

U.S. Makes First Thrust Into Mekong Delta

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U. S. and Vietnamese marines pushed through forbidding mangrove swamps of the Mekong Delta today and met only slight resistance in the first big American thrust into the delta.

A combined allied force of about 4,000 landed by sea and helicopter yesterday 55 miles due south of Saigon on the Thanh Phu Peninsula. Only small, sniper contacts with the enemy were reported.

The operation was the biggest amphibious landing of the war and marked the first major deployment of American troops in the rice-field and water-logged delta, where an estimated 100,000 Vietcong dominate large sections.

As the pace of the ground war quickened after a week's lull, Communist forces in the central highlands unleashed a heavy mortar and ground assault early today against the same airfield at Pleiku where an attack two years ago touched off U. S. air bombings of North Vietnam and led to the massive buildup of American forces in South Vietnam.

A U. S. spokesman said the Communists unloaded more than 100 mortar rounds on Holloway Airfield close to Pleiku City about 240 miles northeast of Saigon. Earlier reports had said 200 to 300 mortar rounds were fired.

The spokesman said 10 enemy soldiers penetrated the airfield and inflicted "light damage" to helicopters and small observation planes.

He added that U.S. casualties were light in the 45-minute attack, but several buildings were damaged.

The Holloway Air Base, now used largely for helicopters, was subjected to a Communist assault Feb. 7, 1965, in the first major enemy attack on U. S. troops of the war.

The same day, American planes were ordered to bomb North Vietnam and shortly afterward the big U.S. troop deployment started.

AIR BASE SHELLED

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported the Communists also shelled a nearby Vietnamese air base early today apparently in a diversionary attack.

A spokesman said the Communists inflicted heavy casualties on a regional force platoon defending the Chu Hanh airfield near Holloway and killed four Vietnamese civilian dependents in a shelling of an Army Engineer camp nearby.

In another development, U. S. B52 heavy bombers staged four raids last night and today in Binh Duong Province 25 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

U. S. headquarters said the targets were Vietcong troop concentrations, supply points, infiltration routes, base camps, storage areas and fortifications.

NAVY FORCE

The delta operation, called Deckhouse Five, was launched from a U. S. Navy task force of 12 warships and was preceded by air strikes and naval gunfire.

Some Marines hit "White Beach" in steel amtraks. Others were airlifted six miles inland by helicopters from the assault carrier Iwo Jima.

Police Hunt Area Man in Wife's Gun Death

MRS. JOHN MERLO

JOHN MERLO

L'I LONES

"That's funny. When I put it on this morning, this jacket buttoned up the front."

Farmington Township police today were seeking a 25-year-old man who allegedly shot and killed his young wife yesterday while she worked on a customer's hair at a beauty shop.

Sought on a murder charge is factory worker John Merlo, address unknown, the estranged husband of 18-year-old Sharon A. Merlo of Redford Township.

Mrs. Merlo, mother of a 3-month-old son, Jeff, was shot about 11 a.m. yesterday while at work at the Crest Beauty Salon, 27432 Eight Mile, Farmington Township, according to Police Chief Irving H. Yakes.

Yakes said witnesses reported that Merlo entered the beauty shop through a rear room. He talked briefly with his wife, who then returned to a customer. Merlo then fired several shots, and walked out of the shop, the chief said.

The attractive, dark-haired beauty operator was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital. She reportedly was shot three times.

FOUR CUSTOMERS

Four customers and a young boy were in the shop at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Lyle Stanfield, the shop owner, said she and another woman ran into a back room after the shooting and locked the door. When they emerged, the victim was lying on the floor.

The shop owner said the Merlos had been separated, but that he frequently visited the shop. Mrs. Merlo, who lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kamen, had worked at the beauty shop for two years, according to Mrs. Stanfield.

The Merlos had been married for about a year, living with her parents. His parents live in Niles, Ohio.

