League Planning to File Lawsuit on Courthouse

Seek to Block Work on County Project; Hit at Financing

The newly formed Oakland County Taxpayers' League said today it will file a suit in Circuit Court asking a court order to block construction of the proposed new county courthouse at the county's service center.

Philip J. Henry of Holly, president of the league, said the group has been formed within the past two weeks, after a Pontiac Press series outlining financial plans for the courthouse.

"The league is not opposed to a sound building program for the replacement of antiquated buildings," Henry said, "but it is opposed to unwarranted increases in the annual budgets for the purpose of providing a surplus to transfer to a building fund.

"Such a practice clearly violates the law and deprives the taxpayers of their statutory right to approve expenditures in excess of statutory limitations."

Henry pointed out the annual budget has increased by more than $4 million yearly since 1950, or an increase of more than 100 per cent.

He said the suit will be filed tomorrow by Pontiac attorneys William H. Wilmot and former Circuit Judge Glen C. Gillespie.

The suit asks a permanent court order ruling that the Board of Supervisors has no authority to designate a new courthouse site, and blocking county use of funds illegally accumulated.

A temporary injunction blocking further courthouse action until the suit has been heard also is sought.

CITES 4 COMPLAINTS

The suit charges four specific complaints.

Citing Michigan statutes and court rulings, the complaint claims the board has no authority to designate a new courthouse site or to plan the building partly inside and partly outside the city limits of Pontiac, the county seat.

Quits Job in Italy

Clare Luce Resigns Post as Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce resigned today as ambassador to Italy. President Eisenhower accepted the resignation with an expression of "great personal regret" and congratulations for "a job superbly done."

The White House announced the resignation after Mrs. Luce had conferred with the President for an hour.

There had been reports for some time that Mrs. Luce intended to resign, and that James D. Zellerbach, 64-year-old San Francisco industrialist, was under consideration as her successor.

Zellerbach was foreign aid director in Italy from 1948 to 1950.

The effective date of the resignation was left up in the air. But Mrs. Luce told reporters she plans to return to Italy and to leave her post after the Christmas holidays. She said she supposed the resignation would be effective "when a new ambassador is appointed."

Mrs. Luce, 53, has been ambassador to Italy since early 1953. In her letter of resignation, which the White House made public, she mentioned her recent poor health and said she would require several months of real rest. She asked that her resignation be accepted "at the earliest convenient moment."

In his letter accepting Mrs. Luce's resignation, Eisenhower said that he sincerely hoped that "your return to private life is only temporary and that your government may soon again have the benefit of your services."

Mrs. Luce told reporters, however, that while she will "always be available" for any service requested of her, she has no plans at all along that line.

She said there was no mention in her conference with the President of the possibility of her becoming ambassador to India.

Western Envoys Butt of Tirade by Khrushchev

'We Will Bury You' Red Party Boss Warns at Polish Reception

MOSCOW (AP)—Red-faced and gesticulating, Nikita S. Khrushchev told the West last night: "We will bury you."

For the second consecutive night, the Soviet Communist party boss delivered an anti-Western tirade so bitter that diplomats from Atlantic Alliance nations and Israel left the room.

Khruschchev's main themes at a Polish Embassy reception were Egypt and Hungary.

Obviously speaking to the Western diplomats in attendance, Khrushchev said:

"If you don't like us, don't accept our invitations and don't invite us to come to see you.

"Whether you like it or not, history is on our side. We will bury you."

The Western envoys, including U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen, retired to an outer room where one said, "The atmosphere is much more pleasant." They returned to the hall where the Poles were toasting a just-signed Moscow-Warsaw joint declaration after Khrushchev finished speaking.

DENOUNCES IMPERIALISTS

The night before, Khrushchev had denounced "Fascist gangs" in Hungary and "imperialists and their puppets" in the Egyptian war during a Kremlin reception for the Poles.

On that occasion the Western diplomats stalked out and did not return.

REFERS TO HUNGARY

Of Hungary, Khrushchev said: "We are very sorry that such a situation exists there. We are sure that the Hungarian working class will find the strength to overcome the difficulties. But the most important thing is that the counterrevolution must be shattered."

Of Egypt:

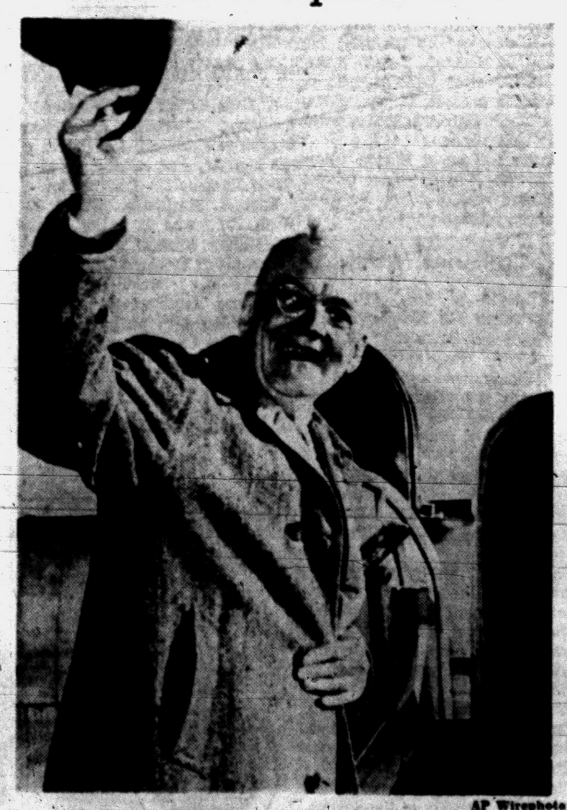

"The Western powers are trying to denigrate Nasser. . . . The situation is serious and we are realists. The fire must be put out. I think the British and French will be wise enough to withdraw their forces and then Egypt will emerge stronger than ever."

Again referring to the West, Khrushchev said:

"You say we want war, but you

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont's Daughter Dies

Outlives Her Kin at 107

After 107 years, Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor was left without a family yesterday when her daughter, Mrs. Ella J. Keller, died after a three-week illness.

Mrs. Taylor, one of Michigan's oldest residents, had lived with her daughter at 259 Center St., Highland Township.

Mrs. Keller, 87, was the oldest of four children and the only survivor. Born in 1869 on the shores of White Lake, she spent her entire life in Highland Township.

Her parents were among the first settlers to live in the area.

Mrs. Keller was married to John H. DeGarmo for 43 years. After his death she married Frank S. Keller, who preceded her in death two years ago.

A charter member of the Lions Chapter of O.E.S., she was active in the Missionary Society of the Congregational Church in Highland.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Keller is survived by a niece, Mrs. Helen Blackwelder of Milford, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Jason Stevens of Highland. She leaves several cousins in the area.

Service will be at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Congregational Church in Highland, with burial in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor temporarily will stay with a cousin, Mrs. R. J. Clark of Highland.

Seeking Witnesses to Unexplained Accident on U.S.16

Miss Teetah C. Dondero, 26, of Huntington Woods, grand niece of Michigan Congressman George A. Dondero, was one of three persons killed in a two-car collision near Brighton yesterday.

Also dead from the accident are Kenneth H. Ervin, 34, of Dearborn, driver of one of the cars, and his passenger, William Rowe Jr., 33, of Detroit.

Miss Dondero's mother and fiance both suffered severe injuries in the pileup. Mrs. Edward Dondero, 60, has fractures of the pelvis and both legs. Reino Leppi, 32, of Oak Park, the other driver, has an injured right knee, cuts and bruises. Both are in fair condition at Brighton's Mellus Hospital.

State Police have been unable to determine for certain how the accident happened on U.S. 16, four miles east of Brighton.

"Ervin was apparently passing another car and somehow got over into the third lane," an investigating trooper stated today. He said Ervin might have skidded into the opposite lane after applying his brakes to avoid a car ahead pulling out to pass at the time.

Troopers are seeking the operator of the car Ervin was reportedly passing and any witnesses to the accident in an effort to obtain more definite information on what actually happened.

Clearing Canal Is 6-Month Job

Dag Flies Back to Tell U.N. Result of Talks With Egypt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammerskjold arrived back in New York today to tell the U.N. General Assembly the results of his talks with Egyptian officials on guarding the cease-fire in the Middle East.

He planned to launch arrangements for U.N. help in reopening the blocked Suez Canal—a gigantic salvage job expected to take at least six months.

Before leaving Cairo, Hammarskjold said the Egyptian government had asked for assistance to clear the waterway and he had agreed in principle.

He declined to discuss other matters taken up with Egypt's President Nasser before making his report to the Assembly.

Nasser's chief political aide, Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, said in an interview Egypt would clear the canal with U.N. help.

The Egyptians have already protested British clearance operations, under way at the north end of the canal, as a violation of Egyptian sovereignty and of the cease-fire.

Hammarskjold talked with Nasser and other Egyptian leaders for three days about the duties of the new U.N. police force, which now has more than 500 men standing by at a base in the canal zone, and other details of the cease-fire the General Assembly ordered 11 days ago between the Egyptians and British, French and Israeli troops.

NO HINT OF MODIFICATION

There was no indication the Egyptians had modified their demand for speedy withdrawal of all foreign troops and stationing of the U.N. forces only at points on the old 1948 armistice line between Egypt and Israel. Sabry said Egypt expects the withdrawal to begin during the coming week if possible, without waiting for the U.N. troops to take over.

Pontiac Man Admits Shooting Accident

Pontiac police say Herbert B. Montgomery, 52, missing since his wife of one month was found dead in their home, 475 Arthur St., had admitted shooting her during a quarrel Oct. 29.

Brought back from Louisiana, where he was arrested by local police, Montgomery claims the killing was accidental, Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long said.

• • •

Montgomery admitted holding the .32 caliber revolver which killed his wife, Elizabeth, 37, a domestic servant, Long said.

He claimed the woman had threatened him with the gun because he was leaving her, Long said. In a scuffle for the gun, the woman pushed him away while his finger was on the trigger, he told Long.

"Scared and confused," Montgomery said, he left Pontiac by bus for Louisiana. He was arrested in Monroe, La. last Wednesday.

Paper Resorts to Wit

LONDON (Monday) (INS) — The London Daily Mail today reported Nikita S. Khrushchev's anti-West remarks at a Moscow reception Sunday under the banner headline:

"Mr. K. insults us again."

Defiant Rebels Now Resorting to Slowdown

Cold and Hunger Drive Sullen Workers Back to Budapest Plants

BUDAPEST (AP)—The Soviet army and its Hungarian Communist allies today broke the general strike in Budapest, but sullen Hungarian workers immediately resorted to a defiant slowdown strike.

Between 30 and 50 per cent of Budapest's industrial workers reported for work in the city's factories today.

Many of them declared they returned not because they believed the promises of Janos Kadar, the Soviet-imposed Premier, "but because we realize that winter is here, with its misery of cold and hunger."

In the workshops which Western correspondents were permitted to visit they found workers standing around in groups—talking but doing little if any work.

A Vienna report that the Russians were replacing their tank troops in Hungary with 20 fresh infantry divisions lacked confirmation here. No correspondent in Budapest can claim reliably to know anything of the kind.

• • •

Of the industrial situation, Radio Budapest said that, although 45 per cent of the working force appeared at some of the nation's major plants, in most cases production could not be resumed for lack of power. It attributed the absence of other workers to "transport difficulties."

REMAIN DEFIANT

At Csepel—the Danube island that is Hungary's biggest industrial complex—workers remained defiant. They showed up in their work clothes, but nobody did any work. Even though they predicted more of the work force would show up tomorrow, they said there would be no real production in the island's huge iron and steel works in the near future.

• • •

"We think this is the only sound thing we can do for the moment," a spokesman said. "We show up at the plant because we have got to get our wages and also because we have to stick together here. If we continue to remain at home the plant gates would be locked against us one day and it would be easier for the government to pick us off individually to deal with at home than if we are here in the factories and stand together."

Only two men did any work in the plants Western correspondents were able to visit today. It turned out they were repairing their own bicycles.

About half the workers at the Hungarian Optical Works and the GANZ electrical works in Budapest appeared this morning. Each has about 4,000 employes.

Out of the 10,000-man work force of the MAGAG state machinery factory, about 3,000 turned up. About 30 per cent of the 38,000 workers reported at the Csepel iron and steel plants.

Russian army officers, as well as Western newsmen, visited these plants this morning. The Russians politely inquired what the Soviet army could do to help and asked how the workers react-

Win Pot-O-Gold for Yule

Now that the holidays are creeping up fast, it's time to get busy at making a little extra money to cover added expenses. And there's no easier or more interesting way to do that than by entering the Pot-O-Gold contest.

This week's puzzle can bring you $700 if there's no winner for last week, and at the very least, a winner will take home $100 plus $25 if he's a subscriber. That should take care of your Christmas turkey and a few other trimmings, so if you're interested, turn to page 7 and start right now.

Just remember to follow the rules carefully and study the clues well. You don't want to be one of those whose entry is discarded because it comes in late or isn't mailed correctly.

And it probably would be a good idea to mail your entry a little early. With the Christmas mail rush about to begin, there might be a delay in getting your entry in.

To help you in selecting the right words for the winning solution, the following list of words contains all the correct answers:

Tense Bird Isn't Tasty

Let That Turkey Relax!

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR

Seventy-six million turkeys—it's a thought provoking mental indigestion.

The greediest small boy, hungrily imagining a fat, brown stuffed turkey on the family table Thursday, would lose his appetite at the sight of 76 million of them. Chances are, he'd never want a turkey again as long as he lives. But according to the Family Economics Bureau, that's how many turkeys there are this year.

A man in Reno, Nev., reportedly wired President Eisenhower Sunday, urging the President to "lead the nation in a humane Thanksgiving" by "putting your turkey in a coma before killing him."

The writer, Arthur Ellen, explains:

"A bird unfrightened at the time of his execution tastes better, due to the absence of adrenalin in his blood stream, and plucks easier, since the muscles holding his feathers are relaxed."

The coma, he says, can be administered "by first talking to him softly, then laying his head on the ground where you stretch a piece of white string.

Maybe, if we didn't eat them Thursday, the 76 million turkeys would migrate, like lemmings, crossing the continent and plunging into the Atlantic Ocean.

Then we wouldn't have an Atlantic Ocean any more.

Fire Destroys Oxbow Grocery

Two Families Escape; Firemen Battle Blaze for Eight Hours

A fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the Lakeside Oxbow Grocery, 9775 Elizabeth Lake road, White Lake Township, early Sunday morning, causing an estimated damage in excess of $45,000.

Contents of the Oxbow Lake building including the clothing and furniture of the two families residing in the adjoining living quarters were destroyed.

All seven occupants of the 2½ story dwelling fled the flaming structure in their night clothing, after Edmund Greniewicki, owner of the building, spread the alarm and summoned firemen.

Greniewicki said that he awakened a little before six to find a smoke-filled room. He aroused his wife, Helen, and two daughters, Sandra, 13 and Kathy, 8. Upstairs tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson and their son Dwight, 14, were then awakened, and all escaped down a back stairway.

The fire apparently started in the basement and then broke through into the store area. Firemen concluded that a 250-gallon oil tank located on a second floor porch fed oil into the blaze.

BURNED 8 HOURS

White Lake Township firemen were aided by men and equipment from Waterford and Commerce Townships, and Union Lake Village fire department in fighting the blaze from 6 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Water was pumped directly from Oxbow Lake with about forty hoses being used.

The loss was only partially covered by fire insurance. As soon as the debris is cleared away, Greniewicki plans to build a new store and home on the premises.

Resume Talks in Dock Tieup

Four-Day-Old Walkout Idles ILA Workers on Two Coasts

NEW YORK (AP) — Union and management negotiators return to the conference table today in an effort to end the four-day-old longshoremen's strike that has tied up major ports from Maine to Texas.

Contract talks between the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. broke up Saturday after a bitter meeting.

About 60,000 dock workers walked off the job on the East and Gulf coasts when their twice-extended contract ran out at midnight Thursday. More than 150 ships were idled.

Meanwhile, longshoremen on the West Coast planned to stop work today for a 24-hour period. The walkout was scheduled by Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU).

The ILWU called the work stoppage ostensibly to consider its own contract talks with the Pacific Maritime Assn. ILWU spokesmen did not deny, however, that the East and Gulf coast strike figured in their plans.

The West Coast union has already staged a "sympathy" tieup of 10 ships in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Coos Bay, Ore., and Bellingham, Wash. The union refused to work ships arriving from or leaving for Atlantic and Gulf ports involved in the ILA shutdown.

NEW CHILDREN'S SHOP—Opening of Jacobson's new Children's Shops at the south corner of Willits street and Woodward Avenue is announced today. The 25,000 square feet of space will feature outfitting for boys and girls from babyhood through teen years, and is the third building the firm has opened in Birmingham. Adjoining is the newly-opened Peter Pan Restaurant, next to the Beauty Salon and the Decorative Shop, all on the north corner.

Opening Third Outlet

Jacobson's Completes Children's Shop

BIRMINGHAM — Jacobson's announce the opening of their "Children's Shops" in a newly completed building at the corner of North Woodward and Willets.

Occupying approximately 25,000 square feet of space, this new and separate Jacobson store has been planned to provide complete outfitting for boys and girls from babyhood through teen years.

Included is a large, year-round toy department which will feature the unusual in toys and books, all carefully selected for educational as well as entertainment value. There will be separate departments for infants, boys, girls and students, arranged and furnished to suit individual age groups.

Since coming to Birmingham in 1950 when their main store at the corner of Maple and Bates was opened, Jacobson's have opened a Decorative Shop and a Beauty Salon on North Woodward avenue.

The Decorative Shop which features gifts and accessories for the home, draperies and decorative fabrics, was recently enlarged to almost double the original selling area.

The Beauty Salon is under the direction of nationally famous "Louis" of Grosse Pointe.

A Peter Pan Restaurant adjoins the Beauty Salon, and patrons may request tray lunches to be served while having their hair done.

The original Jacobson store, Maple at Bates, has absorbed the former children's department by enlarging its fashion departments to provide Birmingham with greater assortments of women's and misses sportwear, coats, suits, shoes and accessories.

Architect for the Children' Shops was Arthur O. A. Schmidt of Detroit. The Chissus Construction Company of Birmingham was the general contractor.

All of the Birmingham Jacobson stores are served by off-street parking areas, where two hours free parking is offered their shoppers.

Widening Search for Training Jet

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The search for a missing navy jet training plane was widened today to include sections of neighboring Canada.

The plane, enroute to Michigan from Hensley Field, near Dallas, Texas, has been missing since Thursday with two officers aboard.

The jet was believed to have gone down in the Detroit-Mt. Clemens area, which included Lake St. Clair.

The search was widened to take in Flint and Port Huron, and Canada to London, Ont.

Fifty air force, navy and civil air patrol planes scanned the area yesterday but failed to find a clue to the whereabouts of the jet.

City, Railroad Eye New Talks

Willman Says Officials May Meet Again Friday on Support Yard

The next step in negotiations between Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the city of Pontiac for land needed for the recently-approved support yard, might take place Friday, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

He said the railroad will send in its land department to survey how much additional land might be needed so that the yard will clear Hollywood Avenue.

Last Tuesday night, the City Commission voted 4-3 to authorize Willman to negotiate with Grand Trunk for the sale of three acres sought by the railroad since June.

During discussions, commissioners pointed out that they were opposed to the yard's location because it would prevent the planned extension of Stanley Avenue north to Walton Boulevard. This was needed to relieve traffic congestion on Baldwin avenue, they said.

At one of the later meetings, the possibility of moving the 3,000 by 300-foot yard further west so as to allow for the extension of Hollywood was discussed.

"These negotiations are going to take several meetings," Willman said. "After the price is established and the agreements reached I must return these to the commission for their approval."

Commissioners stipulated that a written agreement must be reached outlining proposed features of the yard to make it as attractive as possible in the neighborhood that opposed it for months.

Weekend Traffic Takes 16 Lives

Accounting for Some of Michigan's Fatalities Were Snow and Ice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 16 persons died in Michigan traffic accidents during a weekend that brought snow and ice to many sections of the state. They included three Detroit area residents who died in a headon crash near Brighton.

Icy roads and generally poor driving conditions in northern areas probably contributed to some of the fatalities. Seven deaths resulted from one-car accidents in which the autos careened off highways.

In addition to the traffic dead, a farm tractor killed one man and a service station attendant died from carbon monoxide fumes. John Zinsky, 40, of Detroit, suffered fatal head injuries in a fall down a flight of basement stairs at a party in suburban Taylor Township Saturday night.

Clyde Strait, 70, died in University Hospital at Ann Arbor Saturday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day when a tractor he was attempting to start on his farm two miles west of Hanover ran over him.

Richard Miron, 21, of Escanaba was found Saturday in the front seat of a car he had driven onto a grease rack to repair at an Escanaba gas station. He was killed by carbon monoxide fumes.

William D. Schmidt, 87, of Dexter.

Samuel Gunn, 27, of Walled Lake.

James H. Murphy, 52, of Lake Orion.

Robert Friend, 20, of Evart.

Robert Bruckner, 16, of Dundee.

Pontiac Resident Injured as Automobiles Collide

William Whited, 27, of 14 Gordon St. was slightly injured when the car he was in collided with another and bounced into an advertising sign last night.

A passenger with Raymond G. Dillard, 26, of the same address, Whited was treated for hand and knee injuries at Pontiac General Hospital.

Dillard and the other driver, Donald W. Heacock, 25, of Mt. Clemens were not injured. Police said the accident was on Auburn avenue at East boulevard, where Heacock admitted turning left into Dillard's car.

Woman, Daughter Hurt When Auto Overturns

A Detroit woman and her 12-year-old daughter escaped with only minor bruises Saturday when their car overturned in the roadway on M24, north of M59 in Pontiac Township.

Mrs. Jean Kaplan, 42, and Francine B., were released following treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

The woman was unable to explain to investigators how the accident happened but a witness told county deputies of seeing the Kaplan car go off the pavement and turn over.

Taxpayers' League Raps Courthouse

which can legally be used for building has totaled $627,525 since 1951, the complaint charges supervisors have spent more than two million dollars on buildings and land since 1946 and has a building fund balance of $1,088,837.80, as disclosed in the Press series.

The suit claims the board of supervisors "caused excessive amounts to be included in the annual budgets for the various departments of the county," and has illegally transferred the money to the building fund.

* * *

In questioning supervisors' authority to designate a new courthouse site, the league does not mention a suit in 1928 which supervisors claim gave them the right.

ANNEXATION UNMENTIONED

The complaint also does not mention a disputed 1954 annexation to Pontiac of the service center site. If the annexation, now being submitted by supervisors again, is valid, the entire building as planned would be inside the new city limits.

Supervisors have denied they "padded" budgets to provide courthouse money, claiming "much" of it came from sale of county-owned land.

Board chairman Delos Hamlin said recently, "We believe that we are doing what the vast majority of the people want us to do."

County officials have said the illegal transfer of surplus moneys to the building fund in past years was necessary because the law was "inadequate" for rapidly-growing Oakland County.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county Board of Auditors, recently pointed out the county's 'pay-as-you-go" building policy has saved taxpayers millions of dollars in interest money.

'PADDING' DENIED

Officials have said budget surpluses in recent years were not intentional, but accumulated because of a high level of business conditions which has increased the county's income beyond expectations.

Henry said today his league has sent letters to all supervisors, informing them of the planned lawsuit and outlining the league's objections to the courthouse plans.

"If the actions of the board are authorized by law, no further action will be taken by taxpayers," the letter states.

The Day in Birmingham

Remodel City Building; Fire Hall Meeting Site

BIRMINGHAM — Tonight's city commission meeting will be in the former fire hall, because of extensive remodelling throughout the municipal building.

Furnishings have been moved down into the large, main-floor room, having probably seen the last of their old haunts. New furnishings are planned.

The commission tonight will consider requests from the City of Troy for giving Birmingham water to a 32-single family multiple dwelling unit to be built by Patrick Meyrick on Adams road, and for Kuhlman Electric Co. on 15 Mile road.

They will also consider the city manager's suggestions that the BW Controller Corp. be allowed to have its property annexed to Birmingham. It presently is in Troy.

He suggests, also that water be allowed the corporation, pending the annexation.

Also on tonight's agenda are hearings on rezoning from Terrace to Business C for three lots in Indian Village Subdivision and special assessment districts for an alley from Forest to Woodward and for Municipal Parking Lot No. 4.

Chief of Police Ralph Moxley has recommended that the commission prohibit parking on Willits, between Woodward and Chester streets.

Mrs. Sam Williams, who uses Barbara Gibson as her career name, will sing tonight on the Firestone Hour. A resident at 1364 Southfield, she has appeared in several national network shows and won honors in an Italian operatic contest last year.

New officers of the High Twelve Club, which meets tonight at the Community House for its regular dinner session, will be elected on Dec. 1.

Nominated are W. Lyle Bones, president; Rutherford C. Scott, first vice president, William R. Arlund, second vice president; Howard G. Willett Jr., secretary, and James L. Spence, treasurer.

There are eight candidates for directorships.

