

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Teddy's Decision Fuels Dems' VP Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic vice presidential picture appeared to be wide open today following Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's "final, firm" decision against accepting the position at next month's national convention.

The names of Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Fred R. Harris and Ambassador to France Sargent Shriver were mentioned as possible running mates if front-running Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Meanwhile, on the campaign trail, Humphrey declared today his goal is "peace — nothing less" and McCarthy said black power is the road to black dignity and responsibility.

Humphrey, in Salt Lake City, Utah, today, listed the pursuit of world peace at the top of his "new agenda."

'LASTING PEACE'

He said this means working with Red China in the future and the Soviet Union now to reduce tensions; a slowdown in the arms race, and a "stable and lasting peace" in Vietnam for which he promised a specific proposal in days.

McCarthy said Negroes must be given power — with which he said will come dignity and responsibility — by bringing industry, locally-owned businesses and antipoverty programs into their communities.

"The fact is that poverty among black people is no accident," McCarthy said in a prepared speech in Detroit. "Black people are poor because they are powerless, and powerless because they are black."

Humphrey, campaigning in Kansas when the Kennedy statement was released in Boston, said the decision by the Massachusetts senator "speaks for itself" and is "understandable."

NO COMMENT

McCarthy, Humphrey's chief rival for the nomination, had no immediate comment on either Kennedy's decision or the possibility of taking No. 2 spot himself.

A Humphrey-McCarthy ticket would pose a problem since both men come from Minnesota and the Constitution bars a state's electoral college votes from two residents of the same state.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., suggested that "Sargent Shriver is the only vice presidential candidate who makes sense to me, if he (Humphrey) can't get McCarthy."

Humphrey aides, who have insisted no decision on the vice presidency was imminent, have said that both McCarthy and Shriver are possibilities.

U.S. Thailand Base Hit

SAIGON (AP) — About 20 guerrillas, hurling explosives, battled their way into the largest U.S. Air Force base in Thailand last night, wrecking two planes, killing a Thai guard and wounding four Americans.

The hour-long attack on Udon Air Base, about 300 miles north of Bangkok, marked the first time a U.S. base in Thailand has come under attack, a military spokesman said.

Two guerrillas were killed and one captured in the battle. One American was wounded critically.

Udon, with 6,000 airmen and more than 100 warplanes, is located in an area described by the Bangkok government as infested with North Vietnamese-backed guerrillas. Surrounded by thick underground growth on one side and a town on the other and a grenade's throw from two nearby public roads, the base has long been considered the most vulnerable of all U.S. airbases in Thailand.

DA NANG SHELLED

Enemy troops also struck in South Vietnam, rocketing for the third straight night the big Da Nang Air Base, 375 miles north of Saigon, another base for attacks against North Vietnam. Two planes were wrecked when a rocket scored a direct hit on a Marine hangar.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command announced the loss of two more fighter-bombers during strikes over North Vietnam's southern panhandle. It raised to 872 the number of American warplanes reported downed in combat over the North during the war.

Three of the four crewmen aboard the two planes were listed as missing and a fourth was rescued after surviving 20 hours in enemy territory.

Across South Vietnam, little significant ground fighting was reported.

Associated Press correspondent Peter O'Loughlin reported from Udon that the terrorists entered the base through a lightly guarded northern perimeter and opened up with what was believed to be Communist-made AK47 rifles.

Lugging heavy demolition charges, the intruders battled their way to a main parking area where about 100 American jet fighters and reconnaissance aircraft were lined up in revetments. Witnesses said the guerrillas tried to throw the charges into the engine intakes of the planes, but most of the charges failed to explode.

A combined Thai-American security force drove the enemy back, but not before an F4 twin-jet fighter-bomber and a C141 four-jet medical evacuation aircraft were badly damaged by fire. Two Air Force nurses were inside the medical evacuation aircraft during the battle, but were not harmed.

AID FOR SHOOTING VICTIM—Winifred Breland, 38, of Detroit is taken to Crittenton Hospital in Avon Township after a shooting incident left her seriously wounded and another woman dead. The shooting occurred in the parking lot of Ford Motor Co. Credit Union in Shelby Township.

Woman Kills Herself After Shooting Rival

One woman was killed and another seriously wounded yesterday in what police said was the result of an argument in the parking lot of the Ford Motor Co. Credit Union in Shelby Township near Ulica.

Shelby Township police said Bernice Russell, 39, shot Winifred Breland, 38, twice in the stomach and once in the chest and then fatally shot herself in the head at about 11:40 a.m. yesterday.

Miss Russell was pronounced dead on arrival at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township.

Miss Breland was reported this morning in fair to poor condition by Crittenton hospital officials.

FELLOW WORKERS

Shelby Township police said both women were employed by the credit union firm at 50515 Mound.

Witnesses told police when the two Detroit women came to work in the morning, Miss Russell told Miss Breland she had something for her and would give it to her during their lunch break.

When the women returned from lunch Miss Russell went to the trunk of her car, where witnesses said she pulled out a .32-caliber automatic pistol, shooting Miss Breland three times before shooting herself.

Friends of the victims told police they had been feuding for the past year over the attentions of a male friend.

Congress OKs Antihunger Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Congress, mindful there are still empty stomachs in affluent America, has agreed to put up nearly $1 billion in fiscal 1969 to help feed the poor.

The landmark antihunger appropriation swept through the House and Senate yesterday without argument. Only President Johnson's signature is needed.

In a departure from previous approaches, Congress added an extra $45 million to feed needy persons — mostly children — not reached by the ordinary food stamp and commodity-distribution program near Ulica.

The food provisions were contained in a $5.5 billion annual appropriations package covering all Agriculture Department activities in the 12 months that began July 1.

FOR SCHOOL LUNCHES

The extra $45 million will be spent to buy lunches for poor school children or to provide an adequate diet for other persons "determined by the secretary of agriculture to be suffering, through no fault of their own, from general or continued hunger."

This amount is in addition to $14.25 million specifically appropriated in the bill to provide free or cut-rate school lunches and breakfasts for needy children, and another $32 million subsidy for school lunches in general.

The added sum will for the first time allow the department to reach hungry persons at or near their permanent homes regardless of whether the area involved is operating a federal food stamp or government commodity donation program.

This approach was among major demands of the Poor People's Campaign here this summer.

The bill also includes $225 million for the food stamp program and an estimated $447 million for distribution of surplus commodities.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather bureau forecast is:

TONIGHT — High of 77 to 84 today, falling to 56 to 62. Winds south to southeast at 10 to 18 miles per hour becoming northwest to north.

TOMORROW—Partly sunny and a little cooler.

MONDAY—Fair and becoming a little warmer.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent: today 50, tonight 60, tomorrow 10.

Low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 66. By 2 p.m. the temperature was 83.

Receives Baboon Liver

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A young woman whose blood was cleansed by the liver of a baboon yesterday was unconscious in Groote Schuur Hospital today but her condition was reported improved.

The operation, on Mary Voogt, 29, was believed to mark the first time a baboon's liver was used to detoxify human blood. A pig's liver has been used in similar operations.

FUNERAL FOR SLAIN FAMILY—Final rites for Richard C. Robison, his wife and four children found slain in their summer cottage, 30 miles north of Petoskey, were held yesterday at Acacia Park Cemetery in Southfield. Buried yesterday were Robison, 42, his wife Shirley, 40; and their children, Richard, 19, Gary, 17, Randy, 12, and Susan, 7. The Robisons lived at 18790 Dolores, Lathrup Village.

Post Office Cutbacks Put Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first in a series of postal service cutbacks, scheduled to take effect today, has been put off for a week while Congress considers exempting the Post Office from federal manpower reductions.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced the stay late yesterday after the Senate voted to exempt postal service from the manpower cuts, dictated by the recently passed income tax bill.

He gave the House a week to follow suit.

Under a timetable announced July 12, the department had planned to cut window service today at first and second class post offices to a maximum of two hours and to put Saturday collections from street boxes on Sunday schedules.

FIRST STEPS

The department said these were the first steps in a sharp curtailment of operations that eventually would lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and restricting of residential deliveries to four days a week.

The Senate added its exemption as a rider to a minor post office bill, opening the way for House approval without having to go through the committee process.

Congress is scheduled to adjourn next Friday until September so members can attend the national political conventions.

Watson said he put off the cutbacks "because the vote of the Senate today indicates an understanding of our highly critical problem of handling a larger workload with a smaller work force."

"But," he said, "We cannot, by the conditions of the current law, delay cutbacks past Aug. 3."

UP TO HOUSE

If the House does not act by Friday, Watson said, weekend curtailment will start the following day and the department will proceed with the next step in its cutbacks—shutting down the first of 314 fourth-class branches.

No Basic Steel Pact Yet; Wildcat Strikes Threaten

BULLETIN
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The chief negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America (USW) and 11 major steel companies today said they were unable to reach a "basis for settlement" of their wage contract dispute. I. W. Abel, USW president, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the companies, agreed to meet during the weekend in an effort to avert a threatened strike of 400,000 steelworkers Wednesday.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A threat of wildcat strikes hangs over the basic steel labor negotiations even if a big industrywide settlement is reached before midnight Wednesday.

The issue is incentive pay—a bonus originally given some workers for extra production but now a crazy-quilt pattern of wage boosts that can make men working side by side take home vastly different paychecks.

Leaders of two United Steelworker locals in the Pittsburgh area served notice on top negotiators yesterday that their men were threatening to set up picket lines if the final contract doesn't cover all workers with incentives.

If the wildcat strikes were successful, union sources said they would spread to all plants with incentive problems—and that means dozens across the country.

At the top-level bargaining both union and management remained silent about how much money—if any—was on the table for the over-all economic settlement.

A key member of the committee on contract language, which is crucial to seniority, work schedules, grievance procedure and health and safety, said that his work was going slowly.

MEETING MONDAY

Monday is the day the 600 man basic steel industry conference meets. It can ratify a contract or call a strike.

The contract for the 388,000 men who work for the 11 largest steel companies, who negotiate as a unit, expires at midnight on Wednesday.

'Presidium United for Talks With Soviets'

Czech Leader Urges Support for Cause

PRAGUE (AP)—Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told his followers Friday that the Czechoslovak party president is preparing for talks with Soviet leaders with unanimity. He called for "strong faith in our good cause."

Addressing a group of Prague workers, Dubcek said: "We think there is no reason for fear or mistrust. On the contrary a certain dose of optimism, strong faith in our good cause and confidence that the correctness of our new policy will be proved is needed to help allay at last the fears of our friends."

"Such an attitude by our people and party will be the greatest support in the talks," he added.

Dubcek's meeting with the workers came as liberals warned Czech leaders that "the fate of our nation" is at stake in the impending showdown with the Soviet leadership, which is trying to blunt Czechoslovak moves toward liberalization.

Members of the ruling Soviet Politburo are expected to begin talks in Czechoslovakia early next week.

In an editorial published in Literani Listy, a writers' weekly and sounding board for the nation's top liberals, the new leadership was urged to defend to the death any attacks by the Soviets or their orthodox allies against the country's reformist program. An important part of that program is the lifting of censorship.

Rumors circulated that a split in the presidium had occurred over the removal of Lt. Gen. Vaclav Pchlik from a key spot in the party Central Committee, where he had been under fire by the Soviets.

Pchlik was returned to army service and his department, which controlled the army, security police and judiciary, was abolished.

The rumors of a divided vote were discounted here by informed sources who saw the move as a tactical one.

During the crisis, Czechoslovak leaders have been careful to avoid any move that might provoke the Soviets into using force to halt the liberalization drive. The sources said the removal of Pchlik was a gesture of compromise and that in the long run the department would have been eliminated anyway.

ELEGANCE SHATTERED—A man lies dead on the floor of the elegant Madison Avenue sports store of Abercrombie and Fitch yesterday in New York after he shot himself to death. Police said the man, identified as Vladimir Vorlicek, 34, apparently took a 12-gauge, double-barreled shotgun from an open rack, pried loose a trigger guard, loaded the gun and fired it at his throat.

Firm Shuts Gunshops After Death in Store

NEW YORK (AP)—Abercrombie & Fitch has temporarily closed seven gunshops in its branches around the country following the apparent suicide of a man in its New York store yesterday.

The 34-year-old man walked into the seventh-floor gunshop at the fashionable Madison Avenue sports store, bought $50 worth of shotgun shells, then loaded one into a gun on display and killed himself.

Police identified the victim as Vladimir Vorlicek, a Czechoslovakian who emigrated here within the past two years and had lived in Astoria, Queens, until a month ago.

Michael Raskin, a senior vice president of Abercrombie, said it was not clear how the man fired the gun since all firearms in the shop are either locked in cabinets or fixed with trigger immobilizing clamps.

"We are very upset," Raskin said. "We inspect our guns, we look at our guns, we're nervous as hell about our guns. That's why we have them locked up."

Police said Vorlicek entered the shop about 1 p.m., told the clerk he was going hunting and purchased the shells. Then he began to browse and the clerk turned away.

Police said Vorlicek took a gun, loaded it and put it to his head. Raskin said later the trigger clamps could only have been unscrewed by using "a metal key, a file or a screwdriver."

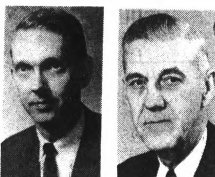

Although he declined to discuss what other security precautions were now being considered, Raskin said, "the very fact that it happened means that we can do something else."

Escapees Free Camp Official

BRIGHTON (AP)—Two convicts kidnapped a supervisor at the Brighton Youth Camp early today, but released him unharmed four hours later near Flint and then fled in a car belonging to the uncle of one of them, police said.

Supervisor John Reeder, 31, of Howell, had completed a midnight bed-check and was censoring inmate mail when, he said, the inmates slipped up behind him.

Reeder said the first he knew of their presence was when one of them threw a cord nose around his throat, forcing him to put his hands behind his back, where they were tied. While he was being tied, Reeder said the second inmate stood threateningly over him with a three-foot club.

VP's Son to Be at Hare Picnic

Robert Humphrey, son of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, will be among the more than 5,000 persons expected to attend the Jim Hare picnic in honor of the secretary of state tomorrow.

The fund raising picnic is being held at the Ivory Farm, Cooley Lake Road west of Union Lake Road in White Lake Township. It begins at noon. Tickets, at $6 for an individual and $15 for a family, can be purchased at the gate.

Harold Bondy, chairman for the all-day picnic, said he expects the largest crowd in the history of the event "to honor the man who has been elected to his present position seven times."

There will be a horse show, prizes, awards, games, rides for the younger set and favors for all the children.

Hot dogs, popcorn, soft drinks and refreshments will be served throughout the day. Beef, corn on the cob, salad and relishes will be served from 2 to 7 p.m.

Grand Rapids Is Calm After a Night of Strife

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—About 100 Negro youths roamed a four-block area of this city's south side early today, stoning firemen and "beating citizens," police said.

Michigan State Police were called in to assist in the disturbance and the local National Guard commander was informed. Grand Rapids Police Supt. William A. Johnson said.

At dawn he called the situation "calm."

