Adults Speak Their Minds

Teen Recreation Gets Comments

What do Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, think Pontiac teenagers need, if anything, to keep them busy, happy and out of trouble during the summer?

Are local teens lazy or, don't they have enough to do when they are out of school, especially during the evenings?

This is the second of two on-the-street interviews conducted regarding a summer recreation problem of local teens.

Teens wrote first. They were bored and said they didn't have a safe place to meet and associate with the opposite sex during the summer. Nothing was adequately or conveniently planned for them, they charged.

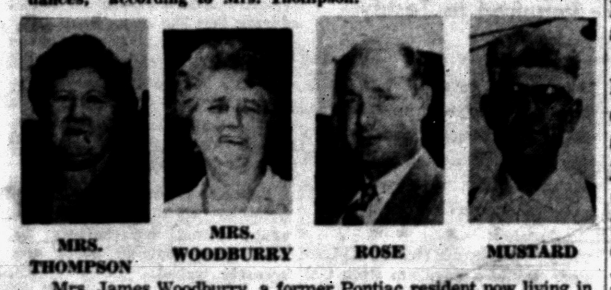

Letters with countercharges from local area youth groups poured in. They caim the facilities are available but teens don't take full advantage and participate.

"Pontiac teenagers have plenty of summertime recreational facilities but a lot of them are not taking advantage of them," said Mrs. Mildred Thompson, 580 Clara Ave.

"If they were," she added, "they wouldn't be complaining. The YWCA, YMCA and Boy's Club have many programs for them to attend and projects to work on. There are also many nearby beaches and tennis courts available plus the regularly scheduled dances," according to Mrs. Thompson.

MRS. THOMPSON | MRS. WOODBURRY | ROSE | MUSTARD

Mrs. James Woodburry, a former Pontiac resident now living in Sarasota, Florida said: "Teenagers in Florida have many more things to do because civic financed recreation centers are provided. They hold dances, talent shows and also teach golf and tennis.

"Being a former member of the local Boys' Club mother's group who helped organize it, I was glad to hear the Pontiac Boys' Club is doing so much for local teenagers. They almost folded up once due to lack of interest," she explained.

★ ★ ★

"Teens living in the city have more opportunities for summer recreation," claims Arthur Rose, 7902 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston.

Rose explained Clarkston residents are now formulating a recreation board for a planned teen recreation program with ultimate hopes of building a youth canteen.

"It could be teens are complaining about a lack of summertime activities because they are not informed due to insufficient publicity," Rose thought.

"Teenage summertime recreational troubles are caused by their lack of adjustment," William H. Mustard, of 60 Hendeson St., theorized.

"Teens are accustomed to a certain routine of fun and excitement during school when many plans are made for them. When summer comes, it's a letdown to them and many do not possess the initiative to cope with the problem.

"Summer activities are many for teens. They can go to the Boys' Club, the Y's, participate in city-sponsored sports events or simply have a good time playing croquet," said Mustard.

Mrs. Alfred Ryder, of 124 Jackson St., agrees with local teens who complain summers don't offer much for them.

"We really need several recreation centers, but to help the situation immediately and break up the routine, I think teens would enjoy open air dancing and even several good old-fashioned street dances like they used to have," suggested Mrs. Ryder.

"If parents taught their children to think for themselves, teens shouldn't be restless," according to Rev. Geoffrey Day, of the Evangel Temple, 365 E. Wilson St.

"If anyone really wants to find things to do, they can. Teens need to be more creative and have greater imagination to cope with the problems.

"It's a natural reaction for activities to become routine. We have the same gradual slack in attendance at the Oakland County Youth Fellowship's monthly rallies. The recreational facilties

Juvenile Waiver Query Expected for Detroit Boys

Seek Murder Warrants in Store Shooting for Pair, 16 Years Old

DETROIT (AP) — Juvenile authorities were expected to be asked to waive jurisdiction today over two 16-year-old boys accused of fatally shooting tobacco store proprietor during an unsuccessful robbery attempt.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Arthur J. Koscinski said he planned to ask Probate Court to waive jurisdiction over Curtis Curley and Alvin Shaw so that he could secure murder warrants against the youths.

Curley and Shaw were arrested yesterday.

Koscinski said Curley made a formal statement in which he admitted a part in the death of Charles W. Fox, 52. He said Shaw refused to sign such a statement.

Fox was found dying in his store last Wednesday shortly after several shots were heard and two youths were seen fleeing in the area.

About $1,100 was found untouched in the store. Police said they believed the robbery attempt went awry because of the shooting.

The youths were arrested yesterday when a roomer at the Curley home, Eugene W. Jones Jr., 35, told police his pistol had been moved from its usual place and that two shots had been fired from it. Officers said Jones suggested they question Curly about the matter.

Detective William Brown said tests showed the weapon was the same one used in the Fox slaying.

PILE OF RUBBLE — This is what was left of a five-story apartment house following a pre-dawn earthquake in Mexico City yesterday. Four persons reportedly died in this building and many were injured in the crash. At least 43 persons died in the quake, the worst in more than 50 years in the capital of Mexico.

Nation Rocked From Capital to Pacific Coast

Damage Estimated at $8 Million; 20 Missing and 500 Injured

The big shock toppled 50 buildings in Mexico City alone, killed at least 43 persons and wreaked more than eight million dollars damage.

At least 20 persons were reported missing and more than 500 seriously injured in the quake, which ripped the earth all the way to Acapulco, on the Pacific coast.

But officials agreed the casualty toll appeared remarkably low in view of the quake's severity.

Thirty-two bodies were taken from collapsed buildings in Mexico City. Eleven other persons perished in the southwestern state of Guerrero. Three of these were in Acapulco, six in the state capital, Chilpancingo, and two in nearby towns.

The President's office said the governor and chief of the military zone of the southwest state of Michoacan denied reports there were any dead in that area. An earlier report had said there were 72 dead in that state.

The casualty reports were believed fairly complete, but authorities pointed out that remote areas might still be heard from.

The only foreigner reported injured was a woman tourist from Brooklyn, Mrs. Sarah Dorfman. She suffered cuts on the arm from broken glass in her hotel room.

The quake hit this capital of four million at 2:40 a.m. yesterday, seismograph needles spinning.

SIRENS SCREAMED

The city was plunged into darkness. Fire engines and ambulances screamed through the rubble-strewn streets. Communications with the shock areas west of the city were cut off and the gilded symbol of Mexican independence—a winged angel—crashed down from its 155-foot base.

The National Seismographic Observatory said instruments indica-

U. S. Engineer Describes Mexico City Quake

'This Was the Worst Scare I Ever Had or Hope to Have'

Merrill Crissey of Miami, Fla., is engineer in charge of the curve-stress division of Florida Lithibar Corp. and a partner in the firm. He arrived in Mexico City Saturday afternoon and left the stricken metropolis approximately eight hours after it was rocked by a devastating earthquake, which he believes left no major modern building undamaged. He is in San Francisco to attend the world convention of the Pre-Stress Concrete Institute, which opens today.

BY MERRILL CRISSEY

First the lights in the hotel went out. The street lights were still on, for a few moments. Then they went out too.

I tried to get out of bed. I swung legs over the side, and it seemed as if the floor came up to meet me. I tried to stand up. I couldn't.

The floor seemed to throw me right back on the bed. I knew it was a quake. I've been in a couple of small ones in California before. But they never bothered me.

This, I'll tell you, was the worst scare I ever had or ever hope to have in my life. I kicked myself for not checking earlier where the fire escape and stairs were.

I felt my way down three floors to the lobby. Somebody had got hold of some candles, and pretty soon just about all the guests were down there in pajamas and housecoats. I don't think anybody was hurt at my hotel, the Ritz.

The Mexican people I saw secmed a lot calmer than the American tourists. Some of the tourists got pretty excited.

It seemed as if half the population of Mexico City was going into the churches.

The older part of the city, where most of the churches are, stood the quake a lot better than the newer part. I didn't see any damage to churches, but I didn't inspect any closely. I only had three hours and I wanted to see how modern construction down there would stand up.

My field is stresses. In Florida it's the hurricane stresses we build for, but my firm engineers for earthquake country too, so this tour was more business than curiosity.

I saw dozens of modern buildings. I didn't see one that wasn't damaged and I doubt if there were any. Where two buildings were close, cornices were knocked off from them banging together.

Buildings hitting each other probably wouldn't happen in a place like New York, but Mexico City is built on volcanic rock — old ash. Everybody in the higher buildings noticed the sway.

NO LONGER SAFE

I'm certain many of those buildings will have to be condemned. They've been wrenched to the point where they are no longer safe.

I couldn't even begin to make a guess at damage — millions and millions. It may be months before a halfway good estimate can be made.

It probably seems funny to the average person that the modern buildings didn't stand up as well as those old churches. But 400 years ago they tried to build for eternity.

Farmington Man Dies in Crash

Companion Injured When Dump Truck Hits Tree, Overturns

Thomas W. Arnold, 21, of 2114 Roosevelt St., was pronounced dead of a broken neck and skull fracture at the scene by Deputy Coroner, Dr. Isaac Prevette.

Fred Dailey, 19, of 35893 Clark St., Novi, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for leg and head cuts. Deputies believe Arnold fell asleep at the wheel of the dump truck he was driving.

Dailey was asleep in the truck at the time of the accident. The truck ran off the road and hit a tree, overturning about 500 feet south of Avon road.

Lakes Claim 3 Over Weekend

Recover Bodies After Drownings in Wing, Oakland, Dixie Lakes

Drownings took the lives of two men and a five-year-old boy in Oakland County waters this weekend.

Dead are: Richard Clay, 28, of 56 Chapman St.; Stefan Purka, 33, of 17808 Orleans St., Detroit; and William J. Graham, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Graham Sr., of 2633 Meadow Wood Rd., Toledo.

Clay drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming about 40 to 50 feet from shore in Dixie Lake, Springfield Township, said sheriff's deputies.

He had been wading and fishing along the shore with friends, Joe W. Wright, 37, of 46 Lull St., and Quincy Alston, 33, of 321 Rockwell St.

They told deputies that Clay decided to swim out and back after they finished fishing. He swam out and evidently became entangled in weeds.

Purka drowned while swimming in Lake Oakland, Waterford Township Sunday. He was a guest at the Ukranian Catholic Camp, 3250 Walton Blvd., and was swimming alone near a dam in the lake.

A friend, George Diaczak, who lived with Purka, and Rev. Stephen V. Knapp, in charge of the camp, called Waterford Police and sheriff's deputies when they couldn't locate Purka at about 9 p.m.

Deputies, with the aid of a portable spotlight, found his body about 40 feet from shore in approximately 10 feet of water.

The tube was found on shore and it is believed the child brought it in, and then returned to the water. He was seen floating just below the surface in about 5½ feet of water by Mrs. D. B. Dickenson Jr., of 6005 Walnut Lake Rd.

FBI Goes to Town

WASHINGTON (INS) — The FBI stepped up its war against crime during the fiscal year which ended June 30 as it recorded a 10-year high in convictions.

New Treasury Secretary Anderson Takes Oath

Eisenhower's remark after the oath-taking ceremony in the cabinet room of the White House seemed more a reference to the difficulties of managing the nation's finances in current times than a simple greeting.

To retiring Secretary George M. Humphrey, Eisenhower said: "George, now you're just an ex-bureaucrat."

Eisenhower held a Bible, on which Anderson placed his hand, as Judge Warren Burger of U.S. Court of Appeals administered the oath to the new cabinet officer.

Anderson, 47, has been meeting with Treasury officials to prep for the cabinet post most of the time since Humphrey announced his resignation May 29, effective when his successor was ready to take over.

ROBERT ANDERSON

Humphrey, often called the "strong man" of the Eisenhower cabinet, was understood to have recommended Anderson as his successor.

Humphrey, 67, is expected to become board chairman of National Steel Corp. He has said the government should not be run by "doddering old men" because "there's no future for the Republican Party in that."

His successor has crammed high honors and great responsibilities into his shorter life. Eisenhower picked Anderson to be secretary of the Navy in 1953, then made him deputy secretary of defense.

HAD BIG JOB AT 31

Born in Burleson, Tex., Anderson was just 31 when he became general manager of a 300-million-dollar cattle, oil, farming and real estate empire, the W. T. Waggoner estate in Texas.

★ ★ ★

He was a Texas Democrat-for-Eisenhower in 1952, and left the Waggoner estate willingly when the President beckoned him to Washington to become boss of the Navy. Anderson had never been even an ordinary seaman, because of a slight limp left over from a polio attack at age 3.

Eisenhower kept him at the Navy less than a year, then made him deputy secretary of defense—reputedly because Anderson was a man who could avoid controversy.

36 Perish in Multiple-Fatality Accidents

Death Comes Wholesale Across U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A headon collision on a sunny Texas highway . . . a fiery smash-up near a New York summer resort . . . a capsized boat on Puget Sound . . . a car in a muddy Virginia pond . . . plane crashes in Florida and Maine.

So went the grim story of wholesale death and multiple disaster across the nation over the weekend. Thirty-six men, women and children died. Whole families were wiped out.

The worst accident came on a straight stretch of highway near Kenedy, Tex., on a sunny Saturday afternoon. A head-on collision of two cars claimed nine lives. The dead included five members of a single family.

An outing on the wind-whipped waters of Puget Sound in Washington turned to tragedy for two Seattle families Saturday. Four adults and four children drowned when their small outboard motorboat capsized off Oak Harbor.

Six more persons drowned near Fredericksburg, Va., yesterday when their car veered off the highway and plunged into the muddy waters of a roadside millpond. They ranged in age from 7 to 53. One occupant of the car escaped.

Six young people perished in a flaming, two-car crash early yesterday near the summer resort of Sylvan Beach, N.Y. The dead included three members of one family. A 19-year-old girl was the only survivor.

Four persons died yesterday when their private plane plummeted into woods on the Eglin Air Force Base reservation about 40 miles east of Pensacola, Fla.

Another plane crash took three lives in the remote northern Maine community of Allagash. The private plane cracked up while landing at a small airstrip.

WILLIAM BANK

RICHARD REYNOLDS

Two Pontiac High School students who hold top positions on the school newspaper, the Tomahawk, are attending the University of Michigan Department of Journalism summer session. They are sponsored by The Pontiac Press.

The two are William Bank, son of Dr. and Mrs. Milton Bank, and Richard Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reynolds. Bill will be an assistant editor on the school paper the coming year and Dick will be sports editor.

At the two-weeks summer session the boys, with students from other high schools, will get practice in meeting the problems of producing high school publications, under direction of the journalism department faculty, and selected high school teachers also attending the summer session.

BULLDOZING FOR BODIES — Bulldozers were utilized to search for victims of yesterday's Mexico City earthquake. An estimated 10 persons were believed killed in the collapse of this apartment building. Soldiers in steel helmets aided police and firemen in the grim search.

The Day in Birmingham

Board Sees Opposition; Expect Lengthy Session

BIRMINGHAM — Two hearings both with opposition factors may well lengthen what otherwise appears as a short session for city commissioners tonight.

A petition to rezone property on the west side of north Woodward avenue from terrace to multiple dwellings has brought signed opposition from 25 persons living in the Lakeside-Redding area.

They point out that this particular type of zoning may see the construction of a more than two and one half story apartment which would be foreign to the type of home already constructed there.

The second hearing an informal one, concerns the proposed sidewalk for Derby road. When this subject first appeard on the agenda last week, residents voiced strong opposition to the idea.

Other commission considerations tonight will be several reports from the city manager, the receipt of special assessment rolls for the Lake Park sewer and Elm street sidewalk.

There will also be a special report on the city's assessment procedures.

A husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Priehs of 890 N Pemberton Rd., Bloomfield Hills, were injured Saturday night when Mrs. Priehs lost control of the car and struck a tree.

She told police that she was making a left turn on Woodward avenue at the Long Lake crossover, and being unused to the car's power steering, lost control of the vehicle.

Priehs, 49, and Mrs. Priehs, 43, were treated for cuts about their heads.

Three home burglaries were reported to police over the weekend. At the Joseph E. Williams, 511 Merrill St., police recorded another visit from the "walk-in" burglar.

Mrs. Williams told investigating officers that she came home from shopping and laid her purse on the table. Sometime within the next half hour while she was upstairs and her husband in the basement, someone entered the unlocked front door and removed three $10 bills from her purse.

Police said that this has happened several times recently and again asked householders to make sure that all doors are securely locked.

At the Robert Conroy home, 797 S. Glenhurst Rd., entry was made through a sun-porch window Saturday. Bedroom drawers and desks were thoroughly ransacked. The Conroys who returned home yesterday reported the theft of an automatic pistol, fur cape, jewelry and a camera.

On the same day the Theodore Vaughan home, 765 S. Glenhurst Rd., was robbed of a lighter and a small Gladstone bag. Entry was gained through a summer porch and the same search system was used in both cases.

Lines Up With Southern Opponents

Sen. Jackson Supports Jury Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) supported today a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill. He said he was unwilling to "endanger one civil right to guard another."

His stand in a prepared Senate speech lined him up on the jury trial issue with the bill's Southern opponents after he had voted against them on other phases of their battle.

The jury trial proposal shaped up as the issue that may determine the course of the battle over the House-passed measure, on which the Senate now is starting a fourth week of debate.

If a jury trial amendment is adopted, indications are that the Senate may pass the bill late this week or early next week. If not, a Southern filibuster may break out and prolong the fight indefinitely.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), leader of the Dixie forces, said he thinks the vote on the jury trial issue will be very close.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted defeat for the jury trial amendment.

The jury trial issue springs from the authority the bill would confer on the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of the right to vote.

Under present law, defendants in contempt of court cases growing out of injunctions obtained by the government are not entitled to a jury trial.

An amendment offered by Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Church (D-Idaho) would provide for jury trials in all criminal contempt cases — whether they involve civil rights, labor disputes or anything else and regardless of whether the government is a party to the proceedings.

Criminal contempt proceedings are designed to punish a person for willful disobedience of an injunction or other court order. The maximum penalty under the amendment would be a $1,000 fine or six months in jail, or both.

In civil contempt cases, aimed only at obtaining compliance with a court order, no jury trial would be provided. If a person were sent to jail, he could purge himself of contempt and go free at any time by agreeing to comply with the court's order.

Juvenile Waiver Will Be Sought planned at a meeting July 21 with a 15-year-old girl.

Originally, it was planned for five boys to be in on the holdup, and for the stickup to be pulled July 23. At the last moment, the three other boys couldn't take part and the holdup was rescheduled for Thursday.

The holdup went awry because of the shooting. The boys did not disturb the $300 in the cash register, nor another $800 in a cigar box at the rear of the store.

ANOTHER ROBBERY

Sgt. David Harris said the failure to obtain any money in the Fox holdup led the boys to rob a market at 1501 Pallister of $335 Thursday night.

He said the boys would be used in several police showups Monday. He also planned to ask the Probate Court to waive jurisdiction over the boys so they could be charged with first-degree murder.

Detective William Brown of the police scientific laboratory said tests of Jones gun showed it was the weapon used in the slaying.

The Curleys live in two bedrooms on the third floor and share living room and kitchen on the second floor with Jones. The arrangement has been in effect for about a year, according to the owner of the building.

Mrs. Alzatee Crawford, the owner, described the Curley boy as "mannerly and not one likely to get into trouble."

She said his father works in a factory and his mother at Receiving Hospital. Young Curley had been going to summer school, Mrs. Crawford said.

Dulles to Lend Personal Hand

Flying to Conference on Disarmament With 'Open Skies' Key Issue

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was flying to London today to take a personal hand in the stalled five-power disarmament talks at President Eisenhower's request.

One prime purpose of the trip reportedly was to work out a precise "open skies" plan for Europe which the European allies would support.

Dulles will confer with Harold E. Stassen, chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee, and with Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

British newspapers described the secretary's visit as a "major event in international affairs" and expressed hope it would provide a turning point in the long efforts to end the East-West arms race.

Officials in Washington said what Dulles learns in his consultations may decide whether the disarmament talks should continue or recess.

The U.S. diplomat and his aides came here from talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, one of the participating nations in the subcommittee talks.

Dulles was reported to have received Canada's support for the U.S. proposal for mutual aerial inspection of arctic zones in Canada and Soviet Russia as one phase of a first-stage disarmament agreement.

Dulles' arrival coincided with presentation at the five-power talks of U.S. proposals for implementing Eisenhower's plan for aerial inspection zones on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The open skies plan calls for a check on whether any arms reduction or control agreement is being faithfully carried out.

One report said Dulles may make a flying trip to Paris to confer with the North Atlantic Treaty Council on the open skies issues.

Stassen would present whatever detailed plan ensues from the Dulles talks to the Russian delegation. The Soviets then are expected either to request a recess to study the idea or respond at once with a counterproposal.

Denver to Greet Favorite Girl, Mamie, Today

DENVER (INS) — Denver prepared to greet its favorite daughter, Mamie Eisenhower, today when the first lady of the nation lands at Lowry Air Force Base.

Mrs. Eisenhower will arrive about noon aboard the Columbine III, accompanied by her secretary, Mary Jane McCaffree, and the President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder.