Steering Shaft Faults Result in GM Recall

269,200 Cars Are Called Back; Defect Tied to Installation

DETROIT (AP)—Collapsible steering columns, much heralded as safety devices, were in the spotlight today because of faulty installation as General Motors Corp. recalled 269,200 new cars.

The largest of the nation's four auto makers said the steering shafts in the company's smaller model 1967 cars will be replaced because they may snap.

Eight such failures have been reported so far—five in Pontiacs, two in Chevrolets and one in a Buick—all at low speeds while parking or turning, GM said.

The steering shafts are the new, impact-absorbing columns designed to collapse under extreme pressure, such as that from a collision throwing the driver against the steering wheel.

The defect is in the way the shaft was installed, not in the design of it, the company said.

MISALIGNMENT

The faulty installation resulted in misalignment of the shaft, placing too much strain on it during certain maneuvers of the car, GM said.

The stress, although not noticeable to the driver, may cause the shaft to break, the firm said.

The fault was first discovered in December and the firm began recalling Pontiac Tempests Dec. 19.

A GM announcement at the time said the shaft could break "particularly when the vehicle is being parked or being turned at slow speeds."

WEBBED FEET NEEDED—U.S. Marines sash through canal water on the Thanh Phu Peninsula in the Mekong Delta yesterday after a massive landing of U.S. and Vietnamese troops in the Vietcong-infested area. The action is the first major American commitment of combat troops in the delta area. Early reports told of only light resistance.

Charges Filed on County Jail

State Gets Complaint on Jobs, Segregation

Daniel F. Monley, chairman of the Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council, said yesterday that he has filed a formal complaint on the county sheriff-jail function with the State Civil Rights Commission.

One of eight persons who visited the jail last week to observe conditions, Monley was critical of partial segregation in the jail and the lack of any Negro sheriff's deputies.

His complaint, filed with the commission office in Detroit, specified these two points:

It calls for an end to segregation of white and Negro prisoners in the 32-man bullpens on the third and fourth floors.

It also asks that discrimination in employment practices be halted.

TWO NEGROES

Monley said he knows of two Negroes who applied for sheriff deputy positions. One man submitted an application in 1965 and a second application last year and the other applied last year, Monley said.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons has maintained segregation in the large bullpens adjacent to four 8-man cell blocks "to reduce the possibility of a serious melee."

Other floors containing smaller prisoner quarters and the trustees quarters are integrated.

Capt. Leo Hazen said last week that he was unaware of any nonwhite applicants for deputy jobs in the past five years.

QUALIFICATIONS

Monley, a personnel department employee of Ford Motor Co., said the two Negroes who

6 Killed in Nevada Motel Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nv. (AP)—A massive explosion that killed at least six persons in a downtown motel early today was caused by a bomb, county officials declared.

"It has to be a bomb. There's no question," said Dist. Atty. George E. Franklin.

"There's no gas in the building, but we don't know if it's suicide or what."

Officers said as many as 20 persons may also have been hurt by the blast.

The Clark County Coroner's Office said the body of the sixth victim had just been found in the rubble on the top floor of the three-story motel, the Orbit Inn.

ON 3RD FLOOR

Officers said much of the motel was demolished, that the explosion apparently occurred on the third floor. Officers continued to search the rubble.

A witness said windows

Hold Chapeau, Winds Will Blow and It May Snow

Hold on to your hat. The weatherman says gusty winds at 15 to 30 miles per hour will continue and the mild temperature will plunge to near 10 to 16 tonight.

There's a chance of snow flurries through tomorrow.

The day-by-day forecast is as follows:

TODAY — Snow flurries likely in the afternoon. Much colder at night, low 10 to 16. Southerly winds 10 to 20 miles, shifting to southwest 15 to 30 miles and gusty in afternoon and night.

TOMORROW — Variable cloudiness, windy and colder with a chance of a few more flurries.

MONDAY — Fair and warm-throughout the motel were shattered, but that there was apparently no fire. Firemen were standing by at the scene.

The blast occurred at 1:25 a.m., officers said.

