2 Airfields Shelled by Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Communist rockets and mortars raked two airfields near Saigon today, killing six Americans, wounding 100 and destroying or damaging 25 planes.

Far to the north, two U.S. Marine positions just below the demilitarized zone came under enemy barrages. These were at Gio Linh and Con Thien, where Leathernecks and Army artillerymen join to counter enemy threats from across the demilitarized zone.

AP correspondent Peter Arnett reported from the scene that Gio Linh was hit by from 10 to 15 rounds of mortar or artillery fire hourly all through the afternoon.

One explosion set off a fire among a stack of white phosphorus shells. The blaze was brought under control after one hour.

★ ★ ★

The number of casualties at Con Thien, seven miles west of Gio Linh, was undetermined. Helicopters made 24 medical evacuation flights from that outpost.

A dispatch from the Marine headquarters at Da Nang said one enemy shell hit a Marine helicopter flying between Gio Linh and Dong Ha, eight miles to the south, and four Marines were injured.

The guerrillas used the biggest weapon in their arsenal, their Soviet 140mm rockets, against the big air base at Bien Hoa, 16 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. officers speculated that the attacks on the airfields were in reply to the U.S. raids on MIG airfields near Hanoi which began last month.

The two fields hit were Bien Hoa, the largest tactical fighter base in South Vietnam, and an Army airstrip at Phuoc Vinh, 34 miles north of Saigon.

Dem Links Apollo Tragedy to Overconfidence, Fears Setback on Lunar Landing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., Friday blamed an admitted mood of overconfidence" for the Apollo tragedy which took the lives of three astronauts in a launching pad drill Jan. 27.

Summarizing his personal reaction to investigations and testimony before the Senate space committee, Anderson, chairman of the panel, said the "accident may well move the date for an American landing on the moon beyond reach of this decade."

"That would be regrettable," Anderson said in a statement. "but there is nothing sacred about that goal."

The goal for a successful lunar landing was fixed in 1961 by the late President John F. Kennedy, and Anderson said such a target date "was, and still is essential to efficient planning and to maintaining a vigorous and competent organization."

★ ★ ★

"An admitted mood of overconfidence by NASA and North American, based on past successes, proved fatal," the chairman said, referring to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which directs the multibillion-dollar space program, and the prime contractor on the Apollo project, North American Aviation, Inc.

★ ★ ★

"A renewal of a chain of successes which I fervently hope lies ahead — should never again be permitted to encourage indulgence in such a potentially dangerous attitude," Anderson said.

Anderson said he was shocked when he saw a photograph of a wrench socket left among wire bundles of the fire-raked Apollo spacecraft "and not discovered until after the blaze."

There has been testimony that the socket did not cause the fire and was lost by workmen at Cape Kennedy after the spacecraft left the North American plant.

Anderson said that neither the Senate inquiry nor the prime accident investigation by a special board set up NASA was able to determine responsibility for failings.

★ ★ ★

But Anderson said "obviously, ultimate responsibility lies with NASA" and "surely the contractor had a direct responsibility to exercise the kind of sound management and quality control for which it was selected to handle 25 per cent of the entire project."

CAVANAGH WELCOMES VP — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh welcomes Vice President Humphrey today for a meeting with mayors, businessmen and labor leaders. Humphrey was in the Motor City to promote summer programs for disadvantaged youth. He was to meet later with auto makers to discuss auto safety and air pollution.

VP in Detroit, Gets Youth Funds Support

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey got quick support today for the Johnson Administration's $75-million supplemental appropriation for summer programs for disadvantaged youth.

But he also bumped into criticism of what was termed the "agonizing slowness of the federal machinery" and an assertion that the government's anti-poverty program "never will be effective if we merely dash from one hot summer to the next, throwing water on hotspots before they reach the flashpoint."

Support of the supplemental appropriation came from Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit, host at the vice president's meeting with some 50 Detroit metropolitan area governmental officials and civic leaders.

The criticism came from Detroit councilman Mel Ravitz, speaking as chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, and Paul Silver, chairman of the supervisors' committee on economic opportunity.

Humphrey came to Detroit to promote the administration's program as chairman of the president's council on youth opportunity to share with officials and civic leaders "our plans and learn from you how we can work together to make this a summer full of opportunity for all young people."

Humphrey was to meet later with top executives of the nation's four major automobile companies.

Mississippi Rioting Over; Negro Dead

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Traffic moved normally along a newly cleared half-mile stretch of Lynch Street today, but National Guardsmen remained alert after a violent night in which one Negro rioter was killed.

Student life resumed on the littered campus of all-Negro Jackson State College, scene of two nights of rioting.

A token highway patrol force remained at one intersection. National Guardsmen were camped nearby.

Mayor Allen Thompson visited guardsmen and announced it would be "business as usual" in the area. He thanked guardsmen for their aid.

★ ★ ★

The Lynch Street area by daylight bore little resemblance to the nighttime battleground where the mob of 100 surged forward repeatedly in an effort to break police lines and move toward downtown Jackson, 10 blocks away.

'WE AIN'T GOING'

"Hell, no, we ain't going," the crowd screamed as it launched a fourth assault on the line after being ordered back to the campus.

City police fired a volley of shotgun blasts, hitting Benjamin Brown, 22, a Negro truck driver, and Cleothus Jackson, 19, a Jackson State student from Greenville.

Brown, wounded in the head and back, fell to the street between the retreating mob and police lines. Negro bystanders yelled, "He needs help!"

★ ★ ★

"You get back!" police shouted. "He's got all the help he needs."

A group of Negroes carried Brown to the police barricade to await an ambulance. A National Guard doctor administered first aid and he was taken to University Hospital. He died at 4:42 a.m.

Brown once worked for the Delta Ministry, a Mississippi civil rights organization sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

The other shooting victim suffered a minor leg wound and returned to the campus of the college. A highway patrolman, Dewey Weems, bled from a cut in the neck where a flying object hit him.

★ ★ ★

Squads of Guardsmen, carrying fixed bayonets and supported by machine guns on armored personnel carriers, moved in quickly after the police volley, clearing the four-lane street about 10 p.m.

Area Legislator Blasts Board's Delay on DST

The Michigan State Board of Canvassers "overstepped its authority" in delaying action on petitions calling for Daylight Saving Time," Rep. William P. Hampton, the House Republican floor leader, said yesterday.

In a resolution introduced in the House, the legislator from Bloomfield Hills urged the board to "reconvene as soon as possible" and to act on the petitions, that, if certified, would place the time question on the fall 1968, general election ballot.

The board decided Wednesday to delay a decision until May 24.

Members said they wanted to hear arguments on both sides of the issue. They also said they preferred to wait until a new board member, Nathan Conyers of Detroit, was sworn in.

★ ★ ★

"This is a matter that needs clarifying immediately," said Hampton. "The board has overstepped its authority in postponing this decision."

'CLEAR MANDATE'

Hampton's resolution said the board ignored the advice of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and refused to follow the clear mandate of the election code relative to its administrative duties.

Kelley has said the board should pass upon the petitions as speedily as possible despite any litigation pending in the courts.

Savings time opponents have filed suits in the State Court of Appeals and the State Supreme Court in an effort to prevent a public vote on the time issue.

NEIGHBORHOOD DOG TURNS BACK — Tike, a dog living in the same neighborhood as one of the three boys believed lost in a cave at Hannibal, Mo., turns back from the entrance to Murphy's Cave. The dog was brought to the scent by the aunt of Craig Dowell, 14, one of the boys missing since Wednesday. Workers had hoped the dog might detect the scent of the boy. It didn't work.

Missouri Boys Not Found as Rescuers End Search

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP) — Weary mud-grimed rescuers made their fifth and final sweep of Murphy's Cave today, hoping that somehow in nearly 40 hours of painstaking search they missed three boys believed lost in the cave.

No one appeared willing to call off the search for Joel (Joey) Hoag, 13; his brother, Billy 11; and a playmate, Edwin Craig Dowell, 14, also of Hannibal.

The disappearance of the boys recalled the writings of Hannibal's Mark Twain and the fictional adventures of Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer in these same caves around this Missouri River town.

"We'll keep plugging if the authorities here want us to," said William Karras of Washington, D. C., head of the National Speleological Society's cave rescue team.

But Karras said he doesn't feel that the boys are in the cave. For two nights and one day spelunkers — cave explorers — from Missouri and Illinois crawled through winding narrow passages in search of the boys, retracing their steps again and again on the chance they have missed that one passage.

But there was no evidence—not even a button—to indicate that the boys ever entered the cave except for the word of two boys who saw them go in Wednesday.

"We don't know what else to do," sighed Karras. Bone-tired searchers standing in a loose circle around Karras nodded agreement.

However, they collected their gear again for a last sweep through the cave and another check of two more caves 300 yards to the east. All three cave openings were exposed by a construction crew cutting a roadbed for a new federal highway through the south side of Hannibal.

Traffic Mishap Kills Girl, 5

A 5-year-old Waterford Township girl died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital from injuries received in a traffic accident yesterday afternoon on Williams Lake Road near Pontiac Lake Road in the township.

The victim was identified as Lynn M. Wardell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wardell of 7026 Hatchery.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Marcia, 29.

The Wardell car was struck by a flat bed trailer which was hooked to a truck driven by Daniel C. Bowker, 30, of 3320 Ordam, Oakland Township.

Bowker was traveling north on Williams Lake and Mrs. Wardell was driving in the opposite direction when the trailer apparently dislodged from the truck, crossed the center line and hit the car.

Township police said the trailer was loaded with dirt.

Mrs. Wardell is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital. Her son, Guy S., 5, did not require hospitalization.

The mishap occurred just before 1:30.

Search for Brothers Pressed

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and police departments nationwide are pressing their search for a pair of bandit brothers from Pontiac who escaped together from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson in 1965 where they were serving sentences of 50 to 60 years for armed robbery.

Charles and Gordon Ervin, who reportedly threatened the judge and prosecutor responsible for their incarceration in 1954, were recently added to the FBI's list of 10 Most Wanted Fugitives.

At that trial they made their first bid for freedom by fleeing from a court detention room and engaging police in a gun duel from the roof of an adjacent building.

They were recaptured within minutes, with Gordon wounded in the shoulder by a bullet from a pursuing officer and Charles suffering a back injury from a 40-foot fall.

★ ★ ★

They were convicted on the armed robbery charge the following day.

Gordon, 40, is described as about 6 feet tall, 170 pounds, of muscular build with a medium complexion, blue eyes and light brown hair.

CHARLES ERVIN GORDON ERVIN

Identifying marks include an appendectomy scar, a circular gunshot scar on the left side of his chest, a cut scar on the left side of his nose and a pitted scar on the left side of his forehead.

Charles, 42, is described as about 6 feet tall, 200 pounds, of muscular build with a ruddy complexion, brown eyes and dark brown hair.

★ ★ ★

Identifying marks include an appendectomy scar, a small cut scar on the tip of his left-hand index finger, two moles on his right cheek and tattoos on the inside of his left forearm of an arrow through a heart, a scroll, a skull pieced with an arrow and the word "Frisco."

Both should be considered armed and extremely dangerous, according to the FBI, which credits each with "superior intelligence."

Two Ship Run-Ins: 'Cold War Chicken'?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dispute over two collisions of U.S. and Soviet warships in the Sea of Japan was a standoff today. Each side accused the other of causing the bumps.

It appeared to add up to another round in the cold war game of "chicken."

The United States charged the Soviet navy with harassing U.S. Navy vessels on the high seas. The Soviets charged the American Navy with provocations.

The United States claimed the U.S. destroyer Walker warned away the two Soviet destroyers that jostled her — one on Wednesday and the other Thursday — but that the warnings were spurned.

'IGNORED BY U.S.'

The Soviets claimed the skippers of their destroyers "drew the attention of the Americans to the impermissibility of getting dangerously close," but that the U.S. ships ignored this. American announcements have given no hint of any Soviet warnings.

The United States demanded that the Soviet Union take prompt steps to end the harassments.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets countered with a warning about "the kind of results" that could result from alleged provocations.

The State Department took its stand in public statements and formal protests to the Soviet Embassy. Moscow spoke through its state-run radio.

MATTER OF CONCERN

An aide said President Johnson considered the collisions a matter of concern.

U.S. defense officials said they see no link between the clashes in the Japan Sea and the war in Vietnam. There has been speculation the Soviet destroyers made passes at the Walker because of cooling relations between the two powers over Vietnam.

American diplomats hoped the Soviets would order their warship skippers to keep a safe distance from American craft and end the incidents.

3 Arrested in Detroit in Motel Gun Battle

DETROIT (AP)—A wild gun battle broke out early today when police interrupted a gang during a holdup at an East Side Detroit motel.

★ ★ ★

Police said at least 22 shots were exchanged between them and the holdup men. No one was injured.

A man and two women were arrested while two gunmen escaped.

The gun fight developed when a police cruiser team passed the Shorecrest Motel and saw a woman acting suspiciously in the office.

MANAGER GAGGED

Sgt. Robert Peterson looked in the window and saw the night manager, Daniel Deal, 67, tied and gagged on the floor.

As Peterson investigated, a nearby door opened and a man fired one shot at Peterson from a distance of 10 feet and missed.

★ ★ ★

Peterson and his partner, Sgt. James Sadler, fired six shots apiece and two hidden gunmen fired 10 more each as police reinforcements joined the battle.

The three who were seized were booked for investigation of armed robbery. They were listed as Willie Mc Joy, 21; Carol Elliott, 23; and Rose Williams, 19, all of Detroit.

Fred Sanders Dies in Paris

Ex-Head of Chain Stricken at Airport

Fred W. Sanders, grandson of the founder of the Fred W. Sanders Co., died at Paris' Orly Airport in France today, apparently of a heart attack. He was 72.

The U. S. Embassy in Paris said Sanders, his wife, Dorothy, and two companions were changing planes for Milan when he was stricken.

They were starting a six-week European vacation.

Sanders, who resided at 1415 Epping Lane, Bloomfield Hills, retired in 1962 as chairman of the Sanders Co., a Detroit institution of baked goods, candy and ice cream. He entered his grandfather's business at the age of 15.

★ ★ ★

He served as the first chairman of the general membership body of the Family Service of Oakland County in 1961 and was the first treasurer of the Family Service Center of the Pontiac, Birmingham and Bloomfield area for two years, a predecessor of the county organization.

He was for many years interested in and a supporter of many philanthropic interests in the county.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, John M., who now heads the Sanders Co., and Frederick; a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Chickering; and eight grandchildren.

2 More Enter School Race

Seek 4-Year Board Posts in Waterford

Two more candidates have entered the race for the two 4-year board of education posts at stake in the Waterford Township School District's June 12 election.

Filing nominating petitions the past two days were William D. Motzny, 36, of 3078 Grace View and Lewis S. Long, 40, of 5657 Brunswick, both of Waterford Township.

The recent filings increased to five the number of school board candidates. Four are running for the two four-year terms and one for the lone three-year post.

MOTZNY

An automotive engineer at Pontiac Motor Division since 1954, Motzny has been a resident of Waterford Township for more than 12 years.

A native of Chicago where he attended elementary and high school, Motzny is making his first bid for public office.

MICHIGAN TECH GRAD

He is a 1952 graduate of Michigan Technological University, having received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

Married and the father of five children, Motzny is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit and Elks Lodge 810 of Pontiac.

LONG

Long is no newcomer to school board elections in the district. He ran against two incumbents last June and was defeated.

He is employed as office manager and controller at McGregor Manufacturing Corp. in Troy.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Long moved to Waterford Township from Minnesota in 1949.

He also operates his own accounting and tax service business and is a vice president of Brummett Agency, Inc.

Married and the father of two children, Long is a member of the National Association of Accountants and of the state finance committee of the Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge. He also is past chancellor for Fellowship Lodge 277 of the Knights of Pythias.

A graduate of Bremerton, Wash., High School, Long attended the International Accountants Society Correspondence School and Pontiac Business Institute.

Red-Led Chinese Riot in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist-led Chinese rioters attacked police, set two police vans afire, wrecked shops and stalls and smashed their way into a resettlement housing project today as anti-British violence mounted on the outskirts of Hong Kong's mainland Kowloon section.

A leading Communist newspaper in Hong Kong demanded that the British governor meet conditions similar to those imposed on the neighboring Portuguese colony of Macao in January.

★ ★ ★

In Macao, 600 screaming Chinese students surrounded and harangued British Consul Norman Ions after several hundred demonstrators invaded the consulate grounds, slashed the tires of the consul's car, and painted a seven-foot turtle on the consulate door. The turtle a Chinese insult, meaning stupid or stooge.

Eyewitnesses said Ions was "completely calm and collected" as the students shouted anti-British slogans, sang Communist songs, and shouted quotations from Mao Tse-tung.

The Kowloon mobs surged through a predominantly Chinese section of factories, workshops and tenements, strewing wreckage and doing damage at half a dozen spots.

They stoned police from roof tops, overturned police cars and set two of them ablaze.

Charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of a 46-year-old woman, a Pontiac youth yesterday was ordered to stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The youth, Alvin Birdiett, 18, of 75 Willard, stood mute to the charge when he appeared at his arraignment before Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

Birdiett was released pending his trial when Thorburn continued his $200 bond. No trial date was set.

Birdiett reportedly was the driver of a truck that ran a red light at East Wide Track and Pike April 26 and struck a car driven by Mrs. J. F. Martineau of 95 N. Astor.

UF Division Far Ahead in Recruiting Volunteers

Under the leadership of Warren H. Eierman, general vice president of Community National Bank, Advance Gifts units of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign are three months ahead of schedule in volunteer recruitment of workers, according to Frederick J. Poole, general chairman of the campaign.

At an organizational meeting yesterday, Eierman met with 31 vice chairmen and unit leaders who reported some 75 per cent of the 125 workers obtained.

"Enthusiastic response on the part of Advance Gifts Division leaders has been fantastic," said Eierman. "With the kind of spirited leadership evidenced so far, we predict pace-setting increases in the advance drive scheduled for September."

The division will be responsible for calling on more than 350 major area contributors in advance of the general drive which takes place in October on behalf of 55 agencies affiliated with the campaign.

Ky said he had a long talk last week with Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, "and after the talk I informe him I had decided to run." He said he informed his Cabinet Thursday of his decision.

★ ★ ★

Thieu has also been a potential military candidate for the presidency, but Ky said he sees "no possibility up to the present time" that Thieu will run.

Ky added that he will drop out of the race if Thieu decides to run. "I will never oppose him," Ky declared.

MILITARY SPLIT

If both Ky and Thieu ran, they would probably split the military and further diminish the Vietnamese contribution to the war effort.

★ ★ ★

The presidential election in September will be followed by voting for a national legislature. By the end of the year South Vietnam is supposed to have at least the outward forms of a democratic government.

★ ★ ★

Ky came to power in a military coup some two years ago and has proved to be the most durable of a long succession of military leaders. Most of his predecessors were overthrown by their colleagues in a matter of months.

★ ★ ★

Although he has frequently said that he wished to confine himself to his other job as commander of the air force, Ky has evidently been bitten by the presidential bug for a long time. He has repeatedly said he would be a candidate, then that he wouldn't, and then that he hadn't made up his mind.

OTHERS IN RACE

Half a dozen people have announced their intention to run for president. The best known is Dr. Phan Khac Suu, speaker of the constituent assembly and the most prominent civilian in South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Ky announced his decision to newsmen at a government palace in Dalat, 150 miles east of Saigon, where he had flown to visit a vegetable cooperative.

★ ★ ★

Ky said Thieu told him during their conversation last week that "if you have an ideal to serve and you have enough favorable conditions, then you go ahead and run."

★ ★ ★

Asked if Thieu had asked him not to run, Ky said: "No, not at all."

GOALS

Ky said he wanted, as president, "to continue the programs and the policies of the military with which in the last two years we have ruled the country."

★ ★ ★

Both Ky and Thieu had been seeking military support for the presidency for several months. Earlier this week, the military directory announced that it would not sponsor any one candidate, apparently a move to avoid a clash over whom to choose.

★ ★ ★

Ky said he had not decided on a vice presidential running mate. "It's most important to have a man with the same ideas, the same will, the same hopes," he said.

He denied that he would try to balance his ticket with a southern civilian.

N. VIET NATIVE

Ky, an air force general, is a native of North Vietnam.

"That's a very wrong analysis that there are various divisions among the Vietnamese," the premier said. "This kind of feeling exists only among a small group of so-called politicians, but I am sure the majority of the Vietnmese never think about this problem."

★ ★ ★

"I don't think the Vietnamese, whether they're southerners or northerners or from the central part of Vietnam believe in this."

Exhibit Big, Noisy, Funny, Far Out . . . but Is It Art?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LOS ANGELES — Is it art — or a massive put-on?

That's what visitors to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art are wondering as they attend the new exhibit, "American Sculpture of the 60s." It is an exhibition that invites superlatives: biggest, noisiest, funniest, farthest-out.

★ ★ ★

It is certainly big. The sculpture occupies two large floors of the special-exhibit building and spills out into the plaza and all over. There are huge pieces outdoors — building blocks for giants, jungle gyms, stainless steel forms that look like airplane parts.

So attractive is the sculpture to children that guards with bullhorns are posted outdoors.

'LIKE A CARNIVAL'

"Do not stand on the sculpture!" announced a guard to a couple of boys who started to climb a giant cube unaware that it was art. I heard the guard sigh, "It's like a carnival."

THOMAS

The exhibit eschews the funeral hush that surrounds most art galleries. There are sculptures that rattle, growl, tinkle or play like calliopes.

Noisiest of the lot is "Flip and Two Twisters" by Len Lye. In a shadow box the size of a small room are suspended three long, narrow sheets of stainless steel. One hangs U-shaped from the ceiling, and the two ends are rotated to create continuous sound. The other two strips dangle free and are rotated furiously.

When the rotation stops, the metal produced a thunderous crash that sends small children scurrying to their parents.

FUN-FILLED

"American sculpture of the 60s" is indeed fun-filled. There is one of Marisol's wooden-box creations of human forms, "Mixed Media." Lucas Samaras has contributed "Corridor," which consists of a glass passageway — walls, floors and ceiling — through which patrons pass in stockinged feet.

Claes Oldenburg draws smiles with his huge ice cream cone and good bar sewn in canvas, a six-foot button-down shirt with tie, and "Soft Toilet," limp and falling apart because it is made out of cloth.

★ ★ ★

There is also a grim scene by Edward Kienholz, "Mental Hospital" — a life-size cell in which two nude, hopeless figures lie manacled to cots.

The far-out qualities of the exhibit can be seen in every corner. Tony Berlant's "The Marriage of New York and Athens" looks like an immense erector-set construction, with skyscrapers emerging from a Grecian temple. Peter Agostini contributed "Burlesque Queen," a great, twisted mass in white plaster.

States Push for Share of Federal Taxes

CHICAGO (AP) — After half a century of contributing to the federal income tax coffers, the individual states are clamoring for a share of the money.

More than 30 states have discussed legislation seeking to get Congress to return to the states a share of the monies collected in personal and business income tax.

Ten states have enacted resolutions urging the federal body to consider the plea. The resolutions are varied and nonspecific.

