4th Quarter Sales of Cars Best Yet

DETROIT (AP)—The automobile industry's late 1961 new car sales comeback produced its best fourth quarter sales record in history.

All accounts, including one from the authoritative Ward's Automotive Reports, give this picture.

Ward's year-old summation, issued Friday, came along with more December and fourth quarter sales increase reports from manufacturers. Ford and General Motors both reported gains.

The fourth quarter spurt, with December noteworthy, helped to balance off lagging business earlier in the year.

The Ward's statement placed total 1961 car sales at 5,556,000 as compared to 6,141,800 in 1960 and 7,408,300 for the record year 1955.

According to Ward's, the new 1962 model retail sales for the last quarter of 1961 totaled 1,624,000 as compared with the 1,617,000 of 1955; the prior mark.

4.2 PCT. GAIN

It was a gain of 4.2 per cent over the fourth quarter of 1960 when sales totaled 1,559,000 cars, Ward's said.

All the carmakers except Chrysler equaled or exceeded their 1960 fourth quarter sales with Studebaker-Packard leading the way with an increase of 18.1 per cent, the Ward's report said.

Because of the 1961 fourth quarter increase Ward's predicted that the six months from last October through March of this year will be "one of the busiest" in the car industry's history.

ONE OF BUSIEST

Said Ward's:

"The upbuilding momentum of the market coupled with favorable dealer stocks has prompted the automakers to schedule their January-March production 5.7 per cent above the high fourth quarter level, the combination of the two quarters promising the industry and its dealers one of the busiest sessions for this period in history."

The new 1962 car inventory of unsold cars as of Dec. 31 was reported at 821,000, or 15 per cent less than the unsold stockpile a year earlier.

The Ford Motor Co.'s Ford and Lincoln divisions and General Motors's Buick and Oldsmobile divisions reported December sales increases.

REPORTED BY MAKERS

Before hand, increased sales of the Chrysler 1962 model and of Chevrolet, Cadillac and Rambler cars had been reported by the manufacturers.

GM said its retail sales of new cars for the fourth quarter of 1961 reached an all-time high figure of 850,831, an increase of more than 12 per cent over the prior year and 2½ per cent over record 1955. In the fourth quarter of 1955 GM sold 886,795 cars.

Ford said its December sales were the highest since 1957 and that its fourth quarter sales of 375,000 topped the previous three months of 1961 by 20 per cent.

3 Laos Princes Are Pressured

Big Powers Push for Another Try at Forming Coalition Government

GENEVA (AP)—The big powers put new pressure on the three feuding princes of Laos today to get together for another try at forming a coalition government in that Southeast Asia kingdom.

Western diplomats here and in Vientiane tended to discount claims of the Royal Laotian government that the Communists had launched a big offensive leading to a fire-up of fighting on a wide scale.

The 14-nation conference trying to neutralize Laos decided Friday to invite neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, pro-Western Prince Boun Oum and pro-Communist Souphanouvong to Geneva to settle their differences.

Representatives of the three princes here expressed approval of the idea of summit talks, which have the support of the Soviet Union and Red China as well as the western powers.

In formally issuing the invitation today, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko warned the three political princes that failure to form a government and send a unified delegation to Geneva threatened to wreck the conference on Laos.

MAKE APPEAL

Acting as nominal cochairmen of the Geneva conference, they appealed to the princes to come to Geneva as soon as possible. The appeal, the third in six weeks, warned that the work of the Geneva conference might "come to nothing" unless a united Laotian delegation approved it.

Western and Communist diplomats in Geneva have reached agreement on a cease-fire and a statute of permanent neutrality for Laos.

They would like the princes to agree on these and other matters, but the Laotian leaders have failed in several attempts to set up a unity cabinet. The main argument is who should control the key ministries of defense and interior.

★ ★ ★

Souvanna Phouma, who now is in Paris, has proposed that neutralists get both posts, but the defense ministry should have a "control" of deputies from each of the three factions.

★ ★ ★

Boun Oum has rejected this idea, despite the fact that the United States and other Western powers support it.

Nab Fleeing E. German

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards fired at and caught a fleeing East German only about 10 yards from the West Friday night. Three East German guards spotted the man in open country near the West Berlin suburb of Rudow. The man turned back after several shots were fired.

To Address Lincoln Day Fete

Rep. Ford to Speak

U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Grand Rapids, will deliver the main address at the 72nd Lincoln Day Banquet in Pontiac Feb. 13, it was announced by Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn, chairman of the speaker committee, Oakland County Lincoln Club.

★ ★ ★

Congressman Ford, Michigan's favorite son candidate for vice president at the 1960 Republican National Convention, is a member of the Appropriations Committee. He also serves on a Department of Defense and Foreign Operations subcommittees.

This is his seventh term in Congress.

Approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend the banquet at the Pontiac Elks Temple, according to Lincoln Club President Frank Clancy. Tickets are available at the Republican Headquarters in Birmingham.

TORNADO TAKES TOLL — Debris is strewn outside this house in Crestview, Fla., where a 6-month-old child was killed when a tornado struck Friday night. An estimated 60 persons were injured by the twister which left 1,500 homeless and damaged 300 homes when it cut a three-mile path through the West Florida community. Rescue workers toiled around the clock in a grim search for more dead and injured.

Deny Differences on Policy

Rusk, Clay Confer on Berlin

An AP News Analysis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Lucius D. Clay conferred today on the "important and potentially dangerous" Berlin situation.

They then denied any policy differences between them over how to deal with the crisis.

The two men met at the State Department. Sunday Clay will confer with President Kennedy. He is Kennedy's special representative in West Berlin.

Clay told newsmen the Berlin situation is "perhaps more tense than usual," with East-West talks about the fate of the city under way. But he said the morale of the West Berliners is high and will carry them through the period of tendon.

As to the possibility of some great new emergency arising, Clay declared that "in Berlin we live with the possibility every day and we try to be on the alert and ready."

But he declared that the "probability" of an emergency of extreme danger within the city is in fact "very remote."

Clay came here Friday amid reports he had made a strong protest to Rusk last month against instructions which would drastically limit the power of the U.S. commander in Berlin.

★ ★ ★

There have been reports the commander did not have the power to take action in event of some flare-up in the crisis there.

The local commander is Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II.

Clay is known to have discussed in one or more messages to Washington the possibility of a new uprising in East Berlin which would create a peril of military clashes on the East-West frontier there.

Arriving here late Friday Clay made clear to newsmen at the airport that he was particularly concerned about the possibility of an extremely dangerous situation developing should there be some new popular uprising in East Berlin against Communist rule.

The retired Army general was sent to Berlin several months ago by Kennedy as a symbol of U.S. determination to stand firm there. He is scheduled to meet with Kennedy Sunday and plans to return to West Berlin Monday night.

Clay began his conference with Rusk at the State Department at 10:30 a.m. and was expected to confer with other administration officials in the course of his week-end in Washington.

At the airport, Clay denied to newsmen that he is involved in any dispute with Rusk over the degree of latitude allowed the Berlin commander, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson.

There have been published reports that Clay had registered a strong protest with Rusk against instructions unofficially described as sharply limiting Watson's power to act.

"I'm not conscious of any difference of opinion between the secretary of state and myself," Clay declared. He said it was Rusk who had suggested when they met in Paris last month that Clay come to Washington to report on the Berlin situation.

4TH QUARTER BREAKDOWN

Ward's broke down the companies' fourth quarter sales this way:

Studebaker-Packard — up 18.1 per cent over the 1960 fourth quarter.

(Studebaker-Packard now is closed by a strike. The United Auto Workers are on strike in a deadlock over their new contract. The UAW reached new agreements last year with everyone except S-P.)

General Motors — up 12.1 per cent.

American Motors — up 3.7 per cent.

Ford — equal to the fourth quarter of 1960.

Chrysler — down 18 per cent from the fourth quarter of 1960. (Besides the Chrysler car, Chrysler Corp. makes the Dodge, Plymouth, Imperial and Valiant.)

Witch Wows Italy With Her Annual 'Ride'

ROME (AP) — An old witch riding an old fashioned broomstick reigned as queen in Italy today. Even shapely movie stars had to take a back seat to her.

★ ★ ★

For this was the Feast of Epiphany and Italians — young and old, and especially children and policemen — looked to the witch Befana to bring them gifts. Befana is a legendary figure who delivers presents on the Epiphany holiday commemorating the bringing of gifts to the infant Jesus by the three wise men.

Italian small fry write her letters, asking for presents, like American youngsters write Santa Claus.

North and South Get Misery in Varying Forms

Violent Winds, Rain Clobber Dixie; Snow, Sleet Hit Elsewhere

By The Associated Press

Storms hurled snow, sleet and freezing rain at a broad area in the North today and lashed sections of the South with drenching rain and destructive winds.

A tornado hit two rural areas near Jeffersonville, Ga., early in the day, toppling trees and cutting power and telephone lines. A highway and a railroad were blocked briefly by debris.

A twister hit Crestview, Fla., Friday, killing one person, injuring at least 60 others and leaving an estimated 1,500 homeless.

Snow, sleet and freezing rain made driving dangerous in a storm zone that reached from Texas to New England.

Drifts ranged up to six feet. The snow measured 10 inches in Kansas City, 7 in St. Joseph, Mo., and Ottumwa, Iowa, 6 in Olathe and Topeka, Kan.

Freezing rain formed an ice sheath on much of the northeastern quarter of the nation, slowing travel and causing accidents by the hundreds.

Much of Upstate New York resembled a freshly waxed floor. Scores of highway accidents, many involving two or more cars, were reported.

Three tractor-trailers jackknifed on a hill near Utica, N.Y., causing a 25-car tie-up that lasted several hours.

ACCIDENTS 'BY HUNDREDS'

New Hampshire motorists were advised to stay off the roads unless driving was necessary. Police in the greater Boston district reported accidents "by the hundreds."

Massachusetts sent out more than 450 sanding trucks on the highway network. Pedestrians shuffled along slippery streets.

Ice formed on much of Michigan and the northern third of Indiana.

Snow fell on top of ice on Chicago's streets.

Fog shut down Philadelphia International Airport for five hours. Fog and ice grounded all planes in Rochester, N.Y.

Thunderstorms broke out over Northern Florida, the Carolinas and Georgia. Macon, Ga., was drenched by 3.66 inches of rain in six hours.

Seven Talented Teens Vie for Two Junior Miss Titles

Seven talented high school girls — two from Waterford Township and five from Pontiac — were competing today to become semifinalists in the Michigan Junior Miss contest here set for Feb. 3 and sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees.

One semifinalist each will be picked from Waterford and Pontiac.

Entry of a Rochester area semifinalist yesterday boosted the number of Northern Oakland County representatives to three, although originally only one representative was to be sent.

Named by the Rochester Jaycees was Sharel Dunbart, 17, a senior at Avondale High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isanhart of 295 Cherryland, Auburn Heights.

Today's semifinals from 1 to 6 p.m. were open to the public at Pontiac Northern High School's Little Theater.

Competing in talent, poise and personality for the Pontiac title were five seniors from Pontiac Central High School.

Karen Bronnel, 17, of 330 Pioneer Ave.; Sayley Swindells, 17, of 70 Taylor St.; Christine LaLonde, 17, of 2141 Garland Ave.; Sandra Gowan, 17, of 383 S. Tilden St.; and Kennett Wilson, 16, of 396 W. Huron St.

Vying for the Waterford Township title were Lesley Langs, 17, of 3631 Dorothy Lane and Virla Landon, 17, of 2938 Voorhein Road, both of Waterford Township.

The Michigan Junior Miss will represent the state at the American's Junior Miss Finals to be held in March at Mobile, Ala.

Look Fast to See Echo

If you're up and around Sunday morning a couple of hours before dawn and if the skies are clear you will be able to catch a quick glimpse of Echo I as it appears 71 to 75 degrees above the northern horizon at 5:27 and fades out at 5:28. It will move toward the southeast. Monday morning you'll have two opportunities to view the big gasbag. At 4:39 it will come in from the north and at 6:43 from the south, both times approximately 70 degrees above the horizon and both times moving toward the southeast.

Roads Ice Up Again in Oakland, Pontiac

Dipping temperatures again started icing over wet roads in Pontiac and Oakland County at noon today, with the added threat of snow or freezing rain forecast for the afternoon in southern Michigan.

By 9 a.m., six Michigan residents had died on slippery roads, as the second dose of freezing rain in 24 hours struck Michigan and adjoining states.

One of the victims was a Keego Harbor man who died after a two-car crash in Novi last night. A Ferndale youth was injured this morning in a car-truck crash near Toledo which killed four Detroit-area men and injured another.

A hazardous driving warning was issued for the south portion of the state at noon today. Two to 3 inches of snow were expected in this area by Sunday morning.

The Keego Harbor fatality was Oscar L. Robison, of 3032 Glenbrooke St.

The Ferndale youth is Gilbert DiFalco, 19. He and five others from the Detroit area were riding in a car heading south on the Detroit-Toledo Expressway, when the car apparently skidded into the path of the truck.

★ ★ ★

The dead were identified as Carroll Wood, 20, of Detroit; William Knight III, 28, of Warren; Valvio DiFalco, of Detroit, Gilbert's brother and Marvin Pierce, 25, of Madison Heights.

Hospitalized with the Ferndale youth was Robert Thompson, 26, of Detroit.

And in the west of the state, Orn Van Trager, 31, of rural Bronson, was killed last night, when his car ran off U.S. 112 near the St. Joseph-Branch County Line, plunged into a ditch and struck a tree. There was driving rain and heavy fog in the area.

In Pontiac, not even a single injury accident was reported to police overnight.

Pontiac and Oakland County main arteries were wet this morning but there was less discomfort than yesterday because there was no morning traffic rush hour. Also, salt spread yesterday prevented ice formation.

★ ★ ★

Air traffic in Pontiac again was halted with the closing of Pontiac Municipal Airport because of low visibility and low ceiling.

Friends Romp, Nehru Rages

Greets Admirers With Shouts, Heaves Two Aides From Platform

PATNA, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru raised his fist and shouted in anger Friday at thousands of admirers who gatecrashed a convention of the Congress party and broke up the meeting.

★ ★ ★

The 72-year-old prime minister had to be restrained forcibly from jumping into the surging crowd—estimated by police at up to a million—in his demand for order.

An Indian news agency said Nehru showered blows on security guards who held him back and literally threw two attendants from the platform.

Nehru himself escaped unhurt but 25 persons were injured in the mob demonstration, two critically.

ONE HAS DAGGER

Twelve persons were arrested, one man with a dagger. But police said the crowd was made up of admirers of the Indian leader who stampeded only to get a closer look at him.

Nehru left in a huff after addressing the convention. He brushed aside British and American criticism of India's seizure of Portuguese Goa.

For the first time he claimed the seizure of the territory was partly to prevent the enclave on India's west coast from becoming a North Atlantic Treaty Organization base. Portugal is a member of NATO.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — President Ayub Khan of Pakistan says India's seizure of Goa has exposed its "designs to grab and devour" surrounding nations and extend Hindu culture to them.

★ ★ ★

Ayub, who heads this Moslem nation, said Friday that India has designs on Pakistan, Afghanistan, Burma, Nepal and Ceylon.

Drive for Backing Begun by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy began active efforts today to win congressional support of his 1962 legislative program.

On his first day back in the White House after a holiday stay in Florida, Kennedy called in Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., a key figure in the session of Congress opening next Wednesday.

Mills was in Kennedy's office for one hour. He slipped in and out without seeing newsmen who were waiting to question him. However he later told a reporter he would have no comment.

* * *

Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over three of the administration's major programs—foreign trade, medical care for the aged and tax reform.

His support will be needed on all those if they are to reach the House floor in a form acceptable to Kennedy.

The conference with Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, starts a series of talks Kennedy will hold in the next few days on his domestic program and on national security matters.

RETURNS FROM FLORIDA

The President returned Friday night from Palm Beach, where he had been since Dec. 19 when his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, suffered a stroke.

Immediately after his arrival from Florida, Kennedy conferred for an hour with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who was at the White House waiting for the President. Presumably, the conference dealt with foreign affairs but the White House made no announcement of specific subjects they might have discussed.

* * *

Kennedy flies to Columbus, Ohio, late today to attend a birthday tribute to Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Otherwise, he plans to work through the weekend.

Mills and the committee as a whole, which consists of 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans, have a record of favoring the reciprocal trade program. The guessing is the committee will give the President much of what he wants in this field.

* * *

The Social Security health plan is another story. No version of such legislation has ever received more than nine favorable votes in the Ways and Means not including the chairman's. Chances that the committee will approve the legislation, not bright at best, are considered dim to the point of invisibility, unless Mills' attitude changes. There was no indication up to the meeting with Kennedy that it had.

Yet some Democratic leaders believe let it be known that the health legislation should have top priority among domestic measures in a year when the whole house and a third of the Senate come up for election.

State High Court Snarl Remains

LANSING (AP) — Members of the State Supreme Court cooled their heels today while they prepared for another try at choosing one of their number to be the chief justice.

The court recessed its January term for the weekend Friday without deciding whether to retain Chief Justice John R. Dethmers or replace him.

Personal feuding over the selection has disrupted the dignity and reserve of the high court and left Dethmers serving on a day-to-day basis, with his status undecided.

Currently, there is a three-way deadlock.

PRESIDED SINCE 1956

All three Republicans on the eight-man court—Dethmers, Harry F. Kelly and Leland W. Carr — are supporting Dethmers for re election.

He has presided over the court since 1956, the last three years with a 5-3 Democratic majority.

Thomas M. Kavanagh, Eugene F. Black and Otto M. Smith are backing Kavanagh.

* * *

Theodore Souris and Paul L. Adams support Carr as a compromise choice. His term will expire Dec. 31, 1963, when he will go into retirement.

Dethmers wound up his term Jan. 1 when he started the eight year term to which he was elected last April, but is serving on an interim basis pending formal choice of a successor.

Dethmers has indicated he has no wish to continue in his present temporary status.

* * *

Baby Sitter Terrorized by Teens

A gang of teen-agers wearing black leather jackets and blue jeans terrorized a 14-year-old girl while she was baby-sitting at a home in Highland Township last night.

Suzanne Weaver of 3395 Center Road told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she was babysitting for Mr. and Mrs. Charles McEwen at 815 Fisher Road when she heard a knock at the back door about 10:30 p.m.

She looked out the door and saw a teen-aged boy she did not recognize. Suzanne then heard noises on the front porch and investigated.

* * *

About five or six teen-agers, all dressed alike, had forced open the storm door and were on the glass-enclosed front porch, Suzanne said.

Each of them had Xs painted on the back of their jackets. Two of them had handkerchiefs covering their faces. One was carrying what appeared to be a black pistol in his hand.

The frightened girl could not call police since there was no phone in the house. The youths yelled to her and asked to be let in the house. They left after she would not let them in.

Sheriff's deputies were called to a Kenrian home in Kamo Pl. near the house by the McEwens after Camp Essayan, the Army said they arrived home about 1 a.m. today. Cause of death has not been determined. Camp Essayan is about 30 miles north of Seoul.

U.S. Resumes Dominican Ties

Follows Other Nations in Helping Nation Back to Normal After Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Dominican Republic resumed diplomatic relations today.

The step was the latest in a series of international moves to return the island nation to a normal situation within the inter-American system as a result of internal political changes.

* * *

The United States and other American countries broke off formal diplomatic relations following a decision by Western Hemisphere foreign ministers in August 1960 to impose sanctions as a result of an assassination attempt on President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela.

SANCTIONS STIFFENED

A year ago the sanctions were stiffened and they continued in force months after the assassination of the late Dominican dictator, Generalissimo Raphael Trujillo. His death, however, opened a period of political reform in the Dominican Republic which led to the present improvement in the country's international relations.

* * *

The U.S. representative is John Calvin Hill Jr. who has been consul general at Santo Domingo. He now holds the position of diplomat temporarily in charge of United States affairs in Santo Domingo pending the appointment of an ambassador.

The Dominican government designated Dr. Marcos A. De Pena as its temporary diplomatic representative in Washington.

Communist Mobs Jeer Armed Police in Paris

PARIS (AP) — Several thousand Communist demonstrators tonight milled in the center of Paris, kept in check by heavily armed squads of riot police.

* * *

No violence was reported but the atmosphere was tense, and demonstrators, defying a police ban against their plan to stage a protest against right-wing Secret Army terrorism, jeered and booted police.

"The OAS (Secret Army) shall not pass," and "Death to the Assassins," the demonstrators shouted.

Riot squads kept the area in front of Communist headquarters clear of traffic, and barricaded streets leading into the square before the building.

* * *

Early crowds of demonstrators were joined as the day wore on by comrades from the Paris workers suburbs arriving by subway and train.

The government brought in 5,000 special riot police to augment Paris police and the demonstration area was cordoned off.

* * *

Demonstrators, many of them teen-agers, shouted slogans against the Secret Army, whom they blame for the machinegunning of a Communist Algerian Deputy last week and the bombings and shootings in most of metropolitan France as well as Algeria.

Although the Communists were warned not to go ahead with the demonstration, the police order was ignored and the Communist newspaper L'Humanite called for a massive turnoff.

* * *

As the prospect of a day of violence loomed in France, terrorism in Algeria continued almost without letup.

Communist chieftains claim that France is in danger of a fascist putsch from the Secret Army Organization. The Secret Army, savagely determined to keep Algeria French against President Charles de Gaulle's program of independence for the North African territory, is blamed for much of the bombings and shootings in Paris.

Woman Catches Hit-Runner

Now Who's Weaker Sex?

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Virginia Wolfe, 25, a petite mother of four plus two stepchildren, has added another chapter to the never-ending debate on the power of a woman's hand.

Mrs. Wolfe was driving to her home in suburban Livonia Thursday night when a car with only one headlight on forced her into a ditch.

Angry but unhurt, she got her car out and was continuing down Eight Mile Road when she was flagged down by George Steinberger, 47, of suburban Farmington. Steinberger said he had been sideswiped and knocked into a ditch.

OFF SHE WENT

"Why, that's the one eyed car that just put me in a ditch," Mrs. Wolfe told Steinberger. "Want me to catch him?" And off she went.

Mrs. Wolfe trapped Elvert B. Warnke, 57, of Northville, at a service station, police said. Warnke pleaded guilty Friday to leaving the scene of an accident.

Medicine's No. 1 Foe 'Throws' St. Joseph Hospital

Ex-Grunt and Groaner Moans Way Into Bed Again

By DON FERMOYLE

For some unknown reason, Leo Lamphere likes hospitals.

A hulking six footer from Watertown, N.Y., who claims he once wrestled professionally as the "Indiana Cyclone," Lamphere has spent the past 10 years grunting and groaning in hospitals across the country.

He isn't sick. He just likes to make doctors and nurses think so.

Pontiac police report Lamphere apparently made his last stop at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital recently.

Police said Lamphere flagged down a passing patrol car in Pontiac, said he was having a heart attack and was rushed to the local hospital.

The nation's most notorious patient appeared to be in such bad shape that he was admitted in "critical condition."

However, Lamphere objected violently when authorities at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital informed him two days later he was to be transferred to the Oakland County Infirmary. He hurriedly checked out and disappeared from Pontiac.

FOLLOWS PATTERN

Lamphere's ability to dupe hospital authorities here follows a pattern which has made him a walking medical legend from coast to coast.

According to physicians who have attested him in scores of hospitals across the country, Lamphere has the mysterious ability to spit blood whenever he wishes to simulate some illness.

Lamphere was a patient for 40 days in Iowa State University Hospital in 1946. Doctors there finally chipped in for his taxi fare to the bus depot.

Although he has never paid at any of the many hospitals he has visited, Lamphere always manages to keep one step ahead of the law. He was jailed only once for vagrancy in Crawfordsville, Ind.

Lamphere told the policeman who took him to the hospital here that he had just arrived in Pontiac from Detroit by bus. He gave his age as 49, reported his address as the Detroit YMCA and said he was here to look for a job as a cook.

Lamphere gave his correct name. He never has been known to use an alias.

An investigation by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital authorities subsequent to his departure from Pontiac revealed his true identity as the number one public enemy of the American Medical Association.

The Day in Birmingham

Catholic Newsmen to Tell of Publishing Problems

BIRMINGHAM — The problems involved in publishing a denominational magazine will be discussed Thursday by two Catholic newspapermen as part of the Holy Name Church culture series.

The speakers at the 8:30 p.m. program at Marian High School, 14½-Mile and Lahser roads will be Robert Lax and Peter Walsh of Jubilee Magazine, a monthly publication.

Lax is coeditor and one of the founders of the magazine. In addition, he is editor of PAX, a magazine of poetry and art. He also is the author of a volume of poetry published in 1960 entitled "Circus In The Sun."

Walsh, in addition to being business manager, reviews books for the magazine and contributes feature articles and fiction to various other Catholic magazines.

* * *

The first issue of Jubilee was published in April 1953. Since then it has been a steady award winner in Catholic Press Association competition.

While founded by Edward Rice and Lax, a third party, Thomas Merton, also was instrumental in crystalizing plans for the picture magazine.

Their combined interest in publishing a serious magazine dates back to their college days at Columbia where they worked together on a campus humor publication.

In 1939, Merton became a Catholic and later a Trappist monk. Lax, a Jew, also turned to Catholicism.

When Merton became a monk in 1941 it left Rice and Lax to work out their ideas for the magazine together.

Rabbi Joel J. Litke of Congregation Gemiluth Chassodim, Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the Jan. 16 meeting of the Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham.

The 8 p.m. program will be held at the church.

Rabbi Litke will discuss and comment on an article which appeared in the April 16, 1961 issue of the United Church Herald entitled "The Significance of Jesus as Jew."

The article was written by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

Rev. Raymond Fenner, pastor of the Congregational Church, will share the discussion with Rabbi Litke.

A one-man operation of the new northwest quadrant parking lot (No. 5) began this week permitting entrance at both the Bates and Woodward driveways but allowing exit only at the Woodward side.