Investigators said the cause of the explosion was not immediately known, but that the motel "apparently didn't use natural gas for heating."

NO IDENTITIES

The identities of the victims were not immediately available.

Deputy Coroner Harvey Schnitzer said "six occupants are unaccounted for, but we have, we think, six victims."

He said the bodies of those recovered so far are extremely mangled.

Schnitzer said he found a skull in an alley across from the building, and that a woman's leg was found embedded in a brick wall.

FBI TEAM

He said authorities have asked for an FBI team to come from Washington to help with identification of the dead.

As dawn approached, bodies were being laid out on a parking lot in big black rubber bags in front of a panel truck, a county sheriff's identification unit.

Health officials closed off the entire block because sewers in the area were beginning to overflow.

Explosion Rips Refinery; 3 Die

Raging Fire Follows at Illinois Complex

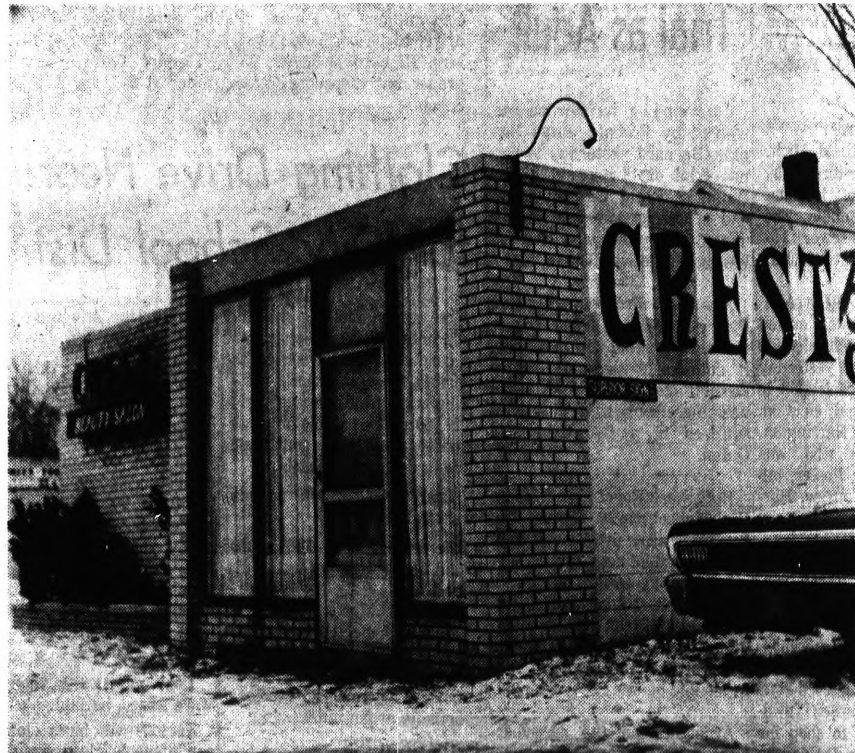

ROBINSON, Ill. (UPI) — Rescue workers today recovered the bodies of three men who were killed when an ear-shattering explosion blasted a section of the Marathon Oil Co. refinery yesterday.

The explosion occurred in the compressor room of a catalytic cracking tower for crude oil refining, throwing tons of debris on top of the men trapped inside and destroying a two-story oil shed next to the tower.

The blast erupted at 4:15 p.m. but workers could not reach the compressor room until late yesterday.

Intensely high temperatures kept rescuers from retrieving bodies until early today.

The explosion triggered a raging fire that burned for two hours, blasted hundreds of windows in Robinson, located in the southeastern Illinois oil fields, and caused earth tremors 40 miles away.

Service Complaints Mount on Savings Bond Pressure

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The files of the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee are bulging with complaints from servicemen and federal employees that they are coerced into buying savings bonds and making charitable contributions.

Letters from servicemen tell of being denied promotion and even of being threatened with shipment to Vietnam if they fail to buy bonds.