During her staty in the mile high city, the first lady will occupy the presidential suite of the Brown Palace Hotel rather than her mother's home. Her mother, Mrs. John Doud, is entertaining her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Carlson of Boone, Ia.

A reception committee will meet the presidential plane. On hand will be Gov. Steve McNichols, Mayor Will Nicholson, and family friend Aksel Nielsen.

The first lady will attend the dedication of Mamie Doud Eisenhower Park in southeast Denver Thursday and return to Washington by Sunday for the 35th birthday of her son, Maj. John Eisenhower.

"Why doesn't General Motors let the teens use the vacant space on Baldwin Avenue used during school time for industrial education? It's wasted space in the summer. We could get enough chaperones."

Mrs. Joseph Freer, of 253 N. Perry St., thinks teens need more clubs, dances and a large recreation center.

"I have two daughters and I know they would enjoy a Girls' Club similar to the one we have for boys," she said.

43 Lives Are Lost in Mexican Quake

ted the resort town of Acapulco, 215 miles south of the capital, had borne the brunt of the shock.

No one could recall when so severe a quake had struck this sprawling metropolis. On the basis of the seismographs, Mexico City should have been in ruins and Acapulco almost totally destroyed.

Loss of life in Mexico City was limited because of the hour. By day, falling masonry and splintered glass would have caused thousands of casualties.

Acapulco's jammed tourist hotels largely escaped heavy damage, but the tropical boulevards and twisting streets were littered with glass and mortar.

HOMES DAMAGED

Chilpancingo, a town of 9,000, suffered the worst blow outside Mexico City. Half its homes were damaged, many of them beyond repair. One of the state capital's leading hotels fell apart. Its proprietor died in the ruins.

Nerves of foreign visitors suffered considerably. Mexico City's Paseo de Reforma was crowded in the chill dawn with hotel evacuees shivering in their night clothes.

In the new seven-million-dollar, 400-room Continental Hilton Hotel, guests trapped behind jammed doors in the plush building yelled for help. The lights went out, the plumbing failed and a big crack widened down one outside wall.

At first it seemed the hotel might have to be emptied. But normal service was restored and the litter cleaned up enough to permit 80 per cent occupancy by tonight. Managing director Warren Broglie estimated repairs would cost about $80,000 mostly in redecorating.

VISITORS BARRED

Other buildings did not fare so well. A 14-story structure housing the Canadian Embassy and former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer's law offices was so badly shaken its tenants were not permitted to visit their premises. Engineers' reports were awaited to determine whether it could be reoccupied.

Apartment buildings and skyscrapers in much of the downtown area were under examination to determine their safety. Newspapers quickly came out with demands for stricter building code controls to avert a similar condition in the future.

Enjoy Good Time Politicians Admit Only for Moment

MENOMINEE (AP) — Separate groups of Democrats and Republicans, though a little red-faced, admitted they had a good time together for a moment on the weekend.

By happenstance, a Republican welcoming party met Democratic Gov. Williams at the airport for the annual Menominee County Dairy Day picnic Saturday.

It definitely was not planned that way.

Later, the Republican group and a Democratic delegation joined hands, figuratively, to welcome Republican Sen. Potter, who arrived on another plane.

Politicians all, they made the best of it in the best of humor.

Then they went to the picnic separately.

Labor Probe Revealing

WASHINGTON — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), saying his committee's union investigations had found "extensive" corruption stated: "I don't mean by that to indicate that all labor unions are corrupt, dishonest or inefficiently managed. But conditions we have found are more widespread than we anticipated when we began our inquiry."

Showers yesterday in the metropolitan New York area, the Hudson River Valley of New York, New Jersey and New England brought little relief from the long drought.

Damage estimates in the millions continued to mount.

Civil defense pumping equipment stored in a warehouse at Torrington, Conn., will be used to pump water from streams and ponds directly into dried-up farm areas or into tank trucks for distribution. The equipment includes generators, pumps and 10 miles of pipe.

Babies' Deaths Major Problem

They Average More Than 135,000 Annually, Study Reveals

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Perinatal mortality — the death of infants before or soon after birth — continues to be a major medical problem, according to a recent study by a large life insurance company.

In recent years perinatal deaths have averaged more than 135,000 a year in the United States. Approximately half of these are stillbirths, and the remaining half are babies dying within one week of birth.

Some progress has been made in reducing the perinatal mortality rate — it fell about one-third between 1940 and 1954 — but the improvement has lagged far behind that for childbirth mortality among mothers, which decreased 86 per cent in the same period.

The major factors contributing to the death toll in the perinatal period, the study shows, are lack of early and adequate prenatal care; twin and other plural births; puerperal toxemia; chronic and infectious diseases in the mother; and the use of inadequately trained midwives, a practice which is still fairly common in some sections of the country.

Cesarean births, while quite safe for the mother, are still attended with high risk to the infant.

"The high death toll both before and soon after birth can be reduc through the wider application of present knowledge and the development of new knowledge regarding the factors affecting the ability to survive in this critical period of life," according to the company's health authorities.

"It is of prime importance that women be educated to seek prenatal care early and to remain under continuous medical supervision throughout pregnancy. In the course of prenatal instruction, women should be alerted to signs and symptoms that may indicate impending complications.

"Such measures will help bring closer the goal of reducing perinatal mortality by about one-third — the proportion considered preventable even with our present knowledge. Insasmuch as understanding of many of the causes and factors in perinatal mortality is still rudimentary, there is great need for research in this field."

Muscovite Brings Gift of Oranges to Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Anastasiya Filimonova, 63, didn't realize there was so much of everything in the United States when she left Moscow for Detroit.

So when her plane stopped at Copenhagen for fuel, she bought five oranges to bring as a gift to her daughter, Mrs. Alexandra Novitzsky.

Mrs. Novitzsky accepted the gift graciously, but later took her mother to a Detroit supermarket.

Youth Tells Newspaper It Exaggerated War

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy entered the newsroom of the Durham Morning Herald and asked to see the newspaper files of World War II.

"I've read about it in history books and I want to see how the newspapers wrote it," the lad explained.

A reporter showed him the files and said, "Let me know what you think of it."

An hour later the boy came out of the library, regarded the reporter accusingly and said, "I think you exaggerated it."

Jet Ace Wins Bendix Air Race

Averages 679 MPH in Setting New Record; Has Just Enough Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jet ace Kenneth D. Chandler won the Bendix Air Race yesterday with a record speed performance—but he almost ran out of fuel at the end.

Piloting a Convair F102 interceptor, Air Force Capt. Chandler averaged 679 miles an hour in flying the 620 miles from Chicago's O'Hare Field to Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland. Elapsed time of the flight was 54 minutes 45½ seconds.

Chandler bested five other Air Force pilots, all of whom flew delta-wing F102s.

Chandler's record was 13 miles an hour faster than the former mark set last year by Maj. Manuel (Pete) Fernandez.

Chandler, a 33-year-old Korean War veteran from Compton, Calif., and Duluth, Minn., took on a minimum fuel supply to hold down his plane's weight.

"My engine flamed out for lack of fuel as I taxied down the runway after the landing," he said.

He estimated his plane flew faster than the speed of sound for "about half the way."

The Bendix race was one of the first events of a celebration marking the 50th anniversary of the U.S. Air Force. The celebration is sponsored by the Air Force Assn. and is scheduled to run for several days. The actual anniversary date is Aug. 1.

Another feature of the air show was the Ricks Memorial Race, won by Maj. Peter R. Phillipy, 35, Pittsburgh. Phillipy, a Pennsylvania Air National Guard pilot, flew a Republic F84F jet fighter the 2,680 miles from Fresno, Calif., to the Andrews base at an average speed of 638 miles an hour. The flight took 4 hours 13 minutes 40 seconds.

More than 75,000 persons who attended the air show saw the first public flight of the Ryan X13 vertijet, an experimental plane which takes off and lands vertically, and of the Republic F105 supersonic fighter-bomber.

11,200-Mile Radio Chat Held by IGY Scientists

One, Dr. Charles R. Bentley, is in the antarctic. The other, Maurice J. Davidson, is in the arctic. Both are working on research projects for the International Geophysical Year.

They reported that reception on their ham radios was as clear as a bell.

Bentley and Davidson, both 26, are on the staff of gcolumbia University's Lamont Geological Observatory. Columbia told of the radio chat yesterday.

Kentucky has approximately 550 lakes for fishing.

Billy Graham Tells Young People:

'Find Security and a Master in Christ'

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says young people seek security and "want a master." He says they can find both in Christ.

Graham spoke to a near-capacity crowd of 19,000 at Madison Square Garden last night. Young people predominated in the audience.

The evangelist will take tonight off to get some rest. He will resume his New York crusade in the Garden tomorrow night.

Graham's subject was the problems of teen-agers. His text was from the 12th chapter of Ecclesiastes and began: "Remember now thy Creator in the day of thy youth. . . ."

Referring to a national magazine article on youth's search for security, Graham said: "You were created for fellowship with God. Without God you go astray in all directions. Christ can give you the security you need.

"I have discovered that young people want to be controlled. Christ wants to be the lord and master of your life. You need a rudder, a compass, a radio beam to direct you through the fog and mist of life. Christ can give you that direction."

Taking up the sex problems of youth, Graham said he feels sorry for today's young people because sex is thrown at them on all sides and they are confronted by newsstands filled with what he called obscene literature. This, he said, makes the problem more difficult for them than it was for young people of earlier generations.

At the end of Graham's message, 656 persons, a majority of them youthful, came forward to make "decisions for Christ." That brought the total for the New York crusade to 39,584.

Attendance now totals 1,295,100.

Push-Button 'Copters Boost Military Punch

WASHINGTON (INS) — Something new has been added to America's military punch: A pilotlett, television camera equipped helicopter than can carry out extensive reconnaisance over unfamiliar or enemy-held territory.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industrias Association, says the remote controlled helicopter was developed after four years of experimentation by an aircraft manufacturer under a joint Army-Navy program.

Polio Soon to Be Disease of Past

In the light of 27 months experience there's no doubt in the minds of top medical men that Salk vaccine can wipe out paralytic polio.

Among conclusions reached during that time are that polio, a crippling disease of both children and adults, can be licked by three inoculations of the vaccine; that it's safe; that even one or two shots give a certain degree of immunity.

The records show that 68.1 million persons have received one or more shots, 20.2 million of whom have had the required three. Among the latter group in an 18 month period ending July 1, the incidence of paralytic polio was infinitesimal — 42 cases, one per 500,000 with two deaths, one of which may not have been from polio.

In the same period there were an estimated 7,290 cases among those who did not get the Salk vaccine, or the full series, that is one in 20,000 with 598 deaths — one per 240,000. The first half of 1956 saw 2,927 cases of all types of polio in contrast to 1,557 cases in the first six months of this year.

What is of even more importance is the fact that in the first 27 weeks of this year the number of paralytic cases was less than half that for the same period last year. The protection afforded by the vaccine begins to build up within a few days after the first injection, says U. S. News and World Report. In 1955 tests, Dr. Salk reports that one dose gave effective protection to 60 per cent or more cases.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Public Health Service statistics for 1956 show that attacks of paralytic polio have been 75 to 80 per cent lower among persons with one or two inoculations than among those with none at all. Furthermore, when polio does hit a person who has had one or two shots, it is less damaging than among those not inoculated.

Initial research projects included the work of thousands of devoted scientists who supplied the knowledge which enable Dr. Salk to perfect the vaccine. The cost was $25.5 million — very little indeed compared to the protection provided.

The goal ahead is inoculation of all the estimated 108 million persons in the under 40 year age bracket. When this has been accomplished, doctors agree that polio will be wiped out completely in the United States.

Bases in Spain

We now have in Spain a naval base, four air bases, a double base, a supply base and a 475 mile pipeline.

The U.S. Air Force and Navy will soon have a large base at Rota, seven miles across the bay from Cadiz. Other bases in operation but not entirely completed are near Seville, Madrid and Saragossa and we also have a fuel pipeline from Rota to Saragossa.

All this cost us $400 million and took seven years to negotiate and build. Spain has the right to use the bases jointly with U.S. forces by mutual consent. When the agreement terminates in 10, 15 or 20 years, depending on extensions, from September 1953, the bases will revert to Spain.

The Spaniards are not too happy about the bases for they realize they would be the objects of retaliatory attacks in case of war. But it is a calculated risk and we must have strong defenses to discourage any idea of attack.

Colored Currency Sure to Simplify Handling

It remains for an Australian visitor to step up with a suggestion for improving our current "financial situation" without adding or detracting a single dollar.

"All your paper money is green," says he, "and this is a quaint and very old fashioned idea. Why don't you employ yellow, blue and red to help distinguish all bills at a glance?"

Perhaps he's right.
He may have something.
Wouldn't it make the handling of money easier everywhere if all the five dollar bills were red, all the tens yellow and all the twenties blue?
What's wrong with that?
Who would object?

At first, prejudice might be against the change and acceptance of the idea could be reluctant in conservative quarters. However, as that wore away, the whole problem of money handling would be simplified without additional cost.

Wouldn't you really get a kick out of a handful of "redbacks" or a pocket bulging with "yellowbacks" or a fistful of "bluebacks?"

The Popular Time

Now in Midst of Vacation Period With Highest Favor

The two-week period that bridges the last week in July and first week in August always is the most popular vacation time of the year. Contacts with the AAA, travel agencies, transportation lines and other sources always bear out this fact. A great majority of our people consider it to be the ideal time to get out and go. And in our own Michigan at this time there's always plenty of places to do that very thing.

"My eight-year-old daughter is raising a cucumber that will beat the one from Independence, Mo., that weighed two and one-half pounds, which you recently showed in a big picture at the top of your first page," writes of Metamora. She continues, "It already weighs almost that much and is rapidly expanding. She has picked all other cucumbers and blossoms from the vine, so it gets all of its energy." Mrs. Beauclair also gets facetious by closing with: "Anyway, we're glad to see something worthwhile come out of Independence, Mo."

The local army draft boards send only 16 men in their August quota. The Pontiac City board sends six and the out-county board sends ten. The induction date for both is Aug. 9.

The Weak Link

David Lawrence Says:

Coercionism—It Just Won't Work

WASHINGTON— Coercionism — the misguided tactic of too many of the so-called "liberals" of today — just will not work.

LAWRENCE

This has just been impressively demonstrated in the handling by Congress of the two major pieces of legislation — the modification of the "civil rights" bill and the side-tracking of federal aid for schools.

It is unrealistic to say, as some of the partisans now are saying, that if President Eisenhower had only fought harder for the school bill he could have gotten it through the House.

What killed the bill for this session was the mistaken zeal of a large group of both Northern Democrats and Republicans who tried to jam down the throats of the Southern people a measure that would have deprived them of Federal money for their schools unless they accepted "integration."

What is generally overlooked by the critics is that, even had there been approval by the House, no such bills would have gotten by in the Senate anyway.

NOT REALLY LIBERALISM

It is passing strange how often so many of the so-called "liberals" openly advocate that the President apply threats and the tactics of pressure to coerce the members of his own party in Congress. This is euphemistically described as a means of exercising "leadership."

It runs counter, however, to true liberalism which holds that the elected representatives of the people should represent the will of their constituents and should not surrender convictions by succumbing to the blandishments of Presidential patronage or special favor.

The idea is frequently advanced that all a President has to do is to "crack the whip" and, to change metaphors, he will then have a "rubber stamp" Congress to do his bidding. This isn't true representative government today and it never has been. Presidents have won major causes only when they could convincingly persuade and not when they tried to coerce.

The real reason why the $1,500,000,000 school bill failed is that the sponsors of it have not yet sold it to the country. There is, of course, need for more classrooms and in some areas certainly Federal aid is essential if there is to be any immediate program of construction.

But the very partisans who are complaining about the President's failure "to fight aggressively" for the school bill forget that they themselves helped to build up throughout the nation the so-called "economy mood" of today which began when the critics last January assailed the $71.8 billion budget of the Administration.

SCHOOL BATTLE NEXT YEAR

There wasn't a Chinaman's chance of passing any kind of a school aid bill at this session. The Southern bloc had its back up and so did the economy-minded bloc of the House. This was a big enough coalition to form a majority—and the decision was to postpone school legislation until next session when the real battle for it will take place.

As for coercionism, it is not working in the "civil rights" fight and it never will bring "integration" in the South. Such ill-advised proposals as the one introduced by a so-called Democratic "liberal" in the Senate the other day—to reduce the South's proportion of representation in Congress if more Negroes didn't vote—is reminiscent of the way the Republican Congressmen from the North functioned in Reconstruction days.

Also, to deny jury trial on the theory that Southern people on juries cannot be trusted to render just verdicts, is the way to increase discord and dissension.

Whatever may be the solution ultimately to the handling of the race problem in America, it can come only through voluntarism—and not coercionism. There is nothing "liberal" about coercive tactics however tempting may be the Machiavellian maxim of totalitarian minds that the end justifies the means.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Constant Users of Shots Like an Untrusting Mule

"My brother had a bad running ear for three years. Doctors kept giving him expensive 'shots,' but without apparent benefit. I kept urging him to try the ear drops you recommend for it, but he laughed at me, saying 'You women are too gullible.'" (Mrs. L. K.)

DR. BRADY

Which reminds me of the mule that had no faith at all in the veterinary. The vet cured him just the same.

★ ★ ★

Now take this case, for example. For three years the poor soul kept running from doctor to doctor and "shot" to "shot"—no doubt administered by the office girl when the doctor wasn't around—because he had simple, childish faith that a dose of medicine via the needle is so much more potent than it would be if taken in the ordinary way.

A lot of hard-headed characters share his belief—they pay from $2 to $7.50 per "shot" for B1 (Thiamin) which in tablet form suitable for taking by mouth costs less than a cent.

What's more, some of these shrewd yokels declare that a dose of thiamin administered by the office girl who looks like a nurse (on TV) gives them more "pep" than any quantity of vitamins taken in the ordinary way.

BROTHER TRIES DROPS

"Finally," continues Mrs. L. K. "my brother said 'OK, if it will make you any happier I'll try the —.' I won't repeat what he called you, but he insisted he'd use the drops for a week, no longer.

"Before the week was up," continues Mrs. L. K., "his ear had stopped running and there has been no sign of trouble since—some six months now."

Here are the directions I give for anyone who has chronic running ear:

1. Cease plugging the ear with cotton. Instead, leave it always open to free ventilation.

2. Drop in the ear each night and morning two or three drops of a solution of ten grains of boric acid in an ounce of pure grain alcohol. Use a blunt medicine dropper and always warm the solution by letting the vial stand in hot water for a while before using.

3. If your druggist will Lot provide the solution for you, just say, "Oh, I see. Then a bottle of rubbing alcohol, if you please."

4. Use the rubbing alcohol instead of pure grain alcohol, to make up the ear drops yourself.

5. Here's how. Put in the one fluid ounce vial as much boric acid powder as you can quickly heap on a dime. Then fill the vial with the alcohol.

I have received hundreds of reports from readers who say these ear drops corrected the trouble in days or weeks and as a rule without recurrence.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Cites Jesus' Use of Psychology

Notice how Jesus employed psychology to avoid a trap. Business experts are now using psychology as never before, because we live in cities, surrounded by people. So the wise choice of words can spell the difference between success and failure. This is now a conversational age.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, don't you think psychology is worth at least 50 per cent as regards business success?" he inquired as we lunched together recently.

"In our firm, we find that employees need far more than a fair wage scale.

"They also have ego hungers that likewise must be satisfied. In fact, I have seen able workers take a lower salary in order to move into a department where they could have a private office or their name on the company letterhead.

"Management is now beginning to wake up to the need for Applied Psychology as never before.

"The newspapers which have sponsored your scientific column thus deserve praise for having jumped the gun."

FOREMOST PSYCHOLOGIST

Yes, I heartily agree that psychology is worth at least 50 per cent toward your ultimate success not only in business but in almost all other walks of life.

And Jesus is the world's foremost Applied Psychologist. If you re-read the four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, with this thought in mind, you will be thrilled anew at the biography of Christ.

"Man shall not live by bread alone," Jesus wisely warned us, so workers crave far more rewards than just a cash wage to buy food for their stomachs.

Sometimes just a single word or sentence can obviate family feuds, industrial strife, divorce, delinquency and even world wars.

Many years ago when he was asked to define literary style, Dean Swift said it is simply "proper words in proper places."

★ ★ ★

CONDEMNED WOMAN

Don't you recall the time when an adulterous woman was brought before Christ for his judgment?

According to the old Mosaic Law, she was to be stoned to death. And a crowd of eager stone throwers was on hand to use her as their target.

The fifth columnists in the crowd thought they had Jesus cornered. For if he vetoed the law of Moses, then he would be indicted.

And if he urged her death, his emphasis on forgiveness and sympathy would also be largely demolished.

So his foes were probably rubbing their hands together in glee at the dilemma which they thrust upon Christ.

"He that is without sin among you," said Jesus, "let him first cast a stone at her."

And the Bible says Christ then resumed writing in the sand. But the men were indicted by their own consciences and slipped away, one by one, till no accusers were left.

