Goodrich Plant to Close Down May 1 in Cadillac

Manager Says Factory Is Operating in Red; 200 to Lose Jobs

From Our Wire Services
CADILLAC — The B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. plant here has announced plans to close down operations May 1 because it is operating in the red.

About 200 workers will be thrown out of work. The plant once employed 700.

T. G. Hatch, plant manager, said the operation has lost money for three years with no relief in sight.

"In fairness to stockholders, the firm must avoid new and substantial losses," said Hatch.

Parts for the auto industry were manufactured at the plant.

Mayor Everett Reiser said word that the plant will close its doors "is like the death of a cherished friend—it leaves one stunned."

A worker said it was "like reading your own obituary."

The plant currently employs 189 persons. During its peak year, 1951, some 600 persons were employed. The plant opened in 1937.

Most of the workers expect trouble finding other jobs.

"All of us are over 40 and it's going to be tough getting a new job," said Vern Mickelson, a tube machine operator.

Bill Batten, a diemaker and president of the UAW local at the plant, said the news was expected. "We knew it was coming but we don't know what to do now that it has come," he said.

T. G. Hatch, plant manager, said the plant was forced to close because of increasing employment costs without attendant increases in production. He said operations will end when commitments to auto companies are filled.

The average wage at the Cadillac plant is $30 a week. Hatch said competitors paying lower wages have been underbidding the firm. The plant manufactures molded and extruded products such as rubber molding around windshields for the auto industry.

Hatch said the plant has lost money for the last three years and the future was no brighter.

Closing the plant is expected to have an effect on other businesses in Cadillac.

"The impact will be felt throughout the area," said city clerk Emil Meyer. "Not only from the loss of tax revenue but from the loss of business up and down the street."

LONDON (AP)—Archbishop Makarios was told today that the order deporting him from Cyprus had been revoked and that he can now go home. The British exiled him in 1956, accusing him of supporting the terrorist Greek Cypriot underground, EOKA.

For me, the Sabbath is a day when I obtain complete physical, mental and spiritual rest, and also refreshment. I have found that when I take extra time and effort in observance of my spiritual traditions, my religion means a great deal more to me.

Closing my stores on the Sabbath not only means a sacrifice of income, but also has made me face a lawsuit and an interesting involvement with the New York City Board of Transportation. Before I describe how these situations were resolved, some background information is necessary.

I grew up in Vienna, part of a Chassidic family. My trade was candy making, an art which in Vienna takes on the style and gaiety of that lovely city. With my brothers and the help of my wife, I opened a colorful little shop. Our business prospered.

RECEIVES TOP AWARD — The 1959 Pontiac has been chosen as "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend magazine, whose editors described Pontiac with its wide track as being the "best combination of handling, ride, performance and styling of any 1959 car."

Officials Search Fire Wreckage

Authorities Probe Ruins for Cause, Origin of Huron Bowl Blaze

State fire inspectors and Waterford Township authorities today searched the burned out ruins of the Huron Bowl, destroyed by fire early Monday.

"It's going to be a tough one to figure out," said Lewis Goff, assistant Waterford Township fire chief as he surveyed the twisted steel at 1124 W. Huron St.

"With all this wreckage and rubble to go through, I wouldn't be surprised if it takes several days to locate the point of origin and cause of the fire."

The building and contents, valued at $700,000, were completely destroyed. Firemen knocked out the front wall on the southeast corner Monday afternoon.

Damage estimates may reach well over the $700,000 mark, Goff indicated. Estimates on the contents of the snack bar and printing firm located in the building were not yet filed, he said.

"When we got to the scene shortly after 6 a.m. we ran into hydrant trouble," said Goff. "But the problem didn't delay action more than five minutes. Yesterday, firemen and spectators said the frozen hydrant delayed firefighters for about 30 minutes."

"The heat was so intense that we couldn't touch the hydrant directly in front of the building. We then immediately hooked up to the hydrant at Josephine and Huron streets," Goff said.

"It was frozen, but in short order we had it working and were pouring water on the building."

1959 Pontiac Chosen as 'Car of the Year'

The 1959 Pontiac has been chosen as "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend magazine, it was revealed today. The magazine's editors described Pontiac with its wide track as being the "best combination of handling, ride, performance and styling of any 1959 car."

Receiving the award for Pontiac from Editor Walter A. Woron was S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and Pontiac general manager.

"We at Pontiac are very proud of this signal honor," Knudsen said. "No previous Pontiac has ever been so unanimously accepted by the public nor attracted so much nationwide attention as our 1959 models."

"Receiving this 'Car of the Year' award from such expert judges as the editors of Motor Trend reaffirms the public's favorable opinion of this car and in turn justifies our early confidence in the car," Knudsen said.

In announcing its annual selection Motor Trend has this to say about Pontiac:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving wheels further apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

"Pontiac lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its overall integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine, the new 420-E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage

Hospital Said in Total Use

Reports of 100 Empty Beds Denied, Feared Harmful to Grant

Reports that there are 100 empty beds at Pontiac General Hospital today were branded as ridiculous.

Scratching their heads, hospital authorities looked about their overcrowded institution, noting beds doubled up in rooms, beds in hallways, beds in sunrooms and playrooms.

"Anyone who has doubts is invited to look for himself," said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

It was feared that the rumors might affect the hospital's bid for a $300,000 grant from the Detroit Area Hospital Council to meet unexpected repair costs in the hospital's old east wing.

Euler said he had never heard the reports, but doubted they would have any adverse effect.

"The Area Council has inspected our building, it knows our problem. The Council has our request for funds under serious consideration."

Old CIO Head Leads Revolt in Policy Dispute

Expects More Say-So in Future Decisions of New Federation

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders emerged today with an uneasy truce today after a revolt led by Walter Reuther against AFL-CIO President George Meany's one-man direction of federal policies.

It wasn't exactly clear who had won. But Reuther and other leaders of the former CIO felt their voices would be reflected more in policies of the merged, 14-million-member organization.

For one thing, it looks now as if the Washington meeting the AFL-CIO is planning to underline America's unemployment problem will be along more spectacular lines as urged by Reuther.

It probably won't be the mass march of unemployed Reuther first proposed, but it will likely be more of a show than the strictly legislative conference of union officials Meany advocated.

The revolt had boiled for a week behind the scenes of the annual winter meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

It began when Meany—head of the old AFL—chided Reuther—head of the old CIO—for holding a session of the Economic Policy Committee while Meany was delayed in Washington by a cold. Meany was reported angry at Reuther's unemployment march project.

Reuther, chairman of the economic committee, retorted that Meany had never attended economic policy meetings.

Anyway, the red-haired Auto Workers Union chief said, as chairman he should have a relatively free hand at mapping economic policy, at least in the committee stage.

Reuther said if he couldn't run the economic committee, he might as well quit the post.

Reuther was backed by James B. Carey, No. 2 man in the federation's CIO faction. The meeting got so hot that Meany ordered Carey to leave his seat. The scrappy Carey refused.

Meany, Reuther and other high federation officials failed to resolve the conflict at two secret breakfast meetings. A showdown session was held Monday night.

Meany declined to comment afterward. Reuther told newsmen: "Nobody ever talked about busting up anything—there are understandings now on things where there were misunderstandings before."

In another important development, the executive council authorized Meany to challenge Teamsters President James R. Hoffa by chartering a truck drivers local in Puerto Rico.

The Teamsters, with 160 members already on the Caribbean island, have created considerable stir with organizing plans to which Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and the Catholic church have expressed opposition.

22 City Stores Now Will Offer Free Parking

Beginning today, 22 downtown merchants will offer free parking facilities to their customers.

Shoppers may park in any of the downtown parking lots which will display a Downtown Park and Shop seal. When making a purchase, the customer will present a parking ticket to the clerk who will put a one-hour stamp on it.

Those who shop more than one hour may ask another store for a free stamp. Thus, free parking can be obtained for as many hours as are needed.

The merchants participating in the project are Arthur's Women's Apparel, Alicia Bridal Salon, Barnett's Clothes Shop, Backenstose Bookstore, Sam Benson's Manufacturing Clothing Outlet, Bobette Hosiery & Corset Shop, Connolly's Jewelers, Dickinson's Men's Wear, Diem's Shoes, Eppert's Camera Shop, Georges Newport's, and Hub Clothiers.

Others are Jacobsen's Flowers, Margaret Ann Shop, Osmin's Men's Wear, Fred N. Pauli Co. Jewelers, Peggy's Women's Apparel, Philip's Luggage & Sporting Goods, Rapp's National Clothing, Shaws Jewelers, Wiggs Gift's and Colony Shop and Wyman Furniture Company.

Democrat Complains

MAKES PROTEST — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) poses at the Capitol before making a speech in which he protested that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas runs the party program in the Senate without consulting other Democratic senators.

Dems Fail to Back Proxmire

Johnson Foe Stands Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—A campaign by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) to clip the authority of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas remained a one-man effort today.

No other senator publicly backed Proxmire's demand in the Senate Monday for revival of party caucuses to direct and control the party leaders. He said Johnson is exercising "immense powers" without responsibility to anybody but the voters of Texas.

