The Golden Rule: Drugs aren't cool!

And if you think they are,
then you're just fooling yourself.

They'll destroy your mind,
ruin your health and drain your bankroll

...or you could get lucky and just die.

It doesn't take a college education to get smart about staying away from drugs.
So wise up and put your foot down.
Drugs are bad news, and anyone with a head on his or her shoulders can figure it out.

You, not drugs, should run your life!

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

In 1957, the late Alfred G. and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre Meadow Brook estate to Michigan State University to establish a college in Oakland County.

Oakland University was founded in 1957 as a branch campus of MSU, with 570 first-year students. By the mid-1960s, it had evolved into a medium-sized university and in 1970 became an independent, state-assisted university. It now offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and more than 30 graduate programs, and enrolls about 12,000 students.

OU's distinct instructional programs — the college of Arts and Sciences, School of Economics and Management, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Human and Education Services and School of Nursing — offer a diverse curricula of general education and career preparation courses. Virtually all of these courses are taught by faculty members, not teaching assistants.

The Honors College, a division of the College of Arts and Sciences, meets the educational needs of highly motivated students. The Division of Continuing Education meets the needs of nontraditional adult learners through evening and extension programs.

Academic support facilities include such notable entities as the Eye Research Institute, the only major eye research center in the United States not affiliated with a medical school; the Meadowbrook Health Enhancement Center, which provides health maintenance/health improvement and cardiac rehabilitation community outreach programs; and the Center for Robotics and Advanced Automation, a unit of the school of Engineering and Computer Science that utilizes high technology manufacturing methods.

And OU's professional arts programs annually attract thousands to the campus. OU has received national recognition and local kudos for its Meadow Brook Theatre, Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Music Festival, the summer home of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

OU is located 25 miles north of Detroit, in the small town of Rochester. OU's modern campus, which houses the university's many academic and public service programs, is located on a beautifully wooded site — much of it still undeveloped.

OU ATHLETIC STAFF

Athletic Director

The Oakland University athletic programs have risen to heights of nosebleed proportions under the guidance of Dr. Paul Hartman. This is not a new feat for the veteran athletic administrator. The ninth-year chief of Pioneer athletics has taken four different athletic programs to new levels of success in an administrative career that has spanned four decades.

The OU athletic program has flourished under Hartman. Last year the women's swimming team won its second straight national championship, while the men's swimmers finished second nationally for the fifth straight season. OU also had its soccer team earn a NCAA bid for the fifth consecutive year, as well as its first-ever All-American in cross country. In 1989-90 three winter teams placed in the top four nationally, including the champion women's swimming unit. Those three, men's swimming, women's basketball, and the women's swimmers, won GLIAC titles, and were joined by the soccer team in post-season play. In 1988-89 Oakland equalled its best finish ever in the President's Cup, the all-sports trophy in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Pioneers finished third in the Cup standings with just 10 league sports, and had the highest average of points per sport of any GLIAC school. OU won four GLIAC Championships that year, and eight of the 10 league teams finished no lower than third. Men's and women's swimming won league titles and finished in the top three nationally. Women's basketball and women's volleyball also won league crowns, with the hoopsters advancing to the NCAA tournament. Soccer, Oakland's only non-GLIAC sport, was defeated in the national semi-finals.

Hartman has made a number of changes since arriving at OU. The department has brought back a Varsity "O" club for former athletes, as well as the Oakland 100, a basketball support group. OU has also brought back baseball as a varsity sport, and made a number of improvements in the Lepley Sports Center, ranging from the refurbishing of the locker rooms and equipment area to renovation of offices and playing facilities. The department has also added the Pioneer Lounge, which is used for conferences and athletic receptions.

Previously Hartman had developed additional summer camp programs, created a new season ticket plan, instituted a Hall of Honor for exceptional Pioneer athletes, and introduced the first athletic team banquet.

The OU athletic director also made a large impact in his previous posts. At Plymouth State College in New Hampshire, his first post, Hartman started a football program with enthusiastic student support. Fifteen years later, a running back named Joe Dudek put that program on the map with a bid for the Heisman Trophy. In his second post, at Florida International University, Hartman began a women's golf program. One of the first women's scholarship award winners was Pat Bradley, who later became the first $2 million winner on the Ladies Pro Golf Association tour. Hartman did not begin the basketball program at his next stop, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, but one of his athletes there, Terry Porter, drew national attention as an NBA draftee from a non-scholarship school, and is now an outstanding point guard for the Portland Trailblazers.

