Straley Reinstated as Chief by Order of Circuit Court

Tells Union's Side of the Story

AP Wirephoto

STEEL TESTIMONY—Arthur Goldberg, chief counsel of the Steelworkers Union, gives testimony to the President's three-man inquiry board yesterday. Today it was industry's turn to give its side of the drawn-out controversy. R. Conrad Cooper, right, is chief negotiator for the steel industry. Yesterday's testimony was marked by bitterness and a thinly-veiled threat of renewal of the strike when the Taft-Hartley injunction expires Jan. 26.

Demands Called Inflationary

Puts Blame on Steel Union

WASHINGTON (AP)— The steel industry said today that union demands for an inflationary settlement have been the block to a steel-labor peace pact.

R. Conrad Cooper, speaking for the industry, told President Eisenhower's inquiry board that instead of reducing wage-benefit demands to keep within the industry's productivity gains, the union has only recently boosted its settlement terms.

Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and chief industry negotiator, said:

"The union now, in the face of an urgent need for settlement that would eliminate the economic uncertainties arising from a continuation of the dispute and the possibility of resumption of the nationwide strike at the end of the injunction period, seeks to impose even more burdensome terms of settlement.

"This is the very antithesis of union responsibility and proves beyond question that it is the union's policies and bargaining practices that have been solely responsible for the continuing deadlock."

The three - man board, headed by University of Pennsylvania Prof. George W. Taylor, is gathering data for a report to be submitted to Eisenhower on Jan. 6.

In open hearings Monday the panel heard the Steelworkers Union outline its position in testimony marked by bitterness and a scarcely-veiled threat of a renewed steel walkout in late January.

The union labeled the steel firms "industrial isolationists" out of step with the rest of American management.

David J. McDonald, union president, hinted that when the present 80-day Taft-Hartley law injunction expires on Jan. 26, the union may strike only part of the industry in a divide and conquer strategy.

Asked to be specific on plans for a renewed strike, McDonald said only "Would Ike tell Khrushchev?"

McDonald said nobody can accurately predict what the union may do if there is no settlement when the injunction runs out. The court order stopped a record 116-day strike in early November.

The exposition of the union's side of the dispute lacked any ray of hope for an early settlement.

Board Chairman Taylor said the industry and union are now so hopelessly deadlocked there is no point in even trying to get them together on an agreement before the Jan. 6 report to Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

The government will conduct a poll of a half million Steelworkers on Jan. 11-13 on the various company "last offers" of settlement. These are all alike except for minor details.

★ ★ ★

McDonald said returns from a union postcard straw poll of workers is running about 95 per cent in favor of rejecting the company offer. But he sent nearly a hundred union subordinates back to their home areas with instructions to "go to work to roll up as big a vote as possible against the companies' last offer."

Agree on March for Arms Talks

Long - Recessed Parley to Resume; Russians Get Concession

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet Union and four Communist neighbors will reopen long-suspended East - West disarmament talks with five Western nations in Geneva March 15.

The Soviet Union Monday night agreed to the starting date proposed by the five Western nations —the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy.

The Soviet reply, handed to French Ambassador Maurice Dejean, said Bulgaria, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania would be the other four Communist nations at the table.

Disarmament talks sponsored by the United Nations have been suspended since September 1957 because of Soviet refusal to participate in negotiations in which the Communists did not have numerical representation equal to the West.

The U. N. subcommittee which carried on previous negotiations was made up of the Soviet Union and four Western nations, the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

★ ★ ★

Following a series of unsuccessful attempts to get the talks going again, the U.S., British and French foreign ministers agreed at the Geneva Big Four conference last September to give the Reds an equal number of places at the conference table.

The new talks will not be sponsored by the U.N., a fact which caused considerable concern among the smaller nations at the last U.N. General Assembly.

But the Assembly finally agreed to go along with the big powers and referred all disarmament proposals before the assembly to the 10-nation group.

Chief among the proposals the committee will take up are Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for total disarmanent over a four-year period, a British plan for disarmament by stages, and a U.S. plan which is still being drafted.

★ ★ ★

The big stumbling block again is expected to be the question of controls and inspections to insure compliance with any steps toward disarmament that might be agreed on.

Press, Merchants to Honor 1st '60 Baby

The Pontiac Press, with the cooperation of local merchants and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, again plans to shower gifts on the first baby born in the Pontiac area during the new year.

★ ★ ★

Registrations of babies born after midnight, Dec. 31, can be made with the Chamber of Commerce. The registrations must be made by both parents and the attending physician, and specify the time and place of the birth.

The earliest arrival among those babies registered will be announced by The Press later next month.

Rockefeller Will Support Nixon; Second Spot Out

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Nelson A. Rockefeller will actively support Richard Nixon for president, the New York governor said. However, he would not accept second place on the ticket.

Rockefeller said his decision against running for vice president on the GOP ticket was "final and irrevocable," and a high source said the vice president's job was contrary to Rockefeller's temperament and training.

Meanwhile, Vice President Richard M. Nixon's strategy advisers today weighed possible moves to counter Democratic efforts to pin an "old guard" label on him.

Nixon, now an almost sure-bet for the Republican presidential nomination, became the target of stepped up Democratic attacks over the weekend identifying him with the conservative wing of the GOP.

"Nelson has always been in administrative and planning work," an associate said. "Being governor of New York affords him a much better opportunity to carry on in that field than the office of vice president.

The source described as "wishful thinking" on the part of Democrats there was a split between Rockefeller and Nixon and that there was "bitterness" in the governor's withdrawal from the White House race.

"The governor and vice president have been on the most friendly terms," a high state Republican said. "They referred to each other by their first names."

Scores of telegrams, telephone calls and letters have been received at the executive offices in Albany since Rockefeller quit the presidential contest. One caller from Texas asked an aide to the governor whether Rockefeller might be persuaded to change his mind.

Rockefeller has brushed aside with a smile such questions as—

"Would you accept the nomination for President if you were drafted by the convention?"

★ ★ ★

The governor will do everything possible to bring about the election of a Republican president next November, one of his political advisers said. He pointed to a sentence in Rockefeller's withdrawal statement which urged all party members to devote "their thoughts and energies to furthering party policies."

Request Denied for 20-Day Stay Delaying Return

City Has No Appeal, as Matter Is Termed 'Discretionary'

By MAX E. SIMON

IONIA — Herbert W. Straley was officially reinstated this afternoon as Pontiac police chief.

Ionia County Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis, approved an order returning Straley to the post from which he was fired last April by the Civil Service Commission.

Judge Davis refused to grant a 20-day stay of proceedings which would have held up the chief's return to office.

Approval of the order came during a three-way telephone conference in Ionia between the judge, Straley's attorneys and City Attorney William H. Ewart.

Ewart said he had been asked this morning to request the stay by Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Judge Davis, in refusing the request, said that granting of the stay was a "discretionary" matter, and added that the city does not have the right of appeal.

★ ★ ★

A conference will be held tomorrow in Pontiac, called by Mayor Rowston.

Among those attending will be City Manager Walter K. Willman, Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, Straley, the mayor, Ewart and Straley's attorneys.

Judge Davis earlier this month reversed Straley's firing by the Civil Service Commission.

It appears unlikely that Straley will try to return to his job immediately.

In a letter to Ewart yesterday, Straley asked for an opinion on the duties, responsibilities and functions of the city's police chief and public safety director.

"I am, of course, ready and willing to enter upon my duties immediately," Straley said.

"However, it is obvious that it would be to the best interests of the citizens of the city and certainly in keeping with my sworn duties as police officer that my return to office be smooth and orderly, and that the functioning of the department not be disturbed," Straley said.

Straley said an opinion from Ewart would aid in accomplishing this "and avoid any possible misunderstanding or unnecessary conflict."

Noting that both offices are provided for in the city charter, Straley said the charter "requires some defining and clarifying in order to assure effective administration and thus proper law enforcement."

Straley called an interpretation of the charter "imperative."

Straley was stripped of command powers by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman Nov. 12, 1958 and given minor clerical tasks until his suspension last February.

It was Eastman who prepared charges against Straley for City Manager Walter K. Willman to present to the Civil Service Commission.

Straley asked for clarification on matters of purchasing, personnel assignment, abolishment of departments.

"You will appreciate that I do not wish to overstep my bounds and infringe on the director of public safety," Straley said. "And yet I do wish to know what my duties and responsibilities are so that I may devote my full efforts toward satisfactorily fulfilling them."

This was in sharp contrast to earlier statements by Straley who promised "Eastman won't be around when I come back."

They're No St. Nicks

GRAVESEND, England (UPI) —Ernest E. Taylor, 36, was fined five pounds, ($14) yesterday for swearing at a policeman while Taylor was dressed as Santa Claus. His brother Sidney, 39, also dressed as Santa, was fined three pounds ($8.40) for pushing the cop.

Children See Father Slay Mother, Self

A Hazel Park mother shot yesterday by her husband who then took his own life, all before the terrified eyes of their five youngsters, died today of her wounds at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Morgan R. Stacy, 40, never regained consciousness after the father pumped eight bullets into her body and then blasted himself with the remaining bullet.

★ ★ ★

She suffered wounds of her head, right arm and shoulder. She was shot with a .22 caliber revolver which her 41-year-old husband then turned on himself.

He ended his life by firing the last bullet into his brain.

Hazel Park Police Lt. Harold Hill said the shooting, which occurred in the family home at 23303 Carlisle St., climaxed a weekend of arguing. Hill was told that Stacy had been drinking heavily, and had whipped his eldest daughter with a leather belt.

The daughter, Geraldine, 14, ran screaming to the nearby Hazel Park police station after the shooting. She and four younger children, Ralph, 12, Fred, 9, Earl, 8, and Marvin, 5, stood by helplessly as their father emptied the revolver.

Police said they had been called to the Stacy home several times in the past to settle domestic squables.

★ ★ ★

Stacy was an assembler for Burroughs Corp. in Detroit.

A sixth daughter, Mrs. Barbara Rivard of Hazel Park also survives.

Winter Is Back After Taking a Brief Holiday

He arrived in Pontiac today in a blustering snowstorm bringing a low of 26 degrees at 8 a.m. The light snow will diminish to flurries tonight.

The weatherman predicts temperatures will drop to 24 degrees and rise to near 34 Wednesday.

Northern lower Michigan was cleaning up this morning after a sleet storm which knocked out electrical power to between 3,000 and 4,000 homes in a 12-county area.

A spokesman for the Oakland County Road Commission said all county roads were wet but "in good shape" after today's snowfall.

He said some salt-spreading trucks took to the roads about 2:30 a.m. when it began to freeze, and the remaining trucks were all out by 7 a.m.

Northeasterly winds at 5 miles an hour at 10:15 this morning will gradually shift to northerly by Wednesday at 15-20 miles.

At 2 p.m. the temperature reading was 30.

Snow, Ice, Wild Seas Batter Northeast States

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaden skies walloped the northeast with snow and ice today, while wind-whipped seas hurled up tides that flooded many coastal communities.

Hundreds of families were evacuated from waterfront homes in New England and others were marooned in lowland areas. Rowboats were put to use in the streets of some towns.

The storm played havoc with communications and transportation throughout the area. Power lines also were battered, while many homes were without heat or light. At least seven deaths were reported in the area.

More than a foot of snow buried parts of New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine and northern New York. The Rochester, N.Y., Gas and Electric Co. described ice conditions as the worst in its history.

Thousands of homes lost telephone and electric service.

HIGH TIDES

Along the Atlantic shoreline, high tides engulfed roads and communities ar far south as New Jersey, where a two-mile section of one highway was under water.

Hundreds of families were marooned in lowland area of Greater Boston, and Coast Guard and police removed occupants from homes in several towns.

In Marblehead, Mass., a recently remodeled apartment house began collapsing shortly after two families were evacuated.

Air travel was disrupted, and rail and highway traffic also was affected.

At least four deaths in New England and three in New York State were attributed to the storm.

It was expected to continue to nightfall and then taper off.

U.S. Puts N-Test Ban on a Day-to-Day Basis

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(AP)—The United States freed itself today to resume nuclear weapons tests at any time—but with prior notice to the rest of the world.

The decision was reached at a top level conference of 15 administration officials, headed by President Eisenhower.

It put this country in a position to take a tougher stand in negotiations with Russia at Geneva over discontinuing nuclear tests. What the administration did was to begin what a presidential statement called a "period of voluntary suspensions of nuclear weapons tests," beginning Jan. 1.

During this period, the President said, the U.S. will "continue its active program of weapon research, development and laboratory-type experimentation."

"Although we consider ourselves free to resume nuclear weapon testing, we shall not resume nuclear weapons tests without announcing our intention in advance of any resumption," Eisenhower said.

At the moment the United States is operating under a moratorium on tests which lasts until midnight Thursday.

It has been in effect for 14 months. The White House said the moratorium was a definite commitment covering a definite time, as distinct from the new "voluntary suspension" which carries no deadline.

Eisenhower accused Russia of clouding the Geneva talks, now in recess until Jan. 12, with "intemperate and technically unsupportable" information.

He said the Soviets have injured chances of agreement for halting nuclear tests, but this country nevertheless will continue taking part in the discussions.

TEXT OF STATEMENT:

Following is the text of Eisenhower's statement on nuclear weapons tests:

"The negotiations with respect to the cessation of nuclear testing have now been in progress for 14 months. While now recessed, they will soon be resumed.

"No satisfactory agreement is yet in sight. The prospects for such an agreement have been injured by the recent unwillingness on the part of the politically guided Soviet experts to give serious scientific consideration to the effectiveness of seismic techniques for the detection of underground nuclear explosions.

"Indeed, the atmosphere of the talks has been clouded by the intemperate and technically unsupportable Soviet annex to the report of the technical experts. The distinguished American group of scientists who compose the United States delegation wil make public from the verbatim records of the conference the facts which will completely refute this Soviet document.

"We will resume negotiations in a continuing spirit of seeking to reach a safeguarded agreement. In the meantime, the voluntary moratorium on testing will expire on Dec. 31.

"Although we consider ourselves free to resume nuclear weapon testing, we shall not resume nuclear weapons tests without announcing our intention in advance of any resumption.

"During the period of voluntary

State Hospital Fires Attendant

4 Others Suspended in Reaction to Party-Brawl Christmas Eve

A Pontiac State Hospital attendant has been fired for brawling and staging a Christmas Eve all-night drinking party with four other attendants that aroused a ward of 35 mental patients.

Discharged after a hearing yesterday was Donald L. Thurnham, 23, of 406½ Main St., Rochester.

He told a Pontiac Press reporter today, "I have no comment. I don't agree with the charges, I don't agree with your paper and I don't agree with you."

Suspended through Dec. 31 for drinking on duty were the four attendants, three of them from Pontiac: Bob Jackson, 31, of 151 Rutgers; Donald E. Foster, 32, of 240 N. Cass Lake Rd.; Gilbert A. Leal, 25, of 4624 Elizabeth Lake Rd.; and Arthur D. Brown, 28, of Detroit.

DENIES TAKING PART

Foster also denied he took part in the raucous affair that was reported by patients to the day male nursing supervisor Christmas Day.

A hospital official denied charges that a mental patient who interrupted the revelry was manhandled.

The attendants told the patient to undress and go back to bed, the hospital spokesman said.

Richard Luehmann, hospital personnel director, gave this account of the party and fist fights:

"The hearing determined that Thurnham apparently brought the whisky and the drinking took place in his office.

"He picked a couple of scraps with the other four attendants. He jumped on the back of one of them and Leal came to help the other man.

"Thurnham swung at Leal and threatened the others. The men broke it up."

'REGRETTABLE THING'

The hearing board was made up of Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital superintendent; Luehmann and Mrs Ruby Eargle, superintendent of nurses.

Luehmann said: "It is a regrettable thing that happened. There will be no more drinking.

"Other attendants are disgusted, too, because it is a bad reflection on them. It is not condoned."

Britain's Aneurin Bevan Undergoes Operation

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, 62-year-old deputy leader of Britain's Labor party, underwent a stomach operation today.

A medical spokesman said he was expected to remain in hospital for about two weeks. The nature of the surgery was not disclosed.

Five Judges to Take Oaths Tomorrow

Three incumbent and two new Circuit Court judges will take their oaths of office tomorrow as scheduled, but not before State Supreme Court Chief Justice John R. Dethmers.

Dethmers informed Judge Clark Adams by phone today that due to a death in his family he is unable to attend the special 3 p.m. ceremony at the Courthouse in Pontiac.

Instead, Supreme Court Justice George Edwards will administer the oaths.

To be sworn in are incumbent judges H. Russel Holland, Adams, William J. Beer and new judges Frederick C. Ziem and Stanton G. Dondero

6-YEAR TERMS

The five will begin six-year terms officially Friday. But because of the holiday they won't assume their posts until Jan. 4.

Tomorrow's historical ceremony in Judge Frank L. Doty's large courtroom will be for members of the Oakland County Bar Assn., which is conducting the ceremony and for friends and relatives of the five judges.

Philip Pratt, association president, said he regretted that lack of space will prevent the public from attending.

After the judges take their oaths, while placing their left hands on an open Bible held by Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., five past presidents of the Bar will help the judges into their black judicial robes.

The past presidents will be David C. Pence, Gilbert H. Davis, William R. Beasley, Verne C. Hampton and William B. Hartman.

Then the association will present engraved gavels to all five judges, marking the ceremony.

DOTY BOWS OUT

Retiring Judge Doty will preside at the ceremony for the last time before the bench.

He retires Thursday night after 32 years as an Oakland County circuit judge.

Also attending will be Judge Theodore F. Hughes, whose six-month term expires at the same time.

Come On, Nik, Meet Us May 16

Invitation Now Official; Next Summit Move Is Up to Russ Premier

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The United States, Great Britain and France formally proposed to Russia today that the four powers open a summit conference in Paris May 16.

The next move is up to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said there has been no indication yet whether the new date is acceptable to the Russian leader.

The western powers agreed on May 16 a day or two ago, but they withheld an actual announcement until they could notify Khrushchev.

NOTES DELIVERED

This was done in similar diplomatic notes, delivered in Moscow today, from President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

If Khrushchev agrees to their proposal, the western trio probably will get together in Paris a day in advance of the opening of their session with the Soviet premier.

The Big Three originally had suggested convening a summit conference on April 27. Since the meeting would have conflicted with Russia's huge May Day celebration on May 1, Khrushchev countered with April 21 or May 4.

An April 21 meeting was unacceptable to Eisenhower and De Gaulle, as the French president plans to be visiting the United States and Canada about that time. Macmillan would have been tied up early in May with a British Commonwealth conference scheduled for May 3 to 14.

Condemned to Die, Wins Creche Prize

CHICAGO (AP) — A Nativity crib scene, designed by an inmate awaiting death in the electric chair, was judged Monday the best Christmas decoration by a prisoner in the Cook County Jail's holiday contest.

The winner was Larry Oden, 27, who is scheduled to be electrocuted on Jan. 15 for the slaying last April 18 of Detective Roy Carner Jr. during a tavern robbery. He received a four-layer cake and a crate of apples for first prize.

The prisoners designed their decorations from materials available — cigarette wrappers, food, straw from prison brooms, etc.

Woman Rescued After Crash

A Leonard constable returning home from work early this morning saved the life of a 29-year-old widow whose car swerved off Rochester road, rolled over and threw her face down in a water-filled ditch.

Millward E. Strong, 54, was driving home from work on the night shift at Pontiac Motor Division when he saw the auto overturned in the ditch. Other cars had already passed, he said, but when he rolled his window down he saw someone moving.

He rushed down the embankment and found Mrs. Helen Myres of 2630 Kingston Rd., Addison Township, partially under water.

He dragged the young mother of two children to his car where she lost consciousness, reviving minutes later. Romeo State Police were called to the scene, and Mrs. Myres was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She suffered a broken left shoulder and is listed in fair condition today.

Mrs. Myres owns Roblynn's patent medicine store in Leonard. Her husband Lewis was injured fatally a year ago when his car left the road and hit a tree just west of the Romeo village limits.

Troopers said the curve where the accident took place on Rochester road at Army road in Addison Township was icy, and snow was falling at the time.

Donderos to Tell Doctors and Bar About Seaway

A well known father and son team will tell the story of the St. Lawrence Seaway Jan. 6 when two Oakland County professional groups hold a special joint dinner in Bloomfield Hills.

They are former Congressman George A. Dondero, who represented the county for 24 years and fought for the seaway bill, and Stanton G. Dondero, his son, who will become a county circuit court judge on Jan. 1.

The 7 p.m. dinner will be staged by the Oakland County Medical Society and Bar Assn. It will be at the Kingsley Inn.

★ ★ ★

The senior Dondero was so instrumental in making the seaway a reality that a channel was named after him.

The dinner next month is part of the society's speakers series.

320 May Die as 1960 Arrives

National Safety Council Estimates Traffic Toll for 3-Day Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council today said that 320 persons may die in traffic accidents over the three-day New Year's holiday weekend.

The council's statement came in the wake of the heavy traffic death toll over the Christmas weekend, which was below its pre-holiday estimate.

A final count showed that 493 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the 78-hour Christmas holiday weekend — from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday. The council had estimated a possible toll of 530.

★ ★ ★

In its New Year holiday estimate, the council said an estimated 285 traffic deaths would be recorded during a nonholiday period of identical length.

Washington Twp. Ex-Supervisor Dies After Crash

The two-car crash in Shelby Township Saturday which cost a Troy man his life Sunday claimed its second victim this morning.

Dead is one-time Washington Township Supervisor Grover J. Powell, 70, of 5686 Cherokee Dr., Washington Township. He served 24 years as Township supervisor before resigning to become Macomb County Welfare Commissioner in 1954.

The first victim of the accident was Thomas A. Smith of 6083 Blackwall Rd., Troy. Both died in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Powell's wife, Bernice, who is postmaster of the village of Washington, was thrown clear by the impact and suffered only minor bruises.

The accident took place at the intersection of Auburn and Ryan roads. Powell had told Shelby Township police he had stopped and saw no other car approaching before entering the intersection.

Dense fog apparently obscured Powell's car from Smith who collided with it, officers said.

Ortonville Man Injured as Car Strikes Tree

An Ortonville man was injured slightly this morning when his car went out of control on a curve of Montcalm street near Spence street and struck a tree, said Pontiac Police.

Searches Detroit in Vain for Dog Lost at Railyard

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (AP) — An exhausted 17-year-old girl came back from Detroit last night with only a leash and an aching heart to show her grueling search for her lost dog.

Judy Ferren's German shepherd, Jinty, is still lost.

Judy arrived in New York last week from her home in Southampton, England, bringing her year-old dog with her. Mrs. Gladys Ferren, the girl's mother, met her and they started on the train to Mrs. Ferren's home here.

Judy rode with Jinty in the baggage car from New York to Buffalo. There they changed to a train for St. Thomas that lacked a baggage car. Jinty rode in a baggage car to Detroit and was to be transferred to a train that would take her to St. Thomas in time for Christmas.

But Jinty bolted the car when the door was opened and disappeared in the New York Central railyards in Detroit.

Judy told her mother, "If I could only get to Detroit. Jinty would know my voice if she heard it and would come to me. She won't come if anyone else calls her."

So Judy got up early Sunday morning, took her passport and hitchhiked 114 miles to Detroit. She told her mother by telephone she had a dollar and would live on hamburgers until she found Jinty.

But despite help from NYC officials and long hours wandering through the foggy New York Central yards and around the depot, no one answered her calls of "Jinty, Jinty, Jinty."

A NYC official bought her a ticket home late yesterday.

JOHN VERHEY

Waterford Twp. Trustee Named

John Verhey Replaces Charles Pappas; Was Runner-Up in Election

The Waterford Township Board last night appointed John Verhey, 33, as trustee to replace Charles Pappas, who has moved from the township. Verhey's term will expire in April 1961.

He lives with his wife and two children at 4432 Cheeseman St. A lifelong resident of Waterford Township, he is employed by the Detroit Edison Co. as a meter installation inspector.

Verhey was a close runner-up among nine candidates in the April 1959 election for the Township Board trustee position which pays $20 per meeting.

Most of last night's meeting was devoted to a discussion of the future water-sewer project, the consideration of 12 applicants for three expired positions on the Township zoning board, and the establishment of a public skating rink.

Recreation Director Tom Belton requested that plans be expedited for construction of the rink at the Fish Hatchery. Board members tabled the matter until they receive recommendations from the Recreation Board, which meets Jan. 6.

There are 4,647 miles of railway in Alabama as compared with 2,152 miles in Arizona which contains more area.

Yeggs Crack Safe in Waterford Twp.

Yeggs have cracked a safe at Oliver's Supply Warehouse, 150 S. Telegraph Rd., Waterford Township police reported today.

★ ★ ★

Owner, James Scribner, 896 Hazel St., Birmingham, said the amount of cash taken would be known after completing an inventory.

★ ★ ★

Reopen Talks Today on City Bus Strike

A new negotiating session was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today in an effort to end the 24-day Pontiac bus strike.

★ ★ ★

State mediators arranged the meeting at the Hotel Waldron for representatives of National City Lines, Inc., and 38 striking drivers and mechanics of Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

★ ★ ★

A dispute over wages has also resulted in strikes against National City Lines subsidiaries in Saginaw and Kalamazoo.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations are scheduled to resume tomorrow in Saginaw.

We'll Hit 'Em if We Must, Says Skipper

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The man whose responsibility it will be —should the need ever arise—to unleash the deadly Polaris nuclear-armed missile has declared, "If we ever have to hit, we'll hit. And there won't be a second's hesitation."

Cmdr. James B. Osborn, 41, is skipper of the USS George Washington, the first ballistic missile nuclear submarine which will be commissioned Wednesday at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

CMDR. OSBORN

"The Washington is a deterrent force whose purpose is to let an enemy know we can hit him as hard as he can hit us," Osborn said. "And when you reach the point where the winner is hurt as badly as the loser there's no point in fighting."