But even if three-fourths of the state legislatures passed such resolutions, they would not be binding on Congress. If this were a proposed constitutional amendment, Congress would be obliged to call a constitutional convention if 34 states requested such a call. Then, if the convention agreed on an amendment, 34 states would have to ratify it. This device never has been used.

JFK AIDE

The idea of states sharing in income tax receipts was first deemed feasible by economist Walter W. Heller, a presidential adviser during the Kennedy administration.

The recent financial plight of many states aroused new interest in the concept.

★ ★ ★

Many states led by pro-Johnson legislators are in favor of the plan, but oppose it presently as a drain on the administration's pipeline of dollars to Vietnam.

The state resolutions call for rebates of 5 to 10 per cent.

CONVENTION URGED

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, a Republican, is spearheading a drive to call a constitutional convention. Shafer advances no specific method for the federal-state tax sharing system but would leave that to the amending convention.

The Pennsylvania House passed the governor's plan with unanimous GOP support, and near total opposition from Democrats who contend the state should levy taxes if it needs more revenue.

★ ★ ★

The constitutional convention formula was rejected by the Georgia Senate after the House approved the plan and called for a 5 per cent rebate. The Senate feared that an empowered convention could expand its scope to rewriting the entire Constitution.

The Shafer plan was also approved by the Texas House which provided a 5 per cent return of funds. The measure is pending before the Texas Senate.

ASKS CONGRESS

South Dakota overwhelmingly passed a resolution asking that Congress enact a tax-sharing plan by a "fair and equitable" method. The resolution specified no percentage.

Democrats said the 10 per cent plan would return to South Dakota $13 million annually, but a per capita system of rebate would net three times as much.

North Dakota, Minnesota, Montana and Colorado also passed resolutions. North Dakota included the 10 per cent provision. Minnesota asked for 5 per cent and called for "no strings attached" to the rebate funds.

Montana asked that "allocations of such returned funds among the states be based not only on the population of each state and the total federal income tax paid by its citizens, but also the tax effort which the state makes to provide for its own programs."

NO SPECIFICATIONS

Colorado's resolution, supported by Republicans and opposed by Democrats, did not specify anything other than it wants a share of the federal money.

New Mexico urged the state's congressional delegation to support any plan to rebate federal funds.

★ ★ ★

Missouri's resolution was backed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, a Democrat, who is against the federal programs such as highway beautification and medicaid which requires states to conform to the federal plan.

Nevada's plan is peculiar to the one state which licenses gambling.

SLOT MACHINE TAX

Nevada wants an 80 per cent cut of its slot machine tax and also asked a 4 per cent rebate of federal income tax collected in the state.

Michigan has a resolution before the Senate calling for 5 per cent rebate which would not the state $224 million. Republican Gov. George Romney opposes the plan and is pushing for a state income tax which he says will bring Michigan $225 million.

Vermont is the only Eastern state to enact a resolution. Gov. Phillip H. Hoff, a Democrat, sees tax sharing as a major tool to strengthen the states, but says it will have to wait "until the cessation of hostilities in Vietnam."

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, a Democrat, bases his opposition to similar resolutions on the same grounds.

The bulk of support for the tax split idea centers in the north-central and mountain states, but the population-base rebate would divert the largest amount of funds to New York and California.

New Star Rises in Auto Firmament

Few automotive creations have caught the public fancy as has the latest product of the Pontiac Motor Division—the Firebird.

DE LOREAN

The eye-catching entry into the sports car field marked its first production milestone Tuesday when the 50,000th unit was driven off the assembly line of Pontiac's Lordstown, Ohio, plant by General Manager JOHN Z. DELOREAN.

★ ★ ★

Although Firebird was introduced less than three months ago, its sales for last month nudged 13,000 units with prospects bright that the figure will grow to 100,000 by year's end.

Division executives are justifiably jubilant over the wide acceptance given the new "youthful" car line designed for the junior market.

This sector of potential car buyers is bursting with promise, said DELOREAN, pointing out that during the 30 years prior to 1960 there was no growth in the 20- to 24-year-old population group whereas projections indicate a 60 per cent increase during the present decade.

The Press warmly congratulates the Pontiac Motor Division executive staff on the vision and development brought to fruition in the Firebird and the fine body of workers who gave it life.

All Together They Spell—

Local Crime Report Is Not Light Reading

Pontiac's crime rate which rose 51 per cent during 1966 continued to spiral for the first quarter of 1967 as it showed a 54.3 per cent increase over the comparable period of a year ago.

Every category of major crime, except auto theft, contributed to the alarming picture drawn by prevalence of lawlessness.

Armed robbery, up a shocking 321 per cent, is responsible for much of the over-all increase, while larceny trailed with a 14.2 per cent rise. Auto thefts fell 1.5 per cent.

Expanding the developing pattern of criminality is the increase in juvenile crime. During the January-March period, those under 18 perpetrated 12.5 per cent of all robberies and 21 per cent of total strongarm robberies.

Adding to the gravity of the steadily rising disregard for law on the part of the local citizenry is the admitted ineffectiveness of the police department in coping with it.

Spokesmen point to recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court which tend to protect criminal suspects at the expense of society and the handicaps thus imposed on law enforcement agencies.

They also decry the decline of strong parental control and undue judicial leniency in granting probation while calling for "more than a passive interest in law enforcement on the part of everyone to crystalize public opinion."

There is little doubt that rampant crime, locally and nationally, has become one of the burning issues of the times, affecting in one way or another every law-abiding American. Until preventive and punitive measures are greatly strengthened, scant hope can be seen for reestablishment of law and order to the high estate it once enjoyed.

Litterbugs Seen Wormwood of Pollution Control

Controlling pollution of air and water is a top priority project in both industry and government. It is a multibillion dollar undertaking affecting everyone, and all of us will have to help pay for it. On the success of pollution control rests the liveability of our world.

But there is another kind of pollution not so well publicized for which the private individual alone is responsible. It is highway, street, park and recreation area pollution. Refuse from humans litters most public places.

★ ★ ★

Individuals scatter everything from chewing gum and candy wrappers, cigarette butts, napkins, sacks, newspapers and nose tissue to beer bottles, cans, boxes of garbage, and abandon automobiles on streets or wherever.

The cities and states would save millions of dollars in taxes every year now spent for cleanup if each of us took our own trash home to our own garbage can, a garbage dump or put it in public containers along streets and highways.

★ ★ ★

Think it over the next time you start to throw refuse in public places. Even wild animals do not befoul their habitat as humans do. Try to be as neat as they, and our public places will bloom with new attractiveness.

High Court Jumbled on Obscenity

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court is a mixed-up tribunal on obscenity, making up the rules as it goes along, although more liberal on this subject than it was a generation ago.

MARLOW

But handling obscenity in American courts has been a long-time jumbled anyway.

As far back as 1927, a Boston bookseller was convicted for selling Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" because certain passages were considered obscene. This was tried in Massachusetts courts and did not reach the Supreme Court.

The state's main point was that obscene sections of the book might corrupt the morals of youth. The defense argument that the book should be considered as a whole, along with the author's intent, was ignored.

★ ★ ★

This kind of reasoning generally prevailed until 1957, although in between times lower courts' thinking had some effect on the American legal mind. Some suggested an author's intent should be considered.

DECIDED TEST

In 1957, the Supreme Court decided the test of obscenity should not be whether a book tended to corrupt youth. Justice Felix Frankfurter said that kind of test was like "burning a house to roast a pig."

He said if the youth test was allowed to stand, it would reduce adults to reading children's books.

That same year, the court handed down another opinion, more far-reaching, by saying obscenity is not covered by the First Amendment, which protects freedom of speech and press. But the court was anything but clear on what obscenity is.

★ ★ ★

It decided material is obscene when it deals "with sex in a manner appealing to prurient interest." What's that? The court said this meant material which has a "tendency to excite lustful thoughts."

BACK CONVICTION

Last year, the court upheld the conviction of Ralph Ginzburg, publisher of Eros magazine, under a federal obscenity law. This added another guide to the 1957 thinking by saying "publishers who would make a business of pandering to the widespread weakness for titillation by pornography" are liable to imprisonment.

★ ★ ★

Then, last Monday, the court tried its hand again, this time wiping out the conviction of one man who sold allegedly obscene books to an adult — a policeman — and another who sold girlie magazines.

The opinion was short, unsigned, and contained about four different conditional views on obscenity by the justices. And, when it was all through, the court's definition of obscenity was no clearer than before.

David Lawrence Says:

Draft Card, Flag Laws at Issue

WASHINGTON — Is the Department of Justice supposed to enforce a law until it has actually been declared unconstitutional, or may the department make its own judicial interpretation in advance and decline to apply a statute even if it is violated?

LAWRENCE

This is the issue being raised in Congress as the result of episodes in the hearings of two House committees bearing on the reluctance of the Department of of Justice to prosecute persons who tear up draft cards or mutilate the flag of the United States as they seek to condemn the war in Vietnam.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana, Democrat, got into an argument with Fred S. Vinson Jr., assistant attorney general, when the latter testified on May 6 before the armed services committee of the House of Representatives concerning laws that would cover "demonstrations" in which draft cards are burned.

When Vinson seemed to be stressing possible restrictions by the First Amendment, Hebert told him to "forget about the First Amendment" for the time being on the proposed law, while he concentrated on the obligation of the Department of Justice to enforce a law when it has been passed.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark wrote a letter this week to the House Judiciary Committee on the subject of a law to prohibit flag burning.

While he did not specifically oppose a federal statute to provide penalties against mutilation of the American flag, he failed to endorse any legislation and cautioned against pasage of any statute that might infringe on free speech or otherwise violate the First Amendment.

One of the reasons that no federal law has been passed on flag-burning outside of the District of Columbia is that many of the states have taken care of the problem with statutes of their own.

Now, however, Congress is anxious to enact for the entire country a law such as is already in effect in the District of Columbia.

★ ★ ★

As for those who burn draft cards, the Selective Service Act says that any person "Who otherwise evades or refuses registration or service in the armed forces or any of the requirements of this title, or who knowingly counsels, aids, or abets another to refuse or evade registration forces" shall, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000, or both.

The foregoing statute would seem to cover offenses of the demonstrators who have been trying to influence their fellow citizens not to participate in the draft.

The question now really is whether the right of free speech, as granted in the First Amendment, in any way repeals the provision in Article 3 of the Constitution which forbids the giving of "aid and comfort" to the enemy.

Certainly it may well be argued that persons who try to dissuade others from accepting service in the draft can be charged with giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy.

Capital Letter:

'Life With Father Stalin' Is a Fascinating Story

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — While the world breathlessly awaits the fall publication of Svetlana Stalina's memoirs, the May issue of Atlas magazine carries a fascinating account of Svetlana's "Life With Father" as pieced together by Wanda Bronska-Pampuch, daughter of one of Lenin's coconspirators.

Ruth Montgomery

According to her unofficial biographer, Svetlana pretended to believe Stalin's story that her mother died of a sudden illness, although the frightened child had actually overheard her parents' loud quarrel and the subsequent shot which left her motherless.

Had Stalin drawn the pistol on his wife, or had she turned it on herself in protest against the ruthless scheming of her husband? Svetlana apparently never dared ask her father, whom she both loved and feared.

Some years later, when in her early teens, Svetlana's closest school chum asked her to intercede with Stalin for her father, who had been arrested during the night. Since the two men had been fellow revolutionaries and comrades-in-arms, the junior miss did not hesitate to tell her father of the "silly mistake."

But despite her tears and protestations of love for her friend Galya, Stalin gruffly told her the NKVD didn't make mistakes.

'MUST BE DESTROYED'

Then, pounding the table, he shouted that although the man had indeed been his friend, "He must be destroyed, squashed like a louse," as a traitor.

At school the next day, Svetlana dutifully told her friend, "Your father is an enemy of the people." Others quickly moved away from Galya, and the child came to school no more. Galya's mother was also arrested, and the child sent to an orphanage.

After the war, when her childhood sweetheart asked permission for them to wed, Stalin refused. A few months later the young man was arrested as a spy, given a 25-year sentence, and shipped to a labor camp.

The circle has now come full turn. Her father, who had studied for the priesthood, sought freedom from the tsars, but in the process did more than any other man to destroy freedom and wreck the church of his ancestors.

Svetlana, by deserting the revolution and proclaiming her faith in God, has given the church its biggest boost of the century.

Her autobiography could easily become the most widely read book since the Bible.

Action on Dog Problem Urged by Area Parents

Saturday our child was dog bitten. The dog isn't vicious—it has only bitten three children, biting one on two separate occasions, not counting the owner's grandchild and our son. It has been in quarantine one time previously. At the end of this quarantine the dog will be released to the owner to run the streets again.

★ ★ ★

How many more children need to be mauled before something is done about the dog problem in this area? Our son will carry an embarrassing scar on the front of his cheek the rest of his life. But the dog isn't vicious!!!

Reader Has Plan to Reduce Dog Population

Every Spring a lot of pups are born and the owners won't destroy them. They are given to other people who turn them out when it's time to buy licenses. Of course the dogs get hungry and catch an easy one to chew on. I suggest a law to tax dog owners $8 to $10 instead of $2 or $3. If they want a pet or watchdog, it's worth the extra few dollars. This plan would eliminate useless dog population by 75 per cent and make it safer for a lot of children.

REPLY

We checked with several printers and stationers, and they all said there should be no apostrophe on the name. As a matter of fact, we've been told that to be really correct, it is better to use just the address with no name at all.

Free Speech

Los Angeles Times

Most students at most American universities undoubtedly favor permitting persons with unpopular views to speak on forums for open discussion and the expression of diverse views.

The right to dissent and the right to be heard are of fundamental importance, not least to college students today.

Unfortunately, some university students have recently demonstrated that they believe in freedom of speech only on those occasions when they agree with the speaker.

Such a demonstration occurred recently at Dartmouth, when an invited speaker, Alabama's former governor George Wallace, appeared on the campus.

The Times has made clear often before that it has no brief for George Wallace or for the racist philosophy he peddles.

But we continue to believe that the best answer to all extremist views is to let those views be heard, so that the public will be informed of the lies, the hatred and the choplogic which is their substance.

Staggering Fact

Newsday

President Johnson's National Crime Commission continues to display initiative and originality in its appraisal of a problem that increasingly bothers all of us. A report last November revealed the staggering fact that the nation spends about $1 billion a year keeping convicts locked up in state and local institutions.

A new report reveals "inequity, indignity and ineffectiveness" in the country's misdemeanor courts, where about 90 per cent of criminal cases are heard.

The commission has recommended a reappraisal of criminal laws on drunkenness, narcotics, abortion, sexual behavior and gambling. Illegal intoxication, though basically a social problem, accounts for one-third of all arrests.

As to gambling, the commission reports what everyone knows: That people will and do gamble despite the threat of prosecution. Laws relating to sexual behavior are severe, but rarely enforced to the limit.

Abortions are performed at the rate of 1,000,000 a year, but those who perform them are rarely punished. The penalties against narcotic addiction are savage in many states, whereas the prime problem is how to treat the addict.

★ ★ ★

All these criticisms need to be considered carefully, as does the problem of overcrowding in the courts.

Improvement is obviously needed — in the prompt and fair-minded handling of defendants, in the effectiveness of the police, and in the development of laws that are sensible rather than merely punitive. The newest Crime Commission report should help to encourage a tough-minded reappraisal of a serious problem.

. . . and Slightly Wobbly

Alcohol Makes Roosters Maternal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientist reported today that a single shot of alcohol induced charming, motherly behavior in some scrappy roosters who ordinarily are rough on baby chicks.

And they got slightly drunk in the process.

But the researcher offered no views on whether an occasional barnyard highball would inspire roosters to help out with the baby-sitting on a permanent basis.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Joseph K. Kovach of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., said only that the experiment demonstrated that on the rare occasions when a rooster shows motherly instincts, it has nothing directly to do with his internal hormones.

ROOSTERS STAGGERED

Kovach described in the technical journal Science now five white Leghorn cocks who were each treated to a single dose of 33 per cent grain alcohol.

★ ★ ★

The birds all showed some minor motor coordination disturbances — a polite phrase for wobbly walking — even before they got down to the business at hand, he said.

★ ★ ★

Five other roosters were given similar portions of pure tap water.

Then both groups — boozers and teetotalers — were confronted with batches of newly hatched White Rock chicks.

SHELTERED CHICKS

All the alcohol-treated roosters protectively sheltered their chicks throughout the first night, and nearly all maintained their maternal behavior for up to four days more.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, the dry roosters "showed avoidance and aggressive behavior only. They allowed the chicks to die of exposure, and three of them actively killed their chicks," said Kovach.

★ ★ ★

He offered no report on whether any of the alcoholic roosters had hangovers.

S. Viet General Gets U. S. Medal

SAIGON (AP) — The United States decorated a South Vietnamese general for gallantry in action for the first time today.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, presented the Silver Star to Lt. Gen. Cao Van Vien, chief of staff of South Vietnam's armed forces.

The citation said that during an operation March 3, 1964, Vien, although wounded, provided "superb leadership" in turning back an enemy attack near the Cambodian border east of Saigon. Vien was a colonel at the time and was commanding a task force of Vietnamese paratroopers.

The Silver Star is the U.S. Army's third highest decoration. A U.S. spokesman said it has been presented before to Vietnamese of the rank of colonel and below but Vien is the first general officer to get it.

State Official Urges Stronger Grand Jury

LANSING (AP)—The chairman of the Michigan Crime Commission called Thursday for a stronger one-man grand jury system in the state.

"Michigan's one-man grand jury is one of the best possible crime-fighting devices," said John B. Martin in a speech before the Lansing Kiwanis Club.

"It should be strengthened and used extensively in the fight against organized crime.

"In its operations the public is protected by having a skilled judicial officer conduct investigations into crime or public corruption and misconduct under rules which fully protect innocent persons under investigation but give powerful interrogative weapons with respect to unwilling or evasive witnesses."

Martin suggested that provisions be made to broaden the jurisdiction of a grand juror if necessary.

"There should be no necessity to call separate grand juries in several counties if a single grand jury can be more effective," he said.

Martin also suggested that:

- The grand jury be able to obtain approval for an extension of its term if it is shown that an investigation is incomplete at the end of its six-month term or six-month extension.
- There is no necessity for holding a preliminary examination on indictments returned by a grand jury, since "return of any indictments should be proof of probable cause."
- That at least one grand jury be called annually as a deterrent to crime.
- A grand jury should have a "statutory right of appeal to an appropriate executive official to replace local investigators with special counsel or investigators appointed in relation only to matters that the grand jury deems appropriate for investigation.
- Records of any grand jury lasting more than 30 days should be held by the grand juror's clerk of court rather than being held by the Supreme Court.
- There should be clarification on the degree to which testimoney taken before the grand juror can be used in later trial of a witness or as direct evidence for the prosecution against the respondent with respect to testimony given by him.

Go Fly Kite, Pilots Told

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Pilots using the Rochester-Monroe County Airport this weekend have been warned that 9-year-old Mark Lambert and his dad plan to do some kite flying.

Mark's father, Frank, mailed a letter to airport manager Edwin C. Houters Thursday telling of their plans to fly their kite in the front yard of their home, which is in a direct line from the east-west runway.

★ ★ ★

Up to now, Mark has not been allowed to fly a kite because of the danger from low-flying airplanes, so Lambert decided to forewarn the airlines.

"I do not wish to have any conflict between airplanes flying above my property and the flying of my kite," he wrote Houters. "I trust that you will notify the proposed flights."

The Lamberts say they have 700 feet of string attached to the kite.

Airport officials had no immediate comment.

2 Reds Convicted in Italy Bomb Plot

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Two Italian Communists accused of plotting to bomb the U.S. consulate and U.S. Information Services offices here were convicted Thursday of illegal possession of explosives.

A court sentenced Michele Savi, 40, to 18 months in jail. Aldo Ciulla, 39, was sentenced to nine months, but his sentence was suspended.

The two were arrested last February after police found 420 sticks of dynamite in a warehouse owned by Savi. Police said the two planned to blow up a number of U.S. properties in Italy.

Two Lost Planes Arrive Safely in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Two small planes with four men aboard that strayed off course on a 2,400-mile flight from San Francisco to Hawaii landed safely today with only 10 minutes of fuel left in their tanks.

★ ★ ★

The planes, escorted by a Coast Guard search aircraft, touched ground at 12:05 a.m. at Lihue Airport, Kauai Island, 100 miles northwest of Honolulu. They were 3½ hours overdue.

★ ★ ★

The two planes, one of which is to be delivered to Japan Air Lines, took off from San Francisco at 4:30 a.m. Thursday and were due in Honolulu at 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A search started soon after the planes failed to arrive and were reported lost 420 miles north of Oahu. A Coast Guard plane made radio contact with the lost planes a little more than an hour later.

MEN IDENTIFIED

The airline identified the four men aboard as Capt. Sadura Nakamura, his copilot, Akida Miyama, and Capt. Toshio Yamawaki and his copilot, identified only as Murosawa. All four are from Japan.

★ ★ ★

The airline previously said the two planes were theirs, but later said only one of them was to be delivered to them. The airlines said none of the pilots worked for them.

Baltimore Mayor Moves to Solve Teachers' Strike

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Striking teachers say they may continue picketing schools as city officials try to unsnarl a stalemate involving rival teachers' organizations.

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin said he would introduce an ordinance in City Council calling for the election by teachers of a single bargaining agent.

This action was called long overdue by Joseph Cascella, national representative of the American Federation of Teachers — parent organization of the striking Baltimore teachers union.

"We've been trying for two years to have an election for an exclusive bargaining agent," Cascella said Thursday.

"Up until three days ago, we were told this was illegal. Now, as a result of the forceful action by our teachers, it is legal."

★ ★ ★

The teachers union, which claims 1,200 members, went on strike Thursday and picketed about 100 of Baltimore's 220 public schools. All remained open, with the help of administrators, substitutes and some parents.

★ ★ ★

About 130 teachers were arrested Thursday for violating an injunction against picketing, but they were released without prosecution when picketing was called off as a condition of resuming negotiations.

Faculty-Student Unit Set for EMU

YPSILANTI (AP)—Formation of a Faculty-Student Human Relations Committee is planned at Eastern Michigan University.

Plans for it were announced by Willie Smith, a counselor, in the wake of what some students contended was an incident of racial discrimination involving a Negro sorority member.

Coeds' Strike Broadens

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Six new recruits today joined 15 Radcliffe coeds in a hunger strike they hope will pressure the administration into giving them permission to live off campus.

The girls are planning to do without meals for the weekend.

A male spokesman for the Harvard Crimson, the student newspaper, said, "These girls don't need to diet. They're already slim."

The issue behind the strike, the girls say, is that 36 of next year's seniors have been given permission to live off-campus — but 131 applied.

They say the choice of only 12 from each of three student dormitories is "unfair."

Expo 67 Stirs U.S. Gold Drain Puzzle

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're going to Expo 67 in Montreal this year you're part of a puzzle U.S. officials have tried in vain to solve.

Their question is whether the dollars you and thousands of other Americans will spend in Canada will deepen the deficit in the U.S. balance of payments.

It's obvious that Canada will attract a lot of U.S. dollars through its huge exposition. But U.S. officials said today the fair will act as a two-way street for the American dollar.

"We've argued that for some time," one official said when asked about the possible effect of Expo 67 on the dollar drain. "If you come up with an answer let us know."