The trouble began about midnight when four unoccupied residences in the predominantly Negro Jefferson and Franklin street area caught fire in an "obvious arson attempt," Johnson said.

Animal Study Exhibit Open at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "Animal Behavior," an exhibit of photographs and text, opens at Cranbrook Institute of Science today and will remain through mid-September.

The presentation, which is divided into sections dealing with separate facets of scientific research, explores the psychologist's "nature versus nurture" question—the degree to which instinct and learning affect the development of behavior.

Cranbrook Institute of Science is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. on the weekends. In addition, the science museum is open through August 7 to 10 p.m.

During this period there are free guided tours weekdays at 1:30 p.m., planetarium demonstrations at 2:30 p.m. weekdays and 8 p.m. on Wednesdays and planetarium demonstrations at 3:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. There is an admission charge.

At the annual meeting of the Area Chamber of Commerce Coordinating Committee for Southeastern Michigan, Knowles B. Smith, executive director of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman for a one year term.

MANY COMMITTEES

Smith of 131 Bassett, Bloomfield-Township, has served on many of the action committees as well as the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce Coordinating Committee since its inception in 1965.

Smith is a director of the Organization Executives of Michigan, a member of Chamber of Commerce Executives of Michigan, director of Association Executives of Metropolitan Detroit and a member of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives.

He also is active in the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as the representative from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

BIRMINGHAM—The State Senate recently confirmed the nomination of a local woman to a state committee. Mrs. Allen A. Strom of 1138 Wakefield was appointed to the Michigan State Fair Authority for a term expiring April 14, 1972.

'AS IS' OUTLET — The new Salvation Army Red Shield Store opens today at 112 W. Pike. The store features "as is" condition stock donated by the public. Merchandise includes furniture, appliances, toys, books and housewares. The money received from the sale supports a rehabilitation program for homeless men. The new 10,000-square-foot building is open Monday through Thursday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Debate on Gun Control Has Gone Up in Smoke

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional debate on gun control legislation has produced a number of side issues that may be ricocheting around for some time to come.

One was raised the other day by a lawgiver who compared guns to bridges, the correlation being that bridges can be deadly if you jump off of them.

I expect the bridge control issue will keep Congress tied up for many long hours next session.

More recently, Rep. Burt L. Talcott, R-Calif., took the floor to complain that television networks were opposing gun sales in commentary programs while promoting cigarette sales in commercials.

He contended this was inconsistent on grounds that "cigarette smoking shortens more lives, causes more damage and destruction, and costs more money than guns."

Talcott, in turn, was challenged by Rep. David N. Henderson, D-N.C., who claimed the cigarette-gun comparison was itself inconsistent.

"I can, after all, kill my neighbor with my gun without his electing or choosing to have anything to do with the gun," Henderson said.

But, he added, "I cannot kill someone else with my cigarette as I might with my gun."

I would be willing to drop the matter here except for the fact that Henderson has now been challenged by a citizen who argues that Henderson's argument is inconsistent.

Donald Kucera of Seal Beach, Calif., sent me a pamphlet in which he allows as how non-smokers can be harmed by cigarettes because the smoke contributes to air pollution.

"I suggest that all smokers be fingerprinted, photographed and registered by local, state and country governments," Kucera wrote. "In addition, only properly licensed smokers should be permitted to purchase tobacco products."

"In times of crisis, such as a smog alert, government officials could quickly move in and confiscate pollutant-causing substances from those known to possess tobacco."

"To protect potential innocent victims, certain suspected heavy smokers could be put under extra surveillance during crisis periods."

Checks Upset State Employees

LANSING (AP) — State employees, who have been dreaming of a pay raise since last Christmas, got a rude jolt when their last check arrived — in many cases lower than the previous check.

The State Civil Service Commission approved a $19 pay raise for some 42,000 workers under state civil service last December.

It generally ranged from 5 to 8 per cent and in some specialized classifications as high as 17 per cent.

"There was some understandable dismay," said state civil service director Franklin DeWald.

"My employees did not realize the July 18 check did not reflect a full two-week pay period at the new rate. It did, however, commence deductions for the 10 per cent federal income tax surcharge."

Better checks are ahead, DeWald promised.

The full civil service pay adjustment will show in checks issued Aug. 1. He warned that there will be a brand new deduction shown on the check stub — the 1 per cent Lansing city income tax.

Ex-State High Court Chief Rapped

Pressure by Jurist Is Charged

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — "Against Father Joe," right," Black said, "this is plan to nominate Appeals Court Justice Eugene F. Black charged Friday that the 1966 court election, the then-chief justice pressured lawyers for campaign contributions for a fellow Democrat.

The incident was one of several Black cited in attacking Michigan's "monstrous system" under which Supreme Court justices, who run on nonpartisan ballots, are nominated by the two major political parties.

"You may not know," Black told the annual meeting of Michigan prosecutors "that any lawyer or judge desiring to be a candidate for election to the Michigan Supreme Court must in nearly every instance sell his personal and partisan wares to (political) convention delegates."

He said that in 1966, when Republican Thomas Brennan successfully ran against Democratic incumbent Otis Smith, "all of us witnessed the then-chief justice of our court (Thomas M. Kavanagh) with full party support, putting pressure on lawyers — lawyers having regular business in our court—for substantial contributions to his (Smith's) campaign."

Black said he decided then not to vote for Kavanagh again for chief justice resulting in the election of Republican Justice John Dethmers — "a not very attractive selection between two gentlemen neither of whom was ever noted for constitutional nonpartisanship."

Black, a former Republican attorney general who was nominated for the court by the Democrats, vowed to support Republican court candidate Edward S. Piggins, a Wayne County circuit judge in 1970.

"I am authorized to say that Judge Piggins definitely will be a candidate," Black said.

He added Justice Harry F. Kelley definitely would not seek reelection in 1970 and that Dethmers "will be a question mark." Both are Republicans.

Black said that in 1957 Republicans nominated Joseph Moynihan Jr., son of a Wayne County circuit judge, to the Supreme court but deleted the "junior" from the ballot "just so the voters of Wayne County would assume they were voting for or

Mr. Fixit Keeps Steering Italy Away From Political Chaos

ROME (AP) — Whenever the things run amok in the tangled jungle of Italian politics, the president calls in Mr. Fixit, the affable Neapolitan with the large nose plays a poignant role in Italian politics. In days of normalcy, he retires to obscurity. He is called in for help only when all appears lost.

"Don't worry, I won't stay long," 59-year-old Leone told a party meeting last week after winning a confidence vote in the Chamber of Deputies by a margin of five votes. "I am here to keep things in order."

MEZZO-SOPRANO AND TEACHER JENNIE TOUREL

Miss Tourel, One Who Rates All A's

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

A classroom is hardly the spot for spending long summer afternoons — except at Meadow Brook School of Music. Here, the attention span between instructor and pupil has undoubtedly broken records this week.

And the why goes without further ado when internationally known mezzo-soprano and Juillard School of Music faculty member, Jennie Tourel, takes her place before the piano at 4 p.m.

From then on, as the clock unobtrusively ticks away, she enchants them all, just as she did the audience that lauded her performance Wednesday evening with the Meadow Brook Orchestra.

Although a mite of a woman by appearance, the impelling drive she infuses for perfection and understanding from her students is testimony to her artistic magnitude.

"Russian by birth, French by education, and American by adoption," Miss Tourel relates this international blend of backgrounds to the obvious love and comfort she feels when speaking of music.

Indeed, a feeling so ingrained that she sparks empathy with expression alone, be it facial or quick, unconscious hand gestures that compels one to attend.

INSTRUCTION

"Patience is essential for both the instructor and student," reflects Miss Tourel. "but, determination and enthusiasm are key objectives I try to instill in my pupils."

Although her career began at the age of 18, she stresses that full voice maturity comes much later for most, usually when the singer is closer to 30.

Likewise, reaching one's full potential is a timely process, true for any artist who wishes to master his skill.

"I don't believe in instant cooking," she smilingly added. "You can't do a job well when you rush into it; it just isn't possible."

Not to be overlooked is a knowledge of the arts, languages and history that enable interpretation for one's performance.

"One just doesn't sing, he feels it, thus he has to know of life to sing well."

SOLO

The room of young artists was still now as the class listened to the first soloist under the watchful eye of Miss Tourel.

"Fine, I say fine, but..." began his critical observer, and the exchange between master and student continued until both were comfortable with the results.

Again the room is intently still as the clear tones come, but this time with pathos from within that leaves the class spellbound, a trait distinctively infused by Jennie Tourel.

George H. Gotshalls to Host Foreign Flavored Buffet

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gotshall will greet the Circumnavigators at their Orchard Lake home Sunday, Aug. 4. The poolside party begins at 4:30 p.m. and colorful tents will be placed nearby to provide shelter if needed. A buffet dinner will be served towards sundown.

MENU

The menu has been prepared by Circumnavigator George Pierrot with all of Eastern Canada's delicacies in mind. According to Pierrot, servings will include choice Essex beef, Laurentian potatoes, Ontario onions, Saguenay greens with Habitant dressing, Niagara apple torte and Baffin Bay coffee.

Poolside and garden decorations on the Canadian heritage trail theme have been constructed by Circumnavigator and Mrs. F. L. Zwickley. A special feature will be large replicas of the crests of each Canadian province. Canadian Consul General Edward Maguire and Mrs. Maguire will be special guests.

Robert McKeown of Ottawa will tell the story of French Canada's historic "heritage trail". His action-packed color movie repeats the old-time trek from the Canadian Maritimes through French Canada to the Detroit River boundary.

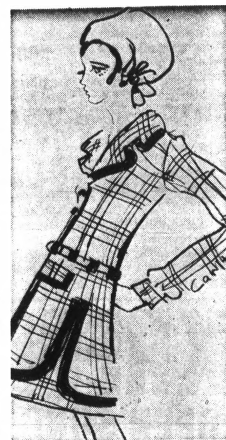

John W. Kinsey of Troy, president of the Michigan Circumnavigators, expects national officers of the organization to come from New York and Florida to take part in this 12th annual summer gathering of Detroit's chapter of world travelers.

Two new Michigan members will be initiated during the party. They are Dr. Irvin W. Sander of Long Lake Road and Judge Ralph M. Freeman of Birmingham.

ATTENDING

Among those attending the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. Marley Bricker, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Katke, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Richardson Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Warnica.

Pianist Is Slated for Performance

Alexis Weissenberg, pianist, will appear as soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra tonight at 8:30 p.m. and again on Sunday at 7:30 p.m., for Oakland University's Meadow Brook Festival concert in Baldwin Pavilion.

Sixteen Ehrlich will conduct. Beginning next Tuesday, the Festival will present the full American Ballet Theatre in six performances on the Baldwin stage with music provided from the pit by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The company comes to Meadow Brook from New York after a fabulously successful three-week dance festival with ballets newly mounted for that occasion.

All major stars of the company will be on hand for the Festival performances including Lupe Serrano, Carla Fracci, Erik Bruhn, Toni Lander, Royce Fernandez, and Bruce Marks.

Jaime Leon will conduct five of the performances with Andrew Apostol directing the Detroit Symphony for the final ballet Sun, Aug. 4.

PROGRAM

Ballets to be presented are "Concerto" and a new two-act "Giselle" Tues, July 20, and Sun, Aug. 4; "Les Sylphides," the "Flower Festival" Pas de Deux, "Billy the Kid," and "Theme and Variation" Wed.-Thurs., July 31-Aug. 1; "Dances Concertantes," "Fancy Free," and "Etudes" Fri.-Sat., Aug. 2, 3.

Tickets are available at the Festival box-office on the grounds, at Hudson's and Grinnell's. Festival grounds open two hours before performances for picnics and buffet service.

Cold Victims Should Keep Germs at Home

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Don't you think it the height of ignorance for people who have colds to pay visits, spreading their germs all over the house? I have often had neighbors come and visit me with heavy colds, saying they were feeling so miserable they had to get out and get their minds off themselves. — Disgusted

Dear "Disgusted": I thoroughly agree with you. Cold sufferers should keep their misery to themselves. If they must be among people, they should keep their germs well muffled behind a handkerchief. To spread their cold just because they can't stand "waiting it out" alone, is the height of selfishness.

FAMILY PICTURES

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste for a man to display pictures of his wife and children on his desk, in a business office? — Winnie

Dear Winnie: If a man has a private office, there is no reason why he should not have photographs of his wife and children on it. But if it is one of numerous other desks in a general office, it is better to keep it bare of photographs, or any other non-utilitarian articles.

Whom do you tip? When and how much? You will find the answers to these questions in my booklet, "The Etiquette of Tipping."

To get a copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Frank F. Bollinger, a veteran of 15 years' experience in theatrical management and promotion, will join the staff of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre on Aug. 1 as director of public relations. He holds a BA degree from Carnegie-Mellon University, leaves a post as publicity director of Pittsburgh's station, WTAETV, and was associated with a public relations firm specializing in theatrical accounts for a number of years.

Treat His Troublesome Memory With Understanding and a Kiss

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for three months to a wonderful man whose wife of 21 years has been dead a year. He told me there was no love between them for the last 10 years of their marriage (I didn't ask him) and they were on the verge of divorce several times.

My problem is that he talks about "Betty" all the time. No matter what we start out talking about, he has to bring "Betty" into it. (Betty's likes and dislikes and the many trips they've had together.) It's not that he is trying to make me jealous. He just can't seem to open his mouth without mentioning Betty.

I had a very unhappy first marriage of 18 years and I never mention my first husband's name.

Should I start talking about my first husband when this Betty talk begins? Or should I keep still and try to stand it? I love this man and want our marriage to last. UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: First try to understand that your husband lived for 21 years with Betty, so it is only natural that they shared many experiences, good and bad. When he's in a good mood, tell him (without anger or criticism) that you would rather not hear so much about Betty. And if he forgets, shut his flapping mouth with a kiss.

DEAR ABBY: My Mom and I disagree on something, and I would like your opinion.

My mother says I should leave the bathroom door UNLOCKED when I am taking a bath. I am 18 years old and I do not take long baths, so it's not that she's waiting to get in. (Besides, that's not the only bathroom in the house.)

Her argument is that if I were to fall and become unconscious it would take too long to get in to help me.

Yet, no one says anything to my father, and HE always locks the bathroom door when he's taking a bath. If HE were to fall he would have a harder time getting up than I because there is more of him than there is of me.

DEAR D. A. V.: My safety experts tell me that bathroom doors should remain UNLOCKED while folks are bathing, and for the reason your mother mentioned. If your father chooses to ignore the obvious common sense of this rule, shame on him.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Double Ring Rite Joins Pair Today

Sacred Heart Church, Dearborn, was the setting today for vows and an exchange of rings by Sharyn D. Kopp and Gerald R. Grens.

For the noon ceremony the daughter of the M. C. Kopp of Dearborn chose an organza skimmer accented with pearls and crystal drop motifs. A matching crown of jewels held her veiling and she carried white daisies with baby's breath.

ATTENDANTS

Nancy Sullivan attended as maid of honor with bridesmaids Nancy Burwell and Marsha Mohan. Cheryl Burwell was flower girl.