★ ★ ★

A native of Stockton, Mo., the stocky Osborn attended the University of Missouri for two years and won appointments to both the Naval Academy and West Point, but chose the former because he could enter a year earlier.

★ ★ ★

He was commissioned an ensign 12 days before Pearl Harbor and served on surface ships until 1943 when he became a submariner.

★ ★ ★

Osborn took a postgraduate course at Annapolis and won a master's degree in mechanical engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. One of his specialities is jet propulsion engines — the power behind the missile.

Osborn was first commanding officer of the USS Tunny, a conventional submarine, but the first of the guided missile carriers.

Since his assignment early this year as prospective skipper of the George Washington, Osborn has had little time for anything but the ship. It has left him little opportunity to be with his wife, the former June Hanna of Crystal City, Mo., and his two teen-age daughters.

Safe Robbers Grab $3,100

Pontiac Police Probing Burglaries at Pair of Business Places

Pontiac police detectives today are investigating two safe burglaries in which some $3,100 was stolen.

★ ★ ★

Louis Tenuta, owner of West Side Recreation, 199 Orchard Lake Ave., found his safe missing when he opened for business yesterday.

The 42 by 24 inch metal safe contained about $2,700 in cash, he said.

Detectives said they suspected that more than one man took part in the burglary since the missing safe weighed about 400 pounds.

The burglars entered by breaking a rear window and dragged the safe to a waiting vehicle through a rear door which had been forced open from the inside. The safe had been in the basement.

★ ★ ★

A burglary was also discovered at Louie's Auto Parts, 986 Oakland Ave., by an employe, Ray Collins of 442 Kenilworth St.

Burglars pried open a safe and took an estimated $400 from it, according to Det. Sgt. John A. DePauw.

Entry was gained by breaking a side window, he said.

Ponder Revising City Jail Bond

Brief, Routine Agenda for Commissioners at Tonight's Session

A proposed revision in Pontiac's year-old jail bond procedure tops a brief agenda of routine matters for the City Commission tonight.

★ ★ ★

The revision, requested by the Municipal Court judges and Commissioner Milton R. Henry, would rule persons arrested on bench warrants ineligible for jail bonds.

The revision also specifies that jail bonds are available only to persons arrested for on-the-sight violations of city ordinances, not state or federal laws.

"The purpose of the jail bonds is to give persons arrested for traffic violations or misdemeanors a chance to stay out of jail at least until they are convicted," said Henry.

TWO MINOR ITEMS

Only two other minor items are on the agenda, both concerning property matters.

★ ★ ★

One involves future right-of-way for extension of Pontiac road west of North Perry street, the other vacating of a small, unused parcel to Universal Oil-Seal Co., 34 W. Kennett Rd.

Two Avon Twp. Drivers Injured in Smashup

Two Avon Township drivers were injured Monday when their cars collided at Rochester and Auburn roads, according to sheriff's deputies.

★ ★ ★

McAllister Stock, 37, of 425 South Blvd., and Klotylda M. L. Hartshorn, 17, of 680 Auburn Rd., were treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

The Day in Birmingham

2-Year Residence Ruling for Judge to Go on Ballot

BIRMINGHAM—A proposed charter amendment requiring that all candidates for the office of municipal judge be residents two years prior to election will be placed on the April 4 ballot.

★ ★ ★

The decision was made at last night's City Commission meeting.

At the same time, commissioners asked that the charter be made to read that the municipal judge be licensed to practice before the State Supreme Court.

Another proposed charter amendment that would make the office of constable an appointive position rather than elective was tabled until next Monday so the city attorney can clarify it.

60 DAYS PRESCRIBED

If the commission decides that the proposed amendment would be presented to the voters, it should be done at least 60 days before the election, City Manager L. R. Gare told the commission.

Action on the two-year residence requirement for judges was taken because the charter, as it now reads, is not clear on the subject.

Commissioners deferred action on a proposed addition to the Baldwin Library parking lot until a more thorough survey of parking in the area can be studied.

★ ★ ★

The commission felt that until the parking problem already in the area could be solved, the additional lot in the rear of the library would be used by persons other than those going to the library.

Until a way could be found to police the proposed lot for use of library patrons only, the 19 spaces that could be made available wouldn't warrant the expense, the commission decided.

While discussing the additional library parking lot, Commissioner Lance W. Minor asked that the question of additional parking behind the Municipal Building be discussed the next time civic center area parking comes before the commission.

Charles M. Dinger

Service for Charles M. Dinger, 73, of 19116 Hillcrest Blvd., Beverly Hills, will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home, 3975 Cass Ave. Detroit. Burial will be at Evergreen Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Dinger died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Gray, in Nassau Friday.

Controller for the Fred Sanders Confectionery chain, he had been with the company 40 years.

Mr. Dinger was a member of the Detroit Golf Club and the Detroit Yacht Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mayme, his daughter, two sisters, Miss Emma Dinger, and Mrs. Fred Bourquin, both of Ferndale, a brother, August, of Detroit, two grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Conspiracy Charged French Auto Firms

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spokesman for Renault, Inc., and Peugeot, Inc., denied yesterday government charges of a price-fixing conspiracy involving the French Renault and Peugeot automobiles.

★ ★ ★

The two firms, American subsidiaries of French companies, were named with 16 distributors yesterday in a government anti-trust suit.

Robert Valode, vice president and general manager of Renault, Inc., said that despite a recent sales growth Renault still holds a relatively minor place in the huge industry.

"It is therefore difficult for us at Renault to understand how we can be accused of constituting or threatening to constitute a monopoly," he said.

★ ★ ★

The complaint filed in U.S. District Court here said the defendants had fixed wholesale and retail prices and allocated exclusive sales areas to their 700 dealers. It accused them of engaging in a combination involving unlawful contracts in unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce.

Service for Carolyn Thursday

Funeral service for Carolyn Carr, 11-year-old leukemia victim, will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at United Missionary Church. Burial will be at White Chapel Cemetery in Troy.

Her body is at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

★ ★ ★

Carolyn succumbed to the fatal blood disease yesterday after six days in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

During that time, people sent the child nearly 4,000 Christmas cards.

Carolyn was named Christmas Queen last week by the Boys' Club of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

A floral crown which the club gave her will rest in the coffin.

Carolyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Carr, live at 54 N. Jessie St.

"We want to thank everyone, not only for the cards and presents and money they sent Carolyn, but especially for the wonderful prayers offered for our daughter," said Mrs. Carr.

The Carrs have six other children, Bonnie, Earl Jr., Judy, Donna, Sammy and Cindy.

Carolyn is also survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diaz of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Emma Carr of Pontiac.

Overmedicated, Sheriff Protests

Facing Second Drunk Charge, Barnes Says He's a Sick Man

LANSING (AP)—Sheriff Willard P. Barnes, awaiting trial Jan. 5 on a second drunk driving charge, says he is sick and in need of a rest.

The husky, former president of the Michigan Sheriffs Assn. denied reports he will resign from the Ingham County office to which he won election five times.

He explained the latest episode as the result of an "overdose of medicine."

After spening the weekend "up north" at an undisclosed location, Barnes suddenly appeared yesterday before Justice of the Peace Joseph G. Pearce a few hours after a warrant was issued.

He stood mute on arraignment and Pearce entered an innocent plea. Barnes was released on $500 bond posted by Paul Luck, professional bondsman and a former justice of the peace.

The warrant was authorized yesterday by Prosecutor Jack Warren, like Barnes a Republican, on a complaint signed by State Police Trooper Ralph Warnstrom.

Warnstrom apprehended Barnes upon answering a complaint last Thursday that a drunk driver was stuck on a county road southeast of the Michigan State University campus.

Warnstrom reported Barnes "appeard inebriated," that his speech was slurred and that there was liquor in the front of the sheriff's car.

Barnes was not jailed because a sheriff can be arrested only by a coroner. Instead, he was turned over to his deputies, Warnstrom said. The car was towed to a garage.

In October, Barnes was tried in a Williamston Justice Court on charges of drunk driving on U.S. 16. He was convicted and fined $100 plus $125 costs or ordered to serve 30 days in jail. An appeal is pending in Circuit Court, with a hearing set Jan. 12.

Barnes quit as Sheriffs Assn. president after the first drunk charge and before conviction.

U.S. Combine Will Build Textile Plant for Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — An American combine has won a 30-million-dollar "cash on the barrel head" contract to build a textile plant for the Soviet government. It is the biggest deal private American business has made with the Soviets since World War II.

★ ★ ★

The plant—to be built at Kalinin outside Moscow—will be the largest of its kind built in recent years, said a spokesman for Intertex International Inc. of New York City.

He said the Americans won out over a British combine which offered to build the plant 20 to 30 per cent cheaper on three- to five-year credit.

Sidney Scheuer of Intertex International directed negotiations for the American combine which is made up of 40 firms.

The factory will have 50,000 spindles able to handle cotton, worsted and synthetic fibers, the spokesman said. Shipments from the United States are slated to arrive here by the end of the first quarter of 1961.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Crompton and Knowles Corp. of Worcester, Mass., said in New York his firm would begin shipment of four million dollars worth of woolen and worsted looms in late 1960 as its part of the deal.

★ ★ ★

Other principal firms in the U.S. group include Jamed Hunter Machine Co., North Adams, Mass.; Whitin Machine Works, Whitinsville, Mass.; the National Drying Machinery Co., Philadelphia, and Rodney Hunt Machinery Co., Orange, Mass.

3 in 1 Performance!

Tristan, How You've Changed

NEW YORK (AP)—The tenors played musical chairs at the Metropolitan Opera Monday night, and you needed a scorecard to tell who was playing Tristan to Birgit Nilsson's Isolde.

★ ★ ★

When the curtain rose on Richard Wagner's "Tristan und Isolde," Miss Nilsson, the sensational new Swedish star, was being taken to Cornwall by Tristan, sung by Ramon Vinay, a Chilean tenor.

In the second act, when Isolde embraced Tristan, she found Karl Kiebl, a German tenor, in her arms.

In the final act when Isolde gazed upon the face of her beloved, it was a new Tristan—Albert Da Costa, an American tenor.

Why the switches?

Head colds said the Met.

AH CHOO!

Originally, Miss Nilsson, whose Met debut on Dec. 18 as Isolde was a smash success, was to sing with Vinay.

★ ★ ★

But he had a cold and felt he couldn't last more than one act.

What to do? The house was sold out and the Met didn't want to disappoint 4,000 fans who had come to hear Miss Nilsson, described by some critics as the greatest Wagnerian soprano since Kirsten Flagstad.

★ ★ ★

Tenor Liebel was considered next. He also had a cold and felt he could last only one act. With two down and one to go, tenor Da Costa was summoned.

"One act," said Da Costa, who also had a cold.

★ ★ ★

So the Met took the unprecedented way out—a different Tristan in each act. Met manager Rudolf Bing told the audience of his "tenor trouble" before the performance.

No one seemed to mind—there was only one Isolde.

Plymouth Finishes Plant Remodeling

DETROIT (AP) — Plymouth today announced completion of a two-year, multi-million dollar expansion of its home assembly plant and showed off the results.

Harry E. Chesebrough, general manager of Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division of Chrysler Corp., said the interior of the plant was completely rebuilt while production continued.

Changes include the addition of 57,000 square feet of floor space; substitution of body building activities for engine assembly, which was shifted to another plant; installation of rust-proofing, painting and drying facilities; relocation or alteration of almost all assembly and sub-assembly lines.

Chesebrough said the operation resembled a huge game of checkers. One department moved four times in 21 months without losing an hour of production time.

2-Car Pontiac Smash-Up Injures Driver Slightly

One person was slightly injured Monday in a two-car smashup at S. Saginaw and Turk streets, according to Pontiac Police.

One of the drivers, Howard M. Linseman, 20, of 26 Hillsmont St., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released. The other driver, Wayne R. Freed, 18, of 34 Hovey St., was uninjured, police said.

Most of Vets Trust Fund Sold

Surprise Move Brings Flood of Money, but Relief Is Temporary

LANSING (AP) — In a surprise move, Michigan has peddled three-fourths of the 50-million-dollar Veterans Trust Fund for badly needed cash.

★ ★ ★

The mammoth deal, closed late yesterday, signaled a break in the huge logjam of the State Department. Past due obligations of more than 40 million dollars will gush out of the state treasury in the next few days.

However, state officials cautioned that creditors — mostly governments and public retirement systems—with about 50 millions more coming will continue to hold the bag, and overall debt promptly will rise again.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said the two big blocs of U. S. bonds sold yesterday were the toughest to market.

The so-called late maturities, low interest bearers, had a maturity value of $37,570,000. They brought just over 30 millions cash.

★ ★ ★

"The rest of the bonds are as good as cash—no problem at all," Brown said. They are expected to be marketed within a couple of days.

High on the priority list for payment of past due obligations with proceeds from the bonds were:

Local school districts, $24,600,000; the three major state universities, $6,500,000 for December operating allotments; municipalities, $2,100,000 representing reimbursement for 1958-59 veterans homestead property tax exemptions.

Smaller lumps of cash, mostly due local units of government under various schemes for sharing in state revenues, also will be disbursed. Release of a half million dollars in grants to county fairs was approved last week.

American hunters bag more than 45 million wild rabbits each year, making them the largest supply of game in the United States.

France Refuses to Admit That Hawaii's a State

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All Hawaii wants from France is "Liberte, egalite, fraternite"—and the same air mail postal rate enjoyed by the other 49 states of the Union.

This is the nub of a minor contretemps which has cropped up between the youngest state of the Union and the oldest ally of the United States.

Officials here, including Sen. Hiram Fong (R-Hawaii), are confident an amicable settlement is in the offing, possibly by New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

The postal discrepancy came to light recently when Hawaiians protested that French authorities were charging nearly twice as much to send an air mail letter from Paris to Honolulu as to Alaska and the continental United States.

French officials were refusing, from a postage stamp standpoint, to admit Hawaii to the Union.

They classified the islands as part of the remote Pacific Postal Zone and scratched out the notation "U.S.A." on Hawaii-bound mail.

Blasts School Building Plan

McNamara Terms It Penny-Pinching Notion, Dereliction of Duty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said today that the administration's school construction program is a penny-pinching measure amounting to dereliction of duty.

McNamara referred to a report last week by the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) that 132,400 classrooms are needed.

He quoted HEW secretary Arthur S. Flemming as saying pupil enrollment was rising rapidly while construction lagged.

"To acknowledge these stark-cold facts and yet fail to prescribe any effective remedies amounts to dereliction of duty," McNamara said.

"Every single day that the administration procrastinates and pinches its pennies, more than 10,000 children reach school age," McNamara said. "Tomorrow will be too late to help today's school children."

★ ★ ★

McNamara is author of a billion-dollar, two-year program under which states would match federal funds earmarked for school construction to produce an estimated 50,000 to 70,000 new classrooms.

The measure was approved by the Senate Labor Committee at the last session of Congress.

The Democratic leadership has scheduled it for Senate action early next month as the first major legislation to be considered.

U.S. to Take Last Fighter-Bombers From French Soil

PARIS (UPI)—The only three squadrons of U.S. fighter-bombers still based in France will be transferred to Britain starting Jan. 6, the U.S. Air Force in Europe announced Monday.

★ ★ ★

The move will complete the transfer of nine U.S. squadrons decided upon when Gen. Charles de Gaulle refused to allow stocking of U.S. nuclear warheads on French Territory.

The first wing (three squadrons) of U.S. F100 fighter-bombers was pulled out of France in August and the second at the beginning of this month.

★ ★ ★

They were flown to new bases in Britain and West Germany where they can be next to nuclear weapons stocks.

About five per cent of U.S. men over age 18 hold degrees from college.

U.S. Sends Trees to Moscow but Not as Gifts for K

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials have denied that President Eisenhower sent a gift of trees to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The special plane which flew gift trees from Khrushchev to Eisenhower earlier this month had some American trees on board when it returned to the Soviet capital, officals said.

But they said these trees, two or three dogwoods, were sent as replacements for the trees sent earlier to Mocow which died.

Vice President Nixon, when he visited the Soviet Union last July, took with him some dogwoods, a tree which does not grow in the Soviet Union.

Some of these trees died en route to Moscow and the State Department thought the presence of the Soviet plane in the United States afforded a good opportunity to send replacements.

Four to Become State University Regents

LANSING (AP) — Friday marks the formal entry into office of four University of Michigan and Michigan State University Board members elected to their posts last April 6.

Assuming places on the MSU Board will be Warren M. Huff, Plymouth Democrat, and Frank Merriman, Deckerville Republican.

Huff, operator of farms in Washtenaw and Iosco and Ogemaw counties, and Merriman, a dairy farmer, succeed Clark L. Brody, retired Farm Bureau official, and Arthur K. Rouse of Boyne City.

Brody and Rousse, both Republicans, did not seek re-election. Huff will give Democrats a fifth seat on the six-member MSU board, an all-Republican panel before Democrats cracked through in 1955.

★ ★ ★

William K. (Sam) McInally, Jackson Banker, and Frederick C. Matthaei, Detroit sports enthusiast and manufacturer, will begin eight year terms on the U. of M. Board of Regents.

McInally, a Democrat, and Matthaei, a Republican, succeed Leland I. Doan of Midland and Roscoe I. Bonisteel of Ann Arbor, neither of whom sought re-election.

McInally will give Democrats a fifth vote on the eight-member U. of M. board, providing his party with the first majority it ever has enjoyed.

North Carolina was the last of the 13 original colonies to enter the Union.

Ex-Cabinet Member Is Sued for Divorce

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Harry H. Woodring, wife of the former secretary of war and governor of Kansas, filed for divorce Monday, charging extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty.

Mrs. Woodring, the former Helen Coolidge, is the daughter of the late Sen. Marcus Coolidge of Massachusetts.

★ ★ ★

Woodring, 69, a Democrat, was governor of Kansas in 1931-33. He was appointed assistant secretary of war by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 and became secretary in 1936. He held the post until 1940.

The Woodrings were married in 1933. They had three children.

The suit said the couple had agreed on a property settlement.

Whole College Class Will Study Overseas

NEW YORK (UPI) — The entire junior class of Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio, embarked on the French liner Liberte yesterday for 11 weeks of study abroad.

The 80 young women were accompanied by Paul Weaver, president of the 180-year-old college. He plans to visit the heads of all the European colleges the students will attend.

State of Washington has 5,026 miles of railway.

Richard Egan Father

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Richard Egan became a father Monday night. His wife, actress Patricia Hardy, gave birth to a 5-pound, 4-ounce girl six weeks ahead of schedule. The couple married in June 1958.

Pleads Guilty in Link to $8,000 Shortage

SAGINAW (AP) — Mrs. Anne Labelle, 47, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of publishing and uttering in connection with an $8,000 shortage of funds in the Saginaw branch of the secretary of state's office.

She received a $1,000 fine and two years' probation.

Saginaw County Circuit Court Judge Eugene S. Huff pronounced the sentence. The former manager of the branch office still faces six counts of forgery and one of embezzlement.

A niece, Mrs. Laurel Suppes, 22, also faces a hearing on 10 counts of forgery in connection with the shortage.

Death Takes Ex-Chief of French Assembly

ANTIBES, France (AP) — Fernand Bouisson, 85, former president of the French National Assembly, died Monday night at his Riviera villa of a heart attack.

★ ★ ★

Bouisson was first elected to the assembly as a Socialist in 1909. Later he quit the party and served as an independent. He was president of the Assembly from 1927 to 1936.

Death Claims Brother of Late Wendell Willkie

OSHKOSH, Wisconsin (UPI)— H. Frederick Willkie, 69, brother of the late Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president in 1940, died yesterday at Alexian Brothers Home, where he had been hospitalized for six years.

★ ★ ★

Willkie, a former vice president of Seagram Distilleries, did not take part in his brother's campaign against the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, but he had served the government's War Production Board and the State Department.

Southern Ontario Returning to Normal

TORONTO (AP) — South Ontario's power, communication and transportation systems were gradually being restored to normal today in the wake of a crushing ice storm that toppled trees and telephone lines, snapped power circuits and grounded planes.

★ ★ ★

Freezing rain turned to heavy snow Monday evening, hampering crews who worked through the night to repair disrupted power and communication services.

★ ★ ★

The storm hit along a wide front from Lake Huron to the Bay of Quinte.

Rocky's Announcement Places Nixon Way Ahead in Race

Certainly there are widely mixed emotions in the United States at the unexpected announcement of NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER.

Quite naturally, his own warm supporters are unhappy and are filled with regrets. On the other hand, the RICHARD NIXON forces are unquestionably relieved in one sense. Their boy had the inside track and was running well, but the Governor of New York cannot be viewed lightly and the Nixon followers never made that mistake.

ROCKEFELLER packs appeal.

★ ★ ★

The NIXON adherents are sorry that the New Yorker eliminated himself from the vice presidency. He would have made a strong running mate for the top candidate and his name on the ballot would have added prestige and character. ROCKEFELLER has never been smeared by political mishaps or misfortunes and he is an outstanding individual.

★ ★ ★

By this same token, the Democrats are quite happy. They should be. A strong man has taken himself from the picture and the Republican party is bound to suffer. There can be no other conclusion.

★ ★ ★

If the Easterner were available for the vice presidency, there would probably be no GOP contest for that post. However, the field is wide open now and favorite sons are springing up like mushrooms after a summer shower. They're literally everywhere and no one has a particularly noticeable "head start."

★ ★ ★

Michigan has already proposed a Wolverine and the name must be considered seriously. Gerald Ford, of Grand Rapids, is as deserving as anyone that has been mentioned. He is an outstanding young man who possesses plenty of common sense, political sagacity and wide experience in Washington and in legislative activities. Ford makes a very good "first impression" and then wears well. He would be a fine campaigner and if that good looking wife of his lent a hand, she would add appeal to the ticket. Ford could conceivably duck on one basis. If the House goes Republican, he's in line for the speakership. But that hardly seems to be a mathematical possibility at the moment.

★ ★ ★

For a time it looked as though the GOP ticket might be fairly well spelled out in advance. But when Governor ROCKEFELLER eliminates himself from both positions, he leaves one of them wide open. A battle royal looms ahead and there will be plenty of maneuvering in those classic "smoke filled halls" and right out in the open forums, also.

Bureau Points the Way to Better Farm Prices

The American Farm Bureau Federation has taken a step toward improving the farmer's economic position by offering to help farmers help themselves.

★ ★ ★

At its Chicago convention the bureau decided to create a national marketing association which would put the farmer in a better position to bargain with packers, food processors and other big buyers of farm crops. Marketing associations now operate in some states and the bureau will work with these groups and set up new ones to help stabilize prices and income.

★ ★ ★

Delegates expressed concern over farm surpluses which continue to pile up under the present price support program. Over the years the bureau has favored lower price supports and fewer government controls. It again held to that line as the only way to restore free enterprise to agriculture.

★ ★ ★

Marketing associations can't do much with wheat and other basic crops. But they can bring the advantages of co-operation and bargain power to a large number of livestock, fruit and vegetable producers.

"One Summit at a Time, Mac"

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Rap GOP for Own Tactics

WASHINGTON—If President Eisenhower were eligible for a third term under the Constitution and were willing to accept it, does anyone who knows American politics think for a moment that he would not be nominated by the overwhelming vote of the next Republican National Convention?

LAWRENCE

Certainly there would be no contest—there rarely is when an incumbent administration has in its ranks someone of stature who is considered politically eligible to head the ticket.

Vice President Nixon is an integral part of the Eisenhower administration and can defend its record wholeheartedly.

★ ★ ★

All the talk emanating from Democrats to the effect that the Republican convention will be "controlled" because it will have no "contest" and that the nomination of Nixon has been prearranged "by the bosses" ignores what has happened under somewhat similar circumstances in their own party.

Thus, in 1936 there was no "contest" made against the renomination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt—nor in 1940 or 1944.

The Democrats in 1944, moreover, as a result of word from the man "higher up" in the party, ditched Henry Wallace, who had served as vice president for four years. He was certainly entitled to renomination.

★ ★ ★

In fact, he had the necessary pledges of a majority of the delegates before the convention assembled in Chicago.

But the "big boss" of the party said "no," and after some political shenanigans behind the scenes, Wallace was sidetracked, as was also James F. Byrnes. Then Harry Truman was selected.

There is evidence that one of the bosses of the Democratic Party—Sidney Hillman, the man who controlled the machinery of the labor unions in politics at the time—had more to say about the nomination than did any delegation to the convention.

★ ★ ★

The famous phrase, "Clear it with Sidney," was Roosevelt's confidential advice to aspirants for the vice presidency.

Certainly the convention delegates had no chance to conduct any real "contest" that year.

There was some talk in 1948 of withholding from President Truman the Democratic nomination at the Philadelphia convention, and, indeed, to accomplish this objective, the name of Gen. Eisenhower was brought forward by many prominent Democrats, including James Roosevelt.

But the general made it clear he wouldn't run, and President Truman was able—as is the leader of any incumbent administration, as a rule—to head off opposition and prevent any real contest.

For a long time it has been a tradition that the administration in power controls the nomination at the convention which is to choose a successor. This is true because so many of the officeholders have influence locally with the party.

Win or lose, the candidate of the party which has been in control of the White House finds himself compelled to stand on the record of the existing administration.

★ ★ ★

In 1952, when Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois was nominated, he was in a quandary for several days after the convention adjourned as to whether he would try to campaign wholeheartedly on the Truman record. He decided finally to do so, and lost.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Green Sickness Moves Ahead to Grey Version

Chlorosis in young women was the "green sickness" because the young women were anemic, but not so pale as they were greenish. They were teen-age girls.

Women with anemia today are generally fortyish and they have the gray sickness — at least I call it the gray sickness. Scientifically it is called (hold onto your hats, girls) hypochromic anemia.

DR. BRADY

Just the same, women with this type of anemia have that gray look — I mean their complexion is as gray as the complexion of girls with chlorosis was green.

