General Motors, Union Okay New Contract

Pontiac Plants Idled by Wildcat Strike

Division Officials Expect Walkout to End Quickly

Work Stoppage Cause 'Local Issue,' Firm Announces

Some 18,000 workers at three General Motors divisions here were idled this morning by wildcat strikes despite last night's GM-UAW contract agreement.

Company officials said the strikes were "over purely local issues" and expressed the conviction they would be short-lived.

About 1,000 men were idle today at Fisher Body and 3,000 at GM Truck and Coach, plus 13,770 at Pontiac Motor.

Robert M. Critchfield, Pontiac Motor general manager, said that failure of Local 653 to accept certain minor items has closed down the main manufacturing plant idling 13,770 hourly employes.

"We feel this is unfortunate, especially in view of the excellent new contract signed last night by chosen representatives of the labor union and General Motors."

Pontiac Motor Local 653 President Charles S. Curry admitted there was picketing, but said, "I have no comment about it."

At GMC Truck and Coach Division, pickets disbanded at 8:30 a.m. and some workers began entering the plant. Normal production was scheduled to begin with the second shift at 4 p.m.

Fisher Body Division was running normally in all departments except body assembly. "All local demands were settled yesterday," a union leader stated.

The body assembly line will be down until Pontiac Motor resumes production.

A sun-less, gloomy Monday forecast an even smaller than usual school election turnout at the polls today, for Pontiac's 42,000 eligible voters.

Lack of a stirring issue was also listed as a cause of the trickle of residents at the ballot boxes by election workers who reported morning totals well below last year's bond issue voting.

Four candidates are seeking two four-year terms on the board of education.

In the running are Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr., Monroe Osmun, the Rev. J. Allen Parker, and Theron T. Stickle.

Dr. Allen, the Rev. Parker and Stickle have not served on the board previously. Osmun was a member from 1946 to 1954.

A few residents were on hand to cast their votes when polls opened at 7 a.m. Morning voting was generally light, however, with a heavier turnout expected for the evening hours preceding the 8 p.m. closing time.

Nineteen school princincts, many composed of several city precincts, will allow those in line at 8 p.m. to cast their ballots.

Dedication Rites at New City Hall Marred by Rain

Gov. Williams Cancels Appearance as Storm Grounds Plane

Marred by a steady rainfall which forced activities to be moved inside and canceled the appearance of the governor, dedication ceremonies at Pontiac's new City Hall were held yesterday.

City officials decided to move the ceremonies into the City Commission chamber a half-hour before they were to begin in front of the $1,200,000 structure.

An hour later, it was announced that Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who was to have given the dedication address, would not appear because his plane had been forced by the weather to land between St. Ignace and Pontiac.

In his stead, Mayor William W. Donaldson officialy dedicated the debt-free building, which has been occupied for a month.

TALK IS CANCELED

Also canceled was a talk by Robert M. Critchfield, Pontiac Motor Division general manager and General Motors vice president. His prepared remarks were read, however, by Robert Emerick, director of public relations for the division.

Other talks were delivered by Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, and George Booth, former mayor who represented the Pontiac-Oakland County AFL.

A crowd estimated at between 600 and 700 jammed the chamber and overflowed into the corridors, where loudspeakers were set up.

In Critchfield's message, it was stated that the city's three General Motors plants "are proud of the Pontiac people who work for us and of the city that has been home to us for nearly half a century.

"We are also proud of the community and always willing to assume our share in its various civic activities and responsibilities . . .

"We believe that Pontiac is an excellent place for an industry to operate. We feel that Pontiac is a

French Race Track Toll Hits 79 as Two More Die

LE MANS, France (AP)—Two additional deaths among the injured raised the toll of auto racing's worst disaster to 79 today. Premier Edgar Faure's government announced it would seek means of preventing a recurrence.

Mass funeral services will be held in Le Mans' 600-year-old cathedral tomorrow for the victims killed when French driver Pierre Levegh's silver Mercedes-Benz hit another sports car, soared into the air, exploded and spread death in a crowd packed 20 deep behind an earthen barrier.

The race was the annual 24-hour endurance classic which draws thousands of fans to this city 100 miles southwest of Paris.

It was completed on Sunday despite the accident on Saturday afternoon. Of the more than 70 injured, several remained in critical condition.

One American was among the injured spectators. He was Roy Huntoon, a U. S. soldier stationed at an Army hospital in Orleans.

Most of the dead — including 15 women and 2 children — were believed to have been French, although several bodies still had not been identified. Levegh also was among those killed.

Despite the tragedy, the famous 24-hour road race for sports cars was carried to its conclusion, with Mike Hawthorn and codriver Ivor Bueb of Britain winning in a three-liter Jaguar

Sheriff Seeks Orion Dealer

David Dawson Believed to Have Left Oakland County

Dawson, 31, operator of Dave Dawson, Inc., a Ford sales agency at 51 N. Broadway, Lake Orion, was charged with embezzling $28,862 from the Universal CIT Credit Corp. in a warrant issued last Thursday.

"He apparently left before the warrant was issued," said Ziem. The search was expected to be broadened today.

Jobless Pay Principle Included in Pact Terms

Reach Agreement After Talks Go Past Deadline; UAW Wins Union Shop Provision

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers today nailed down at General Motors Corp. the same partial wage plan it won a week ago from Ford.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, thus firmly established the controversial employer-paid supplemental unemployment benefit system in the auto industry, an important beachhead from which he hopes to launch it into other industries.

The three-year agreement was hammered out in a predawn settlement after more than 37 hours of bargaining broken only by brief recesses.

More than 40 of GM's 119 plants across the nation were hit by walkouts as the negotiations dragged on hours after the union's midnight strike deadline. The strikers were expected to return to their jobs quickly with little loss in auto production.

The GM pact closely followed the recent Ford Motor Co. contract in nearly every respect. It calls for improvements in pay, pensions, vacations and holidays similar to those worked out at Ford.

In addition, it grants the UAW a full union shop for the first time, meaning that GM's relatively few nonunion production workers must now join the union to keep their jobs.

The contract covers 375,000 wage earners represented by the UAW. The present pay scale of hourly workers is $2.10 an hour. The pay of skilled workers ranges upwards from an approximate base of $2.50 an hour.

Reuther called the GM settlement "an extremely significant and far-reaching contract" costing the corporation 600 million dollars over the three-year period. Reuther said it was worth better than 20 cents an hour per employe, like the Ford contract. GM President Harlow H. Curtice said it assured

Auto Workers Win 20-Cent Package

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers reported it won approximately these benefits—paralleling those it won a week ago from Ford—in its new contract with General Motors Corp.:

Guaranteed wage plan 5 cents; pension plan improvements 4.3; improvement factor 6.2; wage inequities 1.3; 2½ week vacation step .2; hospitalization-insurance 1.2; triple pay for worked holidays .8—total 19.2 cents.

The UAW said the pyramiding effect of the improvement factor and other economic benefits on factors like shift premiums, holiday pay and the like plus the adjustment of local union inequities, brings the total cost of the new package to over 20 cents an hour.

Headon Crash Kills Two Men Sunday Night

Detroit Driver Dies in Flaming Wreckage After Collision

A 57-year-old Birmingham man was killed and a 23-year-old Detroiter burned to death when their cars crashed headon last night on Middlebelt road, about four miles south of Pontiac.

Dead were:

Allen R. Warbler, of 2185 Lincoln, Birmingham.

Robert M. Jovan, of 15703 Birwood, Detroit.

Warbler's wife, Maurine, 47, was reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with broken ribs, a broken jaw, internal injuries and cuts.

CRASH ON CURVE

West Bloomfield Township Police said the crash took place about a quarter-mile north of Walnut Lake road when Jovan's northbound car apparently crossed the center line of the 2-lane highway on a hilly curve. Patrolmen Richard Helgemo and Joe Nephew said Jovan's car burst into flames after it overturned into a ditch.

Witnesses said Jovan, alone in the car, was traveling at a "high rate of speed" when he collided with Warbler's southbound auto.

Firemen from West Bloomfield Township battled the blaze for about an hour after the 7:30 p.m. crash.

Meanwhile four other persons

Death Has Three Lives--A New Michael Shayne Story by Brett Halliday

By BRETT HALLIDAY
(Copyright 1955)

Chapter 1

Lucy Hamilton glanced quickly at the electric clock in her living room when the buzzer sounded downstairs. It wasn't quite nine o'clock, and Lucy frowned with pleased perplexity as she crossed the pleasant room to press the release catch on the front door of the apartment building.

Michael Shayne hadn't actually said he would drop by this evening, though he had asked her casually if she had any cognac in the larder when they left his downtown office together at five o'clock.

She hadn't really expected him. But she looked just right to receive an informal visitor, she assured herself with a sweeping downward glance as she turned the knob of her second-floor door and heard footsteps mounting the stairs. Michael hadn't seen this hostess gown before. It was a shimmery blue, with a tight bodice and short puffed sleeves, a flaring skirt that fell in folds from her hips to the tips of her blue satin mules.

SEES STRANGER

It was not Shayne. It was a man she thought she had never seen before. He was tall and slender and no older than she, and wore light tan slacks and an open-throated polo shirt of sky-blue knitted cotton. A gray, snap-brim felt was tilted rakishly low over his right eye, and Lucy's first brief glimpse of his face gave an impression of dark leanness with tightly drawn flesh over prominent cheekbones that was almost pain-contorted.

She involutarily started to swing the door shut, thinking the ring of her bell had been a mistake and the man wanted one of the other three apartments on the second floor, but hesitated as he stopped on the top step and exclaimed hoarsely: "Hold it, Lucy. Don't you know who I am?"

She caught her lower lip between her teeth, studying him dubiously and trying to recall if she had ever heard his voice before.

ARLENE'S BROTHER

Lucy shook her head slowly and said, "There must be some mistake. I'm Lucy Hamilton."

"I know." The words came from tight lips, clipped and impatient. "From New Orleans. I'm Jack Bristow." He paused a moment, waiting for some response, then added, "Arlene's brother."

Arlene Bristow. A girl who had worked with Lucy in New Orleans before she met Michael Shayne and became his secretary and followed him to Miami. A dark, vivid girl, with a penchant for laughter and for a bewildering succession of beaux that had caused Lucy to envy her in those days.

Yes. Arlene did have a brother. A memory came to her vaguely as she hesitated. An evening in Arlene's apartment. Just the two of them with a light supper cooked in Arlene's kitchenette and lots of girl talk.

A ring of the bell and the shambling, staggering entrance of a young man whom Arlene had introduced as her brother, and who had immediately made the most outrageous love to Lucy in an obnoxiously self-assured manner that had infuriated her.

LONELY NIGHTS

Yet, there had been lonely nights after that meeting when Lucy had drearily repented her prudish withdrawal from his attempted caresses and unhappily wondered if she would ever meet him again. There had been something dashing and fascinating about the young man.

That was the only time Lucy had seen Arlene Bristow's brother. She recalled tentative attempts to find out something more about him, which Arlene had not responded to. At that time Lucy had gotten the impression that he was a weakling and ne'er-do-well and probably best forgotten.

* * *

He looked queerly drawn and trembling as though on the verge of exhaustion. Lucy opened the door wider and stepped back, saying coldly, "Come in if you like. Is Arlene still in New Orleans?"

"Yes. Last time I heard."

He came through the door with a rush, staggering momentarily though there was no smell of liquor on his breath as he passed within a foot of Lucy. He stood in the center of the room with his back to her as she closed the door, leaning forward slightly from the hips and with his right arm still pressed stiffly against his stomach. He straightened when he heard the click of the door latch, turned and said with an effort of debonair gaiety: "Alone at last, Lucy dear. Have you had a phone call the last 15 minutes?"

FALLS FORWARD

Then his black eyes glazed over and he fell face forward onto the rug. Lucy ran to him and fell on her knees beside his crumpled body.

good community for our people to live and work in.

"In order that this be so, our community must have adequate facilities such as this City Hall, schools, churches, hospitals, streets, highways, and so forth.

"We are certainly in favor of any justifiable plan for making available first-rate facilities for these objectives."

REVIEWS PROGRESS

Haggard reviewed Pontiac's progress, both city-wise and industrially, up to the dedication of the new City Hall.

"It is difficult for me to express my reactions to this building which is being dedicated today," Haggard said. "It is beautiful. I might say it is more than that—it is a building to be proud of."

He concluded:

"We don't want to lose sight of the fact that the dedication of this building is only the beginning of new municipal buildings for the city of Pontiac.'

Said Booth:

"This building is the result of the constant effort of the people who have represented you through the years . . . It's not a debt. It's something you have and something the city of Pontiac owns."

Invocation was delivered by Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein and benediction by the Rev. Edward D. Auchard. Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson was master of ceremonies.

PHS BAND APPEARS

Also participating were the Pontiac High School band and a color guard from the 107th Ordnance Co., Michigan National Guard. The band played in the main lobby, while the guardsmen maintained the colors in the Commission chamber.

Donaldson officially acknowleged receipt of gifts from VFW No. 1370 Auxiliary, the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Assn. of Insurance Agents, Pontiac Kiwanis and Exchange clubs and Pontiac Motor Division.

Also acknowledged were floral gifts from some two dozen firms and organizations.

Taking recognition bows were the present city commissioners, plus former city managers, mayors and commissioers. Although City Mager Walter K. Willman did not participate in the ceremony, he was on hand to greet visitors.

Big Six to Get Wage Demands of Steelworkers

PITTSBURGH (AP)— The CIO United Steelworkers this week will begin presenting demands for a "substantial" wage increase to 90 basic steel and ore mining firms.

Six of the nation's largest basic steel producers listened to the union's proposals last week and called a temporary halt in negotiations to study them.

No dates have been set for resumption of talks with the "Big Six"—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Inland and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

These negotiations were held in Pittsburgh with USW President David J. McDonald personally handling the union's bargaining. District representatives will conduct most of the talks with the smaller companies.

The USW hasn't spelled out what it considers a substantial raise. But McDonald reportedly has said he wants more than "nickels and dimes" for the 600,000 union members in basic steel, who now average $2.33 hourly. Talks this year are confined to wages.

The Day in Birmingham

Voters Turn Out to Ballot on $5 Million Bond Issue

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts filed to the polls today to cast ballots on candidates for school board vacancies.

In addition, Birmingham district voters were asked to decide on a $5,500,000 bond issue for school expansion. The bond proposal would finance construction of 82 new classrooms, modernizing at six existing schools, and construction of two swimming pools.

Three candidates, one an incumbent, were competing for two vacancies in the Birmingham school board election while the Bloomfield Hills race was a token affair with two candidates for two vacancies.

Amos Gregory was the incumbent in the Birmingham election. The second vacancy resulted when Mrs. Lewis Sappington decided against seeking re-elecion. Other candidates were Mrs. Peter B. Loomis and John Nahabedian.

2 CANDIDATES LISTED

At Bloomfield Hills, Karl Scott and Robert Hoffman were the only candidates for vacancies created when Robert Sadler and Mrs. Rita MacKenzie failed to seek re-election.

The $5,500,000 bond proposal in the Birmingham school district voting was the key issue for property owners.

A Citizens Committee on Education, appointed by the PTA Council made a study of present school facilities and anticipated hikes in enrollment. Its findings were that by September, 1956, some 56 additional classrooms would be needed; a total of 82 by 1957 and 133 by 1960.

PROPOSED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Based on the committee's recommendations, the Board of Education proposed the bond issue to cover the anticipated classroom need for the next three years.

The committee study showed the need was primarily in elementary classrooms, since the senior high school and the Derby Junior high now under construction would be adequate for the next four or five years.

Elementary enrollment—kindergarten through sixth grade—presently if 4,941. By 1957 this will be increased by 2,259, the study showed, and the additional 82 classrooms would handle the increase. The classrooms would be contained in five new elementary schools and additions at Beverly, Pembroke and Franklin schools.

Most controversial item in the bond proposal was construction of the two swimming pools, one at Birmingham High and the other at Derby Junior High. They would cost an estimated $575,000. Opponents said building the pools in view of the present and future classroom needs would be unwise and that the money be held in reserve to meet those needs.

The Citizens Committee maintained construction of the pools would be a definite help in combatting juvenile delinquency since they would be open to families 12 months of the year, and because of the "largely limited" recreational facilities in the district.

The bond proposal has received the approval of the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

If approved, the program would be financed without an increase in the current tax rates, accordin to the committee.

However, resulting increases in operational costs of the new buildings and additions could possibly bring about an increase. School superintendent Dwight Ireland has said he wouldn't "hazard a guess' at how much it might be.

He also declined to pin down exactly when construction on the new program would start, if approved by voters. But he said additional classrooms "must be available" by September 1956, and the school board "is working. . . right now' on sites for the five new schools.

GM, Union Agree on 3-Year Contract

the vast GM auto empire of three more years of labor peace.

Curtice, however, was less than enthusiastic about the guaranteed wage plan won by the union. He intimated that GM agreed to it only because Ford had first given in. Curtice said the guaranteed wage plan was "exceedingly complicated and will require some time to fully appraise," but GM nevertheless had accepted it.

GM like Ford agreed to guarantee laid-off workers 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay including state unemployment compensation benefits, for a maximum of 26 weeks. GM will contribute 5 cents an hour per worker toward a 150-million-dollar trust to finance the plan over the next three years.

Curtice said that GM, while agreeing to the guaranteed wage plan, still "earnestly" believes that the responsibility for determining the amount and duration of unemployment benefits "rests with the legislatures of the various states.

GM Vice President Harry W. Anderson, top company negotiator, said the guaranteed wage plan was identical with the one the UAW "negotiated last week with another member of the auto industry."

Anderson told Reuther that "I hold no resentment toward your efforts to get those things for your members which you think they should have. That's your job. And I do want to congratulate you on your judgment in going somewhere else first (to Ford) to get it."

Anderson said he was "happy to report that many of the fine progressive features of the first proposal we made to the UAW-CIO four weeks ago have been incorporated in this new agreement."

Enter Filling Station, Take $35, Jewelry

An estimated $35 in cash and other articles were reported stolen from a filling station at 3123 Lapeer Rd., Pontiac Township, last night, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Employes reported four wrist watches, a set of steak knives and four jewelry sets missing. Entry was made through garage doors at the front of the station.

Salk Comments on Polio Report

Wires Ideas to Scheele on New U.S. Standards for Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk says the U.S. Public Health Service's new and stiffer manufacturing standards for his polio vaccine "will preclude deviation from the procedures originally intended."

Earlier troubles with some commercial lots of the vaccine may have developed, he said, "because the phrasing of the minimum (government) requirements allowed for differing interpretations."

Salk expressed these views in a telegram to Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele made public early today in Pittsburgh. He did not directly criticize the health service, but he indicated that he disagrees with some sections of its "white paper" report on the entire polio vaccine program.

"I recognize that this represents your views and those of your staff," Salk said, adding there are points both "wherein I concur and wherein I do not."

The health service report, released last week, said that troubles developed when production of the vaccine was shifted from the laboratory to a full-scale commercial operation.

In a statement that some have viewed as critical of Dr. Salk's theories, the report said that "the process of inactivation (which renders the polio virus in the vaccine harmless) did not always follow the predicted course."

The health service had prepared the minimum standards under which the vaccine was produced commercially.

Bob Considine Says:

13th Century Turk Humorist Still Quoted

ISTANBUL (INS) — A country reveals itself through its humor. The native laughter is more indicative of the true heart of the people than ten thousand tracts on the land's history and the weightiest statements from the man or men in charge.

I never thought of Turkey as a land of the Will Rogers type chuckle until I learned about Nasrettin Hoca, who lived in the 13th century and is quoted and misquoted today in market place and highest tribunal. More wise sayings are attributed to him than a generation just behind us laid at Dorothy Parker's door. And probably some have as little foundation in fact.

Not too long ago at an international conference on technical assistace to be provided by the U.S. the question of whether it was actually necessary came up. The Turkish representative, all for it, told the assembly.

"Let me tell you a story about Nasrettin Hoca, our traditional wit. Once the Hoca was walking home carrying a neatly wrapped package of liver. As his wife's recipe for liver was renowned throughout the countryside, his mouth watered in anticipation of dinner. Suddenly, out of a clear sky, an eagle swooped down upon him and snatched the package from the Hoca's hand. The Hoca was unpertrubed. He smiled and called after the bird, 'You've got the liver, but what good is it without the recipe.' "

ARGUMENTS END

There were no more arguments about the necessity for technical know-how.

