On Inflation Threat

Lawrence Says Congress Afraid to Take Stand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There seems to be revived interest in hair curlers. The secretary of the treasury, George Humphrey, said the other day that, unless federal spending is cut down, we "will have a depression that will curl your hair."

LAWRENCE

Now former President Hoover says: "Mine has already been curled once—and I think I can detect the signs."

The blame is placed on "inflation." Yet, despite the thousands of times the word is used, Congress keeps asking what is means and how it can be curbed.

The sad truth is that at heart Congress knows what's wrong but doesn't dare to correct it.

Expenditures have grown to a dizzy height—Mr. Hoover thinks the federal spending really amounts to about 103 billions—but there isn't a group, a faction, or a party in Congress which dares to go on record in favor of cutting expenses by the billions. The danger is that Congress will actually increase the budget submitted by the President.

The pressure groups are so powerful—the explanations of the need are so plausible—that members of Congress just will not take the risks of fighting the proposed appropriations.

But the curtailment of public spending is only one phase. The federal reserve system has tightened up the supply of credit.

Arbitrarily the federal reserve has been saying that borrowing must be cut down. Many big projects have been abandoned or postponed and interest rates have gone up—thus adding to the expense of doing business.

LABOR MONOPOLY

But the wage spiral is the basic fault — the monopoly of national labor unions which control the jobs of the nation through compulsory unionization and which compel employers to grant annual increases in wages irrespective of whether productivity per man hour has been increased.

Nothing is being done by Congress to regulate or abolish this monopoly. And, perhaps for political reasons, nothing will be done until the economic machine has gone into the ditch.

The big question now is whether a depression is near at hand or on the way or remote. Mr. Hoover says the economists are again optimistic, and he refers with some bitter recollection to the assurances they gave him in 1929. He says:

OBVIOUS SIGNS

"The obvious sign of inflation is the advance of prices, wages and the cost of living. But another sign is the temperament of some of our economists. Again you hear the same expressions as in the inflation period of 30 years ago—that 'we are in a new economic era' and that 'the old economic laws are outmoded.' I just suggest to you that, even in a partially

Minchoff Keeps Title to Property

Waterford Township Fails to Recover Land Sold in 1940

Waterford Township lost out in its battle to take back a piece of land owned for 16 years by 80-year-old C. M. "Sam" Minchoff.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday dismissed the township's suit for the recovery of a narrow strip of land along the south side of W. Huron street between Lynn street and Voorheis road.

"The township has demonstrated no authority to acquire property in the first instance," Judge Holland ruled.

The township charged that the sale, made March 7, 1940 for $1,800, was made solely by the township board then in office and not approved by the voters. The township claimed this was illegal, while Minchoff claimed it was legal.

The judge also ruled in favor of Minchoff who had filed a cross-complaint questioning why the township was trying to reclaim the land at this time.

He claimed the township had never disputed his rights to his land when he sold two sections of the parcel, one to owners of a gas station, and the other to the county.

This was the second in a series of land squabbles for Minchoff. Once he fenced off a township street he claimed he owned, forcing drivers to use the single lane outside the fence.

Returns Land to Japan

CAMP ZAMA, Japan (AP) — The U.S. armed forces today reported they returned 69,296 acres of land and building area to Japan in 1956.

The services still hold 268,737 acres.

GM Plants Spent $180 Million in 1956

Local Divisions Total Payrolls of $147,485,138

Additional $34 Million Went to Area Firms, Report Discloses

General Motors spent more than $180 million on wages and purchases in the immediate Pontiac area during 1956, heads of the city's three GM divisions revealed today.

The statement was released jointly by Semon E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division; Philip J. Monaghan, GMC Truck & Coach Division general manager; and T. F. Wiethorn, manager of the Fisher Body plant.

The General Motors executives stated that an average of 27,000 employes shared a total payroll of $147,485,138. The three plants employed a total of 29,000 workers in December.

Extensive purchasing from local firms was reflected in the expenditure of an estimated $34 million from 200 companies for services and supplies.

The report indicated that GM employes dug deep into their pockets to support the Pontiac Area United Fund:

Workers at the three plants donated $237,420, while the corporation wrote an additional check in the amount of $115,000.

Employes also invested $4,623,349 in U.S. savings bonds through the payroll deduction plan.

Jesuits to Build New Seminary in Waterford

A $4 million seminary in Waterford Township to house some 200 students and teachers is planned by the Detroit Province of the Jesuit Order.

According to Father Leo D. Sullivan, a 300-acre site on Big Lake Road, a half mile west of the Dixie Highway has been acquired.

A fund-raising drive to finance Colombiere College has been started, he added. The seminary would offer a basic four-year course for those seeking to become Jesuit priests.

Need for the seminary was brought about by crowded conditions at other seminary facilities, Father Sullivan said.

Gas Blasts in Nevada Kill 2; Fires Do $2 Million Damage

Fire Follows in Wake of Reno Blasts . . .

AP Wirephoto

41 Are Injured, Five Missing; Search Goes On

Employe's Quick Action Detecting Odor Saves Lives of Many

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The block-square Masonic Temple and nearby business buildings were hastily evacuated today as a strong smell of gas led to fears that a new explosion might follow yesterday's disastrous propane gas blast in downtown Reno.

RENO (AP) — Two persons were killed and 41 injured in a series of explosions and a fire which destroyed five buildings along Sierra street in mid-Reno yesterday.

Damage was estimated in excess of two million dollars.

Five persons were reported missing.

Because of the great amounts of rubble to be cleared away and dangerous walls and overhanging beams which needed to be knocked down, disaster crews could not search the wreckage until today.

But for a clothing store employe's quick reaction when he smelled gas, said Fire Chief Karl Evans, the death toll "could have been a hundred."

Evans and other officials still sought the cause and place of the leak which freed the propane-air gas into at least three buildings in which it exploded. The gas is heavier than air and tends to settle to the lowest possible point when it escapes. There may have been three such pockets.

The first of the series of blasts occurred at 1:03 p.m., short minutes after an employe in the Paterson men's clothing store reported smelling gas in the basement.

RUSHED TO SCENE

A crew of trouble shooters from the Sierra Pacific Power Co. and a Fire Department rescue squad were rushed to the scene. They evacuated nearly every one from the five buildings before the fires started.

Major credit was given to Or-

Europe Needs Oil From U.S.

President Says Flow Must Be Kept High, or Be Controlled

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower said today the federal government may have to step in unless the flow of oil to Europe is kept at a maximum.

Eisenhower told his news conference that Europe must not be left flat on its back for lack of oil.

He said the government has certain powers under which it could move into the field of state proration of oil production, and control other activities of the industry.

Eisenhower said he does not want the federal government to disturb the economy in this way.

He added, however, that it is to the long-term interest of business as well as to the country that Europe not be forced economically to its knees.

The goal, Eisenhower said, should be to supply all the oil that transportation facilities can handle.

Eisenhower said that includes filling up all tankers that can carry oil to Europe, from all parts of the world as well as the United States.

While Eisenhower was discussing Europe's oil needs, a congressional committee heard testimony that U. S. investments of nearly 50 billion dollars in Western Europe may be lost if the area does not get enough fuel.

Asst. Secretary of the Interior Felix E. Wormser, who handles oil and minerals matters, discussed that danger before investigating senators. Wormser told them that threat and Eisenhower's desire for peace led to the emergency plan for supplying Western Europe after the Suez Canal was blocked.

Expect Little Change in Pontiac Weather

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts mostly cloudy, with little temperature change through tomorrow. The low tonight will be around 24 degrees.

For the next five days temperatures will average five degrees above the normal maximum of 33 and minimum of 19. Precipitation will total about three-tenths to four-tenths of an inch.

In downtown Pontiac, the lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 20 degrees. The mercury rose to 34 at 2 p.m.

AFL-CIO Tells 3 Unions 'Clean Up or Be Expelled'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Three international unions charged with maladministration of welfare funds were under orders from the AFL-CIO executive council today to get rid of corrupt officers and correct other abuses within 90 days or face expulsion from the Federation.

The council issued the directive last night to the 72,000 member Laundry Workers, the 25,000 member Distillery, Rectifying & Wine Workers and the 73,000 member Allied Industrial Workers.

Leaders of the unions immediately blasted the council's ultimatum.

The directive to the unions declared they must get rid of corrupt elements "to the satisfaction of the executive council within 90 days or stand suspended and face expulsion from the AFL-CIO.

The ethical practices committee had blasted the unions for their handling of health and welfare funds.

TWO OBJECTIVES

Federation President George Meany explained that the council, in unanimously voting for the directive, had two objectives.

1. "We hope they will voluntarily clean up . . . although I am not too optimistic."

2. "We wanted to let the general membership know the situation within their unions in the hopes that the membership would put on pressure?"

Following Meany's announcement, leaders of the Laundry Workers issued a statement challenging the council's contention it is "dominated, controlled and substantially influenced by corrupt elements."

They said they would protest the council's decision and fight for "the traditional right of international union to remain autonomous in the administration of their own locals."

The union leaders contended that they had answered "satisfactorily all charges . . . in regard to alleged irregularities in the operation of union welfare funds."

Meany claimed that the unions know which officers the council wants expelled.

Asked to specify what the council wanted the unions to do, the federation leader said:

"This is a whole set of conditions. I won't narrow it down. If there isn't initiative (within the unions to clean up) we don't want to be associated with them.

"If the membership is unwilling to do anything the situations are hopeless."

Pontiac Annexes 32-Acre Parcel

Allows Church to Build New Education Center to Cost $12 Million

Pontiac added 32 acres to its land area last night when city commissioners formally approved the annexation of a parcel of land from Bloomfield Township.

The vote was unanimous except for the absence of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

The plot is situated at the city's southern limits, south of Golf drive, and west of the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

Last October, members of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, 645 S. Telegraph Rd., requested the city provide municipal services to the area so that church plans for a $12 million new church-school center might be carried out.

After a reversal of its refusal to detach the parcel, the Bloomfield Township Board approved the detachment at a Dec. 10 meeting. Church members then petitioned the commission for annexation.

The detachment-annexation move reinforced the commission's unwritten pact that no municipal services would be provided to fringe areas without annexation. This policy was "adopted" because of a load on the sewage-water system and continued need for its extension within the city.

Supports National Officials

Local CIO Council Backs Stand Against Use of 5th Amendment

"Members of the Oakland County CIO Council, went on record in support of the policy of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in its action against corruption within the organization," declared Fred V. Haggard, President of the Oakand County CIO Council today.

"What the delegates endorsed, and there need be no misinterpretation, is that a union official who uses the Fifth Amendment to hide corrupt practices from a law enforcement agency, a legislative committee or any other proper public body, should not expect to retain the confidence of the membership he is supposed to represent. The delegates stressed the fact that no person has the right to continue to hold office in his Union when guilty of such practices.

"The County Council supports the executive council of the AFL-CIO in its striving for the betterment of the organizations and the stand of the executive council in not permitting the good name of the labor movement to be sullied by crooks or racketeers using the Fifth Amendment to cloak their crimes against the workers, and worker's rights and funds," continued Haggard.

"The Oakland County CIO Council calls on each affiliated union to support the executive council of the AFL-CIO in its efforts to clean house of officials who have and will attempt to use our good organization to hide any corrupt or racketeering practices behind the cloak of the Fifth Amendment.

"We further believe that if the parent organization, all international organizations, and local unions, do not clean house of all corruption and racketeering promptly, we cannot expect to retain the confidence of our own membership nor the confidence of the public.

"The vast majority of our union leaders are sincere, honest, conscientious, and responsible persons. But the good work and the fine reputation of these loyal and devoted officials is endangered by the action of smaller grouns of cynical crooks.

"The Oakland County CIO Council further believes that what is good for the community is good for us, so, it is our sincere desire to work with the community and demonstrate that a small minority of these racketeers and irresponsibles cannot hide behind the clean skirts of the labor movement."

Israel Dims U.N. Hopes; Refuse Troop Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold prodded Israel today to give ground on her refusal to quit Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Any hopes of an early settlement were dimmed by Israeli insistence that Egypt first must promise not to renew her blockade on Israel-bound shipping through the Gulf of Aqaba.

Hammarskjold, apparently discouraged, called in his seven-nation Middle East advisory committee for suggestions. Later he talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, presumably to relay Israel's views.

Egypt has insisted that Israel should get off her soil at once without any discussion of guarantees or assurances.

Arab diplomats stepped up their pressure for economic sanctions against Israel. The Arabs brushed aside the Israeli demand on the Gulf of Aqaba as a diversion.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference at which sanctions were discussed yesterday, there is "good ground to hope" that Israel will withdraw its force. He did not spell out the basis for such hope.

Dulles said under questioning that the United States "could only answer" the question of sanctions toward Israel in connection with some United Nations resolution on that subject. This country would not impose sanctions by itself, he said, but "if there was action by the United Nations calling for sanctions we would of course have to give them very serious consideration."

If the United States should come out in favor of sanctions, its position would have very great influence on what other nations did. If it opposed sanctions within the United Nations, it might succeed in blocking the resolution.

Sanctions cover a wide range of activities in the diplomatic, economic and financial fields. They may include such things as calling home ambassadors, cutting down or cutting off trade, withholding financial assistance or using methods of blockade.

Valentine Special to Include Poem From Loveland

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP) — Once again Loveland's postmaster is giving true love a helping hand.

Valentines by the tens of thousands are streaming into the post office of this "Sweetheart Town" in northern Colorado, to be remailed with the Loveland postmark and special cachet.

This year the cachet, or special seal, includes this rhyme:

Atomic missiles are
Super, we know,
But no match for the arrow
For Dan Cupid's bow.

The seal has a miniature heart-shaped birthday cake signifying this is the 10th anniversary of the Valentine remailing service.

Last year more than 75,000 valentines were remailed from the Loveland post office to sweethearts in all 48 states and 26 foreign countries.

Postmaster Fred Brewer and his staff expect business to be equally as good this year.

Army Presses Case in Congress

8 Weeks Full-Time Duty as Valuable as 2 Years of Drills, Summer Camp

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress got an Army opinion today that a young man gets as much useful military training in eight weeks of full-time duty as in two years of weekly drills and summer camps.

Brig. Gen. Creighton W. Abrams gave the opinion as the Army pressed its case for requiring six months of active duty training for all new enlistees in the National Guard. No formal training period is now required of guardsmen.

Abrams, deputy assistant chief of staff for reserve components, prepared his testimony for a House Armed Services subcommittee.

He estimated it would take from 20 to 34 weeks to produce a trained division out of reserve units where only about 20 per cent of the personnel had been trained on previous active duty. The Army previously had said only a little more than a fourth of the present Army National Guard has had such training.

The Guard is insisting its men could be trained with active duty periods no longer than three months.

But Abrams said, "A ready reserve in terms of 34 weeks or even 20 weeks, in the view of the Army, does not represent realistic standards of readiness under any generally accepted concept of war as it might be waged by our potential enemies."

State Senator Hittle Dies at Age of 70

EAST LANSING (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Hittle, 70, dean of the Michigan Senate, died at his home here yesterday after a four-month illness.

Hittle, a Republican, was starting his 23rd consecutive year in the Senate, a record for continuous tenure unequalled in state history. He was re-elected to his 12th straight term last November.

Known as a "progressive Republican" and an authority on Senate procedures, Hittle had been a leader in the Upper House until illness struck last Oct. 13.

He was returning by plane from a meeting of the council of state governments at New Orleans when he collapsed. He underwent surgery for removal of a non-malignant brain tumor last Nov. 30 and had been convalescing at his home since his release from Ford Hospital in Detroit Dec. 21.

He appeared to be on the road to recovery until his condition worsened Jan. 27.

Hittle was the father of Michigan's child labor law, which attracted widespread attention in other states.

The Senate recessed today in tribute to its late dean. Senators will attend the funeral Friday in a body.

They were knocked out of the kitchen and were found buried near the family car in foreground. Gloria suffered frost bite, the mother more serious injuries. Earlier, the avalanche killed a man and critically injured his wife.

Ike Talks to Newsmen, Ducks Quiz on Sanctions

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower expressed confidence today that Israel will withdraw its forces from Egypt but noted pointedly that the U. S. is committed to support any United Nations action.

The Chief Executive ducked a direct answer to whether the U.S. might join in applying economic sanctions against Israel unless her forces are withdrawn in compliance with a U.N. resolution.

His meaning appeared clear however—this country will back any action the U.N. deems necessary.

(See Dulles Story Same Page)

Eisenhower spoke out at a news conference as a Capitol Hill controversy blossomed over Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' comments on the same point yesterday. Dulles said the U. S. would seriously consider joining in any economic sanctions taken by the U.N.

The President also made these points at his weekly question-and-answer session with newsmen:

1. It would require very unusual circumstances to cause him to pick anyone other than an experienced judge from the lower courts to succeed retiring Justice Stanley Reed on the Supreme court.

2. Arthur S. Flemming is resigning today as defense mobilizer and will be replaced by Assistant Defense Secretary Gordon Gray.

3. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is being kept fully informed about everything that goes on in government so he will be ready to take over if Eisenhower does not survive his second term.

4. He is too old a campaigner to be bothered by such things as the critical remarks made about him recently by Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, wife of the defense secretary.

5. Something will be done to speed up the flow of American oil to Europe if voluntary cooperation by the oil industry and state authorities fail to solve the problem.

District Marks Boy Scout Week

2,096 Join Week-Long National Observance of 47th Anniversary

Over 2,096 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders of the Pontiac District are included in the four-an-one-half million scouts who will celebrate the 47th anniversary of the organization during Boy Scout Week, today through Tuesday.

Although no festivities have been planned on a city-wide basis, individual packs, troops and posts will celebrate throughout the week, according to Van Braidwood, representative of the Pontiac district of the Clinton Valley Council.

Throughout the area, boys will be wearing their uniforms daily in honor of their week.

Boy Scout Week 1957 is the close of the first year of the organization's four - year program, "Onward for God and My Country," which seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character.

Theme emphasis is being placed on "duty to country" by highlighting the democratic processes of government and their values. This is accented in all scouting activities, Braidwood said.

Pontiac Cub Scouts, the junior scouts in age from 8 to 10, now total over 917. Pontiac Boy Scouts hit over the 490 mark, while Explorers Scouts have reached a total of 111.

Postal Pay Hike Said Unjustified

Head of U.S. Chamber Contends Wage Boost Is Not Necessary

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—John S. Coleman, head of the Burroughs Corp. of Detroit and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, says that proposals before Congress to increase the pay of postal workers are "not justified."

Coleman was one of the key speakers yesterday at the congressional issues clinic one of a group of conferences called by the U. S. Chamber to discuss with businessmen of the nation the measures before Congress.

Coleman, who also is a member of the National Post Office advisory committee, made his comments on the postal pay raises at a news conference, he noted that the post office department is running in the red at the rate of $2 million a day, and that the postmaster general will have to go to Congress this session to ask for increased postal rates to meet the deficit.

Three bills are before Congress to increase postal salaries. Coleman said they would boost the postal deficit from 30 to 50 per cent.

The average hourly rate of industry in the nation is $1.94 cents, Coleman said, as against the present $2.11 average of postal workers. Postal clerks average $85.35 cents a week and letter carriers average $4,390 annually, he said. The average of all clerks in the nation is $62 a week and of all school teachers $4,220 a year.

Rises in prices have in recent years revealed the dollar to have steadily depreciated since 1945.

Today unquestionably the wage-price spiral has gotten beyond government control. Appeals by the President to management and labor have been of little avail.

In the end, as more and more money is consumed by taxes and by public expenditures that are unproductive, the creation of new jobs will cease and a drop in employment on old jobs will ensue.

Some economic doctors are needed to tell the American people the unpleasant truths—but some bold and outspoken citizens back in the states and districts must arise to tell Congress the time has come to cut the budget. For when "guns" are needed, "butter"—the luxury of a welfare state—has to be sacrificed.

Unless Congress is willing to take that lesson to heart, depression and unemployment become inevitable over a period of time as confidence in the future soundness of the dollar declines correspondingly.

Plane Tests 'Fenced In'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered a halt to all aircraft flight tests over densely populated areas. The new regulation applies to military as well as civil aircraft.

Spurred by an aerial collision over Pacoima, Calif., last week, the CAB announced yesterday that after Feb. 20, test flights must be made over open water, or over sparsely populated areas approved by the civil aeronautics administrator.

A retired motorman of an electric railway he was a member of Farmington Lodge F&AM. His only survivor is a daughter, Mrs. Homer Bennett of Wayland, New York.

2 Killed, 41 Injured in Reno Explosions

ville Owen, power company trouble shooter who sensed the danger. He warned all in the Paterson store, then rushed along the street warning people to "get out."

The firemen arrived as the first blast went off. They evacuated those in the Gray Reid department store, Reno's largest, and the Elks Club, both on the east side of Sierra street.

Neither of those known killed was inside the buildings. Mrs. John DuPrat, about 60, socially prominent wife of a retired grocer, was struck by falling debris. Frank Spina, 48, owner of a shoe repair shop, was crushed to death beneath an automobile which was blown over on him and crushed by a falling wall.

The explosions followed each other so swiftly that people rushing from one were caught in the concussions of the next.

CAUGHT IN 2 BLASTS

Ed Caffrey, who had just been evacuated from the Elks Club, where he had eaten lunch, reported he was "slammed against the wall of the building" by the second explosion, and then was caught by the third as he rushed around the corner of the Elks Club. Strangely, he was not injured.

All gas mains in that section of town were closed and 12 blocks of buildings in the area were evacuated.

The Virginia Street area above 2nd, where most of the gambling casinos are located, was not affected and the houses continued "business as usual."

The evacuation order in part of the area, and including the fashionable Mapes Hotel, was rescinded after five hours. However, several blocks adjoining Sierra on 1st Street remained closed until checks could be made of all possible gas concentration points.