SHELVED PUZZLE

The experts have shelved the puzzle until figures become available this fall.

Last year Americans spent $1.8 billion more in other countries than foreigners spent in the United States. That gap was more than the total $1.4-billion balance of payments deficit.

★ ★ ★

One source said it doesn't necessarily follow that the travel gap will widen further this year just because Canada is sponsoring an exposition on America's doorstep.

More Americans than usual probably will visit Canada and spend more money, he said, but some of these might have gone overseas and spent even more there. They also may spend money in the United States getting to the fair.

Hearings With Industry Set

Unions Fight LBJ Rail Strike Delay Plan

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators say they expect the railroad industry to be friendlier to President Johnson's proposal to settle the railroad dispute than are the unions, which call it a step toward a police state.

Two congressional panels are holding hearings on the administration's proposal to delay a threatened nationwide rail strike by six shopcraft unions—and possibly impose a settlement.

★ ★ ★

J. E. Wolfe, chief labor negotiator for the railroads, was listed as the first witness at today's hearing of a Senate Labor subcommittee.

Michael Fox, president of the AFL-CIO railway employes department, called the President's plan a long step toward a police state and toward a slave enterprise system.

IMPOSED SETTLEMENT

The resolution would provide a further 90-day delay in the threatened strike, with intensive mediation during the period. But there would be an imposed two-year settlement at the end of the period if no voluntary settlement were reached.

★ ★ ★

Fox told the senators Thursday that Johnson's plan would be enforced by federal court injunctions.

This means, he said, that the government is "using the threat of prison to make the railroad shopmen labor for less pay than they themselves could win by the exercise of their economic strength."

Fox said he was confident that if Congress kills the President's resolution, "we shall soon settle this dispute fairly and no railroad strike will take place."

'FAIR WAY'

But, he said, if Congress is bent on legislation, and insists "on curtailing our right to strike, the only fair way to do so is through federal seizure of the railroads until this dispute is settled."

Fox said the unions had twice cut back their demands in an enfort to settle the dispute. He indicated they might be willing to drop them still further.

★ ★ ★

Several members of both the Senate panel and the House Commerce Committee have shown unhappiness over the administration's proposal.

They have emphasized that labor feels it is dealt with unfairly because the resolution denies it the right to strike and ends in what the unions consider to be compulsory arbitration.

LIMITED SEIZURE

Some legislators said they might support a limited form of seizure of the carriers, explaining they believe this would put counter-pressures on management to settle.

Others have shown interest in a union suggestion that, if the strike is permitted to go ahead, the rail workers would be willing to see that essential national defense items are moved.

But Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd testified at Thursday's Senate hearing that this would be impractical.

Subcommittee Chairman Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., made clear this would be explored much more thoroughly with Defense Department officials.

Frisco Hippie Center Is Magnet for Runaway Teens

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — If there is anything most parents fear, it is that their adolescents might turn hippie.

★ ★ ★

And if there's a magnet for teeny-boppers, it's San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district, the nation's hippie capital.

The result is trouble. Runaways are flocking here to the hippie world of wild costumes, LSD, marijuana, electronic music and easy sex.

Juveniles are turning up from Miami, Washington, New York, Montreal and points in between, as well as nearby communities.

Recently, 14 teen-age girls from Fresno, Calif., were picked up by police in one swoop.

The number, escalating weekly, is double or triple normal, according to the Juvenile Bureau Chief, Lt. Andrew Kristensen.

And in the forthcoming "summer of love," the hippies expect as many as 200,000 youths — many penniless. Among the visitors will be more runaways.

Police say the hippies have their own nationwide "communications networks." Through newspapers in several cities, letters and word of mouth, hippies all seem to know where to go.

★ ★ ★

And teen-agers easily come by the same lists of places to get food and shelter. Most hippies will open their doors to any sympathetic stranger.

The lists are so extensive that one probation officer talks of "an underground railroad network" among California's coastal cities.

Once in the bizarre Haight-Ashbury, Kristensen complains, "You can't recognize them. They can get lost for six months."

The hippies, youthful rebels who reject most of their parents' values, bewilder adult eyes with beards, long hair and theatrical garb.

★ ★ ★

But in the church basement office of the Diggers, a hippie self-help organization, they say, "you can spot runaways right off."

On one wall is a gallery of photos sent by frantic parents, and on the other wall an Oriental hanging and a sign, "Sex is good for you."

A young girl opens the door, and Eric Zavatterro, 18, wearing a silver necklace, says:

"I don't want to say anything freaky, like how old you are. But did you split last week?"

★ ★ ★

The girl, it turned out, was 18, a legal age to be away from home. Marcia already has had one marijuana arrest and was on her way "to the country."

Arthur Lisch, a Digger leader, warned city officials months ago of the growing runaway problem, and asked unsuccessfully for help in setting up shelters, run by hippies, to give temporary care to juveniles.

Junior-Senior Reception Tonight at Walled Lake

By MARK EICHER

A shroud of secrecy veils tonight's Junior-Senior Reception at Walled Lake High School.

Over 100 juniors and two faculty members have worked since April 17 to produce the satirical review of the seniors' years.

The five skits will recognize athletic accomplishments individual achievements, extracurricular activities and musical events.

Following the 45-minute program, open to juniors and seniors only, will be a dance open to anyone.

Homemade baked goods and punch will be served by the juniors during the dance.

The planning committee of Ray Buffmyer, junior class president; Jill Stafford, vice president; Sue Woodward, secretary; and Robin York, treasurer, has been assisted by faculty members John Shadford and Glen Ruggles.

Houston Hill will emcee the three hour-reception beginning at 8.

Forty fellows gobbled 1,260 pancakes in an hour to win the pancake championship for Walled Lake Monday.

Thirty students will go to the Oakland University production of Chekov's "Three Sisters" tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

This is the second time Walled Lake has taken advantage of the student discount program offered to many schools by OU.

Following tryouts last week new varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders were named.

The varsity cheerleaders included Lynn Cook, Marcia Lachowicz, Jill Stafford, Sharon Tarabusi, Sue Woodward, Robin York, and Carol Younggren.

New junior varsity cheerleaders are Louise Buffmyer, Sue Cutler, Cindy Kramer, Ruth Robinson and Jeanne Stafford.

The Walled Lake Rotary Club has invited all senior members of the National Honor Society to a banquet in their honor Monday.

Emmanuel Fair to Go Western

By LINDA WRIGHT

The gymnasium of Emmanuel Christian School has taken on the look of the wild West for the annual May Fair.

The theme of this year's fair is "Western Roundup" and some of the highlights of the evening will be gay western costumes, an old-fashioned ice cream stand, a trading post and, to top it off, a barbecue chicken dinner.

There will also be a cake sale, spin art, a jewelry shop, pie bar, donut shop and all sorts of games for the kids.

The fair will officially get under way at 4 this afternoon and close at 10.

Everyone is invited and proceeds from the evening will go to pay for the school garage.

Mr. Harold White, president of the Parent-Teachers'-Fellowship and head of the Fair Committee, expects this to be the biggest and best fair ever.

Today also marked the return of the seniors from a week-long retreat at the Sahara Motel in Sarnia, Ont.

They came home rested and more determined than ever to spread the gospel of Christ.

Accompanying them on the trip was Mr. William Yost, senior advisor, Mrs. Tyner Mayer and Rev. Richard Sandlin, from Middletown, Ohio, who was the guest speaker.

Although there is not much activity at St. Frederick High this week, plans for coming weeks are being made.

Sophomores are looking forward to a dance they will sponsor, their first.

Seniors are beginning to work on decorations that will be used to make the prom a bit more exciting. They are also looking forward to the end of this month when they will receive caps and gowns.

Father Kurmaniak, principal of the new Catholic Central High School, spoke to the Parents' Club this week.

Troy

By Royce Dew

This afternoon at Troy High, the annual Senior Control Day found the outgoing class taking over the positions of teachers and school officials.

Tomorrow night, juniors will present the junior-senior prom.

This year's title is "Paradise Polynesian."

The school's gym will depict a picturesque island. Tickets, which went on sale Tuesday, will be available at the door.

"She Ain't Done Right by Nell" is the title of the play being put on by the faculty.

The play is a melodrama comedy. Proceeds will go to the Tanzania project, a school exchange program with Africa.

This week started right for Avondale's seniors as they received announcement cards from L. G. Balfour Company.

A special "Mother's Day Concert" will be presented by the high school's concert band and choir this Sunday at 3 p.m. in the gym.

It is to be a dress-up occasion for the choir, girls wearing formal gowns and boys wearing suits. Band members will wear their uniforms.

College students from different states arrive at the monastery every weekend to work as staff members.

Last Tuesday evening, those students who have already been on the seminar weekend began a group of discussions called "Dialogue," a continuation of the seminar to be held throughout the month at various private residences.

The junior class is sponsoring a dance this evening from 8:30 until 11:30. The dance, "Our Last Chance," will feature entertainment by "The Image."

Going to Boys' State, which is held at Michigan State University, are: Scott Hastings and Dryan White, sponsored by Bloomfield Hills Hi-12 Club; Steve Jackman, Kiwanis; Mike Kidney, Birmingham Hi-12 and Jim Locker, who is also sponsored by the Student Council.

The three water ballet acts from Groves which attended the International Aquatic Art Festival April 28-29 in Delkalb, Illinois, were honored with high ratings.

Barb Weiss' solo as the Japanese sun goddess and the Olympic gymnast quartet of Lynn Ficke, Liz Meyers, and Larry and Steve Driver received trophies for second class ratings.

Anne Beier and Cindy and Doug Tull's abstract impression of formal flower arranging was rated a third place and awarded a certificate.

Rated in comparison to the best of swimmers, it was an honor for the groups to receive two of the eight second division ratings which were awarded to over 60 acts.

The presentations were three of the fifteen acts performed last week in the Groves spring water ballet production, "Oriental Reflections."

SAW SON WOUNDED — Mrs. Landon Morrow Sr. (left) of La Grange, Ga., holds a picture of her son, Spec. 4 Landon Morrow Jr., whom she saw wounded by a booby trap as she watched a late news telecast of him fighting in Vietnam. Mother Sees Son Wounded

LA GRANGE, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. A. Landon Morrow Sr. was watching a late news program on television and a film report on fighting in Vietnam caught her attention. Suddenly there was a familiar face in battle gear.

★ ★ ★

She looked, then shouted: "Come quick, Landon. Here's our son."

The camera had focused briefly on Spec. 4 Landon Morrow Jr., a radio operator, as the television newsman described fighting in "Operation Manhattan."

As the La Grange couple listened and watched, the newsman described an explosion that had wounded a captain and a radio operator. Then there was a film close-up of a soldier lying on the ground.

★ ★ ★

"We knew then that was our son," said Mrs. Morrow. "We didn't see the explosion but the next time they put the camera on him he was lying on the ground. There were two or three working on him. We could tell he was wounded."

HE WOULD SURVIVE

The next day the Morrows and their daughter-in-law received telegrams explaining that the 20-year-old soldier had been wounded but would survive.

Women Ahead in Tooth Decay

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — American women have been found to have more tooth decay than men.

Public Health Service officials, reporting a three-year health survey of 6,700 persons, speculate that pregnancy might be a factor although diet might be found to be partly responsible if further studies were conducted.

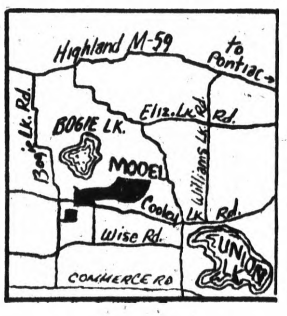

"We just counted teeth," a PHS representative explained. Statistics are given in a report released by the National Center for Health Statistics on "Decayed, Missing and Filled Teeth in Adults, United States, 1960-1962."

Men with incomes of $10,000 and above had 19 DMF teeth apiece, but men with wages below $2,000 averaged only 15.3 decayed, missing and filled teeth.

Well Pumps Life Into Wolverine Lake

By JANICE KLOUSER

WOLVERINE LAKE — Officials here think they may have found the solution to what has been ailing several area lakes in recent years.

Only a few short months ago, this 300-acre lake southwest of Pontiac, was dying from a lack of water.

Today the water is up to its established level and is quite healthy by lake standards.

The answer to the problem has been one 12-inch well which has been pumping, 1,300 gallons of water per minute into the lake.

★ ★ ★

Since February the well has increased the lake level by 28 inches and is now resting from its labors until it is needed again.

PAID OFF

"It was a gamble, but it paid off," said Mrs. Clara Miller, councilwoman and one of those responsible for having the well installed. "It's been 12 years since the lake was at this level."

The summer period will be the real test, according to Mrs. Miller. It's when the weather gets warmer that evaporation begins to take place.

"It used to be that you could almost watch the level go down," she said, "and the weeds grew almost overnight."

If the water goes down even four inches, the pump will have to be turned on again. Mrs. Miller said.

STILL STUMPS

"There are still stumps in the lake and we don't want the water to go down to the point where boats might be damaged or water skiers hurt," she said.

The well has proved to be much more successful than anyone concerned with it dared to hope.

It took only two months of continuous operation of the well to raise the lake level, rather than the three to four months that had been anticipated.

★ ★ ★

If the pump is so successful, why hasn't it been used in other lakes with similar problems?

'WATCHING US'

"I have an idea some communities may be watching us, particularly through the summer months, to see if we are successful," said Mrs. Miller.

"Then, too, the underground water is different in different areas, and that's an important factor. The State Conservation Department said the underground water around here is very good."

Officials are pleased, too, with the cost of the project — $15,000 for everything, a test well and engineering costs included, for eight months of constant well operation.

This comes out to about $13.50 per day or $400 a month. The cost had been figured at about $500 a month.

ASSESSMENT

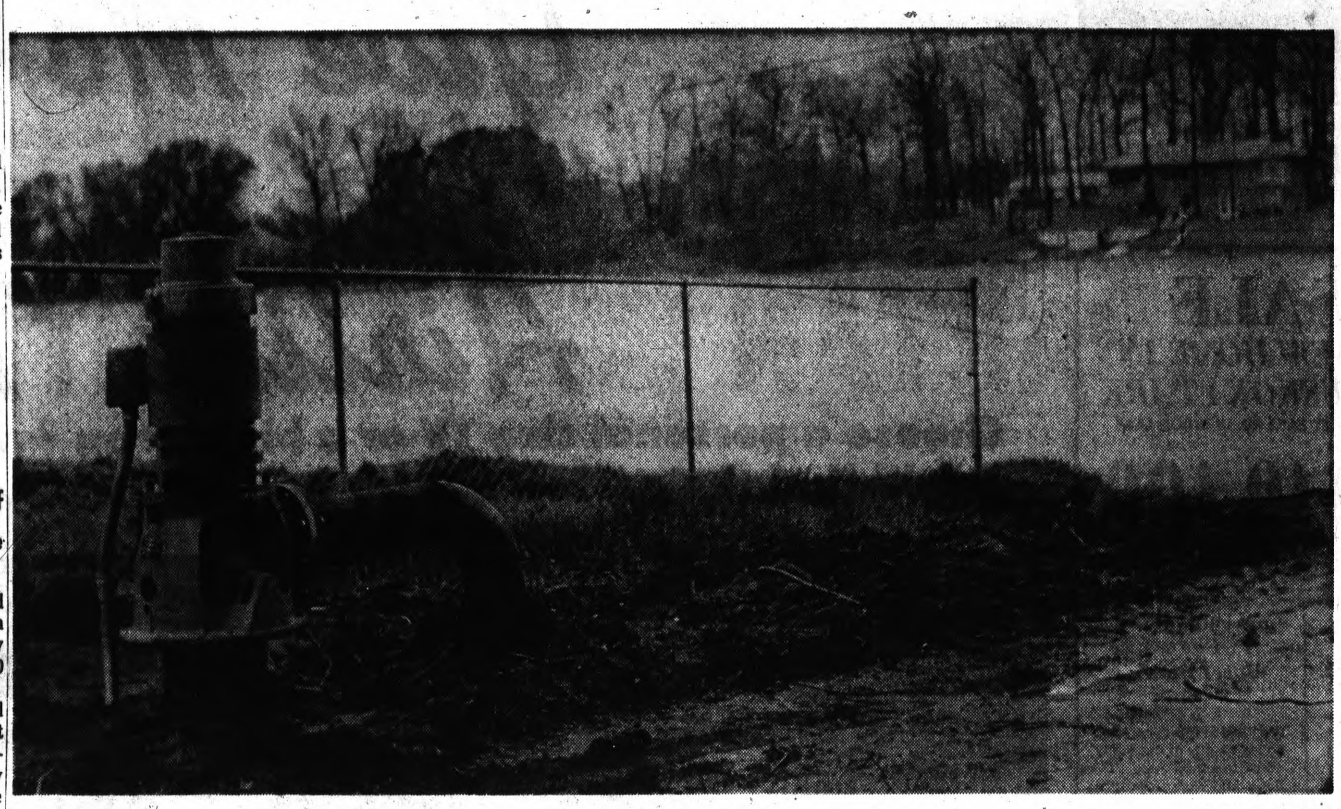

Property owners are paying for the operation through a special assessment — 30 cents a running foot for lake frontage property and $5.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation for land off the lake.

With the lake now up to where it should be, the summer months should be more enjoyable for residents who can once again launch their boats, water ski or swim in greater safety and comfort than they have for a long time.

★ ★ ★

And, according to Mrs. Miller, it will do more for selling property in the area than anything else.

The Pump That Cured Wolverine Lake And Solved A Water Problem

Troy School Board Will Seek a 7-Mill Hike, Rather Than 8

By ED BLUNDEN

TROY — The school board decided last night to ask voters for an additional seven mills rather than eight at the June 12 election.

★ ★ ★

The decision came after long hours of debate and hearings in which the board was opposed by a citizens' committee, which the board had formed to assist them on a proposed budget.

The levy, which would be for just one year, is intended to pay off a $278,000 deficit for this year and an expected similar minus mark in the coming school year.

The administration pointed out the deficit came about as a result of increased teacher salaries which had to be paid retroactively after the Troy Education Association gained a contract last November.

★ ★ ★

In the contract are included teacher increases and increments for the coming school year and more salary negotiations must take place with additional raises to be expected.

EXPLOSIVE MEETINGS

The citizens' advisory committee opposed the entire added millage levy after it made a study of school finances. Its report was issued April 28 and touched off a series of explosive hearings with meetings almost every day.

However, in a declaration delivered last night by Peter Taucher, committee chairman, the group modified its position.

The declaration, signed by 12 committee members, one abstaining, said, "The committee acknowledges the need for additional millage." The committee statement did not specifically support the board's seven-mill proposal.

★ ★ ★

The resolution adds a recommendation that "The superintendent and staff determine where the budget can be reduced, beginning with the elimination of as many as possible of the 22 additional teaching positions as yet unfilled."

EARLIER REPORT

In its earlier report the committee pointed out the district's total expenditures rose from about $2.3 million in 1965-66 to $3.2 million in 1966-67.

This 40 per cent increase in expenditures was accompanied by a 5.8 per cent rise in student population.

The committee challenged the necessity for this and the board responded with increased cost figures.

The 1967-68 total is expected to include a 10 per cent raise in general expenses, plus the cost of staffing three new schools, plus paying off deficits.

ENORMOUS RATE

Troy's property evaluation is rising at an enormous rate, up $18 million last year, and this growth is expected to bring required revenue in line in later years, the administration has countered.

However, about two years lapses before new buildings are constructed and taxes are paid on them, which places the district in the position of having additional students to train without apparent revenue, officials explained.

Supervisor Dr. Rex Smith said today the seven mills sought in the election will not cover complete costs, but that it will enable the district to pay off its deficit over a two-year period.

Trustee Richard Snoad will head the district's election drive.

The seven-mill levy would cost voters $7 per thousand valuation, or about $50 to the average home owner, according to school officials.

Official to Quit

HANCOCK (AP)—City Manager Ed Hauswirth said Thursday he will quit June 15 because he has been given too many responsibilities and not enough authority to meet them.

Ford Recalls Bumper Jacks

Also Asks Return of 16,000 in Truck Line

DEARBORN (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. yesterday entered a new stage in the auto safety campaign. It called back 28,000 bumber jacks.

Ford said the jacks, provided with Ford and Mercury Comet cars produced by the company's Los Angeles assembly plant, might have defective rachet assemblies.

It was the first mass callback of an "accessory" since the auto companies began reporting their callback campaigns to the new National Traffic Safety Bureau in Washington.

Ford also announced it was calling back 16,000 Econoline trucks because of possibly defective attaching nuts in suspension components and front brake plates.

★ ★ ★

It asked the truck owners to return the vehicles to their dealerships for replacements. It said the owners of the bumper jacks were asked to do the same thing. They will all be given new ones.

'ROUTINE TEST'

Ford said a "routine test" made on the jacks, which were supplied by another company to the Los Angeles plant, revealed that the devices might fail after they were used a few times.

Stony Creek Will Hold Workshops

Two workshop sessions entitled "Interpreting the Out-of-Doors" designed to aid teachers, will be conducted on two Saturdays, tomorrow and May 20, at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester.

Hours for the free classes are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The first session will be devoted to nature interpretation along a nature trail and the second will stress indoor techniques of nature interpretation.

Vote Is Sought on Supervisor

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Several citizens here would prefer to elect a successor to Supervisor Thomas Tiley when he retires rather than have one appointed by the Township Board as is scheduled to happen next week.

Petitions are being circulated in the area seeking an election to fill the upcoming vacancy and any other such vacancies that may be created on the Township Board.

"This is an excellent opportunity to get a young an enthusiastic person into government here," said Arthur W. Lange, who is heading the petition drive.

"It might also help to deter the attempt to annex part of our township to Walled Lake."

★ ★ ★

Lange said the petition circulators hope to get about 5,000 signatures although the legal number required has yet to be checked out.

Banquet Is Planned

A mother and daughter banquet will be held 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Masonic Temple, sponsored by Austin Chapter 396 O.E.S.

Oxford Twp. Hearings Set on Trailer Camping Plans

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—Public hearings on two new zoning ordinances designed to allow seasonal trailer camping in township recreation areas have been set for 9:30 a.m. Saturday May 20 in the township hall.

The proposed changes involve the withdrawal of seasonal trailer parks from the present trailer coach park district category, and their allowance under an exception in land zoned for recreation.

The Township Board voted to take a neutral position on the request for annexation of Davis Lake Highlands to the village of Oxford.

The petition was to be considered today by the boundaries committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Davis Lake Highlands is the site of a projected subdivision development west of town.

PERMIT FEES

Recent discussion was given to the raising of building permit fees as a means of paying the salary of a part-time building inspector.

★ ★ ★

Supervosor Lee Valentine said that as construction progresses, the inspector's services are required more frequently.

★ ★ ★

For New School

Avondale OKs $396,501 Bid

A total bid of $396,501 for the construction of the R. Grant Graham Elementary School in Bloomfield Orchards has been accepted by the Avondale Board of Education.

The total was well within the budget, according to schools Supt. John W. Dickey who said that the saving would mean better equipment and landscaping for the school.

The board also has authorized Dickey to make an offer to purchase a centrally located site for the proposed the district.

He was authorized to enclose a $1,000 check with the offer as an intent to purchase.