A member of parliament, campaigning in the '54 elections, was having a rough time. In one village he was heckled for not speaking up enough during legislative debates, and related this story:

"Once the Hoca went to the bazaar in his home town of Akshehir. He noticed that a crowd had gathered around a man with a parrot. People were bidding for the bird. Soon, for 50 gold sovereigns, the parrot was turned over to a new owner. The next day the Hoca trotted off to the bazaar with a hen under his arm. He turned it over to the auctioneer to be sold. The bird brought only one gold sovereign.

"The Hoca turned to the crowd in amazement and said, 'You bid 50 sovereigns for that little parrot, yesterday, yet today you are willing to pay only one sovereign for my big bird.' The people laughed and one said, 'The reason is obvious. The parrot talks.' Pointing at the hen, the Hoca said, 'But this one thinks!' "

I like this one, and so may you:

Once the Hoca went to a fish fry. As is typical of picnics the world over, the picknickers ran short of something—this time it was lemon for the fish. No good Turk would think of eating fish without lemon.

LEMON PASSED

A single lemon was passed from person to person. After it had passed through many hands and was but a shred of its former self it came to the hands of the village's champion wrestler, a man of great brawn. He squeezed with all his massive strength and wrung from the rind one tiny drop of juice. Then he passed the weary lemon to the last man at the table, a thin, weak specimen. The little man squeezed, and the result was a deluge of juice.

The man sitting next to the Hoca turned to him with a look of disbelief. The Hoca smiled.

"Don't let that surprise you," he said. "You see, he's the local tax collector."

Pentagon Eyes Cut in Output of Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon is considering a new cutback in the production rate for M48 medium tanks, the Army's latest model.

However, officials familiar with the study said today, the reduction would not be a major cut in the monthly output. There was speculation it might be something less than 20 per cent.

A reduction in deliveries of the M48, now coming primarily from the Chrysler-operated tank arsenal at Newark, Del., is contemplated simply because the supply of tanks is nearly ample for the regular Army, the National Guard and overseas shipment to foreign governments.

The abundance of armor arises from the fact that tank loses in the Korean War were comparatively small, with the vast speedup in production that came in the latter phase of the war providing not only replacement of those losses but the ability to modernize armored forces previously outfited with World War II designs.

Huge Grain Elevator Collapses in Heap

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — A massive grain elevator composed of 20 tanks 122 feet high collapsed yesterday, dumping some 600,000 bushels of grain to the ground with a noise that sounded like an explosion.

Completed only last August, the $390,000 Fargo Grain Terminal was the largest privately owned grain storage facility in North Dakota. All that remained today was a pile of shattered concrete, twisted steel and huge mounds of grain.

Joseph Eichinger, owner of the 800,000-bushel terminal, thought "some kind of combustion" caused the collapse.

The 600,000 bushels of spilled grain were estimated to be valued at about $1,200,000. About half of it was believed damaged beyond recovery.

Kids' Wages Pay for Dad's Dental Degree

CHICAGO (AP)—When Donald C. Buckley receives his doctor of dentistry degree from the University of Illinois, his three children can beam with pride and relief. They helped put him through school.

Denise, 7; Donnie, 6; and Michael, 3, all are professional models whose earnings have helped Buckley make the grade. Michael got a social security card at 2½ months to take a job modeling a christening dress.

Of all the U.S. families with incomes of about $7,500 per year, more than 70 per cent own their homes.

U.S. Personal Incomes at Record $295.6 Billion

A sign of the economic times is the steady rise of total U.S. individual incomes which reached a record rate of $294.6 billion in March and jumped another billion in April.

For comparison purposes it is necessary to recall that the peak of individual incomes before the 1953-54 recession was $287.5 billion in July, 1953. The rate slumped to $284.4 billion in April, 1954, before beginning the upward climb to the present record height. So far the extreme recovery from the low has amounted to $11.2 billion.

While the lion's share of the increase went to salary and wage earners, it is interesting to know how it was achieved. In March the gain came from higher pay rates and longer hours. Higher wage rates and increased employment were responsible in April.

These figures suggest that we may be passing from that phase of recovery in which industry is using more overtime into that in which more workers will be employed.

That Cheese Giveaway

After weeks in which there has been much talk about a deal netting cheese makers an easy $2,381,000 profit, the Department of Agriculture has come forth with an explanation.

This confirms reports that Agriculture last year bought 86,600,000 pounds of cheese at 37 cents a pound. Also confirmed is the fact that the entire amount immediately was sold back to the makers for 34.25 cents a pound though the cheese never left the factories.

Department officials explained to Congress the net profit to the manufacturers by saying that the deal was made to ease the shock of the reduction in dairy price supports from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

Not only did it help farmers adjust to the lower support price for dairy products, said the officials, but it saved the Government the cost of handling and warehousing the cheese.

Something is all wrong with this deal even if it was required by the price support law. It strikes us that the taxpayers who had to pay 2.75 cents a pound for cheese they didn't get, deserve a far better explanation.

How much, for example, did the Government save by not having to handle and warehouse this cheese? How much benefit filtered down to farmers? Was the deal necessary?

Boxing Branded Barbaric

A British eye specialist addressing the American Medical Association at Atlantic City took some sharp hooks and jabs at boxing.

He is Dr. James Hamilton Doggart of Moorsfield Eye Hospital, London. The visitor aimed his punches at the amateur as well as the professional versions of what sport writers long have called the "sour science."

Dr. Doggart told the AMA that boxers not only can get cauliflower ears but cauliflower eyes in the ring and that every knockout does irreparable brain injury. Scoring the sport as one which fosters some fans' sadistic impulses, he expressed the hope that it soon would be "as obsolete as the galley slaves or the chain gang."

Whether one is an enthusiast or not, it must be admitted there is an uncomfortable amount of truth in Dr. Doggart's claim that boxing is barbarism and not a sport.

Norway's Semicentennial

For the people of Norway this is a memorable period, marking as it does 50 years of their country's independence from Sweden.

It is the more noteworthy because Norway's King Haakon VII, the former Prince Carl of Denmark, isr ounding out 50 years of distinguished and dignified service as a constitutional monarch.

Finally, early June 1955, is important to all Scandinavians because it recalls events in history which vitally affected Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

In 1814 under the treaty of Kiel, Norway, a dependency of Denmark, was given to Sweden as part of the settlement after the Napoleonic wars. This was done to compensate Sweden for its earlier loss of Finland to Russia. Sweden had been on the winning side as an ally of Britain. Denmark had been on the losing side as an ally of France.

This arrangement continued until June 7, 1905, when Norway moved to end the union with Sweden. In August a plebiscite confirmed this action by the amazing vote of 368,208 to 184.

Today it is pleasant to record that after 50 years and despite World War II friction, Norway and Sweden are cooperating with Denmark and Iceland in the Nordic Council. This friendly, four nation group is making history by resolving its tariff, trade and cultural problems.

Sassafras Tea

Old Time Concoction Again Used; Raw Material Here

Bank book: Like a human, it must have a principle before it can expect any interest.

Sassafras root tea is being revived as a spring health builder. The Oakland County area has a plentiful supply of the ingredients. The tree grows in most every hedgerow, never attains a large size, and is easily identified by its rough bark, broad leaves and light green shoots at this season, which many of us chew. They have none of the root flavor, but are somewhat akin to slippery elm bark. The sassafras wood is a soft yellow in color. The spring tonic effects of the tea are attested by several who have called this column, including of Walled Lake, who says she never has seen a sick day since she began its use 53 years ago, and

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Dressler

of Birmingham, in whose home it has been "as regular as spring" for close to a half century. The roots should be dug and the bark peeled from them and dried, and then steeped as regular tea.

David Lawrence Says:

Doctor Claims A-Tests Do Not Peril Population

WASHINGTON—Strange misconceptions about the allegedly harmful effects of radioactive fallout from atomic tests are being spread throughout the world and the press services for the most part have not been alert to offset such claims with news of the rebuttals.

Anyway, on May 29, Franklin Hutchinson, an assistant professor of radiation physics at Yale, said on a radio program that if Atomic Energy Commission officials "have data to back up their contention that there are no harmful genetic effects from the radiation, that's just wonderful.

"The trouble is I don't know of any such data, and neither does anyone else to whom I have talked." He added that 1,800 children had been born with an additional "mutation" caused by the hydrogen bomb tests last spring.

WIDE DISTRIBUTION

The foregoing was distributed by the press services and many newspapers printed it because it was news.

But on June 3, Dr. Willard F. Libby, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission and himself one of America's most noted scientists in the field of atomic energy, made a public address at the University of Chicago, discussing the radioactive fallout problem from every angle, including mutations of all kinds.

He told the people of America why they should not be disturbed by the information given them about the recent bomb tests.

Here are some extracts from Dr. Libby's speech in which he discusses particularly the genetic effects—that is, effects on children of future generations:

"It is known that radiation dosages in the levels of 400 roentgen units are lethal (deadly) to about half the individuals exposed, the symptoms following the exposure being remarkably predictable and reproducible. . .

"If all the dosage from all atomic tests in all time, that is since 1945, be added together, the total dosage for people in the United States averages considerably less than one-tenth of one roentgen . . .

NO HEALTH HAZARD

"However, as far as immediate or somatic damage to the health is concerned the fallout dosage rate could be increased 15,000 times without hazard. In fact, it seems clear that it is very, very conservative indeed as far as these immediate effects on health are concerned. Tests, therefore, do not constitute any real hazard to immediate health.

"Let us examine now the radioactivities which are always present and compare them with the fallout radiations, because these general background radiations do affect the question of the genetic effects from fallout since everyone in the whole world has always been exposed to these natural dosages. The world in all its part in the sense is radioactive and always has been. The carbon in your bodies is naturally radioactive. . . .

"In fact the radioactivity of the human body and the nature of its radiation is such that people receive dosages from one another which are measurable and considerable in terms of the fallout dosages.

"It can be calculated that people packed in a dense crowd receive about two one-thousandths of a roentgen per year dosage from the radioactive potassium in their neighbor's bodies—somewhat more than that which applied in the United States on January 1 from the total of the test fallout.

NATURAL DOSAGES

"The principal sources of natural dosages, however, are not the human body but the cosmic rays and the radioactivities in the earth itself."

Dr. Libby told of dosages normally received of airplane pilots from the surface of the earth especially from rocks. He also mentioned the dosages from luminous watches and from X-rays and then concludes:

"Considering all these things, it is quite clear that the natural radioactivities of the body, the effects of the cosmic radiation and the natural radiation of the radioactivities of the earth's surface constitute hazards which are much greater than the test fallout hazards. It is also clear that if the genetic damages from radiation are real at these levels, we have always had them in much larger measure.

"This does not, of course, mean that they are desirable but it does mean that any genetic effects of the test fallout must indeed be small fractions of the effects which are normally present in the human population.

"It also means that in the case of a full-scale atomic war, where the amounts of fallout might well be expected to increase by large factors like a thousand-fold, there will be the additional hazards due to the fallout, additional to the blast and thermal and other better-known effects of nuclear weapons, that should be seriously considered."

Nobody has ever contended that atomic warfare isn't injurious to mankind but it has yet to be proved by anyone in the world of science that the atomic tests held thus far under careful restrictions have produced abnormal dosage of radioactivity in the fallout which could seriously damage this or any future generation.

World War I Vet Urges That More Flags Be Flown From Residences on Tuesday

Letters will be condensed when necessary. Address and telephone number of writer because of lack of space. Pull the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical of its nature.

Flag Day comes June 14. That is Tuesday.

Last year Pontiac did a fine job in flying flags downtown. In fact we had some guests from away who said Pontiac is an outstanding city in this regard.

But in the residence section flags don't average more than two to a block on holidays. That doesn't make Pontiac look good to visitors, nor to our servicemen.

Let's every family buy a flag and fly it on Flag Day, and on every holiday. Let's show we are thankful we are free, and that we intend to stay that way. If we lose our freedom we sure will be thinking a lot more about it than some of our citizens apparently do now.

Buy a flag, and remember to put it out next Tuesday.

Urges Single Women Also Get Benefits

According to the Congressional Record, Senator Potter introduced a bill that would "reduce from 65 to 60 years the age at which wives and widows may qualify for old age and survivors insurance benefits . . ."

Nobody could possibly object to "wives and widows" receiving their social security benefits at 60 years. But why penalize every unmarried woman in America that is covered by social security.

Many wives and widows 60 years old may have children that could help them. Other wives and widows have never contributed to social security benefits.

Few, if any, married women have someone to help them in later life. They have paid their social security taxes for many years.

Senator Potter reasons that the lack of ". . . experience in the business world . . ." helps justify wives and widows benefits. Countless unmarried woman have had no such experience.

Unemployment, sickness and hardships play no favorites among us. Therefore, Congress must treat all American women as equals, even under the Social Security Act.

Unemployment Insurance, Guaranteed Wage Differ

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Guaranteed wages and unemployment insurance are not the same. They are being pulled closer together by the auto workers' efforts to wring some kind of wage guarantee from the auto industry.

This is the main difference:

1. Unemployment insurance (hereafter called UI) is money which a state gives a worker—for a limited time and in limited amounts—when he loses his regular job.

2. The kind of guaranteed wage now in the news is money given by an employer—for a limited time and in limited amounts—when a worker is laid off.

This is what the CIO United Auto Workers had in mind when it got its first guaranteed wage contracts from Ford and General Motors:

That the guaranteed wage, when added to the UI which a laid-off worker would collect, would give him a figure closer to his regular pay than he would get from the UI alone.

Now it's up to the states to decide whether they'll give UI to a man collecting money from his employer. Some states don't permit that now.

Unemployment Insurance

All states, plus the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii pay UI, collected through a tax of 3 per cent or less on employers' payrolls. Amounts vary from state to state and so does the length of time each state gives these benefits.

The UI payments have been averaging around $25 a week. Some states pay for no more than 16 weeks, some for as many as 26.

Before he can collect UI payments, a worker generally must meet requirements like these: almost all states require him to wait a week, without pay, before he starts collecting; he must be willing to take another job if it's suitable; he may be penalized, or get no money at all, if he's been fired for misconduct.

The Guaranteed Wage

It is of two kinds:

1. For years some companies—like Nunn-Bush, Hormel, Procter and Gamble—have had guaranteed wage plans assuring their employes steady work or income. This is not linked to unemployment insurance.

2. The Ford agreement, first for the auto industry, is tied directly in with UI payments. This is how it works:

A man is laid off for lack of work. He can get up to $25 a week—many will get less—for as much as 26 weeks. How much he gets, up to $25, and how long he gets it depends on how long he worked for Ford, how much he earned weekly, and how long the fund lasts.

This company payment, when added to the UI payment he gets from the state, can, but won't necessarily add up to 65 per cent of his base take-home pay. That is, the pay he has left after federal income tax has been deducted from it.

And that guarantee of 65 per cent of take-home pay is only for four weeks. For the next 22 weeks the guarantee is for no more than 60 per cent. So even the combined Ford-UI payment will not give a jobless worker what he had earned regularly.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea.—I Cor. 10:1.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Former Patient Calls In Another Doctor After Physician Writes Off Medical Bill

Jesus healed 10 lepers from sure death, but only one even returned to say "Thank you." And he wasn't a member of Christ's race, but was a Samaritan! So beware about placing people under prolonged obligation, as Dr. Nathaniel's case so well attests

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case 0-355: Dr. Nathaniel, aged about 45, is a talented physician who attended the Beaver County medical meeting which I addressed in Pennsylvania recently.

"Dr. Crane, I have an interesting psychological case," he said with a smile, as we dined together.

"A poor family in my area has called me on numerous occasions and I have looked after the children for several years.

"Their unpaid bill finally reached the sum of $500, so last Christmas I told my wife I'd just cancel the entire bill and send it to them for a Christmas present, which I did.

"But a few months later, I happened to encounter the wife in the hospital as a patient of another physician.

"Casually I inquired about her situation, and she informed me that now her husband had a good job, so they were able to pay their bills and thus had picked this other doctor.

"Wouldn't you think a family would have enough gratitude to give the doctor some 'pay' business after all the years he had broken into his needed sleep on many nights, as I had done, to drive out into the country to see their sick children?"

DOLE PSYCHOLOGY

This is a classical example of exactly what happens whenever you indulge anybody with prolonged free favors until it becomes a habit.

Grocers and other businessmen have also encountered this same situation. They will be sympathetic and extend credit to a poor family till the latter owes them hundreds of dollars.

Then, when the family gets on its feet financially, it will ignore the long suffering grocer and patronize his rival, to whom they pay cash thereafter.

DEFLATES EGO

Why? Because prolonged indebtedness makes the debtor feel uncomfortable. It deflates his ego to feel under such obligation.

So there are two common ways to remedy the matter. The first consists of paying up. But if the debt has extended over a lengthy period of time and if it involves a fairly large sum, it is difficult to square accounts.

So the second way to free one's self from this humiliating sense of obligation to a friend, is to change your former benefactor into an enemy.

For we never feel "cheap" or embarrassed at taking advantage of a foe. On the contrary, we may actually think that it is a smart accomplishment to get the better of an enemy.

ENEMY-MAKERS

So the debtor subconsciously begins to develop reasons why his former benefactor is not a true friend after all.

"Dr. Nathaniel is no friend of mine," his patient may argue. "I called him at midnight when my baby daughter had pneumonia and he never showed up till 4 a.m.

"My baby could have died for all Dr. Nathaniel cared. He didn't give us service, etc."

DEBT CROSSED OFF

By such methods, the debtor soon will work up an apparently plausible "case" against his benefactor. This makes Dr. Nathaniel an enemy, so the sense of obligation is immediately eliminated.

The patient's conscience no longer twinges, and his pride is restored. Then he shuns that "enemy" when he gets a good job and pays cash to another doctor.

He doesn't even thank his former benefactor for cancelling a $500 medical bill as a Christmas gift.

So don't place anybody under too prolonged obligation to you, unless you want to have him turn against you and paint you as a foe.

Even your own relatives whom you subsidize habitually will then damn you as soon as you curtail your largess.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Men in Middle Age Keep Quiet About 'Hot Flashes'

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The only noticeable change of life experienced by a woman who has had a fair education—which means not only ordinary schooling but proper physical education and instruction in physiology and sex hygiene—is gradual cessation of the function of menstruation through a cycle of several months.

The middle aged woman—that's anywhere from 35 to 55, depending on vite — who has any discomfort or disability or indeed any new complaint or symptom or fear or anxiety, will seek the advice of her physician if she has good sense.

If perchance she selects one who goofs, say by telling her that most women have some such disturbance as hers at the "critical" time of life she would be wise to write it off as tuition and look around for a twentieth century physician.

That bugbear of middle age, "hot flashes," sudden flushing or flustering associated with distressing warmth and sweating, is a disturbance of metabolism (oxidation or combustion rate which occurs most frequently in middle aged persons but is by no means confined to women.

MEN KEEP QUIET

It just seems that way because the women talk about it (to each other) whereas men prefer to keep quiet about it, lest they become subject to jest.

Like other complaints of middle aged persons, hot flashes are more prevalent and more distressing among the new-rich and near-rich than among honest folk. Or maybe it just seems so because the new-rich and near-rich exaggerate their minor ailments too.

Be that as it may, I believe the middle aged person who gets a reasonable amount of general exercise every day, such as walking to and from work or business instead of riding, doing ordinary housework or other physical activity that relieves the pressure on the ischial tuberosities for an hour or more, is much less likely to have hot flashes than is one who gets little or no general exercise.

Too many men and women have become settled in bad habits by the time they reach the "dangerous age," eating too heartily, drinking, smoking crapulently and just sitting when they should be doing something.

NO DEBATES, PLEASE

I do want to continue propagating health and hygiene as long as I can, so I shall not define here precisely what I mean by these terms, but I'll explain in a personal communication what I mean if you inquire and provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. But don't expect me to debate anything with you.

For relief of hot flashes it is a good idea to boop your calicum metabolism by following a high calcium diet and/or supplementing your ordinary diet with an optimal daily ration of Ca and D (vitamin D, that is, which is essential for normal assimilation and utilization of calcium).