A graduate of Ohio State University and a native of Columbus, Ohio, Hartman lives in Rochester with his wife, Jane. He is the third OU director, succeeding Corey Van Fleet in June of 1983. The only other AD was OU's founding father of athletics, Hollie Lepley.

The program has seen improved records, improved attendance, and improved camp numbers since Hartman's arrival in 1983, but the optimistic Pioneer athletic director is still sure the best is yet to come.

GREG KAMPE

Head Basketball Coach
Assistant to the Athletic Director

When Greg Kampe arrived at Oakland University to take over the men's basketball program seven years ago, his goal was a modest one — make the Pioneers a consistent winner and a GLIAC contender. It wasn't a small task by any means, considering OU's less than outstanding history in men's hoop. In the last five seasons, that goal has been achieved. OU has gone 94-47 in the last five years, including its first two 20-win seasons, and has finished third in the GLIAC in three of those campaigns, its highest finish ever. With credibility on the court a reality, Kampe has now set his sights on bigger targets, like a league title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. Both would be firsts for an OU men's basketball squad.

Kampe has also added credibility to the OU program in the classroom, something he takes great pride in. Last season Lee Fitzpatrick kept alive OU's streak of having a player on the Academic All-GLIAC team every year of Kampe's tenure. Two years ago senior Brian Gregory earned an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship and third-team Academic All-America honors, and was one of two Pioneers on the Academic All-GLIAC squad. Three seasons ago John Henderson was an All-GLIAC honoree for his performance both on the court and in the classroom. He also became an Academic All-District winner and Academic All-America candidate during Kampe's tenure, as did Robb Skinner, an Academic All-American candidate in 1985-86. Scott Bittinger was GLIAC Player of the Year in 1987-88 and an Academic All-GLIAC choice the same year. In the last five years 35 percent of the nominees for Academic All-GLIAC and eight first team selections were Oakland basketball players.

"We've been able to go out and find very good students who are also very good basketball players," Kampe said. "Scott Bittinger is a perfect example of this. He was an All-American and league Player of the Year, graduated with over a 3.00 and got a good job out of college. This is what coaching is all about."

Kampe came to OU from a program that has a long history of combining athletic and academic excellence. The Pioneer coach spent six years as an assistant coach at the University of Toledo before coming to OU. During Kampe's six years at Toledo, the Rockets captured three Mid-American Conference (MAC) basketball championships and compiled a 117-57 overall record. The school earned two NCAA tournament bids and one to the NIT. Academically, 91 percent of Toledo's basketball players earned bachelor's degrees, 33 percent of those continuing to earn graduate degrees.

Kampe is a 1978 graduate of Bowling Green State University with a bachelor's degree in business and journalism. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Toledo before accepting the full-time assistant coach's position in 1979. He earned a Master of Arts degree in physical education while at Toledo.

Kampe personally combined excellence as an athlete and in the classroom in college. He is the only athlete in MAC history to earn first team All-Academic honors in both football and basketball. He earned dean's list honors with a 3.40 grade point average at BGSU, and received the President's Award as an outstanding senior student.

His father, Kurt, was a guard on the University of Michigan's 1947 Rose Bowl championship team which went 10-0. Brother Kurt Jr., was a two-year letterwinner for the Wolverines in 1974 and 1975.

The 35-year-old Kampe lives in Rochester with his wife, Susan, and their four-year-old son, Keith.

QUOTING COACH KAMPE

THIS IS YOUR EIGHTH YEAR AS HEAD COACH AT OAKLAND. HAVE YOUR GOALS CHANGED OVER THE YEARS?

As you get older and get more experience, everyone changes a little bit. Our goals are to win basketball games and graduate our athletes and do it in the way a college should. The purpose of college athletics is to educate today's youth and our main goal is teaching people how to win and be successful in life and doing it in a positive way.

WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE EACH OF YOUR PLAYERS TO TAKE WITH THEM WHEN THEY GRADUATE?

