

Most of Commission Voice Opposition to Charter Amendment

By DICK SAUNDERS

Mayor Robert A. Landry and a majority of the City Commission last night voiced opposition to a proposed charter amendment which, if adopted by voters at a special election Monday, would change the method of electing commissioners.

Six of the seven commissioners also voiced harsh criticism of a reference in a Pontiac Press editorial Monday that the proposed amendment could be used to oust Commissioner Milton R. Henry from office.

Following the meeting, officials of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the amendment, denied that the amendment was aimed at personalities or involved racial issues.

The mayor's remarks came as part of his annual State of the City address, in which he referred to the proposal as "a danger that lies ahead in the immediate future."

Landry charged that the proposed amendment "came into being for one reason alone, to get somebody."

The amendment proposes that commissioners be nominated by district vote, but elected at large, thus retaining district representation but allowing all city electors to vote for one commissioner from each district.

"I would have no objection to representation at large," Landry noted, "if this was brought about in a fair, sincere and equitable manner."

FIVE DISTRICTS

He suggested the "best way to do this" would be to split the city into five districts, electing one man from each and two men to represent the city at large.

Landry warned that the proposed amendment "is only the first act," the second being at large nomination.

Jaycees later said they are as opposed to nomination and election at large as they are to both being done by district vote alone.

EMOTIONAL STATE

Landry said the proposal came out of a state of emotionalism which was marked by "character assassination" from "critical quarters."

He referred to the hearings into commission charges against former City Manager Robert A. Stierer last August and September, during which the petitions for a special election were circulated.

He urged voters to reject the proposal on the basis that "it literally is telling our people 'We think you're smart enough to nominate, but not intelligent enough to elect your own commissioner.'"

Henry, the lone Negro commissioner, attacked the proposal and editorial as a "pernicious, lewd suggestion."

Mayor's 'State of City' Cites Pontiac Progress

Mayor Robert A. Landry last night pointed to construction and planning of new community facilities as "perhaps the area of greatest progress" in Pontiac last year.

In his annual State of the City message, Landry cited water, sewer and other major projects as accomplishments of 1963, but he didn't ignore the year's problems.

"A tax appeal from our largest taxpayer (General Motors Corp.) resulted in a reduction of our tax base," he said.

A new combined curbside garbage - rubbish collection was listed by Landry as one method used to make up for the loss in tax base while still maintaining a satisfactory level of city services.

NO RELIEF

A tax rate hike was another, and the mayor indicated no relief was in sight from last year's

LBJ Cuts Budget, Uranium Output

Romney Says Draft Not Likely

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today that despite his willingness to accept a draft for the Republican presidential nomination, he considers such a development to be a remote possibility.

Romney also refused to say what effect, if any, his new political posture would have in regard to seeking a second term as governor.

In a rambling, hour-long recap of his statement to a press conference in Washington yesterday, the governor also said:

• He will ask the state of Oregon to withdraw his name from the presidential primary there, but concedes a decision to do so belongs to Oregon officials themselves.

• He will continue his discussions of problems and issues at the national level as a spokesman for the Republican Party, but not as an active candidate.

• He has given no consideration to the prospect of candidacy for the GOP nomination for the vice presidency.

• His declaration of availability creates no change in his intention to act as leader of a Michigan delegation that will go to the GOP National Convention uncommitted to any candidates.

POSITION SAME

Romney explained his over-all position has not changed, except he would now be willing, where before he was not, to accept a draft if it developed.

But he agreed with a newsman's remark that it was like "waiting for lightning to strike" and said: "lightning doesn't strike very often."

Romney said he had decided, after being asked the same questions about a possible draft many times, that it would be "sheer effrontery" to ignore such a movement.

The governor emphasized, however, that he still regards the possibility of a draft as "presumptuous" and does not believe one will develop.

Says Proposal Clearly Allows Cut in Taxes

Finance Committee Chairman Reported 'Pleasingly Surprised'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson told Congress today he is cutting the budget below current levels, to $97.9 billion. And he disclosed he will slash output of weapon-making uranium by 25 per cent—a move he challenged the Soviets to match.

Reading an election year State of the Union message at a joint session of Congress, Johnson also outlined a billion-dollar program of "unconditional war on poverty in America."

He asked the Congress to enact the long-pending $11-billion tax cut bill by Feb. 1. "The new budget clearly allows it," he said. "Our taxpayers surely deserve it. Our economy strongly demands it."

The President put the billion-dollar price tag on his anti-poverty package at an unprecedented session with newsment in advance of his appearance in the dignitary-packed House chamber.

BYRD PLEASED

Reporters, called to the White House rose garden, also heard Johnson disclose that Sen. Harry F. Byrd, the economy-minded Virginia Democrat, got an advance look at the new budget this morning. Johnson said Byrd registered "pleased surprise."

As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Byrd is a key man in congressional handling of the tax cut bill.

Tight security measures were in force for Johnson's visit to the Capitol. Uniformed police were stationed atop the Capitol and the adjoining congressional office buildings.

The Johnson message was unusually significant because it was his first and set the tone for his administration, outlining his specific policy ideas for the first time since he became President seven weeks ago on the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Snow Is Forecast for Pontiac Area

Fresh snow forecast for the Pontiac area late today will turn to snow flurries tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will become colder, with the low about 30 tonight and the high tomorrow near 34. Mostly cloudy with snow flurries is Friday's outlook.

For the next five days, precipitation will total one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch in snow tonight, with snow likely again about Sunday and Monday.

Morning southeasterly winds at 5 miles per hour will increase to 10 to 20 m.p.h.

Twenty-seven was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 38 at 2 p.m.

Britain Won't Stop Bus Sale to Cuba

LONDON (AP)—The British government says it won't stop the sale of $11.2 million worth of British buses and spare parts to Cuba because they are not strategic goods.

The Board of Trade, Britain's equivalent of the U.S. Commerce Department, shrugged off U.S. criticism of a deal that will help restore the Castro regime's crippled public transportation system.

"Manufacturers are at liberty to sell as and when they find the opportunity," said a Board of Trade spokesman.

"There has never been a boycott on the country by Britain. That is the situation and we don't see any reason to depart from this at present. We have quite an extensive trade with Cuba."

Under a five-year credit arrangement, Leyland Motors Ltd. will sell 400 buses and $11.2 million worth of spare parts to Cuba. The company said it expects an order for 1,050 additional buses.

NO WAR

"You would look damned silly going to war in a bus," said Leyland's managing director, Donald Stokes, today. "Anyway, we haven't any war with Cuba and we buy sugar from them."

Stokes said the company in April will begin shipping about 100 buses a month by East German freighters. He said his company had turned to Communist shipping because of the U.S. blacklist on ships that carry cargo to Cuba.

The United States has made its displeasure clear to Britain but has filed no official protest.

U.S. Asked to Wage '64 War on Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson declared "unconditional war on poverty in America" today and called on Congress for enactment this month of a tax reduction designed to create new jobs and markets.

In his State of the Union message Johnson urged a many-sided legislative assault on the causes of unemployment.

It should assure full-time jobs at full-time pay, he said, for the millions, Negro and white, who now "live on the outskirts of hope."

Outside of the message itself, Johnson put a price tag "in excess of $1 billion" on that program.

Quick action on the $11.1-billion tax reduction bill would reduce the paycheck withholding rate from 15 per cent to 14 per cent, Johnson said in the message to Congress. That would add $200-million a month to spendable income this winter.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today an unprecedented cutback in production of atomic explosives. He challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev to make a matching move toward slowing the arms race.

Officials said this is the first time since the dawn of the atomic age that, as one put it, "We've got a turn away from the build-up of weapons."

The President's decision was made possible, they said, by the size of the U.S. stockpile of weapons and the margin which is assumed to exist over Russia's nuclear weapons force. Cost considerations were also a factor, it was indicated.

Nevertheless, the timing and force of the President's declaration as a move related to disarmament were carefully planned and designed to elicit some kind of favorable responsive action from Khrushchev, authorities said.

RECENT CALL

In making his move, Johnson is reported to have had in mind a recent call by the Soviet leader for a "policy of mutual example" to be followed by both sides in an effort to curtail the arms race.

As a result, said the adviser, James H. Martin, she has no desire to sue the city of Dallas, any government or Jack Ruby, the man charged with killing Oswald two days after Kennedy was assassinated.

"She just doesn't want to go through a suit in this regard," said Martin. "Although I guess she might have a valid suit against Jack Ruby for wrongful death."

Mrs. Oswald, 22, has received slightly over $28,000 in contributions from over the nation.

The Secret Service continues to protect her, but "Marina is free to come and go as she pleases," Martin said.

Tense Young Execs Don't Eat Right

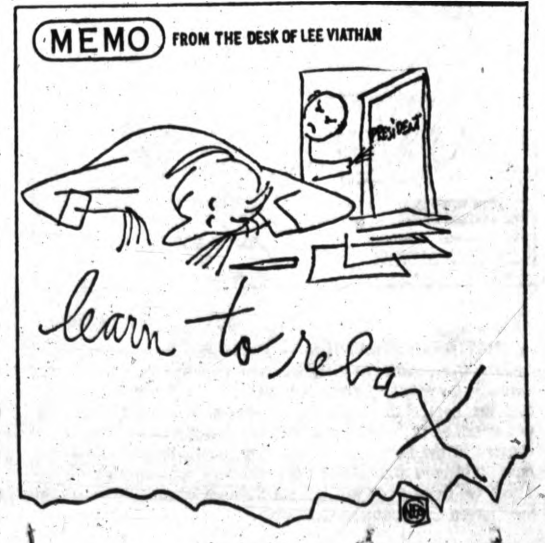

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final article in a six-part series on dieting by nutrition expert, Gaynor Maddox.)

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Successful young men and women often drift into a state of being overworked and under-relaxed. To escape the tensions that result, some take barbiturates and tranquilizers or drink excessively.

"Barbiturates and tranquilizers have no proper use except when prescribed by a physician and preferably by one very cautious in advising them," warns Fredrick J. Stare, M. D., professor of nutrition at Harvard School of Public Health. He adds:

"Alcohol at intervals, before

referred to the fact that the proposal, along with the suggestion it be used to oust him, had been backed "by a number of ministers in white areas" among others.

Henry claimed that the votes of former commissioners Wesley Wood and John Dugan had "been motivated by" special interest groups that helped them get elected, and the amendment would only increase this condition.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. supported the amendment in principle, but said he was "horrified to see Mr. Henry's name used in The Press."

"It was entirely wrong. No one is out to get anyone and I hope that it will be retracted."

PARTISAN BASIS

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom suggested that "at-large elections are all right, but let's do it on a partisan basis."

He felt the proposal, if adopted, would lead to rule by special interest groups.

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby also claimed it "would force a coalition of candidates into one slate." He also alleged the cost to campaign citywide would be exorbitant.

Then Commissioner Loy L. Ledford hit aspects of the Press editorial which pointed to the danger of candidates being obligated to special groups under the present system.

PRODUCES LETTERS

Ledford produced copies of letters and records which allegedly outline participation by a Press official in a "slush fund" for commission candidates in the 1962 municipal election.

One from Pontiac Press Business Manager Howard H. Fitzgerald to local businessman L. Claire Utley read, "There's more than one way to skin a cat."

Another, from Pontiac Attorney C. K. Patterson to Utley, read: "I enclose $100 for the good cause."

LEDGER LISTS

Ledford offered ledgers listing who made donations to the fund, how much they donated, how much was drawn from the fund and who drew it.

He also intimated that the donation from Howard Fitzgerald was from the Press as a corporation.

"I wonder if Mr. Fitzgerald was aware at the time that it is illegal, under Michigan laws, for a corporation to donate to election expenses."

"I wonder if Mr. Fitzgerald's 'close students of Pontiac affairs' are the same downtown clique that picked a slate of candidates at the last election and donated money to their campaign," Ledford said.

Ledford claimed that the slate of candidates, only one of whom is currently on the commission, was selected in a meeting of business and industrial leaders in Fitzgerald's office Feb. 9, 1962.

(Editor's Note: The Press has been accused of giving to a city election campaign fund illegally. Individual Press officials donated to campaign funds, as is their right. The donations were not from The Pontiac Press corporation.)

RUSSELL L. NORRIS

Two Executives Appointed at Pontiac Motor Division

Two new executive appointments were announced for Pontiac Motor Division today by E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and general manager of the division.

Russell L. Norris, who has been comptroller of Pontiac Motor Division since 1956, will assume new duties as executive assistant to Estes.

Moving into the comptroller's spot will be Wright C. Cotton, who has been comptroller of GM's Delco-Remy Division at Anderson, Ind., since 1942.

Both appointments will be effective Feb. 1.

Norris has been with General Motors since 1933, when he began his career with the company as a cost accountant in the Chevrolet Motor Division. He held various positions with Chevrolet in different midwest cities until 1943.

He became comptroller at GM's former Eastern Aircraft Division in New Jersey in 1943, and subsequently served as comptroller for the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division plant in Georgia, the Guide Lamp Division in Indiana and the AC Spark Plug Division in Flint.

A University of Wisconsin graduate, Norris is a member of Pontiac City Club and Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Cotton joined General Motors as a Delco-Remy employee in 1935 shortly after graduating from Butler University.

He held various accounting positions until his appointment as comptroller seven years later.

Cotton is a past president of the Anderson (Ind.) Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Buick Workers Strike in Flint

Plant Walkout Starts Over Work Standards

FLINT (AP) — A walkout by 15,000 hourly workers today closed down the Buick Division plant of General Motors Corp.

The strike followed a breakdown of negotiations in a dispute over production standards and work conditions.

Union and company negotiators held an all-night session and bargained until about 10 minutes before the 10:58 a.m. deadline set by United Auto Workers Local 599 last week.

In addition to the 15,000 workers at Buick's largest plant, the walkout was expected to idle upwards of 4,000 production workers at other General Motors Flint-area plants — mostly at Fisher Body Plant No. 1, which makes Buick bodies.

AFFECT ON PONTIAC

A spokesman for Pontiac Motor Division said that the Flint Transmission plant supplies some of the transmissions used in the Pontiac Tempest.

Negotiations to head off the strike began on Nov. 20 and Local 599 served notice on Buick Division Dec. 31 that unless the running dispute was settled its members would walk out today.

A company spokesman said further meetings between labor and management are scheduled for Thursday.

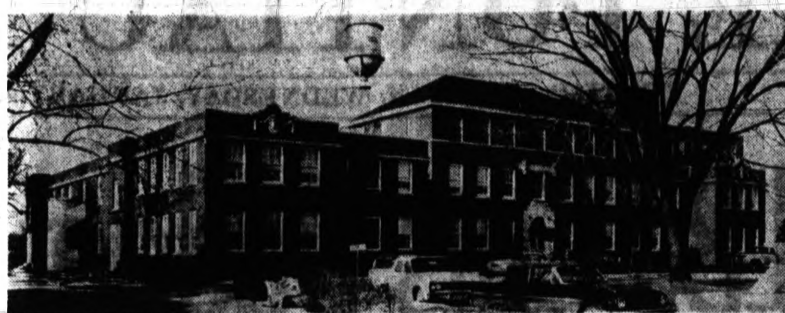

"This strike against Buick, when employees are enjoying the highest incomes and steady employment in Buick's history, is completely unnecessary and unwarranted," Edward D. Rollert, Buick's General Manager, declared.

"Certain demands, particularly in the transmission plant, would force Buick to recognize idle time as an acceptable work practice on many production operations."

MAY LOSE PATIENTS — This is the old wing of the county's Medical Care Facility which a supervisors' committee proposed to use mainly for offices. The wing was built at the County Service Center in 1925. Medical care operations in this section would be transferred to the county's Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Union Lake if the committee's recommendation is approved by the board of supervisors.

Recommendation to Supervisors

Eye End to Use of Old Hospital Wing

A special study committee of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday recommended phasing out use of the old wing at the county's Medical Care Facility. The wing is presently used by chronic disease patients.

New patients would be placed on two vacated floors of the county's Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Union Lake instead.

roots level of government to do everything humanly possible to advance the crusade of our late president and President Johnson," Landry said.

"Pontiac's Human Relations Committee was extremely active in 1963, but this is no time to rest on our laurels."

"Much remains to be done before we achieve our goal of equal opportunities for all of our citizens."

Landry's remarks were praised by Commissioner Milton R. Henry and others.

PRIDE FELT

Henry, only Negro on the commission, said, "I have never been prouder of you, or of being a member of this commission, than I am right now."

Landry listed completion of the city's new sewage treatment plant, the water system improvement program and the new Detroit water supply as the city's outstanding accomplishments of 1963.

Other noteworthy progress was made in planning of major trunk sewers on the east side, agreement with the county drain commission on the Clinton River project, substantial completion of a new northside fire station and start of work on a new community recreation and swimming center on the city's south side.

In the city's civic center, Landry pointed to a new Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union building under construction and planning for a new school district administration building.

PERIMETER ROAD

"Believe me, it wasn't easy, but the first leg of the perimeter road is on the ground and we are using it," Landry said.

Landry hailed creation of a community relations bureau as a service to the commission and citizenry alike.

He blamed lack of a federal public works grant for the proposed Murphy Park relief sewer on former City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The mayor said he was told by authorities in Washington D.C., in November that the city didn't get any funds because Stierer didn't followup the city's request for a grant, after it was submitted last April.

Stierer was suspended Aug. 5, and the city was without a full-time manager until Robert A. Carter was hired by the commission Nov. 18.

Landry said work was again under way on the grant and he had "high hopes" it will be forthcoming before the end of this month.

In praising Carter, Landry said that "our new manager accomplished in two weeks what our former manager (Stierer) could not accomplish in a year and a half."

In this way, the old wing would be vacated of patients through normal attrition over a period of three to four months, Welfare Director George Williams said.

Reason for the proposed change is the number of empty beds in the newer sanatorium and the high cost of operating this 161-bed facility at reduced case loads.

News Against Romney Draft

Detroit Paper Wants Him to Stay in State

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News in an editorial today opposed any entry of Gov. George Romney as a candidate for Republican nomination for president this year and said it will not support him in such a presidential race.

"We are startled by his Washington statement that he would be available as a presidential candidate through a genuine draft," the News said. "That's the standard form for presidential race entry, and no one using it in the past ever has waited for the draft."

"His open discussion of his personal interest in the presidential contest deserts the whole format of his 1962 crusade (a citizen movement urging participation in Michigan government) and commits him to partisan politics at its bitterest in a time when he needs help from both parties to accomplish his program in Lansing," the newspaper said.

ROMNEY'S STATEMENT

Romney Tuesday told a National Press Club audience he would accept a draft if there was "substantial sentiment" in his favor.

The News, which supported Romney for the governorship even before he announced his decision to seek the office, said it has "firmly and unalterably credited his oft-repeated protests that he would not seek the presidential nomination in 1964; that he recognized a longer term commitment to those who elected him governor."

"We are convinced Michigan voters made a wise choice in electing him to lead the state to economic, governmental and financial recovery," said the News. "He is well begun on that assignment — but well begun only."

When stress becomes greater than the organism can tolerate efficiently, the body reacts. Headaches, transient gastrointestinal disturbances, insomnia, irritability, chronic fatigue, inability to concentrate and anxiety feelings develop.

BASIC FACTS

"Then the overtense, overdriven young executive should visit his physician and learn that two of the basic facts of physical fitness are sound nutrition and regular exercise," Dr. Stare says.

Overambitious young people often deceive themselves into believing that they are not subject to the ordinary laws of physiology.

"Carelessness about his health has wrecked many a young man's career. Nutrition and exercise are vital in the pattern of executive health even though he won't take time out to do anything about them," Dr. Stare says.

He defines nutrition as simply a diet made up of a variety of foods which supply all the nutrients needed for good health, in proper amounts and in proper relation to each other and in relation to one's weight.

Expanded Art Program Offered in Winter Term

BIRMINGHAM — The Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) is expanding its program this winter — offering more classes, new staff members, extra facilities, a special lecture series and scholarships.

The list from which adults can choose classes is quadruple that available in the fall.

Children can select courses from among nine designed for them.

During the 10-week term which begins next week, 16 artists will work with the students. Their equipment at the Birmingham Art Center has been increased to include a pottery shop, in which five wheels are being installed.

DISCUSSIONS, LECTURES

Featured this term will be a series of art appreciation lectures and discussions. A noted sculptor and two painters will comment on their individual attitudes and techniques.

Kingswood school instructor Clifford West will begin the series Jan. 28 with a discussion of 13th Century art. The painter will move on to the Renaissance Feb. 4.

The background and development of contemporary sculpture will be Thomas McClure's topic Feb. 18. A University of Michigan professor, McClure will continue with "A Sculptor's Personal View" Feb. 25.

Guy Palazzola, U. of M. associate professor, is scheduled to speak on the origins of contemporary painting March 10.

ENROLLMENTS TAKEN

Enrollments are being taken for the entire series of 1½-hour lectures, each of which will begin at 7 p.m.

In organizing their schedule, BAA members worked with Victor D'Amico, adult education director at the Museum of Modern Art, New York, and Prof. Robert Iglehart, University of Michigan art department director.

Among sixteen subjects to be offered adults are seven dealing with painting.

Life painting will be taught Thursdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. by James Hansen. The individual approach will be emphasized in Kathleen Birch's classes from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Thursdays.

MIXED MEDIA

Mixed media will be used in the class taught by Dorothy Siddall from 9:30 a.m. to noon Fridays.

Robert Konersman will give instruction in portrait painting from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Other painting courses are offered from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays with Peter Gilleran as instructor, from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays with Stuart Ross and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Wednesdays with E. L. Praczukowski.

Svea Kline and Louis Whitton will head sculpture classes, Miss Kline with three classes on Mondays and Whitton having three Thursdays.

TWO WATERCOLORS

There also will be two instructors for watercolor. Mary Jane Bigler will have two classes Wednesdays and Peter Filleran one Mondays.

"Drawing and Design in Painting" is the title of Praczukowski's class from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays.

James Hansen will teach drawing and composition from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Wednesdays and John Jacobson will deal with life drawing Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

OTHER CLASSES

James Purizer's pottery classes will meet from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Fridays.

Weaving will be taught by Arien Linn from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays.

Enrollments are now being accepted at the Birmingham Art Center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

For the first time, the BAA is offering two scholarships, one to an adult and the other to a child.

were aimed at problems ranging from the depth of poverty to the height of the moon.

For most taxpayers, the biggest surprise probably lay in the budget disclosures. At $97.9 billion, the first Johnson spending plan would be $500 million smaller than the latest estimate of spending under Kennedy's final, record-setting budget.

Johnson described his budget as "efficient, honest and frugal." And he said it will maintain "the full strength of our defenses" while providing "the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed, and for helping the economically and physically handicapped."

Endorsing some two dozen proposals in about 2,900 words, Johnson urged Congress to bring his programs "to a fair and final vote." He called for the strongest civil rights bill in 100 years, enactment of a massive tax cut by Feb. 1, new steps toward disarmament and selective increases in overtime pay rates.

Other Johnson programs—many inherited from Kennedy—included broader minimum wage coverage, hospital insurance for the aged, an end to discriminatory immigration quotas, a bigger housing program, and a determined effort—preferably in cooperation with the Soviet Union—to put a man on the moon by 1970.

PROSPERITY GOAL

Prosperity at home and peace in the world were the broad goals cited by the President, who sought to balance conciliation and determination in discussing cold war problems.

"We intend to bury no one — and we do not intend to be buried. We can fight, if we must, as we have fought before — but we pray we will never have to fight again," he said.

physically active than among the others, even though the active brothers ate more.

"Certainly, our more ambitious, more driving young adults, face responsibilities, tensions and pressures their more complacent brothers and sisters escape. Therefore they have somewhat different problems of health and fitness," says Dr. Stare. His best advice to them is:

1. Have a good physician and a thorough physical examination annually. Follow the physician's advice.
2. Provide your body with good nutrition by eating a varied diet with not too many calories, either from food or drink.
3. Exercise moderately and daily. Walking will suffice, with a little strenuous exercise once in a while if this is not unwise for other reasons.
4. Relax. Have frequent changes of pace, less "homework," or work at home of a different kind from office work. Take weekends off and have vacations that are really vacations.

U.S. Monitors Spot Red Rocket Launches

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MISSILE DETECTORS: The United States is reported to have supersensitive monitors operating near the Iron Curtain that record the take-offs of Soviet missiles and rockets and can trace changes in Soviet launching sites.

Space Business Daily, a trade publication, said Tuesday that the instruments, part of a project called Headbone, record the movements of all objects, even automobiles at close range.

But, it added, a method has been found for telling which are missiles or spacecraft.

The publication added: "This allows the United States to be aware of the location and any changes in Soviet launching sites and of all tests of missiles by the Soviets."

"Nuclear blasts — though not the primary mission of the instruments — also are recorded." The Defense Department had no comment on the publication's story.

RETURNING RAISES: Irked

at receiving only a $100 a year pay increase, some teachers in U. S. schools overseas are returning the raise in little installments to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The protests were revealed Tuesday by E. L. Katzenbach Jr., deputy assistant secretary of defense in charge of education for dependents of U. S. military and civilian personnel stationed abroad.

He said he didn't know how many of the teachers have been returning the money but that it is being sent back to the teachers. U. S. overseas teachers receive an average of $4,720 this year, against a national average of $5,963.

Katzenbach discussed the situation at a news conference in which he announced that the school system, now run separately by the armed services, will be unified under Defense Department control July 1.

al $42 million worth of wheat to the Soviet Union, and $10.5 million worth to Soviet satellite countries.

Licenses have now been issued for export of $167 million in wheat to the Soviet Union but only one firm deal has been disclosed for sale of $78 million in durum wheat.

The Soviet Union reportedly has indicated it would like to purchase more than $250 million in wheat from the United States.