If this does no good, in any case it can do no harm. Instructions in pamphlet The Menopause, available on written, signed request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A much more expensive remedy for hot flashes, which only your physician can administer or prescribe, is ovarian hormone. Various preparations of the hormone, for intramuscular injection or for oral administration (tablets), are estriol, theelin, premarin.

Hormone treatment should bring considerable relief in a week or less; if not, it should be discontinued.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Business Closes as Promotion Backfires

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—D. L. Stone nearly had himself promoted right out of the filling station business. He signed an agreement with an advertising agency under which it would sell $14 worth of services and supplies on a coupon book plan for $3.50.

Stone figured 75 to 100 of the books would be sold and he'd gain some customers while providing services. Instead, about 2,000 books were sold and his station was so swamped with the coupon-clippers that he had to close down.

* * *

He reopened later and is trying to work his way out by having coupon holders collect their services on an appointment basis.

Yale Makes Lawmakers

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Florida, Montana, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico are the only states which never sent a Yale alumnus to Congress, says Prof. George W. Pierson, University historian. Connecticut has elected the most Yale men to Congress—331. New York is second with 80. Massachusetts, home of Harvard, has been represented by 31 Yale men.

Woman Backs Car Out, Driveway Disappears

DETROIT (AP) — A driveway that vanished after she backed her car over it gave Mrs. Jesse J. Brewer of suburban St. Clair Shores the surprise of her life.

"It sank slowly," she said, "and didn't stop until a section 20 feet long and 10 feet wide had dropped about six feet."

The driveway is over the city's main sewer interceptor. It was a cave-in.

Plan Farm Animals at St. Louis Zoo

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Most St. Louis children are experts on polar bears, gorillas and the like, but not enough of them know about such critters as pigs, chickens and cows.

That's why city officials are considering a barnyard display at the St. Louis zoo, possibly in the form of a miniature farm. "This facility will give thousands of city children their first look at a collection of farm animals," said Mayor Raymond R. Tucker.

Hungry Thief Raids Home Food Freezer

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A hungry thief entered the home of Mrs. Albert Ellowitz and helped himself to these items from a food freezer:

Two broiled chickens, two chicken pies, half gallon of ice cream, one coffee cake, one can of pineapple, one can of grape juice, one can of orange juice and a five-pound rib roast.

Accidents in traffic cost the American people more than $4.3 billion a year.

Calf Dies From Bite of Weather Balloon

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP) — Farmer Henry Cochran's calf spied a tasty-looking morsel in the pasture and took a few bites. Mrs. Cochran found the calf dead and called a veterinarian to perform an autopsy.

He found the calf had swallowed several piece of a Weather Bureau balloon. The small metal box containing meteorological instruments was found near the calf.

It was mailed to the Weather Bureau by the saddened Cochrans.

Counselor Impractical for Average Investor

Following is the seventh installment of a ten-part interview with Benjamin Graham, security analyst and Columbia University professor who answers questions on the hows, whys and whens of investing your money.

Q—What about investment funds for people higher up in the income scale? What about the man who is earning $50,000 a year?

A—He, naturally, would feel that he would like to look over the situation in investments at least and consider making decisions of his own in the kind of securities that he wants. The amount of money that he has would make it worth while to give it thought and considerable care.

I'm not so sure that this man would necessarily do any better than he would do if he bought investment-fund shares; but it's more natural and more interesting for him to do other things.

You must never minimize the personal equation. Most men like to make their own decisions.

Q—To go back to what a man can do—is it impractical for the average investor, for instance, to deal with an investment counselor?

A—For the small man, yes. The investment counselor generally deals with a person with $100,000 or more to invest in securities, particularly common stocks. It doesn't make much sense for a man to bring to an investment counselor a $50,000 fixed-bond portfolio. He can invest that money in bonds without paying the charges of an investment counselor. You need to be fairly wealthy to do that.

Q—What about the investment services that are published monthly or weekly?

A—Frankly speaking, I don't know much about them. But it's obvious that the small man could not soundly pay money for a weekly investment service and try to follow their suggestions every week or month. That would imply that he is going to be active all the time in the market, and that is an entirely different thing from the kind of investment that we are talking about. If he's a speculator, that's another story.

Q—For the man who is going to spend some time of his own, instead of buying the Dow-Jones list or investment shares—and you've already suggested that the broker can't help him much—where does he get the factual information that he needs in order to exercise his own judgment?

A—Now, I don't want to do an injustice to brokers here. I would say that the man who had a purely conventional program and wanted to select some issue for long-term, repeated, investment probably wouldn't get much help from a broker. On the other hand, if he wants to do a continuous study of the financial and business situation, he could get advice from a broker.

Q—What does he get from a broker?

Q—The factual information?

A—Yes. He doesn't have to subscribe to Moody's and Standard & Poor's, and so on. He can use the broker's facilities.

Q—The broker will tell him about a company's financial condition, its record, dividends, and that sort of thing?

of that data, which is, of course.

A—That's right. He can get all essential if he wants to do any studying. He can get analyses from the broker—presenting the information in a little better way, perhaps, than he could get it himself by just reading the sources. And he can also get points of view, recommendations, and so on, which may be better, on the whole, than ones he would make up for himself.

Train Hits Couple Driving on Tracks

ELECTRA, Tex. (UP) — Police hoped today to learn why a Waggoner Ranch cowboy and his woman companion were driving their car down the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad when a train hit them yesterday.

The pair, 38-year-old John L. Lovejoy and Mrs. Rose Helton, 41, were injured when the engine of the westbound Zephyr knocked their auto more than 100 feet. Both were hospitalized.

Investigation showed the car drove onto the tracks about seven miles east of Electra, and had gone about ½ mile along them when hit by the train.

OUR BIRD FRIENDS—1

The Red-Winged Blackbird

Whether you live in town, city or country, you should learn to know the birds. Bird study is one of the best hobbies a boy or girl can have.

It's both easier and harder than you may think. There are a lot of birds—perhaps 100 for every man, woman and child in the country. And there are a lot of different kinds—about 700 for North America as a whole.

But the best way to learn about birds is to start with some of the familiar ones around home.

The red-winged blackbird, together with similar species on the West Coast, are familiar to most people. In parts of the country they stay all year; in others they are among the earliest arrivals in spring. They like to live in marshy places and they eat many weed seeds and grasshoppers.

Color Mr. Red Wing's wing patch bright red except the lower border which should be yellow. As you see, he is jet black. Mrs. Red Wing should be streaked brown. The rushes can be green and the water blue. You can save this to start a collection of bird pictures.

Find Burned Plane, No Sign of Crash

RIPLEY, Tenn (AP) — A farmer found the burned wreckage of a light plane on an isolated creek bank and called officers.

There was no indication of a crash. The wreckage lay in a little used dirt road, screened by trees and underbrush from a nearby highway. Fresh tire tracks were found.

Sheriff Oscar Griggs said he believes "the thing was just dumped in here and burned by somebody, but for the life of me, I cannot imagine why."

United States exports of flaxseed and linseed oil in 1954 set a new record. Flaxseed exports reached 9,696,356 bushels and linseed oil exports totaled 220,775 short tons.

Charge Misuse of Real Estate

Hoover Group Scores Poor Management of Federal Holdings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover Commission today urged Congress and the President to crack down on what it called mismanagement and wasteful use of the government's vast real estate holdings.

In the latest of a series of reports, the commission said the government owns 472 million acres of land—one fourth of the nation's entire area—and controls federal structures with space 1,250 times that of New York City's Empire State Building.

Yet the government has no up-to-date inventory of its holdings and exhibits little familiarity with "modern real property management' in their use, the commission said.

As a result, agencies frequently buy new property when they could occupy ground or buildings already owned by the government, said the 12-member commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

The report asked President Eisenhower to make a larger grant of authority to the General Services Administration, and to force compliance with orders of that government wide housekeeping agency, which it said are now sometimes ignored by the 27 property-holding agencies.

The commission also asked Congress to strengthen the Bureau of the Budget as a coordinating agency.

Short-Circuits Nap

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—The afternoon nap of Lance Morrison, 5, was short-circuited yesterday when he swallowed an electric fuse while resting in bed. His parents rushed him to a hospital. Doctors X-rayed him and decided the inch-long, pencil-sized fuse would do little harm. It wasn't known how Lance got the fuse.

How to Enjoy Old Age: 1

You Can Live to Be 100 . . . and Like It

Distinguished scientists say that living to be 100 years old is a reasonable goal—for you. And they can be happy years, the scientists say, if you heed some expert advice. Following is the first of four articles giving you hints and formulas on achieving a long, full life—how to live day by day, to plan for such things as retirement and

By EDWIN DIAMOND

CHICAGO (INS)—You can live to be 100 years old.

Achieving "100 happy years" is largely up to you. It involves understanding yourself and your body, planning ahead on financial arrangements, housing accomodatios, leisure activities and retirement steps.

What is the evidence that you can live to be 100?

One in every 33,000 Americans will make it this year, and distinguished scientists like 80-year-old Prof. A. J. Carlson say a 100-year life is a reasonable biological goal.

Thanks to the increasingly good health parents pass on to children and to the conquest or curbing of scores of childhood and other diseases, the baby born today has a life expectancy almost double that of children born when George Washington was president in 1789.

68.6 YEARS

In 1952, the latest year for which government statistics are available, the average life expectancy at birth was 68.6 years—65.9 for men and 71.8 for women.

Statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. have prepared a tentative table showing that the average life expectancy continues to rise, and reached 69.7 years in 1954.

As a result of this progress, medicine now recognizes as a distinct period of human life "later maturity" — the name used instead of the negative-sounding "old age."

To cope with the period, usually defined as beginning between 60 and 65, a new medical specialty known as gerontology has grown up in the last decade.

LATER LIFE ILLS

With the diseases of early life largely conquered, medical research is now setting its sights on the ills of later life—the so-called chronic or degenerative diseases like heart conditions, hardening of the arteries, arthritis diabetes and rheumatism.

* * *

Even here the picture is bright. Latest information on chronic ailments underlines two points—they are not inevitable and they can be treated and controlled.

Dr. Soloman L. Pearlman, specialist in internal medicine at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, declared:

"Illness is not an inevitable part of aging—there is no such thing as a specific disease of age.

BODY CAN MAKE IT

Dr. A. J. Carlson, the dean of American biologists and one of the world's foremost experts on aging, says that our bodies can make it to 100—if we'll only let them.

Hale and hearty at 80, Dr. Carlson maintains that ignorance of biological facts, overeating, improper diet and laziness are depriving millions of a long and happy life.

Carlson estimates that as many as 35,000,000 Americans are cutting short their lives by over-eating—"digging their own graves with their teeth."

4-POINT PROGRAM

First, Dr. Carlson's four-point program:

"1—Don't overeat, but be sure all the essentials are in your diet. We knew from 50 years of nutrition research what should be in your diet. (The 'seven daily essentials'—milk; fruit; vegetables; meat, fish or poultry; cereals and bread; butter or oleo); any competent and up-to-date doctor can tell you what a good diet is.

"2—Initiate a program of continuous physical work. We know that when work stops, the human organism begins to degenerate. Work —and by this I do not mean just hobbies or crafts—is necessary to the good life

"3—Keep alive your human curiosity. Have a system of continuous and real, that is factual, education throughout your adult life.

"4—Support and understand medical research aimed at advancing knowledge of preventive diseases. Our ideal should be cure, not merely control, of disease.

ADD LIFE TO YEARS

The secret to 100 happy years is perhaps best expressed in this formula—add years to your life by adding life to your years.

The formula is based on Dr. A. J. Carlson's personal prescription for longevity—with—health. This distinguished biologist, active at 80, says:

"Stay slim, stay trim, stay curious, stay active and know yourself and your body—don't abuse it."

Whenever middle-age or older adults are told to learn new activities, hobbies or leisure-time pursuits, the line about the "old dog" who can't be taught is trotted out.

What are the facts?

OLDSTERS LEARN

The work of psychologists show that you can teach an old dog new tricks and that in some cases he learns better than young ones.

The adults, a cross-section of social and economic groups, were studying for a college degree in an experimental project sponsored by the center for the study of liberal education for adults. The young students represented several colleges and universities.

When the test results were in, they showed the Brooklyn adults were superior to college sophomores in social science and humanities, superior to seniors in humanities and equal to seniors in social science. They were inferior to both sophomores and seniors in the natural sciences (mathematics and physics).

If the "old dog" is teachable, what should he learn?

Dr. Carlson says "not hobbies but a continuous, factual study of the nature of man and his universe."

Grandma Moses follows a different course. Now 95, she began painting rural landscapes at the age of 78.

Oliver Wendell Holmes began studying Greek at the age of 82. He was asked why and replied: "To improve my mind."

(Tomorrow—Should you retire at 65?)

Plans Bomb Shelter

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (ULP) — An 84-year-old man has become the first Sioux Falls resident to decide to build a bomb shelter in his backyard. Ross E. Greer admitted, however, that "I don't think I'll need to use it but there is some satisfaction in having a cellar."

About 24 per cent of all drivers involved in fatal auto accidents during 1954 were under the age of 25 years.

An estimated 25,000 American communities depend entirely upon highways and trucks for their transportation

Rebels Give Up to Diem Forces

Two More Battalions From Hoa Hao Army Surrender in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two more battalions of Hoa Hao Gen. Tran Van Soai's rebel forces have surrendered to the national army, Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's government announced today.

The 545 men of the religious sect came over yesterday with all their arms in the Can Tho area, 90 miles southwest of Saigon. Thirty battalions of Diem's troops have been waging a cleanup operation there against Soai's main force since June 5.

Surrenders reported by the government now total 2,500 men, more than half the strength credited to Soai before the government drive started.

On completion of the operation against Soai, the national army is expected to move against Hoa Hao Gen. Le Quang Vinh, better known as Bacut, who occupies the far west.

In Saigon, the first incident of violence involving Americans in many months occurred last night.

An explosive, believed to be a grenade, tore a hole in the lawn of the home of William C. Hardy, American Aid Program. The Hardys were playing cards by candlelight during a blackout due to one of the power failures which wornout equipment frequently inflicts on Saigon. No one was hurt.

A similar explosion rocked a residential section near the premier's palace later last night. It too did no material damage.

Stubborn Briton Swallows Snails to Uphold Honor

PORTHCAWL, Wales (AP)—It may sound crazy to the French but George Loughlin is in trouble for eating snails.

A fellow clubman walked out into the garden, brought back a dozen snails and said: "Eat them."

There's a world of difference between a slimy British garden snail and the fine fat snails that Frenchmen eat. But for George it was a point of honor. Rather than swallow his pride, he swallowed the snails—and apparently enjoyed them.

Not so the committee of Porthcawl's United Services Club. They suspended George for three months "for causing consternation to other members."

Omega Mu Sigmas Honor New Members at Breakfast

Omega Mu Sigma Sorority held its annual breakfast honoring new members Sunday at Rotunda Inn. Among those who helped with arrangements were (left to right) Mrs. Raymond Thompson of Drayton Plains, Mrs. Austin D. Esler of Shore View drive, Lola Strom of Mohawk road and Mrs. Donald G. Nelson of Ross drive. Speaker for the occasion was Helene Schwetta who told about life in Paris.

Rotunda Inn was the setting for the annual breakfast honoring new members of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority. Two members arriving early Sunday morning for the occasion were Mrs. Leo Halfpenny (left) of Lewis street and Mrs. Elmer Lea of Union Lake road.

Comparison Is Made for Sorority

Helene Schwetta Speaks on Life in Paris Today

Members of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority heard Helene Schwetta tell about life in Paris when they gathered Sunday at Rotunda Inn for the annual breakfast.

Miss Schwetta, who has been living in this country for the past six years, said that she is very happy to be here. She made comparisons between the day of an American housewife and the Parisian housewife.

Where the American woman begins Monday with automatic devices to do her washing, Miss Schwetta said that it is necessary for the housewife in Paris to begin her washing Sunday evening.

She has no electric washer and therefore must soak her clothes, boil them and rub and rinse them by hand. Cooking, too, is an entirely different problem for the Parisian housewife.

Although they begin the day with a smaller breakfast than Americans do, they eat heartily at noon and night.

This calls for a great deal more cooking on the part of the housewife. And she must do her marketing every day as she does not have refrigeration, Miss Schwetta said.

Marketing in Paris is not the same as it is in America, the speaker said. It is necessary for the housewife to go to several stores before she has all her grocery shopping completed.

HAVE DRESSMAKERS

Few housewives in Paris can afford ready-made dresses, so they have their own dressmakers. When buying material for the dress, they must be sure of what they are buying. There is no exchange such as there is in this country, Miss Schwetta said.

It is the opinion of the speaker that Americans feel their religion more in this country, that they live it more, and that they are more concerned about following what they believe. The Frenchman, she said is not so close to his religion.

She told about cafe life in Paris, of the interesting sidewalk cafes, and said that this is the type the native prefers to the night club type of entertainment. The latter, she said, is mainly for the tourists.

Mrs. Kuga Kojima was breakfast chairman assisted by Mrs. Harold Frack, Mrs. Elmer Lea, Mrs. Allan Dodd and Mrs. Frank Spraker.

Mrs. Alfred Summers introduced the speaker and Mrs. Harian Oakes, president of the sorority, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Milo McLintock gave the invocation.

Pontiac Press Photos

Own Back Yard Brought Her Profit

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Sometimes, we find a profit-making opportunity right in our own backyard.

At least that's the case with Mrs. G., who wrote me from the far west.

"I was amused," she writes, "when I read what you said about typing and addressing and stuffing envelopes at home.

"I tried to make a profit out of that for over a year and failed.

HARD WORK

"I have two small children. Although my husband works hard, we did need a little extra money, so I decided, since I could type, that this was what I would do in my spare time.

"It took me a long time to find places that farm out this kind of work, but I finally managed to locate one.

"It was terribly hard work, that is, if I were to do enough to get any money out of it at all.

"And it was so boring! I would sit at the typewriter, grinding away and knowing that I'd get almost nothing for my efforts.

"I used to look wistfully out the window and wish I could be gardening instead.

WORKED ON GOURDS

"After a year of this, with my temper worn thin and my life a real grind, I discovered that I had averaged about three dollars a week!

"So I gave it up in disgust and devoted what spare time I had to gardening, which I adore. And then a very funny thing happened.

"I had always been fascinated by gourds—they have such enchanting shapes—so I planted a lot of them.

"When they were ready, I worked on them, gave them a coat of shellac and turned out the most beautiful novelties.

"The big ones I used for centerpieces for the table, and out of the others I made little jewel cases, sewing boxes and all kinds of charming containers.

"I presented them to all my friends and even gave them as prizes at church affairs.

LOCAL GIFT SHOPS

"After a while," this young mother continues, "I got my courage up and approached our local gift shops.

"Two of them offered to handle my gourds on a percentage basis.

"And now, can you believe it, I made about twelve dollars a week from them—four times as much as I made from that dreary typing job and a hundred times more fun!"

Phyllis Louise Fisler Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

At a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at Central Methodist Church, Phyllis Louise Fisler and Wallace R. Murray Jr. exchanged nuptial vows. The Rev. Milton H. Bank officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fisler of Thorpe street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Murray of Long Island, New York.

Net tiers fashioned the bouffant skirt of the bride's ballerina length gown, set off by a fitted bodice of Chantilly-type lace. The square neckline was complemented by a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a tiara of pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of white shattered carnations, pink delphinium and ivy.

MAID WEARS PINK

For her duties as maid of honor the bridegroom's sister, Marilyn Murray, wore a dress of pink bouffant with net skirt. The fitted bodice of mauve pink silk was topped with a bolero of the same silk. She carried shattered pink carnations, mauve delphinium and ivy.

The best man was the bride's brother, George F. Fisler of East Lansing. Ermil Jones of Monroe, a cousin of the bride's, served as usher. Mrs. Jerle Head sang the wedding recital.

For her daughter's reception which followed in the church parlors, Mrs. Fisler chose a beige linen bolero dress trimmed with lace inserts over coral, and seed pearls and sequins. She wore matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother selected an aqua dress of sheer silk with black accessories. Corsages for both mothers were red roses and ivy.

Before leaving on a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride changed to a blue and white checked suit. The newlyweds will make their home in Ithaca, N.Y. where the bridegroom will attend Ithaca College.

