Comerica president to speak at OU commencement

Eugene A. Miller, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Comerica Incorporated and Comerica Bank will speak at Oakland University's School of Business Administration (SBA) commencement on Saturday, May 6 at 1 p.m. at the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion on the Meadow Brook Music Festival grounds on the university's campus.

Miller has been involved with the university in a number of capacities. He and his wife, Lois, are ambassadors of the University, as well as Life President's Club members. He has also served as a member of the board of the Oakland University Foundation from 1987-1993, and also served as chair of the Oakland University Foundation.

He also co-chaired OU's first capital campaign in 1987, which raised $10 million, and served on the SBA's Board of Visitors.

Miller began his banking career in 1955 with The Detroit Bank, forerunner of Comerica Bank. He rose to chairman, president and chief executive officer of Comerica Incorporated and Comerica Bank prior to the 1992 merger of Comerica Incorporated and Manufacturers National Corporation. He served as president and chief operating officer of Comerica Incorporated, and chairman and chief executive officer of Comerica Bank following the merger. He became chairman and chief executive officer of Comerica Incorporated in July 1993 and added the duties of president in June 1999.

Oakland University is a comprehensive state-supported institute of higher education located in suburban Oakland County, Michigan. The university has 109 bachelor's degree programs and 63 graduate degree and certificate programs. Dedicated to preparing learners for the 21st-century workplace and society, Oakland University is organized into the College of Arts and Sciences, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences, Nursing, and the Honors College.