OTEPKA: A recently resigned State Department aide has changed his testimony again and has told Senate investigators that tape recordings were made of Otto F. Otepka's telephone conversations.

The aide, Elmer D. Hill, also told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that his former superior, John F. Reilly, knew of the taping despite Reilly's sworn testimony to the contrary.

This latest episode in the controvery over Otepka's dismissal as a State Department security officer was disclosed Tuesday when the subcommittee made public testimony from a closed session Nov. 18.

In dismissing Otepka, the State Department accused him of leaking department security information to the subcommittee. He is appealing his firing.

Text of President's State of Union Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is a text of President Johnson's 1964 State of the Union message to Congress today.

I will be brief—for our time is necessarily short and our agenda is already long.

Last year's Congressional session was the longest in peacetime history. With that foundation, let us work together to make this year's session the best in history.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Let this session of Congress be known as the session which did more for civil rights than the last hundred sessions combined.

As the session which enacted the most far-reaching tax cut of our time;

As the session which declared all-out war on human poverty and unemployment in these United States;

HEALTH NEED

As the session which finally recognized the health need of all our older citizens;

As the session which reformed our tangled transportation and transit policies;

As the session which achieved the most effective, efficient foreign aid program ever;

BUILD MORE

And as the session which helped to build more homes, more schools, more libraries and more hospitals than any single session of Congress in our nation's history.

All this and more can and must be done.

It can be done by this summer.

And it can be done without any increase in spending. In fact, under the budget I shall shortly submit, it can be done with an actual reduction in federal expenditures and employment.

UNIQUE CHANGE

We have in 1964 a unique opportunity and obligation—to prove the success of our system—to disprove those cynics and critics at home and abroad who question our purpose and our competence.

If we fail—if we fritter and fumble away our opportunity in needless, senseless quarrels between Democrats and Republicans, or between the House and the Senate, or between the South and the North, or between Congress and the Administration—then history will rightfully judge us harshly.

IF SUCCESSFUL

But if we succeed—if we can achieve these goals by forging in this country a greater sense of union—then, and only then, can we take full satisfaction in the state of the Union.

Here in the Congress, you can demonstrate effective legislative leadership by discharging the public business with clarity and dispatch—voting each important proposal up or voting it down but at least bringing it to a fair and final vote.

KENNEDY PROGRAMS

Let us carry forward the plans and programs of John Fitzgerald Kennedy—not because of our sorrow or sympathy—but because they are right.

In his memory, I especially ask all members of my own political faith—in this election year—to put country ahead of party, and to debate principles, not personalities.

For my part, I pledge a progressive administration which is efficient, honest and frugal.

BUDGET IN ACCORD

The budget to be submitted shortly is in full accord with this pledge.

It will cut our deficit in half, from $10 billion to $4.9 billion.

It will be, in proportion to our national output, the smallest budget since 1951.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT

It will call for a substantial reduction in federal employment, a feat accomplished only once before in the last ten years.

While maintaining the full strength of our defenses, it will call for the lowest number of civilian personnel in the Department of Defense since 1950.

It will call for total expenditures of $97.9 billion—compared to $98.4 for the current year, a reduction of more than $500 million.

NEW AUTHORITY

It will call for new obligatory authority of $103.8 billion—a reduction of more than $4 billion below last year's request of $107.9 billion.

But it is not a stand-still budget—for America cannot afford to stand still. Our population is growing. Our economy is more complex. Our people's needs are expanding.

By closing down obsolete installations—by curtailing less urgent programs—by cutting back where cutting back is wise—by insisting on a dollar's worth for a dollar spent—

MOST SUPPORT

I am able to recommend in this reduced budget the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed, and for helping the economically and physically handicapped.

This budget—and this year's legislative program—are designed to help each and every American citizen fulfill his basic hopes:

his hopes for a fair chance to make good;

his hopes for fair play from the law;

his hopes for a full-time job on full-time pay;

his hopes for a decent home for his family in a decent community;

his hopes for a good school for his children with good teachers; and his hopes for security when faced with sickness, unemployment, or old age.

III

Unfortunately many Americans live on the outskirts of hope—some because of their poverty, some because of their color, and all too many because of both.

REPLACE DESPAIR

Our task is to help replace their despair with opportunity.

This administration here and now declares unconditional war on poverty in America. I ask this Congress and all Americans to join with me in that effort.

It will not be a short or easy struggle—no single weapon or strategy will suffice—but we shall not rest until that war is won.

RICHEST NATION

The richest nation on earth can afford to win it. We cannot afford to lose it.

One thousand dollars invested in salvaging an unemployable youth today can return $40,000 or more in his lifetime.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS

Poverty is a national problem, requiring improved national organization and support. But this attack, to be effective, must also be organized at the state and local level and supported by state and local efforts.

For the war against poverty will not be won in Washington. It must be won in the field—in every private home and every public office, from the courthouse to the White House.

The program I shall propose will emphasize this cooperative approach to help that one-fifth of all American families with incomes too small to meet their basic needs.

CHIEF WEAPONS

Our chief weapons in a more pinpointed attack will be better schools, better health, better homes, better training and better job opportunities to help more Americans—especially young Americans—escape from squalor and misery.

Very often a lack of jobs and money is not the cause of poverty, but the symptom.

The cause may lie deeper—in our failure to give our fellow citizens a fair chance to develop their own capacities—in a lack of education and training, a lack of medical care and housing, a lack of decent communities in which to live and bring up children.

MUST PURSUE

Whatever the cause, our joint federal-local effort must pursue poverty wherever it exists—in city slums and small towns, in sharecropper shacks, in migrant worker camps, and on Indian reservations, among whites as well as Negroes, among the young as well as the aged, in boom towns and depressed areas.

Our aim is not only to relieve the symptoms of poverty but to cure it—and, above all, to prevent it.

No single piece of legislation, however, will suffice:

We must launch a special effort in the chronically distressed areas of Appalachia.

AREA REDEVELOPMENT

We must expand our small but successful area redevelopment program.

We must enact youth employment legislation to put jobless, aimless, hopeless youngsters to work on useful projects.

We must distribute more food to the needy through a broader food stamp program.

We must create a National Service Corps to help the economically handicapped of our own country as the Peace Corps helps those abroad.

We must modernize our unemployment insurance and establish a high level commission on automation. If we have the brainpower to invent these machines, we have the brainpower to make certain they are a boon and not a bane to humanity.

We must extend the coverage of our minimum wage laws to more than two million workers now lacking this basic protection of purchasing power.

IMPROVE TEACHING

We must, by including special school aid funds as part of our education program, improve the quality of teaching, training and counseling in our hardest-hit areas.

We must build more libraries in every area—and more hospitals and nursing homes under the Hill-Burton Act—and train more nurses to staff them.

We must provide hospital insurance for our older citizens, financed by every worker and his employer under social security contributing no more than $1 a month during the employee's working career to protect him in his old age in a dignified manner, without cost to the Treasury, against the devastating burden of prolonged or repeated illness.

SLUM CLEARANCE

We must, as part of a revised housing and urban renewal program, give more help to those displaced by slum clearance, provide more housing for our poor and our elderly, and seek as our ultimate goal in our free enterprise system a decent home for every American family.

We must help obtain more modern mass transit within our communities as well as low-cost transportation between them.

RELEASE TAX MONEY

Above all, we must release

$11 billion of tax reduction into the private spending stream to create new jobs and new markets in every area.

IV

These programs are obviously not for the poor or underprivileged alone.

Every American family will benefit by the extension of Social Security to cover the hospital costs of their aged parents.

ALL TO BENEFIT

Every American community will benefit from the construction or modernization of schools, libraries, hospitals and nursing homes—from the training of more nurses—and from the improvement of urban renewal and public transit.

And every American taxpayer, corporate or individual, will benefit from the earliest possible passage of the pending tax bill—from both the new investment it will bring and the new jobs it will create.

That tax bill has been thoroughly discussed for a year. Now we need action. The new budget clearly allows it.

Our taxpayers surely deserve it. Our economy strongly demands it.

BENEFITS DILUTED

Every month of delay dilutes its benefits in 1964 for consumption, investment, and employment.

For until the bill is signed, its investment incentives cannot be deemed certain, and the withholding rate cannot be reduced—and it should now be reduced to 14 per cent instead of 15 per cent. I therefore urge the Congress to take final action on this bill by the first of February.

For, however proud we may be of the unprecedented progress of our free enterprise economy over the last three years, we cannot permit it to pause.

NEW JOB TOTAL

In 1963, for the first time in history, we crossed the 70 million job mark—but we will soon need more than 75 million.

In 1963, our gross national product reached the $600 billion level—$100 billion higher than when we took office. But it easily could and should be still $30 billion higher today.

Wages, profits and family income are also at their highest levels in history—but four million workers and 13 per cent of our industrial capacity are still idle.

NEEDED NOW

We need a tax cut now to keep this country moving.

For our goal is not merely to spread the work. Our goal is to create more jobs.

I believe the enactment of a 35-hour week would sharply increase costs, invite inflation, impair our ability to compete and merely share instead of creating employment.

But I am equally opposed to the 45 or 50-hour week in those industries where consistently excessive use of overtime causes increased unemployment.

TO STUDY MOVE

I recommend, therefore, legislation authorizing the creation of tri-partite industry committees to determine, on an industry-by-industry basis, as to where a higher penalty rate for overtime would increase job openings without unduly increasing costs—and authorizing the establishment of such higher rates.

Let me make one principle of this administration abundantly clear: All of these increased opportunities—in employment, education, housing and every field—must be open to Americans of every color.

As far as the writ of federal law will run, we must abolish not some but all racial discrimination.

A MORAL ISSUE

For this is not merely an economic issue—or a social, political or international issue. It is a moral issue—and it must be met by the passage this session of the bill now pending in the House.

EQUAL ACCESS

All members of the public should have equal access to facilities open to the public.

All members of the public should be equally eligible for federal benefits financed by the public.

All members of the public should have an equal chance to vote for public officials—and to send their children to good public schools—and to contribute their talents to the public good. Today Americans of all races stand side by side in Berlin and Viet Nam.

DIE SIDE BY SIDE

They died side by side in Korea. Surely they can work and eat and travel side by side in America.

VII

We must also lift by legislation the bars of discrimination against those who seek entry into our country, particularly those with much needed skills and those joining their families.

In establishing preferences, a nation built by the immigrants of all lands can ask those who now seek admission: "What can you do for our country?"

But we should not be asking: "In what country were you born?"

VIII

For our ultimate goal is a world without war, a world made safe for diversity, in which all men, goods and ideas can freely move across every border and boundary.

APPROACH GOALS

We must advance toward this goal in 1964 in at least ten different ways:

First, we must maintain—and our reduced defense budget will maintain—that margin of military safety and superiority obtained through three years of steadily increasing the quality and quantity of our strategic, conventional and anti-guerrilla forces. In 1964 we will be better prepared than ever before to defend the cause of freedom—whether it is threatened by outright aggression or by the infiltration practiced by those in Hanoi and Havana who ship arms and men across international borders to foment insurrection. And we must continue to use that strength, as John Kennedy used it in the Cuba crisis and for the test-ban treaty, to demonstrate both the futility of nuclear war and the possibilities of lasting peace.

Second, we must take new steps—and we shall make new proposals at Geneva—toward the control and eventual abolition of arms. Even in the absence of agreement we must not stockpile arms beyond our needs or seek an excess of military power that could be provocative as well as wasteful. It is in this spirit that in this fiscal year we are cutting back our production of enriched uranium by 25 per cent, shutting down four plutonium piles and closing many non-essential military installations. And it is in this spirit that we call on our adversaries to do the same.

USE OF FOOD

Third, we must make increased use of our food as an instrument of peace, making it available—by sale, trade, loan or donation—to hungry people in all nations which tell us of their needs and accept proper conditions of distribution.

Fourth, we must assure our preeminence in the peaceful exploration of outer space, focusing on an expedition to the moon in this decade—in cooperation with other powers if possible, alone if necessary.

EXPAND TRADE

Fifth, we must expand world trade. Having recognized in the Act of 1962 that we must buy as well as sell, we now expect our trading partners to recognize that we must sell as well as buy. We are willing to give them competitive access to our market—asking only that they do the same for us.

Sixth, we must continue—through such measures as the interest equalization tax as well as the cooperation of other nations—our recent progress toward balancing our international accounts.

This administration must and will preserve the present gold value of the dollar.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Seventh, we must become better neighbors with the free states of the Americas—working with the councils of the OAS, with a stronger Alliance for Progress, and with all the men and women of this hemisphere who believe in liberty and justice for all.

Eighth, we must strengthen the ability of free nations everywhere to develop their independence and raise their standard of living—and thereby frustrate those who prey on poverty and chaos. To do this, the rich must help the poor—and we must do our part. We must achieve a more rigorous administration of our development assistance, with larger roles for private investors, for other industrialized nations, for international agencies and for the recipient nations themselves.

STRENGTHEN PACTS

Ninth, we must strengthen our Atlantic and Pacific partnerships, maintain our alliances and make the United Nations a more effective instrument for national independence and international order.

Tenth, and finally, we must develop with our allies new means of bridging the gap between East and West—facing danger boldly wherever danger exists—but being equally bold in our search for new agreements which can enlarge the hopes of all while violating the interests of none.

In short, we must be constantly prepared for the worst and constantly acting for the best—strong enough to win a war and wise enough to prevent one.

We shall neither act as aggressors nor tolerate acts of aggression.

We intend to bury no one—and we do not intend to be buried.

We can fight, if we must, as we have fought before—but we pray we will never have to fight again.

IX

My fellow Americans: In these last seven sorrowful weeks, we have learned anew that nothing is so enduring as faith and nothing is so degrading as hate.

John Kennedy was a victim of hate—but he was also a builder of faith—faith in our fellow Americans, whatever their creed or color or station in life; and faith in the future of man, whatever his deviations and differences.

This faith was echoed in all parts of the world. On every continent and in every land to which I traveled, I found faith and hope and love toward this land and all its people.

I ask you now, in the Congress and in the country, to join with me in expressing and fulfilling that faith—in working for a nation that is free from want and a world that is free from hate—a world of peace and justice, freedom and abundance, for our time and for all time to come.

Charter Amendment a Responsible Move

Opponents of the upcoming City Charter amendment try to deceive the unwary with this bit: alter the charter and one small group of residents will be able to run the City.

Sometimes they're more specific, and say people from the West side of the City will run the show. This charge was part of the 1962 campaign of some of our commissioners.

A few moments spent examining the proposed change shows that such charges are baseless.

● Each district will still be specifically represented on the commission.

● Each district will still select the candidates to represent it.

The significant change: after candidates are selected in the district, the entire voting populace of the City will get a crack at judging their qualifications.

Without the selfish interests of a single small sector pulling the strings, we won't have political debts being paid off by appointments to civic boards and posts.

There'll be no more police trial board members with bad driving records; fathers-in-law and campaign managers and workers on the civic landscape.

The charter amendment on the ballot next Monday is a move toward more responsible city government—responsible to the entire City, not a few streets or bar owners.

Charles H. Mayne

Oakland County lost one of her most public spirited and likeable citizens in the unfortunate death of CHARLES H. MAYNE.

Successful in his own businesses, CHARLES MAYNE developed an active interest in the Olympic games to the point that he personally took on the central administration of the U.S. swimming trials in the United States. Held in the beautiful Brennan pool the staging and promotion of swimming events were an outstanding achievement, both athletically and administratively. To CHARLES MAYNE goes the major credit.

A personable individual who was perennially marked with an infectious grin and a hearty handshake he spelled out the very type and kind of manhood that has made America click. "Chuck" Mayne had utterly no patience in temporizing with right and wrong and he insisted that everything with which he was associated pursue the same line of conduct. Indifference and shoddy workmanship of the current era were anathema to him. This is the kind and type of man we can ill afford to lose with so much necessary work of all descriptions looming ahead.

Drivers Find Farmer Is Not Green as Grass

A dozen motorists recently discovered that the grass IS greener on the other side of the fence. Greener, that is, because it cost each a ten dollar bill.

It seems that a balloon in flight over Kansas ran out of hot air and landed on a farmer's sod farm.

The autoists, seeing the landing, opened a gate and drove over choice blue grass sod to the deflated dirigible.

Irate over the damage to his sod, the sodist (no pun) locked the gate and demanded $10 each from the drivers before he would let them out.

It is rumored that the entrepreneur was wildly acclaimed for his exemplification of the free enterprise system—except by the disgruntled ones whose exit fee for their entertainment was not free.

Treadmill Life Suits Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — For President Johnson, 1964, which will be the most intense year of his life, is like being condemned to a gymnasium. It is going to be an endless workout. That seems to be the way he wants it.

Johnson was 46 and President Dwight D. Eisenhower 64 when they had their heart attacks in 1955. It laid them both up for months. Thereafter Eisenhower carefully paced himself through six more years of the presidency.

Johnson did the opposite. Starting the day after he left the hospital, he invited newspaper reporters to his home. He gave the impression of a man raring to go, which is probably the exact impression he wanted to give.

At any rate, he seemed to take his heart attack as an invitation to pitch harder.

HECTIC PACE
After some months of rest that year Johnson returned to his job as Democratic majority leader in the Senate and resumed his hectic pace. Then in 1960, when he had to campaign for the vice presidency, he outdid even his Senate energy.

Johnson, in his almost three years under President John F. Kennedy, continued to spread his physical effort like jam over days and nights as he whipped around making speeches and on foreign trips assigned him by Kennedy.

In all this, since Johnson was a completely secondary figure in the Kennedy administration, he was not under severe tension. Kennedy was the one who had to endure that. He was the one who had to make decisions and do the struggling.

Now Johnson gets the full load of the physical and mental activity which go with the presidency, plus its tensions. In short, 1964 will be the greatest year of strain in his life.

PHYSICAL TORTURE
Just the physical part of it is a kind of physical torture: the handshaking, the reception lines the speechmaking, the banquets, maybe trips abroad, battles with Congress, the need to stay in camera focus.

On top of it all, will come the campaign for election.

In less than two months in office he has put a far heavier physical strain on himself than even the very active Kennedy.

Johnson seems unable to sit quietly and, so far as newsmen are concerned, to stop talking. He bounces in and out, up and down, consults with advisers, holds instant news conferences, meets with his Cabinet, hunts deer, gives personally conducted tours of his Texas ranch, keeps talking, has barbecues, strolls the streets, makes pronouncements, orders people around — he's noted for that — and keeps talking.

There's no reason to think this won't be his routine for the rest of the year. How does all this set with a man who had a truly bad heart attack eight years ago? So far it seems to have worked all right.

TOLERATES STRESS

Just a month ago one of his doctors, looking back over Johnson's eight years since the attack, says, "He has done beautifully. I don't know of anyone who gets up earlier, goes to bed later, works harder, and gets more done without any trouble than the President. He tolerates stresses that most people can't."

Or Shouldn't We Ask?

David Lawrence Says:

Johnson Will Disappoint Some

WASHINGTON — Somebody is fooling somebody on the American political scene. Surely the Southerners haven't suddenly given up their stand on "civil rights" — nor have the radical liberals in the North overnight become conservatives.

But if the public — opinion polls are right, LAWRENCE the South and the North have undergone quite a political change since Lyndon Johnson became president.

But on what is such a change based? Certainly Richard Nixon hasn't said anything to cause the change, and neither has Sen. Goldwater.

The answer must be in the opinion formed in all sections of the country by many people that President Johnson will not support all the Kennedy policies and will eventually go over to the other side on many points.

There is nothing as yet in the utterances of Mr. Johnson to justify any such assumption.

On the Republican side, there is found evidence in the North of a feeling that Mr. Johnson will turn out to be as liberal as Mr. Kennedy.

OTHER WAY
But in the South and in some business circles in the North, the reasoning is just the other way — that Mr. Johnson is basically conservative and, in due time, will turn out to be a genuine conservative.

This would perhaps be more evident after the election, when he presumably would no longer need liberal support.

Is conservatism more of an issue than "civil rights"? Sen. Goldwater thinks so.

On a TV program last Sunday, he told the audience that in the South the issue of conservative fiscal policy, for instance, is considered more important than "civil rights." He said:

"I will make a prediction to you. I believe that, when the civil rights bill comes to the floor, it will contain the public accommodations section.

Portraits

By JOHN C. METCALFE

Oh, I know that you are waiting. . . . By a moonlit garden gate. . . . And the hour for my returning. . . . In your mind is growing late. . . . But the distance I must travel. . . . Is not only over miles. . . . For there are the problems. . . . Which are hidden by my smiles. . . . And I know that when the moonlight. . . . In this night-time drifts away. . . . That your loneliness will enter. . . . Into still another day. . . . And no doubt the crimson sunbeams. . . . Will be shut out by the shade. . . . And the azure of the heaven. . . . In your eyes to gray will fade. . . . But, my dearest, please be patient. . . . In this time we are apart. . . . For I promise you some twilight. . . . I shall bring my faithful heart.

"I think we will go through the gestures of a filibuster, and the President will go through the gestures of fighting for the bill, but at a critical point a compromise will be reached where the public accommodations section will be dropped, with the approval of the President."

But wouldn't this mean losing the enthusiastic support of the Negro voters and of the various liberal groups in the North? Maybe the public-opinion polls will tell a different story than as the Johnson popularity figure surges upward in some sections and drops in others.

Certain groups are doubtless going to find themselves disappointed. If, for instance, the President sticks to the Kennedy policies, he may find his Southern support materially reduced.

About all that can be said now is that public-opinion polls are a measure of the state of mind of the people at a given time and not a forecast of the result of a nominating convention or an election several months in the future.

And the "state of mind" today is one really of wishful thinking — that the new administration here will somehow make vital decisions on highly controversial issues and yet satisfy everybody.

Pope for Christian Unity, Not Church Compromise

By EUGENE LEVIN
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI during his pilgrimage to the Holy Land put a new stress on the search for Christian unity, suggesting that his Roman Catholic Church and other churches draw closer in a spirit of understanding while working to achieve a united church.

The 66-year-old pontiff has not put aside his vision of a single Christian church with the bishop of Rome at its head.

But two momentous acts of his pilgrimage indicate a willingness to accept a sort of co-existence for the present.

In a message from the birthplace of Christ at Bethlehem, the Pope committed his Church anew to "every possibility by which mutual understanding, respect and charity may be fostered so as to smooth the way to a future—and, please God, not too distant—meeting with our Christian brothers still separated from us."

UNITY PLEA

Later, the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople told their 800 million followers they must work and pray for a united church.

Three basic elements emerged from his speeches in Palestine:

● That the "will of Christ is pressing" on all Christians to attain "the supreme blessing and honor of a united church."

● That the Roman Catholic Church continues to consider itself the one church "already within the safety of the fold of Christ," and that unity must signify a return of other Christians for whom "the door of the fold is open."

● That for the present, Roman Catholics and other Christians must have as their objective a desire "that every step toward reunion and interchange of views should be inspired by love of Christ and the Church."

Voice of the People:

Charter Amendment Vote Sparks Citizens' Interest

We have an opportunity to vote for better government for our city. It is an opportunity to elect people who, in the future, will have to answer to all the voters of Pontiac—instead of just to their own districts. They are supposed to represent us all now, but this I wonder about.

★ ★ ★
We will be able to elect officials we and our children can be proud of and citizens will develop a decent regard for people in office, instead of being ashamed of officials who are cited for contempt of court, and who do not have enough regard for the citizenry of Pontiac, if they don't agree with them.

★ ★ ★
The mayor said no one was going to run Pontiac but the City Commission. I agree but he should have used ruin instead of run. With the change we will be able to ring down the curtain on the Landry Follies.

★ ★ ★
Be aware of a last minute campaign of distortions, half-truths and innuendos such as were used in the last commission election, too late to be answered.
807 Pensacola Edward Souriall

The Pygmy mind of The Press has revealed itself. The attack on Milton Henry indicated journalism at its worst. The proposed system of electing the Pontiac City Commissioners is obviously aimed not at improving the talent of the City Commission, but rather destroying the political life of Milton Henry. Perhaps our Press is disturbed by Milton Henry because he often reveals the prejudiced mind of some of the white leaders in the area.

★ ★ ★
Would The Press support an amendment to the constitution allowing the entire country to decide whether or not such racial bigots such as Sen. James Eastland and Sen. Strom Thurmond should be representing our "democratic" government? Too, our nation might have wishes to vote on whether the famous Bull Connor of Birmingham should have represented a law enforcement body of this nation.

Charles E. Billings
Charles W. Cheng
Robert G. Newby

There is no question that a "yes" vote next Monday will give us more representative local government.

★ ★ ★
To compensate for the black eye and humiliation we received from the ludicrous investigation of our police department and the city manager, we can now demonstrate to everyone, including prospective business and industry, that Pontiac really is a progressive and responsible community. Vote "yes" next Monday, Jan. 13.

Richard H. Zimmerman

86 Ottawa

The citizens of Pontiac will be called to give approval to the proposed city charter amendment. All citizens interested in the future of the city should voice their approval with a "yes" vote.

★ ★ ★
The present charter provision is inadequate to meet the needs of a large city in that the voter can only vote in the final election for one man. The result, in many cases, is the elected commissioner represents the interest of only his own district and not the city at large.

★ ★ ★
The proposed amendment would allow each voter to select one representative from each district. By this method the elected representative is responsible to the entire city and not to merely one district. This plan is good for the people of Pontiac and they should support it.

William P. Hampton

A letter in the Voice of the People, said under the proposed plan "six-sevenths of your vote is spread all over town." That isn't so.

I get a full ballot for each section and not a fraction. If you figured like the writer did, you would never vote for President as you would only get 1/68,000,000th of a vote. I voted for Swainson and I did not stay home because there

Stassen Will Run

The Chicago's American

All it takes now is a big surprise to prepare you for the new year, so here goes: Harold E. Stassen is going to run for the Republican nomination for President. Well, all right, he's done that every four years for quite some time. But this time there is something new — two new things, in fact.

