

U.S. Reported Trying to Free Pueblo Crew by End of '68

From Our News Wires
SEOUL — The United States today told South Korea it will make a move soon to obtain the release of the crew of the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo before the end of 1968, the newspaper Dong-A Ilbo said.
However, private sources in

Washington were quoted as saying that hopes have all but vanished for release anytime soon of the imprisoned crewmen although American and North Korean negotiators are about to meet again at Panmunjon.
The session will be the 26th since the intelligence ship and its 83-man crew were seized off North Korea last Jan. 23. The Korean newspaper said the information was conveyed by U.S. Charge d' Affaires Wade L. Latham in a meeting with Vice Foreign Minister Chin Pil-Shik of South Vietnam today.

The newspaper said Latham said negotiations toward release of the Pueblo crewmen had progressed rapidly in the past weeks.

A second South Korean paper, Shin-A Ilbo, reported that U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Gilbert Woodward met secretly with North Korean Maj. Gen. Park Chong-Kook at Panmunjon yesterday and today in what it called "decisive negotiations" to win the release of the Pueblo crew.

There were no official comments from the U.S. Embassy nor the Korean government.
North Korea seized the Pueblo off Wonsan, North Korea last Jan. 23 and towed it to port charging the vessel was spying and in North Korean territorial waters. The United States denied both accusations.

Since the seizure North Korea has published and broadcast what it said were "confessions" by nearly every crew member that the ship was spying.

Laird Hopes the War Will End by Late '69

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incoming Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says he hopes the Vietnam war will be over by the time he draws up a new defense budget late next year.
Laird expressed the hope—without indicating it was any more than just that—at his first Pentagon news conference yesterday following a two-hour meeting with the present defense chief, Clark M. Clifford.
Although sidestepping detailed discussion of some multibillion-dollar decisions he will face, Laird pledged to be careful with defense spending.
FIRST HOPE
"But I would first hope," he said, "that by the time we get to preparation of our first budget we could end the war in Vietnam."
Laird's first budget will be mapped out late next fall. The budget almost always is finalized by late December.
On other matters, Laird said he would visit the war zone after his nomination is confirmed by the Senate.

SUPPORTED SEN. JACKSON
He also disclosed that he had urged the appointment of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., as defense chief and had not sought the job himself.
Beginning in March or April, he said, he will set up a top-level commission to "reappraise the defense establishment and defense policy."

Laird, a Republican congressman from Wisconsin for the past 16 years, dodged a question about whether he believes the United States is faced with a serious "security gap" with Russia such as president-elect Nixon charged during the campaign.
The congressman hinted a basic disagreement with Clifford's plans to use defense facilities and funds as a means of improving social ills in the nation.

Shultz Views Labor Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's secretary of labor is against strikes by public employees, believes in a minimum of government interference and doesn't think wage-price guidelines would stem inflation.
George Shultz, dean of the University of Chicago Business School, told his first news conference yesterday that some strikes may be of such impact on the nation's economy that Labor Department officials will have to step in.
But "my own philosophy on governmental intervention in labor disputes is to go very softly on it," he said.
Shultz said the vast majority of the nation's labor disputes are settled without strikes and that the nation's free enterprise system requires a respect for the right to strike, even though a strike may be unpleasant.

Radio Hanoi Says Yanks to Be Freed

TOKYO (UP)—Radio Hanoi broadcasts said today U.S. pilots held captive in North Vietnam will be released and returned to their families for Christmas.
The broadcast, repeated in several languages, made no mention of the number of Americans to be freed. Neither did it give any names.
The broadcast, quoting the official Communist Vietnam news agency, said the political bureau of the Vietnam armed forces and the Vietnam government had decided to free the captives for "humanitarian reasons."
A total of 1,215 Americans are known to be prisoners of the North Vietnamese or are listed as missing in action in North and South Vietnam. The figure includes 336 known to be captives and 879 listed as missing.

Press to Bring Readers Bob Hope Viet Reports

Once again during the Christmas season, The Press will bring its readers exclusive Bob Hope reports from Vietnam.
This year, Hope will spotlight the changing condition in Vietnam, basing his reports on his observations in that country.
The popular comedian leaves for Vietnam Dec. 14 for his 12th consecutive Christmas entertaining our troops overseas. Watch for his reports in The Pontiac Press.

SEARCH FOR BODIES — A fishing boat and a Venezuelan navy vessel search the shark-infested waters north of Caracas, Venezuela, yesterday for the bodies of persons who perished in the crash of a Pan American World Airways jetliner Thursday night. Thirty bodies were recovered yesterday, and the Venezuelan navy and coast guard vessels resumed the search today for the remaining 21 aboard the craft.

Hart Blasts Entire Concept ABM Briefing Set in D.C.

Area congressmen and Michigan's two senators will get a closed "classified" briefing Monday on the controversial antiballistic missile (ABM) base proposed for the Pontiac area, it was announced today by Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District.
Broomfield had requested the briefing and also a public hearing on the site selection. The latter is expected to be sometime next month.
Monday's briefing in Washington will be with Lt. Gen. A. D. Starbird, manager of the Army's Sentinel ABM program, and Dr. John Foster, chief of research and development for the Army.
JOINS THE DEBATE
Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Michigan, joined the week-long debate yesterday, hitting hard at the entire concept of the $5-billion Sentinel ABM program.
Speaking at a Detroit press conference, Hart characterized the whole thing as "insanity" and called the system a "gimmick" that will escalate the arms race and diminish the nation's security.

Hart expanded on criticism of the proposed Sentinel program offered earlier in the week by Rep. John Conyers, D-Detroit, who called for congressional hearings on the Army's missile base plans.
Broomfield had announced that a public hearing would be held before the House Armed Services Committee makes a final decision on an ABM site.
THREE SUBURBAN SITES
The Army is studying possible missile sites in three suburban Pontiac areas — Pontiac Township, Avon Township and Troy. An Orion Township site also is being looked at for a supporting site.
Broomfield said the hearing, according to law, would be for local government (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 6)

Detroit House Fire Claims 5 Children

DETROIT (AP) — Five small children perished today when flames swept their two-story frame house on Detroit's West Side. Four others were injured in the blaze.
The mother of the five victims and two of her other children suffered minor burns and smoke inhalation, and a fireman collapsed from smoke inhalation and fatigue while fighting the fire.

The dead were identified as Cindy and Timmy Pac, 6-year-old twins; Linda, 5; John, 4; and Charles, who would have been two years old on Christmas Eve.
Mrs. James Pac, 30, was treated at a Detroit hospital along with her two surviving children, Jimmy, 8, and Michael, 3.

Pacts Awarded for OU Project

Contracts totaling $2.4 million have been awarded for the remodeling and expansion of Oakland University's Oakland Center building.
Approval for the project was given this week by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.
Construction will begin immediately for the project which will provide a 40,000-square-foot addition on the south side of Oakland Center, plus remodeling of parts of the existing facility.
Successful low bidders were E. E. Powell General Contracting Co. of Pontiac, architectural; Griffin Brothers Inc. of Southfield, mechanical; Fred W. Monte Electrical Inc. of Pontiac, electrical; and Great Lake Hotel Supply Co. of Detroit, kitchen equipment.
Financing of the project is on a self-liquidating basis.
The addition, expected to be completed by December 1969, will provide a new grill area, dining rooms, lounge space, club rooms and recreation areas for the university's rapidly growing student body, which now numbers 5,064.
The remodeling phase of the project will include alterations to the kitchen and refurbishing of the Gold Room.
Major shifts which will result include the location of the University Book Center in the present grill and student activities area and the location of the Scholar Shop in the present book center area.

DIDN'T HAVE TIME
Flames enveloped the upper flat so quickly, she said, that she did not have time to rescue all of her children.
"My baby (Charles) said, 'Mama, I'm burning,' but when I looked around, I couldn't find him," said Mrs. Pac.
After fleeing the house and awakening a neighbor who called the fire department, Mrs. Pac tried to re-enter the burning house but was forced back by the flames.
Mrs. Pac, who had lived with her children since obtaining a divorce from her husband two years ago, ran to the nearby home of her minister, the Rev. Richard Venus, pastor of the 14th Avenue Methodist Church.
QUESTION FOR PASTOR
"Why does God punish people who are really trying?" Venus said she asked as he met her at the door.
Mrs. Pac, he said, had taught Sunday school at his church for the past six weeks.
Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Jordan-Israel Clash

AMMAN (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli forces exchanged machine gun fire Thursday night at Allenby Bridge three miles east of Jericho, a Jordanian army spokesman announced yesterday.
He claimed the Israelis began firing and Jordanians retaliated without suffering any losses.

DEFEND BATTLESHIP'S GUNS — Members of the Massachusetts Colonial Navy stand guard to defend the guns of the USS Massachusetts at Fall River yesterday. The men were guarding the guns against possible confiscation by the federal government. The Battleship Massachusetts Memorial Committee failed to register the ship's guns in compliance with the new federal gun law. A U.S. Treasury Department agent inspected the ship Thursday with orders to confiscate the guns if necessary.

REP. WILLIAM P. HAMPTON

LANSING (AP) — Preparing to assume the role of minority party in the 1969-70 Legislature, House Republicans yesterday returned three of their top leaders to power and rejected a fourth.
Next year's house minority leader will be Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, a legislator since 1954. Waldron was minority leader in 1964-66 and was speaker when Republicans controlled the chamber in 1967-68.
Returned as the party's floor leader was Rep. William P. Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills. Hampton and Waldron both were unopposed.
The House GOP, during a three-hour caucus which was described as friendly, also agreed to continue a "hands off" policy in the Democratic leadership fight.
Three Democratic House members are in the running for speaker of the House and at least one has sought Republican support. The GOP caucus position is to make no deals for votes with Democratic candidates.

Rep. Martin Butth of Comstock Park, speaker pro tempore in the outgoing Legislature, was elected assistant minority leader, defeating Rep. Thomas Sharpe, R-Howell, in a contest described as close.
Republicans did not reveal the vote totals in their leadership elections.
Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica, last session's associate speaker pro tempore and an outspoken backer of dog racing, school refinancing and the 1967 state income tax bill, was defeated in a race for assistant floor leader.

Cold Wave Chills Mid-U.S.

From Our News Wires
An end-of-autumn cold wave packing a midwinter punch stung the nation's midsection today and toppled temperatures to their lowest levels of the season from the Canadian border to the southern plains.

One week of fall remained on the calendar. But it was small consolation to chilled residents of the Plains and Midwest, where the mercury climbed to record December highs in the 50s and 60s at midweek, then roller-coastered to zero or below.

Temperatures from 10 to 15 below zero numbed the northern plains and upper Mississippi Valley. International Falls, Minn., registered 17 below shortly after midnight. Readings of 10 to 15 above extended southward across Kansas and east through Missouri and Illinois.

Bitter winds and driving snows swirled

brutally through Michigan today, leaving all roads in the Lower Peninsula snow-covered and slippery.

MORE SNOW LIKELY

Four additional inches of snow were expected in the U.P., already hit by heavy snow and gale winds up to 60 miles per hour last night. The winds subsided early today although gale warnings were in effect for the Great Lakes.

At Marquette, State Police said visibility on roads near Lake Superior was poor during the morning with roads throughout the U.P. extremely hazardous for driving. Temperatures were expected to drop to zero by tonight.

Traffic throughout the U.P. was very light with no serious traffic accidents reported. However, because of the severity of the storm, seven basketball games were canceled last night. An overnight snow that measured from two to four inches clogged highways in the Grand Rapids area and in the entire northern portion of the Lower Peninsula.

SNOWY ROADS

Across southern lower Michigan, Three Rivers reported roads padded with snow while at Kalamazoo and Jackson travelling was hazardous because of slippery sections.

Cold wave warnings were in effect for tonight for western portions of Pennsylvania and New York. The storm that churned up blizzard conditions through parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota late Thursday and yesterday whipped into southeastern Canada.

In the West, a major Pacific storm approaching the coast scattered rain from central California to Washington.

Right-Wing Brazil Regime Begins Massive Crackdown

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Armed with sweeping new powers, the military-dominated government of President Arthur da Costa e Silva today began a massive crackdown on its opposition.

Congress was given an indefinite vacation, censors moved into newspaper offices and police began making widespread arrests.

Among the first reported in custody were a former president, a federal deputy and some journalists.

Former president Juscelino Kubitschek, who was stripped of his political rights and ousted from the Senate in 1964, was arrested at the municipal theater where he had been attending a graduation ceremony.

ARRESTED AT OFFICE

Oswaldo Peralva, superintendent of the opposition newspaper Correio da Manhã was arrested in his office after police shot open a door to gain entry to the newspaper building Friday.

Four censors occupied the Correio da Manhã offices and others moved into Rio's other newspapers. There were unconfirmed reports that opposition publisher Helio Fernandez also was taken in custody, and that opposition deputy Helio Navarro had been arrested in Sao Paulo.

The government crackdown began Friday night minutes after Costa e Silva and his Cabinet signed a new institutional act overriding the 22-month-old Brazilian constitution.

Long Heart Operation Leaves Girl 'Very Well'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Janice Marie Hutcherson, 8, of Macon, Miss., was reported doing "very well" today following four hours of open-heart surgery. Doctors said Janice would remain in the recovery room for a few days, then she'll probably have to stay in the hospital 12 more days if she recovers satisfactorily.

Janice has had to curtail physical activity since her blood-stream did not get a sufficient amount of oxygen. The third grader already had undergone one operation to prepare her for major surgery.

Saigon Prepares for New Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — A curfew was slapped on U.S. troops in the capital military district today in anticipation of a new wave of terrorist attacks and a possible enemy winter offensive.

B52 bombing raids around Saigon also were given top priority, and the Stratofortresses dropped 1,800 tons of explosives to blunt any enemy advances on the capital.

American military men were ordered off Saigon streets at 7 p.m. Officials said the curfew would last until 6 a.m. Sunday. South Vietnamese troops in the capital military district were placed on 100 per cent alert a week ago.

Sources said there was no firm evidence the enemy would attack tonight, but the step was taken as a precaution because the enemy traditionally has launched attacks on weekends when they feel the allies are off guard. An offensive against Saigon last May began on a Saturday night.

Commenting on the bombing raids today, described as the heaviest in two months, a U.S. spokesman said: "Priority requires that the B52s be brought into the 3rd Corps—Saigon and outlying areas—right now."

Nixon Won't Cripple Social Projects--Dem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic leader of the House doesn't think President-elect Nixon will try to substantially dismantle social programs begun by his Democratic predecessors—or that he could succeed if he did.

"It would be an impossible job," Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma said in an interview. "The penalty would be too great."

As majority leader, Albert ranks second in the House Democratic hierarchy to speaker John V. McCormack. Albert said an immediate penalty would be refused by Democrats, who still control Congress, to cooperate with the new administration.

BASICALLY DEMOCRATIC

Albert insisted the November election showed "the country is still basically Democratic." The House especially, is unchanged for practical purposes, with a loss of four Democratic seats offset by election of more liberal-leaning members among Republicans and southern Democrats.

Birmingham

School Union Ratifies New Pay Schedule

BIRMINGHAM — Public school custodians, maintenance, transportation and cafeteria personnel members of local 1384 of the AFL-CIO have ratified a new salary schedule.

The board of education is expected to ratify the agreement at its regular board meeting Tuesday.

With about 325 employees in the local, the vote approving the contract was 105-12.

The new salary schedule was the same proposal turned down by the union members on Nov. 25. However there have been changes regarding the board's suspension of terminal pay, based upon an attorney general's opinion that terminal pay could not be paid to public school employees.

Richard Zweiback, chief negotiator for the Birmingham Board of Education, said that when there is a test case in court and if the court declares that boards of education may continue terminal pay, the Birmingham board will retroactively pay any eligible employee who didn't receive the money during the interim.