Girls with the green sickness were usually well stac. . . — I mean, well blanketed with subcutaneous fat, which makes the feminine form curvaceous, smooth and soft. Women with hypochromic or nutritional deficiency anemia are generally poorly blanketed, hard and bony. However, the anemia is the same — hypochromic, meaning diminution of hemoglobin, iron coloring matter, in the blood.

★ ★ ★

If you ask why the younger girls with such anemia had green complexion and the older girls gray complexion, all I can say is that the panniculus or blanket of fat (yellowish) contributed some color to what would otherwise be grayish.

I have read somewhere that artists of former times were fascinated by the roundness, complexion and peculiar brilliancy of the eyes and blue sclerotics (whites of eyes) of girls with this type of anemia.

CONFUSE SYMPTOMS

In some instances the apparent anemia of the early stage of pulmonary tuberculosis was mistaken for chlorosis, and vice versa. Palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath, common manifestations of anemia, in some cases suggested hart disease; and pallor and edema (swelling) of feet or ankles led to an incorrect diagnosis of Bright's disease.

Iron was the standard remedy for the green sickness. In the form known as Blaud's pills it ranked as a specific for the green sickness — and even as the remedy of choice for any kind of real or fancied anemia.

However, the pills became inert, through chemical change, in the course of a week or so and hence had to be freshly made at frequent intervals — ready-made "Blaud's pills" were as effective as so many marbles.

★ ★ ★

In my wide-eyed credulity, I insisted on my chlorosis patients (I had at least two) running to Mr. Quackenbush, the village druggist, for two or three dozen freshly made Blaud's pills each week.

But I must admit the clinical evidence of the efficacy of the pills was not what I had been led to expect. In fact I never saw appreciable benefit from Blaud's pills in chlorosis or in secondary anemia.

And so Blaud's pills have long since joined calomel (and other mercury compounds), quinine (as antimalarial) and digitalis in the department of storybook specifics in my therapeutic armamentarium.

The Country Parson

"Our concern for others could be measured by who our dinner guests are — they so seldom are the folks who need the food."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Positive Thinking Really Works

If you are past 40, you probably will recall the visit of the Frenchman Coue' to America. He was a forerunner of the modern advocates of positive thinking. Scrapbook this case and re-read it at frequent intervals to bolster your winning morale.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D - 438: Helene G., aged 20, is majoring in psychology.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have been reading about Coue' who came to America a generation ago.

CRANE

"I understand he urged people to think positively and even whisper each morning: 'Day by day in every way I am growing better and better.'

"Do modern psychologists accept his attitude about the influence of auto-suggestion?"

ADVERTISING STRATEGY

Long before Coue' arrived in America, our experts in advertising psychology had already coined the slogan:

"Reputation is simply repetition."

★ ★ ★

And you friends of fishing addicts realize that those anglers can repeat their favorite stories so often they finally believe their own exaggerations.

So Coue' and modern advocates of positive thinking, such as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, are quite correct in urging us to think positively.

And it even helps to whisper positive statements so that we can thus intensify the auto-suggestion.

★ ★ ★

The Bible likewise tells us that "As a man thinketh, so is he."

We medics always prefer to have patients with a positive outlook and a fighting disposition.

★ ★ ★

Many a tuberculosis patient who should have died, as indicated by the extensiveness of his chest infection, is alive and well today just because he refused to give up and constantly insisted he was going to get well.

HEALTH IS POSITIVE

On the contrary, almost every physician can cite patients who didn't have enough organic infection to die, but who gave up and insisted they would never get well, so they really did die.

Morale is thus of vital importance to health. A defeatist attitude not only predisposes an athletic team to lose, but often sends a patient to his death who should have recovered.

"Morale," said Marshal Foch during World War I, "is more important than materials."

★ ★ ★

So coach your children in positive thinking. We can all benefit a great deal by imitating the strong positive outlook of Christian Scientists.

Winston Churchill even showed us why England has exerted such a profound influence on world affairs for centuries when he said: "England always wins the last battle."

Churchill tactfully forgot Yorktown and George Washington, but he should certainly be saluted for his rugged positive thinking.

In a previous Case Record, I described the handgrip experiment with soldiers who competed to see who was strongest. The average handgrip was 101 pounds.

Then they were hypnotized and told that they were weak, sickly, anemic, etc. Under this negative outlook, they averaged but 69 pounds.

Before waking them, the hypnotist told them they were powerful, Herculean, etc. Now they averaged 140 pounds per man!

So, mothers, please give your youngsters a strong, positive outlook on life. Read them the inspiring little story about the "Little Engine that Could."

Religion also helps stimulate positive thinking, so take them to Sunday School every week and don't show such fear of disease that you make them hypochondriacs before they leave grade school.

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It emphasizes POSITIVE parental methods.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Arab Office Denies Senators' Charges

Senators Gore and McGee's evaluation of the situation of Palestine Arab refugees has missed the point. The Senators charged the U.N. Relief and Works Agency program for refugees was "immoral, dishonest and unfair" because they claim "many adults have died but their cards have not been turned in." Therefore, the Arab Governments are being accused of refusing to allow a new census because "they want nothing to upset their propaganda against Israel."

The few extra ration cards are worth less than five cents a day per person and the real immorality and dishonesty is that people who were born and lived in a land all their lives should be deprived of homes and property by Zionist atrocities which British historian Toynbee likens to Nazi crimes against the Jews. It's indeed unfair that these tragic people should have to get by on charity when income from their property could provide them a comfortable living.

Israel is allowed to ignore U.N. resolutions. Her offer to take back 100,000 refugees and "repeated offers to negotiate" were refused because they don't conform to U.N. rulings, which are clear and leave nothing to negotiate except how to implement them.

As for Arabs prospering in Israel, Israeli Nationality Law discriminates against Arabs with land confiscated, free movement restricted and a fair share of government posts denied them. Had the Senators investigated rather than being influenced by propaganda, they would have returned with a different story.

More Favorable Balance of Trade Looms

Yankee Dollar May Get Shot in Arm

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A bit of the halo may be restored to the dollar next year.

Exporters think they'll be able to sell more American goods abroad because of some easing in foreign curbs against them. Importers think their spending won't increase at this year's pace, which set a new monthly record in September.

Foreign aid, travel spending, and American business investment abroad will add to the outgo of dollars, however.

And the net result still will be more outgo than income, just as it was this year. This will allow other nations to increase their dollar holdings further—and to buy gold from us if they wish. This has chipped away at the U.S. dollar's prestige, if only slightly at its intrinsic value.

But the predictions now are that the big strain on the dollar will be reduced considerably. The desired balance between income and outgo is unlikely to be achieved—but the imbalance shouldn't be as large as it has been.

And if President Eisenhower's visit to our prospering allies in Europe induces them to shoulder some of our load of foreign aid, the strain could be further eased. A lot of their prosperity was sparked by Yankee dollars.

★ ★ ★

The Commerce Department thinks the tide flowing out of the United States began to slow down this past summer. And its hopes for larger exports next year are high.

SEE EXPORTS UP

Exports now are running around an annual rate of 17 billion dollars, with the total for all of 1959 likely to be 16¼ billions.

Experts connected with the balance of payments group of the National Foreign Trade Council here are predicting that exports will increase by better than 2 billion dollars next year.

★ ★ ★

As far as trade alone goes, the United States is still ahead. Department of Commerce figures indicate that imports for this year will be close to 15 billion dollars. Experts think they will go up by another half a billion next year, compared with a jump of around two billion this year over the previous year.

Thus, on trade alone the United States would have about one billion dollars the better of the deal.

But other nations get many dollars from us in other ways. Americans are investing in other lands—putting up factories, buying foreign stocks. The rate of such investment seems likely to be maintained. The council experts think it might increase by around 700 million dollars next year.

COMING IN, TOO

Americans also spend many dollars in travel abroad and this, too, seems likely to increase.

★ ★ ★

But foreign investments here are also on the increase. And so is foreign travel, now that restrictions are being eased.

Foreign aid is the big item making outgo of U.S. dollars greater than income. The imbalance, therefore, may be around four billion dollars this year. That has been a strain on the U.S. dollar, putting a number of other currencies at a premium.

But the council experts are guessing that next year will see the imbalance whittled down to less than two billion dollars.

And if interest rates remain high here, foreign holders of dollars will keep on putting them to work and continue the practice of recent months of asking for less gold than they did a year or two back.

Every little bit will help to keep the dollar looking a little more like its old self.

Abandoned Freighter Auctioned for $21,500

DETROIT (AP) — The ocean freighter Theodoros A., which was abandoned by its owners after it was seized here by its creditors, was sold at auction Monday for $21,500.

The sale still must be approved by U. S. District Judge Arthur F. Lederle who will decide how to distribute the money among creditors whose claims total more than $100,000.

Is the Bottle Empty? Then Listen for Squeaks

CHICAGO (UPI)—If that level on your Scotch bottle suddenly starts to descend, don't blame the housekeeper—it might be the mouse in your house.

Sound ridiculous? Well, perhaps a bit. But findings released by a group of psychologists have given a new insight into the furry little creatures that frighten women and tantalize cats.

★ ★ ★

Drs. David A. Rodgers and Gerald E. McClearn, assistant professors of psychology at the University of California, reported on their recent experiments with mice and alcohol.

In their experiments, McClearn and Rodgers found that some mice definitely prefer alcohol to plain water. The researchers showed it was possible for mice to choose between water and a 20 proof alcohol and water mixture.

Among eight different strains of purebred mice, the psychologists learned the degree of alcohol preference is genetically determined. They found one strain which chose the alcohol mixture more than 75 per cent of the time. In other strains alcohol selection was nearly zero.

★ ★ ★

But the psychologists emphasized that their findings had no relationship to alcoholic consumption in humans. For even in the high preference strain, the inclination for the alcohol mixture over plain water was not strong.

They discovered when sugar was added to plain water, the mice invariably chose the sweetened mixture over the alcohol.

Rodgers and McClern made their report in a symposium on the roots of animal behavior at the annual meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. The group is meeting with the American Psychiatric Assn.

Candidates File in 4 Area Villages

Seek Office in Lake Orion, Holly, Oxford and Romeo

Candidates filed nominating petitions for village offices in four Oakland County area communities by the 4 p.m. deadline yesterday. They include Holly, Oxford, Lake Orion and Romeo.

Since only the incumbents filed for the three Council vacancies in Oxford, there will be no February election there.

Appearing on the ballot in the spring election in March will be the names of Allen E. Valentine, village president; Lionel Kamm and appointee Kenneth Hough.

The candidate with the least number of votes will be elected to a one-year term, the other two for two years, according to Village Clerk Ralph Precious.

Romeo's primary election promises to be interesting with seven men, including the three incumbents, running for three Council vacancies.

They are Jack McFadden, Tony Galan, James A. Reynolds and Joseph A. Melen, and incumbents David E. Pettibone, Fred C. Hebert and Donald Payne. All are candidates for two-year terms.

Challenging Joseph C. Rymil for re-election to another one-year term as village president is a newcomer on the local political scene, Wayne N. Black.

Remaining village officers all filed for the posts they now hold.

They are Elgin Anger Sr., assessor; Mrs. Elaine M. Hosner, treasurer; Sidney J. White, clerk; and H. Dale Palmer and Mrs. Helen Stone, Library Board members.

The entire slate is Republican.

5 IN LAKE ORION

Five have filed for the three trustee posts open in Lake Orion.

They are Hugh Galloway, incumbent, Mrs. Clarence Braidwood, E. Russell Gilmore, Thomas H. Arthur and Dr. Richard A. McNeil.

The other two incumbents, William O'Brien and Gordon Hazelton did not file for re-election. Candidates Arthur and Gilmore also ran for trustee posts last spring.

William Shoup will be unopposed in his bid for a second one-year term as village president.

Other candidates in the February primary are Clerk Mary Parkinson, Treasurer Geraldine J. Campbell and Assessor Geraldine Storey.

All candidates for village offices in Lake Orion are members of the Citizens Party.

★ ★ ★

In Holly, 13 candidates filed nominating petitions for seven posts to be voted on in the Feb. 15 primary.

Incumbents whose terms are expiring are Paul O. Cohee, president; George J. Patterson, clerk; Harry J. Summers, treasurer; J. trustees Lloyd R. Oakes, John M. Van Deusen and Court Hall.

Trustee Hall was the only incumbent who did not file a petition since he is moving from the village before the election.

Two others filing for the president post were Fred D. Barton and Raymond D. Addis.

Other candidates are Hulda H. Anderson, treasurer; Clarence L. Lester, C. Bryce Dabler, Allan C. Kerton and Leo C. Oerheim, trustees.

NO COMPETITION FOR ?

Only the present clerk and assessor have no competition.

All candidates filed their petitions on the Union ticket.

According to Clerk George J. Patterson, the Union ticket is neither Democratic nor Republican, but s ince state law on village governments states that villages must have parties, locally they have been designated Union and Citizen.

CHARLES W. WHIPPO JR.

Boy Scouts of America's Clinton Valley Council announced today the appointment of Charles W. Whippo Jr. as new district scout executive for Manito District in Oakland County. He will assume duties Jan. 15 coming here with his wife and six children from Grand Rapids, where he has served the past three years as district scout executive in the Grand Valley Council.

Claims Village Encroachment

Area Landowner Says Milford Sewer Lines Run Into His Property

MILFORD—The village manager and engineer have been asked by councilmen here to study a claim of encroachment of village water and sewer lines on private property.

★ ★ ★

The action was taken at last night's meeting after an attorney, representing a land owner, said his client believes the village has utilities running through his property.

Attorney Frank Houston told the council that his client owns two adjoining parcels of land, one of which is being encroached by the village.

The property in question is at the northeast corner of Summit and Milford roads.

★ ★ ★

Houston claimed that the encroachment by the village is limiting the use of the land by the owner.

Village Manager Oliver Taylor said that water and sewer maps of the area only show the utilities in relation to paved streets and sidewalks.

"Until we make a survey of the property we won't be able to tell if the village has been encroaching on the property," Taylor said.

"All we have at present are several conflicting surveys of utilities in the area," he said.

Dinner to Fete 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Schultz of 217 Bauman Ave., Clawson, will be feted for their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday at a dinner at the home of their son Sidney and his family of 2769 Royal Ave., Berkley.

Fire Guts Avon Twp. Warehouse

AVON TOWNSHIP—Fire visible for miles gutted a barn-warehouse behind the farmhouse in Christian Hills subdivision on Crooks road south of Avon road early last night.

The loss was estimated at close to $25,000 for building and contents, according to Harry Macksey, president of Ranch Homes, Inc., Birmingham, owners of the structure.

When Rochester volunteer firemen arrived, the structure was enveloped in flames. All the building materials and shop equipment stored inside were destroyed.

The Avondale fire department was called to assist at the fire, which could be seen as far away as Auburn Heights.

Among the equipment lost was $1,000 worth of power saws, aluminum windows, four or five heaters valued at about $700 each, doors, paint, water pumps, desks, chairs and drafting materials.

Rochester firemen stayed on the scene about three hours, and the Avondale department about an hour and a quarter.

Roger Voorheis, Kathleen Collins Exchange Vows

MILFORD — Honeymooning in Florida are area newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Voorheis, following their wedding in White Lake Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the former Kathleen Ann Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Collins of 3170 W. Maple Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare G. Voorheis of 6700 Brendel Rd., Davisburg.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white rose point lace. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Norma Carr of Pontiac was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Beth Kellog, Marilyn, the bride's sister, and Sharon Walker, all of Milford.

Duties of best man were performed by John Wheeler of East Lansing. The bridegroom's brothers, Calvin and Ronald, served as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

The newlyweds will reside at 6700 Brendel Rd., Davisburg, when they return from their honeymoon.

Troy Deadlocked on Yanich Quitting

TROY — City Commissioner Louis Yanich who tendered his resignation two weeks ago because of what he called indecision by the Commission may have to wait until the spring election to leave his post.

Fellow commissioners failed to agree on accepting Yanich's resignation for a second time at last night's regular Commission meeting. The issue was stalemated by a vote of 3-3.

According to City Clerk J. L. Lockhart, Yanich's resignation probably will not be resolved until the next city election in the spring, and he will have to wait until then to vacate his commission seat.

Yanich again blasted the Commission at last night's meeting for what he termed "playing politics."

★ ★ ★

The Commission went on to discuss the 1958-59 city audit. The audit submitted by Touches, Niven, Bailey and Smart Inc. of Detroit was accepted unanimously and placed on file.

In further action, the Commission referred a proposed amendment governing airports and landing strips back to the City Planning Commission for further study.

The amendment as proposed originally is intended to restrict establishment of flying facilities in or too close to residential areas of the city.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners noted that it will be five to six months before they can pass any resolution on Twelve-Town Drain easements since the Supreme Court is not expected to rule on litigation brought against the drain by neighboring Madison Heights before then.

★ ★ ★

A public hearing on the proposed major thoroughfare plan for Troy has been scheduled for Jan. 18.

In the meantime, it was decided by the Commission that City Manager David Hasse meet with the State Highway Department to study relocation of streets and water mains before alignment of the proposed Walter P. Chrysler expressway is completed.

'Sorry' Too Late, Burglar Sentenced

For his part in a burglary ring, Gregory L. Holder, 21, of Utica, was sentenced to 18 months to 15 years in Jackson Prison by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday.

Holder, of 2466 Barclay St., said "I'm sorry" and that he would like to make restitution for the break-in of a Rochester grill in September when asked by the judge if he had anything to say before sentencing.

Sheriff's detectives said Holder was part of a 16-member gang that preyed on homes and businesses in the eastern part of the county.

Some $1,200 in cash and merchandise was stolen, they said.

Holder, who pleaded guilty Dec. 19 to breaking and entering in the nighttime, became angry when sentenced and pounded his fist against the wall surrounding the jury box.

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and Britain worked behind the scenes today to dampen down an Iraq-Iran border flareup that could wreck one of the world's richest oil-producing centers and even engulf the Mideast in war.

★ ★ ★

Tension over a three-and-a-half mile stretch of territory along the Shatt-Al-Arab River that forms part of the border of the two countries reached a new high yesterday with reports from Abadan that that key oil center had been turned into a bristling military fortress by the Iranian army.

Ever since the dispute flared up two weeks ago both Iraq and Iran have been rushing troops to the border. Reports from Abadan indicated Iran had built up an unusually potent force.

Both Britain and the United States feared the dispute might result in destruction of the Abadan refinery, which stretches for miles along the Shatt-Al-Arab.

RUN BY CONSTRUCTION

The great Abadan oil refinery, which produces more than 13 million tons annually, is operated by a consortium made up of U.S., British, French, Dutch and Iranian intrests.

Chief American and British concern was over the fate of the oil center.

Diplomatic sources said that although no official warnings had been given, the United States and Britain had been in "constant consultation" with Iraq and Iran over the past several weeks.

Both have used every opportunity, the sources said, to urge moderation on Iran and Iraq.

Simmons-Purdy Vows Spoken in Rochester

MRS. JOHN SIMMONS

AVON TOWNSHIP — Margaret Ruth Purdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Purdy of 172 Oaklane Rd., became the bride of John Simmons of Grand Junction, Colo., Sunday in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simmons of Grand Junction, Colo.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of taffeta with a modified sabrina neckline. Her bouffant skirt featured deep points accented with bows. A love bow secured her veil of silk illusion. She carried a white orchid on her Bible.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Farr of Milford.

Thomas Fontaine of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were Richard Becker and James Farr.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon trip to Boulder, Colo., where they will reside while attending the University of Colorado.

Michigan Wheat Planting Falls 3 Per Cent From '58

LANSING (UPI) — Farmers in Michigan planted 1,170,000 acres of wheat this fall, three per cent less than a year ago, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Cool temperatures and frequent rains delayed planting of many acres in southern Michigan and made some fields unsuitable for planting.

Nowadays a lot of kids don't care much whether Santa brings them anything or not. They get most everything they want from their grandparents, anyway . . . Horticultural note: Political plums don't grow from seeds—they are sometimes the result of clever grafting. —Earl Wilson.

200,000 Acres in Great Plains Hurt by Wind

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today about 200,000 acres of land in the Great Plains states were damaged this season by wind erosion.

★ ★ ★

Reports from 263 counties covering about 240 million acres in the 10 Great Plains states indicated that an additional 12,600,000 acres were in condition to blow during this winter and next spring.

Nearly all the wind damage this season occurred in November. The 200,000 acres damaged through Dec. 1 compared with about 400,000 acres on the same date in 1958 and 100,000 acres in 1957.

The damaged acres were concentrated in Nebraska, Kansas and North Dakota. These three states accounted for about 80 per cent of the total damaged acres in the plains states.

Farm Groups May Seek Action

Food Commission Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm organizations soon may ask the government to set up an independent commission to study problems raised by the use of chemicals in food.

The tentative decision to seek an unbiased government - endorsed study was made at a meeting of farm group leaders here last week. A final decision is expected to be reached at another meeting shortly after Jan. 1.

The move stems from the fear of farm leaders that recent government crackdowns on cranberry and caponette growers may shake the confidence of consumers in the purity and safety of the nation's food supply.

The farm leaders do not question the need for rigid policing to insure food purity. But they are opposed to the use of nationwide publicity in food contamination cases involving only a small percentage of producers.

This, they say, hurts innocent as well as guilty growers.

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, recently halted the distribution of cranberries and caponettes found to be contaminated with substances which produced cancer in laboratory animals.

Some national farm leaders were bitterly critical of what they considered unnecessary fanfare accompanying the actions. Charles B. Shuman, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, charged that Flemming had an ambitious eye on the 1960 Republican vice presidential nomination.

Others questioned not only the publicity, but whether there was any real danger to consumers that warranted Flemming's crackdown.

Flemming, however, points to federal law requiring removal from the market of foods containing any trace of agents that cause cancer in laboratory animals. The law sets no tolerance levels.

★ ★ ★

Farm leaders fear that unless the government takes some dramatic action, there will be continuing public agitation about chemicals in agriculture — possibly some heavily-publicized congressional investigations of the subject.

They feel this may be avoided if congressional leaders and the administration agree on the quick appointment of a study commission. One possibility is a group appointed by the President from among well-informed scientists both in and out of government service.

The farm groups involved in the new proposal haven't been publicly identified. But they're understood to include the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Farmers Union and a number of farm cooperative and commodity organizations.

Hal Boyle Scans the Frantic '50s

Sputnik? Do You Remember the Penny?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—As the frantic 1950s draw to a fretful close, the pundits look back on this decade of doubt and try to explain its meaning to us.

We have read a number of their high-sounding reviews, and listened to others. They all did a good job of turning the pages of world history—that is, for a visitor from Mars.

BOYLE

But they seemed to miss a lot of these small personal details that made life in the last 10 years so meaningful to the man in the street.

★ ★ ★

After all, the fact that Africa erupted in revolution or the Soviet Union landed a rocket on the moon, does not impress many of us so much as the fact that we became middle-aged. We remember that in 1950 we still climbed the stairs two at a time, and realize at the dawn of 1960 that we now look around for an escalator. We don't even push as hard going through a revolving door.

THIS THEY KNOW

Here are a few other things that made the 1950s memorable to many:

At the start of the decade there were few things you could buy with a penny, and at the end of the decade there were few things you could buy with a nickel.

The younger generation grew taller, and found they were making bus seats smaller.

Man learned to copy his caveman ancestors, and began cooking his meals in the back yard over a fire.

Woman went in for frozen foods, and learned how to start dinner with an ice pick instead of a can opener.

People built two-car garages—then started buying small cars that would fit into a doghouse.

AND THE CHILDREN

Parents discovered it was easier to obey their children rather than to try to boss them.

It became possible to send a girl through college for only slightly more than it took for her grandfather to buy a 10-room house on a five-acre lot.

A man who found a secret parking place listed it in his will, along with such other inheritable things as the family jewels.

Television developed Westerns in which only the horses remained free of psychopathic symptoms.

The movies went outdoors. Drive-in theaters became the country's best known romance pits.

The cigarette and the full dinner plate, symbols of pleasure in earlier eras, became symbols of doom to many. Millions began filtering their smokes, counting their calories.

ALL VIRUS NOW

Only members of the lower classes caught colds. Everybody else suffered from virus "x", "y" or "z."

The guy who used to be satisfied with a cough drop now demanded a million units of penicillin at the first sign of a sniffle.

Men went in for the pencil-slim necktie and the slender silhouette. Women climbed briefly into something called "the sack," then climbed right out again amid national laughter.

Apartment house rooms became so small that people gave up dogs as pets and started learning to talk like their parakeets.

Something called rock 'n' roll took the place of music.

Grownups, alarmed by juvenile delinquents, began crossing to the other side of the street rather than walk by two teen-agers on the sidewalk.

Everybody tried so hard to keep up with the Joneses that the Joneses couldn't stand the pace and moved to a cheaper suburb.

★ ★ ★

The arrival of the power lawnmower removed the last possible excuse for exercise.

★ ★ ★

It became socially necessary to become worried about something, and anybody who didn't go to a psychiatrist was a showoff—and too normal to know.

Those were the 1950s. Remember them?

They'll Establish Colony on Tiny Pacific Island

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) —Midnight New Year's Eve has been set as the departure time for 11 colonists who will leave here aboard the 100-foot refrigerator ship Alert to establish a colony at San Cristobal in the Galapagos Islands, 600 miles west of Ecuador.

★ ★ ★

Nineteen more colonists will be picked up in Los Angeles, said Don Harrsch, head of Island Development Co.

Harrsch said most of the women and children will drive or fly to Los Angeles to avoid the rough ocean passage between here and southern California.

★ ★ ★

The president of the development firm said another refrigerator ship, the Western Star, will leave here in about two months and will carry another 50 or 75 colonists to the Galapagos.

He expects 100 families to be settled in the Galapagos by the end of 1960.

The colonists plan to raise coffee, cocoa and bananas and fish for lobster, tuna and shrimp. The development company is buying 64,000 acres, including a coffee plantation and refrigerator plant.

One group of colonists had planned to drive to Costa Rica then fly to Ecuador to be picked up by ship, "but that may be called off because of revolutionary trouble in Central America, Harrsch said.