Sgt. John Paget of the Reno air defense filter center reported watching the roof of the Bankers Trust Building "shoot a hundred feet in the air" after the second blast.

The fires which followed destroyed the buildings on the west side of Sierra.

Only 16 of those injured remained in the hospital overnight and only three were in serious condition.

But only three blocks away in America's hard-boiled divorce capitol, few persons heard the blasts over the din of the slot machines and the rumble of conversation.

Two Waive Examination on Robbery Charge

Two Pontiac men waived examination in Municipal Court Tuesday before Judge Cecil McCallum and were freed on $2,000 bonds pending arraignment in Circuit Court Monday.

The men, Fred Rhymes, 28, of 312 Hughes Ave. and William Chambers, 29, of 415 Bloomfield Ave., are charged with breaking and entering the Municipal Golf Course clubhouse Sunday and taking property valued at $126.

Car Overturns on M59

A 27-year-old Milford nurse was injured early this morning when her car overturned on M59 near Elizabeth Lake Road.

Joyce Garrison, 27, of 2324 Highland Rd., was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital for multiple bruises. Miss Garrison told sheriff's deputies she couldn't remember what happened.

Bedwell Out on Bond in Grimes Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — Edward Lee (Bennie) Bedwell, who signed and then retracted a confession admitting the slaying of Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister Patricia, 13, was released yesterday from Cook County Jail on $20,000 bond.

Bond for the 21-year-old Skid Row odd jobs man was arranged by Morris Brown, Champaign, Ill. a professional bondsman, who told reporters he believes Bedwell is innocent.

Meanwhile, police had no leads in the mysterious slayings of the two girls. The sisters disappeared from home Dec. 28 and an analysis of one girl's stomach contents was said by a toxicologist to indicate she died the same night.

License Was Not Valid

Ralph Mausolf, 39, of 1766 Ladd Rd., Walled Lake, was bound over to circuit court on $500 bond by White Lake Justice Frederick Stephens yesterday after pleading guilty to driving with a suspended license.

Stephens said that Mausolf had been convicted of drunk driving three times and had his license taken away five months ago. Mausolf is a construction worker in Novi Township.

Plan Summer Picnics, Boating, Swimming

New City Park to Open in Spring

Portions of a proposed $750,000 city park in Pontiac's northwest corner will be available this spring, David R. Ewalt, Parks and Recreation director, announced.

Department workers have been clearing sections of the 110-acre site south of Walton boulevard, near Upper Silver Lake, and west of North Telegraph road extension.

This work will permit limited use of the area this summer for picnic grounds, Ewalt said. Benches and stoves will be provided, he added.

Driving through the area yesterday, Ewalt said: "This has the potential of being the biggest and best park we have, because of its terrain and available beach area."

PLAN MANY FACILITIES

A proposed golf course, boat docks at the lake, ball diamonds, and outdoor theater will hinge upon further appropriations, Ewalt said. For the present work, $3,000 out of the 1957 budget has been allocated. Another $8,000 is expected to be spent for the first year's operation and maintenance.

"The only way we can get the other facilities faster is through civic contributions or endowments," Ewalt declared.

The park, the city's seventh, has been under study by Ewalt since 1954. Plans were drawn up the following year. Last summer, members of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club sought to re-spark interest in the park.

For the first year, Ewalt said, if playground facilities for younger children are to be used, those at nearby Hawthorne School must be utilized.

Roads through the city-owned property will be graveled, he said. Swimming and boating will be available to a limited extent, "but there won't be any elaborate docks," Ewalt added.

Nautilus Ends 20,000 Leagues Under Sea

Editor's Note — The Navy invited newsmen aboard the nuclear submarine Nautilus for its actual completion of 20,000 leagues under the sea, AP's Paul V. Cochrane was one of the passengers. Here is his account.

By PAUL V. COCHRANE

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Jules Verne's mythical "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," became reality Monday as the atomic submarine Nautilus, named for Verne's imaginary ship, did it herself.

The Nautilus had gone 20,000 leagues—60,000 miles—in a myriad of Atlantic cruises under just about every condition except actual war.

It was 87 years after publication of Verne's book. The big submarine was 120 miles east of Atlantic City at 8:30 p.m., far below the surface. Capt. Eugene P. Wilkinson had been looking forward to the observance ever since he first put to sea from this port under nuclear power on Jan. 17, 1955.

The dozen neswmen aboard, were shepherded through the labyrinth of tunnels with the thousands of gauges, dials, and pipes that constitute the interior of the big ship.

They had seen practically everything, even the top of the shield which covered the head of the atomic reactor itself. Had it not been pointed out, it would have passed unnoticed in the maze of mechanism.

The underwater speed remained "classified" as did the depth to which the Nautilus can plunge. But both were plenty, and far more than ordinary subs.

Newsmen got a hand at steering the 67-million-dollar monster built here at the Electric Boat Yards of the General Dynamics Corp., where a sister ship, the Seawolf is currently undergoing trials.

And as they took the places of enlisted personnel—but always under the watchful eyes of Nautilus officers—they plunged the big submarine and brought her to within 100 feet of the surface in exercises that also demonstrated the Nautilus' ability almost to turn on a dime.

One of the facts disclosed during the run was that had the submarine been powered by the conventional means, it would have consumed 720,000 gallons of fuel oil since it first put to sea.

Wilkinson radioed secretary of the navy Charles S. Thomas of his accomplishment last night as the submarine neared surface off Atlantic City.

"Nautilus completed 60,000 nautical miles—20,000 leagues—on nuclear propulsion," he told Thomas.

And early today as Wilkinson and his men neared this port came greetings from Mamie Doud Eisenhower who, on Jan. 24, 1954, christened the ship. Wired the President's wife, "congratulations to the crew of my ship for your wonderful achievement."

Bandits? Roads? Not Fit Title for Safety Group

READING, Pa. (AP) — The three judges of Berks County Court decline to okay any association of bandits, even when it's only in fun.

They took this stand yesterday in denying a charter to a group of enthusiasts which calls itself the Bandits Rod and Custom Assn. It is an organization of hot rod and sports car fans whose purpose is to promote highway safety.

The judges said they were in sympathy with the aim, but thought the proposed name would mislead the public and perhaps bring down censure upon the court if it approved such a title.

6,000 Jets Testing Daily in California

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Aviation officials at a closed meeting on an air tragedy that killed five men and three schoolboys in the San Fernando Valley reportedly have been told that southern California's skies are filled with some 6,000 military jets on test flights every day.

The startling information was placed before a secret conference of military and civil aircraft production men at a meeting with Walter R. Plett, regional Civil Aeronautics Administration director, to discuss Thursday's tragic crash of a DC7B in the yard of Pacoima Junior High School.

Southern California was described as a virtual "Grand Central Station" of military aviation.

One speaker reportedly asserted: "There is more military testing here than anywhere else in the world — and possibly more than in the rest of the world put together."

The collision of the DC7B with an F-89 Scorpion jet interceptor high in the sky and the subsequent crash of the transport plane into the school yard has stirred up a furor over flight testing above heavily populated areas.

Demands for more rigid restrictions on such flights have come from officials from the municipal level to the halls of Congress.

Both the Douglas DC7B and the Northrop Aviation jet plane were on test flights when the collision occurred.

Another official at the meeting reportedly said the future is sometimes fearful to contemplate, considering the increasing number of jets and their speeds and the fact that "the day is past when you can see someone coming."

Bill Would Grant Annuities, Offices to Ex-Presidents

WASHINGTON (INS)—The senate passed legislation Monday granting Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and all future retired presidents a $25,000 annuity, free office space and other benefits.

In addition, the bill would grant widows of former chief executives $10,000 annual pension.

The measure, which now goes to the House, was approved by voice vote, with Sens. Harry F. Byrd (D-NC), and Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) in opposition.

The report on the bill by the Senate Postoffice Committee stated the government has an "obligation" to insure that ex-presidents will not have to "demean" their office to overcome financial hardships.

The committee said: "There are many ways in which a former president can earn a large income, but ought not to do so.

"We believe that a former president should take very seriously his obligation to maintain his dignity of that office insofar as it appertains to him for the remainder of his life."

An average freight locomotive will consume about one ton of coal for every nine miles of distance covered.

Baby Has Rough Trip Via 'Crash Delivery'

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Frank Churnetski was driving his wife to a hospital yesterday when she turned to him in dismay and said: "Honey, we're never going to make it."

Churnetski parked in front of a fire station and dashed inside for help.

In his excitement, he failed to set the emergency break tight enough. The car slid backward and crashed into three poles.

Firemen, who found Mrs. Churnetski only slightly shaken by the accident, then fell to and helped her deliver a baby girl.

Attendants at Mercy Hospital said today that mother and daughter are doing fine.

Builds Fences With His Hands

Ben-Gurion, 70, Remains Resolute Leader of Israel

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

At an Israeli frontier village east of the Gaza strip, there stands a barbed wire fence erected one hot day last March by a pink-faced old man with a wild mass of white hair crowning a head that seemed too large for his short, stocky body.

He put up the fence with his bare hands, gruffly disdaining an offer of leather gloves because "hands were given to man to work with."

Originally installed as a defensive measure against Egyptian commando raiders, the barbed wire fence is now many miles behind the line of Israeli troops who marched into the Gaza strip last November.

The U. N. General Assembly has demanded that the troops withdraw, but the pink-faced fence-builder — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion — so far has refused to obey.

STILL RESOLUTE

Even from his sick bed, where he is reported recovering from a mild attack of pneumonia, the 70-year-old soldier, statesman and farmer has remained as resolute as ever.

Determination is perhaps Ben-Gurion's outstanding characteristic. As a schoolboy in Plonsk, Poland, where he was born David Gren on Dec. 16, 1886, he vowed that "one day I will be king of Eretz Israel." He has come as close to fulfilling that pledge as any man could.

Ben-Gurion left Poland in 1905 after taking part in the Jewish self-defense movement during the terrible anti-semitic pogroms.

FLED TO PALESTINE

He fled to Palestine, where he served as an agricultural laborer and union organizer. In 1915, however, the Turkish government exiled him — ironically — to Egypt, then a British colony.

From there, Ben-Gurion went to the U. S., where he helped found the American Jewish Legion which fought alongside the British in Palestine during World War I.

Then came his years of devotion to the Zionist cause, climaxed by the recognition of Israel as an independent nation in 1948 with Ben-Gurion as its first prime minister.

In 1953, he decided to retire for at least two years, blaming "mental strain." He went to a dust-swept pioneer settlement on the desert near Beersheba and concentrated on farming. In 1955, he returned from the wilderness to become Israeli defense minister. Later, he became premier again.

Ben-Gurion is shy, quick-tempered, more than a little conceited. But, more than anything else, he is tough and determined.

Army Develops Unit to Detect Atom Attack

NEW YORK — A low-cost electronic system that detects atomic attacks and warns and protects against them has been developed by the Army Signal Corps.

When it detects an atomic explosion that would endanger an installation, it trips relays that instantly sound warning horns, closes blast doors, turns off gas lines, and sets off a series of other protective measures.

The system is already at work at one large military headquarters, and further installations are planned at Air Force bases and strategic locations throughout the country.

Driver Charged in Auto Crash

Milford Man to Face Court in Critical Injury of Fowlerville Woman

Simon Studebaker, 37, of 3134 Poplar St., Milford, involved in a headon collision in which a 68-year-old woman was critically injured, waived examination yesterday before White Lake Justice Frederick Stephens and was bound over to Circuit Court to face a charge of felonious driving.

Pontiac General Hospital reported that the injured woman, Mrs. Rosalie Pape 614 church St. Fowlerville was taken off the critical list today. Mrs. Pape had been in critical condition for 12 days since the accident that hurt two others at Bogie Lake Rd. near M59 on Jan. 26.

She suffered compound fractures of both legs, three fractured ribs and a fractured jaw. Mrs. Pape's husband, Albert, 69, suffered a broken jaw and neck lacerations. His condition is listed as satisfactory.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said that Studebaker swerved his car into the path of Pape's oncoming car. Studebaker suffered scalp lacerations.

Released from the hospital Monday and taken directly to the Oakland County Jail, Studebaker was freed on $500 bond yesterday until his arraignment in Circuit Court at 9:30 Monday.

Pontiac Man Faces Federal Charge

One of three Pontiac men arrested Monday at West Alley and Pike St. charged with illegal possession of moonshine whisky was turned over to federal authorities Tuesday.

Daniel Baker, 39, of 249 Voorheis Rd., his 1956 black convertible and the 63 one-half-gallon jars of moonshine found in the car last Monday were turned over to the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit in Detroit. Baker is now accused of possession and transportation of the moonshine whisky, according to Lt. William Nesbitt of the Pontiac Police vice squad.

The other two men arrested Monday were released, according to Nesbitt. They were Coy Vernard Bailey, 26, and Thomas Blower, 32, both of local hotels.

Arab League Suggests Boycott of 14 Companies

CAIRO (AP)—Blacklisting 14 Western firms, presumably for doing business with Israel, has been proposed by the Boycott Committee of the nine-nation Arab League. The firms include three American companies.

There was no indication from the Arab capitals whether the governments would go along with the proposal.

An Arab League spokesman said the committee recommendation would be submitted to a meeting of the league council next month. League members are Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Libya, Yemen and Sudan.

A Boycott Committee representative earlier announced plans to bar Air France from using ground installations or air space of Arab League countries. The Airline was hit for maintaining "financial relations with Israel."

The U.S. firms on the latest list are the American Cyanamid Co., the International Latex Corp. and the Dayton Rubber Co.

Pontiac JA Collects $1,442 Toward Goal

The sum of $1,442 has been raised to date by the Pontiac Junior Achievement, Robert S. Nelson, chairman of the Pontiac fund-raising committee, reported at the first JA report luncheon today at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Nelson said that the amount raised was achieved by contacting only 23 out of the 123 prospects, so that he is confident of reaching the Pontiac goal of $6,100 by the deadline, Feb. 21.

The local goals are set exclusive of the large grants made by major industry.

The funds will be used to further JA work which offers students commercial and industrial experience by aiding them in establishing their own companies.

Anybody Want to Write a History?

Eighty years ago, when Oakland County had 40,000 population and Pontiac City 4,000, a county history was put out that covered even its most remote sections.

This massive volume of around 400 pages, each 11x14 inches, was printed on heavy paper and very substantially bound in cloth. It covered our county from its settlement in 1837 to 1877.

It got to the full background of the county itself, its only city, Pontiac, also its villages, townships and all of its communities.

Its material was gathered by a force of field men, who covered all of the 25 townships by horse and buggy, on roads that knew no pavement, little gravel, and largely were mere trails. There were no phones or rural mail delivery.

It contains many thousands of names of older residents, with a host of wood cuts, many full page and its production was largely financed by the sale of these cuts, supplemented by the charge made for the book itself.

Its title page says it is "Descriptive of the county's scenery, palatial residences, public buildings, fine blocks and important manufactories."

Two later histories of our county were issued in book form, one in 1912 and the other in the 1920s. Both show a commendable work, but do not go into the detail of the 1877 effort.

With all of our modern conveniences in the line of good roads and otherwise, it would seem that something like that masterpiece of 80 years ago might now be possible.

But Oakland County has grown to at least 15 times the population, and Pontiac City to 20 times the 1877 figure, so it would be a massive job.

Also there's the difference in the cost of labor and production. The men on the work in 1877 received six dollars a week in which they worked six days.

Such a production should be done at a profit. Perhaps that still would be possible when we bear in mind that much of the material will gladly be made available by our older residents and without compensation.

But the ranks of these older residents are rapidly thinning. If you want to tackle this project, any delay makes it only more difficult.

Who wants to become historian for the best county in the world?

Jordan's King Warns of Red Propaganda

While some Arab leaders do not think that the Middle East faces any Communist threat, King Hussein of Jordan disagrees.

In a letter to his prime minister he warns against the danger of Communist infiltration. He calls on Premier Suleiman Nabulsi to establish a policy aimed at creating a strong national structure "free of Communist propaganda and Bolshevik teachings."

This was in direct contrast to some Arab reaction to President Eisenhower's doctrine for the Middle East. The President has proposed stand-by authority to use American forces against Communist armed aggression there and $200 million in economic assistance.

At the recent Cairo meeting, Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia announced that they would provide Jordan with $36 million annually for 10 years. This is designed to replace a British subsidy of like amount and to build up Arab nationalism.

Washington officials doubt that Jordan's Arab neighbors can supply the money. Egypt is in a bad way financially due to the effect of the Suez crisis on its foreign trade; Syria sabotaged its own oil pipelines from Iraq, thereby reducing its revenue, and Saudi Arabia while rich in oil, is also affected by the Suez stoppage.

No doubt King Hussein is aware of this and fears that Soviet Russia might take advantage of the situation. The Reds already are next door in Syria and are spreading their influence in the Middle East. Jordan also stands in some danger of being absorbed by its Arab neighbors, according to some reports coming from that part of the world.

"The United States is baby-sitter to the world," says a U. S. Government official. Er, beg pardon, but wouldn't it be more appropriate to say it is the world's wet-nurse?

In suit for divorce a Detroit woman testified that her husband spent all his money on boats, and named them for other women. This is a glaring example of adding insult to injury.

The Man About Town

Here From Texas

And Like It So Well Do Not Want to Return Home

Budget: An estimate—or is it a guesstimate?

Entertaining relatives from Texas, is of Clarkston. They suggested fishing through the ice and visiting a ski resort, and have enjoyed both so much that they've extended their stay for two weeks. They spend the days on various lakes and evenings at Mt. Holly. One of them tells me, "We dread returning to the sand storms and the many other disagreeable features of our own state."

Many thousands in the Pontiac area remember the parachute drops of who appeared here on numerous occasions when that stunt was considered to be a thriller. Cap died a natural death this week at his home in Adrian—at the age of 81.

Perhaps there's something to cogitate upon in a letter to this column from which says: "Regardless of what he is, King Saud is our nation's best friend in the East, where we surely need some. I tried to be choosy about my friends, and wound up without any."

Getting an unusual catch while fishing through the ice near his home at Pontiac Lake, hooked an overshoe he lost last winter.

Cutting open a large cabbage that she raised in her garden,

Mrs. Winifred Torrance

of Walled Lake found a healthy nest of mice in it.

"Didn't know we had such a large county," phones

Pierce Hollohan

of Birmingham, "until I worked out your two-letter query."

Soon to celebrate her eighty-eighth birthday, this column still maintains that of Sylvan Lake is the oldest woman in Michigan to hold a fishing license. And she still knows how to lure 'em.

The Boy Who Had His Finger in the Hole in the Dike

End of Pact May Be End of Jordan

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The little kingdom of Jordan may collapse soon, creating fresh dangers in the explosive Middle East.

In beginning negotiations this week with Britain to sever the 1948 Anglo-Jordanian treaty young King Hussein may be signing the death warrant for his own state.

Jordan, formerly called Transjordan, gets $33 million annually from Britain. This is more than half of Jordan's income, and without it the state cannot survive.

Under the pressure of Arab nationalists Jordan will end this arrangement on a promise by Syria, Egypt and Saudi Arabia to give Jordan $36 million yearly.

Jordan was created by Britain when the Turkish Ottoman Empire fell at the end of World War I. It was then called Transjordan and the state, about the size of the U.S. state of Indiana, was part of a British political prize.

MOSTLY DESERT

Jordan is mostly desert and never has been self-sufficient. This has suited British policy because the British have kept military bases and troops in the country.

The RAF has withdrawn from the air base at Amman, but it still has more than a thousand men and a few swift Venom jet fighters at Mafrak. The British army has approximately 1,600 men and few tanks at the small port of Aqaba.

Jordan was set up within the Palestine Mandate Sept. 1, 1922, and for years under the Hashemite King Abdullah was a strong ally of the British.

The king won independence in 1946 and British influence began declining upon his assassination by an Arab extremist in 1951.

His eldest son was proclaimed King Talal I upon Abdullah's death, but Parliment removed him for health reasons in 1952 and Hussein, grandson of Abdullah, became the ruler.

GLUBB OUSTED

Egyptian agents were accused of speeding the process whereby Jordan was torn loose from the influence of London.

A British attempt to get Jordan to join the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact resulted in the fall of the government and Hussein later fired Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, the British commander of the 20,000-man Arab Legion, the best fighting force among all the Arab states.

The big question now will be whether Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia really make good on the subsidy promise. Egypt is in poor financial shape because of the quarrel over the Suez Canal, which is still blocked to shipping.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia needs money because oil revenues have dropped considerably due to the canal closure. Syria also is suffering financially because of its own decision to cut the oil pipeline operating out of Iraq.

Many Middle Eastern diplomats believe that its Arab neighbors soon will carve up Jordan territorially. And if they make such a move, Israel might strike to recover Jordan River territory annexed by Jordan before the U.N. Palestine armistice.

LI'L ONES

"Philip, he'll overeat."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Put Quietus on Sinusitis by Quashing Calcium Need

"Taking the Iodin Ration for several months, I feel so much better I quit going to doctors. They just asked me what I complained of and tried one expensive medicine after another without ever telling me what ailed me. This took most of my savings and brought me no relief.

"But now I'm really feeling myself again. Thank you, Dr. Brady, and God bless you always for helping us 'Poor Souls' . . . All I have to complain about now is a little allergy which affects my sinuses . . ." (Mrs. M.A.L.)

Whether the Iodin Ration had anything to do with the lady's improvement, I don't know. But I do know it can do no harm in any circumstance.

Moreover every physician, nutritionist, dietician, physiologist, or student of health knows or show know, every man, woman, or child needs a wee bit of iodin every day to maintain normal metabolism (combustion rate through oxidation) and a cheerful spirit.