* * *

Harold K. Schone, city manager, spoke this afternoon at a League of Women Voters meeting at the Community House, describing water problems and their possible and planned solutions.

Just back from an unsuccessful hunting trip, he'll go tomorrow to Ann Arbor to confer with engineers working on estimates of costs for the North Evergreen interceptor and sewage treatment plant.

An authority meeting is to be called when the estimates are prepared.

Grand opening of Eton Park Skating Rink is set for 8 p.m. Thursday evening, with free skating for all planned from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The surface will be glistening under the lights by that night, says recreation director, Robert Girardin.

He has arranged for the mayor, James Allen, to cut the ribbon opening the rink's first full season, and Mrs. William Jackson, recreation board chairman, to introduce the mayor.

School and city officials are being invited to be present, he says.

Cuba Urges U.N. to Halt Deportations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba today brushed aside Hungarian protests and pressed for urgent U.N. action to demand a halt to reported Soviet deportations of Hungarians.

Hungarian Delegate Endre Sik told the 79-nation General Assembly that the reported deportations were "invented by counter-revolutionary circles" to create distrust in the government of Janos Kadar.

Cuban Delegate Emilio Nunez-Portuondo said the deportations were not propaganda but were a fact. The criminals, he said, were not those arrested, but those who are loading Hungarians on trains for deportation to Russia.

Orion Resident Injured in Auto Accident

A Lake Orion man received a fractured collarbone and several broken ribs when his car went off the highway and rolled over at an Orion intersection last night.

Earl B. Rathburn, 47, of 1021 Rush Rd., who is being treated at Pontiac General Hospital, told investigating Oakland County deputies he lost control of his car when the lights of an oncoming car blinded him at Lake George and Stoney Creek roads.

The president of the Workers' Council in the GANZ factory said:

"We told the Russians that the only help we needed from them is that they should leave us alone."

He added that the Russians "promised some weapons for our factory guards."

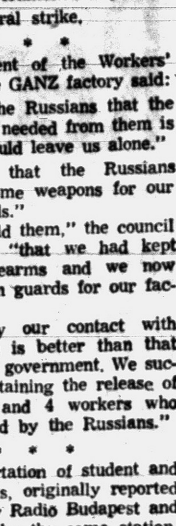

"But we told them," the council head added, "that we had kept our own firearms and we now have our own guards for our factory.

"Apparently our contact with the Russians is better than that of the Kadar government. We succeeded in obtaining the release of 68 students and 4 workers who were arrested by the Russians."

(The deportation of student and worker rebels, originally reported last week by Radio Budapest and then denied by the same station, has been one of the sorest points with workers prolonging the strike.)

Try Judging This: Judge Elected Who Didn't Run

CREEDE, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Martha Nelson, a farm widow with two daughters, will become Mineral County judge in January—because three friends wrote her name on the ballot.

The news surprised both Mrs. Nelson and County Judge W. Wallace Wright who thought he had two more years to serve. He was appointed to fill a vacancy and in the 1954 election was named to complete a four-year term.

* * *

Democratic and Republican party officials, under the impression Wright was selected to a full term, failed to nominate candidates this year. They simply inked out the words "county judge" on the ballot.

When the county clerk issued Mrs. Nelson a certificate of election this week, she "was the most surprised woman in town." The job pays $50 a month.

* * *

Mrs. Nelson, a grandmother in her mid-50s, studied law two years as a college student but prior legal training is not required of a county judge, whose chief duties involve handling of estates, juvenile cases and minor civil matters.

Israeli Seeks End to Mideast Trouble

WSHINGTON (AP)— Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban says "nothing could be more suicidal" for his country than a return to conditions which existed before Isral's attack on Egypt.

Eban said during a CBS television interview yesterday that Egyptian President Nasser was planning "an irristible attack" on Israel, and he added: "We decided we would not wait until Nasser came to cut our throat."

* * *

He said he hopes a settlement of Israeli - Egyptian differences "within the framework of the United Nations" can be achieved. He said the U. N. cannot dictate a settlement but can assist the two countries in arriving at a "sound and just solution."

In that effort, Eban said, the United States "can be a decisive influence."

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1957 March of Dimes Poster Girl is 4-year-old Marlene Olsen of Burlington, Mass.

Debt-Ridden Motorist Has Solid Backing

WICKENBURG, Ariz. (AP)—Seeking action on a long overdue bill, automobile dealer Bernard Hill wrote the following letter to a customer:

"Dear friend, what would all your neighbors think if we came to your town and repossessed your car?"

The customer wrote back:

Adlai's 'Quailing' in Carolina —Well He Might

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson was vacationing with friends at a South Carolina plantation today, resting from the rigors of his unsuccessful Democratic campaign for the presidency and hoping to shoot a few quail.

He flew into Savannah last night with a campaign button in his lapel, a bright smile for well-wishers and a determination not to reveal the spot where he planned to spend his first vacation in a year.

All he would say was that he was en route to the same "coastal plantation" he visited for three days in February 1952. However, it was reliably reported he was going to an estate near Bluffton, S.C., onwed by the family of the late Marshall Field, Chicago publisher and department store owner.

$30,779 More Needed to Reach UF Objective

Residents of the Pontiac area have 30 more days to put the 1956 United Fund over the top.

The decision to extend the campaign was reached when it was discovered that contributions to date totaled $581,423 or 95 per cent of the $612,202 goal. This means that the volunteer solicitors have another month to get the $30,779 needed to keep unmarred the community's record of never having failed to reach the objective of seven previous campaigns.

Everyone who has not contributed so far must do his share to insure that necessary finances will be available next year to carry on the vital work of 54 participating agencies. Making this campaign a success is not the sole responsibility of Chairman Willman's corps of solicitors.

This is a community obligation.

Pontiac can't afford to fall in this campaign. We cannot urge too strongly that all those who haven't yet contributed, do so now.

For the last seven years Pontiac has been a better, happier place to live, and work because we always have reached our United Fund objective.

Let's keep it that way.

Gruenther's Warnings

In his farewell message as Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther has warned the Western world that NATO must be kept strong.

Addressing himself to the West at Frankfort, he said that NATO must be maintained regardless of the strains that come up from time to time. He added that NATO's number one mission "is to deter war, to make an act of aggression so destructive and so expensive it can never happen."

At the same time the General made a fitting reply to Russia's threat of attacking Britain and France with "rocket weapons" over the Suez crisis. Any such attack he made clear to the Russians, would be met with instant retaliation which would destroy the Soviet Union.

Finally Gen. Gruenther warned that unless the Middle East situation is solved it could have an adverse effect on European defense which is the first line of our own defense.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Gruenther soon is to turn over his NATO command to a capable successor, Gen. Lauris Norstad and accept the presidency of the American Red Cross. For three years and a half Gen. Gruenther has labored to build up a defense force on the continent of Europe. His military and diplomatic abilities will be missed by the Western alliance.

Asian Elected to House

Voters of the 29th Congressional District (Imperial Valley) of California have elected the first Asian ever to hold a seat in the United States Congress.

He is 57-year-old Dalip Singh Saund, a native of India who came to this country 35 years ago, won citizenship and a doctorate in mathematics at the University of Southern California. Owner of a small business in Riverside, Mr. Saund's only previous public office was justice of the peace in Westmoreland, Calif.

In the recent election he defeated the famous aviatrix, Jacqueline Cochran Odlum by 4,000 votes after having been an easy winner in the primary. Mrs. Odlum, a Republican and wife of Floyd Odlum a wealthy industrialist and flier of note in his own right, is a successful manufacturer of cosmetics.

She campaigned by air, flying from town to town in her own Lockheed Lodestar. Saund waged a plodding campaign which was inexpensive and neighborly. His victory shows the people of Asia that an Asiatic American can be elected to represent other American citizens in our national House.

Representative-Elect Saund is planning a lecture tour in India. During it he should be able to give the people of his native land, including its leaders, some important and much needed truth about the United States.

It is suggested that future school buildings be constructed without windows—unless, of course, the resulting frustration of children who enjoy breaking windows would warp their personalities.

Double Trouble

High Court Recognized Dissenters

WASHINGTON—Less than a month ago an important statement was issued by 100 prominent lawyers from 31 states but, due to the preoccupation of almost everybody with the presidential campaign, its significance was overlooked.

The statement was an obvious attempt to answer the 'Southern Manifesto'—the document previously issued by 100 or more members of Congress who expressed criticism of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the segregation question.

But the 100 lawyers, while disclaiming any such purpose, struck a blow at freedom of discussion and the right of citizens to express dissent from the opinions of the Supreme Court:

"To accuse the court of usurping authority when it reviews legislative acts, or of exercising 'naked power' is to jeopardize the very institution of judicial review. To appeal for 'resistance' to decisions of the Court 'by any lawful means' is to utter a self-contradiction, whose ambiguity can only be calculated to promote disrespect for our fundamental law.

The privilege of criticizing a decision of the Supreme Court carries with it a corresponding obligation—a duty to recognize the decision as the supreme law of the land as long as it remains in force."

Abraham Lincoln, however, it will be recalled, said in a speech in 1858:

"We propose so resisting it (the Dred Scott decision) as to have it reversed if we can, and a new judicial rule established upon this subject."

LAWFUL RESISTANCE

The 100 lawyers, on the other hand, seem to be trying to convey the impression that there is no such thing as "resistance by lawful means." Yet every decision of the Supreme Court is "resisted" in a lawful sense when a new case is brought that challenges the first decision and seeks to have it overruled.

Perhaps the most notable example is the vigorous campaign carried on in the court of public opinion by prominent churchmen against the famous decision in the "McCollum Case" by the Supreme Court in 1948.

It was on the subject of religious instruction conducted after regular school hours by private teachers in public school buildings. This was unanimously ruled by the court to be a violation of the first amendment, which forbids Congress to pass any law with respect to "the establishment of any religion."

Four years later that decision was reversed by a 6-to-3 vote of the court in another case in which certain children, whose parents had willed it, were "released" to go to other parts of the city for religious instruction while the other students were required to stay in school.

The three justices said they saw no difference—school facilities were still being used to make sure certain children did go to religious schools and certain records on the subject were kept by public school authorities.

But during that four-year interval what had been happening? Professor Edward S. Corwin, eminent constitutional authority, said the Supreme Court "has the right to make history, as it has often done in the past, but it has no right to remake it."

Also, Henry P. Van Dusen, now president of the faculty of Union Theological Seminary of New York and prominent in the World Council of Churches, spoke of Mr. Corwin's views as a "sweeping indictment" and made several lectures and speeches on the sub-of the Supreme Court.

Certainly these churchmen had a right to utter their dissent. Justice Black, in referring to the public campaign against the first decision, said in the 1952 opinion of the Supreme Court:

"With equal conviction and certainty, others have thought the McCollum decision fundamentally wrong and have pledged continuous warfare against it. The opinions in the Court below and the briefs here reflect these diverse viewpoints."

Doubtless Justice Black used the term "warfare" only in the metaphorical sense, which is also the way the "Southern Manifesto" presumably used the word "resist."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Patient Got the Brush-Off; She Had Breast Cancer

Six years ago the lady consulted several doctors about something which worried her—for a year or weeks—a drop of blood appeared on her clothing over the left breast.

All the doctors took the same attitude—it was not serious. But she returned several times to one doctor with the same complaint, and he finally referred her to a specialist, to put her mind at rest.

The specialist said: There is something definitely wrong, but it doesn't appear to be anything serious. However, if it gets worse you should have something done about it.

As far as the lady could tell, it got no worse thereafter.

* * *

One day she asked the physician in the health service department of the company where she was employed for something to relieve stiffness of the muscle between shoulder and breast. The doctor didn't like the looks of the breast on the other side and urged her to have a surgery staff doctor see it.

FOUND CANCER

Upshot of the whole thing was that a biopsy was made (a wee bit of breast tissue removed under local anesthesia and examined under microscope by pathologist). The pathologist found malignancy (cancer), and the lady underwent mastectomy (removal of the breast).

The operation was four years ago last March, and although the doctors say she is now 90 per cent safe she still lives in fear of recurrence.

Now the lady asks some embarrassing questions, which I'd attempt to answer only if I could first discuss the case with each of the doctors she consulted.

"Now, why," asks the lady, "should a doctor, knowing the importance of such small things as bleeding, however slight, be so unconcerned as to brush a person off with 'Oh, it doesn't look like anything'?

"Even the specialist she first consulted didn't suggest a biopsy, says the lady. When a person's life is at stake why gamble?"

(Mrs. W. B. B.)

ENTITLED TO BEST

This Minnesota lady and a million of her sisters are entitled to the best answers the medical profession has for such questions.

* * *

You don't know what hoofla means? It means the attitude of all the doctors the lady first consulted—they said the trouble was "not serious."

And the first specialist did a masterful job of hedging, procrastinating, or protecting his professional reputation.

Trouble with the doctors was that they were not open and honest. They brushed the lady off with a subterfuge, "nothing serious," "no organic trouble," or other irresponsible, negative suggestion.

Of course the lady's unuttered question was "Have I got cancer of the breast?" and of course the doctors had nothing else in mind when they opined that the trouble was "not serious."

Voice of the People

'Residents Had No Chance Against Railroad and GM'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I wonder how many people were surprised when the City Commission voted in favor of the railroad. Not very many, I'll wager.

I don't believe the people were given a square deal as I believe the railroad was unwilling to even consider another location. They are going to plant greenery to make the site attractive. Will this be full grown when it is planted and will it also hide the noise and dirt? That's a laugh.

What is going to happen when these shifting trains start blocking traffic on Baldwin avenue and where have they been shifting trains heretofore?

Why were builders allowed to build homes in this area? I'll wager the people who bought them were not told they would probably have a railroad yard nearby or even that it was zoned commercial. When you start fighting General Motors and the railroad, what chance did we have?

Says Intelligence Still Has Place

In the last election one of the broadcasting companies devised a "wonderful computer" which was going to give the results of the election almost as soon as the last ballot was cast. Well, at some time past eleven o'clock, this great gadget proclaimed that the odds were eight to one that the Republicans would control the Senate.

Any ordinary mortal with just a normal supply of brains would have said the battle was 50-50 at that hour and he would have been exactly right. The Dems took the Senate and the silly odds on the wrong winner show these machines have their limitations and drawbacks. There's still a place for intelligence in the world.

'Must Heed Call to Help Hungary'

We must answer the call. The people of Hungary have given their blood freely in their fight for the freedom they have never known. We have urged the enslaved people of Europe and Asia to revolt against the Communists. They have revolted and we did not help them. We have not practiced what we preached.

Hungary has died to the tune of the Russian machineguns, tanks and bombs. Men, women and children have been murdered. Hospitals, homes and baby clinics have not been spared. Are we going to stand by while the Russian animals destroy Hungary?

We must help Hungary. If we back down now the Reds will run over us. We must launch a holy crusade against Russia.

First Time Voter Offers Comment

I was interested in the editorial in The Press referring to the savings of time and money by using voting machines in Pontiac. I think the electorate in general gives three loud cheers.

I also believe the city should study the situation carefully and consider some additional machines or else splitting precincts further. Perhaps all of us were sort of new to the machines and perhaps we will vote faster with each succeeding election.

There were lines at several precincts I am told and I know I had to wait quite a long time myself. Our voting should be as modern as the rest of our city equipment.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Can Dogs Detect Disease by Odor?

Duke's behavior should interest all of you people who worry about cancer. It also suggests some very fascinating possibilities that physicians and psychologists may wish to explore further. If a bloodhound can identify a culprit from among 1,000 people, why can't similarly trained dogs pick out undiagnosed medical patients?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-325: Duke, aged three, is a beautiful bird dog who belongs to friends of ours in Chicago.

Duke was very fond of a man named Bill who used to play with him regularly. In fact, they were great pals.

* * *

But Bill was ill for several months and didn't get over to visit Duke. Finally, Bill was able to call again.

Now Duke growled at him and bristled fiercely. Duke actually acted as if Bill were a total stranger so his owner had to hold Duke by the collar all the time that Bill was in the house.

Neither Bill nor Duke's owner could understand why the dog took this belligerent attitude toward his former friend.

Just 16 days later Bill died of leukemia, from which he had been suffering for months.

"Dr. Crane, do you suppose Duke smelled the presence of death?" his owner asked.

"Could the blood chemistry in Bill's body have changed so markedly during those months he was dying of leukemia that Duke regarded Bill as a total stranger?"

CAN DOGS SCENT DISEASE?

Well, I shall pass along this challenging query to you readers. What do you think of this case? Have you ever experienced anything similar to it?

Some breeds of dog have an unusually keen sense of smell. A bird dog, for instance, can scent a quail at a great distance. And blood hounds are noted for their keen perception of the spoor of human beings.

Just let a blood hound sniff at the shoe of the culprit, and that hound will follow a relatively cold trail for miles until the dog finally catches up with his prey.

During the war, we used dogs in the K-9 Corps to scent the presence of enemies at night.

* * *

These dogs were deliberately taught to recognize very faint odors or "B.O." of different races, such as Japanese and North Koreans.

It may likewise be possible to train dogs to do the same thing regarding cancer patients.

CANCER DETECTIVES

This intensive educational process by which dogs are taught to pick out a specific scent among dozens of other odors, is called "conditioning."

A dog's skill in this regard is surprising. So we psychologists and medics might be able to follow a similar procedure in detecting disease that possibly change the blood picture of a patient and thus alter his body odor.

For example, the blood disease called leukemia undoubtedly changes the chemistry of the circulating blood, so it is conceivable that Duke was thus confused about his former friend named Bill.

Maybe we could condition special dogs to serve as medical detectives for cancer of the womb vs. cancer of the bowel, lungs or prostate.

* * *

Long before a patient might suspect he had cancer and even before the usual medical findings would suggest such a diagnosis, it might thus be possible for a specially trained dog to scent such a patient and pick him out of a group of patients waiting in the doctor's office.

It may seem rather far-fetched, but it might even be possible for such dogs to scent unrecognized cases of mild diabetes and even potential epileptics and many other types of patient.

I suggest this idea as a possible subject for further research by aspiring Ph. D. thesis writers.

For when a bloodhound can spot a criminal among a crowd of 1,000 people, a similarly conditioned canine might spot an undiagnosed cancer patient or other ailing person by a single sniff.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

You Can't Lose! Pot-O-Gold Is Fun, $$ or Both

$700 isn't to be scoffed at, and here's an easy way to come by that tidy sum. All you have to do is read the rules, study the clues and come up with the correct solution. This week's puzzle will be worth $700 plus $25 for a subscriber if no winner is found for Puzzle No. 24. Even with a winner for last week it's worth $100, and it's fun besides. How can you go wrong?

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

DOLL FURNITURE IN PILGRIM STYLE - 1

DOLL FURNITURE IN PILGRIM STYLE—1

A Bench and a Doll

When the first pilgrims arrived in New England they were settlers in a new world. From the forests, they had to chop down trees to build houses and furniture. This week we will show you how to make a set of doll - sized furniture in the simple, solid style of the early settlers. If you save them all and put them together in a cardboard box laid on its side, they will make a doll - sized room, as the sketch shows.

Here is the first piece — a bench on which the family would sit for meals. Color it dark brown with your crayons and past it down on heavy brown construction paper.

Cut out the pieces and cut the three slots in the bench and the slits at the ends of the bar. Slip the bar into the slots on the bench legs and secure by pushing the slits down.

An early pilgrim doll was probably carved out of white pine wood and tinted with berry juices. When you color our paper doll, leave the cape, cuffs, apron and edge of the hood white and make the dress brown or dull red since most of the dresses were dyed with berry juices. Tomorrow you will have a cradle for her.

(Patty Corrigan, Edison, N.J., was the first to send us this idea, and she wins $10. Send in your ideas care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures). 11-19

Tomorrow: A Cradle

That's the Big Idea, Ann —Didn't You Know?

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Hollywood's Ann Sothern stopped here briefly in a $7,500 pastel mink coat on her way to Sun Valley, Idaho, to open a sewing center.

"Oh my, it is going to be fun," she bubbled. "We're going to have simply wonderful things. There will be fabrics, gifts and even sewing machines."

Close Gas Stations Stay Out of Jail

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A number of service stations closed up because constable Clarence Prevatt was out enforcing Sunday blue laws again.

Signs at several stations said they were closing because the owners wanted to stay out of jail.

Prevatt nabbed 10 operators of drug stores and service stations — charging all with operating businesses on the Sabbath.

The "live" theater in England is being hard hit by TV and high amusement taxes, reviewers say. Even near-nude shows fail to attract, they report sadly.

Life in Poland Rough

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Victims of Stalinist-era police terror in Poland were driven insane after only seven days interrogation and others feigned lunacy to escape, an official Communist document discloses.

• • •

Leon Wudski, a member of the Central Committee of the Polish Community party, made the disclosure in a speech to the October meeting of the committee—the session that produced the crisis with Moscow over the demands of Polish Communists for independence from the Kremlin.

• • •

The 300,000 copies of the official record of the session were sold out by newsstands within an hour after they were published this week.

In his speech Wudski turned bitterly upon Jacob Berman, former overlord of the secret police, who was forced to resign as deputy premier and Politburo member last May because of his "mistakes." He had been considered the No. 1 man of former Premier Boleslaw Bierut, who died last March.

• • •

"People were being kidnaped in the street and freed after seven days interrogation in a condition unfit for life," Wudski said in describing police methods.

• • •

"These people had to be taken to Tworki asylum. Others took asylum in Tworki to evade the U.B. (secret police). They pretended to be mentally deficient.

"Others, decent people filled with fear and panic, escaped abroad solely to evade our system."

Wudski attacked Berman, who told the meeting "horrible things could take place under my nose without my knowing about them."

Said Wudski: "The whole of Warsaw knew people were being murdered.

"The whole town knew of narrow dungeons in which people stood for three weeks in their own excreta, six inches deep.

"The whole town knew that Rozanski (head of the notorious 10th Dept. of U.B.) personally tore off nails from peoples' fingers.

"The whole town knew cold water was poured over people and then they were made to stand in bitter frost.

"The whole town knew, but Comrade Berman did not know."

Wudski also spoke of Anne Duracz, Berman's onetime secretary.

She was jailed as an acquaintance of Noel Field, an American who was arrested behind the Iron Curtain on spy charges which later were withdrawn.

"For two years," said Wudski, "this girl's family knocked at your door, Comrade Berman, trying to free Anne.

"Did you not know how she was being treated?

"You, who should have been first to know of these things?"

• • •

Wudski said he himself spent months trying to see Poland's "Little Stalin" Bierut, and Zambroski. They refused to see him.

• • •

Yet, he said, even in Poland's "semi-Fascist prewar regime" he had been able to talk with ministers and get them to use influence on behalf of political prisoners.

Wudski blamed the terror regime on the Stalinist doctrine that the Communist party was more important than men.

"The system could have been changed by sensible men," he said. "I should like to believe there were Communists in whom moral restraint continued to function; who, even if they had not the courage to oppose, could at least behave like men.

"Alas, some couldn't.

"Some didn't want to.

"Those who did oppose were flung into jail and branded as enemies and traitors.

"But the majority went with the tide of the system.

"They built themselves warm nests between the breasts of Beriaism and sucked until they were drunk with power."

This was a reference to Lavrenty Beria, Communist secret police head, who was executed in the de-Stalinization purge.

Wudski quoted Minc's 1949 statement on the urging of Wladyslaw Gomulka, Poland's new Communist chief, that "We are the party, the party which remains even if people are disappearing. Such is the iron logic of the processes which are taking place."

Said Wudski, "Under this theory, a human being became a negligible item. Every party member had to get rid of all human feeling even when the most terrible crimes were committed."

Will Make No Apology

Eden Gives British View of Mideast Intervention

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden said that British-French military intervention in Egypt blocked a Communist plot which would have led to "the loss of countless lives and more other evils than we can ever estimate."

"We make no apology, and will never make one, for the action which we and our French allies took," Eden said in a prepared speech at a Young Conservative Club rally.

• • •

Eden said there had been "talk in plenty" in the United Nations about the Middle East, but "the United Nations looked the other way" while majority opinion was ignored or repudiated.

"Meanwhile," he said, "destructive influences have been at work. The deep divide between the Communist powers and the free world has been secretly dug beneath the surface of these Middle Eastern lands."

• • •

The Prime Minister said Britain would have been "slowly strangled" if it had ignored the Red buildup.

"I can assure you that even the effect of the ships sunk in the canal is a temporary one compared with the disaster this must have meant for us."

Eden took note of criticism from within his own party about the timing of the cease-fire.

"Some people have argued that having taken the decision to intervene we should have continued our military operations until all the key positions on the canal had been secured," he said. "The government understood that argument, they cannot accept it.

We had said that we would cease all military action as soon as the Israeli and Egyptian governments accepted an unconditional cease-fire and agreed to accept the international force."

Gas Nonpoisonous

DALLAS — Natural gas is nonpoisonous. This has been proved conclusively in tests in which animals were kept for a month in an atmosphere containing a 30 per cent gas concentration, with no ill effects. But natural gas in large quantities will replace the air in a confined space along with the oxygen and cause suffocation.

Pray for Peace, Urge Cardinals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States has appealed for a "veritable crusade of prayer . . . for the specific ends that international sanity will triumph over war, that justice may be vindicated by the nations united under law."