Proxmire, who himself once praised Johnson as the second most powerful man in government, said he will discuss in a later speech the implications of Johnson's leadership "and the power it has generated."

Proxmire's chief complaint was that the individual Democrats have no voice in determining which legislation is to be brought before the Senate for a vote.

Johnson operates in such instances with a nine-member policy committee he heads and whose members he appoints. Some Senate liberals feel this group is weighted on the conservative side.

Seek Adult Trial for Area Youth

16-Year-Old Accused in Brutal Gang Beating of Man, 52

Authorities said today they would seek an adult trial for a 16-year-old Waterford Township youth accused of participating in the gang beating and robbery of a 52-year-old man.

A hearing is scheduled before Juvenile Judge Arthur E. Moore tomorrow morning.

The Prosecutor's Office has filed a petition with juvenile court, asking Judge Moore to waive jurisdiction over Gregory Clover, 16, of 415 Manning St., allowing Circuit Court to try him on a charge of unarmed robbery.

"This is one of North Oakland County's first and worst cases of gang mugging," said Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor. "We want to treat this youth as strictly as possible, to put a stop to juvenile mugging before it gets started."

The youth is accused of luring Herman Westphal to a dark spot on Old Orchard road in Waterford Township early Jan. 31, where he was so severely beaten by five township toughs that he was hospitalized six days. Westphal was robbed of $15.

Clover is held in Oakland County Juvenile Home, while four other teenagers are held in Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond each. They are to be arraigned this afternoon before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland on charges of unarmed robbery.

Held are Wendel Trager, 17, of 7220 Ida Terrace; Dale Owens, 17, of 5538 Clinton River Dr.; Robert Willey, 17, of 2068 Denby Dr.; and Glenn Rabreau, 18, of 618 River-view Dr.

work in the Soviet Union. He and Macmillan were not expected to meet.

Moscow newspapers gave Macmillan the warmest reception since his arrival Saturday.

The Communist party organ Pravda and government paper Izvestia carried front page photographs of Monday's formal meeting between the two leaders and devoted nearly two of their six pages to recounting Macmillan's activities and speeches.

The papers and Moscow radio also gave full play to Monday night's dinner at the British Embassy, where Khrushchev hailed Macmillan as a man of peace.

Snow Goes East After Dumping Foot in Midwest

By The Associated Press

A damaging snow storm which sped across the Midwest to the North Atlantic coast was confined to sections in the Northeast today but was losing most of its power. Skies cleared across most sections hit by the storm, which dumped up to a foot of snow in many Midwest and Northeast areas, disrupting communications and slowing traffic. Along the northern edge of the storm center snow fell from the lower Great Lakes region eastward into New England. Falls ranged up to eight inches in some places.

Rain and cloudy skies were reported in the eastern states and Gulf region but the rains tapered off during the early morning. New Orleans was doused with 2 1/2 inches of rain in a thunderstorm. Temperatures advanced but it was fairly cold in the extreme northeast with readings in the teens. They were in the 60s in Florida and southern Texas.

Pontiac General Denies Empty Beds

areas in the torn up east wing have been reclaimed for bed use, and (2) how the new west wing is being used even beyond its maximum designed capacity.

The hospital would lose money, not make it, if it attempted to reclaim more of the idle east wing, Euler said. And as for putting more beds in the west wing, there are beds in the hallways there now.

"The hospital makes money on hallway beds, it is true," Euler said. "But we don't put them there to make money, but to meet the need for bed space."

In use in the east wing since last fall are 32 beds on the third and fourth floors. These are along the West Huron street side of the building, immediately adjacent to patient areas in the west wing.

Euler pointed out that the hospital spent only $3,000 to put these areas into shape for patients, and that the areas are close to west wing nursing stations.

"They therefore require only a minimum number of additional nursing employees," he pointed out.

Other east wing areas that might be used temporarily would cost far more money to fix up and are so remote from the west wing they would each require fully staffed nursing stations, pushing the hospital's overhead costs up beyond potential profit, the hospital director said.

Throughout most of the east wing walls have been ripped out, ceilings laid bare, and plumbing and wiring fixtures removed.

The scars of the remodeling project are everywhere; the wing bears more resemblance to a bombed-out building than a hospital.

Remodeling halted last fall when it was discovered that east wing heating, wiring and plumbing installations were defective for the most part and had to be replaced.

But the city hadn't budgeted any funds for such replacements, estimated to cost between $350,000 and $400,000. That's why the hospital is seeking the $300,000 grant.

Intended primarily as a patient area, the remodeled east wing is designed for 155 patients and could accommodate up to a maximum of 174, architects figure.

Meanwhile, the west wing is accommodating around 232 patients, Euler said, although it was designed to hold only 198 comfortably and 216 under maximum conditions.

In addition to the 232 figure, the hospital sometimes has as many as 10 more beds in hallways in the children's ward, Euler added.

"Our occupancy at present is up to 97 per cent, although 85 per cent is considered ideal from the standpoint of patient care," said Euler.

"It's hard to see how the hospital could be criticized for not using available space, taking standards of patient care and economy into consideration."

Proxmire Questions Power of Johnson

Ore) accused Proxmire of turning against a benefactor by attacking Johnson, and said that Proxmire had joined in praising Johnson when he was running for office last year. He said Proxmire had "battered up" Johnson and sought favors from him.

Neuberger recalled that he himself had stepped aside so that Proxmire could go on the Senate Agriculture Committee because Johnson had said that would help the Wisconsin senator get elected.

Behind the scenes there were other Democrats who obviously agreed with Proxmire that they have surrendered to Johnson sweeping authority never before so concentrated in a party chieftain. But these Democrats avoided publicly airing their views.

Proxmire himself said in an interview he had been told by some other Senators they were in sympathy with his views. But he said he wouldn't name them publicly.

He said he hadn't discussed his speech in advance with Democratic colleagues because "I felt it wouldn't be fair to involve them in something that might make difficulties for them with the leadership."

In this connection, one Democratic critic of Proxmire who didn't want his name used, quipped that the Wisconsin senator had picked Washington's Birthday to "make his farewell address."

Senators most familiar with Johnson's operations said, however, they expect the majority leader to bend over backwards in public efforts to demonstrate he is being fair to Proxmire and others who may view his leadership as something less than fully satisfactory to them.

Johnson himself was in Texas, confined to his home with influenza. Aldes said it was not likely he would have any public comment.

Cited for 25 Years' Service Honor 166 Pontiac Motor Employees

One hundred and sixty-six Pontiac Motor employees, with 25-year service records amounting to a combined total of 4,150 years, are being honored by the Division during February.

"The unusual high number of Pontiac men and women completing the quarter century service mark is the result of a large post-depression hiring in early 1934," explained George M. Watson, personnel director.

"The size of the group still with us today presents a gratifying picture of long-time company loyalty," he asserted.

While local residents cuss the weatherman for one of the hardest winters in years, one Pontiac family is very proud of the much-maligned weatherman.

But he is not the man responsible for burying the Pontiac area under sleet and snow for the past months. He is the supervisory meteorologist at the Radiation Reconnaissance Branch, Aerial Reconnaissance Laboratory, Wright Air Development Center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Former Pontiac resident, Wilson A. Maxim was one of 10 young men in government in the nation to win an Arthur S. Flemming Award, which is jointly sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D. C., and the American Security and Trust Co. of Washington.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Athanas Maxim of 337 E. Beverly Ave.

Maxim, 37, was honored for "unusual and outstanding work accomplished in connection with two classified, high priority reconnaissance aircraft instrumentation programs."

Previously there was no meteorological instrumentation available that would operate automatically at the desired altitudes. Maxim was considered the only engineer within the Aerial Reconnaissance Laboratory who could produce the required instrumentation packages within the extremely short deadline established by the Air Force.

The citation reads: "It was Maxim's professional ability and foresight, plus his dedication to the engineering fields of avionics

The Day in Birmingham Expect Salary Increases for 2 Municipal Judges

BIRMINGHAM — A salary increase will be forthcoming for Birmingham's two municipal judges.

Commissioners last night asked for a study and recommendation from City Manager L. R. Gare after Judge John C. Emery Jr. pointed out that the annual wage of $1,875 for judge and $450 for the associate judge are the lowest in the area.

Emery told officials that while the number of court cases has increased, he feels that part-time services can continue for some years to come.

Gare's recommended subsidy plan for the operation of an ambulance service in the city were approved.

Officials considered the subsidy plan last year when it was learned the city again faced the possibility of being without ambulance service.

After funeral homes discontinued emergency service about five years ago, outside ambulance companies were used. Slow service in many cases was pointed out by the large number of police calls to take accident victims to hospitals.

When the Birmingham Ambulance Service began operating here these conditions improved. However, late last year the company informed the city that a backlog of unpaid bills threatened their future.

The person or persons who broke into the McClellan-Ball Garden Supply store at 850 S. Woodward Ave. last night can well believe that crime does not pay. Police said that 35 cents taken from a desk drawer was all that was missing.

Entry was made through a back window.

At the Princeton Prep Shop, 237 Pierce St., a box containing 27 new suits was stolen over the weekend.

Owner William Wizner reported the theft to police today. He said the new shipment was valued at about $500.

