Violence Erupts on Eve of French Election

PARIS (UPI) — Bombs exploded in front of acting President Alain Pöher's campaign headquarters and outside the Paris apartment of Socialist candidate Gaston Defferre today on the eve of France's presidential election.

A street cleaner, injured in the blast outside Pöher's headquarters on the Left Bank, was the only casualty. Defferre was not at home at the time, nor was Pöher at his headquarters.

The terrorism occurred the morning after official campaigning ended for the seven candidates seeking former President Charles de Gaulle's job. It was the first campaign violence.

A public opinion poll published today by the newspaper France-Soir showed Gaullist candidate Georges Pompidou still leading with 41 per cent of tomorrow's expected vote. Fifty per cent is needed to win and avoid a runoff between the top two finishers.

SECOND IN POLL

Pöher was second in the poll, with 25 per cent, and Communist Jacques Duclos edged up several points to 18 per cent.

The rest had less than 10 per cent each.

Women and leftists held the key to the election. De Gaulle himself added to the suspense by refusing to endorse anyone in the campaign.

It was De Gaulle who granted Frenchwomen the right to vote in 1958 and since then many have voted for him in gratitude. Now that he is gone, the feminine vote is much more uncertain.

Women voters are in the majority in France and all the candidates made special appeals for their support.

ANOTHER UNKNOWN

The country's huge leftist bloc is the other electoral unknown. Communist candidate Jacques Duclos is favored among the five leftists in the election.

Other candidates are Defferre and Michel Rochard, both Socialists; Alain Krivine, a Trotskyite; and millionaire Louis Ducatel who has promised workers one-third the profits of their companies if he wins.

Pompidou is favored to win the most votes tomorrow, but Pöher is picked by the polls as the victor in the runoff because he stands a better chance of attracting the leftist vote.

FLOWER FOR THE PARK—Some of the thousands who marched in Berkeley, Calif., yesterday to protest the closing of a "people's park" and the use of National Guardsmen along the bloody May 15 riot, stuck flowers in the steel-meshed fence now surrounding the park. The area is now a bivouac area for guardsmen. (See Picture, Story, Page A-2.)

'$2.9 Billion More Needed to Feed Poor Adequately'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Bureau of the Budget task force has estimated it would cost $2.9 billion more than the government is now spending on food programs to assure an adequate diet for the poor.

This is far more than President Nixon's recommendation of a $270-million boost in the food stamp program for the coming fiscal year and a $1-billion increase the following year.

It was pegged to statistics showing that some 20.8 million Americans are below the poverty line, defined as slightly more than $3,000 income a year for an urban family of four.

The working draft was dated May 6, the same day Nixon submitted his special hunger message to Congress.

The draft contains several proposed changes for federal food programs but said: "No claim is made that the list is either exhaustive, original, or in any way compels with the President's program."

PROPOSED CHANGES

The proposed changes include putting food stamp payments on the installment plan, establishing emergency loan programs to help the poor pay for stamps, and establishing standards to insure "that all poverty families are eligible."

Further, it suggests introduction of the commodity distribution program "at least on an interim basis, into the 400 counties and cities now without a food program" and use of federal funds to help states extend food programs into new areas.

Speaking broadly, the task force said: "standardization of welfare payments, federal cash grants or child allowances should be used to increase people's ability to purchase food."

2 Killed on Road, 1 Drowns in Area Holiday Mishaps

Two teen-agers, who died in a one-car crash in Oakland Township last night, are among 20 persons who have lost their lives on Michigan highways during the Memorial Day weekend.

Another teen-ager drowned in Kensington Park in Millford Township yesterday morning, park authorities report.

Ideal holiday weekend weather sent millions to the highways.

Nationally, a total of 398 people have been killed in mishaps as of 8 a.m. today.

Nixon, Rogers Fly to Bahamas

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers took off for the Bahamas today to continue discussions on Vietnam peace talks on an isolated island.

Meanwhile, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler sought to dispel any idea there is a real difference between Nixon and Vietnam's chief executive over the search for a path to peace.

Pressed on the point by reporters, Ziegler said President Nguyen Van Thieu was informed in advance and supported the address in which Nixon outlined his own program for seeking a settlement.

Rogers has just returned from an 18-day trip around the world which included a stop in Vietnam and talks with leaders there.

REPORT ON TRIP

He gave Nixon a report on his travels, during a dinner cruise Friday night on the presidential yacht Julie and again Saturday morning at the Nixon residence beside Biscayne Bay.

And then Nixon and Rogers headed by helicopter for Grand Cay, 162 miles off in the Atlantic.

They went only for the afternoon, and Rogers arranged to fly back to Washington in the evening.

Nixon also was finding time for a bit of paper work, including signing some bills. One of them authorizes reappointment of Gen. Earl G. Wheeler for an additional one-year term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Present law puts a limit of two consecutive terms on the chairman during peacetime.

Wheeler was named to the post five years ago and was reappointed in 1968 for an additional one year when Congress waived the limitation. The bill signed today waived it for another year.

He Won't Toast This Candidate

PERPIGNAN, France (UPI) — A local winegrower is not in favor of presidential candidate Alain Pöher. He stormed into a local police station to complain that a "vote for Pöher" campaign leaflet killed 299 persons. Fifteen persons have been killed in boating mishaps and there have been 84 drownings.

George R. Crement of Washington in Macomb County and Gregory Stevens of 6125 Yarmouth, Utica, both 16, were killed in Oakland Township when their car went out of control, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Crement was driving the car when it went out of control on Orion Road near Dutton, hit an embankment and careened 432 feet across the road and off the shoulder and rolled over, according to deputies.

They said the car was traveling at an estimated 80 miles per hour. The car was demolished.

3 OTHERS INJURED

Stevens was a passenger in the car along with three other Macomb County boys who were injured. David Jacklyn, 16, of Washington was admitted to Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, and is in satisfactory condition.

Harry Simpson III, 18, and James G. Hampton, 17, of 53230 Dequindre, Utica, were treated at the hospital and released.

Kensington Park police at Kent Lake said the drowning victim was identified as Robert E. Warren, 18, of Detroit.

He and two other boys from Detroit jumped into the lake from a boat and tried to swim to a swimming area 100 feet away. Willie E. McKinzie, 25, of Detroit, the operator of the boat, told police.

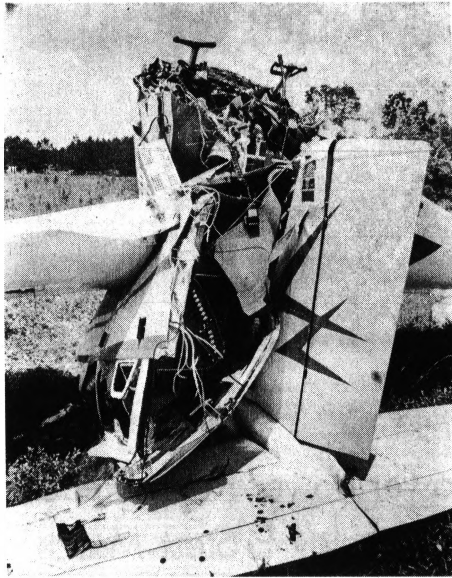

McKinzie told police one boy swam to shore and that he rescued one of them, Howard Thomas Jr., 17, of Detroit.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department divers found Warren's body yesterday, afternoon after a six-hour search.

In another water mishap, a 15-year-old Pontiac youth, Harold Wilson, drowned Thursday night while trying to swim to a raft 40 yards off the shore of South Little Long Lake in Genesee County.

His body was recovered by skin divers from the Genesee County sheriff's department, in 15 feet of water.

The youth was with his twin brother at the time.

'Fair' Chance Seen for School-Aid OK

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, a member of the House-Senate school aid conference committee, predicts a "fair" chance that the upper chamber will approve House amendments and send an $849.1 million school aid bill to Gov. William Milliken for signing next week.

Kildee made the statement Thursday after the Senate rejected a House-Senate compromise version calling for state assistance to schools totaling $847.4 million.

brother Ralph, 45, of 1607 S. Commerce, Commerce Township; and Patricia Sue Vance, 32.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the single-engine Cessna 250 piloted by Ralph Rappuhn was to have landed at Knoxville, Tenn., for fuel, but never made the scheduled stop.

MOTOR SKIPS, POPS

Witnesses said they heard the plane's motor skip and make popping noises before it crashed in a field near Lawrenceville, Ga., about noon. Authorities said the plane was out of fuel.

The Rappuhns were on their way to visit friends in Kennesaw, Ga., and apparently were trying to find McCollum Field there when the plane crashed.

Police officers said the plane was broken in two places, but there was no fire.

Ralph Rappuhn is employed at Cooley Lake Collision in Waterford Township and Vernon worked at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Warmth to Linger; Showers Possible

Stay-at-home weekenders in Pontiac and environs can look for continued warm weather into tonight, with highs ranging from 82 to 87. The chance of showers will increase to 40 per cent as clouds continue to gather. Overnight, the mercury will dip only to the mid-60s.

Tomorrow's outlook is for more of the same, with a 60 per cent chance that Pontiac will share some of the showers and thunderstorms that have plagued parts of the nation, from the north-central states to the southeast. Highs expected to register 83 to 88 degrees.

Showers will end Monday, leaving cooler temperatures in their wake.

Winds this morning were from the east and southeast, ranging from 6 to 10 miles per hour.

The overnight low was 54 at 5 a.m. By 2 p.m. the temperature was 81.

Nixon Move on Welfare Seen Near

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee reports that the Nixon administration is on the verge of deciding the future of the nation's basic welfare system.

In its weekly newsletter, the committee said yesterday that pressure for a decision had increased as a result of the Supreme Court's recent ruling that outlawed state residency requirements for welfare recipients.

The two major proposals under consideration, said the committee, have been submitted by Arthur Burns, President Nixon's counselor on domestic affairs, and Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Burns plan would preserve the current federal-state welfare system while increasing payments to some recipients. The Finch plan would abandon the present system to help a wider range of impoverished persons, including the working poor.

WOULD BE RAISED

The Burns proposal provides that Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) would be raised to $40 a month across the country. Currently, there is no national standard for AFDC payments, which run as low as $8 a month in some states, as high as $60 in others and average $42 for all states.

It also calls for aid payments to underemployed families who head families and a revenue-sharing system to help poorer states meet their growing share of welfare costs.

The estimated cost of Burns' plan is $300 to $400 million more a year.

The Finch plan calls for withdrawal of federal support for AFDC and creation of a "family security system" to provide needy families with "direct income maintenance" from the federal government. This and other HEW reforms proposed would cost about $1.6 billion annually.

HEW officials plan to test several income-maintenance plans—a guaranteed annual income, a negative income tax and a family allowance—in Model Cities neighborhoods to determine their feasibility.

Finch has told Senate committees investigating hunger that some form of guaranteed annual income is needed to solve the hunger problem and other problems of the poor.

THOUSANDS PROTEST—Thousands march along Oxford Avenue in downtown Berkeley, Calif., yesterday to protest the closing of a "people's park" by University of California officials. More than 2,000 police and National Guardsmen were on hand, but there was no trouble.

Flower Power Keeps Peace in Berkeley Protest March

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—The people power of 30,000 demonstrators confronted the police power of 2,300 police and National Guardsmen here yesterday. But it was flower power that ruled the day.

Thousands paraded in a Memorial Day demonstration around the campus and past the fenced-in half-block University of California land nearby they want turned back into a "people's park."

Many had expressed concern that the confrontation might erupt into violence, but the marchers walked peacefully under the eyes and guns of some 300 policemen and 2,000 National Guardsmen, who stood in full gear sweltering but relaxed under the hot sun. Helicopters hovered overhead noisily.

Fears that the more militant protesters might storm police and guard lines to tear down the fence proved unfounded. Instead, the day ended with police cars, policemen and National Guardsmen bedecked with flowers.

BARRICADES DECORATED

The barbed wire barricades set up to keep the parade along its scheduled route soon were laced with daisies and other blossoms.

So was the fence around the land where the city's street people created a community park before the university put the fence around its property.

Laird Chides Canada on NATO Pullout Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, returning from a week of North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings, said today he hopes a proposed Canadian troop withdrawal would not have a "snowballing effect" on Congress or the U.S. commitment to NATO.

Commenting on Canada's plan to withdraw two-thirds of its 10,000 troops in Europe, Laird said, "I hope it will be reviewed by the Canadian government. I don't think this is the time to reduce our forces in Europe."

If the Canadians carry out the withdrawal, Laird said, "I hope it does not have a snowballing effect."

The Nixon administration intends to maintain its NATO commitments at the same level, Laird said.

"But Congress makes the decisions," he added. "I hope we can move forward. I hope this does not have a snowballing effect in our Congress."

There has been a recent renewal of calls within the United States for a sizable chunk of the American force now in Europe.

British Defense Secretary Denis Healey emphasized the view that a small number of tactical nuclear weapons might have to be used first by the West if Soviet-led Warsaw Pact nations were to attack.

Healey said the Canadian action could cause other NATO members to pull out troops, forcing even greater reliance on nuclear deterrents.

As the rounds of meetings in Brussels and London was ending, diplomatic sources here reported Nixon has run into a noticeable lack of allied enthusiasm for proposals he made April 10 to tighten political and social teamwork under NATO.

The allies have generally questioned whether Nixon's proposals are needed in view of machinery already set up, diplomatic sources said.

Liberals Purged From the Czech Red Hierarchy

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovak Communist party leader Gustav Husak announced today a purge of party central committee members who voted in the National Assembly against legalizing the presence of Russian troops in this country or otherwise violated party discipline.

Husak said those ousted from the central committee include former Deputy Premier Ota Sik, Frantisek Kriegl, popular head of the National Front prior to the Soviet invasion last August, and Frantisek Vodlan, a liberal who voted against the Russian troop treaty last October.

He said the central committee which met Thursday and yesterday also fired members who signed the controversial "2,000 Words" manifest, and "refused to recant this point of view."

The manifesto, published in June 1968, urged the leadership of former party chief Alexander Dubcek to move faster and further with reforms and freedoms.

Husak reported the ousters in a nationally televised report.

He appeared on the platform with President Ludvik Svoboda and Premier Oldrich Cernik.

Snipers, Troops Battle in Argentine Hotspot

CORDOBA, Argentina (AP)—Snipers and soldiers battled through the night in Cordoba, where six persons have been killed in two days of violence. The rest of Argentina was relatively calm today after the most effective general strike in more than 10 years.

Trucks and armored personnel carriers rumbled through the streets of the nation's third largest city, 500 miles northwest of Buenos Aires. Soldiers guarded every corner of the downtown area.

Dutch Marines Enter Caribbean Disorder

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP)—Royal Dutch Marines were called in to quell disorders on this Caribbean resort island after 5,000 striking oil refinery workers burned and looted stores yesterday.

The troops and police fired at will at the rampaging crowds. One labor leader was shot in the chest and seven other persons were wounded by bullets. The toll was expected to rise.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed as fires burned in several parts of the city in the Netherlands Antilles off the coast of Venezuela.

Frightened tourists, many of them Americans, stayed inside their luxury hotels. Telegraph communications between Curacao and New York and Caracas were cut off but lines to the Netherlands remained open.

In the Hague the Dutch government said the disorders were "serious." A communiqué said the Marines were sent in after police lost control of the mobs.

Residents Leery of Lost Snake

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Neighbors trod cautiously today near Darel R. Gandy's home. His 9-foot Indian python was missing.

Gandy, 24, told police the python, kept in his car, coiled tightly about the steering wheel and started the horn blowing about 2 a.m. yesterday.

He removed his pet from the horn and left it sleeping on the dashboard. Apparently the python escaped through a cracked window, the owner said.

The neighbors were happy, but not wholly reassured, when Gandy told them, "He's old and toothless and couldn't hurt anyone."

Although the main issue in the strike at the Royal Dutch Shell refinery is wages, the demonstrations took on racial overtones as the rioters concentrated their attacks on white-owned businesses. Curacao is 80 to 90 per cent Negro.

Demonstrations began Thursday night and police fired into the air after Negro workers threatened whites. Friday morning another demonstration was held and witnesses said the mob became unruly after police shot a labor leader.

Birmingham

N-War Effect on Humans to Be Discussed

BIRMINGHAM—Nuclear and biological warfare and the effects on humans will be discussed by a medical panel Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Birmingham Community House.

The panelists are Dr. John Caldwell, 2255 Avon Lane; Dr. Leon Berman, 6440 Hills, Bloomfield Township; Dr. Sam Lerman of Southfield and Dr. Isadore Kolman of Huntington Woods.

The panel, sponsored by the 18th District Democratic Committee and the Troy and Avon-Rochester Democratic clubs, will be moderated by District Chairman Allen Zemmell.

BIRMINGHAM—Beginning Monday, boys and girls may pick up admission tickets for the Kicks program of the Vacation Reading Club at Baldwin Public Library, June 7 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Theme of this year's club is "Going places with Books," offering members the adventures of trekking through the desert, hacking through the jungle, cooling off on an iceberg or sailing away in a big balloon.

Along with seeing the elaborate "Going Places With Books" display, those who come will learn how to join the club, and will see the movie, "Nick, A Boy and His Elephant."

Admission is by ticket only for the June 7 program, and children must be in at least the second grade to join the Vacation Reading Club.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Carl Feiss, planning and urban design consultant, will deliver the principal address at convocation exercises for Cranbrook Academy of Art at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The 50 candidates for degrees to be presented by Glen Paulsen, academy president, include three for master of architecture, 41 for master of fine arts and six for bachelor of fine arts.

Feiss received his bachelor of architecture degree in 1931 from the University of Pennsylvania and attended Cranbrook Academy of Art from 1931 through 1933 as a special student of the late Finnish architect Eliel Saarinen, who was then president of the academy. In 1938 he won his degree of master of city planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Purdue Suspends 221

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue University announced today the suspension of 221 students arrested May 6 in a "camp-in" at the Memorial Union building protesting tuition increases. Three faculty members also arrested were placed under "administrative censure" for one year, in effect placing them on probation.

Rites, Protests Share Holiday Spotlight

From Our News Wires

The Memorial Day observance entered its second century yesterday. Commemoration of the nation's war dead shared the spotlight with antiwar protests.

In Carbondale, Ill., where the holiday began 101 years ago, church groups read the names of the more than 35,000 American dead in Vietnam.

Thirty thousand protesters marched on a "people's park" in Berkeley, Calif., keeping National Guard troops busy during the holiday.

An impromptu peace parade vied with a Memorial Day march in New York and officials urged often contradictory changes in American policy.

READ THE ROLLS

Unitarians and Quakers participated in the Carbondale demonstration protesting the war and honoring those killed in its course.

Other demonstrators read the rolls of Vietnam dead in Albany, N.Y., Montpelier, Vt., Torrington, Conn., Chicago, and Cincinnati, Ohio.

San Fernando, Calif., Mayor Phillip Jones read the list beside a war memorial in his city, and the Portland, Me., Press-Herald printed on its front page yesterday the names of the state's 243 dead in the war, arranged in the form of a cross and bordered in black.

President Nixon, spending the three-day weekend with his family at Key Biscayne, Fla., urged Americans not only to honor their fighting men but to pray for peace throughout the world.

CHANCE TO ESCAPE

The holiday was for many, especially in the cities in the North, a chance to escape the asphalt and concrete for the sand, sun and shade of beaches and resorts.

The congestion was congested traffic and a mounting holiday death toll.

It was the day of the super-snarl at Eureka, Mo., 15 miles southwest of St. Louis, where more than 13,000 vehicles were backed up 15 miles because construction had closed one west-bound lane on Interstate 44—U.S. 66.

The traditional Memorial Day parades and services took place in towns and cities throughout the nation. In New York City alone, 35 parades were sponsored by patriotic organizations in the five boroughs.

WITNESSES SCUFFLE

Mayor John V. Lindsay, reviewing a parade in Brooklyn, witnessed a scuffle between police and a woman carrying a placard reading, "My son died in vain in Vietnam." She bit one patrolman before being taken into custody.

At Trinity Church in lower Manhattan the crew of the U.S. Navy destroyer Lawrence held a special service for Capt. James Lawrence, who died in the War of 1812 after exhorting his crew: "Don't give up the ship!"

BIG PARADE—A Girl Scout unit passes the reviewing stand in Pontiac's Memorial Day parade yesterday. It was one of the city's biggest Memorial Day parades, with some 40 marching units. Several thousand people turned out to line

Saginaw as the weatherman cooperated with sunny skies and mild temperatures. Following the parade, ceremonies were held in front of City Hall and at Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

WW II Hero Buried at Arlington

Parents Revisit Grave

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two elderly Pima Indians stood by a marble headstone at the Arlington National Cemetery grave of Ira Hayes, a Marine corporal who became a bigger-than-life hero of World War II.

"My son, my son," cried Mrs. Job Hayes, while her 70-year-old husband stared solemnly but without tears at the grave.

Ira Hayes became a part of one of the most historic scenes in U.S. military history when he helped hoist an American flag on Iwo Jima in 1945. Not far from his grave is the 20-ton bronze Marine War Memorial which portrays the dramatic flag-raising.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes came from the Gila River Indian Reservation in Arizona on a cold, snowy February day in 1955 to see their son buried at Arlington.

MOTHER'S DREAM

But the 69-year-old Mrs. Hayes wanted desperately to see her son's grave one more time before she died, a father told a Phoenix, Ariz., radio station (KRDS). Since the family farm couldn't finance the long trip, the radio station put up the funds.

The parents were on hand this warm, clear Memorial Day when a chaplain told a small group at the Hayes' grave site: "Let us pray for Cpl. Ira Hayes who was always faithful to his country and who served his parents and his people well."

Hayes' life and death were portrayed in a movie, "The Outsider," in which he was shown as feeling his fame was undeserved and his being made a national hero was phony.

The flag-raising photograph which catapulted him to national glory resulted in his being sent on a bond-selling drive around the United States. Eventually he was discharged and returned to the reservation after the war.

DIED AT 32

Hayes found it hard to cope with the fame and the free drinks that being a hero brought. He died in 1955 at the age of 32, an alcoholic.

The radio station which helped bring the parents to Washington also is accepting donations to start a scholarship fund as a living memorial to the Marine.

"Let us pray that the Ira Hayes Memorial Scholarship Fund can help other Indian boys and girls," said the chaplain at the Memorial Day service.

With Mr. and Mrs. Hayes was their son, Kenneth, 39, a veteran of the Korean War who holds two Purple Hearts, a Silver and a Bronze Star. The governor of the Pima reservation, Lloyd Allison, and his wife came along also.

