Asks $2 1/2 Billion for Education

'60, Banner Year for Pontiac Auto

Sales of the Pontiac automobile last year were the highest since the great auto year of 1955, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

Sales in 1960 totaled 409,667, Knudsen reported. This represents a six per cent increase over 1959 sales of 388,879.

No Layoff Due at Pontiac Plant

Truck, Coach Division Also Optimistic as Other Firms Cut Back

With most of the auto industry reporting layoffs due to a huge backlog of unsold new cars, Pontiac Motor Division finds itself in a unique position.

A spokesman for the division said no layoffs are contemplated.

Meanwhile, at the General Motors Truck & Coach Division the same optimistic report came. "The present outlook is for stabilized employment with maybe a slight increase due to our coach production," a spokesman said.

However, at the Fisher Body Division in Pontiac there was a report of some 245 hourly-rated production workers expected to be laid off starting Monday due to an "altering of our production schedule."

Fisher Body produces the bodies for the 1961 Pontiacs and the division's new small car, the Tempest.

The Pontiac division spokesman said "tempestuous time position" in relation to most of the industry was due to a return to a normal production schedule (five days a week at eight hours a day) and "continued good sales at this normal pace."

"We have done away with our overtime schedule and by sticking to the five-day week and eight hours a day we are able to maintain our present work force," the spokesman said.

Although reporting next week's scheduled layoff, the Fisher Body Division spokesman reported that there were 3,500 hourly rated employees on the payroll today compared to 2,750 at this time a year ago.

Lindemer Exit Clears Elliott's Path

Arthur G. Elliott's decision whether to seek the Republican state chairmanship appeared easier today with the exit from the race of present State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer.

A top spokesman for the Oakland County Republican Committee said Elliott, vacationing for two weeks in Florida, had informed Lindemer he wouldn't oppose him if he (Lindemer) sought a third term at the state convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall Feb. 24.

Lindemer, first elected in February 1957, said in quitting that he was confident "several competent candidates" would be available to carry on his work.

Although there are several others, Elliott, 43-year-old county chairman since 1957 from Pleasant Ridge, appeared to have the inside track, observers feel.

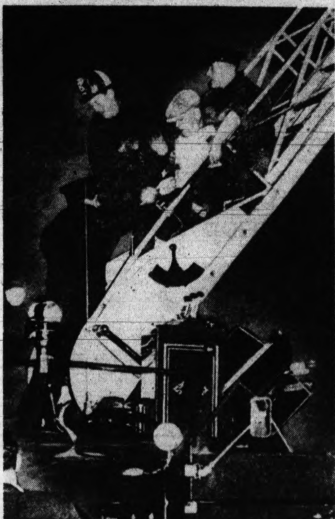

MAY TALK JAN. 17

Before he left Tuesday, Elliott indicated he probably would have an announcement on his decision Jan. 17.

Oakland Republicans, who will have the biggest voice in the state convention next month, meet in Pontiac the next day to name delegates and alternates to the state party.

Elliott's biggest competition appears to be Robert J. McIntosh, former Port Huron postmaster and one-term congressman from the 7th District.

Carried to Safety

RESCUED FROM FIRE—Firemen help an elderly man down a ladder from the burning Hotel Thomas in San Francisco early today. Fire Chief William Murray said several occupants were trapped in the 160-room structure. At least 15 persons, perhaps more, are known dead in the blaze. A Catholic priest prayed over the bodies on the sidewalk. Later, he was heard murmuring, "Awful! Awful!"

Fire Sweeps Hotel, Killing 15 or More

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fifteen persons, perhaps more, were killed today as fire swept through the Thomas Hotel in downtown San Francisco.

It was the worst fire here in more than a decade and came on one of the coldest mornings in the city's history.

The four-story structure at 971 Mission St. had 180 cheap-priced rooms and all but 14 were occupied when the fire burst out about 5 a.m.

Fire Chief William Murray said it started in a mattress in a first floor room and spread to the rear of the building and up the elevator shaft.

Some of the victims were trapped in their rooms by the flames; others were asphyxiated. Ironically, the chief said, the fire was seen earlier and thought to be extinguished.

"The guy in room 42 smelted smoke in room 41," Murray said. "He found a mattress smoldering and poured water on it. Then he went back to bed."

The man in room 41 was identified as Roy Gorman. The man in room 42 was Ed Saylor. Both died.

High-Priority Plan Suggests Loans, Grants

Would Lift Country's Schools to 'New Level of Excellence'

NEW YORK (AP)—A special task force recommended today a high-priority program to pump $3.4 billion in loans and grants into the American educational system.

The objective would be to "lift the schools to a new level of excellence."

The plan would provide extra federal cash for all public schools, for construction, and for teachers' salaries or other purposes related to improving education.

It would provide a special program along similar lines for states in economic distress. And it would set up a special aid plan for city schools.

In addition, increased grants and loans to improve academic facilities and housing at colleges and universities was championed for the president-elect.

The task force which drew up the recommendations was headed by Dr. Frederick Howde, president of Purdue University.

Howde handed the report to Kennedy in the presence of Gov. Joseph P. Kamp of Ohio.

The program lines up like this:

1. It recommends that Kennedy support legislation to provide $300 million per year per pupil, based on average daily attendance in public schools of the nation.

It would cost an estimated $1.2 billion a year. State and local governments, however, would be required to "maintain or increase their support of education."

2. Similarly, the task force recommends $200 million per child for state schools.

Cut Taxes, End Slump, Jack Urged

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy has under study a call for temporary income tax cuts in the spring if the business slump shows a serious turn for the worse.

The call was sounded Thursday night by a committee appointed by Kennedy to evaluate the state of the nation's economy.

It recommended that the new administration act swiftly to put into effect a slate of emergency measures designed to achieve recovery, including a report to tax reduction in three times of international crisis.

RAI-INK

The study group, in a report sprinkled with indirect criticism of the Eisenhower administration, said there should be no delay in the implementation of these measures as urgent.

And the committee, headed by economist Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said there should be no unduly adherence to a concept of a balanced budget in times of business recession.

Kennedy, who recently expressed concern about what he termed lack of vigor in the economy, had no immediate comment on the report.

It was made public after he had reviewed the document with Samuelson, Dr. Walter W. Heller, University of Minnesota economist chosen to be chairman of the incoming president's Council of Economic Advisors, and James Tobin, Yale University economist, whose appointment to the council was announced by Kennedy Thursday night.

Smallest Now the Tallest

GROWING UP—Like most children their age, Oakland County's famous Rosebush quadruplets are concerned over "who's the tallest." The quads, who celebrate their 10th birthday Tuesday, are (from left) Keith, Krystal, Kenny and Kristine. The tape measure proved Krystal, one of the smallest of the four when she was born, to be the tallest. Kenny came in a close second.

Birthday Tuesday, Celebrate Tomorrow

It hardly seems possible, but nearly a decade has gone by since Joseph Merry Hospital to Mrs. Kenneth F. Rosebush of Oakland County, Mich.

Today the Rosebush quads—Keith, Krystal, Kenny and Kristine—are eagerly awaiting a birthday party which will be held tomorrow at their Baldwin Road home, just northwest of Oxford.

They'll be 10 years old Tuesday.

And today the Rosebush quads—Keith, Krystal, Kenny and Kristine—are eagerly awaiting a birthday party which will be held tomorrow at their Baldwin Road home, just northwest of Oxford.

"I didn't have time to buy party invitations from the store yesterday," said the soft-spoken Mrs. Rosebush, "so they talked me into making our own invitations."

Now there will be a party and there aren't likely to be any livelier or more exuberant children attending than Mrs. Rosebush's own mixed quartet.

Although their birth made headlines across the country, they enjoy seeing their pictures in the paper.

It was on Jan. 10, 1951, that the children were delivered by Cesarean section at the hospital.

Under the supervision of Dr. Edward Christie and Dr. Harold F. Stahl, the delivery took less than two minutes.

Kenny was the biggest of the four at birth. He weighed 9 pounds 4 ounces. Both boys are slim but healthy, according to their mother.

There is no Cub Scout den in their neighborhood the boys can join, so Mrs. Rosebush is hoping to start a 4H Club in the village or take them to a club in Orionville.

She is worried about her 4-year-old granddaughter who was critically injured recently when struck by a car in San Diego, Calif.

The child is the daughter of Mrs. Rosebush's second oldest, Barbara, who is married to a serviceman stationed in California.

"The last time I heard from Barbara she said Roxanne was getting better," said Mrs. Rosebush, whose husband is laid off from his job as a truck driver. She expects, however, that he will be back to work soon.

The Rosebush home, enlarged following the birth of the quadruplets, was nearly lost when Rosebush was laid off in 1951.

But the home has survived many storms. Mrs. Rosebush said—even a tornado which hit the Oakland area in the decade since the quadruplets were born that day in Pontiac.

28 Mules for Inaugural

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-eight mules will march down Pennsylvania Avenue on Jan. 20 in the inaugural parade.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee today voted unanimously for Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky to continue as party chairman indefinitely.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today reversed said today the United States wants the international control commission to return to Laos and try to settle the fighting which has threatened world peace.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter controversy brewed today over Kennedy's selection of Robert F. Weaver of New York, a Negro leader for civil rights, to be the nation's top housing official.

Sick Inmates Worry Warden

LANSING (U) — Some 325 dangerously psychotic inmates are making "everybody jittery," says Warden William H. Bannan.

The blunt-spoken warden of the world's largest walled prison voiced heavy approval Thursday of a plan to transfer 200 of the most dangerous mental cases to Apple State Hospital.

The State Supreme Court ruled several years ago that criminal sexual psychopaths must be assigned to mental institutions for treatment and could not be simply confined to prisons. As a result, they have been shifted to mental hospitals.

ule downward and to state indefinite layoffs for some 30,000 auto workers.

With one million unskilled new cars in dealer's hands, factory output is being trimmed sharply. Most of the companies hope to reduce their assemblies to the same level as their sales, or below.

Indefinite layoffs have been announced by all five manufacturers. Additionally, many plants are working short weeks or alternate weeks to curtail output.

These cuts in employment were announced yesterday.

General Motors — 2,500 at Buick, Flint, Mich.; 800 Fisher Body, Flint; 1,000 Oldsmobile, Lansing; 720 Terrapont, Flint; 253 Terrapont, Detroit; 500 assembly plant, Arlington, Tex.; 160 Gude Land Division, Anderson, Ind.; 940 Delco Division, Anderson.

American Motors — 1,420 at Kenosha, Wis.; 700 Milwaukee.

Chrysler — 300 at Los Angeles assembly plant.

Ford — 4,000 to 5,000 at various manufacturing plants, none at assembly plants.

In addition, GM said about 700 production workers would be laid off at its Kansas City, Kan., B-O-P assembly plant Jan. 26.

Previous announcements since the start of 1961 model year production in the fall have included 5,300 Chrysler assembly plant workers in Detroit, Newark, Del., and St. Louis; 760 Fisher Body employees at Cleveland; 1,000 Studebaker-Packard assembly plant workers at South Bend, Ind.; and 2,135 American Motors employees in Wisconsin plants.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

The contest is open to any high school senior in Michigan who is at least 18 years of age but won't be 19 by the time the national contest gets under way in Mobile, Ala., March 18.

The contest stresses talent, personality, poise and beauty, said Jorgensen. It is a healthy self confidence, he added.

Contestants can exhibit talent in practically any area, from singing and musical instruments to acting and art, he said.

Last year's winner, Sharon Shuffy of Oak Park, was a beton twirler.

The year before, the winner was Shirley Ann Hutchison of Blofield Township, a dancer.

Both winners are now Michigan college students.

More than $14,000 in additional scholarships will be distributed at the national contest.

OTHER PRIZES

There will be various other prizes for winners and contestants in both the state and national contests, said Jorgensen.

Deadline for entry in the contest is Jan. 23. Contestants can enter by writing Jorgensen at his home, 2215 Avondale Road, Pontiac.

MARRIAGE ENDS — Actress June Allyson, 37, wants to end her 15-year marriage to actor-director Dick Powell, 56. Attorney Jerry Giesler said Thursday in Hollywood that June will seek a divorce in a few weeks, charging mental cruelty. This picture was taken in New York in 1958. The lawyer said a property settlement is being drawn up and it is estimated Miss Allyson's share will be in the millions.

to the heavily guarded Isle of Pines, where thousands of political prisoners are held.

Extraordinary movements of troops, milliamen and military equipment also went on around Santiago, capital of Cuba's far eastern Oriente Province.

GUANTANAMO QUARTER

The quietest spot on the island was the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, about 40 miles from Santiago. U.S. authorities have emphasized that the base is ready for anything, but that there have been no reinforcements sent in or under unusual activity.

The U.S. consular staff and 66 Americans from Santiago waited at the base for evacuation to the United States. But Consul Bernard A. Summ, who left the consulate to the base Wednesday, was still in Santiago making final arrangements for the U.S. government to take over U.S. consular affairs.

In Havana U. S. Charge D'Affaires Daniel M. Braddock and his skeleton staff were completing the transfer of the embassy's operations to Swiss Ambassador Walter Rossi. It was believed Braddock and his aides would leave Saturday.

Cubans seeking visas for the United States were stalled off at the Swiss chancellery by a sign reading "No American Affairs."

The Swiss are expected to bring extra help from Venezuela and Washington to augment their small staff here until specialists arrive from Geneva, perhaps next week. Neutral Switzerland, an old ally, has sided with other nations in affairs in foreign countries during diplomatic feuding, usually sends a high-ranking diplomat to work under the Swiss Ambassador.

Another load of Americans is leaving tonight on the night ferry to West Palm Beach, Fla., which carries the bulk of the embassy staff home Thursday. With the break in diplomatic relations, the state department advised all Americans to get out of Cuba as they have compelling reasons for staying. The Castro government made no move to accelerate their departure and instead said they would guarantee their safety.

Picks 6 Leaders for Centennial

Special Events Director Aligns Committees for June Festivities

Appointment of six committee chairmen in the special events division of the centennial celebration was announced today by Howard M. Nelson, divisional chairman.

Nelson, Pontiac manager of Sears Roebuck & Co., said the appointments round out the six major units within his division.

Stuart E. Whitfield, centennial chairman, said other divisional chairmen are expected to announce their committee heads this month.

Membership on committees and subcommittees is expected to swell the total number of persons involved in centennial planning to 2,500 or more.

THE PLANNING is for a wide range of activities during the official centennial period, Jan. 1-31, 1976.

Nelson's appointments:

Monroe M. Osmun, Pontiac, chairman of the historical windows committee.

George H. Putnam, supervisor of instrumental and vocal music of the public schools — chairman of the music committee.

Eldon C. Rosegart, director of the Pontiac Northern High School band and member of the Waterford Township Board of Education — chairman of the special day committee. Rosegart is also chairman of the Michigan State Fair.

Ray A. Useth, Pontiac manager for Walker & Co., chairman of the decorations and special displays committee.

James Dickerson, manager of general advertising at the Pontiac Press — chairman of the merchants' promotion committee.

Sherwin M. Binkrank, assistant city attorney, chairman of the parade committee. Binkrank's appointment already had been announced.

He would succeed President-Elect John F. Kennedy as subcommittee chairman.

His selection will not become official until Chairman Lester Hill, D-Ala., and the full Labor and Public Welfare Committee act. But McNamara followed Kennedy in seniority and thus is in line for the job.

The Michigan senator also was the ranking member on other important subcommittee, education, and thus could have become head of that group. His chairman, James E. Murray, D-Mont., also left Congress this year.

McNamara told an reporter it was a tough choice but that he finally had decided on the labor subcommittee post. He is a former union official and also served on the Detroit Board of Education and long has supported federal school aid bills.

McNamara said he expected minimum wage legislation to be the first major business before the labor subcommittee this session.

But he explained that introduction of the bill and work on it will await word from the new president and his secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, after the inauguration.

Estimated cost: $120 million a year; estimated number of children benefiting: six million.

4. To help colleges, universities and junior colleges develop methods to increase the number of new students in the next five years, the task force urged legislation providing $500 million in grants and $150 million in loans to help provide facilities.

These would be first-year costs.

In succeeding years, the task force said, this phase of the educational program will require increasing sums.

The Day in Birmingham

Adult Education Listing More and More Topics

BIRMINGHAM — A greatly expanded adult education program will be offered to area residents when classes begin the week of Jan. 23 for the winter term at the Birmingham Public Schools.

Fourteen new courses have been added to the adult offerings this year, according to Howard Malwitz, coordinator of adult education in the school system.

The courses to be initiated this term are water color painting, interior decorating, photography, organ, effective speaking, numismatic arithmetic, radio and short wave taking.

Other new classes are catering tips, Spanish for travelers, understanding your child, income tax, ballroom dancing and Italian.

Eighteen other courses, plus three classes sponsored by Michigan State University, will be offered this term. The MSU courses are normal personality II, human relations I and lore of the stars.

Registration for all classes will be taken beginning Monday at the office of Adult Education, second floor of the Board of Education Building, Chester and Martin streets.

The office is open Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registrations will close Jan. 27.

Anyone who is 17 years of age or older and not enrolled in the regular school program can register, Malwitz said.

The fees charged for the courses are for instruction only and do not cover the cost of textbooks or other materials.

One-half of the regular registration fee will be refunded if members who drop the course make application to the adult education coordinator before the third class meeting.

However, in no case will refunds be made when the dropping of membership endangers the minimum class registration of 12.

The Birmingham Woman's Club meets Tuesday for a 1 p.m. luncheon at the YMCA building.

Members will present a skit.

What definitely is not called for in the present situation is a massive program of hastily devised public works, whose primary purpose is getting that of making jobs and getting money pumped into the economy.

"The Roosevelt New Deal inherited a bankrupt economy that was in desperate straits. Whether the wisdom of anti-depression spending is a matter of debate, the fact is that the program was not called for at the present time."

"There is so much that America needs in the way of worthwhile governmental programs, and modern stabilization has so many alternative weapons to fight depression that to make it quite unnecessary to push the panic button and resort to inefficient spending devices."

Friscio Hotel Fire Claims 15 Victims

Friscio, chief of the city's emergency hospitals, directed a steady flow of ambulances carrying dozens from the hotel.

"There were two or three dozen seriously hurt," he said. "They're at three hospitals—Misson, Central and Emergency—and it'll be a while before we know who's and who's with them."

The hotel housed many pensioners and others unable to work. Many of the older residents were drunk, police said.

The dead included at least one woman.

"I'm afraid there'll be more," Friscio said. "We've just barely got the fire contained and we're still finding bodies."

Probe Deaths of 14 Patients

Injections May Have Induced Fatal Cases of Hepatitis

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The state of New Jersey is investigating the deaths of 14 patients who died of hepatitis after receiving injections from a psychiatrist.

The attorney general's office, the State Board of Medical Examiners and the State Health Department all were involved in the investigation of Dr. Albert L. Weiner of Erlton, a Camden County community about five miles from Philadelphia.

The health department disclosed Thursday that it started its investigation Oct. 24, when several South Jersey hospitals informed it of an unusual number of cases of serum hepatitis, a white liver disease.

It said it uncovered 44 cases in the next month, 14 of them fatal and all of them patients of Weiner's.

TAKE VACATION

Weiner's wife told a reporter that her husband had been ill for several weeks and had taken a vacation. She did not say where he had gone, but added that he had no public comment to make.

A day after the probe started, the health department ordered Weiner, 43, an osteopathic physician specializing in psychiatry, to stop giving injections to his patients. It said it took the step "as an emergency disease control measure."

A health department spokesman said Weiner apparently gave injections of various drugs to calm his patients and it is possible the apparatus he used may have introduced the hepatitis virus into their blood.

The State Board of Medical Examiners suspended Weiner's license Dec. 21 on a temporary basis pending outcome of its probe.

Answer Is Sought to Missile Explosion

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technicians today sought the cause of a spectacular in-flight explosion which showered flaming chunks of a Pershing missile into the Atlantic Ocean.

The 34-foot missile blew apart 25 seconds after it was launched on a 160-mile test flight Thursday night. Scores of beach observers watched as blazing pieces spiraled into the water just offshore. A few fragments fell harmlessly onto the Cape.

This was only the second failure in 10 flights for the solid-fuel Pershing, which is being developed as a mobile field weapon capable of carrying a nuclear warhead to targets 700 miles distant. It was the first time the first stage did not work properly. The previous failure occurred in the second stage.

Algeria War the Weight Around France's Neck

PARIS (UPI) — The prime moving factor behind President Charles de Gaulle's calling of a national referendum Jan. 8 to approve his Algeria policy is the Algerian war.

When voters register their approval or disapproval of his plans Sunday it will be six years, five weeks and four days since approximately 30 bands of armed Moslems struck in coordinated attacks all over Algeria and started the war that has tied France and Algeria ever since.

This David-and-Goliath affair involving often no more than a few score thousand of armed Moslems, in recent times has planned down a vast 500,000-man French army and has tied one arm behind De Gaulle's back in his plans to restore France to what he believes is her rightful place in world affairs.

All Saints Day, Nov. 1, 1954, saw the start of it all.

The Geneva convention was ignored.

Armed rebels who swooped out of the hills on All Saints Day hit at Europeans and pro-French Moslems, slitting throats, shooting and killing in an initial spate of violence that took many thousands of lives.

In the terrorist-style war that has followed over the years close to 13,000 officers and men of the French armed forces have fallen before terrorist bullets, grenades, bombs and knives. Rebel losses can only be estimated roughly, for the Moslems often take their dead away with them. But the figure is believed to be more than 100,000.

An estimated total of 13,000 Moslems and 1,400 Europeans have been slaughtered in attacks that were purely of a terrorist nature, having as their object only the idea of frightening Europeans into quitting the country.

Some died in vengeance attacks, in which terrorists descended in the middle of the night to slit the throats of those they regarded as betraying them.

Over the years, thousands of Europeans have given up in the face of these terrorist tactics and left the country. Paris papers regularly carry want ads for apartments from citizens "just returned."