The agreement, effective Nov. 1, 1968, calls for the following increases: skilled employees will receive a 19 cent hourly increase, salary range, $3.24-$3.74 per hour.

Semiskilled employees will receive an 18-cent hourly increase, salary range, $3.08-$3.48 per hour.

All other employees in the 10 classifications will receive a 15 cent hourly increase across the board. The salary ranges from $2.90-$3.67 per hour.

Cafeteria personnel will receive a 10-cent hourly increase, salary range $1.83-$2.73 per hour.

All of the above employees will receive an additional 5-cent-per-hour increase effective March 1, 1969.

The original contract presented to the employees was rejected by an 88-71 vote at a ratification meeting earlier this month and precipitated a walkout of about 325 employees on Dec. 3. The employees returned to work the following day until the contract settlement was reached last Tuesday.

State House GOP Reelects 3

The post went to Rep. Hal Ziegler of Jackson, a former assistant prosecutor with two years' experience in the House, compared to Spencer's eight. Ziegler also defeated Reps. David Seroklin of Mount Clemens and Quincy Hoffman of Appleton.

Rep. Russell Strange of Mount Pleasant was elected GOP caucus chairman, defeating Rep. Melvin Destinger of Hudsonville.

Named assistant caucus chairman was Rep. James Farnsworth of Plainfield, who beat Rep. Philip Pittenger of Lansing.

The caucus also created two new positions—whip and assistant whip, or "Bullywhip" and "Buggy Whip" as GOP quipsters dubbed them. The jobs, Waldrin said, involved counting votes and checking attendance when major issues are before the house.

DAVISON LEGISLATOR

Elected whip was Rep. James Smith of Davison, who defeated Reps. Joseph Swallow of Alpena and Edgar Geerlings of Muskegon. Named assistant whip was Rep. Robert Davis of St. Ignace, who ran against Reps. Charles Varnum of Manistique and Raymond Smit of Ann Arbor.

The caucus also saluted retiring Rep. Arnell Engstrom of Traverse City by unanimously electing him to the newly invented post of caucus chairman emeritus.

Engstrom, 71, served the GOP as caucus chairman in 1967-68 and was chairman of the prestigious House Appropriations Committee. With 28 years of service, he was dean of the Michigan Legislature.

Engstrom, in Honolulu, recovering from a mild heart attack, opened yesterday's caucus by sending greetings over a long distance telephone hookup.

Two grants from the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., included one of $38,994 to support research on the control of cell division in the ocular lens, under the direction of C. V. Harding, professor and chairman of the biology department.

The other grant for $33,294 was accepted for research entitled "Lipid Metabolism and Hormones in Insects," under the direction of Gottfried Brieger, associate professor of chemistry.

A grant of $22,550 was received from the National Foundation of Arts and Humanities as continued support for the audience development program being conducted by OU's Meadow Brook Theatre.

Another $3,500 grant was received from General Motors Technical Center of Warren for support of an engineering conference on technical management.

32 U.S. Drug Agents Quit During Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thirty-two federal narcotics agents have resigned in the course of a 16-month investigation of the sale of confiscated drugs, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark disclosed yesterday. "Additional resignations and prosecutions will result," Clark said.

The attorney general said five agents already have been indicted for selling narcotics and two have been arrested on counterfeiting charges. One was convicted of bribery in 1966.

Virus Probe Urged as Link in Cancers

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Cancer Institute researchers strongly suggest further investigation of an unknown virus they say studies indicate may be connected with human bone cancer.

Donald L. Morton of the NCI's surgery branch and Richard A. Malmgren of its pathology branch reported yesterday in Science magazine the virus was found in four bone cancer patients, in members of their families and in several friends of one patient.

"Whether this agent is an incidental passenger or a cause of cancer remains to be determined, they wrote.

But, they added, clinical evidence that cancer may be caused by a virus, "combined with the implications of this study, strongly suggests that attempts should be made" to identify the virus.

Morton and Malmgren said NCI researchers found each osteosarcoma, or bone cancer, patient had antibodies that reacted "not only with his own osteosarcoma but also with the tumors of other patients."

Similar antibodies were found in the patients' families and in several close associates of one patient.

Ty Tyson

The voice of Ty Tyson, heard over WJW radio for three decades by baseball fans listening to his broadcasts of Tiger games, is stilled. He was 80 when a Higher Voice summoned him.

Tyson pioneered radio broadcasts of baseball games when he went on the air April 19, 1927. He continued to air the fortunes and misfortunes of the Detroit teams until his retirement in 1953.

TYSON

Ty broadcast in an easy, relaxed style, much at variance with the staccato, suspense-creating technique of some of today's narrators. And he was in every respect a gentleman of the old school—in both his public and private roles.

It is safe to say that he never spoke an unkind word about a fellow being, and he seemed as contrite about diamond errors and hassles as undoubtedly were the players involved.

Ty Tyson's place in the annals of baseball and his profession is a lasting one. In the regard of a generation of baseball fans, saddened by his death, he was tops.

Sweden Stages Another Anti-American Conclave

Vietnam 69, a three-day conference sponsored by the Swedish Vietnam Committee opened in Stockholm yesterday. Organizations from dozens of countries were invited to send representatives. But no pro-American speakers will be heard. There is no point in having a quarrel here," explains BERTIL SVANHSTROM, executive secretary of the committee.

The same reasoning prevailed at the so-called "International Tribunal on War Crimes" held in May 1967, also at Stockholm. Organized by British philosopher BERTRAND RUSSELL, the tribunal ended up in the Swedish capital after having been rebuffed by London and Paris. The tribunal's conclusion—that the United States was guilty of war crimes in Vietnam—was hardly startling. It had been announced in advance.

The Vietnam war has imposed severe strain on Sweden's traditional policy of neutrality. Olof Palme, the minister of education, created a sensation last February when he denounced the United States at an anti-American rally in the capital. During a pre-rally march, he had linked arms with the visiting North Vietnamese ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Sweden, moreover, has granted asylum on humanitarian grounds to nearly 140 American war resisters, most of them deserters from military units in Europe or Vietnam. About 30 additional young Americans are believed to be in the country to avoid either the draft or assignment to Vietnam. Significantly, about 30 deserters already have returned to their units.

Disillusionment has come about by such things as lack of good jobs and housing and the difficulty of learning the Swedish language. RAY JONES III, the first American soldier to seek asylum in Sweden and the first to leave, had a different complaint. Speaking as a Negro, he said that Swedes have "a strong prejudice against those of my color."

Survey Shows Autoists 'Sit Out' Seat Belts

Those self-appointed auto safety zealots who continually point an accusing finger at auto makers would do well to divert their zeal to auto drivers.

A survey shows that fewer and fewer drivers use the seat belts with which all cars now come equipped. In 1966, 60 per cent of drivers used their belts on long trips. Last year, the percentage dropped to 51.

Isn't there something about "you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink"?

Great Interest in Court Appointments

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

None of Richard Nixon's actions will be watched with greater interest than what he does with respect to the U.S. Supreme Court. Certain echoes of the Abe Fortas case can now be clearly heard, and it would be strange indeed if the first session of the 91st Congress, which will convene on Jan. 3, does not deal with the naming of justices to the court, including the matter of finding a chief justice to replace Earl Warren upon his long-planned retirement.

DIRKSEN

Justices to the court, a power that can be exercised exclusively by him. The nomination, of course, has to be presented to the Senate for confirmation, and if the nominee fails to win Senate approval he cannot be seated as a member of the Supreme Court.

A proposed constitutional amendment to provide a different method of selection will be offered in the 91st Congress by Democrat Sen. Sam Ervin Jr. of North Carolina, a former chief justice of that state's supreme court.

Sen. Ervin proposes that when a vacancy occurs the President shall convene a conference of the presiding judge of the highest appellate court in each state and the chief judge of each of the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeal. Sixty judges would thus be eligible to attend. By majority vote, the conference would be empowered to select five or more persons whom it deemed qualified for a seat on the U.S. Supreme Court. Those names would be submitted to the President who then would select one and send it to the Senate for confirmation. If that nominee were not confirmed, the others would in turn be selected and sent to the Senate until one received confirmation.

Presently, there is no actual or stated pattern under which justices or the chief justice are considered. Certain it is that after the experience of the Senate in the Fortas case the senators will be sharply alert to the qualifications of anyone who is named to the high bench.

The Ervin proposal will be a long time in becoming reality, if it does receive final approval of the needed majority of states. Justice Hugo Black is past 80 and may retire. Justice John Harlan has an aggravated eyesight condition, and Justice William Douglas is said to have a heart ailment which conceivably could incapacitate him.

Time alone may give Mr. Nixon the duty of making a number of appointments. The President-elect is a lawyer. He is quite familiar with the general views of the various bar associations on court appointments. He is also familiar with the general attitude of the country, and it is certain that before making any appointment to the Supreme Court he would explore not only the qualifications of a possible appointee but also the likelihood that if he sent a name to the Senate the appointee would be confirmed.

AS OTHERS PORTRAY THE CHRISTMAS STORY

The Flight Into Egypt—China

China was one of the first countries to be visited by Christian missionaries. Nestorian Christians went there in the 7th century, but very little art remains from their efforts. Jesuit missionaries arrived there to stay at the end of the 18th century. But it wasn't until after the first World War that Christian Chinese art flourished under Luc Tchong, the professor of art at the Catholic University of Peking.

Luke Chen, who did the painting of "The Flight Into Egypt," from which the above drawing was done, was one of a number of Chinese Christian artists to come out of the school in Peking.

He became a Christian while doing a series of paintings for Archbishop Sostantini, first Apostolic delegate to China. The Archbishop was impressed with the beautiful poetic paintings of the New Testament in the Chinese tradition.

Concerning his work, Luke Chen wrote: "I believe that when I paint the wonders of Christianity according to the ancient rules of Chinese art, the painted object exerts an externally new and strange effect . . . and by such means draws the Chinese to know God." It is to be devoutly wished that the influence of the prolific Luke Chen will not be completely lost in that country covered by the red mantle of communism.

Confident Living:

There's Plenty of Good in Life

By NORMAN VINCENT
PEALE

After making an enthusiastic speech about how really exciting life is, I was approached by a visibly far-out member of the younger generation. "Don't make me laugh," he griped. "What is there to make life good?"

DR. PEALE

He did not give me a chance to reply; he turned and walked away rapidly. But his question lingered. Just what is there to make life good?

The answer is very clear. There is plenty of good in life for those who are able to see it and take it. What this world is to you or to me and through us to others depends very largely upon our attitude—upon the cast of mind we have. It depends upon the spirit in which we approach the problems and opportunities of human existence.

Recently I was in Halifax, Nova Scotia, to give a talk to an audience made up of salespeople, and the general public also. To get to the hall I hailed a taxicab and told the driver, "St. Patrick's Auditorium."

As we started off, the driver, a clean-cut looking young fellow said: "There's an author from New York going to speak out there tonight."

"That's right," I answered. "I would go to the meeting," he continued. "But I can't. You see, I go to college during the day—Dalhousie University—and at night I drive this cab. My wife would like to go too, but she is a nurse and she can't be off tonight."

"Well, you've got the speaker right here in your taxi."

"What do you know?" he said in surprise. "How about giving me a rundown on your speech. 'Why Positive Thinking Gets Positive Results.' I really go for that positive thinking."

"I don't think you need it," I replied. "You and your wife are a hard-working couple and I admire you."

"Yes," he said. "But don't be sorry for us. We are having a good time. We like it. This is a wonderful world and this is a terrific time to be living. My father always taught me to live right and have a cheerful attitude and be a positive thinker. My wife and I—we're going to do something with our lives. We just know we are."

I told him about my far-out friend who growled about nothing good in life. The young man shook his head. "You know, I feel sorry for those guys. They are so mad at everybody and mad at themselves that they've got all mixed up. Someone should straighten them out."

How refreshing it was to encounter a young person with such a vital conception of what life is like!

Of course any wide-awake individual living today is only too painfully aware that not everything in this present-day world of ours is all sweetness and light. We have ugly facts to deal with, we are faced with disturbing trends, we are involved in perplexing situations. But one of the secrets of successful living is to balance one aspect of experience against another and keep our perspective.

When you feel overwhelmed by all the rot in the world today, the crumbling of standards, the corruption, the dirtiness and decadence, remember that there are also beautiful mountains and rushing rivers, surging seas and magnificent forests and that the stars are still there in the night sky and the sun still rises in an effulgence of beauty.

Remember too that everywhere there are thousands upon thousands of human beings who know in their minds and hearts that life is good—people who do not let adverse conditions or any difficulty get them down but joyously pursue good things for themselves and others.

Samuel Butler wrote, "Is life worth living? This is a question for an embryo, not for a man."

Goethe makes the same point in gentler words: "We men," he says, "are always complaining that our happy hours are so few and our sad hours so many, and yet it is we who are to blame. If we opened our hearts to enjoy the good that God offers us every day we should have strength to bear the evil in its turn when it does come."

Don't run life down. Instead, let it really get hold of you. Be thankful you are alive. Life is precious, it is good, real good. Keep it so, as long as you live.

Necessity for Recount Questioned by Reader

In regards to daylight saving time recount, I feel our votes should be counted as carefully as money in the bank. After every big or important election there is a recount on some issue. With all modern computers, why is it necessary to make mistakes? Can it be done accidentally on purpose to see if they can get away with it?

'Urge More Parents to Attend PTA Meetings'

Is TV too good to miss for a P.T.A. meeting? Why is it always the same parents who help? Teachers are also tired after seeing our children all day but they return with a smile only to be disappointed because parents didn't show up. Most schools have baby sitting service so that is no excuse. Don't let your child down.

'Socialism Is the Answer for Working Class'

Now that the election is over and capitalism was again, we appeal to all who would want a better life to work with us for socialism. Only the working class can build real socialism but they must have the know-how and understanding. The business of the Socialist Labor Party is to provide this understanding. The working class needs an elementary understanding of economics. Without it the working class is helpless and can only react in demonstrations and riots. With this understanding we can and will build a better world in a peaceful and civilized way.

Act of Compassion Wins Praise for Teens

I commend three Waterford Township High School students who, after unavoidably striking a dog on Pontiac Lake Road near Della Lufes School, stopped, wrapped the injured dog in one boy's coat and rushed it to the veterinary. Later I learned that the one boy stayed at the hospital while the other two attempted to find the dog's owner. This incident may never rate the front pages but at least I have witnessed an act of compassion that I had long given up hope for in the majority of our teen-agers. These boys are tops in my book.

GRATEFUL

Comments on Waterford's School Finances

I don't like taxes; however, I feel that education is not the place to say "no." It is not the superintendent nor the board of education who will suffer, it is the children. Waterford Township is already in danger of losing high school accreditation from cuts that have been made, and more are bound to come. It appears that the so-called "frills" of yesterday are among the "basics" of today. I dare say that given a chance, parents wouldn't want to go back to the "reading, writing and arithmetic education" of yesterday any more than they would want to go back to the washboard from the electric helpers we now have.

We tend to forget that schools operate on more or less of a fixed budget. They cannot raise the price of their product to compensate for the higher cost of utilities, books, supplies and salaries. Waterford is in trouble and we are not alone. Educators and concerned lay people are aware that something has to be done and are seeking a solution to the problem. We as interested citizens should find out what we can do to help and act accordingly.

Driver Has Two Accidents at 'Death Corner'

How many more times must I get involved in accidents on M50 and Milford Rd. before a stoplight is installed? I was badly injured when a woman failed to yield the right-of-way on Nov. 6, 1964. On Dec. 6, 1968 a 16-year-old youth failed to yield the right-of-way and my car was totaled. I suffered almost identical injuries in the accidents.