The new Mrs. Murray attended Albion College and is a graduate of Henry Ford Hospital School of nursing.

Tiny tiers of white val lace over lemon silk are sprinkled all over in a cocktail sheath by Edith Small. The moulded bodice has a scoop neckline and small sleeves.

Mrs. Mabel Wiser led group singing, with Mrs. James Marshall closing the program with a prayer. The next meeting will be a picnic at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Leland Marion.

Deeon Utley Sailing for Europe June 28

She Turned the Tables Into Profits

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mrs. K. always did like to collect odds and ends. Her family used to kid her about it, but not any more, for this hobby gave her a new lease on life.

"I always had a big family," Mrs. K. told me; "two aunts who lived with us, my husband and three youngsters and my father.

"We had a funny old house with plenty of room and we had a very good life.

"As the years went by, the old folks passed on and the children began getting married and leaving home.

"For a while my husband and I had a peaceful, pleasant existence, but then when I lost him, very suddenly, I was desolate.

"It took months to get myself out of the terrible state of depression and loneliness.

"After a while," she continued, "it became apparent that I'd have to sell the big house. I didn't need such a large place and besides, it meant too much work and responsibility.

COULDN'T FACE MOVING

"However, the thought of moving almost paralyzed me, for I had collected all kinds of odds and ends through the years.

"We had plenty of room and needed plenty of furniture. Then, too, I could never resist a bargain.

"Particularly a bargain in tables—any kind of table. We had bedside tables in all the bedrooms and work tables, end tables, coffee tables in various other rooms.

"I loved to fix them up and refinish them. I could never throw a table away.

FIXES TABLES

"Well," she concluded briskly, "I never did.

"Remembering what the doctor said about developing a new interest if I were to stay alive, I decided to concentrate on my interest in tables.

"I sold the house and a lot of the furniture, but not the tables.

"I found a smaller house in a part of town where the zoning laws allowed business establishments. The little house had a large front room, which became the headquarters for Tables, Unlimited!

ALL THE TABLES

"Into that room I put all the tables I had ever collected.

"I fixed them all up and put quite low price tags on them. And I kept on buying cheap, old tables and fixing them up.

"I now have a nice source of income. People like my selections and my prices and I do a lot of business.

"I meet awfully nice people and make a good income. And I still find tables as fascinating as ever!"

All set for that new French lift are figures of every type, aided and abetted by a new "high style" bra. Fastidiously fine in white silky cotton with embroidery, it lifts your bosom to a new rounded "high." As good under dreamy chiffon shirtwaisters as here, underscoring Kauffman's trip ratcatcher shirt of imported Tattersall check.

Groom Deserves a Shower, Too

CHICAGO (INS)—Bridal showers, of course. But why not bridegroom showers?

In the midst of table settings for parties honoring the bride-to-be, the store set up a table for the groom.

Instead of frills or kitchen gadgets, the table for the man who is about to become a husband was decorated with a centerpiece of gift suggestions that included hand tools, barbecue equipment, a man's cook book, a can of paint and a handyman's manual.

The table was set with nubby brown linen place mats and napkins and modern ceramic dinnerware to complete the "masculine look" shower.

Chlorine Makes Bathtub Sparkle

Want to know a super-duper way to clean a bathtub — make it sparkling bright and extra clean?

Well, here it is. First wet all of the surface of the tub. Then simply sprinkle lightly over the tub the new chlorine bleach that's in dry granule form.

Spread with a damp cloth. Rinse well and wipe. Your bathtub will gleam and you know it's clean. Because this chlorine bleach is in dry form, it clings and doesn't run off as liquid bleach does.

That's why this particular chlorine bleach is a wonderful aid in cleaning porcelain bathtubs and sinks.

MR. and MRS. DONALD C. BROWN

Sharon Ann Hanson Weds Donald Clark at White Lake

The couple exchanged vows at 7 p.m. at White Lake Presbyterian Church, Davisburg, with the Rev. Robert Van Oyen officiating.

Her bridal gown of crystalette featured a lace bodice with sleeves tapering to a point over the wrists. A seed pearl tiara held her fingertip veil of French illusion in place.

With this she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with red roses.

She carried American Beauty roses, white carnations and stephanotis, with white streamers tied in love knots.

Serving as best man was John Camden.

MOTHERS WEAR ORCHIDS

The bride's mother wore pink nylon with white accessories for her daughter's reception which followed in the church parlors. Pink lace over taffeta was the selection of the bridegroom's mother. Pink orchids were worn by both women.

The newlyweds will reside on Hospital road. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robert Hanson of Thornapple drive. Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Brown are parents of the bridegroom.

Scots Offer New Fabric for Summer

NEW YORK (INS)—The hottest selling fabric in summer fashions is not from Paris, not from Pakistan or Persia or anyplace you'd expect.

It's from Scotland — and it's called the "Freicudan Du."

We know it better as the "Black Watch" tartan, that plaid combination of black, green and blue which is appearing on everything from dresses to handbags to bathing suits to Bermuda shorts.

It's made in cottons, in corduroys, in wools and in synthetics and no matter how they make it, it sells like hotcakes.

The fabric industry reports that "Black Watch" ginghams and corduroys are sold out, with manufacturers yelling for more. The first fall woolens in the clan plaid are being snapped up—and sportswear makers are deluged with reorders on garments made in the "Black Watch" plaid.

STRICTLY 1955

Fashion-wise, the "Black Watch" is strictly 1955. Historically, it goes back to 1729, when the famous Highland regiment that wears the tartan was organized and promptly nicknamed the "Black Watch" because their dark plaid was so much of a contrast to the regular red-coated soldiers.

The present-day popularity of this fabric pattern is also credited to color. Fabric experts say it sells not only because it is a comparatively muted plaid, but because it is dark — and women seem to want dark clothes years around.

Add a few drops of kerosene to the water used for cleaning windows. This helps prevent spotting from rain.

You can make a cake without cake flour with this substitution: Use ⅞ cup of all-purpose flour whenever the recipe calls for 1 cup of cake flour.

It's often possible to fuse the ends of a broken electrical element together with a paste made out of one part borax and three parts iron cement.

Yomar Group Given Program on Venezuela

A first-hand account of life and customs in Venezuela highlighted the program when the Yomar Group of First Presbyterian Church met recently in the church parlors.

Mrs. Virgil A. Smith Jr. narrated slides on the subject, taken during the period when she and her family were residents there. Mrs. Harry Pattison directed the Bible study.

Hostess for a July 13 picnic and swimming party for members and their children will be Mrs. Melvin Brimm of Lakeside drive. Mrs. Calus Gordon and Mrs. Verne Ostrander were appointed cochairmen of summer money-making projects.

Mrs. Howard Wideman, Mrs. George Stinnett, Mrs. Eldred Mathes and Mrs. James Sutton were hostesses during the meeting. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Howard White and Mrs. Emil Bruestle.

Sunlight Will Fade Colored Washing

Colored washing dried indoors will stay bright and new-looking a great deal longer than if hung outside. Sunlight can hurt most colors, especially when they are wet.

Hanging clothes in the shade is no guarantee that the sun will not get around to that exact spot before the articles are ready to take down.

Men Are Tops in Milk Drinking

CHICAGO (INS) — More men than women drink milk, according to a nationwide survey taken recently by the American Dairy Association.

The association said 82 per cent of male household heads drink milk while only 77 per cent of their wives do.

The survey also disclosed that one out of every four persons over 45 years of age is on some kind of diet and that half of these dieters drink milk every day.

Restaurant Food Sharing OK'd in Part

Rebuffed Parent Asks if Sampling Is Permissable

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "My husband and I and our fourteen-year-old daughter had dinner in a restaurant the other evening. We all ordered something different.

"During the course of the meal, my husband remarked that his steak was particularly good and so I asked him to let me taste it.

"He cut off a small piece and put it on my plate. I in turn let him taste some of what I had, which was also very delicious.

"My daughter criticized us later for doing this and said that it was not good manners. I would like to know if what we did was in bad taste."

Answer: As you were dining alone by yourselves, even though in a restaurant, it was quite all right.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like your advice in regard to my daughter's coming marriage. I have been separated from my wife for the past six years. I have two daughters.

"Both girls have been living with me since our separation and their mother has shown very little interest in them over these years.

"My oldest daughter is to be married shortly and I would like to know how the invitations should be worded.

"Must my wife's name be included on the invitations? There will be a large reception after the wedding. If she comes to the reception does she receive the guests? I do not feel that she has any right to these privileges, but I do want to do the right thing."

Answer: Since you and your wife are definitely separated and you are giving the wedding, the invitations would go out in your name alone. If she comes to the wedding, it is merely as a guest and she does not receive.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May a hostess wear a long dress at a party she is giving in her house when the guests will, in all probability, be in street-length dresses?"

Answer: It is entirely proper for a hostess to wear a long dress at her own party.

A tiny banana-colored velvet hat sits on the top of the head but carries out the back interest idea with a bow perched neatly on its tiny brim.

Asks How to Broach Marriage to Parents

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: "We've gone steady over two years now and during that time have fallen in love. We're quite sure we know our own minds.

"We want to get married, but what's worrying us is how to go about explaining to our parents. Have you any advice for us?"

Answer: Your family isn't completely blind to what's going on, you know. They've been seeing it coming. Your fiance can tackle his own parents in his own way while you tell yours, and at the most favorable moment. Then you can compare notes.

Your parents' reaction will indicate whether it would be a good idea to have a foursome discussion in your own living room. If that goes over successfully, then you could plan a meeting of both sets of parents.

You obviously anticipate some opposition, so take it one step at a time to avoid embarassment and hurt feelings all around.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend and I like two boys and the four of us enjoy being together.

"The trouble is that they never come around until it's time for us to go in.

"We have difficult parents. Should we drop a hint that they should come over sooner if they want to see us? Would that show them that we like them?"

Answer: Hinting's all well and good. Why not come straight out with it? Tell them what time you have supper and what time you have to be in.

Ask them what time they eat? Then suggest they come over a bit earlier so you can have a longer visit together. Remind them of how it's been the last few times.

A little coaxing might make them adopt a new time schedule. It would show them that you'd like them to come over.

"Dear Miss Woodward: A boy started writing to me and he asked me for a picture, so I sent him one. He wrote for a while, then he stopped. He didn't send the picture back and didn't give a reason for not writing.

"Should I write and ask him for my picture, or what?"

Answer: If you can think of a really good reason why you must have that picture back, go ahead and ask him for it. Write him a gay, friendly little note (no reproaches, no scolding for not writing) telling him how you are and what you've been doing.

Then pour on the excuse for having your picture back. You know, he may keep the picture and start writing again.

Buzzing Bees Are 'Bombers'

NEW YORK (INS) — The busy little bee can be a highway hazard if it gets into the car and starts buzzing around the driver.

Some drivers can ignore insects flying inside an automobile, but it's a good idea to get rid of anything that might sting — and therefore startle—the driver.

The thing to do is pull over to the side of the road, out of the line of traffic. Roll down all the windows and gently shoo the insect out with a newspaper, folded road map or anything similar that's handy.

IF you like blazers—

Bold striped and boyish looking are best for the slender. Narrow white stripes on dark fabric for larger figures.

Blazers contrast or blend with all the bright colors in summer separates. Sometimes dressed up to wear with town clothes to suit feminine types; sometimes perfectly sportsy for stronger, dashing personalities.

Warm water is better than cold for sprinkling clothes. It seems to have more penetrating qualities.

Goodison Methodist Church was the setting for the seven o'clock ceremony performed Friday evening before 100 guests. Bouquets of white carnations decorated the altar for the candlelight ceremoney.

The bride wore a gown of white crystalette over satin. The bodice was fashioned with lace and the skirt was ballerina length.

WEARS LACE VEIL

Pat Miller attended the bride as maid of honor wearing a pale green gown of crystalette in ballerina length. She carried an arrangement of yellow carnations.

Bob Hoffman served as best man and seating the guests were Wayne Fisher and Eugene Hoffman.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Warren wore a blue lace dress over taffeta and a corsage of pink carnations. A blue-gray crepe dress with pink carnations was the choice of the bridegroom's mother.

Paris Tells Personality by Umbrella

A musical lady might choose an umbrella with the bamboo handle twisted to a treble clef. "Eve" might go in for the gilded snake-handle with jeweled eyes that forms a loop by biting its tail.

If you admire primitive art, a totem-pole carved in dark wood and mounted as a handle on a red nylon umbrella is for you. One of these Parisian "en cas" has a handle a miniature bust of a woman sculptured in ivory with emerald eyes, a ruby mouth and a diamond necklace.

With one Paris umbrella you even can walk "hand-in-hand." A parasol of sand-colored silk has a black wooden handle topped by a small gold metal hand. Another model has a distinctly masculine touch. It is a normal size pipe, sheathed in pigskin and used as handle on a walnut colored umbrella.

Paris designers have dreamed up a parasol that also serves as a flower container. The handle of the pastel colored parasol is a metal tube open at the top to hold a small bunch of posies.

Wash Towels, Sink in One Operation

Here's a quick trick for washing dish towels and cleaning the sink all in one swoop:

When the dishes are finished, sprinkle a little of the new chlorine dry bleach in the sink, turn on the hot water and put in your dish towels.

Let them soak for a few minutes. Rinse thoroughly and you'll find stains gone . . . both from the dish towels and from the sink itself. Could anything be easier?

Open Fire Barbecue Is Great!

Mrs. E. J. Miller Puts Jelly and Mustard Into Glazing Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When the weather warms up, you're sure to be cooking outdoors. Have you ever tried barbecued spareribs over an open fire? Mrs. Edward J. Miller contributes a delicious sounding recipe that produces spareribs with the glaze of a candied apple.

The Millers who live at Russell Beach do lots of outdoor cooking. There are three daughters in the family. Mrs. Miller is secretary of her church guild and belong to the Daughters of Isabella. She enjoys textile painting and has painted innumerable aprons as gifts.

SPICY GLAZED SPARERIBS
By Mrs. Edward J. Miller

6 pounds spareribs, separated into 6-rib chunks.
3 (6-ounces) jars black current jelly
1 (8½-ounce) prepared mustard
1 tablespoon horseradish mustard
1 bottle catsup
1 bottle worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
2 wine glasses Malaga wine
Hot pepper sauce as you like it

Dissolve jelly in double boiler, add other ingredients and heat thoroughly. Place ribs in flat pan, cover with sauce, let stand several hours. Do not thin sauce.

Remove ribs from the marinade and place on open fire. The fire should be a bed of red hot coals with little danger of flame; the secret is intense heat. Repeat the process of switching the ribs from fire to marinade sauce and back to the fire for short intervals. Continue until the ribs are thoroughly done.

Use Dry Chlorine to Clean Fixtures

If you are lucky enough to possess a marble-topped coffee table, or fireplace facing, or even bathroom fixtures, do you know you can wipe them off quickly and easily with the chlorine bleach now available in new dry form?

Wet the marble, sprinkle on some of the chlorine dry bleach, spread the bleach with a damp cloth or paper towel, rinse and wipe the marble.

Just follow directions for cleaning on the jar. Anything as lovely and long-lasting as marble furnishings deserves this chlorine bleach care!

Says U.N. Not Able to Counter Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—A study of the Brookings Institution concludes that for the foreseeable future the United Nations cannot be relied on to counter military aggression.

A report released yesterday by the nonprofit, private research group said U.N. members must rely for protection "primarily" on their own armed forces and on regional alliances like NATO.

"In the present state of the world," it said, "they cannot rely on the United Nations."

The study praised the general usefulness of the world organization but expressed doubts it could develop a voluntary arms control system "so long as relations between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union continue to be characterized by fear and distrust."

Births Together

DENVER (AP)—Two sisters each gave birth to a daughter—the first child for each—on the same day, they learned yesterday. The girls were born Saturday to Mrs. Gordon Tripp at Denver and Mrs. Ronald Rusyn at Neosho, Mo.

Argentine Mobs Clash in Street

Supporters of Peron, Catholics Mix It Up at Cathedral

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Supporters of President Peron, shouting 'Down with the Pope,' clashed last night with Catholics chanting "Long live Christ the king."

At least eight persons were injured by flying stones, a dozen others roughed up and some 250 arrested. The rioting plunged Argentina into its gravest political crisis in two years.

Peron supporters surged against a group of Catholics guarding the steps of Buenos Aires' huge Metropolitan Cathedral. Shots rang out but apparently no one was hit by bullets as the mob advanced on the adjoining archbishop's palace.

The demonstrators smashed palace windows with stones and burned a priest's car before police rushed into the city's central square and scattered the mob with tear gas and chemical foam.

Later the pro-Catholics regrouped and started to march back to the cathedral, but they were dispersed by police and firemen.

The turmoil raised tension to its highest pitch since the church-state dispute broke out seven months ago after Peron's charge that church elements were plotting to undermine his regime. Church officials have denied the charge.

Congress was called into urgent special session today. Peronista party leaders were expected to lash out at the church and voice support for their leader in the Senate, where the Peronistas hold all the seats, and in the lower chamber, where they control all but a dozen of the 155 places.

Peron himself scheduled a nationwide broadcast tonight to "speak to the people."

Nixon Inspects Shelter Where Family Will Live

HOUSTON, (AP) — Vice President Nixon looked into a family-size H-bomb shelter yesterday and called it "quite comfortable." Then he added, "But I trust we will never have to use such shelters."

Nixon inspected the $4,000 shelter in which Houston civil defense worker John R. Christmas and his family will live 72 hours this week in a civil defense test.

He came to this area Saturday night to address the Texas Press Assn. in Galveston.

Sleepy Burglar Steals Forty Winks on the Job

TOKYO (AP)—Isamu Kano, 30, arrested with a bag of loot over his shoulder today, explained to police:

"You wouldn't have caught me except that everyone was sleeping so peacefully in that house that, after I finished my burglary work, I took a little nap too. I didn't wake up until it was bright day."

Choking Infant Saved When Patrolman Falls

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The treatment applied by Patrolman Edward Hughes to an infant with an inch-long toy auto caught in her throat was effective, if accidental.

The baby, 13-month-old Diane Cadenback, was turning blue when the patrolman grabbed her from her mother's arms and dashed toward the police car. The patrolman slipped on wet grass and went down, taking the baby with him.

Out popped the toy.

New Fall-Out Data May Outdate CD Plans

WASHINGTON (INS)—New disclosures in nuclear science may outdate the federal government's civil defense evacuation plans, which undergo a test run this week.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, Washington atomic scientist, declared that even against a one-bomb attack a three-day evacuation would be entirely inadequate protection against radioactive fall-out hazards that might persist for nine months.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, meanwhile confirmed officially that the hydrogen bomb is a super-cheap combination of inexpensive metals. Thus an enemy might be expected to have them in large numbers.

The Washington defense exercise—part of "Operation Alert 1955"—is scheduled to start at noon Wednesday. President Eisenhower and other high officials are slated to go to undisclosed places outside the capital for periods of 48 to 72 hours.

IKE PLANS STAY

The President has said that, once the "alert" sounds, he is prepared to spend a full three days at his emergency headquarters which have been given the code name of "High Point."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the military leaders are to be at another emergency headquarters even farther away, for at least 48 hours. Other cabinet members and their staffs also have emergency assignments.

Lapp, writing in the current Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, assailed the AEC for mentioning only the first 36 hours of danger in a report last February that radioactive fall-out from an H-bomb could spread in lethal quantities over 7,000 square miles.

The scientist, who was first to call attention to the fall-out hazard, said that at a distance of 110 miles from the March 1, 1954, H-bomb blast, a man could have been killed three times over if he stayed in shelter only two days.

STILL NOT SAFE

Lapp said: "If he emerged from his shelter at the end of the second day (which would seem justifiable on the basis of the 'official' facts about fall-out) he would be exposed to a maximum of almost three lethal doses of radiation in the first month.

"What this means is that the civil defense must contend with a 'shelter phase' not of a few days but of a considerable number of weeks. This radically alters the dimensions of the post-attack civil defense problem . . .

"The persistence of fall-out for weeks and months is as radical a departure in weapon effects as is the vast area of the fall-out, itself."

Lapp's calculations were partly supported by Libby, who conceded that at 110 miles from the March 1 explosion a man could not have emerged from shelter even for short periods during the first week.

