Security Council Backs U Thant Unanimously

Birmingham Man Con-Con Publicist

A public relations man from Birmingham has landed a like job with the constitutional convention after a partisan fight kept the position from Charles A. Ferry, former publicist for the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

Ferry, 35, of 165 Wimpole Road, Rochester, later was named research assistant after a 94-37 vote which went along party lines. Ferry was originally proposed for the top job.

Getting the top post—which was the first staff position out of more than 70 already filled which has caused any difficulty when it came up for approval on the floor—was Stuart Kirvan, 42, of 695 Hanna St.

Kirvan will hold the title of assistant director of public information. He is a partner in a Detroit public relations firm.

He will assist the committee on public information and its chairman, delegate Ink White, R-St. Johns.

★ ★ ★

One of those opposed to Ferry getting the top job which will pay $1,000-a-month, the same pay as a delegate, was Lee Walker, D-Madison Heights.

OPPOSED FERRY

Walker, who along with some other Democrats believed Ferry too partisan for the job. They also opposed Ferry getting the research assistant position.

Walker told the committee on administration, which recommended hiring Ferry, that giving Ferry the job was a subterfuge to cover up a case of party patronage.

"This was a decision of the Republican State Central Committee," Walker said. Walker is the only Democrat among seven Oakland County con-con delegates.

Along with Ferry, the convention approved hiring two other research assistants, Edward Walsh, 35, and Theodis Gay, both of Detroit. Their pay was not determined.

After the squabble the convention adjourned until Monday evening.

Island Refugees Reach England

262 Homesick People View New Home With Anxiety and Concern

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — The homesick islanders of Tristan da Cunha sailed into the 20th century world today to make a new home far away from their deserted, volcano-ravaged island in the Atlantic.

Perplexed and bewildered, the 262 refugees arrived on the liner Stirling Castle.

SHOW CONCERN

Some of the women cried. Anxiety and concern showed on the faces of the men. The youngsters were bubbling with excitement.

They carried their forlorn possessions, tied in cardboard cases or sacks or blankets. They saved only a few things when the volcano on Oct. 10 drove them from their island home midway between South Africa and South America where they had lived an 18th century existence.

'AFEARED FOR US'

"I am afeared for us all," said Peter Repetto, 59, the island chief, speaking in the curiously archaic English of the Tristan people.

"Now our children must face evil for the first time. They will be frightened and bewildered and very homesick," he said.

★ ★ ★

"We will never forget the island. I think a lot of us will go back, if that will be possible. I want to go back."

The islanders come from a simple place without complications—without taxes or red tape, no buses or trains to catch, no prisons, crime, television, political demonstrations, housing shortages, subways, noise, money.

★ ★ ★

Peter Repetto, the administrator of justice on the island for 30 years, said: "My people are good and innocet. Pray that they will stay that way. I do not want your world to change them."

Rusk Fears for World

HAKONE, Japan (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he does not believe "the world will be safe if nuclear superiority moves to those who intend to dominate the world."

Rusk recalled that at the recently concluded Soviet Communist Party Congress in Moscow, the prediction was made that the world would be dominated by communism by 1980.

Test Plane Leaves Mother Ship

RELEASE ROCKET PLANE — This in how the bulletlike test plane X15 looks to the crew of the B52 mother ship at release. The sleek black research plane has been poised for weeks to make an attempt to break both its own speed and altitude records. Separate flights to reach these objectives were scheduled today.

4,100 M.P.H. and 50 Miles Up

X15 Aiming at 2 Records

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Weather and mechanical troubles combined today to "shoot down" two scheduled record attempts in different X15 rocket planes.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Two separate X15 records—4,100 miles an hour and 50 miles high—were scheduled to be attempted today by a pair of pilots flying different rocket planes.

Weather—which has caused repeated delays in the all-out speed trial—was the principal reason both flights were set for the same day.

In the first one, Air Force Maj. Robert White, 37, was set for an attempt at six times the speed of sound.

If White's flight goes well, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) pilot Joe Walker was to try for 250,000 feet some six hours later.

White has flown the stub-winged rocket ship to an altitude of 41 miles while Walker holds the current man-controlled aircraft speed mark of 3,920 m.p.h.

Should both flights succeed, the X15 would surpass both the speed and altitude goals set by the X15's designers.

Different B52 bombers were ready to carry the X15s to the launch point, 45,000 feet over Tonopah, Nev.

★ ★ ★

While White was to pull all stops, Walker planned to shut down the 57,000-pound thrust rocket engine after 81 seconds of burning time.

Son Is Born to Margaret and the Earl

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret gave birth to a son today and her husband said she was thrilled and delighted.

★ ★ ★

First to see the baby—after the doctors and nurses—was the father, the Earl of Snowdon, the former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Coming from the royal maternity suite in Clarence House, he exclaimed to a member of the household: "The princess and I are absolutely thrilled and delighted."

His son—fifth in line to the British throne—was born Viscount Linley.

WEIGHT UNKNOWN

The infant's weight was not announced immediately.

An official announcement said "mother and son are doing well."

"It's a sweet baby," said a member of the household.

The child was born in the room in Clarence House that Princess Margaret once used as a bedroom. She lived at the house, home of the queen mother, until her marriage May 6, 1960. Both she and her husband are 31.

★ ★ ★

Crowds cheered outside Clarence House. The Scots Guards bagpipe band marched by filling the air with music.

★ ★ ★

The news of the birth were relayed quickly to Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Congratulations began pouring in.

Lord Evans 58, one of the five medical men who attended the princess, broke the news to the father.

TONY SENT ROSES

Before the baby's birth at 10:45 a.m. Tony sent Margaret an armload of red roses. He repeated the order after the birth.

★ ★ ★

A Clarence House spokesman announced:

"Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret, Countess Snowdon, was safely delivered of a son at 10:45 a.m. today."

A moment later an official posted the bulletin on the gate of Clarence House.

★ ★ ★

Doctors Break Ground for Their Own Building

The long-planned million dollar medical building for doctors in the Pontiac General Hospital area moved off the designing board yesterday.

Doctors gathered at the South Johnson Street site across from the hospital to break ground for the three-story building.

The structure is being financed by a group of some 25 area doctors who form Pontiac Medical Building, Inc. With construction beginning immediately, the Medical Office Center is slated for completion next August.

★ ★ ★

The building will house 25 doctors' offices with full facilities for out-patient and diagnostic services, including X-ray and laboratory facilities and a pharmacy.

Cost of construction is estimated at $724,000. It will cost nearly $300,000 to fully equip the building.

Eroh and Friedman Architects, of Pontiac, designed the new medical center. Builders are J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac.

LARGE OFFICE SPACE

Office space will cover about 22,000 square feet. The structure will be Pontiac's largest, privately owned, multi-story office building erected in recent years.

Parking area is being cleared on several lots. The City Commission has ruled that the building cannot be 100 per cent occupied until suitable parking is available for a full complement of tenants.

Doctors have provided parking for over 50 per cent occupancy of the structure and currently plans (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Chrysler, UAW Okay Contract, Avert Walkout

Union, Company Reach Agreement 50 Minutes Before Deadline

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement on a new three-year labor contract Thursday night, averting a strike.

The Chrysler pact brought peace between the UAW and all the automakers, except the small Studebaker-Packard. Three-year contracts previously had been negotiated by General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the Chrysler agreement, which came only 50 minutes before the company's 60,000 UAW-represented employes were to strike at midnight in support of demands, was essentially the same as that reached at GM and Ford.

Reuther and Chrysler vice president John D. Leary formally signed the agreement some 12 hours after it was announced. The signing was delayed to allow technicians time to complete writing language acceptable to both sides.

The union estimated that the Ford and GM contracts were worth more than 12 cents hourly in take-home pay over each year.

They immediately added a minimum of 5 cents to gross pay, raising that to an average of $2.85 hourly for the industry's production workers.

This, plus company assumption of the full cost of hospital-medical insurance and other improvements in fringe benefits figured in the UAW estimate the contracts were worth more than 12 cents in take-home pay.

Shake Mothballs Out of Blankets; 28 to 32 Tonight

Turn up the thermostat and bring out more blankets.

A plunge of up to 40 degrees or more in the thermometer—mostly over a span of hours tonight—is in prospect. And snow is foreseen.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Pontiac temperatures at 68 this morning will tumble to a subfreezing 28 to 32 by late tonight or early Saturday. Tomorrow's high will be in the low 40s.

Rain will change to snow flurries during the changeover from mild to overcast conditions.

Temperatures will warm up a little Sunday and Monday then turn colder Tuesday and Wednesday.

From 10:15 yesterday morning until the same hour today .1 inch in rain fell in downtown Pontiac. At 2 p.m. the mercury had dropped to 56.

Walker Through With U.S. Army

General Will Resign, Having Lost Divisional Post; Served 30 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, stripped of his divisional command, says he is quitting the Army because "I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

Walker's decision to leave the Army was announced Thursday in a statement supplied to a Senate Armed Services subcommittee. The 51-year-old West Point graduate defended what he saw as a duty to speak out on communism and he will pass up retirement pay of more than $12,000 a year.

Walker said he was taking leave of military duty "with a heavy heart" and would "find other means of serving my country in the time of her great need, in order to pursue the dedication of a lifetime."

Later, in San Antonio, Tex., where his mother lives, Walker, a bachelor, declined to say whether he expected to enter politics. He said he was not ready to say, adding: "When my plans do develop I suspect I may have some statement to make."

In his 11-page statement issued in Washington, Walker, who also had been rebuked by the Army, said his removal last April as commander of the 24th Division destroyed his 30-year career "in its usefulness to my country."

In taking away Walker's command and dealing him an official rebuke, the Pentagon had said Walker violated Defense Department regulations, made "inflammatory and derogatory statements" about former President Harry S. Truman and other prominent figures and had tried to influence his troops' voting the last congressional elections.

Board Discusses PCH Withrawal From Valley Loop

The Pontiac Board of Education was told last night by School Athletics Director Hollie Lepley it was possible to save money by entering the Pontiac Central High football team in leagues closer to home.

But the board took no action to remove PCH from the Saginaw Valley League.

Lepley opposed withdrawal from the league. He argued that PCH "has not been invited to participate in a local league" and was not wanted for competition with most Oakland County schools.

Pontiac Press Sports Editor Bruno Kearns, countered it was up to Pontiac to show it now has an interest in county association. He said:

"PCH is the outcast of the Saginaw Valley by mileage. It is the outcast of Oakland County by attitude and recognition. That attitude is something that shouldn't grow stronger."

Quick Approval by World Body Expected Today

Big-Power Deadlock Over Dag's Successor Ends After 6 Weeks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council today recommended unanimously that Burma's U Thant be named acting secretary general of the world organization in place of the late Dag Hammarskjold.

The action was taken at a brief closed meeting of the 11-nation council after the big powers had reached agreement ending a six-week-old deadlock.

The General Assembly was scheduled to act quickly on the council's recommendation at an afternoon session. Overwhelming approval was expected in a secret ballot.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia, the assembly president, will read out the results of the delegates in the big blue and gold assembly hall. U Thant will await the outcome in a room behind the podium.

The Belgian Count Jehan de Noue, chief of U.N. protocal, will escort U Thant to the speakers' platform. Members of the assembly's steering committee and presidents of the three high U.N. councils will be on the platform.

★ ★ ★

Slim will administer the oath of office to U Thant, and then escort him to the secretary general's seat at the right of the president.

U Thant will make a brief acceptance speech, to be followed by a round of congratulatory speeches by delegates expected to take up the entire afternoon session.

U Thant will have a free hand to choose his chief assistants.

The Soviets backed down after trying to specify the number of principal deputies the Burmese ambassador would appoint and the areas from which they would be drawn.

The United States made a similar retreat earlier this week.

The Security Council was called into a closed meeting this morning to recommend U Thant to fill out the term of Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed in a plane crash in Africa Sept. 18.

The General Assembly was to meet this afternoon to elect U Thant. He will serve until April 1963.

U Thant, 52, a quiet but determined diplomat, broke the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over the issue of his principal advisers by telling the big powers he would name "a limited number."

'TAKE OR LEAVE IT'

He refused to commit himself in advance to any particular number from any particular areas and told the Soviets and the Americans they could take it or leave it.

The Soviets originally demanded that the deputies have a virtual veto over the secretary general's decisions but abandoned this stand weeks ago.

UF Gifts Aid Work of Visiting Nurses

Maurice Barnett, well-known retail merchant and community leader, urges support of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign in the following statement:

★ ★ ★

"Many contributors to the United Fund assume their responsibility without too great a knowledge of the agencies of our community that are served by their contributions.

One of the most active, most important and that serves a tremendous number of people, both young and old, is the Visiting Nurse Association.

"For many years prior to the campaign of one contribution that serves all, the Visiting Nurse Association operated independently to help those who could not afford such benefits on their own.

"The many hours the nurses worked and the time devoted by the many fine women in this community who served as directors of this service are almost immeasurable.

"Today, with the increase in our population in Oakland County, its work has become more extensive.

"The Visiting Nurse Association has the third largest budget of all agencies operating under the United Fund. Your contribution plays an important part in giving assistance to those who would otherwise be deprived of aid.

Rush N-Test Plans After Announcement

By United Press International

The United States began a high-speed program today to prepare for the resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere if President Kennedy deems it necessary.

★ ★ ★

Within hours after the President announced the orders Thursday, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported the Soviet Union had set off two more nuclear explosions at its Arctic testing ground.

Since breaking a three-year moratorium on tests Sept. 1, the Russians have set off an average of at least one nuclear explosion every other day — two of them in the supermegaton category.

Tass news agency immediately seized on Kennedy's announcement to justify the Russian tests.

It said Kennedy "tried to place on the Soviet Union the responsibility for this step of the U.S. government although it is known that the United States was the first to start the nuclear armaments race."

★ ★ ★

In Tokyo, two well-known Japanese educators, Masatoshi Matsushita, president of St. Paul's University, and Dr. Seija Kaya, president of Tokyo University, expressed "regrets" at the President's announcement.

Japanese Chief Cabinet Secretary Masayoshi Ohira said the Japanese government could "understand" America's position because of the continued Soviet nuclear testing.

"However," he said, "as the only nation in the world which experienced nuclear bombs, Japan opposes nuclear tests by any country."

Newspapers in fallout-conscious Japan splashed the statement across their front pages.

But in France, the Paris newspaper Paris Jour said the world would hold the Soviet Union responsible for any increase in fallout and President Kennedy's decision "will be well-received in the world."

SWEDEN REGRETS

In Stockholm, Swedish officials said privately that the U.S. decision was understandable in the light of Soviet tests but they regretted any raise in the level of radioactivity it might trigger.

Dr. Rudolf Moessbauer, one of the co-winners of the 1961 Nobel prize in Physics, said in Pasadena, Calif., that he opposes atmospheric nuclear testing because "so little is known about living cells and mutations . . . we may never know the effects fully."

The 101-member main political committee of the United Nations General Assembly voted 72 to 21 Thursday for an appeal to the big powers for another voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing but the four nuclear nations — the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France — were among those that voted against it.

★ ★ ★

The United States had served clear advance warning that it would not again be caught in another such voluntary "trap" that the Russians could break at will. It has demanded a binding treaty with full inspection and controls.

City Man to Face Dope Charges

Turned Over to Federal Agents as Part of Ring Supplying Detroit Area

A Pontiac man has been turned over to federal agents in Detroit to face a narcotics charge in Laredo, Tex., involving several thousand dollars worth of heroin.

Manuel Lopez, 50, is one of four men being held today in connection with a narcotics ring that agents said supplied the Detroit area with thousands of dollars worth of marijuana and heroin from Mexico.

Lopez was arrested Wednesday by Pontiac Police vice squad officers working with the FBI, state police and Detroit police.

He surrendered without a struggle in the Pontiac apartment of a girl friend, police said. They said Lopez had no present address in the city but had been living here in his car.

He is being held for conspiracy on a $25,000 bond.

Police said an arrest in Laredo in which a pound of heroin was confiscated led them to Lopez. They alleged that the dope was being transported by car to Lopez in Pontiac and that he was selling it in Detroit.

He has a past record of narcotics convictions, according to Pontiac police, who said they have been following his activities for the past four months.

Also being held as alleged members of the ring are Joseph Ramirez, 34, of Detroit; Jack Coley, 24, also of Detroit; and Jesse Odom, 28, who was arrested yesterday at Logansport, Ind.

U. S. District Judge Wade McCree Jr. said Coley and Ramirez will be tried in Detroit and Odom at South Bend, Ind., in U.S. District Court.

DOWN PAYMENT—Daniel W. Barry (right), Oakland County drain commissioner, accepts a check for $1 million from Frederick E. Tripp, deputy state highway commissioner. It's the highway department's first payment to the county to help finance construction of the $40 million 12-Town Drain. The brief ceremony took place yesterday.

State Payment Made for 12-Town Drain

The Oakland County Drain Commission got its first payment from the state highway department yesterday for construction of the proposed $40 million Twelve-Town Drain.

★ ★ ★

A check for $1 million was presented to Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

The highway department plans to make final payment of its $4.8-million apportionment next month, said Frederick E. Tripp, deputy commissioner. Tripp presented the check in a brief ceremony in Lansing.

Also present for the ceremony were chief engineers John E. Meyer of the highway department and Robert M. McGinnis of the county drain commission.

The project will be the largest of its kind ever built at one time in Michigan. Construction of the drain is scheduled to begin early next year following the sale of $33,675,000 in bonds.

Meyer said the 12-Town Drain will benefit the highway department because it provides drainage facilities for I75 freeway between Eight Mile and 11 Mile Roads.

"In addition," Meyer said, "the drain will also provide an important outlet for drainage when Eight Mile Road is widened during the second five-year construction program."

British RAF Jet Crashes on Road but Misses Cars

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — A British Royal Air Force jet bomber crashed in flames on a busy highway today, narrowly missing Omaha-bound cars.

The plane skidded across the highway and burst into a wall of flame, but all six Royal Air Force men escaped with minor injuries.

Five of the British airmen walked away from the wreckage. The sixth suffered a broken leg.

The jet crashed moments after take-off from Offutt Air Force Base, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command (SAC), 10 miles south of Omaha.

DETROIT (AP) — The Upjohn Co. has offered to build a medical research facility costing from $250,000 to $300,000 inside Southern Michigan State Prison and give it to the state provided it could be used for Upjohn pharmaceutical studies.

The Michigan State Corrections Commission received the proposal from the company at a meeting here Thursday and has it under consideration.

Bar Up Sewers in East Berlin

Eleven More Slip Past Ever-Tightening Wire and Brick Curtain

BERLIN (AP)—Even the sewers of East Berlin are being barricaded to prevent refugees escaping, West Berlin police reported today.

Police said they had observed workers climbing into manholes to fit steel bars in the tunnel-like drainage pipes.

Built long ago, the drainage system takes no account of the present division of the city and some refugees have used the sewers as an escape route to the West.

The calm of West Berlin was frequently shattered by the detonation of explosives as Communists strengthened their barricade around the city's outer limits.

Windows of houses in the West were broken by the blasting and some buildings damaged. A flying piece of timber injured an 88-year-old woman.

Despite the Communist efforts, another 11 persons got through the wall and wire into West Berlin during the past 24 hours, police said.

The Soviets objected to the U.S. Army sending "military assistance vehicles" along the 110 miles of four-lane superhighway to take care of American official travelers in difficulties. The Soviets claim they are responsible for patroling the autobahn.

More vehicles of Co. A of the 20th U.S. Engineer Battalion, newly assigned to Berlin from the United States, rolled along the autobahn today.

Katanga and Congo Disagree on Victor

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — The Katanga radio today claimed Katangan troops had scored a great victory over invading forces of the Central Congo government. It reiterated claims that all invaders have now been repulsed from this secessionist province.

Congolese National troops abandoned a rail bridge and left arms, ammunition and wounded, to be seized by Katangan troops, the broadcast said.

Travelers returning from the frontier town of Kaniama, however, reported that the Congolese army had a walkover up to now and that the Katangans had shown great reluctance to fight.

The Day in Birmingham

Filipino Group to Dance Sunday at Marian High

BIRMINGHAM — The Bayanihan Philippine Dance Company will perform Sunday at Marian High School as part of the third annual culture series sponsored by Holy Name Catholic Church here.

The troupe of 30 young dancers and 15 musicians, who appeared at the Brussels World Fair in 1958 and in New York the following year, is stopping in Birmingham as part of a 13-week nationwide tour.

Critical acclaim has been given the folk dances, which are divided into five distinct parts. They include "Dances Of The Mountain Region," which features primitive religious-ceremonial tributes to deities of war, victory, marriage and the harvest; and "Fiesta Filipina," showing the cultural influences of European countries on the Philippine arts.

★ ★ ★

Other dance segments are "The Muslim Suite," presenting the Arabian influence on the culture of Mohammedan Filipinos; "Regional Variations," in which imitations and reflections of nature provide the mode for worship; and finally, the "Rural Philippine Suite," dealing with the planting and harvesting of rice.

Pontiac Board Likes Idea

Area College Under Study

Pontiac may get a community college by September 1962, if the Pontiac Board of Education finds the district can bear the initial burden.

The full board at last night's meeting unanimously gave the green light for district administrators to come up with more definite facts and figures on the proposed two-year post-high school institution to serve the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Board member Monroe M. Osmun described the need for a community college as "an area of vast importance."

He said, "I think the board should go on record as technically approving a community college for the Pontiac School District."

Other board members also reacted favorably to the proposal as outlined by Pontiac director of educational and adult education, Richard Fell, and Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

Agreeing to take the first step were board members Osmun, William H. Anderson, Dr. Walter L. Godsell, Glenn H. Griffin, Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, the Rev. J. Allen Parker and Victor P. Sutt.

Fell said the community college would have a four-pronged job:

1—Vocational and technical training beyond high school.

2—University parallel courses: Freshman and sophomore classes offered by junior colleges for those who want to continue to universities.

3—School-to-job counseling and guidance.

4—Adult education.

According to Whitmer, a "Pontiac-area community college would provide the advantage of focusing its program on the needs of local residents, provide the first two years of college at lower cost than at the four-year colleges, and help train and find jobs for high school graduates who are not planning for a four-year degree.

The community college ideally would be financed one-third by students' tuition, one-third by state support and one-third by the district, the board said.

A hike in millage might be needed eventually, some board members indicated. However, they agreed that the program could be started at least, in fall of next year without an immediate millage hike.

The question of when and if such a hike will be needed is expected to be answered as more financial details are reported by administrative planners.

However, Whitmer noted, additional funds to defray operating costs could be expected under the National Defense Education Act and also from the state for capital outlay for buildings.

Fell said he would like to start the college in September 1962. Present facilities could be used. Existing buildings would be used afternoons and evenings in the initial stages, Fell said.

Democrats Set Annual Dinner

Deputy Director of AID to Be Main Speaker at Fund-Raising Affair

Oakland County Democrats next Friday night will hear a review of President Kennedy's "New Frontier" at their annual congressional dinner in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

They'll also learn about President Kennedy's consolidating control of all foreign aid under the Agency for International Development (AID) from its deputy director Frank M. Coffin.

Coffin, a lawyer and former Democratic congressman from Maine for two terms, will be main speaker at the $10-a-plate fund raising affair at the Elks Temple.

Proceeds from the dinner go toward campaign expenses for the 18th Congressional District's (Oakland County) candidate, unknown at this time.

For a master-of-ceremonies the Democrats have selected the state's newest member of the State Supreme Court, Otis Smith, former auditor general. He was appointed to the high bench by Gov. John B. Swainson only last month.

Coffin, the first Democrat from Maine to be elected in 22 years to Congress in 1956, is second-in-command of the consolidated AID which President Kennedy proposed to Congress in March.

Sander Levin, chairman of the 1961 dinner, said Gov. Swainson, members of his administrative board, U.S. Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, Democratic members of the State Supreme Court, and State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins are expected to attend the 6:30 p.m. dinner.

U.S. Assures Japan Share of Imports

HAKONE, Japan (AP) — The United States told Japan at the conclusion of Cabinet-level discussions on economic affairs today that they can expect a fair share of the $2-billion annual increase in U.S. imports the Kennedy administration anticipates.

But Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges warned that the United States "very soon will have to increase its exports tremendously" because present exports totaling $20 billion a year represent only 4 per cent of the nation's total production.

Latest Tax Ruling Has an Exception

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has revised its rules involving business expense deductions for brief trips away from home.

★ ★ ★

In the past, IRS has held that the cost of meals, lodgings and tips while traveling could be deducted only if the taxpayer was away overnight.

★ ★ ★

Henceforth, it will allow these deductions if the taxpayer is away from home less than a day but long enough for him to require sleep or rest "in order to meet the exigencies of his employment or business demands of his employment."

Phones Safe, Not Radioactive, Claims Firm

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)— "Our telephones are as safe as they ever were," the manager of the Palestine Telephone Co. assured customers Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Manager Albert Rucker said pranksters started a rumor that magnets in the telephone receivers had attracted radioactivity from recent fallout and were dangerous.

★ ★ ★

Rucker said one telephone was taken from a home and buried three feet deep in a yard and several persons returned their telephones to the company.

"There is nothing to the radioactivity report," Rucker said.

Thief Has to Identify His Victim in Line-up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Frederick Taylor, 22, was being questioned about another case when he told detectives he had robbed a city bus driver of $34 in September.

But bus driver Norman W. Runyon, who had complained of a holdup, failed to identify Taylor in a lineup. Police then arranged a lineup of bus drivers and Taylor promptly picked Runyon as his victim.

States to Help Michigan With Use Tax Evaders

LANSING (AP) — With help from other states, the Michigan Revenue Department is going to crack down on people who escape payments of the use tax when they make purchases in other states.

The use tax, complementary to the sales tax, is levied against out-of-state purchases made from a retailer or mail order house and brought into Michigan.

Clarence W. Lock, state revenue commissioner, said Michigan has entered into negotiations with adjoining states to exchange information on purchases made in one state by residents of another.

"Now if an out-of-state seller claims exemption in his state because of a sale to a resident of Michigan, this information will be forwarded to us by the State Revenue Department of the state in which the seller is located," Lock said. "We, in turn, will collect the tax from the Michigan resident."

Hurricane Death Toll Now Over 150

Hondurans to Move Coastal Capital Inland

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP)—Twice destroyed by hurricanes in three decades, this capital of British Honduras will be moved inland 44 miles from the exposed Carribean Coast to higher ground.

★ ★ ★

The government annoucement came as the known death toll from Hurricane Hattie rose to 151, and many more bodies were feared buried in the mud and wreckage left by the storm Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The rising Belize River threatened floods in the city of 30,000, which bore the brunt of the 200-mile-an-hour winds and tidal waves that crashed in from the Caribbean.

Belize counted 62 dead. An estimated 75 per cent of the buildings in the city were destroyed or damaged. The property devastation was greater than the 1931 hurricane that leveled the city and killed more than 2,000 persons.

★ ★ ★

There were 26 dead reported in Stann Creek, 1 at Gale's Point, 29 on Turneffe and 14 on Cay Caulker. The latter two are small islands off the coast.

Five persons were reported killed in neighboring Guatemala and two in Honduras.

AMERICANS SAFE

As far as could be determined amid the confusion, all the 200 Americans in British Honduras were safe.

U.S. Consul Richard Geppert, who fled with his family just ahead of the storm, radioed from Cayo de San Ignacio that they were safe after being stranded at the Guatemala border by a blown-out bridge.

Hondurans trudged the muddy streets of the devastated capital and even managed a chuckle at their survival—but with heavy hearts.

★ ★ ★

British troops were flown from Jamaica to help guard against looting as the clearing of the debris went slowly, mostly by hand.

"When we are able to remove the debris from the streets, I fear many more bodies will be found," said Prime Minister George Price. "We are waiting for heavy equipment."

Raymond Yates, a waiter at the Fort George Hotel, told of the horror on hurricane night.

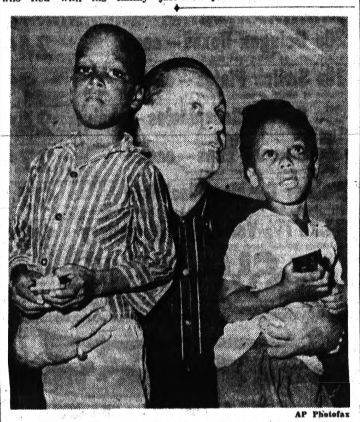
"I swam nine blocks through the streets," he said. "On the way I found two bodies. I put them on a high place, where it was dry, and continued to swim. I came across a woman with two children. I helped the mother to safety, and swam the children to a dry place."

