Insane Go to Jail

Hospital Head Scores County for Neglect

By HAROLD COHEN

"Oakland County's attitude toward the insane borders on the barbarous," declares Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, superintendent of the Pontiac State Hospital yesterday.

Dr. LaCore was commenting on the most recent of a long number of cases where the Pontiac Police Dept. was forced to lock an insane man in the Oakland County Jail because there was nowhere else to put him.

"Oakland is the second largest county in the state, yet it has absolutely no place to put a mentally unbalanced person except in jail," he asserted.

"Detroit has a Receiving Hospital, Genesee County has set aside several beds in a Flint Hospital for such cases, but here there is nothing.

"We help out when we can by accepting such patients for 48 hours, but often we are full and cannot help. Besides, other counties resent a state institution acting as a local hospital for a benefit of just one county. No one else sends us these patients, just Oakland," he continued.

The superintendent's complaint is the same as that voiced by police officers.

Many officers tell of sitting up half a night with a violent patient while the desk officer tries in vain to find some place that will accept him. "We don't even have a padded cell," one Pontiac police officer said.

"The county is really going to have to do something about this situation," Dr. LaCore said. "This is the only county where we are constantly picking up patients from jail."

"Many of them might be cured quickly if they could spend a few weeks in a hospital, but instead the county commits them to our hospital, where they take up space needed by more serious cases."

The latest incident occured Thursday evening, when a doctor from Pontiac General Hospital called the Pontiac Police and said a man he was examining had become violent.

The man, from Oak Park, had been brought to Pontiac General by two friends on advice of the Oak Park police.

Pontiac police sent Det. Robert Evans to investigate the case. Evans looked the situation over and then went to Assistant Prosecutor Robert Long's home in Royal Oak to seek a 48-hour general commitment order.

Armed with the papers, Evans

Woman Found Dead in Lake

Ruth Slosson Drowns Thursday Night in Two Feet of Water

The body of Mrs. Ruth Slosson, 58, of 2337 Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township, who drowned sometime Thursday night, was recovered yesterday afternoon.

Erroneous reports yesterday said she was believed drowned in Orchard Lake. Today's reports listed the lake as Upper Straits.

Her body was found by two searchers, George W. Powell, and Edward D. Thayer, both of Farmington, in two feet of water near the north shore.

She had rented a boat at Langdon Beach, on Upper Straits Lake, Thursday evening. The search began yesterday when it was noticed the boat wasn't back and her car was still there.

The boat with various items of her belongings plus fishing tackle in it, was found floating a few hundred yards from her body.

She was pronounced dead of drowning by West Bloomfield Township Medical Examiner, Dr. Douglas A. Haddock. Deputies believed she fell from the boat while standing or changing position.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maj. David G. Simons, the high-flying Air Force doctor who soared 102,000 feet in a balloon earlier this week, was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross today.

Expect Passage of Compromise Civil Rights Bill

No Filibuster Predicted; Measure Limits Jury Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is expected to pass a civil rights bill—the first since reconstruction days—next week as a result of a bipartisan compromise apparently acceptable to President Eisenhower.

Almost two years of legislative battling topped by 17 days of party-line deadlock culminated yesterday in announcement by congressional leaders of both parties that they have agreed on a compromise.

All said they expect Congress to approve it in time to adjourn next Friday. And the Republicans said they are confident Eisenhower will sign it.

Southerners in the Senate, who held the powerful filibuster weapon, have not all been heard from.

However, preliminary indications were that they will vote against the revised bill but not organize a campaign to talk it to death. The House Rules Committee which has had the bill bottled up, is expected to meet Monday or Tuesday, even if Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va) persists in his objections, and clear the bill. House action likely will come the day after the committee acts, and Senate leaders say their branch will be only a day or so behind the House.

The compromise that broke the final deadlock preserves the position taken by Republicans, from Eisenhower down, that a judge must be free to try without a jury

41 U. S. Students in Red China Set to Tour Peiping

LONDON (AP) — A weekend of sightseeing in China's ancient capital is planned by 41 young Americans, the British news agency Reuters reported today from Peiping.

The Americans arrived in the Red Chinese capital by train from Moscow yesterday. All Peiping newspapers today carried front-page photographs of their reception by a crowd chanting Communist peace slogans, Reuters said.

The group was staying at the city's leading hotel after the nine-day train trip across Russia. They will remain in China for three weeks as guests of the Communist government.

Most of them likely will leave via Moscow, Reuters said, but some will go through Hong Kong and home across the Pacific.

The U.S. State Department, which bans American tourist travel in Red China and appealed to the group not to break the ban, reportedly has issued orders for American consuls to mark their passports valid for travel only to the United States.

Detroit News Strike Settled

3 Metropolitan Papers to Resume Publication After Loss of a Week

DETROIT (AP)—A labor dispute that started eight days ago and closed down Detroit's three major daily newspapers was settled today.

The publishers association and Mailers Local 40 of the International Typographical Union issued a brief statement announcing publication would be resumed today.

"The publishers and ITU mailers will meet at 2 p. m. to process grievances according to the contract. Publication of all three papers will be resumed today," the statement said.

The afternoon Detroit News and Detroit Times quickly started preparing Saturday editions.

A dispute over refusal of mailers to work beyond a 15-hour double-shift at the News last Saturday resulted in picketing and refusal by the Teamsters Union to cross picket lines.

After Sunday editions, which also carried the News masthead, the Times and Free Press closed down, saying a strike against one member of the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. was a strike against all three. The International Mailers Union, which claimed to represent the News mailers, termed the action a lockout.

Today's settlement, announced shortly after 7 a. m., followed James A. Hoffa's joining of negotiations. Hoffa, Midwest Teamster boss, flew here from Washington where he had been a witness before the Senate Rackets Committee yesterday.

Search Ends for Missing Girls

Hoffa Returns to State After 'Losing Memory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa, denounced by a Senate prober as a "disgrace to trade unionism," has returned to his Detroit home—presumably to resume work on his bid to become Teamsters Union president.

After spending four days on the witness stand, Hoffa was abruptly dismissed yesterday by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The dismissal, by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) came after Hoffa had said he could not remember whether he joined with New York racketeer Johnny Dio to enhance his own position in the union and give Dio a foothold in the teamsters.

The cocky Midwest Teamsters boss fended off dozens of questions about his dealings with Dio by pleading:

"My best recollection is, I can't remember."

Before halting the committee session yesterday, McClellan served a new subpoena on Hoffa, saying the union boss may be called back for more questioning later. The chairman also read, in scathing tones, a statement citing specific instances of alleged misdeeds about which he said Hoffa had equivocated in his testimony.

'BUM AND CRIMINALS'

Hoffa is regarded as the most likely candidate to succeed Dave Beck as head of the 1½ million member Teamsters organization, the nation's largest union.

Under questioning, Hoffa acknowledged he had been wrong in associating with New York "bums and criminals" like Dio.

He said if he were elected Teamsters president he would take action against racketeers the committee says have moved into Teamsters affairs in New York

Committee counsel Robert Kennedy described that testimony as amazing, and said Hoffa knew all along about the racketeers.

Before his dismissal yesterday, Hoffa had just denied any memory as to whether Dio had supplied him with tiny recording devices with which to eavesdrop on a Detroit grand jury investigating Hoffa in 1953.

INCREDIBLE ANSWERS

He said he could not recall, either, whether he used them to listen in on various labor and political meetings.

McClellan called these incredible answers, and the committee voted on the spot that it was useless to try further to get information from Hoffa now. It agreed, however, to try again later.

McClellan then read his statement listing 48 accusations against Hoffa. McClellan accused Hoffa of conflict of interest in borrowing $89,500 from employers with whom the union bargains.

Swims Four Hours to Save Her Family

The life-jacket clad woman related they were washed from a frail 15-foot outboard boat in heavy seas.

Hours later, the young Jenkinton, Pa., housewife heard that her son, 22-month-old Jeffery, became the only fatality of the mishap.

Her grief - stricken husband, Thomas O., 25, fought tears as he explained how those clinging to the boat tried to keep the baby's head above water.

All, including the child, had life jackets. They swam to tiny, uninhabited Stratton Island when the boat sank.

★ ★ ★

Cole, Coast Guard airmen said, was still trying to revive the child by artificial respiration when spotted by a helicopter.

His wife's battle with the sea was across a three mile stretch of open Atlantic. She fought her way to the mainland from a point between Stratton and Eagle islands off famed Old Orchard Beach.

"She certainly must have been a powerful swimmer," one coastguardsman said, "we had enough trouble getting out to the island with our 25 horsepower boat."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Walter D. Mazzacane who treated Mrs. Cole for shock and immersion, said:

Included in the Eagle Island bound picnic party were Theodore Chase, 25, of Springfield, Mass., a friend of the family, and Mrs. Cole's mother, Mrs. E. T. Manley of the fashionable Springfield suburb of Longmeadow, Mass.

They said high seas breaking over the boat forced them to turn back to the mainland about noontime. Moments later they were swamped. Mrs. Cole came ashore some four hours later.

Rain Slows Play at Michigan Open

It was slow going today in the second round of the Michigan Open Golf Tournament at Edgewood Country Club, with weather taking the blame for the slowdown.

A field of 160 professional and amateur golfers started touring Edgewood's 6,400 yard layout this morning in a downpour of rain.

Bob Inman, assistant pro at Detroit Golf Club, shot a five under

Following today's 18 hole round, the field will be cut to the low 50 players plus ties for Sunday's 36 hole windup.

For the Asking — 2 Husky, Hungry Himalayan Bears

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Anyone need a couple of husky, hungry, female Himalayan bears?

George Consolver, operator of a Wichita amusement park, wants to know. He has the bears and they're surplus.

Consolver told officials this story:

Three weeks ago he agreed to let a man leave the bears at the park so he (the owner) could train them. The owner agreed to put on free shows for the children.

It's been 10 days since he's seen the bears' owner—and the feed bill is mounting.

Sunday Will Be Fair, More Rain by Monday

After much needed showers today the weather man has reserved a pleasant Sunday for this area. Showers are likely again Monday and Tuesday or Wednesday.

Today's rain, the first in this area since Aug. 13, is expected to end tonight. Low temperature will range from 56 to 62.

In an extended weather outlook the U. S. Weather Bureau has reported temperatures will average two to three degrees above the normal 80 and normal 60 low for the next four days.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 65. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 67.

Call Halt in Hoffa Questioning

Believe Sisters Buried Alive While Playing

Official Thinks Grader Pushed Dirt Over Area Where Children Stood

DIXON, Ill. (INS)—The bodies of three young sisters — apparently buried alive in a partly filled quarry — were found early today by 85 rain-soaked volunteer rescue workers.

The children, who had disappeared Wednesday afternoon, were recovered in a "pocket" of the quarry by weary workers who battled throughout the night under a battery of floodlights.

The victims, Nancy Gurnsey, 10, and her sisters, Ruth, nine, and Theresa, eight, were discovered when a huge tree trunk was lifted away by one of the three cranes used in the rescue operation.

Ironically, the sisters' father, John Gurnsey, was the foreman of a crew which had been hired to fill the quarry, and States Attorney James E. Bales said the tragic accident was caused "when one of his (Gurnsey) graders pushed the tree and dirt on top of the girls."

"The man operating the grader probably didn't hear the girls screaming because the girls were about 50 feet down into the quarry."

FATHER

However, he said the tree trunk had been in the quarry for over a week and added:

"The girls most likely were playing under the tree trunk when the grader sent earth and debris crashing on top of them."

The grieved father said his wife "broke down" when they heard the news.

Gurnsey and his wife agreed "it probably was an accident" but Gurnsey said they will ask for an autopsy "so we'll be sure."

CORONER TO COMPLY

Coroner Robert Preston said he would comply with the parents' request and ordered an autopsy.

The Gurnseys have five other children, Millie 11, John Jr., six; Virginia, two, Joni, one, and Harold, six months.

Earlier Dixon Police Commissioner Fred Hoffman said that "all of the girls were found together and it looked like they had been playing there."

The bodies were taken to the Preston Funeral Home in Dixon where the pathologist, Dr. E. R. Strauster, reported that "preliminary examination shows that the children suffocated."

He added that the girls "weren't badly bruised."

The search was concentrated on the half-mile long, 75-foot deep quarry when the shoes of the children were found yesterday in a clay pile in the quarry.

Bales declared that he had been "telling them for two days to dig in the quarry but they had to find the shoes before they went down in there."

★ ★ ★

Starlings Win Another Round in Long Battle

Noise-Maker Merely Discourages Citizens

Starlings all over Pontiac today are screeching gleefully. They have licked this modern age of mechanical wizardry.

★ ★ ★

But the atmosphere in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. is somewhat gloomier.

Their "cinch" Bird-E-Vict machine has failed, fizzled and flopped.

William Aho, chief starling chaser for the city, hesitantly reported to City Manager Walter K. Willman yesterday that the city should get its $99.50 back on the machine. Aho said the amplified tape recording of thousands of starlings in distress had been given a thorough test.

"Our results at the end of six evenings of trial proved that the birds came back without fail each evening," Aho, parks supervisor, confessed.

The small box-like contraption, designed by two Pennsylvania men, Dr. Hubert Frings and Joseph Jumber, was supposed to drive starling inhabitants from Pontiac. It nearly drove many good citizens away instead with its infernal racket.

The thundering blare of the machine rocked residents of South Jessie between Chandler and Auburn and several other test streets. The birds took it on the wing as the truck bearing the "thing" passed beneath their favorite roosts.

But the quick-thinking creatures couldn't be tricked. They could outlast human endurance any night. They returned to their perches when the department called it quits for the night.

"Every night when they returned to the Jessie street area they were back in the same trees and in the same numbers to mock us," Aho said.

"It looks as though the starlings went away one night but returned the next for the concert," was Willman's only comment.

So the Frings-Jumber method of Repelling Starlings from Objectionable Roosts has flopped. Department officials are scratching their heads. How is the city to attack starlings now?

★ ★ ★

Magazines Paid $150,000

Hollywood Scandal Worth Big Money, Says Witness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Collecting Hollywood scandal was a $100,000-a-year business, a defendant in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines has testified.

Fred Meade told the jury yesterday the magazine paid Hollywood Research, Inc. $150,000 for checking and supplying information for scandal stories from July 1955, to February 1957

Meade and his wife, Marjorie also a defendant, operated Hollywood Research. Mrs. Meade is a niece of publisher Robert Harrison of Confidential and Whisper.

The final day of the trial's third week brought these other developments:

1. Meade, on cross-examination, identified 10 informers who were paid as much as $1,000 by Hollywood Research for information.

2. Meade charged that Hollywood studios "ganged up and tried to frame us."

3. Actress Maureen O'Hara again was identified as a "necker" in a Hollywood theater but yesterday's defense witness gave a different time from that pre-

Chrysler Turns Down UAW

Claims Blanket Slash in Prices Not Answer to Inflation

DETROIT (UP) — Chrysler Corp. joined General Motors in turning down Walter P. Reuther's proposal that the auto companies cut prices on 1958 cars by an average of $100 and in return the United Auto Workers Union would modify its contract demands next year.

Chrysler President L. L. Colbert, in a letter to the UAW president said he agreed that inflation "is a matter of concern" but he said Reuther's plan was not the answer.

General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice, in rejecting Reuther's proposal, suggested that the UAW extend its GM contract two years as a "contribution to economic stability."

Colbert wrote Reuther: "Our 1958 cars will be priced as low as possible, consistent with the costs of our labor, materials, and services, the good health of our business, and with full consideration of the buying public."

Colbert said, "In a nutshell, you are proposing that management abdicate its responsibilities — and months after sustaining drastically reduced income, a company would go before the UAW or before a three-man panel to attempt to justify its need for partial relief."

General Motors was the first to reply to Reuther. Ford Motor Co. has yet to reply.

★ ★ ★

New Typhoon Headed for Japanese Island

TOKYO (INS) — A new Pacific typhoon was heading for Japan's Southernmost island of Kyushu today but weathermen said the storm was packing relatively minor winds.

It was expected to bring heavy rains to the southern Japanese costal areas.

Meteorologists described it as considerably weaker than typhoon Agnes which skirted southern Japan earlier in the week and struck southeast Korea where seven persons were killed, eight were missing and 195 were injured while property damage was estimated at $2,500,000.

MASTER OF COMEDY — Johnny Puleo and his Harmonica Gang will be among the all-star attractions at the outdoor stage show Tuesday evening in Wisner Stadium. Little Johnny, 4 feet, 6 inches, has appeared in many films, television shows and the nation's leading night clubs. He toured the world with Borrah Menevitch's Harmonica Rascals and his mastery of pantomine and the harmonica have brought him command performances before kings and presidents. Tickets to the variety show are being given out by downtown Pontiac merchants. The show is part of the celebration of Pontiac Motor Division's 50th birthday.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does the air and our elevation from sea level affect our health? The atmosphere (or air) we live in definitely affects our health and the key to the correlation is the oxygen content in the air. Normally, oxygen makes up about 21 per cent of the gas in the atmosphere.

However, when people drive into the mountains (as many of us have in recent weeks) and ascend to a higher altitude, the oxygen pressure decreases (oxygen content remains the same in the atmosphere at all altitudes). The same thing happens — pressure decreases as the weight of the air becomes less — when flying in private planes or non-pressurized commercial airliners.

Many people can be affected by this drop in oxygen pressure. Those with heart disease, who are anemic, diabetics, those with pulmonary complications and many others should avoid high-altitude travel by either car, plane or bus — unless supplementary oxygen pressure is provided.

Charged With Negligent Homicide

Trial Board Acquits Colonel

FT. SILL, Okla. (UP)—With tears in his eyes, a 41-year-old combat veteran said "I sure feel fine" over and over again after being acquitted yesterday by a general court-martial of four charges of negligent homicide.

★ ★ ★

Berger also was found innocent of a charge of dereliction of duty.

The 16-year veteran asked if he had ever doubted the outcome during the two-day trial, declared "as a career officer I had nothing to live for except hope of acquittal."

Col. Berger shook hands with several friends and the president of the court then left the small, hot courtroom to telephone the news to his wife and two daughters, aged 5 and 7.

The court retired at 3:32 p.m. then returned about two hours later to ask Lt. Col. John F. Taylor, law officer, if the court had the authority to amend or rewrite a specification. Taylor said no, but they could delete any portion of a specification not proved.

★ ★ ★

The court returned at 5:53 p.m. with the verdict. It would have taken a two-thirds majority to convict the bespectacled officer. Maximum sentence for the charge would have been discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and four years at hard labor.

In his testimony yesterday, Berger stated that Lt. Col. Walter D. Short, officer in charge of the public demonstration of the infantry attack, gave the order to resume firing 4.2 mortar shells.

The shells fell in the area occupied by the attacking infantry company, killing four and injuring 13 soldiers.

Berger's testimony was in conflict with that of Col. Short, who had declared he first ordered a cease-fire when it appeared mortar shells were falling in the wrong target area. He said he talked with Berger by telephone and told him he could resume firing if he wished after checking the mortars to make sure they were being fired correctly.

Berger said yesterday, "Col. Short is confused and doesn't remember things as they happened at that time." He said the order to resume fire was Short's "decision."

Sergeants in for Rough Time?

Deaf Mute Classified 1-A by His Local Board

EAST LANSING (UP) — Some Army drill sergeant will be in for a rough time if the Army actually drafts Gerald K. Hanson, a 22-year old printer from Fowlerville. Hanson is a deaf mute.

WORKS AS PRINTER

Last month, Hanson was ordered to report for a physical examination at Detroit. Both Hanson and Rudnicki figured this was just red tape routine and that Hanson would be deferred from service.

But Hanson was classified 1-A and told to report for active duty Sept. 6.

Rudnicki has appealed the classification to Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain who promised to make an investigation.

Rudnicki said that Hanson, a deaf mute from birth, is a graduate of the Flint School for the Deaf and can read lips.

"But he couldn't hear a cannon if it was fired 10 feet from him," Rudnicki said.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said that Chamberlain had called the case to his attention.

"According to our records, he was accepted as passing minimum physical standards," Holmes said, "But we've ordered the induction postponed to determine whether or not he should have another physical examination."

tions," the statement listed the handling of some $300,000 in union funds.

Sen. Ives (R-NY), the committee's vice chairman, released a statement calling Hoffa unfit for the Teamster presidency and a man whose record was an "disgrace to trade unionism."

Thus ended four stormy days on the witness stand in which Hoffa often talked back but seldom told much.

FRIENDLY ACQUAINTANCE

Hoffa acknowledged only a "friendly acquaintance" with Dio, but conceded he had agreed only last month to "look out" for Dio's family while the racketeer is in prison. Dio is awaiting sentence in New York on an extortion conviction. Hoffa said he can't recall now that he knew of Dio's long criminal record.

★ ★ ★

New York police wiretaps of telephone conversations between Dio and Hoffa were played into evidence, indicating the two men were friends and exchanged favors.

The committee contends that two of the wire taps showed Dio was providing Hoffa with microphones to "bug" the Detroit grand jury room — promising to bring "those things" to Hoffa and provide men to supervise their use.

Hoffa said he could not recall whether the "things" Dio promised to deliver were the microphones, or whether he ever had used them.

He listened hard to the wire taps, then told the senators: "My memory is not refreshed."

County Lacks Space to Care for Insane

took the patient to the State Hospital but was told there was no room for him there.

Evans then returned the man to Pontiac General Hospital where he was refused admittance without a police guard. Evans then called the police station and explained his problem.

Lt. George T. Scott, in charge, called Oak Park police and asked them to provide a guard, as the patient was from their territory.

This they refused to do. Lt. Scott then called the Oakland County Jail and begged a night's lodgings for the man. Authorities then allowed the patient to be locked up for just one night.

Next morning Oak Park police came to pick him up and seek commitment for him elsewhere.

"This sort of thing goes on all the time," Dr. LaCore said.

"The 48-hour commitment does not say where the patient is to be taken, but they are always brought to the State Hospital because the county does not supply any other facility.

"If we have room, we take them," he added, "if not, they usually land in jail."

"There are two citizens committees working on this problem, but we need action soon."

Plans Discussed for Resuming Safety Contest

Resumption of Pontiac's Inter-Fleet Safety Contest was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee.

William Spadafore, chairman of a subcommittee for the contest, said that a number of truck fleet owners have indicated they will participate and all others are invited.

Owners of firms such as bakeries, dry cleaners, milk and others with fleets of trucks can participate.

Trucks will compete according to size, with certificates given to the drivers with the best safety records and awards to the firms.

The program was successfully tried in Pontiac a few years ago but was later dropped. The safety committee is reviving it this year and intends to make it a permanent event.

Ask Kalamazoo to Buy Bus Line Serving City

KALAMAZOO (UP) — National City Lines, Inc., whose bus franchise expires in Kalamazoo a week hence, offered the city a choice last night of taking over the bus system and hiring the company to operate it or permitting an immediate increase in fares and a curtailment in service.

Ralph E. James a National City Lines vice president, made the offer, interpreted as meaning the firms subsidiary Kalamazoo City Lines would quit operating after next Saturday unless it was accepted.

Under the plan whereby the city would acquire the bus lines and then hire the company to operate an estimated $17,000 in taxes could be avoided. Jackson recently adopted such a plan.

Army Starting Economy Drive

Service Plans to Drop One Infantry Division, May Close Some Posts

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army embarked today upon an economy program that will eliminate one infantry division, 18 anti-aircraft battalions, 16 depots and plants, and 15,000 civilian jobs.

Even further reductions, including the closing of some major military bases, were considered inevitable as the Army adjusts to an eight billion 950 million dollar ceiling imposed by the administration.

The cutback, announced yesterday, will reduce active infantry divisions from 17 to 16 and, according to authoritative sources, will have these further effects:

Reduce enlistments by 50,000 men.

Permit organization of only four of the six NATO "atomic support commands" envisioned by President Eisenhower.

The infantry reduction was the second within the month, following closely upon the elimination of the 24th Division in the Far East.

All 18 of the anti-aircraft battalions to be dropped man 90 and 120 millimeter guns which are largely ineffective against modern jets. They were destined to be replaced by Nike missile units.

The manpower reduction will have no effect on the number of units stationed in Europe and Korea but strengths may be lowered in both areas.

U. S. Diplomat Sent to Mid-East Over Red Threat

WASHINGTON (UP)—Veteran diplomat Loy Henderson was headed for the Middle East today to try to figure out how the United States and its friends can cope with the Communist threat in Syria.

State Department officials reportedly are convinced that Syria is not yet a Soviet satellite by any means. Although pro-Soviet army officers have dominate power, these officials believe some way may yet be found to block a complete takeover by Moscow.

Henderson, a top State Department troubleshooter, left Washington Thursday, but the State Department did not disclose his departure until about 24 hours later. Late yesterday, however, the department announced he was on his way to visit Turkey and probably other Middle Eastern countries.

Henderson's choice of Ankara, the Turkish capital, appeared to be much more than accidental. In that city he can confer without delay with Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes, King Hussein of Jordan and King Faisal of Iraq.

About U. S. Reporters

China Still Silent

HONG KONG (UP) — Thirty-six hours after being authorized to enter Red China, eligible American correspondents here today had neither Chinese visas nor revalidated passports.

The China Travel Service said the Communist foreign minister in Peiping was aware that 24 reporters are being allowed by the United States to visit Red China for the first time in eight years. But the service, which handles mainland travel, said the ministry had issued no instructions yet.

The American consulate general here told newsmen they were still unable to change their passports making them good for seven months' travel to the China mainland. He said the reason was confusion produced by applications from more than one representative of news media. The official said he was still awaiting a State Department list of individuals designated to represent the media on a permanent basis in China.