Reported in fair condition at the same hospital are Henry Detcowski, 26, 27028 Dartmouth St., and Winfred F. Ball, 24, 629 Dartmouth both of Madison Heights.

Novi police said Robison's sled and crushed into an auto driven by Detcowski on 12-Mile Road, east of Dixon Road. Detcowski was traveling east on 12-Mile Road.

Ball and Daniel Darcey, 19, 1270 Kalanta St., Madison Heights, were passengers in Detcowski's car. Robison was alone in his auto. Darcey was treated and released at Pontiac General.

Robison's body is at the C. J. Godbard Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

PREDICT FREEZING RAIN

The forecast for Southeast Lower Michigan predicted freezing rain and sleet would change to snow late this afternoon and to night. The high today was expected to range from 28 to 33 degrees, low tonight 15-20. Snow flurries were to continue Sunday, with skies mostly cloudy and temperatures reaching a high of 25 to 30 degrees.

Driving conditions were hazardous today in many areas below a line from Muskegon to Port Huron, the State Highway Department said. One to 3 inches of snow caused slippery highways in the Thumb area.

Salt spreaders kept traffic moving on expressways and main thoroughfares in the Detroit area.

Highest Budget Okayed in Cuba

Council of Ministers Wipes Out All Local Tax Systems

KEY WEST (AP) — The Cuban Council of Ministers has approved the highest national budget in the nation's history and has wiped out all municipal and provincial tax systems, Havana Radio announced today.

The new system "abolishes all encouragement for private investments," the broadcast said.

The budget, equivalent to $1.8 billion at the official Cuban exchange rate, calls for a progressive income tax which imposes a 536.75 monthly levy on those who earn $60 a week, for example. A cuban who earned $2,000 per month would pay $697.75.

The radio said the budget would mean the Cuban economy would operate without a deficit under a single fiscal system. The order stripping provinces and municipalities of tax revenues apparently would convert the Fidel Castro government into an even more monolithic structure than it is at present.

* * *

The budget earmarks $237 million for social security, $191 million for administrative services and $9 million for recreation and sports.

Cuban Captain, Crew Seek U.S. Asylum

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The captain and "several members of the crew" seized control of a Cuban patrol boat today and sailed into Key West where they asked for political asylum, the U.S. Coast Guard announced.

The 110-foot wooden hull converted sub chaser Las Villas moored at the Coast Guard dock and "no one can go aboard and no one can talk to the crew," a Coast Guard officer in Miami said.

* * *

Customs officers and members of the U.S. Border Patrol began questioning the crew to decide what to do with them.

The Coast Guard had no further details.

Rules Teachers Can't Be Forced Into Flag Pledge

You can't force a teacher to sing out or pledge his patriotism.

The Utica Community Schools Board of Education will face this advice from Macomb County Prosecutor George N. Parris at its 8 p.m. Monday meeting.

* * *

He had been asked for a ruling by the school district's Teachers' Club after the board okayed dismissal of teachers who refuse to pledge allegiance to the flag or sing the National Anthem at school functions.

The issue arose when a music teacher said he would teach his class the "Star Spangled Banner" but would not sing it with the pupils, because he is a Jehovah's Witness.

The teacher, Charles McManigal, 27, of 45252 Plait Road, Sterling Township, told his pupils at Sterling Junior High that his conscience forbade him to participate in "nationalistic" programs.

* * *

Schools Supt. Fred M. Atkinson had said McManigal's future with the district depended on whether or not he would perform the National Anthem or pledge allegiance to the flag at school assemblies.

Newburgh Code Formally Vetoed

N.Y. Justice Leaves Only One Welfare Rule in Effect

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Robert Doscher Friday formally ruled out 12 of the 13 regulations instituted last summer by Newburgh, N.Y., in an effort to cut down on relief expenses.

★ ★ ★

The justice made permanent a temporary injunction issued earlier against the Newburgh restrictions. The only one left in effect requires all able-bodied relief recipients to report each month for a review of their cases.

Among those voided were rules requiring able-bodied men to work on public projects if they were unable to find employment, and cutting off aid to women continuing to have children out of wedlock.

Justice Doscher held that the Newburgh regulations violated state and federal welfare rules. He also dismissed a motion by the city to dismiss the state attorney general's complaint under which the injunction was issued.

★ ★ ★

The city attorney has said he will recommend to the Newburgh City Council that no appeal be carried to higher courts.

Walker Denies Plans for Governor's Race

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker says a report he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas is "news to me."

★ ★ ★

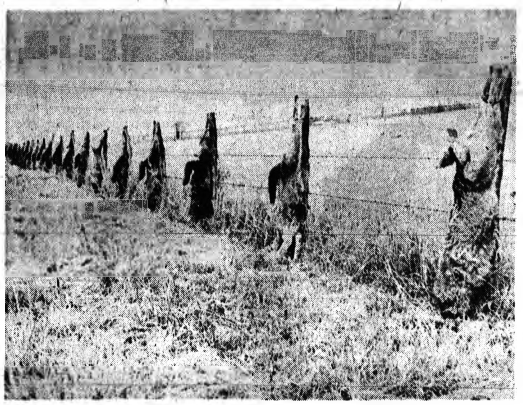
The Chicago Tribune, in a story by Walter Trohan, chief of its Washington bureau, said Friday night it had learned that Walker has begun plans for seeking the nomination and "only some unforeseen important development can induce him to change his mind about running."

★ ★ ★

Walker, 52, a native of Texas, resigned from the Army and gave up retirement pay of $12,000 last fall, a year after he had been relieved of command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany and formally reprimanded for an allegedly improper program of troop indoctrination.

Death Comes Full Circle

BRONSON, Mich. (AP) — Fate came full circle Friday night when Ora Bontrager, 30, of Bronson was killed. His car left a road and hit a tree less than a mile from where his wife and child were killed in an auto crash less than a year ago.



WOLF LANE — Carcasses of wolves — 32 of them — hang on the posts of a farm fence a mile south of Quapaw, Okla., attesting to the vigilance of farmers who have declared war on the marauders which have been killing livestock in the area during the last few months. These wolves have been killed in the last few days.

JFK Due in Columbus for DiSalle Birthday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kennedy flies here late today to take part in one of the gaudiest birthday celebrations the Buckeye State has seen in years.

The President's brief stay—approximately four hours—ostensibly will be to honor Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's 54th birthday at a $100-a-plate dinner.

★ ★ ★

The big rally at the Ohio fairgrounds is expected also to attract the governors of three neighboring states, members of the Democratic National Committee and some 3,000 other persons.

Kennedy will fly into a political tempest here. DiSalle has been under pressure to retract a declaration he made Oct. 20 that he would not seek re-election.

'AWAITING WORD'

A considerable number of political observers now say the governor is awaiting word from the President concerning possible appointment to a high post in Washington—maybe even a cabinet position.

DiSalle has said he thinks the President's visit was primarily out of personal friendship. Efforts to give it extensive political overtones are not based on the fact, he contends.

★ ★ ★

The Ohio governor was one of the first big state leaders to throw his support behind Kennedy in his campaign for the presidency.

The President is scheduled to arrive here about 5:30 p.m.

London Papers Happy Tony to Join Ranks

LONDON (UPI) — London newspapers today welcomed the news that the Earl of Snowdon, the former society photographer who married Princess Margaret, is about to become a working journalist.

The Sunday Times announced Friday that Snowdon will take up a job as its "artistic adviser" when he returns from Antigua, where he and the princess are vacationing. His salary was not stated, but today's newspapers estimated it would run to about $30,000 a year plus expenses.

He will be concerned principally with the colored magazine section which the Sunday paper plans soon to publish.

"He'll be doing a real job of work," said Times Editor C. D. Hamilton. "This appointment is a logical sequel to his earlier photographic career . . . when the occasion arises, he will take photographs."

Faces 6 to 10 Years for Swindle at GM

DETROIT (AP)—Charles E. Botz, 38, who admitted swindling General Motors Corp. out of $88,000 and spending it all on "women, booze and travel," today faces 6-10 years in Southern Michigan State Prison.

Botz was a $587 a month bookkeeper in GM's Ternstedt Division. He said he billed the company for nonexistant "pure Swedish casting sand" at $1 a pound.

Botz was convicted of taking $19,000 under false pretenses and was sentenced Friday by Recorder's Court Judge Arthur J. Koscinski.

To Address CD Unit at Council Meeting

Col. R. C. Pfeil of the Detroit District, U.S. Army Engineers, will address the Oakland County-City Civil Defense Council at its meeting Monday at the Birmingham Community House.

The 12:45 p.m. meeting will provide civil defense officials with information on the responsibilities of local government in the National Shelter Survey Program.

Preliminary surveys are now being made in Pontiac to provide mass shelter space in existing buildings.

Playboy Rubirosa Quizzed on Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—International playboy Porfirio Rubirosa was questioned by an assistant district attorney for almost three hours Friday about a 1935 slaying here. He left the session with a subpoena to appear before a grand jury on Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman, head of the homicide bureau, dealt with the murder of Sergio Benesme, an anti-Trujillo exile from the Dominican Republic shot to death April 28, 1935.

★ ★ ★

A grand jury in 1936 indicted a first cousin of Rubirosa for the slaying, but he never was apprehended.

Rubirosa, stripped of his diplomatic immunity when he was ousted as a Dominican diplomat last Tuesday, appeared voluntarily at the district attorney's office.

Nikita Bounces Back From Attack of Grippe

MOSCOW (AP)—A government spokesman said today that Premier Khrushchev recovered swiftly from an attack of grippe and is back at work.

There was no word on whether he will make his scheduled trip to Bucharest next week during which he had planned to meet Polish Communist chief Wladislaw Gomulka for a hunting trip.

34 From Area Join Army Under Special Program

Some 34 enlistees from Oakland County joined the United States Army last month under one of the 107 special three-year enlistment programs available at the Pontiac Recruiting Station, 53½ W. Huron St., according to the M.Sgt. Raymond R. Barriault, commander of the Recruiting Station.

Ziem, Scheifle Elected to Board

Judge, Ad Official Are Voted to Directors of County Family Service

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick V. Ziem and Arthur Scheifle, director of public relations at McManus, John and Adams, Inc., have been elected to the board of directors of Family Service of Oakland County for a three-year term.

In addition to activity on the board of directors, Judge Ziem and Scheifle will also be members of the public relations committee.

Active in both the Pontiac Area United Fund and the United Foundation of Metropolitan Detroit, Scheifle during his seven years' residence in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area has been active in Civil Defense, YMCA, and other civic enterprises.

Judge Ziem, a judge of the Circuit Court for two years, was prosecuting attorney for seven years. His civic and community activities include American Cancer Society, member of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Oakland County Bar Association and past president of the Jimmy Day Amvet Post.

★ ★ ★

At the recent meeting, it was also announced by James G. Allen, president, that the family agencies in the metropolitan area have joined to develop the Tri-County Family Service Council in an effort to strengthen the family service movement in this area.

Sees No Strike of Steel Industry

DETROIT (AP) — A top official of the United Steelworkers indicates he feels the steel industry can avoid a strike this year.

USW Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, here for a meeting Friday of USW locals, said:

"We don't at this time look for a strike — we don't anticipate one. I also would say we don't want one."

★ ★ ★

Big steel and the USW open negotiations about May 1 for a new contract covering 450,000 workers in the plants. A strike could follow at the end of June if no settlement is reached.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on President Kennedy's appeal to management and the union for restraint on prices and wages, Abel said he did not have the "slightest idea" of what his union might consider wage restraint.

Abel said his feeling that there might not be a strike was due in part to a "decided change in attitude" on the part of some companies toward a backing of grievances in the steel plants.

He said some companies have taken steps recently to cut down on the backlogs.

As an example, Abel said the USW and Great Lakes steel have made progress in reducing a backlog of 1,700 grievances at the company's Ecorse plant.

Seek 3 Bank Bandits in $69,500 Holdup

CLARENDON HILLS, Ill. (AP) —Authorities pressed a search today for three bandits, one armed with a submachine gun, who took an estimated $69,500 Friday in a holdup of a bank in Clarendon Hills, a Chicago suburb.

The gunmen, who wore scarves wrapped around their faces, escaped in a black sedan that had been parked with the motor running. It was found later.

The holdup, obviously well planned, took only five minutes. An employe said the bandits entered the bank a few minutes before the 2 p.m. closing hour and shouted, "Everybody freeze where you are."

Macmillan Takes to Bed

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan was confined to bed with a heavy chill today. Aides said the illness was not expected to interfere with his visit to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn Monday.

Consumption of lettuce in the United States has increased by more than 40 per cent since the close of World War II.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Russia Forces Rest of World to Resume Nuclear Testing

The world's nuclear testing business may be unhappily resolved for the present. The current decision isn't inspiring but in the circumstances there doesn't seem to be any other.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Great Britain issued a joint communique in which substantially:

> "They agree it is now necessary, as a matter of prudent planning for the future, that pending a final decision (on whether tests shall be forbidden by agreement between Russia and the United States-British team) preparations should be made for atmospheric testing to maintain the effectiveness of the deterrent."

★ ★ ★

This verifies that the Russians have precipitated the current situation by their unfair series of sneak tests. This outraged most of the whole world and the Reds were repeatedly asked to desist in every gentlemanly way possible.

However, extending the Soviets any of the courtesies of sportsmanship is pretty much a waste of time and effort. They continued firing. Joint protests increased, but the world accomplished nothing at all. KHRUSHCHEV stated baldly that it suited his purpose to experiment and he fired bigger charges to show Russia's might and international defiance.

★ ★ ★

These moves give the Reds a flying start on the balance of humanity, and now the British and Americans have had to agree that we should duplicate the Russian blasts in part in our own move to "catch up." This decision has prompted immediate unhappiness on the part of those who disavow all nuclear tests; and that fact is perfectly understandable. Our Nation shares in this belief itself. And yet, what can we do?

★ ★ ★

The world can't sit idly by and twiddle its thumbs while the warmad miscreants flex their muscles and beat their breasts.

There must be a direct reply.

★ ★ ★

Both the British and ourselves are anxious to work out an arrangement whereby everyone everywhere discontinues the practice, but the Russians walked away from this and smirked over their shoulder as they left.

★ ★ ★

Our decision may prompt the Reds to fire another round of super blasts in a further effort to intimidate mankind. Nothing can stop a group of leaders when decency and sanity have fled. The whole situation is unfortunate but I don't see how we can back up while these murderers are plunging full speed ahead and mocking in open derision at the world's patient, kindly efforts to bring about permanent understandings and everlasting peace.

★ ★ ★

It's an impossible situation.

Post Office Loses . . . .

With the coming postal deficit touching $800 million, you can probably look for five cent letters and eight cent airmail.

So be it.

We should meet expenses.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the junk mail users should be hiked equally to take another unfair burden off the taxpayers. The New York News calls them the "Post office freeloaders." A safe rule is this: if a letter isn't valuable enough for the sender to provide first class postage, it can't be worth opening.

Wastebaskets are always nearby.

Think of the time you save.

★ ★ ★

Second class privileges for newspapers have been assailed and we feel they should be raised commensurately with the other postal divisions. If newspapers are getting any part of a Federal post office subsidy, it should be stopped.

Poke Justified . . . .

ED SULLIVAN takes an earnest poke at "background music" and I echo his sentiments.

★ ★ ★

The majority of "background music" today is anything but. The tooters and the thumpers are imbued with the idea that "they're the show." Instead of creeping softly into the picture and remaining unobtrusive, they break into a deafening blast that's ill conceived and badly executed. I don't know whose fault this is, but it's much worse on TV than it is in the movies. It's one of the corniest parts of the business.

★ ★ ★

When we want music—and all of us do—we turn to musical programs and beautiful records. We don't need unmuffled discords as an adjunct to a speeding boat or the charge of an outraged hippo.

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Three cheers for CELESTA GEYER who reduced from 555 to 155, losing 400 pounds in one year . . . the world's record. . . . . A midwest health commissioner says: "Drive as though your life depends upon it because it does." . . . . The Chicago Tribune declares you must avoid that Indian fakir if you want a Goabetween. He's too Nehru minded. . . . . The average American consumed 62 hamburgers last year. . . . . Here's the latest: When one of those new, glass phone booths is visible from an office building, the wolves jot down the number and when a good looking gal stops to call, or even hesitates, they dial immediately. Invariably she answers and they watch the reactions as they try to make a date—and sometimes do.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie "It Could Be You," was one of the most human and interesting of all TV programs. Why don't they have it at night? . . . . . Overheard in the men's room: "W-w-w-what happened after I sssss-said I could l-l-lick anyone in the r-r-r-room?" . . . . . Here's the counterpart to "RSVP" and it's creeping into use: "DBTA" and it means: "Don't Bother to Answer." . . . . . Graham John Graham says Florida is taking the horse breeding business away from Kentucky. This could be a financial (and social) disaster in the blue grass area.

★ ★ ★

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive gal that has made friends all over the world: Queen Elizabeth. . . . . Today's Offstage Round of Applause: BOB EMERICK, for one of the most gracious personalities in the area. . . . . He was brushed by a speeding car that didn't stop. An officer took over: "Get the license number?" He shook his head. "All I know is, she was an ash blonde, about five feet five, gray eyes, 36-26-36, wearing a flower pattern dress, a perky nose and a long, thrilling neck. Find her." . . . . Scientists have a new experimental pill that lets you get along on three hours sleep. Will the moonlighters go for that!! . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—BOB STIERER, our new City Manager, starting out on his big job; the J's — the CBS midnight New Year's Eve show on TV which had so many dreary tea or coffee commercials that you forgot what holiday it was.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The faith of Brigham Young empowered him to lead the Mormons away from persecution into the desert and transform it into the thriving community of Salt Lake City. Eighty-six thousand men, women and children endured privation, weariness and storms as they followed after their modern "Moses" into Utah from the Mid-West, East and overseas between 1847 and '69.

Strengthened by their leader, who believed, "I do not feel disposed to ask the Lord to do for me what I can do for myself," the Mormons established the first large scale irrigation project in America. Their faith inspired them to denounce slavery and to contribute money to build a Jewish Synagogue and a Catholic Church, for these members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, allowed "all men" their "same privilege" to "worship how, where, or what they may."

Days of All Faiths:

Return to Plow, Staff After Yule

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In the old times the 12-day Christmas season was just one long holiday. From Dec. 25 to Jan. 6 (Epiphany) everyone did as little work as possible. Men did almost nothing at all; women kept their household chores to a minimum. It was "the season to be jolly." Work could wait.

Jan. 7, the day after Epiphany, was the day to get back on the job. For the women it was called St. Distaff's Day. This was supposed to be funny. A distaff is the staff for holding flax or wool for spinning, and since women did all the spinning, tomorrow was "back to the distaff" day for them. After a whole season full of saints' days and holy days it was inevitable that some wag would name it Saint Distaff's Day.

PLOW MONDAY

The first Monday after Epiphany was a sort of men's St. Distaff Day. The only difference was that they went back to plowing instead of spinning.

They called it Plow Monday, and human nature being what it is, they managed to make a holiday out of it and stall off their labors a little longer. With a great show of piety, they went to the church instead of to the fields, and there burned candles before the statues of the saints whose help they wanted with the land.

Soon they began to see the financial possibilities of what they were doing, and made frequent excursions out of the church to beg for money for more candles. And still in the spirit of the holiday season they made a few stops at the local taverns; thus much of the money they had collected never found its way to candle fund.

Candles went out with the Reformation, but the whole idea of Plow Monday was such a good way of extending the holiday season for just one more day that the begging and drinking customs continued.

This foolishness is still carried on in some rural parts of England and Scotland.

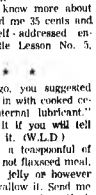
Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

You Only Catch Cold From Exposure to It

My father and I have an argument. He says you can catch a cold only from someone who has one. I say no. I was out in the cold evening [illegible] hours and, two days later, I developed a hard cold and haven't been able to shake it yet . . . (M.M.S.)



DR. BRADY

Ans. — Your father is right and you are grievously wrong.

If you want to know more about the subject, send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, for Little Lesson No. 5, "Call It C.R.I."

★ ★ ★

Some time ago, you suggested putting flaxseed in with cooked cereal as an "internal lubricant." Will appreciate it if you will tell me more about it. (W.L.D.)

Ans. — About a teaspoonful of whole flaxseeds, not flaxseed meal, daily, in cereal, jelly or however you prefer to swallow it. Send me 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 25, "Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene."

I noticed you spelled "trick specialists" with dollar signs in place of the "S." Reminds me that a Specialist I consulted in 1944 charged me $28 for routine examination of my breasts, urinalysis and 12 pills. (Mrs. N. L.)

Ans. — And he didn't give you trading stamps?

★ ★ ★

You approved of taking three or four glasses of water before meals and three or four glasses after meals, but how about drinking water in the course of a meal, say after the soup if one is thirsty then?

Ans. — I didn't approve of drinking so much water. I know no good reason why one should not take a glass, more or less, of water; cool or cold as one likes, before or after or in the course of a meal.

Among the things I have heard said about you is that you must be a bucolic old quack. My defense of you is, "Well, thank God for him and I wish there were more like him." (Mrs. V.A.)

Ans. — Thank you, Ma'am. That might make a good title for my new book: "Confessions of a Bucolic Old Quack."

★ ★ ★

I enjoy reading your column. What is the name of your latest book? (. . . . . , M.D.)

Ans. — Secrets of Positive Health, (Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, N.J., $4.95)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words, pertaining to personal health and hygiene but the more diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

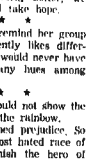
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Learn How to Combat Racial Bias

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-496: Norma L., aged 17, is president of her church Young People's Society.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "there is still so much race prejudice in America, we'd like some practical plan by which to abolish it.



"Is there anything we can do to help wake people up to the fact that God must dislike prejudice? I need some suggestions to offer on Sunday night when it is my turn to lead the meeting."

DR. CRANE

CHURCH PROJECTS

As long as teen-age idealists like Norma are sincerely striving to make this world better, we oldsters can still take hope.

★ ★ ★

Norma might remind her group that God apparently likes different colors, or he would never have given us so many hues among the flowers.

★ ★ ★

And animals would not show the varied colors of the rainbow.

Jesus also voiced prejudice. So he picked the most hated race of antiquity to furnish the hero of the Good Samaritan Story.

"And who is my neighbor?" asked a smug, self-righteous college man in the audience.

To the Hebrews, the Romans were doubly hated as tax gatherers. And so were their other oppressors, as the Philistines.

But the Samaritans were anathema. Jews were not allowed even to set foot on the soil of Samaria, for it meant supreme pollution.

If, however, it was necessary to make a shortcut through that hated country for urgent business reasons, the Jews were then to brush even the dust off their sandals.

And no devout Jew dared touch food or anything else handled by Samaritans.

Keeping this background in mind, just imagine what a shock it was when Christ showed that the priest and then the Levite ignored the half-dead man on the highway, but the Good Samaritan showed him brotherly care!

And to prove that Christ didn't merely render lip service to world brotherhood, Jesus then took his Apostles through Samaria and deliberately stopped at the well.

★ ★ ★

He was doubtless no more thirsty than his Apostles, who would have waited till they reached Hebrew soil before taking a drink.

But Christ made them stop and then he purposely asked the Samaritan woman for a drink, thereby receiving water at her hands, which was a supreme violation of Jewish rules.

★ ★ ★

Finally, Christ healed 10 lepers from a sure death, but the only one that returned to say "Thank You" was a Samaritan.

So Jesus was definitely not addicted to racial or color prejudices.

And how could he be, if we are all the children of God? For God plays no favorites, nor does any other good parent.

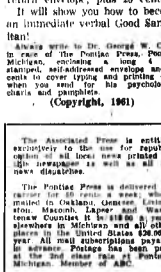
In that connection, the next time you feel prejudiced, try to imagine that your dead mother or brother or wife or sweetheart, is now reincarnated in the person of the hated opposite color or race.

Theosophists believe in this type of physical reincarnation on this earth. It is a possibility!

So, if you folks have lost a loved one, wouldn't it be terrible if you later abused him via your mistreatment of a person of a different color or race who now is your former loved one?

This thought will widen your perspective fast!

And for church groups like Norma, send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.



It will show you how to become an immediate verbal Good Samaritan!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People:

Believes Sin Is the Reason for World's Problems

It has taken 200 years for the United States with its free enterprise system to attain what it has today. It has taken the Communist form of government 44 years to achieve what it has today.

Khrushchev has said that our children will live under communism. He also said he will take America by 1975.

★ ★

What has happened in the 20th century? In 1914 World War I with communism on the move. America boomed in the 1920s. The greatest depression this country has ever faced happened in the 1930s. In the 1940s we had World War II. Then in the 1950s the Korean conflict. What will happen in the 1960s?

★ ★ ★

The direct cause of this trouble is sin. The Bible tells us that men and women are lovers of themselves more than lovers of God.

Working, Waiting, Watching

Courageous People Saved Her Child

How do I thank my courageous little niece, Diane, only 10 years old, who thinks and puts others before herself? She saved my son after he went through the ice.

How do I thank little Cathy whose only thought was to help when she held on in case she broke through, too? How do I thank Dawn my own little girl for running all that way to tell me?

How do you possibly thank a man who runs with you and who took in his arms my son who was dripping wet and covered with muck?

Every time I see my cowboy shoot an imaginary Indian or when I let the cuffs down on his pants because he's grown another inch, the only way is to say a prayer to God in thanks to you all.

'Nehru Goof Stars' Fault'

NEW DELHI (AP) — A Hindu mystic says Prime Minister Nehru's image in Western eyes has been ruined by India's military seizure of Goa—and it was all the fault of the stars.

Swami Ragavendra Dasaji, 45, said the takeover of Goa and two other Portuguese enclaves last month "shocked many good friends of India (and) was a warning shadow of the shape of things to come."