All we hear is talk, talk, talk. At this rate I could be another fatality at this "death corner." I will appreciate something being done while I can still walk.

Question and Answer

Who has earned the most money and in what order—Beatles, Presley or Sinatra?

R. CLARK

REPLY

That would be hard to say for sure. Beatles have sold the most records, with Presley next, then Sinatra. However, the amount of money they've made depends on the kind of arrangement they get for public appearances, how many times they've made, what outside interests they have. Considering he's been in the business longer and is known to make shrewd deals, Sinatra almost certainly has the high money mark.

Question and Answer

You've helped so many other people in your column, I was wondering if you could help me. I've been buying fresh supplies of sugar for a child's Kotton Candy machine. I can't find any place that carries the machine any more, and children who come here have more fun with this toy than anything else we've ever had.

AUDREY A. HYDE
744 E. BEVERLY

REPLY

After quite a little searching, we found a family that has both a professional cotton candy machine, and a toy one for their children. They said that neither machine needs special sugar, but that cane is better than beet. Any packaged sugar you had for the machine was probably regular sugar with coloring, but you can color plain sugar with drink powders (Koolaid, Cherri-aid, etc.). They also said the clogging you get is bound to happen sooner or later with the toy machine, because it isn't built to be cleaned so easily or to last so long as a real one. And unfortunately the company that made yours is no longer listed in the Chicago directory. After such a nice letter, we wish we could have been more encouraging.

Trailblazing Nature of Apollo 8 Flight Cited

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — "We'll be blazing the trail for future astronauts, making it easier to land on the moon." That's how Air Force Col. Frank Borman sums up the Apollo 8 mission scheduled to blast off Dec. 21, headed for an historic orbit around the moon.

Borman will command the six-day flight. With him will be Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

"You must keep in mind," Anders explained, "that this will be, for us, the first eyeball connected to a brain, connected to an arm that can write and a tongue that can speak, in this vicinity of the solar system."

"CAN DO JOB"

"We think that by having a man up there, we can really do a job that you cannot possibly do with unmanned vehicles."

Lovell commented: "A manned moon orbit flight before a manned lunar landing mission will provide us with experience in sending a spacecraft out to that distance and operating it in lunar orbit. It will enable us to better understand the problems that might arise, to determine our precise orbits about the moon, to determine the operation of the thrusters, life support, communications and other systems in that environment."

"If we know these things, then you have confidence you can land the next time out."

Apollo 8 is to circle the moon 10 times in 20 hours at an altitude of 69 miles on Christmas Eve and part of Christmas Day.

PRIME SPOT

The flight path will take the astronauts over an area near the crater Censorinus in the Sea of Tranquility which is considered a prime spot for the first astronaut landing on the moon.

"We'll photograph it and other areas extensively," Anders said. "We'll get a stereo effect that will be a valuable tool for training moon landing astronauts. It will show them exactly what their approach will look like, what boulders, craters and so on are there."

Lovell, the navigation expert, said location of features on the front side of the moon facing earth are well known because they have been extensively studied. But he noted locations on the hidden backside, photographed by cameras in the unmanned Lunar Orbiter series, are not known accurately.

"We must know where certain key backside features are to help us navigate," Lovell said. "We'll attempt with our sextant, telescope, computer and cameras to get exact fixes on at least three backside positions."

12 Shot, 400 Arrested in Pakistan Strike

DACCA, Pakistan (AP) — Police fired twice into rioting mobs Friday and arrested nearly 400 persons in East Pakistan where a one-day strike virtually paralyzed the region.

Officials said at least 12 factory workers were wounded, four critically, in the Indian Ocean port city of Chittagong.

Police also fired tear gas and made bamboo cane charges in Chittagong to disperse crowds that attacked cars and smashed shop windows.

In Dacca, the provincial capital, where President Mohammad Ayub Khan was completing a nine-day visit, troops were called in to patrol the streets after crowds burned or damaged seven cars, five buses and several police jeeps.

COLORADO WATER

The police sprayed colored water on one crowd that included former Pakistan air force commander-in-chief Air Marshal Asghar Khan, now one of Ayub's political foes. Khan's secretary was among those arrested for defying a ban on public assembly.

The strike, billed as an "anti-repression day," was called by seven opposition parties to protest Ayub's policies, capping month-long antigovernment agitation.

Students, lawyers and journalists, who staged most of the past demonstrations, were joined Friday by labor union members in major East Pakistan towns.

Strikers marched with placards demanding political reforms, freedom of the press and the release of political detainees.

The butane lighter industry, with sales of about $100 million in 1967, expects to do even better this year.

NANCY A. ADAMS

Catholic High Senior Named Teen of Week

An active senior at Pontiac Catholic High School who hopes to be a teacher or counselor is this week's Pontiac Teen of the Week.

She is Nancy Anne Adams, president of the National Honor Society, a homeroom representative on Student Council, and a member of the government seminar and Drama Club.

She also finds time to do volunteer teaching of catechism at St. Vincent's Church once a week.

Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adams of 19 Gage, is also a leader for group dialogue discussions and the winner of a Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen award.

Commenting on the importance of education, Nancy said, "I feel that the teen-agers of today must be educated and well-informed. If we want to keep our democracy and freedom, we can rely only on our knowledge and how we put it to use for ourselves and for others."

She hopes to attend Marygrove College of Detroit next fall.

Jury in New Mexico Acquits Latin Leader

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Reies Lopez Tijerina, militant leader of a land-grant claims group, was acquitted Friday of charges in the shooting and violence at a rural courthouse.

The 42-year-old Tijerina said he plans now to pursue his land-grant claims "more than ever."

Dist. Atty. Alfonso Sanchez said he had made no decision about whether to try Tijerina on seven other charges involving the violence at the Tierra Amarilla courthouse June 5, 1967. And Sanchez gave no indication whether nine followers of Tijerina who face similar charges would go to trial.

"I feel great," said Tijerina, after his five-week trial in State District Court. "I think we had the best jury New Mexico has ever had."

Tijerina was tried on charges of kidnapping and false imprisonment of a deputy sheriff and an assault on a jail during the gun-shot violence at the Tierra Amarilla courthouse.

While testifying that he had no part in the violence, Tijerina said the "Tierra Amarilla explosion" resulted from built-up frustrations of his Spanish-American followers over their land-grant claims.

The state had asked for a first-degree kidnapping conviction, which carries a penalty of death in the state's gas chamber.

Sanchez told the six-man, six-woman jury he wouldn't mind if it recommended life in prison.

The jury which included four Spanish-Americans and a Negro, deliberated almost four hours.

Tijerina, 42, a native of Texas and former evangelist preacher, came to New Mexico to form the Alliance of Free City States. The group contends Spanish and Mexican land grants of a century ago were taken by deceit and fraud from ancestors and the land should belong to them.

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON PARIS (AP) — Red China is so displeased with Hanoi's willingness to negotiate a peace settlement that it is slashing aid to North Vietnam, western diplomats claim.

The diplomats say they have detected a steady scaling-down of Chinese military aid to North Vietnam since March 31, when President Johnson first limited the bombing of the North. Since then the Chinese were said to have withdrawn nearly half their estimated 50,000-man labor force from within North Vietnam.

Indications are the total cessation of bombing Nov. 1 and preparations for expanded peace talks have infuriated Peking even more.

Without making any official pronouncements, Peking is allowing its mass media to feature anti-Hanoi criticism, a favorite ploy of propagandists in Communist capitals.

MORE FORCEFUL

Reports reaching the West also tell of more forceful expressions of displeasure, such as popular demonstrations against the North Vietnamese inside Red China.

One dispatch said a North Vietnamese consulate in Nan-king recently was surrounded and attacked by Red Guards. Others tell of Red Guards seizing shipments of Chinese arms bound for Hanoi.

After one such seizure of a munitions train, Prime Minister Chou En-lai was moved to con-claiming peace is not going to be achieved at the Paris talks but on the battlefields of Vietnam.

The Roman legions used to be paid partly in salt, then a precious commodity. That is the basis for the expression, "worth his salt."

News Analysis

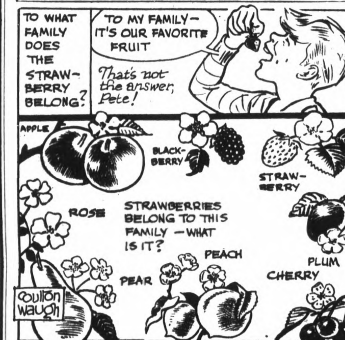

needed as bombing decreased, so it was simply withdrawn without any substitute aid offered.

DEVELOPMENTS

Allied experts note the following significant developments since last spring:

- Leading Albanians from Premier Mehmed Shehu down have been criticizing Hanoi's participation in the Paris peace talks since October. Albania, China's only European ally, portrays such participation as "revisionism," taboo in the Communist rule book. And Chinese organs have been publishing these criticisms.
- Eight days ago Chinese papers printed an Albanian leader's call on the North Vietnamese to quit the Paris talks and keep fighting until complete victory.
- Vice Premier and Defense Minister Begir Balluku accused the Americans of plotting with the Russians to crush the Vietnamese.
- Again this week Peking published a statement by Shehu

Junior Editors Quiz on STRAWBERRIES

QUESTION: How did strawberries get their name?

ANSWER: Strawberries seem to have little resemblance to the fruits and flowers we show in a ring in our picture. Yet all these belong to one plant family, and it may surprise you to learn that this is the rose family.

The roses with which we are so familiar are the cultivated kind, with large double petals, but we show the smaller wild rose in our picture. Notice how similar this five-petaled blossom is to the flowers of the other rose family members, even if their fruits are very different in appearance. It is through these flowers that one realizes the family resemblance.

Strawberries were once called strewberries. This came from the use of the old word strew, meaning scattered or distributed. When you look at a bed of strawberries bearing fruit you will notice how these fruit are distributed, scattered or strewed among the leaves of the plant.

Words often are changed while being used, and so strewberry became strawberry. Then, too, straw is often used with strawberries. It makes a good mulching material to protect the plants in areas which have cold winters.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Holiday Bash in Fashion

By JEANNE NELSON

What started out as a men's fashion assignment the other night ended in something akin to the most groovy of holiday bashes before the evening was quits.

Last week, I had asked Ken Monroe and John Connell, who share a bachelor apartment in Troy, to ask a couple of other fellows over to their place on Wednesday so we could get some shots of men's casual wear.

"We'll need some holiday type props," I warned him.

"No problem," was his quick reply.

Well, the "no problem" turned out to be a very bare-looking six foot balsam casually propped up in the corner.

TRIM

"You mean you haven't even got this thing trimmed yet? Get the ornaments, break open the tinzel and lets get started," I offered.

"Who's got ornaments," John chimed in.

"You mean this, this TREE is the whole scene?"

Noticing the suddenly high pitch in my voice, Ken drawled, "I'll call some people and see what they have."

They came and they came and they came, loaded with anything that faintly resembled the Christmas spirit.

Since all are neighbors in this huge apartment complex and could safely be grouped into "swinging" singles, the atmosphere took on a party mood.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwolf

Art Sand comes bearing sound for the tree trimmers in Ken Monroe and John Connell's Troy apartment. Neighbor, Art, who lives a few buildings away, keeps warm in a navy nylon belted ski jacket, tan wool slacks and fleece-lined ankle boots of tan suede.

Theatre Company Sets Holiday Play for Younger Set

The Imperial Nightingale, a special children's holiday play, will open a week's run at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre on Saturday, December 21 at 2:00 p.m.

Based on a Hans Christian Andersen story which has been adapted for the stage by Nicholas Stuart Gray, The Imperial Nightingale, is set in the year 200 B.C. and describes an Emperor of China who rules his subjects cruelly until the song of a Nightingale helps him to learn the true meaning of love and charity.

CAST

Pat Freni will be seen as the Emperor with Deborah Ardey, Dirk Niewoehner, James Sutorius, Roy Frady, Ric Zank, Rhonda Rose, Rob Collins, Kitty-Alice Sneed and Jeffrey Winner in other leading roles.

The large cast also includes Len Auclair, Ken Wilson, Andrea Stomoro, Neena Davidoff, Steven Leibman and Michael Ellis.

John Fernald is the director of the Studio Company's production and Peter Stephens is the associate director.

General Admission tickets for the seven daytime and one evening performance of The Imperial Nightingale may be purchased at all Hudson stores or at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office.

Summer Vows Planned

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Booth of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to H. Cameron Metz III, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. Cameron Metz, Jr. of Pittsburgh, Pa. Summer vows are slated.

The bride-elect, who has attended Hillsdale College, is an affiliate of Chi Omega sorority. Her fiancé, who has attended Hillsdale, was associated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

With each new arrival, came realization of what's happening on the leisure time men's fashion front.

There was no limit to color and design combinations in sweaters with the turtle neck an easy winner. Crew and V-neck varieties made their showing too.

Among the sport coat wearers, plaids led all the way, teamed with solid contrasting slacks. There wasn't a white shirt in the bunch. Lemon yellow, pastel blue and even pink made the scene.

The remains of the business day were, in evidence as the new, wider ties were loosened but big, bold cuff links remained intact. Color is certainly here in men's fashions as never before.

Suede and leather boots replace more conventional footwear for a neat but relaxed look. The young business men who had returned home from their Detroit offices earlier than others, did a complete switch into easy fitting corduroy slacks with knitted turtle neck shirts.

LEATHER

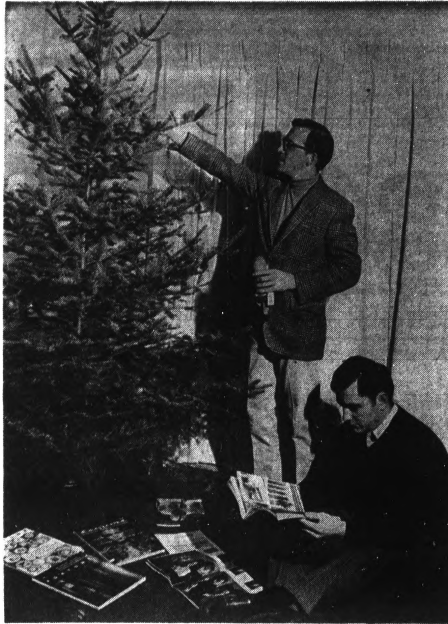

Touches of leather on jackets and sweaters add a feeling of casualness and provide an interesting detail on otherwise solid fabrics.

A few Apache scarfs found their way into the picture but there was a complete absence of necklaces and other frou frou.

One across-the-street neighbor had donned his fur fabric hat with its handsome brush and feather, all in a dove grey.

About the time the faces started looking familiar, the tree had been trimmed to its glorious potential, the girls were getting snacks ready and the music had changed from a soft stereo background to a lively beat.

Now THAT's how to give a party.

Do you really think they give tree-trimming tips in "Playboy"? John Connell wants to make sure so he checks this possibility out while Ken Monroe makes a stab at the real job. Blue must be John's favorite color as he coordinates a whole outfit in varying shades. Ken's jacket, pants and shirt all carry out a brown, rust and tan theme.

Dennis Shoemaker enjoys his good fortune at being the center of attention for, from left, Sue Richards and Diane McDonald. Capturing the girls' thoughts was easy in his burnt orange ski sweater detailed with a chain pattern. His plaid slacks carry out the same color scheme with a touch of brown.

Julie Is Against Church Coverage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There will be no press coverage permitted inside New York's Marble Collegiate Church when President-elect Richard M. Nixon's daughter, Julie, marries David Eisenhower.

"It's Julie's decision," Mrs. Nixon's press secretary, Gerry Van Der Hevel, said Thursday. "She wants a private wedding. She feels strongly about it."

