18-Year-Old Beauty From Peru Captures Miss Universe Title

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The crown of Miss Universe rests today atop the dark-brown hair of Peru's Gladys Zender, the first Latin American ever to win the coveted honor.

The 18-year-old daughter of one of Lima's leading families was last night judged the fairest in the field of international beauties. She is 5 feet 7 with 36-23-36 measurements.

There was no U.S. entry in the finals—because of the disqualifications of Leona Gage, Maryland's married Miss United States.

Sonia Hamilton, 23, a stately blonde from London, was third choice in the judging and the breath-takingly beautiful Gerti Daub, 19, of Germany was chosen fifth from among 15 semifinalists.

Tears flowed freely backstage after the winners were announced. Miss Zender donned her pearl-studded crown and faced photographers with tears streaming down her face—and a smile of joy on her lips. Her parents, Eduardo and Rosa Zender, rushed damp-eyed to the stage to embrace their beautiful daughter.

Her selection is apparently going to set a new standard of behavior for Miss Universe contest queens.

The sheltered daughter of a wealthy family, she is in no hurry to cash in on such of her prizes as personal appearance tours for a bathing suit manufacturer and a cosmetics firm. And if she does go it won't be alone.

"She must at all times be accompanied by her mother," said her father sternly. Zender is president of Lima's largest paper products manufacturing plant and the brother of a Peruvian cabinet minister.

Zender also said he did not wish his daughter to pursue an acting career at this time but added that the whole thing had happened so quickly he hadn't really had time to give the matter much thought.

For her part, Miss Zender said she was interested in an acting career. But this queen of beauty looked at her father, lowered her eyes and said:

"I am in accord with the wishes of my father."

Disqualified Miss U. S. A. Still Faces Rosy Future

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A beauty queen toppled from her Miss United States throne by her own deception flew back to Maryland today with the prospect of cashing in on the sensation she created in the Miss Universe contest.

The girl who won the American title over 43 other contestants, only to be disqualified because she is married, wasn't even present last night at the finish of the 10-day pageant.

Mrs. Mary Leona Gage Ennis, 18, was boarding her plane at Los Angeles International Airport when the judges selected Miss Peru, 18-year-old Gladys Zender of Lima, as Miss Universe, the first Latin American to win the title.

Mrs. Ennis entered the contest and won the Miss United States title as 21-year-old Leona Gage, because married girls are not eligible for the event.

MSU Governing Board Meets at New College Site

Summer Cracks Down on Pontiac

TEMPERATURES HERE

Friday		Today

4:30 p.m.	93	8 a.m.	78
6 p.m.	91	9 a.m.	83
11 p.m.	75	11 a.m.	90
Midnight	73	1 p.m.	93
		2 p.m.	94

Summer weather cracked down on Pontiac today and Friday, and with temperatures in the 90s, sport shirts and Bermuda shorts were in good style.

After reaching 93 yesterday afternoon the mercury, after dropping to 70 at night, had climbed back to 88 by 10 a.m. today. Fair weather Sunday is expected to be accompanied by temperaturse between 90 and 94.

There is a bit of relief in sight tonight (comparatively speaking, of course) as the reading will be between 66 and 70.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 70. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 94.

On the Great Lakes fair weather is prevailing on Lakes Erie, Ontario, and St. Clair. Isolated thundershowers are likely on Lakes Huron, Michigan, and Superior.

Muggy and partly cloudy weather took its grip on most of the country.

Fear Navy Plane Crashed in Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A U. S. Navy transport plane vanished yesterday on a flight with 12 men from Casablanca, Morocco, to Treviso Airport, near Venice. The Navy expressed fear today the plane crashed in the mountains of north Italy.

The transport, a twin - engine PV2, took off from Casablanca yesterday and was due to complete the 1,400-mile flight in six hours.

There has been no word of it since the take-off and rainstorms over north Italy has stalled search and rescue operations. The names of the crewmen and passengers were not disclosed.

Eight American aircraft stood by at Aviano Airfield to start a search as soon as weather conditions improved and the Italian Army alerted reconnaissance planes and helicopters of three brigades to be ready to join in.

Board Meets at Meadow Brook

MSU's Oakland College Pioneers New Methods

By HAROLD COHEN

Daring new methods in higher education are being probed by a Michigan State University faculty committee for use in the Oakland College which the university plans to open at Meadow Brook Farm in the fall of 1959.

This was revealed at a meeting yesterday of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of MSU, in the fabulous Meadow Brook Hall following a tour of the 1,400 acre estate near Rochester.

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, university vice president, also told the board exact site for a $2 million building would be determined shortly and that Swanson Associates, Inc. of Bloomfield Hills, had been chosen as the architects.

"We are starting fresh here in Oakland, not just establishing a branch of the MSU," Dr. Hamilton said. "This gives us an unparalleled opportunity to pioneer new approaches and programs in education."

He said the Oakland College would be a four-year institution with a strong liberal arts program and courses in business, teaching and engineering.

CONCENTRATED STUDY

"Novel methods under consideration, he said, include restricting students to only three subjects a term of five hours each.

"We think students should not spread themselves too much but rather concentrate on a few subjects," Dr. Hamilton said.

He said another new idea under consideration is to offer general liberal arts courses each year a student is in college to enable him to tie together what he has learned in specialized courses with the wider cultural problems.

The Agriculture Board toured the estate by bus before the meeting and examined three proposed sites for the new building. The most likely at this time, Dr. Hamilton indicated, is on the old golf course, not far from the main entrance on Adams road.

Funds for the structure were given the university by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Wilson, along with the gift of the $8 million estate. The Wilson's hosted the board at lunch before the meeting.

The new building will contain classrooms primarily, Dr. Hamilton told the board, but will also have a number of chemistry and

Convict Says He's Certain He Killed Dr. Sam's Wife

DELAND, Fla., (INS)—Florida convict Donald J. Wedler, 23, told 50 crime experts and newsmen last night that he is certain a suburban Cleveland, Ohio housewife he beat in her bed July 4, 1954, was Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard.

He made the statement in an office of the Volusia County Jail in Deland, Fla., and said in reply to questions put to him by newsmen that he is convinced he killed Mrs. Sheppard.

Meanwhile, Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill set next Monday as the time for lie tests to be given to Dr. Sam Sheppard, now serving a life sentence for his wife's murder.

Mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner, head of the Court of Last Resort, an organization which investigates possible miscarriages of justice, said he had talked by telephone with Gov. O'Neill and that it was agreed the tests will be conducted by Alex Gregory, Detroit lie detector expert; John E. Reid of Chicago and C. B. Hunscom of the University of Minnesota.

Gardner arrived in Deland yesterday after he had sent Gregory and attorney Park Street of San Antonio, Tex., members of the Court of Last Resort, to the Volusia County Jail to determine the validity of Wedler's "confession" through lie tests and exhaustive questioning.

In his Ohio Penitentiary cell, Dr. Sheppard viewed a picture of Wedler and said: "I have a vague feeling that this is the man who attacked me."

ATTACKED BY MAN

Several of the newsmen questioning Wedler, some of them present at the Sheppard trial, said they were convinced that Wedler was telling the truth.

Wedler told newsmen and crime experts how he took dope, stole a car and drove July 4, 1954 to a Cleveland suburb looking for a house to rob and that he saw a door slightly open.

He added that he entered the house, saw a man sleeping on a couch and went upstairs into a bedroom.

Wedler said he began taking something when he heard a sound from the bed, where a woman was sleeping. He took an 8-inch-long curved iron pipe he had in his possession and beat the woman "several times" so she would keep quiet.

Hearing footsteps, he continued, he said he ran out to the hall and hit a man with the pipe, pushed past him and ran downstairs.

Believing the man was chasing him, Wedler said he fled the house after opening and spilling a leather bag containing pills and fled toward a lake behind the house.

Burkemo 1-Up in Semifinals

Franklin Pro Meets Hebert, Leads after First Nine

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Former champion Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., won three straight holes from the second through the fourth and led Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., one up after nine holes of their 36-hole semifinal match in the PGA championship today.

★ ★ ★

After losing the first to Hebert's birdie three, the bold-shooting Burkemo won the next three with 3-5-3 (birdie, par and birdie) to go two up. The 29-year-old Hebert, a newcomer to the professional tour, got one back with a nine foot birdie putt at the short eighth, but missed a six-footer on the ninth green which would have squared the match.

Acquittal Makes Takeover From Beck Possible

Will Meet With Friends at Chicago to Decide Future in Teamsters

(From Our Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — James R. Hoffa emerged today from his bribery charge acquittal in a strong position to take over from Dave Beck as boss of the 1½ million member Teamsters Union.

A federal court jury cleared Hoffa yesterday of charges he conspired and bribed to plant a spy on the staff of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Hoffa, 44-year-old Midwest Teamsters boss, immediately announced he would get together with friends in Chicago within the next few days to decide on "my future activities in the union."

At present, there is little doubt in the labor movement that Hoffa can take over Beck's spot if he wants it, or name who he wants as Teamsters president.

Hoffa flew to Detroit last night. In response to a question there, he said he financed his trial defense entirely from his own funds, and that he had declined offers by several locals to raise a defense fund for him. He said he had mortgaged his home, cottage and automobile.

The trial against Hoffa and a co-defendant, Miami attorney Hyman I. Fischbach, began a month ago yesterday. But Fischbach was granted a mistrial last week when his attorney became ill. Fischbach is to be tried later.

VERDICT 'MISCARRIAGE'

The vice chairman, Sen. Ives (R-NY), said he felt the verdict was "a miscarriage of justice."

Committee counsel Robert Kennedy said the committee was going ahead with "our investigation of Hoffa."

McClellan said Hoffa's name will figure in the committee's next target—the labor situation in the New York area—and that the

Disarmament Speech by Dulles Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of State Dulles plans a nationwide radio-television speech Monday night to detail the U.S. position on disarmament — a subject of heavy Russian criticism recently.

State Department sources said one purpose of the "comprehensive statement" would be to offset Soviet attacks on U.S. proposals at the London disarmament talks.

The department said Dulles would speak for 30 minutes over nationwide radio and television (ABC) beginning at 8 p.m. EST.

Represented at London, besides the United States and Russia are Britain, France and Canada. The talks are recessed for the weekend but will be resumed Monday.

Housing, Tuition Fees Up at MSU

3 Major Appointments Made to School's Staff by Governing Board

Securing a higher education at Michigan State University will cost $100 a year more starting next fall.

Philip J. May, MSU vice president and treasurer, told the State Board of Agriculture meeting at Meadow Brook Hall, near Rochester, yesterday, that both tuition fees and dormitory costs will be higher.

Mays said the Legislature had raised the tuition fees to $255 a school year, from the $204 last year for Michigan residents.

Fees for students from other states will be $555 per year, an increase of $75.

Charges for dormitories and housing for married couples will go up $45 a year, $30 for utilities and $15 to cover recent wage increases granted maintenance personnel, he added.

Three major appointments to the academic staff at the University also were approved yesterday.

Dr. W. W. Armistead, dean of veterinary medicine at Texas A. & M., was named to head the School of Veterinary Medicine effective Aug. 10.

Dr. Sherwood K. Haynes, professor of physics at Vanderbilt University, was named head of the Department of physics and Astronomy.

Dr. John Useem, an MSU staff member since 1949, was appointed head of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

The Board approved a budget of $36,129,342 for the 1957-58 fiscal year. State appropriations make up $26,326,500 of the total. Anticipated student fees of $6,190,000 is the largest other single income item in the total.

More than 23 million dollars of the total was earmarked for salaries. The budget is based on an expected enrollment of more than 20,000 students.

Gifts and grants totalling $255,781 were accepted for the University.

Mourners Leaving Aga's Burial Place

The body of the old Aga, spiritual ruler of the 20 million Ismaili Moslems for 71 of his 79 years, was placed in a temporary brick tomb in the courtyard of his villa between the Nile and the eternal white of the African desert. Later it will be moved to a permanent mausoleum to be constructed on a hilltop 200 yards away.

The temperature climbed to 115 during the 45-minute funeral yesterday. The Aga's French-born widow, the egum, nearly collapsed during the ceremonies.

Five hundred representatives of the Ismaili sect were present including the 6-foot, 20-year-old Harvard undergraduate who became Aga Khan IV upon the death of his grandfather. The young Aga watched tight-lipped while the presiding mullah (priest) intoned the final rites.

Another Airliner Lands After False Bomb Scare

SYDNEY, N. S. (AP) — A bomb scare last night caused an Air France airliner with 53 passengers bound for Paris to turn back to Sydney Airport. The aircraft was cleared for takeoff again after about two hours.

So You Want to Beat the Heat?

Don't Stir Up Those Molecules

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Writer

"Heat," said the professor, "is a form of energy consisting of the motion of molecules in a substance with the rate of motion determining the temperature."

He stirred up a few lazy molecules in front of his face with a long, limp sweep of a newspaper held in his hand. The temperature rose perceptibly.

We were sitting on a park bench in the shade of a tall, building. Overhead, the sun was beating down. It was beating down passersby. Several collapsed around us as we talked.

"That's all very well and good," I said, "but I too can read the dictionary. I came to you to find out what to do about it. Tell me, professor, how can I beat the heat?"

"First off," said the professor, "it is necessary to recognize that it is hot. One simply does not beat the heat by ignoring it or pretending it is not there. Worst thing you can do."

"That's easily done," I murmured.

"Once you recognize that it is hot, then slow down. Don't exert yourself. Remember, the more you move around, the more those little old molecules move around, too."

"That's right," I said, making a mental note to bring that point up the next time the chief chided me when something wasn't done on time.

"Drink plenty of liquids," the professor went on. "They lower the body temperature. They slow down the molecules."

"Yes. Yes," I interrupted with an eagerness unbecoming an objective reporter. I had read about places that sell liquids in tall, cool glasses. In fact, I had made plans to visit one shortly to study the effect on my molecules.

"But go easy on the alcohol," said the professor, throwing cold beer all over my plans. "Ice water is better to replace body moisture lost through perspiration."

"Wear light, loose, comfortable clothing," he went on. "And the less clothing the better."

"Wear light colored clothes, too," the professor continued. "Remember, light surfaces reflect heat while dark surfaces absorb it. And eat light foods, like fruit, green vegetables, lean meat.

"If you follow those simple rules, you'll be more comfortable and you'll enjoy the summer no matter how hot it gets," he concluded.

"Hot, isn't it," I sympathized.

"Wrong," said the professor. "It ain't the humidity, it's the molecules."

Tech Professor Murder Victim

Becomes Fourth Target of Homicide Outbreak in Atlanta, Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—A Georgia Tech professor died early today from wounds suffered in an attack upon him by two youths. It was the city's fourth murder in 12 days.

He was Dr. William Knox Pursley, 32, native of Clover, S.C., and an associate professor in the physics department at Tech.

Witnesses said he was assaulted on the street at about 1:30 a.m. yesterday. He was found beaten and dazed on the sidewalk a few blocks from his Peachtree Street apartment.

Patrolmen B. E. Barnes and J. F. Duke reported two witnesses told them they saw two youths chase the professor down the street, overtake and beat him. The youths, who fled after the beating, were described as 19 or 20.

"We know practically nothing about the attack," Helms said. "As far as we know, it was not a robbery attempt. We don't know what the motive was. It's all a mystery."

An associate at Tech said Pursley's skull was fractured and he had serious bruises on his body. Pursley had been at Tech about three years.

He was a graduate of the University of Michigan and listed in the Michigan Faculty Directory as a "teaching fellow" in physics from 1952 through 1955.

An attractive 25-year-old clerical worker was fatally stabbed and beaten in a downtown loan company office yesterday. Police said a 19-year-old Negro had confessed. Robbery apparently was the motive. Officers said the youth may be connected with the earlier robbery-murder of a woman employe of a laundry.

The first of the four deaths was that of a 53-year-old man, beaten to death at his home with a shovel. It is unsolved.

Seeking Cause of Fish Dying in Union Lake

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department received reports late this morning of hundred of fish dying in Union Lake. "This is the second complaint we've had in two days," said Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

"Friday, we received complaints of small fish bing washed ashore. Today, the complaintant stated that hundreds of fish are surfacing and being washed ashore. The cause is not yet known, but an investigation into the matter is being launched this afternoon, according to the department.

Policeman Becomes Amateur Bullfighter

When an escaped bull lunged toward him, Violette sidestepped neatly and the animal shot through the locked, plate glass door of an appliance store.

Afraid the animal would burst through the show widows, near the main entrance, Violette ran around to the front of the store. There he beat on windows, jumped up and down, and made faces at the bull.

The poor animal had enough. He turned tail, fled out the rear door and was herded into a waiting truck.

750 Stricken in Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — More than 750 African miners have been stricken in the last three days with a disease doctors believe may be Asian flu. The outbreak—characterized by high temperatures—was first reported from a colliery in the southern Transvaal and was reported still spreading.

Police Captain to Retire After Serving 30 Years

After devoting 30 years to Pontiac law enforcement, Captain William A. Crisp, head of the uniformed patrol division of the Pontiac police, is retiring.

Although his job officially ends in December, Captain "Wild Bill," as he is often called, will end his active police work Monday at 5 p.m., due to compensatory time.

NEXT HOME

Au Train, in the Upper Peninsula, is the next home of the Crisps. The captain says he's looking forward to many relaxing days of fishing and hunting there. He has built a log cabin which is situated at the fork of the Au Train River and Au Train Lake.

Crisp joined the local department in 1927 as a patrolman when he was 30 years old.

He has served in every division in the department and in practically every capacity. His assignments included the vice squad and violations bureau. He has also served as a patrolman, motorcycle rider, and wagon driver.

He was promoted to sergeant in 1938, lieutenant in 1947 and captain in 1955.

Straley reports Crisp holds three citations for meritorious service. In 1939, Crisp's keen observation closed several breaking and entering cases; in 1941, he and several other officers followed snow tracks to catch a wanted criminal and in 1945, he captured several men connected with local burglaries.

In his envelope of certificates, there are also two citations from the United States Government for his active service in the war bond drives during World War II.

"Working with a swell bunch of men, having opportunity for advancement, and the fair treatment I got from all city officials" are the reasons Crisp gives for remaining a policeman 30 years.

He and his wife Irene have one son William Jr. and three grandchildren who live in Pontiac.

'Moonwatch' Test Termed Success

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Thousands of eyes—from East to West—turned skyward last night to glimpse a faint light—simulating a satellite streaking across the skies—in a nationwide test of "Moonwatch."

★ ★ ★

The preliminary test for skywatchers who will report on the progress of earth satellites was termed a "complete success" by Moonwatch headquarters at Harvard University's Smithsonian astrophysical observatory.

The observatory reported early today that some 2,000 volunteers associated with 90 stations across the nation in 30 states carried out the experiment successfully.

The "satellite" the watchers sought was a battery-powered light towed across the sky by a Civil Air Patrol plane at a height of 7,000 feet, at 100 miles an hour. The light was carefully checked to be sure that it gave just the faint degree of brightness given off by a man-made satellite.

The skywatchers were practicing to report on the artificial satellite — or satellites — which the United States will launch during the international geophysical year. Ultimately it is hoped to have watchers in every state.

CD Invites Countries to View Nuclear Tests

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—The Civil Defense Administration said last night it has invited 31 observers from 10 foreign countries to witness a nuclear test in Nevada next week.

Invitations have been accepted by Canada, France, West Germany, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden, United Kingdom, Spain and Turkey.

Help for Ike Seen in Compromise

More Desirable Aid Bill Probable for President After Adjustment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower seemed likely today to get a foreign aid authorization bill more to his liking than the $3,116,833,000 measure passed by the House.

The House passed Eisenhower's aid bill last night with $747½-million dollars lopped from the President's original request. And it knocked out just about all of the bill's longterm aid features which marked a new approach to overseas assistance program this year.

Final House passage by a 254-154 rollcall vote climaxed a day-long series of votes which found the bill's supporters on the defensive most of the time.

The measure now is slated for adjustment with a Senate-passed billcloser to the President's request. The Senate authorized a half billion dollars more than the House and approved some of the long-range authority Eisenhower wanted.

Since the usual practice is to compromise somewhere between the extremes of differing House and Senate bills, the conferees are expected to come up with a measure providing more money than the House version.

However, during yesterday's hectic House session, climaxing a week of debate, aid critics served notice they will oppose any compromise measure which they think gives in too much to the Senate.

Harlem Churches Form Association

NEW YORK (AP)—In what Protestant spokesmen called a pioneering example in the ecumenical movement for the nation, 15 Harlem churches have formed a neighboring association.