Best man honors for the son of Mrs. Kenneth Rolfe and R. A. Grens, both of Chicago, Ill., were performed by Richard Dousman with ushers Terry Stanger, Jack Burwell, Ronald Grens and Gerald Kiehe. Michael Grens was ring bearer.

Following a reception at the Piemontese Club, the couple departed for a honeymoon trip to Bermuda. They will make their home in Rolling Meadows, Ill.

Case No. G-537

'Case the Joint' First

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE G-537: Billy B., aged 11, worries his mother.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "Billy is rather timid."

"And he has been made more so by the fact my husband is a salesman who has been transferred three times since Billy entered first grade."

"That means Billy has entered three different schools, so he has never made lasting friendships."

"Last term Billy was in the lower 25 per cent of his class, so how could I help him raise his marks next term?"

BANK ROBBER

It may sound shocking, at first glance, but a good mother should use the bank robber strategy!

For such crooks thoroughly study the next bank they plan to rob.

They "case the joint," and become well acquainted with the work habits and time schedule of the employees.

You smart parents might take a lesson from them by looking ahead to the next grade your child will enter.

Find out which reading book will be used! Or speller, history text, etc.

Then obtain such books IN ADVANCE!

Nowadays, the people who reach the top need not only to be smart and industrious, but they must often "jump the gun."

This means, they must do a little scouting in advance so they are somewhat familiar with their future problems even before they face them.

You parents can zoom your child's school marks within a matter of six weeks by 15 minutes of home tutoring per day.

But sugar-coat your tutoring so it is fun.

Inject competition, too, so Junior can try to beat his daddy at identifying the printed words, taken from the school reader, which you have printed on flash cards.

10 to Accompany the Newlyweds on Honeymoon

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — When Miss Judy Hudson, a drama teacher here, marries John Keene of Salina, Kan., this summer, the couple will take 10 youngsters with them on their honeymoon.

The 10 are students of Miss Hudson. She had agreed to chaperone the youths to Europe before she became engaged.

The 10 will take a six-week university course at Exeter, England, as part of an American Institute for Foreign Study Program. The couple will live on the campus at the school and supervise the students.

They will then take them on brief trips to London, Paris and Brussels before returning to the States.

Some carpet is made in a 27-inch width for use in "runner" form on stairways. More frequently, however, carpet is cut to fit stairways from broadloom rolls in standard widths.

Padding of good quality is especially important to protect against the pounding of footsteps on stairs. However, it's best to avoid padding that is too thick or too bouncy, since a firm, taut installation is essential to stairway safety.

You can make a quick job of silking corn by using a small tool brush. You can remove all the corn silk from each ear of corn in a jiffy.

Cut strips of white cardboard, of the dropouts and seldom go to on college!

Send for my booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

And "jump the gun" on next term's problems by getting the books in advance and giving your child at least 10 per cent familiarity with them!

That head start can move a child from the bottom bracket to the top level of the scholars!

A college insurance policy is splendid but of no use to a dropout!

So make your child a top-notch scholar and he will want to enter college!

Hold up two cards at a time, but first explain what each word means. Also, point out its different appearance, as "window" vs. "door."

Shuffle your two cards and let Junior then try to identify each one while you are counting slowly to five.

Add a third card, then a fourth and fifth, etc., till you soon have given him all the strange words in his reading book.

Multiplication tables can also be presented in this same manner.

But limit each game to five or 10 minutes.

Let daddy compete and whoever names the word first, then gets to place that card in his pile. The one with the biggest pile, wins that round.

Mothers, the time to be sure your child does not drop out of school but goes on to college with flying colors, is NOW!

For children in the lower half of their class furnish most washed by hand or machine.

Lace Seam for Flexible Binding

Perfect for turning up hems on jersey knits and other fabrics is a new 3/4-inch flexible lace seam binding which allows an average hem to give up to 20 per cent.

This sheer nylon hem finish, available in many colors, is also practical, as it can be washed by hand or machine.

BALLARD-WILSON

Rev. and Mrs. William B. Ballard, (nee Taffy Sue Wilson) were joined in the Waterford Community Church parlor following their wedding ceremony, Friday, evening. Gowned in a four-tiered, floor length dress of Chantilly lace with scalloped edges, the bride's crystal crown secured an elbow length silk veil of illusion. Honor attendants were Priscilla Alden and Gilbert Carlisle. Assisting the couple were 11 additional members of the wedding party. Parents of the newlards are Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Wilson of Lessing Street and the Robert B. Ballards of Louella Street. The couple are on a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and northern Michigan.

Many of the new water-repellent finishes on cotton raincoat will take up to five dry-cleanings without having to be reprocessed.

Carpeting on Stairs Investment in Safety

You can set a price on safety: the nominal cost of carpeting your stairway, for example.

Carpet's non-slip pile surface prevents many slips and falls the home, stairways bear the brunt of traffic in most homes, and it would be foolish to skip

For safety's sake, carpet should be installed securely on stairways and kept in good condition — no worn spots or loose edges to present hazards.

Just as important as homeowners is carpet's ability to muffle noise. The clatter of footsteps on stairs, the airborne noises that float up and down — both are effectively hushed by carpet.

Add the comfort of a carpeted stairway for busy homemakers who go up and down the steps many times a day — and it's easy to see why carpet is nearly always installed in this important area.

New Product a Real 'Bust'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Can a special exercise device entice large women's busts?

The California Bureau of Food and Drug Inspection says no, and seized a shipment of the exercisers March 28, charging they were sold by misleading advertising.

Five women who used the exercisers said yes recently in testimony which will be continued in Alameda County Superior Court on Monday.

"We've sold hundreds of thousands of these for $9.95 each," testified Jack Feather, "and we want the ban lifted."

He heads 20 West Coast health spas and sells pink plastic clamp-shaped devices that women hold in front of them in a praying position and push together.

"I even had to throw away all my old brassieres," Michele Calvert, 20, told Judge Spurgeon Avakian.

At least 24 "before and after" brassieres have been submitted as evidence.

Dr. Carl Goetsch, a Berkeley gynecologist, said bust measurements can be changed in some ways. He said a woman could gain two inches by simply taking a deep breath.

Dr. Henry J. Ralston, San Francisco physiologist, said the device could "change the contour and the measurements of the bust line."

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Ann, to James W. Smith are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Allen of Airway Road. James is the son of Mrs. Cleo Smith of Airway Road and the late Cleo Smith.

On the Move

12 Addresses in 11 Years

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

With 12 addresses in 11 years, you might call the John M. Stanleys a young family on the move. And being on the move, Mrs. Stanley appreciates the easy movability of contemporary furniture. "Both my husband and I like the clean-cut lines of contemporary," said Mrs. Stanley.

In the formal living room, against a background of beige walls and carpeting and white draperies, Mrs. Stanley uses persimmon, black and gold, softening the stark lines by adding the warmth of color.

An advocate of the living-green theory so praised by many professional decorators, she has incorporated a thriving tropical plant into the room's decor. Its glossy, deep green leaves introduce additional texture and color interest.

SINGLE LEAF

"When I bought that plant at a flower show over 10 years ago," said Mrs. Stanley, "it had only one leaf."

Highlighting the walnut coffee table in front of the persimmon sofa is an arrangement of candles and grapes in avocado green, gold, persimmon, blue and brown.

Hand-carved walnut water lilies dominate the pie-shaped table between the sofa and the tall-backed gold chair. "My sister sent them to be as a Christmas present from Manila," said Mrs. Stanley.

A pole lamp lights the black leather armchair in front of the beige brick fireplace.

DOUBLE-FACED

"It's a double-faced fireplace," said Mrs. Stanley. "One side is in the living room, the other in the family room. The lowered doors between the two rooms make it possible to separate them."

"A great idea for entertaining," she continued. "We let the children have the family room while the adults claim the living room."

The family room modifies the contemporary mood slightly by using an Early-American print on a Boston rocker in front of the fireplace. On the room's black sofa, color detail is emphasized by throw pillows in persimmon, aqua and a red-and-gold plaid.

A mosaic table serving the red leather chair was made by Mrs. Stanley.

Another example of her creative ability is the yarn wall hanging in the dining room. The rounds of yarn stress the colors in the background fabric which is a duplicate of the chair cushions.

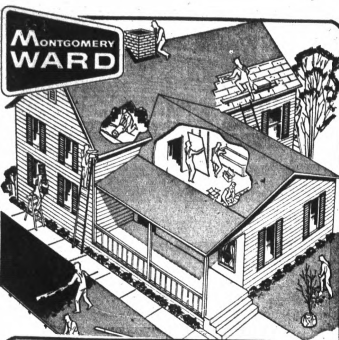

The round table in the corner covered in forest-green felt holds a silver coffee service and avocado candles. A green and blue cloth in an abstract print covers the dining table.

FOR THE BOYS — Here's an interesting idea for a child's room based on a cub scout theme. The built-in bunk beds are decorated with a canvas canopy attached to real tree trunks. Area at right serves as a combination study and hobby area for two boys.

Give the Kids

A Room of Their Own

There are two sure-fire ways to keep active, growing youngsters from tearing up the house. Either insist that they let off steam outdoors, or else give them a room of their own that's specially designed to take hard treatment.

Since the first alternative involves the uncertainties of weather, it's usually a better idea to invest in a separate playroom. Besides saving wear and tear on the rest of the house, a playroom gives youngsters a place in which they can do the things they want in their own way.

Eventually, kids will grow to appreciate such a room for the freedom it offers, and will take increasing pride and responsibility in seeing that it's kept in good order. Thus, the room becomes an important step in their growth process.

Actually, the term "playroom" is misleading. Children need more than just a place to spread out their toys. A well-designed room for children should also serve as a parlor where friends may be entertained; a study where young minds can grow; a museum for treasured possessions; and an "activities center" where each child can develop his latent talents and creative interests apart from the distractions of the adult world.

REFLECT CHILD

The location of the room isn't important. It may be combined with the child's sleeping quarters, or, if space is limited, it can be in the basement or attic. What is important is the decor and furnishing of the room. The decorative theme should reflect the interests of the child himself, and the furnishings should be carefully chosen for practicality as well as good looks.

Don't try to second-guess the youngsters on design. Have them take an active part in planning the room and they're almost certain to be pleased with the final result.

Perhaps there's an active cub scout in the family. If so, an interesting scouting theme can be achieved by using heavy canvas to create a "tent canopy" over a set of bunk beds. Or if the youngster is a sports enthusiast, try accentuating one wall with large color photographs of professional athletes in action.

Whatever theme you choose, make certain that the room is equipped with a sturdy, easy-to-clean floor. Toddlers and teens alike have a penchant for roughhouse, and anything less than a heavy-duty floor covering is soon likely to be worn to a frazzle. Kids also need a sanitary surface to play on, and this calls for a material that won't attract and harbor dust or dirt.

NO SEAMS

Vinyl sheet flooring is ideal since it can be installed virtually without seams. Its smooth, dense surface won't absorb spills and stains, and the floor never needs expensive professional shampooing or refinishing. Vinyl is easily cleaned with a damp mop and it's tough enough to take most any punishment that kids can dish out.

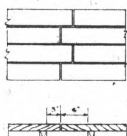

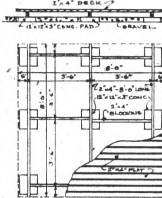

Many sheet vinyl floors today can be installed directly over an existing floor without removing the old material. For the do-it-yourselfer, there's a new sheet vinyl flooring, made in 12-foot widths, that can be installed without adhesives at any grade level, even on basement concrete. This new vinyl flooring, called Castilian, cuts and trims easily and in areas 12 feet wide or less, provides a totally seamless surface.

If the children's playroom is located on the upper floor of a bi-level house, it may be wise to consider cushioned vinyl flooring to help muffle the sound of footsteps and dropped objects. These new foam-backed cushioned floors act and feel very much like carpeting underfoot, but they offer the superior durability and easy maintenance of vinyl.

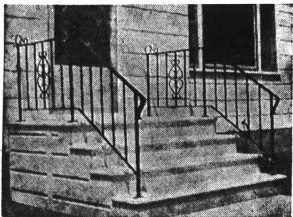

Quality cushioned vinyl costs a bit more than conventional sheet vinyl flooring, but the superb comfort, quiet and warmth of these materials underfoot makes them well worth the small added investment.

One other essential ingredient for a child's room is lots of storage space. The more built-in shelving and drawer space provided, the better the chance of the room staying neat and orderly.

NOT DIFFICULT — Deck's easy to build with 2x4 joists laid on concrete pads, 2x4 deck boards on top. Bottom sketches show staggered joint possible when edge joists of adjoining squares share row of foundation pads.

Avoid Decorating Doldrums

Time for Change, Claim Women

By VIVIAN BROWN

(P) Newsfeatures Writer

Look for a house quake in architectural treatments and interior design. Suddenly, it is fall house fever. Everyone seems to have had his fill of whatever "look" he's been heir to.

What is causing the sudden dissatisfaction with our homes and the urge to do something, a group of women wondered the other day. All their neighbors feel the same way.

For one thing, they established homes at the end of World War II.

"It takes just that long to get bored," said one. The consensus of four women was they had all sort of been waiting for something to happen, now they'd "had it" and wanted to burst out of their shells.

DREARY

Their homes had been looking drearier and drearier. Now they were facing up to it.

It boiled down to — "if I could do it all over again — and then — why not?"

One woman wants to rip out all walls on the first floor of her home and have one big room. Why? "It just looks to me that the walls are old-fashioned," she says. "They seem to be containing us."

She has the feeling that she is caged. She loves good weather when she can go outdoors, and she'd like the spatial feeling all the year.

She might even go for a modern house.

OP ART

But another woman decided that her problem was just the reverse. She has been living in a modern house, surrounded by "op." "pop." African chairs, cubes, masks on her walls, and she's had it.

"Now I'm ready to put a wall where I have a room divider. And I'd like a good piece of traditional furniture to provide warmth. I'd like one transparent painting instead of art that looks like it has been struck by lightning."

Her husband is going to put up an inexpensively paneled wall where they now have a room divider and she'll have a dining room and kitchen separate from the living area, so she won't feel like a "goldfish in a window" when she is working in the kitchen.

An unmarried career woman who keeps a fashionable duplex apartment in the city says that she is "fed up with gold damask, traditional art and formality" that she experiences with her beautiful French and English antiques.

"I want to do something terribly dramatic — I'd like to find a fabric with roses the size of cabbages and cover everything with it. I'd like to have some beautiful abstract art... with every color of the rainbow..."

AVANT-GARDE

Instead of haunting antiques shops for Georgian silver and Waterford glass on her vacation, she plans to haunt studios of avant-garde designers to see their sculpture, paintings, "although I'm afraid I could never go for the furniture," she says.

The other member of the group was one up on the three — she had already burst out of her cocoon in one way — she had put an extra sitting room to her house merely by enclosing a screened-in porch.

It was a solution to "Where can the teenagers entertain when we have our own friends here?"