"It is not mere rhetoric to say that at this juncture the world is poised on the brink of disaster," the churchmen said. "It is grim realism. Yet war in modern terms would be a nightmare of unimaginable horrors. It can only annihilate; it has no power to solve our problems."

* * *

The statement was issued on behalf of the 216 cardinals, archbishops and bishops at the close of their annual meeting here.

The bishops said the United Nations "offers the only present promise we have for sustained peace in our time—peace with any approximation of justice."

They said President Eisenhower has set "a pattern of vigorous leadership" in the cause of peace "and has emphasized many of the points which have been dwelt upon by Pope Pius XII."

Expressing "genuine satisfaction" at the course followed by the U.S. government, the prelates said:

"Worthy of highest praise are its efforts, rising above considerations of party and politics, to bring the problems before the tribunal of the nations, to restore mutual confidence in all those who seek justice, and to counter the threat of anarchy by marshalling the full strength of those forces of law and order which the world commands."

Russian Maneuvers Win in Middle East Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men in the Kremlin run their foreign affairs like a delicatessen store where they mix bologna, ham and a little cheese for the mice with a copious helping of ground glass.

But they were able to whip this dish together only because of the almost incredible stupidity of the British and French statesmen who had made a career of foreign affairs too.

* * *

Before they attacked Egypt it must be assumed the British and French had to think of what might happen once they started, particularly when they acted without the knowledge of their ally, the United States.

They had to realize these would be obvious results of their action:

1. It would hurt — as it did — their relationship with this country.

2. It would damage the United Nations and perhaps wreck it if it did not do something to offset the blow, such as condemning the attack and even trying to restore peace with a U.N. police force, both of which the U.N. did.

* * *

3. It would badly damage — as it did — Western influence among the Arabs of the Middle East. That influence may be wrecked altogether.

4. It would at least give the Russians a chance to pose as the Arabs' friend — as they did — and move into the vacuum caused by the loss of Western influence.

5. It might in the end, once Russia lined up on the Arabs' side, set off a world war. That hasn't happened yet. It may.

* * *

It is understandable that Britain and France could have thought of all these risks and still believed it worthwhile to do what they did, to achieve what they wanted: get Suez Canal control away from Egypt's President Nasser and wreck him.

But if they did, this isn't understandable: Why — once they had considered the risks and started their adventure — they suddenly backed down under pressure from the U.N., the United States and Russia.

* * *

What the smaller Israeli nation did is not stupid. They had a chance, with the backing of Britain and France, to pay Nasser back for torments. Israel could leave it up to the big nations to settle the big questions.

But the Russian performance has been a beauty all by itself.

First they sliced some bologna: This was their self-righteous indignation at the British-French attack on Egypt at the very moment they were slaughtering Hungarians. It was a quick attempt to divert attention from Hungary but it served other purposes.

Next the big slice of ham: This was their proposal that the United States join them in attacking the American allies, Britain and France, but only if the U. N. approved. They knew beforehand the U. N. would never approve.

Then the cheese for the mice: This was posing as the Arabs' outraged friend when it has been known for years they were trying to get a foothold in the Middle East, although only yesterday Premier Bulganin piously denied such a thought.

Finally came the ground glass: This was their veiled threat — so veiled it could only be guessed a threat — to the British and French to get out of Egypt.

And yesterday they called on the British and French to pay the Egyptians damages, a proposal the Egyptians themselves haven't suggested yet.

This latest move may be the first of several Russian efforts to ruin the U. N. efforts to restore peace by keeping the pot bubbling and boiling.

Band Bands Together to Help Bandsman

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. (AP) — Director Robert H. Greenwell, 30, has been absent from rehearsals of the Baldwin Park High School band since last Monday. That's the day a brain-tumor operation was performed on his 18-month-old daughter Cheryl, who's still on the critical list.

The 93 band members pitched in to win a West Arcadia invitational band review for Greenwell. Rehearsing and competing under drum majorette Carol Oglesby, 16, they took third place.

Unexpected Rumpus Ruins Rumpus Room

BELLFLOWER, Calif. (AP) — An out-of-control car created quite a rumpus in John Baker's recently completed rumpus room.

The car, driven by Joyce Edward Dalrymple of Downey, roared up the steps to Baker's home and crashed completely into the room, highway patrol officers reported.

No one was injured but Baker's wife was treated for shock, officers said.

Magnet for many visitors to Washington, D.C., is the classic Thomas Jefferson Memorial on the Tidal Basin. The heroic statue of the standing Jefferson is clothed in a greatcoat—a likeness of the coat that was given to him by General Thaddeus Kosciusko, the Polish patriot of the American Revolution.

Teachers Build Skills in Extension Work

American Education Week which was marked last week should remind students, parents and the community that many teachers are increasing their skills by attending evening extension courses.

So says Dr. Clifford Erickson, dean of the Michigan State University College of Education.

About 40 area teachers are attending two MSU education courses in Pontiac this current term. "Instructional Materials in Vocational Education and Practical Arts," is taught by Dr. Metta Vossbrink on Tuesday evenings and on Wednesday nights Dr. Edward Pfau teaches the course entitled, "Teacher and Administrative Leadership."

Enrollment of teachers in Michigan State University extension courses across the state jumped 300 per cent this fall as the university opened additional courses.

* * *

Enrolled in the education courses here are the following area residents who are teachers, substitutes, or adults studying towards graduate degrees in education.

In "Instructional Materials" course are Elizabeth Rodgers, Janice A. Joss and Doris M. Hodges of Pontiac; Margaret Savich and Mardelle N. Meyer, both of Detroit; Vivian R. Dobben and Jane A. Attempt to Change Taft-Hartley Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special labor-management committee from the construction industry set out today to draft suggestions for President Eisenhower for changing the Taft-Hartley labor relations law as it applies to the industry.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell called the group together as he had promised during the recent political campaign.

It was expected the discussions would deal primarily with proposals to enact special hiring provisions in the building and construction field. Eisenhower previously has proposed that Congress allow employers and unions in the industry to enter into contracts for prehiring and special union shop arrangements.

Any administration proposals for changing the labor law to accommodate the construction industry are likely to be part of the general "overhaul" of Taft-Hartley provisions promised in the Republican party platform.

Cars Recovered as Thieves Flee 'Roadblock'

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Drivers of two stolen cars became frightened at the same highway patrol car red lights — flashing at the scene of an accident—and fled . . . on foot.

* * *

So owners Robert F. Wisecarver and Kenneth Hallmark had their autos back today.

Both reported their cars stolen Saturday.

That night Patrolman Art Dossey, investigating a minor traffic accident, saw an automobile stop suddenly and the driver flee into a field.

* * *

Boxcar Kills Sleeping Family

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A switching freight train backed a box car into the bedroom of a home about dawn yesterday, killing a family of three.

* * *

They were Hilliard Davis Harris, 31; his wife Johnny Mae, 21, an expectant mother; and their year-old daughter Jacqueline Vanita.

The box car, on the end of a 21-car Southern Pacific train, smashed through a steel safety bumper into the house where the trio slept.

* * *

Homicide detectives E. L. Kennedy and Virgil Harte quoted a train crewman, A. J. Peterson, 29, of Houston, as saying:

"It was all my fault. The spur track holds 19 cars but I miscounted and put 21 on it.

3 Young Girls Discover Loot in Old Truck

MEMPHIS, TEnn. (AP)—Sheriff's officers today were checking into a discovery made by three young sisters—$16,420 in cash hidden in the cab of an abandoned dump truck.

* * *

The children found the money yesterday while playing in the truck that had been parked in their grandfather's yard for three years.

R. L. Fletcher, the grandfather, said a man had asked permission to leave the truck there "overnight" but had never moved it.

Sheriff's Deputies J. M. Thomason and J. M. Mills said bank deposit slips and payroll checks found in the truck indicated the money belonged to W. C. Dunaway of Memphis.

* * *

Dunaway told a newsman, "We'll have to see what we can find out." He declined further comment.

The money was found by Ruby Thomas, 11, and her sisters Cathryn, 9, and Minnie Lou, 7, daughters of Mrs. Raymond Fletcher of Aubrey, Ark.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES

The makers of Preparation H also make Petro-Syllium®, a special type laxative prescribed by doctors for hemorrhoid sufferers. Softens hard dry stool and assures easy elimination without pain. Ask for Petro-Syllium.

Bob Considine Says:

H--l's Tortures Come From the Heavens

NEW YORK (INS) — A person who meets Col. Dean Hess, USAF, is inclined to come away with an impression that here is a man who has lived in both Heaven and H—l.

* * *

He's out of Marietta, Ohio, son of an electrician. He worked his way into Marietta College and there made up his mind he'd be a preacher. But he had hardly embarked on his calling—that of a parson in Christian (Campbellite) churches—when Pearl Harbor was hit. Dean enlisted. By 1943 he was with the Air Force in England, and moved with it into France after D-Day, serving as an informal chaplain when he wasn't bombing.

* * *

The bad thing happened to him in a raid on the marshaling yards at Kaiserslautern. His sticks of destruction hit an apartment house and the building melted into blood-stained dust. He learned in time that it had been a shelter for hundreds of orphaned children of war.

"It left a mark in my mind like a brand," the good-looking black-browed "sky pilot" says quietly when he talks about it.

The years just after the war were brooding ones for Hess. A call to return to the service occupied his mind and helped him. In April 1950, he was sent to Japan as an information and education officer. By July he was in Korea, assigned to help create a ROK airforce.

With extraordinary patience and resourcefulness he achieved his goal so well that President Syngman Rhee decorated him with Korea's highest military medal—rarely awarded to a foreigner. But once again, this gentleman was to kill needlessly.

Flying on directions of a liaison pilot, Hess raked a highway one day only to learn as the plane streaked on that he had fired on refugees seeking asylum, not an enemy column.

He thought of himself as a murderer. Worse, a preacher-murderer. He must have wondered at the legend he had inscribed on his plane: "Per Fidem Volo" — "By Faith I Fly."

Peace of mind began coming to him in 1951 in the fire and terror of the falling of Seoul. Preparing to flee with the others, he froze with pity and sorrow to see hundreds of homeless and abandoned children still left in the burning capital.

Hess organized "Operation Kiddy Car," an airlift that took hundreds of them to a shelter in the south at Cheju. Madame Rhee found a woman who could manage them, nurse them back to health. Epidemics broke out among the children. Many died. But many lived who would have died.

From that shelter came the Hess-founded organization called Hope, Incorporated—an agency of mercy for needy children. He is to the children of Korea what Father Flanagan was to the boys of Boys Town.

Hess is not free of remorse nor will he ever be free. In his book: "Battle Hymn" (McGraw-Hill) his dedication reads: "To those we could not save."

* * *

He concludes the book with: "I cannot deny that from time to time I think with longing of a little frame church in the quiet Ohio countryside — perhaps the one at Paw Paw, with its single-ringing bell and its oak-shaded cemetery. Perhaps when I am older, I shall again be its minister — if I feel myself qualified and if the good and simple people of that farming community will accept me in spite of all I have done in an airplane."

Hess' remarkable life has been filmed by Universal-International. Rock Hudson will play his role. The money has already been spent at Hope, Incorporated.

Pontiac Twins Are Seventh Set in 6 Generations

A part-Indian mother gave birth to twins in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Friday, the seventh set born to her family in six generations. One of the twin boys born to Mrs. Mae. McClusky, 21, of 1078 Scott Lake Rd., may eventually become a chief.

Mrs. Edith Lewis, 39, of 268 Clifford St., grandmother of the new boys, is better known to her tribesmembers, of the Pontiac Band of Chippewa Indians, as Silver Cloud. Her brother is Chief Standing Bear.

Their mother, Mrs Ethel O. Matteson, thinks she may hold some kind of a record.

"I'm a great grandmother at 51," said Mrs. Matteson. "I read something that said twins only come every other generation. Well our family has had twins every generation in a row that I can remember or have been told about."

Mrs. Matteson, known as Silver Star, was 16 when she married and 32 when she became a grandmother. She now has six great grandchildren.

Firemen Plenty Fast in This Situation

BELL GARDENS, Calif. (AP) — A fire crew was on the job fast when a passerby walked into Los Angeles County fire station No. 39 to report a blaze in a furniture store.

The store was 50 feet behind the station.

Find Missing Man in Abandoned Dugout

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The body of a man found in an abandoned dugout north of Burkburnett, Tex., yesterday was tentatively identified as James Black, 35, who disappeared March 7.

The skull was crushed in two places and was found apart from the rest of the bones.

Mrs. Black said articles in the clothing, including a pocketknife, belonged to her husband.

Black, a Negro, was last seen sitting in his parked car talking to two white men.

He was a state witness in the case of Jean Paul Norris, a white ex-convict charged with theft on engine equipment valued at $4,413. Deputy Sheriff Willis Hartley said, however, no link had been established between Norris and the slaying. No warrant had been issued for Norris' arrest.

Buddhists Appeal to U.N.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The fourth World Buddhist Conference, now meeting in Nepal, has appealed to the big powers to leave smaller countries alone. Press reports from Katmandu, the Nepalese capital, said the appeal came in a series of resolutions asking the United Nations to take effective action to abolish aggression and urging all countries to ban all nuclear weapons.

Firm Denies Cobo's Charges

Architect Pins Price of New Detroit Hall on Labor, Materials

DETROIT (AP)—An architectural firm has taken issue with Mayor Albert E. Cobo for his recent statement that an error would add six million dollars to the cost of Detroit's new convention hall.

Raymond F. Giffels, executive vice president of Giffels and Vallet, Inc., L. Rossetti, architects for the structure, wrote the mayor:

* * *

"We consider it most unfortunate that you did not discuss the matter with us before you publicly condemned us."

Expressing his "personal admiration" for Cobo's "vision and devotion" to the project, Giffels said, "The context of your remarks has given rise to much misconception."

Cobo said the architects last April figured cost of the riverfront building at $42,548,000 but that subsequent estimates hiked the total to $49,441,000. The mayor indicated the price spiral stemmed from a $2,245,000 blunder in underestimating the amount of steel needed.

Giffels said the original figure for steel was low by about 1,500 tons, adding, "Any engineer or architect will tell you no greater degree of accuracy can be expected" in "very preliminary" estimates.

* * *

Giffels said periodic increases in estimates "have been due to a continuing rise in costs of labor and materials and to many changes in the scope and character of the facility, all ordered by the Memorial Hall Commission."

"It has not been shown that we have made errors costing the city one cent," Giffels added."

Mayor Cobo subsequently said the increase could be financed in the 1957-58 and 1958-59 budgets. The building already is under construction.

Pools Cause Trouble

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—This desert resort, which claims to be the world's swimming pool capital with one for every 12½ residents, has been having pool troubles. Examples A builder got a traffic citation for moving a "used swimming pool" down a main street, blocking motorists. A burglar broke into a home via the pool, one of the type that are half indoors and half out. A householder reported his pool stolen. A 15-foot portable model, it had been lifted out of his back yard.

Chicago Groceryman Believed Suicide

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—Authorities today investigated the possibility of suicide in the death of Odess Dimopoulos, 31, Chicago grocer whose skeleton was found a week ago in a woods near Iron Mountain.

John V. Zarnadi, Dickinson county prosecutor, said examination at the state police laboratory at East Lansing showed the bullet which killed Dimopoulos entered the right side of his skull.

It was first believed the bullet entered the left side. This would have pointed to murder since the pistol which killed Dimopoulos was found in his right hand.

The skeleton, clad in shirt, slacks and shoes, was found by a rabbit hunter beneath a large pine tree. Authorities said it had been there since last spring or earlier.

New State Head Chosen for Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A new government has been formed in Lebanon with Sami Solh once again the premier.

President Camille Chamoun picked Solh to replace Abdullah Yaffi, who resigned Friday. Solh appointed his Cabinet last night.

An internationally known diplomat, Dr. Charles Malik, is the new foreign minister. He formerly was ambassador to Washington and delegate to the United Nations.

Lebanon censorship has restricted news of the government crisis. Reports from Syria said Yaffi resigned because President Chamoun refused to break diplomatic relations with Britain and France.

Ailment Strikes Girls at MSU

30 Coeds Treated for Stomach Disorders; Rush Week Put Off

EAST LANSING (AP) — The sorority rushing weekend at Michigan State University has been postponed because of an unidentified ailment that sent 30 coeds to a hospital.

All but 10 girls have been released from the university's health center.

Symptoms of the ailment were described by Dr. Clifford Menzies, director of the health center, as stomach pains and nausea. The 30 sorority girls live in separate houses on the same block and eat in different dining halls.

The rush weekend, designed to let new coeds meet sorority members, was in full swing when a group of girls at the Delta Gamma sorority was stricken. Eighteen were hospitalized.

Sailor Weds on Schedule

MALDEN, Mass. (AP) — Miss Myrtle Boyce, 20 and Navyman Alfred Bellmore, also 20, were on their honeymoon today—thanks to two congressmen and the U. S. Navy.

The Malden miss and the young man from Methuen were married Saturday as originally planned after a postponement and a cancellation of the postponement.

* * *

The Navy had shipped young Bellmore from his station at Pawtuxent, Md., to Argentia, Nfld., last week, with only a one-day notice.

The bride-to-be had invited about 150 guests to the wedding, had been fitted for her gown, arranged for the reception, and had taken care of all other details.

Then, the day before the wedding, she got a telegram from her fiance that he was in Argentia, Nfld., necessitating a postponement of the wedding.

* * *

Congressmen John W. McCormack and Torbert MacDonald, both Massachusetts Democrats, got busy with naval officials.

The Navy arranged to fly Bellmore home and he and his fiancee were married Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church after invitations were reissued.

Bellmore is due back at Argentia tomorrow.

Sweden Has 'Mystery Boat' at Melbourne

MELBOURNE (AP) — Sweden has Olympic rowing officials at Lake Wentouree Ballarat guessing as to what craft they will use in the games.

At present they have two racing eights. One is of normal construction and design in which they train and the other is revolutionary—and well wrapped up under canvas in a shed.

The normal eight is broad in the beam with a flat bottom, regular bilges and short bow and stern compartments.

The mystery design is said to give greater speed.

The Swedes will not say which boat they will use.

To Confiscate Hoxsey Tablets

Federal Order Signed for Full Destruction of 'Cancer Cure' Pills

PITTSBURGH (INS) — Federal Judge John L. Miller has signed the order needed for destruction of thousands of Hoxsey cancer pills —first step in government plans to put Hoxsey clinics out of business.

A U.S. district court jury ruled Thursday in favor of the government's claim that the pills were misbranded in clinic claims that they were effective cures for cancer.

* * *

Judge Miller's order approved a motion by Assistant U.S. Attorney John De May asking the right to destroy the half-million red and black pills seized at the Portage, Pa., clinic last year.

If clinic attorney Vincent Casey does not file for a new trial within 10 days, De May can go ahead and carry out the order. Judge Miller, meanwhile, is studying DeMay's second request — for a permanent injunction against any future interstate shipment of the pills.

Says Israel Attacked Only in Self-Defense

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Foreign Minister Golda Meir of Israel says her country "will plead guilty to a charge of wanting to live, and live only in peace."

One Reason Why Women Take Life Seriously

Shaggy Bear Joke Quite Suitable for Gals

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Once upon a dark time, in San Francisco's Chinatown, there lived an old shopkeeper named Chan.

* * *

Chan was specialized. He sold only vases, candelabra, soup bowls and liche nut dishes made of teakwood.

Business was stinkin' enough, without the following had to happen.

One night about dusk a bear roamed into his shop. Chan was upset because most of his customers were people and tourists. He ran into his back room for his hari-kari sword. Upon returning cautiously, he peeked through the crystal bead curtain to see what this bear was up to.

Oddly enough, the animal was behaving most politely, pawing daintily at the teakwood vases and occasionally cracking a nut quietly between his big, fat teeth.

* * *

Presently he held up a teak bowl with such obvious appreciation in his beady little eyes that Chan could not help but feel kindly toward him. Here was a comoisseur among carnivora.

But then . . . as if suddenly returned to his bestial instincts, the bear grabbed up the most valuable knick-knack in the house and started out of the shop with it.

* * *

As he ran, he kicked over table after table of teak, and the horrified Chan noticed a curious thing: The bear's feet were not paws at all.

In fact, they were shaped exactly like those of a human boy!

By the time Chan had recovered from his shock, the bear was already on his way down the street with his booty, and the shopkeeper did the only thing he could.

"Stop thief!" he called. "Stop that boy-foot bear with teak of Chan!"

This, convulsed readers, is a "good - clean - shaggy - shilly - suitable-for-ladies" type joke. It is one of dozens we have heard since reporting last week that all jokes nowadays seem to be dirty and-or involving drunks, talking dogs and ministers.

'BEIGE' JOKES

Another plentiful type joke for repetition by the girls is the "beige"—or just off-white—stories involving men, wives, other men, other women and tattle-tale parrots. This is the kind of tale a girl can relate to her best friend, but not her parents.

A third classification of female joke involves gold-diggers and millionaires. These, and there were several of them submitted, are not actually dirty but they're rather morally degenerate.

After receiving many men and women's ideas on how far a lady can go in telling a joke, or listening to one, we have come to the following mixed conclusions:

(1) A woman must be inherently funny or facially contorted to get a laugh from the material given to her for repetition.

(2) Most men don't disapprove of women telling dirty jokes, unless the women are married to them or born of them.

(3) Most women take life too seriously to want to tell jokes anyway.

(4) No two people agree on what qualities make a story funny—or a female a lady.

A rapt and appreciative audience greeted Blanche Thebon, Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano, Saturday evening when she opened the Waterford Township Civic Music Association season at Isaac Crary Junior High School. Accompanied by William Hughes, Miss Thebom presented a varied program of German, French and Italian songs.

The program was divided into four parts:

I

Adelaide ..... Beethoven
Der Kuss ..... Beethoven
Dir Ehre Gottes aus der Natur ..... Beethoven

II

Morgen ..... Staruss
Stanchen ..... Strauss
Ruhe, meine Seele ..... Strauss
All mein Gedanken, mein Herz und mein Sinn ..... Strauss
Cacille ..... Strauss

III

Three Arias from "Carmen" ..... Bizet

IV

After the scheduled part of the program, Miss Thebom was generous with encores. The selection causing the most comment in this group was "Vocalise" by Revel. This song was vocalized rather than sung in words.

Other encores were two modern American songs by Celius Dougherty, "Mon Coeur S'ouvre a Ta Voix" by Saint-Saens, two Negro spirituals and a Swedish folk song.

Members of the Civic Music Association Board of Directors were hostesses at a reception following the concert. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Donald Redmond and Mrs. William Shunck.

Mrs. Redmond, Mrs. Kenneth Young, Mrs. Neil Hunter, Mrs. John Naz and Mrs. Don White presided at the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lindquist of Pirrin drive were among the first to greet Blanche Thebom, mezzo-soprano, at the post-concert reception Saturday evening. For her appearance at the opening event of the Civic Music Association Miss Thebom wore a red and gold brocaded gown, straight in front but full in back.

Editor Returns From West Coast

By JUDITH CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Fashion editors attending the sixth annual Press Week, sponsored by the California Fashion Creators, returned to their desks today after a full week of viewing fashions and sightseeing in and about Los Angeles.

The introductory dinner held Monday evening by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was followed by a party Tuesday night at the Sunset Boulevard home of Charles LeMaire. LeMaire, multiple academy award winning stylist, is head of the women's wardrobe department at 20th Century Fox studio.

LeMaire does his home in every period conceivable, but he sticks to Early American for his own bedroom. We asked him about the unusual bed in this room which has three sides all spindle back and looks like a real antique.

However, it was made by George Montgomery as a birthday present for LeMaire. He got his inspiration from an old settee which he had seen in an antique shop.

It all came about as a surprise to LeMaire, who said that it was delivered and sent to his home by the Montgomerys (she's Dinah Shore, you know). The mattress and springs weren't there, so the couple was seated on the floor inside the frame singing "Happy Birthday" when the LeMaires arrived.

Six pages today in Women's Section

Along with fashion editors attending the party Tuesday were Ginger Rogers and Barbara Rush, co-stars of the production, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" Both actresses wore fashions designed by LeMaire for the film.

Miss Rogers wore a form-fitting day dress of bronze Italian silk and sable skins. A tall bronze turban of tissue silk, bronze gauntlet gloves and dark gold jewelry completed the ensemble.

A checked wool coat dress in tan and black from the film was worn by Miss Rush. A black kid belt and matching black shoes, the belt accented with an orange chiffon handkerchief, was LeMaire's choice for accessories.

Later that evening editors dined and danced at the Coconut Grove. We've told you about the premier of "The Ten Commandments" which fashion editors attended as guests of Paramount Studios, and Thursday California Fashion Creators hosted the group at China Town for dinner and dancing.

Friday night we toured the Padre Vineyards and were served dinner there.

Saturday as guests of MAGIC, Men's Apparel Guild in California, we visited Oceanarium, marineland of the West, where we fed the porpoises.

Saturday night, our last night in the glamor-filled city, we enjoyed Mexican food at La Golondrina, where all the color of old Mexico is brought in this small area within Los Angeles.