The subcommittee also has received reports of Marine sergeants being sent into the foxholes in Vietnam to sign up fighting men for bond purchases.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., subcommittee chairman, has introduced a bill that would, among other things, protect government employees against any form of compulsion to buy bonds or contribute to charity.

PROTECTION
In a recent letter to Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, Ervin wrote: "It is becoming glaringly apparent that legislation is needed to protect servicemen as much — or more so — as it is to protect civilian personnel."

Morris said the Defense Department not only does not authorize coercion of civilian and military personnel to buy savings bonds or contribute to charitable campaigns but has not and will not condone such coercion.

Ervin replied "the numerous complaints from civilian and military personnel throughout the world" indicate that the mere continuance of the Pentagon's support of established grievance procedures is insufficient.

The senator declined to submit to the Pentagon for investigation the names of persons who had complained to the subcommittee. "The risk of reprisals is not worth such an exercise in futility," Ervin wrote.

'NOT DETERRED'
The senator's letter said that "a Marine general has been quoted as saying that his men in charge of the bond drive in Vietnam were not deterred from achieving the unit goal."

"They went to forward positions and interviewed Marines in fighting holes and kept track of the patrols so that every individual had an opportunity to hear how he could invest his money in a worthwhile savings program," he quoted the general as saying.

Charges Filed on County Jail

applied for deputy positions appear to be qualified.

"Neither of them was contacted again after submitting applications," Monley said.

Charges specified in the complaint will be investigated by the Civil Rights Commission and a determination will be made on the justification of the complaint.

If the allegations are found to warrant further action, the Civil Rights Commission will call a meeting of the complainant and sheriff's officials and attempt to resolve the complaint.

A public hearing would be the next step if the meeting is fruitless and court action would be the final recourse.

Monley toured the jail with four members of the human relations committee of the County Board of Supervisors and three Civil Rights Commission officials.

New Efforts Due Against Antiwar Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Joe R. Pool pledged today to make a new effort in the 90th Congress to win approval of his controversial bill aimed at the activities of some antiwar groups.

The legislation, subject of tumultuous, arrest-marked hearings last August by the Committee on Un-American Activities, won overwhelming House approval in the last two weeks of the 89th Congress but died in the Senate.

It would penalize Americans who send blood, money or medical supplies to the Vietnam and North Vietnamese, or who try to block U.S. troop trains. The Johnson administration calls the measure unnecessary and possibly unconstitutional.

PASSAGE SEEN
"I think it will pass right through the House," Pool said in an interview. The portly Texan was reelected by 4,000 votes in a race considered very tight until the widely publicized hearings.

Weather Halts Morrell Hunt

HARBOR BEACH (AP) — Bad weather has called a temporary halt to the search for parts of the ill-fated freighter Daniel J. Morrell, which sank in Lake Huron Nov. 29.

The Coast Guard reported finding the stern of the ore carrier via an underwater television camera.

Only one of the 28 crewmen survived when the ship broke apart during a storm and sank before it had time to send an SOS.

The Coast Guard said weather conditions halted further investigation after the TV camera disclosed the name "Morrell" on the stern section, resting in 220 feet of water about 16 1/2 miles north of Pointe Aux Barques, south of the top of Michigan's Thumb area.

Governorship Nearly Sure for Maddox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Lester G. Maddox, whose segregationist views brought him national attention, today appeared headed for election Tuesday as Governor of Georgia.

In a 5-2 decision Friday, the State Supreme Court rejected the latest in a series of suits calling for a statewide vote and ruled the General Assembly has the power and right to choose the next governor.

The decision following a Dec. 12 ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court, apparently clears the way for the predominantly Democratic legislature to choose Maddox over Republican Howard Callaway.

The legislature convenes Monday, and Rep. George L. Smith, House speaker-nominee, said the assembly will proceed to elect a governor Tuesday in a joint session as specified by the state constitution.

BIG MAJORITY

An Associated Press poll of state legislators had indicated that Maddox will win by a large majority.