This idea was a compromise — they could afford an architect's plan that would have put a new room between their house and garage. They'll have four college tuitions to pay before long.

Plants in Tubs Beautify Deck

Any outdoor living area acquires charm from its relationship to the garden. And, when you build a deck, it's easy to incorporate garden into the structure.

For instance, you can plant a garden right on it by building the deck four to six feet wider than is needed for living space. Then fill that area with planting tubs of various sizes and shapes.

Some tubs can contain annuals for summer color, but should be used for a permanent planting of hardy, easy-care shrubs.

A small tree could even be included. Design this planting with as much care as you'd design any major shrub bed, and its beauty will reward you year-around.

OPEN SPACE

If the deck is built close to the ground, leave open space in its center for a planting stage.

That area can be enclosed planter style to make a raised bed encircled by a seating bench, or it can be raised just to the level of the deck flooring.

It's equally effective to leave the planting stage at ground level and fill it with berry-producing evergreens like skimmia, cotoneaster, pernettya, or holly.

Never remove a healthy tree to make way for a deck, just build around it, allowing enough space around its trunk for growth and watering.

Screen Rescues Homely House

A tall screen built in the front yard can conceal a homely house front and create an interesting entrance courtyard.

It can be built with cedar 2x4s set edge out between top and bottom rails and spaced six inches apart.

An interesting pattern develops with short 2x4 pieces, inserted crosswise between the she figures that some fresh slipcovers, paint and refinished table tops might put her back on the rejuvenation road.

Until next year at the same time," she says.

"My home seems to have reached the point of disintegration. Everything is going at once — carpets, slipcovers, upholstery, table tops. We need repainting everywhere, and it is all happening at the wrong time."

"I want to get something contemporary to break up the monotony of Victorian, French, English, early American and everything else. I have a hideous desire to sell everything we own and start over."

In less emotional moments, she figures that some fresh slipcovers, paint and refinished table tops might put her back on the rejuvenation road.

Until next year at the same time," she says.

Automatic Lighting Wins Public Favor

Lights that automatically turn on at dusk and turn off at dawn are becoming increasingly popular with both homeowners and police because they discourage around the house as they are prowlers and thieves by on streets and highways eliminating dark areas between street lights, he said.

That's the prediction of Wagner Electric Corporation's Tung-Sol Lighting division here, a major manufacturer of light-sensitive photoelectric units that are widely used to turn street lights on and off.

"Automatically-controlled lights of various types already are being installed as standard equipment in many homes being built today and for reasons of safety and beauty, we expect this trend to increase in the next few years," said William M. J. Miehle, vice president and general manager of Tung-Sol.

Lawn, porch, flood and inside dusk-to-dawn lights now are the most widespread residential applications for photoelectric controls, Miehle said. In addition to "dressing up" a house, such

25-YEARS OLD

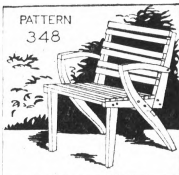

Wiehl said that photoelectric controls have been used by utility companies for about 25 years to turn street lights on and off. One photoelectric unit can be used to control a single light or a large number of lights, he said.

The device has a small, sensitive "eye" that accurately measures outdoor light intensity and "tells" the light when it is dark enough to go on and light enough to go off. Because each street light is individually controlled, there is no possibility that an entire city or section will be blacked out through failure of a single control switch, Wiehl said.

He said that a typical photoelectric control is about the size and shape of an inverted coffee cup. In street light applications the control usually is installed atop the lamp housing, with its "eye" facing north to get an average light reading.

A new miniaturized control is particularly well suited to residential use, because its small size enables it to be easily concealed in a lamp housing or post so as not to detract from its appearance, Wiehl said. The new control, called the "Watcher," is only one-inch wide, one-inch deep and two-inches high, less than a third the size of earlier models.

Because it is manufactured to meet exacting utility company standards for reliability and long life, the control is virtually impervious to temperature changes, corrosion, vibration or vandalism, Wiehl said.

EASY TO MOVE, light and graceful these chairs with matching table are just the thing for outdoors or a recreation room. They are made from stock sizes of lumber and construction is simple. Patterns 348 and 249, which give actual-size guides and directions, are 35 cents each. They are in the Garden Furniture Packet No. 60 with two other patterns — all for $1. The Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 50, New Windsor, N.Y. 12550.

Money spent by families on home improvements total about $12 billion annually.

Ceiling Paneling Eases Stark Walls

Like stark white walls? They are nice with today's jewel-colored furniture fabrics.

But if walls are white, the ceiling needs extra design attention to keep the room from becoming a cell-like cube.

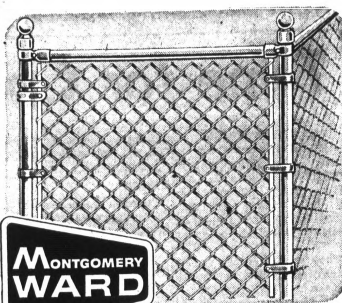

Paneling the ceiling with western lumber — fir, pine, hemlock — is one excellent and easy solution.

The lumber panel boards add texture, warmth, and that needed touch of elegance.

Fir and Cedar Tops for Seats

Douglas fir or cedar 2x3s are a good material to use for garden bench seats.

Run them lengthwise, leaving only enough spacing between boards to permit rain drainage.

Gall Aphids Hit Spruce, Fir Trees

Both Cooley and Eastern spruce gall aphids are in the gall stage now. Immature nymphs of Cooley gall aphid are feeding on the new growth of both spruce and Douglas fir. Yellow blotches and bands on new growth of fir are now apparent from the feeding of the aphids. They appear as white cottony patches on the needles.

Green galls on spruce can be opened and small aphids may be seen active inside them. New Best control is achieved by spraying for the adults. Damage can be reduced now by spraying spruce and Douglas fir for nymphs feeding there and picking off as many green galls as possible. Spray with Lindane 55 per cent wettable powder, 1 TB-gal.

It takes only a little sense to avoid forest fires, but a lot of dollars to put them out.

PLEASANT VIEW — Fireplaced portion of living room is two steps down from adjacent dining room with wrought iron wing rail. Dining room adjoins screened porch via sliding glass doors. (See story on Page B-6.)

Colorful Screens Are Available

Homeowners with damaged uniform in finish and the colors themselves can get the aluminum screening in colors at hardware stores and building materials suppliers. Each of the three colors in experiencing a gradual loss of aluminum screening are body hair.

Protect Hair-Do

The homemaker living in an air-conditioned house will find that her hairdo and cosmetics will keep presentable longer during the summer swelter. Her clothes will not wrinkle or soil so quickly, either.

Clean Heat Is Important

The most vexing part of a housewife's routine, to the surprise of no one in particular, is keeping the house clean. Many housewives, according to a recent nation-wide survey, blame their home heating systems for a good deal of the dirt and dust that accumulates in the house. Clean and maintenance-free heat is their first concern when selecting a heating system.

Many of the complaints centered on the fact that some heating systems utilize fans or blowers which, they felt, spread dust and dirt throughout the house. Others felt the fuel was to blame for the dirt streaks often found on walls near heating registers.

A properly installed heating system does not create dirt. Daily home activities (cooking, tracking dirt in from outside) are responsible. However, dust and dirt can be stirred up by the heating system if it blows or moves air about the house too forcefully.

Additionally, air movement increases as the air is heated, and a faulty heating unit operating at excessively high temperatures will "pick up" a greater amount of the dirt and dust and deposit it on walls, draperies and furniture.

One of the cleanest heating units is hydronic (hot water) baseboard because it operates at moderate temperatures and circulates the air gently.

Forty-five per cent of the one-family homes built in 1966 sold for less than $20,000.

Baffle in Yard Gives Privacy

If a large picture window on the street side of your house endangers privacy, build a baffle in front of the window.

When set closer to the house than to the street, you can use a pattern open enough to let you see out without others seeing in.

Sometimes a single baffle eight feet long will do the trick. If not, use three in an offset line, their ends overlapping two feet.

For pattern, try a variation on the vertical board fence, alternating 1x4-inch boards with 1x2s set edge out. Leave a half-inch spacing between boards for an effect both airy and crisp.

Some Hues Hold Better on Wood

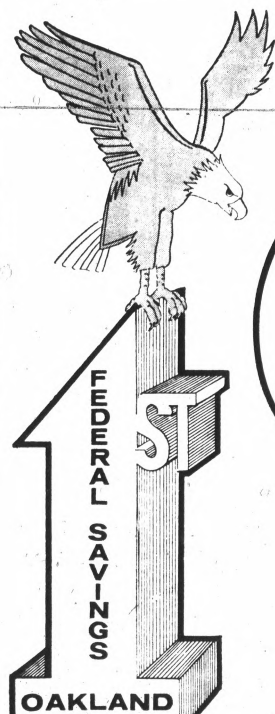

Do you plan to stain a fence or the house siding? Some colors weather better than others.

In wood tones, yellow-brown, gray-brown and black-brown stains are preferable to the red-browns, which often turn purplish.

Smooth Edges

In addition to a wide variety of flat ceramic tiles, American manufacturers produce trim units that round off edges and turn corners.

Frigradaire, manufacturer of the first self-contained room air conditioner in 1929, is now the world's largest producer of automobile air conditioners.

If Soffits Dreary, Nail Up Battens

Have you ever thought of decorating the soffit under the roof eaves?

It may not be an area of vital design concern, but if you're annoyed by its unimaginative appearance, a dress-up can be accomplished in rapid order.

Just nail 1x2-inch fir battens directly to the soffit's underside, running them from house wall to fascia and spacing them apart to get whatever effect pleases you.

Finish the battens with stain for minimum upkeep.

Wood Items Are Graded

Lumber items are graded either for appearance value or for strength value.

Top-grade appearance lumber has no knots and is specified for paneling, cabinetwork and house siding.

Framing lumber — studs, joists, rafters and so forth — is rated for strength, rather than beauty.

White curtain linings or venetian blinds will reflect about 25 to 35 per cent of the sun's heat back through clear glass, thereby reducing your air conditioning load.

Fix Up Summer Cottage

Fixing up a summer cottage greater enjoyment in the years while on vacation proved to be to come.

A good investment for a family, alterations were minor. Dad finished walls, year after year, and the boys removed a part. By spending half days, Dad and the boys surfaced the open and two teen-age sons paneled the interior without sacrificing Masonite. Royalcoite wood-swimming, fishing and other grained hardwood.

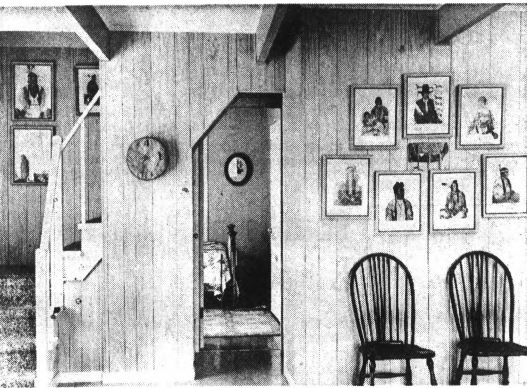

The panels were put up right and improved the property for over the studs, which first were trued up. The trio used a put-up these random-grooved panels, and Mom's enthusiastic because they are so easy to keep clean — a seasonal once-over with a damp cloth.

For variety, the vacationing craftsmen included some Peg-Board panels in strategic locations — the kitchen, for utensils; near the entrance for hanging coats and sweaters; in the sleeping areas to serve as exposed closets. Here, too, prefinished panels were used to eliminate periodic refinishing.

Most vacation cottages can be fixed up easily. Lumber dealers will be glad to advise on your plans. Modern materials like Masonite Royalcoite paneling can easily prove there's a lot of life left in an old building.

If exteriors need a face-lift, the simplest way is to cover the present siding with a rustic-looking hardboard.

BRIGHT AND SHINY — Your vacation cabin can have the appearance and comforts of home — a restful, refreshing haven to restore you in body and spirit. Why have dismal, stud walls in your second home when you can face-lift it as shown in this building? It was transformed by Dad and two teen-age sons, who devoted part of their vacation time to the project.

Paint Tips for Plastered Walls

Plaster is one of the most applied directly to a solid wall. This chalk should be thoroughly such as brick, tile, etc., a removed by vigorous brushing.

Too rapid drying of the plaster can also cause "dry-out" areas. These can generally be remedied by spraying the area with a solution of two hardware store to get an accurate reading of the degree of moisture still present in the plaster. The spraying process may be repeated as necessary.

Spongy areas may be detected on the plaster as a result of prolonged drying under high humidity conditions. These both high and low, on the walls, areas are known as "sweat outs" and if the area is large, determining only the condition of the wall surface — water still inside the plaster will continue to come out.

DIFFERENT DENSITY
"Suction spots" are the consequence of non-uniform troweling. The density of the plaster in these areas is different from the rest of the wall. Paint applied to walls with uneven absorption will have uneven gloss and sometimes uneven color intensity. "Suction spots" require an extra coat or two of primer to allow the finishing coat of paint to appear uniform over all areas.

"Efflorescence" is the formation of crystals on the surface of a newly-plastered wall. These are formed by soluble salts in the plaster being carried to the surface by water where they form crystals.

Efflorescence crystals are not usually present; however, if they occur, they should be brushed off. If more do not form in a few days, it is not likely that they will reoccur.

These problems are abnormal and are not present in the great majority of new plaster jobs. Being able to recognize them when they do occur can prevent later paint failures. Once they've been corrected, you're ready to apply your favorite quality paint according to its label directions.

Flower Beds Need Setting

Flower beds need a good backdrop to set them off. A white-painted fence can be exquisite if the condition of paint is kept immaculate. But weathered cedar and exterior stains in natural wood tones are equally good, and require little maintenance.

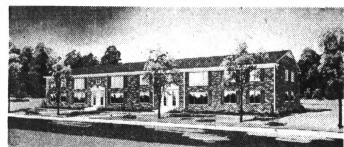

Comfort Factor

In addition to the comfort factor, air conditioning will keep the house cleaner in the summer. Incoming air not only is cooled but filtered. Because doors and windows remain closed, there is less infiltration of dust and grime.

The mere fact that I am an actor would indicate that I enjoy this, and naturally I do, but it's a funny thing the way the sudden public recognition changes how you are treated not only by the fans, but by your fellow actors, directors, producers and even your family.

For example before I was in this series going to a movie was no big thing. I'd just get in my car, drive to the theater and buy a ticket. Now if I stand in line to buy a ticket people ask for autographs, stare, poke each other and ask, "What's he doing standing in line?" It really becomes kind of uncomfortable.

So as a result now I call the theater and say I want to cut and see the picture, but that I don't want to stand in the box-office line impeding the orderly sale of tickets. Usually they say, "Just come right to the door and we'll collect your money there."

A LITTLE SILLY

Things changed after the first year of the series. Now nobody on the set comes up and says, "Hi, Bill. How are you?" I find that I have to walk up to them and say hello first. It's all a little silly, but there is a definite change in the way people treat anyone who happens to be lucky enough to be in a hit series.

Even directors are inclined now to suggest rather than tell you how they want a scene played. I used to be, "Bill, in this scene I want you to do this and so." Now the approach seems to be, "Bill, how do you want to do the scene this way?"