In a third weekend robbery, thieves ransacked the Bennett McCarthy home at 651 Abbey Rd.

McCarthy told police this morning a typewriter, an 8-mm movie projector, two 22-caliber rifles, a portable TV set, a folding travel iron, a lady's white gold sapphire ring and about $70 in cash was missing.

The newly formed Birmingham Chamber Music Group will present a concert tomorrow afternoon in the Grinnell Auditorium.

The concert will feature Mark Wesell, Orchard Lake composer, in a flute solo, several other soloists and the Legros vocal group. The public is invited.

Kappa Delta Alumnae of South Oakland County will hold a fashion show and bridge party at the Community House at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Funds will go to the Pontiac Crippled Children's Home.

Fashions by Suzette of Birmingham will be presented in a southern colonial mansion setting.

Police Hold Son of Campanella

Arrested With 17 More in Gang Fight Over Bowling Alley 'Rights'

NEW YORK (AP) — A son of former Dodger catcher Roy Campanella and 17 other youths were arrested Monday after a gang fight.

David Campanella, 15, was charged with juvenile delinquency.

Police said he was a leader of a gang called "the Chaplains," who challenged another gang to a fight over "rights" to hang around a bowling alley in Flushing, Queens.

Police said the gangs arranged to meet Monday, to settle the issue.

Police spotted about 30 boys in a vacant lot and investigated. Six who were fighting, including Campanella, were taken in with 12 others.

Campanella and three others under 16 were charged with juvenile delinquency. The older boys were charged with disorderly conduct. No one was injured.

Police said "the Chaplains" gang was made up largely of Negro and Spanish-speaking youths. Campanella is a Negro. The other boys involved in the fight were white.

Bob Considine Says:

No Stockholder Shortage at the Nile-Hilton

CAIRO — The new Nile-Hilton Hotel, which opened here the other day on the river of the same name, has more stockholders than Notre Dame has volunteer alumni.

Some 18,500, 90 per cent of them Egyptians, hold shares in the six-million-dollar, 12-story, 400-room pleasure dome.

All are guaranteed 5 per cent of their investment by the government of Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Conrad Hilton's international section of his hotel empire will spoon one-third off the top for the supply of the savvy. That is his standard fee for operating these nationalistic inns here and there about the earth.

To date, none of the local yokels has complained, perhaps for the simple reason that they have sense enough to know they couldn't make a go of the operation themselves.

Hilton operates a school for this sort of thing. Each hotel has a kind of general staff of officers who belong to the equivalent of his diplomatic corps.

Under them are the specially trained and geared assistant managers, local talent, and below that echelon are the help.

More than 5,000 persons, the vast majority of them in the position of saying "I never had it so good" now work at Hilton hotels in Puerto Rico, Panama, Havana, Mexico City, Madrid, Istanbul and Berlin.

Before very long another 5,000 will bear the Hilton brand in Rome, Athens, Tokyo, Baghdad, Amsterdam, Rotterdam and perhaps even London and Paris.

There is less turnover in those Hilton jobs around the earth than there is in the Harvard Club. Nobody ever quits.

The Nile-Hilton took four years to build. Its opening was postponed more by the breaking of purchased bathtubs and other production bugs than by the abortive efforts of an Israeli, Anglo-French army to unseat Nasser.

Blind Ex-Mechanic Earns His Doctorate

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — After 11 years in college, Stanley P. Zarlock, a former mechanic who lost his sight in 1943, has his doctor's degree in psychology.

The 34-year-old Phi Beta Kappa received it at the University of Buffalo's mid-year commencement Monday, while his wife and friends watched proudly.

"These are the people who made it possible for me to be here," Zarlock said.

After the factory accident that blinded him, Zarlock learned Braille and typing. His wife and friends helped by reading assignments to him. His wife also worked as a kindergarten teacher.

Four months ago he accepted a post as clinical psychologist at the Lexington, Ky., Veterans Hospital.

The U. S. Public Health Service is the principal federal health agency.

Nasser had a lot to say directly or indirectly about how this hotel was built.

In line with his practice of trying to remain ruggedly independent so far as his leanings toward either East or West are concerned, he decreed that the markets of the East must not be neglected by the various contractors.

Thus we have a hotel that could easily be called the Hilton-United Nations or some such, even though some of the countries which helped to build it are not members of the club.

For example, most of the plumbing which cannot be seen, but certainly can be heard, was fabricated in the Soviet Union.

All the heavy woodwork in the beautiful place came from Russia too. Red China supplied the tiled bathroom floors, or most of them, but just to show sheer impartiality other tiles were ordered from East and West Germany and from Italy and Spain.

Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia came up with the hardwood floors and the glassware—a certain portion of which later has been dropped on the former by puzzled Egyptians trying to learn how to be waiters.

Not to be denied, the United States produced locks, hinges and doorknobs. It backed away when asked to bid on the nice hieroglyphics mosaic tile mural which spreads 280 feet across the face of the hotel. It says Nile-Hilton, or at least that's what they told Connie.

You don't need a very clear day to see the Pyramids from the upper floors of the Nile-Hilton. Today we were buzzed by an Egyptian air force helicopter which chattered past our seventh-floor balcony and threw out some leaflets praising Marshal Tito, who is President Nasser's guest at the moment.

In the street below there was a mighty scramble for the leaflets, accompanied by the screech of brakes and the demented blowing of horns.

Motorists in Cairo are not bothered by turning in their cars each year and getting a new model. They simply buy a new model horn. It is always louder than the last one.

Interesting joint.

You're Right, Men—Working Gals Are Older

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American working girl is growing older. Half the women in this country holding jobs outside the home are over 40, whether they admit it or not.

We are advised to have our teeth checked every six months, but more than 53 million Americans haven't visited their dentist in more than a year.

One of the things that annoys the average farmer is that 10 per cent of his investment is tied up in fences. And what can you grow on a fence?

Millionaire's woes: If someone gave you a million one-dollar bills, and you counted them at the rate of one a second for a full eight-hour day, five days a week, it would take you nearly seven weeks to find out how wealthy you were. But it's nice work if you can get it.

Security for You

1 Adult Out of 7 Is Over 65

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Take the Census Bureau's word:

One out of every 12 Americans is at least 65, compared with one out of 15 in 1940. Among adults, the ratio is now one out of seven.

The number of people now at least 65—15 million—is about equal to the combined population of the nation's three largest cities—New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Among the 49 states, Vermont has the highest percentage of people 65 or older. Alaska, just two months old, has the lowest.

These are just some of the facts about the older generation recently uncovered by the Census Bureau.

Probably the most surprising of the Bureau's discoveries is how the states rank in a comparison of their percentages of people 65 or older. The figures are for July 1, 1957, the latest compiled.

California and Florida, both thought of as densely populated with older people, didn't even rank among the first ten with high percentages of people 65 or older.

FLORIDA RATES 11TH

Florida ranked 11th with 10.2 per cent of its citizens at least 65. California with 8.5 per cent tied for 27th with Idaho and Colorado. The nationwide average is 8.8 per cent.

Vermont with its first ranking had 11.6 per cent of its people at least 65. Iowa came second with 11.2 per cent and New Hampshire was third with 11 per cent.

Except for Arkansas (10.5), Oklahoma (10.3) and Florida, all of the top 15 states were either in the Midwest or New England. Arkansas with 9th and Oklahoma 10th.

Even though California ranked fairly low in percentage of older people, it did rank second in total number of people 65 or over with 1,152,000. New York topped all states in total number of older people with nearly a million and a half. Pennsylvania was third with 1,025,000.

Both Florida and Arkansas have had amazing increases in the percentage of older people since 1950. Arkansas now has 2.8 per cent more older people now than it had in 1950 and Florida has 1.6 per cent more.

The Census Bureau says the reason Florida and California don't rank higher in percentage of people at least 65—despite the large number migrating to these states—is that large numbers of younger people are also moving to them.

Thus, the migrations of the two age groups tend to offset one another.

The main reason the Midwest and New England have high percentages of older people is that younger people are moving out and the death rate of older people is fairly low compared with other regions.

On the other hand, the Southern states—on the whole—aren't high in the percentages of people 65 or over because their birth rate is high and the death rate among older people is higher than the other areas.

OTHER STATES

Here's how the states not already mentioned rated in percentage of people 65 or over on July 1, 1957:

Maine (10.9); Missouri and Kansas (10.8); Massachusetts (10.7); Nebraska (10.8); Minnesota (9.9); Rhode Island and South Dakota (9.8); Wisconsin (9.6); Washington, Oregon, Montana, Illinois and Connecticut (9.4).

New York and Pennsylvania (9.3); Indiana (9.1); Kentucky (9.0); Ohio (8.9); New Jersey (8.8); North Dakota (8.4); West Virginia (8.3); Mississippi (8.1); Tennessee (8.0); Wyoming (7.7); Alabama (7.6).

Michigan (7.4); Delaware (7.3); Texas (7.2); Georgia (7.1); Virginia (7.0); Maryland and Louisiana (6.9); Arizona (6.8); North Carolina and Utah (6.4); South Carolina (6.2); New Mexico (6.0); Nevada (5.1); Alaska (4.4).

