in I-75 Hit-and-Run Death

A 33-year-old Pontiac man arrested last night has been charged with manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of a Commerce Township man yesterday.

Dead is George P. Seedorff, 32, of 2105 Union Lake. Police have charged Roy L. Scott of 170 Florence in the death.

In another accident, a Novi man, Warren C. Shumate, 21, of 45350 Pontiac Trail died when a car he was riding in was struck by a train yesterday at Benstein and the Grand Trunk Western Railway near West Maple in Commerce Township.

Pontiac State Police said Seedorff was driving south on I-75 just south of Sashabaw in Independence Township when one of his tires went flat.

He pulled over to a paved trouble lane to change his tire and was unloading plywood from the back of his station wagon when he and his car were struck by Scott's southbound car.

He was believed to be attempting to get at his spare tire when hit.

SEVERELY DAMAGED

Police said the accident occurred about 5:55 p.m. and noted that it was dark.

Scott's 1962 passenger car was severely damaged by the accident and he left the scene by foot.

A passerby noticed the accident and called police. Seedorff, a home modernization businessman, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival.

After the accident police traced Scott's address through his car license plate.

PATROLMAN ARRIVES

Pontiac patrolman Joseph W. Gallardo arrived at Scott's home about 7:50 p.m.

ANOTHER MILESTONE—A specially designed Pontiac Motor Division "clock" which counts millions of cars instead of minutes struck 12 yesterday as the 12-millionth Pontiac was built. Barbara Neundorff (left) and Sharon Hooper, Pontiac employees, are not really clock-watchers—only for this picture.

Pontiac Div. Makes
Its 12-Millionth Car

Pontiac Motor Division passed an important milestone in its 41-year history with the completion of its 12-millionth car yesterday.

While it took 10 years of production to complete the first million, the most recent milestone unit came off the assembly line 19 months after the production of the 11-millionth unit.

John Z. DeLoorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac, and other divisional executives were on hand as the car rolled off the final assembly line in Plant 16.

The milestone unit was a shiny green Tempest LeMans hardtop, one of Pontiac's most popular models.

In a brief statement observing the event, DeLoorean said:

"The production of the 12-millionth Pontiac has been made possible through fine cooperation and teamwork. It is a fine tribute to all of our employees, customers and dealers."

GOAL FOR 1968

Pontiac, the third-best selling car in the industry for the seventh consecutive year, has its sights on the sale of 800,000 units in the 1968 model year.

DeLoorean also said that two factors have contributed importantly to the various production and sales achievements chalked up by Pontiac.

"Of major significance is the outstanding reception that has been given to the new styling and engineering features of our 1968 lineup," DeLoorean said. "And of equal importance has been the quality that we have been able to build into our product through the help of our very effective Zero Defects program."

The 12-millionth Pontiac was a marked contrast to the first Pontiac turned out in the old Oakland Motor Car Co. plant in 1926.

SMALL PLANT

When the first car was built, the plant measured 50,000 square feet, smaller than many Pontiac dealerships today.

A vast expansion and improvement program is currently under way at Pontiac. When it is completed, the plant will measure 9,500,000 square feet, or 190 times its original size.

Similarly, the number of employees has increased from approximately a dozen carriage makers to 20,000 employees embracing hundreds of skills.

"The production milestone is important to many industries other than our own. For instance, in building the 12 million cars, we have used over 20,197,000 tons of steel, over 3,992,000 tons of cast iron and 1,020,000 tons of rubber," DeLoorean said.

Not included in the 12 million production figure are 583,273 Oakland built at Pontiac between 1907 and 1931. Formed in 1907, the Oakland Motor Car Co. joined GM in 1909 and became Pontiac Motor Division when the Oakland car was discontinued.

'Reds Test Orbital Bomb'

ROBERT MCNAMARA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some military strategists fear the Soviets' orbital bomb — if indeed they're on the verge of perfecting one — might some day tempt them into a sneak attack.

But defense officials generally discounted the significance of such a space weapon despite the fact that it could pack a warhead with the equivalent of up to 3 million tons of TNT.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said yesterday the Soviets are apparently testing such a weapon. He left open the possibility that the intelligence reports were wrong and that the tests are actually of a nonmilitary nature.

The United States considered developing such a weapon a few years ago but dropped the project, seeing little value in it, McNamara told a news conference. "I am not concerned," he said. "It does not change the nuclear balance of power."

McNamara said the orbital weapon, which might be operational next year, would be designed to descend suddenly upon American targets.

But he maintained that a new U.S. "over-the-horizon" radar could detect it as quickly as Russian rockets can be detected, that antimissiles could shoot it down and that it probably is very inaccurate.

The defense chief maintained an orbital weapon could not mount a satisfactory attack on U.S. silo-protected missiles, the force designed to discourage an assault in the first place.

But, he acknowledged: "Perhaps the Soviets might feel it could provide a surprise nuclear strike against United States' soft land targets such as bomber bases."

Christmas Truce
in Vietnam Backed

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Mission in Saigon has recommended to Washington that the allied forces in Vietnam observe a Christmas truce for the third year in a row, informed sources said today.

The sources said the mission recommended that the United States not let the Communists get the propaganda jump on them in proposing the ceasefire this year.

Such a Christmas cease-fire will be one of the objects discussed by President Johnson and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker when Bunker flies to Washington next week for consultations, the sources said.

NASA Revises Timetable
for Project Apollo Launches

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The U.S. space agency today revised its Project Apollo launch timetable for the rest of the decade and announced that two manned flights will be attempted next year and five in 1969.

The agency also inserted extra unmanned test flights of the Saturn 5 moon rocket and the Apollo moon landing lunar module into next year's schedule, boosting the unmanned Apollo tests for 1968 to four.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said it was still possible that the initial manned flight to the moon could come with the last Saturn 5 launch scheduled in 1969.

But NASA also said that long-awaited moon shot may be delayed to one of the six manned Saturn 5 launches set for after the turn of the decade.

The schedule revision came as launch crews prepared the first of the 363-foot moon rockets for a crucial unmanned flight test Thursday.

The initial unmanned flight of the Apollo, an earth orbital mission to be made with a Saturn 1 rocket, remains scheduled for next July or August. Astronauts Walter Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham will make the 10-day flight.

The revised 1968 launch schedule:

- First unmanned test flight of the lunar module in earth orbit.
- Second unmanned flight test of the Saturn 5 rocket with an Apollo command and service module combination.
- Third unmanned test of the Saturn 5 with an Apollo spacecraft.
- Second unmanned test flight of the lunar module in earth orbit.

- First manned Apollo earth orbital flight, a 10-day mission set for next July or August.
- First manned Apollo flight with a Saturn 5 rocket. The mission will be a high earth orbital flight and will provide the first manned test of the entire Apollo spacecraft together in a rehearsal for moon flight operations.

"These flights will be flown in the above order and as rapidly as all necessary preparations can be completed," NASA said in a statement.

Reuther Enters
Chrysler Talks

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, having won a record contract from Ford Motor Co., today reenters negotiations with Chrysler Corp., where the union seeks to match or better the Ford pact.

Ford will start Monday producing its first cars since Sept. 6 when contracts expired at all Big Three companies and the union struck Ford.

UAW and Chrysler negotiators are bargaining under a Wednesday midnight deadline set by the union.

Since the union tries to avoid shutting down more than one major producer at a time, union officials are expected to press Ford locals to settle their contract disputes by the Chrysler deadline. Ford announced yesterday that workers would man assembly lines Monday in Dearborn, where Cougars and Mustangs are turned out, and at a truck plant in Mahwah, N.J.

Education Week Events Set

Schools Are in the Spotlight

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of two stories telling parents how to run their child's school during American Education Week.

By DICK ROBINSON
"This education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined!"

Never before have the words of English poet Alexander Pope meant as much as they do today.

"Never before have teachers had so much responsibility for educationally 'pruning' the minds of their students," says John F. Perdue, director of Pontatic school — community and human relations.

"Nor have parents been so charged with the right and responsibility of aiding educators in this noble task."

Teachers and parents throughout the nation will salute this mutual effort to mold a new and greater generation by observing American Education Week beginning tomorrow.

THEME FOR WEEK

More than 30 million parents are expected to visit their youngsters' school during the week, which has the theme of "How Good Are Your Schools?"

In Pontiac, special open-house programs will be held in Central and Northern high schools from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, in the seven junior high schools Wednesday and in the 28 elementary schools Thursday.

Parents may also visit schools during the day to observe actual classroom situations.

American Education Week is held to remind each parent, teacher and student that the job of improving the educational, economic and cultural lot of each upcoming generation is the duty and pleasure of all citizens, with teachers playing a primary role.

Controversial Plane Is Defended by Head of Firm Producing It

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The supersonic F111 is neither hopelessly overpriced nor performing unsatisfactorily, the president of General Dynamics says.

The sleek swing-wing warplane is meeting its primary objectives, it is not behind schedule and it is not caught up in a price increase, he added. Frank W. Davis gave Friday his first public defense of the controversial aircraft since General Dynamics was selected over Boeing in 1962 to produce the plane — first called the TEX.

Opponents contended policies may have entered into the selection and the controversy then led to a congressional investigation.

The dispute continues.

'BACKGROUND SESSION'

To hear the company's side of the story, General Dynamics invited a number of aviation writers from the East to attend what was described as a "background session."

Davis told the writers that critics of the F111 "are for the most part too smart to be inaccurate in their charges, but I would say the impression they are giving is inaccurate."

He called this the "context gap."

"The people who have to make good on the program, the Department of Defense, our people here do not have license to make irresponsible statements or use incorrect information," he said. "Any opponent of the program can say anything he wants."

He said he did not speak up in defense earlier because "our job is building airplanes, not conducting debates... now I think the hardware is able to speak for itself."

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the permanent Senate investigating subcommittee, has called the F111 program a multibillion dollar blunder.

Using charts and film, Davis attempted to dispense this statement, based at least in part on the claim that the Navy version, the F111B, is too overweight to land on carriers.

California Poll Shows LBJ Doing Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private political surveys financed by a mysterious presidential benefactor are providing ammunition for a renewed White House war with national pollsters.

Results of four "confidential" polls, generally favorable to President Johnson, have been leaked to newsmen in recent weeks—the latest on Friday—by individuals with much at stake in Johnson's reelection.

Circulation of the polls, conducted this fall in California, New York, Pennsylvania and New Hampshire, appeared to be part of a planned campaign to offset national surveys casting doubt on Johnson's reelection chances.

Archibald M. Crossley, president of Political Surveys and Analyses Inc., Princeton, N.J., said his firm made the polls under a contract with a private citizen "whom he declined to identify" because of the confidential relationship.

DENIES SPONSORSHIP

The White House has denied sponsorship of the surveys, although Johnson's penchant for favorable polls is well known.

Crossley's freshly leaked California poll shows Johnson trailing New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller by one percentage point, 43 to 42, but leading former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 51 to 34, Michigan Gov. George Romney, 47 to 31, California Gov. Ronald Reagan 53 to 30 and Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy, 48 to 29.

A pair of California polls released six weeks ago, one by the Los Angeles Times and the other by Field Research Corp., showed somewhat similar standings.

Rent, Cities Fund OK Is a Miracle, LBJ Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed a battered appropriations bill funding his rent supplement and model cities programs as a legislative miracle. But he declared House Republicans who tried to kill the programs display a "blindness to human needs."

The two programs were included in an omnibus $10 billion appropriations bill Johnson signed Friday.

The congressional cuts in his social welfare programs have shortened American cities and their residents, Johnson said in a statement. "This represents a disorderly sense of priorities and a blindness to human needs."

He zeroed in on House Republicans, and said their opposition to the programs was so strong that the fact they passed in any form is a "legislative miracle."

LBJ'S CHARGE

"Ninety-three per cent of House Republicans," Johnson said, "voted to recommit and kill rent supplements. Eighty per cent voted to recommit and delete all funds for model cities."

The total appropriation was some $600 million less than Johnson requested last January. About $500 million of the total reduction was cut from the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal.

Because of the cuts, Johnson declared, the government will not be able to give full consideration to many of the 200 applications received under the model cities program. He estimated some 30,000 poor families will not receive the aid contemplated under the full rent supplement program.

Johnson credited the Senate and some of its Republican members with saving the programs in any form. But he said, when the Senate and House conferred to iron out differences in the two bills, "the familiar old voices of reaction and status quo prevailed."

RENT SUPPLEMENTS

The bill the President signed provided $10 million for rent supplements. He had asked for $40 million. The House voted no funds and the Senate approved the full amount.

The President wanted $600 million for the model cities program to help cities rehabilitate blighted areas, but he got only $312 million. The Senate voted $337 million and the House $300 million.

The largest item in the appropriations bill was $6.6 billion for the Veterans' Administration. The bill also financed a score of independent agencies.

Meeting on School Issues Set

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education here has asked the 150-member Citizens Advisory Committee to meet with them Monday at 8 p.m. in Covington Junior High School to discuss the current teacher contract negotiations and to test the reaction for additional school relocation for additional school relocation.

Pell Hollingshead, board president, said the board wants to get an indication from the group on how they would feel about asking for more millage and the chances of its passing.

He said the board does not have enough money to meet Birmingham Education Association (BEA) demands and at the same time support the current school program.

Teachers in the Birmingham

School District are still working under a Circuit Court injunction, and negotiations have made little headway.

The board and the BEA negotiated all day yesterday — the first time they had met together for several weeks.

The only other alternative besides the millage according to Hollingshead, is to go into deficit spending to support both salary demands and the school program.

A PTA questionnaire concerning the negotiations which was directed recently to the board will be answered by the board at the meeting.

Parents Have Role in Student Election

Have you ever heard of pupils having to meet registration requirements to vote in a student council election?

Regulations at Pontiac's Bethune School require parents to bring their parents or guardians to school to register with a City Hall representative in order for their child to be eligible to vote for student council officers.

While parents are registering to vote in city, state and national elections, they will be setting good examples of citizenship for their youngsters who then may register for his own school election at the same time.

The unusual registration is part of a unique development of self concept program in the school. Development of a positive self concept is a new idea in education for raising student achievement.

Even parents who are registered voters must accompany their children to school registration booths and show proof of registration with their registration card.

IMPORTANT DAY

Pupils cannot vote for their classmates on Tuesday unless they come to school with their parents between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday, reminds Bethune Principal Charles W. Townsel.

"The importance of this day cannot be overemphasized," says James Hawkins, assistant director of the self concept program.

"Our boys and girls are trying to become participating members in this complex world but parents have to set an example for them and be registered voters themselves."

Townsel explained the purpose of the elections:

"Because of our concern for the boys and girls at Bethune to be educated to the fullness of their capacities and to grow into adult life able to take their rightful place in society, we would like to extend to them a voice in what goes on in this school."

MUST REGISTER

He advised parents who have not voted in the past two years that they must register again and invites parents to bring along friends who do not have children at Bethune and are not registered.