Tomorrow we'll tell you about men's fashions for spring and summer.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party, held at the home of Mrs. Sam G. Warwick of Island court. Members are to bring gifts to be distributed among the patiens of the Oakland County Convalescent Home.

Family Uses Her Home for Parties

Woman Weary of Playing Hostess to Large Crowd

By EMILY POST

"About five years ago, my husband and I bought a house and my mother and father-in-law came to live with us. My husband has several brothers and sisters, all married, but living in small apartments.

"Before coming to live with us, my parents-in-law had their own house and whenever a special occasion arose, the family would all gather at the house to celebrate. Now that Mother and Dad are living with us, the rest of the family feels that these celebrations should be continued at our house.

"Whenever my parents-in-law have an anniversary or birthday, the whole family comes over. I am really getting fed up with it as the family gets larger each year and I don't feel up to all this extra work.

"Mother and Dad will soon celebrate another anniversary and I am sure they are all planning to come over. Will you please tell me how I can put an end to this without causing a family rift?"

Answer: You will simply have to tell them that you like to have the parties very much but that you must have help from each family because you cannot possibly any longer do it all alone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does the mother of the bride wait in the pew after the wedding party has gone down the aisle for an usher to return and escort her out of the church, or may she leave on her husband's arm."

Answer: Correctly she waits for the usher especially chosen to take her down the aisle.

Robert Curtis Claims Bride Saturday

A gown of Chantilly lace over satin was worn by Patricia R. Killian for her marriage to Robert F. Curtis. The fitted bodice of the gown was accented by the rounded neckline embroidered in seed pearls and long sleeves that ended in points at the wrists. Inverted pleats formed the back panel of the skirt that extended into a chapel train.

Her veil of heirloom Belgian lace was worn by her mother for her wedding. White rosebuds surrounded the gardenias the bride carried on her prayer book.

The Rev. John J. Hoar performed the double ring ceremony at 12 o'clock noon Saturday in St. Benedict Church in the presence of 400 guests.

The bridal recital was sung by Frances Cappucille and Mrs. Richard Stapelman of Lansing.

* * *

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Killian of Lincoln avenue, asked her sister, Colleen, to serve as maid of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Sally Puertas, Mrs. George Arnold and Mrs. Karlo Akerros of Detroit.

All of the attendants were gowned alike in princess style gowns of peacock blue crystalette with matching headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and rapture roses.

Kathleen Kinney wore a pink nylon organdy dress accented with a peacock blue sash for her duties as flower girl. Her headpiece was a garland of fresh flowers.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Curtis of Livonia asked John Bohn to serve as best man. Ushers were William McDonough, Charles Pell and Michael Killian.

* * *

At the reception held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Killian greeted her guests wearing a gown of midnight blue peau de soie with sequin hat and bag. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Curtis chose a sheath dress of toast-colored lace over taffeta with brown accessories. Completing her ensemble was a corsage of green cypripedium orchids.

For traveling to Chicago the new Mrs. Curtis changed to a charcoal gray suit with turquoise accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. On their return the newlyweds will reside in Birmingham.

The bride attended Central Michigan College and was graduated from Wayne University where she was affiliated with Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wayne University.

Women Always Seeking Praise and Appreciation

Husbands Should Not Expect Wives to Think or Act Like Men

By RUTH MILLETT

For my men readers who confess that they just don't understand women, here are a few fundamental facts:

A woman not only wants to know that her man loves her, she wants her women friends to know it too. That is why a woman appreciates gifts ("my husband gave it to me").

This is also why she gets so upset if her husband is the least bit critical of her in front of others and why she raises the roof if he pays too much attention to another woman at a party.

A woman lives for praise and appreciation. Find fault with her and she is hard to live with. Tell her she is wonderful and she'll break her neck trying to be a perfect wife.

* * *

A woman needs to be needed. She is often at her best when the going is rough and when her husband needs her help, her encouragement, and her ability to make the best of things.

The reason why she often seems to grow dissatsfied and frustrated when the uphill struggle is over is simply because she no longer feels needed.

A woman who is crazy for THINGS, who has to keep ahead of the Joneses, who is never satisfied with what she has, is a woman who doesn't feel loved. As long as a woman is sure that she is loved, THINGS aren't of paramount importance.

A woman doesn't really want to be boss. She is never as proud of overruling her husband to get her own way as she is when she's able to say, "John simply put his foot down."

A woman's home is as important to her as a man's career is to him. That is why she will spend weeks trying to find just the right shade of material for the living room draperies.

Also that's why she will be so frustrated if her husband doesn't notice them the minute he walks into the room. It is as big a blow to her as it would be to him if she failed to grasp the importance of a business deal he managed to put over.

Women aren't really so hard to understand—not if a man doesn't expect them to act or think like men.

Mom 'Suffers' to Control Her Son

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Sometimes Mrs. Boyd's son, away at college, lets five days go by without writing her. Then she writes him like this: "Darling Russ—Is something wrong? If so, let Mother know. It's a week since I heard from you. Last night I never closed my eyes, worrying about whether you were all right . . ."

* * *

This letter will stimulate Russ' sense of obligation to his mother. It will make her unnecessary, self-imposed insomnia seem to be his fault.

He will not think, "Nonsense. I owe Mother nothing for her decision to stay awake all night. It was foolish, putting no joy in my heart, no money in my bank account." Russ, just as his mother wishes him to, will accept her sleepless night as a favor . . him.

Mrs. Boyd is a mother who uses suffering to control her children. Her "worry" over Russ is a carefully calculated exchange of suffering for his submission to her.

* * *

She hasn't any idea that this is true. She doesn't know that she suffers over him to make it impossible for him to ever say, "No, Mother."

WISH EXPOSED

But the strength of her wish to control him is exposed in the acuteness of her disappointment whenever he makes a decision she doesn't like—when he spends a weekend with his roommate's family instead of coming home; when his letters are short, not reporting all his doings; when he shuts the hall door on telephone conversations with girls.

* * *

At these efforts of Russ to gain some control of his own life, his mother feels exactly like a cheated tradesman whose customer has refused to pay his bill.

Is it her wish to dominate him that makes her dangerous?

No. Most of us "sacrifice" so much more for children than we want to that the wish for a compensating control of their lives is almost inevitable.

No—what makes Mrs. Boyd's wish so deadly is the appearance of devotion she gives it. Sh wants not only to dominate; but to do it in the religious glow of the saint's stained glass window.

* * *

It is very hard for sons to secure manhood from mothers who disguise their domination as goodness and suffering. People who are concerned for the manhood of American boys get furious at mothers like Mrs. Boyd.

Installing officer, Mrs. Maude Frye, first national vice president, was assisted by Mrs. Barbara Cornell, Mrs. Perron, Mrs. Knickerbocker and Mrs. Hayberg.

St. Bernadette Guild Plans Yule Party

* * *

* * *

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Michael Keith and Mrs. Elaine McDonald.

Mrs. Harold A. Tripp, play lady chairman at Pontiac General Hospital shows a young patient, Katie Wilbur of 30 Pingree street, the riddle page in a children's magazine. With them is the Play Train, the most popular piece of equipment in the children's ward. Mrs. Tripp, a member of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, was selected as November's Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau. She serves as a play lady under the sponsorship of the hospital auxiliary.

By Central Volunteer Bureau

Mrs. Tripp Is Cited Top Volunteer

For youngsters who have been hospitalized at Pontiac General Hospital, probably the most memorable and most beloved person is Mrs. Harold Tripp, head of the hospital Auxiliary's "Play Ladies."

Because of her outstanding record, Mrs. Tripp, who lives on Dakota street, has been named as Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau, a Pontiac Area United Fund agency serving the communities of Pontiac, Waterford and Birmingham.

For the past three years, Mrs. Tripp has been in charge of the Play Train at the hospital. This delightful locomotive has shelves in its cabin and its engine cover opens up to hold toys, books and crayons—many things to interest the young convalescents.

Its wheels have a peculiar squeek and Mrs. Tripp says it always gives her a thrill to hear the youngsters call out, "Here comes the Play Train! Here comes the Play Train!"

* * *

Play Ladies at Pontiac General are on hand in the afternoon from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m., for a play period, and from 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. for story telling. They are as much comfort to parents as they are to the children. Many fathers and mothers have had to leave their children crying at the end of the visiting hours, but stand in the hall and hear them quieted and comforted in a few minutes by the Play Lady.

Forty-seven volunteers serve once every two weeks in this program, there are forty-two others who constitute the repair crew, daily washing and repairing the playthings.

Mrs. Tripp, who put in more than 500 hours last year in her capacity as chairman, bubbles over with enthusiasm when she speaks of her volunteer work.

* * *

"I like my train and I love my children. They are my life. I wish everyone could share the enthusiasm I get.

"And volunteers are a wonderful group to work with," she went on. "They have such enthusiasm, such understanding. Some who have only a half day off come here and devote that time to the children. Right now our week days are full but we need more Play Ladies for weekends and holidays."

* * *

Mrs. Tripp also listed toys that are needed — washable squeeze toys, automobiles, funny comics, dolls and crayons.

* * *

Those who would like to serve their community in this capacity or in other ways may call the Central Volunteer Bureau at 218 National Building, Pontiac.

Vitamins and Minerals Can Prolong Youth

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

An adequate vitamin and mineral intake may well prolong the youthful portion of your life and rid you of many of the pretty physical discomforts which haunt you. It also will probably zoom your energy and enthusiasm.

* * *

Yet there are so many different vitamins and minerals that the average woman my be confused as how to plan heathful, vitamin-and-mineral-rich menus for her family and herself.

Most of the vitamins are widely distributed in foods—in many instances in very small amounts. A comprehensive study of food lists and their vitamin and mineral content will show you that certain foods have special importance in the diet.

In order to help you plan healthful menus I am printing a short list of the best sources of the important minerals and vitamins.

* * *

1. Vitamin A. The green, leafy vegetables are very high in vitamin A. Spinach is not held in such great admiration as it once was since the oxalic acid it contains seems to bind the calcium you eat. All of the green and yellow vegetables are good sources. So are liver, eggs, milk, cheese and dried apricots.

MANY VITAMIN B's

2. Vitamin B. There are many different vitamin B's, and this family is called Vitamin B complex. No one food has all of the vitamin B family in ideal proportions but when a food is a fine source of one of the vitamin Bs it usually has the rest of them, too.

Some of the foods especially rich in vitamin B are: Brewer's yeast, wheat germ, whole wheat products, lamb, peanuts, oatmeal (whole or enriched), turnip and mustard greens, kale, pork, liver, beet greens, and dried peas and beans.

3. Vitamin C. The richest and most reliable sources are the citrus fruits and fruit juices. Raw cabbage and tomatoes are also good sources. Many other foods have vitamin C but in smaller amounts.

4. Vitamin D. You get this vitamin through action of the sunlight. Watch out for the winter months when you are not outdoors much. Vitamin D is present in some foods in their natural state.

Salmon, herring and sardines have quite a bit. Fish livers have great amounts. Thus cod liver oil is often prescribed during winter months. Eggs have some vitamin D.

* * *

5. Vitamin E. If you eat a well-balanced diet you probably will get enough of this vitamin if you include some whole wheat products in your menus. Wheat germ is a good source and you can use this in many ways in your daily meals. It really has a very pleasant nutty flavor. Usually you will get vitamin K in the same foods which provide vitamin E.

Synthetic vitamin intake may be indicated but you should always try to obtain as many of the vitamins in sufficient amounts in your food. This is one of our present day fountains of youth.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 38 "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

MINERALS, PREPARATION of FOOD IMPORTANCE

Now let us consider the minerals which are so important to our well being.

* * *

Calcium is one of the most essential minerals. It is called "The Friend of Youthfulness." It is needed by adults as well as by children. You must have enough vitamin D or your body will not properly utilize the calcium you consume.

Milk and cheese are the best sources. Other foods have calcium in lesser amounts. Some of them are: Turnip greens, eggs, lean beef, the baked potato, cabbage and apples.

Phosphorous. This usually goes along with calcium. If you get enough of the latter you probably will have enough phosphorous. Meat, milk and whole grain products provide you with this mineral.

* * *

Iron. Iron is important in the prevention of anemia. It does an important work in transporting oxygen to the cells. Meats and the leafy green vegetables are fine sources. Liver is especially high in iron as are many of the seafoods. Whole wheat, molasses, dried beans and the lentils also are splendid sources.

ESSENTIAL TO HEALTH

There are many more minerals which are essential to health, and even to life, but if you eat a well-balanced diet and make sure you get enough of the minerals which have been discussed today you need not worry about them.

* * *

Do not take lightly the way you prepare your food. Much of the vitamin and mineral content is lost if you cook vegetables in water and then drain off the water which is left after the vegetables are done. Cook with minimum of water so that there is none to be poured off when the food is done.

Whenever you can, bake, boil, steam or cook with a pressure cooker. Eat as many of your fruits and greens raw as feasible. Make your frozen orange juice just before you use it. Always screw the top on tightly when you store juice in the icebox. Vitamin C is lost very rapidly.

Most of us are faced with the fact that even though we try to obtain an optimum vitamin and mineral intake, we have difficulty in doing so. Many elements enter into the problem. The soil the vegetables are grown in dictates to some extent the vitamin content of the fruit or vegetable.

* * *

How long the product has been in storage is another factor. If you cook the product incorrectly that takes even more from its potency, healthwise.

THE NORMAL WAY

So, unless we are to become "nuts about nutrition," it would appear that we do not have a very good chance of getting enough of these vital food values which can delay aging and add greatly to energy and happiness. We naturally do not wish to become "nuts." We want to live in a normal way.

There seem to be two things we can do. In the first place, we should buy and cook our foods in the manner which will save as much of the minerals and as many of the vitamins as possible. Then we can reinforce our diet with synthetic vitamins. Your doctor will prescribe for you in this matter.

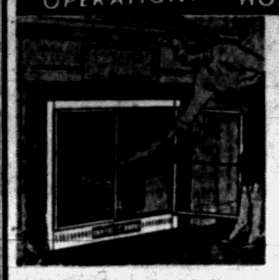

What we eat is so important to us in health, in youthfulness and, therefore, in happiness.

Mrs. McCully Arranges to Take Care of Children

Local Woman Going Back to Ecuador Where Husband Was Slain by Indians

Pontiac may well be proud of one of her younger citizens, Mrs. T. Edward McCully Jr., daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harold F. Hobolth of May court.

* * *

The former Marilou Hobolth is the widow of the Rev. T. Edward McCully Jr., one of the five missionaries who was slain by the Auca Indians in the jungles of Ecuador last January.

After her husband's death, Mrs. McCully came back to Pontiac with her two sons, Michael and Steven. Her youngest son, Matthew, was born here in February.

Mrs. McCully and her children will return to Quito, Ecuador, on Nov. 28. She will make a home there for school children whose missionary parents are working in the jungle among the Indians.

* * *

When friends in Ecuador heard she was returning, they rented a house and are caring for the children until her arrival. School starts during August in Quito.

VERY OLD CITY

Quito, the capital of Ecuador, is one of the oldest cities of South America and has one of the highest elevations in the world. Located in a ravine on the east side of the volcano, Pichincha, the city is more than 9,000 feet above sea level.

* * *

"Although Quito is known as the city of perpetual spring," said Mrs. McCully, "homes are quite chilly as there is no central heating."

The population, which is chiefly Spanish and Indian, is estimated at 150,000. Most of the streets are narrow and steep. Homes are either large, usually enclosed with high walls and occupied by the wealthy, or low, simple adobe structures, the homes of the poor.

Quito is famous for the needlework and laces made by the women.

* * *

Mrs. McCully will be living about a block away from radio station HCJB, Voice of the Andes, operated by the Rev. Robert Savage, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Savage of Pontiac.

She was graduated from Pontiac High School with the class of 1946 and received a degree in music from the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, in 1949.

MET AT BANQUET

Mrs. McCully met her husband when he came to Pontiac to speak at a banquet in the First Baptist Church in November, 1950. They were married here on June 29, 1951.

* * *

Her husband, a native of Wauwatosa, Wis., near Milwaukee, was a 1949 graduate of Wheaton College. He attended the Marquette University Law School at Milwaukee for two years before deciding to become a missionary.

After their marriage they went to Los Angeles, where the Rev. Mr. McCully took a missionary medical course at the Los Angeles Bible Institute.

They left for Ecuador as representatives of "Christian Missions in Many Lands." After studying Spanish for nine months in Quito, the McCullys journeyed into the jungle to Shanadia where they worked with the friendly Quichua Indians until April, 1955.

* * *

DID TRANSLATIONS

With Peter Fleming and James Elliott who were also killed by the Aucas, the Rev. Mr. McCully translated the Quichua language and put it into written form. He assisted in translating Bible stories and several books of the Bible.

* * *

Besides holding regular church services, the missionaries began teaching the Indians to read and write their own language.

They then moved to Arajuno Missionary Station, a former Shell Oil Co. base, where they started a school. In six months there were 60 pupils.

Learning of the savage Auca tribe, the missionaries planned a trip to lay the foundation for work among them.

* * *

They dropped gifts of brightly colored ribbons, clothing and other trinkets in buckets lowered by ropes from their Piper Cub plane.

The Indians responded with gifts of a parrot, a feather crown and native food. They even erected a 20-foot platform to receive the bucket-delivered goods.

STRANGE AUCAS

The expedition took the missionaries to the Curarray River. Shortly after landing, Nathaniel Saint, missionary from Pennsylvania, radioed his wife they had landed. He transmitted again at 4 p.m., then broke off with "Here comes a group of Aucas whom we have not known before."

* * *

The Aucas, described as the least civilized of Ecuador's Indian tribes have rarely been seen by white men.

Mrs. McCully stated of her work there, "The spiritual rewards of missionary work far exceed any physical discomforts or danger. I would be happy if our children follow the same calling."

Billie Hobolth, a sister of Mrs. McCully and a nurse at Pontiac General Hospital will leave Pontiac Jan. 1, 1957, for Costa Rica, where she will continue her study of Spanish for three months.

* * *

She will then go to the Harry Rimmer Memorial Hospital in Quito to serve as a missionary nurse.

Billie is a graduate of Wheaton College in Illinois and the Hurley School of Nursing at Flint.

Lemon Rind Gives Tang to Cookies

Mrs. Thompson's Recipe Will Make Four Dozen Treats

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Tuck this cookie recipe away for your holiday baking. It is for a good molasses cookie with the added tang of lemon or orange rind. There are no eggs in the recipe.

Mrs. Rick Thompson, today's cook, is active in church and PTA work. Her favorite hobby is baking.

1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup dark molasses
½ cup shortening
2 teaspoons grated lemon or orange rind

Sift dry ingredients. Mix molasses and shortening in sauce pan. Bring to a boil. Cool. Add rest of ingredients and chill two hours.

Malkim School Has Open House

"Reporting to Parents" was the subject of discussion at the Malkim School PTA meeting and open house held Thursday evening at the school. Discussion leaders were Glenn Husted, Mrs. William Mihalek, Mrs. William Anderson and Robert Boice.

* * *

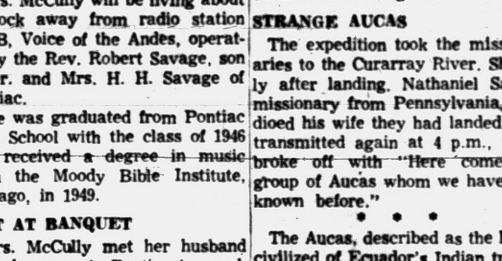

Prior to the meeting, parents visited their children's rooms, talked with the teachers and observed the work in progress.

Mothers of the first grade class who presided over the social hour were Mrs. Glenn Hoisington, Mrs. Earl Myers, Mrs. Sigmun Bolog, Mrs. Earmon Howard, Mrs. William Jarrell and Mrs. Nelson Kirby.

Pay Attention to Your Good Ideas

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Have you ever had a good idea—for a business or a product or a gadget—and then dismissed it, only to find somebody else making a fortune from it a few years later?

To judge by my mail and the stories people tell me, it happens a good deal.

As Emerson said, "In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts; they return to us with a kind of alienated majesty."

You shouldn't, of course, go wildly off developing every idea that pops into your head.

It would pay, however, to give them more attention, do a little research, decide whether they're usable or not, instead of just discounting and dismissing them.

CHRISTMAS MONEY

Barbara J. has a home job every November and early December. It brings in Christmas money, is painless and fun.

She got it because an idea occurred to her and she didn't just casually dismiss it.

"It all began," she told me, "when I found this perfectly wonderful small florist shop, a few Christmas decorations for doors and mantels and windows.

"They were unusual and artistic and reasonably priced. Every year I bought them.

* * *

"The trouble was that you had to order them before Dec. 10th to be sure to ge them. For a number of years, I remembered in the nick of time. One year, it was December 10th on the dot when I called.

MANY OTHERS

"I began thinking that there must be plenty of others who like me, wanted these products but might forget to call. I talked it over with the florist.

"Sure enough, he told me that he did lose business because people telephoned their orders too late.

"I asked if I could work for him, from my own home, telephoning old customers, reminding them each year that it was time to place their orders. He agreed.

"I'm having more fun! I began Oct. 1st, since I decided the more time the better. People are not a bit annoyed—in fact, they're glad to be reminded. They're placing big orders, too.

"Now, I'm even calling brand-new customers.

PERFECT JOB

"It's a perfect job for me," Barbara concluded, "because the products are wonderful and the prices are right. I'm a satisfied customer myself and I'm sure that comes across in my voice. I can work at home without having to leave the children.

The money is welcome, the hours are flexible, and the florist is very happy about it, too.

* * *

"It's all because, when I was a customer, it occurred to me that somebody ought to be around to remind us. I came near doing nothing about it—I'm so glad I acted."

From now on, whenever you find yourself saying, "Somebody ought to—" or "There ought to be a better way to—" don't just dismiss the idea. Maybe you're the somebody!

If Barbara's kind of work interests you, send me a stamped, self-addressed long envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on "Making Money on the Telephone."

Press as You Go for Better Styling

When designing and making your own or your children's clothes, pressing "as you go" is very important, say clothing specialists.

Before pressing seams open, place the seam flat on the ironing board and press its two edges together in the same position in which it was stitched. This smooths the seam and works the stitches into the fabric. It should be done with almost every seam stitched—except across gathers.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 21

The next morning Steve and I left our apartment together. He was on his way to the office for two reasons. A: the relatively unimportant one of giving his boss the impression that he was still working for his newspaper; B: to dig into the back number files to see if he could learn anything about the apparently accidental death of a man named Walter in the month of August.

I was on my way to the Crescent School of Dancing for a number of reasons. Perhaps Leone Webb, having lived with Anita, might know of a man called Stubby. And there were some questions which Steve had thought up for me to ask Jack Walston and Dottie Harris.

I reached the fourteenth floor and saw that Leone was busy at her reception desk with some people, but she had time to spot me.

She gave me a message. Mr. Bell wanted to see me now, at once, before my first lesson. I thanked Leone, but I didn't mean it. The message had re-set my nerves to jumping.

I opened the door of my employer's office just an inch. The sight of him alone, without the company of any policemen, soothed me . . . but not completely. My position on Mr. Bell's faculty was too delicate a hypocrisy to stand any interest in me from him. He smiled at me and, as royalty does, bade me sit.

* * *

"Well, Hester!"

I smiled back at him, hoping to build up some good labor-capital relations. Our grins seemed to make the very walls of the elegant office shiver in delight.

"Well, Hester! This is your second day with us!"

"Yes, Mr. Bell. This is my second day!"

"And how are things going? Was yesterday difficult for you?"

"Difficult? Mr. Bell," I said fervently, "I shall always consider yesterday one of the most thrilling days of my life."

I didn't add that I hoped I would never have another like it. I just sat nodding and beaming at my master.

"Ah," Mr. Bell said. He actually said, "Ah."

"Yes," I said. "Oh, yes!"

"Then you find teaching gratifying, do you?"

"Gratifying? Mr. Bell, I said thrilling. To take those poor, stumbling, awkward men and help them achieve grace, poise and social well-being through dancing is thrilling. Thrilling!"

"I take it then, Hester, that you will be with us for a good long while."

* * *

I turned pale inside. What a glib, monstrous liar I, Connie Barton, was becoming. If this was habit-forming, I would hardly be a fit mother for the small group of children Steve and I were planning. But then I remembered the reason for all this chicanery. After all, it would hardly be a boon to our little ones to have had their daddy tried for murder . . . unfortunately for my morale, Mr. Bell broke up my dire thinking.

"Well, Hester, I just wanted to make sure you were happy with us."

"Very happy, Mr. Bell."

"If you ever have any difficulties or problems, don't hesitate to come to me." Hastily, he added, "I mean problems involving your work here."

"I understand, and thank you. Oh, Mr. Bell . . . "

I had just noticed an ugly blotch on his immaculate white shirt collar. I was sure he would want to know about such an unfortunate untidiness.

"Yes, Hester?"

"I'm sure you'd want to know . . there's something on your collar. You must have cut yourself shaving."

He was perplexed. "No . . . no, I use an electric razor."