ANTONY'S TECHNIQUE

And at the death of Caesar, the rabble had been roused to such a pitch they were ready to lynch anybody who even whispered a good word in Caesar's defense.

But Marc Antony was Caesar's friend and resolved to see that Cassius and Brutus were punished. But how could he, as a lone man, turn the tide of the entire crowd?

Shakespeare recounts the speech of Antony with such skill that it merits your re-reading that famous oration.

By a few deft words, interspersed in his opening paragraphs, Antony soon switched the crowd to his viewpoint, after which they set out to lynch Brutus and Cassius. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Animal Welfare Is Place for Pets, Not on Doorstep'

Many pets have been dropped off on roads or doorsteps in this community and probably others by persons who couldn't care for them or already had a pet.

Those who do this should think twice. It would be a lot better to take them to the animal welfare where someone who hasn't a pet could give them a nice home.

Answers Letter on Thank You's

I agree to a certain extent with the writer who discussed thank-you notes. Nine months certainly is much too long to wait to send thanks for a wedding present. But I disagree heartily with some "etiquette books" which say all notes should be written within two or three weeks after the wedding.

For one thing, most couples are on a honeymoon for two weeks or more and I'm sure no one would expect the bride to spend that time writing notes. After that, the bride usually goes back to work full time in addition to the job of keeping house and cooking meals for the first time. Consequently, weekends are just about the only time she has to write the notes.

Considering that many girls have between 100 and 200 notes to write it's almost impossible to get the notes written within less than five or six weeks, which some "authorities" generously allow. It could be done sooner, I suppose, if someone else writes them, or if all notes are exactly alike, as some girls send. But I would prefer to get an especially nice note written a little later than one a week after the wedding which says "Dear Mrs. Jones, Thank you for the tray, Jane" like some I've received.

'Could Rainbows Vanish for Year?'

Last week I heard a warm discussion over the fact Easterners don't see rainbows any more because of the Geophysical Year. Is this true?

Has anyone around Pontiac seen any rainbows lately? Is it possible that rainbows would disappear for a year? What does McMath Observatory say about that? Does the Cranbrook Institute of Science have any light to shed?

There are more old wives' tales in regard to nature than any other thing. But these people from the East all swore they hadn't seen a rainbow in some time.

They Don't Agree About Vacations

The letter in Voice of the People from Lucky 13 on taking vacations together is one of the nicest The Press has printed. The writer must be a splendid, upstanding Christian woman. If I were married to her, I'd want to spend my entire vacation right where she was.

Sometimes the light that filters through the colored windows in church is a little more beautiful and a little softer than it is at other times, this leter from Lucky 13 has those inspiring qualities.

'Is Pontiac Doing Good Job in This?'

New York took in two million dollars in traffic fines three years ago. Last year they collected 12 million. Is Pontiac doing as good a job in this connection? We don't have to try and finance the whole cost of government like Waterford did, but we can certainly make transgressors pay for their sins. There's nothing wrong in that.

Canadian Discount Bothers Reader

Last week in Canada they discounted my money five per cent. On a $20 bill they took out one buck before they started to give me change. We're the biggest, most powerful and most important nation in the world. Why should anyone discount our money anywhere? And especially why should it be done by our nearest neighbors with whom we've gotten along for several centuries without trouble?

Is their money any better than ours? I don't want to discount theirs either. Can't two great neighbors like the United States and Canada get along without writing down the other fellow's cash? That's the last dime I'll spend in Canada until the thing is evened up.

'It Took Graham to Fill Stadium'

Billy Graham drew 100,000 to the Yankee Stadium, setting the all-time attendance record. In fact, the stadium won't seat that many. The extra tens of thousands just stood up.

That shows whether religion is on the upsweep. The Yankees couldn't draw that many people and neither could football or a prize fight. It took Graham and his message about God and the Bible. This nation is right now seeing a great return to the teachings of Christ.

Perhaps this will be the one great answer to all this juvenile delinquency which we've been worrying about. Here is a solution that very few people visualized. They overlooked the most simple way of all and instead they hunted for complex cures and upheavals.

All it takes is a greater faith in God and a willingness to declare yourself openly. Once religious fervor was partly concealed. Graham has made it something we take right out in the open with everyone looking and listening. He is a great man.

Can I say "I told you so?" They admit those dead fish are the result of DDT. I've been issuing warnings about using it indiscriminately. It's packed with danger. You can't upset nature's own balances too far. She fights back and mankind pays for his indiscretions.

But World Farming Population Shrinks

Food Output Increasing

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Thanks to improved agricultural methods the world is producing more food than ever although the per cent of the world's population engaged in farming is shrinking.

This was noted by the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) after a year-long study of man's position in his never ending endeavor to keep the stomach satisfied and leave a little in the pantry, too.

As usual not much data was available from the Soviet Union, but virtually all other U.N. member nations cooperated in the study, which disclosed that:

—The percentage of the world's population engage in agriculture has dropped to 59 by 1950 from the 63 per cent of 1937.

—This trend by farmers to leave their land and head for the cities has now been more than compensated for by an upward move in productivity of the fields. Agricultural production per head of world population during 1955-'56 reached 104 per cent of the pre-World War II level.

—Cultivation of new land is on the increase, with about 1,376,000,000 hectares (about 3,425,000,000 acres, now under crops, an increase of 18,000,000 hectares over last year.

—The higher production is in part a result of increased yield per acre of farmlands and the use of more fertilizer (consumption of which has more than doubled since World War II) gets a good part of the credit.

—Substitution of machines for muscles in doing the heavy work on the world's farms has helped tremendously just about everywhere, although Africa and the Near and Far East are still lagging.

FAO reported many European and Latin American countries, including Austria, France, Belgium, Brazil and Colombia, in 1955 were using twice the total number of tractors over the 1949-52 period.

Conversely the beasts of burden, with one exception are moving off the farms. The pre-war horse population of 74,700,000 had dropped to 60,000,000 by 1955, but the number of donkeys increased from 33,400,000 to 38,400,000—mostly in the Middle and Far East and Africa.

Although the study drew no conclusions, some of its statistics indicated a big increase in irrigation of farmlands was another important reason for increased total production and increased yields.

Thoughtfulness Downfall of Polite Holdup Men

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two holdup men agreed with restaurant manager Ulys Brogan it would be a shame to get his clothes dirty by lying on the floor, as they had ordered.

The bandits carefully spread paper napkins on the floor. Brogan stretched out. Meanwhile the cook, Anthony Neilson, 65, slipped away and telephoned police.

Officers nabbed two men emerging from the restaurant early yesterday and booked them as John L. Munkhoff, 27, and Buddy S. Klein, 27, for investigation of armed robbery.

Racial Unrest Strikes Chicago

Series of Riots Occur on City's South Side After Stoning at Picnic

CHICAGO (AP)—A series of riots broke out on Chicago's far South Side last night after an afternoon battle between whites and Negroes in which more than a score of persons were injured.

The first disturbance occurred at Calumet Park, where some 100 Negroes were holding a picnic. Police said a group of between 50 and 60 white persons began throwing stones at the Negroes. About 25 persons, most of them Negroes, were injured, none seriously. Some 100 policemen answered the riot call and quelled the fighting.

Police estimated that some 3,000 persons witnessed the brawl but there were several other thousands in the big park seeking relief from the 90-degree temperatures.

Some 300 policemen, both white and Negro, were on duty in the south Chicago and East Side districts last night as fresh rioting erupted. The districts, in the city's far southeast industrial section, are predominantly white.

★ ★ ★

Most of last night's police calls came after white persons stoned and burned cars driven by Negroes. Police said about a dozen cars were burned. Stones were thrown at two Chicago Transportation Authority buses, driven by Negroes, but later police rode the buses with Negro drivers.

Plenty of Pictures to Recall Wedding

DALLAS (AP)—Maxine Ritter is one bride who should have plenty of photographic mementos of her wedding.

She was married to Dr. Jack Tomlinson in a solemn and much-photographed ceremony before some 200 friends and relatives and 500 visiting photographers.

The new Mrs. Tomlinson and her groom were chosen by the Texas State Photographer's Convention to be real-life models for Francis Scheidegger of St. Louis, a nationally known photographer who was giving a demonstration on the fine points of wedding photography.

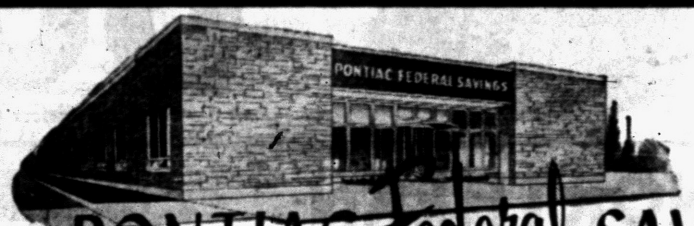

Lions Won't Sell

CAPETOWN (AP)—A private South African zoo was pretty successful when it held an auction recently—except for one item. Nobody wanted to buy the lions.

Gockel-Wyche Wedding at Lapeer

Father of Bridegroom Performs Rite

LAPEER — St. Paul Lutheran Church here Saturday afternoon was the scene of the double-ring rite uniting in marriage Marjorie Jean Wyche and Galen L. Gockel.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Wyche of 324 Angle Rd., Lapeer, are the parents of the bride and Dr. and Mrs. Herman W. Gockel of St. Louis, Mo., are the parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the young couple exchanged their marriage vows before the bridegroom's father, Dr. Herman W. Gockel, who was assisted by local pastor, the Rev. Harold Luke.

The altar was decorated with palms, branched candelabra and bouquets of white snapdragons and pink carnations. During the ceremony muted organ music was played by Mrs. Earl Stewart.

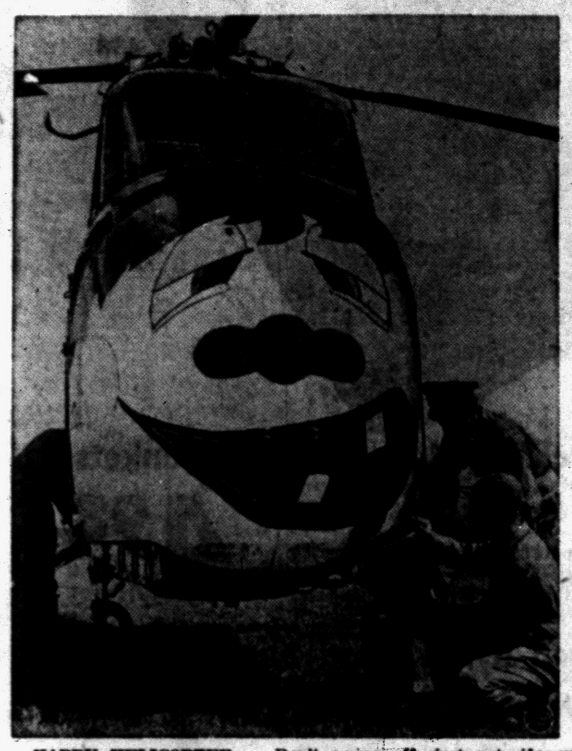

The bride wore a dress of fan lace over white taffeta, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and a full, ballerina-length skirt. Her shoulder veil of silk illusion was held in place by a floral bandeau and she carried a spray bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Maid of honor was the bridegroom's sister, Greta Gockel of St. Louis, and the bridesmaid was Janet Tolson, cousin of the bride, of Rock Island, Ill. They wore twin dresses of cotton satin in pink and blue, fashioned with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and flared skirts. Their spray bouquets were of pink, blue and white carnations.

Best man was Keith Krebs of Columbus, Ohio; groomsman was Donald Wyche, brother of the bride. Seating the guests were Kenneth Frankenstein of Decatur, Ill., and Donald Mallon of Ferndale.

The newlyweds are en route to Muskoka Lakes in Canada, for their honeymoon, and will return to reside at 400 East 33rd St., Apt. 813, Chicago.

HAPPY HELICOPTER — Don't swear off, just yet, if you happen to see "Henry the Helicopter" dancing a jig. It's strictly legitimate, because "Henry," being offered a drink in Atlanta, Ga., by pilot Cecil Williams, of Laurel, Miss., (kneeling) and Verdell Schug, of Storm Lake, Iowa, belongs to the Army's Helicopter Precision Flight Team. The group is touring the country demonstrating the maneuverability of the flying "windmills." Highlight of their amazing 28-minute acrobatic act is a 'copter square dance.

Insurance Firm Has Same Name, Location

The Kimball Insurance Agency, 4540 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, is continuing to operate under its original name, and serve its patrons as in the past. Recent death of the former owner of the agency gave rise to the erroneous impression that the agency had been combined with one of another name.

★ ★ ★

Schools Ask 2-Mill Hike

Huron Valley Votes Today

MILFORD — A special election is being held today for registered voters of the Huron Valley School District to decide on an additional 2-mill tax levy for school operating expenditures.

The Board of Education was confronted with the problem of an operating deficit of some $80,000 for next year. This was due to a shortage of some $53,000 state tax aids previously anticipated by the board and includes about $23,000 in extra bus transportation costs.

Last year the legislature promised school aid in the amount of $190 per pupil and it was with this figure that board members scheduled the next year's budget.

This figure was cut from the anticipated $493,242 state aid revenue to $434,915 leaving Huron Valley School System $58,227 in the red.

In the early part of June, the board negotiated a $70,000 loan from the Michigan National Bank at Flint on tax anticipation notes to complete the school year. Of this some $12,000 remains to carry over into next year.

The additional 2-mill tax levy, if approved by voters today, will be in effect for a three-year period for school operation only. said this has nothing to do with the building of the new $2,000,000 high school and two elementary schools now under construction.

Polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. today at precinct No. 1, Bertha Baker School; precinct No. 2, Highland Elementary School in Highland; precinct No. 3, Lee Brooks School in White Lake Township.

Book Should Prevent Public Spooning That Irks Elders

London's Lovers Guided to Privacy

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is quite distressing, not to say depressing, for people who are not at all in love to have to witness public displays of open affection.

To observe couples mooning in the sunlight, cuddling on the commons, sparking in the supermarket —these are things that make old maids and old marrieds mad.

They claim it's because such vulgar displays are in bad taste, but actually you know what it is as well as I do. New loves are pretty nauseating to used unloveds, because the former is a state the latter would like to be in again, only they don't make pills good enough for that.

In England, the problem is especially acute because the younger set hasn't much money and therefore a great deal of the native romance must be conducted in parks, trams, squares, circles and outdoor picnic grounds.

This would be all right except that the older set, including the nobility, hasn't much money either; so a geat deal of their leisure time must be conducted in parks, trams, squares, circles and outdoor picnic grounds.

In view of the age-old problem, an enlightened gentleman named Victor Lloyd is coming out with a splendid idea to counteract the antagonism of the fogie folks. It is a book titled "Lovers' Guide to London," and its obvious purpose is to keep lovers in off the streets.

In it, he lists all the quiet, cozy, intimate spots to which couples may retire, where a pair of clutched hands will not be amiss and, indeed, an occasional peck on the forehead will go completely unnoticed.

Direct your dewy eye, young lovers, to the table of contents: Inexpensive restaurants with candlelight; cafes where the tables are divided by partitions; milk bars with quiet alcoves for pastoral petting; special cinemas where the back few rows are roped off for those who care naught for the feature film.

The volume, according to Lloyd, took three years to prepare and he found it fascinating work, no doubt, being a sympatico sort of fellow with an eye for the girls.

SHOULD BE COPIED

Personally, I think this is a dandy idea which should be followed through in other countries and cities — particularly New York, where the high cost of wooing has converted many a young Romeo to a rover and many a potential mother to a maiden lady.

★ ★ ★

There are no doubt many restaurants and nighteries which would be delighted to install moderate-priced "rendezvous roosts" and candlelit corners for the romance-minded — simply in exchange for the publicity that would be stirred up by such a high-principled guide book.

★ ★ ★

And think of the relief to the city-full of cynics and blase, bored New Yorkers who no longer would be forced to observe — at every traffic light and vagrant tree—a reminder that all the world is not as cold and hard as they prefer to believe.

Technical Faults Cause Atomic Test Postponment

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — Today's scheduled nuclear shot, 11th in the current test series, has been postponed until 4:45 a.m. tomorrow for technical reasons.

The atomic energy commission said the weapon, a below nominal tower shot, wasn't ready on time.

A number of military and civil effects experiments are planned in conjunction with the test. Newsmen will watch the blast from News Nob, about 13 miles from ground zero.

Jewish Cantor Dies at 11

DETROIT (AP) — Issaac Nagel, Jewish cantor and teacher for three score years or more, is dead at the age of 110. The Polish-born religious scholar died at the Jewish Home for the Aged. His wife, Miriam, died at the age of 104 at the home.

An estimated 70 million or more native-born Americans have no legal proof of their birthplace.

ROBIN HOOD

QUESTION: Was Robin Hood a real person?

ANSWER: The Robin Hood story may have some truth in it. Some such person probably existed, though it is hard to say which of the stories about him are legend and which fact.

Tradition has it that Robin became an outlaw in Sherwood Forest for poaching in the royal game preserve. He gathered around him a company of brave fellows, good archers all. Their great enemy was the sheriff of Nottingham.

Robin Hood took from the rich and was generous to the poor. After many scrapes and perils he made his peace with the King, Richard I, also known as the Lion-hearted. He joined the king's forces, so the story goes, and accompanied him to the wars. Some say Robin was made the Earl of Huntington.

FOR YOU TO DO: Paste this picture on cardboard and color. Fold the bases forward on the dotted line and also fold the right hand panel back on the dotted line. Then you'll have Robin kneeling by the brook, blowing his horn to summon his band.

1st Woman Engineer Working in India

NEW DELHI, India — Ila Mazumder, India's first and only woman mechanical engineer, is described as petite, vivacious and very feminine. As university lecturer in mechanical engineering at Delhi Polytechnic, she has achieved her childhood ambition. When the Sibpore College of Engineering announced in 1947 that it would open its doors to women, Ila was through them before they could change their mind, she said.

"All the men in the college started with mental reservations," she said, "when I appeared in the workshop in slacks. But they soon got used to me. I passed with good, but not outstanding marks."

When she left school she found that Indian factories did not yet have facilities for women trainees, so she went to Glasgow and joined a firm of precision instrument makers. Two years later she returned to India to stay.

7-Year-Old Girl's 'I Like You Club' Really Rolling

DENVER (AP)—It's only four days old but the I Like You Club, started by a 7-year-old blonde from Illinois, is really rolling.

Colorado's Gov. Steve McNichols is a member. The founder, Kay Cash of Burnt Prairie, Ill., signed him up on a visit to Denver over the weekend.

Kay started the club last week at Boulder, where her mother is a summer student at University of Colorado.

★ ★ ★

"The Purpose is to make friends," Kay said. "The rules are: Like each other, keep your card, don't lie and don't come to meetings if yo uare sick.

"To like each other is the most important."

The club came into being when Kay began passing out slips of paper on which she had written in crayon "I like you. Join my club."

★ ★ ★

Kay's father Seaton Cash, a Burnt Prairie, Ill., garage man, is studying summer courses at Colorado State University at Fort Collins.

This fall Kay will attend school at Urbana, Ill., while her mother goes to the University of Illinois.

"I'll start a club at the university and one at school," Kay said. "Pretty soon everybody'll like everybody."

1-14 MALARIA KS

Malaria Deaths Drop

CARACAS — Eight deaths were caused by malaria in Venezuela in 1956 compared with 18 in 1955. This means only one person in 750,000 died of this disease last year; the 1955 average was one in every 300,000. The Government plans to spend about $18,000,000 in a four-year drive to try to eradicate mosquitoes.

Tells FBI of Being Attacked

Banker Denies Charges of Embezzlement, Arson

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A banker stole at least $22,600 then shot himself and set fire to the bank records yesterday in a vain attempt to hide his deed, the FBI said.

Authorities lodged embezzlement and arson charges against Norman Van Artsdalen, 41, of suburban Springfield, as he lay in St. Agnes Hospital being treated for a superficial gunshot wound of the shoulder.

Van Artsdalen, manager of the Marconi Savings and Loan Assn. in South Philadelphia, was found crawling from the bank yesterday morning by a passer-by who saw smoke pouring from the institution.

Van Artsdalen told investigators he went to the bank to work on some end-of-the-month statements. ments.

He was quoted as saying he was coming up basement stairs in the bank when he was slugged on the head and lost consciousness. When he awoke he saw fire in the vault, crawled to a window and dropped out onto the street. He said he didn't know he had been shot until doctors discovered it.

Carl E. Hennrich, agent in charge of the FBI office here, said Van Artsdalen went to the bank Saturday night and removed the money from a vault. He then wrapped it in a package and brought it to the home of friends, Hennrich said, telling them it was a surprise for his wife and asking them to keep it over the weekend.

Hennrich said $22,600 had been recovered and that another $6,000 was missing and may have been burned in the vault fire. In the vault, investigators found a .22-caliber pistol, partly melted by fire, from which one shot had been fired.

Moderates Lead Argentina Vote

Election Victory Over Peronists and Radicals Appears Imminent

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A victory for moderate Democratic parties over supporters of ousted dictator Juan Peron and radical candidates appeared in mounting election returns today.