They have had a demoralizing effect on the armed forces, too. As the years wore on, many questioned the wisdom of French policy. And even after De Gaulle had been back in power for nearly a year, there were many military men who had doubts about the way things were going.

Among the Foreign Legion there were reported to be many desertions. And there was much soul-searching among the 100,000

Moslem auxiliaries attached to the French army.

The effect on the French economy was more serious.

Estimates are that in the military field France has poured more than $10 billion into Algeria since 1954, including building the so-called "Morice Line" on the Tunisian and Moroccan frontiers.

For every gallon of gasoline consumed by an automobile, more than one gallon of water is produced, chemists have found. The vapor is disposed of by the exhaust.

To Ask Control Center Tabling

Expect Opposition to Move to Shelve Civil Defense Structure

The board of supervisors Tuesday will receive a recommendation that plans for a civil control center be tabled until "firmer financial commitments" are made by the federal government.

The suggestion by the ways and means committee of the board will probably result in opposition from Oak Park Supervisor Charles E. Cardon's civil defense committee which has suggested the center.

One member of the ways and means committee warned against delaying the matter further. Harry W. Morris, Royal Oak supervisor, said, "Keep in mind a lot of work has been put into this. You fellows are talking about two years of hard work."

Cardon's committee in December proposed construction of an 80 by 120-foot center in the Oakland County Service Center on Telegraph Road to be used for county operations in case of national emergency.

It would cost, Cardon said, about $22,000, half of which would be financed by the county and the balance by the federal government.

Springfield Township Supervisor John L. Carey, a member of the ways and means committee, moved to table the plans until the federal government "makes a firmer commitment."

Armed Bandit Slugs, Robs Metamora Man

An armed bandit assaulted and robbed a Metamora man early this morning in Pontiac Township.

Stuart Walker, 34, of 6900 Elwood Road, Metamora, told sheriff's deputies he had just walked out of the Country View Bar at 7701 Lapeer Road when he was assaulted and robbed at 2 a.m.

According to Walker, the armed bandit followed him as he got into his pickup truck, took the wheel and drove next door to Height Supply Co., where he slugged Walker over the head with a revolver.

Walker said that when he regained consciousness he discovered his wallet, containing about $30, missing. He phoned deputies from a nearby gas station.

Vote Goldwater 1962 Campaign Chairman Again

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater — Arizona's outspoken conservative — was reappointed chairman of the Republican Senate Campaign Committee Thursday with a solid vote of confidence from fellow GOP senators.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who had questioned whether Goldwater should be continued in the job, said he was satisfied with the ground rules Goldwater laid down for the 1962 senatorial campaign in a closed meeting of Republican senators. Javits is up for re-election in 1962.

The GOP conference chairman, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, said Goldwater made it clear he "simply would not express his personal views in a state where the party candidate had different views."

Javits said he made no objection when the conference, by voice vote, approved Saltonstall's reapointment of Goldwater. He said it was obvious Goldwater had overwhelming support.

However, Javits took issue with a statement criticizing the poor showing Goldwater said the New York Republicans made in losing that state to President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

Gas Station Loot Amounts to 'Peanuts'

LEONARD — A burglary which netted thieves little more than peanuts when they broke into his gas station here was reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday by Addison Township Clerk Robert McCallum.

Although a briefcase and filing cabinet containing township papers were broken into, no official documents were stolen, according to McCallum.

The township clerk said the thieves apparently were more interested in stealing cash than the township papers.

A peanut machine, over $4 in cash, a flashlight and some merchandise from the cigarette counter were taken when the station was closed between 10 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. yesterday, McCallum said.

The burglars broke into the station at 494 Forest St. by smashing a window on one of the garage doors, McCallum told police.

African Chiefs Wind Up Talks

Five Anti-West Leaders Demand Lumumba Be Top Man in Congo

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—Five anti-Western African government heads wind up their summit conference today with a communal pledge to withdraw from a third of the U.N. military force in the Congo unless Patrice Lumumba is returned to power.

The five are Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, Sekou Touré of Guinea, Modibo Keita of Mali and King Mohammed V of Morocco.

Conference sources said they also had agreed to:

1. Announce more active political, material and moral support for the Algerian rebels led by Premier Ferhat Abbas;

2. Continue to work for the withdrawal of Algerian troops from the Sahara for nuclear weapon tests;

3. Back the demand of Arab rebels to return to their former lands in Israel; and

4. Call for African unity and an end to colonialism.

The five leaders have been meeting behind closed doors since Wednesday in the ornate Casablanca City Hall. Abbas and Nasser's foreign minister attended as observers.

The conference developed into a struggle over Congo policy between Nasser and Nkrumah, each of whom is ambitious to be Africa's No. 1 man.

Nasser, backed by Guinea's leftist president, wanted to pull their troops out of the U.N. command at once and put them at the disposal of the rump regime set up in Stanleyville by ex-Premier Lumumba's followers.

Nkrumah, backed by King Mohammed and Keita, argued that such a move might precipitate outright civil war in the Congo, that it might spread to the rest of Africa and that the big powers might intervene.

To Arraign Area Man on Charge of Assault

Charged with aggravated assault in the beating of a Commerce Township bartender Dec. 28, Jack E. Bowser, 28, of 4520 Pontiac Trail, Walked Lake, has been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 16.

Bowser was released on $500 bond by Justice of the Peace John C. Weick following an examination of the charge brought by R. F. James, a bartender at M's Place, 2435 Benstein Road, where the attack allegedly occurred.

Under City-County Guidance

Eye Airport Expansion

Expansion of Pontiac Municipal Airport under the co-ownership of the city and county will be a major consideration of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce's new aviation committee.

Plans for reactivation of the committee and the reappointment of J.A. Hubbard as its chairman were announced today by Dr. Dan P. Whitmer, chamber president.

A six-point program was detailed by John W. Hurlinger, chamber manager. The committee is to:

1. Promote public use of existing scheduled airline service;

2. Press for additional routes and service;

3. Work for expansion of the airport to attract corporation fleets;

4. Consider the establishment of an airport commission;

5. Study the possibility of co-ownership by the city and county;

6. Study the role Pontiac Municipal should play in the future airport needs of the Detroit Metropolitan Area.

About 30 Pontiac area persons, several of them with direct interests in aviation, have been invited to join the committee at its first meeting a week from today, said Hurlinger.

Formation of the committee represents a new emphasis on the importance of the airport to the Pontiac community, he said.

Formed first year past, the committee was largely inactive as the chamber and other interest groups concentrated on gaining federal authorization of the city's first regularly scheduled commercial airline service.

This became a reality when North Central Airlines began operations at Pontiac Municipal. Dr. J.A. Hubbard, president of the M.D. Hubbard Spring Co., is an aviation enthusiast who bases his private plane at the airport.

Co-ownership by the city and county has already been advanced as a possibility by City Manager Walter K. Wulman and Delia Hamann, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

If recommendations by the committee are forthcoming and approved by the chamber board, it is expected that they will be presented to the governmental agencies involved for consideration.

The aviation committee of the board of supervisors, headed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, has been studying the airport along the lines set for the chamber's aviation committee.

White Girl Dated Negro, Lost Her Job

White Girl Dated Negro, Lost Her Job

LANSING (AP)—Should a white girl be fired from her job because she dates a Negro man?

The State Fair Employment Practices Commission will be asked to decide the question at a meeting in Detroit Jan. 18.

A formal complaint of discrimination has been filed over the issue, said Edward N. Hodges, director of conciliation for the commission.

"The girl made the complaint that she was fired because she was dating a Negro boy friend," Hodges said. "We are still checking out the case."

The girl, Hodges said, "is in her 20s and works for a major financial institution."

Hodges said he could not identify the girl, the institution or the man until the matter goes on record before the commission.

"I know a lot of people are disturbed about the alleged firing," he said. "We are still checking out the case and it should come up at the next meeting."

Big expansion of the airport was recommended in the study sponsored by the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, headed by Hamlin. Released last year, it recommended Pontiac as the logical site for a second big jet airport to serve the metropolitan area.

This study will be of initial concern to the committee, said Hurlinger.

If recommendations by the committee are forthcoming and approved by the chamber board, it is expected that they will be presented to the governmental agencies involved for consideration.

Why Pray for Betty James' Murderer?

Mrs. BETTY JAMES, wife and mother of three, was buried Saturday in Berkley after she had been beaten to death in cold blood.

Gene Holloway, lay minister, conducted the funeral and he pleaded for mercy and compassion for the killer right at the service itself. The mother's three children were cared for by relatives as the husband suffers from a broken hip and leg. Thus, they were spared this indignity.

The disciple of Christ who conducted the ceremony asked compassion and sorrow for the murderer who still roams at large. This must have been very touching to the relatives and friends of the bludgeoned girl. "We must have sympathy for the man who did it," said Holloway. "He needs help and a lot of it."

Mr. Holloway, let's worry about the murdered woman. Let's concern ourselves with her three little children. Let's pray for her husband. Let's think about the life she lost instead of the mispent days of the killer. Let's unite in asking God's help for the father who faces a dual assignment with mother gone. Would it be all right with you to let the police worry for a while over the brutal slayer?

Must we give time during the precious moments of the funeral to ask mercy for the beast that made the service necessary? Can't humanity concern itself at this official moment with the sorrowing family? Why take time to worry over the fiend that beat the young woman to death and carted away her purse with $53?

Landis Report Arouses Little Adverse Criticism

That James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard law school, has accepted appointment to the job of White House Co-ordinator of the agencies criticized in his 87 page report on Federal regulatory commissions, is a guarantee that something will be done.

In the Government reorganization plan to President-Elect KENNEDY, the last two Administrations come in for sharp criticism for "a lack of concern or lack of understanding of the regulatory process by the President."

One of the hardest hit agencies in the report, the Federal Power Commission (FPC) was termed "a dismal failure" and "represents the outstanding example in the Federal Government of the breakdown of the administrative process" and failure to execute the laws.

Another, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) "has drifted, vacillated and stalled in almost every major area... and seems incapable of policy planning." The report also said there was "strong suspicion... that far too great an influence is exercised over the commission by the networks."

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), says the LAMORE report, was subject to inordinate delays by its own operating policies and "bedeviled" by the "acceptance of unusual hospitalities."

On the other hand there was little criticism of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). A speedup and simplification of registration of securities before public sale was recommended. Also suggested was a crackdown on investment advisers which has been under way since the SEC was given such authorization by the last Congress.

Perhaps the best recommendation for the validity of the report comes from the agencies concerned. Spokesmen generally took a surprisingly moderate view. They weren't surprised at the findings, agreed that the report had merit and thought a White House Co-ordinator would be a good thing.

The new Administration will have the responsibility of overhauling regulatory agencies to enable them to carry out their original legislative purposes. Congress also should renew the President's power to carry on the work of reorganization of government agencies which expired last year.

MORONA was pretty disappointed and blue following the holidays. "I'll be darned if I'll climb a tree next Christmas season," she said, "for a bunch of mistletoe!"

The Man About Town Effect on Pontiac

Proposed Railroad Merger Has Local Possibilities

Money: What it's nice to have, but nicer yet to know what to do with.

The impending merger of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway with some other system, possibly the Baltimore and Ohio, brings thought for reflection in the Pontiac area. Formerly the Pere Marquette, its mileage in Oakland County is exceeded only by that of the Grand Trunk.

Its 37 miles of track in our county extend down its west side and also across its southwest corner. The Grand Trunk lines, which have a monopoly on the Pontiac field, have three junction points with the C&O in Oakland County — at Holly, Wixom and South Lyon, so there is a close local affiliation between the two roads.

More multiple grandparents: the Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Tanyon of Detroit, formerly of Pontiac, has nine living grandparents.

Fish bones are numerous on most of the 425 lakes in our county, and Pete Delores, who covers a lot of ground in it, puts the number at close to a thousand.

If you haven't received your income tax blanks, don't get mad because you've been neglected: they're in the mail.

Coming home for the Pontiac centennial is

John J. Fryer, who has lived in Detroit for 35 years, but still considers this his home town.

What he calls adding insult to injury is the experience of Franklin Osterly of Waterford, who found some green weeds getting a 1961 start under the snow in his garden.

Candidate for the nomination for president,

W. Averell Harriman, in his hotel suite during the Democratic convention in Chicago in 1956 queried me:

"As an old newspaperman, can you explain to me why a wealthy man would want to be president?" It's beyond me.

The neighborhood children built such a realistic snow man on the lawn of

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Baltimore of Drayton Plains that the dogs from all over that area came to bark at it.

Double Trouble!

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Speaks for the People on Cuba

WASHINGTON — Irrespective of party politics, an American leader every now and then expresses in a few words the true feeling of the United States on international policy.

Just such an utterance came from Dwight D. Eisenhower when he said: "There is a limit to what the United States in self-interest can endure. That limit has now been reached."

This is a message that needs to be broadcast widely throughout the world and to be read carefully in Moscow.

For, if taken to heart, it can avert a world war. If disregarded, it can only mean that the Communists will continue to try American patience and force drastic action.

Some day such misguided attitude or misinterpretation can set off a chain of events that would bring a severance of diplomatic relations between the governments of the United States and the Soviet Union.

By withdrawing recognition from Cuba, the Washington Government tells the world that the Havana regime is not discharging its international obligations and has confiscated foreign property without compensation.

Instead of military intervention, a trade embargo has been imposed.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL INTERESTS, seeking profit, often talk at such measures.

Even today some Canadian businessmen have apparently brought pressure on their government of Ottawa to continue trading with Cuba, although the United States has been striving to obtain a uniform policy among its allies to "quarantine" Cuba commercially and thus to avoid military intervention.

It is a source of great disappointment to many persons in the United States to see the conservative government in Ottawa, in effect, playing ball with the Castro regime by permitting the export of nonstrategic goods to Cuba.

While most of the press in Great Britain has approved the action of the United States in severing relations with the Cuban government, there are dissenting editorialists which say it's a matter that should have been left to the Kennedy administration to decide or that it's likely to play into Castro's hands.

The only thing that will aid Castro and the Communists' strategy is a failure of our allies to support the American government's restrained policies in dealing with its neighbors in this hemisphere.

The Country Parson

"The fellow who won't stand on either side of an issue probably will get hit from both sides."

Britain once did not see eye-to-eye with another president of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, when he made his great speech in 1937 calling for a "quarantine" of the Hitler-Mussolini bloc.

Earlier efforts to effectuate an oil embargo against Italy when Mussolini's forces invaded Ethiopia were fruitless because commercial interests in Western Europe blocked it.

The same mistake was made with respect to strategic materials and munitions by some Western governments which allowed such goods to be exported to Hitler up to five months before the outbreak of the second World War in 1939.

Unless the Allies stick together, there is danger that the potential enemy will again take advantage of such dissension.

The United States is cooperating with her allies in making policies in Laos and the Congo, and it would seem that the Western nations would redouble their efforts to strengthen the hand of America in the present period of strained relations with Cuba.

The Kennedy administration is not likely to alter the policy initiated this week by President Eisenhower.

Dr. William Brady Says:

No Hormones or Food Absorbed Through Skin

Any one who uses hair or fur dye containing paraphenylenediamine, or shoe dye containing anilin oil or alcohols, or wrong when I say no chemical, food, vitamin, hormone, all drug or poison can be absorbed through unbroken skin. This includes carbon tetrachloride (solvent, cleaner, fire extinguisher), tetraethyl lead gasoline, tobacco solutions, insecticides used as insecticides in green houses, etc.

If you don't inhale the toxic or poisonous stuff, it will probably not impair your health. For instance, carbon tetrachloride is an excellent spot remover and non-inflammable — but don't monkey with it in a closed room or building!

For many years readers with more or less knowledge of chemistry have been telling me I'm wrong. Here you readers enter: seen children go wrong because of so-called crime comics? Remember, 60 million kids read them steadily, so don't cite an occasional delinquent as an evidence that comics promote crime. Tawards do far more harm to youth than even the worst comics.

DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE G-41: Nicholas Bohling is the very popular Alderman from my ward.

He was present when I gave the dedication address for the new South Shore YMCA, in our part of Chicago.

At the end of the program, he asked: "Dr. Crane, would it be possible, for you to attend our City DR. CRANE Council Meeting some day soon?"

"The Mayor is interested in the comic book situation and we should like to have your comments on the subject."

WHAT ABOUT COMICS? A great many parents and teachers have become alarmed at the contents of certain comic books nowadays.

Some of these books depict crime and vulgarity so they are not the ideal type of reading material for modern youth.

Yet comics are the most widely read literature nowadays by our youth. I read them myself and enjoy them.

And our five children have read them all throughout childhood. We had to make a book rack on the bathroom door to hold the constant influx of comic books.

It is interesting to note that

Likes Most Phases of The Press

I am writing to tell you how happy we are with our Pontiac Press carrier boy, Jan Anderson. He is always very friendly and polite. The paper is delivered at exactly the same time each day and, although we have a large porch, is put inside the screen door if the weather is the least bit threatening. Jan is very business-like and courteous when he makes collections. He is a credit to his employer.

We have been receiving The Pontiac Press for about 18 months and, in general, are quite pleased with it. The news coverage is adequate. The women's section is excellent, especially the food department. The grammar, spelling and sentence structure of the rest of the paper, however, leave a great deal to be desired.

Excitement rumps about the house... And even grips the house... Because a salient event when we come to our own days. There is a comic's swishing sound of gossip in the air... Enough around the neighborhood... For all to have and share... Such gringings this time of year... It's herabout unknown... For no one seems to even find... A moment for his own... That we be our happy days... Along this gracious way... But none may be so meaningful... As that we face today... You might as well portend... And learn right now the truth... Comics Don't Promote Delinquency

Should comic books and newspaper comic strips be censored? Have you readers ever seen children go wrong because of so-called crime comics? Remember, 60 million kids read them steadily, so don't cite an occasional delinquent as an evidence that comics promote crime. Tawards do far more harm to youth than even the worst comics.

And our five children have read them all throughout childhood. We had to make a book rack on the bathroom door to hold the constant influx of comic books.

It is interesting to note that

Remember, some of the worst influences on modern youth are the so-called better class citizens who belong to ritzier clubs and churches and servicemen's clubs but who drink and gamble and twiddle their thumbs. Much of the future about bad comics is a tempest in a teapot.

It is a real bummer that diversifies attention from the more critical issues of taverns, gambling, a 20-year continual military dragging of American teenage boys and other items that are far worse than even the bad comics.

Kids have more "horse sense" than a lot of adults give them credit for. They can sift pretty well when they read comics!

Bridge Revenue, Traffic Down in '60

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — Decreases in traffic and revenue for the Mackinac Bridge in 1960 were reported Thursday by Prentiss M. Brown, bridge authority chairman.

During 1960, 1,179,083 vehicles passed over the bridge, compared to 1,245,887 in 1959, a drop of 5.4 per cent. Revenues for 1960 totaled $4,537,887, compared with $4,765,896 in 1959, a decrease of 4.8 per cent.

"Our winter traffic has grown steadily every year, but summer traffic in 1960 as well as 1959 was disappointing," Brown said.

"We are certain that the drop this past season was due to depressed economic conditions and unusually cool and wet weather," he added.

"We said the bridge authority was compelled to increase tolls to offset the loss."

"We are optimistic that the steady growth predicted for this area will materialize and that the deficiencies in the authority reserve funds and earnings will be made up," Brown commented.

"Then an effort will be made to reduce tolls."

The Bridge Authority is required by a trust agreement to collect tolls 30 per cent over interest and operating costs.

OAS Hits Trujillo With More Sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The economic squeeze on the 30-year regime of Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo and the Dominican Republic tightened Thursday with new economic sanctions by the Organization of American States.

Last August the OAS condemned Trujillo as an aggressor and embargoed arms shipments to him, and Wednesday it voted to ban shipments of oil, oil products, trucks and parts.

The vote was 14-1, with six nations abstaining. The only opposition came from the Dominican Republic, already reportedly suffering severe economic strains.

Since the ban applies only to OAS member states, diplomatic sources said the Dominicans still could obtain necessary supplies elsewhere in the world.

Delays Motions Against Hoffa and Two Others

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Federal Court Judge Dozier Devane has granted a delay for filing motions in the government's mail fraud case against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and two Detroit men.

The defendants were given a 30-day delay until Feb. 2 to file motions.

Both the government and the defendants were given until Jan. 24 to examine records in the case.

He Shut Them Out

DENVER (AP)—Democrat David Brofman, ex-newspaper reporter, was re-elected county judge as soon as the first voter pulled down the lever opposite his name. The Republicans didn't bother to put up a candidate.

Medical Plans Seek Rate Hikes

DETROIT—Michigan's Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization and medical care plans announced today they will seek new rate increases.

Both the hospital-operated Blue Cross plan and the doctor-controlled Blue Shield plan said they currently are running in the red.

Neither disclosed how much of a rate increase would be requested. A spokesman said this would have to come from State Insurance Commissioner Frank Rickford.

The plans said they would file for the increases next week to become effective April 1.

Blue Shield, which insurances against medical expenses received a 11 1/2 per cent increase in rates last May. Blue Cross received its last rate increase Jan. 1, 1959.

While raising its rates, Blue Cross said it planned to liberalize U.S. island taxation because of its coverage to include oral surgery, extraction of impacted teeth taxing Friday.

Shielded Caskets Needed for Trio Killed in A-Blast

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho—Three young servicemen, one of them from Michigan, who died in a nuclear reactor explosion may be buried in heavily-shielded caskets in a special cemetery plot.

Navy Electrician I.C. Richard C. Legg, 26, of Rosecommon, Mich.; Army Spec. 5.C. John A. Byrnes, 27, and Spec. 4.C. Richard L. McKinley, 22, were killed Tuesday night in a mysterious blast at the National Reactor Testing Station of the Atomic Energy Commission 10 miles west of here.

All three bodies are dangerously radioactive. One still is in the building, one was brought out shortly after the blast and the third was removed Thursday.

The interior of the building is so "hot" with radiation that experts, even with elaborate protective clothing, can remain inside only a minute or so.

