Bolivians Press for Asylum in Argentina

47 Fugitives Interned After Seizing Captors' Plane in Flight

SALTA, Argentina (AP) — Forty-seven bedraggled but defiant Bolivian political prisoners, interned here after seizing their captors' plane in flight, pressed an appeal today for asylum in Argentina.

Argentine authorities conferred with Bolivia's ambassador in Buenos Aires and issued a guarded statement that the situation was being studied.

The fugitives, including leaders of the socialist Falange party, main opposition to Bolivia's government, overpowered their guards over Bolivia yesterday while being flown to a concentration camp near La Paz. One of the prisoners took over the controls and flew the government airliner, a four-engine DC4, the 450 miles to Salta.

"We preferred death in an airplane to life in a concentration camp," one of the group told reporters at Salta airport, 170 miles south of the Bolivian frontier.

The group included business men, students, a journalist, an accountant and several ranchers. They were arrested after last Saturday's antigovernment riots that caused four deaths in La Paz.

Still dressed in their grimy prison uniforms, the escapees chatted with reporters at the airport before military authorities ordered them interned at the 5th Army Division headquarters near Salta.

They denounced the regime of Bolivian President Hernan Siles Zuazo and described as phony the amnesty proclaimed by the government before this year's presidential election.

Lt. Col. Andres Saucedo Lanza, former Bolivian military attaché in Chile who helped plot the escape, said he and many others had returned to Bolivia after the amnesty proclamation only to be arrested. Another of the group, 22-year-old Mario Ayala, of the newspaper Clarin of Santa Cruz, said there was no press freedom in Bolivia.

Hoffa Backing Cobo, Maybe Ike

Teamsters Union Czar Says Mayor Friendly to Labor

LANSING (AP) — Jimmy Hoffa's powerful Teamsters Union officially is in the corner of Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo in his bid for governor.

Hoffa flatly declared for the Republican nominee after a speech at the National Automobile Transportation Assn. Convention Thursday night. He had been expected to do so.

"We definitely will support Mr. Cobo because he has been understanding toward labor," Hoffa told a reporter. "We probably also will support President Eisenhower."

Hoffa predicted Cobo will upset Democratic Gov. Williams, seeking re-election, "if he can come out of Detroit and Wayne County with 40 per cent of the vote—and I think he can."

In his speech, Hoffa urged the auto carriers to set up a strong public relations program and to pursue their goals actively in the nation's legislative bodies.

"Trucking companies and the teamsters, unions must become an integral part of the legislative and political picture," he said.

Hoffa predicted the time will come when there will be separate highways for trucks. He said this is "inevitable" because of the industry's steady growth and vital importance.

Gales, Rain Batter Ships in North Sea

LONDON (AP) — Gales and rain squalls battered ships in the North Sea and the eastern Atlantic today and sent rivers of western England surging out of their banks.

The 145-ton Norwegian vessel Heimdal caught fire while battling high seas northwest of Bergen, Norway. Her eight-man crew launched a life boat but later boarded their ship again to fight the fire.

A Dutch lifeboat rescued the 42-man crew of a Belgian minesweeper which ran aground at the Hook of Holland.

The collier Corfell took off the three crewmen of the 138-ton British vessel Shawford in the Thames Estuary. The abandoned ship was blown ashore. The Clacton lifeboat took four men and a woman from a yacht in distress off the Essex coast.

One-Man Grand Jury Indicts 31 in Ecorse

DETROIT (AP) — A one-man grand jury today indicted Ecorse Mayor William W. Voisine and 30 others, including 10 of his city aides, on charges of conspiring to permit gambling in the downriver Detroit suburb.

They were the second indictments returned by the grand jury which on Aug. 1 opened a probe of reported municipal corruption in several Detroit area communities.

The earlier indictment was returned Sept. 14 against Harold Rippe, Taylor Township supervisor, who was charged with extortion and accepting a $6,000 bribe.

The grand juror, Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn, hit hard at Ecorse affairs, charging widespread graft giving and taking among Ecorse officials and gamblers.

Vice President of South Korea Struck at Rally

Assassin Raps Victim for Seeking New Ties With Japan

SEOUL (AP) — Chang Myun, South Korean President Syngman Rhee's outspoken opposition vice president, was shot and wounded in the hand today as he stepped from the stage of a political convention.

The attempted assassination came less than 24 hours after the Rhee-dominated National Assembly voted 86-6 to warn Chang against continuing his criticism of the government.

Chang, a Roman Catholic and a former ambassador to the United States, has been in off-and-on seclusion since he was chosen vice president May 15 after a turbulent election campaign. The candidate of the opposition Democratic party, he decisively defeated Rhee's running mate.

The assassin, identified by police as Kim Sang Poon, 28, fired two revolver shots at 3:35 p.m. as Chang stepped to the floor after addressing a Democratic party convention in the municipal theater.

One bullet went through the palm of Chang's left hand. A party aide said several bones were smashed. The vice president, after being treated by a doctor attending the convention, shut himself up in his home and refused to see newsmen.

Four hours later Rhee in a statement expressed surprise and regret at the attack on his political enemy and relief that Chang's wound was slight. The President promised the arrest and strict punishment of anyone connected with the assassination attempt.

Police said Kim, a veteran of the Korean War, admitted the assassination attempt and said in explanation: "I thought he would do a fair job for the nation, but he was trying to fraternize with Japan, which is my enemy."