WHOA, NINNYHAMMER

Let no ninnyhammer run away with the notion that I say iodin is harmless. I say only that the quantity of iodin everyone should get daily in food, water, or other source can do no harm. The quantity is a fraction of a grain a day. For particulars send stamped self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Now, if Mrs. M. A. L. will undertake a further improvement in her nutrition she may get relief from her allergy and the "sinus trouble. Here's how:

The diet of most Americans is deficient in calcium. Among the more familiar manifestations of calcium deficiency are spurious hay fever and sinusitis, allergy, chronic eczema, spasmodic asthma, nocturnal leg cramps, neuralgia, migraine, growing pains, hives, weak ankles, spinal curvature, hot flashes, enlarged tonsils and flat feet.

LOTS OF MILK

First essetial for prevention or correction of any of these types of malnutrition is an adequate daily ration of milk or milk products — the equivalent of not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk every day. Milk is the best food source of calcium.

The next step is — send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet "The Calcium Shortage."

Again the quantity of calcium I recommend as a fair daily ration is no more than everyone should get from such food as milk, cheese, nuts, beans, peanuts, salad greens, eggs. And again I warn you against the poll parrot specialists and far away medical authorities and phony research experts who sound off whenever Aunt Polly or Uncle Pete needs a filler about the "danger of getting calcium deposits if one takes too much calcium."

Of course, they do not specify how much calcium you should get every day, nor how much is "too much." As yet no physician or pathologist has shown that calcium deposits or calcification of body tissues causing disease. It is invariably a consequence of disease or degeneration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Urges More Participation in Local Skating Carnival

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

City Recreation Department and Northside Community Club sponsored a racing and figure skating contest and it was a thrill to see the girls and boys perform their best. All who helped in this winter carnival are to be congratulated for a fine show.

But it was a shame that there was not greater participation in the contests. In the girls' races, most had only three running for the three positions. Although it was better with the boys, only five contestants were present for the 20-lap Silver Skates race, which required six. It almost did not go off, but the boys recruited a friend to race with them. For the girls' five-lap race, there was only one entry.

In figure skating some divisions were well represented. In age group 10 and 11 only two tried, and only three tried in the 16 and over group. In what would seem to be a much coveted title of queen, only two tried! Only two entries were from outside the city, and none were from Drayton Plains, Clarkston, Lake Orion, etc. How come? Now that many boys have figure skates, isn't there a division for them?

Come on, Oakland County, we can do better!

'Writer Prepared for Consequences?'

In a Voice of the People letter, a writer says the U.S. should "make Russia and Red China concede to our demands that a truce team be sent into all satellite nations held by them."

Suppose Russia and China say one big, united "no." Then, in order to "make" them, we'd have to go to war. Is the writer prepared to send a million American boys into Russia and Red China, thousands of miles from home to fight a war that's none of our business?

Is the writer prepared to face the parents of the million young men that might be slaughtered? Is he prepared to face the rest of the world if this ends in a world war and Russian domination of the universe?

Is he prepared to see H-bombs wipe out 50 of the most important cities in the world, including Pontiac, Flint, Detroit and Lansing? That might include him.

Our administration is using all the Yankee brains and intelligence we have to avoid doing the very thing he asks. Declaring war is very, very simple and very, very easy. History proves that. All you have to do is try and "make" a couple of nations do something they don't want to do.

Finally, some people think those satellite nations are none of our business anyway.

Readers Discuss Proposed Fine

I hope the people of Pontiac don't believe this new proposal is going to mean a $500 fine for drunk drivers only. If passed, it gives the commissioners the right to impose a $500 fine on any new city ordinance.

They can change the wording of the old city ordinance and you have a $500 fine on all ordinances, even jaywalking, if they want it. I believe they are money hungry. Other cities in this area don't have $500 fines and they do all right. Why can't Pontiac?

How many can pay a $500 fine? Not many. So what happens? They go to jail for 90 days and the taxpayers pay the bill. Instead of making more money, we spend more. Remember, taxpayers, if your dog gets loose and they charge you $500, you asked for it.

Suspicious

May I suggest that the state and city of Pontiac can issue a new tavern license and have three for every block now. Look at all the state and city gains in taxes, so why put all blame on drunk drivers and hit them for $500 fines?

We could do with less taverns and temptations. If the city and state would get together and enforce liability insurance on all cars on the road and drivers or no license plate sold for the car, it would mean more than picking on drunks for fat fines.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Young Adult Must Assert Herself

Georgianna could not win her goal by peaceful methods, so I urged a final conference, to be followed by an actual rebellion, if other methods failed. Occasionally a young woman, like our 13 original colonies, gains more by revolt than by continued submission.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-393: Georgianna G., aged 22, is secretary to an attorney.

"But, Dr. Crane, my home life is miserable," she complained bitterly, "My father seems to have a peculiar attitude regarding men.

"Although I'm a normal young woman, with reasonable charms, my father absolutely refuses to let me have a date.

"If I absent myself without telling him of my exact whereabouts, he simply goes into a rage.

"He always insists on knowing exactly where I go, and whom I'll be with. If there is to be a man in the party, then he violently forbids my going.

"The very thought of my being in the company of another man is absolutely intolerable to him. I've tried to make him understand that I should have dates and the social life common to girls of my age, but I can't alter his viewpoint.

"Dr. Crane, what is wrong with him, and what can I do?"

DOUBLE JEALOUSY

Many fathers have this same intense jealousy regarding their only daughters. Georgianna is simply a younger edition of her mother.

And her father has fused his emotions regarding Georgianna, so they are mixture of a normal father's regard, plus his old sweetheart attachment for her mother.

Like the widow who tends to regard her son as a fusion of son and father, and therefore pours out double affection upon the boy, so Georgianna's father looks upon her in a dual fashion. She is both daughter and sweetheart to him.

He doesn't realize this fact, consciously, and many of you readers may feel very incensed at my suggesting such a situation, but it is time we ceased acting like the proverbial ostrich and looked facts in the face.

For many parents are doubly jealous of their child's suitor for this very reason.

MEANS COWARDICE

A man who invests a double portion of love and attention upon any young woman, whether daughter, sister or sweetheart, almost invariably is twice as jealous of any suitor who vies for her favor.

Many a young woman like Georgianna is thus involved in a "triangle" where her jealous father is competing with young men of her own age.

The father may rationalize to hide his jealousy and thereafter claim he is only interested in her own welfare. Actually, however, he is really afraid that a younger man can overbid him.

But a girl of 22, who is a high school graduate, who has earned a business college diploma, and is satisfactorily handling her duties as a legal stenographer, certainly is an adult and should be capable of arranging her own social affairs.

And if by this time she isn't competent to select her boy friends wisely, then more years of parental domination will seldom improve her judgment.

For if parents haven't accomplished the proper sex education of their children by the time they are grammar school graduates, then these parents have failed in one of their important functions.

CALL HIS BLUFF

A girl who has been correctly educated by her parents will usually be safe in masculine company. Ignorance, not wisdom, produces immorality and shame.

Prudish parents are thus actually contributing to the delinquency of their own children.

While we psychologists appreciate the need for due respect and consideration for parental judgment, we have little sympathy for bulldozing fathers who try to rule by force instead of by logic and persuasion.

Georgianna is an adult who is earning her own living. She is thus entitled to dates and social good times.

So I urged her to have a final, straight-from-the-shoulder talk with her father, and call his bluff. She can then live at the Y.W.C.A, if he blindly insists on his jealous coercion of her life.

Send for my bulletin "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a 3 cent stamped envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it to enlighten your children.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'He Is Doing a Dedicated Job'

Ike Still Favors Stassen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reportedly plans to keep Harold E. Stassen as his disarmament assistant despite some GOP demands for his retirement.

The subject came up at a recent White House conference attended by members of Congress.

The President was represented as having said, with something akin to amusement, that Stassen seemed to have a tendency to put his political foot in his mouth. This was an evident allusion to Stassen's political attacks on Vice President Nixon.

Eisenhower was reported to have added, however, that Stassen was doing a dedicated job in the disarmament field, a job he implied that not just anyone could step into and carry on with as much success.

Some members of Congress interpreted this as indicating Eisenhower believes that Nixon—whom he has praised highly—is capable of taking care of himself in any political jousting.

Stassen stirred up something of a tempest within the GOP by saying recently that the Republicans would have won control of Congress if former Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts had replaced Nixon as Eisenhower's running mate.

A Broadway play says some college students are such successful fellows as "Big Men on the Campus," they should retire at 20. Well, dont they? . . . To Susie the dentist, the world is one great big mouth and the people in it are just millions of temporary fillings. —Earl Wilson

Crocuses, Daffodils Blooming in England

LONDON (INS) — Astonished Englishmen are picking daffodils today, staring in amazement at crocuses in full bloom and watching with fascination the budding of pear trees.

The calendar says it is winter but the weather and blood say it is spring in Britain.

Britain simply has no business having such balmy weather at this time of year and the strangest factor is that Britain alone, with the exception of a few meager parts of Western Europe, is experiencing it. The rest of the Northern Hemisphere from Russia across the American Continent has been shivering under the normal blasts of winter's cold breath.

But in Britain, the lawns are greener than they have been in February for years. Frosty nights since autumn can be counted on one's fingers.

At this time last year, Britain was gripped by cold, ice and snow.

This year England has had more than a dash of mild weather — there has been a wholesale avoidance of this tight little isle by winter.

Covarrubias had traveled widely through Asia, Africa, North America and the South Seas. He was the author of best-selling books about the island of Bali and Mexico. His caricatures are particularly popular in the United States and France.

Premier of Turkey Bids for Ike's Aid

ISTANBUL (AP)—Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes today said economic aid under President Eisenhower's Middle East plan should go first to governments "endeavoring for peace" rather than to those endangering it.

Menderes in an interview cited his own government as "the main element for assuring security and stability in the region." He singled out the Syrian and Egyptian regimes as governments endangering peace.

He said the Eisenhower program for thwarting Red aggression in the Middle East was "a very firm step" which "will be of great benefit in bringing political stability to the region."

NEW MARKET — The second Food Town supermarket contains 10,000 square feet of floor space to provide complete, one-stop shopping. Open Thursday morning, it is part of a projected four store chain of markets to serve Pontiac and Waterford Township. The lighted parking lot will handle more than 100 cars at a time. The latest automatic equipment is featured to speed shopping and aid customer convenience. The grand opening will be held at a later date.

New Super Market Will Open Thursday

The second in a planned chain of four Food Town supermarkets will open at 9 a.m. Thursday to serve northern Pontiac and Waterford Township.

Located at 7580 Highland Rd. at Williams Lake Road one mile west of the City Airport, the market embodies the latest in equipment and design according to Ed Adler, president of Food Town Inc.

Adler revealed that the new structure is the first of a 12 store shopping center being built by Ralph and Clark Easley. A drug store and variety store will be opened in spring.

The Food Town Market contains 10,000 square feet of floor space and 5,200 square feet of parking area, enough to accommodate more than 100 cars. The parking lot also has boulevard lighting for easy night use.

Inside, the market features extra wide aisles for convenient traffic moving, four automatic checkout counters and automatic doors. Hi-fi music is continually piped in for pleasant shopping.

Actress Lilli Palmer to Divorce Harrison

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A hearing will be held today on a divorce petition filed in civil court in Juarez, Mexico, by actress Lilli Palmer against her husband, British actor Rex Harrison.

The petition charges "incompatibility of character."

Atty. Francisco Gomez, representing Miss Palmer, said she and her husband have been separated more than a year. They married in London in 1943.

Harrison's attorney Aureliano Vargas said the divorce would not be contested.

Miss Palmer is asking custody of the couple's son Carey, 13.

Bob Considine Says:

Prince's Shoes May Make History

WASHINGTON (INS) — I went to a capital shoe store today to learn a little more about Middle East policies and the Eisenhower administration's struggle for the affections, loyalty and oil of King Saud.

The shoe store, an unusual one, is named Toler's. It is located across the hall from the Washington Bureau of INS and INP in the Pennsylvania Building. It specializes in shoes for the handicapped.

Its experts fitted little Prince Mashhur of Saudi Arabia at Walter Reed Hospital last week. The bill for eight pairs of the little white shoes (four sized 9 and four sized 9½ for next year) and two visits to the hospital comes to $92.56. It has been submitted to the Saudi Arabian Embassy.

The 6-foot-2-inch king is a doting father to Mashhur, his 18th son. The child suffered a brain injury at birth and since then has been a victim of a slight case of cerebral palsy. It affected his gait because of an inability to get his right heel to make proper contact.

The shoes and a corrective brace, made during an overnight rush job at Walter Reed's brace department, may well straighten him out — and do much to straighten out the nation's relations with the Arab world.

ETERNALLY GRATEFUL

"Stranger things have happened," Maynard Toler, owner of the orthopedic shoe shop, told us. "If that boy walks, the father will be eternally grateful to this country."

One wonders if ever in history a pair of shoes meant as much as those of Prince Mashhur. It is within the realm of chance that they could reheat and refuel the homes and industry of Western Europe, open the Suez Canal to Israeli shipping, thwart Soviet aggression.

Obviously, King Saud is the key to the whole Middle East problem, else President Eisenhower would not have gone out of his way to greet him and make him feel welcome.

The little prince, who unconsciously has been his father's best public relations man in this country, provided a sure-fire approach to the old man's heart. The President himself ordered for the boy's use the same hospital suite in which he recuperated from his ileitis operation last June.

The top Army medical brass, including Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, who operated on the President, was alerted to see that the 3½-year-old Arab boy was made comfortable.

Special children's furniture was provided, along with a TV set and other toys. The King was so grateful he announced that he was going to give Walter Reed a $2,000-a-year grant.

PERPETUAL GIFT

"For how long?" a reporter asked the bearded monarch's interpreter.

"Forever," the King said, with the simplicity of a man who can afford it.

For Toler, and his associates, Bob Zona and A. W. Kent, it all started with a call from Capt. James P. Richardson, Walter Reed's resident in orthopedics.

Would Toler come at once and bring along some sample shoes? Richardson gave the size, and Toler was soon speeding to the hospital with 22 pairs. They were all the wrong size. Richardson had measured the child's shoe instead of his foot.

Toler took footprints, noted that the right heel barely touched, rushed back and found just what the child needed. The brace department made its measurements and went to work. The next day, His Royal Highness Prince Ahmir Mashhur Ibn Saud was romping through the hallways of the great old Army hospital.

The boy's shoes, made of white leather, contain a steel corrective shaft fitted to help the brace stretch the tightened heel cord.

It is not a comfortable shoe at this time, Toler said, but he has been straightening out all sorts of malformed feet for years, and hopes — with a hope that is somewhat tenser than usual — that Mashhur is no exception.

Toler added that, to the best of his knowledge, it was the first time his people had ever fitted a pair of shoes with three armed Secret Service men and a scimitar-armed Arab security policeman hovering nearby.

If You Can't Beat 'Em, Might as Well Join 'Em

DETROIT (AP)—Deciding that the dog bite is inevitable, Detroit's 2,500 mailmen are going to grin and bear it. They've used candy, water pistols and even night sticks to discourage biting dogs, all to no avail. Now, says an official, all postment will get shots to prevent infections from dog bites.

Longfellow obtained the information for his poem, "The Song of Hiawatha," which was published in 1855, from an Indian historian who lived at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Report Operation on Audie Successful

HONG KONG (AP) — U.S. movie actor Audie Murphy underwent an emergency appendix operation here today. Hospital officials said his condition was satisfactory.

Murphy, a much-decorated soldier of World War II, was en route to Saigon to make a movie based on Graham Greene's novel "The Quiet American."

An official of United Artists said shooting of the film would be held up "possibly six weeks" by the illness of the 32-year-old actor.

Larger numerals have been placed on basic New Zealand stamps, Wellington reports.

ARTHRITIS WAS SO BAD I ALMOST FAINTED FROM THE AWFUL PAIN

"O-Jib-Wa Bitters helped me when everything failed," says Mrs. Hazel P. Daniels, 3910 Newberry, Wayne, Michigan.

Mrs. Daniels

"The first thing I think of when anyone mentions Arthritis, is O-JIB-WA BITTERS. If someone had told me about this wonderful medicine when I was first struck, it would have prevented three horrible months of suffering. It first came on like a small stinging pain in my hip; gradually becoming worse, then going down into my leg. I work for a living, and being in this shape, it was certainly painful work. When I got up in the morning, my stomach would be upset, and I would have chills and come close to fainting from the pain. I stayed on my feet most of the day because I was afraid to sit down, for fear I wouldn't be able to stand up again. I tried linaments, heat pads, heat lamps, vitamin pills, took shots and finally ended up with a brace on my back, which made my spine hurt even worse. I didn't know what to do next, but when the x-rays taken of my back showed an arthritis condition, I went to the druggist and purchased a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as everything else had failed. From the ads I read about people in Michigan that O-JIB-WA helped, it sounded like it was just what I needed. The first week it didn't help, but I stuck right with it, and the second week the pains began to leave and soon I was all well again. That was two years ago, and I haven't been bothered with rheumatism or arthritis since. I give full credit to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and urge other sufferers to try O-JIB-WA at the first sign of such ailments, and I'm sure this wonderful medicine will help them too."

Chapter 27 — 'The FBI Story'

Leak of Atomic Secrets to Reds Leads to Capture of Traitor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the twenty-seventh in a series of highlights from "The FBI Story," a book about the Federal Bureau of Investigation by Don Whitehead, Pulitzer Prizewinner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

It was nearing the end of September, 1949, less than a month after the FBI had learned of Russia's theft of the secrets of the atomic bomb.

But the intense digging had turned up much information, and already the coil of evidence was tightening around Klaus Fuchs.

On the known record, it seemed impossible. He was now the respected head of the Theoretical Physics division of Britain's atomic energy establishment at Harwell, a man with a brilliant future.

He seemed to have been a discreet fellow, totally absorbed in his work.

Then a small alarm bell sounded. An agent digging through old Nazi records seized by intelligence officers in Germany during World War II spotted an entry bearing the name of Klaus Fuchs.

It carried the symbol A2, identifying the special file into which the Gestapo dropped the names of those they listed as Communists.

BRITISH NOTIFIED

By itself, the old Gestapo file was proof of nothing. The Nazis, for political and other reasons, undoubtedly had accused many innocent persons of being Communists.

Agents sifted through every record they could find that might produce any sort of lead.

They turned to the file of the 1946 Canadian spy case in which Igor Gouzenko, the cipher clerk, had fled from the Russian embassy at Ottawa to disclose the operation of an atomic spy ring.

In this file was a photographic copy of an address book picked up by Canadian police. Among the names was the entry: "Klaus Fuchs, 84 George Lane, University of Edinburgh, Scotland."

Hoover notified British Intelligence (M15) of the new developments. M15 agents shadowed Fuchs. By the end of October the British themselves had decided he was the atomic spy—or at least one of them.

It was December, 1949, when William J. Skardon, Harwell security officer, tapped on Fuchs' door. Once inside, he told Fuchs he was suspected of passing information to the Russians.

Fuchs seemed surprised. "I have not done any such thing."

FUCHS CONFESSES

Fuchs continued to deny his guilt. But on Jan. 24, 1950, he sent word to Skardon that he wished to see him.

The confession came tumbling from Fuchs' lips. Yes, he had given the Russians atomic secrets from the time he began working on nuclear research in 1942 until a year ago. He had sought out the Russians himself and on his own initiative.

Was Fuchs ever bothered by doubts about such treachery?

Yes, he said, he had begun to suffer doubts. He still believed in communism, but not as it was being practiced in Russia. Now, too late, he saw communism as something to fight against.

A significant little scene took place when Skardon accompanied Fuchs to the War Office on Jan. 27, 1950, where Fuchs was to make a formal statement. Skardon faced Fuchs, the man who had betrayed England, the United States, Canada, his associates, and men of freedom everywhere.

The Briton said, "I ought to tell you that you are not obliged to make a statement, and you must not be induced to do so by any promise or threat which has been held out to you."

'CARRY ON'

Fuchs looked at Skardon. Perhaps at that moment he understood for the first time in his twisted life the true protector of human dignity, government by law. He said, "I understand. Carry on."

Klaus Fuchs was brought to trial in Old Bailey on March 1. He pleaded guilty to charges of giving "to persons unknown" information calculated to be useful to an enemy.

Lord Chief Justice Goddard, after hearing the evidence, said to Fuchs: "You have betrayed the hospitality and protection given to you with the grossest treachery . . . The maximum sentence ordained is 14 years. That is the sentence I pass upon you."

In this country, the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy was to say: "It is hardly an exaggeration to say that Fuchs alone has influenced the safety of more people and accomplished greater damage than any other spy not only in the history of the United States but in the history of nations."

From the time Fuchs confessed, the FBI concentrated on getting the answer to one question: Who was the Stranger, the mystery man to whom Fuchs slipped atomic information on at least 10 occasions?

The single clue on which to work was a vague description by Fuchs of a man in his middle years, say 40 to 45. About 5 feet 10. Round face. Not a physicist. Probably not even an atomic employe. Perhaps a chemist.

"Perhaps a chemist . . ."

The search narrowed. Now the FBI concentrated on finding a chemist who would fit the description. Agents pored over files and records.

BIG PROJECT

The task was enormous. For example, in 1945, New York City alone had issued 75,000 licensing permits to chemical firms.

But by the slow process of elimination, the possibilities thinned to 1,500 . . . 1,000 . . . 100 . . . 20 . . . and then at last to Harry Gold.

Gold's name had come to the FBI's attention in May, 1947, during an investigation which grew out of information supplied by Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, a self-confessed Communist courier. The file showed that Gold was a chemist.

A further check disclosed that Gold was now in charge of biological research at the Philadelphia General Hospital's heart station.

On May 15, 1950—some six weeks after Fuchs' conviction—two FBI agents visited the Philadelphia hospital.