It's wonderful to feel cared for Little Joe got in a fight today. He's not hurt... but he is kind of scared about what mom will say when she spots his black eye. And he's sure glad his brother Tom is around. Everybody needs someone to turn to. And lots of people turn to Blue Cross-Blue Shield for protection. Of course it won't cover the cost of a steak for Joe's black eye... but whenever it's really needed... it's there. Joe and Tom deserve Blue Cross-Blue Shield health care... your family, too. And the new "M-75" medical plan gives you more protection than ever. You do have it, don't you?

Flu Outbreak Threatens Detroit, Says Official

DETROIT (AP) — An outbreak of influenza, similar to last year's Asian flu, is threatening Detroit, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city-county health commissioner said today.

Dr. Molner reported thirty per cent of the students at Garfield School were absent yesterday and a phone check disclosed seven out of 10 of the absentees had flu symptoms.

West Dearborn already has experienced heavy school absenteeism due to flu, Dr. Molner said.

Dr. Molner warned parents to make certain their children eat hearty meals during the flu season and said persons developing flu symptoms should stay in bed.

Her body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

The baby was dead at birth yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

GERALD BATES

LAKE ORION — Gerald Bates, 27, of Flint, died Feb. 9 in Battle Creek, it was learned today. Funeral service was held Feb. 12, with burial in Glenwood Cemetery, Flint.

Mr. Bates is survived by his wife, Lois, 124 Grandview St., Lake Orion; his mother and two brothers.

EVERETT E. BRUNER

SOUTH LYON — Service for Everett E. Bruner, 42, of South Lyon, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Phillips Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Salem-Walker Cemetery, Salem Township.

Mr. Bruner died Sunday at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor following a two week illness.

He was employed at the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. here. Surviving are his wife, Jean; three sons, Everett E. Jr., Robert and James, and a daughter, Debra, all at home; two brothers, and four sisters.

PEGGY D. ROBERTS

AVON TOWNSHIP — Graveside service for Peggy Darlene Roberts, the stillborn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse P. Roberts of 2791 Leach Rd., was held at Perry Mount Park Cemetery in Pontiac this morning.

The baby died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, Sunday. Only the parents survive. Funeral arrangements were handled by the Moore Chapel of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Auburn Heights.

GEORGE E. WOOD

OXFORD — Service for George E. Wood, 31, of 24 Glaspie St., will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Bossardet and Reid Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Ridgeland Cemetery.

Mr. Wood was dead on arrival at Lapeer County General Hospital Sunday following an auto accident on M21, five miles west of Lapeer.

He was a member of the Oxford Methodist Church and employed in the planning department of Consumers Power Company.

Surviving are his wife, Joyce; two daughters, Kay and Susan, of the same address; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Wood of Hault, West Indies; two brothers, and a sister.

Sage Dressing Teams Well With Pork Chops

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The meat counters are full of delicious looking pork chops. They make a wonderful meal with a casserole of dressing, lightly flavored with sage.

Mrs. William E. Teague is today's cook. Golf is her favorite hobby.

PORK CHOPS WITH DRESSING

By Mrs. William E. Teague
4-6 pork chops
3 eggs, unseasoned

1 medium onion, chopped fine
1/2 teaspoon salt or to taste
1 tablespoon sage
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 1/2 cups stale bread crumbs

Salt and pepper chops. Mix rest of ingredients together, adding enough warm water to moisten crumbs so that dressing can be mixed easily.

Put dressing in lightly greased casserole. Place pork chops on top. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour, turning chops once when brown. Serves six.

Ignore Jealous Girl Friend—Abby

Caught 2 Chicks With One Stone

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Am I foolish for accepting an engagement ring from a fellow who came right out and admitted that it was the same ring he gave a girl two years ago? He said they agreed to break the engagement and that was all. I didn't ask any questions because I figured it was none of my business. I didn't know this fellow when he was engaged to her so what do I care? My girl friend said I was a ninny for accepting the ring he gave her. What is your opinion?"

ENGAGED AND HAPPY

DEAR ENGAGED: If a man can tell two birds (chicks, that is) with one stone, there is no harm in it. You've got the right attitude. I think your girl friend is jealous.

"DEAR ABBY: If they gave a prize to the world's biggest liar, I'm sure my husband would win it. He's an automobile salesman and his job makes it possible for him to meet lots of lonely ladies at all hours. He stayed out until six o'clock in the morning with a woman he sold a car to and had the nerve to tell me that nothing happened.

"A man doesn't stay out till six in the morning holding hands. He said she was married and her husband was along. I found out she was divorced and they were alone. He said she paid CASH for the car and I found a contract which said 'Terms: Monthly Payments.' What would you advise?"

SALESMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tell him if he pulls any more shenanigans like that he can send his support check in the mail. When he has two rent bills to pay (his and yours) the extra-marital activities won't look so good to him.

"DEAR ABBY: Our little club consists of a few ladies who have known each other for years. We have one member who gets my goat. Whenever she goes to somebody else's house she goes on an 'inspection' tour for dirt. She even looks behind the washing machine to see what's back there. She looks into closets and drawers.

"Don't you think she should sit in the living room until she is invited to see something? Also is it correct to say, 'I enjoyed the meeting very much. Everything looks so nice and clean'?"

DEAR BEA: Little people are always looking for little particles of dust and dirt. It's a sickness. Ignore her remarks and remember her in your prayers.

"DEAR ABBY: I wonder do teenagers realize that when they hold up a telephone line for needless re-hashing of boy friends, clothes and other nonsense, a life may be at stake? The teenagers have tied up our telephone circuits so completely that it is often impossible to reach a whole section. Please print this. It may save a life."

REGISTERED NURSE

DEAR NURSE: I agree that there is a lot of idle chatter on the wires by both teenagers and adults, but all one need do in order to put through an 'emergency call' is to ask for the telephone supervisor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORKED SICK: Have your mother take you to a doctor at once. The only thing that's incurable is ignorance.

Healthy Attitude Places Emphasis on Others

Trouble May Result If 'Self' Is Center

NEW YORK (UPI)—A psychiatric expert on routine human affairs has put a finger on a big reason why some people get into trouble with other people on a regular and highly repetitious basis.

The reason is they begin their thought processes with an error so enormous it is pretty much like beginning some complicated arithmetic with the idea that one and one equals 27, said Dr. Edmund Bergler.

The error is "placing the accent on oneself," he continued. While it is perfectly true the favorite topic of people is self, "too much concentration on self has many disadvantages," he said.

STARTS WITH 'INSULT'

He limited himself to only one, but one which escaped the attention of previous scientific analysts of the workings of the mind. This is the disadvantage of feeling insulted or affronted for no sound reason.

The affronted person begins his thought processes with his "own lovable self." He begins with the question "How can he (the affronted-giver) do this to me?" and this automatically makes all further deliberations stemming from the 'insult' worthless.

By starting the thought processes with self, the insulted person "bypasses the fact that the other fellow, the offender, uses the identical priority list, and therefore places himself on top," Bergler said in a report to the technical journal, "dis-eases of the nervous system."

"A matter that should be explained in terms of the other fellow's needs and motivations is consequently twisted into a personal problem of self. This 'little error' has far-reaching after-effects," by causing the affronted one to torture himself with his own thoughts.

CASE IN POINT

To illustrate, he described one needlessly affronted person, a woman executive who was beside herself because the boss for an entire day had been "impossible and insulting."

Usually the man was "rather pleasant and considerate." And on this bad day, he had been ill-humored with everyone, not with the woman alone. Then the question became: Why did the woman take it personally?

What's more, she had overheard the man kowtowing to his wife on the phone—he was making a carpet of himself.

She was an intelligent woman and she had the facts. She should have figured out that the boss had been thoroughly licked in a crisis with the wife, Bergler said.

To compensate himself for his humiliating meekness with the wife, he had played the tough guy with the office help.

BLINDED BY SELF-PITY

If the woman employee hadn't started her thought processes with self, she would have seen through it—and spared herself a lot of miserable thoughts. But if she had done that, she would have deprived herself of the pleasures of self-pity.

"In short, an emotional situation such as that faced by a person who has met with an 'affront,' obscures factual thinking," Bergler said. "One has to accept the dreary truth that people unconsciously misuse one another for the sake of solving their inner conflicts."

Art of Conversation May Be Lost to TV

Saw a little news item in the paper the other day about a man who told his TV repairman that he had a real emergency at his house.

The TV set and the radio had gone on the blink the same day and he had been forced to spend a whole evening in conversation with his wife.

Too bad he was in such a hurry to get the noisemakers back in working order. If he had let them stay silent for a few weeks he and his wife might have found a lot of interesting things to do.

They could have seen a few movies, visited friends, read some books, or could have found time to pursue a hobby together. They might have enjoyed a play, concert, a lecture, an art exhibit, or enrolled in a course of study.

No telling what a few weeks of being forced to entertain themselves might have done for them. But instead they got the TV and radio repaired. Now they can go on looking to them for entertainment to keep them from facing the fact that they haven't anything to talk about.

If they had just stuck it out a little while and found some interests to take the place of TV watching, in no time at all they would have had plenty to talk about.