Two correspondents, Keyes Beech, Chicago Daily News, and Marvin Stone, International News Service, arrived today from Tokyo and a number of others are expected Monday.

Those already here include John Roderick, Associated Press; James Burke, Time, Inc.; Tillman Durdin, New York Times, and Guy Searls, Columbia System, and Wendell Merick, United Press.

Text of Rights Compromise

WASHINGTON (UP) — Following is the text of the compromise agreement which congressional leaders agreed would be included in the civil rights bill:

"In all cases of criminal contempt arising under the provisions of this act, the accused, upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both;

★ ★ ★

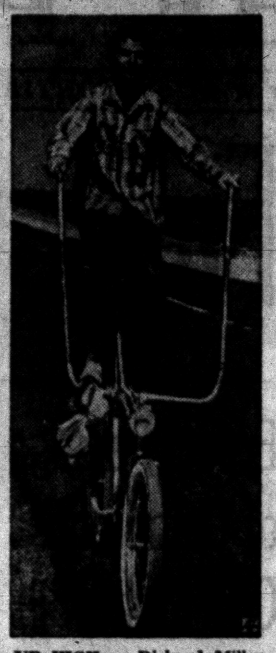

"Provided, however, that in case the accused is a natural person by legal definition, an individual as distinguished from an organization the fine to be paid shall not exceed the sum of $1,000, nor shall imprisonment exceed the term of six months;

★ ★ ★

"Provided, further, that in any such proceeding for criminal contempt, at the discretion of the judge, the accused may be tried with or without a jury;

★ ★ ★

"Provided further, however, that in the event such proceeding for criminal contempt be tried before a judge without a jury and the sentence of the court upon conviction is a fine in excess of the sum of $300 or imprisonment in excess of 45 days, the accused in said proceeding, upon demand therefore, shall be entitled to a trial de novo anew, afresh before a jury, which shall conform as near as may be to the practice in other criminal cases."

UP HIGH — Richard Miller, 16, Fresno, Calif., reversed the frame and added extensions to handle bars on his bicycle to give him a lofty view on his pedal trips.

Troy Youth Faces Hit and Run Charge

Michael J. Cullen, 18, of Troy was ordered to stand trial on hit and run charges yesterday.

He stood mute at arraignment before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland on a specific count of leaving the scene of the auto accident in which another Troy youth, Terence Murphy, 15, was seriously injured Aug. 8.

Judge Holland entered a plea of innocent for Cullen and continued the $1,000 bond under which the youth is free.

Madison Heights Man Dies of Crash Injury

Rober J. Archanbault, 20, of 1167 Brockton St., Madison Heights, who was critically injured in an accident Friday, died today.

Mt. Carmel Hospital, Detroit, reported his death this morning after he had remained in critical condition for 24 hours with multiple head injuries.

Archanbault was thrown from a car driven by Robert E. Moore, 22, of Hazel Park, in a collision involving two cars and a cement truck at W. Eight Mile Rd. and Evergreen St., in Southfield Township.

Southfield Township Police have not yet announced whether charges will be brought against Paul Dunec, 37, of 4949 Berwin St., Garden City, who is reported to have struck the Moore vehicle while backing from a driveway.

The Day in Birmingham

Retail Leader Two Years, Toothacker Is Resigning

BIRMINGHAM — Foster Toothacker, after more than two years as chairman of the Retail Merchant's Committee, Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, has tendered his resignation.

He told the committee that activities, which have increased greatly, require more time than he can devote. He also stated that he believes the office is one which should be rotated more often.

Gerald Mortensen, C. of C. manager, will attend the American Chamber of Commerce Executives Assn. in Minneapolis next month.

He is a member of the Inquiry Procedure Committee and will help develop further details on inquiries from firms to chambers of commerce located in other cities.

The purpose of the plan is to help put a check on "doubtful" firms. It will also stop non-member companies from using the facilities of out-of-town chambers.

Mortensen said the new plaques carrying the 1957-58 dates and replacing the former calendar year type have been received and are being distributed.

Two larcenies were reported to Bloomfield Township police last night.

Mrs. Irvin Rogers, 1260 Ardmore Rd., reported the Aug. 17 theft of $400 in whiskies and wines, mostly imported stock.

Joe Spires of 47 East South Blvd. told police of a theft of a furnace and oil tank from the basement of house at 380 Caroline St. The items, valued at $800, were taken sometime between Tuesday and Friday.

Investigating officers report that, in neither instance, could they find any evidence of a forced entry.

Julius DeGrazia, 31, of Royal Oak, was bound over yesterday on charges of negligent homicide. DeGrazia, the driver of the car which figured in the July 22 collision at Hunter boulevard and Bowers street, in which Howard C. Holah was fatally injured.

Watches, rings, wheels, tires, even cosmetics will be sold at the police auction here Sept. 14. The sale will be held at 10 a.m. at the rear of the Municipal Building.

The items are recovered stolen property or lost items which have been turned over to the police and remain unclaimed.

Birmingham Chapter 220 OES, will see a meeting of its sewing and planning group at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Dorothy Bain, 4447 Elmwood St., Royal Oak, will be hostess.

Red Says Aerial Inspection Plane Could H-Bomb

CHELSFIELD, England (UP) — A Soviet diplomat says the trouble with President Eisenhower's open skies aerial inspection plan is that "you never know which plane will take an H-bomb and drop it."

★ ★ ★

"After the skies are open, you will have daily and nightly foreign planes flying over your territory," said Vladimir Semonev, third secretary of the London Soviet embassy, last night.

Earlier yesterday, Britain charged that Russia is blocking any agreement in the London U.N. disarmament talks except on its own terms.

★ ★ ★

Quick OK Expected for Civil Rights Bill

CONCESSION

But it makes this concession to the Southerners and others who insisted on jury trials in criminal contempt cases: In a voting rights case, if a judge elects to conduct a trial without a jury and imposes a penalty greater than $300 fine or 45 days imprisonment, the defendant can demand and get a new trial before a jury.

The overall maximum penalty provided by the bill is six months' imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Here is the way the contempt provision would work: The attorney general could seek federal court injunctions to halt violations or threatened violations of voting rights. Violators would risk court action.

If the action were civil contempt, designed to induce obedience, there would be no jury trial. If it were criminal contempt, or punishment action, the compromise provisions disclosed yesterday would apply.

The final revised version of the bill also will specify that a provision forbidding unauthorized disclosure of evidence gathered in closed session by the proposed civil rights investigating commission does not apply against newsmen.

This section provides penalties up to $1,000 fine and one year imprisonment for disclosure of such evidence without commission sanction.

The final bill falls substantially short of the proposals Eisenhower made last year. But its jury trial provisions are not nearly so broad as those the Democratic-controlled Senate wrote in.

Preserved from the Eisenhower bill, which was passed by the House without major change, are provisions for (1) a bipartisan investigating commission, and (2) a special division in the Department of Justice, under an assistant attorney general, to handle civil rights matters.

But the plan to authorize the attorney general to seek federal injunctions in support of a broadly-defined assortment of rights was cut back by the Senate to apply to voting rights only. That limitation remains in the compromise bill.

Says Magazines Paid $150,000 for Scandal

viously testified to by another defense witness.

4. Noted writer William Bradford Huie testified that publisher Harrison was insistent upon deleting what he considered obscene matter from Huie's stories for Confidential.

Meade spent almost the entire day undergoing cross-examination and will return to the stand when the trial is resumed Monday.

He testified that Hollywood research went out of business last February because of newspaper publicity about a state Senate investigation of Confidential. It was at this point, he said, that Hollywood movie-makers "tried to frame us." He did not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

Meade said the 10 informers provided information about Ava Gardner, Lana Turner, Joan Crawford, Edward G. Robinson, John Jacob Astor, Donald O'Connor, Mickey Rooney, Dan Dailey, Walter Pidgeon, George Jessel, Frederic March, Dane Clark and Denise Darcel.

He testified he paid a Robert Tutga $1,000 for information "about his affair with Joan Crawford."

Meade identified informer Stella Shoeul as "one of the few ex-prostitutes I dealt with." He identified two $500 checks and one for $550 paid to Miss Shoeul by Hollywood Research.

"She was prolific," he said, adding that her information concerned Dailey, Clark, March and Jessel.

Other informants were identifed as a movie extra, a governess and an interior decorator.

Meade said he passed out $100 checks to his informants for introductions to people with whom he wanted to become acquainted.

Michael Casey, a television director and former assistant manager of Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood, introduced the new date of Miss O'Hara purported love-making in the rear row of the showhouse. A Confidential story related the incident.

Casey said he saw Miss O'Hara and a man enter the theater in February 1954. He said that after an usher told him the couple was "necking" he investigated and observed them "embracing — not passionately."

★ ★ ★

Outside court, Miss O'Hara has produced her passport to show that she was in Europe during the entire fall of 1953. She has said the theater love scene did not take place at any time.

Huie, author of the novel "The Revolt of Mamie Stover," testified that Harrison told him, "we have to be concerned about obscenity."

Huie said Harrison agreed to his attorneys' demands that what they considered obscene matter be deleted from the three stories Huie wrote for Confidential.

★ ★ ★

The author was called as a witness by the defense in its fight against charges of publishing lewd and obscene material on which the magazines and the Meades are being tried, along with the charge of conspiracy to commit criminal libel.

Deaths Elsewhere

NEW YORK (INS)—Funeral services will be held at Riverside Chapel in New York tomorrow for William Shaw, 73, father of Novelist Irwin Shaw.

The elder Shaw died Thursday night aboard a New York-bound airliner minutes after it had taken off from Paris. The pilot offered to Mrs. Shaw, who was accompaning her husband, to put down at London but she indicated she would rather the plane went on to its destination.

When the plane landed at Idlewild Airport yesterday morning, Shaw's body was taken to Queens General Hospital morgue.

LONDON (AP)—Prof. Edward J. Dent, 81, a musicologist who became famous for his translations of Mozart's operas into English, died Thursday.

LONDON (AP)—Lieut. Col. Malcolm Bowes-Lyon, uncle of Queen Mother Elizabeth, died here yesterday. He was 83.

Pontiac Boy Injured While Riding Bicycle

An eight-year-old Pontiac boy, Leroy Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins, 3774 Shimmons Circle, was injured while riding his bicycle yesterday, said sheriff's deputies.

The boy was struck by a passing car driven by George Grech, 37, of 3556 Tienken Rd., when he rode down a driveway into the path of the car.

He was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The mishap took place on Squirrel Rd., about ½ mile north of Walton Blvd., in Pontiac Township.

Cackle of Protest

British Housewives Frying Over Lion Stamp on Eggs

LONDON (AP)—The British housewife and an official agency have scrambled up a raging controversy over what constitutes a really fresh egg.

The British Egg Marketing Board says its figure of a lion stamped on an egg guarantees its freshness.

Housewives by the hundreds are flooding the board with sizzling letters saying the lionized egg does nothing of the sort.

The housewives' letters ask why the quasi-government board can't stamp the date on the nation's hen fruit. The board replied that date-stamping presents many practical difficulties, including the expense of new machinery.

"If you really want to date an egg properly," said a spokesman for the board, "you'd have to come to some arrangement with the hen."

A housewife retorted that the United States seems to have worked out date-stamping without the hen's cooperation. The board didn't answer that one.

The board began stamping eggs with its lion insigna this summer. The innovation was greeted by a cackle of protest for something better.

Through paid advertising the board is seeking to convince the country that the lion stamped on an egg guarantees that the egg was fresh when it was packed. The housewife argues that this doesn't guarantee that it will be fresh when it reaches her.

The Egg Marketing Board admits that obstacles stand in the way of trying to force the retailer into selling only fresh eggs because, under the Food and Drugs Act, eggs for some strange reason are not considered a perishable commodity.

"'Well, the sun won't be out very long.'"

2-Headed Holstein Has Only Two Ears

GRAFTON, Mass. (AP) — A two-headed Holstein heifer with four eyes, two mouths but one set of ears, was born yesterday on the farm of Casimir Sztuba.

Dr. Wallace Black of the University of Massachusetts said that while one mouth is fed the other goes through the motions of feeding.

He said this unusual action is because of a "fusion of the two lower angles of the jaw causing movement of the two mouths."

Free Clinic for Crippled

LAPEER — A free clinic for all the crippled children of Lapeer County will be held here Monday under the sponsorship of the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission.

Dr. Hira E. Branch, one of the state's top specialists, will again conduct the clinic.

Parents of afflicted children have been contacted and appointments arranged. However, Marie Daggett, commission nurse, has said other persons requesting the service for their children are invited to ask their doctors to make appointments for them.

The schedule is being taken care of by Mrs. Merry Jagow, MO 4-6694.

Ike Visits Gettysburg, 1st Time in a Month

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower arrived in Gettysburg today for the first visit to his farm in more than a month.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower plans to return to the capital late tonight or Sunday.

2 Navy Transports Collide in Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — One man was missing and four were injured—not seriously—as the result of a collision yesterday between two Navy transports 180 miles west of San Diego.

★ ★ ★

The Navy said neither of the vessels were in danger of sinking.

The names of the missing men and the injured were not released.

A radio message said the attack transport USS Lenawee rammed into the high speed transport USS Wantuck during a night convoy exercise. The Wantuck was hit amidships on the port side.

★ ★ ★

The Wantuck is under two by the submarine rescue vessel Florikan and the fleet tug Creel for San Diego. Its forward engine room was damaged and two fire rooms were flooded.

The forward decks of the Wantuck were buckled the width of the ship, according to the Navy.

The injured and the missing men were from the Wantuck.

The Lenawee picked up the injured and headed for Honolulu. It received a 10 foot gash in its starboard bow six feet above the waterline.

Sen. Johnson Backs Foreign Aid Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas says foreign aid has assumed "a new and promising direction" and that he will back a substantial increase in the aid figure voted by the House.

But Johnson said yesterday he did not think the Senate would vote an appropriations bill of $3,300,000,000—the amount provided in the foreign aid authorization measure passed earlier.

The authorization bill fixed a ceiling for the program. The House in passing the appropriations measure cut the figure by 809 million dollars. Eisenhower has urged appropriations at the level of the authorization bill.

"In my opinion," Johnson said, "there are not enough votes available to attain the full amount. But I am going to vote for a substantial increase and do everything possible to strengthen the measure to the fullest possible extent."

Timbuktu became a symbol for the remote and unreachable when it was a metropolis of the Sahara, a commercial hub, and center of African-Moslem culture. Long jealously guarded from Europeans, it has dwindled today in size and importance.

It Seems to Me...

United Fund Goal Realistic

Pontiac Area's United Fund has set its goal at last year's figure.

This is an ambitious program.

It will take "a lot of doing."

However, this target is sufficiently realistic to hearten and encourage the campaign workers. It gives everyone a good, fighting chance to deliver his quota. In 1956, the same level was missed by a narrow margin.

We were $10,000 short.

★ ★ ★

The objective this year provides an even greater challenge for employment is slightly less. That means a definite decline in the totals from employes who are without work or who have taken jobs elsewhere.

Requests from all sources ran more than $700,000.

Panel workers who reviewed the agency requests did yeoman service again in studying the problems. There are nearly half a hundred earnest and capable citizens in this area who divide themselves into groups and review the local agency figures. This takes untold hours of work. It requires intelligent study and an open mind.

The area has been very fortunate in the people making up these groups. In 1956, the budget for the purely local agencies ran $369,000. This year the requests totaled $407,000 and the panels cut the figure back to $372,000.

This was an increase of only $3,000.

That's less than one per cent.

However, even this was reduced slightly by the United Fund Board. Other agencies such as Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Michigan United Fund, etc. etc. had sufficient increases approved to place the suggested total at $649,111.05.

★ ★ ★

Let's make good.

Let's raise it.

★ ★ ★

The agencies that wanted extra money, will have to cut their cloth to fit the pattern. Pontiac's United Fund has leaped forward merrily in the past ten years. Few cities have increased their total giving as much as we have. Our record is astounding.

★ ★ ★

This year we face a period in which we are forced to mark time.

Agencies that had hoped for expansion will have to mark time also, just as the givers have been forced to do. As a matter of fact, if the community trend were followed, the goal would definitely be reduced.

★ ★ ★

All agencies should appreciate the willingness of the community to try and raise the same totals that they obtained a year ago. This may mean disappointment to all of them, but the rest of us have been "slightly disappointed" now for two years in a row.

★ ★ ★

Progress is not steadily forward. It dips and zooms in conformance with external factors. We are all governed by the same general rules.

Parker Affair

The passage of time nearly always produces a more accurate conception of highly controversial affairs. When BUDDY PARKER resigned from the Lions, a mild form of pandemonium seized the press and public.

Looking back now in retrospection, a few things stand out. PARKER charged that some of the Lions weren't observing proper training regulations and directors were accused as accessories.

It's a mark against the offenders if there are any.

Finally, BUDDY PARKER emerges with a crying towel of huge proportions. Also, he retreats from the Lion's lair with the stigma of having perpetrated one of the rudest and crudest public acts of Michigan's ancient and honorable athletic history.

If he wanted to resign, that was his business. Had he taken this action normally, he might have won a round of sympathy and even applause. But seizing the spotlight during a banquet of jollification and good will, constitutes the height of bad manners.

★ ★ ★

PARKER accused his players of failing in their devotion to him. He himself stands accused and convicted of failing completely in his own devotion to several million loyal supporters of the Lions.

If they add a penny to the postal rates, it won't have any bearing on the lack of Christmas cards that BUDDY gets from the Wolverine Commonwealth next December.

State Tax Study

Rollo Conlin Has Job of Directing Investigation

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—"I worked 12 hours on the night shift, seven days a week and got time and one half on Sundays," chuckled Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton).

"Talk about slavery! Well, you know what I mean. Of course you didn't have to do it.

"I made money then. I never had a chance to spend it.

"I worked there for a while, but finally it got so I couldn't stand it. I always had trouble sleeping in the day time.

Conlin, the guiding light of a big scale study of the state's tax structure, just getting under way, was recalling his employment as a shaping machine operator in the Willys-Overland plant in Toledo in the 1920's.

For about six years, Conlin, then in his early 20's, knocked about in Southern Michigan factories and machine shops. He worked in Adrian, Jackson, Detroit and Cadillac.

"I love to tinker with machinery," he said.

In 1928, at the age of 25, Conlin married and settled down to farming 160 acres in Lenawee County. He kept cows, grew wheat and fed hogs and sheep, and later went in for fattening cattle in a big way. For a time he rented an additional 124 acres.

His dad was active in politics, and finally in 1936 "Bill" Conlin began to follow in his footsteps by running for the county board of supervisors.

He rose to the board chairmanship, meanwhile sinking his roots deeper into township government activity and taking a seat on the local school board.

He ran for the legislature in 1944, won and immediately was installed on the strategic House Ways and Means Committee, then an unusual honor for a freshman.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Helen Keller, now 77, broke out of a dark, soundless world to devote a lifetime to helping others — by an example of courage, by a constant demonstration of joy in living and in faith. In spite of the triple handicap of blindness, deafness and imperfect speech, she has demonstrated her uncomplicated belief that "if you can enjoy the sun and flowers and music, where there is nothing except darkness and silence you have proved the mystic sense." And she has said: "I cannot imagine myself without religion. I could as easily fancy a living body without a heart . . ."

Days of All Faiths:

St. Augustine Important to Us All

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Say the American city of St. Augustine, Fla., was named for the illustrious fifth-century Bishop of Hippo (North Africa) or that the great Augustine was a Doctor of the Church and one of the all-time giants of the Christian faith, and you won't get any argument—but neither will get anyone very excited.

But St. Augustine, who died on Aug. 28 in 430, is worth getting excited about. He was and is tremendously important right now in your life and mine. If it hadn't been for him, we probably would not be living at all as we are today.

It was unbelievable that so mighty a power as Rome could break up, but it was at the same time a fact, and it was the worst catastrophe in Western history. It left men hopeless and bewildered, drifting without rudder or compass. With Rome dying, everything dependable and secure was gone.

Into this desolation stepped the great Bishop of Hippo with hope and reassurance for a terrified world. It was his book "Of the City of God" that pulled the ancient world out of its doldrums and turned it in the direction of that long period of convalescence we call the Middle Ages. In all literature it would be hard to name a more influential book.

The theme of "the City" was straight Christian doctrine? That what looks like outward failure may well be inward success — "He that loseth his life shall find it." The brotherhood of man is not affected by the rise or fall of governments. Let Rome perish—the spiritual is indestructible.

To a world sinking into darkness this was life-giving light. Here was Christianity related and applied to the deepest needs and fears of the time. It revolutionized Western civilization.

Augustine had been a scholar and a gifted teacher, but it was not until he was 32 years old that he became a Christian, he had also been a good deal of a rake. Baptized with him, in 387, were his mistress and his 15-year-old illegitimate son.

Ordained to the priesthood in 391, he was a bishop only five years later—bishop of the diocese of Hippo, one of the most difficult spots in the Church. Riddled with one heresy after another, Hippo could not have had a leader better equipped to handle its problems. For 35 years Augustine fought the good fight against all the current distortions and caricatures of Christianity and it was his successful preservation of the pure faith that earned him the title of Doctor of the Church.

NO SISSY, HE

Honored on the same day as St. Augustine is St. Moses—"the black," an Ehthiopian. In many ways he was like Augustine.

But their differences are more striking than their similarities. Whereas Augustine was the delicate, sensitive scholar, Moses was the strenuous, even ferocious, man of action. At the peak of his pre-Christian career he was the leader of a band of robbers.

After conversion Moses did not quickly adjust to new habits of thought and action, though he certainly did his simple best to modify his old ways. He meant well. Once he was attacked by four desperadoes, whom he promptly overpowered and tied together.

The Country Parson

"I don't think we ought to beg God to save us in times of danger without thanking Him for the times there is no danger."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Man Stays on Strict Diet; That Is, Except for Beer!

"Husband drinks 16 to 18 quarts of beer per week. He has high blood pressure and is on high protein diet. He gave up everything the doctor told him to, except beer. I say it can lead to alcoholism even if he drinks no whisky. He says that's ridiculous. (Mrs. G. K.)

DR. BRADY

Answer — Alcohol content of 4½ gallons of beer would be equivalent to that of 1½ quarts of whiskey.

"My wife has varicose veins. I have persuaded her to put off operation until she shall have given your treatment a good fair try. (B.L.J.)"

Answer — For pamphlet Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer — The boy needs to play more in the sun with nothing but sandals and shorts on. He needs to consume more milk —not less than 1½ pints daily. Supplement his diet with one or two calcium tablets. These furnish extra calcium and vitamin D. "Growing pains" are usually the manifestation of tetany. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet.

"Wonder if you still have a pamphlet on Deafness and Head Noises . . . (E.D.)"

Answer — Yes, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy.

"My husband on your recommendation had Dr. —— give him the ambulant treatment for hernia, with complete success and we are grateful for your advice and for all your teachings . . . (Mrs. C.W.T.)"

★ ★ ★

Answer — Your husband is one of a great many patients of Dr —— who have been cured of hernia under his treatment. He is recognized as an authority on hernia — I don't know him personally but my files bulge with letters from patients he has cured with ambulant treatment.

"Fifteen years ago I began using your dandruff remedy. It controlled the trouble, but now I have lost the recipe . . . (H.W.S.)"

Answer — Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet The Hair and Scalp.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Doctors Change Outlook on Tonsils

Lorna has enlarged tonsils. Should she have them out? Well, her doctor is wisely adopting a "wait and see" policy. But Lorna's mother is the efficient sort who likes to get the bad news over with as soon as possible. Notice the changed outlook of doctors nowadays concerning enlarged tonsils.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

"But her tonsils are enlarged," her mother protested fearfully. "Our doctor says they may have to be removed.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, if that is so, then I wish he'd do it during vacation so Lorna will not miss any school.

"But he says to wait and see how she gets along. What do modern doctors think about tonsils?"

CONSERVATIVE MEDICINE

A generation ago, medics routinely removed tonsils, figuring they had no significant value to the human body, anyway.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, we regarded them as much like the vermiform appendix, which has long been considered excess baggage, too.

But after children had undergone tonsillectomies, we then noticed an interesting fact. They became more susceptible to chest infections and pneumonia.

So we now regard the tonsils with far more respect. Apparently, they are the front line of defense against the many types of germs and viruses that invade the mouth.

If a child thus has tonsils, his infections may be confined to a case of tonsillitis.

But if his tonsils are removed, he may develop chest infections.

★ ★ ★

LARGE TONSILS?

Well, that is rather typical of children. As they grow into adulthood, the tonsils tend to shrivel and shrink.

If, however, the frequency of tonsillitis causes a child to miss too much school, and if his ears are often involved so that it looks as if he might suffer some damage to his hearing, then we recommend that tonsils be removed.

But an occasional bout with tonsillitis is seldom deemed sufficient reason to resort to surgery.

With or without your tonsils, you will probably suffer from one or two attacks of sore throat before the winter is over.

★ ★ ★

That seems to be a natural reaction. And it isn't due to our modern civilized existence, for the Indians likewise had head colds and "flu" and pneumonia, too.

Indeed, when I was visiting in Florida in 1925, I inspected a group of the Seminole Indians in their camp.

The chief had a young son about 18 months of age at that time. And this boy's nose was running because of a cold, just as badly as that of any youngster in the North.

So the virus that causes nose and throat infections still laughs at modern vitamins and good foods and all of our other medical advances.

But we are growing more chary about performing surgery of all kinds. Except in acute cases like a bad appendix, we weigh the pros and cons very carefully.