"The members of the General Assembly are going to have to stand up and vote," Smith said. "It is our duty to elect, and we will do so. In my opinion, Mr. Lester Maddox, a Democrat, will have a decided edge in the voting."

Maddox said, "The decision is in good hands, and I am confident of victory."

Callaway, 39, who gave up a seat in Congress to run, said, "The people of Georgia are always the loser when there is the possibility they might wind up not electing the governor."

Powell Foes Ease Battle

Compromise Closer in Attempt at Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk of compromise in the fight over the seating of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell in the 90th Congress spread today as the Harlem Democrat headed back to Washington and next week's showdown.

Powell's office said he was due back in the capital this weekend after fishing and sunning in the Bahamas for weeks and had scheduled meetings with several unnamed individuals.

House Democrats caucus at 10 a.m. Monday to organize for the new session and Powell's case is high on the agenda. The fight over seating him will take place Tuesday when Congress convenes.

The harsh probability that he might be denied his seat or tossed out as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee has eased a bit in the light of two recent developments: —Speaker John W. McCormack came back to town and made it clear he had little sympathy with the anti-Powell move, which is being led by two junior members, Reps. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., and Sam M. Gibbons, D-Fla.

Hoffa Appeals Date Scheduled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals will hear oral arguments Feb. 7 on the latest appeals connected with Teamsters union President James R. Hoffa's jury-tampering conviction in Tennessee.

The hearing will deal with Hoffa's appeal from the denial of a motion for a rehearing before the Cincinnati Appeals Court and the denial of a motion to grant him a new trial.

Missing Spy Plane Hunted Near Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Ground and air search parties meticulously combed remote terrain east of this gambling capital today for a missing Air Force spy plane, the world's fastest operational aircraft and successor to the U2 jet shot down over Russia in 1960.

The Air Force announced yesterday that the black, javelin-like plane had been missing since Thursday afternoon on a routine test flight from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The SR71, made by Lockheed and described in 1964 as the most advanced plane of its type in the world, was flown by a company test pilot who was not identified.

Another search in southern Nevada ended yesterday with the recovery of the body of a jet fighter pilot whose F4D Phantom crashed in mountains seven miles southwest of Caliente, Nev.

Newsman Get Rules for Trial

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth has outlined his plans for reporters who will be covering the Feb. 13 murder trial of Dr. Carl Coppolino.

The press, he said, must report the trial "as it unfolds in the courtroom" — and not as it is "pieced together from extrajudicial statements."

Coppolino, 34, was cleared of the slaying of retired Army Col. William E. Farber by a New Jersey jury. He now faces a first-degree murder charge here in the death of his first wife more than a year ago.

The doctor is accused of administering a fatal drug to Carmela, mother of his two children. Silvertooth said Friday that: No telephone calls may be made by jurors while they are sequestered and none received by them. No one may talk to or photograph jurors.

Nothing will "be disseminated" that is not introduced in court. No one shall leave the courtroom except at recess or for an emergency.

Only attorneys and court personnel may handle exhibits. No photographic, television or sound equipment, including tape recorders, will be allowed in the courthouse or on the grounds surrounding it.

Reagan Move Hits Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The smoldering feud between Gov. Ronald Reagan and the University of California warmed up today with word that Reagan planned to ask for cuts in its budgets and tuition from its students.

Officials of the state's nine-school university system yesterday confirmed that they had been asked to trim their $280-million budget by 10 per cent and add a $400 tuition to the $275 in fees now charged.

Reagan, a Republican elected by more than a million votes last November, made the University — particularly the rebellious Berkeley campus — one of his leading campaign targets.

Tax Exemption Reminder Issued

City Assessor James E. Kephart today reminded senior citizens seeking the $2,500 tax exemption provided for under state law that they must apply each year for the tax relief.

Kephart said that even those who applied for tax relief last year would have to apply again for the exemption on 1967 property taxes.

The tax relief, providing certain income and property ownership provisions are met, is available to those 65 and over as of Dec. 31, 1966.