The AEC started hoisting a special television camera into place Thursday to view the damage.

Car Mishap Costs Scholle Kneecap

DETROIT — The right kneecap of August Scholle, 47, was injured in a collision in Plymouth Township Monday night. The kneecap was fractured. It was removed in an operation Tuesday at Mount Sinai Hospital.

Scholle is expected to have good use of his leg despite the operation, and said. He is expected to be in the hospital for another week.

Papers Grow in Readers, Ads

Far Outpace Nation in Dynamic Record Based on Service

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Daily newspaper circulation in the United States has increased 52 per cent in the last 25 years while the nation's population has grown only 40 per cent.

The figures were given today by Stanford Smith, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Today's total daily circulation, he said, is 54 million. In 25 years from now it will be 81 million, he forecast.

Smith told a 24th anniversary meeting of Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington in a prepared speech that in 1935 the population of the United States was 127 million, the total circulation was 38 million and the total advertising volume was $762 million.

"The latest annual figures cover the year 1959 when total newspaper advertising volume was $3.4 billion. This is a gain of more than 32.75 billion," he said.

"Newspaper circulation grows because the service rendered to readers is not available from any other source and not likely ever to become available from any other source," Smith said.

"Newspaper advertising volume grows on the basis of a service to advertisers which produces results on a consistent, day-in, day-out basis."

The newspaper readers service to readers and advertisers that cannot be topped by any known or foreseeable device or system. But above all, the newspaper plays a role in its own community that is unique in the leadership it exerts on behalf of all those things which have made America great," he said.

Indiana's bituminous coal industries employ about 9,000 miners.

MSU to Teach Second African Language

EAST LANSING — The head of the Michigan State University foreign language department, Dr. Stanley Townsend, has announced it will soon add a second African language to its curriculum.

The new language, Ro, will join Yoruba, a West-African dialect, in the MSU language curriculum.

Townsend predicted a plan for a "peace corps" of junior diplomats to other countries, advanced by President-Elect Kennedy, would stimulate language centers across the nation.

Jobless Areas Bill Pushed by Douglas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., Thursday introduced legislation, backed by President-Elect John F. Kennedy and designed to help nearly 100 areas unable to shake off long-term unemployment.

Douglas, who headed a special study of the distressed areas problem for Kennedy, emphasized the "sense of urgency" for swift consideration of the $20 million loan-and-grant program. It was the first Senate bill offered in the 86th Congress.

Rival Republican area development measures—also introduced Thursday—suggested the Douglas proposal would be attacked because of its size and the methods for operating and financing the program.

Kennedy claimed during the recent campaign that the Republican administration had been negligent in helping economically depressed areas, and promised quick action on the problem if elected.

Naval Base Very Vulnerable

Cubans, by Thousands, Working at 'Gitmo'

By The Associated Press
Ninety miles more or less from the United States, the island of Cuba, upon it is the United States Naval Base of Guantanamo and thus Cuba has become the front line of the "Cold War." Millions of international communists have come to this close.

Within the area of Cuba, the Soviets can install a submarine base of their own, set up launching pads for missiles and establish electronic stations that can interfere with America's vital information. This American naval base, an outpost in the fortress of freedom, is ironically vulnerable each day to espionage, sabotage or worse, for its gates are open to thousands of Cuban nationals who come here to work.

But there are no more Sunday drives outside the fort. And Cuba, once a paradise for beachcombers, is now forbidden territory.

GRASS WORKERS
Beneath the surface there is vigilance. There is daily frisking of 3,600 Cuban workers as they leave the fort by a land gate, or by ferry. This has gone on ever since attempts were made to smuggle out arms and ammunition for Castro. Cuban automobiles are searched on engine to trunk.

Some 21 miles of 7-foot chain link fence surrounds the fort. Known as "Gitmo" to Navy men. Along a narrow road through a pass leading to the fort is barbed wire—ready for a barrier.

Look close and you will see a timbered slot in a brush-covered hillside. It is a Marine gun emplacement.

At the foot of the hill reaching inland from the fort there are green vegetation and faded scrub trees and barren areas. And fringing this area are red signs. The signs say: "Peligro (Danger, Mines)."

The United States pays $3,386.25 rental yearly for this stronghold which it also pays $10 million yearly to maintain. The rental fee was set low by a once-grateful Cuban after the United States helped their country to independence.

Payment of the rent was not accepted by Castro last year because the "landlord" now wants the tenant to get out. However, the existing agreement can be voided only if the United States abandons the area or by mutual agreement between the two countries.

At the landward gate are two buildings marking the border between capitalism and communism. The Cuban workers cross each day between 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.

On one side is the U.S. checkpoint of freshly painted concrete, with desk, phone and clean windows.

A few yards away Cuban uniforms are housed in a washed-out green shack above which flies the red-starred Cuban flag. Beside it is a shanty of poles, stry boards and galvanized iron. In it are displayed for the departing workers: shrimp, farm produce and copies of "Revolucion," Castro's newspaper for whom the Cuban readers have been working all day. It is generally believed most of these workers are friendly to the United States. But no one suggests they all are.

Cuban Consulate in NY Closes Doors, Mouths

NEW YORK — The Cuban consulate here shut up shop Thursday. It had been open a few hours Wednesday, apparently to conclude pending matters.

Week's Auto Output Half of 1960 Period

DETROIT — Automobile manufacturers will build less than half as many cars this week as they did in the first week of last year. Automotive News reported Thursday.

The trade paper estimated production at only 77,685 cars compared with 162,249 in the first week of 1960. The total also represents a drop of more than 10 per cent from last week's 86,773 assemblies.

A year ago all factories worked five days. This week to plant is working more than four because of New Year's holiday and all but one of the Chrysler plants is closed all week.

Truck production this week was estimated at 17,143 units compared with 15,460 last week and 27,689 in the similar week of 1960.

In Canada, factories will build 6,810 cars and trucks this week against 7,336 last week and 10,927 in the comparable week a year ago.

Mussolini's Son Denies He'll Wed Loren's Sister

ROME (UPI) — Romano Mussolini, the jazz-playing son of the late Italian dictator Benito "Il Duce" Mussolini, and Maria Scifo, low, beautiful sister of famous film star Sophia Loren, Thursday denied press reports that they were engaged.

Like Lauds Benson as He Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday accepted the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, effective Jan. 20, and thanked him "for the many contributions you have made to the nation, and especially to its rural population."

In submitting his resignation, Benson told Eisenhower "The groundwork has been laid for the kind of progress, expanding and free agriculture that is so basic to a strong, virile, secure America."

Benson said the credit for this belongs primarily to the farm people themselves, but help also came from government programs and policies.

Benson said, however, agriculture still faces many problems. He urged them back to school, he got out with the cost-price squeeze still hurts many farm families and surpluses of a few commodities are heavily excessive.

Truant Officer Hooks Too Many Hookey-Players

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — When truant officer Lloyd Smith rounded up 20 hookey-playing youngsters Wednesday and herded them back to school, he got out with the cost-price squeeze still too many.

Smith said he spotted one boy whom he believed to be about 8 years old. Under the youngster's strenuous objection Smith carried him off to school.

Every teacher had denied knowing the lad before he turned to Smith and said: "I told you I don't belong here, I'm only 5 years old."

Red-faced, Smith took the child home.

Will Oppose Negro as Housing Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which must act on the nomination of Dr. Robert Weaver as housing and home finance administrator, said Thursday he would oppose confirmation of the New York Negro.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., insisted his opposition to Weaver was not based on race. He complained that President-Elect John F. Kennedy did not notify him of the selection in advance.

A similar complaint was leveled by Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the housing subcommittee. Sparkman said he did not want to comment on the choice until the full committee holds hearings.

But it was learned Sparkman opposed Weaver because he felt the New Yorker had a hand in keeping Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright from the post of secretary of state. Some Kennedy advisers feared Fulbright's Southern background would hurt this country in Africa and Asia.

Boeing Reveals New Version of B52 Bomber

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — A new version of the B52 bomber was unveiled by the Boeing Airplane Co. in Wichita Thursday. The new model, known as the B52H, is equipped with turbofan jet engines, giving it more power and range than the earlier B52G.

It is designed to carry four 30,000-pound missiles equipped with nuclear warheads. The older B52G was equipped to transport the Hound Dog missile powered by a jet engine.

The range of the new model is expected to exceed that of the B52G, which proved a 10,000-mile capability last month.

Dr. Sheppard Gets Look at Outside in Transfer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted six years ago in one of the country's most baffling murder mysteries, Thursday got his first look at the outside world in more than five years.

Sheppard was transferred from famous old Ohio Penitentiary, which once housed the author, O. Henry, to the modern Marion Correctional Institution as a reward for his good conduct in the prison here.

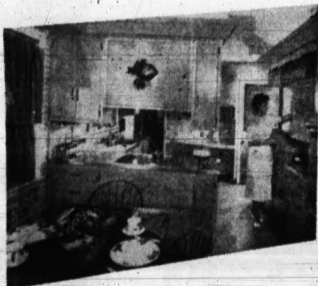

Sheppard is serving a life sentence for the bludgeon murder of his expectant wife, Marilyn. He is not eligible for parole until July 1965.

U.S. Keyed Up for Laos Crisis

Military Units on Alert in Western Pacific for Any Eventuality

HONOLULU (AP) — Powerful elements of the U.S. 7th Fleet and alerted American bases in the Western Pacific stood ready today to deal with any eventuality in the developing Laos crisis.

That was the appraisal of informed sources who declined to be quoted. But they said that in addition to naval units in the South China Sea, air, Marine and Army forces were ready to move from bases in Okinawa, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

The assessment of American readiness came after a statement issued Wednesday by Gen. Harry D. Felt, top U. S. commander in the Pacific.

We are prepared to accomplish whatever may be required of us by higher authorities of our government. Certain precautionary measures have been taken. These include the augmentation of our airlift capability in the Western Pacific and a repositioning of some of our mobile fire force," Felt said.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Orchestra conductor Alfred Wallenstein says Communists in Japan are using melodies of the late American composer Stephen Foster in spreading propaganda.

Falashas a Mystery to Scholars

Is Ethiopia Hiding Ancient Hebrew Tribe?

By WILTON WYNN

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Hidden away in the wilds of northern Ethiopia lives a mysterious tribe who call themselves the "House of Israel," but who speak no Hebrew and do not know the meaning of the word Jew.

Living in a remote and almost inaccessible mountain region north of Lake Tana, these people are known in Ethiopia as "Falasha," but often are called "black Jews." Their scriptures are the Old Testament and their religious practices those prescribed in the Pentateuch, the first five books of the Bible.

They call themselves "Sons of Abraham" and "House of Israel" and have a priestly system similar to that of primitive Judaism. They have taken seven Falashas to this mean the Falashas are a long-lost Hebrew tribe who well-educated Falasha is connected with the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

Like Jews everywhere, the Falashas use the Old Testament as their Bible. They observe rigidly the observances and fasts prescribed in the Pentateuch. They strictly observe Saturday as the Sabbath. The word Falasha itself is translated "emigrant" and could imply they are a community in exile.

On the other hand, the Falashas never heard the word "Jew." Europeans penetrated their region early this century. Not a trace of the Hebrew language can be found in their scriptures, prayers, colloquial speech. Their Bible is written in Ge'ez, an ancient Ethiopian language.

Falashas have no synagogues and have never heard of the Mishnah or Talmud. They have priests in the dim past went into excommunication. To students of the Jewish community, that has become the big question. Are the Falashas Jews, or are they not? The answer could have important consequences.

DECISION IN OFFING
If the Falashas should suddenly decide to emigrate to Israel—as many signs of moving to Israel indicate—would the state of Israel, which would have to decide offhandedly whether they are Jews.

So far, the Falashas have shown no signs of moving to Israel. Probably the great majority of the estimated 25,000 "black Jews" are not even aware there is a and have a priestly system similar to that of primitive Judaism. Weather Couldn't Make Up Mind

December Fickle Gal

As far as weather was concerned, December was a "sometime" month — sometimes warm, sometime cold.

It was warm when December bowed in, with the mercury registering the month's high of 50 on Dec. 4, 5 and 6. It was sunny, too.

Pontiac residents began to wander about Old Man Winter.

As it turned out, he was only taking a short holiday — before getting down to work in earnest.

IT COLD JUST WAIT

He came breezing in Dec. 8 with snow flurries and temperatures dropped steadily to a season's low of 11 degrees.

It got colder — much colder — than that before December made its exit.

Dec. 13, the temperature dropped to 1 above zero as the city remained in the grip of a severe cold spell.

The next day it warmed up, but more cold was on the way. And with the cold came snow.

A 3-inch snow fell on Pontiac Dec. 20

and the next day, the first of winter, there was more snow — and a low of 9 above.

Winter didn't take long to leave its icy stamp on the city. On Dec. 22, the mercury fell to 3 below.

HISTORY ON THE 23RD
And on Dec. 23, a history-making 5 below embosomed the Pontiac area in a sunny, but bone-chilling deep freeze.

Never before had it been so cold on that date. The previous low for a Dec. 23 was 1 above in 1878.

The next day the low was zero. A warming trend set in by Christmas.

The holiday no sooner ended than a new cold wave set in. However, the mercury never did hit zero again.

December contained 12 sunny days, six fair and five cloudy. Light rains fell two days.

Snow flurries and light snow hit Pontiac on five days, and there were two days of heavy snow.

The average high for December was 29.5 and the average low 16.7, with the month's median temperature 21.

Profs Criticize Cuban Break

Five U. of M. Faculty Members Regret U.S. Diplomatic Move

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Five University of Michigan professors have criticized the United States' move in breaking off diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Prof. Irving A. Leonard, of the university's Spanish, American literature and history dept., said, "The break in diplomatic relations with Cuba is a mistake on the part of our government." Leonard added that "greater patience is called for, especially since we have committed so many blunders and sins in the past in Latin America."

Asst. Prof. Harold K. Jacobson, of the department of political science said he doubted that the move would achieve anything and that the incoming administration of President-Elect John Kennedy "should have been consulted more than they appear to have been."

Prof. D. Maynard Phelps, of the school of business administration called the action a loss of the U.S.'s "eyes and ears" in Cuba.

Economics professor, Kenneth G. Boulting called breaking off diplomatic relations with Cuba, "unwise," and recommended that a research organization be set up to study the Caribbean.

William G. Merriard, associate professor of modern languages said the United States should have consulted other nations in the Western Hemisphere before deciding to end relations with Cuba.

State High Court Sifts Motion Against Firm

LANSING (UPI) — The State Supreme Court has taken under advisement a motion which would set Michigan Surety Co., a Lansing bonding and insurance firm, back under jurisdiction of the State Insurance Department.

Attorneys for the state and Michigan Surety presented oral arguments Wednesday on a motion by Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford to reverse an "ingham County" circuit court decision. Judge Louis E. Coughlin held the department's proceeding to liquidate the firm last April when he ruled that financial reports indicated the firm was not insolvent as contended by the department.

U.S. Prepared if Castro Dries Up Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ocean going tankers will rush fresh water to the millions of gallons to Guantanamo Naval Base in the event the Cuban government shuts off the outside water supply.

The U.S. Navy, long alert for such possible harassing moves by Premier Fidel Castro, is confident converted oil tankers could haul enough water to meet the needs of the 7,985 Americans, dependents and Cuban workers on the base.

All fresh water at Guantanamo now comes by pipeline from the Yateras River about four miles away. A pumping station outside the Guantanamo base is vital to the waterflow.

In 1959 Castro rebels interfered with pumping station operations in their drive to topple President Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Introduces Aid to Education Bill

Sen. McNamara Backs $1.9-Billion Measure on Construction, Salaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., Thursday introduced a $1.9-billion federal aid to education bill, carrying grants for school construction and teacher salaries.

The measure was identical with one passed by the Senate last year. The House passed its own bill providing for smaller grants, but the House Rules Committee never allowed the legislation to go to a Senate-House conference.

President-elect John F. Kennedy has listed education as one of the major items on his 1961 legislative program.

The McNamara Bill would provide federal grants to the states averaging $20 per school age child. The grants for individual states would vary, however, with wealthy states getting as little as $10 per child and poor ones as much as $30.

The money could be used to pay teachers or build schools or a combination of both, as the states decide.

The bill would authorize the grants for a two-year period, with the first year cost estimated at $950 million.

The Michigan senator said "there appears to be agreement on both sides of the aisle in both houses of Congress that the federal government must place its resources and prestige behind the fight for better schools."

"The question is — how should this be done," McNamara explained. He was referring to the bill passed last year as a start for consideration of the problem this session.

Carrier Repair Cost May Hit $48 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy says it will take less money and less time than originally estimated to patch up the carrier Constellation, damaged in a fire last month at New York. Fifty workmen died in the fire.

Repairs will "take about seven months and cost about $47,942,000," the Navy said.

Shortly after the fire, navy officials estimated the repair job might cost about $75 million and might in a one-year delay before the new ship was ready for the sea.

OF PHOENIX UNIVERSITY HEAD — Nobel Prize winner Dr. George W. Beadle has been named chancellor of the University of Chicago. The 57-year-old Beadle will leave a post as acting dean of the faculty and chairman of the division of biology at California Institute of Technology. He will succeed Dr. Lawrence A. Kimpton within 90 days. Beadle won a Nobel Prize for medicine in 1958.

Goldwater Says Nixon Must Win Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, darling of the Republican old guard, believes Vice President Richard M. Nixon will have little chance for the presidential nomination in 1964 unless he wins the California governorship next year.

The Arizona conservative doesn't put it that bluntly, but his meaning is clear.

Now returned to the Senate stronghold where he heads the powerful Republican Campaign Committee, he said Nixon will have to win an elective office in order to maintain his voice in the party.

Since the only office Nixon would conceivably seek between now and the '64 presidential campaign is the governorship, Goldwater would seem to be telling his old friend Nixon to put up or shut up.

Offers 6-Week Brushup on Square Dancing

A six-week series of "brushup" square dancing lessons will get under way from 8:15 to 10:45 Jan. 13 at the Donelson School on West Huron Street in Waterford Township.

The refresher course on fundamentals of intermediate square dancing is sponsored by the "Four Town Squares" according to Robert Price, president.

Get Political, Ford Urges Businessmen

DETROIT (UPI)—Henry Ford II, who lost his company's president to the Kennedy administration, Thursday urged the nation's businessmen to take a more active role in public affairs.

Keynoting a conference on public affairs sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Ford said that for years the basic reaction of business to proposals for government action in economic and social matters, tax increases and public works "has been a flat and violent 'no.'"

He said "I don't suggest that we start saying 'yes' when we ought to say 'no.' But it does seem to me that we are adding. If ever ready with an intelligent alternative solution to a problem, for every business gripe there ought to be at least one constructive idea."

He said the chance to contribute something should be reason enough for businessmen to take a more active interest in public affairs at a time when good government is probably synonymous with survival.

But a second reason, he said, there were 19 house fires in 1959 in the growing impingement on business by local, state and federal governments — a trend that accelerates from year to year.

Controversial School in Dearborn to Open

DEARBORN (UPI)—The board of education in Dearborn Township School District No. 6 has voted to open its new Hamilton J. Robichaud High School, which has stood empty and unused since last summer because of a lack of operating funds.

The $3 million school will open Jan. 30, but only on a limited basis, with most workshops and the gym and swimming pool still not to be used.

About 1,000 students now in classes at Roosevelt Junior High will move into the new building, but there will not be any increase in curricula or the number of teachers and classes will remain on a half-day basis.

The school, which has received national attention, could not open on schedule last fall because voters in the district repeatedly turned down tax increase proposals to provide increased operating funds for it.

Waterford Fires Total 19

There were 19 house fires in 1959 in the growing impingement on business by local, state and federal governments — a trend that accelerates from year to year in damage caused by 17 fires in November.

Judge Upholds Township Meetings' Legality

Hodge to Plead Ziem's Decision

Circuit Court Edict Likely to Wind Up in Top State Tribunal

By DON FERMOYLE

The constitutionality of annual township meetings was upheld today in an opinion handed down by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Judge Ziem's decision was in answer to a suit brought by Robert W. Hodge, an attorney who practices in Pontiac and lives in Pontiac Township.

On learning of the Circuit Court opinion, Hodge said he would appeal his case to the State Supreme Court.

Listed as defendants in the suit were officers of the Pontiac Township Board, who were represented in court by Township Attorney Herbert W. Gordon.

The legal arguments of Gordon and Hodge hinged on whether the annual township meetings are elections as defined in the Michigan Constitution.

In his ruling, Judge Ziem stated the meeting "is not an election within the meaning" of the constitution.

Among his charges, Hodge had said no provision is made for absentee ballots, that enforcement of legislation is by voter vote and that the authority of elected township officials is suspended during the annual meeting.

Hodge listed his son Walter D. as a student at the Sorbonne University in Paris, as co-plaintiff in the suit.

ABOLISHED BY VOTERS

The annual township meeting, which dates back to 1806 and is one of 11 townships in the county which voted on the issue.

Gordon said in his defense that prohibiting township meetings would deprive citizens "of one of their primary freedoms."

Hodge earlier had filed his suit directly with the State Supreme Court in an effort to get a decision before the Aug. 2 elections.

But the high court refused to take jurisdiction in the matter, and Hodge filed suit in Circuit Court to have the way for a Supreme Court decision.

By state law the annual meeting, held the first Saturday in April, gave township residents a direct vote in local government and the opportunity to elect legislative members.

New Phone Service at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A new telephone service has been placed in operation at the town hall for those residents served by the General Telephone Co.

Residents living in the west section of the township can now call direct to township offices, police and fire departments.

In the past, it was the homes of the 500 persons served by the General Telephone exchange wanted to call the town hall for information they had to call long distance.

The new phone number of the township office is MT 5-1180.

The phone service will be in operation daily. However, officials ask that the system be used only for emergency calls when telephoning after 5 p.m.

After this time the new service is switched over to the homes of the three fire dispatchers who monitor fire calls.