The swami was among 700 sadhus, holy men, and pandits, learned men, who for the past fortnight held round-the-clock congregational prayers on the banks of the sacred Jumna River. They have wide influence in India.

The recitation of sacred verses many thousands of times, ending Friday night, was aimed at averting the evil effects of a conjunction of eight planets in the sign of Capricorn. Astrologers said the planets would reach the crucial period in the first week of February, and predicted the danger of worldwide catastrophes that would take many lives.

The pandits claim the malevolent influences of the February conjunction could be seen six months before, and they will last six months after.

Nehru has discounted these predictions and has appealed to the Indians to have faith in themselves and not indulge in star gazing.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Jan. 6, the 6th day of the year with 359 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1759, Martha Dandridge Custis, widow of Daniel Parke Custis of Virginia, was married to George Washington.

In 1912, President Howard Taft issued a proclamation admitting New Mexico to the union as the 47th state.

In 1919, former President Theodore Roosevelt died at his home in Oyster Bay, N.Y.

In 1950, Republican Rep. Charles A. Halleck defeated Rep. Joseph Martin for the post of House Republican leader by a vote of 71 to 70 in a party caucus.

A thought for the day: American paleontologoist Henry Fairfield Osborn once said:

"We do not live to extenuate the miseries of the past nor to accept as incurable those of the present."

Businessmen Await JFK's New Budget

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Businessmen and bankers will have their eyes on Washington for the next two weeks. So will labor and investors and taxpayers. And so, too, should consumers. All will have a great deal at stake.

★ ★ ★

For the fiscal and economic program which President Kennedy is expected to reveal shortly in general terms in his State of the Union message, and in detail in the budget message to follow, will have bread-and-butter significance for almost everyone.

WILL AFFECT BUSINESS

Soon we'll be told how much the government will spend, and for what; how much it expects to take in through taxes, and what tax changes if any; how it expects to finance any borrowing the Treasury must make to keep its till safely filled.

★ ★ ★

All of these will have effects sooner or later, to greater or lesser degree, on new orders for many industries, sales and profits records, jobs and work weeks, interest rates on savings and mortgages, on loans and on short-term and long-term securities, and in time on prices and wages.

DEFINITE INFLUENCE

The economy is too big now for the federal budget to make it or wreck it. But industrial and financial trends are definitely affected by government policies. And the effects of government policies are more noticeable when the economy itself is in fairly close balance—definitely not declining, but not advancing in anything resembling a sure-fire boom.

★ ★ ★

Many businessmen believe that the current moderate uptrend in the economy is due to forces generated within the economy itself, with a big assist by fairly steady consumer spending.

CREDIT U.S. SPENDING

Administration economists, however, think that a lot of the zip today is due to a needed extra nudge which extra federal spending gave. The defense outlays were raised by $6 billion. And as orders arising from this reached defense firms and were spread through their supplies, it helped not only industry but made more jobs, or longer work weeks, for many workers. And their larger paychecks helped push consumer sales to record highs before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Treasury also hopes to benefit. The added earnings of industry and larger incomes of individuals are expected to raise its take through income taxes in the coming fiscal year.

HOPE TO BALANCE BUDGET

It is on this anticipation that the Budget Bureau is counting to balance out the bigger budget the President is expected to present this month. Spending is expected to rise to at least $92 billion. Just a year ago the President estimated spending in the current fiscal year would be $80.7 billion, raised later to $81.5 billion.

The increased spending expected in the fiscal year starting July 1 will further benefit some industries and firms—and, hopefully, many workers. If this in turn inspires higher Treasury revenues, the budget may stay in the hoped-for balance.

PROSPECT IMPORTANT

The prospect is important because, with the federal debt already at $297 billion, any further Treasury borrowing to make up a deficit could add a little fuel to a smoldering inflationary fire the administration is anxious to keep in control.

That fire centers around fears that a new wage-price spiral could be set off. One big danger point being watched is the steel industry where new wage contracts will be negotiated in the months ahead.

★ ★ ★

So the budget has a little extra interest this year: Will its size help boost economic growth? Will it be balanced and sidestep inflationary deficits? Will it, if unbalanced, weaken the dollar in the eyes of the rest of the world and threaten another run on our gold?

Double-Duty Yule Trees to Halt Beach Erosion

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Instead of using old Christmas trees for firewood, Pensacola area residents are using them to help prevent erosion of Pensacola Beach.

U.S. Role in U.N. Hit by GOP Chairman

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is being "outvoted, outmaneuvered and outpropagandized" in the United Nations, says Republican National Chairman William E. Miller.

★ ★ ★

He told a cheering conservative group Friday that if the situation continued, the United States must "take a whole new look-see" at the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Miller, a New York congressman, spoke at the third semiannual Political Action Conference sponsored by a conservative newsletter, Human Events. The conference, attended by more than 500, ends today with speeches by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Reps. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., Bob Wilson, R-Calif., and John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz.

SLISTERS JFK

Miller blistered President Kennedy's foreign and domestic policies.

Referring to Kennedy's proposal that the United States buy half of a $200-million bond issue to pay U.N. debts incurred in Congo operations, Miller asked: "If none of the other countries want to support the U.N., what good is it for us?"

★ ★ ★

He said the United States now financed 45 per cent of the U.N. campaign against Katanga. He described Katanga as "the only anti-Communist province in the Congo."

Jet Bomber Crash Kills 3 AF Officers

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Three Air Force officers died Friday in the crash of a B47 jet bomber that exploded on the runway of March Air Force Base.

They were Maj. Clarence W. Garrett Jr., the pilot, of Waco, Tex.; Lt. James E. Belt, copilot, of Wayne, Mich.; and Capt. Cosimo L. Segalla, navigator, of Cannon, Conn.

Witnesses said a left wing of the bomber burst into flames and the plane nose-dived while it taxied along the runway. It skidded to the end of the runway, exploded and burned.

Say Reds' N-Tests Reduced War Threat

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The threat of war might have been eased rather than increased by Russian nuclear tests last fall, says one of the nation's top nuclear scientists.

Dr. Hans A. Bethe of the Cornel University faculty said Friday night that if Russia succeeded in perfecting a "secure secondary striking force (it) will contribute to stability and will remove any incentive to strike first."

★ ★ ★

The tests "may well have reduced rather than increased the danger of war," he said.

Pravda Article Blasts Quality of U.S. Goods

MOSCOW (AP) — The paper Moscow Pravda came out today with an article criticizing the quality of goods produced in the West, chiefly the United States.

★ ★ ★

Soviet readers were told Coca-Cola is produced of dubious ingredients, Lockheed's Electra plane had faults in design, U.S. wheat shipped to Pakistan was rotten and American drilling tools failed in the Egyptian desert.

★ ★ ★

Such attacks are standard here when Russian complaints about scarcities and bad quality of Soviet products become too loud—and they are very loud just now.

DISPLAYING DOLLS — Children of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Shelton, missionaries home on furlough from Viet Nam love their toys from the Orient. Sharon, left, holds up a favorite Vietnamese doll for the family to see. Others shown are Rebecca, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Shelton and Dan. The Sheltons have served under Orient Crusades in Formosa, Okinawa and Viet Nam. They will serve the pastorate of First Baptist Church until June when they will return to mission work.

Missionary at First Baptist

Home on furlough from Viet Nam, Rev. Robert Shelton, missionary to the Orient is serving as interim pastor at First Baptist Church until June.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Bob Jones University, Rev. Mr. Shelton first went to Formosa in 1952 with Dr. C. Richard Hills of Orient Crusades under the sponsorship of the university. In the fall of the same year he returned to the states, was married in January 1953, then returned in February to Okinawa with his bride where the two older children were born.

"One of the greatest thrills of my life" said the missionary "was when Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek invited our Christian team to preach the gospel to some 600,000 Chinese soldiers who had fled the mainland."

More than 200,000 Chinese are enrolled today in the Bible course of Orient Crusades.

"On arriving in Viet Nam we lived in Saigon working with the National Protestant Churches in South Viet Nam helping Christian people reach other communities. The majority of Viet are Buddhists nearly 8 million.

"The Protestant National Church is the spiritual child of the Missionary Alliance Church.

"The Vietnamese are an intelligent, friendly people. They go out of their way to be friends with American missionaries.

PARIS OF ORIENT

Saigon, the capital, often called the Paris of the Orient, is not far from the equator. Here culture is high and shops and many homes beautifully styled after European cities. There is much poverty in the villages where most homes have thatched roofs.

South Viet Nam is a rice growing country. There are also rubber plantations and cattle raising with help from the United States Government.

The men wear Western dress but women still cling to the long flowing robes with high mandarin collar.

In speaking of his missionary work Rev. Mr. Shelton said "The greatest task of the church today is to reach as many as possible with the gospel story. It was Dr. H. H. Savage, recent pastor of First Baptist Church, and Mrs. Savage, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pardee former youth directors of First Baptist who inspired me to become a missionary."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Shelton of Gage St., he makes his home with his wife and family at the parsonage, 697 W. Huron St.

Steinhaus Gives Recital

The third program in the "Renaissance in Religious Music" series at the Kirk in the Hills will be held at 4 p.m. on Jan. 14.

Phillip Steinhaus, organist, choirmaster and carillonneur at the Kirk, will be the featured soloist in an organ recital of some of the most celebrated works in the immense literature of sacred church music.

Mr. Steinhaus has concertized extensively throughout the United States and has appeared with several symphony orchestras, including a recent appearance with the Detroit Symphony.

He has been a guest recitalist at the National and Regional Conventions of the American Guild of Organists, and his travels have taken him to Europe and Mexico where he visited many old organs to study their design and construction.

AWARDED DEGREE

Recently Mr. Steinhaus was awarded the honorary degree, Doctor of Music, by Parsons College for "his outstanding ability as a scholar and performer, and as a leader in his profession."

In addition to concert work Dr. Steinhaus may be heard on Boston Records. He is the only organist to have recorded Max Reger's "Variations and Fugue on an Original Theme," and one of a few organists in the world to have played this incredibly difficult work in public performance.

This fall he completed a new recording for the "King of Instruments" series produced by the Aeolian-Skinner Co.

His recitals also included performances at St. Thomas' Church New York City, as well as a broadcast recital for the radio station of the Riverside Church.

This spring Dr. Steinhaus will again travel to the East Coast and will conclude this tour with a Recital and Master Class in Organ Playing at Goddard College, Plainfield, Vt.

B'nai Israel Sisterhood to Hear Mrs. Marshall

Mrs. S.L.A. Marshall, wife of Brig. Gen. Marshall of Detroit, will be guest speaker at the dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the synagogue social hall of Congregation B'nai Israel, 143 Oneida Road. The Sisterhood is sponsoring the afternoon affair.

Mrs. David Horowitz, program chairman, will introduce the speaker who will tell of her impressions and those of foreign correspondents present at the Eichmann Trial in Israel.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of San Diego State College, Mrs. Marshall served in the United States Navy as a specialist "S" training personnel.

In February 1959 she was one of eight women from the Detroit area selected by the U.S. Army to participate in "Operation Understanding," the first all-female group to be briefed on missiles.

Mrs. Marshall has been affiliated with United Community services as the American Red Cross Grey Ladies and League od Women Voters. She has lived and traveled in the Orient.

MRS S.L.A. MARSHALL

An active life member of American women for Var-ilan University, she also is an honorary member of the "Chen" women's army in Israel. Mrs. Marshall is presently studying Hebrew at the Univ-Sites in religious and other interests.

Of particular interest will be a report on current Gideon activities in the Orient.

Speaking on this subject will be Robert Swaney of Gideons International, Chicago, Ill., who recently returned from work in Hong Kong, Japan and other Far East nations.

The recruiting of new Gideon members, effective pastoral relationships and problems of communication are also scheduled for discussion.

A special program has been arranged for members of the Women's Auxiliary.

Sponsoring the conference at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education is the MSU Committee on Church Related Programs.

Feast of Lights to Be Observed

Candles Symbolize Persons of Christian Faith by Lutherans

The annual Feast of the Lights Service of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church on North Adams Road will be held tonight at 7:30 at the church.

The service celebrates the festival of Epiphany.

Candles are lighted throughout the service symbolizing various persons of the Christian faith. The lighting of candle is accompanied with Scripture readings, meditations, prayers and hymns.

The Senior Choir of the church will also present anthems in the service.

Epiphany, or Twelfth Night, is a festival of the Christian faith which celebrates the arrival of the Wise Men in the Christmas Gospel and the star which led them on their journey.

★ ★ ★

Being a festival honoring the symbolism of that star, it represents the light of Christ in the hearts of Christians.

Each worshipper in the service also receives a candle which is lighted at the conclusion of the worship.

Church Services Listed

Mass will be said at 10:30 Sunday morning at the St. George Romanian Church, 456 Arthur St. Sunday School will be held at 11:30 a.m.

Holy Communion, Installation Sunday

Winter Communion will be observed at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church in Waterford Township.

After the pastor, Rev. Walter Teeuwissen Jr., has presented the Sunday service message, six elders will be installed for a three year term, and Andre DeWilde, ruling elder, will also be ordained.

The elders include Elmer Boodway, John Hazlette, Olaf Johnson, John Bourgine, and Daniel Williams.

In the evening beginning at 6:30 p.m. there will be a potluck dinner followed by the annual congregational business meeting. All members have been urged to attend.

Michigan Gideons Gather at University for Study

EAST LANSING — More than 100 Michigan Gideons and their wives will gather Jan. 16 at Michigan State University for a day of study and spiritual inspiration.

★ ★ ★

The Gideons are an interdenominational organization of businessmen dedicated to the spreading of Christianity through placing Bibles in evangelistic and other ministries.

Missionaries Showing Colored Slides of India

Rev. and Mrs. William F. Bartlett, American Baptist missionaries to South India, will speak at the 7:30 vesper service at Bethany Baptist Church Sunday.

Stationed in Madras, Rev. Mr. Bartlett serves as treasurer and attorney for the South India mission. He is a native of Dearborn.

The Bartletts will tell the story of missions in South India showing colored slides of the people and work.

Currently visiting supporting churches in the United States, Rev. and Mrs. Bartlett with their three children Billy, Susan and Pamela expect to sail again for India in August.

The exciting story of Dr. Billy Graham's Crusade in Australia will be shown in sound and color at 7:30 Thursday evening at Bethany Church. The film, "The Shadow of the Boomweang," is sponsored by the Women's Society.

No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken to defray expenses.

HOME WRECKER—Harvey Zinnerman, owner of a house in Highspire, Pa., looks at the damage that was created when a car veered out of control Friday and crashed through the front of his home. The vehicle went out the opposite side of the house where it came to rest in a snowbank against the side of a gasoline station. Neither the driver of the car, nor the Zinnerman family, asleep upstairs at the time, were injured.

'Colleges, Universities Are Just Too Much Alike'

Colleges and universities are too much alike; each should discover and then develop a distinctive individuality enabling it to serve a particular collection of students. This is one of the conclusions offered by New York U.'s retiring president, Carroll V. Newsom.

★ ★ ★

Newsom also voices the familiar complaint that college presidents must devote too much time to raising money. He suggests that colleges put too much stress on formal education. They ought to relax routines, he thinks, so that students would have more time for reading, thinking, and participating in informal discussions.

Accardo Wins Reversal of Income Tax Conviction

CHICAGO (UPI) — The alleged cardo never worked for his $1,600 boss of Chicago's gangland has a week salary as a beer sales won a reversal of an income tax man. It said the job was a cover conviction similar to the rap that up for illegal income. sent his predecessor, the late Al Capone, into a federal prison.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled here Friday that there was a "prejudicial error" in Anthony J. (Tough Tony) Accardo's trial on a charge of dodging the federal income tax.

The case was remanded to the Federal District Court for a new trial.

In the majority opinion, Appeals Court Justices F. Ryan Duffy and J. Roger Kiley held that the jury in Accardo's trial had been exposed to newspaper publicity prejudicial to the defendant. They said the trial judge Julius J. Hoffman, did not sufficiently instruct the jurors to ignore the publicity.

★ ★ ★

Duffy and Kiley also held that Hoffan erred in allowing Accardo's income tax returns, dating back to 1939 to be introduced as evidence.

Accardo has been found guilty of illegally deducting expenses for the operation of a Mercedes car from his income tax for 1956 through 1958. During that time he was carried on the payroll of Provilion Beer Sales, Inc., as a salesman.

2nd LA Paper Folding Today

Examiner Will Follow Mirror, Leaving City With Two Dailies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles lost one of its four metropolitan dailies Friday. Another goes today.

That leaves two—in a city of 2½ million.

First to go was the evening Los Angeles Mirror. It published its last edition Friday.

The Los Angeles Examiner, a morning paper, publishes its last edition today.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are the morning Los Angeles Times, the rich and venerable older sister to the Mirror, and the evening Herald-Express, a sister-publication to the Examiner.

The Mirror—the youngest—was always fourth of the four papers in circulation. The Examiner has long trailed the dominating Times.

RULE ALONE

The demise of the Mirror and Examiner left the Chandler family's Times ruling the morning field and the Hearst family's Herald—to be renamed the Herald-Examiner—alone in the evening field.

In Washington, D. C., Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-NY, said that the House Antitrust subcommittee—of which he is chairman—would examine the facts of the newspaper closings here to "see whether or not there was concerted action."

The statements from both papers' top executives gave the same reasons for the closings—the fact that they were losing money. Neither paper mentioned the other.

END OF THE MIRROR — Norman Chandler (left), president of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror Co., reads a statement to employes of the Mirror Friday announcing it was ceasing publication with Friday's issue. Chandler, speaking in the city room of the newspaper, said many of the employes would be offered positions on the Times and that the employment of others would be terminated.

Johnson Cites Space Advance

Vice President Claims U.S. Made the Fastest Progress in 1961

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson reported Friday the United States made faster progress in the space race in 1961 than any other country.

Johnson, chairman of the space council which advises the President on policy, avoided any statement on how this country stands in relation to Russia in space.

In a report to President Kennedy which the White House made public, Johnson said:

"While it is too early to make definite comparisons as between our newly developing competence and the capabilities of the U.S.S.R. it is encouraging to note that the United States generated a greater rate of progress in 1961 than in any previous year or that of any other country."

Johnson called 1961 "a year of decision and progress in the space activities of the United States." He added:

★ ★ ★

"Important strides were taken along the road of space successes through the combination of presidential leadership, space council coordination and recommendations and the performance by the responsible operating departments and agencies. Private industry's participation and contribution increased accordingly."

U. S. population is increasing by 250,000 per month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Friday announced hearings starting Jan. 16 on a bill to prohibit transportation of gambling devices in interstate and foreign commerce.

Harris, chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said similar bills have been recommended by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as part of a crackdown on organized crime. Kennedy probably will testify at the hearing.

Kitchen cabinets — or, for that matter, almost any cabinet with swinging doors, can be much more functional if space saving sliding doors replace swinging panels. It's easy to do yourself, and often the very same swinging cabinet doors can be used. Pint-sized Graham hardware does this job admirably. It's Full Treatment for Arkie

Gators Get Colds, Too

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—If you have a cold, and you're sick of sun lamps, sprays, ointments and tonics, just be glad you aren't an alligator.

Big Arkie, a cantankerous old 13-foot alligator that Little Rock Zoo Director Raymond Squires claims is the largest in captivity, also has the midwinter miseries.

★ ★ ★

Squires, the alligator's nurse, placed two sun lamps in his pen Friday. They helped a little.

Then Squires sprayed Arkie's nose and throat with a medicated substance in an oil can.

COD LIVER OIL, TOO

And—as if that weren't enough—Arkie must suffer the ignominy of cod liver oil.

A veterinarian diagnosed Arkie's trouble as a deficiency of vitamins A and D. This has led to a fungus infection around his ponderous mouth.

He lives in a cage apart from the other alligators, because alligators sometimes have a tendency to fight, and Squires doesn't want him hurt.

But Arkie doesn't feel like fighting. He doesn't even feel like going after Squires' hand when the zoo director wields the oil can.

"He sure doesn't like that cod liver oil," Squires said.

The alligator weighs 600 pounds and was caught near Hope, Ark., 11 years ago. He was healthy until the skylight in his indoor pen was blocked out during a renovation.

"The poor fellow just isn't getting enough sun," Squires said.

Counsel, a Judge, Says Lie Detector Shows Innocence in Swindle

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The judge representing 20-year-old Ervin Hackert says he understands a lie detector test and other investigations have cleared the former Ferris Institute student of swindle suspicion.

Municipal Judge Clay Olmstead of Ludington made the statement Friday night after both Hackert and Alfred H. Witten, 35, former Ferris instructor, had taken lie detector tests.

The two took tests at the Rockford State Police post Friday in connection with an alleged $20,000 swindle of merchants and banks.

"I am advised through the state police that their investigations and this test have cleared Hackert of these bread charges," Judge Olmstead said.

FRIEND OF FAMILY

The judge, a friend of the Hackert family, has consented to represent the young man as counsel.

Judge Olmstead said he also understand that Witten supported Hackert's claims that he knew nothing about any swindling. Olmstead also said that Witten did not admit any wrongdoing on his part.

Judge Olmstead said he felt the charges against Hackert probably would be dropped.

★ ★ ★

Witten took the lie detector test although earlier he had been undecided whether to do so. Hackert had agreed beforehand.

The two, facing justice court examination Jan. 16, were returned to jail here after the tests.

John Junior Advances to Toddling Stage

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John F. Kennedy Jr., the President's 13-month-old son, has graduated from the crawling class and taken up toddling as a means of getting around.

John Jr. walked unaided Friday at West Palm Beach after riding to the airport to see his father off for Washington.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kennedy, 4-year-old Caroline and John Jr. rode with the President to the edge of the airport. Then Mrs. Kennedy and the children got out of the presidential car and into another automobile.

John Jr. walked without assistance between the two cars.

The youngest Kennedy is seldom seen by newsmen and there was no word on when he took his first unaided steps.

Man Admits Attack on Nun in Convent

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI) — A 200-pound ex-convict who served a prison term for raping an 80-year-old woman has admitted attacking a nun sleeping in a convent, police said.

The suspect, James Johnson, 37, signed a statement admitting the attack on the nun Tuesday at Our Lady Help of Christian convent, authorities said.

Johnson was arrested at his home Friday and identified by a cab driver as the man who hired him to drive to the convent. The nun, however, was unable to identify Johnson, police said.

Johnson was released from state prison in October.

School Officials to Speak Before Study Group

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, and Rockford Hill, director of vocational and adult education, will be speakers at the next public meeting of the Pontiac School Citizens Study Group.

The two administrators will speak on community college plans at the 8 p.m. Tuesday meeting at the Transfers Union Hall, Orchard Lake and Telegraph roads.

"We urge all people who pay Pontiac district school taxes to come," said Russell Brown, chairman of the group. "It is important to them, because questions like these have to do with the future education of our children.

"In addition, the addresses by the administrators will give information regarding the type of community college needed in this area—a Pontiac district based community college or one based on county wide taxation."

Milliner Unhappy

Hits Fashion for Brides

NEW YORK (AP) — Most modern brides who walk down the aisle look "dreadful" in wedding fashions that "should have gone out with the horse and carriage," says a noted New York milliner.

"I went to some 50 weddings in a year and a half," said the milliner, who goes by the name of William J. "It was pretty dreadful. I went to observe the fashions and to see what, if anything, should be changed or improved upon."

Weddings should be the most beautiful time in a woman's life, and everything associated with them should have dignity, he said Thursday in an interview with the New York Times.

But neither bridal dresses nor the hairdos worn by brides impart this dignity, he contended.

"We must do away with the nipped-in waist, the huge full skirt, the massive train, the layers of tulle — the whole cumbersome dress," said William J.

'SIMPLER DRESSES'

In its stead, he suggested substituting "terrifically simple dresses that make a girl feel exciting." These dresses would be made of either dull satin or crepe, would be "almost comportable" and would have ankle-length skirts instead of yards of unwieldy material around the feet.

"Please," he said, "no sweetheart necklines or any of that junk. And no tricks, no fancy drapes and no seed-pearl embroidery."

For the very formal wedding, William J. suggests a bride with the barest suggestion of a train — "A small softness that comes out from the end of the skirt."

He also suggests very long white gloves, bridal bouquets that look natural, casual hairdos and headdresses that look more like hats.

During his round of weddings William J. came to the conclusion that "the bridal consultant is the number one monster, and the hairdresser is monster number two."

Consultants, he said, have very little fashion sense and are bound by "phony traditions."

As for hairdressers, he said they "get everybody upset and shouldn't be allowed at the wedding."

In reaction, Maggie Fisk, a bridal consultant, agreed that too many brides are fussily dressed, but she placed the blame on the brides themselves and on their mothers.

"We feel that manufacturers are putting too many beads and sequins on things, but if it's what the customers want. What are you going to do?" she asked.

Pair Weds in Rite at St. Michael

White gladioli banked the altar in St. Michael Church for the marriage of Linda Rae McBride to Richard K. Plourde, solemnized this morning by Rev. Charles E. Cushing.

The Robert E. McBrides of Third Avenue were hosts at their daughter's wedding breakfast in the Airway Lounge and will recieve some 300 guests this evening in the UAW Hall on Kennett Road.

The bridal gown of hand-clipped rose pointe lace touched with seed pearls and sequins featured a basque bodice and bouffant skirt with tulle ruffles edging the cathedral train. Seed pearl flowers caught the fingertip veiling of silk illusion.

A cascade of red sweetheart roses centered the bridal cascade of white carnations and ivy.

IDENTICAL DRESSES

Wearing identical dresses of cotillion blue peau de soie were Sharon Bratt, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Karen Plourde, and Carolyn McBride, sisters of the bridal couple. Cotillion blue bows accented their semi-cascades of white carnations.

William Bookie was best man and the bridegroom's brothers David and Michael ushered. They are the sons of the Kenton W. Plourdes of Drayton Plains.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McBride chose a dress of metallic gold fabric and brown accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a turquoise wool suit with matching fox trim. Their flowers were white carnations.