Producers seem to be affected in the same way. Used to be they'd call, if I were lucky, and say, "Bill, I've got a role in this picture that you might fit." They would then pause and wait for me to jump at the job offer. Now that approach is, "I don't really think you'd be interested in this role, but..."

I never had any trouble at airports with people wanting to rip my necktie or even jacket off prior to "Star Trek." Waiters, bellhops and porters are another whole bag. I used to go out for dinner and get a respectable 15 per cent. No more. If the attention they lavish on me now isn't repaid by at least 20 to 25 per cent, I get the distinct feeling they think I'm a young Jack Benny.

Still another, and more shocking change in attitude is within my own family. Not my immediate family, but with cousins, aunts and uncles with whom I grew up. Last year I was in Montreal for a large family gathering.

"I'm not 'Billy' to them any more. Some of them even asked me for autographs for their children. That is ridiculous. I'm the same kid that used to steal apples from the trees and let air out of tires and all the mischievous things all kids do as they grow up. I've known these people all my life and suddenly now there is a distance between us that was never there before."

Brezhnev to Commit Unforgivable Sin?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
In the Communist world there is an unforgivable sin called "adventurism." It means biting off more than one can chew, starting something one can't finish and thus causing a setback for the party.

A leader such as Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Soviet Communist party, does not commit "adventurism" simply by trying to stop the liberalization process in Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia.

News Analysis

But he can commit "adventurism" if he fails, if the Soviet party loses face and has to retreat. The crime in adventurism is failure. It could start a man even as powerful as Brezhnev on the slow downward trail taken by his predecessor, Nikita S. Khrushchev.

In the words of Alexander Dubcek, reformist chief of the Communists in Czechoslovakia, that country is "resolved to continue the policy which was begun by the January session of the Central Committee," despite Soviet pressure against it. January was the beginning of a revolt against the hard-nosed orthodox Communists who made a mess of Czechoslovakia's economy and who never wholly shed their Stalinist habits.

COMMITTED

Brezhnev has committed himself openly to forcing a change in that Dubcek policy. Perhaps he has already overreached himself, placing the Soviet Union in the position of carrying through all the way of backing down.

To carry through all the way in the face of Czechoslovak delinquency could require the use of naked force, a development which in today's circumstances not only would be dangerous to peace but would surely contribute to the further splintering of the international Communist camp. To accept a compromise, however, would be interpreted as a defeat for the Kremlin's claim to over-all authority over what it calls "Socialist" development.

Developments of the past several years, culminating in the current crisis, make observers wonder whether the Kremlin leaders are repeating the sort of things which caused Khrushchev, by the fiat of those who overthrew him, to be denounced as a bungler and adventurist.

The kind of trouble Khrushchev had with Red China was the sort Brezhnev now is having not only with China, but in some respects with Czechoslovakia, Romania, Yugoslavia and some influential parties outside the orbit.

SITUATION MORE DIFFICULT
Khrushchev tried hard to concoct a world Communist meeting which would reassert Krenin leadership over the whole movement and condemn all dissidents. Brezhnev reversed that enterprise as a Khrushchev blunder.

Now Brezhnev is trying to arrange a world Communist meeting for Nov. 25 in even more difficult circumstances, against resistance from parties making up 40 per cent of all the world's Communists.

In Czechoslovakia's case, Kremlin leaders seem to have committed Soviet power to a significant and palpable victory over the liberalizers. They have portrayed developments as threatening the security of the whole Red camp. They accuse in the face of Czechoslovak delinquency, Prague leaders of "seeking a new orientation" of Czechoslovakia toward the West.

Last week, Pravda claimed to have discovered an elaborate plot by NATO and the American CIA to "liberate" Czechoslovakia and East Germany, to boot. In Czechoslovakia, said Pravda, the plotters would use "the section of the population comprising the members of the Czechoslovak Communist party and persons who sympathize."

SYMPATHETIC ATTITUDE

"In the opinion of the plan's compilers," it said, "some people will remain passive and, under certain conditions, could adopt a sympathetic attitude with regard to the Western powers. This is what the authors of the plan are mainly counting on."

West Germany, Pravda said, was in on the deal, which represented "the extremely dangerous nature of the policy, propaganda, ideological diversions and military preparations of the NATO bloc, which is an instrument of the aggressive desires of U.S. imperialism and the revenge-seeking of the German Federal Republic."

Napa Valley Feels Threat of Bulldozers

By National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — The Napa Valley has survived pestilence and prohibition but now faces its greatest threat — bulldozers.

The fertile valley north of San Francisco produces some of the best wine grapes in the United States. Connoisseurs say that Napa Valley's fine table wines rank with the best in the world.

Robert Louis Stevenson, who spent his honeymoon in the valley in 1880, called Napa wine "bottled poetry."

About 50 miles long, Napa Valley reaches north from San Pablo Bay to the foot of 4,243-foot Mount St. Helena. Its greatest width is less than four miles.

Because of its proximity to San Francisco, the population of Napa County has more than doubled in the past 10 years. Bulldozers have uprooted vines and housing developments sprout in their place.

County officials recently created an agricultural preserve encompassing 26,000 acres to protect the vineyards. The move has been challenged, however, and some of the valley's vines are endangered.

Racial Bloodbath Averted —Cleveland Negro Leaders

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A mob to patrol the streets Wednesday night with National Guardsmen and white police withdrawn.

Reduced law enforcement patrols reported few incidents Friday night, even though Stokes pushed back the start of curfew to midnight to let slum residents enjoy part of their usual Friday night out.

The week might have ended with far more than three policemen and seven civilians dead, they said, had they not been allowed a 24-hour cooling off period.

minished the amount of property loss. . . . Psychologically, a guy is much saner after 24 hours than when his comrade is lying dead," he said, referring to both the Negro and the white sides.

Picard said a representative group of the peacekeeping forces, ranging from Negro businessmen and ministers to black nationalists, met Friday to see what they could do to help Stokes.

Stokes, who made two trips into the six-square-mile East Side trouble zone Friday to ask for citizen cooperation, ordered all city flags to be flown at half staff in honor of the slain policeman.

NOTES OF CONDOLENCE

He and his wife sent notes of condolence to each of the three families, all of whom will hold their own, private funeral services.

Fred Ahmed Evans, the bearded black nationalist charged with murder, remained in Cuyahoga County jail under $250,000 bond.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, in a copyright story, said truck driver William H. McMillan, the first man shot in Tuesday night's sniper battle, identified Evans as the man who fired a carbine slug still in his body.

Police and guardsmen raided two hotels and Evans' home in neighborhoods frequented by black nationalists in search of weapons Friday.

MANY FOUND

Capt. George Sperber, head of the police intelligence unit, said they found rifles and bloody bandages at one hotel, and about 15 weapons at the home, including shotguns and assorted single shot and fully automatic rifles.

Japanese doctors have developed an electrical sense of touch more sensitive in some cases than that of a human hand.

STOKES IN THE STREETS — Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes is surrounded by teenagers in a visit to that city's Glenville area yesterday.

Ten persons — seven Negroes and three white policemen — were killed there Tuesday night in a sniper outburst.

Sniper Suspect Played Part in Poverty Program

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Fred Ahmed Evans, the black nationalist leader charged with murder in the slaying of three policemen in Tuesday's sniper battle, was responsible for administering $10,300 of Cleveland Now money, an antipoverty official said.

The Rev. DeForest Brown, president of the Hough Development Corp., said he knows of no guns purchased by Evans. Brown said Evans was given a $31,000 grant July 27 from funds of Cleveland Now, an antipoverty organization.

Brown said the money was to be used for a 12-week program which would employ 23 youth and about 12 young adults and designed to reach about 600 young people between 15 and 18.

TO BUY EQUIPMENT

"He was to be responsible for administering $10,300 to buy equipment and carry-out redecoration.

"He was given $2,100 for the redecoration. He also received $450 in pay and hired 15 other persons. At the time of the shooting, expenses totaled $6,903 and there is still $3,397 left of the original grant to Evans.

"He spent some of the money he received on equipment. I have seen sewing machines purchased, fabrics to be worked on, a station wagon, and paint . . . and they restored an old bar and made it into a clean store."

NOT FOR ARMS

"I was not aware and I am still not aware that Evans used this money to buy arms," he added.

Dean Olstrum, chairman of the Mayor's Committee for Youth Opportunity, which granted the $31,000 to the Hough Development Corp., said the money was to be used to build four centers.

He said the centers were to be for cultural and historic activities.

Fortas Controversy Growing More Vocal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversy over President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice is growing more vocal even though formal Senate debate and a possible filibuster are more than a month away.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, told the Senate Friday that Fortas, since becoming a member of the high court in 1965, has joined in a series of decisions that have "practically destroyed" community moral standards.

Miller's comments followed statements earlier in the week by several members of the Senate Judiciary Committee that Ramsey Clark for saying senators wanted all committee reports trying to block confirmation are motivated by political partisanship and opposition to civil rights.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, only Negro member of the Senate, demanded that Clark apologize. He said Clark's statements in an interview were without justification and an unfair attack on Republicans opposing the nomination.

Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., joined in Brooke's indictment of Clark's remarks.

"Unfair and unworthy... press relations blackmail, an attack on the integrity of the Senate," said Pearson, who is not one of the 19 GOP senators who signed a statement saying they would vote against any Supreme Court nomination submitted by Johnson before he leaves office.

Cooper called Clark's remarks "wholly unfair... a most reprehensible method of attack."

However, both Brooke and Cooper said they still intend to vote to confirm Fortas.

"SOME ARE SENSITIVE" Clark later issued a statement saying "some Republicans appear highly sensitive about the awkward coalition which joins senators from their party with some Southern Democrats in a minority effort" to block confirmation.

"It is difficult to see how anyone who followed the protracted hearings can say opposition to civil rights is not a major element in the opposition..." Clark added.

Clark said he had not said that all the opponents are opposed to advances in civil rights. "I know this is not so," he said.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a leader in the administration fight to win Fortas' confirmation, told a reporter he thought the outburst over Clark's remarks was due to a misunderstanding.

OTHER CONCERN He appeared more concerned about the continuing attacks on Fortas' record in obscenity cases.

The attacks have focused in part on a 5-4 decision of the Supreme Court, in which Fortas joined, reversing a ruling in California that a 14-minute strip-tease film entitled "07" was hardcore pornography.

"In my opinion, it is a dirty movie," Hart said, "but the gross returns in September from a recess for next month's national political conventions, teeing freedom of speech) is what is involved here."

He said "the difficulty created by the 1st Amendment is made clear by the variety of approaches the court has felt compelled to take" in ruling on obscenity cases.

MIDDLE GROUND Deputy Atty. Gen. Warren Christopher, in testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee, credited Fortas with taking a middle ground in what he called these difficult cases.

Hart is among the committee members who have viewed the "07" film. Although plans are to show it to the entire committee before it votes on Fortas, no action by the committee or the Senate is likely until after Congress returns in September.

Bengals Find Needed Relief in Baltimore

CLOSING IN—The hole that was opened, closed in a hurry as white-shirted defensive players of the Detroit Lions ganged up on the runner Bobby Felts. The Lions' new lineman Dan Siemanski (67) starts the tackle while Ron Goovert (67), John McCambridge (88) and

Wayne Rasmussen (47) move in to assist on the play. Bill Munson (19) is the quarterback in the far left and No. 66 is offensive guard Bob Kowalkowski. Under their heels is flanker John Robinson (49). The offense scored twice, but on the basis of a unique point system set up 11 years ago in the first scrimmage, the defense would have been a 13-12 winner last night

Orioles' Rally 'Whiffed' Out by Patterson

BALTIMORE (AP) — If the youngsters in the Detroit Tigers' bullpen are going to wilt, it will take more pressure than a bases-loaded, none-out situation in July.

That's what rookie reliever Daryl Patterson faced when he came out of the bullpen Friday night with the Tigers ahead of the Baltimore Orioles 2-0.

The 24-year-old right-hander, who represented the last move by Detroit Manager Mayo Smith in a battle of strategy with Baltimore's Earl Weaver, then proceeded to strike out the side.

Detroit went on to win 4-1, increasing its American League lead over runner-up Baltimore to 6½ games. Smith, letting the clichés fall where they may, deadpanned "The first game of a series is always the big one."

POPPING BACK

Weaver, not to be outdone in the postgame war of trifle phrases, said: "We popped back against Detroit and we popped back against Cleveland. I feel we were going to pop back again."

The Orioles took three of four from Detroit last weekend and followed with two of three from the Indians, both times after losing the opener.

Earl Wilson, with an 18.6 lifetime mark against Baltimore, was hurling a shutout when an ailing left knee sent him to the bench in the sixth after Mark Belanger singled and he threw two balls to Frank Robinson.

Jon Warden came in and finished the walk to Robinson and slugger Boog Powell sent the home crowd of 35,627 into a frenzy by beating out a bunt to load the bases.

Then came the managerial maneuvering. Weaver replaced left-handed swingman Ellie Hendricks with righty Curt Motton, causing Smith to remove southpaw Warden in favor of Patterson, a right-hander.

Weaver came right back with Fred Valentine, a switch-hitter.

"When you have a shot to win the game," Weaver said, "you have to take it. Sometimes you don't get another chance. I figured one of our guys would get a hit."

EIGHT STRIKES

The first pitch from Patterson was a ball. Then he threw eight consecutive strikes to retire Valentine and Brooks Robinson and get an 0-2 jump on Dave Johnson. Six were swinging strikes with nary a foul tip.

Patterson then tried to nibble the corners before getting Johnson on a called 3-2 pitch. He later yielded an eighth-inning homer to Powell.

Dick McAuliffe, who singled to drive in one of Detroit's two runs off loser Jim Hardin, 1-2, in the fifth, doubled to launch a two-run rally off Eddie Watt in the eighth.

We are Pontiac area young people... ranging in age from 16 to 21. We have listed our work qualifications with Youthpower, Inc., a non-profit organization which helps young people find the summer jobs which we often need to continue our education. Youthpower is sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Area Jaycees and Manpower of Pontiac, Inc.

Our application cards are on file in the Youthpower office. When you call and place an order for a young person to work at your home or business, the volunteers who staff Youthpower check the files and find the best qualified young person closest to the job.

As soon as a job is available for us, Youthpower calls and asks us to contact you, the employer, and arrange for an interview.

Youthpower is really a very simple, clearing house type operation. It's designed to save you, the employer, the expense of running an advertisement, and the time of interviewing dozens of young people who do not have the exact qualification you want.

If only everyone would find just one job... full time, part time or one time only... that could be handled by a young person, the summer unemployment problem would be solved.

Don't you please help us spend a worthwhile summer by calling

Youthpower today?

To anyone who bought a second car in the last month: Pity.

If only you had waited a little longer! Because now there's America—the first car designed to be a second car.

With a price that makes it the lowest-priced car with an automatic transmission.

When it comes to buying an old-style second car, there's a new adage: he who hesitates is saved.