★ ★ ★

And when tonsillectomies are indicated, we are careful about performing them during the height of the polio season.

For the throat is the "receptionist" to most of the bacteria that invade the human body.

And a tonsillectomy seems to leave the door open to invasion by polio if an epidemic is present at that very moment.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Drag Strip Racing Question

Prompts Various Comments

In the Wednesday issue of the Press appeared two objections to the proposed set up of a drag strip. Both Chief Straley and Judge Moore stated that racing on a drag strip is dangerous. If either of them would have investigated further they would have found that even though the first drag strip was set up five years ago, only one fatality has ever occurred as a result. This includes the entire United States.

Before an auto can be entered in a drag, its brakes and suspension must be checked out as reliable. The race lasts only ¼ of a mile, seldom are speeds of 100 miles an hour reached. The strip is wide enough to allow ample room for any emergency.

Judge Moore states that only a fraction of one per cent of the kids that drive cars want to race them. To realize how wrong he is he would have to ask many teenagers. I doubt very much if he has.

Richard A. Hirneisen

These officials that frown upon the idea of a drag strip in the Pontiac area have no right to do so. The New Baltimore strip has set a shining example of an organization that has promoted the clean sport of drag racing.

I think before these officials condemn the idea of a drag strip they should visit the New Baltimore strip and make an investigation. I am sure they will be impressed with the way it has affected the teenagers who participate in the races.

A Racing Fan

"I approve of boys working as motor mechanics and then tearing down and testing their car on specified proving grounds," said Police Chief Straley in objecting to the erection of an area drag strip.

As a wife of a young mechanic I would like to know where are these "specified proving grounds"? If there are none, shouldn't one be available in such an automobile-conscious community?

Isn't a drag strip a place to check performances of cars? Essentially, a very simple proving ground?

Perhaps 'Citizen' Ran a Red Light

I am an employe at the Baldwin Rubber Plant. It seems quite obvious to me that if anyone sat around or stood around hour after hour, they would soon lose his job.

What does this 'Citizen of Pontiac' do that she has enough spare time to sit outside the plant hour after hour to see if the men work.

To my knowledge most of that whistling is done when a motorist runs the red light.

Offers Them Advice on Mixed Marriage

Regarding marriages of mixed religious faiths, my experience has been so bitter in this type of marriage, I believe that I can offer some advice. Years ago, I fell in love with a Catholic girl. I am Protestant. She refused to marry me in a Protestant church.

Being a man in love, I went along with her to see her priest. He urged us not to marry unless we both belonged to the same church. We remained stubborn and ended up being married by the priest in his office.

Since then we have had a number of children and I have been forced to see them attend masses and other Catholic activities. This has caused an aura of strife in our home which has been very bad for all of us. The worst part is that we don't worship God together, nor even in a similar manner.

My sincere advice to this young couple is to either get together on one church or just break up—completely. Otherwise the future is going to be one of heartbreak for them and their children.

U.S. Pay Boost Faces Trouble

Behind Scenes Tussle in Senate Threatens Bills Opposed by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—An under-the-surface tussle is going on in the Senate over two bills to raise salaries of federal employes 850 million dollars a year.

Senate leaders were reported ready today to call both bills up for a floor vote, probably early next week. The House has passed both by overwhelming margins.

However, Republican leaders have made it plain they expect President Eisenhower to veto the two bills. It seems likely the Senate, at least, would sustain vetoes if Congress still is around to act on them.

The more likely outcome is that the session will end shortly after the measures go to the White House and Eisenhower can pocket them. He took this course with federal pay legislation in 1954.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced 10 days ago the Democratic policy committee had cleared the two House pay bills for floor action. But so far they have not been called up for a vote, despite frequent reports that the time had come.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of federal employe unions have pushed hard for quick action. They have been aided by some senators.

Other senators, including some influential Democrats, are understood to have argued against any action this year.

Those opposing action contend the pay raises would be inflationary, would have repercussions throughout the economy, would touch off further demands for military pay raises, would endanger the small federal budget surplus, and would make a tax cut next year impossible.

One bill would give the half million postal employes a $546 annual raise each, at a total cost of about 317 million dollars a year. This averages about 12 per cent.

The other would give the one million classified civil service workers, including legislative and judicial employes, an 11 per cent boost at an annual cost of about 532 million dollars.

The last federal pay raise was in 1955, when the 1½ million employes received increases of about 7½ per cent.

Confession Trial Grist for Soviet Morals Mills

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio told the Russian people today the Confidential magazine libel trial is an excellent example of morals in the United States.

The commentator—as do most Russians—pronounced the name of the U.S. movie capital "Gollyvud."

In its first comment on the case, the radio mouthpiece of the Soviet Union began by describing Confidential to its millions of home listeners.

"Its staff," said a commentator, "consists of ex-policemen and former private detectives whose duty it is to peep through key holes of Hollywood bedrooms and report on the private lives of the screen's famous stars."

★ ★ ★

"Gollyvud, apparently is not disturbed by this scandal," said the Muscovite commentator, "for its interest lies in profit making and it has always considered that publicity encourages profits."

"Great numbers of journalists and television reporters are reporting every word of the case," the broadcaster continued.

GE Gets Navy Contract for Missile Launching

WASHINGTON (INS) The Navy has announced the award of a five million dollar contract to General Electric Company for development of handling and launching systems for the Talos long-range surface-to-air guided missile.

The work will be done at the firm's Pittsfield, Mass. plant, and the system installed on the nuclear-powered cruiser Long Beach.

Teenage Terrorists, Wet Behind Ears, Called as Deadly as Ferocious Beasts

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA) — The profile of the terror which grips this city is the picture of a boy in his teens, still in high school, still wet behind the ears — and as deadly as a panther.

★ ★ ★

He may be a member of any of the city's 500 youth gangs, or he may be a loner — on the prowl for trouble with one or two companions. He is white or black, Catholic, Protestant, Jew. He comes from any neighborhood, from a good home or a broken home or a large or small family.

TOOLS OF TERROR

His tools of terror are his strength and speed, his bare hands, a TV antenna that swings like a whip and cuts like a knife, a belt with a heavy buckle, a broomstick, baseball bat, knife, or razor blade carried in a stick or in the tip of his shoe.

And as I write this, he is standing defiant of New York's 23,000 police and laughing in the face of the city's 100-odd agencies which help young people grow to good citizenship.

Tonight his gang will try to take revenge on a rival gang for a real or imagined insult. Or, with several companions, he will attack an evening stroller — man, woman or child—and deal a slashing, beating, kicking, stabbing victory over the disarmed victim.

BATTER POLICE

If he is caught, this young thug will try to batter the police. If he is arrested, he stands a better than even chance of squirming out of paying any penalty.

The result is a huge city face to face with a deadly fear of less than three per cent of its young people.

And while the problem of teenage rebellion is not new here—or anywhere—the senseless savagery and brutal killing and maiming has increased beyond the city's ability to cope with it.

NO SIMPLE ANSWER

Administrative socal workers, professors of psychology and sociology and civic planners make it very clear that "this problem has no simple answer. We must look in other areas. There was an excellent paper on this presented at . . ."

Fastest action—in fact the only action — came from the police force. Beginning with the formation of a Youth Squad, police began to organize and correlate their information on the fighting gangs. Informants were on tap and specially schooled men turned their knowledge to power.

Recently, for example, a tip that a fight had been planned by two gangs, the Fordham Baldies and the Scorpions. Youth Squad men, dressed in sports clothes, played stoop ball or pedaled bicycles through the probable battle area. And when the gangs arrived, the police closed in and stopped the fight before it had a chance to start.

FIRE SHOTGUN

Meanwhile, at the other end of the city, a group of teenagers were firing a shotgun at two young men in a deadly and unprovoked attack.

The Police Commissioner has thrown 536 recruits with five weeks of training at the Police Academy into the city force. But as one seasoned cop said:

"It's just a matter of time before one of the new boys shoots one of these young punks and then every cop in the city will be in for it."

TOUGH JOB

For the cop on the beat, teenage violence is a tough assignment. You hear the same story over and over from the city's uniformed force: If you bring the little hoods in, some smart lawyer gets a minister or protective agency to back him up. If you had to use any force in subduing the kid, you can get in real trouble because the law's against you. And if you make the charge stick, the kid and his gang will promise to get you.

"Besides," one cop said, "when you're in uniform, you're fair game. I'm not ashamed to admit they've got me scared."

While it is almost impossible to gain organized cooperation of parents of the city's youth, law enforcement agencies have been able to work closely with high school administrators.

Conferences are held with guidance officers, Youth Squad men, detectives, group workers. Police methods and problems are exchanged with teaching methods and problems. Case histories and psychiatric reports are compiled on known and suspected youthful offenders.

"But," said one administrative officer in a tough school, "to get the people in authority at the Board of Education to do anything about it is another story. Nobody wants to stick his neck out. And so our criminal young stay in school."

While it is generally agreed that extra police will help put the lid on the tureen of terror, it is also generally agreed that something else is necessary. There are about as many plans as there are people.

There has been a proposed curfew for all young people. There is talk of using Civil Defense personnel to patrol streets. Or, give the police more nightsticks; give teachers back their birch switches; break up the gangs; give second offenders stiff sentences.

On they go. And for every plan there is a serious drawback.

One of New York's most successful criminal lawyers, who has successfully defended scores of young hoodlums against charges of all kinds of violence and sadism, requested that his name be withheld before he said:

"They can't afford to break up the gangs because then they'd never get any reliable information. They can't police every teenager in the city. And they can't afford to give second offenders stiff sentences.

★ ★ ★

"Have you ever seen the jails and reformatories?"

And he threw his head back and laughed.

1,200 Hit Air in Big Jump

U.S. Exercise at Munich Also Parachutes Tons of Heavy Equipment

MUNICH (AP)—A spectacular parachute delivery of American soldiers and heavy equipment—the largest such operation in Europe since World War II—rolled off with clock-like precision yesterday.

Brig. Gen. David W. Gray, deputy commander of the 11th Airborne Division, and Col. Edward Postlethwait, commander of the 503rd Airborne Battle Group which did the jumping, pronounced it a satisfactory operation.

Col. George McCafferty of Worcester, Mass., operations officer for the 317th Troop Carrier Wing at Evreux, France, noted that a brisk wind carried many of the men into timber adjoining the drop zone.

★ ★ ★

"We weren't so good an' we gotta get better," McCafferty said at a postmission critique.

To nonprofessional observers on the ground, including several thousand fascinated Germans, the fliers and paratroops looked good indeed.

So restricted in size was the drop area that one cargo drop sent spectators scattering madly.

Half an hour before the landings a control plane dropped an Air Force combat control team headed by Capt. Richard Thompson of Brooklyn, N.Y. the team marked the drop zone with panels and colored smoke.

It requires from 4 to 10 locomotives to tow and guide a ship through the Panama Canal.

Reflections

"I'LL HELP!"

J. L. VOORHEES

Dr. Robert A. Milligan stood before his graduating class. His white hair a snowdrift over kindly eyes. He looked out over the proud assembly of youth ready and willing to let the world beat a path to their door. They had worked hard, mastered their subjects, stood on the threshold of life; he wanted to give them some one thought they could take with them. No platitudes. They would not accept them. A smile crossed his lips as he began to speak:

"We have tried to fit you for life—" he began and talked from the deepest recess of his soul. As he came to the close of his speech he made this point: "What we have done is nothing to what you can do. Wherever you are, whatever you do, remember life is not material. From the dawn of civilization when conscience began to grow, responsibility came into being a part of life. Make this promise to yourself: I'LL HELP make a better world. 'I'll help' are the key words. Carry them with you. Remember them always.

Confident Living

God Plans It This Way, Yet Many Crawl Through

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It is my belief that the good Lord meant for us to live with vitality, energy and enthusiasm all our life long. What a pity then that so many go crawling through life on their hands and knees. And it isn't necessary either.

DR. PEALE

In a newspaper I saw an advertisement that gripped me. It pictured a man around forty or forty-five years of age sitting with head in hands, a picture of apathy and weariness. The caption over the picture read, "Have you that gray sickness, half asleep, half awake; half dead, half alive?" Since I have seen so many who seem to have this gray sickness, I determined to try to do something about it.

Having worked with people over a long period of time, I had discovered certain principles that had stimulated new vigor and added dynamic force to persons previously swamped and defeated by life, and principally by themselves.

These principles I simplified and arranged in book form that people who wanted a fuller measure of life could read and apply. To the book I gave the title, "Stay Alive All Your Life," and dedicated it to driving off the gray sickness that lies like smog over the spirits of so many.

The secret of being alive is, of course, to recondition the thoughts, for in our thinking is decided whether we have or do not have real vitality. This, of course, is not to say that physical and other causes do not affect vitality, for they do indeed.

But primarily the thoughts we think day by day, the basic and primary thought pattern we have developed over the years, determine the quality and type of life we live. Let your thoughts become bogged down with fear, antipathy, resentment, inferiority and in time an effectual dam is built up in the mind that blocks the flow of power, reducing it to a trickle when it should be at full flood.

PERSONALITY REQUIREMENTS

The personality, in effect, freezes and so much effort is required to meet the ordinary business of life that one feels tired and spent. And this, when actually we should work more and play more and have energy left over and to spare.

How do I know this is true? Simply because I have personally observed the process in many people. I have seen tired, discouraged, defeated people take hold of a few simple principles and work at them, and keep on working, and presently real vitalizing and energetic power came rushing through, forcing out the old barriers to effective living that had sealed up their personalities for so many unhappy years.

One of these persons is very well known to me, in fact, he is myself. Stepping off a plane at Nashville Airport recently, I was met by reporters, one of whom asked, "Why do you write the type of columns and books which you do?" I had never had the question put so directly before, and had to come up with a quick answer.

But upon reflection I would not change the answer, which was this, "As a boy I suffered from shyness and shrinking. I had the biggest inferiority complex in the state of Ohio, where I was reared. Fears and anxieties and other conflicts haunted me. Life was not very happy, and as I grew older it became increasingly hard.

"Then I began to search for an answer to my problem. Naturally I looked for it in a simple, vital religion. I read many interpretations of Christianity, and from many of them found thoughts and ideas which I put together into a system of techniques that finally released me from all those weights resting upon the spirit.

"Life became so fascinating, enthusiasm so great and living so joyous, that I just had to share my own experience with other people." That was my answer to the reporter's question. I am the most difficult person I ever worked with, and still have to do a day-to-day job on myself, but with God's help I did find some answers to how one can stay alive all his life.

NOT AS SUGGESTION

This column is not written to suggest that you read my new book. In fact, if you read this column regularly over a period of time you will get most of the formulas that are in the book. But what I am saying is that you do not need to be a frustrated, worn, energy-depleted person.

Get attached to the source of continuous energy and you will have more vitality than you possibly use. Then your enthusiasm will carry you forward as never before. Are you aware of the meaning of the word enthusiasm? It comes from two Greek words "En and Theos" meaning "full of God."

The Creator put Himself into us, but we let God go out of our lives, and our energy and force decline. When we get "full of God" it returns. Stay alive all your life.

Annual Sunrise Service at Michigan State Fair

More than 10,000 are expected to hear Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Methodist resident Bishop of the Los Angeles area, speak at the seventh annual Sunrise Service to be held Sunday, Sept. 1 at 8 a.m. at the Michigan State Fair, in the Music Shell.

★ ★ ★

The service is held in co-operation with the Detroit Council of Churches and annually draws thousands to the early morning worship services with Detroit area ministers of many denominations participating.

Admission to the State Fair Grounds will be free for those arriving by 8 a.m. for the worship.

Presiding will be Dr. Samuel C. Weir, pastor of Dearborn's Littlefield Presbytegian Church who is president of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Following greetings from Rev. William Sperry, of the Christ Episcopal Church, the invocation will be read by Dr. Frank P. Madsen, of Detroit, president of the Michigan Synod of United Lutheran Churches.

Brigadier Clyde Cox, Division Commander of the Salvation Army, will have the honor of introducing Bishop Kennedy.

The soloist will be Lucia Turcano. Other musical numbers will include singing by the choir from New Calvary Baptist Church under the direction of Mrs. Grace Wailes. The choir will present "Praise the Lord," and "Bless the Lord, O My Soul."

As in past years, a concert by the Detroit Police band, directed by Lt. Frederick Mitman, will precede the actual services. The band program will start at 7:30 a.m.

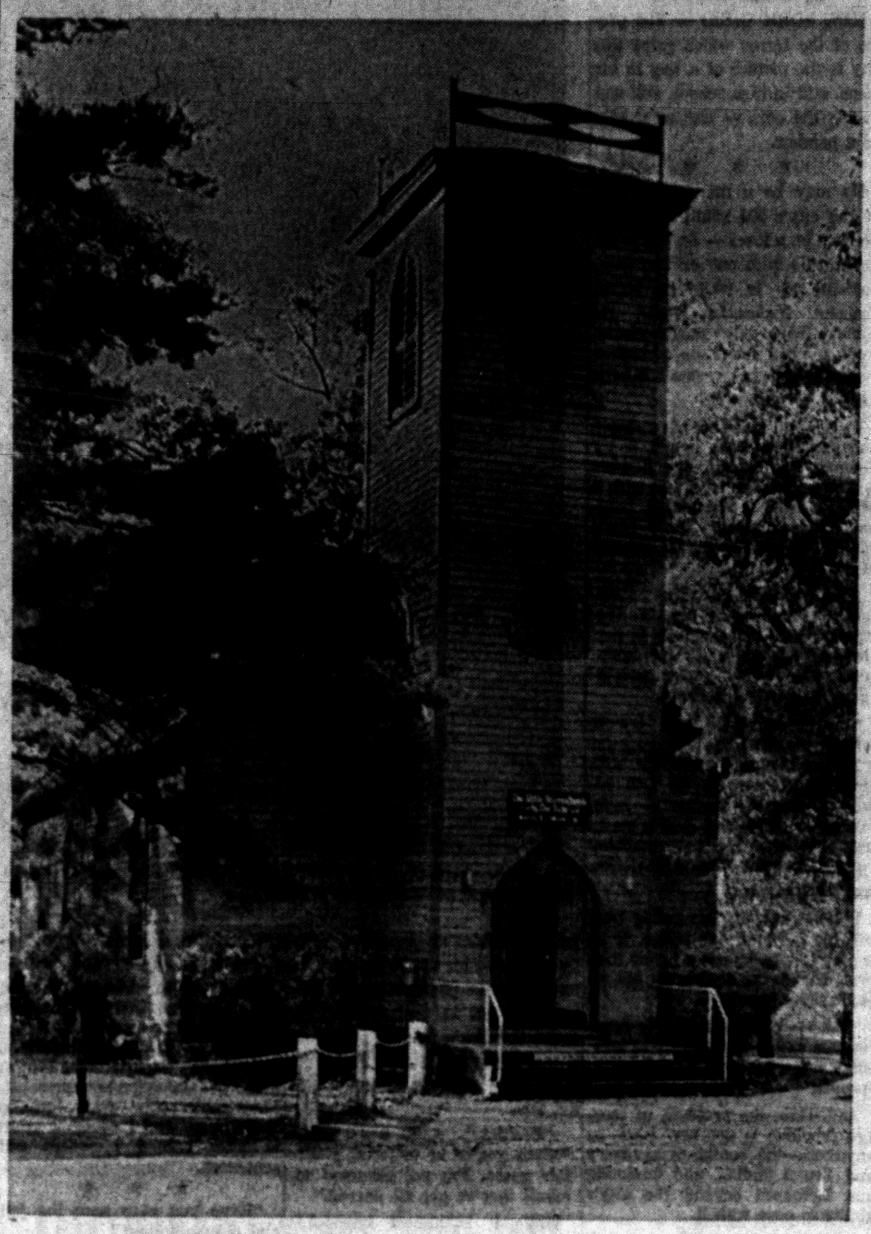

★ ★ ★

Leading the hymns and supervising the entire musical program will be Dr. Nellie Huger Ebersole, director of music, radio and television for the Detroit Council of Churches.

Macomb, Lapeer, Oakland County Youth Hold Rally

The first rally of the young people from Macomb, Oakland and Lapeer Counties will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Washington on Sept. 9.

The volunteer choir is asked to arrive at 6:45 p.m. Dr. Lehman of the Highland Park Baptist Church will be the evening speaker.

A quartet from Grosse Pointe is listed on the program as well as a trombone solo by Raymond H. Wilcox of Utica.

The group will be known as the Tri - County Voice of Christian Youth locally. It is a part of Youth for Christ, International.

Pontiac Pastor Set for Biennial

Sessions Are Scheduled in Cleveland Auditorium for National Convention

The Rev. Wesley C. Wibley, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, 210 North Perry street, will attend the national biennial business and election sessions of the Assemblies of God in Cleveland, Ohio Aug. 28-Sept. 3.

★ ★ ★

Representing the local congregation of the denomination in addition to the Rev. Mr. Wibley, will be Mrs. Wibley and Ollie Evans.

Sesions of the convention will be held in the Cleveland Public Auditorium. Daily meetings will be in the music hall and night evangelistic services will be conducted in the main arena.

Attendance at night services is expected to exceed 6,000.

The Rev. Ralph M. Riggs, Springfield, Mo., general superintendent of the Assemblies of God, will open the convention with an address Wednesday evening, Aug. 28.

★ ★ ★

Daily devotional and evening evangelistic services will continue throughout the convention. In addition, business elections and reports will be included in afternoon sessions.

Serves Sizable Parish; Perhaps It's Largest

NEW YORK (AP) — When it comes to serving a sizable parish, the Rev. Dr. Warren Ost may well have the world's largest. He's executive director of the National Council of Churches Christian Ministry in the National Parks.

Methodist Membership Doubles for Cuba

NASHVILLE (AP) — The Methodist Board of Evangelism has announced that membership in the Methodist Church in Cuba has more than doubled in the last seven years.

From 4,000 in 1950, it is now more than 9,000.

And the number of preaching places has grown too—more than tripled in fact—from 64 in 1950 to more than 200 today.

Wants School Memory Work

Church Leader States It Gives Tools to Work With in Education

EAST LANSING, (AP) — An authority on religious education advocates more memorization work in school.

Dr. Ernest M. Ligon, a Union College faculty member, this week told a character research workshop at Michigan State University that memorizing, although it sounds like mechanical learning, gives youth tools to work with in acquiring knowledge.

★ ★ ★

The Schnectady, N.Y. educator found little astonishing in the good performances on TV quiz programs. Nearly everyone could make a good showing if trained in memorization, he said.

Ligon related how he memorized the German language 20 years ago, and retained it in his mind.

He said his method was to review each newly gained fact on the third, eighth, 18th and 38th day, and that this fixed it permanently.

★ ★ ★

Ligon, asserting that a person is just what he knows, said that studies have shown personality is closely allied with knowledge and education.

10 Missionaries Deported From Dominican Republic

Ten American missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico from the Dominican Republic Aug. 3, W. P. Strong, presiding minister of the Pontiac congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced this week.

An ultimatiog to the Christian missionaries to renounce all association with the organization and cease communication with their Brooklyn, N.Y., office or leave the country was made last month by Maj. Gen. Arturo Espaillat, Minister of Security, whom the U.S. government has sought to question in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

Some of the missionaries have been in the country for 11 years.

According to official news sources of the Dominican Republic, proscription of the Christian activity of Jehovah's Witnesses was legalized by President Hector Trujillo on July 25.

The law carries penalties of from one to three months imprisonment with fines of from thirty to one hundred dollars. It was announced that over $1 million had been appropriated by the Dominican government to enforce the ban.

Mr. Strong said a full-scale campaign to restrict the religious freedom of the Witnesses has been underway since July 1. Kingdom Hall meeting places had been ordered closed and about 250 of Jehovah's Witnesses were brought in for questioning.

★ ★ ★

The Witnesses have been subjected to beatings and violence by police and prison guards in an effort to make them renounce all assocations with the movement, Mr. Strong stated. About 50 are now in prison, some with sentences to two years.

Emmanuel Baptists to Direct Program

Kenneth Orr of the Emmanuel Baptist Church will direct the singing at the Singspiration Sunday evening at 9:15 in the Grace Baptist Church, Lincoln at Edegwood streets, Birmingham.

Glen Farnham, also of Emmanuel Baptist, will be the pianist. Other Baptist churches of the area will participate in the program with the pastor, the Rev. Charles Whitfield presiding.

The public has been invited.

Needs Pastors and Teachers

Missouri Synod Parley Hears Plan to Recruit Additional Personnel

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The major problem confronting the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church is a critical lack of pastors and teachers, a synod official said here this week.

The Rev. W. F. Lichtsinn, third vice president of the Missouri Synod, said some 275 synod churches in the United States and Canada have vacant pulpits. Lichtsinn spoke during the convention here of the Synod's Michigan District.

The Rev. Mr. Lichtsinn said the shortage of teachers is even greater than the lack of pastors. There are 1,000 teachers needed in Lutheran parochial schools, he said.

The teaching emergency has been met somewhat by using church women, he said, while the pastor shortage has been solved temporarily by use of neighboring clergymen.

Meanwhile, the Missouri Synod has launched a recruitment program for the needed personnel. The program includes offers of scholarship, loans and gifts to help finance the education of worthy students.

Johnny Isn't Able to Read in Dark

If Johnny can't read, it may be because he's trying to do it in the dark.

An independent national study revealed that 85 per cent of the 1,200,000 schoolrooms in the nation fail to meet accepted minimum lighting standards.

The light children learn by during their first four years in school can determine their reading and learning habits for a lifetime.