The cooperating churches officially call themselves the Heart of Harlem Neighborhood Church Assn. of the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

The united resources of the churches will be used for evangelism, Christian social relations and education and adult and youth work.

The Protestant Council, of which the Harlem unit becomes the first official neighborhood church association, is the agency for cooperative work of the 1,700 Protestant churches of 31 denominations in New York City.

Hoffa also faces federal wiretap charges in New York based on the accusation he conspired to tap his own office telephones in Detroit.

The jury which yesterday cleared Hoffa apparently believed his story over that of John Cye Cheasty, the Senate committee investigator Hoffa was accused of paying to get committee secrets.

Cheasty testified he did relay committee data to Hoffa, but only after informing the committee and the FBI of the alleged plot. A series of FBI agents bolstered Cheasty's story.

Testifying in his own defense, Hoffa said he hired Cheasty only to advise him as an attorney.

Hoffa looked straight at the jury when the "not guilty" verdict was announced. "It proves once again," he said afterward, "that if you are honest and tell the truth you have nothing to fear."

U. S. District Attorney Oliver Gasch has announced plans to push the trial of Fischbach. Oliver said the government had a "good case."

Earlier this year, AFL - CIO leaders instituted a "clean-up" campaign aimed at ousting such leaders as Beck from the federation.

Some labor sources said that, if Hoffa should be elevated to the top teasters post, the federation would be faced with a new problem.

The jury deliberated only three hours and 25 minutes and the speedy verdict came as a surprise both to government and defense attorneys.

The verdict was a stunning setback to the government which had carefully prepared what many officials described as an "air-tight" case.

It was also another triumph for Defense Attorney Edward Bennett Williams, who has distinguished himself as one of the nation's top trial lawyers.

Hoffa told reporters on his arrival at Willow Run Airport late yesterday he used no union funds and refused offers by several locals to raise defense funds for him.

The union leader said financing his defense included mortgaging his home, automobile and cottage.

Washington sources estimate the cost may have reached $100,000.

Atomic Blast 'Owens' Delayed by Weather

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Atomic blast "Owens," scheduled for dawn today, has been postponed until 6:30 a.m. (PDT), tomorrow because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The "less than nominal" yield shot is scheduled to be fired in a captive balloon at the Nevada proving grounds. It was first set for Thursday, but re-scheduled for today prior to the latest postponement.

Two Are Sent to Jail for Possessing Beer

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum ordered two teenagers to spend one week in jail today after they pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing beer when arrested early today. Clarence E. Hargraves, 17, of 764 Alpena St., and Edward L. Stone, 19, of 52 East Brooklyn St., were committed to the Oakland County Jail after failing to pay $20 fines plus a three day jail sentence.

News in Brief

After removing a bedroom screen, thieves reached in to his home and took two purses containing a total of $18 about 10 p.m. yesterday Frank Scarpelli, of 225 Tilden St., told Pontiac Police.

Billy Takes Over Yankee Stadium

Vice President Nixon Will Attend Meeting; Expect Overflow Crowd

Vice President Nixon is scheduled to attend the big night meeting, which was originally planned to be the final service of Graham's New York visit. But the Graham organization announced yesterday that the crusade would be extended three more weeks because of the overflow crowds at the nightly Garden meetings in the past week. The crusade started May 15.

A total of 18,300 persons attended the services in the Garden last night, and 596 of them came forward to make "decisions for Christ." The total of 35,236 decisions for the crusade tops the number of decisions made at any previous crusade, the Graham staff said.

Graham took his text last night from Acts 1:8. It reads in part "but we shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you. . . ."

Blame House Fire on Defective Wiring

The two-story frame house, located at 326 Prospect St., is owned by Mike Haroutunian, of 281 Ferry St., and occupied by Miles Inglesbee.

The fire started in the wall near the basement stairs and spread to the attic through the same wall.

Check of Cars for Safety Wins State Citation

Pontiac's vehicle safety check has been judged the best in Michigan for cities between 25,000 to 100,000 population.

The contest was sponsored by the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, according to Paul L. Meredith, chairman of the local program.

The annual Pontiac program is sponsored by the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac Police and the Pontiac Automobile Dealers' Assn.

Students from four Pontiac high school driving classes and members of local service clubs checked 8,174 autos during the five day volunteer check. Sixty gasoline and service stations also inspected more than 7,000 autos during the 1957 campaign.

Crepello, the odds on favorite and the winner of the Epsom Derby, was scratched shortly before the race because of the rains and muddy track.

The Day in Birmingham

Toss Flaming Cups; Boys Face Arson Investigation

BIRMINGHAM — A juvenile prank landed two Birmingham boys in police headquarters last night facing investigation on charges of arson.

The pair, 15 and 16 years old, were nabbed after tossing paper cups full of gasoline and then throwing lighted matches at the Mills Pharmacy on West Maple.

Det. Sgt. Robert Schaule, juvenile officer, quoted the boys as saying they had done this before but had tossed their flaming concoctions only at piles of dirt.

Damages, confined to the store sign, were minor.

Altrusa Club of greater Birmingham will be represented at the Biennial Convention of Altrusa International, July 21-26, in New Orleans by Mrs. Millard Newcomb, president.

An attorney, Mrs. Newcomb is active on many civic and legal committees.

Major projects of Altrusa will be reviewed at the convention.

One, financial grants ranging up to $750 for women to do graduate study in the United States from foreign countries. Some hundred-thousand dollars has been awarded since 1945.

Another major project, founders fund vocational aid, gives assistance to women of all ages for job-training which enables them to qualify for employment.

Past Matrons Club of Birmingham Chapter OES will meet for a 10 p.m. dessert luncheon Tuesday with Mrs. Rudy York, 1739 Croft St.

Walpole Island will be the destination Aug. 27 for a potluck luncheon when Mrs. Perry Vaughan will be hostess. Members planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Darwin Hillman or Mrs. York.

Good Humor salesman Kenneth Ray Phipps is making his second appearance in Birmingham Court for violation of the ordinacne which prohibits ringing bells on wagons of this type.

Phipps has been released on $25 bond.

Churchill Aiding Vivien Leigh's Theater Fight

LONDON (AP) — Actress Vivien Leigh has a promise of 500 pounds ($1,400) from Sir Winston Churchill to help save historic St. James's Theater. But he wrote that he doesn't approve of her campaign methods.

★ ★ ★

The former prime minister referred to a scene created in the House of Lords last week. Miss Leigh was hustled out after arising from her place among spectators and demanding that Parliament do something to save St. James's, which real estate operators plan to raze to make way for an office building.

Miss Leigh, her husband Sir Laurence Olivier and hundreds of other players are demanding that the government give financial support to St. James's.

Miss Leigh read the letter from Churchill.

"I hope you will succeed in your defense of St. Jame's Theater, although as a parliamentarian I cannot approve of your disorderly methods," he wrote. "If a fund is needed, as seems to be possible, I shall be very glad to subscribe 500 pounds to it."

told her her father is alive. She had said he was dead.

It developed that her father, F. D. Gage, 56, is a palsied patient in a Wichita Falls, Tex., hospital. When she revived from the fainting spell, she explained that her father had been injured in two different accidents in Texas, and paralyzed.

After she left Texas for Maryland with her husband two years ago she said she couldn't find out definitely from her family so "I resigned myself to the thought that he was dead."

Leona's husband, Air Force Sgt. Gene Norris Ennis, 28, stationed at Maryland's Friendship International Airport, said he will have a leave to go to Las Vegas with her for a vacation before her hotel show starts Sept. 4. Leona said their two boys, Gene, 3, and David, 2, will go with them.

★ ★ ★

Ennis said in a Baltimore TV interview: "She feels great about it and I'm as proud of her as I can be."

physics laboratories and a few offices.

The old farm house near the gate, original home of John Dodge, will be converted into offices, he said.

The Meadow Brook Hall, multi-million dollar home of the Wilsons will become a cultural center one day, he added, and all other facilities will be planned in relation to it.

Hamilton also told the board that questionnaires sent out recntnly to Oakland and Macomb County residents and educators are being tabulated with results expected by Sept. 1.

These questionnaires will show what area residents want and need in the way of higher education and will greatly influence the university's thinking. Some 80 per cent have been returned, he said.

The Oakland College will be able to accomodate 1,500 to 2,000 students when the first building is erected, Dr. Hamilton estimated, with about one-quarter of that number expected to enroll as freshmen the first year.

Lost One Good Eye to Cancer

Tiny Mike Healthy, Happy After Year of Blindness

"He doesn't act any different now than before his operation," said his mother, Mrs. James W. Sibole.

"He still thinks he can do anything anybody else can do and I think he can," said Mike's father, the Rev. James W. Sibole.

Five-year-old Mike, who was adopted by the Siboles as a baby, captured the nation's sympathy when a surgeon removed his left eye last July in a fight against cancer. He lost his right eye to the disease when he was two years old.

★ ★ ★

"We've never regretted it," said Sibole, who had to decide whether Mike would lose total sight. "We won't know just how successful the operation was for five or seven years."

At the family's new home in nearby Hialeah, Mike likes to answer the door, play with his little brother, Jerry, and tell about his swimming feats.

He is quick to tell his mother, "you can't skate as fast as I can, upstanding." He never lets her forget that once she fell down.

A neighbor, Mrs. Anthony DeQuarte, said "it's amazing how he gets along.

"He's so sweet and the way he runs around—why I didn't even know he was blind until a month after we moved in."

He's quick to go into his bedroom and strap on the two-gun holster sent to him by cowboy star Roy Rogers. He boasts about the honorary sheriff's badge he got from a sheriff.

★ ★ ★

Mike has learned to use his ears in his new world of darkness. Asked if the sounds in the back yard came from his pet duck, Mike declared:

"No. That's the girl's next door. Mine quacks louder."

Junior Editors BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: Did Job ever lose his patience?

ANSWER: One often hears that someone has the "patience of Job," because he does not get upset by troubles.

Job was a good man who lived in the desert in Biblical times. To test his faith, God let one misfortune after another happen to him. His flocks were stolen, his shepherds were killed, and his sons and daughters were lost in a desert storm.

Left alone with his wife, Job still had bad luck. He was afflicted with boils which caused him much suffering. His wife asked him why he continued to serve the Lord, since it had done him no good. Three friends visited him and pretended to comfort him but really made him feel worse.

In spite of everything, Job never wavered in his faith nor lost his patience. As a reward, God gave him many more flocks, and another family of sons and daughters to comfort him.

President Helps Son Get Settled

Move Into Made-Over Schoolhouse on Ike's Pennsylvania Farm

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower settled into the role of week-end country gentleman today and helped some new neighbors get settled.

They are close neighbors and, in fact, close relatives — Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, the President's son and daughter-in-law.

They moved in last night at the neat white home they acquired from the chief executive. It's a done-over, enlarged schoolhouse in a corner of the President's 500-acre farm, about three-quarters of a mile from the Eisenhower home.

They brought along their youngest, Mary Jean, The other three presidential grandchildren, David, Barbara Anne and Susan were already here with their grandmother.

Nevins, a neighbor and close friend of the president, was 66 yesterday. So he was invited over to the Eisenhowers for dinner.

★ ★ ★

The President, Nevins said, had some new cooking equipment to try out. And a package of charcoal had come along from Washington, on a secret service plane.

Colorado Nudists Boycott Meeting Over Stripper

DENVER (AP)—Colorado nudists boycotted the regional meeting of the Midwest Sunbathing Club near Liberal, Kan., today because a Denver member had been booted out of the bigger club for being a nightclub stripper.

The case swirled around Evelyn West, who bills herself as "the girl with the $50,000 treasure chest."

John Garrison, president of the Colorado Sunshine Club, said the Midwest Club, headquartered at South Bend, Ind., had accepted Miss West's membership dues for several years without question.

★ ★ ★

"Now they think a girl who takes off her clothes for a living shouldn't be a nudist." Said Garrison, "we think Evelyn should be treated as an equal."

Mackie Tentatively OKs Plan for Merger

IONIA (AP)—A tentative nod has been given by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie on a plan to connect two Michigan highways into a lengthy route stretching from the Indiana border to the Straits of Mackinac.

Mackie told a meeting of the M66 assn. and the M78 Assn. here yesterday that such a plan had possibilities, but added he did not think such a highway should be used as a main route.

He said that since the proposed route created by the merger of M66 and M78 lies between U.S. 27 and U.S. 131 the combined highways should be used as an auxiliary to help relieve the traffic load on the other two roads which are slated to be developed into superhighways.

Officials of the two associations voted to merge at the meeting in order to combine their efforts to promote the proposed state-spanning route which would be known as the Green Arrow Route.

The highest improved highway in the eastern United States ascends to Clingman's dome in the Great Smoky mountains national park and attains an altitude of 6,311 feet.

Fault Finding Is Easy

"No talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business of Fault Finding." Robert West. It has often occurred to me that those people who habitually find fault with others—never themselves—have a ready solution that is as shallow as a puddle in mid-summer should accept more responsibility, make decisions; they would quickly discover that wise decisions are difficult to make.

Internal Trouble for Soviet Grows

It would be unwise to wax too enthusiastic over Russia's latest upheaval, but it still remains true that every knock within the Red government brings a boost to Western hopes.

Frequent changes do not mean that a complete crackup is in sight for the Kremlin, but they do indicate that the job of keeping the Russian people satisfied is growing increasingly difficult. It also shows that internal bickering and struggling for power add mightily to Russia's other internal weaknesses.

The Reds put down Hungary's freedom fighters, but that bloody, merciless slaughter not only cost the Reds much in world esteem. It also sickened many members of the Russian army.

★ ★ ★

The Russian people are demanding more food, more clothing, more of the things they gradually are learning other people enjoy.

The people in the satellite countries likewise are growing more restive although they know they must bide their time.

The Russian army knows it dare not wage any serious war at such a time. It would have so many enemies behind its lines that its efforts would be fatally handicapped.

Russian leaders may talk big to fool the outside world, but they want no external trouble at this time. They hope for quiet in which they can try to work their way out of a situation that will call for all their skill to preserve their dominance of the government.

They are going to have to produce more peacetime goods, food, homes, household appliances. This means they will not be able to keep up the present pace of military buildup. If they do, they will face even more serious internal trouble.

The Red bosses face a serious dilemma. They probably will be able to delay the showdown for a few years, but the handwriting is on the wall. Their troubles are growing greater. This is true not only at home, but abroad. No longer can their stooges in this country delude as many innocent people as they once did.

The slaughter in Hungary stripped the mask of decency from the faces of the Communist leaders. It revealed their talk of peace and progress as the rankest kind of propaganda.

The latest change in leadership has made it necessary to lay more blame on the leaders and memories of earlier Russian leaders. As this process is repeated at increasingly frequent intervals, it grows harder to fool the Russian people.

Secretary of State Dulles believes that Communism will face its death throes within the next ten years. If he is right, these will be difficult years for the Western world.

The arms fight will go on.

The cold war will continue.

But our troubles will be as nothing compared with the problems faced by the desperate souls within the Kremlin.

Chemicals Bring Hope in Cancer Cure Search

The whole world will cheer the prediction made by two leading cancer experts that it will be possible to cure cancer through use of chemicals before the end of the present century.

Dr. Morton M. Kligerman and Dr. Daniel M. Shapiro have been carrying on their work at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. They have been using a combination of chemicals, radiation and surgery in experiments on animals. Their results have been most encouraging.

Use of the chemicals alone produced cures in from five to twenty-two per cent of the cases treated. When surgery or radiation was combined with the chemicals, the cures rose to more than seventy per cent.

The doctors reported they had cured eighty-six per cent of the breast tumor cases treated in mice, using the chemicals and X-ray. They have found four chemicals to be effective, one of which previously has been used to treat leukemia.

They reported that the treatments cured both large and small tumors in the animals used, giving rise to the belief that they would likewise be effective in treating human patients. This is the course which has been followed in finding cures for other diseases.

★ ★ ★

It will be a bright day for the human race when the dread disease of cancer can be crossed off as one more scourge which has been conquered by medical science.

In former years with reference to the advice, "Live dangerously!" a person could take it or leave it—now he has no choice.

An Outdoor Paradise

State's Wonders

Michigan Boasts of Many National Beauty Spots

By TOM SHAWVER

LANSING (AP)—Ask a group of Michigan natives to name the "10 natural wonders" of their state, and it's likely they'll come up with two dozen or so.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Michigan with its unusual peninsula outline, is something of a natural wonder in itself. Its more than 11,000 lakes, thousands of miles of Great Lakes shoreline and vast stretches of forest offer an outdoor paradise few states can match.

Its beauty is not so much the spectacular variety or towering mountains and deep canyons, but is more to be found in a peaceful, unpretentious wilderness setting of streams and lakes.

There are, nevertheless, a host of natural wonders inside our borders, and here is a list of 10 of the most outstanding, not necessarily ranked in order:

Isle Royale National Park—One of the nation's last true wilderness areas and, thanks to federal supervision, pretty certain to remain that way. The largest island in Lake Superior, it offers 210 square miles of scenic beauty practically untouched by man.

★ ★ ★

The Great Lakes—Michigan holds a majority interest in this great system of fresh water lakes, which form the outlines of its two peninsulas. Michigan borders on four of the five lakes.

SPECTACULAR DUNES

The Lake Michigan sand dunes—spotted all along the lake, they are some of the most spectacular in the country. Sleeping Bear dune in the Leelanau Peninsula is said to be the world's largest shifting dune.

Lake in the Clouds and Porcupine Mountain State Park—this Upper Peninsula park, with 58,000 acres, is the nation's largest state park, containing 2,023-foot Government Peak, the highest point in Michigan, and huge stands of virgin hardwood and hemlock. Lake of the Clouds is a veritable jewel set in the midst of tree-covered mountains.

TAHQUAMEN FALLS—On the river of the same name in the heart of the Upper Peninsula "Hiawatha Country" described in Longfellow's famed poem. The upper falls, nearly 50 feet high, are the nation's largest east of the Mississippi with the exception of Niagara Falls.

The Picture Rocks—these massive sandstone cliffs extend for 20 miles east of Munising. Wind and water have carved their barren faces into grotesque shapes and forms.

The Trust That Underwrites Our Liberty

Days of All Faiths:

DAYS OF ALL FAITHS
By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In these days of freeways, turnpikes, and six-lane highways, it is no wonder St. Christopher, patron of travelers and especially now of motorists, should be one of the most popular of all saints. Even Protestants carry St. Christopher medals or have them fastened to their cars.

Very little is definitely known about this saint — so little really, it is not possible even to be sure of his dates. A good guess is he lived in the third century. Beyond the fact there was a martyr named Christopher about that time, historians will not go.

But legend makes up for history's silence. The best place to read about Christopher is in William Caxton's "Golden Legend," which starts out by saying, "Christopher before his baptism was named Reprobus, but afterwards he was named Christopher, which is as much as to say bearing Christ, for that he bare Him in four manners: he bare Him on his shoulders by conveying, in his body by making it lean, in mind by devotion, and in his mouth by confessing and preaching."

CHRISTOPHER LEGENDS

Caxton goes on then to tell the stories that have made Christopher so famous and so widely beloved. As a soldier he made up his mind he would devote his life to the service of the strongest power in the world. At first he served a great king, but one day he saw the king quaked at the mention of the Devil. So, Christopher reasoned, the Devil must be stronger than the king, whereupon he set out to find old Satan and serve him. But it was not long before he discovered his new master was afraid of a cross. And from then on he sought to serve Christ, who was mightier even than the Devil.

His service to Christ took the form of service to men, and thereby hangs the most famous of all tales about Christopher. The good man took up residence in a hut beside a river, where there was a ford used by pilgrims on their way to Jerusalem. The water, even at the ford, sometimes ran so deep many pilgrims lost their lives in it. So Christopher, who was of great stature and strength, lived by the river and carried across all the weak and small who came by, so no more lives were lost there.

One night he was awakened by a child who asked to be taken over the ford. As they went across, the lad on Christopher's broad shoulders seemed to grow heavier and heavier, until finally Christopher said, "Thou weighest almost as I had all the world upon me! To which the boy replied, "Marvel not, for thou hast not only born all the world upon thee, but thou has borne Him that created all the world." Then Christopher knew his passenger was the Lord Himself, and his ambition to serve the mightiest power had been realized.

This legend is, of course, the basis of St. Christopher's reputation as the patron of travelers and the protector of all against perils from water and storms.

BLESSED VIRGIN'S MOTHER

St. Anne was the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary, "the Mother of the Mother of God." The Bible says nothing at all about her. Such information as there is comes from a book called the Protoevangelium of James, which was written about the middle of the second century and is not considered a trustworthy document.

