Big 3 Officials Outline Policies Regarding Asia

Foreign Ministers Get Ready for Geneva Talk Starting Monday

PARIS (AP)—The foreign ministers of the Western Big Three continued meetings here today to put their plans for the Geneva conference in final form.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault got together last night, shortly after Dulles arrived from Washington, for talks on the problems which will come up at the Far East conference opening Monday.

British Foreign Secretary Eden was due to join Dulles and Bidault for a session at the French Foreign Office immediately after his arrival by plane from London today.

Earlier today, the diplomatic chiefs were closeted with their top advisers, working out the detailed strategy for the coming talks on Korea and Indochina.

The only thing that has been disclosed officially about the Big Three meetings in Paris is that they are dealing with both Korea and Indochina and also are taking up a proposed Western reply to Russia's note March 31 offering to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The NATO group also is expected to take up the Indochina question even though the war there between the French Union and the Communist-led Vietminh rebels is outside the organization's region of responsibility. Effects of the Indochina war are felt on defense efforts in the West.

And the NATO allies approved a resolution two years ago to give all support possible to the French in their fight to keep Indochina out of Communist hands. They are expected to consider just how to implement that resolution.

Shows Weird Weapons

Soviet Agent Exposes Plot for West German Slaying

BONN (UP) — A Russian secret police agent told today of a Kremlin-inspired plot in which he and two companions were armed with electrically fired guns and poison pellets and assigned to assassinate an anti-Red leader in West Germany.

The Russian, MVD Capt. Nikolai E. Khokhlov, and his two Communist East German assistants surrendered to U. S. authorities, turned over their specially designed assassin's weapons, and requested political asylum.

At a special press conference, arranged under a screen of secrecy by the U. S. High Commission for Germany, Khokhlov said he rejected Moscow's orders to kill Georgi S. Okolovich because "I couldn't bring myself to commit murder."

Okolovich is a leader of the anti-Communist NTS, a Russian refugee organization.

On display for the reporters who packed the conference room were the assassination weapons — two specially silenced, electrically fired pistols and two bizarre "cigarete case" guns which fired poison pellets of potassium cyanide at the touch of a button.

An American official described them as "unique, and unlike anything ever seen outside Russia."

Khokhlov said he was assigned to the murder mission in Moscow.

He said he was sent out from Moscow in October 1953 under orders to assassinate Okolovich, a leader of the NTS, in West Germany.

American intellignece agents said they had carefully investigated every detail of the story told by the three and were "completely satisfied" as to its accuracy.

The two German agents identified themselves as Hans Kukowitsch and Kurt Weber.

Khokhlov said the assassination plan was titled "Operation Rhine" in the secret files of the MVD.

He said plans for the assassination of Okolovich were carefully worked out before he "recruited" his two German assistants in the Soviet zone of Germany. The two Germans, he said, were taken to Moscow and given special training for their murder assignment.

On Dec. 19, 1953, the Russian said, the three were flown out of Moscow to Berlin to begin their mission.

On Jan. 15, Khokhlov said, Mos-

Balmy Weather Vanishes Again

Lower Temperatures Follow Near-Record 81 Degrees

Clouds and cooler weather tonight should end a preview of summer that boosted Pontiac temperatures to a near-record 81 degrees Wednesday.

The high at 4 p.m. beat this spring's former warmest temperature of 80 recorded April 7. It nearly matched the all-time record of 82 degrees for April 21, set two years ago.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts partly cloudy and cooler weather tonight and Friday, with a low of 38 to 42 degrees tonight and high of 53 to 57 Friday.

Wednesday's summery high followed a morning low of 50 degrees. Thermometers sank to 58 degrees Wednesday night but climbed back to 60 at 8 a.m. today and hovered there almost all morning, falling to 56 at 2 p. m.

Cloudy and warmer weather with light rain is forecast for the Pontiac area Saturday.

NEW YORK (UP) — Major radio and television networks will carry the President's address to the American Newspaper Publishers Association tonight. Live transmission is scheduled for 9 p.m. and several networks will carry reruns later in the evening.

Rebels Squeeze French Into Knot at Fort's Center

Defenders Await New Assault on Perimeter; Rain Aids Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh legions entrenched around Dien Bien Phu stepped up pressure today on the weary knot of French Union defenders still holding the key heart of the fortress.

The rebels moved more masses of infantry into two northern outposts they had captured, apparently attempting to bowl over the first mazes of barbed wire barricades protecting the garrison.

In their next all-out assault, anticipated at any time, thousands of the Communist-led Vietminh are expected to try storming through gaps already breached in the northwest.

A deluge of rain, which has turned the dustbowl of a few weeks ago into a red, slippery mire, aided the attackers. Yesterday they dug and crawled forward without fear of French fighters and bombers, grounded by the monsoon downpour.

French tanks and armored vehicles within the fortified area also were restricted in movement.

The French garrison, which held a plain 4 by 6 miles when fighting started five weeks ago, clung today to an area not more than a mile and a quarter across. The Vietminh positions edged to within 300 yards of the central defense system on all sides.

This shrunken stronghold was a small target for planes that must parachute in all ammunition and other war supplies through mist and rain.

There was a promise of possible aid in the Paris announcement yesterday that some parachute reinforcements en route to Indochina in U. S. Air Force planes would be dropped into Dien Bien Phu.

The giant American transports were flying the fresh troops east from Europe and possibly North Africa. Military secrecy did not permit disclosure of the number of troops on their way, the route they were flying or where they would land. It was announced, however, that the American planes would unload the paratroopers in a noncombat zone.

Thousands of French Union wounded at Dien Bien Phu, still lying in dugout aid stations because the Vietminh have refused a cease-fire long enough for air evacuation, posed a grim problem for Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, the fortress commander.

Claims Senator Used Pressure to Gain Favor

Packed Gallery Hears Officer Tell of Demands by Cohn

WASHINGTON (UP)—Maj. Gen. Miles W. Reber testified today that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) tried repeatedly to get an Army commission for an aide, G. Dayid Schine.

Reber, former liaison officer between the Army and Congress, was the first witness in the Senate Investigating subcommittee's public inquiry into a months-old feud between McCarthy and the Army.

The general testified that he went to work at once on McCarthy's request but that in the end Schine's application was rejected. Schine, then an unpaid consultant of the Senate subcommittee, eventually was drafted.

Reber said McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, also urged speedy action on a commission for Schine and that he felt Cohn put him "under definite pressure."

But he said in reply to a question by temporary Subcommittee Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) that he never felt that the calls he received from McCarthy and Cohn on the subject were "improper" or designed to intimidate him.

McCarthy, appearing at ease and rested despite his long airplane journey from Texas Wednesday, was dressed in a dark suit and wore a bright striped tie. He smiled and nodded for TV cameras.

The hearings, opened before television cameras in a jammed Senate caucus room, are an investigation of Army charges that McCarthy and Cohn, tried by "improper means" to get special treatment for Pvt. Schine.

They also involve counter charges by McCarthy and Cohn that the Army used Schine as a "hostage" to "blackmail" them into calling off investigation of alleged Communist infiltration of the Army.

Reber testified that the efforts to get a commission for Schine started when he was summoned to a conference in McCarthy's office last July 8. Cohn joined in the discussion.

Subsequently, McCarthy and Cohn repeatedly urged speed in the attempt to make Schine an officer because the subcommittee aide was about to be drafted.

Reber said Cohn called him on the average of "two or three times a day" between July 17, 1953, and the end of that month.

Reber also said that during that period he received "two or three calls directly from McCarthy urging the necessity for speed in this case."

Reber was Army liaison officer with Congress at that time. He is now commanding General of the U. S. Army in Western Europe. Schine, now an Army private, was then unpaid consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee.

Asked by Subcommittee Counsel Roy H. Jenkins if he felt that McCarthy was "high pressuring" him Reber said:

"No sir, I did not feel he was high pressuring me although I

Dondero Hopeful for St. Lawrence Seaway Measure

Bright hopes for passage of the St. Lawrence Seaway project were voiced in Pontiac Wednesday by Rep. George A. Dondero. He is home from Washington this week during a House recess.

"We expect to get the bill out of the rules committee next week," he said. "We have been encouraged by the increasing support we are getting from representatives from states in the Mississippi River valley who previously have opposed the seaway.

"We are also getting more support now from New England states which previously have been well nigh unanimous against it. President Eisenhower's hearty and active support of the measure also has helped greatly," he added.

Urges Stricter Housing Curbs

Real Estate Spokesman Asks Laws to Prevent FHA Insurance Abuse

WASHINGTON (UP)—A spokesman for the real estate industry asked Congress today to tighten the law to help prevent future abuses in the government's housing program.

But John C. Williamson, speaking for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, made clear he hopes the multibarreled investigations of alleged scandals in the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) do not deal a death blow to housing aid altogether.

FHA insurance "has earned its place as a permanent feature in our national mortgage system," Williamson said in testimony prepared for the Senate Banking Committee.

"Any weakness within this system of mortgage insurance should be eliminated, we feel, without shaking our confidence in the system itself," he said, "just as we would correct a weakness in our school system or court system without losing sight of the basic

Pontiac and Detroit Will Keep Same Time

Pontiac and Detroit will leave their clocks alone Sunday when 45 per cent of the rest of the nation changes to daylight savings time, by moving the clocks ahead one hour.

Detroit voters adopted an ordinance some years ago banning the later dawn and longer evenings.

In Windsor, however, the city council voted 9-2 last night to adopt daylight savings time.

Because of the time change in New York many television programs will be seen at a different hour. Radio time schedules are expected to have fewer changes.

Health Department Accepts First Batch of Polio Serum

The State Health Department Wednesday received its first shipment of the new Salk polio vaccine, Dr. Alfred E. Heustis said today.

Dr. Heustis said he isn't sure yet how many children can be vaccinated with the amount of serum in the first three boxes, "but other shipments are on the way."

The state health director also promised parents that they'll be told early in 1955 whether their children got the vaccine or the inactive control liquid.

Local health officers, doctors and National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis workers waited for one last okay today on the eve of field tests which are expected to show whether the vaccine can stamp out polio forever.

A seven-man advisory committee will meet this weekend to get final reports on the safety of the serum. The committee's decision will be flashed to test areas across the country.

Committeemen are Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research hospital director; Dr. Joseph Smadel, of the U. S. Army virus laboratory; Dr. Norman Topping, University of Pennsylvania's medical affairs chief and Dr. Thomas Turner, of John Hopkins University.

Others are Dr. David Price, of the U. S. Public Health Service; Dr. Ernest Stebbins, dean of Johns Hopkins school of public health,

Nation Responds to Loss of Dog by Pontiac Boy

A week after Doug Sheffield's dog, Sandy, was killed by a truck, long-distance phone calls and air-mail letters of sympathy are still coming into the Sheffield home at 25 Henry Clay Ave.

Doug's mother, Mrs. Walter S. Sheffield, said the family was "simply overwhelmed by the response."

"It certainly is wonderful that people care when tragedy comes to a small boy and a small dog," she said.

Messages of condolence, from as far away as Kentucky, Arkansas and the state of Washington, poured in after the Pontiac Press flashed a picture of the tragedy across the nation by AP Wirephoto service.

Over a dozen Pontiac area residents offered dogs to take Sandy's place. Two days after Sandy's death, Doug had another dog, a black Cocker Spaniel puppy given him by Oliver Hessam, of 5324 Sashabaw Rd.

Moody Enters Race for Senate

Seeks Dem Nomination to Oppose Ferguson in November

DETROIT (UP) — Former Sen. Blair Moody announced his candidacy today for the U. S. Senate from Michigan on the Democratic ticket.

Moody, a former Washington newspaperman and now publisher of several Michigan weeklies, made his announcement at a news conference.

He will bid for the Democratic nomination in an Aug. 3 primary to oppose Sen. Homer Ferguson, Michigan's senior senator and head of the Republican Policy Committee.

Moody, 52, filled out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich). He was appointed by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who announced his candidacy Tuesday for an unprecedented fourth term as Michigan's chief executive.

Moody, who retired as a Washington staff writer for the Detroit News to accept the 1951 senatorial appointment, was defeated in his 1952 bid for a full term. Rep. Charles Potter (R-Mich) defeated him and now is the state's junior senator.

Moody served from April 23, 1951, to Jan. 1, 1953.

Williams and Moody led an unsuccessful campaign in the 1952 Democratic convention to

700 in One Room Witness McCarthy-Army Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Breathing room only!"

That was the sign Capitol officials should have hung today outside the caucus room in the Senate Office Building for the premiere of the new extravaganza, "The McCarthy-Army Story."

Into the caucus room, measuring 72 by 53 feet—about four times the size of a normal living room—officials arranged to jampack some 650 to 700 persons.

"The biggest arrangements for a single news event in my 25 years at the Capitol," said Harold R. Beckley, superintendent of the Senate press gallery, who carefully portioned out every inch of space.

"The largest coverage of any news event we ever have done in Washington," was the consensus of radio and television networks representatives working with Beckley.

Everything was set for scores of reporters to tap out hundreds of thousands of words for transmission by teletypewriters and telegraph to newspapers across the country.

Of the 650 or more exected to get into the hearing before the Senate investigations subcommittee, more than 200 were destined to stand.

Commission and Planning Board Hold Joint Session to Discuss City Parking

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Members of the City Commission and the planning board sat in joint session last night, attempting to reconcile their divergent views on what requirements are necessary in an off-street parking ordinance governing commercial parking lots.

Commissioners had recently balked at an ordinance proposed by the planning board which would require protective screening 12 feet from the lot line of the parking area.

Representatives of the Wabeek Corp. and Jacobson's Inc., owners of land in the northwest quadrant of the city which is slated for parking development, also protested the screening requirements as a waste of valuable land.

City Commissioner Dean Beier suggested that no screening be required when a street separates the parking area from residential land not being used for housing at present. A hearing on the ordinance was scheduled for April 26.

cow ordered the assassination postponed because Russia did not want the death to occur in Germany during the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin.

After hiding out first in Vienna and later in Zurich, Khokhlov said he began to have doubts about his mission. On Feb. 18 the MVD agent went to Okolovich's apartment in Frankfurt and told the intended victim of the plot against his life.

He had sent the two Germans to a nearby town to collect the murder weapons from a hiding place where they had been secreted by a courier.

On Feb. 20 Khokhlov arranged a meeting with American intelligence agents in Frankfurt, asked for asylum and said he was willing to tell his story, including all his work with the MVD.

On Feb. 25, he said, he met again with his two German assistants, told them what he had done and persuaded them to join him in renouncing communism and seeking asylum.

William Essery Dies in His Car

Noted Detroit Attorney Served on UM Board, Headed Charity Drive

BIRMINGHAM — A prominent Detroit attorney, who suffered a stroke at the wheel of his automobile yesterday, died four hours later in a Pontiac hospital.

William E. Essery, 64, of 247 W. Merrill succumbed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being stricken while driving home on West Maple near Thurber.

Narrowly missing several moving cars, his auto finally went into a ditch.

Mr. Essery was a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and had been a lawyer in Detroit since 1916.

He was active in the Oakland County and Detroit Bar Assn. and was once a member of the University of Michigan Board of Control.

Mr. Essery was chairman of the Detroit Red Cross drive in 1952-53. He belonged to the Detroit Athletic Club and the University of Michigan Lawyers' Club.

The body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. before service at 11 a. m. Saturday at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Besides his widow, Margaret, he is survived by a son, William E. Jr.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert M. Cecil, and a sister, Dr. Florence Essery.

felt he wanted a favorable answer."

But at another point, in response to a question by Jenkins, Reber said: "I felt I was being put under definite pressure."

Reber, a big balding man, said that as head of legislative liaison his duty was to keep the Army informed of the progress of legislation and other Congressional matters.

He said that on July 8, McCarthy called him and asked him to drop around to the senator's office. Reber said he complied.

In the senator's office, McCarthy told him he was "very interested in obtaining a direct commission for Mr. G. David Schine."

"McCarthy said that because of his investigative experience, Mr. Schine was fully qualified for a commission," Reber said.

He testified that Cohn later entered the room to join in McCarthy's plea for Schine.

Reber said Cohn stressed Schine's qualifications. He quoted Cohn as saying Schine served for one year as a ship's officer in the Army Transport Service with the simulated rank of first lieutenant.

Reber said neither Cohn nor McCarthy mentioned Schine's work on their investigations of communism in this first interview, but both "emphasized the need for speed because the status of Mr. Schine under the Selective Service Act was about to change."

Reber related at length how Schine was found not qualified time and again by various branches of the Army when he applied for a direct commission.

He said he asked Brig. Gen. Paul Yount, chief of the Army Transport Service, if a man with a year's service in the Army Transport Service and otherwise qualified could be given a commission. Yount told him that such an applicant could be commissioned.

Reber then reported to Gen. John E. Hull, then vice chief of staff, who gave him "specific instructions" to process Schine's application in accordance with regulations.

The Army Transport Corps, however, turned down the application because Schine's 1946 service on an Army ship had been in a job like a purser's instead of as a junior ship's officer, Reber said. The Provost Marshal and Office of Psychological Warfare also held Schine not qualified for commission in those branches, Reber said.

Earlier McCarthy challenged the right of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Counselor John G. Adams to speak for the Army.

After McCarthy raised his question about Stevens, Adams and Hensel designating themselves as the Army, McCellan raised a similar point against McCarthy.

McClellan noted that McCarthy had signed his reply to Army charges as "chairman" of the subcommittee. McClellan said that word should be stricken from McCarthy's statement because there is no row between the subcommittee and the Army.

Mundt ruled both points out of order for the time being.

McCarthy said the Stevens-Adams statement, if submitted in the name of the Army, is "a reflection on the millions of men in the Army."

He said he respected 99 per cent of the military men in the Army "but I do not have any respect for the civilians in the Pentagon who have been working night and day . . . trying to shift an investigation of Communists in the Army" to something else.

McCarthy said there is no contest between him and the Army as such.

Mundt opened what appeared to be the most extensively covered hearings in Congressional history with the statement that they "at best, comprise an unpleasant business."

He reminded everyone that the committee is trying to get at the truth of the charges and counter-charges over whether McCarthy, regular chairman of the subcommittee, and his staff sought favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, former unpaid subcommittee consultant.

Freed on $500 Bond

BIRMINGHAM—Roosevelt Hemingway, 34, of Flint was released on $500 bond yesterday after appearing before Associate Justice John C. Emery Jr. on a concealed weapons charge. He was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday.

Moody Makes Bid to Return to Senate

pledge all state delegations to support of the party's Presidential nominee. Southern delegations balked and finally beat off pledge-taking. Some subsequently supported the Republican nominee, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

In the Senate Moody aligned himself with its so-called liberal bloc, which includes Sens. Lehman (D-NY), Douglas (D-Ill) and Humphrey (D-Minn).

Moody said he will publish a new daily newspaper in Detroit by 1956. He stated the syndicate he heads had originally planned to publish a fourth Detroit newspaper by this September.

Moody said the delay until 1956 was decided upon to offset any Republican argument that the newspaper would be a "personal weapon" of the senator in this fall's campaign.

He said no decision had been reached on whether the newspaper would be a morning or afternoon daily.

Moody and a syndicate of prominent business men last year purchased the Michigan Rotary Press, Inc. He said the plant currently has a capacity to print approximately 300,000 papers a day.

The syndicate now publishes several Michigan weekly newspapers.

Methodist Minister Urges Bible Study

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Henry M. Bullock, of Nashville, Tenn., urges Methodists "to study the Bible and their Sunday school lessons regularly."

Dr. Bullock, said in a report to a business session of the Methodist Board of Education in Detroit last night:

"Our two main goals are to get every Methodist church using official Methodist literature, and every church member and Methodist family to study the Bible and their Sunday school lessons regularly."

Farmer Shows Cause for Not Coming to Court

DETROIT (AP)—Traffic Referee John J. Carney decided a Metz farmer had 500 good reasons for not appearing in court.

The farmer, Raymond J. Smarszos, 44, wrote Detroit Traffic Court he received word of his scheduled court appearance in an auto accident on the same day 500 baby chicks were delivered. He asked for and received a postponement until May 14 when the chicks should be clucking along on their own.

Smarszos' farm is 250 miles north of Detroit and northeast of Alpena.

Carney advised the farmer he could clear up the case by paying a $10 fine and $14 damages.

Defeated Politico Retains Bridge Celebration Post

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Changing political fortunes will not affect the co-chairmanship of the Mackinac Straits Bridge ground breaking ceremonies.

Al Phillips was mayor of St. Ignace and Charles Lahaie was a Cheboygan councilman when they were appointed co-chairmen of the celebration.

But since that time, Phillips sought re-election and lost while Lahaie sought the mayor's post in Cheboygan and won.

Both still will act as co-chairmen when the two-day bridge celebration is held May 7 and 8 at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

Milo Miligoli, Italy's new heavyweight find, is 7 feet tall.

Church Youth to Convene

Ike in New York to Deliver Talk on Atom Hysteria

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower flies to New York today to call in a major address tonight for help from the nation's newspapers in transforming "an age of atomic hysteria" into an era of world peace.

En route, the President will stop over briefly in Washington to talk informally at the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution and to install a new chairman of the government study commission on federal-state problems.

The trip interrupts an Easter holiday the President started April 13 at the Augusta National Golf Club. He will return to Washington from New York tonight, spend tomorrow in Kentucky and then fly back here for another weekend of golf.

He and Mrs. Eisenhower will return to Washington sometime Sunday. She is not accompanying him on the present trip.

The President's half-hour speech tonight before the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York will be broadcast nationwide by the major television and radio networks.

It is scheduled for 9 p.m., EST.

4 Ousted LCC Employes Face 5 Years in Prison

DETROIT (AP) — Four ousted employes of a state liquor warehouse in Detroit today faced a maximum five years imprisonment. They pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of conspiring to commit larceny by trick.

They are Eugene Baumann, 41, of Dearborn Township; Donald Mackenzie, 68, of Fennville, and Edward Kivlin, 48, and Leo Clarke, 25, both of Detroit.

Recorders' Judge Paul E. Krause set sentencing for May 12.

Baumann and Kivlin were accused of keeping the other two men on the payroll while Clarke was working in a factory and Mackenzie was operating a farm.

Baumann and Kivlin also were accused of knocking the bottoms out of liquor bottles, siphoning and selling the contents while claiming the bottles had been broken during shipment to the warehouse.

Committee to Study Federal Aid to State

LANSING (AP) — The first comprehensive study of the amount of federal aid coming to Michigan and the methods of distributing it will be completed by December.

This was the decision of the Governor's Commission on Intergovermental Relations at its organizational meeting Wednesday.

The commission will transmit the report to Gov. Williams, the Legislature and the Federal Commission on Intergovermental relations.

The Michigan commission was appointed to cooperate with the federal commission and like commissions in 20 other states.

Chairman Clark J. Adams, of Pontiac, former State Supreme Court justice, appointed Marvin Tableman, one of Gov. Williams' assistants, to head a committee of representatives of state agencies receiving federal aid.

Police Ball Saturday

The annual Pontiac Police Ball will be held Saturday at 9:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 295 S. Saginaw St., according to Patrolman Hugh T. Stimson, president of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn.

Another Russian Deserts

Though the Russians have branded the incident "kidnaping," they can't hide the fact that another of their diplomat-spies has deserted and asked political asylum in Australia.

He is Vladimir M. Petrov, third secretary of the Soviet embassy in Canberra. In that post he had ample opportunity to see the freedom of Australian life and he liked what he saw.

Deciding he wanted that kind of freedom, he gathered together papers exposing the Red spy ring, presented them to the Australian authorities, asked for and got political asylum. In some quarters the incident is called a parallel of Canada's Igor Gouzenko case which led to the breakup of the Red spy ring in the Dominion.

The Russians, of course, immediately broadcast their version of the affair. According to them Petrov was kidnaped and they had his wife in the Soviet embassy corroborate their story for newsmen. But much doubt was cast on that version when Mrs. Petrov was forced into a plane at Sydney by two Russian guards. Reports from Down Under say the weeping woman was being taken back behind the Iron Curtain against her will.

Arriving at Darwin Tuesday by plane, Mrs. Petrov was freed from two Russian guards by Australian authorities and taken to Darwin's Government House under armed guard. She asked for asylum here with her husband, Vladimir.

This latest desertion re-emphasizes one of the great weaknesses of the Soviet system. Malenkov and company have an abundance of the implements with which to control victims of their tyranny by force.

But there is absolutely no weapon in a Communist style police state to protect that system against man's inborn desire for freedom of thought and action.

Joker Perils Seaway

As forecast in these columns many times, foes of the St. Lawrence waterway are fighting the project right down to the wire.

Latest proof of this comes in warnings from Dr. N. R. Danielian, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association, and Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, Republican of Michigan.

Both agree that the Brownson amendment to the Wiley-Dondero St. Lawrence waterway bill must be defeated if hope for U. S. participation in the project is to remain alive.

Introduced by Rep. Brownson, Republican of Indiana, this amendment is called by both Danielian and Wolcott a device of opponents to defeat the aims of the original bill.

"The Brownson substitute is such an obvious joker," Danielian told a Minneapolis audience, "that if the bill should be approved according to his version, there is no alternative for us but to advocate that the President veto it, so that Canada can go ahead promptly and build the project."

The amendment would provide for the issuance by the St. Lawrence Seaway Corporation of revenue bonds without Government guarantee. On the other hand, the Administration bill authorizes the U. S. Treasury to buy the revenue bonds which would be repaid with interest from toll revenues.

In the words of Rep. Wolcott in the Congressional Record of April 15, the Brownson method of financing would scuttle U. S. participation in the seaway by causing indefinite delay in the sale of bonds. That is why waterway foes are welcoming it with open arms.

In short, as Rep. Wolcott emphasizes, "all those who support this Brownson amendment ... are actually working to defeat the national policy embodied in the seaway bill."

Starvation in Mindanao

There should be quick official as well as unofficial action on the news that 200,000 Filipinos are starving in a rat caused famine on the island of Mindanao.

According to a United Press dispatch the trouble is centered in the southern provinces of this second largest Philippine island. Cause of it is a scourge of small brown rats which have stripped the valleys and the hills and destroyed the rice crop.

While President Magsaysay has acted promptly to send emergency food and drugs, the situation seems to call for aid on a much larger scale. Here, surely, is a place for some of our surplus food and a chance for our technicians to show our recent comrades-in-arms how to end the rodent plague.

"When denied something he wants, a monkey often goes into a rage," says a zoologist. Sometimes it would seem that monkeys are no better than people.

It is almost invariably the case that the person who doesn't know where his next dollar is coming from also doesn't know where his last one went.

The big question before the world today: Is the H-bomb hot enough to end the cold war?

Right here in Pontiac where we undoubtedly are more automobile minded than in most other cities, we are interested to learn that a true hard-top convertible is in the advanced development stage at one of the major plants. The retractable roof rolls back under the passengers.

First impressions often are good ones. A clipping of the picture of

He Says Law Used to Evict Ziegenhardts Licenses Crime and Promotes Injustices

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

The most disgraceful thing in state history is the eviction of the Ziegenhardts. There is another "case" in American history identical to the eviction of these brothers.

It was the American farmers at Lexington. The British appeared at "dawn" just like the state troopers, only at Lexington there was a Paul Revere who rode through the night.

If there had been a Paul Revere to alert all Lapeer County and had every able bodied person appeared at dawn in defense of the Ziegenhardts we would have had a reproduction of the starting of the war for our independence.

Our American colonies felt themselves unjustly taxed and they said if there must be "war" let it begin here.

If I were sitting as a one man grand jury I'd indict the law that made this incident possible. This law licenses crime and promotes injustices. The people of the State of Michigan should learn a lesson from this case and demand that this law and laws of like nature be repealed.

The people of Michigan send men to Lansing to make laws to protect their rights, not to make laws that are urged upon them by the lobbyist of special interest.

If the Ziegenhardts owed $280 the insurance company should have been allowed to collect $280 and not to confiscate a $40,000 farm. The men who are now under sentence for obstructing justice should have their sentences reversed and they should read "sentenced to 5 years in jail for obstructing injustice by the State of Michigan."

Wake up Americans. Let's not occupy the position of the British at Lexington.

U. S. Reds Will Try to Halt H-Testing by Swamping Ike With Chain Letters

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The latest news on the Communist battlefront inside the United States is the decision of the top Communist strategists to start a chain-letter campaign among American citizens directed to President Eisenhower so as to persuade him to halt all further tests of the H-bomb.

Through 25,000 agents, the Communist Party has begun to take names at random out of the telephone books and to send a letter asking each person to get five other people to write letters, and by the chain system get a whole lot more written.

Mimeographed copies of the texts of proposed letters have been distributed to Communist agents, and the concluding sentence reads: "This action might save you and your child."

The plan to start the letter-writing campaign in this country to halt H-bomb tests fits in with the same move made in Britain and France. There, however, the movement to cause America to stop H-bomb development comes from prominent persons, including some in the House of Commons affiliated with the radical wing of the Labor Party.

Like all Communist moves that seek to influence the action of the American government, there is usually a start made abroad.

The press dispatches coming from Europe and printed in the United States are usually counted on to give the movement its first publicity, and then momentum is added by the Communist agents and their auxiliaries in the propaganda field.

The reader can count on a period of from two to three weeks before such movements as these gain real backing from persons usually unidentified with the Communists but who have been unwittingly persuaded by intermediaries to take up the cause in question.

The chain-letter-writing campaign is relatively inexpensive, but it does bring an accumulation of letters. When the sources of the activity are concealed, it can mislead the recipients. The identical wording of letters and a uniformity of argument are enough to create suspicion.

Hence, in this instance, the White House is not likely to be misled, though it might never have known the origin of the chain letters except for the discovery by informed persons here of how the plot had been set up. For even chain letters which are recognized as such do make an impression by the fact of their large quantity.

In the case of the new campaign started by the Communist agents, mere disclosure should be enough to warn people that they are being duped if they send on such letters.

Everyone has a right to petition the President, but when such far-fetched claims are made that halting of the H-bomb tests will save American children, the spurious character of the letters becomes evident.

Communist agents will not abandon their campaign even if the letter-writing ceases. Their best bet from a publicity standpoint heretofore has been the willingness of certain scientists to make public statements.