Chang in one recent statement said it was time for Korea to establish diplomatic relations with Japan, which occupied Korea for years before World War II.

Convention delegates beat Kim savagely before police guarding the hall could get to him to make the arrest. He was taken to a police hospital.

Scurry to Safety as Fire Hits Trailer Home; Police Suspect Arson

A house trailer fire, which may have been intentionally set, sent a White Lake Township woman and her two young children scurrying to safety early this morning. Mrs. Geneva R. Brewer and her two sons, 14 months and two years old, were not hurt but lost most of their clothing in the blaze which caused an estimated $2,000 in damages to the trailer and its contents.

Fire Chief Robert Larsen, of the White Lake Township Department which extinguished the fire at M59 and Pontiac Lake Rd., said later: "There is every evidence that it was an intentional fire. It was set from underneath the trailer and burned through the floor. We found a heavy odor of oil on the ground."

Larsen stated that most of the damage was confined to the exterior of the aluminum trailer. There was also considerable smoke, fire, and water damage to the living room.

The woman told investigators she was sleeping with the children in her bed when she was awakened by the smell of smoke. She grabbed the boys and ran outside to the nearby cottage of her sister where she called firemen.

Township fire officials and the Michigan State Police Arson Squad of Lansing were conducting a thorough investigation of the incident today.

Ziegler to Meet County Group

To Pose 20 Questions on Expressway Plan to Road Chief

Meeting last night, the Southfield-Bloomfield Assn. planned to play a hot game of "20 Questions" with Michigan Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, who will meet with the group Wednesday night.

The Association, formed to oppose Ziegler's announced plan for a Southfield Expressway route through the two townships, has invited Ziegler and his chief deputy, George M. Foster, to the meeting to answer questions on the route.

Consisting of representatives from some 16 neighborhood civic groups, the Association claims to represent 5,000 residents along the proposed route who would be affected by the new road.

Last night, members decided to condense questions submitted by the member groups to 20, and pick a forum of representatives to toss the queries at Ziegler.

TO USE HIGH SCHOOL

The group has arranged to use Southfield High School gymnasium, with a seating capacity of more than 3,000, for its meeting Wednesday.

A "Paul Revere" movement was launched last night to acquaint area residents with the "threat" posed by Ziegler's announced route.

Adopting a "platform," members last night went on record opposing the route on 11 specific grounds. The platform hammered at the high condemnation cost of a route running through some of the most exclusive residential land in the county, and stresses inconveniences posed by a limited access road cutting across community and school district boundaries.

After the official forum has posed its 20 questions, written questions from the floor will be accepted and relayed to Ziegler, according to Chairman Daniel T. Garas.

Invitations to the meeting will be sent to Sen. Charles F. Potter, State Sen. William S. Broomfield, County Planning Commission chairman J. Robert F. Swanson, county road planner Robert Larson, and Southfield land planner James Hickey.

Colombian Indian, 167? Causes Minor Volcano

NEW YORK (AP)—Javier Pereira, Colombian Indian who some people claim may be 167 years old, erupted like a pint-sized volcano yesterday. During a 20-minute news conference he swung at a press agent, a blonde, a photographer and a reporter.

Pereira appeared at the session in conjunction with a report by New York Hospital that he is a very old man and "possibly may be more than 150 years of age."

Four feet, four inches tall and weighing 82 pounds, Pereira kept things in an uproar until he told his interpreter: "I'm getting the hell out of here."

Pereira had accepted the suggestion that he sit on a sofa and pose with a blonde reporter. The blonde held his hand fervently and both were beaming until photographers' flash bulbs went off.

This was it! Pereira snapped to the girl in Spanish: "Don't steal the ring" (on his finger). He sent a hefty slap in her direction. A press agent stepped into the breach and got a sock. The Indian then leaped up and swung at a photographer. He took a final swing at a male reporter trying to quiet him down.

Commented the reporter: "Believe me, it hurt."

New York Hospital said in its report—issued after tests: "Although medical science possesses at present no method of determining the exact age of any adult, nonmedical evidence indicates that Mr. Pereira is indeed a very old man, and that possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Under such circumstances, his physical condition and his diet are of lay as well as medical interest. Examination has revealed him to be vigorous, alert and observing. "His eyesight is impaired, but he is still able to find enjoyment from Westerns on television. He likes to listen to music and can dance in rhythm. "His skin is like that of an old man, but shows no more of the effects of age than that of most men of 70."

Pereira has no teeth but does sport a complete crop of dark hair only interspersed with grey. Despite his somewhat antisocial get-together with the press at the Hotel Biltmore, the hospital rearing said: "He is gregarious and likes to meet people."

Fastest Plane Kills Test Pilot

Record - Smashing X2 Crashes Mysteriously in California

EDWARDS, Calif. (INS)—Mystery today surrounded the crash of the world's fastest and highest-flying airplane, the Bell X2.

The Air Force is appointing a board of officers to investigate.

The rocket-powered research plane, which set an unofficial speed record of 1,900 m.p.h. in July and flew to an altitude of 138,000 feet three weeks ago, crashed at Edwards Air Force Base yesterday.

The accident claimed the life of Capt. Milburn G. Apt, an Air Force test pilot at Edwards since 1954. He had no chance to bail out. His body was found in the wreckage.

FIRST TIME OUT

Although Apt had tested many other planes, it was his first flight in the X2.