Julie, 20, and David, grandson of former President Eisenhower, will be married Dec. 22 at 4 p.m. before about 500 "personal friends and family" members invited to the wedding.

Mrs. Van Der Hevel said Julie's veto of the press might be relaxed somewhat to allow a pool of newsmen and photographers to watch a wedding portrait session after the ceremony.

Fine Arts Consultant at PCAC

Dr. Edward F. Menerth Jr., executive director of the Fine Arts Foundation, Fort Wayne, Ind., spent all day Friday in Pontiac. Engaged by the Michigan State Council for the Arts on a consultant basis, Dr. Menerth was here to speak to the Pontiac Area Community Arts Council and the Pontiac Creative Arts Center members.

Before meeting the above groups in the PCAC, he toured the city, including the old masonic temple building on Lafayette Street and the Moses Wisner home.

He had high praise for the PCAC, both for its physical plant and for the good start the group has made in offering art experiences to the community.

He stressed the necessity for providing greater service to the larger community at all times. But he warned his two score listeners that no arts program should impose taste from above.

"In a democracy, Dr. Menerth stated, 'the public is entitled to its own taste. Teaching people what they should like is a hazardous occupation. We have much to learn from them and we must respect them.'"

Healthy, Pink, Chubby Is Medical Description on Newborn Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and her 11th child, delivered by caesarean section Thursday were in "excellent condition" today at Georgetown Hospital.

The little girl, described by a hospital spokesman as "very healthy — robust, pink and chubby with light brown hair," was held by the widow of the slain senator for the first time Friday.

Friends of Mrs. Kennedy said that the name "Rory" was under serious consideration for the infant because it was typically Irish and reminiscent of the name of the baby's father. They said Mrs. Kennedy felt "Roberta" would have been too obvious.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Howard (made up name) and I are both 25, and have been married for three years. We've had no serious problems to speak of until now, and I'm not so sure this is one.

A few months ago we went to a costume party. Howard dressed up in clothes—falsies, wig, and made-up face. He shaved his legs and wore black fishnet panty hose and heels. He looked like a doll. No one knew who he was, and he got more attention from the men than I got.

Since that time Howard has bought some ladies lingerie and lounging clothes and now he likes to dress up in them when we are home alone together. I can honestly say it hasn't hurt our marital relationship in the least. If anything, he seems to be more relaxed and more romantically inclined.

I have mixed feelings about this. Should I worry as long as the rest of our marriage is normal? HOWARD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You had better have a

The arts can help to relieve tensions in cities, he said. A suggestion he made for the PCAC planning committee was a day care cultural program for children from low-income families.

He also made a plea for greater cooperation between all forms of art, including craft groups. It gets harder and harder, he declared, to know where to draw the line between fine arts and crafts.

Long term planning — and that means as much as five or 10 years — is most essential. Basic philosophy comes first, then policies and program.

Princeton Club Revisits Detroit

The Princeton Triangle Club, in its 80th year, will bring its 1968 production, "A Different Kick," to the Detroit Institute of Arts Dec. 30.

For the first time, two women appear in the cast of the formerly all-male musical revue. Both are undergraduates in Princeton's languages department.

Booth Tarkington, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Josh Logan, James Stewart and Jose Ferrer, are some of the past performers in this annual production who have gone on to fame in the theatrical world.

A pre-theatre buffet and post-show dance are also scheduled.

Tickets for the revue may be mailed to the Princeton Club of Michigan, P.O. Box 1703, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48106. After Dec. 18, tickets will go on general sale at all major J. L. Hudson stores.

Birthday Gift for Young Man

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

DEAR MRS. POST: My mother gave my son $100 for his 21st birthday. My husband and I feel this is entirely too generous a gift to accept, and a $10 gift would be more suitable. Is it right for us to refuse the large amount and tell my mother that we (including my son) would be more than happy with a smaller sum? — Mrs. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: Now that your son is 21 years old, it is for him — not for you — to decide what to say to his grandmother. Quite apart from that, for you to refuse it would be an obvious criticism of your mother that will only hurt her feelings.

DEAR MRS. POST: In removing soiled dinner plates and salad plates from the table, if one removes them "from the right" does it not mean reaching in front of the guest to the salad plate position? — Greta N.

DEAR MRS. N.: The rule is that "when convenient" plates are removed from the right. Since it is not convenient when there is a salad plate on the diner's left, both plates may be removed from that side.

Mate's Off-Beat Actions Call for Doctor's Help

talk with a doctor who is familiar with such off-beat behavior as Howard has suddenly evidenced. There is something "wrong" with a man who would so casually switch from the masculine to the feminine role and back again. And a wife who doesn't find it disconcerting is also a little odd.

DEAR ABBY: First of all, if you use my letter in your column, do not use my name, or mention the state from which I wrote.

My son who is now 12 has been smoking and chewing tobacco WITH HIS FATHER'S CONSENT since he was five years old.

I know this seems incredible, but it is a heart-breaking reality.

We are country people, but our son goes to a "city" school. I never allowed the boy to have tobacco of any kind, and I kept close tabs on him. But his father, who is a very heavy tobacco user, used to give it to our son and help him deceive me.

Could you send me the names of several doctors who could testify as to the harm tobacco can do a growing boy? My son cannot keep up with the other boys in sports, complains that he is "tired" and his color is bad. I think tobacco is the cause of this. Some of my friends say that I have already lost the battle, but I am not giving up. Please give me what help you can.

STILL FIGHTING

DEAR STILL: If you believe that your husband has been encouraging your son since age five in the use of tobacco, you need a lawyer! You may also need a doctor. For your husband. And if you let this go, with the evidence you believe you have, you may need a doctor for yourself. For goodness sake, lose no time in telling your lawyer the story you have told me.

DEAR ABBY: I am shook. I just encountered something so incredible I can neither grasp nor believe it.

I drive my neighbor lady to the dentist because she gets so panicky she can't drive herself there or back.

Today I took her for some extractions. She was cool as a cucumber on the way there, and she sat like a lump on the way back after having three teeth pulled! We stopped for tea on the way home.

I asked her what she took, and she said, "Nothing." Then she explained that according to KARMA, she must have injured someone in the mouth in a previous life, and now she is "paying her debt."

Abby, have you ever heard anything like it? I just can't get over it. But if this kind of philosophy can turn a hysterical woman into one who is calmly "paying her debt," there must be something to it. I called her dentist to be sure he didn't give her something and he said he didn't. (He thought I was crazy for sure.) Can there be something to this?

FLOORED BUT INTERESTED

DEAR FLOORED: "Karma" is, briefly, a "reignion" or a way of life, based on the philosophy that whatever happens is "destiny." And one who is able to accept his "fate" with calm resignation can endure almost anything.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MAD AT DAD" IN TENNESSEE: Your father's excuse for refusing to give you away in marriage doesn't make much sense, since you offered to reimburse him for the day's work he'd miss. There must be another reason, or else Dad isn't playing with a full deck.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TO TELL OR NOT TO TELL?": For goodness sake, TELL. How long do you think you can keep something like that a secret?

February vows are planned by Scherry Lynn Banks and David Robert Wiltse. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Banks of Memphis, Tenn. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Wiltse of West Walton Boulevard.

The engagement is announced by Barbara Ann Martin and Dwight Edward Keith. Their parents are Mrs. Marjorie Martin of LaSalle Street and Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Keith of Wedworth Street. June vows are planned.

Former Lake Orion residents, the Leonard E. Woods of Silverwood announce the engagement of their daughter, Jenny Lynn, to Neil Kenneth Mahar. He is the son of the William K. Mahars of Hi-Oak Drive, Orion Township. January vows are planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Umscheid of Mariner Street announce the betrothal of their daughter, Katherine Jean, to Pfc. William C. Wittenmyer, USA. Pfc. Wittenmyer, who is stationed at the Nike Site, Detroit, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis of Tucson, Ariz.

Children's Psychological Needs Ignored

By WILLIAM B. MEAD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A leading child psychiatrist said recently that nearly 7 million American children are going without needed psychological help, largely because "society assumes that anybody who can get pregnant can raise a kid."

The assertion was made by Dr. E. James Lieberman, chief of the center for studies of child and family mental health of the National Institute of Mental Health.

"In the mental health area, you don't even have to be poor to be in trouble," he said in an interview. "The resources are so scarce that even the middle class is unlikely to get in touch with a child psychiatrist until things are pretty bad."

Lieberman said authorities estimate that roughly 7 million U. S. children, 10 per cent of the under-18 population, need psychiatric or emotional help of some kind.

"Our records indicate that about 500,000 children visit a mental health facility in an average year," he said. "Of those, maybe 350,000 get treatment, probably less."

As for the other 6.5 million in this group, he said, "Many, many of these children wind up as school failures, delinquents, in trouble with drugs and alcohol."

Lieberman said such problems could best be prevented by "working through schools, parents and teachers."

He said regional mental health centers have largely ignored the needs of children and should spend more time giving laymen enough training so they can recognize and handle children's emotional problems before they get serious enough to require a psychiatrist or psychologist.

"They're out there where the kids are," he said of parents and teachers. "Furthermore, there will never be enough psychologists and psychiatrists to handle all the kids."

Lieberman said children who need psychiatric help rarely get it, even if their parents can afford it, because parents "don't want to admit that their child is abnormal."

He said many physicians and teachers share parents' reluctance to seek psychiatric help. Couples should get more training before they have children, he said.

Lieberman said regional and community mental health centers, set up under a federal program started in 1965, have concentrated on treating adults. "Children have a somewhat lower priority," he said. "Communities see an adult with a mental problem and it's more critical, more bizarre, people are afraid he might be dangerous," he said. "With a 6 or 10 year old it's not quite as dramatic."

The result, Lieberman said, is "like a sink that's overflowing and you decide whether to get a mop or turn off the faucet." Concentrating on adult treatment and ignoring children is like using a mop without looking for the faucet, he said.

Polly's Pointers

Insert Family Faces

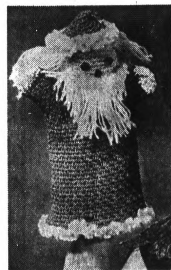

DEAR POLLY — Have you ever had a family Christmas tree? Take those plastic tree ornaments that come apart in the middle and place a picture of each family member in such an ornament—one picture per ornament.

Hang them on a small tree. Each of my sisters did this for each member of their families and we hung them all on one tree for our dad.—MRS. J. E. K.

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY — I hope some amateur photographer can tell me how one eliminates shadows on a subject wearing eyeglasses when having a snapshot made. Mine all have shadows on the face. How should the person snapping a picture stand in regard to the sun? Where should the subject stand? I was under the impression that the sun should be behind the one taking the picture.

CATHERINE
DEAR POLLY — In reply to M.M.'s query about how to wash her 65 per cent Dacron and 35 per cent cotton, accordion-pleated dress: I wash mine in the washing machine on "gentle action," then hang it to dry. I am fussy about any wrinkles, so I put the skirt on the ironing board, pleating and fastening the hem to the board with masking tape, pulling the dress at the waist so the pleats fall into place and then steam gently with the steam iron. Mine comes out looking like new.—ALEEN

DEAR POLLY — Before washing my accordion-pleated Dacron and cotton skirt, I sew the pleats in along the hem line with a basting stitch, wash it in the "delicate cycle" of my washing machine and then hang the skirt on the line. I iron while slightly damp and am able to do this while holding the skirt at the hem line. It is easy to rip out the basting stitches. I have done this three times.—ISABELLE

Santa left his puppet friend under the tree to greet you on Christmas morning. His lively antics are at your command—slip him on your hand like a mitten; then wiggle your fingers to make him dance. He is crocheted of cotton yarn with soft, wooly trimming. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 with your request for Leaflet PC 9240.

Dental Society Slates Holiday Dinner Dance

Holiday decorations will transform Detroit's Latin Mel Eder of Southfield, and Dr. Quarter into a French crystal palace for the annual holiday dinner dance of the Oakland County Dental Society Tuesday.

Strolling musicians will add to the cabaret atmosphere of the cocktail hour, from 6:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. when dinner will be served.

The Don Large Chorale will entertain with a Christmas concert after the catered meal, and dancing will follow. Dress is optional.

Table reservations may be made by calling the society headquarters in Royal Oak.

Dr. Anthony Dietz is chairman for the affair. He is being assisted by Dr. John Pelland of Lathrup Village, Dr. Jack Coasts of West Bloomfield Township, Mrs. Elmer Lang of Southfield, program chairman of the dental society auxiliary, is also assisting.

Prepare Areas for Contractor

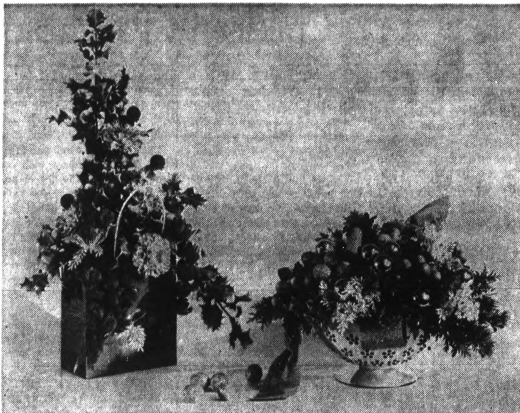

If you're hiring a professional painting contractor, do the following before he starts work: move furniture to middle of room; dist walls and wash greasy or dirty areas with detergent and water; move all clothes out of closets, books out of book cases; take down draperies and blinds. By preparing in advance, you'll save unnecessary labor costs.

Dry Placemats

Place-mats with sponge backs may be dried after being washed if they are placed between two turkish towels and are last season's shade. Color then gone over with the rolling them to keep in step with curpin a few times. This does not rent fashion. Various shoe color hurt the backing and keeps kits available should make tinting clean.

Keep Shoes in Step

Don't throw away shoes that between two turkish towels and are last season's shade. Color then gone over with the rolling them to keep in step with curpin a few times. This does not rent fashion. Various shoe color hurt the backing and keeps kits available should make tinting clean.

Non-containers can provide an unusual touch of fancy to holiday arrangements. The trick, according to FTD designers, is to use plastic Baggies as a water-proof liner for the chosen vessel: When is a shopping bag not a shopping bag? — when it's filled with fresh red and white carnations, holly berry leaves, and red cotton Christmas balls, for placement at a buffet, mantel, or to be hung on any wall. At right, a colander becomes still another decorative conversation piece, ready to bring a note of Christmas cheer to the usually forgotten kitchen.

Couple Repeats Vows

Newlyweds, the Robert Monroe Cooks (nee Mary Kathryn Olson) are honey-mooning in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., following their marriage today in Concordia Lutheran Church, Dayton, Ohio.

The bride chose a gown of white organza over taffeta with a hemline border of Alencon lace and seed pearls. A chapel length train and mantilla edged in Chantilly lace completed her ensemble.

Length of Coat Less Important

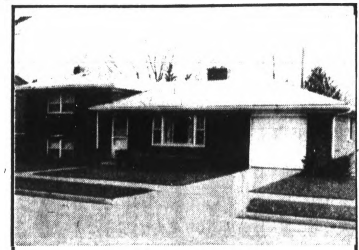

Coats are being shown in both the new longer length and the shorter, above-the-knee style. It's not how long you wear it, but the style that counts, however.

The bride's sisters, Karin of Bloomington, Ind., and Mrs. Darrell Lauer of East Lansing, served as maid of honor and bridesmaid.

Best man was E. Frank McKinney of Dayton with Robert Poole of Warren, Ohio, and James Van Deilen of Toledo serving as ushers.

The newlyweds and their parents, the Bert T. Olsons of Lockridge Road, Bloomfield Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Cook of Dayton, received guests at a reception in the Sycamore Creek Country Club, Dayton.

By BETTY CANARY emerge from warm beds with low, throaty growls and pure, distilled hatred for the world and all the inhabitants therein.