CHEAP MATERIAL

The technical information provided by Libby meanwhile showed that the H-bomb splits hundreds of cheap, ordinary uranium atoms for every one costly U-235 atom that is sued.

He said the H-bomb spews out 1,100 pounds of highly radioactive "fission products," compared to only two pounds for the original A-bomb. The ordinary uranium in the super-bomb—providing 80 per cent of its power — costs $12 a pound, compared to $4,000 a pound for U-235.

AND STILL THEY COME—There's no shortage of real, sure-'nuff Davy Crocketts, as these pictures show. The Davy Crockett at left is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Eugene Crockett, of Three Oaks, Mich. The Crockett legend was no news to 5-year-old Davy and his family. His grandfather, an Arkansas farmer who formerly lived in Tennessee, also bears the famous name, as does an uncle, who lives with Grandpaw. Family lore has long had it that they are descendants of the original b'ar grinner-downer and Injun fighter. The buckskinless Davy Crockett at right, sporting coonskin cap, gold-plated safety pins and black cowboy boots, is the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Crockett, of Kinsley, Kan. He was named before the nation became Crockett-crazy. "I gave a book report on the life of Davy Crockett in 1949 when I was a sophomore in high school," his mother explains. "I was engaged to Ed at the time and I said that if we ever had a boy, I'd name him Davy Crockett." They did and she did.

Flyweight for Pilot Is Heavyweight

Air Force pilots, headed for the wide blue, gain more than 80 pounds in the 15 minutes it takes them to dress. To overcome weaknesses of the human body, the scientists keep adding layer on layer of clothing. Up to four now, they're still tinkering. Though he is the safest flier in the world, the U.S. airman is the bulkiest, too. Much of his equipment he hopes he'll never have to use. It is all aimed at safety. First, he must be protected from unusual stresses of speed, altitude and fast changes of direction. In addition, he must be kept as safe as possible in case of emergency landings on land, water, in tropical, cold or wild country. Coming up: a de-sweating suit which will air condition the skin; a nylon-plastic improved antiexposure suit which will seal the pilot in and bouyant sacs to replace the Mae West preserver.

Gear Lieutenant Mills must don before he goes aloft is spread out here. It consists of: (1) anti-G suit, (2) ventilation garment which attaches to ship's air conditioning, (3) insulated coveralls to protect him from outside temperatures, (4) watertight anti-exposure suit, (5) automatic parachute including oxygen bottle and timer, (6) new style underarm life preserver, (7) helmet with oxygen mask and visor which can be lowered, (8) global survival kit.

The well-dressed flyer, Lt. Billy Mills of Dayton, Ohio, is ready. He's carrying, among other things, a raft, radio, flares, matches, rations, compass, fishing equipment, water purification outfit and a folding over-under shotgun-rifle with cartridges. They're packed in a compact survival kit strapped behind.

PRESSing Questions:

Employers Asked to Enumerate Traits They Seek in Interviewing Applicants

Graduation time is here again. Once more thousands of young people will be venturing forth into the business world for the first time in search of work that is both satisfying and remunerative.

Some will be fortunate enough to find work for which they are well fitted after one or two attempts while others may be forced by circumstances into taking "just any old job" because they lack the ability to sell themselves into positions which they may be well qualified to fill.

This is perhaps one of the most important periods in a young person's life, the time in which he sets his course and determines what his life's vocation shall be.

For this reason, the Press decided to poll a cross section of employers and personnel managers, asking the question "What do you look for in a prospective employe?"

James V. Davis, 926 Canterbury, finance company branch manager: "In hiring office personnel, there is the primary requirement of high rating in general office skills and average intelligence. Over and above these basic necessities, we look for good appearance, pleasing personality, and enthusiasm on the part of the applicant to obtain the position. A person with enough enthusiasm to sell himself to his employer is going to show the same enthusiasm in his work. In the case of an office girl, we like to observe her smile. If she smiles readily and has a pleasant attitude, we feel that our customers will notice it as readily as we do."

DAVIS

Mrs. Frances Allen, 112 Oak Hill, mail-order office manager: "I welcome the opportunity to give young people a chance and they generally work out very well. We have two 17-year-olds on our staff holding very responsible positions and I am quite proud of their work. In interviewing, I rely on my "womens intuition" as well as looking for enthusiasm, poise and a good background. To work out successfully, they must be courteous to customers and must be willing to go out of their way to be helpful. They must co-operate with others and be willing to do what they are asked."

MRS. ALLEN

G. W. Gallant, drug store manager: "We hire between 30 and 40 people a year, many of them young people, and the qualities we like to find in them are dependability, reliability and resourcefulness. In interviewing a person for a position, we try to get an insight into his character by observing the appearance and ease of conversation as well as considering his previous employment record. There is no such thing as making a snap judgement and often one finds a person who made a rather poor first impression turning out to be a most valuable employe and vice versa."

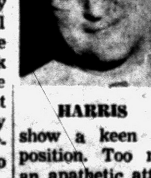

GALLANT

Mrs. Dorothy Pritchard, hat shop proprietor: "It takes a great deal of patience to sell millinery and that is definitely the most important quality. For that reason you will almost always find middle-aged persons in a hat shop. Many people come in not knowing what they want and it requires a high degree of sales ability to do this type of work successfully. Graciousness, courtesy, neatness and personality also are most important."

Mrs. Pritchard

Charles R. Harris, 1178 Sugden, Milford, bank personnel manager: "The manner in which our application form is filled out answers a number of questions for us such as neatness of work, ability to spell and attention to detail. We look for people who who have the quality of enthusiasm and who show a keen desire to get the position. Too many people have an apathetic attitude which marks them as poor risks right from the start. Of course, personal appearance, cleanliness and pleasing personality also are prime requisites."

HARRIS

Mrs. Arthur Witt, 10239 Oakland, Milford, variety store personnel manager: "The first thing that we look for is neatness of appearance. The second is the attitude of the applicant. A common fault among people looking for a job today, especially young people, is a very independent attitude during interviews. This indicates to the interviewer that the person's attitude toward his job will be similar and is not a very good recommendation. Good manners and intelligence are also important. We pay particular attention to the person's employment background and his reason for leaving his former position. We steer clear of "job wanderers"—those who are always changing jobs."

MRS. WITT

Marvin Barnett, 49 Bloomfield Terrace, women's apparel store manager: "Our salespeople must be able to wait on a customer in a friendly, efficient manner so that when the customer walks out the door he will remember that person in a favorable light. That will be a prime factor in bringing him back. So, I would rate personality and ability to meet the public with a smile as the prime requisites. Willingness to learn and to co-operate with other employes rate a very close second."

BARNETT

Mrs. Drena Marchbanks, infant-wear store proprietor: "I think perhaps I would rate sales ability as the most important quality. This is not difficult to detect in an interview and is closely bound up with warmth of personality and ease of general conversation. Courtesy, neatness, adaptability honest, accuracy and good taste are all qualities which would recommend a person highly for a sales position."

Two Girls Run Away in Haircut Protest

The two girls had only about $3 between them when they disappeared Thursday morning on their way to school. They were identified as Diane Eaton, 12, and Carolyn, 9.

The girls' father, Leonard Eaton, a designer, said Diane was unhappy about a haircut insisted upon by him and the girls' stepmother. He said Diane had wanted a sophisticated hairdo but had been given a "little-girl" cut instead.

French Red Union Chief Lights Into U.S. in Talk

PARIS (UP)—Benoit Frachon, head of the Communist-led French General Confederation of Workers, opened the big union's 30th national convention yesterday with a speech depicting the United States as a country with five million unemployed where those who do have jobs are being "pauperized".

U.S. automobile workers, he said have seen their wages go down 12 per cent compared with previous figures. He added that 80 per cent of American farmhouses built electricity.

Die-Hard Safecrackers Sweat for $12,000

CHICAGO (UP)—Three burglars who took $12,000 from the safe of a department store apparently were determined men.

First, they had to overcome a watchman. Then, they had to work three hours on the stubborn lock of the store's safe. And finally, they had to fight off a blast of tear gas released when the safe's combination knob was knocked off.

Personal Class Queries Rapped by Irate Parents

NORWICH, England (AP) — A schoolroom quiz that asked children such personal questions as 'Have your parents been divorced?" has touched off a parents' revolt in this quiet cathedral town.

The headmistress of the local high school for girls has written parents apologizing for the quiz. Other schools have said the answers will be destroyed.

The quiz, intended as a survey of the effects of television on family life, had been answered by hundreds before the parental storm broke.

One irate father called at his son's school and demanded that the form the boy filled in be destroyed on the spot.

He said it contained such queries as:

"What time does your father come home?

"Are you afraid if your parents get angry with you?

"Do your friends look down on you if you haven't a TV set or a car?

"Do your parents secretly wish you were someone else?"

John Beeson, local director of education, said permission was given for the Nuffield Foundation to conduct the quiz only on TV matters. The other questions were added after the quiz form had been okayed by his department, he said.

Question papers were handed out to 3,000 children aged from 11 to 14. They took three lesson periods to complete and no child was allowed to take the forms out of the classroom.

The Nuffield Foundation, a social and philanthropic organization like the Ford Foundation, said it would ask parents' permission in the future before putting out the quiz.

"Great care is taken to see that the answers are kept secret," a spokesman said. "The children's names would not have appeared on the forms and teachers would not have seen the child's answers."

Not Stolen, Swapped

DENVER (AP) — Orville Day figures he could have fared worse. He reported to police yesterday someone had removed two wheels from his motorcar. But the thieves replaced the equipment with an old, battered set.

Predicts Senate OK on Draft Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Assn. for the Advancement of Science has reaffirmed its decision to meet in Atlanta next December despite protests against racial segregation in the Georgia city.

A petition asking that the 1955 meeting site be changed had been filed by Dr. Montagu Cobb, a Washington Negro and an association vice president. The organization's directors decided yesterday, however, that their original reasons for meeting in Atlanta "are valid."

The directors said all professional activities at the session will be nonsegregated. The association claims about 50,000 members.

More than 10,000 high schools in the U.S. now provide behind-the-wheel courses of instruction. In some schools the course is compulsory.

Brakeman Cuffs Boy From Path of Freight Train

READING, Pa. (AP)—A powerful smack by a diesel locomotive brakeman sent two-year-old Billy Mattson sprawling yesterday and the feelings of the child's parents were not of anger but of gratitude.

Billy was walking along the tracks of the Reading Railroad in the path of a 40-car freight train, which hadn't enough time to brake.

Brakeman Aloysious A. Russell, 26, saw the boy from his seat in the cab of the locomotive. He raced up the catwalk on the outside of the engine and reached down and cuffed the boy clear of the train.

Russell and the boy fell clear and watched 10 cars pass over the spot where the boy had been walking. Both suffered only minor injuries.

About 3,500 children under age 15 died of cancer in 1954.

It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 15 is published Friday, June 24. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 15

S. T. Bright, an old Harvard and Boston Blue Sox pitching great, and currently a major league scout in the Boston field organization, had spent three weeks in the South scouting a young, converted infielder. The Sox desperately needed another starting pitcher, and if he happened to be the unusual combination of pitcher plus .300 batting average, so much the better. Therefore, the success of Bright's mission was of the utmost importance. He had observed the boy carefully, both on the field and off, and had arrived at an opinion. The lad was attracting attention, so Bright decided that action was imperative and wired the front office. With opposition scouts hanging around the telegraph office, he found it necessary to use a code that he and the club's owner had worked out for such occasions. This involved omitting letters from certain pre-arranged key words. As an enemy scout, can you decipher the message in order to report to your own front office how the Blue Sox scout rated the young prospect?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, June 21. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, June 21 for Bonanzagram No. 15. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

Thyroid Cures Headaches

Colds Prevented by Vaccine Spray

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS)—Successes in preventing the common cold with a vaccine and in curing headache pains with thyroid extract were reported today to the American Medical Association.

* * *

Dr. Theodore E. Walsh, of the Washington University school of medicine, St. Louis, described how nasal sprayings with a killed-bacteria vaccine granted immunity to cold, influenza, bronchitis and other disease of the upper respiratory tract.

He also suggested that a vaccine applied to the sinus passages "might offer a method of treatment of chronic sinusitis."

Both vaccines would work on the principal of the Salk anti-polio vaccine, aimed at stimulating the body to produce its own infection-fighting substances (antibodies).

HEADACHE RELIEVED

At another session of the AMA meeting, Dr. A. Curtis Jones Jr. of Boise, Idaho, said headache is "probably the commonest pain, yet there is a great deal that is not known about the causes of headache and their treatment."

He declared one cause of headache is a low metabolic rate and added:

"These headaches can be relieved by thyroid extract. We have had some patients who have been relieved of their headaches on as little as one-half grain of thyroid extract a day. Others required as much as eight grains each day."

Dr. Jones emphasized it was essential that prior to treatment a "detailed history be obtained to rule out any other cause of headaches."

Discussing what he called a "rational approach" to the common cold and other respiratory diseases, Dr. Walsh made these points:

STRONGER DOSES

2—Use of penicillin to combat respiratory and sinus infections "has led to the development of resistant strains" which is unsatisfactory since increasingly stronger doses are needed to be effective.

3—Daily spraying of the nasal passages can give protection although "the immunity conferred by this method is only of short duration—probably from six to eight weeks. It is therefore important that the application of the vaccine be continued during the season of respiratory infection."

4—"Observations made on 627 patients in an eight year period showed protection in 84 per cent and no result in 16 per cent."

Indian Strikes It Rich, Gets $55,821 for Oil

BROWNING, Mont. (AP)—The Blackfeet Indian Nation held a powwow to pray for an oil strike. It was an affair chiefly for braves but a small, wrinkled woman stole the show. She was 83-year-old Otter Woman Morning Gun, owner of the land on which drilling has started.

Come gusher or dry hole, the impassive, Mrs. Morning Gun had already struck it rich. For the right to drill on her land she had obtained $55,821. She was a shrewd trader, and stands to get 12 1-2 per cent royalty if oil is found.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Find Campsites of Early Humans

Relics of Prehistoric Man Found in Desert Near Las Vegas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some 23,800 years before the era of the resort hotel, the hemisphere's earliest - known man gambled for his life among the mammoths near what is now Las Vegas, Nev.

M. R. Harrington, curator of Southwest Museum in Los Angeles, says that the early man's campsites have been discovered in the same strata with the bones of a mammoth, forerunner of the elephant.

He said yesterday that a recent expedition to the ancient camp - site also uncovered the bones of a camel that had been dismembered, cooked and eaten by men. The bones had been split with crude stone hatchets found at the scene.

"We were hoping to find human bones," Harrington said. "What the ancient dwellers there did with their dead I don't know."

The traces of early life were tested by the "Carbon 14" method, which set their age at 23,800 years, Harrington said. The oldest previous indication of human life in the hemisphere—set at 11,000 years—was found among charcoal deposits near Winnemucca, Nev.

The carbon test measures the amount of Carbon 14—a radio - active isotope of carbon—remaining in an object. The radioactivity weathers away at a precisely known rate, so scientists can measure the amount left over and thus estimate the relic's age.

Gets Leg Cut Off to Capture Love of Boy Friend

She couldn't dance, run or go cycling — things that 20-year-old Gerald Manley liked to do.

Last year Gerald went to Malaya with the British army.

"Soon afterwards," Dawn told a reporter yesterday, 'I decided to do something about my leg.

"I went to hospital and persuaded the doctors to amputate it. It's wonderful—now I have an artificial leg from the knee down and can walk miles and dance and do anything other girls do."

When she knew the operation was a success, Dawn wrote Gerald.

His reply—a engagement ring and a letter saying, "We'll be married as soon as I get home."

Disc Jockey Must Spin 'Em With Sincerity

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — A good disc jockey can be summed up as a guy who can say "Well, well, here's that new Joni James platter, No. 48 on the list last week, already up four notches in the 44 spot and still climbing, let 'er roll, Joni gal!" . . . and mean it.

This is not easy. It requires not only a brisk voice and the low-down on notches, but also a boundless enthusiasm for Miss James and all her disc pals like Miss Valente, Miss Arden, Miss Day, Mr. Ray and Victor-only-knows-how-many Brothers Ames.

"Yes, it is very tough to appear to be really hot on all the artists whose records you have to play," said Fred Darwin, founder of a disc jockey coaching school, "and that is one of the reasons this is such a highly paid profession."

The show biz poop-sheet "Variety" recently stated that any disc jockey who is not pulling down $40,000 annually in a major city is not worth the time he's taking on the air.

"It's a highly specialized job," Darwin went on, "that takes more intelligence than a staff announcer's job. In the old cornball days of radio they used to put on the air any man with a basso profundo voice.

WHEN TO SHUT UP

"Today all you need in the way of a voice is a non-objectionable one. That's because a disc jockey, to be good, should say as little as possible. And should know exactly when to shut (you'll excuse the expression) up."

Darwin, a disc jockey for 15 years and now doing fancy-type mood music shows with no commercials on WPAT in Paterson, N.J., says "intelligence" ranks No. 1 in requisites for this particular job.

"First intelligence — meaning knowing what to say concisely, and then playing the music," he says. "And second, a sincere interest in what the people want to hear.

"Disc jockeys who insist on playing Rodgers & Hart when the mambo is in season are dead. The prime rule for DJ's is 'don't try to educate the public or foist your tastes on them.' "

The third requisite is a voice and lingo that make an audience feel it can trust you. "A disc jockey has got to have a touch of just plain folks about him," says Darwin.

"The minute he starts putting D's on all his 'ands' he is sounding like a Roman senator, and nobody is going to think he really cares that 'Unchained Melody' is heading for the top."

SENSE OF HUMOR

The fourth necessary attribute for platter spinning (how easily doth one fall into this odious lingo) is a basic sense of humor. Darwin's final words to students graduating and going on to their first jockey posts is "remember to take your work seriously, but not yourself. That way lies an ulcerous condition."

As a part of his coaching job on prospective $40,000 - a - year men, Darwin also teaches some tips on how to discover the "upcoming trends" in recorded music.

This is a question of watching the attendance record at certain select (but not sophisticated) night spots around the country. When you see what kind of music is going over big in these special jump points, you've got a good idea what kind of music will be recorded, "pushed" by record pluggers and accepted by the public in the months to come.

So what's the word from the saloons today? We asked him.

"Mambo, rock 'n' roll and rhythm 'n'blues are going out," said Darwin, sagely stroking his mustache. "The trend of the near future appears to be a return to instrumental jazz, a bit of Dixieland and a definite influence from the hillbilly."

MONEY IN HILLBILLIES

That should put a real strain on the enthusiasm of disc jockeys, eh?

Just Wanted Pushed

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Jerry Allred only wanted a push for his stalled car. But when he started to flag traffic for assistance he set off a chain reaction that ended with three semitrailer trucks in a tangle. Police made "a conservative estimate" of $12-500 on damages, then gave Allred a push. No one was held.

Weather Puts Damper on Voting in 10 Area Communities

Expect Turnout to Be Moderate

Electors Will Choose School Board Members and Decide Issues

Polls opened in 10 area communities in the annual school elections today, with threatening weather expected to keep some voters from casting their ballots.

Vying for posts on boards of education are candidates in Waterford, Rochester, West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, Milford, Holly, Southfield, Romeo, Clarenceville, and South Lyon districts.

Beside naming board members, residents will also face local questions in the Huron Valley district, Walled Lake, and West Bloomfield.

In West Bloomfield, voters are being asked to change the designated use of funds collected under a 3.5 mill tax voted last year.

USED OPERATING FUND

Board members point out that to equip the building for immediate use, operating funds were used.

The school board wants the 3.5 mills for equipment and site fund rescinded, and another equal amount levied for general operating expenses.

The teacher tenure questions is on the ballot in Walled Lake. Approval of the measure would place the district's teachers under the tenure act, which governs the hiring and firing of teachers.

An advisory question to assist the school board is on the Huron Valley school district ballot.

Board members want to know if residents of the district prefer to call the new high school Milford High School, or Huron Valley High School.

Chrysler Talks B

DETROIT (UP)—President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers said today his union will make a guaranteed annual wage plan its No. 1 demand on Chrysler Corp.

But Reuther declined to say whether the UAW would make the same demand on the "little three" of the auto industry — American Motors, Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser.

The UAW-Chrysler contract expires Aug. 31, with bargainning scheduled to begin 60 days in advance. The UAW won a modified guaranteed wage plan today from General Motors, paralleling that it won a week ago from Ford.