'SAD DAY'

After the 10-minute memorial service and placing of a large white carnation wreath around the grave, the Indians were left alone to pray privately.

"Today was a sad day but I'm so happy we could come," Mrs. Hayes told one of the entourage. Before leaving Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will be driven to the grave for a last private visit.

Pipeline Is Hit in Israeli Area

TEL AVIV (AP) — Part of the American-owned oil pipeline running from Saudi Arabia to Lebanon was blown up in the Israeli-held Golan Heights of Syria Friday, and the resulting fire was still burning today. Flames and smoke could be seen for miles across the bleak, barren plateau.

The blaze tapered off as an automatic shut-off device cut the flow of oil through the line when pressure in the pipe dropped. The 1,000-mile pipeline, owned by the Arabian American Oil Co. (ARAMCO), carries about 23 million tons of oil a year from the Saudi fields to the Mediterranean seaport of Sidon.

The explosion, which Israeli sources said was the work of Arab commandos, ripped up the underground pipe near the village of Mughur Shab'a, near the Lebanese border 24 miles north of the Sea of Galilee.

The pipeline runs about 30 miles through the occupied heights, captured from Syria in the June 1967 war.

Troops Find Bodies Where 11 Vanished

LAGOS (AP) — Six shallow graves and five decayed bodies were found by Nigerian troops near where 11 European oil workers disappeared nearly three weeks ago, a Nigerian newspaper reported today.

Pedro Erebor of the Nigerian Observer in Benin said the bodies and graves were discovered Thursday when federal forces entered Okpai, 22 miles from Kwale in Biafra. Twenty-four Italians, three Germans, a Lebanese and a Jordanian were abducted from Kwale May 12 by retreating Biafrans, the paper said.

Eighteen of them have been reported alive in Biafra, but 11 remained unaccounted for, and a report from Benin earlier this week said the Biafrans killed them.

N. Mexico Militant Vows Burger Arrest

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico's flamboyant Spanish land grant claimant, Reles Lopez Tijerina, said Friday he plans to make a citizens' arrest Tuesday of Warren E. Burger, the nominee for U.S. chief justice.

Tijerina, whose followers claim ownership of thousands of acres of northern New Mexico, said he would make the arrest because of Burger's "conspiracy to violate the civil rights of the poor" while serving as a U.S. Circuit Court Judge.

Tijerina issued a signed statement in Albuquerque in which he said he will attend Senate confirmation hearings for Burger in Washington and make the arrest.

"I am hoping that he will not resist," Tijerina said, "so that

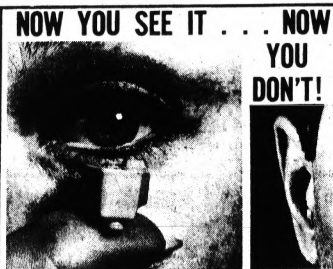

'Indians' Storm State Fort in Reenactment

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Indians stormed Fort Michilimackinac Friday in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, showing no mercy to white settlers. The Indians and settlers liked the idea so well they got up and prepared to reenact the historic Pontiac Massacre twice more as part of the Memorial Day observances.

More than 200 residents of the Mackinaw City area donned period costumes to reenact the massacre which occurred in 1763.

Yank Copter Rescues Oklahoman

Sergeant Escapes From VC

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army sergeant from Altus, Okla., who had been a prisoner of the Viet Cong for about nine months, escaped from his captors last Monday and was picked up Friday by an American helicopter crew, the U.S. command reported today.

He was identified as Kenneth R. Gregory, son of Mrs. Helen Gregory, P.O. Box 178, general delivery, Altus, Okla.

Spokesmen said he was married but his wife's name and address were not available immediately.

Gregory was found about 12 miles northwest of Tay Ninh City, an area near the Cambodian border, the command said.

His condition was listed as "good" by Army doctors. He had lost 10 pounds, dropping from 165 to 155, while in captivity, the announcement said.

Gregory was spotted on a bamboo jungle trail by a U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division helicopter crew, four days after he "escaped from captivity," the announcement said. It gave no details of his escape, where he had been held or his treatment.

After being picked up by the helicopter, Gregory was taken to the 24th Evacuation Hospital at Long Binh, where he is undergoing examinations. "When they picked me up, I was actually crying," Gregory was quoted as saying.

FRIED CHICKEN

His first American food was fried chicken and milk.

"It's the best food I've had in a long time," he said.

A few hours after the milk and chicken he had a meal of steak, vegetables, lettuce and tomatoes, gelatin, ice cream and milk at the evacuation hospital.

The command said he was asked what he missed most while in captivity and he replied: "coffee. The VC don't drink coffee. They like hot sweetened water and tea."

The announcement said Gregory entered the Army May 18, 1964, and landed in South Vietnam Nov. 2, 1967. When reported missing on Aug. 25, 1968, he was a member of a transportation company in the 1st Logistical Command.

Gregory, who is 23 years old, was a squad leader in charge of a five-ton truck that was on a supply mission to Tay Ninh City when the convoy was ambushed.

Asked what he will do when he gets home, headquarters said his answer was: "The first thing I'm planning is to spend some time with my family. We'll probably go camping somewhere."

The U.S. Command said he would leave Sunday for the United States.

Gregory is the second U.S. prisoner found alive in Tay Ninh Province in the past two months. On April 19, Spec. 5 Thomas Van Patten, 21, of Caledonia, Mich., was picked up by a helicopter crew 18 days after he escaped from enemy captivity. Van Patten had been completely contradicts any of reported missing since Feb. 10, their claims to being a humane

Imprisoned Yanks' Wives
Flood Red With Telegrams

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The letters stopped in October. Sybil Stockdale didn't notice until February, when she still hadn't gotten a Christmas note she expected from her husband, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam since 1965.

She checked with other prisoners' wives.

"No one had had any mail since October," she said Friday in an interview. "I then asked the women to write to me if they wanted to send a telegram, and I would suggest dates so the wives would be spaced."

So began a flood of 200 telegrams to Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator in Paris, pleading to know whether husbands were dead or alive and how they were being treated.

Then, at the end of April, some of the wives started getting letter again. Mrs. Stockdale got one May 2 from Navy pilot Capt. James Bond Stockdale.

He wrote that he was fine, told her not to worry and included a message for their children. She knows of 75 letters received since the telegram campaign started. All were written during October and November.

"They must have been held someplace for some time and maybe the telegrams . . . encouraged them (the North Vietnamese) to let the letters out," she said.

CAMPAIGN CONTINUES

The campaign continues. At intervals Mrs. Stockdale suggests, wives pepper Xuan Thuy with 15 to 20 telegrams a week. Each wife writes and pays for her own wire. The cost depends upon wordage. Mrs. Stockdale sent one that cost $10.35 for 53 words.

Enough wives are participating to have telegrams scheduled into September.

As Xuan Thuy's desk piles higher, Mrs. Stockdale hopes the North Vietnamese will be persuaded to release a list of all prisoners telling which are still alive.

"For a family not to know whether a husband is alive or country."

Suspect Bound Over

Trial Set in Police Killing

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old construction worker was bound over for trial for the murder of a Detroit policeman Thursday despite his story that a turban-wearing friend nicknamed Abdul Hassan actually shot the policeman.

Nathaniel Turner is accused of fatally shooting Patrolman Carter Wells, also 35, after the officer stopped him for running a red light on East Jefferson a week ago.

Turner maintains that the friend, whose real name is supposed to be Harold Martin, shot Carter and then escaped on foot before Turner himself attempted to flee in his car. Turner was apprehended after a short chase by a police car and a private citizen who saw the shooting.

As Turner was led out of the courtroom, he shouted at Recorder's Court Judge Joseph Gillis, "You got a kangaroo court here."

'Court' Asks for Help

The Press warmly commends an initial project of the Oakland County Juvenile Court to enlist 400 volunteers to work with probationary youngsters.

Speaking for the Court at a recent meeting attended by 250 representatives of social, church, civic and service groups, Juvenile Court Judge EUGENE A. MOORE declared that most of the juveniles under court jurisdiction could redeem themselves if they had a continuing relationship with an individual they can trust—"someone who cares."

A pioneer program for Oakland County, it closely follows

one that has been resultful in the Boulder-Denver, Colo., area, and another initiated in Royal Oak by former Judge Keith Leephoust that has been widely acclaimed.

Though the rise in juvenile crime in Oakland County is gratifyingly far below the national level, the case load is much too heavy to be handled adequately by probation officers. Hence the need for volunteers.

Now is the time for all good people to come to the aid of their County's juvenile probationers and lend the helping hands and understanding so badly needed.

French Like Interim Chief

Recent polls show ALAIN POHER, the man even Frenchmen knew little about until CHARLES DE GAULLE abruptly abdicated to make him interim president of France, running a strong second to GEORGES POMPIDOU among the half-dozen candidates to succeed DE GAULLE. He stands a good chance of coming out on top should no one receive a majority vote in tomorrow's election, making a runoff necessary.

Much of POHER's sudden popularity may be laid to the novelty of change and to chance. He presents a low public posture, in welcome relief to the grand style of the great CHARLES.

He has faced down the hostile Gaullist cabinet he inherited and restored a great measure of freedom to French radio and television, under De Gaulle the captive mouthpiece of the government. And France has not succumbed to chaos, for which the head of state, whether directly responsible or not, inevitably receives a major share of the credit.

POHER may yet prove a nine-day wonder. He may not in the long run have what it takes to lead a great nation, or may not survive the election.

But the very fact that he has emerged so unexpectedly to give the succession to DE GAULLE such unexpected interest and importance is a good omen for France. More, it is a testimonial to the immense resilience and resourcefulness of popular government, in France and in all nations sharing in the democratic tradition.

Meat Prices Chase Supply

Since the first of the year, prices of meat at the local butcher's or supermarket have been edging upward—which will be no news to housewives.

This has happened despite increased, and increasing, supplies of meat. During the first quarter of 1969, both prices and meat production were up about 3 per cent compared to the same period a year ago.

The phenomenon is an illustration of the classic definition of inflation—"too much money chasing too few goods." For despite greater supplies, high levels of employment and income have resulted in "exceptionally high consumer demand for meat," says the American Meat Institute.

In 1968 consumption of meat in the United States reached an all-time high of 182.7 pounds per person. That record is expected to be eclipsed this year.

If it's any comfort even with higher prices, Americans are spending less of their disposable income for beef and pork than they did in the past. In 1968, spending on those items accounted for about 3.8 per cent of disposable income, compared to 4.7 per cent 10 years ago.

Did Smut Stand Cost Fortas Top Post?

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The state of California has more than an ordinary interest in the whole question of printed obscenity and the use of the mails to distribute hard-core pornography and sex oriented literature and films.

DIRKSEN

There were two dozen or more cases where the state courts of California found the purveyors guilty of distributing smut. All of the cases were appealed to the United States Supreme Court on a constitutional issue involving the freedom of speech guaranteed by the First Amendment.

The defendants were exonerated. Perhaps it is more accurate to say that the California high court was reversed by the U.S. Supreme Court.

That reversal came just a short while before the then Justice Abe Fortas was nominated by President Johnson to be chief justice. And there was a connection. When the Senate Judiciary Committee held a hearing on the nomination, quite a number of things came out of the woodwork, such as the $15,000 fee to lecture to the law school seminars of American University in Washington.

There was another item for which nobody quite bargained.

James J. Clancy, representing the Citizens for Decent Literature organization, with national headquarters in Los Angeles, appeared before the Judiciary Committee and asked for the privilege of testifying. His organization has been carrying on a crusade against obscenity. The nation, as everybody knows, was being treated to a smut glut.

Films and printed material produced both in the United States and in Europe had fairly inundated the newsstands. Sex films so offensive that they were banned in France and Belgium could still be shown to the public in the United States.

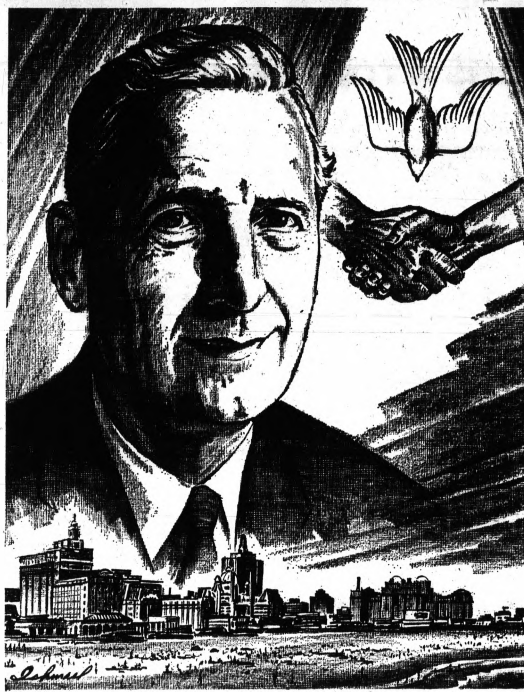

Mr. Clancy brought with him to Washington several typical films, and he suggested that he be permitted to give a private showing to any senators who might wish to see them. Several senators availed themselves of the opportunity and made an informal, off-the-record report of how incredibly vile the films really were.

Then the filibuster began on the Senate floor to stop the Fortas nomination. It became quickly apparent that it could under no circumstances be stopped. To be sure, five other justices had joined with Fortas in reversing the California obscenity cases, but that did not alter the matter. Their names were not before the Senate. The ultimate result was that Justice Fortas requested that his name be withdrawn. And for that moment an unhappy adventure was concluded.

The real issue was that senators were becoming increasingly unhappy with the decisions of the Supreme Court, and they took an effective means of registering their displeasure.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

The strength of our country is based not only on great heroic deeds of faith, but on the day-to-day activities of faith of all our people.

John H. Lippincott Jr. of Atlantic City, N.J., is typical of many persons across the country who live their creed in their daily lives. Of Quaker heritage, Lippincott has retained that heritage of peace and service. His deep belief in strong family ties and the Golden Rule has carried over into his business ethics. Besides his busy life as an executive of a large hotel and president of Atlantic City's Convention Bureau, his other services to the city are numerous. He is trustee and president of the Atlantic City Hospital, and serves on Community Chest, Red Cross, and Margate, N.J., Board of Education.

A dedicated church member, he has served in many capacities at the Margate Community Church, an evangelical church of 19 denominations. Although raised as a Quaker, he sees the value of the ecumenical movement. Then there are the "little things" that he finds time for, such as providing food for church workers and community picnics. All of these activities are the manifestation of the aura that Lippincott carries with him: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." He says, "Live by the truth and proceed as the way opens."

As an innkeeper, John H. Lippincott Jr. has "room at the inn" for love and faith.

Confident Living:

Learn to Relax and Get Calm

By NORMAN V. PEALE

Ever had the urge to get away from it all to some peaceful place? There is so much frantic activity now—a day's, such rapid change, such a lot of fast-breaking news that the thought of escape from tension really appears.

DR. PEALE

But no one can constantly go to vacation spots. As a result, nervous tension accumulates.

Fortunately there is a remedy. You can learn to relax and get calm right where you are. I first realized this years ago when I was in Atlantic City to make a convention speech. It was during a hectic period in my own schedule.

Standing at the window of my hotel room I was looking at the sea. The sky was overcast with drifting clouds. Small waves moved evenly in ceaseless rhythm toward the shore, where they washed gently onto the soft sand. Sea gulls slowly climbed the air and then slid gracefully down the wind. The peacefulness of the scene induced a strange quiet in me, soothing my tense mind.

I closed my eyes and thereupon noticed that I could visualize the scene in detail.

It was just as vivid with my eyes closed as when actually gazing at it. Then what was to stop me, I thought, from re-experiencing this peace at will even though physically removed?

From then on I developed the practice of remembered peacefulness, pausing now and then during a strenuous day to contemplate memory pictures of calming scenes. It is a handy way to get quick relief from tension. Even just five minutes of it can be wonderfully quieting and refreshing.

The peace of nature can also be used as a means of taking off into a deeper, more spiritual inner quiet, one that brings some good insights. The Japanese, for example, have gardens specially designed for this. A very famous ancient one is the Stone Garden of Kyoto, which is five centuries old and is visited each year by thousands of people from all over Japan as well as by travelers from other lands. I have been there and I found it quite an experience.

The garden is small in area and there is not a single tree or shrub. It contains nothing but sand and rock. The sand is flat and smooth, evenly raked in parallel lines. And in this sand are 15 stones of varying sizes and shapes, clustered irregularly in five groups.

It is said that these stones represent the problems of human life. They are placed in such a way that you cannot see all of them from any one spot in the garden. The idea is that the mind is incapable of grasping all the basic human problems at one time.

The Stone Garden is intended as a place for meditation. You are supposed to sit still, get yourself thoroughly relaxed and let your attention focus upon these simplicities of sand and stones. Apparently the effect on many persons is a compelling sense of peace and harmony, giving rise to thoughts of things eternal. I know it affected me that way.

All races and civilizations have had thinkers and creative leaders who stressed the value of deep inner quiet. It is the goal of various techniques of meditation practiced by Hindu yogis. Christian mystics sometimes call it "entering the silence." Quakers refer to it as "peace at the center."

Anyone can tap this source of strength and inspiration. You do not have to have beautiful surroundings, much less a peace-centered garden. All you need is any secluded place where you can get yourself physically at ease and then fill your mind with some peace-inducing thoughts. A few such thoughts that I have found helpful are: "Be still and know that I am God," or "Peace I give unto you by Robert W. Service."

"I've stood in some mighty mouthed hollow that's plumb-full of hush to the brim; I've watched the big husky sun wallow in crimson and gold, and grow dim. Till the moon set, pearly peaks gleaming, and the stars tumble out, neck and crop; And I thought that I surely was dreaming, with the peace of the world piled on top."

We cannot escape the turmoil of our day and age. It is our world just as it is and we have to live in it. But we cannot keep ourselves emotionally healthy and creative without cultivating inner peace. So take time to get quiet.

Support Millage Request for Huron Valley Schools

On June 9, voters of the Huron Valley School System will be asked to vote for 21 mills to keep their school system at the present level. The Milford Jaycees support the request for 21 mills. The millage represents only an additional 6 mills ($6 per $1,000 of assessed valuation), the other 15 mills represent renewal millage which expired in December 1968.

If the Huron Valley schools are to continue with the present high educational standards, well-qualified teachers and the operation of all schools on full-day classes, a yes vote is necessary. Unless the district votes for the millage it will not qualify for state aid.

Without the 21 mills, half the school operating budget is gone. School taxes are the only taxes we have a direct vote on so let's vote for our schools and continued good education for our children.

Citizen's Opinion Opposes Press Editorial

Your attack on Senator Robert Huber is vindictive. The attack should be against Chancellor Varner. Have we gotten so low in this country as to excuse the Chancellor's lack of direction when it was needed and then to appoint him to another public office?

'Oppose State Aid for Nonpublic Schools'

The board of elders of the University Presbyterian Church wishes to express its unanimous opposition to parochial and to encourage the legislature to defend the general concept of state aid to nonpublic schools. This position is being communicated to the congregation, the governor, the legislators and the press in order to give this statement of conviction the widest possible circulation.

Letter Defines Communism, Totalitarianism

The Pontiac Press has confused the terms "communism" and "totalitarianism." An editorial stated that communism, in its purest form is where a few head men call all the shots as they please and owe explanations to no one. That example is one of totalitarianism.

Communism, in its purest form, is a close copy to the society Saint Thomas More envisioned in his book "Utopia." Every man works his fair share, and the benefits are distributed equally to those who produce for the society. This is true and pure communism.

Question and Answer

Recently I saw a panel truck labeled "Closed Circuit Mobile TV Unit" and it was an Oakland County truck. What does the County use TV for?

PERPLEXED

REPLY

It is used by the County Department of Public Works to inspect sewers. The camera, equipped with lights, is put into the sewers, where it is pulled along by cable. It is monitored from the truck to find leaks and cracks in pipes, roots that may interfere with sewer operation, illegal tap-ins, etc.

Question and Answer

My husband and I would like to know whom we and other interested people can write to and insist they close these colleges until order is restored?

R. J. Z.

REPLY

Because state legislatures control education appropriations for state-supported schools and colleges, your opinion probably would be most strongly felt by your elected state representatives. Elected officials in Washington would be another possibility because most colleges receive federal funds as well. You can also express your opinion to the college presidents and boards of trustees.

All-A Student Is Waterford's Teen of Week

An athlete with an all-A scholastic average is this week's Waterford Township teen of the week.

Chuck Dohner, 15, a sophomore at Waterford Mott High School, maintains his high class standing while participating in varsity football, in which he holds a letter, and track.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Dohner of 725 Gertrude, Chuck also is chairman of the sophomore planning committee, a student council representative, treasurer of the varsity club and a member of the foreign exchange club.

His hobbies include water-skiing, swimming and reading.

Germans Mull Voting at 18

Political Parties Hope to Calm Youth Unrest

Bonn (UPI) — West Germany's political parties are hoping to calm restless youth by lowering the voting age to 18. Only the Neo-Nazis object.

Legislators in the city-state of Hamburg acted in March to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years.

To be elected to the Hamburg state legislature, a candidate need now be no more than 23 years old.

FAVOR ACTION

In all other 11 states, Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats, Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats and the opposition Free Democrats have expressed themselves in favor of similar action.

But most prefer the matter be decided on a national level, and Kiesinger and Brandt have promised it will be.

In a debate in the legislature of North Rhine-Westphalia, the largest of the states, deputies reasoned that lowering the voting age would strengthen youth's sense of political responsibility and perhaps divert teen-aged revolutionaries who now feel they can make their views felt only by street demonstrations or sit-in strikes.

OPPOSE CHANGE

But the National Democrats, a small party generally termed "Neo-Nazi," opposes dropping the voting age.

National Democratic leader Adolf von Thadden believes youth lacks the experience necessary to vote wisely. He says kids who strike or demonstrate ought to be put in labor camps instead of being given the vote.

School Board Candidates Are Invited to Talk

Candidates in the Pontiac Board of Education race have been invited to speak at a Monday meeting of Voice of Oakland County Action League.

Each candidate will give a short speech, followed by a question-and-answer session.

The public is invited to the meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Hayes Jones Center, 235 Wessen.

Junior Editors Quiz on COINS

QUESTION: When were the first coins made, and why were some given rough edges?