Some of these scientists, when taken to task, excuse it by saying they have been "naive" or have "made mistakes" or that they "don't know much about politics."

Or else the argument is carried further on "moral grounds."

It is strange how the cry about "moral grounds" is focused always on possible action by the United States government in future development of the H-bomb while so little attention is given to the unmoral behavior of the Soviet government in refusing to cooperate with the rest of the world in restricting the use of the super-bombs in war.

It would be a salutary development indeed if these scientists directed a public communication to the Soviets through the press calling for a halt on their development of H-bombs and urging them to permit international control. The pressure always seems to be directed toward the United States government.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Anger Is Excellent Spur to Launch Reducing Plan

Mabel is irate. For I purposely am blunt in pointing out the faults of you wives. But unless I work up your ire, you will never act on the timely suggestions offered by this column. So turn your ire on yourself and slenderize. A siren puts "butterflies" instead of apple pies in her man's stomach.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-382: Mable R., aged 42, is a very plump housewife.

"Dr. Crane, why do you always pick on us women?" she demanded belligerently.

"You say fatness kills a man's love. Well, to judge from your picture in our paper, you're sure no prize winner, yourself.

"And I know a lot of husbands who'd rather have a wife who was a little too healthy, than hug a female skeleton!

"Besides, if it is bad for a wife to get fat, why isn't it just as bad for a husband to develop a bay window?"

It is bad for both husband and wife to take on excess weight. But wives are not affected as adversely by a plump husband, as husbands are by having an obese wife.

And here's why: Wives don't take the initiative in romance. They don't pick up their grooms and carry them across the threshold.

And they seldom hold their husbands on their laps.

Instead, it is the young, romantic male who shows off his strength by lightly picking up his sweetheart in his arms or holding her on his lap or steering her around the dance floor.

She is slender and small so it makes him feel like a powerful Samson.

Then 15 or 20 years elapse, and what happens? Now she may even outweigh him.

Instead of being 120, she may now weigh 165. Even if he tries to revive his youthful behavior and lightly pick her up, he finds that he can hardly do it.

So this deflates his pride. It makes him feel he is old and feeble. He is losing his zip. He is slipping in his masculine vigor.

To be ardently in love, he must feel sure of himself and strong. But his fat wife makes him unsure and fearful.

Besides, when he puts his arms around her extra girth, it feels like his mother, whom he used to kiss dutifully.

So a fat wife tends to resurrect the childhood attitude a boy holds for his mother and thus change her husband into a platonic type of mate.

Now I'll admit that many attractive wives are fat. But they must develop compensating charms to offset their loss of a slender, sylph-like figure.

And if you doubt my diagnosis, just slenderize again to a weight that is within 10 pounds of that you enjoyed on your wedding day.

Then watch your husband perk up. Notice the change in his romantic interest. Even his kisses will sizzle, as Marilyn's case yesterday so well demonstrated.

Artists know that the way to depict a matronly woman vs. a new bride, is to add more girth at the waistline.

As long as a woman's bust projects farther forward than her tummy, she still retains some youthful appeal.

But when her tummy, even in a girdle, equals or exceeds the forward projection of the bust line, then she is tagged as a motherly old soul, pleasant and kindly but not the siren type.

Men associate obese wives with cooks and bottle washers, who look after their gastric appetites beautifully.

But the sylph-like figures entice them for romance and torrid kisses.

A fat wife may put delicious apple pies in her mate's tummy, but the slender siren puts "butterflies" there and thus makes him feel young again.

So slenderize, not just for your health's sake, but as excellent insurance for a happy marriage through your Golden Wedding Day.

Send for that diet chart mentioned yesterday, enclosing dime and stamped return envelope.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We must admit they have some powerful popcorn in the lobby of the theatre of events.

For the first time in the shrill alarums of war us coast defenders don't have to do all the national worriment.

California could always work up an invasion chill. And back here on the Bronx-Battery parallel we saw theoretical hordes of Huns in a regatta of rubber boats.

I have always lived in well-nourished trepidation of waves of shock-migrants swarming over the dunes of Long Island real estate. It apexed in the beach-heading of four tired Germans in a collapsible pouch.

One got as far as Chicago, two were nipped in the bud and the last one traded himself in for a hamburger sandwich. With pickles.

All this time the midwestern and southern commonwealths were as cool and collected as milk bottles in Labrador. They laughed at us air wardens whistling at silhouettes on window shades.

The H-bomb has changed all that like a trip to Denmark, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and whey-stations on the great milk route realize the H-blast gives 'em a ringside seat for the main go.

Even Texas has been alerted to the possibilities of baby-sitting for clay pipes on the back end of the shooting gallery.

Amon Carter of Fort Worth said, "The thinking is on the other foot. The terror that flies by night is staying up later than ever."

We wish to thank Amon and Sid Richardson for that steak from the champion of the Southwest Fat Stock show. We ate it back to the tail and picked out teeth with the horns.

As soon as they start making peaceful use of the hydrogenated molecule we intend to stage a fissioned barbecue with a Texas steer as guest emeritus on the thirty-eighth parallel.

Dr. Brady's Idea on Morning Headache Is Bad Breathing, Thus Lack of Oxygen

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

There is not a word about early morning headache in the pamphlet Why Have Headache? available on written request (a clipping is not a request) if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I compiled the pamphlet before I conceived the theory—it is only a theory—that a headache that wakes you early in the morning and continues for from a few minutes to two or three hours after you get up, is in many instances due to oxygen deficiency.

If this theory is correct the remedy for the headache is of course oxygen. If there's a tank of it about the house take a few whiffs and see.

If no tank, get it the herd way—by doing the belly breathing exercise as directed in No. 21 Little Lesson in the Ways of Health, the booklet titled How to Breathe, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents.

If you think that is highway robbery there is still an alternative way to absorb more oxygen without a penny of expense: Take five or ten minutes of vigorous general exercise play or work.

This increases the absorption of oxygen just as certainly as inhaling pure oxygen or a seance of belly breathing.

Reason why the headache comes early in the morning is that the early morning is ebb tide as the vital fire burns low, the heart beat slows down, body temperature drops to a few degrees below normal, blood pressure falls and the blood in the veins, where circulation is normally slower than in the arteries, almost stands still.

In the case of a person enfeebled by illness of long confinement or inactivity this may bring clotting of blood—thrombosis.

People who are constantly exposed to atmosphere polluted with carbon monoxide are especially subject to this early morning headache; cigarette smokers, garage workers and office workers in rooms connected with a garage, dwellers in apartments over a garage, officers on traffic duty in city canyons, housewives in poorly ventilated kitchens.

A good many ninnyhammers would rather take a chance than take a few belly breaths, so they keep aspirin tablets or acetanilid tablets (usually disguised under some innocuous trade name) on hand and beat themselves over the head with the dope whenever they have headache or any other discomfort.

With each dose of the dope they destroy a few million red blood corpuscles, lower the capacity of the blood to carry oxygen to the cells, tissues and organs, and thus increase the popular demand for such dope.

Most of these ninnyhammers can read—at least the headlines—but they do not bother to read the fine print on the label of their favorite pain-killer and so they are serenely unaware that they are doping themselves with blood-destroying, heart-weakening acetanilid.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Car Looters Give Theft Some Political Flavor

OMAHA (AP)—Prowlers looted the parked car of Matt Walsh, Pottawattamie, Iowa, county attorney, who had driven here with his assistant and Dist. Judge Bennett Cullison, all of Council Bluffs.

The loot was a carton of campaign book matches and a bundle of campaign material.

Man Wins Battle of Red Tape—for $17

OMAHA (AP)—James P. Davies is near his goal—a $17 tax refund after a 29-day tussle with county red tape.

It all started when Mrs. Davies paid the taxes on the family car while Mr. Davies was out of town.

Later Davies paid the same taxes when Mrs. Davies was out of town. When they compared notes, Davies set out to get back the extra $17 they had paid.

For hours he toured county offices, moving from the treasurer to the assessor to the County Board. Now the latter has approved a refund.

Judge Urges Whipping for Habitual Auto Thieves

BALTIMORE (AP) — A suggestion that whipping be used as a possible punishment for young men who persist in stealing automobiles was made yesterday by Judge S. Ralph Warnken in Youth Court.

The judge said it might be appropriate to whip the offenders when they enter prison and again when they are released 30 days later.

Rewards Thief's Wife

SALEM, Conn. (UP) — At the suggestion of a state policeman, banned by regulations from accepting rewards, $50 offered for the return of a stolen shotgun was given to the wife of the accused thief who has nine children.

Congressmen to Play Practice Baseball Game

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Congressmen undergoing spring baseball "training" here will play a practice game tonight.

The congressmen are here during the Easter recess of the House and Senate to get in shape for the annual game for charity in Washington June 15.

Leg of Lamb, Veal Prices Best Bargains This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leg of lamb will be a favorite weekend feature in food stores this week, and food men say there'll be good values in various cuts of veal.

Where leg of lamb is a special, prices will be down from two to as much as 10 cents a pound from last weekend.

Veal continues to be nominated as one of the best bets in meats. One large chain which is featuring it compares the pric it was charging in New York on Jan. 1 with those that will prevail this weekend. As the year began, it was selling veal shoulder roast at 49 cents a poung and it's now 35.

Most beef and pork cuts will be the same price as last week or a bit higher. The wholesale price of beef, for instance, is up two to four cents a pound.

Chicken prices have risen slightly, and fryers may cost more this weekend. However, stewing chick will be featured in severl ssections of the country. Eggs will be arou two cents lower in many places.

The government is still raced with overwhelming stocks of butter, and there are reports in Washington that the Agriculture Department is condidering a plan to make it available to consumers fo around 45 cents a pound.

Coffee prices went up again up this week. Several leading chain stores tacked another four cents on the price of a pound of their own brands.

Among the best buys in vegetables this week are golden and green pascal celery from Florida, old crop onions and potatoes, new cro cabbage and eggplant. Squash, spinach and corn offer good value.

Fruit specialists say that one of the better buys in eastern and midwestern markets are strawberries, mostly from Louisiana. In citrus, grapefruit remains the best buy.

Teacher Views Disrupt Japan

Government Asks Ban on Classroom Support of Any Party

TOKYO (UP) — Japan's youthful democracy is facing one of its toughest tests in a dispute over political activities of teachers.

The government wants a strict law banning the teachers from classroom support of any political party or belief. But the teachers' union charges that the government actually is proposing thought control and a return to World War II Fascism.

The argument resembles somewhat the wrangling in America over whether teachers should be required to take anti-Communist oaths, but one important difference makes the question more vital to the free world in Japan than in the United States.

The United States has a wealth of experience in protecting individual liberties, but Japan is only three years old as an independent democracy and is taking its baby steps in the very shadow of Communism's second strongest world power, Red China. One faltering step and the island empire could stumble and fall to Communism.

In their youthful enthusiasm to make freedom work, some Japanese government leaders frankly suspect the teachers' union, representing all public school instructors, of spreading left-wing sympathies contrary to democratic education.

Until less than a generation ago, Japanese educators accepted their government without question and taught students the policies laid down by military dictators.

Now teachers, like all other Japanese, are free to think and vote the way they desire, but the government fears the union has gone too far.

The parliament's vice minister for education, Isamu Fukui, charged the union is "an organization of teachers with distorted political views" which "is guiding and wielding sway over the education circle of the country." He warned that teachers' political activities have made controlling legislation "imperative."

Not so, said the chairman of the union's central executive committee, Takeshi Kobayashi. He warned that the government bill, soon to be introduced into the Diet, is a front for "the ominous bugaboo of Fascism."

"Should the bill be given legislative approval, teachers would be considered as maintaining neutrality in the realm of education only when they are giving lectures exactly in accordance with the policy of the government then in power," he added.

Roving Offices Sell Air Tickets

Drive-In Service Also Available for California Plane Travelers

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Californians, long accustomed to drive-in facilities involving restaurants, movies, furniture stores, banks, funeral parlors and even churches, can now buy airline tickets from mobile units in the state's two largest metropolitan areas.

It all began last June 4 when United Airlines, which claims it originated the stewardess, opened a drive-in ticket office on the San Francisco peninsula to the south.

Trans World Airlines got wind of the development, put its best young brains to work and the Pasadena sales manager, Tom Haurat, conceived the idea of cut-fitting two trucks as full-dress ticket offices on wheels.

His plan to dispatch the mobile units along regular daily routes around Los Angeles and San Francisco was adopted immediately.

United's drive-in office at Redwood City, the first of its kind anywhere, allows motorists to whip into the driveway, honk the horn and buy a plane ticket without budging from the front seat.

The touring TWA units, two three-fourths ton panel trucks, were put into service late in June, and Larry Murphy, a TWA official, said the results "have been more than satisfactory."

"We have one man on each unit," Murphy explained, "Every morning they start out on their route and follow a definite prearranged schedue.

"For example, the northern California unit makes stops at South San Francisco, San Mateo and San Carlos in the morning. The driver-agent takes an hour for lunch and spends the afternoon hitting Redwood City and Palo Alto."

Murphy said a similar schedule, encompassing Alhambra and three tops in metropolitan Los Angeles, takes care of roving customers in that area.

"But we also do a lot of extra running around, try to catch the trade at special events such as boxing matches, football games, horse racing and convention," Murphy said, "and we spend a lot of time near the big industrial centers where there are busy executives who fly as a matter of routine."

Murphy said the inaugural flight of the mobile unit was a success. The housedove and newsdove in front until the police had enough and released the wayward white tester.

Educator Once Rebellious Coed

Stayed On at College for 60-Year Teaching Career

BELTON, Tex. (UP)—A former coed, who once locked herself in the basement of a building and refused to come out all day because a holiday was refused, has retired after 60 years with Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

Birdie McCrary entered Mary Hardin-Baylor, oldest women's college west of the Mississippi, during the era of school chaperons and sailor hats to study mathematics and physics.

Her wardrobe consisted of the college's prescribed uniform—dark blue serge middy with matching caps for winter, shirtwaists, skirts and large sailor hats for spring.

"The girls were guarded night and day then," she said. "We weren't allowed off campus without a chaperon and I never went to town without one until the last six months of my senior year. Then I went as a chaperon for other girls."

Only one does Miss McCrary recall challenging college rules. When she was a freshman, the girls asked to be given a holiday on Washington's birthday.

The scholarly president, Dr. E. H. Wells, refused and Miss McCrary and the rest of each student body locked themselves in the basement of one of the buildings for the day.

During the 60 years at the school, Miss McCrary also brought up her eight younger brothers and sisters, managed the family finances and saw to it that each member had a college education.

Dog Sends Up Howl to Get Master Out of Jail

LISBON, Portugal (UP)—Pilote, a mongrel with a cropped tail, has won a medal for "bailing" his master out of jail.

Pilote's owner, a shoemaker in nearby Cartaxo, was jailed for disturbing the peace after imbibing too enthusiastically at a wine-tasting meet.

The animal, named Mr. Master in the housedove and newsdove in front until the police had enough and released the wayward white tester.

The local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals awarded Pilote a medal for "humaneness."

$239 Million in Budget for Six-Year Civic Plan

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit's Capital Improvement Committee announced today that its civic building plan for the next six years will cost $239,081,000.

Budget Director David V. Addy, chairman of the committee, said $167,331,000 of the money will come from taxes and the remainder from federal, state and county matching funds for expressway construction.

The six-year program, according to Addy, is part of master plan for the "Detroit of Tomorrow."

The master plan, he said, will cost $1,251,372,000.

Addy reassured Detroiters that the six-year portion of the plan is based on present city revenues with no additional burden to the taxpayer.

Priest With Cancer to Try Cobalt Cure

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S. J., Catholic author and lecturer suffering from cancer of the lungs, said Wednesday he will begin receiving cobalt radiation treatments in Toronto late next month.

The 65-year-old nationally-known priest said there had been little change in his condition since he was told by his physicians about two months ago that there was little hope for a cure.

Arrangements for the cobalt radiation treatments, he said, were made by a department head at St. Michael's hospital in Toronto through the Cancer Research of Canada.

Father Lord is going to Toronto to help prepare for a city pageant there. His religious pageants have been produced in a number of cities, including the 1951 "City of Freedom" in Detroit.

8 on Faculty Nominated as MSC's Top Teacher

EAST LANSING (AP)—Eight Michigan State College faculty members have been nominated for the institution's third annual $500 "Distinguished Teacher" award.

They are Prof. Wilda Bolles, social work; Wade O. Brinker, veterinary surgeon; Richard A. Fennell, zoology; Alfred H. Leigh, civil engineering; Evelyn Mansfield, home economics; King J. McCristal, physical education; Austin Moore, humanities, and G. Malcolm Trout, dairying.

Former Bank President G. D. Schermerhorn Dies

DETROIT (AP) — George D. Schermerhorn, 67-year-old former bank president and college trustee, died Wednesday in a Detoit hospital.

Schermerhorn, former president of the State Bank of Reading, and a former trustee of Hillsdale College, was president of the Acme Chair Co. of Reading. The company moved its headquarters to Mississippi in 1952.

He also had been secretary of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

Godfrey Buys 5 Acres Near Miami Beach

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, radio and television star, and two other men have acquired 5.18 acres of oceanfront property in the Sunny Isles area north of Miami Beach for $600,000.

Court records disclosed today that Godfrey, Thomas E. Raffington and Richard A. Connell bought the property adjacent to the Golden Hotel Strand and Villas, which Raffington owns.

Raffington identified Connell as a Detroit automobile dealer and said the property was bought for "investment purposes."

Last October when Raffington came out of retirement to buy the Golden Strand property for a reported two million dollars he mentioned "long range plans" for developing the tract adjoining the hotel. At that time he said the plans were for a "deluxe 450-room hotel and beach club."

The tract extends 450 feet westward from the ocean to Collins Ave.

Warning System Grows

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Two more Michigan communities are joining a statewide tornado warning network. Battle Creek will operate a warning center at the city police headquarters while Springfield will have a warning center operating at the combined police and fire department headquarters. The U. S. Weather Bureau at East Lansing has requested the formation of the twister warning network.

Find New Way to Make Maps

Swedes Manufacture Device That Simplifies Surveying

LONDON (UP)—A new and revolutionary surveying instrument has been invented which will greatly simplify map-making and effect a detailed and accurate survey of vast tracts of inacessible territory such as are still found in South America and other parts of the world.

With the new instrument, a map-making operation which formerly demanded a survey squad of 40 to 50 men working in the field for several months can now be completed by a team of five in a few hours.

The new instrument is called a geodimeter. It was designed by the Swedih physicist, Prof. Bergstrand and is manufactured by the Aga Company of Sweden.

Modern map-making is based on a scientific method using the speed of light. The geodimeter, however, is based upon a quite different principle which is the reverse of the scientific method used to measure the speed of light.

To measure the speed of light, the time taken by it to make a journey of known length is measured.

The geodimeter, however, measures the time taken by the light to travel the unknown distance, and from this and the now known speed of light and distance itself may be calculated.

The geodimeter uses an elaborate electronic device to measure the time taken for light to travel from it to a distant point at which a mirror has been erected to reflect the ray back to the instrument. It thus measures twice the distance between itself and a distant mirror.

It appears to be capable of measuring distances of some 16 miles to within 3 inches, according to officials of Britain's Ordnance Survey Department who are at present testing its accuracy.

This particular geodimeter has been lent to the British ordnance survey by the U. S. government which recently purchased six for its Army map services.

Sir Edward Bullad, director of Britain's National Physical Laboratory, who is testing the geodimeter, said the new invention had come too late to be very useful in Britain since a completely new survey of Britain on a scale of 25 inches to the mile was completed only last year.

Tavern Attracts Just Highbrows

Opera Lover Keeps His Clientele Pristine With Jukebox of Classics

CLEVELAND (NEA)—There's a fabulous place here where all the "longhairs" hang out.

It's a tavern operated by a big, gruff, opera-loving character name of Albert "Luxie" Luxenburg. His customers come from miles around to play the juke box because all 104 numbers are classical—mostly arias from operas.

The place is thick with atmosphere. An oil painting of Carmen graces one wall, and directly over the bar hangs a huge oil of Prince Igor from Borodin's opera. Fresh flowers are everywhere—just like an opening night.

When "Luxie" opened the spot 18 years ago he wanted a way to keep assorted bums and "crummy ones" out. So, he installed a bouncer he dearly loves —a juke box with high-brow music.

"It's worked beautifully, too," he says. "Occasionally we get an eccentric who wanders over to the box in search of something by that Johnny Ray or those Hill-toppers. Oughta see his jaw drop when he sees the selections. But before he can say anything I tell him if he doesn't like it I feel sorry for him. Real sorry."

If the guy leaves in a huff the proprietor simply shrugs, turns to the other contented people and says, "good riddance." But if he lingers a while "Luxie" sort of swells with pride as if he has converted a person to some mystic faith.

Luxenburg's favorite on the juke box is "Stars Were Shining Bright" from Puccini's "La Tosca." "My mother took me to hear this opera when I was seven years old," he says. "I've loved it ever since. It's wonderful."

The customers seem to like this number, too, because in eight years time this record alone made $300 profit for the juke box. It's a good bet, too, that some of the profit was "Luxie's" own money.

There's always a congenial group at the place quietly soaking up Beethoven with bourbon or Bach with beer. Most of them drop in often and listen to their favorite music.

"They're music lovers all right," says the cultured barkeep. "If they weren't they wouldn't pay 10 cents a selection. And when they drop in a quarter they get three numbers. Whatta bargain! Where else could they hear such beautiful music so cheap?"

Watches Take Beating as Owners Are Eating

NEW YORK (AP)—You either leave your watch with the cashier, or have trouble with it, when you take a table along the south wall of the old La Fayette restaurant in downtown Manhattan.

Electric utility dynamos, which have operated for 50 years in an adjacent building, have built up such strong magnetism on the restaurant's south side that it makes watches go haywire.

Vast Timber Wealth

EAST LANSING (INS) — A Michigan State College professor estimates the nation's timber products industry is worth $20,000,000,000 annually and says it needs 1,750,000 full-time workers. Currently, says Prof. A. J. Panshin, head of the forest products department at MSC, American timber products makers pay out $4,500,000,000 annually in wages, are capitalized at $10,000,000,000 and produce products worth twice that sum.

MARIANNA, Fla. (UP) — The postmastership at Campbellton was held by various members of the same family for 72 years until the recent retirement of J. E. Woodham.

Mrs. Ida Renfroe was the first member of the family to serve as postmaster. She held the job from 1882 to 1914 when she was succeeded by her sister, Mrs. Florence Collins.

When Mrs. Collins died in 1944, her son-in-law, Woodham, took the post and held it until his retirement this year. He was succeeded by Mrs. E. H. S. Beall, who is no relation.

Bob Considine Says:

McCarthy-Army Hearing Not Likely to Give Laughs

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON (INS)—Last hearing I covered in the caucus room of the Senate Office Building produced laughs. They were not scheduled, but they came. This current hearing, McCarthy vs. Army, which is an easy but hardly accurate way to describe the current inquiry, is not likely to provide laughter.

At stake here is the whole question of the validity of congressional investigations of Communism. The hint of perjury, and all its dire consequences, hangs over this marbled displeasure dome on the side of Capitol Hill. Somebody's lying.

If it turns out to be McCarthy and his aides, McCarthy will have been dealt a blow from which he might never recover politically. If it turns out to be the Army which is lying, McCarthy could very well become presidential timber.

Completely lost, at the moment, is the entire base of the present hearing. This thing all started because an Army dentist who would not say whether or not he was a Communist was upped from captain to major and given an honorable discharge. This apparently happened after the Army learned through channels that McCarthy wanted to question him.

The issue now is whether McCarthy, his legal counsel Roy Cohn, and others on the Senate investigation subcommittee, used improper pressures trying to spring former McCarthy subcommittee consultant Dave Schine from distressing Army duty.

On the surface this is a trivial business. Yet, in its extension, it involved the crime which sent Hiss and many others to jail.

Last time I covered a hearing in the caucus room the principals included Senators Brewster of Maine and Ferguson of Michigan, Elliott Roosevelt, Howard Hughes, Henry J. Kaiser, press agent Johnny Meyer, and some non-appearing but frequently mentioned dolls with a penchant for nylons.

The issue in that case is now a bit vague. If memory serves, Hughes and Kaiser won an $18,000,000 contract to build wooden flying boats to take the place of freighters and tankers then being sent to the bottom by Nazi U-boats.

Wooden planes would save metal, but not money. However, metal began to be much more precious than money about that time. Anyway, they produced only one and there was some question whether she would fly.

Well, sir, creating the biggest carpentry job since Noah's ark involved a lot of entertainment, mainly signed for by Meyer, and some of those entertained showed up in the witness chair. Brig. Gen. Roosevelt, for one. He got hilariously indignant one day over some checks Johnny picked up.

The stars, however, were Hughes, Kaiser and Brewster. And the audience. In answer to a question from Sen. Ferguson, Hughes made a speech one day which so overtook him that he turned his back to the solons at their mahogany table and directed the final passages to the people in the caucus room.

There was wild applause, and great puzzlement among the senators. When Hughes finished a young man in the audience stood up and launched into a speech which he said was what "the people" were thinking. He was thrown out.

Kaiser was quite a man on the stand, Henry J. is a superb non-listener. In the course of reminding the senators what he had contributed to the war effort in the way of productive genius he mentioned the job his engineers did on the Brewster Aviation Corporation plant in New Jersey.

Sen. Brewster tried to stop him several times, to place on the record the fact that he (Brewster) had no association with the Brewster Aviation Corporation. But Henry J. wouldn't let him get more than a half a dozen words in. Finally, he turned to Brewster and snapped, "Nothing to worry about in that plant of yours now, senator. Everything shipshape since the Henry J. Kaiser engineers went in."

Brewster wept on his own witness stand in that hearing, in the course of denying that he fronted for Pan American in an effort to legalize a common carrier that would have put TWA out of the over-ocean business.

But, by and large, it was not a hearing of tears. Meyer's subpoena-ducking, the galaxy of unseen dolls, the injured remonstrances of Elliott, who affected a droopy blond mustache at the time, and other distractions, saw to that. McCarthy vs. Army will betoken the times, which are suspicious and grim, and unless all signs fail serious passions will be aroused.

Railroad grade crossing accidents occur most often on Sundays.

1,183 Dairy Law Abuses Found by State in March

LANSING (AP) — A total of 1,183 violations of Michigan dairy laws were spotted by 898 Agriculture Department inspections made in March.

The most frequent violation was short weight ice cream. At Coldwater, 104 one-gallon containers were found short of the required four and a half pound weight, 45 short weight half-gallons were found at Berkley and 41 quart and 20 pint packages were found short at Hancock.

1,218 Diseased Elms Found in State in '53

LANSING (AP) — Of more than a million elm trees inspected in Michigan for Dutch elm disease last year 1,218 were found to be infected, State Agriculture Director G. S. McIntyre said today.

The disease, which first turned up in East Detroit in 1950, has spread to Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe Counties.

In an effort to stem the spread, the state and municipalities are cooperating in a program for the removal of infected trees.

The disease, which has ravaged elms in the East, spreads mainly through brown bark beetles. It kills all species and varieties of elms.

Home sewing has increased by about 130 per cent in the past five years.

Legion Vet Lauds Esprit of French at Dien Bien Phu

By ULRICH GRUDINSKI

FLENSBURG, Germany, (AP)—"I see it this way, knowing the men who are fighting for Gen. de Castries—if they can hold out until the last of April or the first of May, when the rainy season begins, the French forces can win at Dien Bien Phu."

That opinion of the bloody northwest Indochina battle was voiced here today by Horst Lemke, a blond 24-year-old German electrician. After five years in the French Foreign Legion, he was among the last to be flown out of the beleaguered fortress where Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries' outnumbered French Union troops are battling legions of the Communist-lead Vietminh rebels.

He left Dien Bien Phu March 7, just five days before rebel artillery closed down the only air escape route from the encircled plain. Because of French censorship in Indochina, his was the first detailed interview with a combat veteran of the bitter, brutal battle.

"The fighting spirit of the French Union troops is wonderful and the men have a great and warm loyalty for Gen. de Castries," Lemke said.

"They'd go through blazing fires for him and they fight with bravery and with confidence.

"You can't talk about fighting spirit when you talk about the Vietminh.

"They throw themselves at the defenses wildly. Much of it's at night. And it's bloody and vicious.

"There's lots of hand-to-hand fighting—and I mean close hand-to-hand fighting.

"You can see your opponent's eyes.

"It's seldom if ever that any quarter is granted.

"Casualties are heavy. The Communists don't care about their losses."

In all, Lemke said, there were then about 12,000 French Union soldiers in the besieged garrison when he left. Reliable sources in Indochina believe paratroop reinforcements have swelled it to about 14,000 now, though the French have never announced their force's size. Attacking them are an estimated 45,000 Vietminh.

Lemke said the Vietminh "come in at night, spilling out of the jungle around Dien Bien Phu. They swarm in like locusts and they burst out of their foxholes."

"Those devils are using Russian-made guns—and good ones too—tommyguns, mortars, artillery and antiaircraft guns. Their radar-guided antiaircraft fire is murderous.

"But their ground troops like to fight with their knives and they swing them savagely in hand-to-hand fighting.

"Sometimes it was like a nightmare to meet them in the light of the moon and to listen to their wild cries as they charged.

"My guardian angel stood near me or I'd never be here now."

Road Commission Picks Contractors

Oakland County Road Commission this week chose the contractors who will spread new blacktop over parts of Eleven Mile, Big Beaver and Wixom roads this summer.

Robert O. Felt, road commission chairman, said work will start in May.

The road commission awarded two Elever. Mile road contracts, one for resurfacing and another for widening a mile and a half of pavement from M-150 to Dequindre road. Brighton and Wing Construction Co. got the $15,968.60 widening job. Cooke Contracting Co.'s bid of $35,602.92 won it the blacktopping work.

Ann Arbor Construction Co. got a $13,045.69 contract to blacktop almost a mile of Big Beaver road from Adams road to Woodward avenue. Detroit Concrete Products Corporation's low bid of $25,892.50 won it the contract to blacktop about two miles of Wixom road from M-218 to Glengary road.