For one thing, Stassen has a letter from former President Eisenhower promising like's support in Stassen's campaign as Republican candidate—provided Stassen gets chosen as the Republican candidate.

And for another thing, Stassen doesn't expect to get the nomination. His object in running, he said in making the announcement, is "to enlarge the Republican debate on the critical issues of the day."

He wants, he explained, to Support the Jaycee program and help Pontiac elect more capable men and not just the ward favorites of some small group. One Full Vote

The Jaycee voting plan gives Pontiac a way to dump Henry or anyone that is undesirable and lacking in the qualities we want. A commissioner should be answerable to the whole city as he represents the whole city and makes decisions for the whole city. No small group should be able to force a weak candidate down the throats of the entire city.

Mrs. James Brown
East Side

Pontiac citizens who have been concerned with the situation of our city now have an opportunity to do something about it. The present system of district elections makes each commissioner primarily responsible to his own district rather than his city and naturally leads to conflict and disunity.

Under the proposed amendment, with citywide elections, commissioners could take a greater interest in the general welfare of the city and a wholesome atmosphere of unity and progress might result. Thanks to the Jaycees for giving us the opportunity to vote "yes."

James L. Howlett

The charter amendment as proposed by the Jaycees is well worth the attention of Pontiac people.

It will provide the taxpayers with better representation and should act as a much-needed stimulant for business.

Express Concern About Refuse Pickup

I commend The Press on its editorial concerning trash and garbage pickup. The garbage cans and trash at the curb for several days certainly were a lulu. It's a wonder it didn't happen over Christmas.

When this plan was started I asked the department if the cans couldn't be put back on the cans. I was told that could not be done as it would entail more expense. The kids come along and give the covers a few more kicks and they no longer fit the cans. My commissioner told me he didn't like the plan either, but it had to be done in the interests of economy.

I saw an elderly lady having to be helped taking her can to the curb and then an elderly man trying to take his cans back fell on the ice and had to be helped up. This is disgraceful with all the money spent and wasted on other projects. Let's get a government that will take care of all our citizens.

Voting Jan. 13 is a first step.

Fed Up

Our streets are full of trash and garbage for four days and now over Sunday on Ardmore Street. It wouldn't hurt to pay these men overtime and clean the city up. I suppose the West Side is cleaned up. Would it take some money out of Henry's pocket to give these men overtime?

Mrs. P. L.

I hurt my back dragging cans and refuse to the curb in November and was in the hospital for two weeks without pay from work. I wrote to the city manager and the attorney replied saying I should buy a cart. How many old and sick people struggle through this ice and snow to get the unsightly mess to the curb. Must everything be sacrificed for economy or is it just because Flint does?

Troy Firm Expands Training Program

By ALLEN PHILLIPS

A pilot program by government and industry to use on-the-job training as a weapon against unemployment has been expanded at the AMT Corp., 1225 E. Maple, Troy.

The U.S. Department of Labor announced that a second group of 26 employe-trainees this week embarked on the unique plan established under the manpower development and training act.

The new man will literally earn while they learn their way to secure jobs with a future, explained Richard Swain, Labor Department field representative.

"All we do is defray the cost of instructors' time and clerical work," Swain said. "The company uses its facilities to train the men and agrees to keep them on as regular employes when the instruction is completed."

ON-JOB-TRAINING

Swain said the OJT program is already well under way at AMT, which hired an initial group of 30 last August. These men are in a 48-week instruction program.

Raymond McKee, the company's training director, said AMT agreed to be the first Detroit area firm to institute government-sponsored OJT because of its own personnel needs.

"A company of this size isn't able to do much about starting its own program," McKee explained. "Attempts in the past met with limited success."

"Outside schooling is not satisfactory because even people directly involved in our business are hard pressed to keep up with changes. In the hurry of production it is a problem to keep regular employes informed of new methods."

McKee said AMT, one of the nation's largest suppliers of scale model cars, faced a serious problem in finding qualified workers.

OJT program trainees are now studying clay modeling, plastic wall tryout, illustration, plastic decoration and machine maintenance.

Once trained, McKee predicted the new employes would have good potential for advancement and would have continued interest in furthering their technical education.

The program has had a pervasive effect throughout the company, McKee added, with supervisors and older workers

City Aide Gets St. Clair Post

The assistant director of Pontiac's urban renewal program today announced he is resigning to take over as director of an urban renewal program in St. Clair.

Daniel B. Skeen, 24, said he would assume his new position Jan. 20. His resignation becomes effective Jan. 17.

St. Clair is a small city of 4,538 population just south of Port Huron. Skeen will start at $10,000 a year, the same salary for urban renewal director in Pontiac.

He had been earning $8,100 annually as assistant director here.

PONTIAC NATIVE

Skeen of 1162 Neafie is a native of Pontiac and had been in the urban renewal department for 2½ years.

MULTIPLE BENEFITS

Swain said the government also sees multiple benefits flowing from OPT.

"Any place you upgrade, like hiring these new men or training regular workers, you create jobs on the bottom. In filling needed positions you're also attacking unemployment farther down the line."

Swain said the government has budgeted $47,000 for the AMT program. This defrays the cost to the firm of releasing regular personnel from their jobs to serve as instructors, and for clerical work.

But he pointed out the expenditure will be recouped in the form of income taxes paid by the 56 new employes who benefit.

DISTINCT ADVANTAGE

Compared to other Manpower Act programs in which the unemployed or unskilled are sent to school at government expense, Swain said OJT has a distinct advantage: All trainees become employes at regular wages at the outset.

He explained that firms of any size can apply for OJT if they meet the criteria of being able to establish worthwhile schooling and assurance of jobs.

Presently, Allen Gear and Tube Co. of Rochester is the only other area firm using OJT. It is training two men as screw machine operators.

5 Fire Units Battle Blaze in Area Store

Firemen from five area departments battled a blaze this morning that gutted the Stop & Shop Super Market at 101 S. Main, Almont.

Called to assist the Almont department in keeping the fire from spreading to nearby stores were firemen from Dryden, Imlay City, Romeo and Capac.

The two-story building that housed the store was left a shambles by flames that also destroyed the market's complete inventory and ruined the furniture stored upstairs.

The Almonte Restaurant next door was closed because of smoke damage, and firemen said there was some water in basements of several adjacent business places.

FAULTY WIRING

Faulty wiring around the fuse box is believed to have caused the fire, according to Ernest Howarth, store owner and manager.

No estimate of loss was immediately available.

News of Area Service Personnel

Earnest A. Metzner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Metzner of 4231 Bluebird Drive in Commerce Township is on a training mission in the Caribbean.

He was recently promoted to fire control technician third class, USN, while serving aboard the attack transport USS Mountrail operating out of Norfolk, Va.

Marine Sergeant Richard L. Marcum, son of Mrs. Marcia Jewell of 188 Fairmount Avenue and the late Troy Marcum, was recently promoted to his present rank while serving with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

He entered the service in September 1957.

Second Lt. Robert O. Abney, whose wife, Sandra, lives at 331 Newport Avenue, recently completed an eight-week signal officer orientation course at the Army Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The lieutenant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse O. Abney, 1824 N. Telegraph Road, is a 1958 graduate of Pontiac Central High School and a 1963 graduate of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Richard F. Hart, machinist's mate second class, USN, was recently promoted to his present rank while serving aboard the nuclear powered aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

The carrier was operating with the Second Fleet out of Norfolk, Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Hart, of 3803 Dorothy Lane, Waterford Township.

Army Maj. Charles F. Gordon Jr. recently received a bachelor of arts degree from Park College in Parkville, Mo.

Park College is the only college in its five state area to offer military personnel a chance to complete their education under a Military Degree Completion program.

The major is a 1945 graduate of Pontiac Central High School and is the son of Mrs. Grace D. Gordon of 13 Mohawk Road and the late Mr. Gordon.

Army Pfc. Carl F. Saddler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Saddler, 102 Green Street, was assigned to the Army element of the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) in Viet Nam, as a clerk.

MAAG, Viet Nam, is a combined services organization which advises the armed forces of the Republic of Viet Nam on training, the use of equipment and tactical operations.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Pontiac Central High School.

David J. Garnett was recently graduated from the Aviation Machinist's Mate Jet Engine course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

The airman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Garnett, Sr. of 4976 Hobson, Waterford Township.

Veteran of Both Wars Dies Following Illness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. John Bragdon, 70, veteran of both world wars and a former deputy chief of Army Engineers, died Tuesday after a brief illness. After retiring in 1951, Bragdon served the White House as assistant for public works planning from 1954 to 1959 and later was a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board. He was born in Pittsburgh.

The 107-year-old American Institute of Architects has more than 15,000 members.

May Let Bids in Waterford

Construction contracts on an addition to Waterford Township High School and contracts on three other school building projects may be awarded tomorrow night by the school board.

Bids on the WTHS project, opened last Thursday, amounted to less than 2 per cent above the estimated cost of the job.

Bids on an addition to Cray High School and on the construction of two elementary schools, opened a month ago, were nearly 15 per cent over the budgeted figure.

The architects for the projects since have been negotiating with contractors to reduce the cost by substituting materials and equipment and deleting where possible.

PART OF PROJECT

All four of the building projects are a part of the school system's $6.25-million building program approved last June at the polls.

In other meeting business, Dr. Marshall C. Jameson, elementary coordinator for the school district, will present a report on the school system's use of student teachers from various colleges and universities.

Sewers Nearer for Oxford

OXFORD — "Right now, Oxford is the closest it's ever been to getting sewers without really having them."

With these words yesterday, Village Manager Michael Kilgore summed up the status of the proposed Oxford sewer system, a facility which would serve the 614 residential properties and the 83 commercial establishments here.

Generalizing on a complicated plan of financing the $906,460 construction project, Kilgore pointed out that it will cost the average homeowner $125.50 for 12 years and $78 for the following 18.

AREA NEWS

to go ahead with the construction, Kilgore said the project is of such magnitude that the council feels the opinion of Oxford's citizens is necessary.

KEENLY AWARE

"The council is keenly aware of the citizen's pocketbook," Kilgore pointed out. "We plan to inform the people of the need for a system through the press, a Jan. 23 public hearing and other means as necessary."

Preliminary estimates of the unique spray irrigation treatment plant, to be located in the area west of the Grand Trunk railroad tracks and south of Seymour Lake Road, show a construction cost of $317,715 including land acquisition.

The lateral sewer collection system is billed at $598,745 in the preliminary plan.

After studying eight possible ways of financing the sewer lines and treatment plant, the council arrived at a recommendation.

CONNECTION CHARGE

Under terms of the financing schedule the costs will be paid by a residential connection charge of $570. This would be levied over a 12-year period, $47.50 annually.

Also contributing to the $125.50 annual payment, for 12 years, would be an average debt retirement cost of $20, a 11.41 millage levy drawing $34 (based on an average of $3,000 assessed valuation) and a minimum of $24 annually for operation and maintenance.

After 12 years the annual payment would drop to $78, when the connection charge was paid.

COMMERCIAL END

On the commercial end of the scale, a sewer connection charge would be levied on the basis of annual metered water usage.

"It is anticipated that we will request the county to build the system," Kilgore explained yesterday.

Preliminary plans for the sewers, submitted by consulting engineers Johnson & Anderson of Waterford Township, have already been approved by the council.

PRELIMINARY COSTS

The engineering firm, along with Kilgore, the village council and representatives of the county's Department of Public Works, have arrived at the preliminary cost figures after almost two years of work.

Kilgore stressed the idea that the estimates were to some extent "guess-timates" and subject to change as the total assessed valuation of the village fluctuates and final construction costs are determined.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the local school board has adopted a new administrative internship program to begin next September.

Interested staff members in the school system will be requested to apply for the program, which will involve a minimum of six weeks of training in administrative procedures.

Six of the applicants will be selected by the administrative council for the program. They will work directly with the present school heads and in the actual administrative affairs of the school.

Dr. Early explained that the new program will benefit the system in two ways. It will serve as a testing ground and review period for future candidates, as well as build up a reservoir of administrative personnel.

As an added feature, selected works of two county artists, Mrs. Joseph Bunting and Mrs. Ruth Ward, will be on display.

UPCOMING OFFICERS

Officers to be installed are Roy Barrett, president; Vincent J. McAvoy and Mrs. James Carey, vice presidents; Mrs. Charles Reeder, executive secretary; and Mrs. Leo Savoie, corresponding secretary.

Others are Mrs. Mac DeLosh, treasurer, and Mrs. Marie Sprenger, assistant treasurer.

Hymn of the Month

for Imlay City Church

IMLAY CITY — Throughout 1964, the Imlay City Church of the Nazarene will cooperate with a unique program in presenting a hymn of the month.

The purpose is to help the congregation become more familiar with some of the great hymns that now are a part of the Christian heritage.

LOIS JEAN MOSER

Aug. 29 vows are planned by Lois Jean Moser and David R. Schwandt, whose engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Moser, 6036 Atkins, Troy. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Schwandt, 1540 Muer, Troy.

MARY JANE BERGER

Mr. and Mrs. Clare L. Berger, 248 Lapeer, Lake Orion, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jane, to Gerald Edward Bates of Port Worth, Texas. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bates, 580 Second, Oxford Township. No wedding date has been set.

Clarenceville Approves $750,000 Bond Issue

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Clarenceville School District property owners have continued to support a building program here, yesterday accepting a $750,000 bond issue.

The issue won by a 539-198 vote. School officials said the margin was normal for the debts which voters have accepted every two years since 1952.

Only the largest request was at first refused by the electorate. In 1962 a $1.25-million bond issue was defeated in the spring. But that fall, the district accepted one for $1.5 million.

With yesterday's favorable vote, school officials plan to start construction of a high school swimming pool and elementary addition in the spring.

COMMUNITY USE

The pool at the new Clarenceville High School has been designed for community use. It will account for about 47 per cent of the bond issue, with another 43 per cent marked for elementary building.

The addition to Edgewood Elementary School will include eight classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and library facilities completed by the academic year 1965-66. Some renovation of the existing building also is possible.

Schools Supt. Louis E.

Schmidt said the pool will constitute the fifth phase of a six-part building program initiated by a citizens' committee in 1955.

The final phase, he said, will include an auditorium, four or five classrooms and vocational and special education areas.

70 PER CENT

The construction approved yesterday will bring the district's school facilities to about 70 per cent of the capacity needed when the area becomes completely built up, Schmidt said.

He predicted that the school board will seek the balance of the building money within a year.

However, he also noted that the district's tax base would increase by 40 per cent with the opening of the Livonia Mall shopping center, scheduled for completion at 7 Mile and Middlebelt within the next two years.

Walled Lake Voters to Decide on Courts

WALLED LAKE — The City Council last night placed on the April ballot a charter amendment which would give the city a municipal court.

The system would replace the present Justice of the Peace Court scheduled to be abolished within the next five years under the new State Constitution.

Gene Schnelz, attorney serving as the city's justice of the peace, suggested the change to improve service now and protect the city from being affected by alterations, which might be made at the state level.

Criminal jurisdiction under a municipal court would not be altered, but jurisdiction in civil cases would be increased from $500 to $1,000.

ATTORNEYS

Candidates for the position would have to be attorneys, whereas justices of the peace need not be.

It has not been determined when the first municipal judge would be elected. It might be in November or not until April, 1965.

However, the resolution passed last night provides that Schnelz serve as judge until the new one takes over.

Besides, he and his legal partner are the only two attorneys now living in the city and are therefore the only conceivable candidates so far.

SITE PURCHASE

City Attorney Howard I. Bond told the council last night that the proposed city hall site could be purchased officially at the council's Jan. 21 meeting.

Bond said he has located all of the heirs to the 3.9 acres of property for which the city has agreed to pay $13,750.

The site is located on the north side of West Maple, about 500 feet west of Decker.

Flint Quartet Will Sing at Avon Twp. Church

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Sons of Harmony Quartet of Flint will sing at the 9:45 and 11 a.m. services Sunday at the Auburn Road Church of the Nazarene.

The vocal group also is featured in an all-musical concert at 3 p.m.

In Case of Fire . . .

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Members of the Independence Township Fire Department will discuss the department's function at tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Sashabaw PTA.

TERESA E. CHENOWETH

Announcement is made of the engagement of Teresa Eilene Chenoweth to Dennis Kenneth Leonard by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chenoweth, 790 Friar, Milford. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leonard, 5635 Linton, Walled Lake. No date has been set for the wedding.

Rochester School Trustee Resigns

ROCHESTER — John H. Patterson, the outspoken critic of many school policies, has resigned from the Rochester Board of Education.

Patterson, in his letter of resignation, said the "action of certain members of the school board at the special meeting Dec. 30" was the reason for his quitting.

The controversial board member called the actions "results of a planned conspiracy to belittle me."

His departure leaves Board President James Ludwick and other members guessing what the "action" was.

"The board is not aware of action at that meeting that would make Patterson want to make this particular move — it was a very pleasant session," Ludwick said.

In his letter, Patterson said he felt it was "in the best interest of the youngsters of our community and my family that I resign."

CHASTIZES BOARD

He chastized the board, and "the rancorous efforts of a few of the members," and said it had not been a pleasure working with the board.

Patterson said he had hoped the new administration would have ended "the prejudice that had existed" before, but added that it was evident the "vindictive effort will continue."

The resigning board member was elected to an unexpired term in 1962. His term of office was to expire next June 30, but his resignation takes effect immediately.

Schools Supt. Dr. William Early said today that Patterson's replacement would probably be named at a special board meeting Monday night. The new member would serve just until the June election.

In other business, the local school board has adopted a new administrative internship program to begin next September.

Interested staff members in the school system will be requested to apply for the program, which will involve a minimum of six weeks of training in administrative procedures.

Six of the applicants will be selected by the administrative council for the program. They will work directly with the present school heads and in the actual administrative affairs of the school.

Dr. Early explained that the new program will benefit the system in two ways. It will serve as a testing ground and review period for future candidates, as well as build up a reservoir of administrative personnel.

Sends Parolee Back to Prison

An Orion Township parolee was sent back to prison yesterday on a charge of leaving the scene of a personal injury automobile accident.

Duane L. Pearson, 24, of 3970 Maybee was handed a 1- to 5-year prison term by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero. Pearson pleaded guilty last month.

Pearson originally was accused of assault with intent to murder after his car struck a 19-year-old friend, Michael Bollman, of 4882 Payton, Waterford Township.

Police said the car hit Bollman after the two quarreled while drinking in Pearson's car. But the assault charge was dismissed in Waterford Justice Court.

Pearson was on parole from a 3- to 15-year term for burglary in 1961. His record also contains several driving violations.

Sky Changes Above America

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Small, fast airplanes likely will be buzzing into America's transportation picture like a swarm of busy bees.

The reason is that many large airlines may be cutting back service to smaller cities across the nation. The gap will be filled — and in some cases service will be broadened — by air taxis, planes defined by the Civil Aeronautics Board as weighing not over 12,500 pounds.

They give scheduled, irregular or demand service.

More than 2,600 air taxi operators envision a rich harvest of business flowing from the decision of the Federal Aviation Agency and the CAB to trim government subsidies to airports and airlines.

ELIMINATE SERVICE

Because such subsidies can spell the difference between black and red ink, many airlines may have to eliminate service to many small communities.

Taxis will zoom into the vacuum, carrying passengers into the scheduled airline network.

A side benefit to passengers may be that those in areas not now serviced by regular lines will find air taxis increasingly available.

LESS SERVICE

• While there are over 6,000 airports in the United States, fewer than 600 have scheduled airline service.

For the passenger traveling to or from one of the 5,400 off-airline cities, air taxis provide the means to go all the way by air.

• The idea of having one airport serve all cities in a geographical region endorsed by FAA and CAB will further reduce the number of airline-served airports in the years ahead.

• CAB's use-it-or-lose-it program will wreak a steady attrition of smaller towns that will lose scheduled air service for lack of support.

MINIMUM LANDINGS

• Pressed by CAB and Congress to reduce their subsidy needs, airlines will gradually give up marginal traffic points or at least cut to a minimum number of daily landings.

• With today's emphasis on speed many passengers may become reluctant to spend almost as much time in surface travel at the end of a 1,500-mile plane trip as they spend in the air.

For example, without air taxi, a businessman traveling from Los Angeles to Fredericksburg, Va., could jet to Washington's Dulles Airport in less than four hours, but would then have to spend an additional two and a half hours getting to Fredericksburg via limousine and bus.

MAJOR STEP

By air taxi, he can fly from Dulles to Fredericksburg in 20 minutes, at a cost of as little as $6.30.

A major step in the air taxi breakthrough is creation of the National Air Taxi Service Guide, just issued as part of the Official Airline Guide.

It lists the cities served by members of the National Air Taxi Conference (NATC), exact fares for single and twin-engine aircraft, the number of passengers who can be carried and estimated flying time.

The guide has been distributed to 23 major airlines which recognize NATC.

These airlines will make air taxi reservations for passengers.

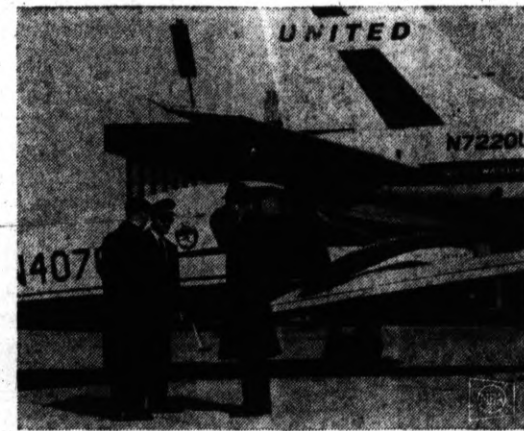

BRANCHING OUT

Several air taxi services are branching out into helicopter flights.

Among the more successful are Los Angeles Airways, Chicago Helicopter Airways and New York Airways, which operate helicopter shuttles between airports and downtown points.

Biggest stumbling block in helicopter operations is the high initial cost.

Copter prices begin at about $45,000 and they don't come cheaper by the dozen. The rate for helicopter charter service runs about $125 per hour.

SHUTTLE SERVICE — Small planes may be the connectors of tomorrow, acting as taxi runs between short airline points, thus eliminating need for short air hauls by larger commercial airliners.

OUR PONTIAC MALL STORE IS OPEN EVERY NIGHT TO 9 P.M.

Pauline Trigere "cocktail" coat has trapunto work, flower by flower, leaf by leaf, worked on a print of muted tones.

Count Sarmi created this multi-colored ball gown of chiffon with tones of purple, gold and orange fused with pale green. Plenty of yardage gives the billowing effect. Sarmi is a member of the American Designers Group.

Full Length Gowns Sweep Into Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—Full-length evening dresses were highlights of Tuesday afternoon's shows by Count Sarmi and Mollie Parnis of the American Designers Group.

Sarmi specialized in drama, and made much use of chiffon in prints that looked like butterfly wings.

Bodices and sheath skirts were of printed silk twill with the full chiffon overskirts — one had 75 yards of matching print.

Mollie Parnis, who commented on her own show, said she designs to help a woman catch, or keep, a man.

FITTED

Her designs were almost fitted, with seams and darts bringing the fabric in at the waist, and gathers emphasizing the bust.

For evening wear, Miss Parnis favored silk gazar in solid colors. Usually it was white for the bodice, black for the long, slim skirt and a sewn-in belt in a bright accent color.

A lengthy but interesting show by Ben Zuckerman emphasized his idea of the spring suit — wool and most often in white, ivory, beige, gray or apricot.

Zuckerman's suit jackets reached the skirts two or three inches below the waistline.

NEW SHOULDERS

Shoulders were squared, a few slightly padded, and sleeves were three-quarter or short.

The blouse was usually the color of the suit, silk, tucked into the skirt, and finished with round neck and tiny bow.

Old fashions never die. They cropped up again and again Tuesday.

was depended on the designer's mood.

Most, like Ann Klein of Junior Sophisticates, still are enchanted with the roaring '20s.

THEY CLING

Borrowed from the sexy '30s are bias-shaped dresses that reveal every figure fault. Seen also were plunging necklines and cascades of feathers and plumes.

Chalk-striped dandy suits date to the depression days — and bolder versions to the turn of the century. Filmy blouses with lacy bibs are out of great-grandmother's family album.

But it was designer Vera Maxwell who drove home the message that old clothes well-chosen can be worn 10 to 15 years without revealing their age.

ALL CLASSICS

Slash jackets, coats that ease over hips, classic sheaths with busboy jackets, princess dresses, coachman and Chesterfield coats — all took to the runways without looking a day older than the current collections.

Yet they were costumes garnered from the closets of Miss Maxwell's friends, and still in use, with a little hemming, for those many years.

Her current collection, sure to be in vogue a dozen years hence, featured India raw silk shirt shifts in shades of orange, pink and yellow that do wonderful things for red-heads.

Bethel Girls

Meet Monday

Honored queen, Donna Chambers, presided over her last official meeting of the International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 5 Tuesday evening.

Installation of new officers will take place Jan. 18 when Edna Isenberg will be installed as the new honored queen.

Main topic of discussion at the 8 p.m. meeting was the benefit sale Feb. 22 to be sponsored by the Bethel.

Mothers Club Sets Usual Celebrations

Leona Hagburg handled hostess honors as the American Gold Star Mothers, Inc., Chapter 34 met at the Bemus Olsen Hall recently.

It was decided to celebrate birthdays as usual with a dinner and gift. Following the regular board meeting, the remainder of the evening was spent sewing cancer pads.

Dancing will be included in the plans for the Jan. 17 meeting at 8 p.m.

This Molly Parnis creation has a chartreuse silk bodice and white organza skirt joined by a shocking pink sash.