Panel to Discuss Community Schools

Five panelists will take part in a discussion of community schools at the Tuesday meeting of the Avondale Area Parent-Teacher Association Council.

The session which will begin at 8 p.m., will be held at the Niles School on Adams Road.

Those reporting will be William Bishop, legislation chairman of the council; Mrs. Bishop, vice president of the Elmwood School PTA; William Saville, assistant high school principal; Mrs. William U. Porter, board of education member; and Mrs. G. A. Goforth, council president.

The meeting will be open to anyone interested in community schools and all PTA members in the Avondale area.

READY FOR BUSINESS — Francis J. Donohue, left, acting postmaster at Union Lake, discusses the opening of the new post office there tomorrow with mail carrier Eugene Quackenbush. Donohue, 36, has been a postman in Pontiac for eight years. He will be installed to office at a short ceremony, before the building is officially opened at 8:30 a. m. Donohue, recommended for the position by U. S. Rep. William S. Brownfield, R-Oakland County, lives at 651 S. Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township.

New Post Office Opens Doors Saturday

F. J. Donohue Gets Union Lake Post

UNION LAKE — A Pontiac mail carrier will become acting postmaster of the new Union Lake Post Office tomorrow when it opens its doors to the public.

In a brief ceremony, Francis J. Donohue of 651 S. Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township, will take the oath of office shortly before the building is open for service at 8:30 a.m.

Donohue, 36, was recommended to the Post Office Department for the position by U.S. Rep. William S. Brownfield, R-Oakland County, who has already submitted Donohue's name to the Senate for confirmation as postmaster.

A Pontiac postman since 1925, Donohue has held various positions with the National Association of Letter Carriers, branch 238, Pontiac.

He is currently the insurance collector of the organization and in the past was president for three years and financial secretary for two years.

He is also financial secretary of Pontiac Metropolitan Club, Spirit Road, Waterford Township, will take the oath of office shortly before the building is open for service at 8:30 a.m.

A life-long resident of the Union Lake area, Donohue, a bachelor, is a graduate of St. Michael's High School in Pontiac.

Before becoming a career letter carrier Donohue was employed at GMC Truck and Coach and the Pontiac Motor Division.

The new post office is on Cooley Lake Road just west of Union Lake Road. It will serve about 1,500 families living in a three-mile radius of the village.

The local post office service will encompass an area that has been served by the Pontiac, Walled Lake Orchard Lake and Milford post offices.

Built by the Northland Construction Co. of Detroit, the building provides 6,400 square feet of interior space, a 675 square foot loading dock and a hard surfaced parking lot for customers.

Fourteen persons will staff the new post office.

When they arrived last night the fire was raging out of control. Footsteps leading to and running away from the old house were discovered. Tire tracks also were found.

Sherriff's deputies said the footprints were those of an adult.

Suspect Arson in House Blaze

State Marshal Called In to Investigate Fire in Commerce Township

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire that destroyed a 120-year-old, two-story house here last night.

Commerce Fire Chief Clarence Kottkahn said today that the state fire marshal has been summoned to investigate the blaze that burned down the vacant structure at Oakley Park and Martin roads.

The 12-room structure was owned by Albert Richardson of 1118 S. Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township. The building had been condemned and had no value.

When Commerce Township firemen arrived at the scene shortly before midnight it was the second time that day they had been called to the address.

At 3:30 yesterday afternoon the department extinguished a blaze in the living room of the house. However, the damage then was minor.

When they arrived last night the fire was raging out of control. Footsteps leading to and running away from the old house were discovered. Tire tracks also were found.

Sherriff's deputies said the footprints were those of an adult.

$300,000 Addition Closes

OAK PARK — With the long-sought $300,000 addition to the public safety department building up for bids, the project has moved one step closer to reality.

The deadline for receiving bids is Jan. 19 with construction slated to begin sometime next month.

Stymied by voters who three times turned down a special bond issue sought to finance the project the addition legally was made possible last June by the city council's creation of a special 6-member building authority.

Permitted by state law, the building authority will buy the land for the addition from the city will sell the revenue bonds necessary for construction and after awarding contracts to bidders of its choice, will proceed to build a 15,000 square-foot structure.

The city then in turn will lease the building from the authority. The rental payments will be applied to the retirement of the revenue bonds.

When the bonds have been retired the ownership of the building will revert to the city. No additional taxes will be needed to finance the lease payments, City Manager Virgil C. Kowom said.

The increase in state taxes (taxes that the city is now eligible for on the basis of the 1961 census figures) is expected to more than offset the payments, according to Kowom.

Oak Park is the first community in this area to utilize the Authority City-Country Building of the Detroit City-Country Building, two of the Huron's municipal buildings and buildings in Allen Park and Muskegon County have been constructed.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Roy B. Smith, superintendent of the Troy City Schools. He will explain how schools obtain their finances, how school taxes are assessed and what measures reduce taxes in a growing city.

Idea Wins White Lake Man $283 From Edison

A Detroit Edison Co. employee from White Lake Township has won $283 under the company's proposal plan. He is George E. Mynatt, 715 Ravenna Dr., a line man for the company's overhead division in Oakland County.

Mynatt's suggestion will reduce construction costs by more than $1,300 a year, according to Detroit Edison officials.

His proposal substitutes a simple metal frame for a complex wooden structure used in mounting pole-top operating equipment on distribution lines.

When the bonds have been retired the ownership of the building will revert to the city. No additional taxes will be needed to finance the lease payments, City Manager Virgil C. Kowom said.

Oak Park Gets State Aid

OAK PARK — The school district here has received $124,674 as its share of state aid money now being distributed to Michigan schools.

The Carver School District was included in Oak Park in November by the Oakland County Board of Education. The preplanned move was brought about when the entire Carver board of education resigned in September and no board members were elected in the special election there Oct. 26.

Oak Park school officials are handling the finances of the now defunct Carver district separate from their own.

December payments to Oakland County schools will total $2,799,000. Notwithstanding school districts received the following amounts: Berkley, $109,331; Ferndale, $120,441; Hazel Park, $136,590; Royal Oak, $291,629; Southfield, $109,312; Troy, $63,812; and Tawanna, $36,931.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Can you please tell me what causes my one-year-old spayed female German Shepherd to have an awful body odor? Mrs. L. Lemond, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A. I can understand your concern. Body odor would hamper your dog's social life, both among humans and her own friends. There is considerable difference of opinion as to whether or not body odor has any influence on body odor.

I myself believe that it does not. Your dog is undoubtedly suffering from a skin condition which could stem from a poor diet, kidney disorder or some other internal malfunction.

Frequent bathing with deodorant shampoos and administering chlorophyll tablets may help. But a complete physical check up is, in the long run, the quickest way to get at the source of your problem.

Young Men Dominate List of Jaycees Outstanding 10

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce announced the list of the ten outstanding young men of 1960 Thursday, reflecting tribute to youthful leaders in the fields of government, science, newsmaking and sports.

Included are the nation's youngest U. S. assistant attorney general, the Olympic decathlon champion and a young Navy scientist who explored the deepest known parts of the ocean.

The ten men will be honored by the Jaycees at an awards congress in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 13-14.

Judges for the awards included actress Helen Hayes, news commentator Howard K. Smith, Adm. Chester M. Nimitz, missile expert Dr. Werner Von Braun and editorial cartoonist Bill Mauldin.

The ten: Dr. MacArthur Adams, 36, Winchester, Mass., deputy director of Avco research laboratory, who helped make possible the successful re-entry from space of an ICBM missile.

Robert A. Bicks, 33, Washington, D. C., head of the U. S. Justice Department's Antitrust Division. He supervises more than 50 lawyers, economists and clerks and directed 60 antitrust investigations in 1960.

Doyle E. Connor, 32, Starke, Fla., Florida commissioner of agriculture, who was elected to the state legislature while a sophomore in college. At 28 he was speaker of the house.

Richard L. Garwin, 32, Scarsdale, N. Y., associate director of IBM's Watson Laboratory, described as one of the world's foremost physicists.

Rafer L. Johnson, 25, Los Angeles, who shattered the Olympic decathlon record in Rome last year with 8,392 points in the grueling ten-event list.

George Cabot Lodge, 33, Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the international labor organization governing body. He is the son of former U. N. ambassador and unsuccessful GOP vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge.

Harry W. Morgan, 36, St. Paul, Minn., a special assistant to the president, Macalester College, and a pioneer in "people-to-people" diplomacy.

John H. Nelson, 31, Decatur, Ga., a reporter for the Atlanta Constitution, whose reporting has won him many awards, including a Pulitzer Prize for a series exposing shocking conditions at a Georgia mental hospital.

Dr. Robert S. Schwartz, 32, Quincy, Mass., whose research on the puzzling problem of antibody reaction in tissue transplants has provided a new approach to the treatment of certain diseases.

Navy Lt. Don Walsh, 28, San Diego, Calif., who explored the earth's last geographic frontier last January when he plunged nearly seven miles into the ocean's depths southwest of Guam in the bathyscaphe Trieste.

Wife Driving Him to Despair

DEAR ABBY: My wife is 40 and I am 41. We have two children. My wife has had me believe for 22 years that she couldn't drive a car. I had to drive her everywhere she wanted to go.

Now get this. I just found out from a very reliable source that she has been driving 20 miles once a week to meet a certain man while she was supposed to be doing the marketing by bus. I am shocked and sick because a sweeter wife never lived. She was a perfect mother and I never came home to find her gone. What do you think I should do?

liable sources" are reliable.) If she's been living a double life, put aside your own hurt and bitterness and do what is best for your family. Forgive her. And having forgiven her—don't mention it again.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man who is five feet, five, I am marrying a girl who is exactly my height in her stocking feet. When we would go anywhere she'd wear flats because it bothered her to be a little taller than I. It never bothered me, and for my part, she could have worn high heels.

We are being married soon, and she wants to wear high heels for her wedding. This is little with me, but here's the catch. She wants me to get a pair of thosephony elevated shoes. I told her I wouldn't do it. Do you think I am wrong?

FIVE FEET FIVE

DEAR FIVE: No, I think you're right. If she wants to start her married life on the level, tell her to come down to earth. But don't surrender your masculinity by inches.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is people who "drop by" just before dinnertime and hang around waiting to be invited to join you for dinner.

Well, his "friend" pulled that hanging around stunt once too often. We usually eat at 6:30, but I waited until 7:30. The children even complained in front of him that they were hungry, but he didn't move.

I finally asked him if he had his dinner. He said, "No." So I said, "Well, you had better go home and get it because we are eating now." He left and we haven't seen him since. Was I too blunt?

NOBODY'S FOOL

DEAR NOBODY'S FOOL: Slightly. You could have achieved the same result by saying, "Will you please excuse us while we have our dinner." The man may have little sense, but he probably has feelings.

Jackie Wins Over Jack

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy tops the best-dressed in the world of women's fashions, but her president-elect husband in low man on some clothes designers' totem pole.

The lovely first lady-to-be was selected Thursday night by the New York Couture Group, Inc., to head the list of the world's 12 best-dressed women. Couture annually consults some 2,500 style experts and society leaders before announcing the winners.

It was the first appearance on the list for Mrs. Kennedy.

The wife of the president-elect is a tall, slender brunette with a model's figure and with a clothes-horse knack that would have her looking chic in a burlesque bag.

Her clothes tastes tend to simple and uncluttered silhouettes, to sleeveless dresses, to neatly buttoned coats and to bright colors.

She wears her hair in a bouffant style already being copied by models and other women. She usually is hatless, but recent photos showing her wearing a small pillbox on the back of her head have pillow shapes being revived throughout spring millinery collection.

As for the president-elect, his current supply of suits

was viewed with some anxiety by members of the International Association of Clothing Designers who gathered at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Thursday for their 50th annual convention.

SOME OPINIONS

Some opinions on Kennedy's dress: His coat lapels are of the old-fashioned, wide variety. The shoulders of his suits are much too broad.

There are only two buttons on his jacket and the two buttons are too low on the suit.

LOUIS SCALISE, convention general chairman and vice president of Witty Brothers, said suits worn by Kennedy not only are out of style in America but on the international scene as well.

But Ben D. Coppersmith, designer for Society Brand clothes, sees things in a brighter trade light. He said Kennedy might bring back the two button coat.

BACK TO WOMEN

Getting back to the girls: After Mrs. Kennedy, the official 1960 list of best-dressed among the world's women names the following:

Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes, of Paris.
Mrs. Norman K. Winston, of

New York and Paris.
Domena Marella Agnelli, of Turin, Italy.

Mrs. Loel Guinness, of Paris and Palm Beach.
Mrs. Patrick Guinness, of Lausanne, Switzerland, daughter of Mrs. Loel Guinness.

Princess Alexandra of Kent, daughter of the Duchess of Kent.

Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, of New York.

Mrs. David K. Bruce, of Washington.

Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, of Paris and New York.

Queen Sirikit of Thailand.

You a Bad Hostess?
Read Over This List

By RUTH MILLETT

Your guests aren't going to be happy if—

You invite them for dinner without warning that they are to be captive audience and spend the evening watching movies or slides, with a commentary something like this: "Something happened to my light meter when I took this roll, but I'll show it to you, anyway."

You invite people who love to talk to your home and then turn the hi-fi up so loud that they can't even hear themselves think, much less carry on a conversation.

You ask friends up in your weekend cabin and announce after they arrive that you've planned to paint the cabin, saw enough logs to last all winter, clear out the brush, or tackle some other job you figure the guests can pitch in and help you do.

You invite guests for "supper at seven" and are such a relaxed hostess they can't get around to serving before 10 or 11.

You invite a few bored to your party and let them ruin the evening for the other guests simply because you couldn't face an evening of having the bored by themselves.

You insist on guests you know are dining having second servings of rich food and refuse to take "No" for an answer.

You act as though drop-in guests have come to your house just to watch TV and keep the set turned on all evening, paying a lot more attention to it than you do to your visitors.

If you'd like to be (or have) a happier wife, order your copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "Happier Wives: (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service c/o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 488, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Accept the Past, Then Grow Up, Be Adult

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
I am a widow and a year ago when my daughter broke up with her husband, and my little grandson came to live with me. It is not working out. I can't do anything right for the boy.

Sometimes I've thought she was jealous of his affection for me, but it's worse than that. She blames me for her bad marriage. Last weekend she said she had never forgiven me for marrying her stepfather and had married herself to get away from home.

I don't know how much more I can stand.

Answer: "The idea that we could have behaved differently than we did at some point in the past presupposes that the individual was full-grown and completed from his very beginning."

It seems that wisdom is not a matter of growth but something that came predestinated and automatic.

"Only when the individual can genuinely accept the inevitability of the past—that's who I was and that's what made it possible—can he free himself from the past, begin to grow and really change."

I heard these words spoken this week by Dr. Bernard Zuger at a meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis. They are your past aroused by your daughter's reproaches.

Under pressure by painful consequences of their own past behavior, grown children will sometimes blame us for these consequences. Like your daughter, they will try to make us feel miserable and guilty because they cannot bear the burden of their own guilt and misery.

At these times they need our example of unembarrassed self-acceptance above all else. For their guilt and misery is their indirect way of expressing their rage at their inability to be wiser than they could be.

It is their way of insisting that we should have given birth to finished people with nothing to learn, no wrong answers to correct, no growth to make. If we are accepting our own continuing incompleteness, we are not disturbed by the child's rage at his own inability to be wiser than we are. They are new in an old bottle that can resist our understanding of the Christian statement: "Follow me, and let the dead bury the dead." They are profoundly religious life-supporting, life-welcoming words that I cannot not only to you but to your daughter.

Florida Trip Follows Nuptials

BARBARA ANN DUNLAP

The Richard D. Dunlaps of White Lake Township announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Ann to Robert J. Bemman, son of the Kurt Bemmans of Ivy Street. Wedding plans are incomplete.

Voters Tend to Business at Gathering

Communications from Mrs. Howard Lichtenman, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Christian Science Monitor were read by Mrs. Claire J. Hinkley, secretary.

Mrs. Humphries, Doris Walker, Mrs. Donovan Gilmore and Mrs. Elmer R. Johnson will make arrangements for the group's annual dinner meeting March 22.

The next membership meeting will be at 7:45 Jan. 25 in the Young Women's Christian Association building. Any Krueger will be in charge of the program entitled "Metropolitan Problems."

The next board meeting is slated Feb. 7 at the Community Services Building.

Invitation to the Meal Is Proper

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: Last evening my husband was delayed at the office and as a result we had a rather late dinner. While we were eating, unexpected visitors arrived.

I asked them to please wait in the living room while we finished eating. When I got back to the table, my husband was quite put out with me and said that I was very discourteous to our guests for not asking them to join us.

Will you please tell me if I was rude?

Answer: It would have been much more courteous if you had explained that because your husband was delayed at the office you were still at dinner, but would they come to the table and have coffee with you.

Question: My sister recently had her furniture reupholstered and she has clear plastic covers over the chairs for protection. She keeps them on all the time, even when she has guests. I told her that they should be removed when she is expecting guests as it is not very complimentary to them and that a sensitive guest could easily consider this an insult.

She thinks it is perfectly all right to keep them on. Should she remove the plastic covers when guests are expected?

Answer: The plastic covers should be removed before the arrival of expected guests.

Question: I have a friend who has a very annoying habit of standing so close to me. She just can't stand to see a loose hair or a piece of lint on anyone's clothing without picking it off. It is a phobia with her.

I suppose she thinks she is doing the person a good turn by doing this, but in my opinion, it is very bad manners and is embarrassing to the person. Isn't this an improper thing to do?

Answer: It is not proper, and if you know her well enough to do so, and you don't think it will offend her, it will really be a kindness to speak to her about it.

The Emily Post Institute is sorry it cannot answer personal mail.

Flabby abdomen: The scissors exercise is one answer. Lie on your back with your arms resting by your sides, raising your right leg to right angles to your body. As you lower your right leg, raise your left. Do not touch the floor.

Underweight Person Desperate

Cream Can Add to Weight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Can you tell me how to gain about 15 pounds? I have tried every way I know, tried seriously and faithfully, but didn't gain a pound. I am 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall and weight 110 pounds."

A. I am sure that you know you must have plenty of sleep but here are a few suggestions you may not have tried. Drink at least three or four glasses of milk daily and add a little cream to each glass.

Do not try to stuff yourself on high-calorie foods and don't overlook fresh fruits and vegetables. These build up your intake of essential vitamins. Supplements of vitamin B complex seem to be helpful. Ask your doctor about this.

Mild exercise is an aid in gaining weight. A walk daily is relaxing and increases the appetite. Swimming twice a week at your local YWCA is a good idea.

If you smoke, cut down on it or better, give it up for a gain of weight.

FLABBY ABDOMEN

Q. "I have a very flabby abdomen. Is this because I am overweight? What can I do to get rid of this condition? I hate it! I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 121 pounds. My measurements are bust 35 inches, waist 25 and hips 36."

A. You certainly do not need to lose weight. You are about 15 pounds underweight since if you have a small build, if you have a medium frame, you are around 16 pounds underweight. Exercise is the answer to your problem. Take abdominal exercises.

If you or any of my readers would like to have my exercises for the abdomen send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "Will sleeping on my back make it sag?"

A. It certainly seems to me that it would in time flatten the bust.

Q. "Is there a doctor who recommends fat from the abdomen?"

A. Plastic surgeons sometimes perform this operation when there is real need for it. However, why not lose the fat through diet and exercise? This can be done without surgery.

Q. "There seems to be a difference in opinion about whether or not alcoholic drinks cause one to gain weight. What is the truth about this?"

A. Alcoholic drinks are high in calorie count and therefore add weight. For instance, one ounce of gin has about 75 calories and one ounce of bourbon about 85 calories.

Surprise Party Honors Couple's Silver Wedding

A surprise dancing party on New Year's Eve at the home of the Joan F. Devlin of Paramus Street, Clarkston, honored her parents the William R. Johnsons of Meyers Road, Dryden Plains on their silver wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Merie W. Merriam of Starr Avenue, sister-in-law of Mrs. Johnson, shared honors.

Among the 27 guests were the couple's son Richard, Independence Township Supervisor and Mrs. Duane Hurlstall of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lukacs of Union Lake and the Knute H. Nelsons of Auburn Heights, who attended the Johnsons at their wedding.

Discuss Junior Miss Contest

Plans for Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce's Junior Miss contest was discussed by auxiliary members Wednesday evening at Rotunda Inn.

Members will furnish refreshments and serve as hostesses for the contest. A preliminary report on the project was given by Mrs. Richard Jorgensen.

The group also heard reports on various Christmas projects, including the children's party at Adah Society Library. A suggestion was made that the family which received a basket at Christmas be remembered with a similar gift at Easter.

The auxiliary has received an invitation to attend the Waterford auxiliary meeting Jan. 17 and a meeting in Lake Orion Jan. 12.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Thomas Roe, new member.

St. Dunstan's Yearly Affair Is Coming

By MARY ELLEN MEAD

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "The Pavilion," out on Lone Elm Road, is about to be decked in gold and turquoise splendor, such formality keynoting St. Dunstan's annual black tie dinner dance.

The party will take place Jan. 21 and committee members working on arrangements include Mrs. David Raymond, Mrs. Charles Himehoch, Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. Frank McCartney and Mrs. Harry L. Winston, Jr.

Incidentally, Mrs. Winston's sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert L. Ruben, with 3-month-old Philip, will not return to her home in Geneva, Switzerland, until the end of the month.

Accompanied by Mr. Ruben, who flew back Wednesday, they arrived early in December to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winston, seniors of Aspen Road, among those who entertained for the couple before Mr. Ruben left were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Bahr. They were hosts at cocktail Monday in their home in Birmingham.

Another farewell cocktail party took place Monday when Mrs. Robert L. Graham-Jones, of Lone Elm Road, entertained in honor of her sister Julie Ott, who returned to New York Tuesday.

Doris (Mrs. Graham), and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster are getting organized on Cranbrook "Mardi Gras" next program scheduled for Jan. 24, but in the meantime they're also interested in a guest arriving at Cranbrook Jan. 25.