SPACE FARMS—The starving world of tomorrow will depend on food provided by man-made moons launched into space to move in regular orbits around the Earth, according to an article in a national magazine. Their principal product will be algae, a food substitute rich in vitamins with greater protein content than meat, fish or fowl. The "moons" probably will be shaped like the above illustrations with growing tubes on the upper deck, drying and collecting equipment storage bins and living quarters for the workers housed in a shallow bowl beneath.

Measles Rate Up in County

Chicken Pox Is Also More Numerous but Mumps Shows Decline

Oakland County Health Department found more new cases of measles and chicken pox but fewer of mumps last week.

The department's weekly report, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, director, lists 170 new cases of measles last week, compared with 154 the week before. Chicken pox struck 63 people, as against 47 the previous week.

Sixty-three people came down with mumps, compared with 93 the week before.

The department's complete report, covering the whole county except Pontiac, reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending April 10, '54	April 18, '53
Chicken pox	63	47	229
Measles	170	154	125
Pneumonia (all forms)	9	1	1
Scarlet fever	9	11	15
Tuberculosis (all forms)	7	4	2
Whooping cough	0	7	6
Mumps	63	93	58

Hepatitis	5	5	0
Rheumatic fever	3	1	2
Rabies (in animals)	1	2	3

Pontiac's mumps rate rose sharply last week as the rest of the county reported fewer cases, Pontiac City Health reports showed today.

The report, also released by Dr. Monroe, listed 32 mumps cases in Pontiac last week, compared with 18 the week before. A few more cases of measles and nine new tuberculosis cases were found.

The city report follows in full:

	Past Week	Week Ending April 10, '54	April 18, '53
Chicken pox	15	16	39
Gonorrhea	2	2	11
Measles	7	3	59
Mumps	32	18	2

Fear GG Might Affect Salk Test

County Plans to Start Giving Shots Monday to 1st, 2nd, 3rd Graders

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director, said today that gamma globulin may not be given to any first, second or third grade children here this summer.

"We've been asked, tentatively, not to give gamma globulin to any of these children as it might affect the field tests of Dr. Jonas E. Salk's new polio vaccine," Dr. Monroe said. "But we haven't officially been told of the national health service's final decision."

The U. S. Public Health Service said Tuesday it will ask health officers not to use G.G. in test areas in any way that would affect the tests.

Oakland is one of 11 Michigan counties and dozens of places across the country testing Dr. Salk's vaccine this spring.

Dr. Monroe urged parents of first, second and third graders to return to the schools forms saying whether or not their children have permission to take part in the test.

"We plan to start giving test shots Monday," Dr. Monroe said. "If we're going to need any more vaccine than the amount we're due to get, we'll have to order it right away. We need a yes or no answer for every one of these children now."

Half the youngsters who take part in the test will be given Dr. Salk's new vaccine. The others will get an inactive liquid. A count of the children in each group who get polio this summer is expected to show how well the new vaccine works.

Royal Children Arrive at Malta, Greet Crowds

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)—Prince Charles and Princess Anne, none the worse for their first sea trip, stood on tiptoe to wave from the bridge today as Britain's royal yacht Britannia nosed to a mooring in Malta.

Huge crowds, including many flag waving schoolchildren, thronged every vantage point to greet the royal children. It was the tots' first stop on their journey to meet Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburg at Tobruk.

Nice Day for Strolling, So Oregon Trusty Does

ONTARIO, Ore. (AP)—It was a nice day for strolling in Ontario yesterday, so Claude Crane, 24, left his weed-pulling tools on the Malheur County Courthouse lawn.

Sheriff John Elfering asked Oregon state police to take a stroll in the same direction.

He said Crane still had six weeks to go on his three-month sentence for auto theft.

Comedienne Martha Raye Marries 5th Husband, a Dancer on Her TV Program

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—Movie and television star Martha Raye married her fifth husband yesterday after a hectic search through two states, in four chartered airplanes, for a quick marriage license.

Wearing a light blue garter which she displayed for skeptics, the wide-mouthed comedienne married Edward Thomas Begley, a dark-haired dancer on her television show.

It was the first marriage for Begley, who is 30. Miss Raye gave her age as 37 but later quipped to newsmen, "Confidentially, I'm 57."

The ceremony was performed in the courthouse at Arlington, across the Potomac River from Washington, by Dr. Arthur L. Maiden, counsellor of the Juvenile Bureau and a retired minister. The attendants were Carl Eastman of Westport, Conn., a talent scout, and his wife.

That was the climax of a chase which began early yesterday when Miss Raye and her party chartered two small planes to take them to Elkton, Md., once famous for quick marriages. They sent the planes on their way, planning to proceed by auto.

Finding that Maryland now has a 48-hour waiting period for marriage licenses, they located two more planes to take them to Alexandria, Va., a few miles from here.

When they came on to Arlington, got a license and went through a double ring ceremony in which she and Begley pledged to be "true an loyal." The fadeout kiss lasted nearly half a minute. Then the couple left for a Connecticut honeymoon.

Earlier, Miss Raye had been overheard to say, "This time it's for good." Her previous husbands were Nick Condos, her manager; Hamilton (Budd) Westmore, Hollywood makeup artist, David Rose, composer; and Neal Lang, hotel manager.

In any event, Miss Raye seemed to be enjoying herself yesterday.

Called to the telephone while obtaining the license, she found on the other end a New York newspaper reporter wanting to know if she planned to get married.

"What the hell do you think I'm going to do," she said she told him, "play ping-pong?"

Hide, Get Out, Stay and Die: 3 Choices in H-Bomb Attack

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—"We have three choices: To go underground, to get out or to stay and die."

That, says Val Peterson, federal civil defense administrator, is the choice facing urban dwellers in the day of the hydrogen bomb.

In regard to roads, Peterson said the situation is so critical he will recommend to President Eisenhower a coast-to-coast super highway building program, concentrating on roads around big cities.

Peterson Wednesday gave the state Civil Defense Advisory Council warning there will be no protection for city folk under enemy bombing attack except evacuation of the cities.

He conceded it was a tremendous job to plan the speedy evacuation of a city like Detroit, but he said it must be done.

"If one bomb goes off on Detroit," he said, "Detroit will be gutted. If you stay in a city and it is bombed you will be vaporized.

Peterson said if World War III comes it will come with a Russian sneak attack on America, probably on about 67 major cities.

"That means an attack on 67 million American people," he said.

He said a technical survey made at the federal government's request showed that such an attack would produce 22 million casualties.

"The morning after an H-bomb attack hits America the Army will not be mobilizing. No troop ships will leave American ports. There will be no troop ships and no ports. The job of retaliation and defense must lie with the Air Force. We will be busy binding up our wounds for months after," Peterson said.

Peterson conceded that now border cities cannot expect more than 15 to 30 minutes warning of an enemy attack.

"With 15 minutes the situation is hopeless," he said. "We will die."

He added: "The people who stand night after night watching our skies for enemy bombers show more moral guts and render a greater patriotic service than men on the field of battle because of the sheer monotony of it and the feeling that maybe they are making a fool of themselves. But they are not."

He complimented Michigan for training civil defense forces to meet natural disaster, adding that "Flint did a good job" with last year's tornado.

"As we train for and equip to meet natural disasters, we give the same training needed for enemy attack," he said.

Courageous Lepers Build Own Colony in Korea

By JOHN C. CALDWELL

John Caldwell, author of "The Korea Story", speaks the Korean language and has a close acquaintance with the country and its people.

It's fashionable in some quarters to say that it's up to the Korean people to help themselves. Some visitors to Korea go even further.

I remember one American in Seoul who told me bitterly: "What can you do with these people? They will not help themselves."

So I've decided to tell the story of one group of Koreans who did help themselves. I think it illustrates the basic nobility and courage of a misunderstood people.

For two winters a group of natives had lived under the bridge on the highway that runs from Suwon to Inchon, in Korea. To most passersby, the people under the bridge were just plain refugees caught in the backwash of war.

Only local farmers knew that the 76 people living there, protected from the rain and snow by a few straw mats, were lepers.

The lepers under the bridge had gathered together because the tell-tale signs of their disease were easily recognizable to others similarly afflicted. In the back and forth struggle, few Americans or Koreans had time to note them, or to help them.

The lepers themselves were too busy fighting for existence to know that help might be available from the United Nations, that even the U. S. Army had help available.

The lepers under the bridge organized and elected a president. Then they pooled their remaining cash, sold what possessions could be sold and in a few cases located relatives who helped. Kim Man Gu, 35 year old president, walked the 56 miles to Seoul and got a small grant of land from the Korean government. He arranged for a small rice ration until crops could be harvested.

Fertilizer, and seed were purchased, and the little colony settled on a lovely mountain side. With community labor and funds they built an office, a dispensary and three homes; they tilled and planted their fields, they cut wood from the mountain sides. One thing they lacked—medicines for the dispensary. Not one of the lapers had received medical treatment in two years.

Kim Man Gu started walking again, this time to Suwon, 20 miles away. He knew there was an American air base nearby. He had heard that Americans were generous people, and that they had wonderful drugs that might help his people.

Kim Man Gu was received by Dr. Guillermo Lopez, public health officer assigned to the Suwon U. S. Army Civil Assistance Team. This remarkable team was headed by an American colonel and included a Canadian, an Australian, a Dane and an Indian. All were United Nations employes on loan to the United States Army.

Dr. Lopez was thrilled by the story of the lepers who had not given up. Drugs were ordered and soon on the way. But the doctor felt that other help might be needed. He visited Kim's colony with the team's Indian sanitation officer. They taught the lepers a little elementary sanitation, and told them where to dig their well.

Dr. Lopez found 30 lepers still living in tents, and told Kim Man Gu that help on housing was possible. Little Kim told Dr. Lopez, just as he told me when I visited the colony: "We need help and we will accept it. But we want it understood that in two years we will be on our own, able to take care of ourselves."

I walked over the hillside colony with Kim Man Gu and Dr. Lopez. I talked to other members of the colony, including the two lonely children. I saw the well, just finished, and completed according to directions. I saw the rice fields, ripening in the autumn sun.

"Our first crop will be in next month and we will not need any more help with food," Kim told me. Then he added, "When you get back to America tell your people that we are anxious to help ourselves. But we could help others of our kind if we had a little help."

Thieves Mash Potatoes, Still Can't Get at Gravy

MIAMI (INS) — Thieves who tried to rob a Miami supermarket came up empty handed but found a new method for making mashed potatoes.

The robbers surrounded a safe in the grocery store with dozens of sacks of potatoes and set off an explosive charge.

The safe was not jarred but the potatoes were splattered in all directions.

The would-be safecrackers fled the store, leaving behind them the potatoes — and the gravy.

National Guard Drives for High Camp Turnout

LANSING (AP) — Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general, today launched a campaign for 100 per cent attendance at the National Guard's summer encampments.

He sent personal letters to secretaries of chambers of commerce in the more than 50 communities supporting guard units and to executives of trade associations.

He asked them to inform employers of the 1954 training dates and to urge them to release employes to attend.

Carillon Ousts Starlings

WICHITA, Kas. (AP) — Since installation of a carillon in the city hall's clock tower, there has been a marked thinning out of the hundreds of noisy starlings that used to gather on ledges of the mid-city building.

Reaction to Pock-Marked Glass a Nuclear Neurosis?

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
By International News Service

First it was flying saucers. Then it was disappearing nylons. Now it's pitted windshields. What's going on anyway?

Starting in the Pacific Northwest a while back, reports of strangely pock-marked windshields have been billowing up all over the nation just like — if you'll pardon the expression — a mushroom cloud.

My association of ideas is no accident. Though nobody thinks the damaged windshields are imaginary, what with pictures readily available and scientists already doing research on samples of same to explain their interesting condition, it's significant that the first guess in many minds was "the hydrogen bomb explosion."

So widespread was this reaction, that one scientist, Prof. Farrington Daniels at the University of Wisconsin, who has worked on atomic bomb projects, has already issued a statement denying that atomic radiation in any form could cause the phenomenon.

The windshields in the area of Seattle are claiming down; few new complaints are being registered there, but reports of pits and pocks are now coming in from Wisconsin, Texas, Illinois, North Carolina, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, and way up north in British Columbia.

Soon we may have some cool scientific explanation from people like Ross N. Kusian, director of Air Pollution Research at the University of Washington, or from Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's researchers in Pennsylvania.

Dust films found on many of the injured windshields are being analyzed under microscopes, as are air samples from those areas where the incidence of queer goings-on was highest, and it appears likely that the true culprit of all the windshield attacks will be something as ordinary as dust storms, airborne chemicals or flying particles from falling meteors.

In which case we can wipe those windshields right out of our minds.

But in the reactions of most average citizens who saw or read about the mystery of the marked glass, the No. 1 suspect was obviously the H-bomb.

Are we showing some brand new symptoms of atomic anxiety and nuclear neurosis?

Soviets Recall Spy's Buddies

Red Deserter's Friends Going Back to Russia From Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Soviet Union appeared today to have started yanking home any of its people in Australia who were in too close contact with the Russian Embassy's fugitive third secretary Vladimir Petrov.

In the wake of Petrov's defection to the West and the dramatic last-minute rescue of his wife from armed Soviet couriers hustling her back to Moscow, the Kremlin was reported to have recalled Victor Antonov, correspondent in Australia for the official Soviet news agency Tass, and a junior Soviet Embassy attache, Y. E. Platkais.

Reliable sources said the embassy commercial attache, N. G. Kovalev, also was preparing for an early flight home.

Antonov was believed by Australian security officials to have been the chief contact man in the espionage ring in Australia which Petrov claims he headed. Petrov turned over a huge mass of documents to the Australians to back up his claim when he sought refuge from communism early this month.

Already winging his way back to Moscow empty-handed was Embassy Second Secretary F. V. Kislitsin, who with two armed Russian diplomatic couriers tried unsuccessfully last Monday to chaperon Petrov's tearful wife back to Russia.

Soviet Agents Surrender, Disclose Murder Plot

BONN, Germany (AP)—Three Soviet agents sent to West Germany on a murder mission have given themselves up to U.S. authorities, an American spokesman said here today.

The spokesman said the agents—a Russian MVD (secret police) captain and two East Germans—had been assigned to kill a member of an anti-Communist Russian group in Frankfurt called the NTS.

But he said the three surrendered and disclosed the details of the plot to American counter-espionage agents.

Methodist Church School Membership Increasing

DETROIT (INS) — Methodist educators meeting in Detroit reported today that Sunday School attendance at Methodist churches across the country is averaging 3,187,635, an increase of 99,792 over last year.

In addition, Dr. John Q. Schisler, of Nashville, Tenn., said that the Methodist church-school membership climbed to 6,270,937 last year, a gain of 133,773 members.

Membership of the Methodist church is nearly 10,000,000, according to the educators, making it the largest Protestant denomination in the United States.

New Schedule to Raise, Lower Insurance Rates

CHICAGO (UP) — Your 1954 automobile insurance rates may be higher or lower as a result of a new system of classifying drivers adopted by the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

Unmarried drivers under 25 years of age will find their rates boosted about 30 per cent in most states.

Drives over 25 who use their cars principally for pleasure driving may have their premiums reduced as much as 14 per cent.

The new classification plan was adopted early in 1953 by the Mutual Bureau in 10 states. Later, both bureaus adopted a modification of the plan so that one or both are now available in 35 states.

Under the new combined bureau liability plan, drivers are ranked into seven classes instead of three as before.

One group scheduled to get a break are the married drivers under 25. They formerly were classified as the same risk as unmarried drivers of their age.

Young married drivers without children will receive a rate about 17 per cent lower than those who are not married. Young married drivers with children will receive rates about 27 per cent under the highest rates.

Boy's Cardboard 'Palace' Crashes About His Ears

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP) — Five-year-old George Andrews pretended the cardboard box was a "palace" and crawled into it to play.

The box happened to be in the middle of a street. A passing motorist hit it, thinking it was "just a box."

George was treated at Harrisburg Hospital for minor injuries.

USS F.D.R. to Undergo $40 Million Modernizing

BREMERTON, Wash. (UP) — The USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, 45,000-ton aircraft carrier from which Navy conducted its first jet aircraft launching, will be decommissioned tomorrow for remodeling to handle faster and heavier jet planes.

The big carrier will be laid up two years at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard.

The modernization job will cost 40 million dollars—40 per cent of the original cost of the vessel.

'Gentleman Bolshevik' Will Represent China at Parley

By CHARLES H. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

A "gentleman Bolshevik," as he is called, will represent Red China at the Geneva Conference on the Far East.

His attitude will determine as much as the attitude of any one man can, whether there is to be real peace in Korea and a cease-fire in Indochina.

Communist China plays closely with Soviet Russia. But it is an equal partner, not a satellite. His soldiers did most of the fighting on the Communist side in Korea, and they will do it again if the war in Indochina is broadened instead of ended.

Chou En-lai, premier and foreign minister of the Central People's government of the People's Republic of China, will lead a delegation of up to 900 from Peiping at the Geneva meeting.

Chou is one of a handful of the world's outstanding Communist leaders. He ranks with Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, and Chairman Mao Tse-tung, head of the Chinese Red government. He is Mao's equal and his heir.

Chou is called a gentleman Bolshevik because of his patrician Mandarin birth, his culture and his smoothness. His personal charm impressed western diplomats in the days when, during the war against Japan, friendly cooperation between revolutionary communism and democracy was thought by some to be possible.

Chou is 56. He is square-built, of medium size, erect, with a broad brow, wide eyes, heavy black brows and broad nostrils. He is a non-smoker and drinks sparingly. He speaks English fairly well.

As a student in his early teens, Chou joined in demonstrations against the Manchu dynasty, which was overthrown in 1912. He went to France, Germany and Britain to study political science. In France he worked as a waiter for a while to help pay his tuition.

In Paris, Chou organized a French branch of the Chinese Communist Party.

Back in China, Chou became chief of the political department of the Whampoa Military Academy, the Chinese West Point. Head of the academy was Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, now his arch-enemy.

When Chiang broke with the Communists in 1927, Chou was captured and sentenced to death. The executioner was close to breathing down his neck when he escaped.

During World War II, when the Chinese Nationalists and the Communists were cooperating against Japan, Chou took the opportunity to organize Red cells throughout China. They came in handy during the post-war revolution in which Chiang was driven to Formosa.

Chou cooperates closely with the Kremlin, and has its confidence. He is a frequent visitor to Moscow. His foreign policy is simple: Use Russia against the United States and drive the "foreign devils" out of southeast Asia.

Duped Widow Files Suit for Annulment

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—A suit for annulment has been filed by Mrs. Leola Griffith against George Doety, 62, an ex-convict charged with obtaining $3,700 from a Milwaukee widow on promise of marriage.

She based her suit on the contention he had fraudulently misrepresented himself and "intended to continue in the business of romancing women for profit as a lonely hearts racketeer."

Doety was arrested in Los Angeles Monday after Mrs. Wilson Dallman of Milwaukee came here to marry him and discovered he was already married.

Mrs. Griffith said she married Doety in Flagstaff, Ariz., last Oct. 30, and that he gave the name of George Hoffman. She asked a court order to compel him to return $11,575 in property and asset she said she advanced him for a business deal, two automobiles, a $1,300 diamond ring and cash.

Defeat Soviet Bid to Seat China Reds in UNESCO

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (UP)—The first Soviet delegates to a UNESCO conference have come up with the usual Communist demand at United Nations meetings. The proposal's fate was the usual one, too.

The demand — that Communist chinese replace the Nationalist Chinese delegation—was rejected yesterday 20-4. The United States lead the opposition. Thirteen nations, including Britain, abstained.

Motive Sought Behind Suicide of Rich Newsie

NYACK, N.Y. (AP) — Police here have a double mystery on their hands: why Raymond Jones hanged himself and why he preferred to run a tiny candy-newspaper store when he was worth at least $72,000.

After returning from World War II, Jones took over the small shop when his parents died. Everyone figured the store just enabled him to eke out a living.

Yesterday his body was found, in the back of the closed store, hanging from a stairway railing.

A routine check of the premises turned up the following:

Coins in a soda water box totaling $1,248.24; old cigar boxes stuffed with $22,230 in bills; two savings accounts of $25,908.90 and $18,740.47 respectively; a checking account of nearly $4,600 more.

Authorities said Jones has no known relatives.

The use of girls' names for hurricanes was begun dring World War II. Storms in the Pacific were given girls' names, taken from an alphabetical list, and Atlantic hurricanes received names from the phonetic alphabet.

Only two of Canada's provinces have no outlet to the sea.

Open Hearth Becomes Dispose-All for Weapons

ATLANTA (AP)—Police Chief Herbert Jenkins reported yesterday that a barrel and a half of guns and knives were dropped into an open hearth at a steel mill here Fifteen slot machines also were tossed in.

"We think we have found a means of destroying them," Jenkins commented.

Formerly such weapons, taken in arrests, were battered with hammers.

U.S. B26 Gets Praise of French Air Minister

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—France's air minister, Louis Christiaens, praised the "versatile" B26 last night and called it one of the most important weapons in the Indochinese conflict. He arrived at Wright-Patterson AFB while on a tour of U.S. Air Force bases.

He said more American planes are needed by French forces in Indochina. A good airborne supply is absolutely essential for victory there, he said.

Sixty thousand people live below sea level in the Imperial Valley of California.

Dead Man's Wish Fulfilled as 45 Friends Live It Up

DETROIT (AP) — Forty-five convivial folk wined and dined last night as guests of a dead man who wanted them to "have the last one on me."

The will of Carl Clarke a wealthy bachelor who died last Nov. 17 at the age of 79, called for a party to be thrown to divide up 261 personal "trinkets" left over from his half-million-dollar estate. The rest of his fortune, made as president of the Monroe (Mich.) Steel Castings Co., went to nine charities.

The objects, like the party, were bizaare. They ranged from a tattered pair of snowshoes and an old-fashioned vacuum cleaner to original oil paintings and an etching of Abraham Lincoln.

Among the guests was Gordon MacEdward, a 66-year-old printer who had known Clarke for 35 years.

"He was not an eccentric man," said MacEdward. "He was a quiet man who shunned publicity. He would wilt the grass over his grave if he knew that the press was here eating the same filet mignon his friends are having.

"Carl was a man who appreciated things in life that we guests can't comprehend. He never looked at women. He fought all his life for the rights of the American Indian and Negroes.

"Most of the people at this party are members of the 'Wednesday Nighters Club' which Carl started back in 1914."

Clarke's club consisted of a stag group which gathered monthly, mostly at his apartment, to hear lectures on the fine arts by authorities.

Friends of Clarke and their wives ate $50-a-plate dinners while a string ensemble played from a stage and movie cameras ground away.

Guests filed by one by one to draw a number from a silk top hat. The person holding No. 1 got first choice of Clarke's personal effects, and so on until the 45 had picked. Then the numbers were reversed until the articles were gone.

What prompted this odd way of dividing the pieces? "Carl didn't know what we treasured," said McEdward. "So he picked this way to let us have what we wanted."

Grave Diggers Relent, Call Off Strike in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Diggers began opening graves for more than 200 bodies awaiting burial in Grand Lawn Cemetery today. They called off a seven-month strike yesterday.

Under terms of an agreement, cemetery directors recognized a seniority list of employes. Local 1778 of the CIO United Cemetery, Vault, Casket and Livery operators then dropped demands for union recognition.

Since Sept. 29, the interment of five Korean War dead were the only burials pickets permitted. Other bodies were placed in the cemetery's mausoleum.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission OKs $3,600 Addition to Library Plans

Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night approved a $3,600 addition to the cost of the new branch library being built at Glenwood Ave. and Rundell St.

The cost was first set at $69,088. The J. A. Fredman Construction company, contractor for the building, asked the added money when it was found necessary to set a deeper foundation than originally planned.

In other action lots 123 through 127 inclusive of Hillside Manor Subdivision were sold to the Pilgrim Holiness Church for $2,000. Church officials said they wanted the land for parking purposes.

Mount Clemens road was declared a primary road by commissioners as requested by Pontiac Township.

Cost estimates were accepted for proposed work including:

A water main in East Ypsilanti from Baldwin to the PO & N Railroad, $4,937.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Longfellow from Baldwin to University, $7,693; Second from Joslyn to Barkell, $5,996; and Tennyson from Joslyn to Highwood, $19,337.

A resolution of public necessity was approved for proposed construction of curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Tennyson from Joslyn to Highwood.

Public hearings were held and confirmation deferred on special assessment rolls for recap on:

Walton from Perry to the west city limits.

Montcalm from Baldwin to Perry.

Kennett from Baldwin to the west city limits.

Paddock from the Michigan Airline Railroad to Jessie.

A public hearing was held and confirmation deferred on a special assessment roll for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Hazel Bend from Belmont to Jessie.

A request was approved from the Northside Community Club for a festival and permission to display fireworks on July 3 through 5.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed for storm drains in:

Right of way and alley from Harris Lake to Montcalm.

South side of Montcalm from Young to Portland.

North side of Montcalm from Wing to Portland.

A special assessment roll was confirmed for a water main in Sheffield from Baldwin to University.

Resolutions of public necessity were passed for planned construction of grade, gravel and necessary culverts on:

Highwood from Sheffield to Princeton.

Princeton from Highwood to the east line of Glenwood Estates Subdivision.

Laurel from Sheffield to Princeton.

Local Man Is Recent State Police Graduate

Roger R. Rivard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Rivard of 95 Glenwood Ave., has been assigned to the Jackson post as a probationary trooper after completing a 10-week Michigan State Police training course at East Lansing.

He was sworn in with 39 other recruits. After a six-month probationary period, they will be confirmed as full fledged troopers. Rivard is married and resided at 140 W. Colgate Ave. before joining the State Police.

French Seem to Prefer Their Cup to the Cure

PARIS (UP) — France with a world's record consumption of alcohol equaling 35 quarts per adult per year, collects 150 million dollars in taxes on alcohol.

The government grants $1,500 to the Committee for Defense against Alcoholism at the same time it deals out $142,857 to the Committee for Propaganda for Wine.

Lake Michigan Keeps Pilings Sound 100 Years

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — A number of wooden railroad pilings recovered 100 years after they were driven into Lake Michigan have been found to be in "perfect" condition.

The pilings were uncovered during excavation for a 41-story skyscraper in Chicago. Wood experts at the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory here found them in "perfect" shape.

Some of the old red oak wood was cut into panels for use in the new skyscraper.

Man Sets Fire to House Wife Won't Move Into

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP)—Howard Krause told state police he set fire to his new house because his wife wouldn't move into it.

Krause pleaded guilty yesterday to arson.

Seagull Mooches Meals by Feigning Lameness

HARTLEPOOL, England (AP) — A cunning seagull which fakes injury to win free meals hoaxed the police yesterday for the fourth time in three weeks.

The gull limps down the street, apparently unable to fly. Soon a bird lover picks him up and takes him to the police station. The police feed him while awaiting aid from the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

G. W. Spencer, an inspector for the society, recognized the winged beggar from a spot of green paint on its plumage.

"He knows by now that he can expect this meal at the police station," Spencer said. "He won't fly until he has stuffed himself full of their bread and butter."

The home of former President Franklin Pierce is preserved in New Hampshire.

Teller's Rival Bank Gives Baby Prize

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A year ago Mrs. Martin W. Lidstone was selected to represent the State Savings Bank and present a $5 savings account to a newborn child. Annually Hartford's mutual savings banks conduct Thrift Week and the banks take turns daily in presenting $5 accounts to new citizens.

This year Mrs. Lidstone, new accounts teller at State Savings Bank, gave birth to son, Neil, at Hartford hospital.

She was presented the $5 account for Neil by the rival Mechanics Savings Bank. Neil arrived in the middle of Thrift Week too late to receive the $5 from his mother's place of employment.

'Necessities' of 1963 Hard to Figure Now

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — People now have many more "necessities" than they did in 1940, and there is no way of estimating their wants 10 years from now, according to J. Harry LaBrum, former president of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

LaBrum told the Philadelphia Controllers Institute that it's safe to say the "want" thermometer will register several degrees higher 10 years from now than it does at present.

A young couple of 1940 might have been "perfectly satisfied to rent an apartment and live there for an indefinite period," he said, but today a couple want a house of their own.

"And because they have educated themselves for higher-paying jobs, they can afford it," LaBrum said. "They will either build a new home or buy an older one and renovate it. They either have an automobile, or they will buy one shortly.

"They wouldn't consider being without a mechanical refrigerator, a washing machine or a television set and they probably plan on a deep freezer in the not too distant future."

MRS. AMERICA TROPHY—Among the early arrivals in Daytona Beach, Fla., for the "Mrs. America" contest, "Mrs. Ohio," left, Mrs. Juanita Kerestesy of Cleveland, and "Mrs. Kentucky," Mrs. Patricia Taylor of Louisville, admire the trophy that will go to the winner. The annual contest is held to select the nation's outstanding homemaker.

Camp Fire Girls Aid Foreign Needy

NEW YORK (INS) — The Camp Fire Girls, with more than 370,000 members, aged 7-18, have started their own foreign aid program.

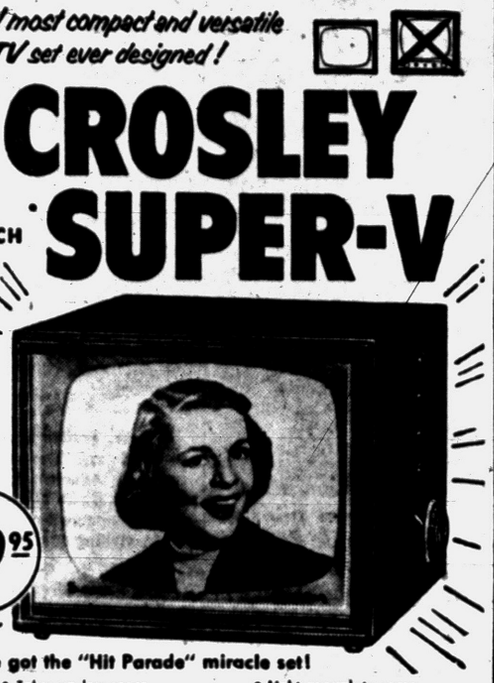

A Massachusetts group shipped two cartons of dolls to London, and in Washington they knitted forty pairs of gloves for Korean war-orphans. In New York State, the girls organized a baby sitting service, and donated $400 of their earnings to purchase an ultra-violet ray machine for treatment of polio patients in Bombay, India.