DETROIT (UP)—Harry W. Anderson, who headed General Motors' negotiations with the CIO United Auto Workers, probably will not work out any more long term agreements for the corporation.

negotiations with the CIO United Auto Workers, probably will not work out any more long term agreements for the corporation.

Anderson born in Cadillac, Mich., is 64. Under GM policy he is scheduled for retirement in December, 1956.

Louis G. Seaton, GM director of labor relations and Anderson's chief assistant in the labor negotiations, is 49. Anderson refers to him as "my boy." He was graduated from Wayne University and joined GM's Sales Department in 1928. He transferred to the personnel staff in 1932.

DETROIT (INS)—These are the basic differences between the new Ford and General Motors three-year contracts with the UAW-CIO:

1. GM would have to pay slightly less than the 4.5 cents per hour per worker Ford must pay into the pension fund because the average age of its employes is lower.

2. GM will pay two cents per hour per worker to adjust wage inequities on a local basis compared with Ford's 1.3 cents per hour.

3. Ford's increment for skilled workers ranges from 5-10 cents per hour whereas GM set a flat eight-cent rate.

DETROIT (UP)—Officials of the CIO Electrical Workers Union also won guaranteed wage demands from General Motors Corp. today, and indicated they would seek a similar contract from General Electric and Westinghouse.

Old Challenge Offered PHS' Graduating Seniors

"I want to challenge you tonight by way of an old test" said Rev. William H. Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church speaking to the graduating class of Pontiac High School at the baccalaureate service held in Central Methodist Church Sunday evening.

"In the Book of Jeremiah, the prophet is weary and sad at heart with the conduct of his people and he appeals to God in prayer to ease his burden.

'If thou hast run with the footmen and they have wearied thee, then how can'st thou contend with horses? And if, in the land of peace wherein thou trustest, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of the Jordan?' replied the Lord.

"Each of us might ask ourselves the same question as we go out to face the world—"What will you do in the swelling of the Jordan?" Rev. Marbach said.

"If you find yourself wearied by the trials and tests of normal life, growing up in a country of peace and plenty as you are; if an examination, for instance, leaves you thinking you are overworked; what will you do when you have to go out and face a world that is literally full of evil and sorrow, loneliness and the chaos of war?

It is not an easy road that lies ahead, no matter what your station in life shall be. It is a path that is littered with hidden pitfalls, trials and disillusionments at every turn."

Rev. Marbach explained that although to live a virtuous life in our world is no easy task, we can do so if we learn from our mistakes and benefit by them and be prepared for whatever comes.

"You cannot be strong in your own strength. God, in you, must win the battle," concluded Rev. Marbach.

The service was opened by an organ recital by Lyndon Salathiel, followed by the processional and an invocation by Rev. Allen Parker of Newman A.M.E. Church.

Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. John's Lutheran Church gave the scripture reading and Rev. Milton H. Bank led the congregation in prayer.

Pontiac High School a capella choir under the direction of George H. Putnam sang the anthems "We Praise Thee" and "Make a Joyful Sound."

Rev. Marbach gave the closing benediction.

Sister of the bride Betty Jane Tom was the maid of honor, and Peter Kievit served the bridegroom as best man.

After a trip through northern Michigan and Wisconsin, the couple will live in Lansing.

Warren Speeds In to Receive Degree

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren, who almost missed the commencement, received an honorary doctorate in laws at Amherst College's 134th graduation yesterday.

Justice Warren, whose plane ran into bad weather, had to land at a Providence, R. I., airport, then boarded a public bus headed back to Springfield, Mass.

State police intercepted the bus in Connecticut and sped the chief justice to Amherst — some 4½ hours late and eight minutes before his degree was to be conferred.

Helicopter Saves Day for Wrong Way Wilson

By EARL WILSON

★ ★ ★ ★

My little Davy cap was bobbing wildly on the breeze when Diana Lynne, Ann Miller and other Hollywood dolls pulled me on at Idlewild—fortunately they didn't shove me back.

"It only took us 9 minutes from La Guardia," said Helipilot Jack Compton when we set her down at Idlewild. "We had a tailwind."

When I discovered I was at the wrong airport—and in danger of missing the Hilton Hotel Istanbul hop to Turkey—I shot over to the counter of New York Airways, Inc., and . . . well . . . lucky me!

"Service suspended because of local weather conditions," a sign said.

"But the ceiling's lifting," an executive, Dick Wheatland, said, and pretty soon I was out at the heliport—some bare tar strip in the middle of La Guardia Field—climbing in.

EARL & 'COPTER

"Bernard Baruch, Andre Kostelanetz, Congresswoman Bolton of Ohio, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Ginger Rogers and other famous people have been on," I was told.

"Also some snakes for laboratory use, some Salk vaccine, and some dogs and cats being shipped air express, including one dog that got loose and made quite a mess of things."

Folks don't mind the $4.09 fare—it's $8.64 from La Guardia to Newark—when they're in danger of missing a plane in the heavy, hour-long to 2-hour auto traffic.

Our Sikorsky S-55, a five-placer, gave me a wonderful view of the old World's Fair grounds, the Jamaica and Aqueduct race tracks, and a pretty girl with the initials RM on her towels who was sunbathing on a roof in Flushing.

"Before long we hope there'll be a heliport in Manhattan itself," Dick Wheatland said.

"We also foresee 15-seat jobs that may have powder rooms."

All right, so I was kidding about almost missing the plane. But I did ride the helicopter to show you what a big community we have here—with helicopter service now between eight heliports . . . including Teterboro, New Brunswick, White Plains, Stamford and Trenton.

And then—off for London, first leg of the Istanbul hop. Some people aren't going abroad this year: For instance, Joe Cowan and his wife Content Peckham of Time.

"We're taking a rowboat ride across Central Park," he said. "Figure we'll meet more Frenchmen and Italians that way than if we went to Europe."

2 and 2 Plus 3 in 5 Years

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Renfrow have had seven children in the last five years—two sets of twins and triplets. The latest twins, a boy and girl, were born yesterday at St. Mary's Hospital. Mrs. Renfrow is 31 and her husband 30.

Singer Stripped, Photographed

Thugs Take Pictures of Woman in Nude in Night of Terror

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Police are searching today for three men who invaded the home of singer Alice Lon, stripped her, photographed her, drugged her and subjected her family to a night of terror and torture.

Miss Lon, 27, sings with the Lawrence Welk orchestra and is billed as the "Champagne Lady."

She arrived at her home early yesterday morning after singing with the band to be met by three men, masked with stockings and wearing surgical gloves. Police said she was slugged in the abdomen, bound with torn sheets and her face completely covered with adhesive tape.

Then, she told police, her clothing was forcibly removed and the intruders took pictures of her in the nude.

Miss Lon's husband Robert W. Waterman, 31, director of a Pasadena community settlement house for Latin-Americans, was dozing in front of his television set shortly after midnight waiting for his wife to come home when the three men burst into the house.

Waterman told Detectives Frank Lynch and Don Sheldon that he and his mother-in-law Mrs. Mary Wyche, who had been asleep, were bound and gagged with torn sheets and adhesive tape.

He said the men demanded money and when told there was none in the house, one replied: "We're going to wait until Alice gets home. The orchestra plays to 2 and she doesn't come home until 3:30."

Waterman said that during a six-hour ordeal, until the assailants left at daybreak, he and Mrs. Wyche were frequently hit and kicked. He said threats were made to injure the three Waterman children if the matter was reported to police. However, the children, Bobby, 8, Clint, 6, and Larry, 5, slept through the night and were not harmed.

I-U's Tony Curtis Signed as 3rd Star in 'Trapeze'

By DOROTHY MANNERS
For Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—In one of the season's most important swaps, Harold Hecht and Burt Lancaster have obtained Tony Curtis from U-I to be the third star with Burt and Gina Lollobrigida in "Trapeze."

On July 15 Tony leaves with Burt to catch up with the beauteous Gina in Paris where the circus thriller will be filmed this summer.

And what does U-I get in return for their prize curly-haired boy? Nobody other than Ernest Borgnine, star of the Cannes winning 'Marty" whom Hecht and Lancaster have under a multiple picture deal! The picture for Borgnine is not yet selected.

Tony's trip to Paris marks his first long separation from Janet Leigh. Whatever will the fan mags do for layouts?

FAN MAIL SOARS

A friend of mine who works on the TV channel beaming Palmer's "This Is Your Music" program says the good looking singer's fan mail is equalling (sometimes surpassing) their top stars.

He'll play a singing bandleader in the picture which starts just about the time he becomes a proud papa for the first time early in July.

John Wayne wants the world to know that although 17-year-old Natalie Wood will be his leading lady in 'The Searchers," there's no big romance between them in the picture. 'At my age,—and her's," he laughed.

The John Ford company took off for locations in Utah over the weekend. Along went 9-year-old Lana company, but to play the part of Natalie as a child. As Lana Wood, not to keep her sister puts it, 'It's the first time both of us have had one part."

Hollywood in Shorts: Seems we did Jess Barker wrong in saying he is preventing Susan Hayward from taking the boys vacationing out of the state. It's a court order over which he has no control.

Ella Hall, serial queen of 1915, will be on the set when her son, Richard Emory, starts his serial for Sam Katzman, 'Perils of the Wilderness' 40 years later!

That's all today.

NL Sluggers Go on 25-Home Run Binge Sunday

The Associated Press

Power-crazed National League hitters, apparently bent on setting a new season home run record, probably would have had a new single day mark today if it hadn't been for a sudden Pennsylvania downpour.

The senior circuit batsmen actually tied the old homer mark of 25 set July 16, 1950 but it will never get into the record books. A couple of four-baggers—one by Cincinnati's Wally Post and another by Philadelphia's Andy Seminick—went down the drain as rain washed out the second game of the Cincinnati leading 4-3 in the third inning. The two teams had slammed six in the opener, won by Philadelphia 12-8.

Seven homers were hit in Brooklyn as the Chicago Cubs and Dodgers divided a doubleheader, the Cubs winning the opener 9-5 and the Dodgers taking the second 6-2. Six were banged in New York in another split, the Giants winning the first game 8-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals capturing the second in 13 innings 6-5. Four round-trippers were walloped in Pittsburgh as the Pirates won the opener 5-3 and the Milwaukee Braves came back to win the night cap 6-5.

Good pitching, so conspicuously absent in the National League yesterday, highlighted the American League action as the home run output was limited to a comparatively low total of nine. The Chicago White Sox got some of both to sweep both ends of a doubleheader from Washington 1-0 and 8-4. After Billy Pierce topped Bob Porterfield in a real, old-fashioned pitching duel, Bob Nieman poled a grand slam homer and Bob Kennedy added a two-run blast to put the second-place Sox to within only 2½ games of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Cleveland's third-place Indians hammered Yankee pitching for five home runs, four in the first game, to knock off New York twice 10-2 and 7-3 behind the stout pitching of Early Wynn and Bob Lemon. Vic Wertz connected twice, once in each game with a man on base, to take a major role in the defeats of Yankee aces Bob Turley and Whitey Ford.

Hal Smith hit the only homer in the Baltimore-Kansas City split. The Orioles won the first game 7-2 and the Athletics evened matters in the second game with rookie Art Ceccarelli three-hit 3-0 triumph. Rain washed out the scheduled game between Boston and Detroit.

The Cubs used the home run weapon to snap Don Newcombe's 10-game winning streak. A three-run blast by Harry Chiti, and four-baggers by Dee Fondy and Ransom Jackson sent the big Brooklyn pitcher down to his first defeat of the season. Duke Snider (No. 19), Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges homered for the Dodgers.

Cleveland broke up a scoreless duel between Turley and Wynn with four runs in the sixth and added six more in the seventh for Wynn's eighth victory against a single defeat. Larry Doby, George Strickland, Wertz and Wynn himself hit homers.

A four-run seventh inning against Ford, highlighted by Wertz' second homer, earned Lemon his eighth triumph in the nightcap. Gil McDougald homered for the Yankees.

An unerned run in the first inning gave Pierce and the White Sox their 1-0 victory over hard-luck Bob Porterfield and Washington. After Bruce Edwards fumbled Chico Carrasquel's grounder, a passed ball, an infield single by Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso's the run.

Harbert, Furgol Win

WASHINGTON (UP)— Ed Furgol, displaying the kind of pressure golf you'd expect from the U. S. Open champion, came from behind to win the individual title in the International Golf Championships that wound up at Columbia Country Club yesterday.

Starting the day four strokes behind pace-setter Peter Thomson of Australia, Furgol blasted the 6,510-yard course with a three-under-par 67 that put him into a three-way tie for the championship.

Then he proceeded to drub Thomson and Belgium's Flory Van Donck in a three-way "sudden death" playoff that went just three holes.

The United States walked off with the Canada Cup, which goes to the two-man team which turns in the low combined score for 72 holes of play.

Chick Harbert, with a total of 281, one over par, teamed with Furgol, who had a 279, to take the team championship by nine strokes from Australia's duo of Thomson and Kel Nagle, the defending champions.

The Americans had 560— even par—and the Aussies had 569.

Furgol improved daily, down from 73 to 70 to 69 to 67 and was at his best under pressure.

Furgol consistently outdrove his opponents and then laid his iron shots dead for the pin all the way through.

"I may not look too good," Furgol said, "but it's results that count—not your form. Sam Snead may look perfect, but I'll bet I can beat him off the fairways every time."

"If I could only putt," he said, "I could beat anybody in the world."

Conrad Seeking Third Straight Southern Win

Billy Joe Patton Rates as British Champ's Top Challenger

LINVILLE, N.C. (UP)—Sharpshooting golfers from 14 states took over the Linville Golf Club course today for final practice rounds before the bell rings tomorrow for the start of play in the 49th Southern Golf Assn. Amateur Tournament.

Joe Conrad, the Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, Tex., who won the British Amateur Tournament earlier this month, was out to win the tournament a third successive time in a field of about 200.

Conrad, who went to the semi-finals of the French Amateur before losing last weekend, was exempt from the two-day 36-hole qualifying round tomorrow and Wednesday.

The low 32 players will move into championship flight match play Thursday, with two rounds that day and the next and the 36-hole finals Saturday. Two 32-man groups will form a second and third division, assuring half the field of some match play activity.

Billy Joe Patton, the lumberman from nearby Morganton, Walker Cup teammate of Conrad's, loomed as one of the main challengers. He tuned up today with a practice round over the 6,634-yard, par 71 course with Otto Graham, the Cleveland Brown's football star.

Memphis, Tenn., has a particularly strong delegation in such players as Jim Wittenburg, last year's runnerup; Hillman Robbins, who'll defend his National Intercollegiate title next week at Knoxville, Tenn., and Mason Rudolph, 1950 U.S. Golf Assn. junior champion.

Home state forces challenging include, in addition to Patton, big Dave Smith of Gasonia, the reigning Carolina Golf Assn. champion and North and South finalist this year.

Golfers Get Aces, Fail to Help Score

Two Detroit-area golfers scored holes-in-one at different courses Sunday. It didn't help their scores.

Bob Hanby of Royal Ok, used a 4-iron to ace the 140-yard ninth hole at Stonycroft. Jack Gold, Detroit, used a 5-iron to knock his tee shot into the cup on the 182-yard fifth hole at Rackham.

Both carded 51's for nine.

Games Are Rained Out

Rain continued to wreak havoc on Pontiac baseball and softball activities. Showers drenched the Pontiac area again Sunday, washing out three baseball tilts and four softball games in the process.

Michigan State Baseball League double header at Wisner Stadium between General Motors and Grand Rapids was postponed, as was the Auburn Merchants—Las Mayas exhibition baseball contest at Columbia-Joslyn. Four scheduled city league softball games at Beaudette and Northside parks were also rained out.

Four Towns Is Victor

Four Towns made it 14 straight victories over the 2 seasons by beating Waterford Village, 7-5. Charles Leneschmidt did the pitching for Four Towns in the title game and Robert Larson contributed a home run.

Municipal Golf Tourney June 18

A total of eight teams are entered thus far in the men's best ball golf tournament sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation. The event will be held Saturday, June 18, at Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course. Starting time is 12 noon.

Max Richardson and Dick Vershure, defending champions, as yet have not registered. Mike Andonian, who teamed with Chuck Hudson in 1954 to force the winning team into a five-hole sudden death playoff, is back again this year. Andonian's partner will be Ed Wasik. The team of Paul Bada and George Hammett is also expected to be strong.

Tourney entries are now being accepted at the Municipal links. Deadline for registration is 5 p.m., Thursday, June 16. All players listed at that time will have their tee-off times and pairings posted.

Qualifying Rounds Start in Trans-Mississippi Test

DES MOINES (UP) — The Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament opened at the Wakonda Club today with approximately 175 contestants set to trudge over the rugged hills in the first section of the 36-hole qualifying route.

Jimmy Jackson, a handsome 32-year-old Walker Cup player from St. Louis, is exempt from the qualifying business. He planned to play the preliminary 36 holes but waived the right to go for medalist honors.

Jackson had a 73, one over par for the 6,586 yard tournament course yesterday. With him during the practice round played in chilly mid-50 degree weather was Vince D'Antoni, also of St. Louis, the 1939 National Collegiate champion.

Jimmy won the 1954 championship at the Cherry Hills Club in Denver by defeating Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., 4 and 3.

Pontiac-Area Golfers in Trials for Publinx

Many Pontiac-area public links golfers were among the 161 entries who began the 1st of the 2-step process of gaining a berth in the National Publinx tourney at Indianapolis, July 9-16.

The state will qualify 14 players for the nationals, but about 53 of the hopefuls will be eliminated today in an 18-hole round at Franklin Hills Country Club.

The low 90 and ties today will advance to the 36-hole qualifying test over the same golf course next Monday. First threesome left the tee at 7 a. m. this morning.

Among the Pontiac and area players in the field are Butler Cooper, Roy Iceberg, Joe Burgdorf, Charley Barker, Sam and Joe Kocsis, Mike Andonian, Dick Dewling, Tex Ellison and Jay Law.

Rain Halts Legion 9s

Nashua Runs Away With Victory in Belmont Test

NEW YORK (UP) — Perhaps the twain never shall meet, to paraphrase Mr. Kipling, and Nashua will go down as the champion 3-year old of the East and Swaps as the champion of the West and Nashua.

At least that is the way the championship picture stands today pending the outcome of proposals to match the turf's two outstanding horses either at Chicago or Los Angels' Hollywood Park.

If there ever was any doubt that Nashua is the best in the East, the son of Nasrullah from William Woodward Jr.'s Belair Stud erased it Saturday with the easiest triumph of his brilliant career in the 87th running of the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park.

By a margin of 9 lengths Nashua won the testing mile and one-half race to give him two jewels in the Triple Crown. A second behind Swaps in the Kentucky Derby kept the robust bay colt from sweeping the three rich stakes. Blazing Count was second, another 5½ lengths in front of Portersville.

Nashua's time of 2:29 was one of the fastest clockings in the history of the race and only four-fifths slower than the stake record hung up by Count Fleet in 1943 and matched by Citation five years later.

Nashua's next engagement is the $50,000 added Dwyer July 2 at Aqueduct, where the horses start running today, and then on to Chicago for the $100,000 added Arlington Classic at a mile July 16.

Swaps-Nashua Duel Pending

Hollywood Track Out to Match 3-Year-Old Stars on Coast

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Racing fans and the Hollywood race track management awaited word today from the East on an invitation for Nashua to run against California's Swaps in a $100,000 winner-take-all match duel here this summer.

Nashua captured the $119,800 Belmont Stakes in New York by nine lengths. With his Preakness triumph, it gave the big colt two-thirds of the Triple Crown honors.

Swaps won the rich Californian against older handicap stars and set a world record of 1:40 2-5 for a mile and one-sixteenth doing it.

Swaps's owner, ex-cowpoke Rex C. Ellsworth, yesterday disclosed that negotiations are actually under way for a match race with Nashua, with Hollywood Park the scene and the date subject to Nashua's owner, William Woodward Jr., of New York.

Shaw's Jewelers of Pontiac scored a 3-1 victory Sunday afternoon over the Jackson Prison team at Jackson.

Glen (Wimpy) Johnson and Percy McConnor shared pitching chores for Shaw's, limiting the prison nine to five hits. "Whisky" Hunter, a southpaw, hurled for Jackson and gave up seven safeties.