No, he didn't know anyone in Sante Fe, N.M. As a matter of fact, he had never been west of the Mississippi river. He answered questions willingly and even with an air of candor, as a man would with nothing to hide.

MAP A GIVEAWAY

A week passed, during which Gold was questioned several times, and finally he said to the agents, "I've told you everything I know. I've got nothing to hide. If it will help, go ahead and search the place." He gave his written consent for the search of his home.

One of the agents looked behind a bookcase. He picked up a yellow folder, one of those Chamber of Commerce maps for tourists. It was a map of "Sante Fe, the Capital City."

The agent spread the map open. "You said you had never been west of the Mississippi? Or have you?"

Harry Gold stared at the map. Then suddenly he seemed to crumple, like a man so bone-weary that he couldn't carry his burden another step.

Gold said, "I . . . I am the man to whom Klaus Fuchs gave his information."

Just as with Klaus Fuchs, once the words began they came in a steady flow. He told how he picked up the information and gave it promptly to "John," whom he later identified as Anatoli A. Yakovlev, Russian vice consul in New York.

Gold was indicted by a Brooklyn grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Espionage Act of 1917. He pleaded guilty in Philadelphia on July 20, 1950, and was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment.

Nothin' but a Hambone —an Goin' to the Dogs

LINDEN, N. J. (AP)—A patrolman used a bone instead of a club to restore the peace.

Officer Fred Heiss had received complaints of a howling dog. Finding the animal's owner away for the night, he went to a nearby diner and got a hambone.

He fired it over the fence to the animal. Silence prevailed.

Urges Uniform U.S. Road Code

By E. C. HAYHOW
Publisher, Hillsdale Daily News

HILLSDALE (AP) — When the motorist ahead of you sticks out his left arm horizontal to the pavement, any Michigan driver knows that he may do one of four things: (1 turn left; (2) turn right; (3) slow down; (4) stop.

That is, if the driver ahead is from Michigan. If he is from Ohio, or any other of our surrounding states, it means only ONE thing: the driver is going to turn left.

Example No. 2: If a Michigan driver is traveling in Illinois and approaches a school bus traveleling in the opposite direction but stopped along the roadway to load or unload children, he knows he is complying with the Michigan law if he drives right past the bus without stopping.

But he isn't driving in Michigan. He is driving in Illinois and the Illnois law says that when a school bus has stopped to load or discharge children, motorists approaching from EITHER direction must come to a full stop.

RISK TICKET

Thus, the Michigan driver who is unaware of the Illinois law risks becoming involved in a serious accident, getting a traffic ticket, or both.

Example No, 3: One of our fine drivers traveling on a highway that has at least two lanes in each direction passes a driver on the right. That's perfectly legal in Michigan, he knows.

It's all right in Ohio, too. And in Illinois. And in Indiana.

But that same driver can get in plenty of trouble in Wisconsin. Because in the dairy state passing on the right is prohibited, no matter how many lanes there are on a highway.

A FEW EXAMPLES

These are just a few of the numerous examples of the lack of uniformity in traffic laws and regulations that plague our Michigan drivers when they venture outside our state. Similarly, the same examples that plague our drivers must not only puzzle and irritate but sometimes prove costly in accidents and court penalties to the millions of tourists who travel our state highways each year.

How does this lack of uniformity exist? Is anything being done to make traffic laws uniform so that a Michigan motorist will be governed by the same laws whether he is driving in his own state or in California, Montana or Florida?

Wouldn't driving be more pleasant, more worry-free, wouldn't congestion be reduced and most important, wouldn't traffic accidents be sharply cut if all states had the same speed law, the same passing law, the same law regulating signals and the many other laws designed to prevent accidents on our streets and highways?

Every traffic authority in the field answers an emphatic YES.

MUST ADOPT CODE

And the way to achieve these goals, they say, is for the states to adopt the Uniform Vehicle Code or the parts of it that states do not have in their own motor vehicle laws.

The President's highway safety conferences, the council of state governors, a congressional committee and virtually every organization in the United States interested in improving highway travel and transportation have urged the adoption of the Uniform Vehicle Code.

The Uniform Vehicle Code is just what its name implies — a compilation of the best laws and regulations governing all phases of motor vehicle operation which are applicable from Maine to California, from Louisiana to Minnesota.

The code was first drawn up when the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety in 1925-26 set a committee to work drafting uniform traffic legislation. It has since been kept up to date by the national committee on uniform traffic laws and ordinances, 100-man committee of traffic authorities in all fields who meet to review the standards periodically and to keep them abreast of changing traffic conditions and needs.

There are five different acts in the code but these articles are concerned with Act V which covers the rules of the road which a driver must observe each time he gets behind the wheel of his car.

While probably all states have adopted portions of the uniform rules of the road, few if any states have embraced all of them. And the very fact that some states have and some haven't also has brought about a hodge-podge which confuses, confounds, irritates and causes needless trouble for motorists.

(Next: Problems that beset a Michigan driver in surrounding States.)

Closing ceremonies of the 1956 Mozart Year were held in the Vienna cemetery where the composer was buried in a pauper's grave in December, 1791.

OK Name Change for Michigan College

LANSING (AP) — The Senate, passing its first bill of the 1957 regular session, voted Monday to change the name of Western Michigan College to Western Michigan University.

Approved 28-0, the measure was referred to the House.

The senators followed up by giving unanimous approval to two other bills.

One would permit townships to authorize supervisors to appoint a clerk and deputies to assist the assessor in his duties.

The other would remove the $50 ceiling from the annual pay of aldermen in cities of the fourth class.

A three member special committee was appointed to study the problem of finding state employment for about 400 Mackinac Straits ferrymen who will be thrown out of work late this year.

Wixom Residents Approve Village Incorporation

2-Township Vote Decides Issue

Voters in Commerce Swing Election; Rocker High Candidate

By STANLEY BOK
Press Correspondent

A proposal that the Wixom area shall become an incorporated village was approved by residents of the district at a special election held yesterday in Novi and Commerce Townships. Final tabulation showed 253 votes for the proposal and 166 votes against it.

The voting in Commerce Township decided the issue. Of 291 votes cast in Commerce, 189 favored the proposal and 102 opposed it.

In Novi Township, the final results wound up in a tie with 64 votes for and against the proposal. The issue was so tightly contested in Novi that each of the two voting machines in the township's community building showed an even tally.

One machine registered 37 votes for and against the issue while a second machine recorded 27 votes for and against the proposal.

It appeared that the tie in Novi would not be questioned. A challenger, Gerald Abrams of the Wixom Civic Assn., witnessed the voting proceedings, according to Hadley Bachert, Novi Township clerk.

Estimates by Bachert and Earl N. Garner, Commerce Township clerk, revealed that about 65 per cent of the registered voters in the Wixom area turned out at the polls. Their estimates were based on the assumption that about 650 of the 1,200 residents were eligible voters.

In the race for five positions on the Wixom Charter Commission, Kenneth Rocker emerged with the highest total (261) of the nine candidates. A tie for fifth place between Jesse Birchard and R. W. Lahti clouded the issue since there are only five positions to be filled.

Those definitely elected to Charter Commission posts are Rocker, Everett Pearsall, Herbert Abrams and William Richards. Whether Birchard or Lahti will fill the fifth opening remains undecided at the present time.

Insofar as Wixom's status is concerned, that area will remain entirely under the governing of Novi and Commerce Townships until a village charter has been approved by the residents.

City-Village Decision Waits Southfield Vote

By KATIE RICKETTS
Press Correspondent

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — One of the biggest issues coming up on the South Oakland County slate this year as people are preparing to go to the polls in local elections is the subject of the Southfield Township Charter Commission. Should the outcome of the election be in favor of said Charter Commission, plans will get under way immediately to propose that Southfield incorporate as a city by a June 6 deadline. It takes a few months to prepare the necessary papers in order to put an issue of this sort into effect and a favorable vote on April 1 will just about give the bond attorneys enough time to prepare all the legal technicalities needed by June.

However, if the voting goes the way the opposition hopes it will, then the north end of Southfield Township will be free to become a part of either the village of Beverly Hills and/or Berkshire Village.

Ted Shurtleff, chairman of the Westwood Village Committee, an oppositional organization, said that as of last Wednesday night, their group will henceforth be known as the "Citizens For Southfield Township" committee, the president of which would be Marvin R. Marsh, the only man on the previous charter commission to oppose Southfield's incorporating as a city.

When asked why he was also opposed to having Southfield become a city, Shurtleff replied, "It goes back to the basic fact that Southfield does not have a solid enough basic industry to support a city. I am not against cities per se. Warren Township, for instance, did the right thing, but they have a fine base of industry. All Southfield has is the Northland area and a few minor industries which is certainly not enough to provide support for an entire city."

Eugene Swem, Southfield Township Supervisor who wholeheartedly agrees on an incorporation says, "Laws under which the township must now operate are so restrictive that it is almost impossible to do the things that have to be done in this rapid growing community."

He also intimated that as a city, "Southfield would be able to put in necessary improvements, when and where they are most needed." At the present time, the road commission has only two pieces of machinery to care for the thirty-one square miles that constitute Southfield Township.

Southfield has almost double the population needed in a large area to constitute a city and the undeveloped subdivisions are that way only because of a lack of sewers and proper water facilities to develope them further, officials said.

Views 'Mountains' of Oranges

Woman's Trip to U.S. Climaxes Years of Hope

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Anastasiya Filimonova is getting accustomed to a new way of life, discovering such things as mountains of oranges and running hot water in the kitchen as a child discovers wonders under a Christmas tree.

The trip climaxed 10 years of hope by Mrs. Filimonova, who lived in Stalingrad.

"Three times," she said in Russian, "they said 'Nyet!' But finally they said 'Da,' so I am here."

She brought five oranges which she bought while her plane was fueling in Copenhagen. Mrs. Novitzsky accepted the gifts warmly, but later took her mother to a supermarket.

"I come with five oranges," the mother exclaimed, "and here they have mountains of them."

The daughter of a Russian Orthodox Priest, Mrs. Filimonova said she lived fairly happily in Russia, but mostly because her daughter sent her money and old clothing which she could remake and sell.

She isn't sure why the Russians ever permitted her to leave, since they allow so few to make their homes in other lands. But Mrs. Novitzsky had this idea:

"She is 63, and I am the only child. I suppose they thought I could take care of her. If there were more brothers and sisters in Russia, well, who knows?"

Mrs. Filimonova first learned of America in 1929. That was when Joseph Novitzsky of Hazel Park, went to Moscow to work in a factory, one of many Americans recruited to help Russia's industrialization.

Joseph met and wed Alexandra, and five years later she got permission to come to the United States with him.

"Things are the same today as when you left," Mrs. Filimonova told her son-in-law. "There are long lines for bread."

May Reach Senate Possibly Next Week for Floor Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution entered the final stage of Senate hearings today amid predictions it will reach the Senate floor sometime next week.

The House passed it last week 355-61 with only minor changes.

Eisenhower wants authority to use American troops to repel overt Communist invasion, if the attacked nation requests such aid, and to spend up to 200 million dollars for economic aid in the area before July 1.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) agreed that the joint committee will wind up hearings this week and report the resolution to the Senate floor before the end of next week.

Masters Degree Reward of Years of Work

Lakeville Pair Inspiration to Friends

By EDNA DUNN
Lakeville Correspondent

LAKEVILLE—Education scored again in the person of Mrs. Walter Griffin, 29, of Lakeville, who has just received her masters degree in education with a major in speech correction.

Mrs. Griffin received this degree at Wayne State University's winter commencement after three-and-one-half years of night classes and summer terms along with being steadily employed in special education in the Rochester area school district.

Other than these, she keeps house for herself and her husband, who is a paraplegic, and works in their grocery store on Saturdays and Sundays.

During summer months, Mrs. Griffin fills her "spare" time tutoring private pupils, painting and papering their three room apartment and store, the latter which her husband runs to earn their livelihood.

Mrs. Griffin graduated from Northwestern University and went to Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center in Fishersville, Va., where she was head of the speech clinic at the age of 22. It was there that she met her husband who was sent from Lakeville for physical therapy.

Walter, now 29, met with an auto accident at the age of 18, as he was preparing to enlist in the Army. He suffered a broken back and is confined to a wheel chair from which he operates their store of groceries and meats, which they purchased five years ago.

The ironic part of this human interest story is that Walter has three older brothers, all of whom served with the armed forces on foreign soil during World War II. They all returned home in good condition, only to find their brother handicapped for life from an accident here.

The Griffins are an inspiration to their host of Lakeville friends and an example of what can be done with will power.

Drought 'Rent' Bill Scheduled for Debate Today

WASHINGTON (INS) — A bill was scheduled to be debated on the floor of the House today which would require the Federal government to offer to pay "rent" on drought-striken pasture.

The idea of the measure, introduced by Rep. W. R. Poage (D) Tex., is to induce cattlemen to keep their animals off parched land and prevent it from permanent damage.

The Agriculture Department opposes the Poage measure.

Harold Obergs Earn Week Trip to Hawaii

ROCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs Harold P. Oberg of 155 Linwood, are the winners of a trip to Hawaii through points and the number of Hot Point appliances sold over a period of six months. The contest included all of Michigan, North Ohio, Indiana and Southern Illinois. Fourteen dealers and six company officials attended a recent dinner at Dearborn Inn, following which the group went to Francisco.

Avalanche Destroys Homes

Idaho Snow Slide Kills 1

WARDNER, Idaho (AP)—A series of snow slides swept down a canyon onto this mining community yesterday, smashing homes like cardboard boxes. One man was killed and three others injured.

A mother and her young daughter were buried alive for about an hour and a half. Another woman was thrown through the broken roof of the adjoining house and landed alive, but critically hurt, in the kitchen.

Many of the 1,000 residents, fearing new slides, evacuated their homes on the steep slopes on both sides of the main street.

The first slide struck before dawn. It killed a miner, Clarence Weaver, 56, splintered his home and tossed his wife 200 feet through the roof next door.

Tons of snow and ice again came crashing down at 10 a.m., smashing into houses half a mile farther down the canyon. Mrs. Betty Sawyer, 24, and her daughter Gloria, 3, were trapped in the kitchen of their home.

A hundred men worked frantically to free them from the snow. After 90 minutes, Mrs. Sawyer was found under the protective cover of the back door which had been knocked atop her. The child was found nearby, still sitting in her smashed high chair. Neither was believed seriously hurt.

A third slide struck in the afternoon, burying one man briefly up to his neck in snow.

Some three feet of powdery snow was topped by a layer of heavy wet snow. When the temperature reached about 30 degrees, the white mass began to move.

Soviets Stress Heavy Industry

Budget Underlines Plan for Boosting Production in Every Field

MOSCOW (INS) — The Soviet government yesterday presented a 1957 budget with a strong emphasis on boosting production of heavy industrial goods and also raising consumer goods output.

Mikhail Pervukhin, chairman of the state economic commission, outlined to the first joint session of the two houses of the Supreme Soviet a budget calling for expenditures of 603 billion rubles.

This would be almost $200 billion under the pegged ruble rate of four to the dollar. But the rate is very unrealistic and the buying power of the ruble considerably less.)

Pervukhin said the government expects 1957 revenues to be 614.8 billion rubles.

PRODUCTION INCREASE

The draft budget, which will be approved by the parliament during its five-day session, said that the government aims at increasing industrial production by 7.1 per cent in all fields.

A boost of 7.8 per cent is sought in heavy industry, a fraction higher than had been predicted by observers. The goal for light industry production was set at 5.9 per cent higher than in 1956.

Pervukhin also reported on the production targets of individual industries. During 1957, he said, the output of coal should reach 446.2 million tons; of oil 97 million tons; of iron 38.1 million tons and of steel 51.5 million tons.

The anticipated revenue and expenditures were slightly higher than those outlined in the 1956 budget, which was approved by the Supreme Soviet on Dec. 28, 1955.

The opening 1957 session of the Supreme Soviet was attended by all 11 members of the Soviet hierarchy.

Bill Collectors Rapping at Door of Dodges Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The bill collectors are after Detroit multimillionaire Horace E. Dodge II and his blonde wife again.

The Chicago millinery firm of Stanley Korshak, Inc., claims in a federal court suit filed Monday that the Dodges failed to pay for such items as a $2,650 pastel mink jacket, a $365 chiffon and velvet dress, and a $365 wool tweed suit.

Dodge, whose present—and fifth—wife is the former showgirl, Gregg Sherwood, was sued twice for past-due bills in 1954. A New York merchandise firm asked for payment of $125,302 worth of items, including $210 worth of mothballs, $1,700 worth of electric trains and $12 for mustache cologne.

Again in 1954, Harry Winston, Inc., New York jewelers, asked for payment of $176,000 worth of gems it maintained Dodge bought and never paid for. A court ordered him to return the jewelry and he did, all except a $6,000 ruby necklace which he said he had given away to someone. He said he didn't remember exactly to whom, but thought it may have been his mother.

Hay 'Hung Out' to Dry

Cloudy days and frequent rains in Norway's fjord country rule out drying hay on the ground. The crop is spread on wires like laundry so breezes can get at it.

Hal Boyle Says:

Bahamian Official Handles All Jobs

ANDROS, Bahamas (AP) — An American bureaucrat would shudder at the multiple dutues of Stanley R. Darville, a political odd-jobs man in a warm climate.

Darville is one of 21 commissioners who handle government chores in some 2,000 Bahamas islands and cays ranging over 70,000 square miles of ocean.

He is one of three commissioners to Andros, largest of the islands, and you can't be around here long without running into the chubby, smiling, 43-year-old official.

British colonial governments act on the same principle as the U.S. Army: "A trained officer can handle any job." If Darville wore a special hat for each of his jobs, he'd need at least 10 in his wardrobe.

When you land here, Darville as customs officer oversees the checking of your baggage. If you are caught smuggling in anything, he will, as police chief, have you arrested; and then, as magistrate hear your case.

If you wreck your yacht on a reef, Darville has to open an inquiry within 24 hours as wreck investigator.

If your home should go up in flames, Darville will drop around as fire inspector to be sure you didn't touch a match to it to collect the insurance.

If you mail a letter, you'll find out Darville is also postmaster.

If you want to get married quickly in a civil ceremony, who says the binding words? Darville.

If you die, Darville will issue the death certificate as coroner.

If you are born here, Darville will register your birth.

If you want to settle here permanently, odarville will handle your application as immigrations officer.

"We are the only government officials who don't wear a uniform," said Darville. "When you get down to it, what uniform could we wear?"

The commissioner is of old French - Scottish Bahamian stock that first came to these "Sunshine Isles of June" in the 17th Century, not long after the Pilgrim Fathers hit the beaches in Massachusetts. He is official shepherd for some 2,500 Bahamian natives dwelling in a tangled pine and mangrove wilderness covering about 750 square miles. Most of the settlements can be reached by boat.

Although the Bahamas have had a long and violent past, replete with pirates and smugglers, the natives today are remarkably law-abiding.

"It isn't once a month I have to give a man a jail sentence," said Darville. "And in nine years as commissioner I've never had a murder case."

The Bahamian natives, although most live on the bare edge of existence, are proud in bearing and have great natural dignity.

"They would rather pay almost any fine than spend even a single night in jail," said Darville.

Few prisoners ever try to break out of the tiny two-cell jail here. Where could they go? If one escaped into the wilderness he would either starve or be immediately turned in by other natives.

Despite all his duties, Darville has a staff of only four men, including a clerk. He works around the clock many days, enjoys a seven-day work week.

The pay scale would hardly tempt an American politician into migrating here. Commissioners make $25 to $50 a week, plus housing, plus an occasional legal fee.

"But I like the life," said Darville. "You can help many people with their problems—and the feeling of satisfaction this gives you is a big part of your income."

The Play's the Thing?

NEW YORK—There are 33 theaters on Broadway today compared with 70 operating in 1927, when the last one was built. In December of that year 11 plays opened the same night.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

YOUR DOG — 3
The Cocker Spaniel

The cocker spaniel is a good pet because he is gentle, lively and full of fun. He is a small dog, weighing 22 to 28 pounds, and is in the sporting class. Usually the cocker has a solid color but some show a combination.

No matter what dog you own, however, be sure to keep him clean and neat. Do not wash him too often, since that tends to dry his tender skin. Groom him with a stiff brush.

You will need a collar, leash and license for your pet, too. The collar should have his name and address on its metal plate. The license can be attached to the collar. A leash will be useful when you walk in towns where dogs are not allowed to run free.

Here is Sue and her pet cocker spaniel. Paste this picture down and color with crayons. Sue has a blue dress. The cocker's colors are black and red brown. Cut the picture along the outlines and fold back the easel ends at the dotted lines. Then the picture wiltl stand up and Sue can brush her pet with ease.

(Winner of $10 for this idea is Jean Toaldo, Leonia, N. J. You may win such a prize, too, if you send a usable idea care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Rejected Romeo Devotes Life to Strange Revenge

Castle Stands As Monument to Love

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — When a man is in love with a woman who won't give him the time of day, much less a warm temperature reading, he may perform either incredibly foolish or remarkable acts.

These days, the usual procedure is to sulk, live life to the fullest hangover, or marry a prettier girl. The lovelorn of the modern era don't suffer very well, possibly because television is improving.

Not so long ago, however, a good unrequited passion was a curse of a different color, and men tended to die, slay their unrequitees, join foreign legions or perform gargantuan feats in order to get the whole nasty affair off their chests.

Men were men in those days—and women must have been considerably more fascinating.

When he was about 35, Ed was jilted by a 16-year-old Latvian lass on the eve of his wedding day. She took the attitude that he was too old for her, which is an attitude that most men don't care for at all, and he was mad.

SAILED TO AMERICA

He forthwith hopped a freighter to the United States and settled near Homestead, Fla., where he went to work with a pick and plow for a local farmer.