His Excellency Count K. Knuth-Winterfeldt, Danish ambassador to Washington, will be here that day to open an exhibit, "Two Centuries of Danish Deep Sea Research," slated as part of the Members Day Program sponsored by the Institute of Science. The exhibit was opened in Washington in October by King Leopold, then went to Harvard. This will be the last showing in this country.

Other new exhibits will also be on display, and at 8 p.m. there will be a reception in the auditorium accompanied by the showing of a film entitled "Introducing the Institute."

A special subscription dinner honoring the count will be given earlier in the evening at Kingsley Inn.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold R. Roehm, of Lone Elm Road, are leaving Jan. 12 to spend a long weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Birch, of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Grandchildren who will be on top to greet them include Lucille, Ellen, Christy and Meg.

Dr. Roehm's sister, Miss Carol Roehm, of Rockport, Mass., is doing some visiting too — right here in town. She arrived for the holidays to be a guest of Mrs. Earl W. May, of Birmingham, and will remain until the middle of the month.

This is a "pilot plant" at Shell's Emeryville Research Center near San Francisco—it is one of many that help Shell scientists to find new and better ways of making gasoline.

BULLETIN:

Shell discloses the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell—and the remarkable things they do to give your car top performance

Super Shell gasoline, with nine ingredients, is now in Pontiac. Today's formula contains cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate—a new, improved version of TCP. Read how this patented additive increases mileage, releases power, and helps your car give top performance

TODAY, every Shell dealer in this area has remarkable Super Shell in his pumps.

A notice on each Super Shell pump promises that this gasoline will give your car top performance. Shell's scientists want you to know why they can make this promise.

Ingredient #1 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Super Shell now contains an even better version of this famous additive. Its chemical name is cresyl-diphenyl phosphate.

TCP additive can give your car up to* 15 per cent more power, up to 17 extra miles per tankful, and can make plugs last up to twice as long.

New TCP does this by neutralizing certain harmful effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also to keep them from diverting your spark—a major cause of "missing."

Ingredient #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900 degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #3 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this outstanding high octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—the ingredient that took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: The engine in your car may frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7 at cruising speed. Think of this next time you are passing on the highway.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400-feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather. Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick start dose.

Ingredient #6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Ingredient #7 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.

Ingredient #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

Ingredient #9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

A BULLETIN FROM SHELL RESEARCH — where 1,997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

Shell test driver checks top performance in a specially instrumented car. Stop watches, speedometers, gauges and tachometers enable every detail of performance to be recorded and checked. The knowledge gained helps Shell scientists to plan ahead of engine developments—and leads to constantly improving products. The new, improved TCP in today's Super Shell is a typical result of such continuous research.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889112

Central's Food Classes Popular With Boys

34 Take Course 'for Men Only'

Started by Learning
'Basics'; Now Doing
Desserts, Specials

By BARBARA GRIFFIN
Thirty-four boys at Pontiac Central have become interested and proficient in the art of cooking this semester in Marilyn Pair's two foods classes—for men only.

This is the first type of special instruction for boys. Previously the cooking classes have been dominated by girls.

The boys began learning to cook by starting with breakfast eggs, toast and cocoa.

They have progressed through lunches and dinners and are now working on desserts and special foods.

The "Chefs" have shown off their skill by inviting friends and teachers into the foods room to sample their finished products.

Besides cooking at least once a week the classes study nutrition, plan and figure costs, and do some of their own buying. Of course, they like cooking best of all.

The boys have no particular problems in the kitchen.

However, it is difficult for them to plan ahead and judge how long a certain job will take. They are quite efficient and do a good job of cleaning up.

KOOKIE COOKIES — Any talk around Pontiac Central about a swiggy dish has got to mean only one thing — the boys' cooking class. When this combi is cooking on all four burners, the results are nothing but the best. Turning out a batch of cookies are (from left) Barry Whittaker, 16; Richard Branner, 18; Milton Simmons, 18; and Robert Harper, 17.

one class where a pupil can eat his final exam, and a poor grade can really lead to indigestion.

One of Toughest High School Team Sports Is Not Athletic

Some of the fiercest competition between Pontiac area high schools involves teams that never have a field to play on.

For these teams, the field of play is a conference table.

Their tools are words and thoughts. Their weapon is logic. Their success often lies in team work, presentation and timing.

As with all competing teams, their reward is victory.

We are speaking of the many high school debate teams in this area.

The two Pontiac high school teams are currently moving into a month that may make them champions or also-rans.

Both the Central and Northern debaters have key contests in their respective "leagues" this month.

But whatever the outcome locally, there will be a stronger test ahead—and with it a bigger reward.

During the period of Feb. 8-10, under the auspices of the Michigan High School Forensic Association, 25 district elimination tournaments for high school debate teams will be held throughout Michigan.

All schools participating in the statewide debate program are eligible to enter the elimination series, according to Vernon L. Cabbage, state manager of the association.

Regional title eliminations, Feb. 20-25, are expected to draw at least 150 schools.

Regional champs will vie for honors in the State Championship Debates in Ann Arbor April 22.

Regional champs will also be eligible to nominate one debater to enter the $2,800 college scholarship contest slated for May 12.

There are only two classes of schools: Class A (over 500 students) and Class B (under 500 students).

The deadline for schools to register for the spring forensics activities is Jan. 15.

Categories will include oratory, elocution, extemporaneous speaking, humorous and interpretative reading.

Approximately 7,000 students participated last year in more than 2,000 individual spring forensics contests.

Avondale Club Has First Event

Skiers Hold Workout
at Mt. Holly; Prep for First Big Meet

By BILL DEVEREAUX
The Avondale High School ski club is enjoying a busy season with plenty of ideal weather for skiing.

The group consists of approximately 35 students and two sponsors.

The club held the first meeting Dec. 15 of the winter just before Christmas vacation.

Club members went to Mt. Holly and spent the afternoon practicing various skiing techniques.

The beginners found it interesting to go up the tow ropes—and several found it "interesting" to come down.

Avondale, along with 17 other schools in this area, is taking part in an inter-scholastic competitive skiing program this winter. The first meet will be held at Mt. Holly on Saturday, Jan. 21.

There will be 15 students picked from the club to be on this team.

There has been a ski club at Avondale for the past four years.

The sponsors, Roy Maloung and George Pollen, are expert skiers and are assisting the instruction of the student participants.

But if that over-excited fan just

Chair director Jerry Libby announced this week that Central's vocal quartet had been accepted in the state honors choir, directed by Ramsey Stone, formerly of Central Michigan University.

The quartet is made up of Miltie Schroeder, soprano; Edwina Shelley, alto; David Austin, tenor; and Tom Murphy, bass.

They auditioned during the first week of December at Pontiac Northern.

Future Homemakers are planning an ice skating party Jan. 17 at Sylvan Lake.

After eating, they will return to the home economics room where they will make pizza. Shirley Lipard is chairman of this party.

The student council is sponsoring Central's part in the city-wide used clothing drive to be held starting Jan. 16.

Name 4 Northern Students to State Honors Choir

By DIANE M. WALTER
Among those who worked to bring the true spirit of the holiday season to Pontiac Northern High School were members of the vocal and instrumental music departments.

However, in the midst of holiday concerts and assemblies the vocal department had other events to plan and rehearse for.

After much work, four students passed a big test and faced an even bigger challenge.

Pam Iluntly, Bonnie Plummer, Mal Dewart and Bill Ramsey were selected as a quartet to represent Pontiac Northern in the state honors choir.

They were chosen from quartets representing schools throughout Michigan.

The honors choir, mainly a performing group, is under the direction of Bernard Stone of Jackson.

The honors choir plans to give performances on several occasions in the spring, culminating with a performance for the Michigan Music Education Conference to be held at Michigan State University in May.

The purpose of the group is to allow some of the fine young high school singers of the state have the opportunity to perform, with other students of comparable ability, music of very high caliber under a conductor of distinction.

New quartets audition for the honors choir each year by singing a selected song as a capella.

This year's selection was "Call Government Official, Nel" by Victoria and arranged by Wilbousky.

The vocalists must also demonstrate to become eligible for honors choir.

Melvin Larimer, vocal music director of Pontiac Northern, said: "We are very proud to have a quartet which is able to represent us in this truly fine honors choir."

In the field of communications and arts, college preparatory seniors recently visited the Detroit Institute of Art.

At present, they are making a special study of art, and the visit enabled them to acquaint themselves with the great masterpieces available and exhibited in the institute.

The trip enlightened the students to the type and style of art at different periods in history.

College Cost Estimates Indicate Upward Trend

Based on figures of the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare it is estimated that the average annual cost per student in Ivy League Colleges will be more than $3,500 by 1965.

The same figures call for an average cost of more than $1,100 per student in state colleges in the U.S. by 1965.

It's New Year's at St. Fred's

Japanese Setting Will Prevail at Tonight's School Dance

By MARY ELLEN DETMER
St. Frederick High School will shine tonight as students are planning a big Japanese New Year's Dance.

All the holiday confusion seems to have died down and most of the students, quite wearily, settled back for more studies Tuesday.

But joyfully the juniors and sophomores enthusiastically assisted in complete plans for tonight's dance. And glee festivities of a Japanese New Year predominate the scene.

Fortune, cookies, Japanese lanterns, and floor cushions donated for the refreshments and decorations.

Some surprise entertainment will be presented to complete the evening.

Heading the plans as general chairman is Lynn Ford. Helping him direct are other committee chairmen: Sue Palmer, Mike Seery, Tom LaLonde, Charlie Dean, Mary Yonker, and Judy Fitzpatrick.

A candy sale is the present senior activity. In order to produce a senior play in the spring the class treasury must have enough funds for directors, props, and other items.

Plans are almost completed with hopes for a successful sale around mid-January.

A busy student council is at work again after a slight rest during Christmas vacation. This time it goes to students on their errands.

Earlier a motion was offered to present a Career Day. At their weekly meeting Tuesday suggestions were formulated for a Career Day Panel.

Various professions will be represented by a doctor, a lawyer, and physical therapist.

More people are being contacted for this panel as letters and representatives of the student council are requesting other professional people to come for the panel.

The panel is slated to appear at a student assembly early in February.

Teen-Agers Pay Up

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 5 — One of the city's larger department stores, Walder Scott Co., has been extending charge accounts to teenagers for three years. It reports: "They have set a substantially better payment record than adults."

Three Clubs Formed at Walled Lake

By MIKRON MURDY
This year three new clubs have been formed at Walled Lake High School.

Students have their choice of a trampolining club, the girls' bowling team, secretary, and the Walled Lake chess club.

The Trampoline Club is under the sponsorship of Bruce Trimmer. This club meets every Saturday morning in the gym.

The club put on its first exhibition at the winter sports assembly with Barb Bouy, Sue Bosler, Gale Murray, Sylvia Richie, Wes Cottrell, Bob Gill, Mike McMillon, and Rick Morphet demonstrating some of the basic trampolining skills.

Wes Cottrell is president, Barb Bouy is secretary, and Sue Lane is treasurer.

Members of the club also plan to perform during halftime at home basketball games.

The Girls' Bowling League is another newly organized group. Jerry Shelata and Joseph Malonis are the sponsors.

Officers of the club are Cheryl Patton, president; Jackie Brandenburg, secretary; Janet Rehak, treasurer.

The club bowls every Thursday after school at Maple Lanes Bowling Alley in Walled Lake.

Walled Lake's Chess Club has received an invitation to join the Greater Detroit Chess League of Secondary Schools.

Clint Mayer and Bill Conell, two student members, recently attended a meeting of this league in Detroit. Other members and the club's sponsor, Bruce Trimmer, are contemplating joining.

Those with top ranking in the order in which they rank this week are Mike VanderVelde, Lee Alden, Mike Giordano, Eric Beaupre, Tom Myers, Dan Chaud and Lynn VanderVelde.

Study Shows Value of Scholarships

Recent national studies by the U.S. Office of Education indicate that there are approximately 1,100,000 worth of college scholarships available to students in the U.S. each year making the average scholarship worth roughly $145.

Educators estimate this represents approximately 680,000 annual scholarships.

All scholarships available to high school students each year amount to just 5 per cent of the students' aggregate annual bill for higher education, according to the studies.

Doctors Favor Driver Training

Urge National Adoption of Courses Like Those in Pontiac High Schools

Pontiac high school students have long been aware of the excellent driver training courses offered at both Central and Avondale.

Since their introduction several years ago, the courses have proven that the training of young drivers holds a significant position in an otherwise academic curriculum.

This theory is gaining national acceptance fast.

Orthopedic surgeons making a study of these courses told the American Medical Association at its recent annual meeting in Washington, D.C., that universal adoption of behind-the-wheel driver training in high schools could reduce teen-age traffic accidents by half.

The doctors reported that 45 per cent of all deaths in the 15-25 age group each year resulted from traffic accidents.

Nearly 30 per cent involved in fatal accidents are under 25, the doctors said.

They urged state laws requiring high school driver training as a prerequisite for licensing teen-age drivers.

NEA Sets School Enrollment at 37.2 Million

Enrollment in public elementary and secondary schools in the current year has reached 37.2 million, an increase of 1.2 million over last year, according to the National Education Association annual report.

Enrollment in elementary schools, the report shows, is up 22.9 per cent in the last 10 years, but high school enrollment is up 76.8 per cent, for an overall increase of 44.1 per cent.

The school-age population (5 to 17 years) has been growing 8 1/2 times as fast as the general population. This year almost of every four in the total population is in the school-age group.

The instructional staff in the schools grew to 1,526,079, this year of whom 1,408,562 are classroom teachers. The number of classroom teachers represents a gain of 51.9 per cent over the number in 1950-51.

Throughout the period 1950-51 to 1960-61 the percentage of teachers with emergency certificates has remained relatively constant at 10.7.

The number grew from 75,079 to 83,517, but the percentage figure fell from 8.1 to 6.7.

W. Bloomfield Goes Nuts When Sally Newton Struts

By CAROL MAYN
Most people who get too lively and excited at sports events, usually end up being escorted from the premises.

But if that over-excited fan just happens to be female, and very cute, and say about 5 years old, well that's how it all started at West Bloomfield Township High School.

Last year when the basketball games at West Bloomfield were in progress, the cheerleaders noticed him lively and excited. Sally Newton was during the games.

So, Sally was recruited and is the Junior Varsity Cheerleader mascot this year.

She succeeds the 1959-60 mascot Heidi Hughes, whose older sister, Candy, was a Junior Varsity Cheerleader.

Sally is by kindergarten at Sweth Elementary School. She has long curly brown hair and brown eyes.

Her cheerleading uniform consists of a green jumper made by her mother, a white roll-up sleeve blouse, white socks, and white tennis shoes.

All the basketball fans here rally because she has so much pep and is a good cheerleader. The students cheerleaders and their tries to do what they do.

But if that over-excited fan just happens to be female, and very cute, and say about 5 years old, well that's how it all started at West Bloomfield Township High School.

Last year when the basketball games at West Bloomfield were in progress, the cheerleaders noticed him lively and excited. Sally Newton was during the games.

So, Sally was recruited and is the Junior Varsity Cheerleader mascot this year.

She succeeds the 1959-60 mascot Heidi Hughes, whose older sister, Candy, was a Junior Varsity Cheerleader.

Sally is by kindergarten at Sweth Elementary School. She has long curly brown hair and brown eyes.

Her cheerleading uniform consists of a green jumper made by her mother, a white roll-up sleeve blouse, white socks, and white tennis shoes.

Chair director Jerry Libby announced this week that Central's vocal quartet had been accepted in the state honors choir, directed by Ramsey Stone, formerly of Central Michigan University.

The quartet is made up of Miltie Schroeder, soprano; Edwina Shelley, alto; David Austin, tenor; and Tom Murphy, bass.

They auditioned during the first week of December at Pontiac Northern.

Future Homemakers are planning an ice skating party Jan. 17 at Sylvan Lake.

After eating, they will return to the home economics room where they will make pizza. Shirley Lipard is chairman of this party.

The student council is sponsoring Central's part in the city-wide used clothing drive to be held starting Jan. 16.

However, in the midst of holiday concerts and assemblies the vocal department had other events to plan and rehearse for.

After much work, four students passed a big test and faced an even bigger challenge.

Pam Iluntly, Bonnie Plummer, Mal Dewart and Bill Ramsey were selected as a quartet to represent Pontiac Northern in the state honors choir.

They were chosen from quartets representing schools throughout Michigan.

The honors choir, mainly a performing group, is under the direction of Bernard Stone of Jackson.

The honors choir plans to give performances on several occasions in the spring, culminating with a performance for the Michigan Music Education Conference to be held at Michigan State University in May.

The purpose of the group is to allow some of the fine young high school singers of the state have the opportunity to perform, with other students of comparable ability, music of very high caliber under a conductor of distinction.

New quartets audition for the honors choir each year by singing a selected song as a capella.

This year's selection was "Call Government Official, Nel" by Victoria and arranged by Wilbousky.

The vocalists must also demonstrate to become eligible for honors choir.

Melvin Larimer, vocal music director of Pontiac Northern, said: "We are very proud to have a quartet which is able to represent us in this truly fine honors choir."

In the field of communications and arts, college preparatory seniors recently visited the Detroit Institute of Art.

At present, they are making a special study of art, and the visit enabled them to acquaint themselves with the great masterpieces available and exhibited in the institute.

The trip enlightened the students to the type and style of art at different periods in history.

College Cost Estimates Indicate Upward Trend

Based on figures of the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare it is estimated that the average annual cost per student in Ivy League Colleges will be more than $3,500 by 1965.

The same figures call for an average cost of more than $1,100 per student in state colleges in the U.S. by 1965.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 5 — One of the city's larger department stores, Walder Scott Co., has been extending charge accounts to teenagers for three years. It reports: "They have set a substantially better payment record than adults."

Study Shows Value of Scholarships

Recent national studies by the U.S. Office of Education indicate that there are approximately 1,100,000 worth of college scholarships available to students in the U.S. each year making the average scholarship worth roughly $145.

Educators estimate this represents approximately 680,000 annual scholarships.

All scholarships available to high school students each year amount to just 5 per cent of the students' aggregate annual bill for higher education, according to the studies.

Official Advocates Better Radar Airplane Control

NEW YORK (AP)—A top federal aviation official says a better system of radar plane control is desirable, but presently there are insufficient airport personnel and radar scopes to do the job.

David Thomas, director of the Federal Aviation Agency's Bureau of Air Traffic Management, testified Thursday at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing into the collision of a United Airlines DC-7 jet and a Trans World Airlines Constellation. The Dec. 16 crash killed 134 persons, including six on the ground.

The hearing resumes today. Thomas advocated a system under which planes would be kept under continuous radar surveillance from the time they neared the airport until they were on the ground.

At present, Thomas said, the big drawback in radar was that it afforded no information on a plane's altitude. A plane going into a circling, he said, became a blip merging with other altitudes. There currently is no way to retain identification of the plane, he added.

OBSERVE PLANES

In the Dec. 16 crash, La Guardia Airport observed on radar both the jet and the Constellation. The jet, the TWA plane, which was headed for La Guardia.

Thomas said radar hand-offs "require extreme concentration and accuracy," and that more radars and radar scopes must be produced before results.

Concerning the equipment at Idlewild and La Guardia, Thomas said he was not satisfied with it. He termed it "the best equipment available at the present," adding: "We're hoping for better tools."

Other testimony disclosed that the United jet apparently was in radio contact with ground control just 14 seconds before aviation history's worst accident.

Expect Belgians to Compromise

Report Negotiations On to End 18-Day Strike Led by Socialists

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—A face-saving compromise appeared shaping up today to end the 18-day wave of turbulent Socialist-led strikes that has brought Belgium close to chaos.

An informant close to the Socialist party leadership said negotiations were under way and "the end is near."

Premier Gaston Eyskens' Catholic-led government pushed for parliamentary approval of its austerity program that touched off the strikes. But Eyskens was reported considering calling early elections—a year ahead of time—immediately after adoption of the economic reform bill.

Young King Baudouin, who cut short his Spanish honeymoon after the crisis developed, was playing a leading role in the strike maneuvers.

LOBBING MOMENTUM

The momentum of the strikes, which have led to one death and lost production and property damage, was clearly leading toward a Socialist victory in the stronghold of Liege and the Charleroi industrial belt, where the workers are traditionally militant, there were general signs of national weariness over the dispute.

The Socialist leadership itself showed mounting concern at the riotous turn the demonstrations have taken. They blamed the violence on outsiders and police tactics in scattering parades.

But Andre Renard, minister of the strike leaders, showed no sign of compromise. He appealed today to strikers in the Liege region not to return to their jobs. Nearly 100,000 are on strike there.

Demonstrations continued. Two Socialist members of Parliament led 3,500 strikers through the streets of Ghent and spoke to them in a hall.

NOBLE, Okla. (UPI)—A hen owned by D. B. Compton, a farmer living near here, appears to be trying to tell us something. She lays initialed eggs.

Compton said she had laid eight or ten such eggs. Among them are some which bear marks recognizable as the letters S, I and C, and one that is either a capital E or a small G.

Yeti Scalp Returned to Nepal Worshippers

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The yeti scalp got back to the Kham monastery on the promised day after being taken on a 30,000-mile round-the-world trip by sky-land Western explorers.

Thousands of sherpas cheered and offered prayers of thanks for the safe return of the relic as a U.S. helicopter landed with it in the Himalayan slope near the monastery. Buddhist lamas blew conch shells and long horns made human bones.

Sir Edmund Hillary accompanied the scalp. He had borrowed from the reluctant Sherpas for a one-month inspection by experts in Chicago, London and Paris to determine if it came from a yeti, the legendary Abominable Snowman of the Himalayas.

Inclement weather forced the helicopter back to Katmandu Wednesday, putting Hillary in a tight spot since the return of the scalp had been promised for Thursday. Then the weather broke, and he made it on time.