The sleek little plane was taken aloft under the belly of a B-50 bomber for a "routine indoctrination flight."

It was cut loose at 30,000 feet and Apt flipped the switches to start power in the plane's two rocket chambers.

Making a routine check of overstayed vehicles, Canadian officers asked whether Scott had returned here. He had obtained a 30-day Canadian visitor's permit.

Scott is wanted here for jumping $25,000 bond and failure to appear for arraignment on 13 counts of grand theft and forgery in the handling of his wife's $850,000 estate. She hasn't been seen since May 16, 1955.

The Day in Birmingham

Clear Old Structure; Plan Gulf, Howard Johnson's

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Ground clearing took down an old eyesore on the corner of Maple road and Telegraph road in Bloomfield Township this week and made room for a Gulf super-service station and a Howard Johnson restaurant.

It also indicated the two firms' faith that a highway would not be routed through that sector. The turnpike route had been traced through the property, but according to the franchiser "apparently will never be built though no one has a 100 per cent guarantee."

The restaurant will be operated by the Central Continental Corp., a Royal Oak firm that operates the present Howard Johnson's in Royal Oak under the Johnson franchise. Edmund Boks of the firm said today that construction of the restaurant building may be soon or may wait till spring.

The Gulf station will probably be built at once on the corner lot the CC Corp. has sold to Gulf Refining Co. of Detroit. Clearing of the whole lot seemed advisable, according to Boks.

The old restaurant, long a favorite for posters and political signs, had been closed for several years. It was torn down, two-foot thick oak fell, and rubble blazed for hours in the mid-week clearing.

Fourteen scene shifts are being tackled by the Village Players, whose technical staff for the production of "Solid Gold Cadillac" was revealed this week.

The comedy will be staged the weekends of Oct. 13-20 and Oct. 26-27, according to Mrs. Arthur S. Greiner, assistant director.

Bestest man behind the footlights will be Douglas A. Brown, stage manager, and his aids will be Horton Allen, Norman S. Gustafson and Thomas Klingensmith.

Set designer is Mrs. John A. Parkes; scenic chairman is Mrs. John K. Kleene, and special effects designer is Earle E. Wilson.

It will be the first public show of the Players' 34 season at their Chestnut street Playhouse.

The Birmingham Child Study Club will open its fall season at Mrs. Malcolm Cameron's home, 519 Elvencroft, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mr. Edward Koran.

Detroit Group Seeks Daylight Time Vote

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Retail Merchants Assn. is seeking signatures to force a spring-time referendum on possible adoption of Daylight Saving Time by the Motor City in 1957.

Charles E. Boyd, association secretary-treasurer, said yesterday that "a considerable number" of signatures already has been obtained and that there seems to be "strong support" within the association.

Detroit currently operates on Eastern Standard Time throughout the year.

Louis A. Urban, city elections director, said a minimum of 19,834 signatures would be required to put the question of daylight saving time on the ballot.

Regular Airline Service Within Pontiac's Grasp

Every resident in the whole Pontiac area should be interested in the brightening prospect that regular commercial airline service may soon come to Pontiac.

Improvement of Pontiac's Municipal Airport through construction of a new 4,000-foot paved and lighted runway is now being completed.

This will make the airport safe for DC-3 twin engined planes. Already representatives of one company, North Central Airlines, have expressed an interest in adding Pontiac to their schedules.

HOSKINS

This is good news indeed. Many Pontiac residents use airplanes, and so do many more residents of the area roundabout the city. The long drive to Willow Run, however, requires so much time that unless the trip is a fairly long one a traveler is apt to use so much time getting to and from the airport that he could go as quickly by train or car.

In addition to the passenger service that may be attracted, greatly improved air freight service will be possible also, since the new runway will make it safe for regular cargo carriers to use the airport. This will benefit business and industry throughout the Pontiac area.

Pontiac's City Commission has displayed real vision in making possible this improvement in the Municipal Airport. Years ago their predecessors on the Commission built an airport that was one of the finest in the country for that day.

Then came other commissioners who had no interest in air travel. They were unable to see the benefits that would accrue to the city that kept its airport up to date and in the forefront in facilities, safety and size.

As a result, Pontiac's Airport sank from near the top to close to the bottom in its ranking. So the record of the present City Commission in its rebuilding program is an outstanding one. All of the Commissioners have backed the expansion of the airport. So has City Manager William.

All through the years HOMER C. Hoskins, the airport manager, has been the sparkplug who has kept alive the vision of an up to date airport providing efficient, modern service to the people of the whole Pontiac area.

For some years he was a voice crying in a wilderness. But in more recent years he has been given the whole-hearted support of the City Fathers. Today his prediction that regular airline service may soon be brought to Pontiac will be welcomed by the entire area.

We Dislike Starlings; Denver Hates Pigeons

Pontiac has its starlings. Other cities are troubled by pigeons.

The starlings gather in huge flocks, usually in residential neighborhoods. They make a lot of noise which is disturbing to the people living in that area, and their droppings constitute a nuisance. Several different methods have been used in the effort to drive them out of Pontiac.

Pigeons more generally gather on and about public buildings. Campaigns to eliminate them have been waged in Denver, Chicago, Baltimore, New Orleans and many other cities in this country and abroad.