Peronists mustered only about 20 per cent of the vote counted so far in yesterday's balloting for a constituent assembly to revise Argentina's constitution.

The downed dictator boasted from his Caracas exile a few days ago that 75 per cent of this nation's 19 million people support him. They were ordered to blank their ballots in this first national election since military forces ousted Peron.

The total of blank votes seemed likely to surpass a million but fall far short of the five million for which Peron supporters campaigned.

Left-wing nationalist Arturo Frondizi, leader of the antireform Radical party, and his candidates apparently also were pulling about 20 per cent of the vote for his supporters. Frondizi sought to lure Peron backers into his own camp by imitating the onetime strong man's ultranationalist arguments.

Moderate parties supporting Provisional President Pedro Aramburu piled up a lead that was expected to assure them comfortable control of the assembly when it meets Sept. 1.

With more than half the expected seven million votes counted, pro-Aramburu parties led by the People's Radical party of Ricardo Balbin held a commanding lead for at least 27 assembly seats. Frondizi supporters were ahead in 10 places for the 205-delegate assembly.

Baby Comes Back Quite Changed After 33 Years

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — The baby son Mrs. Myrtle Burns bounced on her knee when last she saw him came back to her yesterday as a strapping 245-pound six-footer.

"My golly, he's big," said Mrs. Burns.

Separated for 33 years, Mrs. Burns and her son, 34-year-old Robert Rogers, Air Force veteran, were reunited at her trailer camp home here yesterday.

Mrs. Burns lost custody of her son when she and her first husband divorced. The boy was reared by an aunt in Panama.

He's Image of Daddy, Says Mama Gina

ROME (AP)—A dark-haired baby born to Gina Lollobrigida looks just like the famous film beauty's doctor husband, she says.

The 6-pound, 11-ounce boy was born yesterday four hours after Dr. Milko Skofic rushed his wife out of their Appian Way villa to a clinic. They drove across a field on the way to avoid reporters.

The infant, to be named after his father at Gina's request, is the first child for the couple, who married in 1949. Skofic is a Yugoslav who escaped from a German concentration camp in 1942.

Expecting Light Wisconsin Vote

9 Candidates Seeking Late Sen. McCarthy's Post in Primary

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Less than half a million voters, or about 25 per cent of those eligible, are expected to go to the polls tomorrow in Wisconsin's special primary that will climax brief campaigning by nine candidates for the remainder of the U.S. Senate term of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

The record of the controversial senator, who died May 2, has been only a minor issue in the campaigns of the two Democrats and seven Republicans seeking nomination in the primary that will select party candidates.

The special election to name McCarthy's successor will be held Aug. 27. The term expires in January 1959. The campaigning for the vacant seat began June 3 when Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson announced the special election.

The major issue, both among the Republicans and the Democrats, has been the administration of President Eisenhower.

The Democrats have concentrated criticisms on domestic policies, especially those dealing with the economy, while the so-called "Modern Republicanism" of the President has become an issue involving several of the GOP candidates.

Four of the Republican candidates are given a chance to win the nomination, but two of them, former Gov. Walter Kohler and former Rep. Glenn Davis, are rated as favorites. Their personal contest for the Republican nod could provide the test of policies of the administration.

Kohler, 53, who served three terms as governor, has been the only candidate to give unqualified support in his spirited campaign to the administration, which he says "will not turn back the clock on genuine social advances."

Davis, 41, who served 10 years in the House, has found some fault with the administration, especially on foreign policy and foreign aid. Davis gave up his House seat last year to campaign with party endorsement for the GOP nomination against Sen. Alexander Wiley. In this campaign, the party did not vote endorsement which provides organization and financial support.

Strike May End for Cement Men

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)— Weekend contract agreements in the cement industry showed signs of bringing to an end a nationwide strike which has halted hundreds of millions of dollars in construction work. Production in Michigan has been affected.

The major agreement was reached Saturday night between the Universal Atlas Cement Co. and the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union. A similar agreement was reached Sunday between the union and the American Cement Corp. plant at Security, Md.

Basically, the settlements provide for an 11 cent an hour wage increase—10 cents of which is retroactive to termination of previous contracts May 1.

Pay Insurance Painless Way

Companies Take Money From Bank Accounts for Premiums.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some life insurance companies have come up with a "painless" way of paying your premiums, and leaders of the banking industry don't think much of it.

What you, as a premium payer, do is give the insurance company the green-light to deduct your premiums each month from the checking account at your bank, a system much like the bond-a-month club. The company, not you, performs the chore of making out the check for the premuiums.

More than 70 life insurance companies are using some version of the plan, and industry sources report there is every prospect that more soon will adopt the idea.

Why do the companies like it? J. McCall Hughes, vice president and controller of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, says the system offers the policyholder "a simple and convenient method of monthly budgeting, for which there has been an increasing demand in all areas."

Mutual and many of the other companies say it's cheaper for them to handle payments at one regular time each month than to handle individual monthly payments at varying times.

While there are variations, many firms pass on the saving to policyholders. Thus, the preauthorized check plans generally cost 2 to 3 per cent less than monthly billing under the traditional methods.

How about the banks?

The American Bankers Assn. contends the plans are likely to increase overdrawals in checking accounts, are susceptible to forgery and expensive and cumbersome to handle.

★ ★ ★

"We believe it to be fundamentally wrong for the depositor, in a sense to lose control of his account and operationally wrong from the point of view of the banks."

Withdrawal Cuts Jobs

TOKYO (AP)—About 6,000 Japanese working at U. S. military bases have lost their jobs because of U. S. troop withdrawals since July 1. Another 7,000 are expected to be released before the end of September.

Bob Considine Says:

Influence of McCarthy to Be Tested

NEW YORK (INS)—In Wisconsin on Tuesday the nation will be given a fairly clear answer to a puzzling riddle. Were the supporters of the political philosophy of the late Joe McCarthy a cohesive political force, or was it the man and his manner that made him leader of his cult?

Only one of the nine men in the race for McCarthy's empty chair in the U. S. Senate has chosen to run in the state primary on a pure McCarthy platform.

The McCarthyites wso contended that their political idol's death was an incomparable loss, and that he was "hounded to death" by those who disagreed with him, now have the opportunity to send back to Washington a man who swears he's a replica of Senator Joe.

Curiously, only one Republican in the field has identified himself as an Eisenhower man, eight months after the nation—including Wisconsin — returned Ike to the White House by a colossal majority.

Former Governor Walter Kohler, whose political time table called for a frontal attack on McCarthy this year, differs from the President only on his school aid plan. Otherwise, he is all for Ike.

In between the clear-cut black and white of the GOP political spectrum lie five degrees of political gray, headed by Congressman Glenn Davis, who is pro-Ike in some respects and as opposed to him on foreign spending as was McCarthy himself.

"The plush curtain of bureaucracy" which hid the wartime feats of Charles A. Lindbergh has been pretty thoroughly lifted now by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. The former commander of U. S. forces in China revealed at the unveiling of a plaque at what used to be the field from which Lindbergh's greatest flight originated that the flier engaged in some spectacularly uncivilian work against the Japanese during World War II.

To the known facts that Lindbergh shot down a Jap plane and was in turn nearly knocked down, Gen. Wedemeyer added an account of 50 combat missions and a perilous dive-bombing with four tons of bombs hanging from his P38's slim wing. There must be still more of these untold stories, and a letter at hand proved it.

It was written to me by former Army Air Force Lt. Bob Anderson of Tracy, Calif., a pilot who benefitted by the presence of civilian Lindbergh in the South Pacific after the Roosevelt administration spurned critic Lindbergh's application for active status.

Anderson took his son to a theater to see "The Spirit of St. Louis" recently and the memories it shook caused him to dig out a flock of wartime snapshots which he thought Gen. Lindbergh might like to have. He asked that they be forwarded.

Anderson was with the 475th Fighter Group, a P-38 outfit, when the historic figure they called "Mister" Lindbergh arrived at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, in June of 1944. There was much scuttlebut about why he, a civilian, was there.

But the working stiffs got no information until three days later when their commanding officer, Col. Charles McDonald, called them together and introduced them to Lindbergh. He rose and said, quite bluntly, that they were flying their P-38s incorrectly.

They would be able to keep the fighters in the air from an hour to an hour and a half longer than the then eight and a half hour limit, thus extending their operation range, he told the skeptical men.

He recommended what seemed to them a ridiculous R.P.M. of 1,650 with low manifold pressure.

The word had spread that Lindbergh knew very little about the P-38, the twin-engined, twin-boomed Lockheed Lightning. The resultant questions flung at him implied as much.

So he showed them in the best manner possible. He got in the fight. "Mr. Lindbergh did me and a lot of other pilots a favor in 1944," Anderson's letter concludes.

"I have no doubt that any number of somewhat paunchy 36-year-olds such as myself owe their lives to the extended fighting range Mr. Lindbergh gave our planes."

Dentist Collects Heads

"He bought me my wedding ring by selling the skulls of a bear, an otter and a bobcat to the Albion College zoology department," says Mrs. Kathy Foote.

Dr. Foote began his novel hobby while a laboratory assistant in vertebrate zoology at Albion. At the University of Michigan's dental school, he conceived the idea of doing a study of comparative dental anatomy of mammals.

Since then he has been watching the highways, always alert for animals killed with their skulls intact.

Taxidermists and game hunters from Michigan, Colorado and Alaska have helped him add heads to his collection until he now has 90.

For instance, from Alaska, Dr. Foote has the skulls of a polar fox and two wolves.

And from other places he has collected such familiar heads as an oppossum, raccoon, lion, leopard, weasel, mink and two mountain lions.

But lately heads are getting a little dull and Dr. Foote has broadened his interests to mounting birds. "He has 10 in the freezer now waiting for him to begin his taxidermy experiments."

Lover Burned Up

WEIDENSTETTEN, Germany (AP)—Police said a 19-year-old disappointed lover decided to hang himself in his father's barn but set fire to a pile of straw first. The fast spreading fire burned the rope and the youth fell to the floor. He got up and ran out.

About 82 of 100 male Americans over 14 years old are employed.

Carrot Juice, Love Seem Youthifying

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Maybe there's something to this mixture of carrot juice and love as a potion for eternal youth after all.

I've just had lunch with Jonnie Lee Macfadden, the electrically charged blonde widow of the late health faddist Bernarr Macfadden, who was a disciple of carrots, muscles and sex up to his death at 89.

STILL SPARKLING

Whatever the reason, Jonnie Lee at 52 and with three grandchildren could pass for 29 at 10 paces. She sparkles like a 16-year-old, has nary a line in her face and possesses a figure that evokes wolf whistles.

She's also a recent bride. Her third husband is Austin Kingsley Ferguson, New York engineer. And she still gives lectures on how to corner the fountain of youth.

Her new husband does not object to the fact that she keeps the name Macfadden for professional appearances, because, she explains, "he shares my feeling that Macfadden was a great benefactor of mankind."

Despite the fact that her marriage to Macfadden ended in a stormy separation several years before his death, Jonnie Lee says she harbors no ill feelings, and intends to continue to spread the Macfadden gospel of "long-lasting youth, beauty and peace of mind" achieved through "physical and mental health, happiness in love, financial security and self-expression."

HEALTH AND SEX

Jonnie Lee was 41 and Macfadden 75 when they were married. Says she: "About the only things he thought about were health and sex."

★ ★ ★

Jonnie Lee says there are 10 things a man wants in the woman he loves: Spontaneity, affection, sincerity, glamor, the illusion of beauty, companionship in his hobbies, interest in his business, noncritical attitude, not too many in-laws and the ability to handle money wisely.

A woman also wants 10 things in her ideal man, to wit: Appreciation, love, constant expressions of affection, willingness to share his free time with her, financial stability, thoughtfulness, an interest in religion, protection and fidelity.

She believes devoutly in carrot juice instead of alcohol for a pick-me-up, fasts one day a week and takes regular exercises to keep in shape.

Active People Remain the Happiest

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In my office, there is a file which is rapidly becoming one of the biggest and fattest I have. It is labeled O.D.N.T., which stands for Old Dogs, New Tricks.

On days when I feel discouraged, or when I get discouraging letters from people who are "too old" for this or that, I browse through the O.D.N.T. file. It helps me to feel better.

AFTER FORTY

When I first began this work, I didn't really think you could teach an old dog new tricks. Once in a while, of course, somebody might accomplish something remarkable after they were forty, I would have said, but not as a general rule.

But now I know that people of any age can do just about anything and I have hundreds of cases to prove it.

"I would take up a new hobby or even a job," I often hear oldsters say, "if I had the energy.

Then they go into a long dreary discussion of their symptoms. Actually, if they would get a new hobby or job or interest, they would soon get the energy.

It's a case of which comes first, then energy or the interest. I have found that the interest has to come first.

Here is an example—the latest addition to my O.D.N.T. file. It's a letter from a woman in a large midwestern city:

"The most wonderful thing has happened to Mother," she writes. "It's as if she's discovered a new fountain of youth."

"Mother just sat around for a couple of years," she writes, "and we were worried about her. She claimed she didn't have the energy to do anything She was in perfect health, but Father's passing had been a great loss and it looked as if she'd just sit around and die little by little.

Then a miracle happened.

UNEXPECTED VISITOR

"Mother was at home one day when a market researcher came to ask people in the building about a new cosmetic product.

"Because she was lonely, she let the woman in and answered all her questions. They struck up a friendship and began to see each other after that.

"It was the best thing for Mother. So many of her friends have nothing to do with their time, but this woman had a good part-time job. Furthermore, she was also in her sixties!

"You can guess what happened.

"Mother began to realize that if this woman could work, so could she! And now she is working for the same market research organization!

DELIGHTED WITH JOB

"We're so proud of her and she is delighted with her job. It's part-time and involves calling on people like herself, which she loves to do."

If you're interested in the field of market research, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope and I'll send you my pamphlet about it.

If you're over sixty, remember one thing: Get yourself some friends who are doing things, instead of sticking with the do-nothings. Because there's no better way to be active than to surround yourself with active people.

Clergyman Criticizes Scant Garb

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a clergyman and have been an ardent admirer of yours for many years. You have done much to influence the manners and morals of the men and women of our country. Knowing how widespread your column is, I am appealing to you to please write something in regard to proper dress in church.

"Sunday after Sunday I have noticed an increasing number of women coming to church with bare backs and shoulders. Yes, some of the teenagers even come to church wearing shorts.

"True the weather has been unbearably hot but that is no excuse to come to church dressed shocking. Won't you please advise your women readers to be more modest in their dress—at least when going to church?"

Answer: I am very thankful that I have never seen the excesses of bad taste which you describe. I certainly agree with you that no woman should ever enter a church unless she is fully and properly dressed.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to go on a tour soon through the Canadian Rockies. The trip has been arranged through a travel agency and will be 'personally conducted' throughout.

"I would like to know if it is customary to tip the tour director who will accompany us, at the end of the trip? This will be my first trip of this kind and I want to be sure to do the correct thing."

Answer: A tip is not obligatory. However, if the tour director has put himself out to do special favors for you, you would give him a tip.

Usually when going with a group, if the travelers feel the director has done a good job, each one contributes a certain amount and it is given to the director in a lump sum at the end of the tour.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In replying to wedding invitation, to whom is the envelope addressed — the bride, the bride's mother or the bride's mother and father?"

MRS. GERALD MICHAEL EGRES

Married Saturday in First Baptist Church were Janet McCurry and Gerald Michael Egres. Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCurry of Marquette street. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Egres of South Lynn avenue are Gerald's parents.

Janet McCurry Speaks Vows in First Baptist Rite

Before an altar decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums, Janet McCurry and Gerald Michael Egres were united in marriage Saturday at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. William Hakes performed the ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

★ ★ ★

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCurry of Marquette street. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Egres of South Lyon avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown fashioned of pure Italian silk in a princess line was accented by a V neckline of Alencon lace applique. A soft sash draped from the front center tying in back, and the skirt extended into a chapel train.

The bride's headpiece, styled of matching Alencon lace, held her pure silk fingertip veil of French illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Arch Bartlebaugh of Drayton Plains served as matron of honor. Margaret Green of Ann Arbor, Shirley Dobson and Charline Egres, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

All were gowned in powder-blue and white nylon dresses of ballerina length. Sabrina necklines formed a V in the back where they were centered with a bow. Their crown headpieces were of powder blue.

The matron of honor carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and pink carnations, and pink sweetheart roses and white carnations comprised the bridesmaids' bouquets.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McCurry chose a toast-colored lace dress with beige accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Egres wore a lilac dress embossed with white and white accessories. Her corsage was composed of cymbidium orchids.

The bride attended Trinity College in Clearwater, Fla., and graduated from the Grace Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit.

For traveling to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Egres changed to a dark blue sheath dress with white accessories and corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The couple will reside on Dixie highway in Drayton Plains.

Toastmistress Club Gathers at Picnic

Mrs. Robert Bunce presented a program at the annual summer picnic of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Ivan Wilcox on Old Orchard drive.

Past members of the club present were Mrs. Gerald McLeod, Mrs. Joseph Shaw, Mrs. Leon Windsor, Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon and Mrs. Joseph McLeod.

Clean Inside Iron

A steam iron needs a gentle cleaning inside, too. One way is to use a solution of equal parts vinegar and water. Heat iron until steam appears. Then pour out solution and rinse inside with clear water.

Select Chair to Suit User, Room Size

A new chair should be selected to suit a room — and to suit the person who will use it most.

Women should keep in mind the size of the room and other furnishings in selecting a chair.

The person who will use the chair should help pick it out by sitting in various models to determine which is the most comfortable in height and shape.

Chairs these days are made of many materials — solid wood, bent wood, plastic, metal, laminated wood or molded plastic — and the choice is up to the homemaker. Construction should be checked to see if the chair is strong and durable.

Interlocking joints give the greatest strength to wooden furni- bent wood, plastic, metal, lami nated wood or molded plastic — corners to hold the legs firmly in place.

The tubes or rods in metal furniture are usually joined by welding or with bolts and rivets — all are strong enough for normal use.

Before sending your child off to visit with friends or relatives for a few days, remind him of the importance of making his bed, hanging up his clothes, being on time to meals, etc.

It Lifts You Out of That Rut

Follow This Beauty Plan Each Day

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The atmosphere of a modern beauty salon is so restful and glamorous that it is well worth the price if your pocketbook will stand the traffic. Somehow life seems lifted out of the ordinary everyday rut and miracles seem possible, and often are!

However, if you cannot afford such a luxury you CAN treat yourself to a similar routine each day at home. Try to find a time when you will not be interrupted so that you will enjoy and benefit most from your efforts. Otherwise, the groceries may arrive just after you have applied your lubricating cream or the children may be frightened by a mask.

Follow this plan for a normal dry skin. Wrap a towel around your hair to protect it from cream. First cleanse your face thoroughly, using a cleansing cream. Massage it in gently. Remove the cream and dirt with tissues. A second cleansing is all to the good. Remove again with tissues.

At this point many women like to use a damp warm cloth to remove the last vestiges of cream and grime. This also makes the skin more receptive to the lubricating cream which follows. As to application, I believe that vigorous massage at home, (or any place unless you are in the hands of a real expert) does more harm than good.

I suggest that you pat the oily cream into the skin. However, you can massage the cream in if you do it gently. Use two fingers with a rotary motion, moving up and out. Begin at the tip of the chin and move out and up toward the ears. Do this several times. Start now at the bottom of the nose and move toward the ears. Slap with the backs of your hands along the jawline and under the chin.

Forceful massage at some points can be most helpful. I am thinking of massage along the horizontal lines on the forehead, or perpendicular lines between the brows or crows' feet at the corners of the eyes. In this type you also use a rotary motion but move along the lines.

If you wish to massage the cream into your neck begin at the base of the neck and work upward. After this take a 10 or 15 minutes rest while the cream soaks in. Place wet cool eye pads over your eyes.

Next remove the cream and apply a skin freshener. This routine, when regularly indulged in, will add much to the charm of your complexion and will also delay signs of aging.

Sometimes a voice is so magnetic and intriguing that it alone makes a woman fascinating.

Not many of us are fortunate enough to have such a glamorous medium of expression and therefore virtually all of us can profit by giving some thought to the way we speak.

It is impossible for us to know just how we sound to others. You know this to be true if you have ever heard yourself on a tape recorder or a record. However, we can listen to ourselves talk and weed out some of the pitfalls.

Of course high pitched or scratchy voices are unattractive. While the timber of our voice depends partly on the physical construction of our speaking equipment we can deliberately lower or soften our voices to some extent by simple awareness and effort. Naturally some instruction in voice culture would also be helpful. This can make a wonderful difference in voices which are a real handicap and would be well worth the money and time involved.

BUT — here are a few things to remember:

1. It is a great handicap to speak indistinctly. No matter how interesting your conversation may be others soon tire of straining to hear every word you say. Yet many folks mumble instead of project their voices. We should sound letters and syllables clearly.

This is more difficult for southerners. I know, because I am one myself and we have a lazy way of speaking. In many parts of the southern United States the "ings" are dropped. This detracts from the beauty of speech.

2. Many people have the habit of talking with their heads slightly ducked or they turn their heads away as they speak. This adds a second burden for those who are listening. It is hard enough to put ourselves over as we wish without turning away and mumbling.