Pa Rahts, Mom Bahs for All-Star Game

The Chicago All-Star Game is a good omen. At least it's a good omen for the man fan who knows when it comes the football season is just behind. The All-Star Game, for the last three years, has given the man fan his first season's peek at the Green Bay Packers, who will be looking for their fourth straight championship this year.

ABC will televise the College All-Star Game Friday, starting at 9:30 p.m. on Channel 7.

For the gal fan the All-Star Game is her first chance to get back into the groove of football watching, which may mean streamlining the half-time routine in the kitchen or dreaming up new excuses to escape to a neighbor's for mah jog or canasta.

It takes a good plan and serious organizing to arrange for wining and dining your television assemblage and to complete the refueling in the few minutes before the second half kickoff.

Cooking connected with the gridiron actually requires plenty of savvy: imagine an uninitiated wife leaving at the two-minute warning (two minutes before the end of the game) to cook a minute steak.

When with time-outs the last two minutes of a football game might last a quarter of an hour or more. They should, in that event, prefer their beef well-done.

Bart Starr will quarterback the Green Bay Packers as the world grid champions face the College All-Stars Friday at 9:30 p.m. on Channel 7. Gary Beban, UCLA's Heisman Trophy winner, heads the college squad in the 35th annual battle at Chicago's Soldier Field.

Bring the Whole Family—Mr. Steak

Likes Kids!

... and kids like

Mr. Steak too

Once they've been there, you won't find the small fry dragging their heels when you mention having dinner (or lunch) at Mr. Steak. It's fun for the kiddies to watch their dinners being prepared and they love Mr. Steak's friendly face. A funny thing, most parents leave Mr.
 Steak feeling that their wee ones brought them out to dinner.

ONE COLOR

Color TV Growing in U.S. Households

The number of color-equipped TV households in the United States increased to 16,650,000 as of July 1, according to the National Broadcasting Company's latest quarterly estimate released today by Allen R. Cooper, vice president, planning, NBC. As of July 1, 28.2 per cent of all U.S. TV households owned one or more color sets.

"During the past 12 months, 5 million homes have been added to the color TV audience, a gain of 45 per cent over the July 1, 1967 total," Cooper announced. "The political conventions of 1968 will be viewed in color in eight times as many homes as viewed the 1964 Conventions." In mid-1964, there were an estimated 2 million color TV households in the United States.

The NBC estimates, of which this is No. 17, are based on a variety of industry source data including color set production, sales, and inventories. The following table summarizes the growth of color TV over the past 42 months:

		Color Sets In Use	Color TV Households	Color Households as % of All TV Households
1965	Jan. 1	2,860,000	2,810,000	5.3
1966	Jan. 1	5,350,000	5,220,000	9.6
1967	Jan. 1	9,450,000	9,180,000	16.7
	July 1	11,420,000	11,050,000	19.8
1968	Jan. 1	14,630,000	14,130,000	25.1
	Apr. 1	15,850,000	15,270,000	27.0
	July 1	16,700,000	16,050,000	28.2

Charlton Heston offers a dramatic reading as a guest on "The Ed Sullivan Show" this Sunday, 8 to 9 p.m. The show, a repeat, will be broadcast over Channel 2. Other guests include Frankie Laine and comics Wayne and Shuster.

Shirley Bassey Stars in Hour Special

Beautiful song stylist Shirley Bassey stars in her own hour-long television special on Monday evening.

"The Shirley Bassey Show," another in the current series of WWJ-TV prime-time summer specials, will be colorcast at 9 p.m.

The final show in the series will be aired by Channel 4 on Aug. 12 and will star Gordon MacRae with Barbara McNair.

Shirley Bassey, a native of Wales, is joined on the show by fellow Englishman Noel Harrison. Together, they exhibit a degree of showmanship usually seen only from performers twice their vintage.

Also appearing is Brazilian guitar great Laurindo Almeida.

There's even a surprise visit from one of the entertainment world's most lasting stars.

Sing "Don't Rain on My Parade," "Call Me," "Goldfinger" and other numbers, Shirley demonstrates why she's acclaimed in Europe and America as one of the most exciting female vocalists to come along in years.

Noel Harrison, late of "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." and more recently a much in demand variety show guest, is already known as an actor, singer and dancer. But Noel has added to his creative repertoire by becoming a successful songwriter. He performs "Santa Monica Pier," one of his latest songs.

Leslie Roberts, a Negro community leader in New Rochelle, N.Y., makes a point during a discussion in which a group of black and white members of the community explore racism in their own attitudes on "Can White Suburbia Think Black," Monday night at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7. The program is the last in the series, "Time for Americans."

Troy Church Gets Award, Top Congregation of '68

St. Stephen's Episcopal Congregational, Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Michigan National Guard, as one of the "Distinguished Methodist and Lutheran Congregations of 1968" by the Churches.

A plaque has been received and will be presented to the congregation this fall.

In an article prepared for the magazine, St. Stephen's is cited as a liturgical movement parish making use of the proposed new liturgy and trying to involve people in meaningful corporate worship.

The Rev. Carl R. Sayers, rector of the church, was recognized for his dynamic direction in helping the congregation look outside their own confines to serve in the community.

Since St. Stephen's was organized 11 years ago, the parish has pioneered in a visitation and care program at the Pontiac State Hospital—a program which has been adopted by other churches in the area.

REHABILITATION

Another example of social action by the women of the St. Stephen's has been the support of the Alexandrine House which helps rehabilitate men released from prison.

Members of the congregation who live in Birmingham were credited with providing much of the leadership in helping the city be the first all-white suburb in America to pass an open-housing ordinance by referendum.

In the spirit of ecumenism, St. Stephen's was instrumental in being part of the first "Living Room Dialogues" organization and group activity with the city.

Evangelical Youth Meet in Brandon

Youths from nearly 100 evangelical congregations in the area will attend the third in a series of meetings sponsored by the youth of Sunnyside Chapel tonight at 7:30.

Pontiac track star Bill Tipton will speak at tonight's meeting at Belle Ann Elementary School on East Glass Road, Brandon Township.

Tipton, an outstanding hurdler at Pontiac Central High School, is attending Eastern Michigan University. He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac.

The meeting also will feature special musical selections, a reading, congregational singing and personal testimonies.

An ice cream social will be held tomorrow at St. Augustine's House to raise funds for a new retreat house.

Women of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will be serving ice cream, cake and coffee from 2 to 9 p.m. The Singing Friars from Duns Scotus College of Southfield will provide musical entertainment during the afternoon.

Vesper services will be held at 6 p.m., preceded by a recital by Glen Lovstrand on the rebuilt three-rank pipe organ which was installed in the chapel last April.

Lovstrand, an alumnus of Gustavus Adolphus College of Minnesota, holds a master's of music from the University of Redlands in California. He has been an organist and choir master at churches in Duluth, Minn., Galveston, Tex., Oakland, Calif., and Norfolk, Va.

PRAYER, MEDITATION
St. Augustine's House serves as a place of prayer, worship, meditation and discussion for individuals and groups who come for a few hours, a day or more.

The Lutheran retreat occupies 40 acres of land in the rolling hills about three miles east of Oxford on Draher Road.

Father Arthur Kreinheder turned over the property and his family home to the Fellowship of St. Augustine in 1956 as a meeting place and a retreat house for the newly founded group dedicated to work for the establishment of religious communities in the Lutheran Church.

Through the years, a number of Lutheran men have joined Father Kreinheder as postulants, staying for various periods of time. Presently there are two men in the community with him.

QUONSET CHAPEL

The chapel, a simple quonset hut, was built the summer of 1968. It is known as the Chapel of the Visitation of the Blessed Virgin Mary because work on it was begun on the Feast of the Visitation.

That same summer, the Congregation of the Servants of Christ, a monastic order for Lutherans, was formed at St. Augustine's House. In 1966, the congregation became affiliated with the Brotherhood of the Holy Cross, a monastic community with the Church of Sweden.

The present house was built in 1964 after fire destroyed the original cottage. It has eight rooms for men.

Plans for the new retreat house call for some 30 guest rooms on two floors which could be used in various ways for groups of men and women.

Mrs. Adolph J. Hornblad is chairman of tomorrow's event. Other social members of her committee include Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. John N. Lundgren, Mrs. Fred Larson, Mrs. Elmer Stollenberg and Mrs. Ole Knudsen.

Episcopal Service Kerner Riot Report Topic at Catholic Site of Open Forum Thursday

RITZVILLE, Wash. (UPI) —

St. Mark's Episcopal Church in this little town was too small for the number of persons expected to attend the ordination of the Rev. John Knowles Dempsey as an Episcopal priest.

So the ceremony was held instead at St. Agnes Catholic Church.

The Rt. Rev. John R. Wyatt, Episcopal bishop of Spokane, obtained permission for use of the church from the Most Rev. Bernard J. Topel, Catholic bishop of Spokane.

Episcopalian, Catholic and Protestant clergymen joined in the ordination procession.

An open forum on the Report of the National Advisory Commission of Civil Disorders will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Troy at 6363 Livernois.

The discussion on the Kerner Report is the first in a "Suburban Crisis" series being sponsored by the church. Six sessions are being planned.

Walter Berger, chairman of the church Commission on Christian Social Concerns, will be moderator of the Aug. 1 forum. He is working with the Interfaith Action Council of Metropolitan Detroit in setting up the discussion series.

On Sept. 8, the series will feature a representative of the New Detroit Committee, and on Sept. 22 a special urban crisis film produced by the New Detroit Committee will be shown.

Marimont to Start Mail Course

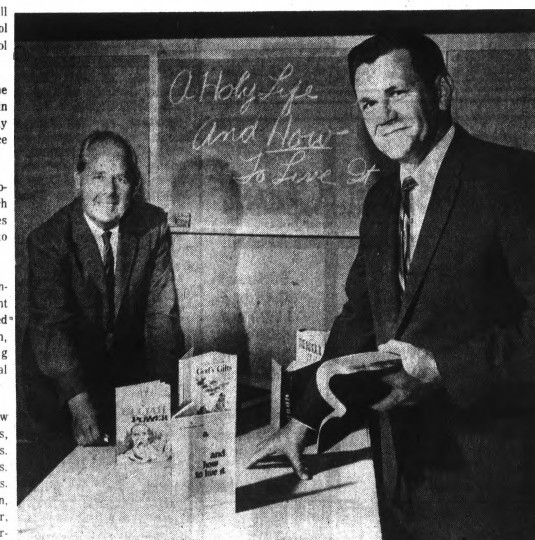

Marimont Baptist Church will introduce correspondence school teaching into its Sunday School program tomorrow.

E. A. Lundeen is directing the class of 20 which has enrolled in a Bible course from the Moody Bible Institute's Correspondence School of Chicago.

After studying material supplied by the school, each member of the class completes a weekly exam and mails it to the school for grading.

Experienced Moody instructors will give the student further instruction when needed by commenting on the exam, sending additional teaching material or writing a personal letter.

Those taking part in the new program are Kathy Douglas, Dan Dunnam, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laidler, Mrs. Lundeen, Carl Mahan, Frances Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Navarre, Mary Matthews, Joyce Stoddard, Kathy Stewart, Clare Tisworth, Michael Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and Virginia Schweigert.

Sex Education Approach New

By United Press International
Major Protestant denominations in recent years have greatly improved their programs of sex education. They are now taking a "person-centered" approach which emphasizes positive human values. It is far more meaningful to young people than the "negative and judgmental" teaching of the past.

That is the finding of Dr. John H. Phillips of Duke University, who has just completed a six-month study of the sex education programs of eight Protestant denominations. The denominations are: the Episcopal Church, the Lutheran Church in America, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod; the United Methodist Church; the Southern Presbyterian Church; the Southern Baptist Convention; the United Church of Christ; and the United Presbyterian Church. Together they have about 30 million members.

Phillips found that Protestant sex programs are that they need children no longer are given to be more realistic and forthright in dealing with such heretofore sinful or "dirty." Instead, sex is presented as "A God-given way of relating to people."

While affirming the goodness of sex, when used as God intended, Protestant churches point out that abuse of the sexual relationship can have destructive consequences for the persons involved.

All of the denominations make a strong case for premarital chastity, not as an arbitrary rule that must be obeyed but as a respect for other human persons which is the basis of all Christian ethics.

Episcopal youths, for example, are taught that: "When one seeks to use another person to gratify his desires, he is using that person as a thing. This violates personhood."

Irish Bishops Hit for Press Curbs

DUBLIN — The Irish bishops are sharply attacked for allegedly blocking information and muzzling public opinion in a recent issue of the Furrow, published at the Maynooth Roman Catholic seminary.

"The official Church in Ireland seems reluctant to face the press," wrote editor Father Michael O'Connor. He said statements were made and pastoral letters written which seemed to have the aim of belittling the journalist and eliminating free journalism.

Delegates OK Church Merger

2 From Local Parish
at Uniting Conference

Two Pontiac area men were delegates to the United Missionary Church general conference which voted last week to merge with the Missionary Church Association.

Conferences of the two denominations met simultaneously in Fort Wayne and Elkhart, Ind., to approve the merger, culminating 25 years of consideration.

The new denomination, known as the Missionary Church, will have a total of 454 churches in the United States and Canada with a constituency of more than 50,000. It will support almost 200 overseas missionaries serving in 19 countries.

Attending the uniting conference in Fort Wayne were Rev. Kenneth L. Pennell, pastor of the First United Missionary Church, 149 N. East Blvd., and Harold Hall of 392 Exmore, Waterford Township.

MISSION BOARD
The Pastor Pennell was a delegate representing the Foreign Social Studies of the Jewish Mission Board of the Theological Seminary of denomination and Hall was a lay delegate representing the Michigan District of the United.

"When you get specific, you are to feel the need of Missionary Church. There will be death, rebirth, by the merger are the string-renewal, and change in and ham United Missionary Church among almost all church of Waterford Township and the bodies, but when all is said and United Missionary Church of done, I do not believe we will Walled Lake. ever come out with one organized church."

The first general conference of the new Missionary Church will be held next March in Detroit.

'Churches Need Lustier Hymns'

LONDON (AP)—The church needs to "get with it" in modernizing its music, says England's Archbishop of York, Donald Coggan. Saying there ought to be some lusty new hymns for the church, he added: "Why should we make lusty young men and women refer to themselves as 'frail and trembling ships,' or sing hymns which make them tell the Almighty that they desire 'to flee this world of tears and arrive on heaven's doorstep forthwith'?"

Native Cures OK

MAPUMULO, Natal, South Africa (AP)—A group of South African Lutheran theologians and medical doctors agreed here that traditional native medical practices should be studied sympathetically and not automatically dismissed as pagan and useless. They include "positive elements" that should be recognized, the group said.

6 Detours Will Affect Motorists in State

There will be six detours affecting motorists traveling state highways over the weekend, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

They are as follows:

On U.S. 27 in Lansing, traffic is detoured for 1.2 miles between Cherry and Birch streets; southbound traffic is detoured for 1.5 miles between Clare Street and Waverly Road.

U.S. 12 in Ypsilanti is detoured at the New York Central Railroad bridge at the east city limits.