Broncos Edge Aggies, 5-4, in NCAA Tilt

Western Michigan 9 Wins On Bad Throws In 2nd Round Game

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—A three-run error gave Western Michigan a 5-4 victory over Oklahoma A&M last night in second round action in the NCAA college world series.

In the last of the ninth, Bill LaJoie of Western Michigan bunted with two men on base. All three scored when third baseman Jim Woolard's throw into right field and a throw-in by right fielder Mel Wright struck Aggie base coach Dick Erickson on the head.

The Aggies, behind the two-hit pitching of Ken Kinnamon, had held the upper hand through eight innings.

Aggie second baseman Don Booher hit a three-run double in the 5th to open the scoring. Western Michigan got two runs in the 6th on two walks and a single by Al Nagel.

Don Anderson, who relieved Kinnamon with two on in the ninth, threw one pitch, but was tagged with the loss. Utica's Luke Schwarzkoff was the winner.

In earlier second round games, Wake Forest defeated Colorado State 10-0; Colgate eliminated Southern California, 6-4, and Arizona eliminated Springfield (Mass.) College 6-0.

HEWLETT HARBOR, N.Y. (UP)—Joe Moore Jr. and Bob Watson, two Westchester County professionals, took advantage of their first year of eligibility for the Professional Golfers' Assn. tournament. They tied for low qualifying honors, each with 141 for 36 holes, in the Metropolitan District.

Tribe Is Rebounding

Lemon Afraid to Look, But Garcia Saves Him

CLEVELAND (UP) — Bob Lemon got credit for the pitching victory but was afraid to look during the last two outs of yesterday's doubleheader between the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

The Tribe, finally recovering from a series of injuries, rekindled its pennant hopes by winning the opener 10-2 and was ahead 7-3 in the top of the second game's ninth inning when Lemon left the mound with the bases full.

"I sorta huddled back in the runway and tired to tell from the crowd noises what was happening," he added.

Garcia got the Yanks out before they could score and that pulled the third-place Indians up to within 3½ games of the front-running Yanks.

There were five Indian home runs during the two games. Vic Wertz hit two and Larry Doby, Early Wynn and George Strickland one each. Wynn gave up just five hits while pitching the first game.

Doby, who touched off a four-run rally with a homer in the first game, singled home the deciding run in the other.

"I knew we were going to break loose," he continued. "I hadda feeling we were going to shake our slump against these guys."

Golfers Attack Par at Olympic

National Open Warmup Rounds Get Under Way at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—The nation's leading golfers, encouraged by sensational proof that the National Open course can be beaten, open official practice rounds today at the San Francisco Olympic Club's layout.

Dick Mayer, 31-year-old St. Petersburg, Fla., professional, toured the Olympic Club's lakeside course yesterday in a blazing four-under-par 32-34—66.

Mayer's score was far better than anything reported in unofficial practice rounds last week, and it was only one above the course record of 65 established long before Lakeside was toughened for the National Open next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Best scores recorded for such golfing greats as Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Byron Nelson were even-par 70's, and many rounds were well over that mark.

Ed Furgol, winner of the 1954 Open, shot a two-over-par 72 June 4 when he matched his score against weekend golfers in National Golf Day competition.

Tawas Twosome Wins 4th Annual 'Paddle Push'

Kuenn, Kaline Early Leaders in All-Star Poll

Tiger Stars Bid for Starting Jobs in Game Scheduled July 12

CHICAGO (UP)—Shortstop Harvey Kuenn and right fielder Al Kaline of the Detroit tigers led their positions in the American League today for berths on the 1955 all-star baseball game July 12 in Milwaukee.

Early vote totals gave Kuenn 1,442, a lead of 183 over his nearest rival, Chico Carrasquel of Chicago White Sox, for the starting position in the lineup.

Kaline had 1,295 votes, compared with 1,021 for second-place Hank Bauer of the New York Yankees.

First returns in the poll, which ends midnight, July 1, showed two other Tiger players among the first five in their respective positions.

Ferris Fain trailed Mickey Vernon of Washington, Vic Power of Kansas City and Walt Dropo of Chicago in the first base department; center fielder Bill Tuttle was fourth at his position behind Mickey Mantle of New York, Larry Doby of Cleveland and Jim Piersall of Boston.

Catcher Yogi Berra of New York led balloting in both leagues with 1,609 and another catcher, Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was second.

Lion Defensive Backs All Set

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Lions today were assured of having the same defensive backfield this fall as they employed last season after halfback Carl Karilivacz signed his contract.

Karilivacz signed his 1955 contract along with two Lions' rookies Saturday. He won a regular berth with the Lions last year after seeing limited duty in 1953.

The rookies signed by the Lions were Bob Hartman, a guard from Oregon State, and Jm Walters, a tackle from Mississippi. Hartman, a 225-pounder, was Detroit's 12th draft choice in 1952 but entered the service before he could join the club.

Ted Williams Picks Tigers' Kaline to Win AL Batting Crown, Calls Al 'Great Hitter' Already

Both are sold on the sensational 20-year-old outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, who leads the league with a solid .383 average and shows no signs of letting up.

"The kid is a great hitter right now," said Williams, the 36-year-old outfielder of the Boston Red Sox who is reputed to know something about hitting.

"I think he'll win the batting title—unless his teammate Harvey Kuenn beats him out," Williams said yesterday after the Red Sox and Tigers were rained out.

"Kaline is quick with his bat—real quick. He can whip it around in a wink. That's why he's such a good hitter.

"And," Williams added, "he's going to get better."

"I've never seen a 20-year-old who could hit so well," said Harris, manager of the Tigers. "But for that matter, how many 20-year-olds come into the big leagues?

"I'd say Kaline has a good chance to win the batting title."

Asked if he is surprised at Kaline's ability to keep his average up so high for so long, Harris replied:

"No, I'm not surprised. In fact, I'm disappointed when he doesn't hit. The kid's got me spoiled."

A model of consistency, Kaline has hit safely in 49 of Detroit's 54 games. He has 80 hits—most in the league—in 209 trips to the plate.

His other figures are equally impressive: 11 home runs, 44 runs batted in, 44 runs scored, 5 triples, 8 doubles.

Although this is only his second full season in the majors, opposing pitchers have gained a deep respect for Kaline. They are finding it a wise move to walk him. Kaline has received 35 walks, many of them in the last two weeks.

Harris said none of the Tiger coaches work with Kaline on his hitting.

"He's doing well enough by himself," Harris said.

And what does Kaline think about all this?

"Me?" he says, genuinely surprised, "I just keep swinging away, that's all."

IN MEMORY OF "BIRD"—This is the monument erected on the grounds of the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association in memory of A. Bird Glaspie, father of the "one buck" law in Michigan. A buck and doe adorn the top of the stone pedestal and a bronze plate bears an inscription. The memorial faces the Multi-Lakes clubhouse.

Tribute Paid Glaspie

By BILL CORNWELL

Tribute was paid to the late Andrew Bird Glaspie, former Pontiac Press outdoor writer, in a program Sunday afternoon at the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association clubhouse at Reed's Lake near Commerce.

Glaspie, called the father of the "one buck" law in Michigan, was active in conservation affairs for many years. He also served in both houses of the state legislature.

Mrs. Clara Glaspie was guest of honor at the dedication of a memorial to her late husband. The memorial depicts a buck and doe deer on a stone pedestal and bears a bronze-plated inscription.

Guest speakers at the ceremony were Bernard Amsley, of Lansing, president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs; Jack Van Coevering, outdoor writer for the Detroit Free Press; and Glenn C. Gillespie, former Pontiac circuit judge now practicing law here.

Amsley acknowledged his gratitude for Glaspie's work, and also thanked the Multi-Lakes organization for its support of the state conservation program.

Van Coevering stated that Glaspie's "one buck" law was responsible for increasing Michigan's deer population to an all-time high.

Gillespie asserted that Bird's efforts saved the state's deer herd. In reminiscence, Gillespie remarked that he was one of three surviving members of the old hunting and fishing club, in which Bird was active.

Dr. B. M. Mitchell and A. Floyd Blakeslee, the other two, were in the audience.

Clayton Adams, president of Multi-Lakes and master of ceremonies for the program, attributed the salvation of the Drayton Plains Fish Hatchery to the efforts of Glaspie and H. Guy Moats, Pontiac Press sports editor.

Concerted action by Glaspie and Moats prevented the hatcher's removal by the state conservation department several years ago, he said.

Mrs. Glaspie expressed her deep appreciation for the memorial.

Bengals Open Extended Road Trip in Gotham

Harris Nominates Hoeft to Start Series Against Bronx Bombers

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Tigers left for their longest road trip of the season today after rain washed out the final game of their home stand.

The Tigers had been scheduled to meet the Boston Red Sox at Briggs Stadium yesterday but the game was called after officials waited an hour and 15 minutes in hopes that a steady drizzle would stop.

The Tigers will open their road trip against the New York Yankees at Yankee stadium tomorrow and visit every American League city before returning to Briggs Stadium July 6 for a game with the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Bucky Harris said Billy Hoeft, who was knocked out in the first inning against Boston Saturday, will open a three-game series with the Yankees. Ned Garver and Frank Lary were scheduled to hurl the final games of the series.

Two new Tiger bonus babies are expected to see their first action with the Bengals before the return to Detroit.

The Tigers signed James Small, 18-year-old San Jose, Calif., outfielder, to a bonus contract Saturday and James Brady Jr., Jersey City, N.J., southpaw hurler, to a contract Thursday.

Harris had planned to give Reno Bertoia, another Tiger bonus baby, a chance to start in an all-right-handed lineup against Boston before the game was rained out. He said he may use the lineup of all right hand hitters next time the Tigers face a left hand pitcher.

IOC Members to Debate Amateurism, Set '60 Sites

PARIS (INS)—The International Olympic Committee opens its biggest meeting in history today, a week-long session to decide on the 1960 Olympic Game sites and to discuss and debate amateurism in world sports.

Although the main item before the delegates of 42 nations attending the session deals with selection of sites for the winter and summer games in 1960, "state amateurism," and professionalism and the use of armed service personnel in international competition figure to get much attention.

France's president Rene Coty was scheduled to welcome the delegates with an address at historic Sorbonne—the University of Paris.

Rome, Italy, reportedly has the inside track on getting the 1960 summer games and Lausanne, Switzerland, is said to be the front runner for the 1960 winter games.

Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy, will be the scene of the 1956 winter games and the summer games will be held in Melbourne, Australia.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the IOC, is slated to give his report on his recent visit to Australia to study that country's preparations for the 1956 games.

Brundage also visited Russia last year and studied Soviet sports insallations in addition to looking into charges that Russia is guilty of using state employed "amateurs" to compete in athletics.

The Russians, who are expected to make a bid for the 1964 or 1968 Olympics, counter these charges with the claim that the issuance of athletic scholarships by U.S. colleges and world wide tours by American athletes constitute a violation of the amateur athletic code.

Andrews-Harris Postponed Bout Slated Tonight

SAGINAW (UP)—A crowd of 6,000 is expected for the delayed fight between middleweight Al Andrews, Superior, Wis., and Duke Harris, Detroit welterweight, tonight.

The battle, which could catapult Harris into the national fight picture, was cancelled last Thursday when rain and hail fell at the outdoor arena where the preliminaries had just started.

More than 5,000 were already seated for the first fight when the weather interferred and hundreds of more cars were lined up bumper-to-bumper waiting to get into the stadium.

Both fighters were reported in "good" shape for the bout.

Dibble and Erickson Are Banquet Guests

Dorne Dibble, outstanding end with the Detroit Lions, and Lion publicity director Bud Erickson will be the principal guests at the Waterford High School athletic banquet in the high school cafeteria tonight at 6:30.

Dibble, a former All-America at Michigan State, now is rated as one of the top-flight pass-catchers in the National Football League. Letters will be awarded to members of the Skippers' spring sports teams, and highlight films of last year's Detroit Lion games will be shown. Myles Watkins is the toastmaster.

Tigers' Newest Bonus 'Beauty' Gets $35,000

Bengals Land Young Outfielder, Jim Small, in California

DETROIT (UP)—James Small, San Jose, Calif., outfielder who is the latest "bonus baby" to sign with the Detroit Tigers, will stop in Detroit tomorrow or Wednesday before joining the club on its eastern road trip.

Small, who set an all-time batting record at the Robert Bellarmine Prep School by hitting .444 in 32 games this spring, was the second "bonus" player to sign with the Tigers last week.

The bonus of the two players was estimated at $35,000 each.

He was signed on the recommendations of scouts Marvin Owen and Bernie De Viveiros, who followed Small closely during his three-year prep career.

Small was the fifth bonus player to sign with Detroit since 1953. In addition to Brady, outfielder Al Kaline, pitcher Bob Miller and infielder Reno Bertoia also received bonuses for joining the Tigers.

Railroad Gives Lad a Substitute for Ill-Fated Pup

KEWAUNEE, Wis. (UP)—Nine-year-old Patrick Murphy doesn't have the same dog he had last year. But he's just as happy with the subtstitute.

The boy's dog, Albert, was killed by a Green Bay Western train near his home here. Young Patrick wrote a letter to the railroad that said in part:

"Your train ran over our dog and killed him. He was such a nice and good dog . . . His name was Albert . . . Tell your engineer that we don't blame him because he ran over Albert —it's just that we feel so sad."

The letter went right to the desk of the railroads' president. Homer E. McGee, who answered:

"We are all very sorry to hear about the loss of your dog. I think I can appreciate how bad you feel because when I was your age I lived on a farm in Texas, and I had a dog, too."

Advertising Depdrtment Invades Writing Field

BELEN, N. M. (UP) — Commented Bill Gardner and Dick Curtiss in print: "Neither of us got shot after the first column hit the street . . . merchants of Belen must need target practice."

The two recently started a column in the weekly Belen News Bulletin called "Down Ad Alley," an invasion by the advertising men of the traditional editorial sanctum. Editor Carter Waid says it is a popular feature.

Grain Market Watches Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Self-cancelling expectations engendered by Friday's government wheat crop forecast gave the futures market an uneven appearance on the Board of Trade today.

Nearby contracts gained small fractions on a 14-million-bushel net cutback in the winter wheat estimate during May. Distant deliveries, however, lost as much as two cents a bushel on a predicted gain of around 29 million bushels.

Corn and oats were firm with the general trend. Rye advanced substantially in line with a deep reduction in the crop estimate.

Toward the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ cent higher to ⅞ lower, July $1.98⅝; corn was ⅛ to ⅝ higher, July $1.43; oats were ⅛ to ⅜ higher, July 67¾, and rye was 1¼ to 1½ cents higher, July $1.06¼. Soybeans were ¼ to ¾ cent higher, July $2.43½, and lard was 18 to 20 cents a hundred pounds better, July $12.50.

Teen Runaway Raped After Drinking Spree

DETROIT (INS)—A 15-year-old Almont girl, found staggering along the Willow Run expressway early today, told police she had been criminally assaulted after being forced to drink wine.

The girl ran away from home yesterday following an argument with her father. She was picked up by a Flint factory worker she new faintly as "Arnold."

She was found by Clifford Brennen, a guard at the Wayne County Juvenile Home. She said the assault took place on the side of the road after "Arnold" had driven around for a long time.

Reds Sentence 'Spies'

BERLIN (INS) — Communist East Germany sentenced two "Western imperialist spies" today to death and five others to long terms at hard labor. The East German Supreme Court imposed the death sentence after a trial of several days on Wilhelm Lehman, 43, and Hans Kock, 40.

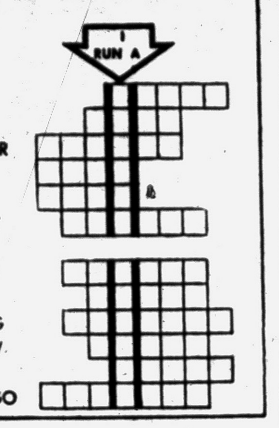

The American Bible Society translated the Scriptures into six languages in 1954, bringing the total number of languages into which it has translated the Scriptures to 1,084.

Local 600 Council Approves New Pact

DETROIT (INS) — The general council of Ford Local 600 at the giant Rouge Plant voted overwhelmingly yesterday in favor of accepting the new contract signed a week ago and recommended that the entire membership follow suit.

The general council vote was seen as another victory for Local 600 President Carl Stellato in his battle to win support of his 48,000 members when they vote on the proposal June 20 and 21.

The 204-man council of the world's largest local was in session for ten hours yesterday discussing phases of the new pact.

One of Stellato's main supporters during the discussions was John Orr, vice president and member of the negotiating committee. Orr is from the Rouge tool and die division which for a while last week defied Stellato and staged a wildcat strike.

The skilled tool and die workers, who claimed the contract did not give them a big enough wage hike, finally returned to work at Stellato's insistence.

Pie Thief Goes Hungry After Stealing Truck

DETROIT (INS)—A pastry thief went hungry today although he stole a whole truckload of pies.

Rail Dispute in 16th Day

Labor Leader Averts Breakdown in British Transport Argument

LONDON, (UP)—Union and government officials renewed negotiations today on Britain's stubborn railroad strike, now in its 16th day.

Only the intervention of Sir Walter Monckton, the labor minister, prevented a breakdown in the talks when a deadlock over union wage demands developed Saturday.

The union pulled its 67,000 members off their jobs on the state-owned railroads in support of a demand for wage differentials over workers with less responsible jobs. The British Transport Commission offered more money for the engineers but balked at increasing pay scales for firemen.

The commission feared this would touch off demands by the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR), whose 400,000 members include most of the less skilled workers.

Despite the length of the stoppage, the Transport Commission so far has managed to avert a widespread industrial shutdown by making the full use of the 17,000 nonstriking NUR engineers and firemen and of a widespread trucking network.

About one-sixth of the normal 24,000 passengers trains a day have been kept running, and about one-fifth of the 16,000 freight trains. Vital goods also have been moved by highway and on canal barges.

There was still no sign of a settlement in the seven-city dock strike, now in its fourth week, which has seriously slowed the nation's export drive.

Police Offer Reward for Bomb Planters

HONG KONG (INS)—A $17,500 reward has been offered by police for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons connected with a time-bomb explosion aboard an Air India plane April 12.

The airliner was bound for the Afro-Asian conference in Bandung, Indonesia, when it crashed in the South China Sea, killing 11 Red Chinese officials and seven crewmen.

Hong Kong Police Commissioner A. C. Maxwell said it was "certain" the time-bomb had been placed aboard the plane at Hong Kong. He said:

GAW Opinions Given by NAM, UAW Spokesmen

PORT HURON (UP)—The principle of a guaranteed annual wage was denounced as "un-Christian and un-American" by the National Assn. of Manufacturers and defended as "economically sound" by the CIO United Auto Workers union yesterday.

The two opposing viewpoints were given as a management and labor spokesman debated the issue before high school and college social science teachers at the union's Franklin Delano Roosevelt-CIO Labor Center near here.

William J. Grede of Milwaukee, association finance committee chairman, gave the NAM stand. Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president in charge of the union's American Motors Department, defended the union's position.

Grede said the year-around pay would discourage industrial growth, destroy worker incentive and penalize employers.

* * *

Woodstock denied this and said a guaranteed annual wage would mean a more equal distribution of wealth and a check on a depression. He said the year-around pay guarantee was necessary to supplement state jobless pay benefits which, he said, the NAM has fought to "keep low . . . and make hard to collect."

25 Die in State Over Weekend

17 Killed in Traffic, Six Drowned Despite Wet Weather

By UNITED PRESS

Michigan recorded one of its highest combined accidental death tolls of the year during the weekend despite scattered showers which kept many weekend tourists at home.

The combined toll of 25 included 17 traffic victims, six drownings, an air crash victim and an electrocution.

The most tragic accident of the weekend was a head-on traffic mishap which claimed the lives of three persons.

The victims were identified as Melvin L. Williams, 50, Dearborn Township; his son Eugene, 15, and a neighbor, June Killiam, 17, who was riding in the Williams' car.

They were killed when Williams' car skidded into the path of a truck on Telegraph road, five miles south of Flat Rock.

Cecil Struble, 42, and Robert Phillips, both of South Haven, drowned in Lake Michigan when their 14-foot boat capsized.