But one does not need authenticated records to know that this was one of the most important women who ever lived, and that she must have been one of the best. For it was Anne who was chosen by God to bear and train the little girl to whose care He would one day commit His Son. It is not surprising Anne is the patron saint of home and home life.

Nor is it surprising there has been since early times a cult of special devotion to St. Anne, which continues undiminished even today. The power of her intercessions is considered very great.

★ ★ ★

The name Anne in Hebrew is Hannah. It means "grace."

'Only Pontiac Has Police Without Chief's Direction'

I don't believe there's a police force in the world that isn't under the direction of the chief — except in Pontiac.

Imagine a police force where the chief can't hire and fire the men. That's the laugh of all civil statutes in the United States. It's a perfect farce.

Even if the "board" consists of President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill and the Pope in Rome, the members couldn't pass judgment on every individual case that arose. The chief simply must have final powers and if the stupid, bungling civil service act we voted has to be amended or thrown in the ash can, let's do it.

I think voters of Pontiac were sold the silliest piece of legislation of all time. No one ever dreamed we were turning the hiring and firing over to a three-man board that consisted of independent citizens with other businesses. I don't think the board knew it. Let's re-organize and have a normal police force.

No Harm in Trying They Always Say

The Treasury Department has now stopped charging Joe Louis interest on the two and half million dollars back taxes which he owes. The former champion is refereeing boxing and wresting matches to try and "pay off." If he works seven days a week for seventy years and allows himself nothing for personal living and expenses, he can "pay off." Good luck, Joe.

Gee

Suggests Law for Accidents

Traffic on the Dixie has upped its speed at least 15 m.p.h. since the police force has been cut.

Why not a law forbidding gathering at the scene of an accident? Cars are usually parked on both sides of the road and down side streets, and people wandering around don't help efficiency of officers and doctors and could cause loss of life. Why not establish a minimum number of first aiders and ticket needless spectators?

'Let's Give Dulles Credit He's Due'

Secretary Dulles has done a magnificent job in keeping the Kremlin and Peiping on the defensive. Since 1950 international communism has not acquired any land area or additional populations through aggression or subversion, excepting Tibet and North Viet Nam.

'It Must Be True — They're All Over'

Recently I read something in The Press about flying saucers and people from England were quoted as well as the United States. On our side of the border we have seen many objects in the sky that have never been explained to our satisfaction. There must be flying saucers with so many observations in widely scattered spots.

I agree that if Elvis would stop his earthly motions and sing hymns, he would sell more records. There are many more Christians than sinners. Elvis and his worshippers should remember God is watching all these movements. Judgment day is coming soon.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Raw Oats Fit for Man and Beast

Will the habit of eating raw cereals prove detrimental to the health in any way? (W.A.R.)

Answer—No, on the contrary, I recommend that everybody eat a handful of raw wheat, oats, or other cereal every day.

DR. BRADY

I prepared the homemade blood tonic as directed in your booklet and took it only about two weeks and feel like a different person. I never dreamed anything could do so much good ...my friends all exclaim when they see me.....(Mrs. B.H.M.)

Answer—On written request I'll send any reader a copy of the booklet "Blood and Health"—enclose 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Have you anything on excess gastric acidity? I often wonder what the gas has to do with it...(C.W.)

Answer—Gas has nothing to do with it. The word gastric means "of or pertaining to the stomach". The word Yankee means, in my lexicon "North American."

Your pamphlet on varicose veins gave me so much help. It is over a year now that I have been doing what you advised, and the sore spots have disappeared, even the lumps and brown spots. The doctor had told me only operation could do any good...(Mrs. H. J.)

Answer—Thank you, ma'am. Any reader who asks for it in writing and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope may have the pamphlet varicose.

Sir: I have not received the information for which I sent postage six weeks ago. (W.M.)

Answer—Please do not send postage stamps or postcards. If you expect an answer by mail, enclose a stamped envelope bearing your address. All letters, answered or unanswered, are burned at the end of each day. So it is impossible to recal what a correspondent may have written in a previous letter, as of course files of correspondence are not kept.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Golden Pen Is Christian Example

Does your club or church society want a dandy project that will revitalize the entire group? Then join the students in my Bible class and start spreading some verbal sunshine. Buoy up the morale of your neighbors in this Christian fashion. That's a quick way to raise this Earth another notch higher toward Heaven.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-342: Joe B., aged about 50, is the livewire president of the Bible class which I teach in Chicago.

DR. CRANE

A few months ago he decided to start a contest to whet the interest of the members.

And it really made a remarkable difference from the very start. For example, Mr. B. brought in six visitors the very next Sunday.

A young housewife also had five or six visitors with her and kept up her high rating on succeeding Sundays.

As the teacher, I also corralled our children when they were home from college on vacation.

Since I react very positively to competition, I even rustled up some elderly folks and drove around for them in my automobile before 9:30 on Sunday morning.

PRACTICAL PROJECTS

★ ★ ★

"We enjoy the Christian friendliness of this class, but we feel we are not doing enough. So can you offer us a project within our capacity?"

That extrovertive wish to help others is one of the first signs of a Christian, for he wants to go out and spread the glad tidings.

Most of the other religions of antiquity were selfish with the focus turned inward. Christ extroverted morality and sent his followers into all the earth to spread health, food, kindliness and good will.

So I told my class about Dr Karl T. Waugh's famous "League of the Golden Pen," which he launched many years ago at Beloit College.

All you need do to become a member thereof is sit down and write one letter per week to somebody whom you would not normally contact by mail.

Your letter is to contain praise or condolence, sympathy or good cheer, and you can even send it to total strangers.

Include your mayor or senator or the Boy Scout or Camp Fire Girl leader. Or the choir director in your church, or the ushers and the forgotten man — the faithful church treasurer.

Or write a letter to the life insurance salesman who coaxed your husband into protecting you wives and children via the insurance policy your husband took out in your favor.

You can actually work miracles in the lives of many shy people who are normally overlooked and seldom praised.

And it will be a tonic for your own soul to develop the positive habit of looking around your neighborhood for people to whom you can offer this "verbal bouquet" in your note of praise.

Americans are hungry for appreciation. And elderly folks are often lonely, yet try to hide this fact from the general public.

Thousands of young folks also write to me from our large cities with the heart cry, "Dr. Crane, nobody cares whether I live or die!"

So, if you want to be a Christian, then show other folks that you care whether they live or die. Pay them compliments.

Smile at people. And write encouraging letters to those who are shut-in or retired folks or faithful workers for good whom you have taken for granted far too long.

In the mad scramble for personal advancement and more money, too many of us fail to bolster the wavering courage of children around us. We don't express our appreciation and admiration of oldsters until the funeral.

That's too late. So join my Bible class students and help make this earth more heavenly by joining the "Compliment Club" and Dr. Waugh's "League of the Golden Pen."

Send for my booklet on these practical moral projects, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 30 cents (non-profit).

They can revitalize your whole church and will be a rare tonic for your own soul, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

New Aga Khan Worshipped by 20 Million Moslems

GENEVA (AP)—A handsome Harvard undergraduate with an athletic build, a serious turn of mind and three-quarters European blood has suddenly become leader of 20 million Asian and African Moslems.

He is the Aga Khan IV, now 20. His followers are the Ismaili Moslem sect, whose leadership sprang from the Prophert Mohammed in the 7th century A.D.

The job of Imam, the Prophet's vicar on earth for the Ismailis, carries with it great wealth, enormous prestige and — it appears by the will of his predecessor — the command to lead his Asian and African people safely and prosperously through the adolescent years of the atomic age.

Aga Khan III, before he died in Switzerland last week, apparently chose his handsome grandson to succeed him because of basic good character, the prospect of long life ahead and the young man's East-West heritage and education. The new Aga Khan is half English, a quarter Italian, a quarter Persian.

As Aga, the youth has no territory, no official political position. But in addition to the religious leadership, Karim's grandfather during his long and fabulous career set up the equivalent of a vast charitable and educational foundation and exerted great political influence on his followers scattered over two continents.

The new Aga has a winning manner. Over six feet tall, muscular, with slightly wavy chestnut brown hair and soft hazel eyes, he was considered a good dresser in his three years at Harvard.

He is generally smiling and speaks in low tones with a hesitant manner. He hasn't been hesitant in school, however, and earned acclaim as a bright student and all-round boy at his Swiss preparatory school, Le Rosey, and in Cambridge.

The one positive point Karim was willing to make in his cautious public statements after his grandfather's death, besides dedicating his life to service to his followers, was his earnest wish to finish at Harvard. His new duties may prevent it.

Unlike his 24-year-old uncle, graduate student Prince Sadruddin, Karim lived an inconspicuous life at Harvard, where he was known as "K". A Radcliffe girl he frequently dated said he often wore London-tailored suits, was extremely serious about his Oriental and Moorish history studies and became excited at football games.

★ ★ ★

Karim participates in several sports himself. He stroked a single scull, skied in the Alps and in Vermont, swam and played tennis at prep school and Harvard.

During the parts of the year spent in Europe, he has not had any special girl friends nor has he squired many in public.

He is the 99th spiritual leader of the Ismaili sect of the Shia Moslem denomination.

A family servant says that even when driving a fast sports car, the new Aga stops at the prescribed hour for Moslem prayers.

The most profound emotional experience he had early in life, the family said, was his father's divorce from his mother.

Karim is the son of Prince Aly Khan, the late Aga's elder son who inherited the family's prosperous stables instead of the title. Karim's mother was Aly's first wife, the former Joan Yarde-Buller, a British heiress through whom he is related to much of the English aristocracy.

The youth was 12 years old when Aly divorced his mother to marry movie star Rita Hayworth. Karim has always been very close to his mother and spent most of his vacation time with her.

Karim and his father also have shown an affectionate public regard for each other, and Aly was quick to express accord with his father's action in passing him by. Syrian Ismailis had expected Aly to become Aga and announced allegiance to him as soon as the old man died; Aly has announced plans to go from his father's funeral to Syria to cement this community's allegiance to Karim.

What Karim will do with the title, its responsibilities and the influence inherent in his position is a question of concern not only to his followers but also to governments of nations where Ismaili Moslems are commercially and otherwise important. The sect is spread from deep in Red China across Asia and the Indian Ocean littoral to South Africa. Some are in the Soviet Union.

Of immediate concern to Karim is his sect's educational and charitable work. When the old Aga took over, this was a spur-of-the-moment thing. He built up a vast network of maternity homes, educational establishments, hospitals and charitable trusts. These are supported by contributions, by investments and even by the stables.

The old Aga asked Karim to seek guidance in running the vast organization from the Begum, his French-born widow. The question now must be decided where she will live and where Karim will make his headquarters.

The family said the late leader found it best to delegate responsibilities in the East and maintain personal contact in Europe and the United States with financial and business leaders for the benefit of the Ismailis.

The new Aga may eventually make the same decision. He said this week, however, he feels that he should spend the near future getting to know those who venerate him as a direct descendant of the Prophet Mohammed by spending more time among his people.

Social Security Questions, Answers

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From C. B. B. of Phoenix, Ariz.: "My cousin who recently arrived from England plans to spend the next 18 months with me. He got a job about a week ago in a bank. Since the job is covered by Social Security, his employer is taking Social Security tax out of his pay. Is this right? He doesn't plan to live in the United States, so he'll never benefit from the tax he has to pay."

The law requires everyone in a job covered by Social Security to pay the tax. It makes no difference whether he's an alien or whether he'll ever benefit from Social Security.

From E. M. E. of Martinsville, Va.: "I have been drawing Social Security for almost a year now. My wife died in 1954. Should I remarry, would my second wife be eligible for Social Security upon my death?"

Yes, if your second wife has been married to you at least a year before your death. She wouldn't be eligible for payments as a wife—that is, while you're alive—until you've been married for three years.

★ ★ ★

From W. S. J. of Rock Hill, S. C.: "I'm an employe of the federal government and am covered by the civil service retirement program. I put in four years of active duty in the Army in World War II. Is this military service recognized as credit under the civil service retirement program?"

Yes, if the service was ended under honorable conditions.

From F. W. of Woonsocket, R. I.: "I have been told that I quality for Social Security disability payments. I'm now 61. Will my payments be more or less after I reach 65?"

The payments will be the same before 65 as they are after 65.

From S. E. of Toledo, Ohio: "I'm 68 and have never paid in Social Security. I'm desperately in need of money to live on. After reading your column, I believe you might be able to help me. What can I do?"

Chances are you're eligible for Public Assistance from your state. This aid will come in the form of cash if you are without enough money or resources to provide the essentials of living.

From B. S. T. of Albany, N. Y.: "Would you please tell me how much the operation of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance will cost in 1957 and the number of people working for the Bureau?"

The cost of its operation will be about 119 million dollars and it will employ nearly 21,000 people.

From Mrs. D. H. S. of Poplar Bluff, Mo.: "About three weeks ago I was injured in an auto accident and will be away from my job for about three months. Am I eligible for Social Security disability payments?"

No. One of the requirements to be eligible for Social Security disability payments is that the disability is expected to continue indefinitely. However, you may be eligible for workmen's compensation. I would suggest you get in touch with the nearest unemployment compensation agency in your state.

Asia to See Cult Dances From Haiti

Troupe to Perform Vodun or Voodoo Ritual Steps

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS)—East is going to meet West with a boom this month when Jean Leon Destine and his drum-beating Haitian dance group perform for Japanese audiences for three weeks.

★ ★ ★

Destine begins his tour in Tokyo on July 26, spends three weeks touring Japan, then takes off for performances in Singapore, Manila and Honolulu.

'VODUN' DANCES

★ ★ ★

"People have a misconception of the Vodun cult," Destine said. "They think it is connected with zombies and black magic. Vodun is a folk religion, originating in Africa and brought to the Caribbean by slaves. The word 'Vodun' means spirit."

Destine knows what he is talking about. A native of Haiti, he performs the Vodun ceremonial dances which he learned studying the real thing. He said the Vodun cult as brought over from Africa was tempered with the christianity the slaves found on the Caribbean plantations.

★ ★ ★

The cult is built around a central deity, surrounded by lesser "gods" or "saints" which intercedes for humans. It is to these minor deities that Haitian dances are performed.

THAT'S POSSESSION

That is where another misunderstood phase of Vodun comes in—possession.

"Dancing is done for a reason," Destine said. "You dance to call a minor deity to ask for help—good health, good crops.

"In most instances the deity answers the prayers by coming to the participant, mounting him as a rider would a horse and speaking through his mouth, telling him what to do. That's possession."

Needless to say, Destine is not "possessed" when he dances, but otherwise his steps and rhythms are identical to the real Vodun dancing.

★ ★ ★

Destine added that the "Voodoo' that Americans see when they visit Haiti is mostly fake, specializing in phony witch doctors and a parlor brand "black magic" where the "priests" sleight of hand with a tourist's dollar is lightning fast.

LIGHTS AND COLOR

★ ★ ★

Style World Still Aware of 'Mama'

ROME (INS)—After 50 years, the fashion world still remembers "Mama."

She's Mama Amabile Fontana, who today celebrated her golden anniversary as head of the world-famous House of Fontana which she founded as a young dressmaker in a northern Italian village.

After half a century, Mama (everyone calls her that) is very much active in the Fontana establishment in Rome, now run mainly by her three daughters—Zoe, Micol and Giovanna.

PURPLE DRESS

Mama Amabile (the name means lovable in Italian) says she cried before presenting her first creation 50 years ago when she was only 17. It was a dress in purple wool.

★ ★ ★

Now she has hundreds of orders to fill from well-paying clients over the world. While Zoe, Micol and Giovanna create the models, Mama handles the production in the workshop, staffed by 150 girls.

★ ★ ★

On older women Mama Amabile prefers violet clothes or ruby red. On young girls she likes fresh colors such as sea green or snow white.

★ ★ ★

Of all the fashions of the past 50 years Mama likes the present ones best of all because "I like the fashion that adds to the natural beauty of woman."

RIGID IN CORSETS

"When I was young, women used to look very rigid in their high corsets and when the 1920s came the waistline was around the hips and the skirts were very short.

★ ★ ★

"I did not like it because the wide top, coming completely straight and loose from the neck to the hips, made the women appear without bosom, waist or hips. Now, instead, the line of the dress does not hide these natural gifts."

Pine Lake Women Vying for Coveted Golfing Cup

Who will win the coveted Women's Director's Cup tournament at Pine Lake Country Club this year? That's what the 18 women who were successful in Thursday's 18-hole elimination for the cup would like to know.

★ ★ ★

ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

July 25 will mark the beginning of the semi-finals for this tournament which has been annually sponsored by the board of directors of Pine Lake since 1927. After that round only two golfers will remain and they will battle on July 26 for the much-sought-after award.

★ ★ ★

Playing in twosomes, accompanied by caddies, the women shoot 18 holes of matched play in each round of this low net handicap tourney.

★ ★ ★

This means that each golfer can deduct her established handicap from the total or gross score. Therefore, any feminine member of the club has a chance of winning the meet.

DOUBLE WINNER

But winning the contest more than one year is unusual. Only four women other than Miss Sharp have done so since 1927. Mrs. F. F. Brandt won the coveted trophy in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Activity at Pine Lake Country Club should be exciting on July 26 when the two finalists meet for their 18-hole match.

★ ★ ★

He is the son of Mrs. William R. Weber of Indianapolis, Ind., and the late Hugh M. Leaming.

★ ★ ★

Dorothy attended Kingswood School Cranbrook and was graduated from Abbott Academy and the University of Michigan. She received her master's degree in social work at Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

Her fiance is assistant pastor of the Fort Street Presbyterian Church, Detroit. He is a graduate of the University of Indiana and Union Theological Seminary.

★ ★ ★

Speed Up Melting

To speed up the melting and blending of cheese, break it, grate it, slice it or shave it into small pieces before you heat it. When possible, mix the cheese into a sauce before adding it to other ingredients.

Cream Guards Against Dry Skin

Usually heat is thought of as causing an excessive flow of sebaceous oils or olly sin. Actually heat and the action of the sun can cause dry or flaky skin, too. Lubricate dry skin with an emollient cream. Massage ever so lightly and allow to penetrate. Use cream type makeup base. Wash the face in warm water. Rinse in mild, natural skin freshener like good quality witch hazel. Pat dry with the fingers rather than rubbing with towel.

Can Resemble Vamp or Vampire Bat

Shape Draped by Baratta

★ ★ ★

The most outstanding dress in the "Baratta 57" collection was a tight-fitting black crepe marrocain strapless cocktail dress. The bare but decently modest top was trimmed with a wide band of black velvet ending in a back bow.

From beneath the velvet on each side fell a hem-length drape of black chiffon that could be held up to form bat-like, alluring "wings."

VAMPISH LOOK

The drape effect was carried on above the slightly dropped, unaccented waistline with the use of a few well placed, eased pleats and slightly widened shoulders. The sleeveless dress was accented by the use of just-above-the-elbow black gloves.

Telephone Friends Mark Mrs. Leonard's Birthday

On Henry Clay avenue there lives a petite woman who refuses to be called old. She is Mrs. H. D. Leonard who will be 98 years "young" on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leonard is blind and hard of hearing. It is difficult for her to keep track of the time and day in her sightless and almost soundless world.

PHONE HELPERS

For the past three years Mrs. Leonard has been calling Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for time and date information. The women who work for the company learned of her plight and have taken a personal interest in Mrs. Leonard.

★ ★ ★

Upon discovering that Mrs. Leonard was about to have a birthday, 10 women from Bell got together and gave her a party in her home Thursday. There was cake, ice cream and a gift from Mrs. Leonard's telephone friends.

We're looking forward to tasting a piece of Mrs. Leonard's 100th birthday cake two years from now!

Witch Hazel Cools Baby in Summer

Often a baby frets in summer just because he's hot and uncomfortable. Here's a cooling trick he'll appreciate. Hold a cotton square soaked in chilled good quality witch hazel at the back of his neck. It's safe and soothing.

Miss Van Hise Becomes Bride in Hills Service

Suzanne Bess Van Hise became the bride of Seymour Colen of Stamford, Conn., Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Van Hise of Shallow Brook drive, Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

Beauty of Age Often Robbed by Put-on Airs

Each age has its own beauty, and the beauty of the middle years is often more striking than that of the early 20's. But it can be undermined by an obvious desire to appear younger.

★ ★ ★

Some women express this desire through clothes that are frilly and shoes that are frivolous. They favor sunglasses decorated with daisies, ankle-strap sandals and bouffant skirts.