Denver tried a chemical which gives the birds a hot foot. The Chicago Transit Authority hired a Pigeon Eliminating Company to clean up its elevated stations. The company placed sharp toothed metal stripping along the beams on which the pigeons were roosting, but they did not go away. Apparently they liked the rumble of the elevated trains.

In Montreal a gluey substance has been tried as a pigeon repellent. New Orleans and Cincinnati have also used a chemical compound. New York is trying to halt the feeding of the pigeons by reminding the public that this practice is a violation of the litter ordinance. That city also is shocking electrically the pigeons that gather on the stonework of its city hall.

So it goes across the nation. When the United States Municipal News started out to survey this field it found pigeons and starlings are not the only birds that American cities are trying to eliminate. In some areas woodpeckers and even squirrels have been found to be pests.

This information will not help Pontiac to get rid of its starlings. But it may lessen the anguish of local citizens to know that their feelings are being shared in many cities, and that, so far, complete cures seem to be hard to discover.

All entries not RECEIVED in The Pontiac Press Office by that hour will be disqualified.

It now is so late that you'd better make personal delivery. If you cannot come during business hours, drop your entries through the slot in the cement post at the side of the outside front doors.

Do not be caught that way. It's an easy method of losing $300.

I like that remark of my 30-year friend,

"Hey! How About Another Summit Meeting?"

David Lawrence Says:

Neither Party Can Boast Unity

WASHINGTON—The campaign has gone far enough to establish that both parties are in serious trouble internally. It means disunity and confusion in Congress no matter which presidential candidate is elected. It points to a major crisis in American government beginning in January.

Judging by the heavy mail I have received the past three weeks from all parts of the country, the disaffection in the Democratic party in the South is far more extensive than has hitherto been conceded, and there is a deeper cleavage than is generally known inside the Republican party in the North.

The bitterness of regular Republicans against so-called "liberal" Republicans, on the ground they have been extolling New Dealism and wrecking their own party to the delight of the radical Democrats, is also far more extensive than I had believed. Many Republicans have been alienated by "liberals" inside Republican ranks and now say there's no difference between the parties. Hence they don't intend to vote.

As for personalities, the steady decline of Adlai Stevenson in his speeches from a position of principle and apparent conviction on public policies to one of trickiness and mud-slinging is perhaps the most significant thing turning up in criticisms from Democrats. They say he is indeed a "new" Stevenson—a growing disappointment to many who voted for him in 1952.

MARGIN WILL DROP

On the other side, while there is a decline in President Eisenhower's political popularity, especially in certain depressed areas here and there where economic conditions are not good, there is no material change in his personal popularity. People still "like Ike" even though his majorities in several states he carried in 1952 will go down precipitately this time and some of them may be wiped out altogether.

What's happening inside the Democratic party in the South and in the border states will never be measured by polls or even finally by the electoral votes that virtually all the Southern states will cast for Stevenson. The truth is that public sentiment in the South growing out of the "civil rights" issue is far more antagonistic to Stevenson than appears on the surface.

The regular Democratic leaders in the South, however, have persuaded themselves they cannot desert the party this time for a variety of practical reasons. They see their only chance to frustrate "civil rights" legislation by retaining possession of important committee chairmanships in Congress, which will help them in their filibusters inside and outside of committees.

But while such dissension will not affect the Stevenson electoral vote—which will be nearly solid for him in the South—the trouble inside the Republican party in the North is far more serious and menacing for Ike.

Two big surprises are in sight. One is the small amount of help the Republican party is going to get from the so-called "Negro vote." This vote has been heavily Democratic ever since the 1932 depression. It was strongly Democratic in 1952, not because of what Truman did on "civil rights" but for economic reasons. The Republicans will be astonished this autumn when they find how little they have gained in the northern Negro districts despite the political gestures made by the President in the integration policy which he impulsively ordered in District of Columbia schools and in public statements enthusiastically endorsing the Supreme Court decision on segregation.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Daily Calcium Requirement Will Benefit in Long Run

There are about 2½ pounds of calcium (lime) in the body, 99 per cent of it being in the bones and teeth. The rest of it, say two spoonfuls, is distributed among the nerves, muscles, glands and blood.

The proportion of calcium in bones, teeth, blood and soft tissues generally is not fixed. It varies considerably under both natural or normal and pathological or abnormal circumstances.

The bones, as physiologists, nutritionists, and physicians of recent vintage are aware, serve as the storehouse for calcium. So do the teeth, although some of the older and superficially trained dentists take a monolithic view of the teeth—they believe, and even blurt out, that once a permanent tooth has formed, its chemical composition can never vary. Touching on this point, Prof. Henry C. Sherman, author of the famous Chemistry of Food and Nutrition (MacMillan Company) stated:

"The weakening of the bones and teeth, which is said to be a common accompaniment of pregnancy and lactation is doubtless largely due to a withdrawal of calcium from these structures to meet the nutritive requirement of the fetus or the nursing."

In the pamphlet Calcium and Pregnancy I tell how to protect the expectant mother's or nursing mother's bones and teeth against calcium depletion and at the same time provide what it takes to build strong bones and good teeth in the baby.

The daily calcium requirement of a woman is greatly increased by maternity. She must get enough, preferably from high calcium diet, or, if necessary, from a suitable supplement, not only to satisfy her own needs but to provide an abundance for the rapidly growing skeleton of the little stranger.

In prolonged illness or confinement to bed or chair from any cause, the bones slowly atrophy through being thus drawn upon, and hence become more fragile. This explains why chronic invalids so easily break a bone in some comparatively slight accident.