Husbands and wives who are busy doing things together don't have trouble making conversation. It's the ones who sit hypnotized before a TV set night after night who have little of interest to say to each other.

A TV repairman once told me—after I assured him that he could fix our set whenever he got around to it—that I would be amazed at how many people would become frantic if they had to wait a day or two to get a TV set repaired. If they'd wait a month to get the thing fixed—they might find out what they've been missing.

Scared to Drive on Icy Roads? Here Are Tips

EVERETT, Mass. (UPI)—Samuel Sheldon is one man who teaches women drivers instead of teasing them.

As automotive research director for a metal working company, Sheldon gives women these pointers on driving in winter weather:

Highways are more slippery when temperatures are at or slightly above freezing than at low temperatures. Driving tests have shown that a motorist traveling at 20 miles an hour could stop a car at 110-feet on ice when the temperature was at zero. When the temperature rose to 30 degrees, it took the driver 250-feet to stop.

BEWARE BRIDGES

Beware of bridges because ice can form when wind whips under and over the road, even though the temperature is above freezing. Shaded areas on hills also are dangerous, Sheldon said.

When driving on slippery roads, do not brake jerkily, step on the gas or let up the pedal suddenly. When shifting gears, slow down first, then pump brakes.

Do not drive more than 35 miles an hour on icy roads.

If the car skids, turn the wheel gently in the direction in which the back wheels are sliding. Avoid braking, because the wheels will lock. Keep the clutch engaged and do not lift your foot suddenly from the accelerator.

Dry Chenille Robes in Separate Load

Since chenille robes are generally heavy and hold a great deal of moisture, it is best to dry them in a separate load. Thoroughly spin dry first in washer to remove as much moisture as possible.

For extra fluffiness, remove robe from dryer as soon as drying cycle ends. This prevents any possibility of wrinkles being heat set. Shake out and hang up immediately.

Eastern Star Plans Friendship Night

SOUTHFIELD—Chapter 519, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a Friendship Night to commemorate the United Nations tomorrow at 8 in the Birmingham Masonic Temple.

Miniature replicas of both the U.N. General Assembly Auditorium and the Major Conference Chambers Building surrounded by 80 U.N. flags, will be featured.

Officers of 23 chapters in Oakland County will be guests and assist in the exemplification of degrees.

Only Contest in Utica for JP

Three Seek Justice Job in March 2 Primary Lacking in Rivalries

UTICA—The only contest in the city primary election March 2 will be for justice of the peace. The three who have filed for the position are E. James McClellan, incumbent, and Richard Seymour and Carl Kohnmann.

Edward R. Church has filed to run for another term as mayor, and Assessor Louis Ruby and Treasurer Dora Hahn also will be unopposed.

Those who have filed for the three council seats are incumbent William Kraft Jr. and Herbert B. Rhodes, Kenneth Phifer and Marvin C. Stadler.

Present councilman Joseph Francis and Omar Hefterich, whose terms expire this year, have announced they will not be candidates for re-election.

Candidates for the two constable vacancies are Frank Coluzzi, incumbent, and Carl E. Albrecht.

The non-partisan general election will be April 6.

Myrtle Harmon, Brooks Beaty Wed Saturday

SOUTH LYON—The First Missionary Baptist Church here was the site of the marriage Saturday evening of Myrtle Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Echlie Harmon of 204 W. Liberty St., to Brooks Beaty.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beaty of 413 Beale St.

The couple was married by the Rev. Marion E. Sherrill of the church.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over white satin with a fitted lace bodice under a long sleeved jacket. A finger tip veil was held by a crown trimmed in lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Janet Peeryhouse of South Lyon was the maid of honor and ushers were Philip and Russell Peeryhouse of South Lyon.

The reception, immediately following the 7 p.m. ceremony, was held in the church dining room for the 100 guests.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will live with the bride's parents.

The bridegroom was graduated from the York Institute at Jamestown, Tenn.

Nearly $500,000 Raised to Help Camp Oakland

Camp Oakland continues to grow—and prosper.

The report for 1958 is in. Contributions run $76,000 and this brings the grand total just short of $500,000.

One of the most amazing two-men projects in the country has resulted in this great half million dollar contribution to juvenile advancement in Oakland County. Walter Gehrke of Pleasant Ridge and Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore started with nothing but an idea and a realization of the great handicaps that many underprivileged boys and girls were facing in this section.

Their interest and devotion beyond the call of duty resulted in today's Camp Oakland. No "official" or public campaign has ever been staged. These two men have done all of the soliciting quietly and informally. They have set some sort of a local, state, national and international record for effective fund raising. Approximately 2,100 different gifts have been received in cash and about 400 in goods and services.

The current objective is to furnish the Girls' Ranch. Money for the building is largely in hand but the institution needs cash for the interior.

Avon Dems to Meet

Registering to Vote in Spring Election

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Residents of White Lake Township who failed to register for the primary election will have the opportunity to do so for the general election in April, Bert A. McKeachie, township clerk, announced today.

Registration hours for the biennial spring election will be 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow; 7 to 9 p.m. March 3; 10 a.m. to noon March 7 and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 9. With two tickets in the field for the April 6 election, a large vote is anticipated in the township, he added. Total primary election vote was 518.

Over-Extending Itself, Says Lawmaker

Raps MSU Extension Service

LANSING (UPI)—Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) today reopened his campaign for a "thorough examination" of the Agricultural Extension Service at Michigan State University.

Strange was critical of expenditures in fields which he said appeared "to stretch extension beyond its generally understood scope of necessary service to rural life."

The youthful (24) lawmaker stirred a tempest last year when he first questioned MSU's well-trenched practice of publishing pamphlets of such subjects as How to Plan a Tea Party.

Organized farm groups generally rallied to the defense of MSU officials, who said the pamphlets were part of the University's Home Economics Extension Service, and therefore within the bounds of propriety and legislative intent. MSU also noted the projects were supported in a large part by federal funds.

Strange, who represents a substantially agricultural area in Central Michigan, eased off on his campaign late in the 1958 session "because it was clearly evident there would be no automatic increase in extension appropriations in view of the severe revenue shortages."

The Clare County tree farmer said MSU's bid for increased funds, coupled with Michigan's current cash crisis "makes it necessary to review carefully the expenditure of public funds."

The Legislature last year appropriated $2,110,000 to MSU "agricultural" Extension Service. Gov. G. Mennen Williams this year has requested $2,610,498 for the "co-operative" extension service.

"In a period of high budget requests, low revenues and bitter public resentment toward any new taxes, a strict definition of this program must be forthcoming," Strange said.

"Elimination of frills in the extension service will demand not only the cooperation but the leadership of Michigan farm organizations," he said. "Now more than ever it is important to determine if activities are basic, necessary functions of state government."

Strange emphasized he was not opposed to the basic concepts of agricultural extension.

But he said he was against "the trend of this and other programs toward paternalism."

"Sticking a father-knows-best pipette into every nook and cranny of our daily living is a big departure from the Smith-Lever Act of 1914 which better enabled the U.S. Department of Agriculture to foster scientific research through our land grant colleges," Strange said.

There may be hundreds of boys with the same idea, but few have had the personal contact with as many top-ranking politicians as has young Havel. And that's pretty important in politics.

When Jim requested an autograph of the chancellor of West Germany, Konrad Adenauer immediately instructed the German consul in Detroit, Dr. Friedenberg, to see that the signature was delivered to Jim personally.

It was a memorable day for the youth when he was escorted to the German Consul in Detroit and told that he was the first person in Michigan to receive an autographed picture of Adenauer.

As the first step into the political world, Jim now has his sights set on becoming a page in the House of Representatives and he has contacted U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland) requesting consideration for the position.

At present a township fire and police board sets the budget and governs the Fire Department.

The number of fire calls are on the upswing and the special allocation of funds for fire protection now falls to cover expenses, township officials claim.

If the proposal for the special district is approved in the April 6 election, the assessment will appear on the tax rolls next December, Helen M. Jencks, township clerk, noted today.

Suspect Stove in $20,000 Fire

Farm Warehouse Burns South of Almont; Corn, Equipment Lost

ALMONT—An overheated oil stove is suspected to have caused a $20,000 fire last night which destroyed the major portion of a combination warehouse and cold storage building on the Howard W. Hough farm, 6800 Hough Rd., one mile south of here.

Two thousand bushels of corn, a sprayer, truck and other equipment were lost in the blaze, Romeo State Police reported today.

Damage to 5,000 bushels of apples stored in the north end of the building has not been determined yet, police said.

Romeo and Almont fire departments fought the blaze in the bitter cold to succeed in saving adjacent farm buildings as winds fanned the flames.

One fire truck was still standing by this morning as the corn continued to smolder.

Methodist Men's Club to Hear of Seaway

LAKE ORION—The Men's Club of the Lake Orion Methodist Church will hear a talk on the St. Lawrence Seaway at its regular dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the church house.

Speaker will be Douglas Truman, who will show a film entitled "The Eighth Sea" and charts on the seaway.

Walter Hampton will preside, and Martin Crothers will have charge of devotions. The meal will be served by a unit of the WSCS of the church.

PTA Historian Seeks Material on Earlier Days

WALLED LAKE—Mrs. Charles Wallace, historian of the Walled Lake Elementary School PTA, said today that she needs help to bring her records up to date.