School Unit Studies Con-Con Proposals

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Michigan Tech Board of Control scheduled meetings today and Saturday to consider recommendations on whether controls on the school should be written into the seats constitution.

Judge Joseph M. Donnelly, board chairman, said the meetings would consider recommendations to the constitutional convention by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

Hannah cautioned the convention against freezing higher education governing bodies and institutions in their present forms.



AP Photofax

ORPHANS OF THE STORM — Orphans of the hurricane, Randall Arnold, 7, and his 4-year-old sister Patrice, are shown as they arrived in Miami from the devastated British Honduras capital of Belize. Ned Davis, Miamian who owns a sugar plantation in Honduras and employs the Arnolds as domestics in his Belize home, said police listed the parents as among the dead. Davis will keep the children if he can gain custody of them.

Police Call Dogs to Halt Students

Football Pep Rally Turns Into Riot by Over 700 at Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — More than 700 Louisiana State students whipped themselves into a frenzy at a pep rally early today and snarled back at police dogs sent to bring them under control.

Several students reported one of their schoolmates was bitten by one of the two snapping police dogs, but the report could not be confirmed.

Police orders for dispersal, over a riot wagon loudspeaker, were ignored by the students, mostly men, who chanted "Hey hey, what do you say, let's take the dogs away."

Two firewagons screamed onto the campus intersections and connected fire hoses, threatening to hose down the crowd unless the men went back to their dormitories. The men responded by piling onto one of the fire trucks.

The crowd had gathered spontaneously before midnight in a rally for Saturday's Mississippi-LSU football game. But when police showed up, the yells turned on the police and dogs instead of ole Miss.

Most of the men went to bed after Dean of Men Arden O. French spoke to the crowd. French advised the police to take the dogs away, told the firemen to leave, and warned the students that those remaining at the intersection faced expulsion. Four minutes later, the corner was deserted.

Rapist Sentenced to Two Prison Terms

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The convicted rapist of a 19-year-old blind girl was sentenced to two long prison terms Thursday.

Gerald L. Winegeart, 20, a former University of Michigan student from Niles, got 10-30 years and 9-30 years at Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson for the rape and robbery attack on the girl and her escort.

Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. said the terms would run concurrently. Winegeart was convicted last month after a six-day nonjury trial.

He was charged with attacking the couple July 9 in a local lovers' lane. He surrendered the following day at Niles.

Animals' Coats Indicate Hard Winter Ahead

GRAND MARSH, Wis. (UPI)—Take it from the animals at Grand Marsh Wildlife Ranch, we're in for a hard winter.

"All the North American animals, the buffalo, long horn cattle, elk and deer, have exceptionally long hair this year," said ranch director Dr. N. O. Calloway. "The buffalo are heavy with fur. If it was to be a mild winter the hair would be thin and short."

Even the beaver got into the act. They built their lodges high up on the bank of the lake, a practice they follow when winters are severe.

Admits Killing Family 'to Avoid Any Rebuke'

MEZZEMA, Italy (UPI)—Police said Thursday night that Giuseppe Rossi, 38, confessed he murdered his entire family because he was afraid his father would find out he had wrecked his motorcycle.

* * *

"I wanted to avoid any rebuke and I was fed up with everything, so I killed them," police quoted him as saying.

Rossi told police he killed his father, mother and 3-year-old sister with a cousin's shotgun early Wednesday.

WHY MORE TRAINING?

The Job Guide, published by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific asset. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantages in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications—other things being equal."

Pontiac's Part in Missile Program Is Encouraging

The successful launching of the Saturn missile last week was a personal score for Pontiac, thanks to the Progressive Welder and Machine Co. of Oakland Avenue.

Largely responsible for Progressive's role on the Saturn team are HARRY S. ROSE, vice president, and WILLIAM B. PAYNE, general sales manager.

Important components of the launching mechanism were produced locally, and helped this project move toward the eventual goal of men on the moon. Progressive has other parts in the Saturn which are of a classified nature and cannot be publicized.

ROSE

It's encouraging to see Pontiac step forward and take its part in the vital space industry. In every time of conflict, Pontiac industry has risen to the occasion and produced important necessities.

PAYNE

FTC Tells of Phony Fallout Businesses

Potential customers and home owners should carefully appraise the many new businesses springing up in the atomic shelter field. This word comes from the Federal Trade Commission which is taking a sharp look at many of the new companies.

★ ★ ★

FTC reports that they have received numerous complaints of "gyp" activities and are running them down as fast as possible.

One such report they received is that "fallout clothing" is being offered for sale in some cities. Civil Defense authorities say there isn't any such thing.

★ ★ ★

The target for the FTC investigation is the fast buck operator using scare techniques and exaggerated claims. Along with this go phony low prices to bilk buyers.

Whenever there is an undertone of emotionalism like exists today, the sharpies in some businesses will go to work just as they are today.

★ ★ ★

The FTC's Washington staff along with the Defense Department and Civil Defense people are working together to set up clear standards for merchandising in this fast growing field.

In the meantime, shop prudently.

Newburgh Case Brings Some Welfare Economy

The Newburgh, N.Y. relief storm appears to have just about blown out, yet as a result it has caused many people to sit up and take notice. Some even asked a few questions.

★ ★ ★

Some social workers, political groups and various others are crying shame over the attempt of Newburgh to reduce its staggering welfare burden by laying down new rules for eligibility.

It is true that with most of the smoke now cleared Newburgh has been forced to ease up a bit by Federal and state pressures.

★ ★ ★

Yet, the effort has not proved to be in vain and New York State itself has decided to review its relief program, as has the District of Columbia and many other political entities.

It is probable that taxpayers everywhere will benefit, without damage at all to those for whose real needs welfare programs were originally designed.

Federal welfare programs began in the New Deal days, when unemployment remained stubbornly high. In recent years the cost has gone up when unemployment was at worst far less than half of what we experienced in the best of the New Deal years.

There is some chance for great savings for taxpayers without injustice if a little more supervision is put into the programs. Investigators should put more emphasis on qualifications to make sure that devious means have not been used for the relief.

★ ★ ★

A check of the large families with illegitimate children by different fathers and persons drawing general assistance for long periods should be re-examined.

An apple tree in the yard of

Quite unique predictions of an early winter come from

The children in the home of

Each year they've been tossing snips of paper from an upstairs window, so it would float past the dining room window while the rest of the family was at breakfast. But this year the snowflakes were pink.

Stooping Pretty Low!

David Lawrence Insists:

U.S. Must Shout Its Arms Power

WASHINGTON—What the world sorely needs today is not more talk about fallout shelters, but more information directly from the President of the United States on the military power of this country—its ability to destroy an enemy if there should be any kind of attack.

LAWRENCE

Why is it so important? Because if the peoples of all the world could realize that the United States is capable of destroying an aggressor, attention would really turn to the restraining influence that could be exerted upon such an aggressor.

★ ★ ★

The demand would arise not merely for a limitation of armament but for eventual nonuse of any nuclear weapons.

To achieve any kind of balance, however, requires something far more effective than merely a paper agreement signed by an international conference in Geneva or anywhere else.

It requires the only assurance that can be given against another world war—the establishment of a free system of government in Russia and in her several colonies now captive behind the Iron Curtain.

The sooner this is recognized as the paramount issue the greater the chance for the early achievement of a true peace in the world.

RETAIN HIS IDEAS

For, while the Communists may remove the body of Stalin from its place of prominence in Moscow, it is significant that they have failed thus far to show the slightest intention of burying his ideas—faithlessness to the pledged word, bluff, bluster, threats, and a form of tyranny as old as the despotism of Caesar.

But how can the men who hold power in the Soviet government today be deprived of their position of authority? Only by the will of the people.

And how can that be done? Only by penetrating the Communist countries with official statements and ideas that will eventually convince the 200 million people of the Soviet Union—and the many millions more under the Communist yoke—that to set up a free government is the only way to prevent a nuclear war and the destruction of millions of human beings.

★ ★ ★

Once the issue is fully understood, the people of the Soviet Union can be depended upon to exercise their concerted will at least to preserve their own lives.

★ ★ ★

The first step, therefore, is for the President to put aside any qualms about being accused of "sabre rattling" and tell the whole story of America's bomber and missile strength.

VOICE OF AMERICA

This coming weekend will see an important experiment in crossing boundaries into Russia by the Voice of America—the broadcasting organization of the U.S. Information Agency.

A massive broadcast of 52 powerful stations located in Western Europe will be put on the air simultaneously for the first time to the people behind the Iron Curtain. In their own languages, they will be given for eight hours a detailed story of what has happened recently in nuclear testing.

★ ★ ★

The Russian people haven't been told anything about it as yet by their own government. What an opportunity to show them how deceitful their government has been and how inconsiderate of their safety!

THEY DO NOT KNOW

For the Russian people not only do not know that their government has been spreading terror throughout the world by its tests of huge megaton bombs, but they do not know that other nations in self-defense now must begin testing. Nor are they aware of the dangers the nuclear arms race may bring to mankind.

★ ★ ★

Will the Soviet government jam the new broadcasts? It has done so before in the case of individual stations. There are some technicians, however, who say the jamming can be overcome.

The important thing that the Soviet people must be told is that America possesses an almost incredible strength to retaliate.

★ ★ ★

Once these facts become known, the Russian people will realize that they alone can save mankind. They can do it by instituting a system of government which does not permit one man to hold in his hand the power of life and death over them as well as over millions of human beings in other lands.

The Country Parson

"The only folks who don't have good reputations are the ones who didn't earn them."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

There Are Ways to Assist Former Mental Patient

To assist the discharged mental patient and his family, the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health recommends half-way houses, day or night hospitals and foster-home care.

The last of these is particularly adapted for the needs of the mentally ill child who appears ready for a gradual return to the world that exists outside institution environs.

★ ★ ★

Here's what the half-way house provides: A stopover residence for the patient who no longer needs hospitalization but who is not yet ready to stand on his own two feet, opportunities for social and vocational rehabilitation, a semiprotective environment within the community and encouragement to train for and actually obtain an outside job.

Some such houses like the Gould Farm in Great Barrington, Mass., are in rural areas where former patients occupy themselves with farm chores and odd jobs about the house.

Others, such as the home established by the Mental After-Care Association of England, are staffed by elderly women with chronic illness who help with household duties and by young male patients who tend the gardens and engage in community activities.

DAY-NIGHT HOSPITALS

Then there are the day and night hospitals. Illustrative of the latter is St. Paul Hospital in rural Minnesota. Here the patients sleep in and in the morning are called for by neighboring farmers who employ them at the regular going wage. At night, they are returned to the hospital.

Exemplifying the urban night hospital is that of Saint Elizabeth in Washington. Here patients get part-time jobs in the nation's capital until they appear ready to assume full-time responsibilities.

In day hospitals, situations are reversed. The patient sleeps at home with his family or alone in the community and reports in the morning for treatment, vocational guidance, recreation, occupational training or for odd jobs within the institution.

★ ★ ★

Finally, for present purposes, there are the foster homes where great difficulties arise in placing the suitable patient with suitable foster parents.

For the most part, foster homes are best adapted for rural areas where middle-aged and elderly couples have both the room and the economic need for participation in this work after their children have matured and left home.

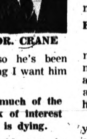
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Fatally Ill Don't Usually Complain

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-441: Joe M., aged 62, has been bedfast for several weeks.

"Dr. Crane, he has almost worn me out," his elderly wife protested.



DR. CRANE

"He moans and groans half the night and always wants me to be at his elbow to wait on him.

"The past week or two I've been so tired and I didn't get up as promptly as he thought I should, so he's been cursing me and saying I want him to die.

"He now argues much of the time about my lack of interest in him and says he is dying.

"Yesterday he told me he wouldn't last another week. Dr. Crane, I try to do the best I can for him but you know it is pretty hard waiting on a sick man."

DANGER SIGNS

Joe isn't dying. When patients grumble and complain, they seldom are fatally ill.

And if a husband can curse at his wife or quarrel with his nurse, he still has surplus vitality.

When people are seriously ill and at death's door, they are seldom in the mood to complain or argue, for every bit of energy is required to fight off the infection. So irritable patients are usually getting better.

If your sick baby lies quietly in bed and doesn't play with its toys or show interest in external reality, then that baby is probably in the valley of the shadow. That's when we doctor's don't waste any time shooting the works to help tip the scales in favor of life vs. death.

★ ★ ★

But when patients, either child or adult, complain and grumble, or sneak out of bed to watch television, they have a surplus of energy and are usually not critically ill, despite their fever.

It is the listless, prostrated patients who are sick. The argumentative kind are usually getting well or have chronic ailments that may be painful but not fatal.

BABY SITTERS

Since invalids require almost as much attention as babies, you members of the family in constant attendance deserve a rest. So hire a "baby sitter" to give you a half day holiday.

Then go to the movies and divert your mind from your long vigils at the bedside at home.

Even if you have a patient who really is dying of some incurable ailment, but who will probably last for weeks or months, you should not exhaust yourself by too constant vigils at the bedside.

Take at least one afternoon off per week so you can break the tension and obtain a little wholesome recreation.

★ ★ ★

Some crotchety middle aged husbands grow to be veritable tyrants when they become sick. They even accuse their wives of not loving them if the latter want to go out just for an afternoon.

But don't let such childish criticisms disturb you unduly. Go out anyway! For you need it and you will also be better appreciated by your mate when you come back.

Besides, if you don,t assert yourself, the usual chronic patient will soon make you a complete slave. So teach him to do without you for a few hours at a stretch and let him learn to wait upon himself.

If the house were to catch on fire, you'd be surprised at the thousands of supposedly helpless patients who could get up and climb out of the window to save themselves!

Dan Gerber Doubts Value of Shelter Food Package

FREMONT (AP) — Dan Gerber, head of a leading baby food processing company, sees little connection at present between fallout shelters and a need for special foodstuffs.

Asked if Gerber Products Co. of Fremont found any indication of increased sales of established food lines which might be used to stock shelters, he said:

"Not that we've been able to trace. I presume there has been maybe a little but we can't put our finger on it."

Gerber said his firm's advertising program put no special emphasis on shelter use of its products.

"Our nutritionists worked out a package for shelter use — and it weighed about 55 pounds when we got it finished," he said. "We then asked ourselves what age baby it was supposed to be for. We didn't get a very definite answer—it could be for triplets.

★ ★ ★

"That's the problem we have. If someone is preparing to feed a baby in a shelter, they're preparing with a definite age in mind . . . we don't think it is particularly practical to put in shelter stocks of products that will simply grow old without being used."

The Gerber chief said his firm at present has not developed, nor was it working on, any new types of foods for shelter use—such as all-in-one high protein rations.

On the over-all aspect of foods in fallout shelters, Gerber said: "Frankly, I'm thoroughly confused by the whole subject and I think most everyone else is."

In Battle Creek, spokesmen for the W. K. Kellogg Co., a major cereal producer, said the firm now is marketing a product called "Concentrate" which can be used as a good additive or as a cereal. Kellogg says the product would be ideal for use as a fallout shelter food.

'Looking for Place in the Sun'

Hart Says Africans Aren't Reds

BY DICK HANSON

"None of the new African nations is a Soviet stooge," U.S. Sen. Philip A Hart (D-Mich), recently returned from a tour of the Dark Continent, declared yesterday.

* * *

He was addressing the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, including Oakland County members, at the Bosford Inn in Redford Township.

Newly independent Africans "are intent upon getting their place in the sun and woe betide the official who doesn't get them there," the senator observed.

He sees the new African as having no concern for the broad international issues of the day outside his own struggle. These people do not care about the explosion of a 50 megaton bomb, said Hart.

NOTE RACIAL EVENTS

They are, however, quick to note racial events in the United States, he asserted. Hart made reference to a page one story in a Nigerian newspaper on the recent appointment of Otis Smith as Michigan Supreme Court justice.

"I am sure any major incident of racial strife in our country would be displayed just as prominently in the newspapers," Hart added.

While he sees the African concerned neither with the right nor the left road of world politics, the senator admitted that the ex-colonial is quick to accept any help he can get either from Communist or free nations.

A major factor against the United States in the African's mind, according to Sen. Hart, is that our allies are the colonial powers that he is shaking off.

*

He referred to the "exploding continent of Africa as "200 million people jumping from the middle of the 17th Century into 1961 with practically no knowledge of governmental institutions."

"Africa will be the dominent continent of some future generation," said Hart, "and it behooves us to try to help them now achieve an economic strength.

"We are ahead and can stay ahead in their favor, but not if we fail to act in support of their independence."

Hart was scheduled to address the attorney general's conference in Detroit on the topic of consumer frauds late yesterday. He is heading investigation of food labeling and packaging practices.

Commenting on the controversy which has risen over his bill in Washington to put 77,000 acres of Sleeping Bear sand dunes near Traverse City under the National Park Service, Hart declared his intention is to preserve this wonder of nature for the enjoyment of future generations.

"It is our duty to act now to save this area from change," he stated.

Pontiac School Affairs

Frame Budget Targets

Reports on a 1962-63 school budget target and on progress in finding a new home for Pontiac school administration were among matters presented to the Pontiac Board of Education at its meeting last night.

* * *

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer presented to board members an outline frame of reference within which school personnel will prepare budget estimates for 1962-63.

He also told the board that a budget target set at $9,521,433 would be needed just to maintain present services of the school system, without any additional services, expenditures, or salary and wage adjustments beyond a one per cent increase for a cost-of-living adjustment and normal increments.

The target represents a $356,630 increase over the current 1961-62 budget. No millage hike was included in the calculations which showed that income of the district is likely to balance the increased outgo.

In the calculations, state aid rates are expected to stay at present levels, but an eight million dollar decline in tax base is foreseen.

The loss in tax base would mean an estimated $156,000 drop in income for the district. The reduction is believed by school administrators to stem from lower industrial assessments, increasing commercial vacancies in downtown Pontiac and razing of properties in the Pontiac Urban Renewal area.

* * *

However, it is possible to make up for the expected loss in two ways:

1 — An increase in the number of school children, while not changing the state aid formula, will increase state aid dollars:

2 — A lower debt requirement in 1962-63 of $1,305,151 (as against the current year's requirement of $1,656,880) may be used to free existing millage monies for use as operating expenditures.

Budget estimates based on these expectations are due Dec. 15 from principals' offices. Initial discussion by the board of the completed budget is not expected until Feb. 22, 1962.

In his report on planning for new board and administration offices, Asst. Supt. Otto C. Hufziger told the board that he had met with the city planning director to review possible relocation of offices in the proposed Civic Center.

* * *

A definite offer for the present property at 40 Patterson St. is expected from the Urban Renewal Agency within the next few months, Hufziger said. The board and administrators will have to move out as urban renewal progresses.

No definite commitment to relocate in the Civic Center area was made. Hufziger said various other alternatives had been considered.

Architect Named for Addition to Northern High

A proposed 700-student addition to Northern High School moved into the architectural planning stage last night with Pontiac Board of Education approval.

* * *

The board ok'd the preliminary planning and named Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., of Detroit as the architects.

Start of architectural planning now will permit construction to start in spring of 1962 and allow occupancy in September of 1962.

No board action has yet been taken on proposed educational planning for a new junior high school on Baldwin Avenue near Newport street. The junior high school would be completed in fall of 1964 if planning starts soon.

* * *

By its completion date, a 200-student increase over the present junior high enrollment is expected to boost enrollment to 4,781 for the district.

* * *

The Northern addition is to meet expected enrollment increases in senior highs, forecast to rise 693 above the present enrollment to a total of 3,577 by September 1963.

Up to 30 Pct. Waste Abilities

School Study Marks Many U.S. Students as 'Underachievers'

WASHINGTON (AP)—From 20 to 30 per cent of the nation's able students in high school and college are wasting their abilities by not using them fully, the Office of Education reported today.

* * *

The office made public findings of a study recently made by a team of 15 experts which was requested to examine the "underachiever"—the student who habitually fails to perform near the highest level of his abilities.

*

The study says that abuse of their talents by underachievers is a deterrent to the pursuit of excellence which must be the national education goal. Their attitude tends to affect their whole working lifetime, it added.

Boys were found to outnumber girls 2-1 in failing to attain their proper academic levels, although at the college level the male student is frequently of superior ability and performance to the female.

The group suggested that adequate counseling services, beginning early, would help to take many of the 20 to 30 per cent out of the underachieving category.

Dies in Car-Train Crash

MILAN (AP) — Melvin C. Nichols, 37, of Milan, was killed Thursday when his car and a freight train collided at a crossing a mile east of here.

Swainson Says 'Economy' Forces Hospital Closing

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson said today that because of what he termed "false and cruel economy" the state has been forced to close the Farmington State Hospital and move more than 300 mentally-retarded children to a new unit designed to accommodate 220.

* * *

Pointing out that nearly 1,400 mentally-retarded children are waiting for admission to state hospitals, Swainson said the latest move was an example of "the tragic consequences of the cutbacks in child care ordered by the legislative majority in the face of growing need." He added:

"With a continually growing waiting list, the number of available beds has been decreased rather than increased."

Swainson said the Department of Mental Health was forced to make the move because the Republican-controlled legislature failed to appropriate enough money to even maintain current levels of care.

FORCED BY CUTBACK

Cutbacks were forced on the department, he said, "by an effective net reduction of $2 million in appropriations."

The governor explained that although the gross appropriation for mental health was higher than in the previous fiscal year, no provision was made for a mandatory three per cent pay increase. This resulted in a net reduction in the appropriation, he said, since the pay raise had to be absorbed.

Swainson declared:

"This is a shocking example of false and cruel economy.

The reduction in mental health funds amounts to only about two cents a month per Michigan resident.

* * *

"For lack of these pennies, hundreds of children are being assigned to waiting lists rather than to facilities that would provide them with needed care and treatment."

* * *

Swainson said he had no plans to call a special session to tackle the problem because "from all indications the legislature is not inclined to do anything about it even in a special session."

Kennedy Welcomes Senegal President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Leopold Sedar Senghor of Senegal, a philosopher-poet-statesman, came to Washington today for a one-day visit and was hailed by President Kennedy in an airport greeting as "the architect of Senegal's independence."

The 54-year-old head of state of Senegal, a West African republic on the Atlantic, was welcomed with a 21-gun salute and the traditional military pomp due to his rank.

Kennedy, in his welcoming remarks, recalled that his guest was not only a lawmaker but a poet.

"You are the architect of Senegal's independence and the poet of the aspirations of the peoples of Africa," he said.

She was alone when her car collided with another, driven by William Thompson, 64, of 1507 Otis St., who also was alone. He was uninjured.

Time to Plant Christmas Tree

The earliest Christmas shoppers should be those who want to establish their own living Christmas tree this season. The best time to shop for the tree — and plant it — is now.

Usually, the desire to embellish the outdoor scene with a living, lighted tree during the Christmas festivities flourishes and wanes in mid-December unless promptly acted upon.

Spruces, firs and many of the pines possess the spire-like form generally preferred. But such trees become too large for many home lots. For rather small properties such landscape assets as the upright taxus, some of the junipers, as well as certain kinds of sheared hemlock or American holly will work out well.

Snaring the right greenery is only part of the job. The rest is in the planting — which means digging a very special kind of hole. This hole should be deep enough to accommodate the burlap-wrapped earth ball and wide enough to give a one-foot leeway around the ball. This will allow for adequate root development.

Heavy clay or compacted subsoil will require even more precise ground work. Pits must be dug deeper and bottoms filled with layers of combined top-soil and peat moss. While filling the hole, let water trickle from the hose. Purpose is to wash in the soil and eliminate air pockets that may dry out the roots. Good drainage is the key to success and this may require the use of drain tile.

To give the outdoors a happy glow ahead, plant your living Christmas tree now.

Bomb's Cloud in Canada

Deputies Search for 2 Big Dogs

Seen in Galloway Lake Area; Find One 'Dead,' Other Is Wounded

Sheriff's deputies sought two large dogs which attacked two hunters yesterday along the north shore of Galloway Lake in Pontiac Township.

* * *

In answer to the unidentified hunters' complaint, Deputy Fred Robinson said he and Deputy James Varion were searching the underbrush when they discovered a "dead" dog.

Simultaneously, they said, a loud growl emitted from the underbrush and another large dog leaped at Robinson's throat.

Robinson said he whipped out his revolver and shot the dog in midair. The wounded dog dashed into the brush when it hit the ground and the officers fired several shots after it but failed to find it.

* * *

They believe the dog was badly wounded. When they returned to where the "dead" dog had been, they found it was missing.

They continued to search the brush to no avail, they said.

Both dogs were described by the deputies as large German Shepherds. The men felt that these dogs would kill any woman or child they might attack.

* * *

Mothers living on nearby Coe Court said they were forced to keep their children and pets in the house lest they be attacked by dogs roaming the woods along the lakeshore.

2 Ships Will Try to Hew Out Path to Antarctica

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Two American icebreakers prepared today to try for history's earliest penetration of the formidable 700-mile ice pack surrounding Antarctica.

* * *

The U.S. Navy's Glacier and the Coast Guard's Eastwind will try to batter a pathway through the billions of tons of ice almost a full month earlier than any nation has opened the sea approach in any previous Antarctic "summer" season.

* * *

If successful, the two ships will have shown the way to a permanent system of getting cargo ships through the ice early with vital equipment for the Antarctic expeditions—thus reducing the need for more expensive air freighting in the early stages of operations.

Rayburn Asks to Be Moved to His Home

BONHAM, Tex. (UPI) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn felt strong enough Thursday to ask that he be moved from Risser Hospital to his home but his doctor said the chance is slight.

Rayburn, 79, has cancer. Dr. Joe Risser, who operates the hospital where Rayburn is being treated, said the speaker "had a comfortable day."

"Fluid intake was good," he said. "Basic condition unchanged."

Rayburn's cancer was diagnosed in a Dallas Hospital. He was moved to his home town of Bonham Tuesday.

Risser said Rayburn may live for "weeks or months."

Humorist James Thurber Succumbs in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — James Thurber, writer-humorist and cartoonist, whose lop-eared dog drawings put people and events in perspective, died Thursday at the age of 66.

Thurber died of pneumonia at Doctors Hospital after undergoing surgery a month ago for a blood clot on the brain.

VARIED TALENTS

A master satirist, with what a colleague once described as "a firm grasp on confusion," Thurber delighted millions with his wit in his books, short stories, fables, articles, and cartoons.

He never lost his sense of humor, even when he went completely blind several years ago. An accident cost him the sight of one eye when he was six years old. He lost the sight of the other eye despite a long series of cataract operations.

CALLED 'GREATEST'

In his last month of life Thurber, who then had difficulty in speaking, occasionally hummed little tunes to amuse his nurses.

★ ★ ★

In competing on his death, the London Daily Telegraph (the British loved Thurber and Thurber often visited England) called him "the greatest satirist since Mark Twain." The paper called attention to his "gentle humanity and the outright irresistible funniness of his own work."

Thurber, who attended Ohio State University at Columbus, Ohio, where he was born, was a newspaperman in that city, Paris, and New York.

'Use Chemicals Against Cancer'

Doctor Claims Major Advances Have Been Made by Drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Sidney Farber, a leading cancer specialist, today urged more widespread use of drugs in the treatment of cancer patients.

★ ★ ★

While final control of cancer is still in the future, he said, achievements of great importance have been made in the treatment of the disease by chemicals.

ADDRESSES DOCTORS

Farber is professor of pathology of Harvard Medical School and director of research at the Children's Cancer Research Foundation, Boston. He spoke at a conference of 1,000 cancer specialists sponsored by the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center.

★ ★ ★

"Although more than 260,000 patients will die of cancer this year," he said, "it is doubtful whether more than 10,000 of these will be systematically treated and studied by doctors skilled in cancer chemotherapy.

"For the most part, chemotherapy is not administered to the patient with cancer until he is in a state of advanced cancer or actually moribund (dying)."

★ ★ ★

Most doctors rely on more conventional treatment, such as surgery or radiation, especially in the early stages.

Adenauer's Party Hears Coalition Deal

BONN, Germany (AP) — Free Democrat Chairman Erich Mende said today a compromise agreement on a new coalition government had been reached with Christian Democrats.

★ ★ ★

If the compromise holds up, the 85-year-old chancellor stands to win his long struggle to remain in office despite the setback his party received in the Sept. 17 general election.

Mende said the Free Democrats are ready to agree to selection of a chancellor in the Bundestag next Tuesday.

Berlin Negotiations, Possible, Red Says

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader, came back from Moscow today and said talks between Soviet Russia and the United States have shown there can be negotiations for a peaceful solution of problems in Berlin and the rest of Germany.