Edward weighed only 85 pounds, but it was all grit and resentment against girls, and even the fact that he was tubercular didn't stop him from becoming the best heavy laborer in the whole, hot country.

Amazed and grateful at the little guy's diligence, the farmer in the late 1920s gave him a plot of acreage and told him to start business for himself.

This was a nice gesture, but Ed was not interested in making money. He wanted mainly to make the girl forever sorry. So he began to build — singlehandedly — a castle to his lost sweetheart.

First he built an 8-foot-high wall to close himself in, made of huge blocks of coral rock, each weighing from 4 to 6 tons, which he dug from the ground himself.

No one to this day knows the secret of how, with his small, stringy body, he could lift such great weights — and he would tell no one. He would say only that he knew the secrets used in building the pyramids of Egypt — that with pulleys and leverage a man could move mountains . . . if not women.

TONS OF ROCK

Inside the walls of the coral castle he hauled ton after ton of rock and fashioned them into rocking chairs, beds, tables, great ovens, sun dials, a telescope, even a bathtub.

To make certain his ex-sweetheart would despise herself for spurning a man of such accomplishment, he spent two years carving a pair of children's beds out of the thousands of pounds of coral, and in one corner of the walled-in but ceilingless castle he constructed a coral cradle balanced so perfectly on its base that it rocks gently in the wind.

In 1951, the castle and Edward Leedskalnin's life were completed, almost simultaneously. Now it is a famed landmark in those parts and Ed is renowned, posthumously, as a strange but brilliant genius.

The 16-year-old, who would be about 60 years old now, never saw the castle and presumably never heard what miracles her dire decision brought about.

And Edward, although he had got a lot off his chest (about 4,000 tons actually), never stopped being cynical. Toward the end of his life, he wrote his philosophy about women:

"We are only one-half of a perfect whole, man is the bigger and stronger half and the woman is the other. The trouble is a normal male is always ready to strive for perfection. The female is not."

Learn, After All, 'Life Can Be Beautiful'

Gas-Short Britons Rediscover Homelife as Stalled Autos Keep Folks Indoors

LONDON (AP) — Gasoline rationing has worked a subtle social revolution in Britain. Habits of millions are being changed.

For a whole generation, it has been a rediscovery that "life can be beautiful" at home, that a good book has a special charm, that the pleasures of the heart are as rewarding as a night at the movies.

Parents are seeing more of their children, more of their neighbors and more of each other.

"I just use the car to deliver my husband to and from the station," explained Sussex housewife Victoria Graham, and then I know I'll have him home nights — he hasn't the petrol to go anywhere."

The change in the British way of life began Dec. 17, 1956. With the Suez Canal closed, the government limited motorists to only enough gasoline for 200 miles of travel a month.

Then began the period of readjustment.

RODE FOR MILES

Once mom and pop hired a sitter for the kids, jumped into a car and off they went — miles, if necessary, to see a movie.

Now a date at the movies or the theater may mean standing in a bus queue or in crowded subways. Mom and pop often prefer to stay home.

Result: Movie and theater attendances are down. Sales of TV sets are up.

Another example: In rural areas, bread is delivered to the house like milk. But with rationing, bakeries cut deliveries. Result: an amazing jump in the amount of home-baked bread.

SELL MORE BOOKS

Libraries report more books in circulation and bookshop report increased sales.

The traditional Sunday morning automobile outing by the younger set to the rural public house for a pint of beer is disappearing. Many public houses and inns are closing for lack of customers.

Rationing is supposed to end April 17 but it may go on longer. Even if it ends then, there is widespread fear the price of gasoline may stay high.

This fear has brought about a new popularity in the small, gasoline saving automobile, capable of many miles to the gallon. A taste may be created that will work a change in the British car industry —with less emphasis on the big, family touring car.

BUGGIES GO UP

Second hand buggies, which used to change hands at 10 pounds ($28) each in the days before gasoline rationing, now sell at 30 to 40 pounds $84 to $112).

"A good horse nowadays is likely to fetch up to 30 pounds ($84), said an autioneer in rural Wadebridge, "but there just aren't enough to go around."

More bicycles and motor scooters are on the road. Men in bowler hats, umbrella under their arms, putt-putt down the street in the scooters.

Britain never has been as dependent on the automobile as the United States, which has 61 million for its 165 million people.

Still there are 6 million vehicles registered for Britain's 55 million people even though you don't see many of them on the roads these days.

There are even fewer taxis. Taxi drivers have had their work week cut by one day to help eke out the supply of gasoline.

"Rationing has its blessings, mate," said taxi driver Harry Somers.

"I've been driving for 24 years and, except for the war, this is the only time I remember being able to get through London without a jam."

The club now has a membership of 60.

Highway to Ease Wixom Problem

Mile-Long, 4-Lane Road to Handle Traffic From U.S.23 to New Plant

The State Highway Department today confirmed that a mile long, four-lane divided highway is planned from U.S. 23 to carry heavy traffic north to the new Ford Motor Co. plant just south of Wixom. No price was disclosed.

The proposed road would replace the present stretch of M218 and would extend to north of the factory site.

There were no plans announced, however, for road improvement which would facilitate plant traffic headed from other directions, a question which has worried Wixom residents.

A highway department spokesman said the new road would probably be one of the first completed of a vast, three-year highway building project announced yesterday.

He added that the state has yet to obtain right-of-way in some places. The date contracts are let depends on this, he said.

The question was posed whether the highway would be ready by the time the factory opens. No opening date has been announced, but it is expected soon.

Socony Pensions End at $170,000 for Old Employe

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — Charles W. Penchard, former oil company employe who drew $170,000 in pension payments since his retirement in 1924, is dead at the age of 102.

Penchard suffered a broken hip in a fall a week ago and died yesterday in New Rochelle Hospital.

He was the oldest pensioner of the Socony Mobil Oil Co. Penchard entered the real estate business after his "retirement" and until about a year ago rode a bus to his office every work day.

His son, William, an Erie Railroad pensioner, prevailed upon him to close the office and spend more time at home following his 102nd birthday last August.

Reds Make Hay of Tranquilizers

Depicts U.S. as Gulping Happiness Pills to Cure Capitalistic Jitters

MOSCOW (INS)—As Moscow sees it, the booming U. S. sales of tranquilizers show that Americans caught in the toils of capitalism are downright unhappy.

Americans may be smiling, "Literary Gazette" acknowledges, but their happiness is just a thing called chloropromazine. The paper says it is "quite obvious" from its pill poll that "Americans do not feel happy."

The Young Communist League's "Komsomol Pravda" explains what it prefers to call "peace-of-mind pills" as "mental laxative" which "eliminates feelings of worry, mourning, excitement, fears and uncertainty for the morrow."

Their Marxian diagnosis: By eliminating these anxieties, tranquilizers "make acceptable the foreign and domestic policies of the U. S. A.!"

Young Communists are informed that it's merely necessary to swallow a pill and "the world changes: imperialist sharks turn magically into harmless minnows, Wall Street businessmen into angels, gangsters and blackmailers into peaceful sheep, atomic-war propaganda into tender lyrics singing of forget-me-nots and agents of the FBI into comforters of widows and orphans."

The Moscow press has failed, however, to note that America has given an almost equally-enthusiastic response to the sovereign Russian tranquilizer—vodka.

Communist propagandists tirelessly publicize the U. S. S. R. as a happy refuge for the bared-fangs existence in the capitalist world.

As a prominent Moscow medical clinic director told this reporter the "Soviet people are very healthy ... not nervous ... very calm..."

But when a patient does turn up with vague symptoms of tension, nervousness or some similar "survival of capitalism," the doctor will usually prescribe sedatives, much the same as American doctors were doing before the tranquilizers appeared.

Or, he can buy one of the three time-tested remedies, sold without prescription, at most Soviet pharmacies:

1. Bromides—standard sleep-inducing drugs for over a hundred years;

2. Tincture of valerian—an ancient herbal for calming hysteria.

3. Bekhterev compound—a mixture of bromine, valerian and codeine, devised by the famed Russian nerve specialist academician Bladimir Bekhterev, some 50 years ago.

Guards Subdue Riot by 10 Jail Prisoners

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 25 guards, using tear gas, ended a 35-minute riot by 10 prisoners in the maximum security wing in the basement of the Cook County Jail yesterday.

Two guards were injured when struck by fragments of vitreous toilet bowls thrown by the prisoners. The demonstration started while the prisoners, all waiting appeals from death sentences, were out of their cells for an exercise period.

Warden Jack Johnson said they tore up plumbing fixtures in six cells, set fire to a mattress and soaked other mattresses with water.

Johnson said 14 tear gas shells were fired into the corridor before the prisoners emerged with their hands upraised. They were locked in another cell block awaiting disciplinary action.

Busy Although Blind, Deaf

Handicaps Spur Area Man On

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of our
Waterford Township Bureau

A man who has been stone deaf since he was six years old, and blind for the last 17 years, has just opened a new business in Waterford Township.

Morris A. Strong, 51, of 5200 Dixie Highway is not one to sit in the corner bemoaning his lot.

He has trained for over two years to learn the business of Swedish massage, and now has an up-and-going business started.

He and his wife, Mary, together have built an eight-room house on Lake Oakland and Strong did all of the wiring, plumbing, excavating and most of the roofing.

"He was all over the framework of the house before there was much to walk on," Mrs. Strong said. They have three children and five grandchildren.

Five members of Morris Strong's family communicate with him by "hold hands." They move their fingers, making letters of the alphabet with signs, and by his sensitive touch, he returns the conversation vocally.

Never idle, Strong recently tore down his wife's 1949 car, overhauled it and had it running like new after four nights' work.

In his spare time he makes machine parts on a metal work lathe, weaves patterned rugs, and has donated many pints of blood to the American Red Cross.

Strong likes to swim, and helped clean out the lake in front of his home this last summer. He fishes with a no-bobber straight line and "catches more fish than anyone in the family," according to his son, Morris Jr., 26.

Once a week Strong attends a square dance in Pontiac, and here he is in his glory. He "swings his partners" with the best, by their tapping him on the shoulder in time with the music.

Of his new work, Strong said, "Just because a person is handicapped is no reason why he should give up. It's more of a challenge than ever and what's more, I know I'm helping other people now."

Record Length Belt Carries Hot Pellets

HOYT LAKES, Minn. — A new taconite-pelletizing plant at Hoyt Lakes, located at the eastern end of the Mesabi iron range, is using a conveyor belt that is believed to be the world's longest "hot-materials" belt to transport pellets.

The belt is used to haul taconite pellets at temperatures up to 250 degrees at a rate of more than 2,000 tons an hour.

Operating on a trailing conveyor 1,400 feet long that rides on rails, the belt feeds the world's largest traveling belt-conveyor stacker.

Five Peerage Ranks in House of Lords

LONDON—The House of Lords has more than 800 members. Apart from being a legislative body, it is also the highest court of appeals in the land.

Besides a certain number of bishops, it consists of holders of the five ranks of the peerage: dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts, and barons. The are distinguished from one another on ceremonial occasions by the different designs of their robes and coronets.

Lords have the hereditary right to sit in Parliament. The are not entitled to vote for members of the House of Commons. The only other persons so barred are lunatics, criminals, and those under 21.

SANTIAGO — The faculty of agronomy of the Catholic University of Chile, Santiago, will be aided in expanding its agricultural research and training activities by a $68,000 Rockefeller Foundation grant.

In addition to offering formal training in agriculture, the faculty work with rural youth.

Elk Once Plentiful

North America's native elk used to range over much of the United States and Canada, says the National Geographic Society. Indians called it "wapiti"; English colonials named it elk after Europe's big deer. As settlers slaughtered for meat and skin, the elk retreated westward. Like the bison, or buffalo, it barely escaped extinction.

Higher steel prices have become effective in India.

Athletes Live as Long

CHICAGO—Athletes live just as long as nonathletes and die of the same causes, according to a recent report in the American Medical Association Journal. Questionnaires were sent to 1,130 nonathletes. They showed that the average life expectancy of athletes was 65.96 years, while the average life expectancy of nonathletes was 65.97.

Mexico's population is presently estimated at 28,849,465.

Body Is Just a Body

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—To this Hobbs city policeman a body is a body—whether it's standing up or lying down.

The patrolman was dispatched recently after a telephone caller reported a man lying in the street "who may be injured."

The policeman's laconic report of the incident:

"I was unable to find anyone lying in the street but I saw a man nearby staggering along who appeared as if he might have just gotten up from the street. I took him into custody."

The man was booked for drunkenness.

Pontiac Council of PTA Observes 34th Birthday

Six-hundred and eighty-five PTA members met in Lincoln Junior High School for the annual Founders' Day banquet and pageant. It was the 34th anniversary of the Pontiac Council of PTA.

Special guests introduced by Mrs. William Mihalek, council president, were Louis Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education; Monroe Osmun, Robert Oliver and Dr. Walter L. Godsell, members of the Board of Education.

Others were Mrs. Harry E. King, vice president of the Board of Education: Frank DuFrain, former superintendent of schools, and J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools.

Past council presidents introduced included Mrs. Gordon Rice, Mrs. Donald North, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. King, Mrs. Leon Wolverton, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Frank Schmidt.

A pageant, "Education for Democracy," written and directed by Vera Mae Adams, demonstrated the different trends in education from the 17th Century to the present time.

Horton Southworth, principal of Crofoot School, acted as narrator, and musical interludes were played by Joseph Zabelski at the organ.

Wever School students depicted the classroom of the 17th Century. Education was principally religion-centered and instituted by the various faiths abiding in the land.

Students sat on crude benches, recited prayers and sang hymns, always under the supervision of a strict schoolmaster.

By the early 20th Century, strict moral instruction lost ground and reading blossomed into grammar, declamation, literature, writing and penmanship.

Schools were opened to all children and were founded on basic moral principles. Programs began to emphasize the secular subjects with a view to reaching out into the world around.

THE THREE Rs

During the early 1900s it was believed that through drill and sometimes unimaginative teaching would come discipline and learning. McCarroll School youngsters enacted this program of strict emphasis on reading, writing and arithmetic.

Educators later debated whether this form of teaching was realistic. The two ways of thinking were demonstrated in a scene by students from Mark Twain school. The scene, divided into two classrooms, showed one class paying strict attention to class work, and the other class doing as it pleased.

The fourth scene was the decade of the '40s during a time of war, confusion and fear. This scene, enacted by Bagley School students, showed teacher-student teams working together to meet the needs of the student.

The last scene of the pageant depicts schools of today training adults of tomorrow. It described the work of PTA which is to "develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education."

General chairman of the banquet was Mrs. Leonard Saari. She was assisted by Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. Anton Koenig, Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury, Mrs. George Gray, Margaret Scott and Mrs. Richard Stark.

Others were Mrs. Roland Stephison, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Morris Cucksey, Mrs. L. D. McLaughlin and Mrs. Russel Bell.

Pontiac Press Photos

The PTA Founders' Day banquet and pageant were held Tuesday evening at Lincoln Junior High School. The occasion marked the 34th anniversary of the Pontiac Council of PTA. The pageant showed the different types of education used in the American system. The scene above illustrates the early 20th Century attitude toward education when parents felt more free to visit schools and and observe youngsters at work. Playing the role of visiting mothers were Mrs. Fred Eastman (left) of East Kennett road and Mrs. N. Reid Graham of Joslyn road. Dennis Graham (left) of Joslyn road and Bonnie Brash of Barkell street portrayed students.

Fashion Hint

Capes are back in fashion, in all lengths, for use over suits, dresses, but best of all, over evening clothes, when the night breeze blows in from the sea. The pale blondes and Edwardian greens that blend so well with most colors are excellent choices. Indian sari stoles are glamorously intriguing when artfully draped over bare shoulders.

Household Hint

To get best results from your automatic washer, don't overload it. Try filling it with a pound or two less than the capacity which the manufacturer lists. The clothes should move freely through the water, so mix small and large pieces —not more than two sheets to a load. Overloading not only gives poor washing results, but is hard on the motor.

Bosses Are Mere Human Beings

By ANNE HEYWOOD

People are people, whether we encounter them in a living room, at the beach or in an office.

Yet many of us who are pretty good judges of people in our social lives forget all that we know when it comes to our business lives.

Put a man in a big office, behind a big desk and we become so aware of the trappings that we forget he is still a member of the human race.

"I'm very good at judging men when they're boy friends or dinner dates," a young woman told me mournfully.

"But when they're in an office, especially a new office, I'm always attributing qualities to them which they haven't really got and being disappointed.

TYPICAL CASES

"My last three bosses were typical. They honestly didn't know much about their work. In each case, I thought I could learn something about business as a secretary, but I was certainly disappointed."

Men make the same mistake, too. A salesman I know has been disappointed in his last two bosses.

"Just because a man is sales manager or vice president in charge of sales," he told me, "I assume he knows what he's doing. But I've learned that that isn't always the case."

Most executives get there because of ability and hard work. But there are always a few who get to the top through pull or politics or just plain orneriness.

If you work for this type, you not only learn nothing, but are apt to be dealt with unfairly.

TWOFOLD ANSWER

What is the answer? Well, I think it's twofold.

First, keep your eyes open when you're being interviewed for a job. Forget that the boss is a boss and look at him as a member of the human race.

How does he act to his present secretary? Does he interview you with a kindly or a harsh manner? How does he answer the phone? Does he bark into it?

You can tell a lot if you just look at him hard.

Second, don't just take the first job that comes along. You'd shop for a hat — you've got to shop for a job.

Have a good many interviews. That way you'll see what the market has to offer and you'll get enough practice so that you'll be a pretty good judge of potential bosses!

If you have trouble lining up enough interviews, or if job-hunting is a nightmare to you, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to me in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, How To Get a Job Without Contacts.

'Faces of James Dean' Excite Hollywood Kids

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Hollywood bobby-soxers are being startled out of their wits these nights by the "many faces of James Dean."

One of the faces is that of handsome Jose Campos, a dead-ringer for the late celebrated actor.

Campos, a 24-year-old ex-bullfighter from Seville, Spain, has actually been mistaken for Dean by people who were not aware the actor was killed in an auto accident last year.

"I've only been in California a few weeks," Campos said with the aid of an interpreter, "but what a reception!"

The brown-haired Spaniard, who looks enough like Dean to be his twin brother, is mobbed by teenagers everywhere he goes and one Dean admirer in San Francisco tore off his shirt.

Another said he was glad he had "recovered" and asked for his autograph.

WORLD JOURNEY

Campos left his native Spain several months ago and has been on a trip around the world. He never heard of Dean until he reached Manila and then he went to see "East of Eden."

"I don't think I look like James Dean at all, but I suppose I must because even Japanese girls hugged me when I walked down the streets of Tokyo."

When he reached Hollywood things got even worse and finally he hired a manager-bodyguard to accompany him on his rounds of the town.

Famed photographer Wilson Millar, who made a number of portrait studies of Dean, heard of Campos and invited him to pose. Millar declared:

"He looks like Jimmy, all right, but his face is thinner and more aristocratic."

Two other Dean look-alikes are Frank Horton, a bit actor, and Dean Stockwell, former child star, who says he can't get the right kind of movie break because of his likeness to Dean. Stockwell declared:

"I've been wearing horn-rimmed glasses for years, but now I'm afraid to put them on in public because somebody always gets that 'James Dean look' on his face."

A MOVIE BREAK

Young Horton, an ex-bellhop and artist from Miami, Fla., who came to Hollywood with the hope of becoming an animator for Walt Disney, claims he is getting a film break because of his facial similarity to Dean.

"I don't like it," he added, "but if it gets me in the movies, I don't care."

Horton says he already has two fan clubs—"one in Dallas, Tex., and one in Van Nuys, Calif."

Eyedrops Help at Rest Time

CHICAGO (INS)—If your eyes droop at the end of a hectic day, take time out.

Both housewives and career women need a stretch on the couch and the revival time will be faster if they use eye lotion, according to a manufacturer.

The manufacturer said tests show women snap back in a few minutes of resting their eyes and their feet. "If they use eye drops, they needn't doze off to the point of not hearing a youngster.

"It's relaxation, not sleep, that counts at this time of day," said a spokesman.

Mrs. Naz Addresses Round Table

Club Hears Book Review

Mrs. John S. Naz of the Waterford Book Review Club reviewed Dr. Karl Stern's book, "The Third Revolution," at the Tuesday meeting of Round Table Club. Mrs. W. J. Baumgartner opened her home in Silverside road for the afternoon gathering.

"A book dealing with psychiatry and religion, it is a brilliant exposition of the current controversy," Mrs. Naz remarked

"Dr. Stern shows that all the factual observations of psychoanalysis are perfectly compatible with religion and demonstrates that the great task of our age is to integrate present-day scientific knowledge about men with the Christiain idea of man."

Mrs. R. C. Cummings reported on the purchase of a permanent site at Belleville for the first unit of Girls' Town, a project of Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

A series of telephone bridge parties is planned for this month. Proceeds will be used to further the philanthropic work of the organization.

A patriotic motif was used in the decorations for the tea table at which Mrs. Eugene Cleland presided.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. H. E. McCulloch, Mrs. Hazel Anderson, Mrs. A. T. Anderson, Mrs. Leon Belknap, Mrs. G. H. Boles and Mrs. Cummings.

New Type of Candy Uses Beef, Coconut

The beef industry believes it has a new market for cow meat.

Undecided yet what to call it, a concoction of 25 per cent ground dried beef mixed with coconut and toasted and blended with marshmallow or chocolate fudge is being readied for the candy market.

Said to be the first time beef and sugar have been mixed successfully, the new addition to candy counters does not require refrigeration.

Real Gems Add Glitter to Capital

But Mrs. Benson Sticks to Necklace of Plain Crystal

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Real jewels in this dressy town are the rule rather than the exception.