ANSWER: About 700 B.C., the ancient Greeks began to use coins as money. (A) is one of these first coins, crudely made of a mixture of gold and silver. Soon the Greeks began to produce very artistic designs, as in (B).

As more were used, it became natural to stack them up in piles, as our young friend is doing. The first coins, which often had raised designs, would slip and slide around when they were stacked.

Coins (B) and (C) show the Greeks' answer to this: they placed a little raised edge all around to make it possible to pile a stack of coins very neatly, also saving wear on the raised design. Not all the old coins had these raised edges.

Dishonest people used to scrape some of the silver and gold from the edge of a coin and keep the scrapings, while using the coin. The milled edges make it easier to detect this illegal practice and track down the people who are doing it.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Rare Yale Speaker to Oppose Viet War

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — oppose the war, held a meeting recently. They decided to ask the administration to allow a William McIlwaine Thompson speaker from the class to express their feelings at commencement exercises.

Thompson, 22, from Richmond, Va., will be only the second speaker at a Yale commencement in 74 years, and his subject will be opposition to the Vietnam war.

The only commencement speaker as such, since 1895, was the late President John F. Kennedy, who addressed graduating seniors in 1962 when he received an honorary degree.

For the first 194 years of Yale's 268-year history, student orations were part of several commencement programs. But since 1895, with the exception of Kennedy, the only speech as such has been the baccalaureate address by the Yale president on the Sunday preceding commencement day.

NOT RADICALS

Thompson, who holds the highest elected office among Yale seniors, class secretary, will read his brief statement June 9, expressing the feelings of Yale seniors who oppose the Vietnam war. He says he wants to prove that opposition to the war isn't limited to radicals.

"In the four years we've been at Yale, the war has been the central issue," he said. "We've seen it go from its incipient stages to a massive war. And we have all felt the frustrations of not being able to make our feelings heard."

Thompson and a group of other students he described as "moderates," like himself, who

Try Not to Be Ugly, Americans

NEW YORK (UPI) — Want to help puncture the myth of the Ugly American? Help prove Americans are hospitable, friendly and not too busy to help strangers?

Then serve as a volunteer "Sidewalk Ambassador" in your hometown.

That's the theme of the nationwide Welcome a Visitor Week, June 15-21, being sponsored by the Society of American Travel Writers (SATW) as a public service in support of city, state and national travel programs, including the Visit USA and Discover America campaigns.

During the week, SATW members will distribute handbills of busy street corners in major cities, listing suggestions on how you can be a goodwill ambassador for your community — and the United States.

BASED ON EXPERIENCE

The recommendations are based on the experiences of SATW members who have been "lost" in practically every country around the world.

Here they are:

- Inquire whether you can help when a stranger appears lost or hesitant.
- Take time to give him accurate and specific directions.
- Speak slowly and distinctly, but don't shout when assisting a foreign visitor.
- Walk with him a block, or even more, to point the way.
- If he appears to be a photo fan, offer to take a snapshot of him with his camera. Many tourists appreciate this courtesy.
- Be enthusiastic and well informed about your sightseeing attractions.

• Be friendly. Be helpful. Be hospitable. He is YOUR guest.

• Remember: At least one traveler's unforgettable memory of his visit here may be YOU.

AIM OF PROGRAM

The handbill program is basically aimed at the man and woman in the street who is most likely to encounter visitors from overseas and other states, such as bus and taxi drivers, shoppers, strollers, etc.

But everyone can help spread the word by posting copies of the handbill (or the list in this column) on bulletin boards in offices, shops and factories and in clubs, libraries and other private and public places.

Founded in 1956, the SATW has more than 500 members, including newspaper, magazine and freelance writers, photographers, guide and travel book authors, radio and television commentators and others interested and active in the dissemination of travel information.

The campaign was launched last year in New York and Chicago and proved so successful that SATW decided to extend it throughout the United States and Canada this year.

WRITER'S BRAINCHILD

It is the brainchild of Mrs. Ruth Warren of New York City a veteran travel writer who "knows what it feels like to be 'lost' in a foreign city and 'found' by some local Sidewalk Ambassador."

"I have been rescued twice when my car mired down in the mud during an off-the-beaten-path sightseeing jaunt overseas, and an entire neighboring village offered me help and hospitality," Mrs. Warren said. "And strangers often have shared their picnic lunch with me on long bus trips."

When the finishing touches on this waterfront scene are completed, Sid Ayles of Union Lake plans to add it to his collection being shown next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at a one-man exhibit and sale in the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Waterford-Oaks Activity Center (just past the Oakland County Farmers' Market). Hours for the show, open to the public, are 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. each day.

Prize Winner Seeks Advice on Appreciation

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mr. James Hurley of Edgewood, R.I.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have recently had a death, and folks were most kind. In lieu of flowers I requested contributions to an organization, and I have written a personal note of appreciation to each donor. There was a kind expression of folks paying their personal respects at the funeral home and I expressed my deep appreciation for their kindness in coming.

My problem is what to do about folks who mailed cards of sympathy. I have been told that one does NOT acknowledge these. Should I? — James Hurley

Dear Mr. Hurley: The answer depends upon whether or not a personal note was added to the printed message on the sympathy card. When there is no note — merely a signature — it is not necessary to acknowledge it.

If there is a handwritten message, even a few sentences, the card should be acknowledged just as any other personal letter or note.

SITTERS CHARGE

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother has just invited several neighbors to a small informal dinner at our home. All those invited will need baby sitters. Is it wrong for my friends and me to charge the regular rate since the parents were invited by my family (just down the street)? — Debbie

Dear Debbie: If you and your friends offer to stay with the children, you should not ask the parents to pay you. If they call you and ask you to "sit," then you may charge as you ordinarily would.

RETURNING MONEY

Dear Mrs. Post: The last three years my sister has been sending me money for my birthday. I know she can't afford it. I want to return the money. Would that be the right thing to do? — Agatha

Dear Agatha: No — Don't return the money; you'll only insult her. Instead, write her before your next birthday, and ask her not to send a present — explain that you would be happier if she would agree just to exchange cards.

Dancer Sets Marriage

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Entertainer Juliet Prowse gets married at her Beverly Hills home Sunday to dancer and choreographer Eddie James.

It will be the first marriage for Miss Prowse, an actress, singer and dancer. James, whose real name is James Edwin Fisher, has been married once before.

Miss Prowse, 32, met James, 26, seven months ago when he was her dancing partner on a Bob Hope television special. He has been touring with her, acting as her choreographer.

Municipal Court Judge W. Blair Gibbons will perform the civil ceremony. Miss Prowse said she and James will honeymoon in South Africa, her native country, at a later date.

Miss Prowse once was engaged to actor Frank Sinatra. The engagement ended, reportedly because Sinatra objected to Miss Prowse continuing her career after marriage.

Artist Recalls Old Days of Circus Visit to Town

By JEANNE NELSON

"Running away with the circus" was no mere youthful adventure to Sid Ayles, who, at 17, was caught in the middle of those cold, empty depression days. Instead, it was food more than excitement, a warm bed more than thrills that became the motivating forces.

Sid was a boy without a job, without a family when the circus took him in. The circus people taught him a trade, the food concession business, and became his lost family.

There are many things about that old life that Ayles, retired businessman and successful professional artist, will never forget. And, there remains about him still some evidence of that boyish wonderment that must have drawn the circus folk to him in the beginning. Although Sarasota, Fla., is really home to Vi and Sid Ayles, they keep their home in Union Lake for the yearly summer stay. This year, as they have for the past 20, they will run the food concession at the Michigan State Fair.

Living and working in Sarasota, which has a well-known art colony, has given Ayles the opportunity to study with a number of noted artists in addition to an almost daily critique session with other artists. The cluster of fine art museums throughout the city also affords even greater exposure of good works to the ever seeking Ayles.

For his first one-man show in this area, Ayles has brought over 100 paintings, collages and special works to be displayed and sold in the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Waterford-Oaks Activity Center.

The show, sponsored by the Pontiac Shrine Club, will take place Friday through next Sunday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. each day.

Sketching and drawing began at an early age for this artist. But it wasn't until he had become financially successful in the tool and die business that he could afford the long sought-after lessons he claims every professional artist must have. Now, he too, has added teaching to his list of accomplishments.

While he and his wife live here for the summer, he will be teaching classes in his home twice a week. He also teaches on a regular basis in Sarasota.

An interesting offshoot of his painting career has been the framing business he also runs out of his studio-home in Lido Beach. Any piece of art must be completed by the correct frame in which it is set, he believes.

He has been commissioned a number of times to work out framing techniques for rare and old objects of art and considers this work as creatively important as painting.

The tanned, bearded six-footer plans to get in some Michigan golf on the days when he is not teaching, viewing area art museums and visiting with his son and three grandchildren.

Symphony Players Will Vote Sunday

Detroit (AP) — Striking musicians are expected to vote Sunday on a new contract offer from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Symphony officials said the offer was made Thursday to bargainers for the Detroit Federation of Musicians and "union bargainers indicated that they would discuss and call for a vote on the offer" at the Sunday meeting.

Details of the offer were not disclosed.

The musicians have been on strike since the end of April when their old pact expired.

Agreement on noneconomic issues was reported between both sides earlier this week.

Under the old pact, musicians received a minimum of $205 weekly. They turned down a proposal which would have increased their pay by $30 a week over three years.

The strike has threatened a two-week concert series at the State Fairgrounds. A two-week series was canceled in the Detroit public schools because of the strike.

Height No Small Thing to Airline

FLINT (UPI) — When you're operating a small airline with small airplanes you obviously need small stewardesses.

And that's just what Trans-Michigan Airlines now has — its own stewardess corps with the seven petite gals measuring in between 4-foot-8 and 4-foot-11. Each received a pair of wings Thursday night and are now flying between Michigan and Ohio.

Trans-Michigan Director of Operations Jim Rice explains that the 15-passenger planes the airline uses just don't have much headroom when you're standing. Some of the statuesque stewardesses of the big airlines use just couldn't make the grade on Trans-Michigan.

The gals aren't the only thing that's short on Trans-Michigan — they're all outfitted in eye-appealing miniskirts.

Raffle Rattles Party Hostess When She Finds Evidence

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I recently gave a beautiful dinner party. I used my good tablecloth and real linen napkins, had candlelight, placecards, and served a lovely meal.

After the guests had finished eating and adjourned to the living room, I went into the kitchen for a few minutes, and when I came out I saw the guests exchanging names and addresses.

I thought, "My, how nice, they are anxious to know each other better." Then I saw money exchanging hands. Well, it seems that one lady was selling raffle tickets for her church charity. I became very much annoyed and told the ticket seller in a nice way, of course, that I didn't like it.

Several of the guests defended her, saying it was a good cause, but what else could they say?

What is your opinion of this?

ANNNOYED HOSTESS

DEAR ANNNOYED: Off hand, I'd say it's poor taste to sell raffle tickets to guests at a dinner party, but I would have to know more about how the lady made her pitch.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a wonderful man I've known for years. Mike is intelligent, witty, charming, and he treats me like a goddess. He has asked me to marry him, and I have accepted.

Mike is not a nut, he's a sensible down-to-earth guy. The problem? His favorite color is lavender, and he is determined to marry me wearing a lavender suit. HIM NOT ME!

This is the first thing we've seriously disagreed on. I want a conventional wedding. I've been married before and he says my last wedding, which was "conventional" was a big success, but the marriage was a flop.

How do I win this one?

DEAR SHEILA: Why fight so hard to win this one? If Mike is all you say he is, let him wear the pants and choose the color.

This person has a good wife and a small child, and he wants more than anything else in the world to become a male nurse. He has rehabilitated himself and will now lead the good life after having learned the hard way. He has a good job (working for the state) and is considered well-adjusted. Thank you for any help you can give me.

Socialite Weds Adam Powell III

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newlyweds Adam Clayton Powell III and socialite Beryl Slocum plan to honeymoon in Europe and visit Moscow, then make a trip to the island of Bimini.

Powell, 22, son of the Negro congressman from New York, married Miss Slocum in a chapel at Washington Cathedral Friday.

Miss Slocum, 26, is white and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Slocum, members of a family long socially prominent in Rhode Island. She is a former debutante and Radcliffe graduate.

Powell, who graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a major in political science, is a producer of Columbia Broadcasting System news shows.

The couple met at a party in New York and previously were quoted as saying they felt there would be no problems in their interracial marriage. They plan to make their home in New York.

Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. wore his robes as a Baptist minister to the cathedral and led the couple in private prayers in a room adjacent to the chapel. Miss Slocum joined Powell's Baptist Abyssinian Church in New York last year.

The congressman's wedding gift is a round trip to Bimini, where he lived most of the time in recent years when court action kept him out of New York City.

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr., dean of the Washington Cathedral, read the service.

About three dozen newsmen and photographers, along with some 100 tourists, awaited the couple as they left the cathedral arm-in-arm.

The bride's mother, Mrs. John J. Slocum, and Powell's mother, entertainer Hazel Scott who is divorced from the congressman, also linked arms as they went down the steps of the cathedral after the ceremonies.

Rep. Powell came from his Bimini retreat for the ceremony and Miss Scott came from Paris to attend.

Raccoon Wreaks Household Havoc

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — A raccoon walked through an open door at the Gordon Smart home and caused a little confusion. It ate potato chips, carrots, mascara, eyebrow pencil, lead pencil and drank a bottle of beer. It tore the radio apart, pulled cans of food out of the cupboard and got into Mrs. Smart's purse.

Before the police came for the visitor, Mrs. Smart had to lock the cat in the bathroom, put the dog downstairs, cover the bird cage with sheets and guard the fishbowl. And she received scratches about the arms as she futilely tried to capture the animal.

Damaged Hair Requires Care

Delicate hair that is naturally dry or that is excessively bleached or dyed is often stripped of important natural oils when washed with most shampoos. This causes the hair to tangle easily and combing can cause breakage. Here's one route to more manageable hair! First, wash your hair thoroughly using gentle baby shampoo to help minimize loss of oils. Then, apply a creme rinse following instructions on the bottle. The rinse leaves an invisible film on the hair that usually adds gloss as well as softness and manageability.

Dr. Crane Defends Self

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE J-587: Amos D., aged 42, is a lawyer.
"Dr. Crane," he began, "you certainly make a lot of wives irate."

And it is only by nagging him that the wife prods her husband into adding a postscript on the letter to his own mother!
In our Scientific Marriage Foundation, we also find that men don't want to be introduced to women who are more than 200 miles away! Why?

And they are due to the usual wife's indifference, evasiveness and rebuff of her mate in the boudoir.
When I point out the basic medical facts that a wife is much less erotic than her husband and that the usual male craves a harem, the smart wife then feigns ardor three times out of four and thus insures her happiness.

"In fact, several of the women have written indignant letters to our editor, demanding that your column be dropped."
"The wives say you always pick on the women and defend the men. But why don't any men come to your defense, if that is true?"

My case that day is thus a duplicate of their own family problem.
Most wives try to bolster their ego by claiming to be 100 per cent innocent of any cause for their mate's philandering.

But the lazy wife acts natural, which means "frigid," as per her husband's viewpoint.
So she drives him into developing an outside paramour.

Well, men routinely are sluggish about writing letters to anybody.
After they get married, they even expect their wives to keep up the correspondence to the husband's mother.

Yet I show that they are usually 50 per cent to blame due to their sins of omission. They don't like it at all!
For then they are robbed of their chance to evoke sympathy

But the lazy wife acts natural, which means "frigid," as per her husband's viewpoint.
So she drives him into developing an outside paramour.

Polly's Pointers

Clean as You Go

DEAR POLLY — My daughter is the wife of a missionary in Africa and does not always have time to clean up after her frequent untidiness before she has to go on to another project. I have tried to help her work out a way to make the job easier. She has a dishwasher, things are ready to go in it when the meal is over. If not, they are ready to wash, rinse and drain fast.

Any big kettle, bowl or awkward shaped pitcher quickly washed, dried and put on to another project. I have and pan is put to soak. If one has a dishwasher, things are ready to go in it when the meal is over. If not, they are ready to wash, rinse and drain fast.

But you irate letters to the editor just prove the educational effectiveness of the daily newspaper.
Alas, then a lot of you pick on me! Why don't you blame God? For I didn't design the two sexes so the male has a much greater hunger both in the dining room as well as the bedroom!

Little Italian Garner's Racing's No. 1 Prize

Andretti Sets Speed Mark in Claiming Indy-500 Title

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti, who has been racing automobiles since he was 13 years old in Italy, never grew much bigger, but he found a great equalizer in the 500-mile race Friday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 5-foot-6 charger, twice U.S. Auto Club champion and never worse than second in the last four years, knows a couple of great craftsmen named Clint Brawner and Jim McGee in Phoenix, Ariz.

The Hawk-Ford put together by Brawner and McGee was running away Friday at the end of the world's richest auto race.

Just how much the 29-year-old Nazareth, Pa., driver won't be known until the traditional victory dinner tonight. The prize money, based on an undisclosed crowd, may give the winning car as much as $200,000.

TIRE CHANGE

Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., won more than $177,000 for victory last year. He did a colossal job of driving a Lola-Offenhauser to third place Friday after having to change seven tires and make two additional pit stops besides the mandatory three.

Andretti's tires went all the way, to the unbowed joy of a veteran U.S. race tire builder, and he made only three quick stops for fuel.

Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., who builds the All American Eagle-Ford, put one of his stock-block creations into second place for the second time in two years.

Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., perennial U.S. midget car racing champion despite the loss of part of one hand in a racing wreck, finished fourth in a Gerhard-Offenhauser and was the last driver to go the full 200 laps.

EXTRA STOPS

A.J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., three-time winner of the 500, was the fastest qualifier and rated the man to beat. But, like Unser, he had to make two extra stops to fix an ailing waste gate and to rebuild his turbocharger.

Only sheer determination gave Foyt an eighth place finish back of Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., fifth in an Eagle-Ford; rookie Peter Revson, New York, sixth in a Brabham-Repc; and rookie Mark Donohue, Media, Pa., seventh in a Lola-Offenhauser.

Only 12 cars were on the track at the finish after a race marked by a rash of mechanical failures.

One of the saddest mishaps in the race, which was run without any injuries, took Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., out of the race when he looked like a potential winner.

On the 166th lap, he refueled, thought he heard his crew disconnect the fuel hose, and roared out of the pit. The hose was still connected and it ripped out the connection. There was no way for him to refuel after that and he ended up an unofficial 20th.

AILING MAGNETO

Donohue, U.S. road racing champion the last two years, drove a magnificent race in his first Indianapolis appearance. But he was held back by an extra pit stop to replace an ailing magneto. It cost him more than 10½ minutes.

Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., who still holds the Speedway qualifying record for a now-outlawed turbine, was among the contenders in his Eagle-Ford until he had to stop more than six minutes to fix a hole in his radiator.

Only four drivers led the race — Andretti, Foyt, Wally Dallenbach in an Eagle-Offenhauser and Ruby.

When Ruby had his pit misfortune, Andretti went ahead to stay with 94 laps or 235 miles to go.

The little Italian set a new record of 156.867 miles per hour for the event, even though he wasn't pressed in the latter stages of the race. Part of the high speed, smashing Bobby Unser's mark of 152.882 last year, was due to the fact that the caution light was on only 14 minutes.

Nobody was hurt in two accidents, a spectacular fire in the car of Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex., on the main straightaway and a broken half-shaft which hurled Arnie Knepper, Belleville, Ill., into the northwest corner retaining wall.

Drivers halted by mechanical troubles included Lee Roy Yarborough, Columbia, N.C., who has won three major NASCAs races this year.

SPEEDWAY CHART

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Here is the unofficial chart of the 500-mile race, which was run Friday, subject to change Saturday after timing.

1. Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., No. 2, Hawk-Ford, 156.867 m.p.h. (Old record 152.882 m.p.h. by Bobby Unser in 1968).

2. Dan Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif., No. 48, Eagle-Ford stockblock Ford, 155.233 m.p.h.

MOMENT OF GLORY—Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., with a garland of flowers around his neck and accompanied by his wife, smiles and waves to the crowd after winning the Indianapolis 500 yesterday in record time. Andretti raced around the course in a turbocharged Ford at a speed of 156.867 miles an hour.

Piston Trouble Halts Johncock

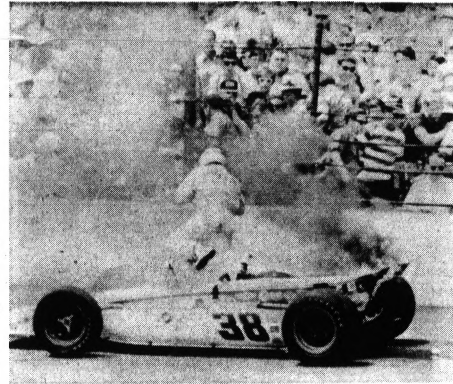

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Until he suffered a broken piston in the Gilmore Special turbocharged Offy, Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mich., looked like he might well finish high up among the leaders in the Memorial Day 500-Mile race.

Johncock was one of two Michigan drivers entered in the 53rd annual classic and was in the eighth spot after 350 miles (140 laps). Two laps later, his car suffered a broken piston and was forced out of the race.

The car, owned by Gilmore Broadcasting of Kalamazoo, was officially listed as the 19th finisher.

The Weinberger Homes Special driven by Ronnie Bucknum of La Canada, Calif., went out after 16 laps with a burned piston.

Sam Sessions of Nashville, Mich., driving the Valvoline Special Offy, was flagged off at the finish. He was in the 12th and last car still running when Mario Andretti won the race.

HASTY EXIT—Jim McElreath of Arlington, Tex., leaps from his burning racer on the homestretch at the Indianapolis Speedway during the 500-mile race yesterday. McElreath escaped injury when his turbocharged Offenhauser went out of the race on the 25th lap.

Long Wait Ends for Controversial Granatelli

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — At last, Andy Granatelli got his revenge Friday. He loved it.

Granatelli, a pudgy rebel, won the rich and famed Indianapolis 500-mile classic with little Mario Andretti at the wheel of his conventional racer just a year after the officials banned his controversial turbocar by changing the rules.

Twice, with victory in sight, his turbines had slowed to a stop while leading the 1967 and 1968 races. This time, Granatelli stood in front of the pits and said he counted "every minute, every second" until Andretti took the winning flag far in front.

BALING WIRE

After 23 years of trying, after patching cars together with baling wire, after hitting the wall in a spectacular crash as a driver, after setting speed records with his swift, silent turbines only to lose at the rules table, Granatelli had won.