If poor lighting makes those first lessons hard and unpleasant, the child is likely to retain this impression the rest of his life.

With nearly 200 new schoolrooms opening each day, parents should insist on proper lighting for their children.

For the best effect, school lighting should be of low brightness, well-louvered and shielded to protect eyes from direct glare. Reflector surfaces should be diffuse instead of polished.

Who so stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself but shall not be heard.

Wind, Sea, Spirit Drove Mayflower to Our Shores

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religious Writer

It was not just the wind and the sea—but a spirit—that brought the original Mayflower to American shores.

The propelling force behind the whole venture was a desire for religious liberty.

But that fundamental of the story has received little attention in the recent re-enactment of the historic voyage by the Mayflower II, which went on exhibition this week beside a Manhattan pier.

The current to-do about the journey, said the Rev. Dr. Albert D. Belden, of Southwark, London, has ignored its "profound religious significance."

He said that many of the "popular acclaimers" of the modern version of the voyage—designed to promote British-American unity—"would rather have been seen dead than supporting the Pilgrims of Mayflower I."

It so happens that the real Pilgrims were fed up with British rule and religious persecutions and in quest of a place where man could serve God by his own conscience.

Dr. Belden, who is minister of the Pilgrim Fathers Church in Southward where the seeds of the idea took root, said "Time has mellowed the differences and brought a wise toleration into the churches" on both sides of the sea.

He also commended the friendly objectives of the present Mayflower enterprise, but he added:

"Nevertheless, it was for an eternal principle of spiritual liberty that the Pilgrims suffered and achieved—a principle as valid and urgent today as ever."

It's particularly appropriate for the Fourth of July holidays, commemorating the founding of American democracy.

"From the religious movement of which it (the Mayflower) was the focus," Dr. Belden said, "all the liberties of modern democracy in the Old and New World have steadily emerged.

"It was the watershed of history and only by cherishing its vital principle can modern democracy endure."

Lutheran Convention in Ann Arbor This Week

The Rev. Ralph C. Claus, Richard Schwab and Paul F. Stohlman of St. Trinity Lutheran Church attended as delegates the 76th Convention of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod held this week in Ann Arbor.

An essay on "Christian Family Life" was presented by the Rev. Paul Hansen of Denver, Colo., and the Rev. R. C. Muhly of the state stewardship department, read the second essay on "The Venture of Faith."

Woman Tells of Sad Plight of Hungarian Teenagers

"Imagine 2,000 teenagers confined to limited quarters with nothing to do and you have an idea of a major problem facing refugee workers," a leading church woman declared on her recent return from Austria.

Reporting on a survey she made of conditions in refugee camps for Hungarians near Vienna, Mrs. Ella F. Harllee said that these young people are not going to school and cannot be employed in Austria. If they are under 18, she said, they cannot emigrate without their parents' consent and it is usually impossible to communicate with parents they left behind.

"In most of them the spirit of revolution still glows," she said, "and many who took part in the actual fighting are going to be hard to rehabilitate." Mrs. Harllee said she heartily agreed with a statement by one Austrian social worker she said: "In Hungary these young people who fought in the revolt were heroes but now, in their shabby, borrowed clothes, they are treated like juvenile delinquents."

Mrs. Harllee, who is chairman of the public relations committee of United Church Women, emphasized: "The Hungarian refugee problem as a whole is definitely not finished. With refugees not knowing where to turn, the situation is still critical."

★ ★ ★

Reporting on a visit to one camp she said: "Seventy people were crowded into temporary living quarters in what had been a church. It was a pathetic sight. They were nervous and bitter. With trembling hands and anxious eyes, they asked me if America was going to help them. They simply don't understand the delay," Mrs. Harllee concluded, "and if they are left there until winter there will be still more serious problems."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harllee also reported that through an emergency fund set up by United Church Women, $6,000 was sent to Austria to aid the Hungarian refugees. United Church Women is a general department of the National Council of Churches.

New Table Resists Ordinary Damages

Mothers no longer need fear the junior hobbyist will mar, scratch or stain her furniture. He can use the card table with a new, rugged top. This also turns every room into a study or workroom.

One company, for example, has a new burn, scratch and stain-proof top. A vinyl-bonded-to-steel process eliminates stains and diffuses heat caused by inflammable substances Fire burns itself dry and leaves no stain.

The Rev. Martin L. J. Bellinger, born in Cameron, Ga. comes to St. John Methodist Church by appointment of the Lexington Annual Conference, Central Jurisdiction, St. St. Louis Area held in Toledo, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Prior to his Pontiac pastorate, he served charges in Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and recently in Terre Haute, Ind. He has been a minister of the Methodist Church 37 years.

The Rev. Mr. Bellinger and his wife, Annie Mae, are the parents of nine children, seven of whom are living.

They include Martin L. J. Bellinger Jr., veteran of World War II and mortician in Fort Wayne, Ind.; Pearl Melvee who served three years as a missionary in India and is now studying in Brussels, Belgium; and William who is completing his college work this summer at Indiana State Teachers' College.

STUDIES IN SOUTH

The new pastor received his literary work at Bethune Cookman College, Daytona, Fla. He also studied at Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., and Indiana State Teachers' College.

His ministerial training was received through the four year Conference Course of study of the Methodist Church.

Under the direction of Linzie B. Bellinger, a brother of the pastor, the two choirs of the Institutional Baptist Church of Detroit, will present a musical program at 3:30 p.m. in the St. John Church.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Samuel Williams of the Detroit Church will speak. Following the program, a dinner will be served free of charge. The public has been invited.

Educational Excellence Key to Church Colleges

LAKE JUNALUSKA (AP)—The success of church-related colleges depends on their excellence as educational institutions, says Dr. Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation.

He told a conference of trustees of church colleges that the Christian role of these instutions is "best fulfilled by forward-looking educational management."

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

Potter Criticizes Pay Television

Says It Could Become 'Domestic Slot-Machine Operation'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Charles Potter (R-Mich) said yesterday pay television would be "a sort of domestic slot-machine operation" that might even find viewers paying to watch campaign speeches and political conventions.

In a speech perpared for the Senate, he opposed authorigation by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) of a proposed test period for subscription TV.

Potter said the sponsors of toll television "propose . . . to usurp some of the limited free time that is now available and supplant it by a sort of domestic slot machine operation which would require the people to pay for something they are now receiving without charge."

Some of the pay television plans proposed would require a viewer to deposit money in a coin device on his set to receive an unscrambled picture. Advocates of toll TV say pay programs would include championship sports events and first-run movies.

"I am opposed . . . to any utilization of these frequencies for some sort of fanciful trial run that could lead inevitably to a derogation of the public interest," Potter said.

DISMAL PROSPECT

The FCC has said it has the power to authorize such a test.

Potter said pay television might lead to political conventions and campaigns being watched only by those TV viewers who could afford to pay.

"The prospect of requiring a citizen to drop money in a slot in order to see and get to know candidates for public office is a dismal one indeed," he added.

Potter said the American TV viewer has spent 15 billion dollars for television sets "on the assumption that he was buying an instrument over which he would receive free programs without further assessment other than that required for the maintenance of the set.

"He had every right to that assumption because it was this Congress which enacted legislation based upon the historic premise that broad-casting would be free and that we would not pursue systems employed in many other nations throughout the world that provide for the regular collection of taxes for the privilege of using the set."

Deducts Divorce Costs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The cost of getting rid of your wife can be tax deductible, the U.S. Sixth District Court of Appeals has ruled. The Court said F. C. Bowers of Battle Creek, Mich., was entitled to write off $45,000 in lawyers fees acquired during his recent divorce litigation because the money was spent "for the protection and conservation of Bowers' property."

Society Has Responsibility to Help Aged

(Ray Henry has asked a group of specialists of the Public Health Service, the government's chief health agency, to tell some of the things being done to keep people healthy and happy when they get old. This is the fourth of a series.)

By DR. SEYMOUR PERLIN
Chief, Section of Psychiatry
Laboratory of Clinical Science
National Institute of Mental Health

Many different emotional hurts or physical losses precede the depression which so often comes with advanced age.

Some of these are:

—The sense of loss of a productive role in society.

Why do some of the elderly seem to take them in stride, while others fall into seriously depressed states?

Some of the answers are being sought by research psychiatrists of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Psychiatric interviews, correlated with reports of physical, psychological and sociological states of a group of normal elderly subjects, have indicated the following trends:

MARRIED ADJUST BETTER

In general, aged people who are married tend to be less depressed by the aging process than those who have never married.

The completeness of the family is important, but the ability of the remaining members of the family to meet the needs of the aged individual must also be considered.

On the one hand, the demands of the older person may be excessive. On the other, the family may be unwilling or unable to recognize the special needs of the older person.

Each person's reaction to aging is largely determined by the psychological structure, the strengths and weaknesses, which have been built up through childhood, youth and maturity.

Curiously, however, though they determine the way a person ages, the strengths of earlier years are not necessarily strengths in age.

FILLS THE LONG HOURS

The best example of reversal is the man who has always been compulsively neat and precise. This almost pathological preoccupation with the trivial details of living is not generally considered a normal or particularly healthy adjustment to life.

Yet, this very weakness serves to keep the man active and busy when he gets old. He happily fills the long hours of age with a thousand jobs of necessary (to him) fixing, cleaning and straightening.

On the other hand, the aged man who formerly had broader and more mature interests frequently finds it difficult to spend the day in what he considers to be pointless puttering. He is the more likely of the two to become depressed.

Older people will resort to almost any form of activity to avoid the boredom and depression that so often accompany age. Society has a duty to provide opportunities for activities which will give our older citizens a greater sense of productivity, usefulness and participation in the important things of life.

The provision of such activities would mean, for many, the difference between a severely depressed and a relatively busy and happy old age.

Lansing, State to Ask Time Out in Hassle

LANSING (AP) — Lansing and State Highway Department officials say they will seek more time to settle their differences over the operation of traffic on U.S. 16 and M78 through Lansing.

The city wants two-way traffic on both streets and the state is holding out for one-way operation.

A state request for an injunction to forbid the city from interfering with its plans for the highways was scheduled for an Ingham County Circuit Court hearing Monday.

Joseph F. Lavey, city attorney, said that both he and state legal aides will ask Judge Marvin J. Salmon to adjourn the court hearing indefinitely to give both sides time to settle the matter out of court.

If at First You Don't Succeed . . .

LE HAVRE (INS) — Jean Baptiste Guerraz, that ardent 48-year-old Frenchman politely booted out of Britain last week after trying to propose marriage to Princess Margaret, today was found living in a Salvation Army Hostel in Le Havre.

"As soon as I am able to see the Queen Mother," he told Agence France Presse, "I am sure she will grant me the hand in marriage of her daughter."

Guerraz, who says he is a hotel manager by trade and who comes from the Savoie region, is divorced and has a 15-year-old son.

"I have been meditating about this matter for 10 years now," he said, "and I have collected many photographs and press cuttings.

AHEAD OF PETER

"I am sure of myself and my sentiments for Princess Margaret, and I was in the running much before the other fellow—you know the one I mean. (Capt. Peter Townsend).

"When I went to Balmoral Castle, the Queen Mother was at Castlemere but I did not have enough money to go there."

Detectives guarding Balmoral were stunned when the Frenchman showed up and asked to see Queen Mother Elizabeth. Told that he couldn't, he said:

"Isn't it a custom in Britain to see the girl's father or mother before asking her to marry you?"

Today Guerraz told how he was arrested, questioned, given food, and even taken to the movies by amused Scottish detectives before being put aboard the Normania at Southampton for Le Havre.

★ ★ ★

He returned to Le Havre last Saturday and said he now is looking for a job to accumulate sufficient money to go back to England.

Editors Confused After Paris Fashion Circus

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The fall fashion circus is over in Paris. The buyers are back home. And the editors are just as confused as the public.

★ ★ ★

It happens every spring and fall, when Americans rush to Paris by the thousands, to be on hand for the opening gun signaling the start of another fashion furore.

★ ★ ★

Papers headline advance reports of knee-high skirts, or disappearing waistlines or the banning of bosoms. It all makes good reading and better conversation.

Then, when the tumult and shouting have died down, members of the haute couture say they didn't really mean to eliminate the bosom or lift skirts above the knees.

American buyers bring back the Paris models they have bought, turn them over to designers for "inspirational ideas" — and when the new trends reach the U. S. public they have turned into wearable, discreet, strictly American clothes.

Nobody expects the more bizarre Paris styles to be reproduced exactly for the American public. And if the average customer doesn't take all the uproar too seriously no harm has been done.

This fall's Paris styles have been described variously as "gunnysacks with diamonds," "glorified barrels" and "shapeless bags."

Mrs. James Grau of Williams Lake is shown as she stopped on the deck of the S.S. Ryndum just before she set sail from New York Harbor for Southampton, England to join her naval husband. They will tour Europe together for two months.

They're Practical

If you concentrate on choosing "miracle" fabrics for the kids, you can suds everything from tough outdoor playwear, through fleecy winter coats, to confectionery party clothes—with either no ironing, or the barest minimum of pressing.

Bolero, Capelet Can Transform Summer Dress

If you like to sew, it's none to soon for ideas to give a fall touch to your summer things for instance, little bolero jackets made of washable nylon velvet. Choose a bright or a dark color, and start wearing this kind of accessory over your summer dresses right now.

Capelet collars, made of any washable material you fancy, are also effective for fall. Scarfs are practically indispensible, and dark prints or polka dots are always good.

Satin touches are a smart early fall fashion. Just be sure you get the kind of satin yardage that sudses safely, and you won't regret the stitches and time you put into your accessories.

Learning Ability Doesn't Stop With Middle-Age

Women have proved that it is possible to keep on learning and being useful from middle-age on, according to an expert.

Dr. Wilma Donahue of the Institute of Human Adjustment at University of Michigan told a family life conference recently that women have "punctured the misconception that a person's ability to learn stops the minute children leave home to be on their own."

Dr. Donahue, addressing a meeting at Iowa State College, asserted:

"The mental capacities of older people can be just as receptive as in younger years —if properly stimulated by a desire to keep on learning . . ."

She cited industry findings on middle-aged women who have reentered the business world. She said:

"Not only have the women found that they can quickly pick up long unused skills, but they make fewer mistakes, are highly conscientious about their work and highly efficient."

So Choose Position That Fits Your Interests

'Best Job' Is One You Truly Enjoy

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Every time I see a list of the ten best fields for men, or the ten best fields for women, I shudder. It ought to be perfectly obvious that it all depends on the man or woman.

It's like listing the ten most delicious dishes, or the ten most becoming colors — delicious to whom, becoming to whom?

The secretarial field, for example, is always recommended as the best field for a woman. It will enable her to get a toe on a rung of the ladder to success, or it will enable her to meet and marry an eligible man.

DEPENDS ON INTEREST

Well, it may indeed, if secretarial work is along the lines of her aptitudes and interests.

But if she loves to sell, or is a born nurse, or is dying to be a librarian, secretarial work will give her no opportunity for success in a career or marriage.

It will make her nervous, unhappy, bitter and frantic — four qualities calculated to keep you from success and to make eligible men run a mile!

★ ★ ★

You'd go a long way before you'd find a more loyal defender of shorthand and typing generally than I am. I have them, myself, and I know how valuable they can be.

NOT FOR EVERYONE

But they are not everybody's dish of tea. The sooner we recognize that, the better.

★ ★ ★

This outburst — I guess you you could call it that — is prompted by a letter I received from a mother whose daughter graduated from high school last June. Instead of going to business college as Mommy wished, the young girl went right into a sales job in a department store.

★ ★ ★

"She claims it's what she wants and she's taking night courses in the university in retail sales and advertising," the mother wrote. "But life in that field is such a rat race. She could find so much dignity and satisfaction in a secretarial job.

"Why, I was secretary to the president of a large organization . . ."

THERE'S THE RUB

There, of course, is the rub. Mommy did it, so daughter must.

The answer to this mother is to get started, right now, on a part-time secretarial job herself. With her children gone, she's got time on her hands. It will be time spent living the children's lives if she isn't careful.

But if she'll brush up her shorthand and typing, and get a part-time job, she'll be glad to let them live their own lives!

For advice on getting a part-time job, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of this newspaper.

MRS. JOHN C. IUPPENLATZ

Married today were Yvonne Evelyn Cousins and John Clelland Iuppenlatz. The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Cousins and the C. C. Iuppenlatzes are the bridegroom's parents.

Yvonne Evelyn Cousins Weds John Iuppenlatz

White gladioli banked the Church at 4 p.m. today for the marriage of Yvonne Evelyn Cousins and John Clelland Iuppenlatz. The Rev. Lewis W. Towler performed the ceremoney before 200 guests.

★ ★ ★

A fingertip veil of illusion fell from a cap of seed pearls, rhinestones and silver beads on a satin background. She carried a cascade bouquet of snowdrift mums and ivy.

Joyce Ann Griffith of Battle Creek was the honor attendant and Janet Evans of Sylvan Lake and Mrs. William Wilson of Ann Arbor were the attendants. They were gowned alike in powder blue chiffon dresses having cowl necklines with floating streamers in back.

CASCADE BOUQUETS

A brother of the bridegroom, Frederick W. Iuppenlatz of Birmingham, was the best man. John Ballantyne of Bloomfield Hills and Harold Jack Berow of Birmingham seated the guests.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Cousins of Barrington road, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Iuppenlatz of Birmingham.

Before leaving for Quebec, Canada, the new Mrs. Iuppenlatz will change to a red wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of snowdrift crysanthemums from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Iuppenlatz is a graduate of the U of M where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority and the bridegroom attended Wabash College where he was affiliated with Kappa Sigma Fraternity, and was graduated from Wayne State University.

Pack Secret Ingredient Into Broadway Musical

By JOAN HANAUER

That confidential combination of letters and numbers stands for Peter Ustinov, 36-year-old "boy wonder" of the British theatrical world who stars in his own play opening Oct. 10.

The playwright, actor and sometimes — but not now — director, described his work by saying:

★ ★ ★

"It's a very free varient on 'Romeo and Juliet.' There's really no connection. I've turned the Montagues and Capulets into two embassies — Russian and American — as the nearest parallel to such intractible families.

NEUTRAL GROUND

"These embassies are located in a very small neutral country which gets very nervous if the expression on either ambassador's face changes. I play the president of the tiny republic.

"It could end tragically but of course it doesn't since it's a comedy. You might say it is a love story interrupted by what I hope is a comic invention."

★ ★ ★

Ustinov has always loved the theatre. His first recollection was when, as an adolescent, he was kept after school for having written a play instead of doing his Latin. Since his detention was unsupervised, he just worked on the play some more.

His career took on a more professional aspect in 1939-40, when he worked as a vaudeville - revue performer. Then came the army, where Ustinov said you "Play a part the whole time, but it is difficult to act as a profession."

"I managed to write one or two plays while watching a foreign coast," he added. After a year he was transferred from the infantry to SHAEF where Pvt. Ustinov worked with Capt. Garson Kanin, Pvt. Paddy Chayefsky, and Capt. Carol Reed in what he termed a "Lunatic Unit."

Ustinov's first play, "House of Regrets," opened in 1942.

CRITICAL SUCCESS

"It was a wonderful critical success," he recalled, "But only a qualified success with audiences. There were those bombs to contend with and the play might be interrupted at any moment. The public didn't always want to come out in the evening."

★ ★ ★

Ustinov said this variety of work isn't a strain, except when it came to "The Love of Four Colonels." He commented:

ENDED AS ZOMBIE

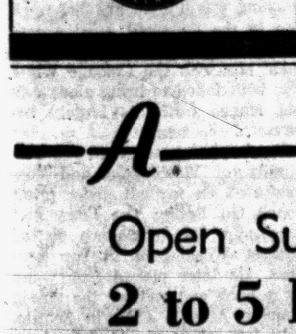

"It took two years and I ended that as a zombie. One has to be very old and distinguished in order to do nothing but write plays. I like acting up to a point — as long as it's not soomething mammoth like those 88 plus performances. If I'm acting in my own play and find a line hard to remember I analyze the reason."

★ ★ ★

Hate to Exercise?—Dance Instead

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

From the drum beats of primitive people through the days of the nostalgic waltzes, the rumba, the samba, the mamba, on to present day calypso and rock and roll — people have been swayed by music and have swayed to it. This response to rhythm and melody is a natural part of our makeup.

Why not dance as a form of exercise? Once the family leaves for the day lock the doors and begin. Listen to your radio or put some records on your record player or hi-fi and interpret the music in motion.

You can make up your own steps and bend and sway and swing your legs and twirl without the least self-consciousness.

This is excellent exercise and is especially beneficial because it provides stimulation for the spirit and emotions as well as for the body.

Circulation is speeded up, respiration increases and your muscles get a workout, but it doesn't seem like work. The music soothes your spirit and it banishes worries from your mind.

Once the family leaves for the day lock the doors and begin to dance. This may not be as silly as it sounds and looks, for dancing is a good form of exercise.

It's a shame that so many middle-aged men and women drop the habit of dancing. Many couples who loved to dance in the past simply have given up this pleasant activity. Somehow they didn't go in for much social life after the first child arrived. They were tired at night and there was the question of a baby sitter. They just dropped the habit.

Why not renew your interest in dancing with a few dancing dates? It would add to your enjoyment if you would take a few lessons in order to learn a few newer steps. However, if your interest is not great enough for that, the old fox trot and waltz still are good.

There is truly something extremely stimulating and yet soothing about dancing. Try it out as a figure molder and zest builder.

Tell Friend Dutch Treat Is Intended

Best Way to Handle Problem of Payment for Lunch

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I called a friend at her office and asked if she would like to lunch with me. I did not mean as my guest. However, she apparently thought I did as she made no attempt to pay her share of the check, and so I paid it.

"I hadn't counted on this and it left me short for the rest of the week. Would it have been permissible to ask her to pay her share of the check? As I don't want this to happen again, will you please tell me how to avoid this situation?"

Answer: To avoid future misunderstandings I suggest that when you ask someone to lunch with you you say "Let's lunch together" and add "Dutch treat" so that she will know you are to share the check.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How does a hostess enter the dining room when she is giving a lunch party or a dinner? Does she enter first so that she can tell her guests where to sit?

Answer: When there are place cards on her table she always enters the room last. At a formal dinner her husband goes first with the guest of honor. The other guests go in as they happen to come, and she herself goes last.

When there are no place cards, at luncheon, for example, she customarily slips into the dining room not first but among the first and while slowly going toward her place, tells the different ones where to sit. She remains standing at her place until all are seated.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I live in a hotel as a permanent guest. Would you say that I might tip those who wait on me, such as the doorman, elevator men, the maid who does my rooms, etc., less than every month when I pay my bill?"

Answer: A permanent guest in a hotel is the same as in an apartment house and no apartment house occupant feels obligated to make the rounds once a month. A tip at Christmas and when you leave for your vacation (if you do) and a tip perhaps for an especial service by someone, is proper.

Latex Paint Durable

Latex - painted walls will safely "take" repeated sudsy scrubbing. That means you can either wash away spots with a well-lathered sponge, or can "wet wash" the entire wall surface with warm soap or detergent suds.

Many Mysteries Hidden in Newspaper Want Ads

It's Fun to Read 'For Sale' Columns and Speculate on Item's Untold Story

By RUTH MILLETT

Ever read that want ad section of your paper, not just when you are looking for a bargain, but for the fun of wondering what's the real story behind the ads?

Here's a man who wants to sell his fishing equipment, right down to the tackle box. How does it happen that a fisherman is willing to part with his favorite rods, his lucky lures, his chance to someday catch one worth mounting?

Could it be he finally made that long, long trip to a faraway fisherman's paradise and found when he got there that it was the same old story: "They were biting last week"?

Or did his wife get tired of being a fishing widow and finally put her foot down?

Here's a two-year-old piano for sale, "like new." But that one's easy. That is just how long it takes a hopeful mama to admit that sis doesn't have any musical talent after all — just as pop claimed when he was forced to buy a piano and start paying for twice-a-week music lessons.

CRAZE FADES?

How about all those home power tools for sale; electric saws, sanders, drill presses, etc.? It looks as though the do-it-yourself craze has slowed down a little, judging from all the "little used" power tools for sale.

And what about all those used attic fans? Must be a lot of housewives are claiming they are fed up with cooking over a hot stove all summer and either papa puts in air conditioning or the family starts eating dinner out.

And that partly used series of ballroom dancing lessons being offered for sale by a "college student." What happened to make the young man quit his lessons? Did he feel it was hopeless? Or did he find a girl enterprising enough to say, "I'll teach you to dance"?

★ ★ ★

The fun of reading want ads is that you can make up your own stories as you go along.

Wash It First

Fabric must be scrupulously clean before tinting. Launder with plenty of soap or detergent suds and rinses before immersing any article in a dye bath.

Fine Dinnerware Made of Plastic

Made of translucent plastic, the new dinnerware is delicate enough to grace a formal table. It also takes tough treatment from a youngster's hands and comes out of the dishwater like new. The dishes are in a new larger size.

One design in turquoise has tiny birds in white trees; another duplicates the scene with a pink background.

Styled with thin edges and slim handles, the plastic ware is guaranteed not to break or chip. Starter sets with 16 pieces retail at $18.95 and come in a "carry home" carton.

No Need to Sterilize

Glass jars need not be sterilized when the boiling water bath or pressure-canner method is used. However, the jars and lids should be thoroughly clean. To prevent breakage, the jars should be hot when filling them with hot food.

Layne Passes Lions to 34-27 Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

TOLEDO — Veteran quarterback Bobby Layne of the Lions might be able to give Detroit Tiger pitchers a lesson in throwing control.