"Lipstick!" Mr. Bell was mortified. "No, it must be blood. I mean . . . "

* * *

He strode across the room, examined himself in a wall mirror . . . and my brain buzzed. While his back was still to me, I opened my purse. My yesterday's gloves were still in it. The orange stain from the mouth of my assailant outside Anita's apartment sparkled up at me.

It was similar enough to the stain on Mr. Bell's collar to almost convince me they were identical. Unless Mr. Bell was unfaithful in his devotion to Leone Webb, I knew who my assailant was. But I wanted to make sure.

I closed in on my man.

"Mr. Bell," I said.

He turned back to me, his face flushed like a trapped schoolboy. "Hester," he said. "Hester, I can't imagine how . . . "

"Mr. Bell, don't be embarrassed. I understand completely."

"You . . . understand?"

"I knew it the moment I saw you together. You were being so distant to each other, so business-like. But I could see it."

"See what?"

"Between you . . . you and Leone Webb. Congratulations, Mr. Bell."

"Good Lord . . . you're sharp!"

"About love . . . yes. When will you be married? Soon, I hope, for both your sakes."

"Look here, Hester . . . "

"Yes?"

* * *

"Before I change my shirt I'm going to confide in you. I feel I must explain."

"Is it necessary to explain, Mr. Bell? I'm not investigating you, sir."

"No, no . . . you see, I've made such a point of keeping the relationships here in my school completely business-like. You can imagine how my conscience tortured me as I found myself attracted by, then drawn inevitably toward Miss Webb."

"You may call her Leone."

"Then to my horror, Leone reciprocated my affection and . . . "

"Put it bluntly, Mr. Bell. You developed a terrific yen for each other. You fought against it. You lost. I don't blame either of you. So you're going to be married. When?"

"Well, I thought we should wait a year. To make certain, you know." He was smiling now, happy in his love. "We were planning to be married on New Year's Eve."

"That's a good way to begin a year."

"Yes, it pleases me." He chuckled in the thores of a fond remembrance. "You see, it was on New Year's Eve that I proposed to Leone. Actually, it was quite unromantic. I proposed by telephone."

"That could be unsatisfactory."

* * *

"Yes, it was impetuous of me to spoil it like that. We had gone to a small restaurant where I was sure we wouldn't be seen . . . and Leone was so irresistible . . . well, after I had taken her home, I went home and actually paced the floor.

Then I did it. I telephoned her a little after midnight and proposed."

"Yes," Mr. Bell sighed. "Yes."

"Congratulations. She's a wonderful girl."

"Yes . . . oh, yes."

The phone rang; Mr. Bell answered it.

"Hello . . . oh, hello, my darling . . . " He jumped, startled, shocked at himself. He cleared the romance from his voice. He said briskly, "Yes, Miss Webb? Oh . . . send them right in. Thank you."

He hung up, spoke to me.

"The detectives want to see me, Hester. If you don't mind."

"Not at all!" I said quickly. I got to the door, almost through it.

* * *

"Hester!"

"Yes, Mr. Bell?"

"I'm sure I can count on you to be discreet . . . "

"Of course!" I had to get out of here fast. "Absolutely!"

"Perhaps if you feel your salary is inadequate . . . "

"Oh, no, sir! Thank you, sir!"

I managed to get behind the door of an empty studio just in time. Through the peep-hole I saw Hankins and Bolling march past and disappear into Mr. Bell's office. I slid out of my hiding place and headed for the reception room. I could probably count on a few uninterrupted moments with Miss Leone Webb.

State Educators at Record High

Public School Teachers Should Number 55,000 by School Year's End

LANSING (AP)—Michigan schools will employ a record number of teachers by the end of June, state officials state.

The number of public school teachers should climb to 55,000 by the end of the school year—an increase of 6,000 over the last school year, said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

Taylor said more teachers were hired because of an increase of 70,000 in Michigan public school enrollments and because many schools are trying to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio.

While demands for teachers increased, so did the supply.

Higher salaries and better retirement plans attracted increasing numbers of teachers from neighboring states, while graduating classes of Michigan teacher colleges were larger, Taylor said.

Michigan teacher colleges turned out 4,500 new teachers last year, while 1,400 more came from other states.

This year's graduating classes were 10 per cent larger than the previous year's. And classes will be from 15 to 20 per cent larger this year than last, he added.

Some 44,000 of the state's teachers have at least a bachelor's degree. About 13,500 have master's or higher degrees and 11,000 have no degrees at all.

Taylor said that within 10 years Michigan should have no non-degree teachers.

Bridge Colors Chosen

ST. IGNACE, (AP)—Ivory towers will rise between a pale green suspension span when the Mackinac Straits Bridge is painted. That's the color scheme decided on for the 100 million dollar bridge linking Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas. It is to be completed in late 1957.

Dairy Exports Dip

COPENHAGEN—Denmark's 1955 dairy exports totaled more than $183,000,000, a decline of 4 per cent from the year before. But they made up 18 per cent of Denmark's over-all earnings from exports and 31 per cent of the export of agricultural products.

About 28.6 million Americans own one or more kinds of musical instruments.

Rubber Consumption Up

AKRON, Ohio — The United States is expected to increase its consumption of man-made rubber this year to 905,000 tons compared with 893,000 in 1955. The rest of the free world is expected to raise its consumption a total of 50,000 tons to about 250,000 tons.

Yesterday's Cold Turkey Is Today's Hot Feature

What to do with leftover turkey? Why with our Turkey Amandine recipe you will be inspired to invite your friends for an informal supper party and they will help you finish the bird in fine style.

Turkey Amandine sounds fancy but actually it's a quickie recipe for turkey in cream sauce with a sprinkling of browned almonds as a final garnish. And for another special touch serve Turkey Amandine on shortcake.

Key to the jiffy sauce recipe for Turkey Amandine is instant nonfat dry milk which makes it possible to use this short-cut "no-lump" sauce recipe.

Dry milk is proving to be a valuable ally to many homemakers for many reasons—it is nutritious, it is versatile, it is convenient. And especially important it is exceptional economy.

Turkey Amandine

4 tablespoons butter
⅓ cup chopped onion
1 (3-oz.) can mushroom crowns and liquor
3 cups diced cooked turkey
5 tablespoons flour
⅔ cup (one envelope) instant nonfat dry milk powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
3 cups water
2 tablespoons sherry, optional
⅓ cup blanched almonds, split

Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in skillet; add onion; saute until golden brown. Add mushrooms and liquid; cook until liquid evaporates. Stir in turkey.

Place water in deep 1-quart bowl; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder, flour, and seasonings over surface. Beat with rotary beater just until blended. Pour over turkey mixture.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add sherry. Brown almonds in remaining butter. Serve Turkey Amandine over split shortcakes; sprinkle with almonds. Serves 6.

Shortcake:

1⅓ cups sifted flour
⅓ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
⅓ cup water

Sift together flour, instant nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder and salt in mixing bowl; cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse corn meal.

Add water; stir just until blended. Knead dough several times on a floured board. Roll out to a rectangle 10x12 inches.

Cut in half, lengthwise, then in thirds, crosswise, to make six square biscuits. Or cut the 10x12-inch rectangle into diamond shapes with cookie cutter. Place on greased baking sheet.

Bake in very hot oven (475 degrees) about 12 minutes or until browned. Serve with Turkey Amandine.

Timesavers to Make Meal-Getting Easier

Here are some kitchen time savers from the current issue of a home magazine for the busy housewife, the working girl, or the harassed bachelor:

Last minute rush is always a headache. Save trouble and bother with this meat trick: Give chicken a quick fry any time during the day. Then slip it into a slow oven an hour before serving.

Lobster Diablo Devilishly Good!

Ringing in a change from the traditional pizza and lasagna, this simple-to-prepare Lobster Diablo makes spaghetti into a new and exciting company dish.

Served with a crisp green salad and fruit for dessert, this is an ideal dinner for the homemaker who wants to spend as much time as possible with her guests and as little as possible in the kitchen.

Lobster Diablo

1 minced clove garlic
1 tablespoon oil
1 6-oz. can tomato paste
1 6-oz. can water (use tomato paste can to measure)
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
⅛ teaspoon red crushed peppers or cayenne
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ cup oil
4 frozen South African rock lobster tails, thawed cooked spaghetti

In heavy skillet, saute garlic in 1 tablespoon oil a few minutes. Add tomato paste, can of water, tomatoes, red pepper, salt, pepper and thyme. Cook slowly for about an hour.

Stir occasionally and add a little more water if needed. Mixture should be very thick. Ten minutes before end of cooking time, add mushrooms and liquid.

Meanwhile, in remaining hot oil in large skillet, brown lobster tails (whole or in pieces). Add cooked tails to sauce.

Dreamy Holiday Desserts to Please Calorie-Budgeter

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Holiday time can be agonizing for the calorie-conscious person who must sit miserably by while others down delicious desserts.

The answer, of course, is to devise desserts that look and taste rich, but are low in calories.

Lemon Meringue Pudding

2 medium eggs separated
2½ tablespoons gluten flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons artificial sweetening
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup water
½ lemon rind

Beat egg yolks well. Add flour, salt, sweetening, lemon juice and beat until mixture is smooth.

Add water and cook over low flame until mixture thickens. Pour into custard cups about half full. Cool.

Orange Fluff

2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon artificial sweetening
3 egg whites
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin

Dissolve gelatin in one-half cup cold water. Add to one-half cup boiling orange juice, then add the remaining cold orange juice. Let stand until it begins to jell.

Add to stiffly beaten egg whites. Put into serving dishes and chill. Makes six to eight servings, 36 calories per serving.

* * *

Chocolate Roll

6 eggs
3 cups skim milk
⅔ tablespoon unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 teaspoons vanilla
Liquid artificial sweetening to taste

Combine four egg yolks, melted chocolate and vanilla to four well-beaten egg whites. Sweetening to taste. Bake in 12x18 tin for 20 minutes. Cover with damp cloth until cool.

Return to deep freeze until ready to serve. One-half inch slices are 15 calories per serving.

Custard for Chocolate roll: Pour three cups of hot milk over two well-beaten eggs, cook until thick and add sweetening to taste Add one teaspoon vanilla. Let cool and freeze.

Beans, Chestnuts Baked in Cream

Green Beans Supreme

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups light cream
½ teaspoon soy sauce
Salt
Pepper
2 cans (15½ ounces each) whole green beans (drained)
1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts (drained and sliced into thin rounds)
1 can (3½ ounces) French-fried onions

Melt butter in a medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Remove from heat. Gradually add light cream, stirring until smooth after each addition.

Stir in soy sauce along with salt and pepper to taste. Add drained green beans and sliced water chestnuts; mix well and reheat.

Turn into shallow baking dish (about 2 quarts). Sprinkle with French-fried onions. Place in hot (425 degrees) or moderate (350 degrees) oven until onions are lightly

Pass Rich Soup for Main Dish

This soup is thick enough to serve as a main dish. Since the rice and egg slices contribute top quality protein, the soup is a nutritious one. Add bits of leftover turkey (or chicken) if you wish.

Turkey-Egg Soup

Turkey carcass (or chicken)
3 quarts water
1 cup uncooked white rice
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon plus 2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
Dash of red pepper
2 bay leaves
1 No. 303 can tomatoes (break up tomatoes)
1 cup canned or frozen green peas
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced (more if desired)

Put the turkey or chicken carcass in the water and simmer about 2½ hours. Remove the bones. Remove any meat still on bones and add to the water.

Add the rice, onions, celery, salt, black pepper, red pepper and bay leaves to the soup stock. Cover and simmer about 1 hour. Add the tomatoes and peas and cook until the peas are tender if uncooked peas are used.

Serve piping hot, garnished with the egg slices. Add additional pieces of turkey or chicken, if desired. This recipe makes about 3½ quarts of soup.

Cranberry Red for Color, Taste

Back in Pilgrim days, the good housewife stewed the tart wild "cranberry" with her carefully hoarded sugar, to make a sauce for the wild fowl and game that her menfolk provided.

Nowadays, cranberry sauce is still made much in the fashion of the early settlers, but the plump, cultivated cranberry — generally available for just a few months, October through December—the refined sugar, the super-heating ranges, make quick work of what was once a tedious process.

• • •

Nor is the traditional sauce reserved just for chicken or turkey or goose. For modern homemakers have discovered that this easy-to-make and economical sauce can give a flavor "lift" to all kinds of dishes, from breakfast right through dinner.

Wholeberry Cranberry Sauce

2 cups water
2 cups sugar
4 cups fresh cranberries

Boil water and sugar together for 5 minutes. Add cranberries and bring to a rapid boil. Reduce heat and cook until all the berries pop, about 5 minutes. Makes 1 quart sauce.

FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE — Fresh Cranberry Sauce shows its around-the-clock versatility — as a pancake topper, as a dressing for cottage cheese and fruit salad, and as the principal ingredient in a delectable Cranberry Fruit Crisp.

WITH PANCAKES

Prepare small pancakes, using your favorite recipe or mix. Arrange on hot plate and top with generous spoonfuls of whole cranberry sauce. Add a sprinkle of brown sugar, or a drizzle of maple syrup just before serving, if desired.

• • •

WITH SALAD

Season cottage cheese to taste and heap a generous serving on a nest of crisp greens. Surround with fruit pieces (fresh or canned) and top with spoonfuls of chilled whole cranberry sauce.

Cranberry Fruit Crisp

2 cups whole berry cranberry sauce
1 cup thin apple slices (1 large apple)
¾ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups corn flakes
3 tablespoons soft butter

Combine cranberry suace, apple slices, ½ cup sugar and spices in a well-greased baking dish. Spread with an even layer of corn flakes and dot with butter. Sprinkle remaining ¼ cup sugar over top.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) until apples are tender, about 20-25 minutes. Makes four servings. Serve warm.

Read These Rules to Keep Blender Running Smooth

URBANA, Ill. (INS)—If you have an electric blender, there are some general rules to follow to keep it operating smoothly and efficiently.

Catherine M. Sullivan, University of Illinois home management specialist, lists them:

If the recipe calls for liquid, put the liquid into the blender first to insure a smooth mixture.

Cut solid foods coarsely, in about one or two inch cubes, before you put them into the blender. In this way they can get into the cutting blades and will be blended evenly.

When blending a thick liquid, fill the container only one-third to one-half full. But you can fill it up to three-fourths full when you're working with a thin liquid. You'll save time by blending small quantities at a time.

You can add liquids slowly while the blender is in action. But stop the blender while stirring a mixture or else the spoon may be caught in the blades.

The blending time determines the texture so follow timing directions carefully. It's easy to overblend because a blender works so swiftly.

Tangy Barbecue Sauce Delicious With Spaghetti

If you go for the tangy flavor of barbecue sauce, this Barbecued Spaghetti is your dish. Add 4 teaspoons salt and 8 ounches long thin spaghetti to 1½ quarts boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt 1 tablespoon fat in large skillet, brown 1 pound ground beef well in fat. Add 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon enriched flour and 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, mixing well. Add 2¼ cups tomato juice (1 pint 2-ounce can), cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Rinse spaghetti with hot water and drain well. Arrange spaghetti in center of hot platter with barbecue sauce around edge. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

For weight-watchers cream sauce made with water, nonfat dry milk powder, salt and pepper—and no fat!

Hamburger Pie, Italian Style

Hamburger Pizza is a ground beef dish perfect for informal entertaining. Seasoned ground beef is spread in a pie pan and layers of well-drained, cooked tomatoes and shredded sharp cheese are spread on top.

Here is the recipe:

Hamburger Pizza

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup well-drained, cooked tomatoes
½ cup shredded sharp cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon dried basil
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

Mix ground beef with salt and pepper. Pat out in a 9-inch pie pan. Spread tomatoes over hamburger and sprinkle with the remaining ingredients.

Bake in a 350 degree oven 20 minutes. Cut in wedges to serve. Makes four servings.

For that ladies' lunch: chicken salad with cashew nuts added along with the regular ingredients. Serve shortly after the nuts have been mixed in or they are likely to get soggy.

As you read these words you are thinking about the first time you will serve your Thanksgiving turkey — for dinner sometime on Thursday. If you have bought a large enough bird, there will be leftovers. What will you do with them?

Turkey sandwiches Thursday night will take care of much of the turkey meat in some families. But for those of you who like to serve turkey dishes after the festive meal, here are some suggestions.

Last week Josephine Lawyer, the Consumer Information Service director for Oakland County, and I tested a couple of recipes for turkey. We had The Pontiac Press photographer take a picture of the completed dishes so you may see them.

Mrs. Lawyer made Spaghetti with Turkey Balls. Served with a flavorful tomato sauce, they were delicious—even at ten o'clock in the morning. Here's the recipe she used:

Spaghetti with Turkey Balls

2 cups cooked turkey—finely chopped or ground
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup fine bread crumbs (toasted)
4 eggs, well beaten

Tomato Sauce:

Brown 1 clove garlic in ½ water, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon oregano, bay leaf. Simmer at least 1 hour. Add turkey balls.

Pour over a platter or casserole of spaghetti. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese or pass cheese separately.

The recipe I chose to try was a Turkey Biscuit Ring. This combines bits of turkey with onion and parsley and serves it in a baking powder biscuit crust. Although the recipe did not call for it, I think some kind of cream sauce would go well with the Ring.

TURKEY BISCUIT RING

Using your favorite biscuit mix, roll dough to ¼-inch thickness. Spread with turkey mixture.

2 cups finely chopped or ground cooked turkey
1 teaspoon minced onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

Moisten lightly with turkey gravy. Roll as for a jelly ring. Shape into a ring on baking sheet. Slash with scissors. Bake in hot oven, 10-15 minutes.

When you serve any turkey dish to your family, don't call it a leftover dish. Either give it its proper name or call it a "planned over dish." Names do make a difference.

Perhaps you are planning a party after Thanksgiving Day. This Jellied Turkey Salad would be just right for a luncheon.

JELLIED TURKEY SALAD

2 cups cranberries
3 cups water
¾ cup sugar
2 packages raspberry or strawberry gelatin
1 cup crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons gelatin, softened in ½ cup cold stock
2 cups stock
3 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 cups chopped cooked turkey
2 cups chopped celery
4 tablespoons finely minced parsley
¾ cup mayonnaise

Cook cranberries in 3 cups water until skins split. Add sugar and bring to rolling boil for one minute. Remove from heat. Add flavored gelatin and crushed pineapple.

Fill loaf pan ½ full of this mixture. When jellied fill rest of pan with following mixture:

Soften unflavored gelatin in cold stock. Heat 2 cups stock to boiling and add softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Add rest of ingredients. Pour on cranberry layer. Chill until set. Unmold on bed of watercress.

• • •

With one cup of ground cooked turkey you can make this spread. It may be served in a variety of ways.

TURKEY ALMOND DELIGHT

1 cup ground cooked turkey
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
½ cup chopped roasted unblanched almonds
⅓ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon prepared horse-radish

Combine ingredients with fork, mixing until well blended. Serve as a sandwich filler or appetizer spread. Very good, too, as a filler for halved hard-cooked eggs. For this, use the yolks in the filler and save the halved whites to hold the filling. Makes 1¾ cups filling.

Kabobs Are Hit as Appetizers

Holidays ahead means time for fun and casual entertaining. Parties develop overnight and with them a demand for canapes and hors d'oeuvres. If you like to add a bright, fresh touch to your appetizer tray, here's a new Kabob Appetizer. Skewered foods always hold a special fascination, and actually they are very simple to make.

To make these appetizers, string the pineapple chunks (or tidbits), cocktail franks, shrimp and green pepper on metal skewers (or use bamboo sticks) in any pattern you like. An attractive tray, using a grapefruit covered with foil as a centerpiece and kabob holder, will bring deserved comments from your guests.

Kabob Appetizers

1 can pineapple chunks or tidbits
1 can cocktail franks
2 dozen cooked shrimp
1 green pepper cut in squares
3 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons catsup
⅛ teaspoon horseradish
Stuffed olives
Cocktail onions

String pineapple, cocktail franks, shrimp and green pepper squares on skewers in any pattern you like. Brush with a mixture of Worcestershire, catsup and horseradish. Broil until heated through and tinged with brown.

Stick cocktail onion or stuffed olive on end of each kabob. Makes about 2 dozen kabobs.

Easy Vegetable Dish

Orange Adds Tang to Sweet Potatoes

Orange Sweet Potatoes

1 can (1 pound and 2 ounces sweet potatoes
2¼ teaspoons cornstarch
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon orange rind
¾ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Cut potatoes in half lengthwise; arrange in a heat-resistant glass pie plate (9½ inches across the top inside and 1½ inches deep.)

Stir cornstarch and sugars together thoroughly in a 1-quart saucepan; add orange rind and orange juice gradually, stirring until there are no lumps.

Topping for Casserole

Fine dry bread crumbs often make fine casserole toppings; but first mix a cup of the crumbs with a quarter cup of melted butter.

Ever marinate cooked cauliflower—separated into flowerets—in a French dressing to serve as a salad with crisp greens? Dust the cauliflower with paprika for pretty color.

Creamy Setting for Ham, Eggs

Ham and eggs in a delightful creamy new setting—a deep dish pie with buttered popcorn border!

Here is a meal you can prepare with one hand tied behind your back—and it is as expansible as a rubber band. Just keep adding to the ingredients as new guests show up. It's a "quick-'n'-easy" you can prepare any time.

Ham 'n' Egg Deep Dish Pie With Popcorn Border

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon grated onion
1½ cups milk
6 shelled, hard-cooked eggs
2 cups diced ready-to-eat ham
2 cups buttered popcorn
1 tablespoon minced parsley

Melt the butter in the top of a double boiler over boiling water. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and grated onion. Slowly stir in milk and cook, stirring until thickened.

Slice eggs, saving 6 or 8 perfect slices for garnish. Add remaining egg slices and diced ham to sauce. Pour into a 9"x2" square shallow casserole.

Sprinkle popcorn around the edge to form a border. Decorate with reserved egg slices and minced parsley. Makes six servings.

Some cooks like to add a little catsup to the gravy for a pot roast. But go easy or the gravy will be too sweet!

Combine Turkey, Banana in Tantalizing Turnover

The trick consists in tucking half a banana inside the pastry turnover along with savory turkey filling. When baked, the banana mingles its tropical fruit flavor with the turkey in a fashion completely delicious.

You'll find this a wonderful change of pace for second-day turkey servings, and don't forget that bananas add important nutrition to a meal with their well-rounded supply of vitamins and minerals and their high food energy.

For cooked banana dishes, use the less ripe, all-yellow or slightly green-tipped banana that stays firm during cooking.

Banana Turkey Turnovers

Pastery for 2-crust pie
2 cups cooked, diced turkey
1 cup cooked rice
1 cup undiluted condensed mushroom soup
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 peeled bananas*

*Use all-yellow or slightly green-tipped bananas

Make up pastry and cut into four 4-inch rounds. Mix together turkey, rice, mushroom soup, onion, melted butter. Divide turkey mixture over pastry rounds placing mixture on one half of each circle.

Cut bananas into halves crosswise. Place a half banana atop each mixture. Fold pastry over mixture, bring moistened edges together and seal. Prick tops of turnovers with fork.

Bake at 375 degrees F. for 30-35 minutes. Serve with curry sauce, mushroom sauce or turkey gravy. Yield: four servings.

Boiled Egg Spins Fast

Have you ever taken an egg from the refrigerator and wondered if it were uncooked or one of the extra hard-cooked eggs you cooked the other day? Well, the tried and true test is as simple as spinning the egg—and that's just what you do. Spin the egg on the counter top. An uncooked egg spins very slowly—if at all—while its "hard-cooked" sister spins around like a top.

For that professional golden-brown crust on bread and rolls, they should be brushed just before baking with a mixture of milk and sugar—one-fourth cup of milk to one tablespoon sugar.

Conserve Makes Turkey Better

Although they love the traditional holidays, many young homemakers have to settle for something less than a score or more of relatives and friends around a "groaning table." Smaller dining areas and servantless homes have established the buffet as an integral part of modern life.

Even a dinner so custom-laden as Thanksgiving does not lose any of its appeal when served buffet style. The turkey may be hot or cold; the number of dishes reduced to a comfortable minimum.

CONSERVE WITH TURKEY — A homemade conserve complements the fine flavor of roast turkey. This one is a blend of dried apricots, raisins and nuts. You may serve it all winter at any meal.

Serving homemade conserve or relish with the turkey adds an individual touch to such a meal.

The apricot conserve suggested is made by the easy short-boil method. The recipe makes 10 medium glasses—some for your own table and some to tuck into Christmas packages. Here is a menu that, while mindful of tradition, is geared to contemporary living.

Thanksgiving Dinner Buffet

Cranberry Juice Cocktail
Roast Turkey Apricot Conserve
Hot Casserole of Green Limas and Whole Kernel Corn
Relish Tray of Celery, Pickles and Olives
Small Hot Rolls Butter
Warm Pumpkin Pie
Whipped Cream Garnish
Coffee

Apricot Conserve

4 cups prepared fruit (½ lb. dried apricots)
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
¾ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
½ cup raisins, chopped
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
6 cups (2 lb. 10 oz.) sugar
1 cinnamon stick
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

Add 3½ cups water to ½ pound dried apricots. Cover and let stand 4 hours. Drain fruit, reserving the juice. Grind apricots or chop fine and mix with the juice.

Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Grate the rind and squeeze the juice from 2 medium-sized lemons. Measure 1½ teaspoons rind and ¼ cup juice into saucepan with fruit.

Add raisins, nuts, sugar, and cinnamon stick to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Remove cinnamon stick.

Milk Provides Nutrients for Balanced Diet

Do you know that . . .

Three glasses of milk each day can provide more than one-third of the protein you need to maintain good health and vigor.

The nutrients of milk and cream are retained in the manufacture of ice cream, and there is no loss of food values in freezing.

Poor eating habits can contribute to early aging, and it is never too soon to improve your well-being by improving your diet.

Most American families spend from 25 per cent to 50 per cent of their income for food—a good reason to select your food wisely in order to get best value for your dollar.

Ice cream is completely digested and its nutrients are readily available for use by the body.

Cheese Flavors Potato Surprise

"Yesterday's mashed potatoes," often referred to as the something that nothing could be less desirable than, can take on some lip-smacking flavor if you give them the cheese treatment.

Home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture offer a recipe for what they call "Potato-Cheese Surprise." You'll see it's really not much more than yesterday's cold mashed potatoes, with a little cheese and a lot of imagination.

The mashed potatoes, of course, don't need to be leftover; they may be freshly mashed. But fresh or aged, start with 3 cups mashed potatoes and add a little finely chopped onion, a well beaten egg and a little salt.

Mix them together thoroughly and form into six patties. Then make a depression or cup in each patty. Fill each depression with shredded cheese. A half cup of shredded cheese should do for the six patties.

CHEDDAR SUITABLE

Cheddar is the cheese you probably will use, since it's our most common type and is ideally suited to cooking, but you might prefer to use brick, or Swiss or Edam or any other hard or semi-hard cheese.

After filling each potato pattie with cheese, cover with a slice of tomato, and top with bread crumbs mixed with melted butter. Place on a greased baking pan in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

Pork Chop Recipe With Foreign Flavor

First brown 6 rib or loin chops in a frying-pan and season with ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon salt. Mix together ¼ cup catchup and 1 teaspoon dry mustard and spread on chops.

Combine ¼ cup vinegar, ½ cup water and 2 tablespoons of sugar and place over chops. Cover the frying-pan tightly and simmer for 45 minutes or until done.

Rotary Grater Handy

Bake Holiday Tarts Ahead, Serve With Cheese Slices

Some like them hot, some like them cold, but everyone will like mincemeat tarts on Thanksgiving Day especially when they are dainty and served with wedges of Gouda cheese.

Years ago, when making mince pies and tarts was quite a chore, women baked them by the dozens and stored them in a cold place. Today's homemakers, to be ready for an emergency, bake and freeze mince pies and tarts.

With small packages of condensed mincemeat and other prepared mincemeats so readily available, hostesses planning Thanksgiving Day family dinners can make their mince tarts on Wednesday and reheat them on Thursday, just before serving.

One nine-ounce package of condensed mincemeat and one recipe of pastry will make approximately six to eight tarts.

Mincemeat Tarts

1 9-ounce package condensed mincemeat
1½ cups water
2 tablespoons sugar
1 recipe pastry

Break mincemeat into small pieces. Add water and sugar. Place over heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly for one minute.

Cool. Line small tart pans with pastry. Spoon cooled mincemeat into them.

Moisten edges of crusts with water. Cut pastry for top into half-inch strips and arrange them in latticed pattern over the tops of tarts. Press ends of pastry strips against lower crusts.

Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until crust is golden brown.

If the tarts are to be served hot, let them cool a few minutes before serving them. If reheated thoroughly just before dinner, let them stand in the warm kitchen until dessert time so that their temperature will be just right.

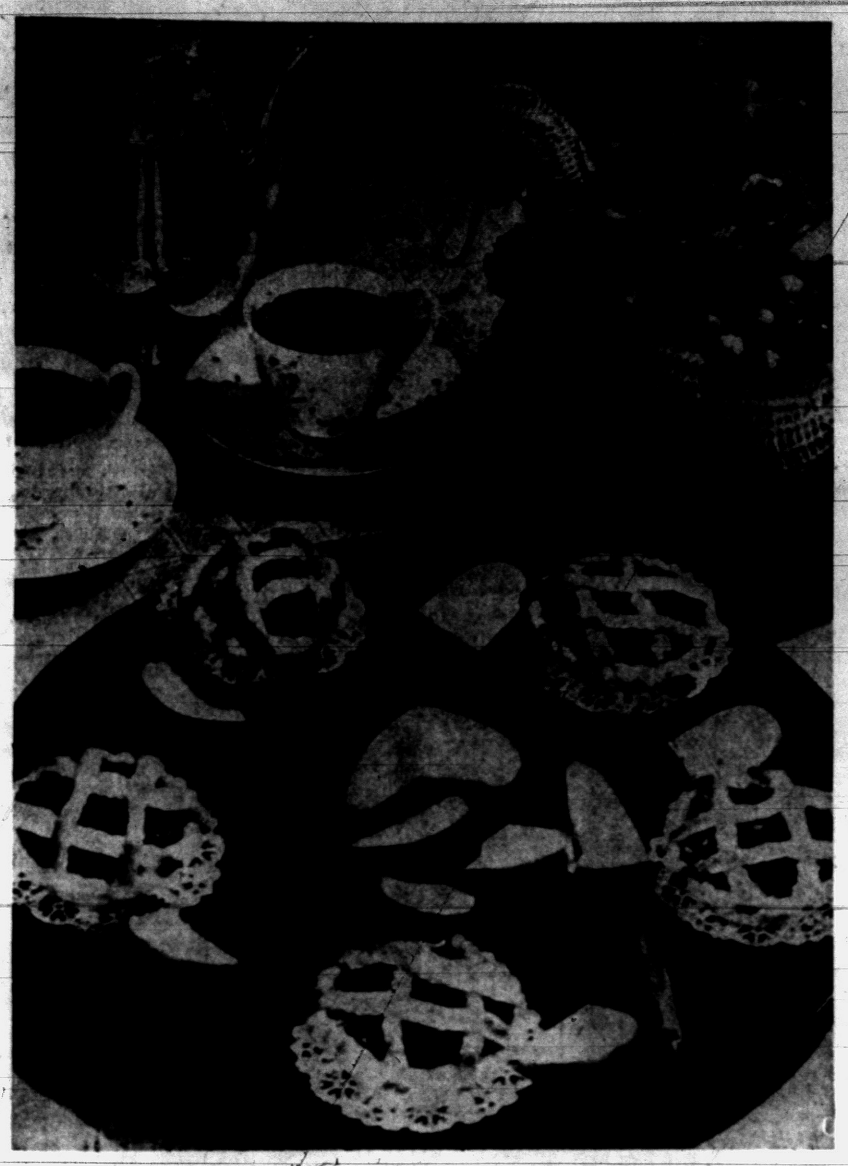

Be certain to remove the needed amount of cheese from the refrigerator at least one hour before the dessert is served. The smooth, full-bodied richness of the Gouda cheese flavor and aroma is at its best when served at room temperature.

KEEP RED COATING

Cut wedges of Gouda by slicing through both the cellophane and the red wax coat of the eight-ounce round of cheese. Doing so, maintains the beauty of the cheese package.

These coverings, if left intact, also provide good protection to the remaining cheese during the serving time, and later in refrigeration.

TINY MINCE TARTS — For the end of a perfect Thanksgiving dinner, serve tiny mincemeat tarts and golden wedges of Gouda cheese. And if you're wondering how to pronounce Gouda, say "goo-da" or "gow-da," preferably the first one.

Fry Onions, Then Liver

When you're skillet-cooking liver and onions, cook the onions first in butter until they're soft and golden. Then draw the onions to oneside of the pan and fry the sliced liver, adding more butter if necessary.

Home soda bar: Top a chocolate ice-cream soda with a puff of whipped cream and a little grated orange rind.

Barbecued Turkey Is Easy-to-Fix Fare

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS)—Spicy barbecued turkey is easy-to-fix fare.

Zelma Reigle, extension marketing specialist at Oregon State College, has these tips:

Small four- to nine-pound fryer-roasters make excellent barbecue birds for cooking on the spit or for splitting into halves, quarters, or disjointing for broiling on the grill. Brush pieces with a zippy barbecue sauce several times during broiling. The turkey is done when fleshiest parts of the meat are fork tender.

If you are roasting a larger turkey, cooked meat that is leftover may be taken from the bone, wrapped and frozen for later eating.

Shows Buying Trends by Income Bracket

At first glance a person might think that the more a family's income rises the more they would eat. Once basic hunger is satisfied, however, the food volume remains pretty much the same. Where the big change comes is in the kinds of food purchased as family income goes up.

Vegetables With 'Swish' for Family or Party Fare

Here's an easy way to serve a vegetable with swish for a party or family dinner. Mix a drained one pound can of cut green beans with ½ cup sour cream and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, and heat. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Serve buttered asparagus on crisp toast made in the broiler. Add a sauce, using canned mushrooms. Serve with olives and currant jelly. It's delicious.

Use ripe olives to stretch the amount of ground beef needed for your favorite spaghetti sauce or other meat dish.

Colts Made True Believers in Lions' Defense

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — If the Baltimore Colts had any doubts as to the defensive strength of the Detroit Lions, they became true believers yesterday.

The Colts managed only 58 yards rushing but 308 passing, and yet were on the short end of a 27-3 count at the final whistle.

It was Detroit's 7th victory in eight games and kept the Lions in a first place tie with the Chicago Bears in the Western Division.

Rookie quarterback John Unitas did everything and more than was expected of him as a substitute for the injured George Shaw, but Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore could do nothing against the rugged Detroit forward wall.

In fact Moore, who had a 10.1 rushing average before the game, never got past the line of scrimage until midway in the 4th period when he had two running gains for one and three yards. He finished with a minus 14 rushing.

The Lions wasted no time hitting pay dirt. Just after the opening kickoff, moving 73 yards in 11 plays, big Leon Hart drove over from the five-yard line.

Hart was the powering force for Detroit's ground attack, running like a halfback and driving like a bull with tacklers hanging all over him.

But again it was the "old pro" Bobby Layne who kept the Colts guessing with a varied offense which included 12 pass completions in 21 attempts to six different pass receivers.

* * *

Layne garnered nine points including a pair of second period field goals which gave the Lions a 13-3 halftime lead.

Baltimore's lone score came in the second stanza when Bert Rechichar booted the Colts' first and only field goal of the season from the 46 yard line.

In the third period the Lions scored twice in their first two series of plays.

* * *

Layne climaxed a 69 yard march by hitting Dave Middleton with a quick pass from the four-yard line. The veteran Texan took the snap from center, stood straight up and fired the bullet-like toss right over scrimmage.

A few minutes later Gene Gedman smashed over from the four yard line in a drive which covered 49 yards in eight plays.

This ended the game's scoring but did not put an end to the rough-house tactics which took place throughout the game.

Both teams were hitting hard and six times during the game the officials jumped between a Lion and a Colt pushing each other around.

* * *

Tackle Gene Lipscomb was ejected from the game for slugging Jim Martin. The Colts were penalized 96 yards and Detroit had 55 yards in penalties.

It was the poorest running effort of the season for Baltimore. The Colts got only six yards on the ground in the first half and most of the second half yardage came late in the game against Detroit substitutes.

Coach Buddy Parker used the entire squad except the injured Don McIlhenny, and for the first time Jerry Reichow made an appearance.

* * *

The capacity house exceeding 55,000, the third filled stadium in as many home games, gave Reichow a big cheer when he took over at quarterback for a two minute appearance.

Defensive end Bob Long and guard Gene Cronin were outstanding for the Lions, who get only three days rest before meeting the Green Bay Packers in the traditional Turkey Day encounter Thursday.

After the Packers there comes the big showdown game December 2nd with the Chicago Bears at Briggs Stadium.

Television viewers of Saturday's Michigan State - Minnesota football game at Minneapolis could almost feel the letdown in the stands after the public address system announced that Iowa had beaten Ohio State. Iowa's win virtually removed all Gopher hopes for a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Seniors Tourney Won by Roberts

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, staggered to victory by a stroke in the 21st annual tournament of the Southern Seniors Golf Assn. here yesterday despite a 6 on the last hole.

His final round of 76 was good for a 54-hole total of 221.

The defending champion, J. Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N. J., had a closing 74 and a 222 total, and Arthur F. Lynch of Scarsdale, N. Y., closed with 78 for a 222.

Lynch won a sudden death playoff for second place with a par 4 on the 19th to Brown's 5. The Tournament attracted 135 players aged 50 and up.

No Alibis for MSU

BIG HAUL—Back Mike Shatusky (14) hauls in a long pass from Bob Ptacek to set up the 5th Michigan touchdown against Indiana Saturday.

"I still think our team played one of its best games of the season," asserted Coach Duffy Daugherty. "But Minnesota was just one point better."

Michigan State, with a 4-2 conference record, is through with Big Ten conference play for the season.

Only Kansas State remains on the schedule and the probability is that the Spartans will wind up the year with a 7-2 overall record.

Michigan State coaches were particularly praising the offensive punch provided Minnesota by quarterback Bobby Cox, the transfer from the University of Washington who did most of the masterminding in the Gopher victory.

* * *

Cox carried 24 times out of 58 Minnesota running plays for a standout total of 128 yards.

Dick Larson, the alternate Minnesota quarterback, was moving the ball well too. Larson was in when the Gophers scored their final and telling 4th quarter touchdown.

Bob Blakely made the TD from 27 yards out. Dick Borstad, who kicked both extra points, put in the clincher conversion.

* * *

Cox hit Dave Lindblom in a 12-yard pass-run play for the other Minnesota score, made with just 28 seconds remaining in the first half.

State had dominated play during most of the first half but wasn't able to score although the Spartans at one point pushed to the Minnesota 16.

Pat Wilson, who quarterbacked a fine game for MSU, made both Spartan scores on quarterback sneaks—one from the three and the other from the one.

Hold Win Over Bowl Entry

'M' Victory Has One Solace

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan breadwinner, its Rose Bowl hopes again smashed beyond repair, now has but a minute measure of satisfaction.

For two years running the Wolverines lost out on the Pasadena jackpot, but had the pleasure of being the only ones to beat the Rose Bowl representatives.

* * *

A year ago, Michigan State suffered a lone defeat. It was to Michigan. Iowa, this season, has lost only once. Again Michigan did the damage.

This offers small solace to Coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his crew, hardened by recurring disappointment.

Michigan played its heart out by routing Indiana 49-26 Saturday, but their prayers for defeats to Iowa and Minnesota went unanswered.

As usual when he's not injured, Terry Barr was the Wolverines' He scored three touchdowns, two on sizeable runs. His performance was surprising to Oosterbaan, who thought Barr would still be hindered by his sprained ankle.

"Terry did much better than I expected," the coach said. "I thought he'd never get back to 100 per cent efficiency, but I can't dispute with his play against Indiana."

Barr was only the ringleader in the assault on the Hoosiers. His two right halfback substitutes, Ed Shannon and Mike Shatusky, who have starred often in his absences, collected three more tallies between them.

Shannon scored twice within three minutes in the second quarter and Shatusky hauled in a 13-yard scoring pass from Bob Ptacek in the same session that saw the Wolverines amass 28 points.

"It looks like I'm pretty deep at right halfback," Oosterbaan admitted after the game. "They all played well."

Jarryin Johin Herrnstein, again his steady self, crashed into the end zone for the other Michigan touchdown.

The Wolverines left the game practically unscathed. Only two players were hurt, both in peculiar fashion. Jim Van Pelt had his hand stepped on by one of the officials and Ron Kramer suffered lip cuts when his protective face guard snapped as he made a tackle. Both returned to the game and will be ready for Ohio State.

UM's Herrnstein Splits Top Spot

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan's John Herrnstein has moved into a 1st place tie with Don Clark and Jim Roseboro of Ohio State in the Big Ten all-games scoring race.

Herrnstein scoped once against Indiana while Clark, Roseboro and the rest of the Buckeyes were being blanked by Iowa. The three leaders have seven touchdowns and 42 points each.

Ohio State's Frank Ellwood follows the leaders with six touchdowns and three extra points for a total of 39. Indiana's Bob Fee and Illinois' Abe Woodson are next with 36 points each.

Hart Faces Constance Tonight at St. Nick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Al Sugar Hart, 21, a welterweight from Philadelphia who attracted rave notices in his last start, continues his campaign for "rookie of the year" honors Monday at St. Nicholas Arena in New York against Hector Constance of Trinidad.

Hart, winner of 17 of 18 with 15 knockout triumphs, stopped Earl Dennis Oct. 15 at St. Nick's. The last man to go the route against him was Harry Deputy at Philadelphia almost a year ago, Dec. 6.

Bowl Candidates Roster Gains in Weekend Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Instead of thinning out, as they should at this late stage of the college football season, the ranks of contenders for the major postseason bowl games swelled over the weekend.

* * *

The only definite bowlers, at the moment, are Colorado, headed for the Orange Bowl; Iowa and Oregon State, tagged for the Rose Bowl; and Tennessee, apparently able to pick either the Cotton or Sugar Bowl for a New Year's Day trip.

* * *

And you probably can put Georgia Tech in that class, too, since a sixth consecutive bid seems assured for the Wrecks, beaten only by Tennessee (6-0). A Tech-Vol rematch in the Sugar Bowl would be a dandy.

But beyond those five, the picture is as confused SMU's Charlie Arnold was Saturday — he threw a "perfect" pass to an Arkansas player standing alone on the goal line.

* * *

Clemson was figured a sure bet to be the Atlantic Coast Conference's entry in the Orange Bowl vs Colorado. But with Clemson's 21-0 thumping by Miami (Fla.), the team that's bowl-banned by the NCAA, South Carolina and Duke have popped into the picture as possibly being the ACC's "most representative team."

* * *

Duke is a four-time loser, but in addition to South Carolina the Blue Devil conquerors have been well respected Tennessee (33-20), Pitt (27-14) and Georgia Tech (7-0). They've tied Navy (7-7) and whipped Virginia (40-7), SMU (14-6), NC State (42-0) and Wake Forest (26-0).

South Carolina finishes against Wake Forest Thursday. Duke against North Carolina Saturday.

* * *

Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Baylor are in on the scrap for the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. The Southwest Conference champ usually gets that berth, but the front-runner, Texas A&M, is in bad with the NCAA.

* * *

The Gator Bowl, usually accorded the "leftovers", apparently has a good crop of contenders to chose from. In the East alone, there's Pitt, Syracuse and perhaps Penn State and Navy. Also under consideration are unbeaten Wyoming, the Skyline champ, and the Southwest's third place team.

32-Yard Goal Beats Packers

Soltau's Fourth Period Boot Gives 49ers Win by 17-16 Count

GREEN BAY (AP) — A 32-yard field goal yesterday ran Green Bay's losing streak to four games and gave the San Francisco 49ers a 17-16 victory that snapped a five-game National Football League winless string.

Gordy Soltau's kick in the 4th quarter came after teammate Hugh McElhenny broke loose for an 86-yard touchdown run in the 3rd quarter that stands as the longest gallop from scrimmage thus far in the NFL campaign.

Only 17,986 shivering fans turned out to watch the game in City Stadium, home of the Packers for 32 years. A new stadium is under construction.

Green Bay's Billy Howton, leading NFL pass receiver, opened the scoring in the 1st quarter with a fingertip catch of Bart Starr's pass. Howton raced for his 10th TD of the year. Leo Nomellini of the 49ers blocked the conversion try.

Before the 49ers could get started, Fred Cone booted a 20-yard field goal. Y.A. Tittle came through with the 1st San Franscisco score, a plunge from the one, but Green Bay led 9-7 at the half.

3 Candidates Still in Race for Orange Bowl

MIAMI (INS) — South Carolina, Duke and Clemson were still in the running today for an Orange Bowl bid.

Van C. Krussrow, chairman of the bowl's schedule committee, said the committee will "review the situation" today and possibly decide which of the Atlantic Coast Conference teams will oppose Colorado, the Big Seven representative, in the Jan. 1 game.

50,000 Fans Descend Upon Games Village

Olympic Athletes Stay Inside Fenced Area to Avoid Stampede

MELBOURNE (AP) — Even the most brawny athletes would not venture outside the Olympic Village of Heidelberg today because of a mass stampede of visitors outside the wire fence surrounding the village.

* * *

Police estimate more than 50,000 came to the village causing the worst traffic jam since the athletes moved in.

However, very few got passes to enter.

It was not until after dark when only a few thousand visitors left the village precincts did the athletes venture outside the camp to enter the shopping area and run the gauntlet of autograph hunters.

One American athlete said: "Now I know how Elvis Presley must feel."

Keep NHL Lead

Bruins Continue Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins, fast becoming the Cinderella team of the National Hockey League, had both their league lead and unbeaten string intact today. The torrid Bostonians are doing it the hard way.

* * *

Last night, they whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 on Cal Gardner's goal early in the third period. The victory enabled the Bruins to maintain a two-point lead over Detroit which trounced the Montreal Canadiens 8-3.

* * *

* * *

The Bruins, who got a tying goal against New York Saturday night with six seconds remaining, had to come from behind to beat the Leafs. Ron Stewart's goal put Toronto in front in the opening period. Boston rallied for three goals in the second. The Leafs came back to deadlock matters before Gardner produced.

The Bruins have gone nine games without a loss and have won 12 of their last 13 starts.

* * *

Wally Hergesheimer, a former Ranger, climaxed Chicago's comeback with a goal in the fifth minute of the third period. The game was a riotous one and fans hurled chairs at the Rangers after the final whistle. Police and ushers had to break up one duel in which New York's Lou Fontinato was slashing his stick at irate fans.

TD NUMBER FOUR—University of Michigan halfback Ed Shannon drives around left end for the Wolverines' 4th touchdown in Saturday's game at Ann Arbor. Michigan clobbered Indiana, 49-26. Indiana players are John Gentile (42) and back Jim Yore (35). Despite the victory, Michigan lost the chance of going to the Rose Bowl as Iowa upended Ohio State, 6-0.

Taylor in Hospital After Heart Attack

CHICAGO (INS) — John L. (Tarzan) Taylor, former Chicago Bears football player, was in serious condition today with a heart attack in Illinois Masonic Hospital.

Taylor was stricken yesterday while watching the Bears - Los Angeles Rams game at Wrigley Field. He was placed in an oxygen tent last night.

Taylor, 36, is a graduate of Ohio State and was a line coach for Michigan State, Ohio State and Marquette and the Baltimore and Green Bay professional teams.

Wings Blast Canadiens, 8-3

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Lindsay has gained a coveted circle in the National Hockey League and his Detroit Red Wings are savoring sweet revenge on the Montreal Canadiens.

The Wings practically blasted the Canadiens from Olympia ice last night with an 8-3 victory that goes in the books as the season's most one-sided game to date.

It more than made up for the 6-2 pasting, Detroit's worst of the year, suffered at the hands of Montreal only 24 hours earlier.

* * *

For Lindsay, whose bitterness toward the Canadiens transcends more than professional rivalry, the evening could not have been sweeter. He pushed home his 299th, 300th and 301st goal to enter the magic 300-circle attained by only three other players in NHL history. He is the only left winger to turn the trick.

Watching Lindsay enter the select band last night were two of its three other members — Detroit's Gordie Howe, who pushed his total to 318 with two counters and Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard, who also scored once and now has reached 467.

The first man to score 300 was Nels Stewart, who stopped at 324 when he retired from the Canadiens in 1940.

Claude Provost, Jean Beliveau and Richard hit for the Canadiens.

Detroit jumped to a 3-2 lead in the first period, added three in the second and finished up with two more in the final period.

Despite a record of 10 victories, three losses and two ties, the Wings still are trailing the surprising Boston Bruins, who eked out a 4-3 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs last night.

The victory left the Bruins with a two-point margin over the runner-up Detroiters, who have played 15 games to 17 for Boston.

Detroit will be idle until Thursday when the club will clash with Toronto in a Thanksgiving encounter in Detroit.

Telegrams From Home Aid Hungarian Morale

MELBOURNE (AP) — The morale of the Hungarian Olympic team has been lifted by telegrams received from the Ministry of Sport in Budapest about their relatives and friends in strife-torn Hungary.

About 100 Hungarians at the Olympic Village received cables, but some are still awaiting word.

Ace Aussie Swimmer Thrives on Odd Food

MELBOURNE (AP) — "Murray Rose meet Murray Rose."

A half dozen Australian swimmers and divers laughed as they introduced the famed Aussie swimmer to The Associated Press writer at the team's headquarters in the Olympic Village today.

* * *

The name is the same but the resemblance ends there.

Australia's Murray Rose is blond, handsome, 17, six feet, 176 pounds, broadshouldered and narrow-hipped, and he can cut through the water like a jet-propelled fish.

The writer is — well, a little older. End description. As for swimming, New York's Murray Rose can do one lap of the Olympic pool with the aid of water wings and by floating half way.

* * *

Murray Rose, the swimmer, is a vegetarian who eats seaweed jelly for pep. On him it looks good.