All this may be avoided, whatever ails the victim, if (1) the diet is a high calcium diet and/or (2) the diet is supplemented daily as I describe in the pamphlet.

A high calcium diet consists essentially of not less than 1½ pints of milk, skim milk, separator milk or buttermilk every day, and a reasonable variety of other high calcium foods, such as egg yolk, cheese, peas, beans, leafy vegetables, salad greens, nuts, peanuts,

The other upset will be noted when the regular Republican vote is counted. The most injurious factor to the Republicans is the lack of enthusiasm which the regulars have for the ticket. They are pleased with the renomination of Nixon, but they keep saying the White House leadership is the same as under the Democrats and there isn't much to choose between the two candidates. Some of these Republicans will vote for Ike reluctantly, but what's important is that too many of them will not work as enthusiastically or as energetically as they did in 1952 when Taft led them in the final weeks of the campaign.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Daily Calcium Requirement Will Benefit in Long Run

oatmeal, plain wheat. Of course, the invalid must get a good daily ration of vitamin D to insure assimilation and utilization of calcium, from fish liver oil or a synthetic D or from manufacture of D under daily exposure to sunlight or sky shine or an ultraviolet lamp.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Husbands, Where Do You Stand?

Fritz rates low on his "empathy" score. If you wish to be a good salesman, as well as popular with women, then indulge in some empathy calisthenics frequently. You need not be a paragon of proper behavior at all times, but at least show a little gallantry when out in public. Girls love it. And why not make your sweetheart happier? If you love her, that should be your goal.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case S-377: Fritz W., aged 24, is engaged to a girl named Irma.

"Dr. Crane," Irma began, "Fritz is a wonderful boy except in a few things."

"He is a man's man, so he fails to show the gallantry to me that most boys offer their girl friends when they are out in public."

"For example, he rarely opens a door for me or helps me with my coat. When he unlocks the car door, he just hops in and lets me look after myself."

"Oh, I'm able bodied enough to do so, but I'd like to have him show a little more attention to me when my girl friends are looking on."

"But I don't know how to correct him, for I realize it makes people angry to be criticized. So what can I do?"

LOW IN "EMPATHY"
"Empathy" is a term in psychology which refers to one's ability to project himself into the shoes of another.
It is just another way of describing the Golden Rule. Fritz has a low empathy score. He fails to understand a girl's point of view. Millions of American wives wish their husbands would also listen to Irma's comments today.

Asks Everyone to Register, Then Vote on November 6

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The non-thinking citizen who neglects to vote is weakening and jeopardizing our American system of representative government. A great outpouring of voters at the polls is needed Nov. 6. To achieve this, we must remember the last day to register is Oct. 8. You cannot vote if you don't register.

Voting Nov. 6 will convincingly demonstrate to the rest of the world that we cherish our precious freedoms and are determined to defend them.

An American election today is not just an American event. It is a crucial, international event. At no time in the history of the nation has it been more imperative that Americans understand the vital problems being faced by our government and the great need for every American to participate in their solution.

World leadership is thrust upon the shoulders of the United States at a time when freedom in the world is in great jeopardy. I feel sure that the American in his vitally important role will help get out the vote. For information on registration, call your City Hall or Pauline Mott, LI 8-0121.

France Backs Pipelines as Solution to Suez Row

By JOSEPH L. PEARLMAN
INS Staff Writer

France is talking up the idea of using oil pipelines as a possible weapon in the struggle against control of Suez by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The French are toying with proposals to pipe Arab oil to eastern Mediterranean ports through new lines, short-circuiting the regular tanker route through the canal.

Reports leaking out of Paris say some thought is being given to a plan under which a French pipeline would be constructed through Israel and a British pipeline through Turkey.

The French say it could cut about one-third off the cost of tanker transportation.

This is one of the possibilities the canal user nations had in mind at the second London conference when they wrote their draft agreement on the powerless association to deal with Nasser.

LESS DEPENDENCE

The users decided on an immediate study of "means that may render it feasible to reduce dependence on the canal."

A pipeline project, if one is undertaken, would be costly to start, but in the long run would not have the punishing economic effects on the user nations that diversion of shipping to the longer route around Africa would produce.

So far, however, there has been no wave of enthusiasm for such a project, and it could well wind up in the heap to which other proposals have been relegated in the struggle against Nasser.

France, most disappointed of the London conference nations, would be willing to try anything once if there was some reasonable chance of relaxing Nasser's grip on the canal.

The French consider the Suez problem to be extremely pressing. With an Algerian rebellion still to be put down, they consider Nasser's bid for dominance in the Arab world a real threat.

Economic attrition of Egypt would be a harsh but slow process of fighting back, without resorting to military force. And there is little hope held out for a quick and clear-cut decision in the United Nations that would settle the Suez problem once and for all.

What the French are now considering is the next step in the dispute after the U. N.

British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau are working on a coordinated Suez policy.

One thing is clear: Both the British and French are determined to use to the full the restricted means left open to them to try to get Nasser to retreat from his command post atop Suez.

for the latter's own good, be sure to employ the "sandwich" method. Nobody relishes having his mistakes brought to light. For it is deflating to our ego to be shown up.

Yet there are times when it is vitally necessary for us to see our errors. Somebody must correct us. But that critic may fall heir to our dislike thereafter, unless he uses the strategy of the "sandwich" method.