Some 19 Bethune candidates have been campaigning and making speeches for weeks in preparation for the elections. They are looking forward to voting, school officials say.

It is hoped parents will not disappoint them by not registering.

At the annual meeting of the Cranbrook Foundation at the Cranbrook home, officers were elected for the ensuing year.

They are Henry S. Booth, chairman; Harold A. Fitzgerald, vice chairman; Warren S. Booth, treasurer; Edward H. Lerchen, executive director; Arthur B. Wittliff, secretary; and David Allen, assistant secretary.

The several Cranbrook institutions were reported to be in fine condition and facing the school year with top enrollments.

U.S. Agencies Face Pay Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 11,000 employees of two major federal agencies face the prospect their next payday will be payless.

Congress has yet to approve 1967-68 budgets for the Office of Economic Opportunity, which runs the antipoverty effort, or the Agency for International Development (AID), headquarters for the foreign-aid program.

And the House and Senate are still far apart on terms of a resolution to restore to the two agencies stopgap financing authority that expired Oct. 23.

Their next scheduled payday is Nov. 14.

OEO has more than 2,700 employees. Besides being unable to meet its payroll, it faces a cutoff of funds for allotments to trainees in Job Corps camps and to their families.

Also affected would be living allowances for the Volunteers in Service to America, the VISTA program.

Congo Tells of Clash; '1st With Invaders'

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — Congolese government troops have clashed for the first time with a white and African force which the Congo claims invaded Wednesday from the Portuguese colony of Angola, the official press agency reported today.

A dispatch said the troops skirmished Friday near the Lubudi River town of Mutsahala, along Katanga Province's key rail line, about a third of the way from Angola to Katanga's main city of Lubumbashi.

The invaders seized the railroad town of Kolwezi, then abandoned it before clashing with the government troops, the report said. There was no indication of the outcome of the fighting.

The mercenaries are reported to be both white and African, and U.S. sources in Washington said they were about 150 strong.

At the United Nations, members of the Security Council conferred behind the scenes on Congolese charges that Portugal conspired with the invaders to overthrow the Congo government.

Chrysler Recall Is Announced

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. announced Friday it was calling back 2,678 1968-model cars in four separate recall campaigns.

The firm said it has told the National Traffic Safety Bureau that notices are being sent "to dealers and owners concerning a possible faulty carburetor linkage that may exist on an estimated 978 of 40,767 Plymouth, Dodge and Chrysler models equipped with certain special equipment engines."

The company also said that an improperly installed power steering hose may be close to the exhaust manifold and "may be subject to excessive heat."

The hoses will be replaced on approximately 250 Belvedere, Charger and Coronet models equipped with two-barrel, 383-cubic-inch engines and manual transmissions.

PLATES MISSING

On some 500 Plymouth, Dodge and Chrysler equipped with rear seat shoulder belts, the company said "rear shelf panel reinforcement plates may not have been installed during assembly."

The company also said it would replace bumper jacks, which may have substantial welds and which were distributed with an estimated 950 early 1968 model Dodge Chargers.

2 House Dems Charge State Voting Law 'Goof'

LANSING (UPI)—Two Democrats charged yesterday that thousands of Michigan citizens may not get a chance to vote next year because of a "colossal goof" majority Republicans made in pushing through a revision of election laws last spring.

They also said they would try to get the law changed so those people won't be " disenfranchised" next fall.

According to Reps. Edward E. Mahalak, Romulus, and Joseph M. Snyder, St. Clair Shores, the effect of a two-word amendment is to seal off voter registration at the time when registration drives are in full swing.

This happened, they said, when school elections were added to that section of the election law that requires a 30-day moratorium on registration for an election.

Since school elections are held in June, voters who aren't registered by mid-May would have little more than two weeks during the summer to register for the regular August primary.

'DEFINITELY LIMITED'

State Elections Director Bernard J. Apel agreed. "The time during which people could register is definitely limited as a result of this," he said.

In 1968, the annual school election is June 10. Under the law, all voter registrations must end the fifth Friday before that day, or May 18. Registrations could not start again until June 11 and would be cut off for the regular primary July 5—a period of 18 workdays.

Mahalak said he estimated 7,000 people would try to register in his district alone during that time and that it would be an "impossible task."

Soviet Hopes for a Global Communist Parley Are Dim

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow is swarming with Communist leaders from around the world during the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Bolshevik power, but those who want to use the event for a party leadership has seemed desperate to halt the continual splintering of the movement. The chances for such a conference, for at least another year, are dim. This represents a Soviet defeat.

For the past six months, Moscow has persistently propagated the idea of a global conference. The last such was seven years ago, and the Soviet Union had the support, sometimes reluctant, of Communist parties of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Bulgaria. The idea was to send an invitation to all parties, most 70 parties in East Germany around the world, including the Chinese and those who support them.

LOFTY SCORN

The Chinese were more than likely to treat the invitation and the whole notion with lofty scorn. The Yugoslav, Romanian and Italian Communists were dead set against any attempt to is a thing of the past. The Russians find themselves unable to punish their Chinese tormentors.

The Soviet party has not given up but the effort appeared doomed.

The opponents pointed out that, in the first place, a global meeting at this time would be impossible since the Chinese and their supporters surely would boycott it.

On the other hand, they argued, if the Russians insisted, the anti-Moscow parties headed by the Chinese probably would call their own conference, and that would make the chasm between the two factions wider than ever.

If there should be a formal conference of those parties willing to participate, it would be a meeting of parties already in substantial agreement and thus be meaningless.

The upshot of all this is that the discipline Moscow once was able to impose on other parties hold a meeting on a global basis and now are freely predicting that nothing of the sort can take place before the end of 1968, if then.

What this means, apparently, is that communism as a world movement hardly exists, any more. Indeed, the Chinese are now being accused by Western Communists, typified by Rodolfo Ghioldi of Argentina in a recent Pravda article, of regarding Marxism-Leninism as a purely Russian concept.

"The most typical thesis of this group," Ghioldi wrote, "proceeds on the basis that Marxism-Leninism does not exist, and that if there is any such thing, it is purely a Russian national phenomenon."

This erosion of the movement is going on in all continents, and particularly in areas which are followers of Mao Tse-tung call "the third world," which by his reckoning ultimately will be arrayed against all advanced countries, including the Soviet Union.

BEGAN EARLY

Worried about this tendency, Moscow began early this year trying to line up support for a world conference whose announced purpose would be to condemn Maoist ideas. The Russian leaders in Czechoslovakia but the House inserted the Jan and again at a meeting of all

Court Delays State Spraying

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Disagreeing with a federal court order, the Michigan Court of Appeals Friday granted a temporary restraining order preventing spraying of a powerful pesticide for control of Japanese beetles in southern Berrien County on the Indiana border of Lake Michigan.

The order was sought by the Environmental Defense Fund Inc., a New York group which has filed, in U.S. District Court at Grand Rapids, a suit seeking to halt the use of DDT and another pesticide, Dieldrin, in Lake Michigan waters. As defendants, it named the Michigan Department of Agriculture and nine Michigan cities.

The U.S. District Court had refused earlier in the day to grant the order, but the Michigan Court of Appeals, claiming original jurisdiction in the case because it concerned state officers, ruled differently.

The order prevents spraying until Friday when a hearing will be held to determine whether the order should be made permanent.

SPRAYING PLANS

The DDT was to be used to control Dutch elm disease in Fremont, Muskegon, Greenville, Rockford, East Lansing, Lansing, East Grand Rapids, Holland and Spring Lake.

The State Department of Agriculture, which had begun aerial spraying of 2,975 acres in the Chickaming Township area of Berrien County with dieldrin for control of Japanese beetles, had of said Thursday it intended to continue the program. B. Dale Ball, department director, said his decision was based upon the department's responsibility under law to prevent the spread of insect pests. The spray treatment also has U.S. Department of Agriculture approval.

Medicated enriched feeds produce market size pigs in five instead of eight months and chickens in nine weeks instead of 15.

Hike in Exports Set by Chrysler of Australia Ltd.

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Chrysler Australia Ltd. plans to treble exports in the next five years to 12,000 units annually, A. Newton Cole, Chrysler's Far East vice president, said Friday.

Cole, with other top executives, is here for the opening of a multimillion-dollar Chrysler engine foundry at Lonsdale.

Virgil E. Boyd, Chrysler president, said the export market for Australian-made cars is very promising.

VC to Free 3 GIs, but Not to Authorities

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietcong says it plans to release three captured U.S. Army sergeants, but apparently not to American authorities. It said they would be turned over either to their families or "progressive American people's organizations."

The Vietcong announced the decision to release the soldiers Friday, but gave no indication of when they would be set free. U.S. authorities in Saigon and in Washington said they had not "been returned to U.S. control."

In a Liberation Radio broadcast, the Communists said the prisoners were being released "to answer the good will of progressive American people." From the Communist broadcast, the Pentagon said it believed the men involved were M. Sgt. Daniel L. Pitzer, captured in South Vietnam Oct. 29, 1963 when his outpost was overrun.

M. Sgt. Edward R. Johnson, captured July 21, 1964 while serving as an adviser with a South Vietnamese unit ambushed by the Vietcong.

S. Sgt. James E. Jackson Jr., listed as missing since July 5, 1966, the Communists said the Vietcong as a Negro and the broadcast said the Americans were being freed in part "to display apidarity and support for the just struggle of the U.S. Negroes in the United States."

All three, the broadcast said, "have sincerely repented for the crimes they committed against the South Vietnamese people."

YWCA 'Fire' Is Heart-Warming

An event of more than passing interest occurred recently with the burning of the mortgage owned by the Pontiac YWCA.

It was a $150,000 fire, but one that left all concerned smiling and happy. The indebtedness was incurred to purchase the former BEAUDETTE home on West Huron and remodel it into functional quarters for the social agency that had been housed on Franklin Boulevard since its inception 23 years ago.

The liquidation of the mortgage was achieved in the short period of 27 months after some 240 contributors had pledged the money needed for the project. Significantly, there was not a nickel's "shrinkage" between the total pledged and the funds realized.

Membership in the Pontiac organization, which offers classes ranging from Art to Yoga, currently stands at 1,789. Membership growth has accelerated since the agency's move to its new home, reflecting a 53 per cent increase over the past five years.

The Press warmly commends the officers and members of the local YWCA, and the citizenry who have supported it, on the splendid progress indicated. Fittingly enough, it complements the centennial anniversary of the national organization now being celebrated.

Disunity Achille's Heel of U. S. Vietnam Venture

Undoubtedly, Hanoi derived encouragement from the march on the Pentagon and the spate of antiwar demonstrations that preceded it.

But before we place all the blame for the continuation of the war on the peacekeepers, as many are quick to do, we might consider a couple of other contributing candidates.

For example, the fact that 18 out of 19 Republican governors present at the recent National Governors Conference balked at voting a resolution of support for the Administration's Vietnam policies.

Or the warning from the Post Office Department that an economy proposal by House Democrats would mean the end of second, third and fourth-class mail and the reduction of first-class deliveries to four days a week.

It may be too much to expect the North Vietnamese to understand the freedom to dissent is one of the great strengths of a democracy, or to appreciate the exigencies of popular, partisan politics.

But the possibility of the richest and most advanced nation in the world being unable to deliver adequate mail service because the stubborn resistance of one of the poorest and least developed countries is heading it toward bankruptcy must have Ho Chi Minh chuckling in his wispy beard.

And for a lot of Americans it has widened the credibility gap to the dimensions of the Grand Canyon.

Nation's Growth Generated by Electric Power

The living standards of a people and the industrial capacity of modern nations can be measured in terms of electric power production. That being the case, it is significant that the United States, with only one-sixteenth of the world's population, has more than one-third of the world's power capacity.

From this high plateau, the path of electric power consumption leads sharply upward with demand expected to double every 10 years.

With this indication of what the Nation will need in the way of electric service, it is fortunate that the industry carrying the responsibility of providing it has not, at least to this point, been limited by the red tape of a Government planning agency.

If the electric industry had, for example, been forced to adhere to official growth projections in the case of atomic power, development would not be where it is today.

In 1966, the Atomic Energy Commission forecast that by 1980 nuclear generating plants would supply power for approximately 110 million people in the United States. About a year later, it raised this estimate to 150 million people.

Fortunately the development of atomic power will not be pegged to this or any other predetermined figure. Several hundred investor-owned, publicly-regulated electric companies will be competing for business with other energy suppliers. They will be looking for ways to generate larger sources of electric energy more economically. Atomic power will figure importantly in this picture.

It will be a picture in which electric energy in future years will play an ever more central role in furthering the living standards and productive capacity of the American people.

U.S. in a Convulsion Over the War

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—This country is going through a kind of convulsion over the war, although all American were spanned unhappy and gloomy critics when they began to bog down, like this one.

The origin probably has not been in the last 10 years, on a road that began in the 1950s, when young white people from the North went South to help Negroes wipe out segregation. Some were beaten, some were jailed, some were killed.

But they had justice on their side in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing school segregation. They varied their tactics in testing the segregation laws still in effect, as they rode segregated buses, engaged in sit-ins, and so on.

The Rev. Martin Luther King's peaceful marches were an extension of this form of protest on a vast scale. But achievement through protest carries with it a sense of power.

NEW TURNS

The search for power grew and, as could have been expected, took new turns. For instance, on college campuses youths began to assert themselves against college authority.

No longer were the issues as clear cut as they were in protests against injustice to Negroes. No doubt often, if not most of the time, the college youths' protests were not against injustice but had a root in personal problems.

This seems like a reasonable explanation since so many of the campus protests have been brainless. Then came the two Negro extremists, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown. They didn't have thought-out plans or programs.

Their chief weapon was the big mouth, shouting "Black Power" and calling for violence. They found a responsive audience among Negroes who felt frustrated by their dilapidated economic condition and by white indifference.

CRIMINAL RIOTS

This also opened the door for Negro criminals who were just waiting for a chance or an excuse to perform. Increasingly, Negro riots spread across the country.

Meanwhile, more and more members of Congress added to the national confusion about the war—some of them in 1964 had approved Johnson's waging it if he thought necessary—by criticizing the government's handling of it.

On top of all this America's so-called intellectuals have teamed up against the war. Some of them by intellectual processes may have arrived at logical reasons for being critical.

Some of them are probably joining the chorus because they think it is the intellectually stylish thing to do and fear the condemnation of their colleagues if they say otherwise.

Seeing their professors critical of government is an encouragement to students to be critical of school government and eventually national government.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

President Washington on October 3, 1789, designated "Thursday the 26th day of November next to be devoted by the people of these states to the service of that great and Glorious Being."

Much of his proclamation is pertinent now and for all time. It stated, "... that we may unite in most humble offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of nations and beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions, to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually, to render our national government a blessing to all the people, by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully obeyed, to protect and guide all Sovereigns and Nations and to bless them with good government, peace and concord. To promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best."