The district last year approved bonding for construction of a new high school. The district now has one high school.

Public Invited to Orion Schools Study Meeting

LAKE ORION — The public has been invited to attend a Lake Orion Community Schools study meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the High School library to hear recommendations regarding additions to the senior and junior high schools.

★ ★ ★

A representative of the architectural firm of Terapatea-McMahon Assoc. will be present.

The group has picked June 14 as the date for its final presentation to the Lake Orion Community School Board regarding future district needs.

New Teen Center Will Hold Dance

ROCHESTER — As its first official activity, the newly formed Rochester Teen Center will sponsor a junior high dance between 8 and 10:30 tonight in the Senior High School cafeteria.

Theme of the dance is "Happiness Is . . ." and sharing the spotlight with Charlie Brown and his friends will be a local band, "The Whereabouts."

All proceeds will aid the new center.

Leonard OKs $15,000 Budget

LEONARD — The Village Council has approved a $15,000 budget for the fiscal 1967-68 year. A levy of 15 mills, including 3 mills for the highway fund, was continued from last year, according to Mrs. Clara Scheall, clerk.

★ ★ ★

The levy is expected to bring in about a third more than last year, she said, due to an increase in the assessing rates.

The council has set May 27 as Clean-Up Day, providing village trucks and the contracted garbage service to assist householders in the job.

A move to obtain a flashing railroad signal on Rochester Road at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing was initiated.

★ ★ ★

Councilmen remarked that the present signal is easily damaged and consequently not working about half the time.

The average income for a family of four rose from $9,772 to $10,304 in 1966.

Novi Woman Is Named 'Foster Mother of Year'

NOVI—A Novi woman, mother to 28 foster children in the last seven years, has been named "Foster Mother of the Year" by the Committee for Foster Children.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Herbert Farah, 46950 Grand River was one of several foster patents honored at a luncheon yesterday commemorating Foster Child Week.

The Farahs, who are foster parents for the Wayne County Probate Court, have five children of their own, ranging in age from three to 21. Three of them are adopted and include a brother and sister who are mentally retarded.

Their citation read "they have taken 38 different children and have accepted without reservation, normal and handicapped children of either sex and of any age. They have been exceptionally skillful in preparing 15 of these children for later adoption by other families."

★ ★ ★

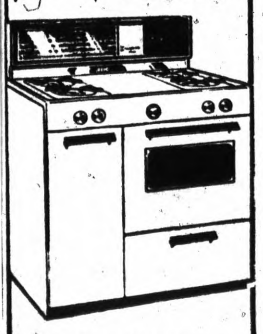

The children, it read, are "happy, well-adjusted children who join their parents in welcoming foster children into the home."

MANY ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Farah has served as president of her school PTA and as vice president of the Detroit PTA Council. She has also been a Cub Scout Den Mother and a Campfire Girl and Girl Scout Sponsor.

Junior Editors Quiz on MIRAGE

QUESTION: How can an optical illusion be explained?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: An optical illusion is something we seem to see which is different from what is actually there.

A familiar case is a mirage, or optical illusion created by layers of heated air. In upper left, a man in a car thinks he sees a pool of water ahead, but when he gets to the spot, the pool is gone.

A layer of warm air was lying along the road. This reflected a light cloud in the sky. The bending of the rays from the cloud as they hit the warm air brought them to the driver's eye. He saw a reflection of the cloud, looking like water when it actually wasn't there.

Similar conditions make the desert rider below appear to see a refreshing lake ahead in the blistering Sahara sand.

The bending of light rays as they pass through substances is strikingly shown by the two images of the rod little Jack has put in a glass of water.

In this case, it is the water rather than the air which is doing the bending, but the principle is the same. It is an optical illusion or mirage, an appearance which differs from what is actually there.

Some Call Schirra 'Best Astronaut of All'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A lot of people consider Walter M. Schirra the finest of all the astronauts.

But the astronauts are all fine men, and Wally Schirra probably would kick you in the teeth — in a nice way — if you told him he was the best of the lot.

Nevertheless, it is easy to get carried away when you consider Schirra's space record. An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) did just that, as follows:

"Wally is a red-hot test pilot. He's the coolest performer you ever saw."

Red-hot or cool, Schirra has now been nominated to command the first manned flight of an Apollo spacecraft to be scheduled since the fire which killed the original Apollo 1 crew on the launch pad Jan. 27.

★ ★ ★

Whether or not he is the best of the astronauts, Schirra is certainly the oldest. He was 44 on March 12, 1967. He has gone twice into space, and each time he came back to find himself more or less covered with glory.

CREASED MUG

This man is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes, and is burdened or adorned, as the case may be, with one of those mugs which show the creases which wouldn't be there if he hadn't smiled a lot in his time.

Schirra has done a lot of smiling, many times in the face of extreme danger.

His first space flight was a solo in the old Mercury days aboard the Sigma 7 spacecraft. He went into orbit Oct. 3, 1962, and came down precisely on schedule after six trips around the earth.

★ ★ ★

It was a pretty humdrum mission. Everything he did was just right. There weren't any hitches. It was, as the space officials said, "A textbook flight, merely the best ever flown.

A LITTLE CLOSER

After Mercury came the two-man Gemini program — a project that was getting a little closer to the ultimate goal of landing men on the moon because it would be the one that would test all the space gymnastics necessary to successful lunar flights.

On Dec. 12, 1965, Schirra and his companion, Thomas P. Stafford, were set to go up aboard the Gemini 6 spacecraft to attempt the first rendezvous in orbit with another spacecraft.

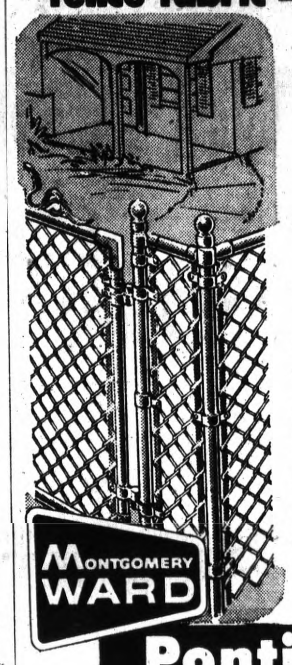

At 9:54.06 a.m. their Titan-2 rocket fired, precisely on time. A second and a half later it cut off. Nobody at the moment knew why. Gemini 6 had not got off the ground.

★ ★ ★

Would the rocket explode? Should Schirra push the "panic button" which would subject him and Stafford to the problematical chances of survival involved in emergency ejection of their seats from the Gemini spacecraft?

Schirra, the "red-hot test pilot" and cool performer, looked at his dials and sat tight. He did not push the panic button. Three days later Gemini 6 rose smoothly into orbit and a few hours later made history's first controlled rendezvous between one spacecraft and another.

Only a Paper Doll in World of Fashion

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's only a paper dress.

But when Elsa Schiaparelli wears it at garden parties in Paris, consider it decided once and for all — America really is the world's fashion capital.

During an interview, the designer, high priestess of fashion in the '30s, spoke admiringly of the strictly American paper fashions and wished for some to wear at garden parties in Paris and during her vacation in Venice.

"I think they're fun and amusing," she said.

★ ★ ★

But finding a paper dress in Manhattan isn't easy. They sell out almost the day they're put on the shelves. And contributing to the demand are brides-to-be.

Industry spokesmen said an estimated 2,500 brides will be married in paper dresses this year — ranging from plain to fancy.

GIFT

Hearing of Miss Schiaparelli's request, Roger Jones of the Hallmark Gallery in New York came to the rescue.

He visited her at her hotel, presenting her with a batch of paper dresses — and a raft of color-coordinated party supplies.

Miss Schiaparelli, who designed for queens and presidents' wives, held one up and fitted it around herself. She acted like a child just presented with his first two-wheeler.

★ ★ ★

Famous as the inventor of the fashion color, shocking pink, Miss Schiaparelli, at her peak, created lots of fun clothes.

She was the first to dye furs bright colors, the first with halter necklines, and the first to advance sweaters for formal occasions.

When her fashion workrooms were going full tilt, 350 persons were employed. Among the 10,000 garments turned out in a year were many with price tags ranging up to $5,000.

NOT DESIGNER

Miss Schiaparelli no longer designs.

"Fashion," she said, "is a joke today. Of course, I get requests to design just one more gown. But how can I? My workrooms are gone."

Miss Schiaparelli was in New York on one of her annual business trips, acting as fashion consultant to various manufacturers that license her name for products — perfume, scarves, millinery, furs, hosiery.

Portrait Is Secret Desire

Most men don't realize it, but family portraits rank highest on the average woman's list of secret desires for Mother's Day.

Why? Because family portraits satisfy a woman's natural desire for the reassurance and proof of her family when the husband and children aren't at home.

DESCENDANT OF TOTEM

According to the Professional Photographers of America, the oldest and largest association of professional photographers in the world, the family portrait is the direct 'descendant of the totem — the object created and selected by primitive man to serve as the emblem of the family and clan.

★ ★ ★

Its psychological meaning is much more important than modern, civilized people suspect.

★ ★ ★

The conventional reasons women give for wanting portraits act as a smoke screen for the real motivation — with the exception of astute women who say that they want portraits for remembrance.

★ ★ ★

Most women simply tell researchers that they want family portraits on impulse, because it seems to be a good idea or to celebrate a special occasion.

The real truth is that the family portrait is a powerful family totem which women unconsciously believe keeps the family from harm when its members are away.

SENSE OF GROUP

It also reinforces the magic sense of belonging to a group which watches out for and protects the woman herself.

★ ★ ★

But men shouldn't be surprised if a woman is delighted with the idea of a family portrait, but says she doesn't want to be in it herself. This is a perfectly natural reaction caused by the "magic importance" women place in photographs.

★ ★ ★

Most women carry in their minds a mental portrait of themselves in the early 20's so they feel anxious about a portrait of themselves at an older age. They do, that is, until they see the photograph.

★ ★ ★

Thereafter, most women are pleased with the way they look. Remarks such as "Look at those lines on my face" or "Don't I look old?" are a cover-up for what a woman feels is undue pride and pleasure with her appearance.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, if the family doesn't insist mother be included in the family portrait, she feels left out when the picture is delivered and displayed in the home.

In fact, she actually can become disturbed by a family portrait — the family totem — which does not include her.

Cool It Foolish Foursome

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: It all started six months ago when Greg and I started running around with Dotty and Mac. Mac and I would sit in the front and Dotty and Greg would sit in back. It was all in fun. We'd hold hands and hug and kiss once in a while. I sort of liked it at first, then I noticed Greg was overdoing it with Dotty.

I said I thought the whole idea was silly and suggested we get back with our own mates, but Greg and Dotty didn't want to quit. What do I do now? I am sure Dotty and Greg haven't gone any further than hugging and kissing, but I'm worried about where it might lead. I love my husband and I know he loves me. There are six preschool children between the two families. What should I do?

GREG'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't have to tell you how foolish you were to have started this dangerous game — now the fat is in the fire. Tell Greg that if you are going to continue the friendship with Dotty and Mac, there will be no more switches.

Then gradually see less and less of them, and more and more of other couples who are content to stick with the mates they married.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband is pushing 60, but he's no angel and I wouldn't put a thing past him. A very attractive divorcee who works in his office catches a ride home with him every evening. He doesn't accept any pay, but he stops at her apartment for a drink (he says). He is never more than 20 minutes late getting home. Do you think he could be unfaithful to me in 20 minutes? SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I don't know, could he?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what is wrong with my daughter? She is 14, pretty, has all the clothes she can wear, lunch money, everyone likes her, but she picks the bums to run with. She has been expelled from school twice, the last time for sniffing glue.

She has a good father, and we both love her with all our hearts, but she is wild and uncontrolable. Abby, we are average middle class people, but would do anything to straighten this girl out.

We have five other children, and she is the only one we have ever had any trouble with. I lie awake nights worrying that one day she will get into serious trouble. How can we help her?

WORRIED MOM

DEAR MOM: Girls (and boys, too) who choose to "run with bums," although they have all the advantages, feel a sense of unworthiness, and are comfortable only with companions whom they consider "low down." If psychiatric counseling is available through your daughter's school, she should take advantage of it. If not, ask your family doctor to recommend a specialist who deals in such behavior problems.

More Letters About Child of Smoker

By ELIZABETH L. POST

I have received many varied comments on the letter I published about the young boy who was sent to his aunt's to live because he was allergic to his mother's smoking. Here are two.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Oh, shame on these parents!—for the father is as bad as his wife. Please ask your readers to pray for this little boy, that God will help him to understand that all parents are not like this, and help him to accept this tragedy. — "Seeing Red"

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: What many people don't understand is that smokers are just as addicted to cigarettes as others are to alcohol, drugs, etc. Perhaps the boy's mother would very much like to stop and can't. Many cities have smoking clinics, i.e., places where people who wish to stop smoking are taught how. But towns, villages, suburbs have nothing to help the smoker.

Please urge towns, and other communities to have "smoking clinics." Not a lecture or two, but a place where the smoker can stay until he is rid of the habit.—Sympathetic Reader

Recreative Recreation

Manet's Nude Stirs New Sensation

LAKE OSWEGO, Ore. (AP) — Five artists in top hats and tails arrived one day this week at the rear of the Roger Long Art Gallery and began painting a scene intended to recreate Edouard Manet's "Luncheon on the Grass."

There were variations.

Freckle-faced Dawn Dawson, portraying the nude whose appearance in a conventional setting created an uproar in Paris in 1863, was draped in a bit of yard goods.

A white and orange bikini peeked demurely from under its edge but was removed when a photographer protested.

The yard goods, however, stayed in place.

★ ★ ★

A greyhound that was not in Manet's painting lounged in front of Miss Dawson.

A young woman, fully clothed in Manet's painting, appeared only in a painted backdrop in the local setting.

INTERPRETATIONS

The five artists, each working on a separate canvas, observed the scene with somewhat different eyes than Manet. Two recorded only impressions.

★ ★ ★

One bordered his painting with lettering he described as horizontal calligraphy.

It had been reported that Miss Dawson, in addition to her skill as a model, had once performed open heart surgery on a lion.

★ ★ ★

"Now how did that get started?" she asked while resting. "I guess it's because I was interviewed in a dimly lighted night club."

ALL FOR PUBLICITY

The occasion for the recreated painting was to publicize the Lake Oswego Arts and Flowers Festival later this month.

"And," said Frank Elliott, one of the artists, "besides that, it is to mark the centennial of Manet's painting."

★ ★ ★

Reminded that the date of that occasion was four years ago, he said, "Well, it was just a happening. All for fun."

Recent Ruling by Vatican Will Set Religious Precedent

DETROIT (AP) — Priests of two faiths, the Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox, will take part formally at a wedding Saturday in line with a recent Vatican ruling.

Church sources said it is believed this will be the first time such a marriage ceremony ever has been held in the United States.

Philip J. Cusimano, 28, a Roman Catholic, and Maria Caramitros, also 28, of the Greek Orthodox faith, are to be wed at St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church.

Cusimano, a bank worker like his bride-to-be, said the Church of Rome rejected their application for dispensation to marry three months ago but the Vatican reversed the ruling three weeks ago.

UNITY NEARING

"We are very happy, not only for ourselves but because developments like this bring us closer to church unity," Cusimano said.

"We are very fortunate to be living at this time of greater understanding between faiths," said Miss Caramitros.

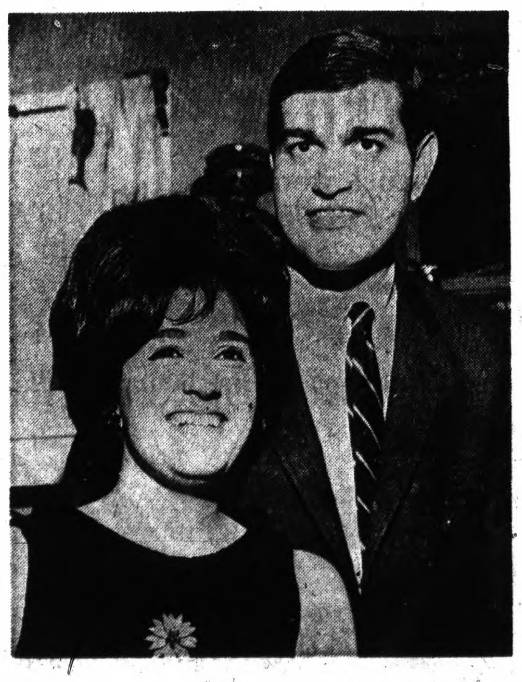

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Nicholas G. Harbatis, pastor of St. Nicholas Church, will officiate at the wedding, the couple said. Miss Caramitros attends St. Nicholas.

The Rev. James J. Murphy, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, is to witness the vows. Our Lady of Good Counsel is Cusimano's church. Father Murphy's part will be limited to asking the bride and groom in turn if they take each other as man and wife.

COURTSHIP

Cusimano, manager of a branch of the City National Bank, and Miss Caramitros, a teller in the Bank of Commerce of suburban Hamtramck, have been dating for 2½ years. They met through banking circles.

Writer's Dual-Career Recipe

(Editor's note: Margaret Albrecht was the feature speaker at the recent Oakland University conference on working mothers. Pontiac Press staffer Bea Swords had an interview with her.)

By BEA SWORDS

Margaret Albrecht is the writer of the "Complete Guide for the Working Mother." She is also a mother of two and a working woman.

She calls herself though, a "wordsmith", not a driven, struggling person who would die without the craft.

Her home "office hours" are from 9 a.m. until about 3 p.m. They coincide with the school hours of her youngest daughter, Annie.

★ ★ ★

During these hours at her N. Y. apartment she doesn't take phone calls or answers the door. Free lance writing is highly competitive and it has to be worked at to keep going forward, she tells me.

We did discuss the problems of being a working mother, but somehow those problems didn't look terribly big.

★ ★ ★

One thing we agreed firmly upon was that the "substitute mother," must be someone who will offer your child a great deal. It must be a warm, naturally affectionate person who will also be creative with your youngster.

★ ★ ★

A bad selection can cost you hours of lost work time and faith. Most of all it costs an unhappy child.

Mrs. Albrecht began working as a copy girl on Wall Street at 17 with a salary to match. She now has a number of fine positions behind her. Free lancing is for her "most easy to be with," she says.

★ ★ ★

Her daughters, Annie, 6, and Karen, 19, seem never to have noticed that their mother, "worked."

I asked what they felt about her current writing success and she smiled graciously. "They don't feel a thing, I think," she said, "they are used to me working and they are used to me. It's just a natural thing for them."

★ ★ ★

Devoting time to oneself is something she advocates.

"Don't just get home from work and step into your chores. Sit for awhile, talk with your husband, relax. The kids can watch TV or play with crayons or clay for that long. It won't hurt them a bit —it's probably to their advantage.

★ ★ ★

Husbands should come first, despite the fact that women are repeatedly telling and being told about the 'all-importance' of their children.

Truth is, husbands don't usually grow up and move to Formosa with the Peace Corps or marry someone who dislikes you. A husband is a long term investment in time.

★ ★ ★

You rob Peter to pay Paul constantly, if you want the best from your days. The time you save is all your own.

A constant decision is setting aside what is not important.

★ ★ ★

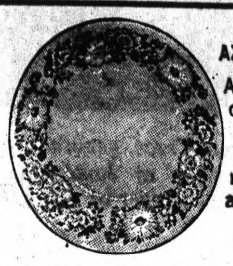

Margaret Albrecht confesses cheerfully that she hasn't waxed her kitchen floor in absolutely ages. "If the floor covering is good—and it is, it better wear well."

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the most important thing of all in being a working mother, she says, is what your husband thinks. "Husbands often start out agreeing and end up accusing you of neglecting the kids—when it's them you are neglecting."

Sewing Notion; 'First Aid' Kit for Travelers

A "first aid" sewing kit for travelers is among new items from the notions counters. The kit consists of 14 items, which you also can assemble for yourself if desired. Included are a pressing mitt, into which the other items go.

★ ★ ★

Essentially an over-stuffed glove, the mitt can double as a traveling ironing board. It's wool on one side, cotton on the other, for any-temperature pressing.

CONTENTS

Other items include a lubricant for freeing snagged zippers, a zipper repair kit, tape measure marked in centimeters as well as in inches for foreign trips, plastics repairer, snaps, hooks, and eyes, thread, pins and scissors. Not included: the travel iron.

Pretty, Practical

Since a little girl outgrows her slips so quickly, buy them with plain hems. When they get too short, add two-inch eyelet ruffles. This makes them prettier and also adds another year's wear to each slip.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I think I've met my waterloo! I'm making shorts and according to the pattern measurements, I didn't have to make any allowance in the hips. I must be more rounded in the hips than the pattern allowed for because my shorts don't have enough room and pull through the crotch. Can I change my pattern to allow for this? Mrs. L. C.

Dear Mrs. L. C.:

Yes, this is something we must all learn to do. The over-all measurement is never as important as area measurements. Because you are more rounded, you are probably narrow through the hips but thicker from front to back. Try adding ½ inch to the inner leg seam, front and back, gradually tapering this into the regular seam.

Girls, this is the beginning of the season for lots and lots of shorts for the whole family. If you have difficulty finding a pattern that fits you, you'll welcome a special pattern designed by a European patternmaker.

This pattern can be used for 11 different styles of shorts and slacks, and the same pattern can be used to fit every size possible. Each and every pattern adjustment is explained in detail.

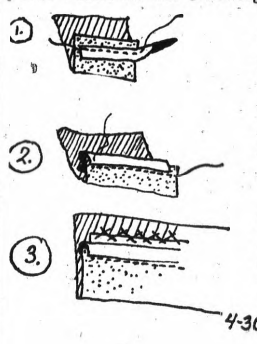

This pattern is not made by one of the popular pattern companies. It is more expensive and takes time to work out, but I can guarantee it's worth it! I have had nothing but rave reports from our readers who have tried it.

★ ★ ★

If you can't find this pattern in your area, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and I shall send you the information immediately. Please send all of your mail to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Alice James, Troy, Mich., is this week's Tailor Trix winner for her following suggestion.

For a long time I toyed with a method of putting up a skirt or dress hem without having it show on the outside and shriek "it's homemade!" Now that we have 1-inch seam binding, the job can be done perfectly.

Measure, turn up and press hem, then measure and mark 2½ inches from bottom of hem. Sew 1-inch seam binding on the marked line, trim excess fabric ¼-inch above stitching line.

Press seam binding up and over edge of hemline, sew as close as possible to folded line, catching both sides of seam tape.

Press unstitched edge of seam binding up and catch stitch to skirt. You are catching only the seam tape to skirt without any bulk of hem to the skirt, thus there is no visible hemline from the right side.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

My problem is in the back of the dresses I make. They are all too long from the neck to the waist, causing a large bulge across the back. Please help! Mrs. H. J. M.

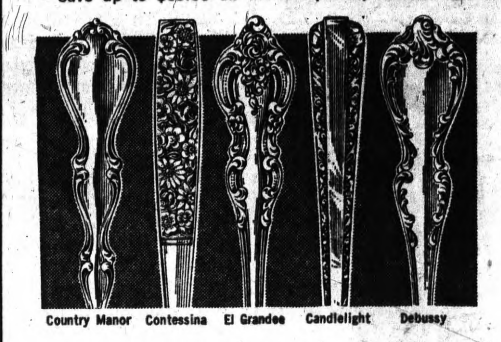

Dear Mrs. H. J. M.:

Have someone measure you from the center of the shoulder to the waistline in back. (Tie a string tightly around the waist first so that this measurement will be accurate). If you are wearing a belt, you will have to allow a little extra length for ease.