The Western experts agreed the scalp was ancient but they discounted its connection with the elusive yeti. One said it might have come from a rare animal. Hillary himself says he does not believe the Abominable Snowman exists, and some members of his expedition called the scalp an outright fake.

Second 4H Agent for County Gets Tentative OK

Steps toward a second 4H agent for Oakland County appeared to have cleared one hurdle yesterday when tentative approval was voiced by the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors.

The request for $2,700 in county funds toward the agent's $6,200 salary—the rest to be paid by the state—was urged by the cooperative extension service committee of the board.

Past attempts had failed. Assurances from the committee that the new agent would be used exclusively for 4H work in the county apparently helped sell Chairman David Levinson's ways and means committee, which in the past opposed the appropriation.

His committee moved to approve the $2,700 allocation subject to the approval of the board's salaries committee.

Wants Parishioners to Peek Into Closets

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Richard White, St. John's Episcopal churchman, asked worshippers to "take a peek into your closets and see if you have any children's vestments that have been put away and overlooked."

Tot Awarded Cash After TV Explosion

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Two-year-old Colleen Kille was awarded $3,350 damages Thursday for the $100,000 television picture tube exploded in her living room.

Slow Choosing Jury
in Third Finch Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The third Finch murder trial, interrupted by a case of flu, may be dragging through late January before a jury is even selected.

Thursday's session was canceled when Maxwell Keith, attorney for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, pleaded the case and said he was suffering from influenza. He said he expected to be able to return today.

More than one-third the passenger automobiles in the United States are more than 10 years old, and almost 2 per cent are 19 or more years old.

One Is Optimistic, the Other Is Worried

Lke and JFK Reflect on U.S. Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sunny and sober.

Those two words spell one of the basic differences between President Eisenhower and President-elect Kennedy.

The elderly—70-year-old—Eisenhower appears to have a sunny optimistic outlook. The young—43-year-old—Kennedy is not pessimistic but appears to take a much more sober view of the world.

Three stories, which moved within an hour of one another on Associated Press wires, point up the difference.

During the presidential campaign, Kennedy complained the American economy was dragging its feet, needed to grow faster. Eisenhower has appeared rather satisfied with the rate of growth. A number of economists agreed with Kennedy.

NPA SPEAKS

Yesterday at 4:38 p.m. the AP moved a story saying the National Planning Association—which describes itself as a nonprofit, non-political organization—teamed up on Kennedy's side, called for faster growth.

Trying to accomplish this is going to be one of Kennedy's toughest tasks.

At 5:30 p.m. the AP carried another story out of Washington. This one, basing its information on "authoritative sources," said Eisenhower would send Congress a budget which at this moment looks very sunny, indeed.

The country is in a recession, the fourth since World War II, and just preventing its getting worse calls for strenuous efforts by Kennedy's new administration.

REBUTTAL TALKS

If it does get worse, Kennedy may have to take sterner steps.

The President's budget is his estimate of how much spending should be for the fiscal year starting July 1 and how much the government will collect from revenue to offset the spending.

Eisenhower figures the AP said, that if Congress votes to spend no more than he suggests, then at the end of the fiscal year (June 30, 1962) the government revenue will be $600 million more than its expenses.

But this is based on a happy view of the future: The belief that the recession will get no worse and that a gradual recovery will begin in the next few weeks.

This is contrary to the way most economists see it.

Just 10 minutes after the AP finished moving the Eisenhower budget story it moved another—a bulletin out of New York where Kennedy is staying until his inauguration Jan. 20.

This one started off: "President-Elect John F. Kennedy tonight received study committee recommendations for swift emergency measures to combat the business slump. The group also urged temporary tax cuts if the situation turns a great deal worse in the spring."

The study group, appointed by Kennedy to evaluate economic conditions, wasn't predicting disaster which would require massive spending and public works.

But it did suggest a bundle of steps to end the slump without trying to be drastic right away. It then suggested drastic ones if the recession takes a turn down-

Korn King Welk Finally Earns That Golden Disc

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—After battling his way through billions of bubbles and a thousand recording sessions, good old Lawrence Welk has finally achieved the ultimate—his first golden disc.

The master of ul-one, ul-two and ul-three music came through with his first smash hit, "Calcutta," by turning to a rock and roll beat.

Lawrence looks like twins—his that much beside himself with glee. The coveted golden record has eluded him since 1958 when his champagne music first began bubbling.

"I feel wonderful about this," he said while munching on a no-meat hamburger. "I've been trying hard for a long time to make a record that could sell a million. In recent years it became a goal I didn't expect to achieve. I thought my music was on the wrong track."

Welk's previous best-seller was "On Happy Day" which sold only a quarter of a million copies. It was a source of humiliation and frustration to Lawrence to watch such young pups as Fabian, Elvis Presley and Bobby Darin come along and sell a million records without turning a hair of their sideburns.

But here was Welk with a 40-piece band, 45 albums to his credit and no hits.

Additionally, he was the butt of jokes, called the king of korn. Whereas the greatest compliment musicians receive is "He's a way out, man," they were saying of Welk, "He's too far in."

Now Lawrence is swinging as "Calcutta" promises to reach the 2 million mark.

"I'm thinking younger now," he said. "Our band is beginning to appeal to the youth of the country, but at the same time not losing our following among the older folk."

"For 'Calcutta' we used only a small part of our band, specializing in a harpsichord and accordion. It has a very different sound from our regular beat. You might even say it has a European sound. It's relaxing, too."

This sudden success will not cause a revolution in Welk's style. The bubble machine will be around for a long time.

"Quantity doesn't count as much as quality," the bandleader said. "It is our plan to mix our music so both the old and the young will enjoy it."

Lawrence has been quick to capitalize on the hit. He has a new album coming out soon titled "Calcutta" with all the songs slanted at bobbysoxers.

"We'll be doing more modified rock and roll-type things in the future," he said.

Recession Will End
in April, Says Firm

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heller & Meyer says it seems likely that the present minor recession will run its course within the first four months of the year, and that thereafter steady improvement will take place.

The improvement, the firm says, will be most marked in industries which have been recently depressed, including steel, paper, chemicals, machinery and transportation, especially highway transportation.

Industries which have been gaining, especially service industries, should improve at an accelerated rate.

Football Company Feud Flares

Lions and Tigers on Frowl in Motor City

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There's never a dull moment on the Detroit sports scene.

Yesterday, the Lions and the Tigers, the two major athletic teams, were on the prowl in the Motor City.

At the Detroit Football Company on Michigan Avenue, home of the Lions, fuel was added to the internal feud for control of the club by forces which support and oppose the management and presidency of Edwin J. Anderson.

William Clay Ford, a Lions' director and the chairman of the club's management committee, called a press conference at 3:00 p.m. and revealed the position of 14 directors who signed a letter in support of Anderson.

Two hours later, just down the street at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, the other half of the Detroit animal kingdom, the Tigers, entertained the Press at the annual winter banquet.

The Tiger session was far more serene than the Lions' den or the hectic 1960 summer memories of DeWitt, Dykes, Gordon, Kuenn and other front office headlines and problems.

New president John Fetzer made his appearance and introduced the new field manager Bob Scheffing.

All the sports teams were represented at the Tiger banquet.

The Tigers talked baseball, the Lions talked football, the Pistons talked basketball and the Red Wings talked hockey. They all talked to each other and about one another's sport.

One thing is certain, 1961 may not be a championship year for the four pro teams but the respective front offices should produce some interesting stories.

Leafs Spoil Abel's Anniversary, 4-1

Wings Finally Manage Score on Home Ice

Toronto Has Now Taken Seven Straight Games as Visitors

DETROIT (AP) — It was a poor anniversary celebration for Sid Abel.

Last night was the third anniversary of Abel's baptism as head coach of the Detroit Red Wings. The Wings took a real dunking last night against the Toronto Maple Leafs, losing 4-1 and coming within four minutes of setting a club record for consecutive shutouts at home.

Norm Ullman saved the Wings from the embarrassment, scoring in the final period for Detroit's first goal at home since the second period of a game Dec. 15. Since that time the Wings went nearly 200 minutes on Olympia Stadium ice without scoring.

Frank Mahovlich, Billy Harris, George Armstrong and rookie Dave Keen scored for the Leafs, who now have won seven in a row on the road. On the other hand, the Wings have not won at home since Thanksgiving night. There have been six losses and a tie in that stretch of misery.

"I don't know what's wrong," said Abel. "We're getting plenty of opportunities — we can't squawk about that. But we can't take advantage of them. Then we make a silly mistake, and boom — and the other guys score."

The wings had 46 shots at Johnny Bower and the Leafs had 33 at Terry Sawchuk. But the Red Wings goalies were in his best. It's likely Hank Bassen will be back in the nets as soon as he recovers from a head cold.

A week ago, the Wings were in third place and trailed Toronto by only three points. Today, the Leafs' lead over the fourth-place Red Wings has been expanded to 11 points by four Toronto victories and four Detroit defeats.

Stan Mikita, one of the few European-born players to make the grade in the National Hockey League, is on a hot scoring streak and it's paying off for the Chicago Black Hawks.

The 30-year-old sophomore center scored a late second-period goal at Boston last night to give the Hawks their sixth consecutive triumph, a 4-3 verdict over the Bruins.

The goal was the eighth in Mikita, who was born in Czechoslovakia and emigrated to Canada in 1948, during the six-game streak.

The Hawks are in third place four points ahead of the fourth-place Wings.

Mikita, a smart puck handler and playmaker, has been a high scorer in the NHL, has been the Hawk's big gun during the streak. He has scored at least one goal in each of the last six games and four of the goals have proved to be winning goals.

Mikita had managed only three other tallies in the season's first 33 games, and had only eight in 66 games in 1959-60.

Lakeland Wins, 62-38

Lakeland Pharmacy rolled to a 62-38 victory over Lytle in the Waterford Recreation League last night.

Dick Rhoe paced the winners with 17 points.

In class B games, John Collins scored 14 points to lead Steve's Makel over the Greys, Merchants 50-44, and Ron's Sunoco topped Johnson and Anderson despite a 23-point chore by Bob Davidson of the Trojans.

Browns Favored by Three

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — The Browns were also being sought by the Detroit Lions are engaged in battle on three fronts.

At home in Detroit the front office fight of the stockholders is taking place.

In Miami Beach the football team gets ready to meet the Cleveland Browns in the NFL's first game of the season.

On the draft front, the Lions and Dallas Texans are clashing over choices.

Yesterday the Lions signed Dick Miltz, a third-round draft choice.

Fight for Proxy Votes Divides Grid Directors

Anti-Anderson Forces Object to Clique on 15-Man Board

DETROIT — What is the issue causing the internal strife within the stockholders' ranks of the Detroit Football Company?

They talk about the team's season record, the dividends, the financial strength, the seating of directors, but the issues always comes back to — Edwin J. Anderson.

William Clay Ford, one of the Lions' 15 directors, submitted a letter to the 143 stockholders in the company. In the letter he charged that certain stockholders led by 35-president Lyle Fife was attempting to get control of the board of directors by soliciting proxy votes for the past several months.

The letter was signed by 14 of the 15 directors, submitted a letter to the 143 stockholders in the company. In the letter he charged that certain stockholders led by 35-president Lyle Fife was attempting to get control of the board of directors by soliciting proxy votes for the past several months.

When it was learned that a proxy fight was pending at the February 23rd meeting of the stockholders, the 14 directors formed the "management committee" with Ford as chairman.

Ford pointed to the football company's success on the field and in the financial column.

"By any measuring stick the Lions operation is successful and sound, that's why 14 of 15 members of the board back the present management and will fight to keep it," he said.

Last spring a group headed by Lyle Fife attempted to relieve Anderson of the presidency and as general manager, claiming poor management.

"I respect Mr. Anderson's judgment and will back him to the hilt," said Ford, "his record speaks for itself."

"I cannot tell you what is the real issue, Fife has no basis of fact in his statements. I guess old directors never die they just start proxy fights," he added.

It is evident that both sides will have for proxy votes at the annual election in February.

The anti-Anderson forces claim they have no argument with regard to the dividends, the football success, the coaching or the financial status.

One of the objections raised referred to Anderson's salary, estimated at $50,000. Some of the stockholders of the Lions are also shareholders in the Goebel Brewery of which Anderson was president prior to his Lions position. These stockholders hold a disgruntled attitude over the fact that Anderson's severance by the brewery has cost the latter company $200,000 annually for five years paid to him as severance pay.

Another objection raised by Fife was his claim that Anderson is forming a clique of directors. Some members have been named directors without even owning stock, while long time stockholders were denied directorships.

Ford admitted that some of the current directors did not own Lions stock when they were voted on the board including himself but he defended such procedure as being in the best interest of the company.

Many other reasons spurred the fight against Anderson. One was the Tobin Rote situation of two years ago, in which Anderson gave the team a two-year contract without handing him to an option. He eventually left the Lions and they had no legal claim on him.

The 14 pro-Anderson directors control 43.00 shares of the 12,000 shares of stock. The dissenting forces of Fife, Cavanaugh and Davidson have 1,800 shares leaving 6,500 shares open for the proxy battle.

Fife feels that more than 50 percent of the proxies are anti-Anderson. These forces admit that the "Lions" have been successful venture, but they refuse to concede that Anderson is the reason.

Much of the success has been attributed to Nick Kerby, ex-Lion general manager who was with the Pistons.

There is a strong possibility that a victory for the Fife forces would bring Kerby back into the Lions' franchise.

Cubs Mail Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President John Holland of the Chicago Cubs today mailed out 40 contracts to 15 pitchers, 5 catchers, 10 infielders and 10 outfielders. He also invited eight farm system ball players to attend the Cubs training camp at Mesa, Ariz.

Baseball Company Has Annual Fete

Bengals to Get 'Teeth,' Fetzer Tells Writers

THAWING SMILE — Bob Scheffing, new manager of the Detroit Tigers, hopes to warm up the ice cold Bengals when he takes over the team this year. The ice replica of a baseball player was shown at the Tigers' banquet last night. Scheffing arrived in Detroit from his home in warm Arizona for the annual press party.

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers are going to get teeth.

That's what president John Fetzer told the press audience at the annual banquet of the Detroit Baseball Company yesterday.

"We're tired of a placid row filled with toothless Tigers," he said. "We want the return of the spirit of the Cobbs, Cochrans, Heilmans and Gehringers."

We do not expect a bonanza in 1961, but we want a good young ball club and we must recognize the risk of going with young players. You can be sure these young guys will have desire, fight and color and the fans will support us."

Fetzer, who paid off Bill DeWitt's contract at the close of the 1960 season, called on Bob Scheffing to make his bow before the Michigan press corps.

Scheffing said he was ready to do his best and get the best out of a "youthful" Tiger team next season.

"I won't have a dozen coaches around just acting in an advisory capacity," he said. "We will have a couple coaches who will do just that—coach."

"We will expect an honest earnest effort from every player on the team," he commented. "Any one loafers will earn their passage off the team."

At the dinner table interview Scheffing admitted that while managing the Chicago Cubs, too many of the field decisions were forced on him by president Phil Wrigley.

Scheffing objected to many of the trades the Cubs made. He felt that when it reached the point where a young and good ball club was being molded, Wrigley found it easy to trade off some players to break the "monotony."

He recalled that just before he was fired he was called to the front of the stadium. "I felt very confident that I had done a pretty good job and that things looked good for the future. I thought (Wrigley) would talk about an honest contract situation and increase. Instead he informed me that he was putting Charley Grin in charge."

This cheered me, but that's the way he operated. I am sure it was his way he made a fortune on a five cent product in view of the way he runs the ball club."

"Now I'm going to tell you Michigan to meet with outside press and radio people. We (the Tigers) and they (the press) ought to get along fine," he said.

DETROIT — The Tigers' season will be a battle between the ages of 19 and 18 on trophies at the 2nd annual Lakewood Lanes tournament. All the top scores will be mailed in for comparison with others throughout the country.

John Spina and Mary Weber combined for a 1220 score for high doubles series topped an 1180 by Steve Foster. Bernie Greenwood, Gary Coppinger bested Greenwood in singles 673 to 624.

Two third place boys got trophies because the winners had already won prizes and cannot get a trophy. Lee Stoder had 222 behind a 23rd game by Greenwood in doubles. Gary Brandon took the singles game award with 235. Coppinger had 226. All are handicap scores.

There were 23 teams in doubles and 36 in singles. Four of the trophies were donated by pro prizefighter Bill Kukulinski. The others were purchased with the tournament prize fund.

Chiefs to Meet Bay City Five in SVC Clash

Three Successive Wins
Give League Champs
New Hope

By BILL CORNWELL
BAY CITY — Out of first place but definitely not out of the picture, Pontiac Central's revived Chiefs resume their Saginaw Valley Conference basketball campaign here tonight against winless Bay-City Central.

Art Van Ryza's PCU eagles, unaccustomed to sitting lower than first after winning two straight SVC titles, are determined to remain in the thick of the league race by dousing the three-beaten Wolves in their own back yard.

The defending Valley champs are not yet ready to concede a thing to pre-season favorite Saginaw, even though they lost their first loop contest to make the balance of the journey a long, uphill climb.

With their confidence buoyed by three consecutive wins, the Chiefs will be gunning for a share of 2nd place and a good, close peek at the top when they line up against the Wolfpack at 8 p.m.

After a poor start which saw them lose two of their first three games, the Chiefs came bouncing back and showed steady improvement in successive victories over Flint Central, Pontiac Northern and Royal Oak Dondos.

The Chiefs were a spirited squad in practice this week and their workouts were fast and furious. They enter this evening's engagement with an overall record of 4-3 and a 1-1 league mark.

If the Chiefs aren't careful, Bay City could prove to be a fatal stumbling block in their ambitions for a 3rd straight SVC crown and 4th in the last five years.

The hungry Wolfpack, 0-2 in the circuit and 0-3 altogether, would like nothing better than an upset triumph over heavily-favored PCU. It goes without saying that the Chiefs cannot afford another loop setback.

Bay City, coached by former Wallied Lake mentor Bill Ullenhuth, will pin its hopes for knowledge PCU-out-of-Valley contention on the shoulders of Mitchell Simmons, a 6-foot-7 rebounder, and Stan Doane, a dangerous outside shooter.

Although erratic, has been duped by Bob Crampston, Tim Pete, Duke Hollerbach and Don Randall.

The Wolves opened the 1960-61 season by bowing to Midland, 78-45. They then dropped back-to-back Valley decisions to Flint Central (76-58) and Saginaw High (87-47).

Van Ryza was still undecided about his starting lineup, but it's expected to be George Fed and Clarence Douglas at forwards, Andy Roach and Dennis Diehm at guards, and either Paul Brown or Bradell Pritchett at center.

Tonight's key Valley battle is scheduled at Saginaw where the Trojans and Arthur Hill, both unbeaten and tied for the lead, renew their cross-town feud in a showdown on the Trojan floor.

Flint Central goes to Midland for a non-conference scrap. Flint Northern is idle until next Tuesday when the Vikings and city rival Central engage the Flint IMA court.

Controversial Williams Dares Fate to Reach .406 in Season's Finale

By JOE REICHLER and

Undoubtedly the greatest batsman of his time was the tall, powerful, thick-wristed, handsome, sometimes wonderful, always controversial Theodore Samuel Williams.

Love him or hate him, you can't overlook the undeniable fact that this great batter, whose powerful wrist snap revolutionized the art of "hitting," accomplished some wonderful things since the day he came into the major leagues in 1939.

Bonus Hurler Koch in DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have signed rookie Steve Boros, catcher Dick Brown and pitcher Alan Koch to 1961 contracts. All signed yesterday.

The University of Michigan, already has been awarded the Tigers' third base job for 1961. He batted .317 and hit 30 homers while leading Denver to its 1960 pennant and becoming the American Association's most valuable player.

He moves into a variety regular job by default. Eddie Yost, the Tigers' third sacker the last two seasons, was lost to the Los Angeles Angels in the American League's player draft which outfitted two new clubs.

Brown is being counted on as the Tigers' regular catcher in 1961. He was with the Chicago White Sox part of last season. The Tigers acquired Brown in a trade with the Milwaukee Braves.

Koch, a bonus right hander, had a .74 record with Birmingham of the Southern Association last season.

Obedience Classes Arranged for Dogs

Two obedience training classes for dogs are planned by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

Registrations for Pontiac and Waterford classes will be taken after demonstration programs Jan. 11-12. The first night's program will be in the C.I.A. building in Waterford. The next night a demonstration is scheduled at the Whitfield School in Pontiac. The programs are at 8 each night.

Information regarding the Waterford class can be obtained from Charles Barnes by phoning Federal 4-6083. Reg Armstrong at Federal 2-7749 has details for the Pontiac classes.

The obedience classes start about a week after the demonstrations.

Mt. View and Heating Win Hockey Games

The Mt. View Rangers and North Woodward Heating took 7-2 victories in City Junior Hockey games Thursday.

Mt. View had to overcome a 14 deficit to whip Pontiac Northern in the American League. A trio in the 2nd period clinched the issue. Dick Valentine tallied twice for the victors. Heating romped after scoring four times in the opening session. Don Lacey led the way with a pair of goals in the NL contest.

CHALLENGING FATE

The day Ted recalls with great satisfaction is September 28, 1941. It was the last day of the season and the Red Sox were scheduled to play a doubleheader with Philadelphia. Williams came to bat the final day with his average standing at exactly .400. The newspapers speculated whether Williams would sit out the last day so as to be assured of finishing the season with a .400 average.

Joe Cronin, the Red Sox manager, approached Ted before the first game. "What do you say, Ted?" Cronin asked him. "It's up to you. Do you want to play or sit it out?"

"I'll play," Williams said unhesitatingly. "I don't want anybody saying I got in through the back door."

Ted's challenge to the .406 mark brought out a good crowd of 10,000 Philadelphians that cold, damp afternoon. Williams responded with a great show.

SIX FOR EIGHT

The ball carried 400 feet and was one of the longest shots Ted had ever hit. When he stepped up a third time, Connie Mack decided to make things a little harder for him by bringing in a left-hander, Porter Vaughan.