Mrs. Wallace asks that charter and early members of the organization search their files for clippings and photographs of early events sponsored by the PTA, particularly in the period from 1951 to 1955.

The items may be sent to Mrs. Wallace at 1801 W. Lake Dr., Walled Lake.

Southfield Votes to Pay Road Fee

Asked for 1/4 of Cost for Two Widening Projects, About $7,000

SOUTHFIELD—The city council last night voted to pay its share of the Southfield, 12-Mile roads widening project.

Southfield and Lathrup are both being asked for one fourth of the cost—approximately $7,000 each. Half of the cost will be paid by Oakland County.

Council members agreed to share the expense of maintaining the three fire halls in the area with the township. Only one of the three stations is in the city. Approximately $15,000 each will be paid by the city and the township for 1959.

The council also agreed to continue the Police Pact with other South Oakland communities. The pact provides that men and equipment will be pooled in case of riots or other disasters.

Mayor Donald Swanson appointed Dr. Sander Klein to the Board of Health, replacing James Clarkson who is now serving as state representative at Lansing.

The Rev. Frank Gentile, pastor of Northwest Unitarian Universalist Church in Oak Park, was appointed to the library board.

Slate Lecture Series, Films on Family Life

Do you think your children argue too much? How important are material possessions to a successful family life? Can you think positively about altering the situation when you realize a shortcoming in your marriage? What qualities do your children need to prepare them for parenthood?

These four questions and many more about family life will be discussed during a series of four free classes sponsored by the Oakland County Home Economics Extension Council.

Donald Schroeder, director of family life for the Detroit Council of Churches, will conduct the four sessions which are open to the public.

Mrs. W. J. McCarthy, family life chairman of the council, reports the classes will be held for a maximum of 25 couples and registration should be made by Monday at the county extension office.

Dr. Schroeder will give lectures on developing maturity in children, handling tension in the home and growth toward adult maturity. Each lecture will be followed by small discussion groups concerning and films also will be shown.

The classes will be held for four Thursdays beginning at 8 p.m. March 5 at the Bethany Baptist Church in Pontiac.

They are presented by the Michigan State University sponsored Oakland County council.

Council Adopts Key Ordinance

Parke, Davis Will Pay $44,000 to Build Tower on Site It Donated

ROCHESTER—The village council last night adopted a bond ordinance for water improvements which will cover costs of construction of a 650,000-gallon storage tank and feeder mains on the site south of Parkdale road, east of the village limits.

The ordinance provides for issuance of revenue bonds in the amount of $280,000. The remainder of the total cost of $324,000 will be paid by Parke-Davis and Company.

The drug firm donated the site for the elevated tank and entered into an agreement with the village to share the cost of tank and main construction.

The water improvement program is scheduled to be started in May.

In other action, the developers of Rochester Meadows Subdivision requested that the amount in escrow required for improvements of the subdivision be lowered from the figures recommended by village officials.

Council members remained adamant in their stand that they must adhere to provisions outlined in the village's subdivision control ordinance which requires that all improvements be in before approval of a plat is given.

The developer said he would get bids on the items in question, and Village Manager Paul York agreed to revise his estimates accordingly, provided the bids were from reputable firms.

The council approved adoption of a schedule of inspection fees for space heating permits. A permit for an oil burner up to five gallons per hour will cost $5 and for a typical tank, up to 550 gallon capacity, $2. This would make the permit cost for a typical oil burner installation $7.

In the case of installation of a typical gas burner, the permit would cost $5.

These fees are slightly lower than those in effect in other neighboring communities. York said today.

Rummage Sale to Help Pay for Church Organ

GOODISON—The Adult Sunday School and the Adult Choir of Paint Creek Methodist Church will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the American Legion Hall, Fifth street, Rochester.

Sale hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, co-chairmen Mrs. Kenneth Major and Mrs. Willard Hoffman announced today.

Proceeds will be used to finish paying for the organ installed in the church last fall.

Arlene Dahl to Seek Divorce From Lamas

They were married June 25, 1954 in Las Vegas, Nev.

She formerly was married to Lex Barker, a screen Tarzan. Lamas is divorced from Lydia Lamas. Miss Dahl and Lamas have a year-old son.

Kings, Queens, Potentates in His 800-Autograph Collection

Milford Youth, 16, Has Global Political Hobby

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD—Although he has never traveled much, 16-year-old James Havel of 8634 Goldside Dr., has been in contact with political celebrities all over the world—right in his own living room.

With a collection of more than 800 personal autographs from kings, queens and presidents of foreign countries as well as American top-brass politicians, Jim has gained a reputation with his unique hobby.

Political maneuvering has always held a special fascination for the ambitious teenager, whose main object in life is to study political science, specializing in foreign service. He has a near-A average at Walled Lake High School.

It all began four years ago when his mother received a reply to a letter she sent to former President Harry Truman. Jim got such a kick out of seeing the actual handwriting of a former president of the United States that he decided to collect other bigwig signatures.

PASS TO SENATE

Among Jim's most prized autographs is a permanent gold-plated pass to the United States Senate, along with an invitation and program to President Eisenhower's inaugural ball in 1957.

Other possessions include signatures and pictures of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, former President Herbert Hoover, King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece, South Korean President Syngman Rhee and a special Christmas card from Premier Tito of Yugoslavia.

Also methodically filed in the big scrapbook are autographed pictures of Chiang Kai-shek and Karen Kassen, now premier of Iraq.

To obtain all the names and addresses of autograph-prospects, Jim purchased a 25 cent "Almanac of Who's Who," and through this medium, has broadened his perspective on political intrigue.

After he selects a name, Jim encloses his request for the autograph along with a self-addressed envelope, and a blank piece of paper. He explained that any person can send a letter airmail, to any country in the world for only 10 cents.

Many times celebrities have sent not only their signatures, but have enclosed personal pictures and data pertaining to their individual country as well. Franco of Spain was one of these considerate individuals, Jim said.

When Jim wrote and asked Joe Martin how he felt about being replaced as a House Minority leader, Martin's reply was that he wasn't downhearted — just relieved because now he could serve better as a representative for Massachusetts.

Recently at a church bazaar when Jim missed bidding on Gov. G. Mennen Williams' bowtie, he wrote to the Governor about the matter. Williams sent another bright polka-dot bowtie to the youth by return mail, along with a note of thanks.

JOB TO TRANSLATE

The young lad has become quite a handwriting "decipherer," according to his mother. "You have to really study some of the signatures, to know just who they are from," Jim said, "and when a foreign politician writes a note, too, it's a job translating the language," he added.

When Jim requested an autograph of the chancellor of West Germany, Konrad Adenauer immediately instructed the German consul in Detroit, Dr. Friedenberg, to see that the signature was delivered to Jim personally.

It was a memorable day for the youth when he was escorted to the German Consul in Detroit and told that he was the first person in Michigan to receive an autographed picture of Adenauer.

Proxmire Assails Democratic Leader

Senator Calls Johnson Undemocratic

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, Wisconsin Democrat who reportedly does 50 push-ups a day to keep in condition and who once won a boxing championship at Yale, has taken on a political heavyweight: Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

In the Senate, some take the attitude that everybody loves Lyndon and Lyndon loves everybody. The tall Texan is the leader of the Senate Democrats, and tries to shepherd them around like a big, happy family.

So when Proxmire, 43, laced into Johnson, 51, Monday it was like hearing a lieutenant tell the general he was getting too big for his britches.

His complaint in effect was that Johnson handles the Senate Democrats undemocratically. Proxmire said Johnson runs the party's program in the Senate without consulting the other Democrats.

"The typical Democratic senator has literally nothing to do with determining the legislative program and policies of this party in the Senate," he said.

Proxmire, who won the Senate seat of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy in 1957 and then won reelection to a full six-year term last year, demanded that the 64 Democratic senators be called together for a conference or caucus before major party decisions.

He said he thought that if Johnson had regular meetings with his fellow-Democrats it would improve the leadership.

None of this is likely to improve the popularity of Proxmire for two reasons:

1. He has started a family fight

Willy Ley Says Reds to Orbit Man Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rocket expert Willy Ley predicts a man, probably a Soviet citizen, will be put in orbit around the earth within two years.

The German-born scientist said a manned station will be established in space about six to eight years from now.

He told Los Angeles State College students Monday that American scientists will not send a human into orbit until every phase of getting him back to earth has been solved. He did not indicate whether he thought the Soviets would show equal concern for space pilots' safety.

among Democrats—much to the Republicans' delight.

2. Johnson, who sees to it that he does a lot of favors for his fellow Democrats, has a lot of loyal supporters among them.

And Johnson, a very sensitive and egotistical man, is hardly likely to enjoy getting his hair mussed. He was ill in Texas Monday but he didn't lack for friends to champion him against the Proxmire assault.

For instance: Sen. Richard Neuberger, Oregon Democrat, told Proxmire a man "should whistle the same tune all the time." He said Proxmire not only had received favors from Johnson in the past but had "probably buttered up the majority leader more than any other senator."

Proxmire, who considers himself a liberal, acknowledged having said many nice things about Johnson. Neuberger also considers himself a liberal.