After a northern Michigan honeymoon the newlyweds will reside in Pontiac.

Parents are urged not to try to force their teen-age children to cut out between-meal snacks. There are ways to trim the waistline without starving oneself or developing a reputation as a square.

Fatness Poses Double Threat

Weight of Young a Fear

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food and Markets Editor

(Editor's Note — Newspaper Enterprise Association's Gaynor Maddox translates nutritionists and medical researcher's findings on overweight into practical information for the public. Author of 'The Safe and Sure Way to Reduce," he currently is concerned with weight and diet problems of young Americans. Following is the first in a series of six articles by Mr. Maddox, scheduled to appear on Saturdays.)

Memo to teen-agers:

You have the nutrition scientists and the medical profession worried.

★ ★ ★

Now you may be tired of hearing that adults are worried about you, but for purely selfish reasons you ought to listen to the scientists' story.

The reasons they are worried is that they now rate your youthful fatness as a major threat to your own well-being and that of the nation.

★ ★ ★

And the causes of this health threat among boys and girls between 13 and 19 are:

Overeating.

Disregard of sound nutrition.

Lack of exercise.

'AGREE ON DON'TS'

Despite their worries about overweight among adolescents, modern researchers generally agree on these "don'ts" for parents:

1. Don't make harsh threats of punishment if a boy or girl doesn't cut down on food intake.

2. Don't attempt to cut out the between-meal snacks which have become a major part of young America's social eating habits.

★ ★ ★

But there are ways for you to trim that waistline without starving yourself — or developing a reputation as a square.

In fact, the results of proper eating and exercise pay benefits in vitality, looks and academic and athletic achievement. There's nothing square about any of those assets.

This series will give you the down-to-earth facts about healthful and slimming eating habits — with a minimum of preaching. But first, you have to understand why many of you are fat and, strangely enough, undernourished at the same time.

EXPLAINS TENDENCY

Why does the tendency to overweight increase as you enter adolescence? Dr. Iric Macy Hoobler of the Merrill Palmer School in Detroit, a long-time student of the problems of adolescence, explains it this way:

"The physical, mental and social strain of living in a body while it is being built, reorganized and adapted to conform with new and changing demands of approaching maturity, can set off frustrations and stress that may be reflected in physiologic, psychologic and social behavior.

"Offbeat eating habits often are signs of rebellion against parental control. But snacks high in calories instead of adequate home meals result too often in excess pounds on the growing body."

Those comments should be of interest to both parents and children. But what Dr. Hoobler says about the nutritional needs of adolescents is particularly important to teen-agers themselves. She says:

"Your resistance to sound nutrition in general is another dangerous form of youthful rebellion that often causes overweight at the same time that it results in inadequate intake of essential protein, vitamins, carbohydrates, and minerals essential to normal growth and stamina.

IRON ESSENTIAL

"Iron, essential to the formation of hemoglobin in the blood, is dangerously inadequate in the diets of many teen-agers, especially girls.

That can be serious because girls at this age are beginning to menstruate. They must maintain an iron intake to compensate for this loss of blood. Otherwise, they will find it difficult to maintain adequate stores of iron later when they bear children."

Calcium, needed to build strong bones in this period of your structural growth, is often dangerously lacking in teen-agers' diets, particularly among girls. Best source of calcium is milk, often rejected by girls, but usually drunk by boys. At lunch tomorrow, look around your table and see if that isn't so.

One reason Dr. Hobbler says nutrition is one of the most important problems of your age group is that more and more men and women in their late teens or early 20s are becoming parents.

One out of every four mothers bearing a first child is less than 20. Between 1940 and 1957, the number of babies born annually with fathers under 20 rose 165 per cent.

Are Extras Useful?

When you are purchasing a new range, ask yourself if extra features will really be useful to you or if they will be unused "gadgets," advise home management specialists at Michigan State University.

Repeats Vows to Wayne Dickason

Joan Coventry Wed in Waterford

White snapdragons, gladioli and carnations decked the chancel of the Waterford Community Church for the nuptials of Joan Helen Coventry to Wayne A. Dickason, Rev. Robert D. Winne performed the ceremony before some 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of the Cameron J. Coventrys of Airport Road, Waterford Township. The A. Dale Dickasons of Ortonville are the bridegroom's parents.

★ ★ ★

With her gown of eggshell silk, appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace and styled with molded bodice and chapel train, the bride wore fingertip veiling held by a seed pearl crown. She carried white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. Ronald Coventry of Drayton Plains, matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wore turquoise silk taffeta with chiffon overskirt. Mrs. Allen Dickason of Ortonville attended her cousin as bridesmaid wearing pink chiffon over taffeta. They wore veiled Juliet caps.

Jane Ellen Barnack, in floor-length white nlyon, was flower-girl. Kevin and Steven Coventry, nephews of the bride, carried the rings at the Dec. 27 ceremony.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side were best man David Nicholl of Flint, with Allen Dickason and Ronald Coventry, brothers of the bridal couple, seating some 200 guests.

After a church reception, the newlyweds left on a brief honeymoon. They will live in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is enrolled in the University of Michigan School of Medicine.

Mrs. LeRoy Wolfe of Ortonville attended her grandson's wedding.

Miss Mosiak's instructors have included Edward Higbee, organist at Pontiac's St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church.

No admission charge is planned for the public program which will include four selections by Bach.

Teens: Weigh Down to Scale-Model Size

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dean Todhunter, of the school of home economics at the University of Alabahama, offers some general tips for teen-agers with a weight problem. They should help you:

1. It is smart to be physically fit and nutrition is the key. Each day eat this way: meat, milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables.

★ ★ ★

They are the important items of the diet. Take plenty. Check your weight for height and keep it right. If overweight, go lightly on the bread, butter and sweets.

2. Weight won't wait, check it now: If yours is on the plus side, start the day with a good breakfast of fruit or juice, egg and thin slice of toast. Use skim milk — it tastes good. Those weight-producing snacks in mid-morning lose their appeal when you start with a good breakfast.

★ ★ ★

Eat with the gang, but skip the sodas and sundaes; instead, take skim milk or fruit juice. Lead the way — start the food fashion of carrot strips, celery, apple or other fruit at snack time.

3. Keep in shape: Dance, swim, skate or be a badminton player. This with three good meals a day of lean meat, eggs, skim milk, fruits, vegetables and small servings of desserts will do wonders for your figure and looks.

★ ★ ★

It will help give you that good complexion, too. Less worries about pimples or acne if you bypass the sweets, cream, nuts and high-in-fat foods.

4. What went on will come off: It just takes time, and perseverance. Eat right and stick to it. Say "Make mine lemonade" when someone else wants a malted milk.

★ ★ ★

Eat three well-balanced meals each day at a regular time. There is less temptation to nibble in-between meals when you do this.

Don't Make Issue, Abby Says

He's Probably Just Trying to Be Friendly With You

DEAR ABBY: What does a lady do when a gentleman, whom she prefers to call "Mr. Blank," says, "Please call me George"?

We work in a very informal office and I must address him frequently, but I do not care to be on a first - name basis with him. He started to call me Georgie right off the bat, and I thought I'd called him "Mr. Blank" he'd catch on, but it has not worked out that way. He keeps asking me to call him "George." How can I put a stop to his familiarity without making an enemy of him?

(GRACE (ugh!)

ABBY

DEAR GRACE: You can't so don't make an issue of it. He is probably only trying to be friendly. Be a little more "graceful" and perhaps, in time, it will be "George."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind a little horseplay at the dinner table, but my family carries it too far. My husband and our three sons (all old enough to know better) throw crusts, bones and anything that will "sail" into the wastebasket while sitting at the dinner table. They keep score, and bet pennies for bulls-eyes. I don't care for such goings on. Any suggestions?

(OUTH

★ ★ ★

DEAR CUTH: Fun is fun, but there is a time and place for everything. Buy your overgrown boys a horseshoe pitching game, and let them take their horseplay outside AFTER dinner.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: There is going to be a wedding in our family. It is not going to be anything fancy because the bride's family (our side) does not have much money to work with. The groom's side has plenty of money, but nobody on his side spoke up and offered to help out so the young people could have a big beautiful wedding to remember.

We have been having a big argument over whether it would be all right for the groom's people to help out in a case like this. I don't see why they shouldn't. The bride's parents say they would not accept help from the boy's parents if they offered it. Who is right?

BRIDE'S AUNT

★ ★ ★

Your Neighbor's House

Edward Johnson Home Radically Changed

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

About one hundred and fifteen years ago Edward Johnson's home on Walton Road in Rochester was built. His father was born there, Johnson and his wife bought the ancestral home in 1934 and farmed the 75 acres surrounding it.

Then 2 years ago, after they had sold most of the land for subdivisions (they still have 4 acres), they decided to remodel the house. Actually, what they did was to build a new house inside the old one. All interior walls and ceilings were replaced. The floors were leveled and covered with inlaid linoleum. All the old doors were replaced by modern flush ones.

Eddie Johnson, a 12-year-old grandson, lives with the Johnsons. He and his grandparents lived in two rooms during the remodeling — the present utility room and what is now the family room.

It was a blustery day when we visited the Johnson home and the Press photographer and home editor dashed from the car to the back door of the house. This led into a back entry, then into the utility room and through a little hallway into the kitchen.

The hallway between utility room and kitchen is a former closet. There is storage space here, plus a lavatory and the doors to the basement and the garage.

KITCHEN VIEW

The kitchen is a large rectangular room on the north side of the house. Through the picture windows over the sink one has a view of the tiny lake that is on the rear of the Johnson property.

The floor has spatter print linoleum, white with gray, black and bronze spatters. Walls are prefinished birch panels. Counter tops are aqua. Range and oven are copper-tone. Hardware is bronze. In one corner Mrs. Johnson has a planning desk. The breakfast set is blue and yellow.

All the rooms in this home are large. The dining room is a big square room with the main entrance to the house on the south wall. This was a window in the old house. Narrow windows on either side of the door are shuttered and decorated with colored glass.

Walls are sandalwood. The drop cove ceiling is white. Curtains are sheer white ones. In keeping with the traditional mahogany furniture, the chandelier is brass and crystal.

The room west of the dining room is a den. Here the floor is beige with gold flecks in the linoleum. Three walls are birch; the fourth is pale green.

At one end of the room there's a rust and cream sofa covered in leather. An old fashioned platform rocker, upholstered in tapestry, stands near the windows. Opposite is a small table for informal snacks.

Carpeting in both dining room and living room is brown tweed. This is continued up the stairs. Walls and ceiling match the adjoining room's. But draperies in the living room are semi sheer light sandalwood ones.

At the foot of the stairs the builder extended the last two stairs outward and built a planter wall next to them. This takes away from the steep, abrupt stairway that is characteristic of so many old farm homes. Next to this planter is a built-in book case.

Furniture includes a long blue frieze sofa, a large leather reclining chair, a little Victorian chair and a Danish modern chair. Tables are mahogany.

Upstairs there is an iron railing around the stairway. All the floors have beige linoleum spattered in pastels.

The new bathroom was once a bedroom and is wonderfully roomy. This is all pink and white with birch cupboards in the vanity. Curtains are sheer pink with a flocked design. They have an under curtain of pink taffeta. Instead of a stool, there is a small armless oak chair.

The long low windows upstairs have not been changed.

Eddie's room offers ample space for a boy to spread his treasures around. He has an old china cabinet to house some of them, plus his rock collection.

There are shelves built inside the closet which has new folding doors. Curtains are plain white. The double bed is covered with a deep blue corded spread.

The Johnsons' bedroom is so large that they could steal a corner of it for a closet without the loss being noticed.

Walls in here are pink. Curtains are white, as is the heirloom type spread on the bed. There are beige scatter rugs.

Outside this room hangs a large handmade lantern that lights up the front of the house. This can be turned on and off from the bedroom.

A family room was added on to the downstairs at the east side. Walls in here are knotty pine. At one end is a buff brick Roman brick fireplace. The two picture windows are curtained in pale gold. This room houses the TV set.

Smitha and Lilly and Ted Grabman, all of Rochester, did the remodeling work on the Johnson home.

EASY DOES IT with a laundry cart to wheel outdoors, a slide-along clothespin box that hooks over the line and a reel to wind the line up quickly. All these are good home-workbench projects. Pattern 441, which gives actual-size guides and directions for all three, is 25c. This pattern also is in Pack No. 39 with a variety of yard and garden projects for $1. The Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

IN THE THIRTIES — This is a picture of the Johnson home when it was just a farmhouse. It's a typical Michigan farm home. Within the past two years the Johnsons have given the place a new dignity with just a few exterior changes, but much interior remodeling.

QUIET ROOM — The living room in the Johnson home is a quiet looking room. Walls and draperies are sandalwood. The carpeting is brown tweed. The sofa is blue frieze. All [illegible] and ceilings in the house are completely new, built inside the existing exterior [illegible]

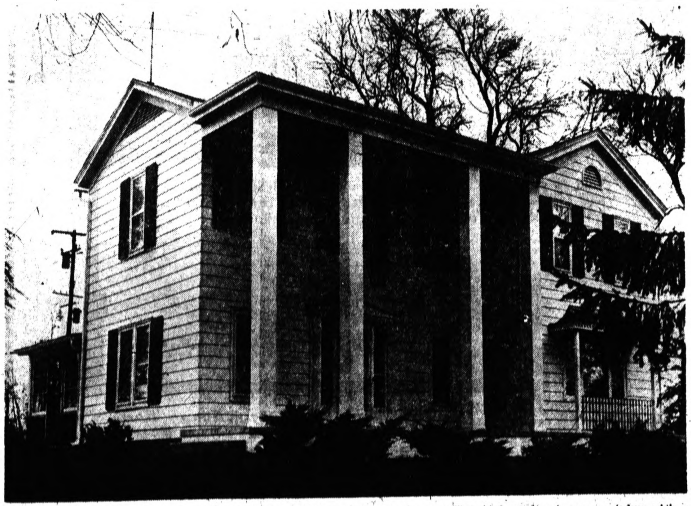
AFTER SCHOOL — Eddie Johnson, grandson of the senior Johnsons, relaxes in front of the fireplace in the family room. This room was built onto the house. Walls are knotty pine. The fireplace is buff Roman brick. Corktone tile is used on the floor.

HAS A VIEW — When Mrs. Johnson uses the range or does the dishes, she can enjoy the view from the large window over the sink. There is a small lake on the four acres the Johnsons have which is visible from the kitchen. Prefinished birch is used for both walls and cabinets. The ceiling is tiled.

MODIFIED — By adding two wider stairs at the bottom of the stairway in the living room and building a planter box at one side, the Johnsons achieved a more graceful corner. Carpeting is carried from the living room up to the second floor. Another addition was the wall bookcase at the right.



THE NEW LOOK — The Edward Johnson home on Walton Road, Rochester, now has the Southern Colonial look. A raised porch roof and pillars give the front of the house a charm it didn't have in the past. The old front door is now a window, while a former window becomes the new entrance. Smitha and Lilly and Ted Grabman, all of Rochester, did the remodeling work.

LOTS OF ROOM — There is room in this large gracious dining room for family reunions without crowding anyone. The main entrance to the house is at the left with shuttered narrow windows on each side of the front door. Furniture is 18th century mahogany. In the background you can see the door to the den.

Fiber glass is used in more than 30,000 products.

Attractive Design Solves Corner Lot Problem

BY JULES LOH

About a year ago architect Lester Cohen designed a house specifically for a narrow lot, solving the problem of many House of the Week readers who were literally being squeezed out of most of today's home designs.

"Since then," said Cohen, "I've been getting requests from persons who own corner lots, especially narrow corner lots. Their problem is more complicated — but not insoluble.

Cohen's newest design, House of the Week J-1, solves it effectively, attractively and economically. It is a three (or four) bedroom ranch with some optional features so the owner can accommodate it to his own needs.

The house is only 37 feet wide including the garage, which means it could fit on a 50-foot lot in many areas. Its depth is 63 feet, and it contains a modest 1,522 square feet of living space not counting the basement or garage.

On a corner lot, both exposed sides present an equally pleasing appearance, so that actually the front door could be placed on either side. On the other hand, if the house were placed on a mid-block narrow lot it retains an area for outdoor living — a feature often sacrificed in "elongated" houses.

All this merely accommodates the house to the problem lot; there's plenty to recommend this house, moreover, no matter what lot it's built on.

Its floor plan is exceptionally well ordered for a medium-sized house, with the sleeping area placed well away from the housekeeping and entertaining areas, convenient bathroom facilities, direct entry from the garage to the kitchen, efficient use of floor space, plus a number of luxury touches sold-in found in homes this size.

If the main entry were placed on the narrow side of this house, next to the garage, the room adjoining the dining room could be used as a den or, in a pinch, a fourth bedroom. An optional door between it and bedroom No. 3 also would convert it into a private apartment for in-laws.

As it is, library, music room or other relaxing spot, however it is ideal. A door leads to the flagstone porch, and windows on both sides provide plenty of sun light.

If the main entry were placed on the long side, this den would become the main foyer — and a spacious one, at 10' by 8'.

An eye-catching fireway fireplace divides the living and dining rooms, accessible to the latter through a wide arch by planter on the front wall of the living room. The dining room also has a dramatic bay window, looking out over the porch and side yard.

KITCHEN

A pleasant bow window also enhances the kitchen and provides an obvious spot for the breakfast table, out of the way of the work area. There is abundant counter space in the kitchen, and no less than 32 linear feet of hanging and counter cabinets.

Laundry facilities are located unobtrusively near the kitchen and adjacent to the bedroom wing and the main bathroom; and the supply cabinet is extra.

A second entrance to the main bathroom makes it do the work of two, serving both the kitchen and the bedrooms. The master bedroom, of course, has its own bath with stall shower.

Note that every bit of the plumbing in this house — kitchen, laundry and both bathrooms — is grouped in this location, a real money-saving feature.

Large and well-placed closets are another feature of this house. There are two closets near the center hall, another opposite the den, a linen closet convenient to all the bedrooms and a large walk-in closet in the master bedroom.

J-1 STATISTICS

A three bedroom ranch with den which could serve as fourth bedroom. Plan provides for optional location of main entrance since house was designed for corner lot.

Dimensions are 37' wide by 63' deep containing 1,522 square feet of living area not counting garage, porch or basement.

What Kind of Light?

When selecting colors for your home, always take into consideration the type of lighting. Fluorescent lights have a tendency to accentuate the blue tone of some colors; incandescent, on the other hand, brings out yellow tones. For example, under fluorescent light, red takes on a violet appearance, while under incandescent light, it will seem more yellow.

Hot Waterford Five Whips Crippled Northern, 58-46

Moran Boys Spark Skippers to 2nd Victory

Walled Lake Suffers 7th Straight Setback; Falcons, Bears Win

By CHUCK ABAIR

Waterford had its best shooting night of the season and worked a zone defense well to hand Pontiac Northern a 58-46 beating last night at PNH.

The Huskies were badly crippled by the absence of their two key men, Rick Fisher and Ed Wasik. Fisher has a severe finger fracture which may sideline him for six weeks while Wasik was in bed with a strep throat. Larry Haywood was to add to coach Dick Hall's miseries by fouling out in the opening seconds of the 4th quarter.

Berkley and Farmington remained tied for the Inter-Lakes lead with triumphs. The Bears handed Walled Lake its 7th straight season setback, 51-28. Farmington turned on the steam in the last period to smack Southfield, 64-46.

Waterford was in charge most of the way in the local clash holding off a Huskie comeback in the 2nd quarter which dwindled a 10-point advantage to 1. The Skippers rallied away with five straight baskets — two by Bob Readler—late in the period and were never threatened from then on.

PNH was in front twice in the opening minutes of the game and kept it close until Waterford combined a field goal and five free throws to surge ahead 15-5. The 1st quarter ended 15-8. Waterford hag that single point edge four different times in the 2nd round before taking command again. It was 33-22 at halftime and 49-29 after three quarters.

The Skippers hit 50 per cent of their field goal attempts for the game and 62.5 in the last half on 10 for 16. Northern had 28-6

★ ★ ★

It was a happy debut for new Blue and Gold boss Gus Eichhorn against Northern. He said his boys had played as well against Wayne but had not hit the hoop so consistently. His alert defense kept the Huskies away from the easy shots most of the way and took advantage of the absence of top scorers and ballhandlers Fisher and Wasik.

The Moran brothers of Waterford outscored the PNH Hayward twins 27-23 in a co-feature. Gary Moran notched 15 and Paul 12. Readler added 10 and rebounded well. Gary Hayward paced the losers with 14. Larry Hayward

Walled Lake traded only 10-9 at the end of the 1st quarter but lost the shooting range and could do little in the rebound department the rest of the night. It was 23-12 at halftime.

Don Epstein matched the Viking field goal total with seven to spark Berkley with 14 points. Paul Wiesbaugh added 10; Bob Tuck was the Walled Lake hero with 9.

The game at Farmington was actually much better than the score indicates.

Besides being behind only 12-10 and 28-24 early, the Bluejays rallied to make it 45-42 early in the final quarter but Farmington took charge completely with 19 points in the last seven minutes.

Bie Walt Grimala canned 9 of 16 floor shots and totaled 25 points. Charley Gaddie added 16. Joe Andrews fired in 15 and Les Wilkinson 12 for Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Waterford is now 2-2 overall. Northern 2-4, Walled Lake 6-7, Farmington 6-1, Southfield 4-4 and Berkley 3-4.

Mustangs Take W-O Lead; Wolves Win Over Milford

Northville took undisputed possession of first place in the Wayne Oakland League by whipping its closest contender West Bloomfield, 61-47 last night.

In other league games Clarenceville defeated Holly, 62-43 and Clarkston got by Milford, 49-42. The Bloomfield Hills-Brighton game was postponed and it will be played next Tuesday night.

West Bloomfield took an 8-5 lead after the first quarter but Northville surged ahead 25-20 at halftime and never lost the lead.

Dan Brown led the Northville scoring attack which had three others in double figures, Tom Swiss with 11, Steve Juday 10 and Craig Bell, 10.

Dave Helmrich was the best Laker scorer with 11 points. It was Northville's free shooting which made the difference, having only 14 field goals but 33 of 44 from the charity line. West Bloomfield hit on 15 fielders and only 11 of 23 free throws.

Milford jumped off to an early, 13-8 lead but Clarkston's big second quarter of 22 points made it 30-23 at halftime. Clarkston held the lead throughout the second half but it was close. With 41 seconds left to play Clarkston led 42-40, but the Redskins started fouling in trying to get possession.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Funk led the night's scoring with 29 for the winners, while Tim Barnes and Gary Painter had 17 and 14 respectively for Milford.

Bill Wheeler and Gary Gearhart scored more than half of Clarenceville's points, Wheeler got 24 and Gearhart 10 in the triumph over Holly.

After a close first period, the winners held a 29-16 halftime advantage and continued to pull away until the final period when Holly got 21 points.

Ten players scored for Holly but none in double figures.

Pistons Win in Overtime

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Detroit Pistons went into overtime for a 138-135 victory over Syracuse in the opener of a National Basketball Association double header here last night.

★ ★ ★

Bob Ferry scored only 10 points for Detroit, but six came in overtime and made the difference against the Nationals. Syracuse's Hal Greer geolonged the inevitable by hitting a long one-hander that sent the game into overtime at 122-all. The ball was in the air when regulation time ended.

The Pistons' Bailey Howell was high individual scorer with 35 points. Reserve Dave Gambee had 34 for Syracuse.

In the windup, Wilt Chamberlain topped the 50 mark for the 22nd time in 40 games, firing in 53 as the Philadelphia Warriors routed the St. Louis Hawks, 134-116.

★ ★ ★

The runaway Boston Celtics, pushing their record to 31-6, whipped the Cincinnati Royals at 124-103 at Cincinnati.

Bad Weather Halts Skaters and Cagers

Friday's dismal weather raised hob with a few area high school basketball teams and also canceled today's schedule in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's city hockey program.

Five city hockey games slated today at Northside Park, three in the National League and two in the American, have been called off because of poor ice skating conditions, according to league director Charlie Irish.

Five prep cage duels were postponed yesterday — Bloomfield Hills at Brighton, Waterford OLL at St. Benedict, Country Day at Pontiac Emmanuel, Montrose at Ortonville and Anchor Bay at Dryden.

Everybody Gets Into Act as PCH Bags 64-42 Win

Douglas, Ransom Flashy as Chiefs Rip Chemics for 6th Victory

By BILL CORNWELL

The Chiefs of Pontiac Central had their poorest shooting night of the 1961-62 basketball season Friday, but even some faulty eyesight couldn't prevent them from staying unbeaten.

Despite shooting a miserable 29 per cent from the floor, the PCH cagers handed outclassed Midland a 64-42 licking for their 6th straight triumph and 4th success in Saginaw Valley Conference warfare.

Clarence Douglas rifled 18 points through the hoop and teammate Rudy Ransom added 16 as Art Van Ryzin's quintet easily disposed of the Chemics to remain deadlocked with Saginaw High for first place.

The defending champion Trojans kept their share of the Valley lead last night by overpowering Flint Northern, 82-70, behind the 38-point scoring spree of brilliant Ernie Thompson who tied his own school record.

★ ★ ★

In other Valley games yesterday, Arthur Hill snapped a two-game losing streak by conquering Flint Southwestern in overtime, 74-71, and Flint Central routed Bay City Central, 62-44. Bay City Handy took a 56-39 drubbing from Alpena in a non-league contest.

A foul shot by John Janssens with 18 seconds to go in the extra period put the rangy Hillites ahead for keeps. The score was 66-66 at the end of regulation time. Keith Kundinger banged 22 points to spark the victory. Jim Toles' 25 points paced Flint Central's lopsided win.

Midland actually had a slightly better shooting average than the Chiefs, although they were playing in their friendly home gymnasium.