Invitation Is Formal but Correct

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: The daughter of a friend was married quietly out of the state two weeks ago. I have received an invitation to a reception that her parents are giving for her and her husband.

The invitation reads, "To meet Mr. and Mrs. John Smith." Isn't this wording incorrect considering that the bride and groom are well known here?

I thought the words "to meet" were used only when a party was given for someone who is a stranger.

A: "To meet Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" is rather stiffly formal but certainly not incorrect.

The phrase "to meet" means that the party is given in honor of a particular person who may be a stranger or may be a member of the hostess's own family.

Q: As my mother died a month before Christmas, I did not send out any Christmas cards this year. I received quite a few cards from friends living out of town and who apparently do not know of my mother's death.

Should I write and thank these friends and explain why I didn't send them any?

A: It is not necessary, but if you would like to, you may certainly write and thank them for their cards and explain why you didn't send any cards.

Q: If friends drop in just as we are about to watch a favorite program on television, does courtesy exact that we turn it off, or may we leave it on and expect them to watch it with us?

A: Go toward the television saying, "I don't suppose you want to see Bill Smith's show" and turn it off, unless your visitors stop you with an enthusiastic, "Oh, do leave it on! We love his program."

He Doesn't Drink!

M.D. Has Liquor Problem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an M.D. who has recently moved to a new, medium-sized town. In times past I have received gifts of liquor at Christmas from both colleagues and patients.

I do not drink, nor do I serve liquor to another person. I do not want to be identified with the drinking crowd, and yet to refuse such a gift may create bad feelings. How do you advise I handle this?

"TEETOTALING M. D."

DEAR "TEETOTALING": Return the liquor with the following note:

"Dear —: Thanks for the Christmas 'spirits'. You were thoughtful and generous, but I don't use alcohol.

"And while I pass no judgment on those who do, I cannot bring myself to give it to them. I am just peculiar that way. I hope you understand."

DEAR ABBY: My husband doesn't approve of my writing to a stranger with a personal problem, so please put your answer in the paper and use a phony name.

We have one child and my sister has three. Every Christmas we spend five dollars on a gift for each one of her children. She spends five dollars on a gift for our child.

My husband says that either we should spend a total of FIVE dollars on all her children, or else she should spend $15 on a gift for our one.

"CHRISTMAS HANGOVER"

DEAR "C. H.": In making up your Christmas gift budget, allow "X" number of dollars for each family.

Then divvy it up to provide a gift for each one. Naturally, the family with twelve children can't expect each child to be remembered as generously as the family with one child.

This is the fairest system I know.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me as I can't quit thinking about it and my school work is suffering.

A boy called me up and asked if I remembered him. I got flustered and couldn't think, so I foolishly told him I didn't remember him.

I guess he was embarrassed, because he said goodbye in rather a hurry. After he hung up, I remembered who he was.

Area Painter Will Speak to Artists on Color

Demonstrations and a talk on "Color in Painting" will highlight the 8 p.m. Friday meeting of the Pontiac Society of Artists.

Mrs. Lloyd Radell, noted area artist, will present the demonstration at the Community Services building on Franklin Blvd.

Mrs. Radell formerly taught

Ruth Ann Bunjovac and Wanda Hillman of Rochester and Rhoda Jean Parker of Detroit were attendants.

Jack Sampson was best man with Donald Frayer, brother of the groom, David Dahline, brother of the bride, and Thomas Willis of Detroit were ushers.

Parents of the new couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orrin D. Dahline of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Frayer of Middle Belt Road.

He is a doll from school and I DO remember him now. Well, when he sees me at school he just looks right through me.

I want to let him know I do remember him and want him to call me again, but I don't know how. Should I call him up? Help!

MADE A BOO BOO

DEAR MADE: Don't call him. Ask a friend of yours to tell a friend of his that you DO remember him, and regret the boo boo on the phone, and hope he'll call you again. Then, start hoping.

Journal Urges Prevention of Brutal Beatings

NEW YORK (UPI) — An editorial in "Medical World News" urges all states to pass a new law designed to protect children against brutal beatings and cruel neglect.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the journal for doctors, said such legislation would free physicians of their obligation to respect confidences in such cases and protect them against lawsuits from outraged parents when the physicians diagnose cases as the "battered child syndrome."

Such a law has been drafted by the U.S. Children's Bureau for consideration by state legislatures.

Why Grow Old?

Even though they may not have gone on record by speaking out loud, I feel sure that immediately following the holidays, most women said to themselves something like, "I've had it! I am going to start out immediately and lose this weight. This time I am going to do it!"

A long look in a mirror, an added inch or two in a belt, and the discomfort of clothes that are too tight have reinforced the wavering determination of many a woman.

And, you can do it in the next eight short weeks even if you have from 15 to 20 pounds to lose. I am bringing you my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP) this week to help you if you wish to see how much you can improve your appearance in that length of time.

Do not be deceived by the weight charts which give average, rather than ideal weights. The average woman gains weight gradually (and sometimes like mad) as she grows older.

Remember that the weight which was ideal for you at the age of 25 is ideal for you from then on.

Height is not the only factor to be considered. If you have large bones instead of delicate ones, you can weigh more without being overweight. I know it is difficult to decide whether you have a small build, a medium build or a large build.

As I have said before, the techniques and the equipment to determine this scientifically are not feasible or available for you.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

However, you can pretty well judge for yourself. You know whether or not you have broad shoulders and whether or not your ankle and wrist bones are heavy or delicate. If after deciding what build you have, and based on that, how much you should weigh, and it makes no sense, then you have classified your bony structure incorrectly.

Look at the following weight chart again and try to fit yourself into one of the categories as to build; but don't kid yourself!

Husband
"too tired"
times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamo day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many leading nutritionists recommend augmenting the daily diet with America's great "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the nutrition-rich, germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ is one of the most healthful foods known.

KRETSCHMER

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients helpful to good health and youthful vigor!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is one of the most healthful foods known; (2) Your family will like its nut-like flavor. If not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrollton, Mich., for full refund.

WHEAT GERM

June 27 vows are planned by Susan Marie Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Grant of Henry Clay Avenue and Michael J. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Shaw of Berwick Boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex E. Cummings of Fiddle Avenue recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Delores, to Lindell E. Dalton, son of Mrs. Anona Dalton of Belleville. April 25 vows are planned.

Mr. Charles Marteney of Young Street and Mrs. Jean Marteney of Melrose Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Virginia Lee to Randall P. De Haan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert De Haan of East Hammond Lake Drive. No wedding date has been set.

February 8 vows are planned for Patricia Ann Moriarty and Michael S. Pappas. Miss Moriarty is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Wagner of Livingstone Avenue. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Bruce Coleman of East Beverly Avenue and the late Steve Pappas.

Panhellenic Club Helps Area Crippled Children

Instead of the usual program, members of the Pontiac City Panhellenic assembled birthday kits for the children attending the school at the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm is philanthropic chairman for the group, which met Monday evening in the activities room of the United Fund building.

Mrs. Wayne Pyke, president gave a report of her participation in the recent Institute on Organizational Leadership held at Oakland University.

SPRING TEA

Preliminary plans were discussed for the spring tea held each year by Panhellenic for Pontiac area college bound senior girls and their mothers. The event will be held on the afternoon of March 28.

Helen Cudini was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Stanley Hutchinson was reinstated to membership. Guest for the evening was Mrs. William Jakeway.

The Feb. 3 meeting will be held at the Mohawk Road home of Mrs. William Freymuth.

Impulsiveness Leads to Injury

CHICAGO (UPI) — The accident-prone person most likely is impulsive and gets hurt through his own imprudent actions, says Dr. Wilbert E. Fordyce, of the University of Washington School of Medicine.

In a study of 58 men who had incurred paralyzing spinal injuries in accidents, the subjects were first tested for personality traits, then interviewed to determine the circumstances leading to each accident.

Results, reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, showed a high correlation between patients judged to be "impulsive-dominated" and accidents regarded as results of imprudent behavior.

Republicans Hope to Pick Nominee Without Bitter Battle

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prime question faced the Republican high command today as it assembled for strategy sessions looking toward the November elections:

How to pick a presidential nominee without going through so many bitter donnybrooks that the party would be disunited for the November showdown?

This issue was not on the formal agenda of the Republican National Committee as it assembled for four days of talks on how to get out the vote, how to attract financing, how to cut down Democratic margins in such big cities as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia.

But the harmony issue was on the mind, for example, of Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman and GOP powerhouse. In effect, he posted over his state's May 5 primary a "please keep out" sign addressed to major aspirants for the presidential nomination.

FAVORITE SON

The Ohio plan is this: The delegation will go to the national convention pledged to Gov. James Rhodes as a favorite son. Ohioans are expected to vote for him on the first ballot. Where they might jump thereafter, Bliss was not prepared to say.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, electioneering Tuesday in New Hampshire, remarked that he might find it desirable to enter Ohio's primary. Bliss expressed the hope that Goldwater and all other major candidates would abstain, in the interests of avoiding a divisive fight.

A similar plan to Ohio's is under way in Wisconsin. There

Rep. John W. Byrnes has agreed to run as a favorite son. The Democratic National Committee, convening here Saturday, has no such worries about slugging matches for the presidential nomination, since President Johnson is considered a sure bet.

The big question, not likely to be publicly decided before the convention, is: Who will Johnson choose as his running mate?

For this spot, the stock of Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and brother-in-law of the late President John F.

Kennedy is, at the moment, soaring.

This is because Johnson has showered Shriver with praise—calling him most brilliant, able and popular—and has sent him to deliver letters to Pope Paul and leaders of Near Eastern countries.

Kin Fighting for Children of Murderer

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Relatives waged a legal tug-of-war today over custody of the four children of T. Eugene Thompson and his pretty heiress wife whose murder he was found guilty of masterminding.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Swoboda of St. Paul, parents of slain Carol Thompson, said they would seek to set aside a court order giving custody of their grandchildren to Thompson's sister.

If they are not successful, the Swobodas, who have a plumbing fortune, said they will appeal to the Minnesota Supreme Court.

Mrs. Swoboda said she had "absolutely no" advance word the three Thompson daughters would be taken out of school in St. Paul yesterday and driven away.

COURT ORDER

Thompson's sister, Mrs. Freeman Gesche, and her husband, took the children to Blue Earth, 120 miles southwest of the Twin Cities, and got a Faribault Probate Court order appointing them guardians.

Mrs. Gesche indicated she would leave the children in Highland Park Elementary School in St. Paul until the end of the school year.

However, the school principal, Mrs. Edna Harm, said Mrs. Gesche called her and said she planned to enroll the daughters in school at Blue Earth, a farming community near the Iowa border where Thompson was reared. The Gesches live near Elmore, nine miles south of Blue Earth.

The fourth Thompson child, Jeffrey, 14, is a student at St. Paul Academy, and Mrs. Gesche indicated he may remain at the private school.

Hole-Digging Device

Kills State Boy, 10

MONROE (AP) — A 10-year-old boy was killed at nearby Ida Tuesday when he became entangled in a posthole-digging apparatus.

Police said Nicholas J. Skotynsky of Ida, and his brother, Thomas, 14, were operating a tractor with a posthole attachment while planting trees. Police said Nicholas was fatally injured when he was caught in the mechanism that powers the digger.

Ohio Statehouse Lawn

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 10 acres of lawn surrounding Ohio's statehouse in downtown Columbus virtually have disappeared.

Machines and men are digging a huge hole three-quarters of the way around the capitol building for a $6 million, 1,200-car underground parking garage.

Bullet for Bullet, He Is Forgiving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Henry Brown Jr., 40, believes in returning favors.

He told attorneys Tuesday he wouldn't press an assault to murder charge against Myrtle Ross, 44, even though he said she shot him.

The reason: Brown said he shot Myrtle's sister last year. "They forgave me and now I wish to do the same for her family."

Dist. Atty. James Barlow wasn't equally forgiving. He said he will submit the case to the grand jury.

Also surviving are two brothers, Arthur W. and John E., both of Clarkston; 22 grandchildren; and 21 great-grandchildren.

Diner Burglar Is Sentenced

A 48-year-old Pontiac man was placed on two years probation and ordered to serve 60 days in jail yesterday for his Aug. 24 burglary of the Jet Diner at 714 Woodward.

Marshall F. Elrod was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Zeim, who accepted Elrod's guilty plea Dec. 12.

Elrod was working as a cleaning man in a bar adjacent to the burglarized restaurant when police arrested him.

Police said they found the exact amount stolen from the diner, $11.05, in Elrod's possession.

Board Will Review Education Program

School Supt. William J. Emerson will review the county's special education program tomorrow at 4 p.m. at the regular meeting of the Oakland Schools Board of Education.

Emerson will outline plans to limit future expansion of the county-operated program because of the big influx of people into this area.

In other business, the county school board will set up a timetable for the next six weeks preparatory to adoption of a 1964-65 budget.

Also, the board will hear a report on a staff work survey made last fall. The eight-week study details how many school districts staff people deal with on a daily basis.

Plan for M59 Traffic Outlined

A rerouting plan for through traffic on M59 while a road widening project is under way was outlined to members of the Greater Waterford Community Council last night at Pierce Junior High School.

James Boyd, of the state highway department, explained the proposed through traffic rerouting and also pointed out that local traffic could proceed over the 2.4-mile stretch from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road.

Speaking at the regular monthly GWCC meeting, Boyd said westbound through traffic would bypass the construction zone by taking Telegraph to Dixie, Dixie to Williams Lake Road and Williams Lake west to Airport Road.

Eastbound traffic on M59 would detour left on Airport Road to Williams Lake Road, turn right on Dixie and take Dixie to Oakland into Pontiac.

TEMPORARY ORDER

A temporary restraining order preventing the highway department from halting through traffic was signed by Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore last Friday. A hearing is slated for Monday.

The order was obtained by a group of M59 businessmen fearful that closing of the road to through traffic for six to eight months would hurt business.

Boyd told GWCC members that work on the widening of M59 from two to five lanes would proceed as soon as possible.

NEW BRIDGE

Construction of a new bridge over the Clinton River west of Crescent Lake Road will make through traffic impossible.

In other business at the meeting, Donald Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Works, said that the construction project to interconnect the existing township water systems should begin about May 1.

The $7.35-million project also will include installation of water storage tanks.

Ringler suggested that the township may have sewer service in three years. He based the statement on the eventual extension of the Dequindre Interceptor to 23 Mile Road.

WATER SERVICE

The Detroit Water Commission has agreed to supply sewer service as soon as Waterford, West Bloomfield, Avon, Pontiac and Independence townships are ready to enter an agreement with the commission.

Gets Prison Term for Shotgun in Car

Carrying a sawed-off shotgun in his car one day last November cost 18-year-old Val R. McGraw a 1- to 5-year term in prison yesterday.

McGraw, of 34557 Rhonswood, Farmington Township, was given the prison sentence by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondoro for carrying a concealed weapon.

McGraw pleaded guilty Dec. 12.

Farmington city police who arrested the youth Nov. 6 said they found the shotgun in his car. McGraw was on probation at the time for unlawfully taking and using an automobile.

The export value of American goods to underdeveloped free world countries last year amounted to $7.5 billion.

Woman Gets 30-Day Term in Burglary

A former Pontiac woman who was arrested with two ex-convicts in connection with the Sept. 23 burglary of a Waterford drugstore was given a 30-day jail term yesterday.

Mrs. Sara Amps, 32, of Flint was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondoro.

Although she and the two men were charged originally with breaking and entering and safe robbery, Mrs. Amps was permitted to plead guilty Nov. 19 to the lesser charge of entering without permission.

Her two accomplices both of Pontiac, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and received 4- to 15-year prison terms.

Sewer Users to Pay More

Pontiac Hikes Rate for 2 Outside Areas

Rate hikes for two outside communities using Pontiac sewer service were approved last night by the City Commission.

The recommended increase will double rates for parts of Waterford Township and Sylvan Lake using city sewage treatment services.

The area of Waterford Township tied into the city's sewer system lies directly west of the city, mostly between Huron and Elizabeth Lake Road. It also includes the Pontiac Mall.

City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling recommended the rate hikes.

REVENUES INCREASED

The new rates will increase revenues from $37,763 to $75,526 a year from outside users, Nepling said.

About 600 residential and commercial sewer connections in Waterford Township tie into the Pontiac system, while 650 residents and commercial businesses are affected in Sylvan Lake.

Rates to outside users were not increased last September when sewage rates to city residents went up.

On a metered basis, Nepling said the rate will jump from 16 cents per 1,000 gallons to 30 cents, while in addition a readiness-to-serve charge on the meters makes the increase double the old rate.

In unmetered areas, the city engineer said a flat rate increase from $18 to $36 per year per single family unit will be charged outside users.

SEWAGE GAUGE

The commission also approved installation of a meter to record sewage from Sylvan Lake, which is currently charged on a flat rate basis.

Nepling estimated the cost at $3,500.

Sylvan Lake city officials previously had agreed to switch to a metered rate.

View of Congress:

A Few Men Rule With Iron Hand

By HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Howard W. Smith, a Democrat, represents 357,461 person living in the eighth congressional district of Virginia.

He is unknown to most Americans, but he has almost unlimited power in what might be called our "hidden government" — the iron rule of a few men in Congress.

Smith is chairman of the House Rules Committee. He achieved that position, not by any popular vote, but because of the fact he has been able to get reelected to Congress without a break since 1931.

Next month he will be 81 years old. He is a beneficiary of the seniority system in Congress under which men with longest service automatically get the best jobs.

HOTTEST BILL

The hottest and most controversial bill before Congress today is civil rights legislation. Both Senate and House committees have held lengthy hearings on it, every shade of opinion has been placed in the record in millions of words.

So will Congress now promptly vote on civil rights? Not at all.

The bill will be voted on whenever Smith decides the time is right and when that time will be no man can predict because Smith personally is opposed to civil rights legislation.

It is the function of the House Rules Committee to decide on the precedence in which bills shall be sent to the floor for action and decide how much time shall be devoted to debate.

A TRAFFIC COP

Smith is a traffic cop, manipulating red and green lights.

He can set the traffic lights at a permanent red merely by retreating to the Virginia countryside, thereby making it impossible for the rules committee to meet.

There will be no attempt here to assess the merits and demerits of the civil rights bill because that is not the point.

The point is that under our legislation system one man can prevent Congressmen from performing their sworn duty — to debate legislation and vote yes or no on it.

HE HAS WAYS

Every poll indicates the civil rights bill would pass the House tomorrow and Smith doubtless is aware of that fact. He has his own means of preventing it from happening.

The amount of time wasted under the cumbersome and archaic rules of Congress is incredible. There is a vast amount of work that is duplicated.

A cabinet officer will go before a House committee and testify for six hours. The next day he will go before the equivalent Senate committee and deliver the same testimony for another six hours.

In 1962, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee on Jan. 19, 22 and 23 for a total of 20 1/4 hours.

BEFORE THE HOUSE

On Jan. 24, 25 and 26 he appeared before the House Armed Services committee for a total of 15 hours.

His other appearances in that year were before the House subcommittee of defense agencies, House Appropriations Committee, House Foreign Affairs Committee, House Foreign Operations subcommittee, House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, Senate Appropriations Committee, Senate Appropriations subcommittee for the defense department, and Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Altogether McNamara spent the equivalent of 18 eight-hour work days providing information of which 90 per cent was duplication.

The obvious answer is to create joint committees made up of House and Senate members and permit the witness to tell his story once instead of twice.

This has been tried in a limited way, and there are joint committees on atomic energy, defense production and internal revenue taxation among others.

WASTE NO TIME

But, if you turned everything over to a joint committee you would throw either a House or Senate chairman out of his job, and let us waste no more time exploring why the status quo is invulnerable and impregnable.

Congress is no different from any other cross-section of American life. It contains fools and wise men, rich and poor, playboys and scholars.

Its image suffers because the hard-working, conscientious members are the least likely ones to make news. Adam Clayton Powell, a Negro Congressman from New York's Harlem, is typical of the ones who catch headlines.

One August, in the middle of a Congressional session, Powell disappeared from Washington. Word finally got around that he had gone to Europe to study the economics of the Common Market and laws relating to equal pay for women doing the same work as men.

HE HAD FRIENDS

He had sailed on the Queen Mary with two companions Miss Corrine Annette Huff, 21, first American Negro ever chosen to compete in the Miss Universe contest in which she was runner-up, and Mrs. Tamara Wall, a 31-year-old white divorcee.

Miss Huff was listed as a congressional clerk and Mrs. Wall as an attorney hired as an expert on equal pay legislation.

The trip was financed by the federal government and came to $4,791 exclusive of transportation from and to the United States.

Powell and his companions attended theaters in London and the Lido night club in Paris at government expense, went to Rome and then to Greece.

THE STORY BROKE

The story broke in American newspapers and Powell decided to cut short the trip and hurry home.

He called a news conference and was asked whether he thought the use of public money to attend night clubs was an abuse of a congressman's privileges.

"No," Powell replied, "because it's done by all of them." He was over-stating the matter somewhat, but he did have a point. In 1962 more than 100 congressmen traveled abroad on the nation's business.

In 1961 the congressional junketeers spent a total of $405,000 to see the world.

He's Almost Lovable

TV Is Spoiling Danny Kaye

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Question:
Has television success spoiled
Danny Kaye?

Answer: Yes, he's almost lovable.

Hollywood reporters of long standing could relish an interview with Danny Kaye for its give and take. He was master of the eloquent stare, the brisk reply, the knack of making an inquiry seem like the mousing of a kindergartner.

Ah yes, a Kaye interview was a challenge. But look at him now. He's brimming with goodwill. He is happy.

"I haven't been this happy in years," he says. "I haven't been this stimulated in years. All kinds of dire things were predicted for me if I did a weekly television show. It hasn't affected me physically. It hasn't affected me emotionally. I've never been in better shape."

BEST THING
"This is the best thing that could have happened to me. I remember sitting and talking with Moss Hart some time before he died. He mentioned that it was good for a person to take his life and shake it up once in a while. That's what I needed."

"I don't mean by shaking up my life I would have quit show business. But I was at a point where I needed some added stimulus, some new challenges. My career had fallen into a pattern of sameness; I would make an occasional picture, I would play some theaters and some night clubs. I would tour for UNICEF. I was reaching the same audience, and a smaller audience."

The interviewer hesitantly suggests that the television show might not have had an adverse financial affect.

LESS MONEY
"Money was the last thing I went into television for," he contradicted, showing a glimmer of his old form. "As a matter of fact, I am making less money now than I could if I worked in other fields."

Kaye explains that his only reluctance in entering television was that it would tie him to one locale for most of a year. That problem is alleviated somewhat by his schedule: five weeks on, one week off. The week off has found him fishing in Canada, attending the World Series, flying to London, etc.

The Kaye hour has been proclaimed one of the hits of the season. The future? "The way I feel now, I'm ready to sign for another year."

Alaskanese Is Odd-Tongue to Chicagoan

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—To Alaskans, there's no place like home, but even they sometimes get the feeling the 49th state is pretty remote.

George F. Merz, Anchorage auto dealer, said Tuesday he placed an order with a Chicago firm for new auto contract forms.

The company's return letter said: "We wish to inform you we only do business in the continental United States and we have no facilities for printing in a foreign language."

Junior Editors Quiz on SCHOOL BUSES

QUESTION: Why are school buses yellow?

ANSWER: If you look at a color wheel which shows the brightest colors in a ring, you will notice that the ones which catch your eye first are the yellows, oranges and reds.

White and black also stand out and arrest the attention. In choosing colors for important road signs which warn drivers of dangers or situations in which they should drive cautiously, these colors are kept in mind by the authorities.

Fire engines are bright red so drivers can see them quickly and pull out of the way, and white is often used where it is important for drivers to see signs at night.

Yellow, a color which stands out strongly, is widely used to indicate that the driver should use caution, as in the three road signs at top of picture.

It is used on school buses to make them visible and to warn drivers to be cautious in approaching them, for when the school bus stops and puts on its flashing red lights, cars coming both ways must by law, stop too, so that it is safe for the children to get in or out, especially because children may be crossing to the school bus from the other side of the street.

FOR YOU TO DO: Remember that though it is against the law for cars to pass a parked school bus, some might try to do it. Make sure no cars are coming if you have to cross the street to the bus.

U. S. Mail Bus in Fatal Crash

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—A post office mail bus and a flatbed truck collided on a West Virginia Turnpike bridge north of Beckley today, killing five persons, State Police Trooper R. P. Pumphrey reported.

Three of the victims were post office clerks sorting mail as the big van traveled from Charleston to Beckley. The other victims were drivers of the bus and truck.

The head-on collision occurred about 15 miles north of Beckley and blocked north-south traffic on the turnpike.

Pumphrey said the vehicles met near the centerline of the highway.

The mail bus had left Charleston about 3:15 a.m. EST. The accident occurred about an hour later.

The mail clerks were W. Brent Robinson, 51, and George Christo, 38, both of Charleston, and H. H. McGee of Glen White in Raleigh County. The drivers were not identified immediately.

AF Chief's Daughter to Rule Azalea Fete

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Gene Zuckert, daughter of Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert, will be queen of Norfolk's International Azalea Festival on April 22-26, the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce announced today.

Gene, 16, is a blue-eyed ash blonde, 5-foot-2 and 105 pounds. She's a sophomore at Holton Arms, a private school in Bethesda, Md., and lives in Chevy Chase, Md.

Search Still On for Missing C124, 9 Men Aboard

HONOLULU (AP)—The search for a missing C124 Globemaster and the nine men aboard entered its seventh day today as planes continued to search selected areas in the mid-Pacific.

Tuesday night, six aircraft resumed the after-dark vigil for lights or radio signals over a wide strip south of the course over which the aircraft should have flown on its journey from Wake Island to Honolulu.