M33 southeast at Atlanta is detoured for 7.3 miles. The detour is via county paved roads.

2-MILE DETOUR

M37 at White Cloud is detoured for two miles onto M20 and Monroe Road.

M72 from Harrisville west 6.3 miles is closed. The detour through Lincoln on County roads adds five miles to the regular route.

On I-94 (BR) through Ann Arbor traffic is detoured via Packard Avenue and Stadium Boulevard.

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Between 70 and 95 employees of Kelvinator of Canada, Ltd., have been dismissed from jobs at the firm's London, Ont., plant. A company spokesman said the dismissals were the result of a decrease in sales volume.
 Kelvinator Division of American Motors was purchased July 3 by White Consolidated Industries of Cleveland.

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Teddy's Decision Fuels Dems' VP Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic vice presidential picture appeared to be wide open today following Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's "final, firm" decision against accepting the position at next month's national convention.

The names of Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Fred R. Harris and Ambassador to France Sargent Shriver were mentioned as possible running mates if front-running Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Meanwhile, on the campaign trail, Humphrey declared today his goal is "peace — nothing less" and McCarthy said black power is the road to black dignity and responsibility.

Humphrey, in Salt Lake City, Utah, today, listed the pursuit of world peace at the top of his "new agenda."

LASTING PEACE

He said this means working the Red China in the future and the Soviet Union now to reduce tensions; a slowdown in the arms race, and a "stable and lasting peace" in Vietnam for which he promised a specific proposal in days.

McCarthy said Negroes must be given power — with which he said will come dignity and responsibility — by bringing industry, locally-owned businesses and antipoverty programs into their communities.

"The fact is that poverty among black people is no accident," McCarthy said in a prepared speech in Detroit. "Black people are poor because they are powerless, and powerless because they are black."

Humphrey, campaigning in Kansas when the Kennedy statement was released in Boston, said the decision by the Massachusetts senator "speaks for itself" and is "understandable."

NO COMMENT

McCarthy, Humphrey's chief rival for the nomination, had no immediate comment on either Kennedy's decision or the possibility of taking No. 2 spot himself.

A Humphrey-McCarthy ticket would pose a problem since both men come from Minnesota and the Constitution bars a state's electoral college votes from to residents of the same state.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., suggested that "Sargent Shriver is the only vice presidential candidate who makes sense to me if he (Humphrey) can't get McCarthy."

Humphrey aides, who have insisted no decision on the vice presidency was imminent, have said that both McCarthy and Shriver are possibilities.

U.S. Thailand Base Hit

SAIGON (AP) — A guerrilla force attacked a U.S. Air Force base in Thailand for the first time in the Vietnam war Friday night, damaging two planes, killing a Thai guard and wounding four Americans.

Two of the enemy were reported killed and one captured during the brief assault on Udon Air Base in northern Thailand, an area which the Bangkok government says is infested by North Vietnamese-backed guerrillas.

An Air Force spokesman said it was the first time an American base in Thailand had come under attack. Udon, with 6,500 airmen and 100 warplanes, is the largest of seven U.S. bases in Thailand from which most strikes are mounted against North Vietnam.

Associated Press correspondent Peter O'Loughlin reported from Udon that a guerrilla band of unknown size penetrated the base's perimeter with small arms fire and satchel charges and tried to reach a flight line where the main contingent of F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and reconnaissance jets was parked.

DRIVEN BACK

A combined Thai-American security force drove the enemy back as they tried to place explosives around the parked aircraft.

An F4 and a C141 Starlifter, a four-engine jet cargo aircraft fitted for medical evacuation, were damaged by fire. Two Air Force women cosmonauts were at the evacuation craft when the attack began, but were not harmed.

The attackers also triggered an ammunition and fuel explosion which was brought under control quickly.

Air Force spokesman said the attack began about 10:30 p.m. local time and lasted 30 minutes to an hour. Sporadic small arms fire was reported until dawn today by which time the base was swarming with reinforced security police.

Udon, once a Thai air force installation, is located 300 miles north of Bangkok and due west of North Viet-nam's southern panhandle, focus of current U.S. air attacks against the North.

In South Vietnam, enemy gunners zeroed in with rockets for the third straight night on the Da Nang fighter base, from which attack missions are also mounted against the panhandle.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Goldsmith reported from Da Nang, 375 miles northeast of Saigon, that one squadron from the 1st Marine Air Wing was temporarily grounded after a Russian-made 100-pound rocket scored a direct hit on a hangar housing several of the Marine A5 all-weather jet fighters. One of the $6 million aircraft was destroyed and another heavily damaged.

New Fares Eyed to Ease Air Jam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has approved rare industrywide airline talks that could lead to revision of fares as one way to solve the current air congestion crisis.

The joint discussions by domestic and foreign airlines on matters including fares was authorized late yesterday by the CAB, which must approve any fare changes.

The CAB said any fare increases decided on for peak travel periods must be offset by equivalent reductions in the same markets.

The possible fare changes were included in general deliberations authorized by the CAB on ways to ease air traffic congestion which in some cases has delayed New York-bound passengers for hours.

'OVERWORKED'

Air controllers say they're overworked and cannot safely move planes faster.

Under normal circumstances, the agency said, joint airline discussions on fares would not be permitted because of competition-restricting implications.

The discussions, for which dates were not set, are to be conducted at CAB headquarters in Washington with airport operators and representatives of interested federal departments and agencies sitting in.

The air traffic problem also will be the subject of hearings to begin next Thursday before the House government operations subcommittee.

Woman Kills Herself After Shooting Rival

One woman was killed and another seriously wounded yesterday in what police said was the result of an argument in the parking lot of the Ford Motor Co. Credit Union in Shelby Township near Utica.

Shelby Township police said Bernice Russell, 39, shot Winifred Breland, 38, twice in the stomach and once in the chest and then fatally shot herself in the head at about 11:40 a.m. yesterday.

Miss Russell was pronounced dead on arrival at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township.

Miss Breland was reported this morning in fair to poor condition by Crittenton hospital officials.

FELLOW WORKERS

Shelby Township police said both women were employed by the credit union firm at 50515 Mound.

Witnesses told police when the two Detroit women came to work in the morning, Miss Russell told Miss Breland she had something for her and would give it to her during their lunch break.

When the women returned from lunch Miss Russell went to the trunk of her car, where witnesses said she pulled out a .32-caliber automatic pistol, shooting Miss Breland three times before shooting herself.

Friends of the victims told police they had been feuding for the past year over the attentions of a male friend.

Congress OKs Antihunger Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Congress, mindful there are still empty stomachs in affluent America, has agreed to put up nearly $1 billion in fiscal 1969 to help feed the poor.

The landmark antihunger appropriation swept through the House and Senate yesterday without argument. Only President Johnson's signature is needed.

In a departure from previous approaches, Congress added an extra $45 million to feed needy persons — mostly children — not reached by the ordinary food stamp and commodity-distribution programs.

The food provisions were contained in a $5.5 billion annual appropriations package covering all Agriculture Department activities in the 12 months that began July 1.

FOR SCHOOL LUNCHES

The extra $45 million will be spent to buy lunches for poor school children or to provide an adequate diet for other persons "determined by the secretary of agriculture to be suffering, through no fault of their own, from general or continued hunger."

This amount is in addition to $142.5 million specifically appropriated in the bill to provide free or cut-rate school lunches and breakfasts for needy children, and another $382 million subsidy for school lunches in general.

The added sum will for the first time allow the department to reach hungry persons at or near their permanent homes regardless of whether the area involved is operating a federal food stamp or government commodity donation program.

This approach was among major demands of the Poor People's Campaign here this summer.

The bill also includes $225 million for the food stamp program and an estimated $447 million for distribution of surplus commodities.

Showers Today Promise Cooler Day Tomorrow

Occasional showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and early tonight are expected to bring slightly cooler temperatures to the Pontiac area through tomorrow.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather bureau forecast is:

TONIGHT—Highs of 77 to 84 today falling to 56 to 62. Winds south to southeast at 10 to 18 miles per hour becoming northwest to north.

TOMORROW—Partly sunny and a little cooler.

MONDAY—Fair and becoming a little warmer.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent: today 50, tonight 60, tomorrow 10.

Low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 66. By 12:30 p.m. the temperature was 79.

Receives Baboon Liver

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A young woman whose blood was cleansed by the liver of a baboon yesterday was unconscious in Groote Schuur Hospital today but her condition was reported improved.

The operation, on Mary Voigt, 29, was believed to mark the first time a baboon's liver was used to detoxify human blood. A pig's liver has been used in similar operations.

Post Office Cutbacks Put Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first in a series of postal service cutbacks, scheduled to take effect today, has been put off for a week while Congress considers exempting the Post Office Department from federal manpower reductions.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced the stay late Friday after the Senate voted to exempt postal service from the manpower cuts, dictated by the recently passed income tax bill.

He gave the House a week to follow suit.

Under a timetable announced July 12, the department had planned to cut window service today at first and second class post offices to a maximum of two hours and to put Saturday collections from street boxes on Sunday schedules.

FIRST STEPS

The department said these were the first steps in a sharp curtailment of operations that eventually would lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and restricting of residential deliveries to four days a week.

The Senate added its exemption as a rider to a minor post office bill, opening the way for House approval without having to go through the committee process.

Congress is scheduled to adjourn next Friday until September so members can attend the national political conventions. Watson said he put off the cutbacks "because the vote of the Senate today indicates an understanding of our highly critical problem of handling a larger workload with a smaller work force."

"But," he said, "We cannot, by the conditions of the current law, delay cutbacks past Aug. 3."

UP TO HOUSE

If the House does not act by Friday, Watson said, weekend curtailment will start the following day and the department will proceed with the next step in its cutbacks—shutting down the first of 314 fourth-class branches.

Wildcat Strikes Threaten Basic Steel-Labor Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A threat of wildcat strikes hangs over the basic steel labor negotiations even if a big industrywide settlement is reached before midnight Wednesday.

The issue is incentive pay—a bonus originally given some workers for extra production but now a crazy-quilt pattern of wage boosts that can make men working side by side take home vastly different paychecks.

Leaders of two United Steelworker locals in the Pittsburgh area served notice on top negotiators Friday that their men were threatening to set up picket lines if the final contract doesn't cover all workers with incentives.

If the wildcat strikes were successful, union sources said they would spread to all plants with incentive problems—and that means dozens across the country.

At the top-level bargaining both union and management remained silent about how much money—if any—was on the table for the over-all economic settlement. However, for the first time the hotel corridors were alive with optimism that the industry had made an acceptable offer.

A figure mentioned repeatedly was 90 cents over a three-year contract, which would follow the pattern established in other major labor contracts this year. But there are so many negotiators—a total of almost 400 union and company men—that it was difficult to separate the scuttlebutt from the inside word.

A key member of the committee on contract language, which is crucial to seniority, work schedules, grievance procedure and health and safety, said that his work was going slowly.

"Even if we had two more weeks, and moved at a greatly increased pace, I don't think we would get it all done," he said.

MEETING MONDAY

Monday is the day the 600 man basic steel industry conference meets. It can ratify a contract or call a strike.

The contract for the 388,000 men who work for the 11 largest steel companies, who negotiate as a unit, expires at midnight on Wednesday.

'Presidium United for Talks With Soviets'

Czech Leader Urges Support for Cause

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told his followers Friday that the Czechoslovak party presidium is preparing for talks with Soviet leaders with unanimity. He called for "strong faith in our good cause."

"Addressing a group of Prague workers, Dubcek said: 'We think there is no reason for fear or mistrust. On the contrary a certain dose of optimism, strong faith in our good cause and confidence that the correctness of our new policy will be proved is needed to help allay at last the fears of our friends.'

"Such an attitude by our people and party will be the greatest support in the talks," he added.

Dubcek's meeting with the workers

came as liberals warned Czech leaders that "the fate of our nation" is at stake in the impending showdown with the Soviet leadership, which is trying to blunt Czechoslovak moves toward liberalization.

Members of the ruling Soviet Politburo are expected to begin talks in Czechoslovakia early next week.

In an editorial published in Literani Listy, a writers' weekly and sounding board for the nation's top liberals, the new leadership was urged to defend to the death any attacks by the Soviets or their orthodox allies against the country's reformist program. An important part of that program is the lifting of censorship.

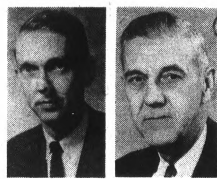

Rumors circulated that a split in the presidium had occurred over the removal of Lt. Gen. Vaclav Pchlik from a key spot in the party Central Committee, where he had been under fire by the Soviets.

Pchlik was returned to army service and his department, which controlled the army, security police and judiciary, was abolished.

The rumors of a divided vote were discounted here by informed sources who saw the move as a tactical one.

During the crisis, Czechoslovak leaders have been careful to avoid any move that might provoke the Soviets into using force to halt the liberalization drive. The sources said the removal of Pchlik was a gesture of compromise and that in the long run the department would have been eliminated anyway.

ELEGANCE SHATTERED—A man lies dead on the floor of the elegant Madison Avenue sports store of Abercrombie and Fitch yesterday in New York after he shot himself to death. Police said the man, identified as Vladimir Vorlieck, 34, apparently took a 12-gauge, double-barreled shotgun from an open rack, pried loose a trigger guard, loaded the gun and fired it at his throat.

Firm Shuts Gunshops After Death in Store

NEW YORK (AP) — Abercrombie & Fitch has temporarily closed seven gunshops in its branches around the country following the apparent suicide of a man in its New York store yesterday.

The 34-year-old man walked into the seventh-floor gunshop at the fashionable Madison Avenue sports store, bought $5.50 worth of shotgun shells, then loaded one into a gun on display and killed himself.

Police identified the victim as Vladimir Vorlieck, a Czechoslovakian who emigrated here within the past two years and had lived in Astoria, Queens, until a month ago.

Michael Raskin, a senior vice president of Abercrombie, said it was not clear how the man fired the gun since all firearms in the shop are either locked in cabinets or fixed with trigger immobilizing clamps.

"We are very upset," Raskin said. "We inspect our guns, we look at our guns, we're nervous as hell about our guns. That's why we have them locked up."

Police said Vorlieck entered the shop about 1 p.m., told the clerk he was going hunting and purchased the shells. Then he began to browse and the clerk turned away.

Police said Vorlieck took a gun, loaded it and put it to his head. Raskin said later the trigger clamps could only have been unscrewed by using "a metal key, a file or a screwdriver."

Although he declined to discuss what other security precautions were now being considered, Raskin said, "the very fact that it happened means that we can do something else."

Escapees Free Camp Official

A night superintendent at the Brighton Youth Camp was released this morning after he had been kidnapped earlier today by two youths escaping from the camp.

John Reeder, 31, a Howell resident and night superintendent of the camp was reported missing about 2:25 a.m. today by an inmate at the camp. The inmate also said two prisoners were also missing.

At about 5:25 a.m. Reeder phoned Flint State Police and told them he had just been released by the youths.

Reeder said Jerry Ash, 20, of Grand Rapids and Edward Attinger, 20, of Mount Morris forced him to drive them to Flint. He said he was tied up and threatened with a large paddle.