Using eight different pass receivers, the blond signal caller hit his target 17 out of 24 attempts for 260 yards to lead the Detroit Lions to a 34-27 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in Toledo's Glass Bowl last night.

Altogether, with Layne, Tobin Rote and Jack Kemp hitting the airlanes, the Lions piled up a total of 321 yards passing with 21 completions of 35 attempts.

Ironically it was another ex-quarterback, Jerry Reichow, now playing end, who put on a spectacular display of pass catching by hauling in four aerials for 102 yards and two touchdowns.

By the alternating plan in using the two veteran quarterbacks, coach George Wilson started Rote in the game. The former Packer had difficulties in pin-pointing his receivers by over shooting his passes.

Layne entered the game early in the second quarter and called the plays most of the way except for a short stint by rookie Jack Kemp, who also did the punting for the night as Yale Lary was out with injuries.

Early in the second stanza, Layne knotted the count 3-3 with a 20-yarder, after the Lions moved from their own 36. The big gain was Hopalong Cassady's 27 yard dash.

Dave Middleton, who flew in for the game from Tennessee where he is completing medical school, entered the game midway in the second period and grabbed two passes for 19 and 27 yards from Layne to set up the first TD. Gene Gedman, back in uniform after a back injury, bulled over from the three and Layne added the point to make 10-3.

The Eagles then roared back with rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of Duke and ex-Oklahoma ace Tommy McDonald teaming up for the tally. Jurgensen hit McDonald with a 37 yard pass and climaxed a 71 yard drive with a 27 yard scoring pass, Walston added the point and it was 10-10.

Halfback Jerry Norton picked off a Layne pass and went 45 yards a moment later and in two plays Jurgenson hit Walston in the end zone 25 yards away to give the Eagles the 17-10 lead, with Walston converting.

Another interception of Layne's pass, and a pass interference penalty against Detroit a second later put the Eagles on the Detroit 20 from where Walston booted 27 yards to make it 20-10 at the halftime.

After intermission the Lions came back strong and in a period of time covering only 57 seconds, Detroit scored twice and had a 24-20 lead.

The first of the two tallies came after Layne's passes to Cassady and Reichow moved the ball to the one yard line, from where Cassady hit the middle.

When Willie Berzinski fumbled on the first play after the kickoff on the Eagle 37, where Terry Barr recovered, Layne on one pass found Reichow in the open and the ex-Iowa quarterback went over standing up. Layne added both points.

Just before the third quarter ended the Lions moved 57 yards in 11 plays to make the score read 31-20 with Layne's point. On this touchdown Reichow made a beautiful catch of Layne's pass covering 30 yards despite the fact that two Eagle defenders had him pinched on the five.

Reichow outfought the pair at full speed and carried over the five yards after the catch.

Jurgensen was far from beaten. The Eagle completed four of six passes on the next series, highlighted by a 50-yard pass play to Walston, to the one yard line.

The strong defensive line of the Lions held three times just inches shy of the goal, but on the fourth down McDonald bulled over and with Walston's point it was 31-27.

Layne's final score was a 16 yard field goal with three minutes to play.

Most every member of the Lions squad got into the game, including Don Daly who made two fine catches, and Kemp the rookie quarterback from Occidental.

Gedman, giving his injured back a test, did some fine running during his short stay. Terry Barr saw plenty of action with the defensive unit and had his troubles keeping Walston in check on Jurgensen's passes.

Despite the close score, the Lions dominated the statistics. The Eagles finished with a minus-14 yards on the ground and got only one first down rushing.

A crowd of 12,000 watched the contest for the benefit of the Toledo Elks' charities. It was Detroit second straight pre-season win and the second loss in the row for the Eagles.

Football Giants Roll Over Rams

Gifford Scores Twice as World Champs Take 24-7 Decision

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The New York Giants ground out a methodical 24-to-7 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Rams before 60,094 fans in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum last night.

The Giants, champions of the National Pro Football League last year, were paced by Frank Gifford, the league's most valuable player, who scored two touchdowns and led all ground gainers.

But it was New York end Cliff Livingston who set up the Giants' first two touchdowns by blocking two Ram punts.

The Giants' third touchdown was on a two-yard run by Alex Webster after an 81-yard march. Ben Agajanian converted three times and contributed a field goal as well.

The one Ram touchdown was by Bob Boyd on an 11-yard pass from Bill Wade midway in the fourth period.

Gingellville 9 Near 'D' Title

Regional softball action in tourneys under way here last night found Gingellville girls nearing the "D" MSA title, with an opening win over Owosso UAW-CIO No. 743. A fourth inning, 4-run blast, added to 3 in the first and a single in the 3rd frame did the trick for a 10-6 victory. Another win tonight, at 8:30 o'clock, at North Side Park would seal the title. A loss would send the teams together Sunday.

If weather intervenes, today's schedule will hold Sunday.

A 7 p.m. game pits Men's Class B losers, Southfield and Flint Merchants. Two games will be played at Beaudette, tonight, in Class A, Southfield Grissom's vs Flint Drewery in a double header, starting at 7 and 8:30 p.m.

In Class B men's regional games last night Port Huron defeated Flint 2-1 in a fine pitching battle, won by Jerry Armstrong who also went the distance in the 2nd game, which he won for himself with a 3-run homer in the 2nd frame. Hurons defeated Southfield 3-2 in this one. Southfield got its two runs in the 5th. In the first game Port Huron snatched its win with a last inning 2-run rally, to wipe a first-inning run for Flint.

Detroit Beats Nats, 13-4

Tigers Pick on Gopher Ball

DETROIT (AP)—Even though the Washington Senators are at the bottom of the American League heap, one of their pitchers is setting a new league record nearly every time out.

Cuban Pedro Ramos isn't proud of the mark, though. The fourth inning, three-run home run that Detroit Tiger Outfielder Charlie Maxwell blasted off him last night was the 38th "gopher ball" served up by the slender righthander. Not long ago the Tigers helped Ramos erase the old record and now every home run off him is a new high.

The Tigers won the opener of the two-game series 13-4, and climbed above the .500 mark for the first time since Aug. 1. The victory left them two and one-half games behind third-place Boston.

Washington fielding, which is about the caliber that goes with a lastplace club, contributed to the Tiger success. Second baseman Herb Plews dropped a pop fly that opened the way for two unearned runs.

Rightfielder Jim Lemon who does a fine job for the Senators with his bat, slid across the grass chasing Johnny Groth's "single" and it went for a double. Another time—in the seventh inning—he fell while going after Jim Finigan's "single" and it went for three bases.

Maxwell's home run was his 21st. Ali Kaline also contributed a three-run homer, his 14th, and a bases loaded single. The young outfielder drove home five runs as the Tigers went on their biggest scoring rampage of the season. They collected 16 base hits with Groth, Finigan and Frank House getting three each.

With all that scoring righthander Duke Maas was able to coast home to his ninth victory. He has lost the same number of times.

★ ★ ★

Jim Bunning was to oppose the Nat's other Cuban righthander, Camilio Pascual, in the windup of the series today. Then the first-place New York Yankees come into Briggs Stadium for single games Sunday and Monday.

Logart Gets Decision

Few Witness Detroit Bout

DETROIT (AP) — The fighters, the fans, and especially the promoters were willing today to bypass the customary talk about a rematch of Isaac Logart and Walter Byars.

The two welterweights lasted out the 10-round distance last night, which is more than some of the 1,105 spectators were able to do. Logart, the veteran from Camaguey, Cuba, won a unanimous decision.

One ringside spectator suggested that referee Jackie Swartz probably caused as much damage as either fighter with his back-slapping that often became necessary when the fighters clinched.

Logart, the second-ranked contender who weighed 146, was unmarked and looking forward to an Oct. 2 bout in Denver against an opponent who has not been selected.

"He make me look like a fool sometimes," said the Cuban. "I try to make a fight but he run, run, run. He no want to fight. He just want to go 10 rounds."

There was never any indication that either fighter would fail to last. There were no knockdowns, in fact, few solid punches. Logart used his left hand frequently and carried the fight to his shorter and less-experienced foe who dropped his third straight decision.

The crowd for the nationally televised and broadcast (NBC) contest was one of the smallest in recent years at Olympia Stadium. The gate was only $1,584.30.

Under the five-point-must scoring system, judge Bill Appleton scored it 49-36, judge Jack Aspery 50-38 and Referee Swartz 48-38, all for Logart.

Rangers Sell Bower to Cleveland Club

The cash amount was not disclosed. The player is Ed McQueen, who played defense and right wing for the American Hockey League team last year.

Bower played one full year with the Rangers but he had greater success in the American League. He was twice voted the league's most valuable player at Providence.

Youth, Veteran in Title Battle

The long-hitting 18-year-old Jo-Anne fought her way into the final for the second year in a row with a 3 and 1 victory over Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Johnstone, 34, clobbered University of Oregon co-ed Carole Jo Kabler 7 and 6 with a 3-under-par round at the tree-lined 38-36—74 par Del Paso Country Club course.

The final shapes up as a rematch of last year's national semi-final when JoAnne beat Mrs. Johnstone 1-up.

Church All-Stars in Inter-Loop Tilt

Pontiac and Waterford Church league all-stars meet tonight, weather permitting, in an inter-league softball contest at Drayton Park. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Reg Shaw for Pontiac (First Presbyterian) and Eldwin Johnson (Drayton UP) for managers of the rival teams. Starting moundsmen will be Chalmers Gidcumb for Pontiac and Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson for the township club. A new team will go for each league at 3½ innings of play.

Misfeldt Tops as a Player, Coach

Remember the Sports Stars of Yore?

(This is the 24th and final story in a series of articles about former outstanding athletes from Pontiac and Oakland County and what they are doing today. It features West Bloomfield Boys' Club director Carl Misfeldt, a sport star in the early 1900s.)

A fellow who coached baseball teams here over 20 years ago, played on two unbeaten college football teams, had tryouts with two different major league teams, prospected for gold in Alaska and came out with $10,000 and has done many other things in a busy life is Carl Misfeldt now director of the West Bloomfield Township Boys' Club.

A native of North Dakota where he was born 69 years ago, Misfeldt has worked and played ball in several states across the nation. He never won any outstanding honors but always was among the better players in any sport he tried his hand at.

Working for various automobile plants throughout the Midwest took Misfeldt to many different areas. He joined the Pontiac sports scene as the coach of the Yellow Cab teams in 1936 and remained five years. Earlier Carl had coached a semi-pro football team in Ferndale.

You have to go back to 1906 for the start of the former athlete's career. That was in Ellendale, N. D., where he played football, baseball, hockey and basketball at a school which had a total of 18 boys enrolled. His school was runnerup in state play in three different sports but never quite made the top.

The best chance came in baseball in 1910 when Carl pitched and won a morning game to send EHS into the state finals. "We would have won it but our ace pitcher turned up drunk and I had to pitch again with two hours rest," he recalled. "The 2nd game was tied until they got to me in the 7th. I haven't had an arm since."

Misfeldt played a lot of baseball in the years that followed but his pitching was limited to relief work due to the damaged arm. A tryout with the St. Louis Browns and later one with the Chicago White Sox both failed to bring along any big league contracts largely because of the arm.

He dropped baseball at the University of Washington and concentrated on football under great coach Gil Dobie. The lanky end saw only one touchdown scored against Washington in two seasons. He later played four years as a back and end for the strong Rainier Athletic Club in Seattle.

"I left school for Alaska in my 3rd year and I have been sorry ever since," says the director of 172 boys around the Keego sector.

Misfeldt still follows sports as closely as time allows although "the whole setup is so completely changed now that I feel out of place." His Boys' Club had its own six-team softball loop, a team in the Class D Pontiac league and a pee-wee team this summer.

"I would like to see every boy play athletics. It is the best thing in the world for them," concluded this tireless former athlete who found time to play in the college band and do some newspaper reporting along the way.

Dodgers Keep Hopes Alive With 3-2 Win

Milwaukee's Braves were prevented from zooming out of sight in the national league race when the Brooklyn Dodgers rallied for three runs in the ninth to edge the Wisconsin Warriors, 3 to 2.

Milwaukee's lead remained at six and a half games as ex-Redbird Rip Repulski hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-to-2 win over the Musial-less St. Louis Cardinals. Stan the man was sidelined by a shoulder injury.

The Dodgers kept alive, six and a half games back and only a percentage point behind the second place Cardinals.

Cincinnati's ten game losing streak came to an end when Joe Nuxhall hurled the Redlegs to a 6-to-0 shutout win over the Pittsburgh Pirates. And an iron man pitching stint ended in failure for Chicago's Bob Rush when a single by Willie Mays and a double by Ray Jablonski gave the New York Giants a 3-to-2 decision over the Cubs in a 16-inning late show.

Rush absorbed his 13th lost in 17 decisions but gamely dueled four Giant hurlers in the longest individual pitching stint of the season.

Gino Cimoli's single drove in the winning run from third after reliever Don McMahon had allowed the tying run to register with a wild throw to first base. Milwaukee's Gene Conley had carried a whitewash job into the ninth before the Bums erupted.

Hank Aaron starred for the Braves. His Majors-high 36th homer of the season in the fourth accounted for the first Brave tally and he tripled across the other in the seventh, giving him 101 RBI's for the season, also tops in the majors.

Repulski's home run brought Harvey Haddix his 10th win and Vinegar Bend Mizell his 10th loss. Haddix gave up seven hits.

Keego Boys to See Game

The West Bloomfield Township Boys' Club is currently completing final plans to take 250 area youngsters to the Detroit-Boston baseball game at Briggs Stadium next Wednesday.

The trip to all boys in the Township area whether they are members or not. A charge of 50 cents is asked of all making the trip to cover the traveling expense. Three buses have already been donated for use by the Emanuel Baptist Church. Two more are needed.

All boys interested in seeing the game who have not signed up may do so by contacting Boys' Club director Carl Misfeldt, club president Jack Deacon or Keego Harbor Councilman Curt Edwards. The group will leave from the Roosevelt Shool at 11:30 a.m.

Inman Shoots 66 for State Open Lead

By BILL CORNWELL

Bob Inman, a personable young professional with a sound golf game, held a two-stroke lead today as the Michigan Open tournament swung into its 2nd round of play at Edgewood Country Club.

The 31-year-old Inman, Horton Smith's assistant at Detroit Golf Club, fired a five-under-par 66 Friday over Edgewood's sunbaked course to get a head start in the chase for the state Open crown.

There will be no chance for Inman to rest on his laurels, however. A pack of par-busting wolves are right on his heels and there's still 54 holes to go.

Of yesterday's starting field of 160 players, 23 equalled or bettered the par 35-36—71 acreage and seven amateurs took part in the assault.

Two "simon pures," Lou Wendrow of Lansing and Ypsilanti's Doug Wilson, along with Lansing pro Ed Gauntt, were Inman's nearest rivals after shooting 18-hole scores of 68.

Wendrow, former state amateur champion, turned in Friday's most dazzling shot when he aced the 145-yard 10th hole. His 7-iron blow landed at the rear of the flag and backed into the cup from a right angle.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Gene Bone, assistant pro at Tam O'Shanter, was one of five golfers tied for 3rd place with 69s. Matching Bone were pros Herb Marcussen of Lansing and John Barnum of Grand Rapids and amateurs Tom Draper of Birmingham and Art Olfs Jr. of Lansing.

Mike Andonian, state Publinx champ from Pontiac, carded a 70 to gain a tie with seven others for 4th spot — and it might be added that the high school math teacher is courting some mighty fast company.

Four of the five ex-champs competing in this tourney — Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Indianwood's Mike Dietz, Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook and Horton Smith—are bunched in the 70 bracket. Barnum is the other past titleholder.

State amateur king Lloyd Syron of Pontiac and Farmington pro Jimmy Johnson rifled opening roundt 71s to deadlock four other contenders.

Inman, an Oklahoma native who came to Detroit about three years ago, had only one bogey yesterday, a five on the 395-yard 15th, but he more than made up for it with six birdies. He was 32 at the turn and 34 coming home.

Roy Cullenbine, former Detroit outfielder, shot a blistering 31 going out for the day's best nine-hole total, but he soared to a 41 on the back side for a 1st round 72.

Today they separate the men from the boys at the 6,400-yard Edgewood links. Following tonight's midway cut, just the low 50 players plus ties will enter Sunday's 36-hole windup.

CHECKS CLUBS — Mike Andonian, Pontiac's state public golf champion, makes sure his bag and gear are in order before starting in the Michigan Open being held at Edgewood. Andonian finished the first round among the leaders by firing a 70. The tourney continues today with 18 holes and tomorrow with 36 holes.

GOOD LUCK — Mike Dietz, Indianwood profesisonal, gives amateur Paul Bada of Pontiac a "good luck" pat on the shoulder as the two golfers wait to tee off in the Michigan Open golf tournament at Edgewood Country Club. As it turned out, Dietz had the best opening day luck. The 1952 state Open winner posted a one-under-par 70 compared to a 74 by Bada, the city champion.

New Leader at Milwaukee

Venturi One Stroke Up

★ ★ ★

He took a stride toward his second consecutive tournament victory yesterday by sweeping into the 36-hole lead of the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament by one stroke. The 26-year-old auto dealer shot a 4-under-par 66 at the 6,355-yard Tripoli Golf Club for a second round total of 134, six under.

★ ★ ★

Breathing down his neck with 135s after beating par and some of the worst weather of the tour were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco; Don Whitt, another Californian from Alameda, and Canada's Al Balding.

★ ★ ★

Then came John Cleary of Hartford, Conn., with a 136; veteran Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., with a 137; and Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., and Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y., with 138s.

★ ★ ★

At 139 were Doug Ford, the Masters champion from Mahopac, N.Y.; Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, who won the first Milwaukee Open two years ago; young Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass.; Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., who is still looking for his first victory of the year, and Gordon Jones of Alliance, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

There were many more who slipped out of immediate contention for the $6,000 first prize because of the weather. Among the latter group was Milwaukee's Manuel De La Torre, who was the tournament leader after 18 holes with a 5-under-par 65. He took a 75 yesterday and fell back to a four-way tie for 14th place with an even par 140.

★ ★ ★

Venturi, ex-Walker Cupper who turned pro last November, won his first tournament at St. Paul, Minn., last Sunday. He came close in others, however, and already has winnings of more than $13,000.

Horseshoe Play Begins Tuesday

Annual Tournament Lists Action in Singles and Doubles Teams

Six doubles teams and a dozen singles entries swing into action next week at Oakland Park in the annual Pontiac Parks & Recreation Horseshoe Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Play begins Tuesday at 7 p.m. for singles and the same time on Wednesdays for the doubles teams.

★ ★ ★

All 1st and 2nd round games will be the best two out of three. The semifinals and finals will be the best three of five. The scoring of 25 points will constitute a completed game.

★ ★ ★

Trophies will be awarded in each division following the completion of championship matches.

SINGLES PAIRINGS

DOUBLES PAIRINGS

FRIDAY'S HOME RUNS

Repulski, Phillies; Aaron, Braves; Woodling, Indians; McDougald, Yankees; Courtney, Senators; Maxwell, Kaline, Tigers; Jensen, Red Sox; Herman, Orioles.

Showers Delay Tourney Start for Jewelers

Shaw's began its bid for the Class AA state softball title Friday at Midland, but the weather delayed the effort until today.

The Jewelers were scheduled to complete their 1st round game with Jackson this morning at 9 o'clock after rain halted last night's action at the end of the 1st inning.

Play was to be resumed from the stopping point. Jake Mazur was on the mound for Shaw's and there was no score. The Jewelers were slated to see action again at 11 a.m. in the double knockout tournament.

Rain also postponed the Midland-Grand Rapids game. In completed 1st round games yesterday, Allen Park shut out Ypsilanti, 1-0, and Mt. Clemens edged Niles, 2-1.

Tiger Oldtimers Play

The Detroit Tiger Oldtimers will play the R. G. Moeller team of Royal Oak in the feature game of an exhibition doubleheader Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Memorial Park at 13 Mile and Woodward in Royal Oak.

Chicago Shaves New York Lead

Ex-Mates Doing Damage to Yanks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What goes here? The New York Yankees, who seldom let a good man get away, suddenly have lost three of four with ex-mates doing the damage while their American League lead has dipped to 5½ games.

★ ★ ★

It's all come on the champs' last 1957 trip through the west, the tour that was supposed to nail the pennant, but good.

★ ★ ★

So what happens? They lose two of three at Kansas City, with ex-Yankees Ralph Terry and Jack Urban the winning pitchers and ex-Yankees Woody Held, Bob Cerv and Billy Martin batting in or scoring the big runs.

★ ★ ★

Then ex-Yank Gene Woodling took a crack at them last night, rapping a two-run homer and two singles in his first four trips before doubling home the winner as Cleveland made off with a 5-4 decision in 10 innings.

That whittled another game off the Yankee lead as the Chicago White Sox, with Billy Pierce winning his 17th on a four-hitter, defeated Boston 4-1.

In the other AL games, Connie Johnson beat Kansas City with a three hitter for a 2-1, 12-inning Baltimore victory, and Detroit pounded Washington 13-4 with Al Kaline driving in five runs.

The Yankees, who wrap up the western trip with three games at Chicago beginning Tuesday, scored three in the ninth, starting with Gil McDougald's home run, for a tie that chased Ray Narleski. But Mike Garcia came on and killed the rally by striking out Mickey Mantle, who was 0-for-4 and skidded to .373.

Pierce, the majors' top winner, struck out seven and walked two while keeping Ted Williams hitless in four trips and taking the major league lead in complete games with his 15th. Williams, who like Mantle has been shut out three times in the last four games, now leads the bat battle with .382.

Sunday Afternoon Races at Speedway

Modified racing at the Pontiac Speedway will take place Sunday afternoon instead of at night for the remainder of the season, according to track manager Ed Jones.

Tomorrow the feature attraction will be the "Amateur Day" races. Persons over 21 who register before the trials begin at 1:00 p.m. will be eligible to take part in the special race.

Cars will be furnished all drivers. The event will take place just before the regular feature at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

New Woman's Champ at Bloomfield Hills

A new women's golf champion was crowned yesterday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Mrs. Hanley Dawson Jr. defeated the 1956 titlist, Mrs. S. E. Gawne, one up, in 19 holes.

Mrs. Gawne had the low medal card, a neat 87, compared to the eventual winner's 89. But, as this was match play, it didn't help. Mrs. Dawson had a 5 to Mrs. Gawne's 6 on the extra hole.

Larger Turnouts Expected for Pee-Wee Gridders

A larger than anticipated turnout for the Pontiac Pee-Wee League football clinics has brought about the adding of extra playing fields and a revised training schedule, it was announced today by loop director Frank Thompson.

Original plans were for the clinic to be conducted three days a week at Whitfield School. But the excellent interest shown by the boys between 9 and 12 years of age in early drills has brought about the addition of another day with four more playing areas to be in use. "We just didn't have room for everybody," stated Thompson in making the announcement.

Players from the 4th through the 6th grades will make up what is expected to be an eight-team league this fall. This is an addition of two teams to last year's group. Boys taking part cannot weigh less than 60 pounds or more than 110.

The following schedule has been set up for the clinics. It is arranged by teams with all sessions starting at 3:30 p.m.

Crusaders — Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at Beaudette.

Plan Free Kiddie Rides at Walled Lake Park

Officials at Walled Lake Park are announcing that bargain rates are to be in effect on all adult and kiddie rides, Sunday and Labor Day, Sept. 1 and 2.

Through August, they say, everyone purchasing a ticket for any ride will be given a free ticket for one of several rides including the "Whip" and the "Rocket Ship."

Walled Lake Park is slated to be in full operation over the Labor Day holiday, Sept. 1 and 2.

AF Plane Forced to Drop Explosives

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—An Air Force transport plane was forced to drop 17 cases of explosives near here today when it developed engine trouble and had to make a forced landing.

* * *

The plane, a two-engine C119, was en route from California to Seymour Jackson Air Force Base, N. C.

Maj. Earl Helms, the pilot, said the craft was overloaded and that crew members dropped the explosives to lighten the strain so a landing could be made at Key Air Force Base here.

Several cases of rockets and two 1,000-pound bombs were among the cargo jettisoned. Helms said the bombs were not equipped with warheads, but cautioned that anyone finding the boxes of rockets should handle them with care. A violent jar might cause them to explode, he said.

* * *

He said the explosives were not detonated when they landed in an area north and west of here.

Urges Head-Rests for Auto Safety

CHICAGO (AP) — A Detroit physician suggests that head-rests be installed on the backs of automobile seats to prevent neck injuries when a car is struck from the rear.

Dr. Albert D. Ruedemann Jr. said that in such accidents the head snaps back and the neck often is injured.