To employ this technique properly, Irma should start out by giving Fritz an honest compliment concerning one of his virtues.

Then deftly lead into the "meaty" or critical layer by smiling, and casually saying: "Fritz, don't you think it would make all the girls more envious of me, if you gallantly opened the door for me?"

Let this critical layer deflate him, even in spite of her smile and casual lead-in, then fade out with the final layer of the psychological sandwich, which is another sincere compliment.

This sandwiching of reproof between two layers of compliments is the only foolproof method we psychologists have devised for this delicate situation.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN

Boys, stop, look and listen to this column, plus the other helpful features in this daily newspaper.

The smart fellows who have a way with women, don't ignore any chance to pick up new slants about the feminine viewpoint.

So read the sports pages first, but don't fail to skim over the other segments of this newspaper, even including the women's features.

Women really are the major sex as regards civilization. And they own a majority of stock in American corporations at this very minute.

So a smart man should engage in a little empathy calisthenics every week and learn how to stretch his imagination so he can appreciate more fully the attitude of women.

Include your mother and sister, as well as your sweetheart or wife.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane to care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3¢ stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50¢ to cover printing and mailing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Estes Hits GOP World Gambles

Charges Foes Boasting of Brink of War Policy
'Again and Again'

By JOHN CHADWICK
ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today the Eisenhower administration has "gambled" with the life of the nation and Western civilization in its handling of world affairs.

"For four years," the Democratic vice presidential candidate said, "we have seen the present administration take us to the brink of war again and again, and boast of it."

Calling for a halt to a diplomacy he described as based on "threats of force and the lure of dollars," Kefauver said in a speech prepared for a rally here: "To achieve peace let us turn once more to the methods of peace. Let us once again turn on the beacon light of American freedom and good will."

The rally here was the first of a series scheduled in Pennsylvania by the Tennessee senator for the next to last day of his current cross-country political tour.

Kefauver strongly endorsed Joseph C. Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia and the Democratic candidate opposing Sen. James H. Duff's re-election bid. In doing so, he took a dig at Duff.

He described Duff as "my neighbor and a good man." But he added, "I have never felt that he was much interested in being in the United States Senate."

"He has not introduced any serious legislation and neither has he worked hard to support legislation offered by others," Kefauver said.

Turkey now sells pistachio nuts direct to United States users, for the first time.

Honduras Guards Nicaragua Border

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The pro-government newspaper La Hora reported today that Honduras has closed its frontier with Nicaragua to prevent "suspicious" persons from crossing into Nicaragua. It was the first response reported to Nicaragua's request that other Central American countries clamp down on alleged revolutionary activities by Nicaraguan exiles. The Managua government has charged these exiles were behind the assassination attempt against President Anastasio Somoza a week ago.

Traffic Engineers Elect

EAST LANSING (AP)—J. Carl McMonagle, assistant director of the Highway Traffic Center at Michigan State University, was elected president of the Institute of Traffic Engineers Thursday at San Francisco. Detroit was voted the 1957 convention city.

Classically Nude Statues Perplex Detroit Officials

DETROIT (AP)—A classically nude mermaid cavorting with a dolphin is posing new problems for Detroit city councilmen already perplexed about the Indian clad only in a sultan.

The two statues, both by the late Swedish sculptor Carl Milles, have been offered to the city for permanent display in the new civic center.

The Indian, labeled the "Spirit of Transportation," was called "too racy" by critics. Remembering that still unresolved furore, the councilmen cautiously called for a look at "Sunglitter," the mermaid, before accepting it.

After inspecting a picture of the new offering, about all the councilmen could agree to yesterday was that Milles' statues are unquestionably male or female.

UTICA—Sodium fluoride treatments are being made available to students in the Utica schools through cooperation of school authorities, the Macomb Health Department and the Community Health Council Dental Health Committee. Treatment was begun at St. Lawrence Catholic School this week and will start at Trinity Lutheran Oct. 16.

Classes Start, Campus Comes to Life at UM, MSU

By CECILLE DUMBRIGUE
U. of M. Correspondent

On the campus of the University of Michigan, all the beauty of the fall season has blossomed forth and is enveloped in an air of excitement and anticipation as campus activities come to life.

The serious business of orientation for freshmen and class registration for undergraduate and graduate students has been completed, and classes are now following regular University schedules. With campus life back to normal school activities gain the spotlight.

The magic word on campus is "football," and school organizations pay their respects to it by preparing for the coming season which starts officially at the sound of the first kickoff at the UCLA game, Saturday afternoon.

The traditional card section, "Block 'M,'" has been holding mass meetings for practice. Among those participating are, Helen Randpersis and Mary Sarros, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Randpersis of Auburn avenue and Mrs. Alrodite Sarros of Palmer Street, respectively. The girls are in their first year of college.

DANCE PLANNED

The post-game activities will include open house at some of the residence halls and houses and the "T-Hop," September 29 from 9 to 12 p.m. which is the first big social event of the Independent Women's Association. It has been formally named the "College Kick-off," music will be supplied by the bands of Paul Brody and Don Kenney.

It isn't only football season, but also "Rushing" season. Rushing is the process through which the fraternities and sororities on campus choose new pledges.

This week and next is the sorority season, to be followed by the separate fraternity two-week season.

In the midst of rushing is sophomore Esther Diem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Diem of Ulica Road. Greta Phipps, daughter of the Harold Phipps of Oneida Road, is also a sophomore rushee.