Crash Puts 3 in Hospital

Three persons are in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today as a result of a head-on auto collision about 12:25 a.m. on Elizabeth Lake, west of Josephine, Waterford Township.

Police said a car driven by Carl D. Tharp, 35, of 435 Second collided with one driven by Ben Dunn, 45, of 456 Marion, Waterford Township. Both men are in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Held for observation at the hospital is Reba Wells, 48, of 761 Stanley, a passenger in the Dunn car. Treated and released was another passenger, Myrtle Dunn, 45, of the Marion address.

Reports Vary on Vietnam Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a week of peace probing, U.S. officials report serious doubt that North Vietnam is interested now in negotiations on ending the Vietnamese war.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Secretary General U Thant is firmly convinced that a halt in the U.S. air war against North Vietnam could lead to a de-escalation of the ground war in South Vietnam and eventual peace talks, diplomatic sources said yesterday.

HUE, South Vietnam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today he was willing to meet with North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh outside Vietnam to start peace talks.

MOSCOW (UPI) — North Vietnam will not yield on its conditions for peace talks, Moscow radio said today. The broadcast dispelled reports to the contrary as "rumors."

Teen to Stand Trial as Adult

Juvenile jurisdiction was waived by Probate Judge Norman Barnard yesterday to permit trial of 16-year-old Robert Quinn of Royal Oak on a second murder charge in the death of a youth who died following a fight with Quinn.

Assistant Prosecutor John D. Davey obtained a second-degree murder warrant immediately. It charges 18-year-old Gregory Barnett died of pneumonia, developing from spinal injuries suffered in a fist-fight with Quinn.

Both were Royal Oak Dunder High School pupils. Barnett died five days after the Dec. 21 fight on a vacant lot near the school.

In ordering Quinn to stand trial as an adult, Judge Barnard said he took into consideration the fact the boy was a ward of the court and had been in trouble before.

Arraigned on the second-degree murder charge in Royal Oak Municipal Court late yesterday, Quinn's examination was set for Jan. 16. He was released on $4,000 bond.

Clothing collected during the one-week drive is delivered by the school system's maintenance department to two local charitable organizations.

Acting as clearing agencies for the school system are the Salvation Army, 118 W. Lawrence, and the Docas Society, 168 Mount Clemens.

FUNNY BONE

Anyone who has banged his elbow knows that an injury to the "funny bone" is no laughing matter.

What he probably does not realize is that he has hurt a nerve, not a bone.

The ulnar nerve, which lies near the outer bend of the elbow, is relatively unprotected. Even a slight blow directly on it can cause great pain.

The so-called funny bone was also known as the "crazy bone," because an injury there supposedly made the person go crazy with pain.

The diamond and its facets are easily measured for their worth. The men and their facets are harder to judge. Except as seen through the "loupe" of time. For more than 50 years now, the men of Connolly's have been importing and supplying diamonds for Oakland County. It is true; "The men behind the diamond are part of what you buy." And here are men who have stood the test of time. Flawlessly.

State Dept. to Improve Congress Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department wants to rebuild its image on Capitol Hill. It will start by reorganizing its congressional liaison apparatus. Assistant Secretary of State Douglas MacArthur II will relinquish his post as head of the department's Bureau of Congressional Relations, probably before spring.

Nicholas Katzenbach, who replaced George W. Ball as under-secretary last fall, initiated the effort to create a more cordial atmosphere between the department and Congress, sources said.

Such contact has been channeled through MacArthur's bureau, but the thinking now is that the African Bureau, for example, with its greater expertise in affairs on the continent, should talk directly to congressmen interested in African affairs.

In addition to MacArthur's job, there will be more vacancies within the department this year, authoritative sources predicted. One of them will be the post now held by William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary for administration.

Crockett, 52, a career Foreign Service official, will leave the Department Jan. 20 and go into private industry, one source said.