The Chemics netted 13 of 41 shots for a percentage of 30, but this narrow edge in shooting average was the only superiority they could muster. Pontiac bombarded the bucket 70 times and made 23.

Not a single starter was on the PCH court at the start of the 4th quarter as Van Ryzin retired his regulars and emptied the bench. All 13 varsity players saw action and eight of them scored.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs got off to a fast start, kept the heat on Midland and stayed in complete command of the situation. PCH led all the way and the issue was never in doubt.

Pontiac boasted quarterly leads of 21-12, 37-17 and 53-27. Midland made just one field goal in the 2nd period — and that came in the final 30 seconds — and the Chemics tallied five points during the entire stanza.

Any thoughts the Chemics might have entertained of using deliberate ball control tactics were quickly squelched by the Chiefs, whose alert defensive maneuvers pressed them into mistakes and caused many steals.

The Chiefs enjoyed a wide margin in the rebounding department. Otto Kennedy picked off 12 rebounds, giving him a six-game total of 112, while Ransom collected 10. Paul Brown and Douglas each accounted for seven.

PCH had three players in double figures as Ray Sain meshed 11 points, nine in the 4th quarter, to help the Chiefs deal Midland its 3rd defeat in five games. The Chemics now have a 2-2 SVC mark.

Midland's best scoring effort came from Dan Jaster who fired 10 points. His brother Larry was next high with eight.

North Farmington Bows

North Farmington took a 57-34 licking from Southgate Bayshore in a high school basketball game on the winner's court. Except for a 13-13 tie in the 2nd quarter, the losers trailed throughout. Gary Wolf scored 10 points in defeat and Southgate's Larry Alsdorf netted 22. It was North Farmington's 3rd setback in four games.

Lake Orion, Avondale Suffer Defeats

Troy had a red hot scoring combination with nine players getting points and four in double figures to roll over Avondale in an Oakland A game last night, 70-38.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion was thwarted in its attempt to gain its first victory by losing to Madison 52-47 and Fitzgerald defeated Clawson, 60-53 in other league encounters.

★ ★ ★

Avondale held Troy to a 13-13 first quarter but then 6-3 center Bob Rose hooked out for the Yellowjackets and Troy put together

Groves Quintet Posts Victory Over Haston

The final score was close, but Birmingham Groves lead from beginning to end Friday night for a 53-51 victory over Dearborn Haston in a prep basketball game at Dearborn.

Groves held a 30-24 halftime edge and widened the gap to 41-31 after three quarters. Haston made the scoring run close to winning a first.

Groves withstood the rally to post its 2nd victory of the season against five defeats.

Three Groves players scored in double figures. Dave Bartzer collected 23 points, 15 of them in the first half, to lead the Groves' win. Substitutes Jeff Crawen and Bill Duenas had 10 points each for Armada.

The Dryden Anchor Bay game will be played tonight.

Dondero Routed, 62-44

Grosse Pointe breezed to a 62-44 triumph over Royal Oak Dondero last night in a Border Cities League basketball game at Grosse Pointe. The Pointers led at halftime, 31-21. It was Dondero's 5th defeat in eight starts. Marv Lonesk paced the winners with 16 points while the Oaks' best scoring effort was 11 by Steve Stalcup.

Shrine Wins on Balance

Shrine's balanced scoring offset a one man show by John Kegele three quarters. Haston made the final count close by scoring a free throw in the last minute but Shrine won the basketball game 37-68, for its first win of the season in against five defeats.

Four Shrine players scored in double figures with Dick Moores netting 15 points and Dave Donnellon 10.

Almost Whacked, 89-40

Red weather and driving rain forces clipped Royal Oak and Walled Lake basketball games but Lapeer and Brown City managed to get in the Saturday Thumb League last night.

Lapeer whipped Almont, 89-40 and Brown City took the measure of Armada, 67-60.

With four players hitting double figures, Lapeer took a 37-11 halftime lead and coasted to victory. John Schriver had 15 points, Jim Shamboon 12 and Dick Hackett and Ken Adamski 11 for the winners. Almont's Bill Harris led all pointmakers with 22.

Only the first period was close before Brown City moved to a 38-27 halftime advantage. Gary Goodine collected 25 and got help from Jim Gould with 11 and Ken Miller with 12 for the winners. Craven and Bill Duenas had 10 each for Armada.

Lions Stung by 'Willow'

South Lyon's basketball team had a rematch with Willow Run last night and the Lions fared no better than they did the first time. The Lions were victims of a 36-56 drubbing on the winner's court for their 5th loss in nine games. Dick Phillips made 16 points. Jim Sprinkles 15 and Lowell Burgess 13 for South Lyon. Willow Run's Lou Cole scored 18.

U-D Coach Talks Job With Boston Officials

★ ★ ★

BC officials denied Miller went there but the Titan mentor's wife, Vicki, confirmed yesterday that he had gone to Boston to talk over the job.

"No decision has been made on the Boston job," Mrs. Miller said. But rumors were strong that he would quit the U-D post to take over as coach of the Eagles.

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS

FRANKFURT, Germany — John McCormack, Glasgow, Scotland, outpointed Heinz Freying, Germany, 15 (McCormack retained European middleweight title).
TOKYO — Hiroaki Ishiara, 118, Japan, knocked out Somvang Sanbuang, 115, Thailand, 4.

Seaholm Cagers Stumble at E. Detroit

Birmingham Seaholm kept pace with East Detroit for one quarter Friday evening, but then hopes for an upset subsided as the Shamrocks pulled away for a 70-56 victory in an Eastern Michigan League basketball game on the winner's court.

★ ★ ★

The Maples were outscored by a 22-1 margin in the 2nd period for a 36-25 halftime deficit and they never could recover from the letdown.

East Detroit's triumph enabled the Shamrocks to keep on the heels of front-running Port Huron, which conquered defending champion Ferndale yesterday, 56-47, at Port Huron.

Port Huron's EML record now reads 3-0 with East Detroit half a game behind at 2-0. The Dales are winless in two loop contests.

★ ★ ★

In last night's other conference game, Hazel Park broke into the win column by trouncing Mt. Clemens, 62-46, on the Parker floor.

East Detroit just had too many guns for the Maples. Towering Lou Perry paced the Shamrock attack with 21 points and Ron Zormeier came next with 20.

Individual scoring honors went to Seaholm's John Slater, who netted 24 points. Jack Bachelor followed with 18.

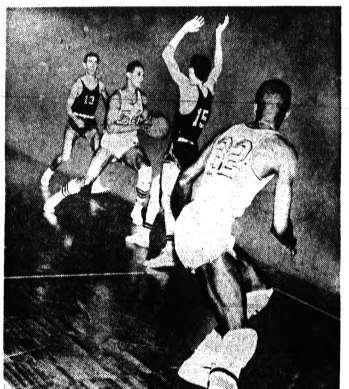
The Maples now stand 1-1 in the EML and 2-3 overall.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park led the Bathers from start to finish to boost its EML mark to 1-2. Mt. Clemens is 0-2 in the loop and 0-4 altogether.

Bill Daniel tallied 21 points to pace the Parker victory and his teammate, Jim Boreland, added 10. Del Reese and Greg Dibalesski each made 10 for Mt. Clemens.

Royal Oak Kimball, 1-1 in the circuit and 3-3 over-all, was not scheduled Friday.



OBSTACLE AHEAD — Frank Jones (15) of Midland tries to put a stopper on Pontiac Central's Rudy Ransom (54) in yesterday's Saginaw Valley cage battle at PCH. Ray Tucker of the Chemics pursues Ransom while Clarence Douglas (32) of the Chiefs waits for a possible pass from his teammate. The Chiefs routed Midland, 64-42, to put their 6th straight victory.

DOWN TO EARTH — Manhattan's Alex Osowick, foreground, and LaSalle's Dennis Murphy go down on hands and knees in a scramble for the loose ball last night in New York's Madison Square Garden. LaSalle won, 76-69.

Michigan and Michigan State open their Big Ten basketball schedules tonight and the University of Detroit has a big game in Detroit against a high scoring Chicago Loyola quintet. This highlights the state college card for tonight.

U. of D., fresh from its Motor City championship and now rated 20th in the nation faces Loyola, a team which is averaging 90.2 points which rates as the second best scoring team in the country. The Titans with 83.9 are ninth in the nation in scoring.

Loyola with an 8-1 record is fresh from a 95-90 victory over strong Indiana of the Big Ten. The Hoosiers defeated the Titans 92-84 earlier this year.

HEADS NATION

Big Dave DeBusschere has taken the lead in the country in total rebounds with 216.

Michigan State travels to Bloomington to meet the Hoosiers of Indiana and the Wolverines are at Champaign, Ill. to face Illinois.

MSU lost two of three games in the West Coast Classic and is now 5-3 for the season while Michigan, loser of all three in the same tournament, is 2-7 for the year.

Ohio State, Villanova and Mississippi State, the nation's only three major unbeaten teams, risk their perfect records tonight as college basketball moves back into full swing.

All the teams in the Associated Press top ten poll see action.

Top-ranked Ohio State puts its 10-0 slate on the line at Northwestern (5-4) in a Big Ten game, fifth-ranked Villanova (12-0 visits West Virginia (8-5) and ninth-ranked Mississippi State (9-0) entertains Auburn (6-3 in a Southeastern Conference fray.

EASY WINNER

Only one of the top ten clubs, Southern California, played last night and the sixth-pegged Trojans disposed of California 68-41 in the first game of a double-header at Los Angeles. The victory was USC's 10th as against two losses. The two teams meet again tonight.

John Rudometkin paved the way for the Trojans with 22 points and Ken Stanley contributed 20.

Denny Lewis' 11 points were high for California, which has a 6-7 record.

* * *

In the second game, UCLA turned back Washington.

In a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden, Memphis State ripped Seton Hall 101-84 and LaSalle trimmed Manhattan 76-69.

STRONG HALF

Memphis State unleashed a second-half surge to post its 10th victory in 13 outings. Seton Hall, which had been undefeated, lost its second straight.

Sparked by Bob Neumann, Memphis State erupted after the intermission, when they had a 48-47 edge, and pulled away. Neumann wound up with 35 points and he snared 21 rebounds.

Sophomore Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, who entered the game with a 27.8 average, boosted it by scoring 32 points.

* * *

Bob McAfee and Frank Cuttace were LaSalle's big guns in the Explorers' sixth success against three setbacks. Each tallied 21 points as did Manhattan's Ron Petro.

* * *

Other games involving top ten teams tonight include: Second-ranked Cincinnati (10-1) vs. Tulsa, third-ranked Kentucky (9-1) vs. Georgia Tech, fourth-ranked Kansas State (10-1) vs. Colorado, seventh - ranked Dequesne (8-1) vs. St. Bonaventure, Duke (9-1) ranked eight, vs. North Carolina State and tenth-ranked Bowling Green (9-1) vs. Ohio University.

Lubanski, Ladewig Hold All Star Lead

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ed Lubanski and Marion Ladewig took the lead in their respective divisions for the second straight day in the $100,000 All-Star bowling tournament.

Lubanski, captain of the Detroit Thunderbirds in the National Bowling League, held a slender 10-pin margin over the 243-man field after the second day of qualifying. Lubanski rolled a 201-203-215-234—853 series yesterday to boost his eight-game aggregate to 1,765.

Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex., was close on his heels with 1,755.

Mrs. Ladewig, the grandmother from Grand Rapids, Mich., soared far ahead of the 143 other women as she raised her six-game total to 1,283. The seven-time All-Star champion rolled a series of 190-204-245—639 yesterday.

St. Fred Wins in Overtime

Rams Control Extra Session for 58-48 Win

St. Clement 5 Handed First Setback; Weather Stops Waterford OLL

St. Frederick bounced back into contention in the Suburban Catholic League basketball race Friday night by coming from behind to hand visiting Center Line St. Clement its first defeat, 56-48, in an overtime thriller.

It was St. Fred's 2nd SCL victory in three tries and threw the Rams into a four-way tie for 2nd place with St. Clement, St. Benedict and Orchard Lake St. Mary.

Royal Oak St. Mary stayed at the head of the pack yesterday by nosing out St. James, 44-42, to hike its SCL record to 4-0.

The weather stopped the other scheduled league contest, Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes was slated to meet St. Benedict at Highland Park, but the game was postponed due to hazardous road conditions.

St. Michael, OL St. Mary and St. Rita were idle last night.

FOUL SHOTS TIE

The Crusaders held a 44-43 lead over St. Fred in the waning moments of regulation time, but a free throw by Fred Medina and Chuck Dean's tip-in put the Rams ahead, 46-44.

Then Bill Patalon sank two charity tosses for St. Clement to knot the count at 46-all as regulation time ended.

The Rams took complete charge of the extra session as they outscored the Crusaders, 10-2. Jim Schachern bagged a field goal from the tipoff, Don Bradley added a pair of foul shots and St. Fred was in front to stay.

It was a see-saw battle with St. Fred trailing at halftime, 22-21, and leading after three periods, 34-31.

Pete Vasquez sparked St Fred's offense with 20 points and Dean came through with 13. Tom Delamielleure was tops for St. Clement with 17 and teammate Jim Traxhida tallied 11.

* * *

The league-leading Royal Oak team lead St. James all the way. The Irish had a 27-18 halftime cushion, which was cut to 38-34 entering the final period.

Bob Dorr of St. Mary and the Dales' Tim Mulcaster, Oakland County's leading scorer, shared point-making honors with 21 apiece.

Annual NFL Confab to Start in Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The National Football League, fresh from its most successful season, will consider a new $9 million-plus television deal and an increase in the player limit at the annual meetings opening Monday.

* * *

Commissioner Pete Rozelle has done considerable work on the new TV agreement that will be similar to the deal completed last spring but abandoned when it was ruled in violation of the antitrust laws by Federal Judge Allan K. Grim of Philadelphia.

Since Judge Grim's ruling, Congress has passed a new law making it legal for pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey teams to make single network TV deals as a league.

The deal, when and if finalized, would call for one network (CBS) to carry all NFL games in a $9,300,000 package deal, covering two years at $4,650,000 a year. Each of the 14 clubs would share equally, or about $320,000 each after deduction of certain fees.

* * *

If the coaches voted, there probably would be unanimous approval to boost the player limit from 36 to 38. However there may be objections by some of the owners. The league had a 38-man limit in 1960 but cut down to 36 in 1961 when the Minnesota Vikings operated as the 14th club.

There is a vote to establish an injured reserve list for players injured during the season. Under the present system an injured player, taken off the active list, must be waived by the other clubs. This situation resulted in several attempts by other clubs in the league to sign injured players.

* * *

The league must take action on allowing players in military service to play on weekend passes. This was permitted this year on a one-season basis. Under this ruling, Green Bay, for instance, was able to use Paul Hornung, Boyd Dowler and Ray Nitschke and Cleveland had Bobby Mitchell available for all games.

Representatives of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, to be dedicated in 1963 at Canton, Ohio are due to give a progress report. The manner of selecting players for the hall will be discussed.

* * *

Most of the coaches will be on hand for the meetings, raising the possibility of player deals. League officials arrived early to watch today's Playoff Bowl game between the Philadelphia Eagles and Detroit Lions, the two second-place teams in the conference races.

McGill's Pace Best in Nation

Utah Ace Averaging 36.9 Points Per Game in 12 Starts

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy McGill, setting one of the hottest paces in college basketball history and accounting for nearly half of his team's points, remains the national scoring leader for major schools by a solid margin.

* * *

The Hill is averaging 36.9 points a game for 443 points in 12 starts. He's put in 44.5 per cent of Utah's total—and the Redskins rank as the 10th highest scoring squad in the country, according to figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. Scoring statistics include games through Tuesday night.

McGill has a big edge on runner-up Jack (The Shot) Foley of Holy Cross, whose average is 29.1. Jerry Smith of Furman is a close third at 28.9 and Granny Williams of Morehead State is next at 24.4.

Creighton sophomore Paul Silas is the rebound leader, picking off 22.5 per cent of all rebounds in his team's games.

The scoring leaders:

	G	FG	FT	Pts.	Avg.
1. Billy McGill, Utah	12	170	103	443	36.9
2. Jack Foley, Holy Cross	7	70	64	204	29.1
3. Jerry Smith, Furman	9	92	70	260	28.9
4. Granny Williams, Morehead State	5	57	26	142	28.4
5. Art Heyman, Duke	8	90	71	251	27.9
6. Nick Werkman, Seton Hall	4	35	39	109	27.3
7. Bobby Bancer, West Kentucky	7	71	42	189	27.0
8. Chal Walker, Bradley	9	96	48	240	26.7
9. Len Chappell, Wake Forest	9	77	77	213	26.6
10. Jim Work, East Kentucky	2	26	13	52	26.0

Track Attendance in State Up in 1961 to 7th Place

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 1.3 million persons attended horse races in Michigan during 1961 and bet $80.5 million, a United Press International survey revealed today.

Michigan was seventh nationally in attendance and ninth in the amount bet.

On the national level, 33,206,775 persons bet $2,521,403,478 (billion) on thoroughbred horses at tracks throughout the nation.

It was the first time betting went over the 2.5 billion mark and the first time attendance zoomed over 33 million in the 34 states with legalized wagering on horse races.

The record betting total topped the 1960 figure of a little more than $2.4 billion and the attendance was up more than 4 per cent from 1960's figure of 31.9 million.

Betting in 1961 was down in four states, including Michigan. But Michigan was one of 15 states to show an increase in attendance.

Michigan had 126 racing days in both 1960 and 1961. In 1960, attendance was 1,300,919 and the amount bet was $83,502,069. In 1961, crowds increased to 1,352,331, but betting dropped to $80,506,406.

New York led in both betting and attendance in 1961 with figures of $544,251,460 and 5,731,845. New York always was the leader in betting and took over the attendance lead in 1958 with the opening of the new Aqueduct race track.

Cage Fixer List Increased Again on New Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) — Another alleged basketball fixer was in police hands today, charged with trying to bribe two North Carolina State players in 1960.

Paul Walker, 30, a New York trucking firm employe, was arrested by a detective from the district attorney's office and two special agents of the North Carolina Bureau of Investigation.

He was accused of giving Stanley Niewierowski, captain of the 1960-61 North Carolina State team, and teammate Don Gallagher $1,200 each to fix the Maryland game on Feb. 13, 1960.

North Carolina State, a heavy favorite, won 46-44. Walker was charged with conspiring with Joseph Green, a convicted fixer, to shave the points.

The scandal already has involved 37 players from 22 colleges and 48 specific games.

Farmington OLS Falls

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows fell into a 38-26 halftime deficit and lost a 63-46 decision to Ann Arbor St. Thomas last night in a Catholic League basketball game at Farmington. The loss squared Our Lady's season record at 2-2.

Maples Down Ann Arbor

Ann Arbor took a fast lead in the first two events, but Birmingham Seaholm scored in its big three events, the butterfly, backstroke and breastroke to beat the strong visitor, 56-49, Friday.

* * *

Don Spencer set a Maple pool record in the butterfly with a time of 56.0 while Bob Wolf set a school mark in the backstroke in 1:00.3.

Wolf added the 200 freestyle victory in a time of 2:01.5. Ann Arbor had a double winner in Mike Royster who won the short distance freestyle events in 23.8 and 53.

Bob Kennedy won the 100 breaststroke for the Maples in 1:08.5 and he took third behind his brother Tom in the individual medley.

In other meets last night, Dondero had its streak stopped at three as powerful Grosse Pointe handed the Oaks a real dunking, 77-28, with the Pointers setting three new pool records.

* * *

Royal Oak Kimball won an Eastern Michigan dual meet by downing Ferndale, 63-42.

Dietzel Takes Football Post at West Point

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — LSU head football coach Paul Dietzel, leaving a memorable era behind him, today was headed for West Point, where they expect him to inaugurate a new and similar era.

* * *

Dietzel was leaving his chief assistant, Charles McClendon behind him as his most likely successor, but the University of Kentucky was courting McClendon just as West Point courted Dietzel.

While Dietzel said he would bring his three-platoon system of football with him to West Point, LSU athletic director Jim Corbett promised there would be no "great change" at Louisiana State, which became a new football power under Dietzel.

Corbett was given authority to recommend a new coach to the LSU board of supervisors, which gave Dietzel a release from the remaining four years of his five year contract by an 8-5 vote yesterday.

Los Angeles Field Trails Bob Goalby

LOS ANGELES (AP — Big Bob Goalby led the way into the second round of the $45,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament today.

The 30-year-old bachelor from Crystal River, Fla. held a lead of three strokes over his nearest challengers, Doug Sanders, Phil Rodgers, Tommy Jacobs and Bob Keller. He had a blistering 64, seven strokes under par, in yesterday's first round.

Four shots back were such tournament-wise foes as Lionel Hebert, Fred Hawkins and Gay Brewer.

Goalby could breathe perhaps a little easier, because the two pre - tournament flotshots, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, were well back in the 73 bracket.

Forty players equalled or broke par 36-35—71 in the initial go-round over the Rancho Golf Club's 7,000-yard, par 36-35—71 test.

SEC Report Rips American Mart

Stock Exchange Hit by Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest stock market scandal in 23 years has hit the American Stock Exchange and further revelations seem certain.

The nation's second largest, fastest growing stock exchange was blistered Friday by federal investigators who cited evidence of "manifold and prolonged abuses" of market safeguards adopted after Wall Street's 1929 debacle.

In a 127-page report, the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission ripped into the American Exchange in terms reminiscent of a similar reform probe of the larger, neighboring New York Stock Exchange in 1938-39.

The American Exchange had no immediate comment on the document.

EXPERT DEVELOPMENTS

Three developments were expected to flow from the SEC's action:

1. Increased pressure on the exchange, known to Wall Streeters as the Amex, to adopt reforms more sweeping than those already in the works.

The SEC told the exchange to clean house in a big way or prepare to take orders from Washington.

2. Formal proceedings by the SEC, and perhaps the Justice Department, against some of the Amex members named as wrongdoers.

★ ★ ★

The SEC is known to be holding back considerable evidence against some of these men—evidence which presumably would be produced in a hearing room. Asked why the report only hinted at market rigging and made no direct charges, an SEC official said, "We can't try these guys in a report."

3. More vigorous policing of exchanges by the SEC.

The Amex investigation, and a broader SEC study of the entire securities business, authorized by Congress and just getting started, grew out of commission proceedings against Jerry and Gerard Re, prominent Amex specialists.

The Res, father and son, were expelled from the exchange last May for multiple stock rigging and illegal transactions involving more than $10 million. They have since been arrested on criminal charges.

The scope of the Re case jarred the SEC because as specialists they held the most important positions in the market, being responsible for the conduct of fair and orderly auctions in assigned stocks.

Upsets Laws on Segregation

3-Judge Court Rules Statutes in Louisiana Unconstitutional

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled unconstitutional Louisiana laws requiring segregation of bus and train terminal facilities. However the laws will stand for 20 days.

★ ★ ★

The decision Friday was based on the court's finding that the state laws interfere with interstate commerce and deny equal protection of the law guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

ASKS SUGGESTIONS

The court asked the Justice Department and the Interstate Commerce Commission to file suggestions for a decree—which the court said it would file in 10 days.

★ ★ ★

The Justice Department had filed three consolidated suits talking in Lincoln, Ouachita and Rapids Parishes. State judges in each of the parishes granted had injunctions that kept terminals segregated, despite an ICC order prohibiting segregated terminal facilities.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion indicated the state would appeal the federal ruling. The appeal would go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Boy, 16 Months Drowns in Pool for Baptisms

GREENTOWN, Ind. (AP)— The 16 month old son of a church russian, accidentally drowned Friday night in a baptismal pool.

The body of Bradley Dean Foland was found in the shallow pool three miles southwest of this north central Indiana town.

★ ★ ★

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Foland, and three brothers were cleaning up after a workman when the brothers discovered the body.

Fire on Eiffel Tower

PARIS (AP) — Fire broke out this morning about halfway up the 980-foot Eiffel Tower. Firemen climbed rapidly to the second landing of the tower and put out the blaze. Damage was slight.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON ESTABLISHING NORMAL HEIGHT AND LEVEL OF LAKE in Duck Lake, Richland Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

To whom it may concern, particularly Norman Rice and Muriel F. Rice, his wife, and all owners of property fronting on, abutting or having access to, rights in Duck Lake or who are interested in having fixed and maintaining the normal height and level of said lake, pursuant to the provisions of Act 146, Public Acts of 1961, said lake being located in Sections 11, 12 and 14 of Highland Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a petition praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal height and level of Duck Lake, said lake being located in Sections 11, 12 and 14 of Highland Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are further notified that a hearing on the petition will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland on Tuesday, the 27th day of February, 1962, at the opening of Court on that day at 9 a.m. or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

You are further notified that on said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 1024.7 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 1024.7 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why the normal height and level of said lake should not be established at 1024.7 feet above sea level and why the Court should not proceed to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 1024.7 feet above sea level and further as to the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to petitioners.

Bing 'Doing Fine' After Operation on Kidney Stones

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's doctor says the 57-year-old crooner is doing fine after a two-hour, 20-minute operation for removal of two kidney stones.

★ ★ ★

The surgery Friday was the third such operation performed on Crosby. The others were in 1952 and 1955.

Dr. Frederick Schlumberger denied a report that the operation was necessary because of a passed kidney stone—the stones just shifted position," he said.

★ ★ ★

"It's an operation that becomes increasingly difficult every time," he said Crosby has a tendency toward kidney stones.

Suggests 'Patience' in Guinea Takeover

By PETER ARNETT

PAREPARE, South Celebes (AP)—President Sukarno claimed today native Papuans were unfurling the Indonesian flag "all over West Irian but let us be patient just a little longer."

★ ★ ★

Sukarno's call for patience indicated he was satisfied with the results so far of Indonesia's campaign to force the Netherlands to give Dutch New Guinea to Indonesia.