Check this measurement with the actual pattern. Make a fold in your pattern about three inches above waistline to shorten the pattern the necessary amount. Be sure to increase the size of the underarm dart at the bodice front so the underarm seams will come out even.

Mother's Day will have new meaning for the mother who receives Oneida's Community Stainless in this handsome Woodmere pattern. Despite the understated elegance of its frosted texture and the mirror-bright finish with which it is accented, it is a practical table fashion. It requires no polishing and is guaranteed dishwasher-safe. A thoughtful gift combining beauty with ease-of-care. Oxford bone china, Andover pattern; Lenox crystal and Belgian linen placemats complete the setting.

Clip on Towel for Neatness

A mother of five, interested in teaching her brood good cleanliness habits — but despairing over the sight of the sink after each hand-washing —has come up with this solution. Attach a clip-on towel rack to the sink, and use it to hang a small "wipe-up" towel. Each family member is expected — and required — to always wipe the evidence off of the sink after sudsing and rinsing his grimy hands.

Baldness Not Due to Water

"There is no evidence that washing alone can cause baldness," according to Today's Health, a magazine published by the American Medical Association.

Army Teaching Use of Drug as Weapon

SKILLMAN, N.J. (AP) — The Army is quietly teaching its Chemical Corps officers how to use a powerful mind-altering psychedelic drug called Agent BZ as a possible combat weapon.

A copy of a lesson plan outlines effects resulting from the mysterious chemical ranging from giddiness to hallucinations.

★ ★ ★

"Research to throw light upon mental illness has brought as a by-product the discovery of synthesis of a growing list of substances capable of producing 'model psychosis,' " the lesson plan explains.

"These brief controllable drug-induced disturbances in mental function are often profoundly disorganizing and, while they last, would without doubt be severely crippling to a military group in which they might occur."

POSSIBLE WEAPONS

The lesson plan discusses the use of marijuana, mescaline, LSD or lysergic acid diethylamide, and Agent BZ as possible weapons.

Marijuana and mescaline are ruled out by the lesson plan as useful military weapons because they require such large doses.

★ ★ ★

LSD, a widely discussed psychedelic chemical, is listed by the lesson plan as having "great promise," but it is BZ which is described as "our standard incapacitating agent."

A Pentagon spokesman described BZ as a "delayed acting temporarily incapacitating agent producing incapacitating physical and mental effects."

REASONABLY CERTAIN

Two researchers at the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at Skillman, one of the nation's foremost centers for treatment and research in mental disturbances, said they were reasonably certain what BZ is.

The researchers, who declined to be identified, agreed after seeing the symptoms listed in the Army document that the substance probably is related to belladonna, a plant extract which is one of the oldest drugs used in war.

★ ★ ★

They contend it is most likely similar to any one of a number of commercially produced synthetics which are modeled after atropine, one of the chemicals in belladonna.

One said he knew Army intelligence was "very interested" in such a synthetic being developed in the Soviet Union in the late 1950s.

POSSIBLE SYMPTOMS

According to the lesson plan, issued by the Army's Chemical Center and School at Ft. McClellan, Ala., the possible symptoms from BZ include giddiness, disorientation, hallucination, drowsiness and maniacal behavior.

"There is no standard munition for the use of BZ," a Defense Department spokesman said. He would not elaborate, but it was understood this meant there was no specific means of delivering the chemical weapon to an enemy.

The neuro-psychiatric center researchers said, however, that the substance could be sprayed in combination with a faintly oily base, and would be absorbed almost immediately through the skin.

"It is impossible to delineate the entire spectrum of incapacitating drugs which might be employed tactically in future hostilities," the Army lesson plan says.

Some of the incapacitating agents, the plan says, produce changes in blood circulation, muscular coordination, balance, vision and body temperature.

Others produce "dramatic changes in mood, perception of the surroundings and the ability to concentrate and make effective decisions."

But, the training document emphasizes: "There is usually complete recovery, no permanent injury to the nervous system and, unless the dose be multiplied manyfold, a very low probability of death."

"BZ could be used, the lesson says, "where military necessity requires control of a situation, but where there is good reason for not harming the surrounding population or even the troops."

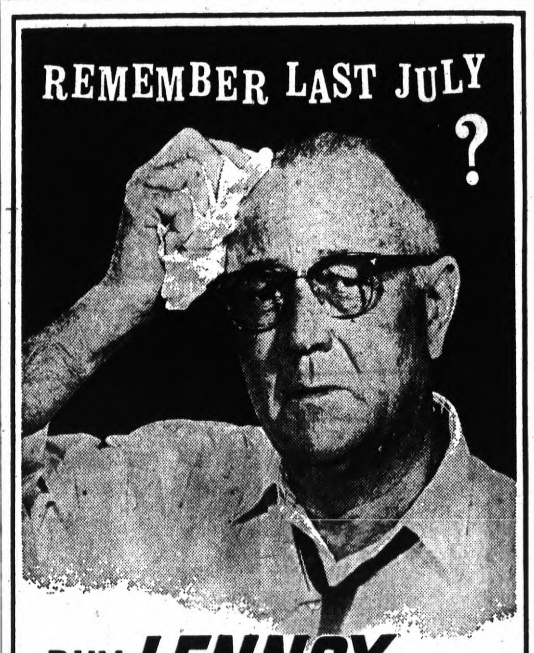

In simulated combat condition tests reported in the past, BZ generated confusion so great in some instances that one guard confronted with an "enemy" soldier, who announced he did know the password, simply forgot what to do about it, got tired of trying to remember, sat down and went to sleep.

Other men just stopped caring and wandered away from the "battle" scene.

In the words of the Army lesson plan, "Soldiers lingering in such overpowering reverie could scarcely be relied upon to hold an enemy at bay, much less take bold initiative in attack."

Another soldier went berserk and swung his rifle wildly and ineffectually at an enemy.

Other possible symptoms of exposure to BZ listed in the Army lesson plan are: interference with ordinary activity; dry, flushed skin; abnormally fast heartbeat; urinary retention; constipation; slowing of mental and physical activity; headache and increase in body temperature.

STYMIES LAKERS' HOPES — West Bloomfield's title aspirations in the Wayne-Oakland baseball league have been severely hindered by Clarkston ace Dan Fife. The senior right-hander held the Lakers hitless for the second time this season in a 1-0 victory Thursday that lasted 10 innings. He struck out 22 and allowed only five base runners in the ball game.

10-Year-Old in LPGA Tourney

Last Place 88 Pleases This Young Golfer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Beverly Klass shot an 88 in the first round of the Dallas Civitan Open Golf Tournament Thursday and was so enthusiastic about it that she went swimming for a couple of hours.

She hadn't spent all her energy on the golf course where some of the lady pros took the count from searing heat on a day that found the temperatures soaring to 100.

Beverly is only 10 years old, is the youngest pro in sports history and is the youngest ever to play on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour.

PAYS ENTRY

She—or rather her father, Jack Klass of Woodland Hills, Calif.—had to pay $50 for her to play in the tournament since she is not a member of the LPGA. She can't be until she's 18.

★ ★ ★

But Beverly got part of that money back when she played in the pro-amateur, shot a 91 and her team managed to tie for fourth. She picked up $31.25.

"Whee!" she said.

★ ★ ★

LAST ON FIELD

Beverly isn't likely to win any money in the tournament proper since she is last in a field of 54 and there are only 30 money places.

But it's the experience she's after anyway.

SUMMER TOUR

Beverly will play the summer tour—a dozen tournaments—and then it'll be back to school at Calvert Street in Woodland Hills. She's a fifth-grader.

★ ★ ★

Beverly had played only one 18-hole round before. That was with the amateurs and she fired a 91. So when she shot 88 Thursday, it meant she had improved by three strokes already.

★ ★ ★

The little girl (95 pounds) has been accustomed to playing on nine-hole courses and she actually had 82 for 18 holes one time. But there were nine holes each day, thus it couldn't be called an 18-hole round.

★ ★ ★

When she was only eight, Beverly won the National Pee-Wee Tournament at Orlando, Fla. She won by 65 strokes.

"She played baseball and I noticed she had unusual coordination for a child so young," said Klass, a building contractor in the Los Angeles suburb. "I thought she might do well in golf so I got her interested in that."

KNEW PRO

He said her first interest in golf came when she got to know Marlene Hagge, one of the stars of the women's tour, three years ago.

★ ★ ★

He added that it was unusual that he would be encouraging her in golf since he and his wife and two other children were absolute non-golfers.

"But I thought golf was a fine sport for her—it's a healthful game played by the best people—and she seemed to be talented toward it," Klass said.

★ ★ ★

Beverly will endorse clothes for a company in California. Now that she's a pro she'll get a fee. She's also to appear in a television show her father, who's also in the motion picture business, is making. "That would make her a pro anyway," said Klass.

BITING SITUATION — Ten-year-old Beverly Klass nibbles on her fingernail as she waits for her playing partners and officials who look for a lost ball in the first round of the Dallas Civitan Open. New NHL Coach

Third No-Hitter for Fife as Wolves Pad Lead

By JERE CRAIG

Clarkston's Dan Fife still had his mastery at West Bloomfield's diamond yesterday and the Wolves improved their Wayne-Oakland League first place margin with a 1-0 conquest in 10 innings.

Fife tossed his third no-hitter of the campaign and held the Lakers without a safety for the second time—both at the Keego Harbor stadium field.

Thursday's contest was moved from Clarkston to the West Bloomfield diamond because of better playing conditions. All other W-O contests were postponed by the foul weather.

Clarkston's Bob Paladino raced home from second base with the game's only run in the last of the 10th when the Lakers' bid for an inning-ending double play resulted in an errant toss on the relay to first.

Rich Johnson led off the frame with a walk, but Paladino forced him at second. Tom Allen then walked. Fife grounded one up the middle which was converted into a force at second, but the relay to first sailed well over Jerry Robbs' head and the Lakers' first sacker had no play on either Fife or Paladino.

HARD LUCK

Mickey Elwood was the hard-luck loser, yielding only doubles to John Getzan and Allen, plus a tainted single to Fife. Elwood fanned 16, but walked seven and hit two batters.

Fife, who fanned 15 in his seven-inning no-hitter against the Lakers earlier, was almost invincible as he struck out 22 to the dismay of a highly spirited West Bloomfield cheering section.

The losers (6-3) put a runner on third base with none out in the second inning on a two-base error and a wild pitch. But that was their only threat. Clarkston is 7-1 in the race and 9-4 overall as the county area's third-rated prep baseball power.

Holly Golfers Add 13 Shots After One Day

Holly's golfers learned what a difference a day can make yesterday.

The Broncos returned to the scene of their 164-175 win over Milford Wednesday and promptly took 13 more strokes while dropping a 167-177 verdict to Brighton in a Wayne-Oakland League meet.

★ ★ ★

Mike Adams again solved the Holly Greens course for a two-over-par 38 but he didn't have the help from his teammates that produced the fine effort the preceding day.

Holly is now 4-6. Brighton was paced by Mike Lueker's 40.

Hall of Fame Calls Manager Satchel Paige

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige was named Thursday as one of five members of the National Baseball Congress Managers Hall of Fame.

The selections were based on performances of 800 managers in the past 32 national championship tournaments.

Paige managed Bismarck, N.D., to the title in 1935. He was the pitcher in four of Bismarck's seven tournament victories.

Others named were John Braden of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Nick Urban of Enid, Okla.; Ray Stratton of Drain, Ore., and Charlie Williams of Ponchatoula, La.

Paige holds the tournament record of 60 strikeouts in 38 innings.

He gained fame over 30 years in just about every rank of league existing. He has lived recently at Kansas City, and this year is playing for the Indianapolis Clowns, a barnstorming team.

Barons Look to Golf Title

Bloomfield Seeks 5th Pontiac Press Crown

Bloomfield Hills showed it is unlikely to relinquish its Pontiac Press Invitational Golf Tournament crown without a battle May 22 by surprising Waterford Kettering Thursday, 202-210, at Pontiac Country Club.

It was the first loss for WKHS in its last seven starts and came one day after the Captains had avenged their only previous loss in 11 outings.

They scored a victory over Waterford who earlier had beaten Hills. The Barons, defending four-time champions of the Press tourney, have been down this season.

But Bill Scott and Randy DeArment both had 38s yesterday in one of the stronger showings by Hills. Charlie Patrick's 39 led Kettering.

Tigers Take Win Streak Into Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, getting their share of the breaks in a rush to first place, carry a five-game winning streak into Boston's Fenway Park tonight for the opener of a four-game series.

Earl Wilson was Manager Mayo Smith's choice to face the Red Sox. Boston will counter with rookie Darrell Brandon.

The Tigers got a welcome day of rest Thursday when an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Phillies was rained out.

The Tigers are getting a break in the schedule, too, with 17 games coming up with second division clubs such as Boston, Washington and the once-mighty New York Yankees.

Detroit doesn't play a first rate contender until it meets second place Chicago in a Memorial Day twinbill in Tiger Stadium May 30.

WON TWICE

Wilson, who came to the Tigers last year in the trade which sent outfielder Don Demeter to the Red Sox, won two games from his old Boston teammates last year without a loss.

He has a 3-2 record going into tonight's game. Brandon hasn't won a game in three decisions.

Rain which cancelled the Phillies-Tigers exhibition also washed out the Chicago-Baltimore game, leaving Detroit one-half game up on the red hot White Sox in the battle for first place in the American League.

Smith also appeared to be cheered by a pair of base hits off the bat of Norm Cash in the 4-2 victory over Cleveland Wednesday.

Cash, batting .222, traditionally is a slow starter in the spring. But he usually starts to hit when the hot weather comes in June.

'500' Drivers Set to Qualify

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An international field of drivers will make 10-mile dashes against the clock Saturday in one of sport's best-attended preliminary events, qualifications for the 500-mile auto race May 30 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

A crowd upwards of 150,000 is likely to watch Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., try to beat the qualifying record of 165.899 m.p.h. he set last year.

Andretti, U.S. Auto Club champion the last two seasons, hit 168 unofficially in practice sessions both in 1966 and this spring when conditions were ideal.

His Ford-powered Brawner Hawk will be challenged by two entirely different types of machines — the STP Pratt & Whitney gas turbine driven by Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., the 1963 Indianapolis winner, and the Mongoose turbocharged Offenhauser driven by Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., who has never been worse than 11th in seven Speedway starts.

TURBINE POWER

Jones has turned laps at almost 166 m.p.h. in the turbine. Ruby also has turned laps well over 165.

The best performance in the first of four qualifying sessions wins the pole, the inside starting position on the three-car front row, regardless of later speeds.

★ ★ ★

Winning the pole is more a matter of prestige than of winning the race, the No. 1 starter having won only seven of the past 50 Memorial Day classics. It also is worth about $5,000 in special awards to the car's chief mechanic.

Qualifying prize money is relatively peanuts compared with a purse of about $700,000 for the race proper. The fastest car each of the four days wins $1,200, the second $800, the third $600 and so on down to sixth place.

Qualifiers Saturday will hold their earned positions in the lineup. Sunday qualifiers will line up in order behind them, followed by qualifiers the following weekend.

★ ★ ★

Once 33 cars have qualified, another still can make the lineup by bettering the slowest speed in the field. The slow car then is "bumped" from the lineup and cars behind it move up.

Trials will start at 11 a.m. EST Saturday.

Bosox Slugger to Get Two-Week Army Drills

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, the Boston Red Sox' 1965 American League home run champion, is Army-bound again — but this time it's only for a couple of weeks.

★ ★ ★

The 22-year-old slugger joined an active Reserve unit Thursday in complying with a Defense Department directive to sign up or else.

Conigliaro signed up with the 412th Engineer Co., based in Lynn near his Swampscott home. The outfit will leave for two weeks of training May 19 to June 3 at Camp Drum, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

Tony, who swings off the field as a singer and dancer — and bachelor — led the league with 32 homers two years ago. Then he enlisted in the Army Reserve for six years and served six months on active duty at Fort Dix, N.J., after the baseball season.

After his release, he was assigned to an inactive "control group" and hit 28 homers for the Red Sox in 1966. The Defense Department recently ordered all reservists to join an active group or face active duty.

KEY PLAYER

Conigliaro, a key man in Boston's hopes to move up from a ninth place finish last year, will miss 15 games while at summer camp. His loss will be sorely felt by the Red Sox, who will be left with four outfielders during the two-week stretch.

★ ★ ★

Tony C. managed to get under a deadline. He arrived home with the Red Sox after a long road trip and grabbed a couple of hours sleep before joining the Engineer Company in early afternoon.

Epstein Wants to Be Traded

Rookie Claims Baltimore Reneged

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mike Epstein, remaining adamant in his refusal to go back to the minor leagues, said today the Baltimore Orioles reneged on a promise to trade him.

The 24-year-old rookie slugger said the promise was made last January by Harry Dalton, Baltimore's director of player personnel, while both attended a dinner in Rochester, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

"At the time I agreed to contract terms for 1967," Epstein said, "I asked 'what happens if I can't make the ball club next season?'

"Harry said: 'We will not stymie you. We will trade you.'

"I took him at his word," Epstein said. "I didn't have it in writing; perhaps I was immature. But, he's had enough time to trade me."

Dalton contended he was misunderstood.

"I told Mike we didn't want to stymie him in his career—that's the truth," Dalton said. "But we do not think he will be stymied because we asked him to play more Triple A baseball. I did not tell him definitely that we'd trade him this year if he didn't stay on our club.

TAKES TWO

"That was something I couldn't guarantee — not knowing if we would want to trade him or if we could. It takes two parties to make a trade."

The Orioles announced Wednesday night that Epstein had been optioned on 24-hour recall to Rochester of the International League, where he batted .309 last season, hit 29 homers and drove in 102 runs while playing first base.

★ ★ ★

Epstein said Dalton told him last September that the only way he could play for Baltimore would be as an outfielder, since Boog Powell was firmly entrenched at first base.

"I reluctantly went to the Florida Instruction League to learn how to play the outfield," Epstein said, "and my progress was described as satisfactory. Now they want me to go back to Rochester as a first baseman."

"It's about time I stood up for what I believe is right," he said. "I'm not being presumptuous, vain or think I'm bigger than the ball club—I know I'm not. But, all things considered it's time to do something. I have to vindicate myself, give myself a free conscience. I think I'm being wronged and I'd like to see that wrong corrected."

★ ★ ★

Dalton said he still hoped Epstein would eventually play for the Orioles.

"We hope he changes his mind, plays every day and see what happens," Dalton said.

IN NEW YORK

Epstein plans to visit relatives in New York—within sight of Yankee Stadium where the Orioles will be playing during the weekend—before motoring to his Los Angeles home.

★ ★ ★

"Harry did the best he could do," Epstein said, "But he procrastinated so long, he's in a bind now. Evidently seven other clubs in the American League think I could help them now, and 7-1 odds, in my book, are pretty good."

Athlete Gets Credit, Place on Sidelines

By GERALD SEGROVES

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — George Moschis asked for credit — and he got it — and as a result he probably won't hurl the javelin for the University of Tennessee again.

★ ★ ★

The young Greek athlete's standing was clouded when he obtained credit for his schooling at Athens Graduate School of Economics and Business. Consequently, he has been ruled a transfer student.

★ ★ ★

Moschis spent $408.60 of his own money in coming all the way from his home in Rhodes, Greece, to throw for Tennessee. Now he's been ruled ineligible to compete in Southeastern Conference and NCAA track events.

Tennessee, in announcing Moschis' ineligibility Thursday, said the ruling by school officials was based on the fact that Moschis did not spend a year in residence at Tennessee prior to athletic competition as required under SEC AND NCAA rules.

SET RECORD

Moschis, the holder of Tennessee's record for the javelin with a toss of 248 feet, 10½ inches, has thrown 252 feet in European competition.

Before deciding to come to the United States, he had competed in meets in Italy, Austria and Germany. One time he placed in the European championships despite a leg injury.

★ ★ ★

Moschis' father owns a tailor shop back home and his mother is a dressmaker.

"My mother didn't want me to come," said George wistfully. "So far away, you know. But my father was willing. He knew it was for my own good."

The 5-foot-10, 172-pound athlete came to Tennessee without a scholarship. His father paid his tuition when he entered the university in September, 1965.

City Elks Has Junior Champ

Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810's junior bowling program has produced a state champion.

Bowling on the final squad of the three-weekend tournament at Flint, the Pontiac boys slipped past the previous leading total of 3147 on the final frame to finish with 3152 last Sunday to take the senior boys' title.

Captained by Jim Crawford, the team was paced to the state title by Chris Lewis' 615 actual. Randy Manz, Rick Hickmott and Roger Shafer joined Lewis and Crawford for a 2645 actual score.

Seven teams represented the local Elks lodge and five of them claimed trophies in the six divisions.

★ ★ ★

Collier Lanes in Oxford had a third place finisher in the junior girls event, and a fifth place among the bantam girls.

Golfers Mark End of Fred's Sports History

Sports history nears the end for St. Frederick High School.

The Rams, competing in their last sport before the school becomes part of Pontiac Catholic next fall, won the Macomb Catholic League golf championship by squeezing past Mt. Clemens St. Mary 169-170 at Hillcrest Country Club.

★ ★ ★

John Guillean shot a 40 to take St. Fred medal honors. The Rams have a 7-0-1 record and have the Press Prep tournament on their schedule.

Union Lake Duo Wins

Union Lake duo Perry Allagreen Sr. and Jr. have won the Class B Doubles division of the annual Greater Detroit Bowling Association City Tournament with their 1331 total.

Red-Hot Beard Turns in 4-Under 68

2 in Deadlock of First Round at New Orleans

Winner of Two Recent Tourneys Continues Top Golf Play

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Big Jack Nicklaus whistled enviously when Frank Beard reported into the Lakewood Country Club with a 68 for the first round of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open golf tournament.

"I had to do it, Jack," Beard said. "Your wife is taking my wife shopping today."

★ ★ ★

The young Beards are keeping fast company these days. The 33-35-68 turned in by the 28-year-old Beard Thursday gave him a first round tie with veteran Gardner Dickinson.

The four-under-par performance also justified his reputation as the hottest golfer on the professional circuit.

Beard won the New Orleans tournament last year, edging Dickinson by a stroke. It was his only victory of 1966. But this year things are different.

Beard won the Tournament of Champions last month and then last week he won the Houston Tournament. He now ranks fifth among the leading money winners of the year and if he captures the $20,000 first price here he could jump all the way into second place, right behind Arnold Palmer.

★ ★ ★

The New Orleans tournament was shaping up as a replay of the 1966 battle between Beard and Dickinson.

NEAR LEAD

But it was still far from a two man race. Just one stroke off the lead were Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tommy Aaron of Calloway Gardens, Ga., Johnny Pott of Gulf Hills, Miss., and Allan Henning of South Africa.

And right behind them at 70 was a threatening group headed by Nicklaus, who acted like he was about to snap out of his long 1967 slump.

Nicklaus, who has won less than $15,000 in the first third of the 1967 pro tour, was still having putter troubles.