Ulbricht spent two weeks in Moscow at the 22nd Congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Synthetic rubber plants built in the United States in World War II were capable of producing upwards of one million tons per year.

2 Road Paving Jobs Damaged by Vandals

Two road paving jobs in Oakland County became victims of an apparent new form of vandalism when cars were run over still wet concrete.

★ ★ ★

A section of one project, on Josbyn road north of the city limits, will probably have to be repaved because a car did an estimated $10,000 damage when it traveled down 800 feet of wet concrete, according to Hiland M. Thatcher, chairman of the county road commission.

Thatcher said tracks on Middlebelt just north of 11-Mile Road weren't as deep and this project wouldn't have to be done over.

"This was just plain vandalism of a new kind," he said.

★ ★ ★

Thatcher said both projects were marked sufficiently that the cars couldn't have entered the freshly paved roads by mistake.

He said blocks were used to get the car, which appeared to be a compact car because of the width of the tracks, up on the Middlebelt job.

Thatcher said the contractor on the Joslyn job, Max Frisinger, would have to absorb the cost of repaving about 300 feet of the stretch damaged sufficiently that the tracks would make the road impassable.

Joslyn was being rebuilt so as to tie into the new Interstate 75 freeway.

HST Ends Visit of Reminiscence in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman ends his nostalgic visit to his old stamping grounds today. Then the former president and practising politician hits the campaign trail in New York and New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving, he plans to make an inspection of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and to have luncheon at the Supreme Court with Chief Justice Earl Warren as host.

★ ★ ★

Warren was about the only Republican Truman had any kind words for during his brief but active stay. Warren, said Truman, "is a good one."

Nehru Leaves for U.S.

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru left today for a nine-day official visit to the United States and said it "will help both of us to understand each other's point of view."

The famous Orient Express has discontinued service to Budapest and Bucharest for lack of business.

Beleaguered Molotov Drives to Embassy

VIENNA (AP)—V. M. Molotov emerged from seclusion today for the first time since the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow called for his expulsion from the party.

★ ★ ★

Stalin's longtime associate, who now is the Soviet representative with the International Atomic Energy Agency, left his apartment after six days there and drove to the Soviet Embassy.

He stayed at the embassy about 15 minutes and avoided newsmen. But his visit to the embassy aroused speculation he would return to Moscow soon.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia leveled a new barrage Thursday at Albania, whose leadership was denounced as Stalinist by the Moscow Party Congress. Obstructing aid to underdeveloped countries.

Horse-Buggy Industry Had Few Job Openings

Employment in the manufacture of wagons and harnesses and in blacksmithing and wheelwrighting around 1905, the peak for the industry, was about 225,000.

Says Townships Are Restricted

Con-Con Delegate Calls Units the 'Stepchild' of State Government

LANSING (AP) — Townships are a "stepchild" in Michigan's governmental structure, says a township attorney and delegate to the constitutional convention.

William D. Ford, D-Taylor, told the convention's committee on local government Thursday that townships, especially in urban areas, are hemmed in on every side by legislative restrictions.

They have no real tax base, he said, and must rely on the county board of supervisors for a share of the 15-mill tax allocation, the limit set by the constitution without special voter authorization. Usually the township share is limited to a single mill, he said.

Ford, former justice of the peace in the populous Wayne County township, told the committee that townships in metropolitan areas are confronted with burgeoning populations and inadequate means to provide necessary governmental services.

'MAKES DISHONEST PEOPLE'

"In many cases state law makes dishonest people out of honest officials," he said. "They must provide such essential services as trash and garbage disposal without enabling legislation."

Planning and zoning are the "life-blood" of any township, but the Township Rural Zoning Act is inadequate and overly restrictive, he said.

Townships are advised to incorporate as cities when they run into growth problems, but the path toward city status is strewn with technicalities and other obstacles, he said.

Township residents generally oppose incorporation for fear, often unfounded, that city taxes would be substantially higher, he said.

Ford accused some members of the legislature, as well as the Michigan Municipal League, of "doing all they can to make annexation easy and incorporation difficult."

Truman, Wallace Give Advice on Living Long Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — These free bits of advice came from two well-known septuagenarians, both former vice presidents, on how to live a long and healthy life.

"Be sure you pick the right grandparents and then be sure you pick a good cook for a wife," Harry S. Truman, 77, who moved up from the vice presidency to the No. 1 job, said Thursday.

Cultivate and experiment with a garden, former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, 73, advised an audience here Wednesday. If you do this, he said, "you will want to live and see how new plants develop the next year."

A third well-known septuagenarian wasn't so sure about the bit that you should marry a good cook.

"I'm not a good cook," said Mrs. Harry S. Truman, 76.

Two Men Sentenced for Blasting Towers

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Two men were sentenced to eight years in prison Thursday for blowing up two microwave towers and a relay station in the Nevada-Utah desert.

Bernard Brous, 51, and Dale Jensen, 23, pleaded guilty to conspiracy and obstructing vital communications. The government dropped sabotage indictments.

Brous said he was commander in chief of the "American Republican Army." Jensen was his only known follower.

When arrested, Brous said the explosions last May 28 were set off to arouse interest in his "army," show the government its defenses were weak and avenge wrongs he felt were perpetrated by telephone companies.

Kennedy Enjoys Brief Campaign Holiday

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — President Kennedy wowed New Jersey Democrats Thursday night with a Republican-needling stump speech aimed at helping underdog Richard J. Hughes in the state's race for governor.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy obviously enjoyed a two-hour respite from the burdens of the presidency as he put on the cap of party political leadership in an outdoor speech in the brisk November air to a rally of about 10,000 of the party faithful. This fell far short of the 50,000 throng that Hughes' supporters had hoped to assemble.

★ ★ ★

The President flew to Trenton from New York City, where he gave a boost to Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in the latter's race for reelection. Kennedy flew back to Washington after a brief reception with New Jersey Democratic leaders and a 10-minute speech for Hughes.

★ ★ ★

SUPPORTS WAGNER

"I want to take this opportunity to state with the utmost conviction my wholehearted support for the reelection of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. His experience in coping with the problems of this great city cannot be matched."

★ ★ ★

The endorsement was in a statement in the President's name, issued as his plane touched down at La Guardia Field.

The President's motorcade was deliberately routed through such important political areas as Harlem and the upper West Side of Manhattan as thousands watched from sidewalks.

★ ★ ★

Wagner — handicapped by a Democratic party split in his fight for a third four-year term — denied that Kennedy's visit to the city five days before election day was a political rescue mission.

After Kennedy and Wagner had exchanged warm greetings and conferred, Wagner said: "The President is confident that we will win."

★ ★ ★

Wagner's Republican opponent, State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, said Wagner "pushed the panic button" in getting Kennedy to go to New York to boost a sagging Democratic campaign.

Wagner's reply was: "I didn't ask him to come, but I'm always delighted when he does come here. We didn't need him to help a 'sagging campaign' as some claim. There's nothing sagging about it. It is a great help to have him here and I am delighted."

★ ★ ★

In Trenton, Kennedy was in old campaign form as he told the cheering crowd that Hughes, opposed by Republican James P. Mitchell, had had "a long and uphill campaign." Mitchell generally is credited with leading in a contest that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has said will have a direct bearing on Republican comeback efforts in Congress next year.

With a note of sarcasm in his voice, the bare-headed President, wearing a business suit and no topcoat, told the chilled crowd that Hughes had been downgraded too much.

Balmain Directress to Air 'Le Couturier'

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall subscribers will hear one of fashion's first ladies Wednesday at the Huron Theater. Ginette Spanier, directress of the world famous fashion House of Balmain will speak on "The Fascinating World of Le Couturier."

★ ★ ★

Author of "It Isn't All Mink," Mme. Spanier's wit and vivacity extend beyond the printed word. In 1960 when interviewed in Paris for television's "Person to Person" show she made an instant hit with American viewers.

★ ★ ★

Born in Paris but raised in England, she is at home in both languages. Her early experience included management of a bag-making factory, a position she rose to from that of buyer. She abandoned this phase of her career because it lacked the excitement of contact with people.

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

As directress to Marjorie Castle and then the House of Balmain, it is Mme. Spanier's business to meet and satisfy the most exacting customer. Her contacts and sources of anecdotes include a host of prominent persons and celebrities with whom she has worked.

★ ★ ★

Reservations for the Celebrity Luncheon at Devon Gables which follows the lecture may be made with Mrs. Clyde Dearing.

Professor Addresses DAR Unit

Daughters of the American Revolution met at the lounge room of Michigan State University Oakland Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

The speaker was Dr. William E. Rhode, assistant professor of political science and assistant director of continuing education at the university. He discussed "The Importance of Education for Public Responsibility."

Dr. Rhode outlined some of the emphases in our education as: mass education, opportunity for all; training in vocational and specialized professional work, rather than the traditional liberal arts alone; and the increasing recognition of adult educational needs, not only to keep up with scientific discoveries, but also for recreation.

NEW CONCENTRATION

The speaker concluded, "There must be new concentration on the principles on which our government is based to form a basis for intelligent decisions. Adults should dedicate themselves to leadership in this field of continuing development."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. T. W. Jackson, Grace Clark, Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Geraldine Haynes, Doris Haynes, Mrs. J. C. Haynes, Julia Feldkamp and Mrs. C. N. Ball.

★ ★ ★

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Basil Foisy, Miss Emma Howard, Elena Bajari, Mrs. Arthur Bossert, Mrs. Arthur Bossert Jr. of Clarkston, Mrs. Robert Schmede, Mrs. Robert Dougherty of Detroit and many husbands of the chapter's members.

★ ★ ★

New members present were Mrs. Earl V. Long, Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, Mrs. Russell Rogers and Mrs. Robert J. Ruggles of Oxford.

Best to Ask Woman to Be Hostess

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother died several years ago. My father and I live alone. We have a woman come in every day to tidy up the place and also get our dinner but she goes home early in the evening.

Under the circumstances, would it be proper to invite a girl friend of mine from out of town to spend the weekend here with us alone, or is it necessary that a woman be present?

A: It would not be proper to invite her to spend a weekend in a house occupied by two men alone. You should ask a woman relative or family friend to come in and act as hostess.

Q: I am a widow and plan to marry a widower next month. It will be a fairly small wedding in the late afternoon with members of both families and friends attending. I had planned to walk up the aisle and have my son give me away.

I have been told that it would not be proper for me to walk up the aisle as other brides; that my husband-to-be and I should be seated in the front pew and when the clergyman comes out and takes his place on the altar, to get up and walk to the altar.

Will you please tell me if this is the correct procedure for a second wedding?

A: You may not wear a bridal veil or have bridesmaids, but you may have a maid (or matron) of honor and walk up the aisle with your son who will give you away.

Abby Says: I'm Speechless

Boy Needs a Real Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my husband started running around with another woman. He always wanted children, and I didn't, so, in order to hold him, I consented to take a little 2-year-old boy to raise.

ABBY

Well, now I have my husband back, and I would like to get rid of this kid because his being here complicates things too much.

I just don't have time to bother with him, as I work days. Please tell me how or where I can get rid of the boy. Thank you.

COMPLICATIONS

DEAR COMPLICATIONS: Where did you get this boy? Did you legally adopt him, or did you simply agree to assume the responsibility of raising him?

In any case, get in touch with your local Legal Aid Society and find out what legal procedures are involved. It is a pity that small humans are handed over like kittens to "hold a husband."

Under the circumstances, I think the boy should have another home. He could hardly do worse.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We know for sure that those who pray together, stay together. I wish I could say the same for those who eat together. Why is it that those who do not have store teeth are very inconsiderate of those who do?

★ ★ ★

People who have their own teeth can chew and swallow in half the time it takes us folks with store teeth. I am tempted to say, "I can't eat as fast as you with these teeth, so please don't talk to me while I am eating."

Can you tell me a nicer way to put it so folks won't think I'm a roughneck?

STORE TEETH

DEAR STORE TEETH: Properly fit "store teeth" will do the same for the wearer as his own teeth. There is no reason to suffer with teeth such as you describe. Go back to the dentist who made them for you and put the "bite" on him for a better fit.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and am practically the "man" of the house. My Dad is an alcoholic, and is "sick" almost every night. I do most of the chores because my Mom works. I know there is no answer to my problem, but please print it for those who have it good and don't know it.

LITTLE MAN

DEAR LITTLE MAN: There IS an "answer." And it's listed in your telephone directory under "A." If you can get your Dad to want to help himself, Alcoholics Anonymous can do a lot for him.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nurses Week Observance Begins Sunday

Gov. John B. Swainson has proclaimed Sunday through Nov. 11 Michigan Nurses Week.

★ ★ ★

"Nurses in Action" is the theme of the third annual observance honoring registered, practical and psychiatric nurses.

For the first time three groups — the Michigan State Nurses Association, Michigan Practical Nurses Association and the newly organized Psychiatric Attendant Nurses Association of Michigan — have joined for the special week's activities.

Purpose of the combined week is threefold: to inform the public of nursing's role in the community, to avoid three separate weeks in honor of the profession and to strengthen understanding and to promote improved working relationships between the three nursing groups — both at the organizational and community level.

WCTU Supper Set

The Frances Willard Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, invites all units to the annual fellowship supper Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Church of the Brethren.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak will speak and their family will entertain with music.

Do-C-Doers Dance

Do-C-Do Square Dance Club members gathered at the McCarroll School Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

Robert Newill, George Newton, Martin Lock and Charles Futrell were callers.

Area Collegians Busy, Busy

Central Michigan University's 63-member concert choir will sing for a convention of 2,500 teachers in District 12 of the Michigan Music Educators this weekend in Bay City.

New choir members include Beverly Wells, sophomore from Pontiac.

Alpha Tau chapter of Delta Psi Kappa national professional physical education fraternity at CMU has accepted Sue Hamilton of Pontiac as a member. She is an officer on the physical education major and minor boards at the college.

Toby Johanna Gilbert of South Marshall Street, CMU senior and speech major will attend a convention of the American Speech and Hearing Association at Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Sunday through Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Sally Waddell, daughter of the J. Q. Waddells of Cherokee Road, has been elected secretary treasurer of Pomeroy Hall, her dormitory at Wellesley College, Cambridge, Mass. She is a junior majoring in psychology.

★ ★ ★

Richard R. Barrett of Dow Ridge Road, Orchard Lake, is in the freshman class at Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa.

★ ★ ★

Harold Jones of Thorpe Street is a percussionist with the East Carolina College Orchestra, Greenville, N.C.

★ ★ ★

Kay Greer, daughter of the Erwin Greers of Waterford, is stage manager for "Blithe Spirit," play-of-the-season to be presented Tuesday by the drama department of Monticello College, Alton, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Three collegians from the Pontiac area were recently pledged to Delta Sigma Phi fraternity on the Hillsdale College campus.

Sophomores at Hillsdale, they are Frederick Bachmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bachmann of Orchard Lake, William Bryce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bryce of Drayton Plains, and Gary Perkio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Perkio, Riviera Street.

Monteith PTA Planning Fair

A spaghetti dinner will highlight the annual Parent-Teachers Association's fair to be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the Monteith School in Waterford Township.

Other features of the fair will be 4 country store, lunch room, treasure chest, game room, bake sale, spook room, dolls, parcel post, silhouettes, cake walk, wagon rides, movies, fire engine rides and an auction.

Cochairmen are Mrs. Arch Bartlebaugh and Mrs. John Waldo. They will be assisted by home room mothers.

The public is invited. All proceeds will be used for school projects.

July vows are planned by Judith Carol Rickard, daughter of the Claude J. Rickards of South Cass Lake Road, to Peter F. Benedetti Jr., son of the senior Benedettis of Birmingham.

JUDITH C. RICKARD

The William E. Dafoes of Third Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Gayle Lynne to William G. Mihalek, son of the William Mihaleks of Vinewood Avenue.

The Question Box

Get Muscles Back in Shape

After you've given birth, exercise your abdominal muscles as soon as your doctor permits. In the above exercise she lifts her legs to a right angle to the floor, then slowly lowers them together.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I am 22 years old, 5 feet, 5½ inches tall. I weigh 134 pounds. I don't consider myself overweight, but since the birth of my baby I have had a prominent abdomen and my waist is larger.

My present measurements are, bust 34 inches, waist 29 and hips 36½. Is this problem usual after childbirth? I am sure that your answer will be helpful to many."

A. This is a very usual problem after having a baby, but it need not be permanent. Your abdominal muscles have taken a stretching, but abdominal exercises will get them back into shape. Your measurements are in good ratio except for your waist. Lax abdominal muscles increase the waistline measurement.

You did not tell me how old your baby is, but as soon as your physician says that it is safe for you to exercise, concentrate on abdominal exercises. If you or any of my readers would like to have my exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "Please answer as soon as possible in your column. Will using a depilatory on my face increase the growth of hair? I have used one several times to remove unsightly hair, and it seems to me that the hair has grown in thicker. I hesitate to use a depilatory again. Please let me know what to do."

A. So far as I know, there is no reason why the use of a depilatory would increase the growth of hair on your face. It is probably a question of age and glandular setup.

Q. "Can flat feet make my legs ache?"

A. Yes, definitely! Try taking exercises regularly which will strengthen your arches. If you really have flat feet, you may need more help. You may require arch supporters and shoes scientifically fitted to your feet.

If any of my readers would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

We Do Blame Others for Our Own Failures

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

All this past year our daughter has been seeing a married man that she promised us to break with, taking our food and shelter while she lived this lie. Now that he is divorced, the truth has come out. I have refused to attend the wedding.

Yesterday, after seeing this girl, her father came home to tell me that a child is on the way. Is this shameful fact a reason for me to attend their wedding? I have disowned this girl . . .

ANSWER: No. I don't see why you should go to a wedding that you don't want to attend.

But I do want to ask you what you are disowning when you declare that you have "disowned" your daughter. Isn't it your humiliating sense of failure as a parent?

Is it your daughter you are disowning or is it a disappointing part of your own self?

Dr. Louis De Rosis is a psychoanalyst for whose work I have cause to feel special appreciation and respect. He recently wrote these words:

"The idealized self uses self-hatred as a stratagem to keep itself from being subjected to . . . evidences of its inadequacy."

Understood, this sentence can resolve the outrage and humiliation from which I know you are suffering.

★ ★ ★

The "idealized" self is that proud and arrogant part of us which imposes the most exacting standards on us. If we are a parent, it will insist that we believe that we can deliver perfect discipline, absolute love or flawless understanding to a child.

So, when the child fails to justify our perfect training by disappointing us in some way, this proud self turns upon us, whipping us with shame and terror of our inadequacy. So, in warning you of its tricks, I am not promoting a reconciliation with your daughter but a reconciliation with yourself.

An "idealized" self is often glimpsed for the first time in acute suffering like this. For years we will live unknowingly under its accusiveness, never daring to be happy with what we have done but always apologizing to it, jumping nervously whenever we suspect we have done or said the wrong thing.

★ ★ ★

Then along comes the open and unavoidable evidence of our shortcomings. And the "idealized" self, terrified of losing its power to torment us, commands:

"Disown this failure! Make it the other fellow's! You must be above failure!"

★ ★

But what it demands that we disown is our own humanness.

Pamphlet May Ease Religion-School Issue

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—In his professional capacity Allyn P. Robinson has experienced less peace on earth and good will toward men at Christmas time than at any other season. The situation, he said, likely will get worse before it improves.

To hasten its improvement Robinson recently directed a study for the National Conference of Christians and Jews which resulted this week in a 10-page, envelope-size pamphlet titled "If Christmas Brings Conflict."

The pamphlet should prove valuable to communities and neighborhoods threatened with a problem which Robinson said is growing more widespread each year: disputes over Christmas celebrations in public schools.

"Nearly every one of these conflicts could be avoided, along with the bitterness they bring," Robinson said.

"Usually all it requires is communication, and some degree of compromise. But the communication has to be in advance—before the problem becomes an immediate issue and emotions are high. And any compromise is not with principles, but with reality."

The NCCJ pamphlet lists 11 steps school superintendents or others who foresee such a conflict should take, plus ground rules both sides should agree on before trying to resolve it.

One notable conflict arose in recent years in Ossining, N.Y., over placement of a Nativity creche on the public school grounds. There was a heated fight, neither side budged, the case went to court and now is on appeal to the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

"I showed a draft of the pamphlet to one of the men involved," said Robinson. "He told me if it had been available when the dispute came up that he, for one, would have approached it differently. Court fights may resolve the legal issues in a case of this type, but they rarely close the personal wounds which can keep a community divided for years."

ASSUME GOOD WILL

The pamphlet admonishes participants to assume the good will of the other side, to take the time to define the problem accurately, to clear the air of rumors, discuss the problem fully rather than beginning with solutions, and to make sure clergy and laymen of all faiths participate as well as school officials. It also gives practical methods of accomplishing each step.

★ ★ ★

"Things look a good deal different when men are face to face," said Robinson, "than when each is shouting at some adversary he doesn't even know."

DISPUTE SETTLED

To illustrate, Robinson recalled a recent dispute in a Long Island suburb over a long standing practice of reciting the Lord's Prayer at the public school. Some Jewish parents and rabbis, new to the community, found it disagreeable. Robinson, who is NCCJ director for the New York area, was asked to help.

★ ★ ★

He called together the parents, rabbis, ministers, priests and school officials involved. All agreed public school training in certain moral principles was desirable—and that respect for minority religious viewpoints was one of those principles.

Result: A period of silent prayer plus oral recitation of a non-denominational prayer replaced the former practice. Everybody was happy.

★ ★ ★

"The solution for one community might be entirely the wrong solution for the community next door," Robinson said. "But it's extremely rare that a problem is insoluble." Robinson noted disputes aren't always between Christians and Jews, but within both groups as well, and also frequently involve persons of no formal religious persuasion—atheists, agnostics, etc.

Up Food Irradiation

NEW YORK (UPI)—Companies are stepping up activity in the field of irradiating food to prevent spoilage, sometimes for years. Curtiss-Wright Corp. is building a large food irradiation research facility for the Army. However, the government has not yet declared the process safe for commercial use.

Many of the fresh water shrimp are too small to be of commercial value, but one southern Florida species grows to two feet in length.

'Life With Father' Bill Opens Season for PNH

BY PAM MORRIS

Pontiac Northern High School Players opened their 1961-62 dramatic season last night with the Broadway success, "Life With Father" by Lindsey and Crouse. Tomorrow night will be the final performance.

The play is a riotous comedy about a domineering but lovable father, portrayed by Jack Brownell. Explosive situations arise when the family discovers that father has not been baptized.

Sharon Stickle will play Vinnie, the scatterbrained wife who has no respect for the value of money.

Jack Brownell will be remembered for his comic portrayal of Alfred Doolittle in the Players' production of Shaw's "Pygmalion."

Sharon Stickle is a newcomer on the Northern stage. She has been especially active in musical activities at Northern, participating in the choir's production of the "Pirates of Penzance." Both Sharon and Jack are seniors.

George Kovach, junior, who portrays the eldest son of the Day family, appeared as Judge Brack in the Northern's arena performance of Ibsen's "Heddie Gabler."

★ ★ ★

Bonnie Lambert, junior, makes her second appearance on the Northern stage as the cook for the Day family.

MAKE DEBUT

Vaughn Wagner, Rick MacAuley, sophomores; and Ben Schweitzer, junior will make their debut performances as younger family members.

Two visitors to the Day family are portrayed by Pat Waugh and Mary Jane Hoisington, both sophomores.

James Haun, Lynn Johnson, and David Minthorn have bit parts in the play. Jim plays Lloyd, a minister, while Dave and Lynn portray doctors.

★ ★ ★

Second in success to "My Fair Lady," "Life With Father" was the greatest Broadway hit of the 1939 season, running for 3,224 consecutive performances. Adapted from Clarence Day's novel, Lindsey and Crouse converted the comedy into a hilarious play of the same title.

DIRECT PLAYERS

Anthony Chairilli, Northern's Drama coach, is in charge of the entire production, with Sue Scott, president of the Northern Players, as student director.

David Minthorn, responsible for both lighting and scenery techniques, is assisted by Herman Van Houten.

The curtain will go up on the final performance of "Life With Father" at 8 o'clock. Tickets, 75 cents per person, are available from any member of the cast.

PN cheerleaders are sponsoring a car caravan to Rochester tonight. Cars will gather in the faculty parking lot at 6:30. Cheerleaders will sell streamers and pennants at this time. Mrs. Mary Lou Jennings is faculty sponsor for this year's cheerleading activities.

The English classes of William Ayers are in the process of completing projects for their study of "Kon Tiki" by Thor Heyerdahl. The class is constructing miniature rafts and scenes of papier mache to highlight their study.

The projects are sure to catch the eye of parents visiting Northern's fourth annual Open House Monday.

Homecoming Queen, Court Honored

Reign at West Bloomfield

By BONNIE DISTEL

Cheryl Ann Frayling, West Bloomfield's 1961 Homecoming Queen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frayling of 2657 Bay Dr.

She is now completing her senior year.

Cheryl has been in the past a member of the Ski Club, a junior varsity cheerleader in her sophomore year and is now a varsity cheerleader.

She has also served as a reporter on the newspaper staff, participated in the Forensics competition last year, was on the bowling league, is on the Student Council this year, is an American Field Service member, and was secretary of the Pep Club in her sophomore year.

★ ★ ★

She was in the Junior Play and has been selected to play the lead role in this year's Senior Play, "Good Morning Glory."

27 COMPETED

Selected from 27 junior and senior girls, Cheryl and the other candidates were nominated by the student body during homeroom, who in turn voted for five of the 27 nonfinated.

After five girls were chosen, Tony Quinlin, Student Council president, introduced them to the student body at a special assembly held for that purpose. Last Friday students voted once again to choose their queen who was to be announced later.

Comprising the court were Yakko Yamamoto, Mary Ann Stanker Peg Nothelfer, Candy Hughes, and Gayle Prout.

Senior Gayle Prout lives at 6070 Upper Straits Boulevard.

★ ★ ★

Yakko, also a senior, and West Bloomfield's foreign exchange student from Japan, was the honorary court member. She is staying with Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Auchard of Orchard Lake.

GETS ACCEPTANCE

Mary Ann, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stanker, 6949 Alden Dr., is senior class vice-president. Candy, who resides at 4905 Pelletier Blvd. has applied and already been accepted at Michigan State University for next year.

The only junior in the court this year, Peg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Nothelfer of 1999 Elsie Dr.

Coronation took place during the half time of the West Bloomfield vs. Bloomfield Hills game.

Cheryl reigned, with her court, over the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Student Council Saturday night.

The dance was held in the school gym from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Cheryl and her escort, Warren Hall, led the procession into the gymnasium after which the festivities began.

Applicants Are Eager to Join Choral Group, Exchange Student Plan

By JEANNIE SPENGEMAN

Strongly connected with the Michigan Council of Churches' Youth for Understanding program and with the Michigan Chorale, Walled Lake Senior High School boasts of the number of students from the school participating in both of these programs.

An approximate 24 students seek application as exchange students this year.

Under the direction of Lester McCoy, this year's Michigan Chorale will consist of 68 members. Fifteen Walled Lakers have auditioned and are awaiting the results which are due sometime this week.

REPRESENT U.S.

During the past summer a group of pupils from Walled Lake High represented the United States in foreign countries. Some of them were exchange students, living with with European families, and some were members of the chorale.

With the aid given by Oliver Rose, Walled Lake's assistant principal, the high school hopes to keep up its fine rate of exchange.

To Combine Talents With Northern

Slate Vocal Concert at Central

By WADE WILKISON

Fall Concert rehearsals are becoming more and more frequent as the Tuesday performance approaches.

On this day Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High Schools will combine their musical talents in the annual Fall Concert beginning at 8:15 p. m. in the Pontiac Central boys' gym.

Gerhard Schroth, a well-known choral and orchestral conductor from the Chicago area has been invited for the evening and will direct several concert selections.

The Scarlettones, a capella choir, and the Crystalaires are the individual groups from Pontiac Northern who will perform.

Pontiac Central will be represented by the a capella choir, the senior boys' ensemble, the senior girls' ensemble, the Choralaires, and the Caribbeans. A combined boys and girls glee club will represent both schools and all of the groups will sing in several mass numbers.

These fall concerts are given to bring outstanding choral conductors to Pontiac, and to give these singing groups a chance to meet and work with them. Teachers, as well as the students, benefit from the conductors' visits and their ideas.

The combined a capella choirs of Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern, directed by Gerhard Schroth will sing "Save Us O Lord." The choirs also will perform Mr. Schroth's arrangement of "Shenandoah," and his composition "The Wonderful Snow."