★ ★ ★

Sukarno reaffirmed, however, that he was not interested in taking the dispute again to the United Nations and said Indonesian policy was aimed at defeating the plans of Dutch Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns.

★ ★ ★

Sukarno revealed that he has already chosen native Papuans to govern the newly created Indonesian province of West Irian, which included Dutch New Guinea.

Licensed Vehicles Up 68,242 for Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Michigan licensed 3,738,610 motor vehicles last year, an increase of 68,242 from 1960, Secy. of State James M. Hare reported Friday.

Passenger car registrations increased 44,148 to 2,923,373 and trailer registrations increased 13,238 to 35,750. Farm vehicles increased by only 200, totaling 37,815.

DEATH AT CROSSING — A car stalled on a railroad crossing, five miles south of Topeka, Kan., was ripped into three major pieces and its driver killed when it was hit by a speeding Santa Fe train Friday. The car was stopped on the tracks when the railroad guard arms lowered in front and in back of it. Witnesses said the driver was unable to move his car due to the snow and ice on the roadway.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

CURE LONELINESS

Nine times in ten the lonely one is a selfish one, willing to take and unwilling to give. It may seem philosophic to contend that happiness is in ratio to giving. A smile, cheery words, telephone calls, writing letters are gifts that bridge a chasm of loneliness. Hundreds of people brought back from the brink of suicide testify to loneliness.

M. E. SIPLE

Investigation proves that envy were selfish. When short sleeves were in vogue, women envied those with cheery words indicative a layer of happy emotions, a compliment to sunshine, warmth and an invitation to come. Happier, they found the cure for loneliness.

The American Plan on this earth is more favorable to unselfishness, people pushing, starting in a mad rush to get another fast. One person who gives you a smile who is interested in you and your affairs changes your mood into a happy thing. That one person is a cultured, loneliness is gone. You're happy.

Gospel business, for instance. Be that one person with an inviting smile.

Monte Sano and Pruzan

The soft and feminine look for spring is beautifully interpreted by Monte Sano and Pruzan in this flattering suit with its body-conscious jacket and free-wheeling skirt.

With the collar set away from the neck over a wide shoulder yoke, the jacket moves closer to the figure in front but follows a less defined shaping in back.

Deep pleats effect a fly front panel in a skirt that flares into the season's most becoming silhouette.

Choose lacey tweeds, soft nubby wools, chiffon and flannel, wild silk, shantung, suiting cottons or linen. From these corresponding bust measurements select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

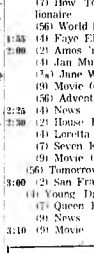
Limousine Helps Barb in Glamour Girl Life

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Barbara Nichols' rented limousine rolled up in front of the Broadway bar. The chauffeur panted in, apologizing for being late.

"Could I have another martini?" Barbara said.



WILSON

And that was the key to the situation with the ex-N.Y. model who made it in Hollywood both in TV and movies. She's often said she has a better figure and is a better actress than Kim Novak and it was obvious that despite the recent closing of "Let It Ride," in which she co-starred with George Gobel and Sam Levene, she was going to continue to play the part of a Hollywood glamour girl.

"Do you always have a limousine?" I asked her.

"Got it during the show when I almost was late a couple of times. Listen, I'm not gonna walk from 83rd St. When I get back, I'm gonna buy a Cadillac."

"You must have done all right here," I mentioned.

"Here!" Her famous laugh, which shakes pictures off walls, richocheted through the Cordial restaurant.

"That's not from here, honey. I did two pictures back-to-back. I make a lot of money every week. Some television shows can't afford me.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Playwright Paddy Chayefsky, says he grew a beard so that nobody'd recognize him; now, after two TV appearances, he's taking it off — for the same reason . . . Bonnie Scott of "How to Succeed" has a new apartment, claims she's furnishing it in "early Salvation Army."

Douglas Campbell, co-star of "Gideon," is a vegetarian; his wife allows herself one duck dinner a year. She just had it, for Christmas.

Charlie Chaplin rejected a London promoter's idea of co-starring him with Mexican comic Cantinflas, for charity.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: A local man claims he gave his wife the best ears of his life.

Comedienne Barbara Heller complained she couldn't locate her husband: "The sneak — no wonder I couldn't find him. He was at home!" . . . That's earl, brother.

John Hoblitzell Jr., Ex-Senator, Dies

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr., R-W.Va., died here early today of a heart attack. Hoblitzell also was a former state Republican chairman.

★ ★ ★

Hoblitzell, who was 49 last Saturday, died at his home about 3 a.m. The family said there was no previous history of a heart condition.

The former senator first complained of chest and stomach pains Friday afternoon, then again became ill shortly after midnight and was treated by a physician. The doctor was on his way back to the Hoblitzell home, after a second call by Mrs. Hoblitzell, when death occurred.

75 Flee as Blaze Rips Through Houses

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-alarm fire raced with the aid of a brisk wind through 10 two-story frame houses in Flushing, Queens, Friday night, forcing at least 75 occupants into a freezing drizzle. Five persons were injured, none seriously.

★ ★ ★ ★

The fire, which defied control for almost two hours, burned through a solid block of connected homes, a few blocks from downtown Flushing.

Two passersby, Raymond Kaplan, 19, and John Roche, 20, both of Forest Hills, were pressed into service by police to aid in leading elderly persons from their burning homes.

Pool to Replace Beach on Polluted Lakefront?

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A Milwaukee biologist has proposed that county officials start thinking about building swimming pools along Lake Michigan because of pollution of the beaches.

Biologist Spencer Havlick said because of pollution, all lake front beaches might be closed within three years.

Chicagoan William C. Grunow owned the world's only onyx bath-tub now also gold veined onyx. It weighed a ton.

15 Flee as Blaze Rips Through Houses

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-alarm fire raced with the aid of a brisk wind through 10 two-story frame houses in Flushing, Queens, Friday night, forcing at least 75 occupants into a freezing drizzle. Five persons were injured, none seriously.

★ ★ ★ ★

The fire, which defied control for almost two hours, burned through a solid block of connected homes, a few blocks from downtown Flushing.

Two passersby, Raymond Kaplan, 19, and John Roche, 20, both of Forest Hills, were pressed into service by police to aid in leading elderly persons from their burning homes.

Pool to Replace Beach on Polluted Lakefront?

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A Milwaukee biologist has proposed that county officials start thinking about building swimming pools along Lake Michigan because of pollution of the beaches.

Biologist Spencer Havlick said because of pollution, all lake front beaches might be closed within three years.

Chicagoan William C. Grunow owned the world's only onyx bath-tub now also gold veined onyx. It weighed a ton.

Clarke, Aide Visit Berlin on Nutter's 'Goodby' Trip

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U.S. Army commander in Europe, arrived in Berlin today with his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. William H. Nutter.

A U.S. Army spokesman said Nutter is making a farewell visit before he retires, and Clarke came with him.

9 Dogs Run Amok; Attack Girl, 3 Women

LONDON (AP)—Nine big dogs ran wild and brought terror to a crowded London street Friday after being frightened by a perky Corgi.

The wild Doberman Pinschers, which are used as guards, attacked an 8-year-old girl, two women and killed the pet Corgi before they were rounded up.

* * *

The Doberman Pinschers were being taken to guard a construction site.

Witnesses said the Corgi, about the size of a chihuahua, barked and two guard dogs broke away. Seven others in a coach heard the commotion, leaped through a window and joined in.

Jackie Clothes Dummy on Market in Europe

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A clothes dummy with the features of Jacqueline Kennedy is being marketed in Europe for shopwindow displays, a Danish firm announced today.

Francesco Lopez, a Spanish-born artist who designed the dummy, said he was "inspired by Mrs. Kennedy's serene beauty, in particular her poignant face and her fine figure which is so easy to put clothes on."

Lopez designed the face from two wall-sized portraits of Mrs. Kennedy.

U.N. Unit Allots $50,000 for Philippine Epidemic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Children's Fund announced Friday an emergency allotment of $50,000 to help combat a cholera epidemic in the Philippines.

Officials said the disease, which broke out late last year, has killed more than 1,000 persons and infected 10,000 others, many of them children.

Not One Knee in Sight at Catholic Girls' School

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—There was not a knee in sight Friday at the Academy of Our Lady, a Catholic high school for girls.

School authorities had decided that there were too many knees showing. The 600 students were inspected for proper uniform, and 100 had been sent home with instructions to lower their hemlines to a point midway between knee and calf.

Hope Watermelon Halts Leukemia Victim's Fast

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—Parents of a 15-month-old leukemia victim hoped today that a gift of Florida watermelon would start the youngster eating again.

Little Keith Daniel Hawkins hasn't had any solid food in two weeks, his father said Friday night.

"I'm going to make watermelon balls with an ice cream scoop and keep them handy in the hope they will entice him to break his fast," said W. B. Hawkins, a sales engineer.

His mother expressed gratitude for the gift and said Keith could have the watermelon as soon as he felt up to it. She said he was under some medication and it might be a day or two before he sampled the melons.

BROADCAST APPEAL

Hawkins said the leukemia was diagnosed at Emory University Hospital in Atlanta earlier this week.

A ham radio operator friend said persons with leukemia often showed a liking for watermelons. He broadcast an appeal. It was heard on the radio by Air Force Sgt. Sammy Lorino Jr. of Homestead Air Force Base near Miami and arrangements were made to send Keith four watermelons.

The watermelons were flown to Atlanta and delivered to Kennestone Hospital at Marietta Friday night.

Hawkins said doctors thought a series of treatments might keep the youngster alive from six months to two years.

"Maybe some other drug will be discovered by then," he said. "I'm not giving up hope."

The Hawkins have two other children, Dale, 7, and Alesa who will be 4 next month.

Mice Ignore Cheese, Chew Up Dough—$4,000

PARMA, Italy (AP)—A woman showed up in tears at a bank Friday and reported she had been robbed—by mice.

She had hidden $5,000 in lire notes in a cardboard carton. Mice got at it and ate $4,000 worth of the banknotes.

If it's true that a fool and his money are soon parted—then tell us how they got together in the first place?

4th Quarter Sales of Cars Best Yet

DETROIT (AP)—The automobile industry's late 1961 new car sales comeback produced its best fourth quarter sales record in history.

All accounts, including one from the authoritative Ward's Automotive Reports, give this picture.

Ward's year-old summation, issued Friday, came along with more December and fourth quarter sales increase reports from manufacturers. Ford and General Motors both reported gains.

The fourth quarter spurt, with December noteworthy, helped to balance off lagging business earlier in the year.

The Ward's statement placed total 1961 car sales at 5,556,000 as compared to 6,141,806 in 1960 and 7,408,500 for the record year 1955.

According to Ward's, the new 1962 model retail sales for the last quarter of 1961 totaled 1,624,000, as compared with the 1,617,000 of 1955, the prior mark.

4.2 PCT. GAIN

It was a gain of 4.2 per cent over the fourth quarter of 1960 when sales totaled 1,559,000 cars, Ward's said.

All the carmakers except Chrysler equaled or exceeded their 1960 fourth quarter sales with Studebaker-Packard leading the way with an increase of 18.1 per cent, the Ward's report said.

Because of the 1961 fourth quarter increase Ward's predicted that the six months from last October through March of this year will be "one of the busiest" in the car industry's history.

ONE OF BUSIEST

Said Ward's:

"The upbuilding momentum of the market coupled with favorable dealer stocks has prompted the automakers to schedule their January-March production 5.7 per cent above the high fourth quarter level, the combination of the two quarters promising the industry and its dealers one of the busiest sessions for this period in history."

The new 1962 car inventory of unsold cars as of Dec. 31 was reported at 821,000, or 18 per cent less than the unsold stockpile a year earlier.

The Ford Motor Co.'s Ford and Lincoln divisions and General Motor's Buick and Oldsmobile divisions reported December sales increases.

REPORTED BY MAKERS

Before hand, increased sales of the Chrysler 1962 model and of Chevrolet, Cadillac and Rambler cars had been reported by the manufacturers.

GM said its retail sales of new cars for the fourth quarter of 1961 reached an all-time high figure of 850,831, an increase of more than 12 per cent over the prior year and 5½ per cent over record 1955. In the fourth quarter of 1955 GM sold 806,285 cars.

Ford said its December sales were the highest since 1957 and that its fourth quarter sales of 575,000 topped the previous three months of 1961 by 20 per cent.

3 Laos Princes Are Pressured

Big Powers Push for Another Try at Forming Coalition Government

GENEVA (AP)—The big powers put new pressure on the three feuding princes of Laos today to get together for another try at forming a coalition government in that Southeast Asia kingdom.

Western diplomats here and in Vientiane tended to discount claims of the Royal Laotian government that the Communists had launched a big offensive leading to a three-up of fighting on a wide scale.

The 13-nation conference trying to neutralize Laos decided Friday to invite neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, pro-Western Prince Boun Oum and pro-Communist Souphanouvong to Geneva to settle their differences.

Representatives of the three princes here expressed approval of the idea of summit talks, which have the support of the Soviet Union and Red China as well as the western powers.

★ ★ ★

In formally issuing the invitation today, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko warned the three political princes that failure to form a government and send a unified delegation to Geneva threatened to wreck the conference on Laos.

MAKE APPEAL

Acting as nominal co-chairmen of the Geneva conference, they appealed to the princes to come to Geneva as soon as possible. The appeal, the third in six weeks, warned that the work of the Geneva conference might "come to nothing" unless a united Laotian delegation approved it.

Western and Communist diplomats in Geneva have reached agreement on a cease-fire and a statute of permanent neutrality for Laos.

They would like the princes to agree on these and other matters, but the Laotian leaders have failed in several attempts to set up a unity cabinet. The main argument is who should control the key ministries of defense and interior.

★ ★ ★

Souvanna Phouma, who now is in Paris, has proposed that neutralists get both posts, but the defense minister should have a "veto" of deputies from each of the three factions.

★ ★ ★

Boun Oum has rejected this idea, despite the fact that the United States and other Western powers support it.

TORNADO TAKES TOLL — Debris is strewn outside this house in Crestview, Fla., where a 6-month-old child was killed when a tornado struck Friday night. An estimated 60 persons were injured by the twister which left 1,500 homeless and damaged 300 homes when it cut a three-mile path through the West Florida community. Rescue workers toiled around the clock in a grim search for more dead and injured.

Gen. Clay Confers With Rusk

Seeks Faster Berlin Reactions

An AP News Analysis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin, is expected to urge Washington officials this weekend to speed greater attention to the U.S. commitments in West Berlin to deal with unexpected emergencies.

★ ★ ★

Clay, who flew into Washington Friday, was scheduled to meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today. He will confer with other administration officials Sunday.

At the airport, Clay denied to newsmen that he is involved in any dispute with Rusk over the degree of latitude allowed the Berlin commander, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson.

There have been published reports that Clay had registered a strong protest with Rusk against instructions unofficially described as sharply limiting Watson's power to act.

RUSK URGED MEETING

"I'm not conscious of any difference of opinion between the secretary of state and myself," Clay declared. He said it was Rusk who had suggested when they met in Paris last month that Clay come to Washington to report on the Berlin situation.

When he succeeded Lemnitzer in command of the U.S. Army in Europe, Clay was told he could have direct access to the commander on the spot should leave for meeting emergencies. Clay told newsmen:

"I think if the crisis is serious enough we have got to let the local commander make the decision on the spot—I do not know of any case where the local commander has not had the responsibility."

What reportedly worries Clay is that advance instructions, based on Allied contingency planning, does not always anticipate the specific problems with which the U.S. commander in Berlin may be confronted. In spite of many weeks of consultation, the United States, Britain, France and West Germany failed to anticipate East Germany's action last August in building a wall to seal off East Berlin from West Berlin.

One possible future danger reported to have been raised by Clay in a recent message to Washington is an uprising in East Berlin which would create a dangerous situation along the border dividing the city.

If Watson lacked precise instructions for dealing with these problems and if he failed to get immediate orders from Washington, he might be virtually paralyzed at a time when action was necessary.

Washington reaction to emergencies in Berlin, administration officials concede, is complicated by two conditions. One is the need to reach agreement among seven allies within the U.S. government on what should be done. These agencies include the State Department, Defense Department and White House.

The other circumstance which prolongs decision making, possibly for several days, is that in any really serious emergency which involves the danger of a clash with East German or Soviet armed forces, coordination among Allied governments is required. In a condition of extreme peril this would mean that the United States would seek agreement primarily from Britain, France and West Germany on a course of action unless advanced planning already provided for such action.

Witch Wows Italy With Her Annual 'Ride'

ROME (AP) — An old witch riding an old fashioned broomstick reigned as queen in Italy today. Every shapely movie stars had to take a back seat to her.

★ ★ ★

For this was the Feast of Epiphany and Italians — young and old, and especially children and policemen — looked to the witch Befana to bring them gifts. Befana is a legendary figure who delivers presents on the Epiphany holiday commemorating the bringing of gifts to the Infant Jesus by the three wise men.

Italian small fry write her letters, asking for presents, like American youngsters write Santa Claus.

Nab Fleeing E. German

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards fired at and caught a fleeing East German only about 10 yards from the West Friday night. Three East German guards spotted the man in open country near the West Berlin suburb of Rudow. The man turned back after several shots were fired.

To Address Lincoln Day Fete

Rep. Ford to Speak

U. S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Grand Rapids, will deliver the main address at the 72nd Lincoln Day Banquet in Pontiac Feb. 13. It was announced by Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn, chairman of the speaker committee, Oakland County Lincoln Club.

★ ★ ★

Congressman Ford, Michigan's favorite son candidate for vice president at the 1960 Republican National Convention, is a member of the Appropriations Committee. He also serves on a Department of Defense and Foreign Operations subcommittees.

This is his seventh term in Congress.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend the banquet at the Pontiac Elks Temple, according to Lincoln Club President Frank Chancy. Tickets are available at the Republican Headquarters in Birmingham.

Look Fast to See Echo

If you're up and around Sunday morning a couple of hours before dawn and if the skies are clear you will be able to catch a quick glimpse of Echo I as it appears 71 to 76 degrees above the north horizon at 5:27 and fades out at 5:38. It will move toward the southeast Monday morning you'll have two opportunities to view the big gasbag. At 4:39 it will come in from the north and at 6:43 from the south, both times approximately 70 degrees above the horizon and both times moving toward the southeast.

North and South Get Misery in Varying Forms

Violent Winds, Rain Clobber Dixie; Snow, Sleet Hit Elsewhere

By The Associated Press

Storms hurled snow, sleet and freezing rain at a broad area in the North today and lashed sections of the South with drenching rain and destructive winds.

A tornado hit two rural areas near Jeffersonville, Ga., early in the day, toppling trees and cutting power and telephone lines. A highway and a railroad were blocked briefly by debris.

A twister in Crestview, Fla., Friday, killing one person, injuring at least 60 others and leaving an estimated 1,500 homeless.

Snow, sleet and freezing rain made driving dangerous in a storm zone that reached from Texas to New England.

Drifts ranged up to six feet. The snow amounted to inches in Kansas City, 7 in St. Joseph, Mo., and Ottumwa, Iowa, 6 in Olathe and Topeka, Kan.

Freezing rain formed an icy sheath on much of the northeastern quarter of the nation, slowing travel and causing accidents by the hundreds.

Much of Upstate New York resembled a freshly waxed floor. Scores of highway accidents, many involving two or more cars, were reported.

Three tractor trailers jack-knifed on a hill near Utica, N.Y., ensnare a 2-mile tie-up that lasted several hours.

ACCIDENTS 'BY HUNDREDS'

New Hampshire motorists were advised to stay off the roads unless driving was necessary. Police in the greater Boston district reported accidents "by the hundreds."

Massachusetts sent out more than 450 sanding trucks on the highway network. Pedestrians shuffled along slippery streets.

Ice formed on much of Michigan and the northern third of Indiana.

Snow fell on top of ice on the region's streets.

Fog shut down Philadelphia International Airport for five hours. Fog and ice grounded all planes in Rochester, N.Y.

Thunderstorms broke out along Northern Florida, the Carolinas and Georgia. Macon, Ga., was drenched by 2.66 inches of rain in six hours.

Snow, Cold Weather Heading This Way

Pontiac and the rest of Oakland County, still slipping on under a second dose of freezing rain in 24 hours, today was heading for another deadly onslaught of winter weather, with 2 to 3 inches of snow and low temperatures forecast.

At least six state residents died on icy roads overnight as icy rain struck Michigan and bordering states.

One of the victims was a Keego Harbor man who died last night following a two-car collision in Novi. He was Oscar L. Robison of 3032 Glebrooke St.

Four Detroit area men were killed today on the Detroit-Toledo Expressway near Toledo. Several others were injured.

Two of the dead were identified as Carrol Wood, about 30 of Detroit, and William Knight, also about 30, of Warren.

And in the rest of the state: Orval Van Trigger, 21 of rural Bronson was killed last night when his car ran off U.S. 12 near the St. Joseph-Branch County Line, plunged into a ditch and struck a tree. There was driving rain and heavy fog in the area.

In Pontiac, not even a single injury accident was reported to police overnight.

Pontiac and Oakland County area officers say it was this morning but there was less discomfort than yesterday because there was no morning traffic rush hour. Also, salt and sand yesterday prevented ice formation.

★ ★ ★

An airline at Pontiac again was faced with the closing of Pontiac Municipal Airport because of low visibility and low ceiling.

★ ★ ★

The morning Willow Run to Allpena flight by North Central Airlines again bypassed Pontiac Flint and Tri-City Airport landing in Alpena.

TEAM GROUNDED

Fog in most of southern Michigan forced the Michigan State University basketball team to abandon hopes to go to Detroit and ride a bus to Indiana for their Big Ten opener this afternoon against the Hoosiers.

★ ★ ★

An inch of snow in the Detroit area and a mixture of rain, sleet and snow in Southern Michigan combined to close schools, cancel basketball games, force the postponement of a Detroit Pistons-Los Angeles Lakers National Basketball Association game and cause the cancellation of many flights at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

★ ★ ★

Reported in the constant at the one hospital on Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Mrs. Ford is expected to be discharged from the hospital on Friday.

★ ★ ★

Another winter storm struck the Detroit area Friday, dumping more than an inch of snow and causing hazardous driving conditions.

The storm, which moved into the area from the Great Lakes, was expected to continue through Saturday.

Snow and sleet fell throughout the area during the morning hours, but by noon the precipitation had changed to rain.

The storm was expected to bring from 1 to 3 inches of snow to the area before it moved out.

Temperatures were expected to remain in the 30s during the storm.

Friends Romp, Nehru Rages

Greets Admirers With Shouts, Heaves Two Aides From Platform

PATNA, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru raised his fist and shouted in anger Friday at three souls of admirers who gave him a rousing welcome at the Congress party and broke up the meeting.

★ ★ ★

The 72-year-old prime minister had to be restrained forcibly from jumping into the swinging crowd estimated by police of up to a million in his defense of order.

An Indian news agency said Nehru shouted blows on security guards who held him back and literally threw two attendants from the platform.

Nehru himself escaped unhurt but 24 persons were injured in the mob demonstration, two critically.

ONE HAS DAGGER

Twelve persons were arrested on the spot with a dagger. But police said the crowd was made up of admirers of the Indian leader who stampeded only to get a closer look at him.

Nehru left in a huff after addressing the convention. He brushed aside British and American criticism of India's seizure of Portuguese Goa.

For the first time he blamed the attack on the Portuguese for the seizure of Goa. He said he protested the invasion to Britain, the United States, South Africa, the Congo and Portugal.

He said he had told the U.N.

Nehru came to Pontiac in August, said Friday that he had left a name on Pontiac's memorial Bridge. Signed and dated.

Seven Talented Teens Vie for Two Junior Miss Titles

Seven talented high school girls — two from Waterford Township and five from Pontiac — were competing today to become semi-finalists in the Michigan Junior Miss contest here set for Feb. 2 and sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees.

One semi-finalist each will be picked from Waterford and Pontiac.

Entry of a Rochester area semi-finalist yesterday boosted the number of Northern Oakland County representatives to three, although originally only one representative was to be sent.

Named to the Rochester Jaycees was Sherri Fairhurst, 17, a senior at Avondale High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fairhurst of 90 Cherry-land, Auburn Heights.

Today's semi-finals from 1 to 6 p.m. were open to the public at Pontiac Northern High School's Little Theater.

Categories in talent, poise and personality for the Pontiac title were open to girls from Pontiac Central High School.

Karen Bronoel, 17, of 3330 Pioneer Ave.; Snyder Swindells, 17, of 29 Taylor St.; Christine LaLonde, 17, of 3411 Garland Ave.; Sandra Gowan, 17, of 203 S. Tilden St.; and Kennett Wilson, 16, of 328 W. Huron St.

Vying for the Waterford Township title were Lesley Langs, 17 of 3651 Dorothy Lane and Vicki London, 17, of 2930 Voelkers Road, both of Waterford Township.

The Michigan Junior Miss will represent the state at the American Junior Miss Finals to be held in March at Mobile, Ala.

JFK, Key Solon Confer Privately

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sits down to a private conversation today with the congressman who, perhaps more than any of his colleagues, can help or hinder two top administration legislative efforts.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy asked Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee to come to the White House for the talk. Mills has said he wasn't told what the subjects would be. But it is easy to guess: A greatly broadened reciprocal trade program and health care for the aged under Social Security.

Both are officially tax measures and therefore under the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee.

★ ★ ★

The conference with Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, starts a series of talks Kennedy will hold in the next few days on his domestic program and on national security matters.

RETURNS FROM FLORIDA

The President returned Friday night from Palm Beach, where he had been since Dec. 19 when his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, suffered a stroke.

Immediately after his arrival from Florida, Kennedy conferred for an hour with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who was at the White House waiting for the President. Presumably, the conference dealt with foreign affairs but the White House made no announcement of specific subjects they might have discussed.

Kennedy flies to Columbus, Ohio, late today to attend a birthday tribute to Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Otherwise, he plans to work through the weekend.