Apparently the whole Democratic chain of command in the Senate has been irritating Proxmire. He was an Army lieutenant in World War II and, in length of Senate service, is still a lieutenant compared with the power that goes to oldtimers.

Senate plums—that is, committee chairmanships—are handed out not on the basis of ability but on length of service.

They go to those senators who manage to get re-elected often enough to outlast all those ahead of them on a committee. They then get the chairmanship automatically.

This is called the seniority system. On Feb. 2 Proxmire called on the Senate to abolish this system.

Proxmire isn't apt to make much of a dent in the way Johnson runs things. Other men before Proxmire have complained bitterly about the seniority system but the system has outlasted all of them.

Edward R. Church has filed to run for another term as mayor, and Assessor Louis Ruby and Treasurer Dora Hahn also will be unopposed.

Those who have filed for the three council seats are incumbent William Kraft Jr. and Herbert B. Rhodes, Kenneth Phifer and Marvin C. Stadler.

Present councilman Joseph Francis and Omar Helfrich, whose terms expire this year, have announced they will not be candidates for re-election.

Candidates for the two constable vacancies are Frank Coluzzi, incumbent, and Carl E. Albrecht.

The non-partisan general election will be April 6.

Myrtle Harmon, Brooks Beaty Wed Saturday

SOUTH LYON — The First Missionary Baptist Church here was the site of the marriage Saturday evening of Myrtle Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Echelle Harmon of 204 W. Liberty St., to Brooks Beaty.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beaty of 413 Reese St.

The couple was married by the Rev. Marion E. Sherrill of the church.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over white satin with a fitted lace bodice under a long sleeved jacket. A fingertip veil was held by a crown trimmed in lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Janet Peeryhouse of South Lyon was the maid of honor and ushers were Philip and Russell Peeryhouse of South Lyon.

The reception, immediately following the 7 p.m. ceremony, was held in the church dining room for the 100 guests.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will live with the bride's parents.

The bridegroom was graduated from the York Institute at Jamestown, Tenn.

Nearly $500,000 Raised to Help Camp Oakland

Camp Oakland continues to grow—and prosper.

The report for 1958 is in. Contributions run $76,000 and this brings the grand total just short of $500,000.

One of the most amazing two-men projects in the country has resulted in this great half million dollar contribution to juvenile advancement in Oakland County. Walter Gehrike of Pleasant Ridge and Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore started with nothing but an idea and a realization of the great handicaps that many underprivileged boys and girls were facing in this section.

Their interest and devotion beyond the call of duty resulted in today's Camp Oakland. No "official" or public campaign has ever been staged. These two men have done all of the soliciting quietly and informally. They have set some sort of a local, state, national and international record for effective fund raising. Approximately 2,100 different gifts have been received in cash and about 400 in goods and services.

The current objective is to furnish the Girls' Ranch. Money for the building is largely in hand but the institution needs cash for the interior.

Avon Dems to Meet

Registering to Vote in Spring Election

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Residents of White Lake Township who failed to register for the primary election will have the opportunity to do so for the general election in April, Bert A. McKeachie, township clerk, announced today.

Registration hours for the biennial spring election will be 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow; 7 to 9 p.m. March 3; 10 a.m. to noon March 7 and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 9.

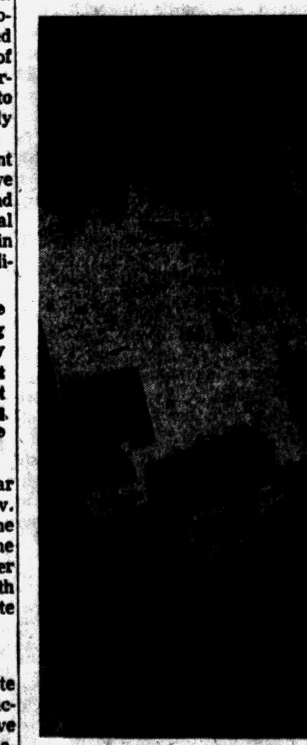

With two tickets in the field for the April 6 election, a large vote is anticipated in the township, he added. Total primary election vote was 518.

Over-Extending Itself, Says Lawmaker

Raps MSU Extension Service

LANSING (UPI)—Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) today rapped the MSU extension service for a "thorough examination" of the Agricultural Extension Service at Michigan State University.

Strange was critical of expenditures in fields which he said appeared "to stretch extension beyond its generally understood scope of necessary service to rural life."

The youthful (24) lawmaker stirred a tempest last year when he first questioned MSU's well-entrenched practice of publishing pamphlets of such subjects as How to Plan a Tea Party.

Organized farm groups generally rallied to the defense of MSU officials, who said the pamphlets were part of the University's Home Economics Extension Service, and therefore within the bounds of propriety and legislative intent. MSU also noted the projects were supported in a large part by federal funds.

Strange, who represents a substantially agricultural area in Central Michigan, eased off on his campaign late in the 1958 session "because it was clearly evident these would be no automatic increase in extension appropriations in view of the severe revenue shortages."

The Clare County tree farmer said MSU's bid for increased funds, coupled with Michigan's current cash crisis "makes it necessary to review carefully the expenditure of public funds."

The Legislature last year appropriated $2,110,000 to MSU "agricultural" Extension Service. Gov. G. Mennen Williams this year has requested $2,610,498 for the "co-operative" extension service.

"In a period of high budget requests, low revenues and bitter public resentment toward any new taxes, a strict definition of this program must be forthcoming," Strange said.

"Elimination of frills in the extension service will demand not only the cooperation but the leadership of Michigan farm organizations," he said. "Now more than ever it is important to determine if activities are basic, necessary functions of state government."

Strange emphasized he was not opposed to the basic concepts of agricultural extension.

But he said he was against "the trend of this and other programs toward paternalism."

"Sticking a father-knows-best pipeline into every nook and cranny of our daily living is a big departure from the Smith-Lever Act of 1914 which better enabled the U.S. Department of Agriculture to foster scientific research through our land grant colleges," Strange said.

There may be hundreds of boys with the same idea, but few have had the personal contact with as many top-ranking politicians as has young Havel. And that's pretty important in politics.

tacted U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland) requesting consideration for the position.

At present a township fire and police board sets the budget and governs the Fire Department.

The number of fire calls are on the upswing and the special allocation of funds for fire protection now fails to cover expenses, township officials claim.

If the proposal for the special district is approved in the April 6 election, the assessment will appear on the tax rolls next December, Helen M. Jencks, township clerk, noted today.

Suspect Stove in $20,000 Fire

Farm Warehouse Burns South of Almont; Corn, Equipment Lost

ALMONT — An overheated oil stove is suspected to have caused a $20,000 fire last night which destroyed the major portion of a combination warehouse and cold storage building on the Howard W. Hough farm, 6800 Hough Rd., one mile south of here.

Two thousand bushels of corn, a sprayer, truck and other equipment were lost in the blaze, Romeo State Police reported today.

Damage to 5,000 bushels of apples stored in the north end of the building has not been determined yet, police said.

Romeo and Almont fire departments fought the blaze in the bitter cold to succeed in saving adjacent farm buildings as winds fanned the flames.

One fire truck was still standing by this morning as the corn continued to smolder.

Methodist Men's Club to Hear of Seaway

LAKE ORION—The Men's Club of the Lake Orion Methodist Church will hear a talk on the St. Lawrence Seaway at its regular dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the church house.

Speaker will be Douglas Truman, who will show a film entitled "The Eighth Sea" and charts on the seaway.

Walter Hampton will preside, and Martin Crothers will have charge of devotions. The meal will be served by a unit of the WSCS of the church.

PTA Historian Seeks Material on Earlier Days

WALLED LAKE—Mrs. Charles Wallace, historian of the Walled Lake Elementary School PTA, said today that she needs help to bring her records up to date.

Mrs. Wallace asks that charter and early members of the organization search their files for clippings and photographs of early events sponsored by the PTA, particularly in the period from 1951 to 1955.

The items may be sent to Mrs. Wallace at 1601 W. Lake Dr., Walled Lake.

Southfield Votes to Pay Road Fee

Asked for 1/4 of Cost for Two Widening Projects, About $7,000

SOUTHFIELD — The city council last night voted to pay its share of the Southfield, 12-Mile roads widening project.

Southfield and Lathrup are both being asked for one fourth of the cost—approximately $7,000 each. Half of the cost will be paid by Oakland County.

Council members agreed to share the expense of maintaining the three fire halls in the area with the township. Only one of the three stations is in the city. Approximately $15,000 each will be paid by the city and the township for 1959.

The council also agreed to continue the Police Post with other South Oakland communities. The pact provides that men and equipment will be pooled in case of riots or other disasters.

Mayor Donald Swanson appointed Dr. Sander Klein to the Board of Health, replacing James Clarkson who is now serving as state representative at Lansing.

The Rev. Frank Gentile, pastor of Northwest Unitarian Universalist Church in Oak Park, was appointed to the library board.

Slate Lecture Series, Films on Family Life

Do you think your children argue too much? How important are material possessions to a successful family life? Can you think positively about altering the situation when you realize a shortcoming in your marriage? What qualities do your children need to prepare them for parenthood?