Among the other numbers in this year's program Mr. Schroth will lead the mass choir of all the groups in "Every Time I Feel the Spirit," and for full effect, "All of My Heart's Desiring." The program will continue with "The Pines of Home," "Thou Are of Radiant Beauty," and "Sing Heigh Ho."

Pontiac Central music teacher A. Michael Dempsey will direct the groups in his own arrangement of "Yellow Bird."

Dolphins, the girls' synchronized swimming club has organized its schedule and elected officers. This year's officers are: Micki King, president; Virginia Norvell, vice president; Sue Lee, secretary; Sherri Dudley, treasurer; and Kathy LaCore, historian.

Kettering Students Boast of Completed High School

By SHERYL LEHIGH

Waterford Kettering High School students are breathing an air of completion as they hustle through the halls this week!

Students were greeted with a happy sight Monday. All areas of the school building were found now open for use, and the anxiously awaited lockers with built-in locks, were assigned to the student body during homeroom.

Although school sessions began the 18th of September, the building was not completely finished. The north wing, which consists of such classes as homemaking, industrial arts, and journalism, was not open to students.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the class schedules were re-arranged, making it necessary for some classes to meet in the halls, cafeterias, and the school court.

Now, since students are in their original classrooms and the necessary supplies are available for use, Waterford Kettering is completely settled.

A list of rules governing student activities was distributed to every student this week during homeroom.

★ ★ ★

Seniors who took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last March are now receiving the results, as their counselors interpret them.

Candy Windeler achieved the highest score on the NMSO test at Waterford Kettering. She will receive a letter of commendation in recognition of her superior scores.

Her name will then be submitted to the college of her choice and to organizations recommending her for scholarships.

Fifty-four members of the junior class, along with their English teacher, Sister Mary Aloyse, and Mother Mary Maura, traveled to Marion High School recently where they were invited by Mother Mary Aquin, I.H.M., the school's principal, to hear the reading of "Helen Keller" by Muriel Wolson.

A huge crowd danced to the records which were spun by a number of student disc jockeys from their class.

Main attraction was a lifelike witch who kept her vigil over a smouldering pot of witchcraft. Pat Cline and the decorating committee are to be complimented for the unique decorations.

Yearbook Claims 'The Shield' Title at Lady of Lakes

BY LAURA FREVILLE

The first year book at Our Lady of the Lakes is ushered in this year as a "first" among "firsts." Over the past two weeks, the students were encouraged to suggest names both unique and unusual.

From the many titles submitted, "The Shield" was chosen the winner. The entire Senior class is working together under Editor-in-Chief Margo Borys, to make this year book one of which future students can be proud.

Job of organization has formed a busy atmosphere in the halls with students snapping pictures of almost everything. The theme for this first year book will be a History of the parish and dedication to its pastor, Father Delaney.

With dates and deadlines to meet for the year book, other activities are held to a minimum in order to permit the students to develop an atmosphere for study.

Germany's contribution is blonde blue-eyed Barbara Pohlner. She hails from the small town of Peine which is just outside of Hanover.

High School Page Envelops 'World,' Spans Activities

By PAT EVANS
School Page Editor

For the space of this page, let us forget the disturbing news of the universe (no longer can we confine ourselves to the mere "world" and consider the fascinating trivia of the high school whirl.)

Looking back over the past six weeks we've had our able school correspondents' first-hand coverage of class elections, debates, dances, assemblies, organization meetings, plays, concerts, the exchange of foreign student opinions on the American way of life.

Jetting ahead for the coming months, we will keep you posted on the class activities as well as the calendared social events at your respective schools. Biggest item on our agenda: If your school isn't represented here, we welcome new correspondents. Now we must return to the universe.

Three Bad Actors in Fallout: Strontium, Iodine, Cesium

(Editor's Note: Three radioactive substances in particular need careful watching as fallout from nuclear testing increases. But at this point, their distribution appears well below the immediate danger level to human health. Last of three articles.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK — The main bad actor atoms in bomb test fallout are strontium, iodine and cesium.

The Soviet Union's gigantic 50-megaton bomb shot another dose of them into the air, for winds to blow about and for rains and snow to bring drifting down on people around the world.

Is this a cause of serious concern for Americans?

No, at least not yet, says the U. S. Public Health Service which is keeping a supercautious eye on fallout. Experts meeting last week said they did not foresee any need for protective action even if the Soviets went ahead with their huge explosion.

★ ★ ★

The watch is maintained because fallout atoms are potentially a hazard, especially if quirks of wind and weather make some localities "hotter" than others.

The test fallout coming from great distance is of possible concern only if it gets inside the body.

The trouble with strontium 90 is that it concentrates in bones, while iodine concentrates in the thyroid gland. Too much of these atoms might cause cancers of the bone or thyroid, or leukemia.

Cesium 137 becomes generally distributed through the body, including sex glands, where it might cause genetic changes.

How much is too much for humans? No one can answer this, because no one is sure how little radiation it takes to cause harmful effects on the human body.

★ ★ ★

So, to play it safe, international and U. S. experts have set extremely low maximum doses for daily intake by humans.

★ ★ ★

They think these tiny amounts would be tolerable without harm. They can't prove it. They do know that fallout from tests so far has not gone above these limits.

These limits, as in the case of strontium 90 for example, are at least 100 times less than the amount of strontium required to produce bone cancers in laboratory animals.

★ ★ ★

Just how much of the bad actor atoms were created by the Soviet conster bombs, and all its current tests, has not been made public. Reason: The Soviets, as well as U. S. bomb testers in the past, have not divulged the make-up of the bombs.

★ ★

The H-bomb or fusion reaction itself does not create any strontium, cesium, or iodine. These come from the A-bomb or fission reaction in the bomb. And the A-bomb reaction is needed to produce the heat and pressure to make the hydrogen atoms fuse.

FROM FISSION

A general assumption is that half the energy in an H-bomb comes from fission. This estimate could be far off, if the big Soviet H-bomb was "clean"—that is, deriving much less than half its total energy from fission.

One estimate is that each megaton of fission energy produces 110 pounds of byproduct fission atoms. So a 50-megaton bomb, getting 25 megatons of energy yield from fission, would produce 2,750 pounds of some 200 kinds of radioactive atoms at the outset.

★ ★ ★

Most of these "die" very quickly, and so don't travel far.

★ ★ ★

But strontium 90 and cesium 137 remain radioactive for many years. It takes about 27 years for half the original amount to disappear. If taken in food, these atoms can remain active in the body, emitting potentially damaging rays, for a long time.

SLOWLY DISAPPEARS

Iodine 131 has a halflife of eight days. Half of it becomes harmless in eight days. In another eight days, only one quarter of the original amount remains.

★ ★ ★

If milk became contaminated with iodine, keeping it refrigerated for a month would make it safe to drink, Dr. James Terrill of the Public Health Service points out.

★ ★ ★

From all bomb tests through 1938, the actual amount of strontium 90 in children's bones, on the average, was about 26 times less than the amount deemed to be harmless if it is in bones. All the Soviet tests might double this —and it would still be about 13 times less than the estimated "safe" amount.

★ ★ ★

As a guide for protection, the Federal Radiation Council has set limits on the daily intake over an entire year, as measured in micromicrocuries of activity.

★ ★ ★

For strontium 90, this ranges from 200 to 2,000, and for iodine from 100 to 1,000. A micromicrocurie is one millionth of one millionth of a curie, with a curie being equivalent to the radioactivity in one gram (one-twenty-eighth of an ounce) of radium.

KEEPS DAILY WATCH

The Public Health service is keeping a daily watch on radioactivity in the air, water and milk and some foods, to detect any dangerous increases.

If limits are approached or exceeded, then some actions can be taken to protect people.

For milk, switching to canned or powdered milk—which had been on the shelf long enough—or letting fresh milk sit a while, could remove the danger from iodine.

WASH VEGETABLES

Washing fresh fruits and vegetables carefully could remove fallout atoms.

If certain crops were found to be relatively high in strontium, they could be avoided as human food. Cows could be fed forage which had been stored inside barns or silos, and hence not touched by fallout.

★ ★

Research promises ultimately some ways of dealing with strontium hazards in food.

What worries many health officials is that many people—out of panic—might give up drinking any milk, or avoid essential foods because they feared it was contaminated with too much radioactivity. That kind of wholesale avoidance of essential foods could do far more harm than infinitesimal amounts of radioactivity which were below the "maximuma" now being observed.

Said the Public Health Service last week: "The radiation caused by the Soviet tests will add to the risks of genetic effects in succeeding generations, and possibly to the risk of health damage to some people in the United States."

"At present radiation levels, and even at somewhat higher levels, the additional risk is slight, and very few people will be affected."

Virginia Students Protest Holiday Cut

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—University of Virginia students, protesting a cut in their Thanksgiving holiday period, staged a small-scale riot early today before police halted them with tear gas and arrests.

★ ★ ★

There were no injuries, but nine students were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

★ ★ ★

Police estimated about 500 students — approximately one-tenth of the university's enrollment — took part in the rioting that began shortly after midnight and continued until about 3:30 a.m.

Wagner Vows to Import Milk

N.Y. Mayor Says City Must End Drought Due to Strike in 11th Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says the city is going to import milk to end the drought because of a strike now in its 11th day.

Wagner, on a television broadcast Thursday night, promised police protection, if necessary.

"Milk will be brought in and the people will get it," Wagner said.

The mayor said he was interrupting his re-election campaign to give full time toward settling the walkout of 10,000 delivery drivers and plant workers, begun Oct. 24.

Both sides said today they were "no nearer" a settlement.

Irving R. Wisch, representing the milk distributors, had this comment on Wagner's milk import promise: "He's just inviting milk to come in. If he can get milk to those who need it, the mayor will perform a real public service."

Samuel J. Cohen, lawyer for the striking Teamsters Union locals, said: "All it seems to involve is an effort to supply milk to children and other persons who need it."

Swainson Asks for School Aid

Addresses Second of Three Conferences on Mental Health

KALAMAZOO (AP)—An appeal for more school aid was sounded again Thursday night by Gov. Swainson.

★ ★ ★

Swainson, speaking in the second of three governor's conferences on mental health and education, made virtually the same speech here that he had the previous night in Detroit. He was scheduled to speak again today at Saginaw.

The governor said "The increasing demands made upon our institutions of higher education deserve immediate attention.

"We no longer can ignore the fact that in the last four years our colleges and universities requested some $331 million for needed capital outlay—to build classrooms, to buy equipment, to build laboratories—only to have these requests whittled down to some $36 million because of inadequate state revenues."

★ ★ ★

Swainson said a minimum increase of 8 per cent in state school aid was "critically needed if our schools are simply to keep pace with price increases and with the rise in costs of operation."

Williams Advises Katanga to Cease Secessionist Idea

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, called on Katange President Moise Tshombe Thursday night to rejoin the Congo.

The former Michigan governor said the United Nations action on the Katanga border was aimed at restoring peace and ending the secessionist aspirations of the Tshombe government.

"The problem is the presentation of the Congo's integrity as an independent nation," Williams said in a speech at the opening of Africa House at Northwestern University.

Williams blamed the Katanga regime for the new outbreak of hostilities on the Katanga-Kasai border. The Katanga government, he said, "initiated these hostilities in violation of U.N. resolutions . . . We strongly oppose such actions."

Is Your Family Worth $30?

PROF. LIBBY

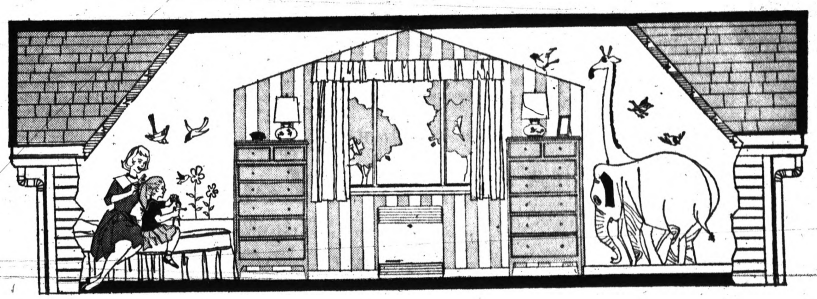
Why there's no heat like flameless

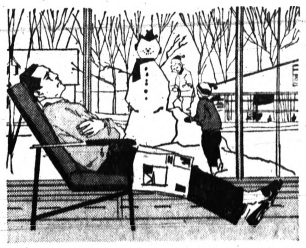
ELECTRIC HEAT FOR HOME REMODELING



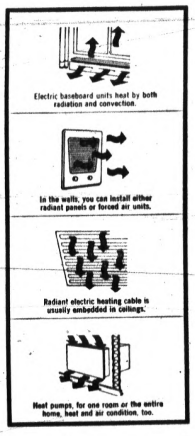
ELECTRIC HEAT SIMPLIFIES THE CONVERSION OF ATTIC INTO ADDED ROOM

When finishing off an attic would strain a home's heating system, built-in electric heat is the solution. Electric forced air wall units, for instance, can be installed without large-scale cutting into floors or substructure. Electric heat is fully automatic, operates independently of the main heating system. Efficiency, flexibility and ease of installation make electric heat your best buy for home modernization.

WHEN THE BASEMENT BECOMES A SNUG FAMILY ROOM A good example of efficient supplementary heating is this use of radiant electric wall panels. They can be mounted wherever extra heat is needed in a family room. Then just dial the warmth you want and clean, silent electric heat starts working for you right away.



ELECTRIC HEAT HELPS TURN SUMMER PORCH INTO YEAR-ROUND ROOM It's simple to install electric heating units on exterior porch walls where heat is needed most. Electric baseboard, for example. It will provide a curtain of evenly warm air over the glass surfaces and make an enclosed porch really cozy.



This sign, displayed by qualified electric heating contractors, assures you of dependable installation.

State Officials Try to Clear Up Troy CD Tangle

Define Policy in Emergencies

Session Follows Rift Over Authority of Director, Commission

TROY — Local officials' interest in the knotty problems of civil defense here was rewarded last night with some clear and definitive statements on matters of authority and procedure.

★ ★ ★

At the City Commission's invitation, four executives of Michigan's civil defense organization appeared at the City Hall for some two hours of questions and answers.

The CD officers were Robert F. D'Amelio, acting director of the State Office of Civil Defense, William Powell, chief of plans and operations, Henry Fink, plans officer and Herbert Lees, area coordinator.

Huber began the discussion on Troy's specific problems by repeating his belief that civil defense must act as a subordinate to existing city government.

D'Amelio explained that the present philosophy of civil defense is based on that principal and that at every level of government, the head of state is responsible for all CD operations.

A civil defense organization is not an independent government to take over in case of an emergency, he said. Rather, the elected government must be geared for disaster operations, having an office of civil defense to augment trained personnel such as the police and fire departments.

A point of controversy which the state officials clarified involves the legal precedence of Troy's CD ordinance over the city survival plan, recently completed by CD Director, Clarence F. Long.

Powell pointed out that in all cases of conflict, the ordinance supercedes any survival plan.

A STEPCHILD

"Civil defense has been treated as a stepchild too long," D'Amelio said. "Today it is too important a job to be handled by a spare-time volunteer director." He must be working on a full-time basis, just as your police and fire protection chiefs are," he added.

D'Amelio encouraged the continuation of Troy's newly formed five-man CD study committee. Similar organs advise the governor and the president, he said.

These advisory groups meet with the heads of state to determine policy and procedure.

★ ★ ★

Huber asked the group about the penalty for a local civil defense organization acting without its governmental authority. They agreed that such an organization would forfeit its status as a state-approved office and, consequently, would lose the right to apply for federal matching fund programs.

LOCAL APPLICATION

Huber's insistence on this point stemmed from the contention of Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson at Monday's commission meeting, that Long has acted without that body's approval or knowledge in some CD policy matters.

D'Amelio said that Long's survival plan has been substantially approved by the state but that a plan by itself would be almost worthless.

Fink pointed out that a plan alone does not qualify an organization for federal matching funds but that some effort to implement the plan must be made.

Huber said that the model CD ordinance recommended by the Michigan Municipal League would put the director of the office of civil defense, under the city manager. The purpose of this move, as Huber explained, would be to eliminate any problems caused by unethical use of political power.

D'Amelio said that a man as busy as the city manager would probably be unable to do the job alone. It was suggested that the office of Civil Defense might be made the city manager's responsibility with the organization itself under a director.

DEDICATION MONDAY — The 20-classroom Beechview Elementary School in Farmington will be dedicated at 8 p.m. ceremonies Monday. The $490,000 school, near Orchard Lake and 11-Mile roads in the Kimberly subdivision, was built with funds from a 1959 bond issue. It opened in September. Another elementary school is under construction in the Eight Mile-Farmington roads area.

OPEN HOUSE SLATED SUNDAY — The new North Farmington High School, 13-Mile Road near Farmington Road, will be open for public inspection Sunday following 2:30 p.m. dedication ceremonies. The $1.46-million school, which can accomodate 750 students, is used for grades 7 through 10. At a later date 11th and 12th grades will be added and the two lower grades dropped.

Farmington Planning to Dedicate Schools

FARMINGTON — The dedication of Farmington's two newest public schools will be held Sunday and Monday, highlighting American Education Week activities here.

Formal ceremonies at the $1.46-million North Farmington Junior-Senior High School will be Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Monday at the Beechview Elementary School, built at a cost of nearly $500,000.

Both schools have been in use since the semester started in September.

TO OPEN PROGRAM

Superintendent Gerald V. Harrison will open the programs at the two facilities and the school board president, Leland Clifford, will make the formal addresses.

★ ★ ★

At North Farmington, the dedication reading will be given by Mrs. Patricia Dates, board of education secretary, and Principal Harold Humble also will speak. Rev. Frank Cozadd of the Orchard Methodist Church will give the prayer of dedication.

★ ★ ★

Rev. James B. Guinan of the Trinity Episcopal Church will give the dedication prayer at the Beechview School ceremony and the dedication reading will be given by Mrs. Barbara Brown, school board member.

The principal of the elementary school, Kenneth Lachmann, will give a response in an address which will be followed by introduction of the teaching staff.

Open house will be held at both schools following their dedication. Refreshments will be served.

REST OF FUNDS

North Farmington High, on 13-Mile Road near Farmington Road, and the Beechview Elementary, located in the Kimberly subdivision, Orchard Lake and 11 Mile roads, were built with funds from a $3-million bond issue approved by voters in November, 1959.

Another secondary school, Flanders Elementary on Flanders Road near Eight Mile Road, is under construction with the remaining funds from the bond issue.

Projected enrollment already has made it necessary for the school board to seek additional classrooms and a $2.1-million bond issue will appear on a special Nov. 20 ballot.

The North Farmington school, which has 17 classrooms, 10 teaching stations and a gym, is on a 42-acre site and the Beechview School, on an 8-acre site, has 20 classrooms.

★ ★ ★

The high school, which has been designed to allow future expansion to double its present capacity of 750, is currently used for grades 7 through 10. In each subsequent year a lower grade will be dropped and a high school class added.

Troy 4-H Members Start Horse Project

TROY — The Troy Junior Livestock 4-H Club will meet Monday to organize a new, year-round horse project.

The group will meet at 7 p.m. at the home of H. G. Miller, chairman of the project, 5815 Livernois Road.

Boys and girls from 10 to 21 who own, or are interested in owning a horse, are invited to attend the meeting.

The project will sponsor a study of horse care, handling and health problems during the winter and workouts and trail riding in the summer.

Rezoning Denial in Higher Court

Southfield Man Would Use Rear of Property for Storage

SOUTHFIELD—A Supreme Court appeal was filed yesterday by the city on a recent Circuit Court ruling that permitted the rezoning of a large tract of land from residential to industrial classification here.

★ ★ ★

Specifically the council is appealing the case of Gerald Main of 24479 Samoset Trail, who took his case to court when the council refused to reclassify the zoning at the rear of his property on the west side of Telegraph Road between 8 and 9 Mile roads.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer ruled that Main had a right to do what he wanted with his property.

The decision, however, affected seven other adjoining lots between the mile roads.

The council refused to rezone because the property is in a ravine, fearing that Main's proposal to store building materials there would destroy the natural beauty of the area.

Subsequently the court action affected the other properties, owned by companies that could also use the back lots for industrial or any other intended purposes.

Council President C. Hugh Dohany set up a committee to study the matter and see if a compromise could be reached on the land use with all owners of the seven lots.

★ ★ ★

However, the council decided that no compromise was forthcoming and agreed to appeal the Circuit Court decision.

Brandon Gets Building Bargain

Offered Low School Bids

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Brandon School District has received an apparent bargain in construction costs to add 14 new classrooms in the district, Supt. Burl A. Glendening announced today.

With bids for construction being lower than anticipated, the district could save about $30,000 on its upcoming building program, the superintendent said.

Bids were opened by the board of education Wednesday night and contracts will be awarded at its next meeting Nov. 10.

Construction is expected to start a week after the bids are awarded in order to have the program completed by the opening of school in September 1962, Glendening said.

A $395,000 bond issue to finance the projects was approved by the district electorate June 12.

Plans include the addition of 11 new classrooms and a library at Brandon High School. Three new classrooms, an office and extra storage space will be built in the Belle Ann Elementary School.

When the new classrooms are ready at the high school, the 51-year-old junior high building will be razed or sold and its seventh and eighth graders will move into the new rooms.

Warren Holmes Co. of Lansing is architect for the building program.

★ ★ ★

Glendening said money saved by the low bids will probably be used for school equipment, landscaping and parking areas.

Romeo Sets Open House at Junior, Senior High

ROMEO—Open houses at the high school Monday and at the junior high school the following night will mark Romeo's observance of American Education Week.

The program at the high school will begin at 7 p.m. with a band concert in the gymnasium.

A half hour later parents will visit their sons' and daughters' classrooms for 10-minute resumes of individual courses of study. Also to be covered by the teachers in the brief sessions are the objectives of the classes and an explanation of textbooks used each semester.

At 8:45 p.m. parents will join the faculty in the cafeteria for refreshments and a social hour.

A similar program is planned at the junior high Tuesday evening. A general meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium with Arthur Smith, president of the Junior-Senior High Parents Club, to be the principal speaker.

He will discuss club programs for the year.

Parents then will be given their children's class schedules which they will follow for 10-minute periods, the same as at the high school. Student Council members will act as guides.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments will be served by home economics students at 9:30 p.m.

Michigan Ex-Convict Sentenced in Holdup

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—A Michigan ex-convict who was captured by police after a gun fight was sentenced to up to 30 years in prison Thursday on armed robbery charges.

Leonard L. Thompson, 24, of Swartz Creek, pleaded guilty to the robberies Oct. 26 of a meat market and a service station here. He was sentenced to two concurrent terms in Waupun State Prison.

Thompson traded shots with police through the closed door of a motel room. A 12-year-old girl arrested with him at the motel was ordered returned to the custody of her parents at Flint, Mich. She told authorities Thompson forced her to accompany him to LaCrosse.

Need Engineers for Agriculture, Says Professor

EAST LANSING (AP) — The need for agricultural engineers is desperate, says a Michigan State University professor.

Forty per cent of Michigan's total labor force works in jobs related to production, marketing, processing, storage and distribution of farm products, Carl Albrecht of the university's department of agricultural engineering, said.

Engineering jobs abound in all these fields, he said.

High school students and their counselors must plan ahead, he said. Freshmen can meet the college of engineering's science and mathematics requirements if they start taking the courses early in their high school careers, Albrecht said.

The Michigan section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers has plans under way for a scholarship program to help recruit young men into the engineering field, he said.

Office Secretaries Just Getting the 'Business'

Swivel-Chair Bachelors Are Really No Bargain

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — No office zoo is complete without its quota of bachelors.

Most of the men in the average business firm, as every secretary knows, are already married—some for so long they have no memory of a previous state of life.

★ ★ ★

But sprinkled among them are a few faster-footed brethren who have managed to escape the marital yoke. They are in turn pursued or denounced by all the unwed maidens in the office, which sometimes makes the boss wonder whether he's running a business or operating a lonely hearts club.

BOYLE

Office bachelors come in all ages, shapes and sizes, but if you look around where you work here are a few types you may recognize:

Nervous Ned—He turns pale if a woman gets within 10 feet of him. He has been suspicious of women ever since a girl brought him a rose in kindergarten, and he stuck his finger on the thorn.

Hungry Henry — "What's cooking tonight, baby?" he asks each stenographer in turn. But the wise ones know he isn't asking for a date — he's just fishing for a free invitation to a home-cooked dinner.

Practical Phil — He's interested in girls' figures, all right, but only the figures in their bank account. His slogan is, "Heaven helps the poor working girl, but a poor working boy has to look out for himself." He is looking for a rich widow, something you don't find in every office.

Soulful Sam—He believes in the Bohemian life. He will spout poetry to a girl by the hour, but the moment she makes him pause to look at the rings in a jewelry store window he turns and flees for safety.

THE TIGHT TYPE

Cynical Sal — "All women are alike — they're just looking for a meal ticket," he tells one and all. But when this skinflint squires a girl out for the evening, she's lucky if he buys her a hot dog.

Troubled Tom—When he leans on a girl's shoulder it isn't romance. He merely wants to get closer to her ear so he can pour into it the sad story of his life of woe. He really doesn't want to get married. He wants to be adopted.

★ ★ ★

Curious Charlie — Every Thursday he takes the boss' secretary to lunch. She has the lurid idea he is courting her. Actually he is merely pumping her to find out what really is going on behind the scenes in the office.

Experienced Edward — "Never again — I'm a three-time loser," he wails after his third divorce. But a month later he elopes with a college coed half his age. "Just like a man," agree the prim old maids in the office.

★ ★ ★

Dimpled Dan — He's ruddy-cheeked and terribly handsome, and every girl in the place hears wedding bells when she sees him. But Dan never shook off those apron strings. He phones his mother three times a day to be sure she is all right, and she phones him back three times a day to be sure everything is okay with him, too.

NOT REALLY ROMEO

Bumptious Bert — "Boy, you should've seen the babe I was out with last night — a real honey," he brags every morning. But his tales of Romeo revels are all imaginary. Bert is too bashful to ask for a date. He spends his evenings studying correspondence lessons in guitar playing or attending lectures on birdlife.

★ ★

Available Albert—For 20 years the married men have regularly invited Albert home when they needed an extra man at a dinner party. He is safe and single, and plans to stay that way. "Who needs a wife?" he asks. "I know how to sew on buttons."

There they are — the swivel-chair bachelors every office secretary knows. And what girl in her right mind would trade in her typewriter to marry any one of them?

Pope Appeals to Diplomats

His 3rd Anniversary; Urges 'Work for Peace' While There's Time

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, with a possible eye on the brim East-West nuclear race, today urged mankind to recall its "duty . . . to use well the time given them to act in favor of peace."

The pontiff made his appeal in a French-language address to diplomats from 48 nations accredited to the Holy See.

They came to wish him well on the third anniversary of his coronation and his 80th birthday.

Pope John, looking fit and recovered from a nagging cold, received the diplomats in the Vatican Palace after a busy morning in which he said a special mass in St. Peter's Basilica for 20,000 officials of young Catholic action.

He then gave a special audience to the Sacred College of Cardinals. In all, the pontiff made three substantial speeches.

★ ★ ★

Saturday, the actual anniversary of his coronation, he will preside at a "papal chapter" in the Basilica in a glittering ceremony which will be attended by state delegations from more than 70 countries.

U. of M. Lays Cornerstone for Hearing Building

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The cornerstone of the University of Michigan's new Kresge Hearing Research Institute was laid here Thursday with the offering of hope that it "may help produce benefits of great significance in the preservation of hearing and the prevention of deafness."

Stanley S. Kresge, head of the Kresge foundation which donated funds for the $1.7-million facility, was the guest speaker at ceremonies attended by U. of M. officials.

The building will be a five-story addition to the existing Kresge Medical Research Building at the U. of M. Medical Center. It will be finished by September 1962.

The Kresge Institute will be the world's largest facility devoted exclusively to the study of hearing and deafness, with clinical and basic research as its main function.

'Setting Negro Study Shows State's Doubt'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has suggested that the Alabama-financed study aimed at proving Negroes are mentally inferior is an admission of doubt by the state.

Roy Wilkins said Thursday, "Is Gov. (John) Patterson confessing, through the initiation of this study, that for all these decades the segregation policy of the state of Alabama has been based upon guesswork?"

Patterson Wednesday made $3,000 available for the study.

Michigan Hunter, Guide Missing on Moose Hunt

VERMILION BAY, Ont. (AP)—Provincial police were searching this area today for a Pentwater, Mich., youth and his guide.

Police said Elwin Myers, 18, a University of Michigan student, and guide Thomas Strong of Vermilion Bay were flown into the bushland Saturday to hunt moose.