Mills and the committee as a whole, which consists of 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans, have a record of favoring the reciprocal trade program. The guessing is the committee will give the President much of what he wants in this field.

★ ★ ★

The Social Security health plan is another story. No version of such legislation has ever received more than nine favorable votes in the Ways and Means not including the chairman's. Chances that the committee will approve the legislation, not bright at best, are considered dim to the point of invisibility unless Mills' attitude changes. There was no indication up to the meeting with Kennedy that it had.

Yet some Democratic leaders have let it be known that the health legislation should have top priority among domestic measures in a year when the whole house and a third of the Senate come up for election. Democratic strategists say the bill has wide appeal not only to the aged, but to younger families helping older parents. They want the measure passed, or at the very least a Democratic record of a hard fight for it, topped by a roll call.

State High Court Snarl Remains

LANSING (AP) — Members of the State Supreme Court cooled their heels today while they prepared for another try at choosing one of their number to be the chief justice.

The court recessed its January term for the weekend Friday without deciding whether to retain Chief Justice John R. Dethmers or replace him.

Personal feuding over the selection has disrupted the dignity and reserve of the high court and left Dethmers serving on a day-to-day basis, with his status undecided.

Currently, there is a three-way deadlock.

PRESIDED SINCE 1956

All three Republicans on the eight-man court—Dethmers, Harry F. Kelly and Leland W. Carr — are supporting Dethmers for reelection.

He has presided over the court since 1956, the last three years with a 5-3 Democratic majority.

Thomas M. Kavanagh, Eugene F. Black and Otis M. Smith are backing Kavanagh.

★ ★ ★

Theodore Souris and Paul L. Adams support Carr as a compromise choice. His term will expire Dec. 31, 1963, when he will go into retirement.

Dethmers wound up his term Jan. 1 when he started the eight-year term to which he was elected last April, but is serving on an interim basis pending formal choice of a successor.

Dethmers has indicated he has no wish to continue in his present temporary status.

★ ★ ★

Democrats have voiced a desire to replace Dethmers but can't agree on a successor.

PREDICT FREEZING RAIN

The forecast for Southeast Lower Michigan predicted freezing rain and sleet would change to snow late this afternoon and by night. The high today was expected to range from 28 to 32 degrees; low tonight 15-20. Snow flurries were to continue Sunday, with skies mostly cloudy and temperatures reaching a high of 25 to 30 degrees.

Driving conditions were hazardous today in many areas below a line from Muskegon to Port Huron, the State Highway Department said. One to 3 inches of snow caused slippery highways in the Thumb area.

Salt spreaders kept traffic moving on expressways and many thoroughfares on the Detroit area.

★ ★ ★

However major highways in Southern Michigan were expected to be in good driving conditions by mid-morning, the State Highway Department said.

Report Death in Korea of Michigan Sergeant

SEOUL (AP) — The U. S. Army today reported the death of Sgt. Vernon L. Parks of Coldwater, Mich., last Thursday.

Parks' body was discovered in a Korean home in Kumo-Ri, near Camp Essoyan, the Army said, adding "Cause of death has not been determined." Camp Essoyan is about 58 miles north of Seoul.

Legislators File a Record Pile

41 Bills-in-the-Hopper Ahead of Wednesday's Opening Session

LANSING (AP) — Bill-drafting legislators are getting a running start on the 1962 legislature, which will open at noon Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Forty-one bills already have been filed for introduction, the biggest presession production since the legislature started meeting annually 10 years ago.

Five bills proposing various plans for dividing the state into 19 congressional districts are among 35 measures readied for introduction in the House.

The legislature must act to redistrict the state or the 19th congressman allocated to Michigan as a result of population increases in the last 10 years will be elected from the state at large.

ALL DEM PROPOSALS

The proposals, all by Democrats, are similar to others which died last year.

Among other House measures are those to eliminate the $5 bounty on foxes and extend workmen's compensation coverage to farm laborers.

Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Plymouth, taking a cue from Gov. Swainson's campaign against cottage frauds, filed a pair of measures to compel retailers to date packaged meat and to weigh it at the time of sale.

★ ★ ★

He also authored a humane slaughter bill a measure frequently defeated in other years.

Space Agency Plans to Recruit in Pontiac

A recruiting team from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will be at Pontiac's Waldron Hotel next Thursday, Rep. William S. Broomfield, of Royal Oak announced today.

NASA is responsible for the U.S. space program. The agency is recruiting 2,000 scientists and engineers throughout the country. Although interested in anyone with a degree in these fields, the agency also is looking for people with experience beyond a degree.

Robert Friedman will be the NASA recruiter in Pontiac.

Police Patrolling Paris to Quash Red Protest

PARIS (AP)—Special squads of tough riot police rolled into the capital today with orders to put down a Communist rally against rightist terrorism called in defiance of a government ban on all demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

Big blue buses loaded with helmeted riot forces rumbled at dawn toward strategic street corners to be on hand for the mid-afternoon demonstrations. They augment the already strong regular police units.

★ ★ ★

Enraged by the shooting of a guard of the party headquarters in Paris, in dance of a fascist putsch from the Secret Army Organization. The Secret Army, savagely determined to keep Algeria French against President Charles de Gaulle's program of independence for the North African territory, is blamed for much of the bombings and shootings in metropolitan France as well as Algeria.

IGNORE ORDER

Although the Communists were warned not to go ahead with the demonstration, the police order was ignored and the Communist newspaper L'Humanite called for European merchant was seriously wounded by a gunman near the Casbah. A little later, a terrorist shot another European to death.

At Lille in northern France, a plastic bomb, apparently set by the secret army, heavily damaged the front of local Communist headquarters.

As the prospect of a day of violence loomed in France, repression in Algeria continued at most without letup.

Woman Catches Hit-Runner

Now Who's Weaker Sex?

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Virginia Waller is a petite mother of four who, two stepchildren, has added another chapter to the "never underestimate the power of a woman" legend.

Mrs. Waller was driving to her home in suburban Livonia Thursday night when a car with only one headlight on forced her into a ditch.

Angry but unhurt, she got her car out and was continuing down Eight Mile Road when she was flagged down by George Steinberger, 47, of suburban Farmington. Steinberger said he had been sideswiped and knocked into a ditch.

OFF SHE WENT

Why, that's the one-eyed car that just put me in a ditch," Mrs. Waller told Steinberger. "Want me to catch him?" And off she went.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Waller trapped David E. Warnke, 37, of Northville, at a service station, police said. Warnke pleaded guilty Friday to leaving the scene of an accident.

Medicine's No. 1 Foe 'Throws' St. Joseph Hospital

Ex-Grunt and Groaner Moans Way Into Bed Again

By DON FERMOYLE

For some unknown reason, Lee Lamphere likes hospitals.

A hulking six-footer from Waterford, N.Y., who claims he once wrestled professionally as the "Indiana Cyclone," Lamphere has spent the past 10 years grunting and groaning in hospitals across the country.

He isn't sick. He just likes to make doctors and nurses think so.

Pontiac police report Lamphere apparently made his last stop at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital recently.

Police said Lamphere flagged down a passing patrol car in Pontiac, said he was having a heart attack and was rushed to the local hospital.

The nation's most notorious patient appeared to be in such bad shape that he was admitted in "critical condition."

However, Lamphere observed evidently when authorities at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital informed him he was to be transferred to the Oakland County Infirmary. He hurriedly checked out and disappeared from Pontiac.

FOLLOWS PATTERN

Lamphere's ability to dupe hospital authorities here follows a pattern which has made him a walking medical legend from coast to coast.

According to physicians who have attended him in scores of hospitals across the country, Lamphere has the mysterious ability to spit blood whenever he wishes to simulate some illness.

Lamphere was a patient for 10 days in Iowa State University Hospital in 1946. Doctors there finally chipped in for his taxi fare to the bus depot.

Although he has never paid at any of the many hospitals he has visited, Lamphere always manages to keep one step ahead of the law. He was jailed only once for vagrancy in Crawfordsville, Ind.

Lamphere told the policeman who took him to the hospital here that he had just arrived in Pontiac from Detroit by bus. He gave his age as 49, reported his address as the Detroit YMCA and said he was here to look for a job as a cook.

Lamphere gave his correct name. He never has been known to use an alias.

An investigation by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital authorities subsequent to his departure from Pontiac revealed his true identity as the number one public enemy of the American Medical Association.

The Day in Birmingham

Catholic Newsmen to Tell of Publishing Problems

BIRMINGHAM — The problems involved in publishing a denominational magazine will be discussed Thursday by two Catholic newspapermen as part of the Holy Name Church culture series.

The speakers at the 8:30 p.m. program at Marian High School, 14½-Mile and Lahser roads will be Robert Lax and Peter Walsh of Jubilee Magazine, a monthly publication.

Lax is coeditor and one of the founders of the magazine. In addition, he is editor of PAX, a magazine of poetry and art. He also is the author of a volume of poetry published in 1960 entitled "Circus In The Sun."

Walsh, in addition to being business manager, reviews books for the magazine and contributes feature articles and fiction to various other Catholic magazines.

★ ★ ★

The first issue of Jubilee was published in April 1953. Since then it has been a steady award winner in Catholic Press Association competition.

While founded by Edward Rice and Lax, a third party, Thomas Merton, also was instrumental in crystallizing plans for the picture magazine.

Their combined interest in publishing a serious magazine dates back to their college days at Columbia where they worked together on a campus humor publication.

In 1939, Merton became a Catholic and later a Trappist monk. Lax, a Jew, also turned to Catholicism.

When Merton became a monk in 1941 a left Rice and Lax to work out their ideas for the magazine together.

Rabbi Joel J. Litke of Congregation Gemiluth Chassodim, Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the Jan. 16 meeting of the Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham.

The 8 p.m. program will be held at the church.

Rabbi Litke will discuss and comment on an article which appeared in the April 16, 1961 issue of the United Church Herald entitled "The Significance of Jesus as Jew."

The article was written by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

Rev. Raymond Feener, pastor of the Congregational Church, will share the discussion with Rabbi Litke.

Highest Budget Okayed in Cuba

Council of Ministers Wipes Out All Local Tax Systems

KEY WEST (AP) — The Cuban Council of Ministers has approved the highest national budget in the nation's history and has wiped out all municipal and provincial tax systems, Havana Radio announced today.

The new system "abolishes all encouragement for private investments," the broadcast said.

The budget, equivalent to $1.8 billion at the official Cuban exchange rate, calls for a progressive income tax which imposes a $35.75 monthly levy on those who earn $50 a week, for example. A cuban who earned $2,000 per month would pay $697.75.

The radio said the budget would mean the Cuban economy would operate without a deficit under a single fiscal system. The order stripping provinces and municipalities of tax revenues apparently would convert the Fidel Castro government into an even more monolithic structure than it is at present.

The budget earmarks $237 million for social security, $194 million for administrative services and $9 million for recreation and sports.

A total of $111 million would be spent for agriculture, building up livestock herds and fisheries, $208 million for industrial expansion, $88 million for transportation, $351 million for social welfare, $228 million for an item listed as basic community services and $686 million for "the national economy and construction of socialism."

The broadcast made no mention of any outlay for the Cuban armed forces, described by the U.S. state department in its white paper this week as the largest in Latin America.

Baby Sitter Terrorized by Teens

A gang of teen-agers wearing black leather jackets and blue jeans terrorized a 14-year-old girl while she was baby-sitting at a home in Highland Township last night.

Suzanne Weaver of 3395 Center Road told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she was baby-sitting for Mr. and Mrs. Charles McEwen at 515 Fisher Road when she heard a knock at the back door about 10:30 p.m.

She looked out the door and saw a teen-aged boy she did not recognize. Suzanne then heard noises on the front porch and investigated.

★ ★ ★

About five or six teen-agers, all dressed alike, had forced open the storm door and were on the glass-enclosed front porch, Suzanne said.

Each of them had Xs painted on the back of their jackets. Two of them had handkerchiefs covering their faces. One was carrying what appeared to be a black pistol in his hand.

The frightened girl could not call police since there was no phone in the house. The youths yelled to her and asked to be let in the house. They left after she would not let them in.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies were called to the house by the McEwens after they arrived home about 1 a.m. today. Officers could find no trace of the youths.

John Hoblitzell Jr., Ex-Senator, Dies

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr., R-W.Va., died here early today of a heart attack. Hoblitzell also was a former state Republican chairman.

★ ★ ★

Hoblitzell, who was 49 last Saturday, died at his home about 3 a.m. The family said there was no previous history of a heart condition.

The former senator first complained of chest and stomach pains Friday afternoon, then again became ill shortly after midnight, and was treated by a physician. The doctor was on his way back to the Hoblitzell home, after a second call by Mrs. Hoblitzell, when death occurred.

75 Flee as Blaze Rips Through Houses

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-alarm fire raced with the aid of a brisk wind through 10 two-story frame houses in Flushing, Queens, Friday night, forcing at least 75 occupants into a freezing drizzle. Five persons were injured, none seriously.

★ ★ ★

The fire, which defied control for almost two hours, burned through a solid block of connected homes, a few blocks from downtown Flushing.

Two passersby, Raymond Kaplan, 19, and John Roche, 20, both of Forest Hills, were pressed into service by police to aid in lending elderly persons from their burning homes.

Pool to Replace Beach on Polluted Lakefront?

It Seems to Me . . . .

Russia Forces Rest of World to Resume Nuclear Testing

The world's nuclear testing business may be unhappily resolved for the present. The current decision isn't inspiring but in the circumstances there doesn't seem to be any other.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Great Britain issued a joint communique in which substantially:

"They agree it is now necessary, as a matter of prudent planning for the future, that pending a final decision (on whether tests shall be forbidden by agreement between Russia and the United States-British team) preparations should be made for atmospheric testing to maintain the effectiveness of the deterrent."

★ ★ ★

This verifies that the Russians have precipitated the current situation by their unfair series of sneak tests. This outraged most of the whole world and the Reds were repeatedly asked to desist in every gentlemanly way possible.

However, extending the Soviets any of the courtesies of sportsmanship is pretty much a waste of time and effort. They continued firing. Joint protests increased, but the world accomplished nothing at all. KHRUSHCHEV stated baldly that it suited his purpose to experiment and he fired bigger charges to show Russia's might and international defiance.

★ ★ ★

These moves give the Reds a flying start on the balance of humanity, and now the British and Americans have had to agree that we should duplicate the Russian blasts in part in our own move to "catch up." This decision has prompted immediate unhappiness on the part of those who disavow all nuclear tests; and that fact is perfectly understandable. Our Nation shares in this belief itself. And yet, what can we do?

★ ★ ★

The world can't sit idly by and twiddle its thumbs while the warmad miscreants flex their muscles and beat their breasts.

There must be a direct reply.

★ ★ ★

Both the British and ourselves are anxious to work out an arrangement whereby everyone everywhere discontinues the practice, but the Russians walked away from this and smirked over their shoulder as they left.

★ ★ ★

Our decision may prompt the Reds to fire another round of super blasts in a further effort to intimidate mankind. Nothing can stop a group of leaders when decency and sanity have fled. The whole situation is unfortunate but I don't see how we can back up while these murderers are plunging full speed ahead and mocking in open derision at the world's patient, kindly efforts to bring about permanent understandings and everlasting peace.

★ ★ ★

It's an impossible situation.

Post Office Loses . . . .

With the coming postal deficit touching $800 million, you can probably look for five cent letters and eight cent airmail.

So be it.

We should meet expenses.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the junk mail users should be hiked equally to take another unfair burden off the taxpayers. The New York News calls them the "Post office freeloaders." A safe rule is this: if a letter isn't valuable enough for the sender to provide first class postage, it can't be worth opening.

Wastebaskets are always nearby.

Think of the time you save.

★ ★ ★

Second class privileges for newspapers have been assailed and we feel they should be raised commensurately with the other postal divisions. If newspapers are getting any part of a Federal post office subsidy, it should be stopped.

Poke Justified . . . .

ED SULLIVAN takes an earnest poke at "background music" and I echo his sentiments.

★ ★ ★

The majority of "background music" today is anything but. The tooters and the thumpers are imbued with the idea that "they're the show." Instead of creeping softly into the picture and remaining unobtrusive, they break into a deafening blast that's ill conceived and badly executed. I don't know whose fault this is, but it's much worse on TV than it is in the movies. It's one of the corniest parts of the business.

★ ★ ★

When we want music—and all of us do—we turn to musical programs and beautiful records. We don't need unmuffled discords as an adjunct to a speeding boat or the charge of an outraged hippo.

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Three cheers for CELESTA GEYER who reduced from 555 to 155, losing 400 pounds in one year—the world's record. . . . . A midwest health commissioner says: "Drive as though your life depends upon it—because it does." . . . . . The Chicago Tribune declares you must avoid that Indian fakir if you want a Goa-between. He's too Nehru minded. . . . . The average American consumed 62 hamburgers last year. . . . . Here's the latest: When one of those new, glass phone booths is visible from an office building, the wolves jot down the number and when a good looking gal stops to call, or even hesitates, they dial immediately. Invariably she answers and they watch the reactions as they try to make a date—and sometimes do.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie "It Could Be You," was one of the most human and interesting of all TV programs. Why don't they have it at night? . . . . . Overheard in the men's room: "W-w-w-what happened after I s-s-s-said I could l-l-l-lick anyone in the r-r-r-room?" . . . . . Here's the counterpart to "RSVP" and it's creeping into use: "DBTA" and it means: "Don't Bother to Answer." . . . . . Graham John Graham says Florida is taking the horse breeding business away from Kentucky. This could be a financial (and social) disaster in the blue grass area.

★ ★ ★

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive gal that has made friends all over the world: QUEEN ELIZABETH. . . . . Today's Offstage Round of Applause: BOB EMERICK, for one of the most gracious personalities in the area. . . . . He was brushed by a speeding car that didn't stop. An officer took over: "Get the license number?" He shook his head. "All I know is, she was an ash blonde, about five feet five, gray eyes, 36-26-36, wearing a flower pattern dress, a perky nose and a long, thrilling neck. Find her." . . . . . Scientists have a new experimental pill that lets you get along on three hours sleep. Will the moonlighters go for that!! . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—BOB STIERER, our new City Manager, starting out on his big job; the J's — the CBS midnight New Years Eve show on TV which had so many dreary tea or coffee commercials that you forgot what holiday it was.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Bredie

The faith of Brigham Young empowered him to lead the Mormons away from persecution into the desert and transform it into the thriving community of Salt Lake City. 86,000 men, women and children endured privation, weariness and storms as they followed after their modern "Moses" into Utah from the Mid-West, East and overseas between 1847 and '69.

Strengthened by their leader, who believed, "I do not feel disposed to ask the Lord to do for me what I can do for myself," the Mormons established the first large scale irrigation project in America. Their faith inspired them to denounce slavery and to contribute money to build a Jewish Synagogue and a Catholic Church, for these members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, allowed "all men" their "same privilege" to "worship how, where, or what they may."

Days of All Faiths:

Return to Plow, Staff After Yule

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In the old times the 12-day Christmas season was just one long holiday. From Dec. 25 to Jan. 6 (Epiphany) everyone did as little work as possible. Men did almost nothing at all; women kept their household chores to a minimum. It was "the season to be jolly." Work could wait.

Jan. 7, the day after Epiphany, was the day to get back on the job. For the women it was called St. Distaff's Day. This was supposed to be funny. A distaff is the staff for holding flax or wool for spinning, and since women did all the spinning, tomorrow was "back to the distaff" day for them. After a whole season full of saints' days and holy days it was inevitable that some wag would name it Saint Distaff's Day.

PLOW MONDAY

The first Monday after Epiphany was a sort of men's St. Distaff Day. The only difference was that they went back to plowing instead of spinning.

They called it Plow Monday, and human nature being what it is, they managed to make a holiday out of it and stall off their labors a little longer. With a great show of piety, they went to the church instead of to the fields, and there burned candles before the statues of the saints whose help they wanted with the land.

Soon they began to see the financial possibilities of what they were doing, and made frequent excursions out of the church to beg for money for more candles. And still in the spirit of the holiday season they made a few stops at the local taverns; thus much of the money they had collected never found its way to candle fund.

Candles went out with the Reformation, but the whole idea of Plow Monday was such a good way of extending the holiday season for just one more day that the begging and drinking customs continued.

This foolishness is still carried on in some rural parts of England and Scotland.

My father and I have an argument. He says you can catch a cold only from someone who has one. I say not. I was out in the cold evening 2½ hours and two days later, I developed a hard cold and haven't been able to shake it yet . . . . (M.M.S.)

Ans. — Your father is right and you are grievously wrong.

If you want to know more about the subject, send me 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, for Little Lesson No. 3, "Cold It CRI."

★ ★ ★

Some time ago, you suggested putting flaxseed in with cooked cereal as an "internal lubricant." Will appreciate it if you will tell me more about it. (W.L.D.)

Ans. — About a teaspoonful of whole flaxseeds, not flaxseed meal, daily, in cereal, jelly or however you prefer to swallow it. Send me 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 25, "Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene."

I noticed you spelled "sick specialists" with dollar signs in place of the "S." Reminds me that a Specialist I consulted in charged me $28 for routine examination of my breasts, urinalysis and 12 pills. (Mrs. N. L.)

Ans. — And he didn't give you trading stamps?

You approved of taking three or four glasses of water before meals and three or four glasses after meals, but how about drinking water in the course of a meal, say after the soup if one is thirsty then?

Ans. — I didn't approve of drinking so much water. I know no good reason why one should not take a glass, more or less, of water; cool or cold as one likes, before or after or in the course of a meal.

Among the things I have heard said about you is that you must be a bicelle old quack. My defense of you is, "Well, thank God for him and I wish there were more like him." (Mrs. V.A.)

Ans. — Thank you, Ma'am. That might make a good title for my new book: "Confessions of a Bicelle Old Quack."

★ ★ ★

I enjoy reading your column. What is the name of your latest book? (M.D.)

Ans. — Secrets of Positive Health. (Prentice Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, N.J., $1.95)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene and disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Learn How to Combat Racial Bias

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE: K-296. Norma L., aged 17, is president of her church Young People's Society.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "there is still so much race prejudice in America, we'd like some practical plan by which to abolish it.

"Is there anything we can do to help wake people up to the fact that God must dislike prejudice?

"I need some suggestions to offer on Sunday night when it is my turn to lead the meeting."

DR. CRANE

CHURCH PROJECTS

As long as teen-age idealists like Norma are sincerely striving to make this world better we oldsters can still take hope.

★ ★ ★

Norma might remind her group that God apparently likes different colors, or he would never have given us so many hues among the flowers.

★ ★ ★

And sunsets would not show the varied colors of the rainbow.

Jesus also rebuked prejudice. So he picked the most hated race of antiquity to furnish the hero of the Good Samaritan Story.

"And who is my neighbor?" asked a smug, self-righteous college man in the audience.

To the Hebrews, the Romans were doubly hated as tax gatherers. And so were their other oppressors, as the Philistines.

But the Samaritans were unwelcome. Jews were not allowed even to set foot on the soil of Samaria, for it meant supreme pollution.

If, however, it was necessary to make a detour through that hated country for urgent business reasons, the Jews were then to wash even the dust off their sandals.

And no devout Jew shared food or anything else handled by Samaritans.

Keeping this background in mind, just imagine what a shock it was when Christ showed that the priest and then the Levite ignored the half-dead man on the highway, but the Good Samaritan showed him brotherly care!

And to prove that Christ didn't merely render lip service to world brotherhood, Jesus then took his Apostles through Samaria and deliberately stopped at the well.

★ ★ ★

He was doubtless no more thrilled than his Apostles, who would have waited till they reached Judea soil before taking a drink.

But Christ made them stop and then he purposely asked the Samaritan woman for a drink, thereby receiving water at her hands, which was a supreme violation of Jewish rules.

★ ★ ★

Finally, Christ healed 10 lepers from a sure death, but the only one that returned to say "Thank You" was a Samaritan.

So Jesus was definitely not addicted to racial or color prejudices.

And how could he be, if we are all the children of God? For God plays no favorites, nor does any other good parent.

In that connection, the next time you feel prejudiced, try to imagine that your dead mother or brother or wife or sweetheart, is now reincarnated in the person of the hated opposite color or race.

Theosophists believe in this type of physical reincarnation on this earth. It is a possibility!

So, if you folks have lost a loved one, wouldn't it be terrible if you later abused him via your mistreatment of a person of a different color or race who now is your former loved one?

This thought will widen your perspective fast!

And for church groups like Norma, send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It will show you how to become an immediate verbal Good Samaritan!

Readers write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich. Please enclose a self-stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Believes Sin Is the Reason for World's Problems

It has taken 200 years for the United States with its free enterprise system to attain what it has today. It has taken the Communist form of government 44 years to achieve what it has today.

Khrushchev has said that our children will live under communism. He also said he will take America by 1975.

★ ★ ★

What has happened in the 20th century? In 1914 World War I with communism on the move. America boomed in the 1920s. The greatest depression this country has ever faced happened in the 1930s. In the 1940s we had World War II. Then in the 1950s the Korean conflict. What will happen in the 1960s?

★ ★ ★

The direct cause of this trouble is sin. The Bible tells us that men and women are lovers of themselves more than lovers of God.

Courageous People Saved Her Child

How do I thank my courageous little niece, Diane, only 10 years old, who thinks and puts others before herself? She saved my son after he went through the ice.

How do I thank little Cathy whose only thought was to help when she held on in case she broke through, too? How do I thank Dawn my own little girl for running all that way to tell me?

How do you possibly thank a man who runs with you and who took in his arms my son who was dripping wet and covered with muck.

Every time I see my cowboy shoot an imaginary Indian or when I let the cuffs down on his pants because he's grown another inch, the only way is to say a prayer to God in thanks to you all.