Mrs. Merriweather Post, richest of the capital's many wealthy women, has a maharajah's collection of diamonds, pearls and emeralds.

The sapphires, rubies, diamonds, emeralds and pearls worn by Mrs. Robert Guggenheim, pretty wife of the former U. S. ambassador to Portugal, would bug out the eyes of any gem connoisseur, and the diamonds and emeralds bestowed on hostess Gwen Cafritz by her realtor husband, Morris, are something to gasp home about.

There have been times, however, when reporters, from across a crowded room, reported rhinestones and lesser baubles as diamonds.

And one among us was about to describe the glitter in the necklace worn by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's wife as real amethyst.

CRYSTAL, SHE SAYS

"It's crystal," said Mrs. Benson.

"We're going to say it's amethyst so it'll match the gown," the gal reporter insisted.

"My," said Mrs. Benson. She repeated it was "colored crystal." She said the secretary picked it up in Czecholsovakia.

Incidentally, Mrs. Benson brags that she is "married to a farmer" and doesn't want anybody to get any high falutin' notions she is anything but "darned practical."

She does her own housework, with members of the family pitching in to set the table and help with the dishes.

MAKES CLOTHES

Mrs. Benson makes some of her own clothes. The idea of having a name couturier create a gown for her for a special occasion would seem to her sheer folderol.

Newsgals admiring her truly handsome and becoming lavender lace dress once asked: "Who did hour gown?"

"The ZCMI department store in Salt Lake," Mrs. Benson responded quickly.

"That's the oldest department store in the world. ZCMI means Zion Cooperative Mercantile Institute."

Stretch Your Neck, Stay Youthful

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A woman should not forget her chinline if she wishes to remain as youthful looking as possible for as long as possible. The neck and chinline are usually two of the first "giveaways."

There always have been two schools of thought about whether to stretch the muscles of the neck or not. I know what you are thinking, whether to "stick your neck out" or not. Well, sticking one's neck out may be fun but that is not what I am talking about—to the contrary!

The chin line, an important point for youthful beauty, responds to good posture and exercises suggested by Josephine Lowman today.

Sticking your neck or chin out is the one thing you should not do if you are interested in good posture and a good neckline. Stretching the muscles of the neck in a constructive way is different, and I belong to the school of neck exercises which involve stretching.

As a person grows older the muscles have a tendency to shorten and tighten and this happens underneath your chin. So, if you wish to listen to your Aunt Josie, pay attention to your posture and take these exercises:

1. Raise your head and look upward as though you were looking for your favorite star. Lower your head. Look up again to the right, even if your favorite star is not there. Lower your head. Look up to the left. Lower your head. Continue, alternating right and left.

2. Make circles with your head, circling firt to the right and then to the left.

MOST IMPORTANT

Good posture is of paramount importance. Daily habits in posture have a tremendous impact because posture has a lot to do with the way your chinline and your figure, and you, look!

If you have a double chin, if your neck lacks tone, if you have lines on your neck you should not have at your age, if you have a Dowager's Hump, the first thing to do is to improve your posture.

If you would like to have my exercises for the chinline, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10 "Is Your Chinline a Pain in the Neck?"

Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Gold Layers Make Use of Extra Yolks

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Ever have a lot of egg yolks and not know what to do with them? Mrs. Jackson Byers of Waterford suggests making an Egg Yolk Cake which she says is perfectly delicious.

Mrs. Byers has three daughters. She and her family like lake living. She is past president of a child study group, the organizer of a young mothers' church group and is interested in the Civic Music Association. The Pontiac chapter of AAUW counts her among its newest members.

A trained home economist, Mrs. Byers loves cooking and good food. She also enjoys gardening, transferring her affections to African violets in the winter.

EGG YOLK CAKE
By Mrs. Jackson Byers

¾ cup butter or margarine
1¾ cups granulated sugar
8 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored
2½ cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until fluffy. Add beaten egg yolks and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Add flavoring.

Pour into two 9-inch greased layer pans or three 8-inch ones. This makes a huge cake. Bake 35-45 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Put layers together with chocolate filling. Frost with seven-minute icing.

Cook Vegetables Quickly, Using Little Water

COLUMBIA, Mo. (INS) — A Missouri University nutritionist offers five suggestions to save food values when cooking vegetables.

Miss Josephine Flory advises:

Do not let vegetables stand in water. Soaking drains out water-soluble vitamins.

Cook quickly in a small amount of boiling water in a tightly covered pan.

Cook only until tender.

Do not add soda when cooking vegetables.

And save water in which vegetables were cooked and use in sauces and soups, for it contains many nutrients.

Miss Flory also suggests serving a lefy, green or yellow vegetable at least once each day for well planned meals.

She said whether used raw, cooked, frozen or canned, leafy, green and yellow vegetables contribute vitamin A, calcium and iron to the diet.

Unwed Women Consider Married Friends Smug

They Resent Receiving Sympathy and Being Referred to as 'Old Maids'

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to married women:

Your unmarried friends think some of you are pretty smug simply because you have a Mrs. in front of your name.

They claim you obviously "feel sorry" for any woman who is past 25 and still hasn't a husband. They resent your sympathy and your coy "We've got to find a husband for Janie" type of remarks.

But what they resent most of all is your referring to unmarried women as "old maids."

Let's let one of your unmarried sisters speak for herself:

"I am in my 30s, fairly attractive and have lots of friends, and I am not married. The latter does not bother me in the least because I just haven't met 'the man' yet.

"I still have hopes, but until I fall honestly and truly in love, I prefer to stay single. I am not sorry for myself, but my friends seem to be. They make it plain that they think life is passing me by.

ISN'T ENVIOUS

"I realize that a husband and children are wonderful and I see many examples of sweet companionship, but I am not envious, simply because I haven't met the man with whom I want to share my life.

"And I will not marry just to have a Mrs. tacked onto the front of my name, though I have several friends who have, in desperation, done just that.

"I am happy. I lead a busy life. I have had a couple of proposals of marriage — but I just wasn't in love with either man who asked me to marry him.

"I may marry someday, I hope I shall. But until then, why do I have to pretend not to mind when I am referred to as an 'old maid?' And why am I made to feel apart by the superior and pitying attitude of friends my own age, just because they happen to be married?"

Think it over all of you who have a Mrs. before your name. Are you guilty of acting just a bit superior to your unmarried friends? If so, you can be sure your attitude is deeply resented.

Dual Control Helps to Teach Driving

If you want to be completely safe when you teach your child to drive, there's nothing more effective than the portable dual driving control that makes it possible for you to operate the car —if necessary.

The dual control can be used in six makes of autos and is simple to remove or install. Some high schools have adopted the policy of renting the controls to parents who wish to teach their teenagers to drive, or they may be purchased for a nominal sum.

Guests Talk Politics, Get Very Angry

Hostess Asks How to Deal With Such Unpleasantness

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "What can a hostess do when guests in her house get into a heated argument on politics? The other evening after dinner this very thing happened in my house and I was really at a loss as to know what do do.

"I tried several times to change the subject, but to no avail—instead the argument became more heated and I thought they were going to come to blows. I would appreciate any help you have to offer in handling a situation of this kind."

Answer: This is the one exceptional time when a hostess has to take a stand like that of a schoolteacher facing an unruly class, and exclaim, 'Please, please, don't let's go on with this we are losing our tempers and not getting anywhere.' If she is serving refreshments this is a good time to pass them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Some friends of ours have just moved into a new house and are giving a very large housewarming. Does an invitation to this type of party require a present? There seems to be some doubt about this. Some say yes; and others, no. If a present is taken what kind should it be?"

Answer: Only those who are very intimate friends would feel inclined to take a present. Anything that fits into a house, from a parlor ornament to a kitchen implement, would be proper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to send a wedding present to someone who is being married for a second time? We gave her a gift when she was married before. She is having a private ceremony with a reception following to which we have been invitd."

Answer: You do not have to buy her a second present, unless you happen to be very intimate friends of both her and her new husband-to-be. In this case you will probably wish to give them a present.

OES Group Meets

Dropped shoulderlines broaden shoulders so the raglan sleeves, popular now, are what you want. Broad, exaggerated collars, plus the dropped shoulderline, not only broaden your shoulders but draw attention from hips—in case they are wide.

Popular Again Is Wool Jersey

NEW YORK (NEA)—Wool jersey, in all its beauty, appears in the Italian collections in suit form.

The wool jersey suit is no novelty to American women. It has appeared over and over again in various designs. Many were offshoots of the Chanel influence, since it was she who stressed and still stresses the easy elegance of the wool jersey suit.

But recently, since the whole trend has been to lightweight fabrics for both coats and suits, the wool jersey suit has come into its own. It's done in both fitted and slightly fitted versions and with straight or flared skirt.

The Bloom of Youth

This elusive "something" that all women envy is much easier to retain than to regain.

Proper rest is essential to the woman who wants to keep the bloom of youth for bonus years. Beauty preparations and vitamins cannot replace a haggard look or restore sagging muscles.

Living on coffee and cigarettes may reduce your weight but it will also reduce your vitality, resistance and endurance. All of these effect your appearance.

Your very first step must be a good state of health.

GREENHOUSES in LAKE ORION

Reward Child, but Don't Bribe Her

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On the way home from school Joan passes the grocery store her mother trades with. Next to it is a shop that carries toys. For the past week its window display has included a green plastic purse marked down to 59 cents.

Twice Joan has enviously described it to her mother as the exact shade of her winter coat. Once she asked for it openly—and was refused.

This afternoon Joan's mother wanted something from her. Told that her husband was bringing a client home for dinner, she realized she'd need whipping cream for a company dessert. Instantly she thought, "I'll get Joan to run downtown for it by giving her the money for that green pocketbook."

But she didn't yield to the temptation to bribe the child. Controlling her impulse to buy helpfulness, she asked for it. Though Joan grumbled a little at going on the errand, an explanation of it emergency nature soon got her on her way.

When she retured with the cream, her mother kissed her and said, "I am so grateful that I want to give you something in return. Here is 59 cents to buy that green pocketbook you were telling me about."

MORE SATISFYING

This reward gave Joan 500 times the satisfaction that a bribe of the same gift would have given her.

A bribe always expresses our doubt of a child's helpfulness. It anticipates his refusal of it. It insults him, treating him, not like a human being possessing initiative and understanding, but like a vending machine that cannot disgorge our chewing gum until we have inserted the coin that starts its gears working.

Unlike the bribe, the reward is given to the child after he has done the service. It expresses appreciation instead of suspicion of his helpfulness. It therefore gains for Joan not just a green plastic pocketbook but new self-respect as a person of recognized value to others.

Parents bribe children because they fear to make an unsupported demand on their helpfulness. If we are a bribing mother or father, we should consider the possibility that we begrudge giving to others ourselves.

It is only when we secretly feel that others are asking to much of us that we feel obliged to bribe Joan not to resist our demands on her. We expect from her the resistance that is in ourselves.

This resistance is something to know about, not be ashamed of.

Heavy? Eat Lots of Celery

ORLANDO, Fla. (INS) — A stalk of celery daily and "normal" eating is the latest answer to problems of overweight persons, according to a two-year survey by the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association.

The study, conducted by Dr. Clarence Bernstein, of Orlando, was presented to a recent meeting off the Florida Academy of Science in Tampa.

Dr. Bernstein said the two-year study shows that by "eating normally and taking a stalk of celery daily" excess poundage willslowly melt away.

According to the physician, the ideal weight reduction program is one that allows a patient to eat a reasonably free choice of foods and at the same time feel that he is eating enough, feeling full and being satisfied.

He said celery was chosen for the study because it is "abundantly available, a natural (rather than a synthetic) product, inexpensive, chewy and mouthfilling."

Those selected for the experiments were examined by consulting physicians and certified for the diet trial. Weight and blood pressures were recorded at weekly intervals.

Dieters were instructed to eat one average size bunch of celery per day, four to six ribs one-half hour before lunch and repeat before dinner. They were also told to use celery for between-meal snacking as well as for a pre-meal filler.

During the following 10 weeks all participants in the study lost weight. In addition, all reported they felt better and that celery satisfied the hunger sensation.

THE POWERHOUSE
By JIMMY POWERS

The writer is an old basketball buff who covered the Cleveland Rosenblooms when Richie Dieghan, Carl Husta and Nat Hickey were pinwheeling all over the place.

Washington Capitols then had Rusty Saunders, Horse Haggerty and Roddy Cooney, and Philadelphia had Al Kellert, Babe Barlow, George Glasco and Ted Kearns.

I've seen a lot of good pros have good nights, but few have excelled the superlative performance Harry Gallatin turned in against Bill Russell of the Celtics.

I hope I'm not jinxing Harry but all real pros understand you can cool off as suddenly as you get hot.

Harry, only 6-6, was simply tremendous against the greatest defensive star in college basketball history, the Olympic star who is currently ripping the NBA apart with his board play and leaping interceptions of potential goals.

Harry scored 26 points; Russell 12. He had 16 rebounds, Russell 13. How it will be next time they meet—well, that's something no one knows.

Naturally, like all good athletes, "The Horse" takes delight in his accomplishment . . . "I'll admit, Jimmy, I really put out a little extra against Russell," he said frankly. "It was a matter of pride. I'd read a lot about Russell. I welcomed the chance to play him, to find out if he really was that good."

NOT MUCH TROUBLE "BOXING" RUSSELL

Without attempting to detract from Russell's tremendous defensive skill, the "Bread-and-Butter" pro of the Knicks knew he could handle his man after the opening minutes . . . "Aside from the edge in experience I had, I discovered he is not as strong physically as the other centers."

"I mean rivals like Share, Johnson, Lovellette and Foust. They are all powerful men. After you lean against them or try to push them around for awhile you know you've been up against strength. They don't give an inch."

"Russell doesn't pack much weight for his height, so I didn't have too much difficulty "boxing" him out, so that another Knick could get the rebound. He fooled me once, though. Sharman missed a shot and Bill, using a good fake, got around me. All I saw was his elbow over the rim of the basket as he "stuffed" the ball for a two-pointer."

"SPOONED" — Oliver Dewey (above), might say he just "spooned" the 9½-pound pike he displays, out of the chill waters of White Lake. Oliver, fishing from a shanty, used an 8-inch silver tablespoon as his decoy, slammed home a 7-tine spear when Mr. Pike came in to investigate. Dewey is an avid fisherman, took an 8-pounder a week ago. He got his big one last Saturday. It was 34½-inches long, his 23rd pike of the winter.

Oriole Manager Scoffs at NCAA Aid to Athletes

Majors Get Competition From Recruiting Method Says Baltimore Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Moreland, barred from competition at North Carolina State College, dropped out of there to enter Louisiana Tech because he wanted to play basketball.

Baseball's Paul Richards, signing a high school hotshot for the Baltimore Orioles, remarked: "The so-called amateur colleges give us our biggest competition in signing players."

Those two unrelated events this week helped reveal that the colleges, in their efforts to control athletic abuses, have set up a system that offers constant temptation to evade the rules in an effort to land the outstanding athlete.

Virtually every move in the NCAA and the major conferences, from the abolition of platoon football to the latest tangled NCAA amendment on financial aid, makes the real star athlete who is a satisfactory student the prime target of recruiters

Moreland is that type. He's 6-8, a great scorer in high school basketball at Minden, La., and a B plus student during his one semester at North Carolina State. He says he had offers from more than 50 colleges. Bert Barth, the Beaumont, Tex., 18-year-old signed by the Orioles, apparently is the same sort of sought-after lad.

The situation that causes everyone to concentrate on the few standout athletes and neglect the others is simply this:

The NCAA and most conferences permit granting of athletic scholarships or grants-in-aid, with certain limitations, largely on the basis of the recipient's athletic ability. But there's no machinery for judging that ability. Tryouts are strictly forbidden.

What's more, once the grant is made, it's irrevocable during the period for which it is awarded — usually four years. The school, and the coach or recruiter who makes the decision, is stuck with it even if the boy never plays a minute of varsity football, basketball or baseball. The only out is academic inadequacy.

Hedged in by such rules, a good many others, the recruiters are looking only for the top performers. And often a coach feels he'd rather take a chance on offering a good boy more than the legal limit than on getting athletes who didn't measure up. Even the Ivy League has shown that a coach's job doesn't last too long if his team's don't win.

No Hearing Set on Monday Bout

Helfand Thinks Referee Was Honest in Stopping Fight at St. Nick

NEW YORK (INS)—New York State Boxing Commissioner Julius Helfand says there "will be no hearing" on Monday night's fight between Garnett (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia and Barry Allison of Holyoke, Mass.

The fight was stopped by referee Harry Ebbetts after 22 seconds of the seventh round and a technical knockout decision was awarded to Hart.

Fans at St. Nicholas Arena reacted to the decision by booing and hurling refuse into the ring. Ebbetts had to be escorted from the arena by police. Allison maintained he could have continued.

All three ring officials had Hart well ahead on their cards.

Helfand stated, "I am not saying whether Ebbetts was right or wrong in the matter, but I am convinced he acted honestly."

Fishing, Trapping Good for Tominsky

For Stanley Tominsky, 431 Marion, Pontiac, this has been a busy and fairly successful winter, from a fishing and trapping standpoint.

Tominsky has taken a good catch of muskrats, working his traps in the Otter Lake section. He also is an inveterate angler, turning his attention now to spearing from a shanty on Otter Lake. First of the week he impaled a 11½ pound pike. A neighbor, Ed Perry, was with him at the time.

Cage Elite Feels Mounting Pressure

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Life among college basketball's upper crust gets more precarious as the season approaches its climax.

Night by night, the building pressure and ambitious underdogs with nothing to lose but the game, combine to threaten the proud records of the nation's elite.

Monday night it was Iowa State, No. 9 in The Associated Press weekly poll, panting past Colorado 72-71 in a last-gasp thriller. Last night it was top-ranked North Carolina's turn to live hard.

The Tar Heels grayed Coach Frank McGuire's locks before upending Maryland in double overtime, 65-61 for their 17th straight victory.

The pressure was lighter elsewhere among the AP's top ten. Fourth-rated Southern Methodist subdued Baylor 83-70 to remain atop the Southwest Conference. And Seattle, No. 7, had a breeze beating Seattle Pacific 106-72.

North Carolina owes its 17-0 record in part to Lennie Rosenbluth who scored eight of the Tar Heels' 12 points in the two overtime periods for a night's total of 25 points. But it was Tommy Kearns who earned Carolina clutch honors. Kearns tied the regulation game at 53-all and sank the basket which put the Tar Heels ahead 63-61 with 3:12 to go in the last overtime.

Southern Methodist could thank Jim Krebs for its 16th victory in 18 games. Krebs, playing despite injured ankles, netted 24 points as the Mustangs stopped the fired-up Bears with effective outside shooting and free-throw line accuracy.

Cellar-dwelling Texas A&M upset Texas 69-67 in a Southwest Conference overtime thriller, virtually eliminating the Longhorns from the title chase. Missouri used a second-half drive to overwhelm Oklahoma 74-56 in a Big Seven game that saw Al Abram, the first Negro athlete in Missouri U. history, playing creditably.

Seventh-ranked Seattle, the first team to be named to the National Invitation Tourney (NIT) had an easy time against Seattle Pacific 106-72.

Other college action went this way: CCNY 58, Fordham 56; Valparaiso 78, Butler 67; The Citadel 67, Newberry 55; Georgetown D.C. 75, LaSalle 62 and Memphis State 86, Western Kentucky 84.

Seattle Quintet 1st NIT Entry

NEW YORK (INS)—The Seattle University Chieftains are the first entry in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament which begins at Madison Square Garden March 16.

Seattle's agreement to come east for the tourney was announced last night. The Chieftains have a 17-and-2 record and have been ranked as high as sixth in the nation.

Norway's Whalers Quit

Jewelers Win 9th; 'Kids' Top Bestway

Shaw's Jewelers continued their domination of the American League and the Calgon Kids remained a National League contender in adult city basketball activity last night at Pontiac High.

The Jewelers bombarded Stadiun Inn, 86-57, for their 9th consecutive win. Tom Spencer and Don Williams paced Shaw's with 22 and 20 points respectively. Dick Chambers scored 20 points for Stadium.

Calgon stayed on the heels of pace-setting Griff's Grill with a 40-35 win over Bestway in the nightcap. Roger Reynolds of the Kids and Bestway's John Bridgewater made 10 points apiece. Calgon led at halftime, 21-16.

'Bump' Elliott Says No to Harvard Post

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, backfield coach at Iowa, has counted himself out of the running for the Harvard head coaching job.

Elliott said he had talked with Tom Bolles, Harvard athletic director, and had withdrawn himself from consideration. Earlier his brother, Pete, had taken the head football job at the University of California, leaving a similar job at Nebraska.

Both Elliotts starred on the Michigan football teams, known as the "Mad Magicians" in the late 1940's.

PHS to Unveil Secret Final Stretch Weapon

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Coach Art Van Ryzin was planning for a long time to unveil a secret weapon for Pontiac High School in the home stretch of the current basketball season and in time for the forthcoming state tournaments.

As long as the unbeaten Chiefs were continuing at their present pace, Van Ryzin was reluctant in making any changes except in his plans for the "big push."

But injury to forward Jim Skinner, who led Pontiac to its 9th straight victory by hitting for 25 points against Catholic Central, has altered these plans.

Skinner's ankle injury may keep him out of action for two or three weeks. There was no fracture of the ankle, but a severe torn ligament has put Skinner on crutches indefinitely.

Four crucial Saginaw Valley games and two non-league games and rival Royal Oak remain on the Pontiac schedule before tourney action.

As result of Skinner's injury Van Ryzin announced that he will move high scoring reserve forward Harrison Munson up to the varsity.

Munson, a 6-feet-2 sophomore, has led the reserve team in scoring this year with a 16 point average. Against Arthur Hill reserves, Munson poured through 35 points.