Officers said the men failed to meet the plane sent to pick them up Tuesday.

Kean' Robust, Colorful Show

Recounts 19th Century Actor's Life; Title Role Played by Alfred Drake

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK—Robust acting and imaginative staging make "Kean" a colorful, ambitious addition to the White Way's list of musical attractions.

★ ★ ★

The show, which opened Thursday night at the Broadway Theater, is based upon episodes in the life of England's stormy stage star of the early 19th Century, Edmund Kean.

Alfred Drake is in splendid vocal and physical form as the swashbuckling roisterer. Matching him in the score's challenge are Joan Weldon, Lee Venora, Patricia Cutts and Oliver Gray.

★ ★ ★

The staging and choreography, by Jack Cole, set off the uncommon story and melodic challenge with vitality and moments of blazing excitement.

Peter Stone, who derives his narrative from plays by Jean-Paul Sartre and Alexandre Dumas, attempts an in-depth portrait of the "King of London."

Besides recounting certain escapades involving the Prince of Wales and a couple of amorous beauties, "Kean" dwells on the inner struggle which tortured the star at the peak of his fame.

The words and music, jointly created by Robert Wright and George Forrest, are a cut above the ordinary. Recitative and other operatic influences are at work. Standout numbers include "Sweet Danger," "To Look Upon My Love," "Let's Improvise," "Civilized People" and "Willow, Willow, Willow."

★ ★ ★

The biggest show stopper is "The Fog and the Grog," carolled against an ensemble production scene of Hogarthian joviality.

President Says U. of M. Won't Limit Admission

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dr. Harlan Hatcher says the University of Michigan has no intention of restricting admission only to students in the top 10 per cent of their high school graduating classes.

The U. of M. president, speaking before the 33rd annual Principal-Freshman-Counselor Conference Thursday, said the university will continue to seek "the common man with the uncommon ability," despite limitations imposed by financial circumstances.

Hatcher told the educators that budget restrictions have made it difficult for U. of M. to prepare for what he termed "relentless enrollment" now advancing through the state's high schools.

He predicted an additional 49,000 to 92,000 students will be enrolling in Michigan colleges and universities four years from now.

Named to Promotion Unit

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has announced the appointment of Tom Kleene, business and industry writer for the Detroit Free Press, to the Michigan Industrial Ambassador Corps. The group works to promote new industry for Michigan.

Mackinac Bridge Use Dips, Revenues Rise

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Traffic was down but revenues were up at the Mackinac Bridge in October.

The bridge authority said Thursday that 83,189 vehicles crossed the span linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas last month, compared with 126,620 in September and 87,660 in October 1960.

It said that a recent rate increase, however, boosted revenues by 10.6 per cent over October of a year ago.

The Andes Mountain chain is about 4,000 miles long.

HST Has Mellowed Some, but's Still Banging at GOP

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Truman made a career—all the way up to the pre idency—of being a Democrat and banging the Republicans. At 77 he's still at it, full of pep and partisanship.

The one-sidedness gets monotonous, as it does with any politician. But he has an aggressive directness and terseness that make Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower look as cautious as Calvin Coolidge beside him.

At the National Press Club Thursday he was in typical form although he got to bed late the night before as Kennedy's guest at the White House. He said nothing that could even obliquely be considered criticism of Kennedy except for this:

Asked how often he thought a president should hold news conferences, Truman said once a week. In the 1960 campaign Kennedy talked of once-a-week conferences if elected. But, now that he's President, weeks go by without one.

Otherwise, Truman had nothing but praise for Kennedy's administration, nothing but blame for Eisenhower's, although he never mentioned Eisenhower by name.

The split which began between Truman and Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign is still there and, judging from Truman's performance Thursday, he won't be the first to try to heal it. At the same time, Truman and President Hoover are friends.

Truman has mellowed, but only a little. He had a kind word for the Republican-run 80th Congress which, in the 1948 campaign, he called the "do-nothing" congress.

'STILL DO-NOTHING'

He said Thursday it passed "some of the most significant foreign policy legislation in our history"—like aid for Greece and Turkey and the Marshall Plan—but he still blamed it for being "do-nothing" on problems at home.

It was no accident he stressed the significance of the aid for Greece and Turkey — when the Communists were breathing down their necks—or the Marshall Plan whose economic help got shattered Europe back on its feet.

★ ★ ★

It's something to be self-conscious about.

He knows his place in history—and his rank among the presidents—hinges on his foreign record: What he did when the cold war with Russia began and what he did when it turned frigid.

MAJOR DECISIONS

His major foreign decisions—besides the two just mentioned—were putting this country into military alliance with Western Europe, setting up bases around the world of communism to contain it, and going into Korea.

Truman, through these actions, laid down the foreign policy which Eisenhower and Kennedy followed without any major change or addition.

But if Eisenhower and Kennedy were his heirs in foreign policy they were not in dealings at home.

OBVIOUS DIFFERENCE

The most obvious difference is in the way the three men handled Congress.

★ ★ ★

Truman was far more aggressive than the other two in fighting for legislation he thought was needed. And he made the presidency a lot more personal in the sense of fighting openly with individuals whose policies or tactics he had no use for.

Best examples: his open and prolonged quarrels with Sens. Robert Taft and Joseph McCarthy. Eisenhower avoided personal disputes completely. Kennedy has so far.

METHOD DEBATABLE

Whether Truman's method was better is debatable. Despite Truman's antagonism, McCarthy got bolder and stronger.

It was the Eisenhower administration, although Eisenhower himself avoided a head-on clash, which laid the foundation for the destruction of the Wisconsin senator with the Army-McCarthy hearings.

But one thing is for sure: The White House under Truman was a far more lively and colorful place than it has ever been under Eisenhower or Kennedy. Truman is a man who met life head-on, grabbed it, shook it, and loved every minute of it.

Anyone who doubts his love of life should have heard him Thursday. He said he hopes he lives to be 100. And then, in the only somber note of the day, he said: "I don't think I'll make it."

1,700 Ex-Hoffa Men Welcomed by Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO has welcomed nearly 1,700 Cincinnati, Ohio, rebels from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

It gave them a charter of affiliation Thursday and predicted that more teamsters would be jumping the fence soon.

Asked if this defection means the beginning of the end for Hoffa's 1.5-million member organization, AFL-CIO President George Meany replied:

"I would say this indicates there are considerable numbers of workers in the Teamsters who will vote for a clean decent union if they are given a chance."

Hoffa, whose Teamsters were kicked out of the AFL-CIO four years ago on corruption charges, had no comment.

PONTIAC CENTRAL OFFICIALS ADVOCATE RETAINING VALLEY MEMBERSHIP

Board Hears 4 PCH Representatives on SVC Membership

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Those who support Pontiac Central's membership in the Saginaw Valley Conference need not fret.

The PCH position with respect to continuing athletic relations in the SVC was presented by four Central school officials to the Board of Education last night. Although no action was intended or taken, the Board was made aware of the PCH position which strongly advocates retaining present league membership.

★ ★ ★

Present to discuss the situation with the Board were Francis Staley, PCH principal; Hollie Lepley, physical education, director of Pontiac schools; Ed Graybiel, PCH, athletic director and Art Van Ryzin, PCH basketball coach.

Lepley presented the board and those present with 23 mimeographed pages of statements, facts and figures. In the prepared statement Lepley states, "It is our philosophy that the true value of the athletic program in practice, travel and game situations, must be judged on the influence the program has upon the life of each individual participant.

★ ★ ★

"Four years ago, the athletic program in the secondary schools was evaluated and as a consequence, Pontiac Central remains in the Saginaw Valley Conference with eight other fine high schools in Bay City, Flint, Midland and Saginaw."

"At that time, as well as today, those closely associated with the athletic program were and are aware of the greater cost involved in participating in the Saginaw Valley . . . and those closely associated with the athletic program were and are aware of the responsibility to the citizens of the community concerning the careful and proper use of tax funds in supporting the total athletic program."

In regard to statements made that other schools in the SVC were not in favor of PCH membership, letters from four SVC principals written to Staley were presented. In the letters the principals refuted any inference that they wanted PCH out of the league and expressed their wish to have PCH retain membership.

"Ninety per cent of our coaches and 98 per cent of the student body favor Pontiac Central staying in the Saginaw Valley," said Staley, the PCH principal.

He pointed out that PCH had not been contacted by any group of any proposed league in Oakland County as a possible member and in his discussion with schools contemplating such a league, the attitude was conveyed that Pontiac "was not even considered for membership."

It was also noted that discussions about an Oakland County league focused in the lower part of the county and that those schools in consideration expressed the thought that "Pontiac, an industrial community, was not compatible with these other county communities which are more residential."

Twelve pages of figures, comprehensively covering and comparing Pontiac Central-Pontiac Northern crowd figures, receipts, expenditures, schedules and the overall athletic program budget were made known.

The crowd figures were primarily offered in rebuttal of figures used in news stories in regard to football attendance of both schools.

In three SVC home games to date, PCH gate receipts have amounted to $5,287.05 having played Bay City Central, Bay City Handy and Midland, among the three top ranked teams in the state. At the time they played here, Bay City Central and Handy were No. 1 in Michigan.

For three Inter-Lakes home games, against Waterford, Southfield and Farmington, the gate receipts thus far for Pontiac Northern have been $2,637.01. All three of these teams are having losing years. Waterford is 1-6, Southfield 2-5 and Farmington 1-6.

Last year for six homes PNH receipts showed $5,476.15. PCH receipts showed $6,052.95 for four games plus $2,527.46 for the game with PNH which was Central's home game.

One of the arguments against Pontiac Central's membership in the SVC has been transportation and travel costs. Comparative figures presented last night, showed Pontiac Central expenditures for transportation and meals of the nine varsity teams for 1959-60 were $2,485.78 and $2,319.82 respectively. For PNH the totals were $1,056.01 for transportation and $880.95 for meals. The total difference between the two schools amounted to $2,441.96.

Final observations of Central's membership in the SVC were presented by Graybiel and Van Ryzin, both in favor of retaining affiliation.

The four-man representative group refuted "inference" that Pontiac Central teams have not been competitive in the Saginaw Valley Conference. According to the statement presented, "In the last five years the won and lost average for all sports has been approximately 50 per cent in dual competition."

Except for Rev. J. Allen Parker who said he wanted to go on record supporting Pontiac Central's membership in the Saginaw Valley, the Board decided against any action and tabled any further discussion.

These were the major figures presented to Board covering athletic receipts and expenditures for high school athletics:

Howe's Goal Enough for 1-0 Detroit Win

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe notched the only goal and the Detroit Red Wings gave goalie Terry Sawchuk superb protection Thursday night for a 1-0 victory over the New York Rangers.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit defense was spectacular, especially in a 70-second span in the third period when New York had a two-skater advantage. The Wings protected Sawchuk's first shutout of the National Hockey League season and 84th in 12 seasons by keeping the Rangers off stride.

★ ★ ★

Pat Hannigan put the puck in the Detroit net just as the Wings' Marcel Pronovost was returning to the ice from the penalty box and restoring his club to full strength. But Referee Daltan McArthur disallowed the goal and ruled that the Ranger forward kicked the puck in with his knee.

Howe's goal came at 4:48 of the second period while the Rangers' Irv Spencer was in the penalty box.

It was Howe's 475th regular season goal in an NHL career spannig 16 years.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit right winger took two swipes at Eddie Litzenberger's rebound before lifting it past goalie Gump Worsley.

The goal nullified a brilliant perforance by Worsley, who suffered a concussion in his last appearance on Olympia Stadium just 12 days ago.

He made 27 saves, but several were spectacular.

Sawchuk had 21 saves and the Rangers were able to get only two shots at him in the second period.

MONTREAL (AP) — The last place Boston Bruins, led by Andre Pronovost's two goals, handed the league-leading Montreal Canadiens their second straight loss, 5-2 in a National Hockey League game Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Despite the defeat, their second in 10 games, the Canadiens held their one-point lead over New York's Rangers, who lost to Detroit 1-0.

Besides Pronovost, Doug Mohns, Bobby Beckett and Don McKenney scored for Boston. Claude Provost and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion scored for Montreal.

★ ★ ★

Provost's goal gave him 18 points for the season, tying New York's Andy Bathgate for the league scoring leadership.

Boston goalie Don Head played a brilliant game, making 40 saves on the hard-skating Canadiens, many of them on difficult shots.

Boston never trailed, going in ront 2-0 in the first period on goals by McKenney and Pronovost.

The Canadiens rallied early in the second period and tied the score 2-2 on goals by Provost and Geoffrion. They fell behind again as Mohns scored what proved to be the winning goal 46 seconds after Geoffrion's tally.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Beckett's first NHL goal made it 4-2 late in the second period and Pronovost wrapped the game up with his second goal early in the third.

15 State Backs Ready to Run at Minnesota

Johnson, Ballman Join Spartan Squad in Trip to Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Michigan State's record this season in throwing ball-carrying backs against the opposition is 15.

Guess how many backs coach Duffy Daugherty has up here today as the Spartans put their No. 1 spot on the line against highly-rated Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

Right the first time — 15.

The Spartans even have two ball-carriers announced as cripples after the 35-0 blanking of Indiana.

Medical miracles happen between Monday and kickoff time. Right half Gary Ballman and left half Herman Johnson both are with the squad.

They'll eat the small steaks tomorrow morning and join the rest of the crew to run against the Golden Gophers. The platoon power system will be working — fresh backs in on every other play.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State is way up high for this game.

You ask the players about the Big Ten title and they shrug. They want the Rose Bowl.

"And we can see Disneyland, too," said one.

There is a matter of pride involved for coach Duffy Daugherty. He has been to Minneapolis three times, and every time has been beaten. He won two at home, however.

"Something's got to give," Daugherty said. "This should be a great game and I'm glad the folks back home will have a chance to see it on (regional) television."

A feature of the meeting in Memorial Stadium — with a 63,555 sell-out crowd assured — will be the clash between two Associated Press "backs of the week."

★ ★ ★

Spartan George Saimes won the honor one week for his heroics against Notre Dame. Saimes, leading scoring for the Spartans, spurted for two second half touchdowns to give MSU the 17-7 win over the Irish.

The hero last week was Sandy Stephens, the golden boy for the Golden Gophers against Michigan. He ran 63 yards for one touchdown, passed 46 yards for another, sparked a third 53-yard scoring drive and made an amazing 160 yards rushing.

Cadets Crippled for Battle With Gross

Army Awaits Titans

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Army's football team, battered and bleeding and every wary of any foreign shadow that crosses Michie Stadium after being upset last week by West Virginia, today set itself for the University of Detroit and a machine-gun passing attack by Jerry Gross.

★ ★ ★

Gross, the nation's top offensive leader, will lead the Titans here Saturday against the Cadets who are still not recovered from the 7-3 upset that the Mountaineers administered last week.

What has made the defeat even more unbearable is an injury to No. 1 quarterback Dick Eckert, which will sideline him for at least two weeks. Eckert sprained an ankle in the first period against the Mountaineers, and never regained the fine passing touch that had him leading the nation going into the game.

Army also may not have halfback Joe Blackgrove, who carried the offensive burden in its 10-6 upset of Penn State on Oct. 14. Blackgrove, who also had done work at the quarterback slot, suffered an ankle sprain against West Virginia.

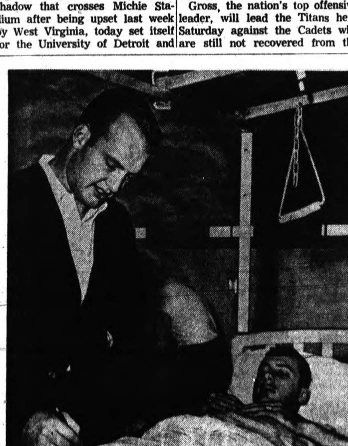
This pair join backs George Kirschenbauer and Jim Pappas on the injury list. Neither have seen much service as the Cadets have racked up a 4-2 mark, after being counted on as a nucleus for its running attack.

Also laid up is Bruce Heim, an end, guard John Dwyer and end Bob Fuellhart, the latter two for the season.

Jim Beierschmitt, a soph from Mt. Carmel, Pa., will handle the quarterbacking this week against the Titans. He has seen considerable service behind Eckert and coach Dale Hall feels he has a reasonable chance to keep the Cadets from putting on a poor offensive performance.

Fullback Al Rushartz, the Cadets top ground-gaining threat, is still healthy and will carry the offensive burden.

The Cadets also respect the Titans' passing game, built around Gross, and have been doing some extra work on pass defense, one facet of their defense that has not been sorely tested to date. Capt. Don Holleder, who scouted the Titans last week against Dayton, called Gross "the finest quarterback passer in the nation."



AFTER EXAMS — Green Bay Packers halfback Paul Hornung autographs the cast on the broken leg of PFC Dave Boczkiewicz of Cleveland before leaving the Great Lakes Naval Hospital Thursday. Hornung, leading scorer in the National Football League, had been at the hospital since Monday undergoing medical tests to determine if he is physically qualified for active army duty. The results will be known by Nov. 14. AP Photofax

Eagles Trying to Solve 25 Defenses of Bears

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles figures the Chicago Bears have about 25 defenses, probably the most in the National Football League. And he's been drilling his Eagles' all week on how to cope with them.

★ ★ ★

"They never let you see the same defense," Skorich said today in reviewing Sunday's opponent at Franklin Field in one of the top NFL games. "They do more things."

Skorich went on to explain that the Bears' defenses "fall into a pattern of five or six, so you prepare for the five or six."

The Eagles, expected to be at full strength physically, will be out to protect their slim Eastern Conference lead while the second place Western Conference Bears, who also have a strong offensive, will be out to gain ground on Green Bay.

In other games Sunday, St. Louis is at Dallas, Pittsburgh goes to Cleveland, Washington visits New York, Minnesota is at Los Angeles, Detroit goes to San Francisco and Green Bay is at Baltimore.

Skorich also had a great deal of praise for the Bears' rookie offensive and, Mike Ditka, the former University of Pittsburgh star.

Ditka, who plays the closed or blocking end, still has managed to snag 23 passes for 505 yards and five touchdowns.

Skorich said Ditka has been very surprising and should be a top candidate for rookie of the year honors.

★ ★ ★

"He does a fine job of blocking, runs the patterns well and has excellent hands," said Skorich. "Everyone knew he was good in college but some felt it might take him a year or so to find his place in pro ball."

Interest Down for Wolverine Duel With Duke

Year's Smallest Crowd Expected to Witness Ann Arbor Outing

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan plays Duke here tomorrow with interest at a low ebb.

Michigan State plays Minnesota at the same time and that's on television.

The smallest crowd of the season at Ann Arbor, some 52,000, will gather in the Wolverines' yawning 101,001-seat stadium to see this intersectional battle which Michigan is expected to win by one to two touchdowns.

It appears that John Schopf, the 230-pound tackle who suffered a shoulder separation in Michigan's 23-30 loss to Minnesota last weekend, is definitely out. Linebacker Ken Tureand, fullback Bill Tunnicliff and guard Lee Hall are question marks.

Coach Bump Elliott, hard pressed all year to find replacements for injured linemen, will move senior Guy Curtis (215) into Schopf's slot and advance Willard Stawski, a fast-coming reserve tackle, into the No. 2 spot.

Even without Schopf, the Wolverines will have a substantial advantage in weight up front, averaging 222 pounds to the Blue Devils' 199.

★ ★ ★

Duke, with designs on its second straight Atlantic Coast Conference title, will bring a 4-1 record to Ann Arbor. The Blue Devils suffered their only loss to Georgia Tech, 21-0, in a non-conference game.

Michigan holds victories over UCLA and Army in two previous non-league battles this year, but is 1-2 in the Big Ten.

Duke has a swift attack with strength concentrated in its halfbacks and plenty of passing involving its "lonesome ends."

Protest Planned of ABL Defeat on Wet Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Andy Phillip of the Chicago Majors prepared to protest today to the commissioner of the American Basketball League his team's slip-and-slide loss to the Washington Tapers Thursday night.

There is one big hitch. The league commissioner is Abe Saperstein. The Chicago owner is the same Abe Saperstein.

"I know it'll be a difficult decision," said Phillip. "All decisions for a commissioner are difficult. But I'm going to protest."

Professional basketball returned to Washington Thursday night after an absence of more than 10 years as the Tapers edged Chicago 65-64 in a thriller.

And with it returned a problem that pestered the old Caps of the National Basketball Association—moisture on the court when it is laid down over the ice rink in the Washington Coliseum on a warm, humid night.

Tapers President Harry G. Lynn said he will purchase a felt undercovering for the court to prevent a similar occurrence in the future.

Miami-Georgia Tilt Tonight Opens Big Weekend

Grid Specials Slated

By The Associated Press

Before the beginning of the college football season, Nov. 4 was circled as the day of decision—and nothing has changed as the nation's top teams battle each other Saturday in key conference battles that may also have a lot to say about the post season bowl spots.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team and undefeated in five games, meets once-beaten but mighty Minnesota in a Big Ten battle while Mississippi, equally as mighty and ranked second nationally takes on its old nemesis Louisiana State in the Southeastern Conference's biggest game of the year.

★ ★ ★

That is just a sample, and to get things underway, resurgent University of Miami (3-3) tackles the Georgia Bulldogs tonight. The Hurricanes at last have soph quarterback George Mira back in top physical shape. He missed two of Miami's losses but came back last week in so-so condition to help upset North Carolina 10-0.

The Bulldogs, also 3-3, are a bunch of opportunists. Their three victories have been by the margin of Durwood Pennington's field goal kicking, 17-14 over South Carolina, 10-7 from Mississippi State and 16-15 last week against Kentucky. In the latter game, Pennington booted a 52-yard field goal, after having a five-yard penalty nullify a successful effort from 47 yards.

Ole Miss is second nationally in total offense and passing offense and has a defense that is rated fourth as Coach John Vaught's three units have little to distinguish between them, performance-wise.

LSU (No. 6) was the last team to beat Mississippi—21 games ago—and last year spoiled a perfect Ole Miss season with a 6-6 tie. Both are 3-0 in the SEC, but LSU is not as strong offensively and its defense, while tough, is still not rated as highly as that of the Rebels.

In a companion Big Ten thriller, fifth-ranked Ohio State, also 3-0 in the conference, meets ninth-ranked Iowa. The Buckeyes, led by fullback Bob Ferguson, will have to stop the Hawkeyes speedy attack, and may have the weather on their side. Rain is predicted and Iowa's fast backs were upset in the mud last week by Purdue, 9-0.

Third-ranked Texas, the nation's No. 1 offensive unit, takes on Southern Methodist in a Southwest Conference game, looking for its seventh victory without a loss while Alabama, ranked fourth and atop the SEC with 4-0, meets conference foe Mississippi State. Georgia Tech (No. 7) plays Florida in another SEC game.

The Big Eight Conference has its big one this year when unbeaten Colorado, ranked eighth with a 5-0 overall mark, and 4-0 in league play, battles for first place against Missouri (5-0-1). The winner has the inside track to the title and a trip to the Orange Bowl. This game, along with the Michigan State-Minnesota affair will be televised regionally to parts of the mid-west, with the Big Eight game also going to the West Coast.

★ ★ ★

Dartmouth and Yale of the Ivy League meet in the other regionally televised game.

Other conference activity is light. The Citadel (4-1) can wrap up the Southern Conference title against defending champ Virginia Military (3-1) while Utah State of the Skyline can climb back into a tie with Wyoming by beating Brigham Young. The Cowboys (4-0-1) are outside against Arizona. UCLA and Southern California, atop the Big Five with 1-0 marks play California and defending champion Washington, respectively.

In intersectional games, Navy plays at Notre Dame and Duke, the Atlantic Coast leader, goes against Michigan. Syracuse and Pitt tangle in the East's top game while Rutgers, the nation's only other major undefeated team at 5-0, plays Lafayette.

Lotus Lake Holds Lead

Lotus Lake held onto its two-game bulge in first place this week with three victories, as co-runnersup Comets and Williams Lake did likewise in the Waterford men's volley ball league.

Lotus shut out Highland Estates, 15-3, 15-10, 15-10; Comets blanked Wilson Street, 15-1, 15-8, 15-2; and Williams Lake upped its recent record to 14 wins in the last 15 games with a 15-9, 15-4, 15-10 whitewashing of Pontiac Lake. In other results, Scott Lake grabbed two from Stumble Bums, 15-2, 15-2, 9-15.

Unbeaten Giants Meet at Ferndale

Eagles, Kimball Battle for Crown

Royal Oak Kimball's well-balanced attack will be pitted against Ferndale's explosive running tonight when the two unbeaten-untied prep football powers clash in Oakland County's "game of the year" at Ferndale.

The Eastern Michigan League championship will be at stake in this collision between two highly-ranked clubs.

Kimball, coached by Prentice (Pin) Ryan, is Michigan's No. 3 rated Class A team. Ferndale, coached by Frank Joranko, is ranked 5th. Both schools boast 7-0 records.

The Kimball-Ferndale game is the No. 1 attraction of a mighty attractive weekend prep schedule in this area.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Northern and Rochester renew their young rivalry tonight on the Rochester gridiron with the Falcons looking for their first victory over PNH. Northern won the two previous meetings, 26-20 and 32-7.

Frank Crowell's scrappy Avondale squad guns for its Oakland B crown since 1958 this evening when the Yellow Jackets tangle with dangerous Oak Park on the latter's field.

Oak Park stunned Troy a week ago to present the Jackets with an opportunity to win the title outright. Now the Parkers are hoping to throw the same roadblock in Avon's path.

Madison coach Ed Console has promised to give Avon a big assist on the Troy gridiron.

Console believes his gridders can topple the favored Colts and hand the title to the Jackets on a silver platter. Console predicts a win for his team and cites Madison's tough defense as the principal reason.

Birmingham Seaholm and Royal Oak Dondero, Thanksgiving Day foes for many years before abandoning the Turkey game in favor of an earlier date, resume their long-standing feud on the Royal Oak field. Seaholm is a slight favorite, but actually there is little to choose in this one.

★ ★ ★

Armada shoots for its first Southern Thumb grid crown in 30 years against Memphis at Armada. Memphis can gain a share of the title with a victory.

An all-important Saginaw Valley Conference game is scheduled Saturday evening at Flint's Atwood Stadium between once-beaten Flint Central and undefeated Bay City Handy, rated the state's top "A" powerhouse. A loss will eliminate Central from the race.

In other action Saturday, Western Reserve will be Cranbrook's Homecoming opponent in an Inter-State League game, Birmingham Groves goes to Harper Woods and Pontiac Emmanuel tackles Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes under the lights at Wisner Stadium.

Port Huron journeys to Hazel Park for an important Eastern Michigan contest. The Big Reds are eliminated after back-to-back losses, but they can squelch any remaining Hazel Park title hopes by dumping the Parkers.

A victory for Kimball means an undisputed crown for the Knights since this is their final loop outing. Ferndale can only clinch a tie for the crown because the Eagles still have to play Hazel Park next week.

A deadly passing attack, paced by quarterback Wally Gabler who has thrown 13 TD aerials, and a crunching ground assault are Kimball's stocks in trade.

The Eagles, who seldom pass but nevertheless boast a 50 per cent completion percentage for their limited work through the air, are trying to improve their overhead weapon for this crucial duel. Their explosive ground game is sparked by sprint champion Dorie Reid, who's tallied 16 TDs.

By DON VOGEL

If football fans in the South Lyon school district are mumbling these days about the NCAA regional game of the week, it can be understood.

There is no doubt in our mind that these same grid enthusiasts will be tuned in to the Michigan State-Minnesota conflict on television or attending the Duke-Michigan contest at nearby Ann Arbor.

But they will be keeping a very attentive ear tuned toward Boulder, Colo., where a favorite son is expected to see plenty of action for the University of Missouri.

Paul Underhill, a junior fullback, may be in the starting lineup for Dan Devine's Tigers against unbeaten Colorado in the game that probably will decide the Big Eight championship.

This game will be on regional TV, but only in the lower Mississippi and Rocky Mountain areas.

Underhill got his chance in the Missouri backfield two weeks ago against Iowa State. He scored one of the Tigers touchdowns in the 13-7 victory and was the game's leading ball carrier. Up to the Iowa State game, the former South Lyon High athlete had made only spot appearances for Missouri.

NORTHERN COACH

Tom McCormick will have charge of the Pontiac Northern junior varsity basketball team.

A graduate of Michigan State, McCormick was basketball and football coach at Holton High before coming to Pontiac this fall as a teacher at Madison Junior High.

He will assist Dick Hall.

Area grid teams having North Farmington scheduled the next two years had better be prepared for tough contests.