Approximately 3,400 hours and 260 sorties have so far been flown in covering and recovering nearly 600,000 square miles of ocean. At times, more than 40 planes, each with approximately 10 men aboard, have been in the air.

The first woman admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, March 3, 1879, was Belva Ann Lockwood of Washington, D.C.

Legislature to Be Overshadowed by State, National Politics

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature convenes at noon today to begin a 1964 session overshadowed by activity on the state and national political fronts.

Lawmakers return to Lansing only 18 days after wrapping up their last business of 1963 — a special session on implementation of the new constitution.

There will be no formal activity before Gov. George Romney delivers his second state-of-the-state message, with recommendations for legislation, at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Aides to Romney said the message will contain brief references to his proposed 1964-65 budget, including the recommended figure, which is certain to be a record, well above the current $550 million.

BUDGET MESSAGE

The actual budget message, outlining fiscal demands in detail, is slated for delivery on Jan. 28.

Foremost in the minds of many lawmakers, as the 1964 session begins, will be the question of legislative reapportionment that will change the boundaries of many districts, and cost some their jobs.

Injected into the proceedings as a sudden new element is Romney's declaration in Washington, D.C. Tuesday that he could accept a draft for the Republican nomination for president, if the opportunity arose.

Some early-arriving lawmakers said they couldn't yet assess what impact, if any, Romney's shift in position on the GOP nomination might have on the legislature.

SEEKS REELECTION

Several said, however, that they felt it assured that Romney would soon announce his intention to seek re-election as governor, in order to remain in the forefront of the political arena.

Battles over funds for mental health and higher education are expected to make headlines during the 1964 session.

Other prime issues are likely to be a new attempt to pass a state minimum wage law — a near-miss in 1963 — and restricting of the new state court of appeals.

The 1964 legislature will commence without change from the party lineup which gives Republicans a 23-11 edge in the Senate and a 58-52 majority in the House.

Pontiac City Affairs

Seek Federal Grant

Application for a $108,000 federal planning grant was approved last night by the City Commission.

The commission okayed applying to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for the federal funds for urban planning assistance.

Under terms of the grant, Pontiac would contribute about 25 per cent of the costs in staff services.

The planning grant would be used to do further detailed studies of the basic Pontiac

RENEWAL NEEDS

The goal is to plan for and pinpoint urban renewal and redevelopment needs for the future, including traffic and recreation needs.

The PGDP is a guide for a pattern of land use in future years.

In other business, the commission adopted an ordinance to rezone nine lots on the north side of East Pike at Douglas for the future development of multiple family dwellings.

A public hearing was held prior to the ordinance adoption, but no opposition was voiced. The City Plan Commission had recommended the rezoning.

Action was deferred on a plan commission recommendation to vacate a portion of Milbourne Place and Mill, east and north of the perimeter road, pending an agreement with the state.

Guevara Will Lead Cane Cutting Corps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba's minister of industry, Ernesto Guevara, will lead 1,000 volunteer cane cutters into Camaguey Province's sugar fields next month, Havana Radio said today.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said labor unions in Camaguey are contributing 4,000 volunteers to cut and load sugar cane during the harvest now getting under way.

The Cuban Farm Workers Union meantime urged workers' families to get busy harvesting rice, tomatoes and cotton before these matured crops wither.

Former Soviet Prisoner Resumes Medical Study

ASHBURNHAM, Mass. (AP) — Marvin W. Makinen, a Soviet prisoner for two years, left his home in Ashburnham, Mass., to resume pre-med studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

Makinen, 23, was an exchange student at the University of Berlin when he was arrested while visiting the Soviet Union July 27, 1961, on a charge of espionage. He was accused of photographing Soviet military installations.

Choose Soup to Fit Needs

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Soup deserves more attention than it gets. It picks you up when you're tired. It relaxes you after a busy day.

It warms you on a frigid night; and cools you in the heat of the summer.

The dieter's friends — consommé or bouillon — often serves as the first course. Cream soups and hearty thick soups can be an entire meal.

If your son or daughter brings home a bunch of teenage cronies, have the soup ready. Serve with skewered nibbles of cheese, olives and pickles speared on an end of French bread.

Submarine soup is a quickie.

"Submarine Soup"
1 can (4 ounces) Vienna sausage, drained
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed vegetable bean soup
1 cup water
¼ cup tomato juice
2 teaspoons instant minced onion

In skillet, brown sausages in butter. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat, stirring now and then. 3 servings.

Long has the controversy over clam chowder raged in the East. New Englanders consider it almost sacrilegious to make their chowder with tomatoes; others further down the coast prefer it that way.

Here in the mid-West, this version of clam chowder will probably please all who try it.

Manhattan Clam Chowder
2 (7 ounces) cans minced clams and 1 cup bottled clam juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 leeks, chopped (Optional)
¼ cup chopped celery
1 (1 ounce) can small whole potatoes
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon marjoram
Bay leaf
Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups tomato juice

Drain clams and chop, reserving liquor. Heat oil in skillet; add onion, green pepper, leeks (if used) and celery. Sauté lightly until tender.

Meanwhile quarter potatoes. Add potatoes, seasonings and clams to mixture in skillet. Add water to reserved clam liquor to make 1 cup of liquid; add to skillet. Cook 15 minutes.

Add tomato juice and heat thoroughly. Remove bay leaf and serve hot with soda crackers. Makes 6 servings.

Sherry Flavors Baked Pears

Canned pears imitate other seasonings because their flavor is so delicate. That's one reason for combining them with spicy mincemeat and baking them in a sherried syrup. Suddenly, they become a simple, but elegant dessert.

QUICK PARTY PEARS

1 (No. 2½) can pear halves
½ cup mincemeat
½ cup syrup from pears
¼ cup Sherry
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ teaspoon maple flavoring
Sour cream, ice cream or whipped cream

Drain pears saving syrup; arrange pear halves in small baking dish and fill centers with mincemeat.

Bring the ½ cup syrup from pears, Sherry, sugar and maple flavoring to a boil; lower heat and simmer 2 or 3 minutes. Pour around pears.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm either plain or topped with sour cream, ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 5-6 servings.

Note: If desired, a tablespoon of lemon juice and ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind may be added to the syrup.

Jelly Inside

Small fry will enjoy the "surprise" in muffins if you make them this way. Fill buttered muffin-pan cups about half full of batter; drop a level teaspoonful of currant jelly in the center; add enough more batter to fill the muffin cups about two-thirds full. Bake as usual.

Finally, for a different cream soup, try rutabaga soup. The flavor is different.

Rutabaga Soup
2 cups diced rutabagas (2 pounds)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon sugar
4 cups chicken stock or 4 chicken bouillon cubes and 4 cups water
½ teaspoon ground white pepper

1 egg yolk
¼ cup heavy cream
CROUTONS

Sauté rutabagas 5 minutes in butter or margarine in soup kettle. Add salt, sugar and hot stock or bouillon cube and hot water. Cover and cook 10 minutes or until rutabagas are tender.

Put rutabagas through a sieve. Add black pepper and egg yolk beaten with cream. Reheat. DO NOT BOIL. Serve with croutons sprinkled over top. Makes 6-8 servings.

Mustard, Ginger Have Many Uses

Mustard and ginger are two other spices with unexpected uses. Mustard is a traditional pepper-upper of meats, while ginger is the spice which obviously gives its name and flavor to gingerbread. But ginger and mustard are both great accenters of other flavors, other spices.

Ginger brings out best flavor of meats, chicken and fish without giving a hint as to its identity. (Cook a fricassee chicken with a ½-inch piece of ginger root, for instance.)

On the other hand, would you believe it possible that a half teaspoon of powdered mustard enlivens ginger and other spices in a batch of gingerbread? Again, you will not taste the mustard as such — but the traditional sweet spices have more sparkle somehow.

Or, reach again for the black pepper: If you want to please and mystify your guests, add ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper to the other gingerbread spices.

If you want to pep up that broiled fish, serve it with a barbecue sauce.

Pork Shoulder and Beans Make Quick Casserole

When the holidays are happy memories and spring is strictly manana, there's still the problem of meals to plan today.

A good casserole to brighten a dull winter day is Mexican Beans made with ready-to-eat smoked pork shoulder butt and canned butter beans. These hearty foods come to life with the addition of lots of catsup, a chopped onion, a bit of chili powder, mustard, and liquid smoke.

The casserole emerges from the oven as a complete dinner — with only the addition of a fruit salad.

Your family will like its down-to-earth heartiness and spicy flavor, and you'll like its easy preparation and economy. When time is a factor, the casserole can be prepared in advance and popped into the oven forty minutes before dinner.

Mexicana Beans

1 pound canned butter beans
1 cup finely chopped onion
¾ cup catsup
1½ teaspoons chili powder
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon liquid smoke
1 pound thinly sliced ready-to-eat or cooked smoked pork shoulder butt

Drain beans, save ½ cup liquid. Combine beans, ½ cup bean liquid, onion, catsup, chili powder, dry mustard and liquid smoke in a 2-quart casserole; mix. Top with sliced meat; cover with foil. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.), until hot, about 40 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Future Hospitals to Automate Nearly Everything but Nurses

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
Associated Press Science Writer
MENLO PARK, Calif. —
Automation of almost everything except nurses will mark the hospital of the future, says a health economist. Cheerful nurses, relieved of drudgery by electronic slaves, will have more time for patients.

Each patient will have a small but private room. His bed, which may not resemble a bed at all, will supply an individual climate the way an incubator does for a premature baby.

Electronic devices will monitor his condition when needed.

SLEEP CURRENT

The sleeping pill will be replaced by a weak electric current flowing through his head at bedtime.

There'll be spray-on dressings, disposable garments and single-dose packaged medications.

NEARLY ALL

The automated hospital of the future will house almost all patients under a doctor's care, further reducing home visits. Patients may be grouped in the hospital by type of illness rather than degree to receive specialized nursing care.

This broad picture, with variations, is sketched by Dr. Mark S. Blumberg, senior health economist of the Stanford Research Institute.

"Our research teams are looking ahead only about five years, not into an indefinite future," Dr. Blumberg says.

Many of the devices that will automate the hospital and hold down manpower requirements are presently available. Others are on the drawing board.

NEED IMPROVEMENT

"Some already in use, such as those monitoring patients' temperature, pulse and respiration, need to be improved," Dr. Blumberg remarks. "Too many are designed as imitation nurses collecting information that is not terribly important."

Already, in postoperative recovery rooms, a monitor can au-tomatically trigger an electric device to stimulate a faltering heart, for example. Others could flash to a central control panel signals of patient agitation, vomiting, hemorrhage, changes in breathing and clues to impending surgical shock.

In labor and delivery rooms, monitors could count frequency of labor pains, perhaps distinguish between true and false labor. An instrument could follow the heart rate of the baby being born to tell the doctor when to intervene.

"The bed," says Dr. Blumberg, "will be broken down into its functions, and some won't look like a bed at all."

CIRCULATING AIR

Dr. Blumberg envisions the patient's body encased in a box-like tent of light, opaque material. The patient would need no upper sheet and blankets because circulating air would maintain desired temperature and humidity.

Dr. Blumberg says electricity has been used in the United States to induce anesthetic sleep, and work on electrocution for relatively normal sleep has been done by the Russians.

"At bedtime the nurse would just place electrodes on the insomniac patient's head, and wham — good night," he explains. A harmless amount of current shorts out the brain's wakefulness control center.

Five-second decontamination machines could replace much time-consuming hand scrubbing by nurses and doctors.

AUTOMATION EXPENSIVE
Automating the hospital is expensive. The devices probably will forestall some staff increases, Dr. Blumberg comments, but may fail to cut hospital costs. "They will result in better quality care," he states.

"I don't think automation will minimize tender loving care at all," says Dr. Blumberg. With electronic help the nurse "will have confidence and be more cheerful," he says.

"Instead of taking temperatures, she will have time to smile and say 'Hello,'" he says.

Runaway Elephant No Joke

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — How do you catch a runaway elephant? You chase it 21 miles, shoot it full of tranquilizers, and then tempt it with a delectable bale of hay.

Laredo officials learned the procedure the hard way yesterday.

A full-grown elephant broke loose from a small carnival in front of a grocery store here, and headed for the country.

HELICOPTER

Police and trainers followed, recruiting a helicopter to keep up with the animal.

Many hours, broken fences, and several traffic jams later, the runaway jumbo was recaptured.

A veterinarian fired three tranquilizers into the animal, and a ranch hand spread a bale of hay in its path. The combination proved irresistible.

Kennedy's Adviser Favors Disarmament

NEW YORK (AP)—John J. McCloy, disarmament adviser to the late President Kennedy, says "nuclear war is not an acceptable instrument of national policy" and failure to move more rapidly toward disarmament is "incongruous."

"A nice balance of deterrents, even if it ever could be attained, is a rather slender reed on which to rest for so long," he said in a speech to the New York Chamber of Commerce.

Board Will Consider School Swim Plan

A proposal — Operation Waterproof — to teach fourth grade pupils to swim will be up for consideration at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the regular meeting of the Pontiac school board.

The instructional program received tentative school board support last month.

However, board members were concerned about the cost, indicating the program should be self-supporting if possible.

In other action, the school board will pass on preliminary plans and specifications for an addition to the Mark Twain Elementary School.

Also, the board will be asked to okay a half-day workshop for all kindergarten teachers Jan. 20-24.

The workshop, will concern the reading readiness phase of a new reading program.

The school board will also consider a policy statement tomorrow evening on continuation of practical nurses training.

The statement specifies that program financing would not come from school district tax revenues.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, plans for a community resources workshop next summer for teachers will be explained.

In addition, a City Commission proposal to eliminate the Youth Assistance Program is slated for discussion.

This program is a joint project of the city, the school district and the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

The commission has talked of eliminating the program from its 1964 budget.

More than 40,000 jobs a week are being eliminated by automation, John L. Snyder, president of a manufacturer of automation equipment, told a congressional committee.

Carter Says Charter Change Won't Solve the Problem

City Manager Robert A. Carter is against approving the charter amendment Monday, but he thinks other changes in the election procedure should be considered.

Carter was hired as city manager after the controversial firing of the former manager, Robert A. Stierer, now city manager of Troy, N.Y.

The proposal to change the method of electing city commissioners arose during the stormy months surrounding the firing of Stierer.

"There are faults in the present system of electing commissioners," Carter said "but this amendment isn't the right answer."

EXPLAINS THEORY
He explained his theory this way:

"The object of this charter amendment as I understand it is to put less emphasis on ward politics, or districts as you call them, and more weight on citywide representation on the commission."

"I have no argument with this goal, but I think there are better ways to attain it."

"This amendment won't eliminate the districts. It won't eliminate the fact that all seven commission terms expire at the same time, leaving the possibility of mass turnover every two years."

AT-LARGE VOTE
The proposed amendment would retain district representation on the commission, but the final winner in each district would be decided by an at-large vote of the whole city.

Commission candidates would be selected at the March primary by voters from their individual districts alone.

Then, in the April final election, electors throughout the city would vote for seven candidates, one from each district.

Carter thinks there are better ways to combine district nomination and at-large voting powers.

STAGGER TERMS
"One method of accomplishing better balance in city government is to stagger the terms of office."

"For example, I think a more logical approach would be to redistrict the city according to population so there were only four districts instead of seven."

"Then, nominate and elect three commissioners from the city at-large to supplement the four district commissioners," he said.

"It would be best to extend the term of office from two to four years and stagger the elections.

ALTERNATE ELECTIONS
"You'd still have elections every two years, with the at-large candidates and district candidates chosen at alternate elections."

Carter emphasized that this type of combination with staggered elections "has worked successfully in other cities."

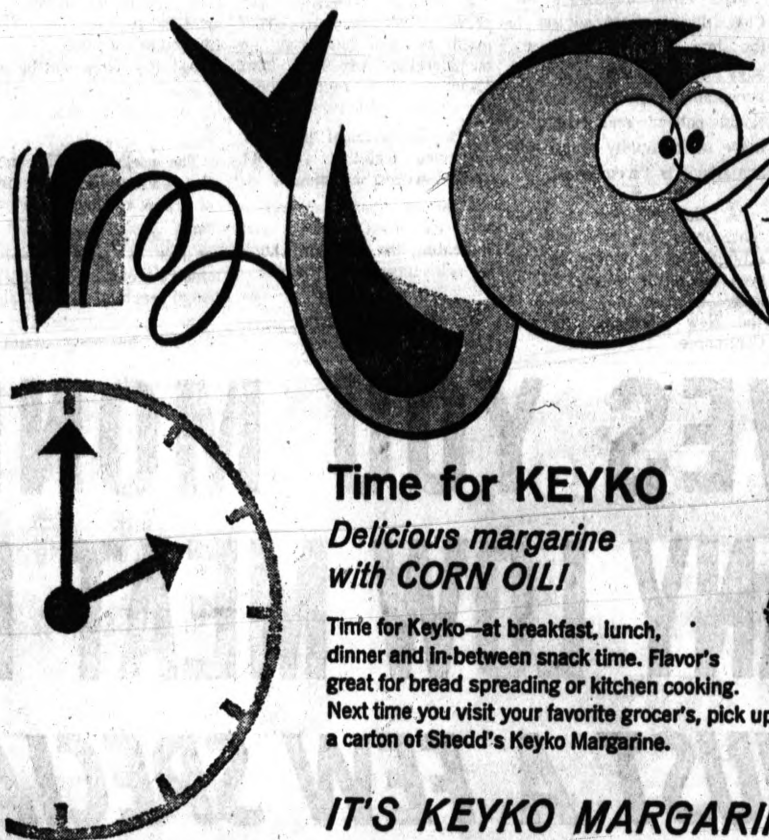

"It gives you broader district representation plus three watchdogs for the city-at-large."

The manager, however, wouldn't endorse a completely at-large election with no districts at all.

LESS REPRESENTATIVE
"This is less representative than the present system of electing commissioners by individual district vote. A city could end up with all its commissioners living in the same block."

"For good balance, a combination of the two plus staggered terms is the best solution in my opinion."

Prince Edward Island, the smallest province of Canada, was named for Prince Edward, the Duke of Kent and father of Queen Victoria. Until 1798 it had been known as Isle Saint Jean. There are approximately 1.5 million persons in America who are blind in one eye. Latest statistics show that almost two-fifths of U.S. brides are in their teens and over half of them will become mothers before they are 20, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

Crosby Clan Mourns Death of Mother, 90

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Catherine Helen Crosby, who ruled her family, including her crooner son, Bing, with affection, is dead.

Mrs. Crosby, 90, died Tuesday at a Santa Monica rest home. She had been in failing health for two years, and had suffered several strokes since last fall.

She had lived with her famed son, Bing, since her husband died in 1949, but after the initial stroke she was placed in St. Johns Hospital in Santa Monica, then in the rest home. She had been unconscious for the past three weeks, doctors said.

She is survived by five sons and two daughters: Laurence, Holmby Hills, Calif.; Everett, Salisbury, Conn.; Edward (Ted), Harry Lillis (Bing), Holmby Hills; George Robert (Bob), Honolulu, Hawaii; Catherine Mullin, Watsonville, Calif., and Mary Rose Poll, Carmel, Calif.

26 GRANDCHILDREN
There are 26 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren. Christened Catherine Helen (Harrigan), Mrs. Crosby was affectionately known to her friends as Kate and to her family as "The Boss."

Mrs. Crosby was a devout churchgoer and frowned on liquor as a sin. To her death her married daughters dared not light a cigarette in her presence.

Yet, as son Larry disclosed with a twinkle in his eye, in late years Kate enjoyed a touch of sherry in her egg nog "and she always kept an ounce of bourbon handy 'in case of an earthquake," as she put it."

BING WAS PET
Bing was her pet, Larry said,

MRS. CATHERINE CROSBY

but he recalled that "The Boss" didn't hesitate to go for a broom or an umbrella if Harry—she never referred to her son as Bing—got into mischief.

There came the day when Bing and one of his partners, Al Rinker, left Spokane, Wash., to enter show business.

"Wish me luck, Ma," Bing said. "Everything will be okay and first thing you know I'll be in the big dough and I'll sure make things swell for you."

She gave him an affectionate kiss, a pat on the back and hurried to the Poor Clare Monastery to say a novena for young Bing.

She was to make many, many more novenas for Bing and the whole Crosby tribe. The queen mother of the Crosby clan never failed.

Pontiac Schools Get Set for Used Clothing Drive

Pontiac public schools aim at collecting 20,000 pounds of wearable clothing this year in their seventh annual clothing drive, Jan. 13-17.

The goal for the week-long drive is about equal to one pound of clothing for every pupil.

Last year, the schools collected 22,735 pounds of clothing, according to Paul C. Allison, child accounting director and chairman of the drive.

Allison said that during the drive all pupils will take home information regarding the type of clothing needed.

Clothing gathered during the drive will be distributed to three local charitable organizations, he said. The used clothes will be given to Pontiac school children.

The agencies acting as clearing houses for the Pontiac drive are:

Salvation Army, 29 W. Lawrence; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 11 W. Wilson; and Dorcas Society, Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 138 Mt. Clemens.

Bundles of clothing will be collected at the city's 28 elementary and seven secondary schools. PTA's are assisting in the drive.

Persons who don't have chilren in school, but have clothing to contribute may call the nearest school, Allison said.

He explained that during the year clothing is made available to needy children in the school district.

Parents receive a clothing requisition order from the school and obtain the items free from one of the three agencies.

Diem Foe Will Lead 'Council of Notables'

SAIGON (AP) — Tran Van Van, a political foe of the late Ngo Dinh Diem's regime, has been elected chairman of South Viet Nam's new "Council of Notables."

The council has 58 members representing non-Communist political factions. It was appointed by the military junta which overthrew the Diem government and assigned to design a new form of government for the country.

Pedestrian Is Killed

OWOSSO (AP) — Mrs. Myrtle Ely, 65, of Owosso, was struck and injured fatally by a car yesterday as she walked across M-21 here. Police said the driver, Tracy E. Ide, 68, of St. Charles was held for investigation.

Long-Time Educator

Dies in Massachusetts

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — Arthur Stanley Pease, 82, president of Amherst College from 1927 to 1932 and former Latin and literature professor at Harvard University, died Tuesday. Pease, who also was a botanist, at one time taught at the University of Illinois.

Polaris Missile Hits Bull's-Eye Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A Polaris A3 submarine missile registered its 16th success in its last 18 launchings Tuesday night, striking a target area more than 1,500 miles down range.

Objectives of the land-pat firing were to evaluate guidance, warhead and other systems. The Navy reported that preliminary data showed all goals were achieved.

The A3 is being developed for a range of 2,875 miles, more than 1,000 miles more than earlier Polaris models.

Sturgis Police Chief James Lanning identified the victims as Thomas Tricker and Thomas Meyers.

Scranton to Talk to Other Hopefuls

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gov. William Scranton, mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, says he wants to tell all candidates his feelings on national issues.

The Pennsylvania governor said Tuesday he plans to meet soon with Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, one of the announced candidates for the GOP nomination.

"I want to tell him how I feel about national and local issues," Scranton said in a taped radio broadcast over station KDKA. "In fact, I'd like all the candidates to know how I feel."

Shoplifts for Sick Kin

NEW YORK (AP)—She was wearing a mink coat and her bank book listed $9,000 in savings, but police arrested her on shoplifting charges yesterday.

Lucille H. Colon, 43, told the officers she did it to help a daughter-in-law who is sick.

A store detective told police the blonde woman took four watches worth about $21 each and put on a pair of $13 slacks under her mink and walked out of the Fifth Avenue store.

Home Atmosphere Limits Learning

'Disadvantaged' Child Needs Extra Help

By LESLIE J. NASON
Special efforts are being made in many localities to educate disadvantaged children to a level where they will become employable.

Local school people often find, however, that these children too often slip through their fingers before they can be given adequate help.

The problem is aggravated by families moving about in search of work — usually the unskilled types of jobs which are so rapidly disappearing.

Jane is a case in point. She was labeled by school authorities as a "disadvantaged child." She was new in the school and her second-grade teacher discovered that her lack of knowledge of words and inexperience with books handicapped her in learning to read.

A visit to Jane's home revealed some of the reasons. No books or other reading material were in sight.

NO ONE CARED

Entering a new school was "old hat" to Jane. This was her sixth school. But up to now no one had paid much attention to her home life and lack of background.

In the previous schools teachers held the attitude that only teachers knew enough of the mysteries to impart knowledge such as learning to read. Parents were not only not asked to help them, in fact, requested not to try to help.

Now, in the new school, with a special study of disadvantaged children in progress all of the aspects of Jane's life were being considered — with the school making special provisions, costly ones in some cases.

Teacher — loads were reduced from 30 to 20. After-school classes were provided for extra individual help. Supplementary books were available

Whether DR. NASON Jane's parents had a "carry-over" from the previous school situation in which they were forbidden to help, or whether they merely had the attitude that "school doesn't matter — It isn't important," they showed no interest in helping Jane.

Regardless of the reason, before the problem could be solved and the cooperation of the parents gained, Jane and her parents moved on!

The family of disadvantaged children, must, somehow, become interested in a good education for their children. The family is the one continuous influence on children such as Jane as they are moved from place to place.

One of the first rules learned by rubber bridge players is the folly of doubling opponents into game. Therefore these players are particularly careful with their doubles of contracts of two or three of a major suit and three of a minor suit.

Duplicate players don't need to be that cautious. A bad double only leads to a bad score on one board. It's not that duplicate players like to make bad doubles, merely that they can afford to take chances.

Another good rule for doubler is not to double when you expect that there may be more bidding from your opponents. South's bid of three spades was by no means a stop bid.

North might well go on to four if his hand warranted a further bid. Furthermore, North had opened the bidding and he and South had bid at every turn thereafter.