The program, celebrating the Camp Fire Girl's 44th birthday, included a scrap book of carefully chosen pictures illustrating all phases of American life. It was sent to the Netherlands in the hope that it would "offset the distorted picture of America portrayed in some American films and books."

Press Offers Suggestions

Attention, Brides-to-Be:

Members of the Pontiac Press Women's Department urge all prospective brides to acquaint themselves with the suggestions prepared by the staff, in order to assure a complete and timely wedding story.

As an aid to prompt, accurate and complete information, wedding forms will be mailed upon request, as well as to those who have announced their engagements in the Pontiac Press.

The wedding blank should be returned at least two days before the wedding as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories.

We will not be able to carry details of reception, bridal costumes, etc., if information is received more than three days after the wedding.

Because of limited space, brides-to-be may submit only one picture (either engagement or wedding) if they are to be married within two months of the engagement announcement.

While it is not always possible to provide the picture with the wedding information, brides are asked to note that the picture cannot be used unless it is ready for publication by the third day after the wedding.

However, for best results, it is suggested that brides send their pictures to the department at least one week before release date.

Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, as colored or sepia pictures will not reproduce well.

St. Anne Guild, under Mrs. Joe Worthman, has charge of pies, and the dining room is under the supervision of St. Elizabeth Guild and Mrs. Henry Charlevois.

Highchairs will be available for children, and tickets for the dinner may be purchased at the door. The dinner will be served from noon until 5 o'clock.

Mother of 6 Glad Three Lives Are Over

Wife Helped Philbrick Fool Commies

AP Women's Editor

Eva Philbrick's love of husband and country enabled her to live a grim and desperate lie for nine years.

Eva, whose blonde, blue-eyed beauty reveals a staunch New England strength, is the wife of Herbert A. Philbrick, the man who led three lives as an active member of the Communist party, an undercover man for the FBI and a struggling young advertising salesman. After a nine-year masquerade, he appeared as the government's surprise witness in the 1949 trial of America's top 11 Communists and his testimony played a large part in their conviction.

Mrs. Philbrick, mother of five daughters and a baby son, now lives a peaceful life in White Plains, N. Y., with her husband and children, and tries not to think about the long years when she had to pretend to be an enemy of her country. She speaks reluctantly of those difficult years:

"The hardest time of all was at the first, when my friends kept telling me Herb was attending Communist meetings, and he would just say he had to work late. It was just before our first baby was born, and sometimes I didn't know what to think or do. I thought I knew Herb. We were both raised in Somerville, Mass., met at the Baptist church there, were raised in the strict American traditions of New England.

"Finally I had to ask him about all these rumors, and all he said was, 'Someday I'll tell you.'

"It was after the baby was born that he finally explained to me and an agent of the FBI came and talked to me too and asked me to help out and pretend to be sympathetic to the Communist cause.

"If we had known what we were getting into, I don't know whether we could have gone ahead with it, even then. But we did. And no one ever will know the blessed relief we felt when it was all over, and Herb was able to tell his story in court."

One of the most difficult assignments for Mrs. Philbrick was the pretense required of her in regard to her children. She says:

"Of course one of the main goals of the Communists is to educate the children in their doctrine. They don't believe in Mother Goose or fairy tales for children. The fairy princess is a hated capitalist symbol.

"Whenever we had Communist visitors, we had to hide any nursery rhyme or fairy tale books that happened to be around. Fortunately, I was able to be quite convincing usually by pointing out that I had so many children that I really didn't have much time to read them anything."

Welcome Change

To bring up a very old joke, diapers are always undergoing a change. The latest fashion in three cornered pants is a rectangular diaper with adjustable grippers that opens flat for easy sudsing and fast drying.

Shower Honors Marlene Coin

Marlene Coin was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. Charles Salzman on Baldwin road.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Ed Sutton, Mrs. Harold Bigelow, Mrs. John Salzman, Mrs. Milton Strong and Nancy Gray.

Marlene, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coin of Baldwin road, will speak her vows with David Bess June 5 in First Presbyterian Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bess of Drayton Plains.

Group Entertained by Mrs Austerman

Mrs. Fred Austerman of East Pike street was hostess for the Tuesday evening meeting of the Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church.

Mrs Sam McMurray was cohostess and Mrs. Carl Nelson gave devotions. Guests present were Mrs. Ingabord Orvick, Mrs Clara Richards and a former member from Schenectady N. Y., Mrs Roland Carlson.

Mrs. Fremont Thoe was appointed as a delegate to the district conference to be held April 29 in LaGrange, Ill. Mrs. Adolph Hornblad is an alternate.

Mrs. Arthur Saunders, missionary to China, was guest speaker.

Woman's Painting Hobby Helps Her Face Series of Family Tragedies

And Prevents Middle-Age Letdown

NEW YORK (NEA) — A hobby for everyone. It appears that's what we're headed toward. For in the past few years, people of all ages have been finding that hobbies can solve every problem from having too little to too much to do.

And the harried homemaker, we're told, should not exempt herself from the prescription.

Fast is, a hobby can do double duty for the housewife: It can relieve the fatigue caused by the day's tensions and also lay the foundation for a new way of life after the children have grown up.

As proof it's possible for you, an outstanding exponent of hobbies for housewives told her story in an interview recently.

The stroy reads more like a medical case book than like the history of a woman blessed with a "wonderful husband and four lovely children" — and an award-winning talent in painting.

"I've always put my husband and children first and yet, with all the difficulties, I managed to find some time for painting," Winnie Borne Sherman says.

"All the difficulties" began in 1929, just one year after the birth of Marjorie, the Shermans first child, and shortly after the premature birth of Bob. Marjorie contracted pneumonia and Bob, bleeding dysentery.

Paul, who was born in 1933, developed asthma in 1935. By 1939 his weight was down to 25 pounds and the last born, 2-year-old Lucy, had developed an allergic condition and rheumatic fever, which affected her heart and her eyes.

As she catalogued the family history, one wondered at Winnie Sherman's smooth, unlined skin and dancing eyes.

To what could she attribute her amazing hold on serenity?

"Well, I do have a wonderful husband. Then, too, I'm convinced that painting helped me keep my balance through all the troubles.

"You know, I believe a woman owes it to her family to give them as much happiness as she can. And she can't do that unless she feels a certain amount of self satisfaction.

"For me, painting and the graphic arts were the obvious means of realizing that satisfaction. I have always loved art. I studied it at Columbia University, and in the early days of my marriage I taught art to supplement my husband's income.

"But any woman can realize a similar satisfaction. She can try gardening or needlepoint, book binding, weaving—anything that is creative."

The past several years have been relatively peaceful for the Shermans.

Lately, hospital visits have been joyful occasions. Daughter Marjorie, now living in Oak Park, Mich., has a 2-year-old son. And Bob, a medical student, lives in Philadelphia with his wife and month old daughter. Lucy is almost completely cured.

With her children grown into healthy and happy adulthood (Paul attends Florida Southern College), Mrs. Sherman has had no problem, in her middle years, worrying about what to do with her spare time.

By 1951 her accomplishment was impressively pointed up when one of her watercolors won a prize at the Florida International Exhibition.

She has held one-woman shows in communities neighboring her New Rochelle, N. Y., home. And she has just had her first one-woman show in New York City, no small accomplishment for a wife and mother whose homemaking years have not been easy ones.

The well-groomed hand will wear a short length this spring, in leather gloves that may have wide cuffs or none at all. For dress wear and after-five gatherings, there's this white kid gauntlet (left) with gold-piped cuff and buttons of fake burnished gold. Dressy little daytime shorty (upper center) is capeskin in white and pastels, has pretty leather flower at wristband.

Glove for town and country (upper right) is soft, dove gray peccary with hand saddle-stitching and chunky gold clasp. Thin, moonstone gray kid (lower center) has tiny cuff lined in contrasting white. Wristlet (lower right) is in glistening white kid, has cufflet wrist with V-construction and hand-sewn edge. The short glove is crafted in leathers of many weights this spring.

Short, Short Leather Gloves Gleam With Color

NEW YORK (NEA)—The glove that's shorter than short is the outstanding leather glove for spring. It reaches just to the wristbone, may have a diminutive cuff or none at all.

This short glove is done in leathers of many weights and textures, from soft pigskin to the thinnest kid.

It comes in gleaming white, sparkling pastels and the neutrals as well. It often has vents at side, back or palm and frequently features beautiful hand-stitching.

Decorative trim on these short gloves may take the form of chunky clasps of gold, silver or copper, seed pearls or jewel-studded wooden buttons.

Important new colors for spring include the delicate flower tints and a group called "The Northern Lights"; Lotus blue, anemone pink, jonquil yellow, mint green and lavender mist.

There are even textured pigskins and ostrich leathers in these fresh and lovely colors.

Perforated leather gloves make more good news for women who prefer to wear leather straight through the summer. Such glove have just been shown in pastel kids, white capes and textured leathers.

Treatment given to glove leathers this spring has made them softer than ever. The new kidskins show a tissue-thin fineness, are soft and clinging.

Capeskins are both lighter and more supple; pigskins are both soft and lustrous.

Adult Talk Judged Unfit for Daughter

Mother Wishes to Curb Her Friend's Conversation

By EMILY POST

A mother writes me: "I have a friend who often speaks of very personal matters in the presence of my young daughter. It is not that she is vulgar, but I just don't think some of the subjects she talks about are for young ears to hear. Will you please tell me how I can tell her so without hurting her feelings?"

Answer: Frankly tell her that there are certain subjects that you don't like to discuss when young ears are within hearing, and soften your disapproval by saying that you probably are old-fashioned, but that's the way you are.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a young widow, aged 25. My husband was killed a year after our marriage and I have no children. I have always understood that a widow continues to wear her rings, regardless of length of time.

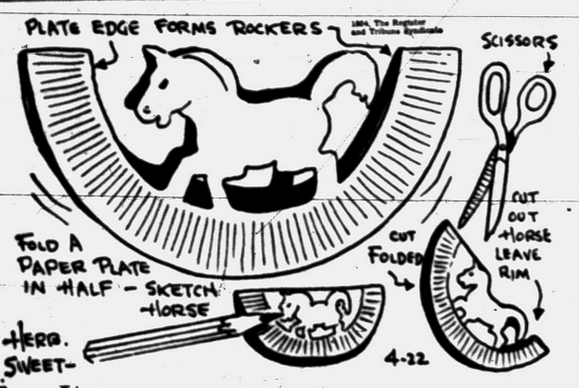

Recently, however, so many people have been asking me why I haven't transferred my wedding ring to my right hand or removed it entirely that I thought I had better check with you.

My husband and I were very happy and I certainly would not want to do anything that would indicate otherwise. I have just started dating again occasionally and that has prompted this question.

Answer: It is correct for a widow to wear her wedidng ring on her left hand as long as she remains unmarried. However, it is not incorrect for her to transfer it to her right hand if she prefers.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be the maid of honor at a friend's wedding. I am told that it is the duty of the attendant of honor to give a shower for the bride-to-be. Is this true? I hadn't planned on giving one but want to do the right thing.

Answer: This may be a practice in some communities, but there is certainly no obligation on the part of the maid of honor to give such a party unless she wants to.

Make Little Hobby Horses

Here is something which you will want to do. This suggestion can be used in several ways. These little bobby horses can be made into a collection which would be nice to hang around near the ceiling of your room.

You could also make them as a little gift for a young child, or they would be fine for table decorations. They can be made in many different designs, for you can get paper plates in all colors and sizes, and even with printed borders on them.

Experiment first with some inexpensive plates. They will not bend wel and are too hard to cut out, too. Most nay of the other paper plates which you find in your store will be fine to work with.

Fold the paper plate in half and sketch on the outline of a horse. You can look through a book and find a drawing to copy, or look at the one in our drawing.

After the outline suits you, cut out around it very carefully. You can now add nay details which you like. Add colored or yarn reins, color the grass, or, pste on tiny buttons for eyes. Make several!

There are about 38,000 varieties mushrooms of which about 1,000 are fit for human consumption.

Hot Water Isn't Safe Above 140

By HUBBARD COBB

As we've said before, hot water for ordinary purposes about the house should not get much hotter than 140 degrees or so.

When it's too hot there is the chance of it giving someone a bad scalding. Also, when water gets so hot that steam forms, it's likely to cause a hammering in the pipes and may even cause a leak in the lines.

If you find that the water coming out of the taps is a little too hot for comfort, there are several things to be done about it.

If you have a modern gas or electric hot water heater, these are usually provided with a thermostat that allows you to set the unit for the desired temperature.

If you get your hot water from the furnace boiler and it is a modeately new installation, you'll find an aquastat on the boiler which can be adjusted to produce hot water at the correct temperature.

In many homes the hot water is heated either by a coil in the furnace or by a type of heater which has no temperature controls. With these, the water is often overheated and the problem is to decrease the temperature to a comfortable point.

About the best way to accomplish this is to install an item called a mixing valve. This valve is put into the line from the heater to the faucets.

A cold water line is run to the mixing valve and the valve is regulated to allow a certain amount of cold water to mix with the hot to produce the correct mixture.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

With Whole World to See, She'll Vacation in Catskills

Where would you go for a three-month vacation if you had the whole world to choose from?

I got so excited about having a real holiday this summer after being tied every weekday for 20 years to a microphone that I talked about it too much and now I am an addled, confused woman, completely surrounded by well-wishers' travel books and pamphlets depicting acres of impossibly golden suns, silver moons, sapphire skies, shimmering beaches, remote deserts, snow-capped mountains and fearsome jungles.

Only three months of vacation and all this to choose from! Never again can I agree with those who claim the world is shrinking—that in this jet era Paris is a suburb of New York or vice versa; that the South Seas, New Zealand and the Far North are a mere hop, skip and jump from where I sit.

MISS McBRIDE

Several places I have thought about with longing through the years of staying home: The island of Bali because a returning anthropologist told me you never hear a scolding word there; Grasse, France, where they make gallons of perfume; the Sahara Desert over which you can gallop for miles on your fleet Arabian steed, burnoose streaming in the wind, and never meet another living soul; Hunsa, because it's supposed to be unenterable—though people seem always to be entering it.

Set down thus, this seems a curious assortment of vacation prospects, but I see they furnish an unmistakable clue to the Real Me—half-shrinking, half-daring creature who wants peace, space, perfume and to go somewhere that nobody else has ever been!

I suppose it would add to the picture to take note, in addition, of certain other wistful cravings that have assalled me from time to time and of past invitatio : that I might belatedly accept.

There have been days when I thought nothing could be nicer than lying on a beach in the South Pacific, a hibiscus behind each ear and a pareu—whatever that is—wound about my middle, playing a nose flute and drinking in the fragrance of frangi-pani, ginger flowers and gardenias.

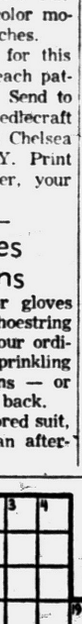

I'm afraid I've lost track of the man from South America who promised to teach me how to eat a termite on the wing, biting it before it could bite me. Delicious, he said, if you can master the trick. I've been offered other exotic delicacies in distant places: Fried grubs, broiled sheep's eyes and boiled shoe thongs—they're all waiting for me somewhere if I will come and get them.

I think the invitation to be one of the wise women in a compound in Nigeria carried with it a sort of witch-woman implication which might be a nice change. I shan't go elephant hunting with the Indian maharajah who invited me, but if I really start wandering, there's a parade in Mysore, India, with a maharajah in gold brocade and diamonds perched on an elephant wearing painted toenails, a gold necklace and earrings, that I decidedly must see.

What's the use though? It's too much. I simply can't choose. So I'll just go up to Stella's farm in the Catskills, sit on her stone terrace in a rocking chair and brood about what I'm missing.

Anyway, with due deference to modern transportation, could I ever be sure that my column would get back from all these places on time for you to read it every day?

Glamorize Gloves by Using Sequins

Want a pair of glamor gloves on short notice or on a shoestring budget? Take a pair of your ordinary cottons, and sew a sprinkling of seed pearls and sequins — or some of each — over the back.

They'll sparkle up a tailored suit, or be quite at home on an after-five date.

Hat in Hand May Not Look Good on Head

ITHACA, N. Y. (INS) — A hat may look good in the hand, but that doesn't mean it will look good on the head.

According to clothing specialists at Cornell University your hat should be as wide as the widest part of your face. Otherwise, your face will seem to bulge out from it and this draws attention to any facial defects.

Many women think that glasses create problems in hat-buying but the specialists say that the only rule to remember is that the hat, worn with glasses, should show most of the forehead.

If you have a large face and an ample figure, stay clear of either very tiny or extremely large hats. Instead, choose one that's fairly bulky and has an upward-going line.

A hat that has an irregular brim softens irregular lines like a nose that's either too large or too tilted. Soft trimmings that project a little over the forehead may help. In any case, don't choose a hat that draws attention to unattractive nose or forehead lines.

If your neck is short, a wide-brimmed or cloche hat will only make it seem shorter. Instead, you'll need one that directs the line upward and shows every inch of your neck.

Three Books Are Reviewed Before Sorority

Adah Shelly, Pontiac city librarian, reviewed three books before Alpha Sigma Nu sorority at the Lake Angelus home of Mrs. Russel Evans Monday.

The books reviewed were "Rainbow on the Road" by Esther Forbes, "The Mind Alive" by Harry and Bonero Overstreet and "Forty Plus and Fancy Free" by Emily Kimbrough.

Mrs. Howard Looney conducted the meeting, and reports were given by the various committees. Mrs. Evans was chairman of the program, with Mrs. Guy Donnell, Elsie Forney and Mrs. William Looney assisting.

Plans were completed for a dessert cooking school to be held in Consumers Power auditorium May 4. Mrs. T. P. Robertson, Mrs. Mamie Smith, Olive Huntley, and Mrs D. J. Hackett will assist Jessie Stevens with arrangements. Tickets are available from members.

Suzanne Welch, Glenn Reynolds Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in First Christian Church, Suzanne Welch became the bride of Glenn A. Reynolds.

The Carroll Welches of Watkins Lake road and the Howard Reynolds' of Boston avenue are their parents.

Two-hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Duncan McColl at 8 o'clock. The bride wore a beige suit with navy accessories and she carried a prayerbook with a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. James Younger attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a powder blue suit with pink accessories and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Loren Bray was best man, and seating the guests were Ronald Holland and Jerry Gaultney.

Mrs. Welch chose a brown print dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Reynolds wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. The couple is residing on Boston avenue.

Creswell Society Conducts Meeting

"News From Other Shores" was the program topic presented by Mrs. Andrew Creswell Monday evening when Eleanor Creswell Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Donald Upton on East Third avenue.

Mrs. Floyd Levely led devotions based on "Yardsticks," and a program, "Youth Responds," was given by Mrs. LeRoy Koch, Mrs. Grace Waite, Mrs. Norman Nelson and Mrs. Freeman Sears.

Presbyterial Day of Prayer, to be held at Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church at 10 o'clock May 11, was announced. Mrs. Nelson assisted the hostess.

Sees Little Further Rise in Life Span

CHICAGO (UP) — A New York doctor believes that unless medical men discover new methods, they are nearing the limit in increasing life expectancy.

Dr. Perrin H. Long, professor of medicine at the State University of New York, said the increase in the life span has been achieved mostly through the control of infectious diseases. But that method of preserving life has about been worked out, Long wrote in the Illinois Medical Journal.

Life expectancy at birth has risen from 46.6 years in 1911 to 68.4 years in 1951.

"It appears quite clear," Long said, "that we have almost reached the maximum of increase in life expectancy which can be gained by control of infectious processes in the United States.

"In 1951, but about 20 per cent of deaths occurring in individuals under 15 years were due to infections."

Pigeon No Longer Goes Off to School

ENID, Okla. (UP) — Oscar the pigeon is fretting in his cage these days because he can't go to school.

Oscar, who belongs to the Claude Hood family here, is the pigeon equivalent of Mary's little lamb. Everyday he followed young Claude Hood to school, where the boy is in the second grade.

It isn't exactly against the rule to take a pigeon to school here, but one of Claude's teachers began to fear Oscar might get hurt in the children's daily game of catch-the-bird.

It turned out that Claude's mother didn't know the pigeon was getting a formal education. She agreed it would be safer for Oscar to stay at home.

So Oscar frets in his cage while the children play less interesting games.

all is such a blessing in your automatic washer!

Everything comes out so soft and clean when you wash the new controlled suds way with all—the detergent prescribed by washer makers!

THE REASON all gets your clothes so much cleaner and fresher than ordinary detergents is that all does its work with controlled suds. all's controlled suds help the washing action of your machine, instead of hindering it the way thick suds do.

That's why so many makers of automatic washers urge you to forget your old ideas about suds . . . and use all.

Thick suds are mere froth

What good does it do to have a layer of suds drifting around on top of the wash water when the clothes that need washing are down underneath?

Suds don't help your automatic washer. In fact, they get in its way. You can't expect your washer to wash thoroughly or rinse thoroughly if it's all choked up with heavy lather.

These modern machines are scientifically designed to dunk and tumble the clothes . . . to swish and slosh them around freely so the stubbornest dirt can be loosened.

That's why all's controlled suds are such a blessing. They actually help with the washing and rinsing. And that's why all-washed clothes look so much brighter, feel so much softer, smell so much fresher!

Rinsing is complete

Thick suds are a serious problem in your automatic washer. They stick to clothes stubbornly during the rinse cycle, no matter how often the water is changed.

Unless every trace of suds is removed, white clothes turn grey. Bright clothes turn dull. But all's controlled suds rinse out quickly and completely.

There is no dried-up suds deposit to leave a dingy film—or irritate sensitive skin. (If there is a baby in your family, isn't it nice to know that all gets his diapers hygienically clean as well as fluffy-soft!)

Washer makers prescribe all

Men who make automatic washers know that suds are a handicap to their machines. So they asked for a new kind of detergent that wouldn't foam up into useless suds.

all was the happy answer—a new "controlled suds" detergent that helps automatic washers work exactly as they're supposed to work.

Every particle of pure, fragrant all works for you—down in the wash water where the washing has to be done. all doesn't let its washing power loaf around on top where it can't do any work.

all does the best job for you, and does it without waste. And that's why it is not only approved but actually prescribed by men who make automatic washers, men who sell them, and ladies who demonstrate them.

all saves money—saves bother

Each box of all contains all you need for perfect washing. You don't have to bother buying a bleach, bluing or water softener.

These extras are all included in all. Just the right amount of water softener and whitener is blended into this controlled suds detergent. You are sure of getting the clean-smelling, bright-looking wash your dealer promised you when he sold you your machine.

Read all's special offer

Use all in your automatic next time you wash. It's wonderful for the grimiest work and play clothes, for dainty lingerie, for baby's things. It's unconditionally recommended for the new miracle fabrics like Acrilan, Dynel, Orlon, and nylon.

If all isn't the finest detergent you have ever used in your automatic washer, your dealer has been instructed to refund your money. Monsanto Chemical Company, St. Louis, Missouri.

Flank Steak Is Beef at Its Best

Fluffy Rice, Crisp Salad, Plenty of Hot Coffee Completes Meal

There's nothing better than beef when it comes to preparing a simple but luxurious meal, and London Broil with Butter Sauce is beef at its best.

A ring of fluffy rice, drenched in the sauce, is a garnish and a taste-teasing change from the more usual accompaniments.

Serve with a crisp mixed salad and plenty of coffee, piping hot and freshly fragrant. Who could ask for more?

London Broil With Butter Sauce

1 top-quality flank steak (about 2½ lbs.)
⅓ cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons dry red table wine
Cooked rice

Preheat broiler. Place flank steak on rack with surface about 3 inches below source of heat. Broil 3 minutes on each side.

Meanwhile melt butter or margarine in large frying pan. Add wine and heat until bubbling.

Cut flank steak diagonally into thin slices. Drop into frying pan and cook one minute. Remove to hot platter, surround with border of rice.

Pour remaining wine sauce in frying pan over rice and steak. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

LONDON BROIL—The lesser known flank steak is treated to the gourmet's touch and comes out as a glamorous dish. Just be sure to cut the meat diagonally across the grain, since the muscles run lengthwise of this cut of meat. It's wonderful eating.

Stuffed Egg Recipe Tempts Appetites

You'll find these stuffed eggs are seasoned deliciously.

Savory Egg Salad

6 hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Pepper
Paprika
Lettuce
Extra mayonnaise or French dressing

Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Remove yolks and put in mixing bowl; mash fine with fork. Add mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt, mustard, Worcestershire and pepper to taste; mix well. Spoon yolk mixture back into whites, piling lightly. Run sharp tines of fork over yolks to flute; sprinkle with paprika. Arrange 3 stuffed egg halves on lettuce on each of 4 salad plates. Serve with extra mayonnaise or French dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Non-Fat Dry Milk Solids Offer Low Cost Nutrition

The following information comes to us from Mrs. Frieda A. Bennett, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent of Oakland County.

Many homemakers are not acquainted with one of the newer members of the milk family—dry milk solids. What is it? How to use it? And why use it? These are questions that come up.

Nonfat dry milk solids is dried milk from which the milk fat and water have been removed. It is in powder form. You can buy it at the dairy or in cartons in your food stores.

Many Michigan homemakers report a money saving by using dry milk solids in cooking and in baking . . . but dry milk solids can be made liquid by simply adding water and mixing. Then the reconstituted milk can be used for drinking in place of fluid milk.

When you use dry milk solids in cooking you are adding nutritive value just as if you used whole milk, except the milk fat and water have been removed. You can use dry milk solids in most of your recipes. You can use it in practically all foods from soups to desserts. Try it in soups, beverages, main dishes and your desserts, including baked products.

In cream soups, eggnogs, cocoa and milk shakes it provides good nutritive value at a lower cost. Dry milk solids added to your meat loaf will increase its nutritive value.

There is no mystery about the amount of dry milk solids you can make by adding water. On the package or carton are the directions which show that one cup of water added to ¼ cup of milk solids will give you one cup of fluid skim milk. One quart of water added to one cup of milk solids will give you one quart of fluid skim milk.

Remember when you are using fluid skim milk you do not get the vitamin A which is in whole milk. If non fat milk solids or fluid skim milk is used instead of whole milk —additional amounts of food containing vitamin A must be eaten to keep the diet well balanced.

Angelfood Dessert Perfect for Sunday

This luscious angelfood dessert is perfect for Sunday dinner.

Angelfood With Pineapple Topping

½ cup cold light cream
½ cup cold milk
½ cup pineapple juice
1 package vanilla instant pudding
Angelfood cake slices

Pour cream, milk and pineapple juice into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat with egg beater 1 minute, or until well mixed. Let stand until set—takes about 5 minutes. Just before serving, stir topping until creamy. Serve on angelfood slices.

Base Onion Soup Treat on Condensed Bouillon

For onion soup that's grand as a chef's, use this simple recipe based on condensed bouillon. First cook 1 cup thinly sliced onion until limp in 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add 1 can condensed bouillon and 1 soup can water. Simmer gently for 30 minutes.

Serve topped with toasted slices of French bread, sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese.

Increase Vitamin Intake by Adding Wheat Germ

Up the vitamin content of your family's food by using wheat germ. Sprinkle it over ready-to-eat cereal or stir it into cooked cereal.

Store the wheat germ, after you have opened the container it comes in, in the refrigerator so as to prevent rancidity. Be sure to cover it tightly.

The easiest way to cut parsley is with scissors. Bunch together and snip away. Lettuce, too, can be cut with scissors.

New Cake Decoration

Next time you want to try something different in cake decorations, use tinted coconut. Half fill a glass jar with shredded coconut and sprinkle in a few drops of diluted coloring. Place cover on jar tightly and shake vigorously.

To eliminate waste when measuring molasses, grease the cup lightly.

Save 10¢ on the new Flavor-Blended DURKEE'S MARGARINE

All margarines are a blend of flavors—but there is a big difference in ordinary margarines. The flavors separate. In new Durkee's this can't happen . . . because Durkee scientists have found the secret of blending the flavors together so they will never separate.

This new process makes Durkee's Flavor-Blended Margarine equal to any spread at any price.

Next time you shop, be sure to get new Durkee's. Once you taste it, you'll never go back to the spread you're using now.

Light, Airy Sponge Cake Made With Ripe Bananas

This beautiful month of April is just the time to make a cake light as a cloud, with fruit flavor fresh as a new spring bud.

Every experienced homemaker knows that April in the month of plenty for eggs, and it is eggs that make a wonderful sponge cake. Add the flavor of fully ripe mellow bananas to your sponge cake and you will have a cake as delicate and delicious as spring itself.

The technique for adding characteristic banana flavor to cake batters is to whip or mash the bananas well so that it becomes liquid. Do it by slicing them into a bowl and beating them with a fork or with a rotary beater, or you can break the bananas into chunks and beat with an electric mixer.

To capture banana flavor at its peak for this cake, choose fully ripe bananas that have yellow peel flecked with brown. In fully ripe bananas, the characteristic flavor and natural sweetness are most highly developed, and the fruit is readily digestible.

Garnish this beautiful banana Sponge Cake with whipped cream and sliced ripe bananas, or frost it with your favorite frosting and you will have a perfect spring dessert.

Banana Sponge Cake

Before Mixing: Have eggs at room temperature. Set oven at 350 degrees.

1 cup sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
½ cup mashed ripe banana* (about 1 banana)

Sift flour and salt twice. Beat egg whites in large mixing bowl until stiff enough to form moist peaks. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly until very stiff. Do not underbeat.

In separate bowl, beat egg yolks until thick. Add lemon juice. Continue beating until thick and lemon colored. Add egg white mixture, beating constantly until blended.

Gradually fold in flour alternately with bananas. Turn into an ungreased tube pan (9 inches in diameter, 3½ inches deep.) Bake at 350 degrees about 35 to 45 minutes, or until cake is done. (To test doneness, press top lightly with finger. If no imprint remains, cake is done.)

Immediately turn pan upside down, placing tube part over a small-necked bottle or funnel so that pan is elevated above surface of table. Let cake hang until cold. Loosen sides and tube with spatula. Turn pan over and tap edge sharply to loosen.

Top with whipped cream and sliced bananas or frost with your favorite frosting. Makes 1 (9-inch) tube cake . . . 12 servings.

Don't Rile at Mishaps

Don't allow cooking mishaps to disturb you. In most instances you can salvage something. When soup is too salty, cut a raw potato and cook it in the soup for a few minutes.