★ ★ ★

Other women express the desire to be youthful differently. They dress neatly and becomingly but turn coquettish at the first chance. Either way destroys completely the picture of a time of life that can and should be charming.

Dress Up Liver, Using Butter, Seasoned Flour

If liver doesn't head your list of "best-liked" foods, try cooking it this way! Dip the slices in seasoned flour and fry over moderate heat in a little hot lard until the liver is well browned but still tender and juicy. Remove to a hot plate. Heat a few tablespoons of butter in a small saucepan until it turns a light brown. Pour butter over liver, sprinkle with a little lemon juice and some finely chopped parsley. Serve at once!

Lighter Garments May Be Best for You

Correct Lingerie Flatters Figure

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The type of undergarments a woman wears and how they fit her make a great difference in the charm of her figure. Women who are not overweight, or only a little too plump, often look better in some of the lighter garments.

★ ★ ★

There is a new idea in girdles. The one I have in mind is quite light but restraining. However, it comes up only TO the waist. For the woman who requires some restraint at the abdomen and hips but has a fairly slim waist, this is ideal.

Often the longer girdle pushes the flesh up into a roll so that it makes her appear much thicker through the middle than she does with no girdle.

Care should be taken that girdles are not too high or that they are high enough. If you have one in between it is certain to create a roll which shows. If the girdle is high enough, the roll occurs higher up and is not usually so noticeable in your clothes because of the fullness of the blouse or top of the dress.

The half slip is preferable to the slip. It does not wrinkle, pull or crawl up when one sits.

If you do not require first aid at the hipline or the abdomen but have a little thickness at the waistline, one of the waist cinchers or a long bra is helpful.

MORE GRACEFUL

Today many of the lighter weight and lighter boned undergarments provide all of the pressure necessary. When this is true be sure to use one of this type since a woman is always more graceful when not too heavily boned and when movement is cofortable.

★ ★ ★

Brassieres should be carefully fit, not only because of your bustline but because of comfort. The straps should be short enough to support but long enough to avoid cutting into the shoulders.

Often slips wad up and wrinkle, thereby spoiling the effect of a close fitting gown. Half slips or underskirts (just to the waist) are preferable to the slip when feasible. They do not wrinkle or pull or crawl up when one sits. Therefore, they are more comfortable as well as more flattering.

Shirts and blouses should be closely fit over the upper hips so that they do not ruin the line by bulging or wrinkling.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Essential Daily Routine for Beauty and Health" which hits the most usual feminine figure faults, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Window Frames Scrubbed Clean Complete Work

Your house cleaning won't be complete if you permit your fresh curtains and sparkling windows to be framed by dirt and grime.

Scrub window sills and frames, both inside and outside the house, with soap or detergent leather. Start at the bottom and work upwards to keep the dirty water from trickling down onto still-dirty walls. Any streaks of concentrated soil created that way are hard to remove.

Space Determines Good, Bad Kitchen

Careful consideration of the amount of work space and the placement of utilities will more often than not make the difference between a good and a bad kitchen. In your enchantment with an eye-level oven-broiler unit and handsome cabinets in the family-centered kitchen you may overlook the fact that no allowance has been made for counter space on which to set down a piping hot roast or baked potatoes when you take them out of the oven. Be aware of this when you're planning.

Brigance

Dress Features Panels Extending Into Box Pleat

Brigance is a designer who makes the most of a simple line and an easy attitude, playing up beautifully executed design. Here, front panels on the bodice are continued into the skirt where they form an inverted box pleat, flanked with side pleats on either side.

This skirt treatment is repeated in back with three buttons sewn to the top-stitched waistline welting. The welting idea is used also on the slanted pockets, the triangular bodice crossover and on the very short sleeves.

Easy to make because the pattern is custom made and perforated for accurancy, it is charming in pique, linen, novelty cotton, shantung, plain or printed silks and even in very sheer wools or gabardine.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

To order Pattern 1258, state size, enclose $1. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address American Designer Patterns, P. O. Box 535, G. P. O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y.

Men Require More Love and Less 'Management'

Male Reader Advises Wives to Show Genuine Affection, Appreciation

By RUTH MILLETT

A man reader has some advice to offer women readers. Says he:

"You women wouldn't have to work so hard to try to 'manage' your husbands and to get them to do what you want them to if you would quit talking so much and just occasionally let your husband know you love him.

"You would be surprised at how much it means to a husband to have his wife come up and put her arms around him at some unexpected moment, or really kiss him goodby in the morning or hello in the evening, instead of giving him a formal little peck, or look in his eyes when he is talking to her instead of out the window or at a spot on the carpet.

"Give a man plenty of love and attention—not because of what you want to get out of him but because you think he is a pretty nice guy and living with him is fun—and you women won't have to worry your pretty heads about trying to manage us men."

Well, there it is, women. If you will just quit trying to outtalk, outsmart, and manage your husbands and concentrate on loving them "as is," maybe you can relax and quit worrying because your husband won't do this or insists on doing that.

★ ★ ★

If he knows without any doubt that he is loved, appreciated and admired, he may not require as much "managing" to be a satisfactory husband.

Why not give it a try? You haven't anything to lose.

Necklines open wide, sometimes partially filled in with white Windsor collar with black bow as a removable whimsy. But the plump junior usually has a beautiful natural throat and neckline and will look slimmer in open necks.

Fabric Colors Gauged by 'Sun Resistance'

Colors of fabrics, which normally are exposed to sunlight in the home or out of doors, are gauged by their "sun resistance."

★ ★ ★

Sunfast colors have high resistance to sunlight facing, and normal use will not cause noticeable color change. Sun resistant colors have good resistance in sunlight, but may fade slightly in normal use, so they should be protected from sunlight to prolong their life.

She Wants Neighbors to Pay Calls

Newcomer Yearns to Become Better Acquainted

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is there nothing a newcomer in a neighborhood can do to urge neighbors to come to see her? They seem friendly enough whenI'm out in the yard or at the shopping center but none has actually come to pay me a visit or invite me to their houses.

"I've never believed strongly in getting very familiar with near neighbors but at the same time living here on the outskirts of town it would be pleasant to be in a more friendly atmosphere."

Answer: This is extremely difficult because there is a definite prejudice against the strangers making the first move.

The only suggestion I can make is that when you meet someone in the shopping center and she seems inclined to be friendly, you might say, "I do wish some time when you are going by you would have time to stop in to see me," and you might even add, "I am really very lonely."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to pick up the shell of an oyster or clam after you've eaten the contents, and drink the juice? I don't think so but I'll need your support to back me up as I seem to be losing the argument."

Answer: I think this would depend on where you are. At a clam bar or at any very informal table, there would be no objection to drinking the juice out of the shell. But at a formal lunch or dinner table, it would be unthinkable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What about calling a widow 'Mrs. Mary' Doe when she calls herself that? I know it's not socially proper, but in an instance of this kind, what else is there to do?"

Answer. If you know that she calls herself "Mrs. Mary," you must, of course, call her this. It would be very discourteous — even though correct — to call her "Mrs. John."

How to Face Cruel Blow

By ANNE HEYWOOD

How do you handle a real crushing blow? When somebody you love gives you the gate, or a job you adore folds up, how do you take it?

I've been asking friends that question recently and I've had some wonderful suggestions.

One girl, whose one true love, broke the engagement, said, "I do two things in an effort to stay sane.

"I try to see a purpose in it, I try to convince myself that something better is in the books. And I get busy at volunteer work, helping convalescent children in the hospital.

"It keeps my mind off me and, each day, makes the ache a little less sharp."

★ ★ ★

Another girl said, "I got a new job the day after we were supposed to have been married. It protects my vanity — and that's important—and it gives me a new job to talk about, instead of an old love."

A FISHING TRIP

A man said, "When I lost the job I had had for 23 years — due to a merger — I despaired at first. Then I took a weekend fishing trip.

"When I got back, the self-pity was gone and things looked better. Right after that, I got another job.

"Maybe I'm superstitious, but I think if you feel good, good things come to you; but if you worry about it, nothing good comes."

Another man, facing the same problem, said, "It was an awful blow, and I felt nearly suicidal at first.

"I was over 50 and jobs at my level would be hard to find. I worried about my age, my wife and family and the mortgage.

★ ★ ★

"Then I took myself in hand and spent all Saturday doing a volunteer job for the church. That made me feel like a pretty high type guy, and with my new self-esteem, I found the job-hunting prospect not too bad."

HAPPENS TO MOST

Most of us face such a crushing blow, either emotionally or vocationally, some time or another in our lives.

★ ★ ★

When it happens it's wise to do something about it, to get active immediately. Otherwise self-pity and self-analysis can begin to tear us down.

In fact, it's a good idea to begin, right now, to plan a little routine for what you would do if such a blow came.

If you have the plan all worked out, chances are it will never happen!

'Silken Look' Summer Must Designers Say

The "Silken Look" is one of the outstanding Paris fashion features for Summer.

Despite varying hemlines and silhouettes, ranging from pencil slimness to rounded buoy shapes, the French fashion designers have agreed on one point: To be stylish and feminine, women should look and feel "silky."

It does not mean that only natural silk will be worn. The silken look also applies to fabrics of vegetable and mineral origin. And it appears in coats and suits as well as in dresses.

Patou, for instance, shows a casually elegant suit of black and white checked fabric. The material is a mixture of rayon and nylon and has the look and touch of heavy silk. Another suit fabric, much used by fashion designers in Paris, is pale beige with a light-brown hound-tooth check pattern. The material is hundred per cent wool but the check pattern has a silky finish.

Give Omelet Recipe for 'Outside' Sauce

Omelets are usually made with the sauce folded "inside," but here's a recipe for a delicious "outside" omelet sauce: Melt over the direct top burner gas flame 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, add 2 tablespoons flour and make a smooth paste. Add the liquid drained from 2 cans mushrooms, adding enough good broth to make 1 cup. Stir until smooth and bubbling. Then add the (chopped) mushrooms, minced chives, watercress, a touch of tarragon. Season to taste. Heat to boiling and pour over your piping hot omelet and serve immediately.

Teens Not in Know

Many teenagers seem to know very little about telephone manners. When a teenager visits a friend, all too often he helps himself to the family telephone, making call after call and chatting so long that the family can neither make nor receive calls.

Colors, Designs Promote Trend to 'Cook, Serve'

More and more busy homemakers are endorsing the new range to table cookware trend, now that new cookwares are so attractively designed as to be a conversation piece for any hostess.

All have colors that are fade-proof in spite of high oven or range-top heat. They are easily cleaned and scouring will not scratch them.

Also in the "cook 'n' serve" class are new porcelain enamel skillets of glowing reds, blues and yellows and other cookware items which double as serving dishes to bring the food piping hot to the table.

Tumble Dry Sheets

Nylon sheets won't be exposed to soot, soil or insects when they're dried in your automatic dryer. It takes only a few minutes to tumble them dry, fresh and sunshine-fragrant in your automatic dryer.

Always Launder Special Cottons With Extra Care

Glazed chintz, polished and embossed cottons can be laundered by hand or in the automatic washer, but treat them gently.

No cottons with these finishes should be soaked and use only lukewarm water in rinsing. Do not wring, twist or rub, and allow them to drip nearly dry, ironing while still damp.

These cottons can be washed in automatic washers with temperature controls and two-speed cycles. Use a slower speed and shorter wash cycle at a lower temperature to prevent excessive wrinkling.

If you dry glazed cottons in an automatic dryer, use one half the load at a low temperature. Avoid overdrying because it tends to put wrinkles into the material.

★ ★ ★

Glazed cottons should be ironed on the glazed side with a warm iron. Embossed cottons should be ironed on the wrong side over a turkish towel to keep the raised surface intact.

Press Suit Facings

Shoulder pads which are removable for laundering enable you to iron inside facings and shoulder areas of a tailored suit with ease. Slip the point of the iron into the seam section first, then press the facing following the grain of the material.

Services Slated at New Church

17 Charter Members Organize Landmark Missionary Baptist

Members of the newly organized Landmark Missionary Baptist Church, located in the Community Building on Squirrel road, Auburn Heights, announce the following services.

Sunday School begins at 10 a.m. with morning worship following at 11. Young people's group meets at 6 p.m. and the evening service is scheduled for 7. Prayer meeting is held at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

On April 20, Elder Martin Andrews of Flint met with a group of Auburn Heights citizens to organize the church.

Charter members were Mrs. Mary Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Prevette and son, Ronald; Elder and Mrs. Floyd Townsend and daughter, Nola Jean. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Zegelien, Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. McQueen and daughters, Peggy and Nancy; Mrs. Hite Camp; and Elder and Mrs. Andrews and daughter, Brenda.

Orchard Lake Church to Celebrate Dedication

The Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, will celebrate the dedication of the original chapel in the worship services at 9 and 11 a.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

In the late 1860's, worship services were held in the homes of summer residents of the Orchard Lake area.

Due to the devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell who resided on Apple Island, work was begun on the present chapel situated on land given by Peter Dow. The church was organized in 1871 and the building in its original form completed and dedicated July 18, 1874.

The grandfather of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was among the pastors who served the summer congregation.

A Sunday School organized in the Westacres area during the 1930's transferred its meeting place to the Orchard Lake Church. Year-round services were begun in 1939.

The present congregation organized and affiliated with the Presbyterian Church USA in 1943. The Rev. Barney D. Roepcke served as pastor from 1943 to 1956.

The present church program includes two worship services and two Sunday School sessions on Sunday, a women's organization which functions through eight circles, two youth groups, a Men's Council and a "Kuples Klub."

The musical program involves five choirs with a total enrollment of 150 voices. The present membership of the church is 623.

The sanctuary was recently remodeled and refurnished. Future plans call for the completion of a three level education building and a manse in the Orchard Pointe subdivision.

The Board of Trustees will meet Monday evening and the Session will convene Tuesday.

Mrs. John Emmert is serving as an advisor next week at the Presbyterian Junior High Camp at Greenville.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

DR. PEALE

Last summer for several weeks I stayed at the same hotel in Switzerland as Chief Justice Earl Warren of the United States Supreme Court. I found him a delightfully gracious and interesting man.

That part of Switzerland is one of the most beautiful summer places in the world but, unfortunately, we were there in a very rainy season. As you know, there is just nothing you can do about rain when you're on vacation but accept it in good spirit. When it rains, it rains; and, when it's foggy, it's foggy, and you just have to make the best of it, or ruin your holiday. We had lots of both rain and fog on this particular occasion.

One evening I was standing outside on the porch chatting with the Chief Justice. "I wonder how the weather is going to be tomorrow," I mused.

"Whatever the Lord gives us tomorrow I'm going to settle for," he answered.

"I will too," I told him, "but there are a lot of other people around here complaining about this rain."

"Yes," he said. "I've heard them, too. But just listen to that rain, will you? Did you ever hear a more musical note than that?"

I listened as it fell gently on the roof. "It does sound musical," I agreed.

"It's the softest rain I ever felt." He put his hand out from the protection of the porch. "Feel it; isn't it soft? And smell it."

I felt it. "That s u r e is soft rain," I said. And the cool, clean smell of the rain was sort of refreshing.

He nodded toward the mist-enshrouded hills. "Look at that billowing fog rolling up from Lake Lucerne.

"Do you like these fogs, Mr. Chief Justice?" I asked, thinking that I had him there.

"I'll tell you," he said, ever the loyal Californian. "This is pretty good fog, but it isn't up to those of San Francisco, not by a long shot. Nevertheless, I'm enjoying this holiday. As l o n g as it rains and is foggy, I don't have to go around sightseeing, wearing myself out. I can rest and read and think. It also affords time for some pleasant visiting with friends. I'm having a good time."

Actually, I began to have a better time myself after my talk with him. One thing we all must learn is t h a t there's no use fretting about things, letting the little things bother us. Serenity and happiness depends upon the cultivation of an attitude of urbane imperturbability. Take the attitude that it's all part of God's plan. If things can be changed, change them. If there's nothing you can do about a situation, then you'll just have to cooperate with the inevitable.

For all I know, you may be having just such a vacation as I have described right now. It may be foggy and rainy where you are, and you may have decided your whole vacation has been spoiled by the weather.

But in this, and of course in the more important things of life, a great secret is to learn to take things as they come and not fret about them. It's only a little thing, the weather is, and we must never let little things bother us and get us down.

As I said before, the person who cooperates with the inevitable gets the inevitable on his side. So on vacation turn the weather to good advantage. For example, how long is it since you read a good book? When did you last look into the Bible? How long ago was it that you sat down with your own thoughts and really took stock of yourself?

When was it that you last prayed? Actually, in the long run, you can get more real good from any one of these activities than from anything you could do on the most beautiful of days.

Learn to adjust to God's plans — and the little things will never bother you.

Dr. N. W. Dalenberg to Supply in August

Maynard Johnson, chairman of the board of deacons of Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron and Mark has announced that the Rev. Dr. Nelson W. Dalenberg, pastor emeritus of the Warren Avenue Presbyterian Church in Saginaw, will be the pulpit supply at Bethany during the month of August.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Dalenberg served this past year as interim pastor at Bethany until the coming of Dr. Joseph I. Chapman in April.

Since his ministry here, Dr. and Mrs. Dalenberg have made an extensive tour of Europe, returning early in July.

The other services and activities of the church, such as Sunday School, youth meetings and Prayer Meeting will continue during the month of August on the same schedule.

Dr. and Mrs. Chapman and family will leave July 29th for the east where they will visit relatives in New York State and spend three weeks at Ship Bottom, N. J.

During August Dr. Chapman will serve as guest minister at the Greenwood Baptist Church in Brooklyn; the First Baptist Church in Syracuse and the Berean Baptist Church in Bridgeton, N. J.

They will return to Pontiac Aug. 28th.

Tomorrow Pastor Chapman will speak on the theme, "Life's Great Bridges" at morning worship.

For ever, O Lord, Thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.

Woodhull Lake Site of Baptismal Service Sunday

A joint Baptismal service will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at 4402 Park Island Dr., Woodhull Lake, by the Pontiac area churches of the Nazarene.

Participating will be First, Zion and Parkdale churches, all of Pontiac, and the Clintonville Church of the Nazarene of Drayton Plains.

Candidates will be baptized in Woodhull Lake by pastors, Kenneth A. Hutchinson, Robert A. North, Wayne E. Welton and Orville Ferris. The Rev. Mr. North will speak.

At the Eastern Michigan Assembly of Nazarene churches held this week at First Church, two new organizations, were reported. A congregation has been started at Temperance and another at Flint in the Westgate area.

Shows Big Increase

According to information from the American Assn. of Fund-Raising Counsel, religious construction in the first quarter is 17 per cent above the same period last year.

More than 4½ billion dollars has been spent in new religious construction in the United States in the past decade.

Charges Liquor Ads 'Brainwash' Americans

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)— The Methodist Board of Temperance charges liquor advertisers with spending more than 400 million dollars a year to "brainwash the American public" into thinking drinking does no harm.

Imports to Top 1956

NEW YORK (INS)—The National Trade Council said that a study of foreign trade for the first half of 1957 indicates that U. S. merchandise exports for the year will run about $19 billion, or 10 per cent ahead of 1956.

A mid-year review of international transactions made public by the council's balance of payments group, estimated that commercial imports should reach a value of $13 billion.

These import and export levels will be all-time highs.

Sudsy Williams Washing Dishes on Resort Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)— Gov. Williams' son is up to his elbows in soapsuds. He is a hotel dishwasher on this resort island.

Island friends have named him "Sudsy," more or less in keeping with his father's nickname of "Soapy," derived from the Williams family toiletry business.

Gary, a tall, personable boy with a ready smile, speaks well of his employment.

Merry Anders Explains Failure of Brief Marriage

By JAMES BACON

That's brief, even for Hollywood. However, Hollywood had nothing to do with the break-up, she claims.

"On the contrary," she explains, "My husband was in television production. He was more apt to understand the problems of an actress."

She talks frankly on why her marriage to John Stephens broke up, not as an advice-to-the-lovelorn expert, but in the hope that others may benefit from her mistakes.

"I was 20 and an only child," she says. "My husband was 26 and also an only child. Neither one of us was old enough to get married. We just didn't know what was involved."

She believes that 20 is a crisis year among girls. They're still children, yet they believe that if they are not married by the time they're 21, the parade will pass them by.

"I almost got married at 17 to a high school cheerleader, but I backed out at the last minute. I had more sense at 17 than I had at 20."

Another mistake, she feels, was the choice of a municipal judge to perform the ceremony.

"Things might have been different if we had been married in a church," she said.

Merry said she hadn't been married a week until she knew that she had made a mistake.

