new leader.

A million or so votes on Sept. 19 will make all the difference.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

Brandt, who formally opens his campaign Saturday, is craggily good-looking, broad-shouldered, a charmer in three languages.

Behind him stand a beautiful wife, an anti-Nazi record and a strong, well-disciplined party. He would seem to have everything a candidate needs, but some of the assets may turn out to be illusory.

* * *

Looks, personality and family life appear to carry less weight in Germany. Many German voters are more impressed by the patriarchal figure of ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer or the professorial manner of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Brandt's dangerous work in the anti-Nazi underground does not figure largely in his party's campaign. His enemies like to recall that he emigrated to Norway, married there, returned after the war in Norwegian uniform and only resumed his German citizenship in 1947.

TAXI DRIVER

A West Berlin taxi driver once put it this way:

"Would you people in America vote for somebody who fought on the Japanese side?"

* * *

Brandt denies ever having fought in the Norwegian army.

Brandt's Socialist party still is suspect to many West Germans. True, Karl Marx himself considered it heretical. True, it has given up nationalization of industry, antimilitarism, anticlericalism. True, Brandt is as staunch an anti-Communist as only a West Berliner can be. Yet the image of the whiskered, bomb-throwing Bolshevik persists with many older voters.

Freedom Swim Foiled

BERLIN (AP) — A young East German trying to swim the Spree River to West Berlin Sunday night was spotted and pulled aboard an East German patrol boat, West Berlin police reported today.

Brown is assistant controller of Fruehauf Corp. and manager of manufacturing accounting, Fruehauf Trailer division.

Probing Sales of Hearing Aids

Kelley Is Checking Citizens' Complaints

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today reported he has been conducting a continuing investigation into complaints of fradulent practices in the sale of hearing aids.

Most of the complaints came from senior citizens, Kelley said.

* * *

Kelley announced he is calling a meeting of physicians and other professionals in the field to discuss the problem at his office Sept. 2.

The attorney general said action will be taken in cases where there have been violations of the law. It may be necessary, he said, to obtain legislation to bring the entire area under proper regulation.

CHIEF PROBLEMS

The preliminary investigation, Kelley said, indicates a lack of regulation of those selling hearing aids is one of the chief problems.

Some salesmen, he added, with no professional training or experience, are not only selling hearing aids but also testing, fitting and adjusting them.

Kelley cited these as typical complaints:

* * *

—A Roscommon County retiree answered a hearing aid advertisement and paid $600. The hearing aid did not fit. When he asked for a correct fitting, the salesman refused to see him or even discuss the problem.

NEITHER WORKED

—An elderly Howell couple purchased a pair of hearing aids from a Detroit firm for $624. Neither aid worked properly. Despite complaints to the firm and manufacturer, the couple has been unable to obtain satisfaction.

—An elderly Ypsilanti woman paid $550 for a hearing aid and was given a $284 allowance on her old hearing aid. The new hearing aid did not work. When she complained, the seller replaced the new hearing aid with the old one with no refund.

* * *

—An 85-year-old Genesee County woman was subjected to a three-hour high pressure sales pitch by a hearing aid salesman. She finally consented to purchase a hearing aid and made a $30 deposit. After the salesman left she reconsidered and canceled the order, but never received a refund.

Jury Vindicates 1962 Corvair

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A six-man jury ruled Saturday in favor of General Motors in a suit charging that the 1962 Corvair was built with engineering defects.

Earlier this week in a similar suit, a jury in San Jose, Calif., also ruled in favor of General Motors.

* * *

The Florida suit was filed for former State Rep. David Anderson, who was killed in a crash in April 1963, and James T. Russell, who was injured in the accident.

The suit, which charged the Corvair had a defective steering system, sought no specific amount.

The jury got the case Friday and deliberated 13 hours.

A Free New Car? He Must Be Kidding

SUDBURY, England (UPI)—A real estate agent who offered "a new car waiting for you in the garage" with each $19,380 house purchased on an estate here complained today nobody took him seriously.

* * *

"Most people thought the offer was a joke, and I had a job convincing them it was genuine," the agent said.

George Washington Carver, Negro scientist, was a pioneer in the study of the soybean.

Hubbub Developing Over World Money

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A hubbub is developing over the international money supply. Is this a problem involving only monetary eggheads? In the following, first in a series of five articles on the world's money supply, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, gives an ABC of terms you'll be seeing more often.)

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Some people see a drought ahead for the international money supply. And they say this could end up being about as bad for you as the drying up of water reservoirs.

DAWSON

Others see the world's complicated monetary system more in danger of being flooded — and with new inflationary devices that could swell your already high cost of living and perhaps scuttle your family budget.

* * *

At stake is not only how much money and credit the world needs but how it should be divided between the haves and the nave-nots. Who supplies the funds and who gets them can affect U.S. prosperity and the purchasing power of your take-home pay.