With arms opened wide, he met Andretti in victory lane. He kissed him—no, not three times. He lifted the 5-foot-5 driver by his shoulders and carried him piggyback to the pace car for a triumphant ride around the track that had haunted him for so long.

"I always believed I would win here," Granatelli said. "I just didn't know when."

The thick roll of $500 bills in the pocket of the Northbrook, Ill., executive who heads the STP Oil Treatment firm, was a measure of how far Granatelli has come since he first took on the Indianapolis 1500 and began his long string of defeats.

That year he and his brothers were so poor they tied a pair of headlights onto their battered race car to drive it down from Chicago on the highways.

In 1948, Granatelli tried to qualify as a driver. On the last lap of the trials he blew a tire and hit the wall. He broke both shoulders and lost 11 teeth.

But one of the brothers' five cars made the starting field. When the traditional cry went up, "Gentlemen, start your engines," guess whose car couldn't start.

Tigers Win Despite Effort by Ex-Bengal

SEATTLE (AP) — Wayne Comer's American League baseball market Friday even as Seattle Pilot stock sagged under a Detroit bombardment that earned the world champs an 8-5 victory over the upstart expansion club which hasn't lost a series in its last seven tries.

The teams meet again today in a nationally televised game.

A former Detroit chatter picked up in the expansion draft, Comer hit safely in all four of his trips to the plate and one poke was among five home runs recorded during the afternoon.

Track Title Goes to Brother Rice

The Warriors of Birmingham Brother Rice picked off three first places en route to victory yesterday in the Detroit Catholic League track championships at Henry Ford High School.

The Warriors, who went through the league dual season with a 5-0 record, piled up 49 points to claim the title with East Catholic second at 38. Defending champion University of Detroit High was well off the pace.

Hurdler Dan Kurkowski net the pde for the Warriors by taking the highs in a league record time of 14.5 seconds. He also placed second in the lows.

Don MacAloon won the high jump with a leap of 6-feet-11 inch and Chuck Hotaling claimed the two-mile title with a 9:53.8 clocking.

Ed Naughton and John Fontanesi placed two-three in the shot put and Lou Ciavarella picked up second place points in the 440-yard dash.

Two Records Cracked in AAU Track Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Laird of the New York Athletic Club cracked the American records for the three-mile and 5,000-meter walk Friday at the Southern Pacific AAU district track and field championships.

Laird, competing as a guest, walked three miles in 20 minutes 49.2 seconds, breaking the old mark of 21:03.8 set by Laird on July 1, 1966 in Santa Monica, Calif.

The New York walker then continued on to win the 5,000-meter race in 21:33.8, breaking his own record of 21:49.8 set on the same day as his old three-mile mark.

Minnesota '9' Ousted in NCAA Playoff Tilt

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Barry O'Sullivan knocked in his 48th run of the year with a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the eleventh to pace fourth-ranked Southern Illinois by second-ranked Minnesota 4-3 in District 4 NCAA baseball action Friday night.

The win sent Southern Illinois into today's 1:30 p.m. game.

Minnesota lost to Ball State of Indiana 4-1 in a game later Friday night giving Ball State the right to meet the Salukis today.

Memorial Day Means Fun at Jaycee Park

Tournament Games, Rec Facilities Attract Crowd

Memorial Day each year brings a special festive air to Pontiac's Jaycee Park at the corner of Walton and Joslyn on the northeast side of town.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and The Press cosponsor a popular Invitational High School Baseball Tournament with Central and Northern high schools serving as cohosts.

The competition attracts 16 of the finest prep teams from around Oakland County, most of whom play their opening game on the holiday.

With the special extensive recreation and picnicking facilities at the spacious park it is natural for it to attract a large crowd if the weather is at all encouraging.

BUSY DAY

Yesterday was one of the finest Memorial Days in several years and Jaycee Park accordingly was bustling with activity.

A dozen high school teams competed between noon and 10 p.m. and their followers, plus numerous other city residents with no interest in the tournament, utilized the park's facilities.

Little children played on the swings, slides and climbing apparatus. Older youngsters and adults pitched horseshoes or played shuffleboard or bounced balls against the special wall erected for that purpose.

Barbecue pits emitted a tantalizing aroma and the picnic tables were crowded. A steady line frequented the to early evening when a sudden cool motorized concession stand from midday breeze discouraged many of the lightly clothed.

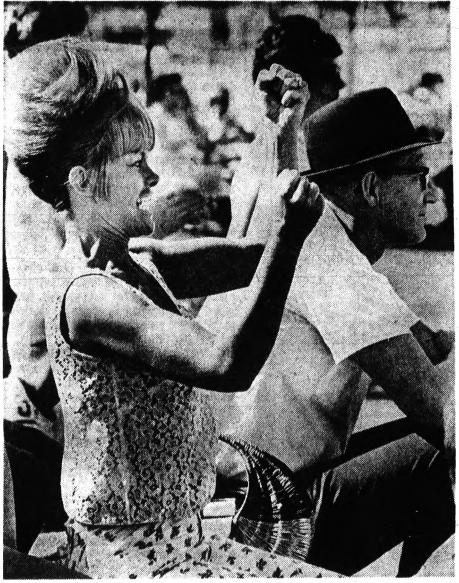

Portable radios reported on the progress of the Indianapolis 500-Mile Auto Race, or the Detroit Tigers' triumph in Seattle, or serenaded the listeners with popular music. Frequently the public address system in the press box at the lighted diamond blared the current status of the ball games in progress.

OFF THE ROADS

The struggles of many Michigan motorists traveling the crowded highways up north were far removed from the minds of those in the park. And they were a lot safer, too.

The holiday has passed, but a similar scene is anticipated again today and on a reduced scale tomorrow when the city Class A League takes over the diamonds and with a continued break from the weatherman.

While tournament officials charge 50 cents (student) and $1 (adult) admission to the high school games, there is no charge for those desiring to use the picnic grounds or for Sunday's men's league games.

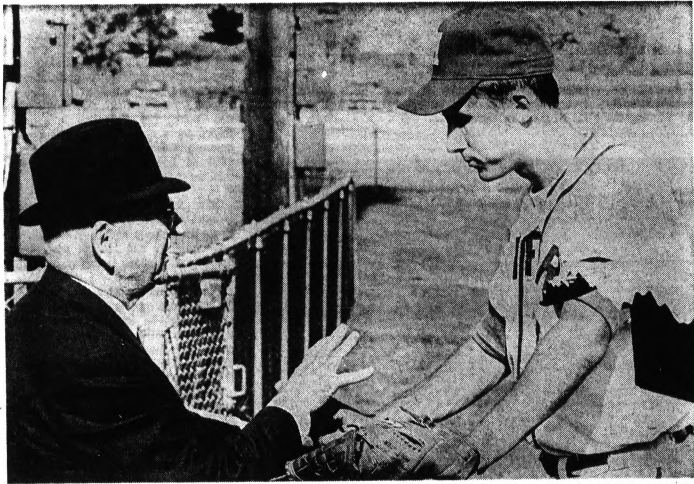

'LET'S POUND THEM, FELLAS!'—Mrs. James W. Green, 3496 Challice, is quite emphatic in her support of Waterford Mott's Corsairs as they threaten to pull out a victory with a late rally against favored Hazel Park. A robust sun tan only adds to her enthusiasm but her energy hasn't inspired her dour neighbor, yet.

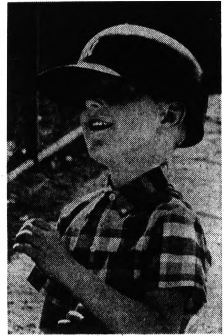

BALM FOR THE BLUES—Her brother's team is losing so teen-ager Barb McNair of the Waterford Mott cheering section swallows her disappointment with some cotton candy.

'HAVE YOU READ THE RULE BOOK?'—Mary Kathleen Weinburger of New Hudson may not have seen much baseball in her 16 months of life, but she already seems to have an uncomplicated glare for the umpire as she watches her favorites, the Wildcats of Novi, suffer a defeat at the hands of Waterford Township.

ADVICE FROM A PRO—Major league scouts frequent the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament and they always are ready to give advice to young ball players. Milford's Mark Giegler listens while veteran Detroit Tiger scout Pat Dery talks hitting. The star shortstop then proceeded to clout a triple, two doubles and a single in the Redskins' 7-0 conquest of Clawson.

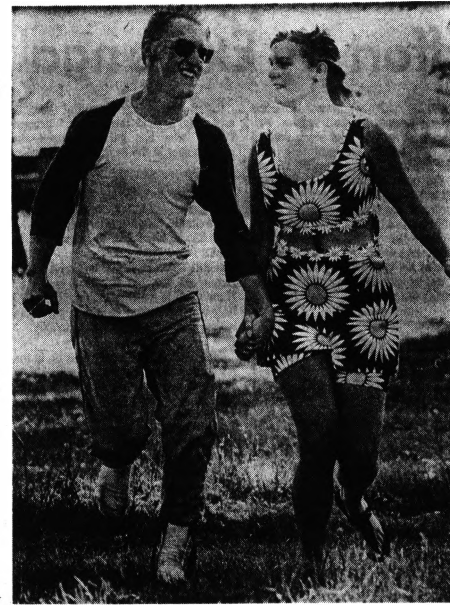

ROOM TO GROW—Mark Gadzinski, age 7, laughs at the poor fit of the helmet he wears while serving as the bat boy for Hazel Park High School.

Opening Date Nears for Junior Baseball

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will have its final managers' meetings for junior baseball Monday night in the personnel office conference room at City Hall.

All Class F, Widget and T-Ball representatives should convene at 7 p.m. The Class D and E gathering will be 8 p.m.

Practice games are planned the first week after school is out for the summer in town. Those teams represented Monday will be assured at least one practice game that week.

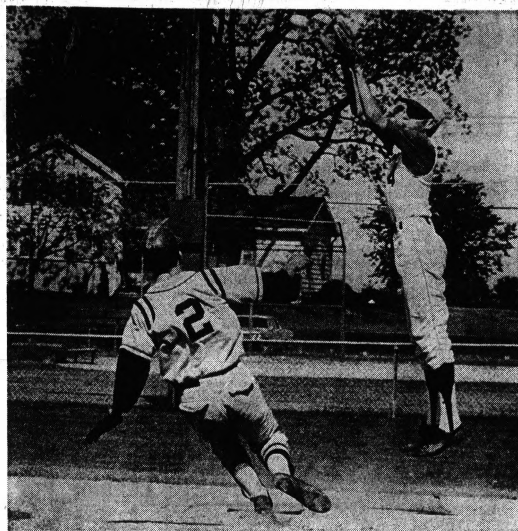

POST-GAME FROLIC—Waterford Township pitcher Pete Taylor wasn't needed in the Skippers' 6-0 victory so he had plenty of energy for romping through the park with a special friend, Jenny Greene of Pontiac after the triumph. The 17-year-olds seem quite happy to be out of the hot afternoon sun.

SHUFFLEBOARD'S FOR THE MEN—While the boys are cavorting in the hot sun on the baseball diamonds at Jaycee Park, Jim Garcia (left) and Andres Benavidez, both Pontiac residents, prefer a cool game of shuffleboard. Jose Garcia, age

DELUXE SERVICE—One nice thing about brothers, they're strong. An unidentified young girl's plight at the concession stand was quickly overcome when her brother injected his sturdy right shoulder into the problem. When the temperature nudges into the 80s, a cold drink is a must in the park.

PILFERS SECOND BASE—Novi second sacker Gary Boyer leads to haul down high throw from catcher Jon Van Wagner when Waterford Township's Mike Sheldon (2) stole second base in the third inning yesterday.

during the Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament at Jaycee Park. Sheldon came home on Al Smith's single for the Skippers' first run in a 6-0 victory.

Milford Bombs; PNH Slips Past Kimball

Giegler Shines at Plate in Redskins' 7-0 Verdict

By JERRY CRAIG

Milford's one-two punch of Mark Giegler's hitting and Rick Sharpe's pitching bounced 1968 Pontiac Invitational Tournament runner-up Clawson out in the 1969 first round yesterday, 7-0.

Giegler cracked a triple, two doubles and a home run to drive in four runs and he scored another. The hulking Sharpe stopped the Trojans on five hits and struck out nine.

The victory sends the Redskins into today's quarter-final competition against opening night surprise winner Birmingham Groves at 7:30 p.m.

In the other phase of the tournament's lower bracket, Waterford Township made Nov 23rd victim of the season, 6-0, and Hazel Park eliminated Waterford Mott in its initial appearance, 2-1, and the two winners clash at 2:30 p.m. today. The four squads are contending for a berth in Tuesday's 7:30 p.m. semifinal contest. Milford, now 17-2 and champion of the Wayne-Oakland League, took a fast run at Clawson, the Oakland A League runner-up and now 12-9 over-all.

ROUGH START

Left-hander Larry Neidowicz, an All-County second team selection last year, hit the first man and yielded a single to Larry Vick. Giegler then drove a shot against the left field fence for three bases and two RBIs.

He stayed put for two outs, then came home on Pat Reed's two-bagger. Matt Partridge singled in Reed for a 4-0 margin before Sharpe ever had to go to the mound.

Giegler's liner with two out in the second went for a run-scoring double that finished Neidowicz's fine high school pitching career. Dave Frezza, the Trojans' other 1968 All-County pitching choice, came in and kept Milford's Redskins subdued for four innings.

But Sharpe was just as strong. Frezza singled in the third but was picked off by catcher Vick's quick throw to first, and Clawson's next 12 batters went down in order.

Giegler doubled again in the fifth but was stranded, and his bounce in the sixth took a high pop over the Trojans' second sacker for an RBI single. Vick moved his third run on the play and scored his third run of the day when Frezza wild pitched.

Waterford and Novi dueled four and a half innings before the favored Skippers broke loose and expanded a narrow 1-0 gained on Al Smith's two-out single in the third.

In the fifth, WTHS produced four runs to give Bruce Carlson all the cushion he needed. Steve Goit's lead-off single and Terry Crawford's safety one out later started the spree.

A walk and Denny Alvis sacrifice fly were followed by Brad Potter's squeeze bunt and an error on the play for two more runs. Carlson capped the outburst with a long triple.

The ruggedly built right-hander held the youthful Wildcats (10-6) to five singles and offset his five free passes with nine strikeouts. Rival moundsman Lee Snow had two of the five hits. The Skippers also played error-free ball.

Carlson's triple was the only extra-base hit in the contest, and teammates Mike Sheldon and Goit each had two safeties.

Mott (13-6) lost a toughie when it couldn't sustain any attack against hard-throwing Hazel Park left-hander Mike Souchak, who also is the current Michigan Section I champion, and Michigan Open champion John Molenda of Knappwood, who shared the low score in the recent local qualifying round with touring REACHES IN VAIN—Catcher Bill Miller of Clawson stretches for a high pop foul behind home plate Friday during the Trojans' Pontiac Prep tourney clash with Milford. The ball deflected off Miller's glove for an error, but it didn't prove damaging to Clawson although it lost a 7-0 verdict.

Winners Enter Quarter-Finals of Invitational

Kettering Drops 15-7 Decision to Oak Park; Rochester Wins, 11-5

Pontiac Northern, Rochester and Oak Park struggled to triumph Friday as the eighth annual Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament at Jaycee Park concluded its opening round of play.

All three move into quarter-final action this afternoon. Rochester needed two five-run outbursts to eliminate Birmingham Brother Rice, 11-5, while Oak Park equalled the tourney one-game hitting record by smacking 15 safeties off Kettering's tired hit crew for a 15-7 decision.

Oak Park Redskins and the Falcons collide at noon today for a berth in the semifinals.

Northern, meanwhile, outduelled former two-time champion Royal Oak Kimball, 5-3, to record the 100th victory in the school's diamond history and also the career of coach Arnie Wilson.

Wilson sent 1968 tourney most valuable player Rob Clancy to the mound and he hurled one-hit ball for three innings. After the Huskies erupted for five runs against a shaky ROK defense, Clancy switched places with center fielder Roger Holland.

STARTER RETURNS The left-handed reliever was touched for an unearned marker from the fourth, and was driven from the hill in the fifth by Bud Hurst's one-out run-scoring single. Clancy returned less effective.

An infeld out added another run, but the Northern mound then walked the bases filled. He whiffed pinchhitter Jeff Scott on a curve to prevent a tying run.

After that Kimball's Knights (7-8) could manage only solitary singles in the sixth and seventh. Clancy finished with 11 strikeouts for the night.

Northern's big inning started when a Kimball outfielder lost Andre McPhail's fly ball in the lights and it went for a two-bagger. Lonnie Harold's sacrifice bunt was thrown away, leaving in the first run.

After two strikeouts, Larry Clancy ripped a double to left for the second run. Kimball starter Doug Barnes then lost his control and walked two men before yielding a bases-loaded single to Jerry Reddeman.

Greg Stone came in to relieve Barnes and wild pitched in the final inning. Kimball's Southfield at 5 p.m. today.

The conquest is Northern's 12th in 17 games. Both teams had four safeties, though ROK's nimble shortstop, Bill Turkington, a sophomore, deprived Pontiac of several potential errors with a fine display of fielding.

ERRORLESS Oak Park threw up an errorless defense against Kettering, who was playing its fourth game in five days, and backed its pitchers with a robust plate attack.

The Redskins' 15 safeties, including two singles and a triple by All-County outfield candidate Dave Wiener who drove in five runs, matches the tournament record set by Romeo in 1964 against Bloomfield Hills.

They fell short of the one-game run total, however, which was Pontiac's Cardinals' 21 in 1966. In the game the Chiefs' Rick Farms drove in a record seven runs.

Wiener's first of five RBIs yesterday came in the third inning. He singled to tie the game, 3-3.

After teammate Leon Weiss had pitched in the second round for Oak Park, now 15-2.

WKHS (13-9) took a 3-1 lead in the first despite getting only one hit, a single by Bob Earl that loaded the bases with none out.

Oak Park broke the game open with four runs in the fourth and five more in the fifth. Wiener again was the culture, drilling a bases-loaded three-bagger and continuing home when the relay was thrown away in the fourth.

The Redskins amassed five straight singles in the fifth and Wiener capped the rally with a sixth one to plate the last run.

Fliers Set to Try to Tranquilize Hurricanes

MIAMI (AP) — This could be the year when man makes his first major assault on a hurricane—a daring, hopeful effort to drain some of the man-killing energy from the terror of the tropics.

The hurricane season opens Sunday, but weather patterns indicate a long wait for the first big blow to come howling across tropical seas.

"The Atlantic Ocean is completely covered with anticyclonic conditions," said Arnold Suggs, deputy director of the Miami Hurricane Center. "We have spotted only three tropical depressions this year. All over the tropics, pressures are normal and holding steady."

Conditions this year are directly opposite to those at the start of the 1968 season, when low pressures and a mass of warm, moist air over the western Caribbean spawned two hurricanes and a tropical storm in June.

EARLY WARNING

With photographic satellites providing a constant view of the tropics from space, a special hurricane watch begins Sunday and extends through November. Aiding the Weather Bureau are reconnaissance fliers of the Navy and Air Force and the communications experts of the Federal Aviation Agency.

If a hurricane moves into a prescribed area, pilots of Operation Stormfury will hit it with massive barrages of silver iodide crystals to try to tame it.

Dr. Cecil Gentry, Stormfury director, said the planes will not be launched unless the hurricane is well away from land and at the same time within easy aircraft range of the main base at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico.

"When a hurricane is close to land, the threat is too great. The idea is to weaken the hurricane as it approaches land."

POPULATED AREA OUT

A psychological factor also rules out any tampering with storms near populated areas. If a storm were seeded, then roared ashore to cause extensive damage, an angry public might blame the scientists.

Forecasters must guarantee that a storm will remain 50 miles from land for 24 hours before the aerial attacks is made. This leaves the pilots little opportunity to function in the landlocked Gulf of Mexico, or in the Caribbean Sea with its many islands.

This leaves the tropical Atlantic as the best bet, somewhere in a 600-mile range of Roosevelt Roads. The attack will involve five seedings in an eight-hour period. Then the pilots must remain in the storm for hours collecting data to evaluate the effect on the hurricane.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the Hurricane Center and creator of Stormfury, believes the chances are 50-50 "that we will find something useful can be done to a hurricane."

"I think we will downgrade it in a fashion that will not eliminate it, but will limit the damage it does," he said.

Universal Mystery

Federal Phenomena

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mysteries of the universe are sometimes solved by logic rather than actual discovery.

Theoreticians will reason that something as yet undetected must exist because its existence is the only way to explain certain observable phenomena.

This reasoning process also can be applied to governmental matters, as I shall now demonstrate. Let us begin by considering five observable phenomena:

1. Some years ago Congress decided that as a matter of policy, federal pay scales should be comparable to wages paid in private business and industry.

2. Federal pay increases traditionally are rationalized as being necessary to attract competent employees and keep those already on the payroll from taking higher-paying jobs outside the government.

3. A recent study showed that the average income in Washington is more than $14,000 a year, highest of any American city.

4. Much of the income here comes from the federal payroll. It therefore would appear that in carrying out the equality policy, Congress has perpetuated an overkill.

5. Nevertheless, there is now pending in Congress a bill that would make government employment more enticing by liberalizing federal retirement benefits.

RECONCILIATION

Now, how does one reconcile or explain these phenomena? Well, using the reasoning process mentioned above, I have arrived at the following theoretical conclusion:

Somewhere in the vast bureaucracy there exists a worker named Sidney who actually could earn more on the outside. He is used as a yardstick for determining the entire governmental pay scale.

"Hey, Sidney is threatening to quit again," his boss reports to the Civil Service Commission.

Dream Is True for an Ex-Waif

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wah F. Chin will readily testify that America, as advertised, is a land of opportunity. But he also knows that it helps to have a lucky break and a special assist if you're going to translate the American Dream into reality.

Chin, 48, is president of a seafood processing firm with headquarters in New York and plants in Trinidad, Florida and Delaware.

But at the low point of the Depression in the United States, he was a poor, lonely immigrant youngster, living with his father when he could, and working and sleeping in restaurants and laundries when he couldn't.

Chin was handling a five-gallon container of tea one Saturday night at a Brooklyn restaurant when he slipped and the tea scalded his chest.

He remembers the reaction of the manager who watched his agony. "Stupid, you ruined my tea," he was told.

His injury was detected by a teacher and Chin, then 11 years old, was taken to a school nurse and then to the assistant principal's office. The administrator, a spinster named Bettina Hepburn Munro, took the youngster into her home.