"Then when I did leave for good," she says, "I found out that I was two weeks pregnant when we split up." Merry now lives with her 16-months-old daughter and her mother in a San Fernando Valley home.

'Secret' Stamp Use Reduced

Wilson Curbs Number of Government Officials Empowered to Classify

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has sharply reduced the number of officials empowered to use the "top secret" stamp and ordered an end to classifying information already known to the Russians.

Issuing a lengthy directive carrying out recommendations of the Coolidge Committee on Classified Information, Wilson observed that trying to withhold data that is already at large "is futile and only serves to generate disrespect for the security system."

The secretary deprived top Pentagon officials and field commanders of their power to delegate the authority to use the "top secret" label. One estimate was that this would reduce the number of persons holding such authority "from thousands to hundreds."

The directive bans use of the security system to hide information that "might tend to reveal administrative error, or inefficiency, or might be embarrassing" —except where the national safety is actually involved.

It also prohibits withholding information merely because this would reveal differences between the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Wilson's directive was his second "implementation" of recommendations submitted by a civilian committee headed by former Assistant Defense Secretary Charles A. Coolidge.

The committee, however, also recommended "A determined attack . . . on overclassification" and a cut in "the number who are authorized to classify."

Wilson's order will confine "top secret" authority largely to the Pentagon and to supreme headquarters overseas, according to his spokesmen, although the authority is extended also to "the commanders of major field and fleet command or forces . . . as designated by the service secretary concerned."

Gar Wood Industries Gets Federal Contract

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Gar Wood Industries, Inc., of Findlay, Ohio, and Wayne, Mich., announced it has received a ten million dollar government contract for 295 twenty-ton truck cranes.

The units will be built at the firm's Findlay plant. The contract was awarded through the Chicago procurement office of the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Gar Wood has been the major supplier of the big truck cranes for the Army and Air Force since 1950.

Despite Little Interest, Barbara Becomes Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Barbara Nichols keeps fighting it off but it's forcing itself on her and it's winning.

We refer to that mixed-up something-or-other so stiffly known as "stardom" and the word Barbara uses to describe about everything else also fits here. The word is "Crazy!"

"Real crazy!" says Barbara, talking about the wonder of it all. "A year and a half ago I had so many bills. Now I got all my bills paid, and I got a new car. All of a sudden they got my name on a marquee and it's even spelled right. What happened to me anyway?

"And the crazy part of it is I didn't even want it. I'm not one of these dedicated dames. If I don't get movie jobs, so all right, I'll work in a five-and-dime.

"I think I can act as well as some of the other no-talent tomatoes in Hollywood. But the craziest things keep happening to me.

"I go on personal appearance tours. They got the limousine and a sign that says 'Barbara Nichols, Welcome to Milwaukee! The motorcycle cop's there. He loves it. He makes it into town in a half hour on the wrong side of the road."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Sid Caesar has five B'way show offers . . . Is Defense Secretary Wilson set to leave the Cabinet? He's shipping some of his belongings out of Washington . . . Steve Allen tells the audience at his TV show, "The best seats aren't in the balcony; they aren't in the orchestra. They are in front of the TV set in the saloon next door."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A local showgirl described her rich but boring boy friend: "The trouble with his money is that he comes with it."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: When Liz Taylor has the baby, Rob't Q. Lewis assumes extravagant Mike Todd won't give out cigars — he'll give out tobacco plantations . . . That's earl, brother.

Way Found to Study Stresses in A-Reactor

BOSTON — Scientists have found a way to see and study the pressure stresses inside a nuclear reactor. A model of the reactor's pressure vessel, made of a special plastic, is subjected to stresses that show up as colored patterns under polarized light. Heating of the plastic model permanently sets the patterns for detailed study.

Red Skelton's Ill Son Throws Coins in Fountain

ROME (AP) — Nine-year-old Richard Skelton threw a handful of coins in Rome's fabled Trevi fountain last night and said with a grin: "That means I'm sure to come back here again before I die."

Legend holds that a visitor will return to the city if he drops a coin in the fountain, but the comedian's red-haired son is suffering from leukemia, and doctors have said he has less than a year to live.

Claim Margaret Is Not Engaged

LONDON (AP)—Some London newspapers reported somewhat haughtily today that rumors had been circulated abroad that Princess Margaret might marry Lord Patrick Beresford. They dashed chill waters on the accounts.

Lord Beresford, 23, and three years Margaret's junior, flew into London yesterday from Dublin. Before leaving the Irish city, he told newsmen:

"There is absolutely no truth in the rumor I'm going to London for the announcement of my engagement to Princess Margaret."

The Daily Express, published by Lord Beaverbrook, gave the engagement rumors page one play today, pointing out they had been circulated in America and that no engagement announcement had been forthcoming as forecast.

Don't Rush Flooring Job

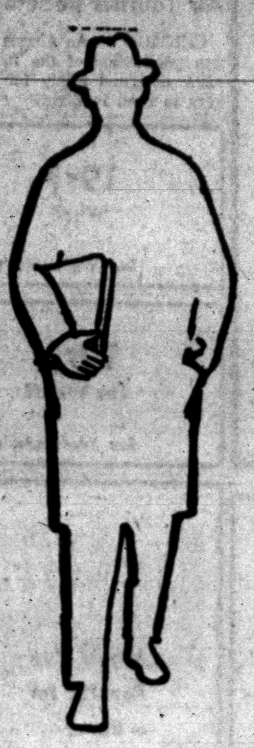

Caution! If you lay hardwood flooring during spring, summer and early fall, when relative humidities are running high, it is suggested that an acclimatization period of two to three weeks be allowed after finish maple or birch flooring has been nailed in place and before any sanding or finishing is started. In other words, don't rush the sanding and finishing job.

Hilltop House Now Home for Keaseys

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

After years of living on busy Walton boulevard where the noise of civilization is always loud, the Waldron Keaseys have moved to a hilltop house in the rolling countryside east of Holly. Their spacious five-room home has a backdrop of trees and a breath-taking view from the front windows.

The Keaseys are now only 15 minutes from their work. Their 12-year-old son, John, goes to the Holly schools. Eighteen-year-old Marilyn just graduated from high school and will probably be commuting to Flint Junior College this fall. Another daughter is married and lives in Drayton Plains.

At the top of the long steep driveway parking space has been leveled off and graveled. No one ever uses the front door; most guests enter the brick house through a tiny porch and into the breezeway.

This is a whatchamacallit room. Mrs. Keasey says they haven't decided what to name it. Breezeway is too informal, for it is truly a room. But it's also a passage way. The floor has linoleum on it in a red tile pattern.

The walls are paneled in knotty pine and the ceiling in plywood squares. On one wall there is an aqua bed sofa with built-in bookcases above it. Across the room there is an attractive cherry desk with brass hardware.

INSIDE WINDOWS

A comfortable easy chair and a standing lamp complete the furnishings of this room that can double as study or guest room. Because the room has no outside windows (half of them overlook the front porch, the other half the back porch), bright draperies with an Aztec design in them make the room lighter.

The rear porch which is the size of an average room has a terrazo floor. The walls are brick like the exterior of the house and permanent windows make the upper part of the walls. Furnished in gayly covered porch furniture, this room opens out into the back yard where there is a barbecue fireplace and an umbrella table.

A second door in the breezeway leads to the kitchen. This is a long narrow room at the back of the house. At one end there is a picture window to offer a pleasant view to the family at the breakfast table.

The round plastic topped table is light colored with brass trim and wrought iron legs. The matching wrought iron chairs have cushions and back rests of gold and white patterned plastic. These chairs are trimmed with gold cord.

The linoluem floor has a line design of red, green and blue on a beige and gray background. Cupboards are natural finished birch. Counter tops are green.

Between the kitchen and living room is a minute lavatory. The man who planned and built this house made use of every bit of space. Fixtures are wine and walls are yellow.

From the picture window in the living room there is a magnificent view of rolling country, with Holly in the distance. Because of the position of the sun the day we photographed the Keasey house we were unable to get this view. Mrs. Keasey keeps her draperies pulled way back so that everyone can enjoy the scenery.

The living room, hall and bedrooms are all carpeted in the same material. Two shades of gray and wine mingle in a leafy pattern. Walls which were dark green when the Keaseys moved in are now light colored. The painters mixed gray and the rose of the draperies to get a warm tone resembling light sandalwood. The drop cove ceiling is white.

FOR THE MUSICIAN

Both a small organ and a spinet piano have a place in the Keasey living room. Marilyn is an accomplished musician who hopes some day to teach music.

The large sofa on the wall opposite the window is beige. One large armchair and matching stool is gray. An antique armchair covered in tapestry holds a place of importance.

At the end of the room nearest the kitchen a drop leaf table is placed in front of the windows. In the corner there is a mahogany corner cupboard. Matching chairs have yellow seats.

ROSE AND GREEN

In the master bedroom the walls are pale green. Doors in here, as in the rest of the house, are natural finished birch. The floor-length draperies have a rose pattern on them.

All furniture is Ramseur mahogany, this time finished in a light tone. The bed has a bookcase headboard. The bedspread is white quilted taffeta with a scattered rose pattern; the underskirt is pale green taffeta. On the double dresser there is a beautiful pair of crystal lamps.

The bathroom is large, with room in it for a regular vanity table. The color scheme is beige, green and spice brown. The beige taffeta curtains have an interesting trim of green fringe.

You should see the storage room in the Keasey basement! One entire room is lined with cupboards. Everyone in the family, it seems, has space in these storage units.

WORKSHOP IS SHELTER

The male side of the family has a well-equipped workshop in the basement. Separated from the rest of the basement by a screen door, this room has an outside grade entrance as well. Because it is completely underground it is a perfect tornado or bomb shelter.

The Keaseys have occupied their new home since last November. It had one owner before them, a retired couple who built the house for themselves, then decided to move to Oscoda. It is a well built house and the Keaseys count themselves lucky to have found it. They find that they like country living.

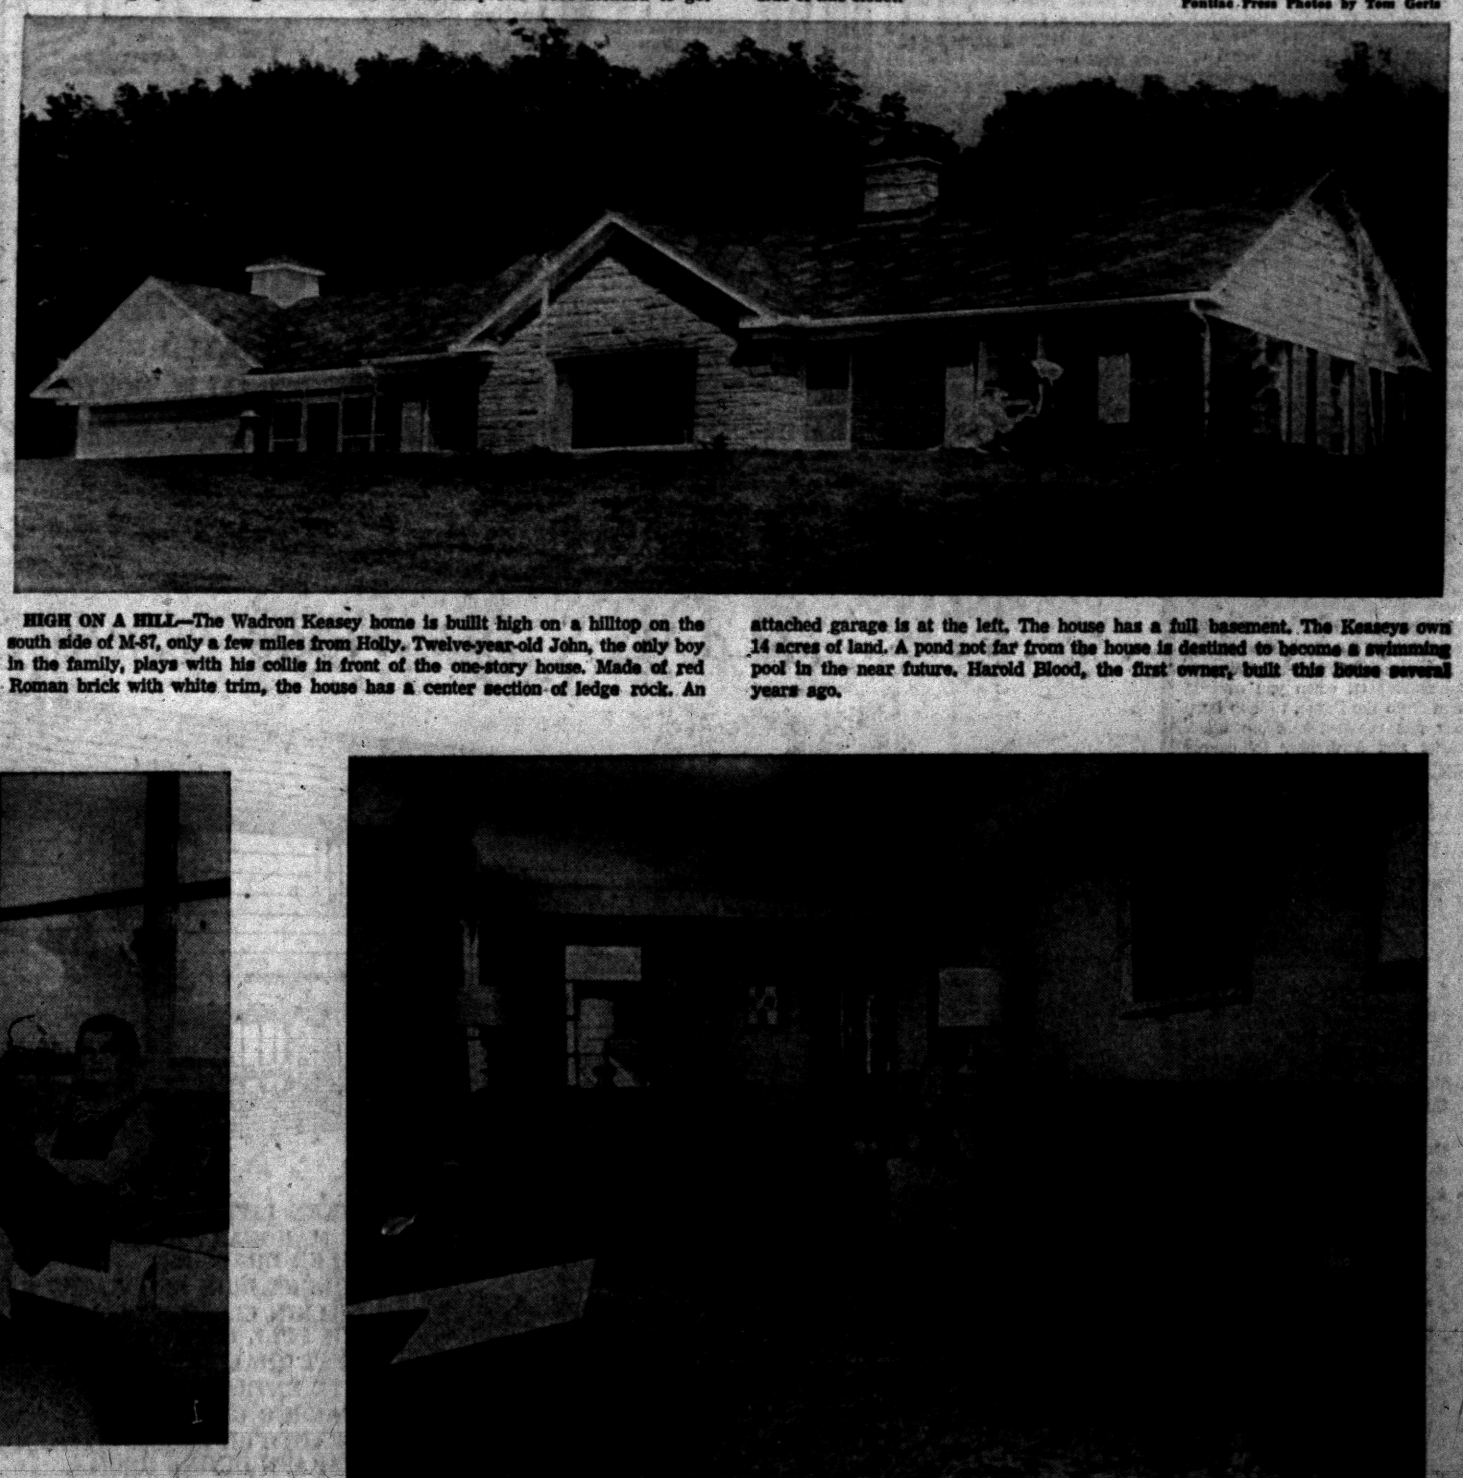

HOME ORGAN—There is both an organ and a piano in the Keasey living room. Furniture is arranged so that everyone can have a view out the large picture window. The gray in the rug and the rose in the draperies were blended to get the right color paint for the walls. The ceiling is white. At the rear of this room is the front hall and a coat closet. There are shelves built into the wall on either side of this closet.

Pontiac Press Photos by Tom Gerla

HIGH ON A HILL—The Wadron Keasey home is built high on a hilltop on the south side of M-87, only a few miles from Holly. Twelve-year-old John, the only boy in the family, plays with his collie in front of the one-story house. Made of red Roman brick with white trim, the house has a center section of ledge rock. An attached garage is at the left. The house has a full basement. The Keaseys own 14 acres of land. A pond not far from the house is destined to become a swimming pool in the near future. Harold Blood, the first owner, built this house several years ago.

OUTDOOR LIVING ROOM—This large porch is really an extra living room. Steel windows and screens make it usable many months of the year. The floor is terrazo and the walls are the same Roman brick as the exterior of the house. Porch furniture in bright colors makes it a cheerful place. Mrs. Keasey (left), relaxes on a sunny summer afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Oberndorfer of Wauwatosa, Wis. The family dog gets into the picture too.

AT HAMMOND LAKE — A new model home is open daily from 10-8 on Lakewind drive, off North Hammond Lake road. Houseman-Spitzley is offering a 1409 square foot home of Colonial brick design for $27,850. There are three bedrooms, two full ceramic tiled baths, plus living room, dining room and kitchen. The garage is attached. There is a full dry basement. Other features are baseboard hot water heat, a fireplace, an automatic kitchen and built-in glass front china cabinets. The lots average 120x150 and include privileges on Hammond Lake. The model has been furnished by Stewart-Glenn and Molls of Pontiac. Accessories are by Castle Gift Shop.

Keep Housework Easy for Summer

Make the most of the summer months this year by "summerizing" your home for easy housekeeping, urges the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

"Summerizing" means much more, GAMA explains, than storing woolens and furs, taking down winter draperies, pulling up rugs and putting slipcovers on the living room furniture. It means tucking away silver, copper and brass art objects which require frequent polishing, and delicately fluted or ridged porcelain and china ornaments that become dustcatchers with all the windows open in the summertime.

If a piece happens to be functional as well as decorative, GAMA believes it is better to substitute something from the five-and-dime that can stand "rough" treatment. For example, instead of using silver ashtrays and cigarette holders which tarnish almost overnight, you can get some attractive glassware for a dime that needs only occasional whisking through warm soapsuds.

Your silk lamp shades too can be temporarily shelved and paper shades from the five-and-dime substituted. These can be wiped clean with a dust cloth in seconds and this eliminates the chore of vacuuming silk shades, which is time consuming.

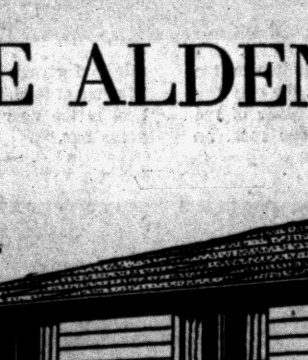

The kitchen is the only room where "summerizing" means adding, as well as subtracting, for work-saving. GAMA recommends a rubber mat to rest your pots and skillets on when you remove them from the flame, to help keep your gas range free from black marks and scratches. Of course they rub off in a minute with a mild cleanser, but why make unnecessary work for yourself? You can buy rubber mats in several sizes and colors to suit your kitchen decor.

But the recommendation of "stripping" for easy housekeeping applies to the kitchen as well. Actually, just a bowl of fruit or a few potted plants are all the ornamentation you need for the summer, so put your accessories away until the fall.

GAMA advises a room-by-room inspection to see what you can get along without during the hot weather and believes you'll be agreeably surprised with the clean, cool look you'll achieve. You may even decide that you can live the year 'round without many of the odds and ends that have crept up on you through the years, and take up so much of your time on thorough cleaning day!