When the Reeder auto ran out of gas in Flint, the youths released him. Officials at the Flint State Police post said the pair stole another car in Flint and are still at large.

Ash was serving time in the camp for armed robbery while Attinger was sentenced for larceny.

VP's Son to Be at Hare Picnic

Robert Humphrey, son of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, will be among the more than 5,000 persons expected to attend the Jim Hare picnic in honor of the secretary of state tomorrow.

The fund raising picnic is being held at the Ivory Farm, Cooley Lake Road west of Union Lake Road in White Lake Township. It begins at noon. Tickets, at $6 for an individual and $15 for a family, can be purchased at the gate.

Harold Bondy, chairman for the all-day picnic, said he expects the largest crowd in the history of the event "to honor the man who has been elected to his present position seven times."

There will be a horse show, prizes, awards, games, rides for the younger set and favors for all the children.

Hot dogs, popcorn, soft drinks and refreshments will be served throughout the day. Beef, corn on the cob, salad and relishes will be served from 2 to 7 p.m.

Grand Rapids Is Calm After a Night of Strife

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — About 100 Negro youths roamed a four-block area of this city's south side early today stoning firemen and "beating citizens," police said.

Michigan State Police were called in to assist in the disturbance and the local National Guard commander was informed. Grand Rapids Police Supt. William A. Johnson said.

At dawn he called the situation "calm."

The trouble began about midnight when four unoccupied residences in the predominantly Negro Jefferson and Franklin street area caught fire in an "obvious arson attempt," Johnson said.

Animal Study Exhibit Open at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "Animal Behavior," an exhibit of photographs and text, opens at Cranbrook Institute of Science today and will remain through mid-September.

The presentation, which is divided into sections dealing with separate facets of scientific research, explores the psychologist's "nature versus nurture" question—the degree to which instinct and learning affect the development of behavior.

Cranbrook Institute of Science is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. on the weekends. In addition, the science museum is open through August 7 to 10 p.m.

During this period there are free guided tours weekdays at 1:30 p.m., planetarium demonstrations at 2:30 p.m. weekdays and 8 p.m. on Wednesdays and planetarium demonstrations at 3:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. There is an admission charge.

At the annual meeting of the Area Chamber of Commerce Coordinating Committee for Southeastern Michigan, Knowles B. Smith, executive director of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman for a one year term.

MANY COMMITTEES

Smith of 131 Bassett, Bloomfield Township, has served on many of the action committees as well as the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce Coordinating Committee since its inception in 1965.

Smith is a director of the Organization Executives of Michigan, a member of Committee of Commerce Executives of Michigan, director of Association Executives of Metropolitan Detroit and a member of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives.

He also is active in the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as the representative from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

David E. Utley

PONTIAC CITY VOTERS

Our Municipal Court has been reorganized under a new State law. The new District Court will have 3 judges, 2 of whom will be nominated by your votes on Tuesday, August 6th. It is important that you vote in the Primary.

Your New District Judge

should be experienced in law. He must have served his community. He must be respected in his profession; He must pledge to impartially serve the people.

For the Record

I have been practicing law in Pontiac and Oakland County Courts for over 38 years. I am a trial lawyer. My Civic duties and volunteer work are a matter of commendable record. I can stand up and be counted in any company. YOU CAN check my integrity. I know it is spotless.

The Court Must Serve Wisely and Justly

Our community needs a judge with an appreciation of the complex problems which may confront each of us, with the mature experience to handle these problems as they arise, and with the expert knowledge of our laws to judge these problems fairly. Appreciation, experience, and legal knowledge... These qualities I have.

Vote for DAVID E. UTLEY

Pontiac District Court Judge

TUESDAY, AUGUST 6

This ad paid for by Utley for Judge Campaign, Charles Jacobs, Chairman, Pontiac State Bank Bldg., Pontiac

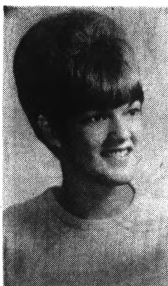

The engagement is announced of Inez B. Glover and Bruce D. Keith. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Frederick and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keith, both of Wedworth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Kempf, of Ascot Street announce the betrothal of their daughter, Jennifer Lynn, to Pvt. Joseph Morang, USA. Pvt. Morang, who is currently stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C., is the son of Mrs. Joan Morang of Elizabeth Lake Road. Vows are slated for October.

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Ann, to James W. Smith are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Allen of Airway Road. James is the son of Mrs. Cleo Smith of Airway Road and the late Cleo Smith.

Case No. G-537

Case the Joint' First

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE G-537: Billy B., aged 11, worries his mother. "Dr. Crane," she began, "Billy is rather timid."

"And he has been made more so by the fact my husband is a salesman who has been transferred three times since Billy entered first grade."

"That means Billy has entered three different schools, so he has never made lasting friendships."

"Last term Billy was in the lower 25 per cent of his class, so how could I help him raise his marks next term?"

BANK ROBBER
It may sound shocking, at first glance, but a good mother should use the bank robber strategy!

For such crooks thoroughly study the next bank they plan to rob.

They "case the joint," and become well acquainted with the work habits and time schedule of the employees.

You smart parents might take a lesson from them by looking ahead to the next grade your child will enter.

Find out which reading book will be used? Or speller, history text, etc.

Then obtain such books IN ADVANCE!

Nowadays, the people who reach the top need not only to be smart and industrious, but they must often "jump the gun."

This means, they must do a little scouting in advance so they are somewhat familiar with their future problems even before they face them.

You parents can zoom your child's school marks within a matter of six weeks by 15 minutes of home tutoring per day. But sugar-coat your tutoring so it is fun.

Inject competition, too, so Junior can try to beat his daddy at identifying the printed words, taken from the school reader, which you have printed on flash cards.

10 to Accompany the Newlyweds on Honeymoon

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — When Miss Judy Hudson, a drama teacher here, marries John Keene of Salina, Kan., this summer, the couple will take 10 youngsters with them on their honeymoon.

The 10 are students of Miss Hudson. She had agreed to chaperone the youths to Europe before she became engaged.

The 10 will take a six-week university course at Exeter, England, as part of an American Institute for Foreign Study Program. The couple will live on the campus at the school before she becomes engaged.

They will then take them on brief trips to London, Paris and Brussels before returning to the United States.

You can make a quick job of silking corn by using a small too thick or too bouncy, since a firm, taut installation is essential to stairway safety.

Carpeting on Stairs Investment in Safety

You can set a price on safety — the nominal cost of carpeting your stairway, for example.

Carpet's non-slip pile surface prevents many slips and falls and cushions any falls that might occur on stairways.

For safety's sake, carpet should be installed securely on stairways and kept in good condition — no worn spots or loose edges to present hazards.

Just as important to many homeowners is carpet's ability to muffle noise. The clatter of footsteps on stairs, the airborne noises that float up and down — both are effectively hushed by carpet.

Add the comfort of a carpeted stairway for busy homemakers who go up and down the steps many times a day — and it's easy to see why carpet is nearly always installed in this important area.

New Product a Real 'Bust'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Can a special exercise device enlarge women's busts? The California Bureau of Food and Drug Inspection says no, and seized a shipment of the exercisers March 28, charging they were sold by misleading advertising.

Five women who used the exercisers said yes recently in testimony which will be continued in Alameda County Superior Court on Monday.

"We've sold hundreds of thousands of these for $9.95 each," testified Jack Feathe, "and we want the ban lifted."

He heads 20 West Coast health spas and sells pink plastic clam-shaped devices that women hold in front of them in a prying position and push together.

"I even had to throw away all my old brassieres," Michele Galewartz, 20, told Judge Spurgeon Avakian.

At least 24 "before and after" brassieres have been submitted as evidence.

Dr. Carl Goetsch, a Berkeley gynecologist, said bust measurements can be changed in some ways. He said a woman could gain two inches by simply taking a deep breath.

Dr. Henry J. Ralston, San Francisco physiologist, said the device could "change the contour and the measurements of the bust line."

Cut strips of white cardboard, two by 10 inches, and print the strange words thereon which your child doesn't know.

Hold up two cards at a time, but first explain what each word means. Also, point out its different appearance, as "window" vs. "door."

Shuffle your two cards and let Junior then try to identify each one while you are counting slowly to five.

Add a third card, then a fourth and fifth, etc., till you soon have given him all the strange words in his reading book.

Multiplication tables can also be presented in this same manner. But limit each game to five or 10 minutes.

Let daddy compete and whoever names the word first, then gets to place that card in his pile. The one with the bigger pile, wins that round.

Mothers, the time to be sure your child does not drop out of high school but goes on to college with flying colors, is NOW!

For children in the lower half of their class furnish most of the dropouts and seldom go on to college!

Send for my booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

And "jump the gun" on next term's problems by getting the books in advance and giving your child at least 10 per cent familiarity with them!

That head start can move a child from the bottom bracket to the top level of the scholars!

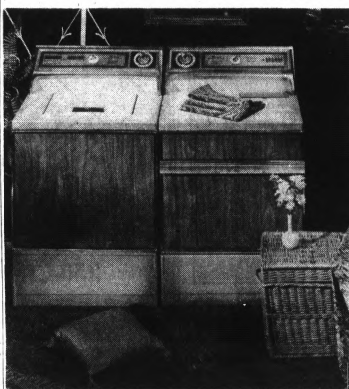

A college insurance policy is splendid but of no use to a dropout!

So make your child a top-notch scholar and he will want to enter college!

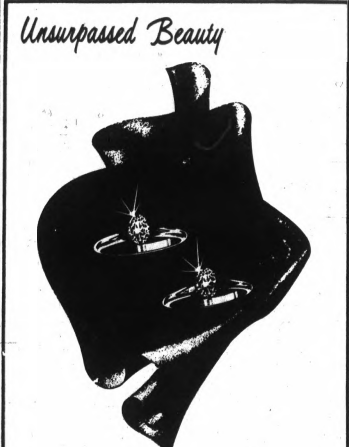

Lace Seam for Flexible Binding

Perfect for turning up hems on jersey knits and other fabrics is a new 3/4-inch flexible lace seam binding which allows an average hem to give up to 20 per cent.

This sheer nylon hem finish, available in many colors, is also practical, as it can be washed by hand or machine.

Any stretch of the homemaker's imagination can provide a beautiful decor with Whirlpool's new Mark XII laundry pair. Top-of-the-line automatic washers and dryers can match counter tops, draperies, cabinet doors or wallpaper. The special metal frame that trims the doors is designed to accept thin panels of decorator materials. In addition to the decorator fronts the laundry pair features a special cycle for permanent press and a new dryer feature that guards against wrinkles until the clothes are removed.

Unsurpassed Beauty The Graceful, Oval-cut

One of the loveliest of cuts, the oval cut diamond with a grace all its own. Fashionable and beautiful to the eye — yet in keeping with the tradition of wearing a plain engagement ring and a simple gold wedding band. Cut to perfect proportion for maximum brilliance, graceful and glittering, it has as much flashing fire as the round cut and a definite aura of femininity.

BALLARD-WILSON

Rev. and Mrs. William B. Ballard, (nee Taffy Sue Wilson) were joined in the Waterford Community Church parlor following their wedding ceremony Friday evening.

Gowned in a four-tiered, floor-length dress of Chantilly lace with scalloped edges, the bride's crystal crown secured an elbow length silk veil of illusion. Honor attendants were Priscilla Alden and Gilbert Cortis. Assisting the couple were 17 additional members of the wedding party. Parents of the nebrides are Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Wilson of Lessing Street and the Robert B. Ballards of Lovell Street. The couple are on a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and northern Michigan.

Many of the new water-repellent finishes on cotton raincoats will take up to five dry-cleanings without having to be reprocessed.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, Thaddeus, John and Mrs. Wilson. The elder Wilson, Tommy, was visiting an uncle's farm when this photo was taken.

Formerly Ministered to 2 Ghost Towns

One-Time Hippy Pastor Now at All Saints

A former worker priest and pastor to the hippies is the new associate minister at All Saints Episcopal Church, 171 W. Pike. Before his Los Angeles assignment, the Rev. Mr. Wilson spent three years in the missionary district of Nevada, with headquarters in Fallon. His ministry there, he reports, included two ghost towns, which he visited once a month to give communion. A native of Lansing, the Episcopal priest is a graduate of Michigan State University and the Church Divinity School of the Pacific at Berkeley, Calif. The Rev. Mr. Wilson and his wife, Elleen, are making their Pontiac home at 230 Chippewa. They have five children, Tommy 15, Gregory 13, John 11, Gwyll (pronounced Jill), 9 and Thaddeus 6. All Saints' new associate minister is an old-car buff and currently is renovating a 1947 Chrysler which he drove from Los Angeles. The Town and Country "woody" sedan allegedly belonged to comedian Red Skelton at one time.

While in Nevada, the Rev. Mr. Wilson was able to combine his interest in cars with his ministry by organizing a car club, the Deacons, for area youths.

Marimont Revival Is Near

Evangelist Clyde Chiles will be conducting revival services at Marimont Baptist Church, 68 W. Walton, Monday through Aug. 4 at 7:30 each evening.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Pastor Chiles has had 14 years experience in the field of evangelism. He is an acclaimed preacher and musician. Since his graduation from Southwestern Theological Seminary in 1956, he has been engaged in full-time evangelism which has led him into 18 states with an average of 28 evangelistic campaigns each year.

Delegates OK Church Merger

2 From Local Parish at Uniting Conference

Two Pontiac area men were delegates to the United Methodist Church general conference which voted last week to merge with the Missionary Church Association.

Conferences of the two denominations met simultaneously in Fort Wayne and Elkhart, Ind., to approve the merger, culminating 25 years of consideration.

The new denomination, known as the Missionary Church, will have a total of 354 churches in the United States and Canada with a constituency of more than 50,000. It will support almost 200 overseas missionaries serving in 19 countries.

Attending the uniting conference in Fort Wayne were Rev. Kenneth L. Pennell, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, 149 N. East Blvd., and Harold Hall of 392 Exmore, Waterford Township.

MISSION BOARD
Pastor Pennell was a delegate representing the Foreign Mission Board of the denomination and Hall was a lay delegate representing the Michigan District of the United Methodist Church.

Other area churches affected by the merger are the stringham United Methodist Church of Waterford Township and the United Methodist Church of Walled Lake.

The first general conference of the new Missionary Church will be held next March in Detroit.

Church Union Studied by Dr. Thornburg

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A Methodist minister says he has mixed feelings of fear and hope at the prospects of the uniting being considered by 10 Protestant denominations in the United States.

Dr. Robert Watts Thornburg of First Methodist Church, Peoria, said the situation poses a strange paradox: a marriage when the parties are not yet even acquainted.

The denominations are the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren, and Presbyterian, north and south, the Protestant Episcopal, Disciples of Christ, A.M.E. and A.M.E. Zion, Christian Methodist Episcopal and United Church of Christ.

By 1970, at the latest, representatives of the denominations have agreed to file a formal plan for arriving at union.