Clay's Next Fight June 5 in Court

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay's next fight is scheduled June 5 — but this one will be in a fereral courtroom instead of the ring.

That's the date Clay has been ordered to stand trial on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the Army.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham set the trial date Thursday, three days after Clap as indicted by a federal grand jury.

The indictment came 10 days after Clay, who prefers to be known by his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, refused to take the oath as a draftee.

Conviction could bring a fine of $10,000 and a five-year prison sentence.

Clay was stripped of his world heavyweight boxing championship following his refusal to be inducted, but he had indicated he planned to continue his fighting career with overseas abouts.

TURNED DOWN

Meanwhile, the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans has denied a request for a temporary injunction restraining Clay's draft board from declaring him delinquent and instituting criminal action for his refusal to heed the call.

Quinnan Hodges of Houston, one of Clay's lawyers, said the injunction request will be delivered Monday to Justice Hugo Black of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The 5th Circuit Court also is to consider Monday motions to advance two appeals on the calander and a motion to issue a writ of prohibition to stop the scheduled June 5 trial.

★ ★ ★

The two appeals are on civil cases filed in U.S. district courts here in which Clay contends his 1-A classification is unconstitutional and was brought about because of racial and religious prejudice and public opinion. He maintains he is a Black Muslim minister and should have a ministerial exemption from the draft. He claims he preaches 90 per cent of the time and boxes 10 per cent.

Clay was released under $5,000 bond after he was indicted last Monday.

★ ★ ★

Hayden Covington of New York, Clay's chief lawyer, has said the former champion will never go to jail. He said it will take 18 to 24 months for the Supreme Court to act on the final appeals.

U.S. Atty. Morton Susman said Clay's case has to move faster than expected because Clay made statements before his scheduled induction that he was not going into the Army.

Clay trasnferred his Selective Service records to Houston from Louisville, Ky., in January, claiming Houston as his home.

Skippers Win in I-L Track

Waterford Triumphs Over Stevenson

Waterford dumped Livonia Stevenson for its first Inter-Lakes League track triumph this spring, a 67-51 conquest that featured sweeps in two events.

The WTHS squad took all three places in the two-mile run and the pole vault while dividing the 14 first place finishes at seven apiece with the Spartans.

Brothers Gary (a senior) and Larry (a junior) Biskner each won two events and ran a leg on the winning 880-yard relay team for the Skippers, who are now 3-6 over-all.

In posting their second straight victory, the Skippers set two new high marks for the season: their 1:35.8 clocking in the 880 relay and Gary's :10.4 timing in the 100-yard dash. It was only the second time he's ever run track in his high school career.

C.D. Runs Past Whitmore Lake to End Streak

Country Day of Birmingham ended its four-meet losing streak by trimming Whitmore Lake, 71-47, on the Yellow Jackets' all-weather track Thursday.

The host squa won 9 of the 14 events but its school-record performance was only good for second place. Country Day's John Means trailed Jim Pullen across the finish line in the 180-yard low hurdles.

While Pullen posted a :21.4 time in the event for one of his three firsts for Whitmore Lake, Means (who won the 100-yard dash in :10.6) was a close second in :21.9 for a Country Day low hurdles record.

Duckpin High

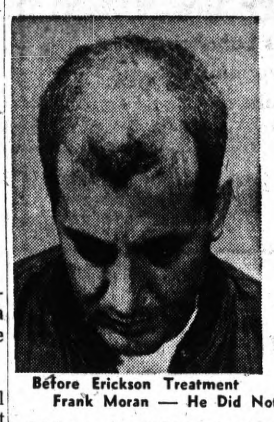

BALTIMORE (AP) — Led by Jerry Ford's 190, Baltimore's Strikemaster team set a single-game record of 820 in duckpin bowling Thursday night, the previous high of 800 was set by Schilling & Son of Durham, Conn., in May, 1962.

Spartans' QB to Play Despite Broken Nose

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Jimmy Raye, Michigan State quarterback, will play in the Spartan's final spring practice game Saturday with a broken nose.

Raye broke his nose in a scrimmage last week but the injury was not detected until Tuesday.

"The swelling is going down and he can breath well. He'll wear a special protective mask for Saturday's scrimmage," said Dr. James Feurig, team physician.

Feurig also said fullback Bob Apisa, who refrained from contact work during the first three weeks of spring drills because of an old leg injury, also will play Saturday.

Apisa had his right knee operated on during the winter and took a slow approach to returning to full "head knocking" sessions last week.

★ ★ ★

Two other highly rated players, fullback Reggie Cavendar and defensive tackle Tody Smith also are nursing injuries.

SORE ANKLE

Smith, the younger brother of All-America Bubba Smith, has a sprained ankle. Cavendar, who subbed for Apisa last season, has a bruised left thigh.

★ ★ ★

Feurig said Raye's vision on certain pass motions probably will be impaired some by the face mask he'll wear in the annual green and white game.

However, he said, "I feel he worked with it the mask real well during practice."

It's time for a trouble-free Toro!

STANDARD CLIPPINGS BAG. TORO pioneered grass and leaf bagging attachments for rotary mowers in the first place, and this year they're even better. This standard equipment bag clamps on with one hand, and it has a heavy-duty bottom. No zippers to clog, either.

SAFETY SPIN START. You wind up the "impulse" starter, step behind the mower handle, for safety, and push the lever to "start" position. Chokes automatically.

THREE OR 3½ HP, FOUR-CYCLE ENGINE. Starts easily, runs smoother than cheap 2-cycle engines. No mixing of gas and oil.

MAGNESIUM HOUSING. The lighter-than-aluminum stuff they use in airplanes.

AUTO-OILER.† A visual oil filler. Push the button and you're sure the crankcase is full. No plug, no funnels, no oily fingers.

CLEAN-OUT PORT. When you're through mowing, let the engine idle and run a little water into the clean-out port. The blade splashes it all around under the housing and washes it out like new.

TRIMIT.† You know that grass along the sidewalk that won't stand up? This little device props it up so the blade can clip it off crisply.

WIND-TUNNEL® HOUSING. TORO's "S" shaped cutting blade actually creates a powerful suction under the housing. It pulls grass up for a more even cut, "vacuums" leaves, too.

Among NL Batting Leaders

Met Settles Down, Goes Up

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Look who's in the top ten!

That's no misprint, that's my son, the ball player. Eddie Kranepool from the Bronx.

You'd hardly recognize Eddie any more. Got married to a nice girl and settled down. Grew up a lot, too. He's 22 but not the kid he used to be. He's a man now.

★ ★ ★

The once petulant and pampered first baseman for the Mets is the proud owner of a glowing .353 batting average which puts him right up there with all the National League batting leaders.

That in itself is something of an accomplishment. But even more noteworthy is the manner in which Mrs. Ethel Kranepool's boy, Eddie, picked himself up by the back of his spikes and became a real man.

Now THAT really is an accomplishment.

"Going 0-for-34 and 0-for-20 a coupla' times like I did will knock some of the cockiness outta you," says the same young man who once told Duke Snider to mind his own business and not try to tell him how to hit.

"In the beginning, I guess I was a little rock-headed. But I think I've grown up. Just being around older fellows helped. I learned a lot from them."

Everybody on the Mets including the clubhouse boy, was older than Kranepool when they paid him a $70,000 bonus and he joined them at 17 near the end of the 1962 season.

YOUNG VETERAN

Now that he's a ripe old 22, he's really the "veteran" of the club. He was talking about it Thursday after the game with the Reds was rained out.

★ ★ ★

"I'm the only one left from '62," he said, looking around the spacious, green-carpeted clubhouse. "I enjoy playing for the Mets. We haven't improved as fast as we would've liked, but maybe I'm one of the reasons.

"This could be the year I put everything together . . . How does that song go? . . . Maybe this is the start of something big."

During his first years with the Mets, Kranepool had the reputation of being hard-headed, hard-to-get-through-to and just plain stubborn on occasion.

★ ★ ★

"Even my mother used to needle me about it," he grinned. "She'd tell me to wake up and work a little harder to overcome my mistakes."

★ ★ ★

During the fall and winter, he works as a customer's man for a brokerage firm.

Hurls One-Hitter Against A's

Chance Fattens Twin Chances

By the Associated Press

Pitching for Minnesota has made Ohio farmboy Dean Chance happier than a farmer with a pen full of hogs and the market price doubled.

The hard-firing right-hander, who had fallen on sad times since winning the Cy Young Award with the California Angels, is rounding up the scattered Twins and fattening them up as a pennant threat.

★ ★ ★

"With this team, I don't think I'm going to lose another game," Chance said in an expansive mood Thursday night after blanking Kansas City 8-0 on a one-hitter.

"It's fun when you win; it's fun to play the game," he said, responding to his 5-1 record which makes him the winningest pitcher in the American League. "It means something to play for a pennant contender because you know you're playing for something."

Chance, who operates two farms with a total of about 285 acres near Wooster, Ohio, also owns almost half of Minnesota's 11 victories and has kept the sluggish Twins tied for sixth, only 4½ games from the lead.

ALSO JUBILANT

Steven Hargan and Bob Bruce also had reason to be jubilant. Hargan hurled a five-hitter in Cleveland's 2-1 victory over Washington in the only other American League game, and Bruce allowed only three hits in pitching Atlanta past Pittsburgh 9-2 in the only National League contest.

Chicago was rained out at Baltimore in the AL and Cincinnati got the same weather treatment at New York in the NL.

★ ★ ★

Chance, who fell to 15-10 in 1965 and then 12-17 last year after his 20 victories in 1964 earned him the Cy Young Award as baseball's best pitcher, is still rejoicing over the trade that brought him to the Twins.

MORE RUNS

"It's one of the biggest breaks I've had," he says of the deal in which the Twins gave up Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall to get him. Now he talks about being named comeback player of the year, winning 20 again and adding another Cy Young award.

"It's the difference between night and day with the runs this club gets me," said the 25-year-old hurler, who still is remembered for his escapades with Bo Belinsky as a member of the light-hitting Angels.

But the way Chance was throwing Thursday night, he only needed rookie Rich Reese's first major league homer with none on. Reese drove in two more runs and rookie Ron Clark socked in three more, but Chance made sure.

The only hit off him was Danny Cater's clean single in the fourth inning. He struck out eight and only six walks got him in trouble as he repaid the Twins for the one-hitter he threw against them in 1962.

★ ★ ★

Hargan, 3-3, did not have it so easy as he outdueled Camilo Pascual, 2-1. Hargan led 2-0 on two wild pitches that scored Fred Whitfield who doubled, and Chuck Hinton's run-scoring double.

But the Senators scored in the ninth inning when Hinton dropped a long fly for a three-base error after Frank Howard singled. However, Hargan struck out Paul Casanova to end the game.

Bruce breezed as the Braves jumped to a 4-0 lead against Tommie Sisk and added four unearned runs in the seventh, two on Felipe Alou's triple.

Sisk, who took the defeat, lasted on 3 1-3 innings. Gene Alley doubled home both Pittsburgh runs when Bruce faltered in the fourth inning before winning his second game in three decisions.

Girl Gets Mail Orders on Male Team

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Cheryl Pedlow, Indiana State University freshman and self-styled tomboy, runs with the males, taking orders through the mails.

She's defending champion in the girls' 880 in the U.S. Track and Field Federation competition and hopes to make this year's meet at Albuquerque, N.M., June 9.

★ ★ ★

Until then, Cheryl, 19, a physical education major, is practicing with the men's track team at Indiana State and getting her workout instructions by mail from her coach in Indianapolis.

She won the federation's outdoor event here last summer in 2:21 but has run the distance indoors in 2:18.7. She was fourth in a field of 107 at the National Amateur Athletic Union cross country meet last year at St. Louis.

Cheryl, a 5-foot-8 blonde who works for the Indianapolis Park Department during the summer, is described by her coach, Larry M. Bridges, as "a beautiful girl who runs like a horse."

"I'm a tomboy," Cheryl said. "I like to run and the longer the better."

Bridges, head of the physical education department at Marian College, Indianapolis, sends Cheryl's workout instructions through the mail during the week, then tries to travel the 70 miles to Terre Haute each weekend to practice with her.

Bridges, 27, also is a runner. He competes in indoor track meets during the winter and has run the 1,000-yard event in 2:13.

JUNIOR GIRLS

Besides his 25-man Marian track team, Bridges also coaches a pair of up and coming Indianapolis junior high school girls, Mary Wagner, 15, and her sister, Martha, 14.

"I'd like to see these girls with talent get someplace in racing, just like the boys," Bridges says, "that's why I'm helping them."

"The workouts for boys and girls are identical," he said. "You just cut them down for girls."

Cheryl began running as a junior at North Central High School, Indianapolis, when she wanted to lose weight.

Since then, her weight has fluctuated between 120 to 135 pounds and "when I'm 120 I look like a skeleton walking around."

Usually, she practices with Indiana State's freshman milers. Cheryl says she can keep up with them to the half-mile point.

★ ★ ★

Both she and Bridges feel that interest is growing in girls' track, field and cross country, but they feel Indiana's weather conditions are far from ideal for these sports.

Cheryl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, support her athletic activities but don't attend many of the meets.

"I get too nervous when they're around," their daughter admits.

On the other hand, running with the freshmen "helps me relax — I put on trunks and a tee shirt, and just go!"

Younger Breed Has Pin Money in Pro Ranks

Bowling Draws Rivals for Veterans of PBA Tourney Tour

AKRON, Ohio (NEA) — Back in the bad old days of bowling, when the pins took a pounding in alleys stategically shunted to the rear of pool rooms, many of the "athletes" who took part in the sport bore a strong resemblance, both physically and psychologically, to Jack the Ripper's kid brother.

Those days are gone forever. Most of today's kinetic keglers look and act more like All-American football players.

A perfect example of bowling's new breed is Jim Stefanich, 25, of Joliet, Ill., who recently walked off with $25,000 first prize in the $100,000 Firestone Professional Bowlers Association tournament of champions.

Stefanich, who tossed 37 straight games of 200 or better (which happens to be a world record) on his way to the Firestone victory, isn't addicted to bowling at this stage of his career. But he admits to a strong liking for money.

Stefanich has plenty of company in the kegling kiddie corps with youngsters like Don Johnson, 26, of Kokomo, Ind.; Wayne Zahn, 26, of Atlanta; Jack Biondolillo, 26, of Houston; Mike McGrath.; 21, of El Cerrito, Calif.; Mike Durbin, 24, of Costa Mesa, Calif.; lefty Dave Davis, 25, of Phoenix, Ariz., and an ever growing list of younger men who want to pick up a piece of the change bowling has to offer.

OLD PROS

The old pros, guys like Carmen Salvino, Bob Strampe, Buzz Fazio, Don Carter, Glenn Allison and Dick Weber, who used to split up the money between them, are a long way from being on relief — but the youth influx isn't lost on them.

"Frankly," says Weber, the former postal clerk from St. Louis who dominated the game a few years ago, "I'm no longer out to win any popularity contests. My attitude has been terrible and it's getting worse. I'm out to win money instead of friends."

★ ★ ★

Les Schissler, who at 36 is one of the new "older" bowlers just rising to prominence, finds himself in the unhappy position of hitting his stride just when the best younger crop of keglers ever is breaking records left and right.

"I had a 279 in an all-star qualifying final a few years ago in Denve," he recalls "and somebody threw a 300 at me. Then Biondolillo hit me with a 300 to win $10,000 in this year's tournament of champions.

"A 300 is very hard to beat and most of these kids are capable of throwing one at you any time they show up."

Host to Defend Title in 6th Oxford Relays

The sixth annual Oxford Relays will be held tomorrow with host Oxford as the defending champion.

The preliminaries of the meet will begin at 1:30 p.m. for the field events and 2 p.m. for the running events.

The finals are scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

Teams entered this year are Kettering, Waterford, West Bloomfield, Avondale, Troy, Holly, Howell, Northville, Fitzgerald, Warren Woods, Port Huron Catholic, Williamston, Clarkston and Oxford.

The Wildcats won last year with 46 points, with Waterford finishing second with 38.

Bill Penoza of Kettering, Pat Eaton of Howell and Gary Cummings of Oxford should stage close races in the hurdles events. Oxford's Tim Kelley has bettered the meet mark of 10:0 flat in 100 dash by going 9.8 this season.

Other entries who have bettered the meet records including the 440 mark of 52.3 by season postings of 50.8 by Bill Harrison of Northville are the 2:01.6 mark in 880 by Larry Reese of Holly who has gone 2:00.4 and by Dale Simmerman of Romeo and Bob Thomas of Waterford who have gone 2:00.7 and 2:01.0 this year.

★ ★ ★

Larry Brisker of Waterford is favored in the pole vault with competition from Ken Marsh of Oxford and Ron Bills of Fitzgerald.

The 2-mile run will be a new event this year and Ed Birkenstock of Howell is a favorite in view of his 10:05.0 during the season.

Young Bowler in Spotlight of Tournament

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Janet Bruno of Malden, Mass., one of the youngest competitors in the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament, shot 1724 for eight games to lead the qualifiers Thursday, then beat 1966 woman bowler of the year, Joy Abel, 761-678, over another four games as the Queens tournament opened match play.

Miss Bruno, 20, was joined in the spotlight by one of the oldest to qualify, 61-year-old Chicagoan Ilonka Steirer, who rolled 903, the third highest qualifying block in the tourney's history.

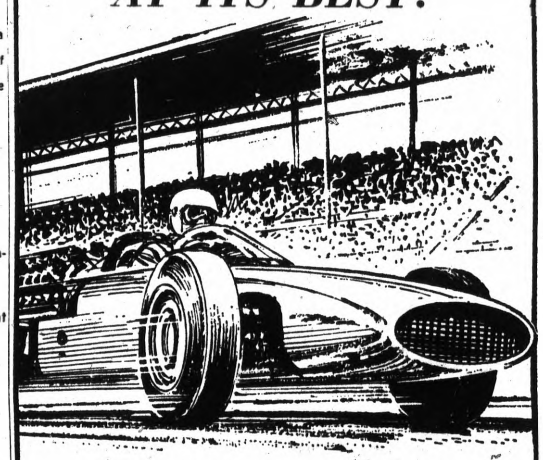

Mrs. Steirer, a 20-year veteran who totaled a fifth-high 1701 to qualify, lost her opening match, however, to a former queens tournament champion, D. D. Jacobson of Playa Del Rey, Calif., 749-696.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Tradition is a tough nut to crack, and therein lies the major obstacle for proponents of a switch from spring to fall for high school golf.

There are a number of reasons for changing the golf schedule to fall, a subject which has been mentioned here before.

First of all, there's the matter of Michigan weather, and secondly, there's the matter of playing ball with owners of golf courses where the preps play their matches.

The first problem—the weather — isn't likely to change, so the only way to beat it is to switch to the sunny days of September and October.

The other problem is one that continues to grow worse.

Some 300 high schools in Michigan now have golf teams. Each team tries to establish a working agreement with a course close by.

★ ★ ★

Where the teams are few and the courses numerous, there's no problem. Where you have a great many squads — such as we have in Oakland County — a handicap comes to light.

PREPS WELCOME

Course owners in general extend a big welcome to the teams, and at the same time permit the players to use the facilities at no cost at all or at a reduced rate.

★ ★ ★

Some of the courses now have more teams than they can handle and the players want to use the course at prime times during which the course owner could take in money to pay the bills.

Several schools have had trouble finding places to play. Royal Oak Dondero and Kimball were without home courses last year and Bloomfield Hills High has had the same drawback this spring.

Several course owners have suggested that the preps switch to fall. In this way, they reason, the players would have the facilities available more often since golfers tend to end the season come Labor Day, and all teams would be able to find a place to play.

★ ★ ★

Ending at Labor Day seems to be another tradition, but many golfers are bowlers and they find it convenient to divide the season at that point.

MORE COSTLY

If the present trend continues, boards of education may find that the cost of keeping a golf team will become more costly, whereas the price could conceivably drop if the school adopted a fall schedule.

★ ★ ★

"It's tradition to play golf in the spring and it'll be hard to overcome," says Allen W. Bush, associate director of Michigan High School Athletics.

"There would be nothing to prevent any school that desired it to switch to the fall," Bush continued. "Switching might conflict with cross-country and football, but I don't know how much conflict there would be."

Bush also observed that teams might run into foul weather if they ran the season too long in the fall.

★ ★ ★

However, the state doesn't limit the number of golf matches a team plays per week, so a team could easily play a full schedule in one month.

UP TO SCHOOLS

Bush said the proposal to switch had been talked about but he added that it would be up to the schools to take any action.

★ ★ ★

"Our talk has been nothing serious," Bush said. "But if a group of schools or leagues were to ask for it, then it would be brought up before members of the Representative Council."

As Bush pointed up, the only reason for the state becoming involved would be in scheduling tournaments. If enough of the schools wanted to make a switch, then the state office would take appropriate action and schedule the regional and state tournaments for fall.

A few schools in the state now play in the fall, but Bush said it was a small number. "And we also have a few baseball teams that play their season in the fall," he added.

On these rainy spring days, even the baseball coaches might be swayed to change.

Staff Selected at New School

Dondero Swim Coach Takes Post

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ann Arbor High School is losing two of its coaches to the city's new Class A Huron High School which will open next fall, when the older school will be known as Pioneer High.

Ed Klum, who led Ann Arbor to the runner-up spot in the Class A State Basketball Tournament in 1966, is going to Huron High as athletic director and basketball coach.

Wrestling coach John Nordlinger is going along with Klum.

MOVE UP

Klum will be succeeded by junior varsity basketball coach Fred Carr and Nordlinger by junior varsity wrestling coach Doug Horning.

Huron High's swimming coach will be Patrick Wallace, now at Royal Oak Dondero, and its hockey coach, Marty Read, a 1966 University of Michigan graduate.

The new school will become a member of the South Central League, while Pioneer will continue a member of the Six A League.

Waterford Golf Record at 17-3

Waterford golf team yesterday defeated Rochester 201-2 0 8, bringing its record to 17-3.

Earlier Waterford had lost to Rochester by three strokes.

Medalist honors were shared by three Waterford players who shot 39's. They were Rod Skelton, Randy Rieth and Brent Barnes.

Four States Halt Netting of Salmon

LANSING (UPI)—Fishery experts from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin have called a halt to all commercial fishing of trout and salmon in Lake Michigan.

Wayne H. Tody, chief of the Michigan Conservation Department's fish division, told the State Conservation Commission Thursday the order was given because commercial fishermen were dipping into trout and salmon stocks in the lake.

★ ★ ★

The four states, which make up the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, also ordered a permit system for use of large-mesh gill nets by commercial fishermen.

The order was issued earlier this week at a meeting in Grand Rapids, Tody said.

Tody also said fishery officials from the four states will meet June 20-22 in Madison, Wis., to seek further restrictions on the commercial fishing. He said they will ask that the large-mesh gill nets be limited to a smaller size.

"Any way we look at it, the commercial take is alarming and too large to be ignored," Tody said.

BIG HARVEST

He said commercial fishermen were reaping a harvest from the 3.5 million trout and salmon released in Lake Michigan between 1964 and 1966 from Michigan and federal hatcheries.

★ ★ ★

Tody said an inspection trip of commercial fishing operations in April showed that more than 6,700 lake trout were caught during a two week period.