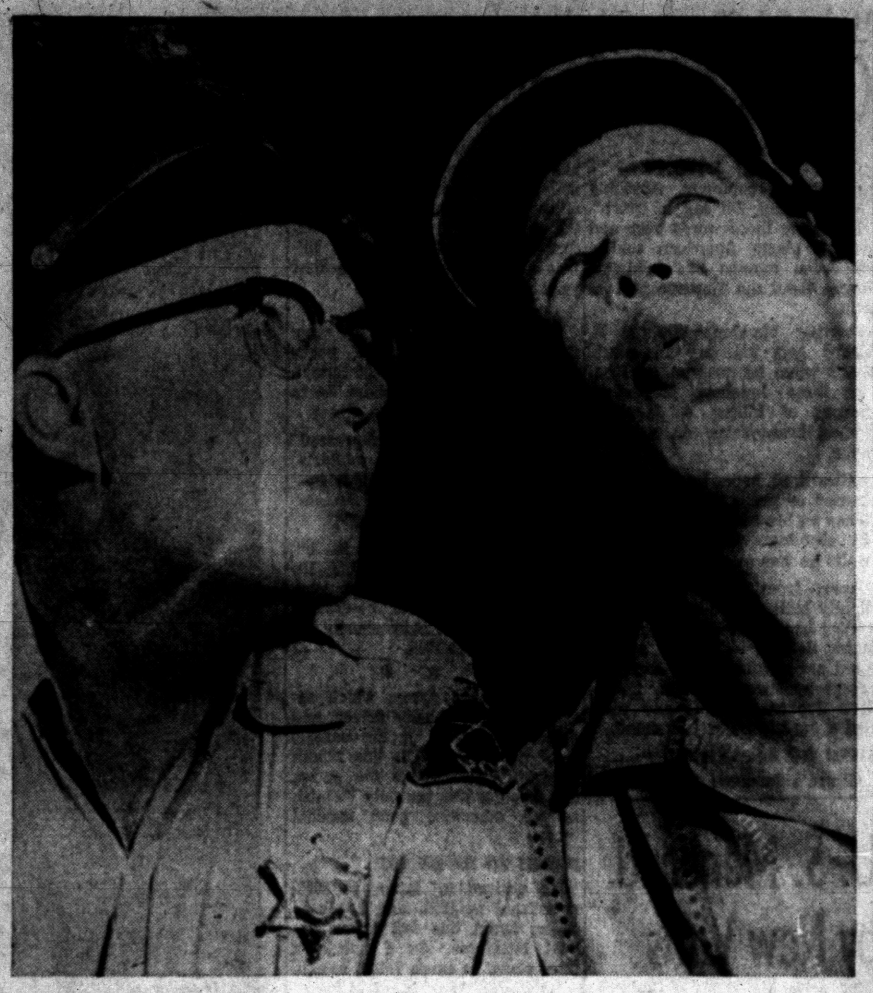

Such injuries are becoming more common, he wrote, because lower models have lower seat backs and heavier traffic results in more accidents involving a string of cars.

His recommendation was in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

Pre-School for Blind

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Eight pre-school-age youngsters are expected to enroll next month in an experimental nursery school for blind children in the Henry C. Morton School here. The state-approved project is to be launched on a one-year test by the Benton Harbor Public School System.

Lansing Education Board Okays Record Budget

LANSING (AP) — The Lansing board of education Thursday approved a budget of $7,784,000, a new high for the city.

About half the amount, or $3,536,467, will be raised by a local tax levy of 9.95 mills. The remainder will come from state aid.

More Cowpokes Hoping for Fame on TV Road

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Intoxicated by the sweet smell of success, Warner Brothers is putting three more cowpokes on the road to—it is hoped—TV fame.

The studio started out in the TV field with hour-long dramas based on three old movies—"Casablanca," "Cheyenne" and "King's Row." Only "Cheyenne" proved to have the go-power, as they say in TV, to succeed. It made a star of towering Clint Walker.

Now Warners is entering three new lads in the horse opry sweepstakes. The new shows are "Colt 45" with Wayne Preston, "Maverick" with James Garner and "Sugarfoot" with Will Hutchins. Viewers may be trampled by adult Westerns this season.

I visited one of the fledgling Western heroes — the one named Hutchins. Watching him in a courtroom scene, I observed that he was sandy-haired, slim, tall—six feet even but boot heels raise him further—and slightly offbeat.

★ ★ ★

"What part of Texas are you from?" I asked.

"I'm sorry, but I'm from Los Angeles," he replied. And East Los Angeles at that. But he did go to college in the Western part—at UCLA.

He studied drama at the Westwood campus, did a role on Matinee Theater over NBC and was claimed by Warners. Now he's learning to be a cowpoke — the hard way.

Letting the grass grow under your feet won't postpone its growing over your head.

MAN BITES DOG! — Two-year-old Jerry Turco, of Denver, Colo., puts the bite on "Doggie," as a stern measure of discipline. Jerry found the pooch in a nearby park and grew to love her at once. But there was a habit which "Doggie" had that annoyed Jerry considerably. She loved to nip him, playfully, to be sure, but it hurt all the same. Jerry decided to bite back and sank his uppers into "Doggie's" ear. She hasn't nipped Jerry since.

Before 3 Japanese Judges

Girard Trial Opens Monday

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP) — "I ain't got no comment. Anything I have to say, I'll say in court."

Repeating those words over and over, a young American soldier for seven months has held his tongue about the fantastic jam he is in.

Girard, 22, hopes he will be acquitted or get a suspended sentence on his claim that the Jan. 30 shooting was an accident while he was on guard duty.

Apart from the evidence, the slightly built, brown-haired Illinois soldier has one built-in argument in his defense — he can say he could not possibly kill a Japanese except by sheer accident, for he likes Japanese people and married a Japanese girl last month.

FOND OF JAPANESE

Girard's fondness for Japanese has even shaken his strong ties with his older brother. It is one of the most pronounced traits of the otherwise unspectacular soldier who never lived west of Illinois and never finished the first year of high school.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutors will try to show Girard was irresponsible, negligent and contemptuous of human life — especially Japanese — in pulling the trigger.

But they may be hard-pressed to find anything in the soldier's humble Florida and Illinois upbringing to offset his demonstrated liking for Japanese.

After quitting school in his freshman year at Streator Ill. High, Girard tried several jobs, working for 45 days at the Owens-Illinois Glass Co. plant shortly before enlisting in 1953.

★ ★ ★

He liked the Army, which assigned him as a truck driver, and decided to make it his career. Until he went AWOL this month to drink beer outside the camp, the shooting was the only blemish on an otherwise good conduct record.

HOPES TO RE-ENLIST

He arrived in Japan in 1955, re-enlisted in 1956, and hopes to do so again this fall unless his trial interferes. As a specialist third class, he earns $140 a month.

For nearly two years, his constant companion has been Haru Sueyama, a short, freckled one-time bar waitress six years older than himself. They were married last month.

"This is going to be my hobby for the rest of my life," Girard once said, caressing the girl, whom he nicknamed "Candy" because she likes sweets.

Since Girard came under investigation, she has loyally visited him every night in camp, often bringing him Japanese food which he likes.

★ ★ ★

They attend the movies, chat in half - English, half - Japanese or through an interpreter or play with the children of a friendly MP sergeant. Sometimes Girard plucks out tunes like "Love Me Tender" and "That Good Old Mountain Dew" on a guitar.

'BROKE WITH PAST'

"Three years ago, I started going out with GIs and decided to disconnect myself from my past, which I'm not very proud of, working in bars here and there and all over since my folks died," Candy recalled.

"When I met Girard, he used to drink quite heavily and no one wanted to have much to do with him. I forced him to straighten out, even sold my belongings once to support him when he spent all his money. Now he hardly ever touches a drop."

Japanese villagers of Kagohara, Girard's camp, know and like the couple, and credit Candy with remaking Girard into "a good man."

★ ★ ★

Throughout his tribulations, Girard has been loyal to his brother Louis, 38, head of the Girard family in Illinois since the illnesses of his late father and his mother.

★ ★ ★

It was Louis who persuaded William to deny Japanese jurisdiction in his case and allow Stateside lawyers to wage a six-week court battle in Washington against the U.S. agreement to a Japanese trial.

"As you know, I was following the orders of my brother . . . How I felt about it didn't make any difference," William said afterward.

Girard has taken issue with his brother on two other matters . . . Louis' original opposition to his marriage plans and criticism of Japanese, including use of the word "Jap."

"My brother has never been in Japan and he doesn't think the way I do," William says.

U. S. Menaced by New Virus

Noted Cincinnati Medic Says Disease Joining Asiatic Flu as Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Albert Sabin, noted Cincinnati virologist, says a new type of intestinal virus has joined Asiatic fly as a threat to health in the United States.

Dr. Sabin said last night that Milwaukee has had an estimated 10,000 cases of the new virus, which researchers call "echo type 9."

He said that no deaths have been reported in Milwaukee, but the infection made patients of all ages very uncomfortable and put them in bed for up to several days.

Dr. Sabin said there is no vaccine for the new virus. He said that patients should be isolated from normal contacts and that those who care for them should observe strict hygienic precautions such as washing hands.

★ ★ ★

He said the disease sometimes masquerades as measles — because of a rash—and occasionally as nonparalytic polio because of a mild meningitis or inflammation of the membrane covering the spinal cord.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Sabin said a major problem with the infection is that it usually requires a few days to affect a patient, during which he shows no symptoms but can give the disease to others. This infectious stage is usually over in a week, but can last as long as 14 days.

★ ★ ★

He said that it is normally a warm weather disease, and swept through Europe last summer, persisting until late fall. He noted that Asiatic fly is not expected to become a serious problem until cold weather starts.

The missile works out its course while traveling by continually orientating itself to position of the target.

Pravda Says U. S. Blackmailing Arabs

LONDON (AP)—Pravda today accused the United States of blackmailing the Arab nations.

Moscow Radio broadcast a comment in the Communist party newspaper on what was described as "the activities against Syria of the USA, Britain and other countries belonging to the Baghdad pact."

"The provocative rumpus set up by U.S. diplomacy in connection with the strictly internal affairs of Syria bears all the hallmarks of blackmail," the article said.

"The U.S.A. is hoping to blackmail not only the Syrians but also the people of other Arab countries into doing its bidding."

Sen. Sparkman to View Foreign Policy in Asia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today he has been designated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to make a broad survey of American foreign policy operations in Asia.

Sparkman, who heads the European subcommittee of the parent group, said he also will visit Egypt and Italy before returning to the United States. He said he was asked by committee Chairman Green (D-RI) to undertake the survey because Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), who heads the Far Eastern subcommittee, could not make the trip.

Sparkman said that if the legislative situation permits, he will sail Tuesday from San Francisco.

French Radio to Boost Good Low-Priced Food

PARIS (AP)—The French government is about to open a campaign affecting the most highly prized individual possession in all France —the Frenchman's stomach.

It's part of finance Minister Felix Gaillard's battle to combat inflation and get the French economy back in some kind of shape. Gaillard has directed that, beginning Monday, the nationalized radio broadcast a national "economic menu" of low-priced items.

India's Government has noted that the Communist group of countries are "trade-hungary" and are prepared to bid for a market in India on competitive terms.

Success Has Not Hurt TV Star, Danny Thomas

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—People are always asking me, "What are these movie and TV stars really like? Are they a bunch of creeps?"

Let me tell you about Danny Thomas. . .

WILSON

On Sept. 8, 1943, Danny Thomas, completely unknown to New Yorkers, came here from Chicago by way of Toledo and opened in a night club act.

I reviewed his show next day and wrote a pretty corny but flattering piece. "A Star Is Born," I said.

Danny became a star of movies and radio in the next ten years. One night the B.W. and I were in Hollywood for the premiere of Judy Garland's picture, "A Star Is Born."

As we were walking out, Danny Thomas poked me in the ribs.

"I was just thinking about you," he said. "When I opened in New York a long time ago, you wrote a headline, 'A Star Is Born.'

Anyway," he said, "how about you and B.W. coming out to the house for dinner?"

Jerry Lewis came to dinner, too, and we played pool before dinner. After dinner, Liberace, who was just getting known, arrived and played the piano for us for an hour.

Then some more years passed.

Danny Thomas got even bigger. He was about to replace Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz on TV.

The B.W. and I were in Las Vegas, where he was filming his first new TV show. Between shots, Danny spotted me on the sidelines, removed the cigar from his mouth, and rushed over to shake hands. Then he said, "You've got to get in the night club scene we're doing.

"Sure," he said, getting to like the idea, "we'll put you down at the ringside just like you were the night I opened in New York a long, long time ago."

And so we went and sat at the ringside.

Personally, I thought it was real nice of Danny Thomas to ask us to be on his first show on CBS on Oct. 7.

In fact, Danny Thomas, in my opinion, has grown nicer toward his old friends as he has become more famous.

Senator Blasts Military Waste

Says Probers Discover Millions Mismanaged in Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) says his Senate Investigations Subcommittee has turned up evidence of military waste and mismanagement running into millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

He said yesterday a preliminary investigation resulted in the recovery of 20 million dollars worth of excess spare parts which were going to ruin at air bases in Newfoundland, Labrador and Greenland.

And, McClellan added, that still leaves excess supplies worth millions which are now being recovered at the bases.

The Pentagon declined comment last night, but said it would issue a statement soon.

★ ★ ★

McClellan also said the subcommittee found that at the Ernest Harmon Base in Newfoundland, the 923rd Army Battalion, operating under the Air Force, had more than a million dollars' worth of spare parts when it needed only $75,000 worth.

Discussing the supply situation at the north bases, McClellan added:

"Improper inventorial practices inaccuracy of stock record cards, co-mingling of spare part items, plus numerous untrained civilian native personnel in the supply department, were some of the causes."

McClellan also heads the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee which yesterday recessed hearings for a period.

The quality of cigars is said to be influenced by climatic conditions.

A-Energy Money Bill on Way to Ike

The measure, carrying funds to run the atomic program during the current fiscal year, cleared Congress yesterday after the House agreed to accept a higher Senate figure.

As passed, the bill provides planning funds for three big experimental reactors which the administration has said it does not want the government to build.

Democrats on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee were instrumental in getting the reactors projects across despite administration opposition.

Your Neighbor's House

Rennies' Island Home Is California Contemporary

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This week and next week we are featuring similar homes. Both are lake residences. Both are being lived in for the first time this summer. Both are second homes for the owners who in winter live in Pontiac.

The John Rennies like California contemporary designed houses. For two years they dreamed and discussed their plans for a summer home. They searched and searched for a lot with good lake frontage. Finally they found the lot, finished the plans and started to build. Mr. Rennie drew his own plans.

There's an island in Sylvan Lake, you know. You reach it from Cass Lake road. The Rennies live out near the tip at 925 Stratton. They have two lots, 200 feet deep, with 116 feet on the lake and 66 feet on the road.

Three years ago when their son, Johnny, was only two and a half, they started to build. Mr. Rennie was working six days a week so the only time they had were short weekends and nights. Mrs. Rennie's father helped. When they were roofing the house, they tied the baby on the roof with a rope!

As the house grew so did their family. Kathy Ann arrived 22 months ago. Still they worked on their summer home. Plastering was the only thing they hired done.

This summer has been a dream-come-true summer. The entire family has enjoyed living right on the lake. They swim often and use their boat. They have picnics and barbecues in their front yard. We doubt that Mrs. Rennie has had much time to swing in the hammock outside the front door, but she's not complaining.

Sixty-six feet long and twenty-six feet wide, the Rennie house is red brick with white aluminum siding on the upper part of the exterior walls. There is an attached two-car garage.

Counter tops are made of a new plastic material called Conolite. It is easier for the do-it-yourself man to apply than is some of the other counter material, the Rennies say.

The living room, of course, looks out over the lake. This room has a studio ceiling with exposed beams. The brick fireplace wall extends all the way up to the white ceiling. Mrs. Rennie cleaned the hundreds of bricks in this fireplace as her husband laid them.

The sectional sofa is green with dark wood lamp tables at either end and between the sections. Near the window there are wrought iron chairs with white sling seats. The floor is covered with vinyl asbestos tile in a wood tone pattern.

The house has three bedrooms, each with good sized windows and sliding door closets. In these rooms the floor is cork tone. The Rennies' bedroom has spice brown walls. Curtains are sheer light beige. Furniture is dark, scatter rugs light tan.

The bedroom nearest the living room is used as a den. It has yellow walls and brown shag rugs. Right now it's the multi - purpose room of the house. There's a comfortable upholstered chair for Father to use when he watches television. Tmo children have some playthings in this room. And Mother has her sewing machine.

In the bathroom the vanity is topped with pink Conolite. There is a big mirror and some small Com'on! Brag a Little!

August is nearing its end and school looms in the near future. Have you spent the summer remodeling your house? If so, call us and tell us about it so that we can come out and take some pictures of the finished work. If you're planning some remodeling in the future, let us get some before-and-after shots. Brag a little bit. We like to know what you've been up to, and we know you like to see what your neighbor has done to his house. Call the Home Editor at FE 2-8181.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER — Mrs. Rennie and her small daughter, Kathy, pose for the Press photographer. This corner of the living room is opposite the fireplace. Walls are soft green, while the sectional sofa is darker green. The floor is covered in asbestos tile in a woodtone pattern. The door opens onto a large bricked patio, complete with picnic table and outdoor stove. Mrs. Rennie made the draperies.

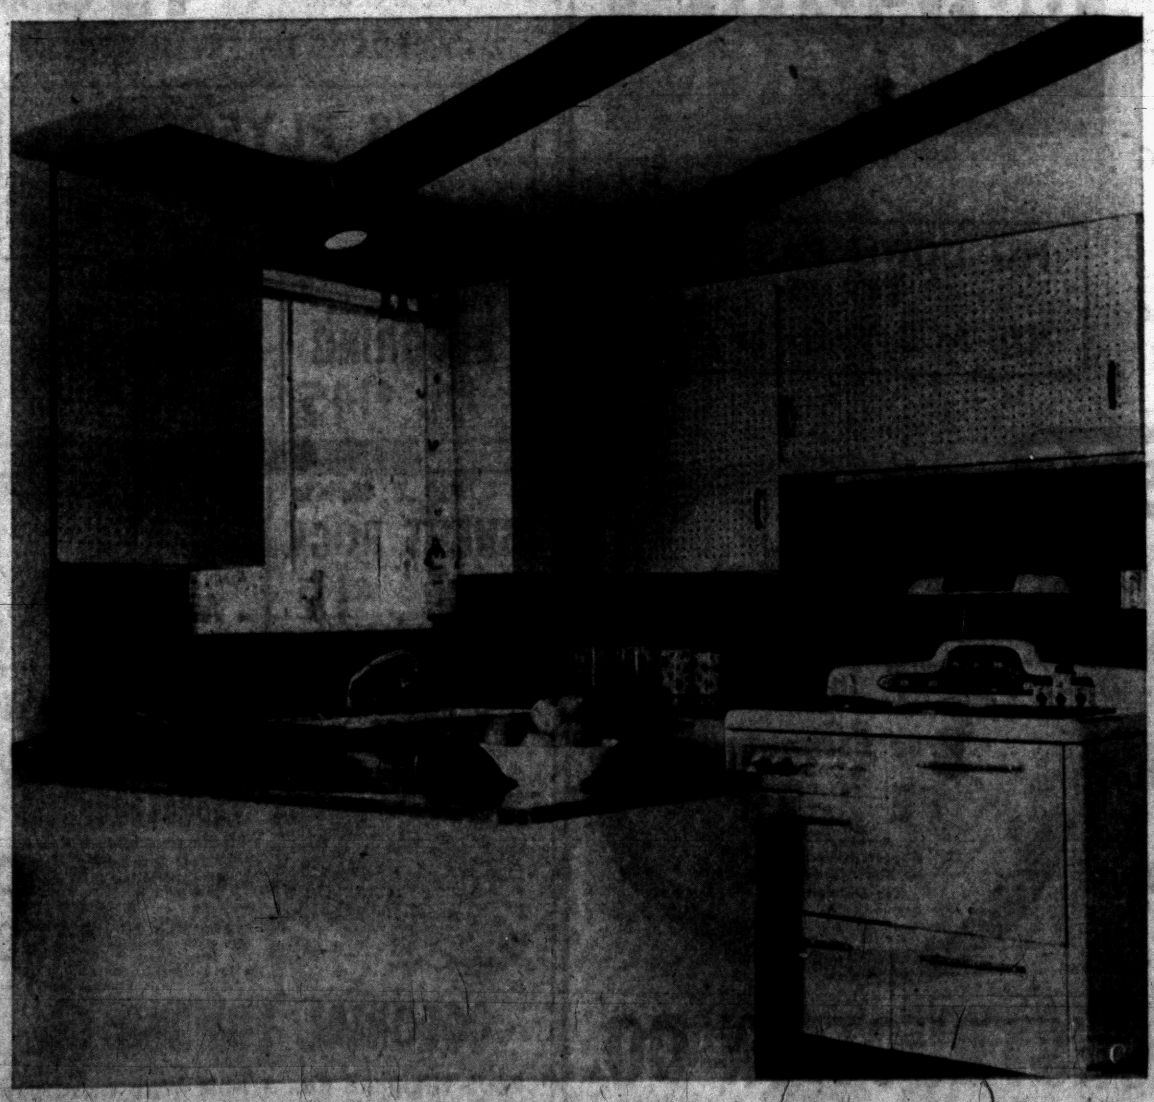

A PARKING SPOT — Two year old Kathy Ann and four year old Johnny think this raised hearth is just the place to sit and look at picture books. Made of used brick, the fireplace is a corner one. The brick wall covers a large area, has stone planter shelves. The sliding fire curtain is set in a brass frame.

HOUSE ON AN ISLAND — The John Rennie home is built on an island in Sylvan Lake. Although a year-round house, it is occupied by the family only during the summer months and rented out the rest of the year. Mr. Rennie drew the plans himself and his wife and father-in-law helped him do all the building except the plastering. The exterior of this ranch home with its attached double garage is red brick and white aluminum siding.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

PEGBOARD CUPBOARDS — At Mrs. Rennie's insistence, her husband made cupboard doors from pegboard. Painted yellow to match the walls, they add a decorative note to the kitchen. This room has exposed beams like the living room. Wall tile is black. The Conolite counter tops are bright red.

THE LAKE'S OUTSIDE — The Rennies planned the windows in their bedroom so that the lake would be visible from the bed. Sheer beige curtains cut the sun's glare. The walls are spice brown. All the bedrooms have corktone tile floors and sliding door wardrobe closets.

Cleaning Furnace Is the First Step

The first step in the summer care of the heating plant is a thorough cleaning followed by a check-up by an experienced heating contractor, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau reminds us.

If the system is an oil-fired hot water heating system, the flues of othe boiler and the smoke pipe should be thoroughly cleaned as well as the oil burner itself. An experienced heating contractor will know how to check the operation of the controls and how to check for worn parts that may need replacing.

Arrangements for such a seasonal cleaning and checking should be made as soon as possible so that dealers can schedule the work at a time that will be mutually convenient for the owner and the dealer.

Solves Mold Problem

To prevent the growth of mold, add moldicides or fungicides to paint. Mold usually occurs where there is dampness and warmth. Mold spores and threads are somewhat hard to dispossess. Before such surfaces are repainted, they should be washed with alkaline cleaning solutions, flushed well with clean water, and allowed to dry.

National Building Code Is Being Modernized

The nationally-recognized building code on which Pontiac models its building regulations has been modernized to permit the use of non-combustible curtain wall construction, a key advance in building technology.

The Building Officials Conference of America (B.O.C.A.) recently amended its Basic Building Code to permit the use of non-combustible curtain wall panels when the wall is 30 feet or more from a common property line or adjacent structure. The code had allowed most lightweight panel construction, but required a minimum three-quarter hour fire-resistive rating.

The B.O.C.A. voting membership includes municipal officials who administer or formulate laws governing the construction of buildings. The new amendment has been forwarded to the 258 municipalities that subscribe to the code or have modeled their building regulations on it. Each city now must consider adoption of the amended regulation, according to Paul E. Baseler, B.O.C.A. executive secretary.

Three other national building code bodies have a non-combustible wall construction provision that is similar to the B.O.C.A's.

The curtain wall is so-called because it literally hangs from, or is supported by, the structure of the building. With the strength, durability, and ease of fabrication of today's structural framework, which carries the entire weight of the building and its contents, bulky walls no longer are required to shoulder the load.

Lightweight panels perform the true function of exterior walls — to keep out the weather and prevent the spread of fire. At the same time they provide new materials with which the architect can design buildings that are both beautiful and functional.

The curtain wall technique was developed in Chicago in the 1880's, but only recently has it been widely adopted as an effective synthesis of aesthetics and technology. Steel curtain wall panels, for example, combine strength with beauty, lightness with durability, and low upkeep with high construction speed. The trend today is to curtain walls in the construction of office and apartment buildings, and schools, hotels, churches and auditoriums, and for the future probably nearly all other types of buildings.

Some of the advantages of panel construction have been offset by building regulations requiring more fire resistance than is necessary for safety to life and property. The B.O.C.A. Code now permits non-combustible wall panels when the wall's proximity to the adjacent structure is 30 feet or more.

Non-combustible curtain wall construction provides structure savings through reduction of load, permits earlier occupancy, reduces maintenance costs, and provides more square feet of usable floor space. A reduction of six inches in the thickness of the wall in a 100-foot by 200-foot building 20 stories high, renting at $6 per foot per year, creates an increase in rentable floor space representing an additional income of $36,000 per year.

Rapid enclosure of the building with thin, lightweight panels permits most of the interior work by other trades to be carried out more speedily, with full protection from the weather.

LOWERED ROOF — This comfortable patio features a "roof" that is louvered to keep out the hottest of the sun's rays. The louvers are 1x6 western pine boards and extend part way down two sides to screen out the afternoon sun, but allow breezes to come through.

Synthetics From Coal

Many of the products used in varnish-making come from coal. A valuable synthetic resin is made with phthalic anhydride which in turn has been made by oxidizing naphthalene. Coal, in combination with hydrogen and oxygen, is a source of synthetic methanol which, in turn, is converted to formaldehyde, another ingredient of synthetic resins.