COOPERATION

They said the former attorney general believes, for instance, that better cooperation with Congress would have kept the 1964 consular convention with the Soviet Union from dying in committee. The bill will be re-submitted some time this year.

Katzenbach also is understood to have encouraged the department's regional assistant secretaries to establish direct contact

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Barbara Pedley, 19, an attractive brunette clerk, has appealed to the British Post Office because she keeps losing boyfriends.

In a letter to the telephone department Barbara explained she has romance problems because she can't get a telephone installed at her home. In Britain the postal authorities run the telephone service.

Barbara of Quinton, Birmingham, found that boys lost interest in her when they found they couldn't phone her.

In her letter she said: "Please Mr. Sales Superintendent, do you think you could squeeze us in on a party line. I am getting desperate. ephone subscriber in Britain, where there aren't sufficient telephone lines available. "A nice young telephone engineer would be appreciated."

BIRMINGHAM UNITARIAN CHURCH

Birmingham Unitarian Church

Lone Pine at Woodward

Minister: Robert Marshall

Services: 9:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday

Welcome

"This is a Church of Many Doors."

People come through many doors to Birmingham Unitarian Church. And these doors lead out as well as in.

Unitarian Universalists come from all walks of life. Some are rich, some poor. Many come with problems, some with solutions. Some come beset with doubts, seeking something in which they can really believe.

They are impelled by different needs, and different drives.

One thing they share — a need to find meaning in their lives . . . a need to share the search for meaning with others.

They come seeking a "faith" they can share with their children, reluctant to foist on them "beliefs" in which adults cannot believe.

They come to church not to escape life, but to wrestle together with the problems of life. They come in search of the true brotherhood of man, with a willingness to accept the consequences of that concept.

They come to listen to sermons, but also to discuss these sermons with each other and with the minister at the coffee period, an important part of each service.

The doors of Birmingham Unitarian Church are open to all who seek its fellowship.

Zanuck Closed Studio and Fired All Key Personnel

Not a Bad Life for Little Fish

MAKE OVER PAGES In Soviet Union ONE COLOR Flower Profits Bloom

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth of five articles on the revival of 20th Century-Fox.)

NEW YORK — When Darryl F. Zanuck became president of 20th Century-Fox he found the film company "hopelessly in the red, with bank credit extended to its limit."

He decided he had no choice but to stem the outflow by closing the studio and reorganizing from top to bottom.

Zanuck queried department heads for suggestions on how to streamline their operations and the entire company. He found no new ideas. The organization was riddled with cliques more intent on fighting each other than selling movies.

"I was faced with the unpleasant task of changing all key personnel," Zanuck recalls. "When a crew has run the ship around, you get rid of the crew."

LONG-TIME FRIENDS

His chore was odious for two reasons: many top men were his long-time friends; most had contracts that had to be settled, some as high as a half-million dollars. But all except the financial executives were swept away.

Next he turned his attention to the studio.

Zanuck wanted his son Richard to assume charge. At first Richard, then 28, was reluctant because of the expected cry of nepotism.

"Don't worry about me D.Z.," Richard said. "I've produced 'The Chapman Report' at Warners, and I know I can get a job there, or some other studio."

ZANUCK INSISTENT

But the senior Zanuck was insistent. He named his son "president's production representative." Richard and assistant Stanley Hough performed the dismal task of firing most of the personnel, including scores of people Richard had known all his life. The payroll shrank from 2,000 to 200, mostly police and janitors required for insurance purposes. Even lawns and shrubs went untended, and the commissary was closed for the first time.

FILM A SHOCK

"I never had such a shock in my life," he recalls. "I saw many story links missing, a sea battle one-third finished, and a desert battle so fragmentary as to be incomprehensible."

Zanuck turned his attention to the project that helped bring Fox to its low state: "Cleopatra." He screened the finished film in Paris, where he was completing his own film, "The Longest Day."

Zanuck consulted director Joseph L. Mankiewicz, who admitted the gaps but said the previous administration ordered him to finish shooting on a certain date or his cameras would be taken from him. Zanuck let Mankiewicz supply the missing scenes, which added another million to the cost.