The new school has rolled to seven straight wins this fall. The schedule includes varsity and reserve teams. The school opened with a tenth grade and will add one class each year until it reaches the twelfth grade.

This means that coach Warren McKenzie will have his team intact, except for transfers or injuries, for the next two years.

Although the new school took no students from Farmington High, it did cut into this year's sophomore class. And that is what will be happening in the years to come.

Farmington is adding tennis to its varsity activities. The Falcons will play a full schedule beginning next spring. Gerald Potter will coach the netters. He has 75 in the school's intramural program.

AT COUNTRY DAY

Dorne Dibble and Yale Lary, former and current Detroit Lion players, will be the speakers at Country Day's annual Father and Son football banquet Nov. 10 at 6:30. Nick Kerbawy will be toastmaster.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Col. John Spears, head basketball coach at the Air Force Academy, will join the teaching panel for Michigan State University's ninth annual basketball coaches clinic Nov. 10-11. Others on the panel are MSU head coach Forddy Anderson and his assistant, Bruce Fossum.

★ ★ ★

Frank J. Rodman, Hermansville, and Sylvester C. Flarity, Manistee, have been reappointed members of the state athletic board of control by Gov. Swainson.

Strike Avoided on Grid Team

Penn Military Boys Return to Practice With Dispute Settled

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Military College football team practiced as usual afternoon following settlement of a dispute which threatened to erupt into a player's "strike."

Head Coach George Hansell Jr. said the matter is resolved.

"We conducted practice as usual," he said. "We had a good practice. Everybody was there."

The trouble began Tuesday when members of the team protested certain regulations and asked to be exempted.

★ ★ ★

The boys said they needed exemptions to make up study time lost because of football. PMC has won four and lost two this season.

Among the issues were the 11:15 p.m. bedtime, Sunday parades, going to breakfast in formation and wearing the uniforms of the day at the evening mess.

Just how the dispute was settled was not made clear, but both Hansell and the college president, Dr. Clarence R. Moll, called it a misunderstanding."

Hansell denied the team handed in its uniforms Tuesday afternoon.

George Makes Last 'Star Bid This Weekend

Paul George goes back into action tomorrow in the National All Star eliminations needing a pair of hot bowling days to make the big event slated for Miami, Fla., next January.

The 16 top finishers at State Fair next to the Fairgrounds in Detroit will gain national berths. State match game honors will be settled Sunday.

Pontiac's lone representative was 22nd in a 24-man field in the start of the finals last weekend at Alpena after leading early.

Carl Behrick of Pontiac will be on hand at the tourney as an alternate.

Racial Issue Prevents MSU-Mississippi Duel

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—"As long as Southern schools won't schedule teams with Negro football players, you'll never know who is No. 1," said Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn.

★ ★ ★

Munn spoke in answer to a complaint from a student spokesman for Mississippi that "Ole Miss" should be rated as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll.

MSU is tops and Mississippi second in the current rating. Both teams risk their standings Saturday — Michigan State against Minnesota and Mississippi against Louisiana State University.

★ ★ ★

Jimmie Robertson, editor of the Mississipean, student newspaper at Oxford, Miss., wrote to the MSU student newspaper protesting the No. 2 rating and the "archaic thinking" on race relations which prevents the two teams from playing each other.

He said Mississippi would like to meet Michigan State but cannot "because we can't play any teams who have Negro players."

★ ★ ★

"If you can't meet them, you can't beat them," said Munn.

Michigan State has always refused to compete against any school that will not accept Negro athletes, Munn said.

"We will send our athletes against any school. But it has to be regardless of race, creed or color. Michigan State always has refused to compete with anyone who would not accept all our athletes—and this goes for housing or eating or transportation or anything else," Munn declared.

★ ★ ★

"I've had many players picked as All-Americas," Munn recalled. "Some of the greatest of these were Negroes — fellows like Don Coleman, who taught us an entire new system of blocking, that runaway Rose Bowl back Leroy Bolden and the sprinter Jimmy Ellis."

Munn said Michigan State has broken off relations with any school where there might be incidents because of a color line in football.

★ ★ ★

The letter from the Mississippi student spokesman said there were three major problems faced by Ole Miss.

★ ★ ★

1. Location. "1,000 miles from nowhere."

2. Difficulty in scheduling.

3. The race issue.

"I would give anything," he wrote, "if there was some chance of Ole Miss and Michigan State meeting each other in a bowl game. However, the archaic thinking that prevails in our capital city makes this impossible."

Argentine Leads National Show

Heads Top Horse Team; United States Blanked in Jumping

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Hugo Arrambide of Argentina today was the surprise leader of the race for individual honors in the National Horse Show. . . a surprise to everyone, that is, except the Argentines.

Of the five individual events, Dr. Arrambide, a daredevil attorney from Buenos Aires, has won two. He is the leading individual rider with 26 points and has spearheaded Argentina into the team lead with 40 points.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Arrambide is not reluctant to give a mount the ride of his life. Thursday, he won the Frederick D. Mack international jump after a nine horse jumpoff.

He went clean in the jumpoff in 26.7 seconds, easily beating out Ireland's Lt. John Daly, who sent Loch Garmen around in 30.6 seconds.

★ ★ ★

The United States was shut out although Kathy Kusner took Sinjon around the 10 jumps without a fault. Her time was 33, however, not good enough to get in the money.

AFL Attendance Is Up 7.4 Pct.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It still isn't paying a profit but attendance in the American Football League is up 7.4 per cent over last year, the league's maiden season.

With 30 games played, the average attendance has been 17,801. The average is 1,243 more than 1960 when 16,558 paid to see a game.

San Diego, the league's unbeaten leader, also tops the circuit in attendance. In three home games the San Diego average has been 27,352 and the Chargers expect to go over the 30,000 mark for the remaining four.

An average of about 25,000 is required to start making a profit although some of the clubs can do so with less.

★ ★ ★

Dallas has averaged 24,333 for three games, Houston 20,740 for three, Buffalo 19,274 for six, New York 18,335 for three, Boston 14,731 for five, Denver 12,562 for three and Oakland 8,602 for four.

Oakland, pointing to heavy losses through having to play its games in San Francisco, is threatening to quit unless it can find a suitable stadium in Oakland.

37 Fatal Injuries for Gridders in 1961 Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There have been 37 fatal injuries this season that can be traced to football. Nineteen were directly related, 18 indirectly, says Dr. Floyd Eastwood of Los Angeles State College.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Eastwood is chairman of the Fatality Survey Committee of the American Football Coaches' Association.

His annual mid-season report, issued Thursday night, said that inadequate pre-season physical examinations, especially in the area of the heart, were partly to blame for the marked increase in deaths. For the same period last year there were only 15 fatalities, 12 direct and three indirect.

Of the total reported so far this season, five deaths have occured in sandlot or unsupervised play; two in semi-professional play; 23 in high school; five in college, and two among officials.

Dr. Eastwood's final report and recommendations will be released next January.

Kentucky, Kansas State Bracketed for Meet

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky and Kansas State have been put in opposite brackets for the four-team UK Invitational Basketball Tournament next month, Kentucky Athletic Director Bernie Shively announced Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The powerful Kansas State Wildcats, returning with most of the team that lost to champion Cincinnati in the NCAA tourney last winter, will play Xavier in the opener Dec. 22.

★ ★ ★

Kentucky, which has won four of the eight previous holiday tournaments here, will play Tennessee in the second game that night.

Winners advance to the championship game of Dec. 23 and the losers try for third place.

Each team in the tourney shares the net proceeds.

Dallas Faces Elimination in AFL Game at Boston

By The Associated Press

Dallas plays at Boston Friday night in a game that might hand the Western Division championship of the American Football League to San Diego.

★ ★ ★

Dallas is second to San Diego but 4½ games back. If the Texans lose they will be five behind.

Sunday San Diego clashes with New York, one of the clubs tied for the lead in the Eastern Division. The Chargers, who are unbeaten for the season, then would only have to take down New York to clinch the championship because they would be 5½ games ahead with only five to play.

★ ★ ★

The Dallas-Boston game is a grudge affair since the Patriots went into the Dallas bailwick last Sunday and knocked off the Texans 18-17 on a last-second field goal by Gino Cappelletti.

Should San Diego beat New York, regardless of how the Dallas-Boston game comes out, there could be a new leader or leaders of the Eastern Division. Houston, the 1960 league champion, is only one-half game out of first place and the Oilers meet Denver at Denver Sunday.

A Houston victory plus a New York loss plus a Dallas victory over Boston would shove the Oilers into first place. But should Boston win, it could take over the lead in the event of a New York defeat and Houston would be second.

★ ★ ★

The only clubs that have nothing to worry about championship-wise get together at Buffalo Sunday. It will be Oakland, last in the Western Division, vs. Buffalo, last in the Western.

★ ★ ★

Boston and Houston both are riding two-game winning streaks as the league race enters its stretch run. This came after the two played a 31-31 tie and coaching changes put Wally Lemm in at Houston and Mike Holovak at Boston.

Young Golfers Top California Tourney

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Two youngsters led 15 par busters into the second round of the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament today.

Larry Mowry and Johnny Lotz each shot 5-under-par 67s Thursday on the long, touch Almaden course.

Mowry, 24, is assistant pro at Bonita, Calif. Sharp with his irons all day, he didn't have a bogey and didn't have a putt longer than six feet.

Lotz, 21, one of three amateurs among the sub-par belters, is a San Jose State College student and turned in five birdies and an eagle in the first round.

Defending champ Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles was one of five pros scoring 69, sharing third spot with Jim Ferrier, Jack O'Keefe, Chico Miartuz and Bob McCallister.

Touring U.S. Boxers Battered in England

LONDON (AP) — "We used to lead the world in boxing," said Coach Bert Taylor today after his American amateur fighters suffered a humiliating 10-0 defeat to Britain in the opener of a European tour.

★ ★ ★

"Perhaps last night's result will make some people at home think a little more seriously about the sport."

The British rout of a U.S. team that included five reigning AAU champions came before a stomping, cheering crowd of 4,000 at Wembley Indoor Stadium and left Taylor, as well as his unhappy fighters, more than a bit shaken.

★ ★ ★

Only four of the 10 matches went the scheduled three-round distance. When it was over, one U.S. fighter was in a hospital, two others had concussions and one of these also needed several stitches to close a bad cut inside his mouth.

★ ★ ★

"Our boys got together in New York only last weekend, and they have had no chance to do any serious training since arriving here," Taylor said. "Some haven't boxed since the AAU Championships last April. But make no mistake. We really got a hammering."

Light middleweight Roy McMillan of Toledo, who was stopped in 1:29 of the second round by Britain's Derek Richards, was taken to a hospital for X-rays of damaged ribs.

★ ★ ★

Cornelius Perry of Philadelphia, the U.S. heavyweight, had a concussion and a bad mouth cut after he was knocked unconscious for four full minutes in a first round kayo by Bill Walker.

Featherweight Ralph Ungricht of North Provo, Utah, had a slight concussion following his TKO loss at 2:40 of the third round to Britain's Frank Taylor.

★ ★ ★

Perry, Ungricht and McMillan are doubtful for next Monday's rematch against the English team at Leeds and possibly for a match against Ireland at Dublin on Nov. 10.

Norm Cash to Enter NAIA Hall of Fame

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — First baseman Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers, current American League batting champion, will be admitted to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' Hall of Fame Nov. 11.

Cash will enter the Naia Hall of Fame at Ceremonies at Alpine, Texas, where he played football for Sul Ross State College.

Many Dodgers Due for Salary Cuts — Bavasi

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Many of the players with the Los Angeles Dodgers will take salary cuts next season.

So says General Manager Buzzie Bavasi.

One of the few players due for a raise is Ron Fairly, who won the first base job away from Norm Larker.

Eight Dodgers have been notified by Bavasi that the total of $1,501 in fines that he imposed last season will stick. There will be no refunds. Two players were told that the $100 fines assessed for curfew violations the last weekend of the season were being deducted from their checks for finishing in second place.

"I think that with $1,200 in their pockets instead of the $10,000 they could have gotten from the World Series, their thinking may change between now and February," said Bavasi.

★ ★ ★

"My entire thinking changed during the World Series, and when I saw what happened there I knew we had a better ball club. But the Reds wanted to win it and we didn't."

It's Bubbling Over

JACKSON (UPI) — The daily double at Jackson Harness Raceway paid $108 last night as Bubbling Over took the first to pay $7.40 and longshot Tony DeSota returned $22.60 for the second. A crowd of 2,255 bet $118,877.

College Quints Get New Rules

Three Changes in Effect as Basketball Season Gets Ready to Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Three new rules and a code of conduct for coaches will be in effect when the college basketball season opens next month.

The changes were recommended by the National Association of Basketball Coaches and adopted by the National Basketball Committee of the U.S. and Canada last March. They will:

1. Eliminate free throws when a foul is called against a player on offense and in control of the ball. The fouled team will be given possession of the ball out of bounds as is now done in the professional leagues.

2. Stop the clock after every violation in order to give coaches greater opportunity to make substitutions.

3. Create a neutral and buffer zone along the free throw lane to separate the first and second players by a foot when they line up for free throws. The rule makers felt this would tend to lessen shoving.

Under the new conduct act, officials are instructed to penalize coaches or players on the bench who persist in stomping, throwing towels or committing other acts considered unsportsmanlike.

In an American League game between Detroit and St. Louis Oct. 1, 1916, the Tigers stole seven bases and the Browns eight.

EVERYBODY'S BOWLING

9—SENIOR TIPS

By ANDY VARIPAPA
Member Bowling Hall of Fame

Today's senior citizens are bowling like 60 . . . and 70 (that's me, pretty soon) . . . 80 . . . and up.

Harry Steers, who is 81, rolled in the ABC tournament last year. A member of the Bowling Hall of Fame since 1941, Harry has a lifetime average of 184 over 55 years.

Charlie Jahn, who bowls an average of 100 plus his age — 176 — two years ago formed the U. S. Senior Bowling Association. Thousands from every part of the nation have competed in USSBA tournaments since.

As senior member of Brunswick's advisory staff, I worked out with John a new set of instructions for seniors. We decided you can't tell older people to take the normal four steps and slide. We tell them to take four flat-footed steps and roll the ball. This method may not look pretty, but it gets the job done.

"Confidence," Jahn says, "is the first step for older people. Most people over 60 let their minds slow down their bodies."

While we must never give up trying for strikes, it is well for seniors to remember that spares, which require less zip and punch in rolling, are easier for elders and can be the keystone of high scores. Devote as much time to the spare as you do to the strike. Analyze the shot, relax and concentrate.

The illustration shows a 4-7 spare. Take it from the right side, so your delivery will send the ball into the right side of the 4 pin, causing it to hit the 7.

TAKE IT from the right side.

Pick Champ Brown Fighter of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—World lightweight champion Joe Brown was named "Fighter of the Month" by Ring Magazine, which announced its monthly ratings today.

* * *

Brown successfully defended his title with a unanimous decision over Bert Somodio, junior welterweight champion of the Orient, last week. It was his 11th championship defense, a division record.

* * *

Among those who moved up in the ratings was Sugar Ray Robinson, who defeated Wilfie Greaves and Denny Moyer in his comeback drive for a shot at the middleweight crown.

Larsen, Simmons Best Hitting Pitchers

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Larsen of the Chicago White Sox and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals topped the major league pitchers in batting during the 1961 baseball season.

Larsen, who started the campaign with Kansas City, led the American League hurlers at bat with a .311 average, statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The big right-handed swinger collected 14 hits in 45 at bats.

* * *

Simmons, a southpaw hitter, bated .303 in pacing National League pitchers. A former Philadelphia Whiz Kid who found the comeback trail with the Cards, Simmons delivered 20 hits in 66 trips.

Larsen, renowned for his no-hit perfect game in the World Series of 1956 while with the New York Yankees, is used frequently as a pinchhitter and seen spot service in the outfield. In 1953, Larsen, then with the old St. Louis Browns, set a major league record for most consecutive hits by a pitcher, seven.

* * *

Only two of Larsen's 1961 hits were for extra bases, but they were both home runs. One was a pinch-hit homer, the only one by a pitcher in the majors. Larsen also batted in eight runs.

Simmons, a .213 batsman a year ago, produced three extra-base hits, all doubles. He had six RBI.

Kansas City's Joe Nuxhall ranked second in the American League with a .292 average on 19 for 65. Frank Baumann of the White Sox was third with .262. He had 16 hits in 61 at bats.

* * *

Jerry Walker of Kansas City, the major league leader last season with a .368 average, dipped to fourth at .250 in 1961.

Ray Sadecki of St. Louis was runner-up to Simmons with a .253 average, going 22-for-87. Los Angeles' Johnny Podres woud up third with 16 for 69 and a .232 mark.

An Equitable Base Necessary

Can Competition Be Too Hard to Handle?

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Only the desperate and heroic efforts of firemen saved the lives of two brothers, aged 9 and 10, from almost certain death as fire swept through their frame home recently.

The fire was the work of an efficient arsonist, almost 8 years old.

DR. NASON

His motive? He was convinced that he needed to get rid of his brothers and he couldn't find any other way to do it.

Was this the abnormal act of a psychopathic child? Jimmy — that's not his name — was committing an act that was much too close to psychopathic for comfort. But Jimmy's actions were also frighteningly close to normal.

It would be more accurate to say that Jimmy was a very troubled little boy, trying to solve a problem that was much too big for him.

Jimmy never told the whole story—that was beyond his ability. But authorities got enough information to piece together Jimmy's point of view.

HE WAS ENVIOUS

In a nutshell, Jimmy's two brothers were successful, and he wasn't.

Before Jimmy even started school he was used to hearing his parents praise his brothers. They were doing well in school and the parents were so pleased that their success became a proud topic of conversation.

Jimmy was different. For reasons quite beyond his control school was a problem for him. He wasn't short on intelligence, but he was certainly lacking in confidence.

He was so paralyzed by the fear that he couldn't live up to the reputation of his brothers that he couldn't really think about much else. As might be expected, he met with crushing defeat.

Why take it out on his brothers? A child's logic rarely follows adult patterns. He needed the praise and esteem of his parents; his brothers were getting it. To him it seemed that they were his only obstacle.

We can be grateful that such cases are rare. At least, cases that lead to such terrifying results are rare. The feelings aren't. Any teacher can list cases in which children, and their work, suffer from this kind of problem.

★ ★ ★

Like most problems, these are easier to avoid than to solve.

Most parents are fair. Most realize that each child in the family needs and deserves to be loved for himself, not just for what he does.

It is easy to be proud of a child who deserves special recognition for outstanding performance. It is hard to equalize the attention when other children in the family need it, too. But it can be done, in ways that will make each member of the family comfortable and proud of the whole family.

Competitions that develop between brothers and sisters can be good. Such competition works best when it develops automatically between the children. But trouble may appear when parents try to begin it or urge it on.

★ ★ ★

Then competition for its own sake becomes a contest for the approval of the parents. No child should be asked to risk losing his parents' love.

★ ★ ★

These things aren't always easy to remember, but there is one simple precaution. Be sure there is a basis for competition. It sounds simple, but it's often missed. Some children are blessed with more ability, or different abilities than others. Build up the best qualities of each. Mary may get better grades than Johnny, but Johnny swims a whole lot better.

★ ★ ★

Potential troubles may be avoided if you take a few minutes to list the strongest nad weakest qualities of each of your children. You may be surprised at the differences! You may discover where each child needs praise, where he needs encouragement and ways in which he needs your help.

(Address your questions to Dr. Nason in care of this paper. He will discuss questions of general interest in his column.)

Educators Plan Higher Budget

Will Hand Legislature Package Request for $367 Million

SAGINAW (AP) — A recommendation that the school aid formula be increased 8 per cent is expected to be adopted at a Michigan Education Association board of directors meeting next week, according to Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, MEA executive director.

Kennedy said Thursday the state's major education groups were expected to join forces in presenting the legislature in January with a kindergarten-through-12th grade financing package totaling about $367 million.

He said this was about $37 million more than allotted this year and was exclusive of any money requested for community or four-year colleges.

Richard H. Adams, MEA legislative consultant, told an MEA Region 16 meeting here Thursday that the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan Association of School Administrators had agreed on the 8 per cent improvement in the present formula but had not yet adopted it officially.

★ ★ ★

He said the improvement would provide an increase of about $22 million for school districts over this year.

In addition, the package would contain about $10 million for normal enrollment increases, about $4 million more for teacher retirement and about $1 million more for special education.

Pershing Missile Proves Ability to Hold Course

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Flying a zig-zag course that demonstrated its ability to withstand violent wind gusts, a Pershing artillery missile has scored its 21st success in 23 test firings.

★ ★ ★

The missile darted 250 miles down range Thursday night. Preplanned erratic maneuvers were built into the controls to test the ability of the inertial guidance system to return the missile to proper course.

The missile is scheduled for deployment in Western Europe next year.

Bank Befuddled Before Sam Sees Slight Slip

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sam Stein went back to his bank Thursday to correct an error.

Stein, who operates a messenger service, sent his secretary to the bank Wednesday to get a money order for $39.80.

She returned with a money order for $700,039.80, and the mistake went unnoticed until Thursday. When Stein went back to the bank, officials told him auditors had been up all night trying to find the $700,000 error.

Heaviest in Week

Record Trading Is Observed

NEW YORK (AP)—The heaviest trading in weeks prevailed in an irregularly rising stock market early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 at 259.60 with industrials up .20, rails up .40 and utilities up .20.

If the gain were held until the close, the AP average would be at a new historic high.

★ ★ ★

While most key stocks made moderate gains, there were many losers. The most noteworthy feature of the session was the increase in volume, promising to top yesterday's which was the largest in about a month. The ticker tape ran as much as three minutes behind transactions in the morning.

The price structure was irregularly higher at best and some gains were trimmed as the session wore on. Brokers attributed this to preweekend caution.

Optimism was fed by Chrysler's agreement with the auto union, averting a strike scheduled for last midnight. Motors, however, made only moderate gains. Major steelmakers tended to ease. Gains in tobaccos, airlines, chemicals, coppers, and rails helped the averages.

Chrysler, ahead more than a point at the start, cut its gain to under a point. Ford added a fraction and General Motors was steady.

U.S. Bonds Slide Down

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bond prices tumbled today in response to the treasury's decision to include a long term bond in its November refunding.

Price movements were jumbled at the start but the trend was definitely downward in both long and intermediate sections. Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange opened mixed.

The 13-year bond offered late Thursday to holders of the maturing 2⅛S of November 1961 was at a discount price of 99 plunged a full 1¼ points. At the close Thursday they had been quoted in open market trading at around 100 5/16.

Losses of other long bonds ran around ½ point while some of the high-coupon intermediates fell 4/32 to 6/32. Prices see-sawed rapidly as investors figured the angles on the $7.8-billion treasury borrowing.

Paper Sees Dip in Auto Output

Production Decreases From Last Week, But Still Higher Than '60

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News says domestic automakers will build 152,327 cars this week, down 4.4 per cent from last week but 4.7 per cent higher than production in the same week a year ago.

The industry built 159,282 cars last week and 145,422 in the same 1960 week.

The trade paper said Thursday truck output this week would total 6,865 units, up 5.4 per cent over the 25,479 built last week and 49.4 per cent higher than the 17,983 units built in the same 1960 week.

It said October auto production was 557,915 units, a gain of 61.4 per cent over the 345,694 turned out in September. Compact cars accounted for 36.3 per cent of October assembler with 202,397 units.

Canadian makers will produce an estimated 8,762 cars and 1,070 trucks this week, compared with 8,043 and 996 the previous week and 6,556 cars and 972 trucks in the same 1960 week.

Grain Prices Move in a Narrow Range

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices turned generally within small fractions of previous closes today in early transactions on the board of trade.

The feed grains again showed a tendency toward firmness, supported by scattered processor buying. Activity in the wheat pit continued dull.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joseph E. Gramville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the current expectation is that November will be a better month for the market than October — possibly the best since the summer upturn was terminated.

This expectation, the analyst says, takes into account a furtherance of tax-selling pressures and some lower prices, but the year-end turn for the better may be recorded this month.

While the type of stock which has been doing the best is largely found in the tobacco, food, drug, cosmetic, coal, store and utility groups, it is important to point out that this circle of strength is now expanding rather than contracting, Granville adds.

Goodbody & Co. says free silver reserves of the Treasury are now down to about 45 million ounces and it expects momentarily that the government will announce that the Treasury will stop selling the metal at 91½ cents. "A near term rise in the price of silver should thus be expected."

Fisher of Clark, Dodge & Co. says tobacco stocks, with one exception, appear high relative to other industries considering the three "risks" involved.

— The American Heart Association indicates that cigarette smoking may be linked to heart disease.

— Revival of a cancer suit adds some nearby uncertainty.

— Rumors continue that A&P and Grand Union are considering entering the field of private brand supermarket cigarette brands which would undersell standard packs by 4 cents or about 14 per cent.

Laggard and mostly underpriced oil issues especially the refining group, should get a nice boost from a penny a gallon gasoline price boost announced by two midcontinent producers with others to follow, Thomson & McKinnon think.

Chevrolet Has 50th Birthday

GM Division Celebrates Long-Time Leadership in Volume Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet, a firm once told that it "could not hope to compete in its field," today celebrates its 50th anniversary.

★ ★ ★

It has been 31 years since a firm of industrial engineers recommended to General Motors Corp. that the division be liquidated. Since then, Chevrolet has become the world's biggest volume automaker.

Founded in Detroit by William C. Durant, Chevrolet became a part of GM in 1918. It became the biggest selling passenger car for the first time in 1930 and has repeated every year since with three exceptions — 1935, 1957 and 1959.

In 50 years Chevrolet has manufactured more than 45 million cars and trucks. It holds the record for the most cars sold in one year (1,692,361 in 1960) and the most trucks sold in one year (414,496 in 1950.)

★ ★ ★

Sales for 1962 are estimated by General Manager Ed Cole at 1.9 million cars and 400,000 trucks.

Whirlpool Corp. President Takes Post With Ward

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Elisha Gray II held dual posts today as Whirlpool Corp. president and chairman of the board after the resignation of Robert E. Brooker, who left the presidency to assume a similar role with Montgomery Ward and Co.

Brooker's move was announced Thursday. He joined Whirlpool in May, 1958, and is a former vice president of Sears Roebuck and Co. His move to the Ward post was accompanied by simultaneous announcement of his resignation as a director of Sears.

Whirlpool markets a large share of its appliance products under a private brand name to the Sears firm.

2 Redmond Plants Struck at Owosso

OWOSSO (AP)—The two Owosso plants of Redmond Co. were struck Thursday by United Auto Workers Local 743 to back up the union's new contract demands.

The union rejected the company's latest new contract offer Wednesday night. Negotiations on the pact began last May.

The company offer included a profit sharing plan as well as wage increases ranging from three cents an hour for women to five cents an hour for men and ten cents for skilled workers.

The union sought a five per cent increase for women and six per cent for men.

Seek to Protect Investing Public

SEC Adopts New Advertising Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a move to protect the investing public, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) laid down Thursday five tough new rules governing advertising by investment advisers.

They will go into effect Jan. 1, 1962.

The SEC adopted them under the antifraud provisions of the Investment Advisers Act which prohibits investment advisers from engaging in "fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative practices."

The SEC said "investment advisers are professionals and should adhere to a stricter standard of conduct than that applicable to merchants."

"Securities are 'intricate merchandise,' and clients or prospective clients of investment advisers are frequently unskilled and unsophisticated in investment matters," it said.

REGULATES SALES

The agency regulates sales of stock to the public, brokerage houses, investment advisers and other aspects of the securities business.

These are the rules laid down by the SEC:

—No advertisements may contain a testimonial of any kind. Such advertising is misleading because it emphasizes "comments and activities favorable to the investment adviser and ignores those which are unfavorable. This is true even when the testimonials are unsolicited and are printed in full."

—Advertisements may not refer to specific recommendations the adviser has made in the past. They may, however, list all recommendations made within the past year or more. Such a list must include relevent stock prices.

TO RESTRICT CLAIMS

The commission said this rule is aimed at preventing advisers' telling the public only of recommendations which would have been profitable.

—No advertisement may represent that any chart, graph, or formula or other device "can in and of itself be used to make investment" decisions. Any advertising a device to help make investment decisions must prominently disclose its "limitations" and difficulties.

—No ad may falsely offer a report, analysis or service without charge or obligation.

★ ★ ★

—Any advertisement containing an untrue statement of fact, or which is otherwise false or misleading, is a violation of the Investment Advisers Act.

The SEC defined advertisement to include written communications to more than one person and announcements in any publication or over radio or TV.