He said fishermen had put out 1.9 million feet of gill nets in northern Lake Michigan to trap fish—enough netting to circle the earth at the equator.

Tody also warned that unless added restrictions are taken against commercial fishermen on Lake Michigan the huge federal-states fish restocking program will be severely damaged.

CFL May Add Central Loop

South Lyon Nine Wins Southeastern Conference

The Southeastern Conference baseball title will be in the South Lyon trophy case as the Lions met the challenge in impressive style this week.

The Lions met their two chief title contenders in the final week of the regular season — emerging with an 8-7 come-from behind win Tuesday at Saline, and a 5-1 victory over Dundee yesterday to clinch the laurels.

Four runs in the first inning made Bill Dehnbostel's chores easier Thursday. The senior right-hander limited Dundee to five hits, walked one and hit one batter to record his third win in five outings.

It was the third time in two seasons that Dehnbostel defeated Dundee.

Two walks, a sacrifice fly by Jim Richardson, Don Byrd's single, Paul Jamieson's two-run triple and an infield out produced the Lions' first four runs. Richardson tripled and Byrd singled for the winners' (10-3 over-all) final marker.

Jamieson's two safeties upped his batting average to .500 and gave him a 13-game hitting streak. He had a key pinchhit Tuesday as South Lyon rallied from a six-run deficit at Saline.

Parents Seek More Answers

Police Crackdown at McConnell Vowed

Parents from McConnell Elementary School, "satisfied" with Pontiac police commitments to curb youthful vandalism, last night signaled their intentions of seeking action on the problem from the City Commission and Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Expressions of concern over recent break-ins and malicious destruction at the school at 245 S. Paddock came at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Acting Pontiac Police Chief Harry Nye and three other officers spoke to the group at the request of Fred Carter, community school director.

Carter had indicated McConnell parents were satisfied with promises made Tuesday by Nye that police would patrol the school area and crack down on youthful curfew violators.

★ ★ ★

Suggestions that further steps be taken seemed to receive strong support from an estimated 150 persons at the meeting.

DETENTION OF YOUTHS

Parents proposed to "get some answers" from officials of Juvenile Court regarding detention of youths, particularly repeat offenders, who are arrested by police.

In addition, it was urged that the City Commission be asked to enact a stricter curfew ordinance. The present statute requires youths up to 11 years old to be off the streets by 10 p.m., and those from 12 to 17 to be inside by midnight.

Area Slaying Suspect Asks Sanity Test

A Farmington Township man accused of killing his estranged wife while she was working in a beauty shop has requested psychiatric testing to determine his sanity and competency to stand trial.

A hearing on the request from John Merlo, 25, is scheduled for Monday before Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin.

Merlo is charged with first-degree murder in the Jan. 6 shooting of his wife, Sharon, 18, as she was working on a customer's hair in the Crest Beauty Salon, 27432 Eight Mile Road.

He was arrested two weeks later in Philadelphia when he attempted to close out a bank account with a stolen bank book.

If Templin grants Merlo's request, he will be interviewed by three psychiatrists at a state hospital selected by the state.

Merlo is scheduled to stand trial on the murder charge May 31.

Rec Area Closed

The Metamora-Hadley State Recreation Area will be closed to the public, effective immediately, for the next two weeks.

Regional Manager William Laycock of the Conservation Department said today that the area is being closed because of construction at campground and day use facility sites.

Area Residents 'Too Generous'

Professional solicitors say Pontiac area citizens and businessmen have open hearts and open pockets when given a good "sob" story, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said today.

He added that at least 50 per cent of these solicitations are done by professionals who retain 60 to 75 per cent of the moneys collected for their services.

Contact the chamber when approached or phoned by any solicitors and the chamber will check them out to see where the money is really going, the spokesman urged.

No New Trial for Area Killer

A Farmington Township man convicted of first-degree murder four years ago lost his appeal yesterday for a new trial.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem rejected the plea of Stanley Maroley, 50.

Maroley and his former son-in-law, Richard Drobil of Belleville, were sentenced to life in prison in April 1963 for the killing of Peter B. Perva, 44, of Inkster.

Drobil was found guilty of shooting Perva as a favor to Maroley, who had admitted having an affair with Perva's wife.

Perva's body was found in a shallow grave in a wooded area of Independence Township on Oct. 17, 1962, a day after it had been buried.

Drobil was turned down earlier in his appeal for a new trial. Maroley's attorney, Donald Brown, said he would appeal Ziem's decision to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Lawyers Deny Getting CIA Funds in JFK Furor

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Two lawyers have denied charges by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison that they have been receiving money from the Central Intelligence Agency.

★ ★ ★

The district attorney named Burton Klein and Steven Plotkin, both of New Orleans, as lawyers who were receiving money from the CIA while representing persons involved in Garrison's investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Klein is attorney for Alvin Beaubouef, who was a close associate of David W. Ferrie. Garrison has charged that Ferrie, Lee Harvey Oswald and Clay Shaw conspired to kill Kennedy in Dallas in 1963.

Ferrie and Oswald are dead, and Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans businessman, is awaiting trial on the conspiracy charge.

★ ★ ★

Klein told a news conference Wednesday that Beaubouef had been offerer $3,000 and a job if he would "help substantiate the alleged plot." Klein said he had turned over to authorities a tape recording which would substantiate the bribery story. Garrison said Klein's statement did not merit comment.

Marijuana Will Be Legal in 5 Years---MSU Doctor

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The director of the Michigan State University Health Center yesterday predicted that marijuana would be legalized "in two to five years."

And, Dr. James S. Feurig said, the result will be an "improved product" for marijuana puffers of the future.

Feurig, whose comments were contained in a student organization's study of the marijuana problem, said he based his opinions on a congressional hearing last spring which concluded that marijuana was primarily an intoxicant, instead of an addictive drug.

He said the hearings demonstrated that marijuana users suffer no withdrawal symptoms or adverse physical reactions.

★ ★ ★

Feurig, head of the Olin Health Center, which administers to the needs of MSU's huge student body, said marijuana would be available in the future under restrictions, similar to those now imposed on the sale of alcohol and tobacco.

SMOKING MOHAIR

"Bathtub gin," he said "was not pure alcohol. And today people who buy marijuana are smoking grass or mohair or rugs.

OK Artificial Insemination in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma became the nation's first state to legalize human artificial insemination when Gov. Dewey Bartlett placed his signature on a bill Thursday.

Bartlett reached his decision after extensive checking with doctors, ministers and legal experts, outside Oklahoma as well as within the state about the implications of the precedent-setting bill. It was given one of the most thorough checks of any bill the governor has considered.

★ ★ ★

Rep. George Camp, R-Oklahoma City, authored the bill after similar consultation with legal advisers.

The new law allows doctors to perform artificial insemination with the written consent of both the husband and wife. The county judge must witness the consent and a doctor must attest to it. Papers will be filed in court in much the same manner as adoption proceedings.

Offspring of artificial insemination will be given the same legal status and privileges as children born through natural conception.

Cuba Sugar Crop 'Short of Goal, Ahead of 1966'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba's vital 1967 sugar production has been estimated by an exile research bureau at a little over 6 million metric tons. Fidel Castro's announced goal is 7.5 million metric tons, but last year's crop was 4,455,255 metric tons. A metric ton is 2,200 pounds.

★ ★ ★

On the basis of the cane cut to date and the current production trend, researchers of an anti-Castro organization, Revolutionary Unity, placed the crop at between 6,047,000 and 6,101,000 metric tons.

The harvest, ending next month, could be somewhat higher, however, the bureau said.

100-Ton Rock Slide Rips Niagara Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, NY. (AP) — Police kept a check on the Niagara Gorge near the American Falls today after the fourth major rock slide in 36 years tore away a 100-ton section of the Prospect Point sight-seeing area.

Officials suggested that recent heavy rains had contributed to the slide Thursday, which sent large chunks of rock hurtling down with a huge roar.

★ ★ ★

Two women employes and a maintenance worker fled from a souvenir shop at the base of the gorge as the rocks approached them. The structure's roof, a canopy and the base of a 282-foot-high observation tower suffered some damage.

No one was reported injured, however, as the rain helped keep tourists from the area.

'CLAP OF THUNDER'

One of the few witnesses to the slide was Joseph Ognibene, a Niagara Falls Gazette photographer who described the sound as "a big rumble — just like a clap of thunder."

There were two large rockfalls about 75 minutes apart and several small ones, he said.

★ ★ ★

The slide left a gap approximately 40 feet in vertical depth and 15 to 20 feet in horizontal depth.

Niagara Frontier State Park police said they were "keeping a close watch" on the gorge, lest the slides trigger others. Geologists also began examining the slide to come up with a definitive reason.

Police also set up barricades to keep tourists away from the immediate area of the slide.

Former Nazi Faces Retrial

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austria's Supreme Court ruled last night that former Belgian Nazi Robert Jan Verbelen, who was acquitted in 1965, will have to stand trial again on charges of murdering Belgian resistance fighters in World War II.

An official of the Ministry of Justice said Verbelen's acquittal by a jury court was overturned and a retrial ordered on three counts charging that the naturalized Austrian ordered the shooting of five Belgians, including three policemen, in 1943-44.

Administration Building Contracts Let

Contracts totaling $3.3 million for Oakland Schools' new administration building were awarded yesterday by the board of education.

Low bidders awarded contracts were Palmer-Smith Co. of Detroit for architectural trades at $2,030,000, Eames & Brown, Inc., of Pontiac for mechanical trades at $933,345 and Brill Electric Co. of Pontiac at $337,967.

The board would be reimbursed $2,380 by Oakland County for the installation of a 12-inch sanitary sewer instead of a 10-inch line.

Clinics, library, experimental and conference rooms, 400-seat auditorium, data processing and administrative offices are planned for the five-story structure.

★ ★ ★

Palmer-Smith's contract calls for completion of general construction in 500 days. It will be built near the current administrative building in the Oakland County Service Center.

BERKLEY INSTITUTE

Three companies also bid to renovate a site for the Oakland Training Institute in Berkley for 90 trainable mentally handicapped teen-agers.

A low base bid was received from Englehart, Buettner & Holt of Royal Oak of $234,195. Contracts will be awarded at a special meeting Thursday.

In other business, the board hired Dr. Richard Watson, director of guidance for Royal Oak public sschools, to fill a new position of director of program evaluation.

★ ★ ★

It was announced that Oakland Schools will conduct a six-week summer session for preschool deaf children under a new statute which provides for summer special education operations.

Romney Given a Gold-Plated Phone for Home

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A $600-gold-plated telephone will be installed in Gov. George Romney's Bloomfield Hills home.

★ ★ ★

Romney, a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, received the special phone Thursday from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., as he participated in a celebration marking installation of the 100-millionth telephone in the United States.

Nine governors, members of the executive committee of the National Governors Conference, talked with President Johnson on a nationwide hookup marking the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Ohio Gov. James Rhodes, a Republican, took note of the connection between Lansing and Washington.

"Well, Mr. President," he said, "I'm glad you and George have a direct dialogue."

Duchess of Windsor Asked to Join Royal Ceremonies

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II has ended a 31-year boycott of the Duchess of Windsor by asking her and the Duke to join Britain's royal family in a public ceremony in London June 7.

A palace spokesman said the 69-year-old Duchess, now in New York with the Duke, accepted the invitation to attend the unveiling of a memorial plaque to Windsor's mother, Queen Mary, who died in 1952.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Windsors in New York said there would be no comment from them until later.

Queen Elizabeth's invitation is the royal family's first official recognition of the American-born Duchess since Edward VIII abdicated in 1936 to marry the two-time divorcee.

QUEEN PLEADED

The abdication was particularly anguishing to Queen Mary, who pleaded with her son not to give up the throne for Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Ever since the abdication, the Duchess has been ignored officially by Buckingham Palace. The Duke, now 72, has taken part in a number of state functions and has met with his relatives during visits to Britain. But his wife has never before been asked to join the royal family on a public occasion.

★ ★ ★

In 1965 Queen Elizabeth met the Duchess for the first time since the abdication. They talked privately together for 25 minutes at a London clinic where the Duke was recovering from eye surgery.

Asked by a reporter whether the invitation indicated a healing of the rift, a royal spokesman replied: "People can read what they like into it."

SAME TREATMENT

Asked where the Duchess would stand in the receiving line at the ceremony, one authority on court procedure said: "It is highly unlikely that the Duke will be treated in one fashion and the Duchess in another. But I do not think any change will be made in the form of addressing the Duchess."

This apparently meant that the Duchess would not be addressed as "your royal highness." At present, the court informant said, she is entitled only to be addressed as "Duchess."

★ ★ ★

The ceremony will take place at Malborough House; Queen Mary's London residence after the death of George V in 1936.

The plaque marks the centenary of her birth.

The unveiling will be a public ceremony but the Buckingham Palace spokesman described it as "more a family occasion than an official one."

"All Queen Mary's relatives have been asked to attend," he added.

SUGAR-CUBE BIG MAC — Lorraine Royer, 15, built an almost-10-foot-long and 3-foot-high model of the Mackinac Bridge with sugar cubes and odds-and-ends and won first prize in the Michigan Week project at Edgar Guest Junior High School in Roseville. She said, "We had to make something, and I decided it might as well be something big." Lorraine said it took her two weeks to build. Now she is looking for someone who might like to display her model. Nobody seems interested, she says.

Convict Didn't Want to Be a Prison Dropout

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Charles McCalla served an extra 23 days in Stateville Prison so he could finish his third year of the prison's college program.

McCalla, 38, could have been paroled April 18, Warden Frank Pate said Thursday, but he asked to stay on so he wouldn't lose college credit hours by leaving before the semester ends June 6.

★ ★ ★

I talked to the parole board and they agreed to let him stay," Pate said. "Northern Illinois University which conducts the college-level program at the prison heard about it and gave him his final exam early so he could get out."

MCalla got out Thursday with a B average.

OTHER TERMS

McCalla began a 5-to-20-year sentence for armed robbery in 1961. He has served other terms for robbery, theft, auto theft and parole violations, Pate said.

The warden said McCalla had only a fourth grade education until he entered prison the first time, and "just about the only education he had he got right here."

Lunar Engine Tests Begin

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The first in a series of structural tests for the engine which will lower two Apollo astronauts to the moon's surface was an apparent success Thursday, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said.

The second test in the series is set today.

The flight version of the Lunar Excursion Module descent engine is fired while clamped in the static test stand at NASA's propulsion systems test facility 13 miles east of Las Cruces.

Are Washington Censors Throwing a Curve at Us?

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — If you're in the mood for fun and games, let's play "Beat the Censor." Here are the rules:

We take a volume of testimony released this week by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

WEST

It is a heavily censored transcript of the subcommittee's secret hearings on "worldwide military commitments."

The object of the game is to pretend that we are enemy intelligence agents trying to fill in the gaps left by the censors and figure out what the Senators and Pentagon witnesses actually said.

Reproduced below is an excerpt containing a censored exchange between Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations.

In places where material was stricken for security reasons, the word "deleted" appears in brackets. See if you can piece it together.

Stennis: (deleted.)
McDonald: (deleted.)
Stennis: (deleted.)

★ ★ ★

Stennis: Of course, you are referring to the (deleted), as I understand it. Just what do you mean by the (deleted), when you use that term?

McDonald: When I use the term (deleted), I am speaking of the (deleted).

★ ★ ★

Stennis: Generally the (deleted)?

McDonald: Yes, sir. That particular section there.

Okay. Now it's my turn. It is my guess that the uncensored version reads like this:

Stennis: Seen any good movies lately?

McDonald: I saw "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" at one of the neighborhood theaters last night.

★ ★ ★

Stennis: Did you like it?

McDonald: I didn't care too much for the picture itself, but that Liz Taylor is really something. What a superstructure!

★ ★ ★

Stennis: Of course, you are referring to the (rib cage), as I understand it. Just what do you mean by the (superstructure), when you use that term?

McDonald: When I use the term (superstructure), I am speaking of the (projections on the upper torso).

★ ★ ★

Stennis: Generally the (area between the neck and the abdomen. Is that right)?

McDonald: Yes, sir. That particular section there.

Five Former Governors to Make M-Week Tour

LANSING (UPI) — Five former Michigan governors will skirt the state in a five-city tour to boost the first two days of Michigan Week, May 21-22.

The former governors are: Wilbur M. Brucker (1931-32); Murray D. VanWagoner (1941-42); Harry F. Kelly (1943-46); G. Mennen Williams (1949-60); and John B. Swainson (1961-62).

They will begin their two-day sweep of the state with a luncheon at the Economic Club of Detroit May 21.

Then Lt. Gov. William Milliken will escort the past governors on trips to Lansing, Marquette, Iron Mountain, Traverse City and Bay City.

★ ★ ★

In Lansing, the first day of the tour, the five former governors will address a joint session of the Legislature before attending an Upper Peninsula dinner at Marquette.

COMMUNITY LEADERS

Community leaders from all parts of the Upper Peninsula are scheduled to attend the dinner.

The following day the former governors will attend a breakfast meeting at Iron Mountain prior to flying to Traverse City for a gathering with high school students.

The group will complete its tour with a luncheon stop before the Bay City Rotary Club.

Gov. Romney and a group of Japanese visitors will attend the Economic Club luncheon.

★ ★ ★

Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University and general chairman of Michigan Week activities, also will accompany the former governors.

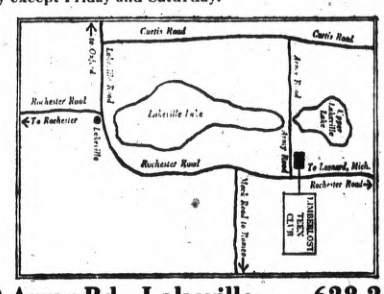

Sales of Cougar Lift Division

DEARBORN (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said Thursday sales of the Mercury Cougar during the first 10 days of May pushed Lincoln-Mercury deliveries for the period seven per cent ahead of the 1966 daily sales rate.

★ ★ ★

Deliveries for the 10-day period totaled 10,535, compared with 8,783 a year ago. Cougar sales of 4,288 in the period brought total sales of the sports-type car to 70,931 since its introduction last fall.

Loses 46 Towns, Cities in Elections

Britian's Labor Party Set Back Again

LONDON (AP) — Another landslide ousted Britain's reeling Labor party from control over 46 towns and cities today after municipal elections throughout England and Wales.

Conservative Party Chairman Edward Du Cann called the results "a devastating rout for the Labor party."

The results had no effect on Labor's large parliamentary majority since no House of Commons seats were at stake.

But it was a continuation of a trend to the right in local elections which was seen as a protest against the harsh economic policies of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The Laborites lost to the Conservatives in 21 towns and to independent groups — often supported by the Conservatives — in 15 others. In 322 towns and cities, the Conservatives gained a net of 534 seats and Labor lost 592.

Hope Loan OK'd

HOLLAND (AP)—A $2 million federal loan has been approved to aid in construction of a new science building at HopeCollege according to President C. A. Vanderwerf. The college has received a $1 million federal grant for the project. Construction plans for the $4 million project are in final stages, college officials said.

Red Trade Curbs Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department has further eased restrictions on East-West trade.

★ ★ ★

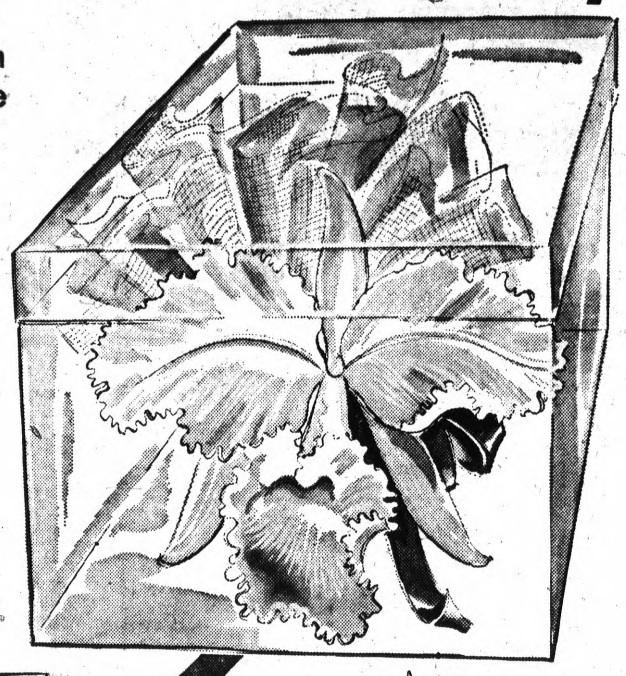

It added 26 more nonstrategic items to the list of goods which can be exported to Communist countries in Eastern Europe under a general export license. East Germany is excluded because it does not have diplomatic relations with the United States.

The newly designated nonstrategic goods include peanuts, construction jacks of less than 100 tons lifting capacity, textile cutting machines and certain types of electronic coils.

COLORFUL ACCENT — Frank's Nursery points up the value of combining annuals, evergreens and shrubs in your garden beds. Scarlet salvia, white petunias and blue ageratum add a distinctive touch to a planting, doubly attractive because of the color complement and the grading from tall to medium to ground huggers. Plans for custom planting your home and yard are available free at Frank's Nursery branches located at 5919 Highland, Waterford Township; and 6575 Telegraph, Bloomfield Township.

BASKETS OF BLOOMS — Perfect for porches, arbors or as accent displays under trees are hanging baskets. The gardener must remember, however, to suit the plants to the exposure. Geraniums and petunias will add a bright spot of color through the summer in a sunny position while tuberous begonias will prosper in the semishade.

Gardeners Get Answers

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Brisk breezes didn't cool the enthusiasm of county agricultural and horticultural agents, Michigan State University faculty members and garden club representatives as they answered questions by the thousands at the recent Detroit Lawn and Garden Fair.

Attractive floral displays simulating yard situations accented the beauty of annuals used in combination with shrubs and evergreens.

A natural, since according to Don Juchartz, agricultural agent from Wayne County, "The greater Detroit area is the world's largest producer of flowering annual plants."

For gardeners planning on growing their own annuals from seed, Ernest Dodge, past president of the Men's Garden Club of Detroit, pointed out that Feb. 15 is the ideal time to sow seeds indoors.

★ ★ ★

By planting at this time, annuals are ready to bloom when transplanted after the threat of frost into their permanent spot in the garden.

SOW OUTSIDE

To those who didn't get the jump on spring, he suggested they sow the seeds outside as soon as possible, reminding gardeners that though plants wouldn't begin blossoming until later in the summer, the blooms would still be lovely and welcome.