If you want to bounce out of bed and go crashing around the house, singing and buttering toast so loudly it can be heard in the next county, well, go ahead. I have never been one to point a finger at someone who is an out-and-out emotional cripple.

But fair is fair. When somebody else sings and crashes about the house at 10 o'clock at night, don't you sneak around saying there is something wrong with his metabolism rate.

Clean Hands for Contacts

If I had my way, I'd see that Edison's greatest invention was used to its fullest potential. Everybody would stay up all night and then, when morning came, as it does come with relentless reliability, we'd turn off the lights and go to bed and sleep all day.

Actually, I'm not really advocating such a sweeping solution to the problem of getting up. If you want to, get up and milk cows or stir huge pots of oatmeal or whatever it is you DO at six in the morning.

What I want is a little consideration for those of us who

If you wear contact lenses, it's important to remember always to insert lenses before applying make-up, but be sure your hands are clean.

All make-ups are composed of fatty acids and particles which stick to the pores of the fingers. If you apply make-up first, it's hard to get your hands entirely clean, and you may transmit a residue onto the lenses or even scratch the surface as you handle them.

I say we who awaken naturally at noon must unite against those who creep under the covers at 10 p.m.

Let us refuse to be bullied any longer! Let us join together in rebellion against those who attempt to shame us into accepting cold showers at dawn. And if reasoning with them accomplishes nothing, our next obvious step will be a protest march — under their bedroom windows. At midnight!

This Christmas, give a gift which reflects the wonders and beauty of nature.

Tiffany Buffs Turn Attention to Bronzes

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
The Joseph Mihalaks, devoted Tiffany and Tiffany-type lamp and glass collectors, are now branching their interests into bronzes.

marble-topped fireside table," is an original Comolera. He was one of the first of Les Animaliers.

"The European swallow feeding her young," he added, motioning to the other side of the room, "is a Jules Moigniez. Moigniez was a pupil of Comolera and an ardent follower of Les Animaliers school. Note the detail. It's fantastic."

On the table with the Moigniez is an authentic Tiffany pansy lamp in rich colors

"When we moved here," said Mrs. Mihalak, "we wanted our home to act as an effective background for our Tiffany collection.

"With this in mind our decorators, Louis Sappington and Pierre Poisson, selected green and blue as the living and dining room's basic accent theme. Green and blue dominates so many of the Tiffanys."

The warm beige chosen for the area's walls is complemented by natural linen draperies and light and dark blue shag carpeting.

"We hunted all over the country for that wisteria Tiffany on the buffet," said Mihalak. "And you know where we finally found it? In Michigan!"

The wisteria shares honors with an authentic lily lamp, its iridescent blossoms made of Favrite glass, and a Tiffany rosebud bowl.

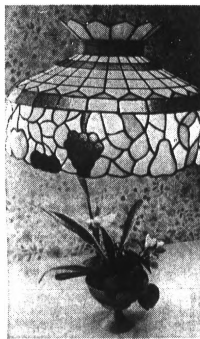

"Tiffany paid so much attention to detail," said Mrs. Mihalak, "that even the switch on the lily lamp is a lily pad."

A rare lily floor lamp lights the stereo corner against the opposite wall. The grouping's painting, an original oil by A. D. Greer, reemphasizes the blue theme.

Blue leather chairs serve the nearby oval dining table.

Display Your Creativeness Over the Christmas Season

The Christmas season is the time of the year when everyone has the opportunity to display his creativeness and ingenuity.

Every member of the family, from the very small to the very mature, can enjoy making and putting up decorations.

And this fact is most apparent when one drives through the suburbs during the Christmas holidays.

From simple-lighted wreaths, to hundreds of feet of light bulb strings decorating house and shrubbery, to elaborate Christmas scenes, each householder expresses his own personality through holiday lighting. Whether lavish or simple, they all express the Christmas spirit.

POINTERS
The decorations which are used to extend season's greetings to friends, neighbors and passers-by is a matter of personal taste.

But from experience in planning decorations, and from observing the outdoor and indoor decorative schemes of countless homes, Rita Harrold, Westinghouse residential lighting director, can point to those features of a home which lend themselves to decorative treatment.

Start with a plan whether you make your own decorations or buy ready-to-install ornaments. Study the architecture of the house — the roof line, chimney, doorway, windows, breezeway and porch.

Examine the landscaping with an analytical eye. Then, accent with light those features of which you are proudest by day and which deserve to be seen at night too.

During the Christmas holidays there are usually many ages.

The parties and visits from friends and family. The front door should be a welcoming feature and can be the focal point of the exterior lighting scene.

Doorway decorations are either purchased complete, incorporating lighting, or lighting may be added. If you are creative then design your own doorway decoration. The possibilities are limitless.

METALLIC PAPER

The door can be covered with bright metallic paper as a background for a cut-out Christmas tree, a cluster of bells or an elegant wreath.

Even if there are light bulbs incorporated in the decorations, extra light may be added by using spot or flood bulbs directed onto the door. Use a shielded holder if possible.

Do not place the bulb in such a position as to cause uncomfortable glare when approaching or leaving the door, particularly if there are steps — this can be dangerous, especially in icy conditions, if vision is hampered.

Lights can also be twined around breezeway and porch pillars. Evergreens at each side

Spray Paint Is Attractive

The ingredients for Christmas decorations can be found in your own backyard.

Collect sprays of holly, pine cones, and evergreen branches. Spray paint them in sparkling silvers and golds or bright holiday reds and greens.

Now — arrange them with Christmas tree ornaments into an attractive centerpiece, or add some ribbon and use them to top off your Christmas packages.

with strings of lights in the color of one's choice.

Tall electric-lighted candles flanking the entrance can complement an ornament on the door itself. Some candles are available ready-made, complete with wiring, or they can be made of mailing tubes or plastic.

WINDOWS

Don't overlook your windows — especially a picture window — a light in the window is a traditional symbol of the season. Most window treatments can be enjoyed from both indoors and outdoors, as when the family tree is placed near the window, or a lighted wreath is hung in the window, or there are electric-lighted candles on the window sill.

The exterior of a window can be outlined with strings of lights, and lights can be scattered among the plants in a window box.

A broad expanse of lawn is an ideal setting for a Christmas scene. It might be keyed to a religious theme. Or it might be Santa and his reindeer, a group of carolers or storybook figures.

Simulated candy canes, along wreaths or striped poles, along the driveway will add a gay note when floodlighted. Decorations can also be wrapped around the post lantern.

One way to achieve unusually effective outdoor lighting is with the use of a projector floodlight or spotlight bulb. Even when outdoor strings of lights are utilized, accent lighting — made possible by a projector bulb — is an ideal addition.

COLOR AND DETAIL

Otherwise, the color and detail of a design on which time, thought and effort have been lavished, will disappear when the winter sun goes down.

A reflector bulb can be used indoors behind a revolving color-wheel to cast a succession of color patterns on the Christmas tree or other decorations or in a holder to spotlight the tree.

Charming indoor decorations can be one hundred per cent homemade, starting with such simple materials as embroidery hoops, wreath frames, vases, foam plastic, bows, balls, greens and sheets of plastic and foil.

All it takes is some imagination, and when accented with light, original designs make delightful conversation pieces.

WELCOME — The doorway is elegant in its simplicity. It is covered with silver paper and trimmed with a border of red ribbon tacked to the door frame. A red and green wreath on the door is spotlighted from the second step. The lighting unit is concealed behind the arrangement of greens. Visible through each window are electric-lighted candles housing red bulbs. The Christmas tree in the upstairs window is decorated with red bulbs. The finishing touches are two small trees with red ornaments and white bulbs to the left of the steps.

HAPPY HOLIDAY — A more elaborate doorway decoration is created by securing a wooden pole to the roof of the porch. Colored roping is attached to the top of the pole, spread out in the shape of a tree and then fastened to the porch roof. Strings of lights are intertwined with the roping. The wreath is a bouquet of greens and ornaments on the front door spotlighted from each side. The wrought iron porch supports have strings of clear twinkling lights woven in and out of the ironwork. A white snowman lighted from within is placed in the garden near the doorway.

Christmas as in the Past

The ancient English Inn — with its great glowing hearth, timbered ceiling and bountiful table — has long been a warm symbol of the Christmas season.

Many Americans will celebrate Christmas this year in a similar setting. Modern plank-and-beam homes recapture much of the original flavor of the old inns.

Cathedral-like ceilings with wood beams exposed, masonry hearths and copper appliances offer a congenial combination which suffuses rooms with a cheery glow.

Toys that brighten a child's life have a way of getting underfoot. Provide youngsters with a large box to store toys. A corrugated paper box from the store will do if you strengthen it with shellac sprayed from an aerosol can.

Tips for Christmas Safety

All children and most adults look forward to Christmas for weeks in advance.

To ensure that your holidays won't be marred, Rita Harold, Westinghouse residential lighting director, offers these tips on how to avoid an accident when handling your Christmas decorations.

The first rule concerns your Christmas tree. Keep your tree standing in water from the day you bring it home until you take it down. A dry tree can flare up almost like an incendiary bomb.

Buy only light strings certified by the Underwriters' Laboratories. Even if your strings have the UL Approved label, after many years of use cords become frayed and sockets damaged.

For safety's sake, check strings carefully. Give them the "heave-ho" when they are no longer safe—it's cheaper in the long run!

WASHER RINGS

Always use washer rings (gaskets) on all sockets: on indoor strings they keep decorations (tinsel, icicles, etc.) out of sockets; on outdoor strings they prevent water from seeping into sockets.

As an added precaution, hang the sockets downward on outdoor trees so water can't seep in. Use insulated staples to hold light string in place, not nails, tacks or brads.

Don't overload the wiring system. If other lights dim when the tree is lighted, disconnect other electrical equipment or use an outlet on another circuit.

To ensure safe operation outdoors in rain or snow, use only sockets, plugs, cords and bulbs which are made for outdoor use. Drape connections over a wood spike to keep them above the ground and out of slush.

As an added precaution, wind insulating tape around each connection to keep it watertight.

If there is no outlet on the house exterior, use the socket in one of the entrance fixtures or a postlight.

CORD

If a cord must be brought through a window, take a board about 4 inches high and cut it to fit the width of the window snugly. Drill a hole in the board and run outdoor-type cord through the hole. Close window on the board.

When installing your outdoor Christmas lighting, even when replacing a bulb, and especially if you are standing on damp ground, be sure the power is turned off.

Rubber boots will also reduce or eliminate electrical shock when standing on wet ground.

Paint Boxes for Children

Children love to play with boxes, so why not decorate them for Christmas gifts.

A wooden box painted in bright colors turns into a pretty—and practical—toy chest. Turn it upside down, top it with a colorful cushion, and you have a child's hassock.

Design several like circus cages—or, a kiddie train. Stretch your imagination and create more Christmas fun for your children.

Planning Grants in Second Round

Applications for the second round of Model Cities planning grants came from 163 communities, with populations from 200 to 6 million, reports the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The smallest was Atlantic Beach, S.C., population 200. Los Angeles County, Calif., with a population of 6,921,000, was the largest.

Artificial Trees Are Popular

NEW YORK (AP)—Is this the year you're thinking about replacing the natural Christmas tree in your home with a store-bought permanent tree?

More families are doing it than ever before. And there are several reasons for their decision.

First, the so-called permanent trees can be reused year after year if given reasonable care.

Second, they offer the advantages of greater uniformity in shape.

And, last but by no means least, they provide a greater margin of safety against fire.

ALUMINUM

The run on aluminum Christmas trees has been heightened by the added variety in color, sizes and styles.

Manufacturers are offering trees in gold, green, blue and red in addition to the natural silvery color.

Sizes begin with table-top models and range up to seven feet in height.

Styles vary from the basic tree to those where the branches end in a flower-like tassel.

Setting up an aluminum tree is not difficult. A center pole is set into the stand and tightened.

BRANCHES

Then the branches are put into the factory-drilled holes. It's best to work from top to bottom.

A seven-foot tree can be assembled and ready for decorating in about an hour.

A word about decorating the tree—it's best not to put electric lights directly on a tree, aluminum or otherwise.

A better approach is to use spotlights or color wheels. They create attractive and dramatic effects merely by shining the light on the tree.

Fires in Forests Up Living Costs

When camping or hiking in the forests, remember that the cigaret or campfire you failed to put out can raise your cost of living.

A forest fire can burn up the raw material for your new home, paper products, mulch for gardens, and chemicals for everything from clothing and carpet fibers to auto tire cords.

Rough Sawn Lumber Has Advantages

Wood patio decks and exterior walls of rough sawn lumber have many pleasing dimensions — not the least of which is low maintenance.

Modern processing techniques have greatly extended the range of wood's efficiency on the home exterior.

Rough sawn wood siding has gained in popularity for exterior walls largely because the sawn texture creates close communion between home and attractive surroundings.

The maintenance factor is equally attractive. Exterior stain finishes — combining pigment, water repellents and preservatives — have proven extremely durable on rough sawn siding. Such finishes embrace every color in the spectrum. They are also easy and economical to apply.

PATIO DECKS

Wood patio decks — open air family rooms — are ideal spots for dining, entertaining, reading or just relaxing on pleasant days. Although the deck lumber may be placed close to the ground and exposed directly and constantly to the weather, it can be given immunity to insect attack and the elements through pressure treatment with chemical preservatives.

Southern Pine is a preferred species where pressure treatment is required because of the depth and uniformity of penetration that can be obtained with the chemical. Lumber treated with colorless, odorless preservatives is available.

The protection and permanence assured by pressure treatment is also a prime factor in the growing popularity of architectural styled wood fencing. Basketweave, board-on-board and louvers are some of the more striking patterns.

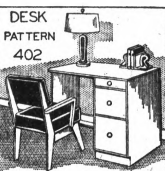

Planter boxes lending discipline and design unity to the garden are further examples of the enchanting range of pressure treated lumber.

A Shortage of Houses Still Exists

The resale value of houses is booming. In just the past few months prices have risen from 5 to 25 per cent, particularly in suburban areas. One broker in New York City believes that the number of home seekers is up 40 per cent while the supply is off 75 per cent. Since it takes a builder at least a year from the time he obtains a tract before he has houses for sale, the shortage is going to be with us for awhile. It is an unhappy situation — except for those with houses for sale. They can make money without any improvements — and they can undoubtedly get much more with a few.

One of the easiest and least expensive methods of upping the resale price of a house is to install vinyl asbestos tile in any room of the house where the floors are worn or unattractive. It can be done professionally or "do-it-yourself" by any reasonably handy homeowner. Along with a new light fixture and some paint on the walls, new resilient flooring adds substantially to the resale value of any house.

Even if new housing starts to pick up soon, the housing shortage will remain for a long time to come.

From Furnace Filter to Holiday Ornament

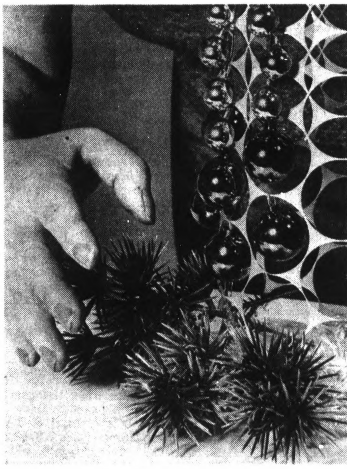

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Usternahr

STEP ONE — Mrs. George Neikirk of The Pontiac Press bookkeeping staff has a way with furnace filters. She transforms them into attractive candle containers. Essentials necessary for the transformation: a filter screen, a pointed glass plate, picture wire, plastic greens, four boxes of small ornaments, three boxes of the next larger size ornaments, pliers and a candle. You can use either a new or old furnace filter. If you use an old one, wash it before cutting it from the paper frame.