Each family intending to settle in the islands has bought a $2,500 membership in the island development.

Tape Woe Gums Up Gotham

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York believed it had found a money-saving solution to a sticky traffic problem last summer when it pasted down plastic tape traffic crossing markers guaranteed to last three years.

Gordon K. Gravelle, deputy commissioner of the city's traffic department, pointed out that paint markers on heavily-traveled pedestrian crossings tended to last only two to three months and re-painting plus lengthy drying time tied up traffic. The tape sticks fast in about 10 minutes.

But then came last week's seven-inch snow and large chucks of the plastic tape were torn up.

Gravelle said a study was under way to find out what caused the tape to loosen.

He said snow plows and salt sprinkled to melt the snow appeared to be possibilities.

Wife-Slayer Sentenced to 7½ Years in Jail

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Convicted wife-slayer John Pruitt, 33, Monday was sentenced to 7½ to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison by Superior Judge Claude VanderPloeg.

Pruitt, former Grand Rapids park patrolman and cab driver, was convicted Dec. 11 of manslaughter in the Sept. 24 shotgun death of his 28-year-old estranged wife, Ozie, at her apartment.

Do-It-Yourself Census Hasn't Riled Public—Yet

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Do-it-yourself census forms for 1960 have been on public view for several weeks now and the Census Bureau can't believe its good luck. Nobody so far has raised any serious squawk.

Oh, a few congressmen have complained that the census taker these days is getting too nosy, wanting to know about our plumbing (indoors or out); our washing machines (automatic or not); and how we get to work in the morning (many a morning I wonder about that one myself).

One lawmaker went so far as to suspect, publicly, that psychiatrists might have taken over the bureau. By and large, though, the bureau's final decisions on what questions to include and leave out in the 18th decennial census have been received with resignation if not outright enthusiasm.

The bureau doesn't expect enthusiasm. All it asks is that you answer the questions, ranging from your income to your telephone number. Anybody who refuses can be fined $100 or sent to jail for 60 days, though the bureau can't recall a case where this actually happened.

'WE PERSUADE 'EM'

"We persuade 'em," a spokesman said of the comparative few who every 10 years can be depended on to balk at some question or other, or even to refuse, on religious grounds, to have any part at all of the census.

Anyway, it's not as bad as it might be. In 1850 the census taker inquired among other things whether each household included any paupers, idiots, or convicts.

There are other grounds to be grateful. After proper deliberation the census experts turned down proposed inquiries on the color of our hair, if any (the cosmetic makers wanted to know.); the number and kind of our pets (for the dog food makers, I think); our height and weight (the tailors hoped too engineer better fits); and whether or not we have faith, and if so what kind (a touchy subject on constitutional grounds).

FORMS, FORMS, FORMS

Even so, some of the 180 million people the nose-count is expected to turn up are likely to view the inquiry as unduly inquisitive.

A basic form will be mailed to all householders in March, to be filled out and held for the census taker's call early in April. It covers name, age, race, marital status, etc., of all residents.

It includes a similar inquiry about any non-resident who may have stayed overnight on March 31, a question which it is hoped won't embarrass too many people.

Then there's some basic stuff about the house, including whether or not there's a toilet that flushes.

★ ★ ★

At every fourth house will be left an additional two pages of questions on the house and two extra pages for details about each person living therein. That's where we get into where you work, and for how much, and whether you get there by bus, railroad, car pool, or muleback. Also, how many years schooling you got; how many times you've been married; and (for women) how many babies you've had.

To be ready, you also may as well count now your radios, TV's, and automobiles.

Most of the form-filling will be done by those being counted. Still, 160,000 enumerators will be hired for about two weeks of hoofing around. These jobs will pay about $12 daily. To get one you have to read, write, and vote Republican.

Korean GI Bill Students Slumping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans enrolled in training under the Korean GI bill this fall totaled 400,000, compared with almost 600,000 students a year ago, the Veterans Administration reported Monday.

But there was an increase from 4,800 to 7,500 during the same period in the number taking part in the war orphans education program. This is a program of financial aid for the education of children of war veterans who died in service-connected conditions.

Of the 400,000 ex-GI's taking training this fall, about 250,000 are in colleges and universities. Another 115,000 are in schools below the college level, such as business and technical schools.

2.5 Million Serving With American Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department estimates the active duty strength of the armed forces at 2,500,817.

The estimate, as of Nov. 30, is an increase of almost 6,000 principally in Army strength from the level of a month earlier.

Estimates for the individual services were: Army 878,811; Navy 616,598; Marine Corps 172,668; Air Force 832,740.

Sees Big Splurge in U.S. Labor Force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American labor force is expected to grow by about 23 million people by 1975.

The figure is expected to include a larger number of married women but fewer men 65 and older.

The forecast was made at the annual meeting of the American Statistical Assn. here Monday by a government labor economist, Gertrude Bancroft.

Maryland's Act of Religious Toleration, adopted in 1649, was the forerunner of the First ammendment to the United States Constitution.

Big Business Tries Selling Job

Apartheid Hurts South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Twenty-six of South Africa's biggest businessmen will start the new year pushing a thorny public relations campaign. They will seek to improve the world's attitude toward South Africa.

These "amateurs in gray flannel suits," as they've been called, include some of the best known names in finance, industry and commerce. They represent all shades of South African politics.

Among them are three millionaires: Harry Oppenheimer, head of the De Beers Diamond Corp., and the huge Anglo-American gold mining group; Charles Englehard, American financier with big South African interests; and Anton Rupert, boss of a cigarette chain covering the British Commonwealth.

They have formed the South African Foundation, a nonprofit organization, to "present the true picture of South Africa to the world." They will publicize the country's progress, its way of life, its opportunities for investment and its "influence and security as a sovereign democratic state."

They are concerned about the effect of bad publicity on investment from overseas and fear it could slow down the country's development. South Africa is in excellent economic health at the moment. The foundation seeks to convince investors that it's likely to remain so.

★ ★ ★

The foundation will be able to find many achievements in South Africa's favor. Economic progress —for both whites and blacks—has been great in the past decade. For the Negroes slums have been cleared, wages increased, health services improved.

But the foundation will have a tougher job explaining some of the things resulting from the policy of apartheid.

For example, a white couple was ordered to give up their 4-year-old adopted son because he had some African blood in his veins. The government ordered the Pietermaritzburg Philharmonic Society to bar nonwhites from the Christmas performance of Handel's "Messiah".

And under job "reservation" legislation, the government bars nonwhites from certain categories of work.

In trying to get such incidents accepted by the rest of the world, the foundation may have as much difficulty as the government's information office, which has been working hard at the job in many parts of the world for 11 years.

The Wright-Patterson air force base has 7,900 acres and is one of the world's largest air installations. It contains more than 1,000 buildings and is a vital military center.

575 Flee East Germany

BERLIN (UPI) — Five hundred and seventy-five East Germans sought political asylum in West Berlin during the Christmas holiday, refugee camp officials announced Sunday.

Mildness, Ore Need Boost Soo Lock Use

DETROIT (AP) — Ore boats, trying to make up for sailings missed because of the nationwide steel strike, pushed vessel passages through Sault Ste. Marie locks to 901 ships this month, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers reported Monday.

★ ★ ★

Mild weather and the urgent need for iron ore at southern lake ports kept locks open this year past the normal Dec. 15 closing date.

★ ★ ★

A total of 4,267,381 tons passed through Canadian and United States locks.

He Knows of Reform

MIAMI (UPI)—Robert M. Bader, a 34-year-old attorney running for juvenile judge here, has strong evidence the law can reform criminals. Bader once spent two years in reform school for stealing cars.

Detroit Trade, Industry Establish Mark in 1959

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Board of Commerce said Monday that business and industrial activity in the Detroit area was at a record dollar high this year despite the effects of the steel strike.

Retail sales totaled more than five billion dollars, equal to 12 per cent over 1958, the board said. Total work income rose to $7,660,000,000 or two per cent over the previous peak year of 1957.

Uniforms Do Suit Him

LONDON (UPI) — King Phumiphol Aduldej, 32-year-old ruler of Thailand, has ordered $14,000 worth of suits and uniforms from a London tailor, according to the Sunday Express.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lester of Dearborn announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Ann to Stewart George Bergstrom, son of the Elaf Bergstroms of Silver Lake road. Both are students at Wayne State University. Stewart is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity. An August wedding is planned.

JUDITH ANN LESTER

Future Bride Honored

January bride-elect Tish FitzGerald was honored at a shower Monday evening at the home of Charlotte Pankner on Whitfield drive.

★ ★ ★

Guests included Mrs. Leslie FitzGerald, Mrs. Joseph Flynn, Frances Flynn, Mrs. Lewis FitzGerald, Mrs. Harold H. Pankner, Mrs. Harold G. Pankner, Jane Scott, Georgia Kizer, Diane Elliott, Carol Kratt, Janet Delbridge, Judy Kent, Janet Palmitier and Sharon Gaynor.

★ ★ ★

Daughter of the Leslie FitzGeralds of Oakview avenue, Drayton Plains, Miss FitzGerald will marry Mike Flynn, son of the Joseph Flynns of Telegraph road, Jan. 30 in All Saints Episcopal Church.

JOANNE ELAINE PARCELLS

May nuptials are planned by Joanne Elaine Parcells, whose engagement to Robert J. Fiske is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parcells of Drayton Plains. Her fiance is the son of the Nelson Fiskes of Royal Oak.

Circulating Mate Not in Wrong

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I went to a dinner and dance given by my husband's firm. There were about one hundred guests at this dinner, all of whom were strangers to me. Of course my husband did introduce me to the people sitting at our table who were very nice. During the course of the evening my husband went around to different tables greeting his business friends and left me at the table with people I hardly knew. I thought it showed lack of courtesy toward me. What is your opinion?

★ ★ ★

Answer: Having introduced you to the people at your table, he was not discourteous in leaving you alone with them for brief, even though frequent, trips to greet his business friends. Had he left you sitting entirely alone that would be another story.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: It is the new policy of our local newspaper to require all articles concerning meetings of women's clubs to list the women by their married names and not their given names. When I asked about this, I was told that this is the proper procedure. It is my opinion that women in civic clubs are individuals, not their husbands' wives and therefore should be listed by their given names. I am referring to a club composed of women in executive positions.

★ ★ ★

Answer: Women members of any social club should be listed as Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Henry Jones, etc. and not Mrs. Mary Smith or Mrs. Jane Jones. Business or professional clubs would list their members by whatever names they are known in business or their profession.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be improper, in the present day, for two women to sit at a bar in a very nice cocktail lounge?

★ ★ ★

Answer: While it is not uncommon today to see women sitting at a bar, I personally do not approve of this.

DELORES ANN GUSTAVSON

Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Gustavson of East Colgate avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Delores Ann to Bert J. Forsmark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas M. Forsmark of Flint.

U.S. Woman Becomes 'Pro' Volunteer Worker

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Volunteer work has been part of the American woman's life since pioneer days.

"But she no longer is an amateur at doing for others," said Mrs. Oswald B. Lord. "She has turned pro."

Mrs. Lord, the United States representative on the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, believes this change is the most important one in the woman's world in the last decade, perhaps since World War II.

★ ★ ★

The volunteer no longer is the "Lady Bountiful" sharing her largesse indiscriminately, she said. She is "a professional who has to have training, know how to handle people, have sense of responsibility."

And her financial status has little to do with her ability to fit into some facet of welfare work and into community and national projects.

Mrs. Lord is this year's winner of the Eminent Achievement Award, presented annually since 1931 by the American Women's Assn., a group of women in business and the professions.

In an interview before presentation ceremonies recently, Mrs. Lord talked of a woman's contributions in the last decade.

"I think," she said, "that the change in the woman volunteer must have started with World War II. Women by the thousands replaced men in industry and other women had to take their place to develop such things as day care centers.

"Today, women are put on boards of museums and hospitals and charity organizations, not just because they can contribute money, but for the leadership they can give. They have more time than men; they know how to shape policy."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lord, a slim attractive brunette with blue eyes, is the former Mary Pillsbury of Minneapolis. She graduated with honors from Smith College in 1927 and began her own career as a volunteer in social work in her home town. She moved to New York in 1929 when she married, and since has been active in a variety of projects — The Metropolitan Opera Guild, the Community Service Society, UNICEF, the Nati onal Health Council, Community Chest and civil defense.

President Eisenhower named her to the U.N. in 1953.

Gusman-Butler Vows Exchanged in Pontiac

White Chantilly lace over pale blue taffeta fashioned the bridal gown worn by Patricia L. Butler for her marriage to John Gusman Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. Fabian Weber officiated.

The bodice featured a bateau neckline and pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt swirled into a chapel train. The bride's fingertip veil was attached to a sequin cap. On her white prayer book were white rosebuds and pale blue carnations.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Butler of Lotus drive, Waterford, are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gusman of Colorado avenue.

Honor matron Mrs. Robert Nexen of Dearborn appeared in bouffant shocking pink chiffon styled with bateau neckline and short sleeves. Her cascade of shocking pink carnations was arranged against a pale pink background.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Martin, in her bridesmaid's gown of white and pale pink chiffon, held pale pink carnations against a background of shocking pink. Both wore veiled crown-type hats to match their gowns.

Benjamin Acosta was best man and Robert Martin seated the guests. Both are of Pontiac.

After an evening reception in AFL-CIO Hall on Kennett road, the newlyweds left for their new home on Irwindale drive, Waterford Hills Estates.

Mrs. Butler chose blue-grey taffeta with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Gusman, in rose lace over taffeta, chose black accessories. Both mothers wore pink roses.

MRS. RICHARD N. BENSON

Deanna Sharon Dovre, daughter of Mrs. Helen Dovre of Pingree avenue and Theodore Dovre of Jay street, exchanged vows with Richard Norman Benson, son of the Elmer Leonard Bensons of Sioux City, Iowa, Sunday in St. John's Lutheran Church.

Holiday Decor Marks Dovre-Benson Nuptials

Potted poinsettias and evergreen trees created a Christmas setting for the marriage of Deanna Sharon Dovre and Richard Norman Benson Sunday in St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Arvid Anderson of Christ Lutheran Church, Drayton Plains, officiated. Carol Anderson of Rockford, Ill. was soloist.

Mrs. Helen Dovre of Pingree avenue and Theodore Dovre of Jay road are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of the Elmer Leonard Bensons of Sioux City, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

White bouquet taffeta appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned the wedding gown. The princess bodice extended into a bell-shaped skirt with full pleated back and chapel train.

The double-tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a Swedish crown of seed pearls. White and red roses comprised the bride's bouquet.

Attendants' street-length dresses of burgundy satin and velvet featured semi-belled skirts. Shirley Dovre of Saline was her sister's honor maid. Judy Reents of Sterling, Ill., and Marie Meyer of Clarkston were bridesmaids. They carried white pompons and roses.

★ ★ ★

John E. Seedoff of Rockford, Ill., was best man. Seating the guests were William L. Brittain of Ann Arbor, and Richard B. Elliott of Davenport, Iowa.

At the church reception, Mrs. Dovre appeared in a moss green French Chantilly lace sheath, with satin accents. Mrs. Benson's mink brown crepe sheath was trimmed with satin. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

The couple are graduates of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. The bridegroom is attending graduate school at the University of Minnesota. Their home will be in St. Paul, Minn.

POST-CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Did your favorite uncle or aunt surprise you with some Christmas money? "Buy something you really want," the accompanying card probably said.

So right now you're in the enjoyable position of going Christmas shopping for yourself — with nary a sign of a crowd in sight.

But what's it going to be? At the risk of appearing downright bold, may we suggest a camera? Even though we had one of our busiest Christmases ever, we've restocked and can offer you a wide selection to choose from.

We have the new Cameras . . . all models, and these smart-looking new 35mm Cameras are easy to use or if you want to treat yourself nobly, you can choose one of the new electric eye models, either still or movie cameras.

Already own a camera? Fine! But what about something to make it even more fun to use. What about a six-shot Kodak Rotary Flashholder. Or that amazing Kodak Generator Flashholder that needs no batteries. It makes its own electricity at the turn of a wheel.

If movies are your field, how about using your Christmas money as a down payment on a spanking new projector? Or you can put the bed sheet back in the linen closet and spark up your movies with a new Movie Screen.

By now, I think you get the idea. Your Christmas money can buy a lot of fun at our counter.

MRS. JOSEPH C. BRADLEY

Janet Marie McConnell of Cottage Grove street, daughter of the Robert Lawrence McConnells of Hartford, and Joseph Charles Bradley, son of Mrs. Joseph R. Bradley of Midland and the late Mr. Bradley, were wed Saturday.

Janet McConnell Weds Joseph Bradley of Midland

Family pews in the Immaculate Conception Church, Hartford, were marked with satin-tied holly branches for Saturday nuptials of Janet Marie McConnell and Joseph Charles Bradley.

The bride is the daughter of the Robert Lawrence McConnells of Hartford. Mrs. Fred S. Ward Jr. was soloist.

The floor-length gown of white slipper satin swirled into a chapel train. Appliques of alencon lace outlined the sabrina neckline and were set into the bouffant skirt. Satin roses accentuated the tucked back detail. White carnations comprised the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Gene W. French of Grand Rapids was her sister's honor matron. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Brian W. Boyle of Pontiac and Rosemary Hastings of Hartford. The bride's sister Charlotte was junior attendant.

James T. Bradley of Midland was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. Joseph R. Bradley of Midland and the late Mr. Bradley. The usher list included James E. Labb of Royal Oak; Thomas Beale of Midland; Patrick May of Lansing and Martin Cronan of Pontiac.

At the wedding breakfast for attendants and relatives at Rose Inn on Paw Paw Lake, the bride's mother was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Hastings of Hartford, Mrs. Clifford Hansen of Coloma and Mrs. Martin Knuth of Benton Harbor.

For traveling to Chicago, where the couple will spend the holidays, Janet changed into a black dressmaker bolero suit and black-and-white accessories.

The bride, formerly of Cottage Grove street, is a graduate of Michigan State University. Her sorority is Alpha Delta Pi. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Central Michigan University and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity. Both teach in the Pontiac Public School System.

★ ★ ★

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McConnell chose a champagne beige sheath with turquoise brocade fitted bodice accented with front bow held by a jeweled medallion. Her accessories were turquoise and beige.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Bradley appeared in a light green lace sheath with green satin accents and matching accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

So? Your House Is Home, Not Hotel

By RUTH MILLETT

"What's the matter with me?" asks a housewife who is the mother of three. "My friends are so much more efficient than I am. They put me to shame when it comes to housekeeping, entertaining beautifully, always being perfectly groomed, and so on.

"I try hard. I really do. But I'm always apologizing, because I didn't have time to get my hair done, or the living room is filled with the half-finished projects my cub scouts are making, or the buffet supper I'm serving guests is late because a neighbor dropped in to tell me her troubles when I should have been getting things under way.

"I admit my children seem to love their home, and so do their friends and the neighbors' children, and my husband hasn't complained about my lack of efficiency. But when I compare myself with my friends, I just don't measure up."

Stop comparing yourself with your friends and stop apologizing to them for not being as efficient as they are.

A woman who encourages her children to bring their friends home, who can always take time to listen to a neighbor's troubles or to visit with someone who is lonely, who realizes that some things have to be done whether she has time for a beauty appointment or not, doesn't need to apologize to the efficiency experts.

Houses are meant to live in, not to be show places. Mothers often have to settle for being neat instead of glamorous. Beautiful entertaining really isn't as important as the small kindnesses.

Those are a part of everyday living for a woman with an understanding heart, who isn't in too big a rush to take a little time to do something for someone else.

There are undoubtedly things you can do to make your life run a little more smoothly. But you can't change your whole personality and set of values, and you shouldn't try to.

Let your friends express themselves in the ways that seem important to them. YOU go right on being yourself, without apology.

The Insignificant Penny Stirs Up Quite a Debate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In answer to Myrtle, the chambermaid who wanted to know why so many guests left a penny on the dresser when they checked out of a hotel room: If that is supposed to be a "tip" let me say that only a skunk leaves a (s)cent. I thank you.

ANOTHER CHAMBERMAID

DEAR ABBY: There is a definite significance in tipping one single penny. If nothing at all were left, the recipient might think the tip was forgotten. But when a single penny is left, it is intended as an insult.

A penny is the absolute minimum in American currency. A one-cent tip is a stinging reminder that the patron did not forget to leave a tip, but that the service was worth next to nothing.

T. Mc.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Being an ex-chambermaid, I feel qualified to answer Myrtle's question: "Why do people leave a penny behind?" It means "No thanks to you, Kiddo." The service was lousy. (P.S. That's when I started saving pennies.)

DEAR ABBY: Please inform Myrtle that when a hotel maid finds a penny on the dresser, she should check the linens, towels, ash trays, and other items that guests usually steal from hotel rooms.

It is an old New England custom for a traveler to leave a penny behind as "payment" for something he has stolen from the room, while the "payment" is ridiculously inadequate, the thief feels that it will keep him out of hell since the item was "bought" — not stolen.

OLD NEW ENGLANDER

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I worked for many years as a hotel maid (please don't call us "chambermaids" — that went out with "chamberpots") and I never felt insulted when someone left a penny for me. I considered it good luck. Most of the time they left nothing.

MAGGIE

DEAR ABBY: Here is some information for the person who wanted to know the significance of a traveler's leaving a penny behind: It is considered a very good omen to find a penny "face up." And it is a bad omen to find a dime "face down." A penny symbolizes good fortune, while a dime symbolizes loss of fortune. Perhaps this practice had its origin in China, as the Chinese place much meaning upon odd and even numbers.

Sinmerely, TOM YEE

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: If the chambermaid thinks there is some significance in a penny being left by a hotel guest, please tell her to forget it. My husband frequently leaves a penny (and sometimes he leaves several pennies) on the hotel dresser because pennies weigh down his pockets and tear the linings. So if the person who left the lone penny was my husband, he left it there instead of throwing it in the waste paper basket.

FROM TEXAS

★ ★ ★

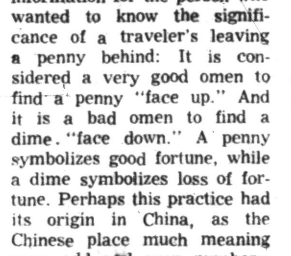

DEAR ABBY: I never worked as a hotel maid but I did wait on tables in a hotel dining room. If a person left me a penny tip I would take it to mean they received good service and would like to tip me, but can't afford it.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: I've never served the public, but believe you me, if anyone ever left a penny for me, I'd sure as heck try to catch up with him and give it back.

'Politeness Is as Warmth to Wax'

Marriage Needs Courtesy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

For a few days now I am bringing you some old thoughts for the new year.

"Politeness is to human nature what warmth is to wax."

—Schopenhauer.

Politeness, or just plain courtesy, can make a success of almost any marriage if there was anything real and important to begin with. The opposite can ruin a marriage even when there was something important to begin with.

It is often the lack of courtesy and consideration in daily intimate life which sends a couple to the divorce court. Many husbands and wives treat one another to much less courtesy than they bestow upon their most casual acquaintances.

It is often the indignity of day by day rudeness which is unbearable rather than some one important lack or mistake. The same is true in business or social life or any of our human relationships.

★ ★ ★

Another quotation I like:

"Hearts, like doors, will open with ease
To very, very little keys.
And don't forget that two of these Are, 'I thank you' and 'If you please.' "

—Author Unknown.

It really takes such very very little keys! Something wonderful happens when you say these two things, that is, if you mean them. But we are so often in such a hurry and so involved with our own problems, that we fail to say them.

Politeness is important in marriage, too. Many husbands and wives treat one another to much less courtesy than they bestow upon their most casual acquaintances.

I love this quotation:

"He rubbed his hands and smiled aloud
And bowed and bowed and bowed and bowed,
Like a man who is sawing marble."

—Thomas Hood.

I have never believed, as some do, that people are dumb. I think they have a universal intelligence which is keener than that of a fox. They soon spot a phony. So, unless you mean it your public will find you out.

★ ★ ★

But if you have been allowing rush and hecticness to make you miss the richest rewards of life, why not change that?

Tomorrow: "Older Folks Should Prepare for Real Living."

Breaded Cube Steaks Come Out Fork Tender

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Tired of turkey and ham and all holiday food? This cube steak recipe from Mrs. Donald S. Gheen of Milford may be just the dish you're looking for.

Mrs. Gheen calls herself an "active homemaker . . . with five boys." She is especially interested in home design. Mrs. Gheen has been a participant in the national Women's Housing Congress.

BREADED CUBE STEAKS
By Mrs. Donald S. Gheen

1 medium cube steak per person
Cracker crumbs
1 tall can evaporated milk
Salt and pepper

Cut steak in half and flatten out with spatula or fork. Dip into milk, being sure it covers meat. Then dip into crumbs, pressing crumbs into meat with fork. Dip again into milk, then into crumbs.

Heat a mixture of half butter or margarine and vegetable shortening in skillet. Brown each piece of meat over low heat, turning once. Add enough fat to brown well. Remove and drain on paper toweling.

Place drained steaks in baking pan. Add ½ cup water. Cover and bake 30 minutes in 350-degree oven. Uncover, turn off oven and leave meat to keep warm while you make

Indian Corn

Remove extra fat from frying pan and saute two medium onions that are diced. When they are soft, add canned or frozen corn, a small can of stewed tomatoes and salt and pepper. Simmer gently until heated through. Serve with breaded steaks and a large green salad.

Time of Essence

(NEA) — Coffee stains on cotton yield to treatment, but you must be quick. Get stained garment into warm water and mild soap suds soon as possible. Let stand for 20 minutes or so. Then, handwash carefully.

Believe Younger Children Learn Easier

Early Teaching of Languages Increasing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Teaching the three Rs in two languages no longer is a novelty in elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

The Foreign Language Center, founded last July as a clearing house for information on language study, estimates there are about 750,000 children in grades three through six receiving lessons in French, Spanish, Italian, German or even Russian.