GREET YOUR GUESTS with this quaint sign. Your name may be added if you like. Pattern 446 gives actual-size cutting guides for a full alphabet as well as numerals and the attractive cut-out design. It is 25 cents. Packet 57 of five patterns for house-and yard cut-outs including this sign is $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Keep Basement Dry With Portable Fan

Placing a portable electric window fan in the basement on hot humid summer days will keep that room dry and also cool the rest of the house, according to engineers at Arvin Industries, a prominent manufacturer of fans.

They recommend placing the fan at the bottom of the basement stairs so it directs the flow of air upward toward the open doorway into the house. An outside window to the basement also should be opened.

As the cool basement air is sent upward, cooling the living area in the house, a draft is created which pulls in air from the outside through the basement windows. This warmer air evaporates moisture in the basement before it too is cooled and directed upstairs.

Experience shows this can lower the temperature of the upstairs rooms 5 to 10 degrees on a hot day.

What Do You Know About Floor Wax?

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Thousands of people in Brazil, North Africa, Mexico, Germany and the United States, owe their employment to the American homemaker's love for waxed, highly polished floors. Millions of pounds of wax polish are used annually because of the beautiful effect it gives and because wax is a protection for so many surfaces in the modern home.

It's possible that few people stop to consider that wax originates as an excretion on the leaves, stems or fruit of certain tropical plants, although it is occasionally extracted from their tissues, pollen or seeds. Principally the botanical plants that produce enough wax to be of economic importance are the carnauba, curicuri, candililla and espart.

The plant with the greatest wax yield is the carnauba palm which grows in the arid regions of Brazil. Most of the paste wax comes from carnauba. To it is added paraffin or ceresin, and a semi-hard type known as montan wax. The latter gives the paste consistency, while the carnauba furnishes the luster and hardness needed. Sometimes calcium or magnesium stearate is used to help prevent undue slippage or marring.

In the American home, waxes are used on many different types of surfaces to give them added protection and beauty. Primarily, perhaps, they are thought of as a final finish for floors.

The practice of waxing wood floors — particularly parquet floors — dates back for centuries. These days, however, it is infinitely easier to wax floors than it used to be. To begin with there are a wide variety of finishes manufactured by the paint industry which produce handsome floors. Then, there are the modern wax products, designed to be used with these finishes.

Any wood floor, after it has been completely finished, should have a foundation coat of paste wax applied. Wax of this type is generally preferred when a power machine is used for polishing. Subsequently, either paste or liquid floor wax may be used with good results. These contain solvents that clean the wood. The film of wax which remains may be rubbed to a high luster. Thus the need for soap and water cleaning is reduced materially — an advantage where floors do not react well to frequent washing.

Self-polishing liquid wax may be conveniently applied with a lamb's wool applicafor or by means of the sprayer attachment of the vacuum cleaner. The valve on the sprayer nozzle readily controls the force and heaviness of the wax mist. Application is best made at a distance of four to five inches from the floor surface. Self-polishing liquid wax — sometimes called liquid, rubless polish — leaves a film of high brilliance when spread over a surface and simply allowed to evaporate.

At last count, there were 132 covered wood bridges still in use in the state of Vermont.

Great-Grandma Lamp Is Back

NEW YORK (INS) — The latest lamps are old-fashioned Victorian styles treated in a new-fangled way.

The Lamp and Shade Institute of America lamp showing in New York reveal3d a large cluster of Victorian globe lamps. There were single globes, double globes and half globes, all of which blend in well with the currently popular early American and provincial styles in room decoration.

But there have been some changes made since great-grandma's day. The modern treatment turns out taller, simpler lamps and the materials used differ greatly from the old-fashioned idea.

As a matter of fact, some of the globe lamps have been so streamlined theycould be used with the sleek look of contemporary settings, as a softener to tone down the austerity of modern decor.

For those with short memories, the basic look to Victorian lamps is a glass globe pierced by a chimney of clear glass that once held a flickering flame.

Nowadays a half-caste lamp that fits in both with early American and Victorian styles retains the globe but iliminated the chimney. A Federal brass eagle proudly nests atop the globe.

In just about all cases the heavy floral decorations that once cluttered up double glass globe lamps have been banished. Instead the two glass spheres, one placed ab the other, are shown in either all-white frosted or hobnail glass, or in untrimmed but highly fashionable pastel shades.

No Seats Behind a Post in Montana Sports Arena

Imagine a sports areana which seats up to 15,000 spectators, not one behind a post. Such a structure was completed recently at Montana State College.

Key feature of the building is its timber done, 300 feet in diameter. This is a record - breaking span for glued laminated timber construction — the technique used in fabricating the dome. The network of glued laminated arches and purlins, soaring to a peak of 90 feet, rests on columns standing outside the perimeter walls of the arena.

Do It the Easiest Way

Painting can be easy if you know the little tricks. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D. C., has an interesting booklet called "How to Paint in A.B.C.'s". A copy will be sent upon request.

Shut Hot Air Out of House

In most homes, this can be done by closing the house up as tightly as possible in the morning to keep sunlight and hot daytime air from warming the cooler air that has entered the house during the night.

Even during long, mid-summer heat waves, there is often as much as a 20-degree difference in temperature between the coolest early morning hours and the hottest part of the afternoon.

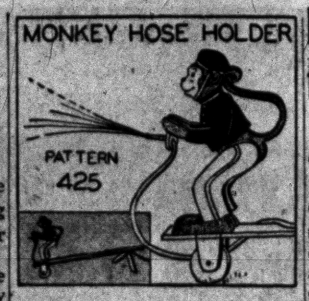

The method of capturing cool night air works best in a well-insulated house. Thick mineral wool—at least four inches in ceilings and three inches in the walls—slows down the penetration of outside heat.

Owners of existing houses can have mineral wool insulation blown pneumatically into these areas. Batts and blankets are available for installation by home-owners or professionals where the wall or ceiling construction permits the material to be fitted in place.

Once a house has insulation and outside shading, a good routine to follow for more summer comfort is:

1. Close all windows before the sun has had a chance to warm up outside air.
2. Draw shades, curtains, or drapes tightly on the sunny side. The heavier and more opaque these are, the more effective they are.
3. Keep doors closed throughout the day. Teach children to go in and out quickly.
4. Use kitchen exhaust fan to get rid of cooking heat and moisture. Automatic clothes dryers also should be vented outside.

Roll the hose to any spot and this gleeful monkey in bright jacket and cap will hold it tirelessly. He will delight all who pass. Pattern 425, which gives acntual-size cutting and painting guides, is 25c. Packet 27 of five patterns for gardener's helpers including this handy monkey holder and roller is $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service charge.

New Color, Shape for Thermometers

To keep attractive track of indoor temperatures, new units introduced by Minneapolis-Honeywell come in a variety of shapes and an array of colors that provide a decorative note in any room setting.

Styled by Henry Dreyfuss, the four wall models and two that are designed for desk or table-top service. All feature an easy-to-read round dial 1⅞ inches in diameter and a sensitive, accurate scale that ranges from 30 to 110 degrees Fahrenheit.

Included in the models intended for hanging on the wall are: the "Circlet"—circular shaped and coral in color; "Patrician"—square and bright yellow; "Essex"—diamond and pastel green, and "Coronet"—round and sandalwood in shade. Both stand-up models are black. One, the "Rondelle," is a circular-shaped paperweight; the other, the "Executive," is a trim rectangle.

Modern Equipment Keeps Basement Livable

ideas have made basements entirely livable and healthful. Proper grading and waterproofing of exterior walls and floor slab have insured water-tightness.

Electric dehumidifiers keep the air dry in humid summer months. Conservatory-type windows flood today's basements with sunlight and, when areaways are terraced and planted—sometimes glass covered—such windows go far toward bringing the garden into the house.

Color Changes Shape

When Floor Sanding Follow the Rules

On Sanding Hardwood Floors! First, please remember that the finest finish cannot make a poorly sanded floor look well. Research and surveys conducted by the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association, has resulted in the following recommended procedure for sanding all species of hardwood floors:

★ ★ ★

"Floors of the Northern hardwoods — Maple, Beech, Birch — shall be sanded after all other trades are finished. They shall be sanded with a heavy power-driven sander. The floors shall be swept clean. For the first cut, the floor shall be traversed in both directions, going with the grain of the flooring — using No. 2-½ sandpaper.

★ ★ ★

"Follow with No. 1-½ sandpaper and then with ½, finishing with No. 00 sandpaper. All cuts shall be with the grain. Finish sanding across the strip will not be permitted."

Portable Fan Has Many Home Uses

Engineers at Arvin Industries suggest using a 14-inch fan to increase the efficiency of a circulating fireplace, cool a slide or movie projector or hasten the drying of paint and varnish.

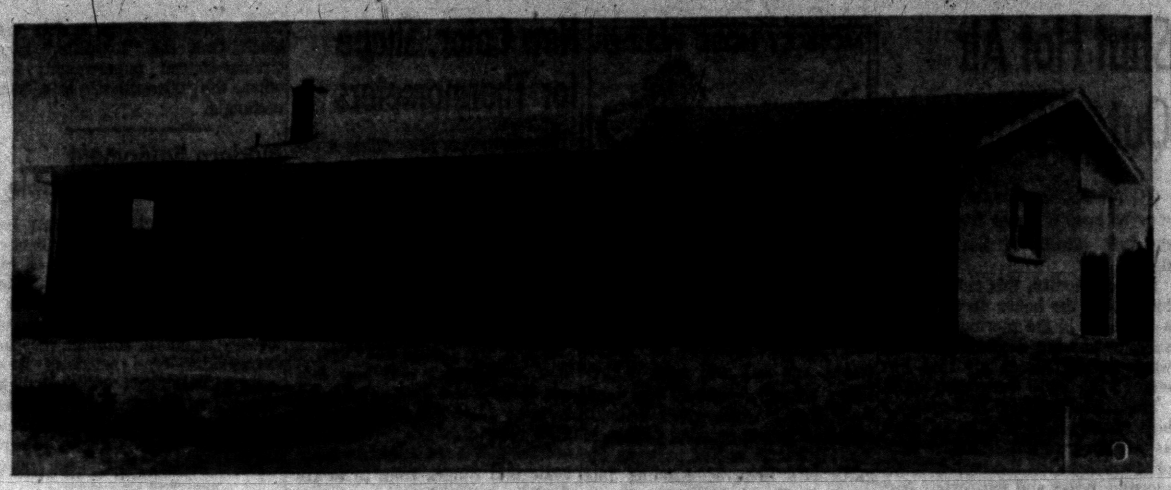

Placing the fan so it blows air through one of the lower vents on a circulating fireplace will speed the flow of air through the system and warm a room faster. In this instance, the fan acts much like a furnace blower.

Many low priced film projectors do not have fans built into them. If the heat is not carried away, slides will warp and the projection will be distorted.

By directing a fan at a painted or varnished surface, the drying time often can be cut in half.

PLEASANT LAKE WOODS — Within the next five years there will be over 300 homes similar to this one built in the Waterford Township subdivision of Pleasant Lake Woods. Earl E. James, broker and developer of the area on the east side of Pleasant Lake, says 99 homes are planned for the first section. The face brick three-bedroom homes have full basements and two-car attached garages. In the rear of the garage is a patio that can also be entered from the living room. Other features are colored fixtures in the baths, hardwood floors and a front kitchen. Black topped roads and a central water system will be installed. No lots are less than 90 feet. Prices of the houses range from $16,000 to $20,000. The model is open from 1 p. m. to dark each day.

Gleaming Golf Balls

Before re-painting golf balls, remove the old paint. Dip the balls for a few minutes in a warm solution of lye, a fifth of a can of lye to a quart of water. Add the lye to the water and use a glass or iron container — not an alurinum or tin one. Stir occasionaly with a wooden stick. Follow the paint removal by rinsing, scrubbing and drying. It's wise to wear rubber gloves during this process. Refinish your golf balls with two or three coats of exterior enamel.

A satisfactory paint job might easily depend on whether or not the painter has read the label on the paint can. Everything printed on the label is important, and has been carefully thought out by the manufacturer.

Have Light or Dark Stain

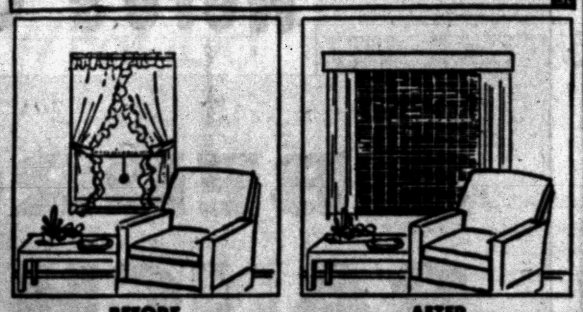

When an oil stain of the type that is used on interior wood surfaces is too dark, it can be lightened by thinning it with turpentine. A paler tone can also be produced by wiping off excess stain before it has set. A stain that comes out too light, can be darkened by another coat.

About 11 per cent of Americans live on farms.

Homemaking Hints

BEFORE AFTER

If you have a single, small window on a wall, you can camouflage the small size of the original opening with a bamboo blind or window shade extending about two feet on each side of the window. Your draperies can be designed to frame the blind, not the window.

Colonial Student Lamps Are in Fashion Again

The "Colonial" student lamp, vintage 1875-1900, is being spotlighted this year for lamp fashion revival. The classic model is a half-globe glass shade and chimney on a metal stand.

But modern manufacturers have same, just change the material. Some designes have walnut or maple stands supporting single or double dome-shaped glass shades.

There's Gold in New Kitchen Accessories

The sunshine shades ranged from an exotic 24 carat gold cloth apron set to yellow mops, cannister and trash baskets as 615 members of the National Housewares Manufacturers Association displayed their wares.

Although housewares manufacturers have been changing colors as often as Paris fashion designers switch silhouettes, they have made a great discovery. It is that pink, turquoise and, this year, yellow, make style news, but a large portion of the housewife populace prefers white.

The most glamorous items at Atlantic City's Convention Hall was the gold apron set, a "His" and "Hers" combination. The man of the house would wear a bartender style, his wife a waist model.

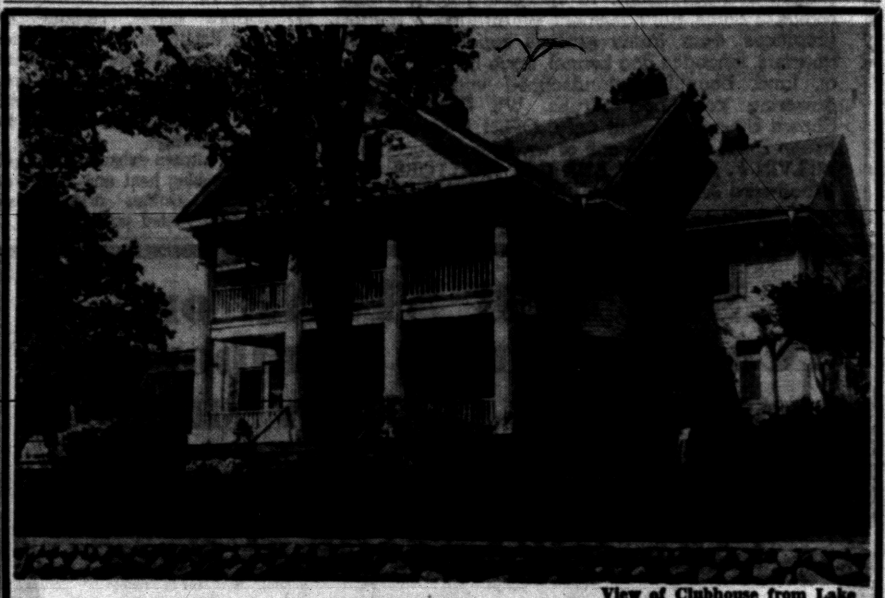

The aprons actualy are made by applying gold leaf to rayon jersey, leaving them soft and supple. In case you want to keep way ahead of the Joneses, the price is a measly $100 for the set.

Ceiling Tile Traps Sound

Celotex Corp., Chicago, has come out with a new sound-quieting ceiling tile, which is designed for do-it-yourself installation. The 12 to 12 inch tiles are nailed or stapled to 1 inch or 3 inch furring strips. The company says each tile provides sound traps that absrob up to 20 times more noise than an ordinary ceiling.

No More Grass to Mow With Wooden Patio

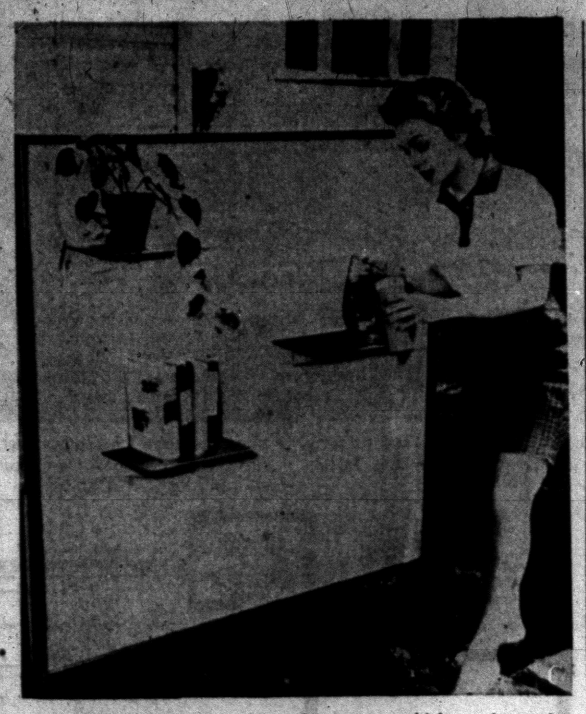

Do you have a rocky yard that just refuses to grow a proper lawn? Then, maybe you need to install a patio deck of durable Douglas fir two-by-fours. There is no further upkeep and no record of a wood deck every having to be mowed.

★ ★ ★

Just be sure you have a sturdy foundation of larger fir dimension pieces as a frame to hold the two-by-fours. Leave drain space between each one of about a quarter inch. Don't paint or stain, just let the wood weather to an attractive gray.

Latex and Vinyl Joined

For the first time, latex from rubber and vinyl upholstery have been combined to form a new cushioned upholstery material U. S. Rubber announces. Called "Naugafoam," it is a heat-sealed sandwich with ⅜-inch foam rubber in the middle, colored vinyl on top and cotton sheeting on the bottom. The upholstery is shaped into quilted channels and can be used for covering house furniture, boat seats, front trim of bars, restaurant booths, etc.

OUTDOOR SCREEN — Attractive screens which can be used to provide privacy for a patio, screen the wind, cut off the view of an unattractive area, or merely add a decorative touch to an outdoor setting can be built easily by the home craftsman. Lightweight and easy to move, the screen is a 4' square panel of "Peg-Board" in a framing of grooved 1" by 2" lumber. Angle irons at the corners strengthen the framework. The legs are sections of metal fence posts which extend 1' from the bottom and are pushed into the ground to hold the screen upright. With accompanying "Peg-Board" fixtures, the screen can be equipped with shelves, as in the photo, or hooks from which to hang lawn and garden tools or barbecuing equipment. Material, including two coats of paint, costs about $6 for each screen.

Modernization of Bathroom Eases Work

"I am sorry we didn't do this years ago. I didn't realize how much easier it would be to take care of our new plumbing fixtures." This is a comment made frequently by homemakers after having modernized their bathrooms.

It is the ease with which the new fixtures can be kept lustrous and clean—and the many hours saved in bathroom chores—that makes the most definite impression on the homemaker.

While there are many other advantages in modernizing old bathrooms, such as the beauty and styling of the new fixtures, and the glamour of the color combinations, it is the time saved in routine cleaning that is most appreciated, especially if the old bathroom had a tub on legs.

Particularly in the case of middle aged housekeepers who find it difficult if not impossible to get competent domestic help and who, for this reason, must do their own cleaning, the ease with which the new fixtures can be kept looking like new is especially appreciated.

To make modernization work more convenient for homeowners, plumbing contractors are offering a package deal. They will coordinate the work of all other tradesmen and will make one price to cover the entire job. Thus one monthly payment will take care of everything involved in getting a new bathroom.

To insure a surface that is perfectly smooth, open grain wood such as oak or mahogany requires a filler — no matter what the final finish is to be. The filler is usually applied direct to the bare wood.

Well Planned Ranch Has Comfort Plus Safety

By ANDREW C. LANG

Worried about tornadoes? Or about atomic perils?

Then you are not the one to pass up without further study this attractive modern design.

In it the Detroit firm of Petersen & Ebbert has created an attractively styled and spacious dwelling of unusual quality and charm, and one that has the distinction of offering old-fashioned "cyclone cellar" safety in a completely modern setting.

While it would be stretching the facts badly to call the storm cellar a bomb shelter, it would in fact provide better shelter against any disaster than a mere retreat to an ordinary cellar.

The specially designed shelter, opening off one corner of the basement, is situated beneath an outside terrace, rather than being placed under the house itself. And during ordinary times it won't just stand there waiting for trouble to catch up with it. Completely insulated, it can be used as a cold room. Two screened air vents provide ample ventilation.

But let's not overemphasize what is a comparatively minor detail of a fine, functional home — one that has several custom features sometimes called "extras."

The living room is a typical example of the imaginative planning that makes Design HW-66 such an excellent combination of the conversational and the practical.

The fireplace is positioned so that it occupies an inside wall, leaving two unbroken wall lengths for furniture placement. The style of the fireplace is particularly striking. A raised hearth, set flush in a stacked brick floor-to-ceiling wall, plus three stone shelves, creates an atmosphere of warmth in what is sometimes a stark, simple unit.

A grill in the family room uses the same chimney as the living room fireplace. The family can watch TV in this room in relaxed fashion. Two large sliding glass doors serve as access or view windows to the rear terrace. The family room may be also approached from the kitchen and has a 4-foot cased opening to the living room.

One wall of the nook is devoted to a deluxe built-in with three drawers, enclosed upper and lower shelves and 19 inches of open space above the drawers for the placement of colorful knick knacks or other desired eye-catching items. The oval counter that separates the nook from the kitchen has more open space between upper shelves and counter area, while the cupboards open from both ends for extra convenience.

A built-in oven and range and plenty of storage space are among the kitchen features. Adjacent to the kitchen is a lavatory that also is convenient to the family room, the basement stairs and a second entrance.

Two rear bedrooms in the sleeping wing make use of a folding wall for separation when desired. When the wall is pushed back, there is a 240 square foot area that accommodates even the most social and active of children.

Modern functional furniture designed for children's rooms makes it easy to plan them to meet not only their sleeping but study and hobby requirements.

The master bedroom has sliding glass doors to a private terrace, a large separate bath with stall shower and vanity unit, a large wardrobe closet and another storage closet just outside the bedroom door. The other full bath has a double vanity unit and a separte linen closet.

The area occupied by the house is 1,803 square feet exclusive of the garage. It's 22 feet 6 inches from front to rear and a little over 68 feet long. When the garage dimensions are included, the frontage is 89 feet.

The garage is attached to give an "all house" appearance, adding considerably to the wide, rambling lines of the structure. Also important is the ease of access to the garage from both the front and the rear of the house.

The basement has two entrances, one from inside the house, the other from the rear, just off the terrace. This extra entrance to the basement has many advantages, not the least of which is its convenience for children who can go up and down stairs without going into the house.

The laundry and furnace room is separated from the rest of the basement, and contains not only the laundry equipment, furnace and water heater but a lavatory and a closet.

There is a complete kitchen and snack bar next to the laundry room, with the rest of the basement a recreation area with a built-in TV, a long built-in seat along the opposite wall and plenty of space for games of all sorts, including shuffleboard.

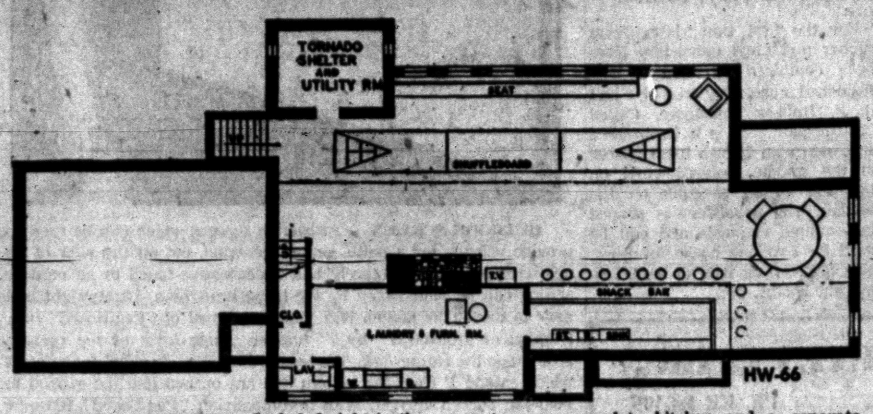

For a house that combines both quality and charm, this one can't be beat.

Even though the architect has gone to great lengths to provide an excellent basement design, HW-66 can be built over a crawl space or a concrete slab.

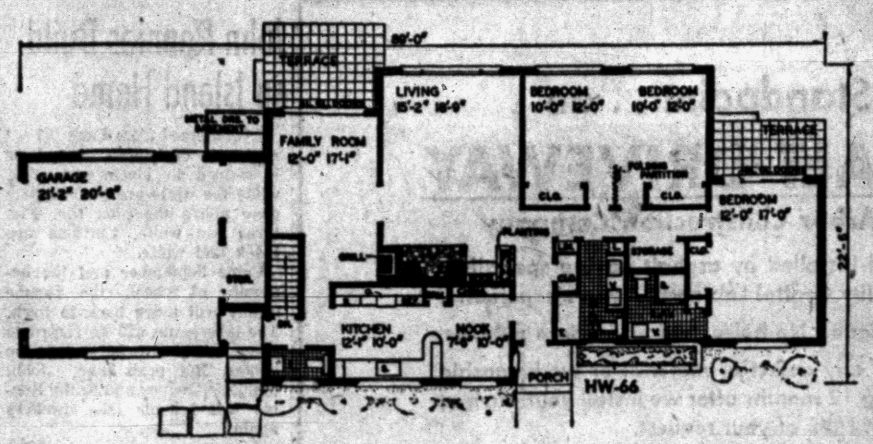

A copy of the Study Plan will be sufficient for your contractor to give you an estimate of the cost of building this house with or without a basement. This will help you to determine which to choose.