GOOD EDUCATION

Under Miss Munro's guidance, Chin attended the Fieldston School, a private preparatory school in New York, and went on to Columbia University, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree.

Parks Vice President Quits

John L. Carey, charter member of the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission and its vice president, has resigned from the commission with a warning to remaining members to "watch for attempts to encroach on the powers delegated to the commission."

Carey claimed that the recreation program could "very easily become a political football if you let it." He says his successor to the commission was named prior to submission of his resignation.

The board of supervisors earlier this month, acting on recommendation of its committee on committees, had elected Mrs. Virginia Solberg, a Democrat and former Madison Heights councilwoman, to the commission.

Carey admitted he had previously told Supervisor Chairman Charles B. Edwards Jr. of his intention to resign "but I did not submit my resignation." Carey said he was resigning because of increased duties connected with his job as jury commissioner.

COMMENTS COMMISSION

Carey, a former Republican supervisor from Springfield Township, commended the commission for its land-acquisition program for county parks and followed it with a warning that an unidentified "they" will try to take your lands away and erode the parks and recreation commission authority.

The commission has purchased five major park areas since 1966. The commission has approved 0.25 of a mill a year for recreation in 1968. Kenneth L. VanNatta, parks and recreation director, also reported the commission had received "close to $1 million" in federal funds to help with the land buying.

A suggestion earlier this year before the board of supervisors public works committee that one of these sites might be used as a county landfill never passed the discussion stage.

VanNatta outlined preliminary plans for development of newly acquired Addison-Oaks Park in Addison Township. He traced ideas for an improved dam and 50-acre lake on the site, 40 acres to service private picnics, camping facilities for 2,000 to 3,000 units, a golf course and play and parking areas as well as a forest reserve.

The commission changed its regular meeting date to 9:30 a.m. the third Friday of each month.

Rookies Not Rum-Dums

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Ten rookie customs officers, making a practice search of a freighter in Auckland Harbor found 100 cases of rum.

The recruits, supervised by senior officers, had searched the upper decks and cabins before starting on the engineering.

"We were showing them where smugglers perhaps could hide contraband," said one of the officers. "We removed a manhole cover and there were the cases of rum in a piping duct."

Formosa Paper Raps SEATO

LONDON (AP) — The South-east Asia Treaty Organization didn't accomplish anything at its meeting last week, a Nationalist Chinese newspaper says.

The English-language China News, published in Taipei, said in an editorial: "Until President Nixon makes a final decision to scrap SEATO or recognize it, nothing will happen" because SEATO "has serious defects of both membership and performance."

The editorial pointed out that such countries as Nationalist China, South Korea, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore and Indonesia are not members of the organization, and that one member, the Philippines, prevented the persecution of Communists and other extremists and improved the rights of people picked up by the police.

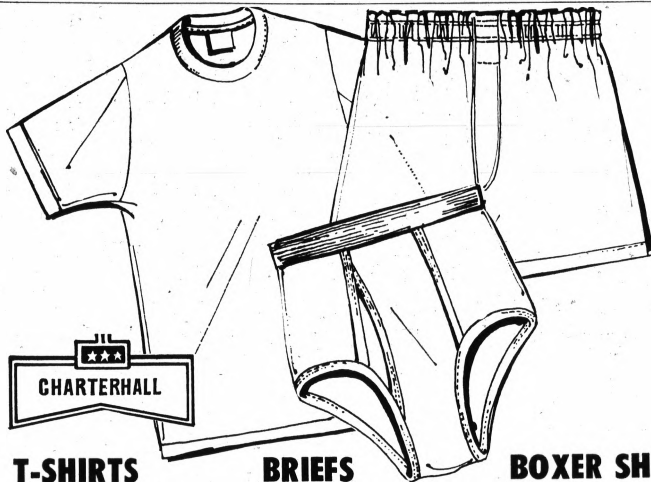

"Above all," the newspaper said, "Warren 'has given to the Negro' the same protection of the law as the white American has enjoyed since the days of George Washington."

Landmarks in Different Perspective ...

Just as daily activities often become so routine people do not notice or remember performing them, familiar landmarks often become such a fixed part of one's surroundings they too are not noticed.

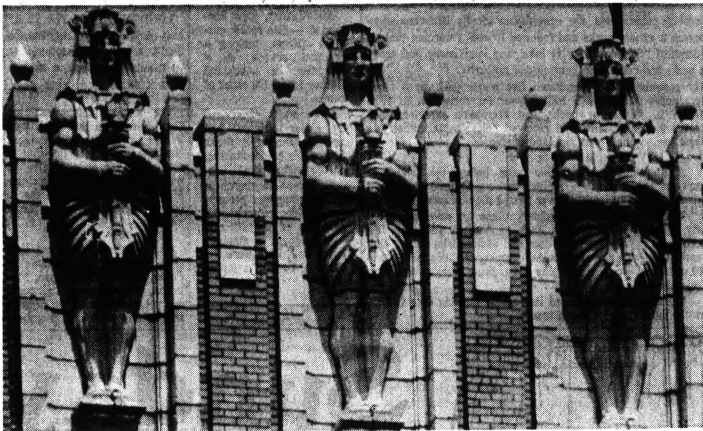

A beautifully ornamented statue or church steeple surely would be remembered if it were silhouetted against the quiet countryside of a new New England village.

But the same statue or steeple often loses part of its splendor when it is planted in the busy surroundings of urban America.

The roving lens of Pontiac Press photographer Eddie Vanderworp has singled out some familiar area landmarks that may be unrecognizable to readers when removed from their context and daily routine.

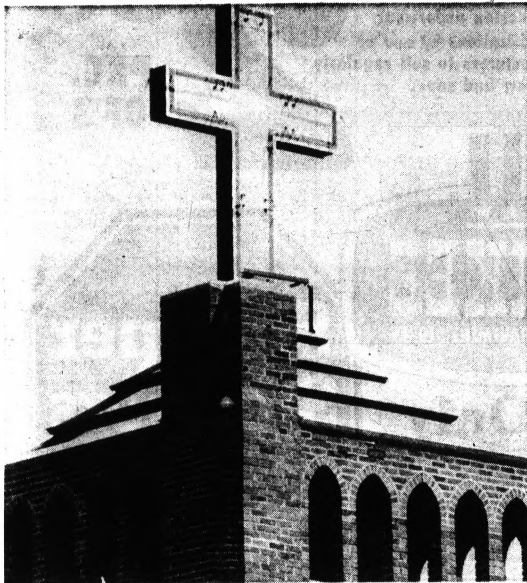

Try the photo-quiz and see how you do at identifying landmarks, some of which you probably pass every day. Then see if you don't agree that even the most familiar sight can be perplexingly unidentifiable. Answers are at the bottom of the page.

U.S. Paper Work Irks State School Board

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Board of Education has complained to the federal government that it imposes too much "burdensome paper work" on the state in aid programs.

Federal standards also are too restrictive, the board said in a resolution directed to the U.S. commissioner of education. The board cited some vocational education amendments which took up 35 printed pages, 50 pages of guidelines and another 142 pages of rules and regulations.

The board said it was required to send more than 100 mimeographed pages in response.

REQUESTS

The education commissioner was asked to:

- Confine federal guidelines, rules and regulations to the basic statutory requirements.
- Allow states maximum flexibility in developing programs and projects using federal money.

The board, repeating former objections, expressed concern about legislative cuts in the Education Department budget for the next fiscal year.

Board members endorsed the idea of providing maritime training through a maritime academy at Northwestern Michigan College.

They asked, however, for more details on the project to determine the best method of financing and operating such a program.

Detroit Police Show They Know Ropes

DETROIT (AP) — Fourteen police officers heard the screams of the 67-year-old woman and minutes later recovered her stolen purse.

Anthony Neal, 18, of Detroit was in jail today after his apprehension by the Detroit Police Department's tug-of-war team. The team was working out an athletic field when they heard the screams and saw a man fleeing with a purse.

Sgt. James Brodie, a former college track star, led the chase.

Spreen to Say Sunday if He's Quitting

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Johannes Spreen, 1,700 new policemen and the commissioner's "Back Up Your Police" campaign for $1 million whether or not to quit his job as head of Detroit's 4,850-man police force.

Spreen said his decision would be made on the basis of his evaluation of how his 100-day Love-In program has worked. Indications are that it has not worked out to Spreen's expectations.

Officers Association has been department last July that he is considering calling it quits.

ROCKY 100 DAYS
"We have had a rocky 100 days," Spreen said after a Memorial Day service at police headquarters. "Not all has been done that we had hoped to do. Much remains to be done. There have been many steps forward, but we have fallen back several times."

Spreen's statement was the first public admission since he took over the reins of the

The former New York City police department inspector said that in addition to his own evaluation of the department's problems, he would consider his obligations to his family.

Spreen, although obviously discouraged, said there have been some accomplishments since he took over.

"But what is still required is love," Spreen added. "Love is still the answer to many things. This community needs care, consideration and compassion for others," the commission said.

Spreen was scheduled to make a live broadcast on WXYZ's "Spotlight" interview program at 1 p.m. tomorrow, but there was no indication what his message would be.

School Absence Costs Parents

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Caledonia husband and wife have been found guilty at a nonjury District Court trial here of permitting their children to miss school on a regular basis.

It was believed the first such conviction in Kent County within the past four years.

Robert and Maxine Sloan were charged under a state law which requires that parents regularly send their children between the ages of 6 and 16 to school.

District Judge Joseph B. White fined them $63.

Mrs. Dorothy Imnik of the Kent Intermediate School District testified that during the 1967-68 school year, the couple's 9-year-old boy missed 172 half-days. This year the youth has been absent 202 half-days, she added.

Mrs. Imnik also said the attendance records of the 10- and 14-year-old youths were serious, but not as poor as the young boy's.

SHARON MILLER

Top City Teen of Week Lives by Philosophy

"Don't put off today what you should have done yesterday" is the philosophy by which Teen of the Week Sharon Miller lives.

Sharon, a ninth grader at Madison Junior High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of 1172 Maurer.

She has maintained a B scholastic average while participating in many extracurricular activities. She is vice president of the Madison Student Council and a member of the cheerleading squad. She has qualified to be a junior varsity cheerleader at Northern High School next year.

In her leisure time, Sharon enjoys swimming, sewing, and watching both professional and amateur sports.

Sharon's plans for the future include a college education to become either a teacher or a secretary.

Two Arrests Protested by Press Group

The Inter American Press Association today protested the arrests of two more Brazilian newspapermen for their journalistic activities.

Following is the text of the cable sent to President Arthur da Costa e Silva of Brazil by the executive committee and Chairman Tom C. Harris of the Committee on Freedom of the Press:

"Reports that two more Brazilian newspapermen have been arrested by political police or the armed forces for their journalistic activities are most distressing to the Inter American Press Association. We consider these arrests as violations of freedom of the press.

TWO NAMED

"We refer to Cassiano Arruda Camara, managing editor of the newspaper Tribuna do Norte of Natal, who was accused of publishing material offensive to the armed forces; and to Mario de Assis Cordeiro, who was accused of inciting racial discrimination in his weekly newspaper 'A Voz de Minas' in the state of Minas Gerais.

"We would appreciate it if your office would investigate these arrests and take proper action to set free these and any other newspapermen arrested for purely journalistic activities. In the meantime, we read with pleasure that you have revoked the sentence that would have been working on a year-to-year basis for the past three newspapermen, Antonio Callado seasons, hence is under no contractual obligation to the studio while Miss Bain is."

Star Landau Won't Return to 'Mission'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Getting "Mission: Impossible" star Martin Landau and Paramount Television together on his salary demand has proved an impossible mission. Results:

• The onetime artist-cartoonist won't be back this fall on the adventure hour seen Sunday nights on CBS. Paramount TV announced Thursday.

• Landau's beautiful, green-eyed wife and costar, Barbara Bain, winner of two Emmy awards as a member of the show's sleuthing team, hasn't reported for work although she's under contract.

• Leonard Nimoy — he of the pointy ears on the "Star Trek" series canceled this spring — and Dina Merrill are playing corresponding but not identical roles on a two-part episode now filming for fall.

SALARY REPORTS

Trade papers have reported that Landau receives $7,000-$7,500 per episode and is asking $12,000. The papers have quoted Miss Bain as saying that if her husband didn't return to work, neither would she.

"Mission: Impossible," winner of numerous Emmy awards, is up for eight more, including nominations, for Landau and Miss Bain, at this year's presentations June 8. In its past three seasons the spy drama has been consistently in or near the top 10 shows in Nielsen audience surveys. It's syndicated in 69 foreign countries, with subtitles or dubbed voices in 15 languages.

Landau, dark-complexioned and Brooklyn-born, was a New York artist-cartoonist before turning to Broadway and movie acting. Miss Bain, a brown-haired Chicago native, was a New York high-fashion model. They met in an acting class, married and have two daughters aged 5 and 4.

Paramount TV said it and Landau's representatives "have been unable to come to terms on a new contract... Landau has prohibited two other agreements for the past three newspapermen, Antonio Callado seasons, hence is under no contractual obligation to the studio while Miss Bain is."

'Half-a-Bath' Is Useful in Home

Many new homes today offer the extra convenience of 1 1/2 or 2 1/2 bathrooms. But not everyone knows just what this "half-a-bath" is.

Half-a-bath usually is a bathroom without a tub, frequently called a "powder room."

"Because it contains only a water closet (toilet) and a lavatory, it requires far less space, often only half as much as a conventional bathroom — hence, the name."

But through the half-bath needs less space, it's long on convenience and everyday use. Frequently located on the ground floor of the home, it is ideally suited for guest use.

It's also the spot where the kids can wash before meals and mother can quickly freshen up before answering the door.

DOUBLE DUTY Here the children can wash and get ready for school in the morning while dad shaves in the bathroom.

Powder rooms are often a balm to family relationships, preventing lineups at the bathroom door, frayed nerves and tardiness.

It isn't always necessary to move to a new home for powder room convenience, since often one can be installed right in the present home.

A large closet, the end of a hallway, an old pantry, the space under a stairway — any such space is a good possibility for one. Qualified plumbing contractors are experts in locating the ideal place in any house.

Reflections

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES THE COLORS: The Continental Congress left no record to show why it chose red, white and blue as the colors for the flag. But, in 1782, the Congress of the Confederation chose these same colors for the newly designed Great Seal of the United States. Red for hardiness and courage, white for purity and innocence, and blue for vigilance, perseverance, and justice.

THE STRIPES in the flag stand for the thirteen original states. They have come from the flag of the Sons of Liberty, first flown in 1767. Their flag had five red and four white stripes.

THE STARS: Congress did not indicate in 1777 how many stars should appear in the flag. They were arranged in a circle. Some flag had all 13 stars in the circle. Others had 12 stars surrounding the 13th. The colonists probably began trying to number the stars in order to give each state a particular star. They usually counted them in the order the states joined the Union.

Ruling Upsets Detroit Law on Obscenity

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan Court of Appeals ruling which overturned the obscenity conviction of a Detroit man has also, in effect, wiped out the city ordinance under which Gary Grimshaw of Detroit was convicted in 1967.

Grimshaw was arrested after displaying in an artists' workshop a kite with a word generally considered obscene. The court ruled Grimshaw was convicted under an ordinance which prohibits free speech.

After the ruling announced Thursday, Detroit's legal experts began looking into the prospect of writing a new ordinance which will stand the test of constitutionality.

"What we have to do now is to study the Appeals Court opinion and to review our ordinance to see if we can't amend it to make it legal," said Robert D. McClellan, assistant corporation counsel for the city of Detroit. McClellan has prosecuted in the Grimshaw trial which resulted in a 15-day jail sentence, a $150 fine and a year on probation.

The appeals court threw out the conviction citing rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court and the Michigan Supreme Court which make it mandatory that defendants know the contents of the allegedly obscene material. The Michigan Supreme Court in voided a state obscenity law on similar grounds.

Former State Chief Justice Leland W. Carr Dead at 85

LANSING (UPI) — Former Michigan Chief Justice Leland W. Carr, never a loser in a judicial election, died on Memorial Day at his home on a short walk from the Michigan Capitol. He was 85.

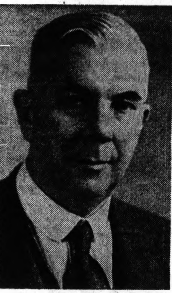

A native of Livingston County, where he was born on a farm between Stockbridge and Pinckney, Carr spent 50 years in public service before retiring from the bench in December 1963.

First appointed to the Michigan Supreme Court in 1945 by then-Gov. Harry Kelly, Carr was reelected twice but was forbidden to run a third time because of a constitutional provision which prohibits persons over 70 from being appointed or elected to the state's highest court.

A graduate of the University of Michigan law school in 1906, Carr practiced law in Ionia until he was appointed an assistant attorney general in 1913. In 1921, he was elected to the Ingham County Circuit Court bench to which he was reelected four times before moving on to the Supreme Court.

One of his best-known acts in office was in connection with the Kincaid-Siegler in 1945. The two gained national attention in a bribery investigation into alleged bribery of elected officials in Michigan.

LELAND W. CARR

He was survived by his wife, Irene; a son, Leland W. Carr Jr.; three daughters; 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Services were scheduled for Monday at 1 p.m. at the Estes-Lendley Funeral Chapel with burial in Evergreen Cemetery.

One of the pet projects Carr had were the hopes that Michigan would eventually erect a special Supreme Court Building, a dream that is rapidly coming to fruition with the construction of the new Capitol complex.

'Stay-Put' Process New for Walnut

A revolutionary stabilization process for walnut and other hardwood furniture and accessories was announced recently by the Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture in Madison, Wis.

Shown for the first time at the International Furniture and Woodworking Supply Fair in Louisville, Sept. 14-18, 1968, was a solid table top made from walnut lumber and stabilized with a "stay-put" process (polyethylene glycol-1000).

Because this sample "butcher block" table treated three months prior to the fair, showed little or no weight change, no color change and was almost 100 per cent immovable and unaffected by temperature and humidity changes, the process was endorsed by the American Walnut Manufacturers' Association.

Lumber used in the demonstration table was "run of the log" grade. This construction and stabilizing process, according to the AWMA, not only represents maximum utilization of a prestige wood but is highly desirable for today's finer contemporary tastes.

persons — including 54 legislators — had been indicted on bribery and related charges. The action vaulted Siegler into the governor's office in 1946 for a two-year term and saw Carr elevated to the Supreme Court.

"The legal system is the basis of rights for all citizens," he related, shortly before his retirement. "It is scarcely conceivable any nation could exist without a definite system of law and legal procedure."

He observed that rapid changes in communications have aided the legal system because more people become familiar with the law.

The respected jurist died in the home he built in 1922, the year after he became an Ingham County Circuit judge. He used to walk the several blocks from the stucco house on Sycamore to the Capitol.

Funeral Is Monday for GI Killed in Viet

Requiem Mass for Pfc. Terrell Brown of 86 Carr will be said 10 a.m. Monday at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

The 18-year-old soldier was killed May 16 in Vietnam.

A Rosary will be said at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home.

Brown is survived by his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Carr.

Allied Forces in Viet Resume Operations

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of allied troops backed by tanks and bombers resumed operations across South Vietnam today at the end of cease-fires proclaimed by both the allied and the Communist commands in Buddha's birthday.

The only significant action reported in the U.S. Command's evening communique came at 7 a.m. Saigon time, an hour after the 24-hour allied cease-fire ended. American helicopter gunships spotted 14 enemy soldiers about 75 miles south of Da Nang and raked them with machine guns. Eleven were reported killed.

A dozen American battalions, size or larger ground operations and U.S. B2 strikes were underway again after the 24-hour halt in offensive operations.

Scores of South Vietnamese ground sweeps and smaller American patrols also were underway aimed at blunting any enemy summer campaign against allied bases.

TRADE ACCUSATIONS Each side accused the other of violating the cease-fires.

Institute of Arts Set to Open Wing

DETROIT (AP) — A newly renovated wing of the Detroit Institute of Arts will open again Tuesday featuring 17 galleries of American paintings and decorative art from colonial times to the 1930s.

The portion of the building is called the Robert H. Hudson Tunnahill Wing of American art in honor of the 76-year-old Grosse Pointe resident who is honorary curator of American art at the museum.

The U.S. Command said that during the 24-hour allied cease-fire there were 158 enemy-initiated incidents reported, of which 85 were considered significant or they resulted in allied or enemy casualties.

"U.S. casualties as a result of the 85 significant incidents reported during the temporary cessation of offensive operations for Buddha's birthday were 13 killed and 62 wounded," U.S. headquarters said. "Other friendly forces casualties were light. A total of 89 enemy soldiers were reported killed."

The U.S. Command summary included attacks on South Vietnamese units. An American spokesman said the command logged incidents only for the allied cease-fire.

The per-stay cost per patient in the nation's hospitals last year averaged $30. The average stay was 7.9 days.

THINK ABOUT IT!

UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Sentimentalist or not, if you ever saw or read the traditional service of the Shrine of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery on Memorial Day, you would have or see moist eyes, quivering lips, a tightening of the throat in reverent silence.

The story behind the story of the unknown soldier is drama without equal on any stage. It starts first with New York Congressman Hamilton Fish introducing a House joint resolution to have an unidentified, killed in action American soldier returned from France for reinterment at Arlington. The drama continues with Admiral Dewey's famous flagship Olympia commissioned to return the body to America with Marine Corps escort. In story book manner, the drama relates to the care with which anonymity was made certain. . . . How the selection was made. . . . How an ordinary American, a Chicago orphan, as a sergeant in France was chosen and ordered to walk into a room and place a bouquet of roses on one of four unidentified caskets. . . . Now Sergeant Yunker placed the bouquet and thus made a selection which he later described as God's choice.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is more than a symbol of sentiment. It is an American voice which gives thanks to the story of God that we Americans, can and do respect the unknown and the forgotten. . . . CAR FEVER IS CATCHING — As interested in the workings of the automobile as his American counterpart, Axel von Maltzahn, 17, (right) from Kiel, Germany, looks on as Wayne Brandon, 16, checks the oil level in his car's engine. The exchange student has been a guest of the Wallace Brandons of Wendover Street, Bloomfield Township, for the past year.

Axel Soon to Return to Germany

A year in the United States, sponsored by the International Christian Youth Exchange, is coming to an end for Axel von Maltzahn, 17, of Kiel, Germany.