Here is the meaning of the terms being bandied about by international bankers and and national treasurers:

* * *

Q. Just what is "international liquidity" that could be the chief bone of contention at next month's gathering in Washington of the world's top financial experts?

A. It is the sum of all funds and credits on which central banks and governments can lay their hands to meet their balance of payments deficits.

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS

Q. And what is a balance of payments deficit — or surplus?

A. Any nation's balance of payments is the difference between: 1. the amount of its money that is paid to foreigners for imports, military expenses abroad, tourist travel, government loans and grants, private investment or loans in other lands; and 2. The amount of money that comes back in payment for a nation's exports, profits on overseas investments, tourist travel from abroad, interest on its government and private loans. When more money goes out than returns, there's a deficit. When more comes back than is sent abroad, there's a surplus.

* * *

Q. When this country runs a deficit — as it has in every year since 1949 except 1957 — how does it settle up?

A. It can dip into its official reserves, borrow from standby funds or induce foreigners to hold onto their surplus of dollars as being good as gold.

OFFICIAL RESERVES

Q. What are official reserves?

A. Gold and foreign currencies held by central banks or governments. Since World War II the U.S. dollar has been the most prized and widely held currency. The British pound sterling is next, especially among the Commonwealth nations. But any country's currency may be held, and often is, for settlement of payments in the normal patterns of trade.

* * *

Q. What are astandby funds?

A. Since World War II the major source has been the International Monetary Fund. There are also a variety of international credit forms that central banks can use. A recent one is the "Club of 10" — pooling of financial resources of the 10 leading monetary countries to aid any member that gets into too-deep water as Britain has of late. All such borrowing must be repaid in time, hopefully when surpluses replace deficits.

HOW BIG?

Q. How big are these reserves and standby funds?

A. Members of the IMF have a total of about $65 billion of official reserves and their credit sources total around $23 billion.

* * *

Q. Do U.S. official gold and currency reserves and standby funds finance its international trade.

A. No. Private corporations, importers and exporters, commercial banks and other lenders do that. If the outflow of dollars were in balance with the return flow, America's international trade and foreign investments could rise to any level without affecting its reserves of gold and foreign currencies.

DAY TO DAY

Q. How are day-to-day deficits or surpluses settled.

A. Normally by private corporations and banks out of their own holdings of foreign currencies and credits. It's only when a deficit is persistent and huge (as in the United States until lately and as in Britain today) that the central monetary authorities must sell foreign exchanger of gold or seek credits.

* * *

Q. How does the balance of trade differ from the balance of payments?

A. The balance of trade is the relation of exports to imports. The United States sells more abroad than it buys and has a balance of trade surplus. It's all the other forms of payments outlined above that have turned the favorable U.S. balance of trade into a deficit in the balance of payments.

(NEXT: Why is the international money supply a problem now?)

Area Bank Starts Construction on Branch Office

Construction of a new branch of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank has been started at Woodward and Bennaville near Lincoln in Birmingham, according to Thomas H. Wagner, chairman and president.

Edward M. Greene, assistant vice president, will be manager of the Woodward-Bennaville branch which is expected to be completed in October.

* * *

This will bring the number of locations to four in Birmingham with a fifth branch office under construction in Wixom.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am a 19-year-old college sophomore, studying on two scholarships. I would like to invest some vacation earnings and am considering Chesebrough-Pond's, coupled with either American Motors or Random House. What do you advise?"

G. B.

(A) I like Chesebrough-Pond's, which has been showing good growth in a highly competitive field. American Motors has just cut its dividend in half and reported lower earnings. I believe this company has some serious problems ahead, and I would avoid the stock.

I assume you are interested in Random House because of its excellent position in the textbook field, which is sure to benefit from Federal aid. The company is well-managed but earnings—though gaining in recent years—are still well below those of 1959-61, and the stock's price is much lower than the best levels of that period.

I would prefer Crowell-Collier, perhaps even stronger in educational publishing. Earnings have been making a fine comeback and the shares have shown good technical action in a difficult market.

* * *

(Q) "Recently you advised investing $3,500 in Federal National Mortgage Association to yield 4.4 per cent. Why would it not be better to put the $3,500 in savings and loans at a higher rate? Is there some reason you do not advise using savings and loans?"

P. G.

(A) None whatsoever, provided their deposits are insured up to $10,000 per account in the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. These are, however, fixed as to principal and there is no positive assurance that current high rates will continue indefinitely.

Fanny Mae has raised its annual dividend in each year since 1958, the last increase coming after the advice you refer to was given. A rather unique factor is that its preferred stock is owned by the U. S. Treasury Department. Dividends come monthly and I like the stock for conservative people who do not require a savings reserve.