We live in a very competitive society, and it is important that they learn how to compete successfully and how to live their lives properly so they can reach their goals in life. Those are the things we strive to teach through athletics.

WHAT HAVE BEEN THE HIGHLIGHTS OF YOUR SEVEN YEARS AT OAKLAND?

Our win at Ferris State (54-53, 1987-88) on a shot by Scott Bittinger with one second to play was the best win I have been associated with here. The highlights for me are that we have graduated all but one of our players and that I have had good people on my teams and a good relationship with those people. I am very pleased that people like Scott Bittinger, Brian Gregory, and John Henderson come back and call me and want to know how things are going at Oakland. Players that leave here continue to be interested in our program, and that's very important to me.

HOW DO YOU SEE YOURSELF AS A COACH?

I think I am demanding in that I want my players to do things the way I think is right. I believe that by demanding they do things the way I want them done, I am giving them a perspective. When they leave Oakland, they have a right to choose the way they want to go. We have a way that we think things should be done at Oakland, and when they leave I hope it is with some insight on how to be successful.

WHAT WILL BE YOUR KEYS FOR SUCCESS THIS YEAR?

Our field goal percentage must be much better than it has been. We also must be a better defensive team than in the past, and convince our players that defense doesn't end until you get the rebound. If we can rebound, defend, and shoot the ball well, then we can be successful.

HOW DOES ERIC TAYLOR RANK AMONG THE PLAYERS YOU HAVE HAD AT OAKLAND, AND THE PLAYERS YOU HAVE SEEN WHILE AT OAKLAND?

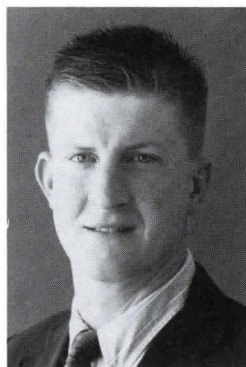

I think it would be unfair to compare Eric to other players who have played their senior year. Eric has had a tremendous career. I think he will be remembered for his senior season. He has a chance to bring a championship to Oakland University, something none of our great players of the past have been able to do. If he can accomplish that, then I think he probably will be remembered as the greatest player in Oakland history. I've seen a lot of great players in my 13 years in this business, and Eric has as much sheer talent as any of them. But most of those players have also brought their teams championships.

HOW DO YOU VIEW THE GLIAC RACE THIS YEAR?

The last few years the GLIAC has been fairly predictable. This year I think as many as seven of the nine teams can finish in the top four. Every team in our league will be strong this year. Lake Superior was at the bottom, climbed to the middle, and this year I think they have as much talent as anyone in the league. I think Northern Michigan, Grand Valley, Ferris State, and Saginaw Valley could all win our conference. The fourth place team could be .500 because teams are so even.

WHAT IS YOUR FONDEST WISH AS A COACH?

My fondest wish is that Oakland University would graduate every athlete that came through our system, have many successful years, and fill our building full of students that care about Oakland basketball.

ERIC STEPHAN
Assistant Coach

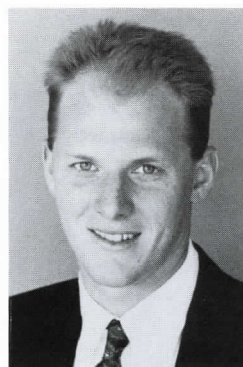

Eric Stephan becomes the top assistant on coach Greg Kampe's staff this year after Mark Coffman's departure to Weber State. Stephan is in his third year as an assistant coach after spending two years as the graduate assistant at OU. His duties include recruiting, scouting, academic advising, and practice work.

"Moving up the ladder is what you want in this profession, and I'm happy to get the chance to do that at Oakland," Stephan said. "My goal is to keep bringing in the same kind of quality players as we have the past few years, and keep Oakland's name in the recruiting circles. Hopefully we can bring in the players that will take us to the next step — the GLIAC championship and an NCAA tournament bid."

Stephan was a four-year letter-winner at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He started as a senior, averaging five points and seven boards per contest. His high game of 19 points and 15 rebounds came against Concordia-Mequeon. Stephan earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Carthage, where he was also Chairman of the President's Advisory Committee and President of the Student Activities Board.