About 500 communities have a second language program for the grades, compared with 89 in 1952, says Donald Walsh, center director.

Walsh, who is on leave from Choate School in Connecticut, said that within a few weeks the center hoped to circulate questionnaires in every school district in the nation to find who "is studying language, what language, in what grades, and the number enrolled."

UNDER FEDERAL ACT

The study would be made under provisions of the National Defense Education act.

Most programs, he said, begin the second language studies in the third grade—"where any language is simple.

"Of course they don't begin with vocabulary and sentence structure; that comes later, after the children have gotten into grammar. But they learn in a situation . . . kids invent language anyway, you know. And the fidelity of their accent is wonderful."

"The young are not self-conscious," said Walsh, in an interview.

"Adolescence is the worst time in the world to begin the second language. The child is self-conscious. He is afraid he will make a fool of himself.

★ ★ ★

"He can imitate easily when he is nine or 10 . . . at that age, he hasn't decided that everything has to sound like English. Bread can just as well be 'pain' (French)."

One of the first school systems to begin language at the grade level is Somerville, N.J., where elective classes in Spanish and French from the third grade up have been offered since 1949.

Doris Chamberlain, a teacher for 25 years and chairman of the city's Foreign Language Department, said children "soak up" another language when started early.

"And by the time they're through high school," she said, "they've had at least nine years in one foreign language. They're ready to start another."

★ ★ ★

Not all educators agree with Walsh, Miss Chamberlain or other teachers who head similar programs in such communities as Hackensack, N.J., Glaston b u r y, Conn., and El Paso, Tex.

FOR GIFTED CHILDREN

New York City schools have a program for gifted children. But Dr. J. Wayne Wrightstone, director of education research, said that children of average I.Q. "by and large cannot handle this additional load."

Walsh said schools inaugurating foreign language courses in all cases had had full support of parents and PTA but "often have run into opposition from school boards because hiring good teachers costs money."

"And good language teachers," he added, "are the biggest bottleneck."

The language center is an arm of the Modern Language Assn., founded in 1883, now with a membership of 10,000 language teachers, most of whom work at the college level.

★ ★ ★

"We all must have a better knowledge of foreign languages," said Walsh, "if we are to communicate with our neighbors. I don't think a person is educated unless he knows at least one other language."

A Year That Kept World Leaders on the Run

Pictures Recap the Story of an Eventful 1959

PREP FOR SPACE TRIP — Three Project Mercury astronauts, garbed in pressure suits, tumble weightlessly about padded cabin of transport plane. An astronaut is expected to be weightless as the first U. S. manned satellite soars through space.

EAST AND WEST — President Eisenhower and Nikita Khrushchev stand at attention at ceremony welcoming the Soviet Premier at Andrews AFB, Md.

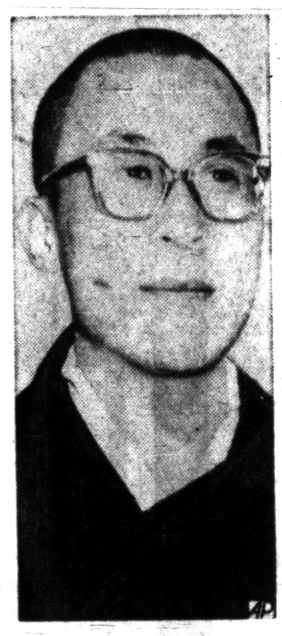

NEW REGIME COMING—Rebel leader Fidel Castro, who later became premier, waves from vehicle during triumphal procession down Malecon Drive in Havana. Entry into the Cuban capital culminated overthrow of the Batista regime in January.

LONELY PATH — Indian Premier Nehru, beset with China border and domestic problems, is picture of meditation as he walks at New Delhi airport in October.

PRESIDENT AND POPE — President Eisenhower listens as Pope John XXIII reads an address during audience at the Vatican. Major John Eisenhower and his wife, Barbara, listen. They accompanied Chief Executive on good will tour in December.

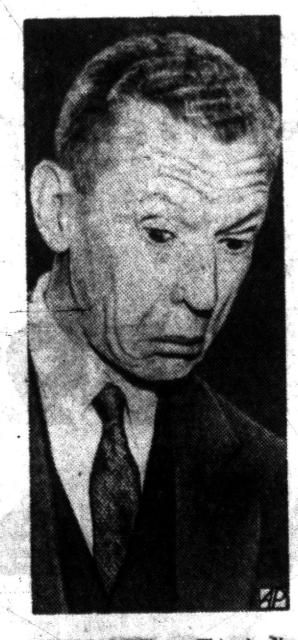

EXILE — The Dalai Lama, god-king of Tibet, is shown on arrival at Tezpur, Assam, in April after flight from homeland which was occupied by Chinese Reds.

JOINS THE UNION — Honolulu newsboy Chester Kahapea hawks statehood extra after U. S. Congress voted Hawaii as 50th state of the Union in March.

YEAR'S ROMANCE — Steven Rockefeller, son of the New York governor, and Anne Marie Rasmussen smile near Sogne, Norway, before August wedding.

AFTERMATH — This is the facial expression of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville after June strategy session of western powers in Geneva.

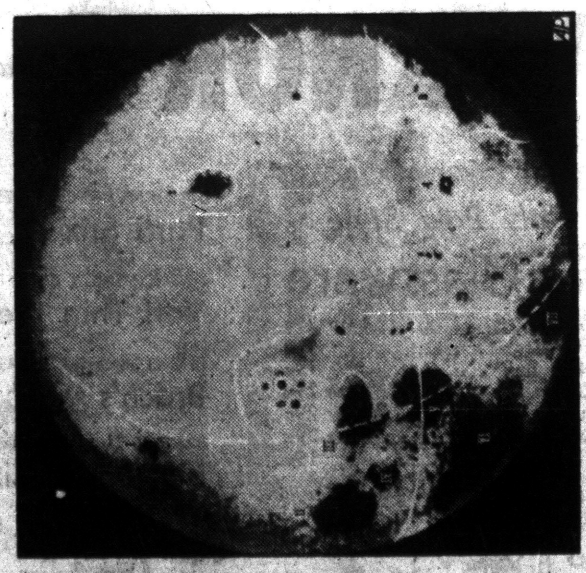

AN IOWA INTERLUDE — Farmer Roswell Garst hurls cornshucks at newsmen crowding around his guest, Nikita Khrushchev, right, during tour of Coon Rapids, Ia., farm in September. Stop at Garst's farm was a highlight of the Soviet Premier's trip.

TV QUIZ PROBE — Educator Charles Van Doren testifies at hearing in November that he was given answers for TV quiz show on which he was big winner.

DEBATE IN MOSCOW—Vice President Nixon gestures during talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev at July opening of U. S. exhibit in Moscow. They kept up running debate on merits of the Soviet and U. S. ways of life as they toured exhibit area.

MOON PHOTO — Russia issued this picture as hidden side of moon as taken by instruments in Soviet Lunik III. Roman numbers are in area normally seen from earth; Arabic numbers are on moon's "hidden" side.

TENSION IN AFRICA — Police wield clubs to disperse demonstrating women in non-white slum area of Durban, South Africa, in June. African nationalist feeling mounted throughout year as former European colonies became independent states.

Steak Has to Be More Tender Cut

Some people choose steak once or twice a week, says Josephine Lawyer, Marketing Agent for Oakland County. Others choose steak once a month, and some shoppers buy steak once every two months.

Regardless of when you buy steak, remember that a higher grade is more important when choosing steak than when choosing chuck roast. This is generally accepted because of the type of cookery.

Chuck roast must usually be cooked by a moist heat method and can be tenderized this way.

Steak is usually broiled or fried and must be basically tender. A higher grade of meat helps insure tenderness.

Tangy Hot Dip Served With Bread or Apples

Plan on "help yourself" refreshments during the gay holiday season. It's more fun and less work to be casual and entertain informally.

A "help yourself" dish just developed is Golden Swiss Fondue. This hot dip can be prepared at a moment's notice. It gets its robust flavor from the company's tangy prepared mustard and Worcestershire sauce in combination with Swiss cheese.

Decorate the fondue with a Christmas tree made of parsley flakes or paprika, set out some crisp apples and cubes of French bread for dunking, plenty of hot coffee and you can entertain the easy way.

Here's the recipe for the Swiss Fondue as well as a Soup 'n Cheese Dip.

Golden Swiss Fondue

1 can (14½ oz.) evaporated milk
4 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
1 pound process Swiss cheese, grated

Scald undiluted evaporated milk in top of double boiler. Add mustard and seasonings, beating with fork or wire whip until blended and slightly thickened. Stir in cheese. Cook over hot water until cheese melts.

Place in chafing dish or over candle warmer to keep hot. Use chunks of French bread or wedges of apple to "dunk" into cheese mixture. Or spoon over crisp toast or crackers. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Soup 'n Cheese Dip

1 can (10½ oz.) tomato soup (undiluted)
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
½ lb. process American cheese, grated

Combine all ingredients. Heat over low heat stirring occasionally until cheese is melted. Serve as a dip or over toast. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Civil War Gen. George B. McClennan was elected governor of New Jersey in 1877, thirteen years after he lost a presidential election to Abraham Lincoln.

Touch of the Orient in Gingered Fruit

This fruit cup has interesting flavor.

Teahouse Fruit Cup

1 medium or large grapefruit
1 slice canned pineapple
⅔ cup pineapple juice (from canned pineapple slices)
1 can (11 ounces) Mandarin oranges
2 tablespoons slivered syrup-preserved ginger

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Cut pineapple slice into small pieces and add to grapefruit with pineapple juice and oranges (including liquid in can). Mix in ginger slivers and, if desired, 1 or 2 tablespoons of the ginger syrup. Chill. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Open a Can of Soup as a Good Start

Add to a can of soup to give extra home-brewed flavor.

Quick Peasant Soup

1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
1 small onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato rice soup
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ cup finely shredded cabbage

Turn mushrooms into a small strainer over a measure; add enough water to the mushroom liquid to make 1 cup. Peel, quarter and cut onion into thin strips.

In a 1-quart saucepan gently cook butter, drained mushrooms and onion until onion yellows. Add 1 cup mushroom liquid and undiluted tomato soup, garlic salt and cabbage.

Cover and heat slowly, stirring occasionally, until cabbage wilts and flavors blend—20 minutes or longer. Makes 2 large main-dish servings.

Melt Vanilla Caramels for Smooth Date Candy

In double boiler, heat two 1 pound packages vanilla caramels with 2 tablespoons water, stirring frequently, until smooth. Add 2 7½ ounce packages (2 2/3 cups) chopped dates. Cool slightly until candy can be handled, then shape into a log and roll in 1 cup chopped walnuts.

Cool thoroughly. Slice to serve. Makes about 45 slices 2½" in diameter.

Seafood and Celery Baked as Souffle

A luscious seafood dish.

Shrimp and Celery Puff

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup milk
½ cup heavy cream
4 eggs (separated)
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup minced celery
1 can (about 4 ounces) wet-pack large cleaned shrimp (drained and cut in half)
Paprika

Make a white sauce with the butter, flour, salt, pepper, mustard, milk and cream; cover and cool. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; stir vigorously into sauce with lemon juice, celery, shrimp and pinch of paprika. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into shrimp mixture.

Turn into a 1½-quart casserole. Stand in a pan (9 by 9 by 2 inches) of boiling water and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 minutes, until firm and puffed. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Crush Your Own Garlic

Garlic-crushers are the rage, but many cooks like to use a small mortar and pestle for crushing garlic because the latter is so easy to clean. Excellent mortars and pestles, in varying sizes, are usually available at pharmaceutical supply houses, but some kitchenware departments in stores also carry them.

Shoepeg Corn Makes Cole Slaw Unusual

Exotic variation on cole slaw.

Corn Slaw

2 cups shredded green cabbage
1 can (12 ounces) vacuum-packed shoepeg (white) corn
6 large pitted ripe olives (sliced into thin rings)
French dressing
Salt
White pepper
Salad greens
Paprika

Toss cabbage, corn and olives with enough French dressing to moisten and give good flavor. Add salt and pepper to taste. Mound on salad greens; sprinkle with paprika. Makes 4 servings.

Celery tops may be drained in a just-warm oven and then use to give flavor to soups.

Cheese a Milk Substitute

Cheese may replace part of your daily milk requirement. A 1¼-ounce slice of American cheese supplies the same amounts of protein and calcium, and 4 times as much vitamin A as ¾ cup of whole milk.

Use Frozen French Fries to Make Tasty Hash

Frozen French fried potatoes make delicious hash with either roast beef or roast turkey. Put frozen French fried potatoes and the meat through the meat grinder together with some onion. Or just dice these ingredients fine.

Turn into a heavy skillet in which you have heated butter or margarine. Brown well on either side. If a moist hash is desired, add a few tablespoons bouillon or gravy and stir frequently while cooling. Use salt and pepper to taste.

Date Coconut Chews

Combine two-thirds cup sweetened condensed milk, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 cup flaked coconut and 1 7½ ounce package (1-one-third cups) chopped dates. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10-12 minutes. Makes about two dozen.

Roll crackers or cookies ofr crumb crusts for pies the easy way: put them in a plastic or paper bag, leaving top open, then go to work.

Only 12 Calories More

There is little difference in the calorie content of creamed and uncreamed cottage cheese — just 12 calories for a half cup serving. Just enough cream is added to dry cottage cheese to add flavor and attractiveness.

Eggplant's Good, Too

Planning to serve your family shish kebab? Usually onion and green pepper wedges are inserted on skewers along with the marinated lamb. Try adding cubes of eggplant, too. Brush all vegetables with oil before broiling.

When there's no hambone in the house, you can use salt pork with yellow split peas for a hearty soup.

New Year's Eve Calls for Buffet

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We've found a conversation piece for you to use on your New Year's Eve buffet table. He's "Willy Dilly," the pickle snowman. Not only will your guests enjoy his comical appearance, but they will rave about his insides.

Grated Swiss cheese joins softened cream cheese, along with hard-cooked eggs, sweet mixed pickles and chopped onions. The recipe makes six cups of spread which you form into snowman shape and frost with more cream cheese.

If you don't want to take the time to make "Willy Dilly," the spread may be served in a bowl. But we think "Willy" is worth a little time. We made him recently and found the job not too lengthy.

"Willy Dilly" Pickle Snowman

2 8-ounce packages process Swiss cheese, grated
3 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
6 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 cup chopped sweet mixed pickles
½ cup finely chopped onions
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
Dill pickles
Assorted crackers

Combine Swiss cheese, 3 packages cream cheese, eggs, sweet mixed pickles, onions, salt and pepper; mix well. Take one quarter of mixture and shape into ball. Wrap in waxed paper. Shape remaining three quarters of mixture into ball. Wrap in waxed paper. Chill balls 3-4 hours.

Remove waxed paper and place small ball on top of large ball to form head of snowman. Beat remaining 8 ounce package cream cheese until smooth. Spread beaten cream cheese over balls. Garnish with dill pickles to form hat, face and buttons on snowman. Serve with crackers.

Another snack for your festive table is made with whole wheat cereal flakes. Cream cheese is again the base with finely shredded dried beef mixed into it. Little balls of this mixture are rolled in cereal flakes. They are delicious.

Cereal Flake Appetizer Balls

3 cups whole wheat flakes
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
½ teaspoon onion salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt
Dash of Tobasco
½ cup finely shredded dried beef

Slightly crush whole wheat flakes to make 1½ cups cereal. Combine cream cheese and seasonings. Stir until soft and smooth. Add ½ cup crushed whole wheat flakes and dried beef and blend. Roll into 1-inch balls. Cover and store in refrigerator until ready to use.

Just before serving roll balls in remaining crushed cereal and pierce each ball with a pick. Makes 24 balls.

Stuffed celery is not a new idea, but using peanut butter in the stuffing may be. We're betting the younger generation will like these Stuffed Celery Wheels.

Stuffed Celery Wheels

1 small package (3 oz.) cream cheese
3 tablespoons smooth peanut butter
2 strips crumbled crisp fried bacon
Stalk of celery

Wash celery and carefully remove individual ribs, placing them in order of removal. Combine cream cheese, peanut butter and crisp bacon crumbs while celery drains.

Fill curve of ribs level with cream cheese mixture. Put filled ribs back into position in which stalk grew. Hold ribs in stalk position with tight rubber bands. With sharp knife cut cross sections of stalk, arrange carefully on plate.

Hot hors d'oeuvres are delightful to serve, but some take too much time in the kitchen at the last minute. Bacon Biscuit Balls are one exception. They can be mixed and dropped on baking sheets hours before the party. Eight minutes in the oven is all they'll need at service time. Have your bowl of hot tomato sauce ready over a candle warmer.

Bacon Biscuit Balls

1 pound sliced bacon
4 tablespoons chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons chopped mushrooms
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
¼ cup bacon drippings

Fry bacon until crisp. Save the drippings. Snip the bacon into small pieces and combine it with green pepper and mushrooms. Sift together the flour, baking powder and mustard.

Mix the bacon and vegetables with the flour. Combine the egg, milk, and bacon drippings. Stir the liquid into the flour mixture with a fork.

Drop by teaspoonsfuls onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) about 8 minutes. Serve on wooden picks with a hot tomato sauce. Makes 50.

WILLY DILLY — If you're looking for a something clever, quick and easy to serve for your New Year's Eve party, "Willy Dilly" is your man. He's a pickle snowman who, in reality, is a cover-up for a zesty pickle cheese spread. Make him ahead of time, decorate him with pickles at the last minute.

EASY CHEESE WAFERS — Freshly baked cheese wafers provide a quick impressive snack for holiday guests. Keep the unbaked rolls of cheese pastry in the refrigerator for slicing and baking as needed. Decorate, if desired, with nuts, caraway seeds or sesame seeds.

Guests Welcome Cheese Wafers

So that you can be the gracious hostess the happy holiday season demands, be prepared for drop-in as well as invited guests by keeping your refrigerator supplied with quick, easy refreshments. For example, several rolls of refrigerator cheese pastry, ready to slice and pop into the oven are a wonderful time-saver and a perfect "go-along" for ale and beer — beverages which are sparkling and festive, yet require no preparation at all.

Refrigerator Cheese Wafers

1 cup (½ pound) butter or margarine
½ pound process American cheese
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2⅔ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Have butter and cheese at room temperature. In small bowl of electric mixer, cream butter; beat in American cheese, salt, dry mustard, and Worcestershire sauce. Gradually blend in flour. Chill.

Shape into 4 6-inch rolls about 1½ inches in diameter; roll up in waxed paper and refrigerate until ready to use. To bake, cut chilled rolls into ¼-inch wafers. Decorate with whole pecans, caraway seeds, sesame seeds or stuffed olive slices.

Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve while hot to holiday guests with glasses of freshly-poured, chilled ale or beer. Yield: 2 dozen wafers per roll.

Serve Two Purposes

Save the giblets from broiler-fryers and when you have enough of them use along with wing tips for stock. The giblets themselves may then be put through a food chopper and mixed with mayonnaise, pickle relish, salt and pepper for a sandwich spread. Mashed hard-cooked eggs are also a good addition.

Fewer Calories Hide in Ersatz Sour Cream

A delicious way to use our favorite sour-cream substitute.

Herring With Ersatz Sour Cream

½ cup buttermilk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 container (8 ounces) creamstyle cottage cheese (small or large curd)
Salt
1 jar (about 8 ounces) marinated herring fillets
Salad greens
Pimiento strips or green pepper

Turn buttermilk, lemon juice and cottage cheese into the container of an electric blender. Blend until smooth—about 1 minute; scrape down sides; blend again until smooth. Turn into a pint jar.

With fork remove herring fillets and onion rings from marinade; dry fish and onion on a paper towel; discard marinade. Cut fish and onion into smaller pieces; turn into cottage-cheese mixture in jar; fold in. Cover tightly and refrigerate. (Creamy mixture will thicken when chilled.)

At serving time, serve mixture on salad greens; garnish with pimiento. Any of the herring mixture not used may be stored for as long as a week, if tightly covered, in refrigerator.

Orange Flavored Waffles Step Out as Dessert

For brunch or dessert, your guests will love these waffles served with a honey hard sauce and steaming black coffee. Use a rich waffle recipe and substitute orange juice in place of milk.

Sprinkle a tablespoon of chopped walnuts over the batter of each waffle before baking. These waffles may be frozen, then thawed and crisped quickly under your broiler, turning once.

Drain canned pineapple rings, dip in fritter batter and deep-fat fry. Dust with powdered sugar and serve at once.

U.S. Potatoes All Year Crop

The people who "invented" potatoes, the early residents of what is now Peru, liked their potatoes the year 'round. Some of the historical records of the Spanish conquerors indicate the natives dried potatoes in the sun to keep them after the normal storage period had ended. And the U.S. Department of Agriculture says the residents of Peru still dry their potatoes to preserve them.

With us modern Yanquis, dried potatoes are purely for convenience, for the U.S. Department of Agriculture says that potatoes are harvested somewhere in the United States virtually every week of the year, and potatoes grown in any state are likely to be shipped to almost any other state. So, we too, may eat potatoes the year 'round, just like the Peruvians, who first discovered that potatoes make good, healthful eating.

Here is one way of fixing potatoes that would have amazed the potato eaters of four centuries ago: Potato Sticks With Cheese.

Cut potatoes into sticks as though you were going to French fry them. Place the sticks in a greased baking dish and pour a little milk over them. Cover the dish and bake in a hot oven, 420 degrees, for about 40 minutes. Remove from the oven and sprinkle grated cheese over the potato sticks.

Return to the oven and bake until the cheese melts, about five minutes. For color and a change in flavor, some people like to add chopped parsley leaves along with the cheese.

Smooth Base, Spicy Sauce Are Luscious

A creamy fruit dessert that is utterly delectable.

Tapioca Cherries

1 can (1 pound) red tart pitted cherries (water packed)
⅓ cup sugar
5 teaspoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon ground cloves
2 teaspoons lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon red food coloring
Tapioca Cream (standard recipe for 4 to 5 servings)
½ cup heavy cream

Drain cherries, reserving liquid. In a saucepan stir together thoroughly the sugar, cornstarch, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Add cherry liquid gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition.

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until boiling; boil ½ minute. Remove from heat; stir in drained cherries, lemon juice and red food coloring.

★ ★ ★

Have Tapioca Cream cool; whip cream and fold into tapioca. Spoon the cherry sauce into 8 parfait glasses or dessert dishes; top with Tapioca Cream; cover and chill.

Duck-Orange Twosome

Try stuffing a duck with quartered oranges next time you plan to roast or spit-broil the bird. Serve with an orange sauce.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Dear Sir:

Talk about bush-league cities, you've got to put Detroit right up there among the leaders. I'm a die-hard fan as much as anyone, especially when all those bums, the Tigers, Lions, Pistons and Red Wings lose, but I'm glad I haven't gotten to the goof-ball stage. I refer to some of those fans who go to athletic events and start tossing eggs and tomatoes at the players and officials. It seems that hockey fans are the worst violators, and this puts the sports fans in Detroit in the bush-league class.

Wally
Milford

Dear Wally:

You are keeee-rect. Someone ought to nab a couple of the egg throwers as at the Olympia recently and stand them up and let the players throw eggs back at them.

★ ★ ★

Dear Sir:

We've been hearing so much about those great sophomore basketball players at U. of D., DeBusschere and North, why don't they televise a couple of games from Detroit and let us all get a look at them. I've been ill in bed for some time and couldn't get down there to see them. We have to watch New York teams on TV. Why can't we see these local guys who have been getting so much attention? Are they really as good as they say they are?

George S.
Waterford Twp.

Dear George:

Those two sophomores are really as good as you've read and heard. With all the junk that is televised locally out of Detroit, a little effort could be exerted, if wished, for guys like yourself. Incidentally, the educational channel 56 often carries many of those games. You must have your set converted.

★ ★ ★

Dear Sir:

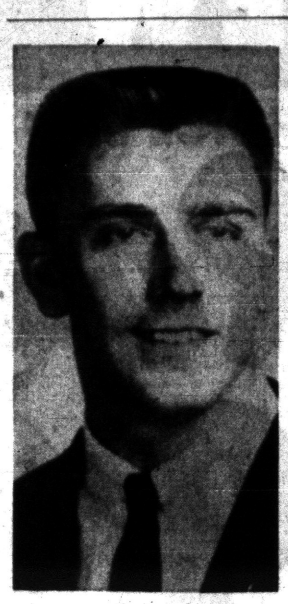

Why don't the Tigers take a few lessons from some of the teams like Cincinnati, Cleveland, Kansas City who have been making recent trades? We realize it takes a lot of guts to trade players like Cleveland did with McLish, and Cincinnati with Temple. Every year the Tigers think their players are so invincible they can't be traded.

Anti-Tiger

Dear Tiger Trader:

Remember, the Indians have "trader Lane." The Tigers? Well — they have "dreamer DeWitt."

Colts 'Great' Says Coach

BALTIMORE (AP) — "You're great, and we're going on and on," coach Weeb Ewbank told his Baltimore Colts after they won their second consecutive National football League championship Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Only four other teams in 27 years of NFL playoffs have won consecutive titles, and no team has won three in a row.

Ewbank's confidence shouldn't be taken lightly. His announced five-year plan for a Baltimore championship came through right on schedule last year.

The Colt players were especially happy with the wide margin of their 31-16 victory over the New York Giants in Sunday's playoff game. Some critics had suggested the Colts were lucky to edge the Giants 23-17 in overtime for their first title last year.

★ ★ ★

"You win the title one year, and some say you're lucky," summed up offensive guard and linebacker Steve Myhra. "But we've won it twice, so I hope they'll say we've really got something going for us."

George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, seemed to agree. He said from Chicago last night that "I definitely would class the Colts with the great teams I have seen."