His parents are amateur dieticians and Murray doesn't remember when he tasted meat. His parents have taken an apartment near the Olympic Village and Murray has all of his meals with them.

* * *

One of his mother's specialities is an international hodgepodge of sunflower seeds from Russia, halvah from Egypt, sesame from Greece, millet and unpolished rice from China, all stuffed in a loaf of bread. His principal drinks are carrot juice and goat's milk.

They must have something because Murray is the fastest 400- and 1500-meter freestyle swimmer in the world and the man to beat in both Olympic events.

* * *

He caused a tremendous stir when he reeled off the metric mile in 17:59.5 in the recent Australian trials to become the first swimmer ever to break 18 minutes. Until then America's George Breen had been considered the stickout at that distance for his amazing time of 18:05.9 which had ripped 13.1 seconds off the world mark set by Hiroshin Furuhashi, Japan's flying fish.

* * *

In the 400, Murray was clocked in 4:27, 3.7 seconds better than the Olympic record of 4:39.7 set by France's Jean Boiteaux four years ago. Ford Konno of Hawaii is the listed world record holder with 4:26.7.

Although he believes he has an Olympic potential of 17:50 for 1500 and 4:25 for the 400, he declined to go out on the limb with any predictions.

Top Middleweights Clash in TV Battle

PARIS (AP)—Top-ranking middleweights, Ralph (Tiger) Jones of New York and Charles Humez of France, battle it out tonight in a 10-round bout that could possible get one of them the title chance both have yelled for.

Both Jones, 28, and Humez, 29, have campaigned verbally for a shot at the crown, but have never gotten the opportunity. Humez came within one step of the title, losing a European elimination match with Randy Turpin of England three years ago. Humez, however, is still the European champion.

Jones has been installed as the slight favorite. Jones and Humez met in Madison Square Garden last March and the third-ranked Jones decisioned the No. 2 challenger from France.

Ted Dailey, Syracuse University line coach, played end at Pittsburgh under Jock Sutherland.

Syracuse Bomber

This Guy 'Likes to Run'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—"I just wanted to run."

Thus from Syracuse's 212-pound halfback Jim Brown comes the understatement of the week.

The boy who "just wanted to run" ran to the tune of 43 points, and intercollegiate high for the season, as he directed his Syracuse mates to a 61-7 devastation of Colgate Saturday. It was one of the most lopsided scores in the 57 years of play between the two schools.

"I've been getting myself mentally ready for this for a long time," Brown said in the shout-filled dressing room at Archbold Stadium.

"I wasn't thinking much about a record. I knew I could get the 17 yards I needed.

* * *

"I just wanted to run."

Brown got the 17 yards needed to break the school's 805-yard individual rushing record for one season. He carried 22 times for 197 yards and an eight-game rushing total of 986 yards.

He scored twice on one-yard plunges and on runs of 15, 50, 8 and 19 yards. The spree boosted his point-total to 106 points on 14 TDs and 22 conversions.

The Manhasset, L.I., senior's scoring performance certainly boosted his All-America candidacy and at the same time may have attracted the attention of some bowl promoters.

Balance in NBA Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's one thing you can say about the National Basketball Assn. at the moment. It's well balanced.

With a couple of weeks of the campaign gone, only the divisional leaders — Boston and St. Louis — show better than .500 records, and The Celtics margin over last place Syracuse in the Eastern half of the circuit is a game and a half while the Hawks lead cellar-dwelling Rochester in the West-end by two and a half games.

Last night, Boston overcame a 21-point deficit to beat Rochester 101-87. St. Louis bowed to the New York Knicks 102-69.

In other games, Syracuse edged Philadelphia 99-97 and Fort Wayne whipped Minneapolis 111-107.

The Celtics trailed 42-21 in the second period but they outscored the Royals 26-10 to tie the game 63-all with three minutes left in the third. Then Boston spurted for 12 straight points early in the fourth period. Bill Sharman led the Celts with 32 points.

The Knicks turned their game against St. Louis into a rout in the second quarter, rolling to a 48-33 halftime lead. Kenny Sears was the high man for New York with 16 points.

* * *

Johnny Kerr's field goal with only two second remaining gave Syracuse its victory over Philadelphia. Dolph Schayes of the Nats led all scorers with 31 points while Neil Johnston paced the Warriors with 24.

Six players hit in double figures for Fort Wayne.

Hunter's First Deer Takes Lead in Press' Contest

First deer that Milford farmer Emmett Gaffney bagged in four or five years of hunting, today jumped into the lead of The Pontiac Press heaviest buck contest.

Gaffney's buck, shot in a swamp near the junction of M23 and M59, tipped the scales at 205 pounds, dressed weight. It eliminated a fine 185-pounder taken by Gene Woodward of Pontiac. Woodward downed his prize in Osceola county.

"That's the very first deer I ever shot," Gaffney reported. He said he saw a number of others, all big and fat, with fine spreads of antlers, in the same area.

With the Milford man were Dick Haas and Bob Foldenauer of Milford. Neither got a buck.

Pontiac's Leslie Marsac (4783 Ross drive), hunting near Fife Lake in Kalkaska county on Friday, shot a fine 150-pounder with a wide 8-point rack. He got his buck in the hardwoods, hunting alone in "the worst rain, wind and snow conditions I've ever seen." A lone, bedraggled field mouse was the only wildlife Marsac saw opening day, he declared.

Contest winners will receive $150 each for the biggest deer and the buck with the widest rack. No entry may win both divisions.

Brundage Lauds Olympic Games

IOC Prexy Says Fair Play and Sportsmanship Forces for Peace

MELBOURNE (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said today the Olympic movement, without money or soldiers can help stop warfare by setting examples of fair play and sportsmanship for politicians to follow.

* * *

Brundage spoke at the annual committee meeting before a backdrop of suppression and political warfare in Hungary and bombings in Egypt and name calling throughout nearly half the world.

* * *

The International Olympic Committee meeting in Melbourne's Town Hall was the opening phase of the games of the 16th Olympiad. Competition runs from Thursday through Dec. 8.

Rumors were circulating in Melbourne that several IOC members were trying to line up support either to censure Russia for its actions in Hungary or to expel the Russians entirely from the Olympic movement.

* * *

Several IOC members discounted the rumor and at least two others said that even if a discussion on expelling the Russians came up during the two-day IOC meeting it would fail to enlist widespread support.

Pontiac Man Finally Gets a Black Bear

William H. (Harry) Lunsford, 1340 North Perry street, has long desired to shoot a Michigan black bear. For many years he has hunted deer and sought for a shot at a bruin in the Upper Peninsula. But until last weekend his hopes were never realized, as far as the bear was concerned.

Saturday night he called Mrs. Lunsford to tell her the bear rug had become a reality.

Lunsford downed the prize, as yet unweighed, near Perrinville in the vicinity of Escanaba. He was hunting with Ernest Chittuck, Shimmons road, but Chittuck was not with him when the bear was downed.

Lunsford is employed at the Pontiac Fisher Body plant.

By BILL CORNWELL

A Birmingham football team which has consistently refused to "jell" as a unit during the 1956 season will get one more chance to redeem itself.

Hamstrung by inexperience, the Maples have been unable to find the magic combination of sound defense and potent offense while struggling to a record of four wins and four losses.

They could think of no better time to combine the two qualities than this Thursday at Birmingham when they meet Royal Oak in the 32nd annual Thanksgiving Day battle for the Little Brown Jug.

The Maples have at least three good reasons for wanting a victory over the Acorns.

First of all, Royal Oak has won the last four outings in the historic series to retain control of the Jug and since this game may mark the end of the traditional rivalry, victory would be a prized possession for Birmingham.

Secondly, Royal Oak's 27-20 triumph last year ruined Birmingham's perfect 8-0 record and the Maples would like to atone for that setback. In addition, victory is necessary to gain a winning edge for the season.

This year's edition has been a far cry from the 1955 squad which won the 1st Eastern Michigan League title in the school's history. Graduation took a heavy toll of Coach Carl Lemle's forces and the Maples have felt it.

If the defense was adequate, the offense was practically nil. If the offense came through, the defense collapsed. The Maples have not been able to utilize offense and defense at the same time.

What little striking power the Maples have mustered has been provided by halfbacks Mike Nordstrom and Tony Evangelista. The pair has averaged about three yards per carry.

Defensively, Birmingham has been sparked by end Bob Isbell, guard Jim Fry and tackle Chuck Gibson, who moved back into the line after an unsuccessful try at fullback.

The Maples have no unblemished record or prestige at stake for this encounter. The pressure is off. If the Maples can "jell" the results could be rewarding.

Florida State's Answer Awaited

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Tangerine Bowl selections committee hopes Florida State University will say today whether it accepts an invitation to appear in Orlando's New Year's night football game.

The committee issued FSU a bid Saturday night after the Seminoles defeated previously unbeaten Mississippi Southern 20-19. But FSU did not reply immediately.

'Junction Boys' Praised

Helped Bryant's Success

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—As Texas A&M rolls down the Southwest Conference championship trail on the way to an unbeaten season Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant speaks of his "Junction Boys" with reverence.

* * *

* * *

When Bryant came here from Kentucky in 1954 he found a bunch of gangling kids, most of whom resembled football players only by coincidence. But Bryant first asks if the boy wants to play and next he wants him to be a "hard nose." This means is he willing to take all the knocks and come back fighting for more.

He pitched his football training camp at Junction in the west Texas hill country. The work was tough and quite a few of the boys quit. But there was a hard core that stuck it out and became football players.

Bryant has announced plans to name a new athletic dormitory "Junction Manor" honoring the men who brought A&M back.

Tough guys are the Junction boys. Dee Powell, 189-pound guard, has had his nose broken four times. He'll wait until the season is over to get it fixed. Jack Pardee, the fullback, who's being mentioned for all-America, had his shoulder disjointed on the first play of the game with University of Houston. He played 55 minutes without telling anybody about it.

Russian Girl Missing, Games Start Thursday

Mystery Stirs at Olympic Village

MELBOURNE (AP) — A major mystery developed today with the opening of the Olympic Games four days away as police searched for pretty Nina Paranyuk, Russian stewardess aboard the Soviet Olympic liner Gruzia.

* * *

There has been speculation the members of some of the Iron Curtain teams may jump camp and seek refuge in Australia, particularly the Hungarians. There was no indication the Russian girl had defected.

Australian security officers worked with Melbourne detectives and police to locate the stewardess, who is unable to speak English.

The games of the XVI Olympiad have been plagued by political overtones, some stemming from the revolution in Hungary. But despite this 4,360 athletes and officials from 66 nations are on hand awaiting the solemn opening Thursday at which the Duke of Edinburgh will preside.

For the competitors, worries over politics were secondary to the problem of the weather. Today saw a sudden morning shower, blustery winds, and noontime temperatures in the 60's despite a bright sun.

* * *

The International Olympic Committee held its opening session in Melbourne's Town Hall. Influential members said privately every effort would be made to avoid such thorny problems as Russia's action in Hungary and subsidized amateurism.

However, the Federal Council of the Hungarian Associations in Australia distributed petitions to the chiefs de mission at the Olympic Village calling on them to spur the International Olympic Committee into banning Russia from taking part in the games.

* * *

He said the Olympic movement without money or soldiers can help stop warfare by setting examples of fair play and sportsmanship for politicians to follow.

Earlier he had disclosed the International Olympic Committee itself, acting through the Swiss government had intervened to get the Hungarian team out of its strife-torn land.

* * *

Flag trouble continued to haunt these games. First the wrong flag for Nationalist China was run up. Then came a squabble over the Hammer and Sickle on the Hungarian flag. Today the great Olympic flag that hung at city hall was reversed with the red ring on the left instead of the blue.

* * *

The demand for admission tickets boiled over at the Olympic pool. Police reinforcements were called to control the crowd after groups of fans tried to crash queues of about 10,000 people waiting to buy tickets for swimming practice.

* * *

A capacity crowd of 110,000 is assured for opening day Thursday when nations parade on the bright green grass of the Melbourne Cricket Grounds oval and the Olympic torch is lit by a flame that was kindled in Greece and carried by airplane, ship, and relays of runners to Australia. The torch reached Sydney last night and is now progressing to Melbourne.

Competition in the games starts Thursday night with basketball games between Korea and Formosa, and Russia and Canada. The United States five meets Japan the following evening.

Elks Entries Close Dec. 1;

Pontiac Lodge No. 810, BPOE, is host for the 1957 Michigan Elks Bowling association tournament, starting Jan. 19 at the Orchard Lake avenue Elks lanes. Entries for the event close Dec. 1, and the local organization is aiming for a record enrollment.

At last winter's tourney held in Saginaw, there were 450 teams, a record for the association. Pontiac lodge officials hope to have 500 or more here, with a delegation of at least 100 more teams from the host organization. Pontiac sent 68 to last year's event.

All team events will be rolled on the No. 810 drives. Singles and doubles will take place at West Huron Bowl.

Pontiac officials for the tourney include Russ M. Dodd, general chairman, Wylie McClellan tournament manager and Ralph M. Ware, chairman for local entries. Robert Manaugh of Lansing is the state association prexy and Ralph Benedict of Saginaw is the secretary.

Some Countries Get in Games Only Yesterday

MELBOURNE (AP) — Jim Kelly, coach of the American track and field team, said today some countries have been able to make entries as late as yesterday in the Olympic Games.

Kelly declined to identify the nations or the sport involved. He said it was not track and field.

His comment came in a discussion over the status of Leamon King, whom Kelly described as probably the fastest sprinter in the world. King can be used only on the American relay team because he failed to qualify for the sprint distances in the final trials in the United States last June.

Kelly said some countries had made entries as late as yesterday.

"I have not had that privilege," Kelly said. He added he understood an official protest had been made to Olympic officials.

Ace Russian Runner Hurt in Car Crash

MELBOURNE (AP) — Vladimir Kuts, Russia's ace distance runner was injured in an automobile accident today at Olympic Village.

Trying out an Australian car, he ran the auto into a telephone pole in front of the Russian headquarters and came out with a gashed head. He immediately disappeared inside the Russian building.

* * *

Kuts, who holds the world record of 28:30.4 for the 10,000 meters, had just finished a newspaper interview in which he described his interest in cars when he was invited to try out one of the small Australian cars.

A spokesman for the Russians said Kuts' injury was minor and he went out after the accident to resume training for the games.

Tartars Take President's Title

Wayne Lone Success of 3 State Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wayne State University, long an also-ran on the football field, boasted its first conference title today as the Tartar squad closed the books on its most successful season since 1947.

A blocked punt in the final four minutes of a game with John Carroll Saturday turned the trick, touching off a touchdown drive that gave Wayne a 14-14 tie and the Presidents Athletic Conference championship.

Wayne, an independent until it helped form the PAC last year, finished in the cellar in 1955. Its conference record this year was three victories and a tie and 4-3-1 overall.

Wayne was trailing John Carroll 14-7 when end Bob Lovasik rushed in to block Sam Brontino's punt on the Ohioans' 30-yard line. Four plays later Hal Willard drove into the end zone for a touchdown and then kicked the extra point that tied up the score.

* * *

Western Michigan finished with a 1-5 conference record, and 2-7 for the season.

The University of Detroit, which failed to live up to early season promise, took a 25-7 shellacking from Oklahoma A&M in a Missouri Valley Conference tiff.

Sophomore halfback Jim Wggins sparked the Aggies, scoring on runs of 82 and 90 yards. Detroit bungled numerous scoring opportunities early in the game, fumbling frequently and committing penalties at inopportune times. The Titans hit the scoring column with three minutes left in the game on a 63-yard pass play from quarterback Bob Giardina to halfback Tom Hunter.

Detroit has games with Dayton and Houston still on its schedule. Both will be played away.

Sooners' Star McDonald Holds High-Scoring Pace

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A statistical rundown shows all-America Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma, who with teammate Clendon Thomas paced Big Seven Conference scoring, is more than matching touchdowns with some potent outside football company.

Tommy has scored touchdowns in 18 of his 19 games over a two-year span, including his touchdown against Maryland in the 1956 Orange Bowl. This is the Sooner halfback's senior season. Oklahoma has two more games.

* * *

A two-year check discloses that: Hopalong Cassady of Ohio State scored touchdowns in 14 of 18 games in his final two collegiate years.

Jim Swink of Texas Christian scored touchdowns in all of his junior year games, but was blanked by five foes—Baylor, Texas A&M, Alabama, Miami and Kansas—as a senior this season. Swink exploded for four touchdowns against Texas Saturday.

Glenn Davis, Army's great wartime halfback, scored touchdowns in 17 of 19 games as a junior and senior in 1945 and 1946. His running mate, Doc Blanchard, scored touchdowns in 15 of 19 over the same span.

The only one Tommy has been unable to surpass in scoring this year is fellow halfback Thomas, who has 16 touchdowns to McDonald's 14.

McDonald has scored 30 touchdowns in regular season play during his junior-senior years, not including the Orange Bowl TD. It may be the gaudiest touchdown parade on record for an individual player over the same span.

Waterford Boy Adds Deer to Hunting Trophies

On his 2nd deer hunting trip to the Gladwin area with his dad, Garold, 15-year-old David bagged a 100-pound spikehorn buck. One shot did the trick. Deer was taken Friday afternoon and the father-son team returned home Saturday.

The Mannings live at 3720 West Walton.

In October alone, enough cases of CORBY'S were sold in Michigan to reach 11 times as high as the Empire State Building

According to official state figures, over 17,575 cases were sold. That's enough to make a stack over three miles high . . . enough to make Corby's one of Michigan's three most popular whiskeys (among 578 liquor brands sold).

Most School Officials Agree With Ruling on Lengthy Locks

Long-hair for youth is a passing fad, according to school officials of most Oakland county communities. Most schools have administration or student-council rulings against lengthy locks.

* * *

With Romeo's edict against "unconventional" haircuts newly strengthened by a Macomb county circuit court's support, school officials in the entire area are nodding their heads.

South Oakland County communities have had rulings against odd-type haircuts, but administrators have watched developments in the Romeo enforcement process.

In Royal Oak, Southfield Township, and Hazel park, officials indicated that such rules are in force, but have never been taken to the point of expelling a child for non-conformity.

In Utica, whose area in Macomb County includes some of the Washington-post office area, as does Romeo's, an edict was issued shortly before the Romeo ruling.

* * *

Explained to boys and girls in separate sessions, the ruling called for no sideburns and no long hair—there was no mention of the upswinging locks at the sides that Romeo administrators found objectionable.

The Utica edict banned, also, boys wearing of jeans down on their hips; girls wearing tight skirts and sweaters, and any groups taking noon-time rides in cars.

On the other side of Pontiac, less stringent rulings result in a satisfactory performance if Walled Lake's schools can be an example.

* * *

There, the student council has approved of a ruling for conventional haircuts and waist-high blue jeans, but enforcement has been by "suggestion."

* * *

"The troublesome students usually want the extreme haircuts," says one teacher, "but if they take a teacher's suggestion to get their hair cut, they usually become less of a classroom problem, as well."

* * *

Rochester's school goes without any such ruling, and there are "quite a few" boys with upswinging and sideburned hairdo, the Press's informal survey revealed.

* * *

Enforcement of any ruling took two various forms, school officials poild revealed. While in Romeo and Utica, the students were advised at assemblies, in Royal Oak the parents were contacted in individual cases, and in Hazel Park students were talked to individually by the principal.

"It's a phase that is dying out" according to Southfield Supt. Glenn Schoenhals. There a new clause was added this fall to the student handbook, and only a few boys still forego the standard haircut.

* * *

"It's no problem," says Hazel Park Principal Howard H. Beecher, and Royal Oak's Principal Walter Walburn agrees. Walburn says, "the hair and dress of the pupils are the parental responsibility but we do advise the parents if their child appears with a funny haircut."

* * *

At Avondale High School, Principal Rosco Crowell said," haircuts are no problem to us, although we do have a variety of hair styles."

* * *

Pilot Swims Potomac; Seek Bodies of Major, Security Council Aide

WASHINGTON (INS) — A high-ranking national security council aide, a young major and their pilot scrambled from a tiny Air Force plane after it crash-landed in the Potomac River last night, but only the pilot managed to swim ashore.

* * *

Early today, while helicopters hovered over the grim scene under a bright moon, rescue boats lowered grappling equipment into the black, bitter - cold waters in search of Maj. Gen. James C. Selser Jr., 44, of New Orleans, and Maj. Jose Blondet, 34, of Guayama, Puerto Rico.

The pilot, 36-year-old First Lt. Richard B. Perlish, of McLean, Va., was under sedatives in the hospital at Bolling Air Force base suffering from shock and exposure.

An Air Force board of investigation was waiting to question him about last night's ditching of the twin-engined "Aero Commander" in which the three officers were flying to Bolling from Dobbins Air Force Base, Atlanta.

REPORTS 'CONFLICTING'

First reports said their plane had run out of gas. Later an Air Force spokesman said explanations of what had happened were "conflicting."

Selser, a graduate of Georgia Tech in Atlanta, had been serving as deputy director of the National Security Council's net evaluation subcommittee since last July 1. The council advises the President on vital policy matters.

Find 3-Year-Old Boy Half-Mile From Home

A search party organized by the county Sheriff's Department combed the entire area and deputy William P. Addis finally discovered Donald McFonland walking towards a home one-half mile away.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McFonland of 2900 Ford Rd., had feared the child might have been lost or drowned in some nearby four-foot deep marshes or streams, according to deputy Bill Jackson who helped organize the search.

The boy had been missing for 45 minutes when Mrs. McFonland contacted the Sheriff's Department, Jackson said. The searchers had concentrated on the sector's wooded and water areas before Addis noticed Donald walking off Cooley Lake road.

Ohio Papers Still on Strike

Publishers Won't Print Unless Agreement OK'd With All Craft Unions

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland today went into its 18th day without its three big daily newspapers.

Some progress was made yesterday as two craft unions reported their members had accepted contracts with the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Cleveland Press and the Cleveland News.

But the publishers said they would not resume production until they were asured of agreement with all the craft unions concerned.

* * *

The three newspapers have not published since Nov. 1.

The Cleveland Newspaper Guild, whose strike against the Cleveland Press marked the beginning of the situation, accepted a new contract last Thursday.

The Guild struck the Press Oct. 31 when its old contract expired. The following day, the News and Plain Dealer, both published by the Forest City Publishing Co., produced papers which bore the name of the Press along with their own names. But delivery truck drivers refused to haul the papers, and both papers stopped publishing.

Under the two-year contract, the papers will raise wages from $4 to $6.50 weekly this year and $2.50 next year. The old rate for newsmen with five years experience was $122.50.

Contracts accepted yesterday by the Typographical Union and the Mailers Union also were for two years and included wage boosts of $4.50 weekly this year and $3.50 next year. The old base rate for mailers $102.37.

Lost Hunter Finds Safety; Comb Area for Partner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The safe return of a 16-year-old deer hunter after being lost three days spurred hopes today that his younger companion may still be alive in Michigan's ice-bound Upper Peninsula.

Ralph Harmon, 16, stumbled out of the icy wilderness near Seney Sunday. But he said he had become separated from his nephew, Earl Harmon Jr., 14, soon after they entered the woods near Newberry last Thursday. Both are from Lansing.

Ralph was in good condition despite his long stay in the open. He said he had followed trials blazed by a search party in finding his way to safety.

There have been six fatalities, including one listed by state police as homicide, since the opening of the season Thursday.

Donald Justa, 34, of St. Clair, died Sunday night in a Gaylord hospital of wounds suffered Saturday. He was on a hunting trip with his wife and five children accompanied by a neighbor, Mrs. James Mortimer of St. Clair. Mrs. Mortimer was picking up a shell outside a cabin in Otsego County when the rifle she was holding discharged accidentally.

The latest fatal shootings included that of Allen Presler, 37, of Belding, a guard at Ionia State Reformatory.

Among the nine reported victims of fatal heart attacks while on hunting expeditions was Frank Datillo, 44, of Detroit. He complained of feeling ill Sunday near Munising and died a short while later at a hospital.

The wounded list includes Thomas Sinclair, 23, of Vassar, who had killed a nine-point shortly before he was accidentally shot through the groin by Norman L. Rhodes of Saginaw while the two were stalking a bear. Sinclair is in critical condition at a Newberry hospital.

Refugees Move Via Airliners

Arrival of Groups Expected in Time for Free Hungary Day

VIENNA (AP) — Chartered airliners will begin ferrying Hungarian refugees to the United States within the week, U. S. officials said today. The first groups are tentatively scheduled to arrive in time to celebrate Free Hungary Day Sunday.

The United States has offered to provide visas for 5,000 of the nearly 40,000 Hungarians who have fled to Austria since Russian troops cracked down suddenly Nov. 4 on Hungary's independence movement.

Harassed employes of the U. S. consulate in Vienna have been taking applications and making medical checks for a week. The first American visas still had not been issued this morning. They must be granted by the end of the year, before legal authorization expires.

2 Hospitalized as Car Rolls Over 3 Times

Two men, one from Farmington, were hospitalized early today with head injuries received when their car went off the road and rolled over three times in Commerce Township.