Stephan is a camp veteran, having worked three years at the Metro Index Basketball Camp, as well as at camps at Penn State and James Madison Universities. Stephan, a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan, has also worked both the OU and Isiah Thomas Basketball Camps at Oakland.

A four-year basketball letterman at Berkley High School, the 27-year-old Stephan is single and lives in Pontiac.

CLARK PLICHTA
Assistant Coach

Clark Plichta joins the Oakland basketball staff as an assistant coach this year. Plichta's responsibilities will include recruiting, scouting, and practice work.

Plichta's previous coaching experience consists of one-year stints as an assistant coach at both Muskegon Community College and Nazareth College. He was an assistant at Nazareth last year after playing for the Moles for two seasons. Prior to that he coached for one year and played for two at Muskegon CC.

Plichta served as team captain during his senior year at Nazareth, and was a part of the Muskegon CC team that advanced to the state finals. A 1990 graduate of Nazareth with a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education, Plichta was a third-team All-State selection as a prep senior at Ravenna High School.

The 24-year-old Plichta has worked camps at Western Michigan, as well as the Chuck Daly camp at Oakland University. He is single and lives in Pontiac.

PIONEER HOPES RIDE ON ERIC TAYLOR AND SOLID FORWARDS

The OU men's basketball team did a lot of growing up in 1990-91. Coach Greg Kampe's young squad achieved another third place GLIAC finish and the fifth straight season of double-figure league wins, as well as the fifth consecutive overall winning season. The 1991-92 squad may have a much different look to it as it goes for another winning campaign and a run at the top of the GLIAC.

"I've always been one to play to strengths, so we may be a slow down, pattern team this year," Kampe said. "Pressing and running may not be a strength for us, and with no proven point guard, we may go with a two guard front. Whoever gets it brings it up."

This year's squad features an All-American at guard and talented depth at forward. The questions will be about depth in the backcourt and someone to play in the middle.

"This is my eighth year as head coach," Kampe said, "and I've never been comfortable with our center situation. We have always been depleted by injuries or circumstances. We have no proven depth in the backcourt. Someone must step forward and prove themselves worthy of playing time."

What the Pioneers do have is senior Eric Taylor. An All-American and GLIAC Player of the Year last year, Taylor will become only the second player to score 2,000 career points at OU during the coming season. Taylor was selected third-team All-American by Basketball Gazette, as well as Small All-American by UPI, which includes players 5-10 and under regardless of NCAA division. Taylor averaged 23.6 points overall, 24.1 in GLIAC play to lead the league for the second straight year. His act may be toned down a little bit this year.

"Eric may not get as many shots this year," Kampe said. "I would like to get him less quantity but more quality. The way I am leaning this year is to get him his shots in the team concept."

Joining Taylor in the backcourt will be sophomore Ty McGregor. McGregor started 10 games last year in OU's three-guard starting line-up, and averaged 5.4 points and just over two assists. He will be OU's number one point guard in a system that may not have a point guard. The Pioneers needed depth at guard may come from a trio of players — sophomores Brian Tucker and Jeff Hurdle and freshman Mario McIntosh. Tucker played in 20 games for the Pioneers last year, scoring just over a point a game. Hurdle and McIntosh are both transfers — Hurdle from Washington U. in St. Louis and McIntosh from the University of Nebraska, where he red-shirted during his first year. One or more of those three must step forward to give the Pioneers a solid backcourt. Three freshmen walk-ons — Chris Wasilk, Eric Hardy, and Duane Simon — will also be in the hunt for playing time.

The Pioneers strength will be up front where senior Lee Fitzpatrick is joined by three sophomores who gained valuable experience last year — Tom Eller, Ken Crum, and Phil Johnson. Fitzpatrick, who may end up starting in the middle for Oakland, averaged 6.4 points and 6.2 boards last year. Eller was a starter from day one at Oakland, and improved by leaps and bounds as the year progressed. His final averages were 9.8 points and 6.2 boards, and he became OU's inside defensive stopper. Crum played in 28 games for the Pioneers a year ago, averaging just under three points per game. With improved overall strength this year and the ability to score both inside and out, Crum could find himself in the opening day starting line-up for Oakland. Johnson played in just 13 games last year after missing a large part of the season due to a bout with chicken pox. Potentially a strong inside scorer and rebounder, Johnson could see substantial minutes this year.