Confident Living:

Techniques for Solving Problems

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"I've never seen anybody work so hard for so long on a plane trip," intruded my seat companion. "What in the world are you doing?"

"Preparing a sermon for next Sunday morning," he exclaimed.

"A sermon?" "What's it about?"

"Want me to try it out on you?" I grinned.

"Why not?" he said. "I'm an old sinner. Yeah, give it a workout on me. What are you going to say?"

"Well, my main point is that the Bible offers scientific techniques by which any one using them can live happy and successful lives."

Ignoring the man's perplexed expression I continued. "To get this fact across I'm going to deal with two common problems: first, how to have confidence in yourself; second, where to get what it takes to overcome difficulties."

It was evident my companion was gaining interest. "I suppose I'm the smallest congregation you ever had," he said, "but the good Lord must have brought us together because what you are saying is just what I need to hear."

As pointed out to my receptive audience of one, the basis for confidence in yourself is simply to realize that you are a child of God and that "the kingdom of God is within you."

This means within you is a rich vein of understanding, insight and strength for surmounting difficulties and attaining goals. When a person uses Bible teachings in practical situations he gets proof positive of their validity.

For building up self-confidence nothing surpasses the technique of affirmation. This consists of saying to yourself affirmative truths such as: "The kingdom of God is within me"; or, "If God be for me, who can be against me?" or, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

Also compose some positive affirmations in your own words. For example, you might say to yourself: "God is now filling me with courage and self-assurance."

Along with confidence something else is needed, equally basic, and that is to draw power from outside ourselves to help us through when things are difficult. No one has enough power within himself to cope with the grim problems of existence without supportive strength from without.

Many people repeatedly defeat themselves by insisting on handling all problems on their own. We all do have a measure of personal power but situations will come which we cannot handle without supplementary power from an outside source.

A procedure which the Bible suggests is simplicity itself. It consists of creative asking. "Ask, and it shall be given you." Acknowledge honestly that present difficulties are too much for you. Affirm that you will accept whatever outcome God wills, and ask for the power you need.

"Cast thy burden upon the Lord," says Psalm 55, "and He shall sustain thee." This works — really works. It is in no sense purely theoretical.

In a Santa Fe hotel a stranger walked up to me and with a smile pulled from his wallet something I had written. He said, "This one sure is on the ball. You say here that if a person humbly asks God for power he will receive it. Well, I ought to know."

"I used to have an outside drinking problem and was an alcoholic. It had me really liked. It broke up my marriage and was ruining my health. I tried to stop but couldn't."

"Finally I joined Alcoholics Anonymous. They said, 'There's no use fighting this. It's going to keep you locked until you turn it over to God.'"

"I put myself and the whole problem in God's hands. Then I got the power. I have been dry now for 11 years. But drinking wasn't the only thing," he continued. "I had other problems, too. And I figured that if turning my drinking problem over to God worked, that the same procedure would work in other things as well. It works. I get all the power I need."

Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Saturday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of 1967 with 57 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1842, 38-year-old Abraham Lincoln was married to Mary Todd in Springfield, Ill.

In 1918, the Austrian and Hungarian armies accepted World War I peace terms dictated by the allies.

In 1931, the League of Nations cited Japan for willful aggression in Manchuria.
In 1952, 20 years of Democratic administration ended when Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was elected president.

Voice of the People:

'Is Captain Robb Better Than Other Servicemen?'

My son is stationed in Bong Son, Vietnam. He and thousands of boys like him are daily targets of the Vietcong. What makes Capt. Charles Robb any better than my son and the other boys over there fighting? My son is also engaged, although not to Lynda Bird Johnson, and no one considered this of importance when he received his order for Vietnam. Every mother knows the only reason Capt. Charles Robb will not go to Vietnam is because he is engaged to Lynda Johnson. Her father does not wish his daughter to be unhappy or to have the worry of Capt. Robb taking part in a war that should be stopped.

President Johnson will have two sons-in-law who are hiding from the war in Vietnam. Even though my son is proud of his country, and especially his uniform, I am truly ashamed to be a part of a nation that uses such a lame excuse.

I hope mothers of true Americans rise up in force against such injustice. There must be a great deal lacking in our government to permit such an act to be thrown in the faces of people who pray their sons will come home safely.

Questions Need for Ambulance to Speed

I saw an ambulance drive past the post office and I estimated its speed at 60 miles an hour. Arrival at General Hospital at 60 miles an hour or 30 miles an hour would probably represent a difference of 30 seconds.

Must we endanger several hundred to cut half a minute off an emergency arrival—which probably didn't get any attention for several minutes, anyway.

WONDERING

'Facts on Unions' Wealth Raises Questions'

An estimated 15 million union members pay $75 million per month dues. Total union wealth at present is $4 billion. Union pensions, trusts and real estate holdings are tax free. This wealth is invested in hotels, motels, banks, transit lines, apartment buildings and insurance firms. There must be large returns from these investments. With all this, why is it necessary for the union to ask for $25 more a month to finance strikes?

What benefits are the individual members getting from the union? There must be checks and balances between labor and management, but labor unions are exploiting the members more than management ever did.

MRS. BEECHER FAWCETT
5069 EAGLE LAKE DR., WATERFORD

Will the factory employee be coerced into making an even larger contribution to the "miscellaneous fund" during future contract negotiations? Reuther said that he should make this sacrifice to help fellow workers at Ford (and now Chrysler). What sacrifices did this great leader make to further "cause"? I doubt that anyone believes that his 50 per cent in pay is of any real significance. Reuther's only concern is the welfare of Walter P. Reuther.

Gains made during the current negotiations will be lost to the long, unnecessary strikes. To Reuther's way of thinking, he and his followers are a band of angels, while management is Satan himself. To Reuther and his demands for $25 of his wages plus 50 per cent of what I earn on an outside job, I say "nuts." Hades will freeze solid before I will pay one cent.

'These Youths Will Be a Credit to America'

Anyone disillusioned in the youth of today should attend the joint spectacular held each year by the vocal departments of the two Pontiac high schools. Their performance is magnificent.

As long as there are young men and women willing to work hard under expert direction, with no thought of remuneration other than the feeling of pride in a job well done, all Americans can be assured these adults of the future will be a credit to their country.

Raises Questions About College Education

What is happening in our colleges today? Moms and dads think their children are getting the best knowledge that money can buy. We taxpayers should see what kind of teachers we are employing to teach our young people. Most parents have taught their children good values and how to live in our modern society. When they start college, who knows what is drilled into them? How do these teachers get into colleges to teach? Is there such a shortage of good teachers and professors that we have to have this type of campus?

A CONCERNED STUDENT

Question and Answer

I've been informed I'm eligible to join D.A.R. (Daughters of the American Revolution). What is this organization?

NO NAME PLEASE

REPLY

It's a patriotic organization for women who can trace their personal ancestry directly back to a soldier or patriot (man or woman) of the Revolution. Members must be able to give all dates and places of births and deaths and dates of all marriages for husbands and wives from her back to and including the Revolutionary soldier. One of the organization's main projects is total support of two mountain schools — Kate Duncan Smith school and Tamassee school, as well as contributing to five others. For further information, you may call Miss Sarah Van Hoesen Jones, Registrar for the General Richardson chapter of N.S.D.A.R., at 651-7821. A booklet is available: "What the Daughters Do."

A Junior Editors Quiz About DREAMS

QUESTION: What causes dreams?

ANSWER: In recent years scientists, using an electric apparatus which records brain waves and eye movements of sleeping persons have been studying dreams. They have found that everybody dreams about four to six times a night, each dream lasting for about 15 to 20 minutes.

Dreams are hallucinations, sets of ideas which do not actually exist but usually seem real to the dreamer. Two separate activities of the mind influence our dreams.

Many things we see or hear during waking hours—things we don't understand but are curious about—a strange face, an unusual sound, become lodged in our minds and ultimately appear in our dreams.

Our underlying mental state and feelings, hopes, fears and ambitions also create these hallucinations.

These two diverse processes mix and result in a confused playlet in which we act out a part.

Timmy, in the picture, had been worrying about his school grades; then he saw a bat. The illustration shows how these ideas became tangled in a dream, from which he is very happy to escape.

Reds Said Trying for a Front Near Cambodia

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer

LOC NINH, Vietnam — The Communists may be trying to establish a "second front" in Vietnam with their drawn-out military offensive in the rubber-growing district of Loc Ninh which faces the Cambodian frontier.

That is the consensus of many military observers. They are beginning to discount the initial theory that the Communists were merely seeking a quick propaganda victory when they began to attack this isolated district headquarters last week.

Like the demilitarized zone, the "first front" of the Vietnam war, Loc Ninh is in a remote region with terrain favorable to the enemy, and a sanctuary nearby, this time in Cambodia.

The North Vietnamese have succeeded in sucking a whole U.S. Marine Division into a holding action along the DMZ, the pounding forward Leatherneck outposts daily with mortars and artillery.

Almost as many U.S. infantrymen will be committed to Loc Ninh if the battle continues much longer. Already, five U.S. battalions are deployed in the area.

CONFLICTING ASSESSMENTS

U.S. intelligence officers find prisoners and documents captured so far give conflicting assessments of the enemy aims. One group of prisoners said their mission was to "take Loc Ninh at any cost." Another group said their mission was to "engage Americans in battle."

A third said the Loc Ninh battles heralded the beginning of a "winter-spring offensive."

Whatever the true reason, the Communists have shown un-ual tenacity and determination around Loc Ninh.

U.S. authorities said 800 Communists have been killed in the past week in a series of actions, including casualties inflicted by air and artillery.

ALLIED LOSSES

Allied losses were given as 11 Americans killed and 68 wounded; 23 Vietnamese killed and 74 wounded.

U.S. officers said all reports Friday indicated the Communists were still "in an offensive stance."

This stance included the presence of the 272nd Regiment, a sister regiment to the 273rd in the 9th Division. U.S. intelligence indicates that 70 per cent of this formerly full Vietnamese division is now composed of North Vietnamese.

The North Vietnamese 7th Division has been reported south of Loc Ninh in Tay Ninh Province, but there was no indication the Communists intended to commit it to the battle.

The battle area is part of the Communist "Zone 8" military region, a designation given in late 1966 to the area between and to the north of the two main southern Communist military areas — War Zones C and D.

Since early this year the Communists have been building up their strength, particularly in the past two months.

U.S. intelligence officers were aware of the buildup and it was evident that, sooner or later, American troops would have to tangle with the Communists. The Communists decided to move first.

Binh Long Province in which Loc Ninh is situated, is one of the poorest in Vietnam despite its rubber output. Only 80,000 people live in the whole province, 20,000 of these in Loc Ninh. Most work on rubber plantations. The province is at the end of a Communist supply line that GIs call the Sihanouk trail. Prince Norodom Sihanouk is the chief of state of avowedly neutral Cambodia. The supply line runs from the Ho Chi Minh trail through eastern Laos down the Cambodian border. North Vietnamese prisoners captured in recent days say they infiltrated into Vietnam through Cambodia.

ACROSS THE BORDER

U.S. intelligence men believe that the regiments of the Communist 8th Division are based in South Vietnam, but receive supplies and reinforcements from across the border.

The Loc Ninh region is of commercial value to the Communists because of the large rubber holdings. The town is on a road from Saigon, Highway 13. But there would seem to be little strategic value to the Communists to occupy the town or the Special Forces camp. They have complete freedom of movement in the jungled countryside.

There seems little doubt that the Communists continue their offensive they will continue to take massive casualties. The United States is beefing up its artillery and B52 raids are launched frequently.

So far, allied forces have been largely unharmed.

WILLING TO SACRIFICE

Military sources point out, however, that the Communists have always proved willing to take maximum casualties if they figure the sacrifice is worth it. The U.S. Marines were lured to the DMZ at terrific cost to the Communists.

U.S. Marine officers agree that the Communist have succeeded. U.S. forces have been drained from the population centers along the northern coast, with a resulting setback to the pacification program.

American forces are already fully extended in the 3rd Corps Area, of which Loc Ninh is a part. Continued fighting around Loc Ninh could constitute a strain on U.S. troops.

Use Library's Reference

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is each week to look up these words in the dictionaries in your library? You'll learn a lot about the reference section and a lot about the words.)

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Now that you are familiar with the circulating section of your library, let's find out about the reference section. What materials are in it?

When and how do you use them?

You recall that reference books can be used only in the library because they contain information that should be accessible to everyone, and at a moment's notice.

Dictionaries, encyclopedias, atlases and almanacs are examples of reference books. They are found together in one section of the library.

You use these reference books either to collect or to check facts. They are storehouses of information — names, dates, places, words, etc.

Consequently, you should not expect to spend a leisurely afternoon browsing around the reference section. When you go there, you want to find answers to specific questions, quickly.

For example, you will find a collection of dictionaries in the reference section. There will be English dictionaries, foreign language dictionaries, foreign language dictionaries and biographical dictionaries.

Now is the time to bring out the vocabulary lists you've been keeping for each course. Why not set aside a certain period

Dictionaries tell you how to pronounce a new word, how to divide it into syllables, its derivation and its definitions.

Which brings us to another reference book for words — the thesaurus. The thesaurus helps you choose the exact word to express your thought. For every word it contains, it lists numerous synonyms and antonyms.

Using the dictionary and the thesaurus will increase your vocabulary and knowledge. You will be able to spell more accurately and write more maturely.

Now consider the encyclopedia. Your library has a general encyclopedia and, perhaps, several on special subjects. They are great for verifying facts and for getting a general summary of a subject.

Reading an encyclopedia article is often a good place to begin when you are trying to choose a topic for a paper. Sometimes these articles are followed by a list of books on the subject. You might look up those books if you want to do further reading.

Finally, don't forget the almanac and the atlas. If you have trouble with information that is presented visually, pick a map in the atlas and for practice try describing it in words. Better still, you could even outline and summarize it.

PLAYING DETECTIVE

There are many, many kinds of books for reference in the library, too many to discuss here. By now you should be aware that using the reference section is like playing detective.

Follow your clues. Collect interesting facts to bring up in class or tuck away for a test. Without realizing it, you'll be building a better vocabulary, collecting a lot of background information and writing better papers.

Music to Open the 'Big Day' for Muscovites

MOSCOW (AP) — Muscovites are going to be awakened at dawn next Tuesday by music in the streets opening the Soviet Union's celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The music will come from radio loudspeakers, bands tuning up for the big Red Square parade, and individuals out playing guitars and accordions.

The city will be all in red, the color of communism. Red flags will stand in rows along the tops of buildings, red banners will hang down their sides. Placards proclaiming the wonders of the Communist system will be posted along the streets — and all will have red backgrounds.

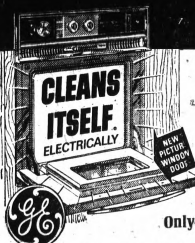

Many Muscovites will turn out to see preparations for the parade at 10 a.m. But they will be indoors when the time comes for their leaders to ascend Lenin's Tomb for the ceremony.