Serve Food Early

You'll find entertaining will go more smoothly if you serve food during the evening rather than at the end. Too often guests have lost interest in food by the time the hostess serves it.

Soak Broccoli, Sprouts

Generally, vegetables should not be soaked before cooking, as this robs them of their vitamins. However, such vegetables as Brussels sprouts and broccoli must be soaked to be thoroughly cleaned.

Pear-Nut Salad Rich in Protein

Nutritionally minded homemakers will be happy to find a pear salad rich in protein, so a special one was developed for Pearadise Salad Month — April.

Cottage cheese and peanuts are both good sources of protein, important for body building and repair in both young and old. Combined with the sweet juiciness of canned Bartlett pears, the mild goodness of cottage cheese with carrot strips and peanuts for crispness, this should become a favorite family salad.

Pearadise Nut Salad

8 canned pear halves (1 No. 2½ can)
¾ cup cottage cheese
1 medium carrot
¼ cup peanuts
Lettuce or other salad greens
French dressing

Line salad plates with crisp salad greens. Drain pear halves and place two on each plate, cut side up and with tips overlapping. Fill each cavity with a tablespoon of cottage cheese.

Slice carrot lengthwise into thin pieces and garnish each salad with three or four strips. Sprinkle with peanuts. Serve with French dressing. Will serve 4.

To Go With Sprouts

An easy sauce for frozen Brussels sprouts is made by combining ½ can undiluted cream of celery soup with some grated sharp cheese. Stir and heat until the cheese melts. Spoon the sauce over the cooked Brussels sprouts. Result? A fine flavored vegetable dish.

TUNA PATTIES HAWAIIAN—Nutritious canned tuna combined with cooked rice, cocoanut and other flavorful ingredients make these tempting baked tuna patties. Sauteed pineapple rings, a dish of chutney and a tossed salad are perfect accompaniments.

All One Needs: Tuna and Recipe

With a good stock of tuna on the kitchen shelf and a few good recipes on file it's an easy job for any homemaker to tackle the problem of meatless meals.

Versatile canned tuna from California needs no preparation and can be made into any number of flavorful dishes for appetizer, salad or main course serving. Here is a simple time and money-saving suggestion:

Baked Tuna Patties Hawaiian

2 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, drained
1 cup cooked rice
3 tablespoons minced onion
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
Salt and pepper to taste
1 egg, beaten
Chutney

Break tuna into pieces with a fork; combine tuna and all remaining ingredients except chutney; mix well. Shape into 12 patties and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 450 oven 20 to 25 minutes, or until browned. Serve hot with chutney. Makes 6 servings.

Couple Gives Food Editor Cooking Tips---Iraq Style

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Recent weekend guests in our home were a young couple from Baghdad, Iraq, Hashim and Sherifa Alsaati. They were two of the international students from the University of Michigan who spent the weekend in Pontiac area homes.

MRS. ODELL

Get two women together and what do they discuss? They talk about food, clothing and children, though not necessarily in that order.

In spite of the fact that Mrs. Alsaati and I were born and raised many thousands of miles apart, in different countries and cultures, with a language barrier between us, we found many common points of interest.

I should hasten to add that Sherifa does speak English far better than I could ever speak any foreign language; her limited vocabulary increased in the two days, because I couldn't converse in the Arabic tongue at all.

Before our first meal Sherifa was confronted with a strange fruit, the pineapple. She asked if she could help, and fixing a fresh pineapple was the job that needed doing at the moment.

Iraq grows four-fifths of the world's dates, much citrus fruit, several kinds of berries and apples—and I put a pineapple in front of her! Incidentally, both the Alsaatis liked the pineapple, I think; they were very polite and ate it.

Since we were supposed to be showing a typical American family in all its aspects, I had planned the kind of meals we would normally have in two days. Some other hostesses had their guests showing them how to cook native dishes. Ours didn't (but we talked about them).

If the Alsaati's return for a summer weekend, I hope Sherifa will do some Iraqi cooking for us.

One of the main differences between American and Iraqi meal planning and preparation is refrigeration. Marketing must be done every day, because food will not keep.

I guess it is only the Americans who insist upon icing their drinks. Mrs. Alsaati removed the ice cube from her soft drink.

But ice cream and cola drinks are known and liked in Iraq. Hashim said that ice cream is sold in Baghdad in the summer time very much as it is sold here by traveling vendors. He said their young daughter, aged two, already knows the ice cream man and begs for a treat.

Tea, coffee and milk are all drunk in Iraq. I gathered that tea is more popular than coffee, in spite of the fact that one of the places coffee originated was in Persia, Iraq's next door neighbor.

Hashim recommended a favorite drink of yogurt, beaten up with a little added milk and salt. Cooled, this is an excellent hot weather drink.

I asked Sherifa if she has any trouble shopping for food in Ann Arbor. She says that is not one of her problems, for the supermarkets have about everything she wants.

Lamb is their staple meat, with ground beef a close second. Mutton which they can easily obtain in Iraq is harder to find in America.

People in Iraq eat meat more in combination dishes than separately as we often do. Rice is the usual cereal food. Fresh vegetable salads of chopped lettuce, cucumbers, tomatoes, parsley, with a vinegar and oil dressing are frequently served.

The Alsaatis think they may try some of our salad oils instead of always using olive oil, but as Hashim said smilingly, "It is not easy to change one's habits." That is true for most of us.

Fresh fruit is the usual dessert. Cakes and cookies sometimes are served, but these are bought from a shop, not made in the home.

Their bread is the unleavened kind. Sherifa was interested in watching me make yeast bread.

One main dish recipe of Sherifa's I want to try. It calls for lamb. If your family absolutely refuses to eat that meat, try Kubba with chopped beef.

Aleppo Kubba

1 pound of rice
4 eggs, beaten
1 to 1½ pounds lamb, cut in small pieces
2 onions, chopped
Raisins—about ¾ cup of raisins to 1 cup of meat
Salt
Parsley
Oil for cooking

Cook rice until tender, but not mushy. Season with salt and as much curry as desired. Add the beaten eggs and mix together thoroughly.

Brown the lamb and onions in the oil. When brown, add the raisins. Season with salt, curry and chopped parsley.

Make thin patties out of the rice mixture. Put a spoonful of the meat and raisin mixture in the middle of the rice patty. Bring the rice up and around to cover the meat and form into a cylinder, (like a croquette).

Beat 2 more eggs in a bowl. Dip each rice cylinder into the egg and put immediately into hot oil in a frying pan. Roll the cylinder around to get the outside crisp.

Serve as the main dish with green salad and fruit for a dessert. Serves 8 to 10 generously.

Add Extra Seasoning to Canned Beef Gravy

A can of beef gravy will do a lot for plain-Jane browned beef patties or for sliced roast beef. Each can of gravy contains 1¼ cups, a good amount of sauce for 4 or 6 servings.

You can spice up the gravy with special seasonings of your own choice. For instance, try a dash of oregano or thyme added to the gravy as it heats. Or sprinkle in a little poultry seasoning or ground cloves — or allspice. Any of these gravy sauces will give the luxury taste to everyday meats.

WHEAT POTATO PANCAKES—Wheat Potato Pancakes made with toasted wheat germ make a simple meal interesting and nutritious. Top them off with tart apple sauce or thick sour cream. Wheat germ is an excellent dietary balance for potatoes because the Vitamin B1 it contains helps change the potato starch into energy.

Wheat Germ Gives Foods Delicious Nutlike Flavor

Many nutrition experts are telling us to eat some wheat germ every day for added protection against B-vitamin and protein deficiency.

It's easy to form the everyday habit when you just add a few tablespoons of wheat germ to cereal every morning. But suppose you or other members of your family don't eat cereal or eat it only occasionally.

Then the imaginative homemaker will find dozens of other ways to use wheat germ: in meat loaf, hamburgers, breads, cookies, muffins, pancakes; as topping for casseroles and puddings; in salads or cottage cheese.

When you make scalloped potatoes, sprinkle wheat germ generously over the top for a toasty, flavorful crust.

Or scoop the inside out of large baked potatoes cut in half lengthwise; mash them with enough milk to make them very light and fluffy. Mix in a tablespoon of wheat germ for each potato. Refill potato shells, dot with butter and brown slightly under broiler.

You can make a tempting and economical main dish with these delicious Wheat Potato Pancakes. Serve them with tart apple sauce or thick sour cream. You never knew potatoes could be so good.

Wheat Potato Pancakes

6 raw medium potatoes
1 small onion
2 eggs, unbeaten
¾ cup wheat germ
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Peel and grate potatoes and onion fine. Beat in eggs, mix in wheat germ, flour, baking powder, seasoning. Drop by spoonfuls into hot shallow fat or bacon drippings in heavy skillet.

Spread pancake thin and fry over medium heat until each side is golden brown. Makes 10-12 pancakes.

Casserole Combines Deviled Ham, Rice

If you use pre-cooked rice, this dish will be done in practically no time at all. You probably will have most of the ingredients on your cupboard shelves right now.

Deviled Rice Casserole

1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 cans (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
1 small green pepper, chopped
½ cup milk or evaporated milk
2 cups cooked rice
Seasonings to taste
Grated cheese

Combine soup, ham, pepper, milk and rice. Season to taste and turn into greased casserole. Top with a generous sprinkling (or ring around edge) of grated cheese. Bake in 350 oven 20-25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Good Thirst Quencher

Thirst quencher pickup for warm spring day: Apple juice, ice cold from the refrigerator — spiked with lemon juice. . . .a drink for all ages, from the young chick to wise old owl.

Puffy Spoon Bread Supposed to Serve 6

Top this firm variety of spoon bread with lots of butter.

Spoon Bread

2 cups milk
1 cup white corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 eggs (separated)

Scald milk in top part of double boiler over hot water. Stir in corn meal gradually; continue to cook and stir until thickened. Remove from heat.

Add salt and butter, stir until butter is melted. Beat egg whites until stiff with rotary beater; without washing beater, beat egg yolks until they begin to get thick and lemon color.

Stir corn meal mixture into egg yolks gradually. Fold into beaten egg whites. Turn into buttered 2-quart casserole (about 8 inches in diameter and about 3 inches deep). Bake in 375 oven about 35 minutes or until puffed high and lightly browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Individual Eggs Can Be Frozen and Packaged

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—Package eggs for freezing in amounts you can use at one time.

Pint jars, for example, will hold just enough egg whites to make a large angel food cake; half-pint containers will hold the right amount of whole eggs for many different recipes.

Home economists at the University of Illinois say smaller amounts can be frozen in plastic ice-cube trays or small plastic molds and then wrapped individually after they are frozen.

Generally, 3¼ tablespoons of defrosted whole egg mixture equals the amount of one egg as called for in a recipe. Two tablespoons of defrosted egg white equal one egg white and 1¼ tablespoons of defrosted egg yolk equal one egg yolk.

In freezing, label the package with the date of storage. Frozen whole eggs and egg yolks will keep for six to eight months while frozen egg whites will keep for a year.

If Mayonnaise Curdles, Add to Beaten Egg Yolk

If you've stored homemade mayonnaise in too cold a place, and it curdles, you can recondition it.

Just put an egg yolk in a bowl and beat it slightly; now add the curdled mayonnaise a little at a time, beating it in thoroughly as you do so.

Salad and Dessert in Gelatin Surprise

Here is a spring luncheon to satisfy the urge to create something special for guests or your own dear ones.

Prepare your favorite casserole in advance. Then, serve this shimmering Lime Apricot Surprise—a salad and dessert in one. Cream cheese and pecan halves, added to fruity lime-flavored gelatin with apricots, make a delicious climax to the meal.

This is made in advance so at meal time simply unmold and garnish. A bowl of mayonnaise, crisp hot rolls and a beverage complete the meal.

Lime Apricot Surprise

1 package lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
6 drained canned apricot halves
Pecan halves

Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Shape cheese into 6 balls. Place in bottom of 6 individual molds. Top with apricots, cut side down.

Arrange 2 or 3 pecan halves around side of mold. Fill molds with slightly thickened gelatin. Chill until firm.

Unmold on salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise.

GRAPE JELLY PARFAIT—Here's an "old familiar" turned fancy. It's easy to do, inexpensive, and can be put together at the very last minute. Make the pudding part during the morning hours, chill, and before serving spoon in the ribbons of grape jelly between layers of chilled pudding.

Apple Juice Processed in Two Delicious Types

Apple juice is of two delicious types — clarified and non-clarified. The non-clarified contains some of the apple pulp. Some families prefer the one and some the other. It's all a matter of choice.

So in buying apple juice you'll find it processed to your taste, clarified or non-clarified . . in your style, canned or in bottles. . .for your convenience, always handy when you want a quick refreshing drink.

Napkins Aid Carver

Place some paper napkins beside the man of the house when he is doing the carving. They'll come in handy when he wants to wipe off his hands.

Golden Brown Scones Yummy Over Rhubarb

A deep-dish rhubarb pie will surely please your family when topped with a golden brown scone crust. If time is short, spoon the rich scone dough atop the delicate pink rhubarb.

When you want to make the pie a little "special," roll out the dough and cut with fancy-shaped cookie cutters. Then place the rounds on the sweetened fruit. Serve this dessert while it's still warm from the oven . . . wonderful eating!

Allow at least an hour when you are cooking mature beets; young beets will usually cook in about 40 minutes.

Colorful Ribbons of Jelly Lend Elegance to Pudding

You're always looking for a recipe that's short on fuss and fixings and long on good taste and good looks.

One answer is a grape jelly parfait. It's so easy to make, even a teenager could put it together in minutes and without being bored in the doing or disappointed with the result.

Inexpensive, too. All you need are your regular standbys from the refrigerator such as eggs and milk, and staples from your pantry shelves such as quick-cooking tapioca and grape jelly.

It's the grape jelly that gives the parfait its elegance, making a fancy dessert out of a simple pudding.

With these colorful sweeteners on hand, it's easy to turn an old familiar recipe into one that looks and tastes like a "company dish."

Grape Jelly Parfait

1 egg, separated
2 cups milk
4 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring
½ cup grape jelly

In a saucepan, beat egg yolk slightly. Gradually stir in milk, mixing thoroughly. Add 2 tablespoons sugar, salt and tapioca.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil, about 5 to 8 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Whip egg white until soft peaks form. Add remaining 2 tablespoons sugar, a tablespoon at a time, whipping well after each addition, until stiff peaks form.

Fold egg white mixture into the hot tapioca mixture. Cool. Stir to mix completely, then chill.

Just before serving, spoon ribbons of grape jelly between layers of tapioca pudding in parfait glasses. Then decorate with whipped cream topped with a dab of grape jelly if you wish.

Oysters Can Be Mixed in Lots of Easy Dishes

One of the big advantages of canned oysters is that they fix up in lots of ways and easily, too . . . in soups, baked dishes, creamed ones, scrambled eggs or stuffing. For instance, tomato soup with the contents of a can of oysters added makes a hearty and attractive main dish.

When the homemaker tucks canned oysters into an omelet, serves them in cocktail, or scallops them with potatoes, she adds valuable body-building protein to the diet, plus iron and B vitamins which contribute to our general well-being.

Another bonus about using canned oysters is the way they extend rich flavor to make a common dish taste like real luxury and deliciousness.

Baked Pear Halves Are Fine With Ham

Cranberry Pears
(a baked relish)

1 can pear halves
1 cup corn flakes
Melted butter
1-pound can whole cranberry sauce

Roll cereal fine. Dip cut side of pears in melted butter, then roll in crushed cereal and place cut side up in open baking pan. Let bake at 350 degrees until lightly brown. Add a spoonful of cranberry sauce to each. Garnish ham slices with pears and mint.

Quick Chicken Pie

Ever fill a flaky pie shell with creamed chicken? It's a delicious combination and attractive, too, if you bake some pastry cutouts and place them over the chicken before serving. Use any cookie-cutter shape you like for the cutouts.

STUFFED VEAL BIRDS—This is a favorite dish in New York's Greenwich Village restaurants. Veal shoulder, stuffed with cottage cheese and mushrooms, is rolled like a jelly roll, then braised in a tomato sauce. Serve it in a spaghetti nest; green beans, salad with tart dressing and fruit and cheese for dessert will complete the meal.

Greenwich Village Birds Made With Veal and Rolled

In New York's Greenwich Village you'll find many authentic Italian restaurants. This recipe for Stuffed Veal Birds on Spaghetti comes from one of those restaurants.

Don't cook your spaghetti too much — that's what our Italian friends advise.

Village Veal Birds on Spaghetti

1½ pounds veal shoulder, cut in thin slices
1 cup cottage cheese
½ cup chopped canned mushrooms
1 large clove garlic
¼ cup olive or salad oil
½ cup chopped onions
1 1-pound can tomatoes
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
¼ teaspoon oregano
Dash sage
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti

Have bucher flatten veal and cut into pieces 4 by 6 inches. In a bowl, combine cottage cheese and mushrooms; place some of cottage cheese mixture on each veal slice. Roll each piece, jelly-roll fashion, and tie securely with heavy thread.

Rub a large skillet with ½ clove garlic; mince the remaining ½ clove. Heat olive or salad oil in the skillet; cook veal rolls in hot oil until browned on all sides. Remove veal rolls.

Add onions and remaining garlic and cook until onions are tender; add tomatoes, tomato paste, oregano, sage and 1½ teaspoons salt. Mix well and bring to a boil over medium heat; add veal birds and reduce heat. Cover and cook over low heat about 50 minutes; remove thread from veal birds.

About 10 minutes before sauce is done, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil.

Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Arrange cooked spaghetti on heated serving dish and top with veal birds and sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Unsweetened Bread Go-Along With Ham

This unsweetened quick bread is a good go-along for a main course such as ham.

No-Sugar Quick Loaf

3 cups prepared biscuit mix
1 egg
1¼ cups milk
½ cup pitted dates (thinly sliced)
½ cup moist shredded coconut (cut in short lengths)
½ cup pecans
½ cup walnuts

When measuring biscuit mix, spoon into cup lightly; do not pack down. Put biscuit mix in mixing bowl; add egg and milk. Beat with rotary beater just until dry ingredients are moistened, about ½ minute—mixture will be lumpy. Stir in dates, coconut, pecans and walnuts all at one time, using as few strokes as possible. Turn into greased loaf pan (about 9 by 5 by 2½ inches). Bake in moderate 350 degrees oven 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on rack; cool thoroughly before slicing.

Tender Fresh Asparagus Approaching Peak Season

Pontiac Press Food Editor

When I bought my first big bunch of asparagus at a reasonable price the other day, I knew it was time to write about this delicious spring vegetable.

Although modern canning and freezing methods make asparagus available throughout the year, the season for the fresh product is all too short. I, for one, intend to make the most of it and serve asparagus often.

If you have ever grown this tender, green delicacy, you know how long it takes to get a bed of asparagus started. No shoots may be picked for the first three years, but must be allowed to grow tall and to develop the fragile "ferns", used so profusely in other days in most floral arrangements.

Once the roots are well established, the plants will produce for twelve to fifteen years. It is great fun to go out, armed with a sharp knife, and cut your dinner vegetable out of the ground. The stalks grow with amazing rapidity, as much as 8 to 10 inches a day!

Asparagus is rich in vitamins and minerals and low in calories. It is therefore not only good for you, but kind to your figure. Of course, if you're going to "slather" it with butter, it won't remain a low calorie dish.

Here is a good sauce to pour over hot asparagus, a sauce not too rich.

Fresh Lemon Butter

¼ cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon paprika

Blend ingredients together. Serve over hot, cooked fresh asparagus. Makes 4 servings. Dieters can use just lemon juice.

When you buy asparagus, look for fresh, firm, green stalks. Buy 2 pounds for 4 servings. When you are ready to cook it, break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily.

Wash thoroughly. Remove any loose scales (asparagus grows in sandy soil and collects the little particles).

You can buy regular asparagus cookers, but it's easy enough to improvise your own. I usually wash a tall juice can and use that for the season. Or you may use the bottom part of your double boiler.

Tie the stalks together and invert the tall can or top part of the double boiler over the bottom. Because the tips cook more quickly than the stalks they should be kept up out of the water and just steamed. A pressure cooker does a good job also.

Cook whole stalks for 10 to 20 minutes, or until a stalk can be pierced easily with a fork. Follow the directions given in your specific pressure cooker book for cooking that way.

New Ways to Serve Pancakes, Big or Little

NEW YORK (UP) — For an attractive and easy-to-make dessert, use pancake mix according to directions on the package, but pour the batter so the pancakes come out about the size of a silver dollar.

Spread raspberry jam over each baked pancake and serve about five to each guest.

Another variation: Bake the pancakes about six inches in diameter and spread with a blend of chopped walnuts and cooked prunes, mixed with enough honey to make a good spreading consistency. Stack the pancakes about six deep and cut into wedges to serve.

Just a Dash of Curry Adds Unique Tantalizing Savor

Cu-rry, Cu-rry, Cu-rry! Step right up folks and try some authentic, dee-licious Indian Curry, the tantalizing, toothsome, culinary mystery of the Orient.

Curry's no mystery to us today, but many of us don't realize how easy these intriguing, Eastern dishes are to make. The secret of curried food, of course, is in the blend of the many spices they contain.

Curry means a mixture of spices — sometimes as many as two dozen. The Indians add their spices separately, but the western world grinds and pre-blends them into an easier handled product called curry powder.

The curry powder you buy at the store will probably contain from 10 to 15 spices. Typical are turmeric, ginger, cardamom, black pepper, mace, allspice, coriander, fenugreek, celery seed, caraway seed, cayenne and cumin.

This aromatic seasoning blend is equally effective when used in either of two ways. In the Indian-type dishes curry dominates the flavoring. Your cookbook, undoubtedly lists several traditional curries of lamb, veal, chicken, shrimp and so forth.

Curry powder can also be used as more of a background seasoning just as you might use any other spice or herb. In this case you do not make a curried dish, but one that is delicately flavored with curry.

In this use of curry you might want to experiment a little. Try a dash of curry with fish, chicken or egg casseroles, cheese souffles or rarebits, vegetables or tomato soup. Start with a small amount and keep adding until the pungent curry begins to come through.

As a start, here is a recipe, developed by the American Spice Trade Association, which demonstrates the softer, all-purpose use of curry powder.

Fried Chicken Curry

1½ to 2½ lb. cut-up fryer chicken
½ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup fat
2 cups finely chopped peeled apple
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup grated fresh or canned coconut
2 cups chicken broth or water
½ cup top milk
3 cups cooked rice (1 cup raw)

Roll chicken in flour and seasonings mixed together. Set aside left-over flour for gravy. Brown chicken on all sides in the fat in a skillet. Cover skillet and continue cooking until chicken is tender (about 20 to 30 minutes). Remove chicken from skillet. Keep hot while preparing gravy.

Add apples, onions and cocoanut to drippings. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until onion is transparent. Add ¼ cup flour (the left-over seasoned flour plus additional flour if necessary). Cook until bubbly.

Stir in broth and top milk. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Season with additional curry and salt if desired. If apples are very sweet and milk flavored add a teaspoon of lemon juice just before serving.

Arrange chicken on platter. Gravy may be served over the chicken or in a separate dish. Serve with hot rice and a condiment dish of sieved hard-cooked egg, chutney, minced onion and green pepper, chopped nuts, etc. Serves 3 to 4.

Note — If desired, serve the gravy in the scooped out coconut shells.

Pudding Variation Uses Fig Cookies

Here is an interesting dessert to serve the family. It is a variation of vanilla pudding, using the popular fig cookies that are to be found in every grocery store.

Fresno Mystery Desert

4 cups milk
1 package vanilla-flavored pudding
20 fig cookies, about
½ cup ground almonds (do not blanch)
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ teaspoon almond extract
¼ cup sugar

Combine the 4 cups milk with the packaged pudding mix. Stir over heat until bubbly. Remove from fire. Add the Fig Cookies crumbled into small bits. Also add the ground almonds and the almond extract. Stir together and Chill until ready to serve. Top with the whipped cream, to which the second measure of almond extract and the sugar have been added. Serves 6 - 8.

Spinach Goldenrod Dish Will Please Children

A tasty and nutritious luncheon dish is Spinach Goldenrod, and it's bright appearance will please the children. Make a rich white sauce. Add the drained canned spinach and three or four chopped hard cooked egg whites. Blend in a little prepared mustard for tang, and heat through.

Serve over toast, and sprinkle the mashed or sieved hard cooked yolks on top.

You Addicted to Hi-Fi Mania?

Americans Spending Up in Millions This Year for Pretty Sounds

NEW YORK (NEA)—If you don't know what "hi-fi" means, you are in good company. Even the people who make the stuff aren't sure.

That's because high fidelity is strictly a relative term. "Hi-fi" bears the same relationship to listening to music that "delicious" does to eating.

Actually, it means greater fidelity to music as you'd hear it at a concert.

Any manufacturer may claim his set is hi-fi, just as any restaurant may advertise delicious meals, but neither the sound nor the soup may suit you. You're the sole and final judge of whether it's hi-fi or not.

Ever since Edison invented his talking machine, people have been trying to duplicate the sound of music with higher fidelity.

The first man to stick a bigger horn on his talking machine was the first hi-fi nut.

But what gave the industry its biggest boost, and home listeners their long-awaited chance at more faithful sound reproduction, was the long-playing record.

Before then, there were gimmicks which would get more sound off a record—but the only more sound on the old-fashioned records were scratches.

Came the LP, and suddenly it was possible to get better sound. There was more on the record, and people wanted to hear it. They realized that their moth-eaten phonograph was inadequate. And they turned to hi-fi.

People who are dumping cash into hi-fi range are the average, sane individual, who spends $150 and gets adequate hi-fi, to the hi-fi nut, or audiophile, who may spend $5,000 on his equipment.

Basically, there are three parts to a hi-fi rig. You need first, something to supply music. This can be a phonograph, or it can be an AM-FM tuner, to get broadcast music.

This provides an electrical impulse, which must be magnified. That's done by part two, an amplifier. The third part is the loud speaker, which changes the electrical impulse back into sound.

Mineral production in Virginia is valued at 150 million dollars a year.

Carrier Sailors Are Enthusiastic Railroad Fans

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—The aircraft carrier U.S.S. Lake Champlain is the floating home of 20 enthusiastic railroaders and a highly elaborate railroad "pike."

Cmdr. Wilmer E. Rawle bought some model railroad equipment in the fall of 1952 and soon had an enthusiastic club of model railroaders on board the "Champ."

While the ship was in Korean waters, the club members laid out 166 feet of track and made their own engines, railroad cars, switches, terminals and other equipment. The cars are all "privately" owned by their makers.

At one end of the pike is a miniature round house that will accommodate three engines on an electrically operated turntable. An elaborate block system with 21 electrically operated switches runs the whole works.

The pike took a year of work on the part of club members and was formally dedicated by the ship's skipper, Capt. Leonard B. Southerland, who drove a golden spike to chisten it.

School Gives Class in American English

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Spotting "un-American" talk is all in a day's work for Peter Holub, a Michigan School of Mining and Technology languages professor doing advanced work at Cornell University.

Holub teaches "American English" to 31 students from 18 foreign countries. Thirteen languages are represented — Arabic, Armenian, French, Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese, Polish, Russian, Spanish Thai, Turkish and Ukrainian.

This classroom babel occurs twice weekly, replacing the regular freshman English course. In addition, each student spends five hours a week with an American student tutor.

Scoffs at Artificial Rain

DEMING, N. M. (AP) — New Mexico ranchers — plagued by drought — have been told by Dr. E. J. Workman, president of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology "we do not now know how to make rain." He described silver iodine methods of seeding clouds impractical.

Austrian Devises Aid for Weary Travelers

VIENNA (UP) — An Austrian inventor has built an electronic "travellers' friend" devised to solve lodging problems for weary tourists arriving at terminals.

A luminous wall panel lists all hotels, their outstanding features and their prices, while electrically lighted figures give an up-to-the-minute report on how many rooms are available at each. Other lighted symbols tell how to reach the hotels by bus or on foot.

One of the big gadgets already is in operation at the railway station in the city of Linz, and others are to go up soon in Vienna and other Austrian travel centers.

Approximately 5,000,000 people die of tuberculosis throughout the world every year.

Yellowstone National Park is two and one half times as large as the state of Rhode Island.

Turley Looks Like 'Another Feller' Against Tribe

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—The belief that another Bob Feller is on the baseball scene in Bob Turley of the Baltimore Orioles spread considerably last night and fittingly against the Cleveland Indians.

Turley stood the Indians on their heads for eight and one third innings. He did it the way Feller used to for Cleveland, by whamming the ball past batters.

The 23-year-old tall and broad righthander blew down 14 batters on strikes. It was for naught as far as last night went when Al Rosen singled and Larry Doby homered for a 2-1 victory, but the future loomed large for the native of Troy, Ill.

The 14 strikeouts were only four less than Feller's American League record set eight years ago on Oct. 2 against Detroit. It gives Turley 23 strikeouts in 18 innings, the other nine coming last Thursday in a 3-0 victory over Chicago.

Turley probably was less concerned about being deprived of a no-hitter than any of the 43,383 wild fans. He was philosophical and nonchalant, saying while relaxing afterward in pajamas at home, "I wasn't worrying about the no-hitter, I just wanted to win the game."

He had no excuses.

At the start of the ninth, he said he decided that "if I'm going to lose, it's going to be with my stuff and my best is a fast ball.

"The pitch Doby hit was a little higher than I wanted, it was almost over his head, but I'd been pitching up high all game to him.

"Rosen hit another high fast one, a little way from him. He reached out and slapped it. There was another pitch right where I wanted it."

Turley guessed that he "didn't throw a dozen pitches" that weren't plain fast balls. "That fast one was just sailing and sailing," he said.

It had struck out Doby twice before the homer. In the fourth, Turley showed his complete confidence in it. And a lot of heart.

The bases were loaded, two were out and the count was 3-1 on George Strickland. Did he think about walking him and forcing in a run?

"Yes, but I thought that if I was going to walk him, I was going to, so I just reared back and let her go."

Two strikes went by Strickland.

"You know," he said, "there was a pitcher who said you get a better night's sleep after you lose than if you win because you aren't so keyed up."

Off he went to bed to get ready for another night.