The main thing is to be conscious of the way we enunciate and to look at the person to whom we are speaking. If you have fallen into a lazy indecisive habit, there is a simple exercise which will help you.

Try saying E A I O U consecutively. Make each vowel stand out; gradually increasing the speed with which you pronounce them. After a while do the same with the vowels A E O I U.

Correct breathing also adds depth and charm to a voice. If you would like to have my deep breathing exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Fountain of Youth" leaflet No. 26. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Phoner Ends Call

Generally speaking, the person who makes a telephone call is the one who ends it. But sometimes a talker who doesn't know how to say goodby gets you on the line. Then it's necessary to disregard the rule and end the conversation. You can often manage this by thanking him for calling.

Spanking Makes Demands Clear

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On Saturday morning John's father went out to prune the backyard hedge. John followed. He became fascinated by the sight and sound of the privet twigs snapping between the sharp blades of his father's new clippers.

Though his father kept telling him to keep away, their attraction was too strong. Finally, when his father was called to the phone, he reached for the clippers—and with an exciting sense of perilous adventure, tried them out.

Returning, his father was shocked by this spectacle of 7-year-old disobedience. He bore the squirming, furious youngster into the house and spanked him.

At once tension went out of John. His angry crying became submissive. Sobbing, he promised never to touch the clippers again. And indeed for the rest of the day behaved like a cherub of heaven.

* * *

Clear the air of what?

His own shilly-shallying indecisiveness.

Spanking had not changed John. What had subdued him was not getting beaten but getting certainty that his father meant what he said.

* * *

After spanking, children often relax. They relax, not because we have hit their bodies, but because we have finally made our demands on them clear.

So we're not bright to get romantic over spanking's efficiency. Its only efficiency is that it contains our decision to mean what we've said.

Frequent spanking means we've got the habit of not meaning what we've said. It encourages us to nag absent-mindedly. Had John's father attended to what he was saying, he'd have given meaning to it with John's first defiance. He'd have quit clipping.

* * *

With his hands on his child's shoulders, looking straight into his eye, he'd have said, "Because these clippers are very sharp, you must not touch them. Now say it after me three times—'I am not to touch Dad's Clippers.'"

He would not have needed to spank.

Who'll Be Party-Giver Number 1?

Marjorie Post and Mrs. McCormick Are Contenders

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Folks who like to ponder such trifles are begining to wonder just who will be tagged the captial's "No. 1 Hostess" come fall when partying again becomes a major preoccupation of local socialities.

* * *

Publicity-wise Perle Mesta has held the title despite brisk competition for the position from glamorous Gwen Cafritz.

Now Perle and Gwen both face formidable opposition from two elegant ladies, both newly ensconced in beautiful homes, and one of whom, at least, has more worldly goods than both Perle and Gwen together.

CEREAL HEIRESS

There's the fabulously rich cereal heiress, Marjorie Merriweather Post, who, despite the ballyhoo centering on the others, has long been considered by the choosy set as Washington's MOST distinguished hostess.

Handsome, genteel Mrs. Post shuns the headlines and obviously has little taste for title-gathering.

Then there's a comparative newcomer, Maryland McCormick, widow of the late Col. Robert McCormick, who was editor-publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. McCormick is renovating a home in Washington's exclusive Georgetown section. She expects to be "at home" the first of September, following a trip abroad.

PREVIEW OF HOME

Mrs. Post, who is planning an ocean cruise and a sojourn in the Adirondacks before settling down in her new home, gave Washingtonians a preview of the palatial Georgian resitwo years ago after her divorce from Joe Davies, former U. S. ambassador to Russia.

* * *

Mrs. Post's guests at that shindig included both hostesses Mesta and Cafritz, now on "speaking terms" after their forced meeting at Perle's resounding splash in the Philadelphia social pond last winter.

"Hillwood," Mrs. Post's new residence, set high on a hill, enjoys the same panoramic view as the spectacular modern abode that wealthy realtor Morris Cafritz built.

SIMILAR TO PERLE'S

In some respects, Hillwood bears resemblance to hostess Mesta's impressive and comparatively new residence in Spring Valley.

Both are furnished with handsome French antiques, have drawing rooms hung with priceless tapestries, banquet-sized dining rooms and ballrooms.

Over the past year, Mrs. Mesta has been conspicuous in the capital mainly because of her absence.

MRS. SAM SAVAS

Theodora Garyet Speaks Vows Before 300 Guests

Three hundred guests witnessed the marriage of Theodora Dody Garyet to Sam Savas at 6 p.m. on Sunday. The Rev. Achilles Siagrias performed the ceremony in St. George Greek Orthodox Church.

* * *

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Konstantine Garyet of Barkman avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Savas of Myrtle avenue are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a pearl lustered gown of blossom white mousseline de soie. Tiny pearls frosted the embroidered Alencon lace which etched a lily and bowknot pattern at the curbed bateau decolletage. Brief sleeves were molded in sculptured folds to just above the elbows.

Medallions of jeweled lace defined the elongated basque line, and the bouffant skirt ended in a court train. A fingertip veil fell from a close fitting cap of seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and pink demure roses.

Cleo Pantel served as her cousin's maid of honor. Rita Spigarelli, of Dearborn, Martha Savas, a sister of the bridegroom, and Thespo Pantel, the bride's cousin, were the bridesmaids.

They all wore ballerina-length gowns of pale pink nylon organdy embroidered with pink daisies. The maid of honor carried a shalimar bouquet of pink miniature roses and white carnations. The attendants carried cascade bouquets of pink miniature roses and pink carnations.

Terry Puertas was the flower maid. She wore a sleeveless dress of white organdy over pink. The skirt was embroidered with pink rosebuds. She carried a white net basket trimmed in pink.

Sam Savas of Detroit served his cousin as best man. Seating the guests were Sam Gabriel, Mitch Savas, cousin of the bridegroom, and Ernie Savas, the bridegroom's brother. Nicky Christie was the ringbearer.

Immediately after the ceremony, a buffet dinner was served at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

* * *

For a trip to Florida the new Mrs. Savas changed to a gold suit of imported Dupioni silk with navy and white accessories and a corsage of white roses and stephanotis. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Theodora Dody Garyet and Sam Savas were married at 6 p.m. Sunday in St. George Greek Orthodox Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Konstantine Garyet, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Savas.

Tomato Soup Is Liquid in Casserole

Mrs. Cone Mixes Meat and Cheese With Spaghetti

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe is for a tasty spaghetti casserole that should become a family favorite. Mrs. George W. Cone says it's an old family recipe, one she has used extensively.

Because her only son has just married Mrs. Cone is learning all over again how to cook just for two people. Until recently she has been in business with her husband. She is an active church worker.

SPAGHETTI CASSEROLE
By Mrs. George W. Cone

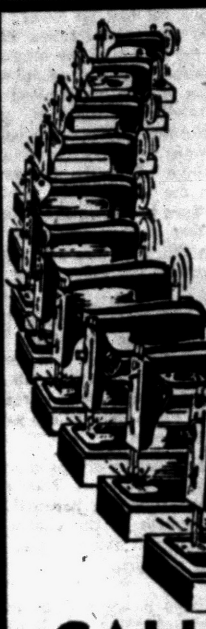

1 pound spaghetti
1 pound ground round steak
2 large onions, chopped
1 can condensed tomato soup
½ soup can water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup medium sharp cheese cubes

Cook, rinse and drain spaghetti. Brown onions in butter or olive oil, add meat and brown. Add to spaghetti with seasonings and cheese. Mix soup and water and pour over casserole. Bake at 325 degrees, long enough to heat through thoroughly — at least 20 minutes. It can stand longer if necessary. Serves six.

Women Like Wheels on Ironing Board

Women will be as intrigued by the easy cleaning of a new all-metal ironing board as by a set of wheels that give it maneuverability while in use. A second set of wheels rolls the board in and out of storage without lifting.

Chrome legs can be kept burnished by wiping with a sudsy sponge followed by a dry wipe, while the removable pad and cover can be laundered regularly.

New Group to Develop Young Swimmers

Great Potential Seen in State

Competitive Meet for All Ages Set for August Under AAU Rules

By BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Most every state in the Union has its specialty. Florida has its sunshine, Iowa its corn, Wisconsin its dairy products and Michigan its lakes and streams.

Michigan license plates carry the tag "Water Wonderland" which means plenty of fishing, boating and swimming for its residents. It also means Michigan could give the country a big bulk of its champion swimmers, providing, of course, some outlet is available for competitive swimming.

For this reason a relatively new organization known as Michigan Amateur Aquatics, Inc. (MAA), has set Aug. 10-11 as the date for first annual Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) sanctioned "Water Wonderland" to be held at the Brennan Pools in Rouge Park in Detroit.

With its great swimming potential, the MAA believes Michigan should be a front runner in attempting to develop young swimmers who could ultimately give the United States a core for National and Olympic competition.

The plan is to allow swimmers to compete within their age group under the governing rules of the AAU, to provide a meet of national calibre in which children can gain initial experience in competitive swimming.

ADEQUATE FACILITIES

Thirty-two events for children of all ages plus open competition has been scheduled for the Brennan Pool meet. The pools, which last year were the scene of the U.S. Olympic trials, offer adequate facilities for swimmers and spectators.

Any amateur and registered AAU athlete can enter. Swimmers not registered can do so by contacting the Michigan AAU office, 3610 Livernois in Detroit. YMCA registration cards are also accepted.

Entry fee for "Water Wonderland" is fifty cents and trophy awards will go to individual and team winners. In addition to the regular scheduled events, Junior National Men's competition will be held in three-meter diving and the National Women's 200 meter breast stroke.

The age categories will include events for children under 10, for 11-12, for 13-14 and for any age in the open events. Age group swimmers are limited to a total of three events a day.

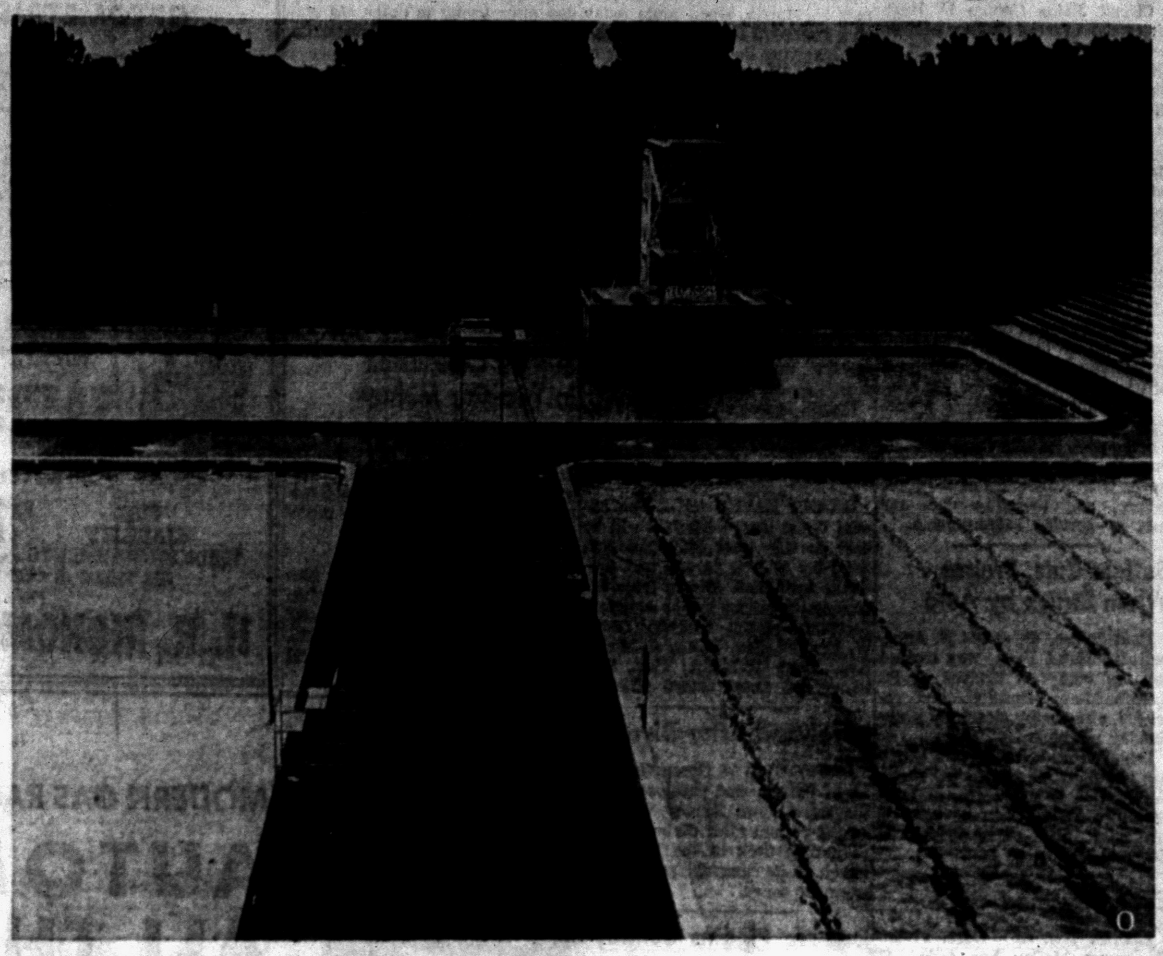

Numerous country clubs and swimming clubs are participating in this "Water Wonderland" for swimmers by sponsoring various events on the program.

$20 FOR AWARDS

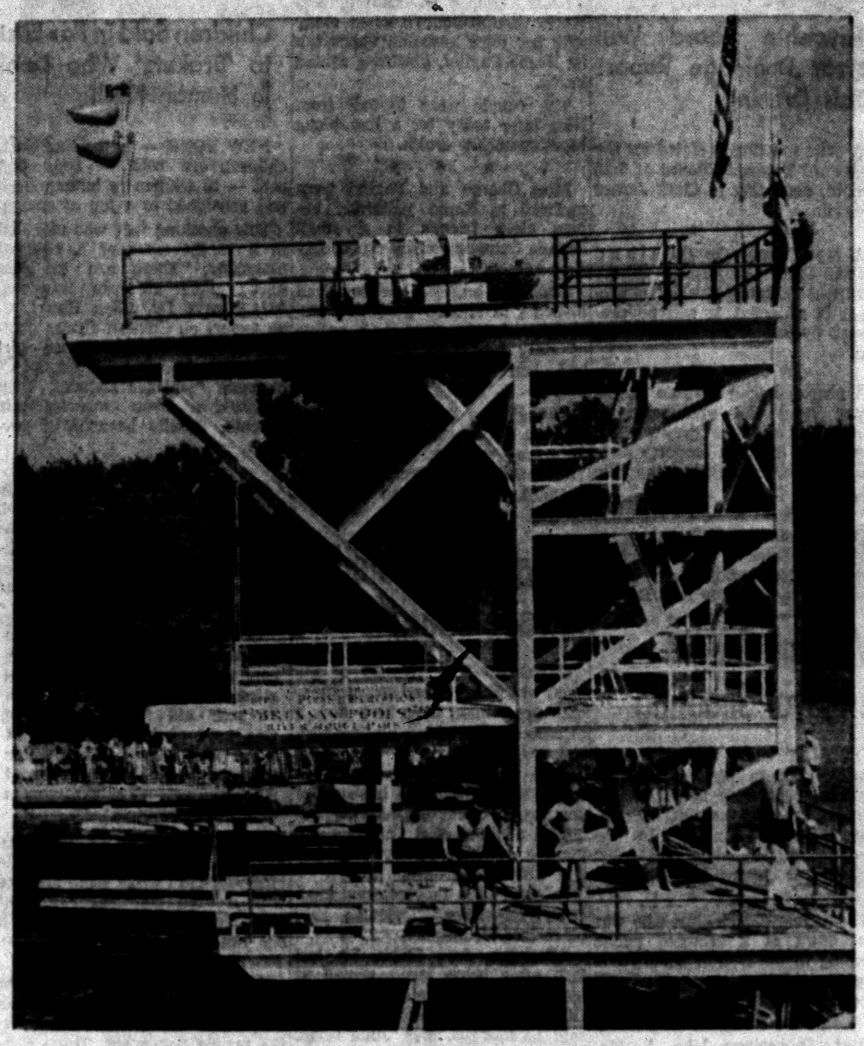

The $20 cost for sponsoring an event is used for purchasing the trophies and medals for the individual and team winners.

"Water Wonderland" opens Saturday Aug. 10 at 11 a.m. with the backstroke and butterfly for age groups, plus open free style events. The following day, age group events in freestyle, breast stroke and open swimming in back stroke are scheduled.

Entries can be submitted to the Michigan Amateur Aquatics, Inc., 238 Newport, Detroit. Deadline for entries is Aug. 1. There will be no admission for spectators.

SCENE OF WATER WONDERLAND MEET—The first annual Michigan Water Wonderland swimming championships will be held August 10-11 at the huge Brennan Pool facilities in Detroit's Rouge Park. The championships sponsored by the Michigan Amateur Aquatics, Inc., will feature 32 events plus the National Junior Men's 3-meter diving competition. Any youngster can enter the events in his own age bracket and in open events there is no age requirement. The U. S. Olympic Swimming trials were held in these pools last year. Entries for the meet must be submitted by August 1 to the Michigan Amateur Aquatics, Inc., 238 Newport, Detroit 15, Michigan.

SPRINGBOARD AND PLATFORM DIVING—This three-tiered diving platform at Rouge Park's Brennan Pool will be the scene of the Junior National Men's 3-meter diving championships Sunday August 11th as part of the program of the first annual Water Wonderland Swimming meet.

Income Tax Limit Gaining Favor, Backers Assert

Will a constitutional convention be called to limit the federal income tax to 25 per cent?

Proponents of the move say yes and they are certain they have the legal power to secure a convention.

For 20 years, Attorney Frank E. Packard and his associates of the Western Tax Council, with headquarters in Chicago, has backed such a measure, but Congress has turned a deaf ear.

However, the constitution provides two ways to secure a constitutional amendment. Although never used before, Article V says that Congress shall call a convention of state representatives to consider amendments if petitioned to do so by two-thirds of the states.

In April, Tennessee became the 33rd state to adopt a resolution calling for a constitutional convention—one more than the necessary 32 votes.

Packard, managing director of the tax council, with the support of the National Assn. of Manufacturers and a few labor and farm groups, thinks Congress will now call the convention.

If it does not, he is not certain what they will do since it is questionable if the Supreme Court would undertake to mandamus the Congress upon petition from a taxpayer.

All the 33 states which have voted for a tax ceiling have not passed upon identical resolutions, but Packard thinks this would not invalidate the vote as the general purposes were the same in each case.

All the states have done, he maintains, is to ask Congress to call a convention to:

1. Repeal the 16th (income tax) amendment;
2. Empower Congress to collect individual and corporate income taxes up to an amount to be agreed upon;
3. Limit income, gift and inheritance taxes to the same ceiling;
4. Allow Congress to lift the ceiling by a three-fourths vote in time of war.

Holly Residents Air Annexation Gripes

A public hearing to air objections of Holly and Rose Township residents to the annexation of 280 acres of land by the village of Holly will be held at 8 p.m. tonight at the VFW Hall in the village.

The meeting has been scheduled by the Boundaries Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Under an old law dating back to 1895, the village of Holly can annex land without a vote of the residents if the Board of Supervisors approves. More than 300 township residents protested the annexation without a vote in a petition to the board at its June 24th meeting.

German Income Climbs

BONN—The West German Federal Statistics Office estimates that the country's gross national product in 1955 increased by 12.7 per cent, in current prices, compared with 8.3 per cent in 1954. Gross income from wages and salaries increased by 13.6 per cent. Private consumption absorbed 56.1 per cent of the gross national product.

Tourist Travel Via Air Soars

But Business Flights Still Bulk of Service to South America

NEW YORK—Although business travel still continues to make up the bulk of airline passenger traffic in South America, the number of pleasure travelers is steadily increasing, according to a survey recently concluded by a large airline company.

Cyrus S. Collins, the airline's vice president of sales and traffic, reports that within the past six months 52 per cent of its U. S. passengers went to South America on business, 35 per cent traveled there for pleasure and 13 per cent listed other miscellaneous reasons for their trip.