Munson will don a varsity uniform for the first time Friday night when the Chiefs tangle with Flint Central on the Indian court, however Van Ryzin said he may start Terry Zellhart in place of the injured Skinner.

"Munson will give us additional board strength, and although we hadn't planned on bringing him up until the Saginaw game, this may be the opportunity for him to get some experience before tourney play," said Van Ryzin.

In the game at PHS in mid-December, the Chiefs trimmed Flint Central 64-48 after the Indians had jumped to a first quarter lead.

Except for Skinner all other hands are expected to be in shape after the flu bug took its toll prior to the Catholic Central game. Dick Whitmer, Charley Barge and John Bandy were all down with the sniffles last week.

State Will Extend Pine Marten Program

Chances Good of Repeating

Alston Likes His Dodgers

(Another of a series of managerial views on the pennant races, written under the managers' own bylines — Brooklyn Dodgers.)

BY WALTER ALSTON

DARRTOWN, Ohio (AP) — I believe the chances of the Brooklyn Dodgers to win the pennant in 1957 are as good as that of any other team in the National League. I'm not saying we will win but I do say that it will take a mighty good team to beat us.

I believe all the teams will be better than last year with the Dodgers, Cincinnati Reds, Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals having a real close race for the pennant. The order in which they will finish is anybody's guess.

If I had to pick a weakness on the club last year, I would say perhaps it was the power hitting or lack of it. Since the Dodgers have, in the past several years, been a power club, this decline was most noticeable.

We fell off in our home run and extra base hitting in '56. A check of the figures shows that.

If Roy Campanella's hand operation proves successful and he is in good physical condition, he will be a big factor in correcting that weakness. We also have hopes that Charlie Neal, Don Demeter and Pete Gentile will also provide some more hitting strength.

I believe the pitching will be better this coming year. The return of Johnny Podres should give us a good starting lefthander. Fred Kipp, Sandy Koufax and Karl Spooner are young lefthanders with good potential and may help.

Our righthanded pitching should be good enough as it is. I look for Don Newcombe to have as good a year as last. He is big and strong and still young.

Sal Maglie showed me he makes up for his years with a wise head and strong arm. He's good for several more years yet. I look for Carl Erskine to be sound again and I think young Roger Craig will improve.

Our bullpen may be the best in the league with Don Bessent and Ed Roebuck to supplement Clem Labine. Yes, I believe the pitching has the potential to be the strong point of the club.

Our team still needs pinch hitting strength. I hope we can come up with a good lefthanded pinch hitter to replace Dale Mitchell, who has retired. We're still hopeful of completing a trade or two before the start of the season that may help us in that direction.

We're pretty well set as far as the first line squad is concerned. You know it will be Carl Furillo and Duke Snider in the outfield, Campy behind the plate and Jim Gilliam, Pee Wee Reese and Randy Jackson in the infield along with Gil Hodges. That doesn't mean that all positions are closed.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW...

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

Whether he manages by the book or confounds the opposition with a surprise move, Casey Stengel's strategy rarely fails to pay off.

Stengel's New York Yankees won the American League pennant by nine games last season, capping a successful year by winning the World Series after seven games with Brooklyn.

Here's an opportunity to match wits with the man who has won seven pennants and six world championships. Would you have used the same maneuver as Stengel did in this game?

(Key: (R) righthanded; (S) switch-hitter.)

It's the top of the 10th at New York with the Yanks and Baltimore tied 3-3 and Tom Sturdivant (R) pitching for the home team. Joe Frazier, the Orioles' first batter, pops out. Gus Triandos then triples to left center, putting a runner on third base with one out. Hector Brown runs for Triandos. Hal Smith (R) is the next batter with Willie Miranda (S), Bobby Adams (R) and Jim Pyburn (R) scheduled to follow.

Would you:

a. Let Sturdivant pitch to Smith?

b. Walk Smith and Miranda intentionally to get to Adams?

c. Walk Smith intentionally to get to Miranda?

Avon Nips Skippers, 56-54

By CHUCK ABAIR

A field goal with 33 seconds to play by forward Steve Saunders provided the margin of victory as Avondale nipped rival Waterford, 56-54, in a non-league battle last night on the local prep front.

In other key games, mighty Walled Lake used a big last half to gain its 10th straight in a 73-50 triumph at Redford Union; center Jim Drake set two new records by scoring 40 points as Lake Orion whipped Romeo; and Rochester walloped Flint Mandeville.

That Yellow Jacket - Skipper contest was nip-and-tuck all the way and deadlocked seven times in the last eight minutes before Saunders cinched the verdict on a corner shot, only his 2nd floor basket of the night.

A final Waterford shot in the fading seconds was partially blocked as the Skippers record slipped to 4-6. Waterford led 29-25 at halftime but faltered in the 3rd quarter.

Jerry Hill and Tim Mulholland scored 15 apiece to spark Avondale to its 7th successive win and 8th all season. Ron Seets' 19 was high for Waterford which had one more field goal in losing.

John Walker was the big gun in the Walled Lake attack as the Vikings broke their game wide open following a 1st half which ended 32-32. The all-state grid-der had his best night of the year with 22 points and some fine floor work.

Larry Hughes ranked 2nd in the point department with 18 in the Vikings' final outing prior to a big test at Berkley Friday. Ron Hinkle and Ross Hartley had 11 each for the hustling losers.

There was plenty of excitement at Romeo as Drake trying his hand at the pivot post established new individual marks for both his team and the Romeo court in the 80-63 triumph. He made 16 of 31 floor shots and added eight free tosses.

His 13-point 2nd period and 14 more by Nick Neira, the former all-time scoring king, accounted for 27 of 29 in that quarter to put the Dragons ahead to stay in posting their 6th win in 11 games. Neira finished with 18. Don and John Fowler had 15 and 14 for Romeo.

Five boys scored in double numbers as Rochester recorded its 10th success against only two setbacks, 87-63. Dave Peters hooped 30 to lead the way.

Elsewhere, steady Tom Wilson rung up 36 points as Lapeer won a squeaker nipping Owosso, 56-54, for its 6th in a row; Farmington led all the way in hammering out a 67-47 win over Clarenceville; and Imlay City extended its victory string to 12 with a 63-47 conquest of Capac as Larry Dorow tallied 16.

Lang Sets Pace for Victory With a 24 Point Total

With George Lang hitting for 24 points and teammates LeRoy Parks and Bill Noles helping with 13 and 10 respectively, Clarkston High's cagers bumped Oxford 69-55 last night in a non-loop game. Noles, a recent transfer from Oxford, was one of six players compiling double-figure totals. Carl Roland's 21, and Jeff Bradley's 15, plus Barnes' 13 accounted for 49 Oxford points, but Wolves had more balanced scoring to retain an early lead all the way. Clarkston was always a half dozen points ahead.

Lang and Parks accounted for 17 of the 27 points Wolves scored in the opening period.

Late Foul Shots Win for Cranes

A pair of free throws by Bernie Harris with 30 seconds left clinched a 46-45 victory fo Cranbrook over Patterson Collegiate of Windsor Tuesday. It was Cranbrook's 2nd win in 10 games.

The Cranes were hanging on to a 44-43 lead when Harris begged his foul shots. They were good insurance in view of Patterson's following field goal. Cranbrook led at halftime, 26-18, in the closely-contested scrap.

Dan Crowley with 12 points, Harris with 11 and Herb Stanton with 10 were high scorers for the Cranes. Patterson's Dick Valentine tallied 13 points to take game honors.

Big Names Missing

Top Pros Pass Up Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Sponsors of the $15,000 Tucson Open, never one of the high points on the winter tour, are discovering to their chagrin that it takes more than money to get the big-name golfers to come to town.

With play starting tomorrow, Ricki Rarick, president of the Tucson Golf Assn. which sponsors the annual event, took a look at the entry list yesterday and gasped:

"We are not getting a list of big-name players. I think that is a breach of faith. I can't honestly believe that the Professional Golfers Assn. made an effort to get the name golfers to Tucson."

The PGA said in reply that it's not the stars, but the easy El Rio Country Club course that's to blame.

From one golfers' point of view, however, everything was fine. Former U. S. Open champ Ed Furgol said he figures the absence of big names will turn the event into a first-class horse race.

The Tucson Open has long been a small-money tournament. This year the sponsors jumped the ante from $10,000 to $15,000, but they didn't catch Cary Middlecoff, Gene Littler, Tommy Bolt, Billy Maxwell, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, or even defending champion Ted Kroll.

The pros themselves have recognized the problem along the entire tour, and last year formed a "committee for the appearance of top-notch stars," with Middlecoff and Littler as chairman. The matter is due to come up this Saturday at an Oklahoma city meeting of the PGA and the Winter Golf Sponsors Assn.

Rarick said that the PGA insisted that the purse be upped to attract big-name golfers, but the golf group's tournament supervisor, Harvey Raynor, said the trouble was the El Rio Course.

"One of the poorest the players play on all year," he said. "The top men just don't belive it's a proper test of golf. These golfers are real sports. They want to show off their wares."

Rarick shot back: "Our greens are the best on the circuit."

Maples Trample Bathers

Birmingham High's basketeers last night trampled Mt. Clemens 75-58 for their 2nd Eastern Michigan League Victory. Win gives Maples a 2-4 league mark, 5-5 overall.

Birmingham led all the way, piling up a 32-27 halftime count.

Double-figure scoring was turned in by Bob Isbell (22), Bob Stephenson (17) and Dave Ritchie (14), in the game played at Mt. Clemens.

In other EML games Tuesday night, Port Huron defeated Ferndale 65-50, and East Detroit won its 6th straight league game, 56-37 over Hazel Park. The East Detroiters are unbeaten in loop action, to top the circuit all alone.

The announcement last week that this Exchange had returned in savings nearly five million dollars in the single year ending last December 31, emphasizes the tremendous savings to the insured members of the Automobile Club whose policies expired in 1956.

The total amount of such savings to the insured members of the Automobile Club of Michigan over the years, has now reached the tremendous sum of $41,289,000.

This spectacular cash return, in addition to claims paid, means simply that their automobile insurance cost these Club members $41,289,000 less than they paid for it.

OCSC Members Aim to Make 75 Duck Nests

With more than 50 wood-duck nesting boxes already constructed, members of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club are well along on their goal of 75 which they have set up for themselves.

A big lift towards the project's completion was receipt of a truckload of scrap lumber from General Motors Truck & Coach division. Pat Metzdorf and Vern Harcourt hauled the lumber to OCSC headquarters where it is available for use in making the nests. Nesting boxes will be distributed in wooded sections of the area.

Tigers Highly Rated by League Managers

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Tighe isn't the only American League manager who forsees his Detroit Tigers as possible 1957 pennant winners.

The three other pilots who have publicly rated the teams have placed the Tigers in contention. So has Bucky Harris, the 1956 Detroit manager.

Tighe, stepping up from coach to succeed Harris, said in a recent article written for the Associated Press that the Tigers "are going up (from fifth) this year and we hope to be on or right close to the top." he added: "I firmly believe we have a chance this year."

Harris labeled the Tigers "the team to watch this year" in a recent interview in which he said: "They made rapid strides toward the end of last year and they have a lot of young, good ball players."

Casey Stengel, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, said in his Associated Press by-liner:

"We should win the pennant unless Detroit, Chicago or Cleveland has strengthened considerably over last year. Detroit, you know, played the best ball in the American League the last month of the 1956 season.

"Detroit had our number last year, winning the season series from us 12 games to 10. This was only the second season series the Yankees have lost in my eight years as manager, and Detroit appears to be a real comer with young stars like Kuenn, Kaline, Hoeft and that Lary who whipped my boys five times last summer."

Charley Dressen, manager of the Washington Senators, said:

"Detroit could be the surprise team of the league. They've got a new manager, but he is thoroughly familiar with the personnel, which is good and improving."

And Mike (Pinky) Higgins of the Boston Red Sox wrote:

"New York is the team to beat, but I look for Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and our own Red Sox to battle the Yankees right down to the final day."

Paul Richards of Baltimore, Lou Boudreau of Kansas City, Al Lopez of Chicago, and Kerby Farrell of Cleveland stuck to assessing the strength and weakness of their own clubs without reporting that their crystal balls indicated on the pennant race.

Plan Box Score Changes

NEW YORK (AP) — Individual walks and strikeouts may replace putouts and assists in the 1957 baseball box score.

The proposed change would list at the top half of the box score column for the bases and balls and strikeouts. Players' putouts and assists would be eliminated but the team totals in these categories would be retained.

The alteration would put walks and strikeouts alongside the columns for times at bat and hits. If a player's line read "3 0 1 3" it would indicate that he walked once and fanned three times in four total appearances.

The plan has met with the approval of National League President Warren Giles.

"It has considerable merit," he said. After all a box score should reflect as much of a batter's performance as possible. It would be a good thing for the readers."

Under a regulation effective this season, bases on balls are part of the batting championship requirements. A player must have at least 477 total appearances to be considered for a major league title. This replaced the old 400 "official" times at bat rule.

The summary starting with "R" for run would remain the same.

Howe Switched to Center Spot

Takes Over Ullman's Job for Thursday Tilt Against Bruins

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wing Gordie Howe, one of hockey's most dangerous scorers at right wing, will switch to center for Thursday night's battle against the Boston Bruins.

This was the end result today of a Red Wing shake-up necessitated by the charley-horse injury of Norm Ullman, who is the regular starter at the center post of Detroit's "big line."

Metro Prystai will be brought up to take Howe's wing post.

Trainer Carl Mattson said there is little chance that Ullman will be back in action before Saturday. Coach Jimmy Skinner said: "We always wanted to start Gordie there (at center), and anyway, by doing it this way we'll be able to keep the other lines intact by moving Metro Prystai into Howe's spot on the wing alongside Ted Lindsay."

Another Red Wing, rookie defenseman Dale Anderson, underwent surgery yesterday. It was minor and he may be able to play Saturday.

Boys' Clubbers Win, Lose in TV Battles

Pontiac Boys' Club boxers split in two bouts on TV first of the week. Dick McDonald (135) won a unanimous decision over Detroiter Ray DePorter and now goes to the semifinals. Larry Cosgrove lost a close decision to Detroit's Willie Houghton at 147 pounds.

Don Cole (165) and Dave Blower (175) will box in these Golden Gloves prelims, later this week. All BC boxers are in the novice class.

Special Season on Quail?

Arguments Advanced for Shooting

By JACK PATTERSON

In looking around for possible ways to improve the shooting potential of southern Michigan, one quickly tumbles to the fact that one important game species is being consistantly neglected. Because it bears the legislature-imposed title "song-bird" the bob - white or quail has not been on the open list for many years. The quail is not a song - bird in the sense that we usually associate with that term. It's vocal accomplishments are limited, but more important it comes as close to being a perfect game bird as any we know. It lies well to the dog — in fact it wouldn't be stretching the point too much to suggest that if it weren't for quail we would have no field dogs as we know them today. It is a fairly fast and tricky target. It eats well. It is native to southern Michigan and is plentiful today.

Why can't we shoot them?

Well, aside from misguided sentimentality which was largely responsible for the birds misclassification into the tribe of warblers and pee-whits, there is a feeling that even though the birds are plentiful today, and that reducing coveys by shooting is beneficial to the species, the supply could not long stand up under the concentrated efforts by the hordes that go after, say pheasants. Which, of course, is perfectly true.

The fact that quail could not stand the pressure doesn't seem to us a valid reason why they couldn't stand some shooting pressure. Granted the day will never come when it would be wise to include quail as a game-bird on the current small game license.

However, there are other ways to put this bird back where he belongs — near the top of the native game-bird list. One suggestion is this. Permit an open season at a time when major effort is directed elsewhere.

The last two weeks of Novembtr come to mind in this connection, being a good quail-shooting time and also being a time when most hunting pressure is on deer.

We would prohibit non-resident licenses entirely, for this special season, and we would require a special license, for quail-shooting only, for residents. We could further bring the number of hunters within reasonable bounds by either charging a substantial license fee, or limit permits to a reasonable number, on a first-come, first-served basis.

We rather lean toward a fairly stout license fee.

It should be pointed out that such a scheme would in no way be discriminatory. It would not affect the price of the regular small-game license. Special seasons with special permits for species which can take limited pressure are nothing new.

There are enough quail to provide good shooting for a fairly large number of hunters. There are not enough quail to provide shooting for everyone who goes afield.

Quail shooting would be an extra dividend, over and above the regular small-game license privileges. We think it is a dividend worth paying something for or drawing lots for. What do you think?

ANGLER'S PARADISE — Pontiac resident Larry Maloney had a big day, recently, playing ocean fish off Key West, Fla. The picture (Larry's at right) shows his catch, that included several rapier-like barracudas, mackerel and some nice amberjack. Largest jack was 60 pounds and took Maloney 38 minutes to boat, the Pontiac man wrote this department. Picture was taken by Art Stickel, son of Pontiac resident Art Stickel Sr.

For Archers Only

Fox Bow-Hunt on Feb. 24

A new type of sports will be proffered area hunters.

It's going to be a break from the bow-arrow hunters, according to Cliff Dreyer of Holly. Dreyer dreamed up the stunt after noting that a bowman was among the 165 men who took part in a fox hunt during the last weekend in the Holly area.

What Dreyer has planned is a bowmen's fox hunt — all for the archers, without any gunmen in the field. Hunt will start from Dreyer's sports store in Holly Sunday, Feb. 24, at 9 a.m. The sponsor believes the event will attract up to "500 or more" bow-hunters. "I think it will be the first strictly archery fox hunt in Michigan," Dreyer said.

In last weekend's hunt for shotgunners, four foxes were taken. Hunters got shots at four others, scored hits, but the animals escaped.

Vernon Watts, 1732 Elsmere and Harry Marble, 1819 Birchcrest, both of Pontiac, each bagged a fox. Lee Faulds, 29 East Colgate, Pontiac, shot another and a Flint man downed the fourth.

A dozen Waterford High School boys were among the hunters. One had a slingshot. Neither the bowman nor the slingshot artist had a shot.

Buffalo Banquet for Ladies Night

Big night of the winter for the wives and daughters of Oakland County Sportsmen's club members is expected to be the annual Ladies' Night Thursday at the clubhouse in Waterford.

A buffalo and game dinner will be served, with the meat coming from the Fort Custer State Park, Hermoso S.D. Four quarters of bison averaging about 180 pounds each will be served.

Tickets are still available at the clubhouse. Dinner starts at 7 and it was expected 300 would attend.

Try Pot-O-Gold; Prize Growing for Lucky Entry

Money is mounting, making Pot-O-Gold much more exciting and fun to solve. Remember, the higher the money goes, the more apt there is to be a winner, bcause more people are trying to win. Get yours in now before someone else walks off richer, leaving you holding your pencil.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Hollywood Headlines

Life Story of Elsie Janis Will Be Made Into Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Elsie Janis' life story is being prepared by playwright John Patrick for Sol Siegel. Sol and I were discussing who to play the beloved Elsie. At that time he was very high on Judy Garland.

He said he wished Barbara Stanwyck would play the famous Jennie Bierbower, Elsie's mother, who figured so importantly in her life, but I doubt if he can get Barbara.

The first draft of the story was written by Laurette Taylor's daughter, Marguerite Courtney, who also wrote her mother's biography.

Sol tells me ahat Elsie's big love, Basil Hallam, who died in World War I, figures prominently in the story as do the Irving Berlin tunes which Elsie sang in those days.

I remember interviewing Elsie in Chicago and standing backstage with Jennie, who kept tapping her foot in time to everything her daughter was doing on the stage.

Jane Wyman tells me she gets a two-week vacation the first of April. "And it's going to be just great," she said. "I won't have to get up at 6 in the morning!"

She plans to go to Colorado Springs where she can get in some golf. She'd thought she might go to Spain, but she wants to be home when her children, Maureeen and Michael, are out of school. Maureen is at Marymount in Tarrytown, N. Y., and Michael is in St. Joseph's.

I asked Jane about her big romance with Gale Smith, her boss on her TV series. She said she likes him better than any man she knows and sees him a lot—"but I'm not getting married," said Jane.

A sad man is Burt Lancaster. He came within an inch of buying "Don't Go Near the Water," but was afraid he couldn't lick the story and dropped his option.

Then, when he learned MGM was filming it, he talked to the studio about the starring role and would have done it but couldn't work it into his schedule.

Now Glenn Ford has the lead in this, with Earl Holliman in an important role. Larry Weingarten, the producer, says this is going to be one of MGM's top 1957 pictures.

So many people have written asking what ever happened to Josef Von Sternberg, who brought Marlene Dietrich to this country and then, after directing some of her pictures at Paramount, dropped into oblivion.

Well, Joe is living in Weehawken, N. J. He is married to a 35-year-old woman by whom he has two children, Susan, age 10, and Ricky, 6.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The newlyweds, Liz and Mike Todd, have accepted the Foreign Press Award invitation at the Cocoanut Grove for Feb. 28.

News I am sorry to report is that Barbara Lang, the girl who by sheer courage came back to a career after polio, and her bridegroom, Alan Wells (they were married only in September), are trying a trial separation.

Gen. Winston Kratz, owner of Prince Khaled, who won by nine lengths at Santa Anita last Saturday, celebrated the victory with a party at the Sportsmen's Lodge.

Sitting close to them were Lori Nelson and Robert Petersen, and, I might add, they act as if they care.

American Kids Physically Tough

Kraus - Weber Tests Don't Try Total Fitness, Says U. of D. Educator

DETROIT (AP)—American children aren't sissies to Pat Cavanaugh just because they took a statistical licking from European children in a physical fitness test.

Cavanaugh is a 6-foot-2, 34-year-old specimen of physical fitness and judo expert. He also is director of physical education at the University of Detroit. And, like 57.9 per cent of the American children tested—he flunked.

One of the exercises required touching of the toes without bending the knees.