George Munger Advocates New Level of Sportsmanship

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — If college sports, especially football, are to maintain their proper place in the educational scheme, its up to the coaches to educate themselves and the public to a new standard of sportsmanship.

That message was delivered last night to the American Assn. for Health, Physical Education and recreation—and incidentally to the coaches—by George Munger, president of the American Football Coaches Assn.

Munger, who retired as University of Pennsylvania football coach after the 1953 season, chose "Ethics for Coaches" as his topic in a round table discussion. And he stressed that he was talking as an official of the AFCA, rather than as a physical education director.

The AFCA code of ethics, adopted in 1953, and the expanded "Football Code" which precedes the official rules, are steps in the right direction, Munger said. But only an active educational program will free football from criticism and establish the standards of decency and right conduct expected of college men.

The code of ethics was a lively topic during the AFCA meeting last January when coaches and fans still were debating the propriety of Notre Dame's "fainting Irish" ruse to stop the clock during a game. Rowdiness and the failure to control the fans at some games also was under criticism.

At that time, the coaches agreed it was impossible to make the rules so they couldn't be beaten, but asked the rules committee to include feigned injuries and "sucker" shifts as undesirable practices.

Munger, pointing to the influential position the coach holds in the college community, declared:

"The coach can set the morale and tone not only for his players but also the fans. It is the coach's duty, his job, his responsibility to lead the way to the highest level of sportsmanship."

* * *

Recognizing that coaches are under pressure to win from undergraduates, alumni rooters, and even some faculty men and administrators, Munger in effect, proposed including all these groups in the educational program.

Stengel Will Seek 1st All Star Victory

Yanks' Casey, Luckless in Mid-summer Classic, to Try Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees will try for his first managerial triumph in five straight all-star games in baseball's 21st mid-summer classic at Cleveland July 13.

Stenge's acceptance of the American team's all-star reins automatically following his Yankees' fifth straight pennant and world title triumph last season was announced today by Will Harridge, league president.

Selection of Walter Alston, successor to Charley Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to direct the National League all-stars was announced during spring training.

Against the combined talent of the National League, Stengel has drawn a complete all-star blank the past four years.

Last year at Cincinnati, Stengel's Americans lost 5-1. In 1952, Casey's team was shaded at Philadelphia, 3-2. In 1951 at Detroit, the Americans were whipped 8-3 and Stengel's first all-star venture in 1950 resulted in a 14-inning, 4-3 shading by the Nationals in Chicago.

Stengel's fifth straight all-star appearance betters the four in a row by Joe McCarthy from 1936 through 1939, but the former Yankee Pilot has the greatest total, seven, also directing his league in 1942, 1943 and 1944.

The American and National all-star personnel will be chosen in a nationwide poll of fans with exception of pitchers to be selected by the managers.

BACK TO WORK—After a 1-day honeymoon, Kansas University miler Wes Santee, who recently turned in the 2nd fastest mile ever run by an American, was clocked by his bride, the former Denna Denning of Elkhart, Kans., also a Kansas student. Santee, who ran the Glenn Cunningham Mile in the Kansas Relays in 4:03.1, is working out for Saturday's Drake Relays.

Doris Hart British Net Test Favorite

BOURNEMOUTH, England, April 22 (AP)— Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., is the top-seeded favorite in the British Hard Courts tennis tournament opening here Monday.

Favored in the men's division are the two Danes—Kurt Nielsen, the Wimbledon finalist, and Torben Ulrich. Britain's main hopes are the veteran Tony Mottram and his 16-year-old Billy Knight.

Angela Mortimer, British Wightman Cup star, is seeded second in the women's division behind Miss Hart.

Solons' 'Spring Training' Halted by Heavy Rains

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 22 (AP)—Heavy rains forced postponement last night at a practice game between Republican and Democratic congressmen undergoing "spring training" here for their annual baseball game in Washington.

Rep. C. W. (Runt) Bishop (Ill), manager of the Republicans, and Rep. Syd Herlong (Fla), of the Democrats, said their squads could stand an extra day of rest anyway.

The game was reset for tonight.

Watches 'Splinter' Work Out

Boudreau Hopes for Ted's Early Return; Can't Estimate His Worth to Team

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams' return to the Boston Red Sox lineup may be sooner than you think.

After watching Williams hit two or three balls into the Fenway Park bull pen during an impromptu batting practice the other day, Manager Lou Boudreau hopes for the best.

"My guess is May 15," he said before yesterday's game with New York. "But I hope it's before that. I certainly was pleased by his work in the first day in the cage. It all depends on Ted and the doctors.

"Whenever he wants to play or pinch hit, he can just say the word. Of course, he still has that pin in his shoulder, protruding a little. They say they'll take that out, May 3, I think. But they could move that up."

Boudreau didn't even know Williams was going to hit until he and Joe Cronin, having a conference in the club offices, heard somebody batting a ball. They looked out the window to see Williams batting. Bobby Doerr, back in Boston on a visit, pitched to him for a few minutes. Boudreau finally finished up.

The skipper still bubbled with enthusiasm 24 hours later.

"I said before and I'll say it again," said Boudreau. "If we can stay up there, and Ted is only 50 per cent as good as he was last year, we'll be in the race.

"You can't exaggerate how much he means to s. It can't be estimated. When he isn't playing, he sits on the bench and talks to those young kids like Ted Lepcio, Billy Consolo and Jim Piersall.

"A fellow like that means the difference between two and three spots at the end of the year."

NBA Discusses Franchises, Eligibility of Bevo Francis

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of the National Basketball Assn. convene here today for the first of a three-day meeting with the eligibility of Bevo Francis and possible franchise shifts among the matters to be discussed.

The 6-foot-9 Francis, a scoring sensation for Rio Grande for the past two seasons, recently was expelled from the Ohio college for failing to attend classes. The Syracuse Nationals reportedly are interested in acquiring his services.

According to current NBA rules, Francis would not be eligible for league competition until his class graduates in two years. The rule might not apply in this instance since Francis was expelled and did not quit school.

Both the Syracuse and Baltimore clubs have had financial difficulties and there have been reports that their franchises are in jeopardy. However, judging from recent developments both teams probably would remain in the nine-team circuit.

Another major item on tomorrow's agenda is the controversial playoff setup. Other matters to be discussed during the three-day session include the player draft, rule changes, selection of the site for next season's East-West all-star game, formation of the 1954-55 schedule and the selection of two new referees to replace Jocko Collins, who retired; and Charles Eckman, who resigned to coach Fort Wayne.

Outfielder Bob Cerv of the Yankees is the only boy in his family. He has three sisters. He also has three daughters.

Williams Picks All-Time Outfield Omitting Cobb, Speaker, Ruth; Mack Cites Condition Changes

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — Ted Williams, rather recently, started a magazine argument that isn't as crazy as it seems to be. He writes to this effect—"I'll pick an all-time outfield better than Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth and Tris Speaker."

So it might be that Williams has picked an outfield leaving off Cobb, Ruth and Speaker solely for the purpose of starting an argument. He picks Joe DiMaggio, Stan Musial and Hank Greenberg, who is apparently a sub for Williams. Briefly Williams can't pick Williams.

I don't agree with Ted. He is picking the Moderns against the Old-Timers. Ruth isn't an old-timer. He pitched as an old-timer but he is really the starter of the new school of power.

Ruth overturned everything when he entered the batting list around 1919 and 1920.

As long as he invented the power school and starred in it, well beyond anyone else, he must be elected among the power people as their leading man.

But the man who has the real lowdown on the situation is a wise and kindly old gentleman by the name of Connie Mack.

Some years ago we had quite a discussion as to which school or lineup was the better—speed or power.

"Why waste time on any such impossible debate," he said. "One can't compare these things when there is a 20 or 25-year time lapse between," he said. "Conditions almost change entirely. The ball and bat are different. Training methods have changed.

* * *

"Another thing," Connie continued, "fielding is very different. The modern ball travels much faster. In the old days there was a much better chance to beat out an infield hit. Not today where the ground ball is well hit. It all makes an entirely different game. You can't judge the players of the two games from the same platform."

* * *

I recall that Connie continued—"This goes for all games where conditions change. Do your rankings in 20-year divisions."

Bobby Scores TKO

2nd Win Over Turner Puts Jones in Big Time

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Television and Gil Turner are making life much easier for Bobby Jones, his four kids and his expectant wife.

Jones arrived in Philadelphia early last month for a 10-round bout with Turner. The 29-year-old Californian was unranked and figured so much cannon fodder for the ambitious local boy. But Jones, a 3-1 underdog, won a split decision.

An accident said Turner and his following. It couldn't happen again. It didn't. Instead of a split decision, the methodical Jones won on a 10th round technical knockout here last night in the return bout. He was only a 2-1 underdog this time.

So Jones, who came here with little or no reputation, leaves with two impressive victories, his pockets lined with green stuff to take care of the little Jones kids and momma, and prospects of a big outdoor fight in June.

Jones, who weighed 154½, ended the fight after 1:12 of the final round. He caught the onrushing Philadelphia Negro with a right hand to the chin and drove a solid left to the body. Turner sagged, fell into the ropes as Jones smashed him with both hands. Blood streamed from a cut above Turner's left eye. He lurched across the ring and almost fell through the ropes as referee Zach Clayton stopped the fight.

Turner suffered his sixth defeat against 42 victories and it was only the second time he has been stopped.

Jeffs, Braves Win Dual Tests

Eastern Squad Edges Lincoln With Victory in Final Event

Washington defending SJHS League champion, and Jefferson won their 2nd straight dual meet victories of the Junior High track season yesterday.

Braves' coach Em Ghianni used mostly 7th and 8th graders in downing Wever, 55-13, while Jefferson beat Waterford 57-20. Eastern edged Lincoln, 42 1-3 to 34 2-3, in a 3rd meet.

Double-winners Jim Hawkins and Archie Brooks sparked the Jeffs' victory. Hawkins won the 100-yard dash and broad jump and Brooks took the 75-yard dash and high jump.

Eastern, leading Lincoln by only 2 2-3 points going into the relay race, won that event to clinch its triumph. Connolly, who won the 75-yard dash, made up a 10-yard deficit as anchor man on the Indians' quartet. Eastern's Dumbrique won both hurdles and tied with Bill Bolt of Lincoln for 1st in the pole vault.

Matsock Leads Spartan Nine to Easy Victory

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's baseball team, after two non-conference victories, faces tougher opposition Friday when it meets Northwestern in a Big Ten opener at Evanston, Ill.

Spartans scored an easy 9-3 victory over the University of Detroit yesterday after defeating Wayne University earlier this season.

Johnny Matsock, who is rated No. 2 quarterback on the football team, powered the attack as the Spartan baseballers rapped three Detroit pitchers for 10 hits.

Matsock, a shortstop, had a perfect day at the plate. In addition to driving in three Michigan State runs with two singles and a double, he also managed to steal home for another run.

Detroit ... 010 000 002—3 6 3
Michigan State ... 003 110 40x—9 10 1
Hackstadt, Jungwirth (8) and McLaughlin; Mansfield, Hobbaugh (4), Saffran (7) and Brown, Yewcic (8).

Giants' Right-Hander Released From Service

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Alex Konikowski, 26-year-old right-hander, has been honorably discharged from the Army after serving two years and will report to the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds in New York on Friday.

Konikowski, who lives in Beacon Falls, Conn., pitched relief for the Giants in the closing days of the 1951 National League pennant race and appeared in one world series game that fall.

Skipper JV's Win

Waterford junior varsity baseball team routed Rochester Wednesday afternoon, 27-0. Jerry Harnack and Bob O'Neill led the junior Skippers' 16-hit attack with three safeties each. Harnack included two triples among his hits.

Bob Coonfield and Chuck Gillis limited the Falcon JV's to one hit.

Stanky Ejected for Second Time in Four Games

CINCINNATI, April 22 (AP) — For the second time in four games, Manager Eddie Stanky was given the heave-ho Wednesday night as Cardinals met the Cincinnati Redlegs.

In the third inning Redleg Manager Birdie Tebbets protested that Stanky wasn't observing the confines of the third base coach's box. Tebbets told Umpire Bill Jackowski he was playing the game under protest.

Stanky greeted the protest by doffing his cap and doing a series of chorus line kicks. That's when Jackowski gave him the thumb.

Stanky was ejected Sunday at Chicago when he argued a four-ball call. He was fined $50 for misconduct and $50 for staying in the dugout runway after getting the boot in that one.

'Sals' Back on Job

DETROIT (AP)—H. G. Salsinger, sports editor of the Detroit News, was back at his typewriter today. He had been hospitalized for a week by an injury suffered when he was struck in the face by a foul ball at the Detroit Tigers' opening game.

Salsinger suffered a cut left eye when his glasses were smashed.

Lions Bowlers Invade Pontiac for State Meet

Expect 700 to Come Here This Weekend in Annual Tourney

Seven-hundred Lions Club members from throughout the state are expected to converge upon Pontiac this weekend for the 20th annual State Lions Bowling Tournament.

Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at three city lanes —Motor Inn, Pontiac and AAA West Side Recreations. A total of 56 alleys will be in use.

Sixty-eight trophies will be awarded in team, doubles, singles and all-events in classes A-B-C-D. All competition is on basis of actual pinfall.

Majority of defending champions from last year's meet, which was held at Muskegon, are expected to return.

Bowlers will be guests at a banquet at the Elks Temple at 7 p.m. Saturday.

In charge of the tournament are Mitchell A. Calbi and Francis Staley, co-chairmen, and Oscar Eckman, director.

GOLF

Southfield 385, Country Day 389

By JACK SAYLOR

First no-hitter of the prep baseball team was registered Wednesday. Steve Hayes, Cranbrook right hander, throttled Berkley as the Cranes won, 7-0.

Hayes, a 16-year-old sophomore from Ann Arbor, permitted only ball to be hit to the outfield as he struck out 13 and walked only one. Tom Martinek and Don Slotkin each had two hits for Cranbrook.

Only run Hayes needed was scored in the 1st inning when Martinek reached base on an error, was sacrificed to 2nd and scored on Slotkin's single.

Southfield overcame a 5-0 deficit to nip Redford Union, 6-5. A 4-run rally in the 7th marked by 5 walks and Bob Sherwin's single gave Dick Covera the victory in relief of Tom McCormick who yielded all of Redford's runs.

Clarkston out-hit Milford, 8-3, but committed 7 errors as Milford won the Wayne-Oakland tilt, 7-2. Wolves took a 2-0 lead, but one hit and 5 infield errors gave Milford three runs in the 3rd.

Pete Thompson had three hits for Clarkston, but suffered a bad day afield. In golf, Southfield edged Country Day, 385-389, as Bob Turner stroked an 89.

Mike Benedict and Clyde Groves paced Oxford's track team to a triangular victory over Lake Orion and Lapeer. Oxford scored 68 points to 38½ for Orion and 30½ for Lapeer.

Benedict won the high hurdles and high jump (with a fine leap of 5-10) took 2nd in the low hurdles and 3rd in the broad jump. Groves, a sophomore, won both dashes, anchored the winning sprint relay and took 4th in the vault.

Don Turek won both dashes and broad jump as Clarkston routed Ortonville, 89½-19½. Bob Yahnke won the mile and pole vault for the Wolves, who took 12 firsts and tied for 1st in the other event.

Warren defeated Fitzgerald and Center Line in a triangular, beating Fitzgerald by a half-point. Clarence Harding won both dashes for Fitzgerald and Mierow took the hurdles for Warren.

Tom Spencer swept the hurdles events as Almont scored 60 points to 39½ for Capac and 37½ for Imlay City.

Jockey Rides Four Winners at Boston

BOSTON, April 22 (AP)—Jockey Bobby Ussery rode four winners Wednesday at Suffolk Downs, the last one, Silly Minnie, paying $197.40 in the final race of the day's program. That's the highest payoff in New England this season.

Ussery previously won with Descentive in the fourth, Legate in the sixth and Nutmeg Lad in the featured seventh Andover purse.

A native of Oklahoma, Ussery capped his performance by steering Silly Minnie to a three quarters of a length victory.

Las Vegas Test Starts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The $35,000 Las Vegas Tournament of Champions gets underway today, with the favored Sam Snead and 18 other name professionals aiming at the $10,000 top prize.

The 72-hole event, inaugurated last year and won by a longshot, Al Besselink, is restricted to winners of a major open tournament in the past year.

Snead was installed as a close 7-2 betting favorite in an atmosphere where wagering comes no worse than second nature.

Forgotten, and forgiven, is the fact that a year ago Samuel Jackson was the pre-tournament favorite and, hampered by recurring hand injury, wound up beating only two players.

Snead was certainly healthy at Augusta, Ga., and two successive practice rounds of three-under par 69s here enhanced his status.

The tournament is played on the par 36-36--72 Desert Inn country club course. It measures 7,102 yards and is not an easy resort test of golf. The rough is heavy, the greens are only in fair shape for the blistering sun they get, and several holes are treacherously layed out behind artificial lakes.

Besselink, of course, is back.

Also on deck, and highly regarded, are Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Doug Ford, Earl Stewart Jr., Ted Kroll, Bob Toski, Ed (Porky) Oliver, ex-amateur king Gene Little, Ed Furgol, Dave Douglas, Fred Wampler, Art Wall Jr., Shelley Mayfield, Walter Burkemo and Chandler Harper, who was runner-up by one stroke for the big money last year.

A year ago Stewart, slender redhead from Dallas, led in the first round with a 68. The figure still stands as the competitive course record.

Promoter Gives Up on Ten Hoff-Savold Bout

ST. PAUL, April 22 (AP)—Boxing promoter Jack Raleigh said today he has given up plans to match heavyweight Hein Ten Hoff of Germany against veteran Lee Savold, who is still under suspension by the National Boxing Assn.

Raleigh, who had planned the fight for May 17, was advised by Minnesota Athletic Commission chairman George A. Barton that the Pennsylvania Boxing Board has not lifted its suspension of Savold.

Rizzuto Angered by Reports That He's Slipping

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Rizzuto was burned up today over a printed report that the New York Yankee front office was fearful the great little shortstop was slipping.

A story in a local evening paper said Rizzuto, "the littlest Yankee of them all was giving the Yankee brass the biggest worry" because of his shabby play in the exhibitions and during the first week of the regular season.

"I'd like to know who said that" The usually affable and mild-mannered Rizzuto barked. "I just can't believe anybody in the front office would say a thing like that.

"I wouldn't mind so much if it were true." the 35-year-old, 5-6 scooter complained. "But I know I'm far from being through. In fact, I won't be surprised if I had one of my best years this season. I know I never felt better in my life. Just because I'm 35 they're writing my obituary.

"I know I didn't look good in the exhibition games." Phil went on. "But all I was trying to do then was get myself in condition. Look, when the time comes that I start slipping, nobody will have to tell me. I'll know it before anybody else. When the day comes that I think I'm hurting the club, I'll just walk off the field and hang up my glove. I'm not going to be a drag on anybody."

* * *

Rizzuto the greatest shortstop in history of the club, and key man in eight pennants the Yanks have won in the 10 years he's been with them, said he believed he knew what had inspired the story.

"I think whoever wrote the story got the idea last Sunday," he said. "We were playing Washington and they hit eight balls through the hole between me and Gil McDougald (third baseman). It was just one of those days when the ball seemed to have eyes. I kept missing it by inches.

"After the game I asked Gil if he thought I should have fielded those balls. I didn't think I could have but I felt maybe I was wrong but Gil assured me nobody could have reached those balls.

" 'I'll bet the writers don't think so,' I said to Gil. 'Wait until you see tomorrow's papers'.

"Sure enough, the next day they had me all washed up. I had lost not only a step but a step and a half, old age had caught up with me, I was a has-been, I couldn't field, I couldn't hit, run or throw. I was through.

* * *

"It so happened the next day, in Boston, I played very well. I got three hits and two walks in the doubleheader and I made a number of good plays in the field. The funny part of it is that the guys who wrote that I'm all washed up, didn't make the trip to Boston for those Patriot's day games."

Half a Million Enter Contest to Name Filly

NEW YORK (INS)—More than half a million people in the U.S. would like to own a race horse.

Sponsors of the Kentucky Club Derby Day contest, which will present a two-year-old filly to the person suggesting the best name for her, said today that more than 500,000 entries have been received.

The winning name will be announced April 29 at Churchill Downs, site of the Kentucky Derby. In addition to the filly, the winner will receive $500 and an all-expense trip to the Derby on May 1.

Joe Louis at 23 was the youngest boxer ever to win the heavyweight crown.

State's Cage Tests Set New Crowd, Gate Records

LANSING (AP) — Total attendance and receipts of the 1954 state high school basketball tournament were the highest on record, the State High School Athletic Association reported today.

Total attendance at the district, regional and state final tournaments was 381,023, topping the previous high of 374,410 set last year.

Total gross receipts for the district, regional and final games was $258,492. The previous high, also set in 1953, was $250,647. Last year marked the first time the receipts topped the quarter of million dollar mark.

Competing schools received $44,837 of the total and entertaining schools received $60,021. The previous year, competing schools received $44,804 and entertaining schools received $59,487.

The state association retained $109,386 of the total this year compared to $105,018 retained in 1953.

Attendance at district tournaments totalled 202,192 and total gross receipts amounted to $121,745.

Attendance at regional tournaments totalled $118,836 and total gross receipts were $77,184.

Total attendance at the state finals was 59,995 and total gross receipts, were $59,563.

Attendance Up in Senior Loop

Service Bureau Chief Issues Figures for '53 and '54

CINCINNATI, April 22 (AP)—National League club owners have every reason to be happy over the attendance so far this season, David J. Grote, manager of the service bureau, reports.

"The National League teams in the opening games at each park drew 199,983 paying fans," Grote declared. "That is an increase of 33,194 over last year."

Any idea that the club owners are worried over the outlook for 1954 does not stand up in the face of such figures, Grote continued.

Grote pointed out that on the nights of April 21 and 22 last year, Brooklyn and Philadelphia drew a total of 30,293 fans in Philadelphia.

"On April 19 and 20, this year, the same two teams drew a total of 53,215," he said. "That is an increase of nearly 23,000 for two night games," Grote pointed out.

"It looks from here that the National League is going to do alright this season and there is no reason for concern."

THE STYLE CORNER OF PONTIAC

because... ...it's woven of nature's miracle fibers

MOHARA is the suit you can wear with comfort from Spring through Fall!

If you know your sheep from your goats, you know you can't go wrong with nature's two top fibers ... mohair and worsted.
Mohair — the springy bouncy fleece of the goat — means air breathing texture and amazing crease resistance ... worsted — the highly refined fleece of the sheep — gives durability and a thermostatic quality to the fabric. Together you have the perfect suit for Spring through Fall wear.

Mohara is available in distinctive new Sativa,
Delhi linen and rainbow weaves ...
smart deep tones and subtle colorings.

P.S. Jacket doubles as a sport coat.
P.P.S. The Slax are great for golf and casual wear.

Santee Appears in Drake Relays Events

DES MOINES (AP) — Tommy Deckard, the little fellow who directs the Drake Relays, had a bad case of the jitters today.

For the many months Deckard works overtime to line up a crack field for the annual track carnival, he has everything set except for the one thing over which he has no control—the weather.

That's what Tommy chiefly had on his mind today. He undoubtedly was thinking of last year's relays when rain came down in torrents both Friday and Saturday. Only one new record—a shot put toss of 55 feet, 4 1-8 inches by Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M—was produced by the all-star cast.

Deckard has his usual imposing list of competitors, 313 from 25 universities and 426 from 47 colleges, and now all he wants is sunny skies to end a rainy week in Iowa.

The relays will open tomorrow with seven final events and eight preliminaries for the college and university athletes. Iowa's high school youngsters will be busy in seven events.

Wes Santee, the fabulous Kansas distance runner who raced through a 4:03.1 mile at the Kansas games last Saturday, will make two appearances tomorrow afternoon.

Santee, who is staying out of the open mile to anchor four Kansas teams, will show in the university sprint medley and the university and college four mile relay. Wes and his mates are expected to come up with new records in both events if conditions are right.

Kansas ran the sprint medley at the Texas Relays in 3:20.2, fastest the event ever has been run. The Jayhawks also hurried through the four mile event at Texas in 17:15.6, three-tenths of a second under the Drake record.

A new mark also is expected in the two mile run tomorrow. Rich Ferguson of Iowa, Gene Matthews of Purdue and Dennis Myers of the University of Washington appear capable of wiping out the 9:10 record by Greg Rice of Notre Dame in 1939.

The University of Texas' fleet foursome—Dean Smith, Jerry Prewit, Alvin Frieden and Charles Thomas—will be in the preliminaries of the 440-yard and 880-yard relays.

Assault Against Cop Jails Chicago Fighter

CHICAOG, April 22 (AP)—Carlos Sarlo, 24, a professional fighter, Wednesday was held under $10,000 bond for a court hearing April 26 on a charge of aggravated assault against a policeman.

Sarlo, of Chicago, is accused of breaking the nose of patrolman Robert J. Starzynski Tuesday when the officer and a second policeman sought to arrest the fighter on a warrant charging him with negligent driving.

Brooks G. Ragen, captain-elect of the Yale varsity squash team, is 6 feet tall and weighs 145 pounds.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS
By The Associated Press

PITCHING—Bob Porterfield, Washington Senators, checked the Philadelphia Athletics on three hits for his first victory 13-1.

HITTING—Larry Doby, Cleveland Indians, hit a ninth inning home run with Al Rosen on base to beat Baltimore 2-1 after the Indians had been held hitless through eight innings.

Bob Turley May Be Glad He Didn't Hurl No-Hitter

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bullet Bob Turley may still be nursing a home run headache today, but he probably will end up glad he didn't pitch that no-hitter.

Turley toils for the Baltimore Orioles and last night he came within two outs of holding the Cleveland Indians hitless, he wound up getting beat 2-1 when Al Rosen singled and Larry Doby, twice a strikeout victim, lined a high pitch 360 feet into the right field stands of Baltimore's Municipal Stadium.

"It was over his head," Turley said. "He never should have swung."

Turley is so fresh out of the Army that he wasn't around the last time a member of his team pitched a no-hitter. That was in May last season when the Orioles were still the St. Louis Browns. Bobo Holloman was the author. Nobody would go broke giving prizes for answers to the question "where's Holloman now?"

Bobo never pitched another complete game for the Browns and he was lost in the minors by the time Turley shed his khaki last August.

A blond Greek-god type who stands 6-2 and weighs 215, Turley throws harder than any pitcher who has hit the big time since Bobby Feller moved from his Iowa farm to the Indians. He was the hottest property on the winter baseball market and the new owners of the Orioles turned down cash offers of $150,000 and upwards for his services.

New Team Arises in ABC Standings

SEATTLE (AP)—A second west coast team had a place in open team division standings of the American Bowling Congress today in the first change of leaders in that event since April 14.

Mary and Joe's Department Store squad from Albany, Calif., took over eighth place on the open team ladder last night, bowling a 2948 series. The team looked as if it would end up much higher among the top 10 as it started with a 955 and followed with a red hot 1068 but fell off form in the finale with a 925.

It was the first change in any of the standings since Saturday.

NCAA Television Group Meets to Pick Network

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP) — The National College AA television committee met today to pick the winner in the annual scramble for a rich TV plum—the exclusive right to broadcast college football on a dozen Saturdays next fall.

At this meeting, scheduled to run at least two days, the television networks and any other "interested parties" will submit their proposals, which must come within the framework of the 1954 NCAA plan. The committee may not reach a decision before Friday.

The 1954 plan, approved by an overwhelming margin by the NCAA members, is similar to the 1953 program except the "panorama" showings have been eliminated and regional broadcasts of Thanksgiving Day games will be permitted.

All of the major TV networks are expected to submit proposals, but a spokesman for the National Broadcasting Co. last year's successful bidder, pointed out that there may be others.

Boros Retains Lead in Open

Fires Three-Under-Par 68 in Carolinas Test Wednesday

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., (AP)—Julius Boros, husky Southern Pines pro, shot a three under par 68 Wendesday to hold a one-stroke lead in the Carolinas Open golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 135.

Matching his 68 were two of the younger set, Mike Souchak, Durham, and Dow Finsterwald of Ohio, now stationed at Pope Air Force Base, N. C. Souchak and Finsterwald were tied at 136. Top pro will win $325 of the $15,500 prize money.

The three pace setters had to share the spotlight with Greensboro amateur Ray Taylor Jr., who blazed around the 6,585-yard country club course in 33-32—65, a competitive record here. His 139 total left him four shots out of the lead going into today's 36-hole windup.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, had 73 for 147 to tie with Ralph James Jr., of Asheville for fourth place among the amateurs.

Sixty-four players, 36 pros and 28 amateurs, survived the test for today's two rounds.

Singapore in British Track Test by Error

Invitation Extended to Malayan Federation Is Misinterpreted

VANCOUVER, April 22 (AP) — An innocent mistake has resulted in an unexpected entry to the British Empire Games here July 30-Aug. 7.

A formal invitation was sent to Singapore asking that the Federated States of Malaya attend the games. Singapore, bursting with national fervor, interpreted the invitation to apply to the state of Singapore and speedily accepted.

The mixup was discovered when BEG officials here noticed the flag sent from Singapore was not the same as the one displayed by Malaya at the last games in Auckland, New Zealand.

A polite inquiry about the flag's new design prompted the reply there was nothing wrong with the bunting—it was the flag of Singapore.

Officials here realized only then that Malaya had not received a formal invitation to the games. An invitation was hurried off to Malaya and a reply is expected within a week.

North Branch Pitchers Fan 19 in No-Hit Job

North Branch High School pitchers Dick Griffin and George Knot combined Tuesday to shut out Columbiaville, 4-0, with no hits, while striking out a total of 19.

Griffin worked six innings and whiffed 17, while Knot struck out two men in the 7th. Three Columbiaville batters hit the ball. One reached base on an error, others were thrown out by the North Branch catcher and 2nd baseman.

Carolina Girls Win National Cage Title

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Hanes Hosiery of Winston-Salem, N. C., won the national championship girls basketball playoffs last night by handing Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., its first defeat in 33 games. The score was 46-39.

The Kansas City Dons took third place in the four-team meet, edging Dowell's Dolls of Amarillo, Tex., 53-51.