U.S. May Ask Added Hikes in User Taxes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said today the administration may propose additional increases in the taxes designed to offset the costs of particular government services.

These proposals would be in addition to President Johnson's suggestions for increased taxes on aviation fuel, trucks, diesel fuel and fuel used by carriers on inland waterways.

Fowler did not make it clear whether consideration is being given to an immediate request to Congress or whether all the user tax proposals will be presented next year.

Although Johnson's original user charge proposals were announced in May, no administration bill has been introduced.

In a speech prepared for an Alabama Kiwanis club luncheon, Fowler said:

"We are also asking ourselves whether this is the time to consider enactment of an omnibus user charge program that would include the proposals made in the President's 1966 budget and excise tax messages as well as a number of additional areas in which specialized government services benefiting special groups are furnished on a no-cost or a highly subsidized basis."

News in Brief

Warehouse Lack Cited by Pravda

MOSCOW (UPI) — Warehouse bottlenecks are aggravating Soviet farm problems, Pravda said today.

* * *

The Communist party newspaper said there are not enough warehouses to store potatoes and vegetables at harvest time.

Because of this, it said, many tons of crops rot on farms.

In addition, it said, there is a shortage of stores and stands to sell the sudden rush of potatoes and vegetables when they become available.

* * *

FED TO CATTLE

In the end, it said, the food often is fed to cattle or allowed to rot "while the population, even in summertime, cannot always buy fresh cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbages or potatoes."

Construction of silos and warehouses is "going very slowly," Pravda said. It blamed state trading organizations set up to funnel food from farm to market.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

The Hand of God Is Present . . .

. . . In all that we say and do. The passing of a loved one is but one of His works that affect those near. Frequently the end of this life seems to come as a kindness.

The presence of beautiful flowers, the music that brings us close to our Lord, and the dignity of the funeral service are all proper respect in returning one to his God.

Explosion on Boat Puts 4 in Water

BAY CITY (UPI) Four persons were hurled into the water yesterday when a 20-foot cabin cruiser exploded on the Saginaw River.

None of the four was injured seriously. They were picked up in the water by Charles Shaw of Linwood.

The boat, owned by Tom Moszyk of Bay City, burned to the water line and was declared a total loss. It was valued at $3,500.

Boy Is Killed in Fire

NILES (AP)—(AP)—John LeLand Cole, 5½-year-old son of Mrs. Robert Long, died Sunday afternoon in a fire which destroyed a shed at the family's home in nearby Bertrand Township. Fire Chief Adam Kuntz said the boy apparently had been playing with matches.

ORDINANCE NO. 86

AN ORDINANCE TO ADOPT, BY REFERENCE, THE ABRIDGE BUILDING CODE OF THE BUILDING OFFICIALS CONFERENCE OF AMERICA, 1960 EDITION, AS THE BUILDING CODE AS THE TOWNSHIP OF PONTIAC.

The Township of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1.

Certain documents, copies of which are on file in the office of the Township Clerk, available for inspection by and distribution to the public at all times, and which are marked and designated as the "Abridged Building Code" and the "Basic Building Code," 1960 editions respectively, as amended by the Accumulative Supplement of 1964, and approved by the Building Officials Conference of America, Incorporated, are hereby enacted and adopted, and are to be used, considered and enforced jointly, with the "Basic Building Code" serving as a supplement to the "Abridged Building Code" in the regulation of the erection, construction, enlargement, equipment, alteration, repair, moving, removal, demolition, conversion, use, height, area and maintenance of all buildings and structures in the Township, including the penalties for violating the provisions of said codes; and each and all of the regulations, provisions, penalties, conditions, and terms of said "Abridged Building Code" and "Basic Building Code," 1960 edition, approved by the Building Officials Conference of America, Incorporated, are hereby referred to, enacted and adopted and made a part hereof, as if fully set forth herein with the additions, insertions, deletions and changes, as hereinafter set forth.

Section 2.

This Ordinance and the various parts, sentences, paragraphs, sections and clauses thereof are hereby declared to be severable.

Section 3.

The permits shall be issued with the Zoning permit and the fee schedule shall be the same as the Zoning Permit Fees.

Section 4.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, use, occupy or maintain any building or structure in violation of any provision of this code or to cause, permit or suffer any such violation to be committed. Any such person, firm or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days (90) in the Oakland County Jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each provision of law thus violated. It shall be the responsibility of the offender to abate the violation as expediously as possible, and each day that such violation is permitted to continue shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 5.

All ordinances, resolutions or orders or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 6.

This Ordinance shall be published not later than ten (10) days from the passage hereof and shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of the first publication.

This Ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days after publication in a newspaper circulating within the Township.

This Ordinance enacted by the Township Board of Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan, August 9th, 1965.