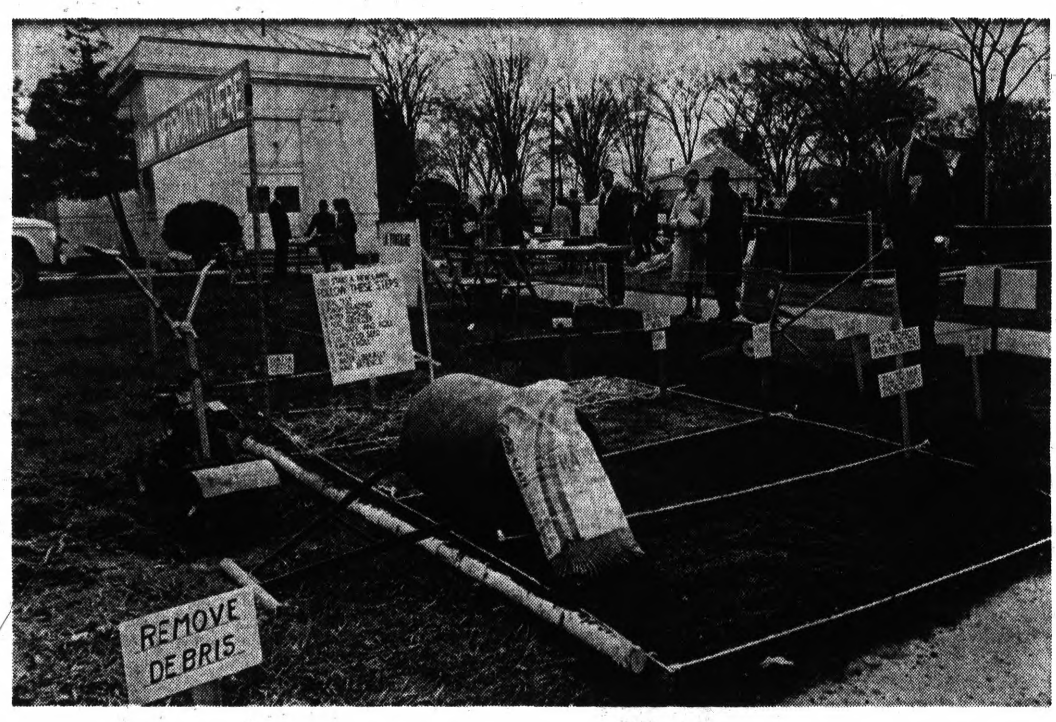

In dealing with the application of insecticides and fungicides, Dodge issued a warning.

"When you spray, be sure and wear a mask so that you do not inhale the contaminated air. Directions on the labels frequently warn users to wash their hands and garments to minimize the dangers of the toxic spray material.

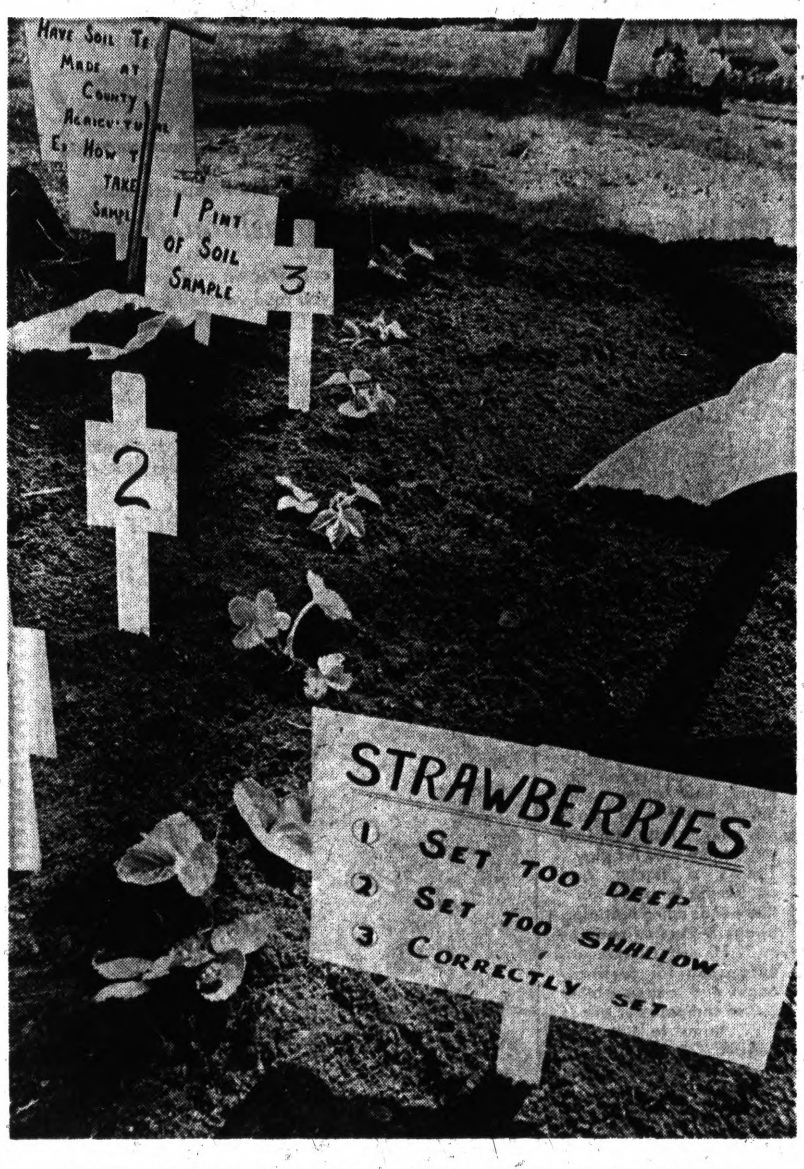

★ ★ ★

"Remember the concentration in the lungs is 15 times that of the surface contamination and protect yourself."

You can purchase spray masks which cost approximately $4 at garden supply and nursery outlets.

STEP BY STEP — Lyle Abel, Oakland County Cooperative Extension agricultural agent, creates a display to show the ten steps in planting a new lawn. In order they are: test soil, finish grade, apply topsoil, fertilize, cultivate and roll, sow good seed, rake and roll, mulch, water liberally and continually and have patience. Best times to begin a new lawn are early April and the last two weeks in August.

TIME TO PLANT — If you like the sweet tangy taste of strawberries still warm from the sunshine in your garden, set strawberry plants now for next year's harvest. Particular, strawberry plants must be planted correctly, not too deep and not too high but just right. The soil line must be at the juncture of the roots and the leaves. Allow 20 plants per person for June bearing plants.

Birches Are Asset to Landscape Plan

Whether your garden is large or small, if you are looking for an interesting tree, consider the Birch.

Any one of the ten native species and their horticultural varieties can be used effectively in a landscape plan.

Their delicate, flexible branches match the interest offered by any tree, but the showy bark of the birch is beyond compare.

Bark colors can range from chalk white through shades of orange to black. Most homeowners, though, prefer those with the lighter bark.

★ ★ ★

The canoe or paper birch has the lightest bark — actually chalky white — and dark green leaves. It is perhaps the most showy of our Birches.

DROOPING BRANCHES

The European white birch has drooping branches and a white bark that peels easily. Still another interesting species is the yellow birch which has frayed silvery bark turning orange when peeled.

Don't be dismayed if you purchase a young plant and it does not have the characteristic bark.

All young birches have dark-colored bark and take on the lighter color as they mature.

★ ★ ★

The birch is a tree that can be planted almost anywhere in the garden. It can be a backgound for shrubs and flowers; one with several trunks (or several planted as a group) makes an excellent accent plant or specimen tree.

WINTER APPEAL

Consider the winter appeal of the plant when choosing a setting.

You want it where you will be able to see the dancing white trunks and branches through the bleak winter.

Also check to be sure that the attractive bark will not blend into your background and be lost from view.

★ ★ ★

The one major insect pest of the birch is the leaf miner. The larvae (worm) stage of this insect lives inside the leaf where it feeds.

As it tunnels its way inside, it causes blotches and blisters to appear on the outside.

Infested leaves turn brown in late spring or early summer.

★ ★ ★

However, control of this pest is made relatively simple in this day of modern gardening by spraying with a carefully-chosen insecticide during the late spring.

It's Blossomtime at the Nurseries

Spring is blossoming time at nurseries.

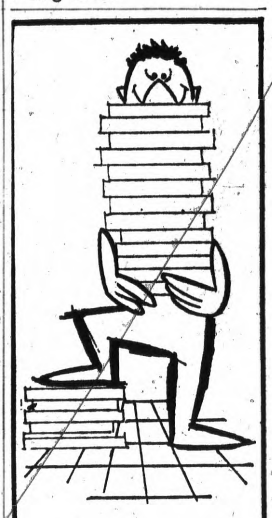

Many different types of flowering shrubs and trees are in flower for homeowners to select the plants they like best for their home and properties.

★ ★ ★

At this time fo year, home owners look to the outdoors, not only glad to be out in the fresh air, but eager to plant and beautify for the summer months.

It's time to plan for the shade tree, or for remodeling overgrown landscaping. And, it's time for planting perennials, roses, as well as shrubs and trees.

Put strips of luminous tape on your garden tools. If they become lost during the evening, you won't have any trouble finding them.

Pruning Tips for Shrubs

Some plants bloom on new growth, like roses, others on the previous season's growth, like forsythia, magnolia, and rhodendron.

Any pruning on the latter plants should occur after flowering — not in the late fall or early spring — else the buds may be blocked off.

Plants that bloom on new growth may be pruned at those times.

Wax Plant Likes Filtered Sunlight

An attractive foliage plant that does well in filtered sunlight in room temperatures ranging from 55 to 68 is the Hoya Carnosa, or wax plant.

This one produces pale pink flowers.

The wax plant should be permitted to become moderately dry between waterings.

Water it to the same extent as you do your African violets.

GOOD MORNING MAILMAN — One of the ways you can beautify your corner of America is by decorating your rural mailbox with fresh flowers.

Annual Vines Are Easy to Grow From Seeds

Perhaps the oddest annual vine that is easily grown from seeds is the canary bird vine with beautifully cut leaves and finely fringed yellow blooms.

These are so poised on the vine that, from a distance, they resemble perching canary birds, says the National Garden Bureau.

Cardinal climber has flowers the color of its name with contrasting white "throats." A vine in bloom is spectacular.

Then there's the cypress vine with trumpet-shaped scarlet and white flowers about an inch across, the petals of which form a star. Leaves are finely cut, fern-like.

★ ★ ★

The black-eyed susan vine may be grown upward or trailing, may also be trained flat on the ground. Flower colors may be yellow, orange, buff or white, most with black eyes.

All of these vines are dual-purpose — grown first for their flowers, but also to shade or screen.

Roses Contribute Much to Garden

Color and form of flowers with a long blooming season are the contributions roses make to your garden.

★ ★ ★

Grow them in solid beds, mixed borders of shrubs or perennial flowers, or alone as accent plants.

A Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on rose growing tells you how.

Treat Your Mother to Red Geraniums

What speaks more directly of confidence and cheer than a bright red geranium?

And what finer gift for mother Sunday — Mother's Day — than window boxes filled with these extravagant beauties? The timing of this particular gift could not be better, for the old-fashioned charm and warmth of flower-filled window boxes is returning to the home scene.

The beauty of the red geranium is extravagant indeed. The cost of this particular flowering plant, however, is happily modest. It is one of the least expensive of all blossoms.

Tips for the care of geraniums are few and simple.

★ ★ ★

First and foremost, this particular flower must receive abundant sunshine. The window boxes in which the plants are grouped may be placed just about anywhere—directly under the windows of your apartment or home, along a garden walk, or on the patio.

But be certain that the area you choose receives bright sunlight for at least a few hours each day. Unless they get some sun daily, they grow "leggy" and refuse to bloom.

Indoor success with geraniums means giving them a spot in your sunniest window. Temperatures ranging from sixty to seventy degrees are ideal, and plenty of fresh air and high humidity help insure good growth. And remember that these amiable plants are easy to move outdoors in the summertime.

It is best to allow potted geraniums to become quite dry between waterings. They are not one of the plants — like ferns — which are happy when roots are constantly damp.

★ ★ ★

When you do water, do it thoroughly—until water runs out of the bottom drainage hole. Then empty the saucer, and don't give water again until soil is quite dry to the touch.

Geraniums benefit from regular doses of plant food when in bloom, but fertilizing while they are in their dormant phase only makes the plants grow overall and spindly.

The loving care you give to this happy flower will prove well worthwhile. On Mother's Day—or any day—there is no prettier sight than a windowful of geraniums!

Focal Point Is Important

Any artistic composition should have a point of interest to which the eye is led.

In a good flower arrangement, this focal point should be placed low, with all flower stems seeming to point to it.

Ways to achieve a focal point include contrast in flower color or form, and by placing flowers closer together at the focal point.

Soil Fumigation Now Helps Glad Growers Protect Corms

Fumigation, once used to rid the household of germs after communicable disease, and more recently used to rid buildings of such pests as ants and roaches, has a new use — in gladiolus culture.

Gladiolus growers from seven states and Canada, at their recent Michigan State University, were told that soil fumigation, prior to planting, will protect corms from bacteria, fungi and nematodes, and help to assure more profitable bloom and bulb crops.

Small, as well as large, growers were urged to use this method more extensively.

Arthur S. Allen, research assistant in MSU's Extension Plant Pathology Laboratory, said that the laboratory has been engaged in plant disease control research for nearly 15 years, and has been working with experimental fumigation compounds for the past nine years.

★ ★ ★

The laboratory has tried fumigation with wet and dry volatile substances (either drenched or injected into the soil, and covered with canvas, tarp or plastic) and non-volatile substances (uncovered).

Researchers have learned that injection of fumigants, 10 to 12 inches below the surface, tends to destroy soil organisms which are difficult to control by standard or conventional sprays, he reported.

A traditional fumigant, methylbromide, is finding increased application in glad culture, Allen said.

★ ★ ★

Soil fumigation, with new compounds, techniques and equipment, has great potential for the glad business, he proposed.

With these compounds, as with any fumigant, caution is the rule, he said. The user should read the label and follow the manufacturer's instructions with care.

TREE TREAT — Hardly anything can add more gaiety, beauty and springtime look to a property than one or more flowering trees, such as this crabapple.

Possible to Patent Plant Varieties

It is possible to patent distinctive plant varieties, so long as these are propagated vegetatively.

Seeds generally result from the crossing of parent plants, and cannot be patented, indicates the Lawn Institute.

In bluegrass, a high proportion of the seed comes directly from the mother plant without crossing.

If this were 100 per cent the case, Kentucky bluegrass seed could theoretically be patented.

Store Tools in Box Shed

Store tools and lawn and garden equipment in a simple backyard box shed that you can build with a frame of 2-by-4's closed over with tempered hardboard panels.

★ ★ ★

To make the most of shed space, line the inside wall with perforated hardboard paneling.

The perforations accept hooks and brackets that will hold garden hoses, lawn mowers, wheel barrows, lawn chairs workshop tools and shelves.

Attack Weed Grass in Early Spring

There are numerous crabgrass killers on the market that will brown and kill existing plants. These will be helpful but the best way to control crabgrass is to apply a pre-emergence killer in early spring.

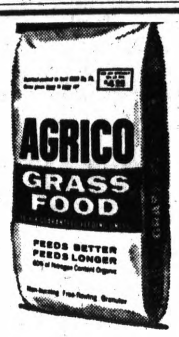

★ ★ ★

This type of control kills seedlings as they sprout so you need never see a full-grown plant.

The best time of day to cut annual flowers for use indoors is in early morning. Next best time is in early evening.

If you will take into the garden with you a pail of water the same temperature as the outdoor air and pop each flower stem into it as soon as you have cut it you'll find that the blooms last longer.

History tells us that Empress Josephine was so devoted to roses, that she had the entire garden of Malmaison planted with every variety then available.

Stock Mart Gainers Top Losers

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market gainers held a 3 to 2 margin over losers in active trading early Friday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Trading opened at a swift pace and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape trailed by a minute in reporting floor transactions in the first half hour.

Gains of key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so with a few stocks making wider moves.

Some brokers expressed the opinion that the line of least resistance in stock price trends may be upward again.

They added that increased home appliance prices and further declines in interest rates are expected to act as props to investor demand.

Losses of about a point by du Pont Eastman Kodak held the averages back.

★ ★ ★

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Lundy Electronics spurted nearly 4 points. Atco Chemical and Kewanee Oil were up about a point. Fractional gains were made by Signal Oil, Bunker Ramo, Hazel Bishop and Lerner Stores.

Opening lead—♠ 3

Until he won this year's Vanderbilt Cup, Bobby Nail of Houston had a unique distinction. He had been second in more than a dozen major tournaments including the World's Championship at Saint Vincent in 1963 when he and Jim Jacoby played on the American team, but he had never won first.

JACOBY

Jim Jacoby's hand was just too weak for a two no-trump opening so he opened one club in order to make it as easy as possible for his partner to respond. His two diamond rebid was a one round force the way most expert pairs play that type of reverse bid.

Bobby bid two hearts both to mark time and also to show something in that suit in case Jim might want to go to no-trump. From then on the bidding proceeded to the spade slam.

Bobby won the trump opening in dummy and played out ace and another heart. East took his king and led the suit back. Bobby played low and ruffed in dummy while West discarded a club.

Bobby cashed dummy's remaining high trump, came to his hand with the king of diamonds, drew trumps and showed his hand.

Like most hands that come up in actual play there was little to either the bidding or the play. Bobby had to attack hearts before drawing trumps and he was lucky to find East with the king. On the other hand he might well have made his contract with the king in the West hand.

The slam should have been an easy one to bid. North and South held 30 high card points. South had a pretty good five card suit and a singleton while North held two of the three top trump honors in addition to his other nice cards.

On the other hand, you don't find many poor players in the Vanderbilt knockout matches and the opposite North-South pair only reached four spades.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
		1 ♥	Dble
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A J 10 6 5 ♥ 2 ♦ K 4 3 ♣ A Q 8 6
What do you do now?

A—Bid six spades. Your partner is showing the ace of diamonds and your cards must be sitting in back of those held by East for his opening bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four diamonds your partner jumps to four spades over your three heart bid. What do you do now?

Turkish Teen Gives Advice at JA Event

"If you work hard, you win," Berch Berberoglu advised over 5,000 people gathered to honor the accomplishments of Junior Achievers at the JA's 18th annual Future Unlimited last night at the Masonic Temple in Detroit.

A native of Istanbul, Turkey, the 18-year-old junior at Pontiac Central High School delivered the keynote address.

"Istanbul, its old name was Constantinople, was the capital of the Eastern Roman Empire for 1,058 years. It is the only city in the world which is built on two continents — Europe and Asia.

"The reason I tell you about my country," he continued with a smile, "is that your American television has taught me to get in the commercial at the beginning of the program.

"The average person in Istanbul earns approximately 50 Turkish lira a day. That is $5 in United States money. Food and clothing are quite cheap but a 1967 model Chevrolet which costs approximately $2,900 here would cost $14,000 in Istanbul.

He pointed out that not many people have cars.

Joining Junior Achievement increased Berch's knowledge of American enterprise and changed his career plans from that of an architect to business management.

"I know," said Berch, "that my experience in JA will give me a head start. I wish all of the youth of my country had the opportunity of such a program."

Upon completion of high school, Berch will return to his home land and attend Roberts College.

City Firemen, Police Look for Arsonists

Pontiac police detectives and members of the city fire department arson squad are continuing investigation of Wednesday night's series of fires which pressed nearly all the city's fire equipment into use.

No arrests have been made, but police said yesterday they have reports that witnesses saw youths in the area of the blazes carrying gasoline cans.

Fire Marshall Chalres Metz said today he was "fairly certain" the fires, which broke out in six locations during a three-hour period, were the work of an organized group.

Capt. Charles Gale, chief of Pontiac detectives, said he has assigned three detectives to the case.

The fires damaged two vacant homes, an unoccupied frame building, a parked car and a wooden shed — all in the South Jessie-Bagley area.

The previous high was 172,296 in the week of April 17-22.

★ ★ ★

The six-millionth car of the 1967 model run, which began last fall, came off the line Wednesday, four weeks later than its counterpart of last year.

★ ★ ★

Truck production this week is 35,695, below the 39,859 built in the corresponding 1966 week.

In Canada, auto assemblies this week are 17,266, slightly above the 17,182 of the same week last year, bringing the year's output to 273,747, below the 324,454 built at this point last year.

★ ★ ★

Canadian truck production totaled 5,723 this week, well ahead of the 4,672 built in the same week of 1966.

The announcement of Innis' selection came yesterday after the Ford Foundation granted $500,000 to the organization.

Silent Screen Star Announces Marriage Plans

Betty Blythe, onetime "Sheba" of the silent screen, has announced June marriage plans.

Miss Blythe, 74, said yesterday in Woodland Hills, Calif., she will marry Manuel de Encio, also 74, who formerly headed the translation department of Warner Bros. motion picture studio.

She created a considerable stir—and launched herself to stardom—when in her 1921 title role performance as "Queen of Sheba" she wore nothing but beads above the waist.

Her first husband, director Paul Scardon, died 13 years ago.

The baby, named Amy, weighed 5 pounds 13 ounces at birth yesterday.

The Christophers, married about two years ago, have three other children from their previous marriages. Mrs. Christopher, 37, has two from her marriage to Burton, and Christopher, 25, one from a former marriage.

Comic on Royal Box Stage Not Boxed by Questioners

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Woody Allen, introduced, as a "spoiler of women," had fun opening at the Americana Royal Box . . . he said he'd been busy writing "a non-fiction version of the Warren Report" . . . that David Merrick was one of his favorite producers . . . "another one is John Wilkes Booth . . . if the Nazis were after me and I was hiding in a closet, David would tell them where I was, even if they didn't ask him."

WILSON

He invited questions from the audience which is a fine gimmick. One ringsider told Woody, "I liked you as the star of your show, 'Don't Drink the Water.'" Woody replied, "That's very interesting. I wasn't in it." We suspect the crowds are going to come with questions. "Shoot 'em up and I'll duck 'em," Woody said.

Cary grant's baby dtr., in care of her nurse, met him at the LA Airport as he arrived from NY. CG held her in his arms and rode away with her in his Rolls, proving that Cary and his wife Dyan Cannon are on good terms as we mentioned back there April 11.

There's a beautiful story behind the marriage of Roger Smith and Ann-Margret in Las Vegas (after they'd broken their engagement) and I'll tell it to you some time. The fact is that except for the 3 weeks of broken engagement, they've been together constantly for 2½ years.

Waldorf Mgr. Tom Kane's negotiating with Frank Sinatra to play the Empire Room next fall. Frank had such a good time during two smash engagements at the Miami Beach Fontainebleau, he just might accept . . . "Up the Down Staircase," the Warner's Sandy Dennis picture, will be the U.S. entry at the Moscow Film Festival.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rex Harrison and Rachel Roberts flew in from Hollywood en route to Paris, Portofino—and to Rachel's first film with Rex, "A Flea In Her Ear." Rhapsodized Rachel to me: "I'm thrilled to bits." They're traveling light: 17 bags.

One of the great parties was given by Susan Stein, Amanda Burden, Maria Livanos and Annette Reed at the Astor Library Landmark, 425 Lafayette, for the NY Shakespeare Festival. It introduced a beautiful theatre-in-the-round for contemporary plays. Tell you what kind of a party it was. Susan Stein's date, John Gomez, arrived at 9:30, but at 11:30 they hadn't found each other yet.

Secret Stuff: A top-rated film star, coming here to plug his film, was asked what accommodations he'd need. Answer: "Four walls and booze."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: If an actor's elected president, the post office'll issue 8x10 glossy postage stamps.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Tennyson Guyer told of a dull, unimpressive midwest town: "An atom bomb was dropped accidentally in the middle of the place—and did $5,000 damage."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "If you want to kill time, why not try working it to death."

EARL'S PEARLS: "It's easy to find Betty Furness' office in Washington—you open the door and a light goes on.