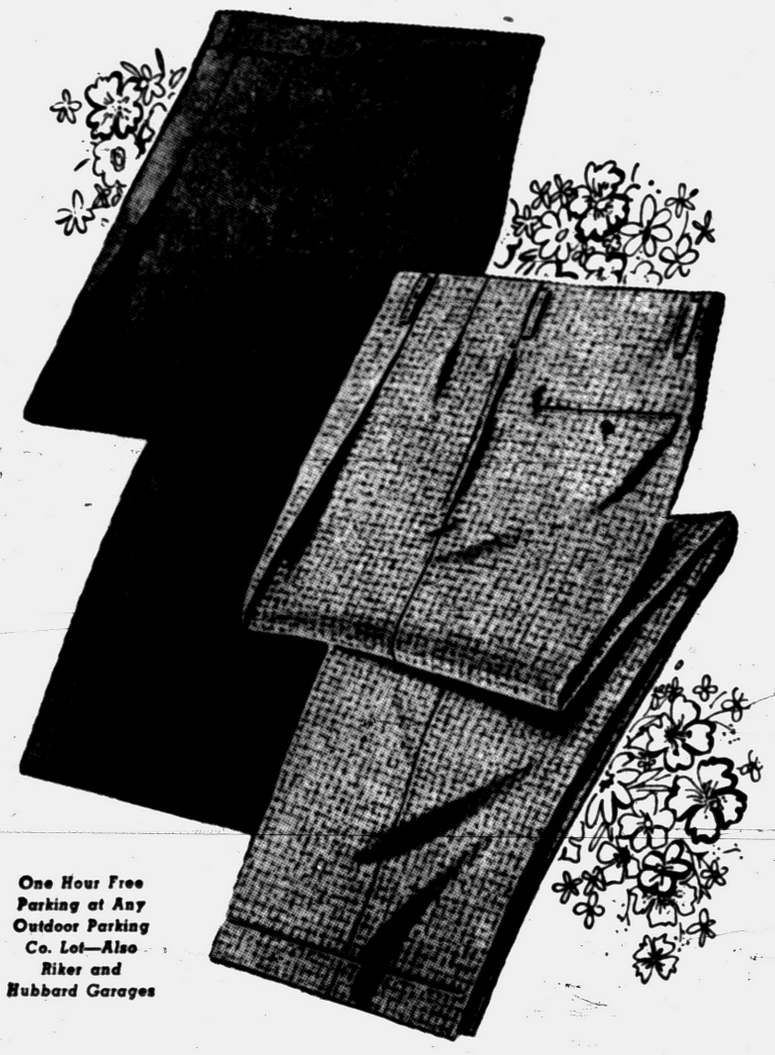

Playoffs were held primarily to select an all-star squad to represent this country in the French invitational meet at Marseilles in June. Each team placed at least one player on the squad.

The squad includes: Lurlyne Mealhouse, Eunice Futch, Elsie Jordon and Mildren Little, all of Hanes; Ruth Cannon, Faye Wilson and Rita Alexander of Wayland; Barbara Sipes and Edith Kline of the Kansas City Dons and Jo Helen White of the Amarillo Dolls.

Goyamo is Favorite in Blue Grass Event

By JOHN CHANDLER

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Keeneland race course, an important training ground for Kentucky Derby candidates, fishes up the $25,000-added Blue Grass stakes today and the stretch-running Goyamo is expected to be a short priced favorite.

Kentucky hardboots will have 14 three-year-olds to pick from, but the presence of Eddie Arcaro aboard Goyamo is bound to influence which way the bankroll jumps. Post time is 5:30 p.m. (EST).

Actually, the field is short of real derby class, but the Blue Grass has produced several champs who've gone on to win the Louisville classic.

Goyamo is from the Woodvale Farm of Royce G. Martin of Toledo, Ohio, the electric autolyte man. The bay son of the French stallion, Goya II, out of Mother India, hasn't started since he finished second to Correlation in the Florida Derby March 20. A crowd of about 15,000 is expected in fair, warm weather, and Goyamo may go off at less than 2-1.

"I would have liked to have had him go in that race here last Friday," said trainer Woody Stephens, "but I didn't want to take any chance on that track."

The race was a seven furlong event won in the rain by Dr. A. L. Birch's Timely Tip.

Timely Tip, to be ridden by Howard Craig, may be the second choice.

Timely Tip, is little, but a tough competitor, who has won nine of his last 10 starts. He was raced five times this season and won his last four, including the Arkansas Derby.

Kentuckians will give substantial support to the Hasty House Farm's Sea O Erin and the Maine Chance Farm's Black Metal. Sea O Erin and Timely Tip are two outstanding speed horses in the mile and one eighth Blue Grass.

Queen Elizabeth's Colt in 'Classic'

LONDON, April 21 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth's good-looking black colt Landau was in today's list of 22 final acceptors for the 2,00 Guineas—first "classic" of England's flat racing season.

The race for three-year-olds, an important preparatory race for the derby, is over one mile at Newmarket, April 28. Each horse will carry the derby weight of 126 pounds.

Although this old race carries the name of 2,000 guineas, it is worth considerably more. The winner gets 13,311 pounds ($37,270) with 1,529 pounds ($4,281) going to the second horse and 764 pounds ($2,139) to the third.

No Errors for Chico

Chico Carrasquel of the Chicago White Sox holds the American league record for consecutive errorless chances by a shortstop. He accepted 297 without a miss in the 1951 season.

Hal May Get Starter's Job Against Tigers

Lopez Considers Using Ex-Bengal in One of 3 Weekend Games

DETROIT (AP) — If a slender, graceful lefthander in a Cleveland uniform looks familiar as he steps to the mound in a Detroit-Cleveland three-game series at Briggs Stadium this weekend—he should. It'll be Hal Newhouser.

The one-time hero to thousands of Michigan baseball fans and bulwark of the Detroit pitching corps for 15 years, is making a comeback bid with the Indians.

Cleveland manager Al Lopez says it is possible Newhouser may get a starting assignment against his old mates.

Will a Newhouser in a Cleveland uniform be any better than the one who surrendered his Detroit uniform last year? Lopez thinks so, Hank Greenberg, Tribe general manager, holds the same opinion.

Newhouser was cut adrift by the youth-minded Detroit front office when it appeared his once potent left arm had lost its lashing effectiveness. That arm once had been a basis for comparing Newhouser to the fabulous Lefty Grove.

But a determined Newhouser wasn't through with baseball. He appeared at the Cleveland spring training camp and drew quick praise from Lopez and an eventual contract from Greenberg.

Newhouser also was encouraged by the seeming return of strength to his aching money arm.

He told his former teammates in Cleveland last week:

"My arm feels as good as it ever did. I'm throwing hard and have good control. It looks pretty good to me—although I don't know how long it will last."

Lions Cut Ticket Costs

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions have cut prices of most of their tickets for next fall's home games.

Reductions were attributed to recent cuts in federal admission taxes from 20 to 10 per cent.

Dupas, Brady Matched for TV Boxing Fans

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP)—Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, sifth ranking lightweight contender, meets Dennis Pat Brady of Hartford, Conn., in a 10-round nationally televised fight here next Wednesday.

It will be the second nationally televised fight to originate in New Orleans. In the first fight, Jan. 2, Dupas lost a split decision to Paddy DeMarco, who has since won the lightweight championship.

It was the 18-year-old Dupas' first 10-round bout.

The fight will be carried on the CBS television network.

Slugging outfielder Frank Thomas of the Pittsburgh Pirates was born in Pittsburgh and still makes his home in that city.

President of Trinity Apologizes for Coach

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 21 (AP)—President Albert C. Jacobs of Trinity College apologized to President Donald Stone of Springfield College today for Trinity baseball coach Dan Jessee's refusal to leave the field yesterday after Umpire Arthur (Red) Kinney ordered him off.

Jessee's action resulted in a 9-0 forfeit victory for Springfield.

The 1953 Red Sox won 28, lost 14 of their night games.

About Tire Guarantees
All tires carry the manufacturers Standard LIFE TIME GUARANTEE which means a guarantee only against "factory defects" in workmanship and material . . . BUT only 1 tire in 100 fails because of "Factory Defects". The rest fail because of ROAD HAZARDS (glass cuts, spike, curb cracks, rim bruises, etc.) SO . . . Ask your dealer point blank, "IS THIS TIRE GUARANTEED IN WRITING BY THE MANUFACTURER AGAINST ALL ROAD HAZARDS?"

Fishermen Start Northward

By UNITED PRESS

First of an estimated 250,000 sportsmen headed north today to get ready for opening of Michigan's 1954 general fishing season Saturday.

It will be legal to take trout, bluegills, sunfish, and a number of other species wherever they are found after 12:01 a. m. Saturday.

Only fish protected by law from anglers will be largemouth and smallmouth bass. It won't be legal to take them until after June 19.

Most activity Saturday and until the weather warms up will be on streams and rivers with trout fishermen out in biggest numbers. Activity on Michigan's 11,000 lakes usually picks up after May 15.

No major changes in number and size of fish that may be taken have been made since last year. Fishing regulations generally are the same as they were in 1953.

Conservation department officials emphaized that proposals to change trout fishing regulations are only in the "talk stage" and, even if approved this year, will not go into effect until 1955.

Biggest thing a trout fisherman should remember, they said, is that he must have a $1 trout stamp in addition to a regular fishing license.

Two other major regulations remain the same as last year after unsuccessful efforts were made in the state legislature to change them. They include regulations permitting wives to fish on their husband's license and fishing in the great lakes and connecting waters without a license at all.

Northern Michigan trout fishing prospects were reported fair to good and probably will remain that way for the opening unless there should be heavy rain or other adverse weather conditions.

Levels of most streams were reported lower and clearer than they were on April 10 when a special spring trout fishing season opened on 70 designated streams in the northern part of the state.

Experts said trout fishermen probably will have best luck with worms and that fly fishermen will have better success with wet flies than dry.

Meanwhile, smelt runs throughout northern Michigan passed their peaks and were expected to taper off by the end of the week.

Conservation officers in southwestern Michigan, where smelt runs hit their peak last week, reported fishermen netted fewer smelt this year than during 1953 runs.

Some sportsmen believed this might be an indication that smelt populations will begin to drop similar to a decline of a decade ago when the tiny fish nearly disappeared from Michigan and Great Lakes waters.

Wilt, Ashenfelter and Halberg to Give Whitfield Real Test in First Mile Trial

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Men who are good at running the mile, which still is the "golden event" of the track world, consider themselves to be somewhat apart from the run-of-mine performers such as sprinters and middle-distance specialists, and so are not taking too kindly to the social aspirations of Mal Whitfield.

As far as they are concerned, Whitfield merely is the world's best middle-distance runner, the holder of two straight Olympic 800-meter gold medals. That, in the opinion of the milers, scarcely qualified the former Ohio State star to elbow his way into their select company, much less shoot off his head about trying to run the first four-minute mile.

When the Olympic king made his announcement last fall that he had decided to more than double his distance this summer and expressed some confidence that he could show the milers a thing or two, the reaction of the latter group was immediate and to the point. They said, and for publication, that Whitfield was full of warm air. They predicted he would get his lumps the first time he messed around with grown men.

Well, the time has come, and on Saturday at Franklin Field in Philadelphia Whitfield will be given his first chance.

The opposition will include two of this country's best, Fred Wilt and Horace Ashenfelter, both of whom were quoted as saying Whitfield would have to learn the hard way. Under the circumstances, they can be counted upon not to do much loafing. The race also will introduce the crack New Zealander Murray Halberg, who recently ran a 4:04.4 mile on grass in his own country.

In other words, Whitfield is not starting out to work his way up from the bottom. He is tackling the elite among the golden boys right off, and if he beats them or even stays close to the pace he will have gone a long way toward silencing the doubters.

With the big test finally before him, Whitfield has been making no rash predictions. He says merely that if he gets licked Saturday he will keep on trying to become the world's best miler. He remarks cheerily that "it's too late to back out now."

Unseeded Texan Upsets Davidson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An all-star cast, complete with a Texas oilman, was on hand today as the River Oaks invitational tennis tournament entered the quarter-final rounds.

Dick Savitt, the Houston oilman who retired from competitive tennis in 1952, put a sensational touch to the fourth rounds yesterday as he defeated Sweden's Sven Davidson, 11-9, 8-6, to gain the quarter-finals.

Davidson, from Stockholm, was seeded No. 1 among foreign netters in the tournament and is the current U. S. indoor champion. Savitt was unseeded.

Joining the oilman in the quarter-finals today were Gardnar Mulloy, Art Larsen, Tony Trabert, Hamilton Richardson, Vic Seixas, and Tom Brown. Another quarter-finalist was to be decided today.

Zaharias' Sell Links, Hotel; Plan Rest From Business

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 22 (AP)—George Zaharias announces he and his famous golfing wife, Babe, have sold their golf course and hotel in Tampa, Fla.

Zaharias said the Babe has also given up her duties as tournament arranger for the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. The two intend to take a long rest from business.

The price and buyers of their Tampa property were not disclosed. Zaharias said he is going there soon to clear up final details.

He said Mrs. Zaharias, who underwent a cancer operation last year, was pronounced in satisfactory condition following preliminary physical checkups here. However, she is going to Galveston tomorrow for a more thorough examination.

* * *

The Babe was playing golf today. She told a reporter she may enter the Prince George Open at Landover, Md., in mid-May, if her doctor says it's all right.

She said she definitely will enter the Zaharias Open here next year.

Mrs. Zaharias played in all tournaments on the 1954 winter circuit. She won two and tied for first in a third but lost out in a sudden-death playoff. She finished near the top in most of the meets, but she tired noticeably in the Zaharias Open this month.

Opening Day Weather

LANSING (UP) — Cool, cloudy weather is in prospect for the Saturday opening of the trout and general game fishing season, state conservation department officials said today.

Rains of one-half to one inch are expected to precede the opening date.

Many People in Viet Nam Disillusioned at Way Ho Chi Minh Abuses His Power

Editor's Note: William L. Ryan, AP specialist in Communist affairs, interviewed scores of persons in Indochina, flew over the battle areas, and then went to Singapore to write his findings free of censorship. His concluding article in the series will appear tomorrow.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

SINGAPORE, April 22 (AP) — Ho Chi Minh has no real following in Viet Nam, said a Vietnamese leader. Ho is losing ground politically in Viet Nam, said a French officer. Ho would win three quarters of the vote in Viet Nam if there was an election tomorrow, said an American observer.

All three are more right than wrong. Ho's power was forced on the people in the areas he controls. Many people in the Vietminh areas have been disillusioned by what he has done to them with his power. In an election, Communist terror in Red areas would frighten voters away from the polls. In other regions a combination of nationalism, hatred of the French and the appeal of Ho's propaganda probably would be decisive.

The Viet Nam side has only the appearances of unity, at best. There is even a feeling of rivalry and resentment between the south and the north. The south is a surplus area, the north a deficit area. Tonkin and Annam were protectorates when Cochin China in the south was a colony, getting political experience with its own assembly. The southerners, who pay most of the taxes, are unwilling to accept the appearance of domination by the harder-working northern people.

Religious sects operate their own armed forces. Only about a week ago, some of these para-military organizations announced willingness to place themselves under the national army. It probably took some persuasion and there are no firm prospects of success for the venture in view of the weakness of the Viet Nam government.

The oldest and the strongest of the armed sects is the Cao Dai, which actually is an attempt to embrace all religions. Basically, there was no real religion in the past in Viet Nam except ancestor worship. The Cao Dai has saints from many religions and from outside the religious field. Victor Hugo, for example, is a Cao Dai saint. The sect also has a pope in imitation of Rome, and cardinals — including women.

The Cao Dai has had physical control over a large area of south Viet Nam. Its armed force numbers about 20,000 effectives, regulars and local militia, with authority over about two million persons, like a state within a state. The Cao Dai, a member of the so-called anti-Communist nationalist bloc, has opposed the government in the past and has resisted having its forces taken into the national army. Armed by the French, the Cao Daists are fairly well equipped.

Another sect, the Binh Xuyen, has about 6,000 troops, also armed by the French and led by Gen. Le Van Bien, who is known as a gambling czar. This organization has control of the area from Saigon to the sea at Cap St. Jacques. It has gambling privileges to finance itself and it is also rumored it exacts tribute from Chinese merchants in Cholon, a city of 875,000. Cholon is 90 per cent Chinese, who govern themselves on ancient congregational patterns and are not considered a political factor.

The Hoa Hao sect has about 6,000 troops, organized militarily on similar lines to the Cao Dai but far less influential.

Over-all there seems no single leader who can rally the whole country, no single ideal, no single rallying point at all. Possibly the only unanimity might be hatred of the Chinese, who dominated the country for a thousand years and whose troops pillaged after the Japanese left following World War II. But the ordinary peasants remain unaware that victory for Ho would mean victory for the Chinese too.

Against all this, Ho has a tight organization of disciplined Communists, organized down to the village commissar level. This is being tightened even more with Chinese help in the form of "political educators" who are instructing Vietminh Communists how to teach the villagers their political manners. The Communist Laodong (Workers') party parallels the government organization directly. Overall control is totally in the hands of the Tongbo, central executive committee of the Communist party.

The best guess is that Moscow wanted Ho and the Vietminh to be victorious without palpable intervention from Russia or China. The fact that the Chinese have now upped to an estimated 6,000 their advisers and technicians and that Russian supplies and trucks are pouring into northern Indochina does not alter this plan, since only appearances interest Moscow.

One good bet concerning Ho—this brilliant, fragile mystery man of the Orient—is that there is no case on record of his having disobeyed a Moscow order. It seems unlikely he would do so now. So it will probably be Moscow calling the turn for Indochina at the Geneva conference. Ho, son of a ruling class mandarin but a revolutionary since boyhood, long has been Moscow's most dependable political brain in Southeast Asia. Whether he is now a military brain too is open to grave doubt. More likely the Russians and Chinese have furnished new military brains from the outside.

HO CHI MINH

Son of a ruling class mandarin but a revolutionary since boyhood, Ho Chi Minh has been Moscow's most dependable political brain in southeast Asia. Probably the Russians and Chinese are now furnishing new military brains from outside.

Ho started the Indochinese national independence movement after World War I. Moscow caught him up in 1923 and took him there for two years study. Then he went to Thailand via China and from Bangkok directed the Indochinese underground. He returned to Moscow in 1927 for Comintern world strategy meetings and was assigned to organize the Indochinese party and take over the movement in Malaya and Thailand.

In a shift of line by Moscow, Ho turned to collaboration with the French. After the fall of France and the Japanese advance during World War II, Ho took refuge in Yunnan province in China. There he formed the Viet Nam Doc Lap Dong Minh Hoi (League for the Independence of Viet Nam, called Vietminh for short). It was made up of refugees from Indochina.

The Japanese were driven out of Indochina and Chinese Nationalist occupied the country to the 16th Parallel. Ho proclaimed the independent state of Viet Nam. He entrenched himself because the Chinese were stubborn about getting out of the north, although Allied landings had re-established French authority in the south. When the Chinese finally pulled out, the French felt they had to compromise with Ho.

They recognized his state as independent within the French Union. Bao Dai abdicated as emperor and joined Ho's cabinet as an adviser. But Ho and the French differ on independence and a clash came in December 1946, beginning the jungle hit-and-run war which has never stopped.

Ho surrounded himself with able, fiercely dedicated and ruthless men. Among them are his power twins, Party Secretary General Truong Chin and Vice President Tham Van Dong. Among the most interesting men in the Ho retinue is Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, defense minister and commander in chief of the army.

These men handle the party and keep discipline. When necessary they purge and get rid of suspects by shooting them. Gradually the Laodong party squeezed out all other nationalist elements from a "national united front movement." The Communists took that movement over completely.

This is the kind of an organization Viet Nam faces if there is a cease-fire and the French fall back. It would be an uneven contest.

Bind Man to Higher Court in Breakin

An 18-year-old St. Clair Shores man waived examination yesterday on a breaking and entering charge before Pleasant Ridge Justice Charles R. Moon, and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Gilbert G. Gorski, of 22600 Lakeland, is being held in Oakland County Jail under $500 bond in connection with the Monday night breakin of a home at 18 Poplar Park, Pleasant Ridge, according to Pleasant Ridge Police Chief William P. Katke.

The youth is accused of taking $400 in cash and jewelry, Katke said. Gorski was arrested about one hour after the breakin by Detroit Police, who became suspicious of Gorski when they found jewelry in his auto.

Heads MSC 'Spartan'

Humor Magazine Editor Takes His Job Seriously

ROCHESTER — The editor of Michigan State College's student honor magazine, whose home town is Rochester, takes his work seriously.

So seriously, in fact, that Don Blome, senior art major, doesn't even want the "Spartan Magazine" he edits to be labeled a humorous publication.

Don, the son of Mr. F. C. Blome, 50660 Mt. Vernon, sums it up this way:

"Sure, the magazine contains jokes and cartoons and some humorous writing, but we've also added feature sections and a creative writing department."

The latter are some of the changes Blome began to make when he was appointed editor in late spring of last year.

At that time, there was nothing very funny about the position of the campus humor magazine. The Spartan was still trying to live down a reputation for loose editing which had got it banned by administrative authorities between 1944 and 1946.

Business has been the keynote of the Saparan since Blome took over. "We've got to be businesslike," he told the six members of his editorial staff and six advertising staffers.

A new size and appearance and editorial features have clicked with student and faculty readers. The Spartan has had a record-breaking year in advertising and copy sales and Blome expects to make up previous losses, with a tidy profit to boot.

When the final issue under Blome's editorship comes out in early June, the curly haired senior will have about four days to relax before stepping up to receive his Bachelor of Arts degree.

Then the fellow who has been drawing since he was "old enough to lift a pencil" (his 1948 mural of Rochester scenes may still be seen in his alma mater, Rochester High School) will climb in "Equipose," his familiar 1937 jalopy to look for an advertising art job.

Hoover Blasts Pseudo-Liberals

FBI Chief Tells DAR They Do More Damage Than Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the fictitious liberal can do more damage to the country than the outright Communist.

Addressing the Daughters of the American Revolution, the FBI chief said:

"To me, one of the most unbelievable and unexplainable phenomena in the fight on communism is the manner in which otherwise respectable, seemingly intelligent persons, perhaps unknowingly, aid the Communist cause more effectively than the Communists themselves. The pseudo-liberal can be more destructive than the known Communist because of the esteem which his cloak of respectability invites."

Hoover appeared before the DAR to receive its Award of Merit. He accepted it on behalf of his associates in the FBI.

Set Deadline on Registration

April 30 Cut Off Fixed for Those Wishing to Vote on School Bonds

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Residents here have until April 30 to register for the Avondale School District bond issue election May 10, School Supt. Raymond N. Baker announced yesterday.

Board of Education plans call for a bond issue of $550,000 to finance construction of a new junior high school in Auburn Heights and an addition to the Elmwood School on Auburn road.

"In order to raise the $550,000 it will be necessary to increase the voted millage four mills for the next three years," Baker said.

"Then the millage will drop one mill below what is being paid at the present time.

"This increase will cost the average tax payer a package of cigarettes or a gallon of gas a week."

Baker said that it was necessary to rent six rooms this year to keep all children on a full day of school, and added that six more rooms will be needed next year.

"If these rooms are not available, it will be necessary for the 400 children in the seventh and eighth grades to go on half-day sessions," he stated.

Citizens must be registered to vote on the bond issue. They may sign up in their township offices.

For the election, people living west of Adams road will cast ballots in the Auburn Heights School. Those living east of Adams will vote at the Elmwood School.

Clawson Considers Budget of $393,320

CLAWSON — A tentative budget of $393,320 for 1954-55 was submitted the City Council this week by City Manager Robert O. Wright.

Although the proposed budget is $77,400 more than the present one, the tax rate is expected to remain at $20 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The date of a public hearing will be set after a special meeting to discuss the budget at 7 p.m. Sunday.

GM Chorus Sings Thursday in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The General Motors Chorus will be heard in concert at the Rochester High School at 8:30 p. m. next Thursday, presented by the Tuesday Musicale.

The chorus is made up of GM employes and members of their immediate families from all divisions in and around Detoit.

The concert will feature religious music and a group of selections featuring soloists from the chorus.

Folk songs, including Negro spirituals, and a rendition of Fred Waring's arrangement of "Mr. Frog" are also on the program.

Also included in the concert will be "The Night Is Young" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Tuesday Musicale or at the door.

Oak Park Council Gets New Budget

OAK PARK — City Manager Harold K. Schone this week presented a tentative $978,175 budget for operating expenses to the City Council.

Showing an increase of $343,700 over the current budget, the proposed budget will require a tax increase of $3.58 for each $1,000 assessed valuation. This would bring the rate to $24.53 per $1,000, the highest in city history.

A public hearing on the new budget will be held May 17.

The Giants have hit 100 or more home runs 22 years in a row.

LENROOT'S WIDOW IN LINE—Mrs. Irvine L. Lenroot leans across the retaining rope to speak with Capitol Policeman William Demsey this morning as spectators waited to get into the opening session of the hearing on Sen. McCarthy's dispute with the Army. Mrs. Lenroot has promised to "fight" McCarthy in the name of her late husband, who also was a Republican senator from Wisconsin.

Senate Defeat Seen for High Price Props

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ferguson said today he expects the Senate to defeat a move to attach to a pending wool price support bill a substitute for the heart of Eisenhower administration farm proposals.

The substitute, offered as a rider to the wool bill, would extend through the 1955 and 1956 crop years the present rigid high price supports for major field crops, including wheat, corn and cotton.

To replace these fixed supports at 90 per cent of parity — a price said by law to give a farm product fair relative purchasing power — President Eisenhower has urged a flexible plan which would lower government price props when surpluses develop. The range would be from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Assessors Pick Organization

Set Purposes, Choose Nominating Committee to Suggest Officers

Oakand County Assn. of Assessing Officers Wednesday night named the organization, set up its aims and purposes and chose a nominating committee to suggest officers.

Twenty-six township supervisors and city tax assessors met at Hotel Waldron for the dinner-meeting, with Leonard Watchowski, Lathrup Village city manager, presiding.

William Graebendike, director of the county equalization staff, discussed the importance of working out a guide book for supervisors and assessors to use in setting tax values on property.

The new nominating committee, headed by Hiland M. Thatcher, West Bloomfield supervisor, will suggest new officers at the group's next meeting. Committeemen are Alger Zapf, Royal Oak city assessor; Frank J. Voll Sr., Oakland Township supervisor; Roy F. Goodspeed, Ferndale assessor; James O. Tennant, Farmington City assessor; and Norman R. Barnard, Troy Township supervisor.

The organization plans to improve tax assessment practices; help taxpayers realize the nature and importance of assessing officers' work; and work with other public and private agencies for better tax administration and fair distribution of tax burdens.

Pontiac YMCA Will Honor Six

Secretary Slosson Tells Plans for 54th Annual Dinner Meet April 29

Six members of the board of directors will receive awards for outstanding service April 29 when the Pontiac YMCA holds its 54th annual dinner meeting, T. N. Slosson, general secretary, announced today.

Also receiving awards will be 18 members of the Y swimming team, which won top honors in a state meet.

Slosson said names and awards would be revealed the night of the meeting by W. E. C. Huthwaite, chairman of the yearly event.

Ralph L. Lee, nationally known speaker and assistant rector at St. James Episcopal Church of Birmingham, is scheduled as the main speaker. Lee also is public relations consultant for General Motors.

John C. Cowe and Richard Fisher, nominating committee chairmen, will present names of candidates to fill eight vacancies on the board. Four officers also will be elected.

A financial report will be made by Milo J. Cross, treasurer, and Robert Glenn, membership committee chairman, will present a report on 1953 membership. Reporting on the past year's activities will be George Wasserberger, boys and girls committee chairman.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac, will give the invocation.

E. R. Pettengill will serve as toastmaster. Pontiac High School vocal department will furnish a triple trio for the evening's entertainment.

Tickets to the meeting are available at the door or can be obtained from members of the board, according to Slosson.

Troop Airlift Bypasses India

U.S. Airplanes Detour Nehru-Land in Moving French to Indochina

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Air Force spokesman said today the American airlift of French troops to Indochina is "detouring around India."

Prime Minister Nehru announced earlier today the troop ferry would not be permitted to cross his country, a key link on the normal air route to the Far East.

The spokesman at the Air Force's European headquarters here refused to divulge the route being followed by the Giant C124 Globemasters.

Nor would he say whether they were landing in Ceylon, the British Commonwealth dominion off India's southern tip.

"But they aren't flying over India," the spokesman declared, adding:

"All I can say is that the problem has been very well solved."

Despite the "detour around India," the Air Force spokesman observed, it is still closer to take the paratroopers for besieged Dien Bien Phu via that route than fly them to the United States and across the Pacific.

The direct route from Paris to Indochina, he pointed out, is 8,500 miles, while the westward route would be 14,000 miles.

He also termed "highly improbable" a suggestion that the planes might be landing in East or West Pakistan for refueling and then skirting India to the north. That would take them inside the southern border of Communist China and Chinese-occupied Tibet.

Replying to Communist questioners, Nehru told the Indian Parliament in New Delhi today his policy is "not to allow any foreign troops to pass through or over India, by air or any other means."

He said no Indian action was necessary since "the Globemasters are not flying over India now."

The Air Force spokesman also refused again to announce the number of planes and troops involved in the ferrying operation but previous advices from Paris said possibly 10 planes were being used to move about 1,000 men.

Fenton Man Dies in Auto Accident

A traffic accident north of Fenton claimed the life of a Fenton factory worker yesterday when two cars collided on U.S.23 at the Thompson road.

Phillip M. Crane, 32, of 308 Rose, was dead on arrival at Flint Hurley Hospital.

His car collided with one driven by Joseph W. Estep, 20, of 4312 Grange Hall Rd., Holly.

Estep is in good condition today at the hospital with head injuries, according to attendants.

According to Genesee County sheriff's deputies, Crane, driving east on Thompson road, halted his car at U.S. 23, and then proceeded to cross, when Estep's car traveling at a high rate of speed north on U.S.23 crashed into Crane's car. Deputies said today that a warrant, charging negligent homicide, would be sworn out against Estep.

Sashabaw School Fair to Feature Displays, Games

SASHABAW PLAINS — Baked [illegible] fancy work and a cake walk will be among the attractions at the annual Sashabaw School Fair Friday, beginning at 6:30 p. m.