Williams smashed Vaughan's third pitch back through the box for his third straight hit. And later on, with Vaughan still pitching, Ted came up with his fourth hit in a row, a line single over the first baseman's head.

Ted came up once more in that first game and reached first on an error by the second baseman. With four hits in five times — but Williams was in — he now surely he could sit out the game with home, but he did not.

He insisted on playing, and he got a single and a "savage" double in three times at bat. For the entire day, he had been at bat eight times and collected six hits. His batting average for the season was a glittering .406.

Truly Ted Williams will go down in history as one of the immortals of baseball history. If you saw him hit, you know why.

What Will Spring Bring? Castro Desperate, Puts Blame on U.S.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

There is evidence that Fidel Castro deliberately sought to make the United States break relations with Cuba, and that his provocations in this respect grew out of fear and desperation.

Castro has many troubles, including rising labor discontent, the beginnings of organized resistance and the flight of educated people from Cuba. The break in U.S. relations will slow this flight.

That this stream of refugees to the United States has hurt the Castro government has been all too obvious. The controlled labor federation for example, forbids any technician from leaving his job except by specific government orders. This applies to all Cuban industries and enterprises.

President Osvaldo Dorticos in a recent speech bitterly assailed those who fled or who planned to flee the country. Educated persons are "of prime concern" to Cuba, he said.

Two years of economic chaos, coupled with the progressive strangulation of freedoms, are beginning to catch up with Castro. He retains his position at the top, but he is the only cement in a shaky structure. Should Castro go, not even the Soviet Union with all its might can save the Communists in Cuba and the regime they have been able to use to such advantage.

Plan to Let Contracts on Saline Water Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans to award negotiated contracts for the construction and operation of five government saline water conversion plants were announced Thursday.

Dr. A. L. Miller, director of the office of saline water, said the law authorizing the demonstration plants permits award of separate contracts for their operation and also requires sale of the individual plants after a period of years to congress otherwise directed.

The first of the five plants is scheduled for completion March 24 at Freeport, Tex., under existing law authority for its operation expires Sept. 2, 1963.

What'll They Do With 35 Bodies?

Problem of Unclaimed Corpses Stops Razing of Hillsdale Mausoleum

HILLSDALE, N.J.—The problem of what to do with 35 unclaimed bodies must be solved before the "Old Hillsdale Mausoleum" can be razed.

Hillsdale officials have been talking of tearing down the crumbling mausoleum for 20 years but nothing has been done because of legal problems raised by the unclaimed bodies.

However, the situation may be resolved soon. The city has filed petitions with Circuit Court asking permission to move the bodies from the mausoleum to the city cemetery. A hearing on the request is scheduled Monday.

The mausoleum is considered an eyesore now by area residents but it was quite a showpiece at one time.

The long, low building of the dead was built in 1913 by a private corporation which hoped its ornate beauty would appeal to the more prosperous residents.

The still-impressive structure contains marble walls, bronze urns and stately columns.

During the days of World War I it attained popularity as a tourist attraction and on weekends it was common for sightseers to go out and admire the impressive structure.

But it fell on hard times after that and the corporation which built the mausoleum was dissolved when bodies no longer were interred there.

Vandals have desecrated the building over the years and many college fraternities considered it an ideal place to have lighted parties.

Most of the bodies in the mausoleum were removed over the years and taken to cemeteries but 35 remain unclaimed, and Hillsdale must determine what to do with them before it can tear down the battered building.

1960—Michigan's Lowest Year for Polio Cases

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan had fewer cases of polio this year than in any previous year, the state health department reported Thursday.

Fifty-five cases were reported last year. The department said this was 66 fewer than the previous low of 121 for 1957, and 107 under the 1959 figure of 162 cases.

A few delayed reports of cases may raise the final 1960 total slightly, said Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the division of disease control, records and vital statistics.

Leeder urged all residents, regardless of age, to start now with their series of four polio vaccination shots as a protection against next summer's polio season.

He pointed out that the record 1957 low was followed by a nearly quadrupled increase to 519 cases in 1958, apparently because "people thought we had it under control" and were complacent about getting vaccinated.

Discover Razor Blade Swallowed by Boy

CHIPLEY, Pa. (AP)—James Gerald Worthington, 6, apparently swallowed a razor blade two years ago. It went undetected until he went to a hospital last week for treatment of pneumonia.

Dr. Walter H. Sheline discovered the blade lodged in the side of the windpipe. It was removed by surgery Friday and Dr. Sheline says the boy is recovering satisfactorily.

Smallest Now the Tallest

GROWING UP—Like most children their age, Oakland County's famous Rosebush quadruplets are concerned over "who's the tallest." The quads, who celebrate their 10th birthday Tuesday, are (from left) Kristal, Kenny and Kristine. The tape measure proved Kristal, one of the smallest of the four when she was born, to be the tallest. Kenny came in a close second.

Birthday Tuesday, Celebrate Tomorrow

How Time Flies, Rosebush Quads 10

It hardly seems possible, but nearly a decade has gone by since quadruplets were born in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Mrs. Kenneth F. Rosebush of Oakwood.

"I didn't have time to buy party invitations from the store yesterday," said the soft-spoken Mrs. Rosebush, "so they talked me into making our own invitations."

And today the Rosebush quads—Keith, Kenny, Kristal and Kristine—are eagerly awaiting a birthday party which will be held tomorrow at their Baldwin Road home, just northwest of Oxford. They'll be 10 years old Tuesday, lives across the country, they still enjoy seeing their pictures in the paper.

It was on Jan. 10, 1951, that the children were delivered by Cesarean section at the hospital.

Under the supervision of Dr. Edward Christie and Dr. Harold F. Stahl, the delivery took less than 20 minutes.

Kenny was the biggest of the four at birth. He weighed 4 pounds, 8 ounces. Both boys are slim but healthy, according to their mother. The two girls are growing the fastest.

"I'm the tallest," shouted Kenny, the comedian of the group. "No, Kristal is," answered Mrs. Rosebush.

A quick look at the tape measure showed that mother still knows best.

Kristal, who was only 3 pounds, 9 ounces at birth, is the biggest. Kenny is a close second, Kristal and Kristine are next in line.

Kenny, the most active of the four, also is the most accident-prone. Keith is the most subject to childhood diseases.

The girls are members of a Brownie troop, of which their mother is the leader.

There is no Cub Scout den in their neighborhood the boys can join, so Mrs. Rosebush is hoping to start a 4H Club in the village or take them to a club in Ortonville.

4 OLDER DAUGHTERS

"I love to work with children," explained Mrs. Rosebush, who also is the mother of four older daughters.

Although the quads take up much of her time, Mrs. Rosebush is concerned about her other children.

She is worried about her 6-year-old son, Keith.

AFL-CIO Puts Forth Quick Prod Program

Gives JFK 20 Ideas to Increase Jobs, Get Cash Into Circulation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Organized labor advocates cutting payroll withholding taxes as a quick prod to the nation's purchasing power if unemployment gets much worse.

The novel plan was spelled out by AFL-CIO leaders Thursday as part of a 20-point program recommended to the incoming Kennedy administration to jerk the economy out of its present lagging pace.

Specifically, the union chiefs proposed that Kennedy be empowered to trigger an income tax cut into effect if the rate of unemployment to the work force increases from its present 6.4 per cent level to 1 per cent or more.

This could easily happen this winter with the idle, now over 4 million, expected to top 5 million.

Under the AFL-CIO plan, everybody would get a $10 a week reduction in his withholding tax payment for a 10-week period. This means everyone would have an extra $100 to spend.

COOPER OBJECTS

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in outlining the proposal that the plan would put $200 million a week, or $5 billion over the 10-week period, into hands of consumers.

It has long been a labor union theory that such spending could bail the country out of economic doldrums. However, the executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp., R. Conrad Cooper, said how Thursday artificial stimulation is not a proper approach.

Cooper advocated tax relief for business generally, improved business depreciation allowances and an end to industry's rising cost spiral, including labor costs.

Cooper led a steel industry delegation into a meeting with President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union, who had invited the delegation to seek an end to the half-decade industry back into full production.

While both sides reportedly proposing to each other widely varying plans for accomplishing this purpose, there appeared a surprising degree of willingness by both to engage in further talks and try to reach some solution.

The union generally proposed what it considered were pumping efforts while the industry wanted tax relief and reduced costs.

McDonald hinted the union might go along with helping the steel firms get some tax relief.

28 Mules for Inaugural

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-eight mules will march down Pennsylvania Avenue on Jan. 20 in the inaugural parade.

Base Keeps Eyes Wide Open

FLAGS FLY AT GUANTANAMO—The American flag flies today inside the main gate of U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, while the Cuban flag flies a short distance away on the outside, next to the Cuban immigration hut. Cuban workers leaving the base are searched by a Marine guard at the gate. Forty miles from Santiago, the area seems very quiet but U.S. authorities say the base is ready for anything. No reinforcements have been sent in.

Machine Guns Set for 'Invasion'

Castro Rushes Cuba to Frenzy

HAVANA (AP)—Troops were on the move everywhere today in this Caribbean island—once a favorite winter playground—as Fidel Castro kept his nation in a frenzy to fight off the invasion he claimed is coming from the United States.

The United States termed Castro's latest invasion charge ridiculous, and a majority of the U.S. Security Council said after two days of debate the Cubans had not proved the charge. But the Cuban regime put on the most intensive military display it could muster.

A wave of searches of Roman Catholic organizations and the arrest of at least nine Catholics—priests or teachers—was reported, but it was not immediately clear whether a widespread movement against the church or its affiliates was under way.

Anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns studded Maseco, Havana's picturesque suburb that is now Castro's day was a favorite picnic spot for tourists at this time of year—mostly Americans.

PLACES ARTILLERY

Artillery emplacements sprouted throughout the east of Havana and its suburbs.

The capital, rumored to be the movement of grim-faced civilian soldiers. Militia men and women patrolled rooftops with machine guns at the ready.

Hundreds of blue-uniformed teenagers, members of the revolutionary youth organization, carried burp guns and bayonets into the elegant Hotel Nacional overlooking the Gulf of Mexico.

The military activity cast a shadow across the "Day of Three Kings"—the traditional gift-giving day in Latin America which ends the Christmas holiday season.

Castro has charged that the Eisenhower administration is preparing to invade by Jan. 18, two days before it leaves office.

The U.S. troops do not invade, Castro presumably will crow that his militant preparedness saved them off, and he will claim victory over the hated northern neighbor.

Political and other prisoners were evacuated from Principe Prison atop a hill commanding a sweeping view of Havana. There were unconfirmed reports the ancient fortress was being converted to a temporary "invasion headquarters."

Hundreds of militiamen and troops were deployed at Balabano, about 30 miles south of the capital. On the coast, a jumping-off spot days before it leaves office.

Aides Suggest Slashes Should Worst Develop

Balanced U.S. Budget Not Sacred, Experts Tell Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy has under study a call for temporary income tax cuts in the spring if the business slump takes a serious turn for the worse.

The call was sounded Thursday night by a committee appointed by Kennedy to evaluate the state of the nation's economy.

It recommended that the new administration act swiftly to put into effect a shelf of emergency measures designed to achieve recovery without resort to tax reduction in these times of international crisis.

RAP IKE

The study group, in a report sprinkled with indirect criticism of the Eisenhower administration's handling of the business fall-off, said these measures are urgent now.

And the committee, headed by economist Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said there should be no blind adherence to a concept of a balanced budget in times of business recession.

Kennedy, who recently expressed concern about what he termed lack of vigor in the economy, had no immediate comment on the report.

It was made public after he had reviewed the document with Sullivan, Dr. Walter W. Heller, University of Minnesota economist chosen to be chairman of the incoming president's Council of Economic Advisors, and James Tobin, Yale University economist, whose appointment to the council was announced by Kennedy Thursday night.

NO DEPRESSION

As the other member of the three-man council, Kennedy named Kermit Gordon, the Ford Foundation's director of economic development and administration.

In its report, the study committee on the economy said experts in that field are generally agreed there is a business recession, but that the slide cannot be termed a depression.

The group urged use of a full kit of fiscal and monetary tools to combat the slump, and turned to

Pontiac Auto Sales Hit 5-Year Peak

Sales of the Pontiac automobile last year were the highest since the great auto year of 1955, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

Sales in 1960 totaled 409,607, Knudsen reported. This represents a six per cent increase over 1959 sales of 388,879.

"This makes it the highest sales year since 1953," Knudsen reported.

In December, the division said that after 11 months of production in which 558,098 cars were produced—the figures represent the best 11 months of production performance in five years.

The year previous, for 11 months of production, 538,856 cars were turned out, Knudsen said.

He added that Pontiac's December sales totaled 54,123 new cars. This, too, represents the highest sales record for the month since 1955.

He said the Tempest was giving Pontiac the expected plus sales it was designed to obtain.

In December of 1960 there were 10,000 Pontiacs sold. The steel strike cut into production and sales then.

As Knudsen reported the division's sales, he said:

However, at the Fisher Body Division in Pontiac there was a report of some 245 hourly-rated production workers expected to be laid off starting Monday due to an "altering of our production schedules."

The Pontiac division spokesman said the "restructuring" in relation to most of the industry was due to a return to a normal production schedule (five days a week at eight hours a day) and "reinstated good sales at this normal pace."

Under City-County Guidance

Eye Airport Expansion

Expansion of Pontiac Municipal Airport under the co-ownership of the city and county will be a major consideration of the new city commission.

Plans for reactivation of the committee and the reappointment of J.A. Hubbard as its chairman were announced today by Dr. Dana P. Whittier, chamber president.

A six-point program was detailed by John W. Hurlinger, chamber manager. The committee is to:

1. Promote public use of existing scheduled airline service;
2. Press for additional routes and service;
3. Work for expansion of the airport to attract corporate flights;
4. Consider the establishment of an airport commission;
5. Study the possibility of co-ownership by the city and county; and

6. Study the role Pontiac Municipal should play in the Detroit Metropolitan Area.

About 30 Pontiac area persons several of them with direct interests in aviation, have been invited to join the committee at its first meeting a week from today, said Hurlinger.

Formation of the committee represents a new emphasis on the importance of the airport to the Pontiac community, he said.

Formed last year, the committee was largely inactive as the chamber and other interest groups concentrated on gaining federal authorization of the city's first regularly scheduled commercial airline service.

This became a reality when North Central Airlines began operations at Pontiac Municipal Dec. 1. Hubbard, president of the M.D. Hubbard Spring Co. is an aviation enthusiast who leases his private plane at the airport.

Co-ownership by the city and county was proposed by the city.

No Layoffs Slated, Says Pontiac Motor

In the five-day week and eight hours a day we are able to maintain our present work force," the spokesman said.

Although reporting next week's scheduled layoffs, the Fisher Body Division spokesman reported that there were 3,500 hourly rated employees on the payroll today compared to 3,750 at this time a year ago.

From the rest of the industry came the report that due to a backlog of unsold new cars, it would have to revise its production schedule downward and to scale indefinite layoffs for some 30,000 auto workers.

With one million unsold new cars in dealers' hands, factory output is being trimmed sharply. Most of the companies hoped to reduce their assemblies to the same level as their sales, or below.

Indefinite layoffs have been announced by all five manufacturers. Additionally, many plants are working short weeks or alternate shifts to curtail output.

These cuts in employment were announced yesterday:

General Motors — 2,500 at Buick, 1,000 at Oldsmobile, Lansing; 2,000 at Pontiac, 2,500 at Detroit; 500 assembly plant in Flint, Mich.; 1,000 at Dearborn, Mich.; 1,000 at Detroit, Mich.

Chrysler — 300 at Los Angeles assembly plant.

Ford — 4,000 to 5,000 at various manufacturing plants, none at assembly plants.

In addition, GM said about 700 production workers would be laid off at its Kansas City, Kan., R-O-P assembly plant Jan. 28.

The start of new announcements since the beginning of the model year production in the fall have included 9,300 Chrysler assembly plant workers in Detroit, Newark, Del., and St. Louis; 700 Fisher Body employees at Cleveland; 1,000 Studebaker-Packard assembly plant workers at South Bend, Ind., and 2,125 American Motors employees in Wisconsin.

American Motors yesterday announced suspension of all production for 10 days, killing 21,200 workers in Wisconsin, except one in central Pennsylvania, western New York and eastern Upper Michigan.

To Ask Control Center Tabling

Expect Opposition on Move to Shelve Civil Defense Structure

The board of supervisors Tuesday will receive a recommendation that plans for a civil control center be tabled until "firmer financial commitments" are made by the federal government.

The suggestion by the ways and means committee of the board will probably result in opposition from Oak Park Supervisor Charles E. Cardon's civil defense committee which has suggested the center.

One member of the ways and means committee warned against delaying the matter further. Harry W. Horton, Royal Oak supervisor, said, "Keep in mind a lot of work has been out into this. You fellows are talking about two years of hard work."

Cardon's committee in December proposed construction of an 80 by 120-foot center in the Oakland County Service Center on Telegraph Road to be used for county operations in case of national emergency.

It would cost, Cardon said, about $42,000, half of which would be financed by the county and the balance by the federal government.

Springfield Township Supervisor John L. Carey, a member of the ways and means committee, moved to table the plans until the federal government "makes a firmer commitment."

Whether he will gain the success of the Roosevelt administration is a matter of speculation.

Differences among farm groups are sharp—particularly on the question of how far government should go in fixing farm prices, controlling production and using subsidies.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary for Kennedy, told a news conference that in turning to farm groups for help, the new administration had no intention of abandoning campaign promises to help family farms earn what Kennedy has called parity of income with other economic groups.

The Washington conference will seek to evolve short-term programs for dealing with pressing farm problems as well as a long-range program to bring about farm stability.

Dense Jungle Problems

Laos War Could Be Grim

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos could be an even grimmer prospect for American troops than was the drawn out Korean War that erupted a decade ago.

That is the opinion of some military authorities who have been laboring over maps, contingency plans and hour-by-hour reports on the civil war between pro-Western Laotian government forces and Soviet-backed rebels.

A more dismal set of conditions affecting the conduct of military operations would be hard to find. There has been scarcely more than a suggestion so far that this country will intervene militarily, and world powers appear to be making a major effort to resolve the crisis through diplomacy.

But that is not to say that American forces are, or could afford to be unprepared for operations in the distant mountainous kingdom where the United States and Russia are deeply committed on opposing sides. The alert has gone out to elements of all the services to step up their readiness, just in case.

CONDITIONS?

Should the final long leap be taken from increased readiness and a show of force to armed intervention, what would the conditions be that would confront American commanders?

Laos is completely landlocked and just getting there would pose unusual problems. At first, at any rate, troops and supplies would have to be taken in by air and kept supplied by air. There are five principal airfields and only the one at the administrative capital of Vientiane can take the big C130 transports with which the Air Force and Marines move ground troops.

Presumably smaller planes and helicopters would have to be used at other landing areas. Transportation would be a nightmare. There is a single main road in Laos, running from the royal capital of Luang Prabang in the north, through Vientiane and south to Pakse, thence to Saigon in South Vietnam. Even this road is usable in parts of the rainy season from May to October.

A single railroad is available to supply Laos, running from Bangkok, Thailand, to the Mekong River across which supplies must be ferried. The road ends at a small town, and southern spur, to Pakse.

Much of the country is covered by forest and dense jungle.

War, authorities said, would consist of land battles on a small scale and guerrilla operations, harassing the enemy and knowing the difference between friend and foe would be tough problems. Artillery and air attack would have limited usefulness. Reconnaissance would be difficult.

Employment of heavy equipment like tanks and engineering equipment would be restricted.

To the Communists, Laos is accessible through a series of mountain passes in North Viet Nam. One is at Dien Bien Phu, the famed landmark of the Indochina war six years ago, which leads south to the Mekong River valley.

A second, farther south, is at Nong Het, through which the Laotian government claims seven battalions of North Viet Nam troops invaded for the battle now in progress at Xiang Khouang. The third is still farther south at Mau Gi.

Laos is a country of 91,450 square miles, about twice the size of Pennsylvania and smaller than Wyoming. At its widest point in the north it is 275 miles, but for most of its 630-mile length, it is barely more than 75 to 150 miles in width.

To Arraign Area Man on Charge of Assault

Charged with aggravated assault in the beating of a Commerce Township bartender Dec. 28, Jack E. Bower, 28, of 46330 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, has been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 16.

Bower was released on $500 bond by Justice of the Peace John C. Weick following an examination of the charge brought by R. F. James, 54, a bartender at Ma's Place, 4555 Bonstein Road, where the attack allegedly occurred.

However it seems that Bude, Cornwall, England magistrates don't agree with him. They have ordered that Jewell be paid a back salary. Grass Roots and Congress

Dems to Copy Roosevelt Tackling Farm Problem

By OVID MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The incoming Kennedy administration will return to a format used by the Roosevelt New Deal to gain support for government farm aid programs.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his secretary of agriculture, Henry A. Wallace, brought leaders of farm organizations together—along with farm leaders in Congress—to tackle a serious farm depression.

The result was a precedent-breaking New Deal farm program, including crop controls, price supports and subsidy payments to farmers.

But this practice of bringing farm groups together was abandoned under the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. That was because sharp differences developed in the meantime and the earlier emergency situation no longer existed.

But President-elect John F. Kennedy arranged Thursday to get farm organization leaders and farm spokesmen in Congress to meet in Washington Jan. 26 to work out a program for his administration. Plans for this conference were agreed to and applauded by a small group of farm leaders who met with him.

Whether he will gain the success of the Roosevelt administration is a matter of speculation.

Differences among farm groups are sharp—particularly on the question of how far government should go in fixing farm prices, controlling production and using subsidies.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary for Kennedy, told a news conference that in turning to farm groups for help, the new administration had no intention of abandoning campaign promises to help family farms earn what Kennedy has called parity of income with other economic groups.