A door warps because moisture has been absorbed by the wood, so be certain that all parts of the door, including edges and ends, are painted or varnished.

Sloping Shelf Stores Tricky Canned Food

Do you feel like a halfback fumbling for the football every time you reach for a canned vegetable?

One kitchen designer has come up with a wonderful solution to the problem. A cabinet of sturdy Douglas fir was especially designed with sloping shelves for canned goods.

Cans can be laid in rows on their sides with labels in view and then, when one can is removed, another rolls forward into place. No more shuffling to see what's in back of the foremost can.

The shelves can be enclosed by doors built of the same fir, finished naturally so that its lovely color and grain add to the decorative scheme of your kitchen, and your other cabinets and built-ins will look lovely if made of the same material.

Cabinets Made 3 Ways

Basically, there are three kinds of wood kitchen cabinets — base units which are set on the floor and against the wall, wall cabinets which are "hung" on the wall above the base units, and special purpose cabinets such as sink fronts, corner units, cabinets for built-in appliances, utility closets and others. Units in all three kinds are available in a wide choice of sizes and styles.

Complete Drain Stoppage Calls for a Specialist

Of all the occasional inconveniences to which homes are subjected, a clogged drain line is one of the most common and most irritating.

In the case of a complete stoppage, the home owner will be well-advised to call for the services of a specialist because the repair job involves both special skills and tools.

But if the drain has merely slowed down in its rate of flow and is not entirely stopped up, repair is still within the do-it-yourself realm of possibility provided certain safeguards are observed.

Almost all types of drain pipe chemicals are designed to generate considerable heat when mixed with water. This heat creates a boiling action which melts the grease and scours out the drain pipe.

Chemicals of this sort—available on the market—are effective as long as the stoppage is caused by grease or other material which can be attacked by the chemical and the heat. These solvents are useless when used against metal objects, rags, or other solid items.

There is another point to remember in connection with the use of such solvents. To be effective, the solvent must be able to reach the point of stoppage before the reaction and the accompanying heat has been lost.

If the drain has become completely clogged, it is not advisable to use a chemical. It will not be effective and is dangerous when a motor-driven "snake" is used—as it probably will have to be. A person may suffer serious burns to the skin and eyes even after the chemical has been dormant for hours.

In this connection it is interesting to note that a non-poisonous enzyme in dry powder form has been marketed that is said to liquefy sewage solids. Formerly used by municipal, military, and industrial sewage disposal plants, it is now offered for home use.

Special varnishes, designed especially to resist long immersion in salt or fresh water and to withstand exposure to marine atmosphere are called marine varnishes.

License Laws Improve

Recent improvements in real estate license laws by state legislatures have been characterized by the National Association of Real Estate Board as making it possible for "more americans to get better service from the real estate profession than ever before." NAREB consistently has supported such legislation.

Green Lumber Has Use

Green lumber is better than seasoned lumber in making forms for concrete work. Well-dried lumber draws in moisture from the concrete and will be subject to warping. If well-seasoned lumber is the only kind available, be sure to give it a coat of oil before the concrete mixture is put inside the forms.

Girls' Room Improved by Built-in Furniture

"Where can I do my home work? It's too noisy out here where the rest of the family is playing."

How many mothers have heard this constant refrain from the high school miss intent on making the honor roll? And, how many mothers have wished for a place where daughter could study, read and relax away from the family?

Best solution to this ever increasing problem, in this day when television is apt to be taking up the time of the younger family members, is to combine bedroom and study together so that each 'teen age child will have his own private study.

This is really not too difficult a job. You can build an entire wardrobe, study desk and shelves above the desk on one wall of a bedroom and this entire unit need not take any more than two to three feet of floor space along the wall.

If the home is just being planned, the job is easy. If you want to build this installation in a bedroom in a home already completed, just make sure you locate it along the shortest wall to leave maximum floor space. This wardrobe, desk and shelving can be built inexpensively from clear grades of Douglas fir lumber.

A good idea is to use sliding doors in the wardrobe because hinged doors would take up floor space when open. One side of the wardrobe should be equipped with hangar rod so there is room to hang formals, coats and full length dresses.

Along one side of the wardrobe it is a good idea to build a cabinet of drawers up to about three feet and allow for storage compartments above. This drawer unit will replace a dresser in the bedroom and is out of sight when the sliding doors are closed.

The desk can be built in the corner of the room away from traffic between the wall and the end of the wardrobe. It should allow for plenty of knee space and probably should have a couple of shallow drawers directly under the desk top which can be covered with formica or Douglas fir which can be heavily lacquered to withstand wear.

The shelving above the desk should allow plenty of space for work and probably the lowest shelf should be at least 18 inches clear of the desk. Spacing of the shelving will depend on the items the junior miss wants to have on display. She may want the shelves for books, dolls, trinkets or games.

Some of these bedroom studies are painted to match the color combinations or woodwork in the bedroom. Still others are most attractive where the Douglas fir lumber cabinets have been finished natural. Generally a filler is first used, then a clear varnish or lacquer.

In some cases where the home owner desires a suggestion of color but still wants to retain the beauty of the fir grain, a stain is applied to the freshly sanded fir installation and then wiped off. The soft portions of the wood pick up the stain color, whether it is pink, green, blue, yellow, red or any of the pastel shades, and the hard grain of the wood stands right out in beautiful relief. It is advisable to apply varnish to this stain finish to give a patina to the wood and to give it better wearing qualities.

Most of these wardrobe study combinations will eliminate the necessity for very much furniture in the young lady's room. A study chair, bed and a casual chair are really all the furniture needed.

Provide Enough Storage

Simple built-in storage space for toys, games and hobby equipment should be provided in the family room. A long, low cupboard against one wall, with sliding door and waterproof ceramic tile countertop, combines storage space with the ideal snack bar. Such a compact arrangement makes it easier to conduct dancing, ping pong and other activities that require sizable clear areas.

Water softeners quickly pay for themselves in savings, which various authorities estimate may amount to over $16 per month for

Follow Experts' Tips on Laying Subfloor

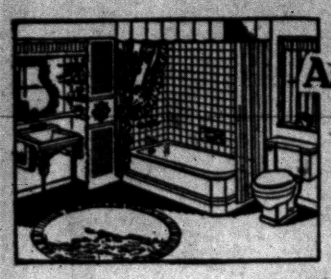

That New Home—The sub-floor! For best results a subfloor of softwood boards surfaced S4S and square edge is strongly recommended. The boards should be no wider than 6 inches, nailed with two nails to the board on each bearing, with a spacing of ⅛ inch to ¼ inch.

The subfloor should be laid diagonally of joist or floor sleeper. This permits the maple floor to be laid at right angles to joists or sleepers.

The subfloor should be securely nailed. It should be thoroughly dry and not contain more than 14 per cent moisture content.

New Furniture Keeps Owners in Dizzy Whirl

Basically, two steel plates separated by a ball bearing "race," revolving devices had become standard equipment in office chairs long before they were first designed into household furniture.

Incorporated originally into revolving rockers, occasional chairs and hassocks, revolving fixtures won approval by bringing easy comfort to everyday living and entertaining. Housewives found that with revolving fixtures, chairs could swing, permitting the occupant to gracefully turn and face the person talking within the group. New conversational groupings can be made quickly by swinging the chairs.

The rotating television table became a "must" when TV entered the home. It provided an unobstructed view of the picture from any point in the room without moving heavy pieces of furniture or the set itself. The swivel devices built into coffee, patio and picnic tables and lazy susans facilitated serving at parties.

NEW PIECES BEING PLANNED

Furniture manufacturers are regularly planning and designing new revolving pieces for the home, using fixtures developed and produced by The Seng Company, Chicago. These versatile devices are now being designed into game tables that add to the enjoyment of games which require a board or other special playing surface. A turn of the table lets each player study his move from the most advantageous angle without leaving his chair.

When attached to the shelves of storage cabinets, revolving devices allow valuable items to be stored safely in the rear, yet place them within reach when they are needed.

Seng swivels are now used in a variety of revolving household items including telephone chairs, game chairs, kitchen and work stools, vanity ottomans, dinette chairs, home desk chairs, revolving book shelves and hobby racks.

Today's homemaker will find a large selection of revolving pieces for every room. These will not only brighten her home, but also her life because step-saving is one of the main benefits of revolving furniture.

Paint Has to Be Tough

Only tough finish chemical coatings will do for the surface of the interior cylinder of a washing machine. It must withstand extremely hot water, strong soaps, dyes, washing powders and bleaching compounds. It must be hard enough to resist abrasive action of buttons, pins, buckles and particles of sand.

Ohio Moves to Curb Building Vandalism

A number of states have passed or are considering legislation to cover vandalism on home building sites, says Practical Builder magazine.

Ohio, for example, has two suggested bills. One would force parents to pay for damage done by children, and the other would call for court action against both children and parents.

SECTIONAL DIVIDER—For rooms that must be divided into areas, or for artificially created areaways, this sectional-divider is a perfect answer. From the "Legacy" collection designed by Merton L. Gershun for American of Martinsville, this is a four piece unit consisting of two sectional parts, a corner table and the inset book-shelf. The whole has the appearance of a custom designed "built-in" and provides interest on the back of the grouping.

American Scientist Helps Counterpart From Hungary

CAMP KILMER, N. J. (INS) — Laszlo H———, a 26-year-old Hungarian chemist, has crossed another boundary line in his flight to freedom and a life of dignity.

He is about to enter the U. S. scientific community with its promise of a productive career beneficial to him and to the country that gave him refuge.

A few months ago he struck out across a snow-covered field and crossed the Austro-Hungarian border, a refugee from the stifling hand of tyranny gripping his homeland.

Single, sturdy and intelligent, he was soon caught up in the freedom pipeline stretching from Austria to Camp Kilmer, N. J.

DOCTORS TAP

At the refugee reception center doctors poked and tapped him, immigration men interviewed him carefully, the Red Cross gave him a complete change of clothes, U.S. Employment Service recorded facts of his college training and chemical research.

Then the camp's booming loudspeaker summoned him to report to Building 1305, an overheated, wooden army barracks. Now he is being interviewed by an American scientist three years his senior.

The American is Dr. Martin Balser, a Harvard-trained physicist on the staff of Massachusetts Institute of Technology's famed Lincoln Laboratory.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

Dr. Balser, and others, volunteering their services to help the National Academy of Sciences (NAS) cull out the top professional talent among the refugees and get them resettled into suitable jobs.

SKIPS WORDS

Dr. Balser skips the words and focuses his attention on the mathematical equations and chemical formulas. They are in the international language of science.

Dr. Balser needs no translator to tell him that the Hungarian has done good work, acceptable by the most rigid American chemist's standards.

Dr. Balser scribbles his "evaluation"—Laszlo is recommended for placement in the Rutgers University language and orientation program in nearby New Brunswick.

★ ★ ★

After this eight-week introduction to American life and language, Laszlo will be listed as a "likely candidate" for an NAS fellowship that will enable him to continue his chemistry work at some American university.

It's the Garage's Turn

Fastidious home-owners are making the interior of their garages a suitable setting for the family automobiles. They are finding it important too to have the color scheme harmonize with the color of the house. Painting the floor with a floor enamel facilitates cleaning. The woodwork needs a primer and finishing coat to preserve the wood. Built-in racks or bins can also be cleaned and maintained more easily when they ware painted.

Light Timer Foils Thieves

This summer, an automatic timer for turning lights "ON" and "OFF" will add peace of mind to many vacationers. The Intermatic Time-All, a handy, portable appliance timer made by International Register Co., Chicago, is especially designed to handle that task. The Time-All helps protect vacationers' unoccupied homes by turning lights "ON" and "OFF" every night just as if the family were there.

Police officials and insurance companies recommend light protection as the best way to discourage burglars. To provide the fullest protection for the unoccupied home, the lights should be controlled by an automatic timer.

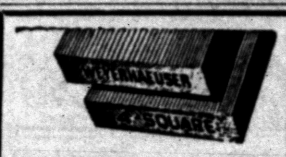

Remember, too, to tilt the blinds enough to prevent observation from the outside; discontinue newspaper and milk deliveries; and have a neighbor pick up your mail and look the house over each day if you're leaving for a weekend or longer.

Some families carry the "lighting" deception a little further by using two timers; one controlling a living room lamp, and another on an upstairs or bedroom lamp. The second timer turns the upstairs light "ON" as the living room lights turns "OFF."

Such a system creates the impression of "movement" in the home. Another idea is to plug a lamp and radio into the timer, thereby protecting with light and sound.

The Time-All is available from appliance dealers and department stores in several models. It's smart and modern, designed to blend in with any decor. The timer is equipped with a six foot cord set and measures 5 inches wide, 4 inches high, and 2½ inches deep.

Architectural Firm Is Enlarged, Staff Expanded

Smith, Tarapata, MacMahon, Inc., Architects announce enlargement of their offices at 894 South Adams in Birmingham and at the same time expansion of their organization. Linn Smith, president of the organization, announced the new changes to broaden the architectural and engineering services concurrent with the first anniversary of the incorporation of the firm as follows:

Almon Durkee, A.I.A. is to be in charge of specifications, building products research, scheduling and budget control. Mr. Durkee was formerly General Manager and an associate member of the firm of Victor Gruen and Associates, Inc. where he was in charge of the office and personnel as well as scheduling and budgeting of all projects. Mr. Durkee was architectural co-ordinator for Northland Center.

James R. Newbold, chief draftsman, is responsible for general administration of the architectural department including coordination of the structural, mechanical, electrical and kitchen working drawings. Mr. Newbold has been with the organization since its inception and was with the previous organization known as Architect Linn Smith A.I.A. He is a graduate of the Architectural School at Notre Dame and was formerly with several other architectural firms in Detroit.

William V. Hewitt, chief field superintendent, is responsible for all aspects of field supervision. Mr. Hewitt has been with the organization as field superintendent and formerly was assistant chief superintendent with Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc. in Detroit.

Gordon Hoyem, chief mechanical engineer, is directly in charge of all mechanical and electrical work. Mr. Hoyem was formerly principal member of the firm of Valentine and Hoyem, Architects and Engineers in Marysville, and he has a wide experience in institutional and industrial work covering all phases of design, production, supervision, and administration.

New Booklet Shows Peg Board Storage

Dozens of ways to attractively add to the storage space of your home through the use of "Peg-Board" panels are illustrated and described in a new booklet.

It tells how best to use the perforated hardboard in the kitchen, workshop, bedrooms, closets, and garages and even as an aid in interior decorating.

A free copy of the booklet can be obtained by writing to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting the home-owners' guide to "Peg-Board" panels and fixtures.

Water Serves to Heat or Cool

Ranch house, Cape Cod, split-level, with or without a basement, whatever your preference in architecture, water is an ideal medium for cooling as well as heating.

★ ★ ★

In the winter, heated water is mechanically circulated through the system by a small electric pump. In the summer, water is cooled so that it will pick up heat and carry it away.

In the winter, water is heated by a boiler located in the basement, utility room, or garage. The heat may be distributed by baseboards, panels convectors, or radiators.

In the summer, water is chilled by a water chiller which may be located alongside the boiler or may be installed at any other convenient location.

Combination units may be used for the distribution of the cooled air in summer and heated air in the winter. These combination units are circulated in winter with hot water and in summer with cooled water. The same piping system and pump are used for both heating and cooling.

The room units may be installed initially for heating only and the water chiller added at any time thereafter. In this way the benefits of forced hot water heating are obtained at once and the comfort of summer cooling may be included whenever the budget permits.

Or the heating and cooling functions may be entirely separate. Fan-coils are installed in the space provided by a dropped ceiling in a hallway. This space acts as a distributing chamber for cooled air. No sheet metal ducts are needed.

ELEGANT PATIO—How do you turn an ugly, grass-won't-grow backyard into a charming patio area without much expense? Just install a decking of stout Douglas fir two-by-eights laid on a firm foundation. Leave room for rain water to run through. You can build low benches of fir and place them at convenient locations. Children keep out of the dirt, and enjoy this smooth playing surface.

Good attic ventilation will avoid the excessive temperature rises common to enclosed spaces.

Color in Your Fence Provides Contrast

Want a bit of variety in a solid estate type fence? Then build small frames of 2x6 Douglas fir or western red cedar and nail them firmly to solid fence wall at odd heights and distances along the fence. Paint the frames in bright oranges, reds and yellows and use them for shelves for potted flowers and plants.

The solid estate type fence of either fir or cedar may be left to weather or it may be painted some neutral color. The contrasting color of the square frames will make your fence distinctive and beautiful.

In homes equipped with kitchen exhaust fans, it has been found that there is enough outside air seepage through walls, around doors and windows to take care of normal air supply requirements.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS SPLIT LEVEL has the front entrance at the same level as the garage, an arrangement which provides better grading at the front — particularly on fairly flat land. The plumbing is concentrated for economy in one partition. It is plan Y18AP7509 by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, 32, N. Y. It contains 1,065 square feet not including recreation room or garage.

Boy's Tree House Must Be Safe Perch

A boy will revel in a tree house, even if it's only eight feet up in an apple tree!

Usually scrap lumber provides the framework for such a perch. It should be securely anchored, of course, to the tree in a way that will not damage it.

A safe, comfortable floor for the "crow's nest" is readily included by bottoming the side framework with Masonite nailed to pieces of scrap lumber. Face the screen side of the panel up to provide anti-slip footing.

Berkley to Have $5 Million High

Roof-Ceiling Made of 2x4s

How would you like to have ceilings in your home that would need no upkeep for 25 years?

Van Evra Bailey, a Portland, Oregon, architect, member of American Institute of Architects, who has a workable imagination, has been designing homes for Portland residents with just that thought in mind.

The Bailey-designed homes are open area style residences, and the ceilings are made of laminated 2x4s which form not only the ceiling but the roof deck of the home.

The Bailey laminated roof-ceiling is four inches deep, has good insulation value, keeping the house cool in summer and warm in winter, and the shingles can be nailed directly to the top side. There is no framing necessary.

The very lowest grade of either Douglas fir or west coast hemlock 2x4s can be used. When nailed together one against the other they have excellent structural strength.

★ ★ ★

But, it is in the beauty and low upkeep field that Bailey really likes his laminated roof. He prefers rough sawn 2x4s, for the rough texture of the narrow edge of the exposed wood creates a wonderfully interesting ceiling which needs only a single coat of soft sandstone stain. Some time in the far distant future you may wish to change the color scheme, but the upkeep is nil.

Utica High Pool Ready in 1958

Dome Shaped Addition Claims International Recognition

UTICA—The dome shaped auditorium with its L-shaped swimming pool, whose design won international recognition at the 20th International Public Education conference at Geneva this year, is expected to be ready for high school students here next February.

The additional Utica High unit is costing Utica Schools approximately $985,000.

The modern auditorium, with its "cyclaramic" stage, will seat 700 persons. Behind the stage will be classrooms for choral and instrumental work, plus six practice rooms containing make-up facilities for use at times of dramatic productions.

Also behind the stage, three storage rooms and a special room for ensemble work are being built.

Foresighted designers fashioned the L-shaped swimming pool so that the length of the pool might be used for instruction and racing purposes while the short arm of its proportions might be used safely, at the same time, for diving.

Five racing lanes are included for use in interscholastic competition.

Families Attend Wedding

Lapeer Educator Marries

LAPEER—Only the immediate families and a few close friends witnessed the marriage of Mrs. Arnold Kruth to G. Mortimer Becker on Thursday evening, at eight o'clock.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gelach of Lapeer.

After a Canadian wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Becker will be at home after Oct. 1, at 2630 North 118th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. Becker has been music educator at the Lapeer State Home and Training School for 31 years. She has been active in the choir and church affairs of the Monroe Street Methodist Church. The bridegroom is from Wauwatosa, Wis., and is an investment broker associated with the Lon L. Grier Co., Milwaukee.

DELORES A. MATT

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matt of East Lansing announce the engagement of their daughter, Delores Ann, to Lloyd Cocking. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Cocking of Oxford. An August 24 wedding is planned.

REV. PERRY DEYARMOND

About 160 attended a farewell party at the Ortonville Baptist Church this week for Rev. and Mrs. Perry Deyarmond, who are leaving for a pastorate at Edmore (Mich.) next week after being here for four years. Since Rev. Deyarmond's arrival here a new addition of seven class rooms, a pastoral study, a choir loft and a baptistry were built. Also, the Sunday School attendance has increased by 89 members.

Bond Issue Vote Due November 10; Site Is on Greenfield

BERKLEY — Construction of a new senior high school at a cost of $5,000,000 will get under way here this fall, providing voters approve a bond issue to cover the cost.