Also, West was looking at a mere eight points in high cards,

Lakers Crush Hopes of Holly, 64-53

They were pounding on the doors at Pontiac Central at 5:30 p. m. last Friday night to get into the game against Pontiac Northern and for many the two hour wait was in vain.

School officials certainly can't be blamed when 6,000 people try to get into 2,200 seats, unless of course they make sure that both schools don't have top flight teams in the same given season. It would be unethical to even suggest this.

Phone calls and letters to the schools and to The Press from angry fans came from all directions. There were 4,000 irate people and anyone and everyone was subjected to the blame.

There were more than 500 turned away at the door just after they opened at 6:30 p. m., and "we could have sold 6,000 tickets in advance," said one school official.

ATHLETIC BOOST

With 6,000 seats filled, the athletic budget of the city schools would have received a pretty good boost. It would have proven the point we have voiced in this column many, many times—that there is no reason why high school sports cannot be self-sustaining.

It also goes to prove that good local rivalry does much more to build a sustaining sports program, especially football and basketball, than bringing in teams from other parts of the state which carry no following.

This has been our argument in the PCH vs. Saginaw Valley affiliation, one which becomes more obvious against SVC membership.

This we will not get into.

NO CAPACITY

The problem now is providing the capacity to allow local sports fans to see the big contests when they come about.

There is only one answer, a civic auditorium.

A Pontiac Central-Pontiac Northern game isn't the sole reason either.

Bringing more life into the local activities calendar; giving people of all ages a focal point for good clean fun; and helping the business climate of the city are essential and certainly realistic reasons for such a structure.

Athletic, cultural and social activities of Pontiac are in need of a home such as they have in Holland, Midland, Port Huron, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Lansing, Flint and other communities.

Just the visualization of such a structure in the heart of the civic area is enough to excite the sports-lover, music-lover, exhibits-lover and the average citizen with keen community pride.

DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

Hurrah, for Charles Finley, the new Bill Veech of baseball! The owner of the Kansas City Athletics, who has lost a big bundle trying to get established in Kansas City, is the best thing that has happened to baseball and the "old guard" of the Majors is giving him a fight.

If Kansas City doesn't appreciate having a Major League franchise, which appears obvious, Finley should be allowed to move the club to Louisville.

Finley is one owner who realizes baseball needs a good shot in the arm and he's spending money to make the attraction more colorful in his home park, even if it may be a cow-pasture.

UFL LOOKS TO PONTIAC

The United Football League is again reported seeking to set up base in Pontiac. Teams in the league include Grand Rapids, Indianapolis, Toledo, Cleveland, Wheeling and Louisville.

Pontiac, the smallest city of the league, could be the Green Bay of the UFL, with some help from the civic-minded.

West Bloomfield overcame three obstacles last night and the result was a 64-53 triumph over Holly's not-so-high-kicking Broncos.

The victory gave West Bloomfield a 2-3 record in the Wayne-Oakland League, tying it with Clarenceville (a 52-36 winner over Brighton), idle Milford and Holly for fourth place.

The Lakers had to overcome a lack of momentum in December when they won only one of five starts, the slowness of more than two weeks without competition, plus Holly.

The latter had hopes of keeping its slim chances for at least a share of the W-O crown alive; but they were dissipated in a five-minute stretch of the fourth quarter.

During that time, West Bloomfield overcame a 45-43 Holly lead and moved into a 58-45 lead before the visitors could tally a point with 2:56 left to play in the game.

OWN SLUMP

In holding Holly punchless, the Lakers offset a similar scoring drought that stretched over the final minutes of the first half and the first half of the third period.

At that time, West Bloomfield saw a 32-23 advantage change into a 34-32 deficit. The Lakers were in their top form, though, and stayed right in the game.

While neither team is blessed with outstanding height, the spirited, although often ragged game saw West Bloomfield manage superior control of the boards.

The winners frequently had second and third shots at their basket while Holly usually setting for one. The Lakers ended with four more field goals than their visitors.

Dan Greig showed a return to the form that made him a standout player last season for West Bloomfield. He shared

Oxford Beats Ortonville 5; Romeo Loses

Two of three Tri-County League teams in non-conference games last night found the endeavor profitable in the win column.

Oxford defeated Ortonville Brandon, 84-75, and Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse took Harper Woods, 56-51, in overtime. Romeo was swamped for the second time by Clintondale, 81-61.

The Oxford offense started strong and hit high gear in the second period to take a 51-34 lead at Ortonville.

The Wildcats hit 12 of 17 shots in the second session en route to 30 points in the period. Many of the shots were long ones.

Ortonville fought back, however, to take a 73-71 lead early in the fourth quarter. The Blackhawks could not sustain their push and fell back, 84-75 on a seven-point spurt by the winners.

Dave Houck's 25 led the winners and Dan VanVleet hit 17. Mel McDowell and Shorty Richardson hit 24 and 20, respectively, for Brandon—all on field goals.

Murdock Williams, 6-4 center for Clintondale, hit 30 points and controlled the backboards in the victory over Romeo. The winners led by 15 points most of the game.

Carl Kemp (15) and John Chapman (13) topped the Bulldogs.

L'Anse Creuse hit five points in the overtime period and held Harper Woods scoreless to gain its victory. Four players led by Bob Skrocki's 18 points were in double figures for the victors.

Mount Clemens Surprised

Brother Rice Quintet Wins Again

Birmingham Brother Rice stayed in the thick of its league race but Mount Clemens missed a good chance to move up in the Eastern Michigan League last night.

Brother Rice topped Detroit Cathedral, 58-50, and remained tied for the first place in the central division of the Detroit Catholic League.

East Detroit surprised Mount Clemens, 75-61, denying the homesters the chance to tie for second place in the EML race.

In other games Tuesday Utica lost to Fraser, 82-63, Memphis beat Richmond, 60-48, St. Gregory whipped Ferndale St. James, 73-50, Royal Oak Shrine fell victim to Redford St. Mary, 66-45, Detroit Thurston topped Cherry Hill, 77-63, and Oak Park was a 75-64 loser to Lutheran East.

BALANCE

Paul Jagels scored 19 points and had assistance from Bill Moore (16) and Dave Walter (13) on offense for Brother Rice.

Cathedral scoring ace John Orr was held to 14 points—11 below his average—mainly through the efforts of Jagels and Charley Keller.

The victory was the fifth in a row after dropping the season opener. Junior varsity player Bob Faught hit 34 points for a Brother Rice school record in the preliminary game.

Fred Bolle and Dick Williamson both had 20 points as East Detroit tumbled Mount Clemens into a four-way tie for fourth place in the EML. A 23-6 second period was the deciding factor.

Utica's Dan Decca hit 22 points against Fraser but could not balance the 25 points by Ron Byrd, the 27 by Danny Wojcik and the 24 by Pat Loughlin of Fraser.

The Chieftains were only down 58-37 with five minutes to play in the fourth quarter, but Fraser then broke the game wide open.

Memphis made the high school coaching debut of Tom Prieur a success with its early barrage against Richmond. The winners led 33-20 at halftime with the aid of a 47 shooting per centage.

Don Burns' 20 markers and 17 by Bill Doig were instrumental in the win. Gary Hagen hit 23 for Richmond.

game scoring honors with Holly's Mark Phalen, both at 22.

At Brighton, Clarenceville took an early control of the backboards and repeatedly found good openings to amass a 26-13 halftime edge.

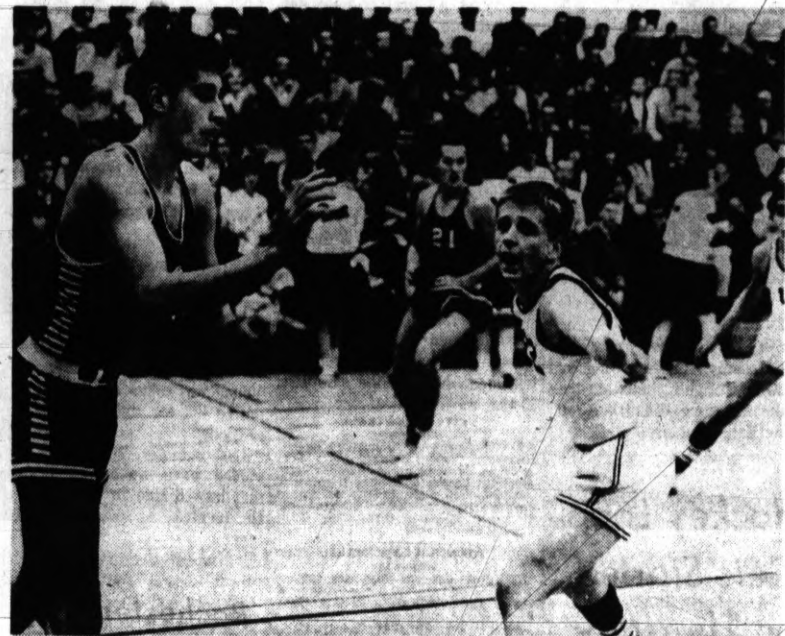

This time the Trojans did not fade in the second half as has been their habit this year. The loss was Brighton's sixth straight this year.

Dave Graves led all point makers with 20 points for Clarenceville while Bruce Evenson hit 17 for the losers. The visitors had a 21-13 field goal margin over the Bulldogs.

ARMS UP—St. Frederick and Royal Oak St. Mary players do a bit of reaching-and-stretching in a scrap for a rebound in their Northwest Parochial game last night at Jefferson Junior High School. At left is St. Mary's Doug Young (6-3 center) who came down with the rebound. The Irish won, 61-47, to run their league record to 7-0. The Rams are second at 4-2.

3 Climb O-A Ladder

Fitzgerald, Warren Cousino and Lake Orion all moved up a notch in the Oakland A League basketball race with victories Tuesday night.

Fitzgerald regained a tie with Troy for the top spot by toying with Rochester, 72-58. Troy had raised its mark to 4-0 with a 48-46 overtime victory Saturday against Madison.

Lake Orion surprised Clawson, 74-60, and climbed into a tie for third place with its victim and Warren Cousino which decisioned Avondale, 58-50.

All three squads are 2-2. Avondale and Madison are deadlocked for sixth with 1-3 logs while Rochester is winless in four starts.

The Falcons received a 22-point fourth quarter performance by Bruce McDonald in a losing cause. McDonald hit all 10 of his field goals in the last period and ended the night with 26 points for game honors.

TRIMS LEAD

His outburst helped trim a 42-15 halftime deficit for Rochester. Randy Chafin's 17 led Fitzgerald. The Spartans led, 19-0, after six minutes of play.

Lake Orion sewed up its win with second and third period margins that built a 59-42 lead. Dave Phillips hit 21, Bruce Fritz 17 and Bill Hamilton 16 for the Dragons. Jack Ahlfeld led Clawson with 22 points.

Avondale trailed only 49-47 and had two chances to tie the score early in the final period, but Cousino repelled the Yellow Jackets' bid and moved away to its final margin.

Lynn Thorpe took game scoring honors with 20 points but the winners had too much balance led by Drew Pisha's 17 markers.

The ties in the standings will be dissolved Friday night when Troy travels to Fitzgerald, Cousino visits Lake Orion and Madison goes to Avondale.

Knee Surgery for McCord

DETROIT (AP)—Darris McCord, Detroit Lion defensive end, was operated on Tuesday for removal of cartilage from his knee.

The Lions said the operation, at the University of Michigan Medical Center at Ann Arbor, was reported successful and McCord will be available for a 10th season in 1964.

McCord, former University of Tennessee star, played the entire 1963 season through troubled off and on by the knee. He joined the Lions in 1955.

Royal Oak 5 Still Unbeaten in Loop Play

Rams' Top Scorer Missing; St. Michael Rallies in Fourth

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The Irish of Royal Oak St. Mary took a giant stride forward last night in their bid for their second straight Northwest Catholic cage title by thumping St. Frederick, 61-47, at Jefferson Junior High School.

The win was the seventh without a loss in league competition for the Irish, while the defeat dropped the Rams two games off the pace with a 4-2 mark.

In other parochial games, St. Michael moved into third place in the league race with a 63-56 decision over Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes broke a seven-game losing streak with a 51-47 triumph over Detroit St. Agatha.

The Irish won the Northwest Parochial crown in 1962-63 after splitting the cage plum with Orchard Lake St. Mary a year earlier.

And the win over St. Frederick, the team picked to give the Irish a battle for the crown, puts coach Carl Wells and the sharp-shooting ROSM quintet in the driver's seat.

HOLLAND OUT

St. Frederick played without its high-scoring forward Lowry Holland, who injured his ankle in practice Monday evening. Holland's 22.3 scoring average is the fifth best mark in Oakland County, and the Rams were aware of his absence Tuesday.

The Irish, hitting 10 of 24 shots in the first period, raced to a 23-12 first quarter lead and the game looked like a runaway until the Rams' defense stiffened in the second stanza.

Trailing 35-20 midway in the second period, the Rams threw up a full-court press and scored 11 points in a row to narrow the deficit to 35-31 at intermission.

The Irish regained the range in the third quarter and opened up a 15-point gap, 52-37, with forward Don Wells picking up 14 of the 19 points in the hot quarter.

TOP SCORER

Wells grabbed individual scoring honors with 29 points, although he sat out most of the third period after picking up his third personal foul. Rod Bannister added 14 points to the Royal Oak total.

The Rams had three players in double figures with Bob Peoples heading the list with 16. Mike Dean and Marcello Gallardo tossed in 11 each.

Wells big scoring effort boosted his season point total to 131, good for an 18.7 average for seven contests.

RALLY IN FOURTH

St. Michael rallied with 23 points in the fourth quarter in handing FOLS its third loss of the season.

Mike Pope, the Shamrocks' 6-4 center, led the fourth-quarter rally with 13 points and finished with 31. The 31-point output raised his average to 19.7 for eight games. Pope also picked off 21 rebounds.

The win raised the Mike-men's league mark to 4-3, and upped their season record to 5-3.

Rick Lavoie aided Pope with the scoring chores with 13 points and Mike DeConinck tossed in nine.

Bob Hart paced the FOLS attack with 17 markers and Miles Kearney came through with 15.

The Lakers came up with 18 points in the final quarter in knocking off St. Agatha. The win pushed the Lakers into a tie for sixth place in the league race with the Detroit five. Both have 1-6 records.

Three players hit in double figures for the Lakers. Bill Brandt lead the attack with 17, followed by Dave Troy (15) and Joe Petrucci (12).
Pacing St. Agatha were Mike Roemer (14) and Claude Inch (11).

I'M A BIRD—Royal Oak St. Mary's Doug Young (23) looks as though he is ready for a "take-off" as he tries to avoid St. Frederick's Bob Peoples in a league game at Jefferson

2nd Shutout for Wings' Goalie

Crozier Puts 5-0 Blank on Lowly Bruins

Little Detroit Rookie Beats Boston Again in Makeup Game

BOSTON (AP)—If little Roger Crozier—who looks more like a high school kid than a major league hockey goalie—has anything to say about it, the Boston Bruins may never score another goal, let alone win a game or make the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Roger The Dodger faced the Bruins for the second time Tuesday night and the 21-year-old Detroit rookie registered his second shutout as the Red Wings zipped to a 5-0 triumph. It was the only game in the National Hockey League and was a makeup of a game postponed from two nights after the assassination of President Kennedy.

Crozier, who says he weighs 150 pounds, was a nifty, little jumping jack as Detroit put two more points between itself and the fifth-place New York Rangers. The Wings now lead the Rangers by five points and last-place Boston by 11.

"I was lucky," said Crozier, "though I admit I felt pretty good out there. I think the save I made on Murray Oliver right at the beginning of the game set me up good."

Crozier referred to a fine stop in the first minute of play, when Bruins center got in alone. The 5-foot-8 Wings goalie stayed with Oliver's attempt to fake him out of position and blocked the shot with his body.

Boston's fortunes went downhill quickly after that. The Bruins became more and more disorganized and the neat-passing, smooth attacking Wings held a clear superiority the entire game.

Crozier, who began Boston's downfall at Detroit last Dec. 19 with his first NHL shutout, had 29 stops in the game.

The Bruins now haven't won a game since they beat the league-leading Black Hawks 2-1 at Chicago last Dec. 18. They are winless at home since Dec. 12. During the famine they've lost eight and tied one. Montreal is at Toronto in Wednesday's only NHL action.

Amateur Group at National Convention

Uneasy Flag of Truce Waving in NCAA Camp

NEW YORK (AP)—The white flag of peace flies over head but they're storing up bitterness and weapons of war in the cellar at the NCAA's national convention.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association, nearing the end of its annual meeting, made it patently clear today that it has not relented a bit in its fight with the Amateur Athletic Union over control of the country's amateur athletics.

"I wouldn't be surprised if some strong stand is not taken on the floor of the convention today," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA. "After all, this is simply a truce, not a surrender."

"We would rather die than give up in our battle for a proper voice in both domestic and international sports. You might say, we are just saving our fire until next Nov. 1 — after the Tokyo Olympics."

Little fire was saved Tuesday when representatives of the NCAA's U.S. Track and Field Federation, U.S. Gymnastics Federation and U.S. Handball Association leveled fresh blasts at the longtime controlling organization of amateur sports.

"All hell is going to bust out after the Olympics," warned Charles A. (Chick) Werner, president of the rival track group. "There must be a showdown. It is important that the difficulties not continue for another Olympic year."

Werner criticized government intervention and said: "We're doing the best we can despite being interfered with by the president of the United States and General MacArthur." The NCAA insists that it should have the right to sanction meets involving its athletes. This is a right that traditionally has been confined in open meets to the AAU, the national body recognized by the international federations.

PROTECTION "We have no intention of conceding these rights," Byers said. "You might say we are storing up ammunition — not to hurt anybody but just to protect ourselves — when the truce is over Nov. 1."

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, shrugged off the latest NCAA pyrotechnics with the comment: "This is old hat. We're on the merry-go-round again."

Being 'Railroaded' Says Howie Young

CHICAGO (AP)—Howie Young maintains he is being railroaded.

Young, Chicago Black Hawk defenseman who has earned the title of hockey's bad boy, was suspended indefinitely Tuesday by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League.

Campbell's action pended an investigation into Young's conduct during a game in Toronto last Saturday.

Stafford Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs, filed an official protest with the league. Smythe said Young used unbecomingly language and spat while serving out a major and minor penalty for holding and elbowing.

Young, a hot-headed 26-year-old who has become legend in the league, was incensed when he learned of the suspension.

HOWIE PROTESTS

"I think it's silly," he said. "What kind of a setup is this when a club executive can go to the head of the league and get you suspended? They're railroad me."

Young did not deny swearing while in the penalty box. "I was hot at 'em (officials and Leafs). I got a bad call on the ice."

Tommy Ivan, general manager of the Black Hawks, said he was surprised that Young had been suspended indefinitely. "I cannot make any comment," said Ivan. "I was on the other side of the ice and I don't know what went on in the penalty box."

Young, traded to the Black Hawks by the Detroit Red Wings last summer for goalie Roger Crozier, set a league record last season with 273 penalty minutes. He drew a three-game suspension for throwing his stick at referee Frank Udvari.

AWOL Young also was suspended by the Red Wings for failure to show up at a players' meeting.

In the 1961-62 season, Young was suspended by Detroit for drawing needless penalties. Twice during that campaign Young was taken off the Wings' active list for missing practice sessions.

Last summer Young was involved in a restaurant brawl that landed him in jail briefly. He received a suspended sentence.

Wilson, T&C 1st Winners

City Cage Schedule Begins Action

Town & Country and Wilson's All Stars won the opening night games in the city men's National League recreational basketball Tuesday.

T&C took charge against the Pontiac Police team in the second quarter and posted a 46-32 victory. A 9-8 first quarter deficit became a 19-12 halftime lead for the winners.

Wilson's grabbed a 57-38 three quarter margin against Messiah Baptist Church and rode it to a 71-60 verdict. Both squads are new entries in the National League.

The city American League and Class D League will start their seasons tonight and Waterford Township's men's recreation program will resume activity today.

In other games, Neopolitan Club downed St. Lukes Methodist, 73-54, and Victor Paint trimmed New Hope Baptist, 53-49.

NFL Players' Head Comments on AFL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pete Retzlaff of the Philadelphia Eagles says the formation of the American Football League was a boon for professional football players.

The eight-year National Football League veteran said Tuesday the AFL is here to stay and inter-league play is inevitable.

Retzlaff said the new league created more jobs and a more competitive market for talent.

Retzlaff, president of the NFL Players Association, said the group received no criticism after it recommended reinstatement of suspended players Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers and Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions.

Rochester 'Y' Winners in 2 Swim Divisions

Rochester Branch YMCA opened its 1964 competitive swimming season by winning two of three divisions from Bay City YMCA last weekend.

In the midget division (10 and under) Rochester won 47-32, and in the junior division, (13 and 14) the local swimmers won, 59-27.

Bay City tankers scored a 78-20 victory in the prep division for 11 and 12 year olds.

Double winner the midget meet was B. Featherstone winning the 20 yard butterfly and 80 yard individual medley.

In the junior division B. Stoutenburg scored double wins with a 1:03.8 in the 80 yard individual medley and 2:39.7 in the 200 freestyle.

BIG LITTLE MAN—Jim Brown, at 5-6 the smallest player on the court, leaps shoulder high to score two points for Georgetown in last night's game against Canisius. Brown was fouled by Tim O'Hara and made the charity toss. Other players are Georgetown's Owen Gillen (44) and John Brennan of Canisius. Georgetown won, 87-78.

Coast Teams Cut Celts' Lead

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics couldn't get out of California fast enough Tuesday night after San Francisco handed the National Basketball Association champs a third straight West Coast setback.

The Warriors, who dropped a 111-101 decision to the Celts Friday night as Bill Russell & Co. opened their four-game California swing, got even with a 92-89 victory that sliced the Eastern Division kings' margin over second-place Cincinnati to two games.

Cincinnati whipped Philadelphia 130-110 for its ninth victory in 11 starts and St. Louis beat Baltimore 123-113 in other games.

The Celtics, who dropped back-to-back decisions to Los Angeles over the weekend, couldn't keep up with Wilt Chamberlain Tuesday. Wilt hit for 35 points in the low-scoring battle and out-rebounded Russell 32-28 besides spearheading a tight San Francisco defense.

The Warriors struck for 10 straight points to open the final period and break a 68-68 tie. When Boston countered with a run of nine, San Francisco matched it and never was threatened thereafter.

The Celtics' two-game lead on Cincinnati is a bit deceiving. Boston is eight up in the losing column, having played 10 less games.

The Royals scored the game's first eight points and rolled up a 68-42 halftime margin over the 76ers before a partisan

Oklahoma City Quint Is Tallest in Country

By The Associated Press At Oklahoma City University, more than at any other college in the country, everyone looks up to the basketball players.

Most of them are as high as an elephant's eye. Kneeling. The Chiefs claim the tallest starting team in the country at an average of 6-foot-7 2-5. The previous record was 6-7 1-5, set by Oklahoma City University last year.

The 6-7 1-5 Chiefs were 19-10 last year. The 6-7 2-5 Chiefs are 10-3 this year, and apparently improving with height.

TOP INDEPENDENT

A leading independent year in and year out, the Chiefs continued their bid for a national ranking Tuesday night by overcoming a 16-point deficit and whipping Loyola of New Orleans 91-86 in overtime behind a tall, talented trio who produced 70 points.

Eddie Jackson, a 7-footer, led the Chiefs with 25 points, 6-2 Jerry Wells contributed 21, and 6-6 Bud Koper added 21, the three turning the tide in overtime after Loyola's Gene Turney sent the game into an extra period with a jump shot in the final minute.

While Oklahoma City was bidding for national honors, fifth-ranked Davidson and ninth-ranked Villanova breezed to easy victories. Undeclared Davidson downed VMI 70-58 for its 11th victory and Villanova won its sixth straight by walloping St. Francis, N.Y., 84-48.

THOMPSON HIGH

Elsewhere, sophomore Ernie Thompson scored 25 points as Bradley crushed Centenary 91-69, Billy Foster connected for 29 points in Drake's 93-68 thumping of Purdue, Gene Elmore scored 23 points and collected 17 rebounds as SMU defeated Baylor 85-65 and Barry Rodrigue's lay-up with 24 seconds left gave Rice a 61-60 decision over Texas Tech.

In other major games, Portland beat Oregon 61-58, Texas A&M crushed TCU 92-64, Arkansas nipped Texas 58-53, Providence defeated Massachusetts 89-73, Western Michigan edged Ohio U. 95-93, Georgetown beat Canisius 87-78 and Cornell took Florida Southern 97-87.

Davidson built a 53-38 lead midway in the second half before VMI regained the momentum and cut the deficit to 53-47 on baskets by Bobby Watson, Chuck Schmaus and Joe Kruszewski. Fred Hetzel and Dick Snyder then gave the Wildcats a 60-49 lead and put it out of reach. Hetzel led the scorers with 22 points while Snyder scored 16.

The Wildcats of Villanova brought their record to 10-1 by reacting to a 50-27 lead that was more than enough against St. Francis, Jim Washington was high for the winners with 17 points while George Leftwich had 15 and Bill Melchioni and Richie Moore 12 each.

Bradley rode the scoring and rebounding of Thompson to its victory over Centenary.

PBA Lists 6 Local Sites

1st Qualifying Squad Starts This Weekend

Friday Deadline Set at Howe's, 300 Bowl, Auburn, North Hill

Six bowling establishments in Oakland County will be qualifying sites for the North American PBA Open to be held at 300 Bowl, March 24-28.

All bowlers, scratch and handicap, are eligible to take part in the qualifying which begins Sunday. Pre-registration deadline for each Sunday's bowling is Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Howe's Lanes will qualify bowlers with squads at 12 noon and 2:00 p.m. Sunday; Auburn Lanes also has a noon and 2:00 p.m. squad; Collier Lanes in Oxford qualifies Sunday at 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m.; North Hill Lanes in Rochester has a 5:00 p.m. Sunday squad; Thunderbird Lanes in Troy has qualifying squads at 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.; and at 300 Bowl there will be squads at 10:00 a.m., 12 noon and 2:00 p.m.