The parade will cover only the short distance across Red Square, where it will be seen by a few thousand carefully selected spectators. For the rest of the city — and country — it is a television event.

Afterward, starting in the early afternoon, families will assemble for the big feast that has become traditional for this national holiday. That will go on for hours, featuring mamochka's (mom's) specialties and all sorts of vodka.

Kentucky Gubernatorial Vote Is Vote on Viet Policy

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky gubernatorial election Tuesday may yield the first concrete evidence of whether President Johnson's Vietnam policy has reduced his popularity, as recent polls indicate.

Louie B. Nunn, a 43-year-old country lawyer from south Kentucky, is trying to become the state's first Republican governor in 20 years, partly by broadening the campaign to include national issues.

His thesis: A vote for him is a repudiation of Johnson's policies.

"Tired of the war?" a campaign slogan asks. "Vote Nunn."

Democrat Henry Ward, a 58-year-old former highway commissioner, ignores Vietnam, and all other national questions, to concentrate on state issues.

NOT IN TOUCH

While Nunn has imported California Gov. Ronald Reagan and other GOP leaders for his campaign, the Democrats act as though they haven't been in touch lately with any party officials outside Kentucky.

A month ago, unbiased observers regarded the contest as a walkaway for Ward, who is supported by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, ineligible by law to succeed himself, and generously financed.

Democratic tacticians now concede privately the race has tightened.

Jack McDonald, national chairman of the Young Republicans, has called the gubernatorial contest the No. 1 election in the country this year.

"In 1966 (congressional and state elections) the voters said no to LBJ," he said. "The question is whether Kentucky voters will say no to him in 1967."

VICTIM OF THE TIMES

If this view is correct, Ward is a victim of the times—a state symbol of what voters purportedly resent on a national level.

Ward's answer to the potential danger is to try to limit the arena to Kentucky—repeating his claimed record of honesty and efficient public service for 30 years.

"My opponent's talent to stir up bitterness is one talent I do not possess," Ward said.

He accuses Nunn of "racial prejudice and religious bigotry" and of intensifying "dishonest and disgraceful tactics." Last spring, Nunn was accused of stirring prejudice against Roman Catholics, Jews and Negroes in his campaign for the Republican nomination. He emphatically denied it.

Nunn defeated Jefferson County Judge Marlow W. Cook, a Catholic, who supports him against Ward.

PROPERTY TAXES

The one state issue which seems to concern most voters is the court-ordered change a few years ago to 100 per cent property assessment, a move which has resulted in increased local taxes.

Both Ward and Nunn have promised to hold the line on taxes, but Ward seems to be at a disadvantage in this respect because of his connection with the state administration.

New Fighting in 2 Areas of Central S. Viet

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen fought back against attacks by tough North Vietnamese regulars in South Vietnam's central highlands today, and American spokesmen said the mortar and small arms clashes were the heaviest in the mountainous jungle region in three months.

American tactical fighter-bombers flew missions all day in an attempt to jar the Communists from entrenched positions along a ridge line, headquarters reported.

The new fighting in two spots near the corner of the Laos and Cambodian borders, about 210 miles north of Saigon, and another engagement some 100 miles to the south came as the Vietcong stilled their assault on Loc Ninh for the first time in a week.

U.S. spokesmen said a multi-battalion North Vietnamese force struck one 4th Infantry Division battalion Friday and continued a mortar and small arms attack today. About 10 miles to the west, helicopters lifted out an American patrol after a skirmish. The Communists then hit the rest of a second battalion with mortar fire.

SATURATION RAID

Big B52 bombers joined the push and launched a saturation raid on a suspected Communist base camp and rocket and artillery sites.

A U.S. officer in the field said American casualties were light in the initial stages of the fighting because the infantrymen were well dug in and had good air support. The 4th Division reported four Americans killed and six wounded while the North Vietnamese suffered four dead in the twin engagement at Dak To.

About 100 miles to the south, another battalion came under mortar and ground attacks. Infantrymen returning from a sweep of the area after contact broke off today claimed finding 17 enemy bodies. U.S. casualties were put at one dead and six wounded.

In the Mekong Delta, a new Army-Navy search-and-destroy mission fanned out in area about 58 miles southwest of Saigon, but encountered no opposition, the command said.

The operation began Thursday but was not reported until today for security reasons. pilots flew 113 missions, including the third raid this week on a surface-to-air missile site set up to defend Red positions against U.S. B52 bombers just above the Demilitarized Zone. Marine pilots reported a large secondary explosion following the attack.

Monroe Reactor Snag Is Found

MONROE, La. — A piece of metal a company official said looks "like a beer can" has kept Detroit Edison's $120 million nuclear reactor in Monroe shut down for the past 13 months.

The plant, which has produced electricity only once — during a 32-hour test period — in its 10 years, won't be able to resume operations for another four or five months, plant manager Walter J. McCarthy said yesterday.

Company officials said the metal object is caught in the reactor's works. Edison engineers are still studying ways to remove it.

PAINT, REPAIR HOUSE — Some 20 members of First Christian Church got together to paint and repair a home on South Paddock for someone unable to do the work himself. Shown on one side of the building are the Rev. and Mrs.

Larry Bobbitt, pastor and his wife, and Mrs. Gary L. Kunes of 2665 Penna (center). The house is in the urban renewal area.

Paint, Repair Project

New Group Helps Needy

When you're brand new you efforts to see that buildings are projects like this it would help some form of rehabilitation and have to try harder, Bobbitt brought up to code and re-our code enforcement and re-habilitation program," he said. Paddock.

Just out of Yale Divinity School, the Rev. Larry Bobbitt, has only been pastor at the First Christian Church, 858 West Huron, since July.

In that time, though, he has been able to band together a group which promises to make itself known. A young adult fellowship group of the church, it consists of some members 18 to 30 who are interested in social togetherness but also Christian deeds.

Their first was completed within the last two weeks. The group got together for a paint-in and the project proved so "hot" they are planning much more.

The paint-in consisted of the members helping a man who was partially incapacitated because of a back injury.

Although his house needed some repair he was unable to climb ladders or do heavy work involved in painting a house.

PURCHASE PAINT

Putting together their own funds to purchase paint, they got together one Saturday afternoon and completed the task.

The house at 271 S. Paddock now stands bright and tall with new paint improving not only the house's image but brightening up the neighborhood somewhat.

Although Rev. Bobbitt said the group is seeking no recognition and almost refused to talk with a reporter from the press, officials at city hall consider the project unique.

UR AREA

The dwelling is in the area, where the urban renewal department is making great

The urban renewal department helped the fellowship group choose the house for their first project. They provided a list of dwellings in the UR area which could stand

"We are satisfied with the results," pastor Bobbitt said. The organization is now trying other neighborly deeds.

A group of the men have contacted an Oakland County Home for orphaned children and are planning visits to give the youngsters some friendly contact with the adult outside world. It's like a Big Brother project.

Some of the women, mostly wives of members, are planning to provide physical therapy as part of programs at local hospitals.

They plan to work on Saturdays helping feed patients and doing other tasks.

PLAY NEEDED

The fellowship group also believes that some play is necessary and are planning a hayride and other social events.

Meetings of the group are not all conducted at the church. Some are held in members' homes in order to adopt an informal, togetherness attitude.

Rev. Mr. Bobbitt believes the whole fellowship project is important for the church. "It affords an opportunity for husbands and wives to be together in a variety of social and church situations," he said.

JOASH CHEST — During the worship service tomorrow at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Pastor Maurice Shackell will hold the Joash Chest while members place their pledge cards in the chest. The origin of the chest is described in the Bible, II Kings 12: 7-9.

Citywide Revival Starting Monday

Dr. T. E. Humphrey, president of Burlington Camp Meeting and pastor of West Lansing Church of God, will conduct the Citywide Union Revival Monday through Nov. 17 at Friendship Baptist Church, Williams at Lorraine Court.

Meetings are slated for 7 p.m.

The program committee consists of the Rev. M. M. Scott, president of Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship; the Rev. Lee A. Gragg of Trinity Baptist Church; the Rev. Roy C. Cummings of Messiah Baptist Church and the Rev. J. R. Flemings, assistant pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church and secretary of the Fellowship.

The Rev. Alvin Hawkins is host pastor.

Music is under the direction of Mrs. Gloria Rogers, president of Citywide Union choirs.

Swiss Student at Central High

"We like better to make sports ourselves than to watch our friends making it, and we don't have this kind of school spirit," Felix Rudolf, an exchange student at Pontiac Central High School from Switzerland.

Before returning home in July he will visit New York City and Washington, D.C. with other members of the International Christian Youth Exchange.

One thing he misses are the ski slopes of Switzerland. He says our slopes aren't very high but then he hasn't seen the Rockies.

Besides skiing Felix likes swimming, soccer and cross country running.

There are two brothers, Paul and Albert.

"Schools here are much easier than ours, even for me for whom English is a foreign language. The relation between teachers and students are more like friends, than like between professor and student, as it is in Europe," Felix explained.

Speaking of churches Felix said "the church here is much more active than the church of my hometown. It is a great experience for me to be in Central Methodist Church.

"The relations between girls and boys are quite different. Here a girl goes much more to a boy than a Swiss girl would do. The percentage of good looking girls in Central High School is higher than in the school I went to in Switzerland."

FOOTBALL FUN — Felix Rudolf an exchange student from Meisterschwanden, Switzerland is having fun learning to throw and kick the football. Fond of participating in sports, Felix, a student at Pontiac Central High School, is anxious to master football before returning home. He makes his home here with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crossman of Sylvan Lake.

HOUSE TO HOUSE — Deborah Heichel (left) of 2131 Teggardine, White Lake Township, receives literature from Mrs. Floyd Patton of 627 Sharon, Waterford Township.

Deborah will make calls on families telling them of Jehovah's Witnesses Bible classes and inviting them to attend.

Need for Giving Youth Hope

"The trend of our times is to become a follower. To be in the group regardless of the danger to one mentally or physically is seen by the usage of drugs, goof balls, marijuana and glue sniffing," so said Edward Thornton at the conference of Jehovah's Witnesses over the weekend.

Sessions were held in Waterford Kettering High School.

Thornton went on to say, "There is the need of giving youth a hope, a reason for living, a reason for remaining moral."

"Deborah Heichel, a graduate of Waterford Kettering High School in June has conformed her life to God."

"God's Word, studying it and applying its counsel has made me secure and confident in the future," she said. "This is why I have no desire to follow the fads and trends of today."

Since her graduation Miss Heichel has been given a special ministerial assignment by the Watchtower Society, due to her zeal and efforts in helping others to study God's Word, Thornton said.

GIVES 100 HOURS
Miss Heichel explained: "My assignment requires me to spend 100 hours or more in the public ministry spending half of the time in house-to-house visitation, and the other half conducting free home Bible studies."

"In addition," she added, "I have to spend anywhere from five to 10 hours each week in personal study and attend five ministerial meetings."

Deborah offered the advice that association with other believers in God has been a strong protection against the temptation common to youth.

Nazarene Church Marks Anniversary

A Decade of Progress will be celebrated at the Williams Lake Church of the Nazarene, 2840 Airport, Waterford Township tomorrow. Dr. E. W. Martin, superintendent of Eastern Michigan District, will be guest speaker at 11 a.m. and again at 6:30 p.m.

At 10 a.m. the Church School will meet under the direction of Gerald Fredericks, director of Christian Education. Prior to the evening sermon the choir will present a concert directed by Jerry Kirk.

The first service of the congregation at which 33 were present was held on Nov. 3, 1957 in the Williams Lake Elementary School under the leadership of the Rev. Paul Coleman, pastor until 1966.

And now the congregation is ready to build again, this time a new educational facility. Richard Surri is serving as building committee chairman. The Rev. Joseph D. Biscoe, Jr. is pastor.

Women in Pink—Those Who 'Care'

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble
Mrs. Violet Rose, a Pontiac resident of Lourdes Nursing Home, gazes across the property through the window wall of the dining room. Volunteers serve by escorting wheelchair patients or wheeled walks around the building and grounds.

A neat pink outfit is the distinguishing mark of the corps of volunteer workers at Lourdes Nursing Home on Watkins Lake Road.

One hundred and fifty people who "care" are enrolled in the volunteer program which has been in operation about two years.

The service they give is determined by their own interests and talents.

In patient care, they may feed those unable to feed themselves, or write letters, shop, move wheelchair patients about to give them a change of scene, or just visit.

Volunteer RNs, LPNs, nurse aides and occupational therapists work under the supervision of the director of nursing, Marie Hickey, RN.

Volunteers work in the kitchen, laundry and dining room. Some do clerical work for the Nursing Home or the Mensola Guild.

FUND RAISING

Fund raising is an important aspect of volunteer work. Many who cannot come in person to serve the resident patients devote some of their free time to this from their homes.

There are three groups of volunteers: Mensola Guild of Lourdes; Lourdettes (student volunteers); and non-affiliated persons who simply wish to contribute regularly of their time and talents.

During the past year, they achieved the impressive total of 6,000 hours of volunteer service.

Tokens of appreciation are awarded yearly; caps to those who have served 50 hours; pins to volunteers who record 200 or more hours in the service of others. These awards are made at an annual ceremony and brunch.

The home is operated by the Sisters of St. Dominic, under Administrator Sister M. Benedicta, O. P.

The original property was willed to the order by the Aaron Mendelson family through the late Cardinal Mooney; and first became a 12 patient convalescent home known as Mensola, in honor of the Jewish donors.

Patients are accepted regardless of race, creed or financial responsibility.

Volunteers are also of diverse denominational and national backgrounds, and are always needed and welcomed on the basis of what they are able to do or wish to do.

Return Address Correct on Personal Mail?

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Many of you well-organized women will be addressing your Christmas cards shortly, so, the following question and answer may be helpful to you.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct to place your return address on birthday and Christmas cards sent first-class mail? A friend of mine feels it is in poor taste and that the address would act as a reminder to send a return card, especially at Christmas.

My understanding is that all first-class mail requires a return address, and no one should read anything into this other than post office regulations. — Helene

Dear Helene: With the exception of wedding invitations, all first-class correspondence should have a return address. On formal invitations and personalized stationery, it is printed or engraved on the back flap; on all other envelopes it should be written in the upper left corner.

This complies with the request of the Post Office Department, and pertains to Christmas cards, greeting cards, and all personal and business correspondence. Furthermore, whenever possible, include the zip code.

A compromise on a wedding invitation envelope is to have the address raised, but not inked, on the back flap.

BUFFET

Dear Mrs. Post: When entertaining at our Country Club (buffet) many of us would like to know who should go first—the hostess or guests. A table is generally reserved in advance, but place cards are seldom used.

Thanks a million for your "down to earth" column. — Mrs. Bradley

Dear Mrs. Bradley: The guests go first to the buffet table, urged along by the hostess, if necessary. Whether it is a seated dinner, or a buffet, the hostess should never serve herself first.