OTHERS DROWNED

Other drowning victims in Michigan waters included Steve Szymanski, 50, Van Dyke; William Manning, 46, Grand Rapids; Lee Johnson, 22, Albert, and George Vincent, Toledo, Ohio.

The air crash victim was Lt. Joesph A. Bostic, 27, Springfield, Mo. He died in his flaming jet plane after it crashed near Flint.

Perhaps the most unusual accident of the weekend claimed the life of Cary Higbie, 23, of Holt. Higbie was electrocuted when a gas-powered model airplane he was flying on a metal cable struck a high tension wire carrying 4,800 volts.

Mrs. Marietta Van Nort, 46, and Charles Smith, 38, both of Detroit, were killed in a single car accident in Northville Township, and Allen Warbler, 56, Birmingham, and Rober Juvan, 23, Detroit, were killed in a head-on crash in West Bloomfield Township.

Other traffic victims included: Mrs. Sarah Hoskins, 75, of Jackson; Daniel R. Price, 53, of Swartz Creek; Mrs. Anna Boss, 43, of Grand Rapids; Jesus Raimos, 25 of Pigeon; John Long, 30, of Goshen, Ind.;

Frank Haydu, 27, of Detroit; Anthony Grondek, 11, of Romulus; Bernard Lica, 56, of Toledo, Ohio; Hershel Wideman, 29, of Bay Port; and Willie Crowell, 38, of Detroit.

Women Fliers Wait for Laggards Today

KEY WEST, Fla. (INS)—Early-arrivals in the rain - slowed Washington-to-Havana women's international air race waited impatiently for the laggards today at Key West before beginning their over-the-water hop to Cuba.

Seventeen planes entered in the Powder Puff Derby had reached the tip of Florida by last night, with 12 others being forced to set down for the night at scattered points along the East Coast.

Four planes, including that of the apparent leader, Mrs. Gardner Whyte of Flushing, Mich., withdrew from competition.

A Sunday noon deadline for reaching Key West was extended until noon today after rainstorms slowed the pace of the 1,195 mile race, first over-water air race in the history of the sponsoring club, the 99's, Inc. None would start for Cuba until all were ready for takeoff from Key West.

Suspect Is Facing Accosting Charge

KALAMAZOO (INS) — Stanley Edgerton, who is being held in Kalamazoo for investigation in the slaying of Jeannie Singleton, faces arraignment today in municipal court on charges of accosting a 14-year-old girl.

Detectives believe Edgerton is either innocent of Jeannie's slaying on May 23, or a mental case.

Edgerton has been given eight lie detector tests in Paw Paw and Lansing by State Police, but all of them were ruled inconclusive.

Police are still checking into Edgerton's activities and background on the day Jeannie disappeared. He offered a ride to a 14-year-old child on the same day she disappeared. Jeannie's body was found 8 days later in a woodland 18 miles from her home.

Detroit Bans Sprinkling

DETROIT (UP) — Lawn sprinkling bans today went into effect here and in 39 suburban communities which receive water from Detroit. Under the ban, which remains in effect until Sept. 3, owners whose homes have odd numbers will be permitted to water their lawns only on odd-numbered days of the month, even numbers on even days. The restrictions don't apply on Sundays.

National Debt May Pass Assessed Value of U.S.

NEW YORK (UP)—The national debt may, by the end of fiscal 1956, be greater than the assessed value of all property in the nation, the Tax Foundation said today.

The current issue of the Foundation's publication, "Tax Outlook," says that the national debt is slated to reach $276,000,000,000 by the end of fiscal 1956 while the latest assessed valuation for tax purposes of all the nation's property is given at $240,000,000,000.

Bavarian Police Close Murder

Case Goes by Default as Time Runs Out on 1922 Slaying of Six

MUNICH, Germany (UP) — The state prosecutor has closed the records without a conviction on one of the most gruesome crimes in Bavarian history—the pick-ax slaying of six persons 33 years ago.

One of two suspected slayers is dead. The other cannot be brought to trial under the German statute of limitations.

In March 1922, farmer Andreas Gruber, four members of his family and their maid were hacked to death in a lonely cottage in the Ingolstadt district. The slayer was not found.

In 1941, police say, a woman confessed on her deathbed to a priest that her two brothers committed the crime. Eleven years later, a Bavarian newspaper published a story about the deathbed confession without giving its source. Police questioned the priest, who would only confirm the names given to him by detectives.

One of the brothers had been killed near a French prisoner-of-war camp in 1944.

The other was found living as a pensioner. His story was contradictory. He was released after being in custody three weeks.

The statute of limitation applies when there has been no criminal investigation of a suspect during a 20-year period. Prewar files on the case were destroyed in a 1944 air raid. A painstaking probe lasting three years failed to produce any evidence that an investigation was made against the suspect.

7 Million Cars Due Next Year

Quota for 1956 Will Exceed Total Output Before World War I

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—Peace in the auto industry, virtually assured today by the General Motors agreement with the CIO United Auto Workers, means the booming assembly lines will build seven million or more passenger cars this year. That's more cars than the industry built in all the years prior to World War I.

A new record, topping the 1950 mark by approximately 400,000, now is virtually certain. Only a complete stoppage of the assembly lines for a couple of months or more can prevent it.

Assemblies scheduled for the January-June total to something like 4,300,000 cars. Truck volume will come close to 500,000 units, below record levels but showing signs of acceleration in the final half of the year.

Production of passenger vehicles will level off in the July-December half; there will be new-model shutdowns. But there is no complete suspension for anything like a couple of months presently in sight.

The major car makers themselves have been astonished at the production and sales volume of 1955. Most of them had predicted 1955 volume would mount perhaps 10 per cent over the 1954 total of 5½ million cars.

The new agreements General Motors and Ford have made with UAW-CIO obviously will increase production costs. Just how much is "a competitive secret," which the car makers decline to disclose.

None of the car makers yet has said flatly that the agreements mean higher price tags for 1956 models. A fair guess, however, would seem to be that some models will cost more while some, especially those in the most competitive brackets, may carry unchanged price tags in the 1956 model year.

TV Idol Hopes to Widen Scope

Sees Hollywood as Way to Reach Audience Across the Ocean

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Liberace is making his debut as a movie star in his first straight dramatic role—minus his candelabra and brother George. But there will be dancing and expressions ranging from "shock to tears."

In case you've missed the pearly-toothed television matinee idol on the home screens, Warner Studio is presenting him to the world as an actor in big screen color and stereophonic sound.

"I'm stepping out of character for the first time and people are curious to see how I meet the challenge," Liberace said between scenes today.

"Yesterday I did a very difficult scene in which I had to show shock, panic and sadness, in that order. Why, I got so worked up," he smiled, "that as I came off the set I still was crying!"

Previously the pianist did only a bit on a Shelly Winters movie, "South Sea Sinners," and performed in two RKO musical shorts.

After he became the hottest thing on TV since old movies, Warner's waved a contract under his nose. The rich Liberace decided to become richer "because movies will be a wonderful way to get to still a greater audience than I reach on TV—Europe."

His movie, "Sincerely Yours," is a story about a musician who goes deaf and, while recovering, influences the lives of persons who pass by his window. The plot sounds suspiciously like an earlier Warner epic starring George Arliss, "The Man Who Played God."

"Sincerely Yours," will be but the first film in Liberace's new career as a movie actor. He has, however, no plans to re-do other Arliss films such as "Disraeli" and "Alexander Hamilton."

"I'm scheduled for five pictures at Warner's," he explained. "They're talking about doing a period picture, a comedy and a re-name of 'The Man Who Came to Dinner.'"

Though Liberace has left his frilly shirts and gold shoes at home, he's kept his famous smile for his movie.

"And the script embodies things people know me for, such as love of family, religion, tragedy and humor," he added.

For one scene he was supposed to be playing in Carnegie Hall ("When Irish Eyes Are Smiling"). Then he did a neat soft shoe to "Tea for Two."

Wind Tears Off Roof, Wrecks Light Planes

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—Cartwheeling across Phoenix's rainswept Sky Harbor Airport, 30 light planes were wrecked yesterday in a 70-mile-an-hour blow that caused $150,000 damage.

The freakish thunderstorm hit the hangar area only. Roof sections were torn off the hangars. No one was injured.

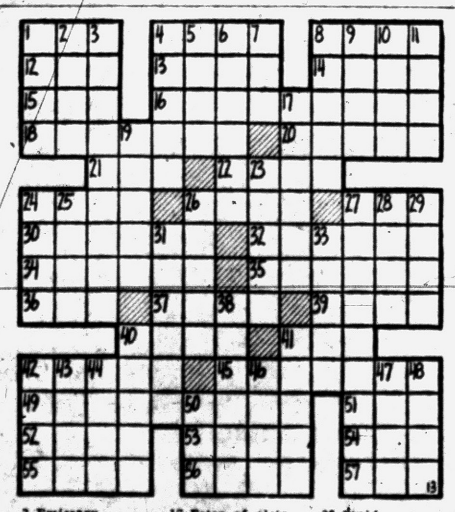

"I heard a tremendous roar," said Jim Wood of the Sun Valley Air Service. "Then the wind caved in the wall of my office at least a foot."

Report $375 Missing From Detroit Theater

DETROIT (INS) — An estimated $375 was reported missing yesterday from the safe of the Regent Theater in Detroit.

Police said there was no evidence of a break-in and that the safe had not been forced.

In addition, a 600-pound safe containing narcotics and $800 in cash and checks proved too much for burglars who entered a West Side medical clinic. They were unable to crack the safe, shared by four physicians in the clinic.

Death Has Three Lives —By Brett Halliday

Compressing her lips and fighting back panic, Lucy pulled shirt and undershirt up from his waistband and found a small wound oozing blood in the soft flesh. She sank back on her heels for a moment, considering what doctor she might reach most quickly, and was disconcerted to see his black lashes lift and to hear his voice:

"No doctor, Lucy. Why do you think I made it here? I'll be okay. Just let me rest a little. If I could lie down . . . and if you've got a drink."

She started to protest, but he placed both palms flat on the floor beside him and lifted himself to a sitting position, his eyes blazing at her with determination and command.

"Put a towel on your bed and let me lie there. I promise not to bleed much. And get me a drink. I just need to rest. Then I'll go on." He groped for her wrist and pulled himself upright and Lucy let herself be persuaded momentarily, thinking it was best to propitiate him and keep him quiet, that she would surreptitiously call a doctor as soon as he was safely in the bedroom, wondering what he had done to be afraid to have a doctor tend him.

With Jack Bristow leaning on her arm and stumbling a little, she led him into the bedroom where he sank onto the edge of the chaste single bed and shook his head stubbornly when she urged him to stretch out on the immaculate spread.

She left him and hurried into the bathroom, flew back with a heavy towel which she spread out behind him. He relaxed on it with a wince of pain and then a deep sigh of relaxation. Closed his eyes but caught her wrist in a hurting grip when she tried to stand up.

Beads of sweat stood on his forehead and formed tiny rivulets down each temple. "I didn't do anything wrong, but I'm in a spot where I can't have a doctor see me. Not until I get a chance to clear things up. You're the only person I know in Miami. You've got to help me. Just let me stay a couple of hours and I'll clear out. You didn't answer me about a phone call."

"I haven't had one and you're shot," she said faintly.

Jack Bristow was lying back with his head on the pillow and his eyes lightly closed. Short-cropped black hair clung to his well-shaped head in waves, and his mobile lips were slightly parted.

Lucy lifted the loose tail of shirt and undershirt to study the small wound. No more blood came from the bullet-hole, and the red fluid that had previously oozed out was beginning to clot.

SHAYNE COMING

She drew his clothing back over the bare flesh, thinking it best not to disturb him, and debating anew whether she should call a doctor at once or hope Shayne would come soon and make the decision for her.

When she turned her head she saw Jack's eyes wide open and fixed upon her unblinkingly. "Is Mike Shayne coming here . . . tonight?"

"I think so. If he doesn't come soon I can call him and . . ."

"Don't." Jack's teeth were set together hard and his voice was harsh. "From what you've told Arlene in letters, she guesses you're in love with the guy. That right?"

"I don't think that concerns you."

"I wouldn't be here if there was another soul in Miami I could have gone to."

Lucy said, "That's flattering." She went into the kitchen and brought a glass of straight brandy. "You wanted a drink?"

He took it from her and lifted the glass to his lips swiftly without lifting his head, spilling a few drops but coming as close to "tossing off a drink" as Lucy had ever seen accomplished.

He dropped the empty glass on the coverlet beside him and muttered: "I didn't mean anything personal. You've always been and still are the girl I like most. But I know all about Mike Shayne, see? Just the kind of dick he is."

"What kind of dick," asked Lucy faintly, "do you think he is?"

TO THE WOLVES

"He'd love to throw me to the wolves," said Jack flatly. He paused before adding, "particularly if he found me with his girl."

"Michael isn't like that," she declared vehemently. "As for you being with me, that's utter nonsense. After all, I only saw you once before in my life."

"But how'll you make him believe that? You know how a guy is when another fellow pops up out of his girl's past. Always ready to believe the worst. Why'll he think I came to you if I weren't sure you'd take me in?"

His arm pressed against his stomach, he turned and said: "Have you had a phone call in the past 15 minutes?"

"What's all this getting us?" demanded Lucy wearily. "Tell me about it Jack. Who shot you in the side? Why are you afraid to be examined by a doctor?"

"A DEAD man, believe it or not. And I told you why not to call a doctor," Jack snarled. "Because I can't afford to start explaining things to the police. Not yet. Nor to your Mike Shayne either. Get that straight, sister. If he does come and you say a word about me being here, I'll fix you with him so you'll wish you'd kept shut."

"You're hardly in a position to threaten anyone," Lucy told him coldly. She retrived the empty cognac glass and placed it on the tray, stood up. "Do you want some water?"

"No. More of that brandy would be okay."

"You've had enough," she told him with decision, and started toward the door.

His voice stopped her on the threshold. It was hard and level, yet with an underlying note of desperation which warned her that he was dangerous.

"DON'T DO IT"

"Just don't do it, Lucy girl. All I'm asking is a couple of hours, and I swear that you'll be doing nothing wrong. But I'm also warning you that Shayne wouldn't see it that way, and if you give me to him I'll smear you so you'll not only be looking for another man but for another job, too. Now close that door and get smart."

Lucy went to the kitchen and carefully rinsed out Jack's liquor glass and dried it. The bedroom door stood open, but she noted that Jack had turned out the bedside lamp.

Biting her lip in indecision, she slowly went to the door and drew it shut, then turned back to drop into a deep chair and wrestle with her problem.

In the beginning, immediately after Jack made his absurd threat, there had been no question in her mind. Michael Shayne was certainly best qualified to decide whether or not to turn Bristow over to the police after questioning him. Shayne had his won peculiar code of ethics which she sometimes did not wholly understand, but which she respected.

Often enough, she had seen him set himself squarely against the police in their efforts to jail a man whom Shayne believed innocent, and many times she had seen him go outside the law to gain an end which he believed right.

If Jack Bristow could convince Shayne that he was innocent in whatever sort of mess he'd gotten himself mixed into, she knew positively that the big redhead would hold the man's confidence inviolate even though it involved a technical illegality on Shayne's part.

On the other hand, Lucy was in love with her employer. She admitted the fact openly to herself, and more or less openly to him. For years now she had let herself dream of marriage, and had felt encouraged of late by the belief that he was coming to look at Lucy more and more as a woman instead of merely an attractive and competent secretary.

WHAT SORT OF JAM

She moodily thought about the wounded man in her bedroom. What sort of jam could he have got into in Miami to bring him to her apartment seeking refuge with a gunshot wound? In the past, when she had known his sister well, she had sensed that Jack was weak and probably lazy, but she could recall no hint from Arlene of vicious or unlawful tendencies. Of course, she told herself drearily, a sister is likely to be the last person to suspect a brother of such things, and it was perfectly possible that Arlene had been unaware of his real character. Also, it had been many years since Lucy had seen Arlene, and all sorts of things might have happened to Jack in the interim. He might well be a noted criminal, wanted by the police of a dozen states, and Lucy would not be aware of it.

But, somehow, she couldn't make herself believe that. Not of a boy whom she had once dreamed about.

No, Lucy told herself desperately. He can't be really bad. Certainly I would know subconsciously if he were, and would be repelled rather than attracted by him. Whatever trouble he's in, must be the result of a prank or some sort of mistake, and I would be disloyal to Arlene if I refused to protect him for the short time he asked.

On the other hand, his threat to smear her reputation in front of Michael Shayne if she admitted his presence to the detective, rankled, and she conceded in her heart that it was not the act of an innocent lad. Still, it was a threat that had been born of desperation and of his lack of knowledge of Shayne's real character.

There I go, she muttered to herself despairingly, pretending I know Michael's real character when the fact is that I'm not at all sure how he might react if Jack were to tell him a lot of lies about me. I should be sure that he'd disregard them, but I'm not. I simply don't know. And I'm afraid to put it to the test. On the other hand, I'll hate myself forever if I lie to Michael and let Jack stay hidden in the bedroom without telling him.

Lucy still hadn't made up her mind when the buzzer rang and she got up to push the button that would admit Michael Shayne to the apartment building.

Mexican Border Soldier Wins a Belated Citation

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A medal came to John W. Long just 40 years late but it really wasn't unusual for him.

The medal was the Army's Mexican Border Service Medal for duty from 1915 to 1917.

Long, 68, said yesterday, "The adjutant general's office notified me of the award last March 14. I guess they had confused me with a lot of other Longs in the Army and that's why it took this long to send me the medal."

Wide West Is Marker for Ft. Stanton Dead

FORT STANTON, N. M. (AP) — What's new in cemeteries?

Well, if you are really a cemetery connoisseur, there are a couple of interesting ones here by this century-old former Army post where "Blackjack" Pershing, later a famous general, earned his nickname playing cards.

I'm a cemetery man myself, and I suppose most people are. Night clubs cost too much. Hospitals make you nervous. But nothing gives you a better prospective on the importance of life than a visit to a cemetery. No other place is as restful. Only in a cemetery do the dead generally have to pay an admission fee while the living can enter and leave free.

The elder cemeteries of the eastern section of the United States are usually well - cared for. But they are also often primly trimmed and patterned and have a caught-as-it-is-forever look, as a flower imprisoned in glass does.

The two cemeteries here are somewhat careless and unkempt. They wear their grass long instead of trim and tidy. They have a frontier down-to-earth expression, if you can think of cemeteries as having individual expressions. And of course they—just as trees and people and pigeons do.

Both cemeteries seem to have had a "welcome stranger" attitude, giving shelter to anyone overcome by the storms of the world.

The bigger cemetery is the newer one. More than half a century ago the Army post was turned into a national hospital for tubercular members of the American Merchant Marine.

It seems, apart from the benefit of climate, an odd place to cure sailors homesick for seas far away. But the vista of bending grass on rolling hills reaching to distant mountains gives one the feeling of being aboard a ship straining toward a high shore.

Many of the 951 mariners buried here must have thought of this before they died an inland death. Most of the graves have lost the identity of a name and carry only the tag of a numbered stone. Nobody cared to index them but the government. A few graves have rude, weathered wooden crosses adorned with a faded hand-carved anchor. Many of those with names bear Scandinavian names.

In a separate corner, lined up forever, rest four sailors from the imprisoned crew of the German raider, Graf Spee, scuttled off South America early in the second World War.

Does any fraulein still wonder what happened to Herman Neuhoff, born Aug. 8, 1910, or Otto Zeitsch, born April 1, 1910? Well, here they earry eternal classmates, under the Iron Cross and burgeoning cactus plants.

The older cemetery is the smaller one. It must have been started shortly after the fort was established in 1855.

Here are buried a number of cavalrymen who rode to death to make the frontier safe. But time has destroyed most of their headstones. Who knows what man lies below, and how he died, and why? Their true monument: The great wide West itself.

Hospitably interred with them are a few civilian pioneers. There is also a small, boy's size grave, lovingly outlined with pebbles, and bearing a headstone that says simply: "Charles." The grave is sunken, but flowers still bloom upon it. Somebody remembers Charles.

As I walked toward the gate a dove whirred up with a soft-feathered thunder. I saw two small eggs in the nest she had made in the dry parched grass, and knew that as soon as I was gone she would return to that nest, and that out of this old home of death new life would hatch and fly.