Entry fee is $4.00 with the 10 per cent of each house qualifying for the PBA program which carries a $5,000 purse and a $1,000 first prize.

The pro-am tournament will be held Tuesday, March 24th, with each bowler teaming with a member of the PBA. Only the amateur bowlers will share in the purse, none to be shared by the touring pro.

Entry blanks can be obtained at any of the houses qualifying.

OTHER SITES
Together with the local houses, other establishments in Saginaw, Lapeer, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Bay City, Inkster and Flint have been designated by the PBA as qualifying sites.

The site in Lapeer, is Lapeer Recreation.

The PBA tournament follows for four days after the pro-am with the finals to be carried on national television. Tickets for all sessions are $1.00. They can be purchased in advance from service clubs and business places, including bowling establishments for 75 cents.

Memoirs Now 'Hit' Dempsey

NEW YORK (AP) — Another ghost from the past has risen to haunt Jack Dempsey. Now they are claiming he used loaded gloves in 1919 when he won the world heavyweight boxing title from Jess Willard.

The story is revealed in the memoirs of the late Jack (Doc) Kearns, his manager at the time, as published Wednesday in a copyrighted feature in Sports Illustrated. Dempsey denied it in the same article.

Kearns claimed he used plaster of paris and water in bandaging Dempsey's hands to insure a 10-1 bet of $10,000 that Dempsey would win it in one round. Kearns lost, for due to a comedy of errors Dempsey won in three rounds.

The article quoted Dempsey as commenting, "Ridiculous! I could take an oath. In fact I will. I hope to God I die right now, and my wife and children, too, if there is any truth in what Kearns said."

Reaches Semifinals

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Ken Fletcher and Fred Stolle of Australia reached the semifinals of the Australian National Tennis Championships today.

BOWLING

The "baby" split ruined Alex Kota's bid for a 300 game last Friday night at Sylvan Lanes in the Men's League.

Kota had 10 in a row but had to settle for a 288 game after the split. His game helped the Ralston-Purina team to an 1145 game. Kota had a 633 series.

In the same league, Ed Rasowski had 232 — 631 and Gene Lupton rolled 224 — 631 for the Ben Franklin storemen while Earl Harris bowled 247 — 633 for Johnson-Anderson Engineering.

Mary Scheffler was the standout in last Friday's Huron Bowl Ladies Matinee League. She bowled games of 205 and 233 en route to a 632 series.

Beulah Leach (203) and AuSpence (202) both had big games, also. Dorris and Son still leads by one game.

Louis Bachnak is the latest Sparemaster in 300 Bowl's weekly Make That Spare contest. He won $100 in certificates plus a shirt.

LOOP RESULTS
In "300" league action, the American Legion Sunday Mixed

League Cletus Reed had a 217 and Mary Thorp a 204. Mattie Rheault posted a 507 in the GMC Girls League Monday.

That same day the 300 Mixed Keglers had 214-203 games by Larry Angott, a 216 by John Michael, and 213 by Bob Schmidt.

There was a 214 by Don Porter in the Lake Oakland Heights Mixed League, a 212 by Richard Lucking and a 201 by Marion Lucking who carries a 139 average.

At Airway Lanes last week, Pat DeLongchamp bowled 213—539, Shirley Pointer 212 — 543 and Marvel Sot a 540 in the Airway Ladies Major Classic. Bernice Driver made the 7-9-10.

Tom Arthur of the Plant No.5 team hit 258 in the Pontiac Temppest League recently at Airway and the Smilers took three points from the Strikers with a 2355 series in the Four Towns Methodist Church League.

Stemmer's Catering still leads the Hilltop Rebels Bowling League at Hilltop Bowling. The lead is only one point over Avon Beauty entering this week's competition.

Finley Awaits Word From Owners in AL

KANSAS CITY (AP)—For the next eight days, until owners of American League teams meet in New York, the question of whether Kansas City or Louisville has a baseball team named the Athletics will be subject to conjecture. And words.

Owner Charles O. Finley, who signed a two-year contract Monday to shift the A's franchise to Louisville, says he is confident the owners "will approve my move when they have had an opportunity to analyze the true facts."

A majority of owners have indicated otherwise.

'NOT GOING'

"He isn't going to Louisville," Chicago White Sox Owner Arthur Allyn said Tuesday. "Mr. Finley's action is absolutely inexcusable. He has an obligation to Kansas City and I'm going to see that he lives up to it."

It was reported Finley might charge the other owners with restraint of trade if they thwart his move.

Finley called the report "another perfect example of a manufactured lie," and added: "If the owners veto the move I will face that when it happens. But I am very confident nothing like that will occur."

Kansas City officials, who failed in weeks of negotiations to reach agreement on a Municipal Stadium lease, maintained what Mayor Ius W. Davis called "discreet silence."

5-Team Race in 'Y' Action

The five-team battle in the YMCA Church Basketball League's senior division will feature the First Congregational-Trinity Baptist clash this week.

First Congregational is tied with Central Methodist for the lead while Trinity shares third place with First Baptist and All Saints Episcopal.

Central knocked off Trinity, 57-55, in last week's top game, posting a 25-15 halftime lead. Tim Kaul with 17 and Tom Negoshian with 15 led the winners.

All Saints surprised Macedonia, 57-55, in another tilt last week, overcoming a 32-29 halftime deficit. Leonard Gaches and Bill Main both had 18 points as First Congregational walked off Oakland Park, 83-10.

Alps Plagued Without Snow

Olympic Ski Teams Have Troubles

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — Plagued by the most snowless winter in the Alps in many years, the American and French women's Alpine ski teams already have shown themselves to be the leading contenders for Olympic slalom honors this year.

They haven't had much chance to show their ability in other events than the slalom because of what one Swiss ski instructor has called "the most snowless winter since skis first appeared in the Alps 65 years ago."

The women's races at Oberstaufen, Germany, last week were limited to two slalom events on makeshift courses, where snow was hauled by trucks to provide adequate cover.

The slalom which opened the Grindelwald races Tuesday was shifted to a glacier at the foot of Eiger Mountain at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Even there the snow level was inadequate and the races were run on an icy course that caused more than half the 91 competitors to lose out because of falls or gate errors.

In the pre-Olympic tests so far, the standouts have been France's Goitschel sisters, 18-year-old Marielle and 19-year-old Christine, and a 21-year-old American, Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore. Not far behind them have been Annie Famose of France, Linda Meyers of Bishop, Calif., and Barbara Ferries of Houghton, Mich.

Central Pins Mat Setback on Waterford

Pontiac Central's mat men won eight of 12 matches Tuesday evening in downing Waterford, 26-14, and Wayne High School pinned a 33-11 defeat on a visiting Kettering squad.

The Chiefs led all the way in recording their second win of the season (2-3-1). The Skippers, trailing 23-8, won two of the remaining three matches to tighten the score.

The Captains won only three matches in squaring their record at 2-2-1.

Joe Allen (95 pounds) and Don Gray (127 pounds) picked up victories to remain undefeated. Bob McGregor (180 pounds) defeated his opponent in the 180-pound class for Kettering's final match triumph.

Keego Spearman on Target

Days Nice, so Fish 'Sleep'

"The fish must have stayed in bed today," said a disgruntled fisherman last Sunday as he hopefully watched the bobber floating in a hole in the ice of Cemetery Lake.

This just about summed up the area fishing last weekend and Monday, and Tuesday, for that matter.

Conditions were ideal, but the fish weren't anxious to make a dinner of grubs, wigglers or minnows and become a meal themselves.

Some fair catches of bluegills, perch, calicoes and pike were made, but this is common with so many anglers prowling the lakes.

Big Lake continues to lead the perch parade — the fish are average. A few large calicoes are being taken on Kent Lake, but the overall size is small.

Silver Lake off Walton is yielding a few good catches of bluegills. However, anglers can wait hours before the fish decide to bite.

The rainbows have been laying low.

A few limits were taken early last week on Cemetery. The catch Saturday and Sunday was nil. The trout showed a little action about 3 p.m. Sunday across the road on Deer.

Pike continue to balk on Pontiac Lake. A few have been caught or speared on Lake Oakland.

7½-POUNDER

Gordon R. McKinney of Keego Harbor wishes now that he had waited a minute or so before spearing a 7½-pound pike from Lake Minnewanna in the Metamora recreation area Sunday afternoon.

"I eased the pike out of the hole and kind of glanced back down at the bottom," related McKinney. "A larger pike was right below me. He moved on before I could get the spear out of the one I'd just taken."

He speared another, smaller, northern, before leaving the lake.

The annual Metropolitan Beach ice fishing derby will be Jan. 18.

The derby will run from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. and there will be no entrance or parking charges. The food bar will serve as headquarters.

First and second place awards will be given for the heaviest total perch catch in men's, women's and children's classes.

A grand prize will be awarded for the longest perch entered.

The fish can be taken on handlines, poles and tipups in the fishing areas around the beach and Lake St. Clair out from the beach area.

State Creates Log Jams

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan conservation officials have twisted the old lumbering era concept of a log jam to modern day advantage and instead of blowing them up they are busy building the jams in state streams.

The log jams are part of an accelerated public works program to improve fishing conditions in certain Michigan streams with matching funds from the state and federal governments.

Funds for various forms of stream improvement amount to almost $300,000 under two projects.

"The log jams consist of putting logs and old pine stumps into the river and then anchoring them to the bottom cedar posts," Roger Wicklund, a fish biologist said.

The jams are slated to be placed in 22 rivers and have already been completed in some of them, Wicklund said.

PIONEER STATE
"Michigan has been one of the pioneer states in the area of stream improvement," Wicklund said.

Other areas included in the stream improvement part of the APW projects are fencing to prevent overgrazing of stream banks by cattle, tree planting to prevent erosion and the building of stream bank cover areas for trout and other wary fish.

Dog Obedience Classes Start in Area Soon

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club's winter classes will begin Thursday, Jan. 16, at Whitfield school with a demonstration.

Demonstrations and starting dates for classes at other sites will be announced later.

The 8 p.m. demonstration at Whitfield on Orchard Lake Road will be conducted by SMOTC members and their dogs. Exercises and general dog obedience will be emphasized.

Those people planning to attend the demonstration are requested to leave their dogs home as the actual class sessions will not begin until the following week.

Gets Divorce for 'Excuses'

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Oswald Lyman has reached retirement age but instead of retiring "he just makes excuses," his wife complained Tuesday.

Mrs. Lyman, 68, was granted a divorce. But only after she had promised Dist. Judge Sherman G. Finesilver that she wouldn't marry Lyman again.

The couple has been married five times.

'Damn Fool Fund' Started By, For People Like That

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "The Damn Fool Fund" is off and running. Its slogan is "Stamp Out Damn Foolishness by 2064 A.D." Comedian Shelley Berman is founder of this unique charity. He wrote a check to start it. "Pay to the Order of the Damn Fool Fund $200," he hopes all damn fools will contribute. "so that help can be given to (who else?) other damn fools."

"To people in or near Show Business with a deep need... who will confess their own damn foolishness," he says.

His remorse over an incident at Basin St. East inspired Berman. He'd lost his temper with some ringsiders earlier. He was waiting in the back to explain his side to me.

Someone approached to compliment him. "Get lost, lady!" he snapped. "I'm waiting to talk to Earl Wilson!" Berman later decided he should assess a fine against himself for that rash act, but for somebody's good.

"Contributors should confess what their damn foolishness was in writing. It might help us all get some sense," he says.

Arlene Francis, Harry Hershfield, Variety Editor Abel Green, Commentator Ed Fitzgerald and Postmaster Bob Christenberry, solid citizens all, will be asked to sit on the Damn Fool Fund board. The Community Trust, 230 Park Ave., will be asked to administer the fund. Berman appointed me corresponding secretary — and treasurer.

(Incidentally, Shelley is giving up New York to move to Hollywood IMMEDIATELY. No remarks, please.)

Seven Arts is talking of suing Laurence Harvey for cracks he allegedly made about Kim Novak's acting prowess in "Of Human Bondage." CBS Prez James Aubrey's around with Judy Garland, Mrs. Henry Ford and others, but his real interest is Dee Hartford, Groucho Marx's beautiful sister-in-law. Is Perle Mesta becoming the new Washington hostess with the most? The Duke of Windsor gave up a throne and Eddie G. Robinson Jr. gave up a $1,000-a-month paternal allowance when he got married. Leslie (Little Athens), bellydancer at the Roundtable, wants to launch amateur bellydancing contests at the club.

Carol Burnett dropped in at the Garry Moore office waiting for her husband, Producer Joe Hamilton, and when Joe's secretary went to lunch, Carol took over answering the phone calls, not saying who she was. And, instead of ordering grilled cheese sandwiches etc., from the luncheonette, she had a colossal spread sent over from the Four Seasons. (Carol returns to the Garry Moore show Feb. 25.)

Eddie Fisher's impressed by the enormous chandelier in the new Crystal Room where he's appearing at the Las Vegas Desert Inn. "It's so huge," he says. "I'm surprised that Elizabeth Taylor, of course — hasn't had somebody buy it for her for an earring."

James Garner, who'll gross a million in '64-'65, gets $30 a week from his business mgr. (Credit cards do it). Abbe Lane's TV sponsor in Italy gave her an Alfa-Romeo car: Cugie got gold and diamond cuff links. Hollywood Buzz: Warner Bros. will pay off the rest of Jack Webb's hefty contract — $3,000 a week for two years.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a cafe in Miami (reports Herb Rau) that serves a drink called "The Card Table." Two of them and your legs fold up under you.

Teachers Plan Method Study

Reading Instruction Series Is Next Week

Elementary school teachers and curriculum directors in the county will examine six methods of teaching reading in a series of conferences to begin next week.

Dr. Harry T. Hahn, director of instruction for Oakland schools, said the conferences are planned to familiarize teachers and administrators with current research and practice in reading instruction.

Philip Hilaire of Bethlehem, Pa. will kick off the conference series Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. in a meeting with school administrators at Devon Gables.

Hilaire, supervisor of a Ford Foundation Research Project—The Initial Teaching Alphabet—will meet with classroom teachers Tuesday afternoon.

NEW ALPHABET
Formerly a reading consultant on the Oakland Schools' staff, Hilaire will preview research and teaching practice using a new 44-letter alphabet.

The series of reading conferences will run through April 23.

The second conference, featuring Dr. Walter Barbe of Kent University, Ohio, will be held Friday, Jan. 17.

Dr. Barbe will present a plan where no basic textbook is used, but each child has a selection of reading material.

TEACHING METHODS

Effective methods of teaching phonics will be discussed by Miss Carolyn Welch, author of a widely used textbook series, on Jan. 29.

Russell Stauffer of the University of Delaware will demonstrate on Feb. 7 how kindergarten children can be introduced to reading through use of words already in their speaking vocabularies.

A project in Ann Arbor Schools in teaching writing will be outlined by Donald E. P. Smith on Feb. 12

Johnson's Budget Has Surprise Cut

Six on Commission Voice Opposition to Charter Amendment

By DICK SAUNDERS

Mayor Robert A. Landry and a majority of the City Commission last night voiced opposition to a proposed charter amendment which, if adopted by voters at a special election Monday, would change the method of electing commissioners.

Six of the seven commissioners also voiced harsh criticism of a reference in a Pontiac Press editorial Monday that the proposed amendment could be used to oust Commissioner Milton R. Henry from office.

Following the meeting, officials of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the amendment, denied that the amendment was aimed at personalities or involved racial issues.

Support Given to Amendment

Clubs Add Backing to Change in Charter

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce today picked up support from various service clubs and civic organizations in its campaign to urge adoption of a proposed charter amendment by voters Monday.

The Pontiac Exchange Club passed a resolution supporting the electoral plan proposed in the amendment and urging citizens to vote in favor of the measure.

The Zonta Club of Pontiac also resolved to "support the Jaycees 100 per cent" in their campaign for a "yes" vote on the proposal, according to Louis H. Schimmel Jr., Jaycee charter amendment committee chairman.

The Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club also announced full support for the proposed amendment and urged voters to adopt it.

BACKED DRIVE

Kiwanians had previously supported the drive last summer to petition for the special election, as had the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

Schimmel said the "support is encouraging" and reaffirmed the Jaycee position that "this amendment has absolutely nothing to do with personalities or racial lines as far as we are concerned."

"Such things only cloud the issue. We are interested only in the principal of fair government based on equal representation."

MAYOR LANDRY

Mayor Cites City Progress

Calls New Facilities Achievement of '63

Mayor Robert A. Landry last night pointed to construction and planning of new community facilities as "perhaps the area of greatest progress" in Pontiac last year.

In his annual State of the City message, Landry cited water, sewer and other major projects as accomplishments of 1963, but he didn't ignore the year's problems.

"A tax appeal from our largest taxpayer (General Motors Corp.) resulted in a reduction of our tax base," he said.

A new combined curbside garbage - rubbish collection was listed by Landry as one method used to make up for the loss in tax base while still maintaining a satisfactory level of city services.

NO RELIEF

A tax rate hike was another, and the mayor indicated no relief was in sight from last year's record $16.10 per $1,000 rate this year.

Further methods which are being considered to solve the revenue problem include "encouragement of more industry, a review of the present assessment base and annexations of adjacent area which can be served by our new water and sewage treatment facilities."

"There is no use kidding ourselves. Unless we are willing to settle for poor maintenance on our city equipment and/or further cutbacks on badly needed services, we cannot guarantee a low tax rate."

Landry also appealed for stronger efforts on the part of citizens and city government in the field of civil rights.

ADVANCE CRUSADE

"In the field of civil rights, it behooves us at the vital grass

Congress Hears State of Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today a surprise budget cut to $97.9 billion, even below the current level. And he told Congress he will slash output of weapon-making uranium by 25 per cent — a move he challenged the Soviets to match.

In an unusually brief yet meaty State of the Union message, Johnson also declared "unconditional war on poverty in America." He ticked off his specific policy ideas for the first time since he became President seven weeks ago following the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Johnson's proposals — many requiring action by Congress — were aimed at problems ranging from the depths of poverty to the height of the moon.

For most taxpayers, the biggest surprise probably lay in the budget disclosures. At $97.9 billion, the first Johnson spending plan would be $500 million smaller than the latest estimate of spending under Kennedy's final, record-setting budget.

Johnson described his budget as "efficient, honest and frugal." And he said it will maintain "the full strength of our defenses" while providing "the most federal support in history for education, for health, for retraining the unemployed, and for helping the economically and physically handicapped."

Endorsing some two dozen proposals in about 2,900 words, Johnson urged Congress to bring his programs "to a fair and final vote." He called for the strongest civil rights bill in 100 years, enactment of a massive tax cut by Feb. 1, new steps toward disarmament and selective increases in overtime pay rates.

Other Johnson programs

— included broader minimum wage coverage, hospital insurance for the aged, an end to discriminatory immigration quotas, a bigger housing program, and a determined effort — preferably in cooperation with the Soviet Union — to put a man on the moon by 1970.

PROSPERITY GOAL

Prosperity at home and peace in the world were the broad goals cited by the President, who sought to balance conciliation and determination in discussing cold war problems.

"We intend to bury no one — and we do not intend to be buried. We can fight, if we must, as we have fought before — but we pray we will never have to fight again," he said.

As for specific administration policies, Johnson made these major points in the election year address intended to set the tone

War Declared on Poverty

Congress Asked to Aid in Job Creation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson declared "unconditional war on poverty in America" today and called on Congress for enactment this month of a tax reduction designed to create new jobs and markets.

In his State of the Union message Johnson urged a many-sided legislative assault on the causes of unemployment. It should assure full-time jobs at full-time pay, he said, for the millions, Negro and white, who now "live on the outskirts of hope."

Outside of the message itself, Johnson put a price tag "in excess of $1 billion" on that program.

Quick action on the $11.1-billion tax reduction bill would reduce the paycheck withholding rate from 15 per cent to 14 per cent, Johnson said in the message to Congress. That would add $200-million a month to spendable income this winter.

But a major portion of Johnson's relatively brief message was devoted to his so-called poverty package — a 15-point attack on the problems of the aged, unskilled, underprivileged, illiterate and ill-housed.

Bare of the details, the poverty package ranged from medical care and broader coverage of the $1.25 minimum wage to a national service corps and a broadened food stamp program for the distribution of surplus foods to the needy.

Heading the list was a "special effort in the chronically distressed areas of Appalachia."

In a briefing given newsmen just before he left for the Capitol, Johnson estimated his total anti-poverty request would be "in excess of $1 billion" in spending authority to be used over the next few years — not necessarily all in fiscal 1965, which starts July 1.

The program itself will call for about $300 million in actual 1965 spending, he said, plus another $200 million in longer-range authority.

Johnson estimated his request for the Appalachian program at $250 million.

Another $500 to $700 million would be used under his authority to shift funds from other programs to the anti-poverty effort, plus money provided under various retraining, vocational education, and other programs to upgrade the working skills of American manpower.

Britain Won't Stop Bus Sale to Cuba

LONDON (AP)—The British government says it won't stop the sale of $11.2 million worth of British buses and spare parts to Cuba because they are not strategic goods.

The Board of Trade, Britain's equivalent of the U.S. Commerce Department, shrugged off U.S. criticism of a deal that will help restore the Castro regime's crippled public transportation system.

"Manufacturers are at liberty to sell as and when they find the opportunity," said a Board of Trade spokesman. "There has never been a boycott on the country by Britain. That is the situation and we don't see any reason to depart from this at present. We have quite an extensive trade with Cuba."

Under a five-year credit arrangement, Leyland Motors Ltd. will sell 400 buses and $1.1 million worth of spare parts to Cuba. The company said it expects an order for 1,050 additional buses.

NO WAR

"You would look damned silly going to war in a bus," said Leyland's managing director, Donald Stokes, today. "Anyway, we haven't any war with Cuba and we buy sugar from them."

Stokes said the company in April will begin shipping about 100 buses a month by East German freighters. He said his company had turned to Communist shipping because of the U.S. blacklist on ships that carry cargo to Cuba.

The United States has made its displeasure clear to Britain but has filed no official protest.

Snow Is Forecast for Pontiac Area

Fresh snow forecast for the Pontiac area late today will turn to snow flurries tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will become colder, with the low about 30 tonight and the high tomorrow near 34. Mostly cloudy with snow flurries is Friday's outlook.

For the next five days, precipitation will total one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch in snow tonight, with snow likely again about Sunday and Monday.

Twenty-seven was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 38 at 1 p.m.

Romney Faces Decision on 2nd-Term Bid

Change in Position on President's Race Alters Picture

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney was due back in the State Capitol today, facing the question dacy for governor after of a second-term candidacy announcing he would accept a draft for Republican presidential nomination.

Overnight, the 56-year-old governor became a distinct possibility for the presidential race.

Romney's change of position in a speech at Washington was the first he has publicly disclosed.

Beforehand, he had said repeatedly he had no interest in the presidency and would not be a candidate.

DRAFT ACCEPTABLE

Yesterday, he said he would accept a draft, under the conditions he prescribed, as the duty of any "concerned American." He repeated he was not a candidate.

Beside the second term as governor, Romney's possible participation in the Oregon presidential primary May 15 figured in the new picture.

Romney said in Washington he understood that under Oregon law he probably could not take his name off the ballot.

Oregon is to make its ballot public soon after March 1. Persons named on the ballot have a chance, by affidavit, to withdraw before March 3.

As for a Romney bid for a second term as Michigan governor, politicians conjectured his Washington statement about a presidential draft meant it was almost certain he would run again in order to keep politically active and keep his name before the public.

Up to this time, Romney had not indicated whether he would seek another term. It had been assumed he would do so, however.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

He declared himself on the eve of the start of Michigan's 1964 legislative session and a crush of state business.

Successful young men and women often drift into a state of being overworked and under-relaxed. To escape the tensions that result, some take barbiturates and tranquilizers or drink excessively.

"Barbiturates and tranquilizers have no proper use except when prescribed by a physician and preferably by one very cautious in advising them," warns Frederick J. Stare, M. D., professor of nutrition at Harvard School of Public Health. He adds:

to nominate, but not intelligent enough to elect your own commissioner."

MAY NOT RUN

He hinted that he may not run for reelection anyway, and referred to the fact that the proposal, along with the suggestion it be used to oust him, had been backed "by a number of ministers in white areas" among others.

Henry claimed that the votes of former commissioners Wesley Wood and John Dugan had "been motivated by" special interest groups that helped them get elected, and the amendment would only increase this condition.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. supported the amendment in principle, but said he was "horrified to see Mr. Henry's name used in The Press."

"It was entirely wrong. No one is out to get anyone and I hope that it will be retracted."

PARTISAN BASIS

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom suggested that "at-large elections are alright, but let's do it on a partisan basis."

He felt the proposal, if adopted, would lead to rule by special interest groups.

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby also claimed it "would force a coalition of candidates into one slate." He also alleged the cost to campaign citywide would be exorbitant.

Then Commissioner Loy L. Ledford hit aspects of the Press editorial which pointed to the danger of candidates being obligated to special groups under the present system.

PRODUCES LETTERS

Ledford produced copies of letters and records which allegedly outline participation by a Press official in a "slush fund" for commission candidates in the 1962 municipal election.

One from Pontiac Press Business Manager Howard H. Fitzgerald to local businessman L. Claire Utley read, "There's more than one way to skin a cat."

Another, from Pontiac Attorney C. K. Patterson to Utley, read: "I enclose $100 for the good cause."

LEDGER LISTS

Ledford offered ledgers listing who made donations to the fund, how much they donated, how much was drawn from the fund and who drew it.