At the buffet, she stands close by, ready to see that the guests get everything they want, and that the serving dishes are kept full.

From Description of Mother— Your Husband Is Punished Enough

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have seen some real "pips" in your column, but I think this one will take the cake.

My husband and I recently attended the opening of a new shop in a big center. Everyone who made a purchase of one dollar or more got to put his name in the pot for a chance at the grand prize, which was a trip to Hawaii for two — all expenses paid.

Well, they drew my husband's name! When they called and told us we couldn't believe it. Now, here comes the unbelievable part. My husband's mother heard about the prize he won, and she told him it would be easier for her to get away for that trip than he because I have other responsibilities and she hasn't, so she thinks he ought to take her.

My husband never he was to speak up to his mother, so now he says he doesn't see how he can get out of taking her without hurting her feelings. If he takes her, what do you think would be a suitable punishment?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: From the description of his mother, just taking her would be punishment enough.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "TOO BUSY" which had been written by my ex-daughter-in-law. She was another one of those who had the idea that a man should look after all his own needs. When my son moved in here at the time she instituted divorce proceedings, I had to lend him some of his Dad's clothes, as everything he had was in such bad shape.

He was wearing two suits of underwear with holes in different places, so he was covered. I remember once; she got as mad as a wet hen because she had just cleaned out the bathtub to take a bath, and HE beat her to it. Now I keep all his clothes in order, even though I am, "BUSY, TOO" IN RENTON

DEAR ABBY: Being in the real estate business, I read with interest the letter from the real estate salesman who objected to the "lookers" who were in no position to buy a house, but wanted him to spend his time showing what was available anyway.

You should have told that salesman to ask those lookers exactly how much money they HAD to buy a house. It would save a lot of time, tires, and gasoline.

ALSO IN REAL ESTATE

DEAR ALSO: Sorry, but I wouldn't recommend that approach. Some lookers might find it insulting, and I wouldn't blame them. A good salesman will have learned how to size up a prospect by asking pertinent questions and drawing his own conclusions. Ask any successful oil man how many dry holes he drilled before he struck oil.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SCHOLAR" IN SYRACUSE: There is some cooperation between bird and beast. The stork and the wolf usually work the same neighborhood.

Filling CIA Gap Not Easy

Aboveboard Aid Setup Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential advisers have uncovered formidable problems in seeking an above-the-table substitute for secret dealings by the Central Intelligence Agency in subsidizing certain American activities abroad.

The supersecret intelligence-gathering agency is supposedly out of the business of subsidizing private groups—on presidential orders.

Disclosure that the CIA was financing some overseas activities of the National Students Association at international youth conferences created an uproar.

PNH Whips Kettering

Milford W-O Champ

Preps Play 'Mud Bowls' Throughout County

Dandy Duo Aids Huskies' Romp Past Captains

By JERE CRAIG

Coach Dave Schmidt of Pontiac Northern had a dandy duo to replace ailing star Dana Coin Friday night and the Huskies squished through a water-covered Waterford Kettering gridiron for a 25-7 victory.

Scoring at a touchdown-a-period tempo, the visiting Huskies (5-3) amassed a 25-0 lead before Gene Pankner carried WKHS to a shutout-averting touchdown against the PNH second string defense in the closing minutes of play.

Coin — bothered by a bruised knee and a tender ankle — was restricted to limited kicking duty. But this didn't seriously hinder the Huskies' attack.

Craig Deaton, the Northern senior quarterback, expertly guided the squad with deceptive faking and effective option play execution.

In addition, junior Gerry Woods assumed Coin's trailer back duties on the option runs and took pitchouts from Deaton for 13 and 8-yard paydirt jaunts.

Balancing the outside splashing runs were the bullish plunges of squat senior fullback John Casanova. He bulled over from the one and capped the PNH scoring with a 30-yard off-tackle dash to paydirt opening the final quarter.

TOUGH TO CRACK

Meanwhile, Kettering's Captains couldn't generate a sustained drive against the PNH defense led by Al Morris, Mario Castillo, Leon Conley and a John Willson.

Pankner, the strong man of the Captains' offense, was limited to 34 yards in the first three quarters. His mates couldn't get him enough running room to let him build up the momentum that so often bowls over would-be tacklers.

Finally in the fourth quarter, WKHS took over on its own 34 on a fumble recovery by Harry Booker.

Pankner carried the ball nine straight times and to the Huskies' 23. Booker then got three yards before Pankner ran four more times to earn the touchdown.

On the 69 yard drive, the ox-like fullback had the ball 13 times for 66 yards. He then plunged for the conversion.

Despite some inspired defensive play by Don Postle, Jack Vely and Booker, Kettering couldn't halt the visitors' attack which gained 229 yards, all on the ground.

After a short punt, PNH moved 40 yards in 9 plays for its first score. Deaton's pitchout to Woods after a fine fake to Casanova produced the first six points.

INTERCEPTION

Willson intercepted one of two Kettering aerial tries and, aided by a penalty, gave the Huskies the pigskin at the host team's 40.

The winners only needed 8 tries this time to go the 40 yards. Casanova and Deaton had back-to-back 12 and 11-yard runs for first downs, and the fullback punned the final yard for a 13-0 intermission lead.

In the third quarter, Casanova had successive 15 and 16-yard rushes for first downs as the Huskies moved 75 yards in 10 carries. Woods' second TD run capped the drive.

A short kickoff followed and Ed Williams recovered for PNH at the Captains' 43. Casanova used his blocking well and broke free on the sixth play to cover the final 30 yards.

The play climaxed a 108-yard night on 17 carries for him.

Kettering's Pankner finished with 102 for 27 tries. Woods complemented Casanova's efforts and helped nullify Pankner's effectiveness by registering 50 yards in 6 runs.

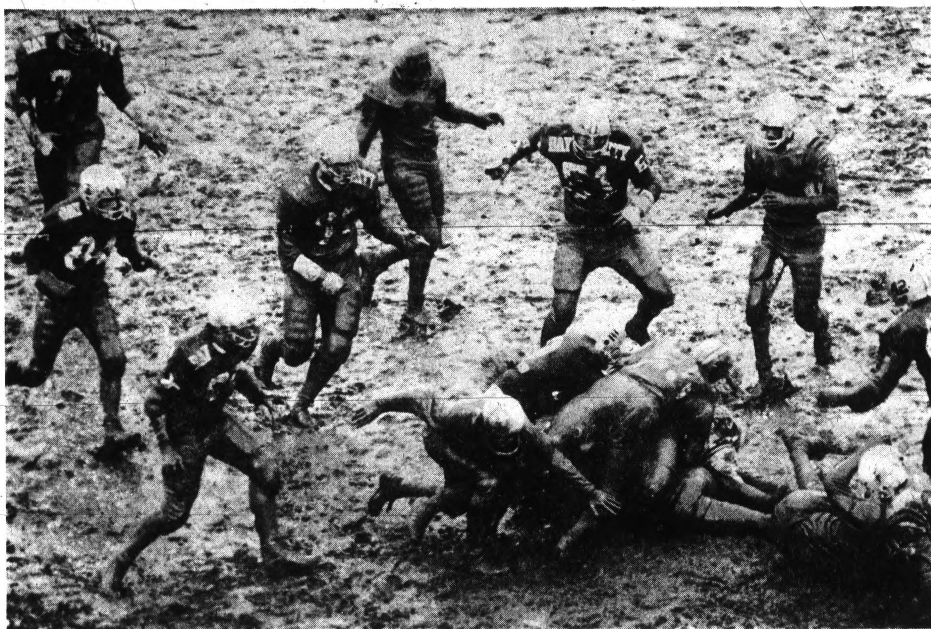

The beating left the Captains at 3-5 and only next week's season-ending confrontation with Waterford Township can rescue a disappointing campaign for coach Jim Larkin.

SPLISH, SPLASH, TAKING A BATH — Who needs a program? It wouldn't do any good in this case, and this was a typical scene on football fields all over the county yesterday. This was Wisner Stadium yesterday afternoon where the No. 2 rated Bay City Central Wolves whipped Pontiac Central 26-6, in a Saginaw Valley Conference game. The win moved Bay City closer to the SVC crown with a 7-0 record in the league. Nor week, the Chiefs play at Arthur Hill and then end the season against city rival Pontiac Northern Saturday afternoon Nov. 18.

BCC Gains Share of Title

Pontiac Central Loses, 26-6

By DON VOGEL

Neither rain, mud, cold or Pontiac Central could stop Bay City Central from marching to a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference football championship yesterday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

The Wolves, capitalizing on a couple of Pontiac mistakes, and the hard running of Joel Matthews and Pat O'Farrell, prevailed, 26-6, to top their league mark to 7-0.

This assures them of a tie for championship. They can take all the marbles by defeating Flint Southwestern next week.

There also is a good chance that the victory, the eighth over-all, may have a springboard to the No. 1 rating in state Class A circles. The Wolves went into the game No. 2, but top-rated Battle Creek Central lost last night.

Pontiac Central, now 2-3-2, lost to a better team. But the contest was actually closer than the score indicates. After falling behind 13-0 in the first half, the Chiefs battled back in the third period with a 90-yard march capped by Willie Ramsey's nine-yard run for a touchdown.

O'Farrell, however, proved too slippery in the fourth quarter. He shook off two tackles twice on fourth down plays to keep TD drives going. Had the Chiefs been able to anchor the junior halfback on those plays, it is doubtful if the larger Wolves would have scored in the last half.

This was the 33rd game on Wisner's field this fall, many of them played in the rain. The best description of yesterday's contest was a Mud Bowl. The Wolves didn't try a pass and PCH attempted two.

RAIN OR MUD?

It was PCH's homecoming and a good number of students turned out. But as has been the case since the third contest of the season, the Chiefs were forced to play in rain or mud.

Larry Froede, Pontiac's regular quarterback and one of the top defensive backs in the state, did not play because of an arm injury suffered in last week's victory over Flint Central.

He was replaced by Rolly Garcia who did a creditable job handling the ball.

The Chiefs handed Bay City its first chance late in the first quarter when a high pass from center went over Garcia's head on a fourth down punt try. Garcia was tackled on the three when he tried to run out of trouble.

Matthews pounded over from his fullback slot on the first play and then ran the conversion. Early in the second quarter another high center snap sailed over Garcia's head. He managed to knock it down and almost got away, but was cut down just short of a first down by the last BCC defender.

Matthew broke off tackle on the third play and rambled 41 yards for a touchdown.

The Chiefs dominated the third period and closed the gap with the long march, highlighted by Mike Shorters' 34-yard run and key sprints by Horace Davis who was replacing Hardiman Jones, injured in the second period.

HALTING A HUSKIE—Northern quarterback Craig Deaton (white uniform) is wrapped in the arms of Kettering's Don Newton while being stopped for no game early in last night's Huskies-WKHS clash. It was the only time the PNH signal caller failed to gain yardage in nine carries.

Deckerville Tops Imlay City, 12-0, to Stay Perfect

Undefeated Deckerville contained Imlay City's Spartans last night for a 12-0 victory that boosted the winners to 8-0 for the season.

Terry McGregor sprang loose for a 36-yard scoring jaunt in the opening quarter. The scoreboard read 6-0 until the third period.

Paul Nutzman ended the game's pointmaking then with a one-yard plunge.

Despite the poor playing conditions, the two squads were about even in yardage. The winning Eagles gained 193 yards in completing a perfect South Central League campaign, while Imlay had 184.

The defeat dropped the Spartans to a 2-3-1 league mark, and 3-4-1 over-all. They never threatened to score.

Andover Routs W. Bloomfield; Holly Triumphs

By FLETCHER SPEARS

They're whooping it up in the Milford teepee today.

The Redskins of Milford, with a timely assist from the Barons of Bloomfield Hills Andover, captured the Wayne-Oakland League football championship yesterday.

The climax to the W-O grid action produced a couple of surprises.

Milford headed into the final day with a 5-1 league record, a half game back of West Bloomfield (5-0-1).

But Andover's Barons, failing in their bid to regain the W-O crown, gave Milford a boost by upsetting West Bloomfield's Lakers in an afternoon contest, 32-6.

SKINS HALT CLARKSTON

Bolestered by that bit of assistance, the Redskins journeyed to Clarkson and upset the Wolves, 27-7, to claim the title, their first since 1964.

In other league action, Holly routed Brighton behind the running of halfback Tom Hayes, 38-7, and Northville blanked Clarenceville 32-0.

Milford's speed spoiled Clarkson's hopes for a share of the title, while Andover used a combination of offense and defense in posting the surprisingly easy triumph over the Lakers.

Fullback Skip Harris, a 5-11, 160-pound speedster, and backfield mate Bob McFarland, a flashy 148-pounder, provided the punch in the Milford win.

Harris scored three times on runs of 9, 36 and 33 yards, and he finished the evening with 171 yards in 12 carries, and the senior runner repeatedly ripped the soft middle of the Clarkson defense.

TALLIES ONCE

McFarland picked up the other Milford touchdown on a long-yard scamper around right end, and he managed 64 yards in 14 tries.

Halfback Steve Parker provided the lone bright spot for Clarkson as he paced the Wolves' ground game and scored the only touchdown on a two-yard run in the second quarter.

A short punt and a gamble that failed led to two Milford touchdowns in the first period and a long drive produced the third one in the second frame as the Redskins took a 20-7 lead at halftime.

A nine-yard Clarkson punt from its own 33 gave Milford possession at the Wolves' 42 early in the game, and the Redskins cashed in in seven plays with Harris running the final nine yards.

Clarkson's fourth-and-three gamble at its own 40 failed later in the first period and Milford took over and moved 42 yards with McFarland capping it with a four-yard sprint.

GOOD BLOCKING

Clarkston drove 56 yards in 13 plays late in the second and scored its lone six-pointer with only 21 seconds left in the half. Parker took it over behind crisp blocking on the left side.

Milford used up most of the third in a drive that ended at the Clarkson 12, and after another Clarkson gamble that failed early in the fourth, the Redskins took over on the losers 36 and reached paydirt in two plays. Harris ripped off the final 33 yards on a dash up the middle.

In the mudbath at Andover, halfback Greg Roche, hitting full speed after an injury injured him for two games midway in the season, scored twice and picked up 121 yards in 30 carries to ride the West Bloomfield defense.

Walled Lake Held to Tie; Troy's Colts Capture Oakland A Championship

Rocks Foil Vikings; WTHS Triumphs, 2-0

Two costly mistakes ruined the Falcons' Dan Wolfman in the end zone. The TD series covered 80 yards and started with the second half kickoff.

Late in the contest, Lance Pesci pulled in a nine-yard scoring toss from Anderson and Jim Watts boosted his second Farmington, 16-0, in other non-league outings by Inter-Lakes circuit teams.