"I've never been able to touch my toes in my life because my legs are too long, but I certainly don't think I'm lacking in fitness," Cavanaugh said.

The exercises, he continued, tested only back, leg and abdominal muscles and left out such American fitness traits as reflex action, endurance and speed.

"Physical fitness is only a part of total fitness, which also includes emotional stability, health habits and attitude," Cavanaugh said. "There is no one yardstick for physical fitness and just because a child flunks the Kraus-Weber test doesn't mean he is not physically fit.

"There is room for improvement in what we're doing in physical fitness in this country, but this test isn't the answer.

"I'd rather have a kid who could run a mile, have good reflex action and be good in individual sports than have some child who could stand with 50 others and touch his toes."

Italian Socialists to Split With Reds?

VENICE (AP) — Pietro Nenni came here for his Italian Socialist Party Congress today declaring he is through playing with the Communists.

Four of international socialism's top men are sitting in on the weeklong sessions of the Italian party to judge how clean a break Nenni may make with his Red allies of the past 10 years.

If they are convinced he has split all the way — and will support the basic principles of NATO — this week's congress may lead to a reunification of Italian socialism that would change the nation's political picture.

A clean break from the Communist alliance and support of NATO was the price set by Vice Premier Giuseppe Saragat for a reunion of his Social Democrats and Nenni's Socialist party. They split 10 years ago.

Presley 'Red' Hot Item

Send Elvis for Dulles to Keep World Peace?

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley says he's "surprised" to learn he's a smash hit in Russia.

Then he added without a second's hesitation:

"If Ah can keep world peace, Ah'll go over and sing to 'em!"

Presley was amazed when told that his records reportedly are selling for $25 apiece in the Soviet Union and that his photographs are at a premium among the Kremlin bobby-sox set.

"That's the first Ah heard of it," said the sideburns kid, "but if Ah thought it would do any good Ah'd just take my guitar and get right out there on the front lines.

"Wouldn't that be something — me singin' and playin' my guitar and bullets whizzin' all around like in Hungary?"

Presley said he had "no idea" when he could consider making a trip behind the Iron Curtain. He explained:

"Ah don't have anything to do with where Ah go or what Ah do. You'll have to ask my manager about that."

Asked whether he thought he might be undermining the morals of American youth, Presley snorted:

"Ah'm not going to influence them to do anything wrong. Ah haven't done anything wrong myself — and even if Ah do that'h no reason they should do wrong. Everybody makes mistakes sometime, Ah guess."

The hip-swinging rock and roll king who is in Hollywood making his second film, said he never thought his fame would reach as far as the Iron Curtain or than teen-agers would be kissing his photos on billboards.

"Ah never thought Ah'd get out of Memphis," he confessed. "It suhprised me — and everybody."

And about the kids:

"Ah don't know what to do with 'em or without 'em. They made me and Ah'm not going to do anything to hurt 'em. Ah'm sure none of 'em ever committed a murder, or robbed a bank or stayed out of church on account of me." And he added:

"That goes for the Russians, too!"

Survives Tumble in Elevator Shaft

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"It looks like it wasn't my time," said Robert Ransom, a 33-year-old elevator mechanic's helper, as he told how he fell 10 to 12 floors down an elevator shaft.

Ransom was working on the 17th floor of the Ambassador Building. He opened the shaft door, intending to turn on a light in the elevator. The elevator was at the ground floor. He stepped into space.

He estimated he fell five floors before managing to get his arms and legs around the elevator cable. This checked his fall but didn't stop him. Desperately he grabbed the cable with his hands. The friction burned them painfully but he managed to stop his fall. He opened a door with his feet and swung himself out of the shaft.

He was so shaken he didn't know whether it was the fifth, sixth or seventh floor. Anyway, he pressed the elevator button and rode back up to the 17th. His boss called a doctor to treat his hands and sent him home for a couple of days.

Chute Carries Speaker

CHICAGO — Researchers have developed an air-ground loudspeaker system designed for dropping from aircraft as high as 60,000 feet. The device is designed to deliver a 3-to-5-minute tape-recorded message to a ground area during the parachute-braked final phase of its descent.

Inspections Bog Down Due to Small Labor Staff

LANSING (AP)—The State labor commissioner, in his annual report for 1956, says his staff was able to perform regular inspections as required by law at an only about 15 per cent of factories and businesses which are subject to inspection.

Commissioner John Reid said the reason was a shortage of authorized personnel, and that it would take more than twice his present force to do a complete job.

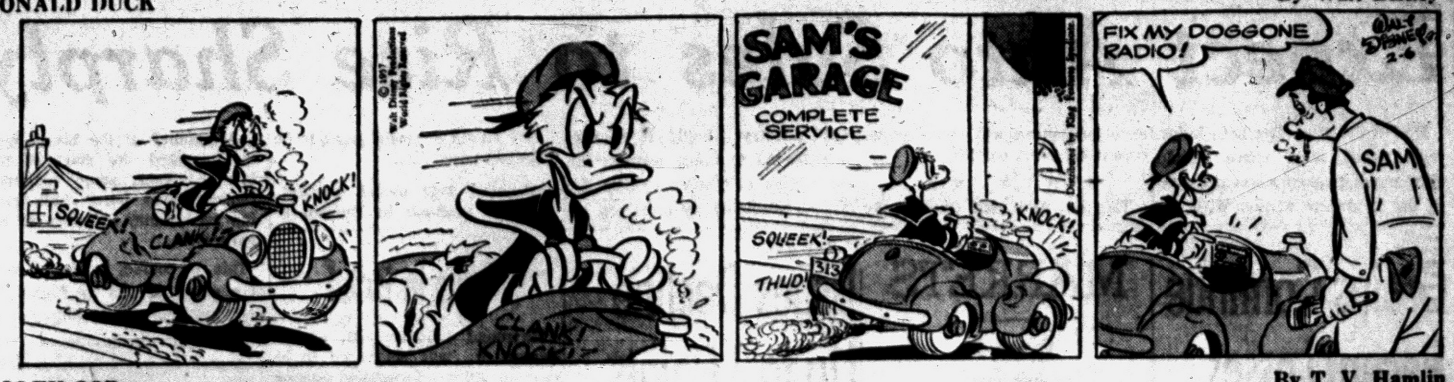

Lassoed Labrador Lucky

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — A Labrador retriever was retrieved in dramatic Western style. The dog fell into the icy Black River and was swept away from the shore. Fourteen-year-old Bonnie Weston was passing by and carrying a clothes-line she uses to practice lassoing. Her first toss neatly looped the rope around the dog's neck. Bonnie and a policeman pulled him to shore.

Expect Auto Sales to Rise Sharply

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's retail sales curve should start moving sharply upward within the next few weeks. With the expected upturn will come an increase in factory output.

This is a traditional trend in the auto industry. Should it develop as expected in many sources the 6½ million unit sales volume for 1957 — predicted by most top industry chiefs — would seem to be a distinct possibility.

Because 1957 model demand did not continue in December and January at the boom level that marked the start of the model year, some scattered sources have been challenging the preliminary estimate as too optimistic.

This, of course, is just as much of a guess as was the higher figure. And the year's potential retail requirements never were indicated in the volume achieved in January. If final tabulations confirm the unofficial estimates January sales, incidentally, will come close to a half million cars. Retail deliveries in December of last year numbered 488,500; in January a year ago they totaled 484,500.

The indicated increase in retail deliveries is of small proportion, but it suggests much of the gloom about car sales right now is without justification.

FORD DEMAND UP

Ford sources continue to talk about increased demand, plans for the use of new production facilities due to become available this year and particularly what is hoped for with the new Edsel model. A few months ago Richard Krafve, general manager of the Edsel division, said the new car will be ready for introduction during the latter half of 1957.

He said also that it would aim at a total volume of 200,000 units during 1958. More recently he said that figure was just a starter. "Actually," he said, "we expect to do much better in our first year."

Probably no projected new car in auto industry history has been more broadly promoted than Ford's new entry in the medium-price field. Styling and engineering details remain a guarded secret, but the build-up for it has been of huge proportions.

Unofficial retail sales surveys indicate the lower-price makes are getting more business this year than they did in the comparable 1956 period. They may be taking the added volume from their medium-price colleagues.

Some makers in the medium-price bracket are pushing national price advertising campaigns. A few have started publishing prices on their lowest priced models. At the same time they explain in the advertisements that freight, state and local taxes and optional equipment are extra. The federal excise tax is included in the quoted price.

Grains Continue Recent Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—In very active dealings grains fell back on the board of trade again today.

While the persistent liquidation of the past couple of weeks still was very much evidence the market appeared to have better support on the way down. Losses were not as severe as in the previous session.

A notable exception to the retreat was new crop wheat, which made a stand around yesterday's closing prices. Elsewhere losses ran to a little more than a cent.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to 1⅜ lower, March $2.29, corn ½ to 1⅜ lower, March $1.26 ⅞, oats ⅛ to 1 cent lower, March 74¼, rye ½ to 1¼ lower, March $1.32, soybeans - to 1¾ lower, March 2.43 ¾, and lard 17 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $15.32.

Issues Decline Up to 2 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues declined from fractions to around 2 points.

The market was slightly lower at the start but steels and motors began to show some improvement. They established some fair gains but the rest of the list remained generally on the downside.

The steels and motors erased most of their gains and drifted to the downside around mid-session. Losses among aircrafts and oils grew steeper.

After yesterday's break, the sharpest in four months, analysts felt the market was at a critical point where it could either rebound or seek a considerably lower rallying point.

The declining phase today followed a statement by President Eisenhower that the government will have to move in with some form of inflation controls if business and labor fail to deal with the problem adequately on a voluntary basis.

Pontiac City Affairs

Pass New Drunk Driving Law

Two amendments to the city's traffic ordinance were adopted in action taken by the Pontiac City Commission last night. Both become effective Feb. 15.

One not only makes it unlawful to drive a vehicle while under the influence of liquor or narcotic drugs upon any highway in the city, but adds upon "any other place open to the general public within the city."

City Attorney William A. Ewart last Tuesday told commissioners this act would pave the way to prosecute drunk drivers apprehended in municipal parking lots.

The second section prohibits the blocking by trains of any street or highway in the city for more than five minutes.

The first amendment also makes it unlawful for any owner of a vehicle to "knowingly" permit its use by a person under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs.

Fifteen members of the Parliamentary Study Club of Pontiac watched commissioners breeze through a 29-point agenda in less than an hour.

Commissioners approved an agreement for the design and installation of lights for the east-west runway and the clearing of trees at the western approach of the runway at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

City Manager Walter K. Willman informed the commission that this work would kick off the 1957 projects at the local field. The year's work totals $125,000, he said, of which the city pays $34,000, as allocated in the 1957 budget.

Upon his request, Willman was referred a request from Community Chest of Pontiac that a portion of land in the vicinity of the City Hall be set aside for a proposed community service building to house seven United Fund agencies and the United Fund headquarters.

TO REMAIN TRUNKLINE

The State Highway Dept. informed the commission that a portion of M58 at the city's southern limits would remain a state trunkline. The department had earlier this year sought to revert the section under the city's maintenance.

A petition of property owners for a sanitary sewer in Corwin avenue from Kinney road to Lounsbury avenue, was received and filed without action.

A request from Felix Vitasinsky to drop Clarence T. Vitasinsky as a partner on beer licenses at 570 S. Telegraph Rd., was approved.

The transfer of ownership of a beer, wine, and liquor license from Anastasis Challis to G. A. Lockhart and William B. Smith at 848 S. Woodward Ave., also was approved by the commissioners.

Engineer estimates for 13 two-inch blacktopping projects in the city this year were read by the city clerk. Public hearings on intention to perform the work will be held Feb. 12.

Following is the work proposed to be undertaken: On Parkdale avenue from Woodland to Baldwin; Pearsall avenue from Franklin to Motor; Prall street from State to Washington; Princeton avenue from Baldwin to University and from Baldwin to Stanley; Motor street from Rapid to Fildew; Riverside drive from Maines to Tasmania.

Others are: Rutgers avenue from Baldwin to the west line of Hillside Manor Subdivision; Palmer avenue from Orchard Lake avenue to Clinton River drive; Strathmore avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle; Valencia drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of lots 90 and 91; Yale street from Baldwin to University; and on Wolfe street from Edison to Montcalm.

The last job will require no tax assessments and will be paid for out of the city's capital improvement program.

Public hearings will also be held Tuesday on special assessment rolls to finance the following proposed projects:

Sanitary sewer and related work on Russell street from Cottage to 160 feet north; grading and gravelling and related work on Bay street from the north line of Herrington Hills Subdivision to Mt. Clemens street.

Two-inch blacktopping on Del Ray drive from East boulevard to 94 feet west, Hollywood avenue from Kennett to Parkdale; Hopkins street from Baldwin to University; Howland avenue from California to Luther; James street from Johnson to Florence; Liberty street from Henderson to Johnson; Longfellow avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle; Luther street from Franklin to Howland; Nebraska avenue from Earlmoor to Howland; and Maines avenue from Roselawn to Tasmania.

Bergen Evans Leads Panelists

Program Proves That English Usage Reflects Life Itself

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The one thing everyone shares, language, is at last receiving intelligent video attention in a fascinating new television program. The Last Word, on CBS-TV Sunday afternoons.

Dr. Bergen Evans and the guest panelists are demonstrating that nothing is quite so dear as the words we speak. Shunning the dry academic approach, they show that language is life itself.

Last Sunday the panel was enlivened by the appearance of Sam Levenson, who is billed as a comedian and qualifies as a wit, with Russell Lynes and Cmdr. Edward Whitehead, a spadebearded Briton. Among the subjects under discussion was accents. The panelists agreed there are three generally recognized American accents as different from the language spoken in, say, Minnesota: Southern, New England and "Brooklyn" or "New Yorkese."

Lynes found it curious that Southern and New England accents are universally acceptable, but "New Yorkese" is in rather low repute nationally. Levenson suggested that it's because New York is a traditional port of entry to this country and, therefore, foreign; which is why the country at large shuns it. Evans said some of the New York accent is as old as the 17th century, the "dese, dem and dose" tracing to the days when it was a Dutch city trying to learn English.

Levenson, a former teacher, emphasized the insular or lazy aspects of all accents as illustrated by two of his Brooklyn students when he was teaching high school Spanish. One student said, "What we wanna learn Spanish for? We ain't goin' to Spain." Another replied seriously, "Why we wanna learn English? We ain't goin' to England."

Seeks to Amend Weed Ruling

Parks Dept. Urges City Mow Vacant Lots Free, Save Bookkeeping Cost

A change has been recommended in the city's weed cutting ordinance which asks for the allocation of yearly funds to pay for cutting of privately owned lots by city crews.

City Manager Walter K. Willman last night summarized a report from Parks and Recreation Director David R. Ewalt, which showed that some $4,900 was due the city from 2,031 jobs undertaken last summer.

Ewalt said that out of the total cost of $9,533, an estimated $4,000 was caused by inspection of lots and bookkeeping.

The City Commission last evening authorized that the 1956 delinquent charges be placed on special assessment rolls against the property owners as outlined in the 1955 ordinance.

Willman asked that commissioners decide whether to continue with the present system or adopt Ewalt's recommendation that $6,500 be appropriated to the department to cover the cost of cutting the weeds.

In 1955, the city cut 252 lots. In all but 11 of these, owners paid the charges.

Willman said the recommended system might save bookkeeping expense, but at the same time "might encourage people to let their weeds grow as the city was paying the bill."

"I'd like to commend the Parks Dept. for a commendable job in weed removal and bookkeeping," he said.

Until the middle of the 19th century, tomatoes were believed to be poisonous and were not to be eaten.

License Plate Sales Move at Slow Pace

Sales of 1957 license plates at the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office are still lagging some 400 behind the number sold at this time last year.

Willis M. Brewer, branch manager, reported around 25,000 out of 60,000 sold to date. Feb. 28 is the deadline for the new purchase.

The Pontiac office is located at 53 N. Parke St. It is open weekdays from 9 until 5 and on Saturdays from 9 until noon.

Brewer said: "It really shouldn't be necessary to issue the warning again to get people in before the deadline."

"The late purchasers not only give us a lot of extra work," he said, "but force themselves to sometimes spend hours in line."

Motorists are reminded that they must present the title showing ownership of the vehicle, before new plates are purchased. Owners of trucks and trailers must present a weight receipt.

For the first time since 1943, all vehicles this year will be displaying both a rear and front plate. This system was reinstated to aid in law enforcement.

Court Case Delays New Army Center

A delay in construction of the new Army Reserve Training Center on Orchard Lake avenue has been caused by a 1956 Michigan Supreme Court case, Army and city officials confirmed today.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said Army representatives were to confer with him tomorrow to initiate a "friendly condemnation" suit to acquire the five-acre parcel.

The 1956 case, Younglas versus Flint, prevents the government from receiving the land from Pontiac on a lease basis. The ruling requires that the government purchase the land.

On May 2 of last year, the Pontiac City Commission approved a 50-year lease for the site. City officials learned of the ruling last December.

"That case threw a monkey wrench into our plans," Lt. Col. William H. Fowler, deputy chief of staff of the Michigan Military District, said.

"I'm sure the people of Pontiac don't have to worry, for money has been appropriated for four centers in the state, and Pontiac is one."

Fowler said it was not possible to place any time on when construction might begin.

Plans are for a modern, one-story brick building to be built on the plot bounded on the north by the Michigan Air Line Railroad, west by Orchard Lake avenue, south by Argyle avenue, and on the east by the Clinton River.

The structure, estimated to cost $400,000 by Fowler, is designed to house 400 men for training sessions. It will replace reserve activities presently being carried on at 37 W. Lawrence St.

Waterford Sock Hop Scheduled Thursday

A Sock Hop will be the theme for the Thursday evening Waterford Township youth night at the Community Activities Inc. Building sponsored by the recreation department.

"Music by popular records will begin at 7:30 p.m. and dancing will end at 9:45," Tom Belton recreation director, said.

Youth Night, an evening of dancing and games, is conducted every Thursday at the CAI building for Waterford Township boys and girls in grades 9 through 12.

Over 500 teenagers have registered for membership cards this year, Belton said.

Waterford to Sponsor Fishing Derby for All

The 3rd annual Fishing Derby, sponsored by the Waterford Township JC's will be held all day Sunday, February 24th, on Pontiac Lake.

Everyone may enter and there is no age limit, no residence restriction. All interested people are invited to participate, according to Derby chairman, Gene Kelly.

Events will feature the longest fish, and the best catch.

Waterford Sets Date to Debate Zoning Law

Date for the public hearing for recodification of Waterford Township's zoning ordinance has been set for FEb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Township Hall on M59.

Due to the rapid real estate developments in progress in Waterford Township, a revision of the seven-year-old ordinance is necessary, according to Supervisor Lloyd Anderson.

Group Formed for Observance of Memorial Day

A permanent Pontiac Memorial Society was organized by the representatives of 12 civic organizations Tuesday evening to seek proper commemoration of Memorial Day with a parade and cemetery services.

Floyd Cremer, 248 S. East Blvd., was elected president until June, with other officers to be chosen at the next meeting, Feb. 20 at the County Bldg. Annex.

Among the organizations represented were Parks and Recreation Dept., Veterans of Foreign Wars, MOMs of America, Blue Star Mothers, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Spanish-American War Veterans, Amvets and the DAV Auxiliary.

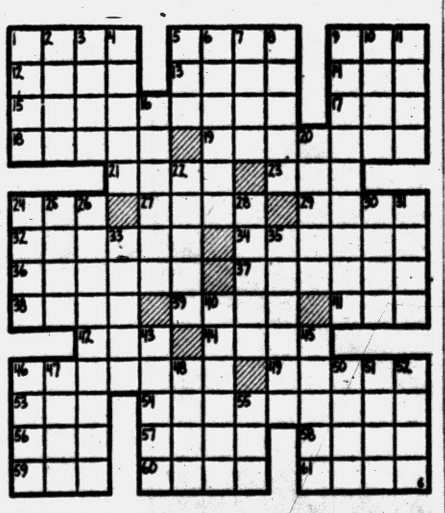

A constitution for the group will be voted upon at the next meeting.

Hams to Contact Alumni

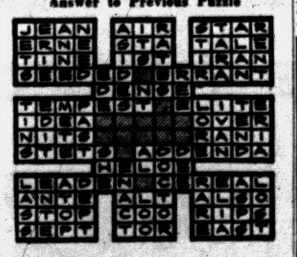

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — The alumni fund campaign committee of the University of Rhode Island is going to use a unique way of reaching graduates for contributions this year. Chairman William A. Orme said that Providence radio hams will send messages to other radio hams in the United States and Canada for transmittal to some 4,000 graduates living outside Rhode Island.

Seaway Will Expand Industries, Jobs

The St. Lawrence Seaway is a mammoth engineering project which will provide the Great Lakes area industrial empire with access to its life blood — bulk raw materials, cheaply shipped.

Calling the Seaway a "fourth seacoast," Scott E. Lamb, president of the Michigan Life Insurance Co., explained the waterway's expected economic benefits in a speech yesterday before the Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

By stimulating business, Lamb said, the Seaway will encourage the establishment of new industries and the expansion of older industries. Thus, he said, a great number of new jobs will be created, and the effects will be widespread.

The American farmer uses more petroleum power in his tractors, trucks, automobiles and self-propelled implements than is used by all other industries combined.

She Won His Heart; He Lost His Freedom

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Arthur Lehman Bartelson's honeymoon lasted one week—the time it took the police to catch him.

Bartelson, 28, was released from jail for the courthouse ceremony, then returned to his cell.

As the days went by, his wife worked as a waitress. He too was busy—using a bed railing to dig a hole through the jail wall.

He escaped, picked up his bride and left town. Police found him in distant Iowa and brought him back.