"The time has gone much too fast," says Axel, which is indicative of his feelings about the months spent in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brandon of 2555 Wendover Street, Bloomfield Township.

Fluent in English when he arrived here, Axel's adjustment to American life was easy and swift, says Mrs. Brandon.

Axel has attended Lahser High School and will graduate with the Brandon's son, Wayne and his other 12th grade classmates. When he returns to his native city in July, however, he will reenter school to complete the 13th and final year of high school studies there.

Central United Methodist Church is the young man's local sponsoring agency. He will leave here June 27 and go to Philadelphia. He will then be assigned to work for three weeks in a photo program of the Youth Exchange organization before returning to his parents, the Egbert von Maltzahn and his two brothers and four sisters.

Set Seminary Committee Installation

Morris Karbal, well-known Detroit businessman and philanthropist, will be installed as chairman of the Detroit Committee for the Greater Seminary at a Standard City Club reception in his honor, set for 4:30 p.m. June 9.

The event is sponsored by the Detroit chapter of the Jewish Theological Seminary's National Patrons Society, an organization dedicated to support of the seminary.

The Jewish Theological Seminary is the central institution of learning for Conservative Judaism and is one of the world's leading citadels of Jewish scholarship. Its main campus is in New York City. Its west coast branch is the University of Judaism in Los Angeles. It also maintains the Schocken Institute and Library and the American Student Center in Jerusalem.

Karbal serves on its national board of overseers and is a charter member of its Patrons Society.

Karbal graduated from the Detroit College of Pharmacy, is a past president of the Association of Pharmaceutical Societies, and is head of National Wholesale Drug Co.

To Visit Missions

Leaving for Liberia

A party of 40 will depart for Monrovia, the capital city of Liberia, June 2, to spend three weeks in a program of missionary evangelism.

Among the group will be the Rev. Andrew L. Carney of 673 Linda Vista, who will lead singing and conduct services at some of the missions they will visit.

Rev. Carney is pastor of the East Side Church of Christ. He is a graduate of Southwestern Christian College in Terrell, Texas. He served as pastor of the church in Evansville for two years and another in Mount Clemens for four years before coming to his present post.

Another of the evangelists is Rev. Roosevelt Wells, former pastor of Hughes Street Church of Christ, who will preach at the services. The Hughes Street Church later relocated and is now called the Franklin Church of Christ. Rev. Wells is the initiator of the missionary program.

The rest of the group will engage in home visitations and other missionary activities. They will spend one day in Spain before returning home.

Evangelist John Allen Chalk is also among the group.

The accent will be on youth when Bishop Richard Enrich of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan visits St. Stephen's Parish on Adams Road tomorrow.

Ralph Moore, also of St. James, became a Mead board member in 1960. He was active in all phases of the work of establishing the home, especially public relations and fund raising. He served as treasurer until his retirement in 1966. With his wife, Louise, he was a generous contributor to the Mead and the chapel was named in their honor.

The theme of the Kathryn James Memorial Window is the Eucharist, with symbols referring to its significance in daily life. The service includes baptism, confirmation and the Eucharist, assisted by the clergy of St. Stephen's and Eugene Dimick.

Plans will be announced for a proposed ecumenical and interdenominational day vacation Bible school. Participating churches will include St. Stephen's, University Presbyterian Church, Macedonia Baptist Church and Newman AME Church.

Visitors of other denominations and faiths are welcome to attend the 7:30 p.m. service.

Waller will continue ministerial studies at Kilgore Junior College, Kilgore, Texas, this fall.

The young people of the congregation will teach in the Sunday school and take part in the morning worship service.

JERRY WALLER

Church Marks Youth Sunday

Tomorrow is Youth Day at Hillcrest Baptist Church. Jerry Waller, recently returned to civilian life after four years with the U.S. Air Force, most recently in Turkey, will preach at both morning and evening services.

Waller will continue ministerial studies at Kilgore Junior College, Kilgore, Texas, this fall.

The young people of the congregation will teach in the Sunday school and take part in the morning worship service.

Stakes Meet at Hills Center

Elder A. Theodore Tuttle, a member of the First Council of Seventy of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will speak at the Dearborn and Detroit Stakes conferences today and tomorrow.

The conference sessions will be held in the Detroit Stake Center, 425 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills.

Elder Tuttle, a former president of church missions to South America, now supervises work in the western states and with the Indians.

Don't let yourself be diverted from your duty until you have finished it—not even if a cannon goes off at your elbow.—Konrad Adenauer, former chancellor of West Germany.

Teen-Agers Receive Awards at Five Points and Marimont

Three area teen-agers will receive Wing Appointments, highest achievement award of the Pioneer Girls, in ceremonies tomorrow.

Ann O. McGoldrick, daughter of Mrs. Opel McGoldrick of 2139 Allerton Road, will receive two appointments, one as an explorer, which includes work in Bible, leadership, language and literature and home arts. Her other appointment is as a guide, which required additional Bible work, leadership as a junior guide working with young pioneer girls, and music.

She will receive her appointments at the 6:30 p.m. service at Five Points Community Church. Ann will graduate from Pontiac Northern High School in June. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

In services at Marimont Baptist Church tomorrow evening, Christine Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart of 2439 Winkelman, will be awarded wing explorer and wing guide appointments. She completed her Bible major, two majors in leadership, art major and outdoor life. Chris took the guide exam and worked with 5th and 6th grade pilgrim girls. She will graduate in June from Waterford Kettering High School.

Debbie Tabor has also completed all work required and will receive her Wing Explorer and Wing Guide awards. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Tabor of 183 W. Strathmore.

Debbie will graduate from Pontiac Northern High School in June and plans to attend Oakland University in the fall.

Assemblies of God Open New Areas

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI) — Substantial gains were made in 1968 by Assemblies of God foreign missions department, according to a report to the denomination's headquarters here.

Assemblies of God foreign missionaries currently under appointment total 939, of whom 85 joined the staff during 1968. An additional 100 candidates are preparing for foreign missionary approval.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HELPERS — Zigmund and Llewellyn Jones of 238 Rockwell, look over some literature for the Sunday school program at Bray Temple. Zigmund is school secretary; Llewellyn, assistant superintendent. The boys were brought up by their grandmother, Mrs. Titus Taylor. Pastor of the church is Rev. H. V. Grissom. Mrs. Fannie Potter is Sunday school superintendent.

Schoolcraft to Be Ordained

Rev. Roger Schoolcraft will his ordination, the new pastor be ordained in the Lutheran ministry at the 11 a.m. service at St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, on June 8. Following

Rev. Schoolcraft received his seminary at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He has received a call to serve St. John Lutheran Church, St. James, Mo. There he will also serve the Veteran's Soldier's Home, Boystown of Missouri and continue a radio ministry initiated by his predecessor.

Pastor Schoolcraft will travel abroad until he begins his ministry about Aug. 1.

Prayer for Peace

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
Where there is sadness, joy.
O Divine Master, let me not so much seek to be consoled, as to console;
to be understood, as to understand;
to be loved, as to love.
For it is in giving that we receive,
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned.
It is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

To Train Deacons

A new program of the Roman employee who now works in a Catholic church, studies leading electrical factory. A native of to ordination to the Permanent Detroit, he once studied for two deaconate, is being initiated at years in a Franciscan seminary. He will get a chance Permanent deacons will be to test his vocation and prepare entitled to perform many of the for his new ministry during two priestly offices with the ex-academic years of study and a ception of the Mass and con-pastoral internship.

Applications are still being accepted for this training which is scheduled to begin in September.

A 57-year-old father of seven from Bay City, Anthony F. Czarnecki, is the first man accepted into the program. Response has exceeded expectations and the original class of 12 will probably be expanded.

To date, all applicants are married and plan to bring their families to the area with them.

Studies will be designed on an individual basis to fit the varied backgrounds of the enrollees. Czarnecki is a retired postal

American Bible Society Gives Report

NEW YORK — A record total of 51,622,211 Scriptures were distributed throughout the United States by the American Bible Societies in 1968, a 17.5 per cent increase over the previous year.

The greatest percentage increase, according to the Rev. Dr. James Z. Nettinga, executive secretary of the ABS's National Distribution Department, was in donations of Scriptures to the armed forces, up 80.8 per cent over 1967, for a total of 2,153,015 Scriptures.

FOR BLIND
Scripture distribution to the blind through Braille editions, records and tapes resulted in a dramatic 35.6 per cent increase last year, for a total of 294,743 units, Dr. Nettinga said.

The overall total includes whole Bibles, New Testaments, Portions (one or more books of the Bible), and Selections (shorter passages of less than book length).

For 1969 the Society's distribution goal is 60,000,000 Scriptures for the United States.

20 Clergymen Learn by Doing

LONDON (AP) — Twenty trainee clergymen from various denominations have been getting to know the problems of London dockworkers by working with them and living in their homes. A spokesman for the South London Industrial Mission, an inter-church body which wants to improve relations between the church and industry, said: "Most student priests do not come from this walk of life and often it is the only contact they have with it until they go into an industrial parish. Even a short spell can do much to broaden their outlook."

Novi Firm to Take Back Most Wildcat Strikers

NOVI — Paragon Division of Portec Inc. has agreed to take back most of the wildcat strikers who walked out the three weeks ago.

More than 60 of the 94 strikers were told that they could return to work Monday if they wish.

The steel firm, 4400 Grand River, which hired most of the 94 under a federally financed program for hiring hard-core unemployed in Detroit's inner city, said it would agree to take the men back because their union interfered in their behalf.

The 84 had walked out over claims that there is no medical help on the night shift, when most of them work, and the contention that blacks hired under the federal program are kept in the plant's worst and most menial jobs even after their training is complete.

BALKS AT LEADERS
A company spokesman said the firm would recall more than 60 of the strikers, but added it would not take back the strike leaders.

The firm said most of the workers were "just going along" and that the union, Shopmen's Local 508 of the Iron Workers Union, had asked that all be reinstated.

But company spokesmen said they were uncertain whether the men would return. The strikers were to appear in Oakland County Circuit Court to show cause why an injunction should not be issued prohibiting their picketing.

There has been no picketing at Paragon since May 15, when a temporary injunction was issued.

The firm said it has had "no contact" with the office of U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., who had called for a U.S. Labor Department investigation of the dispute.

The firm did hear from the Labor Department, however, but would disclose no details.

The unbeaten world kite-height record is 31,955 feet, attained in 1921 by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Sharif Enjoys Domesticity Without Benefit of a Wife

By EARL WILSON

CANNES — Omar Sharif sat with his jacket on but his shoes off, his feet in his black socks resting on the coffee table, while he watched a soccer game on T.V. It was a picture of domesticity that several women have failed to trap him into. Patiently and brightly he answered all the silly questions.

"How do you like being thought of as a home-wrecker?"
"That I don't like!" He lit an American cigarette. There were light grey strands in his hair and mustache. "I don't think anybody's a home-wrecker. If it's a good home, you can't wreck it."

"But you seem to have given up on marriage."

"Not at all. But it gets tougher and tougher when you get older. My conception of life is to have a wife and family. And I think I'm made for marriage. I've been separated now for four years. I have a 12-year-old boy, Jarek, who goes to school in London... If the right girl came along..."

There are those who think Omar is too sophisticated ever to marry again, and the reported romances with all his leading ladies, the last one being Anouk Aimee, before she got engaged to Albert Finney, may mean nothing at all. It all came up because Anouk and Omar co-star in "The Appointment" — partly because Anouk was married to Pierre Barouh when they started the picture and wasn't when it opened.

But Omar would prefer discussing bridge.

"I guess I'm part of the first category players," he agreed. "The champions — they're usually very good at mathematics. I was marvelous at mathematics myself. My teachers wanted me to become a physicist. I was only interested in acting. Now."

"Bridge is my real pleasure. But that tournament here went very badly. We weren't even close."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP IN N. Y. . . .

Sammy Davis says he'll do only four cafe dates in '70 (first one at the Miami Beach Deauville Feb. 6)... Tiny Tim'll sing in Central Park June 27, and that could drive the muggers out.

Darryl Zanuck, who'll be given a dinner June 2 for his "Longest Day" film, gave an interviewer his philosophy: "To enjoy my work as much as I enjoy my pleasure."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "When you're right you can afford to keep your temper; when you're wrong, you can't afford to lose it."

EARL'S PEARLS: A banquet is sometimes just a plate of cold chicken and peas entirely surrounded by warm appeals for dough.

Comic Bob Melvin was approached by a man asking for a handout. "Are you sure?" asked Bob, "you won't use it for whiskey?" "Oh no," the man insisted, "this is for food. I already got money for whiskey..." That's earl, brother.

Pedestrian Toll 18 Pct.

ANN ARBOR — The pedestrian toll, however, the remaining 27 per cent were staying in traffic, accounts for 18 per cent of the nation's 30,000 plus traffic fatalities each year.

A report just published by the University of Michigan Highway Safety Research Institute reveals the characteristics of persons most involved and analyzes when, where, and how they get killed.

The report, by anatomy Prof. Donald F. Huelke, U-M accident investigator, shows pedestrian accidents most likely to occur at night in clear weather, under artificial light, and on a dry, straight, asphalt road.

But this is a statistical element. Numerous other such accidents occurred in broad daylight, at intersections, and on a variety of road surfaces.

STUDIED FATALITIES
Huelke studied 286 pedestrian fatalities in Detroit and a suburban Wayne County. He found that 37 per cent (106 victims) were crossing a street outside a crosswalk or in the middle of the block.

An additional 36 per cent (102) were crossing at intersections, however. The remaining 27 per cent were staying in traffic, accounts for 18 per cent of the nation's 30,000 plus traffic fatalities each year.

Alcohol was the single factor most commonly associated with victims. Medical examinations showed that of the 195 pedestrian victims over 12 years old who were tested for alcohol, 61 per cent had been drinking—and half of those showed over 10 per cent of alcohol in the blood, the federal standard for intoxication.

The health care industry is the nation's third-largest category of spending, behind food and construction.

Mrs. Troelsen Takes Time For Coffee Break In Dining Area

Custom Details Show Ingenuity in Troy Trilevel

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Custom touches reflect the creative ingenuity of the Donald V. Troelsens in their two-year-old trilevel located in Troy.

To coordinate the exterior's green-stained, rough-sawn cedar with the entrance, the Troelsens mounted two planks of the material on the front door, banding them in the same vertical line. Railroad ties define the simple foundation planting complementing the entrance.

The central foyer allows a smooth traffic pattern to all areas of the three-bedroom home, the formal living and dining rooms, the kitchen and family room, the study and the bedroom wing.

Warm beige draperies in the off-white living room are held in formal drape by bands of sable brown velvet. Repeating the brown velvet are twin button backs on either side of the room's oval end table. A chunky gold candle and ashtray dress the table's distressed walnut top.

PACE SETTER

On the side wall, a dark-stained fruitwood cabinet features glass-paned doors to display the family's collection of Danish Royal Copenhagen pieces.

"The Copenhagen pieces," said Mrs. Troelsen, "determined our decorating pace."

S. V. Drews, a Danish artist, painted the seascape hanging near the cabinet. The oil is done in shades of green and blue.

Red roses in a Royal Copenhagen vase center the round coffee table serving the off-white down sofa and the matching velvet button backs. Behind the sofa stands a narrow library table holding a royal blue ceramic lamp with a white silk shade trimmed in royal blue velvet and gold.

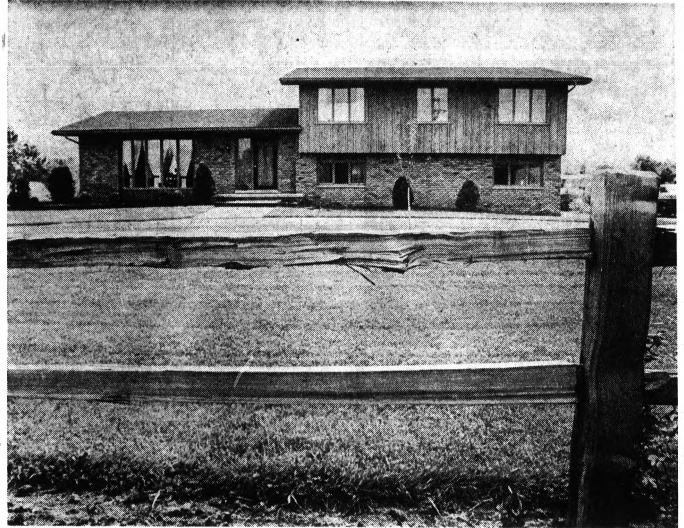

Dried hydrangea blossoms in a pewter pitcher adorn the oval fruitwood table in the adjoining dining room which follows the living room's background theme to add to the feeling of spaciousness.

Iridescent globes on the room's hanging fixture emphasize the theme's blue tones.

Swinging to the informal is the nearby kitchen and dining room balcony overlooking the persimmon paneled family room. The padded cornice board (in an aqua, blue and gray on white pattern) duplicates the wallpaper on the kitchen soffit.

Looped aqua carpeting and open-weave aqua draperies blend with the blue-green of the persimmon wood. Orange tones as accents are introduced by the Bert Fish water color hanging over the muted green sofa.

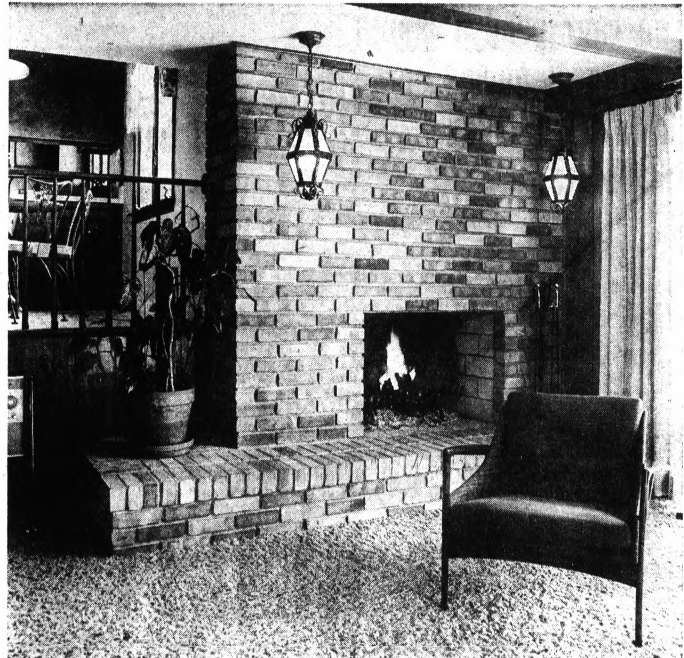

A shades-of-brown stripe chair with walnut arms stands before the raised hearth of the fireplace.

FLOOR PLANS: This very interesting traffic pattern is made possible by the unusual placement of the living room-dining room, set between the front and rear patios

Stop Spatters and Splashes

Spatters and splashes — they're pretty hard to avoid when painting outdoors. But you can minimize the damage they do.

First, protect your plants and lawn furniture with tarpaulin or plastic dropcloths. Next, protect yourself by wearing comfortable old clothes. As a final touch, rub protective cream on your hands and arms before you begin to paint.

That way, paint smears and splashes will wash off with soap and water when you're finished.

Colorful ceramic tile can be installed on outside walls in all climates.

And separating the kitchen, family room, laundry room and garage from the bedroom wing. See story and picture on Page C-4, Col. 3.

Stow-Fence Does 2 Jobs

This is the time for garden planning. First order of business should be to organize and relocate garden equipment in an accessible spot: the garage.

Build a tool shed there and you'll not only save time and temper, but you'll also be able to move the car back into the garage.

For many back yards, a superb solution is the storage fence, a structure that looks like a fence but opens up to reveal storage compartments for everything from flower pots to the power mower.

Most zoning ordinances will permit construction of a storage fence on the property line, an ideal location since it's completely accessible but away from main outdoor living areas.

STORAGE UNIT

And, on the property line, a storage unit also becomes a privacy screen, windbreak and traffic cop.

One storage fence, appropriately named the Stow-It-

Heat Your Pool for Longer Use

If your dream of a swimming pool in your back yard will be realized this summer, don't forget to include a heater.

It will almost double the swimming season for you, since you can use it earlier in the spring and later in the fall.

Grade Stamp Shows Value

Grade stamps on the framing Standard, and species by abbreviation. The stamp also may give stress value for use as a joist or rafter; thickness and whether kiln-dried.

Building codes specify the grades of lumber that must be used for floor joists, roof trusses, load-bearing walls and partitions.

And markings must show quality as good as, or better than, the codes require.

Building inspectors can tell you the grades required. If the grademark is that of an agency accredited under the American Lumber Standard, the called-for quality is guaranteed by the grading agency.

Each symbol on the stamp helps identify the lumber. Shown are the grading agency and the producing mill's number; the grade by number or name, such as No. 2 or

HOMEBUYER HINTS

1. Don't rely on verbal agreements, get it in writing and consult an attorney BEFORE you sign anything.

2. Have the home examined inside and out, by an impartial expert BEFORE you make an offer. (Some people need to have a house fall on them before they will take a hint.)

Our inspection requires 3 to 5 hours and covers a check-list of hundreds of items. You get a 15 to 17 page detailed report of our findings and advice. Service is expert, prompt and courteous. References available.

ACCENT—The armoire, which once served as a storage bin for a knight's armor, is now a scaled-down, sophisticated piece which has come to the rescue of damsels in distress. The distress signal in this case is for furniture which serves both functional and decorative needs. And the armoire does just that. Standing a shade under six feet tall and only 30 inches in width, the piece takes up little wall area but offers a large amount of storage space.

Hard Water Is Rough on Materials

Did you know that the life of your cottons, linens and other washables is reduced as much as one-third or more in hard water? It's true, according to a laundry study by the Chicago YMCA.

Here's how the Water Conditioning Foundation, a non-profit research organization, explains why hard water shortens fabric life: "When soap combines with hard water, it forms a gummy scale or curd that sticks to fabrics and cannot be rinsed away. This causes the graying of white fabrics and loss of brightness in colored ones. With repeated washings, the

FREE BOOKLET

Free booklets that discuss water conditioning equipment in how specific water problems its laboratories. Those that pass affect the homeowner and how tests successfully may carry the to solve them are available Foundation's "gold seal."

Prevent Fire in Your Home

Don't give fire a place to start! The safest homes are those in which fire prevention precautions are taken regularly. For instance: Get rid of rubbish — at least once a week.