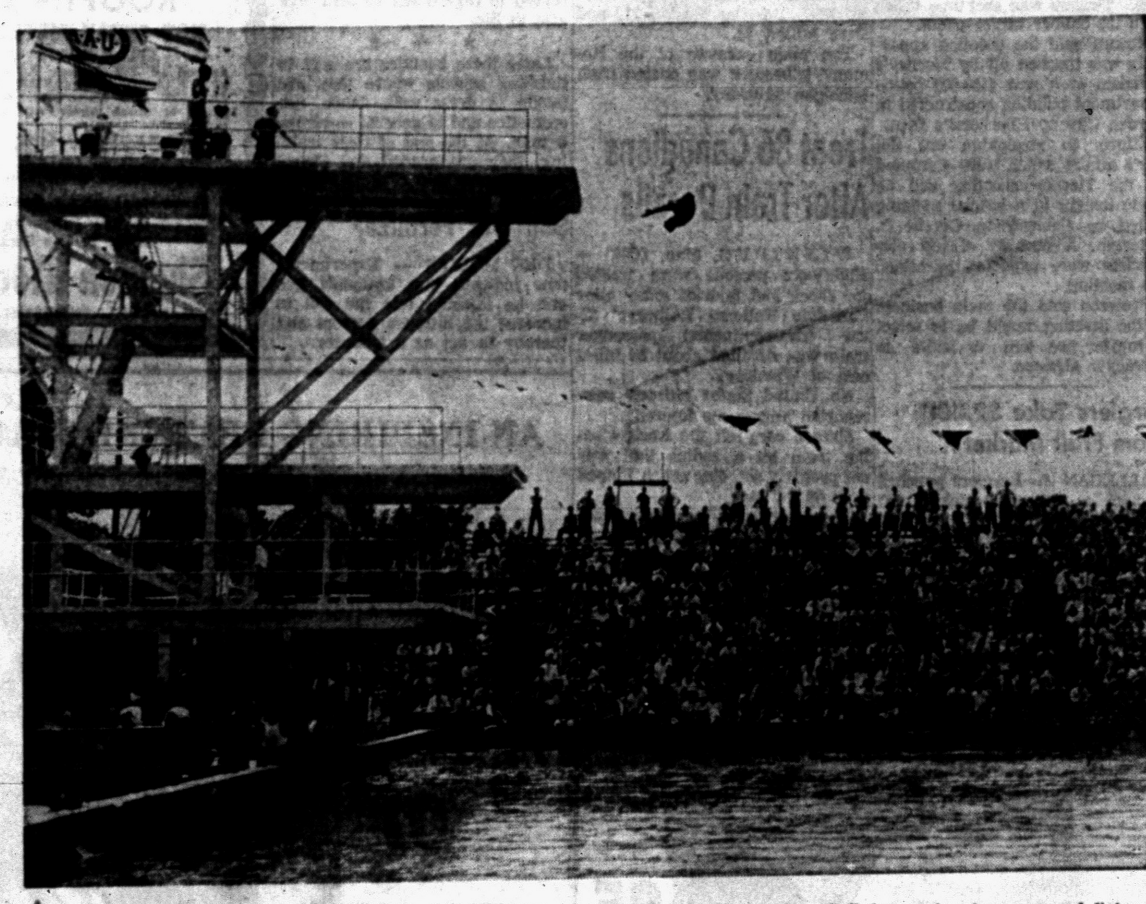

Noting that the proportion of business over pleasure travel had been about 4 to 1 a few years ago, the airline official attributed the recent increase in tourist traffic to a greater interest in travel to South America and the excursion fares which the airline introduced last year to cut the price of a trip around the continent by as much as $200.

"These new fares, which were recently extended until April 1958 and broadened to include individual as well as group travel, have made it possible for a greater number of tourists and sportsmen to visit the resort areas on the South American continent," he said.

The survey also revealed that most business and pleasure travelers spend an average of three to six weeks visiting both coasts of the continent although some take quickie vacations of one and two weeks.

The reasons they gave for traveling to South America ranged from suggestions of a friend or recommendations of a travel agent to advertising and newspaper stories and included such remarks as "husband insisted," "land of adventure," and "lifelong desire."

DIVING SPECTACLE — Here is part of the huge crowd which watched the diving championships at Brennan Pool during the Olympic trials last year. The seating facilities at the Rouge Park pool offer a bird's eye view of all three swimming areas and diving board for the first annual Water Wonderland swimming meet which will be held August 10-11.

Booming Seoul Erases Scars of War

SEOUL (INS) — Amazed Americans returning for the first time since the Korean War call Seoul "the city that wouldn't die."

By contrast to those smoky, grim days of devastation the capital city is not only alive, it has made a near-fabulous recovery.

Seoul was literally a battlefield, not once, but four times.

Twice the communists invaded and overran the capital, and twice they were driven out.

The shelling and bombings each time helped knock flat what the communist missed when they deliberately scorched the city as they fled.

With the armistice in 1953 the government moved back to Seoul from Pusan and travel restrictions were removed. The city's population shot up to more than a million and a half from almost nothing.

In the intervening years Seoul has risen from a blackened city of death and fear to a comparatively lively city, once again full of life and promise.

The recovery was not an easy one. It took a stubborn people who would not call it quits.

Avenues have been widened. Ruts and holes have been filled. And where army truck and half trucks rumbled toward war, there is now an orderly flow of civilian automobiles, mingled with military jeeps and sedans, and newly painted streetcars, imported second-hand from Los Angeles.

More than a dozen nightclubs and dance halls are doing flourishing business. Most patrons are Koreans, not U. S. soldiers.

Two major department stores and several lesser ones are stocked with brocades and household appliances and other items considered just a short time ago as the sheerest of luxuries.

It is a common sight to see Koreans hailing taxicabs, usually rickety old pre-war American models, rather than waiting to ride in the crowded streetcars.

And perhaps the surest sign of general prosperity and well being is the widespread sound of the drum and the singing Kisang girl in the Kisang houses where men meet to relax, discuss business and have fun as they do in geisha houses in Japan.

It Was a Weighty Job

WASHINGTON — During the historic Berlin airlift which started in 1948, Allied planes ferried about 2,325,500 tons of fuel and food to the city, an average of a ton for each West Berlin inhabitant.

Meeting Slated in Waterford

Township Board Will Hear Drainage Report This Evening

A quiet meeting is slated for the Waterford Township Board at 7:30 tonight, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

A report from the Oakland County Road Commission on the Whitfield Estates drainage problem is expected. It will be presented by Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

★ ★ ★

A proposed plan to drain excess water from the subdivision to Maceday Lake has drawn criticism from the lake property owners who fear it will litter the lake surface.

★ ★ ★

Other business will include a report on policies of the Waterford Township Recreation Dept. to be presented by Director Tom Belton.

Warrant Sought in Mayor Shooting

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities set about today to seek a warrant charging contractor Lester C. Ellerhorst, 52, with assault with intent to commit murder in the shooting and wounding of Garden City Mayor James Tierney.

★ ★ ★

The 52-year-old Tierney, who was shot down at a crowded public meeting in the Detroit suburb last Thursday night, was reported still in critical condition at a hospital.

Asst. Prosecutor John A. Mowatt is to seek the warrant against Ellerhorst. The charge would be changed to murder if Tierney dies. Tierney was shot five times by a .22 caliber target pistol.

Mowatt said the shooting apparently was touched off by Tierney's criticism of a new $108,000 police department building constructed in Garden City by Ellerhorst's firm.

Efforts to straighten out the city's affairs which were disrputed by the Tierney shooting will be made tonight at a special meeting called by Councilman Gerald P. Peterson. A number of top city officials were expected to attend the meeting.

Peterson said the main business of the meeting would be to select a mayor pro tem to serve in Tierney's absence.

Burglers Take $2,000 From Fruit Market

ALLEGAN (AP)—Burglers punched through a safe and took $2,000 from the Valley Fruit Market here early yesterday.

State Police Sgt. Victor F. Beck said the thieves, apparently professional safe crackers, knocked off the safe's dial and combination with a sledge hammer and punched through to remove the tumblers to open the door in pre-dawn hours.

Merle Oberon, Husband No. 3 Honeymooning

The couple were to sail from Nice later today for a monthlong Mediterranean cruise.

Miss Oberon and Pagliai were married in Rome yesterday before close friends in a small Roman Catholic church. Then they flew here.

Miss Oberon, 46, had received divorces in Mexico from two previous husbands. Pagliai, a native of Italy now a Mexican citizen, had been married three times before.

Pagliai was asked if a special Vatican dispensation was required for the wedding. He replied, "Everything went very smoothly because everything had been arranged beforehand."

4 Gypsies Wanted to Face Charges

CARO (AP)—Four gypsies of the band which was eased out of Michigan are wanted back here Aug. 5 to face strong-arming and robbery charges.

Free on $200 bond each, three gypsy women and the husband of one are accused of entering the homes of three elerly persons and making off with money from two and groceries from a third.

Allegedly, Jess Stock, 72, lost $130 after being strong-armed at his home in Gagetown. William Dilsworth, 65, of New Sebewaing, said he lost $65. Mrs. Julia Wing, 73, of Pigeon, said groceries were taken from her.

The gypsies gave their names as Joe Marks, 52, and his wife, Ruby, 55, Mrs. Dorothy Marks, 21, and Dora Miller, 24.

Treat 86 Canadians After Train Derails

WINNIPEG, Man. (INS) — Eighty-six persons were treated for shock and injuries today after Canadian National Railways' 22-car transcontinental passenger train was derailed about 38 miles east of Winnipeg.

No United States citizens were reported among the injured.

The Montreal-to-Vancouver train began its ill-fated run Friday night and was about five hours late when it hit the faulty switch.

Among the train's 350 passengers were 150 "new Canadians," immigrants from Germany. Only about 10 of the injured were believed members of this group.

Slave Trading Still Flourishes

Children Sold in Far East to 'Brokers' Who Deal in Human Flesh

NEW YORK — In the Far East, children are sold — body and soul — to traders in human flesh and consigned to a life of shame.

This shocking fact was revealed in a recent issue of a national magazine. "There are at least 50,000 slave girls in Southeast Asia," says Dr. Chen Han Lim, an expert on Chinese affairs quoted in the article. These girl slaves are known as "mui tsais," meaning "younger sisters." They are sold or given away by their parents, usually because of poverty.

Unfortunately, the vast majority are sold to "brokers," cold-blooded dealers in human flesh, who bring them up for resale as domestic servants, or in the case of the prettier ones, put them to work as prostitutes.

Many of the girls have been intimidated, injured or killed by gangsters. Among the cases cited in the article is that of a 16-year-old "mui tsai" who was kept chained by her neck to an iron barred window. Her mistress had bought the girl when she was all of two months old. The price $1.20.

Another example of this brutality was illustrated by a little nine-year-old who was branded with a "red hot" poker so that she might be easily identified if she ran away.

Pretty young girls are brought from all over Asia for sale in the most lucrative Sinapore market, the article points out. These girls are sent to "farms" where all sense of right and wrong is extracted from them, and they are reared to regard sex as their sole aim in life.

★ ★ ★

Later these beauties are sent to finishing schools where they are taught to dress well, dance, use cosmetics and in general — please a man. At the end of their training, they are graded and placed for sale.

Hartrick Orders Another Hearing in Royal Oak Row

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick today ordered another hearing next week on a Royal Oak Township dispute involving the police chief, police officers and civil service board.

Six officers are seeking an injunction to prevent newly-appointed Chief Lawrence Johnson from drawing his $5,500-a-year salary. They have filed suit against Supervisor Elwood Dickens and the civil service board challenging Johnson's appointment as chief June 21.

They allege that the civil service board failed to hold competitive examinations, thus depriving them of an opportunity for the top ojb.

Johnson, they charge, is a nonresident and therefore unqualified for the post. An appointee of Dickens, the officers claim he has never been a member of the force before, and therefore does not met in-service requirements.

Suffers Cuts, Bruises When Struck by Auto

Paul James, 49, of 944 E. Annabell St., Hazel Park, was treated for leg cuts and bruises at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and released, after being struck by a car Sunday morning.

Stands Mute Today to Murder Charge

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of not guilty for him. Martin, of 264 N. Saginaw St., is accused of stabbing Joseph Compeau, 27, during a quarrel at Waterford Township's Cooley Lake road dump.

Martin claimed Compeau had struck at him with a section of lead pipe. The victim died soon after he had been driven by a bystander to Pontiac General Hospital.

The quarrel arose, Martin said at the time, while they were searching for scrap.

Watery Eyes Only Loot for Would-Be Burglers

HUDSONVILLE (AP) — Would-be burglers got nothing but watery eyes from tear gas early yesterday after trying to crack the safe at the Farmers Co-op Elevator Co. here.

Hudsonville Police Chief Don Stratton said the thieves had knocked dials off the large wall safe and a small moveable safe when a tear gas bomb planted in a safe exploded, apparently sending them scurrying from the building.

Stratton said the burgler tools used apparently were taken from a nearby hardware which was entered the same night.

Suffers Concussion in Two-Car Mishap

Edward Williams, 40, of 199 Rockwell Ave., is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion following an automobile accident early Saturday morning.

★ ★ ★

Williams was making a left turn from Bagley onto Gillespie when a car driven by Hirma Barker, 30, of 68 Lake St., struck his vehicle. Barker was treated for bruises and released.

'King Cole' Fears Extinction of Familiar American Hobo

HARRISON, Ark. (INS)—A rather prosperous-looking elderly man leaned back in an easy chair, yawned and declared: "Mulligan stew is the best food in the world."

"I have everything I want. Freedom, no troubles, plenty of leisure time and friends the nation over.

"In fact," he went on, "you might say my home is where I lay my head—anywhere, United States of America."

The armchair philosopher doing the talking was Samuel H. Cole, he 67-year-old King of Hoboes. Cole was pinned down in Harrison long enough to talk about his life and of hoboes in general.

The "king" is currently making a tour of the state capitals to obtain all 48 of the official state seals. He was awarded an "Arkansas traveler" certificate while in the state. This he placed with his title as an honorary Kentucky Colonel and an honorary member of the Lions International.

Cole says he has been on the move for the past years. He hit the wanderlust trail after his parents separated when he was only 14, and he hasn't stopped yet.

Contrary to popular belief, the title of king is not just a self-appointed one. For the past 15 years Cole has been elected "king" at the National Hobo Convention at Britt, Iowa.

LOOK OF SADNESS

As the "king" talked about the convention a look of sadness came across his face. He believes that hobos may be a vanishing race and backs up his theory by pointing out that each year the number of true hoboes attending the convention is smaller.

Cole blames this on "curious tourists who come to see that famous mulligan stew — the best food in the world — and drive away the hoboes."

"I don't know what is going to happen. Why, a few years from now the kids won't even know what a hobo is."

Cole hasn't worked much since he sold papers to obtain spending money when he was 14. He edited a weekly paper in Winter Haven, Fla., for a short time, but gave up the job, explaining, "It was too much like work."

Even though he hasn't worked much, he has crossed the country more times than he cares to remember. This in itself is a very tiring feat for less experienced travelers. The "king" says he was never one to let a trip stand in his way, so he has hitchhiked up and down, back and forth across the country.

"Instead of waiting for the chance to go as so many people do, I am on my way as soon as the notion strikes me," he said.

Cole has one advantage in his favor, however. He doesn't have to take time to pack because he carries his "home" with him. "Home" to the nation's number one hobo is a small suitcase and a bulging briefcase.

The briefcase contains newspaper clippings about his travels, letters from friends — which include many of the state governors — and a manuscript. The manuscript is a story of his adventures, entitled "Hoboes, and Police."

Just stuck out my thumb," he laughed, "living testimony that a thumb and a bum go together."

Money Is Now at $1,900 Level for Pot-O-Gold

Another week without a winner means another $100 is dropped into Pot-O-Gold. This brings the total to $1,900 unless a winner is found in last week's entries. Better not waste a minute in getting your solution started—it would be very disappointing to miss out on all that money because you waited too long.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Detroiter Heads Year-Long Project

Attempting to Salvage Sunken Andrea Dorea

TRENTON, N. J. (INS) — The submerged liner Andrea Doria has been purchased by a Trenton salvage firm and efforts are already in process to raise the ill-fated Italian liner from its ocean grave.

Armando Conti, liquor distributor and civic leader, has disclosed that the Marine Salvage Division of the AAA Sales Co., bought the liner from the Societa D'Assicurazione, of Genoa, which previously acquired it from the Italian line.

The vessel went to the bottom last July about 70 miles from Nantucket Island after colliding with the Swedish Ship Stockholm. The death toll was about 50. It is 212 feet under water.

It was estimated the salvage operation will take a year at a cost from $2,000,000 to $3,500,000. Richard Meyers, 45, of Detroit, a Great Lakes salvage expert, will head the operation.

Two 630-foot ore boats now are en route from Lake Superior and an order has been placed for 97,000 feet of four-inch cable.

USE 'BALLAST' LIFT

A "ballast" type of lift will be used to raise the ship.

The ore boats will stand by above the hulk and divers will lash them to the sunken Doria. The boats then will be sunk to prescribed depths, the resulting slack in the cable will be taken up, and the boats pumped out.

As they rise in the water, they will pull the big liner up with them. The operation will be repeated until the vessel is completely raised.

Indict 14 in Plot Against Nasser

Face Death Penalty for Attempting to Kill Egyptian President

CAIRO (AP)— The 14 persons charged with plotting to assassinate President Nasser and seize the government face death by hanging or life imprisonment if convicted.

The Middle East News Agency yesterday published the indictment against the group and said a high military court would try them. The announcement did not fix a date, but press forecasts are for early August.

★ ★ ★

Arrests of the group were disclosed July 18. It includes former Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah el Din and former Defense and Social Affairs Minister Abdel Fattah Hassan.

Three other civilians and nine army officers were charged with conspiring with the two between April 1956 and last April to change Egypt's constitution and government system.

They planned to assassinate Nasser and his ministers, the indictment said, then set up a new government headed by Salah el Din. Last May was allegedly the time for the coup but the group was arrested in April.

Tigers Work Overtime to Split, 6-5, 3-4

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers took the day off today and, from the standpoint of hours worked, including a 15-inning marathon, they earned the rest.

But gauged on results they deserved a lengthy lecture on the merits of hitting in the clutch, for they let slip through their hands yesterday a golden opportunity to defeat the New York Yankees in both ends of a doubleheader and move into sole possession of fourth place.

The Tigers trimmed the Yankees 6-5 in the first game, taking an early lead and then repelling the Yankee rallies.

In the second game they rose up to tie it 3-3 with two runs in the seventh and then dawdled away ripe scoring chances until the 15th when the Yankees won the game 4-3 on Bill Skowron's triple after Mickey Mantle had walked.

The split with the Yankees — ending a four-game series in a 2-2 split—left the Tigers in a tie for fourth place with Cleveland, which bowed to Boston in a single game yesterday. The Tigers dropped a 4-3 decision to the Yankees Saturday.

For the Tigers the bright spot in the four-hour-and-13 minute second game was the pitching of Billy Hoeft, who went all the way.

Hoeft, now 3-6 in the won-lost column, held the Yankees to nine hits over his 14 1-3 innings. He gave up only four hits during the regulation nine innings. In the extra innings he allowed only one Yankee to reach second base until the fatal 15th. Mickey Mantle went 0 for 6 against Hoeft.

The Tigers outhit the Yankees in the long second game 11-9, working on three Yankee pitchers, but they went down with the bases loaded twice in the extra innings.

Again in the 15th they loaded the bases. Dave Philley led off with a double and two intentional walks filled the bases with one out. J. W. Porter batted for Jim Finigan and struck out. Hoeft grounded out.

In the first game the Tigers got one run in the first on a walk and Philley's single. They added four in the third on three walks, a wild throw; J. W. Porter's double and Ray Boone's infield hit. Frank Bolling socked a home run for the sixth Tiger run in the fourth.

Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn and manager Jack Tighe were thrown out of the second game for objecting too strenuously to a call at first base. Kuenn was called out after slashing a grounder to shortstop. Coach Billy Hitchcock took over the leadership of the Tigers and Ron Samford was sent to shortstop.

The Tigers will open a three-game series at Boston tomorrow night.

Card Rookie Hurls 1-Hitter

Von McDaniel Shines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The good burghers of Milwaukee likely will concede the Cardinals have a beauty in Von McDaniel, 18. But if they're beckoning to their own, lanky Gene Conley today with their widest grins of the year, who can say they don't have a point?

Almost buried beneath Von's brilliant one-hitter Sunday that touched off St. Louis' doubleheader sweep of Pittsburgh was another big game from Conley that kept the Braves in first place in that torrid National League scramble.

In a month, the 6-8 righthander, a native Oklahoman like McDaniel, has worked back to the form that made him one of the league's toughest a few seasons ago. A six-hitter Sunday, enabling the Braves to defeat New York 5-3 and split a doubleheader with the Giants, was Conley's fifth victory in his last six decisions—all since he found the combination back on June 26.

He's whipped New York three times in the last 10 days while moving back into the starting rotation for a club picked as the one to beat when the season began.

With McDaniel's one-hit masterpiece winning the first game 4-0 and Joe Cunningham's 11th-inning homer the second 9-8 the Cardinals chopped Milwaukee's lead to a half game. The Braves had lost the opener to ex-mate Johnny Antonelli's six-hitter, 2-0.

Brooklyn, with Johnny Podres winning his ninth, beat Cincinnati 7-2 to move within 1½ games of the top and drop the Redlegs 2½ games behind Milwaukee in a fourth place tie with Philadelphia. The Phils had a happy day in Chicago, topping the Cubs 3-2 for Curt Simmons' 10th and 7-1 as rookie ace Jack Sanford won his 14th against three losses with a six-hitter.

Chicago's second place White Sox moved up to within 3½ games of the front-running New York Yankees in the American League, defeating Baltimore 4-3 while the Yanks settled for a draw in a seven-hour, 25-minute doubleheader with Detroit.