These four questions and many more about family life will be discussed during a series of four free classes sponsored by the Oakland County Home Economics Extension Council.

Donald Schroeder, director of family life for the Detroit Council of Churches, will conduct the four sessions which are open to the public.

Mrs. W. J. McCarthy, family life chairman of the council, reports the classes will be held for a maximum of 25 couples and registration should be made by Monday at the county extension office.

Dr. Schroeder will give lectures on developing maturity in children, handling tension in the home and growth toward adult maturity. Each lecture will be followed by small discussion groups con-

Council Adopts Key Ordinance

Parke, Davis Will Pay $44,000 to Build Tower on Site It Donated

ROCHESTER—The village council last night adopted a bond ordinance for water improvements which will cover costs of construction of a 650,000-gallon storage tank and feeder mains on the site south of Parkdale road, east of the village limits.

The ordinance provides for issuance of revenue bonds in the amount of $280,000. The remainder of the total cost of $324,000 will be paid by Parke-Davis and Company.

The drug firm donated the site for the elevated tank and entered into an agreement with the village to share the cost of tank and main construction.

The water improvement program is scheduled to be started in May.

In other action, the developers of Rochester Meadows Subdivision requested that the amount in escrow required for improvements of the subdivision be lowered from the figures recommended by village officials.

Council members remained adamant in their stand that they must adhere to provisions outlined in the village's subdivision control ordinance which requires that all improvements be in before approval of a plat is given.

The developer said he would get bids on the items in question, and Village Manager Paul York agreed to revise his estimates accordingly, provided the bids were from reputable firms.

The council approved adoption of a schedule of inspection fees for space heating permits. A permit for an oil burner up to five gallons per hour will cost $5 and for a typical tank, up to 550 gallon capacity, $2. This would make the permit cost for a typical oil burner installation $7.

In the case of installation of a typical gas burner, the permit would cost $5.

These fees are slightly lower than those in effect in other neighboring communities. York said today.

Rummage Sale to Help Pay for Church Organ

GOODISON — The Adult Sunday School and the Adult Choir of Paint Creek Methodist Church will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the American Legion Hall, Fifth street, Rochester.

Sale hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, co-chairmen Mrs. Kenneth Major and Mrs. Willard Hoffman announced today.

Proceeds will be used to finish paying for the organ installed in the church last fall.

She formerly was married to Lex Barker, a screen Tarzan. Lamas is divorced from Lydia Lamas. Miss Dahl and Lamas have a year-old son.

To Air Special Fire District

Public Hearing Planned Wednesday on New Financing Method

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—A public hearing is scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow in Township Hall on the creation of a special assessment district for fire protection. The expense of maintaining the Fire Department under this new plan will be revealed.

At present a township fire and police board sets the budget and governs the Fire Department.

The number of fire calls are on the upswing and the special allocation of funds for fire protection now fails to cover expenses, township officials claim.

If the proposal for the special district is approved in the April 6 election, the assessment will appear on the tax rolls next December, Helen M. Jencks, township clerk, noted today.

Union Official Beaten in Strike

North Carolina Cotton Mills Scene of Violence Despite Police

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — A union representative was beaten and knocked unconscious Monday night as violence flared anew over the strikebound Harriet Henderson cotton mills.

The victim was Boyd Payton, regional director of the Textile Workers Union of America.

A deputy sheriff and a state highway patrolman found Payton unconscious on the stoop of a motel. A broken bottle was beside him.

Payton was taken to Maria Parham Hospital here, a Vance County institution.

Payton's companion at the motel, Robert Freeman, another union representative, said they heard a rap on the door and heard a voice ask for Payton and say "It's Charley."

Freeman said Payton went to the door and was beaten. Freeman said he did not see who did it.

The attack occurred as officers patrolled the area in an effort to prevent new outbreaks of violence.

Gov. Luther Hodges dispatched 14 highway patrolmen to the area after Mayor Carroll V. Singleton said the situation at the mills "has gotten out of control of the local officers."

A series of violent incidents was reported Monday. Rocks, stones and bottles were thrown at some workers. The rock throwing came as the plants began the second week of operations on a limited basis. One person received a minor head injury. Four strikers were arrested.

Management and representatives of the Textile Workers Union of America planned to meet again today in an effort to settle the dispute, which began when they were unable to agree on an arbitration clause in a proposed new contract. The strike started Nov. 17.

Housewife Hurt in Auto Accident

A 16-year-old Lake Orion housewife was injured Monday evening when the car in which she was riding was involved in a head-on collision at 9000 Euston Rd., Independence Township.

Mrs. Shirley Banks, of 3093 Indianwood Rd. was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released. Her husband, Theodore, 19, who was driving, was uninjured, sheriff's deputies said.

The other driver, Dale E. Sawweld, 25, of Oxford, also escaped injury.

Thieves Raid 3 Restaurants in Waterford

Three restaurants in Waterford Township were broken into last night and an undetermined amount of money was stolen from vending machines, according to Waterford Township Police.

Entrance to the Richardson Farm Dairy, 7350 Highland Rd., was gained by smashing a window on the east side of the cement block building, police said.

Money was taken from a music box and cash register. All the lights in the building were on when Joe McGee, manager, arrived at 6:30 a.m. today.

Hector Bueno, owner of the Ace Drive-In, 8449 Bridge Lake Rd., told police he closed his restaurant at 9:30 last night and that when an employee, Leota Lane, arrived at 7 a.m. today, she discovered the break. Glass in the front door had been smashed and an attempt had been made to pry off the front of a cigarette machine, police said.

A window on the White Swan Inn 4370 Highland Rd., was smashed and thieves took approximately $30 from cigarette and juke box machines, police said. About $6 in change also was taken from the cash register, according to Fred Reider, owner.

Auto Industry Ups Output Plan

Expanding Market Said Reason for Optimism Over Production

DETROIT (AP) — A confident auto industry has pushed up its original production schedules for the months immediately ahead, reports Automotive News.

An expanding market was cited as the reason for the optimism and the boosts.

The March production schedule is 575,000 passenger cars. If the industry hits that goal, the first quarter output this year would be 1,600,000 cars. That would be a 100,000 unit increase over the original schedule.

The industry currently is scheduled 1,450,000 cars for production in the April-June quarter. That also would amount to 100,000 units above the original schedule.

High schedules have been helped along by settlement of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. strike which reduced glass shipments to several auto firms.

"Major aim in the increased projections for the second quarter is to stock a minimum supply of cars in the event of a prolonged strike among rubber or steel suppliers," said Automotive News in reporting on production planning for the immediate future.

It is estimated that it requires at least twice as much power to crank a gasoline engine at 10 degrees temperatures as at normal summer temperatures of 70 degrees or more.

Local Sears Employees Fund Totals $1.8 Million

One hundred ninety-nine members of The Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employees learned today that they have a total investment of $1,850,516.17 in the fund.

Announcement of the holdings of Sears store employees in Pontiac was made at a meeting of the employee-members. At this meeting, fund members received their annual statements showing the extent to which they shared in the company's profits last year and the present value of their individual accounts.

As of Dec. 31, 1958, the one hundred ninety-nine local members had $3,708.7 shares of Sears stock and additional securities and cash, amounting to $478,979.22 to their credit.

Taking the year-end market value of $39.75 per share for the Sears stock and adding the cash and miscellaneous investments brings the total holdings of the Pontiac employees to $1,850,516.17.

"All the above figures were based upon the Dec. 31, 1958 closing price of $39.75. Today's price is over $44," General Manager Frank S. Lyndall told The Press today.

Area Residents Have Their Say

Answer Broomfield's Questions on Federal Spending Policies

Hundreds of Oakland County residents are having their say about federal spending policies.

That's the word from the Washington office of William S. Broomfield, the county's representative in Congress, who said replies to 10,000 questionnaires he sent out by these policies are "coming back by the bagful."

"So far I have about 1,500 returns and they are still coming in," Broomfield said. "What's more, (a) some people aren't stopping at answering the questionnaires. They are writing me letters by the hundreds explaining their views in detail."

Broomfield's poll asks "yes" or "no" answers on 10 questions relating to proposed additional expenditures from members of Congress which are outside President Eisenhower's 77 billion dollar 1959-60 budget.

In addition, Broomfield seeks answers on nine other questions ranging from a suggested hike in the federal gas tax to finance federal highways to raising the minimum wage from the current one dollar an hour.

"The answers will be a great deal of help to me in determining my legislative program for the year," Broomfield concluded.

Pay More Heed to Love, Urges Psychologist

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — A psychologist said today that psychologists don't pay enough attention to love—at least professionally. Dr. Harry F. Harlow of the University of Wisconsin told a Knox College audience, love has "a vast interest and fascination for human beings" and it isn't "the exclusive property of adolescents and adults."

Dr. Harlow, who is doing research work on love for the National Institute of Health, said he has concentrated primarily on what it means to babies.

But, Dr. Harlow said, there's a lot more to love that could stand exploration by scientific means.

The trouble is, psychologists are accepting a "guesswork" evaluation of love.

"The little we know about love does not transcend simple observation, and the little we write about it has been written better by poets," Dr. Harlow said.