Colts' Victory Too Much for General Manager

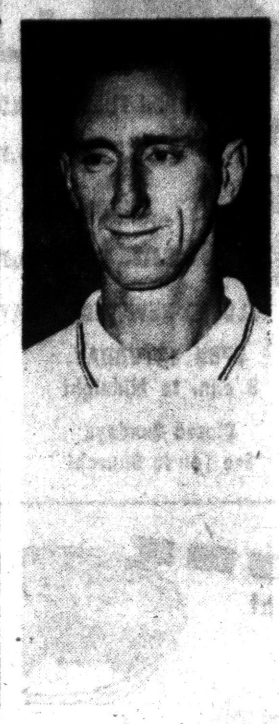

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Don Kellett, general manager and vice president of the Baltimore Colts, was being treated for "complete exhaustion" today in a local hospital.

★ ★ ★

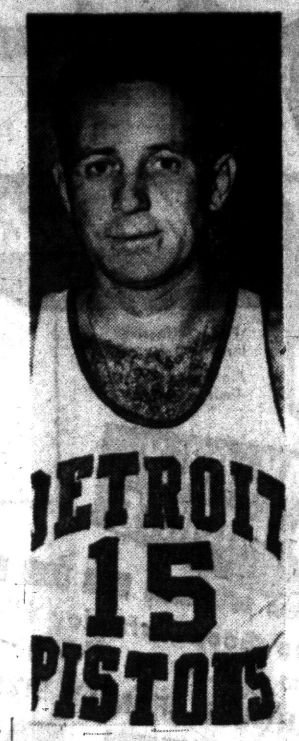

Kellett collapsed in a taxi yesterday en-route to a luncheon honoring the Colts for their victory over the New York Giants in Sunday's National Football League championship game.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Erwin Mayer, the Baltimore team's physician, said Kellett would be hospitalized for sevral days for rest and observation.

OUT — Red Rocha, popular coach who saw the Pistons lose 12 of the last 14 games, was relieved of his post, a job he has held since Dec. 1957 when he replaced Charley Eckman.

IN — Dick McGuire became the head coach of the Detroit Pistons following a quickly called Press conference in Detroit last night by owner Fred Zollner.

Rocha Is Fired in Quick Move by Club Owner

12 Losses in Last 14 Games Bring About Sudden Change

DETROIT (AP)—Tricky Dick McGuire, newest of Brooklyn's coaching McGuires, becomes a man with a single mission as coach of the Detroit Pistons, one of pro basketball's most perilous jobs.

"Develop the Pistons' teamwork, that's all we ask," McGuire was told when named coach of the National Basketball Assn. club last night. McGuire succeeded Red Rocha, who was fired in a sudden move by the Pistons' executive board. McGuire is playing his 11th NBA season.

"We've lost 12 of our last 14 games," complained owner Fred Zollner. "There's been a tendency of each of the players to play only for himself instead of the team. We need teamwork, that's the only thing that makes a basketball team go and we haven't had it.

"Dick's been a team player all along. He knows teamwork."

McGuire becomes the Pistons' third coach since the club moved here from Fort Wayne just before the 1957-58 season. Charley Eckman, the holdover coach, was fired in favor of Rocha less than two months after the club started representing Detroit.

"We just got away from playing together lately," said Rocha in agreement with Zollner. "Lately we've been nothing but individuals on the court."

The Pistons have fallen eight games behind the St. Louis Hawks. Still they're in second place with a 13-21 record.

The switch was announced at a hastily summoned news conference. McGuire appeared stunned by the sudden developments.

"I haven't thought much about what I'll do," said the new coach. "I'm scared that's all. I'll still play but not as much as before."

McGuire, 33, played his college ball at St. John's in Brooklyn. So did his brother Al, now coach at Belmont Abbey in North Carolina. A third McGuire, Frank, no relation, also was a star for St. John's. Frank later coached the Redmen and now is coach at North Carolina. All three McGuires learned their basketball in Brooklyn.

"I was surprised that this happened right now," said Rocha. "There was no outward sign given. But whe thing's aren't going right, coaches get fired.

"Actually, I feel a lot more relaxed now that it's over. I don't know yet if I want to stay in basketball or go back into business. If I stick to coaching, I'd rather it's at the college level."

McGuire played for the New York Knickerbockers for eight seasons before joining Detroit in 1957. One of his old buddies, Carl Braun, was named coach of the Knicks only two weeks ago.

Ironically, McGuire will make his coaching bow tomorrow against the Knicks and Braun at Philadelphia.

McGuire was given an undisclosed raise in pay. His contract will carry over into next season.

Rookie of Year Sees Packers as '60 Title Threat

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers aren't going to be the doormat of the National Football League any longer, the loop's rookie of the year said today.

Boyd Dowler, a 6-5, 220-pound end and flanker back, predicted the resurging Packers would be in the thick of contention for the 1960 pro grid championship. Green Bay finished in a tie for third in the NFL's Western Conference.

Dowler, who was converted from a collegiate passing star at Colorado University to an adept pass-snagging end in the pro circles, expressed surprise when told he'd been named the league's outstanding first-year player.

Dowler sat on the bench for most of the first half of the season and it wasn't until mid-season that he broke into the Packers' starting offensive line-up.

"It was certainly a great honor," Dowler said when advised of his selection. "I'm thrilled and want to give tribute to the Packers as a whole and particularly Vince Lombardi, the coach."

Union Lake Skaters Spark 2-1 Triumph

Two Union Lake skaters, Bob Beyers and Don Airde, provided the scoring punch Monday night as Detroit Stamping Co. gained a 2-1 victory over Standard Forge in a Detroit Senior Hockey League game.

★ ★ ★

Both De-Sta-Co goals came in the 1st period. Beyers scored the 1st goal, then Airde connected on a power play. The setback knocked Forge out of a 1st place tie. De-Sta-Co and Forge now have 3-2 records.

Favoritism Is Shifting in Rose Bowl

Writers' Poll Picks Huskies Over Badgers

Professional Odds Are Still Leaning Towards Wisconsin 11

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A surprising tide of favoritism for the Washington Huskies cropped up today among members of the press here to cover the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

One poll of writers, television and radio men came out with 55 selecting Washington to win to 39 favoring Wisconsin, the Big Ten champion.

A less extensive poll came out 17-15 favoring Wisconsin. The midwest voted solidly for the Badgers, the northwest unanimously for Washington.

Professional odds still favor Wisconsin by at least six points.

One-a-day workouts remained in effect for both squads today while Coach Milt Bruhn continued his barred-gate policy for all West Coast writers.

★ ★ ★

Big Jim Owens confided that he is feeling somewhat better over the condition of his Huskies and said "by game time I think we will be all right."

Bad weather at home, as well as a missed key workout here, hampered the Huskies' training program.

Bruhn apparently had no such concern.

"We are on schedule and I hope we will be ready to play a real fine football game New Year's Day," he observed.

Owens, asked about the mental attitude of his squad, answered: "I definitely think we came down here to win this game."

The coaches were asked what type of game might await the fans—a low or high scoring contest.

Both said the early phases may be on the conservative side, each team feeling the other out.

"We may play it by ear for awhile, but it (the game) could break wide open," Owens said.

"We both are defensive minded to some extent," Owens went on, "but as for scoring, well, I couldn't predict about that."

Owens said a review of Wisconsin game movies convinced him the Badgers don't make mistakes.

"We have a feeling we will have to defeat them. They won't defeat themselves," the onetime Oklahoma star declared.

Bruhn singled out the Huskies' All - America quarterback, Bob Schloredt, for special praise for his talents on offense as well as defense.

Cincinnati Solid Choice as Nation's No. 1 Team

By The Associated Press

Big O and Co., formally known as Oscar Robertson and Cincinnati, still top the nation's college basketball teams in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

The voting was conducted over the weekend, so the results of Monday's tournament games were not a factor. Robertson had solidified Cincinnati's position by scoring 47 points in Cincinnati's 96-56 rout of St. Bonaventure in Saturday's first round of the ECAC Holiday Festival.

Cincinnati drew 57 of the 103 first place votes. West Virginia received 27, California 14 and Cincinnati led West Virginia 932-879.

West Virginia, idle last week, edged a bit closer to Cincinnati in the balloting despite Cincinnati's triumphs over Bradley and St. Bonaventure. West Virginia, with its All America Jerry West, is competing in the Los Angeles Classic with such other high-ranked teams as California and Illinois.

California was rated No. 3 in the voting, moving up on its victory over Michigan State. Utah advanced two pegs to the No. 4 position by handing Ohio State its first defeat and also knocking off the College of the Pacific. But the Utes lost 63-52 to Duke last night at Raleigh, N.C.

Ohio State drew solid backing and ranked fifth. There was a wide gap between Ohio State and sixth-place St. Louis which defeated Kansas and Creighton during the week. They have an important date Saturday with Bradley.

★ ★ ★

Indiana, competing in the Blue Grass tournament at Louisville this week, added victories over Butler and Notre Dame last week. Close behind seventh-place Indiana came Illinois, which took a perfect 5-0 record into the Los Angeles tournament.

★ ★ ★

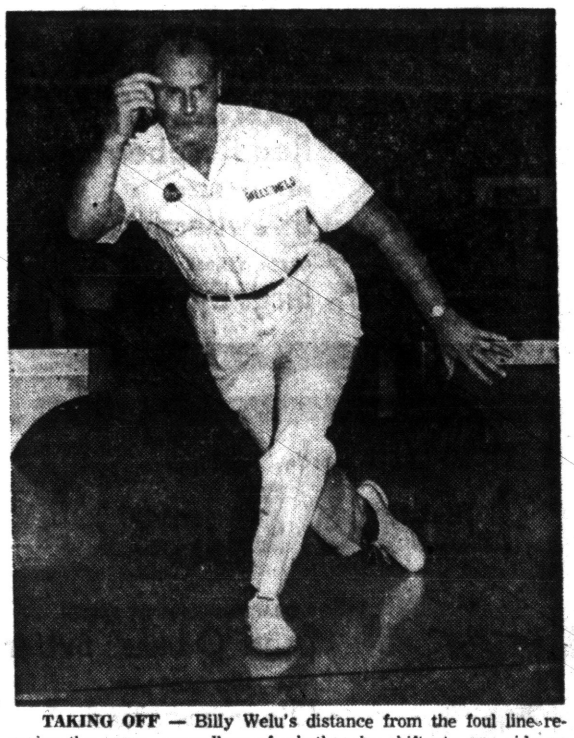

Bradley tumbled from fifth to ninth after its defeat by Cincinnati and Georgia Tech slid from eighth to tenth after Southern Methodist knocked it from the unbeaten ranks.

★ ★ ★

The top ten, based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. (First place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Dec. 26 in parentheses).

1.	Cincinnati (57) (7-0)	932

All-Star Pin Points

TAKING OFF — Billy Welu's distance from the foul line remains the same, regardless of whether he shifts to one side or other or at what pins he bowls from a balanced stance.

APPROACHES
By BILLY WELU

The approach in bowling is like an airport runway.

It is where you take off.

American Bowling Congress rules say approaches must be at least 15 feet long, but you don't have to use all that footage.

★ ★ ★

The number of steps you take can be determined only by you.

I use the four-step approach. There are good bowlers who use three, five and even more steps. The length of your step depends on your physical makeup. You start on the right foot unless, like Lou Campi, you feel more comfortable starting on the left.

To find your starting spot, stand on the foul line with your back to the pins. Take four normal steps to the rear of the approach, add a half-step for your slide and turn around. This is your starting point, the distance from the foul line from which you start the approach, regardless of whether you shift to one side or at what pins you bowl.

Walk a straight line, don't run. Don't jerk, don't pull, don't zig and don't zag. Develop harmony and rhythm and tie it in with the comfort of your balanced stance.

Then you are ready for delivery.

Junior Wings Lose to Windsor Skaters

DETROIT (UPI) — The Windsor (Ont.) Mic Macs handed the Detroit Junior Wings a 5-3 defeat last night in a Border Cities Hockey League game at Olympia Stadium.

The loss trimmed Detroit's hold on first place in the six-team league to a slim one percentage point.

The 2,745 fans who watched the game were the second largest crowd ever to see a Junior Wings game. Windsor holds third place in the league standings, while the Chatham Maroons are second.

Michigan Bounced in LA Classic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California and West Virginia appear headed for the finals of the first annual Los Angeles Basketball Classic. But each faces a more formidable opponent today than in yesterday's opening round.

California, which toppled previously unbeaten Illinois 62-48 last night, tangles with Southern California. West Virginia, which had little trouble knocking over Stanford 66-47, meets UCLA.

Southern California beat Northwestern 81-62 yesterday while UCLA tripped up Michigan 93-68 in a night game.

In the loser's bracket today, it's Stanford vs. Michigan and Illinois against Northwestern. The final four games will be played Wednesday.

UCLA's defeat of Michigan represented the highest Bruin scoring total in two years. The UCLA points were well divided.

The Bruins were in charge all the way despite a 32-point scoring performane by Terry Miller of the Wolverines.

They led 40-31 at the half and increased their margin throughout the second period.

UCLA's scoring was well divided with Kent Miller getting 15 and Gary Cunningham and Bob Berry collecting 10 apiece.

The Bruins, who were 13-point favorites completely dominated the smaller Michigan team on the backboard.

Terry Miller, hitting mostly on set shots from 20 feet out, tried to keep the Wolverines in the game but he didn't have enough help. John Tidwell got 18 for Michigan.

16 Straight for Celtics; One Shy of Tying Record

By United Press International

The Boston Celtics hope to ring in the new year with a National Basketball Association record for consecutive victories.

Boston moved within one game of tying the mark of 17 straight Monday night with a 107-104 triumph over the Minneapolis Lakers.

A victory over St. Louis Wednesday and another against Cincinnati on New Year's night will give coach Red Auerbach's charges the standard set by the Washington Capitols during the 1946-47 season.

Minneapolis, down 11 points at the end of the first quarter, battled Boston on even terms the rest of the game. The Lakers outscored the Celtics over the next two periods and held a 96-95 edge midway in the final stanza.

Wilt Chamberlain outscored Jack Twyman, 39 to 34, to provide Philadelphia with its 109-104 margin of victory over Cincinnati. The Warriors, playing without injured Guy Rodgers, survived a second half rally by the Royals that cut Philadelphia's lead from 20 points to five at the buzzer.

St. Louis increased its Western Division lead to eight games with a 120-106 decision over the Syracuse Nationals. Cliff Hagan scored Dick Barnett topped Syracuse with 24.

Spartans Stop Butler, 85-80

Horace Walker Sweeps Board for MSU to Aid Victory

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Rebounding may not put any points on the scoreboard but that it has an effect on the outcome of a basketball game was graphically proven by Michigan State last night as they beat Butler here, 85-80.

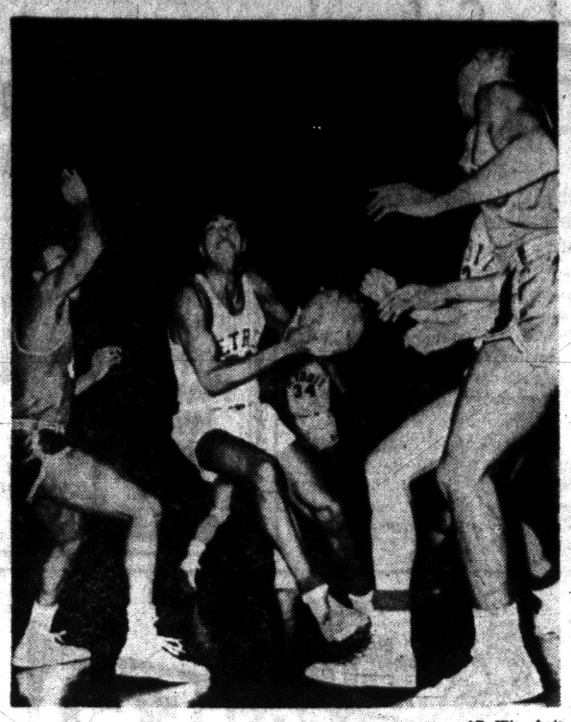

The Spartans pulled down 67 rebounds to only 37 for Butler and state's Horace Walker tied a court record by grabbing 29 himself.

Walker tied the record set by MSU's Johnny Green in 1955 as the Spartans triumphed in a tight game in which the score was tied five times. Dave Fahs of State, and Orville Bose and Ken Pennington scored 23 points apiece for high-point honors.

Butler led at the half, 42-38, but a basket by Walker with 14:36 left to play gave MSU a lead it never relinquished.

Western Michigan—U. of D. in Motor City Finals

AP Wirephoto

CLEAR SHOT — Hot shot Charley North of the Detroit Titans gets a clear shot at the basket in the Motor City Tournament game against New Mexico last night. North led the night's scoring with 28 points as U. of D. won, 100-64 to advance tonight into the finals against Western Michigan. North is only a sophomore.

Bronco Quintet Has Big Chore Against Titans

11th Ranked Detroit Mauls New Mexico by 100-64 Count

Western Michigan, with a band of five sophomores, got a good look at what it will have to face when it meets the red-hot Titans from the University of Detroit in the finals of the Motor City basketball classic tonight at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

Western had to battle from the opening moment to gain a 76-64 victory over Valparaiso in last night's opening game, and then the Broncos saw the 11th ranked Titans maul New Mexico, 100-64 in the second game.

The meeting of the two Michigan teams is a natural for the tournament, but if first round performances mean anything, the consolation game tonight between Valparaiso and New Mexico may turn out to be the better game. Both teams appear to be more evenly matched.

The final is slated for 9:30 p.m. after the opener at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Valparaiso held a 35-34 halftime lead, but three quick baskets by Ron Robinson, former Muskegon Heights star, put Western ahead in the second half to stay.

Bob James had 19 for Western, Robinson 18 and former All-Oakland County ace Earl McNeal from Ferndale 17.

Earning the right to meet Detroit in the finals may be more than Western can handle.

Detroit broke the tourney scoring record off 99 points set by Brigham Young in 1955. The crowd of 7,199 roared loud approval as substitute guard Tom Stumb dropped in the 100th point with a free throw with seven seconds remaining.

Three players hit more than 20 for U. of D., Charley North with 28, Ray Elbee with 24 and Dave DeBusschere with 22.

Larry Hughes of Walled Lake added 11 and again sparked the floor play for the Titans.

U. of D. grabbed a 10 point lead aftr two minutes of play and then coasted easily.

The 39 field goals for U. of D. was also a tournament record.

Hawkeyes in ECAC Finals; Ohio State Loses

Iowa Gets Crack at Big 'O'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Iowa's ball-hawking Hawkeyes, who refused to be cowed by New York's best basketball teams, now get a crack at the nation's best — Cincinnati — in the final round of the Holiday Festival tournament.

Iowa followed up its opening round upset victory over defending champion St. John's by whipping previously-unbeaten New York University, 80-75, last night at Madison Square Garden.

Although All-American Oscar Robertson was limited to 25 points, Cincinnati rolled to an 86-77 triumph over St. Joseph's (Pa.) to set up an interesting midwest duel in tomorrow night's title game.

Iowa, rebounding from a poor 10-12 record last season, has lost only one game (to Colorado) in its first nine outings and some New York court experts feel the Hawkeyes are strong enough to upset Cincinnati.

★ ★ ★

Utah, ranked No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll, came to the end of the string last night as Duke (5-1) handed the Utes their first defeat in nine games 63-52 for a first-round upset in the Dixie classic at Raleigh, N.C.

And Kentucky, a three-time loser, came from 15 points back for a 96-93 decision over fifth ranked Ohio State (7-2) despite a 34-point job by the bucks' Jerry Lucas in a non-tournament game at Lexington, Ky.

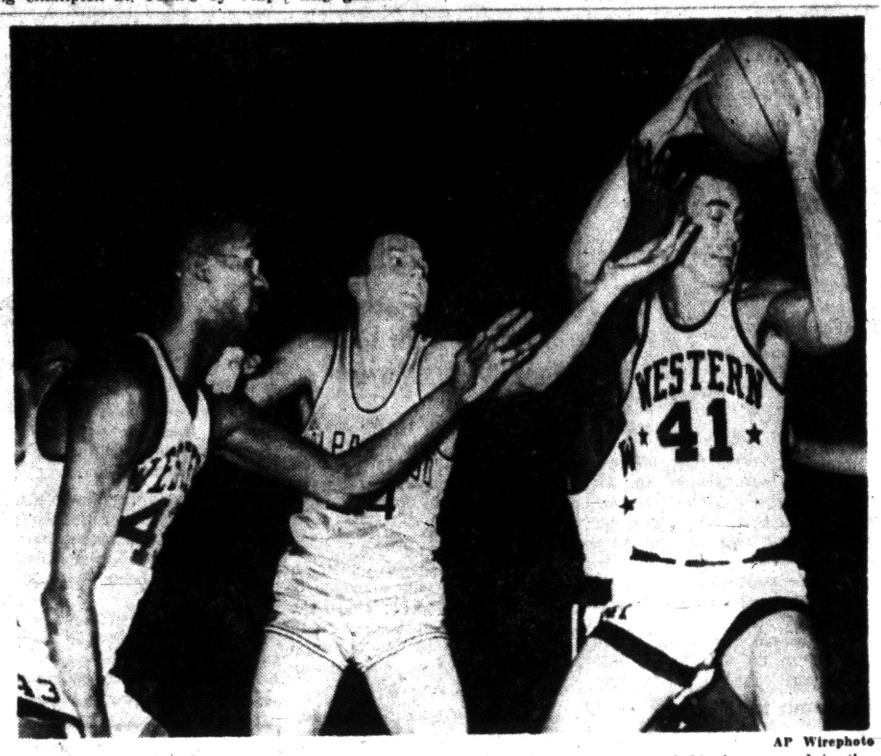

Duke meets North Carolina, a 72-65 winner over Minnesota on Lee Shaffer's 29 points after trailing by seven, tonight. The other semifinal sends Wake Forest, which dealt Holy Cross a first loss 80-71 with 5-10 Billy Packer scoring 25, against Dayton's Flyers, who defeated defending champ North Carolina State 36-32.

★ ★ ★

Indiana (7-1), ranked No. 7, was the only other top 10 at work last night and beat Maryland 72-63 despite Al Bunge's 26 points for the Terps in the Bluegrass Invitational at Louisville. The Hoosiers, led by 6-10 Walt Bellamy's 25 points, go for the title tonight against Fordham.

In a tournament final Canisius whipped Wisconsin 80-65 for the Queen City title at Buffalo.

In other games, unbeaten De Paul won its seventh, 75-55 over Marquette; Michigan State beat Butler 85-80 in a final tune-up for the Big Ten race; Auburn downed Florida State 76-63, Tennessee defeated touring Princeton 79-71; Vanderbilt ripped traveling Yale 76-65 and Tom Stith topped Robertson's ECAC mark with 48 points as St. Bonaventure beat Manhattan 96-86 in a consolation game.

SURROUNDED — Western Michigan center Keith Sterk (41) is hard pressed in the first period against Valparaiso last night as he fights to hold on to a rebound. At the left is Western forward Ron Robinson of Muskegon and in the center is Tom Orton of Valparaiso, who hails from Detroit. Western moved into the finals against U. of D. by winning 76-64.

3 W-O Quintets Advance to Semifinals at Fenton

Holly, Bloomfield Hills and Brighton, all Wayne-Oakland League members, advanced to the semifinals of the Fenton Invitational holiday basketball tournament last night.

With Ron Morlan pouring 36 points through the hoop for a new school scoring record, Holly handed host Fenton a 64-58 setback to avenge an earlier regular season loss.

Brighton, after trailing in the early stages of the game, rallied behind the shooting of big Don Appleton to defeat Clio, 61-54. Bloomfield Hills led all the way to thrash Howell, 67-49.

★ ★ ★

Milford, another W-O member, scared the life out of Flint Bendle before dropping a 56-52 decision in yesterday's other game at Fenton. Bendle trailed Milford until midway through the 4th quarter.

Brighton, defending W-O champion, and Holly clash tonight at 9:30 in one semifinal attraction. Bloomfield Hills and Bendle collide at 8 o'clock in the other semifinal contest.

Consolation battles match Fenton and Clio at 5 p.m. and Howell and Milford at 6:30.

★ ★ ★

Troy went down to defeat for the 1st time this season and bowed out of the Center Line Invitational tourney. The Colts, defending Oakland B League champs, faltered in the 4th period and fell before speedy Willow Run, 61-54, despite a 28-point scoring spree by center Bud Acton.

Willow Run meets Fitzgerald, also of the Oakland B, tonight at 9:30 for the Center Line crown. Fitzgerald, sparked by Bob Radlinski's 26 points, raced to an easy 60-39 victory over Center Line.

Oakland County's last hope in the Livonia Bentley holiday tourney fell by the wayside Monday evening when Southfield bowed to Jackson, 48-38. Redford Union defeated Garden City, 67-53, in the other tussle.

Morlan's 36-point splurge topped Holly's individual school mark of 35 set by big George MacDaniel last season. Morlan had 12 field goals and 12 foul shots.

Appleton meshed a dozen fielders and six free tosses for 30 points to pace Brighton's victory. Bloomfield Hills had excellent scoring balance with Tom Maron bagging 23 points and Art Treganza and Bruce Billings 17 apiece.

★ ★ ★

Dick Whitman and Gene Schuett each made 17 points for Milford, which envisioned an upset win over Bendle until its slump in the 4th stanza.

Detroit Soccer Team Protests Playoff Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — George Young, manager of the Detroit St. Andrews Scots, planned to protest today his team's loss to Pittsburgh Beadling in a brawling soccer game Sunday.

Young said he would protest to Joseph J. Barriskill, secretary of the United States Soccer Football Assn., in New York.

The Scots, defending champions of the Eastern Division, were beaten 5-4 by Beadling in the quarterfinals of the Eastern Playoffs for the National Amateur Soccer cup championships.

Young said the Detroit team was leading 4-2 when the game erupted into a near-riot.

'This Time I Will Be Lazier,' Jokes Ingo

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Now that a rematch with Floyd Patterson has been arranged, world heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson jokingly said today he'll be even lazier in training than he was for the bout that brought him the title.