Walled Lake (7-0-1) moved 65 yards in 13 plays to take a 7-0 lead on Bob Zabel's five-yard run in the first period. Greg Fogle ran the conversion.

The Vikings protected the lead until there were 40 seconds left in the half. Then Jeff Adams grabbed a Mike Cederberg aerial and outlegged the Vikings' secondary despite their defending against the long pass.

The play covered 56 yards and when Cederberg ran the PAT, the 7-7 draw was forged.

Host Walled Lake—the state's seventh ranked Class A prep grid power—threatened in the second half by moving to the Rocks' one-yard line, but a fumble killed the threat.

MISTAKES
Thus, a missed defensive assignment and a ball-handling error thwarted the Vikings' bid for an 8-0 mark with only Ann Arbor remaining on the schedule.

The home squad compiled nearly 300 yards in the game, moving the ball well both on the muddy turf and through the snow-filled air. The Vikings had 18 first downs to 6 for the Rocks.

At Lapeer, Waterford's defense pressured the Panthers into two costly misplays and their 2-0 defeat.

In the third quarter, defensive end Bill Fyfe grabbed an errant Lapeer pichout and rambled 55 yards to the home team's eight-yard line.

But the 'Skippers could only advance to the two in four plays. On Lapeer's second play after the exchange, WTHS defensive tackle Glen Bradsher ran down halfback John Rice in the Panthers' end zone for the game-deciding safety.

The Skippers' defense, led by linebackers Greg Ballard and Neil Blackmer, contained the Panthers thereafter, aided by the fine punting of Foley.

Southfield sent Farmington's Falcons to their fourth loss in a row and sixth over-all with the help of a daring gamble.

Locked in a 0-0 stalemate, the Blue Jays (6-2) had fourth and one at their own 29-yard stripe in the third period. From punt formation, the ball was snapped short to blocking back Rocky Rose and he scooted around end for 37 yards and a first down at the losers' 34.

Greg Anderson then added 22 yards on a quarterback keeper to the 10, and Steve Watts plowed over on the ensuing play. Later in the period, Steve Marx made it 9-0 by tackling

Romeo Scores Colts; Three Share Second

Ed Gillespie plunged a yard for the six-pointer, then ran the conversion. Host Romeo drove 76 yards only to be thwarted at the two. But Troy had to punt and the effort was blocked in the end zone. Vaughn Bartley covered the pigniskin for the Colts.

MISS PAT
The 7-5 final was determined, however, when the Bulldogs couldn't put across the extra point. They had one other good chance but a fumble at the 30 ended those hopes. Each team lost three fumbles during the contest.

The Falcons of Rochester trimmed Ulica 15-0. Clawson topped Avondale by the same count, and Madison was 28-0 victor over Lake Orion.

Troy made like it was going to walk off with the O-A crown by returning the opening kickoff to the 44 of Romeo and driving in for the score.

Oxford Falls to Fowlerville in Snow, 44-6

Once-beaten, highly regarded Fowlerville had little trouble with outmanned Oxford Friday night and drenched the Wildcats, 44-6, on a snow covered football field.

The host Glads moved quickly for a 16-0 lead in the first six minutes of play, and were on top, 35-0, before Darrell Marsh climaxed an Oxford push by going 15 yards.

It was the only touchdown by the Wildcats, who also moved to the Fowlerville 10-yard line after taking the second half kickoff. A fumble killed that drive.

The Wildcats are now 2-6 with only winless Lake Orion remaining on their schedule.

Report Says Maris Will Play in 1968

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A baseball writer for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says Roger Maris will definitely sign a 1968 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals, but will likely retire at the end of the season.

Maris was quoted by sports writer Jack Herman in Saturday editions of the morning newspaper.

It was the first time Maris had been quoted as saying he would return to the world champion Cardinals for a second season. The 33-year-old Maris joined the Cardinals last season after establishing his reputation as a slugger with the New York Yankees.

Later, Brother Rice (who lost three fumbles in the second half), relinquished the pigniskin at its 12 on a bobbie. In two carries, Puishes had the final six-pointer.

His second run went one yard and gave him 21 touchdowns for the season in a strong bid for All-State laurels.

Old Pro Howe, Wings Battling St. Louis Blues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gordie Howe, off to his fastest scoring start in his 22-year National Hockey League career, gets another chance to score tonight when the Detroit Red Wings take on the St. Louis Blues.

The 39-year-old Howe scored his seventh and eighth goals of the season Thursday when Toronto walked the Wings 3-0. This gives the powerful forward a good shot at a 50-goal season, one of the few NHL records he doesn't hold.

Howe's best year was 1952-53 when he scored 49 goals in his seventh season, but that was in a 50-goal season. Now, with 74 games because of expansion, Howe may reach that goal.

Only three players, Bobby Hull, Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffrion have scored 50 goals in a season, but that was in a 50-goal season. Now, with 74 games because of expansion, Howe may reach that goal.

Sayers to Play for Bears

Lions Go After 200th All-Time NFL Victory Sunday

Gale Sayers will play for the Chicago Bears, but the Detroit Lions will be favored to win their 200th National Football League game Sunday at Tiger Stadium.

The Lions hold a nine to 10 point spot going into the battle. Sayers, who created a controversy when he failed to play two weeks ago, gained only 13 yards last week.

He has been injured all year but exploded for 142 yards and one touchdown when the Bears beat Detroit 14-3 in the mud of Wrigley Field Oct. 15.

Coach Joe Schmidt said he will use Karl Sweetan at quarterback. Sweetan has engineered two victories in the last two weeks, pitching four touchdown passes and moving the offense to 60 points while the defense has given up only six.

Mel Farr and Tom Nowatzke as their running backs because Tom Watkins has a pulled leg muscle.

The Bears have listed two players as doubtful starters, offensive tackle Bob Wetoska and defensive tackle Dick Evey. BIG NFL GAME

Most of the eight National Football League games to be played Sunday will have a bearing on the races in the four divisions because St. Louis, Cleveland and New York are locked in a three-way tie for the Century Division and Dallas has only a one-game edge on Philadelphia in the Capitol Division of the Eastern Conference.

Two of the League's strongest rivals collide with the Baltimore Colts catching the Green Bay Packers on the upgrade.

Unfortunately for the Colts, they have been tailing off even though remaining the only undefeated professional football team. They have a pair of ties.

Green Bay comes off a tough game Monday night in St. Louis where some late heroics by Travis Williams won the game 31-23 despite some fine clutch passing by Jim Hart of the Cardinals.

Baltimore rallied to nip Washington 17-13 in a game they still are arguing about in Washington because of an official's call on Bobby Boyd's steal of a Bob by Mitchell fumble.

Los Angeles, 4-1-5, and San Francisco, 5-2, both ready to pounce on the Packers if they miss a step, meet for the second time. The 49ers upset the Rams 27-24 Oct. 8 at the Coliseum.

The Rams are beginning to make more use of Tommy Mason, the ex-Viking, although they still lean heavily on Roman Gabriel's passes and the running of Dick Bass and Les Josephson. Kezar Stadium, a disaster area last week when Detroit blitzed John Brodie and the 49ers 45-3, will be the scene of this family brawl.

A dream entitled The Return of Fran Tarkenton will be played at Minnesota, 1-5-1, when Tarkenton comes back to his old haunts with his new New York Giants, 4-3 playmates.

The Giants shot down the Vikings in an August exhibition 21-3 and have been generating a more exciting offense each week to tie for the division lead. Minnesota's attack has been in trouble and Coach Bud Grant shifted from Canada's Joe Kapp to Ron VanderKelen last week and almost pulled it out at Atlanta.

Dave Osborn and Bill Brown will be running at that shaky Giant defense that has allowed the most points in the league, 223. However, the Giants also have scored the most, 208.

Cleveland, 4-3, upset last week by the Giants, hopes to take it out of Pittsburgh, 2-5, who came up with a new running sensation last week in rookie Don Shy. Battered Frank Ryan was hurt again in the Giant game. If he can't go, it will be ex-Red skin Dick Shiner at quarterback for the Browns.

Bill Nelson's return late in the New Orleans game gave the tough-luck Steelers a boost. The Browns beat the Steelers 21-10 in a Saturday night game, Oct. 7.

Young Hart and the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, must shake off their disappointments of Monday night and try to handle Sonny Jurgensen and that fine passing attack of the Washington Redskins, 2-3-2. The Redskins, thin in running backs, expect Ray McDonald to be ready as well as receiver Charley Taylor.

Dallas, 5-2, is at home to an Atlanta, 1-5-1 team that is feeling its oats after its first victory, 21-20 over Minnesota. The Cowboys, who are beginning to feel pressure from behind in their race to repeat as Eastern champs, count on the return of Don Meredith to get them moving.

Namath Ailing; Chiefs Hurting

AFL Foes Battling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kansas City Chiefs will match their little injuries against the New York Jets' big one Sunday and the Houston Oilers will try to scratch their seven-year itch.

The Chiefs and Jets square off in Kansas City and the game is a big one for both American Football League clubs. A defeat would all but knock Kansas City, now 4-3, out of the Western Division race, while a victory would give the Jets a commanding view of things in the East.

Four Kansas City regulars, guards Ed Budde and Curt Merz, linebacker Willie Lanier and defensive end Chuck Hurston, are hurting and may not play. But the Jets' problem hits closer to the heart of the matter.

Joe Namath, out of drills all week with a turned ankle, was scheduled to start at last report, but his effectiveness is in doubt. The Jets are 5-1-1 and only Houston, with a 4-2 mark, is presently within hailing distance.

TIED FOR THIRD
The Oilers travel to Boston, where they last won in 1960. The Patriots are tied with Buffalo for third in the East with a 3-3 mark. Pat Beathard leads the Houston attack; but the team's strong point is its defense.

In seven games, the Oilers have allowed a total of 97 points, lowest in the league, and they have the top two pass interceptors, Miller Farr and Jim Norton, each with six thefts.

HONOLULU (AP) — Dudley Wysong Jr. carried a one-stroke lead over Billy Casper and three others today into the third round of the $100,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Despite gusting winds of up to 30 miles per hour, Wysong shot a three-under-par 69 Friday to take the lead after 36 holes with a three-under-par total of 141.

Casper shot his second straight 71. Also one stroke back was the threesome of Dick Sikes, Ray Floyd and Jim Grant.

Wysong was more than pleased with his round Friday, considering the winds which whipped across the 7,020-yard Waialae Country Club course for the second straight day and sent numerous scores soaring.

"I had only two bad shots all day," said Wysong, obviously enjoying his lead after two rounds. "There still is a long way to go, though," he added quickly.

Despite the running battle for the first-place spot, Jim Stenfelch of Joliet, Ill., supplied the big thrill when he led off the opening round with a 300. It was Stenfelch's second perfect game in his nine years as a pro. He was in fourth place with 2,700.

Real Estaters in Hockey Win

Ellis Real Estate ran its record to 4-0 last night in the Michigan Junior Hockey League with a 7-4 triumph over the Port Huron Juniors.

John Osterberg paced the victory with two goals.

including first-round leader Tom Weiskopf, were tied at 145. Arnold Palmer, who needs a big check here to pass Jack Nicklaus in the 1967 race for the money earnings title, shot a 74 for a 146 total. Ten others also had 146.

Overlooked Rider Sparks U.S. Crew in National Event

NEW YORK (AP) — Carol Hoffmann, often overlooked in the United States Equestrian team's scheme of things, rode Salem to the team's fourth triumph Friday night at the National Horse Show.

Earlier, Great Britain captured its second event when Peter Robson piloted Firecrest to victory in a speed class.

Before a crowd of 13,000, Miss Hoffmann hustled the 8-year-old mount over the nine fences in the shortened jumpoff course to a clean round in :32.8 seconds.

Bill Steinkraus on Snowbound was second and Crys Jones of Bloomfield Hill on Trick Track was third, thus giving the United States a sweep of the first three places.

Both Snowbound and Trick Track were clean, but their times did not match Salem's.

A Charming Courtyard With Central Fountain And Luxurious Plantings Dramatizes Entrance To The Harry Jacksons' In West Bloomfield Township

Landscaped Courtyard Dramatizes Entry

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

From the happy chortle of water rushing through the cherubic fountain in the front courtyard through its gracious interior, the one-story home of the Harry Jacksons' reflects a predominately Mediterranean motif.

Located in the Franklin Corners subdivision, the hilltop home features a central entry which provides an efficient traffic pattern with quick access to all areas of the house.

Overlooking the back garden, the living and dining sections are joined by an oversized window wall draped in gray-green antique satin and traverse sheers.

To accent the room's neutral gray walls and carpeting, Mrs. Jackson relies on the green-gold damask of the sofa and its wall grouping of water colors, colored etchings, charcoals and gold medallions.

The red abstract shade of the wrought iron table lamp lighting the sofa further emphasizes the warm tones in the wall grouping.

"And by turning the floral arrangement on the hexagon table," said Mrs. Jackson, "you can stress different colors."

Green candle miniatures surround the massive blue-green candle centering the round pecan dining table. White electric candles in a black wrought iron drop fixture light the area.

To repeat the Mediterranean colors in the dining portion, Mrs. Jackson selected a vivid floral of orange, red, black and olive green which she hung over the peccan drop-leaf server.

Sex Sells Houses, Claims Magazines

Sex has become an important selling point in homes.

A national trade magazine reports that builders are employing subtle sensuality to make houses more appealing.

Examples are: intimate balconies reached only from the master bedroom; soft lighting, small spotlights and wall mirrors in the bedroom area; glass walls open to the sky but shielded from neighboring houses, and sauna baths built for two.

Vinyl Sheath Covers Sash

Homeowners, who traditionally have used windows made from wood or metal, now have a choice of a third type of window in which a rigid vinyl sheath is applied over the surfaces of wood window sash and the exterior surfaces of the frames.

Manufactured by the Andersen Corporation, and marketed under the trade name of Perma-Shield, these low-maintenance windows require no exterior painting and at the same time offer the insulating advantages of a wood core and welded insulating glass.

Lots of throw pillows with assorted trimmings are a must for the fashionable sofa.

Breezeway Transformed

Are you tired of moving your porch or breezeway furniture and storing them for the long winter months ahead? You can turn a useless snow-bound porch or breezeway into a cozy room that can be used for the entire winter, and you need not cart the furniture inside.

All you need is a hammer, tacks (or the more convenient staples) and transparent plastic material that not only keeps the porch or breezeway warmer, but also keeps the entire house more comfortable.

It's a simple task to take the glass substitute, Flex-O-Glass, which comes in rolls at your hardware or lumber dealer so that the right amount can be measured and cut with ordinary scissors, and cut to size. Clear as glass, it is flexible and shatterproof.

If the porch or breezeway has screens up here's another chore you can skip. Just leave the screens up and tack the material right over them. Or simply tack rolled glass over the upright supports. Come spring, take down the plastic, roll it up and put it away until next fall.

You have all the furniture in place, with your screens up; in addition you have had the use of a cozy room that was lost during previous winters.