The fair will also feature games, a fish pond, prizes, refreshments and the crowning of a king and queen.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. H. Staley. On her committee are Mrs. Thomas Gray, Mrs. G. W. Barrie, Mrs. Everett Dennis and Mrs. Kenneth Clements.

Four From Pontiac at Welfare Meeting

Four Pontiac men and women are in Lansing today for the Michigan Health and Welfare Fund's annual meeting and luncheon.

Fred V. Haggard, president, and Arthur Heaton, community services committee chairman of the Oakland County Industrial Union Council, CIO, are attending. Heaton is staying for the Michigan CIO's community services committee meeting Friday.

Dwight S. Adams, executive director, and Mrs. Lucille Dennison, public relations director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, also are attending.

Barbers' Long Faces Caused by Long Beards

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Two things are growing longer around here—beards and barbers' faces.

The men in the village have been urged to be well-bearded when the community celebrates its sesquicentennial next fall. But the barbers have been taking it on the chin. A court move to set aside the beard proclamation lost out by a hair.

Yesterday the tonsorial artists announced a new price list:

"Trimming beard with shears, shaping with real meticulous care—one dollar."

"Trimming beard plus shaving part of the face—$1.50."

Jose Ferrer to Show Talents in Film Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jose Ferrer, to whom nothing seems to be impossible, now is doing songs and dances in movies.

The multitalented Puerto Rican is embarking on the life of Sigmund Romberg in the MGM film biography "Deep in My Heart." While portraying the late composer of "middle-brow" music, Ferrer will have a chance to display his singing and dancing for the first time professionally.

He has one number in which he acts out all the roles in a musical. It lasts seven minutes. He has been trying it out at Hollywood parties.

"I did it at Cole Porter's last night," he said. "All they have to do is ask me; sometimes even that isn't necessary. By doing the number privately, I can see what parts are good and what needs trimming. It's just like a tryout in the legitimate theater."

The casting of Ferrer as Romberg was a puzzler to many people, and the actor himself admits there is little resemblance.

"I never knew Romberg," he said, "but people tell me he and I are not at all alike. What we are trying to capture is the spirit of his life, and I think the script has done that very admirably.

"There couldn't be any conflict in the story, since Romberg was apparently a success from the start. Primarily, it is the story of a happy man. The script covers a span of 20 or 30 years and it shows how he progressed from being a song writer to composer. The climax of the picture will show him at Carnegie Hall conducting a concert of his works, which by then had achieved greatness."

Ferrer will not remain idle after he finishes his song and dance stint. He hustles over to Universal-International to make his debut as a film director. He'll direct himself in his stage hit "The Shrike."

Ferrer's thinning black locks are the only cue to his 42 years. He has enough speed for striplings half his age. He said he would devote his energies to the movies for another year or so.

The reasons: "Having just done four shows on Broadway this season (revivals of 'Charley's Aunt,' 'Cyrano de Bergerac,' 'The Shrike,' 'Richard II'), I feel that is enough for a while. I have been busy during the last few seasons on Broadway, and I think we both deserve a rest from each other. It's easy to wear out your welcome. I think it's better to spread yourself out.

"Now that my movie career is going well, I want to concentrate on it."

Pontiac Explorer Post 13 Visits Steel Company

Pontiac Explorers Post 13 highlighted a three-day trip to Chicago recently by visiting the Inland Steel Company.

Other points of interest for the Explorers were the Indian exhibit in the Chicago Museum of Natural History and the coal mine in the Museum of Science and Industry. The group also inspected the Shedd Apuarium and toured the Loop district, riding elevated and subway trains. They also visited the Indiana Sand Dunes State Park in Waukeegan and the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

In charge of the tour, William J. DeGrace, post adviser, was assisted by Explorers James Spring, Donald Hardy, Bruce Gillies and Donald Hegeman.

Read Statement by Dickenson

Admits Following Red Line While a Prisoner in North Korea

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson's lawyer termed "not particularly damning" today a statement in which Dickenson admitted following the Communist line as a prisoner of war in Korea.

The statement, which went into the official record yesterday, said Dickenson did not go in for any pro-Red activities until he had been caught trying to escape, jailed and undergone "cruel and brutal treatment."

"In essence, that has been our position all along," said the attorney, Guy Emery, a retired Army colonel.

Dickenson's court-martial enters its fourth day today with the scheduled introduction of a letter Dickenson is alleged to have written to the editor of his home town paper at Big Stone Gap, Va.

The 23-year-old GI is on trial on charges of collaborating with the Communist enemy while a POW and with acting as an informer against his buddies. He was one of two Americans who first elected to stay with the Reds, then had a change of mind and came home.

Book Analyzes Japanese Mind

Birmingham Psychiatrist Theorizes Nation May Avenge A-Attack

By GEMMA STRIFFLER

Understanding the Japanese Mind
By James Clark Moloney, M. D.

What makes the Japanese mind 'tick?'.

Dr. James C. Moloney of Birmingham has tried to answer this question in his new book, 'Understanding the Japanese Mind.'

Dr. Moloney was graduated from Georgetown University in 1924, interned at Henry Ford Hospital, and completed five years special training in neuro-psychiatry there.

In 1934, he organized the Haven Convalescent Home at Rochester, and is a consultant there.

He was in the Navy in the Far East from 1942 to 1946. Besides his private practice he is an associate professor of psychiatry at Wayne University.

He brings a psychiatric approach to the problem of understanding the Japanese mind, showing us how the child is trained to 'honor thy father' by the mother, and by her alone, hence the 'patriarchal pattern function in a matriarchal setting.' The female is deliberately devaluated.

The author develops the child's love for the good mother splitting into hatred for the bad mother (the father), on to hatred for the nation, because of repressions going back for centuries.

However, because of the Emperor's sanctity, this hatred for the nation is further deflected to any target, probably another nation.

He cites their extreme politeness as coming from their constant repression, leading to frustration, to hate, and on to destructiveness.

Thus he leads us to his development of the reason for the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

He goes back 100 years, reminding us that it was on a December 7th that Commodore Matthew Perry made his sneak attack upon Tokyo Harbor with gun-ports bristling, demanding that Japan open her ports to United States trade. Dr. Moloney quotes extensively to prove this point that our intimidation of Japan continued for years.

So our psychiatrist author sees the Japanese minds chafing for nearly a century over that December 7th date.

Most of the book to the lay reader is instructive, interesting and thought provoking. But technical chapters, especially those of psychoanalysis, are for psychiatrists only.

Dr. Moloney's extremely frequent quotes from other sources are distracting, even to the point of inspiring resentment. His own conclusions, in his own words, are crisp and clear and worth remembering.

As he states, he was trying to understand what makes the Japanese tick. He discovered they were, and are, masters of evasion. They offer only lip service to the democracies they are copying.

How many years, he asks, will it take before they remind the United States, and in what fashion, of the date Aug. 6, 1945, the day the bomb was dropped on Hiroshima?

Press Reports a Record Year

American Newspaper Circulation, Advertising Hits Peak in 1953

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. said today newspapers had a record year in circulation and advertising in 1953 but counseled them against treating television competition lightly.

"Circulation in 1954 may continue on its merry way, but advertising isn't," George C. Biggers, president, Atlanta Journal & Constitution, told the ANPA annual convention.

Giving figures for 1953, Biggers said:

"Circulation reached an all-time high, 1,785 daily newspapers with a total circulation of 54,472,286.

"National advertising revenue scaled a new peak—$634,300,000. Retail advertising revenue hit the jackpot total of $2,021,000,000.

But he said costs had spiraled, with payrolls doubled in the past 10 years and the cost of newsprint more than doubled in the past 6½ years.

A report by the ANPA's Federal Laws Committee hit at what it called increasing efforts to prohibit and regulate advertising.

The committee, headed by J. Hale Steinman, publisher, Lancaster, (Pa.) Intelligencer-Journal, said:

"False and misleading advertising should be and is now prohibited and punishable. Proper advertising should be permitted for proper services and commodities."

In a report on newsprint, the ANPA said:

"Newsprint supply is adequate for present needs, but supply and demand in 1953 were in close balance and there seems to be no reason to believe that 1954 will show a different picture."

The report said producers estimate that newsprint consumption in the United States in 1954 will be 6,300,000 tons. Approximately 4,980,000 tons is expected from Canada; 1,140,000 from United States mills; and 180,000 from overseas.

1st Triplets in 3 Years Are Born at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UP)—This city's first triplets in three years were reported "doing well" today at Bogress Hospital.

The triplets, two boys and a girl, were born to 24-year-old Mrs. Joan Selders. They weighed a total of 21¾ pounds.

Doctors said Rodney, the youngest, was still in an oxygen tent. The others, Gerald and Deborah, were described in excellent condition.

Hal Boyle Says:

Polka Dot Tux and Rufftled Swim Suit Ahead for Men

NEW YORK (AP)—The average man would laugh today if you told him that 10 years from now he would be wearing ruffles on his swimming suit—or a polka dot tux.

But aren't we heading that way? Since mama took over the spending of the whole family clothing budget more and more husbands are being dressed in their wife's mental image of a man.

If some designer sells one woman the idea her husband would look cuter at the beach in a ruffled bathing suit, don't think it wouldn't catch on, boys? It would!

Soon other wives would want their husbands in ruffles—and then all American husbands would be wearing swim suits with ruffles, except a few dirty, scratchy old bachelors, who take a pride in upsetting all schemes of women, whether they are sensible or not.

Naturally the ruffles would be teenie-weenie at first. Women know you can haul a mule a mile if you just coax him along an inch at a time. But the ruffles would get larger and larger. This style of men's bathing suits would last until the ruffles got so big that 100,000 husbands caught their hands in them and drowned, unable to swim.

Then, to safeguard the breadwinner, a ruffled men's swim suit with an inflated rubber bustle would appear on the market. And don't think wives wouldn't snap them up for their husbands.

I ask you, fellows, how would you like to catch a view of yourself in the mirror in that kind of high beach style—a sad-faced, waddling penguin in bright gay ruffles?

If you think this is an exaggeration, ask an elderly man today how his mommy made him dress when he was a boy in the "Little Lord Fauntelroy" period. He will probably still break out swearing at the memory of himself in velvet and long curls.

The question I raise is: If men don't go back to buying their own clothing, and buying them on the basis of personal comfort and commonsense, aren't we in danger of letting wives herd us into a "Big Lord Fauntleroy" period? Velvet is already creeping back into men's stores. Curls may be out of the picture for us lucky bald-headed fellows. But are they? How about wigs?

Women notoriously have been willing to follow any new style themselves, whether it suited them or only brought out their hidden repulsive features. Since they took over buying male clothing too, they have begun to make man also a cowardly sheeplike victim of so-called fashion.

Fifty years ago when men were men and carried their own money in their own wallets you could get for $15 a fine blue serge suit with a vest and two pairs of pants. A man's necktie was wide enough to protect him from pneumonia where his vest didn't. He wore high button black shoes that kept his feet dry even if he had to tromp through a showstorm. His socks warmed his legs to the knees.

What has happened since mama started buying papa's clothing? Everything a man used to wear either has been taken away from him or shrunk beyond recognition. All he gets now is more new colors—colors the rainbow never heard of—such as charcoal blue and charcoal brown and charcoal green. I hate to give away my age, but I do remember when charcoal was a fuel instead of a department store adjective.

Oh, they took away the vest and the extra pair of pants, and now they're turning their noses up at the double-breasted suit, the fat man's best friend. They took the buttons off the shoes, put in laces and shrunk them down to oxfords. Then they took away the laces and put on tassels, and now men's shoes come in 27 colors, and high heels are on the horizon.

The sock shrank to the anlkes, but sells in 47 colors. Same with ties. They are so thin now that to put in more than one color they have to run the stripes side-ways. How can you tell a tie salesman today from a ribbon clerk? Certainly not by the ties.

The male swim suit with ruffles is sure to come unless husbands—right now!—start selecting and buying their own pants again, no matter who in the family wears them once they get home.

Whither are we wending, boys? Back to the honest suit with a vest and two pairs of pants—or forward to the polka dot tux?

Most of the developments that make up modern grinding came about in the past 50 years.

DAR May Back Wire-Tap Bill

Convention Acts Today on Resolutions to Push Anti-Red Legislation

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Daughters of the American Revolution begin action today on resolutions proposing that the Communist Party be outlawed and that wire-tap evidence be legalized.

Mrs. T. B. Throckmorton, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, said the first discussion of the proposals read yesterday will take place today — and throughout the remainder of the 63rd Continental Congress.

Other tentative resolutions, which must be endorsed by the entire DAR gathering to become official, include:

A recommendation that the U.S. take steps to lay claim to Antarctica.

A firm stand against recognition of Red China by the United Nations.

A reiteration of DAR opposition to socialized medicine and federal aid to education.

An expression of appreciation to congressional investigating committees with the recommendation that Congress give "adequate appropriations" for their continuation.

The pledge of DAR members to secure dismissal of school teachers who have been Communists or who invoke the Fifth Amendment before investigating committees.

Citizens Show Gratitude to Lincoln City Council

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — When the Lincoln city council gathered for its weekly session, members were greeted with coffee and sweet rolls by Mrs. Charles H. Anderson and Mrs. George Lewis.

The women said that "as taxpayers" they wanted to express "appreciation of what the council did for the people."

BOARDING HOUSE

Grains Record Slight Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — All grains, including the high flying soybeans, found the path of least resistance was downward on the Board of Trade today. Losses, however, were not large.

Soybeans got off to a firm start, May again setting a new high for any future since 1948 when it sold at $4.06 a bushel. Profit taking quickly cut back the advance in beans. Wheat had an easier trend from the start, as did corn.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1⅜ lower, May $2.14¼, corn ½ to 1⅛ lower, May $1.52⅜, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 75¾, rye 2 to 3 cents lower, May $1.01¼, soybeans ¾ to 2¼ lower, May $4.02¾ and lard 3 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $21.57.

Seeley's Partner Calls Self 'Fall Guy'

MUSKEGON (UP) — Mrs. Lois Moon Ley believes she has been the "scapegoat" of the whole investigation of alleged irregularities in purchase of highway right-of-way property in western Michigan.

Mrs. Ley, 47, a Muskegon real estate dealer who pleaded guilty Tuesday to conspiracy to defraud the state of at least $10,000, broke her silence Wednesday.

G. Palmer Seeley, 54, Grand Rapids, former chief of the highway department's right - of - way division for western Michigan, also pleaded guilty to the same charge.

He faces similar charges in Ottawa and Allegan Counties.

"Every transaction I made was completely legal insofar as real estate law is concerned," Mrs. Ley said. "I worked with Mr. Seeley in many transactions and if he violated regulations applying to state employes, then I am guilty of 'conspiring' with him. The difference is that he was aware of the illegal acts and I was not.

"It appears I have been made the 'fall guy' in this case," she said. But she said she pleaded guilty to the charge on advice of her attorney who told her she was technically guilty of the charge.

Avondale School PTSA to Hold Dance Saturday

Stocks Mixed in Early Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market was mixed today in early dealings.

The aircrafts, steels and oils were higher while the utilities, motors, chemicals, metals, electrical equipments and railroads were lower.

Most changes either way were in small fractions with the outside edges of the range going to between 1 and 2 points.

Among gainers were U. S. Steel, yesterday's most active issue on a small loss, Boeing, Sinclair, United Aircraft and Socony-Vacuum, which started on a block of 5,000 shares up ½ at 43¾.

Going lower were General Motors, U. S.. Rubber, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Allied Chemical, General Electric, Celanese, New York Central and U. S. Gypsum.

The bond market was mixed at the start.

State Official Defended by Conservation Clubs

LANSING (AP)—Officers of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs today came to the defense of Deputy Conservation Director Wayland Osgood, who is threatened with demotion by the conservation commission.

The commission discussed dropping Osgood back to the position of state geologist at secret meeting April 11. Gossip indicates that some commissioners are dissatisfied with his performance as legislative agent for the department.

Harry R. Gaines, executive secretary of the MUCC, said today that officers of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs are opposed to any move against Osgood, a veteran of 30 years in state service.

2 Youths Caught in Act of Removing Auto Tire

Two youths, attempting to remove a tire from a car, were nabbed in the act last night by Pontiac Police.

Acting on a tip from a nearby resident, police caught Roy T. Hatley, 21, who gave his address as Vinewood avenue, and Franklin D. Clifton, 17, of 3380 Joslyn Rd., as they were attempting to remove a tire from an auto at Glenwood avenue and Lowell Street. Both men were arrested on charges of larceny from an auto.

TREE CRUSHES LAPEER TRUCK—Driver of this truck, James F. Kersten, of Lapeer, escaped serious injury when a tree split his truck in two and fell on the cab while he was driving through Dexter (in Washtenaw County). Kersten was pinned in the cab 20 minutes until a crane pulled the tree off.

Business Briefs

The steel industry's postwar expansion has boosted its employment from 575,000 workers in 1946 to 683,000 in 1953, American Iron and Steel Institute said today. These figures exclude ore and coal miners.

Three officials of GMC Truck and Coach Division recently attended a meeting in Pittsburgh to familiarize members of GM's chemical committee with scientific instruments sold by Fisher Scientific Co. Those attending from GMC Truck were F. L. Racine, chief chemist; K. L. Raymond, senior project engineer; and S. M. Gastren, superintendent of plant layout and laboratories.

The five per cent federal excise tax reduction on bus transportation will save about $1,000,000 annually for Continental Trailways Bus System passengers, according to Lowell M. Bush Jr., of Birmingham, agent for the company. The firm also plans to extend the life of a round trip ticket from six months to a year.

Fugitives, Stork, Heat Too Much for Burly Officer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Arkley Dodson Jr., 33, a 251-pound Indianapolis policeman, collapsed on traffic duty in 81 degree heat yesterday after four of the most hectic days any officer could be expected to stand.

Dodson captured an escapee from the Indiana reformatory after a four-block chase through dense easter crowds Saturday.

On Monday, he saw a 14-year-old girl wrestle a car to a halt in thick traffic. Investigating, he found the girl not only couldn't drive but her older sister was having a baby in the back seat. The 6-foot-5 officer served as midwife.

General Hospital reported Dodson was suffering from heat prostration and—to no one's surprise—nervous exhaustion.

Goodloe Rogers at Conference in Washington

At the invitation of Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, Goodloe H. Rogers, president and general manager of the American Forging and Socket Company, attended a conference in Washington last week as a representative of the Automotive Parts Manufacturers Association.

The purpose of the meeting was to give men in industry an opportunity to state their views and recommendations and lend the benefit of their judgment in determining the course that should be followed to insure and maintain economic stability.

Among others representing industry were M. P. Ferguson, president, Bendix Aviation Corporation; C. J. Reese, president, Continental Motors; D. H. Kelly, vice president, Electric Auto-Lite Company; Colonel Willard Rockwell, chairman of the board, Rockwell Spring and Axle Company.

Rogers is a director and vice president of the Automotive Parts Manufacturers Association.

Five ITU Newspapers Suspend Publication

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — The Jamestown Sun, one of six daily newspapers published by the International Typographical Union (ITU-AFL), said the other five would discontinue publication tomorrow.

Lack of support from advertisers was listed as the reason. The announcement, the newspaper said, was made by Woodruff Randolph, ITU president.

The affected newspapers, all named the Daily News-Digest, are published in Meridan, Conn., Texarkana, Ark., Huntington, W. Va., Allentown, Pa., and Monroe La.

Ziegenhardts' Goods Are Sold

Lapeer Friends Refuse to Bid in Auction Held to Pay Judgment

LAPEER (AP) — An auction sale of livestock and equipment on the farm of Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt Tuesday raelized $5,360.

The auction was ordered to satisfy a $3,750 judgment obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney, for the Ziegenhardts occupying the farm after she purchased it several years ago.

Lapeer County farmers spurned the sale conducted by Sheriff Clark Gregory. State Police aided sheriff's deputies in watching the sale for possible violence. The crowd remained orderly throughout the raindampened sale.

Friends of the Ziegenhardt brothers refused to bid. About 200 persons attended the sale.

Deputies said the auction sale failed to meet the $3,750 judgment. About $3,555 was left after mortgage requirements were met.

Twenty-six underfed cows were purchased by Martin Egnash, an Almont bar owner, for $1,505. Some dairy farmers present said the cows could be fed and nursed back to health.

Chris Ziegenhardt, 75, visited the farm briefly during the sale.

Some of the farmers present expressed the hope that nobody would bid on the property.

"Anybody who bids is no friend of the farmers," said Floyd Schreiber, of Almont, who is appealing an 18-month sentence on conviction of resisting Gregory in the 1952 eviction of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens. Mrs. Stevens' farm also was sold at auction to meet an assessment in the bankruptcy of the insurance association.

Others attending the sale included W. Lee Mathews whose trial on similar charges of resisting Gregory ended in a hung jury last week.

Mathews and seven other farmers will be tried next fall in another county.

Thieves Draw Blank in 2 Local Breakins

Thieves drew a blank last night in a breakin at Pontiac Mills, Inc., at 31 Jackson St., and an attempted breakin at the Economy Furniture Co. store at 361 S. Saginaw St.

Pontiac Police said a safe in the feed and seed store had been tampered with but nothing was taken. A front door lock was broken.

Officials at the furniture company said they found a rear window broken but the burglars apparently didn't enter.

Edison Expects Higher Earning

Brown Says Year Will Be Better Than 1953; Expansion Pushed

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

Despite a slight current dip in industrial use of power Detroit Edison looks forward to more profitable operation this year than in 1953, Prentis M. Brown, chairman of the Edison board told newsmen at a press conference in Detroit yesterday.

Brown said the company's earnings in 1954 should be "substantially above" those in 1953.

Detroit Edison enjoys the highest percentage of residential service among 20 leading utility companies, officials disclose. Only about 30 per cent of its output goes into industrial use and a moderate temporary drop in this phase of its sales is accompanied by a corresponding drop in production charges.

The utility's confidence in the future of this area is indicated by its continuing expansion of facilities.

Two more generating units of 150,000 kilowatts each will be put into service at the St. Clair plant (in June and October).

Work will go forward on the giant River Rouge project where the first unit probably will be pushed into service late in 1955. Two others are to follow. They will be of 260,000 kilowatt capacity. Sites for further future expansion have been acquired at Harbor Beach and Monroe.

Research on the use of atomic heat in the generating of electricity, a joint project of Edison, Dow Chemical, Consumers and some 24 other firms, is showing favorable progress.

That power can be generated in this manner has been established; researchers are now at work on the problem of bringing the process into the cost range of traditional fossil-fuels. Edison officials make clear that the new process is not expected to retire present facilities, but may become a replacement method as plants now in use become absolete.

All research on industrial use of atomic power is done under government license.

Whale of a Wail in Little Siren Scares Thieves

One of Pontiac's downtown jewelry stores now is selling a pocket-size police siren to protect men and women against holdup men, attackers and prowlers.

The newly-developed "Escort Alarm" has a loud siren that locks when once started, so that it can't be shut off. The alarm is cushioned so that dropping it to the pavement won't stop its scream. It works on a wind-up mechanism like a clock alarm.

The manufacturer's one-year guarantee promises to pay up to

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother Howard Phelps who left us on April 11, 1953.
No one knows how much we miss you;
No one knows the bitter pain,
We have suffered since we lost you.
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, Dear Howard,
That we do not think of you.
Your Mother, Hilda E. Phelps Sr.,
Sister, Pauline Jantz, Brother Harry Phelps.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF William Schramm, who left us April 22, 1952.
God knew how much we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where he is laid
Sadly missed by his wife and daughters.

IN MEMORY OF EDGAR HARTley, who passed away April 22, 1949.
There is no link death cannot sever
Love and remembrance last forever
And while he lives in peaceful sleep
His memory I shall always keep Missed by his daughter, Carol Huff

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GOLDIE Richardson who passed away 3 years ago today.
And while she rests in peaceful sleep
Her memories we shall always keep
Sadly missed by her husband Albert, Children and Grandchildren

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN Weiss, who passed away 5 years ago April 21st, 1949. Sadly missed by wife and children, Mrs. Amelia Weiss and family.

Did New Series With Marshall

Lists 'Racket Squad,' 'Trouble on Pier 13' and 'I Am the Law'

NEW YORK — Rochelle Hudson, who plays Alice, the wife of "Jarring" Jack Jackson in TV's That's My Boy made up her mind that she wanted to be an actress when she was 11 years old.

By the time she was 20, she had appeared in a score of motion pictures, playing leads and ingenue roles opposite some of the top veterans in films.

A native of Oklahoma City, Miss Hudson moved to Hollywood when she was 11 and practically fell into a movie contract at Twentieth Century-Fox when her mother took her to the studio one day to meet a voice teacher.

At 14, she played the ingenue lead in Are These Our Children? and subsequently was the ingenue lead in four Will Rogers films. This was followed by lead assignments in Les Miserables, The Mighty Barnum, Way Down East, Imitation of Life and Poppy.

While under contract to Columbia Pictures, she played leads with Paul Kelly, Bruce Bennett, Glenn Ford, Bruce Cabot and Chester Morris.

In 1950, she did the first live television show to originate in Chicago.

She then returned to Hollywood to make the first of a new television series called The Unexpected, with Herbert Marshall. After this, she went on tour with Bert Lahr in the stage play, Burlesque.

She resumed her television activities by appearing in television's Racket Squad, in I Am the Law and in Trouble On Pier 13.

Celebrators Decide to Forget Festivities

CLIO, Ala. (UP)—The "nicest house in Clio" went up for sale at auction today to pay bank depositors a second installment on their savings and residents decided the event was too sad to go on with a planned festival.

Depositors lost their money when Royal Reynolds, head of the Merchants Exchange, disappeared suddenly with their funds and bank records. He returned with in dew days with the records and promises that he would make good the missing funds.

Today's auction resulted from his promises. His $20,000 house, two cars, a share in four trucks, and his furniture were among the items for sale.

When the auction was first announced elaborate plans were made for a "bank holiday" barbecue to celebrate the restoration of missing funds.

Then residents decided the celebration "wouldn't be appropriate." They have shown no resentment toward Reynolds since his return. Most were happy they were getting their money back.

Reynolds made no immediate attempt to move from the home where he has lived for many years. He is free on $7,500 bond and living in the sale house with his wife and son.

The town was left virtually penniless when Reynolds and reside funds disappeared. But depositors received a first installment payment when Reynolds' relatives volunteered to put up most of the money for payment. They received shares of about $92,000.

Farmer Accused in Daughter's Death

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP)—Sheriff Ross Darby said a tenant farmer was held for questioning after his wife told of his beating a 15-year-old daughter to death with a board.

Darby said Mrs. J. C. Williams told him after lengthy questioning that Williams beat the girl for two hours with a four-foot plank.

No charges have been filed against the father.

Williams contended his daughter, Lee. Annis Williams, was killed when a tree fell on her while clearing timber, Darby said. The sheriff quoted Williams also as saying his wife, the girl's stepmother, hit her head with an axe while cuting timber.

Peress Claims Family Attacked and Threatened

NEW YORK (AP)—Irving Peress, former Army major who refused to tell Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) whether he was a Communist, says his family has been attacked and threatened in recent weeks.

He said stones were thrown at his home in Queens and smashed a bedroom window, "seriously endangering" his 9-year-old daughter April.

The family also has received numerous telephone "threats," Peress told an American Labor party meeting last night in his first public speech since his clash with McCarthy.

Peress' discharge from the Army, following McCarthy's recommendation that he be court-martialed for refusing to answer questions, brought a further probe of the Army by the senator's investigations subcommittee. This led to the senator's current fight with Army Secretary Stevens and other Defense Department officials.

Jewell Nominated by State Engineers

Joseph B. Jewell, superintendent of public works in Pontiac, was nominated today for presidency of the Michigan Engineering Society.

The society will hold its 74th annual convention May 7-8 in Jackson. Retiring president William N. Kitchen, Battle Creek, assistant chief engineer for the Kellogg Co., will preside.

Nominations were announced today by a committee of three past presidents. Other nominations included Samuel D. Porter, Ann Arbor consulting engineer, for vice president; M. Eugene Malone, Kalamazoo, Consumers Power Co. executive, for secretary; D. Bradford Apted, Grand Rapids plant engineer, for treasurer; and George M. Foster, Lansing, chief deputy highway commissioner, for director at large.

Virginia produced about 19 million tons of coal last year.

Government Reunites Former GI Companions

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Dennies Seiber, labor foreman recently found that Frank Haney, a laborer working for him is the "medic" who saved Seiber's life on Luzon Island during World War II in the Philippines.

Both had been working here for a year and a half.

Red Officials Prefer Change of Environment

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss soldiers laboriously began stringing five carloads of barbed wire yesterday around the fancy lakeside villas reserved for top Communist delegates to the big power conference on Korea and Indochina.

Today they started taking the wire down.

Russian security officers decided abruptly they didn't want the barricade around the suburban estate which will house Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

When the Chinese heard that, they decided they also didn't want such protection for Premier Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

The Swiss already had put up the wire wall along the most exposed side of Chou's future home. Reporters said the handsome property looked like a concentration camp.

Eastern and Western delegates already are pouring into Geneva for the conference opening Monday.

None of the principals were on the scene yet. The Western Big Three—U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault—gathered in Paris today. Chou joined Molotov in Moscow yesterday.

Sheepish Goat Owner Gets Lost Nanny Back

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—When day shift police officers came to work one morning, they were puzzled to find a black and white nanny goat in one of the jail cells.

Nights officers had left no report on the animal.

The goat was a patient prisoner. And finally its owner came sheepishly in to claim his goat. It had wandered away from its pen during the night.

U.S. Airmen Must End All Spectacular Dress

LONDON (AP)—U.S. airmen were ordered today to cease smiting the eyes of their British cousins with torrid ties, sensational sports shirts and jaunty jeans.

Zoot suits are out. So are superlengthy sports jackets and leather wind-breakers with gaudy squadron insignia.

The order—against "all spectacular dress" when off duty—came from Col. G. F. McGuire, deputy commander of the U.S. 3rd Air Force. He said airmen will henceforth be expected to garb themselves "in accordance with local custom."

TV Bouts to Continue

NEW YORK (INS) — The Columbia Broadcasting System has announced it will continue regular Wednesday night fight telecasts throughout the summer. The new series will begin with the 15-round Paddy De Marco-Jimmy Carter lightweight title bout June 2 at San Francisco.