Armed Bandit Slugs, Robs Metamora Man

An armed bandit assaulted and robbed a Metamora man early this morning in Pontiac Township.

Stuart Walker, 56, of 4990 Blood Road, Metamora, told sheriff's deputies he had just walked out of the Country View Bar at 1701 Lapeer Road when his assailant accosted him at 2 a.m.

According to Walker, the armed bandit followed him as he got into his pickup truck, took the wheel and drove next door to Heigh's Supply Co., where he slugged Walker over the head with a revolver.

Walker said that when he regained consciousness he discovered his wallet, containing about $80, was missing. He phoned deputies from a nearby gas station.

Weather Couldn't Make Up Mind

December Fickle Gal

As far as weather was concerned, December was a "sometime" month — sometime warm, sometime cold.

It was warm when December bowed in, with the mercury registering the month's high of 50 on Dec. 4, 5 and 6. It was sunny, too.

Pontiac residents began to wonder about Old Man Winter.

As it turned out, he was only taking a short holiday — before getting down to work in earnest.

11 LOW? JUST WAIT

He came bawling in Dec. 8 with snow flurries and temperatures dropped steadily to a season's low of 11 degrees.

It got colder — much colder — than that before December made its exit.

Dec. 13, the temperature dropped to 1 above zero as the city remained in the grip of a severe cold spell.

The next day it warmed up, but more cold was on the way. And with the cold came snow.

A 2-inch snow fell on Pontiac Dec. 20

and the next day, the first of winter, there was more snow — and a low of 9 above.

Winter didn't take long to leave its icy stamp on the city. On Dec. 22, the mercury fell to 3 below.

HISTORY ON THE CARD

And on Dec. 23, a history-making 5 below enthralled the Pontiac area in a sunny, but bone-chilling deep freeze.

Never before had it been so cold on that date. The previous low for a Dec. 23 was 1 above in 1878.

The next day the low was zero. A warming trend set in by Christmas.

The holiday no sooner ended than a new cold wave set in. However, the mercury never did hit zero again.

December contained 12 sunny days, six fair and five cloudy. Light rains fell two days.

Snow flurries and light snow hit Pontiac on five days, and there were two days of heavy snow.

The average high for December was 29.5 and the average low 16.7, with the month's median temperature 21.

Profs Criticize Cuban Break

Five U. of M. Faculty Members Regret U.S. Diplomatic Move

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Five University of Michigan professors have criticized the United States move in breaking off diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Prof. Irving A. Leonard, of the university's Spanish-American literature and history dept., said, "The break in diplomatic relations with Cuba is a mistake on the part of our government." Leonard added that "greater patience is called for, especially since we have committed so many blunders and sins in the past in Latin America."

Asst. Prof. Harold K. Jacobson, of the department of political science said he doubted that the move would achieve anything and that the incoming administration of President Robert John Kennedy "should have been consulted more than they appear to have been."

Prof. D. Maynard Phelps, of the school of business administration called the action a loss of the U.S.'s "eyes and ears in Cuba."

Economics professor, Kenneth G. Boulding, called breaking off diplomatic relations with Cuba, "unwise" and recommended that a research organization be set up to study the Caribbean.

William G. Meritt, associate professor of modern languages, said the United States should have consulted other nations in the Western Hemisphere before deciding to end relations with Cuba.

U.S. Prepared if Castro Dries Up Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ocean going tankers will rush fresh water to the millions of gallons to Guantanamo Naval Base in the event the Cuban government shuts off the outside water supply.

The U.S. Navy, long alert in its drive to topple President Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Premier Fidel Castro, is confident converted oil tankers could haul enough water to meet the needs of the 7,985 Americans, dependents and Cuban workers on the base.

All fresh water at Guantanamo now comes by pipeline from the Vateria River about four miles away. A pumping station outside the Guantanamo base is vital to the waterflow.

In 1959 Castro rebels interfered with pumping station operations as they drove to topple President Fulgencio Batista's regime.

State High Court Sifts Motion Against Firm

LANSING (UPI) — The State Supreme Court has taken under advisement a motion which would put Michigan Surety Co., a Lansing bonding and insurance firm, back under jurisdiction of the State Insurance Department.

Attorneys for the state and Michigan Surety presented oral arguments Wednesday on a motion by Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford to reverse an Ingham County Circuit Court decision.

Judge Louis E. Covich held the department's proceeding to liquidate the firm last April when he ruled that financial reports indicated the firm was not insolvent as contended by the department.

Jackie Wins Over Jack

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy tops the best-dressed in the world of women's fashions, but her president-elect husband is low man on some clothes designers' totem pole.

The lovely first lady-to-be was selected Thursday night by the New York Couture Group, Inc., to head the list of the world's 12 best-dressed women. Couture annually consults some 2,500 style experts and society leaders before announcing the winners.

It was the first appearance on the list for Mrs. Kennedy. The wife of the president-elect is a tall, slender brunette with a model's figure and with a clothes-horse knack that would have her looking chic in a hurling bag.

Her clothes tastes tend to simple and unadorned silhouettes, to sleeveless dresses, to neatly buttoned coats and to bright colors.

She wears her hair in a bouffant style already being copied by models and other women. She usually is barefoot, but recent photos showing her wearing a small pillbox on the back of her head have pillbox slippers being revived throughout strong millinery collections.

As for the president-elect, his current supply of suits

was viewed with some anxiety by members of the International Association of Clothing Designers who gathered at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Thursday for their 30th annual convention.

SOME OPINIONS

Some opinions on Kennedy's dress:

His coat lapels are of the old-fashioned, wide variety. The shoulders of his suits are much too broad.

There are only two buttons on his jacket and the two buttons are too low on the suit.

Louis Seidise, convention general chairman and vice president of Warty Brothers, said suits worn by Kennedy not only are out of style in America but out of style on the international scene as well.

But Ben D. Cooperman, designer for Society Brand clothes, sees things in a brighter trade light. He said Kennedy might bring back the two button coat.

BACK TO WOMEN

Getting back to the girls. After Mrs. Kennedy, the official 1961 list of best-dressed among the world's women names the following:

Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes, of Paris.

Mrs. Norman K. Winston of New York and Paris.

Donna Morella Agnelli, of Turin, Italy.

Mrs. Loel Guinness, of Paris and Palm Beach.

Mrs. Patricia Guinness, of Lausanne, Switzerland, daughter of Mrs. Loel Guinness.

Princess Alexandra of Kent, daughter of the Duchess of Kent.

Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, of New York.

Mrs. David K. Bruce, of Washington.

Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, of Paris and New York.

Queen Sirikit of Thailand.

Event Is Planned

Plans for a card party and fashion show in March were discussed when Anti Chapter of the Armenian Relief Society met Thursday at the Rowland Drive home of Mrs. William Enfield. Refreshments followed the meeting.

Hears Speakers

Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School's staff observed its quarterly meeting Thursday. Guest speakers were Mrs. Jack Soles and Mrs. James Kraft on the subject "Dolls for Democracy," sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Soprano to Guest at First Concert

Roma Butler Riddell, well-known Detroit soprano, will be guest artist at Pontiac Tuesday Musicals' first session of the new year.

The 1:30 p.m. recital will be heard Tuesday in the Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church. Accompanying the artist will be Lawrence La Gore, brood of the narco department of the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

Sharing artist honors will be cellist Mary Lee Ekason, Tuesday Musicals' member, who will be accompanied by Mary Wignall, also of Tuesday Musicals. Mrs. Ekason, a member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and teacher of cello and piano in Clarkson will play four short movements of a Vivaldi sonata, "Midnight" by Gershwin and "Spiritual" by Gardner Read. She has studied with Alexander Schuster of Michigan State University and Georges Miquelle.

Roma Butler Riddell who has been cited by critics for her beautiful lyric voice brings sensitivity and finish to her performance. She has been a leading soprano of both the Toronto Opera Festival Company and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation Opera Company. She has appeared as a soloist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, and prior to living in Detroit concertized across Canada.

She has won critical praise as an exponent of contemporary music. Her performance Tuesday will include three Brahms folk songs, Schubert's "Seligkeit" and "Der Neugierige," a Massenet aria from "Hérodiade," four Creole songs arranged by Nickerson and Magda's aria "To This We Come" from Act II of Massenet's opera, "The Cossack."

Disturbed Husband Tells Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife is 30 and I am 41. We have two children. My wife has had me believe for 22 years that she couldn't drive a car. I had to drive her everywhere she wanted to go.

Now get this. I just found out from a very reliable source that she's been driving 20 miles once a week to meet a certain man while she was supposed to be doing the marketing by bus. I am shocked and sick because a sweeter wife never lived. She was a perfect mother and I never came home to find her gone. What do you think I should do?

ABBY

IN A DAZE

DEAR IN: Ask her if the story is true. (Not all "reliable sources" are reliable. If she's been living a double life, put aside your own hurt and bitterness and do what is best for your family. Forgive her. And having forgiven her—don't mention it again.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man who is five feet, five, I am marrying a girl who is exactly my height in her stocking feet. When we would go anywhere she'd wear flats because I bothered her to be a little taller than I. I never bothered me, and for my part, she could have worn high heels.

We are being married soon, and she wants to wear high heels for her wedding. This is fine with me, but here's the catch. She wants me to get a pair of those phone-elyated shoes. I told her I wouldn't do it. Do you think I am wrong?

FIVE FEET FIVE

DEAR FIVE: No, I think you're right. If she wants to start her married life on the level, tell her to come down to earth. But don't surrender your masculinity by inches.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is people who "drop by" just before bedtime and hang around waiting to be invited to join you for dinner.

Well, this "friend" pulled that hanging around stunt once too often. We usually eat at 6:30 but I waited until 7:30. The children even complained (in front of him) that they were hungry, but he didn't mind.

I finally asked him if he had his dinner. He said, "No." So I said, "Well, you had better go home and get it because we are eating now." He left, and we haven't seen him since. Was I too blunt?

NOBODY'S FOOL

DEAR NOBODY'S FOOL: Slightly. You could have achieved the same result by saying, "Will you please excuse us while we have our dinner?" The man may have little sense, but he probably has feelings.

You a Bad Hostess?

By RUTH MILLETT

Your guests aren't going to be happy if—

You invite them for dinner without warning that they are to be captive audience and spend the evening watching movies or slides, with a commentary something like this: "Something happened to my light meter when I took this photo but I'll show it to you, anyway."

You invite people who love to talk to your home and then turn the light off so loud that they can't even hear themselves think, much less carry on a conversation.

You ask friends up to your weekend cabin and announce after they arrive that you planned to paint the cabin, saw enough logs to last all winter, clear out the brush, or tackle some other job you figure the guests can pitch in and help you do.

You invite guests for "supper at seven" and are sure a relaxed hostess that you don't get around to serving before 10 or 11.

You invite a few bors to your party and let them ruin the evening for the other guests simply because you couldn't face an evening of having the bors by themselves.

You insist on guests you know are dithering having second servings of rich food and refuse to take "no" for an answer.

You act as though drop-in guests have come to your house just to watch TV and keep the set turned on all evening, paying a lot more attention to it than you do to your visitors.

Call Dependents Back to U.S.

Army Orders One Half of Families of Civilian Personnel Home

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Army Thursday ordered its major overseas military commands to send home about one half of all dependents of civilian employees in the next 18 months.

The order, matching a cutback of troop dependents overseas, is part of a White House-directed move to slash foreign spending to protect American gold and dollar reserves.

The Army said that about 16,000 civilian dependents are stationed on its military bases around the world.

Nearly 250,000 dependents of Army personnel are also at overseas posts, most of them in West Germany.

Under the Army's directive, only dependents of personnel, both civilian and military, performing essential services will be allowed to remain overseas.

The Army reported today that single civilian employees or those not accompanied by dependents are to be recruited to replace those who return home with their families.

Defense Department authorities have estimated that each American dependent overseas spends about $1,000 annually.

Bay State Governor Urges Reorganization

BOSTON (AP) — Contractor John A. Volpe, former federal highway administrator, took office Thursday as Massachusetts' 61st governor and called for a reorganization of big state agencies which have been under fire.

Massachusetts' first Republican governor to have a legislature completely controlled by Democrats, Volpe proposed a reorganization of both the state public works department and the metropolitan district commission which serves greater Boston.

BACK TO CUBA — Cuba's Miami consul general, Edelberto Diaz Alvarez, center, and consular staff are shown being escorted Thursday night by a policeman from the building where they closed the consulate in the wake of the Cuba-U. Justice Will Be Blind in Iosco County — Really TAWAS CITY (UP)—Justice, administered by the Iosco County prosecutor the next two years, truly will be blind.

For 33-year-old Prosecutor William McCready, it totally blinds him and has been since 1959.

But even with his handicap, the handsome young McCready won a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State University and a law degree from the University of Michigan and established a law practice here.

With a leader dog as his guide, McCready entered the prosecutor's race in August's Republican primary and upset incumbent Paul Harvey, No Democrat, challenged McCready in the general election.

DOG REMAINS LOYAL

So Sunday he became Prosecutor McCready. And still at his side was Storm, a devoted guide who had seen him through college and to admission to the Michigan Bar in March 1959.

"I haven't been bad," said McCready of his blindness, but he has a word of warning for anyone prone to "play around with a pistol." That word is: "Don't."

"It was an empty one, yet," McCready says sarcastically of the gun that went off in November 1959 and sent a bullet crashing into his head and cutting the optic nerve from both eyes.

Of the prosecutor's job on which he now is embarked, McCready says:

"In one sense it will be a new and different experience, but I cannot visualize any difficulties as long as the work load proceeds at a natural pace."

While he can't see a complainant's or a witness' reaction, he figures he may learn even more from the person's voice.

WITHOUT DISTRACTIONS

"I can concentrate on the matter at hand without courtroom distractions," McCready said with confidence, adding:

"The only misgiving I have is whether I can judge a 'good' complaint from a 'bad' one. Sometimes I am gullible. I am sure, however, that this problem will be resolved with experience."

McCready is a native of Twinning, in Arenac County, and lives in Tawas City with his wife Rachel and their daughters Linda, Beth, 2, and Lois Jean, born Tuesday, two days after he became prosecutor.

Army Wants Its Money Back From Ex-Soldier

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — The government is demanding that a former soldier repay part of his re-enlistment bonus because he didn't serve his six-year hitch.

A federal court suit says E.B. Dupuy of near Greenville in 1956 signed up for six years in the Army, picked up a bonus of $336 then wound up being discharged in 1958 "due to misconduct."

The government figures that left Dupuy owing the government $3 years, 10 months and 29 days, which boiled down to a $610.57 claim on the bonus.

However, Dupuy's last Army pay check, $75.00, was withheld and subtracted from the $610.57, leaving him $535.45 in the red, plus interests and court costs, the suit said.

Football Company Feud Flares

Lions and Tigers on Prowl in Motor City

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There's never a dull moment on the Detroit sports scene.

There's never a dull moment on the Detroit sports scene. In teams often takes place in the front offices rather than on the athletic field or arena.

Yesterday, the Lions and the Tigers, the two major athletic teams, were on the prowl in the Motor City.

At the Detroit Football Company on Michigan Avenue, home of the Lions, fuel was added to the internal feud for control of the club by forces which support and oppose the management and presidency of Edwin J. Anderson.

William Clay Ford, a Lions' director and the chairman of the club's management committee, called a press conference at 3:00 p.m. and revealed the position of 14 directors who signed a letter in support of Anderson.

Two hours later, just down the street at the Sheraton

Cadillac Hotel, the other half of the Detroit animal kingdom, the Tigers, entertained the Press at the annual winter banquet.

The Tiger session was far more serene than the Lions' den or the hectic 1960 summer memories of DeWitt, Dykes, Gordon, Kuenn and other front office headlines and problems.

New president John Fetzer made his appearance and introduced the new field manager Bob Scheffing.

All the sports teams were represented at the Tiger banquet. The Tigers talked baseball, the Lions talked football, the Pistons talked basketball and the Red Wings talked hockey. They all talked to each other and about one another's sport.

One thing is certain, 1961 may not be a championship year for the four pro teams but the respective front offices should produce some interesting stories.

Fight for Proxy
Votes Divides
Grid DirectorsAnti-Anderson Forces
Object to Clique on 15-Man Board

DETROIT — What is the issue causing the internal strife within the stockholders' ranks of the Detroit Football Company?

They talk about the team's season record, the dividends, the financial strength, the seating of directors, but the issues always comes back to — Edwin J. Anderson.

William Clay Ford, one of the Lions' 15 directors, submitted a letter to the 12 stockholders in the company. In the letter he charged that certain stockholders led by ex-president Lyle Fife was attempting to get control of the board of directors by soliciting proxy votes for the past several months.

The letter was signed by 11 of the 15 directors. The non-signing director was Ray Davidson, known to be Fife's ally along with former director George Cavanaugh who resigned last month.

When it was learned that a proxy fight was pending at the February 23rd meeting of the stockholders, the 11 directors formed the "management committee" with Ford as chairman.

Ford pointed to the football company's success on the field and in the financial column.

"By any measuring stick, the Lions operation is successful and sound, that's why 11 of 15 members of the board back the present management and will fight to keep it," he said.

Last spring a group headed by Fife attempted to relieve Anderson of the presidency and as general manager, claiming poor management.

"I respect Mr. Anderson's judgment and will back him to the hilt," said Ford, "his record speaks for itself."

"I cannot tell you what is the real issue, Fife has no basis of fact in his statements. I guess old directors never die they just start proxy fights," he added.

It is evident that both sides will battle for proxy votes at the annual election in February.

The anti-Anderson forces claim they have no argument with regard to the dividends, the football success, the coaching or the financial status.

One of the objections raised to Ford's salary, $100,000, is that the stockholders of the Lions are also stockholders in the Guelph Brewery, of which Anderson was president prior to his Lions position. These stockholders hold a disgruntled attitude over the fact that Anderson's severance by the brewery has cost them some $25,000 annually for five years prior to him as severance pay.

Another objection raised by Fife was his claim that Anderson is forming a clique of directors. Some members have been named directors with a 100 percent ownership while long time stockholders were denied directorships.

Ford identified that some of the current directors did not vote in the election when they were voted on prior to his Lions position. He said that the Lions' board was purchased with the money of the Lions' franchise.

Many other reasons spurred the fight against Anderson. One was the Lions' financial situation of two years ago, in which Anderson gave the Lions a two-year contract without bonding him to an option. He eventually left the Lions and they had no legal claim on him.

The 2nd place boys got trophies because the winners had already won prizes and cannot get two trophies. The 1st place boys were purchased with the money of the Lions' franchise.

Baseball Company Has Annual Fete

Bengals to Get 'Teeth,' Fetzer Tells Writers

THAWING SMILE — Bob Scheffing, new manager of the Detroit Tigers, hopes to warm up the ice cold Bengals when he takes over the team this year. The ice replica of a baseball player was shown at the Tigers' banquet last night. Scheffing arrived in Detroit from his home in warm Arizona for the annual press party.

Scheffing said he was ready to do his best and get the best out of a "youthful" Tiger team next season.

"We won't have a damn coach around just acting in an advisory capacity," he said. "We will have a couple coaches who will do just that—coach."

"We will expect an honest, earnest effort from every player on the team," he commented, "and any loafers will earn their passage off the team."

At the dinner table interview, Scheffing admitted the whole managing the Chicago Cubs, too many of the field decisions were forced on him by president Phil Wrigley.

Scheffing objected to many of the trades the Cubs made. He felt that when he reached the point that a young and good ball club was being made, Wrigley found it was to trade off some players to break the "monopoly."

He recalled that just before he was fired he was called to the front office by Wrigley. "I felt very confident that I had done a pretty good job and that things looked good for the future. I thought he (Wrigley) would talk about another contract and a salary increase. Instead he informed me he was putting Charlie Grimm in charge."

"This business me, but that's the way he operates. It sure is amazing how he can turn a man on a fair contract into a man who runs the ball club."

Next week Scheffing will tour Michigan to meet with out-of-town press and radio people. "We (the Tigers) and they (the press) ought to get along fine," he said.

DETROIT — It was a poor anniversary celebration for Sid Abel.

Last night was the third anniversary of Abel's baptism as head coach of the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings took a real dunking last night against the Toronto Maple Leafs, losing 4-1 and coming within four minutes of setting a club record for consecutive shutouts at home.

Norm Ullman saved the Wings from the embarrassment, scoring in the final period for Detroit's first goal at home since the second period of a game Dec. 15. Sure that time the Wings went nearly 50 minutes on Olympia Stadium ice without scoring.

Frank Mahovlich, Billy Harris, George Armstrong and Jackie Dore have scored for the Leafs, who now have won seven in a row on the road. On the other hand, the Wings have not won at home since Thanksgiving night. There have been six losses and a tie in that stretch of misery.

"I don't know what's wrong," said Abel. "We're getting plenty of opportunities — we can't attack about that. We can't take out of advantage of them. Then we make a silly mistake, and boom — the other 2000 score."

The Wings had 45 shots at Johnny Bower and the Leafs had 23 at Terry Sawchuk. But the Red Wings goalie was far from his best. It's likely Frank Bassen will be in the nets as soon as he recovers from a head cold.

A week ago, the Wings were in this place and traded Toronto by only three points. Today the Leafs lead over the fourth place Red Wings by four points.

Nolan Miller, one of the few European-born players to make the grade in the National Hockey League, is on a hot scoring streak and is paying off for the third go Black Hawks.

The 20-year-old sophomore center scored a late second period goal at Boston last night to give the Hawks their sixth consecutive triumph, a 4-3 verdict over the Bruins.

The goal was the eighth by Mikita, who was born in Czechoslovakia and emigrated to Canada in 1938, during the six-game streak.

The Hawks are in third place, four points ahead of the fourth place Bruins.

Mikita, a smart puck handler and playmaker but never a high scorer in the NHL, has been the Hawks' big gun during the streak. He has scored at least one goal in each of the last six games and four of the goals have proved to be winning goals.

Mikita had managed only three other tallies in the season's first 73 games and had only eight in 95 games in 1959-60.