Ted Williams, his bat mark up to .376, slammed his 29th homer, a double and two singles to lead a Boston comeback that beat Cleveland 9-8; and Kansas City won twice from Washington, 6-2 and 3-2 in 11 innings.

Hoosier Coach 'Benched'

Big 10 Suspends Dickens

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Dickens, Indiana University's new football coach, who has yet to make a Big Ten appearance, was suspended for one year by the Western Conference yesterday for financial assistance irregularities.

★ ★ ★

The action followed a special meeting of faculty representatives and was the first penalty handed down under terms of the Big Ten's new financial aid program adopted last February.

K. L. "Tug" Wilson, Big Ten commissioner who led the investigation of Dickens, said reports that Dickens had made offers of financial assistance to various prospective athletes in excess of aid permissable under league rules forced the investigation.

The move means Dickens, who led Wyoming to an undefeated season in 1956 and then replaced Bernie Crimmins at Indiana, will not be able to coach the Hoosiers for one year. The Big Ten made Indiana's membership in the conference conditional upon Dickens' suspension.

Herman B. Wells, Indiana University president, said the school would comply with the order by suspending Dickens effective Aug. 5.

Dickens, reportedly in Chicago but unavailable for comment, released a statement through the faculty representatives which indicated his staff would carry on through the 1957 football season.

"I can say in good conscience that if I was in violation of the rules in statements attributed to me I was not aware of it nor did I intend to violate the rules," said Dickens.

Dickens was signed to a $15,000 a year four-year contract with Indiana and was promised full backing from the school in his efforts to restore winning football at Indiana. The Hoosiers haven't had a winning season since 1947.

Bolt Bolsters Ryder Standings

BALTIMORE (AP) — For once, money was secondary to some professional golfers in the windup of the Eastern Open tournament.

The tourney which ended yesterday was the last in which points were awarded in the Ryder Cup standings. The PGA executive committee uses the list as a guide to pick 10 to play against England in the first week of October.

By tying Billy Casper of Bonita, Calif., for second, Fred Hawkins of El Paso picked up 35 points to bump Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., from 10th place.

The $2,800 first prize was his first since 1955 although he has done well since at the cashier's window. Last year he won $18,000.

Area Skeeters Do OK

Finish High in State Test

Robert Thiefels, the three Brown brothers of Birmingham and Florence Schmidt of Hazel Park were shining representatives from the Pontiac area in the Michigan Skeet Championships at Grand Rapids, over the weekend.

Thiefels was runnerup to Ains Borsum of Baldwin (Chief Pontiac titlist a week ago at OCSC in the high-overall championship). Borsum shot 342x350 to Thiefels' 340x350. Bob won the 20-gauge with 100 straight.

The big trophy for most improved high-overall for 1957 went to 13-year-old Buddy Brown of Birmingham, a most coveted award. He also won one junior event. Chubby 12-year-old Eddie Brown took the small gauge sub-junior title, was 20 gauge runnerup and 20 gauge sub-junior champ. Besides that he won the all-gauge sub-junior crown. Older brother, Billy, 14, was 20 gauge junior champion, and all-gauge junior runnerup.

The Brown boys, with their father, William A. Brown, are on their way today to Reno, Nev., for the nationals, next weekend. Thiefels and Mrs. Schmidt leave later in the week for the event.

Shaw's, Police Keep on Rolling

Jewelers Triumph, 3-1; Policemen Take IL Lead in Softball Action

Shaw's Jewelers continued to dominate the American League scene and Pontiac Police regained 1st place in the International division to feature city softball action Sunday night at Beaudette and North Side parks.

The Jewelers boosted their lead to a whopping 7½ games with a 3-1 verdict over Stadium Inn. Doug Hall pitched a two-hitter to receive credit for the win, although he needed help from Perc McConner in the 7th inning when Stadium rallied for its lone run.

A 10-run explosion in the 4th sent the Policemen on their way to an easy 15-5 conquest of Lane, Drive-In. Play was halted after five innings by the 10-run rule. Victory gave the Police team a half-game edge over Franklin Products and set the stage for their 1st-place battle tonight.

In exhibition contests last night, Roger Reynolds hurled a four-hitter as Birmingham nipped Drayton Drug, 4-3, and Elks No. 810 blanked Richard's Tavern, 4-0, behind the combined three-hit pitching of Don Hill and Al Emsley.

Bags 'Blind' Ace

Pontiac's Ross DeBolt, 204 East Boulevard, got his first ace a few days ago at Bald Mt. course. Playing in a Pontiac Motor golf league, Ross belted his tee shot to the 172-yard No. 6 green. He didn't see the ball trickle into the cup on the elevated green but players on No. 7 tee did. Ross was playing with Wayne Beals, Joe Gaines and J. M. Baker of the Klingler League. He had a 37 for the round.

Nine Still Unsigned

Lion Vets Join Rookies in Camp

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

General manager Nick Kerbawy has set up his field offices at Cranbrook school as veteran players of the Detroit Lions moved into camp to join the 27 rookies who have been training for the last three days.

The big man in the recent trade, Tobin Rote, arrived yesterday after a detour via Green Bay from his Texas home, and in a short session of passing, the big quarterback was quite impressive.

Rote will give the Lions the threat of the long pass. Bobby Layne has always been more effective on the short aerials.

Kerbawy talked with Walker last night and there was no disagreement on salary, however, the ex-Packer defensive back was still undecided on whether he would leave his insurance business in Texas.

Nothing has been heard from fullback Leon Hart who is attempting to gain a no-release clause in his contract. Hart first signed with the Lions seven years ago with a three-year contract at $15,000. He was given a two year pact in 1953, but the last two years he has been unhappy with one-year terms.

Coach Buddy Parker said if Hart signs he will probably go back to the end position, leaving John Henry Johnson and Tom Tracy as the fullback prospects.

Rochester Rolls to 3rd Victory

Rochester's Junior American Legion team chalked up its 3rd straight victory in the 2nd half schedule for the 18th district circuit Sunday, with a 10-1 shellacking of Birmingham. Berkley defeated Milford 6-4 in another district game, and Owosso surprised Flint Legion for the Zone 3 championship at Owosso, Saturday.

Milford outhit Berkley, at Berkley 6-5, but didn't get the big ones when they counted. Dave Gaddis had three for four, Morrison two for four to lead the hitting. Berkley has lost two, Milford one.

Owosso won the zone title the hard way. It had to dump Flint twice in a row or suffer elimination itself. Four runs in the second inning did it in the first game, for a 6-3 win, marked by heavy Owosso hitting. Host club also belted Flint hurlers for 10 hits in the clincher, winning 6-4, after taking an early lead and hanging on. Fred Wells and Gordon Lowell turned in fine mound jobs for the winners, who now go to the state title tourney in Battle Creek.

Age Not Too Important— Justice Can Still Pitch

The Big Six, which rocketed to national fame during the 30's behind the arm of the peerless Justice, met Shaw's Jewelers as part of an exhibition doubleheader.

The oldtimers lost to the city Class A champions, 2-1, but the result was unimportant to the occasion. Another chance to see Charley work his mound magic was enough to make everyone happy.

Justice hurled the 1st three innings and faced only 10 batters. His star pupil, Perc McConner, singled with two men out in the 3rd for Shaw's only dent in his armor.

He struck out the side in the 1st stanza and wound up fanning five. His best pitch was his famous change of pace, which had the Jewelers stirring up the air. He retired to right field in the 4th for the balance of the game.

Shaw's tallied two cheap runs off Chuck Holloway in the 4th and the margin stood up. The Big Six scored a tainted run against Jake Mazur in the 6th and had the tying marker on 2nd in the 7th.

Wiffi's Record 68 Card Too Late to Stop Mickey

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Wright, 22, has proved that discarding the trombone for a set of golf clubs was the smartest financial move she ever made.

The triumph the blonde belter from Chula Vista, Calif., accomplished yesterday in the Wolverine Ladies' Open hiked her golf earnings for the year to more than $9,000.

Long-hitting Mickey put together four sub-par rounds of 70-74-70-70—284—the best competitive scoring of her career—and made them stand up for a three-stroke margin over another youngster, runner-up Wiffi Smith, 22; of St. Clair, Mich.

Trying for her first professional victory before the hometown folks, Wiffi made a desperate bid in the closing round, scorching Lochmoor's 6,406-yard layout with a record-breaking 68, seven strokes under women's par.

Ignoring the cheers of the Smith gallery just ahead of her own, Miss Wright played bold, almost reckless golf and came home with a 70 against ladies' par of 37-38—75.

Heavy Odds in Favor of Patterson

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is a solid 5-1 favorite to whip tireless Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in their telecast 15-round title fight at the Polo Grounds tonight. But the eccentric challenger thinks he's a cinch to win.

"I'm gonna chop him up," is the way the "Animal" of Stillman's Gym sees it. "I only wish the fight could be to a finish with the man standing at the end being the winner."

If it were an alley brawl without any officials Jackson certainly would rate a better chance. But over the 15-round distance, Tommy's chances appear as slim as the odds against him. The odds are 8-5 that Patterson, making the first defense of the crown he won by flattening Archie Moore last Nov. 30 in five rounds, will stop the iron-jawed challenger in their return bout.

Patterson won his way to the Moore shot and the title by gaining a split decision over Jackson in 12 rounds at Madison Square Garden, June 8, 1956. Although he broke a bone in his right hand in the fifth round, the 6-foot Patterson, then 21, rocked Jackson repeatedly with volleys of lefts and rights to the head.

Always a fast puncher, Floyd has been concentrating on power in his workouts for Jackson. Instead of jumping around the ring, the solidly built- wide-shouldered champion has been setting his feet and unleashing thumping wallops to the body and head.

At first Floyd expressed doubt the 6-2½, 194-pound Jackson, 25, could be knocked out. Later, he said he thought he might be able to do the job.

"I'm going to fight him more," said Patterson who fought in spurts the first time because of his injured mitt. "If the opportunity comes for a knockout I'm going to go for it. If it goes the limit, I'm confident I'll win anyway. I know he has plenty of endurance but no matter what pace he sets, I know I can more than match it."

★ ★ ★

There has been hardly any wagering on the bout and there hasn't been any great rush to the box-office for dress manufacturer Emil Lence's first promotion of a heavyweight title fight—the first such by an independent promoter since the International Boxing Club stepped into the fight picture in 1949.

★ ★ ★

Lence is confident that with a break in the weather he can gross $350,000. This plus the $175,000 for the radio-TV (NBC, 9 p.m., EST) rights could assure the tiny promoter of a smash success. The prospects, howvver, indicate a crowd of 25,000 and a gate of $250,000, that could put Lence in the black, too.

Patterson has been guaranteed $175,000 against 40 per cent of the gate and radio-TV money. Jackson collects 20 per cent.

The weather forecast didn't make Lence too happy. The weatherman predicted scattered thundershowers in the afternoon and early part of the evening with the skies likely to clear by starting time. Lence, however, indicated he would make a decision on whether the fight will be held at the noon (11 a.m., EST) weigh-in at the Winter Garden Theater.

In case of a postponement the fight will be held Tuesday night. If the weather comes up bad that night, next postponement dates are the following Monday and Tuesday.

Patterson, youngest fighter ever to win the heavyweight crown, weighed 178 when he beat Jackson the first time. He scaled 182¼ for Moore and probably will hit around 184 today. Jackson, a native of Hancock, Ga., now living in New York, figures to weigh 194.

Scoring will be by the rounds system. A supplementary point system also will be used to help break draws. The winner of each round will receive one to four points, the loser none. The three-knockdowns-in-one round rule has been waived along with the automatic eight count.

Aussie Cooper Defeats Seixas

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships, touted as a possible Davis Cup preview, have indicated one thing—that Ashley Cooper is the tops the defending champion Australians have to offer at this time—and he is by no means invincible.

★ ★ ★

Cooper, best of the Aussies' tennis crop, defeated Vic Seixas, the best of an American crop yesterday 6-3, 7-9, 6-4, 7-5 to win the Pennsylvania crown and foil "old man river" Seixas in his bid for an eighth state title.

Area Golfers in National Publinx Play

HERSHEY PA. (AP) — Golfers from Hialeah, Fla., to Honolulu attempted today to master a tight little course, where a scenic railway and a swimming pool full of screeching youngsters provides a noisy background, in the qualifying rounds of the 32nd National Public Links Championship.

The 6,055-yard par 35-35—70 Hershey Park Golf Club course, is an appropriate setting for the common people in the tournament. The only public layout among four in this town of 5,000, it is a sort of adjunct to an amusement park.

Michigan representatives will be headed by Pontiac's state publinx champion Mike Andonian and Ronnie Rothbarth, Birmingham's Tim Baldwin, who tied for medal honors in the state qualifying has also made the trip.

When two of the qualifiers, Doug Wilson of Ann Arbor and Ron Nicoll of Detroit, passed up the trip, Norb Przybylski and George Zonars substituted.

Other members of the Michigan delegation include Cass Jawer, Wayne University golfer, Roy Cullenbine, Sam Lima, Fred King and Jay Law.

A field of 150 whittled down from an original entry of 1,923, started play today. After 36 holes of qualifying today and tomorrow the low 64 will go into match play on Wednesday to decide the individual title. The inter-city team championship, in which 23 teams of three men each are entered, will be decided during the qualifying rounds.

The individual competition includes two rounds of 18-hole matches each on Wednesday and Thursday, the 36-hole semifinals Friday and the finals Saturday.

Jewelers, Union Keep Pace

Front-running Shaw's Jewelers and runner-up CIO Local 594 kept pace with each other Sunday afternoon in a Class A City Baseball League doubleheader at Wisner Field.

Shaw's scored five runs in the 2nd inning to ice a 6-3 decision over Griff's Grill. The CIO tallied in clusters of three and two for a 10-5 triumph over the Michigan Giants in the opener of the twin bill.

Nine men went to bat and six of them hit safely in Shaw's robust 2nd stanza. Jerry Taylor was the winning pitcher, with big Steve Kebler relieving in the 7th to squelch a Grill rally. DeWayne Sheffer hurled the distance for Griff's.

Hal Trott clouted a two-run homer and a pair of singles to pace the CIO's rout of the Giants, Jerry Kruskie was credited with the win, but John Wagner gave him some assistance in the 5th frame. Don Vachon pitched the route for the losers.

The Jewelers lead the City League with a 14-3 record. The Union club holds down 2nd place on 11 wins and four losses.

The executive committee of the NBA met yesterday and said Basiolio would be given his choice of titles but would not be permitted to hold both. Basilio meets Robinson at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

Bob Hope Gets Rights to 'Anniversary Waltz'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The traveling, energetic Mr. Robin Hope has happily acquired the film rights to Joseph Fields' romantic comedy "Anniversary Waltz" which played on Broadway several years with Kitty Carlisle and MacDonald Carey.

This news comes direct from Bob who spent the weekend in London with his two older children, Linda and Tony. It will be made for United Artists, which is a surprise, as Bob has made most of his previous pictures for Paramount.

While Bob and his two eldest children were seeing London, Dolores (Mrs. H.) was in Vienna with the two younger members of the clan, Kelly, and Nora. They will all meet in London after Bob finishes editing "Paris Holiday," and they arrive back in New York Aug. 6th.

Arthur Loew Jr., third in succession of the Loew dynasty of MGM which began with Marcus Loew and was carried on by Arthur Loew, has no intention of dropping the production scepter. Young Loew, who has produced five films for MGM, has decided to go on his own and has formed his independent company, Mediterranean Films.

Associated with Arthur in his first two productions is Stewart Stern, who wrote "Rebel Without a Cause." The partners leave Monday for Europe to arrange shooting plans for their first, "Happy New Year," a drama about a homesick G.I. in present day Europe who goes AWOL on New Year's Eve. For their second movie, "Graziella," young Loew and Stern are seeking Tony Perkins who likes the story very much.

Mr. Big in Washington last week was none other than our old pal Jimmy "Schnozzola" Durante who certainly got the red carpet treatment when he visited the Senate. Senator William Knowland introduced Jimmy to his fellow members as "The Distinguished Californian" and the senators stood and applauded.

The Schnozz also visited with Vice President Nixon, even to sitting in his chair and autographing a Dollar Bill for a page boy. "This is the first bill I ever signed in the halls of Congress," quipped Jimmy.

A very wise young man is Tommy Sands, who appeared in court where his contract with 20th Century-Fox was approved, and asked that forty per cent of his salary be converted into saving bonds.

Ted Wick, who has had years of experience with TV, is Tommy's new press representative.

Cliff Stone, the young singer's former manager, will continue to represent Tommy with Capitol Records, but he is so busy with his own show and managing Molly Bee that he turned over Tommy's other interests to Ted.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The rumor around New York is that Judy Holliday and Sid Chaplin will marry the last of August when both go on a vacation.

The newest twosome in town is Arthur O'Connell and Sunny Hamilton, "Miss England" in the "Miss Universe" contest. Arthur first met her when he was making "The Monte Carlo Story" with Marlene Dietrich in the south of France last year.

The engagement of Vanessa Brown and Lewis Meltzer has been called off by mutual agreement. He still plans to go to Las Vegas and get his freedom.

Popular Frank McCarthy, of 20th, has been elevated to Brigadier General in the U.S. Army Reserve. It couldn't happen to a more deserving person.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Armenian Jazz Sextet Rocks

6 Native Detroiters Who Once Played Weddings, Rage of Motor City

DETROIT (INS)—The Armenian Jazz Sextet is currently the rage of Detroit.

The jazz group is made up of six native Detroiters—two of them are Wayne State University students.

PLAYED WEDDINGS

Three years ago the boys were playing at Armenian weddings and dances and it wasn't until this year that a friend gave them an opportunity to cut a record.

For the recording they chose "Harem Dance," a tune they had made up and copyrighted. The flip side is a vocal, "Pretty Girl," with one of the boys singing.

The sextet is made up of Berge and Tom Minisian, Arthur Melkonian, Cory Tosoian, Aram Manougian and Eddie Arvanigian.

With the exception of one clarinet and one saxophone, the group's instruments are traditionally Armenian. Berge, for example, plays an oud. It looks like a mandolin but is larger, and has more strings, a bass tone and requires a genuine eagle feather as a pluck.

The percussion section consists of two dumbags and one tambourine. Dumbags originated centuries ago and are a cross between a bongo and a conga drum.

In March of this year, the sextet was playing a St. Patrick's day dance at the Armenian Community Center in Detroit. A local disc jockey heard the boys and asked if they had any records.

They gave him a copy of "Harem Dance" and he played it. Detroit tennagers heard the disc and raved about it. They began adopting the sprightly folk dance that goes with the tune.

Killer, 83, Thrives on Food of Prison

MARSEILLES—Gaston Dominici French farmer sentenced to death two years ago, is thriving in the prison at Marseilles, but has become something of a problem. At 83 he is the "oldest man under sentence of death in the world." He was convicted of brutally killing the Drummond family of three — British trailer tourists in France.

Prison officials agree privately that "it would be monstrous to guillotine such an old man." But the evidence of the horrible crime makes a pardon unlikely. And prison hygiene and diet undoubtedly have prolonged his life, they say. Prison suits him. "He has never been so well looked after in his life," one official said, with a shrug.

Western Big Three Pledge

Treaty Will Not Prejudice German Unification

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Britain and France pledged today they will not sign any disarmament agreement that would "prejudice the reunification of Germany."

A declaration signed by the ambassadors of the Western Big Three and West German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano stated that Germany can be reunified only after free elections are held in both parts of the country split by the Iron Curtain.

The declaration was made just seven weeks before the crucial West German parliamentary elections Sept. 15. In the campaign the opposition Socialists have charged that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is ruining any chance of Soviet agreement to reunification by keeping West Germany in the North Atlantic Alliance.

The declaration rejected any idea of imposed neutrality or demilitarization for a reunified Germany. It promised that the reunited country would be free to decide its own military policy.

It said it would be up to the German people, "through their freely elected government," to decide whether their reborn nation should join the North Atlantic Alliance.

The Western powers promised that if a reunified Germany should plump for the Western alliance, they would offer the Soviet Union a European security pact "of significant and far-reaching character."

The West has rejected previous Soviet proposals for an all-European security pact, contending that this would be unrealistic and unworkable unless preceded by settlements of such major East-West issues as the division of Germany.

Radio to Track Gangs Saves Railroad Time

When a train is about 20 miles from a track gang, the engineer calls the gang foreman on his radio and the call is heard over loudspeakers mounted on the track machines.

The engineer tells when he will get to the repair point, thus allowing the work machines to be cleared off the track. The effective range of these radio sets is about 25 miles.

Venezuela Adds Roads

CARACAS — Some 680 miles of roads were built in Venezuela last year at a cost of $71,000,000. The States built 290 miles of highways and the Federal Government constructed the remainder. Fifty-nine bridges costing an additional $3,000,000, were erected on the new roads.

Irish Architect Calls Buildings of Today 'Awful'

BELFAST—Although they conform to all the regulations as to safety and structure, most of the buildings being erected throughout Ireland today are "awful," Michael Scott, a leading architect of Eire, told the Irish Association of Architects in Belfast, Northern Ireland.