STEP TWO — Hold cut filter in front of you. "Be sure holes go up in a straight line not staggered," said Mrs. Neikirk, "or you'll be in trouble at top when you begin to fold the filter." Bottom of cylinder is the edge that has every other hole intact. Count seven circles from bottom, fold top of filter over. This gives lacy effect while making rows for the small ornaments. Fasten whole circles over plate points by folding them under. Wire the narrow side overlap to make a cylinder.

STEP FOUR — "After all the ornaments are on," said Mrs. Neikirk, "it's time to surround the base with plastic greens... weaving the stems in and out of the holes. You will need approximately six to eight pieces of the plastic greenery depending on the type you choose... holly takes less and the spruce effect needs more. Or you can buy the greens by the foot and simply circle the base. Place the candle in the cylinder and it's done. The total project costs approximately $4.

Home Maintenance Large Expense

Upkeep is one of the homeowner's biggest expenses. As time passes surfaces inside and outside the home wear out or fade and must be repaired or renewed.

There is no way to prevent aging, but there is a way to minimize its effects: the use of materials that can withstand the ravages of time.

Ceramic tile is one such material. It will protect and adorn walls, floors and countertops outside the house as well as it does inside.

Perhaps tile's most popular outdoor use is on patio floors. It is also used extensively inside and around swimming pools, on garden walkways and on outside entryway floors.

Go First Class on the Flooring

When remodeling or adding a room, don't make the mistake of skipping on the floors. Go first class — it will pay in the long run.

For a free booklet on the types, grades and sizes of oak flooring, plus tips on installation, finishing and care, write to the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Assn., 814 Sterick Bldg., Memphis, Tenn. 38103.

New Dimension in Giftwrapping Creates Sparkle

There's a new dimension that can bring extra warmth and cheerfulness to the holiday season.

It's something called creative giftwrapping.

That extra sparkle for holiday gifts can be achieved with colorful, iridescent, satin-smooth or embossed aluminum foil wrappings.

These wraps, backed with paper for extra strength, have a unique characteristic that makes even an "all-thumbs" amateur look like a professional gift wrapper.

The foil wrap takes a straight crease easily and holds it without loose or bulging corners. It conforms to the shape of the holiday turkey.

Christmas Music in Churches

Choirs Offer Oratorios, Cantatas

Under the direction of Lyndon Salathiel the Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church will present the entire Christmas portion of "The Messiah" at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Soloists include Audley Bailey, Royce Everett, Mrs. Richard Harris and Mrs. Harvey McClure.

Composed in the year 1741, the "Messiah" by George Frederick Handel is one of the greatest oratorios ever written. When Handel completed the "Hallelujah Chorus" he exclaimed to a servant "I did think I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God himself."

Again and again his servant found him in tears as he put to paper an awesome phrase or a devout passage. And then, after the last monumental "Amen" had been written, he confided simply to a physician "I think God has visited me." The Messiah was performed in London in 1743. As the singers began "The Hallelujah Chorus" King George II was so inspired he rose to his feet. The audience stood up, too, and remained standing until the chorus ended.

The king's action established a custom that is still followed at many performances.

Preceding the oratorio, parents may present infants and children for the sacrament of Christian Baptism.

The Women's Association will hold its annual dinner, program and installation of officers at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. James Covert and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel will preside.

Chiefs Find Target as Usual on Bay City Trip

Special to The Press
BAY CITY — For the last several seasons, Pontiac Central's basketball team has scored season high one game totals on visits here... usually against Handy.

But last night the Chiefs picked on Bay City Central. With five players hitting in double figures, Pontiac Central hustled to a 93-63 victory. It was their highest output of the young season and squared the Chiefs' Saginaw Valley Conference record at 1-1.

Groves Loses 3rd; Parkers Hit 99 Points

Birmingham Groves went down to its third defeat of the season as North Farmington started strong and never lost the lead in posting a 65-49 triumph.

In another Northwest Suburban League game Oak Park whipped Thurston 99-78.

Leading 30-17 at halftime, North Farmington continued to pull away in the final two periods as Drew Mahalic controlled the boards for the winners with 16 rebounds.

Joel Comstock led the victory with 17 points and he received help from Jay Hazebrook with 14.

Jim Cameron topped Groves scoring with 11.

Oak Park had five players in double figures led by Larry Sherman's 20 and Sany Glassman's 18.

The Redskins led 45-41 at halftime and then poured through 31 points in the third quarter to clinch it. Oak Park also controlled the boards 48-31.

Rally... Rally... Rally
GOBLES (AP)—Covert rallied for a 32-25 first-quarter deficit Friday night and rallied and rallied. Final score was Covert 123, Gobles 97 with Henry Allen leading the way for the winners with 35 points. It was the fourth victory of the year against no losses for the school which captured the Class D basketball crown in 1965 and 1966.

CAREER HIGH — Jim Bays of West Bloomfield turned in his best victory scoring effort last night when he pumped in 30 points to lead the Lakers to a 64-46 victory over Waterford Kettering in a Wayne-Oakland League game.

MONCRIEF HAS CONTROL — Pontiac Northern's Charlie Moncrief (42) outstretches two Livonia Stevenson players for a rebound Friday night, one of 12 he pulled down in the game. Ernie Crawford (4) and Sheldon Fisher (40) of PNH watch, while one Stevenson scrapper is Russ Gregg (41).

Huskies Display Power; WTHS Outlasts Vikings

By JERE CRAIG
In one brilliant quarter Friday night, Pontiac Northern's Huskies let the rest of the Inter-Lakes League know they are the team to beat again in the basketball title chase.

Northern drubbed Livonia Stevenson, 91-63, in the 1-L race tipoff for both squads. The game generally was a better-skeller affair in which the Huskies came just a bit more frequently than the turnovers, and there were an abundance of both.

But the extremely quick Huskies showed what they can do when they are at their best by outclassing the visiting Stevenson quintet, 34-14, in an awesome display of shooting, running, passing and ball-handling during the second quarter.

MISTAKES
Northern's defense pressured LSH into 16 first-half turnovers and the hustling home team converted the mistakes into valuable points. PNH made 16 of 23 shots in the second period.

Bud Daniels' field goal at the start of second quarter sent Stevenson into an 18-17 lead. A three-point play by Pat Swift gave the Spartans a 21-19 edge, and Daniels tied it for the last time with a basket at 23-23.

That triggered a PNH eruption that sent 11 straight points through the hoop. From 34-23 the lead was trimmed to 34-27, then Northern ran off a string of 13 in a row for a 47-27 edge. The winners pushed their lead to 51-28 just before the intermission.

In the last half the Huskies' advantage fluctuated from 18-29 points. The top bulge came at 83-54 late in the final quarter as both coaches cleared their benches.

STRONG START
Waterford overcame Walled Lake, 75-68, thanks to a strong opening half. The visiting Skippers took a 48-32 cushion into the halftime break, but had to hold on in the game's closing three minutes.

The WTHS lead was only 61-60 with three minutes to play, and the margin was still one minute later at 65-64. The Skippers then pulled back in front by six and kept control until the end.

Bruce Carlson's 18 points in the first half was a big factor and he finished with 21 markers. Roderic Reed (16), Bob Finkle (13) and Bill Foley (12) added balance to the winners' attack.

Waterford finished with 51 per cent from the field, although not shooting well in the closing 16 minutes of action. Walled Lake also had four players in twin figures as the Vikings' offense showed marked improvement.

Ron Thompson led the home team with 14, but the Vikings had no one to match Carlson's output. They lost the game at the foul line by a 15-8 margin.

Farmington trailed Lathrup after one quarter, 13-12, then put its offense into high gear and pulled away from the young Southfield squad for an 84-53 conquest.

Mark Lynott pulled down 18 rebounds as the Falcons took control of the backboards, and pumped in 34 points on 17 field goals to pace the winners' 56 per cent shooting.

Pro Teams to Make Final Bids for Title

By Associated Press
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Chiefs bid for at least a share of the Western Division title in the American Football League Saturday when they play the Denver Broncos at Denver.

Cleveland, already assured of the Century Division crown in the National Football League, will put its eighth game winning streak on the line at St. Louis in another Saturday game that will help the Browns tune up for their Dec. 21 home date with Dallas for the Eastern Conference championship.

The major action in the NFL comes Sunday in the AFC divisional games. The Packers, needing a victory to clinch the Central Division crown, take on the Green Bay Packers in the 100th renewal of their bitter rivalry. The Minnesota Vikings, tied with the Bears, will be in Philadelphia, knowing they must win and the Bears must lose or tie if they are to survive.

Although Chicago and Minnesota are tied at 7-6, the Bears would win the division title last week.

Pro Golf Groups Reach Agreement

Dispute at End After Meeting

Plan Players Division Within PGA Structure

NEW YORK (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association and the break-away touring pros hammered out a settlement of their long-standing dispute Friday with the agreement centering around a new tournament policy board.

The agreement also calls for creation of a tournament players division within the PGA.

The settlement was announced in a joint statement by Leo Fraser, president of the PGA, and Gardner Dickinson, head of the American Professional Golfers, the players group.

NO VICTORY

"I wouldn't call it a victory for the APG," said Sam Gates, the group's attorney. "We didn't go into this looking for a victory. We sought agreement by eliminating the sources of the disagreement."

"This has been accomplished by putting full authority for the conduct of the tour in the hands of the tournament policy board."

"It constitutes a restructuring of the entire tournament program. In effect, it's a new organization for tournament golf."

Under the terms of the agreement, the tournament policy board will have complete and absolute control of the tour, which will consist of three private citizens, the three officers of the PGA and four players elected by the touring pros.

Gates and William D. Rogers, attorney for state designate, will be nonvoting advisory members of the board.

The announcement by Fraser and Dickinson said the two groups "have reached a mutually agreeable settlement in our common efforts to achieve an improved and durable structure for professional tournament golf."

Dolphins Activate Hines

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jimmy Hines, the world's fastest hump, will be activated for the Miami Dolphins' final game of 1968 against the New York Jets Sunday in the Orange Bowl. Dolphins Coach George Wilson announced Friday.

SEATTLE (AP) — Helene Madison, queen of swimming 36 years ago, underwent surgery Friday for throat cancer.

Now a lonely woman of 54, all but forgotten by the world which once knew her as the Invincible Mermaid, Helene has been taking radiation treatment for the affliction.

Her surgeon said the operation was exploratory and its extent would not be known until it was under way. He said she would not lose her voice, which has turned husky in recent weeks.

Helene, whose two marriages ended in divorce, had been working as a special nurse until her illness forced her to turn down assignments. Already suffering from diabetes, she learned of the cancer about three months ago.

The career of Helene Madison was brief but spectacular, climaxed by the winning of three Olympic gold medals in 1922. She started at the age of 15 and retired at 19, never losing a freestyle race in a competitive meet. At one time, she held every available world freestyle record for women — a total of 16.

MANY RECORDS

She cannot recall how many American records she held but she owned them all, from 50 yards to the mile. The total was something over 100 — all gone now but the memories.

Faced with the need for making a living after the 1932 Olympics, Helene found the depression years unfriendly to girl swimmers. She made one unsuccessful movie — a Mack Sennett comedy. She tried professional swimming at the Chicago World's Fair with no success.

Helene took up nursing, and to pay for her instruction she sold not dogs on the Green Lake beach where she had learned to swim. The basement apartment where she lives now with her Siamese cat, Punky, is only one-half block from that same beach.

Owners Will Discuss Commissioner's Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball owners will meet Dec. 20 in Chicago to discuss the commissioner's post and other related matters.

A spokesman for the major league planning committee made the brief announcement of the meeting Friday and declined to elaborate except to say the time of the meeting would be 5 p.m. EST with O'Hare Inn as the site.

William D. Eckert, general manager as commissioner last Friday in San Francisco. He is serving until a successor is named.

Text of Statement Released by Golfers

NEW YORK (AP) — Here is the text of the statement issued Friday by Leo Fraser, president of the Professional Golfers Association of America and Gardner Dickinson Jr., president of the American Golfers:

"With the interests of the golfing public and the great traditions of the game foremost in our thinking, the Professional Golfers' Association of America and the American Professional Golfers have reached an amicable agreement in our common efforts to achieve an improved and durable structure for professional tournament golf."

"Under this agreement, the professional tour will continue as a PGA program. The separate APG tournament schedule will be transferred to the PGA and the PGA will honor the commitments made by both parties."

"To assure a more efficient and business like operation in the future, new formats for organization and administration will be created. A tournament players division within the PGA will be established, and it will be governed by a tournament policy board which will have completed and final authority over all tournament program policy."

SELECT BOARD

"The board will consist of 10 directors and we are pleased that three of the nation's most distinguished businessmen — each a dedicated patron of golf — have generously agreed to serve on this panel."

"They will be designated as independent directors and will include J. Paul Austin of Atlanta, Ga., the president and chief executive officer of the Coca Cola Co.; George H. Love of Pittsburgh, Pa., chairman of the board of Consolidation Coal Co. and former chairman of the Chrysler Corp.; and John D. Murchison, of Dallas, Tex., one of the Southwest's leading financial figures."

"The three national officers of the PGA, Leo Fraser, Warren Orlick and William Clarke, will serve as PGA directors. Four tournament players, to be elected by the PGA members of the year, will be designated as player directors."

"Mr. Austin has agreed to serve as chairman of the board. "One player director will be elected to the PGA executive Committee as a vice president, and all player directors will become members of the PGA's Rules Committee."

"William D. Rogers and Samuel E. Gates, legal representatives of the PGA and APG, respectively, will be nonvoting advisors to the board."

"The tournament policy board will appoint a tournament director to carry out its policies, rules and regulations. He will be a man of proven experience as an executive and administrator and one who enjoys the confidence of the PGA, the tournament players and the golfing public."

Joe E., in Retirement, Keeps His Old Night Club Hours

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Joe E. Lewis has trouble during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season because friends are always inviting him to holiday dinners at 5 or 6 p.m.

"That's breakfast for me," scoffs Joe E.

"Make it 9 or 10 and I'm yours."

To him the only holiday that makes sense is New Year's Eve — because it's at midnight that Joe E. (for Everglades) is at his best. He'll be observing his 60 something birthday on Jan. 12 and at last in the "semi-retirement" he has long promised himself.

He has a large collection of the better ailments including diabetes, he regularly sees a chiropractor, he finds it difficult to sign autographs since he had a slight stroke. But when midnight comes around, he's the happiest man in town, and looking for places to go to be amused. He remains the most beloved of all the saloon comedians.

There have been rumors that Joe E. might get married again, but to this he usually says, "Don't be vulgar."

"Everybody's talking about it!" is his other quick reply to almost anything. Joe has had friends that included Cabinet members, high rollers, louts, con men, and the clergy, and except for the time he got slashed in a war between two night clubs for his services, he has never been in difficulty.

He never condemns anybody and he has a reputation for discretion. "You never ask questions, you'll never get in trouble," he says.

When Joe E. was in his prime, filling the Copacabana, the Miami Beach, Saratoga, Chicago, New Orleans, Galveston, Houston and Las Vegas clubs, always bringing in the big spenders, the wine-bibers, he was considered a risk — but he never used the three and four-letter words employed by some of today's comedians.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Julie Newmar took her nude swim for "Mackenna's Gold" on one condition — that the lake be heated. Producer Carl Foreman did it via batteries. ... Edward G. Robinson celebrates his 75th birthday this month and some 40,000 will attend the Chanukah Festival on Dec. 16 and Jan. 1 to pay him tribute.