OU's front court effort could be even better with contributions from a pair of seniors. Joel Jensen started seven games last year and showed flashes of solid play. With improved consistency, the seven-footer who averaged 4.5 points in 1990-91 could solve the Pioneers problem in the middle. Fifth-year senior Bryan Paraham is an excellent rebounder who can run the floor and leap with the best of them. He could provide a big boost to the Pioneer front court.

"Our forwards are definitely the strength of our team," Kampe said. "They are very athletic and shoot the ball very well. Eller is an All-Defensive calibre player. We will be solid on defense, except for our ability to defend the post."

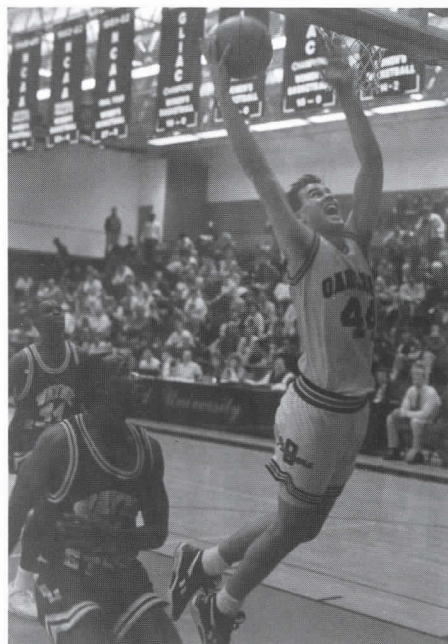

The unproven Pioneers will get a chance to prove themselves right off the bat. OU's opening game will be on the road against perennial national power Kentucky Wesleyan University. OU's other non-league road games include another trip to Central Michigan and a tough game at Edinboro University. Challenging the Pioneers at home will be the University of Findlay and St. Mary's College, both of which beat Oakland on their respective home floors last year. The Pioneers will also welcome Calvin, Northern Kentucky, and Indiana of Pennsylvania in the toughest field yet for the Bankshot Basketball Classic. Throw in 16 league games for the right to make the four-team field in the GLIAC Tournament, and you have very little rest for OU as it takes on what may be it's toughest schedule yet.

"The way we are planning on playing will make rebounding a key," Kampe said. "In a slower tempo game, this will be more critical than in the past. We have quality offensive rebounders, but the question is how good our defensive board work will be."

On paper OU looks young and thin, but with loads of potential. And of course, there's Eric Taylor. If the Pioneers' young veterans can step up and carry a great deal of the load, the depth problems will disappear and the talent — and there's a lot of that — will take over. That could be enough for Oakland to make another run at the frontrunners in the GLIAC.

Senior Eric Taylor has led the GLIAC in scoring in each of the last two years.

Let ARA do it!

Throughout the world, the 110,000 employees of ARA are at your service as never before.

When ARA began, 25 years ago, your needs for service were simple. Not any more. Today, your needs for such services as food and refreshment, health care, early childhood education, transportation, magazine and book distribution, and uniform rental have grown dramatically.

In response, ARA has remained at the forefront of service management — providing the personal touch of a neighborhood company with the resources of a world-wide corporation.

Today, and in the future, as your world continues to demand more and better services, ARA will give you even more reason to say:

"Let ARA do it!"

DO YOU KNOW WHEN TO SAY WHEN?

Every day, good people all across America enjoy the refreshment of a cold beer or alcoholic beverage. And they do it with good sense.

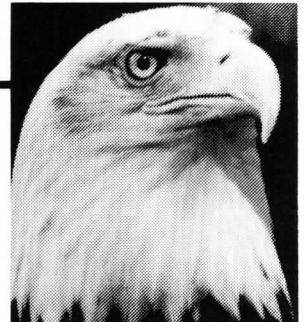

But, there'll always be a few who don't know the meaning of moderation.

To help educate these people, Anheuser-Busch and your local distributor are proud to have developed "KNOW WHEN TO SAY WHEN." A national campaign to promote greater awareness of the responsibilities associated with drinking.

Anheuser-Busch is proud of the product we brew and sell. We know having a drink in moderation is part of a normal lifestyle for millions of Americans. All it takes is to know when to say when. Because you're the cutoff man.