Don't forget about the attic... and basement too. Unless they're kept free of papers, boxes and other combustibles, they're hazards to home and occupants, a breeding place for fire.

Keep stairs and halls free of clutter. Fire could easily start in these escape routes.

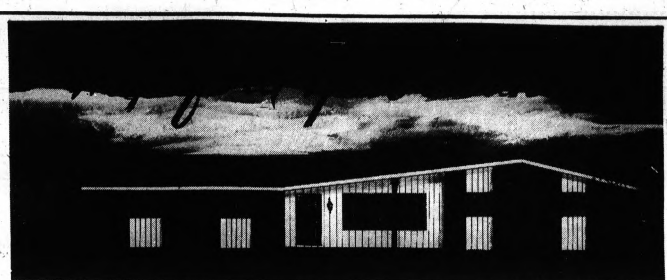

METAL CANS

Daily household trash should be kept in covered metal cans away from heat. Use fire-safe sider purchasing several rollers containers — galvanized steel — now available in various refuse cans with close-fitting sizes — for doing difficult covers.

Wall Painting Procedures

When painting walls, start at the upper left hand corner and work down using a brush or roller.

A small brush will come in handy for doing those hard-to-reach corners. Or you might want to con- sider purchasing several rollers containers — galvanized steel — now available in various refuse cans with close-fitting sizes — for doing difficult covers.

FRONT AND REAR PATIOS dominate the exterior design of this four-bedroom contemporary ranch. Both are enclosed within the framework of the H-shaped design, insuring complete privacy during outdoor dining, entertaining and relaxing.

Contemporary Has Full Privacy Feeling

Years ago, if one decided to build his dream home on a nice lot in the countryside, the question of privacy seldom arose.

Today, with the ever-increasing urbanization of the country and the smaller building lots available, the need for privacy has become important.

All too often the only solution for some degree of privacy is via the use of fences or a design so radical in approach that building becomes too costly.

Architect Samuel Paul has given much thought to this subject, eliminating from consideration any drastic departures from standard one-family design techniques.

The result is a crisp-looking contemporary ranch that can blend into any setting.

SHAPE

This has been accomplished by the use of an H-shape design which provides substantial amounts of privacy on the outside and a roomy well-planned design within.

The view from the street incorporates a long, low silhouette composed of large masses of brick, including a privacy wall, and several smart frame gable roofs.

The private exterior spaces created by this plan are a

Z-95 STATISTICS

Design Z-95 has a combination dining room-living room stretching more than 28', a family room, kitchen, laundry room, four bedrooms, two baths, a lavatory and a foyer, totaling 2,128 square feet. There are two patios, one at the front and one at the rear, plus a two-car garage with extra storage space and a covered side porch. Over-all dimensions, which include everything mentioned, are 68' 8" by 59' 4". striking front courtyard and a sheltered rear patio "wrapped" in the wings of the house.

ENTRANCE

(See Floor Plan on Page C-2, Col. 3)

Directly ahead is an enormous living-dining room.

Rather than utilizing a partition to divide these two rooms, a room divider in the nature of a piece of furniture will offer adequate separation of the two areas, if desired, without spoiling the grandeur of the space.

The living room features a log-burning fireplace ideally set for a dual sofa arrangement. A sliding glass door, as part of a rear window wall, provides access to the sheltered rear patio.

KITCHEN

To the left of the foyer is an efficient, U-shaped kitchen with a built-in oven and dishwasher, plenty of cabinet space and a breakfast bar facing the adjacent family room.

The latter has dual exposures, one of which leads to the rear patio. A well located mudroom, lavatory and laundry are next to the kitchen.

Immediately in front of this is an oversized two-car garage providing a large amount of extra storage space.

A continuous covered porch runs along the side of the house and can be a covered sitting or snack area.

A good-sized outdoor storage room is adjacent to the porch and a handy place to store outdoor furniture, garden equipment, etc., leaving the garage free for other storage.

RIGHT WING

The entire right wing of the house is composed of a sleep zone incorporating four bedrooms, two full baths and plenty of closet space.

There are three children's bedrooms.

It should be noted that the front bedroom, which features sliding glass doors to the front courtyard and a cathedral ceiling, could serve as a den or guest room if only two children's bedrooms are needed.

Include Paint on Fix-Up List

Getting ready for spring? Be sure to include paint in your list of house-cleaning items.

With today's new latex paints, painting could be the easiest of your seasonal chores. Ask your local paint dealer for assistance in selecting the right paint for your specific need. Let paint help you bring springtime indoors!

HEAVENLY HAVEN—Spanish goes arm-in-arm with modern in designing a bedroom which is both a heaven of comfort and a haven from the world outside. While the furniture is strictly Spanish, the decor and room architecture lean heavily toward modern. The result is a look of livability with that certain crispness so necessary to maintain the room's value as a 24-hour retreat.

Pressing Closet Big Time-Saver

For the working wife with a house to look after too, clothing upkeep for hubby and herself can be a problem. If most garments in both wardrobes require steam ironing, not sprinkling, a pressing closet built into the bedroom can save considerable time.

Only an eight-inch depth is needed for the closet, which can be framed on either side with 1x8s toe-nailed to ceiling and floor.

A drop-down ironing board can then be installed inside, plus a shelf for the iron and pressing cloth.

Add an electric outlet for the iron and install a light fixture on an extension arm that pulls out over the board. A louvered door completes the closet.

Designer Suggests Home Face Lifting

tested ideas from the designer's case book.

A revised window treatment should be next on the schedule. The two small windows on either side of the entry would be removed.

The three haphazard windows at the side on the first floor then would be replaced with a single modern picture window.

SHUTTERS ADDED

All other windows remain the same but decorative aluminum shutters would be added.

With the old porch removed a new flush door was suggested, flanked on either side by full length aluminum shutters.

Picture Design

Gives New Look

An easy way to give a room a new look is to rearrange the pictures and mirrors.

Plan your rearrangements by lining the paintings up on the floor, then proceed to the wall.

Paint May Give Cluttered Effect

You can avoid a cluttered look in smaller rooms by painting the trim the same color as your walls.

On doors, door frames, and window sills that collect finger marks and receive more wear, it is best to use a matching semi-gloss enamel.

Poles Go Through Election Motions Sunday

WARSAW (AP)—Poles tomorrow will go to the polls to elect members of the National Unity Front, the only one they can vote for.

Approving the list means to show up at one of the 17,500 polling stations, pick up the parliamentary ballot and drop it into the election urns.

CROSSED OUT BY SOME

Still, at all of the quadrennial national elections since 1957 a small number of Poles have crossed out the names of least-liked party apparatchiks or bureaucrats. Although their names in 1965 were all placed at the top of Party chief Wladyslaw Gost's lists in their constituencies, only mulla, running for reelection to parliament, was credited with 93.3 per cent of the ballots cast in his East Warsaw workers' district. This meant his name was crossed out on fewer than 2,000 of the 262,039 valid ballots.

All candidates for the parliament, known as the Sejm, and for the councils are picked by 49 nonparty members, of whom the National Unity Front is five belong to a group of independent Catholics working for party, which is Poland's Church-state unity. They represent Communist party, and includes sent a critical voice against representatives of satellite pro-Communist policy.

ties, trade unions and other organizations.

There are 622 candidates to 460 parliament seats and 291,055 candidates for 168,225 local and regional council posts.

the KASHOMASHIRIS

The Kashomashiris must be among the purest primitives left on the face of the earth. Until now no-one from the outside world has been able to locate and meet them; probably only a few of their neighbors knew they even existed. They live in the Upper Amazon region of Peru, in the area watered by the Uru-hamba, Tambo and Puyene rivers. The terrain is hilly, rising towards the Andes, covered by all but impenetrable jungle. Wild, treacherous rivers provide the main means of access. A little is known of the people who live beside the rivers; those inland, away from the rivers, are known only by hearsay. Usually the only outsiders who have ventured anywhere near the area have been missionaries, woodcutters or an occasional hunter looking for bear or jaguar (a rare prize).

Dietmar Carsten is one of the few explorers to have challenged these wilds, and almost certainly the first to find and photograph the Kashomashiris. He heard about them from the Campa Indians, who gave him a sketchy account of their mysterious and unfriendly neighbors. Five Campas accompanied him on the difficult and dangerous trek up-river, and he was finally introduced to a small group of Kashomashiris by a Campa who was, unusually enough, on close terms with them, and who acted as interpreter. The Kashomashiris are apparently very different from the rest of the tribes that surround them (the name "Kashomashiri" means naked, literally without "cushma" or sack-dress; this was the term the Campas used to describe them—they had no name for themselves). They are a slight, graceful people, light of skin, the women of great beauty. Their way of life is one of the utmost simplicity. They build shelters of branches and leaves. They live on wild fruits and plants, and small animals which they hunt with bow and arrow. They wear only a modest girdle of leaves; they have no ornaments and possess only a few basic utensils. Some Campa accounts suggest that there may be 2,000 of them in the jungle; Carsten estimates that the total may be a mere 500 scattered through the area.

This first encounter had to be brief. Carsten hopes to return for a fourth expedition to the area, to study the Kashomashiris and their way of life further. His primary interest is ethnology; a German, resident in New York, he works as a designer only long enough to finance his expeditions. He travels with cameras and tape-recorder, to discover and record people still untouched by our civilization. He hopes his research will mean that such states of innocence are not too carelessly disturbed as their world opens up—which it inevitably will.

Kashomashiris: hardly known to the outside world, they have resisted contact with Indians and white men alike.

The Kashomashiris are a graceful, light-skinned people. The name Kashomashiri means "without cushma" (the cushma is the sackdress worn by other tribes).

A raft is built from balsa logs, wooden dowels and strips of bark, for the return journey.

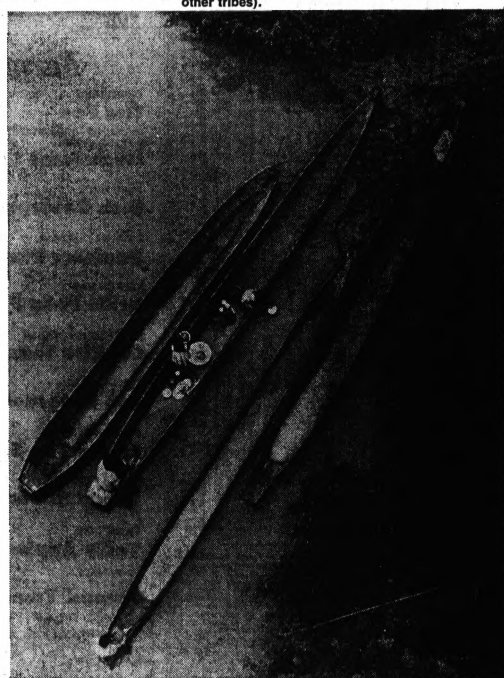

The raft has a raised platform to which equipment is fastened, and is guided through the white water with long poles.

Campa Indians grouped near one of their thatched huts on stilts; they are near neighbors of the Kashomashiris but not on friendly terms with them.

The Kashomashiris hide deep in the jungle and fight off intruders. Local Indians say they may number 2,000; Carsten thinks there may only be some 500 of them.

Campa dugout boats: Carsten used a modified dugout for much of his exploring along the rivers, which are almost the only means of access to these areas.

Passenger 'Bombed' but the Airliner's Not

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)

An airliner that was thoroughly searched in Southern California following a bomb threat almost to go through the whole thing without incident when it landed in San Francisco.

The San Mateo County Sheriff's Department said a passenger apparently well fortified with liquid refreshments provided by air California during the first search, "muttered something about 'getting bombed myself.'"

Earlier version of the plane, with 96 passengers and five crewmen aboard, was searched by the Orange County sheriff's bomb squad. The airline said its reservation desk at Orange County received a call from a man who said, "There's a bomb aboard flight 131."

The plane had taken off about two minutes before the call was made. The pilot was notified and returned to the airport where the search was made.

The pilot was notified and returned to the airport where the search was made — and then the refreshments were served that brought on the near repeat.

Three-quarters of the world's people live in what are commonly termed undeveloped areas.

Black Lawyers, Students Applaud Judge Crockett

CHICAGO (AP) — Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett of Detroit won a standing ovation Friday from a group of black lawyers and law students when he urged them to identify more closely with "the black community."

The law in the United States has functioned for generations as "the handmaiden of the propertied class," the black judge told a meeting of the National Conference of Black Lawyers and Law Students.

But, he said, there is no reason why black lawyers who take the trouble to get the best legal education—along with black judges—cannot take the system of laws already in existence and make it serve justice for the poor and underprivileged.

Crockett told his audience of about 250 persons from around the country, "We cannot afford to have black judges who are not responsive to the needs and the legitimate aspirations of the black community."

His audience, bound together by their concern that black lawyers should play a more leading role in helping fight racism, burst into a long ovation when Crockett talked about "squandering resources on a racist war in Vietnam."

There was only a scattering of applause when he warned against a kind of blind hatred of all whites espoused by some black nationalists.

The true meaning of black power, the judge said, is the "black man's growing consciousness of himself as a person and as a group to be reckoned with in the affairs of this nation."

There was only a scattering of applause when he warned against a kind of blind hatred of all whites espoused by some black nationalists.

Drifting Into Polar Crew

LONDON (AP) — The first four explorers ever to walk across the polar ice cap, a 3,620-mile trek over the frozen Arctic Ocean, hitched up their sleds again today as drifting ice threatened to sweep them out to sea.

"The ice is very broken here, it's not a healthy place to stay," said a radio message from expedition leader Wally Herbert, a bearded sailor who grew up in the blating heat of Egypt but made the icy Arctic his life's work.

Two members of the expedition leaped across giant cracks in the ice Friday and scrambled ashore on Small Black Island, 150 miles north of Spitzbergen.

They stayed on the rocky isle for only a few minutes, taking photographs and climbing to its summit. Then they jumped back across the moving ice to rejoin their colleagues on an ice floe.

On the floe, which is drifting toward the British warship Endurance off the northwest tip of Spitzbergen, the explorers set up a camp, radioed a message to Queen Elizabeth II, brewed tea and began planning the final leg of their journey.

The team set out for Spitzbergen from Point Barrow, Alaska, in February 1968. They still plan to reach Spitzbergen, but expedition headquarters has already declared the mission a success. They could be picked up by helicopter if floating ice makes the rest of the trip impossible.

When the Britons set out from Point Barrow, Eskimos there told the four—Herbert, anchorman Allan Gill, glaciologist Roy Koerner and Maj. Ken Hedges—they were doomed to fail.

The team shunned modern techniques such as motorized sleds and insisted on exploring with huskie dogs and handbuilt wooden sledges.

The explorers spent much of the 16 months drifting on ice floes. Royal Canadian Air Force planes dropped supplies to them, and the team radioed reports to an American scientific station on the Arctic ice.

THERE'S ALWAYS ANOTHER WINDMILL. By Ogden Nash. Little, Brown, $4.95.

As a good many readers know by now, Ogden Nash seldom gnashes. But often he gives you a sly dig in the ribs as he casually tosses off his observations about vulnerable moments in all our lives.

There are 101 funny verses in this collection, and many of them are as full as puns as ever ("I Don't Pretend to be Molierre Than Thou"). He also slips in a few exercises in the limerick form.

Some of his reflections are in a grandfatherly vein, and in one salute to spring he asks "Just because I'm sixty-three/Shall April forbidden be?" It's all in good fun.

AND OTHER STORIES. By John O'Hara. Random House, $5.95.

An upsetting hint that this may be the last book of O'Hara's short stories for some time to come appears in the witty, penetrating foreword to this book. That is tempered by some good predictions.

O'Hara has decided that he "cause" in seven years I'll be "70" he belongs in the ranks of the senior citizens and must conserve his writing powers.

This is hard to believe, coming from a writer who turns out more published work each year than those half his age, and it's to be hoped O'Hara has had a change of both heart and mind since.

Of the 12 stories in this book, four of which appeared earlier in magazines, there isn't one that doesn't combine fine writing with absorbing plot.

Most take place in O'Hara's Gibbstown, Pa., and many are people with characters who have appeared before in the author's stories and novels.

And O'Hara's uncannily clear

State Labor Leader Won't Run Again

DETROIT (AP) — Barney Hopkins, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan AFL-CIO, has announced he will not seek reelection at the state convention June 9-11 at Grand Rapids.

Hopkins, first elected secretary-treasurer in 1944, cited approaching retirement age as a factor in his decision. Hopkins will be 65 in July.

Organizing Gains at 4 Hospitals Told

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A movement to organize non-supervisory personnel at the four major hospitals in Grand Rapids has proceeded "very well," reports the president of the city's nonunion workers.

Edwin Muste, president of Local 1061, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, said he anticipates about 1,500 hospital employees will probably vote within the next several months on representation.

The four hospitals — St. Mary's, Osteopathic, Blodgett Memorial and Butterworth — employ some 3,200 staff members. Skilled and professional workers would be included in the bargaining group, Muste said, along with non-skilled workers.

Pat Paulsen - Swamped In Chicago

By The Associated Press

Comedian Pat Paulsen set out across Lake Michigan yesterday from Chicago in a rowboat.

Saying only he could lead the American people to right thinking in matters of physical fitness, the scrawny Paulsen began striking his way in the general direction of Sturgis, Mich. He originally agreed to row to Sturgis mistakenly thinking it was on Lake Michigan.

When he reached the choppy water outside the breakwater of the Monroe Street Harbor, his craft sank. Paulsen, unhurt, was picked up by a motorboat.

'Longest Day' Coming

Television's "Longest day" is nearly upon viewers.

It arrives Sunday, beating the official longest day of the year by about three weeks. In the form of a one-hour special, it marks the 25th anniversary of the Allied invasion of Normandy in World War II.

TV's observance of "The Longest Day" even beats the real anniversary date of June 6. Viewers will return to the beaches with Darryl F. Zanuck, who filmed "The Longest Day" in 1962.

Cameras will show Normandy today with commentary by Zanuck about where the original action took place. Clips of the film will show Eddie Albert, Richard Burton, Henry Fonda, Robert Mitchum, Robert Ryan and John Wayne in their roles.

Darryl F. Zanuck stands atop a battered German gun emplacement at Omaha Beach in his return to the site of the Allied invasion of Normandy on "D-Day Revisited" marking the 25th anniversary of the invasion Sunday at 9 p.m. on Channel 7.

ONRUSH OF SUMMER

The onrush of summer already is evident in the television specials. Presentations entitled "Sounds of Summer" and "Summer Focus" herald the coming season.

"Sounds of Summer" debuts with a feature about 92-year-old cello virtuoso Pablo Casals Sunday at 7 p.m. on Channel 56. "Summer Focus" poses the question "War in the Mideast?"

in the first of a series Monday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7.

"Summer Focus" returns Thursday at 10 p.m. to examine both sides of the controversial issue of abortion, which is being confronted in legislatures, churches, hospitals and homes across the nation.

Two of the major networks once again meet nearly head-on with current events programs Tuesday. NBC's "First Tuesday" at 9 on Channel 4 deals, over a two-hour span, with a half-dozen different topics ranging from airlines stewardesses to poetry to occultism to United Nations trusteeship.

CBS wraps up its series on the generation gap beginning at 10 p.m. with a look at the problem in Japan, Mexico and England. Counterparts of the situation in the United States seem to be evident elsewhere.

The girl on the cover of The Pontiac Press TV schedule this week is French singer Mireille Mathieu who is a regular on the new John Davidson show Fridays at 8 p.m. on Channel 7.

Travelers like these in Abu Dhabi are part of the old Arabia that is rapidly disappearing. The rapid change in which camel routes are being replaced by highways and automobiles in Abu Dhabi is part of the "First Tuesday" show at 9 p.m. on Channel 4.

Violence Erupts on Eve of Election

PARIS (UPI) — Bombs exploded in front of acting President Alain Poher's campaign headquarters and outside the Paris apartment of Socialist candidate Gaston Defferre today on the eve of France's presidential election.

A street cleaner, injured in the blast outside Poher's headquarters on the Left Bank, was the only casualty. Defferre was not at home at the time, nor was Poher at his headquarters.

The terrorism occurred the morning after official campaigning ended for the seven candidates seeking former President Charles de Gaulle's job. It was the first campaign violence.

A public opinion poll published today by the newspaper France-Soir showed Gaulle candidate Georges Pompidou still leading with 41 per cent of tomorrow's expected vote. Fifty per cent is needed to win and avoid a runoff between the top two finishers.

SECOND IN POLL

Poher was second in the poll, with 25 per cent and Communist Jacques Duclos edged up several points to 18 per cent.

The rest had less than 10 per cent each.

Women and leftists held the key to the election. De Gaulle himself added to the suspense by refusing to endorse anyone in the campaign.

It was De Gaulle who granted Frenchwomen the right to vote in 1958 and since then many have voted for him in gratitude. Now that he is gone, the feminine vote is much more uncertain.

Women voters are in the majority in France and all the candidates made special appeals for their support.

ANOTHER UNKNOWN

The country's huge leftist bloc is the other electoral unknown. Communist candidate Jacques Duclos is favored among the five leftists in the election.

Other candidates are Defferre and Michel Rocard, both Socialists; Alain Krivine, a Trotskyite; and millionaire Louis Ducatel who has promised workers one-third the profits of their companies if he wins.

Pompidou is favored to win the most votes tomorrow, but Poher is picked by the polls as the victor in the runoff because he stands a better chance of attracting the leftist vote.

FLOWER FOR THE PARK—Some of the thousands who marched in Berkeley, Calif., yesterday to protest the closing of a "people's park" and the use of National Guardsmen after the bloody May 15 riot, stuck flowers in the steel-meshed fence now surrounding the park. '$2.9 Billion More Needed to Feed Poor Adequately'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Bureau of the Budget task force has estimated it would cost $2.9 billion more than the government is now spending on food programs to assure an adequate diet for the poor.

This is far more than President Nixon's recommendation of a $270-million boost in the food stamp program for the coming fiscal year and a $1-billion increase the following year.

The task force analysis said spending on food programs, now about $1.5 billion a year, including $340 million spent on food stamps, would have to be almost tripled by adding another $2.9 billion in some form.

The figures, presented as a working draft designed as "a point of departure for discussion and improvement," are part of a six-month study by an interdepartmental Budget Bureau group for the Urban Affairs Council.

It was pegged to statistics showing that some 20.8 million Americans are below the poverty line, defined as slightly more than $3,000 income a year for an urban family of four.

The working draft was dated May 6, the same day Nixon submitted his special hunger message to Congress.