On milder winter days you and your family can have a comfortable place to sit in and soak up the benefits of the sun.

THE CHALET — Interesting window treatment commands attention in this four-bedroom tri-level opened this week for public viewing in Keatington. The Chalet and three other furnished models are open from 1-8 p.m. daily with the exception of Saturday when the hours are 1-6 p.m. and Thursday when the models are closed.

Try Heavy Stain

Finishing new wood house siding? If you want the texture-enhancing characteristic and the durability of stain but the opaque appearance of paint, use a heavy-bodied stain, sometimes called solid color stain.

New Models at Keatington

Keatington officials heralded the community's latest expansion at an open house last week as officials announced the opening of four new furnished models and revealed plans for apartments and townhouses.

Built by Andrew J. Stevens Construction Corp., the models accent spaciousness and efficient traffic patterns. They fall in the $30,000 to $35,000 price range.

The 2,200-acre "new town" was named by its developer Howard T. Keating in honor of his late father, a long-time Oakland County developer.

Formerly the late William E. Scripps' estate, Keatington will be home to 25,000 people by 1980 if the projected development continues at its present pace.

Also included in the master plan are proposed golf course and a marina service for families using the 550 acres of Lake Voorheis and Lake Sixteen.

Refurbished tenant houses have been transformed into The Antique Village, a cluster of nine shops offering art objects, antiques, gourmet foods, individualized fashions and tempting baked goods. New shops are expected to open in the Village in 1968.

Reduce Cost of Budget

Heating and maintenance may be costing you more than necessary.

Here are three common features that should be built into a home to reduce the upkeep budget:

- Extra wide roof overhangs to protect walls and windows from rain and wind, shade them from sun in summertime; transparent stain on exterior resawn lumber siding to insure top appearance with minimum upkeep; wood window sash for its insulation quality.

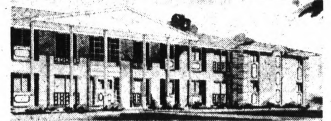

Modern Fabrics Need Attention

Remember permanent press garments should be removed from the dryer as soon as it rings shops offering art objects, antiques, gourmet foods, individualized fashions and tempt-carefully for best results.

How to Buy a Chair

More hours are spent sitting should have casters on legs down during each 24 hours day which are 2" in diameter with than in sleeping, which means soft rubber treads at least ¾" that the single most important wide and with easy swiveling piece of furniture you buy is the ball bearing action.

Chair, reports the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Here are some chair buying tips offered by the bureau's design experts:

• Married couple should shop for a chair together to ensure the comfort and satisfaction of both of them.

• You can't tell how comfortable a chair will be by sitting in it for just a moment. Hours of sitting may bring strains to back muscles that a few seconds won't reveal.

Test for comfort as follows:

The base of your spine and lower back should reach, and lean, against the inside back of the chair.

At the same time, the front edge of the chair cushion or seat should not cut into the backs of your knees.

Your legs should reach the floor evenly with the entire bottom of your shoes resting lightly upon it.

The new tilt-position easy-chairs aid comfort because of the possible changes of position, but these same rules apply to them if you want a non-strain fit.

• Appearance need not be sacrificed to comfort. Many homes have "decorative" chairs not intended for sitting. Often these are wood chairs of various historical periods.

But even the upholstered chairs give you appearance-control by means of texture of material, color and design.

Soft, hush-looking draperies may call for woolly or knobby upholstery fabric in the chair.

The clean, crisp beauty of a resilient floor is a charming backdrop for easy chairs with smooth weave fabrics, or leather. Kente floor engineers recommend composition furniture cups under chair legs to protect floors. Frequently moved chairs cleaned with a damp cloth.

• Quality construction in chair frames can be determined by learning if they are well dowelled and corner blocked. Beware of chair-frames put together by nails or metal staples. These are shoddily made.

Good upholstery will have spring and feather down construction with a layer of hair-and-cotton padding or foam rubber stuffing? Low quality chairs have stuffing of moss or tow, which is the rough ends of hemp or jute.

Panel Doors Open New Interior Vistas

Wood panel doors — traditionally used as elegant front entrances — are being used extensively in new homes to enhance interior decor.

Designed specifically to reflect particular room settings, interior panel doors of ponderosa pine are available in stock sizes and a variety of styles including Early American, Tudor, Florentine, Contemporary, and the new Spanish and Mediterranean motifs.

Panel doors are also popular for closets as folding or sliding units where space is at a premium.

Plastic Paneling Proves Practical

Bathroom walls are going glamorous, while staying practical.

The combination is made possible by plastic-surfaced hardboard paneling that resists moisture, and is available in a variety of exotic finishes such as wood-grains, marble, decorator patterns and a wide assortment of colors. The panels are easy to install and can be cleaned with a damp cloth.

which at current costs would take $3 billion to replace.

In view of the fact that April is one of the three worst months for fires, this might be a good time to review basic rules of fire prevention.

• Smoking and carelessness with matches are a major cause of fires every year, starting about 500,000 of them a year.

Avoid tragedy by not smoking in bed; use a flashlight instead of lighted matches to search for gas leaks, or to examine dark closets or corners, and keep matches out of the reach of children.

• Home owners can also reduce such fire losses by the simple use of nonflammable materials in home furnishing, reports the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Draperies of spun glass fabric and resilient floors of asphalt tile or vinyl asbestos which contains a high asbestos fibre content, are fire resistant, retarding the flames and giving firemen time to extinguish a blaze with minimum damage.

• An average of 400,000 electrical fires per year are caused by frayed insulation on lamps, broilers and other appliances causing short circuits and causing fires; insufficiently heavy electrical wiring overloaded by too many appliances, overheating and starting fires, rats, mice, squirrels and other wild life chewing at wire insulation. An exterminator can help with this.

• Spontaneous combustion will make a collection or pile of oily rags or newspapers burst into flame. Clean out all garages, closets and storage spaces of accumulated junk to avoid this danger.

• Inflammable liquids, such as cleaning agents, benzene, oil, paints, insecticide sprays are often stored under sinks near hot water pipes or close to hot radiators where they can catch fire.

Always keep them in a cool, dark place preferably surrounded by concrete, brick or metal.

• During Fourth of July celebrations, firecrackers start at least a few thousand fires each year (in addition to the damage done children by burning off fingers and blinding them.) This is a high cost indeed to pay for celebrating.

• Defective heating units and lightning cause over half a million fires a year.

Other causes are vandalism, carelessness with welding torches and the hot exhaust of backfire from internal combustion engines.

HOLY FAMILY AND SHELTER
PATTERN 374

MAKE THESE FIGURES to tell the Christmas story. The group fills a space about five feet long and four high — a good size for a front yard or a Sunday-school room. Patterns 374 for Holy Family and Shelter and 375 for Wise Men and Animals, which give actual-size guides, are 35 cent each. Both are in Christmas Packet No. 43 with other full-size patterns for decorations for $1.

Tile Officer Advocates Color Blend

The rebuilding of America during the next 30 years will be an "esthetic disaster" if color and decorative appeal are ignored in design, warns a tile industry executive.

Peter P. Zanowski, president of the Tile Council of America, says that "before the turn of the century, new office buildings, factories and plants, and homes and apartments will have to be built and old ones will have to be modernized to meet the needs of our burgeoning population."

He says that the U.S. building industry has an obligation to strive for a perfect blending of color, decorative appeal and function as it goes about this task of changing the face of America.

Zanowski adds: "If practicality in building design is given so much importance that beauty and style are ignored, or not given as much attention as they deserve, the result will be a functional triumph, but an esthetic disaster."

"The building products industry must bear a great responsibility of its own. It must supply the right materials for the job ahead; materials such as ceramic tile which offers the builder an ever-widening assortment of colors, sizes and shapes and an almost unlimited range of decor possibilities and that can be used as efficiently outdoors as it is indoors."

Kitchen Gardens Make Comeback

The old-fashioned kitchen garden is making a comeback. California realtors report that rear kitchens, with easy access to back yard vegetable gardens, are a major feature in new homes.

The concept has also led to an increase in wide-view kitchen windows and the use of glass rather than opaque materials for kitchen walls.

Remodeling Investment

Remodeling your home is like putting money in the bank at high interest.

The idea makes both sense and cents, says John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corporation.

Homes in the coming years, which many economists say will be inflationary, will increase in value faster than most commodities.

"You can have your cake and eat it, too, enjoying your improved home while the improvement adds to its value," Concord points out.

"There's really a three-phase satisfaction in adding a room or fixing up an attic or basement. The fun of doing the work as a hobby project, the enjoyment of using the new facility and, eventually, cashing in the investment with a fine capital appreciation."

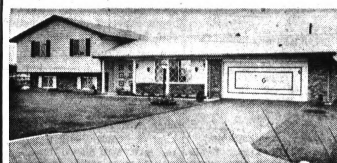

Families considering this idea will get the most for their money by making careful plans for the improvement, working out the details with the help of their lumber dealer and lending institution, making a careful selection of easy-to-work, easy-to-maintain materials, and doing some of the work themselves.

Widely used for such projects are hardboards such as Masonite X-ninety Siding and Royalco decorator panels, available in 15 woodgrains plus Marble-tone.

For free folders, write a postcard to Concord at Masonite, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690, requesting "Royalco Paneling" and "New Dimensions in Siding."

South's final five club bid was a last ditch effort to play in his partner's suit. North didn't have spades, hearts or diamonds thus his suit had to be clubs. Naturally enough, South expected to find a better club in the North hand.

West led the king of clubs. South won in dummy and returned the ten. He covered with the jack but retained the six as an entry. West took his ace of diamonds and shifted to the king of hearts. South won with the ace and played the innocent-looking three of spades. West fell into the trap and ducked. Dummy won with the eight.

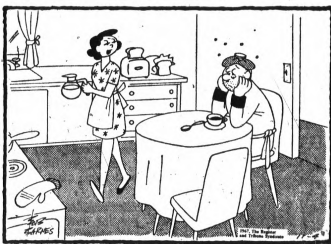

The spade play caused a lot of discussion. Most people sympathized with West, but we think that he made a careless play.

He wasn't going to get many spade tricks and he should have visualized the possibility that East could not beat dummy's eight.

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and its Detroit-area employees pledged more than $4 million Friday to the 1967 Torch Drive. Included was $650,000 from the company, the highest corporate gift in the campaign so far.

Contributions rose to $21,738, which is $2.5 per cent of the $26,360,595 goal. The campaign ends next week.

Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace, her cancer therapy completed, is resting at the executive mansion in Montgomery this week end before returning to her capital office.

When she will resume her office routine hasn't been announced. The governor said earlier she planned to take a few days off before returning to her office.

Mrs. Wallace completed nearly eight weeks of precautionary radiation therapy for cancer Wednesday in Houston, Tex.

The treatments at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute were intended to destroy any remaining traces of the malignancy for which she underwent surgery in July.

Reagan to Narrate Record

Ronald Reagan of California will be narrator in the record "Freedom's Finest Hour," about the Revolutionary War, Decca records announced yesterday in New York. The recording, to be released next week, consists of excerpts from a television show of the same name shown last December.

A spokesman for Reagan said record royalties would go to charity.

Reagan, a former movie and television actor, joins Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., as a politician-recording artist. Dirksen has made three recordings for Capitol records, on patriotic, religious and Christmas themes.

Dr. King Is Released Early

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and three other Negro ministers were released yesterday from jail in Birmingham, Ala., a day early and taken to an unknown location.

Serving four days of a five-day jail sentence were King, his brother A. D. King, Wyatt Tee Walker and Ralph Abernathy. The convictions stemmed from contempt of court charges involving street demonstrations in 1965.

Of King, Circuit Court Judge William C. Barber said: "I turned him loose because we don't want to work a hardship on anybody. He has this virus condition."

Barber added, "As far as I was able to tell, he was a model prisoner."

2 Harlem Grade Schools Conquer Slum Barriers

NEW YORK (AP) — Two elementary schools in Central Harlem cannot be included in the statistics which show that New York City slum schools generally are not the place to learn to read.

In the two schools, each having more than 98 per cent Negro and Puerto Rican enrollments and each officially listed as "disadvantaged," the students read above the national norm, according to tests released this week by the board of education.

The same tests indicated that one of every three of the city's one million public school pupils lag behind the rest of the nation in reading skills.

What's different about the Central Harlem stand out schools?

"The principals feel the answer is parents who care."

"As one parent put it," Public School 192 Principal Seymour Gang said, "P.S. 192 is like another room of her apartment."

This isn't a school—God forbid that we operate a school. We're a community center."

Martha Froelich, principal at nearby P.S. 129, agreed. "Most schools ask parents to sign the homework but here we see to it that it's signed," she said. "And we make ourselves available when the parent comes to call."

Dr. Gang and Mrs. Froelich both emphasize different methods to involve parents, but both agree the common factor in winning the parents' enthusiasm

Hartke Fights Extra Hike to Social Security Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen.stead of the first $7,800, as suggested by the administration, some of his colleagues who are the taxable earnings base now reluctant to support the income is $6,600.

That's "back-door" tactics, Hartke said Friday. He said he will pull out all the stops when Democrats on the committee the Social Security bill now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, of which he is a member, reaches the Senate floor.

While the administration has recommended maintaining the tax, 4.4 per cent payroll tax rate for the time being, the committee "Social Security should not be has voted to boost it to 5 per cent as an instrument of fiscal cent as of Jan. 1. At the same policy," Hartke said.

President Johnson seeks in his lagging campaign for a 10 per cent increase in the Social Security tax.

The answer can be given in two words—hard work," added Mrs. Froelich.

The tax levied against bill has been postponed to the first $8,800 of earnings in Wednesday.

Pontiac Driver Arrested in I-75 Hit-and-Run Death

A 33-year-old Pontiac man arrested last night has been charged with manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of a Commerce Township man yesterday.

Dead is George P. Seedorf, 52, of 2105 Union Lake. Police have charged Roy L. Scott of 170 Florence in the death.

In another accident, a Novi man, Warren C. Sumate, 21, of 45350 Pontiac Trail died when a car he was riding in was struck by a train yesterday at Benstein and the Grand Trunk Western Railway near West Maple in Commerce Township.

Pontiac State Police said Seedorf was driving south on I-75 just south of Sashabaw in Independence Township when one of his tires went flat.

He pulled over to a paved trouble lane to change his tire and was unloading plywood from the back of his station wagon when he and his car were struck by Scott's southbound car.

He was believed to be attempting to get at his spare tire when hit.

SEVERELY DAMAGED

Police said the accident occurred about 5:35 p.m. and noted that it was dark.

Scott's 1962 passenger car was severely damaged by the accident and he left the scene by foot.

A passerby noticed the accident and called police. Seedorf, a home modernization businessman, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival.

After the accident police traced Scott's address through his car license plate.

PATROLMAN ARRIVES

Pontiac patrolman Joseph W. Gallardo arrived at Scott's home about 7:50 p.m.