The SEC said it postponed the effective date of the new regulations to Jan. 1 to "avoid unnecessary complications" in the case of advertisements already committed.

State AMVETS in Pontiac for Both Business and Fun

A weekend combining both business and pleasure awaits the nearly 500 post and auxiliary officials who arrive in Pontiac today for the statewide fall conference of Michigan AMVETS.

Besides electing officers and holding post officer training courses, the AMVETS will attend a banquet and dance tomorrow in Pontiac and take part in a bowling tournament and polo match Sunday in Waterford Township.

Arrangements for the 7th annual fall conference of the World War II and Korean veterans' organization were handled by Robert C. Adsit, 410 First St., Pontiac, commander of the 3rd District (Oakland County) AMVETS.

Assisting him are Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Burton, 2905 Mapleridge Road, Highland Township; Mrs. Mary Emsley, 1886 Woodland Drive, West Bloomfield Township; and State Commander Peter M. Cubra of Detroit.

TO RECEIVE AWARD

Burton, past state commander of the AMVETS, and his wife Shirley, herself a former sergeant in the Women's Marine Corps, will receive an award at 1 p.m. on behalf of the unique Married Couples Post No. 1.

The Married Couples Post, including many members from Oakland County, is the only AMVET post in the nation made up of husbands and wives who both are war veterans.

Mrs. Burton also will donate a contribution from District 3 for use in the child welfare field in Oakland County. It will be presented to Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore who is slated to be keynote speaker of the veterans' conclave tomorrow.

DINNER AND DANCE

Adsit's planning committee has scheduled the banquet and dance for tomorrow evening at the Roosevelt Hotel, 125 N. Perry St., which will be headquarters for the conference.

The AMVETS conclave opens tonight with a meeting of its State Service Foundation Board, the body responsible for all of the organization's fund raising activities in the state.

Tonight also will be the time for the annual State Scrimmage of Sad Sacks, the entertainment and charitable group within the AMVETS.

On Sunday, the concluding day of the conference, the AMVETS singles bowling tourney will be held at noon at the Huron Bowl, 2525 Elizabeth Lake Road, followed by a benefit polo match at 2:30 p.m. at the Klentner Riding Academy, 6525 Willow Road.

Finnish Head Arrives Home

Red Demand to Talk of Military Pact Waits for Troubled President

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — Finnish Presidet Urho Kekkonen arrived home today on a polar flight from Los Angeles to tackle a crisis created by Russia's demand for military consultations because of an alleged threat of war posed by West Germany.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet note, which has confronted Kekkonen with one of the most difficult problems of his career, was relayed to him while he was vacationing in Hawaii.

Talks among Finnish government leaders already were in process. They were presided over by Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen, who rushed back from Hawaii two days ago.

In Paris French officials said Russia may be seeking to drag Finland into the Communist bloc and to put pressure at the same time on neighboring Sweden.

Another reason, they said, could be that the Soviets may be trying to get Finland to recognize Communist East Germany and to join the Communist bloc nations when they sign a peace treaty with the East Germans.

American sources said the United States believes most of the free nations would come to the aid of Finland with political — and possibly military — aid if the Soviet Union attemps to force the Finnish government into a defense pact.

Miller at MSU Eyes Post Outside State

EAST LANSING (AP)—Paul A. Miller, provost at Michigan State University, says he is considering an offer of the presidency of a state university outside Michigan.

Miller, who would not name the other school, said he had made no formal decision as to whether or not he would accept.

"The matter should be resolved one way or the other in the very near future," he said.

Campus sources mentioned five possible schools — with Indiana University and the University of Wes Virginia high on the list.

Any announcement would have to come from the governing body of the university, Miller said. He has been provost—chief academic officer at MSU — since 1959.

CBS Pops the Cork on Fermenting Brazil

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brazil, where the nuts and coffee come from, also is the source of some vigorous and eloquent TV documentaries.

Thursday night, "CBS Reports" presented a study called, "Brazil—the Rude Awakening" which succeeded in giving us fair warning that Brazil is, as the pundits say, in dangerous ferment. The formula is familiar: A feudal system that breeds poverty is being challenged by a rekindled egalitarian spirit among the younger generations. And, of course, the situation is further irritated by the eagerness of the Communists to fan the flames in the name of Fidel Castro.

"The Rude Awakening," produced by Stephen Fleischman, with Eric Sevareid as narrator, utilized interviews, action film and commentary to brief us on Brazil's economic needs, political problems and East-West posture. There were visits to the Northeast, where two pounds of meat cost a peasant about three days' pay. We visited Brasilia, the futuristic capital and toured the crowded — but new — slums around the city. We also saw the contrasts of wealth and poverty in Rio de Janeiro and Recife.

Camera work was brisk. Sevareid would end a comment with, ". . . or else this country will explode" and wham, the scene would cut to a shouting, explosive mob.

The hour didn't lack for generalized comment, opinion and statement-making camera work, but it somehow failed to pin down specifics in the government's program and present a shirtsleeve, cohesive picture of the government's drive.

Sevaried summed up by predicting chaos if Brazil's present government fails. "When the illusion dies, it is a rude awakening," he said. He added this bit of advice, "God, and under her new policies, the U. S. government, helps those who help themselves."

Anyhow, if Brazil goes under, it won't be because of apathy on the part of our producers of TV documentaries.

DIALING AND FILING

"My Three Sons," with a bittersweet flashback showing Fred MacMurray as a love-smitten high school boy, 1931 vintage, came along with a slick episode that was tastefully done and effectively sentimental.

★ ★ ★

"Hazel," with Shirley Booth, provided a sales pitch for color TV Thursday night, but oh, so witless and tedious in its execution. The scripts are unable to sustain a balance between warmth and impudence. Hazel, to be blunt, strikes me as a selfish, nagging busybody who has no regard for anyone's privacy. How does Don DeFore stand his "awesome servant?"

Burroughs Corp. Gets AF Missile Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Burroughs Corp. said Thursday it had been awarded a $1 million contract by the U. S. Air Force to develop a radio guidance control system for a Dyna-Soar missile.

Burroughs said the Dyna-Soar project was aimed at developing a "manned military space craft capable of maneuverable re-entry into the atmosphere and controlled landing on the earth."

Taylor Reports on S. Viet Nam

Seeing Kennedy Today on Red Guerrilla Action in Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor returns from his Southeast Asia mission today to give President Kennedy his ideas for bolstering South Viet Nam against growing Communist guerrilla assaults.

The President's special military adviser was scheduled to report to the Chief Executive at the White House at 4 p.m. EST.

Taylor's recommendations for a "crash" program and the President's subsequent action may mark a turning point in U.S. strategy in Southeast Asia, where Communist forces now control a considerable portion of Laos and are punching out new gains in neighboring South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Taylor has declined to say whether he will recommend sending U.S. military forces to the republic of Viet Nam. But his public remarks have indicated he sees no need to commit any large number of American combat forces to that country at this time.

★ ★ ★

Some officials believe, on the basis of information from the field, that Taylor may recommend token U.S. forces in a supply and logistic capacity, but they acknowledge that a proposal for combat units cannot be ruled out if the situation worsens.

First Cold Wave Whips Midwest

Winds Out of Rockies End Unusual Spell of Warm Weather

By The Associated Press

The season's first cold wave, moving out of the northern Rockies, whipped across the central part of the nation today, ending a spell of unseasonable warm weather.

The cold air, powered by gusty northwesterly winds, extended from Wisconsin to Eastern Oklahoma and Northern Texas and headed eastward and southward.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures dropped rapidly as the icy blasts hit sections of the Midwest and West. Readings were 20 to 40 degrees lower than early Thursday from the Northern Plains and Upper Mississippi Valley into Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and the West Gulf Coast.

★ ★ ★

Near zero weather again was reported in Northern Montana as temperatures in the teens made it wintry-like as far south as Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado.

Light snow fell in the cold air from Minnesota and Northwest Wisconsin into Northeast Kansas. More snow piled up in the Dakotas where falls measured nearly a foot in some areas. Rains changed to snow in Northeast New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle.

Teacher Creates Games to Reduce Boredom in Math

HONOLULU (AP) — School-teacher John Flanagan of Adelaide, Australia, who once taught mathematics with a dartboard, believes arithmetic can be run.

★ ★ ★

He hopes soon to publish a numbers dictionary and textbooks "to eliminate completely all work, drudgery and boredom from arithmetic and make it fun and games for the kiddies."

Flanagan started making arithmetic games 16 years ago when he taught in a one-room schoolhouse in the bush country of Australia. His system — concentrating on making arithmetic a numbers game involving practical objects.

"For a while I taught arithmetic by having my students throw darts at a board and then work problems involving the scores," he said. "The game element is terrific but the school inspector made me give it up. He said it was too dangerous."

Flanagan said he accomplished the same objective by devising a deck of numbered playing cards for children. "They're not nearly as dangerous as darts — if you don't get the habit."

Hears Ranchers' Favorite Story

JFK Gets Fast Course on Raising Cattle

BY MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House:

★ ★ ★

The other afternoon at his state-size ranch outside Poteau, Okla., Sen. Robert S. Kerr told his house guest, President Kennedy, a story about conditions in the beef cattle industry a few years ago.

Quite obviously the Democratic senator was referring to beef prices during part of the Eisenhower administration which Kerr recalls in somewhat bristling terms.

Said one cattleman to another, "If beef prices go down much more, I'm going to have to rob a bank."

"In all confidence," said the other, "I already have."

★ ★ ★

Not to blacken Kerr's cattle-raising acumen, even the President conceded rather humorously that the senator's success could not be duplicated precisely in other comparative waste lands.

★ ★ ★

Kerr, with the help of a considerable fortune acquired in oil and natural gas, was able to take marginal acreage near lifeless old Oklahoma mountain country coal mines, clear it, fertilize it, water it and thus supply productive pasturage for his finely assembled herd of Black Angus cattle.

★ ★ ★

This is the breed fancied by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm which is opulent, but opulent in Gettysburg. It would be a tiny spread in Oklahoma.

GETS FAST COURSE

Considering his New England upbringing, Kennedy could not be expected to know some of the ramifications of the cattle industry, but he got a jam-packed short course in his overnight stay with Kerr.

Among other things, Kerr told the Chief Executive about the virtual disappearance of grass-fed beef from most retail groceries.

Cattlemen differe among themselves on this point, but many Americans for years ate grass-fed cattle and liked it; even preferred it to the more conventional steers which are started out in life in places such as Texas and Oklahoma, then shipped to the upper Middle West for feeding and final growth on grain.

Kerr said now virtually all beef for retail sale must be grain-fed for a simple reason: With the exploding spread of supermarkets, their serve-yourself meat counters and the meat wrapped in transparent plastic film, housewives take a good look at their steaks before buying.

This did grass-fed beef in. Fat in grain-finished beef is white; in grass-fed beef, yellow, sometimes slightly greenish yellow.

And except in times of shortage or when the butcher doesn't offer particularly close inspection for the customer, most housewives, it seems, want their beef fat white.

Many cattlemen, according to Kerr, think this is foolish and unjustified by taste or texture, but they're not about to quarrel too strenuously with the vast body of American purchasers.

HIS HOLIDAYS

At Newport, R. I., where the President has spent several holidays this year, his neighbors were Navy families living in Bretton Village, a government housing area adjoining the estate of Mrs. Kennedy's parents.

The Navy families thought having the Kennedys next door was simply peachy — in the daytime. At night, their enthusiasm dimmed a trifle.

Some of the neighbors reported their kids were howling bloody murder at night when extra Marine sentries, on duty because of the Chief Executive's close proximity, shined flashlights into the bedrooms of quarters nearest the fence between government property and the estate where the President was sleeping.

Indonesians Study Hotel Administration

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twenty young Indonesians are studying hotel administration in on-the-job training programs in New York hotels.

★ ★ ★

The 20 are graduates of the Indonesian Government Hotel School in Bandung. They are living in the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn and taking special evening courses at the Community College of Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

During the day, they work in some of New York's best-known hotels, including the Astor, Commodore, St. Moritz, Pierre, Biltmore, Barclay and Hampshire House.

Bread Costs May Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American consumer may have to pay a penny more a loaf soon for bread, according to some industry officials. This price would come despite the record 1.4 billion bushels of wheat stockpiled in federal warehouses. Bakery officials say very little of this wheat is suitable for bakery use.

Girl Conducts Safety Drive, Hits TV Station

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Safety first is the motto of 10-year-old Elizabeth Ann Cooke of Charlotte. And, thanks to her letter, it also is the motto of a Charlotte television station.

★ ★ ★

She wrote the station "you are not being very helpful" in teaching safety to viewers. She said she objected to a brief commercial plugging the station's news programs which showed, among other things, a burning cigarette and an open package of matches.

★ ★ ★

For safety's sake, Miss Cooke wrote the station, "put the cigarette in an ashtray and shut up the matches." The station said it had done more than that — it had discarded the slide entirely.

UF Gifts Aid Work of Visiting Nurses

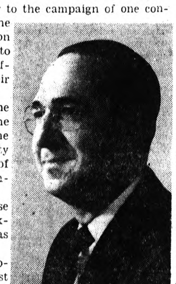
Maurice Barnett, well-known retail merchant and community leader, urges support of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign in the following statement:

★ ★ ★

"Many contributors to the United Fund assume their responsibility without too great a knowledge of the agencies of our community that are served by their contributions.

One of the most active, most important and that serves a tremendous number of people, both young and old, is the Visiting Nurse Association.

"For many years prior to the campaign of one contribution that serves all, the Visiting Nurse Association operated independently to help those who could not afford such benefits on their own.



MAURICE BARNETT

"The many hours the nurses worked and the time devoted by the many fine women in this community who served as directors of this service are almost immeasurable.

"Today, with the increase in our population in Oakland County, its work has become more extensive.

"The Visiting Nurse Association has the third largest budget of all agencies operating under the United Fund. Your contribution plays an important part in giving assistance to those who would otherwise be deprived of aid.

"Be generous, help support this campaign."

Con-Con Squabble Gives Kirvan Top Publicity Job

A public relations man from Birmingham has landed a like job with the constitutional convention after a partisan fight kept the position from Charles A. Ferry, former publicist for the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

Ferry, 35, of 165 Wimpole Road, Rochester, later was named research assistant after a 94-37 vote which went along party lines. Ferry was originally proposed for the top job.

Getting the top post—which was the first staff position out of more than 70 already filled which has caused any difficulty when it came up for approval on the floor—was Stuart Kirvan, 42, of 695 Hanna St.

Kirvan will hold the title of assistant director of public information. He is a partner in a Detroit public relations firm.

He will assist the committee on public information and its chairman, delegate Ink White, R-St. Johns.

One of those opposed to Ferry getting the top job which will pay $1,000-a-month, the same pay as a delegate, was Lee Walker, D-Madison Heights.

OPPOSED FERRY

Walker, who along with some other Democrats believed Ferry too partisan for the job. They also opposed Ferry getting the research assistant position.

Walker told the committee on administration, which recommended hiring Ferry, that giving Ferry the job was a subterfuge to cover up a case of party patronage.

"This was a decision of the Republican State Central Committee," Walker said. Walker is the only Democrat among seven Oakland County con-con delegates.

★ ★ ★

Along with Ferry, the convention approved hiring two other research assistants, Edward Walsh, 35, and Theodis Gay, both of Detroit. Their pay was not determined.

★ ★ ★

After the squabble the convention adjourned until Monday evening.

Son Is Born to Margaret and the Earl

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret gave birth to a son today and her husband said she was thrilled and delighted.

First to see the baby—after the doctors and nurses—was the father, the Earl of Snowdon, the former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Coming from the royal maternity suite in Clarence House, he exclaimed to a member of the household: "The princess and I are absolutely thrilled and delighted."

His son—fifth in line to the British throne—was born Viscount Linley.

WEIGHT UNKNOWN

The infant's weight was not announced immediately.

An official announcement said "mother and son are doing well."

"It's a sweet baby," said a member of the household.

The child was born in the room in Clarence House that Princess Margaret once used as a bedroom. She lived at the house, home of the queen mother, until her marriage May 6, 1960. Both she and her husband are 31.

★ ★ ★

Crowds cheered outside Clarence House. The Scots Guards bagpipe band marched by filling the air with music.

★ ★ ★

The news of the birth were relayed quickly to Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Congratulations began pouring in.

Lord Evans 58, one of the five medical men who attended the princess, broke the news to the father.

TONY SENT ROSES

Before the baby's birth at 10:45 a.m. Tony sent Margaret an armload of red roses. He repeated the order after the birth.

A Clarence House spokesman announced:

"Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret, Countess Snowdon, was safely delivered of a son at 10:45 a.m. today."

A moment later an official posted the bulletin on the gate of Clarence House.

★ ★ ★

The bulletin was signed by the four court physicians in attendance at the birth: Sir John Peel, gynecologist to the queen and the princess; anesthetist Vernon Hall, Sir John Weir and Lord Evans.

Warren was about the only Republican Truman had any kind words for during his brief but active stay. Warren, said Truman, "is a good one."

Chrysler, UAW Okay Contract, Avert Walkout

Union, Company Reach Agreement 50 Minutes Before Deadline

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement on a new three-year labor contract Thursday night, averting a strike.

The Chrysler pact brought peace between the UAW and all the automakers, except the small Studebaker-Packard. Three-year contracts previously had been negotiated by General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the Chrysler agreement, which came only 50 minutes before the company's 60,000 UAW-represented employes were to strike at midnight in support of demands, was essentially the same as that reached at GM and Ford.

Reuther and Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary announced verbal agreement and said they would initial the contract as soon as technicians completed writing language acceptable to both sides. The technicians still were working eight hours later and Reuther and Leary still were standing by.

The union estimated that the Ford and GM contracts were worth more than 12 cents hourly in take-home pay over each year.

They immediately added a minimum of 5 cents to gross pay, raising that to an average of $2.85 hourly for the industry's production workers.

This, plus company assumption of the full cost of hospital-medical insurance and other improvements in fringe benefits figured in the UAW estimate the contracts were worth more than 12 cents in take-home pay.

Chrysler was the only member of the automotive Big Three to settle without a strike, and even it had one premature walkout. Some 50 left their jobs at an assembly plant in Newark, Del., at 9 p.m., but UAW chiefs said day shift workers reported on schedule.

Both GM and Ford were crippled for two weeks by strikes in support of local-level demands, even after a national package had been settled.

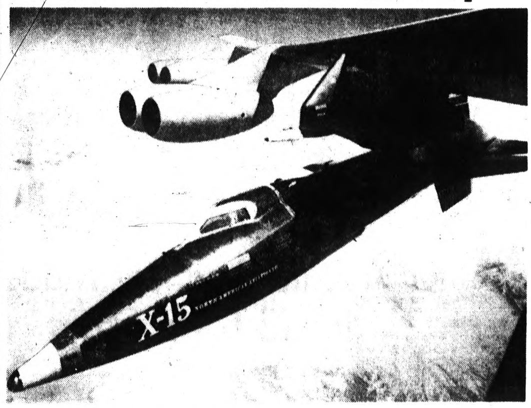
Test Plane Leaves Mother Ship



AP Photofax

RELEASE ROCKET PLANE — This in how the bulletlike test plane X15 looks to the crew of the B52 mother ship at release. The sleek black research plane has been poised for weeks to make an attempt to break both its own speed and altitude records. Separate flights to reach these objectives were scheduled today.

4,100 M.P.H. and 50 Miles Up

Attempting 2 X15 Records

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Two separate X15 records—4,100 miles an hour and 50 miles high—were scheduled to be attempted today by a pair of pilots flying different rocket planes.

Weather—which has caused repeated delays in the all-out speed trial—was the principal reason both flights were set for the same day.

In the first one, Air Force Maj. Robert White, 37, was set for an attempt at six times the speed of sound.

If White's flight goes well, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) pilot Joe Walker was to try for 250,000 feet some six hours later.

★ ★ ★

White has flown the stub-winged rocket ship to an altitude of 41 miles while Walker holds the current man-controlled aircraft speed mark of 3,920 m.p.h.

Should both flights succeed, the X15 would surpass both the speed and altitude goals set by the X15's designers.

Different B52 bombers were ready to carry the X15s to the launch point, 45,000 feet over Tonopah, Nev.

While White was to pull all stops, Walker planned to shut down the 57,000-pound thrust rocket engine after 81 seconds of burning time. White was to let it use all 83 seconds of fuel.

Neither flight was expected to last more than 12 minutes, but the six hours between flights was the minimum needed by some 150 men who support the flights.

Board Discusses PCH League Ties

The Pontiac Board of Education was told last night by School Athletics Director Hollie Lepley it was possible to save money by entering the Pontiac Central High football team in leagues closer to home.

★ ★ ★

But the board took no action to remove PCH from the Saginaw Valley League.

Lepley opposed withdrawal from the league. He argued that PCH "has not been invited to participate in a local league" and was not wanted for competition with most Oakland County schools.

Pontiac Press Sports Editor Bruno Kearns, countered it was up to Pontiac to show it now has an interest in county association. He said:

★ ★ ★

"PCH is the outcast of the Saginaw Valley by mileage. It is the outcast of Oakland County by attitude and recognition. That attitude is something that shouldn't grow stronger."

Beleaguered Molotov Drives to Embassy

VIENNA (AP) — V. M. Molotov emerged from seclusion today for the first time since the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow called for his expulsion from the party.

★ ★ ★

Stalin's longtime associate, who now is the Soviet representative with the International Atomic Energy Agency, left his apartment after six days there and drove to the Soviet Embassy.

He stayed at the embassy about 15 minutes and avoided newsmen. But his visit to the embassy aroused speculation he would return to Moscow soon.

Ground Is Broken for Medical Building

The long-planned million dollar medical building for doctors in the Pontiac General Hospital area moved off the designing board yesterday.

Doctors gathered at the South Johnson Street site across from the hospital to break ground for the three-story building.

The structure is being financed by a group of some 25 area doctors who form Pontiac Medical Building, Inc. With construction beginning immediately, the Medical Office Center is slated for completion next August.

★ ★ ★

The building will house 25 doctors' offices with full facilities for out patient and diagnostic services, including X-ray and laboratory facilities and a pharmacy.

Cost of construction is estimated at $724,000. It will cost nearly $300,000 to fully equip the building.

Eroh and Friedman Architects, of Pontiac, designed the new medical center. Builders are J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac.

LARGE OFFICE SPACE

Office space will cover about 22,000 square feet. The structure will be Pontiac's largest, privately owned, multi-story office building erected in recent years.

Parking area is being cleared on several lots. The City Commission has ruled that the building cannot be 100 per cent occupied until suitable parking is available for a full complement of tenants.

Doctors have provided parking for over 50 per cent occupancy of the structure and currently plans are under way to clear more parking area. They said they expect to have full parking facilities completed for patients, doctors and employes when the building opens next summer.

★ ★ ★

Construction was originally slated to begin last spring. Plans were announced last December, but construction was delayed by problems in land acquisition and rezoning of the site.

BEGIN MEDICAL BUILDING — Groundbreaking ceremonies took place for a new million dollar medical building at 33 S. Johnson St. yesterday. Burmese Envoy Gets Free Hand Over Deputies

New Secretary Makes No Promises and Says Take It or Leave It

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council today recommended unanimously that Burma's U Thant be named acting secretary general of the world organization in place of the late Dag Hammarskjold.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant of Burma will be named acting secretary general of the United Nations today with a free hand to choose his chief assistants.

The Soviets backed down after trying to specify the number of principal deputies the Burmese ambassador would appoint and the areas from which they would be drawn.

The United States made a simliar retreat earlier this week.

The Security Council was called into a closed meeting this morning to recommend U Thant to fill out the term of Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed in a plane crash in Africa Sept. 18.

The General Assembly was to meet this afternoon to elect U Thant. He will serve until April 1963.

U Thant, 52, a quiet but determined diplomat, broke the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over the issue of his principal advisers by telling the big powers he would name "a limited number."

"TAKE OR LEAVE IT"

He refused to commit himself in advance to any particular number from any particular areas and told the Soviets and the Americans they could take it or leave it.

U Thant said he would also tell the assembly after his election that he would consult with his advisers on important questions and work with them "in a spirit of mutual understanding."

The Soviets originally demanded that the deputies have a virtual veto over the secretary general's decisions but abandoned this stand weeks ago.

DEPUTIES A PROBLEM

The United States and the Soviet Union also had agreed weeks ago that U Thant should get the job. But they could not agree on the nationalities of the deputies who officially will be closest to the new head of the U.N. secretariat.

"The Soviet Union favored seven chief deputies—an American, Soviet, Latin American, African, West European, East European and Asian. The United States, Britain and France favored five—

Walker Through With U.S. Army

General Will Resign, Having Lost Divisional Post; Served 30 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, stripped of his divisional command, says he is quitting the Army because "I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

Walker's decision to leave the Army was announced Thursday in a statement supplied to a Senate Armed Services subcommittee. The 51-year-old West Point graduate defended what he saw as a duty to speak out on communism and he will pass up retirement pay of more than $12,000 a year.

Walker said he was taking leave of military duty "with a heavy heart" and would "find other means of serving my country in the time of her great need, in order to pursue the dedication of a lifetime."

Later, in San Antonio, Tex., where his mother lives, Walker, a bachelor, declined to say whether he expected to enter politics. He said he was not ready to say, adding: "When my plans do develop I suspect I may have some statement to make."

In his 11-page statement issued in Washington, Walker, who also had been rebuked by the Army, said his removal last April as commander of the 24th Division destroyed his 30-year career "in its usefulness to my country."

In taking away Walker's command and dealing him an official rebuke, the Pentagon had said Walker violated Defense Department regulations, made "inflammatory and derogatory statements" about former President Harry S. Truman and other prominent figures and had tried to influence his troops' voting the last congressional elections.

Rusk Fears for World if Reds Win N-Struggle

HAKONE, Japan (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he does not believe "the world will be safe if nuclear superiority moves to those who intend to dominate the world."

Rusk recalled that at the recently concluded Soviet Communist Party Congress in Moscow, the prediction was made that the world would be dominated by communism by 1980.

Whoopee! Snowballs and Skating in Store

Turn up the thermostat and bring out more blankets.

A plunge of up to 40 degrees or more in the thermometer—mostly over a span of hours tonight—is in prospect. And snow is foreseen.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Pontiac temperatures at 68 this morning will tumble to a subfreezing 28 to 32 by late tonight or early Saturday. Tomorrow's high will be in the low 40s.

Rain will change to snow flurries during the changeover from mild to overcast conditions.

Rush N-Test Plans After Announcement

By United Press International

The United States began a high-speed program today to prepare for the resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere if President Kennedy deems it necessary.

★ ★ ★

Within hours after the President announced the orders Thursday, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported the Soviet Union had set off two more nuclear explosions at its Arctic testing ground.

Since breaking a three-year moratorium on tests Sept. 1, the Russians have set off an average of at least one nuclear explosion every other day — two of them in the supermegaton category.

Tass news agency immediately seized on Kennedy's announcement to justify the Russian tests.

It said Kennedy "tried to place on the Soviet Union the responsibility for this step of the U.S. government although it is known that the United States was the first to start the nuclear armaments race."

★ ★ ★

In Tokyo, two well-known Japanese educators, Masatoshi Matsushita, president of St. Paul's University, and Dr. Seija Kaya, president of Tokyo University, expressed "regrets" at the President's announcement.

Japanese Chief Cabinet Secretary Masayoshi Ohira said the Japanese government could "understand" America's position because of the continued Soviet nuclear testing.

"However," he said, "as the only nation in the world which experienced nuclear bombs, Japan opposes nuclear tests by any country."

Newspapers in fallout-conscious Japan splashed the statement across their front pages.

★ ★ ★

But in France, the Paris newspaper Paris Jour said the world would hold the Soviet Union responsible for any increase in fallout and President Kennedy's decision "will be well-received in the world."

SWEDEN REGRETS

In Stockholm, Swedish officials said privately that the U.S. decision was understandable in the light of Soviet tests but they regretted any raise in the level of radioactivity it might trigger.

Dr. Rudolf Moessbauer, one of the co-winners of the 1961 Nobel prize in Physics, said in Pasadena, Calif., that he opposes atmospheric nuclear testing because "so little is known abou living cells and mutations . . . we may never know the effects fully."

The 101-member main political committee of the United Nations General Assembly voted 72 to 21 Thursday for an appeal to the big powers for another voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing but the four nuclear nations — the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France — were among those that voted against it.

★ ★ ★

The United States had served clear advance warning that it would not again be caught in another such voluntary "trap" that the Russians could break at will. It has demanded a binding treaty with full inspection and controls.