"de Sade" will be the most daring road show ever filmed. One scene has Lilli Palmer and Santa Berger (as mother and daughter) in a mutual clinch with John Huston. ... MGM's issuing a record 568 prints of Rock Hudson's "Ice Station Zebra."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Mike Darow, who's made good as "Dream House" quizmaster, says "Agents are starting to return my phone calls — that I made several years ago."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Joan Rivers says after she told her husband his attitude was going to drive her into the arms of another man, he handed her the keys to his car.

FCC's Rulings on Pay, Cable TV Are Mulled

WASHINGTON (AP) — New rules for cable television have been denounced by an industry leader while a government go-ahead for limited pay TV drew both criticism and praise.

Frederick W. Ford, president of the National Cable Television Association, accused the Federal Communications Commission of trying to "halt further expansion of CATV, disrupt the patterns of ownership, curtail any improvement of operating systems and probably destroy the present manufacturing capacity of the industry."

However, Douglas Talbot, general manager of Cox Cablevision Corp. in Atlanta, Ga., owner of 13 CATV systems, said "it will take time to understand its ramifications."

Talbot apologized for what he called the vagueness of his comments, but said he doesn't fully understand the ruling and neither has anyone else he has talked to from the CATV field.

The FCC announced its new rulings on both pay and cable TV Friday.

The CATV rules basically regulate retransmission of programs originating on networks or individual stations, restrict ownership, and require all but the smallest cable TV stations to originate some of their own programs.

The nation's 2,000 or so CATV services began as a means to bring clear signals to small rural areas. Many of the systems have expanded into big cities where tall buildings often block good reception.

The TV regulations would allow subscription television operations in any city, provided such communities already received service from four conventional stations. Only one pay TV station would be allowed in each city.

None of the new rules would go into effect until June, after the FCC hears arguments and in the case of pay TV, there is review by Congress and the courts.

At present, the only pay TV operation is in Hartford, Conn., where the system was set up in 1962. The station, which considers itself still experimental, reportedly has lost some 2,000 subscribers but has applied to the FCC for permission to expand its coverage.

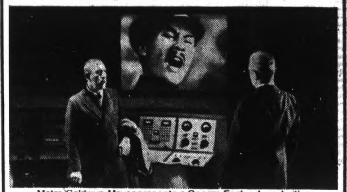

Under most proposed pay-TV systems, subscribers would insert a coin in their sets to unscramble special voice and picture signals that would bring them live sports events, first-run movies or other entertainment.

The FCC said, however, that to safeguard the free television industry, pay TV would not be able to carry for two years live sports or first-run movies shown on conventional TV.

"The chairman and the members of the Federal Communications Commission are to be congratulated for taking this decision," said Joseph S. Wright, chairman of Zenith Radio Corp., in a statement.

Week of December 14-21

PATH TO THE MOON — Powered by the huge Saturn V rocket, Apollo 8 will carry astronauts Frank Borman, William A. Anders and James A. Lovell, Jr. on a mission that will be highlighted by a 20-hour, 10 orbit flight around the moon on Christmas Eve.

Following the lift-off, scheduled for 7:51 AM, EST, on Saturday, Dec. 21, the Apollo 8 crew will orbit the earth twice before firing the S-IVB, the third stage of the Saturn V, to blast them out of earth orbit on their way to the moon. During this translunar insertion, at approximately two hours and 55 minutes into the flight, the crew will jettison the S-IVB and head the spacecraft for the moon.

Some 66 hours later, at approximately 5:00 AM, EST, on Tuesday, Dec. 24, they will enter lunar orbit. Ten orbits and 20 hours later, the Apollo 8 astronauts will fire the engines of the Command Service Module and leave lunar orbit for the trip back to earth. The astronauts are scheduled to pilot the Apollo 8 capsule to re-entry through a corridor in the earth's atmosphere at 10:30 AM, EST, on Friday, Dec. 27, with splashdown in the Pacific Ocean off Samoa scheduled for some 20 minutes later, at 10:51 AM, EST.

APOLLO VIII

Lift off December 21, 7:51 a.m. EST.

Events of the six-day mission will be broadcast on a series of Special Reports and Progress Reports; and on regularly scheduled news broadcasts during TV's lift-off-to-splashdown, live-color coverage on the three major networks

U.S. Reported Trying to Free Pueblo Crew by End of '68

From Our News Wires
SEOUL. — The United States today told South Korea it will make a move soon to obtain the release of the crew of the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo before the end of 1968, the newspaper Dong-A Ilbo said.
However, private sources in

Washington were quoted as saying that hopes have all but vanished for release anytime soon of the imprisoned crewmen although American and North Korean negotiations are about to meet again at Pannmunjom.
The session will be the 26th since the intelligence ship and its 83-man crew were seized off North Korea last Jan. 23. The Korean newspaper said the information was conveyed by U.S. Charge d' Affaires Wade L. Latham in a meeting with Vice Foreign Minister Chin Pil-Suk of South Vietnam today.

The newspaper said Latham said negotiations toward release of the Pueblo crewmembers had progressed rapidly in the past weeks.

A second South Korean paper, Shin-A Ilbo, reported that U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Gilbert Woodward met secretly with North Korean Maj. Gen. Park Chong-Kook at Pannmunjom yesterday and today in what it called "decisive negotiations" to win the release of the Pueblo crew.

There were no official comments from the U.S. Embassy nor the Korean government.
North Korea seized the Pueblo off Wonsan, North Korea last Jan. 23 and towed it to port charging the vessel was spying and in North Korean territorial waters. The United States denied both accusations.

Since the seizure North Korea has published and broadcast what it said were "confessions" by nearly every crew member that the ship was spying.

Laird Hopes the War Will End by Late '69

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incoming Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says he hopes the Vietnam war will be over by the time he draws up a new defense budget late next year.
Laird expressed the hope—without indicating it was any more than just that—at his first Pentagon news conference yesterday following a two-hour meeting with the present defense chief, Clark M. Clifford.
Although sidestepping detailed discussion of some multibillion-dollar

But "I deplore strikes of public employees," who work for state, county and city governments, he said. Such strikes have been increasing in number and militancy in the last few years.
On wage-price guidelines, a policy President Johnson tried with only limited success, Shultz said his own views were that such guidelines "don't work."
Shultz said that in general he believed government officials should try to help unions and companies in their bargaining and other problems, but "it's up to them to work out their problems." decisions he will face, Laird pledged to be guided by defense spending.

Shultz Views Labor Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's secretary of labor is against strikes by public employees, believes in a minimum of government interference and doesn't think wage-price guidelines would stem inflation.
George Shultz, dean of the University of Chicago Business School, told his first news conference yesterday that some strikes may be of such impact on the nation's economy that Labor Department officials will have to step in.
But "my own philosophy on governmental intervention in labor disputes is to go very softly on it," he said.
Shultz said the vast majority of the nation's labor disputes are settled without strikes and that the nation's free enterprise system requires a respect for the right to strike, even though a strike may be unpleasant.

FIRST HOPE
"But I would first hope," he said, "that by the time we get to preparation of our first budget we could end the war in Vietnam."
Laird's first budget will be mapped out late next fall. The budget almost always is finalized by late December.

The end-of-the-war hope came three days after Clifford expressed "hope" the Paris peace talks would lead to some mutual troop withdrawals before Jan. 20. But Laird said he learned nothing in his chat with Clifford to indicate such agreement with Hanoi is imminent.
On other matters, Laird said he would visit the war zone after his nomination is confirmed by the Senate.

SUPPORTED SEN. JACKSON
He also disclosed that he had urged the appointment of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., as defense chief and had not sought the job himself.
Beginning in March or April, he said, he will set up a top-level commission to "reappraise the defense establishment and defense policy."
Laird's news conference—two others by incoming Secretary of Labor George Shultz and Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy—were the first by any Nixon cabinet appointees. Herb Klein, Nixon's director of communications, said the other nine appointees will meet with newsmen soon, probably next week.
Kennedy, who met with newsmen in Chicago where he is a bank executive, said peace in Vietnam will not solve all the nation's economic problems.

SEARCH FOR BODIES — A fishing boat and a Venezuelan navy vessel search the shark-infested waters north of Caracas, Venezuela, yesterday for the bodies of persons who perished in the crash of a Pan American World Airways jetliner Thursday night. Thirty bodies were recovered yesterday, and the Venezuelan navy and coast guard vessels resumed the search today for the remaining 21 aboard the craft.

Hart Blasts Entire Concept ABM Briefing Set in D.C.

Area congressmen and Michigan's two senators will get a closed "classified" briefing Monday on the controversial antiballistic missile (ABM) base proposed for the Pontiac area, it was announced today by Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District.
Broomfield had requested the briefing and also a public hearing on the site selection. The latter is expected to be sometime next month.
Monday's briefing in Washington will be with Lt. Gen. A. D. Starbird, manager of the Army's Sentinel ABM program, and Dr. John Foster, chief of research and development for the Army.
JOINS THE DEBATE
Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Michigan, joined the week-long debate yesterday, hitting hard at the entire concept of the $5-billion Sentinel ABM program.
Speaking at a Detroit press conference, Hart characterized the whole thing as "insanity" and called the system a "gimmick" that will escalate the arms race and diminish the nation's security.
Hart expanded on criticism of the proposed Sentinel program offered earlier in the week by Rep. John Conyers, D-Detroit, who called for congressional hearings on the Army's missile base plans.
Broomfield had announced that a public hearing would be held before the House Armed Services Committee makes a final decision on an ABM site.
THREE SUBURBAN SITES
The Army is studying possible missile sites in three suburban Pontiac areas — Pontiac Township, Avon Township and Troy. An Orion Township site also is being looked at for a supporting site.
Broomfield said the hearing, according to law, would be for local government (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 6).

Detroit House Fire Claims 5 Children

DETROIT (AP) — Five small children perished today when flames swept their two-story frame house on Detroit's West Side. Four others were injured in the blaze.
The mother of the five victims and two of her other children suffered minor burns and smoke inhalation, and a fireman collapsed from smoke inhalation and fatigue while fighting the fire.

The dead were identified as Cindy and Timmy Pac, 6-year-old twins; Linda, 5; John, 4; and Charles, who would have been two years old on Christmas Eve.
Mrs. James Pac, 30, was treated at a Detroit hospital along with her two surviving children, Jimmy, 8, and Michael, 3.

Pacts Awarded for OU Project

Contracts totaling $2.4 million have been awarded for the remodeling and expansion of Oakland University's Oakland Center building.
Approval for the project was given this week by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.
Construction will begin immediately for the project which will provide a 40,000-square-foot addition on the south side of Oakland Center, plus remodeling of parts of the existing facility.
Successful low bidders were E. E. Powell General Contracting Co. of Pontiac, architectural; Griffin Brothers Inc. of Southfield, mechanical; Fred W. Moore Electrical Inc. of Pontiac, electrical; and Great Lake Hotel Supply Co. of Detroit, kitchen equipment.
Financing of the project is on a self-liquidating basis.
The addition, expected to be completed by December 1969, will provide a new grill area, dining rooms, lounge space, club rooms and recreation areas for the university's rapidly growing student body, which now numbers 5,094.
The remodeling phase of the project will include alterations to the kitchen and refurbishing of the Gold Room.
Major shifts which will result include the location of the University Book Center in the present grill and student activities area and the location of the Scholar Shop in the present book center area.

DIDN'T HAVE TIME

Flames enveloped the upper flat so quickly, she said, that she did not have time to rescue all of her children.
"My baby (Charles) said, 'Mama, I'm burning,' but when I looked around, I couldn't find him," said Mrs. Pac.
After fleeing the house and awakening a neighbor who called the fire department, Mrs. Pac tried to re-enter the burning house but was forced back by the flames.
Mrs. Pac, who had lived with her children since obtaining a divorce from her husband two years ago, ran to the nearby home of her minister, the Rev. Richard Venus, pastor of the 14th Avenue Methodist Church.

QUESTION FOR PASTOR
"Why does God punish people who are really trying?" Venus said she asked as he met her at the door.
Mrs. Pac, he said, had taught Sunday school at his church for the past six weeks.
Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

State House GOP Reelects 3

LANSING (AP) — Preparing to assume the role of minority party in the 1969-70 Legislature, House Republicans yesterday returned three of their top leaders to power and rejected a fourth.
Next year's house minority leader will be Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, a legislator since 1954. Waldron was minority leader in 1964-66 and was speaker when Republicans controlled the chamber in 1967-68.
Returned as the party's floor leader was Rep. William P. Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills. Hampton and Waldron both were unopposed.

A U.S. Treasury Department agent inspected the ship Thursday with orders to confiscate the guns if necessary.

Cold Wave Chills Mid-U.S.

From Our News Wires
An end-of-autumn cold wave packing a midwinter punch stung the nation's midsection today and toppled temperatures to their lowest levels of the season from the Canadian border to the southern plains.
One week of fall remained on the calendar. But it was small consolation to chilled residents of the Plains and Midwest, where the mercury climbed to record December highs in the 50s and 60s at midweek, then roller-coasted to zero or below.
Temperatures from 10 to 15 below zero numbed the northern plains and upper Mississippi Valley. International Falls, Minn., registered 17 below shortly after midnight. Readings of 10 to 15 above extended southward across Kansas and east through Missouri and Illinois.
Bitter winds and driving snows swirled

brutally through Michigan today, leaving all roads in the Lower Peninsula snow-covered and slippery.
MORE SNOW LIKELY
Four additional inches of snow were expected in the U.P., already hit by heavy snow and gale winds up to 60 miles per hour last night. The winds subsided early today although gale warnings were in effect for the Great Lakes.
At Marquette, State Police said visibility on roads near Lake Superior was poor during the morning with roads throughout the U.P. extremely hazardous for driving. Temperatures were expected to drop to zero by tonight.
Traffic throughout the U.P. was very light with no serious traffic accidents reported. However, because of the severity of the storm, seven basketball games were canceled last night.

An overnight snow that measured from two to four inches clogged highways in the Grand Rapids area and in the entire northern portion of the Lower Peninsula.
SNOWY ROADS
Across southern lower Michigan, Three Rivers reported roads padded with snow while at Kalamazoo and Jackson travelling was hazardous because of slippery sections.
Cold wave warnings were in effect for tonight for western portions of Pennsylvania and New York.
The storm that churned up blizzard conditions through parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota late Thursday and yesterday whipped into southeastern Canada.
In the West, a major Pacific storm approaching the coast scattered rain from central California to Washington.

Birmingham School Union Ratifies New Pay Schedule

BIRMINGHAM — Public school custodians, maintenance, transportation and cafeteria personnel members of local 1384 of the AFL-CIO have ratified a new salary schedule.
The board of education is expected to ratify the agreement at its regular board meeting Tuesday.
With about 325 employees in the local, the vote approving the contract was 105-12.
The new salary schedule was the same proposal turned down by the union members on Nov. 25. However there have been changes regarding the board's suspension of terminal pay, based upon an attorney general's opinion that terminal pay could not be paid to public school employees.
RETROACTIVE PAY
Richard Zweiback, chief negotiator for the Birmingham Board of Education, said that when there is a test case in court and if the court declares that boards of education may continue terminal pay, the Birmingham board will retroactively pay any eligible employee who didn't receive the money during the interim.
The agreement, effective Nov. 1, 1969, calls for the following increases: skilled employees will receive a 19 cent hourly increase, salary range, $3.24-$3.74 per hour.
Semiskilled employees will receive an 18-cent hourly increase, salary range, $3.08-$3.48 per hour.
All other employees in the 10 classifications will receive a 15 cent hourly increase across the board. The salary ranges from $2.90-$3.67 per hour.
EXTRA INCENTIVE
Clerical personnel will receive a 10-cent hourly increase, salary range $1.83-$2.73 per hour.
All of the above employees will receive an additional 3-cent-per-hour increase effective March 1, 1969.