★ ★ ★

The return bout, set for June in New York at either Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds, was announced yesterday by Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's adviser, and Roy Cohn, the New York attorney who heads a 10-man promotional group.

In an interview, Johansson said he was all set for the return, despite a little too much of his mother's cooking.

"Just before Christmas," Ingo said, "I was just over my best fighting weight, 198 pounds." He was 196 when he knocked out Patterson in the third round last June in Yankee Stadium.

"During the holidays I was at home, and of course ma's meatballs may have put on some extra weight. But my clothes still fit me, so I guess I don't have to worry. I train every day and keep in shape easily."

★ ★ ★

Asked if he plans to train as he did for the first meeting with Patterson, Johansson said he always trains the same way.

"As lazily as you did before?" he was asked.

"This time," said Ingo with a grin, "I will be lazier."

One of Johansson's favorite subjects in speeches and at appearances is a recital of boxing writers' criticism of his seemingly lazy training methods for the first bout.

Ingemar met with Cohn and several other members of the promotional group last night over a smorgasbord and under TV lights. He sat back and listened during all the talking, however.

★ ★ ★

Cohn, former counsel to the Senate investigating committee headed by the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, and his associates recently bought full control of the old Rosensohn Enterprises, now known as Feature Sports Inc.

★ ★ ★

Cohn said he will make a formal application to the New York State Athletic Commission for a promoting license on his return home later this week.

Landry Signed by Dallas Club

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"The best football coach in the business," Tom Landry, defensive mentor of the New York Giants of the National Football League, yesterday became a Texas coach without a squad.

Landry signed with Bedford Wynne and Clint Murchison Jr., who hope to land a National Football League franchise in Dallas, to coach their Dallas Rangers.

A native of Dallas who played with the University of Texas, Landry was also sought by Bud Adams, owner of the Houston Oiler franchise in the newly-organized American Football League.

It was Jim Lee Howell, head coach of the Giants, who recently called Landry "the greatest coach in football."

Almost to the moment Landry signed with the Rangers, Adams appeared to consider his chance of bagging Landry a good one. Now Adams has indicated he will go after Lou Rymkus, offensive coach of the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL, for his Oilers' head man.

Williams Wants Mackinac House

Wouldn't Use Mansion as Long as He Remains Michigan's Governor

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams is dickering for purchase of a victorian mansion across Mackinac Island from Michigan's "summer White House" he has occupied 11 years.

Yesterday he disclosed negotiations to buy the "Cmdr. McDonald House," named after its last owner, the late Eugene F. McDonald Jr., president of Zenith Radio Corp.

"For several years, Nancy (Mrs. Williams) has wanted very much to get a permanent summer home on Mackinac Island," Williams explained. "She loves the island, I guess, better than any place on the earth."

Purchase would be subject to approval by the Mackinac Island State Park Commission because the house rests on land leased from the state. Approval is being sought. The proposed price was not revealed.

★ ★ ★

The governor said he and his wife wish to buy the three-story, 14-room building completely furnished from Eugene M. Kinney, Zenith vice president and nephew and heir of McDonald.

The house is on the west bluff not far from the Grand Hotel. It faces south overlooking the Mackinac Straits.

Williams said there is no plan to occupy it so long as the Summer White House remains at his disposal. The possibility of leasing it temporarily is being explored, he said.

The governor and his wife own a large frame house in Lansing purchased about 10 years ago. About the time it was bought, they sold a house in Grosse Pointe.

600 to Study Schools at MSUO Conference

Some 600 Oakland County area educators and PTA and PTO executives are expected to attend a regional conference on "Studying Michigan Schools" Feb. 6 at Michigan State University Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Patterned after the program conducted by PTAs throughout the state last spring, the upcoming symposium will bring problems facing Michigan schools into focus for the current school year.

Keynote speaker will be Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools.

Conference chairman will be Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett of Pontiac, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

WILL TALK ON FINANCING

Panelists will include James C. Covert, superintendent of Royal Oak schools and president of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators; and Louis H. Schimmel of Pontiac, a municipal finance consultant and member of the Pontiac Board of Education who will talk about school financing.

Others are MSUO Chancellor Durward B. Varner, who will discuss the problems of higher education; Eugene Richardson of the State Department of Public Instruction; and Dr. Harry T. Hahn, director of instruction for the Oakland County schools.

The closing address will be given by Lynn D. Bartlett, superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction.

★ ★ ★

Every PTA and PTO in the Oakland County area has been invited to send two delegates, preferably the president and program chairman, to the conference, according to Dr. Lowell R. Eklund of MSUO, head of the planning committee.

Serving on his committee are Donald C. Baldwin, superintendent of Rochester Community Schools; Mrs. William Wright, official of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers; Al Cowan of Lansing, of the State Department of Public Instruction; and Merrill Bates of Bloomfield Hills, representative of the Michigan Assn. of School Boards.

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Producer Jerry Wald plans to revisit Peyton Place with a new cast of characters.

His first "Peyton Place" was one of last year's big hits, so it naturally called for a sequel. Author Grace Metalious labored on a new plot which was roundly booed by the critics — "I expected that," says Wald; "They didn't like the first one, either."

The casting of the sequel presents two large problems. Diane Varsi, who was a big hit as the would-be writer, has flown the coop. "I keep in touch with her," Wald reports, "but she doesn't seem ready to come back to Hollywood yet."

★ ★ ★

And Lana Turner has bounced back to the bigtime since she did "Peyton Place." Wald laments: "People asked me why I used her when she had had 14 flops in a row. That didn't bother me; she was still a star. The picture brought her back and now I can't get her."

He's romancing with Joan Crawford to do the Turner role in the sequel.

CELLULOID HOLIDAY

A glance at some of the holiday attractions:

"On the Beach" is a picture of humanity's last days in the wake of a nuclear war. It is beautifully played by an able cast and some of the scenes are terribly real and frightening. It is not a happy film, of course, but the gravity of its message makes it impelling.

"Suddenly Last Summer" is another peak in the musty world of Tennessee Williams. This time he explores not only lust and greed but homosexuality and cannibalism as well. The public will have to decide whether this makes for entertainment.

★ ★ ★

"Never So Few" takes Frank Sinatra to the Burma jungles for guerrilla warfare interspersed with some hanky-panky involving Gina Lollabrigida. There's a lot of shooting and some good service humor, especially when Steve McQueen is on the scene. The plot deals rather boldly with relationships between U.S. forces and Nationalist China.

"Solomon and Sheba" follows the DeMille tradition of Biblical epics. There are orgies and battles and lots and lots of sex. Much of it is stirring, especially the battle scenes. As a light-skinned Sheba, Gina Lollabrigida takes a bath.

So there you have the holiday fare—genocide, cannibalism, warfare and sex. Have fun.

Troy, Rochester Men Sentenced to Prison in Theft

Jackson Prison terms were ordered for a Rochester man and two Army AWOL's, one from Troy and another from Pennsylvania, for the theft of $190 and a revolver from a Rochester home Dec. 1.

Receiving 1 to 15-year terms were Dennis L. Sturm, 18, of 388 South Blvd., Troy, and Thomas E. Saunders, 17, of Pennsylvania. John R. Crowell, 21, of 60591 Mt. Vernon St., Rochester, was sentenced to 2 to 15 years by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

The three pleaded guilty Dec. 15 to breaking and entering a Rochester home and making off with the money and gun.

Sturm and Saunders were absent without leave from Fort Knox, Ky. at the time of the burglary. Crowell previously had been on probation for a similar offense.

There are about 1,600,000 mentally deficient children in the U.S.

Trial Delayed in City Robbery

Suspect Stands Mute in Armed Theft to Gain Time to Hire Lawyer

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland entered a plea of innocent for Eugene J. Thouin yesterday after the 54-year-old armed robbery suspect asked a delay in his arraignment.

★ ★ ★

Thouin, accused of robbing a Pontiac supermarket manager of $8,950 at shotgun point, asked the judge for a postponement until Jan. 15 to enable his wife in Miami to dispose of their property so an attorney could be hired.

On the judge's suggestion, Thouin, an ex-convict, agreed to stand mute to the charge, thus allowing sufficient time, the judge said, to hire an attorney.

He was returned to the county jail under a $5,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac police arrested Thouin Dec. 18 in the basement of an apartment building at 88 W. Mansfield Ave. just an hour after he robbed Claire Kramp, 50, manager of the A & P market at 1185 N. Perry St., and a woman cashier in the store's parking lot.

Kramp was shot in the hand by Thouin when he laughed at the bandit's order to drop the money bags in the holdup man's car.

The store employes were returning from the bank where they had gone to obtain extra money for cashing Christmas checks.

Under his plea, Thouin cannot be tried until the February jury term in Circuit Court.

Time Designates Ike Its Man of the Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Time magazine today named President Eisenhower its Man of the Year for 1959.

★ ★ ★

The magazine said the President "towered as the world's best-known, best - liked citizen" after his trip to Europe, Asia and Africa.

★ ★ ★

Time's editors choose each year the man or woman who "dominated the news of that year and left an indelible mark—for good or ill—on history."

The magazine selected Eisenhower once before—in 1941.

Won't Buck Party Professionals

Rockefeller's Statement Cool, Blunt

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a study in frigidity.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's statement Saturday —that he will not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination—was a cold piece of business.

There was nothing friendly in it toward Vice President Richard M. Nixon or the professional Republican politicians.

Although Rockefeller's withdrawal leaves Nixon unopposed for their party's presidential nomination, the governor never mentioned Nixon's name.

Rockefeller, in fact, didn't even promise to support the Republican Party or its nominee. The most he was willing to say was that he expects to. Newsmen tried to get him to say specifically Sunday whether he would back Nixon. But he replied he would not go beyond his statement Saturday which said, in part, "I expect to support the nominees, as well as the program, of the party in 1960."

Further, it is possible to read into Rockefeller's words the idea he will be a critical thorn to both the Republican bosses and the Eisenhower administration before the Republican convention opens in Chicago July 25.

Rockefeller, in stepping aside, at no place indicated he felt the majority of rank-and-file Republicans preferred Nixon over him or even that he wouldn't have a chance against Nixon if he did oppose him.

★ ★ ★

He put his reason for withdrawing squarely on the "great majority of those (Republicans) who will control" the convention.

This is what he said, in the sequence of his thinking:

1. The majority of professionals don't want a contest among Republicans for the nomination.

2. Therefore, in order to overcome the opposition of the pros to him, he'd have to give the rank - and - file Republicans a chance to choose between him and Nixon by going into state primaries.

3. But this would take up so much of his time and energy he couldn't properly fulfill his obligations to the people of New York who elected him to do a job as governor.

In the past few months Rockefeller, while whisking around the country to appraise his chances, was critical a number of times of the Eisenhower administration.

That he may continue to be now, from the sidelines, can be read into this part of his statement:

He listed the various issues facing the country, at home and abroad, and then said: "I will contribute all I can" toward a "profound and continuous act of national self-examination."

He said: "I shall speak with full freedom and vigor on these issues that confront our nation and the world."

★ ★ ★

The intention to speak with "full freedom" would indicate he does not expect to be tongue-tied toward Republican policies or practices simply because he is a Republican, too.

Nixon now looks like a sure-shot for the Republican presidential nomination. But the future is unpredictable. And Rockefeller did not rule himself out as a possibility.

He said he would not be a candidate for the nomination. But he didn't say—as he did in the case of the vice presidency—he would not accept the nomination if it is offered to him.

So, if somehow Nixon gets sidetracked, Rockefeller is still available.

$2 Billion Spent on Road Work

Byrd Expresses Fear That Highway System Cost Will Be Too High

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than two billion dollars worth of bridges and highways have been built in the projected 41,000-mile interstate highway system.

The Bureau of Roads reported that by Nov. 30, work was completed on 5,332 miles of road and 4,241 bridges. In all, $2,096,580,000 has been spent on finished work since the program started in mid-1956.

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost, the states the rest.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said he feared the eventual cost of the system will be more than 50 billion dollars.

Even the present estimate of 40 billions is too high, he said, noting that when Congress authorized the program in 1956 the cost was estimated at 27½ billion dollars.

★ ★ ★

Byrd wrote to Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, urging the administration to cut costs and keep a tight rein on the program. Mueller replied that the administration will do everything possible to keep the program on a sound basis.

Warsaw Knows Answer: Rocky Reeks of Oil

WARSAW (UPI) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's oil interests tripped up his candidacy for the presidential nomination, the official Communist party newspaper Trybuna Luda said Monday.

Trybuna said the Rockefeller name "reeks of oil." It said "We can presume that even in wide social circles of the United States the candidacy of Rockefeller caused serious doubts.

"The Americans are proud of their Democratic institutions and it would be very hard to imagine them turning the White House into a throne of one of the crude-oil kings."

The newspaper pointed out the dilemma the New York governor would appear to face "if trouble started in the Middle East, where Rockefeller holds installations."

★ ★ ★

Trybuna said "Americans felt that in such cases the interests of the Rockefeller family would prevail and Rockefeller, as we can easily see, felt that too, and resigned."

Furniture Industry Has 11-Month Boom

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — For 11 months through November the household furniture industry has operated with consistent plus signs in its year-to-year comparisons, the Furniture Industry Bulletin reports.

No month thus far in 1959 has failed to show more orders, more shipments, more employes and more hours of operating time than its counterpart month in 1958, the Bulletin said.

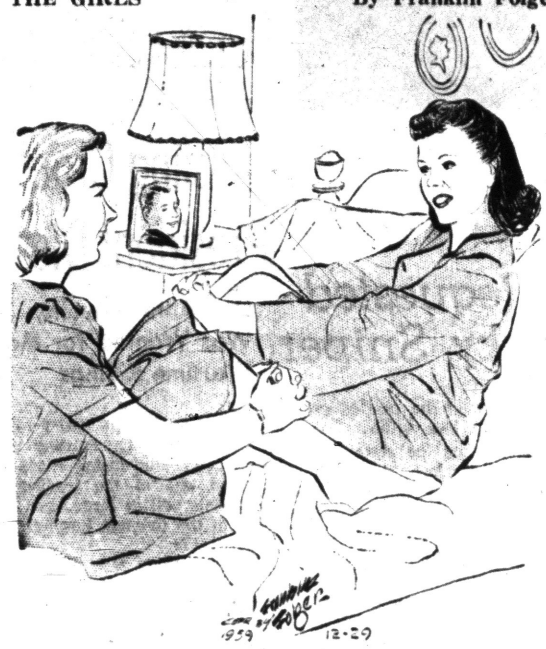

The Bulletin listed the unsettled labor situation because of the steel strike as the major "if" in the general business picture.

However, the Bulletin said, furniture manufacturing activity continues to be virtually unaffected by the strike.

About 25 per cent of all chemicals made in the United States are derived from petroleum. Within a few years this figure may be increased by as much as 50 per cent.

Market Active, Prices Narrow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pursued an irregular course in moderately active trading early this afternoon. Some faint firming tendencies were visable.

One of these was in oils, which were up fractionally in a fairly solid bloc. The narrow price movements were typical of the entire list, which showed fractional gains and losses.

Steels and motors were on the other side of the ledger, slightly weaker for the most part. Rubber shares also moved lower. Nonferrous metals, utilities, mail order and retail firms and a number of special situations were higher.

Among these were Ampex, recovering from a recent sharp drop, and two firms talking about a merger, Philip Morris and ASR products. Ampex was up more than 4 after its president said the firm has been studying thermoplastic tape recording for years and would be among the first to offer it when and if it becomes practical. Philip Morris and ASR products were up fractionally.

★ ★ ★

Trading moved at a routine pace after a brief flurry which caused the ticker tape to run late a few minutes at the opening. Wall Street traders apparently were looking in vain for a Christmas-to-New Year's rally.

Texaco was best of the oils, rising nearly a point, while Standard Oil of Indiana was up a major fraction. U.S. Steel was firm enough, but Republic Steel dipped a major fraction and Bethlehem also was off. Declines among motors were minor fractions.

Westinghouse was up more than 2 points and General Electric more than one. Electronics mostly were mixed, except for Texas Instruments, down around 3 points. Goodyear's new stock, starting to trade a 2-for-1 split was down around a point on a pro rata basis.

Steel Union Raps 'False' Advertising

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Steelworkers Union today protested "false and misleading" advertising by steel management concerning "powder room" time permitted women tin workers.

★ ★ ★

Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel for the Steelworkers, said he would file a formal complaint with the Federal Trade Commission about an ad concerning "powder time" and against a second which dealt with the number of firemen at a U.S. Steel furnace.

"We've had our fill of this misleading advertising," Goldberg told a presidential board of inquiry.

An ad carried in newspapers Monday said that during World War II, workers at one plant were permitted to quit 15 minutes early to "wash up" and to catch buses which were running on short wartime schedules.

★ ★ ★

The management-paid ad protested that although the war was over and bus service restored to normal, the Union insists that the 15-minute washup time has been established as a "local working condition" and must continue.

Lower Train Fares for Detroit Region

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has reduced round-trip coach fares between major Eastern cities and the Midwest, including Detroit, the firm said yesterday.

The price cuts go into effect Jan. 5.

★ ★ ★

The round-trip reductions will apply to fares between Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh and Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago and important intermediate points.

★ ★ ★

Round-trip fares from Baltimore to Detroit will be $29.55. From Washington to Detroit will be $29.55 and from Pittsburgh to Detroit $14.80.

Futures Listless in Eager Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market barely stirred today in early meager transactions on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

There were a few spots of firmness but generally prices held unchanged or within minimum fractions of previous closes during the first several minutes.

The feed grains again attracted scattered buying, mostly from cash dealers. Receipts of all grains totaled only 19 cars, the smallest amount in more than two years.

★ ★ ★

Within the first hour all contracts were equal to or above previous closes with wheat unchanged to ¼ cent abushel higher, March $2.03⅜ corn unchanged to ⅝ higher, March $1.14¼; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, March 76⅛; rye ¼ to ½ higher, March $1.28; soybeans ⅛ to ½ higher, January $2.11¾.

Mrs. Edsel Ford Seeks Filled Lake Bottomland

LANSING (AP)—An application by Mrs. Edsel Clay Ford for a deed to 6.36 acres of filled Lake St. Clair bottomlands adjacent to her Grosse Pointe Shores estates will come before the State Conservation Commission next week.

★ ★ ★

George Taack, submerged lands specialist for the department's lands division, said the proposal was free of controversy.

Sought by Mrs. Ford, Henry Ford's daughter-in-law, is a peninsula extending 1500 feet into the lake created about 30 years ago through dredging to form a harbor and turning basin.

★ ★ ★

Appraisal price on the property is $138,520. The lands division, in a memorandum to Conservation Director Gerald Eddy, has recommended issuance of the deed on payment of 30 per cent of the appraisal price, or $41,560.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation accords with standard handling of such cases, Taack said. The conservation commission will hold its monthly meeting Jan. 7-8.

News in Brief

About $50 in change was taken from a cash register and an undetermined amount of cigarettes stolen by thieves who broke into Stark Pharmacy, 880 S. Woodward Ave., yesterday, according to Pontiac Police.

An estimated $31 was stolen from a vending machine by thieves who broke into the G&E Service Station, 3498 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, Pontiac State Police reported yesterday.

An acetylene torch and 50 feet of hose, valued at $75, were reported stolen yesterday from the Monson Steel Works, 64 Wessen

Fire Damages Home

DETROIT (AP) — Fire damaged the home of Bertram Giffels, 60, in Dearborn Township, to the tune of $7,500 yesterday. Giffels is project manager of the architectural firm of Giffels and Rosetti. His brother, Raymond, is president.

SNIPER VICTIM'S WIFE — Grief shows in the face of Mrs. Lois Clark, 30-year-old former model whose husband was slain by a mysterious sniper's bullet in Painesville, Ohio. The Lake County sheriff, baffled by the case, has asked outside help in its solution.

Outside Help Requested in Case of Sneaky Sniper

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Lake County's sheriff, admittedly baffled, asked outside crime experts today to help solve the Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Charles R. Clark in nearby Mentor.

Sheriff William B. Evans said he would release from custody today Floyd E. Hargrove who had in turn denied, admitted and then again denied firing the fatal shot.

A polygraph test Monday indicated Hargrove, 35, a truck driver, had lied when he admitted Saturday and again Sunday that he killed the husband of the woman with whom he carried on an eight-month love affair.

Evans asked the state to send its mobile crime laboratory to Mentor. He also wants Cleveland police experts to examine the lead slug that pierced Clark's right temple.

'I LOVE HER DEARLY'

Hargrove, divorced father of five, said he decided after a 16-minute meeting at the jail Saturday with Lois Clark that he "could spare her and her family any further investigation and suffering by confessing.

"I love her deeply. I'm worried for her welfare," he explained.

Mrs. Clark, a beautiful brunette of 30 who was a model in Florida where she met and married Clark at 16, has admitted sex relations with six men besides Hargrove, Sheriff Evans said. Three of these men were absolved by polygraph tests Monday, the sheriff said.

★ ★ ★

Clark, 35, a $10,000-a-year electrical engineer, was buried Monday after services in the Mentor Methodist church where he was Sunday School superintendent. His wife said he never knew of her relations with other men.

Trying to Mass Negro Voters

Registering 1,100,000 More in South Is Goal for Two Groups

ATLANTA (AP) — Two Negro organizations are starting a drive to register an additional 1,100,000 southern Negro voters in time for participation in the 1960 presidential election.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference worked out details Monday at a meeting attended by 23 representatives of the two groups.

Roy Wilkins of New York, executive secretary of the NAACP, said an intensive campaign would be carried out block by block with the help of state and local organizations and civic groups.

He said the NAACP had less than $100,000 to spend on the program and that most of the work would be done by volunteers.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Montgomery, Ala., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said the campaign would be nonpartisan but that the groups were "urging backing of candidates who have a record of supporting civil rights."

Courtroom Santa

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—When Theodore J. Richter, a state official seeking to collect back salary, returned to court 11 minutes late from lunch yesterday, Judge William McDermott fined him $25 for contempt. Then paused, said "I'm still filled with the spirit of Santa Claus," and dismissed the charge.

Lawmen Rescue 'Wagon Train' Star From Gals

LONDON (UPI) — Television cowboy star Robert Horton was rescued Sunday night by police when screaming female fans mobbed him backstage after he appeared at the Palladium Theater in a variety show.

★ ★ ★

Horton, 35, star of the western series "Wagon Train," was pushed and shoved by the girls who ripped off his tie and then began ripping off his buttons. Police took him to his hotel where he locked himself in and unhooked the telephone.

He was quoted as telling police in his dressing room, "Gee, I'm scared. The girls are sure tough here. They don't go on like this in America."

Rich Diamond Deposit Discovered in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet geologists have found a rich new diamond deposit along the upper Visher River in the northern Urals, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

★ ★ ★

Tass said development of the deposit should increase diamond production in the Urals tenfold.

Fish Just Can't Take Exercise

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Boy, whatta battle, whatta fish! He fought like a tiger!"

★ ★ ★

You've heard the man of the house talk like that lots of times. Here's something he doesn't mention: the deck's stacked against the fish.

★ ★ ★

An expert says fish can't stand much exercise. In fact, says Dr. Edgar Black, too much fatigue at once can kill a fish. Especially trout and salmon.

Fish aren't built for a tough struggle. They lead a leisurely life, poking along at one or two miles an hour.

A flip of their tail and they're gone—but only for short sprints.

The fish's fatigue problem, Black says, stems partly from the fact it must breathe 30 times as much water as man does air to get the same amount of oxygen.

The fisherman can increase his oxygen consumption about 20 times during exercise; the best a fish can do in times of stress is to hike his oxygen input about five times normal.

The result, Black concludes: a dead fish after too much exertion.

A paper by Black, a biologist at the University of British Columbia, was presented Monday before 300 biologists and zoologists at a meeting of the Western Society of Naturalists.

The subject interests fish scientists because of their problems in connection with building of high power dams across rivers in the Pacific Northwest.

They're worried that fish will kill themselves climbing around or over the dams to spawning grounds.

Swallowed by Flames

Plane's Tank Kills Woman

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A woman riding a bicycle died in a pillar of fire Monday when a B47 fuel tank fell like a bomb and exploded.

★ ★ ★

The victim was June A. David, 32-year-old mother of two boys.

★ ★ ★

Officer Clifford Smith said the woman was sucked into a fiery column that shot 250 to 300 feet high. Her incinerated body was found 30 to 40 feet from the bicycle.

★ ★ ★

The tank, laden with 1,750 gallons of fuel, fell as the plane rose from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base. Smith said it exploded on impact and spread a fiery carpet 675 feet long and 352 wide.

★ ★ ★

Even as a probe began, Air Force investigators praised the pilot for averting a greater tragedy. They said Capt. Donald R. Shilling, commander of the four-man crew, kept the fuel tank from falling in a densely populated Tucson suburb only by putting the plane into a steep bank.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said the pilot had only split seconds to decide what to do when he felt the six-ton fuel tank shift before it fell.

Quisling Croatia President Dies

Dr. Ante Pavelic, 70, Was Wanted for Many Wartime Killings

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Dr. Ante Pavelic, 70, quisling president of Croatia during World War II and one of the leading war criminals still at large, died Monday in the German hospital here. He was 70.

★ ★ ★

The death was reported by Madrid newspapers and confirmed by the municipal funeral service, which said it had taken the body to the morgue of San Iisdro Cemetery. It declined to say when funeral services would be held.

Callers were referred to Dr. Rudolf Sajitz, who attended Pavelic. The doctor's office said he was away on vacation.

Pavelic was wanted by President Tito's Yugoslav government for trial on charges that he was responsible for the killing of 700,000 Serbs and Jews during his 3½ years as the Axis viceroy.

★ ★ ★

He fled Yugoslavia in May 1945, and turned up in Argentina later in the year.

He was wounded in an assassination attempt in April 1957 which he blamed on agents of Tito. A short time later, Argentina agreed to consider a Yugoslav extradition request and Pavelic fled again.