Certificates of appreciation for outstanding contributions to the 1961 Education Crusade in the Pontiac area were presented to John Fitzgerald, editor of the Pontiac Press, who acted as general crusade chairman, Mrs. Leo Halfpenny, Mrs. Bernard Girard, Mrs. Charles Kistner and Mrs. Fitzgerald, who organized the city of Pontiac for a house-to-house educational crusade.

★ ★ ★

Turned Over to Federal Agents as Part of Ring Supplying Detroit Area

A Pontiac man has been turned over to federal agents in Detroit to face a narcotics charge in Laredo, Tex., involving several thousand dollars worth of heroin.

Manuel Lopez, 50, is one of four men being held today in connection with a narcotics ring that agents said supplied the Detroit area with thousands of dollars worth of marijuana and heroin.

Lopez was arrested Wednesday by Pontiac Police vice squad officers working with the FBI, state police and Detroit police.

He surrendered without a struggle in the Pontiac apartment of a girl friend, police said. They said Lopez had no present address in the city but had been living here in his car.

He is being held for conspiracy on a $25,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

Police said an arrest in Laredo in which a pound of heroin was conviscated led them to Lopez. They alleged that the dope was being transported by car to Lopez in Pontiac and that he was selling it in Detroit.

He has a past record of narcotics convictions, according to Pontiac police, who said they have been following his activities for the past four months.

Also being held as alleged members of the ring are Joseph Ramirez, 34, of Detroit; Jack Coley, 24, also of Detroit; and Jesse Odom, 28, who was arrested yesterday at Logansport, Ind.

★ ★ ★

U. S. District Judge Wade McCree Jr. said Coley and Ramirez will be tried in Detroit and Odom at South Bend, Ind., in U.S. District Court.

DOWN PAYMENT—Daniel W. Barry (right), Oakland County drain commissioner, accepts a check for $1 million from Frederick E. Tripp, deputy state highway commissioner. It's the highway department's first payment to the county to help finance construction of the $40 million 12-Town Drain. The brief ceremony took place yesterday.

State Payment Made for 12-Town Drain

The Oakland County Drain Commission got its first payment from the state highway department yesterday for construction of the proposed $40 million Twelve-Town Drain.

★ ★ ★

A check for $1 million was presented to Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

The highway department plans to make final payment of its $4.8-million apportionment next month, said Frederick E. Tripp, deputy commissioner. Tripp presented the check in a brief ceremony in Lansing.

Also present for the ceremony were chief engineers John E. Meyer of the highway department and Robert M. McGinnis of the county drain commission.

★ ★ ★

The project will be the largest of its kind ever built at one time in Michigan. Construction of the drain is scheduled to begin early next year following the sale of $33,675,000 in bonds.

Meyer said the 12-Town Drain will benefit the highway department because it provides drainage facilities for I75 freeway between Eight Mile and 11 Mile Roads.

★ ★ ★

"In addition," Meyer said, "the drain will also provide an important outlet for drainage when Eight Mile Road is widened during the second five-year construction program."

Democrats Set Annual Dinner

Deputy Director of AID to Be Main Speaker at Fund-Raising Affair

Oakland County Democrats next Friday night will hear a review of President Kennedy's "New Frontier" at their annual congressional dinner in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

They'll also learn about President Kennedy's consolidating control of all foreign aid under the Agency for International Development (AID) from its deputy director Frank M. Coffin.

Coffin, a lawyer and former Democratic congressman from Maine for two terms, will be main speaker at the $10-a-plate fund raising affair at the Elks Temple.

Proceeds from the dinner go toward campaign expenses for the 18th Congressional District's (Oakland County) candidate, unknown at this time.

★ ★ ★

For a master-of-ceremonies the Democrats have selected the state's newest member of the State Supreme Court, Otis Smith, former auditor general. He was appointed to the high bench by Gov. John B. Swainson only last month.

Coffin, the first Democrat from Maine to be elected in 22 years to Congress in 1956, is second-in-command of the consolidated AID which President Kennedy proposed to Congress in March.

Sander Levin, chairman of the 1961 dinner, said Gov. Swainson, members of his administrative board, U.S. Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, Democratic members of the State Supreme Court, and State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins are expected to attend the 6:30 p.m. dinner.

U. S. Assures Japan Share of Imports

HAKONE, Japan (AP) — The United States told Japan at the conclusion of Cabinet-level discussions on economic affairs today that they can expect a fair share of the $2-billion annual increase in U.S. imports the Kennedy administration anticipates.

But Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges warned that the United States "very soon will have to increase its exports tremendously" because present exports totaling $20 billion a year represent only 4 per cent of the nation's total production.

British RAF Jet Crashes, Burns on Highway; 6 Safe

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—A British Royal Air Force jet bomber crashed and burst into a wall of flames on a busy highway today moments after takeoff from Offutt Air Force Base.

A spokesman at Strategic Air Command (SAC) headquarters at Offutt said all six of the men aboard escaped with their lives.

excluding the East European and Asian.

On Wednesday the United States and Britain said they were willing to let U Thant decide—and France indicated approval. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, president of the Security Council this month, gave in Thursday without explanation and called the Security Council to meet to name Hammarskjold's successor.

★ ★ ★

U Thant, Burma's chief delegate here since 1957, emerged at the outset after Hammarskjold's death as the front-runner to become the third secretary general of the United Nations.

Trygve Lie of Norway was the first secretary general when the U.N. was founded 16 years ago with 51 members. He served until 1953—and left under a Soviet boycott.

Hammarskjold succeeded Lie and was also being boycotted by the Soviets when he was killed on a Congo peace mission.

Bar Up Sewers in East Berlin

Eleven More Slip Past Ever-Tightening Wire and Brick Curtain

BERLIN (AP)—Even the sewers of East Berlin are being barricaded to prevent refugees escaping, West Berlin police reported today.

Police said they had observed workers climbing into manholes to fit steel bars in the tunnel-like drainage pipes.

Built long ago, the drainage system takes no account of the present division of the city and some refugees have used the sewers as an escape route to the West.

The calm of West Berlin was frequently shattered by the detonation of explosives as Communists strengthened their barricade around the city's outer limits.

Windows of houses in the West were broken by the blasting and some buildings damaged. A flying piece of timber injured an 88-year-old woman.

Despite the Communist efforts, another 11 persons got through the wall and wire into West Berlin during the past 24 hours, police said.

The Soviets objected to the U.S. Army sending "military assistance vehicles" along the 110 miles of four-lane superhighway to take care of American official travelers in difficulties. The Soviets claim they are responsible for patroling the autobahn.

More vehicles of Co. A of the 20th U.S. Engineer Battalion, newly assigned to Berlin from the United States, rolled along the autobahn today.

Katanga and Congo Disagree on Victor

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — The Katanga radio today claimed Katangan troops had scored a great victory over invading forces of the Central Congo government. It reiterated claims that all invaders have now been repulsed from this secessionist province.

Congolese National troops abandoned a rail bridge and left arms, ammunition and wounded, to be seized by Katangan troops, the broadcast said.

Travelers returning from the frontier town of Kaniama, however, reported that the Congolese army had a walkover up to now and that the Katangans had shown great reluctance to fight.

Pontiac Board Likes Idea

Area College Under Study

Pontiac may get a community college by September 1962, if the Pontiac Board of Education finds the district can bear the initial burden.

The full board at last night's meeting unanimously gave the green light for district administrators to come up with more definite facts and figures on the proposed two-year post-high school institution to serve the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Board member Monroe M. Osmun described the need for a community college as "an area of vast importance."

He said, "I think the board should go on record as technically approving a community college for the Pontiac School District."

Other board members also reacted favorably to the proposal as outlined by Pontiac director of educational and adult education, Richard Fell, and Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

Agreeing to take the first step were board members Osmun, William H. Anderson, Dr. Walter L. Godsell, Glenn H. Griffin, Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, the Rev. J. Allen Parker and Victor P. Sutt.

Fell said the community college would have a four-pronged job:

1—Vocational and technical training beyond high school.

2—University parallel courses: Freshman and sophomore classes offered by junior colleges for those who want to continue to universities.

3—School-to-job counseling and guidance.

4—Adult education.

According to Whitmer, a Pontiac-area community college would provide the advantage of focusing its program on the needs of local residents, provide the first two years of college at lower cost than at the four-year colleges, and help train and find jobs for high school graduates who are not planning for a four-year degree.

The community college ideally would be financed one-third by students' tuition, one-third by state support and one-third by the district, the board said.

A hike in millage might be needed eventually, some board members indicated. However, they agreed that the program could be started at least, in fall of next year without an immediate millage hike.

The question of when and if such a hike will be needed is expected to be answered as more financial details are reported by administrative planners.

However, Whitmer noted, additional funds to defray operating costs could be expected under the National Defense Education Act and also from the state for capital outlay for buildings.

★ ★ ★

Fell said he would like to start the college in September 1962.

Present facilities could be used. Existing buildings would be used afternoons and evenings in the initial stages, Fell said.

Other dance segments are "The Muslim Suite," presenting the Arabian influence on the culture of Mohammedan Filipinos; "Regional Variations," in which imitations and reflections of nature provide the mode for worship; and finally, the "Rural Philippine Suite," dealing with the planting and harvesting of rice.

Proceeds from the 7:30 p.m. event will be used to augment a Wayne State University scholarship that will be awarded a Birmingham area student.

The fourth contemporary printmakers exhibition, featuring printmaking sculptors, will open at the Little Gallery, 915 E. Maple Road, Sunday and will continue through Dec. 2.

Eighty-seven prints by thirty sculptors will form the core of the exhibit, while 23 non-sculptors will round out the show with 35 prints.

Adenauer's Party Hears Coalition Deal

BONN, Germany (AP) — Free Democrat Chairman Erich Mende said today a compromise agreement on a new coalition government had been reached with Christian Democrats.

If the compromise holds up, the 85-year-old chancellor stands to win his long struggle to remain in office despite the setback his party received in the Sept. 17 general election.

Mende said the Free Democrats are ready to agree to selection fo a chancellor in the Bundestag next Tuesday.

Bright-Eyed Young Koreans

32 Orphans Out to Win Hearts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They shun beds and don't like candy. They're bright-eyed, immaculately scrubbed and behave themselves. They sing with the voices of angels.

They're orphans, here to win your hearts.

Six little boys and 26 girls, all between the ages of 8 and 12, are here from South Korea on a 40-city good-will tour of the United States and Canada.

The children are members of the World Vision Korean Orphan Choir. They represent 13,000 orphans in South Korea and sing songs of gratitude and love.

TRAVEL BY BUS

Wide eyes grow wider as the youngsters travel America by bus, happily fulfilling a twin mission:

Thanking Americans and Canadians who have contributed to 151 Korean institutions, and hoping for contributions to help construction of a 200-bed children's hospital near Seoul where free medical care will be given any orphan or needy child.

Traveling with them are a nurse, dietician, tutor, and American and Korean chaperones.

The youngsters are all dressed alike—the girls in coral brocade, the boys in forest green eton suits.

When their chaperones let them they run and romp and wrestle like youngsters everywhere.

AWSOME SILENCE

But when their tutor claps her hands—silence and attention, absolute and a little awesome.

The aversion to candy and beds is reasonable. The children simply aren't familiar with such luxuries. For a treat, they enjoy pickled vegetables. For sleeping, each has brought his own sleeping bag.

They sing hymns and folk songs in four languages—Korean, English, German and Latin, and they sing with a zest that shows they love it.

The whole trip is a wonder and delight to these kids but they're looking forward to two appearances with special anticipation—the United Nations in New York, and the White House, where they will sing for President and Mrs. Kennedy.

2 Ships Will Try to Hew Out Path to Antarctica

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Two American icebreakers prepared today to try for history's earliest penetration of the formidable 700-mile ice pack surrounding Antarctica.

* * *

The U.S. Navy's Glacier and the Coast Guard's Eastwind will try to batter a pathway through the billions of tons of ice almost a full month earlier than any nation has opened the sea approach in any previous Antarctic "summer" season.

* * *

If successful, the two ships will have shown the way to a permanent system of getting cargo ships through the ice early with vital equipment for the Antarctic expeditions—thus reducing the need for more expensive air freighting in the early stages of operations.

Time to Plant Christmas Tree

The earliest Christmas shoppers should be those who want to establish their own living Christmas tree this season. The best time to shop for the tree — and plant it — is now.

Usually, the desire to embellish the outdoor decor with a living, lighted tree during the Christmas festivities flourishes and wanes in mid-December unless promptly acted upon.

Spruces, firs and many of the pines possess the spire-like form generally preferred. But such trees become too large for many home lots. For rather small properties such landscape assets as the upright taxus, some of the junipers, as well as certain kinds of sheared hemlock or American holly will work out well.

Snaring the right greenery is only part of the job. The rest is in the planting — which means digging a very special kind of hole. This hole should be deep enough to accommodate the burlap-wrapped earth ball and wide enough to give a one-foot leeway around the ball. This will allow for adequate root development.

Heavy clay or compacted subsoil will require even more precise ground work. Pits must be dug deeper and bottoms filled with layers of combined top-soil and peat moss. While filling the hole, let water trickle from the hose. Purpose is to wash in the soil and eliminate air pockets that may dry out the roots. Good drainage is the key to success and this may require the use of drain tile.

To give the outdoors a happy glow ahead, plant your living Christmas tree now.

Few Plays Are Written for That 'Awkward Age'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tony Perkins thinks 25 is an unpopular age—for guys.

"I'm looking for a Broadway show for next year, but playwrights aren't writing things for my age-type," Tony complained here the other night. (He's still under 30.) "I'm not quite the boy in blue jeans who looks at the moon and says, 'Gosh, Ma!' nor am I quite the young ad executive.

WILSON

"Most authore are writing for boys 18 or 19, or men of 33 or 34 and up . . ."

Perkins, whose movies have made him one of the best known actors in Europe, has an apartment on Paris' Left Bank and is hunting a Broadway show to follow his next picture, "All the Gold in the World," with Sophia Loren.

"I think both Sophia and I are anxious to do this picture for a special reason—to erase the memory of another one we did together," Tony said.

★ ★ ★

That was "Desire Under the Elms," filmed about four years ago. "Nothing in it seemed to work out—and I don't think anybody who saw it would disagree with that opinion," Tony said.

★ ★ ★

"Twist Parties" will boecme more popular, Arthur Murray says, "because people dancing The Twist don't drink, and you can save a lot of money on liquor." The bartender at one Twist party had no calls for drinks—so he joined the Twisters. Murray, who says The Twist "is the Shimmy dropped to the pelvis area," expects it to continue its popularity well into 1962.

a Second-Hand Rocket From Sea

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Navy has launched a second-hand rocket.

The 17-foot Aerobee missile was fired from the sea off Point Mugu Thursday, just nine days after being used in a similar experiment.

The rocket soared to 5,000 feet, then parachuted back to earth.

Supporters of the water-launch system say rockets could thus be launched almost any place in the sea, at remote distances from inhabited areas, and without the vast expense of fixed pads.

A Navy landing craft towed the Aerobee three miles to sea. It was fueled as it floated horizontally in the ocean, then fired remotely by a radio signal.

Stalin's Son Loses Job; Svetlana Retains Home

MOSCOW (AP)—Joseph Stalin's son, Vassily, has lost the top job his father gave him but is still in the Soviet Air Force.

According to friends, he is no longer a general but has been demoted to major.

Stalin's daughter Svetlana still lives in the apartment her father assigned to her across the river from the Kremlin.

★ ★ ★

Author of "It Isn't All Mink," Mme. Spanier's wit and vivacity extend beyond the printed word. In 1960 when interviewed in Paris for television's "Person to Person" show she made an instant hit with American viewers.

★ ★ ★

Born in Paris but raised in England, she is at home in both languages. Her early experience included management of a bag-making factory, a position she rose to from that of buyer. She abandoned this phase of her career because it lacked the excitement of contact with people.

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

As directress to Marjorie Castle and then the House of Balmain, it is Mme. Spanier's business to meet and satisfy the most exacting customer. Her contacts and sources of anecdotes include a host of prominent persons and celebrities with whom she has worked.

Professor Addresses DAR Unit

Daughters of the American Revolution met at the lounge room of Michigan State University Oakland Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

The speaker was Dr. William E. Rhode, assistant professor of political science and assistant director of continuing education at the university. He discussed "The Importance of Education for Public Responsibility."

Dr. Rhode outlined some of the emphases in our education as: mass education, opportunity for all; training in vocational and specialized professional work, rather than the traditional liberal arts alone; and the increasing recognition of adult educational needs, not only to keep up with scientific discoveries, but also for recreation.

NEW CONCENTRATION

The speaker concluded, "There must be new concentration on the principles on which our government is based to form a basis for intelligent decisions. Adults should dedicate themselves to leadership in this field of continuing development."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. T. W. Jackson, Grace Clark, Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Geraldine Haynes, Doris Haynes, Mrs. J. C. Haynes, Julia Feldkamp and Mrs. C. N. Ball.

★ ★ ★

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Basil Foisy, Miss Emma Howard, Elena Bajari, Mrs. Arthur Bossert, Mrs. Arthur Bossert Jr. of Clarkston, Mrs. Robert Schmede, Mrs. Robert Dougherty of Detroit and many husbands of the chapter's members.

★ ★ ★

New members present were Mrs. Earl V. Long, Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, Mrs. Russell Rogers and Mrs. Robert J. Ruggles of Oxford.

Best to Ask Woman to Be Hostess

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother died several years ago. My father and I live alone. We have a woman come in every day to tidy up the place and also get our dinner but she goes home early in the evening.

Under the circumstances, would it be proper to invite a girl friend of mine from out of town to spend the weekend here with us alone, or is it necessary that a woman be present?

A: It would not be proper to invite her to spend a weekend in a house occupied by two men alone. You should ask a woman relative or family friend to come in and act as hostess.

Q: I am a widow and plan to marry a widower next month. It will be a fairly small wedding in the late afternoon with members of both families and friends attending. I had planned to walk up the aisle and have my son give me away.

I have been told that it would not be proper for me to walk up the aisle as other brides: that my husband-to-be and I should be seated in the front pew and when the clergyman comes out and takes his place on the altar, to get up and walk to the altar.

Will you please tell me if this is the correct procedure for a second wedding?

A: You may not wear a bridal veil or have bridesmaids, but you may have a maid (or matron) of honor and walk up the aisle with your son who will give you away.

Abby Says: I'm Speechless

Boy Needs a Real Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my husband started running around with another woman. He always wanted children, and I didn't, so, in order to hold him, I consented to take a little 2-year-old boy to raise.

ABBY

Well, now I have my husband back, and I would like to get rid of this kid because his being here complicates things too much.

I just don't have time to bother with him, as I work days. Please tell me how or where I can get rid of the boy. Thank you.

COMPLICATIONS

DEAR COMPLICATIONS: Where did you get this boy? Did you legally adopt him, or did you simply agree to assume the responsibility of raising him?

In any case, get in touch with your local Legal Aid Society and find out what legal procedures are involved. It is a pity that small humans are handed over like kittens to "hold a husband."

Under the circumstances, I think the boy should have another home. He could hardly do worse.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We know for sure that those who pray together, stay together. I wish I could say the same for those who eat together. Why is it that those who do not have store teeth are very inconsiderate of those who do?

★ ★ ★

People who have their own teeth can chew and swallow in half the time it takes us folks with store teeth. I am tempted to say, "I can't eat as fast as you with these teeth, so please don't talk to me while I am eating."

Can you tell me a nicer way to put it so folks won't think I'm a roughneck?

STORE TEETH

DEAR STORE TEETH: Properly fit "store teeth" will do the same for the wearer as his own teeth. There is no reason to suffer with teeth such as you describe. Go back to the dentist who made them for you and put the "bite" on him for a better fit.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and am practically the "man" of the house. My Dad is an alcoholic, and is "sick" almost every night. I do most of the chores because my Mom works. I know there is no answer to my problem, but please print it for those who have it good and don't know it.

LITTLE MAN

DEAR LITTLE MAN: There IS an "answer." And it's listed in your telephone directory under "A." If you can get your Dad to want to help himself, Alcoholics Anonymous can do a lot for him.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nurses Week Observance Begins Sunday

Gov. John B. Swainson has proclaimed Sunday through Nov. 11 Michigan Nurses Week.

★ ★ ★

"Nurses in Action" is the theme of the third annual observance honoring registered, practical and psychiatric nurses.

For the first time three groups — the Michigan State Nurses Association, Michigan Practical Nurses Association and the newly organized Psychiatric Attendant Nurses Association of Michigan — have joined for the special week's activities.

Purpose of the combined week is threefold: to inform the public of nursing's role in the community, to avoid three separate weeks in honor of the profession and to strengthen understanding and to promote improved working relationships between the three nursing groups — both at the organizational and community level.

The Frances Willard Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, invites all units to the annual fellowship supper Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Church of the Brethren.

Heavy Trading Early Today

Stock Market Edges on Way Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy trading and an irregular edge to the upside marked the stock market early today.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers among key stocks.

Chrysler's agreement on a new three-year labor contract averted a strike and Chrysler responded with a leap of more than a point. Ford, rising close to a point, continued its latest upward movement based on higher earnings.

American Telephone, ahead a fraction, joined Ford and Chrysler as early trading favorites.

Throughout the list, however, there was no unanimity on the upside. Tobaccos, along with most chemicals and rails, strung along with fractional gains.

In a resumption of late Thursday's increase of activity, dealings were active enough to put the ticker tape as much as three minutes behind early transactions.

FRACTIONAL GAIN

U.S. Steel held a fractional gain but other leading steel producers showed little change.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher. Gainers included Sperry Warrants, Cinerama, Cubic Corp. and Williams Brothers. Among losers were Louisiana Land, Kratter "A" and Kawneer.

U.S. Bonds Slide Down

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bond prices tumbled today in response to the treasury's decision to include a long term bond in its November refunding.

Price movements were jumbled at the start but the trend was definitely downward in both long and intermediate sections. Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange opened mixed.

The 13-year bond offered late Thursday to holders of the maturing 2½S of November 1961 at a discount price of 99 plunged a full 1¼ points. At the close Thursday they had been quoted in open market trading at around 100 5/16.

Losses of other long bonds ran around ½ point while some of the high-coupon intermediates fell 4/32 to 6/32. Prices see-sawed rapidly as investors figured the angles on the $7.8-billion treasury borrowing.

The industry built 159,282 cars last week and 145,422 in the same 1960 week.

The trade paper said Thursday truck output this week would total 6,865 units, up 5.4 per cent over the 25,479 built last week and 49.4 per cent higher than the 17,983 units built in the same 1960 week.

It said October auto production was 557,915 units, a gain of 61.4 per cent over the 345,694 turned out in September. Compact cars accounted for 36.3 per cent of October assemblies with 202,397 units.

This was the beginning of one of the automotive industry's most fabulous success stories and one which is highlighted by the golden anniversary of Chevrolet starting today.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joseph E. Gramville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the current expectation is that November will be a better month for the market than October — possibly the best since the summer upturn was terminated.

This expectation, the analyst says, takes into account a furtherance of tax-selling pressures and some lower prices, but the year-end turn for the better may be recorded this month.

While the type of stock which has been doing the best is largely found in the tobacco, food, drug, cosmetic, coal, store and utility groups, it is important to point out that this circle of strength is now expanding rather than contracting, Granville adds.

Goodbody & Co. says free silver reserves of the Treasury are now down to about 45 million ounces and it expects momentarily that the government will announce that the Treasury will stop selling the metal at 91½ cents. "A near term rise in the price of silver should thus be expected."

Fisher of Clark, Dodge & Co. says tobacco stocks, with one exception, appear high relative to other industries considering the three "risks" involved.

— The American Heart Association indicates that cigarette smoking may be linked to heart disease.

— Revival of a cancer suit adds some nearby uncertainty.

— Rumors continue that A&P and Grand Union are considering entering the field of private brand supermarket cigarette brands which would undersell standard packs by 4 cents or about 14 per cent.

Laggar and mostly underpriced oil issues especially the refining group, should get a nice boost from a penny a gallon gasoline price boost announced by two mid-continent producers with others to follow, Thomson & McKinnon think.

Whirlpool Corp. President Takes Post With Ward

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Elisha Gray II held dual posts today as Whirlpool Corp. president and chairman of the board after the resignation of Robert E. Brooker, who left the presidency to assume a similar role with Montgomery Ward and Co.

Brooker's move was announced Thursday. He joined Whirlpool in May, 1958, and is a former vice president of Sears Roebuck and Co. His move to the Ward post was accompanied by simultaneous announcement of his resignation as a director of Sears.

Whirlpool markets a large share of its appliance products under a private brand name to the Sears firm.

Former City Man Named by Bendix

Appointment of Bruce Klein, formerly of Pontiac, now of Troy, N.Y., as director of engineering of the Marshall-Eclipse Division of the Bendix Corporation in Troy is announced by Harry Stolar, general manager.

Succeeding C. S. Ferguson who retired Sept. 30, Klein's new responsibilities include supervision and coordination of all three branches of product engineering effort.

Klein once attended Pontiac schools.

He entered automotive engineering at Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp. in 1935, joining Marshall-Eclipse Division at Detroit in 1948 as assistant sales manager, original equipment.

Nephler-Kingsbury Co. Old Firm's New Name

Operated as a co-ownership firm from 1956 to the present, Pontiac's oldest investment firm is owned by stock and bond brokers, Clarence J. Nephler, 4545 Wagon Wheel Drive, Bloomfield Township, and Robert S. Kingsbury, 2783 N. Lake Drive, Waterford.

2 Redmond Plants Struck at Owosso

OWOSSO (AP)—The two Owosso plants of Redmond Co. were struck Thursday by United Auto Workers Local 743 to back up the union's new contract demands.

The union rejected the company's latest new contract offer Wednesday night. Negotiations on the pact began last May.

The company offer included a profit sharing plan as well as wage increases ranging from three cents an hour for women to five cents an hour for men and ten cents for skilled workers.

The union sought a five per cent increase for women and six per cent for men.

Chevrolet Has 50th Birthday

GM Division Celebrates Long-Time Leadership in Volume Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet, a firm once told that it "could not hope to compete in its field," today celebrates its 50th anniversary.

★ ★ ★

It has been 31 years since a firm of industrial engineers recommended to General Motors Corp. that the division be liquidated. Since then, Chevrolet has become the world's biggest volume automaker.

Founded in Detroit by William C. Durant, Chevrolet became a part of GM in 1918. It became the biggest selling passenger car for the first time in 1930 and has repeated every year since with three exceptions — 1935, 1957 and 1959.

In 50 years Chevrolet has manufactured more than 45 million cars and trucks. It holds the record for the most cars sold in one year (1,692,361 in 1960) and the most trucks sold in one year (414,496 in 1950.)

Sales for 1962 are estimated by General Manager Ed Cole at 1.9 million cars and 400,000 trucks.

Seek to Protect Investing Public

SEC Adopts New Advertising Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a move to protect the investing public, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) laid down Thursday five tough new rules governing advertising by investment advisers.

They will go into effect Jan. 1, 1962.

The SEC adopted them under the antifraud provisions of the Investment Advisers Act which prohibits investment advisers from engaging in "fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative practices."

The SEC said "investment advisers are professionals and should adhere to a stricter standard of conduct than that applicable to merchants."

"Securities are 'intricate merchandise,' and clients or prospective clients of investment advisers are frequently unskilled and unsophisticated in investment matters," it said.

REGULATES SALES

The agency regulates sales of stock to the public, brokerage houses, investment advisers and other aspects of the securities business.

These are the rules laid down by the SEC:

—No advertisements may contain a testimonial of any kind. Such advertising is misleading because it emphasizes "comments and activities favorable to the investment adviser and ignores those which are unfavorable. This is true even when the testimonials are unsolicited and are printed in full."

—Advertisements may not refer to specific recommendations the adviser has made in the past. They may, however, list all recommendations made within the past year or more. Such a list must include relevent stock prices.

TO RESTRICT CLAIMS

The commission said this rule is aimed at preventing advisers' telling the public only of recommendations which would have been profitable.

—No advertisement may represent that any chart, graph, or formula or other device "can in and of itself be used to make investment" decisions. Any ad advertising a device to help make investment decisions must prominently disclose its "limitations" and difficulties.

—No ad may falsely offer a report, analysis or service without charge or obligation.

★ ★ ★

—Any advertisement containing an untrue statement of fact, or which is otherwise false or misleading, is a violation of the Investment Advisers Act.

The SEC defined advertisement to include written communications to more than one person and announcements in any publication or over radio or TV.

★ ★ ★

The SEC said it postponed the effective date of the new regulations to Jan. 1 to "avoid unnecessary complications" in the case of advertisements already committed.