"Our children and grandchildren will condemn us," he said. He blamed clients who want "some little romantic echo from the past," and said that architects have to agree, against their better judgment.

By far the best-designed buildings today are the industrial ones, Scott said, adding: "Fortunately, one cannot build Romanesque factories." The churches are a disgrace, he thought — Romanesque, Gothic, Renaissance, or something else not suitable for today."

They Were Too Cagey

CASS CITY (AP)—Seventeen citizens showed up at a village caucus to nominate candidates for local office. The same night a basketball game at Cass City High School drew a crowd of 500.

Pockets Sewn Up to Balk Spice Thefts

LONDON—In Europe during the Middle Ages a pound of ginger was worth the price of a sheep, a pound of mace would buy three sheep or half a cow, cloves cost the equivalent of about $20 a pound. Pepper was counted out peppercorn by peppercorn.

Guards on London docks, even down to Elizabethan times, had to have their pockets sewn up to make sure they didn't steal any spices.

In the 11th Century many towns kept their accounts in pepper. Taxes and rents were assessed and paid in this spice, and a sack of pepper was worth a man's life.

'Bikini Beauty' Ends Phone-y Romance

JOHANNESBURG — A businessman of Chingula, Northern Rhodesia, has had a long distance romance that turned out badly. He fell in love with the melodious voice of a telephone operator in Johannesburg, dreamed of her as a beauty, his ideal wife—and finally got her name. They corresponded and she sent him a photograph of a gorgeous girl in a bikini.

The businessman took the next train for South Africa only to discover that he had been hoaxed. The girl, who had borrowed the photo, was not beautiful. She was, in addition, married, with a family of her own, and had started the whole thing as a joke.

Flour Reports Boost Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Reports of developing flour business pushed wheat futures higher in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Other grains, however, continued to maintain a bearish trend, reflecting last week's lower market and excellent crop weather.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ¼ to ½ higher, Sept. $2.15⅝; corn was ⅞ to 1¼ lower, Sept. $1.32½; oats were ⅛ to ½ lower, Sept. 65; rye was ⅛ to ⅝ higher, Sept. $1.28⅜; soybeans were ⅞ to 1¼ lower, Sept. $2.41½; and lard was two to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $13.30.

News in Brief

Robert C. Lewis, 20, of 33536 Rhonswood St., Farmington, demanded examination on charges of attempted breaking and entering in the night time before Farmington Municipal Court Judge John J. Schulte, who set his bond at $2,500 and scheduled the examination for Aug. 7.

Ralph Craig, 32, of 830 Blaine Ave., and his brother, Cheater A., 30, of 420 Riverside Dr., waived examination Friday on charges of grand larceny, were bound over to circuit court. Bond was set at $5,000 by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Thieves took $20 in change and two sets of wrenches valued at $20 from the Standard Service Station, 110 N. Perry St., Saturday night. A window was broken to gain entry.

Oxford Man Named by Veterans' Group

Also elected were Harry Middleton Jr., Oxford, senior vice commander; Charles Eagleton, Kalamazoo, junior vice commander; Glenn Carpenter, Lansing, chaplain; Harold Bledsoe, Detroit, judge advocate, and William Tarr, Ludington, quartermaster.

Civil Rights Fight Puts Senate Way Behind Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights debate has put the Senate far behind in its work and Congress may have to stay in session well beyond Labor Day.

The timetable depends in large part on how much longer the Senate will be involved in the civil rights battle.

The House has been moving ahead with legislation while the Senate has been pinned down in the civil rights fight. In all, 175 bills now are backed up on the Senate calendar, although most of them are minor.

★ ★ ★

Republican and Democratic leaders say they believe it will take about two weeks to complete essential business after the civil rights struggle is over. But they stress there would have to be late sessions to finish work in that time.

Stanton Man Attacks Three

Wields Ax, Blackjack at Ex-Wife, Daughter and Son-In-Law

STANTON (AP)—A divorced man was held today in an ax and blackjack attack on his former wife, and their daughter and son-in-law.

Glen Banton, 58, of nearby Carson City, described by his family as mentally troubled, was in Montcalm County Jail as authorities investigated the incident.

Sheriff Duane Webster said the attack took place yesterday when Banton entered the house of his father, George Banton, and attacked his former wife, Irena, their daughter, Mrs. Mary Elkin and her husband, Edgar Elkin. All suffered cuts and bruises and were hospitalized. They are reported in satisfactory condition. The elder Banton was not attacked.

Webster said the three were staying with the elder Banton because he was not feeling well and needed care.

Webster said the younger Banton forced his way into the house through a bedroom window. He said he arrested Banton after the man's ex-wife ran to a nearby hospital and asked for help. Hospital officials called Webster.

Webster said Banton's family attempted to have him committed to a mental institution about three weeks ago. He said the effort failed when doctors ruled that Banton was sane.

Plane Safe After Scare

Sinking Spell Strikes Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had a sinking spell today as leading stocks took sharp losses in quickened turnover.

Key issues were down from fractions to two points or more.

Selling was active in steels, motors, coppers and rails.

The opening was irregular in fairly active trading. Then a lower trend slowly developed as the pace slowed. Prices began to break suddenly with an increase in activity.

Losses of around two points were taken by U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Jone & Laughlin and Du Pont. Lukens Steel declined more than two points.

Losses of around a point or so were taken by Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Ford, Anaconda, Kennecott Copper, Baltimore & Ohio and Radio Corp.

There was nothing in the way of immediate news to account for the sudden drop.

Former Pontiac Man Retires as Sales Head

A former Pontiac resident, Arthur E. DeNio, 16260 Northlawn Ave., Detroit, will retire Thursday as automotive sales manager of Socony Mobil's White Star Division.

DeNio started his career as a service station manager in 1919. He then headed the company's Grand Rapids, Detroit and Pontiac districts before being named to his present position in 1952.

'Kissing Bandit' Evidently Missed Mother's Petting

PASSAIC, N.J. (AP)— Police say the mild-mannered youth they have tabbed the "Kissing Bandit" might have been lacking in mother love.

★ ★ ★

Detective Capt. Victor Jaffe said Gregich was sent to an orphanage in Albany, N.Y., when he was 3. In his early teens, he worked for his stepfather in a gas station.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Lloyd Morrow, a psychiatrist here, in discussing the case with Jaffe, said a yearning for mother love might have sent the youth prowling in search of his strange fulfillment.

Jaffe said Gregich has confessed to seven such acts after a day and night grilling since he was picked up Saturday.

Few Bruises in Steel Decline

Looking for Increase in Demand on Products From Auto Industry

By SAM DAWSON

The production slump has been relatively slight and orders are picking up, with high hopes held for a substantial increase in demand from that important customer, the auto industry.

Pleasant for steel stockholders are the profit reports on the first half of this year. Two out of every three of the nation's steel companies show earnings after taxes topping those in the same period of 1956.

Rarely have the income statements of the steel industry had closer scrutiny, because of all the hullabaloo over inflation — and particularly the guessing on whether higher wages and higher prices even each other out on the profit and loss sheet.

The steel industry has operated in the first six months of 1957 on a basis of higher wages and prices than a year ago. The second half will be figured on a still higher level — labor costs and steel prices having gone up July 1.

The biggest company, United States Steel, will report tomorrow, but already 23 others have announced earnings after taxes for the first six months. Nine of them have slipped below last year's figures.

Cuts Off Kitten's Tail as 50 Children Weep

DETROIT (INS) — A 20-year-old Detroit man was charged with cruelty to animals today for cutting the tail off a kitten while some 50 crying children begged him not to do it.

The children quoted Bobby H. Wilson of 1405 Temple, as saying: "I'm going to cut off this ugly cat's tail!"

MSU Dean Dies at 57

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HAZEL L. Frasier, who passed away July 29, 1954.
Do not ask me if I miss her,
For there's such a vacant place;
Oft' I think I hear her footsteps,
Or I see her smiling face.
For she left me broken-hearted,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they so little know the sorrow,
That is in my heart concealed.

Police Hold Ex-Convict in Murder of 2 Brothers

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—A 20-year-old, pasty-faced ex-convict, released only seven weeks ago from a reformatory, was held on a murder charge today in the brutal woodlands stabbing of two young brothers last Friday.

★ ★ ★

Raymond F. Ohlson, slightly built and wearing sideburns, was accused of slaying John Logan, 12, and his brother Edward, 11, after allegedly marching them at knifepoint into the woods from a public pond.

The bodies of the brothers, who lived in nearby Stoughton, were found Saturday—nude and partially charred—under a smoldering blanket of twigs and branches.

Police Chief Joseph C. Wright, who took part in 30 hours of questioning of Ohlson, said the youth made no formal statement but related he forced the boys, whom he did not know, at knifepoint to the spot where their bodies were found.

Another clue, Wright said, was the similarity of the crime to an attack on a 12-year-old boy in the same park six years ago. Ohlson was sentenced to Concord Reformatory then for assault with intent to murder.

When police took Ohlson into custody early yesterday at his home, they said they found a Mexican hunting knife with an eight-inch blade under his pillow. It was sent to police laboratories for analysis.

Police quoted Ohlson as saying he removed the boys' swim trunks and hid them in bushes behind a billboard a short distance from his home. He led officers to the spot and the trunks were found.

Charges Backfire on Local 600 Head

DETROIT (AP) — Libel charges brought against fellow unionists by Ford Local 600 President Carl Stellato of the United Auto Workers backfired on him.

A trial committee of the local yesterday not alone acquitted 17 men accused by Stellato in a Local 600 political campaign but also found Stellato guilty of acting in a "frivolous manner" in bringing the charges.

A nine-man trial committee, acting in a union procedure, returned the two verdicts in an aftermath to Local 600's last election.

Stellato, oft-elected president of the UAW's largest local and frequent critic in the past of UAW President Walter Reuther, charged he had been libeled by the 17 in election handbills.

The election went in Stellato's favor. He was renamed to office.

Under disciplinary sections of its constitution the UAW and its locals may provide for the bringing of charges against members and assessment of penalties.

Tree Fellers Find a .500 Average Simply Too Low

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis Wilson and his wife, Muriel, are out of the tree felling business—even though they had a .500 average on their first job.

★ ★ ★

But he added the second "got power lines and cut off electricity away from us," crashed down on in the area for several hours.

★ ★ ★

"It was the first time I had ever tried to cut down a tree," Wilson confessed.

German Mills Bread From Raw Seaweed

HAMBURG — After 50 years of tests, Heinrich Lienau, prominent German scientist, is producing a tasty, nutritious bread which is milled from raw seaweed. He became interested after seeing horses, pigs and even dogs thriving from eating seaweed on the shores of the Baltic.

★ ★ ★

Long ago, he started making animal food from seaweed and when freed from a concentration camp after the war, he found Germany in the throes of a bread shortage. His bread "from the sea" does not smell or taste like seaweed and contains more vitamins than ordinary bread.

Youth Festival Gathers Steam

Communist Sponsored Conference Breaks Up Into Discussion Groups

MOSCOW (AP)—After a flag-waving sendoff before Communist leaders of Russia and more than a dozen other countries, the World Youth Festival today split up into discussion groups.

Everything from atomic physics to hobbies are on the study programs fitted in between sports events and other entertainment for 30,000 attending the Communist-sponsored event. It ends Aug. 11.

About 10,000 of those present for the opening parade and assembly yesterday came from outside the Soviet Union. Half were from non-Communist nations, and many of these visitors looked like very mature "youths and students."

Political speeches and placards were evident at the opening. President Voroshilov said the Soviet Union never has tried to impose its way of life on other nations. About 400 Hungarians listened.

★ ★ ★

Less than 100 Americans appeared in an unorganized group that didn't try to put on a performance during the four hours of marching and subsequent speeches in Lenin Stadium. The State Department and governments of several other countries had cautioned against attending on the ground that the festival would be a Communist propaganda performance.

★ ★ ★

Many of the slogans and speeches followed familiar Communist propaganda themes. The atmosphere was typical of Communist mass meetings—flower girls, athletic demonstrations, flags everywhere, homing pigeons, shouts of "peace and friendship" and national groups folk dancing and singing about the stadium.

★ ★ ★

Police Confiscate Precious Jewels

KATANGA, Belgian Congo — Millions of dollars worth of diamonds are thought to have been confiscated by police of the Belgian Congo in a renewed attack on the illicit diamond trade in Africa.

The southern Kasale (southwest Congo) and the adjoining areas of Northern Angola and Northern Rhodesia are said to be the sources of smuggled gems with which an international gang is operating.

The police of Katanga (southern Congo) have been trailing the smugglers and have made arrests in Elizabethville, Lululaberg and Jadotville. Both Europeans and natives have been arrested. "Tourists" have been found to be carrying illicit diamonds.

Hunts Suitable Stories for His Movies and for Two TV Programs

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Alfred Hitchcock, whose celluloid concoctions require liberal ladlings of evil, complained today that the complexities of international affairs are giving the Russians a monopoly on the villain market.

This might seem a favorable situation to those with the average citizen's disdain for black-hearted-ness, but to Hitchcock, who must turn out suspenseful "whodunit" films on an assembly-line basis, it's a threat to both his well-being and peace of mind.

In the rotund producer-director's business of mixing mysteries simultaneously for movies and for both the CBS and NBC television networks, villains are as necessary as heroes and heroines—and much tougher to find.

Hitchcock, looking pink and fit after a recent operation, dropped his normally pouty lower lip an extra notch or two as he pondered the Soviet cartel on evil-doing in his decorous Hollywood office.

"The difficulty is," he said thoughtfully, "that I'm limited in the sort of stuff I do, you know. And I'm already up against the problem that many of the best stories are stolen by the front pages of the newspapers."

ONLY ONE VILLAIN

"Now we're down to only one villain—the Russian," he sighed. "I mean, for example, you certainly can't use Arabs any more because it isn't the policy of the government."

★ ★ ★

The same, he said, is true of Orientals and specific nationalities, except, of course, the Russians.

"For a long time we had the Germans," Hitchcock said, smiling fondly at the recollection of those good, easy days, "but now that's gone.

Unlike most dealers in mystery, Hitchcock finds the ordinary lawbreaker only "mildly useful" as a villain because, as he explained it:

"I've never been very interested in the professional criminal. I'm interested in the average man who gets involved. The audience feels greater suspense that way, greater identification.

MORE SUBTLE WAY

★ ★ ★

The droll, 57-year-old master of gasp-and-gulp film fare added that aside from the dwindling supply of villains, his major problem is the stiff competition his melodramas encounter in the world of hard facts.

People persist in doing things in real life that make the vicarious adventures of movies and television seem tepid by comparison, he lamented.

"Take spy stories, of which I have made many," Hitchcock explained. "When a Hess flies over to the rival nation . . . well, it's just so fantastic that if you did it in a picture, no one would believe it!"

Falls in Venezuela Being Harnessed

CARACAS — Venezuela's Caroni River hydroelectric plant is expected to start generating power early in 1958. It is six miles upriver from Puerto Ordas and close to where the Caroni empties into the Orinoco River.

Power will be produced by harnessing the lower Caroni Falls to feed, at first, four turbogenerators. The entire project envisages the production of a million kilowatts.

The Caroni's normal volume is 1,280,000 gallons a second, but in flood periods has increased to 4,000,000. Its normal flow could provide each of 1,210,000 persons with 85 gallons of water a day.

Third Class Air Travel Held Out as Possibility

NEW DELHI, India—Hope that third class air travel may be available in another two or three years, further lessening the costs of airplane trips, was held out by a group of European travel agents who met recently in New Delhi.

This innovation may be introduced when bigger jet aircraft start plying international routes, they said, and the third class fares may be two-thirds of the present tourist rates.

Among the suggestions made by the agents to increase tourism to india was that hotels and restaurants catering to tourists should place greater accent on Indian food and Indian music. In many places now, surroundings are utterly western, they said.

It's Nothing Permanent With Natalie and Nicky

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Natalie Wood and I discussed her guy, Nicky Hilton.

"Are you engaged?" I asked. She shook her head, "No."

"Committed?" I asked . . . this time she spoke the word "No."

"Going steady?" . . . Another "No."

WILSON

Natalie, who was 19 recently, broke up over my witless remark. Still a teenager, she can't think of herself as one. And the way she operated to snatch the role of "Marjorie Morningstar" from 35 other applicants was wondrously adult.

"How did I get it?" she said over lunch at 21. "I just asked Herman Wouk for it. Right here. At this table!"

She'd learned—after reading his gargantuan tome about Jewish life away out east on West End Avenue—that he had to approve the girl playing "Marjorie."

"Was it your agent's idea?"

"It was my idea. My agent arranged the meeting.

"Did you do a real selling job?"

★ ★ ★

"Not too much. I just told him I'd read the book and would like to test for the part. I figured it was better to show them than to talk about it."

NATALIE

And now Natalie—whose parents were Greek Orthodox while she's Episcopalian—is running around New York helping test others for lesser roles, and wondering who her leading man'll be.

"My choice? Monty Clift, Kirk Douglas'd be terrific. Gene Kelly? I think there's a problem of age.

"Mary Martin's son, Larry Hagman, is wonderful in the off-B'way show we saw, but for the second male lead it looks like Conrad Jennings. He's a cross between Sinatra and Widmark. That's a pretty good cross!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Shelley Winters' friends say she's expecting . . . Arthur Miller will spend thousands to appeal that $500 fine—it's a principle he's got to fight for.

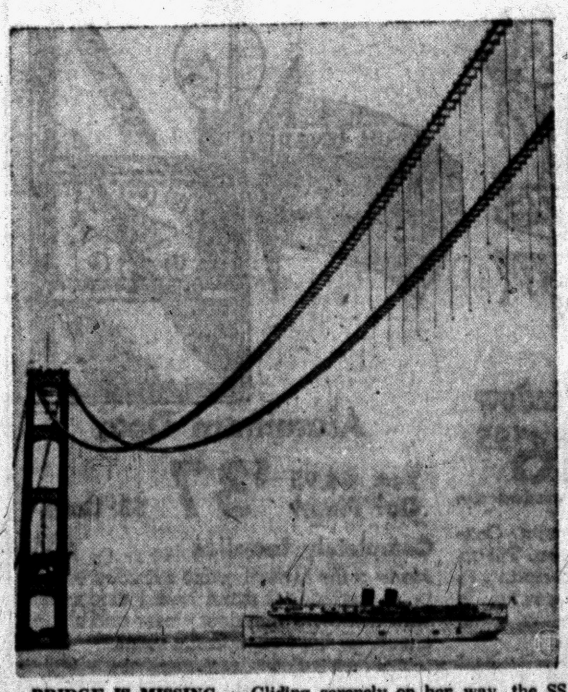

Blond Honey Merrill got her divorce and is chummy with Jackie Gleason . . . Hoagy Carmichael's doing a comeback; he'll work the Waldorf! . . . Eddie Fisher had to sing his "Philadelphia" song over and over for Princess Grace at a benefit in Monaco. She acted homesick.

The Peggy Lee-Dewey Martin marriage is tense . . . A strip joint offered quiz whiz Barbara Hall a bundle to work there. She said nope.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Age seldom improves with whiskey."—A. L. Moragne. That's earl, brother.

BRIDGE IS MISSING — Gliding serenely on her way, the SS North American passes beneath a mysterious-looking bridge that isn't there. Actually, it's the main span of the unfinished Mackinac Bridge at St. Ignace, Mich.

The Tartars, who once overran Russia, Poland and Hungary, are now confined to a region in Soviet Russia. They are Mohammedan in religion and speak a Turiksh dialect.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

First U. S. Movie in Decade

Hungary Gets 'Trapeze'

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary soon will see its first new American movies in a decade.

"Trapeze," with Gina Lollobrigida, will run at the Corvin movie house. This theater served as a rebel stronghold in the fight against the Russians last fall. It has been rebuilt with Hungary's first permanent wide screen and will probably reopen in August—with a Russian picture "Don Quivote."

Istvan Dosai, who manages foreign film exchanges for Hungary, has concluded an agreement to bring in 13 American movies.

"There is no reason why we should not screen American pictures now," he said.

Besides "Trapeze," the Hungarians have bought "Marty" and a Mexican picture called "The Revolt of the Hanged" from United Artists. From Mopex, the export agency which handles the product of other major American studios, Hungary will choose 10 pictures from a list of 180.

Hungary's last contact with big American pictures was in 1948, though stray special items have appeared here from time to time.

"We'll sub-title 'Trapeze,' though," said Dosai. "The talk isn't so important in that one."

"It takes a very good foreign picture to gross as well as even a poor Hungarian one," he explained. "Of course, in Budapest, where people are more critical, a poor Hungarian picture won't be popular. But out in the country people like to hear their own language."

Commie Paper Folds

GENOA, Italy (AP) — The Genoa edition of Italy's Communist newspaper Unita is folding up. Circulation that once reached 50,000 daily in this old Communist Party strong-hold has dropped to 6,000. The paper will continue in Rome, Milan and Turin, however, and party officials say copies needed here will be freighted in.

Monarch 85 Aug. 3

OSLO (AP)—King Haakon will observe his 855th birthday Aug. 3, but a court official says there will be no official celebrations for Europe's oldest ruling monarch. Haakon still is recovering from a thigh bone fracture he suffered two years ago.