Pearl W. Flinchum, 31, of 31310 Ludden St., Farmington, the driver, has a concussion and possible internal injuries. Bud Monious, 29, of Clinton, suffered a possible concussion and severe head cuts in the accident. Both are in "fair" condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, Flinchum will face a drunk and disorderly charge following his recovery from the injuries.

His car reportedly skidded 50 yards before going out of control and off the road on 14 Mile road West of Haggerty. Flinchum refused to make a statement about the accident when questioned, the investigators said.

Three Lives, $8 Million Lost

Young Pilot Smashes Jet After Mistaking Ramp for Runway

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A young pilot's tragic mistake is believed to have caused the flaming runway smashup of a jet fighter and two parked B47 bombers at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Three men died and seven were injured in the Saturday night accident. Loss in equipment is estimated at nearly eight million dollars.

Lt. Robert L. Young, 23, a University of Nebraska student who recently completed jet training with the Air National Guard, was practicing "touch and go" landings. As he roared out of the dark sky, authorities said, he apparently mistook a taxi ramp for a runway.

* * *

Young's F80 rammed the two Strategic Air Command B47s which were being refueled, turning the ramp into an inferno. The pilot was killed.

The crew chief of one of the bombers and his assistant were also killed. They were A.1.C. John Lawrence Delancey, 21, whose home town is Chicago, and Donald Russell Price, 20, of Easton, Pa.

A.2.C. John Streicher, 19, Paterson, N.J., who was reported in critical condition after the accident, was described as "fair" last night. Three others remained in the hospital with lesser injuries.

News in Brief

A purse and $21 were reported stolen Friday from a home at 329 N. Saginaw St., Pontiac police said. The victim was Mrs. Martin Davis of that address, they said.

Nothing was reported missing from a home at 485 California Ave. where there was an apparent breakin attempt Saturday night, Pontiac police said. A side window was found broken.

Aids Expanding Rochester

C. of C. in Village Projects

Editor's note—This article, one in a series on Rochester's growth, tells of the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Rochester is a wonderful community," said Lloyd Lake, president of the Chamber of Commerce. "I believe in its future completely. It is the friendliest town I ever knew. It offers unusual inducements from the standpoint of expanding business, excellent schools and good government."

Lake outlined ways in which the Chamber of Commerce is seeking to assist the community in its growth without losing its present desirable characteristics. He cited figures from the Detroit Regional Planning Commission.

From April 1950 to July 1956 the number of occupied dwellings in Rochester increased from 1,326 to 1,526, a gain of almost 15 per cent. In the same period occupied dwellings in Avon Township outside of Rochester increased from 2,339 to 3,550, a gain of more than 51 per cent.

Lake mentioned the new civic center as one project on which the Chamber is helping. Robert Warren, Hilburn Carpenter and Sidney Teague have been active in its financing and planning. Others who have aided have been the Teen Canteen, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club, Sherwood Investments and Richard S. Reitman.

The civic center lies just east of Avon Township Park in downtown Rochester. Work on the lagoon is practically finished. It holds an estimated 1.6 million gallons. It is filled through sluice gates from Paint Creek. The lagoon ranges in width from 75 to 150 feet.

Rochester's service clubs are also planning to aid this project and the Detroit Edison Co. will provide floodlights. It will be in operation this winter, for skating. Next summer it will be stocked with fish, giving Rochester's young people a fine spot for fishing right in the middle of the village.

Another project that is financed by Rochester merchants is the Planters Club. This was sponsored by the Kiwanians. It is operated by Mrs. Margaret Norton. She visits all newcomers, welcomes them to Rochester and presents each family with a small brass planter. The club arranges dances and other affairs for newcomers.

INDUSTRIAL GROUP

Another project is the Industrial Development and Activities Committee, headed by Roger Henry. It has been set up to serve existing industry and to bring in new industry.

The chamber's parking committee is aiding in the development of the village's new lot and in the project to meter Walnut Street. These steps were suggested by the chamber. Leo Robertson heads this committee.

Don Butcher is chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee. It is planning for Window Night. Each merchant places a covered card in his window. The card bears a number. The merchant distributes numbered tickets. On the night of Dec. 6 numbers are uncovered in the windows and each merchant gives the winner a prize.

* * *

"One of the finest things that happens in Rochester each year is its Christmas decorations," said Lake. "I honestly believe it is the best decorated town in Michigan. The Rochester Lions Club is responsible for the decorations each year. It also sponsors the best Christmas parade for any town of comparable size."

One sign of Rochester's current growth is the big new North Hill Shopping Center which is being erected on the west side of Rochester road on the northern edge of the village.

This center represents an investment of a million and a half dollars, according to Sam Frankel of Detroit. The developers purchased 90 acres in that area and set aside 10 acres along Main street for the shopping center.

The center will include Wrigley's, Kresge's, Cunningham's, Linda Lee and several smaller shops. Grading work is now under way and footings are going in. Steel work will begin in a few weeks and the center is scheduled for opening next August.

There will be parking for from 900 to 1,000 cars, according to Mr. Frankel, and space remains for a group of junior department stores at the rear of the property.

The remaining 80 acres is being developed as a subdivision with 230 lots, of which approximately 150 are already occupied.

When all of the homes are built, the subdivision and shopping center will represent a total investment of four and a half million dollars, according to Mr. Frankel.

Apprehend Culprits in False Alarm 'Fun'

DETROIT (AP)—For the second time in two days, fleet-footed firemen ended the false-alarm fun of a pair of persistent 8-year-olds.

On both occasions, helmeted and booted firemen pursued and captured the youngsters after a lengthy chase.

The boys turned in several alarms Saturday before they were caught and turned over to their parents.

When three false alarms came into the same station within 45 minutes yesterday the firemen thought they knew who to look for. They found the same pair hiding in a park and ran them down again.

The parents were advised to use paddles.

Pontiac Sailors Help Santa

No Boys Without Toys Nor Dolls Without Dolls

Pontiac sailors are planning barrels of cheer for under-privileged children this Christmas.

They're making it easy for parents who can afford Christmas shopping to help out parents who can't.

The drive by reservists and regular personnel at the Naval Training Center is the second annual attempt to provide toys for children who would be without presents Christmas day.

This year sailors will place barrels in front of downtown stores with this idea in mind:

Lt. Cdr. Bernard A. Woessner, commander of the center, said the drive will last until Christmas.

Police Probing Farmer's Death

Hunters Thought Guilty in Michigan Slaying —Possible Clue Found

BITELY, Mich. (AP) — A ballistics test at state police headquarters and investigation of a Detroit lead were planned today in the search for the slayer of 34-year-old George L. Krise.

State police said a piece of paper found near his riddled body bore a Detroit name and address which would be checked to determine its value as a clue.

State police and Newaygo county sheriff Robert Dougan said the shooting "definitely was murder." Four of the bullets were recovered.

Mrs. Krise told police that three cars left the driveway leading to the rear of their farm where she discovered her husband's body shortly after she heard a volley of shots.

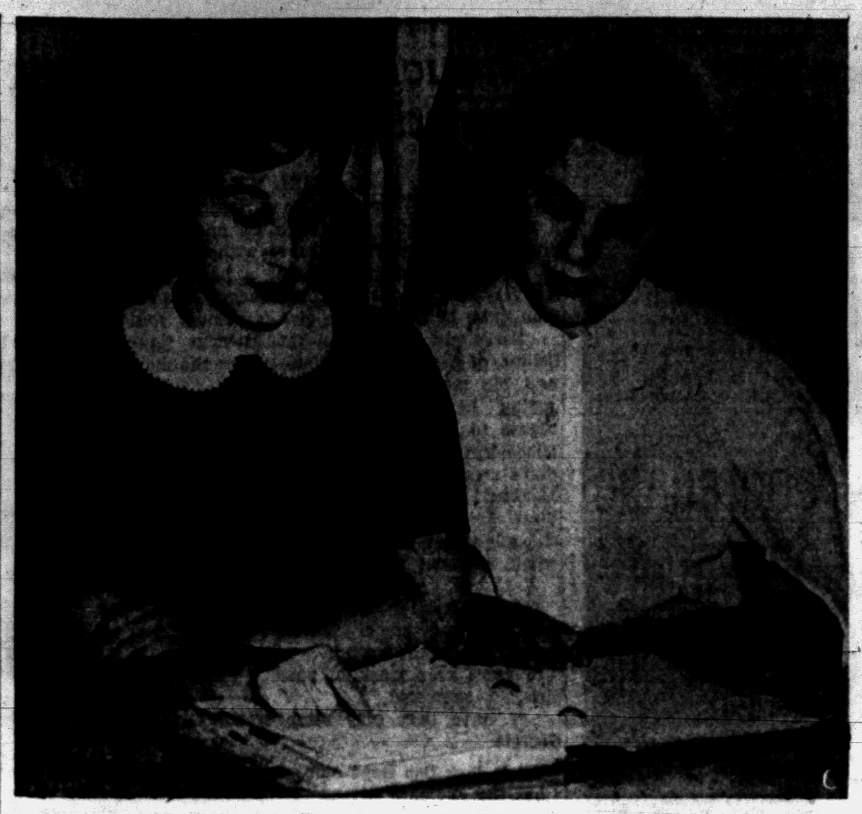

Meanwhile, police also sought a Grand Rapids hunter who reportedly passed the Krise farm at the time the three cars left the drive. They hoped he could offer more information since he reportedly told residents of the Bitely area he noticed the cars drive off.

Dougan said yesterday no motive had been established for the killing.

He said it possibly was the result of a dispute over hunting on the farm.

Mrs. Krise said she had sprinkled tacks on the driveway to discourage trespassers. She explained the couple "had trouble" with hunters who used the road and hunted on the Krise farm without permission.

Mrs. Krise said her husband resumed hunting alone Friday after she had been with him earlier in the day. The body was found about 500 yards behind their home, near the driveway. Police said his unfired 16-gauge shotgun was found beside the body.

STATE YOUTH MEET — Michigan State Temple Youth held the annual fall conclave Friday through Sunday at Temple Beth Jacob. Judy Levine of Ottawa Dr. (left), co-chairman, and Rhoda Goldberg of James K Blvd., president and general chairman, assisted with the registration and hospitality. Donald Barnett (below) of Cherokee Rd. was a member of the religious committee. Rabbis from throughout the state conducted the study of "Social Justice" in workshops. Subjects up for discussion were housing, schools, families, minority groups, religious liberties, economic system, immigration laws and world relations. The young people of Temple Beth Jacob presented the cantata, "What Is Torah" Friday.

Ice Cream Parlor Scene for Stabbing

DETROIT (INS) — An 18-year-old Detroit youth was stabbed to death Saturday night during an argument at an ice cream parlor.

The victim was Don Windham. Leroy Hardy, 20, later surrendered to police and said he stabbed Windham when he believed the dead youth was going to pull a knife of his own.

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Sara Tufnell, pretty blonde model who is separated from her husband, denied today that she is having a romance with the Duke of Kent, 21-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II.

* * *

"I'm a friend of his, sure, but not a special one," the 22-year-old beauty told reporters. Canadian-born Mrs. Tufnell, mother of an 18-month-old daughter, has been living apart from her businessman husband since August.

Mrs. Tufnell said she had been to several parties with the duke "and he has visited my mother's home." She added:

* * *

"My friendship with the duke had nothing to do with my husband and I deciding to live apart. The fact that I met him just before was a complete coincidence. Romance doesn't enter into this."

Supermarket Looted by Young Gunman

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A lone gunman bound and gagged two supermarket employes here last night and escaped with more than $15,000 in cash and checks.

Frank Stellino, 30, manager of the county fair market, told police the holdup man apparently hid in the store office until closing time at 6 p.m.

He said he and another employe, Charles Smith, 17, were standing near the cashier's cage when the man appeared and ordered him at gunpoint to open the safe.

After tying them securely and stuffing gags in their mouths, Stellino said, the young bandit put the cash and checks into a grocery bag and walked out the front door.

Before 1900, Edmonton, Alberta, was little more than a trading post. Now it is one of Canada's fastest growing cities.

President Asked to Put Turkey in a Trance

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A hypnotist has telegraphed President Eisenhower suggesting that he "lead the nation in a humane Thanksgiving" by putting his turkey in a trance before the ax falls.

"This is easily done by first talking to him (the bird) softly, laying his head quietly on the ground where you stretch a piece of white string," messaged Arthur Ellen.

"His eyes focus on the spring, thereby allaying his fears and virtually putting him to sleep. The bird is not frightened at the time of the execution, tastes better due to the absence of adrenalin in the bloodstream and plucks easier because the muscles holding the feathers are relaxed."

Paralyzed Woman Gets Electronic Aid

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Although paralyzed from the shoulders down by polio for 24 years, Miss Celia Surovsky, 45, can do these things:

Open and close the door to her room, use the telephone, turn on the light and her television set and operate a tape recorder.

*Ninety Percent

The poised, smartly dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

Groucho'll Go to Party Providing Host Doesn't

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Groucho Marx is permitting us to give him a party. He couldn't make it on one date suggested—so I proposed we give him a party without him.

"Your suggestion of having a party for me without me is a very sensible one," he fired back. "This could be improved even more by having you give it without you!"

Earl's girl for today—$1.50-an-hour figure model Lois Collins, of Denver and Dallas—spurns the married millionaires and big male stars to study acting here and go home nights to her small son . . . Globe-trotter Annie Pie Sheridan's drydocked by that Mexican wife's love piracy blast. If she leaves the U. S., she might get pinched by the whole Mexican militia.

It's funny, but the great Manhattan telephone directory with its 1836 pages doesn't have some of the simple names that meant so much to me in the thin little Rockford, O., phone book years and years ago.

I can't find the name "Seidenbender" in the Manhattan book—Johnny Seidenbender was my buddy—nor the short little name "Foor," that being the name of a lovely girl I knew.

"Risher" is in the Manhattan directory, but there's only one "Zizelman"—a poor showing for a big city—and I must say I was unhappy not finding more "Dudgeons" and "Van Tilburgs" and "Lemeroux." Sometimes I wonder if my little whistle stop wasn't more of a melting pot than "Noo Yawk."

Consider Oil Pipe to Bypass Suez

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli government is reported preparing a survey for an oil pipeline from the Gulf of Aqaba across Israel to the Mediterranean.

Government sources said a line under consideration to bypass the Suez Canal would carry up to 20 million tons of oil annually. Last year 70 million tons of oil were carried through the canal.

The sources estimated the line from Elath, Israel's port on the Gulf of Aqaba, to Haifa would take about two years to construct and would cost 70 to 75 million dollars initially.

Violence Questioned in Criminal Court

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — The defense prepared to resume its case today after a week's Criminal Court recess in the trial of John Kasper for sedition and inciting to riot in anti-integration disorders at school opening here last August.

Kasper, 27, is the Washington, D.C., segregation advocate whom city officials blamed for stirring up demonstrations after 12 Negroes were admitted along with 80 white pupils at Clinton High School Aug. 27.

Celluloid Ready to Roll on Story of Burma Road

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Even the excitement at MGM over the upheavals in company management isn't keeping Dore Schary and Sam Zimbalist from being up in the clouds over "Never So Few," an unpublished novel by Tom Chamales which Dore has just bought. He bought it from the galley proofs and gave it to Zimbalist to prepare for production.

Sam tells me, "This is Chamales first novel, an adventurous thriller about the building of the Burma Road in World War II. Although it's early to discuss casting, I'd like to have William Travers for the role of the British officer and Ava Gardner would be perfect for the girl."

Hollywood's first production casualty because of the war threat will probably be "Bombers B-52" at Warners. Preparations had all been made to go to Castle Air Force Base at Merced, California, but those plans had to be held in abeyance because all B-52 bombers have been alerted for active duty.

Mike Todd, who is really riding the financial crest of the wave these days, made an offer of $600,000 to take half of the sponsorship of the academy awards TV program for this year. George Seaton, president of the academy, explained to Todd that last December, NBC sold the time to Oldsmobile when it seemed that the industry could not finance the show.

After the riot at the Paramount theater in New York at the opening of Elvis Presley's picture, "Love Me Tender," Colonel Tom Parker lost no time in flying back to Hollywood to talk to Lew Schreiber about his boy making another one at 20th.

The studio was receptive, but I hear that Elvis' price has gone up, up, up. In the course of the conversation, the colonel dropped the information that he was also going to talk to another studio about a picture.

NO SECRETS

Pier Angeli and Vic Damone had hoped to keep the news of their expected baby a secret but it just isn't possible in Hollywood to keep any vital statistics out of print. Pier said she hopes the baby will be born June 12, which is Vic's birthday.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: CBS-radio is hoping to have a taped message from His Holiness, Pope Pius, on Bing Crosby's Christmas Eve show which will again feature the Vatican choir.

Actress Joan Diener, of "Kismet" fame, and her husband Albert Marre have dated the stork for May.

A young artist is said to be Betsy Blair's current heart. She is Gene Kelly's ex.

Find 2nd Brother Dead on Desert

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Searchers found the body of the second of two brothers who disappeared a month ago on a National Guard artillery range east of Boise.

John Soto, 26, and Julio Soto Jr., 23, were looking for scrap metal.

An exploded mortar shell was found beside John's body. He apparently thought the shell was a dud.

As Sheriff Pat McCarthy reconstructed the tragedy, Julio also was wounded in the explosion. He covered his brother with his denim jacket and struck out across the desert for help. He collapsed after going a mile and a half.

Spare Aching Back, Get Babies Baptized

"To have thrust into one's arms at the font a baby weighing anything up to 30 pounds to hold and baptize at the same time is no light thing," he wrote in his parish magazine. The vicar, who is 41, added:

"I shudder to think how I am going to handle such heavy babies in 25 years time."

Soviets Criticized by Nehru in Debate

NEW DELHI (AP)—In his strongest criticism so far of Soviet action in Hungary, Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today Russia's prestige had been "powerfully affected . . . in Eastern European countries, in noncommitted countries and even among people in the Soviet Union itself."

Opening a two-day foreign affairs debate, Nehru said details of what has happened in Hungary are not clear but "it is evident the government of Hungary is not a free but an imposed government, and the people are not satisfied with it."

"If in the course of 10 years the Hungarian people could not be converted to Soviet ideas," he continued, "it shows a certain failure which is a far greater failure than any military coup."

A television commercial promises us relief from colds. Now if we could just get some relief from commercials! . . . Groucho Marx, the baseball fan, says if you think umpires are blind on the baseball diamond, you should see some of them in the night clubs when the season's over.—Earl Wilson.

Area Boy Burned Tending Trash Fire

A 10-year-old Waterford Township boy suffered first and second degree burns of both legs when his pants caught on fire while he was burning trash at his home Saturday morning.

Philip L. Ragatz, of 3465 Hanford Rd., is under treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for the burns.

His father, Philip Sr., 31, was treated at the hospital for minor burns of the hands received when he went to his son's rescue and beat out the flames.

Asleep at Wheel—Crash

Vern E. Williamson, 33, of Lake Orion explained he fell asleep at the wheel before his car struck a parked auto early Saturday on S. Saginaw street south of Rapid street, Pontiac police said. Williamson was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruised knees.

Selling Forces Grains Lower

CHICAGO (AP)—Failure to settle the dock strike at Atlantic Coast and Gulf of Mexico ports over the weekend brought additional selling into grains on the board of trade today.

Losses were rung up in all pits although the nearby corn futures resisted selling pressure, reflecting the firm tone which has prevailed in recent sessions for cash corn.

* * *

Other bearish influences included moisture in parts of the winter wheat belt and uncertainty over government price supports for 1957 crop feed grains.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ⅞ lower, December $2.39, corn unchanged to 1⅝ lower, December $1.37⅜, oats ¼ to 1¼ lower, December 78⅜, rye 1½ to 2 cents lower, December $1.50¾, soybeans ¾ to 1¼ lower, November $2.51¼, and lard 2 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $13.85.

Edsel to Arrive in '57

New Ford Line to Honor Son of Firm's Founder

RICHARD E. KRAFVE

Selection of "Edsel" as the name for the new line of medium-priced cars was announced today by the Ford Motor Co. The autos will be introduced early next year.

The line will be named for Edsel Ford, son of the company's founder, who served as president between 1919 and his death in 1943.

The Edsel Division will replace the firm's Special Product's Division and will be located in the Continental Building on the Edsel Ford Expressway in Dearborn.

The unit will be headed by Richard E. Krafve, ford vice president, who was assistant general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division before assuming responsibility for launching the new line.

Edsels will be introduced and distributed by a completely-new dealer organization, according to Henry Ford II, president. Recruitment of dealers will begin shortly after district offices are opened next year.

Formally organized in April, 1955, the division began work on the cars in 1948. Development was halted during the Korean conflict.

Pat's Number Up —Proves Boon(e) for Singer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Pat Boone has sold seven million records and has signed a million-dollar contract to make seven movies in seven years, and guess what he wants: A Phi Beta Kappa key.

Boone is taking 17 hours of college work — almost the maximum — at Columbia University, where he is majoring in speech, and his plans are to be a teacher, or maybe "educational television."

He's not trying for another seven in the entertainment game because "I've seen too many who have been up and are now down. I don't want any of it."

Nevertheless he has that contract with 20th Century-Fox for seven pictures.

Tibetans Still Fighting

KALIMPONG, India (AP) — Sporadic guerrilla fighting is reported continuing in Tibet, where rebellion against the Chinese Communists flared last April.

Exploratory drilling in the Barcelona area of Venezuela last year brought 76 discoveries out of 171 starts and discovery of several new oil fields.

Fisher's Show to Be Dropped

Dorothy Lamour Asked to Make Pilot Film for CBS-TV Series

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Steve Allen definitely leaves his midnightly TV show ("Tonight") in January to concentrate on his Sunday night fight with Sullivan (and Trendex) . . .

Ernie Kovacs is only one of the stars being considered as replacement . . . might try new talent and columnists from Hollywood, Chicago and New York. (Don't look at us) . . . Norman Frank will mastermind . . .

Dulles Attacks Red Arrogance

Basic Ideas Violated by Soviet War Acts, Says Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday Soviet Russia has been guilty of "arrogance and . . . violations of basic principle" in attacking Hungary and interferring in the Middle East.

He said Kremlin rulers "engaged in war on Hungary with promiscuous slaughter" and that in the Middle East "they have tried to substitute themselves for the United Nations, instead of acting as a cooperative member."

* * *

Dulles read a statement on the steps of Walter Reed Army Hospital, where on Nov. 3 he underwent surgery for removal of a section of intenstine later determined have been cancerous.

The secretary shortly thereafter flew to Key West, Fla., for several weeks of recuperation. He plans to return to his desk Dec. 3. On his arrival at Key West with Mrs. Dulles, he commented, "That sunshine sure feels good."

As for his own condition, he said before leaving here that his doctors say "that I am making an excellent recovery—and I certainly feel that way."

He said U.N. efforts toward achieving a stable peace in the Middle East are "on the right track" and added:

"It would, however, be a great mistake to believe that stability and tranquility can be permanently established merely by emergency measures to stop the fighting.

* * *

"It is necessary to attack the basic problems of the area. The many nations which want peace must also be prepared to struggle for the conditions necessary for a just and durable peace."

Referring then to Russia's actions in that area and in Hungary, Dulles added: "The free nations cannot relax their vigilance in the face of such arrogance and such violations of basic principles."

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT! Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Then He's 7-year-Old Again

Young Symphony Leader Takes His Job Seriously

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of batons flew out of tiny hands—but the music went right on—as a self-possessed 7-year-old boy made his debut as conductor of the Symphony of the Air at Carnegie Hall last night.

* * *

Batons sometimes slipped out of the grip of Joey's predecessor Arturo Toscanini, onetime conductor of the orchestra.

Associated Press arts editor W. G. Rogers observed:

"It was not a big audience but it was a happy one, and Joey was happiest of all. He knew all the gestures, and he used them all, and the orchestra did right by him."

* * *

Joey was on the podium in white suit and white socks, with bare knees. His face was sober as the orchestra — formerly the NBC Symphony—played the overtures to Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro" and Rossini's "William Tell" and two symphonies, Hadyn's "Surprise" and Beethoven's Fifth.

The concert was a benefit for the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's Hospital, Yonkers, N.Y., in which Joey was born. His father Frank Alfidi is a trumpet player.

* * *

* * *

Joey thanked the donors, hopped down from the podium and ran off behind the scenes. For a few minutes he was a 7-year-old boy again—with a ball and bat from the Giants and a new red bike.

Handles Over $8 Million —Six Bits Brings Worry

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Walter S. Wilson, clerk of the Maricopa County superior court, would like to know where he lost 75 cents sometime during the past six years.

A regular audit of the books showed the court handled $8,552,893.29, most of it in support payments. State examiner Dan Garvey, however, accounted for $8,552,892.54.

First Reunion Held for Class of 1899

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Twenty six members of the 1899 class of Washington elementary school here held their first reunion yesterday.

* * *

It took professor Benjam F. Cummings III of Brigham Young University two months of research to locate all 26.

And it took a long time to answer the questions: "Where have you been all these years?"

* * *

"It's strange," said one. "I've kept in touch with most of them and they don't seem to be getting any older. But those I haven't seen —they're really aging."