Earlier this month, he was reported working with Paraguayan secret police in interrogating captured Paraguayan invaders. But apparently he made his way to Spain.

Long before World War II, Pavelic was sought in half a dozen countries for terrorist plots and political assassinations, including those of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou in 1934.

★ ★ ★

He was born July 17, 1889, the son of a Croatian railroad worker. He studied law at the University of Zagreb. He quickly gained popularity in the Croatian independence movement by defending numerous Croats charged with political crimes.

Predicts Faster Economic Rise

Congress Group Says Rate Will Exceed That of Past 50 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee staff report predicts the American economy in the future will grow at a somewhat higher rate than it has in the past 50 years.

★ ★ ★

The report warns a depression could upset the prediction. On the other hand, it adds: "Actually, we can enjoy an even higher rate of growth if we try."

The report was made Monday by the staff of the Senate-House Economic Committee and was based on a survey of views of economists and other specialists. A notation in the 500-page report said committee members neither approved nor disapproved the statements made.

UP TO 4.5 PER CENT

The staff said the annual economic growth should be 3.4 per cent a year, if unfavorable factors are assumed; 3.9 per cent, if more optimistic factors are assumed; and 4.5 per cent, "if we try."

★ ★ ★

Numerous changes in federal policies were advocated.

★ ★ ★

These include: Revision of the administration's tight credit and high interest rate program; abolition of the ceiling on the national debt; revision of federal taxes to encourage investment and saving; streamling administration of the Federal Reserve System; stiffer enforcement of antitrust laws; increasing federal aid to education and distressed areas; increasing unemployment benefits.

Says Dad's Role of Punisher Not Enviable One

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Father is one most likely to spank.

That's the conclusion reached by John G. Curry, assistant professor of sociology at Eastern Washington College, after interviewing 412 parents.

"The father's role chiefly is the task of making children obey," Curry told the Northwest Scientific Assn. Monday. "Fatherhood, therefore, does not represent an enjoyable function.

"Fathers will universally tend to be more traditional, more exacting and demanding than mothers and, hence, reveal more severity in their training methods."

Hupp Corp. Buys Two Fannon Firms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hupp Corp. Monday announced acquisition of the John J. Fannon Products Co. and John J. Fannon & Co. of Detroit process heating firms.

★ ★ ★

The purchase price was not disclosed. Don H. Gearheart, Hupp president, said it involved cash and stock plus additional incentive consideration based on future earnings.

The acquisitions will be operated as a subsidiary of Hupp. Headquarters will remain in Detroit and all present personnel will be unaffected.

Lake Huron Lightship Withdrawn for Winter

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Coast Guard reports the Lake Huron lightship has been withdrawn for the winter and is moored at Port Huron.

The lightship will remain at Port Huron until ice conditions let up next spring.

Cuba Out After U.S. Sugar Pact

Abhors Congressional Quotas; Wants Mutual Trade Agreement

HAVANA (AP) — President Osvaldo Dorticos called again today for better relations between the United States and Cuba to be worked out on the basis of a new trade agreement.

★ ★ ★

Dorticos said on a TV panel the present poor relations between the two nations did not mean they could not be improved.

Dorticos emphasized the Castro regime's stand that Cuban sugar exports to the United States should be regulated by mutual agreement. He labled the present system of import quotas decided by the U.S. Congress "an intolerable instrument of undue pressure."

★ ★ ★

The head of Cuba's National Federation of Sugar Workers has warned that if the United States lowers its Cuban sugar quota, the union will ask for immediate nationalization of all U.S. enterprises in Cuba. Some U.S. senators have suggested Congress take punitive action against Cuba's anti-American attitude and exporpriation of U.S. property by lowering the quota of Cuban sugar which the United States buys above the world market price.

Detroit River Traffic 2,000 Vessels Higher

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (AP)—Traffic on the Detroit River increased 2,000 vessels over last year, a rise attributed to the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

I. T. Kelly, manager of the Amherstburg office of the J. W. Westcott marine reporting service, said a total of 19,753 vessels traveled the Detroit River, 9,933 upbound and 9,862 headed down the river.

★ ★ ★

The traffic peak was June when 3,369 ships were reported. The steel strike kept many ore boats off the lakes during the season's peak.

DEAR FRIENDS, NEIL DOUGLAS and I wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for your sympathy and kindness during our bereavement. Neil Douglas and Mildred Chartrand.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY loving husband, John L. Visure, who passed away Dec. 29, 1958.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
And a heart that was purer than gold
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren.

Tourism Rises, Spending Lags

5 Per Cent More State Visitors Although UP Areas Show Decline

LANSING (UP)—Michigan enjoyed a good tourist year in 1959 despite a slow start in summer travel, a wet and windy fall and steel strike effects.

This was the year-end summary as presented yesterday by the Michigan Tourist Council.

Although tourist traffic rose 5 per cent, travelers kept a tighter rein on their pocketbooks, said Robert J. Furlong, council executive secretary.

An estimated 10 million persons spent vacation time in the state, about half of them Michigan natives. Total dollar volume from tourism held steady with 1958 at a level of about 650 million dollars.

A statewide survey of resort and trave business showed increases ranging from 2 to 17 per cent, with more fall and winter travel.

However, some areas showed sharp declines from 1958. Manistique in the Upper Peninsula reported a 19 per cent decline in business.

Volume fell off 12 per cent for the Arcadian Copper Mine Tours near Houghton-Hancock, and Mackinac Bridge crossings were down 10 percent.

A 9 per cent drop in fishing license sales and the phenomenal boom in boating, skiing and camping reflected a major shift and habits during recent years, Furlong said.

Furlong said resort owners fear a "promotional barrage" loosed by competion vacation states, some of them spending three and four times as much on travel promotion and advertising.

Michigan spent $422,000 in state appropriated funds in 1959, including $302,000 for direct advertising in newspapers, magazines and radio stations, films, literature, "on the road" sales and through miscellaneous channels.

TENSION MOUNTS — Anxiety fills the face of TV actor Lee Marvin during one of his "M Squad" dramas as he is about to close in on a cornered fugitive. In real life Marvin is equally as tense these days while he waits to find out if he will be a TV star or just another unemployed actor next month. Jan. 11 is the date the show comes up for renewal and the network and sponsors will decide by then what will become of "M Squad." Although Marvin owns half of the show, he laments the fact that he is kept completely in the dark about the future of his show.

China Remolding Old Tibet as Panchen Lama Travels

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communists are bypassing the Panchen Lama in remaking the craggy face of Tibet, Peiping reported today he is still on the banquet, factory and monastery circuit, three months after quitting Lhasa, his capital.

During his long absence, which began shortly before the October anniversary celebrations in Peiping, the Communists have put Tibet firmly on the path to eventual communism.

Ten days ago, they created a Tibetan Peoples Political Consultative Committee, a first step toward regional autonomy under Red control. The Panchen Lama was not named to it.

Peiping so far has offered no word of explanation for the prolonged vacation they have given the 21-year-old puppet ruler at a critical period. The eminent young sightseer left Monday for Nanning in South China, after 11 days of visiting factories, movie studios and exhibitions in Shanghai.

★ ★ ★

But the Communists obviously feel they can push ahead with their drastic political reforms with or without his approval, an indication that the once-tight religious domination of the remote country has been broken.

The Panchen Lama is the highest ranking religious figure in Tibet in the absence of the Dalai Lama, the youthful god-king who fled to India after the unsuccessful revolt against the Communists last March.

UPI Correspondent Disappears in China

TOKYO (UPI) — United Press International Vice President for Asia Ernest Hoberecht announced today that staff correspondent Yim Yuen Lo of the UPI Hong Kong bureau has been missing inside Communist China since July.

Hoberecht said Yim left Hong Kong for Canton July 19 on an assignment to interview William Downey, who was then in China visiting his brother John, one of five Americans still imprisoned by the Peiping government.

His entry was arranged by an official Red Chinese travel agency in Hong Kong and he left carrying a typewriter and camera on the clear understanding that he was a newsman working for UPI, Hoberecht said.

Hoberecht said all attempts to locate Yim through the International Red Cross had failed, as had inquiries through other channels, including direct cables to the government in Peiping.

CBC Radio Pioneer Goes to Private Field

OTTAWA (AP) — Ernest L. Bushnell, 59, chief architect of Canadian broadcasting policy over the last quarter of a century, is embarking on a new career.

The temperamental showman is leaving his $16,000-a-year-job as vice president of the publicly owned Canadian Broadcasting Corp. on Thursday.

He is remaining in the industry —but as a private TV and radio consultant.

An Ontario farm boy who started out in show business as a tenor in a traveling quartet, Bushnell is credited with developing the program style followed today in Canada.

WSU Professor Heads Bendix Science Hiring

DETROIT (UPI) — Bendix Aviation Corp. today announced appointment of Dr. Albert A. Canfield, an associate professor at Wayne State University, as director of its university and scientific relations.

Canfield will direct the placement program for engineering and scientific personnel.

Committee to Probe for Detroit School Bias

DETROIT (UP) — A 30-member committee is being organized to determine whether equal education opportunities are available to Negroes in Detroit's school system.

★ ★ ★

Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman has accepted a Board of Education request to head a citizens advisory committee which will study the question.

★ ★ ★

Leonard Kasle, a board member, said the committee is being formed to "make certain we offer the same quality of education in each of our schools to all of our children."

Option Jitters Pain TV's Lee Marvin

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"An actor, like a wronged wife, is always the last to know" —Lee Marvin.

According to Lee, the powers that be never let a performer know whether a show will be renewed or dropped.

The star of TV's "M Squad" was talking about whether he will be unemployed next month.

Despite their wealth, participation deals and fan following, stars are chattels of numerous individuals and institutions—sponsors, studios, networks, agents and producers. They're never "free" to guide the future.

★ ★ ★

Marvin, ruggedly shrewd and cynical, owns half his "M Squad" program, but still does not know if the show will be canceled.

"The big date is Jan. 11," he complained. "That's when the option drops. If I'm lucky they may fill me in on the details.

"Performers are always the last to know what's going on. All we do is take the blame for a lousy performance. And the bigshots only consult us when they want to cut our salaries in half 'to make us famous.'

"If I don't get word by the 11th, I'll try to drop out of the show myself. But there isn't much I can do. As an actor my hands are tied. If the sponsors or NBC cancel out, I'm still at the mercy of the show for an additional six months."

★ ★ ★

Marvin's ire stems from the new time slot given "M Squad" this season. Formerly it beamed from 9 to 9:30 in the evenings. Now it is seen from 9:30 to 10 p.m.

"I suspect the reason I haven't been consulted is the possibility of another time change if we remain on the air," he said bitterly.

"I own 50 per cent of the program, but it doesn't do me any good. My half is involved in 'artistic control' — whatever that means. The question is, who deals with artists?

"Actually, I shouldn't complain. TV stars who don't have a financial percentage of their shows are really treated like cattle. They get pushed around by everybody."

★ ★ ★

Marvin's hard-boiled point of view is shared by many another telestar, but few are willing to speak up.

Why is Marvin so brave?

"I don't have to worry about TV," he said. "I had a movie career established. And I can always go back to it. Happily, I might add."

Chicago Type Humor Revived in New York

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Eddie Cantor said once, "The trouble with show business is there's no place for young actors to be lousy."

★ ★ ★

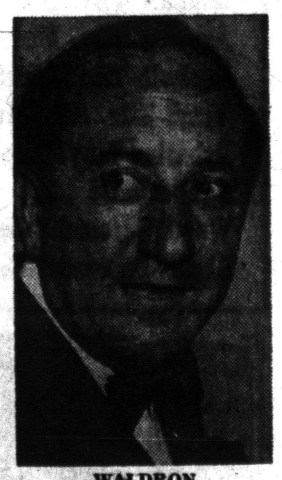

Well, there's a place for them to be lousy here in New York, and they're lousy in it every Monday night! It's Jack Silverman's International right here on B'way and the same gimmick's employed by the Chez Paree in Chicago.

WILSON

The other night the B'way crowd had come out for a special night for veteran comic Jack Waldron, and here the old timers got a chance to look at the newcomers and give them some advice. You youngsters who don't know Waldron's acid humor which he got from knowing Chicago in the Al Capone days are unfortunate.

Jack mentioned, after an adagio dance act, "Kate Smith and I used to do a dance like that, and I had to lift her in sections." Noticing ex-band maestro Mickey Alpert in the crowd, Jack said, "His brother is president of the New York, New Haven and I'll Be Down to Get You in a Taxi, Honey, Railroad."

WALDRON

Jack announced, too, "Later tonight Sinatra will sing, Gene Kelly will do a dance, and Peter Lorre will strangle a waiter."

"Talent Showcase nights" are part of the program of new AGVA Prez Joey Adams..

Gus Van, 73, of Van & Schenck, was up on the stage at one point applauding the plan and singing "Darktown Strutters' Ball."

He'd come up from Miami just for the occasion. "Gus is one actor who saved his dough," somebody said enviously. Bert Wheeler, Horace McMahon and Jerry Bergen were cheering the new acts.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ginger Rogers wants to do a dramatic film with her former dance partner, Fred Astaire . . . It's estimated Rocky Marciano's three-month South African exhibition tour will net him $100,000.

Bob Hopes, who entertain GIs in Alaska, says: "This year Santa and I are exchanging guest shots." . . . Barbara Hutton paid $100 for a tie for her favorite guy, Jimmy Douglas . . .

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: By the time a man's wise enough to watch his step he's too old to go anywhere.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: An optimist is a bridegroom who thinks he has no bad habits. . . . That's earl, brother.

Read It All? Can't Be Done

World Is Publishing at Rate of 2,000 Pages Every 60 Seconds

CHICAGO (AP)—Every 60 seconds, 2,000 pages of books, newspapers or reports are published in the world.

★ ★ ★

"If you attempted to keep fully informed of everything going on in the world, through reading, you would fall behind an estimated 1,051,200,000 pages for every solid year that you would devote to reading."

The estimates were cited today by Allen Kent of the Center for Documentation and Communication Research, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, to illustrate the need for solving problems of digesting essential information and distributing it where needed.

A chemist trying just to keep abreast of chemistry would fall behind by an estimated 850,000 pages every year he devoted to reading, Ken told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

To keep up, one can be selective, rely on abstracting services, or develop special files. But each method has some serious handicaps.

The Soviet Union has mounted a massive effort to skim the cream of the world's recorded scientific and technical literature, using a strong centralized processing system with 2,000 staff members.

Reserves of bituminous coal in the U. S. have been estimated at two trillion tons, enough for 2,000 years at present recovery rates.

TV News and Reviews

1960 Could Be Memorable for Video in Positive Way

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two columns on TV's past and future. Today—The Sinless '60s?)

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The new year, 1960, may come to be regarded as a vintage video year.

The reason is obvious: Congressmen trampled the TV vineyards last fall as they inspected some wobbly fences on broadcasting's acreage.

Some carelessness was uncovered, to put it mildly, and this has led the industry into a fence-mending, beg-your-pardon attempt to head off possible tough legislation and regain public esteem.

This means the "entertainment-above-all" fellows are being challenged by the "information-also-counts" boys.

TAKE FRESH IDEAS

In general, the networks are now more receptive to people with fresh ideas about programs and programming.

Another change: The ratings are, in effect, being de-emphasized. Ephemeral "quality quotients" of TV programs are being studied by many sponsors.

They are thinking not only of reaching mass audiences when planning TV programs, but of touching deep-rooted chords of responsiveness in audiences that may be more modest in size.

The process of educating sponsors on the benefits of such approaches now is being pursued with unusual zeal by network sales departments. Early results indicate cause for optimism.

For example, 1960 will find all networks filling more time with public affairs programs (national and world events) and with special events programs (Olympic games, beauty pageants, etc), and in prime viewing time, too (7:30 to 11 p.m.).

This is over and above already planned network coverage of the two national conventions and the presidential campaign that follows.

INCREASED PRESTIGE

Plans for more "prestige programming" also include dramatizations of Civil War stories (1960 being the centennial of this great national bloodletting).

Winston Churchill's war memoirs are being adapted for a TV series. Mark Twain's career, and his creations, Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, also are being adapted for TV.

Expanded use of videotape will mean more visits to faraway places with strange-sounding names for many TV stars. Have tape, will travel, is the cry.

★ ★ ★

Ed Sullivan will tape more shows outdoors and overseas. "Person to Person" already is ranging abroad.

Dave Garroway and Jack Paar have learned the value of moving their cameras out of studios now and then.

Other stars will follow their lead, realizing that candid glimpses of foreign cities make for engrossing televiewing.

SPECIALS TO REIGN

Of course, TV specials will continue to dominate nighttime programming, as evidenced by some new recruits—Danny Kaye, Rita Hayworth and Marlene Dietrich—who have decided to enter TV.

NBC-TV is planning to give noted producers a full nighttime schedule to toy with, perhaps on a once-a-month basis.

Watching, say, "An Evening with Jerry Wald" may hook us for a full evening next season, not for just an hour.

In keeping with the apparent desire to renovate filmed show schedules, westerns, private eye and adventure series will be taking a back seat to fresher formats that seek to introduce new scenes, story-lines and stars.

New westerns and private eye formats are no longer being sought as they were a year ago.

If properly exploited during the next season or two, this de-emphasis may bring about a complete change in the basic TV diet, the half-hour filmed series.

Summing up: The industry that heretofore considered minority-taste shows to be virtually impossible candidates for prime time scheduling now sees in them profitable commercial possibilities.

That's why an advance peek at TV's new year offers more cause for eager anticipation than any other year in recent memory.

Ben-Hur Named Year's Top Film

New York Critics Also Pick Audrey Hepburn, James Stewart

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York film critics have voted "Ben-Hur," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's remake of the biblical dramatic spectacle, the best movie of 1959.

The critics Monday named Audrey Hepburn as the year's top actress for her performance in "The Nun's Story" and James Stewart top actor for "Anatomy of a Murder."

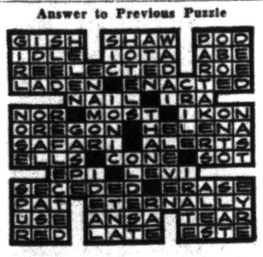

Fred Zinnemann was judged best director for "The Nun's Story." "The 400 Blows," a French film, was named best foreign picture.

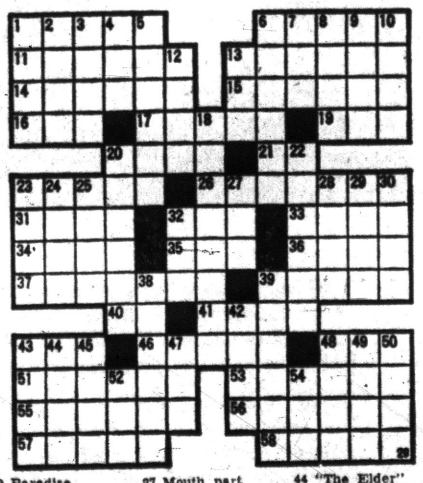

The Great lakes carry more than two-thirds of all the inland transport in the U. S. and the two principal cargoes are iron ore and coal.

Many Disappointed With Fidel

Castro Entrenched in Cuba for Lengthy Stay

BATISTA

CASTRO

(Editor's Note—A year ago on Dec. 31 Fulgencio Batista decided to give up in Cuba. Fidel Castro's rebel forces were battering away at Batista armies that had little heart for their work. What has the year brought to Cuba? Harold K. Milks, a veteran AP foreign correspondent now assigned to Havana, here appraises Cuba's year under Castro.)

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP)—In the year since Fidel Castro and his bearded followers marched out of the hills his military revolt has changed into a leftist tinged social revolution.

An no matter how popular—or unpopular—it may be here or abroad his regime has dug so deeply into every phase of Cuban life that even his most severe critics admit Castro may be around a long time.

The liberty he promised in a triumphal procession into Havana remains far away as do the national elections Cubans expected after the 26th of July movement toppled Fulgencio Batista's reign. Many here believe elections and a restoration of civil liberties are farther away today than when Castro took over last January.

Looking back over a year of promises, Fidel Castro is still Cuba's most popular public figure. He may at the same time be its most hated.

A nationalistic movement with a distinct and steadily increasing trend toward the left, the Castro movement has split Cuba and Cubans.

He has lost thousands of his original supporters, many of them bitterly disillusioned by appeals to class hatred and his attacks on the United States and its policies. Probably he has gained many new ones, too, but on balance Fidel Castro lost ground during 1959.

★ ★ ★

In January he promised Cuba free elections as soon as a ground-work of unfettered political parties could be re-established.

Today his own 26th of July movement is the only political party functioning freely throughout Cuba, aside from the Cuban Communist Party (Partido Socialistia Popular). Others, including parties which fought against Batista during the revolution, have been virtually driven underground by threats that "those who are not 100 per cent with Castro are against him."

SHOOT 500

His regime has sent more than 500 persons to firing squads, mostly on charges of terroristic activities under Batista. Castro has all the power of an old-fashioned dictator. And that power is backed in the old-fashioned way, with Cuba's armed forces, and national police plus a new "people's army" of workers, peasants and students loyal to Castro.

Conservative balance within the government has been driven out, either into exile, into well guarded obscurity, or into a Cuban political prison.

Those who are left foster and direct a program of social, economic and agricultural reform.

This began in the Sierra Maestra hills where Castro convened his original cabinet last May to sign a drastic land reform program which in turn created an institute of agrarian reform rapidly becoming more powerful than the Cuban government itself.

With an announced goal of breaking up all large land holdings by expropriation and dividing the land among the landless peasants, this institute has moved steadily into many phases of Cuban public life.

Today it controls over two million acres of farmland and ranchland seized from Cuban and American owners, has created 500 state-directed rural cooperatives and opened more than 400 "people's stores."

The institute's agents—it is headed by Fidel Castro with left-wing geographer Captain Antonio Nunez Jimenez as his executive officer—have moved far into Cuban industrial activities, taken oven the egg and poultry business, seized for operation fishing and tobacco interests in Pinar del Rio province, and stuck at least a foot into Cuba's giant sugar business through the occupation of several of the nation's 161 sugar mills.

Expanding in other directions the institute—called INRA—has sent delegates abroad to raise credits, normally a function of a ministry of the finance, and to buy arms and warplanes, usually the job of a ministry of armed forces.

INRA keeps its own accounts, writes its own checks—sometimes from a checkbook Castro carries in his shirt pocket—and makes and enforces its own laws in Cuba.

CONFISCATORY LAWS

Castro's social reform program progressed through the "intervention" of ranches and farms and the "occupation" of still others, into passage of almost confiscatory minerals and petroleum laws.

Maj. Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Argentine-born Communist sympathizer, is head of the National Bank of Cuba.

As Castro's social and economic reforms reached the point of no return, a massive "hate America" campaign developed with Castro as its top director.

Many said Fidel needed such a campaign to keep himself before the masses—those millions of workers and peasants who still look on him as a sort of God. Regardless of the reason, he and his followers blasted the United States for everything wrong in Cuba.

The result was a sharp cooling off of relations between these two normally close neighbors, and an equally sharp decline in American tourism which normally represents one of Cuba's biggest dollar earners.

Critics of Castro here say he and his followers have openly encouraged attacks on the United States from other Latin American nations, especially from Panama.

As a guess, Fidel retains the loyal support of perhaps 60 per cent of all Cubans—most of them from the lower end of the nation's economic and social scale.

Of the remaining 40 per cent, most oppose Castro, hope for a change here but bitterly resist any move to restore Batista or one of his followers. The others—and there are many in Cuba—are indifferent to politics and seek only a normal period of peace and prosperity for Cuba.

Economically, Castro critics say his regime is going down hill on a toboggan, may hit bottom with a thud soon. His own spokesmen claim everything is fine—that foreign exchange balances have dwindled but that Castro's agricultural and industrial schemes will soon give Cuba's people a new and better life.

Castro has failed to solve Cuba's chronic unemployment problem, and today government estimates are that 700,000 of a work force of less than three million are still jobless.

ARMY WEAKENED

Militarily, Fidel Castro says his rebel troops are the world's best infantry, but repeated purges have robbed Cuba's military machine of many of its training officers and technicians. Foreign observers today rate the Castro force which drove Batista into exile as probably less battle-ready than a year ago.

There has been criticism abroad, including elsewhere in Latin America, of the Castro regime's attacks on the United States. There have been even more criticism at obvious attempts to export his revolutionary tactics to the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Nicaragua and Panama by permitting bands of trained rebels to invade those countries from Cuban bases.

Critics of the bearded leader say a major mistake was his arrest of Major Hubert Matos, military commander of Camaguey Province and one of Castro's best field commanders in the war against Batista. Matos said he opposed Communist infiltration in the Castro armed forces and may have prompted the revolutionary leader's move toward a "people's army" to prop up his regime.

★ ★ ★

"Castro is still our most popular man," said a Havana taxi driver. "But he had better not let the people get hungry. Then they will shout 'Paredon!' (to the wall; i.e., a firing squad). 'Paredon!' Against Don, Fidel just as loud as they yelled for the firing squad for Batista and his followers when Castro took over."

But with all this, there has been a change in official morality.

Corruption and government have for decades been almost synonymous in Cuba but even Castro's critics say his administration has been remarkably free from graft.

"There is no doubt that Fidel Castro's government has been remarkably careless with its money," said one veteran foreign resident here. "But of one thing I am morally certain—the money is not going into the pockets of Castro or any of the officials under him."

"There is also relative freedom from the terrorism which formerly existed.

"In the old days I worried every minute until my teen-age sons came home at night," said one Cuban woman recently. "I don't like Fidel Castro's government and what it stands for, but I can go to sleep peacefully now without waiting for my boys to come home first."

Just Can't Keep 'Em Down on the Farm

WASHINGTON (UPI)—You can't keep 'em down on the farm. The Census Bureau has reported that only one in eight Americans now lives on a farm compared with one in six a decade ago.

During the last 10 years, the farm population has declined by 3,900,000, a drop of more than 15 per cent.