All future films were canceled except, "The Visit." The company had an inescapable contract with Ingrid Bergman. Zanuck now views that as "a terrible decision," since "The Visit" lost more money than the half-million required to pay off Miss Bergman.

With Fox at a virtual standstill, Darryl Zanuck retired to a villa in the south of France to study all the studio's literary properties. Among them was the Rodgers-Hammerstein musical, "The Sound of Music." He had seen the Broadway version a year and a half before and found it "pretty hokey." But he saw possibilities in it as a film.

(Next: The hills are alive with the sound of money.)

The U. S. Navy Civil Engineer Corps will observe its one hundredth anniversary on March 2, 1967.

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Big fish traditionally eat little fish, but some smart little ones can hypnotize the big fish into allowing them to do a bit of grooming on their oral cavities, thus providing a kind of symbiosis, or mutual benefit.

Certain tiny shrimps and fishes in the coral reef community are specialists in removing food particles, parasites and diseased tissue from the mouths of predators while the candidate for cleaning remains motionless.

In payment for these dental and cosmetic services, the cleaners are allowed to eat the material they remove, and sometimes — but only sometimes — they do not get eaten themselves.

A rare experiment in this in the south and selling them here.

Muscovites flocked to the salesmen and eagerly gobbled up their bouquets. Next day more arrived and the same pattern continued.

MEAGER SUPPLIES

State flower stores, with meager supplies or only expensive potted plants, lost customers and money.

The Soviet labor paper Trud asked why the state flower stores did not think of buying flowers from collective farmers MOSCOW (AP) — Private merchants and state stores competed here during the holiday season, selling flowers to brighten the dreary Moscow winter.

Then the paper reported that the state plans to do just that. It said stores in Moscow will sell flowers grown by collective farmers on their private plots.

Chimps' Art Work Displayed

CHICAGO (AP) — The art work of three chimpanzees — Betsy, Congo and Zippy — is now on display at the Field Museum of Natural History.

Eight paintings, several with an orange tang, have evoked much comment from patrons of the institution.

"It's as good as some shows we've seen," one art buff said while studying the colorful works.

A woman told her two young children: "When you're just as good as the little monkeys, you can paint, too."

Served His Time

LOUISVILLE (AP) — When one of the boys in her class failed to report, Mrs. Alfred Simpson asked his sister where he was.

"Why," she replied logically, "he was 16 yesterday."

Kentucky law makes school attendance mandatory until the 16th birthday.

"It begins to bridge the gap between humans and animals and it sort of pleases me," he said. "Museum officials declined to place a monetary value on the paintings."

Like many human artists, the chimps had their eccentricities, too.

A. L. Rand, chief curator of zoology at the Field Museum, sees the art work as a "concrete expression of a behavior pattern."

Zippy is a less known figure, but she worked in a Washington, D.C. department store painting pictures for profit.

Reflections

THE NEW YEAR

It's a brand new year and each of us has the opportunity to make of it what we will. If your outlook needs changing, do something constructive about it, right away. No one can do it for you. Think positive thoughts. If you find winter weather discouraging just be happy that you do not have a job that requires you to be outdoors eight hours a day. Turn a knob and enjoy watching outdoor sports on TV. Take a trip to the library and get acquainted with absorbing reading. Remember the jigsaw puzzle craze of long ago . . . they are still around and just as much fun to work. Learn to knit. Make a list of possible things to do and when you have completed it start doing something that will add pleasure to your life.

Hare's Powers Defined

LANSING (AP) — The secretary of state lacks the authority to investigate charges of election irregularities unless a state or local elections board or official is involved, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Friday.

But the secretary, the state's chief elections officer, is obligated to turn such complaints over to the attorney general or local prosecutor for possible action, Kelley said.

Secretary of State James Hare asked Kelley whether state law requires him to look into complaints of such things as a candidate using a false address or one candidate paying another to run for office.