BINNIE JOAN PRIZANT

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Prizant of West Iroquois road announce the engagement of their daughter, Binnie Joan, to Herbert Reiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reiner of New York City. Binnie attended Miami University and Herbert was graduated from New York University. They will be married in New York City.

Three Pontiac girls who are rooming together in Mother-Jordan Hall are Madeline Van Matres, daughter of the Harry C. Van Matres of West Huron Street; Joanna Sherman, daughter of the Glen Shermans of North East Boulevard; and Carey Charles, daughter of the B. D. Charles of Avondale Street.

Madeline is rushing, but Joanna and Carey are for the present remaining unaffiliated. All three are first term freshmen.

Football tension is mounting, but not about the UCLA game. It is only the appetizer to the next scheduled game on Oct. 6, with Michigan State University, where once more the Wolverines and Spartans will encounter each other on the gridiron battlefield.

Meeting Is Held by Ruth Circle

Mrs. Leonard Cotter entertained members of the Ruth Circle of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon in her home on Second avenue.

"Challenge Accepted by Timothy" and "Challenge Accepted by Paul" were the topics of devotionals presented by Mrs. Francis Oak. Mrs. Lunaford presided at the prayer cycle. Further study on "Missions, USA," was the program presented by Mrs. Walter Hubner.

Following the business meeting, members participated in a silent auction. Mrs. Glenn Holsinger will be hostess at the October meeting.

Symphony Unit to Open Season

Pontiac Symphony Women's Association will hold the first meeting of the season with Mrs. Harold B. Euler of Ottawa Road, Monday at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Donald B. Hogue will speak on the differences in tone and size of string instruments in orchestra. Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer also will be on the program. She will speak on the different forms of music and will play "Schumann's Piano Concerto" as an example to point up her talk.

Ticket sales for the Oct. 23 performance of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be discussed at the meeting. The Symphony's opening performance will feature Stanley Lock, New York concert pianist as guest artist.

Job's Daughters Hold Initiation

International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 40, met recently. Members initiated into the order at Roosevelt Temple.

Members Mary Lynn Mitchell, Geraldine Frances Daniel and Jerilyn Dean Gallaher. Installed in the guardian council were Mrs. Lester Oles, Louie King, Mrs. Harry Vernon, Mrs. Lyle Verner, Edward Pritchard, Mrs. Theron Taylor, Mrs. Royal Clark, Mrs. William Roberts and Mrs. Harry Eaton.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

By VICKY MICU
M.S.U. Correspondent

Over 18,000 students this week attended classes for the first time, kicking off the fall term here at Michigan State University. Coeds were pleased to discover that the male population outnumbered the female over 2 to 1.

In addition to an abundance of gentlemen, State has an abundance of activities lined up in the near future. High points are the coming football games beginning Saturday when State takes on Stanford.

Of course, the Big, BIG one is next Saturday's game between Michigan State and the University of Michigan. A big pep rally the day before the game will send the football squad off.

Monday Salk polo shots will be available to all State students at a nominal cost. This program is the first of its kind in the nation by a major university.

CAREER CARNIVAL

Carnival time—Career Carnival, that is—will begin Monday and continue through Tuesday to afford students an opportunity to learn about vocations available. Theme of this year's affair is "Let's Talk It Over."

Freshmen are by far the most active group on campus this week as they locate classes and the ins and outs of activities. Positioning for freshman class officers began Thursday, and primary elections will be held Oct. 18. Final elections will be Oct. 25.

Among the many representatives from Pontiac, Birmingham, and area are freshmen Betty Andres, Connie Sabot, Marsha Stapp, Junette Weber, Carol Trudell, Dorothy Rossman, Carolyn Premo, and Elona Ridge all residing in Phillips Hall.

FURNITURE COMING

This is the first year the dorm has been a women's resident hall, and girls are awaiting the October arrival of new, more feminine furniture.

Jeanette Cockle and Marilyn Glennie are residing in Snyder Hall, and in Mason is Dorothy Bell.

At the other end of the campus in Yakeley and Landon Halls are Marianne Crozier and Ann MacDonald, Pat Skelley, and Jo Ulligan.

PTA Magazine to Emphasize Mental Health

"Horizons of Mental Health" was chosen as this year's theme of the National Parent-Teacher magazine because of the large agreement among its readers on the need to know more about healthy personality development.

NPT Magazine stresses effective juvenile protection, brings out the forewarnings of delinquency, and suggests how it can be prevented and treated.

The publication also presents a program of parent education to help interest all parents in the children, so that youth will develop the character necessary for meeting needs as they arise.

Pontiac PTA Council magazine chairman, Mrs. George W. Gray, has urged all local unit magazine chairmen to begin their drive for new subscriptions early in the school year, so that all may benefit from the study discussion programs.

"Have the satisfaction of having made a worthy contribution to the welfare of children and youth by acquainting our parents with the National Parent Teacher magazine," is her plea.

To These Pontiac Students

College Life Is Now Just 'Old Stuff'

As the two articles here show, Wally is in his first year of medical school and Fred has started his freshman year.

There's no more excuse this week for students rushing to class late with the excuse, "I got lost." By now they have all visited or at least heard of all campus buildings and schedules from the upperclassmen.