Right-Wing Brazil Regime Begins Massive Crackdown

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Armed with sweeping new powers, the military-dominated government of President Arthur da Costa e Silva today began a massive crackdown on its opposition.
Congress was given an indefinite vacation, censors moved into newspaper offices and police began making widespread arrests.
Among the first reported in custody were a former president, a federal deputy and some journalists.

Okinawans Protesting

TOKYO (U) — About 30,000 Okinawans assembled outside the Kadena U.S. air base today demanding immediate withdrawal of B52 bombers from Okinawa.

Saigon Prepares for New Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — A curfew was slapped on U.S. troops in the capital military district today in anticipation of a new wave of terrorist attacks and a possible enemy winter offensive.
B52 bombing raids around Saigon also were given top priority, and the Stratofortresses dropped 1,800 tons of explosives to hit any enemy advances on the capital.
American military men were ordered off Saigon streets at 7 p.m. Officials said the curfew would last until 6 a.m. Sunday. South Vietnamese troops in the capital military district were placed on 100 per cent alert a week ago.
Sources said there was no firm evidence the enemy would attack tonight, but the step was taken as a precaution because the enemy traditionally has launched attacks on weekends when they feel the allies are off guard. An offensive against Saigon last May began on a Saturday night.
Commenting on the bombing raids today, described as the heaviest in two months, a U.S. spokesman said: "Priority requires that the B52s be brought into the 3rd Corps—Saigon and outlying areas—right now."

Long Heart Operation Leaves Girl 'Very Well'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Janice Marie Hutcherson, 8, of Macon, Miss., was reported doing "very well" today following four hours of open-heart surgery. Janice has had a curtail physical activity since her blood-stream did not get sufficient amount of oxygen. The third grader already had undergone one operation to prepare her for major surgery.

Nixon Won't Cripple Social Projects--Dem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic leader of the House doesn't think President-elect Nixon will try to substantially dismantle social programs begun by his Democratic predecessors—or that he could succeed if he did.
"It would be an impossible job," Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma said in an interview. "The penalty would be too great."
As majority leader, Albert ranks second in the House Democratic hierarchy to speaker John V. McCormack.
Albert said an immediate penalty would be refusal by Democrats, who still control Congress, to cooperate with the new administration.
Albert insisted the November election showed "the country is still basically Democratic." The House especially, is unchanged for practical purposes, with a loss of four Democratic seats offset by election of more liberal-leaning members among Republicans and southern Democrats.

Nixon Won't Cripple Social Projects--Dem

"If the new House were to vote on every major bill that was passed by last Congress, I think the outcome would be the same," Albert remarked.
Although "responsibility for proposing major legislation from the executive branch will pass into Republican hands with Nixon's administration, Albert said congressional Democrats have the basis for their own legislative programs if it should be necessary to develop one.
"We have the platform adopted at the convention," he said. "We will have President Johnson's final state of the union message, and we have the continuing information and work of the various congressional committees."
Albert says he knows of no plans to set up a separate Democratic organization to formulate a legislative program.

4 Grants to OU Are Accepted

Four major grants totaling $108,538 have been accepted in behalf of Oakland University by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

A grant of $22,750 was received from the National Foundation of Arts and Humanities as continued support for the audience development program being conducted by OU's Meadow Brook Theatre.
Another $3,500 grant was received from General Motors Technical Center of Warren for support of an engineering conference on technical management.

officials in the affected area, but that the public could attend and ask questions if the local officials so desired. He promised to make every effort to make the hearing open to the public.

SAFETY AT ISSUE

The controversy has developed over the safety of the missiles and their being placed in heavily populated areas.
Hart said in his statement yesterday: "It is enough to know that negotiation are bound to generate nervousness in any community which has to live with them," he said. "The devices just don't add enough to our security to justify all the psychological discomforts."
Conyers had charged the Army may have decided to put the system close to cities whereas Congress had authorized that it be situated away from the cities.
But Hart added: "The question is, is the security of this nation and that of my family contingent on having this system?" "I think it isn't. It shouldn't be put anywhere in the country," he said.
Hart led two fights in the U.S. Senate against the ABM system but both were unsuccessful.
Hart also argued that if the "thin" $5-billion ABM system is built, it "will lead to pressure for the 'thick' $45-billion system."

Cong Capture Girl; 18, Defector From Reds

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong have captured a pretty, 18-year-old girl who defected from a Red mortar squad, government officials said today.
The long-haired and lissome girl, Tran Thi Ho Le, had been working with the government open-arms program since her defection five months ago. She was mentioned as a possible member of an ex-guerrilla group Saigon wants to send to Paris to counter enemy propaganda efforts at the peace talks.
Miss Le was captured Thursday or yesterday during a visit to her home in Long An province to get papers for her marriage to another defector, the officials said.

Paris Table Rift Still On

PARIS (AP) — Expanded talks to end the Vietnam war appeared no nearer to a start today as the dispute over the shape of the conference table continued.
An authoritative North Vietnamese source said the newest U.S. compromise offer of a "heavily round" table was "unacceptable."

BATTLEFIELD BUDDIES — A South Vietnamese soldier places his hand on the shoulder of a badly wounded U.S. Marine whose shirt is bloodstained from a neck wound. The two are involved in an operation in the Bien Dang district south of Da Nang, which is code-named "Operation Meade River." Allied forces are fighting several regular battalions of North Vietnamese and Vietcong in the area.

The post went to Rep. Hal Ziegler of Jackson, a former assistant prosecutor with two years' experience in the House, compared to Spencer's eight. Ziegler, also defeated Rep. David Sroffkin of Mount Clemens and Quincy Hoffman of Appleton.
Rep. Russell Strange of Mount Pleasant was elected GOP caucus chairman, defeating Rep. Melvin Dettiger of Hudsonville.
Named assistant caucus chairman was Rep. James Farnsworth of Plainwell, who beat Rep. Philip Pittenger of Lansing.

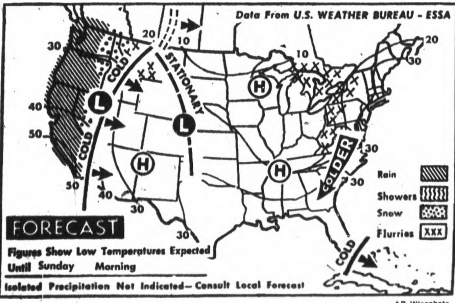

The caucus also created two new positions—whip and assistant whip, or "Bullywhip" and "Buggy Whip," as GOP quipsters dubbed them. The jobs, Waldron said, involved counting votes and checking attendance when major issues are before the house.
DAVISON LEGISLATOR
Elected whip was Rep. James Smith of Davison, who defeated Rep. Joseph Swallow of Alpena and Edgar Geerlings of Muskegon. Named assistant whip was Rep. Robert Davis of St. Ignace, who ran against Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistiquie and Raymond Smit of Ann Arbor.

The caucus also saluted retiring Rep. Arnell Engstrom of Traverse City by unanimously electing him to the newly invented post of caucus chairman emeritus.
Engstrom, 71, served the GOP as caucus chairman in 1967-68 and was chairman of the prestigious House Appropriations Committee. With 28 years of service, he was dean of the Michigan Legislature.
Engstrom, in Honolulu, recovering from a mild heart attack, opened yesterday's caucus by sending greetings over a long distance telephone hookup.

Tiffany Buffs Turn Attention to Bronzes

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
The Joseph Mihalak, devoted Tiffany and Tiffany-type lamp and glass collectors, are now branching their interests into bronzes.

"The fighting birds," said Mihalak, nodding toward the bronze on the marble-topped fireside table," is an original Comolera. He was one of the first of Les Animaliers.

ardent follower of Les Animaliers school. Note the detail. It's fantastic."

On the table with the Moigniez is an authentic Tiffany pansy lamp in rich colors

"When we moved here," said Mrs. Mihalak, "we wanted our home to act as an effective background for our Tiffany collection.

"With this in mind our decorators, Louis Sappington and Pierre Poisson, selected green and blue as the living and dining room's basic accent theme. Green and blue dominates so many of the Tiffany's."

The warm beige chosen for the area's walls is complemented by natural linen draperies and light and dark blue shag carpeting.

"We hunted all over the country for that wisteria Tiffany on the buffet," said Mihalak. "And you know where we finally found it? In Michigan!"

The wisteria shares honors with an authentic lily lamp, its iridescent blossoms made of Favril glass, and a Tiffany rosebud bowl.

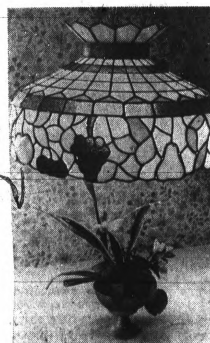

"Tiffany paid so much attention to detail," said Mrs. Mihalak, "that even the switch on the lily lamp is a lily pad."

A rare lily floor lamp lights the stereo. Blue leather chairs serve the nearby oval dining table.

From Furnace Filter to Holiday Ornament

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Unterhahr

STEP ONE — Mrs. George Neikirk of The Pontiac Press bookkeeping staff has a way with furnace filters. She transforms them into attractive candle containers. Essentials necessary for the transformation: a filter screen, a pointed glass plate, picture wire, plastic greens, four boxes of small ornaments, three boxes of the next larger size ornaments, pliers and a candle. You can use either a new or old furnace filter. If you use an old one, wash it before cutting it from the paper frame.

STEP TWO — Hold cut filter in front of you. "Be sure holes go up in a straight line not staggered," said Mrs. Neikirk, "or you'll be in trouble at top when you begin to fold the filter." Bottom of cylinder is the edge that has every other hole intact. Count seven circles from bottom, fold top of filter over. This gives lacy effect while making rows for the small ornaments. Fasten whole circles over plate points by folding them under. Wire the narrow side overlap to make a cylinder.

STEP FOUR — "After all the ornaments are on," said Mrs. Neikirk, "it's time to surround the base with plastic greens... weaving the stems in and out of the holes. You will need approximately six to eight pieces of the plastic greenery depending on the type you choose... holly takes less and the spruce effect needs more. Or you can have the greens by the foot and simply circle the base. Place the candle in the cylinder and it's done. The total project costs approximately $4.

Time to Repair Child's Swing Set

While you're out painting the exterior of your home, work a little wizardry around the children's play area. The swing set comes in for plenty of abuse during the year and now is the perfect time to repair it.

After proper preparation, including sanding and the application of a rust-inhibiting primer to chipped places, coat it with the cheeriest color you can buy. Candy-cane stripe it. Colorfully contrast it with the sandbox and slide.

Barnboard Makes a Hit

Prefinished hardboard paneling with the realistic look of barnboard now is available to families planning remodeling projects and to builders of new homes and offices.

Deeply-embossed panels capture the rustic flavor of barnboard in their random pattern. The attractive, rough-textured panels have the rugged finish, which adds to their rich appearance and makes maintenance a matter of a quick wipe-down with a damp sponge.

New Dimension in Giftwrapping Creates Sparkle

There's a new dimension that can bring extra warmth and cheerfulness to the holiday season.

It's something called creative giftwrapping. That extra sparkle for holiday gifts can be achieved with colorful, iridescent, satin-smooth or embossed aluminum foil wrappings.

These wraps, backed with paper for extra strength, have a unique, characteristic that makes even an "all-thumbs" amateur look like a professional gift wrapper.

The foil wrap takes a straight crease easily and holds it without loose or bulging corners. It conforms to the shape of the holiday turkey.

STEP THREE — Place the ornaments on the cylinder. Start at the bottom with the larger balls and work up to the smaller ones at the top. Remove ornament hanger completely. Slip it over bottom of a circle. Replace glass ball on hanger. "You can use all one color ornaments," said Mrs. Neikirk, "a combination of many colors, or perhaps just two. Boy, 16, Lost in Spain Has No Memory

MALAGA, Spain (UPI) — Peter Williams today was a boy without a country, a home or even a memory.

Police, who say the boy might be American, pressed their search for the youth's parents. Doctors continued examinations in an attempt to diagnose his condition.

For three days Spanish police believed Peter, 16, was a dead man from London. Yesterday a Spanish doctor examined him and said he was likely neither deaf nor dumb but suffering from serious traumatic shock that had temporarily impaired his speech and hearing.

Another doctor who examined him said he might be suffering from amnesia, and the British vice consul said he may not even be British but American instead.

FAILED TO RESPOND

Peter walked into a Malaga police station Tuesday. When he failed to respond to questions in Spanish and could only make stammering noises, police assumed he was a deaf-mute.

The youth wrote a story on sheets of paper in English, saying he was Peter Williams, 16, from London and that he had come to Malaga Tuesday by car with his parents and two brothers.

In his written account, Peter said his father parked the car on a street and gave Peter 67 cents. When Peter returned a short time later, the car and his family had gone.

The police broadcast news about the boy and ran his picture in newspapers along with appeals to his parents. However, there has been no word from the parents or any information about their whereabouts.

REMEMBERS LITTLE

Peter could remember very little about his parents and told police he did not even know their full names.

Jury Acquires Suspect in State Killings

After 13½ hours deliberation, an Oakland County jury last night acquitted a young Saginaw man charged in a double slaying. He already is serving a life term in one double slaying.

William H. Edgington Jr., 24, tried in Pontiac on a charge of venue from Saginaw County, was acquitted in the slayings of Dr. Archer A. Clayton, 73, and his wife, Marie, 55, almost two years ago.

Edgington was convicted last May 20 of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the killing of Carl G. Middelkorf, 63, principal of a Saginaw Lutheran school, and his wife, Gertrude, 62.

The Middelkorf's bodies were discovered Feb. 3, 1967, two days after the Claytons had been slain.

The four slayings left Saginaw in a state of near-panic, citizens fearing a mad killer was loose there.

Edgington did not take the stand in the eight-day Clayton trial here.

Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital decided yesterday to curtail visitors, except for patients in extremely serious condition, or in special cases, to protect patients from the flu.

Christmas Music in Churches

Choirs Offer Oratorios, Cantatas

Under the direction of Lyndon Salathiel the Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church will present the entire Christmas portion of "The Messiah" at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Soloists include Audley Bailey, Royce Everett, Mrs. Richard Harris and Mrs. Harvey McClure.

Composed in the year 1741, the "Messiah" by George Frederick Handel is one of the greatest oratorios ever written.

When Handel completed the "Hallelujah Chorus" he exclaimed to a servant "I did think I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God himself."

Again and again his servant found him in tears as he put to paper an awesome phrase or a devout passage. And then, after the last monumental "Amen" had been written, he confided simply to a physician "I think God has visited me."

The Messiah was performed in London in 1943. As the singers began "The Hallelujah Chorus" King George II was so inspired he rose to his feet. The audience stood up, too, and remained standing until the chorus ended.

The king's action established a custom that is still followed at many performances.

Preceding the oratorio, parents may present infants and children for the sacrament of Christian Baptism.

The Women's Association will hold its annual dinner, program and installation of officers at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. James Covert and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel will preside.

Before entering the Vietnamese Army in 1961, Minh worked with the Rev. Mr. Shelton as a member of the national staff of Overseas Crusades Mission.

Pastor Shelton served as a missionary in Vietnam from 1957 to 1961.

PURIFY TEMPLE
After their enemies were driven out of Jerusalem, the Jews entered the Temple to clean and purify it for service and worship of God.

When all was ready, a small jar of pure oil was found to light the Eternal Lamp.

The Chanukah candles are lighted to recall this rededication of the Temple in Jerusalem when the sacred Menorah (candelstick) was relit with the oil from the miraculous jar.

According to Rabbi Meyer Minkowich, this holiday is as meaningful now as ever in the past, as in our own days, we are still witnessing religious persecutions in certain countries.

The Chanukah lights, symbolizing the Jewish revolt in 165 B.C. when the Maccabees of Judea rose up against Syrian-Greek rulers who forbade the Jews to practice their religion.