The draft contains several proposed changes for federal food programs but said:

"No claim is made that the list is either exhaustive, original, or in any way competes with the President's program."

PROPOSED CHANGES

The proposed changes include putting food stamp payments on the installment plan, establishing emergency loan programs to help the poor pay for stamps, and establishing standards to insure "that all poverty families are eligible."

Further, it suggests introduction of the commodity distribution program, "at least on an interim basis, into the 480 counties and cities now without a food program" and use of federal funds to help states extend food programs into new areas.

Speaking broadly, the task force said: "standardization of welfare payments, federal cash grants or child allowances should be used to increase people's ability to purchase food."

In its weekly newsletter, the committee said yesterday that pressure for a decision had increased as a result of the Supreme Court's recent ruling that outlawed state residency requirements for welfare recipients.

The two major proposals under consideration, said the committee, have been submitted by Arthur Burns, President Nixon's counselor on domestic affairs, and Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Burns plan would preserve the current federal-state welfare system while increasing payments to some recipients. The Finch plan would abandon the present system to help a wider range of impoverished persons, including the working poor.

WOULD BE RAISED

The Burns proposal provides that Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) would be raised to $40 a month across the country. Currently, there is

2 Killed on Road, 1 Drowns in Area Holiday Mishaps

Two teen-agers, who died in a one-car crash in Oakland Township last night, are among 20 persons who have lost their lives on Michigan highways during the Memorial Day weekend.

Another teen-ager drowned in Kensington Park in Milford Township yesterday morning, park authorities report.

Ideal holiday weekend weather sent millions to the highways.

Nationally, a total of 351 people have been killed in mishaps as of 8 a.m. today, day.

RECORD RATE

The country's traffic death toll has mounted at a record rate. Crashes have killed 270 persons. Eleven persons have been killed in boating mishaps and there have been 70 drownings.

George R. Crement of Washington in Macomb County and Gregory Stevens of 6125 Yarmouth, Utica, both 16, were killed in Oakland Township when their car went out of control, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Rogers Confers With President

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon is holding a series of conferences here on Vietnam peace talks with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, just back from a world-circling trip.

Nixon scheduled a morning meeting with Rogers today after talking to him at length last night during a dinner cruise aboard the presidential yacht Julie.

During the excursion, the Julie passed at slow speed the larger oceangoing yacht Christina owned by Aristotle Onassis, husband of the widow of President John F. Kennedy. The Christina was tied up at a deepwater pier in nearby Miami harbor. The owner and his wife were not in evidence.

Rogers returned to Washington Wednesday night from an 18-day trip that took him to South Vietnam, Thailand and Pakistan.

PRINCIPAL PURPOSE

It is assumed that a principal purpose of Rogers' mission was an effort to build a common front with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

After Rogers left Saigon, Thieu flew to South Korea and, after meetings with President Park Chung Hee, seemed to express reservations about Nixon's broad suggestion that the United States would accept a coalition Saigon government as part of a Vietnamese peace package.

Nixon presented an eight-point peace formula in a television-radio address to the country on May 14.

The chief executive spent a quiet Memorial Day, lounging at his waterfront property.

Dutton, hit an embankment and careened 432 feet across the road and off the shoulder and rolled over, according to deputies.

They said the car was traveling at an estimated 80 miles per hour. The car was demolished.

3 OTHERS INJURED

Stevens was a passenger in the car along with three other Macomb County boys who were injured. David Jacklyn, 16, of Washington was admitted to Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, and is in satisfactory condition.

Harry Simpson III, 18, and James G. Hampton, 17, of 5230 Dequindre, Utica, were treated at the hospital and released.

Kensington Park police at Kent Lake said the drowning victim was identified as Robert E. Warren, 18, of Detroit.

He and two other boys from Detroit tried to swim to a swimming area 100 feet away, Willie E. McKinzie, 25, of Detroit, the operator of the boat, told police.

McKinzie told police one boy swam to shore and that he rescued one of them, Howard Thomas Jr., 17, of Detroit.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department divers found Warren's body yesterday afternoon after a six-hour search.

In another water mishap, a 15-year-old Fenton youth, Harold Wilson, drowned Thursday night while trying to swim to a raft 40 yards off the shore of South Little Long Lake in Genesee County.

His body was recovered by skin divers from the Genesee County sheriff's department, in 15 feet of water.

The youth was with his twin brother at the time.

'Fair' Chance Seen for School-Aid OK

LANING (AP) — Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, a member of the House-Senate school aid conference committee, predicts a "fair" chance that the upper chamber will approve House amendments and send an $849.1 million school aid bill to Gov. William Milliken for signing next week.

Kildee said he felt the Senate would be reluctant to re-submit the bill to a conference committee. The Senate had recommended a state aid bill totaling $845.4 million, about $1 million more than recommended by Gov. William Milliken.

hospital was his wife, Kathleen, 37; his brother Ralph, 45, of Commerce Township; and Patricia Sue Vance, 32.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the single-engine Cessna 250 believed to be piloted by Ralph Rappuhn was to have landed at Knoxville, Tenn., for fuel, but never made the scheduled stop.

MOTOR SKIPS, POPS

Witnesses said they heard the plane's motor skip and make popping noises before it crashed in a field near Lawrenceville, Ga., about noon. Authorities said the plane was out of fuel.

Authorities said the Rappuhns were on their way to visit friends in Kennesaw, Ga., and apparently were trying to find McCollum Field there when the plane crashed.

Police officers said the plane was broken in two places, but there was no fire.

Ralph Rappuhn is employed at Cooley Lake Collision in Waterford Township and Vernon reportedly worked at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Warmth to Linger; Showers Possible

Stay-at-home weekenders in Pontiac and environs can look for continued warm weather into tonight, with highs ranging from 82 to 87. The chance of showers will increase to 40 per cent as clouds continue to gather. Overnight, the mercury will dip only to the mid-60s.

Tomorrow's outlook is for more of the same, with a 60 per cent chance that Pontiac will share some of the showers and thunderstorms that have plagued parts of the nation, from the north-central states to the southeast, High expected to register 83 to 88 degrees.

Showers will end Monday, leaving cooler temperatures in their wake.

Winds this morning were from the east and southeast, ranging from 6 to 10 miles per hour.

The overnight low was 54 at 5 a.m. By 1 p.m. the temperature was 83.

Prize Winner Seeks Advice on Appreciation

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mr. James Hurley of Edgewood, R.I.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have recently had a death, and folks were most kind. In lieu of flowers I requested contributions to an organization, and I have written a personal note of appreciation to each donor. There was a kind expression of folks paying their personal respects at the funeral home and I expressed my deep appreciation for their kindness in coming.

My problem is what to do about folks who mailed cards of sympathy. I have been told that one does NOT acknowledge these. Should I? — James Hurley

Dear Mr. Hurley: The answer depends upon whether or not a personal note was added to the printed message on the sympathy card. When there is no note — merely a signature — it is not necessary to acknowledge it.

If there is a handwritten message, even a few sentences, the card should be acknowledged just as any other personal letter or note.

SITTERS CHARGE

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother has just invited several neighbors to a small informal dinner at our home. All those invited will need baby sitters. Is it wrong for my friends and me to charge the regular rate since the parents were invited by my family (just down the street)? — Debbie

Dear Debbie: If you and your friends offer to stay with the children, you should not ask the parents to pay you. If they call you and ask you to "sit," then you may charge as you ordinarily would.

RETURNING MONEY

Dear Mrs. Post: The last three years my sister has been sending me money for my birthday. I know she can't afford it. I want to return the money. Would this be the right thing to do? — Agatha

Dear Agatha: No — Don't return the money; you'll only insult her. Instead, write her before your next birthday, and ask her not to send a present — explain that you would be happier if she would agree just to exchange cards.

Dancer Sets Marriage

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Entertainer Juliet Prowse gets married at her Beverly Hills home Sunday to dancer and choreographer Eddie James. It will be the first marriage for Miss Prowse, an actress, singer and dancer. James, whose real name is James Edwin Fisher, has been married once before.

Miss Prowse, 32, met James, 26, seven months ago when he was her dancing partner on a Bob Hope television special. He has been touring with her, acting as her choreographer.

Municipal Court Judge W. Blair Gibbons will perform the civil ceremony. Miss Prowse said she and James will honeymoon in South Africa, her native country, at a later date.

Miss Prowse once was engaged to actor Frank Sinatra. The engagement ended, reportedly because Sinatra objected to Miss Prowse continuing her career after marriage.

Artist Recalls Old Days of Circus Visit to Town

By JEANNE NELSON

"Running away with the circus" was no mere youthful adventure to Sid Ayles, who, at 17, was caught in the middle of those cold, empty depression days. Instead, it was food more than thrills that became the motivating force.

Sid was a boy without a job, without a family when the circus took him in. The circus people taught him a trade, the food concession business, and became his lost family.

There are many things about that old life that Ayles, retired businessman and successful professional artist, will never forget. And there remains about him still some evidence of that boyish wonderment that must have drawn the circus folks to him in the beginning.

Although Sarasota, Fla. is really home to Vi and Sid Ayles, they keep their home in Union Lake for the yearly summer stay. This year, as they have for the past 20, they will run the food concession at the Michigan State Fair.

Living and working in Sarasota which has a well-known art colony, has given Ayles the opportunity to study with a number of noted artists in addition to an almost daily critique session with other artists. The cluster of fine art museums throughout the city also affords even greater exposure of good works to the ever seeking Ayles.

For his first one-man show in this area, Ayles has brought over 100 paintings, collages and special works to be displayed and sold in the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Waterford-Oaks Activity Center.

The show, sponsored by the Pontiac Shrine Club will take place Friday through next Sunday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. each day.

Sketching and drawing began at an early age for this artist. But it wasn't until he had become financially successful in the tool and die business that he could afford the long sought-after lessons he claims every professional artist must have. Now, he too, has added teaching to his list of accomplishments.

While he and his wife live here for the summer, he will be teaching classes in this home twice a week. He also teaches on a regular basis in Sarasota.

An interesting offshoot of his painting career has been the framing business he also runs out of his studio home in Lido Beach. Any piece of art must be completed by the correct frame in which it is set, he believes.

He has been commissioned a number of times to work out framing techniques for rare and old objects d'art and considers this work as creatively important as painting.

The tanned, bearded six-footer plans to get in some Michigan golf on the days when he is not teaching, viewing area art museums and visiting with his son and three grandchildren.

Symphony Players Will Vote Sunday

Detroit (AP) — Striking musicians are expected to vote Sunday on a new contract offer from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Symphony officials said the offer was made Thursday to bargain for the Detroit Federation of Musicians and "union bargainers indicated that they would discuss and call for a vote on the offer" at the Sunday meeting.

Details of the offer were not disclosed.

The musicians have been on strike since the end of April when their old pact expired.

Agreement on noneconomic issues was reported between both sides earlier this week.

Under the old pact, musicians received a minimum of $205 weekly. They turned down a proposal which would have increased their pay by $30 a week over three years.

The strike has threatened a two-week concert series at the State Fairgrounds. A two-week series was canceled in the Detroit public schools because of the strike.

Height No Small Thing to Airline

FLINT (UPI) — When you're operating a small airline with small airplanes, you obviously need small stewardesses.

And that's just what Trans-Michigan Airlines now has — its own stewardess corps with the seven petite gals measuring in between 4-foot-8 and 4-foot-11. Each received a pair of wings Thursday night and are now flying between Michigan and Ohio.

Trans-Michigan Director of Operations Jim Rice explains that the 15-passenger planes the airlines uses just don't have much headroom when you're standing. Some of the statuesque stewardesses the big airlines use just couldn't make the grade on Trans-Michigan.

The gals aren't the only thing that's short on Trans-Michigan — they're all outfitted in eye-appealing miniskirts.

Raffle Rattles Party Hostess When She Finds Evidence

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I recently gave a beautiful dinner party. I used my good tablecloth and real linen napkins, had candlelight, placecards, and served a lovely meal.

After the guests had finished eating and adjourned to the living room, I went into the kitchen for a few minutes, and when I came out I saw the guests exchanging names and addresses.

I thought, "My, how nice, they are anxious to know each other better." Then I saw money exchanging hands!

Well, it seems that one lady was selling raffle tickets for her church charity. I became very much annoyed and told the ticket seller in a nice way, of course, that I didn't like it.

Several of the guests defended her, saying it was a good cause, but what else could they say?

What is your opinion of this?

ANNOYED HOSTESS

DEAR ANNOYED: Off hand, I'd say it's poor taste to sell raffle tickets to guests at a dinner party, but I would have to know more about how the lady made her pitch.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a wonderful man I've known for years. Mike is intelligent, witty, charming, and he treats me like a goddess. He has asked me to marry him, and I have accepted.

Mike is not a nut, he's a sensible down-to-earth guy. The problem? His favorite color is lavender, and he is determined to marry me wearing a lavender suit. HIM NOT ME!

This is the first time we've seriously disagreed on. I want a conventional wedding. I've been married before and he says my last wedding, which was "conventional" was a big success, but the marriage was a flop.

How do I win this one?

SHEILA

DEAR SHEILA: Why fight so hard to win this one? If Mike is all you say he is, let him wear the pants and choose the color.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know if there is any way possible for a man who has had a police record since the age of 14 to become a registered nurse. He has been convicted of a felony, which had nothing whatsoever to do with narcotics of any kind.

Mehta to Wed Actress

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Conductor Zubin Mehta of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra will marry actress Nancy Kovack here July 19.

The engagement was disclosed by Miss Kovack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Kovack, of Flint.

Mehta is on leave from the Los Angeles Orchestra conducting the "Maggio Fiorentina" musical festival in Florence, Italy. He will fulfill engagements in Rome and Israel before returning to Los Angeles in July.

Miss Kovack, a graduate of the University of Michigan, recently had a feature role in the film "Marooned."

They will be married in the traditional ceremony of the Zoroastrian religion, which originated in Iran and is widely practiced in Bombay, India, where Mehta was born.

Socialite Weds Adam Powell III

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newlyweds Adam Clayton Powell III and socialite writer Beryl Slocum plan to honeymoon in Europe and visit Moscow, then make a trip to the island of Bimini.

Powell, 22, son of the Negro congressman from New York, married Miss Slocum in a chapel at Washington Cathedral Friday.

Miss Slocum, 26, is white and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Slocum, members of a family long socially prominent in Rhode Island. She is a former debutante and Radcliffe graduate.

Powell, who graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a major in political science, is a producer of Columbia Broadcasting System news shows.

The couple met at a party in New York and previously were quoted as saying they felt there would be no problems in their interracial marriage. They plan to make their home in New York.

Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. wore his robes as a Baptist minister to the cathedral and led the couple in private prayers in a room adjacent to the chapel. Miss Slocum joined Powell's Baptist Abyssinian Church in New York last year.

The congressman's wedding gift is a round trip to Bimini, where he lived most of the time in recent years when court action kept him out of New York City.

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr., dean of the Washington Cathedral, read the service.

About three dozen newsmen and photographers, along with some 100 tourists, awaited the couple as they left the cathedral arm-in-arm.

The bride's mother, Mrs. John J. Slocum, and Powell's mother, entertainer Hazel Scott who is divorced from the congressman, also linked arms as they went down the steps of the cathedral after the ceremonies.

Rep. Powell came from his Bimini retreat for the ceremony and Miss Scott came from Paris to attend.

"qualifies." I see no reason why he cannot achieve his ambition. Whether or not he will be accepted with his "record" will depend upon the requirements of that school.

Woman's Role to Be Explored

For the first time since the Expo 67 islands were created, there will be a place for, and about, women at Montreal's Man and His World 1969, which opens June 12 through Sept. 7. It's called "Woman in the 20th Century." It will be located in the building on Ile Notre-Dame which housed the stage in Miniature last year and which was the Pavilion of Greece at Expo-67.

The visitor should not have the preconceived notion that this is going to be nothing but baubles and petticoats. The pavilion will be more than that, much more.

EYES

Upon entering the first hall, the visitor will be greeted with huge photographs of women's eyes, telling about the meaning of a glance. Next, comes the section reserved for the sub-theme of the Woman as Subject — the International Woman.

The visitor will learn here, that the 1969 woman is a long way from being confined to what used to be her traditional role in the home.

There will be exhibits emphasizing that women are taking a more active role in community life in all its phases, in military life — as in Israel and Vietnam; in public affairs, as in the United States where 3 per cent of the members of Congress are women; in India, where Mrs. Indira Gandhi is prime minister, and in the fields of science and industry all over the world.

Other exhibits will include the important roles played by women in the theatre, in literature, in music, in aviation, plus a huge array of photographs of prominent women sport champions of the world.

There will be a section devoted to different aspects of fashion, arts of makeup, beauty care and hair styling.

Nor will the pavilion be lacking in humor — involuntary or historical humor, as in the case of the illustration of the evolution of fashion in the 20th century; and mischievous humor, under the title of the Unusual Woman.

A theme that covers as much ground as does this pavilion hardly could be content with its seven fixed exhibit areas. There will also be numerous thematic activities in the inner court of the pavilion: lectures, fashion shows, flower-arranging, and films, all with a national and international flavor.

Raccoon Wreaks Household Havoc

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — A raccoon walked through an open door at the Gordon Smart home and caused a little confusion. It ate potato chips, carrots, mascara, eyebrow pencil, lead pencil and drank a bottle of beer. It tore the radio apart, pulled cans of food out of the cupboard and got into Mrs. Smart's purse.

Before the police came for the visitor, Mrs. Smart had to lock the cat in the bathroom, put the dog downstairs, cover the bird cage with sheets and guard the fishbowl. And she received scratches about the arms as she futilely tried to capture the animal.

Wedding Information

Planning your wedding? We want to help you. Beginning June 9, we must have information about your wedding in our office five days in advance. Information blanks are available in the women's department, or the material may be printed clearly on any large sheet of paper. Pictures will still be accepted up to three days before the ceremony but the information must be in our hands ahead of time.

Damaged Hair Requires Care

Delicate hair—that is naturally dry or that is excessively bleached or dyed is often stripped of important natural oils when washed with most shampoos. This causes the hair to tangle easily and combing can cause breakage. Here's one route to more manageable hair! First, wash your hair thoroughly using gentle baby shampoo to help minimize loss of oils. Then, apply a creme rinse following instructions on the bottle. The rinse leaves an invisible film on the hair that usually adds gloss as well as softness and manageability.

Dr. Crane Defends Self

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE J-587: Amos D., aged 42, is a lawyer.
"Dr. Crane," he began, "you certainly make a lot of wives irate."
"At various meetings, I hear them quote you and that usually starts a hot debate."
"In fact, several of the women have written indignant letters to our editor, demanding that your column be dropped."
"The wives say you always pick on the women and defend the men. But why don't any men come to your defense, if that is true?"
SEX DIFFERENCES
Well, men routinely are sluggish about writing letters to anybody.
After they get married, they even expect their wives to keep up the correspondence to the husband's mother.

And it is only by nagging him that the wife prods her husband into adding a postscript on the letter to his own mother!
In our Scientific Marriage Foundation, we also find that men don't want to be introduced to women who are more than 200 miles away! Why?
DISLIKE WRITING
Because the men don't like to write letters! So they want to drive out to meet the girl in person and 200 miles is their usual maximum limit.

And reassurance from other women.
Adam invented the game of back-passing. But Eve picked it up at once and used it to defend herself.
For Eve instantly passed the buck to the serpent and accused him of having deceived her.
Shift the scene 100,000 years to the present and listen to the supposedly abused wives blame their husbands!
Divorces usually start in the bedroom.
And they are due to the usual wife's indifference, evasiveness and rebuff of her mate in the boudoir.

DR. CRANE
Anent the wives who write to their editor condemning this column, it is usually because the shoe pinches!
My case that day is thus a duplicate of their own family problem.
Most wives try to bolster their ego by claiming to be 100 per cent innocent of any cause for their mate's philandering.
Yet I show that they are usually 50 per cent to blame, due to their sins of omission. They don't like that at all!
For then they are robbed of their chance to evoke sympathy

And it is only by nagging him that the wife prods her husband into adding a postscript on the letter to his own mother!

Clean as You Go

DEAR POLLY — My go into the sink water with a daughter is the wife of a missionary in Africa and does not always have time to clean up after her frequent entertaining before she has to go on to another project. I have tried to help her work out a way to make the job easier. She has no dandy old dishwasher as I have. Perhaps some of the ideas will help others.
First, try cleaning up as you work when making a cake, salad, or even fixing a lunch. Put away anything you used, dispose of the garbage and wipe up the crumbs. When I begin a meal I put an old shortening H.G. can in the sink, add a dab of detergent and fill with water. Then I partially fill the sink with water and add a bit more detergent. As I progress with a minimum foil, place a round of egg beater or spatula and so on use this as a cake plate? Looks water HANDLE ENDS UP. All pretty and certainly is more used cups, plates, bowls, etc., practical. — MILDRED

Plug-In Heart Eyed by Head of New Firm

FORT WORTH (UPI) - In a couple of years, all that might be needed to keep a heart beating is to plug it into a wall socket.

Dr. Wolcott E. Stewart, a Fort Worth physiologist, said yesterday he started the Stewart Heart Co., believed to be the first company formed to manufacture artificial hearts, and said he plans to begin testing prototypes of his device early next month.

His artificial heart eventually would be totally contained, Stewart said, but currently it runs on external power. That means, according to the doctor, a battery, manual operation of simple household current.

The heart is designed to work for several weeks, enough so that a suitable human heart may be found for prospective recipient.

The world's first artificial heart was used by Dr. Denton Cooley in an operation April 4. That heart, implanted in Haskell Karp of Spokane, Wash., was designed by Dr. Domingo Liotta and is not connected with Stewart's research.

South Africa executed 119 persons last year, 18 more than in 1967.

But, he said, there are no reasons why black lawyers who take the trouble to get the best legal education-along with black judges-cannot take the system of laws already in existence and make it serve justice for the poor and underprivileged.

Crockett told his audience of about 250 persons from around the country, "We cannot afford to have black judges who are not responsive to the needs and the legitimate aspirations of the black community."

His audience, bound together by their concern that black lawyers should play a more leading role in helping fight racism, burst into a long ovation when Crockett talked about "squandering resources on a racist war in Vietnam."

There was only a scattering of applause when he warned against a kind of blind hatred of all whites espoused by some black nationalists.

The true meaning of the power, the judge said, is the "black man's growing consciousness of himself as a person and as a group to be reckoned with in the affairs of this nation."