Learning the campus routine at Michigan State University are freshmen Jack Reynolds of Elmhurst Lake road, Ann McDonald of Elmhurst drive, and Bill Whittang of Elmhurst drive. Sophia now are Roland Cornett of Dwight avenue, Barbara Lee Albertson of East Chicago avenue and Mary Mapley.

Patricia Ann Shelley of Woodland drive is a junior at State this year. Marilyn Glennie of Montroyal street is also attending State.

A freshman at University of Michigan is Shirley Arnsart of Glendale avenue. Wally and Fred Roemer of Monroe street are both attending the University this year.

Dave Tarr of West Iroquois road has returned to Michigan as a sophomore and Judith Allen of Dakota drive is a junior. Other Michigan fresh are Lorraine Joan Kussora of Emmett road, Larry Sampson of South Shore drive and Jim Wager of Dixie highway.

Other Pontiac students are Bill Price of East Colgate street, a freshman at Eastern Michigan College. Marjorie Challis has enrolled for her senior year there. Nancy Austin of West Huron street is a freshman now at Eastern and her sister Lois is a senior at Henry Ford School of Nursing.

Judy DeLauder of Berkley drive and Gerald Young of Wolfe street are freshmen at Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo. Joe C. Walker of West Iroquois road is a junior at Western.

lege of Mining and Technology at Houghton is Nelson Fizzard of Lowell street. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Tau Beta Phi, honorary fraternities.

Jane Tuohy of Winthrop road is attending Parsons School of Design in New York City. Elinor Schutt of Auburn avenue is a sophomore at Siena Heights College in Adrian now.

Traveling to Alton, Ill. for school was Carolyn Jane Cooper of Middlebelt road. She is a freshman there. At Highland Park Junior College is Irene Kamachus of Oakland avenue. Michael J. Wells of Pingree street is in his second year of medical school at University of Detroit.

Attending Bethel College of Hopkinsville, Ky. is Sally Ann Spragg of Strathmore avenue. Ferris Institute was the choice of Bob Baynes of Marquette street, a freshman there.

Other freshmen at Ferris are Dorothy Ostrander of Parkway drive, Ruth Ann Bandy of Lowell street and Jackie Dubay of Stanley avenue.

Kenneth Kelley of Collingwood avenue is a junior at Eastern Michigan in Ypsilanti this year. He is a member of Kappa Phi Alpha.

3-State Premiere

Unveil New Pin-Spotters

One of the most unusual gatherings of bowling personalities will occur in Pontiac on Saturday. The three-state premiere of new, automatic pinspotters (Brunswick) will be held at Pontiac's Huron Bowl.

1124 West Huron street and a jammed "house" is expected. The 24-lane installation is the 1st in Michigan, of its type. It is also the 1st for Indiana and Ohio, officials report, and in this connection many BPA member owners from the three states are expected to attend the opening. More than 600 invitations to BPA operators were sent out. Public is also welcome, says Joe Bonfiglio, Bowl operator.

Two national champions and several area stars will appear in exhibition matches. Pontiac's mayor, William Donaldson, Frank Mittel, DBA's head and 1955 ABC prexy, Lillian Jacobs, W. W. Edgar (BPA secretary), PWBA's Peg Bender and others will be guests. In an afternoon match (3 p.m.) Dick Hoover, All-America, bowling team member in 1955-56, last winter's world champion, and Marion Ladewig, 5-time national women's match champion will roll against Les Rothbarth and Genevieve Bradley respectively. For the evening match (7 p.m.) Bradley and Hoover will take on Ladewig and Rothbarth. Rothbarth carried a 193 average, Bradley 175.

Feature Film Boosts Safety With Firearms

Art Van Ryzin, coordinator for the coming "Hunt and Live" program at Pontiac High School, Oct. 10, has secured a fine film as a highlighted feature.

Program is a joint endeavor by the PHS Physical Education department and The Pontiac Press designed to promote hunting and outdoor safety.

The film is entitled "Trigger Happy Harry." It is a 20-minute entertainment and instructional pictures that touches on gun safety training, hunting and plinking and range shooting. It is rated equally interesting and informative for both adults and youngsters.

Brooklyn Hangs Up 'Help Wanted' Sign

BROOKLYN (U) — Brooklyn's world champions, facing a Friend who isn't, go into the final three games of the National League season tonight, knowing all they can do is win and pray.

They need help. No longer can they repeat as pennant winners on their own. Trailing first-place Milwaukee by one game, the Dodgers must sweep their remaining three with Pittsburgh and hope St. Louis can take at least one from the Braves in their wrapup three. That would mean a tie, and a pennant playoff. A sweep over the Pirates plus two Milwaukee defeats would make them champs again.

Manager Walter Alton said only "we've got to have help. If the Cardinals win one, we'll be all right."

But he added, in that slow, soft manner of his: "I'm not worried about St.

Louis easing up. The thing that worries me more is that we have looked lousy ourselves."

"Lousy?" Well, the Brooks have lost four of their last six games—dropping three of four to the Pirates last weekend, then losing to Philadelphia after Sal Maglie's no-hitter beat the Phils Tuesday night.

The Friend they'd rather not meet, is Bob — Pittsburgh's 25-year-old righthander, the All-Star game winner, a quick-smiling youngster who has whipped the Dodgers in four of five decisions. It was Friend, hanging on through a 10-hitter, who dumped the Dodgers out of first place Monday with a 6-5 victory. That gave him a 17-16 season mark.