★ ★ ★

The bond issue to be voted on November 12.

Robert Hurley, Administrator - Assistant to the Berkley Board of Education said this morning that the recommendation for the construction of the school was made by the board's Advisory Planning Committee, after long and careful study by the committee of Berkley's classroom needs.

The school will be located on a 29-acre site at Greenfield and Catalpa, Southfield Township, on which the board already holds an option. Additional acreage will be bought at the site as soon as Berkley can afford it, Hurley said.

The school will have 80 teaching stations, which will include a library, cafeteria, auditorium, swimming pool, gymnasium and multi-purpose room for combined academic and public use.

The school, which will accommodate up to 2,500 students, slates an opening date of September 1960, Hurley added.

Home Alarm Guards Against Fires, Burglars

For fire detection the automatic system, developed by engineers of Minneopolis Honeywell, continuously monitors temperature conditions in thirty separate areas of an average house, from attic to basement. Unsafe temperatures sound an alarm at a master panel. For prowler protection, the system incorporates a special emergency help when needed.

Miniature temperature detector elements are strategically located throughout the house to provide the fire protection. Generally the house is zoned, with ten detector elements to each zone. Abnormally high temperatures that mean fire set off the central alarm, also indicating the location of the fire.

To frighten away prowlers or to summon outside help in other emergency situations, the householder can set off an outside alarm. It's activated by pressing an alarm switch similar to an ordinary wall switch. It can be located anywhere in the house, although bedside installation is recommended.

Fungus in Wood Makes Design

Thanks to a minute fungus Called Fomes pini, the nation's architects and decorators have been handed a wonderfully textured, new material for home design.

At the lumber yard it is called white pocket or white speck lumber. But the name doesn't do justice to the exciting, new building feed.

White pocket lumber has a rich, antique character, says the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which has been busy lately explaining to architects and home builders just how this charming, new products came about.

white pocket lumber is being used today for light framing and for sheathing, for the white pockets as allowed in each grade have no appreciable effect on the strength and stiffness of the lumber.

West coast sawmills are now being asked to produce white pocket lumber to make select paneling, especially for use in family rooms, dens and libraries where antique finish is highly desired. Much

Now, this wonderful creature of nature has taken on glamour and character. Usually found in mature Douglas fir trees, Fomes pini forms little white pockets in the wood of the growing tree, and may stay in the tree for a hundred years until it is cut. According to scientists at the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, the fungus then dies, for it must have growing wood on which to material.

Dairy Products Use High

Precision Springs Coated

Many precision springs must be given a clear coating as a protection against rust, or a pigmented enamel for identification purposes. Besides the clear coating, one large spring manufacturer applies more than 25 different colors of enamel to springs. The centrifugal painting machine which does the job is fully automatic in operation.

Farmers and Labor May Battle in '58

WASHINGTON (INS) — Indications of a major legislative battle next year between organized farmers and organized labor are growing stronger in Washington as farm groups raise new protests against alleged racketeering in food transportation.

Some farm associations — notably The Farm Bureau — are protesting that "make-work" practices and "featherbedding" in trucking and handling crops are adding to the housewife's grocery bill and reducing the farmers' bank balance.

The issue may come to a head next January, when the Senate Labor Rackets Committee reports on the results of its spectacular investigations into corruption in the teamsters, textile, bakery and other unions. Several senators have already discussed potential bills to curb union power.

The AFL-CIO has taken steps to oust corrupt union bosses in an effort to head off drastic legislative action. But big labor's bargaining position is admittedly weaker as a result of the Racket Committee's disclosures.

Triggs recited a long list of union practices the bureau thinks are hurting farmers, but centered his scorn of the unloading fee system he says has been revived in the Middle Atlantic market areas and is spreading rapidly.

Lumber Dealers Special Courses on Job Estimates

Twelve colleges and universities are conducting special courses early this year to teach employes of retail lumber yards how to do a better job of serving home owners and other customers, according to an announcement by Paul R. Ely, president of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Because of broadened public interest, the curriculum will place increased emphasis on methods of estimating home improvement jobs and helping advise the do-it-yourself customer," Mr. Ely said.

"The courses which last from 14 to 30 days or more are being given for the 11th consecutive year. To date, 7,000 individuals have attended 184 courses.

Floor Pillows All the Rage

When the television set moved in to take over the American home, it brought with it a whole new style of living. Informality became the keynote in entertaining, with popcorn, lounging pajamas and the frozen TV dinner following in the wake of the magic screen.

A new accessory to this way of life is fast becoming popular. It's the "floor sitter," a large pillow 20 to 30 inches square, that provides extra seating in front of the TV screen.

Filled with foam rubber or cotton, these practical additions to living room, family room or game room come in modern fabrics and colors that add a gay note to the decor. They're also useful for any informal party or get-together.

Trimly tailored, with cord welts and long zippers, floor sitters are available in fabrics like corduroy, felt or textured cottons with a silk or linen finish. Many are woven with gold metallic accents.

Solid colors range widely, the most popular being high-fashion shades like gold, orange, turquoise, silver and copper. Varied patterns include two-tone harlequin or car and-dice patterns.

Michigan Leads Nation as Home Owner State

The 1950 census showed that 64 per cent of houses in the Wolverine state were owner-occupied. Today the figure is nearer 75 per cent, Practical Builder says. More than 90 per cent of these houses are single, detached dwellings.

Fake Flowers Dot Desert for Bee Study

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Department specialists are making the Arizona resert bloom with automated plastic flowers to learn more about how bees make honey.

The experiments could have far-reaching results by teaching us how forage and fruit crops are pollinated and how to protect bees from insecticides that kill other insects.

The scientists chose the most barren and isolated spots they could find near the Southwestern Bee Culture Laboratory at Tucson, Ariz., because they could control the number of flowers available by making them themselves.

The studies will be valuable to every farmer who raises plants that are pollinated by bees. It will also help bee keepers directly by determining the best places to locate bee hives for top honey production.

Marcia Kay Gark Wed in Hadley

ORTONVILLE — Marcia Kay Gark and Pfc. Robert Rockafellow were united in an afternoon marriage at the Hadley Federated Church. The Rev. John Tolly officiated before 150 guests at the altar banked with baskets of white glads, mums, palms and lighted candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of the Harold Garks of Ortonville and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rockafellow of Flint.

When the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, she was wearing a floor-length gown of ivory crystallette fashioned with a hoop skirt. She wore lace mitts matching her lace-trimmed tulle collar. Her shoulder length veil of net was secured by a band of seed pearls. She carried a purple orchid on a white Bible with white streamers.

Her sister, Sara, was maid of honor and flower girls were Jacolyn Rockafellow of Goodrich and Charlotte Stewart of Hadley, cousins of the couple. They were dressed in street-length dresses of white net and carried colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations.

Delbert Smith of Flint was best man and ushers were Gerald Irwin and George Simon, both of Flint, and Wayne Grove of Hadley.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the bride's home on Hadley road, where a buffet supper was served.

Snead Out, Burkemo in PGA Semifinals

AP Wirephoto

Franklin Hills Pro Beats Jay Hebert 2 and 1

Slammin' Sam Ousted by Finsterwald; Wally Meets Lionel Hebert

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

DRAYTON—Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills is being recognized as PGA poison when it comes to match play.

The husky blond, who has never won a major medal play tournament, is back in contention for the 4th time in six years in National PGA championship at Dayton.

He disposed of Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., 5 and 4 in the morning round and yesterday afternoon he continued his match play success by defeating, Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., 2 and 1.

★ ★ ★

In the other matches an assortment of big stars fell along the way, while a couple new faces moved into the picture for today's semi-finals against Finsterwald and Burkemo.

In the morning round against Ransom, Burkemo took the front nine in a sizzling 33 before the match ended on the 14th, and for 31 holes yesterday he was 6-under par.

Burkemo won the PGA title in 1953 and finished runnerup two other times.

Snead played miserably on the first nine of his match with Finsterwald. He went out in 39 and was three down. He lost the 10th, but then birdied 14 and 15 to cut the margin to two, but Finsterwald birdied 17 and ended it.

Winner of the championship will receive $8,000 and runnerup $5,000.

Experience Pays Off

Mrs. Weiss Wins 5th Title

By H. GUY MOATS

Wiry little Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint yesterday afternoon demonstrated the value of experience in links tournament play, when she crushed a first-time finalist for the Women's Michigan Amateur championship, at Orchard Lake Country club.

The Flint CC star won her fifth tourney title with a 9 and 8 victory over Miss Margie Watkins of Grosse Pointe. The little redhead grabbed a two-hole edge on the first two holes of the arduous title grind, never relinquished her advantage to the end, which came on the 28th green.

By virtue of her win, Mrs. Weiss now shares a spot with the veteran of many state title champaigns, Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit Golf Club. Mrs. Higbie went out in an early round.

Steady, conservative golf, good pacing of playing tempo and all-around use of her large tournament experience on the part of the new champion posed too much of a handicap for Margie to overcome. However, she never gave up, kept driving away to make a battle of it up to the 23rd hole. At that time Margie was six down. Margie's six on the 24th lost the hole and her two fives on the 25th and 26th cost two more. The Grosse Pointer wasn't counted out yet, however, for she took the 27th with a five, as Mrs. Weiss carded a double bogey six.

Both women went over par on the 28th, but Margie's six cost her the hole and closed out the championship.

With the Wolverine Women's Open tournament coming up next week, it was expected most of the top-fliters in the Orchard Lake event would be among the contenders. However, both Mrs. Weiss and Miss Watkins said they had not made up their minds Friday, and had to study the possibility a little more.

Championships were also determined Friday, over 18-holes, for five flights. A championship flight consolation was won by Mrs. Bruce Hilkene who defeated Helen Grinell.

First —Mrs. Joseph Koss (WMGA) def. Mrs. Charles Fox (WMGA) one up 21 holes; consolation, Mrs. E. B. Payne (CCD).

Second—Mrs. William Hellstine (Barton Hills) def. Mrs. Art Redmond (consolation, Mrs. S. W. Nunneley (Forest Lake).

Ho Hum--Yankee Lead Now Is at Six Games

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

It's getting to be just a question of how far away the Yankees will get in the American League pennant race.

The New Yorkers have been gaining steadily in recent weeks and there appears to be no sign of a letup in the near future.

Casey Stengel's gang moved ahead of the 2nd place White Sox by six full games last night by hammering Cleveland 9-1 as Chicago stayed on its losing kick bowing to Boston 5-2.

Detroit regained its winning ways to down Washington 4-1, and National League castoff Billy Loes won his 10th game for Baltimore, beating Kansas City 4-2.

The Yankees scored two runs in the 1st on Mickey Mantle's RBI single and a bases-loaded walk by loser Don Mossi and kept adding to the lead along the way as Whitey Ford won his 5th game in six decisions with relief help.

Ford had a three-hit shutout going until the 7th when Gene Woodling homered. A recurrence of shoulder troubles forced the little lefty out of action. Bill Skowron blasted a three - run home run for New York.

Ted Lepcio, who got into the game in the 2nd when Billy Klaus was injured, slammed a three-run homer in the 3rd to provide enough runs to beat Billy Pierce. Ted Williams later swatted his 27th circuit. Willard Nixon won No. 7, Pierce is now 13-7.

At Kansas City, Loes neatly scattered seven hits to outpitch Ned Garver. He had a shutout until Vic Power's double drove in a run in the 7th. Woody Held tallied the other on a roundtripper in the 9th.

Junior Loop No-Hitter

A no-hit pitching performance by Jim Green and some steady scoring gave Drayton Drug a 9-1 triumph over Rocco's yesterday in the Waterford Junior Softball League.

Phils' Player Hurt

Ortonville's French Was Hitter

Remember the Sports Stars of Yore?

(This is the ninth of a series of articles about outstanding athletes from Pontiac and Oakland area and what they are doing today. We feature today Joseph French, one of Ortonville's sports stars. The series will be continued next week.)

A man whose name always enters the conversation when Ortonville residents get together and discuss the area's former strong town baseball teams is Joseph French.

FRENCH

And he may get right back in the center of sports activities there in the near future if everything works out all right.

"I am hoping to start up a town team here again next year. I've had the itch to get back into sports," said French today looking back over the three Tri-County titles his team won in five years.

He started a town team then and now hopes to revise it again. "Sports is my hobby. I follow the games closely, especially the Tigers," he explained.

Born on a farm near Everett 41 years ago, Joe left school after the 8th grade to help at home. His first valuable experience in baseball was with the Everett town team where he played the outfield.

He later moved to Pontiac and played on several outstanding teams here while working for Pontiac Motor where he is now a press room foreman. French was on four teams, managed by John Abel, that played in the national semi-pro tourney.

His greatest year was in 1944 when he hit .411 and played on an all-star team against Mickey Cochrane's All-Stars from Great Lakes. They included such stars as Schoolboy Rowe and Virgil Trucks.

★ ★ ★

"I remember I missed winning the batting title by two points that year. Lloyd Brazil won it with .413. I was a pretty fair long-ball hitter," commented Joe. (Brazil now heads the Athletic Board of Control at the University of Detroit).

French became active in Ortonville sports after moving there in 1947. He earned "manager of the year" honors one summer in the Tri-County and also was among the top hitters.

Serving as a volunteer fireman along with his regular job keeps him plenty busy but Joe still finds time to play some softball with his children. One of them, Randall, 14, has the makings of becoming a future Ortonville High star. He enters the 8th grade this fall.

Jets Win 10-0 in 'A' League

Falkenhagen Two-Hits Giants; Nine Errors Make it Easy

The Michigan Giants, fresh from an upset of Shaw's, were helpless against the two-hit pitching of Ron Falkenhagen and committed nine errors to drop a 10-0 contest to the Pontiac Jets in Class A baseball last night.

It was the 2nd successive mound gem for Falkenhagen, who flipped a no-hitter his last time out. The Jets gave him a three-run cushion in the first frame and were in command all the way.

Falkenhagen gave up two singles and three walks while striking out 11. He had men on base in six of the seven innings but always worked out of it. Gene Cox and Don Russell had two hits apiece for the victors.

Lion Rookies Report Thursday

Football—in 5 Days

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

You couldn't tell by the thermometer, but in five days football will be in the air around the Pontiac area.

Twenty seven rookies are expected to report next Thursday afternoon to Cranbrook school as the Detroit Lions open training activity for the 1957 season.

Coach Buddy Parker has also invited fullback John Henry Johnson, obtained recently from San Francisco, and army returnee Dick Kercher, former Tulsa University halfback, to the early sessions.

The early birds will undergo two days of indoctrination, lectures and movies and will go through physicals before drawing their equipment for the first of actual drills slated for Sunday morning July 28th.

The veterans of the team will report to camp Monday July 29th and the first complete team workout is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon the 30th.

League rules limit a team to nine weeks of practice prior to the first regular season game, except for the world champion New York Giants who must prepare for the All-Star game August 9th.

Parker has summoned Johnson to report early in order to give the big fullback the advantage of the skull sessions before all the veterans move in.

Quarterback Jerry Reichow, who will be number one understudy to Bobby Layne is also expected to report a couple days earlier. He will arrive in camp on Friday.

★ ★ ★

Three of the top Lion rookie choices will be missing Thursday. Tackle John Gordy of Tennessee, halfback Terry Barr of Michigan and end Steve Junker of Xavier are currently working with the All-Star squad, and they will join the Lions August 10th.

Pat Oleksiak, a former draft choice from Tennessee will return from the service soon and the halfback will enter camp about August 4th.

Among the other top rated newcomers who will report early are Norm Masters, former Michigan State tackle who played one season of Canadian football, Gordon Malloy, outstanding halfback from Miami who is attempting to come back after being out of action for a year because of an All-Star game injury in 1955.

The rookies will go through two workouts on Sunday the 28th and Monday. The sessions are closed to the public.

Police Regain IL Lead

They managed only two hits but they made them count for as many runs in nipping Franklin Products 2-0 in a 1st place battle. State Hospital nipped Dostal 4-3 in the other IL contest.

A walk, stolen base and double by Fred Stormer scored one in the 1st and the other followed in the 2nd when Harold Risner singled and moved around on a steal and two errors.

Franklin, which now trails by one-half game, had four hits, including a double and triple, off winner Elmo Burgess but could not dent the plate. Burgess fanned 10, three in succession following a triple by Bob Langoon in the 2nd.

A run in the 6th produced the Hospital triumph on singles by Tom Davis and Vincent Long.

In the National League, Eddie's Bar whipped Oxbow 7-2 to go over the .500 mark with an 8-7 record. A scorekeeping error listed Pontiac Select-A-Drink as a 9-8 winner over Local 653 but it was later discovered the final score should have been 8-8. The game will be made up at a later date.

★ ★ ★

Four games are slated for Sunday. Shaw's meets Stadium Inn at 7 and Louie's vs. Eddie's in the nightcap at Beaudette. At Northside, PSAD battles Buettner's and the Police play Lane's.

Jackson Track Has Busy Slate Planned

JACKSON—Harness racing shifts from Wolverine to the popular Jackson Raceway Monday night for a 24-night stand through August 17 and once again the trim half-mile plant west of Detroit presents an outstanding official family.

★ ★ ★

Leon A. Slavin, president and general manager of sulkydom's fastest growing track, has acquired the top standardbred authorities to preside over his mid-summer session.

John Ducharme of Chicago, will serve as presiding judge and state steward for the Michigan Racing Commission while Don Brown of Adrian and Loyde German of Northville act as associate judges.

Pontiac Motor Team Shoots for Trophy

Pontiac Motor golf team takes a crack at the Flint AC Sparkplug aggregation today at Davisburg course, for possession of the Detroit Hydramatic trophy, now held by Flint. GM Truck's crew, mentioned as opponents of the Sparkplugs, will get a shot at the trophy later in the season, as will Fisher Body's squad, if present plans mature.

Ed Wasik and Nick Cantor faced Flint's George Duker (Flint pro) and Hank Jameret in the first match this morning. Play is on a medal basis, with many prizes awaiting the winning team and top individuals.

Tracy Signs Contract

Fullback Tom Tracy has signed for his second season of play with the Detroit Lions.

Regatta Sails Flap

Sailors Whistle for Wind

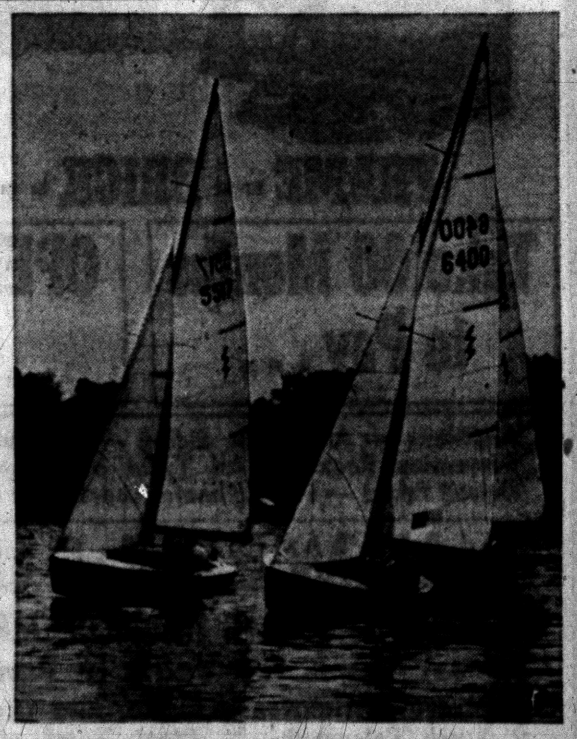

Skippers of the 36 speedy lightning sailing craft, clustered at the Cass Lake site of Pontiac Yacht Club for the Michigan District Regatta today were "whistling for a breeze."

The wind was entirely absent yesterday when the big sailing event of the summer in this area was supposed to have been under way. Friday's two scheduled races were set for today, with a doubled-up program to absorb the postponements.

First race over the three-mile triangular course on Cass Lake was set for 9:30 a.m., second to follow immediately and the 3rd to go at 3 p.m. All this is dependent upon the vagaries of the winds. A light breeze was felt early in the day and the skippers of the pretty craft hoped it would freshen later on.

—Pontiac Press Photo

SLOW GOING! — Three lightnings, which belied their active name, were becalmed yesterday just off the starting point for the Michigan District Lightning regatta at Pontiac Yacht Club. There was barely breeze enough to ripple the surface of Cass Lake, so the event was postponed until today. From left the graceful craft are (5517) Phil Klintworth of Birmingham (PYC), (6400) Buz Morley of Higgins Lake, and back of Morley's boat is (6132) owned by PYC's Al Gray.