ANOTHER MILESTONE—A specially designed Pontiac Motor Division "clock" which counts millions of cars instead of minutes struck 12 yesterday as the 12-millionth Pontiac was built. Barbara Neundorff (left) and Sharon Hooper, Pontiac employees, are not really clock-watchers—only for this picture.

Pontiac Div. Makes Its 12-Millionth Car

Pontiac Motor Division passed an important milestone in its 41-year history with the completion of its 12-millionth car yesterday.

While it took 10 years of production to complete the first million, the most recent milestone unit came off the assembly line 19 months after the production of the 11-millionth unit.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac, and other division executives were on hand as the car rolled off the final assembly line in Plant 16.

The milestone unit was a shiny green Tempest LeMans hardtop, one of Pontiac's most popular models.

In a brief statement observing the event, DeLorean said:

"The production of the 12-millionth Pontiac has been made possible through fine cooperation and teamwork. It is a fine tribute to all of our employees, customers and dealers."

GOAL FOR 1968

Pontiac, the third-best selling car in the industry for the seventh consecutive year, has its sights on the sale of 960,000 units in the 1968 model year.

DeLorean also said that two factors have contributed importantly to the various production and sales achievements chalked up by Pontiac.

"Of major significance is the outstanding reception that has been given to the new styling and engineering features of our 1968 lineup," DeLorean said. "And of equal importance has been the quality that we have been able to build into our product through the help of our very effective Zero Defects program."

The 12-millionth Pontiac was a marked contrast to the first Pontiac turned out in the old Oakland Motor Car Co. plant in 1926.

SMALL PLANT

When the first car was built, the plant measured 50,000 square feet, smaller than many Pontiac dealerships today.

A vast expansion and improvement program is currently under way at Pontiac. When it is completed, the plant will measure 3,500,000 square feet, or 190 times its original size.

Similarly, the number of employees has increased from approximately a dozen, carriage makers to 20,000 employees embracing hundreds of skills.

"The reduction milestone is important to many industries other than our own. For instance, in building the 12 million cars, we have used over 20,197,000 tons of steel; over 2,922,000 tons of cast iron and 1,020,000 tons of rubber," DeLorean said.

Not included in the 12 million production figure are 569,273 Oakland built at Pontiac between 1907 and 1931. Formed in 1907, the Oakland Motor Car Co. joined GM in 1909 and became Pontiac Motor Division when the Oakland car was discontinued.

'Reds Test Orbital Bomb'

ROBERT MCNAMARA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some military strategists fear the Soviets' orbital bomb — if indeed they're on the verge of perfecting one — might some day tempt them into a sneak attack.

But defense officials, generally disinterested in the significance of such a space weapon despite the fact that it could pack a warhead with the equivalent of up to 3 million tons of TNT.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said yesterday the Soviets are apparently testing such a weapon. He left open the possibility that the intelligence reports were wrong and that the tests are actually of a nonmilitary nature.

The United States considered developing such a weapon a few years ago but dropped the project, seeing little value in it, McNamara told a news conference. "I am not concerned," he said. "It does not change the nuclear balance of power."

McNamara said the orbital weapon, which might be operational next year, would be designed to descend suddenly upon American targets.

But he maintained that a new U.S. "over-the-horizon" radar could detect it as quickly as Russian rockets can be detected, that antismiles could shoot it down and that it probably is very inaccurate.

The defense chief maintained an orbital weapon could not mount a satisfactory attack on U.S. silo-protected missiles, the force designed to discourage an assault in the first place.

But, he acknowledged: "Perhaps the Soviets might feel it could provide a surprise nuclear strike against United States' soft land targets such as bomber bases."

Christmas Truce in Vietnam Backed

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Mission in Saigon has recommended to Washington that the allied forces in Vietnam observe a Christmas truce for the third year in a row, informed sources said today.

The sources said the mission recommended that the United States not let the Communists get the propaganda jump on them in proposing the cease-fire this year.

Such a Christmas cease-fire will be one of the objects discussed by President Johnson and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker when Bunker flies to Washington next week for consultations, the sources said.

down more than one major producer at a time, union officials are expected to press Ford locals to settle their contract disputes by the Chrysler deadline.

Ford announced yesterday that workers would man assembly lines Monday in Dearborn, where Cougars and Mustangs are turned out, and at a truck plant in Mahwah, N.J.

YET TO BE REACHED

Tentative agreements are yet to be reached at seven plants.

Subcommittees met again yesterday at Chrysler, preparatory to Reuther's entry into negotiations today. The company has indicated it will follow Ford settlement in many areas.

But issues involving salaried workers, unique at Chrysler, and equal pay for Canadian and American workers, the only demand the union did not win at Ford, could present problems.

The union, meanwhile, began presenting new contract demands to American Motors Corp. yesterday in the first meeting between the two sides since Aug. 29.

Education Week Events Set

Schools Are in the Spotlight

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of two stories telling parents how to run their child's school during American Education Week.)

By DICK ROBINSON
"Tis education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined!"

Never before have the words of English poet Alexander Pope meant as much as they do today.

"Never before have teachers had so much responsibility for educationally 'pruning' the minds of their students," says John F. Perdue, director of Pontac school — community and human relations.

"Nor have parents been so charged with the right and responsibility of aiding educators in this noble task."

Teachers and parents throughout the nation will salute this mutual effort to mold a new and greater generation by observing American Education Week beginning tomorrow.

THEME FOR WEEK

More than 30 million parents are expected to visit their youngsters' school during the week, which has the theme of "How Good Are Your Schools?"

In Pontiac, special open-house programs will be held in Central and Northern high schools from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, in the seven junior highs Wednesday and in the 28 elementary schools Thursday.

Parents may also visit schools during the day to observe actual classroom situations.

American Education Week is held to remind each parent, teacher and student that the job of improving the educational, economic and cultural lot of each upcoming generation is the duty and pleasure of all citizens, with teachers playing a primary role.

Pleasant Weather Seen for Weekend

A pleasant weekend is in store for Pontiac area residents.

There's a chance of a few snow flurries, but little accumulation is forecast.

Here is the official day-by-day prediction by the U.S. Weather Bureau:

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and cold.

MONDAY — Fair and slightly warmer.

Precipitation probabilities of measurable snow: Today and tonight 30, tomorrow 20.

The low thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. was 30. The mercury registered 40 at 1 p.m.

Reuther Enters Bargaining With Chrysler Corp. Today

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, having won a recent contract from Ford Motor Co., today reenters negotiations with Chrysler Corp., where the union seeks to make or better the Ford pact.

Ford will start Monday producing its first cars since Sept. 6 when contracts expired at all Big Three companies and the union struck Ford.

UAW and Chrysler negotiators are bargaining under a Wednesday midnight deadline set by the union.

NASA Revises Apollo Schedule

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The U.S. space agency today revised its Project Apollo launch timetable for the rest of the decade and announced that two manned flights will be attempted next year and five in 1969.

The agency also inserted extra unmanned test flights of the Saturn 5 moon rocket and the Apollo moon landing lunar module into next year's schedule, boosting the unmanned Apollo tests for 1968 to four.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said it was still possible that the initial manned flight to the moon could come with the last Saturn 5 launch scheduled in 1969.

But NASA also said that long-awaited moon shot may be delayed to one of the six manned Saturn 5 launches set for after the turn of the decade.

The schedule revision came as launch crews prepared the first of the 363-foot moon rockets for a crucial unmanned flight test Thursday.

STILL SCHEDULED

The initial manned flight of the Apollo, an earth orbital mission to be made with a Saturn 1 rocket, remains scheduled for next July or August. Astronauts Walter Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham will make the 10-day flight.

Controversial Plane Is Defended by Head of Firm Producing It

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The supersonic F111 is neither hopelessly overweight nor performing unsatisfactorily, the president of General Dynamics says.

The sleek swing-wing warplane is meeting its primary objectives, it is not behind schedule and it is not caught up in a price increase, he added. Frank W. Davis gave Friday his first public defense of the controversial aircraft since General Dynamics was selected over Boeing in 1962 to produce the plane — first called the TFX.

Opponents contended politics may have entered into the selection and the controversy then led to a congressional investigation.

The dispute continues.

"BACKGROUND SESSION"

To hear the company's side of the story, General Dynamics invited a number of aviation writers from the East to attend what was described as a "background session."

Davis told the writers that critics of the F111 "are for the most part too smart to be inaccurate" in their charges, but "I would say the impression they are giving is inaccurate."

He called this the "context gap."

The people who have to make good on the program, the Department of Defense, our people here, do not have license to make irresponsible statements or use incorrect information," he said. "Any opinion of the program can say anything he wants."

He said he did not speak up in defense earlier because "our job is building airplanes, not conducting debates." Now, he said, the hardware is available for "use as they see fit."

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the permanent Senate investigating subcommittee, has called the F111 program a "million-dollar blunder."

Using charts and film, Davis attempted to disprove this statement, based at least in part on the claim that the Navy version, the F11B, is too overweight to land on carriers.

California Poll Shows LBJ Doing Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private political surveys funded by a mysterious presidential benefactor are providing ammunition for a renewed White House war with national pollsters.

Results of four "confidential" polls, generally favorable to President Johnson, have been leaked to newsmen in recent weeks—the latest on Friday—by individuals with much at stake in Johnson's reelection.

Circulation of the polls, conducted this fall in California, New York, Pennsylvania and New Hampshire, appeared to be part of a planned campaign to offset national surveys casting doubt on Johnson's reelection chances.

Archibald M. Crossley, president of Political Surveys and Analyses Inc., Princeton, N.J., said his firm made the polls under a contract "with a private citizen" whom he declined to identify "because of the confidential relationship."

Fire Damages Pontiac Home

A west side Pontiac home was extensively damaged by fire and smoke early today.

Fire department officials said the house at 98 E. Iroquois is owned and occupied by Mrs. Dorothy Theit. She was not hurt, they said.

Damage was estimated by firemen at $7,000 to $10,000 to the house and $3,000 to the contents.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette smoldering in a sofa in the living room.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Marie Minton, of the same address when she arrived about 12:30 a.m., according to firemen.

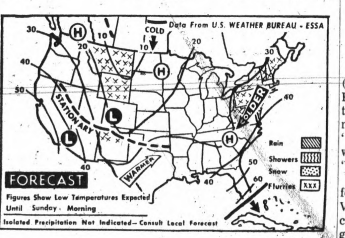

HEAVY SMOOT

The fire was confined mostly to the living room area, but that heavy smog was spread throughout the 2½-story house, firemen said.

Rent, Cities Fund OK Is a Miracle, LBJ Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed a battered appropriations bill funding his rent supplement and model cities programs as a legislative miracle.

He declared House Republicans who tried to kill the programs display a "blindness to human needs."

The two programs were included in an omnibus $10 billion appropriations bill Johnson signed Friday.

Meeting on School Issues Set

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education here has asked the 60-member Citizens Advisory Committee to meet with them Monday at 8 p.m. in Covington Junior High School to discuss the current teacher contract negotiations and to test the reaction for additional school millage.

Pell Hollingshead, board president, said the board wants to get an indication from the group on how they would feel about the chances of its passing.

He said the board does not have enough money to meet Birmingham Education Association (BEA) demands and at the same time support the current school program.

Teachers in the Birmingham School District are still working under a Circuit Court injunction, and negotiations have made little headway.

The board and the BEA negotiated all day yesterday — the first time they had met together for several weeks.

The only other alternative besides the millage according to Hollingshead, is to go into deficit spending to support both salary demands and the school program.

A PTA questionnaire concerning the negotiations which was directed recently to the board will be answered by the board at the meeting.

Parents Have Role in Student Election

Have you ever heard of pupils having to meet registration requirements to vote in a student school election at the same time?

Regulations at Pontiac's Bethune School require that pupils bring their parents or guardians to school to register with a City Hall representative in order for their child to be eligible to vote for student council officers.

While parents are registering to vote in city, state and national elections, they will be setting good examples of citizenship for their youngsters who then may register for his own school election at the same time.

The unusual registration is part of a unique development of self concept program in the school. Development of a positive self concept is a new idea in education for raising student achievement.

Even parents who are registered voters must accompany their children to school registration booths and show proof of registration with their registration card.

The observances are sponsored annually by the National Education Association, American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U.S. Office of Education.

When visiting the schools, parents will find younger teachers, more male teachers, newer classroom designs, outcroppings of computer devices and greater curriculum changes that make yesterday's school work obsolete by comparison, according to Perdue.

Congo Tells of Clash; '1st With Invaders'

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — Congolese government troops have clashed for the first time with a white and African force which the Congo claims invaded Wednesday from the Portuguese colony of Angola, the official press agency reported today.

A dispatch said the troops skirmished Friday near the Lubudi River town of Mutshatsha, along Katanga Province's key rail line, about a third of the way from Angola to Katanga's main city of Lubumbashi.

The invaders seized the railroad town of Kolwezi, then advanced to before clashing with the government troops. The report said. There was no indication of the outcome of the fighting.

The mercenaries are reported to be both white and African, and U.S. sources in Washington said they were about 150 strong.

At the United Nations, members of the Security Council conferred behind the scenes on Congolese charges that Portugal conspired with the invaders to overthrow the Congo government.

A Charming Courtyard With Central Fountain And Luxurious Plantings Dramatizes Entrance To The Harry Jacksons' In West Bloomfield Township

Landscaped Courtyard Dramatizes Entry

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

From the happy chortle of water rushing through the cherubic fountain in the front courtyard through its gracious interior, the one-story home of the Harry Jacksons' reflects a predominately Mediterranean motif.

"And by turning the floral arrangement on the hexagon table," said Mrs. Jackson, "you can stress different colors."

Green candle miniatures surround the massive blue-green candle centering the round pecan dining table. White electric candles in a black wrought iron drop fixture light the area.

To repeat the Mediterranean colors in the dining portion, Mrs. Jackson selected a vivid floral of orange, red, black and olive green which she hung over the pecan drop-leaf server.

Located in the Franklin Corners subdivision, the hilltop home features a central entry which provides an efficient traffic pattern with quick access to all areas of the house.

Overlooking the back garden, the living and dining sections are joined by an outsized window wall draped in gray-green antique satin and traverse sheers.

To accent the room's neutral gray walls and carpeting, Mrs. Jackson relies on the green-gold damask of the sofa and its wall grouping of water colors, colored etchings, charcoals and gold medallions.

The red abstract shade of the wrought iron table lamp lighting the sofa further emphasizes the warm tones in the wall grouping.

If you think strange things happen in American bridge tournaments, look at this hand from the recent European championships.

North's one no-trump was a bid used by the French team. It indicates either a real no-trump or a bad one suit hand. North surely had the latter.

South's double of two diamonds told his partner that there was a good hand in that position. West's two hearts and North's pass were normal enough but we don't quite comprehend East's jump to four hearts. Of course West would have made it, but we still don't understand the bid.