He also intimated that the donation from Howard Fitzgerald was from the Press as a corporation.

"I wonder if Mr. Fitzgerald was aware at the time that it is illegal, under Michigan laws, for a corporation to donate to election expenses."

"I wonder if Mr. Fitzgerald's 'close students of Pontiac affairs' are the same downtown clique that picked a slate of candidates at the last election and donated money to their campaign," Ledford said.

Ledford claimed that the slate of candidates, only one of whom is currently on the commission, was selected in a meeting of business and industrial leaders in Fitzgerald's office Feb. 9, 1962.

(Editor's Note: The Press has been accused of giving to a city election campaign fund illegally. Individual Press officials donated to campaign funds, as is their right. The donations were not from The Pontiac Press corporation.)

Buick Workers Strike in Flint

Plant Walkout Starts Over Work Standards

Buick production workers went on strike at 11 a.m. today in a dispute over work standards — the amount of work an employee does a day.

The walkout halted all assembly and manufacturing operations at the Buick home plant in Flint.

Approximately 15,000 hourly rate employees, represented by UAW Local 599, were affected by the strike.

Jack Wagner, local president, said the majority of the grievances were centered in the final assembly plant, transmission and the motor plant.

SINCE NOVEMBER

The grievances have been under negotiation since Nov. 20, E. D. Rollert, Buick general manager, said last week.

Upwards of 4,000 production workers in other GM Flint-area plants will be affected immediately.

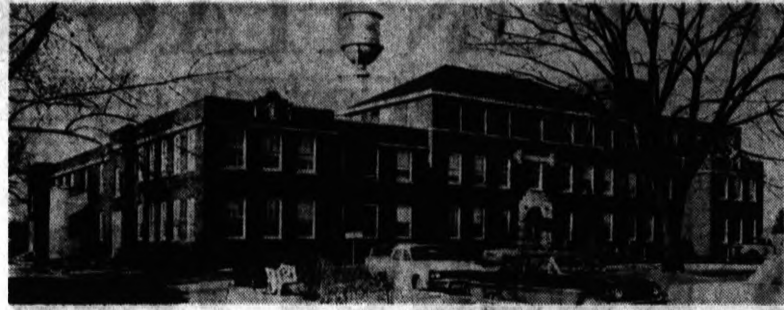

"This strike against Buick, when employees are enjoying the highest incomes and steady employment in Buick's history, is completely unnecessary and unwarranted," Edward D. Rollert, Buick's General Manager, declared.

"Certain demands, particularly in the transmission plant, would force Buick to recognize idle time as an acceptable work practice on many production operations."

REDUCE OUTPUT

In the transmission plant, Rollert said the union is demanding a drastic reduction in the output of certain machine operations.

If accepted, operators would build their union-imposed quotas and remain idle for the balance of the day while the machines are shut down.

MAY LOSE PATIENTS — This is the old wing of the county's Medical Care Facility which a supervisors' committee proposed to use mainly for offices. The wing was built at the County Service Center in 1925. Medical care operations in this section would be transferred to the county's Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Union Lake if the committee's recommendation is approved by the board of supervisors.

Recommendation to Supervisors

Eye End to Use of Old Hospital Wing

A special study committee of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday recommended phasing out use of the old wing at the county's Medical Care Facility. The wing is presently used by chronic disease patients.

New patients would be placed on two vacated floors of the county's Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Union Lake instead.

roots level of government to do everything humanly possible to advance the crusade of our late president and President Johnson," Landry said.

"Pontiac's Human Relations Committee was extremely active in 1963, but this is no time to rest on our laurels."

"Much remains to be done before we achieve our goal of equal opportunities for all of our citizens."

Landry's remarks were praised by Commissioner Milton R. Henry and others.

PRIDE FELT

Henry, only Negro on the commission, said, "I have never been prouder of you, or of being a member of this commission, than I am right now."

Landry listed completion of the city's new sewage treatment plant, the water system improvement program and the new Detroit water supply as the city's outstanding accomplishments of 1963.

Other noteworthy progress was made in planning of major trunk sewers on the east side, agreement with the county drain commission on the Clinton River project, substantial completion of a new northside fire station and start of work on a new community recreation and swimming center on the city's south side.

In the city's civic center, Landry pointed to a new Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union building under construction and planning for a new school district administration building.

PERIMETER ROAD

"Believe me, it wasn't easy, but the first leg of the perimeter road is on the ground and we are using it," Landry said.

Landry hailed creation of a community relations bureau as a service to the commission and citizenry alike.

He blamed lack of a federal public works grant for the proposed Murphy Park relief sewer on former City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The mayor said he was told by authorities in Washington D.C., in November that the city didn't get any funds because Stierer didn't followup the city's request for a grant, after it was submitted last April.

INTERIM PERIOD

Stierer was suspended Aug. 5, and the city was without a full-time manager until Robert A. Carter was hired by the commission Nov. 18.

Landry said work was again under way on the grant and he had "high hopes" it will be forthcoming before the end of this month.

In praising Carter, Landry said that "our new manager accomplished in two weeks what our former manager (Stierer) could not accomplish in a year and a half."

In this way, the old wing would be vacated of patients through normal attrition over a period of three to four months, Welfare Director George Williams said.

Reason for the proposed change is the number of empty beds in the newer sanatorium and the high cost of operating this 161-bed facility at reduced case loads.

News Against Romney Draft

Detroit Paper Wants Him to Stay in State

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News in an editorial today opposed any entry of Gov. George Romney as a candidate for Republican nomination for president this year and said it will not support him in such a presidential race.

"We are startled by his Washington statement that he would be available as a presidential candidate through a genuine draft," the News said. "That's the standard form for presidential race entry, and no one using it in the past ever has waited for the draft."

"His open discussion of his personal interest in the presidential contests deserts the whole format of his 1962 crusade (a citizen movement urging participation in Michigan government) and commits him to partisan politics at its bitterest in a time when he needs help from both parties to accomplish his program in Lansing," the newspaper said.

ROMNEY'S STATEMENT

Romney Tuesday told a National Press Club audience he would accept a draft if there was "substantial sentiment" in his favor.

The News, which supported Romney for the governorship even before he announced his decision to seek the office, said it has "firmly and unalterably credited his oft-repeated protests that he would not seek the presidential nomination in 1964; that he recognized a longer term commitment to those who elected him governor."

"We are convinced Michigan voters made a wise choice in electing him to lead the state to economic, governmental and financial recovery," said the News. "He is well begun on that assignment — but well begun only."

Young Execs Don't Eat Right

"Carelessness about his health has wrecked many a young man's career. Nutrition and exercise are vital in the pattern of executive health even though he won't take time out to do anything about them," Dr. Stare says.

When stress becomes greater than the organism can tolerate efficiently, the body reacts. Headaches, transient gastrointestinal disturbances, insomnia, irritability, chronic fatigue, inability to concentrate and anxiety feelings develop.

BASIC FACTS

"Then the overtense, overdriven young executive should visit his physician and learn that two of the basic facts of physical fitness are sound nutrition and regular exercise," Dr. Stare says.

Overambitious young people often deceive themselves into believing that they are not subject to the ordinary laws of physiology.

Sanatorium manager, Anthony Wodek said there are presently 112 TB patients there, 88 of whom come from other counties because of the availability of beds. They could be moved to other sanatoriums where empty beds also are available, he said.

If chronic disease patients continue to be housed in the old wing of the Medical Care Facility at the County Service Center, the county will have to spend at least $37,000 to bring the wing up to the State Fire Marshal's specifications.

Switching the chronic-patient load to the TB Sanatorium instead was recommended also in a recent study by a United Community Services committee, in order to reduce the overall operating costs and provide more efficient treatment.

Deputy County Health Director Bernard D. Berman assured the special study committee that chronic disease patients would be in no danger of contracting TB at the sanatorium so long as they are kept on separate floors.

EFFICIENT CONTROL

Modern antibiotics enable the efficient control of tuberculosis today, he said.

Committee Chairman Luther Heacock said there would be no mass exodus of chronic patients from the old wing or any reduction in staffs except through normal attrition.

This means some staff retirees over the next few years wouldn't be replaced by new employees, he said.

There were 114 chronic patients in the old wing today, and 80 in the new wing which would continue under its present use if the recommendation is approved.

IN OLD WING

The old wing would continue to house a kitchen, doctor's office, sitting room and a therapeutic unit. In addition, the welfare department and bureau of social aid offices would be moved in.

These offices presently are housed in what was once a prison at the County Service Center. It would be used by the maintenance department mainly for storage purposes, the committee agreed.

The recommendation will be presented at a joint meeting of the supervisors' ways and means and buildings and grounds committees Jan. 15.

Ultimately the recommendation must be approved by the board of supervisors if the switch of operations is to take effect.

Birmingham Area News

Expanded Art Instruction Offered in Winter Term

BIRMINGHAM — The Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) is expanding its program this winter—offering more classes, new staff members, extra facilities, a special lecture series and scholarships.

The list from which adults can choose classes is quadruple that available in the fall.

Children can select courses from among nine designed for them.

During the 10-week term which begins next week, 16 artists will work with the students. Their equipment at the Birmingham Art Center has been increased to include a pottery shop, in which five wheels are being installed.

DISCUSSIONS, LECTURES

Featured this term will be a series of art appreciation lectures and discussions. A noted sculptor and two painters will comment on their individual attitudes and techniques.

Kingswood school instructor Clifford West will begin the series Jan. 28 with a discussion of 13th Century art. The painter will move on to the Renaissance Feb. 4.

The background and development of contemporary sculpture will be Thomas McClure's topic Feb. 18. A University of Michigan professor, McClure will continue with "A Sculptor's Personal View" Feb. 25.

Guy Palazzola, U. of M. associate professor, is scheduled to speak on the origins of contemporary painting March 10.

ENROLLMENTS TAKEN

Enrollments are being taken for the entire series of 1½-hour lectures, each of which will begin at 7 p.m.

OTHER CLASSES

James Puttner's pottery classes will meet from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Fridays.

Weaving will be taught by Arlen Linn from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays.

Enrollments are now being accepted at the Birmingham Art Center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

For the first time, the BAA is offering two scholarships, one to an adult and the other to a child.

In organizing their schedule, BAA members worked with Victor D'Amico, adult education director at the Museum of Modern Art, New York and Prof. Robert Iglehart, University of Michigan art department director.

Among sixteen subjects to be offered adults are seven dealing with painting.

Life painting will be taught Thursdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. by James Hansen. The individual approach will be emphasized in Kathleen Birch's classes from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Thursdays.

MIXED MEDIA

Mixed media will be used in the class taught by Dorothy Siddall from 9:30 a.m. to noon Fridays.

Robert Konersman will give instruction in portrait painting from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Other painting courses are offered from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays with Peter Gilleran as instructor, from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays with Stuart Ross and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Wednesdays with E. L. Praczukowski.

Svea Kline and Louis Whitton will head sculpture classes, Miss Kline with three classes on Mondays and Whitton having three Thursdays.

TWO WATERCOLORS

There also will be two instructors for watercolor. Mary Jane Bigler will have two classes Wednesdays and Peter Filleran one Mondays.

"Drawing and Design in Painting" is the title of Praczukowski's class from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays.

James Hansen will teach drawing and composition from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Wednesdays and John Jacobson will deal with life drawing Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Surprise Out in LBJ Budget

for the 1964 congressional session:

● Federal spending in the 1965 fiscal year that begins July 1 is scheduled to total $97.9 billion—comfortably below Johnson's announced target of $100 billion. Forecast revenues of $93 billion indicate a deficit of $4.9 billion, or less than half the fiscal 1964 estimate.

● Production of enriched uranium, used in nuclear weapons and small reactors like those in nuclear submarines, will be slashed by 25 per cent by June 30—the first cutback since the detonation of the first atomic bomb in 1945.

Said Johnson: "We call on our adversaries to do the same," and "We must not stockpile arms beyond our needs or seek an excess of military power that could be provocative as well as wasteful."

● "As far as the writ of federal law will run," said the President, "we must abolish not some but all racial discrimination." He emphasized that he wants a civil rights law that will include a ban on discrimination by private businesses serving the general public—the most controversial item in the measure now pending in the House.

● "This administration here and now declares unconditional war on poverty in America," Johnson declared. He said he will propose cooperative programs to promote "better schools, better health, better home, better training and better job opportunities."

SPECIAL COMMITTEES

● He asked Congress to set up special committees empowered to increase the time-and-a-half overtime pay rate in industries "where consistently excessive use of overtime causes increased unemployment." He did not name any industries or suggest alternative overtime pay scales.

Two Executives Appointed at Pontiac Motor Division

Two new executive appointments were announced for Pontiac Motor Division today by E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and general manager of the division.

Russell L. Norris, who has been comptroller of Pontiac Motor Division since 1958, will assume new duties as executive assistant to Estes.

Moving into the comptroller's spot will be Wright C. Cotton, who has been comptroller of GM's Delco-Remy Division at Anderson, Ind., since 1942.

Both appointments will be effective Feb. 1.

Norris has been with General Motors since 1933, when he began his career with the company as a cost accountant in the Chevrolet Motor Division. He held various positions with Chevrolet in different midwest cities until 1943.

He became comptroller at GM's former Eastern Aircraft Division in New Jersey in 1943, and subsequently served as comptroller for the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division plant in Georgia, the Guide Lamp Division in Indiana and the AC Spark Plug Division in Flint.

A University of Wisconsin graduate, Norris is a member of Pontiac City Club and Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Cotton joined General Motors as a Delco-Remy employee in 1935 shortly after graduating from Butler University. He held various accounting positions until his appointment as comptroller seven years later.

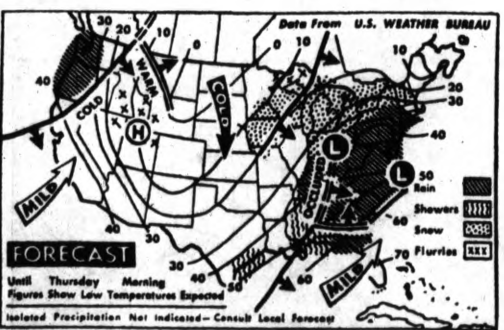

Cotton is a past president of the Anderson (Ind.) Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Kiwanis Club.

1964 Advice to Girls: Look, Then Leap

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Here it is Leap Year again, and millions of unwed maidens are scheming against the peace of mind of millions of bachelors.

Many will land a man, but a lot of them won't.

What is the difference between those who will succeed and those who will fail?

The difference is between good and bad feminine psychology.

Some girls look at the crop of unmarried males and are dismayed at the start.

"It's hopeless," say these girls. "All the best men are already married."

DEFEATIST ATTITUDE

As a married man myself I can subscribe to the partial accuracy of this observation. But it reflects a defeatist attitude.

Certainly it is true that, on the whole, married men are more attractive than bachelors. But they weren't born more attractive. They were made more attractive by the civilizing influence of the women they married.

THE CHALLENGE

A wise girl realizes that this is the real challenge of matrimony — to take a mediocre, scrubby, forlorn bachelor and build him into the better man only she can help him become.

When an architect plans a fine apartment house, however, he doesn't begin with the penthouse. He starts with the basement.

It is also bad psychology for a girl to let a marital prospect suspect that she is looking for a walk to the altar chiefly in order to escape the long daily trek to her job in the office. No man likes to feel that his main function in life is to buy pork chops and pin curls for a Lazy Jane.

No man at heart really prefers the utterly dependent type of woman. A clinging vine may be able to smother a strong oak in a forest, but that's only because an oak tree can't run away. A man can.

What are some examples of good feminine psychology?

Well, first of all, don't overdo that "womanly mystery" act, girls. Don't be too unapproachable. Let your fellow know pretty quickly that you're fond of him.

Remember that while no man wants to be smothered, they all hanker to be mothered a bit. As the average employer is too busy to spend his entire day patting an employee on the back, the employee looks forward to getting at home the petting he doesn't get at the office.

He wants from a potential wife the security, encouragement and approval he doesn't receive from his boss on the job.

SOME REWARDS

Bachelors are wild things, and must be tamed with care. A lion doesn't voluntarily walk into a cage and learn tricks merely to earn a lion tamer a living. The lion expects something out of the arrangement, too—and must have a reward of some kind, or the whole deal is off.

The way to win a bachelor is to wine him and dine him and treat him with kindness and give him the feeling that life with you will be better and safer and — above all — more comfortable, than life is without you.

If you do this, he'll eat out of your hand, never miss his lost freedom, let you mold him as you will. Then in some future Leap Year other single girls in his office will look at your husband and say:

"Gee, what chance have I got? All the best men are already married."

New Jail for Baldwin

BALDWIN (AP) — Construction of a new jail for Lake County is expected to start within 90 days following word from Washington Tuesday that the Community Facilities Administration has approved a $112,200 grant for the project.

The United States must train at least 80,000 skilled technicians annually to meet normal employment demands, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told the Senate in describing the need for vocational education.

Pharmacy Unit Picks Director

LANSING (AP)—Members of the State Pharmacy Board have reappointed David Moss as executive secretary of the board. Moss, a center of controversy during the SuperRx drug licensing case, was named to the board in 1949 by then Gov. G. Mennen Williams and served as a board member until being appointed director in 1961.

Gov. George Romney asked Moss to resign last year because of an alleged conflict of interest in the SuperRx case. One of the proposed SuperRx stores was to be in Ypsilanti, and Moss has an interest in another drug store in the city.

Moss denied Romney's charge and declared he had nothing to do with the board's denial of a license for SuperRx in Battle Creek.

Last month, the State Supreme Court overruled the board ruling and ordered a license for the Battle Creek store.

The issue has not yet been resolved, however, as the state attorney general has asked for a new hearing before the Supreme Court.

Loses Job Over Forecast

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Control Yuan, top watchdog body in Nationalist China, has impeached the chief of the weather bureau for dereliction of duty.

Kenneth T. C. Cheng was accused of having provided inaccurate information about typhoon Gloria, which struck Formosa Sept. 13, leaving 239 persons dead and 89 missing.

The Control Yuan said Cheng's information that the typhoon had changed course and would not hit Formosa caused people to neglect precautionary measures.

Starving Yukon Pair Saved by Dog Food

WATSON LAKE, Y.T. (AP)—Six pounds of dog food, scrounged from an empty trapper's cabin, helped sustain a Yukon Territory couple through 30 days of hunger, pain and exhaustion while lost in bush country east of Watson Lake.

William Alexander McDiarmid, 43, a trapper, and his wife, Maggie, 25, were reported in good condition Tuesday night after being flown here.

They left their cabin on Larsen Lake Dec. 5 to snowshoe to Smith River, 60 miles away. After a few days of blizzards and deep snow, they were lost. "By that time my feet were frozen to the knees," McDiarmid said.

Fennville Gets Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Community Facilities Administration announced Tuesday it has advanced $7,000 to Fennville, Mich., for planning sewer facilities to cost an estimated $1,336,400. The CFA also advanced $4,000 to the Ontonagon Housing Commission for planning 20 low-rent homes.

mid said. "We knew our way back but weren't sure how much further we had to go."

NOSE BLEEDING

"My nose kept bleeding; Maggie was fine."

"I was carrying 60 pounds; I had 31 marten, an axe, a hatchet, blankets and my rifle. We just couldn't keep up."

"We had macaroni on Christmas Day. I had a sardine sandwich and Maggie had some canned sardines. Our food ran out and we ate moss and snow. We found six pounds of dog food in a cabin and ate that."

MOUNTIES RESCUE

Bush pilot Bob Harrison, who was supposed to meet the couple at their cabin door, notified the mounted police. The mounties sent a plane out New Year's Day without success and Harrison flew over the area the next day.

"While flying over the snow, I suddenly saw snowshoe tracks and I followed them," Harrison said. "I saw a fire and a figure waving a blanket."

A ground party arrived the next day and fed the couple hamburger and stew.

Troy Firm Expands Training Program

By ALLEN PHILLIPS

A pilot program by government and industry to use on-the-job training as a weapon against unemployment has been expanded at the AMT Corp., 1225 E. Maple, Troy.

The U.S. Department of Labor announced that a second group of 26 employe-trainees this week embarked on the unique plan established under the manpower development and training act.

The new man will literally earn while they learn their way to secure jobs with a future, explained Richard Swain, Labor Department field representative.

"All we do is defray the cost of instructors' time and clerical work," Swain said. "The company uses its facilities to train the men and agrees to keep them on as regular employes when the instruction is completed."

ON-JOB-TRAINING

Swain said the OJT program is already well under way at AMT, which hired an initial group of 30 last August. These men are in a 48-week instruction program.

Raymond McKee, the company's training director, said AMT agreed to be the first Detroit area firm to institute government-sponsored OJT because of its own personnel needs.

"A company of this size isn't able to do much about starting its own program," McKee explained. "Attempts in the past met with limited success."

"Outside schooling is not satisfactory because even people directly involved in our business are hard pressed to keep up with changes. In the hurry of production it is a problem to keep regular employes informed of new methods."

MODEL CARS

McKee said AMT, one of the nation's largest suppliers of scale model cars, faced a serious problem in finding qualified workers.

OJT program trainees are now studying clay modeling, plastic wall tryout, illustration, plastic decoration and machine maintenance.

Once trained, McKee predicted the new employes would have good potential for advancement and would have continued interest in furthering their technical education.

The program has had a pervasive effect throughout the company, McKee added, with supervisors and older workers participating in other in-plant training.

MULTIPLE BENEFITS

Swain said the government also sees multiple benefits flowing from OPT.

"Any place you upgrade, like hiring these new men or training regular workers, you create jobs on the bottom. In filling needed positions you're also attacking unemployment further down the line."

Swain said the government has budgeted $47,000 for the AMT program. This defrays the cost to the firm of releasing regular personnel from their jobs to serve as instructors, and for clerical work.

But he pointed out the expenditure will be recouped in the form of income taxes paid by the 56 new employes who benefit.

DISTINCT ADVANTAGE

Compared to other Manpower Act programs in which the unemployed or unskilled are sent to school at government expense, Swain said OJT has a distinct advantage: All trainees become employes at regular wages at the outset.

He explained that firms of any size can apply for OJT if they meet the criteria of being able to establish worthwhile schooling and assurance of jobs.

Presently, Allen Gear and Tube Co. of Rochester is the only other area firm using OJT. It is training two men as screw machine operators.

OFFICE TRAINING LEADS TO GOOD JOBS FOR MATURE WOMEN

MID-TERM OPENING JAN. 27 (Day School and Evening Division)

Mature women are now finding good jobs and high salaries in the business world.

A shortage of well-trained office employes has shown bosses that the mature woman's experience is a real asset. She now is eagerly sought.

If you are such a woman, you can learn business skills — or brush up former skills — with a quick course here.

Legislature to Be Overshadowed by State, National Politics

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature convenes at noon today to begin a 1964 session overshadowed by activity on the state and national political fronts.

Lawmakers return to Lansing only 18 days after wrapping up their last business of 1963 — a special session on implementation of the new constitution.

There will be no formal activity before Gov. George Romney delivers his second state-of-the-state message, with recommendations for legislation, at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Aides to Romney said the message will contain brief references to his proposed 1964-65 budget, including the recommended figure, which is certain to be a record, well above the current $550 million.

BUDGET MESSAGE

The actual budget message, outlining fiscal demands in detail, is slated for delivery on Jan. 28.

Foremost in the minds of many lawmakers, as the 1964 session begins, will be the question of legislative reapportionment that will change the boundaries of many districts, and cost some their jobs.

Injected into the proceedings as a sudden new element is Romney's declaration in Washington, D.C. Tuesday that he could accept a draft for the Republican nomination for president, if the opportunity arose.

Some early-arriving lawmakers said they couldn't yet assess what impact, if any, Romney's shift in position on the GOP nomination might have on the legislature.

SEEKS REELECTION

Several said, however, that they felt it assured that Romney would soon announce his intention to seek re-election as governor, in order to remain in the forefront of the political arena.

Battles over funds for mental health and higher education are expected to make headlines during the 1964 session.

Other prime issues are likely to be a new attempt to pass a state minimum wage law — a near-miss in 1963 — and distracting of the new state court of appeals.

The 1964 legislature will commence without change from the party lineup which gives Republicans a 23-11 edge in the Senate, and a 58-52 majority in the House.

Pontiac City Affairs

Seek Federal Grant

Application for a $108,000 federal planning grant was approved last night by the City Commission.

The commission okayed applying to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for the federal funds for urban planning assistance.

Under terms of the grant, Pontiac would contribute about 25 per cent of the costs in staff services.

The planning grant would be used to do further detailed studies of the basic Pontiac

RENEWAL NEEDS

The goal is to plan for and pinpoint urban renewal and redevelopment needs for the future, including traffic and recreation needs.

The PGDP is a guide for a pattern of land use in future years.

In other business, the commission adopted an ordinance to rezone nine lots on the north side of East Pike at Douglas for the future development of multiple family dwellings.

A public hearing was held prior to the ordinance adoption, but no opposition was voiced. The City Plan Commission had recommended the rezoning.

Action was deferred on a plan commission recommendation to vacate a portion of Milbourne Place and Mill, east and north of the perimeter road, pending an agreement with the state.

Guevara Will Lead Cane Cutting Corps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba's minister of industry, Ernesto Guevara, will lead 1,000 volunteer cane cutters into Camaguey Province's sugar fields next month, Havana Radio said today.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said labor unions in Camaguey are contributing 4,000 volunteers to cut and load sugar cane during the harvest now getting under way.

The Cuban Farm Workers Union meantime urged workers' families to get busy harvesting rice, tomatoes and cotton before these matured crops wither.

Former Soviet Prisoner Resumes Medical Study

Makinen, 23, was an exchange student at the University of Berlin when he was arrested while visiting the Soviet Union July 27, 1961, on a charge of espionage. He was accused of photographing Soviet military installations.