28 From Area in California for Skate Meet

The Pontiac area will be well represented when the National Roller Skating Championships begin Monday in Oakland, California.

A contingent of 28 skaters from the area are enroute to the West Coast. This will be one of the largest groups from a single club to be represented at the meet.

First events Monday will feature eliminations in all events, including speed skating for all divisions.

Foytack Gains 10th Win Over Nats

Tiger Pitcher Puts Fastball to Work, 4-1

Paul Even Has .308 Batting Mark to Lead Ball Club

DETROIT (AP)—The overpowering fast ball with which Paul Foytack victimized so many American League batters last season has put the Detroit Tigers within one game of the first division.

"It seemed like I was twice as fast as I've been all season," said the good-looking righthander who struck out seven Washington batters in the Tigers' 4-1 triumph last night. "I don't know where I've been keeping the fast ball all season but it came back to me in this game."

Foytack wasn't around at the finish, requiring assistance in the eighth inning when the last-place senators put together three singles. A double play—the club's 90th of the season—erased the first threat and Harry Byrd retired hot-hitting Art Schult for the final out of the inning.

The husky Byrd retired the Senators in order in the 9th to preserve Foytack's 10th victory. Foytack and Jim Bunning have collected 21 of the club's 43 triumphs.

"Hey, how about my hitting?" Foytack yelled across the clubhouse to some of his teammates. "Still over the .300 mark, you know. I'm just sorry I won't get to the plate enough times to qualify for the batting championship."

The Tigers had only eight hits and got seven of them in the first four innings off Pedro Ramos, the starter and loser. Foytack got one of them in three at-bats and is leading the club in batting with a .308 mark.

It was a key fielding play by first baseman Ray Boone that kept the Tigers out of danger. After a throwing error by third baseman Reno Bertoia enabled the Nats to score an unearned run in the 6th, Boone came up with a tremendous backhand stab of Jim Lemon's line drive in the eighth inning, wheeled and doubled Pete Runnels off second base.

UAW Tourney Set for July 27

Region 1B Golfers Will Seek Honors at City Course

Competition in three different categories will feature the 9th annual UAW Region 1B golf tournament at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course, July 27, it was announced today by the sponsoring Oakland County UAW Recreation Council.

★ ★ ★

Handsome trophies and other awards will be presented to the gross and net winners and runners-up in each division and in every flight following the one-day event.

The divisions will include individual medal play for men and women and a four-man team event. All play will be conducted in flights with groups matched according to handicaps.

Tournament director A. Bornak has received entries from Pontiac, Birmingham, Detroit, Adrian, Jackson, Monroe and Howell.

Teenage Hurlers Sign Contracts With Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Two young pitchers have been signed to 1958 minor league baseball contracts by the Detroit Tigers.

Hot Brooks Jump to 2nd Place

NL's 'Big 3' On the Move

The Associated Press

The favored "big three"—Milwaukee, Brooklyn and Cincinnati—are on the move and this could be the beginning of the end for the pretenders among the contenders in that so-far haphazard National League pennant race.

Milwaukee's Braves, crippled and bandaged, have found ways to win even without hittin' Hank Aaron and slugging Joe Adcock to regain and hold first place.

Brooklyn's defending champs, apparently profiting from the rest during the All-Star game break, just as Manager Walt Alston said they would, suddenly have become the hottest team in the league with Duke Snider back in form and have jumped from fifth to second, one game short of first.

And Cincinnati, on the move again with Joe Nuxhall a winning pitcher and George Crowe doing the belting for ailing Ted Kluszewski, has quit fifth to move within one percentage point of third place St. Louis.

The Philadelphia Phillies, meanwhile, have collapsed with four defeats in a row since taking the lead last Monday and are fifth again. St. Louis' Cardinals, a flop on the current Eastern trip, have blown a three-game lead and are third, two games behind.

The Braves made it four in a row last night, beating the New York Giants 3-1 as old-timer Andy Pafko smacked two home runs and cracked open a tie ball game with a two-run belt in the ninth. Brooklyn moved up by beating Chicago's last place Cubs twice, 6-3 in 10 innings and 5-3 for the Dodgers' first doubleheader sweep of the season. Pittsburgh routed St. Louis and the Cards' young sensation, Von McDaniel, 7-0. Cincinnati clobbered the Phils and 12-game winner Jack Sanford 7-2.

Gene Conley won his third in a row with a seven-hitter walking none, as the Braves finally beat ex-mate Johnny Antonelli. The young southpaw, who had won three in a row, was 3-0 against the Braves this year, and blanked them on three singles after Pafko's second-inning home run until Andy parked one following a walk in the ninth. Conley is 3-4; Antonelli 9-8.

Pittsburgh swung for nine hits off McDaniel, who lost his second in a row for a 4-2 record, in 5 2-3 innings as the Cards lost their seventh in the last nine. Vern Law walked none and scattered nine singles for his sixth victory. Ex-Card Bill Virden had three hits, tripling ahead of Frank Thomas' first inning home run.

★ ★ ★

Sanford, who has dropped two of his three losses to the Redlegs, was smacked for 11 of their 15 hits — all singles except for Crowe's 21st home run with a man on. Nuxhall won his fourth, second in a row, in nine decilons, with a four-hitter. He struck out seven.

Fishing Rodeo at Beaudette

The 1957 Fishing Rodeo for boys and girls six through 15 years of age will be held at Beaudette Park next Thursday from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.

The youngsters from playgrounds all over the city will compete for more than 100 prizes, with top awards going to the one making the largest catch and those catching the most fish.

Fishing will be done from banks, and no boats will be permitted. Children can get detailed instruction from their local playground directors.

Calhoun Winner Over Frenchman

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Rory Calhoun won the decision but Germinal Ballarin, a clever Frenchman with a slick mustache, won the crowd.

Many of the 1,447 customers who paid $3,029 to watch the bitterly contested 10-round match last night thought the Parisian deserved the win or at least a large E for effort.

However, the men whose judgment is official agreed Calhoun won. Referee Joe Palmer had it close 5-4-1, Judge Dick Albino scored it a lopsided 7-2-1 and Judge Harold McGrath saw it 6-3-1. The AP card returned Calhoun a razor thin winner 5-4-1.

'Rights to Light' Law Perils Irish Property

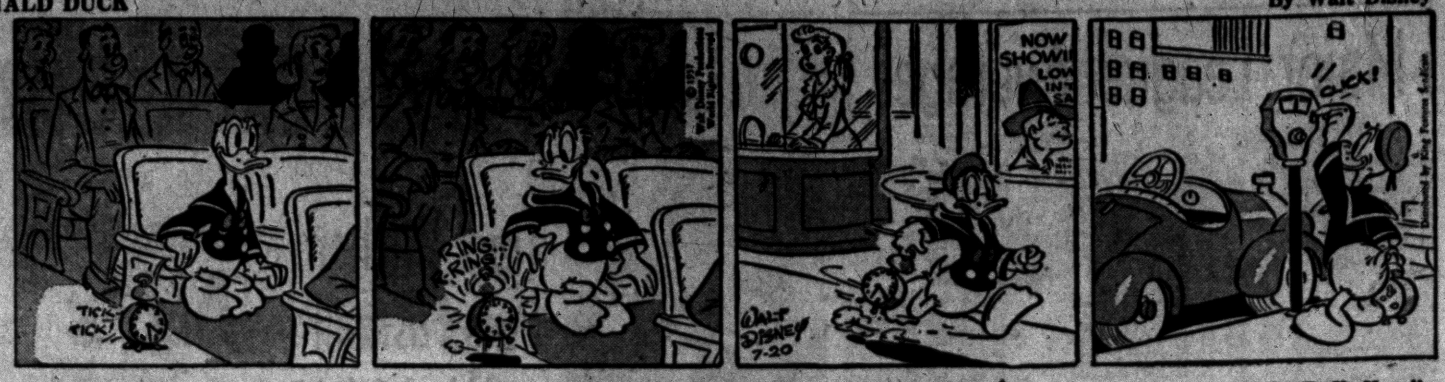

BELFAST — Still re-developing bombed sites not used since wartime, this city finds itself threatened by a Northern Ireland law over a century old. This is the "rights to light" law, or the Prescription Act of 1832.

Under it, where a neighbor's windows have access to light over a vacant or undeveloped piece of property, the right to such access may be deemed absolute if it has been enjoyed for a period of 20 years without interruption. And it has been nearly 20 years since the air raids.

Owners of bombed sites who already have suffered the loss of their prewar buildings, are demanding protection from the "rights to light" threat. In England, legislation already reportedly has been drafted for such protection.

South Scenting 'Rights' Victory

Dixie Senators Expect Success in Killing 'Most Vicious Part' of Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern foes of the civil rights bill scented victory today in their efforts to erase what they called the "most vicious part" of the measure.

★ ★ ★

With supporters of the bill split over compromise moves, Sen. Russell (D-Ga), leader of the Dixie forces, told newsmen he was "very hopeful" the Senate would adopt an amendment to strike out part 3 of the House-passed measure.

★ ★ ★

That part would authorize the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions to project civil rights generally. Southern senators have protested it could be used to force racial integration in schools and other public places.

Russell said he hoped for a vote no later than Tuesday, Monday if possible, on an amendment of Sens. Anderson (D-NM) and Aiken (R-Vt) to rip out this section of the bill.

Republican and Democratic efforts for a compromise that would remove some of the opposition to part 3 collapsed suddenly late yesterday afternoon.

Senate Republican leader Knowland of California said he had concluded no substitute could be worked out "to meet the situation and the desires of the various people with whom we have been discussing it."

He said he was prepared to let the vote come on the Anderson-Aiken amendment rather than attempt to get a vote first on an amendment or substitute softening the terms of part 3.

Like Russell, he spoke of a vote being taken either Monday or Tuesday.

City's War on Weeds Pleases Parks-Recreation Department

The declaration of war on weeds by most Pontiac residents is very pleasing to the city's Parks and Recreation Dept.

Of 1,200 lots inspected, most of them vacant, obnoxious weeds have been removed from better than 60 per cent by owners, Seymour M. Gold, supervisor of Pontiac's summer weed cutting program, said.

BETTER FOR PLAY

"I think people are coming to realize it is better to use these vacant lots for recreation, instead of letting them grow wild with weeds," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to praise the citizens of the town for their cooperation in cutting weeds," Gold added.

Last summer, the parks department was plagued with lots growing high with all types of weed. The headache was only beginning then.

City officals, acting under a 1955 weed cutting ordinance, billed lot owners for cutting done by city. Of a total bill of some $9,000, the city collected roughly $4,500.

★ ★ ★

A tedious job then resulted as officials had to plow through assessment rolls to bring in the balance.

DURING WHOLE YEAR

While pleased with the progress so far, Gold warned residents that the law states lots must be kept weed free during the entire growing season.

★ ★ ★

"We consider that when weeds, such as ragweed, clover and Queen Anne's Lace, grow up to 18 inches, the lots are ready for cutting," Gold explained.

City mowers are into their second week of cutting delinquent lots. Owners will be charged 20 cents a front foot for the work.

Gold reported there are approximately 3,000 lots in the city which are inspected.

★ ★ ★

He added that nearly 80 per cent of the lots left uncut last summer, have been cut this summer. He attributed the increase to letters mailed to owners warning them of the July 1 deadline for cutting.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

He added that weed-infested plots are not only a safety hazard, especially at intersections, but also provide many a headache for hay fever sufferers.

Price of Trailers Up

DETROIT (AP)—Fruehauf Trailer Co. Friday announced a general price increase ranging from 3 to 5 per cent on all truck-trailer models effective Aug. 1, 1957.

Burglars Escape With $3,000 Cash

The breakin was reported by Carl Kanaack, president of the Body Crafters Federal Credit Union, 841 Baldwin Ave.

Detective James F. Bale said the method of operation in opening the safe was similar to the safe robbery of Furtney Drug Store, 450 E. Pike St., reported June 28, when about $5,453 was taken.

Escaped Mental Patient Held in Mt. Clemens

ROMEO—A 16-year - old mental patient who escaped from a car en route to Lapeer Training Home Thursday afternoon is in custody at a youth home in Mt. Clemens, Romeo State Police reported today. Mt. Clemens City Police picked up the boy at 5:25 p.m. yesterday.

British Centers Reclaim Many Work-Shy Citizens

LONDON (INS) — About 100 work-shy Britons yearly are directed to re-establishment centers in the hope that they can be persuaded that honest toil harms nobody.

★ ★ ★

This distasteful process became necessary when officials in this welfare state found that too many people, "cushioned" by National Assistance funds, were losing interest in work as a means of existence.

★ ★ ★

But even hardened "remittance" men blushed when Robert William Doyle, 58, a temporary inmate in the State-runs re-conditioning center at Henley-in-Arden, Warwickshire, became the first person in Britain to be jailed for refusing to work.

Doyle, who reluctantly confessed to some 61 weeks' toil in 20 years, was jailed for a month for refusing to help in the daily chores at the center.

The prosecuting counsel described the case as the first of its kind since the National Assistance Act came into force in June, 1948, and added:

"These centers have some of the most work-shy people in the country, but never before has a case of this nature been brought. This speaks well for the work that is being done by Center officials."

HAVE 400 OFFICES

A spokesman at the center, A. T. Tregear, told I.N.S.:

"There are some 400 offices throughout the country where an eye is kept on this type of apathy. When necessary the idlers are brought before a tribunal of National Assistance officials. If it is decided that they have lost the urge for work but that there is a chance they can be re-claimed, they are directed to a re-conditioning center."

Every precaution is taken to ensure that the "recruits" are not endangered by suddenly being faced with a job of work.

Tregear explained:

"They have a medical examination —to make sure there is no heart failure or other physical defects and that it would not be dangerous for them to take up employment.

"At the center they are fitted with working clothes and assigned tasks in helping run the center. They receive seven shillings and sixpence (about a dollar) pocket-money. After a few days many of them lose their apathy and find themselves doing their chores without even being asked!"

Then comes a little psychology. Inmates who have recovered interest sufficiently to want a paid job are found employment near the center. Other inmates, astonished that no apparent harm has been done to the toilers, and that in addition they had plenty of money to spend, often decide to swell the ranks of the employed.

Timken to Hike Pay of Salaried Employes

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The Timken Roller Bearing Co. announced today that it would grant a four per cent wage increase to salaried employes in the United States and Canada, effective Aug. 25.

Receiving the increase will be 3,500 workers in plants at Canton, Columbus, Zanesville, Wooster, Mount Vernon, Bucyrus and New Philadelphia, in Ohio; Colorado Springs, Colo., and St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada.

Some 10,300 production and maintenance workers in five Ohio cities—Canton, Columbus, Zanesville, Wooster and Mount Vernon —who are represented by the United Steelworkers Union, will receive an increase of nine cents an hour Aug. 24 under a three-year contract signed last year.

Death Toll Reaches 19 in Avignon Wreck

AVIGNON, France (AP) — The death toll from yesterday's derailment of the Nice-Paris express stood at 19 today.

Officials said 15 survivors remained in serious condition. More than 60 others were injured in the wreck when the train careened off the tracks after going into a dead end siding at 75 miles an hour.

Two Men Injured in Truck-Car Crash

A truck-car collision at Rochester and Lamb roads, in Troy, yesterday sent two men to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, according to the Troy Police Department.

Admitted with a possible fractured vertebra was Dale Bond, 29, of 4716 Chilson Dr., Howell, a passenger in the car driven by Samuel J. Anderson, 20, of 321 Walnut St., Rochester.

Bond is in satisfactory condition today, according to the hospital. Anderson was treated for minor injuries and released. The driver of the truck, James Edwin Hoppe, 29, of 2214 Walnut Rd., Pontiac, was uninjured, said reports.

Denies TV Premiere for Ford's Edsel Cars

DETROIT (INS)—J. C. (Larry) Doyle, general sales manager for Ford Motor Co., says reports Ford will introduce its new Edsel line of passenger cars on television in October are "completely erroneous."

At the same time, Doyle confirmed the auto firm's plans to unveil the new line at a special press preview in Dearborn Aug. 27 and 28.

Doyle said the Edsel would go on display in dealers' showrooms "about 10 days after the press preview."

Card of Thanks 1

I WISH TO THANK THE WONDERful neighbors, friends, Bethany Tabernacle, Rev. Racine & Wife, Dudley-Moore Funeral Home for all the many acts of kindness & sympathy, the beautiful floral offerings extended to me in the loss of my dear Husband, James Nightingale, Mrs. Edna Nightingale.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Mrs. Stella Bigelow Murray, who went to her Heavenly Home, five years ago, July 20, 1952.
Your life's such a beautiful memory,
To grieve that it's gone seems unfair;
Like begrudging you more time in Heaven,
Loving daughter and husband, Cecile Murray Pierce, R. Morris Pierce.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Gladys Moyer. Who passed away July 19, 1956.
We have lost our soul's companion,
As we walk through life alone.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ALICE C. Beamer who passed away July 20, 1950.
Sadly missed by Husband, Children & Grandchildren.

Berliners Romp in 'Crazy' Clubs

Customers Let Loose in Rollicking German Dance Halls

BERLIN (INS) — Berlin's jolly nightclub hosts are going to new lengths in providing crazy, rollicking fun.

The tone was set a few years back by the Resi which furnishes its customers with table-to-table telephone service and pneumatic tubes for sending notes to the blonde in the far corner.

The newest addition to this line of entertainment is a jazz club called the Ha-Jo, which also has phones at every table.

The jazz at the Ha-Jo may not be quite up to New Orleans standards, but that is hardly noticed with all the fun and games going on.

At the Ha-Jo the night owl who hasn't been home for a while can get spruced up—right on the stage with the band and with a spotlight on him. The Ha-Jo's barber will clean off the customer's chin for 20 pfennigs (5 cents).

The Ha-Jo has run a "Yul Brynner" contest to see who looks best with a bald pate. On contest nights, a patron's head was shaved of all hair to the accompaniment of mournful music. In this case the nightclub pays the customer.

The Ha-Jo has two price listings, one for "people" and one for "students."

'BREATHE AT ME'

The Ha-Jo also features "mixed drinks for drivers" with names such as "blood-test," "slippery asphalt" and "breathe at me."

Probably nowhere in Berlin is there more mass hilarity than in the newly reopened Die Neue Welt, a mammoth fun hall with something to please everybody.

It centers on a vast dance hall with seating for 2,000 and comic posters 35 feet high on the walls. Berliners of every age and shape crowd by the hundred on to the dance floor to lumber, bounce, glide and wiggle to the blare of a brass band playing military marches and Bavarian drinking songs.

SLIDE INTO HALL

One entrance to the dance hall, from an upstairs bar, is made by means of a slide 100 feet long. The management says that 40,000 screaming customers have chosen that way to reach the dance floor since the Neue Welt opened in December.

The Neue Welt does everything on a big scale. Its cloak room is bigger than most nightclubs. A new hall with a capacity for 1,000 is being built.

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.

Non-Singing Rex Signs for Musical Spectacular

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — First person signed for CBS-TV's huge musical spectacular next season, to be called "Crescendo," was Rex Harrison, who can't sing a lick.

Jackie Gleason's "The Honeymooners" has been peddled for reruns to three NBC stations — in New York, Philly and New Haven

A Briton, asked what he thought of Elvis Presley, replied: "I try not to think of Elvis Presley."

STRAIGHT ACTOR

Turner Awaits Second Hearing

DETROIT (INS) — Lawrence R. Turner, 50, was held in Wayne County Jail without bond today to await another preliminary hearing next Wednesday in the assault slaying of 6-year-old Mary de Caussin.

Turner, who has admitted slaying the little girl in a statement to police, appeared before Circuit Court Judge Neal E. Fitzgerald yesterday for preliminary hearing.

Fitzgerald adjourned the hearing when Turner answered: "I don't know" and "I don't know what to do" when asked how he pleaded and then shook his head helplessly when the question was repeated.

Mary was attacked and slain last month. Her body was discovered in a wooded area near her Ecorse Township home the day after she disappeared. Turner, recently released from jail after serving a long sentence for rape, was taken into custody shortly afterward.

Ham Wrapper Shrinks

CHICAGO A heat-shrinkable plastic film has been developed for packaging odd-shaped articles, such as hams, turkeys and other foods. The manufacturer says that if the ham is encased in the film and dumped in warm water, the film will shrink to the size and shape of the ham and form a tight, transparent package around it.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Amelia Earhart was the first woman ever to win both the United States Distinguished Flying Cross and the chevalier of the French Legion of Honor.