'Nehru Goof Stars' Fault'

NEW DELHI (AP) — A Hindu mystic says Prime Minister Nehru's image in Western eyes has been ruined by India's military seizure of Goa—and it was all the fault of the stars.

Swami Ragavendra Dasaji, 45, said the takeover of Goa and two other Portuguese enclaves last month "shocked many good friends of India (and) was a warning shadow of the shape of things to come."

The swami was among 700 sadhus, holy men, and pandits, learned men, who for the past fortnight held round-the-clock congregational prayers on the banks of the sacred Jumna River. They have wide influence in India.

The recitation of sacred verses many thousands of times, ending Friday night, was aimed at averting the evil effects of a conjunction of eight planets in the sign of Capricorn. Astrologers said the planets would reach the crucial period in the first week of February, and predicted the danger of worldwide catastrophes that would take many lives.

The pandits claim the malevolent influences of the February conjunction could be seen six months before, and they will last six months after.

Nehru has discounted these predictions and has appealed to the Indians to have faith in themselves and not indulge in star gazing.

Mother's Little Helper

Hits Fashion for Brides

NEW YORK (AP) — Most modern brides who walk down the aisle look "dreadful" in wedding fashions that "should have gone out with the horse and carriage," says a noted New York milliner.

"I went to some 50 weddings in a year and a half," said the milliner, who goes by the name of William J. "It was pretty dreadful. I went to observe the fashions and to see what, if anything, should be changed or improved upon."

Weddings should be the most beautiful time in a woman's life, and everything associated with them should have dignity, he said Thursday in an interview with the New York Times.

But neither bridal dresses nor the hairdos worn by brides impart this dignity, he contended.

'SIMPLER DRESSES'

In its stead, he suggested substituting "terrifically simple dresses that make a girl feel exciting." These dresses would be made of either dull satin or crepe, would be "almost comfortable" and would have ankle-length skirts instead of yards of unwieldy material around the feet.

"Please," he said, "no sweetheart necklines or any of that junk. And no frilly, no fancy drapes and no seed-pearl embroidery."

For the very formal wedding, William J. suggests a hyde with the barest suggestion of a train — "A small softness that comes out from the end of the skirt."

He also suggests very long white gloves, bridal bouquets that look natural, casual hairdos and headdresses that look more like hats.

During his round of weddings William J. came to the conclusion that "the bridal consultant is the number one monster, and the hairdresser is number number two."

Consultants, he said, have very little fashion sense and are bound by "phony tradition."

As for hairdressers, he said they "get everybody upset and shouldn't be allowed at the weddings."

By reaction, Maggie Fisk, a bridal consultant, agreed that too many brides are hastily dressed, but she placed the blame on the brides themselves and on their mothers.

"We feel that manufacturers are putting too many beads and sequins on things, but it's what the customers want. And what are you going to do?" she asked.

Pair Weds in Rite at St. Michael

White gladioli banked the altar in St. Michael Church for the marriage of Linda Rae McBride to Richard K. Pourde, solemnized this morning by Rev. Charles E. Cushing.

The Robert E. McBrides of Third Avenue were hosts at their daughter's wedding breakfast in the Airway Lounge and will receive some 300 guests this evening in the I'AW Hall on Kennett Road.

The bridal gown of lace-tipped rose pointe lace touched with seed pearls and sequins featured a basque bodice and bouffant skirt with tulle ruffles edging the cathedral train. Seed pearl flowers caught the fingertip veiling of silk illusion.

A corsage of red sweetheart roses centered the bridal cascade of white carnations and ivy.

IDENTICAL DRESSES

Wearing identical dresses of cotillion blue peau de soie were Sharon Bratt, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Karen Rhoade and Carolyn McBride, sisters of the bridal couple. Cotillion blue bows accented their semi-cascades of white carnations.

William Bookie was best man and the bridegroom's brothers Dugal and Richard ushered. They are the sons of the Kenton W. Pourdes of Dryden Place.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McBride chose a dress of metallic gold fabric and brown accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a turquoise wool suit with matching lace trim. Their flowers were white carnations.

After a northern Michigan honeymoon the newlyweds will reside in Pontiac.

Fatness Poses Double Threat

Weight of Young a Fear

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food and Markets Editor

(Editor's Note — Newspaper Enterprise Association's Gaynor Maddox translates nutritionists and medical researcher's findings on overweight into practical information for the public. Author of 'The Safe and Sure Way to Reduce," he currently is concerned with weight and diet problems of young Americans. Following is the first in a series of six articles by Mr. Maddox, scheduled to appear on Saturdays.)

Memo to teen-agers:

You have the nutrition scientists and the medical profession worried.

★ ★ ★

Now you may be tired of hearing that adults are worried about you, but for purely selfish reasons you ought to listen to the scientists' story.

The reasons they are worried is that they now rate your youthful fatness as a major threat to your own well-being and that of the nation.

★ ★ ★

And the causes of this health threat among boys and girls between 13 and 19 are:

Overeating.

Disregard of sound nutrition.

Lack of exercise.

'AGREE ON DON'TS'

Despite their worries about overweight among adolescents, modern researchers generally agree on these "don'ts" for parents:

1. Don't make harsh threats of punishment if a boy or girl doesn't cut down on food intake.

2. Don't attempt to cut out the between-meal snacks which have become a major part of young America's social eating habits.

★ ★ ★

But there are ways for you to trim that waistline without starving yourself — or developing a reputation as a square.

In fact, the results of proper eating and exercise pay benefits in vitality, looks and academic and athletic achievement. There's nothing square about any of those assets.

This series will give you the down-to-earth facts about healthful and slimming eating habits — with a minimum of preaching. But first, you have to understand why many of you are fat and, strangely enough, undernourished at the same time.

EXPLAINS TENDENCY

Why does the tendency to overweight increase as you enter adolescence? Dr. Icie Macy Hoobler of the Merrill Palmer School in Detroit, a long-time student of the problems of adolescence, explains it this way:

"The physical, mental and social strain of living in a body while it is being built, reorganized and adapted to conform with new and changing demands of approaching maturity, can set off frustrations and stress that may be reflected in physiologic, psychologic and social behavior.

★ ★ ★

"Offbeat eating habits often are signs of rebellion against parental control. But snacks high in calories instead of adequate home meals result too often in excess pounds on the growing body."

Those comments should be of interest to both parents and children. But what Dr. Hoobler says about the nutritional needs of adolescents is particularly important to teen-agers themselves. She says:

"Your resistance to sound nutrition in general is another dangerous form of youthful rebellion that often causes overweight at the same time that it results in inadequate intake of essential protein, vitamins, carbohydrates, and minerals essential to normal growth and stamina.

IRON ESSENTIAL

"Iron, essential to the formation of hemoglobin in the blood, is dangerously inadequate in the diets of many teen-agers, especially girls.

That can be serious because girls at this age are beginning to menstruate. They must maintain an iron intake to compensate for this loss of blood. Otherwise, they will find it difficult to maintain adequate stores of iron later when they bear children."

Calcium, needed to build strong bones in this period of your structural growth, is often dangerously lacking in teen-agers' diets, particularly among girls. Best source of calcium is milk, often rejected by girls, but usually drunk by boys. At lunch tomorrow, look around your table and see if that isn't so.

One reason Dr. Hoobler says nutrition is one of the most important problems of your age group is that more and more men and women in their late teens or early 20s are becoming parents.

One out of every four mothers bearing a first child is less than 20. Between 1940 and 1957, the number of babies born annually with fathers under 20 rose 165 per cent.

MODERN TECHNIQUE

Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher, chief, Adolescent Unit, Children's Hospital, Boston, sums up for you the modern technique of dealing with your excess poundage in this way:

Repeats Vows to Wayne Dickason

Joan Coventry Wed in Waterford

White snapdragons, gladioli and carnations decked the chancel of the Waterford Community Church for the nuptials of Joan Helen Coventry to Wayne A. Dickason. Rev. Robert D. Wynne performed the ceremony before some 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of the Cameron J. Coventrys of Airport Road, Waterford Township. The A. Dale Dickasons of Ortonville are the bridegroom's parents.

With her gown of ingersoll silk, appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace and styled with modified bodice and chapel train, the bride wore fingertip veiling held by a seed pearl crown. She carried white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. Ronald Coventry of Drayton Plains, matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wore peau de soie taffeta with chiffon overskirt. Mrs. Allen Dickason of Ortonville attended her sister-in-law as bridesmaid wearing pink chiffon over taffeta. They wore veiled Juliet caps.

Jane Ellen Harnack, in floor-length white nylon, was flower girl. Kevin and Steven Coventry, nephews of the bride, carried the rings at the Dec. 27 ceremony.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side were best man David Nichols of Flint, with Allen Dickason and Ronald Coventry, brothers of the bridal couple, seating some 200 guests.

After a church reception, the newlyweds left on a brief honeymoon. They will live in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is enrolled in the University of Michigan School of Medicine.

Mrs. LeRoy Wolfe of Ortonville attended her grandson's wedding.

MRS. WAYNE L. DICKASON

Marygrove Girl to Present Recital

Marygrove College sophomore Judith Moslak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Moslak, Union Street, will present an organ recital at 3:15 p.m. Jan. 11 in Sacred Heart Chapel of the college's liberal arts building.

★ ★ ★

Miss Moslak's instructors have included Edward Bigbee, organist at Pontiac's St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church.

No admission charge is planned for the public program which will include four selections by Bach.

Teens: Weigh Down to Scale-Model Size

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dean Todhunter, of the school of home economics at the University of Alabama, offers some general tips for teen-agers with a weight problem. They should help you:

1. It is smart to be physically fit and nutrition is the key. Each day eat this way: meat, milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables.

★ ★ ★

They are the important items of the diet. Take plenty. Check your weight for height and keep it right. If overweight, go lightly on the bread, butter and sweets.

2. Weight won't wait, check it now: If yours is on the plus side, start the day with a good breakfast of fruit or juice, egg and thin slice of toast. Use skim milk — it tastes good. Those weight-producing snacks in midmorning lose their appeal when you start with a good breakfast.

★ ★ ★

Eat with the gang, but skip the sodas and sundaes; instead, take skim milk or fruit juice. Lead the way — start the food fashion of carrot strips, celery, apple or other fruit at snack time.

3. Keep in shape: Dance, swim, skate or be a badminton player. This with three good meals a day of lean meat, eggs, skim milk, fruits, vegetables and small servings of desserts will do wonders for your figure and looks.

★ ★ ★

It will help give you that good complexion, too. Less worries about pimples or acne if you bypass the sweets, cream, nuts and high-in-fat foods.

4. What went on will come off: It just takes time, and perseverance. Eat right and stick to it. Say "Make mine lemonade" when someone else wants a malted milk.

★ ★ ★

Eat three well-balanced meals each day at a regular time. There is less temptation to nibble in-between meals when you do this.

Don't Make Issue, Abby Says

He's Probably Just Trying to Be Friendly With You

DEAR ABBY: What does a lady do when a gentleman, whom she prefers to call "Mr. Blank," says, "Please call me George"?

We work in a very informal office and I meet address him frequently, but I do not care to be on a first - name basis with him. He started to call me "Grace" right out the first and I thought I called him "Mr. Blank" he'd catch on, but it has not worked out that way. He keeps asking me to call him "George." How can I put a stop to his familiarity without making an enemy of him?

GRACE (right)

DEAR GRACE: You can't do that to a man who is one of your customers. He is probably only trying to be friendly. Be a little more "gracious" and perhaps, in time, it will be "George."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind a little horseplay at the dinner table, but my family carries it too far. My husband and our three sons (all old enough to know better) throw crusts, bones and anything that will "sail" into the wastebasket while sitting at the dinner table. They keep score, and bet pennies for bulls'-eyes. I don't care for such games on "my suggestions?

COTH

★ ★ ★

DEAR COTH: Fun is fun, but there is a time and place for everything. Buy your overgrown boys a horseshoe pitching game and let them take their horseplay outside AFTER dinner.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: There is no one to be a wedding in our family. It is not going to be anything fancy because the bride's family four sides does not have much money to work with. The groom's side have plenty of money, but nobody on his side spoke up and offered to help out so the young people could have a big beautiful wedding to remember.

We have been having a big argument over whether it would be all right for the groom's people to help out in a case like this. I don't see why they shouldn't. The bride's parents say they would not accept help from the boy's parents if they offered it. Who is right?

BRIDE'S AUNT

★ ★ ★

Your Neighbor's House

Edward Johnson Home Radically Changed

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

About one hundred and fifteen years ago Edward Johnson's home on Walton Road in Rochester was built. His father was born there. Johnson and his wife bought the ancestral home in 1934 and farmed the 75 acres surrounding it.

Then 2 years ago, after they had sold most of the land for subdivisions (they still have 4 acres), they decided to remodel the house. Actually, what they did was to build a new house inside the old one. All interior walls and ceilings were replaced. The floors were leveled and covered with inlaid linoleum. All the old doors were replaced by modern flush ones.

Eddie Johnson, a 12-year-old grandson, lives with the Johnsons. He and his grandparents lived in two rooms during the remodeling — the present utility room and what is now the family room.

It was a blustery day when we visited the Johnson home and the Press photographer and home editor dashed from the car to the back door of the house. This led into a back entry, then into the utility room and through a little hallway into the kitchen.

The hallway between utility room and kitchen is a former closet. There is storage space here, plus a lavatory and the doors to the basement and the garage.

KITCHEN VIEW

The kitchen is a large rectangular room on the north side of the house. Through the picture windows over the sink one has a view of the tiny lake that is on the rear of the Johnson property.

The floor has spatter print linoleum, white with gray, black and bronze spatters. Walls are prefinished birch panels. Counter tops are aqua. Range and oven are copper tone. Hardware is bronze. In one corner Mrs. Johnson has a planning desk. The breakfast set is blue and yellow.

All the rooms in this home are large. The dining room is a big square room with the main entrance to the house on the south wall. This was a window in the old house. Narrow windows on either side of the door are shuttered and decorated with colored glass.

Walls are sandalwood. The drop cove ceiling is white. Curtains are sheer white ones. In keeping with the traditional mahogany furniture, the chandelier is brass and crystal.

The room west of the dining room is a den. Here the floor is beige with gold flecks in the linoleum. Three walls are birch; the fourth is pale green.

At one end of the room there's a rust and cream sofa covered in leather. An old fashioned platform rocker, upholstered in tapestry, stands near the windows. Opposite is a small table for informal snacks.

Carpeting in both dining room and living room is brown tweed. This is continued up the stairs. Walls and ceiling match the adjoining room's. But draperies in the living room are semi sheer light sandalwood ones.

At the foot of the stairs the builder extended the last two stairs outward and built a planter wall next to them. This takes away from the steep, abrupt stairway that is characteristic of so many old farm houses. Next to this planter is a built-in book case.

Furniture includes a long blue fleece sofa, a large leather reclining chair, a little Victorian chair and a Danish modern chair. Tables are mahogany.

Upstairs there is an iron railing around the stairway. All the floors have beige linoleum spattered in pastels.

The new bathroom was once a bedroom and is wonderfully roomy. This is all pink and white with birch cupboards in the vanity. Curtains are sheer pink with a flocked design. They have an under curtain of pink taffeta. Instead of a stool, there is a small armless oak chair.

The long low windows upstairs have not been changed.

Eddie's room offers ample space for a boy to spread his treasures around. He has an old chair, cabinet to house some of [illegible] there are shelves built in [illegible] plain white. The [illegible] bed is covered with [illegible] corded spread.

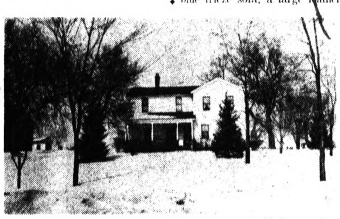
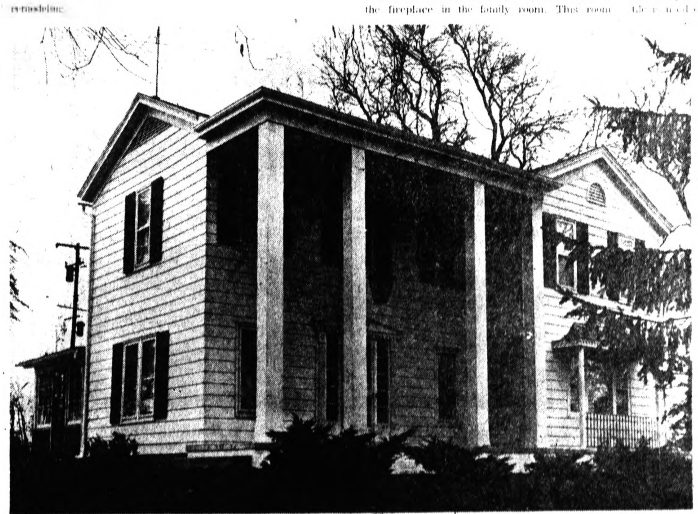
EASY DOES IT with a laundry cart to wheel outdoors, a slide-along clothespin box that hooks over the line and a reel to wind the line up quickly. All these are good home-workbench projects. Pattern 441, which gives actual-size guides and directions for all three, is 35¢. This pattern also is in Pack No. 30 with a variety of yard and garden projects for $1. The Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

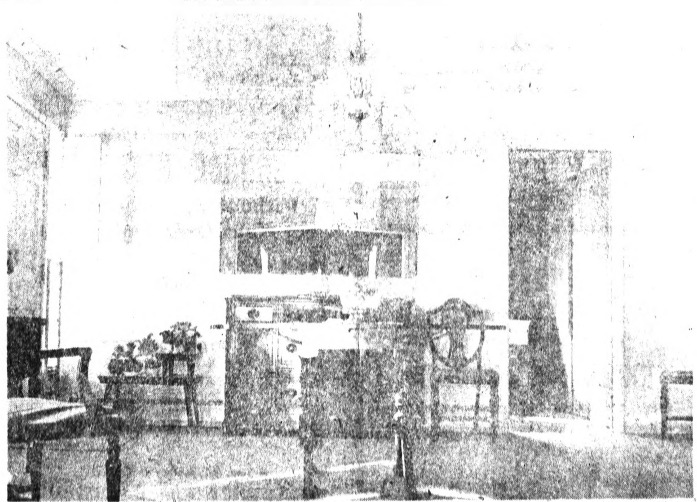
AFTER SCHOOL — Eddie Johnson, grandson of the senior Johnsons, relaxes in front of the fireplace in the family room. This room [illegible] was built onto the house. Wall and [illegible] The fireplace is [illegible] Roman brick. Cookbooks are [illegible] on the door.



IN THE THIRTIES — This is a picture of the Johnson home when it was just a farmhouse. It's a typical Michigan farm home. Within the past two years the Johnsons have given the place a new dignity with just a few exterior changes, but much interior remodeling.



THE NEW LOOK — The Edward Johnson home on Walton Road, Rochester, now has the Southern Colonial look. A raised porch roof and pillars give the front of the house a charm it didn't have in the past. The old front door is now a window, while a former window becomes the new entrance. Smith and Lilly and Ted Grabman, all of Rochester, did the remodeling work.



LOTS OF ROOM — There is room in this large gracious dining room for family reunions without crowding anyone. The main entrance to the house is at the left with shuttered narrow windows [illegible] each side of the front door. Furniture is 18th century mahogany. [illegible] back to see the door to the den.

Limousine Helps Barb in Glamour Girl Life

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Barbara Nichols' rented limousine rolled up in front of the Broadway bar. The chauffeur panted in, apologizing for being late.

"Could I have another martini?" Barbara said.

WILSON

And that was the key to the situation with the ex-N.Y. model who made it in Hollywood both in TV and movies. She's often said she has a better figure and is a better actress than Kim Novak and it was obvious that despite the recent closing of "Let It Ride," in which she co-starred with George Gobel and Sam Levene, she was going to continue to play the part of a Hollywood glamour girl.

"Do you always have a limousine?" I asked her.

"Got it during the show when I almost was late a couple of times. Listen, I'm not gonna walk from 83rd St. When I get back, I'm gonna buy a Cadillac."

"You must have done all right here," I mentioned.

"Here!" Her famous laugh, which shakes pictures off walls, richocheted through the Cordial restaurant.

"That's not from here, honey. I did two pictures back-to-back. I make a lot of money every week. Some television shows can't afford me.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Playwright Paddy Chayefsky, says he grew a beard so that nobody'd recognize him; now, after two TV appearances, he's taking it off — for the same reason . . . Bonnie Scott of "How to Succeed" has a new apartment, claims she's furnishing it in "early Salvation Army." . . . Douglas Campbell, co-star of "Gideon," is a vegetarian; his wife allows herself one duck dinner a year. She just had it, for Christmas.

Charlie Chaplin rejected a London promoter's idea of co-starring him with Mexican comic Cantinflas, for charity.

★ ★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: A local man claims he gave his wife the best ears of his life.

Comedienne Barbara Heller complained she couldn't locate her husband: "The sneak no wonder I couldn't find him. He was at home!" . . . That's earl, brother.

Men's Clothes Are Changing

for Men – Ahhh

National Institute Plans Traditional Styles With New Design Concepts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Men's clothes over the years have grown increasingly lighter in weight to the point where suit, shirt, tie, hat, belt, underwear and socks weigh only three pounds. Heavy wingtip brogues weigh the same amount.

Three pounds is a lot of leather and American shoe manufacturers have brooded over how many million food pounds of energy were being wasted each year by men plodding around the country in heavy shoes. Now they have changed that.

The National Shoe Institute, which represents many of the American manufacturers, reports the trend is for a lighter weight, often in the same traditional styles, but with new styling concepts borrowed freely from England's famous bootmakers.

★ ★ ★

The Institute's Lynn Farnol reports these major trends:

— A trimmer and slimmer look achieved through a tapered but not pointed toe, elastic around the top to hug the ankle or elastic goring beneath the tongue or on side panels of slipons to eliminate gape and make them fit snugly.

— A high rising tongue on slipons to give an unbroken expanse of leather — the look of more shoe. Some of these "high rising" shoes are perfectly plain.

— Lighter wing-tip brogues. The perforations, heart or diamond shaped, are made in the leather of the forepart rather than in a super-imposed shell. Cordovans also have undergone a transformation — they are now light and flexible.

MORE ANGULAR

— "Square toes." They aren't really square but are slightly more angular than usual.

"Probably the most important thing in men's shoes this century is the development of the slipon which began in the 1903s with adaptation of the Norwegian moccasin," he said.

— It continues as along as ever, with a variety of stylings, having gone from the strictly casual to what is now acceptable as street wear.

LEAVES U. S. SCENE — Mikhail A. Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States for the past four years, smiles and waves before departing for home from New York Thursday aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. Menshikov, known as "Smiling Mike," talked of peace and said, "whether we like it or not" peace treaties must be signed with East and West Germany.

Not One Knee in Sight at Catholic Girls' School

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—There was not a knee in sight Friday at the Academy of Our Lady, a Catholic high school for girls.

School authorities had decided that there were too many knees showing. The 600 students were inspected for proper uniform, and 100 had been sent home with instructions to lower their hemlines to a point midway between knee and calf.

Hope Watermelon Halts Leukemia Victim's Fast

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—Parents of a 5-month-old leukemia victim hoped today that a gift of Florida watermelon would start the youngster eating again.

Little Keith Daniel Hawkins hasn't had any solid food in two weeks, his father said Friday night.

"I'm going to make watermelon balls with an ice cream scoop and keep them handy in the hope they will entice him to break his fast," said W. B. Hawkins, a sales engineer.

His mother expressed gratitude for the gift and said Keith could have the watermelon as soon as he felt up to it. She said he was under some medication and it might be a day or two before he sampled the melons.

BROADCAST APPEAL

Hawkins said the leukemia was diagnosed at Emory University Hospital in Atlanta earlier this week.

A ham radio operator friend said persons with leukemia often showed a liking for watermelons. He broadcast an appeal. It was heard on the radio by Air Force Sgt. Sammy Lorino Jr. of Homestead Air Force Base near Miami and arrangements were made to send Keith four watermelons.

The watermelons were flown to Atlanta and delivered to Kennestone Hospital at Marietta Friday night.

Hawkins said doctors thought a series of treatments might keep the youngster alive from six months to two years.

"Maybe some other drug will be discovered by then," he said. "I'm not giving up hope."

The Hawkins have two other children, Dale, 7, and Alesa who will be 4 next month.

Mice Ignore Cheese, Chew Up Dough—$4,000

PARMA, Italy (AP)—A woman showed up in tears at a bank Friday and reported she had been robbed—by mice.

She had hidden $5,000 in lire notes in a cardboard carton. Mice got at it and ate $4,000 worth of the banknotes.

If it's true that a fool and his money are soon parted—then tell us how they got together in the first place?

9 Dogs Run Amok; Attack Girl, 3 Women

LONDON (AP)—Nine big dogs ran wild and brought terror to a crowded London street Friday after being frightened by a perky Corgi.

The wild Doberman Pinschers, which are used as guards, attacked an 8-year-old girl, two women and killed the pet Corgi before they were rounded up.

* * *

The Dobermann Pinschers were being taken to guard a construction site.

Witnesses said the Corgi, about the size of a chihuahua, barked and two guard dogs broke away. Seven others in a coach heard the commotion, leaped through a window and joined in.

Jackie Clothes Dummy on Market in Europe

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A clothes dummy with the features of Jacqueline Kennedy is being marketed in Europe for shopwindow displays, a Danish firm announced today.

Francesco Lopez, a Spanish-born artist who designed the dummy, said he was "inspired by Mrs. Kennedy's serene beauty, in particular her piquant face and her fine torso which is so easy to get clothes on."

Lopez designed the face from coin and stamp portraits of Mrs. Kennedy.

U.N. Unit Allots $50,000 for Philippine Epidemic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Children's Fund announced Friday an emergency allotment of $50,000 to help combat a cholera epidemic in the Philippines.

Officials said the disease, which broke out late last year, has killed more than 1,000 persons and infected 10,000 others, many of them children.