SPACIOUS DWELLING — Red and white brick and vertical siding add charm and sturdiness to this spacious dwelling. In the house there are 1,803 square feet of space, exclusive of the two car garage. Living rooms are placed at the rear.

UNIQUE BASEMENT — Included right in the plans of this house is a tornado shelter which doubles as a cold room. It is built under an outside terrace. Other special features of the basement are a complete kitchen and a separate laundry and furnace room. Look at the size of that snack bar!

IMAGINATIVE PLANNING — The architect used imaginative planning in this design. Combining both the conversational and the practical, the house is well thought out. Notice the back sleeping area that can be one or two bedrooms by means of a fodling wall.

Use Paneling Correctly

If your living room has a ceiling that is too high, it should be paneled horizontally, with the result that the ceiling will appear closer. Type of pattern selected and color of finish will depend upon other factors. If the room gets lots of natural light, then a dark or russet wood, such as inland red cedar, incense cedar, or larch will fill the bill. A darker room demands a lighter wood, such as Engelmann spruce, white fir, sugar pine, Idaho white pine, ponderosa pine, or lodgepole pine. Douglas fir is an intermediate class.

Plan Faucets Outside for Easy Watering

Got enough lawn faucets around your house and garage? Authorities on lawn and garden care stress the importance of adequate and frequent watering of lawns, gardens, and shrubs. A sufficient number of lawn faucets conveniently located is an inducement to frequent watering during the summer and thus is an important aid to proper care of growing things.

An adequate number of lawn faucets makes it unnecessary to drag long lengths of hose to various parts of the lawn and garden in hot summer weather.

Many older houses have an inadequate number of lawn faucets. The installation of additional cold faucets for the lawn and garden, and possibly a hot water line for the garage, would be a great convenience for all members of the family.

When lawn faucets are installed in colder climates they should be equipped with a stop and drain valve so that they can be shut off and drained when freezing weather arrives.

Some of the newer types of lawn faucets are so constructed as to be non-freezing. With this type of a valve, no draining is necessary.

Volcanic Peak Large

HONOLULU — Mauna Loa, the 13,680 foot high volcanic peak located in Hawaii, is believed to be the world's largest mountain in point of its total volume.

Kentile announces a new styling in its solid vinyl woodgrain planks — random shades of limed oak. This resilient tile flooring comes in sections four inches wide by 36 inches long.

NEWS VIEWS

I just picked up the hair-raising news that beards are making a strong comeback. Veterans in the facial fuzz business say that such chin-ticklers as Vandykes, goatees, Sforzas and Shenandoahs are coming back like an echo. The Barbers' Journal estimates more than 200,000 sets of whiskers are being pampered in the U.S. today.

A New York psychiatrist says he thinks this "growing of a beard represents modern man's attempt to regain his once dominant position in society over women." In other words, the beards are an attempt to save face. However, a razor manufacturer claims there are still fifty million men using some sort of shaving gear to remove their bristles. Either they don't feel dominated . . . or they've given up.

The New England Baker's Association plans to glamorize all its salesgirls. And a little more frosting on the cakes probably wouldn't hurt, either.

There's a lot of pleasure in the thought of acquiring a new home. But there's a lot of trouble and hard work connected with the job of finding the RIGHT home . . . unless you follow the example of thousands of Pontiac families and turn the job over to us. Our big organization, our long experience make satisfaction in home-hunting a sure thing.

Midwest Gets Nat'l Title Office

The opening of a new National Title Division office was announced today by Russell H. Doolittle, Pontiac Branch Manager. The new operation, located in Detroit, will be the third of its kind established by Lawyers Title. The other two are in New York City and Chicago.

Mr. Doolittle stated that the National Title Division is the most expansive field operation in the organization. It acts as a clearing house and routing center in coordinating the coopany's 39 branch offices and 225 agents in providing the special title services necessary to real estate transactions in distant parts of the country, such as the sale, purchase, or leasing of property by an individual or a giant corporation.

"Among the special services which are routine to the National Title Division are the tedious and involved transactions of large corporations in establishing one or more new plants in various parts of the nation and aiding in the title needs of employes who must sell their homes and purchase new ones in the area of the new plant.

"A company will often buy or lease a series of new plant sites —such as the major oil companies — and arrange financing through one investor. This type of transaction calls for a multitude of intricate steps to be taken simultaneously such as title searches, closing the transactions and issuing the policies, all by a certain deadline and irrespective of the many obstacles and difficulties involved," explained Doolittle.

"In today's ever expanding economy and business growth the customer demands, and it is necessary that he receive, this special attention that only the National Title Division operation can extend," he concluded.

SPACE-SAVING DOORS — Folding doors that have endured 250,000 test openings and closings without a sign of wear have full-length hinges extruded from Bakelite vinyl resins. This is more flexing than such doors receive in a lifetime. Designed for use as space-saving doors or room dividers, the new doors have vertical panels made of kiln-dried wood 7/16 of an inch thick. Regular size panels are three and one half inches wide and the giant size panels are five and one half inches wide. Panels are available in Alaska cedar, Western red cedar or Philippine mahogany. The vinyl hinges have T-shaped edges that are securely anchored in slots in the edges of the panels (left photo). By extruding the hinge of tough Bakelite vinyl resins, resistance to cracking and tearing during frequent stressing and over a wide range of temperature was obtained. The vinyl material also resists the chemicals found in household cleaners and waxes, as well as paints and lacquers. Light in weight and easy to install, the new folding doors are suspended by gliders from a track at the top of the opening (right photo). No tracks are needed on the floor. The new space-saving doors are furnished, completely assembled, in a package containing upper track, hardware (including screws, gliders and stud-and-bullet catch), track backing, matching wood valance, door handles and installation instructions.

Remodeling Increases Value

A recent study shows the market value of homes increasing as much as $2,000 for each $680 spent in modernizing.

Most of this invested money is obtained from mortgage-lending institutions eager to loan money to homeowners undertaking projects involving the use of quality materials such as hardwood, ceramic tile and brick.

Banks, building and loan associations, finance companies and others offer borrowing plans that will make money available to homeowners immediately. Most of these loans are made for basic improvements involving permanent changes such as modernizing the kitchen or adding a waterproof ceramic tile bathroom.

One large agency makes this typical proposition: If you need $2,200 in order to improve the kitchen through the purchase of new appliances, installing a stain-proof tile countertop, and the construction of built-in closets, you can obtain this amount for 36 months at a monthly cost of $70.27

The first installment needn't be paid for two calendar months from the date of the note and the money can be made available to you, the borrower, to pay for materials as delivered and for work as it progresses.

In effect, you become your own contractor in this type of arrangement called by most lenders a "direct loan." The borrower can make substantial savings on materials and labor as the result of having the cash to spend.

U. S. Houses Getting Bigger by the Year

Tight credit has stirred up false criticism of the American home, says Norman P. Mason, Commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration.

★ ★ ★

"Authorities on housing are blossoming like flowers in the spring," Mr. Mason says. "But unfortunately, the nature of their remarks is often more entertaining than factual."

The Commissioner points out that many people claim the American home is getting smaller. "This is not so," he asserts. "Since 1950 the houses financed with FHA insured mortgages have been getting bigger and bigger."

The typical new house in 1950 had 983 square feet of floor space, FHA figures show. The average today has jumped to 1,250 square feet. Additional bathrooms and bedrooms account for much of the extra footage.

In 1950, for example, only one new house in three had more than two bedrooms. Now three of every four have at least three bedrooms. New houses in 1950 averaged slightly more than one bathroom. Today they have at least 1.5 bathrooms and many areas average as high as 2.1 bathrooms per house.

Be sure to have undercoats dried properly before applying hard-finished coats of paint. Otherwise you are apt to see checking or alligatoring of exterior paints.

Wood Kitchen Gaining in Popularity

There has been a remarkable increase since 1950 in use of wood for kitchen cabinets, reports the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Now, 88 per cent of all kitchens built in the U.S. are wood, compared to 75 per cent in 1950.

Gaining favor are such full textured, lovely grained and character woods as Douglas fir and west coast hemlock. Finished naturally, these woods have a soft, rich, relaxing golden color, sometimes corn or champagne toned.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

MIDDLE COST luxury is offered by this three-bedroom two-story house. It includes an el-shaped dining and living room, large windows, liberal overhangs on both floors and an open porch. Each of the three bedrooms has cross ventilation. It is Plan PL26AP, by Architect Samuel Paul, 89-51 164th St., Jamaica 32, N. Y.

New Colors Speed Spring

Of the countless materials for rejuvenating interiors one of the most satisfying, both from an esthetic and utilitarian point of view, is ceramic tile. For one thing there are about 200 different shades of primary and auxiliary colors in this permanent, maintenance-free wall and floor covering.

Because color is such a crucial factor in the total effect of any interior decorating project, keep in mind these fundamental rules:

1. Successful use of color is achieved by a balance of colors of different intensities and values. A room in which all the colors are light and grayed is usually weak and uninteresting. A room in which the predominant areas of color are "strong" either light or dark) is harsh and monotonous.

2. Walls, ceilings and floor coverings are large areas that form the basis of any color scheme. Generally these expanses should be soft and grayed. As such, they are easier to live with, and they form a background that combines well with the stronger colors of the furnishings and accessories.

3. "Pure" (strong) colors form the accents in a room because a small amount of such a color will balance a large area of soft, grayed color. Notice how occasional chairs, vases, flowers, pictures and small accessories can be brilliant in color and much lighter or darker without destroying the unity of a color scheme.

4. There are three types of color schemes: Contrasting, similar and monochromatic (various values and hues of one color). All are equally successful, and their use depends on the individual and the mood to be expressed.

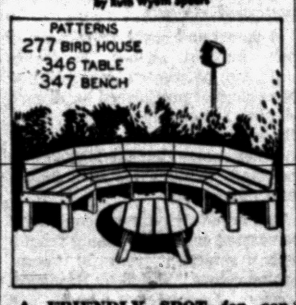

5. Choose colors you like, whether they're in vogue or not. Violate the rules if your own tastes dictate rebellion. It's your home and you've got to live in it.

Aids Against Weather

The signs that keep us on the right track when motoring are weather resistant because they have been phosphatized before being painted. This provides a special base for the final coating which must be especially durable.

In line with the modern liking for a "fun area" in the home, many householders are ignoring the possibility of an unsightly furnace spoiling what might be a recreation room. The furnace is made the focal point of attraction.

★ ★ ★

In line with this, industrial finish engineers have developed special finishes in strking colors which resist heat, scratching and marring, and which are easy to keep clean. They go on quickly and dry faster than those formerly used. Furthermore their beauty has increased their desirability to the home owner.

Bet Your Roof Is Soft Green

Americans still prefer green on their rooftops, although their tastes run more to soft, muted tones than they did 15 years ago, a national study shows.

The study, undertaken in 1956 by the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau, a manufacturers' association, shows that almost one-third of the asphalt shingles shipped from plants were in soft, blended greens.

A similar study made in 1941 revealed that 20 per cent of the asphalt shingles that year were in a bright, solid green. More than 20 per cent were hexagonal in shape.

Preferences for color differ in various regions of the United States, according to the study. On the Pacific Coast, light gray was most popular, while homeowners in the Northwest preferred solid black or blue - black and gray blends.

In the Southeast, straight white led with 24.8 per cent of the shingles sold, and in the Southwest, white shingles totaled 16.9 per cent. In both the Southern regions, solid color shingles were preferred.

Never use shellac outdoors. It turns white even when used as an undercoat. It has many uses for indoors painting.

Planks Make Wall Design

If your bedroom could use a visual "pickup," why not try redecorating it with wall paneling applied so as to produce unusual patterned effects?

A smart and novel appearance of bold vertical stripes, 16 inches wide, can be created by alternating two colors of prefinished hardboard planks, for example. This fresh decorating approach can be used in other rooms, but the bedroom is especially suitable for such individual expression.

The broad-stripe motif can easily be carried out with pleasing results with a selection from 10 "companion colors," styled by Raymond Loewy Associates, which are available in Marlite planks.

Planned to provide a variety of harmonious combinations, the colors include dusty pink, light aqua, dark aqua, smoke, mist gray, sage green, foam green, parchment, sunlight yellow and polar white. They offer many choices for intermixing two tones of one color or pairs of different colors.

The predecorated colors of Marlite planks, sold at lumber yards, have character and yet are muted so that one can "live with them" for years. This long-life feature goes hand in hand with the durability which a protective baked plastic finish gives the planks.

Highly resistant to soil and wear, the panels are kept clean by occasional damp-wiping, thus avoiding periodic redecorating. A soft-luster finish adds to the predecorated hardboard planks' suitability for bedroom, as well as living rooms and dens.

★ ★ ★

With blocks of the same paneling, a checkerboard pattern of alternating colors can be laid out to accent one wall. Other variations can be devised with wood grain patterns, with one wall of blocks in basket-weave design and other walls in planks.

Better Start Right!

In painting the wall of a room, it's best to begin from the window wall and work back into the room so that the reflections on the wet paint will reveal any spots not properly coated. Begin at a break in the wall such as a corner.

Sweaters Star Bulky Wools for Male Set

School sportswear for boys doesn't have to be heavy and dark to be functional. As a result a wide array of colorful, distinctive prep-styled fashions in soft wool fabrics have been designed.

The sweater craze centers around bulky wool knits for young lads. Heavy, vertical-striped wool sweaters in school colors will make a big hit.

And soft wool shetland sweaters with crew neck also rate attention. Long-sleeved wool sweaters with convertible collars have that dressed-up look that is important this year.

Another popular item will be cotton sports shirts. A manufacturer of boys' wear predicts that stripings in boys' shirts will be important this year. These will range from the very narrow stripe to a bolder "giant" motif. There's also a trend toward texture in cotton plaids.

Also ringing the school bell will be sports shirts of boldly printed corduroy, wool and nylon, silk and cotton, plus flannel.

A little-or-no-iron collection of shirts in checks, chest-border motifs and regimental stripings will please mother.

But It's Still Shellac

Lac—the substance from which surface-protecting shellac is made—has four harvesting seasons in India. The April and May crop is called "baisakhi" for the month "Baisakh." Next in importance is the October-November crop, called "katki," from the month of Katik. Less important harvests are the "jewthi" crop of late May and June, named for the month of "Jeth," and the November-December "aghano" harvest, christened for the month of "Aghan."

Two narrow windows look like a big picture window when "joined" by a plate glass mirror.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: How old was Methuselah?

ANSWER: Methuselah gained his niche in history as the oldest man mentioned in the Bible. Genesis says this Hebrew patriarch died at the ripe old age of 969 in the year of the Great Flood. Samaritan manuscripts list his age as 720, and other writings report he died six years before the flood. The Bible says he was the grandfather of Noah, who built the Ark.

Many scholars today think that the idea of such an advanced age has its roots in Babylonian mythology. Some Babylonian heroes were said to have lived 36,000 years. Other scholars think that the writer who credited Methuselah with such a great age had in mind a "year" only a month or so long.

Claim Dutch Able to Handle Population

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A former Amsterdam newspaperwoman says Dutch resourcefulness, courage and optimism will enable Holland to cope with problems of overpopulation.

Even with 11,000,000 inhabitants, labor is in short supply in the Netherlands, she said.

Noting population estimates between 13,500,000 and 15,000,000 for the Netherlands by 1980, Mrs. Runyon said:

"It has become a tradition for Dutchmen to settle in other parts of the world . . . but emigration is by no means the solution to the problem."

Board Clears for Construction

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO—The way was cleared last night for construction on the new shopping center with 120,000 feet of floor area and for a new industrial plant. The new developments will be located just south of the village limits.

Washington Township Board members, meeting in special session, approved petitions to rezone opposite sides of Van Dyke for the two new ventures.

Eighteen acres on the east side of the main artery, former Romeo Gardens property, was rezoned from agricultural residential to industrial. This property includes a warehouse and crosses a railroad track.

The Interstate Manufacturing Corp. plans to remodel the existing building and move in its plastic plant from the east. The company already has one factory north of town, having purchased the former Romeo Orchards processing plant.

Promoter Harry A. Bell, speaking for Detroit investor Bernard Edelman, said plans for the new shopping center will proceed immediately, now that the 12-acre site has been rezoned from agricultural-residential to business.

Tentative plans call for a national chain supermarket, a chain department store, national variety store, and a drug store, in addition to seven local-area stores.

"I will welcome inquiries from local contractors about ground preparations, etc., as well as construction work," he added.

Bell, who is associated with Smith, Bisschop and Co., in Detroit, said the supermarket hopes to open next spring.

July Auto Sales Under Estimate

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales in July declined somewhat below early estimates, but the prospects still are good for a 1957 total of six million retail deliveries.

Anything less than six million assemblies and retail deliveries will be disappointing to the car makers.

Most of them counted on 6½ million assemblies and retail sales this year, despite the fact nearly 29¾ million cars were built and 28½ million sold during the five years through 1956.

Yet six million assemblies this year will yield a good profit for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, the industry's major producers.

Somewhere out of the tremendous upsurge in car demand and competition for bigger shares of the market during the last five or six years has come an industry impression that there is no ceiling over the car market. You may hear it said with growing insistence that 6½ million retail deliveries is a normal annual volume of a normal car market at this time.

But the car makers have not yet been able to devise a program under which the automobile market could be stabilized.

The market still has its peaks and valleys and mass production requires so much long range planning that output cannot be turned on and off on short notice without large financial losses.

An example of the ups and downs of factory car output is given in industry records of recent years. In 1952 the industry built 4,337,000 cars. The next year output jumped to 6,135,000 units. The fantastic volume of nearly eight million assemblies in 1955 was followed by a drop to 5,802,000 units last year.

And sales volume does not always follow factory output. Last year 5,955,248 cars were registered for use. In fabulous 1955 sales were nearly 800,000 units behind assemblies.

Farmers to Meet for Annual Day

2 Specialists to Tell Experiences at 2nd Swine Day at MSU

EAST LANSING — The latest know-how in controling swine diseases will be given to farmers at the 2nd annual Michigan Swine Day to be held Sept. 10 at Michigan State University.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium of Anthony Hall and will end with a tour of the farms to see swine research in action, announces Ed Miller, MSU extension swine specialist.

According to Miller, two main speakers have been invited from outside Michigan to tell their experiences in the hog business. LaVerne Johnson, a hog farmer from Clare, Ill., will tell how he produces meat type hogs. Dr. Robert M. Claflin, DVM, of Purdue University, will talk on "What We Have Learned about Atrophic Rhinitis."

Other interesting topics will be; progress in swine feeding; pasture or concrete for raising hogs and a swine program for Michigan farmers.

COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANK OF Pontiac, Pontiac, Michigan.
Notice of Shareholders' Meeting.
Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to call of its directors, a special meeting of the shareholders of Community National Bank of Pontiac will be held at its banking house at 30 North Saginaw Street, in the City of Pontiac, State of Michigan, on Tuesday, September 17, 1957, at 10:00 a.m., for the purpose of considering and determining by vote whether an agreement to merge the said bank and The Orion State Bank, located in the Village of Lake Orion, State of Michigan, under the provisions of the laws of the United States, shall be ratified and confirmed; and for the purpose of voting upon any other matters incidental to the proposed merger of the two banks. MISS JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT — Judy Letson, 16, of Bessemer, Ala., was crowned "Miss Junior Achievement" for 1957 at the 14th annual Junior Achievers Conference held at Indiana University in Bloomfield, Ind. To be eligible for the beauty contest, Judy had to pass comprehensive written and oral examinations on business practice and procedure.

Would Abolish Negro County

Change in Constitution of Alabama Intended to Disperse Population

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Senate yesterday approved a constitutional amendment which would abolish Negro-dominated Macon County.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Sam Englehardt, would divide the land and population of Macon County among five neighboring counties.

The bill, which now goes to the House, is designed to break up a heavy concentration of Negro residents in the county where members of that race outnumber white persons nearly 7 to 1.

If approved by the House, the amendment would be submitted to the voters in a statewide referendum timed to coincide with the Democratic primary next May.

The abolition if approved, would become effective four years later.

Englehardt, a Citizens Council leader, also is the author of an anti-Negro voting measure aimed at Tuskegee, the county seat, and enacted into law earlier in this session.

That measure narrowed the boundaries of Tuskegee to leave all predominantly Negro residential areas outside the city limits. All except 10 of the 420 Negro voters were affected.

Meanwhile, the Tuskegee Civic Assn. has asked that a temporary injunction aimed at halting the Negro boycott of Tuskegee's white merchants, resulting from Englehardt's bill, be dissolved.

Two other bills relating to the racial problem were passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House for consideration.

One would allow sheriffs and jailers to refuse to take custody of federal prisoners, including any who might be charged with civil rights violations. This was aimed at the civil rights measure now pending in Congress.

The other would prohibit the payment of welfare funds for more than one illegitimate child in a family.

Mickey Cohen Says U. S. Bars Visit to Rome

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former gambler Mickey Cohen says he wants to go to Italy with writer Ben Hecht to work on a movie script of his life, but he's having passport trouble.

★ ★ ★

"The Department of Justice seems to think maybe I'm going over there for something other than the reason I'm really going," Cohen said yesterday.

He said Hecht has a villa in Rome and "we thought if we could get away from telephones and interruptions we could get the story finished."

★ ★ ★

Cohen said he was quitting his job as manager of a nursery. He said he never owned any part of the nursery, "only worked there."

Sewage System Wins State OK

Pine Center Subdivision Plant Gets Go-Ahead From Health Dept.

Approval to operate the sewage disposal system in Pine Center Subdivision, West Bloomfield Township, has been granted by the State Health Dept.

The tests were to determine whether the filter bed into which the sewage would drain is satisfactory and would not pollute Pine Lake or adjacent beaches.

The health department ruled the system could be used until such time as the proposed Farmington interceptor is built. At that time the present sewer mains would be linked to the interceptor.

The decision will mean relief for most of the 23 homes in the subdivision which have been plagued with non-functioning septic tanks.

Still to be determined are the situation of three homes which are not joined into the new sewer system. Owners of these homes have refused to pay a tap-in fee to be hooked to the mains. They contend the entire cost should be borne by the builder.

Will Television Ever Stop Showing Boring Reruns?

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—While everyone is worrying about the fall shows, let's worry about our summer shows. Not to mention next summer's shows. And some of next winter's while we're at it.

★ ★ ★

Precisely when will this terrible bore called "reruns" end?

Ever? Probably not. Not soon, anyway.

The awful truth of this sad dregs of TV creativity, or lack of it, is that television, even in the so-called off-season (which we're not certain would be such an off-season if there were a few good shows to keep the great mass of the public interested enough to keep sets turned on), is not the place for experiment.

In the old radio days, even in early TV, costs were not so out of proportion that some new notions mightn't be tested for use in the regular season.

Today, the cost of putting on a TV show in summertime is just as discouraging as producing one in December. The only way networks save money with "live" shows is to hire lesser names, at smaller salaries, to star in the hours peopled during the September-June "season" by hams slicing off up to $50,000 per show; and in certain cases, even more. This is the season for "economy."

CHEAPER WRITERS

Economy means hire writers who don't rate major money. This means writers who don't rate major consideration.

★ ★ ★

It means second to tenth-rate comedians borrowed from the minor cafe leagues, singers who aren't strong enough to support their own shows in the regular season, creative people who have to work through the summer to make up for laying off since last summer, choreographers who can't afford to fly off to Fire Island, emcees who haven't discovered the south of France.

But the costs of stagehands and electricians and studio lights and vice presidents and everything from Trendex to trifles remains as fiscally constant as Christmas "loot," if you won't mind an out-of-season cynicism. The terrible answer generally is —go buy some old TV series and run it again.

Does it really matter if it's been on two or three networks previously?

It does, but it's cheaper this way, and this way is getting to be the permanent way.

Graham to Hold Open Air Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham has urged New Yorkers to shun spiritual death and transform the city's streets into "paths of God."

Graham urged 16,500 persons at Madison Square Garden last night to join with him in an open air meeting at Broadway and 42nd Street on Sunday, Sept. 1, when his New York crusade ends. The crusade began May 15.

"What a symbol it would be in this city of teen-age violence, gangsterism and labor racketeering," Graham said, "to see a crowd of people singing the gospel of Christ in Times Square."

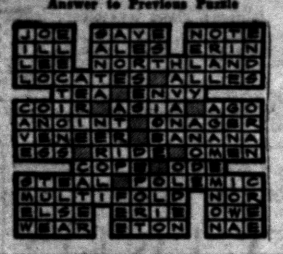

At the same time he offered the city the same challenge that Moses offered the people of Israel as they reached the threshold of the promised land: "Choose you this day, life or death."

There were 458 "decisions for Christ" last night.

Heckuva Screen Bill

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "A Heckuva Program," the Ribault drive-in movie said in advertising a quadruple feature. The pictures — "Hell's Half Acre," "Hell's Crossroads," "Hell's Outpost" and "Hell Fire."

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.
